THE LEADER AND THE LOCAL COMPANY

(Extracts from an address given at a Course held at Selby organised by the Yorkshire Joint Council.)

By VERNON BOTTOMLEY

ENTHUSIASM is the most important quality in leadership. Enthusiasm is infectious and will spread to the rest of the band, even if rather slowly. On the other hand apathy will spread much more quickly—the rot always starts at the top, so the leader must be proof against all those shortcomings which weaken the band. His enthusiasm must drive him to set and maintain the highest standards in attendance and punctuality. His only excuses for absence are holidays and illness and he must not be late. Enthusiasm is more important than technical competence, because the former will enable him to acquire the latter. If he has not a good enough brain to become technically sound it is probable that he is incapable of becoming enthusiastic anyway. The leader is the pace-setter and the guardian of high standards and there can be no compromise and no relaxation.

He must delegate duties wherever possible, not with the idea of lightening his own burden, but with a view to maintaining interest. Members of the band should be encouraged to conduct. If the band should be ringing rounds and call changes a junior member may be entrusted with the calling, but this arrangement should not provide the leader with an opportunity to rest because it would be necessary for him to supervise the striking. Teaching beginners must be a continuous part of the leader's duties, but again enthusiasm will assist him to discover and apply good practice.

The leader's most important responsibility is the arrangement and supervision of service ringing and he must realise that only the best is good enough. There is no excuse for any bad ringing for service and this can only result from attempts to ring things which are beyond the capacity of the band. At all times temptation to practise must be avoided. If the weakest member of the band is capable of good plain hunting and weak Bob Major the band must ring good plain hunting. If the band has been taught the correct standards then it will derive more enjoyment from this alternative. Beginners must not be introduced to the service band until they can ring good rounds and call changes, and they should then be given a reasonable turn for every service ring and the remainder of the band must provide wholehearted support.

There must be no talking by those who are not ringing; there is no need for anybody to be idle. Beginners should be encouraged to stand with experienced members to acquire ropesight and to listen. This arrangement must not be taken as an excuse to talk; the beginner should have been briefed beforehand if he is to derive benefit. Service ringing periods should not be less than three quarters of an hour. An arrangement for less is very quickly reduced to 20 minutes by the inevitable tardy attenders and those who have to leave early for the vestry. When this stage is reached it is a very short step to silence. Ringing is part of parochial life and the bells should be rung whenever appropriate.

Special services should be given extra significance by ringing after the service as well as before. Nobody should be permitted to check a rope length by the appalling habit of "trying" the bell. Even in well regulated towers there will occasionally be the succession of trips which could deteriorate into near-firing. This must not be the occasion for the brilliant conductor to sort them out at length without regard to the resultant discordant clashing.

Neither should "stand" be called. The bells should always be run into rounds smartly and then either set up or sent into changes again.

Raising and lowering in peal should be normal procedure in most towers but if for a good reason it is impracticable the bells should not be dragged up and down in haphazard manner. Only those which produce a musical chord should be rung together. A preferable arrangement would be to fix clapper stays for the processes.

Whilst much of the foregoing can be applied with equal force to practice ringing, it is obvious that more latitude must be permitted, but sub-standard ringing should be kept to a minimum and a proper application to theory will be beneficial. It should always be emphasised that methods should be learned at home and practised in the tower. The use of diagrams in the tower should be discouraged—it is too late to do homework then. Pupils should be instructed at an early stage that the best way to learn bellringing theory is to study "little and often" and that it is almost useless to leave it until half an hour before practice. In the early stages they will learn more by standing and watching intelligently than by performing indifferently. As in service ringing nobody should be idle.

Most progressive bands will not have sufficient practice time in 1½ hours, and 2 hours should certainly be the rule if several grades of ringers are in the band. There should be a plan to the practice and the band should appreciate this. It is a mistake to deal exclusively with beginners at the first part of the practice—the selfish members of the band will very quickly start to use the "had to bath the dog" excuse, to the annoyance of the decent members. It is also a mistake to teach bell handling on the normal practice night, unless that session is finished before the practice proper is due to start. Clapper stays or lashing should always be used for handling tuition. It is also an advantage for elementary change ringing to be practised silently since the trainee is quite unable to listen in any case at that stage.

It is advantageous for an instructor to stand with and guide a learner in elementary change ringing provided it is done correctly. The instructor must watch his trainee's eyes and not the remainder of the circle. His advice should be kept to a minimum and should be directed to making the beginner look in the proper direction. Other members of the band should be forbidden to call to the learner. The tape recorder may be used as an aid to teaching striking. Senior members of the band will respect its presence.

The leader should have a good handling style and he should constantly criticise those who fall short of his standard. At times it may seem a losing battle, but some good may result. There is the problem of the "prickly" ringer, the one who always resents criticism and correction, and who invariably responds with an irritable "yes, yes"—an untruthful assertion that the correction was unnecessary. It may be possible to compromise in the short run by offering criticism quietly in the corner where practicable but sooner or later the touchy one will fall foul of a really demonstrative conductor and it will be better for him if he is mentally equipped to cope with this onslaught. If he is unable to take it and takes his final leave one practice night, it was probably inevitable anyway and the leader should have an untroubled conscience. The leader/conductor must always resist the temptation to "keep them going." There are far too many otherwise excellent conductors who call anything but "stand."

