CILLETT&JOHNSTON CROYDON, Surrey. BELLS, CLOCKS, CARILLONS.

St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton.

Tenor ( 33 owt .) of the New Ring of 12.

WULFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON, MESSRS, GILLETT and JOHNSTON, CROYDON, 4th Marah, 1012. dentlemen,

The re-asting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two 10. ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, revently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given feneral satisfaction.

I an authorised by tioe Roctor and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to sudge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Youre faithtully. F. T. BECK, Architeot, Diccesas Survoyor.

PEAL RINGING EXTRAORDINARY.

The year 1912 proved, indeed, a record year for peal ringing, and while there are still some few records to come in of performances completed before midnight on Tuesday, there is information enough now available to get a fairly accurate idea of the prodigious amount of peal ringing that was accomplished. In the limited space at our disposal this week we can do little but give figures which will show what has been done-indeed they are so striking as to need little or no comment.

Probably the question uppermost in the minds of many peal ringers is: Who will head the Analysis? At the moment it is impossible to say-so close is the relative position of two of the associations-but it rests between Norwich and Middlesex, who, on points, are running neck and neck, but well awray from the rest. Indeed it is not unlikely that these two societies, who in igI were third and second respectively with less than 2,400 points, may top 4,000. After these two, Winchester and Midland Counties are well up.

With the reports which appear in this issue, we have recorded in "The Ringing World" well over 2,200 peals rung during 1912, so that it is not unlikely that the record aggregate of $\mathrm{I}, 739$ in 19II may be beaten by no less than 500 . In the first year of tabulated returns ( I 88 r ) only r 56 peals were rung. In 1882 there were 224; in 1892 802; and in 19021,313 , so that in the last ten years the total for twelve months has been increased by about a thousand. Of this year's total about 300 have been rung on handbells, showing the great advance which has been made in this direction.
Among the individual performances of the year may be noted the two long peals of Bristol Surprise, the I , I bo at Knebworth on Easter Monday, and the ${ }^{1} 5,264$ at Hornchurch on Whit-Monday, the latter giving the Surprise record to the Middlesex Association. Then there have been the two record handbell peals of Stedman Caters at Guildford, the $\mathrm{I}_{4}, \mathrm{O} \mathrm{I}^{1}$ on June rst, followed by 19,738 on August 31st, and constituting the largest number of changes ever rung by one set of men.

Among ringers who have made big scores, there are, in addition to Mr. A. W. Grimes, who heads the list with 114 for the year, the following, who have rung over 40 peals : Messrs. B. Prewett 100, A. H. Pulling 94, E. Pye 74, F. Bennett 7I, F. Hairs 69, W. Pye 67, J. E. Davis 57. J. Hunt 55, W. Shepherd 54, K. Hart 54, M. Smither 52, R. Sanders 52, F. Blondell 50, G. R. Pye 47, and G. Williams 4 I. Mr. E. M. Atkins has also rung close on 60 peals. Mr. Pulling again heads the list of conductors with 90 , while among those who have called 20 or over are

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Broomfleld Vicarage, Chelmaford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that weare perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hangint the Broomfield Charch Bells.
We consider that the work refeats great credit upon your firm, and believe that your system of manging the bells reduces the vibrabion of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS, Vicar of Broomfeld. Messrs. C. CARR, LTD.

Another feature of the year has been the part which the ladies have played in peal ringing. There was their own peal at Cubitt Town on July 2oth, and quite a large number have figured in other peal performances. Miss Parker has rung no fewer than 35 (eleven of them on handbells), of which she conducted 17, and Miss Elsie Bennett has rung 27 on handbells. The figures for the year are truly remarkable.

AN AUSTRALIAN LAMENT.

UNHAPPY STATE OF AFFAIRS IN MELBOURNE

PROGRESS IN RINGING THWARTED.

HOW A PEAL OF GRANDSIRE CATERS WAS LOST.

By the last mail two letters have reacher us from Australia, and they reveal a rather unhappy state of affajrs at Melbourne, where we, in lingland, thought change ringing was at any rate hoiding its own. The first communication is from Mr. C. Porter, of Sydney, who writes: I should like to give you a short account of a visit to Melbourne by some Sydney ringers. We formed a party of four, and safely arrived in Melbourne on Saturday, November 2nd, after a long train journey, and were met by two ringers who kindly made arrangements for our accommodation. On Saturday night we met at St. Paul's Cathedral, and had our first difficulty. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. $\mathbf{R}$. F. Deal, who attended at our request, and found to our surprise that ho was debarred from ringing with us by order of the Committee of St. Paul's Society.

On Sunday morning, we attended St. Patrick's, where we were heartily welcomed, and as no restrictions were in force there, we had a good ring together, and met again in the evening. On Monday night we went again to St. Pauls, When the so-called committee, seeing that we would not ring unless Mr. Deal rang with us, called off the interdiction. So far so good.

Un 'Tuesdiay night we were the guests of St. Patrick's Society, who gave us a " smoke night," and arrangements were made then to attempt a peal of Caters on St. Paul's bells the next evening, and the bells were ostensibly placed at our disposal for that occosion by Mr. Guest, the captain of St. Paul's Society. Now mark the result. tried to get the best team available, and hunted up one or two ringers who we knew were safe men and competent to undertake a peal. Bafore starting we requested those who did not wish to stay in the tower to retire and then, under the conductorship of Mr. Deal, started for Grandsire Caters, the first attempt for a peal on ten bells in the Southern Hemisphere. Everything went smoothly for about half an hour, the striking being very good indeed for a band who had never practised together before, and was improving with every course. AN UNPLEASANT INCIDENT.
Suddenty a commotion was heard on the stairs, and Mr. Stocks, the vice-captails (may his $n$ me bs handed down to posterity) bounced across the belfry, and, getting behind the conductor, asked in a loud and raucous voice, "Who locked the door and kept the local ringers from entering the belfry," etc. Now, considering that this august personage was at the "smoke night," and knew all the arrangements, this "takes the bun." Well, we survived this ordeal, and the " wicecantain " having noisily departed, we continued to woll off the courses. Lut it was not to ba, for at the end of the 11th course, the 8th rope came down Now. I don't like to say anjthing I am not sure of, but if that rope was not cut my name is not Porter. I never saw a mora even break in my life, and at an "inquest" held on the defaulter, the opinion was unanimous.

We have had Mebourne ringers in Sydney, but we treated them far differently to this. If the St. Paul's " experts" wished to ring tho first peal of Caters themselves, why did they not say so, instead of handing the tower orer to us, intending that we should not get the pal. In fact, while the ringing was in progress. fome of the members were at the foot of the tower openly expressing the hope that some mishap would stop the attempt-and when the rope broke, one observed to the others, "Your wish has been fulfilled.' Needless to say, we cut short our visit after this experience. To the St. Patrick's Society we wish to express our heartfelt thanks for their kindness and hospitality, and we only regret that the bells in their tower are not in grood enough condition to make a peal possible on them.

MR. R. F. DEAL'S EXPERIENCE

The second letter is from a ringer well-known in London, Mr. R. F. Deal. His many friends will be glad to learn that, as far as business is concerned, he has no cause to regrat leaving the old country. It is ctherwise with the state of ringing in Melbourne. He writes:-
The only decently ringable peill in this city is at St. Paul's Cathedral, but there is no encouregement for genuine ringers there, and although there aro plenty in the place, they have practically all deserted St. Paul's, owing to dissensions and bad maniogement. There is no unity among tho nembers of the band, and the chief aim of the so-called "Cummittoo" is to keep more enlightened persons than themselves out of tho tower-which policy appears to meet with the approval of the Cathedral authorities, as represented by the Precentor, whose total ignorance of everything conmected with ringing has been the chicf factor in bringing about the presont condition of affairs.

ENFRGY AND ANIBITION DEAD.
I commenced ringing at St. Paul's on my arrival here in February last, and attended practically every meeting for six months, but no opportunity was offered me of joining the socicty; so after some correspondence with the Precentor, I withdrew from the ringing altogether, with little regret, being sick of the invariably bad striking, and finding every obstacle put in the way of progress. There is: no hope of getting anything better than Grandsire 'Triples, and only short touches even of that. energy and ambition haring totally died out. So, as qualified ringers are discouraged, and nobody at present in the tower has any desire to train youngsters, ringing is in danger of becoming a lost art in Melboturne.
The bad reputation of the place, from a ringers' point of view, has now spread far beyond Melbourne. A fortnight ago, Messrs. R. and E. McDonald and C. W. Porter, of Sydney, came over for some tenbell practise, and no doubt hoping to score a peal. I was invited to meet them at St. Paul's, and gladly did so, but the local "Corfmittee " endeavourad to prevent mc from ringing, having got wind of my correspondence with the Precentor, in which I had stated my mind somewhat freely as to the conduct of the society. However, the difficulty was smoothed over, and Mr. MeDonald, senr., subsequently obfained the tower (through the "captain ") to attempt a peal of Caters, no restrictions being made as to choice of a band, etc. We got together the best band possible, including three members of the St. Paul's company, and started for a 5039 of Grandsire Caters, but after ringing 11 courses in capital style for a scratch team, down came the 8 th rope. Previously, at about the 6th course-end, in came the vice-captain." who crossed the belfry with as much noise as possible, loudly asking, "who locked the local ringers out," etc., although he was present when the tower was, ostensibly, placed entirely at Mr. McDonald's disposal for the occasion. Iut that was not the worst. When we examined the broken rope, we found it had parted in a way that left no doubt that someone was determined we should lose the peal. A break caused by fair wear and tear does not usually occur a foot outside the wheel, all three strands exactly the same length, and no sign of fraying. And if any confirmation was reauired. I think it was provided by the words and behaviour of certain indiriduals subscquently. The Sydney ringers, after this display. of petty meanness, cut short their stay and went home disgusted, in spite of the efforts of the St. Patrick's ringers to entertain them. Melbourne ringers could themselves have scored the first ten-bell peal here long ago, if they had honestly tried. I might just add that both A. E. Bames and J. L. Murray-two splendid ringers and conductors. -have given up ringing, through the state of affairs here.

WORCESTER CATHEDRAL RINGER'S DEATH

The deatll has just taken place of Mr. Henry Wilkes, one of Wor cester's oldest bell ringers. He was 65 years of age, and had rung at the Cathedral for the past 40 years, being a member of the Cathedral Guild up to the time of his death.

The funeral took place at Claines Parish Church, about two miles from the city, and the deceased was borne to the grave by four members of the Guild, Messrs. B. S. Mill, G. Hinton, W. H. Johnson and present Jones. Many other members and ringing friends were also present, including J. Perry, J. Brettell, W. Page, L. Longney and T. Bullock. At the conclusion of the service, at the graveside, as a last token of respect, a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells, by: W. C. Jones 1-2, W. H. Johnson 3-4, G. Finton 5-6, W. Page 7-8, L. Longnes 9-10.
The late Mr. H. Wilkes had rung nany peals, and was a safe conductor. The last peal he rang and conducted was a muffled peal of Grandsire Caters at the Cathedral, to the memory of the late King Edward. He had taken a great interest in the Guild, and will bemuch missed by the members.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

THE RECORD HOLDER FOR 1912.

Never was there a year in which so much ringing was done as in igi2, and it is not surprising, in a year which has easily surpassed all previous records, to find some remarkable individual performances. To Mr. A. W. Grimes, mine host of the George IV, at Haggerston, whose burly frame and genial countenance are so well known in ringing circles in and around London, has fallen the opportunity of making the biggest " bag " of the year. Mr. Grimes rang no fewer than II4 peals between January ist and December 3ist-a truly prodigious number for one man to accomplish. They cover the whole gamut from Grandsire Triples to Stedman Cinques, and from Bob Major to London Surprise and Cambridge Royal, and a goodly proportion have been rung on handbells, while the tower bell peals were rung in 50 churches. Such a record is, indeed, remarkable.

Alfred William Grimes was born at Copdock, near Ipswich, on January 3oth, 188 I, and spent the early part of his life at the little town of Debenham in Suffolk. Here there is a peal of eight bells from the Whitechapel Foundry, which have not many superiors of their weight and style, and there Mr. Grimes learnt his ringing. One of his earliest recollections of ringing is the 16,608 Oxford Treble Bob Major, which was rung at Debenham on Whit-Monday, 1892, conducted by Mr. James Motts, by all accounts as finely struck a peal as has ever been rung. Mr. Grimes' father, $\mathrm{Mr}_{\mathrm{r}}$. William Grimes, is one of the best known ringers in the Eastern Counties, and besides his own talented son, he has taught many score ringers. Nowhere in England is onod striking thought more of than in East Suffolk, aud Debenham has always been very particular in this respect. Thus, before he left his native county, Mr.

Alfred Grimes was perfect in the one essential of good ringing-striking-and he has in a very marked degree that gift of the best of all ringers-that of being able to ring practically anything and never make a mistake.

His first peal was rung at Thornden on November 21st, I 896 , seven 720 's of Plain Bob Minor, and his second on February 27th, 1897, at Debenham, and there also he called his first peal. He rang over fifty peals at Debenham and district, and then, like so many good country ringers, he found his way to London. Here for many years he was outside peal ringing, and practically outside ringing altogether. The claims of business must be attended to even by ringers, though some seem to manage the two so that business does not interfere over much with ringing. Then during the spring of 1909 some of the St. John's, Waterloo Road, band paid a visit to Suffolk, and rang a peal at Debenham when Mr. Grimes happened to be home for a visit. He was invited to meet them when they all got back to town, and joined the tower to which he has since been attached.

St. John's is rather more favourably situated for peal ringing than most towers, and since it has a set of energetic and capable ringers Mr. Grimes' peal list soon began to expand. To the methods he had rung at home he speedily added most of the Surprise methods, and before he had rung his century he had included old and new Cambridge, Superlative and Norfolk Major, Cambridge Royal, Forward Major, Stedman Caters and Cinques.
But the chief interest in Mr. Grimes' career lies in the wonderful record of peals he has rung during 1912. Once only before has a man rung more than one hundred in a twelve months, and that was when Mr. J. W. Washbrook, at his best, rang no fewer than 127. No use would be served by comparing the two lists; the circumstances under which they were rung being so different. It is enough to say that the list that Mr. Grimes put together in one year would be a most excellent one for the whole life time of an average ringer. He started the year with the avowed intention of ringing fifty, but as the months went on and peal after peal was rung the whole century first became possible, then probable, and was finally achieved with a good bit to spare.

Many of these peals are of more than usual interest. They include the first peals of Norfolk in London, Kent, Essex and Norfolk; the first peal of Forward Major in London, and the first peal of Waterloo Major ever rung. He was also in the false peal that preceded the last-named.

But chief of all his performances was the record peal of Bristol Surprise Major rung last Whitsuntide at Hornchurch, a peal that was notable not only for the length and the difficulty of the method, but for the good striking and the absence of anything approaching a muddle. Mr. Grimes is at home equally well at the light or heavy end. During a tour last year in Norfollz he rang St. Peter Mancroft tenor ( 43 cwt.) to Treble Twelve, and that bell has never been better rung, although many a famous hearybell man has turned her in. Mr. Grimes has also rung Ipswich tenor to Treble Twelve.

Appended are Mr. Grimes' peals, his total being set alongside this year's batch :-

ODD CHANGES.

Over too peals have been sent in to us for publication this week, and, although we have added four extra pages to our number, our columns are still not elastic enough to accommodate this enormous batch. We have been unavoidably compelled, therefore, to hold over several peals and other reports, as well as the continuation of Mr Trollope's article and our weekly diagram.
loor five years in succession peals have been successful on Boxing Day at the Church of St. John-the-Divine, Leicester. This year young Miss Hilda Willson piloted the treble to Double Norwich, while Lilian, her sister, rang an inside bell.

To honour the veteran leader of the ringers of Llandaff Cathedral, Mr. J. Clutterbuck, who was one of the originators of the Llandaff Diocesan Association, the ringers of Newport attempted at All Saints' Church, Newport, a peal of Stedman Triples on Saturday last, the occasion of Mr. Clutterbuck's birthday. Unfortunately the peal was lost after ringing well over half way.

A combined practice of the Sonning branch of the Oxford Guild was held on Saturday last at Easthamstead. The attendance was rather poor, but the following methods were practiced: Kent, Oxford, Double Court, Double and Single Oxford, Plain Bob, Cambridge Surprise and Grandsire Doubles. Grandsire Triples were also rung on handbells.

There are early birds at Horley, and on Christmas morning they, so to speak, caught the early worm, for they scored a peal of Grandsire Triples before the $6.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. service.

At the Cinque Ports Liberty, of Brightlingsea (Essex), they make their Mayor in the belfry. We doubt if anywhere else the belfry is used for this purpose.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Old Windsor on December $13^{\text {th }}$ celebrated a triple event. It was the first peal in his native parish after 17 years' interval by the ringer of the 5 th (Mr. J. Guttridge, junr.) ; it was the 2ist anniversary of the marriage of the ringer of the 3 rd (Mr. T. Smith) and the 64th birthday of the ringer of the treble (Mr. J. Guttridge, senr.).

The report of a peal rung at Kibworth has been sent without the date, and of a peal at Mathon without conductor's name.

ATTEMPT ON TOWER BELL RECORD.

An attempt on the tower belf record is to be made at Ashton-under-Lyne to-morrow, when the band who rang the peal there on December 2 Ist will start for 18,400 Kent Treble Bob Royal. The bells will go off at $6.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
The present tower bel! record is, of course, the 18,027 Stedman Caters, rung at Loughborough on April 12th, 1909, in 12 hours 18 minutes.
The preliminary to to-morrow's attempt was the 7280 of Treble Ten rung on December 7 th. On that occasion the peal composed and conducted by Mr. Sam Wood was as under :-

5008 BOB MAJOR. By GEORGE LEIWIS, ECCLESFIELD.

NEW BELLS AT GUILDFORD.

RESTORED PEAL DEDICATED.

Since 1769, when Peter Flutter, who as Mayor of the borough laid the first stone of Holy Trinity Church, Guildford, in 1748, placed a peal of eight bells in the tower, the county town of Surrey has played a part in the annals of ringing, for a few months after they were hung, "Mr. Holt's peal of Grandsire Triples" was rung upon them. When the bells were erected in 1769, tho frame in which they were hung was of weak design, and although strengthened a few years ago, it had latterly developed such serious faults as to render the ringing of the bells a matter of some risk, and a menace to the stability of the tower. Tha present restoration of the bells includes the rehanging of them in massive iron framework carried upon heavy rolled steel guders, so that the weight is more evenly and properly distributed, upon the lines of modern engineering practice. The tenor bell was seriously cracked; the treble and fourth were harmonically faulty, and the seventh had the same fault, and was in addition damaged in transit to the forudry. These four bells have been re-cast and the whole peal re-tuned and re-hung with entirely new fittings of the latest and most ap roved style, the work having been carricd out in eminently satisfactory style by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.
The inscriptions recording the re-casting of the bells in 1769 have been carefully reproduced on the bells which have again been re-cast, and another inscription records the carrying out of the work now completed. The tenor is in E flat, and the weights of the bells are as follow: Treble, 7 cwt. 1 qr. 24 Tbs.; 2nd, 7 cwt. 1 qr.; 3rd, 8 cwt. 0 ars. 5lhs : 4 th. 8 cwt. 3 grs. 19 lbs. ; 5 th, 9 cwt. 3 qrs. 16 lbs.; 6 th, 12 cwt. 2 qrs. 21 lbs.; 7 th, 16 cwt. 2 grs. 6 lbs.; tenor, 23 cwt. 3 qrs. 8 lbs.-total weight, 94 cwt. 2 qris. 15 lbs.
A new floor has been put in under the bells, and some weaknesses duo to former cutting away of portions of the tower walls have becn remedied. In addition, the levels of the bells have been re-arranged, and the lower portion of the louvres bricked in, with a view to preventing as far as possible the direct "beating down" of the sound of the bells. The estimato for tise work to the bells amounted to some £418, and the bricklayers' work in carrying out the improvement and repairs to the wwer, together vith othcr expenses, will add about £50, making a tolai cosit of $\mathfrak{x} 408$. The subseriptions to the Bell Fund nmount to £433, so that there is an estimated deficiency of $£ 35$.

THE SERVICE.

The dedncation service, which took place on Sunday afternoon last, was to have been performed by the Bishop of Winchester, but his lordship was prevented $b y$ illness from being present, and, the Bishop of Guildford being weatherbound in the Isle of Wight, the duty of dedicating the icells devolved upon the Rector (the Rer. E. C. Kirwan), viho is Rural Dean. The Rev, C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Guild) was present at the special service, most of which was conGuild) was present at the special service, most of which was conducted boneath the tower. Immediately after the prayer of dedicaducted boneath the tower. Immediately after the prayer of dedicathe clergy and choir returned to the chancel, the fine ring of bells poured out their melodious strains to a perfect course of Stedman Triples, rung by: C. Willshire 1, J. J. Jones 2, H. L. Garfath 3, S.

Pulling 8.

After the hymn, "Thy Hand, O God, has guided," the Rector gave an address, in the course of which he congratulated the parish on the and £500, he said, for an object which, rightly or wrongly, did not appeal to everybody, was no light or casy matter. It was, however, only when the bolls were silent that they realised how much they meant both to the parish and town, and it would have been a poor policy, it would have been a disastrous blunder to have left them unringable and unrung. They might confidently feel assured that all had been done in a workmanlike manner, and was likely to last in splendid condition for a great number of years. There had been, he added, between 400 and 500 subscribers to the fund, and the amounts had ranged from sums of 1 d . to $£ 50$. The donors had included rich and poor; those who worshipped there, and those who attended other parishes, and they had also received some welcome contributions from generous Nonconformist brethren. The Rector proceeded to speak of the origin and history of church bells, and of their uses. During the last 60 years, he said, the bells and belfries had been recovering from the neglect of the previous. two or three centuries. They had become part and parcel of the Church, and the ringers among the most valuable and valued of the Church workers. The whole fabric of the Church, he continued. had a meassage to give to man, and the bell was the Church's iron tongue. Although inarticulate, it was a prophet to whoce voice the people must needs listen, when, perhaps, the articulate voice of the human body fell upon unheeding ears. The Rector concluded by making an carnest appeal for the wiping out of the remainder of the debt.
The service concluded with the hymn, "Angel voices, ever singing," and as the congregation left the church, the bells again pealed out merrily. Numerous short touches of Major and Triples were rung, with a short interval, up to evensong, among those taking part being: Mr . John Heathorn, the oldest ringer in the Winchester Guild, who will shartly be celebrating his 90 th birthday.

PRESENTATIONS.

Bofore the dedication service, an interesting cercmony took place in the belfry. Mr. B. Chorley, on behalr of the ringers, presented the Rector with a handsome silver-plated hot-water jug, as an appreciation of many kindnesses which they hat received It was inscribed:
"Presented to the Rev. E. C. Kirwan, in.A., Rector' of Holy Trinity, Guikdford, by his Bell Ringers, on the cccasion of the dedication of the bells, December 29th, 1912.'-The Kector, who suitably acknowledged the gift, then presented a 14-lay clock in oalc case, subscribed for by the ringers, to Mr. M. L. Garfath, a member of the band for many years, who has now left Guildford, :nd resides at Croydon. The gift was a recognition of his services to the bam1, it token of the esteem in whic! he was held, and an expression of the good wishes entertained by his ringing colleagues for his future welfare and prosperity.

After evensong, when the bells were agan rung, Mr Churchwarden Lumm unveiled an alabaster tablet, in the belfry, recording the first peal of London Surprise Major rung by a local band in the Diocese of Winchester. This peal was rung on February 8th. 1910, by the IIoly Trinity men, and the tablet was presented by the Rector and Churchwardens.
On Tuesday evening, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung on the bells.

BELL RESTORATION AT CHILHAM, KENT.

On Monday week, the fira ring of eight kells (tenor 18 cwt .) of St. Mary's Church, Chilham, near Canterbury. were re-dedicated, after having been silent for some months. The 5 th bell has been recast, and the whole ring has been retuned and rehung in a special steel frama with all the most modern fittings that science can devise. The old oak beams which had become dangerous have also been cleared out, and massive steel girders have been substituted, and upon these a new floor has been erected. The whole of the work of restoration has been carried out by Messis. John Warner and Sons, of the Spitalfields Foundry, London, in a truiy able manner, and one cannot speak too highly of their workmanship. Before the service, three leads of Grandsire Triples were rung, by: E. Foreman 1, F. A. Nunn 2, --. Wood 3, Liev. F.J. O. Helmore 4, E. Trendell 5. A. A. Andrews 6, G. Brett 7, G. Taylor 8. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, couducted by E Buesden, was successfully accomplished, and ringing was brought to an end with three leads of Kent Treble Eob by the same band.

IIessrs. John Warner and Sons were reprosented by four members of the Kont County Association, W. J. Nudds, James Hunt, F. A. Nunn and T. Groombridge, junr. A very enjoyable supper was partaken of at the conclusion of ringing, and full justice was done to the splendid repast, which was generously provided by Mrs. Hay, of Chilham.

FIRST "LADY-CONDUCTED" TWLEVE-BELL PEAL. MISTS EDITH PARKER CALLS STEDMAN CINQUES AT BIRMTNGHAN.

On Boxing Day, the important part now taken in the Exercise by fair performers, was advanced a long stage by that talented young lady, Miss Edith K. Parker, who conducted a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's, Birminghan. An old riuger once remarked that if the bells of St. Martin's were pulled off and left to themselves, they would go into Stedman Cinques on their own account. Be this as it may, it is practically certain that during the prast 90 years more changes in this method have been rung, and probably more peals scored on them, than on any other two or three rings of twelve put together. It is, therefore, peculiarly appropriate that the first peal of Stedman Cinques to be conducted by a lady should be accomplished in this famous old tower.
Miss Parker, accompanicd br her father, who also rang in the peal, journeyed from London on purpose for the peal, and was met at the station by several ringers and their wives. The meeting time was one oclock, and shortly before this hour. Tiss was standing in the centro of the spacious belf $2 y$, surrounded by forty or fifty ringers, who were curious to see the plucky young lady, and several ladiee who were more curious still. Eventually the belfry was vacated by all hat those who were to ring, and Miss Parker pulled off the treble in workmanliks style. There was perhaps, just an element of doubt among scme as to how she would strike lier bell, it being understood that he was more accustomed to eight-bell ringing, but all doubts on this score were set at rest after the very first course. The bells settled down immediately to a good beat, and courge-end after course-end rolled up in grand stylc, and an oxcellent peal was brought round in 3 hrs . and 38 mins ., as recorded elsewhere in this issuc. The peai was called in an absolutely faultless manner, as though the young lady had done nothins but call prals of Stedman Cingues from birth. On the conclusion, she was heartily congratulated by the band, as also was her father, by a large number of ringers from all round the district who had heard moro or less of the peal.

BATII, SOMPRSET.-On Dec. 8th, for morning service, at St. Andrew's Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1260 changes), in 46 mins.: A. Hudd 1, G. Templo 2, W. J. Prescott 3, I. King 4, O. W. Boll 5, E. Holder 6, T. F. King (conductor) 7, L. Smith 8.

THE LLANDAFF ASSOCIATION.

'ANNUAI MEETING AT CARDIFF.

The annual meeting of the Llandaft Diocesan Association was held in St. John's Schoolroom, Cardiff, on Boxing Day, Dr. A. J. II. Boyton presiding. Mr. J. Bullen was unanimously elected Master for the ensuing year.-The Rev. Connop L. Price and Mr. J. W. Jones were re-elected as hon. secretaries, and Mr. Hobbs and Mr. Morgan reelceted auclitors.-All Saints', Newport, was chosen as the place for the next annual meeting, and Caerphilly was chosen for the next Glamorgan quarterly meeting. The question of having an annual report printed was discussed, and eventually it was decided to have an amended balance sheet only printed in leaflet form.
A monthly ringing meeting was suggested, and it was decided as an experiment to hold one on the last Saturday in January, at Caerphilly, to which all ringers are invited.
The Fion. Secretary having explained what was suggested to be done in regard to St. Woollos bells, Newport, which have not been rung since Easter last, a sum of $£ 5$ was voted from the Association funds towards the rehanging.
New members were elected from Whitenurch, Pentre, Llantrisant, Newport, and Bridgend.
An instructor was asked for at Llantrisant tower, and Mr. J. Clutterbuck offered his services, which. were accepted.-A vote of thanks to Dr. Bhation for presiding concluded the business meeting.
An invilation to tea was then given to the visitors by Mr. Allen, on behalf of the Vicar and churchwardens of St. John's Church.-An cxcellent meat tea was provided, and at the close, a hearty rote of thanks was accorded them for their hospitality.
The tower was then visited, and the four Standard methode rung until nime o'cloch. A smoking concert followed at the Criterion Hotel, and this brought to a close a most enjoyable and successful meeting.

MACHEN BELL RINGERS' GUILD SUPPER AND PRESENTATION.

The members of the Machen (Mon.) Parish Church Bell Ringers' Guild, together with a few friends were entertained to supper on Friday week, at the Volland House, Iower Machen, by the President of the Guild, Mr. D. T. Newton Wade, and Mrs. Wade.
After an excellent repast, the company settled down to a musical The Chairman gave the loyal
The Chairman gave the loyal toast, and Mr. McKinnon proposed the toast of the clergy. The clergy were, he said, at the present time passing through severe trials, but he believed they would come through them all right. - Ihe Rev. S. G. Mergan and the Rev. D. Dadlyke re-sponded.-Mr'. Lloya proposed the toast of "the Bell Ringers," who, ho said, were a splendid lot of young men. - Mr. Stratton, who seconded, said the bell ringers were a credit to the parish.-Mr. Newseconded, said the bell xingers were a credit to the parish.-Mr. Newton Wade proposed the toast of the instructor of the band, Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport. Mr. Jones had rendered splendid service $i_{11}$ helping the bell ringers, and but for him the parish would not at the present time have its ring of eight bells, as when the relanging was done it was only intended to rehang the old six. Mr. Jones strongly advocated a special effort being made to complete the ectave, and they were all.delighted that his proposal had been carried out.
An interesting function then took place, Mr. George Cousins, as leader of the band, presenting to MIr. Jones, on behalf of the ringers and friends of the parish church, a beautifully mounted oak tray.-Mr. Jones, in roturning thanks, said he was very grateful to the members for the lovely present, which he would always cherish. It was a pleasure to him to come to Machen any time.-During the evening, the ringers gave selections on the handbells, and songs were rendered by the Rev. S. G. Morgan, Messis. Newton Wade, T. Jarman, A. Mc-
Kimnon, D. C. Price, and J. W. Jones, Mrs. Wade being the accompanist.

THE CURFEW RINGERS, WINDSOR.

The members of the St: George's Bell Ringing Society, Windsor', a lody of men who rejoice with the toan on all royal birthdays, held their ammal supper at the Horse and Groom Inn, on Saturday week. Fussell. The modest party of a round dozen sat down to the old English fare of roast beef and Christmas plum pudding, their appetites having been previously sharpened by several good and lusty pulls upon the peal of eight bells in the Curfew Tower, with its fine old tenor weighing nearly a ton and a half, and dated 1614. The toasts George's Chapely," having been loyally honoured, and the table cloth removed, the remainder of the evening was spent in harmony, most of the company giving well known songs, accompanied by Mr. Caley upon the piano. Fandbells were brought out, and several old English ballads rendered upo', them by Messrs. J. Hasley, J. Hague, G. Adcock, and G. Sumner. Mr. Raikes gave a series of songs in excellent style, and elen mine host and hostess, with Miss Gibbs, were kind enough to oblige the parly, amongst whom were Messis. H. Burker and Alfred Painter two of the oldest members, and Messrs. W. D. Kentish, H. Wetherall, W. Napper, and Wm. Wellbelove, the tower keeper.-A vote of thanks to the landlord, Mr. Jack Garnham, and the singing of the National Anthem, brought a very happy ringing "amual " to an end.

THE AUTHORSHIP OF PEALS.

Dear Sir,-I think Mr. Editor, and perhaps some of your readers also, will agree that I should have an opportunity of saying a few words on this subject, and also in supporting my two colleagues, Messrs. Pitstow and Dains. This correspondence has almost reached the verge of uselessness in prolonging the discussion, mainly brought about by Mr. Lindoff introducing irrel svant matter quite unconnected with the points at issue. With your permission, sir, I will, in as few words as possible, refer to our letter of November 8th, on the interpolating of the one solitary bob at the Wrong, which is the keynote to all this correspondence.

Before doing so, however, I must take exception to one or two very rindictive statements made by Mr. Lindoff. The first is, he described the four 6048 peals as useless compositions. We know quite as well as anyone else that these peals are close relations, but there is no individual living who can say they are not distinct compositione, and most useful and musical compositions, too, and in their several variations also. I may be allowed to add that there are some special manipulations to be made, and had Mr. Lindoff made use of them, it is more likely than otherwise that the abstracts woukd never have been observed, except by a much closer scrutiny, as it was only by the merest chance that the peals, No. 1 and 3 , were at all suspected. ank I can truly state that this deducting or abstracting process was known to us a long time before publiahing our first letter.
Mrr. Lindoff then tells us there are only two peals in the four we published. Although this may seem so, his statement is not quite correct, as the interpolating bob at the Wrong is contrarywise in each peal. This is ocular proof that the four peals do not emanate from the same source, and further proves that each of the 6048's are distinct compositions. It should be noted that all these compositions come under one category of Superlative or New Cambridge Surprise. I think I may also correctly state that the greater portion of the most coreted compositions of 6048 and the 5056 of Superlative with 4 th and 6 th extent in 6th's place, without $2 n d$ or 3 rd being there, were composed years before Mr. Lindoff produced any such peals in this method. That being so, I trust he will give us a little credit for knowing what we arz talking about. Referring again to our first lettar, the most vital question to sottle lies in a very small compass. Simply, did Mr. Lindoff deduct or abstract his peals from No. 1 and 3 , or did he not. or what is equal to such a course, did he reproduce the figures in composing? It must be either one or the other. Therefore the conchusions are that in either case, he fails to be the original author of the peals under discussion, as there is an unwritten law that abstracting, splicing and reproducing of compositions is illegitimate, and have an unworthy claim, unless indead there be some very decided improvements in extents, etc. Then, again, he is asking a most superfluous question. Do we claim to have invented the working of the 6th her extent by means of two portions? etc. Our answer is: We do not claim to have invented anything of the kind. They are public property, and all composers make use of them in different forms as their ideas and brains happen to guide them. Then he says, "Who does rounds belong to?" accompanied by such indiscreet expressions as, "Hands off," "We should be at one another"s throats," "Catspaw," etc. All this, to my mind, is ridiculous and vulgar nonsense. Mr. Lindoff also informs us that it is nothing fresh for one bob to dominate a peal. but eurely he does not mean a composition. We will take Mr. T. Day's three-part peal of 16,608 of Treble Bob to illustrate one of such points. If you call one bob at Home at the first part end, it would be round at 5,568 changes. This is, of course, dominating a peal with one bob, but not a composition in the same method. Again, take any one of the 6048 peals of Superlative and add one bob Before following the course-end 26435, this would eliminate four courses and reduce any one of those peals to 5056. Should any individual, after such a process, claim them as his owa composition, I should rather think the whole Exercise would ridicule such a person or such nursing of his own stupicl and bigoted folly.
We might continue this subject until it became distasteful to your readers; therefore. I conclude by stating that we lave indisputably proved our first charge, and, further. no quibbling or irrelevant argument will ever upset our minds and honest convictions.

CHARLES HENRY HATTERSLEY.

THE LEEDS SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the society, held at Bramley, on Saturday week, was attended by ringers from Calverley, Holbeck, Headingley, Rothwell, Leeds, Tong. and the local company. A peal of Treble Bob Minor was attempted in the afternoon, but, unfortunately, was lost in the sisth 720.-The business meeting was held at the Cardigan Arms, Mr. J. W. Holgate presiding, in the absence of the President. After the usual business had been transacted, names were invited for a peal at Pudsey, on the occasion of the meeting on January 11th, and a full company was formed.-A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Bramley for the use of the beils, and to the local band for making all arrangements, was proposed by Mr. T. Maude, seconded by Mr. Wr. Chapman, and carried.-Mr. J. W. Holgate responded.Touches of Kent, Violet, Cambridge and other Minor methods were rung on the tower bells.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT NEWCASTLE.

By the death of the late Mr. W. D. Cruddas, ex-M.P. for Newcastle, and a momber of the great firm of Armstrong, Whitworth and Co., Elswick, St. Stephen's Church lost its most generous and liberal supporter. The whole of the beautiful fabric, including organ and bells, was provided by members of the Cruddas family. To commemorate his connection with the gift of tower and bells, a peal board was placed in the tower, and unveiled on Monday week by Mr. Jas. Dellow, the oldest seat-holder in the church. The board measures 5 ft . by 3 ft. 6 ins., and is inscribed as follows:-

To the Glory of God, and in grateful memory of William Donaldson Cruddas, churchwarden of this church from 1866 to 1912, and part donor of th ise bells, a muffled peal of 5040 changes of Stedman Triples was rung on the day of his interment. Feb. 15th, 1912, in 3 hrs. and 27 mins., by the following members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association of Change Ringers: William Story treble, B. C. Dixon 2. J. E. R. Keen 3, A. F. Hillier 4, E. E. Ferry 5, T. T. Gofton 6, W. H. Barber 7, O. Simm tenor. Composed by Sir A. Heywood, and conducted by W. FI. Barber. Henr马 Edwards, Vicar; B. Robinson, J. H. Horsley, Wardens; C. L. Routledge, President of above Association."

A rote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Dellow for his kindly offices. on the motion of Mr. J. H. Horsley, seconded by Mr. Routledge.-Miss Florence Cruddas, who was present, expressed her gratitude to the members of the association for ringing the peal and erecting the tablet, and to Mr. Dellow for his very kind words about her belored father. -Touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung afterwards, with the belp of the local ringers.

GUILDFORD RINGER'S DEPARTURE.

A very pleasant function was performed at St. Nicolas' belfry, Guildford, on Christmas Day, by Mr. E. Heather, the senior member, before ringing for morning service. In a few well-chosen words, he, on behalf of inis fellow members, asked Mir J. Hunt to accept a handsomo case of carvers, as a slight token of their appreciation of his services during his 15 years' membership, for many years of which he acted as conductor, and heartily wishing him success in his new sphere of Jabour. - Mr. Hunt, who has now left Guildford for London, thankert the members for their kindness, and was pleased to think his sorvices had been so greatly appreciated.

A touch of Stedman Caters was then rung by: H. Burdock 1, S. ladford 2, E. Racdon 3, B Chorley 4, C. Willshire, jumr., 5, W. Loader 6, T. Radford 7, W. Pullen 8, J. Hunt (couductor) g, E. G Heatin 10. Owing to the st. Nicolas' bells not being pealable, a farewell peal was not attempted, but a quarter was arranged, and bronght round on Sunday evening, December 22nd: C. Willshire, junr., 1, A H. Pulling 2, S. Radford 3, W. Maulden 4, C. Willshire, senr., 5, W. Loader $6, \mathrm{M}$, Smithers 7, G. Steer 8, J. Hunt (conductor) G , E. Rađ̈dou 10.

PEALS AND POINTS.

Our article last week has drawn a letter from Mr. C. E. Borrett, the secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Association, which we feel sure will be read with interest. It raises the whole subject of the points for peals-a matter upon which the Exercise has ever been divided, and probably ever will be-not merely as to the number of point:; that should be allotted for this or that method, but on the broader question of whether the point system is advantageous or not. First of all, however, let us say at once that we did not intend last week to convey any idea that thero is deadly rivalry between the Norwich and the Middlesex Associations in regard to peal points. Their relationship, as Mr. Borrett points out, is of the most cordial nature, and is, we hope, only typical of that which exists between all other Associations. There is, however, no harm that we can see, in the existence of a spirit of friendly competition between the different societies; indeed the outcome of such a spirit-enthusiasm, enterprise and effort-has raised the standard of our Art to its present high level.

Whether in principle points for peals are right or wrong, they are the accepted means adopted of comparing the relative merit of peals, and it cannot be disputed, we think, that the question of points does enter into the consideration of some ringers, much as others may desire to ignore the system. The Central Council have established the competitive basis, and we do not see any unworthy motive in a society or association seeking, upon that basis, to do better than its neighbour. The whole system, as Mr. Borrett points out, may be unsatisfactory; and the Central Council have acknowledged the impossibility of gauging the relative merits of a performance, by taking account of only two of the factors-the assumed difficulty of a method and the number of changes rung.
.111 other considerations have perforce to be ignored, but there is many a peal of Grandsire Triples, rung perhaps by local bands after months of perseverance and d:sappointment, that is more creditable and required far greater elfort than a peal of London Surprise rung br an expert company. That is but one point among many of the difliculties of accurately fixing the real merit of a peal. Again, Mr. Borrett points out that the Association at the head of the Anallys may not be collectively the premier society of the country, as the position may be due simply to the efforts of a few individuals. Equally one might suggest that it does not follow that the Association that rings the greatest number of peals by the greatest number of bands is doing the best service to the Church, for it would not necessarily indicate the fulfilment of those duties which should be the ringers' chief concern. The whole question is an extremely debatable one, and one which is never likely to be settled with anything like unanimity.

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Broomfield Vicurage, Chelmaford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that weare perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Brooufield Church Bells.
We consider that the work reAects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your syatem of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of (ipinion. The BELJRINGERS are also unanimous in their praige of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CH 4S. EDNUNDS, Vicar of Broomfield.

THE BELLS OF WHITCHURCH.

The gladsom: scund of the Church bells of Whitchurch, Oxon, was heard once again on the evening of Monday, December 23rd. They have not been rung for some time owng to the unsafe condition of the old wool frame, and it was dscided by the Rector (Canon Trotter) and churchwardens to entrust the work of making a new steel frame to the well-known firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon.At first it was intended to have the bells retuned, but they having been supplemeated at different times with a result not pleasing, the wiser coursc was adopted of having the whole peal recast.
At the service, when the bells were dedicated by the Ven. Archdeacon of Oxford, a selected band rang rounds after the prayer of dedication, and at the close of the service a first rate 360 of Bob Minor. After this touch other ringers tried the bells with varying success, as the easy going-a result of the excellent workmanship of Messrs. Gillett and Johneton-puzzled some of them, who in the ordinary course are used to bells that require more exertion to ring them.The band selected to ring the opening touch was: J. Nicholls (Pangbourne), W. Lawrence (West Ealing), J. Abery (Theale), A. C. West (Pangbourne), C. F. Johnston (Croydon), J. Bower (Goring). Later in tho evening, the band was entertained to supper by the kind invitation of the Rector. -The first 720 of Bob Minor was rung on the recast bells on Saturday, Dec. 28th, by: J. Nicholls i, W. Lawrence 2, Miss Mary Chillingworth (Bradficld) 3, G. Parsons (Theale) 4, J. Abery 5, J. Bower 6. Several other methods were rung, the conducting being shared by: J. Abery, W. Lawrence and J.' Bower.The local band, who are to receive instruction from the last-named ringers, will bo in good hands.

ANOTHER PEAL OF TEN FOR LANCASHIRE.

Dalton-in-Furness, famed for its intimate associations with Furness Abbey, which ranks next to Forntains Abbey as tire most beatiful relic of Mediæval England, is soon to have a new ring of ten bells, based upon a tenor to weigh 22 ewt., in the key of $\mathbf{E}$ flat. Instructions hatve been given to Messrs. John Warner and Sons, of tho Spitalfields Foundry, to crect one of their special steel frames, constructed for ten bells, and to east the back cight Dells. Efforts are now being made to collect the necessary funds for the two treble bells, and it is fully expected that the complete ring of ten will bo available in time for the dedication.

Owing to pressure on our space we have unavoidably to hold over several interasting arlicles including the continuration of Mr. Trollopie's article

DESFORD'S NEW PEAL OF SIX.

The three bells which for nearly 300 years have been used in the service of the Church at Desford, Leicestershire, have been recast and augmented to a peal of six, with a tenor of $10 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. The work, which has been carried out by Messrs. J. W. Taylor and Co., has been executed in the vary best style, and is typical of the thoroughness with which things are done by the famous Loughborough firm. The peal is the gift of the Goodacre family, who for over 100 years have resided at Desford Mill, and are erected to the memory of Mr. Joseph Halford Goodacre. The bells are inscribed as follows:-
Troble.-"Ring in the true. In memory of Joseph Halford Goodacre, 1912.'
2nd-"God save the King, 1675. Recast 1912, in memory of Joseph Halford Goodacre."

4th-" Newcombe of Leicester made mee, 1609. Recast "1912, in memory of Joseph Halford Goodacre.'
5th.- "God bless His Church. In memory of Joseph Halford Goodacre, 1912."
Temor-" Guard and bless our Fatherland. In memory of Joseph Halford Goodacre, 1912."
The dedication service, which took place on Monday week, was largely attended, and the ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Leicester. Following the dedicatory prayers, the bells pealed out merrily for a few minutes, and then followed the hymn, "Lifted safe within the steeple." The Bishop's appropriate address dealt with the part which the beautiful parish churches of England play in the lives of the people.-The ringing was carried out by the ringers of St. John's Church, Leicester, under the conductorship of Mr. W. Willson.

NEW BELLS FOR PERRANWELL.

The pretty little Church of St. Piran, m Cornwall, is now in possession of a ring of beautifully-toned bells, which were cast in the Loughborough foundry, and which have been dedicated by Canon Hassard, Sub-Dean of Truro Cathedral. The weights of the bells are: Treble, 4 cwt.; 2nd, 4 cwit. 3 qrs.; 3rd, 6 cwt.; 4 th, 6 cwt. 3 qrs.; 5 th, 9 cwt ; tenor, 12 cwt., in G. The tenor was given by Mrs. Yose (Mellingey), and the others by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Paull, Mrs. HearleCock and Inrs. W. H. Edwards; Mr. T. P. Edwards gave the chiming apparatus; ald Mrs. J. C. Williams a donation of $£ 100$. The opening touch ( 60 Grandsire Doubles) was well struck by members of the Kea band, who were invited over to open the bells. The ringers were as follows: H. Chegwidden 1, W. Greet 2, Miss E. Fisher 3, H. Harris 4, J. Thomas 5, Rev. R. H. Soveil 6.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIA TION:

A very well-attended meeting of the Manchester branch was held at the Town Hall, Manchester, on Saturday last. Representatives wore present from Manchester, Ashton-under-Lyne, Didsbury, Worsley, Eccles, Pendleton, Reddish, Stockport. Middleton, Hyde, Miles Platting, Prestwich, Whitefield, Birch, etc. The chair was taken by Mr. J. Barratt (vice-president of the Association), who gave a hearty welcome to the visitors, and urged all members to comply with the rules of the Association, especially in regard to the subscriptions, as peals could not be entered in the report unles, rung by bona-fide members-Mr. Amos Simpson, of St. John's, Miles Platting, was elected a performing member, and the Rev. H. A. Hudson an honorary life member of the Association-Mr. W. H. Idle expressed pleasure in seeing at the meeting Miss Edith R. Barnes, who took part in a course of Grandsire Caters, and he hoped other ladies would take interest in the beautiful art of change ringing.-Mr. J. Ridyard urged members to talke a keener interest in the higher methods. -The Cathedral was chosen as the next place of meeting, and a vote of thanks was accorded the authorities for the use of the bells, etc.-Touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman were rung.

DEATH OF AN OLD COVENTRY RINGER.

The death of William Glbert, which occurred on Christmas Eve, after a short illness, takes away the only survivor of the old St. Michacl's company of change ringers, Coventry, and thus one of the few connctions of this fine peal of bells with change ringing is severed. IIe was 72 years of age, and was a member of the St. Michael's company from an early agc to the time the tower was declared unsafe, now some 27 years ago. Since then he had been steeplekecper at Trinity Church, and, assisted by his sons, used to chime the eight bells which are erceted in a wooden campanile and unsafe for ringing.
Ho only took part in one peal, that being when he rang the tenor of St. Michael's, on Easter Monday, April 7th, 1877, to a peal of 5003 Grandisire Caters, conducted by the late Henry Bastable, of Birmingham, but he took a keen interest in cliange ringing, and about seven years ago rang the tenor at Stoke Church to a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples.
His funcral took place on Monday, December 30th, and in the evening the Stoke band rang a peal of Stedman Triples, with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect for his memory.

SALISBURY GUILD.

PROGRESS IN THE DEVIZES BRANCH.
The annual meeting of the Devizes Branch of the Salisbury Guild was held at Southbroom, on Saturday afternoon last, when among those present were the Rev. J. A. Sturton (chairman), Vicar of Market Lavington; the Rev. Canon Gardiner, Vicar of Southbroom; the Rev. P. W. G. Filleul, Rector of Devizes; Rev. H. E. Tilney-Bassett, Rector of Beechingsioke; Rev. Evelyn Smith, Curate of Southbroom; MIr. H. Brownlee West (hon. branch secretary), and ringers from Westbury, Chirton, Beechingstoka, Southbroom, St. Mary's and St. John's, Devizes; Market Lavington, and Great Gheverell. An excellent tea, kindly given by Canon Gardiner, in the Southbroom Parish Room, was enjoyed by a comvany numbering 39 .
At the business meeting which followed, the annual report of the branch was read, and upon the proposal of the Rev. J. A. Sturton seconded by the Rev. H. E. Tilney-Bassett, was unanimously adopted and confirmed.-The balance sheet for the year was also unanimously adopted.-On the proposition of Mr. H. B. West, seconded by Mr. M. Haslehurst, the Rev. J. A. Sturton was unanimously elected as chairman for 1913, the resolution being carried with great applause

The Secretary, Mr. H. Brownlee West, was again asked to contimue in office for another year, and upon the proposal of the Rev. H. E. Tilney-Bassett, seconded by Mr. C. D. Heginbothom, he was elected with hearty applause. Both gentlemen made suitable replies, thanking the ringers for their kind expressions of gratitude for their past services, assuring them of the pleasure it gave them to continue in their respective offices, and that they would do their utmost to pramote the further progress of the Guild.
The annual report showed that twelve meetings had been held during 1912., at all of which the attendance had been very good, and. showing an average attendance of 28 . During the year, five additional towers had joincd the Guild, viz.: Bradford, Edington, Fittleton, Market Lavington. and Bishops Cannings, while Marden, Enford, and Bratton have promised to join for 1913. The past year has been an important one, inasmuch as the bells at four towers had been restored and rehung, viz.: Trowbridge, Seend, Enford, and Bishops Canninge. The tenor at Scend was recast, and at Enford a new treble was added to make a ring of six.
The next three meeting were decided upon as iollows: February 1st, Westbury; April 5th, Erchfont; May 3rd, Trowbridge.
Upen the proposition of Mr. West, and secondeil by Mr. Heginbothom, a threefold vote of thanks was accorded io Canon Gardiner for his kindness in providing the tea, allowing the use of his parish room, and also the use of the church bells.-A vote of thanks was also given to the Rector of Derizes, for the use of St. John's bells, which, with those at Southbroom, were kept going from 3.0 p.m. until 8 oclock.-Short touches of Grandaire Doubles and Bob Triples were also rung on the handbells, by MIr. and Mrs. H. B. West, Mr. Hart, Mr. Chapman, and Mr. Edwards.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Stroud and District Branch of the Glou. cester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Chalford on Saturday week. All day there was heavy rain, and it speaks volumes for the enthusiasm of the members that 32 ringers attended from. Painswick, Stroud, Minchinhampton, Avening, Bisley, Horsley, Stonehouse and Chalford. The novel and interesting peal of six steel bells were raised in peal at 4 p.m., and some good touches of Grandsire and Bob Doubles and Bob Minor were rung until 6 p.m. Service was then held in the church, and besicies the ringers several parishioners attended. The Vicar (the Kev. A. E. Addenbroake) took the service, at which special prayers and hymns from the Association's form of service were used. The singing was quite a feature of the service, the men's voicos, led by the choir, uniting finely in the splendid ringers' hymns, set to the tunes of St. Oswald and Deerhurst. This prepared the way for a most practical and helpful address by the Rev. H. P.; Barchard, from the words: "God so loved the world that He gave." At the mission room an excellent tea was provided by the kind. friends at Chalford, the Vicar and churchwardens and the Rev. H. P. Barchard being present. A business meeting followed, at which the Vicar presided. The hon. secretary (Mr. William Hale) gave his report on the years work, in which the stated that eleren meetings had been held, twenty ne-w members elected, and one tower added to the branch. He also made the financial statement for the year.-The report and accounts were considered most satisfactory, and cordial thanks were accorded to the branch committee and officers, who were re-elected en bloc.-Hearty votes of thanks were also accorded to the Vicar and churchwardens, and to the Rev. H. P. Barchard and all who had helped to make the meeting so successful.-The Vicar and churchwardens responded, and heartily welcomed the pisitors to Chalford. The hope was expressed that the gathering would be the means of stimulating the ringing at Chalford, and that the bells would be rung regulnerly for the festivals and services of the church. Eight new members were clected, including all the local society, and Minchinhampton was unanimously selected as the place for the quarterly meet ing in March, and Woodchester and Leonard Stanley for the monthly meetings. The handbells were brought into use, and there was afterwards more ringing on the tower bells, which brought a most successful meeting to a close.

ANSTON COMPANY'S FINE ACHIEVEMENT.

The Anston Company of Change Ringers have just achieved the distinction of ringing one hundred different Treble Bob Minor methods, including all the known Surprises, and have never missed ringing for two services each Sunday for years. They have had the good fortune to keep the same members together, with one exception, for 20 years, and their last addition has been with them ten years. This is a proof of what can be done by constant practice with the same company. The band would like to know if this is a record. They have also broken their own record by ringing in 1912 over 80 complete 720 's in 54 dilferent methods.

ODD CHANGES.

Collected from all Quarters.

The long peal attempt at Ashton-under-Lyne on Saturday came to an unfortunate ending. After 2 hrs. 50 mins . singing the conductor missed a bob, and the bells were stopped. Better luck next time.

We are asked to state that the dedication of the screen in Drayton Church, in memory of the late Rev. F. E, Robinson, is fixed to take place on Saturday, February ist.

Leonard Pye, although he rang his first peal of Stedman at the age of 13 , is not quite the youngest ringer to score a peal in that method. On October 23rd, 1905, at Arklow, Ireland, the following were in a band that rang a peal of Stedman: Treble, W. R. Washbrook, aged in years; 2, A. F. Shepherd, aged I4; 4, J. W. Washbrook, junr., aged 13 .

Mr. J. Thomas, the captain of the Kea band, has been presented with a handsome pocket letter case by the Truro Cathedral ringers and by the younger members of the Kea band. Mr. Thomas takes the keenest interest in ringing, and has been spending regularly one and sometimes two evenings a week for the past year in instructing the newlyformed Cathedral company.

Onc or two of those whose names we gave last week as having taken part in over 40 peals during 1912 added one more to their total on the last evening of the year. Mr. K. Hart raised his number rung to 55 and conducted to 33; Mr. G. Williams his total to 4 I rung and 34 conducted. Mr. I. G. Shade was another who during the 12 months rang over the half century, his score being 58 . Mr. J. H. B. Hesse rang 42. Mr. J. Hunt's 55 included one tower bell peal, all the rest being on handbells. He rang no fewer than 65 handbell peals in succession, owing to the bells in the Guildford towers being unpealable. Mr. J. Motts conducted 25 peals, out of 26 rung during 1912.

Southwark Cathedral must be among the "lucky" towers. Treble Twelve, Stedman Cinques and now Cambridge Maximus have been rung there within a month. The tenor, as is well known, is over 50 cwt., and it speaks volumes for the excellent work of the bellhangers (Messrs. Mears and Stainbank) that the bells go so extremely well.

Lancashire, which is to possess another peal of ten, is not well off for rings of this number, considering the large number of bells it possesses, and the Dalton-in-Furness peal will be a welcome addition. There are peals of twelve at St. Nicholas, Liverpool; Ashton-under-Lyne and Oldham. The peals of ten are at Manchester Town Hall, Manchester Cathedral, St. Peter's, Liverpool; Blackburn, and Kendal.

A PEAL OF TEN IN MASSACHUSETTS

DEDIOATION OF HINGHAM BELLS.
On Monday, November 25th, was dedicated a new ring of ten bells aised in a detached campanile by popular subseription, both being a memorial to the immigrant settlers and founders of Hingham, many of whom are known to have sprung from the best families of Hingham, Norfolk. Their descendiants have always maintained an affection for the " old home," as it was for many years termed, and when it came to a choice of bells, the lhappy proposal to reproduce with original inscriptions the peal of St. Andrew's (augmented by two trebles) met with hearty approval. Hingham is a picturesque town situated on the sea coast seventeen miles from Boston. Its church, or meeting-house, as it was called, by reason of its forming the general place of assembly, for secular as well as for religious purposes, was erected in 1681, forty-six years after the settlement of the town, and this quaint structure with central turret is the oldest roligious edifice in the country, which stands upon its original site, and continues in use for religious purposes. The church and adjacent campanile occupy an elevation within a close, constituting an ideal enviromment for change ringing.

Mr. Daniel F. Gibbons, a member of the College Youths, came over to supervise the work of instalment; and it is safe to assert that no more difficult job was ever presented to a bell hanger. The trouble arose from a blunder of the brick masons, who lad altered the dimensions of the belfry from the architect's design, and hence the steel cage proved a misfit, to be corrected only after chisseling out the cemented brick work of the walls. To the casual observer, this brick tower with their walls might appcar too fragile to withstand the thrust of swinging bells, but American engineers have evolved a novel process of solid concrete constriction reinforced by steel rods, which ensures stability of structure with economy of cost-a discovery which should be more generally recognised. Attached to the inner wall of the floor chamber is the well worn stepping-stone that for conturies stood sentry on the village green of old Hingham, a highly prized gift of the local authorities.
Mr. Gibbons was present at the dedication, and other ringers who attended were Mr. Frank Burgar, formerly of Sheffield, who has taken part in twenty-seven peals; Mr. Henry Aston, who long ago rang in a peal at Coventry; Mr. William Shipp, junr., whose father was once known in Oxfordshire as a sure striker and instructor: Mr. Samuel Hodgdon, of the band which rang at St. John's and St. Peter's, Bradford; Dr. A. HI. Nichols, and the following connected now or formerly with the ringers of Groton School: Messrs. J. Warren Sturgis, Guy Ayrault, Mather A. Abbot, Charles A. Crolidge, Hami!ton Hadley, S. E. M. Crocker, and Norman R. Sturgis.
It is noteworthy that this is the first ring of ten bells installed in the United States, and it will rank unqiestionably among the most meritorious productions of its founders (Messrs. Mears and Stainbank). The tenor is in E flat, weighing 19 cwt. 2 qrs. English bells are being imported in increased numbers into the United States and Canada, and this preference is due in part to their superior hangings and appurtenances, but more especially to the larger volume of sound and carrying power of their trebles, which are not overpowered, as in American chimes, by the heavier back bells of the octave.

After an impressive service within the church, and the chiming of a few hymn tunes, the bells were sounded in rounds and Grandsire Doubles, some of which ran smoothly. From the Rev. Louis C. Cornish, pastor, to whose irrepressible appeals the town is chiefly indebted for this double memorial, the ringers met with a cordial reception.
Whale with the installation of still another new ring in the Perkins Institution for the Blind, five belfries at or near Boston will be available for unlimited half-pull practice, there is deplorable dearth of ringers. English ringers contemplating a change of resideucc, will be likely to find no more congenial home than New England, where the dimand for artisans is beyond the supply. This metropolis should constitute the headquarters of a guild qualified to impart instruction and a stimulus to beginners, by means of which the Exercise could and a stimulus to beginners, by means of which the Excreise could be extended to the belfries of all our large cities.
A.H.N.

THE PEAL AT ROLVENDEN, KENT.

The ringers in the peal at Iolvenden on Saturday represented six cowers: Messrs. Burden and Blackman belong to Rolvenden; Daw and Wenham to Stone-in-Oxney; Tribe to Teaterden; Lambert to Benenden; Johnson to Appledore; and Billenness to Rye. Rung as a birthday compliment to F. G. Burden and his veteran father, Edgar Burden, also a ringer. Their birthdays were on Christmas Day and Boxing Day respectively, and the peal was to have been attempted on the previous Saturday, but had to be postponed on account of bad weather. It was also a complimentary peal to C. Tribe, the hon. secretary of the Ashford Division, whose birthday was on the 3rd January.

DORCHENTEL.-Salisbury Diocesan Guiki.-On Thursday, January 2nd, at St. Peter's Church, an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples came to grief, after ringing 2 hrs. 18 mins.: T. Page 1, W. A. Painter 2, C. H. Jennings 3, F. Uphill 4, L. W. Wiffen 5, C. B. Hurst 6, G. T. White (conductar) 7, J. W. Benger 8.

THE PEAL POINTS QUESTION.

To the Editor.

Sir,-With your permission, I should like to say a. word or two about the subject of your editorial in the curient issue of "The Ringing World." Particularly so at the present moment, when nobody knows what the final result of the analysis will be; so that one can writo pretty freely without running the risk of being charged with jealousy. When you penned the sentence, "the Norwich and Middlesex, on points, are running neck and neek for top place," I alo not suppose you wished to suggest there was any sort of rivalry betwoen theso two societies. But for those outside, your sentence might conjure up an idea that we were deadly rivals, each striving for mastery over the other, and engaged in a sort of fight to tha death. This, of course, is as absurd as it is untrue.
The respective areas covered by the Norwich and Middlesex Associations are so absolutely unlike in situation, size, population, means of getting about, and in every other particular, that comparison between the two is impossible, and indeed would be bordering on the farcical. For instance, we have bands in small villages, miles from a railway station, who score seven 720's of Bob Minor, or a 5040 of Doubles. It often means persistent struggle and grit to achieve this, and when it is done and everything taken into consideration, it is a memorable performance, and is as worthy of a place in our ammal report as a peal of Cinques or Maximus.
In the Middlescx Association, of course, you get no performances such as this-its position and conditions do not admit of it. There can, thercfore, de no rivalry between us-we are, as a matter of fact, the best of friends. The ringing of peals for the sake of amassing points certainly never enters the heads of ringers in the Norwich, diocese, and I expect it is equally truo of the members of tho Middlesex.
Then, too, I think you over-rate the interest taken by peal ringers in "points foi" peals." The whole system is so unsatisfactory that I think most men patiently endure "points for peals" rather than take any interest in them. It is, too, getting more unsatisfactory each year. I do not mean as to what points should be allotted to this, that, or the other peal, but rather to the question in its widest sense. We spean sometimes of the Association at the top of the analysis as the "premier" one. But is it always the promier one when all things are considered? Often not. Take 1911 as an example. The Winchester Guild were at the top of the table solely through the efforts of the Guildford handbell band. They rang on handbells more than half the total number of peals scored by their Association, and a vast deal more than half in point value. Take away the results of the skill of these eirht or ten brilliant exponents of what, after all, is a kind of " side-line," and where is the Wivelhester Guild? I yield to no one in my admiration of the extraordinary skill and patience of the Guildford men-I am only writing of the final result. of their performances in the analysis.

Recently another element has come in-a peal tapped by one person. That also will have its points-and it deserves them, too. But give this performer a little more skill, and an abundance of energy, and we shall have the North Notta Assaciption the champions! Which with all respect of them-would be farcical indeed, and perhaps be the prelude to an ", In Memoriam "uotice announcing the decease of points for peals.' '-Yours faithfully

CHAS. E. BORRETT
Secretary, Norwich Diocesan Association

FARNHANI'S PEAL BOARD.

A handsome peal board has been unveiled in tho belfry of Farnham, Surrey, the ceremony being performed on Monday week by Mrs. Lovett, wife of the Rector, who is leaving for a Southampton parish. The board records the following peals: February 27th, 1909, Grandsire Triples; Feb. 19th. 1910, Grandsire Triples; May 20th, 1910, a half-mufficd peal of Bob Major for the late King Edward; June 22nd, 1911, Grandsire Triples, on the occasion of the Coronation: Dec. 23rd. 1911, Stedman Triples; August 7th. Grandsire Triples, halfmuffled for the late W. H. Lowman: Nov. 30th, 1912, Oxford Bob Triples.-Mis. Lovett, in unveiling the board, referred to some of the historic occasions on which Farnham bells had been rung, including the celebration of the victories of Trafalgar and Waterloo.-Mr. C. Fdwards thanked Mrs. Lovett for unveiling the board, and the Rector referred in terms of high praise to the enthusiasm of the ringers in their work and their splendid achievements. He attributed their success largely to the efforts of Mr. Fdwards, the oonductor, and thanked them for the regularity, loyalty and enthusiasm which they had shown towards the bells, and through the bells to the parish.

MEETING AT STOKE POGES.

On Saturday, by kind invitation of the Vicar and churchwardens, meeting took place at Stoke Poges. Something like forty ringers were expectid, but owing no doubt to the bad state of the weather only twenty-four were present, including the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Guild, and Mr. Cyril Jolmeton, representing the firm of lifessrs. Giliett and Jehnston, who have just carried out the work of restoration so successfully.
During the afternoon and evening, touches of Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Oiaford Bob, Double Court, Oxford and Kent were rung.A short scrvice was also held, conducted by the Rev. C. H. Stokes (curate), and afterwards the fompany sat down in the parish room to an excellent tea, kindly providel by the Rev. Canon Barnett (Vicar) and Mr. E. If. Parry (chuchwarden). Mr. Barnett was present to receive the visitors, and to say how sorry Canon Barnett was that, owing to illness, he could not be with them.-At the conclusion of tea, the company passed a rote of thanks to Canon Barnett and Mr. Parry for so kindly entertaining them.

ỉingers wero present from Burnham, Chalfont St. Peter, Ealing, Farnham Royal, Fulmer, Hesten, Hillingdon, Slough, Windsor, and the local company. All were delighted with the tone and "go" of tho bells.

RINGERS ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD. PRESENTATION AT EASTON NESTON

The members of the Easton Neston (Northants) company and friends spent a very enjoyable evening on Friday week, when a dinner was held, and proved a great success. Those present included Mr. F. Causebrook (hon. secretary of the Towcester and District Association), Messrs. J. Slarke, E. Hunt, F. Wilford, and F. Hopper, of Northampton, and other friends. It was much to be regretted that the Rev. R. C. Collins (Vicar of Easton) was unable to be present owing to the very roush night, but he was represented by Mrs. and Miss Collins, who received a hearty welcome. Dinner over, Mr. $F$. Wilford was voted to the chair for the evening, and Mr. J. Slarke, in a short speech, said they had not only met together that evening for a little enjoyment, but also to do honour to a brother ringer, whom he had known for many years. There were others in the room who had been most helpful to them, but Mr. Hopper had done a great deal to forward the art of change ringing in the neighbourhood, and had been particularly helpful to the Easton Neston ringers, as they had been able to ring their first local peal the day before.-Mr. Hopper was then presented with a splendid pair of blankets by Mrs. Collins, who in a few well chosen words asked him to accept them as a token of thanks for what he had done for the Easton ringers.-Mr. Hopper, who was taken by surprise, thanked the ringers for their most kind gift. He said it was always a pleasure to him to help forward the art of change ringing, and it was very kind indeed of them to do what they had done that evening.
The Chairman said he felt it his daty to say just a few words with rogard to this gift to Mr. Hopper. There was no man in the Central Corthants Association who was so great a help to him as Mr. Hopper was, for he always endorsed his views, and was ever ready to go forward at every turn to help others in the way of change ringing.
Me was very pleased indeed to be there that evening, as those little gatherings, which brought ringers together, enabled them to know each ohler better, and to help forward the good work they were doing fir the Church
Tho toast of " The Health of Mr. J. Slarke " was submitted by Miss Collins, who wished the veteran health and lhappmess in the coming year.-The toast was drunk with musical honours, and Mr . Slarke, in reply, thanked the company most sincerely. He had, he sad, been looking forward to that meeting for some time, and would ha: e been very pleased to liave seen the Vicar with them. They had, however, oxcellent representatives in Mrs. and Miss Collins. lingers always found it a great help to them when they saw the head of the church present at their gatherings. At the same time, ha knew how deeply interested Mr. Collins was in his beld ringers and bell ringing, to being a member of the Association and a vicepresident.
In conclusion, Mr. Slarke tiusted that these gatherings would take place yoar after year, and added that he would always do whatever tay in his power to help forward his brother ringers.

The remainder of the cvening was spent in a convivial manner. Songs were given by Mr. F. Wjiford, Mr. Unwin, Mr. Beesley, Master 1'. Slarke, Miss V. Slarke, Mr. L. Worth, Mr. Basford and Mr. Bushall, together whi selections on the handballs, thus bringing a pleasant evening to a close.

EAST HAGBOURNE (BERKS).

The annual suppers of the Hagbourne ringers were held at the Wcleomo Inn, as usual, on Christmas aml New Year's Eves, and proved very successful. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Butler's catering was most thoroughly appreciated, and two very enjoyable evenings were spent by the ringers and their triends. After supper, on each occasion, a concert was held, at which it was the rule for each member present to sing a song. At 10 oclock, an adjournment was made to tho Schoolroom, where further songs were sung until just befora midnight. Christmas Day was amounced with a touch of Grandsire Triples, and the Old Year was rung out and the New Year in by touches in the same method, the last beng a 672 by: W. Cox $1, \mathrm{E}$. Eutler 2, II. Bishop 3, W. Napper 4, J. Butler 5, T. East (conductor) 6, J. S. Napper 7, W. Warwick 8. After ringing, a return was made to the school, and the proceedings were finished by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Antliem.

MERTHYR TYDVIL

On the evening of January 2nd, the members of the Merthyr Tydvil Parish Church Guild were entertained to supper by Miss A. E. Harrap, of Gwaunfarren. at the Commercial Hotel. After an excellent repast, Mr. A. E. Slatter, the captain, proposed "The health of Miss Harrap" which was seconded by Mr. E. Thomas.-Mr. F. Chave proposed a hearty vote of thauks to Mrs. Trevanicn for the very able manner in which she had catered for the company, and this was sceonded by Mir. C. Paley.-The company then rang several selections on the handbells, after which whist was indulged in, and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

A CHRISTMAS PARTY

A party of 18 ringers from IIandsworth paid another visit to Tettenhall, on Saturday week, when they spent a most enjoyable time. They were welcomed at the New Inn Hotel, which they mado their headquarters, by the host and other friends, and, after tonches of Grandsire Triples on the tower bells, enjoyed a splendid feast. The evening was devoted to a musical programme, which opened with "Blue bells of Scotland," rung on handbolls. Messirs E. Starkey, T. Verry, H. Herbert (comic), R. Roper, Faux, C. Starkey, F. Ward, F. Wood, and others, gave excellent song6, and the host's niece alelighted the company with a rendering of "Killarney," in Welsh. Mr. F. Banks gave some capital concertina selections. The host was thanled for his excellent catering, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

SCARBOROUGH.

As is customary on New Year's Fve, the bells of St. Mary's Parish Church. Scarborough, were rung, half-muffled, for the last half-hour of the old year; and open for an hour to welcome in the new. A pleasing event, quite unexpected, took place this year, when Mr. W. R. Lowson, the Vicar's warden, and Mrs. Lowson, assisted by Miss Coates, kindly entertaned the ringers to refreshments in the belfry, hot coffee, sandwiches and mince pies being handed round. After partaking of the good things provided, Mr. Lowson, who is taking up ringing in earnest, took a rope in a few well-struck rounds and changes. The following ringers also took part: Messrs Gibson, Cole, Fryers, Barton, Iowson, Raynor, Shannon, Priest, and Cobley. Great credit is due to the four last-named members on the way in which they handled their bells, this being their first attempt at mufled ringing.-At the conclusion of the ringing cigars were handed round, kindly provided by Mr. Usher, sidesman. - On Christmas Day, for morning service. 360 Grandsire was rung by: J. Fryers. II. Gibson, W. Raynor (first with a bob bell), T. Wardman, J. R. Barton, L. T. Cole.-On Boxing Day, an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples, on handbells, camo to grief after ringing 2100 changes: J. R. Barton (conductor) 1-2, 0. Coates 3-4, II. Gibson 5-6, G. Alexander 7-8.

RINGING BY DIAGRAM.

We give this week the diagrams of Woodbine and Violet Treble Bob. They are not among the legitimate methods, but are rung so much that we make no apology for their publication in this form.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY AT CHESTERFIELD.

The January meeting of the Sheffield District and Old East Derbyshire Society was leld on Saturday at Chesterfield, and in spite of tise wretched weather, was well attended. Upwards of 30 members were present from Bolsover, Chesterfield, Doncaster, Dore. Dronfield, Eckilgton, Killamarsh, North Wingfield, Ranmoor, Rotherham, Sheffield Parish Church, and Staveley. The fine peal of ten bells (tenor $24!$ cwt.) were raised about 3.30 p.m., and were kept going with short intervals till 7.30 p.m., some good ringing being accomplished, in a variety of methods, including Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Oxford Treble Bob, and New Cambridge, Superlative and BristoI Surprise Major, Stedman an• Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royal.
A short business meeting was held in the tower during the evening, Mr. G. Falksworth (Doncaster) in the chair, at which a hearty vote of thanks to the Ven. Archdeacon Crosse (who is so ever ready to grant the use of the bells) was carricd with acclamation, as also was a rote of thanks to the local company. After lowering the bells, a more was made to the local company's meeting-room, where a pleasant evening was spent with the aid of a. gramophone and some handbells.

THE REVIVAL OF OLD SOCIETIES.

Everyone would rejoice if the breach which has existed at Norwich between the church authorities at St. Peter Mancroft and the members of that very ancient ringing society, the Norwich Scholars, could be healed. A correspondent this week holds out the hope that something may be done by which the dispute, which has robbed the Scholars of a headquarter's tower, can be ended, and we trust that his action may open the way to amicable arrangement. With the dispute and the reasons for it we have no concern, and no good purpose could be served by opening up old sores. What we do feel, however, is that much good might be done if this old society could be rehabilitated.

An organisation with something like 300 years of history behind it ought not to be allowed to die of inanition. Such a society is, from a ringer's point of view, a national asset, for it goes back to the very foundations of the history of change ringing and even beyond, and however chequered may have been its career its existence ought to be carefully nurtured, for by far the larger number of our ringing organisations are of mere mushroom growth in comparison. The Norwich Scholars were among tfie pioneers of the Art two centuries ago, and it would be a matter of general gratification if those who to-day represent its membership could reanimate it. This, we believe, might very easily be done, without in any way infringing upon the prerogatives of the younger Association which dominates the territorial area-the Norwich Diocesan Association.

The mending of the breach referred to probably rests with the members themselves. At any rate, they have it in their power to take the necessary steps which might open negotiations. Our ringing organisations do not include so many really ancient societies that we can afford to let slip such a link with the long-distant past as is formed by the Norwich Scholars. All the while there is a membership, however feeble, there is material for reviving the society, and for maintaining the continuity of the organisation. We are glad to see, therefore, that its annual festival, this year in the shape of a social reunion, has been re-established. With the right men to watch its interests and to impart activity into its dormant body the Norwich Scholars may yet become a real, live society.

And, incidentally, may we ask when steps are to be taken to re-organise that now almost moribund organisation, the old Waterloo Society? If the secretary, whose duties have apparently become entirely nominal, will bestir himself, we believe he will have quite a goodly number of members rallying to his support. At any rate, he will find that there are quite a number of Johns willing to give him a hand to set the society once more on its feet.

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK,

Broonifield Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great ploasure in atating that weare perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you hape carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arransing and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.
We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your firm, and belteve that your system of langing the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a mininam.
The CHURCDFARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also onanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CH 4 S. EDMUNDS,

HANDBELL PEAL.

GUILDFORD, SURREY.
THE WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.
On Sunday, January 12, 1913, in Two Hours and Ten Minutes,
At the Residence of A. H. Polling,
A PEAL OF CRANDSIRE TRIPLES, 5040 CHANEE : Holt's Original.

| $7-8$ |  |  |  |  | Conducted by Alfred H. Polling.

Arranged and rung as a birthday compliment to John Heathorn, of Guildford, the oldest ringer in the Winchester Guild, on reaching the age of 89 years; and to J. S. Goldsmith, of Woking. A peal of Stedman Caters was attempted the previous evening at the Abbot's Hospital, Guildford, in which Mr. Goldsmith took part and to which the old gentleman sat and listened, but to the regret of all the company and listeners, it was lost in the turning course.

The abore method, which is musical and lends itself well to composition, may be interesting to Double Norwich ringers. A peal has been rung at Selly Oak, and will remain in abeyance two weeks after publication of this, pending any claim, etc. Failing euch claim, it will then be published under the above title by

THE BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

BIGGLESTVADE BRANCH

At the annual meeting of the Biggleswade branch at Biggleswade which was poorly attended, owing to the wretched weather, Everton, Sotton. Clifton, Biggleswade, St. Noets, and Hitchin, were represented. -Mr. F. I'hompson presided over the business meeting, at which ten new members from the Biggleswade tower were elected, also the old hon. members, with the addition of the Rev. Cassell, of Old Warden. The following officers were elected to scrve another year: President, the Rev. R. S. Bagshaw, Vicar of Biggleswade; secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. Blood; and a committee of one from each tower attached. It is hoped that special efforts will be made during the coming year to obtain new members, and to make progress with ringing, so as to strengthen the branch.-A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, who was unable to be present, for the use of the bells and tower, and a vote of thanks was also accorded to the chairman for his service.

BEDFORD DISTRICT.

Tho meeting of the Bedford district. held at Kempston, was a great success, in spite of inclement weather. The fine ring of six bells was started going early in the afternoon, and was kept going oontinuously, except for a break to enable those present to partake of a tea provided by a generous donor. The ringing was exceedingly good, and ranged through a dozen or so of methods from Plain Bob to London Surprise.
Nearly 30 members sat down to tea, and afterwards the business meeting was held, under the excellent chairmanship of the vice-president, Miss E. Steel. Tho members asked the vice-president to convey their thanks to the donor of the tea, and requested the hon. sec. (Mr. J. W. Barker') to tender their congratulations to one of the hon. members, Mr. H. Browning, on attaining the high civic dignity of Mayor of the Borough of Bedford.
One of the members, Mr. W. T. Lightfoot, being determined to try his luck "'neath the Southern Cross," the meeting tendered him its goodwill and good wishes, and wished him the greatest prosperity among our Australian cousins.
As to the next meeting-place, a general desire was expressed for Cardington, and January 25 th was the date fixed
At the conclusion of a most delightful evening, Mr. Barker thanked, on behalf of the members, Mr. Cave, leader of the Kempston company, for making the necessary arrangements for the balls, and for his presence among the members. He gave a very hearty invitation to the Kempston band to meet the members on each and every occasion a meeting was held, and sincerely hoped that the meeting would be most beneficial to the Kempston ringers.

A DICKENS' COINCIDENCE.  To the Editor.

Sir,-I wonder whether many of your readers happened to notice in your issue of January 3rd a curious reminder of "David Copperfield." On page 3, at the top of the left-hand column, the name of the tenor man in the peal rung at Bristol was Uriar Braven, while the treble ringer in the next reoorded peal was Harry Heap. Each of the two names in small oapitals being rather an unommon one, the coincidence of their occurring in close proximity is remarkable. - Yours truly,
F. L1. EDWARDS.

S'T: MAR'TIN’S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

The annual meeting was held on Theeday week last, in the Guild's room at the Tamworth Arms Hotel, Moor Street, Birmingham, the presiding Ringing Master, Mr. J. S. Pritchett, being in the chair. A large number' of membors were present.-The business vias mainly formal, but, as usuml, great interest was shown in the statement of accounts presented by the secretiry, the balance sheet showing the financial state of the Guild to be an extremely satisfactory one.

The officers were re-elected en bloc, with the exception of Mr Charles Dickons, who, having been mado a trustec, vaoated the position of auditor, to which latter Mr. George Swann was unanimously olected.

It was decided to hold the annual Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner at "Ye Olde Royal," Temple Row, Birmingham, on Saturday, March 1st, the next quarterly meeting at Solihull (with the permission of the Rector), in April, at a date to be subscquently fixed.-Five new members were elected, and the business being disposed of, the remainder of the evening was spent in tune and change ringing on the handlells

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South-Western District of the Essex Association was held at St. Saviour's, Walthamstow, on Saturday, and was at tended by about 30 members. A service was held, at which the Vicar (the Rev. G. II. Siddans) addressed the ringers. The tea and business meeting followed immediately after the service, the chair being occupied by the Vicar, supported by Mr. G. A. Black, the Master of the South Western Division, and the Rev. H. E. Tilston. The following were made members: Messrs. P. R. Hislop, of Clapton; C. Hughes and G. Carter, of Walthamstow. Hornchurch was selected as the next place of meeting. - Votes of thanks to the Vicar for permission to hold the meeting at St. Saviour's and for his address at the service ended the meetins.

THE "ARTHUR" JACOB FUND.

The following further amounts on behalf of the fund for assisting the widow of the late Mr. Arthur Jacob are acknowledged with thanks: Previously acknowledged, £10 5s. ; the Finchley ringers. per Mr. W. Tubb, 3s. 6d.; Mr. B. Foskett, 5s.; Mr. Barnard (Wood Green), 2s.; total, £10 15s. 6d.

A DEVON OUTING.

The Holcombe Rogus band of the Devon Guild had a holiday trip at Christmas to several towers where change ringing is not yet done. At Culmstork they found a fine peal of six in good order, and a few touches of Grandsire and Stedman were tapped off. Uffculme was the next call, and here the position of the ropes makes ringing difficult. Ono and 2 run in the wrong direction, 3 is back in the righthand corner behind, 4,6 and 5 run in that order in a line on the opposite side of the belfry After several unsuccessful attempts for a six-score of Grandsire, in which the 3rd man was out in the cold, and another seemed to have his thoughts more on the cream in store than the ringing in hand. a fairly clean-struck 120 was brought round, and then having got used to the masual conditions, several others were rung. Halberton and Sampford PerereII were also visited, and the excursion was much enjoyed.

THE LANCASTIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Rochdalo branch was held at Whitworth Parish Church, on Saturday. Members were present from Whitworth, Roohdale Parish, Balderstone, Glodwich, Oldham Parish, Middleton and Todmorden Unitarian.-The Rev. J. 12. Sohofield presided ofer the business meeting, and was made a life member of the Association.One other member was elected, and Milnrow was selected for the next meeting.-The bells were kept going till 8.30, in Grandsire Triples and IJols Major

COMPOSITIONS.

SOME PEALS OF PLAIN BOB AND SOME FRIENDLY ORITICISM.
By J. ARMIGER TROLALOPE.
In continuation of the article published on Dec, 27th, upon Originality in composition, Mr. J. A. Trollope, this week contributes a little firiendly criticism upon some of the compositions sent up for publication.
He writes: Now let us look at the peals of Bob Major and Maximus that have been sent to "The Ringing World" for publication, and I want it to be understood clearly that in criticising them I am doing so in no unkind way. I am saying publiciy what I have continually to say in private, in the hopes that the authors will profit by my remarks, be they favourable or the reverse.
First, we have three peals of Maximus, and let me say is it worth while to send peals of Maximus for publication? They are never rung, and the skill required to produce them is very very little.

A and B, sixth at home throughout with all $3-6$ 's, $4-6$ 's, $5-6$ s, the 2nd only twice in 5 th's place, and only once in the 5016.

0 has all $6-5$ 's and $5-6$ 's, the 2nd only above 4tn's in one course; 5 th and 6 th only in 6th's place.
$A$ and $B$ are really one and the same composition. They consist of the " old " nine courses of Bob Major (1008), arranged thus:-
W $R$
34256
2545 $\qquad$ This repeated by singles would give eighteen courses.

32546
53246 being 23456 W $\mathbf{R}$

52436
45236
If you call another $S$ at the next wrong you would get back to the plain course, and you could go on with your nine courses, and then repeat the whole by adding a single at the last $R$. You would then have six singles, but to substitute bobs for two of them is the most obvious thing, and so you get peal A, or you can double each threecourse block in the nine courses by singles, and so you get $B$, and you can get a large number of variations on the same lines. Is the peal original? Well, I cannot say that I have ever seen it in print in exactly this form, but isn't it rather late to tell us that the old 1008 of Bob Major can be doubled by singles and an extra course singled in?
C is a peal quite worth ringing, for the keeping of the fifth and sixth together in $5-6$ gives the best musical results in Maximus. If I were going to oall a peal of Bob Maximus, this is the peal that I should call. It isn't mine, and I don't know quite who can claim it. It consists of two very old round blocks joined bry singles:

5088 BOB MAJOR by H. Price.

Twice repeated.

There is nothing very original about this peal of Bob Royal by Mr H. Price, the 24 courses, with the 6 th at home, which form the body of the peal, are old. But it is decidedly a good composition to ring. The same criticism applies throughout to the same composer's 5088 three-part of Bob Major. The ten-course block which forms the main portion of each part is old, but that does not mean that it 19 not legitimate to use it in a new peal.

ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

HURSTPIERPOINT.

On New Year's Day the ringers of Holy Trinity Church, Hurstpierpoint, together with a goodly company of friends, sat down to their annual dinner prepared for them at the White Horse Inn.-The Rector presided, and after the toasts of "The King," "The Bishop and Clergy," and "The Navy and Army " had been Lonoured, the Chairman submitted "The Ringers." The Rector complimented them in glowing terms upon their ringing, the tidiness of their belfry, and their willingness to conform to his slightest wish. He said he never gave praise to anyone unless it was deserved, and so every word he spoke was what he really meant. - In their reply, Messrs. Stenning and Bransdes thanked the Rector for his complimentary words, and deplored the fact that there was no ringer of advanced methods among their number who could teach them new methods.-"The Town and Trade," "The Chairman " and "The Visitors" were the other toasts. The songs which went towards enlivening the evening were many and good, and thanks are due to the following gentlemen for their songs: The Reve. A. E. L. Sayers and E. Cresswell-Gee, Messrs. Collis, Oliver, Blaker, Jeplcott, Davey, Bransden and Couchman; also to Mr. Gladman for his excellent display with Indian clubs, and to Messrs. Davey, Mansbridge and J. Bransden and H. Bransdeu for a touch on handbells.

ORSETT, ESSEX.

On Thursday week, the ringers of the Parish Church of St. Giles and All Saints' were entertained to their annual supper at the Rectory. by the Rev. W. C. Bishop and Mrs. Bishop. After supper, a vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector and his wife, on the motion of Mr. W. F. Fox, seconded by Mr. A. Keeling (captain of the ringers), and a very enjoyable evening wound up about 11 o'clock. Songs wera sung by Messrs. A. Keeling, W. F. Fox, A. Merchant, B. and W. Harrod, J. C. Bridge and Tom Kimmings, and a comic recitation given by the Rev. W. Tapper (curate), while the ringers rang a good selection of tunes and changes on their fine handbells.
Before the supper, the ringers visited the belfry, and rang several 120's of Grandsire Doubles, and also fired the bells 70 times in honowr of the 70th birthday of the Countess of Shannon, who has been staying at the hall, and who is aunt to the squire, Major Whitmore. Her ladyship sent a very nice letter to Mr. A. Keeling, to thank the ringers for their kindness in ringing, and for their good wishes, and wished them all " a happy New Year, and many more to follow." The ringers were: Messrs. B. Harrod, W. Harrod, A. Keeling, H. Chinnery, H. Joslin, and T Kimmings, and they were joined by Messire. J. Field, H. Plowright and C. Bridge.

HENLEY, SUFFOLK.-At St. Peter's Church, on Jan. 2nd, after meeting short for a peal, 720 Oxford Bob: Rev. W. C. Pearson 1, J. Bennett, R.M.L.I. (first in the method) 2, G. Flemming 3, G. Benneti 4, A. Flemming 5, G. Farnish (conductor) 6.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

AN OLD SUFFOLK RINGER.

Our illustration is of the band at Leiston, who, on New Year's Day rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Button. It is not often that a ringer takes part in his own golden wedding peal, but Mr. Button, despite his more than 75 years, was able to ring the treble. The photograph includes five of the famous Bailey brothers, and Mr. Button is seated in the middle. The veteran was born at Rendham on April $3 \mathrm{rd}, 1838$, and has taken a great interest in bells and ringing ever since he was a boy. He has walked many hundreds of miles after ringing, and on two occasions (in 1855) rang in a peal for a prize of gloves. One has rung altogether 46 peals, including Bob Triples, Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich, and the treble to Superlative and Cambridge. He took part in the first peal of Superlative on Leiston bells.
He has taught dozens of ringers, and is proud of the fact that he has a good company of men to ring for the Sunday services, which is his first object in teaching them to ring. He has turned out some good men among his pupils, one being Mr. Gabriel Lindoff. Mr. Button's three sons were all taught ringing, but only one has followed it up, and he now belongs to the Colchester company. Mr. Button is highly respected by the ringers of the Norwich Association, and particularly by the men of his own tower, for he has done much for ringing in this picturesque Suffolk village. He is the master of the com-of these peals was at Rendham and the other at Sweffling. At that time there were several good five bell companies in the district, among them being the ringers of Aldeburgh, Peasenhall, Middleton, Great Glemham and Bemhall, and Old Grandsire and Bob Doubles were the methods chiefly rung.

After his apprenticeship had expired in 1859 he went to live at Leiston, where ringing was at a very low ebb. With four others he soon made up a company, and several methods were mastered. In the year 1883 the bells had got into such a bad state that ringing had to be discontinued, and the next year the Rector and churchwardens took up the question of their restoration. Just about that time Mr. Richard Garrett died, and his family, as a memorial to their brother, augmented the peal to eight by adding two trebles and a tenor and recasting the third.

With the help of the Kelsale men, an eight-bell company was formed, but for several years not much headway was made, Bob Triples and Major being the extent of the method ringing. Mr. Button was 65 years of age when he rang his first peal of Double Norwich, and he pany and steeplekeeper, and only once has he missed going round at Christmas with the handbells during the 50 years he has been associated with the tower.

ODD CHANGES.

Something out of the ordinary was rung at Chester last week, when the Chester Guild scored a peal of Double Grandsire Triples. This is the sort of thing which shows enterprise, and it would stimulate more interest if other novelties of this kind were more frequently introduced in other towers to add variety to performances.

On Thursday evening last week Mr. Ernest F. Creed (captain of the Castle Cary ringers) was presented with a handsome silver plated hot water kettle, by the Rector and ringers of West Lydford. Mr. Creed takes the keenest interest in ringing, and has, since the West Lydford bells were rehung, been instructing the band in change ringing.

Another quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples has been rung at St. Matthew's, Auckland, New Zealand, where the band seem to be doing well with the method, but, owing to the fact that they are all unable to get away from business at a convenient time, they are unable to arrange to go for a peal. The quarter was rung for morning service on November 24 th by J. F. Colgrove 1, A. Smallwood 2, J. Heather 3, E. J. Hamblin 4, O. Throssell 5, A. J. White 6, S. C. Hamblin (conductor) 7, P. Barringer 8.

Mr. C. F. Winney writes: An eloquent preacher once said we live in an age of " advertisement." "An ox in a teacup" an impossibility. I admire Mr. Grimes' generosity and marvellous energy. Most of his peals were taken part in to oblige others. The writer of the article did not hear the record peal of Bristol rung at Hornchurch. I would suggest he should have left out the words " the absence of anything approaching a muddle."

The Biggleswade Branch of the Bedfordshire Association is making excellent progress. It has only been formed a year, in a district where very little energy had previously been shown. It now has 33 ringing and 12 hon. members.

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

NEW MASTER ELECTED

The annual general meeting of the Royal Cumberland Youthe So ciety was held at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, on Saturday last, and despite the wretched state of the weather, was attended by upwards of 30 members. Considerable disappointment was felt that owing to the restrictions prevailing at St. Martin's there could be no ringing after 5.15. An adjournment was made at that time to the Vestry Hall, where an excellent tea was awaiting the members, having been generously provided by the Vicar (the Rev. L. Shelford), who personally welcomed the Society to St. Martins.
Mr. J. Parker was chosen to fulfil the duties of Master sor the proment year, Messrs. Dains, Bennett, Hardy and Hairs being re-elected to their reepective offices.-Messrs. C. Austin, of Edmonton and H. J. and A. E. Bradley, of Shoreditch, were elacted members, and the election of 11 members in various towers was confirmed.-It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at West Ham.
The subject of erecting a headstone to the memory of the late Mr. Arthur Jacob was discussed at some length, it being eventually decided to allow the matte: to stand over till the next meeting.

A pleasant evening was afterwards passed in the hall, the proceedings being enlivened by songs and courses of several methods on the handbells.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A RINGER.  DEATH OF MR. B. PERRETT, WOODFORD.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Bert Perrett, of Woodford, Northants, who died on Thursday, January 2nd, at the age of 36 , as the result of an accident, he having been cruslicd between two waggons while following his employment at the Islip Iron Ore Furnaces. The deceased was leader of the ringers at Woodford. The bells of this church are ander renovation, and are away at Messrs. Taylor's foundry. Another bell is to be added to make a peal of six, and the deceased, with his fellow ringers, went to Loughborough on December 30 th to see the new bell cast. The late Mr. Perrett, who mas well known and enjoyed great popularity in the district, was actively identified with public life. In addition to boing os ringer, he also served the church in the capacity of chorister. He was a member of the Parish Council, and took an active part in friendly society and political work.
The funeral took place on Tuesday of last week, the ringers acting as bearers, while the choir walked by the side of the coffin. Mr. F. Wilford (general secretary of the Central Northamptonshire Association), Mr. F. Stubbs (district secretary, Raunds), Mr. W. Gilbert (Raunds), also attended. The bells of Great Addington were rung, mufled, during the evening.

PILL. GLOUCESTER.-On January 12th, for evening service, 720 Kent 'Treble Bob Minor: I, H. Moore (first 720 Kent) 1, G. H. Gale 2, ${ }^{*}$ L. H. Moore, senr., 3. "J. Cable 4, H. I. Cavill 5, J. Thomas, London (conductor) 6.' First 720 with bob bell. Also 360 Canterbury Minor,

THE NORWICH SCHOLARS.

THE REVIVAL OF AN ANCIENT SOCIETY.

On Thursclay of last week, the Society of Norwich Scholars spent a very enjoyable cevening at their meeting-house "The Walnut Tree Shades." The company included ringers, their wives and a few friends, and the thanks of them all are due to Mr. F. Knights for the arrangements he made. The programme was well sustained by Mr. Knights and his family, who delighted everyone with their clever handbell ringing aud comic songs. Messrs. Swain and Larder also rendered yooman service, their first-class singing being greatly appreciated. Mr. E. Knights at the piano was not the least of the evening's successes. This social evening has been an annual event for 300 years, but last year, owing to a variety of circumstances, was allowed to lapse. This year the outlook being brighter, it was rosolved to oontinue the old custom.
There is pretty general knowledge of the trouble that arose a few years ago between the authorities of St. Peter Mancroft and the society, since when the latter has had no tower for its headquarters, and it says mwh for the remaining members that they have kept the society afloat. There is a probability of the eight at St. Michael's, Cosland, being rehung shortly. That and the infusion of some fresh blood offers a fair prospect for the success of the famous old society in tho future.
Whatever the rights and wrongs wore of the trouble at Mancroft; it must be deplored that the renowned twelve are so seldom heard, and then invariably handled by visiting bands. It is to be hoped some steps may be taken to bring about an amicable settlement. If this be done, the Art is once more bound to flourish in the city which has played not a small part $i_{11}$ the history of the Excreise.
It is interestine to note that the Purse Ciub (Sick Benefit Club) run in connection wi'! the Ringing Society is doubly solvent, a fact which Mr. S. Smith and his colleagues can congratulate themselves upon.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Cary Deanery branch was held at Wincanton, on Saturday last, when, although the weather was rough and wet, between 50 and 60 were present, iepresenting Bruton, Castle Cary. Ditcheat, Queen Camel, Templecombe, Buckhorn Weston, North Cheriton, South Cadbury, and Wincanton.-A short service was held in the church, the Rev. H. M. Spackman, Vicar of Wincanton, officiating, and delivering a very instructive address upon the position of ringers, his text being Psalm xxvi, "Be thou my judge, O Lord, for I have walked innocently." The choir were in attendance, and renderced some fine music, making the service as bright as porsible.
Afterwards the ringers were very kindly entertained to tea in the Sunday Schoolroom by the Rev. II. M. Spackman and his churchwardens, Mrs. Spacl:man and other ladies presiding at the tables.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar being heartily voted to the chair. Mr. T. G. Vincent, senr.. of Ditcheat, was chosen as president to the branch for the year, and Mr. T. G. Vincent, junr., was again elected hon. secritary. Twelve new members were elected, and ono tower affiliated to the Ascociation. Marston Magna was chosen as the next place of mceting. in May.-Vates of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and arranging the service, and also to him and his churchwardens for their kindness in entertaining tho ringers to tea.-The Vicar. in replying said he was pleased to think the Castle Cary branch had chosen Wincanton as a place of meeting, and whenever they felt inclined to arrange another meeting there they would be accorded the same welcome as they had been that afternoon. -This concluded the business, and a move was then made to the tower, where the bells were kept going in various methode until 8.30, and bringing a very pleasant mecting to a close.

LEEDS SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at Pudsey on Saturday. The attendance was not as large as usual, owing to the wrelched state of the weather. The following towers were represented: Bolton, Bradford. Calverley, Guiseley, Holbeck, Headingley, Mirfield. Shipley, Tong, and the local lingers. A peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in the afternoon by a mixed company, and touches were also rung in the evening by visitors.
The business mecting was held at the Golden Lion IIoteI. The President (Mr. P. J. Johnson) was unfortunately absent owing to having a blood poisoned hand, and his place was taken by Mr. J. Broadley.Mr. F. Robinson, of Mirfield, was clected a member of the society. The arrangements for a peal attempt at Armley, on February 8th, were left to the-secretary.-A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Pudsey and local ringers was proposed by Mr. J. B. Jackson, secondod by Mr. W. B. Smith, and carricd amidst applause.Mr. E. Hoyle responded, offoring a hearty welcome to all ringers and remarking that the bells were always available.-Mr. T. Maude, in a brief speech. said ho always enjoyed coming to Pudsey, and hoped that before long they would have ten bells instead of eight.- The remainder of the evening was spent in lianctbelf ringing. The nomination meeting will be held at Armley on February 8th, when a good attendance is requested.

FOUR PEALS IN A DAY."

STORY OF AN ATTEMPT IN FOUR COUNTIES.

AN ABORTIVE EFFORT.

