RINGING FOR THE LORD MAYOR'S DAY

BY W. T. COOK, LIBRARIAN TO THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

T ALWAYS enjoy ringing for the Lord Mayor's Show; it seems to be the one occasion during the year when the Corporation of London officially recognises the existence of bellringers, and I think it is nice to feel that one is playing a small part in the City's great "annual spectacular." It gives me a feeling of being closely linked with the ancient traditions of "famous London City."

Indeed, as far as tradition goes, for a great number of years the Corporation of London does not seem to have varied in the least its routine for ordering the bells to be rung. Identical letters are sent to the incumbents of all the churches along the procession route, whether they have any bells or not, requesting the bells to be rung as the procession passes, and always containing a word of caution against the "sudden" ringing of the bells as this might frighten the horses! Payment for ringing is later made on production of the letter at Guildhall Office.

Up to 1959, the Lord Mayor's Show was always held on November 9th, unless that was a Sunday, and November 8th is still the date for the installation of the Lord Mayor. The bells of St. Lawrence, Jewry, the Guildhall Church, are rung immediately after this ceremony. The route of the procession used to vary from year to year. as it always passed through the Ward of the City which the new Lord Mayor represented. Nowadays, however, Lord Mayor's Day is always the second Saturday in November, and the route-from Guildhall round by the Bank, along Cheapside, St. Paul's Churchyard, Ludgate Hill and Fleet Street to the Law Courts for lunch, then back along the Embankment and up Queen Victoria Street to Mansion House-is not now varied.

Getting together the bands to ring for Lord Mayor's Day is always quite a problem for the College Youths. who provide the ringers for most of the towers along this route, and in the days when the route changed from year to year it used to be worse. Ingenious schemes had to be worked out for moving the same band from one tower to another at a different point along the route, while at the same time remembering that the normal way between these two towers was likely to be blocked by the crowds or by the procession itself. However, members of the College Youths have a good working knowledge of the City's alleys and byways, and usually the organisation went without a hitch.

Thus, if the Lord Mayor represented Cripplegate Ward. this made life easier for those organising the ringing, as the same band could ring at St. Giles', Cripplegate, then dodge through the back streets to reach St. Paul's in time to ring there as the procession was passing; and in more recent years it was common for those who rang at St. Lawrence, Jewry, to do the same thing.

This walk, or rather quick scutter, from Jewry to St. Paul's I always used to find quite entertaining, as it involved passing, sometimes crossing, the various elements of the procession as they made their way round to Guildhall to form up. Thus it was that, on one occasion when

Agriculture was the main theme of the show. I narrowly escaped being run over in the streets of London by a combine harvester! Other College Youths remember the sight of the late William Langdon, on a similar journey. scurrying across the road straight through the procession, and disappearing into the crowds on the other side of the

Occasionally, however, these arrangements for a "mobile" band of ringers have failed to work. One year, a band was trying to get, I think, from Bow, Cheapside, to the now-demolished Church of All Hallows, Lombard Street. A route had been worked out which involved using the subways at Bank Underground Station. All went well until the ringers came up the stairs leading to the Lombard Street exit, only to find that the gate had been locked! The only gate open was the one on the other side through which the band had come, so All Hallows' bells were not rung that Lord Mayor's Day

Nowadays, the only towers where the College Youths are involved are St. Paul's Cathedral, Bow and Jewry. and with a little outside help it is possible to raise separate bands for all three towers. St. Paul's belfry is a popular place on Lord Mayor's Day for families and friends of the ringers, as one window overlooks Ludgate Hill, thus providing a somewhat lofty but definitely "grandstand" view of the Show for some half-dozen people. One of the spectators is delegated to tell the conductor of the band when the Lord Mayor's Coach has passed, so that the ringing does not go on unnecessarily long. Once, some years ago, the person appointed to that task was apparently imperfectly acquainted with the appearance of the Lord Mayor's coach, and did not realise that this always comes right at the end of the procession. Seeing what he believed to be the coach, he gave the signal for the ringing to finish, and the bells were set up. A few minutes later. one of the ringers casually looked out of the window and to his horror recognised the Lord Mayor's coach just rounding the corner into Ludgate Hill! Coats were hurriedly pulled off and the bells restarted. I do not know if this "sudden" ringing of the bells frightened the horses

Connoisseurs of "fine writing" will no doubt appreciate the description of ringing for Lord Mayor's Day given in a book called "The Bell," written by Rev. Alfred Gatty. Vicar of Ecclesfield, and published in 1848. After a lengthy description of the assembled crowds, he writes:

'But see—there approaches the procession: Life-Guards, band, and a train of carriages in succession appear; and off goes from every neighbouring church a clashing peal. Now the bells of London sound grandly indeed! St. Maryle-Bow—what strength of metal dost thou exhibit, with thy noble peal of ten! St. Dunstan, in thy lantern tower—how sweet and fine ring the notes from thy new eight!" (In my copy of the book, the words "sweet" and "fine" have been underlined by a former owner, and the word

Redundant Canterbury Bells Augment Three Towers

By DAVID L. CAWLEY

OPPOSITE Mercery Lane, Canterbury, the narrow lane which leads to its great Cathedral is St. Margaret's Street, which takes its name from the historic church of that name standing on the north side about a hundred yards down.

