THE TELL-TALE OF 1963

SOME views about peal ringing were expressed in a front page article last September, but your annual reminder to readers to send in their peal totals for 1963 for inclusion in the tell-tale prompts these further reflections. There are those we know who regularly ring more than the 25 peals in a year, which is the minimum number you suggest for inclusion in the list, but who do not send in details because they do not wish to be included. And yet, of course, the separate peal details have been published throughout the year, so the facts can be ascertained by the use of a little time and trouble by anyone interested. To my mind the list is a useful complement to the recording of peals rung for the various Associations, prepared each year by the Central Council, but perforce not published until many months of the new year have gone.

It is normal, at the year's end, for the staff of a weekly or monthly journal to look back, and take stock, and to summarise for their readers some of the events of the year that has gone. With the limited resources of our paper it is a good thing that some of this work is done by the Records Committee of the Central Council and that this other part, the tell-tale, can be achieved by the voluntary help of those primarily concerned.

As one who has never before made the list, having usually, for these days, modest total of about 15 peals a year, I have always found it interesting to see new names coming into the list, and new conductors, and new ringers of handbell peals. These are the people on whom the Exercise will depend to a great extent in the years to come for leadership in the often difficult task of maintaining bands for service ringing; of providing officers and leaders of our Associations and Guilds; of helping new recruits over the hurdles of their first peals and quarter peals and of setting targets at which those beginners can aim. It will be said of course that our leading peal ringers do not all do all these things at present, but I believe that the exceptions are few. The large majority of the names that will appear in the list in due course will be those of ringers who ring regularly for services and support many of their Association meetings. And teach beginners, though how they manage to find the time for it all I often wonder.

Now for a personal note. My own first, and in all probability last, appearance in the list is due mainly to the efforts of other members of the Exercise. On a summer outing or during the Central Council week-end one visits a new tower. Being impressed by the bells one says some refreshment after it. To all those people and to all the other friends who regularly invited me to stand in their attempts, thus making my 1963 total possible, my grateful thanks. W. G. W.

captain just happens to be in earshot and some weeks later a peal attempt has been arranged. And probably

They Gave up their Practice and made a New Page in Village History

THE traveller along the main road between the Hertfordshire towns of St. Albans and Barnet passes the prominent 15th century tower of St. Giles' Church. South Mymms, in Middlesex. Since the time of Napoleon this has contained six bells and these were south Mymms, in Middlesex. Since the time of Napoleon this has contained six bells and these were rehung with the back three recast at Whitechapel in 1893. A few years later, the ringing gallery was removed and soon after the First World War, the then Vicar silenced the bells, after a slight mishap to one of them. So they remained during his lifetime.

Recently, under a new Vicar, the Rev. E. P. Clare, the tower was restored and, one autumn day in 1962, Roger Durrant, of Cheshunt, in the course of his work on church clock maintenance, asked permission to try the bells. This was readily given and, after hard work with spanners, grease and a set of old and. after hard work with spanners, grease and a set of old ropes, the bells rang out for Harvest Festival. Interest was roused in the village and Ralph Bootman, the organist and exringer, gave a few lessons before leaving for another post. In February, help came from St. Albans when a regular Thursday practice was started on silent bells. A full team of beginners was it hours of steeplekeeping were put in by Jeff Fost (under the guidance of Gcoff Dodds), including a memorable trip to Mears'—' Do you sell spare parts for bells?'

May came and the home team rang their first rounds on open bells as the 'service touch' at the first ringing meeting in the tower, before most of them took their places in the choir. Later came some minor repair work by Mears, the start of change ringing at the St. Peter's, St. Albans, practices and, by Harvest Festival. Sunday ringing started, one year after the bells were first rung again for a Sunday.

Recently, the Vicar has been seriously ill in hospital, but is now out and about on light duties. One practice night, he came into the belfry and asked very nicely if the ringers would forgo just one practice, at the end of November. Momentary disappointment was seen, but not voiced, so, with a twinkle in his eye: 'Good, I'm so glad, because that is the night of the first annual South Mymms ringers' dinner, I hope you can all come.'

THE DINNER

Came the night and, at 7.30 prompt, several cars arrived at the Waggon and Horses, Ridge Hill.