For the past twelvemonth, an old ambition of the late ' 90 's has continually cropped up, and at last led me to see what could be done by way of an attempt for four peals in a day. The original set of towers intended was Staines (St. Mary's), Chertsey, Old Windsor, and Wraysbury, but, owing to the lapse of a score of years, it has now been amended for Staines (St. Peter's), Lgham, Old Windsor, and Wraysbury-the gift of a second ring of eight to the town of Staines in 1902, and the addition of trebles to the six at Egham in 1912, offering a nore compact quartet of towers with easier bells for the undertaking. In the course of recent correspondence, I found out that others had had the same object in view, in one case the four peals being confined to one tower in a day in Sussex. While at Chipping Norton on the Oxford Guild tour of last October, my ideas were further whetted by the proximity of the famous "Four Shires Stone," which marks the point of contact for the counties of Oxford, Gloucester, Worcester and Warwick, and the only one possible, I believe, in the whole of Great Britain. Reading is another centre where Oxford, Bucks, Berks and Hants could be negotiated, whilst the East End of London, by means of the ferry across the river Thames, would give Essex, Kent, Surrey and Middlesex. Our Birmingham friends also have a group of four counties which could be utilised, but there does not appear to be a more favourable quartet of county belfries than those referred to in this article, and which are paired off by the bed of father Thames, not far from the famous old oblelisk, known as the "London Stone," near Staines.
The Rochester Row band, during the height of their Surprise career, visited this district on April 27th, 1901, and scored three peals in three counties in the order named, each being the first peal in the method on the bells, but those at St. Mary's, Staines, have since got into ill-going order, and are now practically unringable: Old Windsor, Iondon Surprise; Wraysbury, Superlative Surprise; Staines (Old Church), Cambridge Surprise.
These three ocunties were again visited by some of the London talent on April 24th, 1905, when London Surprise was achieved at Old Windsor, Wrajsbury and Isleworth (Middlesex). In each case there were three conductors, and the same men rang in all three peals in both undertakings which were under the auspices of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Of course, nothing short of four peals of London can now supersede the day's performance of the Passmore band. I heard most of the peal at Wraysbury, and, notwithstanding the terribly false clappering of these bells, it was an excellently-struck peal, and this reference from an impartial witness is probably fresh news to the band concerned.

After an alteration of date, the present attempt for "Fourfold" was formally fixed up for Tuesday, January 7th, and from the first I was greatly encouraged in the proposal by the respective clergy, and have great pleasure in naming them as gentlemen who did their best for the venture with due care and consideration for their own parishroners. We were not wanted in the afternoon at one tower, by no means early morning at another-and not late at night at still an-other-however, the puzzle was fitted together at length like a chess board, but when we came to find the men and to place them, a very severe game of " checkmate" ensued. Rosy prospects arose at first, in November and December, since the names of willing candidates disclosed a good Surprise team, but business and the Christmas holjdays intervened, and one after anotier had to decline the honour with thanks and good wishes for our success. Corpl. F. A. Holden, trans ferred from Chatham to Deal for two years, found it impossible to get leave again, and, by-the-way, he's after more stripes. May he get four up before the four-peal day comes off. Others who had to decline for various reasons were: Messre. A H. Pulling, F. Bennett. B. Prewett, J. Parker, G. Williams, K. Hart, eto.

I hardly like taking up so much of your columns with details, but the gist of the replies were mostly in favour of four Surprise, and a great deal of interesting advice and commentary is available if our Editor would permit. Well, at last, we had a band, such as it was-all strong and willing pealmen; and, notwithstanding a battle royal with some of the kings on our chess board, they each kept to their promises, and met punctually. The next difficulty to overcome was the question of society-four were proposed at one time. so that cverything should be quadrupled if possible, such as four composers, four conductors, four bells per man, but we overlooked the fourth day of the fourth month, and perbaps that would bo more appropriate in the year 1914. An opportunity once existed of adding the venture to the records of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, but when it was found so many of the prominent ringers belonging to the various County and Diocesan Associations around London also belonged to the old London Society, known as the Royal Cumberland Youths, a good majority declared in favour of the latter, if only to rouse up the brotherhood from its present lethargic and disbanded conditions.

Having fixed up the towers, the bands, and the society to our mutual satisfaction, one would havo thought the organiser was free from further care, but this was not to be. 'The mothods had to be weighed up next, and four Surprise peals were found wanting. We could have managed, perhaps, two of them. However, on the principle of whole hog or none: we came down to Standard methods, again in four varieties. but with the additional feature of being the first poal in the method on the bells four times, if we were successful. Quite early in my correspondence, I found I had to "father my flock" while travelling. Some wanted to bring their cycles to ride round the parishes. another suggested a couple of motor cars, and others inquired as to trains, and townrds old Christmas Day I began to think my tether was not only at an end, but was well nigh severed. It was due to an unexpectedly favourable telegram from Clapton on the Friday previous, that the whole affair was not abandoned on the Saturday, and even then the state of the River Thames owing to the excessive December rainfall was such (3ft. above head at Windsor) as to render a crossing by feruy boat in the darknees of a winter's night almost impossible. Yet "Father Thames" was willing. He subsided sufficiently and in good time to allow our party to go over from Bucks to Herks in two loads with the assistance of friendly lanterns on each bank as prearranged
The programme stipulated for meeting at the Catherine Wheel, Egham, between 8 and 9 a.m. on Monday, January 6th. On Tuesday thn band wero aroused at 4 a.m., the arrangements being as under:-
St. John the Baptist's, Egham, Surrey (Rev. W. 'T. Nicholson, Vicar) Bob Major, $5 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.: breakfast. $8.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. ; train, Fgham to Staines, 8.55 a.m.

St. Peter's, Staines, Miiddlesex (Rev. HI E. Hall, Vicar), Double Norwich, 9.30 a.m. Lunch at the Packhorso Hotel at 12.30. Train, Staines to Wraysbury, 1.33.
St. Andrew's, Wraysbury, Bucks (Rev. L. F. Hake, Vioar). Kent Treble Bob Major, 2.15 p.m. Tea at the George Inn at 5.15. Walk to ferry for crossing at 6 p.m
St. Peter's, Old Windsor, Berks (Rev. J. R. Napier, Vicar), Oxford Treble Bob Major at 6.30 p.m. Supper at The Wheatsheaf at 10 p.m.; train to London from Datchet, 10.49 p.m.
This programme was practically adherod to with the following ex ceptions, to which I have added a fow notes. The trains from Egham to Staines and Wraysbury were not used, Mrs. Harry Loo kindly allowing us to use her motor brougham, holding six, and the other two cycling.
The Wraysbury attempt lasted 2 hns. and 5 mins., when two ringers changed their work. Most London men know the difficult striking and circle of those bells, but in addition we were smoked out, like rats in a hole, for over an hour with the sulphurous fumes of a beating apparatus chimney blowing directly into the belfry window; we were subjected to a long spell of powerful organ playing, coupled with a noisy ringing room just under the bells, and last, but not least, we rather overdid the hot lunch at Staines, and sadly wanted forty winks; while workmen were also about building a covered way and decorating the church for a wedding on the morrow. I mention these facts only as partial excuso for our failure. Such a band culght to have finished a good peal of Treble Bob-as they were all fairly freshand after putting up with such difficulties for over an hour. Mr.
Goorge Gigg, of Egham, kept us company round to Wraysbury, and Goorge Gigg, of Egham, kept us company round to Wraysbury, and there left us to return to Figham with a mysterious packet of eight sovereigns in his pocket. Mr. A. G. Kettle, captain of the Egham Society, sent us a hearty welcome with tile best wishes of his company for our success. At Stanes we were met by the Rev. R. W. Hodges, curate-in-charge, during the absence of the Vicar, suffering with a serious cold. Mr. Hodges very kindly officiated as our chaplain, and said the belfry office before we pulled off, and later congratulated us, and presided at our luncheon at the Packhorse Hotel, where we wers joined by Messrs. Preston and Butler, of the local company.
Our mortification having subduad over tea at the George Inn, not before a good sluice of the nose and mouth in water had removed the burning dryness of coke firing, it was decided to go on to Windsor an arranged; but not to attempt a peal since the object of our visit could not be concluded that day. At Old Windsor we were met by Messis. J. Guttridge and Wm. Welling, and touches of Superlative Surprise and Double Norwich Major and Stedman Triples were rung from 6.20 to 7.30 p.m. The Vicar and churchwarden not only came to welcome us. but oach pulled a bell also. Instead of going home by the last up train from Datchet, at 10.49 to Waterloo, our party broke up at 8.30 p.m., not altogether satisfied, and by no means disappointed with their ringing ramble into four countios in one day.

All the bells were carefully greased and raised, ropes attended to, and the belfries put in readiness on the day before our visits, and our best thanks are duo to the respective steeple keepers for doing their utmost to bring about succoss: Mr. Gigg, Egham; Mr. Parker, Staines Mr. Burley, Wraysbury; and Mr. Gnttridge, Old Windsor. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Loc, of the Catherine Wheel, Cgham, entered into the spirit of our task, and ensurad our being called at 4 a.m., and provided with an early breakfast for our day's start off. Although we have no record to chronicle, everybody gave us assistanco readily, and so enabled us to economise time, one of the most important factors in such a contract. Well. Whenever it is done, the 20,000 changes in four poals, with intervals, will not equal e $15,000 \mathrm{rung}$ in one continuoud peal.-W.F.F.

GILLETT& JOHNSTON CROYDON, Surrey. BELLS, CLOCKS, CARILLONS.

St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton.

Tenor (33 cwt.) of the New Ring of 12. WOLFRDN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON, MESSRS, GILLETT and JOHNSTON, GROYDON. 4th March, 181日. Gentlemen,

The re-oasting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two now ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, reoently carried out by you has proved most succeseful, and given coneral satisfaction.

I am authorised by tine Rector and Wardens to say how pleased thay are with the result. In the opinion of thowe woll qualified to judre, we hava now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom.

Yours faithfully, F. T. BEOK,
Arohitect, Dioocesm Survojor.

BELLS AND RINGING ABROAD.

It has often been said, and with truth, that bell ringing is essential an English science and pastime. Nowhere outside this country has it taken firm root-hold, for even in Wales, Ircland and Scotland, with a few noteworthy exceptions, there is no district in which it is generally practiced as it is almost throughout England. One frequently hears the question asked by the curious, "Why is it?" There are probably a variety of causes, but the chief is the lack of bells hung in peals for ringing. Even in the Colonies the Art has not established itself, except here and there in a precarious manner. Transplanted from its native soil, it does not seem to flourish long in any place, as we have seen from recent reports sent from overseas.

Most of the colonial cities are, of course, of comparatively recent growth, they are the products of the modern methods of civilisation, where everything is done by hustm ling and money is spent only upon that which is going to bring a return in money. The result is that the Church, in its efforts to expand with the increasing populations, has barely enough to carry out its spiritual functions, let alone provide for the places of worship such expensive luxuries as peals of bells.

Eyen at home the bells are the last consideration, while in the Colonies they are still less thought about, and the towers, when erected to give architectural dignity to the buildings, are of such a character that they would be totally unfit to stand the swing of a peal. The result is that when, under a generous impulse, some beneficent person desires to add a ring of bells to a colonial church, the conditions usually only permit of them being hung for chiming. Several peals in recent years have been sent to Canada to be erected in towers far too fragile to allow of the bells being rung, and those from the old country who might thus have the opportunity of planting the Art in a new centre are thus debarred.

Under these circumstances it is very pleasing to learn from Dr. Nicolls, of Boston, U'S.A., that the recent in., stallation at Hingham, Massachusetts, has stimulated a movement to place English bells in two other towers of Now England. The new peal in the lofty tower of the Perkins Institution for the Blind will shortly be dedicated, which will make the fifth belfry at or near Boston available for half-pull ringing. There is at present, however, a deplorable dearth of ringers, but that is a difficulty more easily surmounted than the obtaining of ringable peals of bells. If Dr. Nicolls could get round him from England the nucleus of a good change ringing band, much might perhaps bo done to spread the Art under the Stars and Stripes. At any rate, it looks as if there is a field here for work, if only the men can be found.

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomfield Vicarage, Chelmsford

Dear Birs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfed with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-banging the Broomfield Church Bells.

We consider that the work redeats great sredit upon your firm, and believe that your system of banging the bulle reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minizaum.
The CHURCEWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The belliringers are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yeurs truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS,

THE NEW MASTER OF THE CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

The change in the mastership of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths has brought into the office a ringer whose name hats for many years been well-known in the Exercise-Mr James Parker, of Edmonton. Those who remember the performances of the band at Crawley twenty and more years ago will recollect him as the moving spirit in the tower of the little Sussex town and as the conductor of Surprise methods, at a time few local bands were ringing peals of this intricate character, he had fow equals. With equal enthusiasm he has since been largely responsible for the success of the Edmonton

Band, and now that he has been elected to the chair of the Cumberland Youths we may look for further efforts in re-cstablishing this ancient society in its former high position.

Mr. James Parker was born at Pulborough, Sussex, in 1866, and learned to ring on the six bells at Charlwood under the late Mr. F. Wickens at the age of 15 . Afterwards he went to the village of Storrington, where he taught a "stoney" band to ring Doubles on the five bells there. In sigo he removed to Crawley. There was no ringing there at that time, but he formed a local band, and, after a few practices, he rang his first peal (Kent Treble Bob Major) at Varnham. This was followed a lew months later by so, ry 6 in the same method at the same church. He then started in earnest with the Crawley band, and within four years they rang peals from Crandsire Triples to London Surprise, and in $189+$ rang the then record peal of Superlative (9312 changes) which Mr. Parker conducted, as he had done most of the peals in the Crawley tower. During these years the local band rang Stedman, Double Norwich, Alliance, Superlative, Cambridge, New Cambridge, New Cumberland and London Surprise. At that time there were not more than five bands in the country who could ring all these methods.

Moving to London in $1896, \mathrm{Mr}$. Parker found that Surprise men were by no means easy to get together, and there were several years in which very little ringing was done. After settling at Edmonton, however, a band was at last got together which could ring Superlative, since which time the company has never looked back, and they are now capable of ringing any Surprise method and ringing it well. In the last 13 attempts for London Surprise not one peal has been lost, and in the year 1912 only every peal in a Surprise method attempted was brought round with one exception.

Although fond of peal ringing, Mr. Parker's main object has always been to get peals rung by local bands, or by those who ring for the services on Sundays. Particularly is this the case with new methods, and all his first peals in Surprise methods have been rung in this way. He considers-and many ringers will agree with him-that a peal of Grandsire Triples by a local band is worth more than all the peals of London by a mixed band of experts.

Mr. Parker is a conductor of great ability, and, while some may think him somewhat stern in his manner when ringing, there can be no question that implicit obedience to the conductor is the key-note of success in peals. Those who do not realise this when ringing with Mr. Parker sometimes hear "something to their advantage" afterwards. Of nothing in regard to ringing is Mr. Parker prouder than the success of his talented daughter, who has unquestionably inherited some of her father's skill as a method ringer.

In addition to his connection with the Cumberland Youths Mr. Parker is a member of the following societies: Sussex Association, Winchester Guild, Salisbury Guild, Middlesex Association, Hertfordshire Association, Lincolnshire Guild, Midland Counties Association and St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham. He has rung 290 peals, on tower and handbells, and these have been spread over 75 churches in $I_{5}$ counties. Appended is the list:-

Owing to the pressure on our space this week several reports have had, unavoidably, to be held over, including the Romney Marsh Guild's annual meeting and the Fressingham Anniversary.

The peal of eight bells (tenor 16 cwt.) of the church of SS. Peter and Paul, Eckington, near Sheffield, having got into an unringable condition, are to be retuned and rehung in a new stcel frame, with all the most modern fittings. The work has been entrusted to Messrs. John Warner and Sons, of the Spitalfields Bell Foundry, London.

Congratulations to the Bristol men on their peal of Cambridge Maximus on the magnificent bells of St. Mary Redcliffe. They are, we believe, only the third company to ring a peal in this complex method. Ipswich and the College louths are the other bands who can claim success up to the present, although we may hear of others cre long, for at least two other bands are in practice.

We have received a letter from " A Sympathiser" calling into question the peal of Bob Minor rung at St. Nicholas, Wallases. He says " Great credit is due to the lads who took part in the performance for having made such progress under Mr. G. R. Newton's guidance, with assistance from many others, including Mr. Wilcox." He adds, however, that "Mr. Wilcox has condemned it as not being a true peal." Apparently there has been some correspondence with the conductor on the subject, but as our correspondent does not wish his name published, and as portions of one letter only are sent, we refrain from inserting them. If we are enabled to give both sides we shall, as always, be pleased to insert the correspondence.

ROBINSON MEMORIAL SCREEN DEDICATION.

The dedication of the screen at St. Peter's Church, Drayton, to the memory of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson will take place (D.v.) on Saturday, February 8th (instead of February ist, as previously announced). The ceremony will be nerformed by the Ven. W. M. G. Ducat, Archdeacon of Berkshire, at 4 p.m. Wrill all those interested kindly take this as an invitation to be present. Clergy are requested to bring their robes.

The bells will be available for ringing between 2 and 4 , and possibly later in the evening. Tea will be provided, after the service, free for all those who send me their names by Wednesday, February 5th.

Drayton is two miles from Abingdon Station, and the same distance from Sterenton.-Cyril IV. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham.

THE BRISTOL SURPRISE RECORD. To the Editor.

Sir,-I see in your last issue, Mr. Winney makes a very unfavourable "dig" at the above record, which is very misleading, and may lead some people to believe that the peal was not rung in the manner it should have been. I wish to inform Mr. Wimey that the band who took part in it met together last Saturday, and were by no means pleased with his remarks, and I am requested to ask Mr. Winney what explanation is forthcoming. At present I ask him one question only, and providing a satisfactory reply is for theoming, the matter will drop, but failing this I shall put one or two questions to him that he may experience some difficulty Hi f.nswering, but will be compelled to do so in his own defence. The question I ask him is: Did he, while outside Hornchurch tower, hear anything that he would term a muddle?Yours truls,
W. PYE.

Sir,-I sec in your last issue a letter from Mr. C. F. Winney, which I think calls for reply. First as to the question of adrertisement. I can assure Mr. Winney that I did not ring 114 peals in one year for that purpose. I simply ring peals for pleasure, which, I bolieve, most ringers do, but I think if I wanted to "advertise," I could do it in a different way to that. I do not get my living out of ringing, but I know several who make a big meal out of it. As regards his next statement, I have not much to $6 a y$, as I believe the writer of the letter cloes exactly what I have done, viz., take part in peals to oblige others. We cannot all arrange peals; if we did we shotikl not be able to get bands to meet us. The third matter, however, is the most important. Now I am not going round the comers after Mr. Wimey, or any of his clients, who have backed him up in this. The first question I ask Mr. Wimney is, did he hear anything approaching a " muddle" in the long peal of Bristal rung at Hornchurch: Of course, I know what he was there for, and he had a perfect right to be there, as he rang the treble to the previcus record. But they should send a man who knows the method so that he can take off the peal in a proper manner. There were ringers there, who heard all the peal, far more adranced in the method than Mr. Wrinney, and who can strike a bell equal to him or anyone floe. and they never heard anything approaching a "cmuddle." If Mr. Wimey wants my opinion of what a muddle is, I can coon tell him. If he just looks back to a few peals which have been published in "The Ringing World," I can tell him that they were not rung without a, muddle. He should practice these things before he preachês. I should have very much liked to have seen another signature to Mr. Winney's letter, because I know who has put him up to this. Why does he not try and get another band together and beat the 15,264 like we did the Knebworth peal, only ring the next one on come metal. Then, if possible, we will come and hear it.-Yours, ctc., Haggerston.

A. W. GRIMES.

AUTHORSHIP CLAIMS.

To the Editor.

Dear sir,-My. Inattersley, in his letter, says that the first and second peals of New Cambridge Royal, published in their first letter, are not the same, and likewise the third and fourth peals. Therefore, if No. 1 is not the same as No. 2. it ie alasurd to say that it is the same as their 6048 Superlative Surprise Major. The same can be sadd of the third and fourth peals.

A littll further on he asks whether I copicd or reproduced his figures.
His " mind you, when he admits that twelve of the fourteen courses that I used were as much minc as his. Then take away the coursethat contains the key of the whole situation, which does not appear in his peal.

No. I no more reproduced Mr. Hattersley's peal than he reproduced J. Reeves', when he composed that peal of Treble Box Maximus I had the pleasure of ringing in Sheffield some years ago. Are we to take it that the three gentlemen who have taken up this matter have one code of morals for themselves, and a sccond code for other prople? Yours faithfully, hospitable welcome for preston branch.

The quarterly meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Penworthain on Saturday last, and was excellently attended. The belis were well utilised in a variety of methods during the afternoon. Following their usual custom, the cver-hospitable Vicar and his wife had invited all who attended to tea, and a company of 38 were present in the West End School. Full justice was done to the good things provided, and afterwards the Rev. Burton made a racy speech, in which he complimented the Preston brauch on making such a good muster on a wet day. Referring to the recent Bi-centenary celebrations, he said it was surprising what an interest it had awakened in their parish in regard to its church bells. He mentioned the fact that they now had an cuthusiastic band of learners, and, lisiting the tower on a recent Sunday, he found there were more men than ropes. He had seen some of these ardent recruits jotting figures down in pocket books in all sorts of places, and he hoped they would keep it up. Finally, he gave one and all a hearty welcome, and said what a pleasure it was to himself and Mrs. Burton to see them all on thesc occasions.-A vote of thanks to the Vicar and Mrs. Burton was proposed by Mr. J. Miller, seconded by Mr. Hutchinson, and was carried with acclamation. - At the business meeting, Coppull (a new ring of six by Messrs. Taylor) and Whittle-le-Woods were decided on as the next meetingplaces. One new member was elected, and the meeting closed with the best thanks of the meeting to the authorities and local ringer's for the use of the bells. Ringing was afterwards indulged in during the evening. The towers represented were: Chorley, Brindle, Preston Parish, Goosnargh, Eecleston, Leyland St. James', Samlesbury, and the iocal men.

MANCHESTER BRANCH.

A very well-attended meeting of the above branch was held at Manchester Cathedral on Saturday last, members boing present from Manchester, Ashton-under-Lyne, Eccles, Worsley, Pendleton, Stockport, Hyde, Reddish, Birch, Prestwich, Miles Platting. New Mills, Darley Dale, etc.-Mr. J. Barratt took the chair, and gave a hearty welcome to all present.-Mr. Higginbottom, warden at the Cathedral, honoured the meeting with his presence.-Three members of the Manchester police force were elected members, viz.: J. Wilson, W. Spicer, J. Turner.-A hearty vote of thanks was given to the authorities for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers.-The following methods were rung during the day: Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION. COMBINED PRACTICES SUGGESTED.

The first quarterly meeting for the year in connection with the Vorthern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association was weld at Oldbury on Saturday. The attendance was not so large as expected, but it was full of enthusiasm, and the members were very pleased to see amongst them once again, after his long and severe illness, Mr. William Painter. The following towers were represented: Oldswinford, Stourbridge, Rowley, Smethwick, Nethcrton, Clent, Wollaston, Kidderminster, Northfield. Edgbaston, Birmingham, Old Hill, Halesowen, Wordsley, King's Norton, Oldbury and Selly Oak.-At the service, the Vicar (the Rev. P. H. Birley) officiated, and delivered a very instructive and practical address.-Mr. Johnson, of Old Hill, presided at the organ, and his services were much appreciated.
In the absence of the Vicar, who was unable to be prescut, the business meetmg was presided over by Mr. H. Mason. Bromsgrove was selected for the next quarterly meeting, and Oldbury for the quarterly peal attempt. Four new performing members were elcctel.--Mr. I. Smith, of Kidderminster, suggested that it would be a great advantage to the Association, if it could be arranged to have two or three ringing practices during the year, and it was resolved to bring the matter before the annual meeting at Stourbridge on Easter Monday.-A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for arranging the service, and for the use of the bells, and to Mr. II. Mason for presiding.
A return to the tower was afterwards made, and the bells were kept going in various methods, including attempts in London and Bristol Surprise Major.

ST. PETER MANCROFT GUIID.

At the sixth annual meeting of the St. Peter Mancroft Guild, Norwich, the Vicar (the Rev. F. J. Meyrick) presided, and the hon. secretary, in his report, referred to the continuity throughout the year of the splendid work of regularly ringing whe bells for Sunday services, including the carly mornings on all festival occasions. At present there were fourteen performing members on the hooks, and as this was somewhat below the average, the Guild had taken in hand six recruits, who were making good progress.-The Troasurer (Mr. D. O. Holme) submitted the balance sheet. which showed a balance of $£ 610 \mathrm{~s}$. on the right side. This balance was earmarked for renovating peal boards, some of which are amongst the oldest in existence
Mr. H. J. Borrett was elected Master; Mr. F. II. Phillips, hon. secretary; and Mr. D. O. Holme, treasurer.

At the close of the business, the Chairman thanked the members for all the ringing they had done during the year. It gave him great satisfaction to know that the bells would be rung on any special oceasion he might ask for.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

ROBINSON MEMORIAL AT CHRIST CHURCFI CATHEDRAL
Successful and well-attended the annual meeting of the Sonning Dennery Branch of the Oxford'Guild was held at St. Paul's, Wokingham, on Saturday. At evensong, the Rev. H. C. Wilder, Rector of Sulham, preached from St. Matthew r, verse 16, an appropriate sermon to the large congregation of ringers. After high tea, held in tho Parish Room, the Master of the Guild, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, in the unavoidable absence of the branch chairman, the Rev. 1R. Il. Hart-Davis, who is recovering from illness, presided over the ammal business meeting. The general secretary of the Diocesan Guild, Mr. A. E. Reeves, the Rev. E. E. Broome, hon. secretary of the branch, and several other clergy, were also present.
The Hon. Secretary reported a balance in hand of some £5. The membership stood at 113 change lingers, 10 life subseribers and 16 probationers, with five life members and 30 honorary members, an increase of six on last year. Ten peals were reported as having been rung during the year, while "combined practices" - a great help to the members-had numbered twelve.
The report and balance sheet were adopted, and a vote of sympathy with the Rev. I. H. Davis was nnanimously carried.- The chairman and hon. secretary were unanimously re-elected, as were the usual committees.

Mr. Reeves gare some interesting details of the Guild report for the past year. Three new towers-Simpson, Beechampton and Shinfieldhad been admitted, while one, Wood Eaton, had dropped out. One hundred and twonty peals had been rung during the year, fifteen of them in the Surprise methods, which showed advanocment all round the Guild.
The Chairman then announced that the memorial screen to the nemory of their late Guild Master, the Rev. Francis Edward Robinson, had been completed at Drayton Church, and that the dedication coremony was fixed for Feb. 8th. Archdeacon Ducat (of Berks) had consented to perform the ceremony, and to preach. A tablet to their late Master's memory had in the last week been affised in the cloisters at Christchurch (Oxford), recording that it was "erected in the memory of Francis Edward Robinson, some time Vicar of Drayton, and Master of the Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers.
Soming hat re-hung their peal of eight bells, while Twyford expected by Easter to have a peal of eight.
The Rer. B. Long, Rector of All Saints', Wokingham, gave a cordial wolcome to the Guild in advance for the July meeting. - Votes of thanks to the Rector of St. Paul's, the Rev. H. M. Walter, who was represented by the Rev. S. J. Kichards, and to the organist, workers and ladies of St. Pauls for their kinclness, concluded a very successful meeting.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Northern District was held on Saturday last. The tower of St. Mary's, Islington, was open in the afternoon and evening, and some good touches in various methods were rung.
The business meeting was held at "The Olde King's Head," and was very well attended. Mr. A. Barker was again chosen to fulfil the duties of Master for the present year; and Messrs. Cornford, Walker and Porter were appointed to the offices of socretary, treasurer and steward respectively. The progress of the district for the past year has been very encouraging. both as to finance and membership; but it is hoped this yoar to io decidedly better. A very mleasant time was spent at the close of the mecting, enlivened by handbells, songs and recitations.

The annual meeting of the Southern District took place at St. ieorge's, Southwark, on Saturday last. There was some good ringing in various Standard methods, and many notable ringing members were present. The business meeting was hell at the Southwark Tavern, the Master, Mr. II. S. Fllis, presiding.-It was decided to hold the next meeting on April 19th, at Battersea, or, failing that, Hammersmith. New members were elected, and the balar.ce sheet adopted. There was contest for the office of Master between Mr. E. A. Reeves and Mr. II.
Ellis, the latter being re-elected The secretary, Mr. F. A. Smith, and the treasurer, Mr. H. Mance, wero unanimously re-elected. There was also a contest for the stewardship, and Mr. C. H. Hughes was re-elected--A pleasant evening was afterviards spent with touches on the e.ected-A plea

OLD KEIGHLEY RINGER'S DEATH.

A well-known Keighley ringer of former years has passed away, in the person of Mr. Asa Smith. The deceased was a ringer at the Parish Church for upwards of 30 years, althongh he had not taken an active part for the last twelve years. There were present at the funeral, in addition to members of the family, representatives of the Engineers' Society and other bodins in the town, as well as a number of ringers. At the conclusion of the service, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside on handbells, by:J. Edmondson, R. W. Jennison, S. Bateman and $T$. Bancroft. Th3 effect was solemn, and at the same time pathetic and sweet. On Sunday wrek, at the Parish Church, a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung, with the bells muffled, as a last token of respect to the ringers' departed comrade.

DOUBLE WORCESTER BOB MAJOR.

To the Editor.

Sir--The figures published in this week's "Ringing World," and called Double Worester Bob Major, are not a legitimate method. The lead giren is not a Plain Lead, because it breaks the rule of method construction that a Plain Lead must be symmetrical; secondly, it is not Double. If Mr. Pigott wili get Rutes and Decisions of the Central Council puhblisled in 1904, and study the Legitimate Methods report on pages 16. 17 and 18 , and the figures on page 24, he will see where his figures fail, and if $l_{n}$ wants any further explanation and likes to write to me, I shatl be pleased to answer any questions.
Surfleet, spalding.

After the loyal toast, the Chairman gave a very. cordial welcome to the risitors, expressing the hope that they would make the best use of the time and bells at their disposal. The Secretary gave a bricf account of the position of the Association, and the business meeting terminated with the clection of new members. Various touches were afterwarcis bought round on both towers and handbells.

PETERBOROUGH AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

On Thursday weck, five mombers of the above society journeyed from Peterborough and Yoxley to the village of Alwalton, where there is a nico ring of five bells, upon which they rang a well-struck date touch of Grandsire Doubles, in 1hr. 8 mins. : Oswald Richardson 1, William Waldron 2, Hugh Beechy 3, John Jutson 4, Gcorge Jutson (conductor) 5. This was the longest length for ringers of the treble and 3rd bells. After this the bells were lowered, and the band walked to Overton Station, and took train to Castor, where they were met by one of the Castor ringers, who wished to ring his first 720 of Bob Minor. The bolls were raised, and then 1188 of Bob Minor was brought ound by: F. Fitzjohn, W. W'aldron, J. Jutson, H. Beechy, O. Richard501 and G. Jutson (conductor). This was the first 720 for the ringer of tho treble, and the first on an inside bell by ringer of the 4th. This concluded a very pleasant afternoon, and two of the band had a five miles' walk home.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

Fhe Northern District Practice held on January 8th, at North Shicids, was attensicd by ringers from four towers. Some lang their first touches in Grandsire and Treble Bob, and good practice wis then nut in at Stodman Triples Ond voweastle Association is to secure the recognition of ringers as Churchworkers; it was cousequently a satisfaction and a pleasure to receive a visit in the bulfry from the Vicar of North Shields. He expressed his interest in the moecedings, and informed the ringers that he is connected by marriage with the late Mr. Jasper W. Snowdon, whose name is familiar to every ringer as the author of many works on ringing.
The next practice will be held on Friday, January 24th, from 6.30 p.m. till 9 p.m., it Bernwell.

 WOLFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON,MESSRS, GILLETT and JOHNBTON, CROYDON, 4th Marah, 1918. Gentlemen,

The re-asating of the peal of ten bella with the addition of two new onee in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given coneral matisfaction.
I and authorised by tine Rector and Wardens to ay how plensed they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualifed to judge, we have zow, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yeurn faithfully, F. T. BEOK, Arohiteot, Dioocen Burveyor.

A WORD TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We are rapidly approaching the completion of our second year, and, without being egotistical, we believe we may say we have more than justified our existence. We have endeavoured to supply the needs of the Exercise, and if we have succeeded we are well satisfied. That our efforts have met with appreciation we have many evidences to prove, and one of the strongest is the large amount of matter sent us every week for publication. There can be no better proof of the popularity of this journal, we think, than the enormous quantity of reports of various kinds which we receive, and we desire gratefully to acknowledge the help thus accorded us by a host of correspondents all over the country. But this large batch of material which comes into our office every week-enough sometimes to fill our available space twice over-presents the most serious problem with which we are confronted. In our desire to do justice to everyone we do our best to crowd in whatever we receive each week, but it is not always possible to find room for everything. The columns of a newspaper are not elastic, and although we frequently, at considerable cost, increase the number of our pages in order to meet the demands upon our space, there are still a few of our readers who are disappointed at some delay in the appearance of what they forward for insertion. With a view, therefore, to facilitating matters in this direction we would make a special appeal to corespondents to send in all reports as early as possible. Unfortunately a great many leave their communications to the very last minute. Our large circulation and the fact that every issue has to be distributed over the whole area of the kingdom, make it impossible for us to take ordinary matter after Tuesday morning, but though this is made clear in a notice which appears in our columns every week, a great many things which might arrive much earlier swell our mail bag as we are on the point of going to press. We gladly welcome communications upon every subject relating to ringing and the welfare of the Exercise, but it would save us much soreness of heart and vexation of mind if all our correspondents would follow the excellent example to which some adhere of sending in their contributions as soon as the peal has been rung or the meeting held, as the case may be. If early matter were only sent in early much trouble and disappointment might be saved. As an example of what sometimes happens, we may mention that we received on Tuesday the report of an event which happened in December, with the request that it should appear this week. And while dealing with this subject may we request correspondents not to send communications to our publishers, it only causes inconvenience and delay. Correspondence on all matters should be sent to the Editorial Office.

Charles carr,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

BroomHeld Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that we are perfectly satistled with the manner in which you have aarried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfield Church Bells.
Te consider that the work reHects great credit upon your firm, and boliave that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCEWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELIRINGERS are also unawimous in their praise of the altexations effected by you.

Yours truly,

(the Rev. W. W. C. Baker) had recently celebrated his silver wedding, the secretary was requested to convey the hearty congratulations of the meeting to the President.

Considering that the ringers pesent so thoroughly enjoyed themselves, it need hardly be recorded that a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar (the Rev. WF. S. C. Seccombe) for giving facilities for the meeting, and for granting the use of the bells.

The Rev. Tyrwhitt-Drake addressed the mecting on a scheme of his, for the recognition of those companies who make the bast average of attendance and progress during the year, and was promised hearty support from all present.
To antiquarians who visit the district, it may be interesting to add that there is in the wall of the tower the face of a very old sum dial. It was discovered when the church was rebuilt in 1898, and, though the writer has been unable to verify the statement, he was told by a local authority that it is the only known specimen of a Saxon sun-dial with a whole face.

ST. BOTOLPH'S RINGERS' TRIBUTE.

On Wednesday, January 15th, the whole pull and stand was ruug with the bells half muffled, at St. Botolph's Church, Bishopsgate, London, as a mark of respect to the late Mr. Horner. The deceased, whose death occurred with appalling suddenness, was highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him, and was for many years a regular worshipper at St. Botolph's. The ringers, who aro members of the local band, were: W. Arnold 1, H. Laver 2, F. Andrevs 3, J. Cornford 4, Rev. J. A. S. Bullock 5, W. Tdwards 6, T. Walker 7, A. Pettett 8. ## THE LEGITIMATE METHODS.  Io the Editor.

Sir,-On December 6th last, Mr. F. Blood asked the Whitley Bay ringers, through the columns of "The lainging World," to inform the Exercise of the methods they had rung and the names and dates since "Legitimate Methods" was published. Mr. Blood also says he has the name and date of every method it has been possible to get, so I ask him through your columns if No. 13 in the Delight class is among his collection. This method I composed myself, and it was rung by our band eight or nine years ago under tho name of Oswald Treble Bob. In the Surprise class, No. 24 is one I composed and named Lancashire Surprise; we rang it first time on May 27th, 1906. Another of our band, Mr. Isaac Whalley, composed No. 22 and named it Immanuel. This also was rung on May 27th, 1906.-Yours faithfully,
C. SHARPLES.
[No. 13 of the 4th's place Delights is now officially known as Willesden and No. 13 of the 3rd's place Delights as Kent. No. 24 in the Surprise class is known at Stamford. The name of Lancashirc has been given to No. 22.-Ed. 1

THE BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

At Cardington, a village still fragrant with the memory of that great prison-reformer, John Floward, a meeting of the Bedford district was held on Saturday. The weather was not of the best. but, notwithstanding, there attended ringers representing eleven towers, and the beautiful ring of eight bells was kept going to Plain Bob, Grandsire, Kent, Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge. It was a very instructive meeting, and a number who attended derived great advantage.
A tea, arranged at one of the local inns, was partaken of in the most fraternal and jovial spirit, after which followed a short meeting. -The District Secretary, Mr. J. W. Barker, read a letter of thanks from the Mayor of Bedford, also an iuvitation from the Sharnbrook ringers.-Following a discussion, it was decided to hold the next meet-

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

PRESIENTATION TO LEWISHAM DISTRICT SECRETARY

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at St. Alphege, Greenwich, on Saturday. This peal of ten was available during the aftornoon, and about 80 members assembled in the Parish Room for tea and business, among those present being Miss Christabel Airey, and the Revs. F. J. O. Helmore and T. W. Sturgess, the lastnamed occupying the chair. The secretary's report again proved highly satisfactory, while the report of the district representative (Mr. W. J. Jeffries) on the proceedings of the Central Committee was followed with interest.-Several new members were elected, and the meeting then decided on Chislehurst as the place of the next quarterly meeting. The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, the hon. general secretary of the Association, then said ho had a very pleasant duty to perform. It was to ask Mr. 'Thos. Groombridge, the district secretary, to accept a little acknowledgment and appreciation of his ten years' work, in the shape of an address and a purse, adding, "I've no doubt there is something in it." Mr. Helmore then went back to the time when he first took office, before there was a Lewisham District branch of the Association. He spoke of the first secretarics, who each held office for a year or two, and the gradual success of the district, but he felt sure that all present were of the opinion that the present high position which the district held was largely due to the energy of their present secretary, Mr. Groombridge. Mr. Helmore added that it gave him great pleasure to come up from East Kent to perform such a pleasant office, and asked Mr. Groombridge to accept the address and purse.

THE ADDRESS.

The address, which was handsomely illuminated and framed, bore a picture of St. Mary's Church, Lewisham, and was worded as follows:-

The Kent County Association of Change Ringers.
To Thomas John Groombridge, Hon. Secretary Lewisham Dis trict.-On behalf of the Lewisham District of the above Association, we, the undersigned, desire to express our sincere thanks for the unfailing energy and enthusiasm you have shown in the execution of your duties as hon. secretary of the district during the past ten years. During that period the number of members has been almost doubled, the standard of the ringing has been raised, the spirit of association has dipened, and we gladly recognise the fact that this conspicuous improvement has been effected to a very great extent through your untiring efforts. We know that it has been with you a labour of love; and we hope and trust that the Association may continue to enjoy the benefit of your help and guidance for many years to come.-E. Barnett,
H. Warnett, I. Emery, J. Wheadon, C. H. Walker, S. H. Kecch, G. H. Warnett, I. Emery, J. Wheadon, G. H. Walker, S. H. Kecch, G.
H. Daynes, Committee; W. J. Jeffiries, Hon. District Representative; F. J. O. Helmore, Hon. General Secretary.

Mr. Groombridge, who was most enthusiastically veceived, said the members had completely taken the wind out of his sails. He went on to say that it had always been a labour of love to him to do what he could for the district. He thanked all for their kindness.-Mr. Hoskins moved a wote of thanks to Mr. Jeffries, who had been the prime mover in the object, and Mr. Jeffries replied thanking the district The ready way they had supported him.
The usual vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells.
The members then attended evensong, at which the Rev. T. W. Sturgess gave the address. At the close, the belfry was again visited, and much good practice was had during the day. Afterwards some of the members assembled at the Globe Hotel, and a pleasant hour was spent. Mr. F. W. Richardson presided at the piano, and songs were rendered bv Messrs. Jeffries, J. E. Davis, D. Wright, F. W. Thornton, C. Walker. W. Smith and F. W. Richardson, and the proceedings terminated another of the always successful and enjoyable meetings of the Lewisham District.
Mr. Groombridge requests us to insert the following letter to the members of the Lewisham District: "Being so taken by surprise at the very kind remarks of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore at our meeting on Saturday last, and the handsome present I received from his hands through your kind generosity, I found it impossible to thank you in a way I should like to have done, and desire, therefore, to take this opportunity of sincerely thanking you all for the handsome appreciation you have shown me for the services I have rendered you as your district secretary. The reverend gentleman's account of the doings and growth of the district was a great recompense to me for what I have done, but the handsome address will keep in my mind as long as I live the many happy hours we have spent together. Again I most sinceroly thank you all, particularly those gentlemen whose names appear on the address, for their exertions, and also the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, who made the journey from Canterbury especially for the occasion, thus conferring another great honour on me. I trust this district and the Association may continue to prosper."

MEETING AT SELLING

A very representative meeting was held at Solling on Saturday week, attended by 53 members. Ringers appeared early and rang various methods before 5.15 p.m., when the Vicar (the Rev. C. Whitmore Ford) conducted a very impressive service, following the form prepared for the Association. Afterwards the members adjourned to the White Lion for tea, very kindly provided by Mr. S. Neame, who was also present.

Subsequently, with the Vicar in the chair, the Rev. C. Whitmore Ford, the Rev. T. Harrison and Mr. S. Neame, hon. members and 10 new practising members were duly elected, and Chilham and Littlebourne towers were accepted into union. Mr. E. G. Buesden was appointed instructor to Chilham.

Mr. C. H. Drake proposed, and Mr. E. E. Foreman seconded a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the service and the use of the bells, and Mr. W. E. Pitman proposed, and Mr. A. H Saxby seconded, a vote of thanks to $\mathrm{Mr}_{1}$. Neame for the tea.-Both gentlemen suitably responded. At the conclusion of the business Grandsire and Stedman were runy on handbells Further touches on the tower bells were rung, and refreshments afterwards brought a very successful meeting to a close.

THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the North and East district was held on Saturday last at Southgate, and was attended by 50 members, the following towers being represented: Barnet, Edmonton, Finchley, Hadley, Hornsey, Southgate, Tottenham, Clapton, Clerkenwell, and Walthamstow (St. Saviour's). A short service was held, and an instructive address given by the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Peploc). Tea was served at the Cherry Tree, and was followed by the business meeting. -The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) gave a short report of the work of the district during 1912, and submitted the balance sheet, which, in spite of an increase in several items of expenditure, showed a balance to the good of nearly f3 on the year's working.
On the proposition of Mr. James Parker, seconded by Mr. Hi. Reeves, the whole of the officers were re-elected, this in itself being sufficient proof that the members were satisfied with their work.Seventcen new members were elected, including the recently-formed band at St. James', Clerkenwell, who were present, and took part in various touches during the day. Instructors were appointed, by request, to coach the ringers at Barnet and Hadley.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the district at Hornsey.The Hon. Secretary spoke of the importance of attending the annual general meeting, which is to be held at St. John's, Hillingdon, on the Saturday after Easter. This being the only occasion during the year when the two districts of the Association meet in an official way, he hoped that the members would make erery effort to attend.-Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his interesting address at the service, and to the local ringers for their kind welcome, concluded the business. The bells were utilised during afternoon and evening, the methods rung including Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Superlative, London and Bristol Surprise. It was one of the most successful district meetings in the annals of the Association.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very successful meeting of the Portsmouth district was held at St. Marys, Portsea, on Saturday. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung during the afternoon, and tea was partaken of at the institute, over 40 being present, including representatives from Titchfield, Portsea, Fareham, Swanmore, Curdridge, Harant, Bishop's Waltham, Brading, Ryde, and Gosport, and visitors from Lee-on-Solent, Twyford and North Stoneham. - At the business meeting, which followed, the report and balance sheet were adopted, and the officers reelected as follows: The Rer. C. E. Matthews, chairman; Mr. J. Whiting, secretary; Messus G. Chappell and E. J. Harding, representatives; and Mr. J. Symonds, auditor. One honorary and two performing members, and nine probationers were elected, together with the whole of the Gosport band, numbering 18 members. Much satisfaction was expressed at the Gosport hand again becoming affiliated to the Guild.Yotes of thanks were accorded the officers for so successfully transacting the business of the district, and to the Rev. C. Garbett for the use of the bells and institute.
The bells of St. Thomas' were available, and this tower was, therefore, also visited. Evensong was attended at St. Mary's, and a part. of the ringers' service was used.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Southern branch was held at Grautham, on Saturday, about 20 members being present from Barkston, Bourne, Stamford, Edenham, Ingoldsby, and Grantham. The Rev. Law James (Master of the Guild) and the Rev. C. J. Sturton, Vicar of Orston, Notts, and several friends from Peterborough were also present. A special service was held at the Parish Church, and an excellent address was given by the Vicar. After tea, the balance sheet was presented and adopted, and the officers elected.-The Rev. E. W. Carpenter, who was prevented from being present, owing to indisposition, was re-elected President; Mr. Sidney Proctor, the conductor of the Grantham company, was elected secretary, Mr. A. Markwell being obliged to resign owing to pressure of business. The other officers were re-elected, with a slight alteration of committee. - A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and also for his excellent address.- A vote of thanks was given to Mr. A. Markwell for his services as secretary for the past year. During the day. touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire, Treble Bob and Stedman were rung. We are asked to state that any correspondence relating to the Southern branch should be sent to Mr. Sidney Proctor, 72, Bridge End Road, Grantham.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS. SALISBURY.

By J. R. Jerram.

The old bell tower, which stood on the north side of the cathedral, about 60 yards thercfrom, contained a peal of eight bells, tenor 38 cwt . I have been unable to find out the dates or founders of the front five; but the seventh and tenor were recast in 1680 by Clement Tosier, in conjunction with Elizabeth Flower, widow of Robert Flower, bell founder, and the sixth (the only one now in existence) was cast by William Purdue in 166 I.
The history of the destruction of the tower and bells is as follows :-On October ioth, r746, several of the bells being cracked, and the fittings out of order, it was ordered that they be rung no more after November 5 th till the cracked ones be recast. This, however, was never done; but in 1762 a faculty was applied for to Bishop Thomas to sell the second, third, fifth, seventh and tenor, all of which were cracked. This was refused; but in 1777 Bishop Hume granted a faculty for their sale, and we find this entry in the records of the Dean and Chapter: 'March I4th, I777. Ordered that Mr. Lush (then clerk of the works) do sell the five bells that are down in the helfry, the Lord Bishop of Sarum having consented to their sale for the bencfit of the fabric." Robert Wells, the Aldbourne founder, then gave $£ 44 \mathrm{~s}$. per ctwt. for them, the total weight being computed at 7 tons 14 cwt . I qr.

In March, ry90, the old clock and the sixth bell were removed to the central steeple of the Cathedral, where they still remain; though the clock has been replaced by a new one, given by the Wilts Regiment in 1883 , which chimes the Cambridge quarters on four bells.
In January, 1793, the two remaining bells (treble and fourth) were sold to Robert Wells for $£ 105$. The bell tower was then pulled down, the upper part above the bells, which was of timber covered with lead, having been demolished in 1769 , on account of its dangerous condition. At that date the bell chamber was covered by a slated roof.

At the present time the central steeple contains the large service bell (the sixth of the original peal), weighing $24 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt., and the four clock bells. In the gable of the south transept hangs the Bishop's bell. The inscriptions and diameters are as follows :-

C. & G. MEARS, FOUNDERS, LONDON, 1854.
[Diameter 26 in.].
Before being recast the Bishop's bell was inscribed " + Iesus Nazarenus Rex Iudeorum "' in black letter alphabet.

A short description of the old bell tower may be of interest. It was a massive building, 33 feet square inside the walls, which were nearly eight feet thick. It was 80 feet high to the top of the parapet, over which was the bell chamber, built of timber covered with lead; above this was an octagonal turret surmounted by a spire, also formed of timber covered with lead. The total height was about 200 feet. The ringing floor was 37 feet from the ground.

ODD CHANGES.

We have had unavoidably to hold over until next issue, further correspondence on the peal at Wallasey; a lengthy letter from Mr. Dains in reply to Mr. Lindoff, and some other reports.

Another " tapping " performance is recorded this week, and is even more wonderful than the two peals recently scored by Mr. J. Segar, junr., of Retford, inasmach as the peal consisted of seven methods. To Mr. Olave Broyd, of Gestingthorpe, Essex, belongs the honour of this latest achievement, which included, in addition to 720 of Plain Bob, two 720's in double methods, three 720 's in Treble Bob methods, and $7_{*}^{20}$ of Cambridge Surprise.

We learn that Mr. H. W. Catterwell was invited to be present at the performance as an independent witness and one not belonging to the Gestingthorpe company. Being curious about the possibility of such a peal, Mr. Catterwell arranged with the other umpire, Mr. G. Pannell, that each should hunt a bell through the seven methods. Mr. Catterwell took the fourth and Mr. Pannell the tenor.

The former, in describing the performance, says: We found the bells which we were following to be correctly struck at an average of 36 rounds a minute. We asked Mr. Broyd to call out the bobs and singles, which were ticked down, and found to be exactly as arranged beforehand. The handbells used were of rather more than average size. "The six of them took up nearly three feet, so that readers can imagine what a difficult thing it was when the treble and tenor were together either in front or behind, and hence the much longer time occupied than in the peals tapped by Mr. Segar. While congratulating Mr.

Segar, I hope we are the first in the field with seven different methods. I can fully sympathise with the performer in the physical strain envolved, because my eyes were almost dazzled before the finish.

Five hundred peals for one association is a record of wonderful service rendered, and this valuable service has bsen given by Mr. Keith Hart, who, with a peal at Shoreham on Monday completed his fifth century for the Sussex Association. Speaking without any means, at the moment, of checking the absolute accuracy of the statement, we believe that only three other ringers can claim such a record. Mr. William Pye and Mr. Bert Prewett have each scored 500 for the Middlesex Association we believe, and probably the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, to whose memory a screen is to be dedicated in Drayton Church, on Saturday, February 8th, rang 500 for the Oxford Guild.

From inquiries made, Mr. J. McNillan believes that the St. John's Guild, Portmadoc, can claim to be the first Welsh speaking band to ring a peal. Their performance was one of Grandsire Triples at Portmadoc on Boxing Day, and was recorded in our issue of the 3rd inst. We presume that the bobs and singles were called in English, despite the fact that all the band spoke Welsh. Our knowledge of the Celtic tongue is nil, but while we understand it is a very musical language, the "calls" in a peal of Grandsire would have to be somewhat shorter than the name of that little village in Anglesea, which is spelt with some 69 letters, or else the conductor would have to start his bobs about a lead before they had to be made.

That peal of Cambridge Maximus at Bristol on Saturday week was a really great performance. An attempt was made for it on December 28th, on the occasion of the marriage of the Vicar, when the band rang 2 hrs. 36 mins. It was then arranged for the New Year, but fell through owing to a misunderstanding on the part of two of the band, who failed turn up. But the home coming of the Vicar and his bride gave the company another opportunity, which they used well. The band owe a debt of gratitude to many for being allowed to realise the height of their ambition on the bells of St. Mary Redcliffe. In the first place to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells for practice, and again to the clergy, who have on several occasions allowed them to ring through a service, and, lastly, to the steeplekeeper (Mr. P. W. H. Came) for his assistance on all occasions.

The Fulbeck company have rung $7^{20}$ of No. 5 of the Legitimate Plain Hunt methods, and desire to know if they can name it. The ,method, however, has already been named "Hereward." So far as we are aware the only methods that remain unnamed in that section are Nos. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21,22 and 27.

The performance of Allen Bailey, of Leiston, who is now only 16 years of age, is worthy of the famous band of brothers. In this issue we record a peal of Bob Major rung on handbells in which this young man took part, and also his first peal of Superlative inside. This latter was rung after only one practice-on the preceding Tuesday, when he rang two courses. This is extremely creditable progress.
A large clock has been erected in Rackenford Church, Devonshire. It is fitted with all the latest improvements, and generally made to the designs of the late Lord Grimthorpe. The work has been carried out by Messrs. John Smith and Sons, Midland Clock Works, Derby, who made the clocks in the neighbouring churches of Huntsham, Southmolton and others in Devonshire.

DOUBLE WORCESTER BOB MAJOR.

To the Editor.

Sir,--Since the publication of the above, it has been pointed out by IKr. Carter that this methed is given in one of the old books (Hubbard's, I think) as Double Yorkshire Court Bob Major, and in his opinion, possessing musical qualities superior to Double Norwich. I have not this book by me for reference, but have compared the method with Yorkshire Conrt, as given in Standard Methods, and find that if the latter is doubled, this is without the least doubt what "Double Worcester " is. It is, thercfore, only fair to withdraw any claim to the design, so $I$ ain publishing the peal under what $I$ think will bo admitted to be its proper title.
Turning to Mr. Law James' letter in last week's issue, I have not "Rules and Decisions" of the C.C., 1904, by me, so cannot refer to what he intimates. However, I have the C.C. "Glossary " of same date, which I find gives the following interesting information on page 8:-

- Lead-(b) The series of rows or changes beginning from and ending with a whole pull right by the Treble in its natural position at the commencement of the row or change, ibus beli having meanwhile occupied every place in the rows or changes the full mumber of times required by any given mode of producing permutations," etc., and this ends with: "The whole series is usually called a Treble Lead." Would this term have met Mr. James' requirements? If so, and wo turn to page 13, we find "Plain-devoid of calls, unaltered by a call, etc."

Again on page 14: "Plain Lead-(a) A lead introduced without a call. (b) The first Treble lead of the Plain Course," etc. Now as to the method as a whole, if we proceed to page 20 we find the term: Double-(a) A descriptive adjective attached to the name of a method in which half the plain course work of the bells in one direction is exactly repeated in the opposite direction to form the other half." Surely the cther C.C. publication does not contradict this! If so, which may we take as correct?

Finally, I do not propose to enter into any argument on this subject, but just give the facts as they appear to me. It is one thing to have "ideas," and another to get other people to accept them. The Stedman argument of some little time ago was convincing proof of this. I feel I can leave this to the judgment of the ringing fraternity in general, and can only add that "The result is the thing!', and whether this method is legitimate or not, it is generally agreed by the band who rang it; that it is far superior, both from a musical and a ringing point of riew, to many of the so-called legitimate methods.-Yours, etc. Smethwich. JOSEPH PIGOTT.

THE WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

For the first time in its history, a quarterly meeting of the abovo Guild was held in Birmingham last Saturday, Bishop Ryder's Church being the tower selected. Although so central, the number of members attending was not up to the average; indeed, it was rather disappointing. Albeit, a pleasant meeting resulted. The places represented were Coventry, Birmingham, Tamworth, Polesworth, Rugby, Fenny Compton, King's Norton and Stratford-on-Avon. Tea was partaken of at Treadwell's Restaurant in Corporation Street, and the business meeting followed, Mr. James Gcorge (Master) presiding, sulpported by the hon. treasurer, hon. secretary, and Mr. Cyril F. Johnston, of Croydon. The places proposed for the April meeting were Sutton Coldfield, Solihnill and Erdington, but eventually the two firstnamed were withdrawn in favour of Erdington. Three new members were elected, including Mr. C. F. Johnston as a life member, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Bishop Ryder's for the use of the towor. The bells-a light ring of eight, tenor 12 cwt . were kept going during the afternoon and ovening in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Troble Bob aud Superlative Surprise Major. By the kindness of Mr. W. Frank Webb, steeplekeeper of St. John's, Deritend, that tower was also placed at the disposal of mem. bers after tea, and Grandsire, Stedman Triples. Plain Bob and Double Norwich were the methods rung on the bells there.

BEDFORDSHIRE PRESIDENT'S SILVER WEDDING.

On January 11th, the occasion of the silver wedding of the highly esteemed Rector of Dunstable, the Rev. W. W. C. Baker, who is an ardent campanologist and President of the Beds Association, a quarter peal of Kent Treble Bob Major ( 1312 changes) was rung in 51 mins., $\mathrm{b}_{y}$ : W. Payne 1, G. Healey 2, G. Baldock 3, J. Simms 4, B. Wilson 5, J:. Hunt 6, S. Dobbie 7, A. King (conductor) 8. It was the first quarterpeal in the method by ringers of 2,3 and 4 . The ringers of $1,5,6$ and 8 belong to Luton, and 2, 3, 4 and 7 to the Dunstable band. After tea, at the Marchant Restaurant, the health of the Rev. and Mrs. Baker was drunk with musical honours.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
SACRED WORK IN THE BELFRY.

- $^{-}$district meeting of Ely Archdeaconry branch was held at Fulbourn on Saturday. During the afternoon, touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Kent Treble Bob were brought round, and a course of Cambridge Surprise was rung for the service, which was fully choral, and for which the Associatign's special form was used for the first time,-The Rector (the Rev. J. V. Durell) gave a very encouraging address.
An excellent tea was provided in the Assembly Room, through the generosity of the Rector, who was present, as was also Mrs. Durell. There were also present Mr. T. R. Dennis (general secretary), Mr. P. Webb (district secretary), Messrs. J. Taylor, W. B. Kempton, F. Kempton, A. Wilkerson (Cambridge), A. E. Austin (Stapletord), T
Hurry (Lawston), F. Handicombe (Melbourn), A. Starr (Ickleton), and the local company.-At the business meeting, which followed, several new members were elected. It was decided to hold the next district meeting at Longstanton.
A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the use of the bells, also for his kindness in providing ter and for presiding. The Rector, in reply, extended a hearty welcome to the Association. He added that if the people generally knew of the difficulties of the art of ringing they would respect and encourage ehange ringing a great deal more than they had done in the past. He was pleased to say all his ringers were highly respected by the parishioners, and he intended to speak in his sermons the next day about the bells, and to ask all to patronise ringers, as the work done in the beltry was as sacred as the work done in the chancel.

The tower was again visited, and various methods rung, including a good 720 of Kent 'ireble Bob, by: W. B. Kempton 1, 'T. R. Dennis 2, P. Webb 3, J. Taylor 4, A. Wilkerson (conductor) 5, F. Kempton 6.

HERTFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
A dietrict meeting was held on Saturday at Cheshunt, when the ring of eight bells were at the disposal of the members during the afternoon and evening. Twenty-two members attended. At tea, at the Green Dragon, the business meeting was held, the Rev. T. W. Barker presiding, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar.

A district meeting was also held at Aldenham, on Saturday, when 24 members assembled. Touches in various methods were rung, including Stedman, Superlative and Bristol. It is pleasant to record the affiliation of the Tring ringers with the Association, and the addition thereby of 12 new members. Change ringing has lately been established at Tring, and if enthusiasm can do anything towards a change ringing band being successful, we shall soon hear of the latest recruits scoring a peal. It was noticeable that youth was greatly in evidence, a fact which was pointed out to the writer by one who brought his son ( 5 ft . $11_{2}^{1} \mathrm{in}$., age 16 ) to bear him company.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
A good number of members attended the quarterly meeting of the Western Branch, at Malvern Link, on Saturday. At the service, the Vicar (the Rer. A. Day) gave a very practical and interesting address. Tea followed, at which 42 members sat down.-The Vicar presided at the subsequent mecting, and gave consent for the quarterly peal to be attempted at Malvern Link, after Easter, R. G. Knowles being chosen as conductor.-Ombersley was selected for the next quarterly meeting, to be held oil June 21st.-The Vicar was proposed, and unanimously elected as an hon member.-The meeting closed with the usual votes of thanks.
Members were mresent from the Cathedral and St. John's, Worcester, Powick, Leigh, Ombersley, Sackley, Hallow, Upton, Madresfield and Malvern Link companies, and during the day touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung.

DEATH OF A GREAT YARMOUTH RINGER.
The death of Edwin Ross Todd, which occurred recently, after a short illness, at his residence, Mill Road, Southtown, at the age of 64 years, has robbed the Great Yarmouth band of a valued member. The funeral service, which took place at Gorleston-on-Sea, was conducted by the Rev. F. E. Cole, curate-in-charge of St. Luke's, while many of the deceased's brother ringers were present, having previously forwarded a wreath in the shape of a bell as a token of respect and sympathy. Muffled peals were rung at both Gorleston and Yarmouth, before and after the service, and his age also was fired on the bells.
The deceased came to Yarmouth in 1900, and it was not long before he was admitted a member of St. Nicholas' belfry. He was one of the earliest members of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and for a time he was Master of the Pettistree company, while a good deal of his peal ringing was done at Wickham Market, Ufford, Harwich, Kelsale and Pettistree. He has taken part in 28 peals, and his first peal on ten bells was one of Grandsire Caters, at Great Yarmouth in March, 1912, conducted by D. Hayward. The deceased took a great interest in change ringing, and will be greatly missed by the Yarmouth company.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION.
PROGRESS IN TIIE UXBRIDGE DEANERY BRANCH.
The annual meeting of this branch was held at Congresbury on Saturday week, 25 members being present from Burnham, Congresbury, Cheddar, Winscombe, Weston-super-Mare, Worle, and others. Service was held in the church, and a very able address was given by the Vicar the Rev Maunsell liyre After tea, in the Schoolroom, the business meeting was presidpd over by the Rev. Maunsell Eyre, in the absence of the chairman.-Two hon. and twenty-nine performing members were elected. Berrow was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, and Banwell for the intermediate meeting. The balance sheet, showing a balance in hand of 4 s . 8cl, was adopted. -In the Secretary's report it was shown that the branch had made steady progress members and twentysir performing members elected.-The Rev. G. H. Lewis was re-elected chairman for the year; and Mr. G. H. Prren, vicechairman, while Mr. J. Harris was re-elected secretary. Mr. G. Chamberlain was re-elected on the general committee.-A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. Mannsell Eyre for use of the bells, arranging the setvice, giving the address, and presiding at the meeting. --The Vicar, in responding, gave the Asscciation a very hearty wel-come.-The choir and organist were also thanked for attending.During the afternoon and evening some capital touches were rung on the fine peal of bells.

ILOHESTER BRANCH.
The annual meeting of the Ilchester branch was held at East Coker on Saturday week, when, although the roads were in a bad state, and tho weather yery unsettled, ringers attended from Ilninster, Odeombe, Kingsdon, Matlock, Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Norton-sub-ITam, and Yeovil. Powell presided at the organ. -The business meeting followed tea at ${ }_{\text {the }}$ New Inn.-The Rev. G. G. Monck was unanimously re-elected chairman for the ensuing year, and Mr. G. H. Head, of Kingsdon, was reelected hon. secretary.
Practice was obtained in Grandsire Triples, Minor and Doubles, in which some of the younger members took part. The bells are a light ring and "go" splendidly. It is hoped in time to get the local men, and also those of West Coker, to join the Association. A local man, late of Norion, called atouch of 360 Minor, although he had not touched it for some time.

BRIDGWATER BRANCH.
On Saturday week, the annual meeting of the Bridgwater branch was held at Bridgwater, and was attended by members from Bridgwater, Huntspill, Chedzoy, Enmore, Wembdon, and Taunton. The service, which was choral, was held at St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. J. Langham), who based a practical address upon the words, "We are labourers together with God."
Tea was provided at the Parish Hall, and was followed by the business meeting, at which Mr. A. O. Major, of Bridgwater, presided.The Searetary presented an encournging report, of the year's work, and a satisfactory balance sheet. The following officers were clected for the ensuing year: Rev. Samuel (curate of St. Mary's), branch chairman; Mr. A. E. Coles as representative upon the Central Council; and Mr. W. G. Sellick, junr., branch secretary.-Votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. J. J. Langham, who was unable to attend the meeting, for his excellent address and the use of the bells, and to the organist and choir for their services.

After the meeting, the belfry was again visited, when various methods kept the bells rolling for the remainder of the evening.

GILLINGHAM BELLS RESTORED.
After being silent for nearly two years, the bells of the Old Parish Church have recently been restored and rededicated. A special service was held, which was attended by the Mayor and Corporation in state, accompanied by the members of the Ancient Court Leet, Education Committee, Corporation Officials, Firemen, Policemen, and the Old Committee, Corporation Officials, Firemen, Policemen, and the Brompton Church Lads' Brigade. The church was filled to overflowing, and a most beautiful service was held, conductedl by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon W. H. Robins, D.D.), and his curates, the Revs. II. K. Woodward and F. H. Heyworth. After the processional hymn, "Now thank we all our God," the senior curate read the dedicatory prayers at the belfry door', and this was followed by the singing of the National Anthem.-Canon Denham, of Rochoster Cathedral, preached a most eloquent sermon on the message of bells, taking for his text: "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear" (St. Luke xiv, 35).
The bells were rung before and after the service. They are a peal of eight, the two trebles and the seventh having been recast, and the others quarter-turned and retuned, with new bearings and fittings throughout. They have been rehung in a new iron frame, in place of the old wooden one. The work has been most ably carricd out by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, and the ringing and tone of the bella speaks volumes for the satisfactory manner in which he has discharged the duties entrusted to hím.
ACTON.-At St. Mary's Church, on Jan, 22nd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 48 mins. : A. E. Smith 1, E. J. Ridler (conductor) 2, W. Phillips 3, H. W. Cotton 4, R. Holloway 5, J. W. Fruin 6, J. R.

ROMNEY MARSH GUILD.

ANOTHEI PROSIPEROUS YEAR.

The annual festival of the Romney Marsh and District Guild was held at Appledor' $\theta$ on Saturday week, and the proceedings added another triumph in the guild's history, for the gathering was absolutely successful. There, however, was not much ringing, because the programme was arranged to conclude with an evening of harmony. Grandsire Doubles and Triples were rung previous to the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. O. Scutt), assisted by the curate (the Rev. Mr. Wright), and the appropriate hymns, "Ye servants of the Lord " and "Fight the good fight," were lustily sung, Miss Avery kindly presiding at the organ.
At six o'clock the members adjourned to the Swan Hotel, where an excollent meat tea was served by Ilost Grant.-The President (the Rev. A. O. Scutt) presided, and the Master (Mr. G. Billenness) occupied the vice-chair. After tea several more members arrived, and the company numbered twenty-five. The churches represented were: Ashford, New Romney, Rolvenden, Ryc, Stone-in-Oxney, Tenterden, and the local tower.
The balance sheet showed a balance of $£ 115 \mathrm{~s}$. 3 d ., and the Hon. Secretary (IIr. G. J. Youngs) remarked that the membership had been steadily increasing during recent ycars.
The Master presented the annual report, which stated that the work of the past year in the zone of the guild could be looked back upon with a great amount of satisfaction, and gave encouragement to all the memoers to enter into the present year with even more vigour and enthusiasm than they had hitherto displayed in matters apportaining to campanology. Their members showed an increase on the previous year, the total membership being forty-two, and there seemed to be every prospect of that figure being maintained. Twelve meetings and an outing had been held during the year. Never in the annals of the guild had there been so many meetings held in one year before. The attendance had somewhat varied, but ont the whole, had come up to the expectations of the officials, and useful and instructive practices had attended the labours of the members. Peal ringing showed a very appreciable adrance. Six peals had been accomplished, and now that they had an improvement in that direction, it augured well for the future. It rested with the members to endeavour not only to keep up the reputation they had established, but to still further increase the number of peals during the ensuing year. As regards the restoration of rings of bells, although the bellhangers had not been at work in the guild's district, it was very gratifying to know that contracts had been accepted for the rehanging of Warehorne and Sundhurst, while at Northiam the restoration fund was gradually increasing. Last year the guild started with $£ 28 \mathrm{~s}$. 4 d . in hand, and the amount in hand at the commencement of this year was $£ 115 \mathrm{~s}$. 3d. Their cxpenses had been greater, and if they had not spent more than they did in 1911, their balance would have totalled about $£ 356$. Cordial thanks were due to the clergy who had kindly granted them permission to assemble at their respective churches, and their hope to reeive a continuation of that kindness during the current year.
Mr. C. Tribe. in maring the adoption of the balance sheet and report, said he was pleased to see such a satisfactory balance in hand. He hoped in the coming year the membership would still further increase, and that in the summer another outing would take place. Mr. GJohnson scoonded, and the balance sheet and report were unanimonsly adonted. with applause.
The Master proposed that the Rer. A. O. Scutt be asked to again Mr A accept the presidency.
Mr. A. Johnson seconded, and t ppointed amid vociferous applauce.
In response, the Chairman said a society like the Romney Marsh and District Guild was not only benefiting its members, but serving a useful purpose in the various parishes within its radius. He expressed the satisfaction of the Appledore ringers that the annual meeting of the Guild was held there, and added that he regretted he knew nothing of change ringing, and but little of the archæology of bells. II had been given to understand that the bells at St. Mary's, Oxford. had rhymes, set to music, engraved on them, and one of those rhymes reforred to the frequent porspirations of bell ringers (laughter).
Mr. C. Tribe, in moving the re-election of Mr. Billenness as Master, onsidered that during recent years the business of the guild had been conducted in a proper businesslike manner, and it was, therefore, in the interests of the society that the offices should remain in the same hands.-Mr. H. S. IIumphery seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.-Mr. Billenness, in responding, spoke of the pleasant term of office he had enjoyed, and of the excellent work done by C. W. Player sary - In proposing the re-election of Mr. Youngs, Mr. such a Player said it was through his efforts that the guild was in "as carricd amid applause, and duly acknowledged.
The following committee were clected, on the motion of Mr. A. Gohnson, seconded by Mr. G. Johnson: Messrs. G. Tribe (Tenderden), (Ashord), A. Ashenden (Hawkhurst) A. Kay (Ashford), R. Dunster Mshford), A. Ashenden (Hawkhurst), and G. Kenward (Iden). suild. Arthur Meller (Stonc-in-Oxney) was elected a member of the

The February meeting will be held at Stonc-in-Oxney on the fourth Saturday in the month.
The question of attempting peals was discussed.-On the recommendation of Mr. A. Johnson, which was supported by Mr. H. S. Humphery, it was decided to attempt two peals of Grandsire Triples, one ai New Romney, and the other at Appledore.
Mr. C. Tribe moved a vote of thanks to the president for presiding; for the use of the bells, and for the service. He referred to the great courtesy and consideration received from the Vicar, and, continuing, said that tneir guild had been the subject of conversation at a committee rnecting of the Kent Association held at Maidstone. At that meeting the Hon. Secretary of the Association (the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore) said according to reports the Romney Marsh Guild was doing good work. He advised the same kind of thing for other parts of the Association. It was open to any members to amalgamate as they were in Romney Marsh and District, and a guild like the Romney Marsh must do good. It was a great help to the Association in that part of their territory. Those were the Rev. Helmore's words, and he thought the members would like to know what the reverend gentleman had said of their society.
Mr. A. Allen seconded the motion, which was carried with hearty applause.
The President, in acknowledgment, again said how pleased he was to assist the guild in any possible way.

This concluded the business, and the president vacated the chair in favour of the Master. A musical programme followed, songs being rendered by Messrs. R. H. Phillips, C. Tribe, B. Pilcher, H. Hyder, G. J. Youngs, D. Johnson, C. Grant, and R. Kennett; recitation by Mr. H. Balcombe, and courses of Grandsire Triples (double-handed) rung on handbells by Messrs. C. Tribe, H S. Humphery, C. W. Player, G. Johnson and G. Billenness. Mr. R. Kennett accompanied the vocalists, and thanks were accorded him for his services.

FRESSINGFIELD ANNIVERSARY

A SUFFOLK CELEBRATION.

Fressingfield, a large and scattered parish and village in the centre of a correspondingly large agricultural district of Suffolk, $4 \frac{1}{2}$ miles from the nearest railwav station on a branch line, and containing about 1,000 souls, celebrated its ringing anniversary recently. It is impossible adequately to give town-bred readers anything but a bare idea of what an "anniversary" of this kind means, but its principal feature is a time-honoured annual meal partaken of by the ringers of Fressingfield, as early in the new year as convenient, and at which the Vicar takes the chair, and one of the wardens the vice. Friends and neighbours are invited, neighbouring bands of ringers are welcomed, individual vingers from important local centres are to be found there-thus north and south meet at the Fressingfield anniversary in January, bidding defiance to the usual inclement weather at this period. And then the ringing; well, it is an interesting mixture of good and indifferent. A peal may be attempted early in the day, according to circumstances, and miscellaneous touches then intervene till the dinner, at 2 p.m. This all-important function is held at the ancient and interesting inn, the Fox and Goose, abutting on to the churchyard, and generally supposed to have been built in the early part of the 17th century, and the income of which is claimed for ecclesiastical and charitable purposes. A short adjournment is afterwards made for further ringing, and then all meet again for the "social.". The exigencies of travelling made it impossible for me to stay to this, but the reverend chairman explained it to me as consisting of "speeches, interspersed with music and refreshment." Your readers, as well as myself, can withont much difficulty picture the scene. A large upper room with low ceiling, some 40 ringers and friends assembled intent upon one purpose and that only, namely, to fully enjoy themselves for the remainder of the day
Now for a few dry facts connected with the day. A peal of Stedman Triples was attempted by a band, each member of which has probably called several peals, but as is so often the case, it came to grief just past the half-way, the conductor (a native of Fressingfield, and now residing at Ipswich) being caught napping at $12-13$. He, however, being one who has encleared himself to the Exercise by his many good qualities and abilities, was freely forgiven, particularly when later in the day he offered his explanation. Our conductor's birth-place was none other than the noted "Fox and Goose," and during the progress of the peal, as he related, the weird sensations he experienced when spending the night there alone, as a youth, came back to his mind, and by the time his mental balance had been recorered, the 7th had been in and out quick.

At the dinner the chair was taken by the Rev. H. Raren-Hart, Vicar (who succeeded his father, Canon Raven, the author), one of the most genial of parsons, proud of his church and its bells and ringers. On his right was Miss R. Stanford, a most promising lady ringer, of Halesworth, who had braved the elements for the occasion. To my mind, it is a pleasing feature that gatherings of this kind are now frequently graced by at least one lady member of the Exercise, and is a good augury for the cause generally. Others present included Messis. J. Motts (Ipswich), J. Souter (Diss), E. F. Poppy, G. Day (Eye), J. Nevard (Great Rentley), F. Lambert, J. O'Neill, J. Howard and A. II. Took (Halesworth), and many others.-H.B.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

The misfortune which has befallen the village of Long Stanton, in Cambridgeshire, can seldom, if ever, have been the lot of a rural parish. They have only just had their bells increased from three to eight, and now, while a very considerable sum is still outstanding on the restoration, the ancient tenor has cracked in such a way as to render it useless, and the new peal has been spoilt until the bell can be recast. Such a happening would be enough to dishearten the authorities of any church, but in Long Stanton the circumstances are specially unfortunate. The recent increase of the bells to an octave was only carried out in the face of all kinds of discouragement and opposition. But from all this opposition the Vicar of Long Stanton and his co-workers emerged triumphantly, and the scheme was carried through, although it remains encumbered with a debt of $£ 130$, and this in a small village where the sympathy of one or two who might help has, to all appearances, been permanently alienated. The Vicar, himself an enthusiastic ringer-no Vicar but a ringer would, we believe, have had the courage and temerity to go on with his scheme in the face of the opposition offered-has got together and taught a band of over a dozen young ringers, who were making excellent progress. And now, when the restoration, except for the payment, seemed complete, the tenor bell has cracked, and they are confronted with an additional outlay of $£ 35$ at a time when resources are completely drained. In view of the debt on the restoration they dare not recast the tenor without first getting the money to pay for the work.

Under these circumstances the Rev. H. B. Woolley, the Vicar, makes an urgent appeal to ringers for help, and surely no appeal was ever more deserving of support. An effort was being made at much sacrifice: ind in the face of much opposition to plant the Art in a new corner, and now comes an unfortunate set-back which, unless it can be surmounted, will not only put the bells out of action for an indefinite period, but probably leave the debt on the original restoration fund as an incubus for a long while to come, for it may prove difficult to raise subscriptions to pay for a dumb peal of bells. We commend the appeal therefore to our readers. The smallest donations, we are sure, will be thankfully received by Mr. Woolley, at Long Stanton Vicarage, and we hope to see a ready and substantial responsc. After all, $£ 35$ is not much to raise among the ringers of England. The passing of the hat round the belfries on a Sunday would mean but a small effort individually, but collectively it would have a big result. We ask ringers-and we feel sure we shall not ask in vain-to put their shoulders to the wheel and get their secretaries to send along their mites to the Vicar.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomfield Vicarage Chemonford
Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating chat we are perfectly satisled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.
We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELIRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you

Yours truly,
CMAS. EDMUNDS,
Vicar of BroomHeld.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION.  MEETIN゙G AT HASTINGS.

The quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Christ Church, Blacklands, Hastings, on Saturday week. The weather being fine, there was a strong muster of members, the company numbering forty, representing Christ Church and All Saints', Eastbourne; Christ Church, St. Leonard's; St. Clement's, Hastings, Battle, Rye, Heathfield, Salehurst, Seaford, and the local tower. The members attended service, the curate (the Rev. E. Parslew) intoning the prayers, and the appropriate hymns, "O Holy Spirit, Lord of grace" and "Ye Servants of the Lord," being sung. The organist kiadly gave his services, and the choir boys we:e in attendance.

The Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Armstrong) read the lesson, and delivered an eloquent address, basing his remarks on Romans xi, 36, "For of Him and through Him are all things to Whom be glory for ever." The prearher spoke of the different purposes for which bells were used. All the glories and messages of the bells came from God. Surely then there was one thing due from those who were ringers. That was that they should dedicate themselves afresh to God, entering His hense for His glory and praise. Let them make that a realising power in their hearts, and go out of that church with a resolve that something more of the beauty and the gladness of the bells should be set forth in their lives, coupled with more order and discipline of good ringing, without which the world would be out of tune.
A splendid tea was partaken of in the adjacent Schoolroom. The donor of the meal (the Rev. W. A. Armstrong) presided, and the business meeting followed.

Messrs. George Terrin, Darid Martin and David Arthur Craig, of Rye, and Edward Bristow, of Blacklands, were elected members, and on the proposition of Mr. B. Hobbs, seconded by Mr. W. White, it was decided to aitempt a quarterly peal of Stedman Triples at Christ Church, Eastbourne, the arrangements boing left in the hands of the divisional secretary.

Mr. G. Watson, general secretary, proposed a very bearty vote of thanks to the Chairman for his kind hospitality in providing such ans excellent tea, for presiding at the meeting, for the use of the bells, and for arranging the service.-Mr. W. Franks seconded, and the motion was carried with applause.-The Rev. Armstrong briefly replied.

A collection was made on behalf of the Association's Benevolent Fund, which already stands at f18, or thereabouts.
In tho evening, the party divided into two sections, a portion remaining at Blacklanils, while the other contingent went to St. Clement's, the lector (the Rev. Ir. C. B. Foyster) having kindly granted permission for ringing there. Tho bells, which are composed of steel, have recently been rehung, but a tremendously long dranght and new ropes made it necessary to handle them carefully, in order to strike in a satisfactory manner

During the day, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung. Double Norwich was attempted, but without success.-Thauks to the admirable reception accorded them by the ringers of the cinque port town, the visitors spent a thoroughly enjoyable day.

LETTER FROM BOSTON, U.S.A.

AN OPENING FOR RINGERS.
The recent enterprise displayed in Massachusetts in providing new peals adapted to scientific ringing is an encouraging indication of the expansion of interest in our church bells. In addition to the magnt ficent peal of ten installed last September in the Memorial Tower at Hingham, a heavier peal of eight now awaits opening in the lofty, masoive tower of the Perkins' Institution for the Blind, at Watertown a suburb of Boston.
To crown all, the well preserved, tuneful ring of Christ Church cast in 1744 by Rudhall, at a period when Gloucester was turning out its best productions, is now being rehung. That the work in these three belfries has been entrusted to the Whitechapel foundry is an assurance that the "go" of the bells will satisfy the most fastidious ringers.

If the abolition of cannons, now pronounced as useless as a collar on a sheep, has impaired the appearance of the instrument, it has certainly facilitated its management. Indeed it is a distinct revelation to discover the ease imparted to the swing of even the heaviest bells by the modern stecl headstock secured directly to the crown, an adrance originating, by-the-way, in the United States. But, as an Irish barrister remarled, in his opening for the defence," Its a mighty thin tile that doesn't have two sides to it," and it is a matter of disappointment that while our appeal to favour the Exercise has met with a sympathetic response on the part of a generous public, the bells to whose cost they have so liberally contributed remain virtually mute.
To paraphrase lines of Dr. Holmes
Though all ummatched the founder's skill,
Those brazen throats are dumb and still.
In the absence of competent instructors. it is useless to attempt to train a band of beginners, and we must look, therefore, to our English confreres to man these idle ropes. The steeple of Christ Church offers an ideal rendezrous for practice, for it is situated in a district now appropriated chiefly by Italians accustomed to welcome the sound of bells from the early Ave to the erening Angelus.

To ringers contemplating, then, for any reason a change of residence, the occasion is opportune for settlement in Boston, where the prospect of securing employment to those holding first-class recommendations was never more favourable. With any ringers moved to join our limited number, I shall be glad to communicate 55, Vernon Street, Bostan, U.S.A.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION.

The annal meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at Wrasall, where there is a fine peal of five bells, on Saturday week, and proved the most successful held in the history of this branch, about 50 members attending from Barrow, Gurney, Clapton. Easton-in-Gordano, Long Ashton, Nailsea, Portishead. Wraxall, Yatton, Congresbury and Cheddar. At a short service, held in the church, a most able address was given by the Rev. H. W. Humphreys. Subsequently the members adjourned to the Battle Axes, where a most excellent tea had been most generously provided by the Rev. Preb. Vaughan.-The business meeting was presided over by Preb. Vaughan, and one honorary and nine performing members were elected. T. Wjatt was re-elected chairman, and Mr. G. H. Gale and Mr. G. G. Court, vice-chairmen, whilst Mr. G. Yeo was re-elected hon. secretary and treasurer for the ensuing yoar.-Portishead was chosen for the place of the next quarterly meeting.-A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. Preb. Vaughan for presiding at the meeting, for his kind hospitality, and for the use of the bells, to which the rer. gentleman responded.- The bells were well used during the afternoon and erening.

GLASTONBURT DEANFRY BRANCH

The annual meeting of the Glastonbury Deanery Branch was held at Wells, on Saturday, when about 40 members were present from Meare, Glastonbury, Midsomer Norton, Shepton Mallett, Cheddar, Dinder. Baltonsborough, Wells, and two from Trowbridge, Wilts (Mr. S. Hector and Mr. A. Marrison). Service was held in St. Cuthbert's Church, a very able address being given by the Vicar (the Rev. Preb. Beresford).-After tea. the business meeting was presided over by the Rev. W. M. IK. Warren, chairman of the branch. All the officers were re-elected for the year. Three honorary and 21 performing members were elected. Baltonsborough was selected for the next place of bers wer

Good progress is being made in this branch of the Association, two new towers having been added. and it is hoped to add three more at the next meeting.--A hearty rote of thanks was given to the Rev. Preb. Beresford for conducting the service, and for the use of the bells.--In responding, the Vicar said he was alwaye very pleased to welcome the Association to Wells.-Grandsire Doubles and Triples were afterwards rung on St. Cuthbert's bells, and a well-struck 392 of Grandsire Triples was rung on the back eight of the Cathedral bells, conducted by S. J. Hector. of Trowbridge. This brought a very succeseful menting to a close

By a typographical error in our report last week wo spoke of the Uxbriclo E Franch of the Tath and Wells Association. This, of course, shen'd be the Axturides Tranch. Tha braneh has a balanee in hand of £4 8s.

THE OXFORD GUILD.

READING BRANCII ANNUAL MEETING AND DINNER.
The annual meeting of the Reading Branch was held at Reading, on Saturday week. Previous to service, at St. Giles' Church, the bells of St. Mary's and St. Giles' were rung in touches of Stedman, Bob Major, Bristol Surprise, and London Surprise.-The Rev. R. P. Newhouse, R.D., gave a very appropriate address, taking as his text, St. Paul's words: " Woe be unto me if I preach not the Gospel."
A copital supper, followed by a business meeting and smoker, was held at the White Hart Hotel, fifty mombers attending. Mr. W. P. Routh, the President of the branch, presided, and proposed the toast of "The Church and King."

The balance slieet, read by Mr. A. W. Osborne, showed a very satisfactory balauce in hand, and was adopted.
Mr. W. P. Routh was re-elected president, and Mr. A. W. Osborne, hon. secretary and treasurer of the branch.-Mr. Routh, responding, said he would much rather see some younger blood take his place, but as the members would not hear of it, he would do his best to serve them again as he had done before.-Mr. Osborne also wished them to mako a change, but this asscrtion also would not be heard of. As the mombers placed so much confidence in hinn, he could, he said, only thank them for electing him again, and do his best to further the interests of the Reading branch.
Mr. Routh proposed the toast of "The Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn," which was drunk with musical honours.-The Master, in reply, said how pleased he was to be among them that evening, but was sorry to know the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, their respected treasurer, who was ill, was unable to be present, and also that the Rev. G. F. Coleridge was absent. He was very pleased to welcome among them the Rev. R. P. Newhouse, Vicar of St. Lawrence, also the Rer. R. Wickham Legge, Vicar of St. Mary's. He rogretted very much the absence of the members from the outlying towers of the branch, and urged the members of the respective towers to have their belfries open much earlier on their practice nights, to give some of the younger ringers a chance of laving a pull. When they met late in the evening, there was not time to get them all to take a rope. They wete very fortunate, he added, in getting for their clergy in the four churches in Reading, men who took a great interest in their ringers.

THE PROGRESS OF TIIE GUILD
Mr. A. E. Reeves, in the absence of the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, gave some very interesting details on the work of the Guild. He was pleased to say three more towers had joined the Guild, namely, Simpson, Becchampton and Shinfield, while Cookham, with ten members, two of them ladies, were to join later. The number of peals showed a considerable rise, no less than 122 having been rung in the year 1912. The Reading branch were to be complimented on ringing all the highclass methods, mostly Surprise. There were 32 members who had rung their first peal, and 82 their first in now methods. There was a slight decrease shown in the balance shect of the "Mother" Guild, of about $£ 4$; there being same branches where members were in arrears, including 24 in Reauing branch.-The forman of the towers gave their reports, which were all very encouraging, showing progress all round.
Mr. Wright proposed the toast of "The Reading Branch," coupling with it the names of their president and secretary and treasurer, Mr. Routh and Mr. Osborne.
Mr. Routh, responding, said he was pleased to see the branch was in a flourishing condition, but they must try and get the outside inembers to attend their annual mecting better, and thus show a little interest.
Some discussion tool place regarting the combined practices, which were not the success one would like to see them. During the year 1912, scarcely one of the country members came in to Reading to take part in any of them. while when one was arranged at the outside towers their members did not turn up as wished. It was agreed to call a meeting to settle what should be dono in the future
At this point, the Rev. F.J. C. Gillmor came into the room, followed by his Worship the Mayor of Reading (Mr. C. G. Ficld). The visit of the latter came quite as a surprise. it being the first time the branch has had the honour of receiving tho chief citizen of Reading at one of their meetings.-Mr. Routh proposed a very hearty welcome to his Worship, and this was carried with acclamation.-The Mayor, responding. said how pleased he was to be able to make the acquaint ance of the ringers, and he thanked them for their hearty weleome.
Mr. Routh proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. R. P. Newhouse for his splendid address to them that evening at St Giles' Church, also to the organist and choir for the musical part of tho service,-Songs were sung during the evening by Messrs. R. Dormer, L. Reeves, W. Dormer, W. Newell, C, Higgs, W. A. Webb, G. Goodship, J. Goodenongh.

THE RECORD PEAL OF BRISTOL

To the Eiditor

Sir,-I am not having a "dig" at the record peal of Bristol, but desire to correct what I consider a mis-statement. I was speaking to a friend at 6 oclock, when a nasty trip was occurling: he said it quite unset him, and I cheered him up, by remarking they will soon be clear of that. I was told by one or two I met there had been a serions trip at 1 o'clock.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP

Misfortune has overtaken the new peal at Long Stanton, Cambs Since their dedication in November last, the bells of All Saints' Church have been in constant use. A numerous local company has been formed, and is malking excellent progress, and in addition to this, experienced ringers have paid frequent visits to this Cambridgeshire village, and exercised their skill upon the new ring. Two peals of Stedman Triples have already been accomplished, a nother only just lost, after more than 3 hours' ringing, while a fourth attempt lasted for over two hours.
Under these circumstances, we greatly regret having to report a serious accident which occurred to this much-used peal on Septuagesima Sunday, Jan., 19th. The tenor, an old bell dating from 1655 was being "rung in" for evensong, when she suddenly cracked at the sound bow, and is now useless. As there is a large debt on the restoration of the tower and bells still to be paid off, there are no funds with which to defrav the cost (£35) of recasting the tenor, and the Vicar and churchwardens, therefore, appeal to a kind public for help, as meanwhile the peal is quite crippled.

Donations may be sent to the Rev. H. B. Woolley, at the Vicarage, or to Mr. W. Doggett or Mr. H. Croot, churchwardens, Long Stanton Cambs.

SALISBURY GUILD.

DORCHESTER BRANCH AT FORDINGTON.

The quarterly meeting of tho Dorchester branch was held at Fording ton St. George, on Thursday week. Representatives attended from Charminster, Dorchester, Milton Abbey, Puddletown, Wyke Regis, and a full muster of the local band. The bells (6) and also those at St. Peter's, Dorchester (8) were available, and the ringers attended the special service of the Guild, at which the Vicar (the Rev. R. G. Bartelott) officiated. Afterwards the ringers adjourned to the Moule Tavern, where they were kindly entertained to a high tea by the Vicar, who presided, and was supported by his churchwardens, the Rev. H. C. Coote (the new Rector of St. Peter's, Dorchester), Mr. R. N. Dawes (chairman of the branch), and Mr. A. E. Coles (Bridgwater, late general hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Association).-The Vicar welcomed the Guild to his parish, and said he hoped at some future time to restore the bells, and do his best to add two more to complete the octave. He dealt at length on the history of Fordington bells. The legend was that when King Henry VIII confiscated the Abbey of Bindon (a few miles from Fordington) the bells were sold, to be remored to the Continent. The Fordington parishioners, who were tenants of Bindon Abbey, on hearing of this went over by night and captured as many bells as they could, hiding some in the stream at Wool, and ohers in the well at Combe Keynes, eventually hanging them in Fordington tower. The following couplet spoke for itself "Wool streams and Combe wells, Fordington Rogues stole Bindon Bells.

PROPOSED GUILD BADGE.

The Chairman of the Branch proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Bartelott for his bountitul entertainment, and for the use of the bells, etc.-The business meeting was presided over by Mr. R. N Dawes.-The Hon. Secretary stated the Upwey band-(twelve in number) had become members of the Guild, and Mr. White was instructing tho Fordington band, who were now able to ring Grandsire Doubles. It was resolved to hold the next meeting (annual) at Dorchester. The proposed badge for the Guild (which Mr. Hervey Beams had in hand; was next discussed. The design consists of four bells, in the shape of a cross. The finished design will be about the size of a halfpenny, and the branch unanimeusly approved of it.-The Rev. H. C. Cootc thanked Mr. Bartelott for his kindness and the Guild for inviting him there. He assured them of a hearty welcome when they came to his parish for their next meeting.-Mr. A. E. Coles also thanked Mr. Bartelott and the branch for their kindness. He had been, he said, a member of the Salisbury Guild a number of years. He was for four years the general secretary of the Bath and Wells Association. When he took over the secretaryship it had 130 members, and at the completion of the four years it had over 1,300.
The ringers adjourned to the two towers available, and kept the bells going to the tune of Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire.

A monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at All Saints' Church, Westbury, Wilts, on Saturday, and although the weather was excrealingly stormy. 15 members attended. Tea was partaken of in the Parish Room (kindly placed at tho disposal of the members by the Vicar). Owing to the absence of the Chairman, the Rer. W. H. M. Clarke (Vicar of Westbury) occupied the chair, and was supported by the hon. secretary Mr. H. Brownlee West), and ringers from Bratton, Southbroom, Erchfont and Westbury. - Two new lady ringers from Erchfont were duly elected as members of the Guild.-Mr. West then proposed, and Mr. Hart seconderl a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Westbury for the use of the bells and also the Parish Room. The Vicar responded, saying that it gave dim great pleasure to meet the ringers at Westbury, and that, he should be pleased to welcome them again upon a future ocrasion.- Both before and after the meeting. the bells of the fine old church were well ued.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.  CLERGY JOIN THE ACTIVE RANKS.

A quarterly meeting of the Winchester District was held at Alres. ford last Saturday, and was well attended. Touches of Double Norwich, Treble Bob, Hob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung, and several members visited Bishop Sutton, and rang touches on the six beils there.-The Rector (the Rev. A. A. Headley) presided at the tea in the Parish Roon. There were also present the Rev. W. E. Colchester (treasurer of the Guild), the Rev. W. J. Cumpsty, Mr. G. Williams (general secretary), Mr. Wilfred Andrews (captain of the Cathedral band), and members from North Stoneham, Twyford, Winchester, Bishopstoke. Jpham, Farnharr, Aldershot, Bishop Sutton, and Alresford.-A letter was read from the President (Mr. J. P. Stillwell) acknowledging congratulations sent to him by the Guild on his 80th birthday, and another sent by him to the North Stoneham band, thanking them for having rung a peal in honour of the same event. The Rev. L. M. Haslope, Vicar of Owslebury, and the new Rector of North Stoncham (the Rev. T. Salmon) have joined the Guild as performing members.-Sincere regret is felt in the district at the loss, through illness, of the late Rector of North Stoneham (the Rev. E. K. Browne), who has always proved a true friend to ringers.

The Chairman, in replying to a wote of thanks which had been accorded him for presiding, and for the use of the room and bells, said he was glad to again welcome the Guild to his parish, and glad to see his old ringer, Mr. James Sait, sitting at the table, for he had been a ringer for many years, and for 57 years had not missed ring ing out the old and ringing in the New Year on the Alresford bells.
A vote of thanks was also passed to the saterer (Mrs. (rook).
At a subsequent meeting of the committee, at which Mr. G. Williams presided, several new members from Alton and Owslebury were admitted to the Guild, and Mr. Wilkes said he hoped soon to have several new ones at Southampton.-The district secretary (Mr. J. W. Elkins) reported that the subscriptions were coming in better this year, and Mr. Williams said he had always felt that the Guild subseription should be a first charge on any fund a band might have.
The tower was again open during the evening, and the bells were kept going till nearly nine o clock. The bells of Old Alresford could not be used, owing to the receni death of the Rector members were present, at the meeting.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

ANOTHER " PEAL TAPPER."

The wonderful performance by Mr . Olave Broyd in tapping a peal in seven Minor methods is worthy of more than passing notice, and we are enabled to give our readers this week a photograph of this talented young ringer, for like Mr. Segar, whose peal in five methods he has outstripped, Mr. Broyd is still quite a young man. Mr. Broyd was born in the village of Gestingthorpe, Essex, in 1892, and he began ringing in 1909. He took to the Art as a duck to water, and his advance was very rapid. He rang his first 720 after three practices, and conducted a 720 of Bob Minor on February 2nd, igro, and in the same month could ring Oxford Treble Bob. At this time also he rang 5-6 to a 720 of Bob Minor on handbells-indeed, he seems to be specially gifted as a handbell ringer. He has rung two handbells, and called short touches in ten methods without a break, and when his band are having handbell practice he will ring any two, whether in the orthodox pairs or otherwisc. In tapping his peal in seven methods he accomplished the feat by coursing the bells, and in this way his performance differed from Mr. Segar's, who transposed the changes row by row.

Mr. Broyd has not rung a large number of peals-only thirteen in all. His first was Bob Major at Lavenham, on June ith, rgro, and following that he rang a peal of Kient Treble Bols Major at Foxearth. His first peal of Minor was at Gestingthorpe. This was in four methods, and was conducted by himself. His peals are :-

Bob Major
Kent Treble Bob Major
Minor in 7 Methods
Minor in 4 Methods
Bol Minor
On Handbells
Tapped in 7 Methods
Tapped in 7 Methods ............. I
One who knows Mr. Broyd and has watched his progress with interest, says he has not seen his equal on six bells; while he has a wonderful ear, and can prick down course-ends from outside the tower. Only recently, when listening to a peal, he was able to tell his friends not only the part-ends as they came up, but when every bob was made, and by which bells. This is a gift which but few possess. Mr. Broyd, we understand, will not attempt to tap another peal for some time, but he hopes eventually to tap one in seven Treble Bob Methods.

ODD CHANGES.

The dedication of the screen, erected in Drayton Church, to the memory of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, for many years Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, takes place tomorrow (Saturday) at 4 p.m.

Only three men, so far as we are aware, have rung two tower bells to a peal-Messrs. J. W. Washbrook, J. E. Groves and W. H. Lawrence. Last Saturday Mr. John Thomas attempted a similar feat at St. Matthew's, Clapton, when he started for a peal of Grandsire Triples, ringing $2-3$, and conducting. The attempt, unfortunately, came to grief after I hr. 40 mins. ringing through no fault of his.

Mr. James Motts, of Ipswich, we are reminded, is another ringer who has scored 500 peals for one association, in his case, the Norwich. That brings the total up to five. Mr. I. G. Shade is close on the border line, and will be ringing his 500 th for the Middlesex shortly, if all's well.

Mr. Sam Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, writes that the peal of 5016 of Bob Maximus referred to in the recent article by Mr. Trollope was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on March 3oth, 1909, beginning at the irth course. It was composed and conducted by Samuel Wood, and the figures were published at the time. A better peal is obtained by singling it, as given by Mr. Trollope, in the 9th course, and this was attempted at Ashton about 12 months ago.

The bells of St. Mary's, Chelmsford, a ring of ten, tenor 22 cwt. in E , are to be recast into a ring of 12 , tenor 30 cwt. in D, and Messrs. Warner and Sons, of the Spitalfields Foundry, have received instructions to carry out the work.

There is a very strong feeling that as St. Mary's, Chelmsford, is to be the cathedral church of the proposed new diocese of Essex, the ringers as a body should pive some material assistance in carrying out this extensive scheme. It has been suggested it should take the form of a present of the treble bell, with a suitable inscription upon it, such as " The Essex Association of Change Ringers gave me."

It is often said that once a man has been interested in ringing he can never entirely shake it off, and even if he retires from active participation in the Art there comes a time when the appeal of the bells inevitably draws him back to the belfry. Last Saturday Mr. William Tanner rang his first peal after a lapse of 23 years, at St. Dunstan's, Stepney. Even if Mr. Tanner has not been out of ringing altogether, it is a long break in his peal record.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT SELBY.  SUGGESTED DIVISION OF COUNTY INTO DISTRICTS.