The street is an historic one; in it and opposite the church stood the Royal Fountain Hotel, once patronised by Elizabeth I and demolished by bombs on the night on June 1st, 1942, when nearly a fifth of the city was destroyed in the "Baedeker" raid. Further along is the Marlowe theatre, named after one of Canterbury's most famous sons, Christopher Marlowe, who was baptised in the nearby Church of St. George the Martyr, which, together with its chime of five bells, perished in the same blitz. It was in this same blitz, which in its own strange manner opened the way to a new chapter in the history of St. Margaret's Church, which in 1958 was reopened as a church and social centre for deaf people. Its three bells, long disused, were no longer as a church and social centre for deaf people. Its three bells, long disused, were no longer required, and now, ten years after the reopening of the church, a most happy decision has been reached which will enable the three bells to be restored—each one in a different church. Such a friendly decision has not always been reached in the case of redundant bells in the Canterbury diocese, and the writer felt that it was worth writing a few lines to preserve their memory and the example it teaches

PREMIER PARISH CHURCH

To the pilgrim approaching across the Marlowe car park, the splendid Victorian east end, by Sir Gilbert Scott, masks a hideous deformity of the church made a hundred years previously to facilitate the turning of coaches into the Royal Fountain. The small south-western tower of flint and ragstone rises at the end of by right this is the Parish Church of Canterbury, and it has from a remote period been the premier Parish Church of England. Its tower, with which we are chiefly concerned, was part of the 14th century reconstruction of the building, and in it bells were hung. Forthe building, and in it bells were hung. For-merly the ringers performed their service from the ground floor, but in 1850 a new newel stairway was constructed in a flint and brick turret to the west of the main tower, and thereafter the bells were sounded from upstairs, the ground floor being occupied by a fine new the ground floor being occupied by a fine new font.

Early records of the bells are scanty. In 1599, "We presented that our Bells are broken and cannot conveniently be rung, also our bells do want ropes. The Belfrie lofts are at reparacions and also there wanteth a ladder to go into the roomes where the bells do hange as heretofore there hath been . ." The situation must have been speedily remedied, for in 1599 a bell was recast by Thomas Hatch, of Ulcombe. This bell was 27 inches in diameter and bore this inscription: BY ME THOMAS HATCH T M C W 1599, with a crowned rose below the date. In 1625 the two larger bells were recast by Thomas Hatch's son, Joseph. The inventory of 200 years previously gave three bells and a "wackerell" or sanctus; the latter has disappeared. At the 1599 recasting a new frame was installed, and this is all that is left today.

In spite of the provision of a new ringing stairway and chamber the bells were in a poor state, and Stahlschmidt, writing in 1887, remarked that the treble was hopelessly cracked.

A revival of interest took place in 1902, and the Cathedral ringers were called into the tower to advise on the ringing of the bells. The report they issued to the authorities survives, and in it they mention that the treble was cracked and that the bell fittings and gear were hopelessly dilapidated. The ringing chamber was in a dirty and dangerous state.

ber was in a dirty and dangerous state.

To remedy this state of affairs, Mr. S. B. Goslin, of Bishopsgate, was called in. This gentleman was formerly the foreman of Messrs. John Warner and Sons Ltd., and later branched off by himself. To him we owe the rehanging of Great Dunstan of Canterbury Cathedral in 1892, and bells at St. Alphege's, Canterbury (two out of six), St. Paul's, Canterbury (tenor), Christ Church, Herne Bay (larger bell) and rehangings at Whitstable (six, since rehung again) and Hinkhill (two). Some impression of the general standard of his work may be gauged from the fact that when he recast two of the general standard of his work may be gauged from the fact that when he recast two of the bells at Sellindge in 1906 the said bells were so poor that when Messrs. Mears and Stainbank augmented the ring in 1909 they had to be recast. His son later took over the business, and in the only rehangings of his that the writer has seen, Southfleet (6) and St. Martin's, Canterbury (3), the work was atrocious.

ST. MARGARET'S

At St. Margaret's he recommended that the two smaller bells be rehung for swing chiming and the tenor only for ringing, and a chiming apparatus fitted. The treble was to be recast, and while it was being lowered from the tower it broke in half. To pay for the recasting the and while it was being lowered from the tower it broke in half. To pay for the recasting the Rector and wardens sold a bell by Robert Mot, dated 1597, which formerly hung in the disused Church of St. Andrew (demolished 1956). Mr. Goslin agreed to allow £20 for this, but later reduced the offer to £15. The treble was duly recast and the bells rehung as specified, the frame being strengthened.

The bells were hardly ever swung; the only bell with marked indentation is the tenor. In 1940 they were silenced, and after the blitz of 1942 the church lay windowless, forlorn and derelict. At the 1957–58 restoration it was proposed to scrap the bells but this was stopped. In 1965 the writer was invited to submit a report on them, and recommended that they be taken down and put to use, or else put on display.

ST. PETER'S

The desire of the Rector of St. Peter's to restore his chime of three bells early this year revived the authorities' interest in the bells, for he is also titular Rector of St. Margaret's. The bells were mentioned as being for disposal to certain interested parties, with the result that Miss H. Allcard, of Droxford, Hampshire, wrote offering to purchase the most suitable bell. Messrs, John Taylor and Co. decided that the second bell was most suitable. Meanwhile the Ashford District of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers were seeking a derelict bell, and it was a the Kent County Association of Change Ringers were seeking a derelict bell, and it was a happy thought that the tenor was available, and the metal from this bell will form the treble at Newchurch, Kent. as a memorial to the late John Willis, The treble will form the treble of the chime of four at St. Peter's, Canterbury. Thus Newchurch will have a fine six made from a mediocre five by the recasting of the tenor, and St. Peter's will have a good chime of four by the addition of the treble; these works are being carried out by the Whitechapel Bell Foundry Ltd. The bells were heard again, and for the last time, on November 18th. They were then lowered to the ground and the second taken for Droxford, under the genial direction of Mr. Eric Fowler, of Messrs. John Taylor and Co. On the following day the writer, together with Messrs. Alan Berry and W. Beeching, took the treble and tenor to Whitechapel, loading being greatly facilitated by the kind loan of a breaktreble and tenor to Whitechapel, loading being greatly facilitated by the kind loan of a break-down lorry from Messrs, Caffyn's Motors, of Canterbury, kindly arranged by Mr. Derek Chatfield, captain of ringers at St. Dunstan's. Then it was off to London, a quick look at the splendid new frame for Newchurch which will eventually house the old tenor, and at the ancient bells from the Kent churches. So we left them, and the bells of St. Margaret's had parted company for ever.

