ESSEX ASSOCIATION'S JUBILEE.

MONDAY'S OELEBRATFON AT CHELMSFORD. FIFTY YEATA OE PROGRESS.

The jubileo celebration of the Essex Assuciation at Chelmsford on Whit Morday brought together a laree turaber of roembers from all parts of the coanlfy and representatives of many other associations attendel to show thoir inderest ins the proceedings and to extend their vongratulations to the association upon the interesting cwnt. The association was founded on Whit Monday, 1879, at Writtle, by the Rev. J. is. Seamn, who was then priest-in-charge of that parish. THe preliminary raceting held at Writule Vicarage on May 9th, 1879, was attendel by representatives from six neighbouring parishes. At this meeting a set of vules was drawn up, and it was ciecided to circularise every incumbent, elhurchwarden and bend uf ringers altached to lowers of live bells and upwards in the county invising then to Whittle on the following Whit Mondry. The inangural meting was attended lyy clergy, churchwardens and fortyseven ringers from fiffon parishes, and the association was duly latanched. Of those present at that first meeting only six are known to be alive to-day, wiz. Messrs. W. Hawkes (Springfield), W. Benrman (Bocking), F. Rudkin, T. Edwards and T. Watgon (Braintree), and 13, Keble (Romford). Messrs. Rudkia and Hawkes are stilj members of the association. The Rev. J. B. Scaman, who eonvened Ilu preliminary meeting, was appointed the firsi hon, secretary. He held oflice for forr years, and zesigned on going to Manitoba to join his son there. He was suceeeded ly the Rev. F. A. Cockey, who Jold tha prailion mutil 1886, whas the Rev. T. L. Papillon whs electen!. [huring jis term of ofliec, the association made great strides, and by 1901 the membersing hati inereased to 532 . The country was h hon divided into four divisions, each with its own Distriet Master and Secretary.
At the same time another new office was created in the appointment of a Mastor for tite whole associstion. To this position the Rey. T. L. Papillon was elected, and held office until 1909, whon he left the county. The Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, who had acted as nssistent secretary since 1890, was appointed to succeed Canon Prpillon an hon. secretary and trensurer. He remained in office until 1921, when the presout estemorl secretary and treasurer, Mr. F., J. Pitatow, wats elected. During the time the Rev. H. T. W. Tyre held office the association increased in urnibers and usefubsess under bis able guidance. Upon the resignation of Chnon Papillon Mr. C. H. Howard was appointerl Mnster, and has leeld office up to tho present time.
flo-day here are in the connty 3 rings of twelve bells, 3 nf ten, 45 of eiglat, 63 of six, and 60 of fire, making a total of 174 rings of five bells nud upwatels. Of these, 93 ate in union with the :association.
A vevival in the restamation of hells las taken place in the county duriag the last twenty yenth, in no small measure due to the advocacy ai the Mastor, ank a great many augmentations and rehanginge abe due to the association's efforl's and infuence. Among them is the ring of 12 for the Cathedral to which the association gave the treble beil, being the firsl association of vingers in the country to make sueln $n$ gift. At this times, when the association is celebrating its juhiler, $t$ be memherghip is the highest ret attained, It exceeds the remod nf last yoar by 24, fad is made up as follows. Hon. memhers 89, resident vinging menbms 760 , mon-resident ringing nemlers 215, тmiking a tatal of $1,064$.

A WORK OF 'IRFMENDOUS IMPORTANCD.

Montay s gatlacting was holh harge and successful. Menbers were presenl frone at disiciets ann most of the afliliated towors. In actdition there were many mombers of the Central Council from rislant payts of Ergand who hat arrived lon the proccedings on Tuesday, ant samething apponthing 300 riugers must have wisited Chemsford Io share in the celchation, which officially began with serveb is the Gnthental. The building was woll Ghed, and the singing was led hy the organ. The nssociation's eustomary form was used, und ilie sermon was preacled by the wewly-enthroned Bishop of Chelmsfori, who, ns presinent of the association, thet the members for the first time Ho expressed lis pleasure at meeting so many of them, and in taking a prominent parbiti thab service, which was a kind of anunal consecration and rededication of the work in which they were nugaged. They wera, he said, a people who pratised and preserved ant mut intimately mssociater with the romantie, sentimental and profenmell roliglous moments in the lives of the eommunity, and a prople who wore doing on work of tremendons importance in our mational life to-dry. They worn living, be said, in days when every institution and overy sachely was being elallenged with the questina, 'What is the good of it?' Tha test of value in these days was generrlly the tesli of cmade raim. They could say quite tuly that hellringers were not essential to life; that they did not increase the national inome, or make nuy wombribution to the incrense of exports nr imporis. They could not pass any financial tests, and in the spirit which prevailed in many directions today they might say there was mu place for tho hellringer-lof hian go. lBut that, lie thought, was a mislake of the most serious kind. There were certain cmbellish ments and adornments in life which were absolutely essential. Who could deny that life to-day would be infuitely poorer if it were sbom of the multitude of things that lad no value in $£ \mathrm{~s}$. X .? He looked ifpon beliringing as one of those adornments and cmbellishments of life, one of the things which beatigid worship, and he said without hesitation that if an arl of that kind were banished from among them, their moral and spiritual life would be so much the poorer. The work in which the ringers were engaged was a boattifirl and gracious contribution to life to-lay, and he hoped the day would never come when worship would be robbed of the art of the change ringer. In giving the ringers a message, the Bishop quoted an inseription to be foum? on a bell at Colchester: ' Different in size, in note, and weight, both small and great we harmonjse." That was a thought whicis lie would ask them to carry away with them. They were all different in size, in note mul in weight diffecent in maral and plysical and inteliectual weight-but could it be said of tham that, small and great, they harmonised Were they cach making their contribution towards the common stock, which was essential if there was to be harmony among them? They had eacla a contribuLion to make to the common stock; a coniribution for the common well-toing; but if it were made by them all, then, 'different in size and note, both small and great, we harmonise.' If the bells Lhey lung taugit them that priceless lesson, their lises would be enuiched and blessed by the dignified work in which they were engaged.

THE BUSINEGS MEETING.

After the service, at which a collection was taken for the association's bell restoration fund, the members adjonned to the Cathedral Hall, where the Bishop presided over the annual business meeting, and was supported on the platiform by Canon Morrow, the new Rector and Sub-Dean of Chelmsford, the Mastor (Mr. C. H. Howned), the hon. secretary (Mr. F. J. Pitstow), and four of the original members of the sociaty, Massis. W. Hawkes, W. Bearman, F. Rudkin and T. Bdwards.

The Master extended a weleome to Lhe Bishop and the Sub-Dean, and, laving expressed therassocialion's deep regret at the deetla of Canon Lake, the compriny stood in silence as a mark of respect.

The Bishop thanked the menhers for the honour they bad done him in electing hiru as president. He said the could not but feel, as lie looked ronud that gathering, what a fice body of people they were. To find so many ready to turn up at the annual meeting was a most impressive thing. It was particularly pleasing to see so many yuung men anozg them, apparently determined to carry on the fine iradition associated with bellcinging. In carrying on this work, these young men were doing something of great value, and he congratulated them and the association as weli (applause).
The business of the meeting was then proceeded tith, and under the able guidance of the Bishop was disposed of with commendable dispateh.

The report and balance shect were first adopted.

STILI 4 HCOPE FOR EXPANSION.

In his annual report the Master remarked that even with the present record membership of 1,064 there is ample scope for increase, A considerable number of towers, especially in the outlying villages, are not yet affilated, and change ringing is not yet praclised. He appealed to those mare fortunate members in the parishes where the art is firmly established to pay visits during the summer montlis to some of those towers, a word of encouragement, and, where possible, to offer their services as instructors, and so give their less fortunately placed fellow-ringers an opportuaty to acquire the art.
The Master also commented upon the number of belfy improvements that had taken place during the year, and remarked that the tifty peals rung, althongin rather less than the previons year, made very creditathe list. The peal of Superlative Maxinus at the Cathedral, and New Cambridge and Kent Surprise Major at Harlow Common wore each tho first in the method by the association. The peat of Spliced Surprise Minor in twenty-two methods at Chigwell Row by the Leytonstone hand was a very remarkable performance requiring great concentration of mind, and deserved special mention. The association was again indebted to W. Kceble for his indefatigable surviecs as conductor in 19 peals in nine diferent towers. Quite a number of young menbetz had been piloted by him through their first peal, or first peal in a Surprise method, during the year. The finmacial statement was quite satisfactory. Including the balance in hand from last year, the total income from all sources in the general secretary's account amounted to 270 . 15 s . 5 . $£ 3517 \mathrm{~s}$. 8d., leaving a balance in hand of $£ 2417 \mathrm{~s}$. 9d. The balance of the Bell Restoration Fund was gradually inereasing. Grants of £2 2s. to Firndon, $£ 3$ 3s to Great Bardield, aud $£ 2$ 2s. to Safirou Walden had beon made, feaving a balance in hand of a2l $15 s .10 d$. The reserve find had increased from $£ 178$ I4s. 3 d . to $£ 1866 \mathrm{~s}$. 7 d .
A large measure of the association's success was due to the exeelleat services rendered by the officers, and for the ready co-operafion given by the clergy, without whose assistance it would be almost impossible to continue, and the association tender to them their grateful thanks. Encouraged with such a past recora, the Master appealed in the members to go forward wilh renewed effort, sireagthened by the spirit of holberhoor and fellowship, determined to mecomplish even better results it the future, ever remembering the responsibilities of their office of summoning the people to public worship

MASTER'S 2Ist ELEGTION.

The Master was unanimously elected for the twenty-first time with qpplause, on the motion of Mrr. T. Faulkner, seconded by Mr. Butler. Mr. Pitstow was re-olented hon. seeretary, and heartily thanked for his past eervices, the Master mentioning tho long coninction which the Pitstow family liad Lad with the associstion, and the work which they lad done for it.

The five memhers, to act with the officers on the committee, were re-clectod, viz., Dr, Spencer Phillips, Messrs. W. Keeble, W. Lincaln, T. Faulkner and F. Dench. A vacancy on the peal committee, caused by the death of Mr. F. Pitstow, was filled by the election f Mr. Fi. L. Joyee, the other members (Messers. T. Faulkner, G. R. Preand W. Keeble) beirg re-elected, as were also the association's reptesentatives on the Oontral Comencil, Messrs. C. H. Howard, G. R.
Pye, W. J. Nevard and E. J. Butler, for ilie triennial term commencing in 1930.

The anditors, Messis. W. F. Theobald and G. W. Faulkner, were e-elecied, same amusement being caused by the suggestion that their salary should be doubled. Evpitually they were elected at the same salary as heretofore, but, as the Bishop pointed out, this did ot matter one way or the other; the amount was the samenothing.

> A number of new members were elected, including Canon Mor- row, the Rey. H. V. Rinss (Viear of Harwich), as hon. members, amb Messrs. C. H. Jennings (Weymouth), W. H. Sluker (Manches(es'), rad J. Funt (Taunton as life nembers.
Mr. T. Edwards, one of the foundation members, expressen his plrasure at baing present at tre jubilee meeting, and recalled the formation of the association and some of his experiences in ringing those early days in the Braintree district.
Mr. Faulkner invited the association to hold a meeting at Barking in September in connection with the trankegiving which was then to he held to colcbrate the completion of the restoration of the church.