Selby Abbey-the only complete Benedictine Abbey standing in the North -may be said to rank in grandeur of architecture next after York and Beverley, but in the number of styles represented, Norman, Transition, Early English, Decorated and Perpendicular-every style, in fact, except Anglo-Saxon - many would give it the first place. Fortunate it is, therefore, for the nation that this great monument of the past has been so splendidly restored since the disastrous fire in 1906. It will be noted, from whatever standpoint it may be viewed, how importantly the grand new tower dominates the whole structure. Mention must also be made of the recent addition, namely, the new South Transept. The new wing, with its beautiful stained glass window, is the gift of Mr. William Liversidge, a native of Selby.
With the privilege of visiting this grand old Abbey and noting how wonderfully it has been restored, and with the chance of a pull on the magnificent bells, Yorkshire ringers turned up in fairly good numbers for the annual meeting of their Association on Saturday week. The attendance, upwards of 130, representing 41 towers, is not a large one for the Yorkshire Association, and this is no doubt due to the fact that Selby is very inconvenient as a railway centre. It goes without saying that the ring of ten at the Abbey-tenor, $25 \mathrm{cwt}$. - was well patronised all day. The peal of six at Hemingbrough was also at the members' disposal. Business commenced before noon with the annual audit, when all accounts, etc., were found in proper order. During the afternoon, the Vicar and others very kindly conducted parties round the Abbey, and pointed out its many objects of interest. Here it may be mentioned that the great fire proved in one way a blessing in disguise, for when an examination was made of the walls and foundations after the debris had been cleared, it was found that the tower was quite unsafe, owing to the foundations of the enormous supporting pillars not being secure enough to bear the great veight. Underpinning had to be resorted to, and concrete was filled in to a depth of no less than 36 feet to make everything perfectly safe.

SELBY'S ANCIENT BELLS.

The annual service, fully choral, was held in the Abbey, the lessons being read by the President (Rev. C. C. Marshall) and the Rev. W. P. Wright, Vicar of Hemingbrough (President of the Cleveland and North Yorks Association). The sermon was preached by the Vicar, the Rev. Dr. Solloway, D.D., from Psalm xcv, 1, " 0 come let us sing unto the Lord." As a reason for this text, the preacher said that this inscription would probably be found more frequently on bells than any other. This and texts inscribed on bells such as "Jesus be our speed,"" "Glory to God in the Highest," showed us the high ideals held with regard to bells and ringing, and he considered that bell ringing should be regaried on the very highest level. Ringers, therefore, ought to regard their important branch of Church work as a joyful privilege. The ringer's motive should always be summed, up in preacher also gave an interesting account of the Abbey bells, from which it was learned that an ancient peal disappeared at the dissolution of the monastery, and for a time there were no bells. Then in 1614 a native of Selby gave eight bells, which remained till 1690, when the tower fell. They were afterwards recast in 1710, and again in 1863, from which date they did service till the disastrous fire in 1906, when they fell with the tower. The metal is included in the grand new ring which they had heard pealing out that day.
A splendid tea was partaken of in the Church Institute, and the annual business meeting followed, with the President in the chair, supported by the hon. secretary, Mr. Clement Glenn; the hon. treasurer, Mr. Cotterell; and several of the committee. The treasurer's balance sheet was passed, and the report of the committee adopted. An interesting paragraph in the latter, which all members will do well to ponder over, states that: 'The committee have had under consideration the division of the county into districts, as they feel that it is impossible to keep in touch with all the towers in the county under our present organisation, and they would ask members to consider whether the time is not ripe to take some definite action in this direction.'
The poll for four members of committee (seren candidates) resulted in the following being elected: Messrs. P. J. Johnson, W. Pearson, J. H. Blakiston, and A. C. Fearnley.-The following addition to the regulations, proposed by Mr. P. J. Johnson, with J. W. T. Holgate seconding, was carried: "That no printed or duplicated matter be allowed to be issued in support, of any person nominated for a seat on the committee; and that the issuing of any such matter on the candidate's behalf shall disqualify such candidate from holding a seat on the committee."

THANKS.

A most hearty vote of thanks, proposed by the Chairman, and seconded by Vice-President G. Bolland, was accorded to the Vicar for the service sermon, use of the bells, and for placing the Institute at the disposal of the Association; also to those associated with him in conducting parties round the Abbey; coupled with a vote of thanks to the organist, Mr. Sykes; the choirmaster, Mr. Eggleshaw, and members of the choir for the beautifully-rendered and inspiring scrvice.The Vicar, who, in responding, was enthusiastically received, said that the churchwardens and himself regarded the visit as a privilege conferred on them. They were very proud of their bells, and if he were to go in for ringing instead of golf to reduce adipose tissue, he might have in due course a decent waist (laughter). He could only concludo by expressing the wish that they world come again soon.-The Rev. W. P. Wright, in responding to a vote of thanks for the use of his bells, smilingly said that Dr. Solloway might say Selby was old, but little Hemingbrough was older still; in fact, it was mentioned in the Domesday Book.-Thanks were accorded to the local branch, headed by Messrs. F. Cryer and A. Hall, for their work accomplished so well to make the visit of the Association in every way a success, and to the ladies, many of them ringers' wives, who assisted at the tea tables. -Votes of thanks were also passed to the auditors and returning officers, Messrs. Thos. Smith and A. Hall, and to the treasurer, secretary and president for their services during the year; thanke being also accorded to the latter for ably presiding over what had proved a most pleasant " annual.

THE ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the Yorkshire Association is, as usual, a very voluminous publication, and is complete in all its details. The committee urgo the members to endeavour to euroll as hon. members tho clergy and churchwardens of their parishes, so as to keep them in touch with the aims and objects of tho Association. After referring to the proposal, mentioned in the report of the annual meeting, to divide the county into districts, the committee in reviewing the work of the past year, state that the number of peals rung on tower bells was 96, and on handbells 19, making a total of 115. The list was quite up to the average, both as to quality and quantity. One or two more difficult methods-of which there was a great variety for those who did not aspire to the rank of Surprise ringers-in the place of some of the Kent Treble Bob peals, and the appearance of a peal of Stedman Cinques, would make the list well-nigh excellent. The committee noted with pleasure two additions to their tower-bell list of methods, Norfolk Surprise and Little Bob Major, the luandbell list also having beeu added to by a peal of the latter, which was the first to be rung in the method on handbells. There was a good variety of "Little" methods in existence, which, in the committee's opinion, were worthy of attention. The report adds that Drighlington now heads the list of towers, being the first to be credited with one hundred peals for the Association, which total was attained during the year. Mr. J. Broadley was congratulated upon being the third member to reach the 200th peal mark (the two others are Messis. C. Glenn and C. Jackson). Sixty-one new members were enrolled during the year, but the committee would like to see more than this, especially in view of the heary number of lapses, there being no less than 30 names to be struck off through non-payment of subscriptions. This last was the most disappointing feature of the year's work. There were now six patrons, 42 honorary and 1,405 ringing members on the books. This showed only a net gain of one on the year's work. Referring to the balance sheet, the committee remarked that they again see that there is no hope of putting the Association on a sound financial basis from their present resources, and it was evident that the limit of expansion with their preseat income had been reached. The income was practically the same as last year, as was also their ordinary expenditure, leaving them with a little margin on the right side. This was creditable in its way, but they felt it was not what it ought to be, and they were no nearer the goal of their ambition than before, viz.: To be able to place each year a substantial amount on one side for expansion, as their predecessors were able to do during the early years of the Association's existence. They felt that this must have the attention of the committee, as the matter of placing the finances of the Association on a sound basis was of paramount importance for its continued success.

THE LADIES' GUILD.  FIRST DISTRICT MEETING.

The first meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild wns held at Basingstoke, on Saturday. In spite of unpropitious weather, there were present: Miss Alice White, President (Basingstoke); Miss Edith Parker, general sec. (London); Miss Eva Belcher, Southern District secretary (Bramley); Mrs. Mack and Miss. D. White (Basingstoke), Miss Clillingworth (Bradfield), Miss Goodship (Reading), and Mrs. Whittington, who, with her husband, pluckily cycled from Cranleigh to Woking in the drenching rain, to be present at the meeting. There were also in the company eight or ten of the less gentle sex, from Reading, Hersham, Basingstoke, and Oakley. Ringing at St. Michael's began aboul 4 o'clock, and some pretty touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples were brought round, ably conducted by Miss Parker. A very pleasant party sat down to a capital tea, provided by Mr. Philpott, after which Mrs. Mack, Miss D. White, and Miss Sparshott, werc elected members; and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Basingstoke for the use of the bells. On returning to the belfry, while mere men stood aside wondering, the cight ladies, refreshed with tea, brought round the literally' "maiden " touch of Grandsire Triples rung in this belfry, conducted by Miss Parker. And so, with touches in aiferent methods the agreeable gathering was carried to a close. It may not be impertinent for one who vias present as a privileged guest, to congratulate the ladies on their skill, energy, and excellent striking; and it augurs well for the lift which is being given to the tone and spirit of the Fxercise at, large, by the existence and praiseworthy work of the Ladies' Guild.

THE PEAL AT WALLASEY.

To the Eclitor.

Dear Sir, -In your issue of January 24th, "Sympathiser" alludes to my condemning a peal of Bob Minor rung at Wallasey on Boxing Day. Well, I heard come of the ringing, which was very good, but several changes were badly muddled up, next they all "fired" (not a straggling fire), and then, after a bit of struggling, they settled down again, but I had lost all interest in further listening to it; so I had condemned before I knew what band was ringing. On the Sunday I heard that Mr. Newton was in it, so I wrote him, saying that hoped bo would not call it a peal. And I received a reply which I enclose. I still think the conductor should have terminated the ringing when the muddle took place, so that they might inave had a better peal at the next attempt. I hear a rumour that one or two others are of the same opinion as myself, but I suppose do not care to trouble.-Faithfully yours,

WILLIAM WILCOX.

THE CONDUCTOR'S REPLY.

Dear Sir,-As being responsible for the peal of Bob Minor rung at Wallasey on December 26th last, and published among the other records as a true peal, I hope you will allow me enough space in your valuable paper to give both sides of the correspondence that has taken place between Mr. Wilcox and myself, and afterwards to explain to those interested what are the true facts of the case. On the 29th December last, I received the following postcard from Mr. Wilcox: " I heard the bells ringing at St. Nicholas', Wallasey, on Boxing Day. I heard a jumble at 5.10 p.m., and the bells fired, then struggle on. I put it down 'no peal,' but have been informed this morning that a peal had been rung, and that you were one of the band. I sincerely ihope it it is not a peal intended for the Chester Diocesan Guild (Wirral Branch)."

I was very much annoyed when I received this postcard, because I knew it was unwarranted and the outcome of jealousy, so I hastily sent back the following lines on a postcard: "Yes, it was a peal intended for the Chester Diocesan Guild, and a far supcrior one to any that you ever rang. Surely you are not comparing your toy $5 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. tenor (Bidston) with bells $16 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. (Wallasey) and a wealth of metal. I am not like yourself, a pioneer of ding-dong monotony. You must remember these lads have had only twelve months, and it was their first peal. Surely they can make a mistake. Read the Central Council's definition before you go any further. If you show any more ignorance or ill-feeling you can have another dose.'

Now, Sir, I have never yet heard or read of a peal being disputed unless there was some personal grierance of some kind underlying it all, and this case is rio exception to the rule. The trouble is that we were successful without their assistance, and hope to be on many occasions in the future. About this performance that is now in question, I wish to say at the outset that I was very well pleased with the peal when we rang it, and as regards firing I never heard any. Perhaps I was not far enough away. What happened throughout the whole thiee hours and seven mimutes was that or two occasions only two of the band hesitated at the lead, but the mistake was rectified immediately, and the bells were not out of course a single change. Surely all conductors have not to stop at bob calling? Now, Mr. Editor, you must admit that for three young ringers to ring their first peal and collectively to make only two mistakes, is an achierement to be proud of, as the ringing was most regular all through. I have it on good authority that the distance from Bidston-where Mr. Wilcox heard the ringing from-to Wallasey Church is three miles. It might be possible to know accurately what is happening this distance away, but I very much doubt it. "A Sympathiser" is certainly lamentably ignorant of what services $I$, or others, have given towards the tuition of the St. Nicholas', Wallasey, ringers. I have never claimed any credit for their progress, nor do I wish to. I know who took the most pains with them when they started to handle a bell, and who initiated them in the art of change ringing as it should be taught. I was never tired of reiterating to them the importance of good striking, and on the occasion of each visit to them, at no small sacrifice of time, I was obliged to travel on three different railway lines each way. Whatever assistance this band got from outside was unsolicited and infinitesimal, and as regards Mr. Wilcox's services, I have it on the authority of one of this band's leading ringers that he has never rung with them above once. There is too much of the "wheelbarrow" style of ringing in this particular branch of this Guild, or, as Mr. W. Snowdon so aptly describes it, "ding-dong monotony.
Now, Sir, Mr. Wilcox is the appointed instructor to this particular branch, an office which carries with it 5 s . per lesson when engaged. I am a non-resident member, and do the work gratuitously; therefore, there are no fees for Mr. Wilcox from this tower. On top of this. I have tricd to discourage in this tower and branch the ringing of Grandsire Minor and other worthless six-bell methods, and what I want the Wallasey (St. Nicholas') band to do now is to go on and learn seven legitimate methods and ring a 5040 with them included. And if they ring it as well and as true as we rang ours on December 26th lasí, I shall be more than satisfied, and feel that my labour has not been in vain.-Yours faithfully, Liverpool.
GEORGE R. NEWTON.

CLAIMS TO AUTHORSHIP.

To the Eiditor.

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr . Lindoff, I wish to say I agree with all that has been written on this subject by my confreres, while I consider Mr. Lindoff's letters have been anything but commendable. For he has contorted our statements, misrepresented our meaning, and confused the point at issue in order, perhaps, to draw attention from the main question, while at the same time he has not advanced a single line of sound argument in answer to our charge, and has never yet said, the 5040's we gave in our joint letter you published in your issue of November 8th, are not shortened variations of the 6048's we enumerated in the same letter.
In his first letter on November 22nd he insinuated some claim " of ours not yet made,' and concluded with a query, "Who would rounds belong to?" The reply to this is, rounds, like the other course ends, belong to any man, who can string enough of them together in a true and original 5040 composition, and so, Mr. Lindoff, rounds in New Cambridge Surprise Royal, and in your London Royal do not at present belong to you, and in this you have so far failed. In his letter of your issue, December 27th, Mr. Lindoff is a bit more clear, and would like to make us claim the full extent of the changes 6 th bell at home. Mr. Hattersley told him in his letter, January 3rd, that wo do not claim to have invented anything of the kind; in this I fully agree. But what we do claim is to have produced original compositions, which embody that quality, 'c and which are not variations of previnus composition in the method," from which, by the simple and well known process of shortening the 5040's in 14 courses, Mr. Lindoff publishes as his own, are taken from, and could be so obtained by any novice composer, or anyone who knows the calling which produces course ends
In subsequent letters, Mr. Lindoff tells us that peals 1 and 2, and 3 and 4 in our joint letters, are alike, which really is no business of his whatever, and is not relatire to the original question. This likeness, whatever there is, was known to us before publishing our first letter. We gave them with a * Bob, which he ignores, as showing that each comes direct from a distinct source of composition, and which clearly shows the 6048's ard not variations of one another. Now Mr. Lindoft as the 5040, No. 1, used in ringing your London Royal comes from Pitstow's 6048, and No. 25040 comes direct from Washbrook's 6048, you can claim one-half only of the 5040 you want. Thus, by your own showing and quibbling you can only win 2520 changes, which aro both useless and ridiculous.
In Mr. Lindoff's first lettor already alluded to, he told us he had some half-dozen such peals, etc. This is amusing indeed. Just fancy a man of talent and knowledge, sending out a new method, and then, to bolster it up, send with it, for its first performance, the composition of another composer. When caught, he boasts he has other such compositions. This gives rise to the idea that this half-dozen are as good as mythical.

Mr. Lindoff, in his letter of December 27th, tells us he has not the 6048 peals of Superlative in his possession. If this is so, how can he lescribe or discuss and draw correct conclusions. Therefore, in order we hope, to enlighten our readers, and, perhaps, Mr. Lindoff upon the subject, we will give the figures in full of the composition which 5040 No. 3 comes from, and point out how it reduces also to a 5056 , which will enable anyone with composition knowledge to compare and draw their own conclusion upon the merits of our claim.
SUPERLATIVE SURPRISE MAJOR.

The figures of the New Cambridge Surprise Royal are given side by side of the 6048 Superlative to save troublesome refercnce, and to show that the course ends and calling of the 5040 are identical in the last eleven and the first three courses of the 6048, that shows by adding a bob W at * course ends jump fiom $C$ to $D$, and also that the $B$ courses bracketted are cut away.
l3y adding a bob "before " following course end A, course end B is brought up and changes are reduced to 5056 in number. It was thus rung as the composit on of H. Dains, on March 4th, 1904, at All Saints', Edmonton, by Royal Oumberland Youths, conducted by Mr. J. Parker, in Superlative surprise Method. The same composition was again rung, June 4th, 1905, as by the same composer at St. Mary's, Lambeth, conducted by Mr. Bertram Prewett, in New Cambridge Surprise Method, for this latter see Middlesex report, page 531, for 1905. Whether this composition has been rung at other times is not known, but it is very curious that it has been twice rung in reduced numbers and 23 courses with its author's name, but when reduced to 14 oourses by Mr. Lindoff, he claims the composition of them as a new one, although published over 20 years ago. Well, it has now again been shown conclusively it doesn't belong to him.
If ever any reader has seen such a conglomeration of mis-statements as those in Mr. Lindoff's letter of the 24th January, in reply to one of the most straightforward letters one could put together, let him say so, and then to conclude it by comparing morals, forsooth! This takes the prize. In conclusion, if Mr. Lindof should write a straightforward letter upon this subject and to the point, he will get a reply, otherwise he may not.
With many thanks, Mr. Editor, on behalf of my colleagues and my-self.-Yours faithfully,

HIY. DAINS.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

Tho pre-Lent meeting of the above Association was held at Tanficld, co. Durham, on Saturday last, and the few who were present thoroughly enjoyed their afternoon's outing, in spite of the inclement weather which prevailed. It is regrettable that so few members attended the meeting, but probably the difficulty of reaching the village had a good deal to do with it. At the committee meeting, 14 mem bers were present, with the president, Mr. C. L. Routledge, in the chair. - A letter of regret for non-attendance was received from the Rev. Archdale (Vicar of the parish), who had other duties to attend to. -The chief discussion was on the success of the district meetings.It was stated that this scheme had already been the means of securing two more towers for the Association, Tiz.: South Shields and St. George's, Jesmond.-The President announced the dedication of Bamlurgh bells next saturday, remarking that the Association was asked to appoint in instructor for this tower.-It was decided to leave this in his hands.--The President was also asked to select a committee to nake arrangements for the reception of visitors to the Central Council meating, to be held in Newcastle on Whit-Tuesday, May 13th.
An excellent repast was served at the Pack Horse Inn, to which the 22 members present did ample justice. - The President, in a brief speech, thanked the Vicar and churchwardens, also the Rev. W. Lister, for the arrangements they had made for the comfort of the visitors.The Rev. Lister' suitably responded.-After the election of new members, etc., the ringers dispersed to the neighbouring tower, where ringing was indulged in.

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

PROPOSED GIFT OF A TREBLE TO CHELMSFORD.

A mecting of the South Eastern district was held at Great Baddow, on Saturday. After ringing in the afternoon, the members adjourned to the King's Head, where the hostess (Mrs. Shorten) had prepared a bsentiful repast. Those present included the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre (secretary). DIr. C. H. Howard (Naster), Mr. C. Firelr (churchwarden), isecretary) Mr. C. H. Howard (Master), Mr. C. Firch (churchwarden), MI. A. Edwards (Disirict Master), H. F. Cooper (district secretary), Messes. Kırion and Walden (Boreham), Rainbird (Little Bentley, South Wuald), Whight, Richell and Newman (Cholmeford), Lincoln, Edwards and Head (Writtle), Green and Sitch (Fryerning), Windley (SpringGeid), and others.-Mr. G. Rogers (Ingatestone) was elected a member, and Ingatestonc tower in union with the Association. Rayleigh was selected for the next meeting, or, failing this, Prittlewell. A meting will be held in April, at Little Bentley; South Weald.
The Rev. H. T. Eyre proposed, and Mr. C. H. Howard seconded, a hearty harty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Great Baddow, and also to Mr. Finch for presiding at the tea and meeting.-Mr. Finch responded, and assured those present the Vicar would have joined them had ho been well enough to do so; as for himself it was a great pleasure to bo present and meet men he had known for so many years. He also hinted that in the near future the authoritics were going to turn their attention to tho bells and improve upon the present ring of cight.
It was reported that an order had been placed with Messrs. Warner and Sons to recast the present ring of ton bells of St. Mary's, Chelmsford (tenor, 22 cwt .) into $a$ ring of 12 (tenor, 30 cwt .), the bells that as St. Mary's is to steel frame. The opinion was freely expressed fihat as St. Mary's is to loe the Calhedral Church of the new diocese of Issex, the $\Lambda$ ssociation should present the now treble bell. After considerable discussion as to how the money should be raised, the following resolution was carricd unanimously: "That this meeting recommends that the Association should present the treble bell to the proposed new rimg of twel:e for the Pro-Cathedral of the new diocese, and that it be paicl for out of the reserve fund, which amounts to about $£ 100$. "-I'he Master intimated that notice would have to be given of special motion to be brought forward at the annual meeting, which is to be held at West Ham on Whit-Monday, and Mr. H. F. Cooper, district secretary, of the division, gave notice of his intention of doing so.

The methods rung durng the afternoon and evening were Grandsire and Stedman Triplee, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT ORDSALL.

The village of Ordsall, where the North Notts Association held a suncesstial meeting on Saturday, is mentioned about the year 1037, in tho reign of Erlward the Confessor, and it finds a place, too, in Domesuay Book. Here it was in the time of the Commonwealth that the Rector, Dr. Marmaduke Moore, was fouud guilty of the "damnable offence of playing cards, three several times in his own house, witin his wife, to the great scandal of religion, and the great danger of drawing down the wrath of God upon the land," and for which his estate was forfeited as "for treason," and he was himself for ever sequestered from his living. The meeting on Saturday was held partly to honour the 21st annversary of Mr. Joseph White, as senior ringer and sexton, and as Ordsall was the birth-place of the writer of this report, who cherishes the dearest recollections and reminiscences of the past, it is very gratifying to have to record such a large atiendance of ringers and friends from kindred associations. Members were present from Anston, Worksop, Bawtry, Blyth, Everton, Last Markham, Laughterton, Lincoln, Gainsborough, West Stockwith, Last Ritford and Ordsall. Touches in a variety of methods, Oxford, Kent, Grandsire and Plain Bob were brought round, whilst the Ererton ringers accomplished a 720 of Violet Treble Bob, the best struck 720 of the day, and a perfect example of what six-bell ringing should be. The ringers were: H. Stevenson 1, I2. Lindley 2, J. Bee 3, John Swinilon 4, Joe Swindon (conductor) 5, Geo. Brown 6. Afterwards a 720 of Oxford was rung by: H. Haigh 1, F. H. Hind 2, J. T. Barham 3, G. R. Winter 4, F. W. Baker 5, H. Stanton (conductor) 6. -Tea and the business meeting were held at the Gate Inn, the genial Rector (the Rev. IL. D. Foster) presiding, and giving a few words of practical advice, and his democratic views of Churchmanship. He also referred to his brief experience as a ringer.-The Vicar of Everton, with his ringers, rejoined the Association after a lapse of 20 years, and Miss Dorothy D. Steel, of Bedford, and the Rer. W. P. Wright, Vicar of Hemingbrough, Yorks, were also elected non-resident members, together with one or two performing members. - The next meeting will be the anmual meeting, and will be held sometime in May, full particulars of which will appear in "The Ringing World.' - H.H.

RINGING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

The two peals recorded at Congleton and Silverdale are worthy of special note. The first peal of Superlative on the bells of the former church was a birthday compliment to Mr. H. Lawton, one of the bon. members of the Stoke Association. On the following day, Silverdale, with its natty little peal of eight, by Warner, was risited. A curious state of affairs was there met with. The ringers were on strike, and the church was undergoing repairs. After some of the visitors had looked round the church, which contains serious cracks, owing to subsidation, they found one of their number in the belfry stripped to the waist, shovelling up a large heap of debris that had been placed there by the workmen. The belfry as a matter of fact was without standing room, but having removed the rubbish to the centre and placed planks over the holes in the floor, a start was made. When ringing had been in progress about an hour, the staircase was filled with children, who must have clambered in through some of the holes. The tenor ringer was able to keep them from entering the riuging chamber with some difficulty, and shortly afterwards gravel and stones were rained at the window of the belfry. But even under these difficulties the peal was successfully brought round.

THE PEAL AT BIRLING, KENT

Mr. F. W. Richardson writes: With reference to the peal recently rung at Birling, Kent, will you allow me to make a correction to the footnote. The reason I put "first peal on the bells" was that I thought this the best means of getting information, as I searched the Kent County records, and found nothing had been done, and there was nobody at Birling to enlighten me. However, Mr. Geo. Lrucas very kindly supplied the long wished-for information. He conducted the first peal on Birling bells, Kent Treble Bob Major, for the Middlesex. Association. So the footnote should read: Second peal on the bells, first in the method, and first by this Association on the bells. I wish again to thank Mr. Lucas for the trouble he took in coming to St. Johain

Mr. P. Hodgkin, of Headcorn, also writes to correct the footnote. The first peal on the bells, he says, was on May 19th, 1901, and adds that the first peal in most if not all the eight-bell towers in Kent have been rung gears ago. Other correspondients have also written to the same effect.

THE SALOP GUILD.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT MALINSLEE,
On Saturday, a very successful meeting of the Salop Guild was held at Malinslee. Originally, it was intended to go to Berrington, but the bells there were in a bad state, and the Rev. E. Parry kindly iavited the Guik to Malinslee. Ringers were present from Shrewsbury, Dawley, and Coalbrookdale, and Bob Minor, Stedman, Grand--sire and Plain Bob Doubles, were rung. Mr. Woodvinc, the captain of the local band, collected sufficient funds to entertain the party to an excellent tea, his good wife and other ladies attending to the visitors' wants in the comfortable Parish IIall.
The Rev. E. Parry presided at the business meeting, supported by the Rev. C. B. Crowe, R.D., Vicar of Coalbrookdale.-The Secretary intimated that Mr. E. R. Trevor Corbett had written explaming that Mr. O. 12. Lilley had come to reside in Shrewsbury, and hoped this would be the means of raising the standard of the linging in the Salop Guild.-Mr. Clayton, junr., was elected an hon. meniber.-After tea, some good handbell ringing was done, a course of Grandsire Caters, double-handed, being followed by several courses of Triples. Mr. C. W'atts also rang the front four through a course of Grandsire Triples in fine style. The Rev. C. R. Crowe proposed a vote of thanks :to the ladies for providing such an excellent tea-Afterwards there was further ringing in the tower. -This npportunity is taken of thanking the Rev. E. Parry for the uso of the bells, and for helping to make the meeting a success.

PEAL TABLETS UNVEILED AT KENSINGTON.

The ringing of a peal in the metropolis noradays is such a frequent occurrence that one seldom hears of a peal tablet being erected thereabouts to commemorate suah a performance. However, two occasions on which the St. Mary Abbott's Guild of Kensington rang peals were considered of such historical interest that it was decided to have permanent records of them in the belfry. Consequently, the Vicar (the Rer. Prebendary Pennefather), accompanied by Mr. Erederick Leach, I.S.O., churchwarden, and the Rev. H. W. Brown, chaplain to the Guild, togethor with some twenty-five members, assembled in the tower for the purpose of unveiling two magnificent tablets recording peals rung by members of the Guild on the Coronation days respectively of their Majesties King Edward VII and King George V. After having unveiled the tablets, the Vicar congratulated the ringers on their performances on two such historical occasions, and expressed admiration, which was shared by those present, at the design and workmanship of the boards.

Mr. W. E. Garrard, in thanking the Vicar for his presence, remarked that the peals were first-class performances and were well struck; providing examples to the younger members of the Guild of what could be accompliched through perseverance and regular practice. It was also observed that their dear old friend J. Hayward, the ringer of the treble in the King George peal, whose cheery good nature was sadly missed, was the designer" of the tablets, which are made of "Wainscott," polished moulded bases and caps, and fluted pilasters and eliptical arched top with panels of mahogany. The work was by the author of both the compositions of the peals, H. Dains, and bath the performances were conducted by William E. Garrard, Stedman Caters and Treble Bob Royal respectively. The arched part of each tablet is adorned with the Royal Coat of Arms, painted in colours, picked out ind gold.

MONEY QUICKLY RAISED.

For a long time past the bells of Sit. Nicolas' Church, Guildford, have been going badly; no peals could be attempted, and it was very difficult to ring the heavy bells; indeed, so bad had they become that it was decided to stop ringing after evening service on Septuagesima Sunday. Notice was given to the Rector and wardens that ringing must cease, and on Sexagesima Sunday the Rector made an eloquent appeal for funds to put the bells in repair, saying it would be a disgrace to him and to the congregation for them to remain silent at the Easter festival, and he hoped the necessary amount (about £76) would be subscribed. Whether it was the Rector's eloquence or the silence of the bells we do not know, but the whole of the money required, and more, was subscribed by the following Tuesday, and the work was immediately put in hand, the estimato of Messrs. Taylor and Co.. of Toughborough, having been accepted. It is hoped the bells will be again rung on Easter day.

ST. PETER'S, COLCHESTER, BELLS.

To the Falitor

Sir,-In reference to appeal for funds, re St. Peter's bells, I beg to acknowledge the receipt of following sums, and shall be glad to receive any further donations, for cards already issued: Amount preriously acknowledged, £6 10s.; Mr. A. Shufflebotham, Bocking, 1s.; St. Michael's Guild, Braintreo, per Mr. C. H. Howard, 10s. ; St. Mary' Ie-Tower Company, Ispwich, per Mr. W. Motts, 7s. 6d.; Messrs. I. and H. Newman, Feering, 4s.; Mr. F. C. Newman, West Ham, 2s.; smaller sums, 7s.: St. Peter's Company, Colchester, £1 1s.; per Mr. G. Burch, 1s.; per Mr. S. Hull, 1s. 6d.; per Mr. H. Evers, 1s. 6d.; total, £9 6s. Gd.-Yours faithfully,

WORCESTER BOB MAJOR.

To the Wilitor.

Sir,-If Mr. Pigott has not got " Rules and Decisions of the Central Council, $1904, "$ I should advise him to get it and study it carefully. "This report is later than the "Glossary," and certain definitions in the "Glossary " aro out of date, and have been since 1904, and it is not fair for anyone to send methods to the ringing papers before they have studied the latest works puolshed by the Council on the subject. The method is not Double, and it is not a Court method, neither is it the Double of so-called Iorkshire Court, which cannot be doubled, and is not a Court method. The proof of these statements is in that publication, and so I give no proofs here, as it is not fair to occupy your space with proofs which anyone can obtain for themselves by buying the publication named. Of course, if Mr. Pigott likes to ring illegitimate methods he can do so, just as he is at liberty to ring call changes if he wishes to, but he has no right to occupy your space until he has taken the trouble to learn the rudiments of the subject.

1I. LAW JAMES.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Just a word on the above method, which can be seen in IIubbard's "Art of Ringing" (1876 edition) as Double Yorkshire Court Bob, and which in my opinion is the very best method known away from the four Standard methods, viz., Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, and Kent Treble Bob.

Take Double Norwich, for instance, as it is generally suppesed to be the most musical method known. We get in every treble lead eight perfect and eight foreign changes, whereas in Double Yorkshire there are twelve perfect and only four foreign changes to every treble lead, making the method 25 per cent. better than Double Norwich for its musical qualities.

Yorkshire is a double method, as all the places are made the eame from belind as they are from the front, but still it does not reverse true in itself, and this is the onc thing which was forced through the Central Council, and is a defeot becaruse some of the very best methods are now called illegitimate. To my idea this method is far more legitimate than Grandsire, as all the changes are true from lead to lead, whereas Grandsire is only true from lead head to lead end. Birmingham.

ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

LAMBERHURST RINGERS' DINNER.

The Lamberhurst, Kent, ringers held their annual dinner recently, when a jovial company, numbering upwards of 40 , partook of a sumptuous spread at the George and Dragon Hotel. A 6moking concert was afterwards held, under the chairmanship of the esteemed Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Stopford-Gayer), with Col. Delamaine in the vice-chair, supported by Mr. P. A. Simpson and Mr. B. L. Playfoot. After the loyal toast had been honoured, a pianoforte solo by Mr. Wallis, of Gouchhurst, was executed in fine style, and was followed by some lively selections on the piccolo by Mr. John Tapp (the tap, a wag remarks, that never freezes). "The Army, Navy and Reserve Forces" was next proposed by Mr. P. A. Simpson, and responded to by Col. Delamaine, who gave same interesting reminiscences of the Army. A humorous contribution followed by Mr. Turner, whose efforts were loudly applatuded, as was also the song, "Mary Ann, she's after me," contributed by Mr. E. Crurr. -The toast of "The Lamberhurst Bell Ringers' 'was proposed from the chair. and responded to by Mr. W. Marshall and Mr. John Bailey, the latter also giving an old favourite, 'They have all got il mate but me," while Mr. F. Gurr afterwards sang a humorous song.
The toast of "Tho Kent County Association," coupled with the name of Mr. Latter, was given by the Vicar. Messrs. A. Wright and Emptage followed with songs, after which Mr. Latter responded to tho toast. He gave some very interesting statistics concerning the Association and ringing in general, and said he should very much like (as would the Lamberhurst ringers) to see "two more bells added to the present ring of six, to complete the octave. He was sure, if the Vicar projected the scheme, it would be heartily supported. Messrs. F. Gurr and J. Turner next gave a comical sketch, which was followed by "The village blacksmith, 'by Mr. Wallis.-The Chairman next proposed "The Visiwors", and Mr. P. A. Simpson responded, saying ho hoped the Vicar would bear in mind Mr. Latter's remarks concerning the two new bells, and bring the matter forward. Ho promised it would have his hearty support, and would, he ventured to say, receive the same from other residents in the village, while he was sure the acquisition would be highly appreciated by the bell ringers themselves.

Selections on the handbells followed, and a song, "Mr. Cupid," by Col. Delamaine, was greatly enjoyed.-Votes of thanks to the various artistes for their services, and to the host and hostess, were proposed and carried, and the concluding toasts, "The Chairman," "Vice-Chairman" and "Mr. P. A. Simpson," were accorded musical honours.-An extremely enjoyabic evening was spent.
[Reports of other festive meetings are unavoidably held over.]

MODERN WORK.

THE DIVISION OF YORKSHIRE.

In the annual report of the Yorkshire Association, which we published last week, there was an important matter affecting the future welfare of the organisation. The committee are requesting the members to consider the question of the division of the county into districts for administrative purposes, with a view, we take it, to coming to a decision at the next annual meeting. The Yorkshire Association was one of the very earliest of the county organisations to be established, it covers the biggest area, and yet it is one of the last to adopt the divisional system. There may be something to be said for a centralised administration, but we believe its advantages are far outweighed by those of a properly decentralised system.

Many of the best associations owe their present very satisfactory condition to the fact they have split their area into more or less self-contained districts. By this means the ringers are brought into far closer and more active relation. It enables meetings to be held more frequently at the varjous towers, and members are able to participate in the proceedings, who otherwise for lack of opportunity would lose touch with and interest in the doings of the organisation. In a large county, particularly like Yorkshire, it is only possible to visit the principal centres very occasionally, when but foum meetings a year are held, and it may be years before a member in one corner may have the chance of attending such a gathering, unless he has both time and money to spare. He cannot attend the meetings, he knows but little of his association's doings, and consequently his membership becomes a very filmy thing, which it takes but little to break.

On the other hand, well organised districts bring him into close touch with the association, by means of frequent meetings in his own neighbourhood, and, where, as in the best governed organisations, certain administrative power is given, he becomes far keener upon the work and the progress of his division. Yorkshire, we think, cannot go wrong in taking the suggested step so long as it gives to its subsidiary districts sulficient control over the affairs of those districts to keep the members interested in its management. Many advantages must also accrue from the opportunities which the more frequent meetings give to those who desire to advance in the art of ringing itself. Many a man can trace his progress to the stimulus received at a district meeting, where a word of encouragement or a chance to practice a new method gave him just that impetus that was necessary. We think Yorkshire will be well-advised to go ahead with its division, which will but add strength to its numbers and solidity to its ranks.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Broomfield Vicarage Chelmsford

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that we are perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to sou of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broowteld Cburch Bells.
We consider that the work refleote great eredit upon your firm, and beliepe that your system of hasnging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are alse unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS,
Vicar of Broomfield.

THE DISPUTED PEAL AT WALLASEY.

To the Editor.

Sir,-I have been requested by the ringers of St. Mary's, Liscard, to protest against the insinuation made by Mr. G. R. Newton in the last issue of "The Ringing World," namely, that Mr. W. Wilcox had said the peal at Wallasey was faise, because he (Mr. Wilcox) had Ween done out of his fees bv Mr. Newtou giring his services free. Mr. Wilcox has made innumerable visits to this tower, of which I have tho honour to be captain, and has never received one penny for his services, and has not even had his train fare paid. The lack of improvement here has been entirely the fault of the local men, who, for the most part, were content to go on in the same old way. Mr. Wilcox has been an ever welcome visitor here, and will be even more so now that Mr. T. Murray has taught us to ring Bob Major, and has enlivencd things generally in this part of the world. Whether the Wallasey peal was false or not, ringers who know Mr. Wilcox will not believe that he was moved by a spirit of jealousy or ill-feeling. Faithfully yours,
13. Wimbleclon Street, Liscard.
H. WILLIAMS.

S'T. MARY ABBOTS' GUILD.

The annual dinner of the St. Mary Abbots' Guild took place on Friday evening last at the Parish Hall, Vicarage Gate. A company, numbering over 30, including several visitors, was presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. S. E. Pennefather, D.D.), supported by Messrs. Bennett and Garrard.
Letters regretting inability to attend were received from the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, and Messrs. W. T. Cockerill and J. A. Trollope. An excellent repast was served, following which Mr. W. E. Garrard (instructor) gave his annual report, in which he stated that the Guild was in a satisfactory condition, although the past year had not been a very good one. Since their last annual gathering they had lost, by death, a very dear friend and fellow member, Jarrold Hayward, who by his kind, genial, obliging and unassuming manner, had become endeared not only to themselves, but to all ringers by whom he was known. Four other members had left during the year, whilst two honorary and five ordinary members had been elccted, making a total of 26 ringers. The Sunday ringing had been the most satisfactory part of the year's work, the quality of the ringing being good, and the attendances of members both regular andpunctual. Owing to illness near the church, no practice was possible for over three months, which prevented much progress being made, both in the practice of the more advanced methods, and also in bringing their several probationers to a state of efficiency as ringers. It also had its effect financially, as no steepleage or fines were imposed during that period, and the funds of the Guild suffered in consequence. Only one atternpt for a peal at St. Mary Abbots' was possible during the year, this failing after ringing about half-way, owing to a change-course. They were more successful, however, at St. John's. Waterloo Road, on April 24th, with a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major. The other principal performances included seven quarter-peals, consisting of three of Stedman Caters, three of Kent Treble Bob Royal, and one of Double Norwich Caters. The bells at the Parish Church had been rung on 26 ocoasions during the year for royal birthdays, weddings, etc., being eight less than the preceding year. Two tablets had recently been placed in the belfry, recording the peals rung in honour of the Coronation of Fis late Majesty King Elward VII and His Majesty King George V. Scarcely anything could be too good to record such historical events as these, and it was indeed gratifying to note that the boards were designed by their late lamented member and friend. Mr. J. Hayward, and executed by Mr. Dains, and were beautiful in the extreme. During the past year the tower had been visited by 53 ringers from various parts of the country, one visitor hailing from Australia.
The Charman, in expressing his best thanks to the Guild, said they always listened with great interest to Mr. Garrard's reports, which were always marked by extreme modesty. While some members were doubtless disappointed at the cases of illness which prevented their ringing, he was certain that they were ever ready to make the selfsacrifice involved, and none would wish to do otherwise in such a case. He was glad they had a successful year. It was true they had lost a few men in the Guild, but they welcomed the younger members of it, as it was to them they must ultimately look to continue the work. He went on to refer to the two boards which commemorated the Coronations, and trusted it might be a long while before it became necessary to place another in the belfry. He begged to thank Mr. Garrard for all he had done by his kindness and efficient help in conducting and managing the belfry. It was a consolation to know that they had so many members interested in this work. He, therefore, thanked them for their help, and trusted the Guild would continue to fourish under the able guidance of Mr. Garrard (applause).The Rev. Harold Brown (Chaplain of the Guild) proposed the toast of "The Visitors," which was responded to by Mr. T. Faulkner (Master of the College Youths), who said he noticed with interest the Vicar's remarks with reference to the necessity of care for tile younger members of the Guild, and also to the exercise of self-sacrifice on behalf of the sick. He was certain that the objects of the Guild made for true manliness of character, which was a point they must ever impress upon therr younger members. He wished every success to the St. Mary Abbats' Guild.
Mr. Daniells, speaking as an old mamber, congratulated the Guild upon the change ringing acoomplished, and expressed his warmest thanks to Mr. Garrad for the efficient manner in which he conducted the ringing.-The Rev. C. S. Durham and Mr. Winney aiso reciprocated the good wishes on behalf of the visitors.
The remainder of the evening was spent in the usual jovial manner, many taking part in the entertainment which followed, under the presidency of the Rev. H. Brown, and which included hanabell ringing, songs, etc.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS CELEBRITIES.

The above photograph is composed of the first eight men to ring ioo peals for the Central Northants Association. To all who achieve this distinction the Association presents a gold medal, and it was arranged that these eight should attempt a peal. Owing, however, to the illness of the late Mr. W. V. Newman the idea had to be abandoned.

ODD CHANGES.

We live in an age when wonders come thick and fast upon one another. Only a month or two ago we recorded the two peals of Minor, one in three and the other in five methods, tapped by Mr. Segar, of Retford, and marvelled at the performance. Three weeks ago along came Mr. Broyd, of Gestingthorpe, with a peal tapped in seven methods, and now comes Mr. Segar again with two performances that outstrip either of these.

On the 3 rd of February he tapped a peal of 5040 , in seren true 720 's, made up of ten methods, spliced on the most approved plan, and followed it up two days later by a full 720 of each of the ten methods, making a peal of 7200 changes in all, which was completed in 2 hrs. 43 mins. When is the limit going to be reached? Not yet, we suppose, but really these tapped peals are wonderful.

A correspondent, writing with regard to the 5040 , says the peal had previously been written out, and the bobs and singles were ticked off as they were called by Mr. Segar. The treble was hunted through the peal by Mr. D. Blagg, and the tenor by Mr. S. Tallents, and it was all found exactly correct. The writer extends congratulations to Mr. Broyd upon his wonderful performance in seven methods, and fully agrees that the physical strain of tapping a peal of this kind is tremendous. Mr. Segar's performance is, of course, the first of its kind in ten methods.

While on the subject of handbell peals it is not uninteresting to note that next Tuesday (February 18th) is the anniversary of the first peal of Bob Royal rung " in hand." We are indebted to Mr. W. Hale, of Painswick, for the following extract from an old ringing book which belonged to the Bisley (Gloucester) Society of Ringers, and which bears on its title page the date 1677: "February i8th, 1777, was rung at Abingdon upon ten Hand Bells a Complete Peal of 5040 Plain Bob Method in 3 hours and ten minutes by ye five following persons, viz. :-

| :---: | :---: |
| Henry Parker | 3 |
| Jeremiah Wright | 5 |
| Benjamin Glanville | 7 |
| Edward Brooks | -10 |

It is the first Peal of the kind that ever was rung in this Kingdom.'

The screen erected by the ringers of this country to the memory of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson at Drayton, Berks, was dedicated by the Archdeacon of Berkshire on Saturday, in the presence of members of the family, numerous clergy and ringers.

Mr. T. H. Taffender has been elected Master of the London County Association, formerly the St. James' Society. It was largely to Mr. Taffender's efforts when filling the office of secretary that the fortunes of the old society were rehabilitated. He succeeds Mr. H. S. Ellis in the mastership.
'W. R." writes: " I don't know how near your paper has been to John O'Groats, but I have had the honour of taking it to Land's End. Working there last summer for about five months, I have read the 'Ringing World' with interest many a time on the rocks by 'the sad sea waves' in that remote spot." We wonder how near the " Ringing World " has been to John O'Groats.

The bells at Petrockstowe, Devon, which have been augmented to six, and the tenor recast, have been dedicated. The work has been splendidly carried out by Messrs. Stoke and Son, of Woodbury.

The first peal on the bells at Birling, Kent, was rung in 1891 and not 190i, as mentioned last week.

The centenary peal recorded at Guildford has a good deal of interest. The particulars of the peal of 1813 are to be found on the wall of the belfry in the following terms :-

On the 7 th day of February, 1813 was Performed a Peal of Grandsire Triples in ten courses, consisting of 5040 changes (an original of the Late Ingenious Mr. Holt), in three hours and eight minutes, by the following youths of this Town

Viz.

I Geo. Hutton
4 Wm. Hutton

5 Geo. Aldred 6 Wm . Mason 7 Isc. Wilson 8 Wm. Wrist Conducted by W. Baldwin, aged 24 . Mr. Ed. Upton and Mr. Sl. Russell, Churchwardens.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus on handbells recorded this week is, we believe, only the third in the method that has been rung in hand. It was rung at the first attempt, and after only one practice, when three courses (2016 changes) were rung. The other two peals were rung, one by the Norwich Association, at Diss, in 1889, conducted by Mr. J. Motts, and the other by the College Youths. A peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus was rung by a Sheffield band nearly a hundred years ago.

It is not uninteresting to note that with all the twelve bell ringing that has been done by the Middlesex Association in the 16 years of its existence, the peal on handbells recorded this week is only the third of Kent Maximus that the association has recorded, and, curiously, the last two were rung within a week.

SHOREDITCH BELLS RESTORATION.

The bells have bcen removed to Messrs. Warner's foundry for repairs, and, unfortunately, it has been found that the four smaller bells will have to be recast. Fears hare been expressed that when the twelve bells are ringing, it will be impossible to hear the trebles. The harmonic or subsidiary tones overpower the fundamental note; or, to use every-day language, the bells are too heavy; they are choked with metal. It has been decided to have this work done. The trebles ( 1 and 2) were given to the church in 1823 by the Royal Cumberland Youths, and were cast by Mescrs. Mears. The second bell, when it has been recast, will bear the folloming inscription: "The treble and this bell were given by the Royal Cumberland Youths, 1823." The 3rd and 4th bells were cast by Messrs. Lester and Pack in 1765.
It has been decided to make provision in the new frame work for an extra bell to be placed in the tower if a sufficient sum can be obtained, so as to form a light ring of eight. Thus, if this bell can be added, ringers will have a 13 bell tower in London. It may be recalled that ringers who rang on these bells years ago always complained that the trebles could not be heard.
The new work will cost about $£ 100$ more, and subscriptions are earnestly asked for, and should be sent to Mr. H. J. Bradley, Clerk's House, Parish Church, Shoreditch, who will also be glad to supply collecting cards.

THE BRISTOL SURPRISE RECORD.

To the $\begin{aligned} & \text { Ihititor: }\end{aligned}$
Sir,-I see in your last issue Mr. Winney says he is not having a "dig" at the Bristol Surprise record, but is simply correcting what he calls a mis-statement. What mis-taternents there are he has made them, as he is trying to convince the Exercise that there were serious trips, which did not occur. He says he was speaking to a friend at six o'clock, when a nasty trip was occuring. This so-called nasty trip was a bell missing a dodge in 3-4 down, and was hardly recognisable. If he calls this a nasty trip, I can understand him saying there was a serious trip at one o'clock, as I take it he would exaggerate as much what he was told as he did what he heard himself. No ene ever said that the peal was rung withont a mistake; what was said was that it was rung without any serious mistake, which was correct. It would be a difficult job to get eight men to ring a method like this for nearly ten hours without making a mistake; but I question if ever a peal of that length was rung with less, and I doubt very much if ever any long length was rung when the ringing reached a higher standard. I saw several ringers after the poal, soms of whom had heard every change, and no one had anything but praise for it. I did not ask Mr. Winney for any prase, neither do I want any unfair criticism, and I hope if he writes again he will confine himself to facts. I challenge him to bring anyone forward who heard any serious trip, and I ask him in future to criticise what he hears himself, and not do it on hearsay. I am not in the habit of doing this myself. If I were, I shoukl have criticised some recent performances in which Mr. Winney took part, as I was told that a muddle started in a peall, in which he was ringing recently, five leads from home, and that the bells wero never clear till they came into rounds. Me can congratulate himself on being a very fortunate man; he has subjected more than one to a lot of unfair criticism, and has escaped a lct himself which he ought never to have escaped. He may not always be so fortunate. W. PYE.
Dear Sir,-I deny most emphatically Mr. Winney's statement in last week's number, that there was a bad trip at 6 p.m., and a muddle at 1 p.m. Unfortunately, Mr. Winney is like many of the older generation of metropolitan ringers, he is projudiced against the younger generation, and thinks that they are much inferior to those of his own day. Morecver, he is a muoh keener critic outside the tower than when he is inside, and consequently a missed dodge becomes a bad trip, and a slight trip is magnified into a muddle. It seems strange that after eight months he should cast aspersions on the performance when at the time he congratulated us upon ringing a "splendid peal." There never was & muddle at 1 p.m., but one man made a slight trip, which was rectified in two or three blows. Mr. Winney admits that he was not there at the time, but accepts and priblishes a statement made by others whose names are not mentioned. If Mr. Winney will take the advice of one of the younger generation, he will not attempt to belittle a splendid performance, but will get a band and try to beat our record. I'm sure Mr. Lindoff will oblige with a composition of 17.000 or 18,000 in the method.-Yours, etc.,

BERTRAM PREWETT.
Dear Sir,-I have followed with interest the controrersy with regard to the above, and notice that Mr. Winney has medified his original definition to " nasty trips.", I listened to the peal for just over seren hours; the "serious trip" at one o'clock only lasted aboat two wholo pulis (if as much as that), and even then the time of the changes was in no way deranged. The remainder of the bells were, in my humble opinion, striking perfectly, just the one ringer who had missed his work being out; this being so, the trip could hardly be termed as approaching a muddle.
The "nasty trip" at six o'clock, I regret, "escaped my nolice," and, tierefore, I must reluctantly refrain from comment, but Mr. W. Pye and his band would be well adviscd to treat all comments of a detrimental nature with the contempt they undoubtedly deserve. would mention that from $11.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. until the time when the bells came round, I was near enough to the tower to hear every bell distinctly, and for orer five hours of the time was in the Churchyard, timing the changes at intervals. I must say that the regulanity and striking of the peal was remarkable for eren a five thousand, not to mention its merits for such a length, and judging by the standard which the hearing of Metropolitan peals has raised for me it was excellent.
Perhaps tho few ringers who know me will say that my experience does not warrant my remarks, but I am merely statiug my opinion, as one who heard most of the peal, for what it is worth, and I am moved to a crude imitation of the bard, who wrote:-

Many went to hear the peal,

(Alas, here comes tlie rub)
Some listened in the Churchyard
And the others-in the Neighbourhood!
I should think the opinion of Mr. C. T. Colec, who heard as much of the peal as (iif not more than) I did, would be interesting, coming fiom so experienced a ringer.

Finally, a great deal has been said about the "refining influence" that the gentler sex have upon the Art; it is to be regretted that such an influence is nececsary, but it undoubtedly is, when one observes such statements in the correspondence columus of the ringing papers as have appeared of late, the majority of which are of no interest to the Exercise generally, and would make a fourth rate politician shudder. Some of these too, cmanate from men the very top of the tree !- Yours of these, faithfully,

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Yorktown District held a quarterly meeting at Walton-on'Thamea on Saturday last, when the peal of eight at St. Mary's Church was available for ringing, and several touches were rung before tea, to which the company sat down in the Church Hall, the proceedings being presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. Kemp Bussell). Ringers were present from Hersham, Chertsey, Woking, Kingston, Worplesdon, Sunbury and Walton, together with Miss E. L. Bemnett (New Cross), Mr. F. Hairs (Clapham), and Mr. and Mrs. Whittington, of 'Cranleigh. After tea, the arrival of the Rural Dean, the Rev. J. H. Townsend (Vicar of Oatlands) was marked by a round of applause. A course of Caters on the handbells was next brought round, and at the business meeting, which followed, the report of the Ringing Master (Mr. W. Shepherd) was presented.-The Rev. J. H. Townsend gave some interesting information as to the progress made with the new peal of bells, which are being hung in Oatlands tower by Messrs. J. Warner and Sons.-Mr. F. Shepherd, senr., said he had just come from Oatlands, and from what he had seen he was certain that everyone would be pleased with the new peal when the work was completed. He assurnd the Rev. Townsend that a hearty welcome awaited him and his future ringers in the Winchester Diocesan Guild.-In replying to the vote of thanks that was passed, the Rev. Kemp Bussell said he was always pleased to see the Guild at Walton. He expressed a hope that he would be able to do something with regard to the rehanging of the bells later on. -Nore ringing was then indulged in, and the meeting proved very successful.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

At the quarterly meeting of the Kettering district, at Isham, touches of Woodbine, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were rung on the bells before tea, but no ringing was done afterwards, owng to ilness near the church. The belle of Burton Latimer were, however. very kindly placed at the disposal of the ringers. After tea, in the School, the business meeting was held, presided over by the general secretary (Mr. F. Wilford), supported by the district secretary (Mr. J. Shatfowd).-It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Rothwell. Severnl new members were elected.-The Secretary read a letter from the Rector, who was prevented from being present owing to a previous engagement. Hearty votes of thanks was accorded for the use of the bells, also to the ladies who provicled tea.

WELLINGBOROUGH DISTRICT

A quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough District was held at Irthlingboro' and touches of London, Bristol, Cambridge, and Superlative Surprise, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Plain Bob Major, Stedman, and Grandsire Triples were rung on this handy ring of eight. -Tea was partaken of in the Schoolroom, about 40 being present.-A short business meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. A. K. Taylor, supported by the two churchwardens. - It was resolved to hold a special meeting at Finedon on Warch $29 t h$, and the quarterly mecting at Wilby. -The sum of $£ 114 \mathrm{~s}$. 9rd. was collected at the various mectings for the widow of the lat 3 Mr. B. Perrctt.-A hearty rote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the use of the bells, also to the ladies who provided tea.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.  \section*{ANNUAL MEETING AT CROYDON}

The ammual meeting of this Association was held at Croydon on Saturday week, there being representatives from rearly all the towers in the district, including those in the newly-formed Southern area. The new ring of ten at St. Peter's, South Croydon, were in early request, and various touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Treble Bob Royal were zung until five o'clock, when the Rev. Arthur Reeve, the Vicar, conducted a special service, and gave a capital address to the ringers.
Tea followed at St. Peter's Parish Hall (kindly lent by the Vicar and churchwardens for the purpose), and to this some 65 sat down. A short touch on haudbells by members and friends, and an address of welcome to Croydon by the Rev. Canon White-Thomson, Rural Dean and Vicar of Croydon, who had to leave early, introduced the members to the business proceedings, which were presided over by the Rev. Arthur Recve, supported by Mr. Percy Sylvestcr and Dr. Arthur B. Carpenter (Master of the Association), Messrs. Cyril Johnston (hon. secretary), Hy. Ewins (Southern district secretary th Chas. Dean, and Jas. George (Rugby).
The committee and officers were re-elected, except that Mr. Dean was appointei auditor, in place of Mr. Cowen, and it was decided to ask Mr. Daniels to re-consider his decision to retire from the post of assistant-seratary. - The committee's recommendation as to the places for ensuing meetings was agreed to; Epsom, being chosen for Easter; Egdam for the summer meeting, and Streatham for the meeting in the autumn, while Reigate and Redhill were selected for the next annual meeting.
A very hearty vote of thanks, proposed by the Master, and seconded by Mr. J. D. Drewett, was passed to the Vicars and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to which the Rev. Arthur Reeve and Mr. Sylvester responded.
In consequence of illness close to the church, the bells at St. Peter's could only be rung for a short time after the meeting, so that those who had como long distaneos could hear them, but the bells at the Parish Church were available, and some good touches were rung.

PRESENTATIONS AT LUDLOW.

The Ludlow Guild have bean entertained to dinner by the Rector (the Rev. A. E. Lloyd Kenyon) and Mr. Robert Marston. The gathering was arranged specially to bid farewell to Messrs. George and G. D. Acton, who were shortly leaving for Canada, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. After dinner was over, the Rector said that they had met there that evening to say good-bye to three of their members, although when the dinner was organiscd it was to bid farewell to two members only. But since then, their secretary, Mr. F. S. Wilson, had been appointed to anotiler branch of the bank, and so they had unfortunately to lose three of the ringers, which was a great blow to the Guild. Proceeding, the Rector presented to Mr. Geo. Acton a handsome book on the Restoration of Ludlow Church Tower, and to Mr. G. D. Acton a copy of "Among the Bells." In asking them to accept these gifts, he said that they were all extremely sorry to lose their valuable services, and he wished them both every success and happiness in their new work and surroundings, and he hoped that the books would help to remincl them of their ringing friends in Ludlow.
-The Messrs. Acton, in responding, said they would always value the gifts, and often think of their old friends in Ludlow belfry.-Some good toaches of Grandsire were rung on handbells.
On the following Monday, a special meeting of the Ludlow Guidd was held to appoint a new secvetary and treasurer in the place of Mr F. S. Wilson, who was shortly leaving Ludlow for Tewkesbury.-After the business meeting, the President of the Guild, the Rev. A. E. Llord Kenyon, said they could not let Mr. Wilson leave Ladlow without showing him some slight recognition of his services to the Guild for the past four years. ITs (the speaker) was sane they would have difficulty $m$ finding any one clse to replace Mr. Wilson, who had always worked so hard for tho well-being of the Guild. He also wished Mr'. Wilson, on behalf of all present, every success and happiness in his new sphere of work, and asked him to accept a little present as a mark of their great aippreciation of his services.-The gift consisted of a large and beautiful picturo of St. Lawrence's Church, Ludlow, hand somely framed, bearing upon it a small brass plate engraved as follows: "Presented to MEr. F. S. Wilson from the Ludlow Guild of Change Ringers, January, 1913."
Mr. Wilson, in accepting the gift, thanked the Rector and the ringers for their handsome present and good wishes, and said he should always value it and look back with pleasure to the many happy hours spent among them in Lucllow belfry. He was glad to know that what little he had done was so much appreciated.-A vote of thanks wes proposed to the Rector for presiding.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

The third quarterly meeting of the year was held at Whitwick, and was well attended by members from Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Burton, Derby, Loughborough, Leicester, Hugglescote, Hinckley, Newhall, and other places. Ringing was in progress on the eight bells of whe Parish Church from about three oclock, among the methods rung being: Grandaire ind Stedman Triples, Plain and Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superiative Major-At the general meeting which fol lowet tea in tle Schoolroom, the Vice-President (Mr. J. W. Taylor) took the chair, and was supported by the Rev. R. P. Farrow, of Bardon Hill; Mr. W. C. Wakley, hon. treasurer, and others.-The auditors, Messrs. E. D. Taylor and C. Draper, were unanimously re-elected, on the proposition of Mr. H. Wakley, seconded by Mr. H. Powdrill.-The Vice-President reviewed the peals rung during the last quarter of 1912. They numbered, he said, 56, making a total for the year of 172. The 56 peals included Cambridge, Superlative, and Norfolk Surprise, and, on six and five bells, peals in seven and ten methods of Minor, and one in eight methods of Doubles. Three life members and 27 ringing members were elected. - Mr. Draper proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the incumbent of Whitwick (the Rew. J. W. A. Mackenzie) for the use of the bells and schoolroom, and also to the Whitwick ringers for so kindly making the arrangements for the tea and meeting.-This was seconded by Mr. H. Wakley, and carried unanimously.-A rote of thanks to the Chairman closed the mecting

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY, RUGBY.

At the eighteenth annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Society, Rugby, over which the Rev. O. M. Blagden presided, the balance sheet for the past year was presented by the hon. sccretary (Mr. II. O. White) and accepted. Mr. Fenton, scmr., was re-elected Ringing Master. Mr Chandlar was elented hon. necretary and treasurer, and Messrs. 1 r Watson, W. Malins, and K . O. White were appointed to serve on the committee. Mr. Hessian was elected Deputy Ringing Master and hon auditor.-Mr. Fenton, in the course of a few remarks, said the society had had a very successful year, having rung three complete peals, one of which was the 500 th by Mr. James George, who was one of the society's oldest and most prominent members. The peal was rung at Mr. George's invitation at South Wigston. Mr. George was probably the only man in the Midland Cornties to ring that number of peals, and the society was very proud to have on its membership roll such 2 fine exponent of the Art.-Mr. W. Brooke (churchwarden) thanked the officers and members for their loyal services during the past year. A vote of thanks to the President for presiding terminated the meeting.

ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

SOUTHBROOM RINGERS ENTERTAINED.

The ringer's connected with St. James' Church, Southbroom, together ith the clergy, were invited to spond an evening at "Avalon," on a recont evening, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fi. Brownlee West. Hoth the host and hostess talie in deep interest in ringing, and, in addi-保 to taking his place in the tower at Southbroom and instructing the "recruits," Mr. West discharges with enthusiasm and success the duties of honorary secretary to the Devizes branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. The ringers assembled to the number of about a dozen, and were accompanied by the curate (the Rev. Evelyn Smith). Tho Vicar (Canon Gardiner) was unable to be present.-After being well treated at the tea table, the guests passed a pleasant musical wening, with, of course, a variation in the way of what ringing was available, Mr., Mrs, and Miss West ringing 120 changes on the handbells.-Towards the close of the proceedings, Mr. and Mrs. West were cordially thanked for their hospitality, Mr. A. E. Pike being the spokesman of the party.

WROXHAM RINGERS' NEW YEAR'S SUPPTR.

By the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Green, the Wroxham company had their annual New Year's supper just recently, amd, us usual, a highly enjoyable evening was spent. Tune ringing upon handbells is a modern feature of Wroxham handbell displays, and the efficient manner in which the selections were played immensely delighted the host and hostess. A pleasing variety was given to the ringing by double-handed change ringing on 12 , and on six bells in Minor methods, whilst the songs rendered by Mr. F. Hall and Mr. R. Chamberlin greatly added to the pleasure of the proceedings. The ringers present numbered ten, including Messrs. H. Spurgeon (captain), S. Nunn (conductor), R. Haines, E. Warnes, E. Nunn, J. Ives, A. Webb, F. Hall, C. Kidd and C. R. Chamberlin, and they desire to thank most hoartily the host apd hostess for their unsparing kindnesses in this and many past years.
With C. Kidd 1, E. Warnes 2, C. R. Chamberlin 3, A. Webb 4, H. Spurgeon 5, S. Nunn (conductor) 6, the Wroxham Súnday change ringers were successful in accomplishing a date touch on Tuesday January 14th, in honour of the current year. The bells were pulled off at, the back stroke to fit in the odd changes, and the efficient mamer in which the bells were struck, speaks highly of the untiring efforts of the conductor. We hope soon to be able to report a 5040 .

GOOLE

On a recent Monday the members of the Goole Parish Church Guild wore entertained to dinner at the Sydney Hotel by the Vicar and churchwardens. An excellent dinner was provided by Host Heptonstall. Afterwards, a short business meeting was held, at which the officers were elected for the year. The Vicar appointed the Rev. W Lawson-Smith and Mr. J. Swingler as additional vice-presidents. A smoking concert followed, an excellent programme having been arranged. Most of the ringers made their debut as vocalists, and some musical talent was unearthed which will be heard more of in the future. -During the evening, a hearty vote of thanks was given with musical honours to the Vicar and churchwardens for their kindness.
The Vicar, in responding, alluded to the work of the ringers, and asked them not to forget that bell ringing was Church work, and that they should try and do that work as reverently as possible. He said that the object of the dinner, which was to be an annual event, was to bring ringers and clergy together, so they might know each other bettrr.-Other speeches followed, and were interspersed with songs, banjo solos, pianoforte solos and tunes and changes on the handbells, which brought to a close a most enjoyable erening.-H.L.

SWAINSWICK.

pleasant evening was spent by the Swainswick company recently, by the kindness of the Rector (the Rev. H. C. Franklin), a supper was partaken of at the Rectory, which was much enjoyed by all. Afterwards the annual business meeting was held, the Rector presiding. The tower master's report showed that good progress was being made.-A vote of thanks to the Rector for his kindness and also for the use of the bells for peal attempta vas carried unanimously.Tho Rector replying, said that it was a great pleasure to meet the ringers there, and expressed his regret that the two attempts for a local peal came to grief.

HODDFSDON

On Monday week, the St. Paul's Society had their annual dinner and social at the Salisbury Arms Hotel, about 20 sitting down to a sumptuous repast, presided over by the President (the Rev. P. F. S.
Hill), who was supported by the Rev. T. Walton (curate) Mr. I. Dew (churchwarden), Mr. Dawson, Mr. Jackson, etc. The loyal toasts having been honoured, the toast of the evening, "Success to the St. Paul's Society," was proposed by Mr. J. Dew, coupled with it being the name of the Master (Mr. J. Puplett), who suitably responded.-Messrs. Christio and Co. were thanked for their ready responso to the fund for new ropes.- A number of songs were sung. interspersed with selections on handbells and the gramophone, and a pleasant evening was spent.-Mr. S. Knight, the hon. secretary, was thanked for the way he had managed the details.

ST. ANDREW'S, RUGBY

The ringing members of the St. Andrew's Society were the guests of their President and Mrs. Blagden, at the Rectory recently. After supper, the loyal toast having been duly honoured, the Rector proposed "Long Life and Prosperity to St. Andrew's Society, and to the ringing members.' ${ }^{\prime}$ In the course of a few remarks, the Rector said how very thankful both Mrs. Blagden and himself felt the day that they arrived at their new home to hear the beautiful bells ringing out a hearty welcome. The Rector added that he would like to take the opportunity of congratulating the ringers that took part in the peal.-The Ringing Master (Mr. J. B: Fenton), on behalf of the ringing members, expressed their sincere thanks for the kind hospitality extended to them. The ringers were all very pleased to meet the new Rector and Mrs. Blagden, and hoped they would be spared to live amongst them for many years to come.-Mr. Fenton then proposed "The Health of the Rector and Mrs. Blagden," and in a few wellchosen words, wished them " Long Life, Much Happiness, and Good Health," and hoped they would find Rugby and its surroundings as interesting as their last home, namely, Oxford.-The Rector suitably replied, and then an adjournment was made to the study, where some sixteen or seventeen "volcanos" were soon issuing forth mot lava, but smoke. Courses of Grandsire Caters and Triples were rung, and tune playing also took place upon handbells that were skilfully manipulated by Messis. Fenton, Malins, Chandler, George, Hessian, and White. A quick six in Stedman Triples is not to be compared with the pace at which this very enjoyable evening slipped away

GLOSSOP ASSOCIATION.

The annual dinner of the Glossop Association was a great success. It was attended by a numerous gathering of local ringers, augmented by visitors from Manchester.-After dinner, the Vicar of Whitfield (the Rev. W. M. Martin-Ellis, M.A.) offered his encouragement and best wishes to the Association for their work throughout the year. He wished it were possible for the Association to include the whole of the Deanery.-Subsequently the chair was occupied by the Vicar of Glossop (the Rev. C. Dudley Hart), who referred to the work of the Association, remarking that it would be a great pity if bell ringing were ever divorced from the Church itself. Their work was not simply an exhibition of change ringing, nor simply a question of endurance, but it was a duty that carried with it important responsibilities. If ringing were to become an art and nothing else, it would be absolutely useless. Bells were only uscful for one purpose, and if they divorced them from the real use of the church, then they became a farce. After the loyal toast, "The Health of the Visitors" was proposed by inf. W. Marsden, who remarked that the Association was formed at a time when it was felt that the art was getting a bit neglected in the districu, and since its formation the Association had brought ringers into closer relationship with the church, and with each other than for some yeare past.-Mr. Richard Newton, of Manchester, responded.Mr. Jesse Nield submitted the toast of the Viears and church officials, and to this the Rev. H. Lawrence (Vicar of Dinting)-replied.-Mr. F. Morris gave the toast of "Success to the Association." He said the Association was going to be of service in a very important work of the church's many and valuable activities, and he wished it every prosperity. He threw out the suggestion that they should have a service at their annual gathering.-Mr. J. Buckley, the secretary, suitably responded, and said the suggestion made by Mr. Morris would be borne in mind, and brought forward at the earliest opportunity.- A most enjoyable musical programme was carried out, the handbell ringing being not the least appreciated items.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful practice meeting of the Durham and Newcastle. Association was held at Bishopwearmouth (Sunderland) on Saturday week, when ringers were present from Jarrow, South Shields, and the three Sunderland towers. The methods rung were Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman: and, in nearly every case, at least oue of the bands scored a first touch.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

The Vicar and churchwardens acknowledge with many thanks the following contributions towards the oost of recasting the cracked bell: W. and N., £5; H. E. N., £3; A. H. F. B., $£ 1$ Is.; W. C. P., $£ 1$ 1s. ; F. S., f1 1s.; C. W. O. J.. 10s.; T. E. B., 2s. 6d.; J. H. S., 2s. 6d.;
O. W. L., 2s. 6d.; the Msopham band, 7s. 6d.; the St. Bololph's band (Lincoln), 4s. 6d.; Porte 3 a Parish Church band, 3s. 6d.; Selby Abbey band, 4s. 6d.
Donations will be thankfully received by the Vicar, Mr. W. Doggett, or Mr. H. Croot, Long Stanton.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Before responding to your appeal in this matter, some of yaur readers would like to be assured that the misfortune was due neither to "clocking" the tenor bell, nor to neglect in having her "quarterturned "when the sound bow was getting worn. I hops that the Long Stanton Church authorities oan give this assurance.

St. Albans, Fcb. 7th.
T. L. PAPILLON.

THE KENT ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING OF TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

'The anurual meeting of the Tonbridge District of the Kent Association held at Edenbridge, was attended by upwards of 50 members from Chiddingstone, Cowden, Hadlow, Hever, Horsmonden, Lamberhurst, Limpsfield Chart (Surrey), Penshurst, Seal Chart, Shipbourne, Speldhurst, Staplehurst, Tonbridge, Tunbridge Wells, and the local members. At the committee meeting 14 new members were elected, and places for the district meetings for the ensuing year were suggested for approval at the general meeting.
A special service was held in clourch, at which the organist and choir very kindly gave their services. The Association's special form of service was used, and the Vicar gave an excellent address, taking his text from Colossians iii, 23-24.
After service, the members adjourned to tlie Oddfellows' Hall for tea. -The Vicar presided, supported by the Rev. F. L. Schreiber, Vicar of Shipbourne.
At the general meeting which followed, the District Secretary ( Mr W. Latter) read his annual report, in which he said that the ringers at two six-bell towers, Cowden and Kilndown, had joined during the year, making 19 towers, with a total of 168 practising members in wnion, leing a net increase of 26 members on the preceding year; 38 new practising members had joined, and three new hon. members. Four district mectings were held at Chiddingstone, Staplehurst, Seal Chart, and Penshurst. As a result of holding a meeting at Penshurst, the ringers of that church had joined that day. Instruction in change ringing had been given to the Cowden ringers with very good results. Members of the district had taken part in 24 peals.
The report was considered highly satisfactory.-Mr. Latter was reelected hon. district secretary, with thanks for his past scrvices, and Mr. G. Edwards, of Chiddingstone, was unanimonsly re-elected District Representative on the Central Committee.

It was decided that the spring meeting should be held at Sevenoaks or Tonbridge, the summer meeting at Brenchley or Lamberhurst, the autumn meeting at Horsmonden, and the next annual meeting at Tunbridge Wells.
The balance sheet showed receipts $£ 23$ 2s. 8d., expenditure $£ 103 \mathrm{~s}$., balance remitted to central secretary, $£ 12$ 19s. 8 d .

Votes of thanks to the Vicar (who became an hon. member), for the use of the bells, for arranging the service, and for presiding at the meeting ; to Mr. Weaver, the organist, and the choir, for their assistance at the service; and to Mr. J. Steddy and the other local ringers for making the arrangements. were carried, to which the gentlemen referred to replied, concluded the meeting, and the members adjourned to the tower, where the bells woro kept going until 9 o'clock.

During the day two peal boards which record the first peals of Treble Bob NIajor and Stedman Triples on the bells were formally unveiled.

DEATH OF AN OLD SHEFFIELD RINGER.

At the ripe age of 74, Mr. Richard Collier, of Ranmoor, Sheffield, passed away on Sunday, Feburary 2nd. For a great number of years he was a martyr to rheumatism, and during the past 15 ycars had been practically crippled by it, indeed, the wonder is that he so long defied time, and that cheerfully.
Mr. Collier first came in contact with ringing on the peal of five at the church within the precincts of the Hall, at Islam, in Staffordshire, where he was in residence as gardener. Coming to Sheffield later, first to Kenwood Hall and then to Ranmoor College shortly before the building of Rammeor Church, he had a great deal to say in regard to putting up the present peal in 1879. Being one of the original band at Ranmoor, and the only one of them to "stick," the writer tcok care that his comnection was severed only by death. Although his peal ringing consisted only of covering some four peals of Grandsire Triples, nevertheless, when he was in health his love for the bells and enthusiasm in the welfare of the ringers would not be a low standard if practised by all the ringers of the present day. During the carly ' 60 's he was connected with the Dove Valley (Derbyshire) Rifle Volunteers (Ashbourne Co.) where he won the esteem of his comrades, as a suitably inscribed presentation watch, of which he was the prond possessor, testified.
The funeral took place at Fulwood on Thursday week, when the coffin, in accordance with the deceased's request, was borne to the grave by four ringers who afterwards rang a course of Grandsire Triples over the grave, viz.: J. Evinson 1-2, S. Thomas 3-4, J. Mulligan 5-6, J. Dixon 7-8. Ringers were present from all the four churches in Shefficld, and among the floral tributes was a large and handsome wreath from the Ranmoor ringers. During the evoning muffled touches were rung on the tower bells, including a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, by: S. Thomas, J. Atkin, J. E. L. Cockey, L. Charlesworth, J. Mulligan, J. Fvinson, W. S. Plant and C. Haynes. Messrs. Smithson (All Saints'), Allen (Ranmoor), Dixon (Norfolk Row) also took part in the ringing.
PORTSEA.-At the Parish Church, on Jan. 12th, 1260 Grandsire Triples: J. Whiting 1, J. Harding 2, C. Groves 3, J. Whecler 4. W. Holloway 5, A. Creasy 6, J. Harris (conductor) 7, G. Cooper 8.- On Jan. 21st, 312 Stedman Triples: J. Whiting 1, A. Collins 2, S. Thomas 3. J. Wheeler 4, G. I. Harriman (Loughborough) 5, A. Creasey 6, J. Harding (conductor) 7, J. Matthews 8.

THE ROBINSON MEMORIAL.

To perpetuate the memory of the late Rev. Francis Edward Robinson a handsomely carved oak screen now stands in Drayton Church. Its dedication completes the work which was undertaken by those who desired to place on record in tangible fashion the love, the esteem and the admiration which they had, during his life time, for a man who probably did more than any other individual to raise the status of the ringer, and the memory of whose unflagging interest in the Exercise, indomitable spirit in face of difficulties, and wonderful prowess in the Art will ever be cherished. The screen at Drayton, and the tablet recently erected in the cloisters at Oxford Cathedral, are the ringers' tribute to the " Grand Old Man " of the Exercise. In all respects, as the Archcleacon of Berkshire pointed out, the memorial is a most fitting one. That it should be erected in Drayton Church, the scene for over 30 years of his earnest ministrations as parish priest, as well as the venue of many of his most interesting campanological feats, was perhaps only natural. The form was certainly well chosen, and the only possible tinge of regret is that the funds were not sufficiently large to permit of carrying out the original and larger scheme, which embraced a chancel screen. But as far as funds allowed, the belfry screen is doubtless what the late lamented Vicar would himself have chosen, for with his own skilful hands he had done much to beautify the interior of the church by decorating it with ornate carving. A sum of just over 200 was subscribed for the memorial, and the belfry screen has cost about £iso. The remainder, after paying sundry contingent expenses, and providing the tablet in, the Cathedral, will be devoted to such purposes as the committee may consider wise.

In the life of the Rev. Francis Edward Robinson there was to be found much that ringers may do well to follow as an example. He lifted the duty of ringing to the highest plane; steadfastness of purpose and readiness to give a helping hand to others where characteristic traits. A good deal of his ringing was done in days when peals were not as plentiful as he lived to see them become, and if in later years his arrangements were frequently carried out with some ease, the earlier peals were a much greater task. But his perseverance enabled him to create a great record, and his devotedness to the Exercise made his name a household word during his lifetime. It will remain perpetuated as an inspiration to coming generations by the screen which the ringers of England, as a mark of their esteem, have erected in Drayton Church.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN YORK.

Broomfield Vicarage, CheImsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you hare carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-banging the Broontield Church Bells.
We consider that the work reHeots great credit upon your $\mathrm{Hrm}_{3}$ and believe that your system of hanging the bella reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by yon to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLHINGERS are elase unanimons in their praise of the alterations effected by you. Yours truly,

CHAS. EDMUNDS, Vicar of Broomfield.

To the Ellitor

Sir,-Thanks for Talentine letters. "Self-Satisfaction," "I remain passive," "seriouslr:" "I I trust I am true to my birthright." The trip at seven minutes to six caused $m y$ friend to speak in the manner already mentioned. "A missed dodge in 3-4 down, Mr. Pye calls it.", When congratulating one of the band. I ventured to name one man, and said I thought it would have been better if he had not been in it. He made no conment. I had a real treat, as Bristol is a very attractive and most fascinating method. I went down expecting to hear the peal rung. I hare heard the comments of three of the band since the peal was rung. As those remarks are "privileged," I refrain from repeating tirem, but two of them confirmed what I tried to imply in my first letter to you, that the remarks should have ended at "good striking.' - Thanking jou, sir, yours faithfully,
C. F. WINNEY.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The Rochdale branch hold their monthly meeting at Milnrow, on Saturday week, when about 30 members were present from: Rochdale Parish, St. Albams, Balderstone. Newhey, Moorside, Glodwick, Oldham Parish, Middleton, Whitworth, and Todmorden towers, and the local band. - The Rer. II. T. Wright presided over the business meeting, when two new members were elected. Todmorden was selected for the next place of meeting. - After the usual rotes of thanks, the bells were kept going till 9 o'clock, in Kent Troble Bob Minor and Major, and Grandsire Triples.
A well-attended meeting of the Rossendale Branch was held at Haslingion on Saturday last, when ringers were present from Ramsbottom, Helmshore, Rawtenstall, and the local company. Some very good touches of Grandsire and Bob Major were rung.-It. was decided to bold the next meeting at Ramsbottomi on Mareh 15th.

THE MAXIMUS RECORD.

On Saturday, an interesting gathering took place in the tower of St. Michacl and All Angels' Parish Church, Ashton, the company, which included the Rector (the Rev. F. R. C. Hutton), the Rev. R. G. F. Wyatt, the Rer. A. D. Jonnston (clergy of the Church). the wardens, and Mr. Cyril F. Johnsten, of Croydon, Mr. James George, of Rugby, the ringers and their wives, having assembled for the purpose of unveiling the tablet to commemorate the reoord peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus ( 12,240 changes), rung in the tower on April 17th, 1911. -After a few remarks upon previous accomplishments by the Ashton men, Mr. Daniel Heap, the oldest ringer, invited the Rector to unveil the tablet.-In doing so, the Rector congratulated the ringers on their good performance, and hoped they would be spared in health and strength to achieve a far greater accomplishment.-A vote of thanks was given to the Rector for his presence.

After ringing a stort tonch of Kent Treble Bob Maximus, the party adjourned to the Stamford Strest Cafe, where a first-class dinncr was provided. Subsequently the Rev. R. G. F. Wyatt proposed toasts of "The King." and "The Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese," ete.

Pithy speeches were made by the Rev. R. G. F. Wyatt, Mr. Cyril F. Johnston and Mr. James George. Mr. Daniel Hall gave a few interesting incidents from the history of Ashton, concerning the bells and bell ringers.-After singing tho National Anthem the party dispersed, having spent a very enjoyable evening. The ringers agains ascended the tower, and rang a 500 of Treblo Twelve.

SPLICING MYNOR METHODS.

This week, we recond a paal of Surprise Minor in 14 methods, spliced together iu seren true 720 's. It was rung at St. Ignatius', Sunderland, and makes a fitting wind-up to peals on six bells at this tower, for the two trebles to complete the oct.ve are uow hung, and await dedication on the 23rd inst. This peal, which is only the second of Surprise Minor rung on this plan, is worthy of more than passing notice. Soven true 720 's is the best that can be got with six bells, and when moro than seven methods are rung there can be no question that the system of splicing, introduced by the Rev. iI. Law James, is the iteal fashion in which to ring then. In earlice issues we have indicated one way by which this splicing is carricd out, the idea being to put together methods in which the changes in a lead or the plain course are the same.
In the casc of the Surprise peal at Sunderland, however, methods like Lancashire and Stamford; Canterbury and Newcastle, otc., have to be couplex on a different plan. These pairs have not the same changes either in a lead or a plain course, but the same clianges are to be found in three complementary leads. If one of these leads are rung in one methocl, the other two must also bo rung in the same method; and as these loads are never found together in a plain course, the pairing leads to ather a complicated arrangement,
In the peal at St. Ignatius thiere were no less than 72 changes of method. The compositions were the usual three part, tenor obsertation. The first 720 was called In, Out, In, and the remainder W. R. W.
The figures appended show the numbers of the leads rung in the second method in each case :-
Lancashire and Stamford: 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 27. 28 and 30.

Munden and Chester: 16 to 30 iuclusive.
Surfleet and Beverley: 16 to 30 inclusive.
Canterbury and Newcastle: $3,4,5,7,8,10,13,14,17,18,19,25$, 24, 27 and 28
York and Durham: 3. 4. 8, 9, 15, 14, 18, 19, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29.
London and Wells: 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9, 12, 13, 15, 17, 18, 22, 23, 27 and 28.

Lightfoot and Wearmouth: 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 14, 15, 17, 19, 20, 24, 25, 29 and 38.
The first peal rung in 14 Surpriso methods in seven true 720's was achicyed at Tibenliam, Norfolk, as recently as the 2 3rd of Tast month. On that occasion, the methods coupled were: Cambridge, Surfleet and Beveriey, Londnn and Wells, Yort and Durham, Hexham and Berwick, Annable's. London and Hull, and Bourne and Netherseale. The 5040 was complcted by a 720 of Norwich. As that peal was the first on the plan, it would be interesting to have the numbers of the leads in cach method, as set out alove in the case of tine peal at Sunderland.

BATH'S?BAN ON BELLS.

In no city in England probahly has so much objection been heard to bell ringing as in Bath, wher ringers have for years laboured under great dificultios and restrictions. It is pleasing, therefore, to find that at last the clergy are being stirred to look with a more favourable eye uypon the practice of the Art. When the Bath branch of the Bath and Wells Association met at the Abbey Church Honse for their annual meeting, tho Secretary (Mr. W. J. Prescoti) reported that very fair progress had been made under the existing cramped conditions. The monthly practices had not come up to expectations, but the quarterly peal attempts had been successful, several young hands ringing their first 5,000 on eight bells. The total number of peals rung was ten, an increase of three over 1911. Hope was expressed that the Abber tenor would be relung.
Peeb. Boyd, who congratulated the members on the satisfactory re port, promised that the case of the Abbey tenor should be looked into--When the Hon. Seselarv explained that they had in Bath a loi of bells and a lot if good ringers about, but no towers where they were permited to attempt peels, the Vicar of St. Mary's. Bathwick, invilcit the Associatinn to his churell for o quarterly peal. He could not conceive that there should be any difficulty about the quarterly peals, it the ciergy vere properly appealed to. The whole objection to the bells had practically been settled by limitug the time of ring-ing.-Preb. Boyd said there appeared to be a quictening down of the lostility to so fine a thing as lecll ringing. If some of those who critieised bell ringing could realise low much science thorn was in it, and that it was deserving of all encouragement, they would not persevere in the course they hind taken up. Tho Vicar of Si. Mary's said he did not think much of the apparent hostility was really meant.
'The following officcrs were elected: Chairman,' Preh. Boyd; wicechairman, Rex. C. Hylton Stewart; ;ion, secretary and representative on Association C'ommittec. Mr. W. J. Jresoott; Quarterly Peal Selection Committee, Messrs. Fussell, Taylor, Mill and King.

Ringer's Golden Wedding.

PRDSENTATIONS TO NLR. WILLIAM ROCK SMALL AT TIPTON.

Mr. W. R. Small.

The Exercise will congratulate Mr. and Mrs. William Kock Small, of Tipton, Staffs, upon reaching their golden wedding. Last week we reoorded two peals rung in honnur of the event, Mr. Small himself taking part in the one at Tipton. One of the best-known ringers in the Black Country, few men have done more to raise the moral tone of the belfry, and to addvanco the Art in that part of England than Mr. Small has done, and on Saturday week at the anmiversary of the wedding a large gathering assembled in St. M:urtin's Schools to do honour to the unique event. The compary numbered about eighty, those present including the Vicar (the Rev. W. J. de Vine, M.A.), the Rev. F. N. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rock Small, Aldermen J.S. Pritchett (Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham), Mr. John Godfrey (Pershore), Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jones (Blakenball), Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Gough (Coseley), Mr. and Mrs. Russam, Mr. and Mrs. Davis (Birminghtm), Mr. J. and Mrs. Bailey (Ocker Hill), Mr. H. Withers (Bournbrook), Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dumb, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris, Mr. J. Smith, and Mr. G. A. Banner (Tipton), Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Growes and Mr. John Carter (Birmingham), Mr. James George (lugby), Mr. Hary Mason (Oki Hill), Mr. Samuel Spittle (Dudley), Mr. Samuel Reeve: (Christ Church, West Promwjeh), Mr. A. E. Law and Mr. Wm. Fisher (Coseley), and several oiher docal ringers and their wives.
The Vicar expressed the congratulations of Mr. and Mrs. Small's many friends upon the auspicious event, and remarked upon the enthusiasm of Mr. Small as a ringer. He had worked well, he said. all through the archdeaconry for the bell ringing fraternity. Their towers were now very different from what they useal to be in years gone by. There was now a friendly feeling between the congregation and the bell ringers, although the tower was not visited by friends in the congregation so often as they could wish. But, still, there was a feeling that the choir and the bell ringers were on the same footing in helping on the work of God. The ringers not onls rang people to church, but they came to church themselves. Such men as Mr. Small had been the means under God in cansing a happy change to take place. The Vicar presented Mr. and Mrs. Small with an illuminated address, beautifully framed and worded as follows:-

Lo Mr. and Mrs. William Rock Small.
Dear friends, on the occasion of your golden wedding we, the ringers of the Parish Church, Tipton, and a number of your ringing frionds, hereby congratulate you upon this happy event, and ask your acceptance of this illuminated address together with framed portraits of yourselves. We make this offering as an eajression of our sincere appreciation of your unwearying and enthusiastic efforts on behalf of bell ringing not only at the above church, where you have been towerkeeper for about thirty years, but in many other parts of the country. You hare been an inspiration to perfect us in this healthy and intellectual branch of church work. We pray that vour union may remain long unbroken, and that for many years you may be spared to take a lively interest in the art and science of change ringing, which is so dear to you and ourselves.

Signeit on behalf of the subscribers.-Samuel Spittle, Samucl Recres, John Smith, Hon. Secretary and Treasurer. February 8th, 1913.

TIIE HMPROVIMENT OF RINGERS AND RINGING.

Mr. Wm. Rock Small made a fitting reply. He gave place to no one, he said, in enthusiasm for change ringing, and he had done all he conld to further it. As many were aware, the ringers of the present day and of times past were different classes of men. Through the instrumentality of some who were present that evening they had tried to improve bell ringing and bell ringers, and had been fairly successful. He and his wife had reared a family, and the youngesta bell ringer-was in the room (applause). He hoped they were a credit to him and theil mother. She had been a good wife and a good nother, and a credit to the family. Fifty years ago that day they went to Moxley and got married, and neither ha:l regretted it. They were as happy now as ever they were, and had no cause to regret tho day (applause).
Tributes to Mr. Small's worth and enthusiasm were paid by Ald. J. S. Pritchett (King's Norton), on behalf of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham: Mr. Samuel Spittle, Mr. Harry Mason, of Old Hill, and Mr. W. II. Godden.-Mr. Mason proposed a rote of thauks to the Vicar for presiding, to the donors of the tea, and those who had prepared it; likewise to the secretary and treasurer of the presentation fund, Mr John Smith.-Mr: S. Spittle seconded the motion, which was unani mously carried.
Mr. John Smith, in reply, said that Mr. Small was worth all they had done for him. Forty years ago Mr. Small came to the belfry there and found the ringers with their bottle and pipe, but their friend altered all that kind of thing (applause). The ringers now attended the service. In the belfry there was a record of Mr. Small's enthusiasm. Mr. Small had erected two stone tablets himself, and handed them orer to the Vicar and wardens. One was placed in the body of the church, and was the only memorial in Tipton to the late Queen Victoria.

The Vicar also replicil.-During the evening, Mr. Spittle sang a specially-composed bell ringing song, the choil rendered glees, Mr. Daries sang, selections were given on handiolls by the ringers, and several pieces were played by Mr. Harry Withers on his dulcimer.
The above photographs are remroanced by kind permission of the proprietors of the " Dudley Ficrald.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD.

The February meeting of the Romney Marsh and District Guild, was held at Stone-in-Oxney, Kent, on Saturday, and although the attendance was rather poor, capital practice was obtained. Ashford, Appledore, New Rommey. Rye, and the local tower were represented, and the ringing included a 120 of Stedman Doubles, 720 of Bob Minor, 240 Oxford Treble Bob Minor, a 360 and other touches of Kent Treble B 5 Minor; also a course of Grandsire Triples, double-handed on handbells. The conducting was done by Messrs. C. W. Player, H. S. Humphery, G. Billenness and P. M. Pierce, whose name has been associated with linging for many years in Canterbury and the district. Mr. Pierce is at present residing at Ashford, and if he settles permanently in that town, his services will be cordially welcomed at any metings of the Guild. It is worthy of mention that Mr. P. Page, of New Rommey, rang his first touch of Kent Treble Bob, which method he had never practised proviously.
At the business meeting, it was decided to hold the March meeting at New Rommey on the third Saturlay in the month, and it was resolded to attempt a peal at the same church

PETROCKSTOWE'S BELLS RESTORED.

The bells at Petrockstowe, Devon, with a tenor $8 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. in A, have been rehung by Messis. Harry Stokes and Son, of Woodbury, and, as recorded in our last issue, the work has given the utmost satisfaction. The poor-toned tenor has been successfully recast, a treble added to make a ring of six, arre the musical peal has been rehung in a new iron frame. The original five bells were cast by John Pemnington, of Stokeclimsland, four in 1896 and the fifth in 1810, and about a year ago the fittings and frame were found to be in very bad condition. The parish, which boasts of one of the best appointed churches in the district, quickly rallied to the appeal to restore the bells, and they are to be congratulated upon the results of their cfforts. Archdeacon Sanders performed the declication ceremony, and proached a practical sermon, in which ho dealt with the history and uses of the bells, and the ringing during the day was taken part in by bands from Bow, Black Torrington, Petrockstowe, Buckland, Filleigh, Shebbear, and Dotton.
FINCTLEY.-On Dec. 8th, 720 Canterbury Pleasure, in 25 mins.: Barker (conductor) 6.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS.LICHMELD.

By J. R. Jerram.

An early record states that there was a bell-tower at Lichfield, which was consumed by fire, together with the bells it contained, in 1315 ; and there are no more records relating to bells till the fifteenth century, when Dean Heywood gave a bell called the "Jesus bell." This bell was destroyed in the wars during the Commonwealth. It is recorded in a MS. in the Bodleian Library, that " one Pickins, a pewterer, on July 26, $\epsilon_{53}$, knokt in pieces the fair bell called Jesus at Lichfield; he being the chief officer appointed for demolishing that Cathedral."'

In I67o Bishop Hacket contracted for " six bells becoming a Cathedral," three of which were cast before his death, but the tenor only was hung. The peal was completed by his son and executor, Sir Andrew Hacket.

In "1687 the Hacket bells having become " bad and useless," a subscription was raised to replace them by a peal of ten. But the bell-founder, Henry Bagley, used up all The metal provided in casting the back eight, and f.8o more was required 10 complete the peal of ten. The money was, however, made up in some way, and many persons gave trees for the timber of the frame.

Thus the present peal was provided, the tenor of which weighs 28 cwt., and is 54 inches in diameter. The treble, ninth and tenor have since been recast. The inscriptions are as follows :

In the central steeple is a small ancient bell known as the " Goe-bell." The inscription consists of an initial cross, a lombardic $F$ and two words apparently in " black letter" alphabet, which are quite illegible. Probably they are the name of some saint in the form of an invocation.

ODD CHANGES.

The following, which appeared in the Barking " Parish Magazine," summarises, about as aptly as anything which we have seen, the art to which we are all so much devoted:-

Wanted.-Half a dozen young Churchmen to take up a useful branch of Church work-namely, the science and art of campanology. Vacancies have occurred in the St. Margaret's Society of Change Ringers. Qualifications necossary: Earnestness, enthusiasm, and energy. Preference will be given to those who are prepared to take up ringing seriously, and to give the greater part of their (spare) time to a study whioh is more brainy than billiards, more captivating than cricket, more fascinating than football, and more pleasurable than the -"pictures." Remuneration: More kicks than ha'pence.

The Lancashire Association, according to the annual report, has now 1,304 members, compared with 1,263 for the preceding year.

The Glasbury bell ringing competition shield, which was so kindly presented by Captain A. Glen Kidston on Empire Day, 1912, and won by the St. Peter's ringers, Glasbury, has just come to hand from the makers (Messrs. Elkington and Co., Ltd., Birmingham). The shield will be on view for a fortnight at Mr. A. F. Gwynne's, General Stores, Glasbury, and it is worth while any ringer, or anyone interested, calling and seeing this handsome and unique trophy.

The sad fate which overtook Captain Scott's party on their return from the South Pole recalls the fact that at Gestingthorpe, in Essex, there is a memorial to Captain Oates, who so nobly walked out to his death in a blizzard, in order to give his companions a better chance to make sood their escape.

In his regiment, the Inniskillings, Captain Oates was known as "No-Surrender Oates," on account of the fact that when called upon by the Boers to surrender in the South African War, he replied, "I am here to fight, not to surrender." In honour of this brave man's safe return the tenors at Gestingthorpe were recast by his mother, the fifth bearing in Latin an inscription of which the following is a translation: "In gratitude to God for the safe return with honour of her beloved son, Lawrence E. G. Oates, from the dangers of the war in Africa, C. A. Oates has caused this and the sixth bell, for a long time cracked and useless, to be recast in igor.

Before this the bells had been silent since 1832. In 1901 they were rehung by the parishioners. The front four bells are by Miles Graye, 1658 and 1659 .

Ancient peal records are always interesting, and next Thursday will be the I 43 rd anniversary of a peal of Bob Major at St. James', Bath, the record of which hangs framed in the tower: "On Tuesday, February 27 th, 1770 , was rung at St. James's in the City of Bath a true peal of Bob Major, consisting of 5040 changes, which was performed in 3 hrs. and 35 mins. by the following persons, viz.: Edward Trueman, James Trimmell, Thomas Tyley, Samson Parsons, John Rose, Philip Warren, Giles Fisher, called the 'Bobs.'" Mr. W. J. Prescott, who sends us this record, adds: " It would be interesting to know if these ringers belonged to Bath or not. Perhaps one of the old society's books could furnish us with the necessary information?

Yet another Bailey has taken up ringing at Leiston. Wilfred, the youngest of this remarkable family, rang his first 720 last week, when he took the treble to Bob Minor. He is 14 years of age, and doubtless before many months are up we shall have another peal by the brothers. The 720 was rung by Wilfred W. Bailey 1, E. S. Bailey 2, C. Sampson 3, A. F. Bailey 4, F. IV. Bailey 5, J. M. Bailey (conductor) 6.

The Fulbeck band on February ${ }^{13}$ th rang 720 of No. I3 of the Plain Hunt Minor given in the Central Council's "Legitimate Methods," and claim to name it " Fulbeck Bob.'

The first non-conducted peal in Lancashire, and probably in the North of England, was rung at Oswaldtwistle on Sunday in seven Surprise Minor methods. The peal was rung by members of the local band as a "farewell" to the six bells which are going to be rehung and two trebles added to make the octave, by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

That the experienced ringer is readily helping the learner at the district practices, is evidence of a spirit which should ensure the future success of combined practices in the Northern District.
Already over 30 individual ringers have taken part in the three practices so far held, the last of which was at Benwell (six-bell tower), where fourteen ringers attended. The curate of Benwell was present at the commencement, and the Vicar (the Rev. R. E. Shervell) visited the belfiy during the evening.
A somewhat unlooked for restilt of these practices is the opportunity which they give of bringing the claims of change ringing and the work of the Association before the clorgy of the different churches visited. On Saturday, a district practice will be held on the fine new peal of eight (tenor 17 cwt.), at Whitley Bay, at 6 p.m.

THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. BURTON-ON-TRENT DISTRICT.

A ringing meeting of the Burton-on-Trent district was held at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on Saturday week, the following towers being represented: St. Paul's and St. Modwen's, Burton; St. Andrew's, Derby; Lichfield, Grantham, Netherseale, Newhall, Hugglescote and Rolleston. Tonches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Duffield, Superlative Surprise and New Cambriclge Surprise Major were rung on the excellent ring of eight, which have just been recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co.
The Chairman of the District (the Rev. J. J. Stookley) presided at the business meeting, which was held in the belfry. One new ringing nember was elected, and Newhall was selected as the place of the next meeting to bo held on March 1st.-At the conchision of the meeting, a vote of thanks was accorded the chairman for tho use of the bells, and for presiding at the meeting.
The anmual meeting of the district was held in St. Modwen's belfry, on Tuesday weck. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the Rev. J. J. Stockley, Mr. W. W. Worthington was voted to the chair. The following officers and committee were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman, the Rev. J. J. Stockley; oommittee, Messrs. E. I. Stono and II. Hurdman; local secretary, H. Wakley. The following were then nominated as officers of the Association: President, Sir Arthur Heywood, Bart. : vice-president, Mr. John W. Taylor: hon. treasurer, Mr. W. C. Wakley; hon. secretary. Mr. W. E. White.-A vote of thanks to the local eecretary for his work in arranging the monthly mectings was carried, on the proposition of Mr. W. W. Worthington, seconded by Mr. G. Bull.-The usual rote of thanks to the Chairman brought the meeting to a olose. During the evening, touches of Triples and Major in various methods were rung on the tower bells

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

PROTEST AGAINST ESSEX ASSOCIATION PROPOAAL.

