PROPAGANDA

CONSTANT attention should be given by all ringers to the question of propaganda. The 'sealed book' of bellringing must be made intelligible to the non-ringer. Various opportunities occur with the local Press, who are invariably willing to co-operate with items of news and often descriptive articles. Probably the most common question the public ask when the bells are being rung is, Why? And it behoves local ringers to give the answer when the ringing is not on the ordinary practice night or on a Sunday for a church service. We would like to see a purpose behind every peal, and it is not difficult to associate a ringing occasion with some important anniversary, either national or local. The reason should be made public, either through the medium of the local Press or the Parish Magazine.

In the 'Oxford Diocesan Magazine' Mr. Alan R. Pink contributes monthly a 'Campanology Corner.' The February issue contains a report of the Banbury Branch quarterly meeting at Bloxham, not in the semi-technical style of reports appearing in 'The Ringing World,' but in a way that will appeal to the ordinary reader. After referring to the fact that fully 60 ringers were present from a wide area, Mr. Pink proceeds:—

'Bloxham's magnificent church is, of course, well known. Its fabric is of the Early English, Decorated and Perpendicular periods, but its crowning glory is the glorious 14th century tower and spire, one of the three which stride across the Cherwell valley in a straight line, the other two being Adderbury and King's Sutton, in Northamptonshire. Many of our readers will have heard this quotation: "Bloxham for length, Adderbury for strength and King's Sutton for beauty." It refers, of course, to the three spires. Bloxham tower has an added attraction for ringers in that the ring of eight bells is the heaviest in the diocese. The tenor bell, cast by Richard Keene, of Woodstock, weighs 28½ cwt. and is thought to be the heaviest bell actually cast in the diocese. Unfortunately this grand ring of bells can only be rung together for ten minutes at a time owing to the violent oscillation set up in the tower and spire. This is largely due to the badly constructed bell cage, and it is hoped that before long the bells will be rehung in a new frame. It is a melancholy fact that the heaviest rings of six bells (Wing, in Bucks) and eight bells (Bloxham) in the diocese are unringable for any length of time.'

Then follows a description of the meeting, the service, the corporate tea and, finally, the business meeting. The strength of Mr. Pink's propaganda comes in the concluding paragraph:—

'If this word picture of a typical ringers' meeting has fired the imagination of some who have thought they would like to ring tout did not know how to make the approach, we would advise them to get into touch immediately with their incumbent. No tower is so full of ringers that it won't accept any more, and in many cases the bells are often silent for lack of ringers. There is a wonderful spirit of comradeship existing between ringers. To incumbents we would say, Invite your parishioners to attend these ringing meetings and encourage them to visit their belfries. We believe that every Christian desires to do some special piece of work for God. There is unlimited scope in bellringing for men and women to indulge in their latent desire.'

Another valuable form of propaganda is by letters to the local Press. There should be a constant watch against adverse criticism. Last year Mr. George Gilbert, in the Slough newspapers, carried on a voluminous correspondence in defence of bells, and it was only pressure on our space that prevented appropriate extracts being given in 'The Ringing World.' Perhaps what delights the ringer more than anything else are the unsolicited testimonials. The following is one that appeared in the 'Yorkshire Evening Post' of February 20th:—

Passing through Leeds bus station the other Sunday evening on my way home from Castleford, I was suddenly lifted above the gloom and bitter cold by the joyous sound of church bells. It is a long time since I heard anything so beautiful. For some minutes I stood and listened, for the sheer joy of listening.

Harrogate, with all its beauty and charm, has few church bells, and those Leeds bells were a tonic and inspiration. Thank you for the great pleasure they gave me!

Articles in the National Press are also of great value. About a fortnight ago the 'News Chronicle' had a feature story relating to Messrs. J. Taylor and Company's foundry at Loughborough, with illustrations of the casting of bells. The process is familiar with most of the members of the fraternity, and the visits arranged for different towers have never failed to be of absorbing interest. Our other two foundries—Messrs. Mears and Stainbank and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston—are equally co-operative in this respect. The danger of the 'synthetic bell' is still very great, despite the firm stand that various diocesan advisory committees are taking, and it is essential that the public should know the difference between the real thing and the sham.

News editors of other publications have also been paying increasing attention to ringing generally. Enquiries for information reach this office in increasing numbers, and the Editor endeavours to be as helpful as possible. His greatest poser came the other day from America: a request for biographies and photographs of all the ringers who had 1,000 peals or more to their credit. He had to draw the line, and felt like asking, Who is writing this article?

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

Two stalwart Rochester ringers, Charlie Norris and BELFRY GOSSIP Bill Knight, wished to mark several years' membership of the Ancient mark several years membership of the Ancient Society of College Youths by ringing their first peal for the Society. At their invitation a peal of Stedman Caters was rung at Rochester Cathedral on February 25th, believed to be the first peal there by the Ancient Society. The peal proved to be a suitable 55th birthday compliment to Mr. Knight and a birthday compliment to Mrs. P. A. Corby.

Eight Lincolnshire farmers have rung a peal. Mr. George E. Feirn asks what other trades have been able to raise a band of peal ringers.

Congratulations to Miss Doris G. Dobbie on ringing her 100th peal. Two other members of the family participated, brother Walter 'calling the bobs.'