First surprise! How many ringers' dinners begin with several glasses of Bristol Cream Sherry? Ten South Mymms ringers and eleven visitors then took their places, the visitors being the Vicar and Mrs. Clare, the two churchwardens, five of the St. Albans instructors (three of them girls), a trustee (?) and a silversmith (? !). A delicious meal followed: oxtail soup, chicken with mountains of good things to go with it, trifle, an excellent Erench things to go with it, trifle, an excellent French white wine—the glasses were never allowed to become empty—Blue Stilton, biscuits and

Two months before, the Vicar received a phone call from a London bank. Did he have any bellringers? 'Yes.' Were the bells rung regularly? 'Yes.' Oh, in that case, we can go ahead with the bequest.' '?' In 1924, Joan Bruce Robinson died at the tender age of 104 years. Her father, Mr. A. Bruce Robinson, purchased a tankard out of her savings and incorporated this in his will, made in 1929. and his executors (the London bank) began the lengthy job of meeting the terms of his will. Many benefactions came to the church, including funds for the restoration of the tower. The bequest for the ringers came fortunately just after ringing was resumed. The terms include—

(1) There shall be an annual dinner for the South Mymms bellringers, for which a sum of £10 is to be used. It is to be free for the bellringers, but visitors shall pay part.

(2) There shall be two bottles of Bristol

Milk provided.

(3) The cup is to be on the table at the dinner and a visitor shall propose the toast 'Prosperity to the Ringers' to be drunk from it.

(4) The cup is to be inscribed with the six bells of South Mymms and a chosen verse by the famous Vicar of Morwenstow. Parson Hawker. (Also added are the words 'The Joan Bruce Robinson Memorial Cup.')

(5) The bells shall be rung muffled before midnight on New Year's Eve and 'open afterwards.

PREB. ANDREWS HONOURED

The Exercise will extend its congratulations to Preb. J. H. B. Andrews, of Chittlehampton Vicarage, Umberleigh, North Devon, the president of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers and secretary of the Guild of Clerical Ringers, who has been appointed a M.B.E. in the New Year's Honours List.

Preb. Andrews' award was made mainly in recognition of his services as chairman of the Barnstaple Youth Employment Committee for several years, but in many other directions he has done notable public service, not least to the Exercise in Devon.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN CRAGG

One of the last remaining foundation members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. Mr. John Cragg, of Caythorpe, Lincs, died after a short illness on December 19th in Grantham Hos-

a mistake. He had a stern but lovable way of demanding the utmost from the band.

John was a member of a ringing family and he led the Caythorpe belfry when they had one of the finest bands in the county. In the early days of the Guild he rang in many peals with the Rev. A. Law James. His first peal by a local band in which he rang the seventh. was Grandsire Triples on February 11th. 1903; one of his last was 50 years later on the same bell to the same method.

He was always present for Sunday ringing and whenever visitors came to Caythorpe for peals or outings he ensured that everything was in readiness and gave them a warm welcome.

Members of the Lincoln Cathedral Company rang a course of Grandsire Triples at the graveside standing: P. A. Sharpe 1-2, J. L. Millhouse 3-4, John Freeman 5-6. John Walden 7-8. A memorial peal of Stedman Triples was rung on December 28th. So passes another good and faithful servant. Caythorpe will never seem the same without John Cragg.

MR. ALLEN ROBINSON

The funeral service took place on December 27th at Mirfield, Yorks, of Mr. Allen Robinson, the last of the older generation of Mirfield ringers. His association with the tower extended to almost 60 years, and during this time he had held the offices of secretary, conductor and tower keeper. He was 81 years of age.

Mr. Robinson joined the Yorkshire Association in 1900 and had visited more than 100 towers in his native county. He had rung two peals for the Yorkshire Association and was a life member. His father, Mr. Benjamin Robinson, rang at Mirfield for over 60

Taking part in the half-muffled ringing at the service were Miss S. Armitage, Messrs, I. Walker, C. Thornton, W. Bawcutt, D. Moffett, P. Broughton and C. Armitage (con-

CHRISTMAS DAY BROADCAST

Expressing his disappointment at the Christmas Day broadcast, Mr. James Hedgcock, 17-year-old conductor at St. Thomas' Church. St. Helens, suggests that the Scots, Welsh. Irish, and people from other areas of the country could do with a few lessons on how to strike bells correctly from the Liverpool Branch of the Lancashire Association of Change Ringers.

