QUEX PARK

THE joy of new discovery should be always with us, for without it we grow old indeed. And since, as Kipling tells us, 'God gave all men all earth to love,' there is no lack of beauty or joy of discovery so long as we have eyes to see, ears to hear, and power to move. Thus it was in a mood of expectancy that we came to Kent, known and loved by many, but a strange land to us; and from the glories of Folkestone Leas, from the vast, stony desert of Dungeness and the monotonous moan of sirens in the sea mist, through the loveliness of Elham and Barham, we came at length to Birchington and the bell tower in Quex Park.

According to Lewis Carroll, it was a golden key that opened the little door and showed Alice the enchanting garden beyond. Ours was a mundane, very ordinary key, hung aslant the notice 'To the Bell Tower'; but it beckoned, and we followed into a land so quiet, so seemingly remote; that Birchington and the dreary chain of traffic on the Canterbury road a mile behind might well have been in another world. At the wicket gate our vehicle could go no further, and amid the dripping bushes we gazed across the meadow to a heavy grove of trees, and someone said: 'The tower is in there.'

And so we came to this strange monument, hidden in its fastness, its four turrets rising among the trees that brushed its sides, and the cast-iron spire that imitates Faversham pointing higher to the storm clouds streaming from the west. In a bush close by a blackbird's tiny brood twittered excitedly, and near at hand the powdered up-throw from a badger's earth betrayed the opening from which the shy gentleman would doubtless emerge when dusk had come and we had gone.

Here was a unique memorial to an extraordinary man. John Powell, probably the wealthiest of all the patrons of the art of ringing. According to Trollope, he may have learnt to ring at Fulham, but when he inherited Quex Park he became a wealthy man and was able to indulge his passion for ringing without any restraint save that imposed by his own limitations. And to this end he erected a tower and furnished it with a ring of 12 bells cast at the White-chapel Foundry; he recruited a band, chiefly from the men on his estate, and he lured William Shipway from London into Kent to act as instructor. With Shipway's aid, he studied composition fervidly and plunged into the problems of Stedman Triples with great perseverance. His results were negligible, but his support of Shipway's work and the incidental benefit to East Kent ringing arising from Shipway's sojourn at Birchington make Powell's contributions of some importance to the study of change-ringing. And his tower rings with the echoes of the great army of notable ringers visiting and revisiting Quex Park during a period of more than a hundred years.

To us, therefore, it was a privilege to walk where so many famous ringers have walked, from Shipway to our own day; to ring where so many great exponents of the art have stood beneath these bells; to recall the many comings and goings of notable personalities in this sylvan fastness; to chuckle again at the refreshing recollection of John Cheeseman and Armiger Trollope getting down to sleep on this bare floor amid the whisperings from the tall shafts on the night they could find no resting place in Birchington.

The first impact of the 12 bells was stupefying. It was as the sound of a thousand musical boxes punctuated by a hundred chiming clocks, and even the roll-ups of three leads of Treble Twelve came but confusedly to our inexperienced ears. As time went on, this dazzling stream of sound began to resolve itself into familiar patterns, so that by the time that two courses of Stedman Cinques had been rung the primal difficulties had vanished. Outside the tower it is found that the overtones are not so dominant and the changes rung are clearly heard.

We walked back across the meadow as the back eight turned to an excellent course of London, and from the wicket one heard with perfect clearness, and indeed sweetness, every blow of this piece of competent ringing.

The storm clouds were drifting overhead and rain was falling upon the dripping leaves as we gathered ourselves together and departed from this place back to the world of other things, and the copse and the tower were left to their own musings. Alice, alas, despite the golden key, was too big to get through the door to the magic garden; we, more fortunate, have squeezed through, and have for a short time found an enchanted land. When next we come, it may be that the glory will have departed; but there can be no doubt that on this day there has been enchantment at Quex Park.

OBITUARY

MR. F. A. BULLOCK

We regret to announce the death of Mr. F. A. Bullock, of Swineshead, Lincs, on May 26th, at the age of 75 years. A member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, he had been a ringer at Swineshead, for over 30 years. A good churchman, he had been a sidesman and a member of the P.C.C. for over 30 years. The funeral took place at Swineshead on May 30th and in the evening his fellow ringers ran a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples with the bells half-muffled. M. E. C.

MR. WILLIAM S. LANGDON

With deep regret we record the passing to higher service of William S. Langdon at St. John's Hospital, Wandsworth, on April 13th. He was in his 84th year and was well known in London ringing circles.

For the past two years, Bill Langdon was in ailing health, but prior to this period he was most active. As tower keeper at St. Mary Abbots, Kensington, he used to tend the bells there with loving care, and such was the respect in which he was held that ringers from several towers used to rally on Sunday mornings at Kensington—although the time allowed for ringing was only about 15 minutes. Bill Langdon was one of four ringing brothers, sons of a ringing father, and Herbert Langdon is the sole survivor of that famous quartet. He had kept no record of his peal performances but they are estimated to be in the region of 800. During his lifetime he served as a principal ringer at Westminster Abbey, where the practice has been for many years to honour departed Abbey ringers by allowing them to rest in the Abbey for the night before burial.

Bill Langdon was a faultless and most reliable ringer, and in his last peal—Stedman Triples, at St. Lawrence Jewry—he rang and struck his bell perfectly, never making a single mistake although he was in his 81st year. He was a loyal College Youth and was loved and respected by all who knew him.

The funeral took place at Wandsworth Cemetery, Earlsfield, on April 20th. J. F. S.

MR. JOHN EALES

The St. Lawrence Long Buckby Society regret to record the death of one of their most respected members, Mr. John Eales. He was one of the few members of the pre-war band who gave active support and encouragement to the present band.

John Eales was one of those ringers whose good influence was far greater than his technical skill; he would never learn to ring an 'inside' bell, but was always happy to see a number of young recruits progress in ringing the variety of Doubles methods for which this band has gained a reputation. He rang three peals and 15 quarter peals before a serious illness four years ago ended his ringing activities, but his interest in the progress of the Society and of the work of the Guilsborough Branch, of which he was a loyal member, was maintained to the end.