 To the Editor.Sir,--I see by "The Ringing World" it was suggested at a meeting of the Essex Association that, in expectation of St. Mary's bells being augmented to twelve in number, the Association should give one of the new bells, as its reserve funds amount to $£ 100$. I, as a momber, would like to call the attention of the committec and members generally, before the hand-earned subscriptions, of those who have for a great number of years helped to build up this Association and its funds, are allocated to such a purpose, to the following questions: What has the Association done towards defraying the trarelling expenses of members to meetings (officials excluded)? What las become of the question of a Ringers' Benevolent Fund? Who has taken the trouble to locate a poor brother string-and there have been, and still are, no doubt, those who could do with a helping hand? We hear a great deal at meetings of the injustice of the measure for the Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Church in Wales, yet these are the Fery people who do not scruple to take a large amount of money out of our funds to devoto to a murpose for which it was nover intended. Let us be consistent. Let the members see to it that these things shall not come to pass. Let them adopt other methods for getting money, whilst there are other calls that should be attended to. Shall we grease the fat sow? Echo answers "No." So let us hope that at the annual meeting at West Ham the members-to use an Hiber-nianism-will put their foot upon this suggestion with a firm hand!

RINGERS' HANDICAP IN DERBY.

The annual meeting of the Derby district of the Midland Countics Association was held at St. Alkmund's Church on 'Tuesday week. It was pleasant to notice a good attondance, there being alout twentyfive present, chiefly from the local towers, and a few representatives from Duffeld. After a few towches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, and. Duffield Major had been brought round, the business meeting was held, the following officers beine elected for the cusuing year: Mr. W. Wallace, chairman: Mr. B. Mitchell, hon. secretary; and Messrs. C. Draper and A. Madeley, committen, to tepresont the district.
Derby boasts of five peals of sught, and one of ten, but only three, peals of eight are avalable fo: change ringing. The two heaviest peals, All Saints' (ten) and St. Luke's (eight) are very seldom rung on account of their bad condition, and St. Werluugh's (eight) have been silent for some years. Considering the close proximity of houses and shops to the remaining three towers, St. Andrew's. St. Alkmund's and St. Peter's, Derby ringers arn somewhat handicapped for peal ringing, but the spirit is there, and, when opportunity occurs, it is generally made use of.
It is a good sign to notice more young men taking up the art of change ringing in Derby, and of they will only stick to it, they will find it good exercise for both body and mind, besides bringing them into closer tonch with the Church. One often finds young ringers bushful at asking questions concerning the Art, but they should be encouraged to to so in order to make their stuties ensier, and emnfidence goes a long way in change ringing.

THE ROBINSON MEMORIAL.

DEDICATION OF SCREEN AT DRAYTON

The ringers' memorial to that wonderful man and ringer, the late Rey. F. E. Robinson, has been dedicated at the Parish Church, at Drayton, Berks, the scene, for a generation, of the labours of one whose name, so far as ringing is concerned, will live as long as the Exercise lasts. During his lifetime, the Rev. F. E. Robinson did much by his own hands to beautify his church, by some handsome carving, and when first the schemo for a memorial was promoted, it was hoped to crect a chancel screen, which he had, during his active life, set his heart upon placing in the churdh. This, however, was found to be a too ambitious proposal, and a carved oak sercen acrose the belfry arch was, therefore, substituted. It is the gift of the ringers of Eugland, and has been axecuted by Mr. Reed, of Excter.

The dedication took place on Saturday week, and was performed by the Archdeacon of Berkshire.

Long before the service, the church, of which the beloved Master of the Oxfond Guild was Vicar for nearly 30 years, was crowded with a large number of ringers and friends from all parts of the country. Among the clergy who robed for the service, were: The Ven. the Archdeacon of Berkshire, the Revs. Cyril W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), G. F. Coleridge, R.D. (Crowthorne), J. H. Sweet Escott (Kingston Baybridge), A. L. Foultes (Steventon), A. P. Hall (Marcham), H. T. Maitland (Abingdon), F. J. C. Chapman (Drayton), E. B. Mackay, J. N. K. Fortescue (Sutton Courtenay), 1.5. Broome (Hurst), I. Jackson (Milton), L. E. Lydekker (Wokingham). The members of the family present were: Mrs. Robinson (widow), Miss Robinson (sister), Miss C. Robinson, the Misses Robinson, Dr. W. E. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson. Amoug the ringers who attended were: Messrs. W. J. Nevard (Great Bentley. Eissex), A. Gregory, H. Gregory, A. J. Gregory, A. R. Kent (Vantage). E. Humfrey, H. Holifeld (Abingdon), C. Hounslow (Oxford), G. Brooks, J. Monk (Witney), G. Holificld, sens., G. Holifield, junr., R. White (Appleton), Gardener, Shepherd (Swindon), Lancaster (Stratton St. Margaret's), WI. Pole Routh, H. 'Tucker, A. J. Wright, J. Swain, W. A. Webb, C. Giles, W. Newell (Reading), J. W. Wilkins (High Wycombe), A. E. Lock (Sutton Courtenay), G. Caudwell (Drayton), Niss M. Chillingworth (Bradfield), Messis. F. W. Wocdwards (Chalgrove), J. W. Taylor (Loughborough), S. Paice (Wokingham), A. H. Pulling (Guildford). T. East, W. A. Napper, J. Napper, W. Con (Hagbourne), F. Webb (Kidington), and A. E. Recves (Secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild).

The service commenced with the hymn, :" 0 , God, our help, in ages past," and after the special pragers for the occasion, the clergy and choir proceeded to the west end of the church while the hymn, "Let saints on earth in concert sing," was sung. The screen was then wedicated by the Archdeacon, and as the clergy and choir returned to their stalls, a course of Stedman Triples was rung on the bells. Fol lowing the hymn, "Angel voices ever singing," the Arcideacon gave an address.

A TRIBUTE OF GRATITUDE AND AFFECTION

The memorial, which lias just been dedicated to the Glory of God in memory of Francis Edward Robinson, he said, possesses an interest and importance which are altogether exceptional, if not unique. Seldom, if ever, has a momorial of the kind been erected in a village church by so wide a circle of friends. This one is erceted in memory of the late Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers "by the bell ringers of Britain and his friends." Further, it is not often that a memorial is inspired by such genuine and deep feelings of admiration, of gratitude, and of affection. Nor is it only personal interest, in a unique degree, which belongs to this memorial; it has a very real importance in relation to the life of the Church of England. It testifies to a work accomplished by our friend, the effect of which upon a large section of Churchmen throughout the country will never, we belicre, be lost. Tho truth of this will appear, as we proceed.

And if the interest and importance of the memorial be unique, its appropriateness is certainly striking, in more than one respect. First, as to the place of it. The place chosen for it is the Parish Church of Drayton, where ho ministered for 30 years; not any place of public resort, but his retired village church. The choice is significant. It witnesses to the fact that it was here, in the church which was the centre of his deeply religious life, and in the home whioh meant so much to him, that ho received the inspiration week by week and day by day fo: his great and exacting work. It also may remind us that however busy he might seem to be in promoting the art of bell ringing in the diocese and throughout the land, he never forgot that he was parish prient of Drayton, never neglected any part of his duty to the people committed to his charge. Ass a friend, who know him and his work most intimately, recorded at the time of his death, "Few country parisices have been more thoroughly worked than Drayton." Secondly, as to the form of the memorial - a carved oak screen umler the tower, between the nave and the belfry. Nothing would have pleased onr friend more, for two reasons. First, it is an omament of the kind ho liked. You remember how much he did, with his own skilful hands, to adorn it with oak carving. The choir stalls, the organ case, the boncin ends, are all his handiwork; and, second, it is in the closest possible connection with the tower and belfry of the church.

NOTABLE RECORDS

Keen as he was about anything connected with any belfry, none could over be to him what Drayton belfry was: not even Appleton with its 10 bells, two of which were his gift, and the scene of his greatest feat, a peal of 15,041 Stedman Caters in 9 hrs .16 mins . For it was his own belfry, and the peals rung there woro those which gave him the highest pleasure. Many tablets l'ecord them. Ainong others wo may recall today, the first peal rung by members of Oxford University; tho first clerical peal, all the members of the band being in Holy Ordere; the first peals of Doublo Norwich, London Surprise Major, and other peals conducted by an incumbent on his own bells; a "silent peal" of Stedman Triples, rung by eight expert ringers, no word being spoken, or sign given, during the 5040 changes; and last, but not least, the tablet which chronicles the completion of his own 1,000th peal, a record number. Is it not appropriate, to mar?s their undying admiration of the gifted comrade who performed thes? fcats and many more, that there should be an ornamental oak screen for his own tower and belfry in Drayton Church? But, there is still deeper significance and ajpropriateness in this memorial to the late Master of our Guild. It, symbolises the religions character of the art of loll ringing, and it commemorates the religious importance of the work which he did for the Church of England. A belfry screcn marks the sacredness of the belfry, as does a chancel screen, in a higher degree, the sacredness of the chancel, and it directs attention to the fact that a peal well rung, in a right spirit, is akin to an act of vorship. 'Ihat was the view which, as Vicar and as Master of tho Guild, our friend always took, and did all he conld to impress upon other ringers. Tence his custom of beginning peals with prayer and ending them with an ascription of praise; hence the wo Latin words on the tablets which record his great peals, "Laus Deo," i.e., " Praise be to God.". The peals were not only feats of ckill, by hand and eye and brain; they rang out God's praise. They were not for self-glorification, they were for the Glory of the God and Saviour Whom he loved and scrved.

A MORAL, AND RELIGYOUS REFORMATION.

This was the secret of the wonderful change which he, with others, effected in the towers and belfries of Britain, and which has given to his work such a truly religious importance. In this diocese in particular, he wrought a change which was nothing less than a moral and religious reformation. Abuses, which were not uneommon in old days, alisappeared. Ringers did their ordinary work as a piece of Church work, ranking at least as high as that of choirmen, reverently, and in order. They set themselves to learn the higher and more difficult exercises of their Art in the spirit of the Master of their Guild. How then, may this change be perpetuated, and still further extended among ringers who have not yet como under its influence in the dioceses, or throughont the country? Surely through the personal eftionts of those of you who are ringers, or who look forward to being so, and of others who have heard of Francis lidward Robinson as a cclebrated ringer, or who know him in his book, "Among the bells." And ringers at Drayton will be helped in this as they pass through his memorial screen into the belfry under this inscription upon it:
Laudatis Dominum in Sanctis Ejus," i.e., "O Praise God in his holiness.' Finally let us thank God for all our friend by the grace of God was, as well as for all he was able to do. Let us thank God for his stern sense of duty: for his self-denying, abstemious life; for his strong physique and robustness of health, due, no doubt, in largo measure to bis abstemiousness; for his indomitable energy and powers of endurance, for his kindlinese and generosity; above all, for his strong religious faith and devoted service to God and his Church. We end, therefore, as we bogan, with the note of thanksgiving. For, you will not forget that we began this service with the brief dedication of another ornament for the church, a processional cross presented by two of your Drayton friends to Almighty God as "a thankoffering for his mercy." Let that cross as you look upon it, or see it carried in procession, remind you of the banner under which, as "Christ's faithful soldiers and sorvants," we aro pledged to serve and manfully to fight against sin, the world, and tho devil. Let us learn to glory in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, as the sign of our salvation. The pledge and means of tho forgiveness of our sine, the power by which wo can bear with patience any discipline or trial which God, in His chastening love may lay upon us, after the example of Ilim by whose cross and passion God grant we may all be brought unto the Glory of His Resurection.

After the service, the visitors were entertained to tea by Mrs, Robinson.

To the Widitor.

sir.-I am bappy to say that my query in your last issue has been satisfactorily answered. The cracking of the tenor (a thin bell by Miles Graye, 1658) was evidently a pure accident; and she had been quarter turned. It is a misfortune that deserves sympathy.-Yours faithfully,
St. Albans, Feb. 17h.

THE DISPUTED PEAL AT WALIASEY.

To the Editor.

Jear Sir,--It is very hind of the St. Mary's, Liscard, ringers, to try o protect Mr. Wileox from my insinuations, but I don't wish to recede from or retract a single sentence that I wrote in my previous letter I have no concern with Mr. Wilcox's relations to St. Mary's, Liscard, nor is theirs a parallel ease to what ocourred at St. Nicholas', Wallasey, and, moreover, the circumstances are entirely different. Whilst not saying that the primary motive of Mr. Wilcox's quarrel with mo is the loss of his fees at Wallasey, I still think, and am not alone in thinking, that many of our lrombles and hindrances in progaessive chango ringing are caused through ringers boing over-remunerated for their services.
But to return to the subject that began this correspondence, I want to arain affirm, and with emphasis, that our performance was a dislinctly good one, and when a man makes bimself conspicuously disagrocble by trying to besmirch another band's peal, and takes infinito pains to acquaint the secretary of the Guild, under whose auspices the peal was rung, that it was of a faulty character, he is certainly unt actunted by the highest motives.
In conclution, Sir, if this correspondenco does nothing else it may br: the means of improving the ringing in this particular locality, which is sadiy in need of it. Rut they inust always remember if they are ringing a peal and a trip occurs, they must, set their bells immediately, because ono never knows who is listening.- Yours faithfully, Iiverpool.

GEORGE R. NEWTON.
Dear Sir.-In reply to Mr. G. R. Newton's letter of the 7th, as being one of those unsolicited and infinitesimal persons, I have been asked on threo or fontr occasions to go and assist St. Nicholas' band with no ill-feeling whatever. While, as regards Mr. Wilcox's services, I happened to have been one of tho band on two occasions when three of it. Nioholas band scored their first 720. I also say that three more that band could ring and handle a bell before Mr. Newton started leach them. They learned the management of a bell at the Old Parish Church, Wallasey. I am very glad to hear that the Wirral branch has appointed Mr. Wilcox again; it shows the good fecling of the branch for him. Mr. Newton says he has tried to discourage this branch from ringing Grandsire Minor and other worthless six-bell mothods. I am aware that the Central Council has condemned Grandsire Minor, why, I do not know, and I do not know what other worthliss methods there are, unless Canterbury Pleasure is one of them. If that be so, I have been looking througlt "Tho Ringing World '" this werk, and I see that there are eleven peals on five and six bells, and out of them there are four which have Canterbury in, and five are Doubles, making nine out of eleven Being one of Mr. Wilcox's pupils, I should like to add that he, also, insists upon good striking, while as rouards the toy bells, Mr. Wilcox cannot help there not being wralth of metai.- Yours, one of those ding-dong monotony ringers. Wallasey.

Other letters on this matter are unaroidably held over.

A VISIT TO BERKSWELL.

Members of the St. Michael's Socieiy, Stoko-in-Coventry, visited rkswell on Feb. 8th, and on this fine peal of six, by Taylor (tenor, 17 cwt.), rang 720 of Double Oxford: O. J. IIunt 1, J. H. White 2, W'. Brinsdon 3, W. T. Cox 4. C. Fremman 5, A. Roberts (conductor) 6; and 720 of Oxford Treble Bol, conducted by Wr. H. Brunsdon, these heing the first 720's in these methorls on the bells. A 720 of Bob Minor was also rung, with W. Pryce, treble, and conducted by $C$. Fireman: and 720 by: A. James 1. M. Harris 2, C. Freeman 3, H.
Kettle 4. W. T. Cox 5, J. F. White (comhuctor) 6. The ringers wish, through the medium of this paper, to thank the Rector for the use of the bells, and Mr. James for laving them in readiness.

ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

SUGGFSTED 1RING OF TEN BELLS FOR BATTLE, SUSSEX
The Dean of Battle presided at the annual dimner of Battle ringers, Which was attended by many well-known townsmen and ringing visitors from Hastings. After the loyal toast had been honoured. "The Clergy and Churchwardens" was submitted, and received with enthusiasm.Mr. G. Watson, hon. secretary of the Sussex Association, proposed tho toast of. "The Battle Bell Ringers." Battle, he said, prided itself on its bells, and if he were asked he should say it was one of the three best rings in the county. If one of their local resident princes would like to have his memory perpetuated, he would do well to add two new trebles to the ring of eight, and then Battle would have the finest ring in Susscx (loud applause). The cost would only be about £150, and he hoped his suggestion would fall on fertile ground (applause). He would like to see more peals rung, and paid a high tribute to the services rendered by what he called the old stagers, mentioning Mr. Thomas, and Mr. Franks, who, he said, was one of the enthusiasts in the county in change ringing.
The name of Mr. Franks, the captain of the Battle band, was coupled with the toast, and that gentleman, in reply, said the suggestion thrown out by Mr. Watson to increase their ring to ten bells had made him more enthusiastic than ever. He sincerely hoped to see the ten bells (hear, hear). As to their ringing, they had done much during the past year, and hoped to do more next year. He had been ably assisted in his work by other members of the band. Mr. Franks spoke of the Salehurst ringers in terms of praise, and in conclusion, heartily thanked the subscribers for their excellent support.
Mr. Albion Thorpe, who submitted "The Health of the Dean," was reminiscent, and the Dean, in reply, reviewed some of the work which was being done so ably, but unobtrusively in the parish. Mr. Watson, he continued, had spoken of the grand old bells, and that took them back again in thought. He wished them to have two new bells. Perhaps they would come (loud applause). Let them hope they might (renewed applause). But don't let them forget the old ones. Those old bells bad been intimately associated with the religious life of the parish. Generation after gencration had rung those bells and called people to the House of God. Yes, and they spoke of somebody else; they spoke of the history of the parish. because in times of 'rejoicing it was the bells that proclaimed their gladness, and in times of sorrow it was the bells that told of their grief.
Later the Dean racated the chair, and Mr . Allwork presided for the remainder of a very conviyial evening. His health was once more drunk, and also that of Mr. Charles Martin, who the Chairman referred to as one of their best friends. At intervals some capital music was rendered by a glee party (Messrs. E. Cruse, C. Stapley, and C. Stapley, junr.), whilst songs were also given by Messrs. Carter, Thomas and Franks. Mr. Thorpe recited, and Mr. Percy Butler acted as accompanist, in the absence of the organist (Mr. Weller).

LICHFIELD.
On Wedncsday, January 29th the Lichfield ringers and friends, to the number of 55, sat down to an excellent repast provided by Host Bowdler, of the Maltshovel Hotel. Mr. J. H. 13ridgeman (in the unaroidable absence of Councillor II. G. Hall) presided, supported by his co-warden of St. Mary's (Mr. Percy Johnson), Councillor H. Larkin, Messrs. C. Thormoloe C. WV. Fredericks, A. Smith (son of a former Lichfield ringer), S. Smith, Wr. Smith, A. Dunn, T. Robinson, E. Gallimore, J. H. Gallimore, F. Cope, senr., F. Cope, junr., and others. After the loyal toasts had been honoured, the Chairman. in felicitous terms, proposed the toast of "The Lichfield Ringers."-Mr. F. Cone, senr. briefy acknowledged the compliment. and said they were pleased to see amongst them the oldest ringer in Lichfield, Mr. E. Gallimore, who had been a ringer at the Cathedral for 55 years, during 35 of which he had been captain, and only retired 18 months ago, through failing eyesight.-Mr. Gallimore (who, in spite of having well-passed the allotted span. looks hale and hearty), expressed the pleasure it was to be present, and gave a brief resume of the many changes he had witnessed since joining the Cathedral ringers in 1856, mentioning some of the reforms and alterations he had agitated for. and had had the pleasure of sceing carried out in the belfry during his long term of office.-Councillor Hall, who joincd the company later in the evening, and received a rousing welcome in proposing the toast of "The Chairman,', said he was rery much indebted to Mr. Bridgeman for so kindly stepping into the breach. IIe was bitterly disappointed at being unable to take the chair, owing to a previous engagement, but was delighted to hear that such a pleasant and enjoyable crening had been spent.-Mr. Bridgeman responded.-The artistes rere also toasted, on the proposition of Mr. Percy Johnson.-Sir Courtenay Worner, Bart., M.P., Councillor IF. G. Hall and Mr. S. Heath kindly contributed to the entertainment fund.

Some capital songs and recitations were given during the evening by Messrs. C. W. Fredericks (principal tenor Lichfield Cathedral). F. Cope, junr. (baritone), A. Norris (alto), W. Smith, C. Thorneloe, W. Hopley, T. Robinson and E. Gallimore; the humorous part of tine programme being entrusted to the popular local comedian, Mr. J. W. Waters, who rendered soveral items in his customary excellent manner. MTessre. Geo. Dawson and A. Myatt were the accompanists. The Lichfield handbell ringers (Mr. F. Cope, senr.. the Brothers Cope (4) and R. Phillips) gave some splendid selections on their fine set of handbells The enjoyment of the evening may be chiefly attributed to the energies of the indefatigable hon. secretary, Mr. F. Cope, jumr.

RINGING BY DIAGRAM.

The figures at the side show the starting place of each bell; the small lines intersecting the diagram mark the place where the treble crosses the path of the working bell; and the asterisks the place where the working bell dodges with the treble.

THE BOB WORK.
Several correspondents have asked us to give the bob work in connection with these diagrams, and we think titis can best be done by explaining the difference which is made in the work. The places affected by the bobs are marked A, B, etc., and in the two methods above the work is affected as follows :-
A. Make 4 th's and take up work of 4 th. B. Extra dodge down and begin the work of 6th (with another dodge). C. Extra dodge up and begin work of 5 th (with another dodge).
D. Make 4 th's and take up work of 4th. E. Omit dodge and take up work of 2nd. F. Straight out and take up work of 3 rd.

The figures of a lead of the above methods differ only in the back-stroke lead of the treble.

In our diagram of Violet the asterisk for the dodge with the treble in the 4 th lead was placed by error, before instead of after the whole pull behind.

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

The public to-day have very few privileges which they can exercise to unlimited degree, but one of these certainly is that of being allowed to grumble over things with which they do not agree. In this spirit "Veritas" wrote to us last week anent the proposal of the Essex Association to give cne of the trebles to Chelmsford Church to make a peal of twelve for the county's future cathedral. "Veritas" will find a well-reasoned answer from Canon Papillon in our columns to-day. This letter should allay the misgivings which any critics of the scheme may have. For ourselves we think the suggestion of the Association a most admirable one from several points of view, the principal of which is that it will demonstrate in a very tangible fashion that ringers are not imbued with any spirit of selfishness, but are prepared, where they can, to assist Church authorities in providing the bells which it gives them so much pleasure to ring. The case of Chelmsford is exceptional. At present Essex possesses no peal of twelve bells, and St. Mary's Church is to become the mother church of the new diocese. The opportunity of making the bells of a character befitting the importance of the sacred fane ought not, of course, to be missedeveryone will agree to that. The point as to whether the Essex Association should provide one of the bells is the only matter at issue, and if it can do so, as Canon Papillon asserts it can, without seriously undermining its financial stability, then we do not think the members need cavil at the proposai.
On some other points raised in the letter by "Veritas" we have no doubt many members of the Essex Association will be in agreement. The question of allowance towards railway fares is one which ringers would naturally look upon with favour, but it is, of course, a matter of financial adjustment. With Canon Papillon, we do not think an annual subscription of one shilling would stand any large drain by way of payments for travelling expenses, but no doubt the committee would give the matter consideration if it were brought before them. The establishment of a benevolent fund is a matter which we should much like to see taken up. The Insurance Act has by no means removed the opportunities for good which such funds can do, and, as the Kent and Sussex Associations have already proved, even in a short while, it is possible to accumulate quite a substantial sum for the purposes of relieving ringers in distress, Essex is in a particularly strong financial position and might well move in the direction indicated. Perhaps "Veritas" will bring the matter up when the Association holds its annual meeting, and induce the executive to do something towards the establishment of such a fund.

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Brountield Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
1 have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfed with the manuer in which you hape carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broonffeld Church Bells.
We consider that the work reHeota great eredit upon your firm, and believe that your system of hanging the Lells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are alse unauimous in their praisa of the alterations effected by you. Youra truly, CHAS. EDMUNDS,

CLAIMS TO AUTHORSHIP. MR. LINDOFF'S FINIS.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-Mr. Dains finds it hard to beliere that more peals can be obtained on the plan. Well, just to let him see that I am not like himself, given to idle boasting, I enclose two more; and, at the same time, remind them that this class of peal was originated by me; and mine they will all remain. I am not to be bounced by them or anyone else; nor shall I trouble to answer any more of their croaking. 5040 .

In these two peals, as in my two previous ones, the calling may be started after course-end 32546 , when they would retain the same qualilies, and same authorship.
G. LINDOFF.

LEGITIMATE METHODS.

THE NAMES UP-TO-DATE.

Writing in reply to Mr. Sharples, who in our issue of Jan. 31, enquired for the names of tine Legitimate Methods published in the Cenlral Councii's Collection, Mr. $\underset{T}{ }$. Blood, of Biggleswade, says: I have taken the trouble to go through my ringing books aud I can give a list of thoee methods that have been rung and claimed through the ringing papers. Mr. Sharples is rather late in claiming two of these methods as they have appeared in print years ago. I tinst my effort will meet the eyes of those interested in those methods. The names are as follows:-
Plain Methods (page 5) No. 5.-Hereward Bob rung at Bourne, Lincs., Feb. $16 \mathrm{t} 1 \mathrm{~h}, 1910$; No. 6.-Reverse, Hereward Bob; No. 8--St Lawrence Bob: No. i0. - Frodsham Bob; No. 11.-Stepney Bob; (not double). Fourthe-Place Delights. - No. 8. -Southwark; No. 12.-Wragby; No. 13.-Willesten rung Aug. 15t, 1911: No. 14--Hull ("Ringing World," Eept. 6th, 19:2); No. 16.-Nensden ("Ringing World," Dec. 8th, 1911); No. 17.-Ol1 Cxforl Modernisert; No. 20.-College Bob 4th, and as Bocking Treble Bob by A. Huckson, of Braintree (per C. W. Clarke, Bodford) in the "Tinging World,: May 10 th j.912; N. 19.-Norwio': No. 27. Sutton ("Ringing World,' Sept. 6th. 1912).

Third's-Place Delights.-No. 13.-Kent; No. 19.-Chelsea; No. 26.Coventry; No. 34.-Dunedin; No. 35.-Ely.

Surprise-No. 1.-Munden; No. 2.-Alnwick ("Ringing Wiorld," April 14th); No. 4.-Morpeth ("Ringing World," Aug. 18th, 1911) 5.-Newcastle (Feb. 9th. 1909); No. 7.-Whitley (Jan. 15th, 1911); No. 8.-Northumberland (Jan. 22nd, 1911); #o. 10 (May 28th, 1911) *No. 11 (June 4th, 1911) ; *No. 12 (June 18th, 1911); *No. 13 (June 16th, 1911) ; No. 14.-London: No. 15.-Welle; No. 16.-Lincoln (publishod Feb. 2nd, 1907, as Southwell): No. 17.-Cunecastre (March 30th 1909) ; *No. 18 (June 11th, 1911); *No. i9 (July 23rd, 1911); *No. 20 ; *No. 21 (July 20th, 1911); No. 22.-Lancashire Surprise (June 15th, 1907); No. 23.-Lightfoot: No. 24.-Stamford (March 24th, 1911); No. 25.-Wearmouth; No. 28.-Netherseale Surprise, rung at Nethersaale (March 11th, 1911); No. 30.-Hexham (rung February 26tn, 1911) ; No. 31. Surfleet (February 12th, 1911); No. 34.-Berwick ("Ringing World," April 14th, 1911); No. 35.Beverley ("linging World," April 14th, 1911); No. 40.-Hull (April 23 rd , 1911) ; No. 41.-Bourne (rung April 3rd, 1910). Those marked * were published in the "Ringing World" on August 18th, 1911, and up to the present they remained amongst the unnamed. The above are correct. as they have appeared in print, and I would again appeal to the Whitley Bay ringers to finish naming the Surprises, as they have rung them all. Will Mr. Severn, of Anston, also look through the book and see if he has any methods by him like them, as I know they have rung in lot with names which I have never seen elsewhere.

A MEETING AT BRISTOL

A meeting of the Bristol branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held at St. Matthew's Church, Bristol, on Saturday, and was well attended, about 35 being present.-Ringing commenced at 6 o'clock. The business meeting was held in the Parish Hall, the chairman (Mr. H. T. Howell) presiding.-Six now performing members and one hon. member were elected.-It was decided to hold the next meeting at. St. George's on April 5th.-Ringing was afterwards continued at St. Matthew's and St. Stephen's Churches.

DEATH OF MR. C. CASTLE, BALDOCK.

It is with deep regret we have to announce the deati of Mr. Charles Castle, of Baldock, Herts, who passed away at his residence, Alma Cottage, after a few days illness from pnemmonia, on Friday, February 14 th, at the early age of 39 years. Deceased had been a ringer at the Parish Church for twenty years, and a member of the Hertfordshire Association, and had taken part in six peals, viz., two of Grand sire Triples, three of Stedman Triples and one of Kent Treble Bob Major. On Sunday week for morning and evening services touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung, the bells being muffled. The funeral took place on the following Tuesday at the Cemetery, the Rector (Rev. Canon Nairne) officiating. Amongst the floral tributes was one in the shape of a bell from his fellow-ringers, with the following inscription: "With deepest sympathy and kind remembrance from the ringers of the Baldock company." In the evening touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung with muffled bells. Mr. S. E. Roberts, of Royston, formerly a member of the Baldock band, took part in the ringing, and was also present at the funeral. Much sympathy is felt for the widow and her family in their sad bereavement.

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION PROPOSAL.

To the Editor.

Sir, -With respect to the letter signed (not quite happily) "Veritas," the present officials of the Essex Association and most of its members. will probably ignore the insinuations of one who does not form his charges openly over his own name. As a former official, who has now severed his connection with Essex, I may, perhaps, point out (1) that the proposal to give a new treble to the future Cathedral of the Essex Diocese does not, as might appear from his letter, involve the expencliture of the whole reserve fund, but (as I understand) of less tian a third; (2) that if the association attempted to do anything "towards defraying the travelling expenses of members to meetinge," the subscription would have to be fixed at much more than 1s. a year, while, as a matter of fact, those who do attend meetings get a good "bonus" in reduced charges for tea or dinner; (3) that a Ringers" Association is not a benefit society, and had better keep to its own business if it wishes to remain solvent. By all means have a Ringers Benevolent Fund, but on a regular financial basis, and on a muoh wider scale than the limits of a single association.
Meanwhile, will "Veritas," if he has anything more to say, give his name, that we may know what weight attaches to his opinion?-Yours faithfully,
T. L. PAPILLON

St. Albans.

(formerly Master of the Essex Association).

Sir,-Having read "Yeritas" " letter re the above bells, $I$, as the mover of the motion that the Essex Association of Change Ringers qive the troble bell to St. Mary's, Chelmsford, beg to ask "Veritas" kindly to forward his name and address to me. If he will do this I will forward him the facts of the proposition. If lie fails to do so then [ ignore his letter and class lim as one of those who have nothing to say at a menting, but directly it is over starts with his complaints to a amall number ontside. -Yours truly,

District Secretary, Chelmsford.

THE BRISTOL SURPRISE RECORD.

To the Editor.

Sir,-I had no intention of entering into any further correspondence on the subject, as I think too much space has already been wasted over discussing a performance which no just person would have said a word against. But there are one or two statements Mr. Winney makes ohich I feel bound to dispute. The majority of his letter would puzzle ic Attomey-General; but one statement he makes is that two of the and have confirmed what he tried to explain in his first letter. This ; absolutely untrue, as no one has ever admitted tīat there was a ruddle or any serious trip. He also says that he told one of the and that it would have been better if one man had not been in it I regret very much that I was not the one he spoke to about it. I hope he will not be offended if I tell him our band could not have been improved upon had I included anyone in it that was in his 12,000 to the exclusion of the person he refers to.
W. PYE.

Dear Sir,-Referring to Mr. Winney's letter in your issue of the 7th inst. I was surprised that he should see fit, after a lapse of eight nonths, to makc such insinuations, knowing, as he does, that the ringing was extraordinarily good. I heard as much of the peal as the majority present (about 12,000 changes), and timed the ringing by my watch. At 1 o'clock they were going 28 changes to the minute, but at 1.5 oclock a slight trip occurred which lasted six changes, when the bells got into their stride again. For Mr. Winney to say there was a "nasty trip" at 6 oclock is making a false assertion, as such a thing never occurred. If Mr. Winney will recollect I stapped him on the back just as the bells came home, and said, "Winney they've beaten you, give then a clap, for they deserve it," and he replied "So they do,' and he did so with others present, and afterwards went up into the belfry, and congratulated the band on their suocess and said, "It was very good what I heard. I have not been here long.'-Yours faithfully,
February 18th.

SHREWSBURY RINGERS ATя WHITCHURCH.

On Saturday members of the Salop Guild from Shrewsbury paid a visit to Whitchurch. The arrangements had been made by Mr. E. R Trevor Corbett, of Dorrington, Shrewsbury, and, on reaching the church, the visitors were met by the local ringers, who gave them a hearty welcome, and had the bells ready for a peal of Stedman Triples. This was successfully accomplished, and afterwards the visitors, with the local ringers, were entertained to a capital tea by the Rector (Rev. Dugdale). This was very much enjoyed by all, and subsequently a vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for his kindness, both in providing the tea and for the use of the bells. There being two hours to wait for the return train, a most enjoyable time was spent with the local ringers, during which touches on the handbells were rung.

KENT ASSOCIATION.

THE PROPOSED JOINT MEETING WITH SUSSEX.

The quarterly meeting of the Ashford Division, held at Mersham, on Saturday, was in ali respects a very encouraging and gratifying ussembly. 'The attendance numbered just over thirty, and the towers represented, in addition to the local one, were: Ashford, Biddenden, Brabourne, Charing, Folkestone, Headoorn, Maidstone, New Romney, Rolvenden, Rye, Sellindge, Stone-in-Oxney, Tenterden, and Woodchurch. Good striking was prevalent, and touches of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Stedman Triples were tapped off as if by "clockwork." Several young hands were present, and, in order to give them assistance, severa! 120 s of Grandsire Doubles were rung, and were creditably gone through.
A servica, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. Canon Dyke (an hon. member of the association), was held, the association's special form being used. Mrs. Wicks kindly presided at the organ, and the choir boys were present, the hymns "We love the place, $O$ God" and Fight the good fight" being sung.
Subsequently the company adjourned to the Farriers Arms Inn, where a splendid meat tea, kindly provided by the Rector, was thoroughly enjoyed. The business mecting followed, Mr. G. Paine, of Mersham, presiding
The Honorary Secretary (Mr. C. Tribe) said the next meeting to take place was the proposed combined assembly at Rye of their division and the Eastern Division of the Sussex Association, and, at his request, Mr. Billenness stated what he thought the feelings of the Sussex men were on the subject. As far as the Rye ringers were concerned, he said, they were quite agreeable to the proposal. He had had the opportunity of attending meetings of the Sussex Association, and the conclusion he had arrived at was that the Sussex members generally were also quite willing to fall into line. On former occasions the Vicar of Rye had kindly entertained the members at association gatherings, and he had no doubt the rev. gentleman would again extend his hospitality if the meeting were beld. He did not sce, however, that it could be held until June, because the annual meeting of the Sussex Association came in May. The Sussex Committee arranged the list of meetings for the year, and it would be well to advise the secretary of the month for the meeting, so that it could be placed before the committee for their consideration.
Mr. P. H. Pierce asked if there would be more than the Rye tower available, and Mr. Billenness replied that there would be no difficulty in securing Iden, a six-bell tower, $2 \frac{1}{2}$ miles from Rye.
On the proposition of Mr. Finn, seconded by Mr. T. Hodgkin, it was resolved that the honorary secretary should take up the matter with the Sussex Association officials with a view to arranging the meeting. M1. C. W. Player thought it would be advisable to have a meeting prior to the Rye assembly, and Pluckley was put forward.-As an amendment Woodchurch was submitted, and was carried.

The Chairman apologised for the absence of the Rector, who had been indisposed recently. He also mentioned that Mr. C. Bates, of Mersham (hon. member) was unable to attend, but he was pleased that Mr. R. L. Wicks, of Mersham, another hon. member, had faroured them with his presence. On behalf of the Mersham band he cordially welcomed the association members.

Mr. C. Tribe proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to Canon Dyke for his hospitality, permission to ring, and for arranging the service. They were also grateful to the organist and the choir boys. The mecting was to have been at Wye, but the bells were unarailable, as they did not go rery nicely. He hoped everybody would make an offort to attend the meeting at Rye.
This concluded the business, and the bells were subsequently kept going till past nine oclock.
Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, who is rehanging Warehorne and Sandhurst bells, was present, and the company were glad of the services f Mr. P. H. Pierce, who conducted the Stedman.
During the day the company visited the premises of Mr. Finn, who has been connected with bell hanging. He has made a miniature bell cage, and in it is hung a peal of ten little bells, in exactly the same manner as church bells are hung. The clappers, the wheels, the stocks, and other details were noticeable, but Mr. Finn has several bdditions to fix. He hopes eventually to have the whole thing complete. The ringers complimented him, for it undoubtedly requires a man of great ahilities and patience to carry out such an undertaking. Hearty congratulations to Mr. Finn.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT.

The members of the Canterbury District held a very successful meeting at the pretty village of Wickhambreaux on Saturday, Boughton, Canterbury, Chishet, Deal, Dover. Hernhill and Lyminge being represented. The bells go remarkably well, a fact which reflects great credit upon the ringers for their careful attention to them. Touches of Grandsire. Stedman, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Oxford Bob, with Violet by the local company were successfully rung. Service in the very pretty Parish Church was followed by tea in the Village Club Room, provided and presided over by the genial Rector (Rev. G. Hyde Smith), who gave the members a very hearty welcome, and expressed the hope that they were enjoying themselves. The applause which followed was a sufficient reply in the affirmative, but the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore formally thanked the Rector for his great kindness on this and on other occasions.

The new Rector of Adisham attended to oblain information respecting the association and to become an honorary member. Mr. Smith, late of Tring, who has come to Sandwich, was heartily welcomed and duly elected a member. Three probationers were also accepted.The Rector inquired about the Benevolent Fund, and, after a few remarks from the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, at once gave a donation towards it. This is believed to be the first of its kind.-Mr. H. Castle then proposed, and Mr. E. Verricr seconded, a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for presiding.-A course of Grandsire Triples on the handbells, followed by a 224 in the same method, conducted by Mr. C. Turner, brought a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Central Division was held at Crawley on Saturday, and was a great success, 55 members being present from all parts of the county. The members were welcomed at the tower by the local band, amongst whom was to be seen the veteran, Mr. J. Newman, trotting round in high spirits and shaking hands with many an old friend. The bells were set going in various methods, and afterwards a short service was beld in church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. L. Barrett-Lennard). A capital knife and fork tea was next partaken of at Mr. Leggett's, Narth Gate, and was followed by the business meeting, the Rector presiding.-The Rev. Reginald James Lea, Vicar of Henfield, was elected an hon. nember; the Rev. E. Cresswell Gee, Twineham, hon. active member; and nineteen active members belonging to various towers in the division were also elected.A vote of thanks was then passed to the Rector, with loud applause, for his great kindness in granting the tower for the meeting, and his generosity in providing such an.excellent tea.-In reply, the Rector said what great pleasure it gave him to welcome the association to Crawley, and hoped they would come again in the near future. The tower was again visited, touches in various methods being brought round, thus concluding a mecting which must be nearly, if not quite, a record for this division.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Guildford District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers was held at Cranleigh on Saturday, February 22nd. Owing to a funeral in the village the bells were not rung for the service at five o'clock, when the Rector (the Rer. P. Cunningham) gave a practical address. At the tea, which was subsequently held at the Schoolroom, the Rector presided. Tea was followed by a business meeting, at which the secretary (Mr. J. J. Jones) read the iteme of the balance sheet, which had been audited. The income for the past year amounted to $£ 3017 \mathrm{~s}$. 6 d ., and, after defraying all the expenses, including teas and part travellin:g expenses to Wincisester, and instruction at Aldershot, a balance of $£ 11 \mathrm{l} 16 \mathrm{~s}$. 7d. remained. The balance had been forwarded to the general secretary, and bad been acknowledged with the best thanks. The balance is the largest of the seren districts which are included in the Winchester Diocese.
Several new members were elected, including two ladies. - Mr. A. H. Pulling, the ringing master, reported that a satisfactory number of peals had been rung during the past quarter-It was decided that the next combined practice should be held at Witley in April, and also a district meeting at Binstead in the same month.
Mr. R. Whittington, of Ewhurst, brought forward the question of the Long Stanton (Cambridge) bells, and said that, after much trouble, the Vicar and the ringers had been able to increase their old peal of three to one of eight, and had made considerable progress in change ringing. Unfortunate? their old tenor bell cracked, and they were compelled to have it recast. He proposed that someone should go round with the hat.-The Rector stated that it was generally agreed that the clergy made th? best beggars, and. †aking up his college cap, went round the room himself.- $\Lambda$ sum of 10 s . was collected by the appeal.

The remainder of the evening was spent in change ringing in the tower various methods being rung successfully. Members present came from Guildford, Clandon, Woking, Godalming, Dunsfold, Cran. leigh, Shalford, Ewhurst, etc.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

The Rev. H. B. Woolley. Vicar of Long Stanton, states, in answer to inquiry, that the Long Stanton tenor had bsen quarter turned, and since she has beeu hung for ringing she was never clocked. The cracking was a pure accident, caused apparently by the natural vibration of the bell, acting upon a weak place in the sound bow where the clapper used to strike, and where the metal was slightly honeycombed
The Vicar and churchwardens acknowledge with many thanks the following contributions towards the cost of recasting the tenor:-H. B. W., £1 1s.: C. A. P., £1 1s.; G. F. C., 10s.; S. A. C., 10s.; T. Fitz J., 2s. 6d.; H. K.. 1s.; A. P. W.. 1s.; the Cambridge University Guild (resident members), $£ 1$ 16s. 6d.: the Cranleigh band, $1 \mathrm{~s} .:$ W. W., Is.: total receired to date, $£ 18 \mathrm{ss}$; amount recuired, £35 Donations will be thankfully receired by the Vicar, Mr. W. Doggett or Mr. H. Croot, Long Stanton.

A THRIVING YOUNG SOCIETY.

The photograph abjve is of the Biggleswade Society, which, although formed only on November 14th last, is making excellent progress in change ringing. The company was established after the old peal of five bells had been recast and augmented to eight, and all the men are chowing the greatest enthusiasm. They are among the latest recruits to the Bedfordshire Association.
It is interesting to note that the frame which contains the rules is made from a portion of old oak beams on which the ancient peal used to hang. The ringers in the photograph are: Back row, R. M. Spong, L. C. Franklin, R. Olney, Mr. H. Franklin (churchwarden), Rev. R. S. Bagshaw (vicar and president), F. Thompson, H. B. Smith and C. A. Pratt. Bottom row, M. G. Walker, A. Franklin, E. Hussey (vice-captain), F. Blood (captain), H. Rowlett (hon. secretary), and E. Stratton.

ODD CHANGES.

Another noteworthy performance was accomplished by the College Youths on Saturday, when they rang a nonconducted peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornhill, and the band are to be congratulated upon the unique achievement. A similar effort at Bow about three months ago was lost. This peal at Cornhill is the first nonconducted on twelve tower bells.

The peal of eight (tenor 12 cwt .) installed at Oatlands, Surrey, by Messrs. J. Warner and Sons, of the Spitalfields Foundry, are to be dedicated on Sunday afternoon, and all ringers will be welcome. The tower is an open one, and in order to counteract the noise and not interfere with the architectural features, glass screens, we understand, are to be used instead of louvres. This will be quite an experiment, and it will be interesting to see how it answers.

Many happy returns of the day to Mr. William Banister, who, although without an actual "birthday" this year (he was born on February 29th), is 89 to-day. We are delighted to be able to say that he is enjoying excellent health for one so advanced in years.

Even in "the good old days" apparently bell-ringers were the object of invective and and satire. The following lines appeared in the "Staffordshire Advertiser" exactly one hundred years ago:-
"To the Churchwardens of the parish of O ye rascally ringers, and merciless foes, And disturbers of all who delight in repose; How I wish for the quiet and peace of the land,
That you had round your necks what you hold in your hand!"
Stafford, February 7th, 18I3.
In a glass case in the Church of St. Sepulchre, Holborn, is the bell which was rung outside the condemned cell at Newgate by the bellman of St. Sepulchre's at midnight on the eve of an execution. He then recited the following verses (which are on the brass tablet) :-

> All you that in the concemned hole do lie
> Prepare you, for to-mororow Jou shall die.
> Watch ali, and pray, the hour is drawing near
> That you before the Almighty must appear.
> Fsamine well yourselves, in itine repent
> That you may not to eternal flames be sent,
> And when St, Sepllchre bell in the morning tolls The Lord above have mercy on your souls.

The custom originated in a gift or bequest of $£ 50$ made by Mr. Robert Dowe in 1605 .

Hands up for a tailors' peal! Those members of the trade who would care to take part in one should communi. cate with Mr. C. H. Bernard, 2, St. Austin's Lane, Harwich.

The ringers of St. Luke's, Heywood, are making an appeal for help for an old ringer, Mr. John Harrison, who has been seriously ill for some time Any contributions will be thankfully received and acknowledged by Mr. J. Tattersfield, 8 , Langton Street, Heywood, near Manchester

The following paragraph, which appeared in the "Norfolk Chronicle," of January 3oth, 1813 , will be interesting, as it records some ringing at Norwich a century ago uy that old master, Mr. Samuel Thurston :-

On Sunday morning last, that musical peal of six bells belonging to St. Johns, Maddermarket, rang a Funeral Peal of Seven Hundred and Twenty, called the Revolution Peal (as a mark of respect at the interment of Mr. Dunn, many years Clerk to that parish), in a very masterly style, under the direction of Samuel Thurston, by ringers which justly may be termed Odds and Ends, as none of the St. Peter's ringers had any hand in it, and it may be fairly presumed from the steady perseverance of Mr. Thurston in this art, and his already acute knowledge, he is likely to become one of the first ringers this or any country ever produced.

halifax association's competition.

The Halifax and District Society held their quarterly meeting and contest on Saturday, February 15 th , when 10 companies competed, each set ringing 600 changes. The draw for the order of ringing took place at $2.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and the ringing was then immediately proceeded with and continued until 8.30 p.m. The judges of the competition were Messrs. Broadley and J. W. Cundall, of Bradford. Tea was provided by the focal branch during the afternoon, to which about 100 vieitors sat down
At the close of the ringing the business meeting was held in the Schoolroom, with the president, Mr. Cotterill, of Halifax, in the chair, supported by the Vicar (the Rev. T. Metcalfe) and the society's officers.
No invitation being brought forward for the place of the next meeting, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the secretary. A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells and schools was unanimously carried, on the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Dransfield.-The Vicar, in reply, said his experience of ringers was that they were a fine lot of fellows, and he liked them very much indeed. Thers was a story that in the olden days a certain amount of gold and silver was mixed with the metal to improve the tone, but he thought if this dross had been given to the ringers instead it would have been much better (laughter). The ringers, he added, did a very great service for the church, and he hoped that their ringing would turn listeners toward the church for worship.
A vote of thanks to the local company and to the ladies was proposed by Mr. Drake, and seconded by Mr. Smith.

THE RESULT.
The result of the contest was then announced by Mr. Broadley as follows, in the order of competing: Lindley, 177 faults; Brighouse, 205; Earlsheaton, No. 1, rung out; Halifax, 306 faults; Earlsheaton No. 2, rung out; Kirkheaton, 194 faults; Lightcliffe Parish, 202; Batley, 116; Heptonstall, 165; Lightcliffe Congregational, rung out. Batley were, therefore, declared the wimmers.
The cup was then presented to the conductor of the wimning team by the Vicar.
A vote of thanks was passed to the judges, and responded wo by Mr. Broadley, who said the ringing that day had been a long way above the average, and, although it had been a long job, it had been a pleasure to listen to the ringing. -This brought a very successful and enjoyable meeting to a close.

MIDLAND COUNTIES' PEALS.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-The peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Church Broughton Derbyshire, on Decamber 7th, 1912, will not be booked by the M.C.A. as our rule as to the election of members has not been complied with see " Ringing World,' December 13th, 1912. The peal of Grandsire Triples at Kibworth, December 26th, 1912, we are booking, as it was sent up to you in error as the Kibworth Aseociation instead of Midland Counties, see "Ringing World," January 10th, 1913 . Will you kind'ly draw attention to the above in your next issue.- Yours truly.

EIGHT BELLS FOR SUNDERLAND.

 DEDICATION SERVICE.On Sunday a processional cross, and the two new treble bells added to complete the ring of eight, were dedicated at the church of St. Ignatius the Martyr, Sunderland. The original ring of five bells was the gift of the late Mr. D. H. Haggie and family, in memory of their parents, and they were dedicated on Easter Day, 1893. In the following year the number was increased to six by the addition of a treble bell. This was the gift of the Rev. Edgar Boddington as a thankoffering for God's mercies to him during his vicariate, 1889 to 1899, and it was dedicated on July 2nd.

The two bells now added are the gift of Mr. Stanley M. Ritson, and are in memory of his mother, Mrs. M. A. Ritson, who entered into rest on St. Mathias' Day, February 24 th, 1912.
The processional cross is of bronze, with five silver panels. In the centre is "the Lamb,' designed on blne enamel, and in the four arms the symbols of the four evangelists. The whole is richly chased, and the bosses of the base are set with amethysts. This cross is the gift of Mrs. F. M. Sykee, wife of the Vicar, and is also a memory of of Mrs. F. M. Sykes, wife of the late Mrs. M. A. Ritson, her mother.
The dedicatory service was performed by the Vicar, the Rev. Edward Sykes, the trebles being sounded separately, and the eiglit rung in rounds. An appropriate sermon was preached by the first Vicar of the parich, the Rev. Edgar Boddington, whose presence was much appreciated, especially by the remaining original members of the Ringers' Guild. During the day the ringing was done by the members of the looal Guild, and included $50 \%$ Stedman Triples after morning service, and also for evening service.
The whole of the bells are the work of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and they hava made a perfect splice, the ringers' verdict being that the ring is a credit to the Loughborough firm. It is intended to have a gathering of the members of the Durhan and Newcastle Diocesan Association on Easter Monday to celebrate the completion of the ring.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

Under the able leadership of Mr. T. T. Gofton, vice-president of the association, a very enjoyable northern district practice was held on Saturday at Whitley Bay. From the outset it was apparent that the Whitley band were determined to make the opportunity one of usefur practice for the visitors, who left, after a strenuous evening of Kent, Plain Bob Major and Stedman Triples, well pleased with the new bells. Wany were safely piloted through their first touches by Messrs. Gofton Brothers.
On Saturday, March 8th, at 6 p.m., the next practice will take place -the last before Easter, and by kind permission of the Mayor of the historic town of Morpeth, the use of the peal of eight in the ancient Watch Tower has been granted for the practice. The Watch Tower, one of the few places where the Curfew is still rung, is hardly less interesting than the town itself, though visitors to the tower miss the ralics of bull-baiting days, which now have a place in the museum. Between the Watch Tower, standing in the Market Place and the River Wansbeck, is the house once occupied by Lord Collingwood, who, on Lord Nelson's death at Trafalgar, assumed command of the British Fleet.

THE BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The first annual meeting of the Luton district was held at Luton on Saturday, and was a most successful one, the ringing being of first class order. Members were present from Dunstable, Leighton Buzzard, Woburn, Husborne Crawley, Hitchin, Harpenden and the local tower. The bells were kept busy during the afternoon and evening in the following methods: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major.
The business meeting was held in the evening. Mr. E. Herbert, of Woburn, occupying the chair, in the absence of the president (Rev. W. W. C. Baker).-The Honorary Secretary gave a brief retrospect of the meetings held in the district since the division of the association, and it was the unanimous opinion of the members present that the monthly meetings were a decided success and helped greatly to promote the art.
The following oflicers were elected for the year: President, Rev. W. W. C. Baker, Dunstable; honorary secretary, Mr. A. King, Luton; committee, Messrs. C. Herbert, Woburn; M. Lane, Aspley Guise: H. Smith, Husborne Crawley; J. Nicholls, Leighton Buzzard; G. Healey, Dunstable. - It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Woburn during April.-A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the chairman for presiding, and to the Vicar of Luton for the use of the bells.

THE OXFORD GUILD

A combined practice of the Sonning branch was held at St. Paul's, Wokingham, on Saturday last, when 13 nembers were present, representing Binfield, Wokingham (Al1 Saints), Easthampstead, IIurst, Wargrave and Sandhurst. The Master of the Guild was also present. The following methods were practiscd: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Oxford Treble, Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles. It is of interest to note that it was the first time that two of the members had rung on cight bells, and the first time that one had rung away from his own tower.

THE DISPUTED PEAL AT WALLASEY.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,--Mr. Newton made a few statements which are as untrue as his peal, first as to the jealous motive, which I had no idea existed between us; secondly, as to the distance from my garden (where I accidentally heard the blunder), which is about $1 \frac{1}{2}$ miles as the crow flies. As I had not the honour of being Instructor until about six months aftea Mr. Nevton started with the band, and I did not expect nor desire to instruct the young men, I think he las been misinformed about unsolicited help. His other remarks do not trouble me so much, as anyone can see through them. - Yours faithfully, School Lane, Bidston.
W. WILCOX.

Sir,-Having read the correspondence with regard to the peal of Bob Minor rung at Wallasey on Boxing Day and being a ringer in the peal I should like to say that to my idea it was not a true one. I think the same applies to the one previous as I am sure the last one, by all accounts, was superior to the first. With an experienced man like Mr. Newton as couductor in looth peals, knowing the coursing of the bells, it would be an easy matter to make one or two very bad mistakes and still continue with the peal ("Hip" them at times). I see no reason, however, why Mr. Newton should ridicule Mr. Wilcox in such a manner when he simply asks a reply about the peal. I know Mr. Wilcor does not despise the lads in any way but, on the other hand, he gives them great credit for their performanve in so short a time. What does Mr. Newton mean by teaching gratis? Does he do so I wonder? In any case I know Mr. Wilcox has done it; I should say before Mr. Newton ever rang a peal. In fact I was one of the last band he taught. In my short stay with him he put me through seven different methods, of course "wheel-barrow fashion " as Mr. Newton terms it. It would take a very large barrow to hold the "lumps" that fall in some of Mr. Newton's peals. I must give Mr. Newton great credit for the great attention he has pand to the lads, if I must call them so. I don't think for one minute there is auy jealousy on the part of Mr. Wiloox, as he is always ready to give a helping hand. 3, Russell Road, Wallasey.

DEATH OF MR. T. PATTISON, GAINSBOROUGH.

It is with regret that we record the death of Mr. Thomas Pattison, of Gainsborough, the sad event taking place on Friday, February 14th, at the advanced age of 83 years. He was for upwards of 50 years a mem. ber of the Gainsborough Parish Church company, and, being of a cheerful and genial disposition, was greatly respected by all who knew him. He only took part in one peal (Holt's Ten-Part, rung on March 23 rd, 1887), which was the first by all the band, and also by the North Lincolnshire Association, which was in existence previous to the formation of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

The interment took place at the General Cemetery, and in the evening, at the Parish Church, as a tribute of respect to an old comrade, the bells were rung half muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples ( 1260 changes) being brought round in 47 minutes by C. H. Baker 1 , J. C. Tinker 2, F. S. W. Butier 3, W. Dickenson 4, J. T. Ladd (conductor) 5, H. Torr 6, G. Wilson 7, A. H. Curtis 8. It was also rung as a token of sympathy with the relatives and friends of those who lost their lives in the Antarctic disaster.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday last the Manchester branch held their usual monthly meeting at Whitefield. It is many years since a meeting was held at All Saints, but the bells have now been recast and placed in a new steel frame by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, and the tone and "go" are a credit to the founders.
The Rector (Rev. A. Kershaw, M.A.) presided at the meeting. He gave a hearty welcome to the ringers as co-workers in the church's interest and for the glory of God; and to the association as an organisation, where the bond of interest was created. He spoke of the sacrifice which was not always appreciated as it should be by the many listeners to whom the sound of the bells appealed, and he urged upon the ringers not to think that ringing was the end, but the beginning of divine worship. He, therefore, hoped that they would attend God's House whenever possible.
The Rector was proposed and accepted with acclamation as an honorary life member.- Eccles was chosen as the next meeting place, and a vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers for having things in readiness.
Members were present from Manchester, Ashton-under-Lyne, Pendle ton, Walkden, Worsley, Heln shore, Newchurch, Reddish, Birch, Prestwich, Miles Platting, etc., and the bells kept going in Plain Bob, Grandsire, Double Norwich and Superlative. Mr. Cyril Johnston, of the Croydon Foundry firm, took part in the ringing.

A FALSE PEAL.

Mr. J. H. Barrett writes: The peal of Stedman Caters rung at Stepney on February 1st, I am sorry to say, is false, through my meglect, and I humbly apologise to the band who took part in it.

ROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD. ILANBRADACH.

The ringers $a t$ Llanbradach were entertained by the churchwardens (Messrs, J. Barry and T. Lane), and spent a most enjoyable evening. -The Vicar presided, and submitted the toast of "The Churchwardens," which was received with enthusiasm.-In responding, the Chuchwardens expressed their pleasure at having such a company of young men, who, in the face of many obstacles and difficulties, had stuck to their posts and had regularly rang for the services. - The Vicar proposed "The Bell Ringers." He was pleased, he said, to have suck at sturdy and faithful company belonging to his church, and to show his pleasure, intended to ask them to allow him to become a ringer. He hoped next time they met their numbers would be doubled.-Mr. W. Maybeir and Mr. Frank Stevens reeponded, and thanked the churchwardens for their hospitality. They were pleased to think their services were so mucla appreciated, and lhey would continue to do their best. They reported on the progress that had been made during the year.

ACTON.

An interesting story of the bells of Acton was provided by the churchwarden (Mr. W. A. Brown) in a letter from him read at the annual dinner of the St. Mary's Guild. The party, 21 in number assembled in the Parish Room at the kind invitation of the Rector (the Rev. G. S. de Sausmarez), who presided. In his letter Mr. Brown said: "The Acton bellringers play a part-and a very important partin the religious life of Acton, and the history of the Parish Church of St. Marys itself. History does not tell us the date of the first bells of the church, but it is recorded that one of the old bells which wa broken up in 1877, to form a new peal, bore the date 1583 (Queen Elizabeth's time), and might lrave rung out as a danger signal at the time of the great Armada, and that bell, with two others dated 1637, formed a peal of three befls, which rang out in 1640 , when the present communion plate, given by Lady Dudley, was brought to the church. The two latter bells form part of the peal of eight bells, now in use in the church. . . . The old bells remind us of our duty to God and to man, and that on Sundays and other days the old church is waiting for us to return thanks for the blessings we havo received, and to receive our prayers for blessings to follow. The Acton bellringers themselves, have rung out from generation to generation, Faithful unto death,' and, as the poet says: 'Men may come, and men may go, but we ring on for ever.' Acton is fortunate in havin such a fine body of earnest workers, and I am sure their services ar duly appreciated."
After dinner an enjoyable programme was carried out. Tunes on handbells were skilfully rung by Messrs. J. R. Mackman and W, Phillips, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung by Messrs. E. J Ridler, C. H. Dobbie, J. R. Mackman and H. W. Cotton. Other con. tributors to the evening's enjoyment were Messrs. R. Hollomar, Curryer, Briggs, A. W. Mackenzie, J. R. Sims, eto.

RANMOOR, SHEFFIELD.

The 15th annual dinner and social in connection with the St. John's Society took place at the Ranmoor Inn, Sheffield, some 25 ringers and friends sitting down to an excellent repast, served in Host Hutton's usual thorough style. After dinner an adjournment was made to the smoke room, where, after duly honouring the loyal toast, a capital programme was enjoyed, the items, consisting of songs, recitations and tunes on the handbelle, being received with much applause and encores demanded in quick succession. Whether it was the jovial spirit of " mine host" or the excellent playing of the bells, or the capital singing and playing of Messrs. Clarke Brothers, who both did duty at the piano, it would be hard to say, but somehow or other the company seemed to be in for a right good time when the hour of closing arrived, greatly to the regret of all concerned, "Auld Lang Syne having to be gone through during prohibited hours. Thus ended another of those pleasant gatherings which are, alas, mounting up, the years slipping away with such swiftness that one would like to put a few steel filings on the bearings of old Father Time's chariot.

Mr. Brindley moved that the best thanks be given to the Vicar and warlens for the excellent repast and for the pleasant gathering that they had arranged, ard expressed the hope that it was only the forerumner of many more. He thanked them also for the interest that they had taken in the ringers during the year.-The Vicar and wardens responded, and said it had been a great pleasure to them to be amongst such a body of men who worked so harmoniously together-Games were afterwards engaged in, and a happy evening was brought to a clons about 11 oclock.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the London County Association was held on February 8th, and proved most successful. The towers of St. Andrew's and St. Sepulchre's, JIolborn, were open during the afternoon. and although the "go" of either of the peals is not perfect, good use of the bells was made by the members, and visitors, from the conntry. Tea was partaken of at the "King of Denmark," 42 sitting down. Afterwards the business meeting took place. Four new membere were elected. The concert balance sheet showed a balance of 11s. 4 d.
The Secretary read his report for the year, which proved most satisfactory. The two districts were making progress, and good feeling existed throughout the society. During the year, 20 new memburs were elected, an increase of six on the previous year. Death had remored several of their most respected members, including Mr. Matthew Wood, Mr. William Cooter, Mr. James Pettit, Mr. Arthur Jacob, and Mr. Jarrold Hayward, The rule book had been thoroughly revised and brought up to date, and matter of considerable interest added. -The balance sheet, which showed a balance of 1s. 6d. in the treasurer's hands, was considered satigfactory. During the year 19 peals had been rung in eight methods, 71 members taking part, the conducting having been shared by eight conductors.
Mr. T. H. Taffender was elected Master; Mr. F. J. Hardy was rerelected hon. sceretary; Mr. W. G. Matthews, treasurer; Mr. F. Wells, fenior steward: Mr. 'W. G. Kilby, junior steward; Messrs. R. A. Damiell and T. H. Taffender, trustees.
The meeting closed with rotes of thanks to the officers of the past ycar, and to the incumbents of the two churches for the use of their bells during the afternoon.
The rest of the evening was spent in handbell ringing and harmony.
Dover.-Kent County Association.-On Jan. 20th, at St. Mary's Thurch, 518 Grandsire Triples: W. Corteen 1, C. Turner (eonductor) 2 , A. Roburts 3, R. Stevens 4. H. C. Saywell 5, G. Saunders 6, W. ## FESTIVITY AT BIRMINGHAM.

Every year seems to add to the success which is attained by the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner, and last Saturday's gathering was more than usually noteworthy. No event of its kind in the provinces is so representative in chaiacter as this Birmingham festivity, at which ringers, not only from the Midland metropolis, but from distant parts if the country foregather to do honour to the memory of one of the greatest men who ever adorned the Exercise. We are often reminded of the words of Shakespeare, " The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones," but in the case of Henry Johnson no one ever had a single word to say, during his life or after his death, against his integrity and rectitude. His name stands imperishably for honourable and upright dealing in the belfry and out of it, and it will ever remain a cherished memory.

Saturday's proceedings were attended by almost if not quite record numbers and the after dinner oratory was of a more than ordinarily high order. There were many interesting points about the speeches, and both Sir Arthur Heywood, who presided, and the Rector of Birmingham, whose presence gave intense pleasure to the members of the St. Martin's Guild, had much to sav that provided food for thought. Sir Arthur had some pointed remarks to make on the question of Disestablishment, and also on the subject of ringing at churches which are situated in populous centres. His words of warning and advice deserve careful consideration, not only by church officials, but by ringers themselves.

By far the most interesting announcement at the dinner was that made by the Rector-in whom, it is apparent, the Guild have a very warm friend-that he and the church. wardens agreed to the proposal put before him by the indefatigable honorary secretary, Mr. A. Paddon Smith, that the second bell of the twelve at St. Martin's should be recast. This bell, as Mr. Smith had pointed out, is the only blot upon an otherwise magnificent peal. How it came to be a blemish makes interesting and amusing read-ing-if such a thing can possibly have any humour in it. But for a hundred years that bell has been the bete noire of successive generations of Birmingham ringers. Thanks now to the enterprise of the honorary secretary and the ready acquiescence of the Rector and churchwardens, this is to be remedied, and quickly. The announcement came as a great and pleasant surprise to the company, and, needless to sav, was received with whole-hearted enthusiasm. This crowning point to a remarkably pleasant social evening will be a source of great gratification to those who ring at St. Martin's.

OPINIOR OF OUR MODERN WORK.Hroombield Vicarage, Chelmeford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that weare perfectly satisted with the manner in which you have carried ont the work entrusted to geu of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfield Church Bells.
We consider that the work reseats grest oredit upon your firm, and believe that your syatem of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of option. The BELLRINGERS are slso unsnimous in their praise of the alterationa effected by you.

SCURTHORPE RINGERG' EXCURSION.

alossis. Vamplew, Short, Bird, Strickland, Smith, Oliver, Hocknell and 'Ihurner, of the Scunthorpe band, had an enjoyable outing to Hatfield on Thursday week, at the invitation of Mr. Smith, of TWinterton, formerly of Hatield, who kindly ontertained them to tea. An attempt to accomplish a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was made at the Parish Church in memoriam of the late Mrs. S. Smith, who died a short time ago, aged 102 years. but the peal went astray, after ringing for 2 hrs. 10 mins.

OCCASIONS OF PEAL RINGING.

To the Elititor.

Sir,--In your issue of 21st February there was reported a peal rung at Bristol on Wednesday, February 5th. An opportunity was here missed of adding a footnote. "Rung to celebrate Ash Wednesday." It was certainly a novel cccasson for a peal, but if it really was rung with the bolls open, is not this carrying the "No Popery" movement a little too far?-Yours truls,
F. Ll. EDWARDS.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

Tho monthly combined practice of the Southern Branch was held at Nutfield on Tuesday week, when fourteen members were present, and the following methods were practised: London, York and Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Bob Minor. A meeting was held in the tower, at which ten new members were elected to the branch, including the Rector of Burstow as a ringing membar. The next combined practice will be at Fiorley.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

'HHE NEW BELLS AT COPPULL
A well-attended practice meeting of the Preston branch was held at the new Church of St. John-the-Divine, Coppull, on Saturday last. At present the massive tower contains a ring of six bells (tenor $16 \frac{1}{2}$ cwts. in F), but as the frame is macle for eight it is hoped some day to complete the octave. Ererything about the church is on an elaborate scale, and nothing could be more fitting to bring it to completion than two more bells added to make a beautiful ring of eight. Messrs. Taylor are the founders, and their reputation is we! ' upheld in the tone and "go," which delighted all comers. One thing mars the ringing chamber and that is noise, but a conversation with the Vicar showed that he was anxious that this should be remedied. The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening by mixed bands, the local men being put through their first attempt at changes. The methods were: Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Original, and Stedman Doubles. The towers represented were: Preston Parish and St. Mark's, Leyland Parish and St James', Penwortham, Eccleston, Brindle, Chorley, Whittle-le-Woods and Standish.

HENRY JOHNSON DINNER.

GREAT GATHERING OF RINGERS AT BIRMINGHAM.

ST. MARTIN'S SECOND TO BE RECAST.

There was a great gathering of ringers from far and near at Birmingham on Saturday on the occasion of the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner, held under the auspices of the St. Martin's Guild The event has always been a great attraction, and this year there was a larger number present than ever. After meeting for ringing at St. Martin's and St. John's, Deritend, in the afternoon, nearly 140 sat down to dinner at Ye Olde Royal Hotel, where mine host provided an excellent repast. Subsequently the party was swelled by the addition of many other ringers and friends, the post prandial speeches being listened to by a company of about 200. Sir Arthur Heywood presided, and was supported by Canon J. W. Willink (Rector of Bir mingham), Chonon Gonner (Vicar of St. John's, Deritend), Ald. J. S Pritchett (Presiding Master of the Guild), Messis. J. Kendall (churchwarden of St. Martin's), H. G. Vickerstaff, Arthur Wade Edge, W. H Godden, F. E. Dawe, T. Faulkner (Master of the College Youths). H. Mason, A. E. Parsons, C. W. Bassano, and A. Paddon Smith (hon. secretary). Among those also present were: Mr. J. E. Groves (Ring ing Master), Mrs. Groves, Miss E. K. Parker (London), Miss M. Sampson (Edinburgh), Messis. E. Horrex, A. A. Hughes and J. Waghorn (London), J. Griffin (Burton-on-Trent), J. Austin (Gloucester), R. J Wilkins (Bristol), W. Page and C. Jones (Worcester), and many ringers from neighbouring towns.

SIR ARTHUR HEYWOOD ON DISESTABLISHMENT

The Chairman, having submitted the loyal toast, which was enthusiastically honoured, proposed "The Church and State." cailed particular attention to the fact that the two were coupled together, and, after emphasising the greatness of the Empire with some striking figures, said that with their greatness they had their responsibilities. How had they ween justifying their responsibilities? I am not going to talk politics, proceeded Sir Arthur, but what some people call politics are the essence of considering what a nation is doing. That we have a right to do every time and everywhere. We ringers are "down in the mouth," and for this reason, a Bill has paseed through the House of Commons, and in about another year will practioally pass into law, which disestablishes the Church in Wales ("shame"). It is four years ago since I had the honour of taking the chair at one of these most enjoyable gatherings, and I remember that at that time I pointed out the necessity of every ringer, and by ringer meaning Churehman, must to the utmost resist this attempt to take away money from part of the Church of England. Now what I want to point out to you is this: Is it consonant with the intelligence that ought to accompany the ruling of so great an empire as aurs that any Government, I am not talking about one side or the other, should take away from a body that is doing so much good as the Church of England is doing in Wales, that small modicum of its means which will make all the difference between success and, I won't say failure, but success under very much increased difficulty? I venture to think that is not in accordance with the intelligence we should have expected from thase who, in other ways, have perhaps very adequately ruled this country.

DANGER TO THE CHURCH IN ENGLAND.
I want most farnestly to beseech you all, as ringers, and, therefore, interested in the welfare of the Church of England, to bear in mind that this disestablishment of the Church of England in Wales is simply a forecast of the methods that will be applied to the Church of England in England itself. Leng before there was any Parliamentary Government in England there was a ohurch, and long before there was a church in England there was a church in Wales, and it was from Wales that the church came to England. It is a most ruthless action to take away from that little church in Wales the small endowment they have, and to devote it to a purpose which is wholly illusory. It is an entire misrepresentation to say there is any body in Wales that outnumbers Churchmon in Wales. There is no single denomination in Wales that outnumbers the Church in Wales. Therefore, by what possible reasoning can you make it fair to take away funds from that Church? I do most earnestly ask you in drinking this toast of "Church and State" to bear in mind that the church is responsible in large measure for the creation of this country, and it will be a bad day if in England the Church is separated from the State (cheers).
The Rector of Birmingham, who had a most enthusiastic reception, said, in the course of his reply, that bell ringing was one of the most beautiful arts that science and religion had combined to give them, and to see so many men gathered together, men to whom the art of bell ringing was a true joy and a true enthusiasm, was something to fill a man in his position with great thankfulness and great hope of the future (applause). The Chairman had been speaking to him of what he had known during his long and honourable record of belfy work, and the wonderful change that had come over the ringers of the present day compared with the ringers of the days gone by. Ringers to-day were, in increasing numbers, taking up their art as an offering to God as part of their weekly worship (applause). It was a great joy to him a little while ago to receive from his own noble band of brothers, to whom their St. Martin's belfry was sacred ground, the request that they might be enrolled as members of the C.E.M.S. (applause), and he should not easily forget the emotions of his heart and mind as they stood before him at the ohancel steps and wore acimitted into that august brotherhood. That, he believed, oould be parallelled in many parts of Englaud, and for that he thanked God from the bottom of his heart.

AN ACROSTIC.
Proceeding, the Rector offered an acrostic on the word "bells." Did not tho letter B, ho said, tell them of the beauty, the holiness and the joy that men felt in giving the very best they bad to the servico of God? He loved to think that when the bells were rung they were as much a part of Divine service as the anthem that was going to be sung in church (applause). For that reason he welcomed the practice nights which enabled the ringers to make their beautiful work more beautiful still. Then, did not the letter E remind them of the great word "enthusiasm." It was enthusiasm that brought them there that night. Enthusiasm was the salt of life and the joy of work, and he thought, if ever one found cuthusiasm anywhere, one found it in a company of bell ringers. The two L's spoke of love's labour: for labour it was, but labour when it was enthused by love, tho master motive of humanity, oeased to be labour. The letter $S$ surely spoke to them of the one great thought which he, as representing the Church that night, would like so much to emphasise-the sanctification of their work, the offering of it to God Himself. If they regarded their ringing from this standpoint, it took on a totally different perspective. They looked upon bell ringing as a privilege and joy. It brought them into brotherhood with a remarkably fine set of men: it brought them into touch with great and high things, and he felt that the privilege of their art was one for which they might thank God. It seemed to him that they were there on almost a sacred errand, to hallow their brotnerhood, to deepen their goodwill, to exchange experiences, and go forth from that anniversary dinner to the memory of a great and good man with rencwed energy, with a higher motive than ever before, and a truer resolve to do their best for Him to whom they offered their services (applanse).

ST. MARTIN'S SECOND BELL.
Before concluding, the Rector said he had received a letter from their valued secretary, Mr. Paddon Smith, in which he wrote: "It cccurs to me that this is a tavourable moment to bring to your notice the fact that the second bell of the twelve at St. Martin's, the smallest but one, is badly out of tune, and it is considered the only blot on our otherwise magnificent peal. Somewhere about a century ago it was clumsily handled by a workman connected with a London frm who were rehanging the bells. This intelligent man finding that the bells and frame had been placed too close together to permit the mouth of the bell to pass, cut away so much of the frame as he thought could be done with safety, and then actually proceeded to operate on the bell itself. IIe removed portions from both sides of the lip, and this, of course, left the bell hopelessly flat. The only remedy is recasting, and as the cost of this would not be heavy, probably under $£ 25$, I earnestly hope that you and the churchwardens will agree to the improvement being made. In the opinion of experts, we should then have in Birminghim a ring of twelve second to none in the country (applause). Should you view my suggestion favourably, I will, on behalf of the Guild, guarantee $£ 5$ towards the cost (applause), and would certainly promise to raise a further $£ 5$ in subscriptions. In these circumstances the expense to the church would only be a matter of about £15. My members are not aware that I am placing the matter before you at this moment, and if you agree. I think it would be nice for you to spring it on :hom as a pleasant surprise in the course of your speech after dinner " (laththter and applause). The Rector added: I have only to say in response to that most eloquent appeal-I heartily thank Mr. Smith for writing it-that the Rector and churchwardens are absolutely at one in this matter, and are prepared to sanction the expendituro and see the work carried out (loud cheers). When that work is done, in the course of a few months, we must have a special gathering of ringers; you must let me lead you in a service in the grand old church, and then you must allow me, if you will, to bo your host, so that we can celebrate together the completion of the urrivalled St. Martin's peal, and cement our good fellowship in some deligntful way. It will be a very great joy to mo to meet you once again, and we will have a really good time with the old bells when they are complete (loud cheers).

THE MEMORY OF HENRY JOHNSON

The Chairman proposed "The Immortal Memory of Henry Johnson," and expressed his pleasure at once rore presiding at that dinner which was held in memory of one of the best and most honest and upright of ringers that, to his (the speaker's) knowledge they ever had among them (applause). Sir Arthur recalled the interesting and, as he termed it, the almost romantic story, of the rivalry between those two Birminglam men, Thurstans and Lates, to obtain the first peal of Stedman Triples on the twin-bob principle. The first to get the composition was Thurstans, and Mr. Johnson called the peal. Those who were young ringers did not realise the excitement there must have been in Birmingham, for the whole country was looking for the first proper peal of Stedman Triples to be rung. That toast, he continued, was to the memory of a man who was the one in those days to whom everybody in that town-and it was a great ringing town then-turned to as the one reliable man they could count on (hear, hear). There was never any idea about Henry Johnson going behind anything he said, or treating any man other than fairly and honourably. All his life that was the one example that he set before them. He (the Chairman) hoped that dinner would be carried on for many years to come, seeing thow much good fellowship it engendered, and how many friends it brought together under the influence of its good feeling. In asking tinem to rise to that toast in silence, the wished that tho memory of Henry Johnson might be ever with them, because he was a standing example of the truth, and it was that very truth in his character that bad mada him the great man in the Exercise that he was and always would be.
The toast was drunk in silence.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

Ald. Pritchett, who, owing to another engagement was only able to spend a short time with the ringers, proposed the toast of "Continued Prosperity to the St. Martin's Guiid." He said there was nothing with which he was assosiated that he wished greater prosperity to. IIc welcomed the presence of Miss Edith Parker (applanse), who was, as they knew, the first lady to conduct a peal of Stedman Cinques in this or any other country. He did not know what more that young lady had to look forward to in the way of achievements in ringing, but probably she would find a way to surpass even that wonderful performance. Ho would like also to mention that they had with them Miss Marjorie Sampson (applause), who rang in a peal of Stedman Triples only the previous weelr. It was sometime since the ladies began to tako an interest in the Art, and they were glad to see them among them in increasing numbers. He thought it was a tribute to the good behaviour of ringers that any young lady might now go into any belfry in England without feeling any lass of self-respect (applause). Je would like specially to mention that they had among them that old veteran, Mr. Faukes, who that day completed his 76 th year (applause). They hoped he would continue in good health for many years to come. But the great anniversary to which he wished to allude was the 50 th anniversary of Mr. Rock Small's entry into the bonds of holy wedlock (applause). They congratulated him, and would have been delighted and proud to welcome Mrs. Small had her health enabled her to come. The speaker went on to congratulate Mr. Painter on recovering from his illness, and Mr. James George on completing his 500 peals, and upon ringing his first peal of Cambridge. Then he also had to congratulate Mr. Jimmy Jones upon three new grandchildren since lact they met (loud laugbter). He had kept the greatest name till last-their friend John Carter was present (hear, hear). They had hoped his ringing machine would have been perfected, and would have been exhibited to them on that occasion, but he thought it would be there next year for certain. In the course of his duties as a member of the City Council, he (the speaker) had inspected some relies at Handsworth with a view to housing them in the Reference Liorary. He saw there some wonderful models of steam engines which Watts perfected and patented, but they all seemed wonderfully simple compared with Mr. Carter's ringing machine, and he could not think that the acumen and ability was required to construct these models that Mr. Carter had shown in constructing his wonderful machine (applause). The thought occurred to him in mentioning Mr. Carter, and the mention of Mr. Johnson, how little the world knew of some of its greatest $m \in n$ (applause). He was glad to think the Guild was prospering greatly. They were more numerous in members than ever before, and those members, taking them all round, were more accomplished ringers and certainly better men than those of the past. They also had more friends than they ever had; they were delighted to have a friend in their Rector-a true friend, as they had experienced that night (applause). The speaker referred in eulogistic terms to the services rendered to the Guild by Mr. Paddon Smith, the hon. secretary, upon whom the mantle of Mr. Godden had fallen.
Mr. Smith, who responded. said the work of his office was to him a labour of love, and he was particularly proud to be the secretary of the Guild. With all due respect to the secretaries of other societies ho would not "swop" places with any one of them (laughter and applause). He was very proud of the fact that they had with them the Rector of Birmingham, for the first time for eight or nine years (hear, hear). As far as the recasting of the second went, it was one of the objects which he had had in mind, certainly ever since he had rung at St. Martin's. He was determined that one day it should be clone, and now it was almost as good as done, thanks to the Rector (applause). He (the speaker) had already received an anonymous donation of three guineas towards the cost (applause).

KTNDRFD SOCIETIES.

Mr. W. H. Godden submitted "Kindred Societies," of which many were representod there that night, inchuding the Ancient Society of College Youths, who were represented by the Master.
Mr. S. Faulkner, who responded, expressed his pleasure at the opportunity of being present, and added that they in London had a very doep respect for the provincial societies, and there was no society for whom they had greater respect than for St. Martin's Guild. The traditions of ringing between Birmingham and London were so closely bound up, that there seemed a brotherhood between the two that nxisted brtween Irondon and no other city. with the possible exception of Norwich. ITo was glad to have with him the "father" of the as one of their past Masters, Mr. Dawe. They as ringers ought to set a. high ideal before them. It was better to fall short of it than to have no ideal at all (applause).
In complimentary terms, Mr. F. E. Dawe proposed "The Ringing Papers," to which the Editor of "The Ringing World" responded. CENTRAL COUNCIL AND RINGERS.
Mr. Dawe then submitted "The Chairman," and recalled the efforts made by Sir Arthur when he founded the Central Council, which was brought into being to protect the rights and privileges and interests of ringers (applause). IIe (Mr. Dawe) became the first secretary, but ho most candidly admitted that he found the task too gigantic, and he gave way to another. He had not attended a Central Council meeting for many years until last Whit-Tuesday, and he found then that so far from it being established to protect their rights and privileges in the future, it became almost a gigantic argument between two of the most skilled mathematicians. He was sure they did not want to go all over England to hear gentlemen discuss the difference between tweedledee and tweadledum. To say that they had never yet rung a correct peal of Stedman Triples was straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel (laughter). He would like to see the Council do something to induce ringers to study first the feelings of the general public. In some of the populous places he believed the frequent peal ringing would presently lead to a tremendous " kick-up." He thought the Central Council should bring influence to bear on church authorities and bell ringers to study the feelings of the general public. Ten, twelve or fourteen thousand poople were not going to be annoyed for hours to please a dozen men who wanted to ring a peal, and they would find ways and means of stopping it. They should never be surprised if some day there was an Act of Parliament passed to stop bells being rung in populous districts. Let them, therefore, before it was too late. get church authorities to carry out the necessary structural alterations to stop the reverberating clang, otherwise their rights and privileges might be crushed in the future.

SIR ARTFIUR HEYTYOOD'S WARNING.

Sir Arthur, whose health was drunk with musicel honours, said, in reply, that what Mr. Dawe had said about peal ringing had a very real basis. It was perfectly splendid the way in which year by year their records were increasing in number and increasing in quality, but there was no doubt whatever that the general public did not very much like it. He had always said that, among a poptulation that worked with their hands, there was a deep inborn appreciation of church bells, but he confessed that he himself at times, if he had a considerable amount of brain work to do, found that to do that brain work to the accompaniment of bells that were being rung close by was not the best incentive to one's labours. He believed that if they were not very careful, what Mr. Dawe had forecast might very well come about. It was possible in a parlament which oarried things with a rather high hand, they might themselves come up for judgment, and he earnestly commended to them what Mr. Dawe had said about having the belfry windows bricked up. It did not impair the music at all, but increased it, and stopped the noise. It was one of the thinge to-day which needed their most careful attention. In all other ways, the Exercise was going forward in the right path. Nothing, continued Sir Arthur, had caused him so much pleasure as the information that the Rector of Birmingham had given them that night that his ringers had joined the Church of England Men's Society (applause). If they, as ringers, were to be true to their colours, they must try and mend their ways. He had stuck up for them for years and years (hear, hear), and he knew that almost all of them were real good fellows, but a lot of them were shocking bad church goers (laughter and applause). They could not really pose as church bell ringers unless they would prove themselves Churchmen as well. The interests of the church were necessary to the promotion of their interests because, if the church were swept away, the bells would be swept away. Looking at it, therefore, from the lowest motives, it was to their supreme interests that they should identify themselves with the church authorities. He had always stuck to it, and he had told the Rector so that night that the reform of the ringers-and they wanted reforming to what they were 60 jears ago-was due not to the parson, but to the ringer (applause). But having got so far, there remained something for them to do, and he earnestly besought them to bear in mind their responsibility to consider the public, and that unless they took care they might in the future ba debarred from the Exercise which they all loved (applause).
This concluded the speech-making, which had left very little time in the course of the evening for music. There was a pianoforte solo, and a course of Stedman Cinques, and tunes on handbells by members of St. Martin's Guild. The tit-bit of the programme, however, was the course of Scientific Triples (216 changes), Mr. Carters remarkably complex method which was tapped on the du?cimer by that wonderful man, Mr. Harry Withers. Needles; to say, the performance fairly "brought down the house." Mr. Withers also played a selection of airs with great skill.
Over £12 was subscribed in the room towards the recasting of the second bell. A subscription list is now open, and any member or friencl who would like to contribute should communicate with the hon. secretary, Mr. A. P. Smith, 11, Albert Road. Handsworth, Birming. ham.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS. WORCESTER.

By J. R. Jerram.

According to Ellacombe's "Bells of the Church," Worsester Cathedral seems to have had a detached bell-tower, standing at a short distance from the north-east transept in early times. This was built about 1220 , and contained four bells. The first was inscribed, "Campanas diu serves has Virgo Marı""; the second, "Cristus vincit, Cristus regnat, Cristus imperat, Cristus nos ab omni malo" [defendit] ; the third, "Johannes Lyndesey hoc opere impleto, Christi virtute faveto"; and the fourth, "Ave Maria giacia plena Dominus tecum." There appears to have also been a clock-bell, inscribed: "Thoma Mildenham Priore. En ego campana nunquam denuncio vana. Laudo Deum Eternum, Plebem voco, Congrego clerum, Funera plango, Fulgura frango, Sabbata pango, excito lentes, Dissipo ventos, Paco cruentos."

Worcester Cathedral.
Previous to the present peal there was a peal of eight in the central tower, the old detached campanila having been long since pulled down. These bells are said to have borne the following inscriptions:

Treble.
GOD SAVE THE KING.
Second.
(no inscription).
Third.
IN HONORE SCI WOLSTAN EPSI.
Fourth.
HONI SOIT QVI MAI. Y PENS.

In 1875 two more bells, cast by Messrs. Taylor & Co., were added for the carillons. These are a flat sixth, inscribed S. MARCUS, weight in cwt. I qr. 6 lbs., and a flat eighth, inscribed S. LUCAS, i8 cwt. o qrs. If lbs.

ODD CHANGES.

Mr. Ted Horrex, now the "father" of the College Youths, paid his first visit to Birmingham on Saturday, for the dinner of the St. Martin's Guild. He is getting quite "gay" in his old age. Needless to say, Mr. Horrex was a very welcome risitor.

Speaking of Birmingham, it is not *uninteresting to note that for over a hundred years St. Martin's Church has never been without a Stedman Cinques band. This must be a record for any church, we should think. For iso years, except when silenced through illness near the church, or for repairs, the bells have always been rung on Tuesday nights. It has become a perfect tradition, and even open air preachers and speakers-who in Birmingham may only use the Bull Ring-recognise the well established custom and avoid the Bull Ring on Tuesdays.

Few men, at the outside half-a-dozen, have rung 800 peals, yet we record this week the 8ooth peal which the brothers William and Ernest P'ye have rung together !

Last Friday was the II2th anniversary of a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal rung at Christ Church, Spitalfields, by a mixed band of Cumberland and College Youths. Only one peal in the method is supposed to have been rung previously. This was at Norwich, but no record of it is in existence.

Mr. York Green, of Stratford, writes: In your issue of January 17th (page 47) you publish in the article upon Originality of Compositions of Bob Royal and Major, a three-part peal of Major (5088) with H. Price's name attached to it. This peal belongs to me, and is published in the "Appendix" of 1895 , page 63. It was first rung at Bow, Middlesex, February Itth, 1895, conducted by H. Springall.

Referring to the $\stackrel{}{\text { lines anent " }} \stackrel{}{Y} e$ rascally ringers,' which we quoted last week, the Rev. A. Du B. Hill, of East Bridgford, writes: It may interest some of your readers to see the following French quatrain, expressing the same idea as those quoted by you from the " Staffordshire Advertiser " of I813:-

Persécuteurs du genre humain Qui sonnez sans misericorde, Que n'arez vous au cou la corde Que vous tenez in votre main.
I have copied this frorı my "common-place book," where I entered it nearly , 40 years ago, with the appended note "Drabicius, 1618 ." This is a reference I cannot now verify, nor am I sure whether it refers to the verses quoted. But the French is probably the original, and we may take comfort that it was not originally aimed at English change ringers.

Successful district practices have been held during the past month by the Durham and Newcastle Association at South Shields and Jarrow, with decided benefit to a considerable number of the younger members. The methods rung were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Kent and Stedman.

Mr. G. R. Newton's reply to ${ }^{}{ }^{}$ itics of the Wallasey peal is unavoidably held over.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY

The March meeting of tiris Society was held at Doncaster on Saturday, and proved very successful. About 30 ringers were present from Arksey, Bolsover, Doncaster, Rannoor, Rotherham Parish Church, Retford and Treeton. The fine peal of eight (tenor 30 cwt.) at the Parish Church of St. George, were raised about 4.15 p.m., and were kept going in Stedman Triples and Double Norwich Major till about 8 p p.m., with short intervals.- A short business meeting was held in the tower, presided over by Mr. G. Halksworth (Doncaster), president. Five new members were elected-Rev. A. R. James (Arksey), Messrs. W. Froggatt, W. Bunting and L. Brightman (Rotherham Parish), and Mr. A. Whitworth (Trecton)-A hearty vote of thanks to Canon Sandford for granting the use of the bells, and to the local company for making all arrangements, was carried unanimously.-Mr. G. Halksworth suitably replied.

SALISBURY GUILD'S PRESIDENT DEAD.

Owing to the death on February 25th of Lord Nelson, of Trafalgar House, near Salisbury, who since the foundation of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild in 1882 has been the much respected president, and who was buried at Standlync' Church, near Salisbury, on Saturday last, the bells of St. James', Southbroom, and those of St. John the Baptist, Devizes, were rung muffled on Saturday evening, while at the request of Mr. H. Brownlec West, the hon. secretary of the Devizes branch, muffled peals were also rung on the bells at all the towers within the area of the Devizes Branch-between 20 and 30 -as a token of respect to the late earl.

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

To the EXlitor:
Sir,-Having read the letter signed "Veritas," which term, to my mind, is quite descriptive, I should like to say I heartily endorse every word this ringer has written, and moreover his opinion is supported by many members with whom I have discussed this topic, all of whom are of one mind, that these accumulated funds might be applied to a more useful and practical purpose. Personally, I think the majority of ringers are in no way indebted to the Church, but rather the reverse. In reply to Mr. Cooper's statement, that "Veritas" is a ringer who las nothing to say at a meeting, but makes his complaints to a small number of outsiders, this I may say is purely an "hypothetical assumption," and may be instantly dismissed. I have attended several as sociation meetings at whioh "Veritas " has openly expressed his opinion on certain topics under discussion in no uncertain tone. In conclusion, I should like to say "Veritas" may have a multiplicity of reasons for adopting a nom-de-plume, as I myself have. NEMO.

SPLICING MINOR METHODS.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-The following are the two Plain Imperial Minor methods which were omitted from the C.C. Collection.

They were rung (and provisionally named) at All Saints', Childwall, on February 28th, spliced to St. Clements and College Single. A "Parkerian " eplice is necessary, as the in-and-out-of.course of the changes does not allow of a "Jacobian" splice. Below are the 720 's, one ro does not allow of a Jacobian spice. Bethed.

HONOURING A GRAND OLD MAN.

As reported in another column, eight members of the Devon Guild met at the Dockyard Chapel, at Devonport, on March 1st to ring a peal of Stedman Triples in honour of the birthday of that grand old veteran ringer, Mr. ${ }^{-}$Wm. Banister, and it will be seen that their efforts were crowned with success. Mr. Banister, who is 89 years old, resides at Fulham, London, with his relatives, and still writes a splendid letter, the handwriting and composition being superb. 11e was born on Fob. 29th, and thus only gets a real birthday every fourth year.
He came of a great ringing family from woolwich to Devon to take up an appointment at Devonport Dockyard, and laboured long and earnestly in the cause of change ringing in Deron. He was instrumental, together with the late Col. Troyte and others, in the formation of the Devonshire Guild, and it was he who got two trebles added to the then six at the Dockyard Chapel. He wrote a valuable book on change ringing, and went $u p$ and down the county and the adjacent county of Cornwall, giving advice, ringing peals, and with a splendid chromatic peal of 60 handbells, together with a band whom he had taught, gave concerts, and secured large sums of money for charitable purposes.
fie conducted the first peal rung on Charles bells, Plymouth (by all local men in 1877, and the first peal in West of Lingland at the Dockyard in 1868. Nearly' 30 years ago he was ordered by doctor to give up ringing, which was a serious loss to the ringing world. Of his achievements with his own brothers before coming to Devonport, abler pens than mine can tell. They were simply marvellcus. But we who still keep the thing moving in the Three Towns feel that we owe him much. The late Col. Troyte also personally paid him that compliment in his book. We read of him at the last Central Council meeting, and the honour then shown him. May he be yet spared to us for many years.

NEW PEAL OF EIGHT IN SURREY.

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT WITH GLaSS SCREENS.

North-west Surrey has just acquired another peal of eight bells, which have been put into the tower of St. Marys, Oatlands, a residential district lying not far from the banks of the Thames. The church has been built for many years, but hitherto, one ting-tang has sufficed as a call to the worchippers, although the fine square tower, standing up boldly, seemed a particulariy inviting structure for a ring of bells. The scheme for putting up the peal has now been successfully carried out, the ohurch authorities having secured the musical octave which Messrs. Warner and Son, of the Spitalfields Foundry, had on exhibition at the Crystal Palace Festival of Empire. The peal are a set of admirable castings, and in tone leave nothing to be desired, the trebles being a particularly good feature. The tenor is 12 cwt. in $G$, and the total weight is 52 cwt. Each bell bears the name of the founders and the inscription: "Cast in the first year of the reign of King George V, 1911.

As we intimated in our last issue, an experiment has been made in closing up the apertures in the tower with glass screens, instead of interfering with the architectural appearance by crecting unsightly lourres. What has been used is known as "armoured" glass, which is bedded in lead and let into oak panelling, and the success of the cxperiment is unquestionable. Standing beneath tho tower the sound of the bells was splendidly deadened, yet every one in the peal conld be lreard. While thas successfully filling the main purpose of the experiment, the glass has other advantages, for while softening the sound and keeping out the weather, is affords plenty of light in the bell chamber, a place where, as a rule, light has been a last consicleration.

Oatlands' Church, Sorrey

The dedication of the bells took place on Sunday morning at the ordinary service, for which the old single bell that has been used for many years, was rung. When it ceased, the processional hymn, "We love the place, O God,' was sung while the clergy and choir passed on their way to the foot of the tower. At a given signal the bells were chimed in rounds and changes, together with two verses of the processional hymn by Mr. W. Shepherd, of Hersham. The new peal was rung for the thanksgiving service, which took place in the afternoon, the first towch being a 312 Stedman Triples by: A. F. Shepherd 1, W'. Shepherd (conductor) 2, F. J. Shepherd 3, W. A. Woodrow 4, O. J. Hamblin 5, F. Shepherd 6, E. J. Harding 7, J. Emery 8. Afterwards, two touches of Grandsire were brought round, conducted by F. J. shepherd and G. Woodiss respectively. Nearly all the ringers attended service, after which 192 Double Norwich and 84 Stedman Triples were brought round, both conducted by W. Shepherd. At the tea, which was kindly provided by the Rev. J. H. Townsend, some 16 or 17 sat down, and after the thanks of the company had been ably voiced by Mr. F. Shepherd, senr., a move was made for the tower to ring for - byening service. A 224 of Bob Major, conducted by F. White, was brought round, folloved by three courses of Stedman Triples conductrad by W. Shepherd, after which the bells were lowered in peal.
Many were the visitors to the belfry and bells at various times during the day. Tho bell founders were represented by Messrs. Robert and Andrew Warner. Mr. Duncan F. Christy, and four of the foundry band. Ringers were also present during the day from Ashtead, Ewell, Twickenham, Kingston; Chertsey, Walton, Woking, Portsmouth and Hersham.

MEMORIAL PEAL BOARD.

Before the peal at I'yldesley, Lancs, last Saturday, a board was unveiled recording a peal of Bob Major rung in memory of the late Mr. James Allred, who was for 46 years tower keeper at the above church. The ceremony was performed by the curate (the Rev. H. Stones). After the peal the ringers were entertained to supper by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allred, who were heartily thanked for their hospitality.

THE SILENT PEAL OF CINQUES. A FIANDBELL PERFORMANCE RECALLED.  To the Editor.

Sir,-While congratulating the band of College Youths on the nonconducted peal of Stedman Cinques at Cornhill, I beg to point out that by a curious coincidence we peal was rung on the amiversary (10 years) of the previous peal of silent Stedman Cinques, which was rung "in hand " here at Leicester. In ten years many ringers come and many go " to that bourne," and it may interest those who have como on the scene since that time to reproduce the record.

On Saturday, Feb. 23id, 1903, in 3 hrs. 15 mins., on handbells (retained in hand) at the King and Crown, Lecester, a peal of Stedman Cinques ( 5006 changes): John O. Lancashire 1-2, George Cleal 3-4, Samuel Cotton 5-6, William Willson 7-8, John Buttery 9-10, Alfred Millis $11-12$, composed by J. O. Lancashire and rung non-conducted First silent peal of Stedman Cinques ever rung. This band has now rung the cxtent of Stedman system, from Triples to Cinques, all silent. Umpires: S. Cooper, C. Fowler, F. Dexter. J. Marlow, J. Wilson.'’
Out of the above band, Messrs. Cooper, Marlow and Millis have gone to rest; Mr. G. Cleal is in Ireland; Mir. S. Buttery is appronching the "sero and yellow leaf," but the record stands as the only, silent peal of Cinques ever rung "in hand."-Yours Leicester.
WILLIAM WILLSON.

MITCHAM RTNGERS' DINNER.

A SUCCESSFUL SOCIETY

Although need for proper light and ventilation in their dinging chamber is still desirable, the Mitcham Socicty continue to progress and show their eamest desire to advance the interests of change ringing, and the proper recognition of ringers. Ihis is, no doubt, due to perseverance, constant practice, and with a genuine effort to assist others in that direction. At their annual dinner, served by IIost Bance in his usual admirable mamer, Mr. J. D. Drewett presided, and was supported by Dr. A. B. Carpenter, the Master of the Surrey Association, and others, about 32 being present, representative of the towers in the adjoining districts of Ashtead, Beddington, Croydon, Carshalton, Ewell, Sutton, ete., and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Mitcham Society was founded in 1832, and now consists of 13 ringing and 15 honorary members, and $\mathrm{D}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Carpenter, in proposing the toast of "The Mitcham Society," spoke in encouraging terms to the ringers, and with other speakers paid a warm tribute to their work which has resulted so successfully.-Mr. F. Holder (Carshalton), in reply to the toast of "The Visitors," said how fortunate the Mitcham Society were to have such an energetic man as the chairman to manage the affairs of the society. His never-failing courtesy and hearty welcome were one of the many pleasant features of a visit to Mitcham tower.
Songe and recitations were contributed by Dr. Carpenter, Messrs. Holder, Gordon, Bance, Ely, Brown, Welling, Copley, the Claairman, and Miss Bance. the last-named also kindly assisting with her valuable musical ability.