His letter concludes: 'I sincerely hope that this standard of ringing is not common, and I would appeal to the B.B.C. and I.T.V. to give the true impression of what good, well-struck ringing sounds like at Christmas. There are usually well-struck bells on the Light programme at 8.25 each Sunday morning.'

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

The annual meeting of the Guild was held at Elland, on December 7th, and was moderately well attended. After Evensong, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. R. Howarth, the business meeting took place in the Parochial Hall. The Guild's chairman, Mr. P. Birkett, took the chair, and secretary, treasurer and Ringing M presented their reports for the past year. Master Officials elected for 1964 were: Secretary, Miss W. Mortimer: Ringing Master, Mr. R. Senior; treasurer, Mr. A. W. Bond: committee: Messrs, F. Linfoot and H. Quarmby and Miss A. Flather. Members expressed their gratitude to Mr. D. Smith for the work he had done for the Guild during the past three years, while he held the post of secretary.

It was decided that the next meeting should be held in March, the tower to be announced at a later date. Ringing was resumed after the meeting until 9 p.m. D. S.

MISS P. A. SAUNDERSON MARRIED

Bell ropes were hung in the porch of All Saints' Church, Sandon, Herts, on December 14th, for the wedding of Miss P. Anne Saunderson, a local ringer, and Mr. Christopher Worboys, of the Ashwell tower. Both bride and bridegroom also ring at Baldock. The bells were rung before and after the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. Catterick. J. Catterick.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full length dress of white brocade (made by herself), and a short veil. Her sister June and Miss Margaret Hatchett were the elder bridesmaids, and two-and-a-half-year-old Maureen Mabbitt also attended. Mr. Rodney Worboys was best man.

A recention was held at Sandon Village Hall and the presents included a canteen of cutlery from fellow bellringers.

A SILENCE OF TEN YEARS BROKEN IN DEVON

The picturesque village of Oakford, high above the valley of the Exe, some seven miles from Tiverton, has a ring of eight cast by Mears, with a tenor of 12½ cwt. During the past 10 years various attempts have been made to obtain permission to ring the bells and various reasons were given why the bells whould not be true? should not be rung.

In July the Bishop of Exeter put Oakford under the care of the Rev. R. G. Herniman, Rector of the East Devon group of parishes, and he readily gave permission for an inspec-tion. Debris from birds was removed from the tower and an inspection carried out. After a few more visits, and the use of much oil, a party of four ringers from St. Peter's, Tiverton, went on December 14th to tidy up and try the bells singly, and decided to ring them on St. Stephen's Day.

A representative band on December 27th rang the bells for two hours under the guidance of Messrs. F. D. Mack and H. W. Ware. There is still much work to be done but everyone was delighted with them and it is hoped that the local ringers will now keep them going.

Visiting ringers should apply to either the Rev. R. G. Herniman, of Washfield, Tiverton, or to the Ringing Master of the N.E. Branch of the Kinging Master of the K.E. Branch of the Devon Guild, who has been appointed steeple-keeper. Ringing by visiting bands will be limited for the time being until everyone is satisfied that ropes and fittings are satis-factory. W.A. W.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the North Staffs Association was held on December 7th at Stoke Parish Church Hall. The Ven. George Youell, president, was in the chair, and the following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. G. W. Biddulph; vice-chairman, Mr. A. W. Hall; secretary, Mr. G. C. Beech; treasurer, Mr. A. D. Steele; Ringing Master, Mr. W. H. Pickett.

Pickett.

Sixty-two members sat down to a first class meal, kindly supplied free by the Rector of St. Peter's Church, and ably waited on by wives of Stoke ringers and their lady ringers. The Archdeacon thanked the ringers for their attendance and the work they did: he also paid tribute to the hard work put in by the retiring secretary. Mr. J. G. Burton. Reviewing the year he said the most memorable thing in his mind was the dinner for the 80th anniversary of the Association. The Ringing World was thanked for their very full coverage of this event.

