CHRIST CHURCH, NORTH SHIELDS

CHRIST CHURCH, NORTH SHIELDS

By MICHAEL SCOTT

DURING the Civil War the parishioners of Tynemouth, Northumberland, could not attend their Parish Church of St. Mary as it stood within the garrisoned walls of Tynemouth Castle. St. Mary's, founded by the Normans in 1110, was part of Tyne-mouth Priory and stood on a bold headland surrounded on three sides by the North Sea. Driven from their church, the parishioners made use of a local brewery in the nearby port of North Shields. In 1654, as a result of a recommendation by Cromwell's commissioners, a site for a new church was given by the Earl of Northumberland, and a tax of 2s. in the pound levied throughout the county to finance the building.

Fourteen years later, on July 6th, 1668, Christ Church, North Shields, was consecrated by the distinguished prelate Bishop Cosin. It was a simple sandstone building, roughly cruciform in shape, and lacked any unnecessary display of ornamentation. In 1753, due to the shortage of space, the north-west corner was enlarged and a gallery erected in it. No sooner had this been completed than in 1786 the south-east and south-west corners had to be enlarged to accommodate the swelling population of this Tyneside port.

The pews in these new extensions were sold by public auction and the proceeds, together with generous public donations, enabled the massive square tower illustrated on the cover to be erected. In 1792 the north-east corner was enlarged, making the main body of the church a perfect square. Major alterations also took place in this year, including raising the walls 10 feet, a new roof and chancel.

The reign of Queen Victoria also saw many architectural changes, mainly concerned with the increase and later the decrease in seating accommodation.

Recently decorated, the church interior is light, spacious and ready to receive the visitors who will be attending special services and recitals during the tercentenary celebrations.

It is said that the first ring of bells was lost on its passage seaward from London and that the second ring came by a ship called the "Happy Return". Cast by Mears and Son, Whitechapel Foundry, London, in 1787, the original ring of six bells which was given by James Storey, one of the principal inhabitants of the parish, was rung for the first time for the birthday of Queen Charlotte, wife of George III.

In 1807 the tenor bell was cracked and had to be recast. In 1874 the ring was increased to eight by the addition of a new treble and tenor, and on October 1st, 1878, the first peal by the Durham and Newcastle Association (Grandsire Triples) was rung here. In 1878 Christ Church became the first tower in the area to have ten bells; even today there are only two other towers in the county which have ten or more, these being All Saints', Gosforth, and Newcastle Cathedral.

Comment—The Half-Lead Unit

A speaker at the recent Central Council meeting expressed doubts about the future ringing of methods constructed of two different half-leads; and the probable growth of this irregularity, fostered by regarding (and treating) the half-lead as the "Unit of Method Structure."

He is, of course, right—almost but not quite!

The compound word "half-lead" needs careful qualification for a proper understanding of its unity. By "Unit of Method Structure" is meant the smallest exposition of changes that will identify the particular method under consideration. What is this minimum?

To begin at the beginning, a method's design can be regarded as consisting of hunting and place-making, as indicated by the grid pattern. (Sometimes called the "trellis-work.") This is formed by joining up the positions of each bell individually in successive rows, by lines running across the intervals between the rows. To the student of method structure, what is important is not so much the numerals in the rows as how the join-up lines run between those rows. This may be put another way, when we say that the important issue is what happens in the row intervals, i.e. the arrangement of "transits" (exchange of neighbouring positions) and place-makings; or, if you prefer it, the form of permutation thus shown in the row-interval.

There are, of course, certain conventions of method structure confirmed as acceptable by the Central Council. (See Central Council's "Handbook.") To some of these we may now refer.

The group of change-rows obtained by repeating the method pattern for each and every "working" bell is called the plain course, and is divisible into "leads"—(more properly "divisions") and with one of these divisions for each working bell. (The C.C. term "divisions" is preferable for general reference, since it includes methods with and without "leads," i.e. both hunt-controlled and "omni-working" types of method.)

Each division (lead) is to be reflective about its half-way row-interval. That is to say, the grid pattern of the lower half is to be a mirror image of the upper half. From this it follows that the second half of a division is joined to its first or upper half by a row-interval, containing a permutation which is particular to the method. In any technological discussion it is convenient to speak of this particular permutation as the "Junction."

Similarly, each division is linked to its adjacent (preceding or succeeding) divisions, by a form of row-interval permutation particular to the method. It is convenient to speak of this as the "Link."

We can now designate the method. Since the second half-division is always the reflection (or reversal) of the first, then only the first half is necessary to delineate the whole. But with it must go the two particular permutations just described, i.e. the Link and the Junction. These three elements are conveniently spoken of together as the method's "Frame." (See the back page of the Central Council's pamphlet on "Method Extension" for some forms of frame. But for a detailed discussion of the subject see the advertised publication—"Method Structure in Change Ringing.") The complete frame is the minimum identification or Unit of the method. So:—

"FRAME equals LINK plus $\frac{1}{2}$ DIVISION plus JUNCTION plus reflectivity."

Due observance of the requirements of this formula prevents the occurrence of what the aforementioned speaker fears, i.e. non-reflective divisions. (Sometimes referred to as irregular or "asymmetrical"; but these terms have other connotations.)

As indicated in the Central Council's "Handbook," "the call is not part of the method"; and it is "splicing" and not "bobbing" at the half-lead (or junction) that is open to criticism and non-recognition, as requirements now stand.

DEFINING HALF-LEAD PEALS

AN interesting discussion followed the introduction of the Methods Committee's report at the Central Council meeting at Worcester on Whit Tuesday. It had particular reference to the question of whether half-lead peals could be regarded as spliced.

The committee's report, signed by the convener, Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis, was published on May 24th and reads:

"The decisions on peals must cover both Regular and Irregular methods, therefore the leads must remain intact since Irregular methods can be rung which are asymmetric. We recommend that the decisions on spliced peals remain unaltered and the peal be accepted as published."

Mr. C. K. Lewis moved the adoption of the report. He said the question of spliced peals was referred to the committee and their decision was published on May 24th. It covered both regular and irregular methods. It was the unanimous decision of the Records Committee.

Mr. F. T. Blagrove (Middlesex) seconded.

Mr. I. H. Oram said there was a long discussion at the last Council meeting on peals with half-leads. At the end of the discussion the matter was referred to the Methods Committee for its decision and report. They had had no formal report and until that day no reasons for supporting it. It did not seem very satisfactory for a report to be published in "The Ringing World" without reasons for the decisions come to. Why could not peals of spliced be recognised with no bobs or singles? He felt they should recognise this as a peal of Spliced Surprise Major and for that reason moved that the report be not accepted.

Mr. J. M. Jelley (Leicester Guild) thought that there was a simple way out. It was being done with Minor records—that a peal should contain a full lead of each method and if the method was symmetrical he could not see how any complaint could be made.

Mr. G. Dodds (Herts County) said the motion last year completely reversed the decision on spliced peals, in that three leads of Spliced Royal methods be not allowed, bearing in mind that three leads of Spliced Royal methods were irregular. It was wrong to consider half-leads containing all the work should be called spliced.

Mr. C. Crossthwaite (Lancashire Association): Would this be recognised as a peal?

LEAD AS UNIT

Mr. C. K. Lewis: It would be recognised as a peal and could be made into a peal of spliced. The decision relates to one peal but the thing is much wider. You are introducing a new unit and a half-lead that contains all that is necessary. I think this is very dangerous. We have come to the conclusion that we should not tamper with a decision with the lead as a unit. It is 30 years since I spliced on the half-lead, but I would hesitate to say at this stage that the unit of ringing is half a lead.