Next week we hope to publish the first of a series of articles on change ringing machines by Mr. Brian D. Price. It should prove a valuable contribution to ringing literature

The 62nd Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner last Saturday was a great success, the speeches being of a high order. Birmingham, apart from acting as hosts, can produce afterduner speakers of a high order. St. Martin's is certainly a guild of all talents.

A misprint over the peal of Cambridge Sur-A misprint over the pear of Cambridge Sur-prise Major last December at St. Chad's (R.C.) Cathedral caused the Editor much heart-burning at Birmingham. Mr. George E. Fearn received congratulations on having assumed the Oldest Norfolk ringer with continuous service is Mr. Robert Freezer, of Gressenhall, who celebrated his 86th birthday on February 21st. He first entered the tower in 1879 and learnt change ringing on handbells while the hells in the tower were being relugated. while the bells in the tower were being rehung. In 1880 the latter were handed back by Day's, of Eye, and he has been a member of the local company ever since.

GOSSIP

of Eye, and he has been a member of the local company ever since.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Caythorpe, Lincs, on Feb. 18th, was arranged for the 47th anniversary of the first peal of Mr. John Cragg and Mr. F. W. Stokes.

Among the peals rung during the Birmingham festival was a fathers' and daughters' peal at Selly Oak. Concerned were the Davis, Whitehead, Beamish' and Cartwright families. The method was Grandsire Triples.

Grayshott (Hants) ringers held a very successful social evening on February 25th, visitoratending from Haslemere and Godalming. Organisation was in the hands of Mr. Ronald Beech and catering was supervised by Mimberty Gill, the only resident lady ringer.

Mr. A. Pat Cannon spent his half-term holiday in Northamptonshire and came away with three peals in the bag. At Maidweit the band was entertained by Mr. Dixon, captain of the ringers and churchwarden, a thoughtful act in a village without refreshment facilities.

An unusual experience took place during apeal attempt at Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, where new ropes were provided last July. After half an hour's ringing the tenor rope opened up' underneath the sally, three strands becoming untwisted. The bells were brought round at half-way when it was found that the rope underneath the sally was completely 'open' for more than 2ft. The general opinion was that the rope left the makers with an invisible flaw.

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER

LORD MAYOR DESIGNATE OF BIRMINGHAM BRINGS HONOUR TO ST. MARTIN'S GUILD MR. HAROLD-Poole on a Ringer's Duties and Privileges Dr. James Simpson urges Further ADVANCES IN RINGING

BIRMINGHAM was the Mecca of the Exercise last Saturday, when the 62nd Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner was held. It was a happy occasion, with special felicities being offered to Alderman A. Paddon Smith on being selected as the next Lord Mayor of Birmingham. Owing to restrictions on seating, the company was limited to 180; nevertheless, it was very representative of English ringing, ringers coming from long distances to participate in this happy reunion.

The Archdeacon of Birmingham

The Archdeacon of Birmingham (the Ven. S. Harvie Clark) was an admirable chairman, handling a long toast list with skill and dexterity. The secretarial arrangements were most efficiently carried out by Mr. George E. Fearn. Birmingham gave its visitors a royal welcome with a full programme of ringing.

Mr. Harold J. Poole, in proposing the toast of 'Church and State,' thanked the organisers for the privilege of proposing the toast at the most popular function in the ringing Exercise. As far as the Church was concerned he was a lay canon of Leicester he was a lay canon of Leicester Cathedral, and as to the State, a police inspector—a unique com-bination in respect of the toast. In order to remove any misapprehension, he would say that the police were not State controlled . they had not been nationalised and did not make any profit in and did not make any profit in their business (laughter).

Bellringers had certain responsibilities and duties in respect of the Church. It was clearly their duty to see that their bells were rung properly for Sunday services, and to the credit of the ringers that duty was undertaken regularly and conscientiously. It was also their duty to see that the bells were rung for special occasions, such as church festivals, occasions, such as church festivals, occasions, such as church festivals, and it was also a good thing that they should ring the bells for landmarks in the life of the incumbent. They had also responsibilities for the care of bells. Generally speaking, their clergy had no knowledge of bells, and it was their duty to see that these costly things were maintained. that there duty to see that these costly things were maintained.

Bells, like all other sorts of machinery, would tend to rust out rather than to wear out, and the campanological doctor would tell them that they were best preserved by being rung

CLERGY'S RIGHT.

What were their rights and privileges as bellringers? Actually they had no rights, as the right to say who should ring the bells rested with the clergy. That fact must not be overlooked. So far as their privileges were concerned, they received permission to ring the bells for their own entertainment and amusement, and they should see that that privilege was not abused.

As to their rewards, no one would suggest that they received any financial benefit. It was true that there were some nominal payments on occasions, but ringers for the love of bells went far and wide and disregarded any financial consideration. Another reward they received was fellowship such as they shared that night. The fellowship of bell-ringing was the finest in the world; it extended to all corners of the country; they were con-stantly meeting old faces and making new

As far as the State was concerned it was their duty to ring for national occasions, Ald. A. Paddon Smith, J.P., Lord Mayor Designate of Birmingham, with his daughter-in-law, the wife of Lieut.-Colonel Donald Paddon Smith, who will act as Lady Mayoress during his term of office.

whether for rejoicing or mourning, and the enthusiastic bellringer would not be lacking in his duty in that respect. There was also a responsibility to the public to see that there was no unnecessary annoyance to them from bells. 'Don't forget that people must listen to bells whether they want to or not, and it is our duty to make suggestions to the Church authorities as to means of reducing that noise authorities as to means of reducing that noise if necessary.'