FLOWERS AND THE LATE HORACE DAY

Dear Sir.—On May 1st, 1961, a large company of ringers gathered at St. Guthlac's, Market Deeping, to pay their last respects to one of Lincolnshire's finest exponents of the art.

Now, five years later, a Flower Festival is being held in this beautiful old church, and what an opportunity this is once again to remember Horace Day and ring again at Market Deeping in surroundings he would have thoroughly enjoyed. Flowers were to Horace next to his bells.

I do hope on this occasion to meet some of those ringers who were there with me five years ago.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES E. BLACK.

West Deeping.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. McDERMOTT

Again we in the Bolton area of Lancashire have suffered a loss in the death of a most respected member, Mrs. W. McDermott, better known in the ringing fraternity as Annie Potter, daughter of the late John Potter, of St. Paul's, Walkden.

Annie, of course, came from ringing stock, her father (John) and uncles Alfred and Joseph and James Thomas being already established in the art when she started to learn in 1928. On the acquisition of the fine new eight (18½ cwt. in E) in 1930 the Church of St. Paul could boast a good Sunday service change ringing band. She was a familiar figure along with her father at the ringing meetings and her personality and charm and pleasant disposition always left one with a great admiration for this dear lady.

Of fine voice, she was a chorister at St. Paul's for many years. She was devoted to the care of her father and mother in their late years and in their respective illnesses. She nursed them with great love and care and in doing this she deprived herself of many enjoyable outings with ringing friends.

About 13 years ago she married the late William McDermott (not a ringer); they had a stepdaughter, May, to whom we offer our sympathy and also to her sister, Mrs. Bertha Lee.

Annie had a serious operation at Salford 12 months ago and we thought she was well on the way to recovery. Alas, she had not been well for many weeks and on Easter Day, after having her breakfast in the company of her sister Bertha, she collapsed and died of a heart attack.

The funeral was at St. Paul's, to which church she had been attached all her life. The bells were rung half-muffled as the cortege drew to the church and "whole pull and stand" was rung as it entered. Handbells were rung over the grave by members of the Bolton Branch. There were many floral tributes, as she was held in high esteem by all who came into contact with her. She was very fond of good striking and loved to hear Stedman Triples well struck; it was her favourite method. Many, like myself, loved her and will treasure her memory as long as we live. She had rung about 40 peals.

JOE THORNLEY.

MR. JOHN PINFOLD

One of the best known ringers of modern Birmingham, a worthy contemporary of Albert Walker, Mr. John Pinfold, died on April 13th. The following day, at St. Philip's Cathedral, a peal of Lindsey Surprise Maximus was rung by St. Martin's Guild as a tribute, and an in memoriam peal on April 21st.

Mr. John Pinfold was one of the most popular members of St. Martin's Guild and for a number of years was Ringing Master. He had to his credit many peals, appearing regularly in the 12-bell bands. John was also a member of the Sunday service band at St. Mary's, Selly Oak.

The funeral service took place at Lodge Hill Crematorium, Selly Oak, on April 18th.

On the following Wednesday the members of the Sunday service band at St. Mary's, Selly Oak, rang, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples: Mrs. Pauline Dear 1, Miss Nora Baker 2, Mrs. Barbara Parsons 3, C. Davies 4, William B. Cartwright (conductor) 5, H. J. Turner 6, H. T. K. Haslam 7, J. L. Boylin 8.

LATE NOTICES

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.—Manchester Branch.—Twelve-bell practice at Manchester Town Hall, Wednesday, May 4th. Bells available 6 p.m.-9.30 p.m. All welcome. Ringing will include rounds and call changes and Lambeth Surprise Maximus. 9012

SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION.—Annual meeting on May 7th at St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh. Ringing from 2 p.m. and at St. Cuthbert's in the evening. Names for tea to Mr. Arthur Smith, 9, Sighthill Loan, Edinburgh 11, by Wednesday previous. Phone 031-443 3665. 9007

CENTRAL AFRICAN GUILD OF BELLRINGERS

THE annual general meeting of the Central African Guild was held in Salisbury, Rhodesia, on March 20th. The confusion about the actual title of the Guild continues, and it has now to be renamed for the second time as the Rhodesian Guild, because the recent Provincial Synod refused to accept responsibility for us.

The meeting was not very well attended, partly because of petrol rationing, which has also depleted the Salisbury band. The Que Que ringers had softened the heart of their petrol controller, however, and a car load from there was present. The change ringing was less ambitious than it has sometimes been, and Bob Minor was the best achievement. There was none the less vigorous ringing after the morning service, and again between the business meeting and Evensong.

At the meeting special farewells were said to Colin Stevenson and Russ Reid, who both left Salisbury in December, and to the Blagoves, who leave this month. Their expertise and enthusiasm will be very sadly missed.

The meeting elected a new Master, Mr. Harry Earle, from Que Que. The remaining officers were re-elected (Mr. K. S. Cross as secretary and Mrs. Mason as librarian).