Mr. S. Jenner (Kent) made two points: "Kent and Oxford Spliced should not be allowed to stand as spliced. Secondly, Mr. Lewis thinks there is a danger in splitting methods at half-leads. We have done this by saying the peal is a peal. As to what it should be called, if the Council will not accept it as spliced what should it be called?"

Mr. N. J. Diserens (Oxford Diocesan Guild): I feel the Methods Committee has not done what we required; we wanted something positive.

Mr. C. K. Lewis: We are not asked to give it a name.

Mr. H. L. Roper: It was I who proposed at the last meeting that it should be referred to the Methods Committee. It seems that they have dealt with it. They say it is not a peal of spliced and it is not, according to the Council's rules, a peal of Surprise. I am satisfied that they have done their work.

Mr. Crossthwaite disagreed; they still did not know what to call it.

Mr. Blagrove: This change at the half-lead has been done for many years in peals of Doubles. It is called mixed Doubles.

Mr. J. Seager: Why not call it plain spliced at the lead-end: reverse spliced at the half-lead: and double spliced at both?

Mr. Oram seconded this suggestion and Mr. E. A. Barnett remarked that it sounded attractive. Could they think this over between now and the next meeting?

Mr. P. A. Corby: If this or some other name is to be adopted, should it not be considered with the proposal by Mr. Oram last year?

Mr. Barnett: The Standing Committee has been charged with revising the Council's decisions and this is one of the things that might be taken into consideration. We are charged with putting something in "The Ringing World" by next January.

Mr. Moreton: It strikes me that Mr. Lewis has something up his sleeve and that there is an easy solution. Perhaps he will tell us something now?

Mr. Lewis: Mr. Moreton is right. Half-lead methods are irregular methods which are asymmetrical.

Upon the recommendation of the vice-president, seconded by Mr. H. O. Baker (Chester) the meeting took note of the Committee's decision, and that the decision as to what other types of peals be called be referred to them. And so ended the debate.

ANOTHER 1,000 PEALER

Mr. Tom Lock, secretary of the Middlesex Association and London Diocesan Guild, celebrated his 59th birthday on June 23rd. On the Thursday previous he rang his 1,000th peal at Willemsden in which Tom Goodyer from Sydney participated. Tom is the 30th ringer to reach the 1,000 mark.

NEW PUBLISHERS FOR "THE RINGING WORLD"

The Rolls House Publishing Co. Ltd., who have been publishers of "The Ringing World" since its inception in 1911, have closed down their business owing to the expiration of their lease and their inability to find other accommodation at a reasonable figure.

The association between the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers over the years with Mr. E. E. Peers and his directors has been most friendly and we wish them well in the future.

"The Ringing World" in future will be its own publisher, and deliveries to London wholesalers and the railway termini will be carried out by arrangement with "The Surrey Advertiser," Guildford.

C. A comprehensive card index of some 800 Minor methods has been built up. Several people have helped with this work, and in particular thanks are due to Mr. Arthur Whiting, of the Chester Diocesan Guild, for a tremendous amount of work done and help freely given. The loan of pre-1900 Reports would be greatly appreciated by Mr. C. A. Wratten.

D. Work is proceeding on the Edith Fletcher Memorial volumes. A list of required compositions will be published in "The Ringing World."

E. The committee feels that the tape-recording of rings of bells and of record peals would provide a valuable addition to the Council's archives. The work should be undertaken by interested and competent persons.

F. T. BLAGROVE
D. E. SIBSON.
C. A. WRATTEN.

Moving the adoption of the report, Mr. F. T. Blagrove said the conclusions of the committee had been sent to "The Ringing World." In section (d) the committee would like the Council to take action. Mr. Ainsworth was staying on the committee and they would like Mr. John Mayne and Mr. Geoffrey Dodds to be members of the committee.

Mr. D. E. Sibson seconded.

Mr. Clive Smith said he would be prepared to help in the recording of long-length peals. If the committee provided the equipment he would undertake the work.

The General Secretary: I feel we could be going into heavy expenditure. The affiliation fee to the Council is very low and it might be necessary to increase it.

Mr. Smith said that all he would require was the tape and out-of-pocket expenses if records were not made.

Mr. E. A. Barnett moved that reasonable out-of-pocket expenses be allowed, and the Rev. John Scott, in seconding, suggested £10 for the first year.

The report was adopted, financial assistance approved, and Mr. Clive Smith was added to the committee.

METHOD EXTENSION 9

Like an ugly duckling, Pulham Surprise Minor is one of a group of "65's at back" methods rung in a peal in 1966. It extends to all other stages as an acceptable method (Expanding B/X). Method group (a).

A Welsh Village Gets its Bells Ringing Again

By the Rev. A. W. McADAM

IT is not easy to give an adequate account of the six bells in Groomont Church, near Abergavenny, Mon., because there are no written records which have come down from the early days.

However, the unusual tower and spire belong to the 14th century and the old frame, recently replaced, to the middle of the 17th. The treble and the second bell are the earliest of the present ring and were cast in 1707 by Abraham Rudhall I of Gloucester. Nos. 3 and 4 were originally Rudhall bells but were recast in 1914 by Llewellyn and James of Bristol. No. 5 is a John Rudhall bell and its date is 1807. The tenor, which was cracked through the rusting of its staples, was recast as part of the recent restoration by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in 1967.

The former bell frame was probably built about 1660 by local craftsmen and must therefore once have contained an earlier set of bells. Certainly the present bells were not designed for it because the frame had to be cut about to accommodate them. During its 300-odd years of life the old oak frame was repaired many times with straps of iron and extra supports here and there. Most of this work must have been done in the last 100 years, when the effects of age and weather began to tell. One big supporting oak beam was replaced in 1932 by Mr. Vine Godding, of Groomont, and some work on the frame in the area of No. 6 was done by Mr. Harry Jones, the village blacksmith, and myself in 1954-1955.

These repairs, however, did not give to the old frame its original rigidity. It was loose at the joints and when the bells began to move it moved as well, both sideways and upwards, hammering against the tower walls and giving to the bells an eccentricity of performance which we took for granted, but which caused visiting ringers to wonder just what it was that lay in the tower above their heads.

TASTED FREEDOM

The crunch came in November, 1966, when one evening the treble fell out of the frame. It did not get very far and we were able with a pulley block to slip it back again. Having, however, tasted freedom, it was not willing permanently again to stay put and a fortnight later slipped out once more, this time breaking its wheel.

This set us a problem. Not much use simply putting the errant treble back in its stall. With the consent, therefore, of the P.C.C., we called in experts—Mr. Blundell, an architect who lives in the village, and representatives of the bellfounders. They all told us the same story: "No more ringing or you will have the lot down round your ears."

We soon discovered that the total cost of a new frame, new wheels, ropes and other fittings, along with the recasting of the tenor and the retuning of the whole ring plus a new ceiling and floor would cost us more than £2,000 if the whole work were put out to contract.

With a parish population of roughly 400, people felt at the time that this was more than they could manage. It was a question therefore either of putting off the evil day or reducing the bill in cash by some means or other.

The local ringers and the committee which they drew together to help them at the end of 1966 determined to undertake this challenge, to appeal for outside aid and to do what work they could themselves.

The appeal for outside aid was eventually to prove fruitful. The Diocese of Monmouth found £500, the Barron Bell Trust £150 and the Llandaff and Monmouth Bell Ringers' Association £50. Numerous other donations came in, too.

The bell frame in the church, with the Rector (the Rev. A. W. McAdam) and Mr. W. Meyers, who accepted responsibility for its construction.