The sound of the bells reached the hearts and souls of the people, many of whom never came to church. The bells to them was something to distinguish Sundays from weekdays and make them realise that it was a day set apart. The bells also reminded people that the Church was still there. They had seen from time to time what had happened when the State disregarded the Church, and they could only pray that it would never come to pass in this country.

The Rev. Bryan S. W. Green, Rector of Birmingham, who replied, commented on the choice of the song between the proposing of the toast and his reply—'Two Beggars. It was most appropriate for both the Church and State. He welcomed the idea of marking landmarks in the life of the incumbent. When his silver wedding took place in two years' time he would expect four hours' ringing because he understood it was the minimum time to do anything worth while.

The Church was extremely grateful to the ringers for the service they rendered, and it was important that ringers should ring proper bells for Church and State occasions. They were living state occasions. They were living in a mechanical age; so me churches were putting in loud speakers and playing records of St. Margaret's, Westminster. It was wrong; bells should be rung properly.

To-day only one person in ten went to church and many of those for important occasions in life, for important occasions in life, 'hatching, matching and dispatching.' Unless the men of the country rallied round the Church it would be a poor look out for the country, and he implored them when they rang the bells not to forget that the service took place afterwards.

The toast of 'The Memory of the late Henry Johnson' was submitted by Mr. Frank E. Haynes, who said the name of Henry Johnson was one that came to his

Johnson was one that came to his mind as one of the famous ringers mind as one of the famous ringers of the 19th century for which Birmingham was noted, and which, perhaps, it had more than its fair share. For about 40 years from roughly 1845 to 1885 Henry Johnson was the leader of ringing in Birmingham — a man held in national esteem and honour. Not national esteem and nonour. Not only was he a man of excellent moral character and sincerity, but in ringing he was a good striker and he imagined he could ring Stedman Cinques very well. Mr. Haynes said he had only lived in Birmingham 20 years and there was a time when he ex-

there was a time when he extended and Mail. It was a time when he extended and the manner of continuing the association of the name of Henry Johnson with that dinner, but he must confess now that he was quite converted and they did right to honour his memory. The first dinner was a banquet given in his honour by Sir Arthur Percival Heywood. At that gathering Stedman Cinques was rung in hand to a touch of five courses, with Henry Johnson ringing the tenors. To the majority of the company it was the first time they had heard Stedman Cinques rung in hand.

'CHOP SUEY.'
That morning he had the honour of ringing a peal at Sutton Coldfield of Spliced Surprise -which had been referred to as 'Chop Suey.'
One gentleman commented that he preferred a joint and two vegetables to this chop suey, implying that he preferred a peal of Stedman.

Cinques. In ringing as other things customs and manners changed; things did not stand still. There were, nevertheless, many who preferred the old style ringing, while the younger enjoyed the new—the two had to be reconciled and that was what they tried to do in Birmingham.

The toast was drunk in silence. In the company were two who had rung with Henry Johnson—G. T. Mitchison and C. Williams. They stood up at the chairman's request and were honoured by the company.

Mr. Albert Walker (Master) proposed 'Continued prosperity to St. Martin's Guild.' In a welcome to the new Rector, Mr. Walker assured him that when his silver wedding came or there was any 'hatching or matching' in or there was any 'hatching or matching' in his family, the ringers would be there and they would ring a four-hour peal. 'We may have a practice at one or two before then,' he added to the merriment of the company.

Their Rector in the time he had been with them had taken a great interest in the restora-tion of St. Martin's Church, which was badly blitzed. A considerable sum of money had been spent on the church. They hoped that been spent on the church. They hoped that before long the tower would be put in good order, as before the war it was one of the finest in the country.

This year the Guild had lost four old members. Ernest Mansell, who died in July, was a ringer at St. Martin's Church for practically 40 years. Many of them would remember that 40 years. Many of them would remember that he brought his handbell ringers to these dinners. Another severe loss was Harry Withers, who died on Christmas Day. He would never he replaced. No one could tap changes like him; he had tapped London and Scientific Triples. On January 5th, Tom Miller, one of their cluster members, passed wars in St. Triples. On January 5th, Tom Miller, one of their oldest members, passed away in St. Joseph's Home, Harborne. Unfortunately, they were not informed at the time of his death. He was a remarkable man—a ready wit and a superb ringer. Recently they lost Samuel Grove, a nember of the Guild for 40 years, who rang at Harborne.

As a mark of sympathy the company stood in silence.

During the year, continued Mr. Walker, the Guild had prospered. The main purpose of the Guild was to see that there were sufficient ringers to ring the bells and to see that young ringers were coming forward. He was very glad to say that they had some good youngglad to say that they had some good youngsters. As regards peals, it was not a record rear—they did not equal the Leicester year—but they did congratulate them on their achievement. Their rivalry with Leicester was of the friendliest.