OXFORD GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCII AND THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

The quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Stony Stratford, on Saturday.-'The Rev. J. R. Vincent, President of the Branch, was in the chair, supported by the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), and the Vicar (the Rev. II. Last) and 64 ringers from Emberton, Olney, Old Wolverton, Thornborough, Shenley, Calverton, Newport Pagnell, Stony Stratford. Padbury, Milton Keynes, Sherington, Maids Moreton, Linslade, and Bletchley.

The resolution by the Rev. F. W. Bennitt, Rector of Bletchley, "that the question of the holding of the annual meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Oxford each year instead of as at present at different centres each year be fully discussed by the branch at this meeting," was considered, and it was agreed by a large majority to instruct the branch representatives to support this course at the next cammilteo meeting of the Guild, the Master having promised to introduce the matter.
Mr. Fिarry Sear (Bletchley) proposed, and Mr. George Clarke (Shenley) seconded, "that in view of the extra expense which would be incurred by holding the annual festival at Oxford this branch is of opinion that the refund of 1s. to members attending the dinner be stopped."This was also carricd by a large majority.
On the motion of the Rev. J. R. Vincent, sconded by Mr. V. Sear (Bletchley), a vore of thanks was accorded to the Rev. H. Last for his hospitality that day, and to the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn for his very excellent address at the service which had been previously held.

BELL RESTORATION IN KENT.

TWO PEALS OF FIVE REHUNG.

Mr. Alfred Bowell, of the Wykes Bishop Street Bell Foundry, Ispwich, is having a very busy time in Kent, having just completed the restoration of rings of five at wandhurst and Warehorne, and is now relanging a peal of six at Yalding.
Thanks to the excellent judgment of our forefathers in using massive timber, the frames in both towers will last for many years to come, and in each case it was only necessary to brace the bell cages slightly, thereby making them practically as firm as a new frame, and saving additional expense.

It seems evident that it was intended in bygone years to have six bells in both towers, for an extra pit exists in each bell chamber, and as contributions have poured in freely, it has been decided to add a now treble at Sandhurst at no distant date.

At both places the frames have been rearranged, and the ropes now fall in much more convenient positions. Steel headstocks, new clappers, greaso boxes, wheels, and all the latest fittings were included in the contracts, while at Sandhurst neat guides have been fitted. Quarter turning was necessary for each peal, and the crowns havo been done away with.
As regards the history of the peals, Sandhurst dates much farther back. The fourth is an old "black letter" or Pre-Reformation beli, and was cast between 1450 and 1500 . It weighs 10 cwts . The tenor $\left(12 \frac{3}{4}\right.$ cwts.), the second ( 7 cwts .), and the treble ( 6 cwts .0 qrs. 14 lbs. ), were cast by Joseph Hatch in 1619, and the third ( 9 cwts. I qr. 7 lbs .) which Mr. Bowell has recast, was originally made by William Hull in 1678.
On Thursday evening in last week, members of the Kent Association journeyed to Sandhurst to inspect the work and test the bells. They were received by Mr. Bowell, and Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles were rung by Messrs. C. Tribe (Tenterden), G. Billenness (Rye), W. H. Lambert (Benenden), A. Blackman and F. Underdown (Rolvenden), T. Ashenden (Hawkhurst), and A. Bowell and H. Welham (Ipswich).
On the following evening, a scrutiny took place at Warehorne. The local ringers were present, and Grandsire and Bob Doubles were rung by Messrs. C. W. Slayer (Stone), G. Johnston (Appledore), A. Bowell (Ipswich), A. O. Kay (Ashford), G. Billenness, P. F. Giles and D. Martin (Rye), and -. Barman (Woodchurch), while other Woodchurch ringers and the Warehorne band had some round ringing.
The bells, founded by John Waylett in 1721, weigh as follows: Treble, 4 cwt. 3 qrs.; second, 5 cwt. 2 qre. 8 lbs. ; third, 6 cwt. 2 qrs. 12 lhs.; fourth, 7 cwt. 3 qrs. 12 libs.; tenor, 9 cwt. 2 qrs. 8 lbs. Mr. Bowell has recast the third and fourth. and the ringers expressed their absolute satisfaction with the "go" of the bells at both places, and also highly praised the neatness of the workmanship.
On Monday evening, the Bishop of Croydon dedicated the Sandhurst poal, and on the afternoon of the same day, the dedication at Warehorne was performed by the Rural Dean, the Rev. P. H. Collins, Rector of Lydd. At each church the local ringers had charge of the ringing

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday week, the annual meeting of the Bedford District was held at Sharnbrook, and a goodly number attended to take advantage of the splentid welcome offered by the incumbent (the Rev. Edwards), and the local company. Not only in-county members, but a number of Northamptonshire friends attended to share the pleasures of the meeting, and cement the cordial friendship that exists between the two societies. The bells were fully utilised, and were turned in to a varicty of methods, a number of ringers receiving further tuition in methods they had not practised to any appreciable extent.

An excellent tea was enjoyed, and was followed by the business meeting. -The Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. W. Barker) presented the report and balance shcet. Circumstances might have militated against the success of the meetings, he said, but, notwithstanding, the majority had been highly successful. The numbers that had attended had been very satisfactory. and the methods ming were on o higher plane than at any other period. The financial side also proved satisfactory, there boing a substantial balance in hand.
It was thought advisable, at the election of offioers, that the office of president chould not be a permanency. but should be conferred each year on a different incumbent that took an enthusiastic interest in ringers, and subsequently the Rev. C. W. Browning, Bromham, was elected to that office. Miss Evelyn Steel was again electod vice-president, and Mr. J. IV. Barker, hon. secretary for the ensuing year.It was decided to hold the next monthly meeting at Renhold.
Mr. G. Ette, Wellingboro' addressed the meeting on a subject that has beer much discussed privately among country ringers, viz., the affiliation of socinties for the purpose of allowing affiliated members to ring peals with other societies. Much could be said for and against the idea. He considered that it would be advantageous to the ringing community, especially to the poorer members. A small sum could be paid each year, individually by the members or, collectively by the societies, into a central fond, the fund to be controlled by the Central Council or any such similar body. His remarks were received with sympathy by tho ringers present.
A vote of thanks to the Rev. B. C. Edwards concluded the business.

RINGING BY DIAGRAM.

The figures at the side show the starting place of eachs bell; the small lines intersecting the diagram mark the place where the treble crosses the path of the working bell; and the asterisks the place where the working bell dodges with the treble.

THE BOB WORK.
Killamarsh: A. Dodge, instead of lying a whole pull, and take up work of 5 th. B. Dodge, instead of going down to $4^{\text {th's }}$, and take up work of 6th. C. Make 4 th's. place and take up work of the 4 th (as in Kent Treble Bob.)

Sandiacre: 1. Run in after 3 rd's, and take up work of 2nd. E. Make $4^{\text {th }}$ and take up work of 4 th. F. Run out and take up work of 3 rd.

The figures of a lead of the above methods only differ in the back-strole lead of the treble.

PEAL AT BECCLES.

Recorded in another column is a peal of Grandsire Caters at Beccles. It was rung in thon of a Confirmation service, which was to take place on March 5th, and also as a welcome to the Bishop of Thetford, who was to administer the rite, March 1st being the nearest available date for the peal attempt. The ringers wish to thank the Rector for the use of the bells, and Mr. R. Rush, the stocplekeeper, for having everything ready. Mr. H. Barton hails from Southwold, Mr. W. H. Fussell fiom Slough, Mr. E. F. Poppy from Eye, Mr. D. Hayward from Great Yarmonth. and Mr. F. C. Lambert from Halesworth. The rest belong to the St. Michael's company, and it is 60 years since five members of the local band took part in a peal on ten bells in their tower.

Tenor (33 cwt.) of the New Ring of 12.
WULERUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON,
MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, CROYDON. 4th March, 1912. Gentlemen.

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authoriscd by the Rector aud Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kiugdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BLCK,

Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.

OUR SECOND YEAR.

With this issue we complete the second year of our existence, and we may, perhaps, be pardoned if we pause to review the past, which has been for us a period of very considerable satisfaction, and for our readers, we hope, a time during which they have found their interests efficiently served. Throughout these two years we have done our best to meet the desires of the Exercise in recording its successes and in circulating its news. Only the limitations of space have prevented us doing even more in this direction than has been accomplished, for there has never been any lack of material. Needless to say that, to our many correspondents up and down the country, we are duly thankful for the way they keep us informed of the happenings in ringing circles, although, as we recently took the opportunity of pointing out, there are times when we wish that so many of them would not leave their communications until we are on the point of going to press.

The question of space is one which has seriously perturbed us, for we are fully aware that those who are kind enough to send in reports do not like to see their handiwork ' cut down,'" to use a journalistic expression. We always make the fullest endeavour to use what is so willingly contributed, but if there are those who sometimes think that the editorial pencil has been rather severely used, we would only say to them that we have within the limits of our space to provide for all, and that sometimes curtailed reports are necessary in order to cover the whole of the ground. But this is really by the way, and was not what we started out to say.

We believe "' The Ringing World "' has served and is serving a useful purpose, and, above all, has a useful future before it. It has stimulated interest in the Art, and, indirectly, we are egotistical enough to think, has been one of the causes that has led to the recent great impetus in peal ringing. We have always encouraged the practice of the Art from its highest standpoint--that of service to the Church-and in this direction we shall continue to do our best to advance its interests. That we have justified our existence is manifested by the continued and increasing support which is given to our efforts. A speaker at the recent Birmingham dinner, said, with truth: "It is better to have high ideals and fall short of them, than to have no ideals at all." We have ideals before us, which in the coming year we shall strive to reach. If we fail it shall not be for want of effort. To those who have supported us in the past we return our gratitude, and we trust that in the future we shall do nothing to forfeit their esteem.

CHARLES CARR,

Broomfeld Yicarage. Chelmsford

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to $y e 0$ of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfleld Church Bells.

We consider that the work reHeets great credit upon your firm, and believe that your aystem of banging the bells reduces the vibratien of the ateel frame supplied by yon to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite wity ME in this expression of oplyion. The BELLLRINGERS are also unanimons in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS, Vicar of Broomfield. Bearg. C. CARR, LTD.

THE DISPUTED PEAL AT WALLESEY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I. have been told by a few whose opinions I respect that I have already written and caused to be written enough irrelevant matter in connection with the disputed peal that was truly rung at Wallasey on December 26th last, but with your kind permission, I should like to say another word or two in reply to Mr. Wilcox and his two distinguished pupils. With regard to Mr. Wilcox, I say none of my statements are untrue or unfounded, and I still maintain what I said in my first letter. With regard to the distance from his place to Wallasey Church, I hapoen to have walked it a few times, so I know what I am talking about. I also have been told by quite as competent persons, who were listening outside, that it was impossible for Mr. Wilcox to hear the bells on that day, as the wind was blowing strongly in the direction of New Brighton (which is quite in the opposite direction), and from what has transpired since he first wrote to me I am strongly inclined to think that he never lieard them at all.
With regard to Mr. Rogers, those who read his letter will see that his theoretical knowledge is equivalent to the practical side of it, very limited, and as he does not know the demerits of Grandsire Minor, I will tell him that one of its merits is that it is admirably adapted for the " wheelbarrow style " of ringing.
Now comes the most serious business of all. One of the ringers that took part in the peal actually says that to his idea it was not a true peal. So much for his idea. Your readers will see what a courageous nature Mr. Walter is possessed of. Could he not have said at the time the peal was rung that he was not satisfied with it? He bad every opportunity for so doing. No, it was not until I had denounced his bosom frieni and he found he had company, that his bravery asserted itself. Mr. Walter's reference to my term "wheelbarrow fashion" is certainly amusing to him, but to onlookers it looks deliberately evasive.

As regards the quality of peals usually rung by me, I should prefer someone elee to speak; that is, someone unbiassed. Mr. Walter and his colleagues would very soon know of what calibre they were if they happened to bo included in a peal, and I was calling it and they were not ringing carefully. And let me tell Mr. Walter that the only methods that "lumps" fall off are Grandsire Minor, and other such like methods, and judging by the amount of them that he rings, it would take some pretty large furniture vans to hold them.

In conclusion, sir, let me say this, that our peal was well and truly rung, and I shall not withdraw it, and when I ring and conduct a peal in future, and pablish it as a true performance, it will require more than those that have brought the prescnt peal into question to make mo withdraw it. Thanking you for your kindness in allowing me so much space, yours faithfully, GEORGE R. NEWTON.

HERE AND THERE.

The members of St. Nicholas' Saciety, Deptford, have elected Mr G. H. Daynes, 66, Ashburnham Grove, S.E., as captain and towerkeeper; and Mr. T. H. Hawkins, 20, Seyssell Street, Cubitt Town, E., as hon. secretary.

In our report of the opening of the new peal of eight at Oatlands Church, Surrey, last week, we omitted to state that the bells are hung in Messrs. Warner and Son's special design steel frame, which is built up entirely upon rolled steel girders of heavy section.

By a slip of the blue pencil, the fact that a course of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung and one of Oxford Treble Bob Major was lost at the Kent Association meeting at Mersham was accidentally cut out of the report of the proceedings.

Can Leicestershire boast of a younger ringer to score a peal of Stedman Triples than Ernest Bartram, of Melton Mowbray? He was 16 years and five months old when he ran the peal, and as a memento of the occasion, has just received from the other members of the band a silver bell pendant.

Miss E. K. Parker has added another to her many achievements by being the first lady to ring an inside pair of handbells to a peal of Royal, as she was also the first to ring them to a peal of Major. She rang the tenor behind to a touoh at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on Sunday week. This bell is 33 owt., and the performance, incidentally, shows how well it was rehung by Messrs. Barwell.
At Royston, Herts, on March 5th, an attempt for a peal of Minor failed in the last 720, after ringing 2 hrs . 35 mins., through the organist coming into the Church and practising with the choir boys. The methods completed were: Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, College Single and Oxford Bob: H. G. Wilkerson 1, R. Wilkerson 2, A. Gilbert 3, R. King 4, W. L. Darlow (conductor) 5, $s$. E. Roberts 6 . The peal was attempted in honour of the 70 th birthday of the Vicar of Royston (the Rev. J. Harrison), and of his 36 years as Vicar of the parish, and it was a great disappointment to the ringers that the peal was lost, the conflicting sounds of bells, organ and voices making it impossible to continue ringing.

THE OXFORD GUILD.

THE MASTER ON ITS ACTIVITIES AND ITS IMPERFECTIONS.
A copy of the new report of the Oxford Diocesan Guild has reached 15, and from its pages it is obvious that the year 1912 was in many ways an extremely successful one. The membership is higher now han ever it was, being 1,852 , made up of 195 won. and life members, 1,430 change ringing members, and 227 probationers. This compares with 1.84 .3 in the preceding year. The Master (the Rev. O. W. O, Jenkyn), in his report, speaks of the year's activities. "The Guild," he says," is alive; that is the great thing. We are at the same time conscious of the imperfections of its life; that is another great thing." He speaks of the signs of life first, which include the great gathering at Oxford for the annual festival, the movement towards increasing the number of local branches, and the peal list, which is a long one and a record for the Guild. During the year 122 peals were rung, including 15 Surprise peals. The Master adds that there were also signs of a better realisation of what it was to be a Church bell ringer. Then with his frank outspokenness, he turns to "Some of our imperfections." He enumerates them under four headings:-
"(1) Some of us turn up very late for practices and peals, and some even for service ringing. It is time we learnt, for instance, that 6 o'clock does not mean 6.15. rad still lees 6.25 .
(2) Wo do not make enough of our Branch meetings. It is good for us to meet together, even if there is not time for much ringing; Ohurch work being corparate work canmot get on vigorously without
" (3) What about the bells on Ascension Day? One of the four great festivals of the Chureh. And yet in many towers the bells bear no "part in the festival of 'Our Lard's Triumph.'
"(4) There is in some quarters still too much justification for the reproach that we neglect the duty of worship.'
The Master also comments upon the completion of the two memorials to the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, the successful Oxford Guild ringing tour in October, tine presentation to the hon. treasurer and late hon. secretary (the Rev. K. H. Hart-Davis), and the able and painstaking work of the new secretary, Mr. A. E. Reeves.
'The Hon. Treasurer's statement is, perhaps, the least satisfactory feature of the report, as it shows a steady drop in the balance in hand: 1910, £ 4014 s . 2 d .; 1911, $£ 33$ 3s.; 1912, £28 15 s . 8d.

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

To the Fditor.
Sir,-I do not think the Association ought to take the money from the reserve fund for a new bell to make a peal of twelve, for, I think, ten bells are quite enough. If there is any money to spare there are plenty of other rings in the county which need adding to. There are mumerous five-bell towers, where good rings of six could be made. I certainly endorse evary word "Veritas "says, and there are fourteen members of the Assaitation here who think likewise. UNKNOWN.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The halif-yearly meeting of the Furness and Lake District Branch was held at Milnthorpe, on Saturday, and proved very successful. About 36 ringers wrie present from Ambleside, Brathay, Burton. Broughton-in-liurness, Crosthwaite, Dalton-in-Furness, Kendal, Kirkby-in-Furness, Minthorpe and Silverdale.

The new peal of six (tenor 10 cwt.) were raised about 2.30, and were kepi going in various Minor methods till about $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., when the ringers adjourned for tea, after which the business mecting was held in the Schoolroom.
The Rev. T. Heelic, Vicar of Crosthwaite, presided, and the annual meeting was fixed for Dalton-in-Furness in September, when it is expected there will be a new peal of eight available.-It was also decided to hold two ringing meetings during the summer, the first at Broughton-in-Furness, on June 7th, and the second at Crosthwaite, on Juno 21st.

4 bearty vote of thanks to the Rev. C. Pickering (Vicar of Milnthorpe) for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. T. Heelis for pres:ding, was carried unanimously.

ROCHDALE BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Rochdale Branch was held at Todmorden Parish Church, on Saturday, members being present from Todmorden Parish and Unitarian, Walsden, Middleton, Glodwich, Oldham, Heywood, Newhey, Milniow, Ashton, Pendleton, Colne, Liverpool, Walkden, Bolton, Blackburn, Eccles, and Helmshore. The meeting was presided ower by Mr. William Crabtree, five members being flected, and Leesfield selected for the next meeting. The bells were kept going during afternoon and evening in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major, Kent Treble and Double Norwich.

TOWCESTER AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of this Association was held at Blakesley on Saturday, about 30 ringors being present from Cold Higham, Bradden, Lois Weeain, Easton Neston, Greens Norton, Weston Favell, Northamptori, ana the local tower. Tea was partaken of at the Red Lion Inn, and a short business meeting was afterwards held, with Mr. J. S. Constable in the chair, supported by Hr. F. Wilford (secretary of the Central Northants Association).-A letter of apology for nonattendauce was read from Mr. J. Slarke-A vote of thanks to the Rev. F. H. Mentha, who was unable to attend, was carried unani mously

Mr. F. Wilford proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman for presiding, and in the course of his remarks, said the was very pleased to see that several belfries in the district were taking up the art of change ringing, and making good progress with it.-The vote was seconded by Mr. F. Hopper, and carried unanimously.-The Chairman, in reply, said he was much interested in bell ringing, and pleased to do what he could to assist ringers. He knew it was a rather diffcult matter to keep a good band togethor in their belfry, but if only they would stick to their work he saw no reason why they shonld not have another bell put in to make the six. He could assure thmm that he would soon make a move in the matter if he saw there was a likelihood of a good band of ringers.

The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening, the methods rung being Grandsire, Plain Bob, St. Simon's, and Stedman Doubles.

A PLYMOUTH SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Charles' Parochial Society, Plymouth, was held in Charles' belfry, the Rev. J. P. Baker presiding, supported by the Rev. E. S. Powell (Holbeton) and Captain C. F. Jerram, R.M.L.I. The anmual report showed a very successful year's work, under the able management of the leader, Mr. W. H. Marsh. The same officers were elected for the ensuing year as were in office during 1912.
During the meeting a double peal board recording the peals rung on Empire Day and Coronation Day, 1912, was unveiled.
A handsome peal book was also presented to the tower in which is recorded all the peals rung on the bells of Tharles' Church and all those rung by the society, the records having been tastefully illuminated by Capt. Jerram and his wife, to whom a hearty vote of thanks was accorded for the great interest they have shown in the society-
A hearty rote of thanks was also accorded to the Rev. E. S. Powell for his work among the ringers, and for the assistance rendered by him, through his instruction, in obtaining the first Minor peal in seven methods ever rung in Devon.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

MR. J. E. GROVES, OF BIRMINGHAM.

For over one hundred years Birmingham has been one of the most prominent centres of ringing in the country, and many great names well known in the Exercise have been linked up with it through association with St. Martin's Church. Johnson, Thurstans, Lates, Day, Bastable, Carter--these are but a few which come at once to mind when speaking of Birmingham and ringing, and St. Martin's has to-day a band of ringers who are worthily upholding the traditions of the past. The sphere of activity has widened in recent years, and has extended beyond the limits of the famous Bull Ring to the borders of the diocese and the Guild of St. Martin now embraces the whole area of the new See. Occupying the position of ringing master at the Parish Church as well as in the Guild, is Mr. James E.

Mr. James E. Groves.
Groves, who is a successor in a long line of able men, and the ringing at St. Martin's is not likely to decline while he remains the leader. As popular among Midland ringers as he is capable in the tower, Mr . Groves as a ringer and conductor is to be classed among the best men of to-day.

He was born at Wroseter, near Shrewsbury, on March i3th, 1868 , so that yesterday he completed his $45^{\text {th }}$ year. He took up ringing when he was i8 years old, receiving his first lessons at the Old Abbey Church, Shrewsbury. His first peal, however, was not rung until four years later, this being Grandsire Triples at Upton St. Leonards, Gloucestershire, conducted by Mr. John Austin, on November 8th, I8go. In September of the following year he moved to Wolverhampton, and joined the St. Peter's company, who were then struggling with plain courses of Grandsire Triples. He was elected captain, a position which he held for some years, and a few months later was elected ringing master of the now defunct St. Peter's Guild. Mr. Groves has done a great deal in teaching young bands, and for six years from 1895 he was instructor to the Hereford Diocesan Guild. In 1904 he was elected the first ringing master of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, and held office for five years, while in igio he was appointed to a similar position in the St. Martin's Guild.

He has taken part in some notable performances, including several long lengths. He conducted a 7019 and 11,500 of Grandsire Caters, and rang in 8009 of the same method. He was also one of the band that put up the present record of if, ili Stedman Cinques at Birmingham, and conducted the only peal of Erin Cinques yet rung. He rang in and conducted the first handbell peal in Wales, while another of the handbell peals which he rang was the first peal of any description in the City of Hereford. On April 2oth and 21st, 1891, he rang his first peal of Double Norwich Major inside at the Parish Church, Bisley, Gloucester, conducted by the Rev. H. Law James. The bells came round at 2 a.m.! Mr. Groves was the first to ring a pair of tower bells to a peal in Great Britain, this being a peal of Grandsire Triples which he called at St. Luke's, Wolverhampton. Incidentally it is worth mentioning that the only man who had previously accomplished a similar performance was Mr. J. W. Washbrook, at Arklow, Ireland. Another interesting point is that Mr. Groves and Mr. John Carter are the only two living men who have rung peals of Grandsire on all numbers from Triples to Maximus. It would not be fitting to close this brief outline of Mr. Groves' career without mentioning that he is the author of that very popular transposition of Mr. J. J. Parker's celebrated twelve part peal of Grandsire, known as " Groves' Variation."

Mr . Groves is a member of a number of societies and guilds, including the following : Ancient Society of College Youths, St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, Societies for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, Archdeaconry of Stoke, Archdeaconry of Salop, the Worcester and Districts, Essex, Gloucester and Bristol, Bath and Wells, Midland Counties and Central Northants Associations, the Salisbury, Winchester, Oxford, Warwick, Hereford and Cheltenham and Districts Guilds.

His 384 peals have been rung in 103 towers in 22 counties, his list being as follows :-

ODD CHANGES.

In mediæval and, indeed, in much later times singular criminals have fallen under the ban of the law. Not only animals but even inanimate objects such as bells have been brought to trial and sentenced to most grotesque punishments.

Bells, for having been tolled at inopportune times, have on more than one occasion suffered, and Rouvel, the famous Rouen bell, was sentenced to many years' silence by Charles VI. The bell of Uglitch, which, at the time of the assassination of Demetrius; in 1591, knelled the alarm, was, with all the other actors in that gruesome episode, brought to trial, when it was sentenced to be mutilated, knouted, and sent into perpetual exile. Over 250 years later, in 1847, it was pardoned. Reconsecrated at Irkutsk, in Siberia, by the Bishop, it was, amid general rejoicing, bedecked with flowers.

Very few men indeed have ever rung a peal with two tower bells at the same time. Mr. J. E. Groves, who is the subject of our illustration this week, is one of them. Mr. J. W. Washbrook, senr., was the first ever to accomplish the performance of ringing a peal with a rope in each hand, and, if we remember aright, this was at Arklow, Ireland. The only other is Mr. W. H. Lawrence, of Little Munden. He rang two bells to a peal of Minor. One of J. W. W.'s sons is also master of two bells, and recently Mr. J. Thomas attempted a peal. How long will it be before four men ring a tower bell peal? Not long, we think.

We quote the following from a Devon paper, and it refers to ringing at Chulmleigh :-
The No. 2 band of ringers, under the tuition of the present instructor, has accomplished some excellent round and call change ringing. Some years since it was a hard matter to keep one set together. Now there are two sets. and. it is said, another band is to be formed by the No. 1 set, so that there will be three teams of campanologists to perform on the splendid peal of bells that Chulmleigh possesses.
Such is the progress being made in some places in Devon. Chulmleigh is a scattered village, and has a population of about 1,200 . It possesses a peal of six bells.

Last Wednesday was the 155 th anniversary of the first peal of Treble Bob Maximus ever rung. This was in the Oxford Variation, and was accomplished by the College Youths at St. Saviour's, Southwark (tenor 52 cwt .). It is recorded in the following terms on a tablet in the belfry :"The Society of College Youths rung in this steeple, on March 12th, 1758, a compleat peal of 5040 Treble Bob, I2 in, in 4 hrs. 12 mins., being the greatest peal ever done before on 12 bells. John Underwood, treble; James Coxon, 2; Robert Butterworth, 3; George Meakins, 4; James Darquitt, 5 ; Thomas Bennett, 6; William Lovell, 7 ; Stephen Pickhaver, 8; William Moss, 9; Robert Bly, io; Robert Mortimer, ir ; Joseph Monk, tenor. The peal was call'd by Mr. G. Meakins."

Twenty years later, to be exact, on March 16th, 1778, 6240 Treble Bob Maximus was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, by Norwich members of the Cumberland Youths, with two men on the tenor ( 4 cw c.). This occupied 5 hrs. 22 mins., and is recorded as ", being the greatest performance ever done by any society."

On March roth, 1784 , the College Youths, with Samuel Muggeridge on the tenor, rang 7008 of Treble Bob Maximus in 5 hrs. 4 mins. at Southwark, but this was surpassed by the Cumberlands on the same bells on March 22nd, 1802, when James Marlton rang the tenor single handed to 7104 in 5 hrs. 30 mins. The record is worth reproducing, for it contains some famous names: "Cumberlands Society. On Monday, March 22nd, 1802, rang on these bells a compleat peal of Treble Boh Maximus, consisting of 7104 changes, it being the full extent of nine courses, the greatest performance ever done on twelve bells, which was compleated by twelve men only, in 5 hrs. and 30 mins. Performers were: G. Gross, senr., treble: G. Gross, junr., 2 ; P. Jones, 3 ; James Nash, 4 ; Wm. Shipway, 5 ; Thos. Reeves, 6 ; J. Barnard, 7 ; A. Cavelier, 8 ; J. Hints, 9 ; M. Channon, to ; Wm. Stephens, II ; J. Mariton, tenor. Called by G. Gross, jumr." The peal was a composition by J. Reeves.

On March 6th. 1832, a peal of 7392 was rung at St. Mary's, Oldham, Lancs. This was supplanted by the $10,22 \neq$ at Painswick in the following year, the latter remaining as the record length until the peal at Ashton-under-Lyne rung on Easter Monday, igir. Narch was, in the old days, a memorable month for Treble Twelve.

Incidentally it may be mentioned, that to-day is the 186th anniversary of the first peal on the bells of St. Martin's-in-the-Field, London. It was 6006 of Grandsire Cinques, rung by the London Scholars, on March It, 172\%. On the fcllowing day the College Youths rang 6314 in the same method. Benjamin Annable "called the bobs" in this latter peal.

Subscriptions towards recasting the and bell at St. Martin's Parisb Church, Birmingham, have come in so well up to the present that it has been decided to raise the full amount among members and friends of the Guild, and present the bell to the church free of cost. If any of the numerous visitors to the church who have rung their first peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells would like to show their appreciation, now is the opportunity. Contributions should be sent to Mr. A. P. Smith (Hon. Sec.), ir, Albert Road, Handswortb, Birminghan.

We are requested to state that Peal No. 2,175 in the Yorks Association report 1911-12, published over the name of F. Rohinson, belongs to A. Knights, and was rung for the first time as long ago as $188_{7}$.

THE SPITHLFIELDS BELL FOUNDRY,

 Spelman Street, LONDON, N.E.
IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Correspondents are reminded that, as Good Friday falls in next week, " The Ringing World" will be published on Thursday. Consequently, matter intended for publication should reach us not later than Monday next.
Reports of peals and meetings on Bank Holiday should be despatched to us the same night to ensure insertion in the following issue.

MUFFLED RINGING.  information wanted.  To the Edtitor

Sir,-While visiting a neighbouring tower not long ago, a discussion arose as to the correct way to toll the bell at a death or a funeral. Various views were put forward, and it was decided to ask, through the medium of "The Ringing World," what is the general practice in this matter. We should also like to know if there are any church rules dealing with the subject of tolling, muffled peale, ringing the old year out, etc. It seems to be left to custom and tradition in each parish.
As an instance of the difference of opinion that exists, may I quote an incident that occured in this parish some time ago: One of our ringers having died, we wished to ring a muffled peal in liis memory, and consulted our vicar as to the best time to do so. He did not ssem very clear on the matter, but gave it as his opinion that the day of the funcral would be the best time for a muffled peal; that in a time of national mourning it might be rung on a Sunday after service; but that tho bells should never be muffled to cail the congregation to church, as had been done on a previous, occasion here. After this interview, I happened to see a paragraph in "The Ringing World" stating that in a distant parish, on the death of a ringer, his colleagues had rung the bells mufiled for service throughout the ' Sunday.
We should be grateful for any information on the subject. Also I would suggest that if there are none already in existence, the associations might draw up some general rules for the guidance of the in-experienced.-Yours truly, Blandford.
IT. h. Perdins.

MEMENTO OF FIRST PEAL OF STEDMAN

Ernest Bartram, of Melton Mowbray, has been the recipient of a xilver bell pendant, in recognition of the way in which he rang in his first peal of Stedman Triples at the Churcla of All Saints', Onkham, Rutland. The present was subscribed for by the other members of the Midland Countics Association who took part in the peal, and was accompanied with the following letter from Mr. W. E. White (hon. secretary) of the Association: "As a mark of appreciation of the way in which vou rang the treble in your first neal of Stedman Triples, we (that is the others who rang in the peal) beg you to accept the small bell pendant, which I send herewith with our best wishes for your continued progress in the art of ringing.

The bell was splendidly engraved with the inscription: "Ernest Bartram $_{4}$ August 31st, 1912," on one side, and "Stedman Triples at Dakham" on the other. The recipient was very surprised and pleased with ihe gift, and wishes to thank sincerely, through "The Ringing World," each subscriber for the beautiful present which will always be prized very much.

A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION,

At Southover Church, Lewes, Sussex, recertly, an attempt was made for a peal of Grandsire Triples, but it failed after ringing had been in progress for a little over an hour. A quarter-peal of the same method whi afterwards brought round in 46 mins., by: $G$. Richardson 1, E. E. Bish 2, E. J. Pannett 3, F. S. Sturt 4, G. H. Sturt 5, A. J. Turner 6, R. J. Dawe (conductor) 7, C. Errey 8. This was rung to celebrate the birthdays of Messrs. E. J. Pannett. G. H. Sturt, C. Firrey, and the son of Mr. R. J. Dawe, and also the 45 th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Dawe, senr. The ringers were cubsequently entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pannett. A most enjoyable evening was spent. After supper, there were songs and handbell ringing, and thanks were accorded Mr. and Mrs. Pannett for their hospitality.

RYE RINGERS.

At the annual meeting of the Rye ringers, it was reported that there were 89 subscribers to the annual appeal, and hearty thanks were accorded them for their support. A very satisfactory report on the work in the belfry was also presented, attention having been mainly directed to bring on the junior members to fill vacancies in the ranks. The following officers were elected: Vice-president, Rev. H. E. Laughlin; captain. Mr. G. J. Youngs; conductor. Mr. G. Billenness; hon. secretary, Mr. H. F. Cobon.-After the meeting the ringers were entertained by the Vicar (the Rev. A. P. Howes) and Mrs. Howee, who were thanked for their kind hospitality.

CLAIMS TO AUTHORSHIP.

To the Editor.

Sir,-I had thought this subject was dropped, but Mr. Lindoff's vaint and boasting letter in your issue of February 28th provokes me to reply. Evidently the thinks Mr. Dains, Mr. Hattersley and myself are nothing better than fools in composition, and can be treated as such accordingly, or he would not have sent with his letter the two 5040's of New Cambridge Surprise Royal, which, lke his other efforts, are merely extracts from peals published in the 1895 appendix. The first 5040 is abstracted from a 5056, third peal on page 108, and the second may be abstracted by a school-boy from the second peal given on page 117. As this is such a bare-faced bit of prigging and an attempt at fooling. I enclose the peals side by side as published.
With this attempt to hoodwink us, he has the impertinence to tell us that he is not like Mr. Dains, given to idle boasting. Can idle boasting go further? He also states that these extracts are his peals, and his they will remain. I have no doubt they will in his imagination, but the discerning part of the Exercise will not be so deceived, but will estimate his efforts at their worth. N. J. PITSTOW.
[Mr. Pitstow enclosed the two sets of course-ends, which are exactly the same as that in Mr. F. Pitstow's letter last week, and need not, therefore, be repeated.-Ed.]

MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, UROYDON. 4th March, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiaie Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtediy, oue of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faillifully, F. T. BECK,

Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.

THE EASTER MEETINGS.

The first Bank Holiday of the year always brings a big crop of important association gatherings, and next Monday will find ringers assembling in many centres from Wales to Easi Anglia, from Hampshire to Yorkshire. In most of these meetings the purpose is the transaction of the annual business, and with the ever increasing interest which there is in ringing affairs, there will be, we have no doubt, large and successful gatherings. The obvious advantages which are afforded by Bank Holiday meetings make them extremely popular with members, and for this reason by far the larger number of the big societies hold their annuai meetings upon these occasions, while many others seize upon the opportunity for districte gatherings.

While the business part of the proceedings has, of course, considerable importance, it is not the only feature which brings ringers from a wide area to foregather at a central spot. The social side has its natural attraction, for in many cases it is the one occasion during the year when old friends can meet. Then, too, there is the inducement of the opportunities which are provided by the day's ringing. All this goes to make these assemblies attractive, and it is gratifying to notice the wide-spread interest which, generally speaking, members take in the affairs of their respective associations. Moreover, there is a duty attaching to membership, for every individual ought to feel pride and concern in the successful and capable management of his association. It is sometimes said that a small attendance at a business meeting is a sign of general satisfaction with the conduct of affairs, but it is not altogether a healthy sign. It is sometimes an indication of apathy, and apathy only too often leads to disintegration. Happily, in regard to the ringing associations, there are usually ample signs of a live interest in their affairs, and we hope this condition of things may long prevail.

In those associations where nothing has yet been done, the Easter meetings provide a very favourable opportunity for raising the subject of a ringers' benevolent fund, to the need of which we have so often directed attention. In several instances, we know, the matter has been shelved in order to see the effect of the Insurance Act, but already there is proof that this measure has not done away with the ralue of a benevolent fund. Ringers ought to feel it a privilege to do something to help a brother in distress, and sristematic provision, such as two or three of the associations are now making is the best method of meeting an emergency when it does arise. We hope that in those organisations where nothing has yet been done, steps will be taken to establish a fund, and in several cases the opportunity of introducing the matter will occur next Monday.

NETHERTON COMPLEX MAJOR.

Under this title, Mr. Alfred Davies, of Netherton, Dudley, sends us the following method for publication. It is on the lengthening lead plan, with the treble a plain hunt bell, and it contairs lalf the changes to be found in the corresponding lead of Bristol Surprise. In common with Bristol, it also has this feature that a bell doing front work never gets above 4th's for three leads, and when doing the work behind never gets below 5th's.

ST. PETER'S BELLS, COLCHESTER. DEDICATION OF NEW PEAL.

The bells of St. Peter's, Colchester, were re-dedicated at a special service on Thursday week by the Lord Bishop of Colchester (Dr. Whitcombe), who was ossisted by the Rev. C. Triffit Ward (Vicar), and the Rev. E. J. Goodchild (curate). In addition to the recasting of the bells, two steel girders have been placed under the frame to strengthen it. The first six bells bear the names of those providing for the recasting, viz.: Treble, the Rev. C. Trifit Ward, Vicar, and Mrs. Triffit Ward 2nd, the Churchwardens, Messrs. A. Polley and T. M. Loyd; 3rd, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simkin; 4th, the Executors of the late Miss Walker; 5th, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Frost; 6th, Miss Hewitt and Mr. W. W. Hewitt, of Dedham. The inscription on the tenor bell is as follows: "This peal of eight bells, cast in 1763 by Lester and Pack, of London; Rev. W'm. Symthies, Vicar; Robt. Duke, Jas. Robgent, Ohurchwardens; was recast 1913, O. Triffit Ward, Vicar; A. Polley, T. M. Loyd, Churehwardens. This bell was recast at the expense of the parishioners, congregation and friends.'

There was a large congregation at the dedication service, which was conducted by the Vicar. The hymns included: "Rejoice to day with one accord," and " Praise the Lord! ye heavens adore Him," and Psalm 150 was also sung. Immediately after the dedicatory prayers, the bells were rung as the clergy were returning to the chancel. The Bishop preached an appropriate sermon, taking his text from PsaIm cxiv, 10 , "All thy works praise Thee, O Lord, and thy saints shall bless Thee." Having traced the history of bell making and referred to the romantic history of many churoh bells, and the notes of joy and aomow they had uttered through the ages, the Bishop concluded vith am earnest address to the bell ringers, urging them to do all their work to the glory of God, saying that there was a danger that in the practice of an art, they might forget the inspiration which gave birth to it. The highest effect would be reached, and the truest service rendered only when they who listened to those bells, knew that they were never touched, their medodies never evoked, but by devoted servants of Jesus Christ. - The Vicar having mentioned that the sum of $£_{50}$ was still needec to complete payment, a collection was taken dur ing the singing of the concluding hymn, "The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended.'

After the service, the rollowing touohes were rung: 224 Bob Major, 112 Grandsire Trip!es, 288 Kent Treble Bob, and a course of Double Norwich, by the members of the local oompany: Messrs. A. Burch, G Burch, W. Burch, G W. Dixon, F. L. Bumpstead W. Button, W Chalk, HI Evers, S. Hull, H. T. Pye, W. J. Schofield and E. W. Stan nard, and the following visitors: Messrs. W. J. Nevard (Great Bentley), G. Lindridge (Ashford, Kent), Jas. Newman (Feering), and E. Denison Taylor (Loughborough), representing Messrs. John W. Taylor and Co.

The weights of the bells are as follow: Treble, 4 cwt. 3 prs. 4 lbs. $2 \mathrm{nd}, 5 \mathrm{cwt} .1$ qr. $5 \mathrm{lbss} ; 3 \mathrm{rd}, 6 \mathrm{cwt} .0 \mathrm{qrs} .17 \mathrm{lbs} . ; 4 \mathrm{th}, 7 \mathrm{cwts} .1 \mathrm{qr}$ 7 lbs. ; 5th, 9 cwts. 1 ar. 19 lbs. ; 6th, 11 cwts. 1 qr. 5 lbs.; 7 th, 15 cwts 1 qr. 2 lbs. ; tenor, 21 ewts. 0 qrs. 17 lbs., in E flat (diameter 4 feet 1 3-8 inch). The bells have heen tuned upon the five-tone principle and the whole work reffects great credit upon the well-known founders, Messrs. Taylor and Co.

AN UNIQUE RECORD.

Mr: George N. Price, of Watford, has just completed an unique performance by calling a different peal of Stedman Triplcs, Caters and Cinques, from each pair of bells. Mr. Price is the first to accomplish this feat, and in addition he has conducted Carter's Odd-Bob peal of Triples from each pair. The composition of Stedman Triples called from 1-2 and 5-6 had not been previously rung on handbells. An the peals of Caters and Cinques had the turning course at the end, thus enhancing the difficulty of the performanoe, and had it not been for two of the peals of Caters (those called from 1-2 and 9-10) having the same coming-round, all would have had different going off and homing courses both in Caters and Cinques.

Appended is the list of peals and the dates of performance:STEDMAN TRIPLES.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A VISIT TO ASH.
A party consisting mostly of six-bell ringers, met at Ash-next-Sandwich, on Saturday, for tine opportunity of ringing some touches on eight. For alout a couple of hours the bells were kept groing to short touches of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples, and on each occasion that the bells oame round, somebody had rung their first touch on eight, or in the method. Afterwards, in the Ringers' Arms (The Lion), a soclal hour was spent with the local band, and Stedman Triples and Caters. were rung in hand.
Only three peals seem to have been rung on the bells, the dates of which (as far as local information goes), are No. 1 by the Quex Park band early in the last century; No. 2 in the ' 80 's again by a Birchington band, and the last one by a mixed band from the Canterbury district in 1905. The "go " of the bells showed the visitors the attention paid by the genial local steeplekeeper, Mr. Martin, and we hope before long to record the first peals of Stedman and Major on them.
The following are the members who rang: Messss. E. Buesden, F. Brett, C. Brett, F. A. Holden, H. C. Casole, E. Kemp, F. Rogers, J. Trinder, F. Fenm, Harrison Smith, and S. While, and all wish to thank the Vicar for his kind permission, and the local secretary (Mr. F. Wells) for meeting them and arranging for the visit.

BELLS DEDICATED AT FINEDON.

FINE NEW PEAL FOR NORTHANTS.
Tho restoration of the bells at Finedon, Northants, has just been completed as a memorial to the late Miss Ellen Mackworth Dolben, and the dedication took place, in the presence of a large congregation, on Saturday. The service was conducted ly the Vicar (the Rev. J. E. Greaves), the dedicatory prayers being read by the Archdeacon of Oakham, while the Rev. F. E. Willis (Rector of Uffington Stamford) was the preacher.
The work of recasting five of the bells and rehanging the whole peal in a new frame has been admirably carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, and the peal, with a tenor of 22 cwt., now ranks among one of the finest in the county.
Mr. Cyril Johnston and Mr. Taylor were present at the dedication to represent the firm, and among others who attended were: Mr. F. Wilford (general eecretary of the Central Northants Association), Mr. W. Perkins (district secretary), Mr. E. M. Atkins (London), and about 30 ringers. Everyone was satisfied that the work had been very satisfactorily carried out, and it reflected great credit on the founders. It is intended to have a gathering of the members of the Central North. amptonshiro Association, on Saturday, March 29th, to celebrate the restoration of the ring.

A DATE TOUCH.

At the Parish Church, Hull, on March 11th, a dato touch of Grandsire Triples ( 1913 changes), in 1 hr .15 mins., was rung by: F. Dale 1, H. Jenkins 2, E. Cutsforth 3, H Riodwoll 4, G. Dowling 5, C. Jaokson (composer and conductor) 6, L. Rodwell 7, F. Merrison 8. The odd changes in the touch are as follows:-

Afterwards call bobs at $1,3,18,4,4,2,1,5,4$, giving 523467. Thereafter bobs at 2, 3, 2, 5s, 1, 3, 1, 4, 4, 2, 1, 5, 4, giving 452367. Repeat this last part twice brings the bells round. The touch inoludes the 24 6-7's at baokstroke.

BOB MAJOR COMPOSITIONS.

The following are some further peals, upon which Mr. J. A. Trollope, one of the greatest authorities on composition in the Plain Bob Method, has expressed friendly criticism.

AN IRREGULAR 5-PART PEAL OF BOB MAJOR, 5056, By Thomas Bloore, Sutton Coldfield.

Has only 4, 5, 6 in 6th's place, with all the 65 's and 56 's.
Mr. Bloore calls h:3 5058 an rregular " five-part." It is irregular but it is not on the five-pari plan of composition in any sense. The use of the singles is ugly and unnecessary.

By George Lewis, Ecclesfield.

These two peals contain the full combination of 4-5-6 in 5-6, with 23 never in 6th's place, in the leasb possible number of ehanges. By jouning calling beginning at C to that beginning at $\mathrm{B}, 5024$ is obtainer by repeating A, 5056; by joining $O$ to $A, 5072$, and by repeating $C$, 5088. Either of the original peals or variations can be started Erom any course-end where 2-3 or 3-2 come together in front, making a total of 72 variations, each containing the full combination of 4-5-6 in 5-6, with 2-3 nerver in 6th's place.
Mr. Lewis's peals have a great claim to be consilered original, and are decidedly musical.

By J. J. Brierley. 1888.

Three times repeated single, half-way and end.
I give the foregoing composition as the best in the method, caling everything into consideration, music, simplicity, and saikabiliy far ringing.

This composition, in 29 courses, contains the greatest number of changes obtained in this method with the tenors together ard without the 2nd in 6th's place at course ends. By calling a "Before" after 26435, and omitting tine bobs bracketed at M-and adding a bob $\mathbf{H}^{*}$, the changes are reduced to 5056 .

By adding a bob W to the calling of course $\mathbf{A}$, course $\mathbf{B}$ is produed reducing the composition to 14 courses, which runs tree to as 5040 New Cambridge Surprise Royal.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS. PETERBOROUGH.

By J. R. Jerram.

Among the early records relating to Peterborough bells we find that Abbot John de Caleto gave a great bell to the monastery of Peterborough in 1250 ; and a little later Richard de London, sacrist, gave two more bells. Several odd bells are mentioned in the inventory taken in 1539 (see "Church Bells of Northamptonshire," pp. 363-4, by the late Mr. T. North.

Passing over the very early times, we find that a heavy peal of ten bells was hanging in the tower at the time of the Commonwealth. It is recorded that Cromwell's soldiers were quartered in the Cathedral for some time, and that they used to amuse themselves by jangling the bells at all hours, night and day; much to the annoyance of the inhabitants of Peterborough, who managed secretly to remove the clappers and hide them, and so put a stop to the nuisance. The tenor of this peal must have weighed nearly 60 cwt .

In ryog the Dean and Chapter entered into an agreement with Henry Penn, the Peterborough bell-founder, whose foundry was on the east side of Broad Bridge Street, to cast a tuneable peal of ten bells out of the four largest of the above-mentioned peal with a little additional metal; taking the six front bells in payment for his work in casting and hanging the new bells. It may be also mentioned that in addition l'enn gave $£ 50$ towards "adorning the altar.'"
A peal of ten bells, with a tenor weighing about 32 cwt , was then put up, which bore the following inscriptions :Treble.

After being in use for over 120 years the ninth bell became cracked. At that time the tower was supposed to be in an unsafe condition, and it was resolved to sell the five front bells, with the idea of reducing the strain thereon. Though there is no doubt that if it was capable of standing the strain of the five heavier bells, it would easily have stood that of the five lighter ones. The five front bells were then sold to William Dobson, bell-founder, of Downham, Norfolk, who recast the old ninth (now the fourth) at the same time, with the following inscription :-HERBERT MARSH, D.D., BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH; THOS TURTON, D.D., DEAN OF PETERBOROUGH; WILLIAM STRONG, D.D., ARCHDEACON OF NORTHAMPTON ; JOHN JAMES, D.D., Wm MC’DONALL, M.A. ; Wm TOURNAY, D.D. ; JOSh STEPn PRATT, L.L.B.; S. MADAM, D.D. & THOS HUGHES, B.D. PREBENDARIES, 183 r.

With regard to Henry Penn, the bell-founder, he carried on business until 1729 . In 1723 he cast a peal of eight for St. Ives, which did not satisfy the authorities there, and who refused to pay for the work. The matter ended in a law suit which dragged on until 1729; when the case was finally settled in Penn's favour at the Summer Assizes held at St. Ives in that year. But, sad to relate, as he was mounting his horse to return home he suddenly fell down dead, presumably from the effects of over excitement.

RINGERS' CHAPEL AT LINCOLN.

PROPOSED RESTORATION.

At Lincoln Cathedral there is a ringers' chapel. It is, perhans, better known as St. Hugh's Clapel, and for many years has been dismantled and uncared for. As long ago as the vear 1612 it was the home of "The Company of Ringers of the Blessed Virgin Mary of Lincoln.'" and it is felt to be a reproach that it should remain now in a dilapidated condition. From time to time small sums have been set apart by members of the Diocesan Guild to form a fund. This now amounts to $£ 183 \mathrm{~s}$. 8d.. and it is hoped that it will become the nucleus of a fund for the restoration of the chapel. which. it is estimated, will cost upwards of £300. The committee of the Northern Branch of the Lincoln Guild are appealing to all ringers and to those interested in ringing and archrolog. for sontributions to complete the work. The treasurers of the fund are the Dean of Limeoln, who is President of the Guild, and Mr. F. F. Linley, Rank House, Gainsborough, President of the Northern Branch. Donations may be sent to the latter, or to the District Secretary.

ODD CHANGES.

Among the meetings which have been fixed for next Monday are the following :-

Archdeaconry of Stafford, annual, at Walsall.
Bedfordshire, annual, at Bedford.
Cleveland and North Yorkshire, at Whitby.
Ely Diocesan, annual, at Bury St. Edmunds.
Essex, North-Eastern District, at Colchester.
Hertfordshire, annual, at St. Albans.
Midland Counties, annual, at Leicester.
North Wales, annual, at Bangor.
Peterborough and District, at Huntingdon. Surrey, at Epsom.
Worcestershire and Districts, annual, at Stourbridge. Winchester Diocesan, Portsmouth District, at Fareham.

The old established firm of Charles Carr, Ltd., of Woodland Works, Smethwick, have recently had the honour of being placed on the Crown agents list for the Colonies, for alloys and anti-friction metals, castings in all non-ferreous metals and bells. Messrs. Carr report business as good, they having in hand several important contracts for re-hanging work, also large orders for the British and Foreign Governments.

We are glad to note that the appeal that has been made for funds to recast the cracked tenor at Long Stanton is meeting with a good responsc. There is not much left now to be done; let that little be done quickly. Every mickle makes a muckle, and the Vicar (the Rev. H. B. Woolley), who worked so hard to get the peal augmented to eight, will welcome the smallest contributions.
Among the members of the Oxford Guild are no fewer than 34 ladies.

As a result of the letter from Dr. A. H. Nichols, which appeared in these columns, we are pleased to learn that the district of Boston, U.S.A., where there are now several peals of beils in ringing order, is likely soon to have a competent band of change ringers, recruited from this country. If the Art becomes firmly established in the States, as a result of this, there will be a great deal to thank Dr. Nichols for.

Mr. Lawrence Thomas Henry Seers, who has been a ringer at the Church of St. Mary, Rye, Sussex, for 14 years, has been, with four other nominees, elected unopposed upon the Rye Board of Guardians. However, if a fight had taken place, he would have probably received sufficient support at the poll to occupy a seat in the Board Room, as he is well-known, having resided in Rye for many years.
His services to the Rye belfry have been and are highly valued. We tender to him our congratulations upon his election, and wish him success in his public career.
In our last issue we mentioned that the month of March saw the anniversaries of several great performances of the past. Next Monday is the anniversary of the first true peal of "Real Double Twelve In,", which, according to the "Clavis," was rung by the Society of College Youths on March 24th, 1784, composed and called by Mr. John Povey.

Two days later the Ancient Sinciety of College Youths rang 6048 in the same method at St. Saviour's, Southwark. These were peals of Double Bob Maximus with two bobs in one lead.

In our biographical sketch of Mr. J. E. Groves last week we stated that he and Mr. John Carter were the only two ringers who had rung peals in the Grandsire method on all numbers of bells from Triples to Maximus. There are, however, two other ringers who have accomplished this-Messrs. J. George (Rugby) and T. Russam (Birmingham).
Recently we pointed out $\stackrel{}{}$ ow the " "Ringing World" had been taken to Land's End, and inquired how near it had got to John O'Groats. We have quickly got an answer. Not only has it been taken as far north as John O'Groats, but even to far off Lerwick in the Shetlands. Mr. C. H. Bernard, of Harwich, spent five months in Fortrose, Scotland, Long Hope and Kirkwall in the Orkneys, and Lerwick in the Shetlands, and the "Ringing World" was sent to him regularly while there.

In writing us upon this matter he asks if change ringing has entirely died out at Inverness. Perhaps some of our Scottish ringers can enlighten us.

DEATH OF A ROCHESTER RINGER.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. William J. Baker, of Rochester. The sad event took place on Sunday week. The deceased, who was 56 years of age, was for more than 38 years & ringer at St. Marcaret's Church and Cathedral, Rochester, of which city he was a native. A cooper by trade, he was a man of a vers cheerful disposition, although having suffered for several years. He never marrief.

As a ringer he was a man of rare ability, with a fine ear for music. A good striker, he was the leader of St. Margaret's band of ringers for many years, and a member of the Kent County Association from its institution. He was also a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Although he did not ring many preals, it was not for want of enthusiasm, but owing to his suffering from bronchitis most of his peals he rang at Gillingham, as this was the only peal of eight in the district until late years; in fact, most of his changs ringing he learned on Gillingham bolls. The following are the peals he rang: Grandsire Triples, 3, conducted, 1; Stedman Triples, 1; Double Norwich Major, 1; Kent Treble Bob Major, 1; Superlative Surprise Major, 1; Cambridge Surprise, 1. These Surprise peals were the first Surprise peals by the Kent County Association. His loss will be much felt at St. Margaret's.
The int
The interment tomk rlace on Saturdav afternoon iast, at St. Margarets cemetery, the first portion of the eervice being said in the Church. There were many mourners, including his four brothers, several other relatives and friends, the whole of St. Margaret's ringers, and members from the Cathedral and Gillingham bands. Numerous floral wreaths were sent from relatives, follow workers and friends; and one, in the shape of a bell, from the St. Margaret's ringers. In the evening, at St. Margaret's Churd, touches of Grandsire Triples wire rung with the bells muffled, as a last tribute of respect.

DEATH OF A YORKSHIRE RINGER.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Henry Cutts, of Royston, Yorks, took place on Sunday, March 9th, after a lingering illness. The deceased, who was 54 vears of age, was interred on Thursday week at Royston Cemetery, in the presence of relatives, friends and ringers from surrounding towers.
Harry Cutts, as he was familiarly known, was one that Minor ringers delighted to meet. He soared to great heights in Treble Bob Minor, although of late years his practice was restricted, for, being the last of a once famous brad, whioh has never been replaced, he had to stand alone in his native rillage. No reoord of his peals appears to have been lept, but if it had been it would have made a rery creditable record.

PRESENTATION AT WALSALL. RINGER'S DEPARTURE FOR AUSTRALIA.

The Walsall ringers have presented to one of their number, Mr. George Peate, who is shortly leaving for Australia, a pipe and tobaceo pouch. The presentation was made in the belfry of St. Matthew's Church, cn: Sunday week by the Vicar (Prebendary A. Paice), who remarkel that whenever Mr. Peate found comfort in the pipe, his thoughts would doubtless wander back to the old Parish Church, and he would $s$ many pictures of the old belfry and the ringers in the clouds of smoke. He wished him every success in his new sphere.Mr. C. Hicks and Mr. T. Filton also spoke in appreciation of Mr. Peate's services as a ringer. He was one of the most enthusiastic workers in the local company, and although he only commenced to pull a bell about three years ago, his work in the tower would always be remembered. - Mr. Peate, in acknowledging the gift, thanked the Vicar and ringers for their kindness. He wished the band every success in the future, and hoped they would malke the tower a still more prominent one in the work of the socicty for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.A touch of Stedmay Triples was afterwards rung.
Mr. Peate has rung 16 peals, consisting of Bob Minor 1, Stedman Triples 6. Stedman Caters 4, Grandsire Caters 2, Erin Triples (first by the Stafford Society) 1, Kent Treble Rob 1, Double Norwich 1. A iarewell peal of Stedman Triples at Walsall by a local band was lost, after 1 hr . 15 ming.

Tenor ( 33 cwt .) of the New Ring of 12.
 Gertitemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BECK,

Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.

THE HERTFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Hertfordshire County Association on Monday was one of the most successful held in the annals of the society, which now stands in the front rank of our ringing organisations. It is one of the associations that is moving with the times, and its progress is reflected in the advance in its peal ringing. The annual report records that both in the variety and quality of the methods rung the year that has just closed is a record, and it was equally so with regard to quantity, for only in one previous year (1903) had as many peals been rung. Quantity, however, is not everything, and the 55 of 1903 does not by any means equal the quality of the 65 recorded in the present report. The improvement in this respect is, however, only indicative of the general trend of peal ringing throughout the country, for there never was a time when the standard of ringing, judged by the methods rung, was as high as it is to-day. Although a good deal of the success of the Herts Association is due to the performances of the two bands at Bushey and Oxhey, there is a gratifying improvement in the county generally so far as the peal ringing is concerned, for over 130 members took part in the performances, showing that the peals are by no means confined to the few.

The question of the district meetings is one of the important matters dealt with in the report, and not only with the ringers of Hertfordshire, but with those of other parts of the country would we emphasise their great value. Difficulties of travel sometimes provide the obstacle in the way of ringers attending the minor meetings of their association, but it is really worth an effort to attend these gatherings. They do a great deal to cement the good feeling which exists among ringers, they provide a means of practice which one often does not get in one's own tower, and they demonstrate the corporate nature of the work which ringers are doing.

The election of the Dean of St. Albans as the president of the association is a fitting tribute to the interest which this honoured ecclesiastic has always displayed in the work of the society. Indeed, it is one of his cherished memories, that the association was the outcome of a meeting held in his own house, and ever since that time, more than a quarter of a century ago, he has taken a paternal interest in its affairs. With the Dean at its head, and an executive composed of men so enthusiastic as Mr. George Cartmel, the honorary secretary, and Mr. E. P. Debenham, the honorary treasurer, who, by the way, had made their names in the Art before many of the members knew how to pull a bell, the Hertfordshire Association is in no danger of decay.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomfeld Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfield Church Bells.
We consider that the work retlects great credit upon your $\begin{aligned} & \text { lrm, }\end{aligned}$ and baliave that your ayatem of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELIRINGERS are also unanimous in their praiss of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS, Vicar of BroomReld.

BISHOP UNVEILS PEAL BOARDS.

The Bishop of Derby visited Beeston on Monday week, and after conducting a confirmation service, ascended to the belfry and unveiled two peal boards. The proceedings were of a very informal character. Mr. F. S. Price at the outset asked the Bishop, on behalf of the ringer's, to unveil the peal boards. The first contained the records of the first local peals of Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major. These methods represented the high-water mark as regards Notts in the ringing world. The other board, which contains a record of a half-muffled peal of Stedman, rung on 3rd September, 1912, and which was Mr. Coppock's own handiwork, constituted a memorial to the late Mr. Robert Drinkwater, who for several years was a chorister at Beeston. A tribute was also paid to Mr. W. Clifford, senr., who, notwithsLanding his 60 years, participated in the peals. Both were conducted by A. Coppock.

The Bishop said it gave him very great pleasure to unveil the boards, and chatted interestingly concerning bells and belfries he had visited. Subsequently he signed the visitors' book, from which it appeared that on exactly the same date last year-March 17th-the Bishon of Southwell was in the belfry.

EDINBURGH CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

At the annual general meeting of the St. Mary's Cathedral Society, Edinburgh, hold in the belfry, the Very Rev. the Dean of Edinburgh presiding, it was reported that the attendance throughout the year was well up to the standard. Owing to the loss of some of the old members, none of the attempts for peals were successful. The latest loss was that of Mr. Whitson, who left in September to take up an appointment in New York.
The Dean thanked the ringers for their services, especially during the stormy weather experienced of late, and stated how much the bells were appreciated by invalids. One lady invalid looked forward every Sunday to hearing the bells, and has done so for the past two years while on her sick bed.
The following office bearers were appointed for the ensuing year: President, the Very Rev. Dean Skinner Wilson; vice-president, the Rev. Anselm Ashley; conductor, Mr. W. B. Sampson; secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. R. Robertson, 221, Morningside Road, Edinburgh; members of Council, Mr. James McCracken and Mr. John Whitson. Two new members were admitted to the Guild, viz., Mr. Jolin Stannard and Mr. Harry Russam.

MR. PRICE'S HANDBELL PEALS.

To the Fillitor.

Sir,-On jooking through Mr. Price's list of handbell peals in your last issue, I see he states that all tioe peals of Stedman Caters and Cinques had the turning course at the end, "thus enhancing the difficulty of the performance." Perhaps Mr. Price will be good enough to enlighten us on the subject. I may say I have called over 150 different compositions of Stedman Caters and Cinques on almost every known plan, several of which had three turning courses, and I certainly fail to see where the difficulty of the performance is enhanced by leaving the turning course till last. I consider such a statement is decidedly unfair, and I do not think he need have tried to under-rate the value of other ringers' performances.
W. PYE.

LIVERPOOL DIOCESAN GUILD.

On Saturday week, a meeting of the Liverpool Diocesan Guild was held at St. Nicholas' Church. Liverpool, when upwards of 50 members attended from various parts of the Diocese. In the afternoon, a company of the members, through the instrumentality of Mr. J. Martin, were allowed to inspect the steamship Mauretania prior to her salling to America. Afterwards, a cold collation was partaken of, and the business meeting held, over which the renerable archdeacon presided. He gave the Guild a cordial invitation for the annual meeting to be held at Wralton-on-the-Hill, on Jume 7th. Canon Howson also kindly invited the Guild to meet at Toolton whilst its fine trees were in foliage.-The Rev. W. T. Bulpit, the Guila master, moved the grateful acceptance of these invitations, and propssed the Rector of Liverpool as a life member of the Guild.-Mr. W. Bentham seconded, and it was carried with applause. Several other new members were elected.- A rote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to Mr. W. Davies for having everything in readiness, and for the excellent " go"; of the bells, terminated a most successful meeting.

PLYMOUTH.-On Feb. 26th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, at Emmanuel Church, arranged for Lir. C. Jolnnston, of Croydon: E. IV. Marsh (conductor) 1, W. H. Marsh 2, F. Hockaday 3, G. Johnston 4, W. Richards 5, G. H. Myers 6, W. Ford 7. G. Kerswell 8.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

There was a gathering of nearly a hundred, almost a record attendance, at the annual festival of the Hertford County Association of Change Ringers, which took place as usual at St. Albans on Easter Monday. During the morning and afternoon, ringing in various standard methods took place in the belfries of the churches of the city, and at four o'clock, evensong was sung with the choir of the cathedral, the clergy officiating being the Dean of St. Albans, Canons Lord William Gascoyne Cecil, G. F. P. Glossop and T. L. Papillon, and the Rev. E. H. Evans.

The preacher was Canon Lord William Cecil, who gave an entertaining and instructive discourse of bell ringing from the time when towers, containing a single bell, were erected for purposes of warming and defence in troublous times. From the moment the tower was joined to the church, according to the more modern principles of architecture, it clearly had no further defensive value, To-day, the architecture of our churches, including the bells, was to remind people of higher things. The bells of our churches were intended to preach a sermon to the whole of the parish for which they served, and their message was carried further than it could be carried by any human tongue. The ringers. therefore, were doing a very important and a very serious part of the Church's mork, and this was a fact they should take care to remember. It was an old story, and, he hoped, an untrue one to-day, that bell ringing and the publichouse were very closely connected. Bell ringers should be examples of Christian life; they should remember that they touched holy things, and that they themselves, therefore, should be holy. A good band of ringers was a sentre of good fellowship and of church feeling, and should be a centre of holy life.

THE BUSINESS MEETING.

At the annual meeting, which took place after tea served in the Abbey Institute, under the presidency of the Dean of St. Albans, who, on behalf of the President (the Kev. A. G. Langdon), who was unavoidably absent, extended a hearty welcome to all preseut, observing that the gathering was almost a record

The Honorary Treasurer (Mr. E. P. Debenham) presented the balance sheet, which showed that the year opened wath a balance in hand of $£ 90$ 0s. 6ci. The subscriptions from ringing members amounted to $£ 1416$ s., and those from the honorary members to $£ 410 \mathrm{~s}$. making a total income of $£ 2810 \mathrm{~s}$., while the balance at the close of the year was £3 13s. 31.-The Hon. Treasurer. announced, amidst applause, that the reserve fund now stood at £20 6s. 5cl.
The balance sheet was adopted, on the motion of Canon Papillon, who spoke of the advance of bell ringing in Hertfordshire, and said he was glad they now had at St. Albans Cathedral a band who could ring Superiative.

In the annual repori, Mr. Cartmel remarked: It is a pleasing duty to present to you the ammal report, which, as regards the quality and variety of peals rung, are second to none in the annals of the Association. The year commenced with the record peal of Bristol Surprise at Knebworth, consisting of 12,160 changes, and although this record has since been surpassed by another band, in which Hertfordshire members figured prominently, yet the Knebworth peal stands as the third longest length of Surprise ever rung. We congratulate the band and its conductor, Mr. G. N. Price, upon their accomplishment. Death has removed from our list of hon. members the Rev. W. D. A. Dudley, Vicar of St. Stephen's, St. Albans. and Mr. C. Castle, an active ringing member of the Baldock band. Mr. James Pettit, a member for many years, and one who rendered much service to change ringing in Hertfordshire has also received this home call. The committee met at St. Albans on February 15th, when the following recommendations were made for the members' consideration:-

1. That peals rung on Easter Monday, and officially notified to the hon. secretary prerious to the annual business meeting, be included in the current year's report. It was pointed out by the chairman that this resolution was simply an instruction, and not a rule.
2. With the object of giving publicity to false compositions, and also for the assistance of conductors, it was recommended that the figures of compositions rung should be inserted in the repost under the peal recorded. The composition should be forwarded to the hon. secretary as soon as possible after the peal has been rung: but when the composition has already appeared in the report, it will only be necessary when it is published in the ringing papers to state in a foolnote that the composition is the same as peal No. so-and-so. In future, all peals in the report will be numbered consecutively, as in peal book.
3. Attention was also drawn to the facilities for instructing young bands, and it was pointed out that at the last, annual meeting the scheme was outlined in the secretarjal report, and accepted. Your committee would be prepared to consider any claims for assistance that were submitted to them, and to pay the travelling expenses of a competent instructor for a series of lessons, on the understanding that if not already members of the Association they would be willing to
A discussion also ensued upon the question of encouraging Sunday service linging, by the allocation of points; but opinions were not unanimous. As the subject will again come before the committee for further consideration, I was instructed to mention the matter, in the hope of securing an expression of opinion from the meeting

THE YEAR'S DOINGS.
The Assuciation welcomed the formation of a new band at Thing. May success attend their efforts in mastering the intricacies of change ringing. The Cheshunt band, under the tuition of our enthusiastic friend Mr. Rowe, has gone ahead, and there is every piospect of a local peal being soon scored. The Cathedral Society, under the able guidance of Mr. Whitbread, has made marked progress, and are now going strong in Superlative and the Standard Methods. Bushey and Oxhey claim premier honours in their accomplishments. Long may these banus continue to flourish, and may others strive to emulate their successes. The Barley band deserve praise for their peal in seven methods, and Mr. J. Walyan is to be complimented upon his success in conducting three Minor peals.
During the year, 65 paals have been rung, 41 have been rung upon tower bells, and 14 on handbells; 13C members have taken part in Association peals during the year, ano the peals have been rung in 27 church steeples, with 24 different corductors. The time ocenpied in ringing was 194 hrs. 51 mins, the services of 449 ringers being requisitioned. Many have scored their first peal, whilst others have obtained their fiest in higher methods. The list comprises: 7 Bristol Surprise, 5 Superlative Surprise, 1 New Cumberland Surprise (first in tho county by the Association, and all the bandi), 1 London Surprise, 2 Double Norwich, 6 Kent Treble Bob Major, 1 Oxford Treble Bob Major, 1 Bob Major, 8 Stedman Triples 5 Grandsirc Triples, 11 peals of Minor on 6 bells, 3 peals on five bells; total, 51 . Upon handbells: 6 Stedman Cinques, 3 Stedman Catsrs, 3 Stedman Triples, 1 Bob Major; 1 Grandsire Caters, total 14.
I trust that this standard of excellence will he fully maintained during the year 1913-14. We congratulate Mr. Price and his band upon their splendid handbell performances; they have succeeded in ringing the first peal of twolve in the county and by the Association, their first peal of Stedman Cinques being rung at the first attempt.
The Northern District Secretary reports the holding of five meetings during the year, at Great Wymondley, Knebworth, Gravely, Hitchin, and Baldock. The attendance has shown a little improvement, but the six-bell meetings are still only poorly attended. A greater variety of methods is now attempled at meetings, but there remains too much variety in the striking. It is with regret that I have to announce the retirement of the Rev. Tyrwhitt Drake from his post as secretary for this district, but having moved into the adjoining county of Beds, he rightly thinks that someone in closer connection should hold the reins. For two years he has rendered excellent service, and we heartily thank him for his labours. I am glad to report that another volunteer for the post has come forward, and you will be asked to day to confirm his appointment. I appeal to the ringers of the Northern District to rally round their new leader, and to do their level best to cause his new duties to be pleasant and successful.

The Eastern Secretary reports progress in his division, and thinks that the work and usefulness of the Association increases.
The Secretary for the Western Division has little to report as regards meetings, only ons having been arranged. Mr. Eden says: "I should like to see a little more enthusiasm in our district meetings, as I am sure more would attend if the members were aware of the pleasure derived from thes? gatherings." The Ifon. Secretary added that he was in full accord with the expression of Mr. Eden, and would emphasise the importance of district meetings to the younger members especially, as it is at these gatherings where the first touch in a new method is often oblained.-Thanks were acco:ded to Mr. Eden for contimuing to enter up the peals in the neal bcok; to Mr. R. A. Kirby, the librarian; the district hon. secs. for their zealous labours; the incumbents of churches for the use of the bells, and the hon. members for their financial assistance. In conclusion, the report called attention to the importance of the ringers' office, and emphasised the spirit in which all ringers should work.-.The report was adopted.

DEAN OF ST. ALBANS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Mr. E. P. Debenham moved the election of the Dean of St. Albane as president of the Association for the ensuing year, observing that the Association, which had been in existence since October 29th, 1884, was started at the Deanery under the presidency of the Dean, who had taken a reen and active interest in the organisation ever since, and for a great many years had preached at their annual festival and had presiled over their annual meeting year after year
Mr. Kentish (Fatfield) seconded the motion, which was carried unanimonsly
The Dean of St. Albans, when acknowledging his eloction, said the Association had well justified the hopes expressed for its futuro whon it was formed at his housc. Nothing could have been more satisfactory than what they nad heard from the hon. secretary's report. "I am not a bell ringer. in the technical sense of the word," proceeded the Dean, "but it is true I have rung a great many belles in my time; but they are neither so large as your bells, nor do I ever strike them (laughter). In fact, I endeavour as far as I can, to sce that they shall act as harmoniously as may be in the life which I have just started them upon. That method of ringing is entirely different from what you take up. It requires sometimes a certain amount of skill, and sometimes a certain amount of patience, brut still I do not attempt to vie with you, and I feel it is an additional honour you have paid me in asking me to occupy the chair as your president (applause).
Mr. E. P. Debenham was re-elected hon. treasurer; Mr. G. W. Cartmel as hon. secretary; and Mr. B. Prewett as hon. auditor; and the proceedings terminated with votes of thanks to Canon Lnord William Cecil for his sermon, and to the Rectors and. Vicars of St. Albans for the use of their belfries.
The following were elected ringing members: The Rev. E. W. G Kemp, Dr. Fisher, and Messrs. A. Hill, A. H. Walker (Kings Langley), Messrs. T. Castle and H. J. Thompson (Baldock), T. Quick and H. E. Whitbread (St. Albans Oathedral), Messrs. G. Pratt and G. Johnson (St. Stephen's, St. Albans), Mr. W. Jeff's (St. Michael's, St. Albans), Mr. Benjamin Patmore (Great Munden), Mr. Thos. Newman (Hoddesdon), Mr. W. K. North (Branthing), Mr. A. Day (Harpenden), Mr. R. Roffey and Mr. Burlington (Barnet), the Rev. C. B. Saw and Messrs. FI. G. Blackbourne and FI. Prior (Cheshunt), and Mrs. Sarah Johnson (Edmonton).

THE LATE PRESIDENT OF THE SALISBURY GUILD.

AN APPRECIATION.

When the Salisbury Guild was founded in 1882, the late Earl Nelson was invited to accept the presidency. It was a happy day for the Guild that he consented, for very beneficial has been his occupancy of the chief office for over thirty years. His regular attendauce at committec meetings and the yearly festivals clearly indicated the real interest he took in the Guild. His addresses-they were more like friendly talks-to his ringers on the occasion of the festivals wera so full of encouragement, sympathy and sanctified common sense, that he readily wou the esteem of his hearers; and as years rolled by, recognis ing the great personal worth of our president, we learned to love him. The enthusiasm with which his health was drunk and the spontaneity of tho outburst, " for he's a jolly good fellow," testified to the deep affcction that lay berreath all this. When in 1900 the scheme for dividing the territory of the Guild into four branches was being developed. having satisfied himself that it, would not impair the unity of the Guild, he gave it his thorough support. Hitherto there had been but one or two meetinge of the Guild a year, after the formation of the branches there would be no less than sixteen, with the anticipated result of increased membership, better change ringing. It gave the late pro sident great pleasure to mark all this progress gradually taking place. His loss to the Guild is great, but be will live in the affection of those who knew him. May it be that his excellent and beneficent rule will be an inspiration to his successor in the presidency of the Guild.

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The members of the Wotton-under-Edge and District Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association held their monthly meeting at Tytherington on Mareh 15th. Tytherington possesses only five bells, but having been recently rehung, the bells are in capital going order. About twertly attended the meeting, representing Dursley, Thornburv, Wotton-under-Edge, and Wickwar, while the local ringers were weli represented. Several six-scores were rung during the afternoon, including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and St. Simon's. - The tea and meeting were held at the Swan Hotel, the Vicar (the Rer. H. H. Arkell) presiding.- It was decided to hold the next meeting at Chipping Sodbury on April 12th.-The Secretary (Mr. T. Oakhill) made an appeal to the members present to attend the annual meeting, which was to bo lrit at Chippenham on April 19th.-Three new members were elected, wa from Thornbury and two from Tytherington.-The Vicar was, on the proposition of Mr. F. K. Howell, unanimously elected as an honorary member.
Mr. Iowell proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding at the meeting, and for granting them the use of the bells. He said they were always pleased to see the clergy amongst them at these meetings. It showed they were taking more interest in the ringing. He claimed that they, as ringers, started the services of the church, and held no mean place as church officers. He was glad to welcome tho Vicar as an hon. member of the Association
The Vicar, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, said he was very pleased to weicome them to Tytherington. He always recognised the ringers as a body of Churchmen who held a great privilege. They gase the call to worship in such a way that everyone in the parish conld hear them, and the service which followed was a coutinuation of what the rimgers themselves had started. The office of ringer was a holy office, and he felt sure there would be a great reward awaiting those who carried out their duties with a true and high motive. He thanked them for electing him as an honorary member.

The ringers afterwards visited the tower, where several 120 's in arious methous were rung

BELLS FOR THE BLIND.

OPENING OF A NEW PEAL AT WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS.
On the bank of the Charles River, in Watertown, a suburb of Boston, Massachusetts, a majestic Gothic tower dominates a colony of low buildings, whioh form the new home of the Perkin's Institution for the Blind. In this tower, designed with especial reference to the requirements of bells and bell ringers, has been recently hung a ring of eight bells, the gift of Mrs. A. O. Wheelwright, in memory of her husband. This peal, cast at tho Whitechapel Foundry, London, by the well-known firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have a tenor of 22 cwts., in E. The honour of opening these bells on March 8th was assigned to the band of Groton School, reinforced by four members of the College Youths. Mr. Dan F. Gibbons (of London) officiated as conductor. Of our local band, reduced at present to a skeleton, some had had the opportunity of acquiring only the elements of the Art. It was thought, therefore, safer to limit the method ringing to Grandsire Doubles, with dorging in 6-7; 'uut inasmuch as a regular rhythm was maintained, the performance was certainly satisfactory, judged by tho manifestations of pleasure upon the part of the officials and pupils, as well as visitors coming from far and wide; for, if the composition was not apprehended, there was at least an appreciation of the meriy sound of well-attuned bells propelling their aerial music throughout a circuit of many miles.

Like the peal recently installed in the Hingham Memorial tower, these bells ⿹iffer in important respects from our American chimes. the most striking characteristic to the average listener being the result of the heavier weight of metal employed by English founders in the trebles, the effect being that their volume of sound, sweetness and carrying power is correspondingly increased, while they are not ovelpowered by the tenors. Visitors (not blind) who ventured to mount the belfry while the bells were swinging, were impressed with the stability of the cage and the superior character of the hangings and other appurtenances necessary to ensure accurate control of the bell. It is to be noted that each well-ordered set of bells introduced to a community serves as an educational object lesson, for the discerning public aro then no longer satisfied to accept inferior productions. Indeed, tho demand for those blatant, abominations called tubular bells has already practically ceased.

It is a physiological law that when one of the senses becomes impaired, or lost, those remaining are apt to be intensified; and, to the ringers, it was a novel sight to witness the enthusiastic excitement manifested by the blind pupils, who were conducted to the capacious ringing chamber. They conceived the notion that the strength of giants was requisite to impart such rapid motion to instruments of weight, and nothing could exceed the delight of one of these unfortunates upon discovering how easily, and at first attempt, he could draw off the tenor when poised moutl upward at back stroke.

Some pupils who have retained partial vision are confident of their ability under competent tuition to acquire proficiency in scientific ringing, so as to be enabled ultimately to assume exclusive management of the bells. Meanwhile it is planned to have attached to the tower a band of qualified ringers who may act in the capacity of instructors; and to those who have acquired a trade and can furnish recommendations, facilities will be extended for securing employment.
We are called upon again this present month to assist at the reopening of the historic peal of Christ Church, the first ring of bells exported from England. When shipping these bells from Bristol in 1745, Abel Rudhall wrote in a letter still preserved: "I have sent you a good ring of bells, and hope your will get ringers to have them well rung." At this late date, or at the expiration of one hundred and sixty-eight years, there is a fair prespect flat, with the help of recruits from England, Rudhall's wish may at length be gratified.
55, Mount Vernon Street, Boston, U.S.A. A. H. NICHOLS, M.D.

Mr. Richard Newton, who has had such a long and honourable career with the Manchester Police Force, is among the first to take advantage of the invitation, extended by Dr. Nichols through our columns, to English ringers to go to the district of Boston. He leaves the police force on April 15th, and sails by tine SS. Franconia from Liverpool on April 29th. If any other ringers should be going out about that time they should communicate with Mr. Newton, at 11, Eva Street, Rusholme, Manchester, so that if possible, they may travel together. Ringers throughout the country will wish Mr. Newton every success in his new sphere.

GUILDFORD'S PEAL OF TEN.

On Easter Day, the bells of St. Nicolas', Guildford, Surrey, were again heard, after having been completely overhauled by Messrs. Taylor and Sons, of Loughborough. The tenors have been rehung with new fittings, wheels, etc., and the other eight bells fitied with new bearings and gudgeons. On Easter Monday, a peal of Bob Major was Tung on the back eight, and after the neal the ringers expressed themselves as highly pleased with the "go" of the bells, great credit being due to the bell-hangers for the excellent job they have made of them. Thanks are due to Mr. Jamos Hunt for coming down from Iondon to assist, and to Mr. C. Willshire, who so kindly obliged by taking a rope at the last moment, owing to Mr. T. Radford being indisposed.

LEICESTER CHURCHES.

THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT LEICESTER.

Leicester was the headquarters for 1913 of the M.C.A., and the Easter meeting was held there on Monday. The town possesses two peals of ten, and three of eight, which are in ringing order, and they were all made good use of from about 11 a.m. An unexpectedly fine day brought a large number of members together, 109 being present at the IHigh Cross Cafe.-The President, Sir Arthur Heywood, was in the chair, and was supported by the Rev. F. R. C. Payne, Vicar of St. Margaret's Church; the Rev. R. P. Farrow, Messns. W. C. Wakley, treasurer ; W. E. White, secretary; W. W. Worthington, E. D. Taylor, and others. Mr. J. W. Taylor, vice-president, was abroad, and, therefore, could not be present.-The Hon. Treasurer presented the balance sheet, and in proposing its adoption, Mr. C. Draper deplored the small number of reports sold, and also the amount of subscriptions outstand-ing.-Mr. E. D. Taylor seconded, and the accounts were passed.
The Chairman, in reviewing the peals of the year 1912, congratulated Miss Sanders, of Burton-on-Trent, on being the first lady to ring a handbell peal for the Association. The peals for the year reached the record number, for the Association, of 172. While rejoicing that peal ringing had reached to such a height in the Midlands, Sir Arthur was yet rominded of a subject broached by Mr. Dawe at the Johnson Memorial Dinner at Birmingham, In Mr. Dawe's opinion, the time was coming when there would be a rise on the purt of the brain workers against peal ringing. He (the President) had often pointed out that whereas in the older days peal ringing was immensely popular in the country with outsiders as well as performers, to-day there was a much larger body of brain workers than in former times. In the country the sound of peals was appreciated, but with head workers it was much the reverse. They had to bear in mind the strong animadversions that had been cast upon ringing as disturbing the public peace. Judges had made strong objections to ringing because of the disturbance to their courts. That opposilion to ringing, although it might not be very much in evidence at the present time, still was making headway. In these days, when it did not seem difficuld to get any sort of Bill through Parliament, it was quite possible to put an end to peal ringing. The subject was worth the members' serious consideration.

QUALITY RATHER THAN QUANTITY.

The President went on: We have hitherto prided ourselves upon the largo number of peals we have rung. The question seems to be rather, whether we ought not to go in for quality rather than quantity. There are two courses of procedure we may take. Either we may go on and ring as many peals as we please, or we may take the more cautious course of trying to ring quality instead of quantity. In the first event, peal ringing may be done away with altogether. I leave the matter to your attention, and it is well worth it. I really do think that it is extromely important that we should be careful not to be selfish in the matter. We ring peals to please ourselves. It is to a great extent a delusion that we ring for the benefit of the public. We do not, I often think, ring enough for the public. In some towers the Sunday ringing is not so good or so frequent as it ought to be. And there is a limit to peal ringing. A really good peal with a really good band is much better than several indifferent peals. We ought to guard against ringing peals for the sake of ringing, and with no particular object. Don't put peal ringing on one side, but make the peals you do ring thoroughly worihy, and take care you are not doing an unkind thing to residents in the neighbourhood. Sir Arthur Heywood also pointed out that clergymen were often put into a difficult position by applications for permission to ring peals in populous neighbourhoods. Another thing he wanted to mention was that the Rector of Birmingham had told the gentleme, present ak the Johnson Dinner of his band (the St. Martin's Guild) joining, en masse, the C.E.M.S., and how he had received them all into the Society at a special service. Now, ringers were a very respectable set of fellows, and that respectability was due more to themselves than to any influence brought to bear by the Church. All the same, they were Church officers, and yet he was bound to say they were shocking bad Church-goers, as a body. If there was one thing that would really help forward the interests of ringers, it was that they should really make themselves members of the Church of England, and do their very best for a church which needed all their support (apolause).

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Mr. Sherclift thanked the retiring officers for their services in the past year, and proposed they should be re-clected.-This was seconded by Mr. A. P. Wakley, and carried with applause. The President, Hon. Treasurer, and Hon. Secretary acknowledged the vote

A vote of thanks to the auditors (Messurs. C. Draper and E. D. Taylor) was ably proposed by Mr W. Fox, and seconded by Mr. J. H. Swin-field.-The auditors briefly replied.
The thanks of the Association to the clergy were voiced by the Rev. R. P. Farrow, who agreed with the words of the President with regard to attendance at church. admitting at the same time that the clergy in some places neglected the ringers.-Mr. W. W. Worthington seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously, and the Rev. F. R. C. Payns replied.

Mr. W. E. White thanked the Laicester ringers for the excellent arrangements made for the moeting and tea.-This was seconded by Mr. Bartram, and carriod.-One hon. member and 26 ringing members were admitted.
The quarterly mectings for the ensuing year wore fixed for Oakham, Southwell and Long Eaton.-Mr. J. S. Needham proposed a vote of thanks to the President for taking the charr, to which Sir Arthur replied.-This ended the business.

Some very good ringing was done during the day, including the first two courses of Bristol Surprise in Leicester, which were rung on St. John's bells. The other methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London Major.

A smoking concert was held in the evening, the only fault of which was that it was too well attended. The presence of the Misses Willson, Miss Sanaers, and other ladies, added much to the success of the meeting, Miss Willson acting as accompanist to the songs, and Miss Sanders taking part in the handbell ringing. A touch of Double Norwich, called by Mr. A. R. Aldham, was tapped on the piano by Mr. A. P. Wakley.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES HOUNSLOW.

The Exercise will hear with deep regret of the death of Mr. Charles Hounslow, of Oxford, who has passed away at the advanced age of 81 years. For over 50 years he took an active part in change ringing in Oxford and the surrounding district. It was largely owing to his influence that change ringing continued to flourish in Oxford through the period preceding the formation of the Oxford Guild. But for a few enthusiasts in the art, of whom Charles Hounslow was the leading spirit, it must have died out.
The funeral took place on Wednesday week at the SS. Mary and John Churchyard, in the presence of a large gathering of sympathetic followers. The Rev. C. Jenkyn, Master of the Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers, officiated at the graveside, and folluwiny, the funeral service, Messrs. Freeborn, A. Fox, T. Payne, of Oxford, and F. Hopwood, and J. E. Heard, of leading, rang in an impressive manner a course of Stedman Triples on the handbells over the grave. There were numerous wreaths and floral tributes.
Amongst those present were Councillor Symonds, Messrs. F. Newell (Reading), G. Holifield, junr. and senr. (Appleton), F. Castle, T. A. Strange (steward), W. Jeffrey, A. Fox, C. Flester. G. A. King, V. Bennett (secretary), J. Howes, F Webb, J. Wakelin, E. A. Rivers, and F. Smith.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

The Vicar and churchwardens acknowledge with many thanks the following further contributions towards the cost of recasting the tenor, A friend, £2 2s.; A. V. G. W., £1; A. C. ## ODD CHANGES.

On Easter Sunday, Messrs. F. S. Downing (Birmingham) and H. G. Aston (Peterborough) were each presented with a gold scarf pin, suitably engraved, by the members of the Coalbrookdale band, to which they formally belonged. The Rev. C. B. Crowe made the presentation.

Peals of 6000 and odd changes are not taken so much notice of in these days as once was the case, but it is noteworthy that we record this week the longest length of Stedman Cinques yet rung on handbells. This was a 6063 rung by the Middlesex Association last Saturday.

Another peal of more than passing interest is the 7325 Grandsire Cinques rung at Painswick. on Monday. It is the longest length on the bells since 1858 . Painswick has been the scene of many noteworthy nerformances, and it was there that the record length of Treble Twelve was rung, and which stood for many years until beaten in igII at Ashton-under-Lyne.

TO THE WEST.

On Sunday week, a 720 of Grandsire Doubles was rung for evening service at Charing Church by: H. Willard 1, O. F. Good 2, O. L. Prior 3, W. C. Gqod 4. II. E. Good (conductor) 5, J. Colbreay 6. An attempt for a peal of 5040 had to be abandoned owing to the indisposition of one of the band. This was arranged as a farewell peal to Mr. C. F. Good, who has since left for Canada. On Tuesday, the 18th inst., he was the recipient of two valuable purse belts, subseribed for by the Charing ringers.--The Vicar (the Rev. D. R. Fotheringham), in making the presentation, said that he doped for the day when the peal of six at Charing would be increased to eight.-The rirgers afterwards adjourned to the King's Head Hotel, where the remainder of the evening was spent in harmony. the following contributing to the programme: Messrs. J. Colbreay, C. L. Prior, W. and H. E. Good and T. Ifield, junr., with Mrs. Walker at the piano.
The Charing band are about to start on Bob Minor, and if any gentlemen in the district would volunteer to assist they would be heartily welcomed on Tuesday evenings at 7.30 , or any other evenings by arrangement.

RINGING AT ABERDEEN.  To the Editor.

Dear $\mathrm{Sir},-\mathrm{I}$ observe in your issue of the 21st inst. reference to ringinge ati the Catnedral in Inverness. I beg to state that our band have risited Inverness several times, the last occasion being about two years ago, and had a touch or two on the bells. There is a local band of ringers, but not having an instructor well up in change ringing, they have not had much chance. But if your correspondent, Mr. Bernard, would write to Mr. MreEnvoy, secretary, at Inverness Cathedral, I hare Yours foith fully, Socretary, St. Mary's Cathedral Society, Edinburgh.
ILLUMINATED ADDRESSES, PEAL CARDS AND ALBUMS artistically executed.-A. S. Beer, $6_{3}$, Devonshire Avenue, Southsea.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Rochester district was held ati Tunstall on Saturday week, members being present from Rochester, Chatham, Gillingham, Upchurch, Queenboro', Eastchurch, Sittingbourne, Rodmersham and Tunstall in the Rochester District, and Charing in the Ashford District.-A short service was held, the Rector (the Rev. ## A MACCLESFIELD PEAL COMMEMORATED.

A peal board has been unveiled at Macclesfield recording the first peal rung on the bells of Christ Church. Mr. Stanway, who requested the Vicar to perform the ceremony, spoke in eulogistic terms of the work of Mr. Stoneley as instructor. Up to the time that he was engaged in June, 1911, little or no change ringing had been done on the bellş by Christ Church ringers. By the end of the year, however, they were able to ring 120 Grandsire Doubles, and on February 25th, 1912, they rang their first 720 of Minor. On June 8th they rang their first 5040 , and to commemorate that event his brother and himself desired to give the board, which was of solid oak and written in gold. He also asked the Vicar and church officials to accept a photograph of the members of the Chester Diocesan Guild, which was taken to commemorate its 25 th anniversary. -The Vicar accepted with thanks both tiae peal board and the photograph, and then unveiled the former. -In according thanks to the donors of the peal board, a tribute was paid to the progress of the ringers at Christ Church. and the proceedings terminated with 120 Grandsire Doubles rung, by: E. Greenwood 1, F. Stoneley 2, F. Hirst 3, S. Stanway 4, W. H. Wheelton 5n ©. E. Galleymore 6.

WULFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON
MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, OROYDON. 4th March, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-oasting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two now ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, reoently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BECK,

Architect, Diocesan Survejor.

MODERN

WORK.

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC.

When a subject becomes one for general discussion it may fairly be anticipated that some good may result. This we hope will be the outcome of the publicity which is now being given to the matter of excessive peal ringing in populous areas. The matter has been debated before, but it is one which it is well not to lose sight of, and it is given the more prominence at this moment by the lead which Sir Arthur Heywood, the President of the Central Council, is taking. He admits that in thickly populated districts the overdoing of peal ringing is a real danger to the Exercise. Sir Arthur has emphasised the point in speeches both at Birmingham and Leicester recently, and, coming from one in his position, the warning must carry weight. Mr. Arthur King, presiding at the meeting of the Middlesex Association on Saturday, also touched on the same matter. He ably championed the cause of the peal ringer, and, in reply to the advice that is always so readily given that ringers should show consideration for others, he pointed out that ringers are ever considerate, for they would always willingly forego their practice when appealed to in case of illness near a church.
With that view everyone will be in agreement. No ringer would for a moment desire to pursue his pleasure, at the expense of a fellow creature on a bed of sickness, but we think Sir Arthur Heywood's comments are designed to touch a wider state of affairs than this. There are towers -we need not go out of London to find them-where a great deal of ringing goes on. At one, for instance, three peals were recently rung within the space of about a month, and that in the heart of the great city. For our part we do not in the least lay blame upon anyone. The ringers belonged to different associations. Each in turn had applied for the bells, and, having been granted the use of them, naturally made the most of the opportunity.

But all this does not alter the fact that in such districts there grows up among an unappreciative public an opposition to the bells which it is difficult to allay, and while the real objectors may now be small in numbers, they might not find it difficult to win over to their opinion many others who are at present indifferent, and thus, perhaps, raise such a very considerable opposition that church authorities would feel bound to take notice of it. Sir Arthur Heywood's desire is to counsel moderation, before things have the opportunity of reaching this undesirable pass, and those who have the best interest of the Exercise at heart will agree with him, as they also will with Mr. King when he emphasises the need for judgment and tact, and the importance of give and take in these matters. Where there is genuine reason for complaint let it be met by ringers in a spirit of goodwill, and all will be well.

MODERN WORK.

Broomfield Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that we are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to gau of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.
We consider that the work re. flests great credit upon your firm, and bolieve that your systern of eanging the bells reduces the vibrs. tion of the sleal frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHES. EDMUNDS, Vicar of Broomfield.

A SPILL ON THE ROAD.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS SECRETARY IN A MOTOR SMASH
While returning from London, on Thesday of last week, Mr. Fred Wifford, the popular hon. secretary of the Central Northants Association, and Mrs. Wilford, met with a serions accident. Mr. Wilford was driving his motor cycle, and Mrs. Wilford occupied the side car. When near Dunstable, a motor-car coming out a side road, collided with them. The cycle and side car were smashed, and Mrs. Wilford was thrown out heavily. She sustained slight concussion and shock, and received a cut over nne eye. Mr. Wilford suffered badly skinned knees ar:d bruises, as well as shicck. Both were detained at Dunstable until lact Friday, when they were removed to their home, at 149, Ashburnhatm Road, Northampton. Mr. Wilford hopes soon to be about again, but Mrs. Wilford is still very ill. Ringers throughout the country will svmpathiss with them in their accident, and wish them both a speedy recovery.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.

On Easter Monday the Surrey Association held a quarterly meeting at Lpsom. The 40 members, who took advantage of using the two eight-bell rings of St. Martin and Christ Church, which the Vicars and. churchwardens kindly placed at their disposal, were well rewarded, the "'go" of the latter, a light ring, being much appreciated, though both towers have been the scene of many peals scored to the credit of the Association.
Possibly a dread of Epsom "Salts" (or a wholesome fear of "the Turf ?'י') rendered the meeting an unusually small one; but those who were absent, missed much, for the visitors had, what to this Association is a rarity, the privilege of being addressed by a "ringing Parson." the Rev. W. D. Bainbzidge-Bell; and his quiet carnest words of encouragement in the ringers' office as "preachers," with his reasoned adjuration to practice what they preached, had the "ring" about it of sincerity and sanctified common sense, and came with weight from one who in his earlicr ycars had done yeoman service in the cause at Mitcheldever.
The reverend gentleman subsequently conducted the business meeting, which followed the tea, and his courteous yet firm and impartial chairmanship were warmly appreciated, as was evidenced by the plaudits. which accompanied the vote of thanks.
The cash account showing a decided increase to the balance in hand, owing largely to economy in the matter of teas, was read and adopted, together with the committee's report on the year 1912, in which the following points were noted: The creation of the office of Master and the popular installation therein of Dr. A. B. Carpenter. The formation of the Southern District with its accertion of 53 members. The election of 27 other new members, making the total membership 306, as against 333 in 1911. The ringing of 36 peals as against 20 in 1911, with congratulations to Messrs. J. A. Lambert and J. Hoyle on their 100 peals each for the Association. The institution of monthly combined practices. The labour expended br Mr. Beams me the unique and beautifully kept record of the Association peals. The urging of a fuller attendance at the corporate services before the quarterly meetings -and a plea for a good understanding betweci cach incumbent and his ringers-as well as for goodl feeling and fellowship amongst the ringers. Votes of thanks were unanimously carried to the Vicars, churchwardens, and steeple keepers, of the two churches, and to the organist of St. Martin's, for their resnective good offices bestowed on behalf of the Association in this branch of the work of "Christ's church militant here in earth."

A RINGER'S WEDDING.

An interesting wedding took place on Easter Monday at the quaint little willage Church of Blackrod (Lancs); between Mr. John B. Green haigh, a member of the Westhoughton Parisn Church band of ringers, and Miss Alice Hodkinson, of Blackrod, daughter of an old Blackrod ringer, and "mine host" of Ye Old Green Barn Inn. Here to celebrate the auspicious event an excellent repast was provided, followed by a musical evening. Ringing could not be indulged in to any extent, as the "go" of the bells is very far from pleasing, but a few touches of Grandsire and "firing" did honour to the occasion by the local and Westhoughton bands, including Messrs. H. Gerrard, G. Wise, A. Jones, W. Marsh, P. Crook (Bolton), J. Edwards, ete.

YEAR'S SUCCESSFUL PROGRESS.

The annual general meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association was held at Bury St. Edmunds, on Easter Monday when a good number of members and friends attended from Cambridge, Horringer, Lavenham, Rougham, Great Barton, Ely, Mildenhall, Long Stanton, Thetford, Newmarket, Henley, Ipswich, Fulbourn, Stowmarket, London, Royston, Ickleton, and the local ringers. Ringing started soon after 9 o'clock at Fornham St. Martin, where 720 of Kent was brought round. The peal of eight at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, were set going to Grandsire and Bob Major for an hour, after which ringing was transferred to the Norman Tower, till time for service, which was held in St. James' Church. The service was conducted by Rev. F. Morton (curate of St. James'), and the Rev. H. B. Woolley gave a short and interesting address. His text was taken from Psalm cl. v. 5, "Praise Him upon the well-tuned cymbals, Praise Him upon the loud cymbals." preacher remarked that the text formed a very appropriate invitation to the Association, eqpecially at the season of Easter. They had met to exercise an art. The bells which they rang were the products of a very high form of art, for the bell was a very complicated musical instrument. And as with the casting of the bell so with the ringing. Ringing was a progressive art. They had only to compare the ringing papers of today with those of years ago to see that the number of peals had enormously increased, higher methods were more generally tackled in their execution. All this was as it should be. It was not only natural, but it was right that ringers should wish to perfect themselves in their art as much as possible, and that to this end they should practice their art as much as possible. Moreover their art was an art of the church. It was inseparably connected with the church, and could not exist apart from it. Ringers as well as choristers were Churchmen and churchworkers, and they shared with them the privileges and the responsibilities of the position.