"DO IT YOURSELF"

In respect of "Do it yourself," it was possible to reach an amicable understanding with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank that the local boys strip out the tower, taking down the bells and dismantling the old frame and fittings. It was further agreed that when the time came they would take the bells to London for expert attention, that they would bring back the timber for the new frame and the girders to support it and, having erected the girders in position, make the frame itself and put it in place.

Work started in the autumn of last year. We were roughly 12 altogether and with the exception of myself were all engaged in agriculture in one way or another—farmers, farm workers, a market gardener and two haulage contractors. One of our company, Mr. Bill Meyers, was a trained carpenter in addition to his farm work and we were destined to depend largely upon him for making the frame and doing woodwork repairs in the ringing chamber and bell room.

We first took out the bells and lowered them 50 feet to the church floor. The frame followed section by section. We had one anxious moment when the section which had supported one side of No. 6 disintegrated in mid-air and crashed to the floor in three pieces. Fortunately it raised a dust but no more.

We built the new frame in the old nave completely and eventually took it to pieces again. It took a surprisingly long time to dig out the holes in the tower walls to accommodate the five big H-section joists that we to carry the frame. Whoever had originally built those old walls knew his job.

After that it was relatively simple to pull the joists up although they weighed upwards of half a ton each, to put them in place and set the frame upon them.

For the erection of the bells and fittings we were joined by Mr. Trevor Bailey from Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and within eight days we had the new ring in action.

There is still some work to be done but the crisis is over. Mrs. Sheila Parry, who is a farmer's wife and one of our ringers, made a cine film of the whole work so that we can refresh our memories and laugh at our devices to get round awkward corners.

We enjoyed ourselves and, what was more important to us, cut the bill by perhaps £700.

The dedication of the new ring by the Bishop of Monmouth took place on Sunday, June 30th.

SALISBURY GUILD'S POLICY

Dear Sir,—I note with interest the criticisms at the Salisbury Diocesan Guild annual general meeting by Mr. D. R. Fuller in your issue of May 24th. They are largely similar to those made by myself in 1965. Why has no officer of the Guild yet replied to Mr. Fuller's letter? I think it is not because of inefficiency but due to a policy of "turning the blind eye" and hoping it will all blow over as in the past.

In 1965 I was so disgusted with the way the meeting was conducted that I wrote a brief note to "The Ringing World" and proposed two motions of censure at our Branch (Wimborne Branch) annual general meeting. These concerned the running of the meeting and the unexplained postponement of the election of a president. They were carried unanimously, a move I believe to be unprecedented in the Guild's history.

The censures were duly forwarded to the Guild Committee and never heard of again. As by this time I was in London and the anger of the Branch members had died with time, I suppose we were partially to blame for it not being pursued further. However, it seems that the Guild Committee has chosen to forget this warning privately as well as publicly, hence Mr. Fuller's letter.

It can be argued that the basic fault is the large territory covered by the Guild: ringers in Dorset know very few in Wiltshire, and vice-versa. Therefore one would expect the officers to be particularly careful to announce vacant offices before the meeting and to prepare a list of candidates, if necessary, in order that no one should feel there was a lack of democracy. How can members be expected to consider possible candidates for an office if the vacancy (that is if a satisfactory officer does not wish to stand again) is not known prior to the meeting? Especially if the committee immediately propose someone they have previously decided upon.

I suggest to the "powers that be" in the Guild that they take serious note of the murmurings in the backwoods and make an effort to satisfy some of the complaints or else the Guild may be heading for fragmentation. — Yours sincerely,

GRAHAM W. ELMES.

Letters to the Editor

HALF-LEAD SPLICED

Dear Sir,—Re Mr. G. A. Dawson's letter of June 7th. I made a similar statement at Worcester, that method changes at the half-lead are mixtures and not spliced. By the absence of any correction, everyone else there appeared to agree with this, but a glance at the Council's Decisions in the Handbook will show that we were all wrong.

In a peal of spliced the change of method can take place at either the lead-end or at the half-lead, but not both. With half-lead splicing the last half-lead must be the same method as the first half-lead, since peals are round blocks. This does not affect the Methods Committee's statement that the Frindsbury peal was not spliced since that had changes of method at both half- and full-lead end. Thus April Day is Spliced Plain Bob and Reverse St. Bartholomew, and peals of Kent and Oxford in which the method is effectively changed at the half-lead only are also peals of spliced. — Yours sincerely, F. T. BLAGROVE.

A MUSICAL ANALOGY FOR THE PROFESSOR

Dear Sir,—Doubtless when the "campanological equivalents of Schonberg, Bouley (sic) or Stockhausen" arrive the erstwhile Professor Dodge will be among the first to attack their innovations.

His recent outburst rather puts one in mind of the countess who walked out of the first performance of Stravinsky's "Rite of Spring" announcing that she "attended concerts to listen to music, not to be insulted."

If one wished to make a musical analogy it might be more appropriate to identify the innovations mentioned with the works of Mozart or Haydn, which display many brilliant and original features, although conforming closely to contemporary musical form. — Yours faithfully, KENNETH A. C. JONES.

Luton, Beds.

THE NAME

Dear Sir,—I would like to point out that the method named as Whatton-in-the-Vale in the peal at Holme Pierrepont ("Ringing World," page 489) is in fact Ely Thirds Place Delight (Collection of Minor Methods, page 20). — Yours sincerely, A. KEITH P. POOLE.

Abingdon, Berks.

RINGERS' NOTEBOOK AND DIARY 1969

We are again being asked by the binders of the Diary to have all sheets ready for them by September, and to enable us to do this we must invite the co-operation of all Association secretaries, asking them to send lists of officers and dates of A.G.M.'s, dinners, etc., by July 12th latest.

Most Associations hold their A.G.M.'s before Whitsun, so the information should be available. If no amendments are notified we will assume that the 1967 lists remain unchanged.

W. Viggers, M. Hodgson.

"ATTACK FROM WITHIN"

Dear Sir,—I am sure you will be anxious to rectify an obvious piece of mis-reporting in your issue of June 21st. Taking the penultimate paragraph of column 3 on page 480 as it stands, readers must wonder why you applied the headline "Attack from Within." Obviously I was blaming the committee but I said I did not blame the committee for the navigational errors in the Birmingham area which caused me to arrive about 10 to 15 minutes late for the meeting. — Yours faithfully,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

Chester-le-Street, Co. Durham.

TECHNICAL ACCURACY

Dear Sir,—Comment has already been made in your columns concerning the number of peals which have had to be withdrawn on account of false compositions. I was, however, most disturbed to read that Mr. Price has had to withdraw nine peals because, in all good faith, he conducted a method published in our official journal.

Surely the answer to this problem, in part at any rate, lies in the setting up of a panel of experts from the Central Council who can vet both methods and compositions. These could then be published in "The Ringing World," after which they would become acceptable for peal ringing. This would, I am sure, save a lot of inconvenience and acute disappointment. — Yours faithfully,

Markfield, Leics.

ALEC R. JONES.

Note.—We do consult experts, and one is the writer of the article from which Mr. Price took his composition. See his letter.—Ed.

NON-STANDARD MINOR METHODS

Dear Sir,—I was very sorry to learn ("Ringing World," page 494) that my Index of Minor Methods had been instrumental into leading ringers to ring false peals.

The Index was an attempt to list all Minor methods, good, bad or indifferent, and made little effort to discriminate between them, although where falseness was known this was usually stated.

To anyone intending ringing a non-standard Minor method I would suggest they view it with grave suspicion and only include it in a peal if they were capable themselves of proving its truth, or having it tested by a competent person.

I must, however, point out that the method Windsor Single (11), which caused all the trouble, was listed as "asymmetrical" (as are all other asymmetrical methods in the Index), and that on the same page on which it appeared was issued the warning in bold type: "It may be as well to stress that all asymmetrical Minor methods are, under ordinary circumstances, false."