A number of restorations were either in hand or were needed. Mr. Walker mentioned in particular Yardley, where the six bells were to be recast and two more added to make eight. The ringers had helped by taking out the bells and frame from the tower. He thought their chairman had some scheme in hand for Handsworth.

Another pleasing duty was to record that a member of the Sunday service band at St. member of the Sunday service band at St. Martin's for many years had been elected as the Lord Mayor of Birmingham. It was a great honour to the Guild and he wished Ald. Paddon Smith a very successful and happy year of office (applause). They also extended their good wishes to his daughter-in-law. With them that evening was Ald. Theodore Pritchett, who was Lord Mayor in 1939-40. Ald. Pritchett came up for ringing practice regularly on came up for ringing practice regularly on Tuesdays.

At the annual meeting there was a change in the Ringing Master. Mr. Edgar Shepherd, who had been Master for the past 12 months, found that his duties would not permit him to continue in office. They had elected Mr. Critchley as the new Ringing Master. Mr. George E. Fearn, the hon. secretary. thanked Mr. Walker for proposing the toast.

Among the apologies for non-attendance were those from the Bishop of Birmingham, the Lord Mayor, Canon Guy Rogers (who wrote recalling his happy memories of 23 years in Birmingham), Mr. James Shepherd and Mr. Frank Yates (who was making progress), Messrs. Don Meers, Jack Millhouse, Roland Brand, Miss Marie Cross and others.

Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd proposed 'The isitors' in felicitous terms. He mentioned a number of the guests by name. He congratulated Mr. Harold Poole on his 143 peals last year and also Mrs. Marshallsay on being last year and also Mrs. Marshallsay on being the first woman to ring 100 peals in a year. Some of them could recall what the old Editor of 'The Bells News' said about Miss Alice White when as a girl of 13 she rang her first peal. Mr. D. Matkin, his old friend, had rung 123 peals last year. He was a Solihull man, and he would recollect 32 years ago when he witnessed his first handbell peal and consumed at the same time a very large nork nie. To at the same time a very large pork pie. To their visitors he would say in the words of Dick Swiveller, 'May the wing of friendship never moult."

PEAL RINGING.

Dr. James Simpson (Chester Diocesan Guild) replied and said his only excuse for being chosen was that his name appeared in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World.' He would like to say a few words on peal ringing and its value to the Exercise. It was a twoand its value to the exercise. It was a two-sided question. Some people thought that peal ringers were the salt of the earth and others the scum of the earth. Probably neither was correct. Whatever one's private view might be, all would agree that since the war there had been a great increase in peal ringing-an increase both in the number rung and the complexity of methods. He thought that many ringers were thinking that they had now reached the zenith of achievement and that there was no reason to aim any higher. Such thoughts, he felt, would be a disservice to the Three things had contributed to the advance of peal ringing. The first was that there were many more rings of bells; secondly, the bells were very much easier to get, and, thirdly, they had inherited a vastly greater fund of knowledge and experience than existed 50 or 100 years ago. To peal ringers he would say, 'Continue aiming high; try and make your peals non-exclusive and try and bring in extra recruits' recruits.

Mr. George Cecil also replied, representing ringers from the South of England.

The toast of 'The Ringing World' was proposed by Mr. S. O'C. Holloway, and replied to by the Editor.

Ald. A. Paddon Smith was called upon by the chairman for a speech. He recalled the fact that he was secretary of the Guild for 20 years before Mr Reeves held office for a similar period. In reminiscent vein he mentioned the masterly speeches at those distant dinners by the late Ald. Pritchett and that the present Ald. Pritchett was his nephew. In congratulating the Rev. Bryan S. W. Green, the new Rector, on his appointment, he reminded him of some of his distinguished predecessors. Their new Rector had made one mistake. He said that the Church and the State were both beggars. The Church might be a beggar, but he assured him the State was not—it was a thief (laughter).

It was an honour to be chosen as Lord Mayor and he hoped that the Guild would feel that it was also an honour to them.

Ald. Theodore Pritchett was also added to the toast list. He spoke of the very happy the toast list. He spoke of the very happy feelings and friendships among ringers, and said he found it was not an easy thing to go back to the belfry again and try to recall what he had forgotten. One of his masters was Mr. Edgar Shepherd, who was apt at quotation. He reminded him one day of the inscription on the bell he was ringing: 'I will sing a new song unto the Lord,' and, having heard the Alderman ring Mr. Shepherd assured heard the Alderman ring, Mr. Shepherd assured him that his bell was singing quite a new song which he had never heard before! The toast of 'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr Thomas H. Reeves, who said that older ringers would recall that 30 years ago it was their custom to have a distinguished ringer in the chair, and he mentioned such names as Sir Arthur Heywood, Mr. Charles Hattersley and Mr. F. E. Dawe. Later on they decided to have Birmingham people. There had been Canon Willick and Canon Guy There had been Canon Willick and Canon Guy Rogers, who for 23 years was their beloved Rector. That evening their choice was the Archdeacon of Birmingham, the Ven. S. Harvie Clark, who was also Vicar of Harborne and in charge of the Cathedral Church pending the appointment of a new Provost. They had all been very happy under his chairmanship and he trusted that he enjoyed his office.