SUNDAY RINGING REGULAR

The outgoing Master reported one peal during the past year—the first of Major on the Continent—and four quarter peals. More important than this, the Sunday ringing at each tower has been regular, and there is friendly co-operation between church authorities and ringers. Steps have been taken in both towers to disturb the neighbours less, and also in Salisbury the chiming hammers have been installed to increase the facilities there.

The treasurer's report was a model of simplicity, as the Guild has apparently spent nothing during the last year: there were several suggestions for expenditure, so this is unlikely to happen again. Among these was a proposal for a regular newsletter to go to any interested persons or old Guild members. If anyone knows of ringers in Central Africa who might not yet be in touch with the Guild, please would they write to Mr. K. S. Cross (Box 766, Salisbury) or to Frank Blagrove.

The estimates for raising the ring at St Luke's, Que Que, to six bells have been obtained from Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Since they would cost about £40 per member present at the meeting, plans for an appeal were shelved. The first line of attack will be for our agents in England to look around for old bells which might be retuned or even recast. Again, if anyone knows of two bells lying unused, which might come to Que Que, would they let us know. The two bells required to complete the ring of six in D flat are E flat at 4½ cwt. and G flat at 3½ cwt.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

Members attending the Marlborough Branch meeting in very un-springlike weather on April 16th were entertained to tea as guests of the Rector and Mrs. P. Bird. The Guild service was conducted by the Rector.

At the business meeting, with Mr. George Newman presiding, it was decided that a small coach be hired for the Guild Annual Festival at Fordington, Dorchester. Four new members were elected.

Worcestershire and Districts Association

WITH memories of the bitter weather of Easter Monday last year, members may well have been hoping for something better this year, but the annual meeting was again held on another bitterly cold Easter Monday in and around Worcester.

The proceedings began with ringing in the morning at All Saints' Church, followed by the annual service. Work has just been completed on redecorating and on rebuilding the organ, and the ringers, not to be outdone, have been hard at it improving the appearance of the ringing chamber. There was a good attendance at the service, which was conducted by the Association's chaplain, the Rev. H. L. Davies. If only the pointing of the Te Deum could be standardised then we might hear that sung as lustily as the hymns. The organ was played by a member, Miss D. J. Anderson, and a course of Grandsire Triples was hung on handbells by P. Cattermole, J. C. Eisel, M. J. Fellows and R. Ashmore.

The business meeting followed immediately afterwards and was held in the Chapter House. The Association's president, the Dean of Worcester, was in the chair. One of the main items was to adopt a set of revised rules prepared by a sub-committee. A feature of these rules was the introduction of an affiliation scheme for Parochial Church Councils upon payment of an annual fee of £1 per year. This money would be used to swell the Belfry Repairs Fund and enable bigger grants to be made. Another feature was the replacement of the old form of Branch Committee by a more manageable one (in terms of size!). After some discussion revised rules were adopted by a large majority.

NEW OFFICERS

The meeting then proceeded to elect officers under the new rules. Only three vice-presidents were now required instead of six as formerly, but three of the previous ones were reappointed, the Rev. L. J. Birch and Messrs. W. B. Cartwright and J. D. Johnson. There were two nominations for the office of Association Master, Mr. W. B. Cartwright and Mr. M. D. Fellows. Mr. Cartwright was re-elected by a good majority. The general secretary, Mr. D. Beacham, was also re-elected, and the new separate office of treasurer went to Mr. G. Westwood. Another new office was that of peal secretary and Mr. G. L. Bowen was elected to fill this post. The chaplain was re-elected, as also was the librarian, Mr. C. W. Cooper. Mr. A. D. Cook was reappointed as auditor to be joined by Mr. R. Sheppard in place of Mrs. E. D. Wilson, who wished to stand down. The Central Council representatives, Messrs. B. C. Ashford, W. B. Cartwright and D. Beacham, were also reappointed.

What may be unique in ringing associations is the honouring of long-serving members by electing them "Freemen" of this Association. In recognition of 35 years' service as librarian Mr. C. W. Cooper was honoured in this way.

A resolution had been received from the Northern Branch calling for a sub-committee to be appointed to consider the reorganisation of the Association's boundaries and the formation of a fourth Branch. This resolution was agreed to and the committee appointed.

It was decided to send an invitation to the Central Council to hold its annual meeting in Worcester in 1968, the secretary remarking that the Council had met in Worcester only once before, in 1902.

In the afternoon and evening ringing took place at St. John's, Hallow, Grimley, Ombersley, Claines, the Cathedral, and concluded at All Saints' Church. There were many ringers "doing the rounds" in spite of the weather. So many in fact that it seems as if a second route may need to be arranged another time to avoid congestion.

POINTS FROM THE REPORT

In the annual report the chaplain (the Rev. H. Lewis Davies), in a foreword, urges attention to recruiting. The responsibility rested not only with ringers, but also the incumbent, churchwardens, church councillors and church-people generally if they were really concerned about having their bells rung. To maintain ringing at its present level a band would need at least one new keen ringer a year. There were towers which had not recruited a new ringer for years.

Mr. David Beacham, as secretary and treasurer, reported that bearing in mind that the general fund had been subsidised by collections (£16 16s.) the fund showed a profit on the year of £12 6s. 3d. From the Belfry Repairs Fund a grant of £25 was made to Bredon's Norton. Income to this fund was £8 8s. 3d. and its total worth was £260 9s. 6d.