What a pity the warning was not heeded! — Yours sincerely, HAROLD CHANT.

Ryhill, Wakefield.

IDENTITY WANTED

Dear Sir,—Recently whilst on holiday in Cornwall I was interested to see hanging at the entrance to the Animal Sanctuary at Murratstown, near Looe, a bell complete with canons, of about one foot in diameter and of very good tone. The bell is inscribed "Blania Works, 1824," and I wonder whether any of your readers can give me any information regarding this "foundry." — Yours sincerely, E. T. PAUL FIELD.

Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Somerset.

QUESTIONS ON SINGLE CHANGES AND SPLICED

Dear Sir,—Although I agree with some of Mr. Chant's recent article, especially about compositions, most of it seemed to be a bit pointless. For example, why does he object to single changes? Do they prevent a true 720 from being obtained, or perhaps make methods too easy to ring?

The same might be said about 5-6 places in Minor methods, or perhaps Mr. Chant thinks that because it has not been done before this is a good enough reason not to do it now. Also, a man who is so fond of irregular methods should be pleased that Major ringers have at last seen the light.

As for spliced, it seems to me that if it so easy to "stuff more and more methods into peals," then there would be a few more peals of Spliced Surprise Major with Mr. Chant's name at the bottom, or perhaps he is too busy trying to get another method into a 720 of Spliced Minor.

It would be very nice if people with unusual views would tell us a few of their reasons for holding them, instead of just stating them. — Yours truly, HENRY K. BIRCH.

Potters Bar, Herts.

IS IT WOLF, WOLF?

Dear Sir,—The article "Commentary—the Price of Privilege" by K. H. Fleming (May 24th, page 399) and the letter by P. I. Chapman, "The Ratio of Peals at Daventry" (June 7th, page 443) need reading side by side.

We ring for services as a duty. All other ringing is a privilege to which we, as ringers, have no "right," unless it be on practice evenings. Of course there is no such thing as the average tower, and ringing occasions in each tower differ. The Daventry tower is at present the only one for which we have figures. My analysis of those figures shows that for service ringing the time spent was 81.2 hours. Seventy-five hours were spent in practice and 111.8 hours devoted to all other ringing. (Tied practice is not ringing.) This means that the Daventry bells were used more than twice as much for the pleasure of the ringers than for church service.

It is my belief that there is not one Guild or Association in the whole of England which could afford to supply its own ring of bells. We are all totally dependent on the provision made by the Church. The question now has to be asked: "Does the Church need bells?" There is no bell at all in the new Coventry Cathedral but attendance there does not appear to suffer, nor does it appear to be enhanced in those churches which have a full ring of bells when compared with those with only one single ding dong.

We need to ask ourselves if so much non-service ringing detracts from the real message which the bells should send out. — Yours faithfully, HENRY ALLEN.

Leamington Spa, Warwicks.

Note.—Reader Allen overlooks that peal ringing is also an aid to better ringing in the service of the Church.—Ed.

CLARIFYING DOUBLES VARIATIONS

Dear Sir,—With reference to your report on the above debate at the recent meeting of the Central Council ("Ringing World" of June 21st, page 482).

The final paragraph begins: "After further discussion the Council unanimously decided to adopt the amended motion . . ."

I would point out that there were others in addition to myself who opposed the motion. — Yours sincerely, W. L. EXTON.

MIDLAND'S RINGERS PUT "BOBS INTO BANKING"

Midland Bank ringers at St. Olave's, Hart Street. From left to right: Miss G. Armstrong (Swansea), F. C. A. Bennett (Managerial Relief Staff), Miss G. Mitchell (Gloucester), C. F. Loke (Leighton Buzzard), C. Cook (Central Croydon), Mrs. S. Cook, R. Danby (Coventry High Street), Miss A. Lawrenson (Newbury), G. Wight (Chesham), M. Hughes (Bennett's Hill, Birmingham) and C. D. Baugh (Bull Ring Centre, Birmingham).

FOLLOWING an appeal in their monthly journal, a group of bellringers on the staff of the Midland Bank met in London on June 15th to ring at six towers during the day. They had travelled from as far afield as Swansea, Bridgnorth and Gloucester. The first tower was St. Vedast's, Foster Lane, where touches of Kent, Stedman and London Surprise were successful on the melodious six. We were most grateful for the assistance of some friends of Maurice Hughes from Birmingham, who joined us during the day and enabled us to progress beyond Grandsire and Plain Bob.

With the full complement of Bank ringers present at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, we were able to ring, unassisted, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples. By now the heat of the day was affecting us and the welcome sanctuary of St. Olave's belfry cooled our brains. Here we were met by the P.R.O. from H.O., who brought with him a Press Association photographer to picture us in action. The flashing of the camera, however, was a little off-putting and attempts at Stedman and Kent were unsuccessful. After they had left, Spliced Plain and Little Bob Major started better but came to an unsatisfactory conclusion.

After lunch we were welcomed by the Vicar of St. Clement Danes'. Touches of Stedman Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royal were successful. At St. Luke's, Chelsea, John Lott warned us about a broken stay on the second, and after ringing rounds and Grandsire Caters on the ten we confined ourselves to the back eight. Once more we had to forge our way through the London traffic to St. Mary's, Putney (a very enjoyable eight), where we competed with the noise of cars and buses crossing Putney Bridge.

Then we drove to the Bank's Sports Ground at Beckenham, where the annual sports day was in full swing, and feasted on sandwiches and a strawberries and cream tea. The remaining ringers congregated at St. George's, Beckenham, where we had a final ring of the day on the 14 cwt. ten. Back to the Sports Ground for entertainment, fireworks and, of course, plenty of shop talk outside the beer tent.

Our grateful thanks must go to tower captains and incumbents, not forgetting Corral Spiller and George Fry, who joined us in the morning. George called a touch for us, after which he said "This is the first time I've put bobs into Banking . . ." C.H.C.

MR. JACK A. WAUGH

An Appreciation

I was saddened by the news of the death of Mr. Jack Waugh, as it came as a complete shock; I was not aware of his illness. Apart from a brief meeting last year, when the College Youths visited Daventry, I had not seen him since the war.

I was one of several taught by Jack and the late Mr. Charles Morris at our home tower of St. Mary's, Woodford, E., and was privileged to ring with him in the first peal on the bells after augmentation to eight. This was to celebrate the silver jubilee of King George V on May 25th, 1935. If my memory serves me right, Jack conducted the peal which was rung by the local band, and the peal board marking the occasion should still hang in the belfry.

Jack would always help the beginner as much as he could and was one of the stalwarts of the College Youths in his generation.

For myself it was one thing to know that he was active among us but it leaves me with an empty feeling hard to explain now that he is no longer with us. He will be greatly missed.

STANLEY F. WEBB.

REVIEW

METHOD SPLICING—PART II

It is just 300 years since the first ringing textbook was published. Many more have followed in the years since, but few have dealt in any detail with the science of composition. Recently, however, a few such handbooks have begun to appear, thanks to the enterprise of one or two individuals. Giles B. Thompson is to be congratulated on his latest addition to this list—"Method Splicing (Part II): Major Methods" (87 pages, obtainable from the author, 32, Egerton Road North, Manchester 21, price 8s.).

The book starts by dealing with the various forms of splicing available with plain methods, and then goes on to the more complex problems involved in splicing methods with a Treble Bob hunt. Mr. Thompson explains his system for extracting the falseness from one or more methods—it seems that every worker in this field has his own way of doing this, and Mr. Thompson is no exception—and shows how the results are used in the construction of touches and peals of Spliced Surprise. Two useful appendices contain concise tables of the falseness between the commonest Surprise methods.