The funeral, on June 4th, was attended by some of his oldest friends, and floral tributes were sent from members of the local company, and from the Guilsborough Branch. A half-muffled quarter peal was rung on the following Wednesday by A. Cooper 1, M. J. Bailey 2, J. E. Goddard 3, A. E. Gautrey 4, E. G. Orland (cond.) 5. E. G. O.

BARNESLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

Five teams entered for the annual shield contest on June 11th, at Felkirk, with Mr. Harold Chant as judge, and Mr. Daniel Smith as marker. The draw for ringing was: 1 Warsop 10 penalties, 48 faults, 58 total; 2 Meltham —, 59, 59; 3 Friezland —, 82, 82; 4 Cawthorne 5, 51, 56; 5 Shelley —, 31, 31.

Shelly were declared the winners and the shield was received by their conductor, Mr. Trevor Turbatt, who said to win the shield had been his ambition. Mr. J. W. Buxton thanked the towers for their support.

THE LADIES' GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Western District was held at Portishead, on June 11th, when there was a good attendance. Ringing was followed by a service which was conducted by the Rector, Preb. W. L. M. Coombes, and tea at the White Cot Cafe. At the business meeting two new members were elected—Mrs. Costella, Westbury-on-Trym, and Miss Jean Palmer, Warmley.

Special mention was made of the Ladies' Guild annual meeting on July 2nd, when it will be the turn of the Western District to act as host, and all members are looking forward to welcoming lady ringers from other Districts.

Arrangements are being made for the meeting on September 10th, to be in the form of a half-day outing, if possible in private cars, so will all members who would be willing to assist in this way, please contact the secretary. Further details to be announced later. B. J.

Mr. George E. Feirn has now conducted a second peal of Spliced Surprise Major in 50 methods in hand with a new band. In his previous success in 1951 he had Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bray and Mr. Philip Barnes. This time on May 31st he had with him Messrs. A. Robin Heppenstall, John Freeman and Jack L. Millhouse. These are really great achievements and we should be interested to know if in such a great performance the mind works in two separate channels and whether there are any after affects.

On comparing notes after a peal of Bristol Surprise Major at Doncaster the 'half-brothers' Bill and Eric Critchley found that it was the 489th peal for each of them.

The programmes of the Aldeburgh Festival includes a talk on campanology by Mr. Ransald Clouston, supported by handbell ringing by local ringers.

In connection with the visit of the Central Council to Kent, peals were rung at Chislehurst, Maidstone, Ashford, Newington-next-Hythe, Appledore and Lydd.

Was it one of the famous Clares whose skirt nearly descended during a touch of Stedman at St. Paul's, Bedford, causing great amusement to many though acute embarrassment to the only female present?

New subscription rates to operate from January 1st, 1961, in the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Guild are: performing members, 18 years old and over, 3s. 6d.; non-resident life members 10s. 6d.

The six bells of Tortworth, Gloucester, are being rehung by Taylors. Miss Edith Bryant is defraying the whole cost in memory of the 5th Earl of Ducie and her sisters Emma, Countess of Ducie, and Miss Ada Bryant. Miss E. Bryant now resides in Australia.

With sincere regret members of the Swansea and Brecon Guild, particularly those at Sketty, have said goodbye to Mr. Derick Astridge on completing his three years at Swansea University. His enthusiasm brought about the formation of the University of Wales Guild of Bell Ringers, of which he was honorary secretary.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

The 100th peal on the bells of Gamston, Notts, was rung on June 4th and in these Mr. H. Denman, the local captain, has rung in 91. Also in the company were the Misses K. and G. Burchnall, from Sutton-on-Trent, who rang in the first peal on the bells. These bells, which were augmented from five to six in 1924 have become a favourite venue for peal ringers from around North Notts. Of the 100 peals, 99 have been Minor and one Doubles.

The quarter peal rung at Stratton, Cornwall, on May 8th was a 70th birthday compliment to Mr. S. Stacey and not as stated.

The peal of Bob Major rung at Aylestone, Leics, by the youthful band, for the 21st birthday and engagement of their secretary to the Ringing Master, is a local stepping stone as it is only the 2nd peal ever to be rung on the bells by a Sunday service band. The last was rung in 1950 by a much older band.

Congratulations to Mr. Herman Rusby on completing 50 years as a chorister at All Saints' Church, Cawthorne, Barnsley, on Trinity Sunday. A peal in six Treble Bob Minor methods, including Trinity Sunday, was rung on Whit Tuesday. Herman started ringing in 1926 and is a most regular attender both at services and practices. He is auditor to the Barnsley and District Society.

Several young bellringers were among those who took part in the Lincoln Diocesan Youth Pilgrimage to Crowland Abbey, on June 4th. The Abbey bells made a pleasing sound at the end of a longish walk on a very warm day, and those pilgrims who joined in ringing before and after the service, appreciated the warm hospitality and friendliness of the local band.

Mr. John W. Evans was a member of the original band who opened Oxtan, Cheshire, bells on Ascension Day, 1895, and has remained a member even since. Although he finds the 70 steps to the ringing chamber a trial he continues to attend for ringing when weather permits. He joined in the ringing on Ascension Day. Incidentally, these bells, which are hung on plain bearings, have not received any attention from bellringers and still 'go' very well after 65 years.

ALPHABET FOR BEGINNERS

By T. J. LOCK

"L"

LENGTHENING LEAD.—This term has same meaning as Extending Lead.

LINE DIAGRAMS.—The most usual and the easiest way to learn and memorise the work of any method in change ringing is by way of line diagrams. Apart from learning off pat the work contained in a plain course one can carry the 'line' in one's reflective mind. And the best and clearest diagrams, dual colour, are to be found in the current editions of 'Standard Methods,' in which Diagrams and Letterpress are complementary booklets.

LISTENING TO YOUR BELL STRIKING.

—If you are at the early stages of learning to ring and you cannot yet hear your bell strike, please address yourself earnestly by saying 'I must and I will hear my own bell strike.' If you are as far advanced as being able to ring changes and cannot hear your bell strike say 'Phew! I have missed something, I must start all over again from rounds and call changes.' And when you can listen to your own bell striking you can automatically hear all the others, so that the ringing can then produce some decent rhythm in its striking.