After tea ringing recommenced, ranging from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

On December 30th, the Hereford Cathedral School Society rang a peal of Doubles in five methods at Much Dewchurch. This was the outcome of several practices and quarter peals during the past six months. At the annual general meeting, held a few days previously, it was reported that monthly practices had been held regularly at towers in the Hereford been held regularly at towers in the Hereford District, and an outing had been organised. Thanks were due to Messrs. G. T. Cousins and J. W. Hope, for their help to the Society and J. W. Hope, for their help to the Society in making these a success.

M. C. W. Sherwood was elected Master for 1964 in place of J. F. I. Turney, who did not seek re-election, and it is hoped that progress will be maintained during the coming year. The Society, which was started in the 1940's, has among its Past Masters J. C. Eisel and M. P. Moreton.

Standard in Long Length Peals

Dear Sir.—It is strange how people will write about matters of which they know little. fail to see how the conductor or organiser of the record attempt at Loughborough can, in this context, 'owe' anybody anything, and as I was neither, but simply a grateful participant in the event, I should like to record some of mentioned two events. The ringing in the two peals was far better than in the record attempt. It is no light matter to undertake a peal attempt which is likely to last about 11 hours. Have your correspondents no nerves? We have—and they showed. That 'stand' was called when it was called was the correct decision; it was, rightly, one man's decision, but agreement was, I think, unanimous.—Yours faith-

Multi-Spliced Peals

Multi-Spliced Peals

Dear Sir,—As the only surviving member of the band that rang the first spliced peal of Treble Bob Minor in 35 methods at Norbury. Cheshire, on Tuesday, December 4th, 1923, I tender my heartiest congratulations to the band who, just 40 years later, rang one in 143 methods at Castle Eaton, Wilts. I know full well that if any other members of the Norbury band had been alive to-day they, too, would nave added their congratulations.

Forty years ago it was thought that five methods per 720 was the maximum that could be obtained and the 35 method peal was successful only after much hard work. Since then great progress has been made and to-day a similar peal seems to be insignificant.

When we accomplished our peal Mr. John S. Goldsmith was wholly behind us but to the 'die-hards' spliced ringing was nothing more than a stunt and would lead nowhere, many of the 'great ones' of the day ridiculed it and poured scorn on our efforts. What a difference to-day, 'Spliced' peals are commonplace and I wonder how many who ring them appreciate the efforts of the pioneers.

President Kennedy's Death

President Kennedy's Death

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to see that a man whom I respect and admire should take part in the degrading 'we were first to ring for President Kennedy' race.

Does it really matter who rang first to commemorate this tragic event? The fact that some ringers were fortunate enough to be on the spot at the time is of no credit to them. That they immediately put their skill to such use is indeed praiseworthy—but no less credit is due to those who followed as soon as they could, be it next day, next week, even next month. To indulge in argument as to who struck the first note sullies the good intentions of those taking part and reduces the Exercis to the level of an egg-and-spoon race. I wish no offence to the persons concerned.

Exercis to the level of an egg-and-spoon race.

I wish no offence to the persons concerned. It is merely my opinion that values are in danger of being badly distorted here. The important point is that the bells were rung—not who got there first.—Yours faithfully,

Adelaide Town Hall Bells

Dear Sir.—There are two points in Mr. uss' interesting account ('R.W.' December 6th. 1963) that call for comment.

6th. 1963) that call for comment.

Firstly, he is not correct in stating that there are only three town halls possessing rings of bells. In addition to the three he mentions, the Town Hall of Berwick-upon-Tweed, Northumberland, has had a ring of eight bells (tenor 21 cwt.) since the latter part of the 18th century, although they are now unringable owing to their own poor condition and the precarious state of the tower. A detailed report of these bells appears in the 1947 volume of the 'R.W.'

Secondly, the fact of the third bell being the lightest of the ring is not unique. There are several similar instances of this in the U.K. and to quote but one example from the bells several similar instances of this in the U.K. and to quote but one example from the bells in this locality. Blaydon-on-Tyne has a light ring of six, in which the third is the lightest bell, the weights being: treble (G sharp), 3 cwt. 3 qr. 17 lb.; 2nd (F sharp), 3 cwt. 2 qr. 27 lb.; 3rd (E), 3 cwt. 2 qr. 26 lb.; 4th (D sharp), 4 cwt. 0 qr. 23 lb.; 5th (C sharp), 5 cwt. 0 qr. 7 lb.; tenor (B), 6 cwt. 0 qr. 27 lb.—Yours sincerely.