A particularly useful feature throughout is the wealth of examples, enabling the reader to follow clearly the various processes involved. There is also plenty of scope for pencil and paper; indeed, such homework is essential for a full understanding of the subject.

Finally there is a brief and interesting survey of the evolution of spliced composition since the early work of the 1920's. This covers not only peals of Surprise Major but also the various "hybrids" that have appeared, such as Plain and Treble Bob and odd-and-even splicing.

In short, a useful and instructive book, and a welcome addition to the technical literature of ringing. C.A.W.

CALL CHANGES

TURN-UP FOR THE BOOK

Devon Six-Bell Goes to South Devon

THE dominance of North Devon in six-bell ringing had become such a permanent feature of the call change ringing landscape that most people would have been very confident to predict that the Ross Shield would go to West Down or Down St. Mary, with Swymbridge or Talaton as possible outsiders; but South Devon ringing has always been keen, with possibly more towers in the field than the North. The widespread enthusiasm in the South was certainly evident at the South Devon six-bell competition at Modbury, for no fewer than 19 bands were there to ring on the magnificent Bilbie six on a perfect May afternoon.

Such a long succession of entries is a great strain on any set of judges, and there were some who remarked on the fact that Kenn, ringing last, were marked as low as 16½ faults, but as they had a clear margin over Stoke Gabriel's 21½ there was no doubt about the placing. Kenn bells have a 13½ cwt. tenor and go perhaps a little heavier than that; and it was noticeable that the first five teams all the more credit, then, to the Meavy band, who came from a very light home six to take sixth place on Modbury's 19 cwt. ring. The other leaders who went on to the final were Plymstock (24½), West Alvington "A" (31½) and West Alvington "B", who ran their seniors to a quarter-fault with 31½. East Portsmouth, Widcombe, Thurlstone and Dunsford didn't quite make it into the first five, and Meavy, who tied with West Alvington "B," just failed in a ring-off.

A fortnight later the North Devon bands, eleven of them, met at South Tawton to ring out their half on a much less easy six. The result was entirely predictable, except that Swymbridge (who are never quite predictable) sneaked into second place with 37½, ahead of Down St. Mary's 39½. West Down had a clear win with 29½, and Talaton (41½) and Kentisbeare (63½) made up the six for the final.

One feature of the North Devon competition is worth recording, and that is that one of the Morchard Bishop band was probably the oldest ringer ever to take part in a competition of this calibre. Ringing to D.A. standards is not light work, but Mr. Harry Bowden is still at it, at the age of 81. Mr. Bowden, who looks as if he might have been drawing an old-age pension for three or four years instead of 16, has been ringing at Morchard for 69 years.

THE FINAL

On June 8th the ten bands met on the light six at Bishopsteignton for the final. A reshuffle in the Southern bands was to be expected with the big difference in weight between Modbury and the final, and so it came about; but what was far from predictable was a clear win for John Hine's Plymstock band with 21½ faults, followed by West Alvington with 26½. Once again West Down and Down St. Mary fought it out closely, but this time it was for third place, and once again West Down just had the edge with 28½ against Down St. Mary 29½. Swymbridge came a good way behind with 41½, followed by Kentisbeare, and Kenn. West Alvington "B," Stoke Gabriel and Talaton brought up the rear.

Nobody, I think, will grudge Plymstock their victory. They have been working very hard for several years to get up the last and most difficult step which separates the good bands from the champions, and John Hine has become one of the keenest, hard-working call change ringers in the county; the North v. South competition which he organised at Clawton some years ago didn't become the regular event which we'd hoped, but it's still remembered as a delightful afternoon and a feast of good ringing. As for West Alvington, they have been in the final of the six-bell competition for longer than most, and were the last South Devon band to have won it before this year, while holiday visitors to Kingbridge can testify to the fine music which they make in their tower on Sundays with unfailing regularity. But if I know the two Downs, South Devon will have to do some extra-special ringing next year to keep their silver. J.G.M.S.

BRISTOL UNIVERSITY REUNION

THIS year's U.B.S.C.R. reunion was held during the week-end June 7th to 9th and was very well supported. Five peals were arranged but only two were scored. Pudsey Surprise Major at Longney and Stedman Triples at St. George's, Bristol, both on Sunday afternoon. The peal attempt of Minor at St. Michael's was lost in the last extent, two courses from the end, when a rope broke.

The coach outing on Saturday afternoon was most enjoyable and included ringing in three counties—Somerset, Wiltshire and Gloucestershire. About 35 people were present. Batheaston was the first tower, with its re-hung bells, and the highlight here was a good course of London. Arriving at Colerne, we first visited the coal hole down which the ex-secretary of the Society fell two years ago on a similar outing. Ringing here was very varied, and included the secretary-elect's first-ever touch of Double Norwich to come round! We moved on to Malmesbury, where a touch of spliced did not come round. Before ringing here the non-residents were seen taking tea and cakes, while the residents tucked into sausage, eggs and chips!

Final ringing of the day was at Wotton-under-Edge. A touch of Oxford Bob Triples here made the people outside wonder if we were going for the Society long length record! The annual skittles match was held at the Swan at Tytherington, which left many of us with no voices, through cheering and booing. This year the residents lost by only 16 pins, a considerable improvement on last year's performance!

On Sunday about 30 people attended the Corporate Communion at St. Michael's, followed by breakfast (rumour has it that the food was better than at the last dinner—perhaps we could try catering for 200 next January!). After ringing we gathered at the Verrecchia for coffee and those who were not participating in the afternoon peals made their farewells.

Thanks go to everyone who helped to make Reunion 1968 such a success. E.M.E.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

It was a very wet day for the meeting with the Ladies' Guild, held at Tenterden on May 18th. Nevertheless 64 ringers representing 28 towers were present.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon J. F. Hough, assisted by the Rev. J. Elson. The lesson was read by Mr. J. Spree, of Bethersden, and Mr. B. Longman was the organist. During the service a peal board was dedicated by the Vicar and the offertory was donated to the John Willis Memorial Fund.

A short business meeting followed tea, when 11 new members were elected. Mr. D. Manger reported on the county annual general meeting and also proposed the vote of thanks. Miss E. Todd added the thanks of the Ladies' Guild.

Despite the encouragement and persuasion of the Ringing Master a ladies' touch of Major did not materialise. A.B.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION A.G.M.

FOR the first time Hope ringers were hosts for the annual meeting of the North Wales Association, held on June 14th, with representatives from nine towers present.

Ringling commenced at 2 p.m. on the delightful ring of six installed as a war memorial ring after the 1914-18 war. The service was conducted by the president, the Rev. A. L. Cooke, who also gave a very interesting address.

Following the service, over 50 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea provided by the Hope ringers in the Church Hall. The president opened the meeting by welcoming the members, and remarked on the good number of young faces present.

The balance sheet was presented by the treasurer, Mr. W. Cathall, and adopted as correct. A credit balance of over £43 was considered satisfactory.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Rev. A. L. Cooke; Ringing Master, Mr. F. R. Evans; secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. Cathall; District secretaries: Bangor and Rhyl, Rev. Trevor Evans; Wrexham: Dr. E. V. Woodcock; ringing instructor, Mr. D. H. B. Millward; auditor, Mr. H. Price; Central Council representative, Dr. E. V. Woodcock; peal recorder, Mr. G. H. Randles.

Beaumaris was chosen for the next half-yearly meeting, to be held on September 6th, and the annual meeting in 1969 at Buckley on June 7th.