At the suggestion of Mr. L. Wiffelz the Master undertook that the committee should consider the question of making a contribution to the Canon Lake memorial.
Canon G. F. Coleridge (president of the Central Council), who had arrived durfug the meeting, extended congrafulations to the asseciation upon celebrating ifs jubilee. He cousd, he said, go back to the time wheu the association was founded. One of the prime movers was a dear ald friend of his, the Rev. H. A. Cockey. They were undergraduates together af Oxford, and both learned to ring there. Mr: Cookey began by lielping to form a county association. and if ha had been alive he would have been a leadigg spirit there that day, and would have been overjoyed at that large assembly of ringers, properly taken notice of by their Bishop. Fe wished them all success in the future, and hoped by the time they kept their second jubilee their numbers would not only be doubled but, rather, trebled or quadrupled (applanse).

The Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Bishop for preaching Lo them, to Canon Morrow for the use of the Catherlral and the bells, and to the other iacumbents of neiglbouring churches who hari placed bells at their disposal.

Canon Morrow replied, and promised that anything he could do to further the interesis of the association in tho tower of the Cathedral or in any other way lie would be plensed to do for them.
Tuncheon was afterwards served in the Corr Exchange, when oren 250 sat down. The chair was taken by the Bishop, who was supported hy the Mayor and Mayoress of Chelmsford, Canor Morrow Mr. C. H. Howard, Rev. Camon Coleridge, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Guild), Mr. E. A. Young (hon. secretary of the Central Councily, Mr. W. Pye Master of the Middlesex Asstrciation), Mr. F. J. Pistow, Mr. T. Faulkner, Mr. W. J. Nevard Mr. E. J. E3utler, Mr. Black, etc.

MAYORAL THEORY OF THE FLRST BELL.

The Bishop proposed the toast of 'The King,' ant the gayor sul)mitted 'The Church,' in which be was hath grave and gay. He of ten had wondered, he said, who invented the bell, and he had come to the conolusion that a Mayor must have had something to do with it. As they had recognised, Mayors were pretty good people ins turning up at feasts (laughter). In primitive times Mayors and councillors, when thay assembled to dine, ofton prepared their meals in a pot over a camp fire, and in that he saw the discovery of the bel (laghter). He could imagine same Mayor laving had a good dinner round the camp fre, and, at the conclusion of the meal, taking up his mace and timkling the pot which had contained lais dinner, with the mace. He thus discovered the solaist quality of a hemispherical measure (laughter). Having grt their bells, they got campanologists, and lience mayors aud bellriugers' luncheons seemed baund up fagether (laughter). The Major went on to voice appreciation, on behalf of the public, of the manner in which the ringers devoted themselres to their work in the cause of lhe Church. Bells, he said, were the woice of the Church: they louchod and searched the hearts of young and old, and their speech and meaning was manifold.
The Bishop replica to the toast, and Canon Morrow proposer 'The Essex Association,' referring to its magnificent growth, which he attributed largely to the untiring efforts of Mr. Howird (applave). Canon Morrow proved that he mas no shanger to abelfry, and caused amusement by relafing an exporicnce in West Han belfry many yerrs ago, when he and a frieud, who rose to a high position in the Navy, were both swung up by the tevor hell, anm had their heads knocked together in the process.

Mr. Howard, replying to the toast, disclaimed the credit given him for the success of the association, and said it was due to the excellent officers which the association had had during its whole history. Mr. Howard briefly reviewed the progress of the association and referted to the fact that a great many belis in Essex liad been restored through the efforts of the association. They had suceeeded fro stopping the pernicious practice of 'clocking,' which had cracked so many ancient belis, and added that much greater care was taken of bells than used to be the case. Wherever there was a band of change ringers they would find that the bells were properly cared for, which proved that the assooiation was fulfilling a valuable duty The association had of many occasims been the means of getting belts rehung where they would not otherwise lave been touched. At such towors they usualif held a mbeting and put hefore the authorities the need for improvement, and they usually foum that they were well supported. The Master went on to refor to the iuterest and entlusiasm which many of their members maintained, and spoke of the fact that Essex had produced some of the finesl ringers nad composers known to the Fxercise. Thes wore particulayly fortunate in having lad among them the $\mathbf{P}_{y}$ family, who hegan their ring. ing at a live-bell tower, and had become the most remarkatile family of ringers in the country (applause). The spirit. of brotherhood which existed among ringers was, said Mr. Howard, largely responsible for the success of all their associations. There was no stwonger brotherlhood existing in any branch of the Church morethan existed among the ringors of to-day (applause).

Oake (Ambrosden), and representatives of Bicester, Islip, Middleton, Stoney, Launton, Caversfield, WiddingIon Lowers, und visitors from Tring, Burford, Oxford, Abingdon and Heyfori. Several excellent tauches in various methots were rung in the afternoon, after which the Guild service was condueted by Rev. Oake, a parlicuiarly interesting sermon beiug preached by Rev, Dr. Bualier (Rector of Charlton-on-Otmover), from the 122 nd Fselm words, 'I was glati wien they said unto me, we will go into the House of the Lord,'
After the service, the party alljourned to the Vicarage, where an excellent repast wus waiting. Ai the meeting which followed, the branch chairman (Rev. W. O'Rieley) extended a welcome, and said how pleased he was to sce so many present. It was easily the largest number at a branch mecting.
The hon. secretary gave his zeport, which was considered lighly gatisfactory. The balance sheet whs next presented, and was adopited.
Rev. Orke next apoke of the work that had been carricd out at Ambrosden, the ring of six bells laving been augmented to cight by the addition of two new trebles, and said how very much he had to thank Mr. F. Sharpe, of Launton, for his invaluable services during the carrying out of the seleme. The branch also accorded to hima their appreciation of all the time and energy he had spent to make the alterations in success.
ftev. O'Ricley was umanmously re-elected chairman of the hraweh will acelemation. The Jon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. A. Clifton, was re-olected, andi the representatives on the Guild Committes (Mr. F. Sharpe and Mr. F. Neale) were also re-elected.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Mr. IR. I. Hibbert and Mr. Wright each gave an interesting address. Thwo new members were elected (one honorary and one ringing membory.

Yotes of thanks were passed to Rev. Dr. Busher for his address, Mrs. Oake for her gervices at the organ, and Rev. Oake for all his trauble in arranging the meeting and tea, and making the whole proceedings a great success. Later there was some excellent vinging on the bells.

Master's services recognised.

An intercsting presentation to the Master was then made by Mr. IT. Faulkner, who, on behalf of the members, handed to Mr. Howard a handsome silver toa and coffee service. It had been said in 'Tle Ringing World 'last week that the Essex Association was a virile association, and that the oflicers were tactful and energetic. Not the least tactful and not the least energetic, proceeded Mr. Faulkner, had been their Master, and they desired to give him some siight recognition of the taet and energy which he had shown in the work of the associntion for many years. 'That gift was a tangible tokeu of their affection and regard. That day he entered upou his 21st year as Master. He (Mr. Faulkner) proposed lim on whe first occasion, and ho was thankful to have been there to propose him on the 21st (applause). Mr. Howard had been one of the most kindly and complacent Masters of any association in any part of the country. He had made them feel that ho was not their Master but their brether (appleuse). Whoever had suggested the form of the present must have had a thought for Mrs. Howard and the saerifices she must have male in sparing ber husband to do so much for the association. Hu hoped Mr. and Mrs. Howard would use this service, and every time they used it would remember that it was a present from the ringars of Essex in appreciation of what they had done for the Essex Association. The teayot was inscribed, 'Presented to Charles $H$. Alownrd by the Pssex: Assuciation in appreciation of hia services as Muwnrd by the Mister, $1909-1929$.

Tho gift was Inanded to Mr. Howard nmid cheers, followed by the siaging of 'For he's a jolly good fellow.' The Master had to acknowledge that fie had been taken complately by surprise. He expressed his gratitude for the gift, nand satd that as long as the association required his serrices it would be his eadeavour to serve them as faithfully as he had dons in the past.
'llus concluded tho specch waking, and the members dispersed to the many towers in the district, where they enjoyed ringing throughout the rest of the day. The twelve bells at the Cathedral were the centre of attiraction, but private cars ant specialiy chartered buses took vieitors to Writule, Widford, Galleywood, Gruat Baddow, Great Waltham and Borelam, whicla all have peals of eight, and Broomfielld end Springlield, which have rings of six.
The day wns one of the most successful and enjayable in the long history of the rasociation.

THE SECESSION OF GLOUCESIER AND BRISTOL

Quité as important as anything that happened inside the Central Council last Tuesday, was the step taken by the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association on Monday, when it was decided no longer to be affiliated to the Council. The main ground on which this drastic action was taken was, if we have comprehended the position correctly, that the Council does not recognise the tight of any association to instruct its representatives how to vote on any question; in other words, that representatives go to the meetings of the Council as free agents unfettered by any wishes which may have been expressed by those who send them and who, in many cases, pay their expenses. The difference of opinion which has led to this secession has, in the case of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, been somewhat aggravated by other grievances, but we say without hesitation that it is a matter for great regret that such an important organisation should have withdrawn upon any pretext without having first made an effort to remedy what was thought to be wrong.

A vital principle is involved in this matter. There are many who hold that it is useless for a member to go to a meeting with his hands tied, to vote as directed, without having first heard all sides of the question. They argue, and it must be adnitted not without reason, that it is waste of timet and money for a man to attend a meeting to vote, when the way in which he shall use that vote has already been decided for him and that it is a slight upon his intelligence not to allow him to use his discretion. On the other hand, there are those who hold just as strongly that the Council cannot retain a commanding position in the Exercise unless it is the interpreter of the wishes of its constituent bodies and, for this to be effective, it must accept the principle that ' those who pay the piper shall be allowed to call the tune,' at any rate in all important matters. Among those who take this latter view is the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, as represented by a majority at the annual meeting

The action of the association in withdrawing from the Council must, we think, bring this question to a head. Obviously it cannot be allowed to remain where it is, for the retirement of the association may have a damaging effect. It is not a question of apathy, or loss of interest which has caused the Gloucester and Bristol organisation to drop away from the central authority; it is a direct challenge to a policy which has been pursued since the Council was inaugurated, and it cannot be ignored. It is a pity, as we have already said, that the association renounced its connection with the Council, before taking (Continued on page 338.)

steps to test the opinion of the Exercise, as might very opportunely have been done through a resolution passed by the Council last week, to bring the subject before all the associations during the coming year, when the triennial election of members takes place. But the Gloucester and Bristol Association has now taken action and has thus forced a position which calls for immediate consideration by those who value the Central Council for the work it has done and can do, and for the welding force which it exerts throughout the Exercise.

ANNUAL MEETING

Preaching at the service prior to the annual meeting of the Sussex Association at Brighton on Whit Mondat, the Rev. W. J. R. Allen (Vicaz of the Church of the Good Sheplerd) said the ringers were doing the highest service to the Church when they rang the bells.
'they were, ho said, helping the Chareh to carty oll in the task of seeing that the world did not forget Jesus Chtist. 'All the time they hear the bells they must think, he added.
The gervice, which took place at Brighton Parish Church of St, Peter, was proceded by the ringing of a number of touches at the towers of 8t. Peter's and St. Nicholas'. Ringing continued at these towers after the meeting, and later in the evening tho bclls of the Clurch of the Good Shepherd in Dyke Road were avaitable.
A meat ten, served by Morleys, Brighton, followed the service, after which the general meeting was held.