The Chairman, in his acknowledgment, said he came to the dinner last year for the first time and was amazed at the gathering and its friendliness and that people had come there from all over the country. The fellowship through ringing was of real significance—not only for themselves, but for all churchpeople. The bells at Harborne were seriously in need atfention. If anyone would care to send a contribution for their restoration and also for the musical nerves of himself and his family he would be only too pleased to acknowledge

BARWELL SOCIETY

A year of progress was reported at the annual meeting of the Barwell (Leics.) Society, when the following officers were elected: Cap-tain, C. R. Belton; vice-captain, G. P. Garner; secretary, T. C. Belton; treasurer, Miss B. Colver; towerkeepers, J. Armstrong and R.

The secretary reported that for Sunday ringing and practices 1,450 attendances out of a possible of 1,670 had been made by the 12 members. First peals of Stedman and Double Members. First peals of Stedman and Double Norwich were rung by an entire Barwell band. In 1946 it was difficult to raise a Grandsire Triples band, and credit for the progress was particularly due to Mr. W. P. Whitehead. Two new members were elected.

Peal statistics were: First peal in a method 22; first in method as conductor 3; new conductors 2; first peals 3.

The Rector, who presided, said he was pleased to notice that all ringers were observing his suggestion of attending at least one service every Sunday.

The Rev. L. O. Kenyon conducted the service in Holy Trinity Church, taking as his text the ringing terms, 'Tone, Tune and Time.'

Mr. G. F. Williams presided at the business meeting, when votes of thanks were passed to the Vicars of Holy Trinity and St. Mary's, Mr. A. H. Fox (organist) and the local ringers. Learners showed much improvement and there were good touches of Caters in the evening.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT

The annual meeting of the South and West District was held on February 18th at St. Andrew's, Hillingdon, an excellent attendance being recorded, with representatives from almost every tower in the district.

Ringing under the supervision of the Master and Deputy Master ranged from rounds to London, and the striking of the higher methods reached an unusually high standard for meetings.

The service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. Home), who is also a ringer, was well attended. Tea, arranged by Mr. F. Corke, Master at St. Andrew's, was taken at the Regal, an excellent meal being provided.

The business meeting, held in St. Andrew's Hall, with the vice-president, Mr. W. H. Coles, in the chair, proved that the family spirit which has always been a feature in the district is as strong as ever, and the interest dis-played in the business and the number of nominations for office speak well for the future.

The district secretary, in presenting his report, spoke of a very successful year in every aspect; the attendances at meetings averaged 44, compared with 40 for the previous year. Peals recorded were a record for the district. Quarter peals for service, although not so numerous as last year, ranged from Bob Minor to Spliced Surprise Major, with many new names sharing the conducting. One quarter worthy of note was that of Plain Bob Major, conducted by Mr. A. Harding, of St. Mary's, Ealing, who, with 50 years of loyal service at this tower, called his first quarter. Membership was on the increase, and the statement ship was on the increase, and the statement of accounts showed a record balance.

The officers elected were: District secretary, Mr. F. A. Finch; assistant secretary, Mr. T. G. Bannister: Ringing Master, Mr. T. Price; Deputy Master, Mr. G. M. Kilby; Central Committee, Messes, J. E. Lewis Cockey, H. W. Impey and W. W. Webb; auditor, Mr. E. C. S. Turner. The chairman congratulated the meeting on their choice of officers, with a special word for Mr. G. M. Kilby, that prince of ringers, on taking up office once again.

New members elected were Mr. B. M. Turk (Ruislip), Mr. P. M. Branch (South Harrow), Miss O. M. Green (Sunbury), Mr. F. T. Blagrove (Stanwell), Mr. A. R. Turley (St. Mary's, Ealing), and Mr. E. Preston (Slough) as a non-resident life member.

The Chairman accorded a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, Mr. F. Corke and all those who helped to make the meeting such a success.

The accounts showed a balance in hand of £29 18s. 3d., slightly less than last reconcilions. than last year, although comparison supplied the reason.

Elections of new members included G. W. Slack (Waltham Abbey), D. Harman (Holloway), G. A. Hill and D. H. Kingston (Hornsey), R. Stoddard and the Misses M. Russell and A. Triscott (Kingsbury) and Miss M. Richards (Monken Hadley). The district officers

Twelve Wirral towers were represented and there was a welcome contingent of visitors. The Guild form of service was conducted by the Rector (Canon S. J. Marston), assisted by the Rev. J. F. Southworth. Later the company was entertained to an excellent tea.

At the ensuing business meeting a favourable balance sheet was adopted. The hon, secretary's report showed a membership increase of 22, bringing the total to 159. Monthly meetings had been held as customary and there was an average attendance of 61-three

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. E. MORRIS

Dear Sir,-Congratulations to Ernest Morris on achieving another milestone in his honorable ringing career. Although I deplore the ambi-tion of ringers whose foremost object is to amass a great number of peals, the willingness and help which Ernest has always offered in assisting raw learners in five and six-bell towers, in addition to higher numbers, makes one feel that here is one man who has contributed his peal ringing to the promotion of campanology right from the bottom rung.