PUBLIC'S LACK OF SYMPATHY

Did it not appsar to them sometimes, however, that the public at large were sometimes rather lacking in sympathy with what he might call the higher phases of the art; that they were no more pleased when changes were rung than they would be at rounds or call changes, or anyhow, that they were no more appreciative of a touch or peal of London or Bristol that of Plain Bob or Grandsire. But would not this help them? They had a critic whom it was more worth their while to please than any others. One who had made bells and bell ringing a possibility-Who must have had these things in His mind when he created all things-and One, too, who was always present-present in every tower, at every practice, at the Sunday ringing, whenever a peal was started or brought round, Who noted all the care and patience and skill that was employed-an expert and a critic indeed. Surely it was an incentive to them to persevere with their art when they considered what satisfaction their efforts might give to Him, what honour their work, if done in the right spirit, might bring to God. "Laus Deo," this surely ought to be written large over all the work that was done in the belfiy. And let them never forget what was the first object of the church bell, to summon to the worship of God. And those bells that they rang called them, as well as others, to that worship. The Master of the Oxford Guild, in his report for the year 1912, had enumerated "some of our imperfections," which, though primarily intended for the members of that Guild, would apply equally to ringers in general. He said "there is in some quarters still too much justification for the reproach that we neglect the duty of worship." If that be so, let them see to it that as far as they themselves were concerned the reproach was entirely taken away. There was nothing so likely to alienate the sympathy of their fellow churohmen than for this to be said. On the other hand there was nothing which would commend their cause and their art to those who did not understand or practice it than the fact that they had a real love of their church, and were consistent in their duties as churohmen.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

The annual dinner and business meeting took place afterwards at the Suffoll Hotel, where a company, numbering 67, sat down to an excellent repast. The Rev. A. H. F. Boughey presided, and those present included the Rev. H. B. Woolley, the Rev. W. C. Pearson, and Measrs. T. R. Dennis (general secretary), P. Webb (district secretary), J. Taylor, E. Webb, A. Symonds, FI. A. Turner, F. C. Turner. S. H. Symonds, W. B. Kempton, W. Doran, F. Fitziohn, and others. Letters regretting inability to be present were read from the President (the Lord Bishop of Ely), Ven. Archdeacon Hodges, Rev. R. F. Wilson (Vicar of St. James'), and the Rev. T. Brocas Waters (Vicar of St. Mary's.).
It was unanimously decided to hold the next annual meeting at Cambridge on Easter Monday

THE REPORT.

The annual report and balance sheet were then read and adopted The report mentioned that during the past year the Isle of Ely Archdeaconry branch had made steady progress, and it was interesting and pleasing to note that Sutton and Wilburton had rejoined, and that they had a promise of Haddesham coming in this year. There were still many towers unaffiliated, such as March, Wisbech, Soham, etc., which it was hoped might be induced to join this year. The Archdeacomry of Ely branch remained in much the same condition, and did not visibly expand. It was regretted that Over and Whittlesford had dropped out, but it was hoped that this was only temporarily. They welcomed the old secretary, the Rev. H. B. Woolley, back to Association life, and trusted his stay would be long and successful. It was impossible to speak too highly of his excellent work at Long Stanton, where as the result of his efforts the church now possessed a splendid peal of eight bells. They condoled with him in the misfortune of the cracking of the tenor, and hoped he would soon be provided with a new bell. In the Sudbury Archdeaoonry branch progress had been very marked. The consummate skill which had been shown by the St. James Society, Bury St. Edmunds, and the Lavenham company, in ringing both handbell and tower bell peals, had greatly improved the position of the Association. They regretted that the late district secretary had removed from the diocese, and they tendered their heartiest thanks to him for his past services. The Rev. R. L. Gardner had succeeded him, and there was every reason to expect the district to thrive in his capable hands. The Hunts Archdeaconry branch had suffered a severe loss by the death of the Rev. J. M. Clarkson, district secretary and representative of the Association on the Central Councll. They desired to record their keen apprecation of his long and faithful service to the Association. The Archdeaconry, although small, contained come energetic members, and they commended Mr. C. D. Coleman and his band oin their plucky efforts to keep ringing alive in Hunts. The scarcity of tower bell practice was a great handicap to their progress, and if the fine peal of eight at St. Neots were rehung they would render a still better account of themselves. The report also mentioned that the financial position of the Association was very satisfactory, the balance in hand being $£ 16 \mathrm{gs}$. 6d., compared with $£ 124 \mathrm{~s}$. Id. last year. The hon. members contributed generously to the support of the Association, but there was a great lack of ringing members, the number of whom might well be doubled in the diocese. Fifty-eight peals were rung during 1912, of these 26 were on handbells, and 32 on tower bells. This splendid record was indeed a welcome change after the small number that were contributed in 1911, and was only three short of the record of 61 rung in 1903. In conclusion, the generous support and unselfish effort of every ringer in the diocese to do something to help the Association to maintain and increase its efficiency and usefulness was asked.

TREASURER'S RETIREMENT.

The following officers were then elected: General secretary, T. R. Dennis; treasurer, F. C. Turner; district secretaries, Sudbury district, the Rev. R. L. Gardner; Archdeaconry of Ely, P. Weblr; Isle of Ely, F. Rowlinson; Hunts, the Rev. H. B. Woolley; delegate to the Central Council for two years, T. R. Dennis; auditor, W. B. Kempton.-Before the election of the treasurer took place, the Chairman read a letter from the Rev. K. H. Smith, amouncing his intention to resign the treasurership owing to ill-health.-Regret was generally expressed at his retirement after so many years of activity in Association work.-The Chairman moved that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded him for his past services, which was carried with enthusiasm.
Ar alteration of Rule 9 was proposed by Mr. P. Webb, that three district meetings be held annually in each Archdeaconry instead of one as at present.-An amendment was proposed by Mr. H. A. Turner that the number be two, and on the amendment being put to the vote, it was carried by a large majority.
New members from Cavendish, Southwold, Halesworth, Slough, Lavenham, Monks Eleigh, Rougham, Little and Great Waldingfield, Hadleigh, Bury St. Edmunds, and Fulhourn. numbering 17, were elect-ed.-A vote of thanks to the Vicars of St. James' and St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, Rougham, Fornham St. Martin, and Great Barton, was carried unanimously.
At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. W. B. Kempton made a collection for the Long Stanton tenor, and the sum of 13 s . 1d. was handed over to the Rev. H. B. Woolley, who thanked the company for their generosity.
Ringing was carried on during the afternoon at the Norman tower, and St. Mary's. Touches of Grandsire Gaters and Kent Royal were rung at the former, and Grandsire, Bob Major, Kent, Double Norwich, and Stedman at St. Mary's.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at Leeds on Easter Monday. A peal of Stedman Caters was attempted in the morning, but, unfortunately, was lost half-way, but a peal of $\mathrm{Ox}-$ ford Treble Bob was rung at Shipley.-The business meeting was held at the Royal Oak Hotel, the President being in the chair, supported by members from Bolton, Holbeck, Hunslet, Headingley, Shipley, Mirfield, Pudsey, and Queensbury and the local company. After the election of officers, when Mr. F. Hopwood was appointed to succeed Mr. F. R. Cundale in the office of secretary, the balance sheet was read and passed.

A vote of thanks to the retiring officers was proposed by Mr. F. Woodhead, and seconded by Mr. W. Joyce.-The President replied, and put forward a new scheme for meetings for the coming year.- A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens, and the local company, was moved by Mr. J. Broadlev. seconded by Mr. H. Lindsay, and carried, Mr. F. Woodhead responding.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

MISS LILIAN WILLSON, OF LEICESTER.

Among the most talented, as well as one of the best known, of the lady ringers, who are now coming so prominently to the front in the Art, is Miss Lilian A. Willson, the eldest daughter of Mr. William Willson, of Leicester. Miss Willson was born on March 27 th, 1893 , and, therefore, reached her 2oth year a week ago yesterday. Coming of a ringing family, and having no brothers, before she entered her 'teens she frequently helped her father with the chiming apparatus at the church of St. John the Divine. At fourteen she was ringing the treble to Triples, and attempted her first peal-Major-on Boxing Day, 1908.

Miss Lifian A. Vilison.
Purhaps her father's promise of a cycle if she was successful was an incentive; anyway, the peal was rung at the first attempt, and she was ready for the cycle sooner than " W. W." anticipated!
During the next year Miss Willson rang four peals, and was an "inside man." Then followed Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples (called by Mr. Ernest Pye) and Double Norwich. Miss Willson has not many opportunities for peal ringing, her time being much occupied in the teaching of music. She holds the diploma of A.V.C.M. and the silver medal for highest possible points in pianoforte cxamination. In addition to ringing, she renders service by teaching in the Sunday School.
Up to date she has rung 22 peals, one of which was with the ladies' band. They comprise Grandsire Triples, seven Minor methods, Stedman, Bob Major, Double Norwich, and one (treble) to Superlative. One of the peals of Kent Treble Bob Major was conducted by her, but she does not aspire to bob calling. Miss Willson is one of the first members of the Ladies' Guild, and it has been her experience from the commencement of her career in the belfry to meet with the utmost courtesy from her brother ringers.

ODD CHANGES.

At last four peals have been rung in a day by the same band, and the honour falls to the six-bell men of the Kent Association. They accomplished this performance on Easter Monday, when four separate 5040's were rung, each in seven Minor methods. This is how they were rung :-

Time.

2 hrs. 38 mins.
2 hrs .36 mins.
2 hrs. 40 mins.
2 hrs. 35 mins.
Total time ... ro hrs. 29 mins.
Between the time of the first start and the finish of the last peal r 4 hrs. 35 mins. elapsed, out of which to hrs. 29 mins. were actually occupied in change ringing. This is the first time four peals have been rung by the same band in one day, but within the last year or so two other attempts have been made on eight bells. On each of these occasions two peals were rung.

This performance recalls an cpisode in Sussex about i4 years ago, when four ringers took part in five 5000 's, which were completed in less than 31 hours.

In aid of the "Bells Fund" for Shoreditch bells a lecture on church bells will be given next Saturday week at the Parish Room, Shoreditch, by Mr. H. J. Sudell, Master of St. Matthew's, Clapton, band. During an interral a selection on handbells will be given by the Spitalfields Foundry band. The lecture will commence at $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and the charges for admission are 1s., 6d. and 3 d .

There is a remarkable performance in our peal columns to-day, for we record a peal of Grandsire Triples in which Mr. Gosling, senr., of Mansfield, took part, at the great age of 86 , and we have it on good authority that he is " full of peal ringing yet." Apparently there is absolutely no age limit to peal ringing. At any rate Mr. Gosling is as keen on it as any youngster.

On Tuesday week he was in an attempt for a peal of Stedman at Loughborough, which failed past half way through no fault of his. On the Wednesday he scored the peal of Grandsire, when he rang his bell without a fault, and on the next day he attempted a peal of Stedman Triples which was lost after ringing a little over an hour. What an example of enthusiasm !

Two more ladies have scored their first peal. Miss Kathleen Holifield, of Appleton, rang the treble to a peal of Grandsire Triples on Easter Monday. At Rotherham Miss Hague has rung her first peal by taking $\mathrm{r}-2$ in Grandsire Triples on handbells. The ranks of the lady peal ringers are steadily growing.

LONG STANTON'S MISFORTUNE.

FUND COMPLETED FOR RECASTING THE TENOR

The following further amounts are acknowledged with thanks: W. P'. 5s., A. N. J. W. 2s. 6d., four Bristol ringers, (H. J. W., J. G., W. A. C. and W. K. ıs. each), 45.; E. B. J., $£ 4$ I4s. Total received $£ 35 \mathrm{r} 6 \mathrm{~s}$. Amount required $£ 35$.

The Vicar and churchwardens have much pleasure in announcing the completion of the fund for recasting the tenor, and take this opportunity of again thanking all those ringers and friends who have so kindly and generously helped them in their misfortune. The bell has been sent off to the foundry, and is expected back towards the end of the month. It will be noticed that the amount received slightly exceeds the sum appealed for ; the sum in excess will be devoted to defraying the cost of the inscription and other incidental expenses.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly general meeting of this Association was held at Salle on Easter Monday. The newly restored and augmented ring of eight at the Parish Church, and the ring of six at Whitwoll, were at the disposal of members throughout the day, and were largely used.
The Rector of Salle (the Rer. H. C. O. Lanchester) presided at the dinner and meeting, supported by the Rev. W. A. Partridge, Mr. T P. Humphrey (churchwarden of Salle), Mr. A. Coleman, Messrs. G. Moy and W. J. Howson (district secretaries), C. E. Borrett (secretary), and representatives from many towers in the neighbourhood-a total company of fifty-five.
The Chairman gave a very cordial welcome to the visitors to his magnificent church and bells, and also invited the whole company to the Rectory to tea.-The Secretary voiced the thanks of the members for the kind hospitality and assisfance shown to the Association by the Rector and people of Salle, and the business proceedings ended with the election of new members.-The meeting was of a most en. joyable character, and should prove of benefit to the new company lately formed in the parish:

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY.

A RECORD YEAR FOR PELAS.

The annual meeting for the Archdeaconry of Stafford was held at Walsall, on Easter Monday. The number of members in attendance was comparatively small; otherwise the meeting was successful. The bells at St. Matthew's, Walsall, and St. Michael's, Rushall, were made good use of during the day
Tea was provided in the Masonic Hall, followed by the general meeting, Mr. S. Reeves being voted to the chair.-The report and balance sheet were presented. The record number of 55 peals had been rung, and the accounts showed a balance in hand of £Z2.-The officers were re-elected, and the Rev. J. A. Price, Vicar of Coseley, was added as one of the committee. Three honorary and 19 performing members were enrolled.-After some discussion, it was decided that the annual meeting be held in June in future, to prevent clashing with meetings of neighbouring associations.-The quarterly meetings are to be held at Stafford, Penn, Handsworth, and Wednesbury. Gycle runs are being arranged for "missionary" work to towers otherwise difficult to get to: Norton Canes being the place fixed for April.-The customary votes of thanks brought the meeting to a close.

PETERBOROUGH ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Peterborough and District Association was held at Huntingdon on Easter Monday, when a goodly number of members attended to take advantage of the splendid welcome offered by the incumbent, the Rev. Gardner. The following towers were represented: Peterboro' (St. John's), Ramsey, Whittlesea, Chatteris, St. Neots, Eynesbury, Raunds, and the local company. A short service was held in St. Mary's Church at 5.0 p.m., conducted by the Rev. Gardner, and an excellent address was given by the Venerable Archdeacon Vesey, and greatly appreciated.

After service, the business meeting took place in the Archdeaconry Library, the chair being taken by the Rector. Whittlesea was the place chosen for the meeting on Whit-Monday.- A vote of thanks was then accorded the Rector for the use of St. Mary's and All Saints' bells.

The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening, the methods rung being Plain Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob Major, Plain Bob Major, and Grandsire Triples.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

THE PROPOSED GIFT TO GHELMSFORD CHURCH.

A very successful meeting of the North Eastern distnict was held at Colchester on Easter Monday, members attending from about 17 towers. Tea, followed by the meeting, was held in the Parish Room adjoining St. Peter's, upwards of 50 being present-The Bishop of Colchester presided, and was supported by the Rev. C. Triffit-Ward (Vicar), the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre (hon. secretary of the Association), and Mr. C. H. Howard (Master).-Ten ringıng members were elocted,-Harwich and Coggeshall were suggested as being suitable places for the next meeting, and the majority favoured the latter.

The Master next explained the position of the Association with regard to the proposal to give a new treble bell for the peal of 12 at Chelmsford. The original suggestion was that it should be provided by voluntary subscriptions, but others favoured giving the bell from the funds of the Association. After some discussion, the following resolution was carried unanimously: "That this meeting strongly disapproves of providing a new treble bell for Chelmsford out of the funds of the Association, but recommends the Association to give the bell and raise the amount required by voluntary subscriptions.'

The meeting terminated with votes of thanks to the Bishop of Colchester for presiding, and to the Vicars of St. Peter's and All Saints' for use of the bells.-Touches in the following methods were rung during the day: Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Major, Kent, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, and Cambridge Surprise.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Norih Wales Association was held at Bangor, on Easter Monday, and was well attended. A short service was beld in St. David's Church, the sermon being preached by the Dean of Bangor.
The business meehng was held in St. David's Schoolroom, and the following towers were represented: Bangor, Portmadoc, Rhyl, Wrexham, Gresford, Hawarden, Buckley, Ruthin, Dolgelly, and Chester
A resolution proposed by the Dean of Bangor, and ably seconded by Mr. W. H. Evans, Portmadoc, against the proposals of the Government to disestablish the Welsh Church, was manimously carried. Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the twelve Welsh M.P.'s.

The annual report of the hon. secretary showed that seven peals had been rung during the year.- The report and balance sheet were adopted. Two new members were elected, and all the officers were re-elected unavimously Touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Court Bob were rung during the day, the successful proceedings closing with tea kindly provided by the genial President, the Rev. T. Lewis Jones, Vicar of St. David's. Bangor.-A hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Evans (Portmadoc), seconded by Mr. E. Rowlands (Wrexham), was carried with loud cheers.

A RECORD YEAR.

NEW P̈RESIDENT ELECTED

The vitality or the Middlesex Association was fully demonstrated on Saturday, when the anmual meating was held. Altnodgh the gathering took place at Hillingdon, which, while it has excellent ringing facilities, being pessessed of a peal of ten and another of eight, is very much off the beaten track, and by no means easy of access for the majority of the members, there was an attendance of nearly 100 . Ringers were present from Barnet, Harrow Weald, Southgate, Stanmore, Upper Clapton, Bushey, Wialthamstow, Romford, Hornscy, Acton, Ealing, Heston, Hillingdon, Hounslow, Isleworth, Norwood, Uxbridge, Willesden, ete. There was ringing during the afternoon and evening at both the churches, and service was held at St. John's, the preacher being the Vicar, the Rev. C. M. Harvey.
The Vicar first spoke of God's individual knowledge of men, recognising each one. We might not and probably did not think much of our own individuality, he said, yet it gave much value to our lives. We liked to be among those whom we knew and who know us. T'nere was no loneliness like that which was felt among a crowd of strangers when we knew no one and no one knew us. And the opposite was quite as true. It added much to any success with which we met that it would bring pleasure to those who knew us, and who wished us well, those who cared whether we succeeded or failed. And when we had been misjudged or misrepresented, it was a comfort to feel that there were those who knew and understood us thoroughly, aud who would assuredly be certain that we had been thoroughly honest and upright in our motives for action. And it should be a help to us to feel that God knew us thoroughly; that we were of individual interest to Him, and that His thorough knowledge of us could not be mistaken. But, then, from this indiridual knowledge of us, we must remember our individual responsibility for what we did. We were responsible for ourselves and for others, for the society in which we mixed, for the example we continually set. We might not be able to do much, but God, Who knew us individually, knew well what we could do, and expected us to do it. He knew what our individual share was, and expected to see it from us. An old Chinese proverb told us that the best way to keep a town clean was for everyone to sweep before his own door. They knew how it was with a regiment at a review-the men marched part the saluting officer with the strictest precisiondressing and bearing bcing in perfect order. It was the result of each man individually feeling that he was responsible that any lack of steadiness of attention would spoil the efforts of his companions. They might see it also in that with which bell ringers had so much to do. Surely the success of a peal depended upon the individual care and attention of each member of the band of ringers. Let one fail to listen to the conductor's voice, and let eye ol mind stray from the work in which he was engaged, and the efforts of the others would be neutralisen and the peal would probably fail. There was individual responsibility resting on each one to secure the success of the efforts of the whole band. He would say, cultivate this feeling of individual responsibility in all that tiney did. They were all their brother's keepers, responsible for the example they set, the encouragement they gave, the kindly spirit they shared. Let them bear in mind that they were workers in God's house, and that tha bells which they rang carricd their message of sympathy to many a heart. There was a motto given to him by a ringer which he had had put up in the belfry of his church, and which he would commend to them:-

Who rings this bell.
Let him look well
To head and hand and heart.
The head for wit,
The hand for work
The heart for worship's part.
For the right use of head and hand and heart they were individually responeible. Their messages through the bells brought up many memories to them on whose ears they fell. They gladly used head and hand in making the bells carry their message. Let them not forget to use heart, too, in the work, remembering that the message, which their head and hand caused the bells to send, was God's mesEage, that in sending it they were individually responsible workers together with Him. Let their hearts go with it and bid men "Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness and call upon His name.'
The business meeting, preceded by tea, took place in the Schoolroom. Mr. F. A. Milne, the hon. treasurer, presided over the first part of the proceedings, and was supported by the Rev. C. M. Harvey, the Rev. F. O. Sutton, Vicar of St. Andrew's (who has succeeded in the living the Rev. H. G. Bird, who was President of the Association for many years), the Rev. J. Wooster, Mr A. T. King IS.O., Messrg many Coles and H. C. Chandler, joint hon. secs., Mr. W. Pye (Master), etc. The report for the past year was presented, and was of a very gratifying description. It stated that it was not too much to say that in point of variety and excellence the work of 1912 had been unequalled since the Association was formed. The number of successful peals was remarkable, being 153 (made up of 121 on tower bells and 32 on handbells), as compared with 83 in the previous year. They were made up of Kent Treblo Bob Major', 6; Royal, 1; Oxford Treble

Bob Major, 2; Grandsire Triples, 20; Caters, 3; Oxford Bob Triples, 1 Bob Minor ( 1 method), 1; Bob Minor (3 methods), 2; Bob Major, 5 Double Norwich, 7; Superlative Surpriso Major, 8; Cambridge, 6 New Cambridge, 4 ; Norfolk, 2; Gloucester, 1; London, 6; Bristol, 21 Cambridge Surprise Royal, 5; Stedman Triples, 28; Caters, 16; Cinques 8 ; total, 153. The 32 on handbells consisted of: Kent Treble Bob Major, 2; Royai, 1; Grandsire Triples, 9; Caters, 3; Bob Major, 2 Stedman Triples, 4; Caters, 9; Cinques, 2.

SOME MEMORABLE PEALS.

The report proceeded:-

This remarkable increase is due in part to an increase in the interest taken in ringing peals on handbells; but it is noticeable at the same time, and we are glad to call attention to it, that there has been during the past year an increase in the peals rung on tower bells in nearly all the methods practised by the members, from Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples to Stedman Cinques and Surprise Methods. By far the greatest ringing achievement of the year was the record peal of Bristol Surprise Major, consisting of 15,264 changes, which was rung at Hornchurch on Whit-Monday, May 27th, in 9 hours and 49 minutes. This is the longest Surprise peal ever rung, and the longest length in any method by the Association. It is also the only "record" held by the Association, and we heartily congratulate the band on their splendid performance, especially Mr. William Pye, who so ably conducted the peal, thus adding another to his long list of triumphs as a conductor.

During the eight days ending on November 16th a series of peals were rung by the Edmonton band, to commemorate the 21 st birthday of Miss Edith Parker. Out of seven attempts, six peals in six different Surprise Methods were brought to a successful issue, including the first peals of Gloucester and Norfolk Surprise in the county of Middlesex, the former also being the first in the method by the Association. This peal was ably conducted by Miss Parker, to whom our heartiest congratulations are due. It may be truly said of Miss Parker in all that she has taken part in during the year-nihil tetigit quod non ornavit-she has handled nothing that she has not adorned, whether on tower bells, or on handbells. During the year Miss Parker conducted for the Association three peals of London, three of New Cambridge, one of Gloucester, and three of Superlative Surprise, in addition to a peal of Grandsire Triples on handbells, all of them truly admirable achievements

Amongst many other noteworthy performances, mention must be made of a peal of Grandsire Triples rung by members of the Metropolitan Police Force at St. Magdalene, Holloway, on April 25 th. The band consisted of one sergeant and seven constables, the conductor being Mr. Cornelius Charge. The peal is, we belicve, the first ever rung by a band of policemen.
A "Gearge "peal was rung by members of the Association on June 2gth at St. Saviour's, Walthamstow, conducted by that well known ringer, Mr. George R. Pye, whilst the first peal of Norfolk Surprise by the Association was rung at St. John's, Waterloo Road, on September 25th, conducted by Mr. James E. Davis. On November 5th the Finchley band rang a peal of Minor, in the three follow ing methods, viz.:-Oxford Bob, College Single, and Plain Bob, under the conductorship of Mr. F. A. Barker, who thus had the satisfaction of calling his first peal. We mention this performance, confident that the Finchley band will feel encouraged by it to attempt Minor peals in seven methods, as they once did. If anything could be done to the Hendon bells, it would be a red-letter day in the history of the Association, for they, too, have a band of six bell ringers second to none in the county, and yet are outside the privileges of peal ringing owing to the bad "go" of the bells It seems a pity that where all else at Hendon has been restored, nothing should have been done to the bells. Many peals were rung in various methods on handbells during the year, members of the Edmonton band ringing peals of Grandsire Triples and Caters, Bob Major, and Kent Treble Bob Major, whilst others of our prominent handbell performers rang peals of Stedman Triples, Caters, and Cinques, and Kent Treble Bob Major and Royal. Undoubtedly handbell ringing is becoming more popular amongst the exercise and we are glad to be able to place it on record that our own Association is not behind hand in prosecuting this delightful branch of the ringers' art

THE INFITUX OF MEMBERS
During the year we elected seven honorary members and 127 ringing members, and after allowing for deaths, resignations, etc. we close the year with a very satisfactory total membership of 606 .

New bands have been formed in the North and East District at St. Giles-in-the-Fields and St. James', Clerkenwell, and instruction is being given. Considerable progress has been made at Clerkenwell with half-pull ringing, whilst there are not wanting signs of improvement at St. Giles-in-the-Fields. The St. Mary Magdalene, Holloway, band has also come in. On the other hand, the Pinner band has resigned membership.

In the South and West District two towers have become affiliated to the Association, viz.: -Acton and West Ealing. At the former instruction is being given by Mr. J. R. Mackman, with every sign of success. Satisfactory progress is being made at West Ealing. The report also records a number of bell restorations, and adds that 226 members took part in the 153 peals, and that the 121 tower bell peals, were ruing in 58 different towers. There were 30 conductors. The report, together with the balance sheet, whioh showed a balance in hand of $£ 203 \mathrm{~s}$. 10d. on the Central fund, was adopted.
The Chairman said the Association had to proceed to the election of a President, in place of Mr. Bird, who they were all so sorry to lose. Ile had to submit the name of one who for many years had been well known to them, and to whom the Association owed so much; one, in fact, who was the maker of the Association-their old friend, Mr. King (applause). Mr. King came along when the old Association had fallen to a membership of about 60 , and he brought the new Asoociation up to over 600 members. They would all agrec that they could not have a better President than Mr. King (applause). Mr. Lucas seconded, and the motion was carried amid applause.

DISTRICT VICE-PRESIDENTS CREATED.

When Mr. King took the chair he was greeted with enthusiasm and by the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow," He said when be was asked to become their President he had some difficulty in reconciling himself to the idea, not because it was distasteful to him, but because he had a keen notion that the first duty of a president was to preside, and how could he, living at Southsea, come up to preside at every mecting of the Association? He could not, of course, undertake to be present at all the meetings of the Association, but he thought he could undertake to be present at all the important meetings, and in order that the Association might not suffer, he hoped he might be allowed to nominate two vice-presidents, one in each of their districts, who should correspond with him on all subjects concerning the welfare of tho Association-Mr. Milne, for the North and Tast District, and Mr. Hesse for the South and West District. Mr. King went on to pay a tribate to the great and unostentatious work which Mr. Bird had done for the Association as its president. He knew all that was going on in the Association; he could sympathise with them when there was need of sympathy, and he could render advice when there was need of advice and aid. He (Mr. King) wanted to make any poor services ho had to offer effectual, and he thought by means of the vice-presidents they could be made perfectly effectual. He hoped during the next year that they would all try to become a deal better men, as well as better ringers, for after all that was the great aim. Leet them not only show how united they could be in ringing, but also how united they could be in the service of the Church. The Church needod her sons to stand by her when there were so many attacks made, and their service would be gratefully accepted.

CONSIDERATION FOR THE PUBLIC.

Continuing, Mr. King said in past years many subjects of interest had been discussed in the Association's reports, which were forced into prominence in the present day. He had just been reading the Ringing World " how Sir Arthur Heywood was cautioning pople against excessive peal ringing. That had been done a long time before, and if they would turn to the pages of their old reports that ringers must not be a nuisance to their neighbours, and the were not it misance, for they were always considerate of their neighbours. If there were any illness, who were so ready to stand aside as ingers? It was an axiom of their belief; they might be disappointed of conrse, b. conslantly asking for the same tower, but by the exercise of a little judgment, and, abore all, by the exercise of a little give-and-lake they could do a good deal. Unfortunately those who yielding. Those who objected to bells did so on principle bulutely un-

Those who objected to bells did so on principle. but he did mol know whe the principle came in; all he knew was that one man reople had to be dealt with, and it was of no use to rub them the wroug way: They must exercise care and tact. and they must be reasonable in all they wanted to do. They knew there were times other times when they were not expected to be silent, and when they wero the interpreters of the joys and sorrows of a parish. The man in tho street did not make any difference between the man who jangleit ihe bells out of tune, and the men who rang the bells with all their scientific ability. But they coukl put up with that as long as they madle progress, and there was progress in their Absociation. It had been said that the growth of their society was in some measure due to him. He did not think it was. It was the members thensalves who made the Association. He could not have done anything sible way, and he hoped they would continue to help him. Mr. King concludnd by quoting from a letter from the Rer if. Mr. King which he sent his best, wishes "to all the fine fellows." Third, in comed that evening Mr. Bird's successor nt St. Andrew's, and if he was not a ringer himself, he came from Newdigate, where there was a peal of six, and it was exceedingly nice to have amongst them, one who could be in sympathy with them as ringers.

Mr. C. T. Coles seconded the motion for the appointment of vicepresidents, and it was carried unanimously.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.
The following officers were re-elected: Master, Mr. William Pye; hon. treasurer, Mr. F. A. Milne ; joint hon. secs., Messrs. C. T. Coles and H. C. Chandler; auditors, Messrs. J. E. Miller and W. Pickworth.

It was resolved to give the printing of the next annual report to "The Ringing World," who have done it upon the last two occasions, and who, the President said, "had done it uncommonly well."
It was decided not to have further peal books written for the Association, but to utilise for the purpose of the record the annual. report.

THE ASSOCLATION AND THE WARNER OUP.
Mr. Coles reported that the committee had considered a scheme, based on that adopted by Durham and Newcastle, for the encouragemeni of Sunday ringing, but had been unable to come to a decision on the matter, being of opinion that it would be difficult to work with success in Middesex. They were anxious to produce a scheme: satisfactory to all, and hoped by the next annual meeting to be able to place before the members one based on attendance (regular and punctual) if the members would consent to this being postponed.-This was agreed to.

The question of the cup offered by Messrs. Warner and Sons for peal ringing had been, it was reported, carefully considercd by the committee at a time when the position of the Association in the Analysis was not known, and they were of the opinion that the members should be asked to decide whether or not the cup should beaccepted, should the Association be in the position to do so.-The President stated that he had no doubt that Messrs. Warner had been actuated by the highest motives in offering this cup for competition, and all ringers thought the same, but the idea of ringing peals to win a cup was abhorent to him, and, he believed, to most ringers. They rang peals solely for the love of the bells, and for their art. It was not yet known which of the Associations would be top in the Analysis, but as the Middlesex Association was usually thereabouts, the committee would like to know the wishes of the members. He, therefore, proposed the following resolution:- "Resolved that should it br found at any timel that this Association is placed first in the order of merit by the compilers of the Analysis, the cup so generously offered by Messrs Warner and Sons be not accepted for custody. The members of this Assqciation do not for one moment seek to disparage Messrs. Warners generosity: but they had hoped that bell ringers, being church workers, might have been able to rely upon timehonoured friendly rivalry to encourage their efforts, in preference to the less acceptable incentire of a cup competition."-The resolution was seconded by Mr. B. Prewett, and on being put to the meeting, was carried unanimously.-It was left to the committee to decide where the next annual meeting should be held.

The President proposed a very hearty vote of tlianks to the Vicars of St. John the Baptist's and St. Andrew's for the use of their bells, and also to the former for his splendid address, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. King reminded the members that the new Vicar of St. Andrew's was amongst them that day, and he hoped that he would often come amongst them. He included in the vote of thanks the curate (the Rev. J. II. Wooster), the organist and choir, the local ringers, and all who had helped to make the members comfortable. The vote, on being put to the meeting, was carried with great en-thusiasm.-This concluded the business.

The ringing during the day included touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Treble Ten, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative, and London.

THE WINCHESTER GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Portomouth district was held at Fareham, on Easter Mondar. Touches of Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Grandsire were rung in the afternoon by members from Wickham, Portsea, Upham, Curdridge. Portsmouth, Gosport, Winchester, Titchficld, Swanmore, Fareham, Brading, and visiting ringers from St. Alpliege, Greenwich and Oatlands Park. Although orly 25 members had given the secretary intimation of their intention to be present, upwards of 55 turned up, and all attended Divine service in the Parisin Clureh, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. -. Jarbat). The ringers then adjourned to the tea rooms, where the host was taxed to the utmost to provide room. Tea over, the party had to adiourn to the Parish Hall (kindly lent by the Vicar) for the meeting. -Mr. A. T. King was manimously voted to the chair. and was supported by Mr. J. Whiting (district secretary), Mr. E. J. Harding (representative), and Mr. Thornton (Greenwich). The business was much of a routine character. One hon. member and a few probationers wero elected.-Mr. A. T. King gave a very interesting account of the work entailed in allotting the points for peals-A rote of thanks was accorded to Mr. King for presiding, to the Vicar for use of bells and parish hall, and to all the officers.- Much sorrow was expressed at the absence of the Master (the Rer. C. F. Matthers), on account of illness. The bells were afterwards kept going to Treble Bob Major and Stedman Triples.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE BELLS OF FINEDON.

The famous okd pile, yclept Finedon Church, was the scene of a Central Northamptonshire Assoziation meeting on Saturday last. In days gone by, the late Master of the Oxford Guild-the Rev. F. E. Robinson-had a warm corner in his heart for Finedon, and that regard would have been accentuated had he lived to have heard and rung the new bells now hanging in the tower. More than once has the Master called his pet peal-the four-part-as peal tablets on the belfry walls testify. A year and a half ago the old eight bells were condemned as unsafe, and as it had taken two strong men on the tenor to "put her through" the last peal, the condemnation was jnstified. After various tenders had been discussed, that of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, was accepted, to recast five, to retune and rehang the whole peal in a modern iron frame with up-to-date fittings.
The project was considered some four years ago, when Canon Paul, now deceased, held sway at Finedon, but the intervention of "The Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings," with its well-meant, but erroneous, fossilised and antiquarian ideas, postponed the accomplishment of " a consummation devoutly to be wished." With the advent of the present Vicar (the Rer. I. Greaves, M.A.), the matter was revived, and has now been brought to a successful conclusion. About 50 members turned up, despite the wretched weather, and enjoyed themselves to the full in various methods, as suited their capabilities. They came Bedford, Kettering. Wellingboro', Irthlingboro', Higham Ferrars, Northampton, Desboro', and Leicester, and the belfry was taxed to its utmost capacity

At four o'clock, the Vicar gave an address to the members from the pulpit of the quaint edifice, and listeners realised that they had in the Vicar of Finedon an ideal "ringers' parson." Discoursing on the voice of the bells, the reverend gentleman compared the muezzin of the Mohammedans to the ringer. Among other things, he said: "While journeying in the East, what impressed me most was the consistency of the native. Erery day at 8, 12, 4 and at sunset, the muezzin would ascend the Minarets of the Mosque and call the faithful to prajer, when everyone, no matter how engaged, would kneel at once and pray to Allah. How lax we are, and yet how readily we might at least copy them in this. ${ }^{\text {. }}$

THE VICAR AS A RINGER.

After the service, the following assorted members iang a course of Bristol Surprise Major: W. Rogers 1, J. Houghton 2, W. German 3, D. Nichols 4, H. Horr 5, A. Tyler 6, W. Perkins 1, W. Willson 8; followed by a cource of Cambridge Surprise, by: A. Nartin (Higham) 1, W. Regers (Northampton) 2, Miss E. Steele (Bedford) 3, W. Perkins (Irthlingboro') 4, R. Turner (Kettering) 5, E. Chapnsan (Kettering) 6, W. Willson (Leicester) 7, W. Sawfoot (Northampton) 8. The company then adjourned to the sichoolroom, where a tea awaited them. The Vicar occupied the chair, supported by the Rev. Owen (curate), Dr. Burland, Miss Steele, Mr. J. Slarke, of Easton Neston, Mr. Meadows, MIr. W. Willson, and Mr. W. Perkins (local secretary).-At the subsequent speech-making, a hearty vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar by Mr. D. Nichols, of Kettering, who congratulated the Vicar and wardens on the splendid peal now in their charge.-Mr. W. Willson, in seconding the vote, explained the difference between the old and new styles of tuning and hanging. Asked why "chiming" the bells for Sunday sertice was not more used as of old, Mr. Willson described how swing chiming wore the gudgeons oral, from bearing only on the underside. The rote was carried by acclamation, and the Vicar, in reply, in a humorous speech, expressed his pleasure in meeting the Association, and said he would not only go in for ringing himself, but endeavour as far as was practicable to convert his fellow parsons to the ringers' ideals.

Returning to the tocier, the following rang the first course of London Surprise on the neve bells: A. Smeathers 1, W. Rogers 2, T. Chapman 3, H. Horn 4, J. Ward 5, W. Willson 6, J. Houghton 7, W. Perkins 8. Until about y p.m. the bells were kept going in various methods, when they were lowered, and the company retired to the ancient hostelry, "The Beli Inn,"' where Grandsire Caters, Stedman Triples, Bob and Treble Bob Major, on handbells, were indulged in until time broke up the gathering. The bells now harmonically tuned are a grand ring in D, the tenor of 22 cwt. giving one the impression of being much hearier, and heard over the countryside pours out a rich melody like a band of music.
The following are the diameters and weights of the bells:-

THE WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION

BELFRY REPAIRS FUND TO BE STARTED.

The Northern Branch was this year visited on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, which was held at Stourbridge on Easter Monday. The weather was good, and the welcome most hearty, and all the circumstances combined to make the meeting a clecided success. Members commenced to arrive early and the bolls at St. Thomas', Stourbridge, and Old Swinford were soon in demand. Servico was held in St. 'Thomas' Church, at 1.45 p.m., conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Stanhope Newland), who gave an excellent address.
The business meeting was afterwards held in the Forester's' Hall, the Vicar presiding. Apologies were received from the Prosident (the Dean of Worcester), the Rev. Canon Claughton, the Rev. J. F. Hastings (clerical secretary), Mr. E. J. Dowler (Northern Branch secretary), and others. A recommendation from the Central Committec was laid before the meeting, to the effect that "a Belfry Repairs Fund be started, with a grant of $£ 10$ from the general fund, and that intercst on the Savings Bank account and a sum equal to life member's subscription be added, and that grants be made at the discretion of tho Central Committee for bell repairs."-After discussion, the motion was put to the vote, and was carried with somo slight opposition.
It was decided that the branch officers be recommended to arrange two or three ringing meetings independent of the quarterly meetings, the place, date and methods to be advertised in the ringing Press.

The annual peal was arranged to bo rung at Stourbridge, conducted by Mr. R. Matthews

WORCESTER THE NEXT MEITTING PLACE.
When the place for the next anmual mecting came to be discuesed, it was unanimously decided to return to Worcester next year, and by the remarks that were made, it will, apparently, be some years before it is held anywhere else.
The new members elected included the Revs. Canon Southwell, J. T. Conan Davies (Lye), and T. Robinson (Grimley); also the ringers at Cradley, Grimley and Redditch.
As it had been decided that obituary notices should bo published in the anmual roport, tho Secretary asked that all particulars should bo sent him; at the same time he called attention to the fact that mistakes occasionally occurred in the reports of peals in the ringing papers, and that such mistakes were liable to be enterod in the peal book, unless he was advised of the alterations required- Some discussion took place as to the advisability of an umpire being present during peals on handbells, but this was deferred until the next meeting.
No change was made in any of the officers, the President, VicePresidents, Kaster, Clerical Secretary, General Secretary, Treasurer and Auditors all being re-elected, the Rev. Canon Southwell being added to the Vice-Presidents. -The meeting then closed with a hearty rote of thanks to the Chairman, to the incumbents of Old Swinford, Lye and Wollaston for the use of their bells, and to Mr. G. H. Pagett for making all the arrangements so satisfactorily.

A NEW CERTIFICATE.

After so much discussion, tea, which was served in the same room, came as a most welcome change, and full justice was done to an excellent repast, partly contributed by the members of the St. Thomas' Church Council.-Everyono was pleased to see present Mr. W. Rock Small, of Tipton, and at the conclusion of the tea, a hearty vote of congratulation was, with much acclamation, accorded him and his wife on the celebration of their golden wedding.
The issue of a new certificate is in the hands of the Central Committee, and during the evening two excellent designs by members of this Aseociation were considered, the one sent in by Mr. J. Pigolt, of Smethwick, being cventually chosen, and will bo printed in black and white
During the evening ringing was the main oonsideration, and the rarious bells available were visiled; those at Lye, tenor $3 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. and treble 60 lbs., wero found, by thoso not used to them, to be most difficult to ring, owing to their light weight. The "go" of those at St. Thomas' show a marked improvement, and those responsible are to be congratulated.
In conclusion, attention shonld bo drawn to the fact that last year was a record in the history of this Association, both in number of members, financially, and in the number of peals rung. In fact, the toports of the last two or three years show conclusively that the formation of the three branches, has been in all ways of very great assistance in promoting the objects of the Association.

ALL SAINTS' SOCIETY, FULHAM.

The annual meeting of the All Saints' Society. Fulham, was hekl on Saturday. During the past yoar five peals have been zung on handibells, viz, two of Bob Royal, one of Grandsire Caters, one of Stedman Caters, and one of Bob Major, all conducted by Mr. W. Shepherd. Only two failures had to be recorded. -The presence of the Vicar at tea, kindly provided by him, was much appreciated.-Courses of Treble Ten and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Double Norwich concluded a very enjoyable evening.

NEW BELLS AT TWYFORD, BERKS.

THE DEDICATION.

Easter Tuestlay will be a day long iemembered by the parishioners of Twyford, for on that occasion the new ring of eight bells was dedicated by the Ven. Archdeacon of Berks. There have been great improvements in the chruch since the present Vicar (ther Rev. R. W. H Acworth) went trere about eight years ago. The church has been enlarged at the east and west end, an organ chamber and a new elergy vestry built, and not the least, a tower has been erected, in addition to many interior improvements. The work has now been completed by the provision of a ring of eight bells.
On Tuesday, long before time for service, the church was packed The choir and clergy entered the west door singing the hymn, "The Day of Resurrection." The clergy present, besides the Archdeacon of Berkshire, were the Vicar (the lev. R. W. H. Acworth), the Revs. M. H. Waller (curate), G. F. Coleridge, Rural Dean; C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild); G. P. Crawfurd (Sonning); E E. Broome (Hurst); S. P. Mareartney (Ruscombe), G. F. William (Remenham), T. H. Wrenford (Littlewick), W. Vicars (Bear Wood), II S. Acworth (Chobham), G. W. Williams, W. Henley and W McFariane. Evening service was proceeded with, the first lesson being read by the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, and the second lesson by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, after which the clergy and choir proceeded to the Baptistry under the tower, where the churchwardens asked the Archdeacon to dedicate the bells to the honour and glory of God. After the prayers a few leads of Grandsire Triples were rung by the followng, while the choir was returning to the chancel: F. Dentry (Twyford), conductor, 1, S. Paice (All Saints', Wokingham) 2, A. E. Reeves (St Mary's, Reading) 3, L. Russell (Sonning) 4, H. Bungay (Binfield) W. Newell (St. Laurence, Reading) 6, G. Martin (All Saints', Maiden head) 7, W. Fullen (Wargrave) 8. Each of these ringers was presented with a medallion made of the bell metal, by the churchwarden Mr. If. W. Verey, as a memento of the occasion.

The ringers' hymn, "Unchanging God who livest," was afterwards sung, and the Archdeacon gave a most practical address, after which came the hymn, " At the name of Jesus."-The Vicar stated that all the money for the bells and furnishing the ringing chamber had been ubscribed, and the offertory would be given to the Bishop of Oxford's Fund, which had subscribed liberally when the church was enlarged. -The offertory amounted to between $£ 8$ and $£ 9$.
After the service, the bells were kept going to a late hour. The following methods were rung: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge. Ringers to the number of nearly 50 were present from Hurst, Wargrave, Sonning, Reading, Maidenhead, Slough, Windsor, Burnham, Farnham Royal, Binfield, Swindon, London, Hugheuden, Wokingham, and other places.

THE NEW PEAL.

The belle are in an iron frame on steel girders, and the whole of the ork has been most satisfactorily carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry. The tone of the bells are excellent. and the "go" is all that could be desired. The firm has also fixed an apparatus for "silent" ringing, which can be heard only in the ringing chamber. This apartment has been nicely pannelled with oak, and the walls above are finished with white enamel.
The following are the inscroptions on the bells and their weights: Treble. To the Honour and Glory of God most High. This peal of bells was placed in the Parish Church of Twyford, in Berkshire, in the year of our Lord, 1913

Weight: 3 cirt. 3 qrs. 25 lbs.
May Gord bless all whom we do call.
Weight: 6 cwt. 1 qr .2 Ibs.
In memory of father, mother, sisters and brothers, and in gratitudo for many mercies this bell was given by Mary Hedges.

Weight: 5 cwt. 0 qrs. 13 lbs.

LEWES BELL RINGERS' DINNER.  WELCOME TO NEW RECTOR

The annual dinner of the Southover Guild, Lewes, Sussex, was held on Wednesday week at the King's Head, a large company sitting down under the genal presidency of the new Rector (the Rev. T. I. Windle), Mr. J. R. Lusted (people's warden) was in the vice-chair, and among those also present were: Messis. T. A. Stewart-Jones (Rector's warden) J. I'. Glandfield, H. E. White, E. Bedford, F. A. Walston, Councillor W. T. Fowler, Sergt.-Major R. Souter, Messrs. A. J. Turner (captain and hon. secretary), E. J. Pannett, C. Errey, F. S. Sturt, G. H. Sturt, G. Stroud, W. A. Hillman, R. J. Dawe (Seaford), C. Sadler, W Morris, G. W. Moppett, E. Rann, junr., E. Stidworthy, E. L. Blaber, P. Kenward, E. A. Card, F. S Hewett, W. H. Court, S. Shoesmith junr., T. Groves, J. Ward, H. Moore, W. Moore, etc. Apologies fol absence were received from the Mayor (Councillor Hugh Stott), Mr. F Verrall, Mr. F. G. Courthope, Mr. W. F. Ingram, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman (who is in Paris), Alderman G. Holman, Alderman J. Miles, Mr. J. G. Gaster, Councillor E. A. Glover, Mr. F. J. Wood and Mr E. G. Burbidge. Mrs. Golksmith, who has catered for the Scuthover bell ringers for 36 years, provided an excellent repast, and after dinner, the loyal toasts were enthusiastically honoured.

Mr. F. A. Walston proposed "The Southover Shivech Bell Ringers" Guild, and remarked that he was proud to be associated with such a splendid lot of fellows, whose services in the belfry weie very highly appreciated (hear hear). In these days when the good old Church was being bitterly attacked it behoved all of them to stand up for it, and the best way in which they could do that was by regular attendance at Divine service. He would like to see a bell ringers' pew, and he would rive them the best pew in the church (hear, hear). He extended a hearty welcome to their Rector, who had already gained a warm place in the hearts of the people of Southover (applause). They hoped he would continue among them for many years (applause). They would all remember on such an occasion as that, Mr. H. H. Ebrall, who for several years was hon. secretary of their Guild, and who was now in Western Australia. He would be glad to forward a message of goodwill to Mr. Ebrall from members of the Guild, by whom their former secretary would always be kindly romembered (applause). He wished the Guild and its members every success (applause)
Mr. A. J. Turner (who has captained the Southover Ringers' Band for 20 years, and whose name was coupled with the toast) remarked that the ringers appreciated very much the kind references made to their work. They tried to do their little bit towards the work in the parish, and the way in which the members assembled in the belfry after a hard day's work to teach young ringers was very creditable. Bell ringers had to apply their mind to their work, as everyone else did. It took months and even years to become a first-class ringer, and it was a very fascinating pastime, better even tnat foothall, for a man could continue ringing for many years. So enthusiastic was the speaker that he told of his experiences of bell ringing since 1889 in rhyme, which greatly amused the company. Bell ringing, he continued, was one of the best exercises for body and mind, and brought into play all the muscles. He thanked the supporters of the Guild for their assistance, which enabled the Guild to finish the year with an excellent balance on the right side (applause).

Mr. F. S. Sturt, in proposing 'The President and Vice-Presidents,' alluded to the interest which the late Rector (the Rev. H. S. Anson) took in the Bell Ringers' Guild for about six years. The speaker welcomed the new Rector on belhalf of the bell ringers (applause). His kindness in presiding at that gathering augured well for the future. He hoped the Rector would regard the ringers as church workers. They were also pleased to see with them their old friend Mr. Lusted, who had been with them on many occasions; also Mr. Glandfield and Mr. Stewart-Jones, who had been very kind friends to them (applause).
The Charman, in responding, said he appreciated the hogour done him in asking him to accept offics as President of the Guild. He would accept the office with very great pleasure (applause). He re garded the bell ringers as church workers who were, or should be, doing a most useful work in a parish. He had never heard a peal of ten bells till he came to Southover, and it was a joy to him to listen to them. He was delighted with the historic church and parish, and hoped he would be blessed with health and strength to be a help to the parish, because that was his desire (applause). During the two weeks he had been in the parish he had found everyone ready and willing to help and co-operate, and he felt sure he could rely upon assistance from them in the future.

Mr. Lusted, who said it was over 30 years since he first attended the annual dinner of the bell ringers, Mr. Glandfield and Mr. T. Stewart-Jones also responded.-The toast of "The Hostess" was also drunk.-During the evening, a capital musical progamme was carried out, some excellent songs being interspersed with handbell ringing.

HALESOWEN.-Worcestershine Association (Northern Branch).-On Faster Day, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1260 changes), in 43 mins.: E. White 1, V. White 2, G. Cockin 3. J Hemming 4, A. Hackett 5, A. Greenfield 6, W. H. Webb (conductor) 7, M. Hackett 8.

CHARLES HOUNSLOW.

AN APPRECIATION.

"Let us now praise famous men; and our fathers that begot us." Many a fond memory circles round the honoured name of Charles Hounslow, whose death and funeral were noted in last week's " Ringing World." One of nature's true gentlemen, he had long ago made his mark among a large circle of ringers and musicians: a friend to all, he was valued by those of high degree as well as by those who stood on a lower rung of the social ladder. Of his great abilities as a ringer and conductor few were more conversant than those of a generation back, who, whether as members of the City or University Societies, were associated with him at Oxford. Ever ready for a peal, he was equally ready to instruct some beginner in the art, either on the practical or theoretical side. Fond of music, he proved an inimitable siffleur, his skill in whistling long pieces of music being marvellous. He made a practise of attending the Sheldonian Theatre whenever an oratorio was produced with full orchestra by a suppliant for the degree of Mus. Doc.-his opinion of the music-not to mention the composer-proved later to be rarely at fault.

Probably no man living ever yet conducted Holt's Original by a method similar to that invented by Charles Hounslow : the notes of the bells " before" were whistled by him in silence when conducting. So accurately had he mastered the order of the notes which ran like a tune or chant, that a false call was rarely, if ever, made by him. The whole peal would be whistled off to an inquiring listener in a couple of minutes or less with an accuracy which was only equalled when the peal was rung with intervals of two minutes more or less between the bobs.
Much, indeed, does Oxford owe him for preserving the Art from falling into oblivion in those early days before the Diocesan Guild was formed. Associated with its first Master, who had rung much with him, he took part in most of the noteworthy peals rung at Drayton, Appleton and elsewhere; he was also the life and soul of not a few ringing tours, notably in the west.

By profession a painter and writer, much of his beautiful work may be seen in various towers. The most notable peal board for beauty of design and writing, with elaborate detail, hangs in the tower of St. Lawrence, Reading. His last appearance as a ringer was at the dedication of the screen in memory of the late Master at Drayton-a touching appearance indeed-the aged man, with wit as keen as ever-his eye undimmed, but his natural force abated-a frame feeble with the weight of four score years; looking back in memory on the days of long ago-chatting of the past with his numerous friends gathered round him. It was an appearance to be remembered, for it was the last time, though we knew it not, that we should see his face again this side of the Great Hereafter. Wrapped comfortably in the Master's great coat, a swift motor took him back to "Ringwell," his home in Oxford, from which not many weeks afterwards, he was slowly borne to his long home, accompanied by a few relatives, and about 50 ringers, who lined the churchyard path as the bier was wheeled into the church, and, after the service in church, gathered round his grave.

In the person of Charles Hounslow, a firm and stedfast friend has gone the way of all flesh. The world is the poorer for his departure hence: a true life has been rung out, the Exercise loses one of its brightest ornaments. May he rest in peace!

WULFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON,
MESSES. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, GROYDON. 4ih March, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recontly carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BECK,

Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.

THE DIVISION OF COUNTY AREAS.

The question of dividing its extensive area of operations into districts is one of the matters which is now occupying the attention of the officials and members of the Yorkshire Association. As we have already said, this is a matter in which we believe the advantages of division far outweigh those of completely centralised organisation. There are very few large associations now that have not instituted the principle of administering their respective areas by means of more or less self-controlled branches. and in every case this method has led not only to increased interest among the members, but it has widened the sphere of activity, brought in a greater number of members, and raised the general standard of ringing. Particularly is this so where the branches hold frequent district meetings.

Two cases in point have come under recent notice. Just, over a year ago the Surrey Association established a new. Southern District, which, previously, so far as they were concerned, was almost entirely outside the sphere of operations. That new district has already brought an accretion of 53 members and several towers, the majority of which would in all probability have remained unattached to any central body. In Worcestershire the division of the county has had equally satisfactory results, and the annual report just issued attributes the great progress made in the usefulness of the Association and in change ringing to the formation of these branches three years ago, an action which has brought the Association more into touch with outlying parishes than was possible before.

The success which has attended these, as well as other associations, should be an incentive to Yorkshire to take the step, when the matter comes up for decision. Meanwhile, the Devon Guild, who will shortly be holding their annual meeting, might also take the subject into consideration. We do not intend the slightest disrespect to Devonshire when we say that, for its size, and the number of its peals of bells, no county in England is more backward in change ringing. Here and there one finds a bright oasis in the desert of "stoney-land," but it is not a centre where the Art flourishes. If Devon would try the experiment of dividing the large area into districts we feel sure the effect would be beneficial. It is impossible for an executive to keep in close touch with all the towers in such a big county, when there is no decentralisation, and it is still more impossible to organise effectively that " missionary " work which is so essential to real progress. Now is Devon's opportunity. A big stride forward will have been taken if the county be split up into suitable, branches, each possessing some measure of executive porwer.

CHARLES CARR,

broomfeld Vicarage, Chelmgford.

Dear Slirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that weare perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.

We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your system of banging the bells reduces the vibration of the steal frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCE WARDENS unite Fith ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. EDMUNDS, Vicar of Broomfield. Megars. C. CARR, LTTD.

Smethwick.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Axbridge Deanery Branch was held at Berrow, on Saturday, about 30 members being present, representing the following towers: Burnham, Berrow, Brent Knoll, Congresbury, Weston-super-Mare, Glastonbury, etc. Service was held in the Parish Church, and a capital address was given by the Rev. Armstrong.-Tea was partaken in the Parish Hall, followed by the business meeting.Two new honorary and nineteen performing members were elected.Mark was proposed for the next quarterly meeting, and Bleadon for the intermediate meeting.-A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his able address, for providing tea, and for prosiding at the meeting--The Rev. Armstrong suitably responded.-Several good touches of Grandsire were rung, and Burnham bells were also available during the evening.

A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

The Middleton Parish Church band on Easter Monday did honour to one of the oldest of their members by attempting a peal of Bob Major, but the attempt unfortunately came to grief after 1 hr .46 mins. The occusion was the birthday of Mr. James Arrowsmith, and the unique feature was that the date, March 24th, has not fallen upon Easter Monday since the day upon which he was born 57 years ago.
A birthday celebration was held at the Co-operative Hall, Middeton, and, in addition to relatives and friends, the ringers were present and provided some entertainment on the handbells. A presentation was made to Mr. Arrowsmith of a silk handkerchief, upon which was woven $\Omega$ suitable inscription, and which was illuminated with bells. -Mr. W. Schofield, an old member, voiced the best wishes of the ringers, to which the reeipient suitably replice. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

DEATH OF A BIRMINGHAM RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. William Brook, of Birmingham, who passed away at the age of 70 years, after a long illness. The deceased had been a ringer at St. Chad's Cathedral for about 25 years, and at one time belonged to St. Philip's company. He was asafe ringer in the Standard methods and good striker, and had taken part in peals of Triples, Major and Caters, including one 10,000 of Major.
On April 1st, as a last token of respect, a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was attempted at St. Chad's Cathedral, but it camo to grief after 1050 changes had been rung, owing to a change course. Afterwards, several touches were rung by W. Hunt, T. Miller, T. J. Bratton, W. Anker, C. Mackenzie, R. Ducker, J. Corrigan, and J. E. King.

CRAWLEY, SUSSEX.-At St. John the Baptist's Church, on March 30 th, 1216 Kent Treble Bob Major: II. J. Dewey (longest touch in the method) 1, J. Rice 2, W. Claydon 3, A. D. Mills 4, A. E. Mitchell 5, W. Wenban 6, C. Sippetts 7, F. W. Rice (conductor) 8. Rung to welcome the Rev. G. H. Bourne Barton, M.A., who has been appointed curate at the above church.

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-" "There's nothing like striking the iron whilst it's hot," and as I have so frequently ventilated this pet subject of mine at various ringing meetings, I would much like to follow your able leading article last week, with a few remarks upon what has been troubling me for years.
I was delighted to again attend the Johnson Dinner in the City of Birmingham, for the one reason of meeting so many friends of long years' standing, and some I had never seen before; but the great object of all was an opportunity of speaking on a subject we must all pay attention to, and at once! Whilst proposing the "Health of the Chairman," a gentleman whose name is justly revered and honoured by every ringer in the land, I was able to point out that when I was Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Sir Arthur Heywood spent one whole day with me in London, for the sole purpose of unfolding the great plan he had in mind. He, being gifted with far-seeing power, saw that at no distant date we should be obliged to have a recognised organisation to represent us in time of need. Therefore, it was entirely Sir Arthur, who, after laying his plans before the different societies, brought into being that grand Association known as the "Central Council of Church Bell Ringers," with the sole object of protecting our rights and privileges, and interests in the future.
As a visitor, I attended their last mecting, only to find the Council hat become a gigantic discussion class, between two of any great ringing friends of over 30 years standing, and certainly two of the most gifted mathematicians I have ever listened to. But at the present moment we do not want this, for there is more urgent work on hand. Now that I have got Sir Arthur fairly started, I know there is every prospect that he will cause this important matter to be discussed at the next meeting, for action must begin at once, seeing that this is the sort of work the Council was originally intended for. Probably fow others have collected so many instances of this grievance and the antagonistic fecling against ringing as I have, for on two occasions I have been present in Court at the Old Bailey, when the judge has complained of bells being tinkled for service near at hand-once at that awful moment when waiting for the two words of freedom, or the one dread word that would send a fellow creature to eternity.
To my knowledge the question was twice raised in Parliament some years ago. The one great instance of all that troubles me most, howjears ago. The one great instance of all that troubles me most, however, is much too dangerous, in our own interests, to put into printthat the highest governing bodies in the land, and, perhaps, 12,000 inhabitants at a time are going to be annoyed for hours to please, perhaps, your humble servant and the eleven others who generously come forward to help him. If the general public could only read the footnotes to some of the performances, such as "this peal was rung to celebrate the third birthday of the 14th daughter of the ringer of the 11th," there would be a pretty hue and cry throughout the whole country, for if a Royal Commission or Select Committee of Inquiry were appointed, this sort of argument against us would be used. As to complaints against peal ringing, my reminiscences, if not so numerous and serions to ourselves, would be decidedly amusing!
As an instance, I remember many years ago, calling a very long attempt for the first peal of Stedman at a Malvern Priory Church, after which, mutch against my protests, the scores of visitors "who had assembled outside from several miles round, handsomely "tipped" the tower keeper to allow them all to have 'touches," ending altogether in about six hours' ringing, with is result that to this very day the in about six hours ringing, with in re tower has been closed to peal ringing!
Every time a peal is accomplished in a thickly populated district it is like walking about with a pocketful of firearms at "full cock," before the safety catch was invented! In many towers throughout the land, the ringers themselves have done much to beatify their ringing room, and we should now take up the cue where the others left off, and room, and we should now take up the cue where the others so continue the break, for united we stand, divided we fall.
Now to remedy all this and put ourselves on the safe side, I do not think the cost would be much, and I would most respectfully advise the Central Council irying to see their way clear to adopt something like this: Let them officially approach the authorities at, say, 100 towers in the country (the greatest offenders where most complaints even brick up the openings inside to within a short distance of the top. This will effectively siop the reverberating clang complained of by those near at hand, and cause the sound to travel to greater distances, bosides converting the tower into a much sweeter musical box.
If the different authorities say they will comply with this recommendation, well and good; but if not, then the only alternative is to get them kindly to provido the material-no great cost-and there are amongst us ringers architects, stonemasons, bricklayers, carpenters, and others, who I know would at once freely give their services for an hour or two on summer cevenings to carry out the work themselves! If funds are needed, surely there are many of us who would willingly give a donation or an annual subscription of a guinea for such an object. Anyhow, try it, for we shall all look forward to the result of the Whitsun meeting with interest. Immediate action must be taken for the sake of ourselves, our friends, the church authorities, and the public: and, abovo all, for the sake of the unknown enthusiasts who Will follow on after it has pleased the Great Spirit of All to call us.
Yours, etc., FRANCIS EDWHAD DAWE.

WORCESTERSHIRE'S PROGRESS.
The 28th annual report of the Worcestershire and Districts Association comments on the progress made by the organisation during the past year. The record of the year, it says, demonstrates that the interest, in change ringing throughout the country and the tusefulness of the Association are both largely on the increase; for while great progress was made during 1911, the year 1912 showed a record in all ways which had never been equalled in the history of the Association, As such great progress had been made during the last two years, it must be admitted that the formation of the three branches had helped to promote the objects of the Association. The increase in membership was most encouraging, the ringers at Bengeworth, Cookley, Elmley, Lovett, Fladbury, Overbury, Rowley Regis, Strensham and Wordsley, having become affiliated, but it is much regretted that so many members are in arrears with their subscriptions, especially hon. members; and it is hoped that each local secretary will assist the officers by endeavouring to have the subscriptions of his company and of the hon. members in his district sent in early in each year. While the average points per peal were not as large as in some years, the number rung was a record, being no less than 65, the year 1898 having held the record until now with 64. The large number of members who took part shows that change ringing was indeed progressing. The progress made was largely due to the Association being brought more in touch with the outlying parishes by means of the branches, and great credit was due to the branch officers for their work and enthusiasm, and for their pioneer cfforts, which were certain to have good results in time.

MEETING OF THE SOUTHERN BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern Branch took place at Great Hampton, on Saturday last, when the following towers were representod: Evesnam, Overbury, Pershore, Fladbury, Hinton, Bretforton, etc. The bells weve utilised in various Standard methods during the afternoon. Service was held in the church, and was well attended, the Vicar (the Rev. E. Havergal) giving a most excellent adderss, taking for his text, Psalm xcvi, 10, "Tell it out among the heathen that the Lord is King."-Tea was served in the Parish Room by Mrs. Teach, of the Crown Inn, the Vicar, Mrs. Havergal, Miss C. Havergal, and the choir (who had taken part in the service) sitting down with the ringers, the party numbering altogether 62.
The business meeting followed, at which the Vicar presided. Several performing members were elected, and it was decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Great Hampton, with Mr. F. Jordan as conductor.Badsey was selected for the next quarterly meeting, and, after some discussion, it was resolved to arrange a meeting for practice at Little Comberton, the date and time to be advertised in the ringing papers.-
A hearty rote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for presiding, for his excellent address, and for the use of the bells, and for providing such a splendid tea; to the organist and choir for attending the service, and to Mrs. Leach for the way she had catered for their wants. -The Vicar, in a brief speech, related several interesting anecdotes, and hoped at some future time he should have the pleasure of meeting the Association again on a similar visit.-Mr. H. Leach also replied on behalf of his mother.

Evesham and Bengeworth bells were to have been available in the evening, but unfortunately the clapper of the 9 th at the former tower had been brokョn, and was not returned from the bell founders, but Bengeworth's peal of six was kept going till a late hour.-The meeting proved one of the best the Southern Branch has held

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK.

On Saturday last, six Brighton members of the Sussex Association spent an enjoyable half-day in the country. Reaching Burgess Hill by train, a start was at once made for the object of the excursion, Twineham, a charming little old-world village. It was reached by a walk of over four miles, which appeared to be appreciated by all as a great change from the usual week-end peals. Spring flowers were in abundance by the roadside, and on arriving at the Ghurch about 3.30 , the visitors were met by the Rector (the Rev. Cresswell Gee), who welcomed the party to Twineham, and at once led the way to the tower, where there is a capital little paal of five, several of them recast, and the whole rehung by Messrs. Mears and Sainbank in the autumn of last year. The work was well carried out, the tone and "go" of the bells being all that could be desired. The bells were kept going till five oclock, the Rector, who is himself a ringer, also taking part and ringing very creditably considering that he had not handled a bell until about six months ngo. The party were then invited to the Rectory for tea, after which they adjourned to the study, where they were entertained by the Rector with anecdotes of his experiences in his former parish in the neighbourhood of the Old Kont Road, his stories being extremely interesting, not to say, at times, amusing. The tower was then again visited, and another of the local ringers took part in the ringing. The party were very much interested in the quaint little church, which is in the perpendicular style, and in which there is, amongst other relics, a stained window representing "The Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin,' by Burnes Jones. The following made up the party: Messrs. Keith Hart, E. C. Merritt, R. Stredwick, J. Capp, W. C. Hart, and A. D. Stone (divisional hon. secretary), and they wish to thank tho Rector most heartily for his courtesy, hospitality, and hearty welcome.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS.ELY.

By J. R. Jerram.

At the present time the western tower contains a light peal of five bells, tenor about i3 cwt., all cast by Henry Penn, the T'cterborough bell founder, in 1723 . The Treble,

In 1322 there were two bells in the western tower; of these the great bell was called " Bounce," and the lesser one "Peter." In the same year the central tower fell; but it was rebuilt by Alan de Walringham, Prior.

A new peal of four bells was then cast for this tower. From the late Canon Raven's account we find that the weight of the great bell, called JESUS, was $37 \mathrm{cwt}$.52 lbs ; that of the third, called "John," 27 cwt. 4 lbs.; that of the second, called " Mary," 21 cwt. 4 lbs .; and that of the least bell, called "Walsyngham," I 8 cwt. 4 lbs.

Ely Cathedral.

Second, Third and Fourth have no inscriptions, dates, or marks.

The Tenor is inscribed HENRY PENN MADE ME, 1723. These bells are chimed for service by means of a curious arrangement of hammers, wires and levers: at least this was the case when I was last at Ely, some 25 years ago. The treble is used as a clock bell.

Some years ago the late Dean Goodwin discovered the marks of four ropes on a beam on the south side of the lantern tower, which were evidently made by the ropes of these four bells.

The original single bell at Stuntney, since recast by Dobson, of Downham, is said to have come from the lantern tower of Ely Cathedral.

ODD CHANGES.

The Middlesex Association have scored a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and they are to be congratulated upon at length attaining to the height of their ambition. The peal was rung at Cripplegate last Saturday, and was composed and conducted by Mr. William Pye.

That peal, we believe, is only the seventh ever rung in the method. The first was achieved at St. Mary-le-Tower. Ipswich, by Mr. James Motts' company on August 15 th, 1908, and they also rang the second in 19Io. Since then the College Youths, who were the first to score Cambridge Maximus in London, have rung three, one at Cornhill and two at Southwark. The other peal was rung recently at St. Mary Redeliffe, Bristol.
We understand that the College Youths intend attempting a peal in this difficult method at St. Paul's Cathedral on April 26th. If this should be successful it would be a crowning achievement.

The Master of the Winchester Guild (the Rev. C. E. Matthews) is intent upon increasing the peals of bells at his own church of Titchfield Hants, from six (tenor iz cwt.) to eight. He has a young band of keen ringers, and with a complete octave some good work might well be expected. At the Easter Vestry meeting consent was given to the raising of funds by the Vicar and ringers to add two new trebles.

By a typographical error we last week stated that the weight of the second bell of the new ring of eight at Twyford, Berks, was 6 cwt . I qr. 2 lbs.; it should have been 4 cwt. I qr. 2 lbs.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

The usual monthly practice of the Eastern District was held on Saturday, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Sunderland. Unfortunately there was but a small attendance, only three towers, Holy Trinity and St. Ignatius, Sunderland, and St. Peter's, Jarrow, being represented. Ringing was confined to Doubles, Minor and Bob Triples. Howerer, the practice was very useful in forwarding the beginners.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

SUCOESSFUL WIMBORND BRANOH MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Guild was held on Saturday in Easter week, at Buckhorn Weston, the "furthest north" of the branch, where more than 20 yeare ago Messns. Hughes D'Acth started change ringing in North Dorset, and where, during the last few years they have revived the local company, and been the generators of progress through the whole district.
All who had engagements that afternoon anywhere in the South of England will not have forgotten the weather, but in spite of this, a party turned up from Okeford and Shillingstone about 2.30 and after raising the bells in peal, set them going to Grandsire and Stedman for over an hour, till a second party arrived from "furthest south," and changed the tune to Plain Bob and Kent.
At 4.15 thero was festal evensong, fully choral, commenoing with a processional hymn, a bell anthem having had unfortunately to bo abandoned owing to the illuess of some of the choir. In spite of his years, the Rector, the Rev. W. C. Hughes D'Acth sang the service, and gave a stirring and vigorous address on the words: "Not slotiful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.'
After service the party were sumptuously entertained in the Parısh Room by Mrs. Hughes DiAeth, and several ladies of the place. There were present the Rector, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards (Kington Magna), Messrs. Hughes D'Aeth, Mr. A. D. Coles (Bridgwater), the Rev. C. A. Phillips, secretary, and members from Bournemouth, Buckhorn Weston, Durweston, Kington Magna, Okeford Fitzpaine, Poole, Shillingstone, Wimborne, etc. The chairman of the branch (the Rev. Canon Mansel Pleydell) and the Master of the Guild (Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart) had hoped to be there, but were unavoidably absent.-A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector and all his family, to the ladies, and to the choir for a most memorable weloome, service and entertanment.- Mr . Coles, in seconding, spoke especially of the refer ence in the Rector's address to the C.E.M.S.; and Mr. Hughes D'Aeth, in responding, expressed the wish that they would all come agan soon, only in greater numbers, an invitation which all present will look for ward to accepting as soon as it will be at all in order to hold another meeting at the same and so remote a centre, and will hope to find the Rector as hale and vigorous as on that Saturday.
After some courses of Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples, on handbells conducted by Mr. Townsend, the party broke up, most of the risitors driving back to Henstridge, where Preb. Firth had kindly put his bolls at their disposal, while the rest set to work to finish off the evening with some Cambridge Surprise and Oxford Treble Bob, and some good courses were brought round by: Messrs. A. E. Coles, C. C. D'Aeth, W. W. D'Aeth, Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Messrs. A. Burn (Okeford Fitzpaine), C. Forfitt and C. W. Goodenough (Bournemouth), F. W Townsend (Poole). It is believed that this is the first time that any Surprise has been rung at a meeting of the Sarum Guild.

DEVIZES BRANCTI.

A monthly meeting of the Derizes Branch was held at Erchfont, on Saturday, when there were present: The Rev. J. A. Sturton (Vicar of Saturday, when there were present: Tilney-Bassett (Rector of Beechingstoke), Rev. J. A. Haines (curate of Erchfont), Mr. H. Brownlee West (Devizes), Hon. Secretary, and ringing members from Great Cheverell, Southbroom, St. John's and St. Mary's, Devizes; Bishops Cannings, Market Lavington, Erchfont, Chirton, Westbury, and Beechingstoke.
Ringing took place in the tower during the afternoon and evening. Tea was served at the Nag's Head Inn, to which 24 members sat down. - A short business meeting was then held, presided over by the Rer. J. A. Sturton (chairman), who, on behalf of the Guild, expressed its great regret at the death of the Earl Nelson, the late President; also at the death of Mr. James Selfe, captain of the ringers at Pewsey, which took place on March 7th last.-Seven new members from Erlestoke, two from Southbroom, two from Great Cheverell, and one from St. John's, Devizes, were proposed, and duly elected members of the Guild.-A vote of thanks was unanimously given to the Rev. J. Hamlyn Hill, D.D., Vicar of Erchfont, for the use of the church bells; and a very successful meeting was brought to a close.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION. BIGGLESWADE BRANCH MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Biggleswade Branch was held at Potton, on Saturday, whan a goodly number of members attended from Sandy, Everton, Old Warden, Bedford, St. Neot's, and the local tower- At the business meeting, the Rev. A. Shillito presided, and four members were elocted to serve on the gencral committee, viz., the Rev. B. H. T. Drake (Sandy), Mr. W. J. Mayes (Old Warden). Mr. A. O. Bailey (Potten). Mr. C. A. Pratt (Clifton).-A proposition was made by the Hon. Secretary (Mr. F. Blood) to hold a monthly practice of memberp, to promote eight-bell ringing at Biggleswade (providing permission can be obtained from the Vicar), on the first Monday in the month, so as not to interefere with the other practices.-A very pleasant time was spent by all the members. The Vicar kindly provided tea at the Vicarage for those attending, and at the close a hearty vote of thanks was passed to him for his kind hospitality, for the use of the bells, and for presiding at the meeting.

MIDLAND COUNTIES' RECORD.

The committee of the Midland Counties Ascociation, in the annual report, have the gratifying statement to mako that the record of the Association in 1911 ( 158 peals) surpassed all previous ones, and that again in the year 1912 a fresh and substantially increased reoord is created by the achievement of 172 peals. Of these 29 were rung by the Burton district, 27 by the Leicester district, 27 by the Nottingham district, 23 by the Derby district, 15 by the Chesterfield district, 14 by the Birmingham branch, 11 by members of the Hinckley district, nine by members of the Loughborough district, and 17 by mixed bands. Excluding the mixed bands, 27 companies appear to have contributed peals, a number falling short by three of the record figures of 1911. But the difference, even in view of the larger total of peals, is not of sufficient importance to detract from the satisfaotion of the encouragingly wide distribution of the performances. The 6160 Oxford Treble Bob Royal (at Chesterfield) was the longest length in this method on ten bells by the Association. A fair number of peals of Superlative and Double Norwich Major had been scored. It was, perhaps, regrettable that only single peals had been rung in most of the other advanced methods. The number of hon. members was 37 against 40 in 1911; of ringing members 677 as againsi 686, and of life members 294 as against 279, making a total of 1,008 , as against 1,005 .

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.  BENEVOLENT FUND DISOUSSED.

On Saturday last, the members of the Manchester branch met at Eccles Parish Church. The meeting was very representative, including visitors from Bolton, Oldham, Macclesfield, etc.-Mr. J. Barratt, vice president, presided, and gave a hearty welcome to the ringers. He expressed the hope that a deep interest would be taken by the members of the Association in the affairs of the society. The question of a benevolent fund was discussed by several members present. - Mr. Burley Wallshaw, of the city police force, was clected a member of Whe Association.-A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar, wardens, and local ringers, for the use of the bells, ete. The following methods were rung during the day: Grandsire, Plain Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative.

MR. RICHARD NEWTON'S DEPARTURE.

On Saturday week, at the Manchester Town Hall, an attempt was made to ring a peal of Stedman Caters to commemorato the pending retirement of Mr. Richard Newton from the Manchester police force, and his departure to Boston, U.S.A. Unfortunately, after 1 hr. 8 mins. good ringing, the peal came to grief
Afterwards, Mr. Newton entertained the band and some personal friends to tea. Subsequently Mr. S. Scott was elected to the chair, and moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Newton for his kind hospitality. He felt sure that all present would agree with him when he expressed sorrow that the peal had failed, and he was also sure those present were sorry they were about to lose Mr. Newton, who had won his way into the hearts of all ringers with whom he had come in contact. He assured him that he carried with him the good wishes of all his friends for his futire prosperity.
Mr: J. W. Washbrook, in seconding the resolution, said he fully agreed with all that Mr. Scott had said, and thought Mr. Newton would succeed. He had been a pioneer of good ringing since he became a ringer in the Manchester police force.
Mr. Alfred Barnes, who supported the motion, thanked Mr. Newton for having on several occasions invited him to take part in peals rung at the Town Hall. He had, however, always felt unable to accept, not because he did not appreciate the offers, but simply because the bells were too heavy. He assured them that he held Mr. Newton in high esteem, and he hoped ho would prosper in his now venture in Boston.
Mr. W. II. Idle also supported the resolution. He felt great pleasure in being present, and spoke of the great esteem in which Mr. Nenton was held by all ringers kuown to him in the Lancashire Association. He said he had known him personally for several years, and had had the pleasure of ringing several peals with him. Mr. Washbrook bit the nail on the head when he said that he was a pioneer of good ringing. His past work was sufficient evidence of that. With regard to his future career, he said he had great hopes of his success, for Mr. Newton had a stout heart, and was now undertaking what might daunt many a younger man. He wished him "God-speed," and hoped that they would often hear of him, either by letter or by means of the ringing papers.-The resolution was put, and carried with acclamation.
Mr. Newton, in response, thanked them one and all for their kind expressions and good wishes. It would be a source of great pleasure to him when abroad to think of the many friends at home and the many pleasant occasions on which he had met them. He would see to it that he kept in touch with them, and would always be glad to hear from any of them.

IN THE WEALD OF KENT.

A very successful and enjoyable time was spent during Easter in the Weald of Kent by the following members of the Kent Association: Messrs. Frank Bennett, of London; R. J. Dawe (or "Bobs'), of Sussex; H. Blackwell (The Village Blacksmith), from Chelsfield; R. Edwards, A. Allen and C. Tribe, of Tenterden; F. G. Burden and A. Blackman, of Rolvenden; the Brothers E. and F. Lambert, of Horsmonden; C. W. Player, of Stone-in-Oxney; and W. H. Lambert ("The Earl of Benenden'). A start was made about 10.30 on Monday morning at Tenterden, and a good peal of Stedman Triples was successfully accomplished in 3 hrs. 14 mins. on this noble peal of bells. After a good sound huntsman's lunch and a rest, a move was made for Rolvenden, some on two wheels, others on four, and after a oup that cheers, etc., 'go'" was called, and the second peal of Stedman completed in 2 hrs . 52 mins. Then, with tender hands but glad hearts, all sought wellearned repose with orders for Beneden the next morning at 8 o'clock. Needless to say all turned up in good time, but an early service compelled the visitors to wait till 8.50 before commencing, and as there was another service at 11.30 , time was all too short to squeeze a peal in. However, nothing ventured nothing had, so "go" for Stedman was called. But as the saying goes, "Tis not the miles we travel, but the pace that tells," so it was in this case, for at the terrific pace they were going the first trip brought the bells in a lump, and so brought the peal to an abrupt termination. A touch of Treble Bob Major was then rung, and the bells lowered. After a look around the village the party dined with "the Earl" at Ye Old Manor House, and then off to Goudhurst for the last peal of the tour. After a stroll through the village and a sucoessful hunt for the smuggler's stone recorded in James' book, "The Smugglers," tea was enjoyed. The tower was then ascended, ropes adjusted, etc., and the third and last peal of Stedman of the tour was well rung in 3 hrs. 5 mins. It was the first peal of Stedman by two of the band, and terminated a most enjoyable tour in the Weald. The band wish to thank the clergy of the various churches for their kind permission to ring; Mr. C. Tribe, hon. district secretary of ihe Kent Association, for making all arrangements; and, above all, Mr. F. Bennett, the New Cross pilot, for so ably conducting them through the "booss" and" "singles" of the "River Stedman," and bringing them safe into port with such a slight loss of "cargo."

A SUSSEX OUTING.

The Salehurst, Sussex, ringers held their annual outing on Easter Monday, when they visited Waldron and Dallington, accompanied by two members of the Battle company. Waldron was reached at 11.30 a.m. On the bells, a nice light ring of eight which "go" like tops, a touch of Grandsire Triples was tapped off to "ring in the bride," for there was a local wedding to be solemnised. Afterwards several touches were brought lound, the band taking their departure at 2.30 p.m. Dallington was reached, at 4.30 . Here is a splendid ring of six, which could easily be made tell a better tale in method ringing. The visitors were met by Messis. Johnson and Lovell, and several 120's were tapped off. The only "peal" tablet in the church is one bearing the date 1898, and recording a "peal of Doubles" called with three bobs and :six singles, and rung in six minutee.

The bells having been lowered, the ringers repaired to the Swan, where tea was partaken of, and subsequently there was a smoking concert arranged by Mr. Jook, and presided over by the churchwarden, Mr. J. Peploe. The toast of the evening, "The Salehurst and Battle Ringing Societies," was propoced by the Chairman, and Mr. Booth, responding on behalf of the Salehurst band, urged, as a native of Dallington, the necessity of the Dallington band becoming without delay affiliated to the Sussex Association. Unless they did this, he said, they could scarcely ever hope to make progess, or to make the ringing of such a nature as to arrest the attention of the younger men, who were constantly coming and going.

It had been said that they could get on if they had a leader like himself, but he would remind them that his knowledge was due to Mr. Franks, who had acted as instructor to the Salehurst band since they joincd the Association.-Mr. Franks responded on behalf of the Battle Society, and endorsed what Mr. Booth had said. He knew quite well that a feeling existed sometimes after a meeting that the ringing had been of a very poor nature, and that it held out little or no inducement for fresh bands to join, but he reminded his hearers that it was a mistake to take this view. Those who attended these meetings were not a selection of "crack" ringers, got together to exhibit their skill before a few locals, but a number -pf men who cams together for the benefit of one another, and to help forward those who were prepared to attempt a course or a touch of something that opportunity afforded. He looked forward with the greatest conficlence of seeing the Dallington branch affiliated to the Sussex Association. -Mr. Booth next proposed-the health of the Chairman, the toast being responded to by Churchwarden J. Peploc.

This is recorded as one of the best outings the society have experienced. The members who took part in the outing were: Messrs. T. Booth (captain), E. Mills, W. Hoad, J. Goodsell, C. Creasey, F. Morgan and Peacock (Salehurst), and Messrs. Franks and Thomas (Battle). The band regret the absence of Messrs. W. Cramp and W. Robinson, through indisposition. The ringers wish, through "The Ringing World," to thenk the Rev. W. J. Humble Crofts, Rector of Waldron, and the Rector of Dallington for the use of their bells.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The Easter meeting was he'd at Whitby on Bank Holiday, and there was a good attendance of ringers from Robin Hood's Bay, Skelton, Maske, Middlesbrough, Stockton, Darlington, Shildon, Ormesby, Hemingbrough, and the local company Dinner was provided at Bottram's Cafe, the Rev. W. P. Wright, President, being in the chair, supported by Mr. George Alexander (vice-president), Mr. White (churchwarden), and the secretary (Mr. 'T. Metcalfe). The company numbered about. 40. After dinner, the usual toasts were duly honoured.

The President proposed that the best thanks of the Association bo given to Canon Austin and the churchwardens for the uso of their fine old peal of bells, nand coupled with it the name of Mr. White (churehwarden). He said he had a warm corner in his heart for the fine old town of W"hitby, for he had been accustomed to visit Whitby from his boyhood, and hodl spent many happy days there. He thanked the number of ringers that had turned up to make the meeting such a success.-The motion was seconded by Mr. Alexander, and cartied by acclamation.-Mr White, in responding, weleorned the Association to Whitby. He had, he said, found that the bell ringers were a fine lot of men, and the interest they took in their work was shown that day by the numbers that were present at the meeting.
Abnut a dozen new members wore elected, and good ringing was done during the day in various methods, including Bob Triples, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Major, Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal and Kent Royal. All present were quito satisfied with the suceess of the gathering.

PRESENTATION

An interesting function took plane in St. Modwen's Church belfry, Burton-on-Tient, on the evening of Easter Day. Mr. W. J. Smith, who has been connected with the band for 29 years, and was leader for nearly half that period, was leaving the town, and his colleagues presented him with a handsome electro-plated tea pot, and a small purse of gold.-The Vicar, who was accompanied by the churchwardens and other friends, made the presentation. It may be mentioned that during his career, Mr. Smith has "pulled the ropes" at almost every church within a thirty miles radius of Burton. He leaves the town with the hearty good wishes of his comrades.

STEEPLE KEEPER ELECTED COUNTY COUNCILLOR.  PRESENTATION AT MITCHAM.

At the conclusion of the weekly practice of the Mitchem Society, at the Parish Church, Mitcham, the members presented Mr. J. D. Drewett, the treasurer and steeple keeper of the society, with a handsome black marble inkstand, suitably inscribed, as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by his brother ringers, and a mark of appreciation of the many kindnesses shown towards them.-The presentation was made by Mr. Chas. Dean, late secretary of the Surrey Association, and an honorary member of the Mitcham Society, who expressed the great regard and friendship felt by the members for Mr. Drewett. - Mr. Drewett, in a most feeling reply, thanked the members for the unexpected pleasure. He said he should treasure the gift as long as he lived. What he had done had been a work of love, and as his father before him had done, he should always have at heart the true interests of the ringers and their proper recognition as church workers

Mr. Drewett has been connected with the Mitcham tower for the past thirty years, his late father having also been a ringer in tho same tower over sixfy years ago. Mr. J. D. Drewett occupies a place of high esteem among his fellow townsmen. He was chairman of the Croydon Buard of Guardians during the past year, and has recently been elected a member of the County Council.

RINGERS IN CANADA.  NAMES AND ADDRESSES WANTED  To the Eiditor

Dear Sir,-No doubt some of the ringers in the Old Land know of brother ringers who are living in or around the cities of Toronto and Montreal. I should be very glad if I could get the names and addresses of some, at least, of these men. The only way this can be done is for friends at home to let me have this information, and I should be glad if they will send to me at this address.
As you will be aware we do not possess many bells in Canada, but we have $n$ fine peal of ten at Montreal, and it would bo quite a treat if we could get a band to go down there and have a pull together

I should esteer it a favour if you would make this known through your valuable paper. With best wishes, yours faithfully, Wycliffe College, Toronto, Canada.

RINGING BY DIAGRAM.

The figures at the side show the starting place of eachbell; the small lines intersecting the diagram mark the place where the treble crosses the path of the working bell, and the asterisks the place where the working bell dodges with the treble.

In addition to the asterisks shown above, there are dodging places with the treble in Wragby, in the second lead, after the whole pull in $5^{\text {th's, }}$, and, in the third lead, in $3-4$ down, and after the last whole pull on the front. In Willesden the dodging with the treble is, in the first lead, before the first whole pull on the front and the first dodge in 3-4 up; in the third lead before and after the whole pull in 5 th's, and, in the last lead, in 3-4 down, and after the last whole pull on the front.

THE BOB WORK.

Wragby.-A, make 4th's and take up the work of the $4^{\text {th. }}$ B, continue dodging and take up the work of the 6th. C, dodge instead of lying a whole pull and take up. the work of the 5 th.

Willesden.-D, make 4 th's instead of dodging, and take up the work of the 4 th. E, run in, instead of dodging in 3-4, and dodge with the treble, taking up the work of the 2nd. F, run out instead of making 2 nd's, and take up the work of the 3 rd.

St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton.

Tenor ( 33 cwt .) of the New Ring of 12.

messps guifrun chavbers, wolvirrampton, Gortlemen

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you bas proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BECK,

Architect, Diocesan Survayor.

PEAL POINTS AND THE ANALYSIS.

The approach of the Central Council meeting is heralded by the appearance in our columns this week of the first of the reports of its committees. So far as the Exercise at large is concerned these reports, dealing as they do with the peals analysis and the knotty question of peal points, are those in which the general interest will be by no means the least. It will be observed that the report on the peals analysis section does not include on this occasion the customary tabulated statement with regard to the peals rung. The explanation of this is the exceptional circumstances detailed in the reports, which in the opinion of the Analyses Committee make it desirable that the analysis itself should be withheld until after the meeting of the Council, to whose consideration they think it should be submitted prior to its publication.

The exceptional circumstances are that the committee have had to shoulder a kind of dual responsibility, for it will be remembered that the Council, at the last meeting, handed over to them the duties of the Peal Points Committee. They have had to go very deeply into the thorny question of points, and, having found it necessary to readjust somewhat the scale laid down by the Council for six bell peals, did not, we suppose, like to publish their statistics until their action had been approved by the higher body. And even so, it is proposed to issue the analyses with the societies arranged in alphabetical order, in consequence of the difficulty of combining the scale for peals on seven bells and upwards, with that adopted by the Council for Minor.

It is impossible, we believe, for the question of peal points to be settled to the satisfaction of everybody; but those who consider with an open mind the report of the committee, which we publish to-day, must be impressed by the splendid effort which the committee have obviously made to solve a problem far more complicated than the ordinary ringer has, probably, ever imagined. They have endearoured to grapple with the subject from a practical standpoint, as evidenced by the fact that they have called into counsel experienced conductors. They have classified the methods very largely from their real intricacy for ringing-we are not going to quarrel here with the inclusion of a method like Forward in the same class as Sted-man-they have done away with many anomalies, and they have certainly gone a real step forward in accurately gauging the relative merits of peals of Minor and those on higher numbers. The report is a fine testimony to the trouble to which the four gentlemen, who have signed the reports, must have been put and the pains which they must have taken to arrive at a result which may be generally acceptable to the Exercise.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomeld Ficarage, Chelmsford

Dear Sirs,
I bave great pleasure in stating that weare perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you have cririad aut the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging Ete Broomfeld Church Bells.
We consider that the work releots great credit upon your tim, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CEURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CAEAS. EDMTNDS,
Vicar of Broomteld.

DIVISION OF COUNTY AREAS.

 To the Editor.Sir,-Your remarks on this subject in last week's issue are borne out by the experience of the Essex Association. Some years ago, while I was Master, we carried out a division of the county area into four districts, each with a local Mastw and secretary, and with periodical district meetings so arranged that, as far as possible, there should be a meeting somewhere or other every month; each district to manage its own finances under the general supervision of the offers of the Association. This experiment in a modified form of "Home Rule" has fully answered our expectations. It bas stimulated local interest, and benefited the finances of the Association; and it has given to leading ringers in different parts of the county the welcome feeling that they are, to a large extent, managing their own affairs, instead of dopending entirely on central management.
As to Devon, the conditions there are peculiar. The prevalence of round and call change ringing in those parts is not due so much to benighted ignorance as to long tradition and honest conviction that theirs is the better way. Devonshire ringers of the old school are (or used to be) very particular about good striking. I have heard them raise and fall the bells in a style that no Londoner, and not many others, can approach or surpass; and I have sometimes thought, on returning from a visit to the West Country, that it was a pity that in London and the home counties so little attention is paid to this phase of the ringers' art, as an excellent test of skill within the tower, and very pleasing to the ear outside it.
There seems to be a disposition now to consider the public ear in the matter of peal ringing. Is it rank heresy to suggest that wellstruck call changes preeeded and followed by really good raising and falling may sometimes-e.g., before a Sunday service-be more pleasing than a bout of halting or irrogular change ringing? In master hands, of course, thero is no doubt which is the better way: but what proportion do such bear to the whole body of change ringers?- Yours faithfully,
T. L. PAPILLON.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

MR. RICHARD NEWTON, OF MANCHESTER.

One of Manchester's best known ringers, Mr. Richard Newton, is shortly leaving these shores for Boston, U.S.A., and several farewell peals have been arrangedtwo have already been rung-in the district where he is so justly esteemed. On Tuesday last he retired from the Manchester City Police, in which he has served for over 27 years, having joined the force on October 26 th, 1885 , and he takes with him across the ocean the best wishes not only of his large circle of ringing friends, but also of his comrades in the force in which he served so long and so well. He has been presented by the members of his division with a handsome striking clock, with Westminster chimes, as a token of regard, upon his retirement.

Mr. Newton was born at Norton, Stockton-on-Tees, on February i4th, i864, and very early in life went to work at the blast furnaces there and at Middlesbrough. At the age of 2 I , however, he migrated to Manchester, where he joined the police, and, through them, took up ringing, for he became a member of the Town Hall ringers, which consists exclusively of members of the City force, in r89i. For a few years the band was content with call changes, but with a change of conductors in 1898 change ringing was taken up. In that year Mr. Newton rang the tenor to a peal of Grandsire Caters at Manchester Cathedral, and afterwards got an introduction to Messrs. Harry Chapman, A. E. Wreaks and others at Pendleton, where he learnt the mysteries of Treble Bob and Stedman. His first peal away from home was at St. Mary's, Walthamstow, where he rang the ninth in Grandsire Caters, under the conductorship of Mr. Robert Maynard, junr. Then followed peals of Stedman and Kent Treble Bob, the first in the latter method being with Mr. J. H. Blakiston at Middlesbrough.

Mr. Newton is one of the " heavy end" men, and probably his best performance in this respect was when he rang Manchester lown Hall tenor ( 52 cwts.) to a very fine peal of Stedman Triples-a performance which requires a good deal of beating. Some seven years ago the Town Hall ringers nearly scored the first policemen's peal, a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. John's, Deansgate, Manchester, being lost in the last 500 of Holt's ten-part. Lack of opportunity to meet for another attempt resulted in having to let the laurels go to Mr. Cornelius Charge and his brother P.C.'s of the Metropolitan force. There is great difficulty in policemen meeting for peals on account of duties, but Mr. Newton always made the most of his oppor. tunities, and has taken part in 82 peals, although his ambition to ring an inside bell in Stedman Caters and Cinques does not now seem likely to be achieved. The opportunity of ringing a peal of Cinques seemed likely last Saturday, at Oldham, but, owing to the ringer who intended starting on the tenor not feeling fit, Mr. Newton volunteered for the job, and happily saw the completion of the peal. Mr. Newton's 82 peals include Treble Ten at Manchester Town Hall, to which he rang the gth, and they have been rung in 3 I towers in eight counties.

ODD CHANGES.

The Rev. C. C. Cox, honorary secretary, draws the attention of members of the Warwickshire Guild to the alteration which has had to be made in the place of the next quarterly meeting. The Guild is unable to have the use of the bells at Erdington on the 26 th inst., and Canon Barnard has kindly offered a welcome to Sutton Coldfield. All the other arrangements will stand.

The subscription list opened for the benefit of Mr. J. Brooks, of Walkden, will, we are requested to state, close at the end of this month.

The dedication of two new trebles at St. Leonard's Church, Horringer, Suffolk, took place on Monday week, and the first peal on the bells was rung on Saturday by the St. James' Society, Bury St. Edmunds. We hope to give a further report next weck.

One of the delegates to the next conference of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows which is to be held at Scarborough in Whit-week, writes to know if any ringing is to be had in Yorkshire's premier watering place. We imagine there will be no difficulty. Scarborough has a band affiliated to the Yorkshire Association, and the local secretary is Mr. J. R. Barton, $7^{I}$, Caledonian Street, Scarborough.

THE PEALS ANALYSIS.

DIFFICULTTES OF ALLOTTING POINTS.

The following is the report of the Peal Analysis Committee, of the Central Council, usually appended to the Analysis of Peals. This year, owing to the exceptional circumstances detailed in the reports, published below, the committee are of opinion that the analysis itself should be withheld until after the meeting of the Council, to whose consideration they think that it should be submitted prior to its publication.

CHARLES D. P. DAVIES.

AN INTRICATE SUBJECT

The questions which have presented themselves to the Analysis Committee for solution this year have been of considerable number and magnitude, and we venture to hope that in the matter of points for peals, which was relegated to us at the last meeting of the Council, we have arrived at a workable result, if it cannot be looked upon as perfect.

The subject is so intricate that the result is hardly likely to be accepted at once by every member of the Exercise; but we can assure any who may be disposed to oriticise the details of our work, that we have spared no amount of labour since the last meeting of the Council, and have used every means at our disposal to arrive at a fair solution of a very difficult question, in which absolute mathematical accuracy is unattainable.
We feel strongly that any arrangement come to must be imperfect, as one of the most important factors in arriving at the real value of a peal, the personal equation, has of necessity to be ignored. To give an illustration. A peal of Bob Minor was rung on January 20th, in which we learn that it was the first peal by the first five ringers, and the first as conductor by the ringer of the tenor. Again on May 11th we notice a peal of Grancisire Triples, which was the first peal by the ringers of $1,2,3,4,5,8$, first as conductor by the ringer of the 6 th, and first peal by the local band. On December 28th, a peal of Bob Minor was the first peal by five of the band, and first peal with a bob bell by the other, while it was the conductor's first as conductor, and the first peal on the bells by the local band.
Such performances as these (and other instances might be given) are relatively of greater value really than peals in more intricate methods rung by bands of experienced ringers, who have, perhaps, been ringing one or more peals every week for a long period. But it is obviously impossible to take such circumstances into account. Points seem to bo necessary as a means of comparison, though we wish that some other method of comparing the results of the analysis could be found. We have accordingly endeavoured to apportion them as fairly as the circumstances will permit.

ADJUSTMENT OF DIFFICULTIES

The steps taken, and the results arrived at with regard to points for "peals," and for" "performances" on six and five bells are presented separately. It only remains for us to say that the adjustment of the two scales, and the finding of a common denominator has been a matter of considerable difficulty. We trust that, in all the circumstances, the efforts we have made will meet with the approval of the Couricil and of the Exercise at large. We can only say that we have done our best in a very difficult matter.
The scale for Minor methods adopted last year gave seven points for seven 720's of Plain Bob, possibly the same 720 rung seven times, while seven points is the time-honoured allowance for a peal of Grandsire Triples. This is obriously unfair. We have, therefore, been compelied to adjust the standard of comparison either by marking up peals on seven bells and upwards, or by marking down those on six bells. Having regard to the fact that by ringing more than one Minor method the points very easily rise above the value of a peal of Grandsire Triples, we have come to the conclusion that the latter is the best solution of the difficulty. This is dealt with more fully in the separate report on the points for Minor and Doubles.
We have been in much uncertainty how to deal with Minor performances consisting of touches of less than 720 changes. One peal of "spliced" 720's was withdrawn because one 720 turned out to be false. In the case of the performances we are speaking of, no 720 at all was rung, and many changes must have been altogether omitted. While, therefore, we feel that these collections of touches in many different methods are great achievements, we do not consider our selves justified in allotting to them the full number of points.
Two peals of Minor have in the past year been tapped upon hand bells; but as they were not rung, and the bells were not "retained in hand," we are of opinion that the Council would not wish them to be included in the analysis. They were certainly marvellous, and merit a word of notice, but, if they were to be included, we could hardly omit peals tapped upon the piano or dulcimer, and it is clear that a line must be drawn somewhere. We are not at all certain that it would not even be better to place the handbell peals in a separate analysis.