Dr. E. V. Woodcock presented her report of the Central Council meeting at Worcester and was congratulated by the Ringing Master and Mrs. G. H. Randles for her very interesting account of the meeting.

New members elected were Alma Cooper (Hope), Josephine Bradley, Doreen Pritchard and John Whitehead (Llandudno).

Mr. A. Bailey proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies and Hope ringers for providing a most enjoyable tea, and Mr. Millward expressed thanks to the chairman and the organist.

Further ringing took place under the direction of the Ringing Master.

New recruits to handbell ringing in the ranks of the University of London Society are Maureen Carruthers and John Pladdys. They rang their first quarter "in hand" on January 21st and their first peal "in hand" the following day. Chris Easton was also ringing his first peal "in hand."

NORWICH DIOCESAN

Weather favoured the 40-odd members at the meeting at Northrepps for the Northern Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association on June 15th. The bells were rung to a variety of methods, including Clifford's Pleasure, under the leadership of the Branch Ringing Master, Martin Cubitt.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. D. L. Ainsworth, the lesson was read by the Rev. P. N. Bond and Martin Cubitt played the organ. In the absence of the chairman (Mr. G. Sayer), Mr. F. N. Golden proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. D. L. Ainsworth, and for tea arrangements, etc., to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson. Mrs. M. Ainsworth, Mrs. V. and Susanna Hayward, J. Hayward and Gillian Smith.

Mrs. J. Steadman (Holt), Geoffrey D. Watts (Intwood), James Dumolo and Paul Pumphrey (Aylsham), Steven Billin, Ian B. Lowther (Wymondham), David Leeder, Richard E. Neale and Simon R. Purslow (Cromer) were elected members; the belfry elections of Graham Duke, David MacClean and Sybil Tonkin as non-resident members and Thomas Roast as ringing member were ratified.

The Association Ringing Master (Mr. P. Adcock) said it was hoped to hold a striking competition on October 19th.

The sum of £2 2s. 9d. was collected for the Bell Repair Fund, plus an anonymous gift of £5.

BELFRY GOSSIP

For their 88th anniversary the Surrey Association rang one half peal and ten quarter peals. Merton made two attempts at Plain Bob with their own band but were unsuccessful. Better luck next time!

The band who rang the peal at Lenham, Kent, wish to associate the attempt with Mr. Colin J. E. Wyld, of Wye, as a compliment to him on gaining second prize in the Fabian Stedman competition.

Uckfield ringers are entering a decorated float for the local carnival early in September. The subject is "The Ringing World." Suggestions would be welcome by Mrs. Joan C. McLean, 42, The Drive, Church Coombe, Uckfield, Sussex.

From Friezeand J. B. writes that he has helped to win first places in competitions with over 25 different ringers. He has a tape recording of "My Life Amongst Bells and Ringers." (Address: West Lodge, 62, Manchester Road, Greenfield, Oldham.)

All who rang in the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at North Myms on June 22nd for the Australian and New Zealand Association had connections with "Down Under." Two were from New South Wales, another had spent some time in Adelaide and five were members of Great Adventure II party.

With the peal of Stedman Doubles at Corsley, Wilts, Mr. Norman G. N. Knee has "circled the tower" to peals.

The peal of Wye Surprise Major rung at St. Ebbe's, Oxford (see page 488), was composed by Norman Smith and conducted by Alan R. Pink.

The Gloucester and Bristol Association has been presented with a number of volumes of "The Ringing World" by Mr. Frank Ponting of Minchinhampton, Glos. They are stored in St. Bartholomew's Church, Chosen Hill.

The peal of 101 Treble Bob Minor methods rung at Holme Pierrepont for the Southwell Guild is a record. We understand that the previous best in Treble Bob Minor was about 73 methods and was first rung some 30 years ago.

Miss Anne Cope, a keen young ringer from Hovingham, Yorks, where her father is Vicar, is on her way to New Zealand. Her address there will be 299, Grove Road, Kelburn, Wellington. Any assistance from ringers would be welcome.

There is a close bond of friendship between the U.L.S.C.R. and Southampton University Guild. Five members of the London Society rang in a half-muffled peal at Deptford to the memory of Michael D. Trigg, former Master of Southampton University Guild.

BELFRY GOSSIP

RED LETTER DAY FOR TWO DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Derek Jewell and Roy Bould made the long trek from Devonshire to High Wycombe, Bucks, on June 15th, to partake in a peal attempt of Stedman Cinques, which, fortunately was successful.

Both gained immense satisfaction from their efforts, Roy Bould ringing his first peal for the Ancient Society of College Youths, and Derek Jewell ringing his first peal of Cinques and also completing the Stedman family.

This shows guts and determination from one living in the heart of a hotbed of call change ringing; in fact Derek rings in competitions with a famous six-bell band. Roy is a little more fortunate; although doing a fair share of call change ringing, he is attached to St. St. Andrew's, Plymouth, and therefore gets his quota of "Scientific."

They stayed the week-end at Basingstoke, and to show their appreciation gave the C.O.S. a very happy couple of days.

JOHN WILLIS MEMORIAL

The major part of the business at the Ashford (K.C.A.) District at Warehorne on June 13th was discussing the form of the John Willis memorial. Two suggestions were made—to add a treble to the five bells being rehung at Newchurch, and to provide one of the two bells required to augment the six at Charing. (The other bell and frame to be supplied from sources as yet unknown.)

The following resolution was passed: "That the John Willis Memorial be a bell to be hung in a tower within the District and that a signwritten tablet be displayed in the ringing chamber regarding this fact."

The Rector (the Rev. G. V. Davies) conducted the service and tea was served and prepared by ladies of the District on the Rectory lawn.

Ringing continued at Orlestone (3), where the very long draught and the tendency of the tenor to drop provided an entertaining hour for spectators and a hair-raising experience for the ringers. Ringing concluded at Ruckinge (5), where extraordinary Doubles methods were rung
A. P. S. B.

PRESTBURY BELLS RECAST

The recasting and rehanging of Prestbury (Cheshire) bells in a new metal frame has now been completed by John Taylor and Co. of Loughborough and they were dedicated by the Bishop of Chester on June 29th at the Patronal Festival service.

Due to various activities taking place in the village on that day, ringing was limited to a quarter peal by a chosen band, but the Vicar has kindly invited the Macclesfield Branch to hold its next meeting at Prestbury on July 27th, and a notice to this effect will be appearing in "The Ringing World."

CHRIST CHURCH COLLEGE, CANTERBURY

A number of friends from Lympe, Canterbury, Petham and Oxford joined Christ Church College, Canterbury, for an outing to London, South of the Thames, on May 25th.

Towers visited were Hayes, Beckenham and Lewisham and, after lunch, Rotherhithe, St. Alphege's, Greenwich (the highlight of the day), Woolwich, Christ Church, Erith, and St. John's, Erith. Ringing included Stedman and Grand-sire up to Caters, London, Yorkshire, Plain Bob, rounds and call changes.

MR. LEN STILWELL'S CANADIAN TOUR

Writing from Saskatoon, Mr. Len Stilwell sends us a beautiful picture of the 168 ft. tower at Westminster Abbey, Mission City, B.C. Len states that he is having a grand time and stayed three weeks near Vancouver and at Victoria. He rang several times at both churches and also at Mission City.

He stayed a few days at Edmonton before going to his headquarters at Saskatoon and is going to Regina and Calgary (where he hopes to ring). Len returns to this country on July 22nd.

EARTHQUAKE STOPS RINGING

Ringing at Christchurch Cathedral, New Zealand, has been suspended since the recent earthquake. While there was no damage of any consequence to the structure of the tower, the cross was dislodged and damaged, necessitating repair and thus scaffolding.