I know of one typical case when one of Leicester's youths searched diligently among his 'betters' for a conductor in his first peal, which was on six bells. In despair he turned to Mr. Morris, who obliged, simply because, as his analysis shows, the method was of secondary

I also was privileged to be invited to ring in Ernest's 1,001st tower-bell peal, conducted by one of Barwell's young conductors, and I look forward to many more pleasant hours in this great ringer's company.—Yours faithfully,

TOM C. BELTON.

FIRST OF STEDMAN AT STONE

Dear Sir,—In the February 17th issue of 'The Ringing World 'a peal of Stedman Triples, rung at Stone St. Michael's on Saturday, January 24th, 1950, is stated to be the first peal of Stedman Triples on the bells.

This, sir, is not correct. I took part in the first Stedman on the bells on Saturday, Oct. 16th, 1936. The band who scored the peal in October, 1936, was C. Templeton 1, H. Hodson 2, H. Thacker 3, A. Thompson 4, C. Page 5. A. Rowley 6, A. Crawley 7, W. Buckley 8.—Yours sincerely. Yours sincerely,

H. HODSON, Ringing Master, Stone St. Michael's.

CHRISTENING OF BELLS

Dear Sir,-We hope to reopen St. George's. Colegate, Norwich, bells on Saturday, May 20th, next. On Saturday, May 6th, we hope to revive the old custom of christening them inside the church at a special service. The main reason for doing this is that it will give the general public a chance to see the bells, a thing they rarely do. This should lead to a more intelligent interest on their part. The service must be arranged very soon, and I should be most grateful for any copies of hymns, tunes and prayers suitable. They will, of course, be duly returned when finished with.

—Yours sincerely,

A. G. G. THURLOW.

SALOP CRITIC RECEIVES INFORMATION

Dear Sir,—Might I crave your indulgence to answer as briefly as possible Mr. Farmer's letter of February 24th? I have learned from several sources that the tower in question was Market Drayton.

was Market Drayton.

As regards lack of enthusiasm, I would like to point out that if my letter implied criticism of the Salop Guild, perhaps I was guilty of an exaggeration about the six keen ringers, but I think Mr. Farmer will agree that there are many bands hereabouts that are capable of more advanced ringing than Grandsire of Plain Bob, but whose leaders are quite satisfied to remain in the old groove year after Plain Bob, but whose leaders are quite saus-fied to remain in the old groove year after year, because it is too much trouble to use a pencil and paper at home. It is this attitude that I am attacking and will continue to do so.

I might add, in conclusion, that we will soon have a Cambridge Minor band in this area.— Sincerely yours. ERNEST J. ROWE. Sincerely yours. Broseley, Salop.

MOST MUSICAL METHOD

Dear Sir,—As I go around to meetings, etc., I hear people say that so and so method is very pretty or another sounds good and so on, and I wondered if this is a subject upon which a little discussion might be interesting.

Most people will agree that those rows which have the lighter bells in the front and the heavier ones at the back are the most musical. As, for instance, the Queen change, Doh, Lah, Fah. Ray, Te, Soh, Me, Doh, which is, in effect, two rows, with a certain reflexive action. This probably explains why Triples with a covering bell are high in the list of tuneful

I very much like the touches of Oxford and Kent, where the heavier bells are kept away from the front. When listening to this I have the impression of looking at a coin or picture or what you will, turning it over and finding it totally different on the other side. With a Surprise method the picture is not quite so different, accounted for by the fact that each bell remains in adjacent places for a longer

The Stedman impression is that it is more surprising and that you cannot imagine what you are going to see, or hear, on the other side. This may account for a great deal of its popularity, but the build-up of the method being so different from others, Stedman may be up the method being so different from others, Stedman may be up the method being so different from others, Stedman may be up the method being so different from others, stedman may be up the method being so different from others. appeal more to the mathematical side of one's

I expect I shall be told that a well-struck touch of Plain Bob is very nice and, of course, I agree. Undoubtedly the striking is the prime factor in the music-making.

In conclusion, this is the view of a ringer of not many years' standing who is trying to use his ears and I hope your readers will be patient with me in my ignorance. — Yours incored.

'CAN IT BE COUNTED TWICE?'

Dear Sir,-With reference to above query by Dear Sir,—With reference to above query by my friend, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, published on page 124 of your issue of February 24th. This would be a rather novel idea of 'snatching' a tower to make the number up, but I don't think it will work out quite right. In my list of towers I count this as one only.

I have had the pleasure of taking part in two peals on St. Andrew's bells, one of Stedman Triples, rung half-muffled, on November 11th, 1927. when the church stood in Wells Street (off Oxford Street), W.C., and one of Cambridge Major on August 24th, 1935, since its removal to Kingsbury, Middlesex, ringing the 6th on both occasions the 6th on both occasions.

I'm open to correction, but I feel sure the last mentioned is the only one rung on these hells at Kingsbury. Very few (possibly about five) have been privileged to take part in a peal at this church, standing on both sites.

Go ahead. Fred. You can surely 'snatch' one more to make your total round figures!—Yours truly and sincerely,

Beckenham, Kent.