Society of Wessex Scholars

Dear Sir.—As was to be expected, the controversy over the formation of the Society of Wessex Scholars has begun with a vengeance.

On examination, is your correspondent. Mr. David, E. House, really qualified to express an opinion? It is unfortunate that the name 'Wessex' was selected as part of the title of the Society, which is intended in no way to be territorial. Nevertheless, Wessex does cover a considerably larger area than that of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

Mr. House states that the fruits of bad teaching can be seen in belfries all over the country. If this is so what is his complaint about the formation of the Scholars? The Guilds and Associations have done wonderful work over the years, a fact which no ringer can deny, except perhaps Mr. House, who seems to have overlooked the possibility that the seeds of the fruit of bad teaching and ringing were sown by the members of these Associations. I personally do not believe this to be the case. Many good ringers have been taught by poor teachers which seems to point to the fact that good ringers are born and not made. Conversely, there are many bad ringers who have been taught by excellent teachers. excellent teachers

Without wishing to bring in personalities I must say that I have in writing a statement made by an officer of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild to the effect that the objects of the Guild have been very much neglected. Perhaps this is the reason why so many bells in this area hang silent through lack of ringers and teachers and teachers.

Come along now, Mr. House, get your jacket off and tackle a job of work that is well worth doing. I'm quite sure you would be most welcome to help out in the towers where only indifferent Grandsire Doubles are rung. Your own Guild, of which I have also been a member for 18 years, would surely benefit from your efforts. Alternatively, come and join the Scholars, who have openings for good teachers.—Yours faithfully.

Dragging through a Peal

Dear Sir.—Whilst not wishing to enter into dispute with Mr. House on the aims of the Wessex Scholars' Society, I must challenge his use of the phrase 'Dragged through a peal' when he refers to membership.

I have heard this term used before by the so-called expert ringer. I would remind David that when he rang his first peal at Whitchurch none of the more experienced ringers that day thought of it as dragging him through; indeed we were only too pleased to help him to ring his first peal (as I am to help any first-pealer) and he did not disappoint us, as he rang very well.

I would like to see this term banished from

I would like to see this term banished from ringing (it is used far too often) and a little more tolerance shown to beginners and ringers attempting their first peal or first in a new method. We all have to learn but I hope method. We all have to learn but I hope we don't have to be dragged through. I am sure the Wessex Society don't intend to drag anybody through; their aims rather are to assist beginners.

Our Guild is short of teachers: the more teaching that can be done by this Society the better. I would point out to Mr. House the objects of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild under Rule 1:—

'Encouragement of ringing for divine service, cultivation of change ringing and the preservation of church bells in an efficient condition.

If this is being done, what does it matter who does it? And in our Guild's area there are plenty of towers that not only need en-are plenty of towers that not only need en-couragement but also maintenance of bells. As the members of this Society are also members of the parent body, I would say, Carry on the good work until all bells in the area are rung regularly for at least one service on a Sunday.—Yours sincerely, GEOFFREY DODD.

Congratulations to 143 Spliced Methods Ringers

Dear Sir.—As one just living across the border. I feel I must add congratulations to Tony Peake and company, on their excellent achievement in ringing a peal of Spliced Minor in 143 methods.

I have had the pleasure of meeting all the ringers who took part, with the exception of Mr. Hurcombe. Anthony and Brian have been known to me since the commencement of their ringing careers.

The synopsis referring to Brian Bladon is slightly incorrect, where it purports him as being a Ringing Master in the Salisbury Guild. He is in fact Ringing Master. Swindon Branch, the Bristol and Gloucester Association.—Yours sincerely.

T. A. PALMER. Hon, Sec., Marlborough Branch, Salisbury Guild.

'Now All Bob'

Dear Sir,—In addition to the ringing expressions explained by Mr. Frank H. King in your issue of December 20th is the word 'Bob.' Chambers' Dictionary states 'the float of a fishing line, which pops up and down.' In olden days, perhaps, the treble ringer, when about to lead at back stroke, would sav, 'Now all bob,' signifying all dodge. I have heard the same when ringing Bob Maximus at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich. The current use of 'bob' is worth interpretation.—Yours truly. tru!y,

GEORGE E. SYMONDS.