The Master, Mr. d. Thornton Ricknan, who presided, referred to the fact that since the last meeting the association had lost through death three of its principal officers. Betore proceeding to the business lie suggested kiney should pay a tribute to the memory of their president, the Bishop of Chichesier, one of the vice-presidents, the Bishop of Leves, and their highly respected hon. treasurer, Mr. Ellman Brown.

The Hon. Gen. Sec., Mr. A. D. Stone, associating bimself with the Master's remarks, observed that it was exactly il years ago that Hay when Mr. Ellman Brown became hon. treasurer of the associaflon. "The association has lost an officer, and the hon. secretary has lost a friend,' concluded Mr. Stane.
The meeting stood for a few moments as a mark of sympathetic respect.

FINANCES

The finaucial posilion, it was stated, was gooc. Notwithstanding an increased expenditure on rail fares, a useful balauce of nearly fit was shown on the year's work. At the same time members wore receiving the maximum benefts compatible with sound finance. The Benevolent Eiund continued to be of assistance to members, and hope was expressed that hy collections at meetings-the fund's sole source of income-the balance would steadily increase until a total of $£ 100$ invested capital was reached. Several new towers had become affiliated, nud tho co-operation of every member was urged in this direction. "We make no apology,' concluded the report, 'for reminding members once more than our first duty is to maintain the level of serwice ringing in our iudividual towers at the highest possible standard and to spare no pains to attain this end by punetua? and regular attendance
The general account slowed a balance of E116 8s. 4d from receipts of 5179 6s. 612d, and the balance from general account and reserve aud benevolent funds totalled $\mathrm{f} 237 \mathrm{l0s} 11 d.$.
The report and acconnts were adopted.
The Bishop of Chichester was re-elected president, and the vicepresidents were reappointorl with the addition of the Bishop of Lowes. Mr. J. T. Rickman wes re-elected Master, and he also agreed to fill the office of hon, treasurer, Mr. A. D. Stone, who was again electert hon. secmefary, expressed satistaction at the financial position of the assaciation. Mr, Bennelt wns re-elected as hon. peais secretary, and the han. anditors, Messrs. W. C. Hart and R.J. Dawe, were re-electer.
Mr. J. T. Rickman was appointed representatire to the Central Council.

RAIL FAPES.

Some discussion resulted from Mr. G. F. Norris' proposition that rail fares be incrensed from lalf-fare, maximum Is. $6 \mathbb{A} .$, to half-fare, maximum 5 s . He contended that Is. 6d. was not sufficient to help in journeys to outlying districts, and suggested that an increase might bring ofler towers into the association.
The Hon. Secretary asked where the money was coming from. He did not think it would bring of her towers in. Fractically all those with bands were affiliaterl.

A representative of the Kenl Association said they only paid halffures to a masimum of 2s. once a year for distriet meetings. He did not think, for a nembership fee of 2 s ., they should stand a chance of getting linek 8 s .
An allowance up to ls. 6rt. per member is made for 12 divisional meetings, while for tha aumal mesting the allowance is up to 2 s . Bd., with 16. 3d, for tea.
After the Chrirman lind read a letter from Mr. F. B. Tompkins, one of the vice-presidents, expressing the opinion that it would be a mistake to alter the preseni satisfactory position, Mr. Norris withditew.
The question of making a grant to Holy Trinity, Rudgwick, whase bitls were stated to be cracked and uniringable, was raised. The Hon. Sacretarg pointed out that the association bad no fund from which such a grant could be drawn.
Mr. Rodgers was thanked Eor linving instructed the Rogate band.
The following towers were represented: Aldrington, Aagmering, Patite. Brighton St. Peter's, St. Nicholas and the Gond Shepherd, Burress Hill, Billingshurgt, Chicliester, Crawlew, Cuokfeld, East-

IRISH ASSOCIATION

CERTIFIC&TE OF PROGRESS TO BE ISSUED

The annual meeting of the Trish Association was leld at Drogheda on Whit Monday in glorious weather. About seventy members at tended from Bangor, Holywood, Arklow, Bray, Dublin (four towers) and the local tower. By 10 a.m. the bells of St. Peter's were sei swinging, and were kept going till late in the evening, except for the usual intervals, Plain Bob, Grandsive and Stedman being the methods ring. Several of the Northern memberg got theiv first touch of Triples (Grandsire), in which they acquitted themselves very creditably.

Luncheon was partaken of at the Central Hotel, followed by the business meeting in the Church Hall, kindly lent for the purpose. The president, Mr. R. S. F. Murphy, P.G., occupied the chair.
The report showed that most of the members had been 'putting their backs into it' during the past year, and although no peal had been recorded, several branehes could now ring Bol Minor who only about a year ago were ringing call changes.
The following officers were electer for the cnsning year: President Rev. W. B. Allman, A.M.; secretary, Mr. G. Lindoff; treasurer, Mr. D. Gibson.

Arklow was selected for the next annual meeting, and Mr. Murply was elected to attend the Central Council meeting in London mext year, with an invitation for that body to visit Dublin in the near future.
It was also decided that the association rent a space in 'The Ringers' Directary.'

Regarding a proposal for a second trophy for progress in change ringing, in addition to the slield presented to the society gaining the highest percentage of bells rung for Sunday services, it wes decided to issuo framed certificates to any society ith umon which showed progress under the following leads: First 120 Doubles by society; first 720 Minor by society: first 720 Minor by society, in a new method; first 1,260 Triples, etc., by the society; first 5,000 by the society; and subsequert peals in a new method; for record length by associanion if over 6,000 , such diplomas to have room for a number of subsequent additions.
The challenge shield, in making its first visit to Duhlin, was presented to Christ Church Cathedral Society, who ohtained 100 per cent., Bray and Arklow being very close on their heels. Mr. P. Lynch, who received the shield for his society, returned thanks.

A stibstantinl tea was provided by the Droglieda ringers, after which Mr. Murply proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Rer. W. B. Ailman for the use of the bells and the Church Hall, to the Drogheda ringers for so kindly providing the tea, and to the ladies who assisted,-Rev. W, B. Allman suitably responded.

Then, while some of the members visited the various places of in terest in the neiglabourhood, others kept the bells going fill motor and train time brought a very successful gathering to a close.

DEVON GUILD

GUGGESTED FOUNDERS' COMMEMORATION DINNER

The annual general meeting of the Guild of Defonshire Ringers was beld at Tiverton on Whit Monday, and attracted an exceptionally large attendance of 226 members and friends. The glorious beils of St. Peter'g Cliturch started their music at 10.15 , and at noon a service was beld, conducted by the Rector (Rev. A. E. Chapman), who gave an inspiring address of welcome, exhortation and thanks. The large party wero well catered for at Clapp's Cafe for dinner, after which the business meeting was proceeded with, the Rev. E. S. Powell, chairman, presiding.
Sympathe was expressed with the family of the laie Mfr. E. Murday, whose sudden death a day or two previously deprived the Tiverton band of one of their oldest members.
The annual report and financial statement for 1928, as published was adopted, and the ofticers were re-elected as before.
A vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist, and Miss Hanson brandi secretary, for the excellent arrangements made, was duly acknowledged.
A proposal to hold an annual founders' commemoration dinner was referred to a committee consisting of the branch secretaries and officers of the Guild to ascertain the views of the bauds severally on the subject.

Exmouth was selected as the place for holding the mext annual meeting.
Two life members and nine performing members wero elected. Subsequently parties were made up to wisit Bickieigh and ather neighbouring towns, and Tiverton bells were kept in operation up to 7 р.m.
boume St. Saviour's, East Grinstead, Heathlield, Henfiela, Hastings Christ Church, Blacklands, St. Clement's, Hartield, Lindfeld, Pul borough, Ringmer, Seaford, and Worthing also non-resident members.
A collection taken at the service for the Benevolent Fund amounteri to El 1s. 6n.

The Inon. secretary greatly regrets tea could not he provided for all. About 45 were expected according to replies, but 76 were pre gent, and 62 of these were provided for.

THE REORGANISATION.
A genemal meeting of the Norfolk Guild was held at Pultam, St. Mary-tha-Virgia, on Whit Monday, when, by the kind permission af the Rectors of St. Mary-the-Virgin and St. Mary Magdalene, the two rings of efght bells were placed at the disposal of the members. Luncleon was serwed at the King s Hent, Pulham St. Mary, Mr. G. P. Burton presiding in the absence of the president. He was supported ly Messrs. C. E. Borrett, A. L. Coleman (hon. secretary!, ind a swall number of representatires from Norfolk and Suffolk.
The toast of 'The King' was proposed by the chairman and duly honoured.
The secretary brought before the meeting Mr. Cbarles S. Tuthills notice with respert to the appointment of an adviser to the Guild on matters pertaining to olaurch bells and belfries. After a short discussion, it was resolved that the secretary should endeavour to olftain an interview with the Auchdeacon of Norwich on the subject and of the possibilities of a representative on the Church Fabries Advisory Committee for the Diacese.
The Secretary read notice of an amendment to Guild Finle In, handed in at tho annual general meetiag on April 1st last, viz, That Rule I. as regads the title of the Guild be altered in accordnnce with the referendum." A short delate followed, whether the Ford 'Association' or 'Guild ' be nsed in the amended title of the Guild. Mr. C. E. Borrett proposed, and Mr. W. L. Duflield secondea, "That the notice of the result of the referendum as vegards the change of the title of the Guild be ratified, subjeot to the reconmendation that the word "Guild" be substituted for the word "Association" in the amended fitle, and the matter to come up at a sulbsequent general meeting of the Guild for ratification. '- The motion was carried nem con.
A sub-committee was appointed to make recommendations for the grouping of. the eleven existing districts into three divisions, and it was resolved that a repart of the sub-committee be sent to the district secretaries. The following members were appointed to serve: Messrs. C. E. Borret, F. R. Borrett, G. P. Burton, A. L. Coleman, with the president ex-oflicio.
The Secretary moved the election of five new members and the reelection of one member and the transfer of three members to life members (not-resident), and these were all duly elected.
A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. E. W. Field and to the Rev. R. Stacey for the nise of their beils, and also to Mr, and Mrs. G. T. P. Brice fol their genial Irospitality and hearty weicome, which more than compensated for the small attevdance of members.