In the meantime the members of the Cathedral Society are overhauling the front six bells (the heavy four were hung in 1947) under the direction of Peter Whitehead. Self-aligning bearings are being fitted, wheels repaired, and minor maintenance work carried out.

Mr. Peter J. Perry, the Master, concludes his letter: "We hope to complete the work in the next few weeks, and we have plans for pigeon-proofing (Kiwi-proofing is fortunately unnecessary!) and a new floor—and, more important, far more peals and quarters."

"At Papauni the bells are rung regularly—14 Doubles methods at a recent practice. This is quite an achievement for an isolated tower and a band which has been ringing together for barely a year."

A TOWER FORGOTTEN

The old grey stone church tower stands

A silhouette 'gainst the dawn.

A lark sings from the topmost spire

In welcoming the morn.

The great grey bells within there still

Hang silent and forlorn:

Remembering with sadness days gone by.

The tower is cloaked in ivy now,

The bells with clinging rust.

There are some words upon the wall—

I write them in the dust;

But they are quickly borne away

Before a sudden gust;

I watch them disappear with a sigh.

I climb the trodden stairway to

The ancient belfry door.

Thinking of the men who must have Walked here years before—

Who stepping from the topmost stair

On to the panelled floor.

Had rung the mighty bells for Mass at ten.

This, then, was the story more than Seven years ago;

The villagers, who loved the bells, would

Listen from below.

But now the bells are still and quiet—

It is as if they know

Their iron tongues will never speak again.

FORTHCOMING PEAL ATTEMPTS

The Guild of Clerical Ringers are attempting the following peals:

July 9th.—Drayton (Som). Double Norwich.

9th.—Curry Rivel, Stedman Triples.

10th.—Lyme Regis, Lincolnshire S.M.

PEAL RINGING & THE LOCAL RINGER

"Let him who is without sin cast the first stone. . . ."

A Story by "Clapper"

Once, two men went up into the belfry at a Branch meeting. One of them was a peal ringer of great total and the other was a local ringer. The local ringer lived strictly by the rules of the Guild and never missed ringing for service or the weekly practice. He made sure everyone knew it and he was honoured for being so good. He liked that and was very proud of his reputation. He always rang the tenor bell and called touches in a very loud voice so all could see he was there.

During the service that particular afternoon the local ringer, sitting in the front pew, prayed thus: "God I thank you that I am better than other ringers; I do not miss service ringing, ring peals in a selfish fashion or go tower-grabbing—like that peal ringer over there."

The peal ringer hung his head during prayers "Have mercy on me, Lord," he whispered, "forgive me the many sins I have committed against You. Forgive me if I have been selfish and unchristian in my ringing activities, and help me to be more mindful of my duty to You in the coming week."

They both looked up as the lesson was read: "The reading is taken from the Gospel according to St. Luke, chapter 18, beginning at verse 10: 'Once, said Jesus, two men went up into the . . .'"

[From Northampton Newsletter.]

CONDITIONS IN NORTHAMPTON BRANCH

Writing in the June issue of the Northampton Branch's Newsletter, B. R. C. writes in his "Foreword":—

"Every ringer of this Branch could well undertake a frank 'look' at the 'ringing' of the District. It will reveal many glaring shortcomings which for the most part are ignored or complacently tolerated.

"A fine ten like St. Giles' without a band! A toleration of bad striking in some towers to a point where the ringing becomes a mad scramble at all times! Meetings attended by 20 per cent. of the Branch membership! And . . . well, that's a start! The answers? These will be found when we are all less complacent; when we refuse to accept second best, and willingly give our maximum efforts ungrudgingly to the art of ringing—yes, you too!"

CREWE TENOR WHEEL COLLAPSES

The eight ringers who took part in the peal of London Surprise Major at Marple on June 15th should have been ringing in a peal of 6-Spliced Surprise Royal at Crewe that afternoon. The band assembled at Crewe but after less than three leads had been rung the tenor wheel collapsed! It was decided that the band, minus Richard Starkie and Alan McFall, should drive to Marple for a peal of Major starting at 5 p.m.

PUTNEY WIN

The Surrey Association striking competition held at Battersea on June 8th attracted four entries. Set pieces of Grandsire Doubles or Triples or Plain Bob Minor were rung by the bands, and the judge (Mr. E. A. Barnett), marking out of ten, placed the bands as follows: Putney (Bob Minor) 64, Battersea (Grandsire Doubles) 41, Wimbledon (Grandsire Doubles) 4, Kingston (Grandsire Triples) 3.

Bridgwater Ringers Visit Channel Isles

WITH the hope that the weather would brighten, a party of bellringers from the Bridgwater area left Bristol Airport on Wednesday, May 22nd, for a ringing tour and holiday in Guernsey. Our hopes were soon realised, for the following day, true to peal-ringing form, was a glorious one. After a morning's sunbathing session at L'Ancrese Bay, a band successfully attempted a peal of Doubles at St. Michel du Valle, and this is believed to be the first peal of Doubles on these bells.

On Friday we were up at 5 a.m. to catch the cargo/passenger ship to Alderney an hour later. Arriving in Alderney at approximately 8.30 a.m., we made our way to St. Anne's to ring for the 10 a.m. Communion service. Afterwards an attempt for a quarter of Plain Bob Minor had to be abandoned due to lack of time, but a nice 720 was scored on these melodious but little-rung bells. We were delayed an hour on the journey back when the propeller broke and we had to be towed into St. Peter Port by pilot boat.

On Saturday, after visiting the famous Little Chapel at Les Vauxbelets, which is a marvellous example of patience and skill, being decorated throughout with fragments of broken china and pottery, we went on to see the chime of three bells at St. Martin de la Belleuse. These bells are unique in that they are in the "up" position and are chimed by the clappers being lifted and dropped on to the bells by an apparatus similar to that of a barrel organ.

The following day, after joining the local bellringers at St. Michel du Valle and ringing for morning service, we moved on to St. Marguerite de la Forêt to attempt the first-ever peal on the four bells. Unfortunately after a while the bearings ran dry and it was decided to abandon the peal in favour of a half peal of 2,520 changes. After an extremely welcome tea, kindly supplied by the Vicar and his wife, the rest of the group joined the peelers to ring for Evensong, a service which was enjoyed by all.

On the last day of our holiday we visited three three-bell towers, all of which proved extremely interesting. At Torteval two bells only could be chimed, and one of the parishioners gave us a demonstration of his special technique. The tenor, though on a full wheel, had no stay and is usually only tolled, but one of our party saw fit to make an exception to this rule!

ALARMING INCIDENT

After eating our packed lunches at Petit Port Bay, we went on to St. Pierre du Bois, where a serious accident was only narrowly averted. These bells are on half wheels so therefore can only be rung partially up. At the first attempt to ring them there was a terrific noise from above and the clapper from the treble came flying through the trap-door, hitting the steps of the ladder and brushing the arms of one of our party. Thanks to the help of the local garage, we purchased bolts, borrowed spanners and replaced the offending clapper and also secured the other two. After this incident the ladies of the party decided not to ring!

Our visit to St. Saviour's was disappointing. The top of the tower is the highest point on the island, and during the last war, when the Germans occupied Guernsey, it was used as a look-out tower. A platform had been built near the bells and consequently there was insufficient room for the bells to be rung up, and the Vicar has resorted to clocking just the tenor bell.

At 1205 the following day we left Guernsey for Bristol and rang at three six-bell towers on the way home—Butcombe, Loxton and Weare.