Yorkshire Tail Ends

Dear Sir.—Mr. Moreton's observations about the difficulty or otherwise of handling Yorkshire ends may be applied to ordinary tail-ends as well. Both types of tailend are liable to swing about when held more than a few inches from the end, and I tnink Yorkshire ends are rather safer when they do; I would rather be hit in the eye by a nice soft tail-end than a hard one of ropel Ordinary tail-ends can also twist in the shire tails.

rope! Ordinary tail-ends can also twist in the single part below the sally as well as York-shire tails.

I, too. have noticed a lot of single bell practice in Yorkshire, but it seems to occur at towers without Yorkshire ends as well as those with. Such practice is not more necessary with these ends than with ordinary tail-ends, the previous experiences of other ringers ringing any particular bell during a meeting should be enough to tell one whether a rope is long or short and adjust accordingly. Indeed, one of the advantages of a Yorkshire tail end is the ease of adjustment. What could be more simple than just tying or untying a knot? I agree with the criticism of the lack of a proper grip at handstroke on new ropes. Many people find it a problem with this type of tail-end. However, I think it is one which can be overcome with experience on these ropes as can the problem of poor grip if one has to get hold above the sally. I find these ropes delightful to ring with after some experience with them and would certainly recommend them to any tower trying them for the first time.—Yours, etc.,

Accrington, Lanes. J. B. PICKUP. Accrington, Lancs.

'Abominable Ends'

Dear Sir,—His statement, by one so greatly appreciated as Mr. Wilfrid Moreton, is beyond my comprehension. I do ask Mr. Moreton if he has never before noticed, at the various meetings ne attends, the knots. Have a look at the indifferent ringers who never try their length, which, to me, is far more haphazard than what I have been brought up to.

Mr. Moreton mentions the undignified single-bell practice. But it is far, far better to have the undignified single bell put right instead of a lot of undignified bells in the matter of coursing.

He states that a common result is that handstroke is rung with one hand, which in my mind is fallacious. My experience is that 90 per cent. of Yorkshire tailenders let their bell rise to a more upright position at back. In support of this I say, 'Carry on in your own undignified way of single-bell practice, for it leads you to command your own bell, which I am sure gives more contentment to the rest of the band, as the sound of your bell is far more important than undignified haphazardness.'—Yours, etc.,

JOSEPH BURGESS.

LONGEST PEAL OF MINOR

By the Conductor, BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE

ON December 28th, the Bell Foundry Campanile at Loughborough was the of another long peal record when 21,600 changes of Spliced Treble Bob Minor in 60 methods were rung in 9 hours 44 in 60 methods were rung in 9 hours 44 minutes.

The peal, which was rung for the Chester Diocesan Guild, is the longest of spliced ringing—the previous longest being 13,440 Spliced Surprise Major rung at Norbury in 1961, also for the Chester Guild. In number of changes the peal is equal fourth with the 21,600 Bristol Surprise Major also rung by the same Guild in 1950. The longer peals are the 22,400, 32,704 and 40,320 Plain Bob Major.

The peal commenced at 9.40 a.m. at a steady pace of 20 minutes per extent, but gradually quickened with the 7-pull dodging in the fourth and fifth extents. The first 'peal' of 5,040 changes came round in 2 hours 18 minutes, slightly faster than anticipated, but it was found that the bells were easier to strike and handle at this speed. During this first part the ringing was a little uneven due to these reasons but by the time the Delight groups of methods were reached, the band had settled down well and it was a real treat to enjoy some excelient six-bell striking.

The halfway-point was passed at 2.30 p.m. and the difficult methods had been rung. From then on it was simply a case of standing there and working through the groups of methods one by one. Around about the 7-hour mark the first signs of mental tiredness were beginning to show and the ringing suffered by becoming slightly uneven and mistakes crept in. A few grumbles from the conductor and extra-loud calls stirred the band and within a surprisingly short time the ringing was back at its previous standard. Experience has shown that long peals have relatively poorer patches of ringing, but as soon as these are over the ringing can be even better than earlier (e.g. in the extent of Major in July, 1963, the worst ringing was around 27,000, but the best was between 30,000 and 35,000). Thus it was in our peal, with the best ringing coming as the previous record was passed at 18,000 changes.