It is really important that every ringer should hear all the bells being struck because there are, unhappily, few rings of bells without one or more of the bells being 'false struck.' To produce rhythmic ringing a bell that strikes false has to be pulled at sally or at rope's end quicker or slower than would otherwise be necessary, and this you will never determine unless you can listen to your bell striking.

LITTLE METHOD.—A Little Method is one which conforms to all the requirements of the class to which it belongs except that the hunt or hunts do not proceed to the same number of places as there are bells employed. Thus in Little Plain Bob the treble is restricted to hunting to fourth's place and back again, and in Little Grandsire Caters the hunts of the two trebles proceed as far as fifth's place and then return to lead. A Little Surprise Major method must have a treble bob hunt which, however, may be restricted to the first four or the first six places.

A Little method cannot produce the extent of the rows by itself.

LONG COURSE.—To all intents and purposes a Long Course is one which contains more changes and consequently more lead ends than the plain course of the method concerned. The best example that can be given is undoubtedly the very well known touch of Plain Bob Major, thus—

This touch, the calling of which is Wrong, three times Before, Middle and Home, has 160 changes with 10 lead ends (compared with 112 changes and seven lead ends in a plain course) but you will see that there is only one course end, i.e., only one occasion when the tenor has returned to its home or starting off position.

My inconclusive opening statement is due to lengthening lead methods, such as Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Bristol Surprise, etc., where a touch may finish with two bobs at Home. Illustrating by figures, the last four lead ends would appear as—

SERVANTS OF THE EXERCISE — No. 26

MR. NORMAN CHADDOCK,
Yorkshire Association & Sheffield Dist. Society.
Convener, C.C. Sunday Service Ringing
Survey Committee.

Mr. Norman Chaddock, of Rotherham, is, if ever there was one, the right man in the right place. He has a flair for teaching, and is never happier than when giving instruction to learners. Since the war, he has trained over 50 pupils from handling a rope up to ringing their first 720, thus qualifying them for membership of the Yorkshire Association. 29 of them have rung peals in Major methods, including Surprise. He has conducted peals where all taking part with him were his own pupils, including one with seven ladies. In addition he has trained handbell tune ringing teams at two local schools. These have appeared on television and sound radio, and have raised substantial sums of money for Rotherham Parish Church, and at scores of charity concerts.

Norman Chaddock was born in Rotherham, in 1914. He is a schoolmaster by profession. His wife, Elsie, is an accomplished ringer, as also are their two children, John and Susan. John is at St. John's College, York, and Susan is studying for G.E.C., advanced level. Elsie Chaddock has materially assisted her husband in his many activities, especially with the 'paper work.'

Norman is Ringing Master and steeple-keeper at Rotherham Parish Church, and under his direction the bells are rung regularly twice on Sundays. He is a member of the Parochial Church Council. For 23 years he has been an officer of the Sheffield and District Society, serving as secretary, Ringing Master, vice-president, C.C. representative. In all these activities he has been actively supported by those two Sheffield stalwarts, H. O. Chaddock and John J. L. Gilbert—a happy trio these!

The Central Council recognised Norman's talents and he was appointed Convener of the Sunday Service Ringing Survey Committee, whose task is a really colossal one. The job is in good and capable hands, and all who know Norman are confident that he will make a great success of it. He is also involved in the organisation of ringers' schools, one of which was so successful at Ripon recently. He has vigorously tackled ringing in all its aspects, taking in composition and conducting. His peals total, by March, 1960, was 290, of which he has conducted 148: 254 have been for the Yorkshire Association. He aims at variety, and has conducted all varieties of methods on all numbers, odd and even, from 5 to 12 bells. He turned in Rotherham tenor, 34½ cwt., to Pitman's 4 Spliced Surprise Major, with all the work, and also took part in the Spliced Surprise Major record peal (53 methods), conducted by W. E. Critchley. Norman is certainly a live wire and there is no doubt he will leave his mark on the Exercise.

SWANSEA & BRECON GUILD'S RINGING SHIELD GOES TO PORTHCAWL

After 10 years the Guild's ringing competition has been revived, and this year on June 11th five bands met at the Church of St. David, Brecon, one band being unable to compete through speech making at Christ College.

The competition was a great success in every way. The good striking throughout, the keen interest, and the competitive spirit, proved it so. It is now very certain that the competition will be held each year.

After tea the general secretary called on the adjudicator, Mr. A. J. Pitman, to give the final results, but before he did so, he said the standard of ringing by all the competitors was extremely good, and he was very pleased to state this. Continuing he then gave the results.

The winner of the shield, with 242 points, was Porthcawl, Cadoxton came second with 239 points, Sketty, 238 points, Talgarth, 233 points and Brecon 190 points.

Mr. A. J. Pitman was thanked for coming from Leamington Spa to adjudicate, and in reply he said, he was always willing to oblige on these occasions.

Another Course

By arrangement with the Gloucestershire Educational Committee a week-end course in bell ringing will be held by the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association at Hartpury College, near Gloucester, from Friday evening, September 16th to Sunday afternoon, September 18th. Fee (covering residence and all meals) £2 2s., plus 5s. tuition fee. The course is limited to 30 and applications should be made to P. M. J. Gray, Orana, Eastmead Lane, Stoke Bishop, Bristol 9.

If you must speak during ringing, do so very clearly and distinctly. Nothing distracts the rest of the band more than to be wondering what has been said.

NEXT CHRISTMAS DAY BROADCAST

REPORT OF THE BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE

The broadcasting of bells can be divided into two categories—ringing for Divine Service and Feature Ringing, the latter would include the Christmas Round-up of Bells.

In the first there is nothing we can do in the selection of towers used. The service is obviously the important thing, the bells being merely incidental. The one thing the committee have again attempted is to get an increase in the time allowed. In Northern Ireland the time has been steadily cut, but after strong protest there has, of late, been some improvement. In England, however, the B.B.C. are adamant in their decision to keep the time allowance at one minute, so that the obvious thing for ringers to do is to see that the maximum co-operation takes place between them, the clergy and the B.B.C. engineers and to ensure that the full minute is put to good use. We feel very strongly that only the best band available should be allowed to broadcast and that what is rung should be well within the capabilities of the ringers, bearing in mind that good rounds are much to be preferred to poor change ringing. An admirable article by the Rev. Preb. Martin Willson, of the B.B.C. West Region, appeared in 'The Ringing World' in April last, and any ringers involved in broadcasting would do well to study it and follow his advice.