EARLY PEAL ATTEMPTS

Dear Sir,—In 'The History of Grandsire Triples,' by J. W. Snowdon, it is stated that on January 17th, 1689 or 1690, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Sepulchrewithout-Newgate by members of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths,' the source of this information house checume. information being obscure.

In 'The College Youths,' by J. Armiger Trollope, reference is made to a peal of Bob Triples rung at St. Sepulchre's on January 7th, 1690, and that this information came from 7th, 1690, and that this interest.

Is anyone able to throw any greater light on this Oxford source?—Yours, etc.,

Stedman's Superiority

Dear Sir,—It seems that we are to assume from last week's issue that we may live to see Steadfast rung from Minor to Maximus in our time: also we are assured that this method is-Stedman's Principle on even numbers of bells.

I venture to suggest that, as Stedman's Principle rung as it is at present with the tenorbehind, is superior in musical qualities to any even bell ringing, it will continue to be so rung long after Steadfast has lapsed into the oblivion from which it seems reluctant to be dragged.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF YOUTH

Dear Sir,—I should like to say that I must agree with Mr. E. T. P. Field in his letter on 'Encouragement of Youth.' I, too, am sure that many more young recruits would stay on after a few months' ringing if a more friendly attitude to them was adopted by all ringers.

The ringers in Devon scem to be particu-The ringers in Devon seem to be particularly friendly. Last Easter, after ringing at Highweek on their practice night, I as given a car ride back to Torquay by one of the ringers. This made me feel that I was really welcome. Would any young ringer travel about in foreign country looking for ringing if he thought that he would not be wanted? If he did it would only be once! Whether at a practice or a meeting all young ringers need to really sense that they are welcome. Too often have I seen young ringers being offered only rounds when they are capable of muchmore.

All efficient young change ringers should be given the opportunity to conduct a few touches instead of being sometimes discouraged; then we would have younger and, perhaps, more capable conductors .- Yours sincerely, the Prince's Head, Westminster. During the day the Society rang at the churches of St. John at Hackney, St. Mary, Walthamstow, and St. John the Baptist, Leytonstone, and attended evensong at the last-named church. Ringing ranged from rounds for learners, of whom the Society has a gratifyingly large number, to Spliced Surprise.

After the toast of 'Church and King' had been given by the Master, who was in the chair, the secretary read apologies from those numble to come, referring particularly to the

Mr. Philip Gray then proposed the health of the visitors in a thorough manner. He wel-comed Mr. Tom Bevan, Mr. Hardy and other local ringers, whose help at the Society's prac-tices was greatly appreciated, and referred, in passing, to the relative merits of the two great ringing societies. He was also pleased to see wives present, and mentioned that his attended in her own right. The Bristol University Society was represented by Mr. Barwick and Miss Bliss, and the Cambridge University Guld

He then finished with a few general remarks as a Past Master of the

Mr. Brian Threlfall replied, thanking Mr. Gray for his more or less kind remarks and congratulating the Society on its flourishing condition. Mr. Tom Fox (Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths) also spoke briefly and conveyed the good wishes of the College Youths to the ringers of London University University,

Mr. Peter Foote, silently singing, no doubt, 'Memory, hither come,

And tune your merry notes,' proposed the health of the Society in a scholarly speech with frequent reference to English and Icelandic literature, and ably maintained his thesis against those who queried either his quotations or the opinion of women contained in them. He stressed particularly the social

The Master, Mr. Denis Layton, replied.

After sharply reminding some of his hearers that they were not at the Royal Academy banquet, he obtained as good discipline as a speaker as he had done as a conductor, and was even more successful in keeping people was even more successful in keeping people awake. He reviewed the progress of the Society and said that it now had 60 paid-up members as well as some learners who had not yet suffered the financial misfortune of meeting the secretary.

The formal business being completed, the summer tour for 1950 was discussed, and Mr. Geoffrey Carter (in a speech substituted for a loudly requested song) pointed out that unless a few more women applied there would be difficulties in accommodation on the two launches in which it was proposed to travel from Bedford to Ely.

OBITUARIES AND APPRECIATIONS

MR. STEPHEN BINFIELD

Captain of the ringers at Folkestone Parish Church for 55 years, Mr. Stephen Thomas Binfield died on February 18th, aged 84 years.

Born in Folkestone—records of the Parish Church show that there were Binfields in the town in 1650-he was apprenticed to a builder in Exeter, where a branch of the family was then living. He spent a considerable part of that time working on repairs to Exeter Cathedral.

On his return to Folkestone Mr. Binfield was, before establishing his own business, a foreman builder. For many years he was steeplekeeper at the Parish Church. In 1903 he conducted the first peal rung during the present century by a local company. Mr. Binfield gave up ringing in 1945 owing to failing health.

Mr. and Mrs. Binfield celebrated their golden wedding in 1936 and three years later Mrs. Binfield died.

In memoriam 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung half-mufiled on February 26th by A. Kedwell 1, F. Orris 2, P. Crook 3, A. Binfield (son of the deceased) 4, J. Willis 5, T. Anderson (conductor and one of his pupils) 6, T.

Farley 7, W. Eyers 8.

Cremation took place on March 2nd. It was deceased's wish that his ashes should be scattered in the churchyard of Folkestone Parish Church as near to the tower as possible.