When these bells ring out again they will be vibrant witnesses to the power of resurrection, and the THE resurrection without which their ringing would have no meaning at all. ## HANDBELL TUNE RINGING

21 Bands Attend Third Annual Meeting at Ecclesfield

"THIS is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." The words of the anthem came into my mind The words of the anthem came into my mind as our party made its way up the western escarpments of the Pennines on Saturday morning, October 5th. The day was mild and visibility was clear as we topped the 1,615 feet Ordnance Datum of White Moss and speed down past the site of the old Isle of Skye Inn on our way to Ecclesfield and the long-awaited yearly gathering of the Handbell Ringers of Great Britain.

By invitation this year's meeting was held.

invitation, this year's meeting was held By invitation, this year's meeting was held at Ecclesfield Comprehensive School, under the joint aegis of the Ecclesfield and Thurlstone Handbell Ringers, and the school hall was none too big for the 21 bands of ringers and their many friends and supporters who attended, over 300 persons in all.

61 MUSICAL ARRANGEMENTS

61 MUSICAL ARRANGEMENTS
Sixty-one musical arrangements were rendered by the performers present, and it will be appreciated that it is hardly possible to comment here on each individual item, but there were several outstanding performances well worthy of comment. The boys of the 1st Alton Boys' Brigade (Hants) opened the ringing with a spirited arrangement of "John Peel". which earned much merited applause; by the way, I should think that this band had travelled a longer distance than any other band present, and later on they played "The Lincolnshire Poacher" and "Hark, the herald angels sing" before leaving rather early for their long journey home. their long journey home.

Stokesay ringers followed the first-mentioned item with "Bells of Aberdovey", a nice arrangement, rung rather quietly I thought—they could improve by striking their bells more vigorously as the St. Mary Ringers of Sileby did in their selections, "Snow White" and "Minuet and Trio" from Mozart. Richard's Ringers from Gloucestershire rang three items, the best of which, I thought, was "Little Brown Jug" and, having a certain affinity with Scots and Scotland (too much, my wife would say!), I greatly appreciated "Scotland the sayl), I greatly appreciated "Scotland the Brave" rung by the Offenham ringers from Worcestershire, and also "Ye banks and braes", delicately rendered by Nicholas Newby and his band from St. Cuthbert's, Kirby-in-

Owing, I understand, to certain cattle having to be milked, one of the Thurlstone ringers was unable to be present until after the tea was unable to be present until after the tea interval, but they made up for this by playing for us that spirited march "Under Freedom's Flag" and the "Waltz from Coppelia", followed by "Soldier's Dream" one after the second half of the proceedings.

EXCHANGE OF IDEAS

I enjoyed every item played by every band, but among others I thought were outstanding were Charnwood ringers "Star of the Sea", the "Bourrée English Suite No. 2" (Bach) played by the Ealing ringers, "Selections from Sullithe "Bourree English Suite No. 2" (Bach) played by the Ealing ringers, "Selections from Sullivan" by Ecclesfield, "Bless this House" by the Ordsall band, and "Heather Bell Polka" by Norbury ringers. This last item was played by request of the Ealing ringers, and thereby nangs a tale, Ealing ringers played this arrangement for us at the first handbell ringers' gathering at Norbury School in October, 1966. It was so much enjoyed that a copy of the scores was made available for the Norbury ringers for transcription into their particular notation, which was entirely different to that used by Ealing ringers. It was not an easy task to accomplish but it was done, and to my way of thinking this action typifies the whole task to accomplish but it was done, and to my way of thinking this action typifies the whole spirit of these gatherings of handbell ringers. "Sans Soucie" by the young Ecclesfield Grammar School ringers was a nice item well played, as was also a bright little piece, "Lily Dale", by the Higher Walton ringers (by the way, is this the name of a young lady or the name of a small valley?), and those charming young ladies from Ashton-under-Lyne Grammar School rendered a tuneful little piece called "Gentle Zittella" which was very pleasing. Mr. Newby and his Kirby-in-Furness ringers had been loaned a set of Dutch handbells on which they played "Yorkshire Bells". I liked this, and also "The Wedding" by Hunshelf ringers. The Octavius Wigram ringers from Essex played a spirited "Men of Harlech", although they had another name for this tune, but that is the better-known one, and I liked the "Serenade in A" by the band from St. Mary's, Scarborough, and also "Andantino" by the Hope Baptist Church ringers from Hebden Bridge, who were handicapped by the absence of their leader. Mr. Bungay, through indisposition. through indisposition.

SUBSTITUTE PROGRAMME

My own band from Moorside have never yet been able to field a full team at any of these yearly functions. This one was no exception, and the programme we had planned and carefully practised had to be abandoned and a substitute one hastily arranged. Our leader, Mr. Ivan Kay, was unable to be present owing to a trest of the present and the programme and the present of the present leader, Mr. Ivan Kay, was unable to be present owing to a tragic bereavement, and we were helped out by one of the young ladies from Ashton-under-Lyne Grammar School with arrangements of "Men of Harlech" and William Gordon's lovely setting of "Home, Sweet Home", an old favourite of mine.

The ringing came to an end with a galop, "Orpheus in the Underworld", rung by the Ecclesfield Grammar School ringers, after which we said our goodbyes to old and new friends, resolved to meet again at Worcester in the spring of 1969. So ended another happy ringers' gathering, not without thanks being the spring of 1969. So ended another happy ringers' gathering, not without thanks being expressed to the Ecclesfield and Thurlstone ringers for their meticulous and excellent arrangements, and also not forgetting those in charge of the tea rooms. I have taken part in many a ringers' tea party, but never a better one than this: it can only be described as Yorkshire hospitality at its best! Thank you, one and all!

Dublin University Guild in Devon

HAVING finished their exams, the Trinity ringers left their alma mater for their autumn ringing tour (October 3rd-7th). Asautumn finging tour (October 3rd-/th). As-sembling at Guildford, Surrey, on Thursday, October 3rd, we left the following morning for Devon—ten people in two cars, pressed like sardines. It was a long journey, with only one stop at Stonehenge, to South Petherton, where we had lunch à la Helen followed by a ringing practice in the local church.