In the second group we have enjoyed a very pleasant co-operation with Mr. Willson, and a number of his programmes in the 'Faith' series have included bells. Each programme has featured three or four towers and although only a short period was allowed to each, some very good efforts were recorded. In all cases we were consulted regarding the selection of towers.

Efforts have been made to get something of a similar nature done in the North Regional Programme 'Calendar,' but this has not been possible to date. The B.B.C. have, however, suggested the idea of featuring several types of event such as the restoration of historical rings, or the hanging of new bells. We have promised to keep them informed of anything of the kind.

In the Midlands, Mr. Edgar Shepherd, the Master of the St. Martin's Guild, took part in a radio programme and gave a brief description of ringing and some of the towers within the Diocese of Birmingham.

In the London Region members of the London County Association took part in the annual Oranges and Lemons service, and were featured in 'In Town Tonight.' The item was also reproduced in the Overseas Programme.

In an interview Mr. A. D. Barker discussed ringing in general and change ringing on hand-bells was also included.

In Northern Ireland an excellent programme, entitled 'Treble Bob Major,' was broadcast on Christmas Eve. Taking part were Mr. Dunwoody and Mr. Harry Brown, assisted by Mr. W. Pratt and Miss Jean Stewart. Recordings of all the bells available in the region were heard and the standard of the ringing was extremely good. This broadcast, which was principally for the listener in general, has produced much favourable comment and efforts are being made to persuade the B.B.C. to do a television broadcast on ringing.

Radio Eireann has broadcast bells on a number of occasions and, in particular, Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, bells were on the air for fifteen minutes, ringing out the Old Year.

The Christmas Broadcast has again been the subject of considerable criticism, not only of the ringing but of the way in which it was presented by the B.B.C. The committee have noted all the points and wish to make the following observations: Dealing with the B.B.C. first, after the many expressions of regret at the very short time allowed each tower in last year's broadcast, the B.B.C. this year increased the time allowance to a full two minutes for each. So far as care in the presentation of the programme was concerned, we have received a copy of the script from the producer and there can be no doubt that every possible care was taken, a clear uninterrupted period of two minutes ensured from each tower, with an interesting mention of each prior to the bells. The trip over Wareham was a technical hitch over which the producer had no control. With regard to the selection of towers, we have on a number of occasions offered assistance to the B.B.C. in this direction and at their request we have submitted lists of towers suitable for broadcasting in the various Regions, but our services, except in Northern Ireland, have never been directly solicited for this programme.

In fairness to the B.B.C. we should point out that to a very great extent the availability of equipment is the main deciding factor in the choice of these towers, and in this respect the church selected for the morning service on Christmas Day in each Region, takes precedence for inclusion in the Round-up of Bells. As far as this year's selection of towers was concerned the following information is relevant:—

Blackburn Cathedral: One of a group previously recommended by the Lancashire Association ringing secretary and passed to the B.B.C. by the committee.

Wareham: Morning service from here, so bells automatically used. Tower on list of recommendations by committee.

Elkstone: Morning service.

Beaconsfield: Watch night service from here. Bells automatically included in Round-up.

St. Andrew's: Bells selected by head of Scottish Region.

Talgarth: Bells selected by head of Welsh Region.

Belfast: Bells recommended by the committee.

From this it will be seen that three of the towers were involved in service ringing as well as the Round-up. Two were recommended by the committee and the remaining two were selected by the heads of the regions concerned. Following the broadcast the committee had further correspondence with the B.B.C. and the final result is that Mr. Henry Riddell, the producer, has very kindly agreed to a plan whereby he will request each regional head to consult the member of the committee in his area, with regard to the towers selected for the next Christmas broadcast. We hope this arrangement will prove successful and meet with general approval.—H. J. Sanger (Convener). A. A. Hughes, J. T. Dunwoody, G. E. Fearn, N. Chaddock, A. G. G. Thurlow.

Mr. Sanger moved and Mr. Dunwoody seconded the adoption of the report.

The honorary secretary said he had had a comment by post that morning from the representative of the Scottish Association, regarding the last paragraph. So far as he knew there was no representative in the area covered by the Scottish B.B.C.

Mr. Sanger replied that there were one or two members in the North who could be helpful regarding Scotland. The same remark applied to Wales.

The Standing Committee recommended that the committee be reappointed with the exception of Mr. A. A. Hughes and that Mr. Harold Pistow be appointed in his place. This was agreed to.

PROGRESS REPORTED BY BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

We now have in our books the names of 786 persons who, at various times, have been elected to membership of the Council. Of this total 374 are known to be deceased. 294 are completed and either already in the Albums here exhibited or are following. We have with regret included a few without photographs, in cases where the prospect of obtaining them is remote.

There are some records, otherwise complete, needing only a photograph known or believed to exist, and we list the names in the hope that members who know of photographs may be able to assist us. These are: T. G. Bartlett, Rev. H. C. Courtney, A. Craven, A. Coppock, A. E. Coles, F. E. Dawe, H. Dew, Rev. C. W. H. Griffiths, R. C. Knowles, G. Longden, W. Walmsley.

We still have some (mostly Council members before the Biographies Committee was functioning) who are to us little more than names, but who performed useful work and whose memory we would wish to perpetuate if possible. One example of this type must suffice. Mr. H. J. Bradley was elected a member of the Council in 1920 and although he never attended a meeting, he did give good service to the Exercise by publishing (1914) a well-written History of Shoreditch Church. He was steeplekeeper at St. Leonard's and his book contains a full story of the extensive restoration of Shoreditch bells in 1913. He died about April, 1925. This is a typical case of a man who fully deserves a worthy place in our records and your committee would welcome the required information which must be in existence at Shoreditch.