HISTORIC PEAL RECAST AND REHUNG

REDEDICAIION OF BIDFFORD BELIS.
The 3ishop of Exeter on Friday aftarmoon, May 27th, dedicated at St. Mary's Church, Bideford, the peal of eight hells which hare jusi been recast by Messis. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, extra melal having been added to make a heavier ring.
The imseriptions which were on the old bells liave been copied, and the anowocement added that the bells were recast in 1929 . The fifth bell has been recast and rehung at the cost of the Nonconformists of the town, though the initiation of the Mayor, Mr. F. W. Fulford, and the hell is inseribed to that effect.
The inscription on the tenor bell, which weighs 17 ewt.e records the fact that it was recast and rehung by public subseription in 1929, and bears the Isame of the Rector, Rev. W. E. Manning, and the churchwardens, Messus. W. Ascott, P. R. Robertson and I. Street. The total cost of the restoration is approximately $£ 1,000$, and the whole of this azount was raised by the day of the dedimation.
During the recasting, the church was loancl ann ancient bell by the Bidefori Corporation, taken from the localimuseum.
The official ceremony was attended by the Mayor and Corporation in State, and the Lord Bishop, in his address, congratulated the pecple on their gift, and mare especially as it had nat come from one section of the populace. His lordship recalled that at Bideford the balls were not mevely used for calling them to worship, but were used in alden times to waru the town in the time of piraies.. At one time, he thought, Lundy was the rendearous of such pirates. He supposed one of the occasions when those bells were used was on the historic might of the invasion of the Armada. Then those bells had elashed with joy when the news came that the Armada had been absolutely destroyed, and that England was safe from the Inquisition.
Following the serrice there was a public tea and a dance, aud the hells were rung by eight visiting bauds of ringers, all of whom were loud in their praises as to the fone and 'go' of the peal.
A special feature of the restaration is the treatment of the tower" roof to the designs af the bell founders, Messrs. Taylor and Co. A most wonderful effect has been produced, resulting in the bells being hoard over a very farge area, and reports came in fake on the might of the dedication day that the bells were distinctly andible at villages five miles away, which had never before beard any sound of Bideford bells.

FUGFENTEN, BUCKS.-Gn May 19th, for moming service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: F. D. Borelami I, J. Kimber 2, R. M. Kimber 3, F. Straiford 4, F. G. Biggs 5, Jolin Etans 6, R.

THE BELLS OF EDENHAM, LINCOLNSHIRE

Some few years ago the bells of this very fine old church ware tuned and rehung and a now treble added, making a good pea! of six. Not long afterwards lopes ran high for the completion of the octave, as the Vicar of the garish at that time promised to give the bells. But alas! death called him away from Edenham. It wat found later that he had bequeathed a sum of money to provido the bells, but once again hopes vanisherl, for owing to some difficulty arising word came that the moncy for the bells would not be forthceming.
The parish is now tackling the job, and with this abject in viow s bazanr, ete, was held lasi Whit Honday, and a sum of 250 was realised. There is a band of ten Sunday service ringers who will he grateful if any kiad friends, who are interested in their effort to improve the peal, will help then to raise the next es50 pr fico ly sending donations to Arthur I. Halmes, hon. treasurer of the Bell Fund, Edenham, Bourne, Lincs. All contributions, large or smalt, will be gratefuly acknowledged.

FIRST PEAL IN YORKSHIRE.

To the Eajtor.
Sir,-The rule books of the Ancient Society of College Fuuths (1912, page 13 ; 1928, page 14) state that in 1787 the society visited York and lang a peal of Grandsire Caters, and two days previuusiy rang Troble Bob at Falifax, and these are recorded as the lirst poals in the county. There is a peaj board at Sleffield, dated March 8th. 1785, recording a peal of 5,120 Union Treble Bob (eiglat in), and the band who rang this also rang on November $30 \mathrm{H}_{1}, 1787,6,018$ ' Cambridge Surprise.'
Can any of your readerg tell me if the 1785 peal is the earliest complete S,000 in Yortshire?-Yours faithfully,

The chair was takel by Camon Coleridge (prosident) who opened he proceedings with prayer. At the ontset, Canon Morrow, SubDena and Rector of Chemsford, and the Mayor of Chelmsford were present to welcome the Council, and the President, referring to this gact, said they had hoped to have the Bishop with them, but unforrunately be was prevented by otlier engagements. Had it not been for these, nothing would have given hime greater pleasure than to Welcome the Council to the diocese.
Canou Morrow, who extended a welcome to the members on bebalf of the Church, said that during the past twenty or thitty years the Hiole personael of the ringers lad practically changed. The whole idea of ringing liad been placed on a much higher level, and this was due to the habours of the organisations which that Council represented. fnything they could do in Chelmaford to make their visit happy oae they would be pleased to do (applause).
The Mayor gave a hearty welcome to the members on behalf of ile city to what he described as one of the most heautiful of Emgish counties and one of the "hubs of the universe," of which they were rery proad. As the members of the Council would lave seen for themslwes on the previous day, the arb which they parbicularly reppesented was flouribhing in that county with the rest of things. He hoped the Conncil's session would be as happy and successfut as sood welcome could make it.
The Council then turned to the business of the day and after onfining the minutes of the meeting at Herefori, received apologies for absence from the following nembers: Fevs. (. 1). 13. Davies, A. T. Beeston, H. S. T. Richardson, F. J. O. Helmore, Canous Elsee, E. Carpenter, Messrs. W. W. Parker, J. Golterill and the other epresentatives of the Yorkshire Association, J . S . Pritehett, A. Paddon Smith, H. Knight, E. H. Lewis, H. Faigh, W. Bartor, W. Ayp, J. Clark, J. D. Matthews, T. H. Tarfender annl H. G. Fretwell. The fresjdent said the reason why some of these members could aot be present was on accant of illness. He did net like ios single out one beyond another, but if there was one whose absence causud them especial regret it was the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who was their secretary for eighteen seass, and who was the life and soul of tho Council while he beld office.

FHNANCE.

The statement of acounis, audited by Messrs. J. Grifin and A. A. Hughes, was then presented by the hon. secretary and tweasures. The balance in tha bank at the beginning of the year was 226 15s. 6d. The receipts jucluded 5555 . for the broadcast lecture win bells, eis 28. 6d. in affliailou tees from tha associations, and e5 iuterest on investments. The expendiume showed a loss on sale of pulilications of 539 s ., secretary's expenses 5210 g . $9 \mathrm{~d} .$, Petals Collection Committec's expenses 85 2s. Gal, expenses in connection with $I_{\text {a }}$ broadeast lecture e6 19s. 6ul., printing and advertising 82 Is. Mrl., leaving a balance m the bank of $£ 31$ 19s. 6d.
Mr. Young added that subscriptions to the Conncil were due at Janury 1st, and notice of this fact appeared in 'Tle Ringime World within two or three months of ihis date, calling attention to the fact. Unfortumately, a great number of the subseriptions din not come in until the last minute, and it was therefore difficult for bind to get his balance sheet out. He hoped that secretaries in future would send him the affiliation fees as soon after the tirst of Jamury as possible, or at any rate not after Easter. foy would do so it would be a great help. Mr. Young thee explained the expenses incurred in connection with the broadcast lecture, which actually cost the Council about 35s. The subscriplions eame from the same number of associations, one association, the Gloucester and ?ristol, having gone out, one Guild, the Oxford University Guilal. luaving come in.

The accounts were adopled on the motion of Mr. Grifinn, seconder by Mr. Hughes.
The Hou. Librarian (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) presented his repart as follows: There is not mach to be said regarding the sale of pultlications during the past year. The amonnt realised is $865 s .3 x 1$. that is one pound in excess of the previous year, and this is owing to belter business being done by the 'on sale or return ' agente. There is arr adverse balance of e3 93. I had hoped to have two trevised books for sale, mamely, "Rules for a Company" and 'Minow Methods,' but it was not to be. "On the Preservation of Bells, ete., issued in 1892, may now be said to be out of print, as only a tom copies are left. A new issue of this may well be considered. It might be worth while also haring sovie move cards printed of Cunt might be worth while also haring soule mone cards printed of Oatlines of Change Ringing, but that is only a small affair. Rogarding the library, I lavo received the last instalment of the Trehle Boli Pats Collection, a stapendous work in iype, of which the Libuary possesses three copies and the Peal Collection Committee one. Mrs. Fletcher is again to be heartily thanked for her work and dongratulated ou its result (applause). The Heywood MSS. are still with Mr . Trollope, awaiting a report fron bim, when be cen spare time ion make one amid his many labours for the Exercise.

The Librarian added that it was rabher remarkable that there had been a demand especially for their publications which had to do with the care of bells and so forth. Mr. Jenkyn also commented inn the fact that he receiver numerous applications for things whinh were out of print. He wished members of the Exercise generally would watch the advertisembuts more carefully, and he would then be saved a good deal of writing and pastage.

THE HEYWOOD MSS.

The Hon. Secretary said he had been in consullation with Mr. Trollope witla regard to the Beywood MSS., and it was very difficali to say what should be destroyed and what kept. What they destroyed to-day might be valuable in 25 years' time, and they therefore ame to the conclusion tlat the liest thing would be to lave the papers sorted out, put into covers, docketed, and put away so thai they might be roviewed at some inme in the future when, purhaps. they would he of move service than thes were to day.
Mr. J. A. Trollope sadd the MSS. consisted Targely of letters which Sir Arthur Heywaon received wher he was corresponding with various people while writimg the articles which appenved is "Beht News " rad afterwarde in books like the book on "Stedman Triples." They consisied chielly of letters from Mr. Thompson, Rev. Earle Bulwer and one or two other people. A large proportion of the lettess wore unintelligible unless one took a great deal of frouble, because they only had one side of the correspondenee They had the letters from Thompson, for example, but they had not got Heywood's Jeiterss to Thompson. At that time Thompson was workjng out the applicetion of the theory of $Q$ sets to methods like Boli Major and alsu Cnmbridge Surprise. He (Mr. Trollope) was rather interestent to thought were not found out until much later. Thompson had nuticipated a geat Real of what Sir Arthur Heywood wrote it Rell News, iliat proved that there was trat morn than one true poal of Cambridge Majov with tenors together. Those papers, thereforw, were not such as could be read like one would read a novel, hul they miglat be of vase to sonse selected person who might turn up in the next twenty or fifty years. H. would not advocate their being destroyed. 'fhere were manuseripts in Bulwer's writing, on lis anticles on Stedrasa Triples, and a faitly complete manuseript in tho writing of Haley, and lots of ofds and onds of methods ant lotin's preserving, and he (Mr. Trollope) did not think should be destroyed. At tho suggestion of the President, the Council decided that the bouk on the Preservation of Bolls should the revised and brouglt up Io thate before being republished.

NEW HONORARY MEMBER.
I'se President said four hows. mpmbers retireal by rotalion-Mrs. Wilwards, Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Mr. James George, and Mr. F. W. Wilde. The Standing Committee had taken this matter inlo careful consideration and lad come to the conclusion that as Mrs. Edwatrds lad not netended nny meeting of the Council it would not h. adwisable to re-elect one who was not an active member. In plate of Mrs. Edwards, the Slanding Committee were anxious to put forward for nomination a well-known memher of the Exercise, one whe liad done a tremendous amount of work for the Council in many ways, and who lad now ceased to be a representative member, owing to the Gloucester and Bristol Association having withrlywn. He was invalunble to the Couneil, and the Standing Committee thouglat he ought to be on the Council in some way or other -he refersed to Mr. W. A. Cave, of Bristol (applause).
M1. A. Hunt said it was with great regret he heard of the withdruwal of the Giourester and Bristol Association, and he congratuland the Sitanding Comnittee on luwiug suggested the retention on blac Council of Mr. Cave, wlo was an able aud capable man. He muposed that lise Standing Committee'= recommendation be adopted. -Several members rose to second, and the Rer. E. S. Powell was acerples as seconder.
The motion was carricd, and the President, in the name of the Conneil, congratulated Mr. Cave. He said it would be a thousand pilies if that grent district covered by the Gloucester and Bristol Assueiation was not represented in some way or other.