Paid-up membership was 522. They first reached 500 in 1933 and since then had never fallen below 450, but on the other hand had never risen above 537 in 1953. There were approximately 700 bells in towers in their territory and in order to ensure that they were all regularly rung there should be at least half that number again of ringers.

A record number of peals (113) was rung for the Association in 1965, the most since 1949 (109). These peals were rung by 188 ringers in 51 towers. But to put these figures into the right perspective an analysis shows that 70 were non-resident life members. Of the resident members, 100 rang five peals or less and seven more than 20 peals. Thus the large total was really accounted for by a few enthusiasts. Twelve members rang their first peal and Mr. T. W. Lewis his 500th. Three peals called for special mention: 11.520 Yorkshire Surprise Major at Hanbury was the longest peal rung for the Association; 25 Doubles variations at Old Swinford and a peal of Minor in the Channel Islands were both worthy of note.

A most important and often neglected duty of the leader is to secure recruits and train them well in advance of apparent requirements. The age for recruitment is determined by physical considerations, but generally speaking the younger they are the better. The most reliable and desirable source is the church and it is an advantage to recruit those who have already acquired the habit of "twice on Sunday and one night a week." It is vitally important that before hand touches rope it should be clearly understood that this is the standard of attendance required and the leader should make it his business to ascertain the reason for absence or unpunctuality by any member of the band. If pupils fall into slipshod habits of this kind in the early days there is no doubt that keenness of the required standard is missing and the leader should be ruthless. If he is soft he is only delaying the inevitable and in the meantime wasting his own time and that of the band. There is no place in any band for either the part-timer or the habitual late-comer. There is in bellringing a law akin to Gresham's law relating to money and it is that bad members will drive good ones away. The remedy is obvious.

CENTRAL FUND FOR BELL RESTORATION SUGGESTED

Dear Sir,—Over the Easter week-end I was discussing with a ringing friend various alterations and improvements which were either planned or already being carried out in Cambridgeshire and also other towns in the Ely Diocese where, to our knowledge, improvement was needed.

It seemed to us, with increasing costs of repairing, rehangs and recasting bells, which often have to take a very minor place of preference for the money which churches have available, that ringers who are in a good many cases the only ones really interested in whether the bells ring or not, should provide the funds for the work that is needed to keep present rings operative, restore bells that through neglect have fallen into disrepair and even to augment existing rings. One might add that ringing is probably the only pastime or hobby where the equipment is provided virtually free.

During our discussion it seemed that with 40,000 ringers in the country one might expect to get 20,000 of these to contribute to a central fund, probably best administered by a small committee of the Central Council, at a rate of 2s. 6d. per month, which in the course of a year would raise £30,000. Having such a fund, ringers and those interested in the continuation of ringing might be persuaded to make donations or bequests to the fund.

We talked this over in some detail and thought that to have a collector appointed for each tower was probably the simplest method, this person being responsible for sending the sums collected to the general secretary of each Association for forwarding to the central fund. It would also seem to be a good idea for moneys from the fund to be paid direct to the bellfounders immediately on completion of a satisfactory job. This would prevent moneys being diverted to some other church purpose, always a temptation.

It may be that this letter could form a basis for discussion at the Central Council meeting at Whitsun. The longer such a scheme is delayed the more difficult it will be to instigate and the more expensive the work will be.—Yours faithfully,

D. E. R. KNIGHTS.

NURSE RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I would like to thank all those nurses who have written to me privately or have replied through your columns regarding my letter about nurse ringers.

I am very glad that there are so many interested nurses in the Exercise, and though I do realise that to arrange a nurses' peal might be difficult owing to the distances separating us and to hours of duty, I have noted all their names and will be in touch with them directly.

In reply to Dr. Neal Smith's letter I would say that I have heard of the Medical Guild and know that nurses can become associate members. However, the Medical Guild seems to operate mostly in the South of England. I have not met any of its members or come across any of its activities in this area, and since the prime object of my letter was not the arranging of a peal but simply the determining of the numbers of nurses in the Exercise I do not think that the Medical Guild is the right body with which to get in touch. I thank Dr. Neal Smith for his letter and his interest.—Yours sincerely,

TERENCE M. FITZGERALD.

TOUCHES OF STEDMAN DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—On page 80 of Wilfrid G. Wilson's "Change Ringing" there is a 33 of Stedman Doubles. This touch is false, as is any with singles in two successive sixes.

The shortest true touch of Stedman Doubles is a 38—singles on 5-2 and 4-5.

Other touches of Stedman, other than 120's, are: 48—singles every slow six; 51—singles on 1-5 and 1-2; 53—singles on 1-5 and 2-3; 65—singles on 2-1 and 4-2; 66—singles on 4-1 and 4-5; 79—singles on 4-2 and 5-4. (The 79 will still be true if singles are called each time 1-5 is behind.)

I would be very interested to hear of any other touches in this method.—Yours faithfully,

ANTHONY SMITH.

St. Uny's Cottage, Lelant,
St. Ives, Cornwall.

Wilfrid G. Wilson writes: I am grateful to Mr. Smith for pointing out the falseness of the touch of 33 changes of Stedman Doubles. It was added at the last minute to fill a gap in the page, and because it could usefully fill the gap when the service touch is over too soon.