The journey was then continued to "do" the The journey was then continued to "do" the first of the eight towers that we planned to visit that week-end. Late that afternoon we arrived at Totnes, where we were met by Mike who had arranged this most enjoyable tour and for which we all say a big "Thank you". A successful ring and on to Yelverton, where we were met in the Vicarage by Mr. and Mrs. Owen. The girls stayed in the Vicarage and the boys were farmed out. The nights were spent in relative quietness, except for Jonathan who had some "knotty problems" to solve.

The next morning we left for Whitchurch where, to the delight of the village—we hopel—we rang for one hour, from rounds to Cambridge Minor. Lunch was taken outside the picturesque little church of Brentor, situated high up on a rock. The meal was prepared by the girls and eaten by the men, this arrangement being, as we all know, the Dublin University Artful Dodge.

Finally, after 120s of Stedman Doubles, we left Brentor and drove to Plymouth to ring at Emmanuel and Plympton St. Mary, At Em-manuel we enjoyed a good touch of Grandsire Triples and a course of Stedman Triples with members of the local band. Our final ring for the day was at Tavistock.

After Mass on Sunday morning we all had breakfast at the Vicarage and then set out for Plymouth to ring at St. Andrew's with the local ringers for service (Grandsire Caters). A short spin along Plymouth Harbour and the countryside around it preceded Dartmoor, which some were anxious to see. In the afternoon we rang at Sheepstor, followed by a lengthy walk up the mountains nearby, from where there is a wonderful view over Devon and Cornwall. In the evening we rang for evensong at Buckland Monachorum, Mike's home tower.

The close of our tour was marked by attending the harvest service at the parish church in Yelverton, followed by a sumptuous meal. Later that evening the boys prepared the sandwiches for the next day—and you should have seen the way they were prepared!

seen the way they were prepared!

On Monday morning Charlie, Dorothy and Alice left for Dublin via Liverpool, giving Cecil and Helen a lift to Exeter. Jonathan's wife, Mike (?), went by 'plane to Dublin, that snob! Apparently he didn't trust Alice's or Dorothy's driving. The rest of us, i.e., Geraldine, Jenny, Jonathan and David, headed for Guildford. On our way there we stopped at Yarcombe, at Jenny's express wish, because she was anxious to ring some more stopped at Yarcombe, at Jenny's express wish, because she was anxious to ring some more bells. For lunch we selected a nice place with plenty of sunshine, which led David to remark: "Why does the sun shine on the English?" After a short stop at Salisbury Cathedral we arrived in Hindhead, where the party finally broke up.

Thanks are due to Mrs. Hubert and Mrs. Winnett for letting us stay at their homes in Surrey, and to Mr. and Mrs. Owen for their hospitality while we were in Yelverton. Without exception we were received everywhere in a most friendly fashion, and we were most im-pressed by the ease with which all the bells we handled in Devon may be rung.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION WITH SELBY DISTRICT

The November meeting of the Eastern District was held jointly with the Selby and District Society at Thorne.

Arrangements for the meeting had met with difficulties. Tea could not be provided at short notice and the 19 or so people who had booked were entertained at the home of Mr. T. Leaske. A service could not be held and the business meetings, attended by 26 ringers, were held jointly in church presided over by were held jointly in church, presided over by Mr. V. Bottomley in the absence of Mr. A. Sheppard, who had attended the afternoon ringing.

Two new members were elected — Misses Christine Rose and Helen Goode, of St. Mary's, Beverley.

Some quite good ringing was enjoyed on the eight bells during the day, ranging through standard methods to spliced Surprise.

BOB MAJOR WITH SINGLES

Dear Sir,—Re the two peals of Plain Bob Major on page 960, when I was experimenting with figures in the late '20s Joe Dyke asked me if I could get a composition of Plain Bob Major with singles, I did. Another composed the same thing and it was rung in the late '20s or early '30s The second peal is after the style of George Williams' 5.376 Plain Bob Major in the C.C. Collection, with singles used instead of bobs.—Yours faithfully,

NEW MONEY-RAISING IDEA

Dear Sir,—I do like good striking, whether I am in it or not, but up North here it is getting worse and, believe me. I think the main cause of it is what we are ringing and not how we are ringing. I beg all of you attached to our paper to peruse the number of firsts—first this, first that, first the other—anything for publicity!

There should be a levy or fee on all firsts you publish. I am sure that it would help your finances more than an appeal for prompt payment.—Yours, etc.,

J. BURGESS.

Friezland, near Oldham.

METRICATION

Dear Sir,—Whilst Mr. Threlfall may be premature in sending in a peal giving the weight of the tenor in kilogrammes the time is surely not far distant when the use of metric weights and other metric measures will be unavoidable?

In a few years' time the distance between towers will be measured in kilometres, new bell ropes will be ordered "X" metres in length, the after-peal quenchers in the local will be bought in litres with decimal coinage and to really add to the confusion the vital statistics of the National Belfry Queen for 1975 will be approximately 910-615-910 millimetres.—Yours faithfully,

RICHARD J. BOWDEN. Westbury-on-Trym, Bristol.

RINGERS IN GERMANY

Dear Sir.—The recent article on the Llandaff and Monmouth Association brought back happy memories of ringing there.

We are four ringers here at Windsor Boys School, Hamm, Germany—no bells, unfortunately. In addition to myself there are the school chaplain, the Rev. J. J. Fielding, most of whose ringing was with the Irish Association and who will at Easter be returning to England to take up an appointment at St. Edward's School, Oxford: Mr. Brian Kingston, whose main ringing activities were when he was at Cardiff University; and Mr. Chris Fulford, who learnt to ring at Winchester Cathedral.—Yours sincerely,

NOTTINGHAM UNIVERSITY SOCIETY AT WORCESTER

In accordance with time-honoured tradition, Nottingham University Society took a weekend off from their normal round of Sunday service ringing and sought "pastures new" in which to display their talents. This year their chosen target was Worcester, which was subsequently invaded on the week-end of November 30th-December 1st.

30th-December 1st.