In the period under review 30 biography records have been completed and handed over for inclusion in our albums. This number, set against the deaths reported in the 1959-60 period, shows that we are slowly gaining on the accumulated arrears which we inherited after the standstill period of the 1939-45 War.

Your committee again wish to acknowledge with gratitude help freely given by many, both of the Council and outside it. Outstanding among these are the efforts of Mr. Poole, whose careful research at Marlow resulted in the completion of an excellent record of the late Alfred Heneage Cocks, M.A., Mr. J. W. Cotton and Mr. R. H. Dove, who together helped us regarding Joseph Griffin, confirming the date of his first peal, his total number of peals, and a very fine photograph. Mr. J. J. Webb by obtaining a photograph for us has completed our record of the late J. P. Hyett.

The most interesting example is perhaps that of the late John Clark, who was the most unknown of our 'unknown' class, but Mr. William Poston, of Bridstow, very shortly before his own death, supplied some notes which enabled us to complete Mr. Clark's record, excepting a photograph. Mr. F. W. Goodfellow also helped by obtaining photographs of old Middlesex representatives.—A. C. Hazelden (Convener).

The report was moved by Mr. John Willis, who asked 'the new boys and girls' of the Council to fill in the forms supplied by the Biographies Committee and provide a photograph.

Mr. W. H. Viggers seconded and said a postcard size photograph was most useful.

The report was adopted and the recommendation of the Standing Committee that Messrs. A. C. Hazelden, John Willis and W. H. Viggers be re-elected to the committee was carried.

REPORT OF THE PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE

In submitting their report for 1959 the committee have to announce a decrease in the totals of peals rung during the year on both tower- and handbells.

The grand total of peals accepted to date is 2,410, against 2,512 in 1958, with 2,283 on tower bells (2,372) and 127 on handbells (140)—a total loss of 102. The analysis breaks down as follows:—

Doubles	183	302	17	44
	2,283	2,372	127	140

Peals of Cinques are down; Royal are the same; Major up by 53; Triples down by 33; Minor plus 26, but Doubles slumped badly. The number of persons shown as recording their first peal is 345. Those shown as obtaining their first peal as conductor—70.

Once again we find the premier position is held by the Leicester Diocesan Guild, with 188 peals; the Lincoln Diocesan Guild has jumped to second place, with the Yorkshire Association close behind, while the Oxford Diocesan Guild has dropped from second to seventh place.

The first seven places are as follows:—

Leicester D.G.	188
Lincoln D.G.	132
Yorkshire Assoc.	131
Chester Guild	110
Lancashire Assoc.	109
Kent County Assoc.	106
Oxford D.G.	102

The committee would like to draw the attention of the Council to the rise in peals of Surprise Major on tower bells, there being 581 in contrast to 349 in all other Major methods.

One peal of Minor, with tenor covering, rung for the Lancashire Association, has not been accepted. The committee ask for guidance regarding a peal of Minor in 10 methods, rung for the Essex Association in which, the ringers of 3/4 changed places for the last 720, as reported in Belfry Gossip.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCES

13,280 Cambridge Surprise Major by Kent County Association.

92 Methods Spliced Doubles, in which conductor rang 2/3.

54 Minor methods in hand by Yorkshire Association.

May we again urge conductors of peals to ensure reports are sent to 'The Ringing World' immediately they are rung—and not sent in twice. The first portion is particularly important. This year we had 1959 peals published in the middle of February.—W. Ayre, K. W. H. Felstead, H. Miles, H. L. Roper.

Moving the adoption of the report Mr. W. Ayre said he had taken some figures out of the analysis, which he felt might be useful to the committee. Methods having had 10 or more peals rung in them during the year were: Maximus—Cambridge 15.

Cinques—Stedman 22.
Royal—Cambridge 27, London 13, Yorkshire 24, Plain Bob 22.

Caters—Grandsire 32, Stedman 39.
Major—Bristol 49, Cambridge 100, New Cambridge 12, Lincolnshire 28, London 58, Pudsey 12, Rutland 22, Superlative 36, Yorkshire 120, Spliced Surprise: 6 methods 12.

4 methods 23; Double Norwich 67, Kent T.B. 45, Kent and Oxford T.B. 11, Plain Bob 177, Little Bob 20.

Triples—Grandsire 114, Stedman 53.

Minor—Seven methods and plus 188.

Doubles—Seven methods and plus 33.

All these figures were for tower bells and it would be noted that Yorkshire had apparently become more popular than Cambridge.

There were a few extra peals which the Committee think worthy of special mention, being above the usual class of peals: 42 and 51 methods of Doubles, Ely Diocesan; 60 and 51 methods of Minor, Essex Association; 100, 51 and 42 methods of Doubles, Gloucester and Bristol; 100 methods Doubles, Middlesex County; 60 methods Doubles, Oxford University; 36 methods, Doubles, Sussex County; 40 methods Minor, Truro Guild; Spliced Surprise Major, 4 methods silent, Yorkshire Association.

Handbells.—Cambridge Surprise Major, Leicester Diocesan Guild; Cambridge Surprise and Yorkshire Surprise Major, Middlesex County; Grandsire Triples, New South Wales Association.

In 'The Ringing World' two miscellaneous performances—a peal on nine bells and a peal on four bells in five methods—were not included in the analysis. There were also two peals of Kent Major, rung by the Lancashire Association last November and published in 'The Ringing World' in March. They were not included. They could not keep their records up to date when peals were sent in so late. There was a peal where two ringers changed bells, which was mentioned in Belfry Gossip. If they wanted a thing kept secret it should not be published in Belfry Gossip. That peal had not been included.

Mr. H. Miles seconded the adoption of the report.

The Standing Committee recommended that the report be adopted, but the peal of Minimus be included and the peal of 10 Minor methods, where the ringers changed over, should not be included because it did not comply with conditions. Since they had a condition that each bell or bells should be rung by the same person the committee had no option but to exclude it. The committee also asked Mr. Cartwright to make the wording more clear.

Mr. F. B. Lufkin said the Essex Association had no qualms about accepting the peal. The rhythm was broken by two rows. While the Essex Association felt that the practice of changing bells should not be encouraged, they should like the peal to be accepted because of the enthusiasm of the young people. This peal was rung by one set of persons. They should not apply a damp squib to these people.