So ended a very enjoyable trip, duly recorded on tape and in an excellent report in the "Guernsey Evening Press," and we are much indebted to the clergy and ringers for their warm welcomes and abundant kindnesses. At their invitation we hope to make another visit in two years' time, when several of the rings are due to have been restored. E. M. K.

New Ring of Eight in American Girls' College

Smith College, Massachusetts

SET in the beautiful little New England town of Northampton, Smith College is an American Girls' College of University status.

There are some 2,500 girls all housed and taught in a various mixture of buildings ranging from the typical New England wooden type mansions to modern science buildings. To this in recent years has been added a new centre for the performing arts.

This composite building consists of a large modern theatre, a studio theatre, television studio, a vast music library with modern listening rooms, ballet studios, a student lounge, and last but not least a bell tower housing a ring of eight with a tenor of 8 cwt. 2 qr. 11 lb. in A.

Originally the tower was not designed for bells, but during a staff conference, when the question arose as to what to put into the tower, Mrs. Dickinson, who learned to ring whilst at Cambridge, suggested a ring of bells. The suggestion was accepted and a subsequent order placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

THE BELLS

The bells are inscribed as follows:—

Treble: In Honour of Marjorie Resnikov Botwinik '37.

2: I am Grace.

3: To the Joy of Music, Mathematics and Memory.

4: I am Equity.

5: I am Diligence.

6: I am Courage.

7: I am Blessed.

Tenor: Gaudeamus igitur juvenes dum sumus.

The tenor inscription is the first line of a mediæval student hymn, "Now let us rejoice while we are young," and is in memory of the late Margaret Shurcliff, of Boston. The five are in memory of Florence Jeffrey Carlike and the class of 1893. The 3rd bell was donated by Edward P. Hutchinson and his daughter, Joan, and the treble by Norman Botwinik, of New Haven, Conn. in honour of his wife.

Joan Hutchinson is a graduate of Smith, who has a peal and several quarter peals on handbells to her credit. This year she will be coming to England to Warwick University, where she hopes to continue an active ringing career as well as studying for a master's degree in mathematics.

The consignment of bells and frame arrived at Boston on April 4th, followed by the arrival of Bill Theobald, who had already travelled many thousand miles in the U.S. and Canada with a small trade mission.

Unloading was due to begin on the following Monday followed by delivery at Northampton, some 97 miles away, on the Tuesday. Unfortunately the week-end coincided with the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, with certain side effects in the area which included a dock strike on the Monday and a day off for the dockers on Tuesday to pay respects.

So the load arrived on the Tuesday, but, horror of horrors, due to gross mishandling at the docks, part of the consignment was damaged (not the bells, thank goodness). Rectification of this was speedily put in hand and in the meantime certain modifications to the tower were carried out; these were necessary before any installation could be started.

Work commenced on the hanging and then certain doubts occurred as to the stability of the tower, which had certainly not been built to the specification of the founders. This having been finally settled, on Saturday, May 11th, a band was duly assembled to ring for the first time.

FIRST CAMPUS RIOT

In the early evening further ringing took place in reverse, finishing with a course of Bob Major on fully open bells. This latter produced the first campus riot, which was quickly quelled and later the "rebels" won over. Lesson for English towers with similar difficulties: If you can't beat them enlist them; they seem to change sides rapidly when they get a bell rope in their hands.

Just a few pulls and the old familiar glazed expression common to ringers comes on to their faces and then it is plain sailing. Seriously, the bells were obviously very good for their weight, and went well, as Bill hoped it would be after all that trouble.

During the day many ringers took part from Smith and Groton Schools (was Russ the first man ever to break a stay while lowering a bell, to the cheers of the boys?) and English ringers from Crowthorne, Kent, South Wales and Birmingham. Anyhow, a most enjoyable time was had by all, and a traditional English social meeting was held by those who could stay in the Northampton inn.

The following week-end the tower was visited by the outing party, whose activities have already been reported, when ringing up to Cambridge Major was enjoyed. The Tuesday after saw a visit from the boys of Kent School in Connecticut, under Bill Howard.

Immediately after the first ringing, began Bill Theobald's second task—to teach the girls to handle a bell. The College were extremely fortunate in having Mrs. Dickinson as a member of the faculty, who, with David, Kitty Miller and Rhoda Micocci, made things a little easier.

Altogether upwards of 50 people were taught to handle. Some were able to ring rounds and, with a little verbal encouragement from Bill, one group managed to ring a 120 of Bob Doubles. (Not bad in three weeks.)

LESSONS

There were several lessons to be learned. There is quite a vast interest in change ringing in the U.S.A. On top of this it is obvious that the mental approach to ringing there is different. Where else will learners learn to handle a bell in about an average of 15 minutes? Whether our methods in England are wrong for the instruction of beginners, or whether the Americans are easier to teach, or the "Smithies" are extra bright girls is debatable (or is it?). The fact remains that there is a large potential interest in ringing in general and it is to be hoped that in the future this interest will grow.

Already there are signs that this will not be the last peal of ringing bells installed there and before very long I feel that, with a little assistance, American ringing could easily surpass English standards.

Bill had the experience of being in a peal attempt where the conductor, calling his first peal, had the courage to stop halfway because he felt that the ringing was not up to peal standard. It was not that the ringing in question was too bad. Plenty worse ringing is accepted as peal standard in this country. However, the English ringers in this attempt will know that a future peal recorded from this tower will be of a high standard.

It is possible that in the months to come several American ringers will be visiting U.K.

Before long it is to be hoped that the bells at Northampton will feature in our peal and quarter peal columns, as is happening in other U.S. towers. Some need help, and any ringer visiting or thinking of visiting the U.S. is asked to co-operate to the full. So after a slightly longer stay than anticipated, Bill flew home, perhaps a bit tired, but proud and happy at perhaps having added a little history to American ringing. He will be glad to pass on any information about ringing over there that is needed, having been in every tower with a ringing peal except one.

BRIGHTON RINGERS VISIT ISLE OF WIGHT

Brighton's three towers combined for a summer outing to the Isle of Wight on June 8th. At Portsmouth we found H.M.S. "Victory" and other naval ships beflagged for the Sovereign's birthday. On board the ferry, Bob, Malcolm and Peter sought to mark the occasion by a quarter peal "in hand" at sea, but a fly-past of five hovercraft put paid to the attempt.

The first tower was at Carisbrooke, where the Master of the Sussex Guild directed some fast, rhythmic Stedman on the excellent eight. Westwards, in brighter weather, to Freshwater for lunch, embarrassing the "local" with 30 thirsts, consequently it was difficult to round up drinking ringers and process them through the very small belfry. Eventually everyone had a ring on the ground-floor six.

Our route led us through some lovely country to the small church at Niton, where the five loud bells are rung from an even smaller belfry. Here we noticed the Braille Bible used by the blind Vicar. We had been looking forward to Godshill's bells, and what a capital six they are! The regulation half-hour was not nearly long enough to appreciate these little beauties. Reluctantly we left for Brading (8) where the tower spans the church porch and our ladies were understandably apprehensive about mounting the almost vertical ladder that leads up from the street pavement. The rather loud bells were rung to standard methods. Finally came a Taylor eight at Ryde. The full-toned, full-volumed bells are best enjoyed with ear plugs, and the first ringer to complain was told to stuff his beard in his ears! A final touch of Bristol set the seal on our day's ringing.

Back in England we stopped at a hostelry where a stranger asked if the handbells would be played. When it was suggested that they went better if lubricated she promptly bought drinks for the ringers, thereafter campanological confusion reigned. Traditional songs, led from the back of the coach, sped us on the homeward way and as we reflected on a good day's outing we remembered with gratitude the island ringers, the incumbents who had permitted us the use of their bells, and Ian, who had organised the whole thing.