But the true touch of 38 changes given above will serve the same purpose and I have arranged for it to be included in the forthcoming second edition of "Change Ringing."

"DATE TOUCH" QUESTIONED

Dear Sir,—A "Date Touch" of Stedman Triples, composed by Martyn J. Marriott, was published in "The Ringing World" dated February 4th, 1966, on page 88.

Is the homing course, as set out from 416523, correct? If so, I should be glad to see it set out "six" by "six."—Yours sincerely,

HARRY MILES.

CLAPPER FAILURE

Dear Sir,—Following the publication of my letter on clapper failure, Mr. H. Radley, of Dunholme, has discussed the problem with Mr. G. Wilson, head of the Engineering Department, Lincoln Technical College, who has offered to place at our disposal any of the college equipment in order to investigate the problem.

It is proposed to make certain measurements on actual bells to determine factors which are at present unknown, and also to make tests on broken parts if these can be made available.

Failure appears to occur in two forms: (a) in the shank of the clapper itself; (b) in the bolt which attaches the clapper to the bell and headstock. The causes, although related, would appear to be different in each case.

I would therefore be pleased to hear from anyone who has had first-hand experience of either failure, especially if the broken parts can be forwarded to us for examination. I would ask the person concerned to write first, giving details, before actually sending the "bits and pieces," since certain details and dimensions are also required about parts other than those which have actually failed.—Yours sincerely,

A. W. FROGGATT.

CLAPPER FRACTURES

Dear Sir,—With reference to A. W. Froggatt's letter in the issue of April 1st, I feel that he passes off the effect of the impulsive force between the clapper and the bell far too casually. The implication is that if the centre of gravity of the clapper is close enough to the point of impact, the force acting at the clapper pivot will be small, but this is not, in fact, the case.

If the clapper strikes at its "centre of percussion" the force acting at the pivot will be zero, irrespective of the magnitude of the force acting between bell and clapper, but the centre of percussion is positioned such that if its distance from the C.G. is a , and the distance from the C.G. to the pivot is b , then $ab=k^2$, k being the radius of gyration of the clapper about its C.G.

If the point of impact is removed from the centre of percussion through a distance C , and if the force acting between bell and clapper is F , then the reaction at the pivot will be

FC

Since F is of large magnitude, it will require only a very small value for C to give a force at the clapper pivot sufficient to cause eventual fatigue failure.

Thus the fracture of a clapper pivot could be caused by a badly designed clapper, as an alternative to the suggestions put forward by Mr. Froggatt. In this case the obvious but expensive remedy would be to fit a properly designed clapper, but otherwise the use of a new bolt with higher fatigue strength might provide a solution.—Yours faithfully,

NEIL D. LOMAS.

Wilmslow, Cheshire.

SILENT BELLS

Dear Sir,—Whilst agreeing with your correspondent of April 15th re "Use For Silent Bells," that probably the most common reason for silent bells is lack of interest by clergy and parishioners, I would point out that church bells are dedicated to the glory and for the use of worship to God.

I agree that if the bells are silent then they are not fulfilling their purpose, but to use them purely for secular purposes does not seem to be a good precedent to adopt.

It is nice to be able to ring without disturbing neighbours, and in fact in our area there are one or two churches without too dense a population. However, if ringing annoys the neighbours, couldn't it just be that they do not wish to be reminded that there is a service about to commence which they will not be attending?—Yours faithfully,

ROY M. COX.

Worthing, Sussex.

ABRAHAM GREENFIELD

Dear Sir,—I was very interested to read the letter from Mr. E. V. Rodenhurst regarding Abraham Greenfield, because when I was in that area several years ago I frequently rang with Mr. Greenfield at Netherton, as well as at St. Thomas' Church, Dudley. Another mentioned in Mr. Rodenhurst's letter was the "genial" Benjamin Gough, who in those days, I believe, rang at Coseley and whom I often met. Speaking of Netherton, this was the tower in which I rang my very first peal, one of Stedman Triples conducted by Alfred Davies, another Netherton ringer, and included in the band was that well-known Black Country ringer, Bill Short, of Clent.—Yours faithfully,

AUBREY L. BENNETT.

Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association

THE annual general meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held at Newport on Easter Monday. The bells of All Saints' and St. Woolos' were available during the afternoon and the service was held in the Cathedral at 4 p.m., conducted by the Rev. P. T. Clements. Afterwards the members adjourned to the Church Hall, where a delightful tea had been prepared by Miss Trowbridge and her band of willing helpers.

At the meeting the chair was taken by the Rev. P. T. Clements supported by a vice-president, Mr. F. J. Hannington, and the Master, David J. Llewellyn. We were indeed indebted to Mr. Clements for the manner in which he conducted the meeting.

Proceedings started with a silent tribute to the memory of members who had passed on during the year and it was with great sorrow that we heard of the death on Good Friday of Joe Lovett, a member of the Pentre band, who in the 1920's and 1930's rang peals off Cambridge and Superlative with the local Sunday service band. The secretary was asked to convey a message of sympathy to Mrs. Lovett.