The reports of peals sent to the ringing papers seem to have been more carefully written. The errors needing correction are fewer this yenr, in spite of the enormously increased number of peals which the analysis shows. May we once more urge upon those who send reports of peals to examine them oarefully when printed, and ask to have any errors corrected at once $P$. This would save the committee much time and labour in compiling the analysis.

INTERESTING STATISTICS.

The numbers of those who rang their first peals on tower bells are curiously similar to those of last year. First peals were 609 in 1912, against 604 in 1911. First peals away from the tenor number 13, the same as last year, and the first with a bob bell are 70, against 74 the year before. Those who rang their first peal as conductor aro 89, as against 83. "First on the bells" were 79, since restoration, 27 since addition, 11 ; and "first by local band," 15.
Birthday peals show a large increase, totalling 248. Wredding peals numbered 80, including peals for six " golden weddings." Muffled peals were 95 , including two on Good Friday, and cight in commemoration of the "Titanic" disaster. There were 49 "farewell" peals, and 21 of "welcome"; 78 were rung for anniversaries, dedications, etc., and 20 on Royal birthdays and other public occasions. Quarterly association peals were 14. Members of the C.E.M.S. rang four peals, friendly societies two, while clergy, police, market gardeners and the ladies rang one each. One peal was rung to commemorate the opening of a clrinking fountain, and another as a compliment to the churchwardens fur providing a new set of bell ropes! We can imagine many other bands of ringers ready to pay a similar compliment, if only the circumstances admitted of it. We also notice one peal in which a blind ringer took part, two were rung by eight Georges, one by 10 Williams and one by 12 Johns.
Saints' days and other Church festivals were more noticed last year, 52 peals being recorded as rung on these occasions. Possibly other peals were rung for festivals, as we notice, for instance, that 16 peals were rung on January 6th, but in only two cases was the Festival of the Epiphany mentioned. Six peals were rung for har vest thanksgivings, and three muffled on December 31st for tho de parture of the old year, together with 17 others on that day.
Your committee have given careful attention to the work bequeathed them as young as 11. In one peal the ages of four of the ringers were 12, 13, 15 and 16, while in another the ages varied from 12 to 17 giving an average of 15 . On the other hand we find four of 70 and over and one of $86!$ May he be spared to ring more peals yet!

REPORT ON PEAL VALUES.

Your committee have given careful attention to the work bequeathed to them by the late Committee on Peal Values, fully sensible of the difficulties inseparable from any scheme of method classification calculated to give general satisfaction. Whether we hare suoceeded or failed, we must leave to others to determine. For our own part, we can say that we have bestowed an immense amount of care and labour on the subject; and that, but for the valuable help we have received from many ringers of eminence, we should havo found the work almost beyond our powers. Even now, we must ask for the indulgent criticism of the Exercise in respect of the anomalies which still remain. We shall be willing at all times to receive and weigh carefully any suggestions for improvement which may reach us. We would urge, however, that any who wish to criticise should give real thought to the whole subject, and not simply raise objections because they think that some particular pet method of theirs has not received the consideration they think is due to it. If a fair trial be given to tho results we have arrived at so far, we believe that they will be found workable.
In the first place, we were left to frame a table of values according to the amended formula VN ${ }^{\frac{3}{3}}$ which we have found of great servioe, as showing, in a symmetrical form, the limits within which our choice of values lay; subject, of course, to such slight adjustment as the practical experience of some of us in the intricacies of ringing suggested.
In the next place we have endeavoured to arrange a classifica tion of methods from the point of view of a practical ringer, and we believe the classification we have agreed on to be a sound one. It is here, however, that anomalies may bs expected to creep in. For whatever classification may bo attempted, so as to allow for a moderate graduation of difficulty, there will always be found some methods contracting themselves (so to speak) out of any classification that the wit of man can devise; for even a Plain method may be invented as difficult to ring as any Surprise method. Such, however, are exceptions: and with these we must be permitted to deal exceptionally.

CLASSIFICATION OF METHODS.

CLASA I
Plain Metheds.-Comprising all Single methods with the work on one side of tho troble only, with or without a bell in the hunt:-
ianterbury, College Single, Darlaston, Grandsire, Oxford Bob, Plain Bob, Union Triples-with the reverse methods.

CLASS II.
Alliance.-Methods with the treble having an "Alliance hunt," i.e., a combination of dodging and plain hunt.

CLASS III.
Treble Bob. -All methods, not otherwise classified, with the treble a dodging hunt:-Kent, Oxford, Woodbine, Violet, London Treble Bab, ets.

CLASS IV.

Double Plain.-All methods with the treble a plain hunt, and the same method work on each side of the treble:-Double Bob, Double Grandsire, Double Norwioh, Double Oxford, etc.

CLASS $V$.

Compound Plain.-All methods with different method work on each side of the treble:-St. Clement's, Hereward.

CLASS VI.

Stedman, etc.-Odkd bell and even bell methods, in which all the bells work alike:-Frin, Stedman, Aston, Duffield, Forward, Handsworth, Original, Shipway.

CLASS VII.

Double Surprise.-Surprise methods (i.e., Treble Bob methods with a place at every cross section) with the places all made right, and the same method work on each side of the treble, i.c., double:Superlative, Oxford, New Cumberland, Norfolk.

CLASS VIII.

Compound Surprise. -Surprise methods with all the places made right, and with different method work on each side of the treble:Cambridge, New Cambridge, Gloucester, Yorkshire.

OLASS IX.

Double Surprise (places wrong).-Surprise methods with the places made both right and wrong, and the same method work on each side of the treble, i.e., double:-Bristol, Peterborough.

CLASS X.

Compound Surprise (places wrong). Surprise methods with the places made both right and wrong, and with different method work on each side of the treble:-London Surprise, Cumberland Delight, Sitepney Surprise Royal.
Methorls specially assigned.-Little Bob to Class III, Waterloo Reverse Major to Class VI.

POINT YALUES.

The Point Values for the akove Classification are:-

| Class |  |  | Triples. | Major. | Caters. | Royul. | Cinques. | Maximus. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| ," | Iİ. | $\ldots$ |  | 8 12 | 10 | 12 | 13 | 15 |

| " | X. | $\ldots$ | $\cdots$ | 30 | ... | 63 | ... | 76 |

The foregoing schedule applies to peals of 5000 changes. Peals haring over 7600 to 10 , coo changes count as two peals; those having over 10.000 to 12,000 changes count as three peals; and so on for every additional 2000 changes. This mode of reckoning, however, is net applicable to long paals in Minor methods, the new scale providing already for the length of a peal, by giving additional points for each complete 720 rung.

POINTS FOR PEALS ON 5 AND 6 BELLS.

It will be within the recollection of the Council that, at their last meeting, held at the Church House, Westminster, on the 28th of May, 1912, the Peal Values Committee submitted a scale of points for peals of Minor, the working out of which scale was left to us as members of the Arialysis Committee, and to us was relegated at the same time the duty of formulating a scale of points for peals on the higher numbers of bells, and the adjustment of the two scales.
ln the scale of points for peals of Minor thus bequeathed to us, Minor mothods were divided into four classes, viz.: Plain, Treble Bob, Broken Lead. and Surprise. The Council, in the "Collection of Legiti"Trate" methods, issued under their authority, accepted the definition of "Troble Bob" methods as those "having no places made at a crose section," and "Surprise" methods as those "having places made at all cross sections." The first, second and fourt "th of these classes, therefore, presentod no djfficulty. With regard, however, to "Broken Lead" methods, we have learnt that they are methods without a slow hunt ball in the front for the whole period between the full leads of the treble, and all the "Delight" methods in the "Collection" fall into this class. But there are nther methods rung, which are not included in the "Collection", Woodbine and Duke of York, for instance, are 4th's place Delight methods, but they have a slow hunt bell, and are not "Treble Bob" nor "Broken Lead." To make the work in front b tween the treble's full leads, the only criterion of difficulty seems to us unreasonable, and, in methods in which 2nd's place is nade at the treble's full lead, although the lead may be "broken," the bell making 2nd's place may be in front for a longer time than in the case of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob. In Duke of Norfolk, e.g., there is a bell in front for 16 whole pulls; in Old Oxford Modernised there is a bell in front for 16 whole pulls, and a bell behind for 20 whole pulls.

EXPERIENCED CONDUCTORS' VIEWS.

With regard to "Surprise" methods, there are several called Surprise which, according to the accepted definition, have no right to the name. Huaidersfield is Treble Bob only, Coventry, Worcester, Chichester, Bristol, Lichfield, Ely and Chelsea are all 3rd's place Delight methods. Under these circumstances, we have invited a number of conductors, experienced in Minor methods, to help us in dividing these methods into four classes, according to their practical difficulty. That invitation has been very heartily responded to. The replies have, in most cases, shown that those who were consulted have given very careful thought and much labour to the question, and we wish to give those gentlemen very sincere thanks for the very valuable material which has been placed at our disposal.
There was, of course, no little diversity of opinion. One method was placed in all four classes, and nine were placed in three classes. But, in every case but one, at least one class had only one supporter. As opivions were given on all the methads in the "Collection" and on a large number of others outside it, there was a greater agreement than might have been expected. The personal equation enters very largely into the question of difficulty, and a method, which seems perfectly simple to one, presents much difficulty to another. Those, again, who have not had much experience of the more intricate methods, are naturally inclined to rate methods of moderate difficulty ton highly.
There must be a good deal of difference between the easiest and most difficult method of each class, but this caunot be helped, if the number of classes is to be restricted to four; and we do not think that more than four are necessary or advisable. We have accordingly made a division into four classes, which we hope may find general. acceptance.

COMPARATIVE VALUES.

We were next faced with the difficulty of combining the scale of points for Doubles and Minor with the scale for peals on higher numbers. Taking the points for a peal of Grandsire Triples to be 7, Bob Major 8, and Treble Bob Major 12, we find that, according to the last scale, a peal of Bob Minor (possibly the same 720 rung seven times) will receive the same number of points as a peal of Grandsire Triples; while if one 720 of Treble Bob takes the place of one of Plain Eob, the points are one more than for a peal of Bob Major; and seven 720 's of Treble Bob (possibly, again, the same 720 repeated) receives two more points than a peal of Treble Bob Major. This obviously requires adjustment, and it has been a matter of no small difficulty. But we think, after much consideration, that the scale we have drawn up should commend itself to ringers of Minor methods as fair and reasonable.

We propose to give to a peal of Doubles three points, with one point added for each two methods rung.
To a peal of Minor five points, to which shall be added:
1 point for each 720 of Class II.
2 points for each 720 of Class III.
3 points for each 720 of Class IV, together with 1 point for every additional method of Classes I and II, and 2 points for every additional method of Classes III and IV, provided that complete 780's are rung, either in one or more methods. A peal of seven methods of Class IV should thus be valued at $5+21+12=38$.
Four 720's in one method Class II, and three in one method Class I would receive $5+4+1=10$.
One 720 of Class I. two of Class II, two of Class III, and two of Class IV, $5+2+4+6+2+8=21$.
True 720 's containing methods of more than one class to be considered as belonging to the method of the highest class.
In consequence of the difficulty of combining the scale for "peals" with the scale for Minor adopted by the Council in 1912, we have decided to present the analysis this year with the societies arranged in alphabetical order, giring the totals for Triples, etc., and for Minor and Droubles separately.

Reverse Methods in the same class as direct.
The numbers refer to the Council's "Collection."
Illegitimate" or Irregular methods which have appeared in three or more peals in 1912 are named. All others to be placed in Class I. Gonductors who send reports of peals of Minor to the papers are earnestly requested to state the class to which the methods belong, and also to be careful in naming the methods.

Irondon' appears from time to time without any intimation as to whether London Treble Bob or London Surprise is meant. Again there are Canterbury Pleasure, Canterbury Delight and Canterbury Surprise, and we find the name "Canterbury" alone, without any further description, so that we have to guess which of the three methods was rung.

LEEDS SOCIETY AT GUISELEY

The monthly meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at Guiseley, on Saturday week, when members from the following towers met for practice: Bolton, Holbeck, Hunslet, Ilkley, Queensbury, Calverley, and the local tower; and touches of Stedman, Grandsire, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich were rung. The business meeting was lield at the Red Lion Hotel, the President being in the chair.Three new members were elected, and a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardenc, and the local company, was proposed by J. Woodhead, seconded by P. L. Cooper, and unanimously carried, Mr. J. B. Jackson responding.-The tower was then again visited, and further ringing indulged in.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION REPORT

 To the Editor.Dear Sir, Will you please allow me the use of your columns to correct an error in the composition of a peal published in the above report. On page 102 appears a peal of Bristol Surprise Major (5088 changes) by A. Knights, the calling of the eleventh course of which should read-

\text { M B } \begin{array}{lcl}
\text { W } & \text { HI } \\
\text { - } & 2 & 2, \text { producing } 36245 .
\end{array}

I should be glad if members will correct the same. Yours truly, 49, Wood Street, Walthamstow.
C. T. COLES,

Joint Hon. Sec.

LLANDAFF DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. MEETING AT CAERPHLLLY.

It was a great disappointment to those who journeyed to Caerphilly on Saturday last, especially those who had never heard this ring of bolls, to find on their arrival for the quarterly meeting that the bells were not to be rung, a most distressing caso having just occurred close to the church, a man whose family took the keenest interest in the church, dropping suddenly dead. The Rector explained that he had but just left the house, and that the deceased's wife, who also suffered from heart disease, was in a dangenous state of health, and said it would, therefore, have been most inhuman for the bells to be ringing merrily under the circumstances.
There was a splendid attendance for a quarterly meeting, the Rev. Comnop L. Price presiding. The statement of accounts, with a short report, was presenton, and adopted, and reports were also given is to instruction at Llantrissant and Rhymney.
A discussion followed as to monthly ringing practices being ar ranged, and it was eventually decided that each fowor should make its own arrangement.
New members were elected, and the place for the next Glamorgan quarterly mecting was considered.-On the proposition of Mr. S. Dawe, seconded by Mr. W. Biss, it was unanimously decided that the mecting should bo beld at Pendoylan.
A diecussion followed on the bricking up of the louvres of Caerphuly tower, where, at presznt the bells ano not available for peal ringing, and the Rector promised that something should be done to remedy the evil.
The Hon. Secretary stated that he had received a letter from the conductor of Caldicot tower, stating that the ring of eight there were not to be rung again until the bells were rehung, and that steps were being taken to collect subscriptions for the purpose.

The next quarterly meeting is to be held at Marshfield (Mon.), and it is hoped that the rehanging of Peterstone bells (whicin also comes under the Vicar of Marshfield) will be completed before the meeting takes place.
The Rector then very kindly invited everyone present to tea at the Rectory, where Mrs. Price hadl everything waiting. At the conclusion of the tea, the Rector announced that the Vicar of Llanbradach had very kindly wired to say that the members could have with pleasure the use of his bells. Being only two miles away, the offer was gladly accepted, and the members quickly made their way there, and various methods were rung during the evening.

PRESENTATION AT TROWBRIDGE.

A member of the Trowbridge band, Mr. Harold Butcher, has just left England for Canada, and as a farewell a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples ( 1259 changes) taken from Holt's ten-part was rung by: H. Butcher 1, S. Aldom 2, J. Francis 3, C. Raison 4, A. K. Harrison 5, G. H. Harding (conductor') 6, S. J. Hector 7, W. Baxter 8.

Two days after, the ringers met in the tower to take their faremell of Mr. Butcher, and to maker a presentation to him, the ringers haring subseribed for a very nice shaving outfit.

In the regrettable absence of the veteran captain (Mr. MacCaffrey), Mr. Hector made the presentation. He said how sorry they all were to lose Mr. Butcher. They had had some very pleasant hours together, and he hoped Mr. Butcher would still keep in touch with ringing in Canada. Of course, there were not so many peals of bells in that country as there were in England, but if he could get a chance, Mr. Butcher should not miss it. On behalf of the Trowbridge Parish Church ringers, he wished him every success, good luck, and prosperity, and he hoped when he returned to the old country in years to come, he would bring a fortune with him.-Mr. Butcher, in acknowledging the gift, said he was sorry in a sense to have to leave the ringing. They had all spent some very happy times together.-Mr. E. Coke, who is a great lover of bell music, and a staunch Churchman, added a few words. He said they could never remember the bells rung so well as they were at present, and he could remember them for more than 40 years. He wished Mr. Butcher good luck and prosperity.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A fairly attended meeting was held at Farnworth on Saturday last, when members were present from Bolton, Walkden, and Tyldesley, with some ot the local ringers. Some very good touches of Stedman, Bub Major and Treble Rob were rung. It was decided to hold the rext meeting at St. Bartholomew's, a six-bell tower.

The monthly meeting of the Rochdale Branch was held at Leesfield on Saturday, when members were present from Glodwich, Moorside, O'dham, Middleton, Milnrow, Balderstone, Rochdale Parish, Ashton, Todmorden, Pendleton and Leesfield.-Mr. J. Taylor, of Glodwich, presided over the business meeting, at which it was decided to hold the next meeting at Walsden.-After the usual votes of thanks, the bells were kent going - in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain and Kent Treble Bob Major.

CIIFLSEA. - At St. Luke's Church, on March 30th, for service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Caters, in 52 mins. : J. Barber 1, W. Dean 2, G. Watkin 3, A. Newman 4, H. Burton 5. F. A. Smith 6, E. Recve 7, W. Essery 8, II. Manco (conductor) 9, F. Gibbard 10.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM. RTNGERS' SERVICES AND GIFT RECOGNISED BY PARISHIONERS.

There is an old adage, "Out of sight, out of mind," which is only no often, even in these days, applicable to ringers, for in many cases they receive but little acknowledgment. That this is not the case at every tower, however, is evidenced by the following letter, addressed by the Rector of Birmingham to Mr. A. Paddon Smith, hon. secretary of the ringers at St. Martin's:-

At the Easter Vestry of the Parish, which was held last night at the Parish Church House, it was unanimously and most warmly decided that a very hearty vote of thanks should be conveyed by the Iiector to yourself, and all the members of the St. Martin's Guild, for your very raluable services, and for the excellent way in which tho important duties of the belfry are always carried out. Your very handsome gift to the church of the recasting of the defective bell was also specially singled out for grateful acknowledgment.
It is, I assure you, a very great pleasure to me to convey this vote of thanks to you, and to add my own emphatic endorsement to it.
Will you kindly read this letter to the members present next Sunday, that all may know the sentiments of the officers and congregation, and believe me, yours very truly,
The Rectory, Birmingham.
J. W. WILLINK. Rector.
P.S.-It was a singular coincidence that as I was in the very act of putting the resolution to the meeting and as they all emphatically said "Aye!"-at that instant the bells broke out in peal. Thero was a burst of applause at the extraordinary chance of tho bells beginning just at the very moment of acknowledgment.
The comcidence recorded by the Rector occurred because the Vestry meeting was held on the night of the St. Martin's practice.
Messrs. Barwell have the recasting of the 2nd in hand. The bell has been removed to the foundry, and the new one was to be cast this week. The dedication service will, in all probability, be held on Saturday, May 10th.

EIGHT BELLS FOR WARFIELD.

The restoration of the tower of Warfield Church, Berks, is now going forward, and the new ring of eight bells will shortly be placed in position. On Thursday of last week, a meeting, called by the Vicar, was held to see what could be done to form a band of ringers, and come 25 parishioners attended, which speaks well for the future. The meeting was fortunate in having the presence of a practical ringer in Mr. J. Brant, who gave the prospective members the benefit of his advice, and brought to their notice the advantages of joining the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The tower comes just within the boundary, and should be a welcome addition to this somewhat isolated part of ihe East Berks and South Bucks branch.

GILLETT & JOHNSTON CROYDON, Surrey. beLLS, CLOCKS, CARILLONS.

sil St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton.
Tenor ( 33 cwt .) of the New Ring of 12. widerdn ofa ambrrs, woutrifhamptor,
MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, OROYDON. 4th Mích, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F. T. BECK,

Architeot, Diocesan Surveyor.
MODERN 'WORK.

PEALS AND POINTS.

The more one examines the report on peal values, published in our last issue by the Peals Analysis Committee of the Central Council, the more one is impressed with the able manner in which the committee have dealt with this extremely complicated matter. The work that has been involved is obviously immense, and, when it is remembered that it has all had to be done by correspondence, without a single round-the-table conference, the greatness of the task which the committee have accomplished during the past year must be apparent to all.

The work of the now defunct Peal Points Committee, whose duties were, at the last Council meeting, handed over to the Analysis Committee, laid the foundation for the progress which has now been made in coming to something which may provide an acceptable basis to the Exercise in general. With a formula already laid down, the question of settling the points for peals on seven bells and upwards was largely one of classification, and we think that in this the committee have left little to complain of. Ve mentioned incidentally last week one point that appeared to need some little amendment, viz., the inclusion of methods like Forward in the same class as Stedman, which in the case of Forward Maximus, for instance, would give twenty per cent. more points than to Double Norwich Maximus, which appears in a lower group. This, of course, is an isolated case, and can easily be met by assigning these methods to another class, although, admittedly, this would, to some extent, spoil the symmetry of the classification.

In regard to the points for peals on five and six bells, the Committee have done very valuable work, and have brought the matter of the relative values of peals on these numbers and peals on higher numbers to a stage which should meet with approval. In their classification the Committee have taken expert opinion, and, instead of pitching all methods of one type into one class and all of another type into another class, they have sorted them out according to their practical difficulty. This was certainly the fairest method that could have been adopted, and will, we hope, prove a satisfactory solution to what has always been the most knotty problem of a very complicated subject.

Viewed as a whole, we think the report will be generally acceptable to ringers, and we feel that not only the Central Council, but the Exercise at large owes a great debt of gratitude to the Committee, who, by the expenditure of so much time and trouble, have carried, thus far successfully, towards a permanent settlement, a subject that for years has appeared almost incapable of satisfactory conclusion.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomflald Vicarage, Chelmaford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that weare perfectly astisfed with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging snd re-hanging the Broomtleld Church Bells.

We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your syatem of hanging the bella reduces the vibration of the steal frame supplied by you to a minkmum.

The CHURCHWARDENS unite With ME in this expression of optinion. The BELLRINGERS are also ananimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
CHAS. FDMUNDS,
Vicar of BroomEeld. Messrs. C. CARR, LTD.

* First peal of Royal away from the tenor. † First peal.

The time of the handbell peal of Little Bob Major at Enfield, published last week, was two hours and twenty-one minutes and the number of changes 5040. The Kent Treble-Bob Royal, also rung in hand, was composed by E.. M.. Atkins and was.rung in two hours andi forty-six minutes.

THE OXFORD GUILD.

A combined practice to lend a helping hand to the Tilehurst band, who have been in existence for about 25 years, but as yet have never scored a peal with an entirely local company, was held at Tilehurst on Thursday week. Nearly every member put in an appearance, and the bells were kept going for about two hours in Stedman and Grandsire Triples, the local men taking a great share in the ringing. About 20 members of the Oxford Guild attended during the evening, and were satisfied with the practice. Mr. W. Newell represented St. Lawl'ence's, and Mr. Hopgood, St. Mary's, Reading; Mr. Tucker, Caversham, and Mr. Paice, Wokingham. The next combined practice will take place at. St. Mary's the first Wednesday in May, at 7 p.m.

SONNING BRANCH.

A most successful combined practice was held at Hurst on Saturday last, 27 members being present, representing Finchampstead, Wargrave, Wokingham (All Saints'), Sandhurst, Twyford, Binfield, Easthampstead, Sonning, and the local band. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Minor and Major and Grandsire Doubles were rung.-Tea was kindly provided by the Vicar. The evening was brought to a close with Grandsire Triples and tunes on the handbells in the Parish Room.

PRACTICE MEETING AT HAYES.

By the courtesy of the Hayes Parish Church ringers, the Fulmer band paid a visit to Hayes on Saturday evening, where they were met by several ringers from St. Stephen's, West Ealing, and St. Andrew's and St. John's, Hillingdon, and a good combined six-bell practice was held, touches of Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford Bob, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles being brought round. This is the first half-pull ringing done on these bells since they were restored, and the three back bells rehung by Messrs. Webb and Bennett, of Kidlington. The "go" of them gives every satisfaction. The Fulmer ringers wish, through the medium of "The Ringing World," to thank the Rector and the ringers of Hayes for the use of the bells, and the hearty welcome extended to them, also Mr. J. J. Pratt, of Hillingdon, for making the necessary arrangements.

PRESENTATION TO MR. RICHARD NEWTON. At Glossop, on Saturday, another of the peals arranged as a farewell to Mr. Richard Newton, of Manchester, was attempted, but it came to grief after an hour's good ringing, the method being Kent Treble Bob Major. Afterwards, the band and other ringing friends adjourned to the Queen's Arms Hotel, Old Glossop, where a party, numbering about 30, sat down to dinner. A musical evening followed, with songs, recitations and tune ringing.
There was a pleasant surprise in store for Mr. Newton, Mr. Neal, of Dinting, requesting the Vice-President of the Glossop Association (Mr W. Marsden) to present the departing guest with a silver-mounted ebony walking stick. -Mr. Mareden, in a neat speech, made the presentation, remarking upon the esteem in which Mr. Newton was held by the ringers in the Glossop district. -The stick bore the following inscription: "Presented to Mr. Richard Newton by the Glossop Change Ringers Association, April 19th, 1913.'
Mr. Newton, who was taken completely by surprise, said the gift would always remind him of the kindness shown him in the Glossop were the toasts of "The President and Vice President" and "The were the toasts of "The President and Vice-President" and "The Host " (Mr. Richard Platt). At parting, Mr. Newton received a hearty send-off, with a host of good wishes for his future welfare in his new home beyond the seas.

A RINGER'S WEDDING.

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, officiated at the wedding of Mr. Arthur H. Saxby, of Margate, fifth son of the late Mr, John Saxby, of Langly Court, Canterbury, and Miss Edith Roberts, youngest daughter of Mifr. Charles Roberts. of Margate, which was solemnised at the Parish Chureh, Margate, where for some years past the bridegroom has been a prominent ringer. The ceremony was an extremely pretty one, and afterwards the bells rang out merrily in honour of the event. The happy couple were the recipients of many presents, including one from past and present ringers at the Parish Church. It consisted of a handsome silver rose bowl, bearing the inscription: "Presented to Mr. A. Saxby (captain) by the St. John's Church Bell Ringers on the occasion of his marriage, April 2nd, 1913." The presentation was made by the vicar, and Mr. Saxby made a feeling reply. He said that although comered socially with other affairs in Margate, his happiest moments were when in St. Joln's Church belfry with his ringers. Unity had been their motto for the last 13 years, and tisis, combined with the goodwill of the churchwardens and the real help he hod had from the three vicars he had served under, had brought the present band to efficiency. Before concluding, he said he must refer to Miss Edwards "the Ringers' Friend.'"). Her past and present kindness to the ringers hed been a help to him from the commencement of his position as leader 13 years ago. In conclusion, he thanked them for the complimentary ringing which they intended to do on the occasion of his wedding, and alco trusted that the peal they were going to attempt as a wedding peal on April 24th, and in which he would take part, would be successful.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

A PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT DORCHESTER
The second annual meeting of the Dorchester branch was held at $\mathbf{S t}$. Peter's, Dorchester, on Thursday week, and proved very successful. Representatives attended from Bournemouth, Bridport, Charminster, Fordington St. George's, Milton Abbey, Poole, Puddletown, Upwey, Wimborne, West Lulworth and Wyke Regis, together with a full muster of the local band. The fine peal at St. Peter's (8) and also St. George's (6) were availa ble during the afternoon until 4.15 p.m., when the IRector (the Rev. H. C. Coote) and Mrs. Coote and party, the Rev. W. P. Schuster and Mrs. Schuster, and the Rev. C. A. Phillips ascended the belfry for the ceremony of unveiling a peal board.
The Chairman of the branch (Mr. R. N. Dawes), in asking Mrs. Coote to perform the ceremony, said the board had been erected in the belfry to commemorate the first peal of Cambringe Surprise Major rung in the county of Dorset, and the first peal of Major on the bells.-Mrs. Coote expressed the pleasure it gave her to come into the belfry to unveil the peal board. She had only been in the parish a very short time, but she had heard of the performances and the change ringing of the St. Peter's Society.-Mr. Martin Stewart (Master of the Guild), in proposing a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Coote, said he was pleased to see the peal recorded, as he was with the band when they were touring through the county. He gave an interesting account of tine tour--The Rev. W. P. Schuster (general secretary of the Guild) seconded the vote of thanks, and paid a high tribute to the St. Peter's Society
The peal board is nicely written, as follows: "Salisbury Diocesan Guild. On Thursday, Sept. 23 rd , 1909, in 3 hrs 16 mins., a peal of Cambridge Surprase Major ( 5056 changes), tenor 21 cwt., in E flat; W. H. Fussell 1, H. Hodgetis 2, Rev. A. T. Beeston 3, Rev. H. S. 'I'. Richardson 4, G. Williams 5, J. Thomas 6, J. Parker 7, Keith Hart 8. Composed by C. Middleton, and conducted by James Parker. The first peal of Major on the bells, and first peal of Cambridge in this county.

Afterwards the ringers and friends, numbering 55, adjourned to St. Peter's Institute, where high tea awaited them. The Rector presided, supported by his churchwardens, the Revs. W. P. Schuster, C. A. Phillips (hon. secretary, E. Dorset branch), Mr. Martin Stewart (the Master), and the officers of the branch.-Tea over, the Rector welcomed the branch to his parish, and said he realised the good work the Guild was doing. A few years ago he had the honour to welcome the Guild at their annual festival at Trowbridge.-The Rev. W. P. Schuster proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and his churchwardens for entertaining them so bountifully at tea and for the use of the bells, and for the address the Rector was going to give; and also to the Rev. R. G. Bartlott for the use of his bells at St. George's.-Mr. W. S. B. Northover (Bridport), who seconded, said he was pleased to see the branch getting on so well.

GOOD PROGRESS.

The business meeting then took place, Mr. R. N. Dawes presiding. On the roll being ealled, it was found that twelve towers were represented. The hon. secretary (Mr. C. H. Jennings) exhibited the new badge, which is executed in bronze and silver. It was approved and much admired, and orders were given.-Mr. S. G. Hodges was elected to serve on the general committee, and four new members were elected. The Hon Secretary presented his report for the past year, which showed that six meetings had been held, all well attended, and that the first "aunual" was a record. The membership had increased from 57 to 80 , and good progress had been made in change ringing. Fight towers out of 10 were now ringing half-pull, and the secretary hoped to see the others well on the road to change ringing before another year. Mr. Townsend had been instructing the Wool band, who, besides ringing Grandsire Doubles, could now ring Bob Minor; Mr. White was instructing the Fordington band, who could now ring Grandsire Doubles; the Wyke Regis band had greatly improved in change ringing with the assistance of Mr. L. W. Wiffen (late of Ipswich); Mr. T. Page was assisting the newly-formed Upwey band; while the St. Peter's Society, Dorchester, were now pealable for Stedman. Restoration work had been carried out at Upwey, two new bells having been added, and the other four quarter turned to make a handy peal of six.-The Secretary also presented the balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of $£ 1$ 11s. $9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$.
Mr. R. N. Dawes was re-elected chairman; Mr. G. T. White, branch Ringing Master; Mr. W. J. Benger, deputy Ringing Master; and Mr. C. H. Jennings, hon. secretary and treasurer.-Mr. Hodges, in proposing a vote of thanks to the officers, paid a tribute to the hon. secretary for the way he had worked and brought the branch up to its high standard.-The Chairman also remarked on the work of their secretary.
Mr. Jennings stated he had been in correspondence with Sir Everard Hambro respecting the next meeting to be held in July, and Sir Everard had replied that he would be pleased to place Milton Abbey and the bells at their disposal, and provide tea for the members of the branch. --This announcement was received with applause.
The members afterwards adjourned to St. Peter's Church, where the Guild service was held, the Rector giving an excellent addrese, which was much appreciated. Subsequently a visit was paid to the two towers available, and some good touches were brought round in the standard methods, esnecially at St. Peter's, Messrs. G. F. White L. W. Wiffen and F. W. Townsend acting as conductors.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS.NORWICH.

By J. R. Jerram.

According to Mr. L'Estrange's "Church Bells of Norfolk" published in 1874, there was a detached campanile to the south of the Erpingham Gate, containing a peal of five bells, besides other bells in the central steeple. The great bell was named "Lakenham," after Henry de Lakenham, Sacrist from 1275 to 1289, and afterwards Prior.

He gives extracts from the accounts from 1291 to 1529 for repairs to these bells, which comprise new clappers, "Colstrys." (i.e., brass bearings), ropes, keys, bolts, "gojoyus" (i.e., gudgeons), etc. In 1440 the bells were rehung by Stephen Carpenter at a total cost of $£ 132 \mathrm{~s}$. 3 d . In 1529 we find "paid for emendation of the second bell in the clocker by written agreement 33s. 4d., paid thereof only 15 s., and not more because he (the sacrist) left his office before the emendation of the bell was completed. For a new clapper with other iron work for the same bell 22s. 8d. Other repairs about the same bell i2s."

When the old companile was demolished I have not been able to ascertain.

At the present time there is a peal of five bells in the central steeple. Tenor I3 cwt.; 42 inches diameter, note F sharp. These bells are only hung for chiming by means of ropes on the clappers which are brought down in a row into the triforium. The inscriptions are as follows :-

Treble.

+ FAR MARGARETA NOBIS HEC MUNERA LETA $\square \square \square$
[i.e., Margaret make these gifts a joy to us].
This inscription is in Black Letter Alphabet.
Second.
+ QUESUMUS ANDREA [] (lion's face) FAMULORUM SUSCIPE VOTA $\square \square \square$
[i.e., We pray thee, Andrew, receive the prayers of thy servants].

This inseription is in Black Lettor Alphabet.

The three shields on the treble, second, fourth and tenor are ermine charged with three bells, the lower one crowned. This is the mark of R. Brasyer, a mediæval Norwich bell founder. The third was cast by John Brend, a later Norwich founder.
These five bells are in a minor key, like the front five of a peal of six, being notes C sharp, B, A, G sharp, F sharp, respectively. It is a pity that a tenor in $E$ is not added (although they cannot be rung). They have a most plaintive and melancholy sound as they are.
There was formerly a clock-bell, without any inscription. This was taken down in ${ }^{1} 8_{73}$, when the late Dean Goulburn gave a clock with quarter chimes on all the five bells.

ODD CHANGES.

We hope very shortly to be able to announce the date of the unveiling of the peal tablet to be erected in Cubitt Town Church to commemorate the ladies' peal.

The three juvenile members of Mr. F. J. Johnston's family at Hinton, Worcestershire, have rung another handbell peal; this time in four methods of Doubles. A remarkably creditable performance for such young folks.

Mr. J. R. Barton, of 71, Caledonia Street, Scarborough, having secn the inquiry in our last issue as to ringing at Scarborough, asks us to state that any ringers visiting that town during the Whit-week conference of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows will be gladly welcomed at the tower. If they are desirous of taking a rope in either a peal or touches and will write to him he will be happy to make the necessary arrangements. The Whit-Sunday ringing at the Parish Church will be from 9 to io a.m., and 5.45 to $6.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.

Congratulations to the Mitcham band upon their first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, which is the first in the method for the Surrey Association.

Miss Playle, whose first peal, rung at Dagenham, we record this week, has the honour of being the first ringer of the gentler sex to score a peal for the Essex Association. As a matter of fact she is the only lady ringing member of the Association, and after the peal she was complimented by the band, and listeners outside, on the way in which she rang.

The King's visit to Crewe on Monday was celebrated at the Parish Church by a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal (I320 changes) rung in 59 minutes, the first quarterpeal in the method on the bells: W. T. Holding $1, R$. T. Holding, junr., 2, J. H. Riding 3, H. F. Holding 4, R. Langford, senr., 5, W. F. Hartshorne 6, G. H. Crawley 7, A. Crawley 8, J. Dentith 9, R. T. Holding senr., Io.

The first peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells of St. Mary's, Oldham, was recorded last week. It is somewhat remarkable that it should have been left to this late date for the accomplishment of such a performance, for there have been twelve bells in the tower for generations.

One of the most noteworthy peals ever rung in the tower was achieved over eighty years ago, when the then record of Kent Treble Bob Maximus was beaten, and curiously enough the peal which was then surpassed at Oldham was a 7200 rung by the St. Martin's Youths of Birmingham, 93 years ago this month (April 17 th).

The Oldham peal, rung about twelve years later, is recorded on a tablet in the following terms: " On the 6th day of March, 1832, was rung in this tower $739^{2}$ changes of Kent Treble Bob Maximus, in 5 hrs. 14 mins. 32 secs., by the following persons: Jos. Newton (conductor), i; Jno. Jackson, 2; Jno. Newton, 3; Jas. Mills, 4; Jas. Jackson, 5; Thos. Nicholson, 6; Wm. Rigby, 7; Jno. Brierley, 8; Ed. Taylor, 9; Jno. Whitehead, io; Thos. Chadderton, II; Abram Jackson, 12. Weight of the tenor $34 \mathrm{cwt}$. ." This record stood only until the December of the next year, when it was beaten by the 10,224 at Painswick.

It will be noticed that in the band at Oldham are names still familiar in Lancashire ringing circles. There were two Newtons, and the peal of Stedman Cinques on Saturday week was a farewell to Mr. Richard Newton, of Manchester, who is sailing on the 29th for Boston, U.S.A.

Very few peals of Treble Bob on odd numbers have been recorded, but Oldham can claim at least one of these, for on January 1st, 1847, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Cinques was rung there.

Another famous performance at Oldham was a peal of 14,oi6 Kent Treble Bob Major rung on February 12th, 1821, at the old church of St. Paul, which was replaced by the present St. Mary's Church. Several of those who took part in the long peal of Maximus were in the Major, which was rung in 7 hrs .26 mins. by Joseph Newton, conductor, 1; James Mills, 2; John Brierley, 3; James Taylor, 4; William Rigby, 5; Thomas Chadderton, 6; John Whitehead, 7; James Jackson, 8. Tenor 14 cwt.

THE ANALYSIS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -In perusing the report of the Peals Analysis Committee, published in this week's "Ringing World," I notice they do not intend to include the two peals of Minor tapped on handbels by Mr. J. Segar, junr., during 1912. I hope the Council at their annual meeting will negative this proposal, and give to these two peals at least the same number of points as would be allowed for similar peals rung on handbells retained in hand. Tapping peals on handbells is a great mental strain, and I consider worthy of encouragement. As far as the report for 1912 is concerned, the decision would, of course, only affect Mr. Segar, but already in 1913 another gentleman has como out as a peal tapper, and there may be many others who will try to accomphish similar performances. I trust the Council will recognise the merit due to theso gentlemen, and decide to award points. I should like to congratulate the Peals Analysis Committee on their most exhaustive report, and hope the best thanks of the Exercise will be acoorded to them for what must have entailed considerable time and labour.-Yours faithfully,

Retford.
GEO. R. WINTER.
Owing to a line being dropped into the wrong place in the report of the Analysis Committee, published last week, the last paragraph was made to appear in confused form. It should have read follows:-
"Young ringers are still, we are glad to see, coming on. We find them as young as 11. In one peal the ages of four of the ringers were 12, 13, 15 and 16, while in another the ages varied from 12 to 17 , giving an average of 15 . On the other hand we find four of 70 and over and one of 86! May he be spared to ring more peals yet!"

NEW BELLS AT HORRINGER.

At the pretty little village of Horringer, near Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, two trebles have been added to complete the octave, the new bells having been placed in the tower in memory of the Rev. Lord and Lady Arthur Charles Hervey by their eight surviving children. The Rev. Lord Hervoy was for some years Rector of Horringer, subsequentiy being appointed Bishop of Bath and Wells. In September of last year, the restoration of the church fabric was undertaken, the tower, which had been in a bad state of repair for years, being taken down to the level of the bell chamber, and rebuilt and new pinacles added, a crack, which had extended from roof to ground, being also worked up. Extensive repairs were also carried out to the church, which now presents a fine appearance. The work of rchanging the bells was carried out by Messrs. Day and Sons, of Eye. The 3rd and 4th have been placed in a rider frame, and the otiner six have been hung in the old bell frame, made in 1818, and which has been bolted and strengthened. The tenor has been recast, the old bells quarter-turned, and all of them rehung with the most modern fittings. The treble and second are naturally a greai improvement to the peal, and will be a source of increased pleasure to lovers of bell music. The following are the inscriptions on the new bells:-
Treble: In memory of Arthur Charles Hervey, the gift of his eight surriving children, 1912. Mears and Stainbank, founders (weight, 3 cwt. 0 qrs. 4 lbs.).
2nd: In memory of Patience Hervey, the gift of her eight surviving children, 1912. Mears and Stainbank, founders (weight, 3 cwt. 0 qrs. 15 lbs.).
Tenor (reproduced inscription): The gift of Arthur Bronks, Esq., the Rev. Foster, M.A., Rector, William Dodson, founder, 1818; (added) Recast 1912, Mears and Stainbank, founders, London. Day, Eye, hung us (woight, 9 cwt. 0 qrs. 3 lbs., in A flat).
The bells were dedicated by the Ven. Archdeacon of Sudbury (th) Rav. George Hodges). Dean of Ely Cathedral, and formerly Vicar of St. James' Church, Bury St. Fdmunds. The service, which was largely attended, was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Lord Manners Hervey), and commenced with the singing of the hymn, "We love the place, O God." After special Psalms and lessons, the Archdeacon preached an eloquent sormon from Numbers x, 2. He spoke of the history and uses of bells, remarking that there was nothing that bad so intimate an association with the affairs of men in this land of ours as the parish bells.

After the dedicatory prayers the bells were rung. While the clergy and choir returned from benoath the tower to the chancel, the hyinn, "Blessed city, heavenly Salem," was sung, and a solemn apd impressive service concluded with the Benediction pronounced by the Archdeacon. For eome time after service, short touches of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung, the ringers including the following: Messrs. H. A. Turner, A. E. Moore, J. Sparrow, C. Woodcock, F. Ely, F. G. Dewell, F. Levitt, J. Chinery and R. Wilding (Ixworth), members of the St. James' Society, Bury St. Jdmunds; G. Debenham, J. Debenham, J. Gooch, J. Cater and W. Salisbury, of Horringer. The first peal on the bells was rung on Saturday week by members of the St. James' Sqciety, Bury St. Edmunds, as recorded in our last issue.
CROYDON.-At the Parish Church, for Confirmation service by the Archbishop of Canterbury, on Sunday, March 2nd, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major: W. S. Wise 1, W. States 2, D. Wright (conductor) 3, E. Miles 4, A. Trappitt 5, A. Clark 6, A. Jones 7, W. Groves 8.

THEIR INTERESTING HISTORY.

H. F. C. writes: It may be of interest to the readers of four valuable paper to know that the above peal of bells are now at the foundry of Messrs. Waruer and Sons, and for the benefit of those who treasure history and keep records of old inscriptions, etc., I send the following. Few people will recollect that of the ten bells forming the peal in St. Nary's Church two were for a number of years in St. John's Church, Moulsiam. They were placed there when that building was erected in 1838, but were restored to Chelmsford Parich Church in 1883. The prosent bell at Moulsham was brought from Rettendon, when the ring in that parish was altered thirty years ago. Chelms ford seems to have been rather fond of swopping church bells. In the eighteenth century, St. Mary's hadl a peal of eight, but in or about 1770 the parishioners gare two of them to Writtle in exchange for their chimes which were brought to the county town. According to Morant, there ussd to be "a ring of six beils and a clock," and Muil man notes " a ring of sis bells, a clock, and a set of chimes." Another point of general interest abcut Chelmsford Church bells is that eight of the ring of ten were the first cast, by the famous bell founder, William Mears, when he set up business for himself in the year 1777. One of his little peculiarities was a fondness for poetical inscriptions on his bells, and this he indulged in when casting the peal for St Mary's. The inscriptions run as follows (No. 1 and 2 bear the date 1820, and werc presumably cast by Thomas Mears, grandlon of Wil liam. The remaining eight bells bear the name of William Mears and Co., London, fecit 1777):-
Treble.-The gift of T. Clapham, Wm. Dobson, Downham, Norfolk.
2. The gift of T. Clapham, Wm. Smith, Wm. Baker, and Jno Saltmarsh, Churchwardens.
Tho' much against us may be said,
To speak for ourselves we are not afraid.

Chelmsford Old Bells in the Chltchyard.

4. If you have a judicious ear

You'll own my voice is sweet and clear
5. At proper times our voices we will raise

In sounding to our Benefactors praise
To Honour both of God and King
Our roices shall in concert ring.
7. Thos. Clapham, B. Clapham, and R. Shoobridge Bes. Peaco and good neighbourhood.
Ye ringers all that prize your health and happiness,
Be sober, meryy, wise and you'll the same possess.
Tenor. The Rev. Jno. Morgan, Rector; Messrs. Geo. Simpson, Juo. Ward and Matw. Joyce, Churchwardens, 1777.
In wedlock bands all ye who join
With hands your hearts unite.
So shall our tuneful tongues combine
To laud the nuptial Rite.
The inscriptions on the bells at Chelmsford are also found on those in the towers at Walthamstow, Hornchurch and Great Baddow.
The illustration shows the bells in the Churehyard reaily for the removal to the foundry, and is from a photograph by Mr. Breach, of Chelmsford. While in the Churchyard the bells and frame proved of great interest to the public, especially the decayed beams, several of which had only been held in position by the floor boards.
"Ye Olde Chelmesforde Fete," in aid of the fund for the restoration of the bells, which opened at the Corn Exchange on Saturday, was one of the most intaresting and attractive events that lhave been held in Chelmsford for a vary leng time. 'The opening ceremony was performed at 2.30 by Lady Beatrice Pretyman, the High Sheriff of Essex (Mr. Chartes Round) being the chairman. Arnong the speakers was the Bishop of Barking, Lord Kenyon, and Mr. E G. Pretyman, M.P. It was announced that "on ye entrance of ye Lady Beatrice Pretyman ye Boreham Handbell Ringers will strike a merrie peale.'
Three pageant episodees of Chelmsford of "ye olde daies" were given in "ye playhouse." These episodes formed an attractive feature of the fete. During saturday afternoon there was a lantern lecture by Mr. Robert Warner, of Messis. John Warner and Sons, the bell founders, of Spitalfields, London, on "Bell founding." This was particularly appropriate, as it is to meet the expense of recasting the bells, as well as the cost of cleaning the clock, that the fete had been arranged.
The following " Ode to ye bells" was circulated, and the treble bell of the old eight, having been kept behind and stood mouth upwards for the public to throw coins in, quite a useful sum was collected in this way:-

Once some British Workmen cams from London town,
With pulley blocks and tackle to take the 10 bells down.
Yossibly you'll wonder why this thing was done,
Those who know will tell you it wasn't done for fun.
Our frame was rather shaky, and tone we seemed to lack,
We also thought it likely that some of us might crack.
Our gudgeon pins were worn, sir, and what is really more,
The beams were found defective when they opened up the floor.
Our "friendly neighbour" in the 'Tower refused to stay alone,
And if you cast your eyes aloft his face is only stone.
So 9 have gone to London Town and left me here to say,
Our restoration much depends on what our friends will pay.
The Fete is for this object, so kindly gather round,
And help us just a tiny bit io make $£ 1,000$.
For if you take the clapper andi strike me once or twice,
You'll find my note, "E flat," is really rather nice.

RINGERS' PRESENTATION TO RECTOR.

HALESWORTH AND OHEDISTON SOCIETIES AT DINNER.

'The Ealesworth and Chediston (Suffolk) Ringers' Societies were entertained to dinner at the Swan Hotel by their President, the Rev. A. R. Upcher, who took the chair. The Rector was supported by Mr. FI. A. Mullens, churchwarden, Miss M. de B. Upcher, Miss A. Burton. Messrs. F. C. Lambert (secretary), Jas. Howard (treasurer), W. Baker (assistant secretary), E . Cady (tower keeper), Chediston, and the full strength of the local company, 25 in all, including honorary members from Southwold, Sibton, Henham, Westhall, Rumburgh, aud Wissett.

At the conclusion of the dinner the usial loyal toasts were honoured, and "The Churehwardens" was next given, and cordially received. Mr. Mulens, in response, testified to the interest taken by the ringers as Church workers,- and the pleasure it gave him to be present with them that; evening. They were sorry this would be the Last time their Rector would be with them as their president, and he felt sure he was voicing the feelings of all in wishing him long life, health and happiness.

A GIFT FOR TFIE RECTOR.

During the evening, Mr. F. C. Lambert, on behalf of the INalesworth Society, asked the Rector to accept a small token of their esteem and regard for him, in the shape of a case of silver-mounted briar-root pipes with amber mouthpiece, inscribed on a silver shield: "Preeented to Rev. A. IR. Upcher, M.A., by the Halesworth Sociaty of Ringers, 1913." He hoped he would long be spared to use them, and that they would remind him of the happy gatherings they had had together in the past. -The reverend gentleman, in thanking the company for their present, said he should always have a warm place in his heart for the ringers of his old parish, and hoped they would go on and prosper, and accord the same loyal support to the new Rector as he had himself received from them. In conclusion, he cordially in vited them to come over to Stradbroko and attempt a peal on the fine bells there.
The Sacretary's report was then read, which showed that the ringing for Sunday services had been well maintained, the practices kept up regularly, and that members had taken part in 21 peals during the past year at various towers in the district. A fresh method (Stedman Triples) had been practised, and they were successful with the kind help of their friend, Mr. H. Barton, in getting a good peal on the Southmold bells on Easter Monday. The addition of a new treble at Chediston Church had been a great help to them in their six bell practice, and he was pleased to report that a farewell peal to their Ractor had been rung there on the Mouday evening previous. Taking things all round, this had been their most successful year as a society -The treasurer, Mr. Jas. Howard, read a statement of accounts, showing a balance in hand.

The election of officers was next proceeded with, the Rev. A. Crompton Moore, M.A., being chosen President of the Society.-The Rev. A. R. Upcher's name was added to the list of vice-presidents, and the secretary and treasurer were re-elected with thanks for past services.Courses of Grandsire Gaters and Stedman Triples were rung on the handbells, and several good songs given by members during the even-ing.-A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the President at the elase of the proceedings for his attendance and kind entertainment.

THANKS.

To the Fditor
Sir,-I should very much like to thank the members of the Surrey Association, through the medium of "The Ringing World," for the handsome sum which the committee decided to give me for writing the peals in the Associat on Peal Book, the sum mentioned being upwards of eleven pounds. Tha mombers live too far and wide for me to thank them without your help.-Yours truly, Banstead.

JOHN BEAMS.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

A fairly well attended meeting was held at Raunds on Saturday, Then touches of Double Norwich and Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Bob Minor were rung by members from Thrapstone, Woodford, Addington, Denford, Higham Ferrers, Irthlingborough, and the local band. Miss Evelyn Steel, of Bedford, also took part in most of the ringing.-Tea was provided in the Church Institute.-Afterwards, a short business meeting was held, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. C. C. Aldred), supported by the curate (the Rev. C. N. Daybell), and Mr. F. Stubbs (district secretary). Woodford was chosen for the next meeting, on July 19th. The Vicar was made an hon. member, and one new member from Thrapstone was also elected.
Mr. J. Nickerson proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the local ringers, and to the ladies for so ably waiting on them at the tea, remarking that they always had a hearty welcome at Raunds.- The Vicar, in reply, said he was very pleased to weloome the Association, and hoped they would soon come again. He also thanked them for making him an hon. member. The members afterwards visited the tower, and further touches were rung.

 WULFRUN GHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON,MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, GROYDON. 4th March, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F T. BECK,

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

The arrangements made for the meeting of the Central Council at Newcastle are published in this issue, and it is obvious that the Durham and Newcastle Association intend to make the visit a social success. It cannot be expected that there will be so large a gathering as that which assembled in London last year, for this journey "farthest north" is a rather formidable one for the members from the south. Nevertheless, we expect to find the meeting a representative one.

The agenda is not a heavy one, on paper, although the subjects may well lead to considerable and interesting debate. We are not surprised to see put down for discussion:

The possibility of an unfavourable change in the attitude of the general public towards bell-ringing as a result of the increasing number of peals annually rung." This is a matter which, despite all that may be said to the contrary, is of increasing importance to us as church bellringers. The motion, which has been placed on the agenda, is in very general terms, and will afford the fullest opportunity for the ventilation of every point of view, and, because from a multitude of counsellors we may expect wisdom, as the outcome of this discussion we hope to find some practical advice given. The step necessary to avoid a growth of hostile public opinion need not necessarily be confined to a reduction of peal ringing. There is the important alternative of the structural arrangements in the tower, which, with comparatively small expenditure, can be made very effectually to reduce the cause of annoyance which a sensitive public may experience. If the influence of the Council can be brought to bear successfully in this direction it will accomplish a great and valuable work in strengthening the position of our Art.

In another resolution which is to be proposed, the Council are to be asked to say that Superlative Surprise Royal, as published by Shipway, is the same method as Superlative Surprise Major. This is a question for the theoretical experts, and while it is necessary that these disputed questions should be definitely and authoritatively settled, it is a matter in which the merely practical men of the Exercise can take little interest, particularly as Superlative Royal is a method which is not rung.

The proposal to admit the Ladies' Guild to representation is only the natural sequel to the establishment of an organisation among the fair sex, and although they do not at present possess a membership ( 75 ) which would entitle them to representation, it will not be long before that position will be reached, so rapidly are their ranks increasing. The only other resolution on the agenda is that calling renewed attention to a previous decision of the Council that seven days' notice of any attempt for a peal record should be given.

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broow ield Vicarage, Cheliusford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in atating that we are perfectly satistled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to jou of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broowtteld Church Bells.
We conslder that the work refleots great credit upoh oun; $\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{m}} \mathrm{m}$, and beliave that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibra. llon of the steel frawe supplied by gou to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS undte with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are shiso unanimous in their praise of she alterations effected by you.

Youre truly,

DEATH OF MR. S. STRATFORD, HUGHENDEN.

 A PROBISING YOUNG RINGER.By the denrise of Mr. Sidney Stratford at the early age of 18 years, the Hughenden ringers have lost a much-estecmed member, one who will be sadly missed, and whose place in the belfry will not easily be filled.
The deceased took up ringing some two or three years ago, and made rapid strides in: the art, but heart trouble compelled him to abandon his favourite recreation for some time. On recovering somewhat, he again commenced ringing, and became a thoroughly good and reliable ringer, and rarely, if ever, missed either a practice or service. He had committed to memory over twenty methods, and practically all his spare time was spent in reading ringing literature or writing out touches. In fact, almost his last words were to ask for his "Ringing World," to which he looked eagerly forward each week. He was taken ill with inflammation of the brain about a fortnight ago, and became unconscious on the following Sunday morning, and although he reoeived every attention at the hospital to which he was taken, he never rallied, and passed away on Wednesday, April 23 rd.

The funeral took place on Saturday last at Hughenden, four of his fellow ringers acting as bearers, while every member of the belfry was present to pay their last respect, besides ringers from High Wycombe tower, where the deceased was a regular attendant at the practices. The service was fully choral, Mr. Stratford being an old member of the choir. Both Hughenden and High Wycombe ringers sent wreathe.

In the evening touches were rung with the bells fully muffled, and on Sunday muffled ringing took place all day, in the evening a quarterpeal of Stedman being rung by : John Evans 1, Fred Hayes 2, W. Goodchild 3, A. G. Janes 4, R. M. Hawes 5, F. G. Biggs 6, R. H. Biggs (conductor) 7, Jos. Evans 8.
A quarter-peal of Stedman Caters was also rung at High Wycombe on Sunday evening, with the bells half-muffled, under the conductorship of Nir. J. W. Wilkins.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION.  THE INSTRUCTION OF BEGINNERS.

For the first time in thre history of the Middlesex Association, a meeting of the North and East District was held at Hornsey and Wood Green on Saturday. It was attended by nearly 50 members and friends, the following towers being reprcsented: Barnet, Edmonton, Finchley, Hadley, Hornsey, St. Giles-in-the-Fields, Southgate, Stamford Hill, Tottenham, Clapton, Wood Green and Walthamstow. The bells of St. Mary's, Hornsey, had been placed at the disposal of the members from 3.30, but owing to the serious illness of a parishioner, ringing lad to be curtailed, and very little was done. However, as the bells of St. Michacl's, Wood Greon, were available for ringing from 7 p.m., the disappointment of not being able to ring at Hornsey was greatly lessened.
To save time, so that full use could be made of the period allowed for ringing at Wood Green, the programme was altered, and the business meeting held first, presided over by Mr. F. A. Milne, vice-president. Ten now members were elected, including three of the local band, and one of the Wood Green band.-Votes of thanks were passed to the Recior of Hornsey (tho Rev. B. Spink) and the Vicar of Wood Green (the Rev. G. C. Midwinter) for the use of the bells at their respective churches, and also to the local ringers for their excecdingly kind wel-come- Reports were received from the Master (Mr. J. Armstrong) and Mr. H. Reeves, of the state of the bands ab Barnct and Hadley, where instuction was being given, and in each case the report was considered quite satisfactory.-A bearty vote of thanks was passed to theso two gentlemen for thair services, and also to Mr. N. A. Tomlinson and other members of the Southgate band, for their as sistanco at Barnet, at which tower great progress had been mader during the last few weeks.-The Hon. Secretary stated that instruction was now being given to four bands affiliated to the society. and that arrangements would be made for an instructor to any band belonging to the Association on application being made.
Tollowing the mesting, a short service was held in St. Mary's Church, conducted by the senior curate (the Rev. E. F. Blenken), who took for the lesson, St. Luke xix. from the 12 th verse, upon which was also based his subscquent very instructive address.

Tea. was served in the Parish Hall, presided over by the Rev. E. F. Blenken, who, on behalf of the Rector, welcomed the Association to Hornsey. He said how sorry he was that they had been disappointed in not being able to ring the bolls, but lroped that when they came again they would be more fortumate.-Mr. F. A. Milne replied, thanking Mr. Blenken for his interesting address at the service, and also for presidng at tea. Thanks were also given to the ladies who had so kindly undertaken the catering.
The whole of the company then adjournsd to Wood Green, where the bells were rung to various methods, including Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, College Single, and Oxford ancs Kent Treble Bob. Much satisfaction was expressed, at the "go" of the bells, which have recently been rehung by Messis. Mears and Stainbank. Members and frierrds of the Association are welcome on Monday evenings, when practice is held at eight oclock, and also at Hornsey on alternate Tuesdays from May 13 til.
The next meeting of the district has been arranged to be held at St. Mathew's, Upper Clapton, on the 31st May.

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

THE PROPOSED GIFT TO CHELMSFORD CHURCH.
A very successful meeting of the North Western district was held at Saffron Walden on Saturday wnk, about 38 members being present from Saffron Walden, Stansted, Weiden, Rickling, Bishop Stortford, Cambridge, Ickleton, Braintree, Great Totham, and Coggeshall.-Tea and the business meeting were held in the Parish Room.-The District Master (Mr. F. Pitstow) presided, and was supported by the district secretary (Mr. W. Watts)', the Rer. II. T. W. Eyre (hon. secretary of the Association), and Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Association). Mr. Richard Goddird, of Wenden, was elected a ringing member. Harlow St. Mary's and Waltham Abbey were both proposed for the next meeting, and on being put to the vote, Harlow St. Mary's was selectod.-It was decided that a bye-meeting be held at Elmdon some time bofore the wext district meeting.
The Master of the Association (Mr. C. II. Howard) introduced the subject of the proposed gift by the Association of a bell to Chelmsford, and gave an intoresting account of the procecdings up to the present on behalf of that object. -Mr. J. F. Penning supported the suggestion, and proposed that "this meeting approves the proposal to present one bell to Chelmsford, and that the cost should be defrayed from the reserve fund of the Association."-This was seconded by Mr. H. Little, and carried umanimously.
The meeting terminated witli votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bolls and of the parish room, and also to the Saffron Walder company for their help towards providing the tea.
Touches in the following methods were rung: London, Cambridge, Suporlative Surprise, Double Norwich, Duffielid and Treble Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsiro Triples.

STOKE NEWINGTON. - On Easter Day, at St. Ann's Church, for evensong, 720 Grandsire Doubles: H. Stubbs 1, F. Nunn 2, E. Davidson 3, F. A. Gerken 4, F. E. Ringrose (conductor) 5, C. Davidson 6.

9. That the Ladies' Guild of Change Ringers should be represented on the Council, and, if thought well, to move a resolution on the subject.
10. To call renewed attention to the Council's recommendation passed in 1902, and incorporated in "Rules and Decisions," to the efiect that not less than seven days' notice shall be giren in the columns of the ringing papers stating the tower, day and hour at which any attempt is to be made to surpass any previous peal.
11. To fix the place of meeting for next year
14. Other business, if any.

CHARLES D. P. DAVIES, Hon. Secretary.

The President of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association of Change Ringers, Mr. C. L. Routledge, of 62, Jesmond Road, Newcastle-on-Tyne, announces the following arrangements, which he has most kindly made with a view to furthering the comfort and enjoyment of those attending the Council. Anyone needing further help or information is requested to communicate with him.
On Monday, May 12 th, a room has been reserved in the County Hotel, facing the Central Station, from 7 p.m., for the reception and entertainment of representatives and friends on their arrival. Visitors should ask at the hotel office for the "Prince of Wales' Room." There will be handbells and music.
Visitors able to be present at the Whitsuntide meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Association at North Shields and Whitley Bay will be heartily welcomed and entertained by the members. Formal notice of this meeting appears in the columns of this paper.

Arrangements will be made for a Central Council peal on the ten bells at Newcastle Cathedral on Monday, May 12th, at $5.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Tenor $37 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cw}$.
Peals will be arranged for those spending the week-end in the district if they will kindly send in their names in good time.

Previous to the soiree and conversazione, which will be held as usual from 9 to II p.m. on Tuesday evening, at the County Hotel, there will be a smoking concert at 7.30 p.m. in the same hotel, to which all visitors and friends are invited.

Endeavours will be made to obtain rooms (private or hotel) for those writing in advance for them.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

Solihull has ever been a favourite rendezvous of Birmingham ringers, mainly, of course, because the church boasts an excellent ring of ten with a full-breathed tenor of about $19 \frac{3}{4}$ cwts., and partly because it is an excoedingly pretty old-world town, standing only about 7 miles from Birmingham, and well served by the G.W.R.

Here, then, it was decided to hold the first quarterly meeting of the year, and members foregathered for that purpose on Saturday last, when the clerk of the weather served up one of the most disagreeable days it is possible to experience in this month of April, and only four days from the end, too. However, as one member pointed out, it did not raiu in the belfry, nor yet in the Mason's Arms Hotel, where tea was arranged, so there was at least something to be thankful for.
A framed record in the belfry brings home to one the lengthy connection that bas obtained between the St. Martin's fuild, and Solihull bells. It records the fact that on October 8th, 1786, a "Compleat peal of Bob Major" was rung by the St. Martin's " Youths," in 3 hrs. 10 mins. ( 5184 changes). The band stocd as follows: John Haycock treble, Ed. Harcourt 2, Wm. Bennett 3, John Barton 4, John Black 5, Wm. Coton 6, John Mackenzie 7, Saml. Lawrence tenor. Composed and called by Saml. Lawrence.
The last-named "Youth" turned the scales at something over 20 stone, and it would be interesting to know how long it took him to walk to the station. On second thoughts, we are inclined to believe that the railway did not run to Solihull in 1786, although it is allegad that some of the rolling stock was built in that year!
A substantial tea was provided by Host Walker, and it was noticed that two or throe of the company were evidently under the impression that, although they were not so heavy as Sam Lawrence when they sat down, they might, with a little perseverance, be quite as heavy when they got up!
The business meeting followed, when the tower elections of six new members were duly ratified, and Yardley was decided upon as the place of the next meeting. Other routine business being disposed of, the belfry was again visited, the bells being kept going in various methods till about 9.30 .

BELLS REHUNG AT SOUTHAM.

At the invitation of the Rev. J. Hart Davies (the Rector) and Mr. John Oldham (churchwarden), six members of the St. Michael's Society, Stoke Coventry, visited Southam on Saturday week to take part in the re-opening of the bells, which have been rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co., at the expense of the Oldham family, as a memorial to a deceased sister. Prorision has been made in the iron frame for two trebles, and Messrs. Taylor are to be congratulated upon the way in which the restoration has been carried out.

The Stoke Coventrv men, taking advantage of the gloriously fine weather, made the 13 miles journey upon their iron steeds, and after a pleasant ride, rang a six-score of Grandsire Doubles prior to the dedication service. Immediately after the service an attempt was made for a peal of Minor in three methods, but a shift course occurred after eighteen minutes' ringing. Nothing daunted, another start was made, and this time success attended the efforts of the band, the peal being rung, as recorded last week, in 2 hrs .57 mins.-Subsequently the band were entertained by Mr. Oldham to a sumptuous repast.

A REIGATE RINGER'S DEATH.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce the death of $\mathbf{M r}$, Henry Reeves, of Reigate, after a long illness, at the age of 44 years, Deceased joined the Reigate Borough Police Force and the Parish Church Ringing Society about 19 years ago, having previously served eight years in the Grenadier Guards, in which he rose to the rank of sergeant, being at the time of his discharge, signalling instructor to the battalion.
The funeral took place at Reigate Parish Church, and was attended by a large number of friends and members of the police force. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. F. J. Cutts, and the choir, of which deceased's son is a member, was present, the hymn, "Now the labourer's task is o'er,"' being sung. There were a number of beautiful wreaths, among them one with a hanging purple bell in the centre, inscribed, "With deep sympathy from his brother ringers of the Parish Church.'" The bells were rung, muffled, 270 Grandsire Caters, composed by deccased, baing rung after the funeral.

Mr . Reeves was a keen ringer and conductor, and had rung about 80 peals from Dorubles to Royal. He will be greatly missed in the Southern Branch of the Surrey Association.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

COUNTY CRICKETER AND BELLRINGER.

Imong the Exercise there are many men who excel in other things besides ringing, but Mr. George C. Collins, whose photograph we publish this week, holds the distinction of being, perhaps, the only first class cricketer who is a bellringer in this country. In cricket he is engaged as a professional for the county of Kent, and, as a ringer, he is a member of the Kent Association, being attached to the Milton-next-Gravesend Tower, which possesses a fine peal of six.

Mr. Collins was born at Gravesend in I890, his father Being Mr. Chris. Collins, once the famous cricketer for Kent, now the well known athletic outfitter of Gravesend, and for many years the groundsman at the famous "Bat and Ball" County Ground in that town. Young George tras thus practically born into cricket, and from his young days evinced a desire for that pastime. At the early age of 16 he was engaged by the Kent authorities, and soon proved a "worthy son of a worthy sire." By his consistent form he retained his place in the county and XI, and developed into a first class batsman. Now 23 years of age, he is a fine specimen of an athlete, weighing over $I_{4}$ stones, yet as nimble as the proverbial kitten, a left-handed batsman, and generally sent to take first "knock" at the bowling.

With such an array of talent at the disposal of the Kent Club George Collins did not get much chance to shine as a member of the ist XI, but last year was undoubtedly his best, in spite of it being such a wet season. Singularly enough his first appearance on Kentish soil last year in first class matches was at his home, at the "Bat and Ball," against Essex, but he did not fulfil local expectations, undoubtedly owing to nervousness. He also played against Essex at Leyton, and scored 59, and at Dudley v. Worcester he scored 45. Although failing against Yorkshire and Gloucester, he accomplished his finest performance of the season against Northants, when, in the second innings, he stayed almost through the innings, and by defensive play scored 80 out of 180 . In first team matches he was eighth on the list, his analysis being :-

7 matches, 9 innings, 213 runs, average 23.66.
In the 2nd XI matches Mr. Collins was easily top for county matches with an analysis of :-
9 matches, 370 runs, 107 highest score, average 4 I.II.
Mr. Collins started his ringing career four years ago in company with two of the members of the present Milton band, and in igio rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles. He did very little ringing until the close of last cricket season, although he made an occasional appearance in the belfry during the winter months of IgII-I2, when he joined the Kent Association. When he returned to his native hearth in October of last year he took seriously to ringing again, and rang his first peal of Minor, in four methods, at the end of November. On Easter Monday he piloted the treble through a peal in seven methods, this being the first by a local band in seven methods, and on Primrose Day, as recorded in another column, he also rang the treble to a peal in ten methods, this being the first credited to the Fent Association in that number of methods. In addition to these three peals he has rung 30720 's in ten different methods since the beginning of November, thus proving he can " handle the rope" as well as "wield the willow." Mr. Collins is this week leaving Milton to again fight his way into the Kent eleven. We are sure that every ringer will be proud to see the cricketer-ringer gain a permanent position in the team, and that he will be assured of a hearty welcome in the belfry of any town to which his cricketing duties may carry him during the summer months. An interesting coincidence in Mr. Collons' cricket career last season is worth recording. While completing his best performance of the year, mentioned above, at Northampton, he heard the bells ringing merrily, and on turning to the back numbers of "The Ringing World " we find that on that very day, Tuesday, June IIth, the Northants band were ringing a peal of Superlative Surprise. In spite of George's splendid effort Northants scored a win over Fient.

ODD CHANGES.

Members of the Central Council who are in the north on Whit-Monday will receive a cordial welcome at the Durham and Newcastle Association meeting at North Shields, and at the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association's meeting at Ripon.

The mention, in our illustration, of the fact that Mr . George Collins, of Milton-next-Gravesend, is probably the only bellringer who is also a county cricketer, recalls the fact that one great cricketer, no less a celebrity than M. A. Noble, the Australian captain, was a ringer, and received a welcome in many a tower in this counlry during one of his tours in England.

A correspondent inquires for instances (if any) in the Midlands or South of bells hung with iron stocks and with cannons on. If there are any such cases perhaps our readers will forward particulars.

There was some splendid ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral last Saturday, when an attempt was made for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus on this noble ring of bells. Unfortunately the peal came to grief after about two hours.

Mr. W. McCaffrey, who has just completed 56 years as a ringer at Trowbridge Parish Church, has been presented with a handsome marble clock by his fellow-ringers and friends. The presentation took place on his 7oth birthday.

Hearty congratulations to that veteran, Mr. Isaac Geo. Shade, of Greenwich, who on Saturday rang his I ,oooth peal. Mr. Shade is one of the links with a past generation of great ringers, but he is as keen and as enthusiastic as ever. Despite advancing years he is still game for a record length, and in several of the records which stand today he took part. He was one of the company that rang the clock round at Loughborough four years ago, and only last Whit-Monday was one of the band that accomplished the 15000 of Bristol at Hornchurch.

Only two ringers had previously reached four figures in peals, namely, the late Rev. F. E. Robinson and Mr. Wm. Pye. We wonder whether at some future date it will be possible to get together for a peal a band all of whom have rung a thousand peals? It may be; for there are several men well on the way.

The new 2nd bell at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, is to be dedicated on Saturday, May ioth.

Mr. Frederick Dench, the well known composer, has re moved to Chesterton, Cambridge, after residing for 17 years in London.

A STAFFORD CYCLE RUN.

Norton Canes, situated two miles from Cannock, and just off the Watling Street, was the venue for the first cycling run of the year in connection with the society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford. Unfortunately, the wind and rain caused all but two-from Bloxwich and Rushall towers--to forego their intention of taking part in the run. Many more cyclists, proceeding along the level against the wind, were pushing rather than riding their machines. After some waiting at the tower three of the Cannock ringers arrived on foot, and, the small party of visitcrs being augmented by two of the local men, the bells were raised. After nearly half-an-hour's ringing, the tenor clapper, which had been "attended to " by the local blacksmith, came to grief, and thus terminated a very brief meeting. Lest the meeting should be considered more or less of a failure, the writer would like to mention that the names of two probationers from Cannock were handed in for election at the next quarterly meeting, and the leader of the Norton Canes band announced that he was of opinion that he and his band would now like to rejoin the society, seeing that the society had begun to take some interest in them by organising "runs" to their tower. The next run takes place to Rugeley on May 17th.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION.

A well-attended meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Waldron on Saturday week. Members turned up from the various towers in the county, and good practice was had in the standard methods during the afternoon and evening. The ringers attended shortened evensong in the church, the Rev. W. J. Humble-Crofts (the Rector) officiating. The Rector also presided at the tea and meeting, which followed in the Foxhunt Hall Institute.-A hearty vote of thanks, on the proposition of Councillor Hill (of St. Leonards-on-Sea), was accorded Mr. HumbleCrofts for the use of the bells, arranging the service, and for providing such an excellent tea.

THE WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

DATE OF ANNUAL MEETING CIIANGED.

A quarterly meeting was held at Sutton Coldfield last Saturday, and a very wet day no doubt kept many members away. However, about twenty-four members sat down to tea in the Church House, representing the following places: Rugby, Coventry, Allesley, Nuneaton, Boldmere, Erdington, Sutton Coldfield and Stratford-on-Avon. Evensong was held in the church at 5.0 p.m., conducted by the Rector, who also gave a short address.
The business meeting was held after tea, presided over by the Rector. After the election of members had been proceeded with, it was decided to hold a meeting at Dunchurch-where the bells have just been re-hung-in May, and at Wolvey in June.
The Hon. Secretary mentioned that there would be difficultics in the way of his attending the annual meeting, if held in July, and suggested that it might be transferred to June this year, as the rulc allowed it. -The members agreed to this, and June 28 th was selected as the date, other things being equal. The meeting proposed for Wolvey in June was in that case to be oarried over to July.
Mr. T. Bloore proposed that a very hearty vote of thanks be accorded Canon Barnard for his kind permission to ring, and, not least, for his welcome and hospitality to the Guild, which were much appreciated.This was carried with acclamation, and Canon Barnard briefly replied. The following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening. Sterlman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, and Double Norwich Majoí.

THE CUMBERLANDS AT WEST HAM.

The first quarterly meeting of the year was held at All Saints', West Ham, on Saiurday, and was well attended by members aud friends of the district. The bells were raised at 3.30, and touches of Stedman Caters, Grandsire Caters, Treble Ten, and a course of Cambridge and Superlative Major were brought round before the tea interval. An adjournment was then made to the Meeson Hall, where twenty sat down to a capital tea. The Master (Mr. J. Parker) presided at the meeting which followed, when the election of the following members was ratified: Mr. T. H. Hawkins, of Deptford, and Mr. A. H. Winch, of Leatherhead.-Mr. G. Paice proposed that the next meeting be held at Loughton, but it having been stated that the bells were not in a satisfactory condition, Hillingdon and Heston were proposed, and on being put to the meeting, Hillingdon was carried.-Mr. Neale then proposid that the officers be empowered to remove the society's property from the Bedford Head, as soon as a conrenient place could be decided on, and this was carried.
The Master then proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, and Mr. Doran for the use of the bells. A return was made to the tower, and the bells kept going till 8 o'clock, the final touch being a well-struck course of Cambridge Surprise Royal-the first erer attempted by ten members of the society.

THE PEAL AT MARGATE.

On Thursday week, past and present members of St. John's SocietyMargate, met to attempt a peal on the fine ring of bells in the tower of the Parish Church to celebrate the wedding and home-coming of $M_{1}$. Arthur $H$. Saxby, the genial captain of the local band since il 3 formation in 1901, when the bells were so well rehung by Messrs. Taylor. The weddling, as previously recorded, took place at St. John s Church on April 2nd, and the peal was postponed until the return of the bride and bridegroom from their honeymoon motor tour. The company met at three o'clock, and after just under three hours' good ringing had the satisfaction of hearing the bells run round. The formal record will be found in our peal columns.
Subsequently a reception was held by Mr. and Mrs. Saxby in their new home, tho fingers and some personal friends being invited to dinner. The evening was afterwards devoted to harmony, tho music being interspersed by some happy speeches. Mr. Saxby alluded to the kind feeling that had always existed among the ringers, and had prompted them to give him and Mrs. Saxby such a handsome present (a silyer-mounted rose bowl), a gift which they would always ralue very highly. They were both very pleased that the ringers should have scored stach a good peal in honour of their wedding.-Thanks were accorded Mr. and Mrs. Saxby for their kindness, and wishes were expresed for their long life and happiness.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

A quartorly meeting of the Southern Branch was held at Betchworth on Saturday week, 38 members being present from: Buckland, Burstow, Horley, Nutfield, Redhill and Reigate, and the local band. Service was held in the church, and a capital address was given by the Rev. T. G. Longley. Tea was partaken in the Church Room, followed by the business mceting.-Eleven members were elected to the branch, including the Vicar of Betchworth as an honorary member.-Burstow was proposed for the next quarterly meeting.- A very hearty vote of thanks was accordcd the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his able addeess, and for presiding at the meeting.-Thn Rev. T. G. Longley suitably resporided.-Scveral touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob and Double Norwich were rung, and Buckland bells wore also available during the evening.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT RETFORD

The 26th amual meeting of the North Notts Association was held at East Retford on Satmiday week. The towers of East Retford and Ordsall were opened for ringing all day by the kind permission of the incumbents of each parish, but West Retford bells were closed on account of the unsafc condition of the spire and tower. A representative gathering of members attended from Anston, Blyth, Everton, Harthill, Misson, East Markham, East Retford, Ordsall, Worksop, Gainsborough, East Stockwith, and Doncaster. At the East Reiford tower, touches were rung on six, eight, and ten bells, including Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob Minor, and Major, Grandsire Triples and Caters, and Stedman Triples and Caters, whilst at Orclsall the six bell ringers lang a varicty of touches in Treble Bob methods.
wards of 50 assembled at Howard's Hotel for tea, and at the meeting which followed; the Rev. J. T. Mumford presided, supported by the Rev. Canon Gray (West Retford), the Rev. R. D. Foster (Ordsall), Rev F. d'Arblay Burney (Harworth), Rev. A. Rose (Everton), and Mr. H Haigh (hon. sec.)

The Chairman explained that the meeting was boing held at East Retford instead of West Retford. It was the turn of West Retford, but the change was owing to the contemplated restoration to the spire and tower. The parish had to face a considerable expense in comnection with this work, and he thought it would be a graceful net if a resolution of sympathy was passed with the Rector, whom they were pleased to sce present. He was told that help was coming in slowly but well, and they hoped that this liability would specdily be re-moved.-Mr. Haigh scconded, and said the Rector was always glad to welcome the Association in alternate Jears, and they were always favoured by his presence. Canon Gray was one of the best vicepresidents. The members sympathised very much with the Rector, and regretted they were not able to ring the bells.-Canon Gray.responded He remarked that two engineers expressed the opinion that there was no reason why they should not ring the bells, but the advice of the architect had to be followed.

THE COMNITTEE'S REPORT

The committee, in their report, congratulated the members upon the steady progress that had been made during the year. They had added to the list of rice-presidents the names of the Rev. F. d'Arblay Burney (Vicar of lisirworth), the Rev. A. Rose (Vicar of Everton), the Rev W. Smith (Vicar of Tuxford), the Rev. F. W. Keene (Vicar of Misson) and the Rev. A. L. Phillips (Vicar of Blyth). The committee regretted wery much to have to record the resignation as secretary of the Rev. B. Darley (Rector of Flanthill), who succeeded the late Rev. H. T. Slodden, Worksop, and for 17 years was hon secretary of the Association This ofice he continued to discharge with zeal and success until the annual meeting on May 4th, 1912, when he declined re-election owing to pressure of work in his own parish. He is still a vicc-president, and takes a lively, interest in the welfare of the Association, and the members owe him a xlebt of gratitude for his services that is not to be measured in terms. The committee also regretted to record the loss, by death, of Mr. Mobert Pindar, of Misson, a good, consistent, and highly esteemed member. Ths standard of ringing at all the quarterly meetings was above the average. The Everton ringers, after a lapse of almost 13 years, had re-joined, along with their Vicar, the Rev. A. Roso, so the tower was again at the disposal of the Association, and the Vicar desired on early meeting in 1913 to be held at that place. The list of new non-resident members include Miss Dorothy D. Steel of Bedford: Rev. C. J. Sturton, Vicar of Orston; Rev. W. P. Wright Vicar of Hemingborough, and President of the North Yorkshire and Cleveland Association; and also a number of performing members.

NO TOWER BELL PEALS

The summary of performances for the year by individual companies was again meagre, not a single 5040 being rung on tower bells. Anston once more headed the list by achieving the distinction of ringing 720's in one hundred different Treble Bob Minor methods, in cluding all the Surprise methods, and had never missed ringing for two services eash Sunday for several years. They had had the good fortune to keep the same members together, with one exception, for 20 years, and their last addition had been with them 10 years. This was a proof of what could be done by constant practice with the same company. They had also broken their own record by ringing in 1912 over 80 complete 720 's in 54 different methods. The Worksop company rang mine quartcr-peals, viz., five of Grandsire Triples, two of Union Triples, one of Bob Major, and one of College Single Major, the two latter being their first quarter-peals in the methods, and the last-named the, first by the Association. Two attempts for a 5040 of Bob Major unfortunately came to grief after ringing 2 hrs. and 32 mins. and 2 hrs. and 57 mins. respectively. Two of the guarter-peals of Grandsire Triples were the first in which Miss Evelyn and Miss Dorotly Steel took part on extreme bells. The Ordsall company wero successful in ringing a date touch of 1912 changes in two plain methods For indivicual performances, that brilliant young ringer, Mr. John Segar, junr., a member of the Ordsall tower, headed the list by two wonderful performances tapped on handbells in three and five different methods respectively. IIe had also, since the close of the year, out-a 7200 in ten methods. Suffice it to say that the physical and mental strain required in tapping peals of this kind is enormous. The hope was expressed that the new church in St. Anne's parish, Worlesop, the gift of Sir John Robinson, would soon be endowed with a suitable ring, and that the tower would become affiliated to the Association.
The membership roll up to the date of the last quarterly meeting contained the names of 17 honorary members and 129 performing members, total 146, a yain of 16 on the year. The financial statement for the year. ending December 31st, 1912, notwithstanding the fact that expense had been heavy, shows a credit balance of $£ 8$ 19s. 5d. - In moving the adoption of the report, Canon Gray congratalated the hon. secretary upon the way in which he had drawn it up.-Mr. G. $R$. Winter seconded, and it was unanimously passed.

ELECTION OF OFPICERS

The Bishop of Southwell was re-elected President; Mr. Haigh was re-elected hon. secretary; and Mr. Bailey, of the Worksop Savings Bank, was appointed hon. treasurer
The appointment of a working committee was left to the different towers to send in the names of their representatives; and Mr. Haigh was empowered to appoint an assistant secretary to act for him in his enforced absence from meetings. He urged upon committec members to do their utmost to attend the meetings, and in case of absence to send a deputy. H. Hurst (Ordsall) and J. Booth (East Markham) wero elected members of the Association.-The summer meeting was fixcd to bo held at Everton.
The thanks of the Association were passed to the incumbents for the uso of the bells, and to the Vicar for presiding and the loan of the room. - Mr. Hnigh proposed, and Mr. Stenton seconded, a vote of thanks to the vice-presidents, and Canon Gray responded.

A service followed in church. The Vioar conducted, and the Rev. F. d'Arblay Burney preached a practical sermon from the text, "Fior it tho trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?"' (1 Corinthians, xiv. 8). - A vote of thanks was passed at the tea to the preacher.

THE DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The amual maoting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Dudley on Saturday. Although the weather was cold, miscrably wet and windy, over scventy members found their way into St. Thomas' Church to the service, which was held at five o'clock, and conducted by the President of the Guild (the Rer. A. Gray Maitland, Vicar of Dudley), who gave a very interesting address in tho absence, through the illness of his wife, of the Rev. J. A. Price, Vicar of Coseley
At the tea, which was held in the schoolroom, over 80 members wero present, representing Blakenhall, Bradley, Brierley Hill, Bilston, Coseley, Dudley, Netherton, Oldbury, Old Hill, Rowley, Sodgley, 'Tipton, Smethwick, West Bromwich, Wैolverhampton, Wednesbury, Wal sall, Wood Green, and other churches in union, within a radius of ten miles from St. Thomas'. Mrs. A. Gray Maitland and Miss Ruby Maitland assisted at the tables, the wives, sweethearts, and other lady friends of the local ringers, who had been busy during the afternoon in preparing a bountiful supply of good things, brightening the sceno by their presence to attend to the wants of the visitors.
An interesting business mecting followed, with the President in the chair.-Letters of apology were read from Col. Sir A. G. Boseawen, M.P., the Rev. II. H. Dibben, Rector of Brierley Hill, and Mrr. Harry Mason, of Old Hill.

GENEIRAL PIROGRESS

The report of the year's work showed a great advance over last year in the membership, financially, and in the peals accomplished by the members of the Guild. The balance sheet showed an enlarged balance in hand.-The whole of the officers were re-clected, viz.: President, the Leev. A. Gray Maitland; vice-presidents, Col. Sir A. G. Boscawen, M.P., the Rev. II. H. Dibben, the Rev. S. J. Marriott, M.A., R.D. Vicar of Netherton, and Mr. Marry Mason, the Vicar of Coseley, the Rev. J. A. Price being added; Ringing Master, Mr. S. Spittle; hon. secretary, Mr. Herbert Sheppard; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. Rock Small; auditors. Mr. J. Smith, Tiplon, and Mr. B. Gough, Coseley. A largo number of new members were added to the roll. The place selected for the next quarterly meeting is the pretty village of Wombourne. An animated discussion ensued upon the scheme for awarding the President's prize, given to the band in union with the Guild which makes the highest percentage of attendances for ringing at the Sunday services, morning and evening. The matter was ultimately referred to a committee consisting of one member from each company to decide, and report to next quarterly meeling.-Votes of thanks, to the Vicar for presiding and conducting the service, to the organist, the ladies, and the donors of the tea, and all who had assisted to make the meeting a happy one, brbught another very successful meeting to a close. The bells were rung during the afternoon, but after the meeting, a request was sent to the belfry to stop ringing on account of aickness near the church, and was promptly compliod with ALLESLEY, COVENTRY.-On March 29th, in 25 mins., 720 Bob Minor: *J. Taylor 1, IL. Hastings 2, A. Roberts 3, *R. Groen 4, H. Kettle 5, J. II. Whito (conductor) 6. * First 720.-On March 29th, 720 in the same method, with M. Harris 3.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT CIIPPENHAM.

The annual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Associa. tion was held at Chippenham on Saturday last, when about forty ringers put in an appearance, chiefly from Bristol and Swiudon. The attendance of members from the Gloucester Diocese was practically nil, which was not altogether surprising when one takes into consideration the inaccessibility of Chippenham from a railway travelling point of view. Tn this connection may be mentioned the case of the worthy Master, the Rev. O. D. P. Davies, who, in order to get back to Stonchouse by 9 o'clock, had to leave Chippenham at 5.40 , and then wait an hom-and-a-half at Swindon. Then again these meetings are looked forward to as a day or half-day's outing, and when one is travelling for pleasure he has a rooted objection to paying full fare, but this he has to do unless he can get seven others to travel with him, when he can claim to travel for three-quarter fare. The Central Council must again endeavour to persuade the Railway Clearing House to re-classify church bell ringers. At present they are classed with brass bands, who, when they travel take their instruments and music stands with them, carriage free. The classification is, therefore, obviously unfair. The weather turned out wet, and this kept away those cyclists who hadl to come from any considerable distance, Mr. W. Hale, of Painswick, being one, but two from Marshfield who braved the elements, were welcomed, and it is hoped they arrived safe home without any ill-effects.
The meeting itself passed off very smoothly. The Master took the chair, and gave a brief report of the peals for the past year, the number being three more than in 1911, viz., 26, including the first peal of Superlative Surprise Major ever rung by eight clergymen, and the first peal of Bristol Surprisc Major by the Association. The peal of bells at Cheltenham had beon increased from 10 to 12, and on the preceding Saturday he paid a visit to Tewkesbury to attempt the last peal on the bells before they are increased to 10 .
The Treastrer (Rev. H. A. Cockey) presented the balance sheet, but before doing so said he wonld dike to thank all the branch secs. for the work they had done during the past year, and also for the improved way in which the accounts were sent in. It certainly seemed that the Association had now turned the corner, and that they were beginning 10 get the benefit of the reforms instituted a year or two ago. The balance in hand had increased from $£ 24$ to £ $38 .-\mathrm{Mr}$. C. H. Gordon proposcd the adoption of the balance sheet, which was seconded by Mr. C. H. Tomkins, and carried.

The oflicers were re-elected en bloc, on the proposition of Mr. R. J. TVilkins, seconded by Mr. H. Howell.

A Lotal of 47 members were elected or had their elections confurmed.
After the meeting, the members attended service at the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. Canon Smith.-Tea followed at the Vaults, near the church, after which there was ringing at St. Paul's, by kind permission of the Rev. David B. Barclay, and at the Parish Church, where the bells have just been rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, ever'yone expressing satisfaction as to the "go." Among the many touches rung may be mentioned one each of Cambridge and Iondon Surprise Major.
The wet weather caused many to start for home earlier than they otherwise would, but on the whole it was an enjoyable meeting, chiefly noticeable for the brotherly feeling displayed by all.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Luton district was held at Woburn on Saturday, when there were present 23 members from Bedford, Luton, Dunstable, Husbonne Crawley, Oakley and Aspley Guise. The ringers had the pleasure of meeting the new Vicar, the Rev. R. H. Moss, who was giren a hearty welcome, and thanked for the use of the bells. He sate how ploased he was to be amongst them, and that he hoped in the near future to bo one of their members. Other members present were: Mr. Charles Herbert, the pioneer of change ringing in Bedfordshire: the Rev. A. Rush (hon. sec.), and the Rev. W. W. C. Baker, Prosident of the Association. The following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Oxford Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major.
A short business meeting was held, the President being in the chair. Two new members were elected, Messis. W. Peacock and C. Sinfield, of IIusborne Crawley. Four members were elected for this district on the gencral committec: Mr. C. Herbert (Woburn), Mr. M. Lane (Aspley Guise), Mr. G. Healey (Dunstable), Mr. F. Nicholls (Leighton Buzzard), -It was proposed to Jold a joint meeting with the Bedford district at Maulden, on May 24th.-A vote of thanks to the chairman terminated one of the most successful meetings held in this district.

WULFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON, MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, OROYDON. 4th March, 1912, Gөntlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverbampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom. Yours faithfully, F T. BECK,

RINGERS AND RAILWAY FACILITIES.

In the report of the Gloucester and Bristol Association meeting last week a suggestion was made that the Central Council should again endeavour to persuade the Railway Clearing House to re-classify bell ringers so that they may travel at reduced fares when engaged in the pursuit of ringing. This is a matter which we should much like to see the Council take up once more, and, if they did, we should hope with greater success than attended their efforts some years ago. There was a time when a few of the railway companies extended to members of associations on their systems the privilege of travelling singly, as well as in parties, at reduced fares, upon production of a roucher. In the hope that the practice would be generally adopted the Central Council approached the Railway Clearing House, but the powers that be decided against them, and those who, up to that time had had the privilege, lost it. Ringers can now get reduced fares only if they travel in parties of ten-as any other persons may do upon making the necessary application.

IVe cannot see, however, why ringers cannot be placed in the same class as golfers and anglers, who, on production of certificate of membership, signed by their club secretary, can, with certain limitations, obtain cheap tickets. So far as the railway companies are concerned there can be no possible difference in the category of such foll as golfers, anglers and bell ringers, although as ringers we place our art intellectually far above the pastime of the golfer or the fisherman. All the while the two last named are qualified to travel at reduced fares, there is no logical reason for keeping ringers outside the privileged class.

It is, however, a considerable time since the Central Council made an effort to get the railway companies to see the reasonableness of this riew, and we should like to see the Council try again in the interests of the Exercise. If it is too late for the matter to be dealt with at the meeting at Newcastle next Tuesday, could not the Standing Committee do something to set the ball rolling, so that by the time the Council meet again, they may be prepared with all the necessary facts to go straight ahead? It is worth the effort, for if only the privilege could be obtained, it would prove of great advantage to ringers. It would make a more frequent interchange of visits possible; it would encourage members to gain wider experience by the greater facilities that would be then within reach of the frequently slender purse, and we feel sure that, in the long run, the railway companies would benefit. We hope that something will be done to reopen the question.

CHARLES CARR,

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomllald Vicarage Chelmaford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.
We consider that the wort reflects great credit upon your Arm, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibra tion of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,
C. AS. EDMUNDS

SALISBURY GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Devizes branch was Fold at Trowbritge on Saturday The bells of St James' Church were available at three oclock, and although the weather was very unfarourable, a good nimber of ringars from various towers soon assembled. Tea was served in the Vestry Roum by Mr. Elloway, of the Fore Street Refreshment Rooms, 27 sitting down.
The business mseting followed, at which, owing to the absence of the Rev. J. A. Sturton (chairman), the Rev. H. E. Tilney-Bassett kindly took the chair, and was supported by Mr. H. Brownlee West (hon. sec.), the Rev. P A. Nash, Rector of Trowbridge, and ringing members from Keevil, Egham, Devizes St. Mary, Urchfont. Southbroom, Bradford, Devizes St. John, Trowbridge, Westbury, Holt, Bath, Melksham, and Beechingstoke-Mr, S Hector, of Trowbridge, was elected a life ringing nember, and six new "hands" were elected as members of the Guild, viz., Messrs. P. J. Herrington and H. Taylor from Melksham; R. Toomer and W. Kert from Fittleton: F. K. Greenland from Brad-ford-on-Avon, and Geo. Derham from Holt.
The three next meeting places were then discussed, and after some little conversation, were decided upon thusly: June 7th, at Enford; July 5 th, at Holt; August 9th, at Melksham.
A hearty vote of thanks was then passed to the Rector of Trowbridge for the use of the church bells, and also the use of the Vestry Room, to which he responded in a short, but very kind speech, saying how pleased he was to mect the ringers of the Guild at Trowbridge. for the first time during his incumbency there.
The ringers then returned to the tower, where more linging was indulged in, and thus a very pleasant meeting was brought to a close.

CHRIST CHURCH BELLS, BOSTON, U.S.A.

 english ringers assist at the re-opening.Christ Church bells, boing the first ring shipped from England, are w? 1 known in America by reason of their purity of tone, long vibration ar. carrying power, a characterstic of the products of the Rudhall toundry at about the middle of the eighteenth century, as illustrated in the peal of All Saints'. Fulham, St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, and many others still preserved.

Situated in a remote section of Boston, abandoned to Italians, Russian' Jews and Portugese, the edifice had been for many years neglected, while its bells had become unringable; when, fortunately, the parish caine under the control of Bishop Lawrence, through whose exertions an extensive restoration has at length been effected.
Although it was found nccessary to renew headstocks, wheels, stays, and even clappers, the bells were in perfect order; and when quarterturneck and re-hung, under the supervision of Mr. Gibbons, of the Whitechapel foundry, could be managed with the least appreciable effort, and with corresponding improvement in tone.
The eve of April 19th, the amiversary of a holiday known in Massachusetts as Patriots' Day, was selected for the opening, and after a brief service, conducted by the Bishop, and display of Ianterus from the steeple. the bells burst out in touches of Grandsire to the satisfaction of a heterogeneous multitude which thronged the adjacent streets. And if one were to jutge by the sympathetic cheers, which at times overpowered the music of the bells, there is evidence that change ringing may at length in this locality at least be received with favour. The bells, eight in number, with tenor of 15 cwt ., were cast in 174.4, and are now as perfect as when sent across the water from Bristo!.
Noticeable in the ringing chamber for their graceful handling of the ropes were our ear'iest recruits, George Moore, of Maidstone, Kent; Willian Bashford, of Nutfieid, Surres; and Philip J. Alfr'ey, of Brighton, the latter having reported most opportunely on the very day of the celehration. We are expecting to welcome as the next instalnent of volunteers Richard Newton, of Manchester, and S. J. Perkins, of Tumbridge Wells, while several other helpers are arranging to join us in the month of June.

RINGING FOR CHURCH FESTIVALS.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-On looking through the list of peals in last week's "Ring. ing World,' I found there were 19 peals rung on tower bells on Saturday. April 19th, St. Alphege's Day, but in only two instances is there any mention that the peal was rung in honcur of that day. Probably the reason why St. Alphege's Day wasn't mentioned in the remaining 17 instances was that the ringers didn't think or didn't know it was St. Alphege's Day, and I am of opinion this is the case with regart to many other Saints' Days, etc. The ringers, unleas they have a good almanac handy, or some other means, do not always know when these Saints Days cecur, and it has struck me that it would not be a bad idea if a list, with dates, of all Saints' Days. Church Festivals, Anniversaries, etc., was printed in "The Ringing World.
In several cases peal records have been printed with a footnote that the peal was rung in honour of the birth of a son or a daughter to one of the ringers, or in honour of one of the ringers' birthdays. In my opinion, such a footnote would be far better left out. In the first place, the bells belong to and are part of the church, and, therefore, should be used in the sersice of the church. Such a footnote as I hare just mentioned makes it look as if the church was only a secondary consideration
Secondly, it is well known that many people would like to see ringing abolished, and there is no doubt the promoters of a Bill in Parliament wilh such an object in view would examine the ringing papers to see what they could get hold of to support their case, and I fancy they would pick ount thess footnotes and point cut that peals were not rung in honour of the cluurch, etc. If all the peals possible contained a footnote that they were rung in honour of a Festival of the Church or a Saints' Day, ringers weuld have a much better case, and the publication of a list such as I have indicated would, I think, result in this beiber brought about.
I should be glad to have your opinion, and also of any other ringers on this malter.-Yours faithfully, Stapleford, Cambs.
ALBERT E. AUSTIN
The idea that more notice should be taken of the Church Festivals by ringers has been several times advocated in these columns, and there is an increasing tendency to ring peals on these occasions. With a view to reminding ringers of the Festivals, we hope in future to give a. monthly list. We begin with those which occur in this month and

The annual meeting of the Frome and Midsomer Norton Deanery branch was anld at Midsomer Norton on Saturday, and, although the weather was not at all pleasant, a goodly number of members attended, thus encouraging the hon. secretary, who had becn feeling rather clespondent. The bells, a beautiful ring of eight, were sct groing soon after 3 p.m., and at 4.15 p.m. evensong was conducted by the Rev. J. Pitkin (curate-in-charge), assisted by the Rev. J. E. W. Honnywill (President of the branch). Tea and businoss followed in the school. The usual items of business, including the admission of new members and the selection of place for next meeting, baving been transacted, the officers for the ens'ing yoar were elected. The Rev. J. I. W. Honnywill was re-elected as Deanery President, and Mr. Y. B. Holmyard as honi. secretary. Mr. A. M. G. Daniel, of Frome, was clected as the representative of the branch on the General Committee of the Association.- Hearty votes of thanks were passed to all who had contributed towards the success of the meeting. these including the President, the Rev. J. Pitkin, the churchwardens, the choir, Mrs. Holmyard (who provided an excellent toa), and the honorary secretary.
A very gratifying feature of the mecting was the presence of two sncls well-known ringers as Messrs. W. A. Cave and F. Priee (both of Bristol), whose skill in the tower greatly assisted in the production of some very pretty touches of Stedman and Grandsiro Triples.-The President and inon, secretary wish to thank these gentlemen for their kindness in attending the meeting, and they hope to see them freguently at future gatherings. The towers represanted included Frome (St. John's), Leigh-on-Mendip, Camerton, Paulton, Migh Littleton, and Midsomer Norton. Ringing was continucd till nearly 9 p.m., everyone agreeing that the meeting had been most enjoyable in every way.