Mr. Harry Miles: What is the exact wording?

The honorary secretary: Each bell or bells shall be rung by the same person or persons.

Mr. Lufkin: The reason for the change over was that the bell was running dry. The person on the fourth was getting white in the face and the ringer next to him took over for the last 720. This is not the first time it has been done. I think it has been done from Annable to Cannon.

Mr. F. W. Perrens: Although everybody has sympathy with what Mr. Lufkin has put forward we should keep to our rules.

Mr. T. J. Lock supported this view. 'I can see no other interpretation,' he added.

Mr. G. McKay: I do suggest that the words do create a patent ambiguity.

The peal was not accepted and the report was adopted.

The Standing Committee recommended that the committee be re-elected as follows: Mr. W. Ayre, Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Messrs. H. Miles and H. L. Roper. This was agreed to.

She also asked for the addition of a handbell peal of Little Bob Maximus, rung by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild last June.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded the adoption of the report.

BUSY YEAR BY SUNDAY SERVICE SURVEY COMMITTEE

This committee has been very active since the Council met and in addition to much work by correspondence it was possible for five members to meet for nearly a whole day in Birmingham last January.

The greatest, and what has proved to be the most fruitful and rewarding task, was the preparation and distribution of the leaflet, summarising the results of the survey done last year. The object was not just to set out mere facts but to present them in an attractive and interesting way. We also took the liberty of including a little information about the Council and its work as so many of our clergy know little or nothing about the Council and this seemed an excellent opportunity to present them with a few facts. 1,250 leaflets were printed and the main batch of 1,049 leaflets were despatched last year, copies being sent to:—

England.—Rural Deans, Archdeacons, Diocesan and Cathedral offices.

Wales.—Archdeacons, Diocesan and Cathedral offices.

Scotland.—Diocesan and Cathedral offices, and also every incumbent of a Church possessing a ring of bells.

Ireland.—The chief officer of each Representative Body, every Cathedral office and Bishop, and every incumbent of a Church possessing a ring of bells.

Copies were also sent to every Theological College and the various Regional Directors of religious broadcasting.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING

Undoubtedly the leaflet has done much good with regard to public relations and understanding with the clergy. A suitable covering letter was sent out with each leaflet and the convener received many encouraging letters from clergy, including Bishops, promising sympathetic co-operation. It has been brought to our notice that extracts and comments on the leaflet have appeared in many diocesan, deanery and parish magazines. Several important newspapers, including the London 'Times' and 'The East Anglian Times' have referred in considerable detail to the contents of the leaflet.

The booklet on belfry organisation, recruitment, relations within the parishes, etc., which the committee was asked to draft, has been prepared and copies of the draft have been circulated so that the Council may consider and make a decision about printing it. The cost of 1,000 copies will be about £25 (6d. each) or, if eight line drawings to illustrate it are included, £30 (about 7d. each). These figures are the lower of two quotations which have been obtained. We suggest that the booklet would be of tremendous value to a band, an incumbent, or even the individual ringer.

Efforts to get information about the contents of the leaflet on the survey into church publications have been less successful, little progress being made with 'The Church of England Newspaper,' 'Church Illustrated' and 'Home Notes.'

Mr. R. F. B. Speed said there was a lot of correspondence in 'The Ringing World' over the naming of peals. He suggested that the committee should provide the answers when asked for.

Mr. Shirley Burton said the Leicester Guild suggested that Whitwick Surprise Royal should be called Gracedieu Surprise Royal and Lyme Surprise Royal, Charnmouth Surprise Royal.

Mr. F. T. Blagrove said regarding Marsden Little Surprise Royal, he would like the conductor to acknowledge that the figures published in 'The Ringing World' were correct.

The report, as amended, was adopted.

The Standing Committee recommended that the committee be reappointed with the addition of Mr. F. T. Blagrove.

Mr. J. R. Cooper moved that Mr. John Mayne be also appointed to the committee.

Mrs. Fletcher said she would be pleased to have Mr. Mayne on the committee. This was agreed to with the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

It is gratifying to see that so many Associations devote quite a lot of space in their annual reports to their own surveys and, in some cases, they indicate measures which are being planned to improve Sunday service ringing and to inspire greater activity in their areas.

In response to one request from a local education authority, a syllabus for a further education course in campanology (an evening school class) was prepared, and the convener has sent copies to a number of people who have requested them. A number of such evening classes in bell ringing have taken place in recent years, including several organised by the convener.

BELL RINGING COURSES

The recent course in bell ringing at Grantley Hall has provided very useful information regarding the running of such courses. This course was successful beyond expectations and it is almost certain that another similar course will be held next year. The knowledge gained therefrom will be gladly passed on to any association or person interested. Though not the first course in bell ringing provided by a local authority, the establishment of such courses is in its infancy. There are some 20 to 30 such adult courses throughout the country and since there is a free dissemination of information between these colleges it is important that any courses in bell ringing, which may be organised, should be successful if continuity is to be maintained. Whatever arrangements are made it is advantageous for one person to be responsible for the detailed organisation of the course in conjunction with the warden or principal of the adult college. Apart from the instruction offered, the course at Grantley Hall provided excellent opportunities for friendship between all classes of ringers and between ringers and non-ringers on other courses. Students who attended this course were mainly drawn from the County of Yorkshire. They included Surprise ringers, Round ringers, and some who had never handled a bell before. The establishment of more courses of this type can do much for the Exercise both socially and in its technical aspects.

The Oxford Diocesan Guild has recently held a successful week-end course—on its own initiative. At this course the president of the Central Council said that 'courses in bell ringing were growing by evolution, which was perhaps the best way to grow.' The policy of this committee has been, in fact, to feel our way rather than to rush headlong, and is to encourage the gradual introduction of courses similar to those mentioned in consultation with local Associations. A course is to be held in Gloucestershire on September 16th, 17th and 18th, and we have been in touch with the Shropshire Association, the North Staffordshire Association and the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. With the agreement of the last mentioned Guild, a week-end course has been arranged for the spring of 1961 at Knuston Hall, in Northants.