Mr. Cave brictly tlanked the Clouncil for electing him.
The Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Mr. J. George and Mr. H. W. Wilde wre re-clected.
Alter prescintation of 'new' mombers to the Council (Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, now representing the Ely Diocesan instead of the Fiertfort County Associstion; Mr. F. W. Elliott, Eertford County; and Mr. W. Shepherd, Guildford Diocesan Guild?, the Hon. Secre(ary mentioned the loss by doath of Mr. J. D. Drewett (Surrey Association), Mr. R. R. Clumbers (Midland Countios Association), and Mr, R. Followay (Middlesex Countr Association), and the Council stoud in silence as a murk of respect.
Ont behalf of the Standing Committee, the Hon. Secretary reported that as only alout 30 applications were received from members for cheap yailway tickets for that meeting, and as the minimum number wns a hundred, no request was made to the railway companies for the issire of vouclers, but lie lioped, when they met in Londan next year, thore would be a sufficient demand to enable them avail themselves of the facilities.

RINGERS AND THANKSGFVING DAY.
With regary to the King's recovery, there would shortly be a thanksgiving day, aud the Standing Committee proposed that, in conhertion will that ereni, they should send to the King a letter of congralulation, and giving particulars of the peals rung iu celerationt of the oceasion.
The Council's 'Roll of Honour ' of Ringers who fell in the war had been hrouglit up to date. It was rather wonderful that Mr. Jonkyn wns able to get if as complete ns it had proved to be. Atter four or fire years they had ouly had to add six more names. Those had now been andded. Their roll was olle of the finest pieces of workmanahip of its kind lihat had been produced, and the writer had ralleal attention to the fact that it land been rather badly treated by those who had inspected it. Ho asked theru all to use the book as tenderly as possithe, uud purticularly to be careful not to fingermark the pages or to damage the leaves in turning them. With regnrl to Carter"s ringing machine, which was now in the custody of The Council, noll was in the muserma, a new motor had been put to ii, and a form of resistance hat been put in whereby a defect in the manchine-ir one could spisak of a diefect in such a marvellous machine-liad heen remedied. In the past the machine had been sipt to he a tride too fast in striking, copecially in Cinques, hut this lind now been adjustod, so that if necessary it could he struck as if in were a muffed peal. The machine laal heen overlsauted and he it were a maffled peal. The machine lad heen overlasuled, and he thaned it might be exhibited, if not hefore, at any rate in November. The President said the Standing Gommittee thought they should turt senil in letter expressing thankfulness at the King s recovery to His Majesty at the prosemi time, but that, after the dry of thanksgiving, and when peals, possibly, hat been rung all over the country it would he move fitting dhat they should colleet these peals, tino ringer- of Etrgiand had done in the way of practicsal thanksgivitg. They would let him know how many peals of 5,000 had bent fung, where lhey were rung, and how long each peal liad tuken. Flug, where they were rung and how long each peal had tuken. He thought that would opon the eyes of those in gathority very consitierthly to the loyalty of the ringers (applause).
It was siated that the date fixed was June 16 th , and at a later shage of the meeting, replying to Mr. James George, the President siill they lioped to melude in the list to he sent io His Majesty all the peafis rung as a thanksgiving, whether they were rung on the 1 ith me i, inture ar affer. Denbuless many would be rung in the folhuwing werls ar after. Denbiless many would be ruyg in the fol-

The Metropolitan Poliee Guild wish to thauk Mr. W. Hewitt, St. Margaret's, Westminster, nud Mr. J. D. Mathews, St. Marlin's-in-Uhe-Fields, for the excelleut arrangements made at chose towers, and Rev. W. Neep, Rector of SE. George-the-Martyr, Southwark, for the use of the bells, and Mr. R. Spink, towerkeeper, for having the bells in readiness.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

A meeting of the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Chiddingfold on Saturday. About thirty members and visitors from S. Nicolas and the Cathedral Church, Guild-ford, Godalming, Haslomere, Old Woking, the local company, Crawley, Seale, Pulborough, Aldershot, and Sirdford were present. The bells were available from three o'clock. The Guild's form of service was conducted by the Vicar. Tea was provided in the Village Hall, and the business meeting followed. The Vicar (Rev. E. P. Pelloo) Fas unable to stop to the meeting, but before he left a rote of thank to him and to the organist was carried with applause. He was also elected an hon. member of the Guild.
The Surrey Association North Western District, having suggested holding a joint meeting with this district at Guildford, it was resolved, sulject to obtaining the bells, to agree to this. The loss by death of two members, namely, Mt. William Moorey, of Godnlming, and Mr. Sidney Radford, of 'S. Nicolas', Guildford, was reported, and the members stood in silenec for a few moments.
Three new ringing members and one compounding member wore elected.
Mr. A. Pulling gave an intercsting report of the procedings at the Central Council meeting at Cholmsford.
Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain and Treble Bob Major, and a plain course of Cambridge Surprise Major were rung during the day.

A 'LONG' 240.

To mark the anniversary of the induction of the Rector (tlise Rer. the Hod. S. G. W. Maitlani, M.A.), after meeting short for a peal, with the assistance of the captain of the local ringers, Mr. Wright, visitors to Ingestre, Stafiord, on Whit Saturday rang several touches of Grandsire and Boh Daubleg. The church, on the estate of the Earl of Shrewsbury, is full of interesting features, not the least being Errl of Shrewsbury, is full of interesting features, not the least being the bells, which, with one exception, No. 5, were cast in Rome in the
On the wall of the ringing chamber it is recorded that a peal consisting of 240 changes was rung (for a wodding) in one hour mad five minutes!
The visitors, Mressrs. C. Srith and R. G. Lewis (Uttoxeter), A. W. Hall (Cheadle R.C.), W. H. Curson (Overseal), and R. H. Dove (St. Peter's, Croydon), take this opportunity of thanking the Fector for his excellent hospitality afterwards.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCLATION.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Chippenham, Wilts, on Whit Mondey. Proceed ings commenced with ringing at the towers of St. Andrew's aud St. Paul's Churches, both wery vice peals of eight bells.
At noon a riagors' service was held in St. Andrew's Church, conducted by the Vicar, Rev. W. F. Wood.
Luncheon was partaken of at the Bear Hotel, where the Mayov of Chippenlam weloomed the association to the town and wished them every future prosperity.
The business mecting was afterwards held, by kind permission of the Ficar, in the grounds of the Fiearage. In delightful weather, the beantiful setting of ine gatdens was enhanced by tha steady waters of the River Avon, tpon which some very fine swans noved gracefully.
A tree was used as a 'dais, and the meeting opened with the Lian. seoretary readiag a letter from the Master (Rev. C. D. P. Drwies), stating that infirmity prevented his attendanco that day, aud, furthermore, asked for liss release from aflice upon that account. The Han. Secretary asked the meeting to elect a ohairman, and this position was eutrusted co Rev. E. S. Salchy, an hon. member.
Arising from the minutes, the Secretary stated that Hessis. Leaker, Hale and Shepherd had beet appointed advisers on behalf of the Association.
Apologies for absence were rearl from the Revs. Davies, Phillips, Pennington, Stephens, Goti, and Chambers, aud from Sir Audley Neeld, Messrs. Howell and Spurvier.
The Fon. Treasurer (Mr. Wh. Lansdown) mesented a statement of accoants, slowing a balance in hand of 880 in the general fuvd, f 35 in the belfy repair fund, aud 20 12s. in ble peal book fund, making a grand total of about $£ 120$.
Mr. Yeend (Cheltenhami thought that the members were neglecting the beffry repair fund. -The balance sheet was adopted as read. ifr. E. Guse (the hon. secretary) moved that the association cease to affiliate to the Gentral Council of Church Bellringers. His points in favour of this step were tlat ringers throughout the country really thouglit that they sent "delegates." Ouly a few weeks aro 'I'he Riuging World" had reconded the meeting of the Midilud Counties Association, and the committee of that body had used these wards: "That they agreed the expeoses of their "delegates" to the Central Coutcil should be paid, and bater in their report What the 'delegates' be instructed to rote in fawotry of an iten upon the Coutral Council ageada. The whole difficuIty had arisen by the Council referring an item from their agenda to the associations, ret, at the following meeting, upon a member stating that he bad been instructed to vote in favour, although lie was personally against, the rulnif giver was that he was there as a member of the Council and not as a delegate from his association. Another point was that the associations were not considered. The Glouester and Bristol Dioccian Association liad placed an item upon the Central Coumeil agenda ir 1926, and although it was accepted by the Central Counci officials severa! weeks before their mesting, with the proposer and secouder given, it was left to the day of the meeting and fhen not allowed to be put, the ruling heing, "I will not allow it to he putas it is the pious opinion of one assaciation. Furthermore, not only was the association so treated, but the oficials had, during the last few weeks, beem treated somewhat discourteously in the following way: On March 19th, 1929, the hom. secretary of the Contrai Council had been informed that ilue aftiliation fees could not be paid pending a rlecision on the motion upon the ageuda of the Gloucester and Bristal Association, and to this he had replied acknowledging the information. It was, clearily pointed out that these fees, in the event of the motion being nefrated, would he pleced in the Iands of the Central Council's hon. secretary at $9 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. On Whit Tuesciay, so that the representatives would be qualified to vote. On or abotit April 23 rd the hon. secretary of the Central Coumeil netually accepled auonymously affliation fees for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and without ascertaining its validity forwarded an official receipt. Tpon being pressed for furtler information, he replied unless the donor relieved him of his anonymity he could not give his name, also that he failed to see how he had becu discourfieous to the duly appointed officials of the Gloteester aud Bristol Association. Mr. Guise asked, Couln the meeting conceive that such gn action was possible on the part of the hon. secretary of the Central Council?
The Chairman thonght that the definition of the word 'representalive was not clearly made out, mud suggested a motion. Mr. Austin farouren this, but 3n. Yeend thought it too mild, aud supported the motion as put.
Mr. deffiries, in the absence of Mr. Gould (through illness), secouded the motion.
Mr. Cave, speakiny against the motion, asked what would the assaciation have clone without the publications of the Central Coutrcil? Passages wore quoted from the late Sir Arthur P. Heywood's specel at the inauguration of the Council. Mr. Cave mentioned that the Council were trying to place practical ringers as advisers upon the Dincesan Advisory Hoards. There was, he urged, a good deal la thank the Council for.

Mr. Bishop, in a brief speech supporting Mr. Cate, said that in lis opinion the Council had not only tome their work, but had done it extremely well.
Mr. Prescott, expressing an opinion upan the motion, said it was in the interests of the representatives fo regard their associations Fiews, and he felt certain that if a represchative did not do that, he would soon find himself left out in the subsequent elcetions.
Mr. Braven, waving a frame, said, "Look what the Central Coulsdoes for the young ringers.' (Since the meeting it has been ascertained that the frame contained a letter from the hon. secretary $\mathrm{p}^{2}$ the Central Conncil commending him upou his work in teaching the young riagers at St. Luke's, Bristol, and further congratulating him upan the ringing of 100 peals on the tenar behiud, to Triples, Caters and Cinques.)
No one else wished to speak against the motion, and the Chaiman asked Mr. Guise to speak, and then the motion would be put.
Mr. Guise, repiring first to Mr. Prescott, said that it was impossible, according to the rules of the Council, to be other than a mernber of that body, and he would ask what wns the ralue of two nembers who, as was quite possible, each voked for opposite views. Better to have spared the expense incurred and only semd one. Replying to Mr. Cave, he said that there were books that could be obtained for a sinall sum, aud, after all, the Council had been inexistence for mearly 40 years, and as this meant a sum of $£ 4,000$ provided by riugers and associatious, they would expect some results. He mentioned the sum of $£ 4,000$ as an approximate sum, of course, but the members wrould realise what ihis sum of money was worth. It had been suggested that he (Mr. Guise) should place the matter before tise Councti, bit his reply was that the Conncil cauld not be approached from within, and a good deat of talking would be done by other associations when they realised chat a large association like theirs decided to withderw. Upon all matlers of importance to the Exercise, the associations should be considered an authority, and they alone should have the right to decide which wat their representatives voted. Upon scientific matters the representatives could be entrusted to use their discretion, but the Council was a Council of "church beliringers' according to their own terms, and the question of scientific matters was of secondary imporfance. Another point, Mr. Guise said, was that the five and six bell ringers hat han their enthusiasm damped by the continued bartering of what they could ting, and what they nust not, and tize effect of that upon the Gloucester and Bristol Association was a drop of from 14 to 8 peals upon five and six bells during the last year.
He then moved, "That the words "and shali be affliated to the Central Council of Church Belloingers" be deleted from the rules.