From here to the end it was not so plain sailing as expected. The ringers of 5 and 6 found that their wrists would not bend and their bells felt like a ton weight and more. This was no doubt due to the excessive amount of dodging that had been done and in view of this fact the 28th and 29th extents were called so as to include as much Oxford T.B. as possible to avoid the triple dodging in the methods of the group (Kingston, etc.). The end of the peal came without further incidents at 7.24 p.m.

Afterwards, several members remarked that 7.24 p.m.

Afterwards, several members remarked that the peal had been a much tougher proposition than expected and it seems that this is due to the fact that it was a peal of Treble Bob and the continual dodging allowed no rest. However, all were satisfied with it and were thankful that after years of waiting the record is at least 'out of the way,' for the time being, at least.

The ringers would very much like to thank Paul Taylor for allowing them again the use of the Foundry bells for the attempt, and also to thank all those who sent and gave their best wishes for the peal.

'Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.'

LAUNTON HANDBELL RINGERS

The Launton Handbell Ringers included in their Christmas programme a recital of Christmas music at Church House, Witney, in aid of the Freedom from Hunger Fund. They were directed by Mr. Frederick Sharpe, who gave a brief description of the bells and music.

The recital was divided into six sections devoted to popular traditional carols, mediæval, those for the provinces, foreign, modern and Christmas hymns. Seventy-six bells were in

TWO FIVE-PART TABLES

By JOHN SEGAR

About fifty years ago I read an article by an expert of that time about the proof of peals in five regular parts. He said if no falseness had been detected after examining three parts the peal would be the pear table. Here is a peal and its noof and also a false touch false touch.

Some peals have these part ends 34562, 45623, 56234, 62345, 23456. It does not matter which is first, the others will follow provided the first is not rounds. This means the peal and the touch can be proved by table 'A' below.

I turn now to the second table, a much larger one because it has 360 course heads with the seventh in all positions. When used for Surprise Major there are a large number of transpositions for bobs and a still larger number for the false course heads. Cambridge Surprise has fifty-six F.C.H.s against each of the 360 courses in the table. It is because there is a way of reducing the work to one twelfth Reduction No. 2. From the twelve rows in the table make six peals: 1 and 7, 2 and 8, 3 and 9, 4 and x, 5 and E, 6 and T. Any pair will do as as example, but I give two.

It will be seen that the difference of six is constant between all pairs of rows and in all calling positions. Half length strips could have been used for the top half of the table. Then by adding or subtracting six the lower half could have been filled in without searching for the course and its number. For the small table one set of half length strips is required, but for the hundreds of transpositions necessary for Surprise Major with the tenors parted two sets are required. Readers who need help in preparing the 360 course table are invited to apply to me. (See advert.)

Some readers may know that table 'A' can be used to prove all peals of this type regardless of the part-end, making tables 'B' to 'F' unnecessary. This is a complication outside the purpose of this article, which is to show how to reduce the work to one twelfth when composing peals of Surprise Major with the tenors parted, such as my 22,080 of Bristol and other record lengths. my 22,080 of Bristol and other record lengths.

'MARCH' OF PROGRESS

A milestone in steady progress of ringing at March St. Wendreda's was achieved on December 29th, when the final quarter peal on the bells for 1963 was rung.

For three months, local ringers have practised hard to 'break through' the intricacies of Cambridge Surprise. Bearing in mind the maxim 'Nothing without endeavour,' a team was finally rewarded in the ringing of a well struck quarter, which included an extent of Cambridge. Cambridge.

It was the first extent in the method in the tower by a team of local ringers since January 1st, 1824, when March men rang a 720, a 360 and a 240.

Five ringers in the recent quarter peal had not rung an extent of Cambridge before.