AN APPRECIATION.

Mr. Charles Turner, of Dover, writes: I am Mr. Charles Turner, of Dover, writes: I am proud of the honour to pay a small tribute to Stephen T. Binfield, who passed away on February 18th in hospital at the age of 84 years. He commenced his ringing career when quite a young man at Exeter while engaged on restoration work at the Cathedral. For many years he was a prominent ringer in the various towers in East Kent. He was for some time captain of the Folkestone ringers and his great ambition was to get two more bells added to the beautiful ring of eight now in the tower. To my knowledge he was almost successful.

An admirer of 'Holt's Original' peal of Grandsire Triples, he made a special study of the talling, which he accomplished. He was a lover of the bells and also a critic. In business he was well known as a builder, and the many houses on the Dover road now stand as an example of his fine work.

MR. D. H ELLIOTT

The news of his death on March 1st at Groton, Suffolk, in his 75th year, of Mr. David Harold Elliott was received with much regret by all who knew him, particularly at Sudbury, where he was, until his health failed him a year ago, captain of the Sudbury company for over 30 years.

Wonderfully fit for his age, he had by dint of many years' hard work risen from a small-holder to a well-known and successful agriculturist with a large acreage at his farms, and his huge mansion was the annual setting for a real old English dinner for his brother ringers on his birthday, the last on January 14th this year, when he summoned sufficient strength to ring a pair to a touch of Double Norwich.

Unfortunately, he had not kept an up-to-date account of his peals during the last 25 years. His peal book contains over a hundred entries, mainly Double Norwich and Surprise peals, most of which he conducted in his thorough manner from the box. He was widely travelled and had rung in very many towers throughout the country. It was nothing to him even in recent years to walk the five miles to Sudbury and back to ring for service, and to Hadleigh also. He learnt to ring as soon as he could reach a rope and has left behind him 60 years of ringing, and woe betide those who ever got out of course. He leaves a widow, a daughter and four sons.

The funeral on March 4th was marked by a full church of sympathisers, including a very large number of ringers from a wide area. was much regretted that owing to a misunderstanding no handbells were available to ring at the graveside.

At St. Peter's, Sudbury, in the evening, 1,284 Plain Bob Major was rung as a last token of respect with muffled clappers by G. Dixon 1, A. A. Fitch 2, W. Scott 3, C. W. Clarke 4, L. Mills 5, L. Johnson 6, T. Bird 7, A. J. Haynes (cond.) 8; and at Hadleigh a peal was commenced immediately after the interment.

APPRECIATIONS.

Mr. W. E. Box, towerkeeper, St. Chad's Cathedral, Birmingham, writes:—

Whilst congratulating you upon your admirable obituary notice of the late Tom Miller, may I intrude upon your valuable space for the purpose of making one or two corrections and additions?

Tom's last peal on July 6th, 1938, was rung on the old bells at St. Chad's Cathedral and was also the last one rung on them. Thus he was also the last one rung on them. Thus he took part in both the first and last peals on the old ring, which were opened as a ring of eight bells on Easter Sunday, 1877, the original five being rung for the first time on August 2nd, 1849, by William Chattell and his band from St. Philip's Church. Although Tom did not actually ring a peal on the new Taylor bells, he did hear them on one occasion either in 1942 or 1943, and his comment was that the old 'uns are scalded.'

I understand that Mr. R. H. McDonald, of Sydney, Australia, is now the only survivor of the 1878 peal, but in this I stand open to correction. In speaking of this peal I recall Tom Miller saying that Samuel Jarman, who rang the 4th, 'looked like Christ at the Last Supper,' whilst another member of the band had a face like the first Sunday after Epiphany.

In speaking of other peals in which he took part I note that you do not mention the last peal at St. Michael's, Coventry, on June 9th, 1883, in which he rang the 6th. In 1927 he formed one of the deputation of ringers which opposed the granting of a faculty to recast the Coventry bells.

With his passing a great link with the past, not only of ringing, but of Birmingham and the Midlands generally, has been severed.

Mr. Clem Glenn writes: Tom Miller's passing

Mr. Clem Glenn writes: Tom Miller's passing on brings back a happy memory of him after the peal at Sheffield in 1907. We Sheffield and Rotherham ringers, with the Birmingham band, enjoyed a dinner and social evening, when Tom sang the two songs mentioned in his obituary notice.

Some time ago Mr. Albert Walker, in response to my request, was kind enough to visit Tom and obtain the words of the songs for me. 'Bob Major' went to the tune of 'In the Sweet Bye and Bye,' and the chorus of 'Stedman' goes like this:—

Stedman, Stedman, that is what we ring Stedman, Stedman, that is what we ring, Stedman is the method, it's just the very thing: On 8, 10 or 12 bells, don't you think it's grand Is a well-struck touch of Stedman by a competent band, the chorus of the last verse finishing with:-Is a well-struck touch of Stedman when it's bobbed round at hand.

Higher Walton belfry. Lancs, announce the retirement of two of their old stalwarts. Mr C. Clarke (the late captain) has completed 53 years' service and Mr. M. Livesy (conductor) 48 years at this church. A peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major on February 18th was the Preston Branch's tribute to their esteem.