Upon being put to the meeting, the motion was carried by 35 votes to 25 votes against.
It was decided that the recently created office of Riuging Mnster shouid be abolished.
A new rule was agreed to in which prize ringing would not be allowed.

A mecessary adjustment was made to a branch rule.
The viet-presiderts wete te-elected with the addition of Ret: C. D. P. Davies.

Rev. E. S. Salcby was elected Master, Mr: P. C. Williams was elected hon. treasurer, and Mr. Guise was reeelected horr. secretary. Mr. A. Wright was re-clected bor. peal secvetary.

Rev. E. d. Phillips rud Mr. C. H. Gordon were reappointed han. auditors, Messis. Perreus, Coles, Dulield and Bmuett wero elected life members, and the popilar Mayot of Chippenham was elected an hon. member.
Lydney was chosen as the next place of meeting in 1930 on May Fotes of thanks to Rer. E. S. Saleby as chairman, to the Ticar, orranist of St Andrew"s, and the Mayor of Chippenham, were actheir work. This brought the meetiug to a close.

BELLS ON BALL BEARINGS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -l lias been brought to our notice that a pamphlet reeently issued from Croydoti contains a statemeni lo the effect that the first peal of bells to be fitted throughout with batl bearings was at St. Stephen's, Clapham Park, in 1919.
May we, though the medium of your columing, draw the attention of those interested to the fact that in the early part of 1914 we fitteri ball bearings to the eight bells of the rew peal from out foundry whith we lang at Fensingham Church, Cumberimend.
We may add that in 1913 we had luag on hall bearings six of the eight bells at Chester-le-Street, and iu tliat same year, 1913, we hiad hung very maty bells on ball bearines, iucluding the tenors of such well-known peals as Linoolı Gathedral, Loughborotigl Parish Church, Chewtou Maudip, Sancrset, Rambam, Kent, Newport, St. Woolos' (now Cathedral) St. Ghan's, Shvewshure. Also, in 1914, the tenor at Waltham Abbey, and at Longum, Glos, the full peal of elght bells.-Yaurs faithfully.

RESULTS OF THE COUNCIL'S MEETING

Although, in the opinion of some of the members, the Central Council meeting at Chelmsford was to a large extent 'negative' in its results, it was certainly one of the most interesting of recent years. A number of minor topics came under consideration, but there were two outstanding features. One was the really excellent discussion on the Methods Committee's report, which invoived an important principle as to what the Council should include among the compositions in its forthcoming new edition of Five and Six-bell Methods; and the other was the report presented by the Legal Committee, about which there was no debate, but which laid before the Council, in clear and concise form, the various aspects of the law relating to church bells and bellringers. It was one of the most important, informative and useful reports ever presented to the Council.
The Methods Committee's report and the motion defining what the Council should recognise as a peal of Minor and as a peal of Doubles, although distinct, were to some extent interlocking, and there were some representatives who would have liked to discuss the motion before coming to a decision on the report. They thought, if the Council defined anew its views as to what should constitute a peal, they could more readily settle what should and what should not be included in one of their publications, to which ringers will in future turn for the purpose of obtaining peal compositions. The president, however, held the members to the agenda, and in this the ruling was obviously the strictly correct one. Even had he acceded to the request to reverse the procedure, it is doubtful if time would have been saved.
Altogether something like three hours were spent over the subject, and in the end no one got exactly what they wanted. The decision on the Methods Committee's report became a compromise ; the motion was postponed to a future meeting. On both these matters we hope to have something to say when the report of the discussions have appeared in our columns, but it was this indecision, coupled with the rejection of a proposal to set up a committee to consider the best method of dealing with cases of extraordinary sickness among members of the Exercise, that probably led to the view in some quarters that the day had been largely one of "negative" results, for the other business transacted, if we except the Legal Committee's report, was not of far-reaching importance. Yet it was by no means a wasted day. It is often in the small things that the most effective work is done. Here are some of the things which resulted from the mecting: The new Coilection of Minor Methods wilf (Continued on page 354.)

These matters alone are proof of the Council's service to the Exercise. No other body is in a position to do this work, with similar weight or authority.

DEATH OF COL. E. F. STRANGE,

A FIRST MEMBER OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.
The death has recently taken place of Colonel Edward F. Strange, well known among ringers of a generation ago. Col. Strange was late keeper of the Department of Engraving, Illustration and Design, at the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, und was an expert upon, among other things Japancse colour prints, on which he had publisked several books. He was an honorary fellow of the Royal Society of Painter-etchers, an honorary member of tho Art Workers' Guild, and the Society of Graver Printers, and a member of the Council of the Jspanese Society.
Col. Strange hegan his ringing in the Kidderminster district, but migrated to London something like 45 years ago, when he became a member of the Coliege Youths, and later joined the various ather societies oporating in and around the Metropolis, including the St. James ${ }^{*}$ Society, the Waterloo Society, the Essex, Middlesex aud Surrey Associations, with most of which he rang peals. Ho was one of the first memivers of the Central Council, on which he represented the Surrey Association, and his uame was proposed as first secretary but on a vote be was defeated by Mr. F. E. Dawe, whe was elected to the office.
Col. Strange was always deeply interested in the Volunteer movement, in which he rese to C.O. rank. He was interred at Mortlake Cemetcry.

THE PEAL AT HASLEMERE  To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Re peal of Stedman Caters at St. Bartholomew' ${ }^{2}$, Haslemere, on Saturday, May 18th, in 3 hrs. 25 mins. (tenor 13 cwt .), taking into consideration the ability of the tenor man and the weight of the tenor (recently rehung), myself and friends wondered if the number of changes had been correctly quoted, or periaps they rang Stedman Royal. Perhaps they rang the last quarter twice, or did they put the 'rallantandoes' in at backstroke? Hoping you will be able to relieve our anxiety, Yours etc., TINTINNABULATOR

DEATH OF MR. DAVID J. NICHOLS  FORMER NORTHANTS SEORETARY.

The Kettering band and the Peterborough Guild hava sustained another loss by the lamented death of Mr. D. J. Nichols which took place at his home. 3, York Road, Kettering, on Friday, May 24ta, at the early ege of 48 years. Mr. Nichols was one of the best-known and most accomplished ringers and conductors among the Guild members. In 1899 he joined the Kettering band, of which ho was leader for some years, until unable to carry on owing to ill-health. He was a man of fine character, and a splendid disposition, whose place will be hard to fill. The work of the Peterborough Guild was vary dear to him. He was specially gifted in teaching young ringers, and many in his locality owe what they know of the art and of conducting to Mr. Nichols' able tuition.
When ill-health kept him from climbing the belfyy stairs, be always made welcome at his bome any ringers, young or old, who called to see lim, and several (the writer included) have, duriug that time, learnce many things of beneft to them on ringing matters.
Mr. Nichols served on the Central Council of Church Beliringens from 1912 to 1926, ant was clected general hon. secretary of the Central Northants Association in 1920, which position he held up to the formation of the Peterborougla Diocesan Guid in 1924. He look an active part in the reorganisation, and was elected the first general secretary of the Guild, which position, however, be had toc resign early in 1926 owing to ill-health.

He served in the R.F.A. on the Western Front during the wat and his war services had ill effects on his bealtid. He was practically an invalid for the last five or more years.
All his pals, 124 in number, wero rung for the Central Northants Association, of which he conducted 80 . Mr. Nichols was writing hislory of the bells and ringers of Kettering, and the peals whimb have been rung there, but this is unfinished.
The funeral Look place at Kettering Cemetery on Monday, Ma 27th the first portion of the serwiee being conducted by the Rev. © M. Morris, assisted by Mr. F. Wilford (Master of the Guild), who read the lesson, in the Church of SS. Peter and Paul. As the cortege approached the church, the bells were chimed by his fellosriugers. In addition to the family mourners, a large number of ringers roet to pay a last tribute of t'espect to a departed friend, and amongst these were Rev. R. C. Thursfield, J.P., president, Kettering Branch, Rev. L. I. Lethbridge, Rev. E. J. Atkins, Mr. F Wilford (Guild Master), Mrs. Wilford, Miss Thursfietd and Miss Hepburn (Ladics' Guild), Messrs. W. T. Wilson (treasurcr), R. G. Black (general secretary), F. Barber and H. Baxter (branch secretariesi, A. E. York, W. Perkins, T. R. Hensher, A. Tompkins, S. J. Lawrence, W. Lawrence, A. Beilamy, A. Smart, C. Moore, B. Morris, anã the Kettering ringers.
After the comenittal sentences a course of Grandsire Triples wasrung over the grave by Messrs. A. V. Inns 1-2, R. G. Black 3-4, E. Chapman 5-6, A. Henuyan 7.8.

Ilie bells of the Church of SS. Peter and Paul were rung halfmuffled in tho afternoon and evening to touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and the "whole pall and stand" 48 times by Messrs. W. Perkins, A. Henman, A. E. Payae, R. F. Turner, C. W. Bird, R. G. Black, T. R. Hensher, and A. V. Inmb.

On Monday evening at St. Giles', Northampton, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters ( 1,259 changes) was rang in 53 mins., as a last token of respect by: Mcssrs. H. Key 1, W. Rogers 2, J. J. Taylor 3, S. J. Lawrence 4, T. Tebbutt 5, T. Law 6, J. 'R. Hensman 7, F. Wilford (conductor) 8 , G. Flavell 9 , and W. Gammage 10.
The peals rung by the late Mr. D. J. Nichols were as follow:-
Rung. Conducted

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. THE NEW PEAK DISTRICT.

A successful meeting of the Peak District was held at Great Long* stone, near Bakewell, on Saturday week. About 20 members werc present from Baslow, Bekewell, Castleton, Derby, Dore, Eyam and Great Longstonc. The bells, a ring of six in a tower little more than eight feet square, were kept going in Grandsire, Bob Minor, St. Clement's, Kent and Oxford thli about 8 p.m., some fair striking being accomplished in spite of the rather dificult "go" of the bells.
A substantial tea was provided at the Crispin, followed by a short business mecting, presided over by the Rev. W. D. Wright (Eyam), supported by Mr. W. Wallace (Derby), treasurer of the M.C.A., and Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (Dore), Lon. district secretary.