Two somewhat overladen vehicles left Nottingham early on Saturday morning and arrived in time to ring at our first tower, Kempsey. The "motorway" party, having proved conclusively to the "Birmingham route" party the superiority of their itinerary, were able to partake of necessary Jubrication at the Crown before ringing. While enjoying Kempsey's ring of six we met Mr Fred Pugh, whom we helped to ring for a wedding at our next tower in Hallow. Mr. Pugh was kind enough to accompany us to our next two towers at Grimley, where Double Bob proved nearly too much for those who like their methods "conventional", and Shrawley, where London Minor was successfully brought round in a church where the angles of its walls seem to indicate imminent collapse!

much for those who like their methods "conventional", and Shrawley, where London Minor was successfully brought round in a church where the angles of its walls seem to indicate imminent collapse!

So to Ombersley where, cheered or mortified by the football results, we perhaps rang this heavy-going six too fast to do them justice. In the rapidly-gathering gloom we made our way to Evesham, where we joined the Worcestershire and Districts' monthly practice at the beli tower Here methods up to Stedman Cinques were rung on the lovely 12. What a pity they have no regular service band to ring them! "And so to bed", in the homely atmosphere of the Loch Rvan Hotel, Worcester.

Cinques were rung on the lovely 12. What a pity they have no regular service band to ring them! "And so to bed", in the homely atmosphere of the Loch Ryan Hotel, Worcester, Sunday began on a high note—methods up to Stedman Cinques on the glorious 12 of Worcester Cathedral, followed by ringing for matins on the ten in the pleasant Georgian Church of All Saints. Then followed three rings in the best tradition of country sixes—Leigh, Suckley and Powick—all of them heavy, sonorous and slow, bells which punish the unskilled and hurried but invariably reward good ringing with a noble, dignified and melodic sound.

From here back to Worcester by way of the most memorable ring of the week-end at Broadwas, where Doubles methods were rung on what proved to be a pleasant five—once one had untied the strings on the clappers, dug newspaper out of the guide holes and become accustomed to the middle three bells having approximately the same note! Here the party split, some to ring for evensong at St. Swithun's, Worcester, now rendered ringable, and others for home, stopping to ring at St. Nicholas'. Warwick, for evensong on the

FUNERAL OF Mr. G. G. ("SMOKER") WALPOLE

The funeral of Mr Godfrey George Walpole, of Norton Subcourse, Norfolk, whose death on November 29th was reported in our last issue, was largely attended on December 3rd, Colleagues of the Norwich Diocesan Association from all parts of Norfolk and from the Suffolk Guild were in a congregation which filled Norton Parish Church.

While the congregation was assembling halfmuffled touches were rung on the bells, ending with the whole pull and stand as the cortege arrived at the church.

The first part of the service was taken by the Rev. James Gilchrist, Rural Dean of Loddon, and the Rev. A. Glendenning, Rector of Norton Subcourse, offered prayers and took the committal. Their colleague, Rev. James Cummins, was in the procession, together with Canon A. G. G. Thurlow, president of the Norwich Diocessan Association, and the Rev. Peter Bond, priest-in-charge of St. James' Church, Great Yarmouth.

In an address Canon Thurlow recalled his first ringing at Norton Subcourse in August, 1947—such a happy gathering, and "Smoker" was very largely responsible for the happy and enthusiastic spirit that prevailed. "He soon began telling me of the project for rehanging these bells which, with a new steel frame, was completed four years ago. It demanded courage, faith, imagination and leadership. All these he showed and instilled into his friends.

"So he and his friends have won a place in the long history of Norton, which includes the names of William Brend. of Norwich, who cast a bell here in 1593; Wm. and Alice Brend, who cast others here in 1620 and 1622, and Thomas Newman, who cast another in 1730

"Smoker' was involved in much more than the life of Norton, where he was Ringing Master for 36 years following the death of his father. He was also Master of the Eastern Branch of the Association, in which he practised the team idea amongst parishes long before others thought of it.

"The resurrection of the body means that the individual continues to exist despite the disappearance of his bodily shape. Believing this, we can believe that the life of 'Smoker' Walpole, like all who pass as pilgrims through this strange mortal life, continues to be in company with the source of all beauty, truth and goodness and with all who because they are of the truth hear His voice."

A keen churchman, he had spent all his life in the locality. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter, to whom the deepest sympathy is extended.

After the committal a course of Grandsire Triples "in hand" was rung at the graveside by Canon A. G. G. Thurlow 1-2. Barry Pickup 3-4. Edwin R. Goate 5-6 and H. William Barrett 7-8. Following the service a quarter peal of 1,260 Minor, half-muffled, was rung on the church bells by N. P. J. Cossey 1, J. W. Forder 2, F. G. Santon 3, Tom Brock 4, E. A. Long 5, H. W. Barrett (conductor) 6.

WORLE, SOM.—On Dec. 5th, 1,260 Doubles (Grandsire, Plain Bob): S. Lewis 1, R. Jones 2, J. Lambard 3, Miss M. Legg 4, G. Prescot (cond.) 5, W. Kingsbury 6, Rung half-muffled in memory of Mr. J. Williams, for many years a member of the choir

Jasper Snowdon writes on William Harrison for "The Bell News"

THIS week I propose to deal with the career of William Harrison; at least, I shall let Jasper W. Snowdon do the dealing and I will copy him out. Although our art is built upon tradition, few of us have had the opportunity of handling, let alone studying, the classic works on bellringing. We have all heard of Fabian Stedman but few of us know his story, and fewer still have any idea of what he wrote apart from the names of the volumes. We have recently had two extremely interesting articles on the authorship of "Tintinnalogia", but the contents of that volume are a closed book to us. The feats of such men as Harrison may seem small beer to the ringers of today, but we stand upon the shoulders of our predecessors, and it may well be that if these stalwarts had not pursued the art with zest ringers of the present would not be attempting "50-spliced Maximus". I therefore make no apology for presenting one of the giants of the past as seen through the eyes of a later and much better known giant.