CASTLE CARY DEANERY BRANCII.

A meetiag of tine Castic Cary b:anch was held at Marston Magna on Saturday last, and a very wet day no doubt kept a good many from: altending the meeting. However, bstwean 30 and 40 were present, representing Batcombe. Evercreech, Ditcheat, Castle Cary, Templerepresenting Batcomb. Evercreech, Ditcheat, Castle Cary, Tcmplecontbe, Wcot Lvaford, Queen Camel, Birmingham (St Mary's), Marslon Magna and Mudford. - A short service was hicld in the Parish Church, where the Vicar (the Rer. G. F. C. Peppin) delivered a very instructive address, in the course of which he pointed out how tatally different balfries wero conducted at the present day, compared with the days gone by, and all praise was due to the splendid association of change ringers. The young beginners who were amongst them on that occasion must not be down-hearted if they found they were unable to do as much with the bells as the older hands, but if they persevered they would some day be skilled ringers. He was delighted to see so many young mell present, and hopsd they might bs spared to ring to the Glory of God for many years to come

After the service, tea was partaken of at the Red Lion Hotel, and the business meating followed. the Rev. G. F. C. Peppin being unanimouely roted to the chair. Two honorary and eight performing members were elected.-Castle Cary was chosen for the next meeting, in October.A hearty rota of thanks was accorded the Rev. G. F. C. Peppin for presiding, for the use of the bells and for the interesting address given at the service.-The Vicar having responded, a move was made to the tower, where the bells were kept going to varions methods. - A good many of the ringers paid a visit to the Queen Camel tower, where the finest peal of six in Somerset were kept going until after 9 p.m.

BRIDGWATER BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the Briclowater branch was held at Chedzor on Saturday last. Scrvice was held in the church, conducted by the Rev. G. R. Mullens. and attended by members, representing Bridgwater. Huntspill, Chedzoy. Wembdon and Enmore.-Tea was partaken at the Manor House Hotel, followed bv the business meeting.-Eleren memleers were elected to the branch, including two hon. members, and Norlh Petherton was desided upon for the next quarterly meeting.A hearly vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. G. R. Mullens for the use of the bells, and for his able address; also to the organist, and to the Rev. D. (t. Samuel (brancla chairman) for presiding over the meet-ing.- $A$ return was made to the tower, when various methods kept the bells rolling for the remainder of the evening

PRESENTATION TOMISS MARGERY SAMPSON.
On Snturday, at Boldmere, at the conclusion of the peal of Stedman Triples, published on another page, Mr. J. Preston, secretary of tho Firdington branch of the St. Martin's Guild of Birmingham, prosented, on belalf of the members of Frdington, a framed peal card and photo of Erdington Church, and a photo of the Erdington ringers to Miss Margery F. Sampson, of Tamworth. In making the presentation, Mr. Preston said he hoped that Miss Sampson would accept the small gifi as a marlk of friendship, and as a fitting tribute on ringing her firsti peal for St. Martin's Society, and the pleasant time she spent with the ringers of Erdington--Miss'Sampson, who was completely taken by surprise, said the gift would always remind her of the many frients she had made in Erdington, and the joyous time she had spent witli them. She was pleased to have rung two peals with them, and asked them to accept her very best thanks and warm appreciation for their kindness.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Winchester District was held on Saturday at Lockerley and Tytherley. Both towers being some distance from any railway station, the Winchester party decided to motor down and picked up en route members from Twyford, Owslebury, and Hursley, among them being the curate of Hursley (the Rev. E. W. Suart). The party were met at Lockerley by the Vicar (the Rev. J. P. May), who gave them a hearty welcome, and conducted them to the belfry, where some touches of Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles were brought round. Members were also present from Eastleigh, North Stoneham and Upham.-A move was then made to Tytherley, where there are eight bells, and on which touches in standard methods were rung.
By the kind invitation of the Vicar of Loclerley, members were most hospitably entertained in the Chureh Foom at 5.15.-The Rev. W. E. Colchester, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar, said it added very much to the pleasure of these meetings when members received such a warm welcome from the clergy of the parishes which they wisited. The Vicar, in responding, said it gave him great pleasure to mest the ringers, and hopod they would on some future occasion pay him another visit, and that by that time his own band might have become members of the Guild.-The Vicar of Tytherley (the Rev. I. Bourdillon) was also thanked for the use of his bells.
The Bishop of Southampton, in a conversation with the district serretary (Mr. J. W. Elkins), expressed a wish to again entertain the Guild at his residence during the summer, and it wrs left in the hands of the district secretary to arrange a date convenient to his lordship, Saturday early in July being suggested as a suitable time for members.
Seven new members of the Barton Stacey band were admitted to the Guild, and Mr. Wilfred Andrewe was appointed to give them a course of instruction.- Both towers were afterwards visited, and although the weather was not all that could be desircd, all agreed that the meeting had bcen a very enjoyable one.

YORKTOWN DISTRICT.

The second quarterly meeting of the Yorktown district was held at Farnborough on Saturday last, but owing to the damp weather and to the fact that Farnborough has only five bells, it was not well atteuded. Only 17 ringers put in an appearance, representing Streatham St. Leonards), Kingston, Sunbury, Woking, Bagshot, Yorktown, and Yateley. After ringing in the afternoon, the members attended serrice, and sat down to tea in the Jubilee Hall, where the business meeting was afterwards held.-The Rector (the Rev. B. C. Jackson) presided, and gave the members a hearty welcome to his parish.-Mr. Marsh, of Plymouth, was elected a member of the Guild.-The Ringing Master (Mr. W. Shepherd), who. through pressure of business, was preiented from attending the meeting, sent a letter to the secretary giving a general survey of the quarter's work. This wan read and adopted as the Ringing Master's report for the quarter. - It was decided to visit Thersham, Oatlands Park, and Chertsey, for the all-day meeting on August Rank Holiday.-A vote of thanks, arcorded the Rector for his hospitality, concluded the meeting. Ringing was afterwards again indulged in, the methods rung being Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles on tower bells, and Grandsire Doubles and Triples on handbells.
meeting of the Guildford district was held at Binsted on Saturday, and was attended by ringers from Froyle, Cranleigh, Frensham, Shalford. Blackmoor, Farmham. Aldershot, and Guildford. There is no doubt that the hearty welcome extended to them will linger in the memories of those present for a long time to come, one member declarug publicly that the service alone was worth cycling 50 miles for. It was most impressive, tho ringers being met by the clergy and choir in procession, while the Guild's service has certainly never been more eartily rendered than in the grand old parish church.
Tea was held in the Institute, and the caretaker left nothing undone for the comfort of the visitors.- Eleven new members were elected, also two hon. members-the Rev. Campbell Crum, Rector of Farnham, and Mr. Geo. Gunner Chaleraft Churchwarden, of Binsted.-It was decided to hold the next district meeting at Puttenham on May 31st, and the next combined practice at Shere on June 14th, to have the pleasure of mecting the Mitcham ringers therc. The pretty peal of six were kept going in rarious methods, and the time for parting came all too soon.

CHELMSFORD BELLS.

MONEY RAISED FOR RECASTING.

The fete in aid of the restoration of the bells and clock of Chelmsford Church (the future Cathedral of Essex) proved a grent financial success, and the money required ( $£ 1,300$ ) has been more than realised. The fete itself, which extencled over four days, produced $£ 1,338$ 11s. $7 d$. To this amount has to be added subscriptions already received, £294 0s. 6d.; subscriptions promised. £33; gift of treble bell by Essex ringers, £25; gift of tenor bell by Col. and Mıs. Arkwright, £290; total, £1,900 12s. 1 c . Tho expenses amoint to about $£ 400$.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

 CANTERBURY DISTIRICT.The annual meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Ospringe, on Saturday, about 50 members attending. The bells were rung during the afternoon, and service was conducted by the Rev. F. J. O. Hel-more.-The Vicar gave an address, welcoming the members of the district to the parish, and, taking as a text the words of St . James, "Draw jigh to God and He will draw nigh to thee," he spoke of the assistance which the laity, and especially the ringers, hadd given to the clergy in the many parishes in which he had laboured and placed on record his own appreciation of their work. -Unfortunately the Vicar was suffering from a weak throat, and this oaused his address to be very short, and also necessitated his absence from the tea and business meeting which followed, much to the regret of all.-The Rev. R. Wyllie, however, ably took his place, and spoke of the pleasure he derived from the ringing of the bells. This was especially gratifying to the members present, as he lives near to the church, and while this zondition of things prevails the ringers need fear no complaint.
The District Secretary reported that 23 towers in the district were in union, representing a gain of four over last year-that 49 members of the district had taken part in the 15 peals rung during the year, 14 members having rung their first peal, and one had rung and conducted his first peal. The hope was expressed that more local peals would be rung, and that some of the so-called higher methods would be attempted.-Four new members were elected, and three elections were confirmed.-The Secretary and representative on the Central Committee were re-elected.

Deal and Walmer were chosen for the next annual meeting, Chilham for the autumn, and Birchington for the spring.-The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore proposed thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, arranging for the service, etc., and granting the use of the parish room; also to Mr. C. H. Drake for presiding at the organ.-This was seconded by Mr. Foreman, and carried.-Mr. E. G. Buesden and friends then gave a short touch of Stedman Triples on the handbells, and the members dispersed to the towers of Osprinee and Faversham.

LEWISHAM DISTRICT.
The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham district was held at Chislehurst on Saturday week. About 50 were present at the service, which was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Dawson (Rector), and the address was given by the Rev. J. Drew Roberts on "Rells. their inscriptions and' meanings."-A bountiful tea was provided in the Village Hall by the Rector and Mr. A. F. Nussey (one of the churchwardene), to which 58 sat down.

The business meeting followed, the Rev. Basil F. W. French (curate) presiding till the return of the Rector from another service. - The election of two members in towers was confirmed. Farningham was chosen as the place of the next marterly meeting cn the third Saturday in July. It was also decided to hold a meeting at Downe, on the first Saturday in June. if it could be arranged.
Mr. A. F. Nussey then gave the Association a nearty welcome. It had, he said. given him great pleasure to listen th the bells that day, because it brought back happy recollections, it being the 43rd anniversary of his weddino day (applause). - A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the usc of the bells and arranging the service, to the Rector and Mr. A. F. Nussey for providing the tea, to the Rev. J. D. Roberts for his address, and to the Rev. B. French for so kindly meeting them.-The Rector, in replving, said it had giren them all great pleasure, and he hoped thev would come again on some future occasion.-Tbe tower was again visited, and various tollches brought round.

THE PEAL AT WHITCHURCH.

A very pretty ceremonv was performed bv the Rev. Canon Trotter (Rector) in the Parish Church of Whitchurch. on Wednesday of last weok. when Miss Annie Aldridge, only daughter of the late Mr. Chas. Aldridge, of Beech Farm, Whitchurch, was married to Mr. John Bucknell. of Coley Park Farm. Reading.-Following the ceremony in the church, a recention attended by over fifty genests, was held at the home of the bricle, and as the bridal party left, some excellent call changes were rund on the bolis br the local band. In the evening. by the kind permission of the Rector-who, by-the-way. met the band at the entrance to the belfy. gave them a hearty welcome, and wished them success-a peal of 5040 changes was rung br members of the Oxford Guild, a record of which appears in the ustal columns. Messis. C. Excell and A. Green, two of the local band, sat in the belfry during the whole of the peal. which is the first on the bells, a musical ring recast and rehung in December of last year by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Crordon.

FAREWELL PEAL LOST

On Monday week, at the Church of St. Luke, Liverpool, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was attempted, and lost, only two leads from home, after 3 hrs .6 mins. ringing, owing to the heavy going of the tenor, caused through the chiming apparatus becoming disconnected during the ringing. The peal had been arrangedi as a farewell to Mr. Richard Newton, of Manchester, on the eve of his departure from Tiverpool to Roston. TT.S.A. He sailed the next day with the best wishes of his ringing friends in Liverpool and district, among whom he has always been held in hioh esteem. The hand who attemnted the peal were: F. Murtav 1. Th. Tennm 2. G. Woodhall 3, E. Breeze 4, E. Caunce 5, G R. Newton (conductor) 6, Richard Newton 7, J. Turuer 8.

BELLS OF ENGLISH CATHEDRALS.CARLISLE.

By J. R. Jerram.

The central tower of Carlisle Cathedral contains a peal of six bells, tenor about 14 cwt . note F .

These bells have not been rung for more than roo years. None of them have had perfect wheels within the memory of anyone now living, though in the accounts of $165^{2}$ we find an item "Payed for the belles wheeles and their repaireing as also for the gaites of the Churchyeard making and repareing o5 17 ro."

THOMAS MEARS FOUNDER, LONDON, 1845 .

There is a tradition that these bells were rung on November 17 th, 1745 , when the Pretender entered Carlisle, and that for this they were condemned not to be rung again for roo years. However this may be, it is stated that they were chimed with ropes on the clappers at the news of the rictory at the Battle of Waterloo, and thus the old fourth bell was cracked. She was then taken down, and remained in the Cathedral till 1845 , when she was recast by Mears, as the inscription records. The old bell is said to have borne the following inscription: "This ring lias made six tuneable bells at the charge of the Lord Howard and other gentree of the countie and citie and officers of the garisson by the advice of Mager Jeremiah Tolhurst, governor of the garisson 1658 .'

ODD CHANGES.

The Rev. W. W. C. Baker is the first Rural Dean to conduct a peal for the Beds Association, of which he is the Master. How many more of the ringing clergy, we wonder, hold the office of Rural Dean. We know of one -the Rev. G. F. Coleridge.

An attempt was made for a peal upon Exeter Cathedral bells on Saturday week, but it unfortunately came to grief after 3,000 changes had been rung in 2 hrs. 32 mins. Attempts for peals upon these magnificent bells are few and far between, and it is a pity that this one was not successful. The ringers were : E. Shepherd (conductor) i, G. W. Challice 2, A. W. Searle 3, A. Monkley 4, F. J. Davey 5, W. Richardson 6, E. Sargent 7, J. Moss 8, J. R. H. Freeborn 9, A. G. Betts and W. Vickery 10 (tenor $7^{2}$ cwits.).

- Overcoats and umbrellas are very scarce at Grantham, so say the band who scored the first peal on Denton bells on Saturday last. Having finished ringing, they took refuge in the local hostelry, hoping for the rain to cease, but at "turning out" time they had to face a four miles' walk in a drenching downpour without any of the aforementioned articles, and arrived at Grantham at in. 30 p.m. "soaked to the skin." Better luck after your next peal of Minor, Benjamin!

Two interesting cuttings, * reproduced from the "Norfolk Chronicle " of a century ago, have reached us. The issue of April $17{ }_{7}$ th, 1813 , contained the following :-
Thursday last, were rung on St. Giles' (Norwich) musical peal of eight bells ( 6272 changes) of that intricate method of Treble Bob, in 4 hre. 7 mins. The peal was conducted by Mr. R. Chesnutt, and being rang by that ingenious company, the St. Peter's ringers, we have no doubt of its being a masterly performance: the Bobs were called in six places, and not in the usual method of that extensive peal.

In the following issue the acceptance of a remarkable challenge was announced :-

Mr. Samuel Thurston having challenged any man in England to ring with him for one hundred pounds, the company of ringers belonging to St. Peter's, of Mancroft, Norwich, in order to prevent any person from being imposed upon by fallacious pretences, feel it incumbent on them to accept the challenge, although, at first, they were inclined to pass it with the silent contempt it merits. They, therefore, announce to Mr. Thurston that they have appointed one of their company to meet him at any twelve-bell steeple, not less than one hundred miles from Norwich; and, in order to secure the utmost impartiality, they propose that eleven men shall be selected from London to ring with each party, and to decide on their respective merits. All expenses to be paid by the losing party, in addition to the wager. We wonder what the outcome of this wager was !

9. That the Ladies' Guild of Change Ringers should be repre sented on the Council, and, if thought well, to move a resolution on the subject.
10. To call renewed attention to the Council's reoommendation passed in 1902, and incorporated in "Rules and Decisions," to the effect that not less than seven days' notice shall be given in the columns of the ringing papers stating the tower, day and hour at which any attempt is to be made to surpass any previous peal.
11. To fix the place of meeting for next year

1之. Other business, if any.
CHARLES D. P. DAVIES,
Hon. Secretary.
The President of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association of Change Ringers, Mr. C. L. Routledge, of 62, Jesmond Road, Newcastle-on-Tyne, announces the following arrangements, which he has most kindly made with a view to furthering the comfort and enjoyment of those attending the Council. Anyone needing further help or information is requested to communicate with him.

On Monday, May isth, a room has been reserved in the County Hotel, facing the Central Station, from 7 p.m., for the reception and entertainment of representatives and friends on their arrival. Visitors should ask at the hotel office for the "Prince of Wales' Room." There will be handbells and music.

Visitors able to be present at the Whitsuntide meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Association at North Shields and Whitley Bay will be heartily welcomed and entertained by the members. Formal notice of this meeting appears in the columns of this paper.

Arrangements will be made for a Central Council peal on the ten bells at Newcastle Cathedral on Monday, May 12 th, at $5.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Tenor $37 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}$.

Peals will be arranged for those spending the week-end in the district if they will kindly send in their names in good time.

Previous to the soiree and conversazione, which will be held as usual from 9 to in p.m. on Tuesday evening, at the County Hotel, there will be a smoking concert at $7 \cdot 30$ p.m. in the same hotel, to which all visitors and friends are invited.

Endeavours will be made to obtain rooms (private or hotel) for those writing in advance for them.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.Should any Central Council members be in Newcastle on Whit-Sunday they will find a welcome at the Cathedral. Time of service ringing 6 and 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.-E. Ferry, Honorary Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING AT LEWES.

EXCELLENT START FOR BENEVOLENT FUND.
For the first time in its history, the Sussex County Acsociation held its annual meeting in the county town of Lewes on Saturday, but strange to relate, the attendance fell below the average. Nevertheless, the gathering was in every other way highly successful. True, there are not the outside entertainments which are to be found at those seaside resorts for which Sussex is famous, but from the ringers' point of view, Lewes has its attractions. In Southover Church, which is of Norman origin and is the burying place of Gundrada, a daughter of William the Conqueror, and her husband, William de Warrenne, there is a very tuneful peal of ten bells (one of the only two peals of ten in the county), while the tower has many interesting associations with the past doings of the county ringing organisation. The bells were available during the morning, and ringers began to gather early in the day. A company, numbering about fifty, sat down to dinner at the Bear Hotel, the Bishonp of Lewes, in the unavoidable absence of the Bishop of Chichester, through indisposition, presiding. He was supported by the Master (Mr. F. B. Tompkins), the Hon. Sec. (MIr. George Watson), Miss Humble-Crofts, and Miss M. Humble-Crofts, of Waldron, the only two resident lady ringers in the association; the Rev. T. H. Windle, Rector of Southover' ; the Rev. Cresswell Gee, Rector of Twineham; Mr. R. C. Ford (hon. treasurer), and Councillor C. Hill (Hastings)

After dinner the loyal toast was honoured, and the Master then proposed "The Church and State." He deprecated any attempt to dirorce the one from the other, and said if it came to pass it must do serious harm to both. He welcomed the preseuce of ladies at that gathering, for the first time in the history of the association.
The Bishop of Lewes, in responding, said the presence of ladies at that meeting was a sign of what they were coming to. In Sussex they had fourteen lady churchwardens, and now they had got some lady bell ringers. The Sussex Association was thus thoroughlv up to date (hear hear). Proceeding, he apologised for the absence of the Bishop of Chichester, who wished him to say how sorry he was he coukl not be with them, because there was no one who more appreciated the work which the ringers were doing than he did. He (the speaker) was glad to have the opportunity of responding to the toast. bacause he nearly always had a warm welcome from the ringers wherever he went. Ringers. were getting higher and higher ideals in recognising that their work was churoh work, and that was a source of great gratification. He would not venture into the question of the relations betwren the Church and State, except to say that the State was in a very peculiar state just now (Taughter and applause). -Councillor Hill also replied to the toast in a bricf speech.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The business meeting was then held, and the hon. secretary read a telegram of good wishes and regret for absence from a former secretary, Mr. S. Saker.
The Bishop of Chichester was re-elected President, and the whole of the rice-presidents were also re-elected.-Mr. F. B. Tompkins was re-elected Master, and, in acknowledging the election, referred to the fact that during the last year the association had been able to establish a benevolent fund. A subject, he continued, which was coming to the fore very seriously, and which had been mentioned in "The Ringing World several times, was the question of peal ringing in populous centres. It was undoubtedly a fact that people living near towers in towns did find fault with peal ringing, and he would not say that some of them did not have cause for complaint. If there was any illness near a tower, ringers were always ready to desist, but others were now finding fault. He hoped the members belonging to churches where there was any real cause for complaint would impress upon the responsible authorities that there were means of getting rid of any nuisance. There were three general methods which might be adopted, the partial bricking up of the louvres, glazing, or the erection of shutters. By adopting one of those methods there would be no rlifference in the effect in the tower, but those living near would not be annoyed in the least.
Mr. G. Watson was re-elected general secretary, and Mr. R. C. Ford, hon treasurer. The following district secretaries were also elected: Fastern division, Mr. G. H. Howse: Central, Mr. A. D. Stone: Western, Mr. H. Evans. Messis. White and Harffey were elected auditors, and Mr. A. Gravett, peal secretary. The Bishop of Lewes was elected a life-member, and the following were added to the membership roll: From Blacklands tower, 3; Waldron, 4 (including Miss M. HumbleCrofts, the Rector's daughter); Twineham, 1; Southover, 2; and the whole of the Baroombe band of 11 members.

SATISFACTORY FINANCES.

The following report for 1912 was presented
The committee again are able to report most favourably upon the financial state of the Association-a profit of nearly $£ 20$ having been made upon the ycar's work. Notwithstanding the fact that the general fund was depleted to the extent of $£ 18$ at the beginning of the year in order to make the reserve fund up to $£ 50$, it is now in a position to year may start with a balance in this fund of f25. A propesal having this object will be submitted to the annual meeting and, if carried, the committee will be able to make small donations to necessitous ringers. For the first time in the history of the association the number of peals rung during the past year has topped the century, Mr. Keith Hart-as in several previous years-appearing most prominently as a conductor. The challenge bell was won by St. Peter's, Brighton, Heene tower being but a very fow points behind. Mr. Penfold, who for some years lias prepared the peals' analysis, is unfortunately suffering from ill-health, and has felt himself compelled to relinquish this work. For all his past services, the committee desire to thank him, and at the same time to wish him a speedy restoration to health. Mr A. Gravett has kindly consented to fill his place for at least a year. Fleven district meetings have been held during the year, most of them having been well attended. To those clergy who offered members so hearty a welcome-generous hospitality also having in several cases been shown-the thanks of the committee are gratefully accorded. St. Clement's, Hastings, tower ( 8 bells) and Twinehain tower ( 5 bells) have become affiliated to the Association during the past year. In the latter tower, orie bell has been recast, two new ones added, and a new frame and fittings supplied by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The sams firm rehung the four trebles at East Grinstead. Messrs. Taylor of Loughborough, are adding two now trebles at Mayfield, the work being now nearly completed, and they have secured the contract to recast the lIenfield tenor and make various repairs to the other bells and frame.
The financial statement showed that the year began with a balance in hand of $£ 438 \mathrm{~s}$. 8d., and after meeting the expenses ( $£ 5998.2 d$. ), transferring $£ 18$ to the reserve fund and $£ 77 \mathrm{~s}$. 7 d . to the benevolent fund, there remained in hand on tho general fund $£ 36$ 12s. 7d. The balance to the credit of the reserve fund was $£ 50$, and in tho benevolent fund $£ 85 \mathrm{~s}$. Id
The report and balance sheet, which were considered very satis. factory, were adopted.

THE BENEVOLENT FUND.

The Fion. Secretary then moved that the benevolent fund be raised to £25 by taking the necessaty balance from the general fund. He said last year they dipped into their general fund to raise the reserve fund to $£ 50$. They had made a profit of nearly $£ 20$ on the year's working, and he thonght they might very well dip into the fund again to the extent of some £17, in order to start a fresh year with a benevolent fund of £25, which would enable them to moet any case of emorgency. He thought they might congratulate themselves upon having done so well in the matter of finance in the last two yoars (hear, hear). Mr. K. Hart seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.
The rules for the administration of the benevolent fund were next considerod, and after slight amendment were adopted in the following form :-

1. No benefactions shall be paid unless there is money in hand in the benevolent fund.

All applications shall be made in writing setting out the reasons for the application and must be supported by the secretary of the local band if the applicant is an ordinary member, and if an independent member by someone of local standing who shall testify that the applicant has been for five years and is then a member of the Associa. tion, and as to whether the application is a deserving one.

Applications shall be forwarded to the general secretary, whe shall at once submit them to a sub-committee and ohtrin their oninion thereon through the post. The sub-committee shall consist of the general secretary, the treasurer, the divisional secretary and the members of the committee of the division in which the applicant resides.

Benefactions will be paid to the applicant direct by the trea surer, who shall act on the written authority of a majority of the sub-committee.
5. No alteration in or addition to the above rules shall be made except in accordance with rule XVI of the Association.

A RECORD YEAR OF PEALS.

At the request of Mr. Gravett, the peals secretary, it was resolved that in future, for the purpose of analysis, any new resident momber ringing a peal, or any old member transferring to another tower, shall notify the peal secretary or divisional secretary as to which iower he bclongs, and for which he wishes his peal points to count.
The following resolution was also passed: "That the committeo be requested to consider and report upon the advisability of an alteration to rule III, to enable each division in futuro to elect annually ito own district secretary and its representatives on the oommittce.
It was decided by a large majority to hold the next meeting at Brighton, an amendment in favour of East Grinstead being defeated. On the motion of Mr. G. H. Howse, it was resolved to place on record lle Association's apprecintion of the services rendered by Mr . Keith Hart, and its congratulations to him upon having rung 50i) peals for the Association
The Master announced that the number of peals rung by the Association last vear was 107, which was a record (applauso). They had never toppod the century bofore. What their position would be among ot. $\mathrm{l}_{2}$. Associations he did not know. He proposed a vote of thanks to the Bishop for presiding, and for the sermon he was going to preach later; to the Rector of Sonthover for the use of the bells, and to the choir for their eervices.-The Hon. Seoretary, in seconding, said they were especially grateful to the Rector of Southover for the trouble he had taken and the interest he had shown in connection with that meeting.- The motion was unanimously carried, and this terminated tho business.

TIIE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

A service at Southover Church followed, there being a large congre gation, including many parishioners. The singing was led by the choir, and the specially appointed service was conducted by the Rector. The Bishop of Lewes preached from the text. "He that soundeth the irumpet $v: a s$ by me" (Nehemiah iv, 18). He said there were many ways of approaching the subject of ringing church bells. It might be approached, and rightly approached, from the point of view of the science of bell ringing. They might also approach it as an art, for it was one of the most delicate and difficult of arts; one which was capable of great perfection, which entailed an immense amount of practice, and which a man could not get really good at unless he devoted considerable time to it. He wanted, however, to turn their thoughts that afternoon to the ringing of bells, from a church point of view, and his text, he thought, expressed very much what a band of bell ringers ought to be in any parish. Having explained the biblical referenca to he who sounded the trumpet, the Bishop went on to say that in parochial life, the duty of the bell ringers was to be in close touch with the Vicar, and, when the time came for public worship, to give forth in no uncertain note upon the bells, the intimation to the people to concentrate within the church. If they did their duty, and the people who heard the bells did their duty, God would do the rest, and there would be no fear that the parish would not be a faithful witness for Christ. He could not help saying in closing that he thought they might take even a higher line and say that they all desired that the bell ringers of that great county should so bear witness in their lives to the truth which they believed, and to the church to which they belonged, they should sound their trumpet so clearly, that when Christ clajmed them, as he would claim them all, and they came into His presence He would be able to say of every bell ringer, "He that soundeth the trumpet is by Me."
Subsequently a variety of touches were rung on the bells, and some useful practice obtained by those whose opportunities of ringing upon ten bells is very limited

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A SATISFACTORY YEAR

The Essex Association, according to the report for 1912, which has just bson issued, has had a most gratifying year It has been, says the report, one of the most prosperous and encouraging in the whole of the Association's existence. Although the income had not been quite sufficient to meet all liabilities, the total worth of £106 is. 6hd., against $£ 106$ 6s. $1 \frac{1}{3} d$. for 1911 showed only a shrinkage of 4 s . 7d. The large attendance at the annual meeting and the efforts during the summer months to reach outlying towers accounted for the extra expenditure. The missionary expeditions were most successful. Whole comprnies joined at Foxearth. Weden Ambo, Orsett, Stanford-le-Hope, Shenfield and Ingatestone. They were met at most of the towers by the incumbent and ringers, and heartily welcomed. The newly formed bands at All Saints', Colchester, Pentloy and Great Waltham were among the latest recruits. With a net increase of 73 for the year, and a grand total of 846, the association was within measurable distance of the coveted position of a membership of 1,000 . Peal ringing showed an improvement-66 against 49 the year previous. Although not a record, it was a very satisfactory list, both in quality and variety. forty-nine peals were rung upon tower bells and seven upon handbells. To attain this result 175 members took part, and 27 shared the conducting

The adding of a treble and the recasting and rehanging in an iron frame the old ring of five at Sible Headingham appeared to be the only belfry improvement during the year. Here again, a band had been formed, and was making excellent progress under the able tuition of Mr. Lewis Wiseman. The selection of Kelvedon for the first movable nnnual meeting proved a great success, and the large attendances at the district meetings was ample proof of the increased interest taken by the members generally in nromoting the welfare of the Association. Tha report. which is signed by the Master (Mr. C. H. Howard), conclucles with reference to the energr displayed $b_{5}$ the hon. secretary, auditors, and district officers in carrying out their respective duties. fud aflds that so long as the Association has among its ranks such members ready to place their services at its disposal, its continued success is assured.

A bye-meeting of the South Western Division was held at St. Mary's, Chigwell, on Satarday, and was attended by about 30 members. Various methods were rung during the afternoon and evening, and tea and husiness meeting was hold at the Schonl House. The following new members were olected: Messrs. A. Strmid, J. Weaser, and J. Horwood, Tittir Heath and Mossrs. R. T. Pellatt, IT. J. Sudell. C. Gray, S. F. R. Conper. G. N. Orford, of St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, nouresident ringing members.- Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar of Chigweli for the use of the hells, and to the steeplekeepor for haring everything in readiness, and for making arrangements for the tea

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

RINGING MEETING AT RIPLEY.

A monthly meeting of the Derby District was held at Ripiey on Saturday week, and owing to the inclemency of the weather, there was only a small attendance. Members were present from Alfreton, Darley Dale, Denby, Derby, and the local company.-The Rev. G. D. Smith presided at the meeting, held in the belfry, and welcomed the Association once rore to Ripley.
The next meeting will be held at Duffield in May, on a date to be arranged by the hon. secretary.
Ringing was kept up during the afternoon and evening, the following methods being rung: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Major, and Superlative Surprise Major.
It is to be regretted that the cycling members were prevented from coming owing. to heavy rain all the afternoon. and it is hoped they will come to the Duffield meeting in large numbers, seeing that this is: one of the very few opportunities of having a meeting in a ten-bell tower.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

The monthly meeting of the Manchester branch was keld at St. Anne's, Denton, on Saturday, when only a poor response was mado to the invitation, three visitors only turning up, after the local company had done their best to make the members comfortable, and getting the use of the choir vestry for the mecting. But what was lacking in numbers was made up for in ringing, for touches brought round included Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob, 720 Kent and 360 Woodbine, and the visitors got an introduction to Killamarsh, rung by the local company. Ringing ceased about 9 o'clock, when the party were grimbled at, not for going on so long, but for stopping too soon.

Some excuse for non-attendance was a peal attempt on the one side, and a committee meeting in Cheshire on the other, St. Anne's parish being partly in Cheshire, and the company members of the Chester Guild. On learing, a pressing invitation was extended to the brancir to come again, and in larger numbers.

The monthly meeting of the Bolton branch was heid at St. Bartholomew's, on Saturday, when ten members were present. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Newchurch.

SUPERLATIVE SURPRISE.

By CHARLES HENRY HATTERSLEY.

No. 15056
$\begin{array}{cc}\text { No. } 2 & 5056 \\ & 23456\end{array}$

These two peals, which are as ons in composition, have rerersed course-ends, with 4th and 6th in 5-6 without recourse to bobs "Before. and with 3rd and 5th extent in fifth's with all the 8-3-7's and $8-5-7$ s respectively; also, without 2nd or 3rd being in sixth's place in peal No. 1. Each of these has the 4th and 6th their extent in sixth's on this plan. It should be understood that bobs "Before" cut out two of the hesi leads in a course. viz., the Middles and the Wrongs. Therefore, the less use of such calis the better it is for the musical value of a composition. These two peals are productive of a large number of variations, with 4th, 5th and 6th exclusively in sisth's place, and also with 5th and 6 ih reversed course-ends. The key-note to this class of compositions is mainly due to the skeleton calling as at foot, and was first applica to a real in this method by C. H. H. in 1887, and published March $10 \mathrm{th}, 1888$.

PRESENTATION AT TROWBRIDGE.

GIFT TO THE "FATHER OF THE BELFRY."

As we briefly amounced last week, Mr. W. McCaffrey, "the father of the belfyy," at Trowbridge, who has been a ringer at the Parish Chureh for 56 years, has been presented with a handsome clock, in recognition of his services. The interesting event took place at the Rectory on Mr. MeCaffrey's 70th birthday, the presentation being made by the Rector, who said that for the last 56 years at least Mr. McCaffrey lad been an active member of the band of ringers, and even before that he knew he had some part in the ringing-from the time he was 12 years of age. During that time he had seen many changes in and around the church, and if Mr. McCaffrey chose to look round the walls of that room he would see the portraits of eight different Rectors he had served under. He (the speaker) was the last Rector, but he was most glad to have the opportunity and privilege of voicing what he felt all his predecessor's would have expressed, their real gratitude for all the help given them in the belfry. Since Mr. McCaffrey started ringing there had been changes in the bells. They had been restored and improved twice, and they now had a band of ringers equal, if not superior, to any they had had in the past. All the ringers present would agree with him that much of the credit for that was due to Mr. McCaffrey, who was in a sense the father of the belfry. He had trained many of those who had rung with him, and it was the wish of all to mark in some way their sense of sratitude and affection for him. So the ringers and some other friends who had joined with them asked if he would acoept at their hands that clock. It was but a little token of all the debt of gratitude he felt sure they all realised they owed to him.

A massive marble clock. with best French movement, was then handed by the Rector to Mr. McCaffrey with best wishes for his continued good health. A plate on the clock is inscribed as follows:"Presented to Mr. William McCaffrey by his fellow ringers and other friends at the Parish Church, Trowbridge, on his completing 56 years' faithful service in the belfry. April 22nd, 1913."

HOW MR. McCAFFREY BEGAN TO RING

Mr. McCaffrey, in reply, said he felt that it was very kind of the Rector to voice the kindly words he had for lis humble services. He had always had great pleasure in ringing, and had been fascinated with it from a boy. He had plenty of facility himself for doing a little ringing, because the bells frequently were going. There was the school bell, five minutes previous to school-time, and lads had the adrantage of ringing this. On sunday mornings there were the prayer bells, at eight oclock, althongh there was 10 service, and at a quarter to nine when they went to school on Sunday morning. A prayer bell, too, went in the week, on Thursday night, at five o'clock. So that he was not lacking opporumity to practice. He expected no such thing as that beautiful present, and he supposed no one ever had such a thing in Trowbridge belfry before. He thought Mr. Ilector had had a hand in this. Anyhow, he thanked both him and all the other ringers and subscribers to the present.

Mr. S. T. Hector said how grateful they all felt to Mr. McCaffrey for the trouble he had taken with them. He was sure they had a very good band, and it was Mr. McCaffrey who had got them on. It had been a lot of trouble for him to do so, but he was rewarded now. He would be able to walk the streets, and hear the bells in the tower with satisfaction.

Mr. Raison said he was the only one left of the old band, and he remarked what a fine band they had to-day:-Mr. W. Mackay endorsed what the Rector had said.
Refreshments were then handed round by the kindness of the Rector and Mrs. Nash.

A peal recorded elsewhere was rung in honour of Mr. McCaffrey's 70th birthday.

A RUNAWAY CHURCH AND BELL. REMARKABIE TNCIDENT OF AMERICAN FLOOD.

At the height of the recent destructive flocd in the Western Stater of America, a wooden church surmounted by a tower was seen, partly submerged, rasing down the Ohio river, pitching and tossing like an ocean vessel in a gale. Sailing by cities and towns, its career was finally arrested on the higher part of Blennerhasset Island, two miles from Parkersburg, West Virginia, where it was found stranded upon the subsidence of the waters. This island was bought by Blennerhasset, the gifted Irish lanyer, in 1798, and became the rendezvous for the gathering of arms and the training of volunteers in the conspi:acy of 1805 .
The structure, thus so unexpectedly landed in their midst, was promptly taken possession of by the enterprising inhabitants, who hanled it by means of rollers and windlass to a central situation where it was secured upon a stable foundation, and will be hereafter utilised for religious worship, as originally intended. In the tower was suspended a bell weighing nearly one-half ton. The building container nothing to indicate the sect, or denomination. of its former worshippers, nor its point of departure. While it would be impracticable to remove the errant church from the island, it js probable that claimants will apsoar later to demand the restoration of the bell.
It's an ill-flood that wafts nobody any good.

THE LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.

MESSRS. TAYLOR AND CO.'S ACTIVI'CIES.

MESSRE. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, CROYDON. 4th March, 1912. Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, reoently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the beat peals in the Kingdom.

Yours faithfully, F T. BECK,
Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.
MODERN WORK.

A BENEVOLENT FUND IN BEING.

As will have been seen from the report of the Sussex Association's annual meeting in our last issue, a very admirable foundation has been laid by that organisation for a benevolent fund, and there is now provision to the extent of $£ 25$ to assist members who may be in distress. Sussex has the proud distinction of being the first ringing association actually to adopt a scheme for such a fundalthough Kent was only a week or two behind-and it is interesting to note, therefore, the basis upon which the fund is established, for it should give the lead to other societies who are still without such a scheme.

The fund in Sussex is to be composed of all life honorary subscriptions, interest from the reserve fund and such sums as shall be from time to time ordered to be paid at any general meeting. Thanks to two years of exceptional financial prosperity, the Association was able at its annual meeting the other day to vote some $£ 17$ from the general fund to raise the benevolent fund to $£ 25$-and this after voting nearly $£ 20$ to the reserve fund in the preceding year. That is how Sussex proposes to raise the money for assisting members in distress. How it proposes to administer the fund will be found in the scheme adopted at the annual meeting. Briefly each application will come before a sub-committee of six members - the general secretary and treasurer, and the divisional secretary and divisional representatives on the general committee. Thus it will have to pass the scrutiny of those best in a position to judge the merits of the case, and it will be noticed that, while proper safeguards have been taken, there is a complete absence of red-tape in the scheme.

In these matters the more simple and the more effective the means of administration the better, and in this respect we think Sussex has set an excellent example. The one omission that is noticeable is the provision of help for a widow or for orphans in the event of a ringer's death in necessitous circumstances. While cases of this kind are clearly within the spirit of the scheme, they have for the moment been excluded by the drafting of the rule, bu' there is no doubt this technical oversight will be remedied at the first opportunity. The point would, perhaps, hardly have been worth mentioning were it not for the fact that we desired to put on their guard any other societies who might be thinking of taking the Sussex regulations as a basis for a scheme of their own. With the working models which Sussex and Kent now provide we hope it will not be long before the country is covered with a network of these funds always ready to help a brother in need, for we are convinced that there still is and will be opportunity for valuable work to be done by this means.

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Broomield Vicarage, Chelmsford.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisled with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfeld Church Bells.

We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your frm, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.

The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A SUCOESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Sheffield District and Old East Derbyshire Amalgamatod Society was held on Saturday week at Ranmoor, Sheffield, and proved rery successful. Unfortunately the weather turned out very bad after a beautiful morning, but nevertheless about 80 ringers turned up from Anston, Bolsover, Bolsterstone, Chesterfield, Doncaster, Dore, Dronfield, Ecclesfield, Eckington, Gainsboro', Killam marsh, North Wingfield, Norton, Nottingham, Ranmoor, Rotherham, Sheffield Parish Ohurch and St. Maries (R.C.), Staveley, Treetou, and Worksop.
Ranmoor is, perhaps, the most beartiful of the many pleasaut suburbs for which Sheffield is justly noted, and its crowning glory is undcubtedly the magnificent Church of St. John the Evangelist, prolably one of the most baautiful modern ecclesiastical buildings in the country. Surrounded by many palatial residential houses, and lying over 300 feet above, and about three miles away from the centre of the city, the church has escaped the usual covering of grime with which the majority of the Sheffield Churches are coated, and its many fine architestural points were greatly admired by those present. The original building was erected in the seventios by Mr. John Newton Mappin, of the famous firm of Mappin and Webb. It was, however, with the exception of the tower and spire entirely destroyed by fire one Sunday a few years later, and within a year the present splendid building was erected in its placo, and one can quite credit the report (which the writer has not verified) that upwards of $£ 35,000$ was spent on its erection. One of its most interesting features is a very fine carved oak chancel sereen and Communion table recently placed there to the memory of the late Sir Frederick and Lady Mappin.
The tower contains a musical ring of eight bells (tenor 15 cwt .), by Barwell, of Birmingham. These were raised about 3.45 p.m., on the occasion of the meeting, and were kept going at intervals till 9 p.m., some good striking being heard. The methods rung included Cambridge, New Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich. Kent Treble Bob, and Plain Bob Major, Stodman Triples and Oxford

Treble Bob Minor. A pleasing innovation was the presence of a lady change ringer (Miss Evelyn Steel, of Bedford), who perform much credit in several touches including Cambridge Surprise.
In view of recent diccussions on the subject, it might be of interest to state that all the louvres in the bell chamber are bricked up, and that three felt-lined shutters are provided, which, when closed, give the bells a subdued and pleasing tone close at hand, and cause no annoyance whatever to those near by.
A substantial tea was provided in the Schools about 5 p.m., by Mr . Morrison (churchwarden) and the lowal company, and ample justice was done to it by those present. The tables were very tastefully dewarated with flowers, and the kindness of the lady helpers was much appreciated.
The business meeting was subsequently held, and was yresided over by the Res. T. Torrens, supported by Mr. Morrison (churchwarden), Mr. G. Halksworth (Doncaster), president, the vice-presidents, treasurer, secretary and auditors. The balance sheet, showing a balance of $£ 1210 \mathrm{~s}$. 8f. in hand on the capital account, was presented and adopted.

THE ADVANTAGES OF MONTHLY MEETINGGS.

The non, socretary's report followed, and showed a pleasing year of progress. It stated that there were 19 affliated towers, and a memberprogre of 226 , made up of honorary members, 3 ; life members, 16 ; at-she tached to rarious affiliated towers, 164 ; unattached, 43 . Compared honorary, 21 attached, and 17 unattached members. Two new sixbell towers in Dronfield and Beighton had joined the society, and one in Trectoi had dropped out.
The monthly meetings had on the whole been well attended, and the standard of ringing had been high. The attendances had averaged about 25, which, while an improvement on some previous years, was with a membership of well orer 200 capable of improvement. Three mectings had unfortunately had to be postponed or cancelled. The desirability of attending as many of these meetings as possible was impressed upon the mambers. In addition to the fact that they provided a pleasant source of social intercourse amongst ringers, these meetings are eapable of doing very great good in raising the standard of ringing in the district, both as regards striking and methods rung. There was always encoulagement for the learner; and, for those more advanced in the Art, there was the opportunity of taking part in meilods which, perhaps, a member might not have a chance of practismelhods which, perhaps, a member migh be pleased that the Eckington bells were now being restored, and were nearing completion, and some good meetings there were looked forward to.
The society's silver cup and framed certificate for the best Sunday ringing atteudances for the year ending March 31st, 1913, had been ringing atteudances for the york the Worksp company with 98.55 per cent., followed by Dore with 96.41 jer cent., Ranmoor with 96.01 per cent., and Doncaster with 04.83 per cent. The Worksop company were deserving of much congratulation on their good record, especially as this was their first year. as members of the society. The secretary was glad to be able to say that this competition was now being taken up much more seriously by affiliated companies, as it deserves to be, and the entries for the coming twelve months were a great improvement on some previous years. though there was still room for improvement. The secretary was also glad to be able to say that the scciety was still in a sound finanrial position, though the income for the present year had again only just covered the expenditure. He was glad to note an improvement in the payment of subscriptions, the majority of members having been prompt with them, which was all for the good of the society.
The peals rung during 1912 numbered 26 , and the standard was rery high indeed, indeed it was doubtful if it could be surpassed in any part of the comntry. It would be noted that there were 11 Surprise Major peals, including two of London and one peal of Sumprise Minor. Grandsire Triples and Plain Bob did not appear, another sign of the high stanctard maintained. Mr. B. A. Knights headed the list of conducturs with seven peals to his credit, Mr. J. Flint being a good second rith six, Mr. Sam Thomas third with five, followed br Messsis. A. Lewim and IW. Wallace with one each.
and Mr. W. Gosling, of Mansfiela, upon ringing a peal in his 86 th year:
The Mon. Secretary added that ine thought the proposed division of the lorkshire Association into districts ought to receive the vers careful consideration of members of the Sheffield Society, who belonged to that association, as these propoeals might very seriously affect their sociely. He expressed his thanks again to the majority of the committeemen and secretaries, who have promptly and courteously replied to all enquiries on his part. To a small minority he would say, as last year, that a few words on a postcard should not be a great deal of trouble, aud would much iacilitate his work.

THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF RINGERS.

The ITon. Secretary welcomed the Rer. T. Torrens and Mr. Morrison (one of the churchwardens) to the meeting, because it showed that they took some interest in tine ringers. A little kindly interest and encouragement went a long way at times, and ringers were not any less appreciative than, say, the choir. The layman scaurcely realised the amount of hard work and perseverance which went to make a good "inger, and gave the ringer rery little credit for his efforts as a rule.

In conclusion, he added that the society was on the up grade. They were doing a good work in promoting change ringing, with its attendant advantages of orderliness and decent behaviour in belfries, and in so doing, they merited the support and interest of all church authorities who possessed peals of bells, and of all ringers. It was one of the aims of the society to avoid all friction and ill-feeling in connection with the art of change ringing, aud he appealed to ali members to do all in their power to carry out this object, and to continue to set a good example in their dealings with Church authorities and others. In that case, he believed there was a big future in front of the society, and that they would continue to make good progress in every sense of the word

The whole of the officers were unanimsusly re-elected for the ensuing year, viz.: Mr. G. Halksworth (Doncaster), president; Messrs. J. P. Tarlton (North Wingfield) and A. Knight (Chesterficld), vice-presidents; M1. David Brearley (Bolsterstone), hon. treasurer; Mr. J. E. L. Cockey (Ranmoor), hon. secretary; Mr. G. Hollis (Chesterfield), assistant hon. secretary; and Messrs. G. W. Bemrose (Bolsover) and W. Peabody (Chesterfield), auditons. The committee were elected as last year, with the exception of Mr. G. Elliott, of Dore, whose place was taken by Mr. G. M. Thorpe. -The cup competition sub-committee were reelected, viz., the president, two vice-presidents, hon. secretary and two trustees (Messrs. C. H. Hattersley and S. Thomas).

RINGERS AS MUSIC-MASTERS

The presentation of the society's silver cup and framed certificato to the ringers of the Priory Church of St. Cuthbert, Worksop, for the best attendance for Sunalay service ringing next took place.-The Rev. T. Torrens, in making the presentation, gave an eloquent address to those present. He extended a most hearty welcome to the society to Ranmoor, referring to the sympathy of the Vicar (the Rer. J. Williams) with the ringers, and the sympathy which he knew they all felt for him in his sad illness. Personally, he always greatly appreciated the welcome of the bells as he came to Sunday service. He referred to the..splendid ringing of the Ranmoor bells, and to the credit which it reflected on those responsible for it. In filling the Sunday air with sweetness, change ringers were doing great good to the community at large, in reminding all within reach of the service of God. The music of the bells entered many a sick room, uplifting the despondent heart and cheering the weary ones. Change ringing, ho thought, was a noble and blessed work, and a public duty. Sweet bells and good ringers generally went together. He beliered that change ringing cultivated a taste for music in those who heard it, and that where there are beautiful paals of bells, there one would find the love of music more pronounced. In fact, change ringers might in a sense be called the music-masters of England. He once spent five weeks in the Lakg district of Italy, and he compared the choir and the ringers to the song of the nightingale and of the blackbird which he once heard there. pouring forth beautiful music to the glory of God. He expressed his pleasure at seeing a lady present, extending a welcome to her, and referred to the refining and ennobling influence which it should have on all present. It gave him great pleasure to present the cup and certificate to the Worksop company, and to congratulate them on their fine record.
Mr. H. Haigh, in receiving the cup and certificate on behalf of the Workson company, expressed his great pleasure in having won it. When they decided to join the Sheffeld District Society, he said, they did so because they considered it the most up-to-date and progressive society in the district. He was proud of the fact that of their company of twelve, all we:e communicants and regular service goers, and he referred to the fact that they rang three times every Sunday. He belicved that ringers were doing a great work in ringing to the honour and glory of God, and in cases of national rejoicing or sorrow. They realised the importance of Sunday ringing, in ministering to the outside word. and to the old and infirm who could not attend the services, and the importance of always giving their best ringing for these occasions. He concluded by emphasising the necessity of regarding ringers as real Church workers.

LADY RTNGERS ELECTED.

Six new members were elected, including three ladies, viz., Miss Evelyn Steel (Bedford), Miss Jessie Wair (North Wingfield), and Miss W. Hague (Rotherham), and Mesers. A. West (Eckington), W. Barton (North Wingfield), and G. Holmes (Sheffield).

A hearty vote of sympatliy was passed with the Vical of Ranmoor and his family in connection with his illness
In replying to a vote of thanks to the churchwardens, Mr. Morrison congratulated the society on the conduct of its business and upon its performances, and expressed his sympatby with its aims. He believed that at Ranmoor ther possessed a church second to none in the county, and he thought he was not for wrong in saying that their bells and their ringers were also second to none (applause). He was glad to note that ther had arranged a meeting at Ranmoor for next February, and he would be delighted to meet them again and give them all a weloome as he did now.-A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the local company and to the ladies, and was suitably responded to by Messis. Frank and Mawice Wark.-A very cordial vote of thanks to the lRev. T' Torrens was proposed by the Secretary, and seconded by Mr. S. Thomas. in a humorous speed.-The Rev. T. Torrens suitably replied, and the reeting closed with the Doxology.
Handbell ringing was indulged in by some of those present after the meeting.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION

When the removal of the Rev. H. G. Bird from the county of Middlesex caused his retirement from the presidency of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, there seemed but one man to whom the members could turn to fill the office, and that man was Mr. Arthur T. King, I.S.O., the founder of the Association as it at present exists, and, for thirteen years its honorary secretary. Needless to say, Mr. King's acceptance gave unbounded satisfaction to the members, for they recognise that it is to his efforts the present proud position of the Middlesex Association is largely due. His fondness for bells goes loack to his boyhood's days, but it is in connection with his labours to build up the Association with which he has been so closely identified that he is best known.

He came into touch with the old Middlesex Association in November, 1889, the organisation having on the prerious August Bank Holiday been formed out of the remains of the North Middlesex Association. In $\mathrm{IS}_{95} \mathrm{Mr}$. King was elected honorary secretary, the members pressing him into service and simply declining to take a refusal. The first thing he did on assuming office was to open negotiations with the South Middlesex Association, with a view to the uniting of forces, and had the satisfaction of seeing the fusion take place in 1897, after which, instead of a couple of weak associations operating in different parts of the county, there was a tolerably strong organisation, all the better for the unity which had been secured, under the title of "The Middlesex County Association of Change Ringers." Mr. King was appointed joint secretary, with Mr. C. Edwards, of Hounslow, the President being the Rev. H. G. Bird, who has just resigned, and whom, as mentioned above, Mr. King succeeds. From this time the Association grew by leaps and bounds, and its membership has increased from 338 in 1897 to close upon 700 . In 1901, on the resignation of Mr. Edwards, Mr. King took over the entire secretarial duties, besides those of honorary secretary of the N. and E. district. On October ioth, 1903, the seventh annual meeting was held at All Saints', Fulham, and the members were addressed by the Bishop of London, who has been patron since the amalgamation in 1897 . The Bishop afterwards entertained the members, and it was upon this occasion that, with the express permission of the Bishop, the term "London Diocesan Guild " was added to the title. For this important step Mr. King was again rery largely responsible.
Indeed, throughout the many years he occupied the post of secretary he was ever doing his best to forward the interest of the Association, and only those who were closely associated with him have any knowledge of the time and labour he expended on the task. On removing from London in ig10 Mr. King resigned his office, and at the annual meeting, held at All Saints', Fulham, on September 24 th, 1910, he was made a vice-president of the Association, and presented with a magnificent timepiece, striking the Westminster chimes, in grateful recognition of all he had done for the society. And now he has returned to active connection with the work of the Association, for he intends to be no mere figure head, but an officer who will watch carefully over the doings of the Guild.

Mr. King, whose father was the Rev. Charles King, Vicar of Stratford-sub-Castle, and Canon of Salisbury, was born in the Cathedral Close, at Salisbury, on September 30th, 1845 . He was educated at Winchester, where, incidentally, several other well known members of the Exercise received their education, the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, Mr. R. A. Daniell, Dr. A. B. Carpenter, the Rev. E. IV. Carpenter and Mr. F. A. Milne, the honorary treasurer of the Association, being Wykehamists. In 1864 Mr. King joined the Civil Service, entering the National Debt Office, and, after 46 years' service, he retired in igro, having in 1903 been made a Companion of the Imperial Service Order. The bestowal of this honour by the late King Edward, in recognition of Mr. King's meritorious public service, was commemorated by the Middlesex Association by a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Giles', Camberwell, on November iqth, 1903.

In his youth Mr. King was a great athlete, and among other things, won the raulting in the Civil Service Sports of 1867 , with a height of 7 ft ., which has never been beaten. At Richnond about the same time he won the prize for throwing the hammer, beating a man who was afterwards amateur champion. He won the chief swimming event at Winchester in 1862, and only last year he was able to save a little girl from drowning in the River Nadder, at Bemerton, near Salisbury.

Mr. King was always fond of handling a bell, and had some experience when, as a boy, in the early sixties, he used to spend some of his holidays with his uncle, the Rev. Canon King, who was for many years Vicar of Worstead, Norfolk. While at Winchester Mr. King used sometimes to ring the curfew, and for many years after this he always inquired whether the curfew was rung in any town he visited, and if it was he was sure to be there to ring it. Apart from this, however, Mr. King took no part in ringing until somewhere about 1893, when the old peal at Barnet were recast and fresh metal added, and he then became a member of the local society. It was, however, when he undertook the secretaryship of the old Middlesex Association that his real interest in the Exercise developed, and since that time he has rung 127 peals, either on the tenor or on the treble in a plain hunt method. With a splendid ear, he could do either of these things perfectly, and it is a little surprising that he did not venture further into the realms of practical ringing. Even Mr. King can hardly tell you why he never sought to ring inside. He has said that it may have been " partly laziness and partly specific density," but no one who knows him will attribute it to either of these failings. He has found a great delight in composition, and some very good peals of his are frequently rung, his knowledge of composition having been acquired from his old and valued friend, Mr. Charles H. Martin, of Hendon. Of the 127 peals which Mr. King has rung in 7 have been for the Middlesex Association, and while he has never rung a peal on twelve bells he once came very near it at Cornhill, where he rang the tenor for about four hours and the peal came to grief, to everyone's disappointment, less than a hundred changes from the end. His peals, rung in 53 towers, consist of the following :-

\begin{aligned}
& \text { Bob Triples ................................. } 3 \\
& \text { Grandsire Triples } \\
& 3 \\
& \text { Bob Major .............................. } 4 \\
& \text { Double Norwich Major } \\
& \text { Stedman Triples } \\
& 4 \\
& \text { Stedman Caters }
\end{aligned}

Mr. King is a member of the Central Council, and serves on the Analysis Committee. He is also a member of the following associations, in addition to the Middlesex :Chester Diocesan, Essex, Hertfordshire, Kent, Norwich Diocesan, Salisbury Diocesan, Surrey, Sussex, Waterloo, Winchester Diocesan and Vorkshire.

ODD CHANGES.

Owing to a large number of records of peals being received just before we went to press, some few have unavoidably had to be held over, together with other reports.

Some time ago we referred in this column to various family peals that had been rung. A correspondent sends us the record of one rung over a hundred years ago. It was achieved at St. Andrew's Church, Soham, Cambs, where it is recorded on a peal board as follows : " Society of Soham Youths. In this tower was rung a complete peal, by three brothers and their sons, of Oxford Treble Bob, $5^{2} 40$ changes in 3 hrs . and 30 mins. on November 20th, 1809 : Thos. Tebbit treble, Robert Tebbit 2nd, Ben. Tebbit (age $I_{5}$ years) 3rd, Robert Tebbit (son of Robert) $4^{\text {th }}$, Edward Tebbit 5th, John Tebbit 6th, Thomas Tebbit (son of Thos.) $7^{\text {th, William Tebbit (son of Thos.) tenor." }}$ No conductor of the peal is mentioned. In the tower there are also recorded several peals of Norwich Court Bob and Imperial Treble Bob, between 1790 and 1800 , of Oxford and New Treble Bob Royal between 1810 and 1821.

Imong the ladies who have recently taken up handbell ringing is Miss Winifred M. Hague, of Rotherham, whose first peal of Bob Major we record this week. It is not uninteresting to note that upon the handbells that were used on this occasion over a hundred peals have been rung. Considering them as having rung at least as many changes in failures or practices, etc., they have been struck well over one million times. They are in quite good condition, and have needed no attention since they were purchased in 1903, except a drop of oil occasionally.

A start is being made in $\stackrel{}{}$ oston; $\stackrel{*}{\text { U }}$.S.A., as a result of the recent recruiting of strength from England. On Wednesday evening, April 3oth, 720 Grandsire Doubles, called differently, was rung by: P. J. Allfrey i, Mrs. Shurtleff 2, S. W. Sturgis 3, Wm. Bashford 4, George Moore (conductor) 5, Dr. A. H. Nichols 6.

It is reported that the bells of Bromham, Beds, cannot be rung owing to the lack of ringers. That is a state of things that ought soon to be cured. There is an opportunity here for the Beds Association if they have not already taken steps.

The new peal of eight for Lincoln Cathedral were dedicated by the Bishop of Lincoln on Saturday. Each bell, which bears a Latin inscription, is named after a different bishop of the diocese.

FRAMLAND SOCIETY OF CHANGE RINGERS.

ANNUAL MEETING AT BOTTESFORD

The 38 th annual meeting of this society was held at Bottesford on Monday week. Bands of ringers were present from Bottesford, Harby, Croxion Kerria1, Hose, Eaton, Waltham, Long Clawson, Melton Mowbray, and Wymondham, numbering just over eighty. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles, Bob Binor, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Bob Major.

At 1.30, the company sat down to an excellent dinner at the Belvoir Coffee House, served by Mr. Hardy. After dinner a mixed band was arranged to ring for service, when a very good 504 of Grandsire Triples was rung under the conductorship of Mr. R. H. Bartram, Melton Mowbray.

A good congregation assembled in the Parish Church at 3 p.m., when a very interesting address was given by the Rev. J. P. Hales, of Cotgrave, Notts. A collection was made in aid of the fund of the society. The ringers then rang again in turn, and various touches were brought round.

At 6 o'clock the company again repaired to the Coffee House, where a splendid meat tea was provided. A business meeting was afterwards held.-A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the organist and choir for their services, and to the clergy of the society for coming among the ringers and encouraging them.-The Rev. Ganon W. Vincent Jackson suitably replied.-There ware about 15 new ringing members elected.-It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Mellon Mowbray, and the half-yearly meeting at Waltham. The balance sheet, which showed a profit of $£ 17 \mathrm{~s}$. 1d. on the year's working, was passed, and a hearty vote of thanks accorded the honorary members, to whom the satisfactory financial position was due.-A vote of thanks to the secretary (the Rev. F. E. Nugee) concluded the business

The clergy present during the day were the Rev. F. E. Nugee (hon. secretary), Rer. E. H. Stone, Rev. J. P. Hales, Rev. Canon W. Vincent Jackson, and the Rev. C. J. Sturton.

Some of the ringers then ascended the tower again, and the Waltham ringers engaged themsclves in ringing handbells, several tunes being very beautifully rung, including "The Blue Bells of Scotland," "Ring out o' Bells," "How beautiful upon the mountains," etc. A most enjoyable day was spent.

TUESDAY'S MEETING AT NEWCASTLE.

Tho twenty-third annual meeting of the Central Council was held at Newcasile-on-Tyne, on Tuesday, and was attended by some 50 representatives. From the previous Saturday onward, members arrived from the south singly and in small parties, and to all a most hearty welcome was extended by the members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association. The President of the Association (Mr. C. L. Routledge) and the committee had left nothing undone that could add to the pleasure of the visitors, many of whom accepted the invitation to be present at the meeting of the Association at Whitley Bay and North Shields on Whit-Monday.

Peals were arranged for all who cared to stand in them, and for those content with shorter lengths, other bells were arailable. The Council meeting was held in the Lecture Theatre of the Mining Institute, and the following members were present:-
Ancient Sosiety of College Youths: A. Hughes.
Bath and Wells: A. E. Coles.
Bedforvlshire: Rev. W. W. O. Baker.
Cambridge University: E. H. Lewis.

Northants: D. J. Nichols and F. W. Wilford.
Norwich: G. P. Burton.
Oxford: Rev. G. F. Coleridge, Rer. C. W. O. Jenkyn, F. W. Hopgood. Peterborough and District: R. Narborough.
Salisbury: Rev. F. Ll. Edwards.
Surrey: C. F. Jolnnston.
Sussex : K. Hart, G. H. Howse, F. B. Tompkins and G. Watson.
Winchester Guild: Rev. C. E. Matthews.
Worcesiershire: J. R. Newman.
Yorkshire: G. Bolland.
Hon. Members: Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Rev. H. A. Cockey, J. W. Parker, J. S. Pritchett, and the hon secretary and treasurer (the Rev. C. D. P. Davies).

A full report by our own representative will appear in these columns, but the following is a summary of the business transacted.
The statement of accounts showed that the year was begun with a balance in hand of $£ 7112 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{c}$., and that affiliation fees to the amount of $£ 12 \mathrm{2s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$. had bee 1 received. The expenditure was $£ 61 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$. , leaving a balance in hand of $£ 7713 \mathrm{~s}$. 6d. The financial statement was adopted, and a resolution passed to place $£ 50$ of the balance on deposit.
The Hon. Secretary announced that he had received no statement of accounts from the publishers of the Council's publications, and it was decided to appoint an hon. librarian to carry out the duties in future, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn being elected to the office.

The Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Mr. J. W. Parker and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson were re-elected hon. members.

Letters acknowledging receipt of the Council's resolution of protest against the Welsh Disestablishment Bill were read from the Prime Minister, Lord Lansdown and Mr. Bonar Law.
Verbal reports on the work of the Peal Collection Committee and the Legitimate Methods Committee were presented, and showed that progress was being made.-A suggestion that the present stock of copies of "Legitimate Methods" shorild be "scrapped," and a new edition, showing the bob work and giving extents in the methods, published, was postponed until an examination of the whole of the stock of publications has been made by the hon. librarian and the Revc. G. F. Coleridge and C. E. Matthews.

The reports of the Peals Analysis Committee (already published) were received, and the committee given power to act upon it in compiling the Analysis for the current vear.

A repnrt was also presented by the "Towers and Belfries Committee," and an offer by the Pres'dent to draw up and print at his own expense a pamphlet on the subject was gratefully accepted.

A lengthy discussion took place in the afternoon upon "The possibility of an unfavourable change in the attitude of the general public towards bell ringing as a result of the increasing number of peals anrually rung.'
It was introduced by the Rev. H. J. Elsee, but no resolution was moved on the matter.
The Rev. H. Law James moved: "That the Council is of opinion that Superlative Surpris Royal, as published by Shipway, is the same method as Superlative Surprise Major." Mr. James went into an exhaustive and highly technical argument in support of his theory, but on the suggestion of Mr. Parker, the maiter was left over for another year, so that there might be more opportunity for members to look irto the subject.

The following motion was on the agenda: "That the Ladies' Guild of Change Ringers should bo represented on the Council, and, if thought well, to move a resolution on the subject."
It was pointed out that the Ladies' Guild made no application for admission this year, and after some discussion, in which divergent riews were expressed upon the admission of lady representatives, the question was left over for the members to consult their respective associations, with a view to coming to a decision next year.
Mr. George Bolland moved: "To call renewed attention to the Council's recommendation paseed in 1902, ancl incorporated in "Rules and Decisions," to the effect that not less than seren days' notice shall be given in the columns of the ringing papers stating the tower, day and hour ai whirh any attempt is to be made to surpass any previous peal."-The motion found no seconder.

On the motion of the Hon. Secretary, seconded by the President, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Routledge and the members of the Newcastle Association for the trouble they had taken to make the meeting a success.-This was carried by acclamation, and Mr'. Routledge replied.

A rote of tha: a s to the President closed the meeting.
In the evening an enjoyable social gatharing wook place at the County Hotel.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.
The annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held on Whit-Monday at Birmingham. Fourteen members attended from various parts of the country, including Birmingham, Leicester, Tamworth, Burton-onTrent, Reading, Bramley, Portishead, and London.

Ringing took place at St. Martin's, Birmingham, and St. Peter, Harborne. At the former tower some of the members had their first experience in twelve-bell ringing. With the help of the gentlemen present touches of Stedman Caters, Stedman Triples, Grandsire Caters, Grandsire Triples and Double Norwich were rung, and nine members twok part in rounds on the twelre. It may be remarked in passing that the three gentlemen who assisted in the rounds rang the small bells, one of Birmingham's "big bell" ringers being on the treble.
At Harborne. Grandsire Triples was rung by members of the Guild only, and Stedman Triples with a tenor man. This is the first time seven ladies have rung Stedman Triples inside.
The tea took place at Harborne Schools, and a company of 42 was present, including such well known ringers as Messis. Godden, Grores, Reeves, Rock Small, Carter, Painter, and others from neighbouring to wns.

Before the business meeting commenced, Mr. W. H. Godden welcomed the Ladies' Guild to Birmingham, on behalf of the St. Martin's Guild and other associations, and expressed the hope that they would in years to come risit the city with increased numbers, and also increased abilities.-Miss Parker suitably replied, and invited the gentlemen to stay to the meeting.
In the absence of Miss Alice White (the President), through ill. health, Kiss Belcher was voted to the chair.
The balance sheet was passed as read. It was very gratifying to find a balance of $£ 124 \mathrm{~s}$. 8d. in hand. This splendid balance is due to the generosity of Sir Arthur Heywood, who, to show his interest in the Guid, sent a donation of $£ 10$ towards the funds,
Miss Alice White was re-elected as President of the Guild. The secretary and treasurer and the committee were also re-elected as follows: Northern District: Miss L. Willson. Eástern District: Miss E. Steele. Southern District: Miss E. N. Belcher. Western District: Miss N. Gillingham. Midland District: Miss Pigott. Secretary and〔reasurer: Miss E. K. Parker.

One honorary member and two ringing members were elected, and the election of seven members ratified.
A slight alteration was made in Rule 2, which now reats as follows: "That the society consist of members of the fominine sex who are able to ring either upon church bells or handbells, and honorary non-ringing mambers.'

As ihe place for the next meeting, London, Leicester and Bristol were in turn proposed, and in turn rejected. This caused considerable anmusement to the audience. After a prolonged discussion, Bristol was again put to the meeting, and carried unanimously. It was left to the committee to decide the date of the meeting.

The matter of a badge for the Guild was then discussed, and various designs submitted. A design was selected, and the secretary was asked to communicate with Mr. Whittington, who had 1 ary kindly offered to secure the badges. The Guild decided to buy a stock and sell to the members at cost price, thus effecting a considerable saving on each hadge. The Secretary mroposed a vote of thanks to the Rectors and steeplekeepers of the churches, and also to the ringers present for Chom 4 sisiance in the belfyy and for their mesence at tea.
After the meeting, a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung by members alone, and a course of Bob Major and Grandsire Caters with some of the visitors.

The Guild wish to take this opportunity of expressing their thanks to Mr. J. E. Groves for giving up the whole day in their interest.
On Sunday evening, at Selly Oak, Birmingham, Mr. Harry Withers lapped on his dulcimer Thurstans' quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 40 mins., the calling being by Miss Fedith K. Parker. Witnesses: John Carter .J. E. Groves. S. Grove, Miss Samison, Miss Johnson.

LONG STANTON TENOR.

NEW BELL DEDICATED.

The new tenor bell at Long Stanton, Crambs, a picture of which is here given, was dedicated on Thursday of last week. It will be remembered that after the peal had been augmented to eight and rehung, in face of a good many difficullies, the old tenor cracked, and as the result of an appeal made by Vioar (the Rev. H. B. Woolley) ringers from many parts of England sent their contributions towards the cost of recasting. The work has been very successfully carried out at the Loughborough foundry.
The dedication services commenced with a celebration of the Holy Communion at $7.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. The actual ceremony was performed at the first evensong at 3 p.m., the following clergy being present: The Revs. H. B. Woolley (Vicar), W. C. Cooke (Rural Dean), A. Peskett, H. G. Hooton, T, E. Beckett, J. Selwyn Sharp, and H. Law James. The usual choir was augmented by a surpliced choir of B.A.'s and undergraduates from Cambridge, processional hymns being sung at the beginning and end of the services. After the third collect the clergy and choir walked in procession to the tower, where the Rural Dean unverled a peal board commemorating the first peal rang on the bells on Dccomber 12th, 1912, and then dedicated the new bell, upon which a dozen strokes were rung by the Vicar. A few rounds were then rung on the eright bells. The Rural Dean preached an appropriate sermon on Acts vii, 47 .

The day was, unfortumately, inconvenient for ringers, but Cambridge ringers were repented by Messrs. J. Bruce Williamson (hon. secretary Cambridge University Guild), and T. R. Demnis (hon. secretary Ely Diccosan Association). At the evening service, held at 7 p.m., the meacher was the Rev. H. Law James. who preached a must forcible and telling discourse from Acts $i$, 8 bringing out in a very able manner the spiritual teaching which underlies the recasting of the old bell:
The new tenor is of the same size as the old one. riz., 35 inches across The new tenor is of the same size as the old one, riz., 35 inches across tho mouth. but her weight is 7 ewt. 2 qrs. 11 lbs., as against 6 cwt. 3 ys. 11 lbs., the note being $A$
The old inscription on the shculder has been reproduced in facsimile, に, M1LLE GRATE FECIT 1655.
The tone of the bell is much admired, and reflects great credit on the firm of Muars. Taylor, of Loughborough, being richer and fuller than that of the oid bell.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO THE PRESIDENT

It was almost a unique gathering that took placo at North Shields 011 Monday on the oceasion of the Whitsun meeting of the Durham and Newearth Diocesan Association. Not only were there member's present from a great many towers in the two counties, but the gathering was aitended by a number of the representatives who had assembled in Neweastic for the Central Council meeting on the morrow, a hearty invitation to the risitors having been extended by the Association. Linging tools place during the day. both oa the ten bells at Christ Church, North Shields, and on the fine new eight at Whitley Bay.

Dinner, to whioh 70 sat down, was served at the Bath Hotel, Tynemouth, the chair being taken by the genial president (Mr. O. L. Routledge). He was supported by the Revs. IR. E. Holmes (Vicar of Tynemouth), B. Jealous (Fencehouses) and A. W. Lister (Tanfield), Messrs. A. T. King, I.S.O. (president of the Middlesex Association), J. W. Taylor (vice-president of the Midland Counties Association). Among others present were: Messrs. G. Watson (hon, secretary of the Sussex Association), J. Cotterell (treasurer of the Yorkshire Association), B. Prewett (Herts Association), K. Hart, G. H. Howse (Sussex), G. Bolland, P. J. Jackson (Yorks), E. C. Gobey (Midland Counties), H. Chapman (Lancs.), C. Johnston (Surrey), G. T. Potter (past president), J. W. Parker, W. Storey, T. T. Gofton, J. A. Gofton, C. Todd (hon. secretary), and others.
After the toast of "The King" had been honoured, the President proposed "The Visitors," to whom he extended a cordial welcome.Mr A. T King, who first responded, said he had been simply etruck with the extraordinary hospitality with which the visitors from other Associations had been welcomed at Newcastle. He, a perfect stranger, had been received with open arms by everybody, and all the visitors would go away with the most pleasant recollections of an exceedingly minoyable trip.-Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, Editor of "The Ringing World," whose name was also coupled with the toast, endorsed what had been said by Mr. King as to the warmth of the welcome extended to the visitors, whose thanks were voiced.

PRESIDENT'S SERVICES ACENOWLEDGED.
Mr. Gr. T. Potter said on that cccasion, which was rendered of special interest by reason of the visit of the Central Council to Newcastle, the members of the Durham and Newcastle Association desired to make a presentation to their esteemed and respected president (applause). For a great number of years Mr. Routledge had worked extremeiy hard in the interests of the Associations-in fact, the amount of work he had done nobody knew, except, perhaps, his wife (laughter and applause). As secretary, he had been the friend and guide of everybody, spurring on the lazy ones, coaxing the beginners, and giving a helping hand to all. And now he occupied the honoured position of president. No man more deserved that honour, and they hoped he might long be spared to enjoy it (applause). One of his services had been appreciated very much, and that was in the Cathedral belfry, which had been in a state of chaos and darkness in more senses than one. They had cleaned out the dirt from the belfry, they had now established regular ringing on Sundays, and had got together a band as good as any in the country (hear, hear). All that was due to the energy of Mr. Routledge (applause). Personally, he (the speaker) wished to thank him for all the assistance he gave him during the time he occupied the presidency. On behalf of the members of the Association, he had to ask Mr. Routledgeis acceptance of three silver dishes, which were inscribed: ' Presented to C. L. Routledge, Esq., president, by the members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association of Change Ringers, as a token of esteem and appreciation of his post services. Whit-Monday, May 12th, 1913.'

Mr. Potter handed the handsome dishes to Mr. Routledge amid loud cheers and the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow."
Mr. Routledge, whose rising was the signal for another outburst of cheering, was obviously taken much by surprise. He said he thought he knew everything that was going on in the Association, but that presentation had: "fairly bowled him over." He thanked the members for their great kindness. He had done nothing to deserve such recognition, and whatevar he had done had been a labour of love (applause).
The Hon. Secretary read an apology for absence from the Rev. J. H. Barker (Consett), who sent his good wishes to Mr. Routledge.

Nine new life niembers were elected, and 16 ordinary members, including twelve from St. Aiden's, Bambrough.
This concluded the proceedings, and bands were afterwards made up for peals in the evening.

BELL RESTORATIONS IN KENT.

The bell hangers have been very active in Kent during the past year or two, but despite this fact, there still remain many peals which need rehanging and repairing. A meeting was recently held at Smarden, when it was decided to rehang the five bells and add a new treble, for which a sum of $£ 180$ would be required. It was arranged to hold a garden fete and a sale of work in July, in aid of the funds. A committee was appointed, and an appeal will shortly be made to all houscholders in the parish.
At Westwell, a small village three miles from Ashford, a scheme has for some time been on foot for raising $£ 250$ for repairing and augmenting the church bells. There are four bells in the pretty little steeple, one of them being cracked.

It is also reported that a fund is to be started towards rehanging the beautiful peal of eight at Biddenden.

There is a pretty church at Eastling, with a fine peal of six (tenor about 9 ewt.), which have not been rung for many years, owing to their unsafe condition, and there is also a peal of fire at Kingsnorth (tenor 14 cwt .), which have been silent for some time, as they are in need of repair. A peal of five at Boughton Aluph, which need repairing, have also been silent for several years. There is opportunity here for the Church authorities.

DEATH OF MR. JOHNSON HERN.

A PIONEER OF CHANGE RINGING IN THE NORTH.

The death has occurred at his residence at Reading of Mr. Johnson E. Hern, who was a pioneer of change ringing in. Durham and Northumberland, and who, throughout his life, wherever he has lived, has taken the liveliest interest in the art and done much, by teaching young ringers, and rendering help wherever it was possible, to further the cause in various parts of the country. The deceased, who was only ill for a few days, was 66 years of age, and leaves a widow and daughter to mourn their loss.
Born in Dickleburgh3, Norfolk, the eldest son of the late Mr. Edward Hern, a farmer, Mr. Johnson Hern was one of four brothers, the others being Joel, Judah and James, all ringers. The deceased has been almost a lifelong exponent of the art of campanology. Beginning in his boyhood days, in his native county of Norfolk, where he acquired his first experiences as a ringer, he migrated to the North of England, and setitling down in the pretty village of Furworth-on-Tees, situate some three miles from the Quaker town of Darlington, the birthplace of railways, he at once set about earnestly to further the cause he had so much at heart, gathering around him a band of youthful spirits imbued with the desire to learn the art of ringing. Under the skilful guidance of the deceazed, they soon became expert in the various Minor methods which come within the scope of a six-bell tower such as Hurwortin possessed.

A FOUNDER OF THE DURIIAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.
At that time scientific change-ringing in the North of England, at any rate beyond Yorkshire, was entirely unknown, but having once got a start, the deceased soon spread the infection to most of the large towns and villages in the counties of Durham and Northumberland, and, ultimately, with the assistance of one or two other equally enthusiastic followers of the art, they formed what is now so well known in the bell ringing world as "The Durham and Newcastle Diacesan Association." These facts speak volumes as to the indomitable character of the deceased, who was ever ready, both in theory and practise, to further the cause. On leaving Furworth, after a residence of a goed many years, to take up fresh duties at Newnham-on-Severn in Gloucestershire, he was presented with very tangible mementoes by the choir (of which he was a deroted member), the bell-ringers, and also the parishioners, to whom he had endeared himself, and by whom he was held in the highest respect.

Mr. Johnson Hern's first peal was rung in 1869 in his native rillage, and was a 5040 of Doubles in five methods, which he conducted. The peal was recorded by a local paper as follows: 'On Tuesday last, fire of the ringers of this place met at the church tower and performed an unparalleled feat on these bells by ringing in splendid style 5040 changes ill 3 hrs. 2 mins. The ringing was composed of the following peals: Stedman's principle, Stedman's slow-course, St. Simon's Doubles, Dunstan Doubles and Bob Doubles. The ringers were: Mr. C. Rudd treble, Judah Hern second, Robt. Flammond third, Joel Hern fourth, Johnson Hern tenor and conductor."
EARLY PEALS.

Mr. Hern remored to Hurworth in 1871, and soon got a capable band together. In 1874 he rang in a peal of Kent Treble Bob Najor at Thirsk; and subsequently in the first peal of Major in Northumberland. He trained some of the best ringers in the district, and there are still some of his pupils ringing the same belle, to Treble Bob and Surprise methods. Mr. Hern left the north for Newnham-on-Seveln in 1884. and went to reside at Reading 25 years ago. He was a member of St. Mary's and St. Lawreuce's belfries, and was much respected by all who knew him. He was a member of a number of ringing societies, including Durham and Nerrastle: the College Youths, to which he was elected in 1872; the Yorkshire Association, which he joined in 1875 ; and the Gloucester and Bristol, to which he became affiliated in 1884.
The mortal remains were laid to rest in St. George's Cemetery, Reading, the officiating clergy being: The Rer. W. H. Harper (Vicar of St. George's), the Rer. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Guild, and the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, R.D.. Vicar of Crowthorne. A number of ringers attended the last sad rites, and over the open grave a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbelle by: A. Wr. Pike 1-2, C. Giles 3-4, F. W. Hopgood 5-6, W. Newell 7-8. Subsequently, at al thrse of the Reading Churches touches were ming with the bells halfmuffled.

BELLS DEDICATED AT OSWALDTWISTLE.

The bells of Immanuel Church, Oswaldtwistle, Lancs, have been augmented to eight by the addition of two trebles. The old six have bcen rehung in a new iron frame, and an extremely satisfactory job has been made of the contract by Messis. Taylor and Co., of the Loughborough Foundry. The dedication of the new bells took place on Tuesday of last week, the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Manchester, the other clergy assisting in the service being the Vicar of Oswaldtwistle; the Rev. H. J. Fises, President of the Lancashire Association and Vicar of St. George's, Bolton; and the Rev. F. Velville. After the service the bells were opened by the local company with a short touch of Double Norwich: C. Sharples 1, J. Shaw 2, W. Whewell 3, J. Rawcliffe 4, W. Riley 5, A. T. Houldsworth 6, J Houldsworth (conductor) 7, J. Bentley 8. Afterwards the Rev. H. J Elsee and Mr. Woods (Musbery) joined in a touch of Dortble Norwich, and other visitors took part in touches of Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Major.

To the Editor.
Sir,-Although such a thing has not previously been published, the idea of a Treble Bob Method with two hunts is not new. I have had some for a long time, and some few years back, when I was at Surfleet, Mr. Law James showed me, or explained to me, how he had got such a method. The one Mr. Dench publisles is, strictly speaking, not legitimate. The lead end comes, not where he puts it, at the trcble's whole pull, but at the snap.

And consequently you do not get a correct lead end. That is the reason why this method has not been published before, although it was well known to us.--Yours truly,
J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

Very briefly last week we recorded what was done by the Central Council at the meeting at Newcastle on Whit-sun-Tuesday, and this week we give the first instalment of the full report of the lengthy proceedings, which were attended by 27 out of the 40 affiliated associations. Those who made the long journey north are not likely soon to forget the completeness of the arrangements made by the Durham and Newcastle Association for the comfort, pleasure and entertainment of their visitors.
Of the meeting itself, however, one can hardly speak with the same enthusiasm, for while the members actually sat for five and a half hours, the discussions, with one or two exceptions, were not very fruitful. The morning saw the transaction of what may be termed the formal business of the Council, and it was left to the afternoon session to provide the real debates, the discussions on the questions of the possibility of an unfarourable change in the attitude of the general public towards bell ringing, and the representation of the Ladies' Guild on the Council bringing out some able and piquant speeches. Whether in regard to the former matter it was quite wise to discuss it in the presence of the general Press, is a question upon which opinion may have been divided, but when later in the day members saw a flaming. placard of one of the evening papers drawing attention to "the nuisance of bell ringing," and read a long report of the debate on the subject exposing the ringers' "hand " to the public, as it were, many felt that a mistake had been made, and that rather than obviating trouble, the Council had asked for it.

Some little asperity was introduced into the subject of the representation of the Ladies' Guild, and there is going to be another debate on the matter next year, after the members have had the opportunity of consulting their associations. A surprising amount of seriousness was applied to the discussion of the question, and had it been the Mother of Parliaments itself debating the women's franchise the speakers could hardly have treated it more gravely. The majority of the members seemed on the side of the ladies, whose claims to admission next year are likely to be much stronger than on this occasion. But-in classic phrase-we must " wait and see." Another question that stands over for a year is the identification of Superlative Surprise Royal. The Rev. H. Law James' learned disquisition could only be followed with difficulty by those whose acquaintance with the intricacies of this subject is superficial. Matters of this kind might well be settled by a committee of experts, for it is absolutely impossible for nine-tenths of the members of the Council to express an authoritative opinion one way or the other.

OPINION OF OUR

 MODERN WORK.Broomfleld Vicarage, Chelmsford.
Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfed with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hang the Broomfld Church Bells.

We consider that the work refects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by gou to a minimum.
The CHURCHWARDENS unite with ME in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alteratious effected by you. Yours truly,

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION

THE PROPOSED GIFT OF A BELL TO CHELASFORD.

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Fosex Association was held at West Ham on Whitsun Monday, when 76 members attended from various parts of the county. Divine service was held in the Parish Church, the new special form of sorrice, approved of by the Bishop of the Diocese, being used for the first time. Prayers were said by the Rev. Canon' Pelly (Vicar of West Ham), and the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre (Vicar of Totham, and hon. secretary and treasurer of the Association) read the lesson. A very instructive address was given by the Rev. J. W. Eisdell, Vicar of Barking.

Tlie mecting was held in the Church Hall. Mr. C. H. Howard (Master) presided, supporled by the Vicar of Barking, the hon. sccretary, auditors, and district officers.-The report and balance sheet were unanimously adopted, and all the officers were re-clected.-Several new members were elected
In accordnnce with the notice given, Mr. H. F. Cooper (Chelmsford) proposed, and Mr. J. F. Penning (Saffron Walden) seconded, that the treble bell to the rew ring of twelve for Chelmsford Church be given by the Association out of the reserre fund. - Mr. E. W. Beckwith (Coggeshall) proposed, and Mr. D. Elliott (Coggeshall) seconded, as an amendment, that a vote of the members be taken by referendum. After considerable discussion, the amendment was put, and lost, and the resolution was carried.
The following alteration in Rule III was moved by the Master, seconded by Mr. Is. Mayes, and carricd, after the words "out of the county," to insort: "If a tower immediately adjacent to the county boundary wishes, upon application, to become affiliated with the Association; the bant of ringers of such tower may be admitted, with the approval of the neighbouring Association, and continue as members upon an annual payment of 1 s .
Jrarlow was selected for the next annual meeting,
Votes of thanks were passed to the preacher for his execllent address, to the Vicar of West Ham for uss of towers, and to the choir and orqanist for their assistance at the service.
Members afterwaris adjourned to the various towers, where arrangements had been made bv Mr. G. A. Black for the accommodation of those w:shing to avail themselves of some ringing.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

ANNUAL MEETING AT NEWCASTLE.

SPECIALLY REPORTED BY " THIT RINGING WORLD REPRESENTATIVE.
As recorded by a brief summary in our last issue, the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers met at Neweastle-on-Tyne on! Whit-Tuesday The business meeting took place at the Mining Institute, where the Lecture Theatre provided specially suitable accommodation. There were 49 members present, representing 27 associations, the proceedings being presided over by Sir Arthur Heywood, Bart., the president. The affiliated associations unrepresented were: The Cumberland Youths; St Martin's Guild, Birmingham; Dudley and Districts Guild; Ely Diocesan; Gloncester and Bristol Diocesan; Hereford Diocesan; Liverpool Diocesan; Llandaff Diocesan; North Notts; Salop Archidiaconal; Staffs Archeleaconry; Truro Diocesan; and Warwickshire.

THE PUBLICATION OF TIIE MINUTES.
Some discussion took place upon the minutes of the last meeting, which were eventually signed after amendment, and the Hon. Secretary (the Rev. C. D. P. Davics) said that some criticism had been brought against the publication of the minutes to the effect that the minutes were five months late. He regarcled them as seven months early, be cause there was nothing in the rules to say that they should be publishod before the ensuing meeting. But they wero published beforehand for two or three reasons, first that the committees could get their instructions as to what they were to do; secondly, that if there was any little slip or inaccuracy in the minutes it should be in the power of any member to write and correct it, and so save a discussion like they had had that morning. He would be glad, therefore, if in future menbers would kindly call his attention to any inaccuracy when the minutes appeared in the ringing papers, so that it could be put right. WELSH DISESTABLISHMENT.
The FIon. Secretary said formal acknowledgments of the resolution passed by the Council al its meeting in London protesting against the Bill for tho Disestablishment of the Church in Wales, had been received from the Prime Minister, Mr. A. Bonar Law, and Lord Lansdowne.

TIIE COUNGLL'S PUBLICATIONS.

The Hon Secretary presented the accounts. ILe said they starled with a balance in hand of $£ 71$ 12s. 6d. The receipts for the year were from affiliation fees, fifteen at 10 s , 6 oue at 7 s . $6 \mathrm{~d} .$, nine at 5 s , and fifteen at 2 s .6 d ., and one of 2 s . 6 d ., paid after the last mecting, amounting altogether to $£ 12$ 2s. 6 d ., and making to total of $£ 8315 \mathrm{~s}$. Te had pleasure in informing the Council that since the last meeting two new associations had become affiliated to the Council-the Dudley and District and the Peterborough (hear, hear). On the other hand, two associations were in default-the Irish Association and the North Wales. associations were in clefault-the Irish Association and the North Wales.
The expenditure amcunted to $£ 6 \mathrm{ls}$. 6 d ., leaving a balance in hand of $£ 77 \mathrm{13} \mathrm{s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$. The Hon. Secretary added that he usually presented a statement of the sales of the Council's publications by their publishers, but this year, although he had made repeated application for the formation, he had been unable to get a statement from them. The publishers took up no end of their profits, in fact, it worked out at practically 7s. 6d. in the £. That was rather expensive for the Council, and in wondered whether the Council would hke to appoint an honorary libran to do the work which the publishers now did. There was a gentleman who was prepared to undertake the work if the Council ap proved, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (hear, hear).
Mr. W. Bibby suggested when next the Council published a book the publication should be placed in the hands of the guild secretaries, because they could better get into touch with the ringers.
The Prosident said the only way that could be done was by the various associations purchasing the publications for redistribution or re-sale. It weuld be impossible to place any of their unsold publications in the lands of secretaries, because it would be impossible for the hon. secretary to have any knowledge of the number of publications in hand. He did not see how the various secretaries of the associations could be expected to be responsible for the money value of publications committed to their charge.

The Hon. Serretary said if the secretaries of associations took any copies, he felt very strongly they should buy them. Otherwise it would bo practically equivalent to having librarians in every county.
Mr. C. Todd said the Durham and Newcasile Association purchased a stock of publications, and they had found the system work very well. They paid for the books and sold them to tho members.
The Rev. A. T. Beeston asked if the hon. secretary knew the condition in whicle the stock was in the hands of the publishers. During tho last twelve months he had had occasion to write for copies of "Tegitimato Mincr Methods." In evcry case he found the stitches were rusty, so that the leaves were in danger of dropping out. If all the copics were in that condition, it seemed to him to point to the necessity for "scrapping " these incomplete copies, so that they might have a new edition which wonld include the bolv work and the other mathods which had beon found out since the book was publiched- which he balieved was the intention in any now edition
Mr. J. Griffin, one of the auditors, having moved that the accoints be passed, Mr. G. P. Burton suggested that a portion of the balance should be placed on deposit so that the Council might get the benefit of the bank interest.
The Rev. (i. F. Coleridge, who lad audited the accounts with Mr J. Griffin, seconded their adoption, and said they had found the acJ. Griffin, seconts most admirably kept, and everything in perfect order.

Mr. J. S. Pritchett moved that a sum of $£ 50$ should be placed on deposit at the bank.-Mr. R. Narborough seconded, and the motion was agreed to.-The balance sheet was then adopted.
Apologies for absence were received from the Revs. A. H. F. Boughey, T. J. O. Helmore, Canon Papillon, Maitland Kelly, and H. S. T. Richardson, Mr. A. B. Carpenter, and Messrs. C. E. Borrett, J. Carter, W. T. Cockerill. J. R. Sharman, H. W. Wilde, C. H. Hattersley, W. Rock Small, G. Williams, H. White, J. Whiting and J. Evans.

THE HON. MEMBERS.

The Presidint said the retiring hon. members this year were the Rev. A. H. F. Bonghey, Mr. J. W. Parker, the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson and Mr. IV. S. Thompson. If they were re-elected it would fll up the whole of thei: hon. members' list, which was a thing they did not like to do, because it did not leave them a loophole in case an important member, who was a representative member, dropped out, and they desired to retain him on the Cuuncil. They had been in the habit of keeping one or two places open. The Standing Committee had had the matter umier their consideration, and in their opinion the Council should re-elect the first three-the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Mr. Parker and the Rev. FI S. T. Richardson. Mr. Thompoon never attended the meetings, and was not a ringer. As most of the Council knew, he was a mathematician, and had been of great assistance to them in that direction. It was he who first proved that a peal of Grandsire Triples coukd not be obtained without singles. If in the future they had any problem for him to solve, he could do that just as well without being a membor of the Council, but in being an hon. member he was filling a place that they might want for somebody else. The Standing Committec reoummendad that he be not re-elected, and although he bad been an holl. member for years, he would not take it in the least as a slight--On the motion of the Rer. W. W. C. Baker, seconded by Mr. F. I3. Jompkins, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Mr. J. W. Parker and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson were re-elected.

Thero were nine new members elected to the Council this year, but only the threc following were present to be introduced to the President; Mr. C. Todd (Durham and Newcastle), Mr. F. W. Hopgood (Oxford), and Mr. R. Narborough (Peterborough and District).

PEAT COLLECTION COMMITTEE.

The Council then proceded to receive and discuss the reports of the minittees. The first was that of the Peal Collection ComThe Hon. Sccretary said he believed he was the only mernbar of that committea present, and the had been relying upon Mr. Richardson, who, he regretted to say, had had to go away that morning, retary) was sory to say he kuew very little about the matter. Ii retary) was sory to say he kuew very little about the matter. It nctically nothing to do with it for the last four or five years.
The Presiclent sald the Council would bear in mind that it was Mr. lichardson, who, a white ago, moved that all these peals should be proper thing-and if he remembered aright, Mr. proved-a rery proper thing-and if he remembered aright, ind.

The delay was probably due to the extra amount of time redo prove all the paals.
Jr. F. II. Lewis said the proving had been going on. The peals proved twica at least, if not three times, and the ralue of s being shown in the fact that somo peals had slipped through rover's hands as correct, but had been found by a second prover false. Mr. Richardson had told him he was Iearly ready for Part If the Council would gire instructions, Part I
The IIon. Socretary said if that were done the fon that would be Socretary said if that were done the $£ 27$ that would be The Rer. H. Law James said he would propose they should not publish This suggestion was agreed to.

JITERATURE CONDITTEE'S ABSENT REPORT

The only representative of the Literature Committee present was Me Mev. A. Cockey, who said he had heard absolutely nothing rom Mr. Dains, who hoped to do the work, and he had not seen Mr.
'apillon. When Mr. Kelly was on the committee the year before last, Papillon. When Mr. Kelly was on the committee the year before last, was unbble to get any communication from Mr. Daniell, neither The Hon speaker heard from him this year banicll and drew his attention to what we said ago he wrote to Mr . Danicll and drew his attention to what he said last year to the effect it bafore that meeting he hoped a draft report would be available and sent to him as secretary. He reminded him of that, but he had ogether a catalogue of ringing literature, and he could not help Colng that the delay was getting serious. From the beginning of the onncil there was a Literaturo Committee-it was first a one-man comears, and reported that he was getting on. Then, unfortunately, he signed from the commitlee, and seemed to have been lost from the hite. Now, Nir. Daniell had taken up the work. He did not take and

Mr. Strange's work, because Mr. Strange left no materials behind. He (the speaker) believed Mr. Daniell had done a good deal of work, but at the same time the Council had not seen a single line in black and. white. It was really about time they did begin to see something.
Mr. A. T. King said the hon. secretary had overlooked the fact that many years ago there was some portion of Mr. Strange's work published. As to Mr. Daniell's work, he might say there was something typewritten. He had read it, and it was exceedingly interesting. That was two year's ago, but where it was now, and why it was not forthcoming, he could not say.

Mr. Burton asked if they could not have an interim report.
The Rev. H. A. Cockey said if the committee was continued, what had been done ought to be laid before the Council. It would be far better to have some part of it, but he had never seen anything at all.
The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards suggested that someone should be asked to undertake to interview Mr. Daniell, and, with him, get matters together. A personal interview might have some result.
The President said there seemed some sort of malign influence hovering over this committee. As to Mr. Strange, not only had he left nothing behind, but he had carried away some lists of his, one of them excecdingly valuable, by the late Mr. Ellacombe, which he wrote and wrote for, but could never get back.

THE LEGITIMATE METHODS.
The Rer. H. Law James reported, on behalf of the Legitimate Methods Committee, that he had been through the collection of Major methods, accepted by the Council two years ago, and had made his selection of what he thought ought to be published, and had sent it on to Mr. Dains, who, he understood, had been through them and sent them on to Mr. Trollope, who was now making his selection. It was a big business to go through all these methods and pick out those that ought to be published, because the total number was too great to pubish them all, and a large number were of very little interest. He thought they were getting on as fast as they could expect, and he hoped they would be ready to publish next year.
The Rev. A. T. Beeston again raised the question of "scrapping" theremaining copies of the "Legitimate Minor Methods" so that a more complete edition might be issued.
Mr. A. T. King said if it were necessary that they should have a new publication let it be as complete as possible. In the first instance, all the methods should be named. Some day or another, perhaps next year, they could discuss the nomenclature of these methods, for names. were repeated over and over again. He could go into details and tell them how the Tulip and Primrose known to Mr. Bolland were not the Tulip and Primrose in the "Collection"; Lincoln in the "Collection" was not the Lincoln in the "Clavis"; and then there was College this and College that and College the other. He believed there were nine names with? College in them IIe thought they would have to go back into ancient history, and find the real names of these methods, to such works as the "Clavis," and "Annable's Note-Book." The trouble which the Analysis Committee had was in identifying the methods with the names. He did not think they should bs in a hurry to scrap their present "Collection" until they were ready with the material to provide a new and complete book.

A USEFUL SUGGESTION.

Mr. J. W. Parker seconded the Rev. A. T. Beeston's proposal, on the ground that it was most unfair for the Council to charge members of the Exercise the full value for a book that was damaged. He thought the only thing to do was to publish a new edition. He would like to know if the committes had taken into consideration the advisability of publishing, when the next edition was issued, a colloction of Minor extents. They always had, of course, Snowdons raluable work "Rope Sight,' which gave them several 720's of Bob Minor, but that did not meet the requirements of the whole of the Minor methods. They must remember that there were a great number of six-bell conductors in varions parts of the country who were having a great difficulty in keeping a band together. They lost their men periodically, and the most they could achieve were plain methods; therefore, if the conductor was a good conductor, his only solace was to call different extents. If the next edition were to include these exteuts it would be rery raluable. He wouid also suggest that it should include spliced 720 's ; or, if not spliced 720 's, at leact a list of the methods that could be spliced together.
Aftor some further discussion, it was left to the librarimn to decide whether any of the books should, on account of their condition, be sold off at half-price, this amendment being carried in preference to the pro posal to scrap the present edition of "Legitimate Minor Methods."

On the motion of the Rer. C. E. Matthews, scoonded by the Rev. A. T. Beeston, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn was appointed hon. librarian, the resolution being carried amid applanse.