Mr. Wright weleomed those present, and appealed to them to urgo their fellow-members to aitend the meetings of the aew diatrict to make it not only a success from a ringing point of wiew but to mako the meetiags of a happy social nature, and to give every possible facility for those learning the art. The delightful nature of the vitlages in the distriet was emphasised, ideal places for a summer outing, and the hope was expressed that members from othar diatricis would pay occasional visits to some of the little-known towers at which it was hoped to hold meetings.
A full quarterly meeting of the M.C.A. Having been arranged for Bakewell on the last Saturday in June, it was decided to defer the next monthly meeting till July 13th, and if possible to hold it at Castleton and Hope. It was suggested that, in order to encourage an advance in the art, memhers might like to select a particular method for special practice at cach monthly meeting, and for the July meeting it was decided to recommend Gambridge (Major and Minor) for special attention, this, however, not to interfere with the opportunities of those less advanced

A hearty voto of thanks to the wardens for the use of the bells (the incumboncy being vacant), and to the lacal company for the arrangements made, concluded the proceedings.

Looker-on, who posted a letter to us from Burton-on-Trent, is not a very couragcous corresponicne, otherwise he would have added his own name and address. Eilher 'Looker-on' is not a regular reador of 'The Ringing World' or his memory is defective, and we would refer him espectally to our jsstice of August 271h, 1926, and December 21st, 1928. He might also be interested in our issue of November 30th, 1928.
Is there any oldar practising riuger than Mr. C. Slingsby, of Aldington, Kent? He was 92 on May 26th, and still 'going strong.
The Middleser County Association's practice meeting, which was to have been held at St. Mark's, Dalston, on June 13th, has been postponed.

The postponed meeting of the Suffalk Guild at Stowmarket will be held on Jume 15th.
Yesterday was the anniversary of the 16,608 Oxford Troble Bob Major at Debenlam, in 1892; to-day is the anniversary of the performance of the mext longesu length of Treble Bob, 16,800, rung in the Kent variation at Matram in 1906.
The first peal on the bells at Ashbourne, Derbysbire, was rung on Jume 13ih, 1821, by Nottingham men, who walked the distanec, 27 miles, each way and had a from light in the churchyard with the ashbourne ringers after tho peal!
It was on June $9 \mathrm{th}, 1850$, that the first peal was rung in Anericta. Some English ringers, houring the States with landbolls, got together a party in Philadelphia, and rang Holt's Ten-Pay peal of Grandsire Triples at Clarist Chureh. Henry Haley was the couductor, and for the first $2 \frac{1}{4}$ hours of the peal the tenor was rung by 12 . Dodd, a one-legged iman.
It was originally intended to cambine the jubilee festivel of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, and the summer festival of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, the places tentatively chosen having been Petersfield and Haslemere. The difficalties in combining with success at places so far apart and so much on the extremity of the big area of the Winchester and Portsmouth Hioceses lave, however, led to an abandonment of the project. Winclester Guild is to meet at Winclester, and the Guildford Guild will go an with its arrangements at Haslemere. Unfortunately, both meetings are to be beld the seme day.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

To the Editor.

Gir, When the date of the Thanksgiving for His Majesty's restoratign to health is officially announced, there are two ways in which ringers may distinguish the day from an ordinary Sunday. One is by ringing in the eariy morning, wherever it is practicable; the other by ringing at the conclusion of the Thanksgiving Services as well as befors them. There may even be an opening in the special form for ringing a few rounds at a central point in the service itself. It is also to be loped that many endeavourg will be made to provide for the ringing of bells seldom otherwise used, whether for lack of ringers or any other reason.-Yours faithfully,
F. LL. EDWARDS.

THE BEGINNING OF THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The jubilee of the Easex Association brings us, from Mr. C. F. Winney, the following extract from 'Church Belis,' 1879:-
' Change ringing at Writcle, Essex. On Eagter Monday, the following members of the Ancient Sactaty of College Fouths paid a visit to Chelmsford with the intention of ringing a peal at the Parish Church, but finding the bells wore not in peaj ringing order they went on to Writtie, where, by the kind permission of the Row. John B. Seamnn, M.A., they rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major ( 5,024 clanges) in 3 hrs. 15 mins. : F. Bright (70th year) 1, W. Cecil 2, G. Mash 3, S. Reeves 4, E. Carter 5, F. Bate 6, E. Horrex 7, J. M. Hayes (conductor') 8. Composed by H. Hubbard, sen. Tenor, 18 cwt . When the ringing was over, the Rev. Seaman enterad the belfry and invited the party to the Vicarage to partake of refreshments, and kindly promised a tablet.
Mr. Winney adds that the Rev. J. B. Seaman greased the bells for the peal, and it was be who at the following Whitsuntide started the Essex Association. J. Murray Hayes was a native of Bocking, and, suys Mr. Winney, alwnys counted himself a pioneer of the association. All the band of this peal of fifty years ago are now deat.

THE • BEER FETCHER.

At Steeple Claydon, Hucks, on Whit Monday, 720 Grandsire Doubles were rung by: C. Everitt 1, F. Case 2, H. Stopp 3, H. Jones 4, J. Stopp (conductor) 5 . This is believed to be the first time the balls have been rung to ehanges for 36 years. In this village is an old memher af the local company, who recalls the 'days gone past." He qualified as a inember, not by his ringing abilities, but as "beer fetcher,' his duty being to carry two gallons of ale to the belfry whenever the belis were rung.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

(Contimued from page 346. )

Mrs. Fleteher, representing the Peal Goilection Committee, reported that the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was proving the peals of Treble Bob with the tenors parted, and the work was still in hand.

WATCHFUL FYE NEEDED.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards presented the following report of the Literature and Press Committes:-

Nothing has occurved during the past year to call for concerted action on the part of the committee. We are glad to be able to give a satisfactory repart on the press generally in relation to bells and belltinging. The publication of the book, "Bells through the Ages, constitutes a distinct landmark in the literature of our art, and we understand that e further work on the history of bellringing is in course of preparation Referentes to ringing in the newspapers have as a rule been aceltrate and appreciative. The jubilee of St. Paul"s Cathedral bells and the Cellege rouths' anuiversary, as also the commemoration of John Briant, the Fertford bell founder, were the occasion of interegtinf and well-informed paragraphs in the daily press. A request received from the cotitor of a musical publication for an article on church bells is mot without its significance. The statement made by a ciergyman of Derby, that he plaged church bella, bagpipes and cats at night in the game musical category, naturally provided good capy for joumalists, but the reverend gentieman's views were evidently treated as a humorous eontribution to popular literature.

In a recent number of the "Church Times" a writer of eminent literary ability indited an admirable article on "The Music of Bells.' It is true that he described the two bells used for the daily services at Westminster Abbey os 'two mean and sour hells, ${ }^{3}$, but there is little eause for ringers to quarrel with that description, for what hell eould sound anything but mean, when it is subjected to the lifeless thud of a chiming hammer? Indeed, the anthor shows a wety enlightened attitude on this point. 'Sometimes,' he writes, 'musical experts have sought to tame the bells. They have hindered the freecom of their swinging by mechanical contraptions. And what is the resuit? The charm has gone. . . .' One further sentence is well worth quoting: ' We in England,' says the writer, 'should be proud of our bells, far our fatherg before us, alone among Cluristian men, devised the plan we call clange ringing.
The campaign conducted in some joumals against street noises has inevitably elieited an oceasional letter from misguided persons disliking the sound of church bella, but these objections have not been followed up with any enthusiasm. At the same time, it might casily be in this direction that danger lics. There seems to be considerable likelihood of legislation being promoted to deal with noises, and a proposal from some M.P. with an obscssion against bells to include them in the purview of a Bill might be passed by a bare majority of a thin Honse and a clause to that effect inserted without attracting any notice. Any such provision would be especially dangerous, if it took the insidious form of giving general powers to the Minister of Health to make orders under such Aet, or to local authorities to frame by-lews. We suggest that nembers of the legal profession on the Council be asked to keep a watchful eye on legislative measures of this nature, and to be prepared to take such action in conjunction with the Standing Committee as emergency may demand.
The President: It is a most admirable report of great interest and great usefulness.
Rev. E. S. Powell said a son of Troyte was a member of the last Parliament, and if he was a member of the next Parliament he the speaker) dife not think anything affecting bells would go through without notice or without comment, for Mr. Troyte was himself a change ringer (applause). He would no doubt watch the interests of ringing in that respect.

Mr. E. W. Elwell, reporting for the sub-commitee entrusted with tie revision and reprinting of the 'Rules for a Local Company,' said the revision had been completed, and the committee were now negotiatieg with 'l'le Ringing World' with regard to the price for printing the work. He thought it would be possibie not to exceed the $x 5$ which the Council hat already authorised, and lo publigh the rules at 6d. The report was adiopted.
'PHE METHODS COMMITTEE'S REPORT
The next report to be dealt with was that of the Methods Committee, whicl appeared in 'The Ringing World' on April 26th, and which related to the inclusiou of certain trpes of compositions in the new edition of the "Collection of Minor Methods.
The adoption of the report wha moved by the Rev. H. Law James. Last year at Hereford, he baid, the committee was muthorised to puhlish a new edition of the Minor Mcthods. Mi. Jenkyu that day had said he wins sorry the book had not come to hand, and he (Mr. James) must tell them why it had not done so. The committee wished to give the Minor ringers a perfect book containtrg the whole af the information that they bid anthered together with regard to Minor methods and their composition. As the Council wes aware, a controversy broke out in "The Ringing World" some months ago on the question of peals of Minor and Doubles, and the conmittee felt if they published the book complete with al] the infarmation they han got, the members of the Council and the Ezercise at large might think they were trying to force upon the Exercise a fresh definition of peals of Doables and peals of Minor, and it would have been very difficult indeed, after publishing the book, to prove that they had no stich intention. Tlaey liad no such intontion. They wanted to publish a complete book, but they did mol want to define a peal of Doubles or a peal of Minor-that was not their business. They wanted to give the Frercise all the infornution they possessed. The Exercise posssessed an excellent hook, Hriften by Snowdon and edited by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. IL sontained ' incomplete" peals of Grandsine Triples. What were they put there for? They were of no use, but they were put there in order that the book might the complele, and, secoudy, in otder that some time in the future people should not waste their time in producing things that were useless. The Methods Committee had gathered a lot of information, and hey wanied to publish all the information they had got in Dableles and Minor. In dealing witl the matter he would confine his attention to seven-lundreds of Tueble Bol, Minor. A 720 being a complete round block, there were exactly five compositions of Treble Bob Minor and only five, and those live were very old. Yet there appeared in "The "Ringing World" two 720 s of London Minor supposed to be new, and nat only so, but someone wrote and congratulated the author of these two 720 on having produced them. The man simply wasted his time-the thinge were in existence long before any of the ringers of to-tay were born. How did the mistake come about? Simply and solely becaure there was 110 complete collection of T'reble Roh 720's in existence 'I'hey found one here and another there; one in 'Bell News 'in 1887, and another in 'line Ringing World, and so on. When the commit tee published this book it woukd contain all these 700's, wail in future no one would be tempteri to waste his time in trying to produce new anes. In addition to that, there had appeared an the scene, within the time of his own experience, fresh compositiuns of Trehle Bob Minar which were not in keeping with the tradition of the Exercise. A good many things had appeared in course of history which were not in kecping with the tradition of the Exereise, some of them had vanished, others held the field. Take for instance Holt's peals, Folt's Original and Holt's ten-part. Sameone wrote fram Norwich to Dr. Mason of Trinity College. Carulariclge, to say that the ringers at Norwiels would not subseribe to the broadsheet because Mr. Beajamin Annable wauld liave nothing to do witli it. The tradition of the Exercise at that time was that Grandsire Triples must he a complete peal with bolos only, but the tradition of the Exercise hat changed, and rightily changed. A sianlat thing bappened with regard to Troble Bob. The firsp peal wing happecied to be true, but the great majority of the next peals rung were found out to be false, gand the tradition of the Excucise land to change; and that sort of thing was likely to liappen again in the future. The tradition of the Fxercise was very valuable; they nust not go against it if they could avoid it, but it was quite likely ilat something or other would coma to light which would cause them to cliange tradition.
The committee wanted to put juto this hook at] tais fresh informal tion that had come to light, but the did not wisls to force any fresh definition of a peal of Minor or Doutales on the Exercise. They could have published this book montlis ago, and nohody could have said they were not eniftled to do so, but they came to flae Council and said: ' Please accept this report. We want to put in wertaing compositions, but that does not mean that they arme eithat whluabie not, there would be noborly in fifty pears time prodncist these things as new compositions in the way the getateman he harl referred to lad publisined two 720's of London Surprise Minot. If' the Council accepted the report they would have a perfect houk, containing every mortal thing the commitice knew up to date, If they rejected it, they would have a baok out of date hefare it was printed. The question of what constituted a peal of Doablos or a freal of Minor was a question which had got to be settled on seientifie grounds; it was the only way in which it cound be setiled. How did they settle any guestion which arose in nataral science? They settled it hy experiment. If they put atf these things in the book, it did not mear that people were woing to use them for peals of these things before them, and ringers cotald ge into the fower and test for themselves whether they were my good or not. Flley would then samo day be in a position to define peals of Minow and Doubles. At the puesent moment, if they asked him to do so, he would lell them he was quite ineapalje of doing anything of the kincl.