The secretary, in his report, which had been circulated to all members, reported that 1964 had been a very eventful year in the history of the Association. The War Memorial had been replaced in Llandaff Cathedral and the name of the member who fell in World War II added. It was decided to honour the centenary of the birth of John W. Jones, who was hon. secretary for over 40 years, and this took the form of a new bookcase being made by a member, Donald G. Clarke, and "The Ringing Worlds" left by J. W. Jones from the first number until 1956 being bound and placed with other books in the new bookcase. The Association has been most fortunate in that most of the work for the memorial tablet was carried out by T. M. Roderick at his own expense, and the beautiful bookcase was provided by D. G. Clarke, thus saving the Association considerable expense.

YOUNGSTERS HONOURED

The boys of Cowbridge Grammar School continue to prosper with their ringing and have now formed their own Society. The first Master, Christopher Ricketts, appeared in "The Ringing World" series "Up-and-Coming Youngsters." Also during the year Ellis N. Thomas was featured in the same series but he has now left the school for Cambridge University. As Nicholas Simon appeared in this same series some while ago it is thought that we are the first Association to be so honoured.

During the year 77 peals were rung, an increase over last year's record total of 50. A feature of the year has been that peals were rung in towers where peals have not been rung for a large number of years, including Radyr (last peal in 1912), St. Athan (1925), Merthyr (1929), Llanbradach (1932) and Aberdare (1938). The leading peal ringer for the year was N. W. H. Simon with 29 peals of which he conducted 27, and Miss Ruth Havard led the ladies with 21 peals. Miss Christine Glastonbury (now Mrs. R. Lucas) conducted the first peal by an all-ladies' band at Rumney. The Association also entered the long length field with a peal of 10,000 Double Norwich at Llanfeigan in July. Mr. G. E. Fearn brought a touring band into the area in September and scored 14 good peals and it was pleasing to note that some of our young members were invited to take part in some of these peals.

The hon. treasurer, the Rev. I. J. Richards, in presenting his report and the accounts, paid tribute to the work of Messrs. Roderick and Clarke. The accounts indicated a decline of assets of £28, but in view of the work carried out with the two memorials and the fact that all stationery stocks had been replenished during the year this was considered to be satisfactory. A considerable saving will be effected during the present year due to Mr. Iolo Davies, Master of the Llandaff Branch, who undertook the task of duplicating the Association's report; again, we are most grateful for this practical help.

NEW MASTER

Mr. Lionel Jones, of Usk, was elected Master for the coming year and was installed in office by the retiring Master, David J. Llewellyn. The Rev. R. C. Lucas congratulated D. J. L. on his year of office and also noted that following his recent marriage he had become master of his own house!

The following officers were re-elected: Hon. secretary, M. J. Pryor; hon. treasurer, the Rev. I. J. Richards; hon. auditors, the Rev. R. C. Lucas and T. M. Roderick; Central Council representatives, Mrs. J. S. King and T. M. Roderick. It was decided to appoint Mr. Leslie Bainham as hon. librarian to look after the books and bookcase in All Saints' belfry.

The sum of £20 was given to Bedwelty to assist them in repair work to their bells in the near future.

During recent years some discussion has been held with a view to changing the design of the Association's badge, the existing design being considered too large. It was decided to accept the design prepared by Miss Sheila Salkeld, of Chepstow, and that an order should be placed as soon as possible.

It was decided to hold the next annual general meeting at Llandaff on Easter Monday and that the Branches should consider the advisability of changing the date to some time other than on a Bank Holiday and for their views to be considered at next year's committee meeting, as such a change would involve a change in the Rules.

The librarian, Mr. L. Bainham, was asked to take steps to complete the collection of "Ringing Worlds" up to the present time and to have them bound and housed in the new bookcase. Offers were forthcoming from members to provide the missing numbers. In the future a copy of "The Ringing World" will be taken by the Association and bound annually.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks by Mr. I. Davies to all who had assisted in arranging the meeting.

Further ringing took place in the Cathedral from rounds to Surprise Maximus. M. J. P.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Rushall is now a suburb of Walsall, situated to the north on the Lichfield Road. Those attending the recent meeting of the Society held there found St. Michael's Church about a mile from the centre, almost within the Walsall town boundary. Some visitors might be surprised to discover that the church was originally Norman, with a rebuilding carried out in 1440, and the building of today dates from 1856. Since 1723 there has been a ring of bells in the tower, these being cast by Joseph Smith's bell foundry of Edgbaston, Birmingham. In 1908 Messrs. James Barwell of Birmingham recast all five bells, adding a treble, and hung them in a steel frame on plain bearings. It is these bells which we ring today, with a tenor of 7 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb. in B flat, and they are now one of the last remaining complete examples left of this founder's work in this area.

After general ringing, and the Vicar (the Rev. T. B. Simister) had conducted the service, tea was partaken in the Parish Hall. The honorary secretary announced that the eight-bell striking competition would be held at Coseley on April 30th at 3 p.m. and that the next full meeting would be at Church Eaton on May 7th. An appeal was made to any lady ringers visiting the towers of Lichfield Cathedral, Walsall or St. Peter's, Wolverhampton to please refrain from wearing stiletto-type heels as the floors had recently been re-covered.