WILLIAM HARRISON—A MEMOIR By Jasper W. Snowdon

By JASPER W. SNOWDON

In a former issue of this paper a list was given showing the number of peals in which william Harrison, whose name is so well known to the Exercise in connection with some of the best compositions in the Treble Bob method, took part. One generation of ringers so quickly succeeds another that in many cases the performances accomplished in one generation are lost sight of by the next; and it may thus be that, although known as a composer, but few of the practitioners of the present day have been fully aware of the close acquaintance which William Harrison had with the practical art of ringing. Not many ringers have left behind them such a record of peals accomplished, and indeed such a record, compiled between the years 1840–60, means a much greater undertaking than it would do to equal or even exceed it at the present time, when the increased number of churches which contain bells and the increase of facilities for travelling from place to place are taken into consideration.

William Harrison was born at Mottram-in-Longdendale, Cheshire, on September 26th, 1820, and at the age of six years, being left an orphan, was taken into the care of his uncle, Robert Shaw, of Mottram. Mr. Shaw, being a ringer and composer, his nephew was thus, doubtless at a very early age, brought into contact with the art, of which he proved such a devoted abilities and an amount of which he devoted abilities and an amount of perseverance that his name will ever be remembered in connection with the "Art of Change-ringing". By reference to the list of peals given it will be seen that William Harrison accomplished his first on November 4th, 1838, when in his 19th year, and that the last peal on the list, the 85th in which he took part, was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on February 28th, 1874. These 85 performances consisted of the following different peals and varied in number from 5,000 to 9,600 changes:

One Kent Treble Bob Maximus, one Grandsire Cinques, five Kent Treble Bob Royal, two Grandsire Caters, 58 Kent Treble Bob Major, two Bob Major, three Grandsire Major, one Stedman Triples, 12 Grandsire Triples.

It will thus be seen that the list comprises peals upon seven, eight, nine, ten, 11 and 12 bells. Of these Mr. Harrison conducted 28 of the peals of Treble Bob Major, both those of Bob Major and one of the Stedman Triples. The 85 peals were rung at 19 different churches. Twenty-six were accomplished at Mottram. 20 at the neighbouring town of Hyde, nine at Stalybridge, seven at Ashton and six at Glossop. To the kind assistance of William Harrison the first bands of changeringers at Hyde and Stalybridge were indebted for their instructions: the teaching of young bands was indeed with him a labour of love, as for the many hours spent in the instruction of beginners he never would accept the slightest pecuniary remuneration. For his kind offices at Hyde the ringers, however, insisted on presenting him with a watch and guard.

After living at Mottram until 1864, William Harrison, who was brought up and continued all his life to work as a shoemaker, removed to Saddleworth, where he continued to reside until the day of his death. With this change, and an alteration in the state of his health, his career as a practical ringer may almost be said to have come to an end, as in the years from 1865 to 1874 he only took part in six more peals.

Peals,

Although the number is about to be augmented to eight, the tower of Saddleworth Church only contained six bells and, although very friendly with the ringers, William Harrison was never much given to practise as a 6-bell ringer, the only performance worth noting in which he took part at this church being a "Crown Bob" in seven different variations, which length (composed by James Platt, of Saddleworth) he conducted. A "Crown Bob" is the performance of the 720 true changes on six bells, composed in a variety of methods, the ringers leaving one method and taking up another at a signal from the conductor.

After suffering a good deal during the latter years of his life from ill-health. William Harrison was seized with a fit when returning from his work on the evening of January 21st, 1880, never rallied, and died on the following day, January 22nd. He was interred in Mottram Churchyard on Saturday, January 24th, On July 9th, 1881, a monument which had been erected over his grave in Mottram Churchyard by the voluntary contributions of his brother ringers and friends was duly dedicated to his memory.

It may be said that it will doubtless be as a composer that his claims to remembrance will be recognised by future generations. Appearing first as a composer at the age of 18 years, the spare moments of a lifetime were afterwards given to the pursuit of this science, with the result that in the art of composition in his favourite system of Treble Bob he obtained a greater variety of excellent peals in different systems than has hitherto been obtained by any other composer. Besides a variety of peals of various lengths up to and including several of 10.000 changes in the ordinary method of Treble Bob, he obtained a large number of peals of 5.000 changes in the same method, upon entirely new plans and with distinctly different peculiarities to any already composed. In 1876 he was forfunate enough to surpass the greatest length until then obtained in this method with the tenors together, and until this length is surpassed it may be said, without hesitation, that the name of William Harrison can never be forgotten. He it was who first obtained the full extent with the tenors together (6,720 changes) in the critical method of London Surprise Major; he also first obtained similar peals in the methods of Violet and Cumberlands Exercise Major and in the less-known method of Merchant's Return Major. Besides these peals he obtained the extent with the tenors together (13,440 changes) of Double Norwich Court Bob Major and composed several peals of Grandsire Cinques, Grandsire Major, etc.

Having already alluded to the willingness of William Harrison to assist young hands in their practical difficulties, a harder task remains in the endeavour to do justice to his endeavours to assist those who were making the proof or composition of peals their study. To such he was indeed of the greatest assistance, ever ready to spend any amount of his time in the investigation or explanation of their difficulties, and always willing to communicate to others the full extent of his own knowledge on any subject whatever. If any man ever showed an entire absence of that jealous fear of benefiting others by imparting information to them, which is so often displayed by those whose acquaintance with such matters is of so much less value, it was the subject of this memoir. For his assistance and communicativeness to others, all generations, through the present, will ever remain indebted to the "genius and skill" of William Harrison.

Next time, gentle reader, with the Editor's permission, I will deal with the Important Law Case of Stainbank v. Beckett in the Sittings at Nisi Prius at Westminster in the Lords' Justices' Court, before Mr. Baron Huddleston and a Special Jury. Until then—adieu.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION Chew Deanery A.G.M.