We feel that a committee of seven is too large and if it is decided to continue the work of this committee its numbers should be reduced to about three or four. It is felt that in addition to completing the tasks already undertaken by the committee, its main function should be to develop the idea of courses in bell ringing and to maintain contact with the Theological colleges.—(Sgd.) N. Chaddock (convener), P. Gray, W. F. Moreton, F. B. Lufkin, D. N. Layton, J. Scott, A. G. G. Thurlow.

Mr. Norman Chaddock, in moving the adoption of the report, said the two members who did not seek re-election were Mr. Philip Gray and the Rev. John Scott. They owed a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Scott, who did a lot of the typing.

Seconding, Mr. Philip Gray said the booklet on the ringing survey had a considerable amount of criticism. If any member had any constructive criticism would he send it to him.

Mr. D. Bayles said he would like to suggest that a recent development might be included on page 16. During the last week or two Mr. Chaddock had published a pamphlet which was very good but he had not seen the film strip. He felt that a film strip might be profitably used especially at a time when the number of projectors was increasing.

The President: I have seen the film and it is an exceedingly good one.

Mr. J. P. Fidler said there was one little item that might be included. That was if a young ringer left his own parish he would invariably find friends among ringers in other parts of the country.

Mr. Chaddock agreed that this point might be incorporated. The report was then adopted, and the president expressed thanks to the committee for their work.

The Standing Committee recommended the re-election of Mr. N. Chaddock, Dr. D. N. Layton, Messrs. F. B. Lufkin, W. F. Moreton and the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, and this was agreed to.

The Council also gave approval to the printing of the pamphlet mentioned in the report, with line drawings.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The monthly meeting for May was held on the 21st. The six bells of St. Mary's, Harmondsworth, were rung from 3 o'clock until 4.15 p.m., during which time we were pleased to entertain many of our out-county friends.

Ringling on the light eight of SS. Peter and Paul, Harlington, commenced at 4 o'clock and continued until tea, an hour later. The ringing ranged from 'rounds' to Yorkshire Surprise Major.

After a most adequate tea, for which thanks were due to Mrs. Grice and her willing team of young ladies from the Harlington band, the District chairman expressed thanks on behalf of the gathering to the Vicar of Harmondsworth (Rev. V. G. Sutcliffe), and the Rector of Harlington (Rev. A. T. Morgan) for the use of their bells. To Mr. Grice for making the arrangements at Harlington, to the ladies who prepared the tea and to all who had contributed towards the success of the meeting.

It was encouraging to note the increased attendance, and also the representation of many towers in the district. We hope to see this trend continue during the coming months.

LETTERS

SUFFOLK DIALECTS

Dear Sir.—On reading Bor Dearvud's bit, brings to mind a short poem where our good old Suffolk speech is fairly well rendered. It concerns the gleaning bell when a church bell was used to tell the villagers when they could go into the fields to glean after harvest.

(Morning)

Why! listen yow be quiet, bo'—the bell is tolling eight

Why don't yow mind what you're about?

We're allers kind o' late!

Now Mary, get that mawther dressed—oh dear! how slow yow fare

There comes a lot o' gleaners now. Maw, don't stand gawkin' there!

(Evening)

Dear me! there goo the bell again—'tis seven I declare

And we don't fare to have got none:—the gleaning now don't fare

To be worth nothin'; but I think—as far as I can tell

We'll try a coomb somehow to scratch, if we be live and well.

The lines are quoted from 'Suffolk Largess' 1865, the author a policeman stationed at Theberton, using the pseudonym of 'Quill'.—Yours faithfully,

ALAN R. BRIDGES.

'I WAS A STRANGER ...'

Dear Sir.—I wish to bring to the attention of ringers in general and the Worcester Association in particular, an incident that took place at a tower, which shall remain nameless, in the Droitwich area. Two friends and myself called at this tower after returning from a tower grab in South Worcestershire. On entering the ringing chamber we were wished, 'Good Evening,' by one person only, a lady. The Ringing Master inquired if we were ringers and where we came from. We replied that we came from the Northern Branch of Worcestershire. Then one ringer connected us with the name of Mr Paul Cattermole, who is held in very low esteem by this band of ringers. This put the cap on it, we were completely ignored, and we were not even asked to take a seat.

While we were there they tried to ring a method that was completely beyond them and in consequence the striking was absolutely appalling.

Is this unpleasant attitude to the younger generation to be tolerated? It is this selfish and self-sufficient attitude that is going to cause the Exercise to die an extremely hard death in the years to come. I should like to hear other ringers' views on this subject.—Yours in disgust,

PETER J. BROWN.

Norton, Worcs.

ANOTHER QUAKER RINGER

Dear Sir.—Miss Mary Maddison is not alone, for I am also a Quaker and a ringer; perhaps there are more of us. At one time I did as Miss Maddison does: I rang for morning service, and then attended meeting for worship at the Meeting House, which was opposite the church. Where I live now, we have a meeting, but the Parish Church, I regret, has a gramophone record, and my ringing is perforce confined to attendance at practice night in a neighbouring village, and at Guild meetings. I see no incompatibility. There is one instance—I believe it was referred to in 'The Ringing World' recently—where one of the bells in the Parish Church was presented by the local Methodists. I regard it as a good thing that members of different denominations should find common ground in as many ways as possible; it is no disloyalty to one's particular persuasion to consider the most important thing is that one is a Christian—of whatever label—and to join gladly with fellow Christians whenever opportunity occurs. I hope that no staunch churchman will be offended by these sentiments.—Yours sincerely,

A. ROBERT PARGETER.

MISS MARGARET BEAMISH MARRIED

MR. THOMAS CHAPMAN, only son of Mrs. D. E. M. Chapman, of 68, Edward Avenue, Bishopstoke, Hampshire, and the late Mr. C. H. Chapman, was married on June 4th to Miss Margaret E. L. Beamish, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish, of 21, Gipsy Lane, Nuneaton. The ceremony took place at All Saints' Church, Chilvers Coton, and was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. R. R. P. Rigby. Mr. F. R. Jukes was the organist. The church was beautifully decorated with blue and white irises, poppies, sweet williams and pyrethrums.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a full-length gown of white flocked nylon with a very full skirt and a short veil with a pearl and nylon headdress. She carried a bouquet of deep red rosebuds, lilies of the valley and white miniature gladioli. The two attendants, Miss Valerie Chapman (sister of the bridegroom) and Mrs. Margaret Haswell (friend of the bride) were attired in short blue flocked nylon dresses with blue floral headdresses. They wore silver bangles (gifts of the bridegroom) and carried bouquets.