The following new members were elected: Miss J. Ady and Miss K. O'Sullivan (Rushall) and M. Tobin (St. Peter's, Wolverhampton). Our sincere thanks are extended to all who helped towards this successful meeting, in particular the Vicar, Messrs. C. Rainham and N. White. C. M. S.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Mansfield District was made very welcome when members held a meeting at Edwinstowe on March 26th, both by the Rev. W. Pickles, who conducted the service, and by the local company, who prepared an excellent tea. Ringing on the light six varied between rounds to Grandsire and Norwich Surprise, and although at first numbers were small these were swollen later by members who had been detained to ring for weddings at their own towers.

At the business meeting the following new Guild members were elected: S. Marshall (Selston), Mrs. I. Leake and Miss G. Crompton (Sutton-in-Ashfield), Miss M. Eyre and Miss W. Fotherby (Greasley) and G. Howbrook (Edwinstowe).

The proposed District outing was discussed and it was agreed to combine this year with the Sheffield and District Society, from whom an invitation had been received through Mr. H. T. Rooke. This would obviate any financial loss regarding transport until the extent of interest could be ascertained.

Ringing continued until 9 p.m., rounding off an extremely pleasant meeting.

Next meetings: Greasley, April 16th (evening only); Cuckney, May 28th (District Cup Contest).

BELFRY GOSSIP

The ringer of 9-10 in the peal of Plain Bob Royal at Marple on March 31st was Giles B. Thompson. The omission is regretted.

A welcoming home peal to Mr. Ronald K. Russ and family, who have been living in Adelaide, was rung at Ludgershall, Bucks, on April 14th.

To prevent controversy a peal was rung at Longney, Glos, non-Association, on Easter Sunday "to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the glorious Irish uprisings." The conductor was Giles B. Thompson.

Will those who keep their "Dove's" up to date note the first peal on the recently installed bells at Ambecote, Stourbridge, Wores (8, tenor 7 cwt. 1 qr. 3 lb. in B). Installed by John Taylor and Co.

Mr. Sam Petter, of Worplesdon, was 89 on April 19th. To keep his hand in he rang for service the previous Sunday. A peal attempt on April 19th in honour of the occasion unfortunately failed.

Mr. Cecil H. Smith, of Bakewell, completed 50 years of ringing at All Saints' Church, Bakewell, on Easter Sunday, and to mark the occasion a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung on the Bakewell Church bells on Easter Sunday evening.

Coming to Bath, where her father attends the Central Council meeting is Helen Dodds, of St. Albans. She is hoping to show her friend, Wilf Williams, that she can now handle a bell in rounds! With a bit of luck, remarks her father.

Sympathy was expressed at the annual meeting of the Suffolk Guild that Mr. Andrew Beckwith, the popular secretary, is in hospital with spinal trouble. He is in Eilston Ward, Ipswich and East Suffolk Hospital, and would be happy to hear from ringing friends.

INDISPOSITION UPSETS LONG LENGTH FOURTH BRISTOL RINGING FESTIVAL ATTEMPT

Mr. R. B. Smith writes: The attempt to ring 15,171 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham on April 16th had to be called round due to the indisposition of a member of the band. The bells were brought round after 7,279 changes in 4 hours and 53 minutes. Mr. Shirley Burton is at present checking to make sure that the amended calling is true. Another attempt is to be arranged but not in the immediate foreseeable future. Thanks are expressed to all who helped in making arrangements.

NEWS FROM THE WILD WEST

Michael Simpson sends us this week a quarter peal from Calgary—"the Wild West" he describes it—which he believes has the distinction of being the first quarter peal in North America in more than one method. The quarter peal on Easter Day was made possible by a visit to Calgary of Christopher Groome, of Huntington, Yorks, whose acquaintance all the band were pleased to make. "Time did not permit us," writes Michael Simpson, "to make another attempt for a peal, but we are determined that this event shall not be long postponed. In fact, if we can get the band together, we hope to have another try on April 23rd."

ANOTHER KENT TOWER RESTARTS

The bells of Snodland, Kent, have for some time been silent due to the lack of ringers, but now to the joy of local parishioners the sound of bells can be heard every Sunday. This is mainly due to the efforts of Martin L. Howe, of Maidstone, who has spent many hours teaching a band to ring. There is terrific enthusiasm in the newly-formed band and a worthy captain has been elected.

P. S. M.

THREE PEALS IN A DAY

Bad luck befell the Leicester ringers at Newark-upon-Trent on Easter Monday. The ninth clapper parted company with the bell after three well-struck courses of Yorkshire Surprise Royal. The band were indebted to Mr. Colin Reed for standing in at short notice and for allowing them to ring on the fine eight at Balderton.

GOOD FRIDAY RINGING AT EDMONTON

On Good Friday a united service took place on the Green outside All Saints' Church, Edmonton, attended by members of all the Free Churches of the district, and about 600 Roman Catholics. To mark the occasion the committee requested that a half-muffled quarter peal be rung before the service. None of the ringers had ever before rung on Good Friday, so even this seemed a break from tradition. The standard of ringing by the local Sunday service band was quite good and it was obvious that everyone realised the importance of the occasion.