Visitors from Sidmouth and the Axbridge, Taunton and Bridgwater Branches joined the Chew Branch for their annual meeting at Wrington (10) on December 7th. The Association service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. John Vine, after which tea was served in the Memorial Hall to a company of 41 members and friends by Mrs, Kingcott and her helpers,

The officers of the Branch were re-elected without change as follows: Chairman, H. W. Knight: Ringing Master. L. Derrick: deputy Ringing Masters. J. Brain and S. G. Smith: hon. secretary, D. G. Yeo; "Ringing World" correspondent, J. Brain.

Meetings were agreed, subject to permission, at Nailsea (March, quarterly), with practice meetings at Publow (January) and Clapton-in-Gordano (February).

Four new members from Kingston Seymour and one from Winford were elected, together with the Dean of Wells as an associate member.

A very full discussion followed on ways of making practice meetings more effective, and the meeting resolved that the officers should circulate all towers in the Branch with proposals for improvements or alterations as thought necessary.

Further ringing, with methods up to Cambridge Royal, followed the conclusion of the meeting.

DISAPPOINTMENT FOR SUFFOLK VILLAGE

The village of Kersey, near Hadleigh, Suffolk, has saved its six ancient bells (one dated 1576) by raising nearly £3,000 in three years. But now it is discovered that when restored the bells cannot be rehung until the best part of £20,000 is spent on strengthening the tower. The job of raising the £20,000, recommended by the diocesan architect as being needed to repair the fabric of the church, generally has been acknowledged as too big for the village to achieve. A general public appeal will be launched in January.

LAW WITH REGARD TO BELLS

Mr. David J. Gay, of Weston-Super-Mare, sends us the following extract from Troyte's "The Change Ringers' Guide to the Steeples of England", published 1879, setting out the law with regard to church bells.

"Though Churchwardens have a general power to manage everything connected with the fabric, this does not include the right to interfere with the bells, so far as to decide independently of the Minister when they shall be rung for purposes not directly connected. independently of the Minister when they shall be rung for purposes not directly connected with the summoning of the parishioners to worship. It may be taken to be perfectly clear law, that the Churchwardens have no power whatever to order that the bells shall be rung on this or that occasion, without the permission of the Minister."

permission of the Minister."

The following paragraphs are taken from "The Book of Church Law," by Rev. J. Blunt and W. Phillimore. D.C.L.

"The Vicar or Rector alone has any legal right to the keys of the . . belfry . and no one can legally use them for entrance thereto except by his permission. In cases where churchwardens have . . . in any way obtained access to the . belfry without the permission of the incumbent, they have been severely censured by the judges, and condemned in costs" (page 271).

"Access cannot be had to the belfry, nor can the bells be rung without his (the incumbent's) consent.

"The bells of a certain place were rung contrary to the express order of the Vicar, the doors of the belfry being broken open for the purpose. The ringers were prosecuted, and condemned in costs: but being unable to pay, remained in prison for five weeks" (page 323).

A LOSS TO CLEVEDON, SOMERSET

The ringers at Clevedon Parish Church, Somerset, have lost one of their stalwarts by the departure of Mr. L. J. Atkins. Mr. and Mrs. Atkins, who had lived in the town for over 40 years, had been hosts at the annual New Year's Eve ringers' supper.

During most of his long residence in Clevedon, Mr. Atkins was a member of the church choir and was also choirmaster until the post was combined with that of organist. He took to bellringing later, quickly mastered the principles of change-ringing and was a

He took to bellringing later, quickly mastered the principles of change-ringing and was a constant and reliable member of the band.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins' only son, Alec, with his wife and family, live at Malton in the North Riding of Yorkshire, and the parents decided to move north so as to be near to their relatives. They have made their new home in the village of Huntington, a few miles north of York City, having left Clevedon with the good wishes of countless friends in the West Country.

BEDFORDSHIRE MARRIED COUPLES' QUARTER

Mrs. June Ashton is to be complimented on her performance in ringing the treble to Bob Minor for her first quarter peal in the neartwilight at Old Warden, Beds, on December 7th. There was no light in the belfry and the only illumination was a light in the nave of this ground floor pull. It is believed to be the first quarter rung by three married couples of the Biggleswade District and of the Bedfordshire Association. Another unusual feature of this achievement was that it was ladies' night at the local hostelry following the successful attempt. Mrs. June Ashton is to be complimented on attempt.

WHEN THEY PRACTISED RINGING AT

The "Northampton Newsletter" in its September issue among its questions asked: What connection is there between a bell and a

The answer, given in the December issue: At one period of its development bellringing (especially in larger towns) became the hobby among the "upper crust" of society. Many notable gentlemen joined the ranks of ringers and saw the whole thing as a healthy way of exercising.

Many of them must have been unable to satisfy their need for exercise because they installed artificial ringing machines — "dumb-bells"—in their homes. These machines consisted of a horizontal shaft mounted between bearings (like a bell) and on each end of the shaft were heavy weights. The shaft was furnished with a rope, which was wound around nished with a rope, which was wound around it. The rope was passed through the floor and into the room below. Here the "ringer" could pull hard on the rope and set the shaft and weights revolving. The rope unwound and then rewound with the momentum ready for the next pull. In later times the dumb-bells were removed from their mountings and it became usual to use them for weight lifting as in the present in the present.

st. Palis Caineral, Metbodnie, belis weitering to 1,264 Plain Bob Major on December 1st by a band of English ringers now resident in Australia, with the exception of Ernest Boumphrey. He arrived at Melbourne the previous evening on the "Northern Star" and had to be back on board by 5 p.m. that day. Nevertheless he was also able to make a "quick grab" at St. Patrick's Cathedral, in addition to scoring the quarter.

Taking part in the "Pomme" quarter were Margaret Aslett (ex-Priory Church, Dunstable) 1, Monica Martin (ex-St. Nicolas', Guildford) 2. Michael Lawrence (ex-SS, John-the-Baptist, Lawrence and Anne's, Knowle, Warks) 3, Ernest Boumphrey (Holy Trinity, Morecambe, Lancs) 4, Robin Turner (ex-All Hallows', Wellingborough) 5, John Martin (ex-St. Mary's, Horsell, Surrey) 6, Michael Scowen (ex-Christ Church, Swindon) 7, Dermot Roaf, conductor (ex-St. Giles', Oxford) 8.