The first quarter peal on record at St. Wendreda's materialised in 1819, and was followed by extents in various methods. No other quarters were rung until 1949, and from that year 20 in Trable Behaved believed by other quarters were rung until 1949, and from that year 30 in Treble Bob and plain methods have been rung on March bells by March ringers. These include 23 'first' quarters. No less than 16 young people have rung their first quarter peal since 1960. Two full peals—one in recent years—have been rung on the bells by local ringers (13 in all having been rung at the tower).

A recent inauguration is monthly practices. Regular practices take place on Mondays and of course, all are welcome to ring. Outings of course, all are welcome to ring. Outings are considered to play a vital part in maintaining interest, and the local ringers have rung bells at about 100 churches.

The new year will see one or two memors attending college, etc., but a core of 15 will remain, this number including several boys and girls who are busy ringing rounds, call changes and disentangling the early stages of method ringing.

For many years a ringer at Hinton-on-the-Green, Mr. F. Barnes, celebrated with his wife their golden wedding. In honour of the event a peal of Plain Bob Major was rung at Hinton, in which his daughter and son-in-law participated.

Known to his ringing colleagues as 'the One Armed Bandit,' I. P. Unsworth has now rung a quarter peal with two hands.

At the age of 81 Mr. J. Smith Eastland has rung his first peal of Triples at Worksop. This was his second peal; his first was rung

For the fourth year, but not in succession, Mr. G. E. Symonds and family have rung tunes on two octaves of handbells at the Christmas carol service in the Church of St. Mary-over-Stoke, Ipswich.

Two quarters have now been scored by the Holy Trinity Society, Wandsworth, which is progressing well in the field of change ringing. Any visitors will be welcome to ring on this fine Taylor octave (1923) on the practice nights—Tuesday, 6.30-8 p.m.

When a certain young lad; at St. Giles', Newcastle, Staffs, made a mistake in some Stedman Doubles on a practice night she was jokingly given 50 lines—'I must learn to make a Stedman Single.' To everyone's surprise they were done—in English, French, German and Latin. She can make the Single now, too!

on December 28th, at St. Peter's, St. Albans. Mrs. K. M. Darvill rang a peal at her first attempt, 24 years after starting ringing. She was to have attempted one in 1940, but because of the wartime ban on ringing this attempt could not take place. Also in the peal were her husband and two sons, one of whom was the conductor.

The quarter peal at Merriott, Somerset, should have had three ringers taking part who celebrated their birthday on December 22nd, but an hour before ringing Alan C. Best met with a minor road accident and was unable to reach the tower. The conductor would like to thank Mr. H. E. Turner for standing in at short notice

BELFRY GOSSIP

It was significant that as the peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Woolos' Cathedral, Newport, Mon. came into rounds, the lights in the public house opposite the Cathedral came on. This was Bill Hibbert's first attempt for a peal on the bells, where, in 1895, his 'dear old dad' called the first Association peal on the original eight.

Mr. P. R. Harris, of Ipswich, would like to thank all those who were so hospitable during his stay at C.T.S. Stone, especially Mr. B. G. Key and Mr. R. Balls.

Mr. Howard Howell, of Penn, Wolverhampton, scored his 600th peal when participating in the peal of Grandsire Triples at Willenhall, Staffs, on December 21st.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe's manuscript on Guernsey bells is now with the printers and will be published in the New Year. He has visited all the 18 churches there and has photographs and rubbings of most of the bells.

wroxham (Norfolk) ringers have handed over £66 to the Parochial Church Council towards the cost of quarter-turning and adding near bearings to the bells. Money has been raised by handbell ringing, the sale of Christmas cards and the proceeds from a model railway.

Another generation of the famous ringing family of Pye made his appearance in our peal columns in the issue of December 20th. Fourteen-year-old William E. E. Pye, son of Mr. E. W. Pye, rang the fourth bell to a peal of Plain Bob Major at Grundisburgh. His achievement is all the more meritorious as he was handicapped earlier by polio, which left him with a partly crippled leg.

The House Magazine of I.C.T. for December contains an article written by Miss Jean Sanderson entitled 'Ring Out, Ye Bells.' Jean justifies her position as a 'Ringing World' correspondent by an easy-to-read introduction to ringing, which she describes as 'an absorbing and very rewarding occupation.' Norton Church, where she is ringing instructor, and two other pictures give a personal interest to the article. Her post with I.C.T. (Engineering), Stevenage, is librarian.