On Easter Saturday gifts were exchanged between All Saints' and the Roman Catholic Church, a huge bunch of flowers from All Saints' to be part of their Easter decorations, and from St. Edmund's R.C. Church a bottle of altar wine to be used at the 11 a.m. Communion service.

The fourth Bristol Festival of Ringing will be held on Saturday, October 29th. As usual, there will be at least 24 towers open, a Cathedral service at 12 noon, a visit to the Cathedral central tower to see the old ten-bell frame which now houses four bells, and a visit to see "Great George," the 9½ ton clock bell in the University tower. It is also hoped that permission will be granted to climb to the very top of the tower for what must be the best possible view of Bristol. Last time the record tower snatch total of 17 during the day was set up.

During the evening a room has been hired in the Crown and Dove with an extension to 11.45 p.m.—one shilling per person will be charged to cover the cost of hiring the room.

It will be left to everybody to make their own lunch arrangements this time. Previously a hotel buffet luncheon was arranged and programmes were issued with lunch tickets—this proved to be more trouble than it was worth, especially when people complained about the quantity provided. This time programmes will be sent on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope. We hope this fourth festival will be as well supported as the previous three—the more the merrier! J. H.

MRS. FREDERICK SHARPE HOME

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Frederick Sharpe is home from hospital and making progress slowly towards recovery. She has still to attend hospital periodically for treatment.

STARTED SPLICED SURPRISE AT 69

The peal of Spliced Surprise in five methods, rung at Sprotborough, Yorks, on April 16th, was the first of Spliced for Harold Wagstaff, and we wonder if he has created a record in reaching his 69th birthday before accomplishing this? Harold is now planning to ring a peal in the eight standard methods for his 70th birthday!

MR. J. UNDERWOOD'S EASTER MONDAY TOUR

Following a highly successful outing to Rutland last autumn, Mr. John Underwood, of Haxey, selected the Derby area for his Easter itinerary. The towers visited were Stapleford, Sandiacre, Breaston, Spondon, Alvaston, Shardlow and two Derby city churches—St. Peter's and St. Alkmund's.

A substantial party was formed of ringers and friends from the Gainsborough and Scunthorpe Districts of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and, in spite of poor weather and two inexplicable motoring delays, the tour proved to be most enjoyable. All the bells and towers visited were delightful and the standard of ringing displayed was moderately agreeable (even at times exceptionally good!).

At Sandiacre we were assisted by the welcome presence of Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle, and later the party was augmented by two young ladies, Janet Hudson and Christine Cobb, away on a long week-end safari from London! These two young ladies were able to extend our repertoire somewhat, and more than one aspiring tenor-man deflated rapidly at the sight of young Christine covering the big 'un with such skill! H. J.

CHAIRMAN SEES PROGRESS

In 1962 Mr. Gilbert R. Goodship was elected chairman of the South East District of the Suffolk Guild. On March 12th at the annual general meeting, again at Woodbridge, he laid down the reins of office, contending that it was time new blood took the chair. When he was first elected there were just 18 present: this year, despite a windy day, 58. This growth of attendance, he told the meeting, was a source of delight. Thanks were expressed at the way he had conducted the meetings. His successor is Mr. Ernest G. Pearce, who was accorded best wishes for the future. The Ringing Master, Mr. Howard Egglestone, and the secretary, Mrs. Winifred Lockwood, are continuing in office.

Reporting on 1965, Mr. Egglestone congratulated the keen young band of 18 members at Bramford under the guiding hand of Neville Whittell. Six of them were congratulated on scoring their first peal, and the whole company on ringing 28 quarter peals, mostly for Sunday service. Also to receive congratulations were Henley, where five young members achieved their first peal. A lot of young members in the District, said Mr. Egglestone, had advanced to the stage where they could tackle new ground and enjoy ringing other methods.

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. D. Beloe, and the hymns were accompanied by Peter Harris, a Guild ringer. Tea was arranged by Mr. A. S. Woodard. Good wishes were sent from the meeting to Mr. Andrew Beckwith, Suffolk Guild general secretary, for a speedy recovery.

FIRST PEAL AT ST. PETER'S, NOTTINGHAM

The first peal on the new 12 at St. Peter's, Nottingham, was enjoyed on Easter Monday. Stedman Cinques was rung and birthday greetings were extended to F. Neville Pailing on his 21st, Walter Nichols his 71st and Frederick Salter his 73rd. The band were sorry that ill-health prevented Mr. Salter standing in the first peal, after his many years of work for this tower.

LEICESTER RINGERS IN CHESHIRE

Markfield, Leics, ringers had an Easter Monday tour of Cheshire. A former rector, the Rev. C. I. H. Siviter, and Brian Schofield were instrumental in putting their organiser, Jack Wardle, in touch with the towers. All the bells were very much enjoyed but the fine six at Taxal and the eight at Fairfield deserve special mention. At Bollington the company were joined by Peter and Jill Staniforth and Bob Smith. Methods rung ranged up to Cambridge and London on the sixes, Plain Bob and Grandsire, on the eights with an occasional "crunch" of Stedman Triples.

TO LIVE IN GERMANY

A farewell quarter peal was rung at Godalming on April 3rd to Derek White and his German wife, Derek, who came to Godalming from Hampshire, was the only outsider to join the Godalming band in the last ten years. He is making his new home in Germany.