Up and Coming Youngsters - No. 41

AVIS THOMPSON

This young lady has earned her place in this series by her quite remarkable progress. She had her first handling lesson at Dewsbury on February 12th, 1967, a few weeks before her 11th birthday. Five weeks later she stood in rounds for service for the first time and in August, 1967, rang her 720 Yorkshire Association qualification. Nothing particularly outstanding so far! But, her repertoire now includes Stedman, Double Norwich, Cambridge (including Royal), Yorkshire and Superlative, and this progress is matched by very neat handling and good striking.

Avis, a modest young lady, and her tutors do not attribute her attainment to any streak of genius. It is the outcome of good, steady application to the job.

She has only two peals to her credit, both Plain Bob Major, but much more telling statistics are those of her attendances. Since February, 1967, she has been absent from ringing (service and practice) only twice, on the occa-sion of the one short holiday she has had, and she is never late.

Her school Christmas party has clashed with practice night, but Avis resolved the conflict in the way any good ringer should.

COLEGATE SOCIETY

The annual dinner was held on Saturday, November 30th, at the Abbey Hotel. Wymondham. The evening was concluded in the familiar surroundings of the Green Dragon.

"METHOD STRUCTURE IN CHANGE RINGING"

An introduction to its Theory and Technology - being PART II of the "RINGERS' MANUAL OF REFERENCE"

Committee.

This work, second in its series in Campanology, is again unique, and it is complete in itself, lit is prepared both for beginners and advanced students.

-It is not a text-book on specific methods, but show for the first time, the detailed structure of the general plan of change-production, by type of "methods" and their "cognate" stages. The analysis is helpful in method-learning.

-Well bound, in an attractive stiff cover in but with good lettering, the book measures %764, "xi" and contains nearly 300 of such large pages; with some 80 "figures" or diagrams, and 8 double-page and 5 single-page "charts"

-Each chapter closes with test-questions and indicated answers. There are also series of definitions, "descriptions" and axioms, arranged to serve as an index.

-Paragraphs throughout the book are numbered for ready cross-reference.

-The book is remarkably well commended, especi-ally by leading figures of the Exercise, including Canon Gilbert Thurlow, Fredk, Sharpe and E. C. Shepberd: also by the C.C. Literature and Press

Committee.

-Without this book a 'ringing' booksheft is incomplete, it's a good Xmas or New Year Gift.

-The whole work was planned for issue at minimum cose or production, the price being thereby cut from pounds to shillings, so as to be within the reach of all. The price, packing and inland postage included, is only 17/6. (Seventeen shillings and sixpence.)

-By return of post, from—

"College Publications."

AMMONIA ATTACK ON HERTS RINGER

Miss Brenda Harris, popular village post-mistress and ringer at Benington, Herts, had ammonia thrown in her face when she inter-rupted intruders in her shop in the early hours of Saturday, December 14th. It is hoped that no permanent damage was caused—we all wish a speedy recovery.

The ringers in the peal were House Well.

The ringers in that peal were Henry Wallace 1, William A. Tack 2, Robert Howard 3, Sidney Carter (cond.) 4, Alfred J. House 5, William K. North 6, Barnard Patmore 7, John

MR. J. O. WELLER

John Osborne Weller, who died on Decem-oer 9th, lived in Westerham all his life. I first saw him there on Easter Monday, 1936, on the occasion of the Kent County Association annual general meeting.

Westerham only just manages to preserve identity as an independent country town rather than a mere commuters' dormitory.
Every country town should have a builder and undertaker able to demonstrate a true pride of craft. Jack Weller filled just that role in Mestaker himself a first clause are true. Westerham, being himself a first-class crafts-man and employing in his family firm only men who could live up to his own high standard.

Some three years ago Jack was taken severely ill and since then his heart condition had been very precarious. He was told to give up ringing but still came along for the ringing at Westerham and took a rope when he dared. He loved ringing and all to do with it.

He loved ringing and all to do with it.

In his early years he had been associated a great deal with the late Edwin H. Lewis, the former President of the Central Council, who lived at Brasted, two miles away. He knew the standard in ringing that Mr. Lewis required and was well up to it. Also as a young man he rang peals with the late Oliver Sippetts, of Crayley who was a legend in these parts. man he rang peals with the late Oliver Sippetts, of Crawley, who was a legend in these parts for the standard of the peals he demanded and obtained. Jack also took part in many peals of Minor with a famous band under Leonard Tidy at Limpsfield Chart.

Jack was a good College Youth, For many years, with Fred Budgen, from Brasted, he attended the dinners. Since his heart attack he had been unable to come, but this year, in his desire to support the Master, he stayed in London two nights.

London two nights.

A quiet man, he was very direct in his manner and disliked humbug. A friendly man, he always looked at home behind a pint man, he always looked at home benind a pint of beer, sucking his curly-stemmed pipe. He was usually the last to arrive, and I shall never ring at Westerham without expecting the little door at the north side of the tower to open and Jack pop through, ready to stand behind some youngster on the treble struggling with aleist hunting for the first time.

open and Jack pop through, ready to stand behind some youngster on the treble struggling with plain hunting for the first time.

Jack first started to ring at the age of 11. The retired schoolmaster, Mr. J. R. Taylor, who took part in the ringing for the funeral says: "Jack was one of my boys." Although barely 60 he had thus completed nearly 50 years as a ringer at Westerham and for most of us was part of the scene.

The funeral took place on December 13th. The Kent County Association was represented by Mr. P. A. Corby, general secretary; Mr. R. W. H. Hayes. Tonbridge District secretary; Mr. John Igglesden, the captain, and numerous members of the local band as well as friends from Edenbridge and other local towers. There was a large congregation of family and friends. The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the simple and impressive service, conducted by the Vicar, Canon Aidan Chapman. A half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was rung the next day.

A half-municular over the felt for his second great sympathy will be felt for his second wife and his grown-up sons and their families.

P. A. C.