The best man was Mr. R. C. Kippin (Southampton) and the duties of ushers were carried out by Mr. J. A. Beamish and Mr. W. A.

Harding (cousins of the bride).

The reception was held at the Newdegate Arms Hotel, Nuneaton, 115 guests attending.

The square three tiered cake had a church tower in white icing as its ornament. The guests were entertained by tune and change ringing and a musical programme.

Bride and bridegroom left later for a motor tour of the Lake District, the bride travelling in a royal blue and white dress with matching duster coat, white feathered hat and white accessories. Over 100 gifts were received, the bride and bridegroom giving each other fibre-glass luggage.

The newly married are well known members of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, the bride being honorary treasurer and also a Central Council representative. She is a founder member of the Southampton University Society and honorary secretary of the St. Mary's, Bishopstoke, tower, where her husband is captain. They first met as participants in a peal of London Surprise Royal at St. Michael's, Southampton, conducted by C. H. Kippin, in December, 1958.

The bells were rung at Chilvers Coton church before and after the service and a quarter peal was rung in the evening.

THE KIRBY-LE-SOKEN RECORD

Dear Sir,—Regarding the record length of Plain Bob Major at Kirby-le-Soken and the Loughborough comment (page 371), at the outset let me state that I am not what one would term a brilliant ringer, my only claim to fame is that I am a regular Sunday service ringer and try to bear in mind always that I am ringing to 'The Glory of God.'

The fact that others ring peals of various lengths and in innumerable methods does not worry me in the least, although, at the same time I am interested. I felt, however, that I could not let the comment, referred to above, go by without a few observations, one of which is, Sir, that such correspondence deserves to be treated with contempt or taken for what it is worth, which, it would appear, is not much.

In my travels during service with the army I had the good fortune to meet Mr. Lufkin, whom I found most unassuming and very definitely not given to 'preaching.' I also found that he was all for encouraging and helping his less gifted brethren and would go miles to help a struggling band or ringer to obtain a little more proficiency. He would stand in with the humblest or ring with the mighty, it made no difference to him, although I think he was more for encouraging the underdog.

Now, who is Stephen Ivins? When we have established that, let us ask ourselves, does not his letter give the impression that he is trying to belittle a marvellous feat, or, is it because he was not one of the band? I imagine that if the boot had been on the other foot the tone would have been different, or, perhaps he seeks sympathy after his abortive attempts to attain the 'summit.' At least Mr. Lufkin and his band did just what was advertised, no more, no less.

In a report published in 'The Ringing World,' dated February 21st, 1958 (page 125), we read of an attempt where cigarettes were smoked and beer consumed, and, as one reads further, it appears that more than one person tried to take charge. 'Another took it upon himself to rebuke him,' we read, and 'During the sharp exchange of words that followed' the Everest party fell. I would imagine that such goings on will not produce many record lengths.

However, in the report published in 'The Ringing World' (dated December 4th, 1959, page 725), we read of a slight improvement, although it seems that the conductor had not learned the composition properly. It would also appear that he lost his grip of the proceedings again around the 28,000 odd mark, as we read of one of the ringers being given incorrect instructions as to what he should have been doing. This, the report says, 'Led to some confusion.' It would appear that the confusion was bad enough to end the attempt.

One might also be tempted to ask, 'Was it a combination of confusion and monotony?' If monotony is one of the bogies of long lengths, let us read what Mr. George Gilbert says in his letter ('R.W.' May 13th, 1960, page 331). 'Lack of discipline is the cause of most bad striking and no real ringer finds any method monotonous as he is all the time listening to the beat.' These are truly the words of a master. Thank you Mr. Gilbert.

In conclusion I would suggest to Mr. Ivins that he gets himself a band together, thoroughly learn Bob Major and a composition of it, and also how to control a band, then get permission to ring on a peal of church bells and try to emulate the Essex band and their performance. NOT tell a man twice his age and with more experience, who was ringing Bristol before, I will venture to say, he knew handstroke from backstroke, to learn the method. If he can do that we might have something to congratulate him upon.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGER

Kent.

(Name and address supplied).

whether he's horrible or not because I've never met him but his remarks about the long peal of Bob Major are not so silly after all.

Now a peal 22,400 changes wants a lot of ringing, even though it's only Bob Major, and Mr. Lufkin's band deserve full credit for their performance; however, the peal is nothing to shout about when compared with 21,600 Bristol Surprise Major, as any ringer capable of ringing Bristol will agree—in Bob Major all the ringers can sit back and have a jolly good sleep except the conductor, who has to keep wide awake, but you can't go to sleep in Bristol Surprise, no sir!

Should there be any doubt about this among the non-Bristol ringers just compare the two diagrams and I'm sure you'll see what I mean.

Anyway, until some band or other rings a longer peal in a method equal to Bristol I, for one, will continue to regard the 21,600 as by far the finest performance yet.

Another point worthy of note is the fact that the Loughborough band did, in fact, ring over 28,000 changes before they broke down, roughly 6,000 changes more than the recent record length. Even though it can't be classed as a peal, it must surely be classed as the better performance. I feel as Mr. Ivins does that any band wishing to walk off with the record for Bob Major must endeavour to pass the 28,000 mark.

Perhaps there will now be a race between Frank Lufkin and Steven Ivins to see who can ring the extent of Plain Bob first and while we're all awaiting the result, maybe a highclass band from out of the blue will shake us to our very foundations with 40,320 Spliced Surprise Major in about 100 methods (and Spliced at the half leads just to prove there's no trickery!).—Yours sincerely,

WILFRED W. RING.

Bethersden, Kent.

P.S.—Mr. Ivins will please note that Mr. Lufkin won't have to learn Bristol—he can already ring it, and I do mean ring it.