MR. TROLLOPE AND "THE RTNGNG WORLD.

Mr. I. A. Trollope secouded, and reminded the Council that thak was the thirtietls amiversary of the first appointment of the Methods Committee. Out of the original meabers, John Carter, Henry Dains and Farle Rulwer were dead; iwo otlue members, Arthur Cuaven and Bankes Jancs had retired, and the only two remaining were Mr. Lew James and himself (applanse). The whole of thedr egnnection with tho Council was practically bound up with the Methachs Committec, and, speaking for himself, he thought he shots fee strange if he woke ap one morning mad foudd himgelf no lorager a member of the Methods Comaittee. The one thing tie canmittee did which lard the mosk direct influence on ringing was the publiention of the book contaiming the "Collection of Six-Bell Methods." It was fair to say that book lad revolutionised Minor ringing and given to the six-bell ringer hundreds of good methods where before they harl ouly a handful. It had done more than that, it had made spliced ringing passible. Mr. Trollope went on to refor to the lindernces whieh hed occurved in the publication of the new edition of the book, and remarked, with regard to the discussion on the naming of the methods, that when the committea got the matter into their own hands they seftled it to the satisfaction of everyone. 'They thought they would then be abie to go straight forward, but isefore the yeav was out the edilor of 'The Ringing World' threw his bombstiall. He said he was not going to print as a peal of Doubles anything which contained a certain composition (hear, hear). $i$ ann not going to criticise the way he carries on his paper, said Mr. Trollope; inal is his own matter. I believe he is sincerely desirous of carrying on that paper to give expression to the wishes of the Council andi to the opinions of the Exercise (applause). As $a$ matter of fact, his particular opinions on that particular thing are not ours. We had to take up the challenge. When we first started to make this new book, the ideal we get hefore us was to have a romplete book. I was very mach impressed by something Mr. Hunt shint at oue meoting. Ho said, 'When you are getting this book mut, don't ussume we know too much. There are lots of things which yoll may take for granted, which the ordinary five and six ball ringer does not know.' We took that largely as a motto, and we were going to give everything in that book that the ordinary man in the five or six bell tower might want. We felt, tharefore, that we should give the whole of the compositions, within limits, for five and siz bells. Whe found in use two compositions, one af Doubles and ono of Minor, and botll had this in common, that both broke away from tho traditional idea that in ringing you were confined to A complete 120 or 720. Let 128 be clear about one thing. A 720 sharts fom rounds and ends with rounds, and there is nothing else hs a 720 but that (hemr, heary. Wo have got Bankes James' Cambridge and Morris' Doubies; they were being rung, and I personally have reason to belicve that the use of those Doubles was of great help to young conductors. Then the question arose, Aro wo going to fut these things into the hook? In the first place, are these compusitions of value or likely to be of walne to the Exercise now or in The fulure, and, in the second place, is there anything in them which itn any way contradicts any fundamental law or rule of ringing? ("Yea.". When I say 'contradicts any fundamental law or Mile of ringing, $I$ do not mean auy written law; I mean is there any-Ahimg in ft, from the point of vies of the five-bell ringer, which would compel us to eny they mast not ring it? "The Ringing World' throw out its ultimatum, 'If you ring Morris' Doubles you are not going lo have it puhlished.' There wore two ways in which we could to puint tliese things; we have had thirty years' experience, and are to ans likoly to know the rights aud wrongs ns anyoue else, and whatever we do somehody will finci fault, and so we mifht have gone nhead and printed the book." If we had done that, it would have heen camploted by now. We decined, however, that on the whole it wonld be $\pi$ goon thing if ringers had the opportunity of arguing these things, and we decided on the same thing as we did about the manes at Fereford. There we published the list and came to the Conneil and said, 'Here is the dist; give us your instructions as to whit atterations you want. That is what we are doing to-dry, and youl luve the opporbunity of saying 'Yes' ar ' No,' but we strongly ulvise vou, laving looked an blo mather from all points of view, to nftoe to the insertion of these compositions.

VERBAL INCONGISTENGIES

Gontinuing, Mr. Trollopes snid a letter appesveri in "The Ringing Werld ' Prour Mr. Slephen Wood, who, he thought, thoy would all agree had a brilliant future before lim, chargiag the committee wilh beiug inconsistent, and the aditor of 'The Ringing World' had hakne nat remarks by mombers of the committee and set them side hy sixie to show that they lind been inconsistent. It was not a diffcult thing to go througli maybody's statements made over a controWrial thing over a period of years, take a statement out of its contradicted himself. 'I don't profess, adden Mr. Trollope, 'to go in lor verlar consistency, but $I$ should bu quite prepared to de ferm ally of Gese entradietions, athongh I do not think I need do upha, was that these conspositious ought to go isto the book, but they wore tot agreed by huy mears upon the reasons for including them: in fuct, thay had a 'terrible serap, over them (laughter), hat they ware agreed that they should be included. A second point Whirh had heen emphasised in the ariticism of the committee was 1rue, and that it should be complete. That was a funclamental rulo. Ghange ringing was an att founded on a mathematical soience, and 0.low lond to the trie to elair mathematical hasis, but, when they anace to the application of it, it was not always easy ; it was not always masy to say what was loue and whal was false. (' Oh, yes.').
said that was true. What they did in Morris* Doubles was, they rang a trua 120 at handstroke and a true 120 at backstroke; the repelition between Morris' handstrokes and hackstrokes was ne more or less than the repetition between one 120 followed by another 120. If mere repetition meant falseness, then the old idea of the Devonshire Guild must stand, that a peal consisted of an extent and nothing but an extent (hear, hear) ; a peal of Doubles, tleerefore, was 120 , and a peal of Major 40,320 -that was the old idea. If they were going to give thut up, ss they had given it up and must give it up, then mere repetition, as repetition, did not mean falseness They had got to get out of the idea that, in opposing a thing like Morris' Doubles, they were standing up for the question of truth A very large number of people were willing to accept Bankes James arrangement of Cambridge, but could not swallow Morris' Grandsire Doubles. His (Mr. Trollope's) difficuIty was that he could justify to zome extent the Morris Doubles, but he found great differulty in justifying the Bankes James Cambridge. If they could once admi tho Bankes James arrangement of Cambridge, there was no diff culty at all about the other, but let them not be led away with the idea that because they could write out Bankes James' 5,000 and ge 720 different fows followed by 720 different rows, and so on, that it was true. They did not write aut rows when they were ringing The 720 in the towcr was 720 'chaages, and 720 true changes was not 720 true rows. If the thing was false in one change, false. The committee, continued Mr. Trollope, hatl been accused of sctiting up a new standard. It was all very well to say that, but if the Council put these compositions into this new book, it was not in fact setting up a now standard. By putting these things into the book they would not be altering the standard. The standard of fire and six bell ringing had been changed twiee within the last two or three years, and the last alteration was marie last year at Hereford mittee had done was to accept the alteration. The issue before the Council was, were they going to agree that the arrangements of Morris, Pitman and Bankes James should go into the book, or were they not? He asked the Council to agree to their insertion on the grounds that they have proved themselves useful, that they wer likely to he usaful in the Exercise, and did not in any shape or form coatravene any law of truth or any other law of the Council.

SOUTF-WESTTERN DIVISIONS HAPPY GATHERING,

The recent fine weather no doubt accounted for the large number of members and friends who found their way to Bentley on Saturday ast for the meeting of the Santh-Western Division of the Esse Association. The church is a modern one of Hint and rubble, situated just off the main Brentwood-Ongar Road, amidst beantiful pine woods. These, together with other delightful surmoundings, make an idenl spot, and there is no wonder at the several comments bain passed as to its being one of the benuty spots of Essex. The church was opened for worship in 1880 , and the authorities are looking for ward to celebrating their jubilee next year, and it has been sug gested an appropriate way would be, it possible, to nidd another bell to the existing five, thus making a handy ring of six.
Members arriving soon after three o'clock lad the bells going to Grandsire, Stedman, etc., till $4.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$, , when those present attonded the association service taken by the Vicar. It was pleasing to mote that, in addition to the ringers, several prominent members of the Church were present, and all had the pleasure of onee again bearing Miss Drwson's splendidly rendered solos. At the conclusion, tea, kindly provided by some members' wives and other helpers, was ready, 52 sitting down to a most enjoyable repast, after which the business meeting followed, presided over by the Vicar, supported b Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Association), and Mr. A. Prior (District Master)
One non-resident, one honorary and two ringing members were elected, and Orsett chosen as the place for the next meeting, to be held, if possible, on July 13th.
A vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing use of the tower and Miss Dawson for her splendidly rendered solo, Mesdames Rutler Rainbird and Wyatt for providing the tea, and ladjes for helping Mr. Rainbird for having everything in readiness, and to Mr. R Heasel for so kindly placing his car at the hon. secretary's disposnd The vicar and Mr. Rainard, in response, stated how plensed the not the Iong before they had the ploasure of entertaining them again.
After tea, some wended their way back to the tower, whilst othera went for a walk across the fields to Navestock Side to view the frec and eriekot pitch, whore the Essex County Oricket Cluh first played their fixtures, the programme and list of members for the year 179 still being in a good state of preservation at the local hostel. Shades of epening were well advanced when thougbts of home arose, and regrets were numerous that it was not possible to stay longer, hut the special bus conld not wait, and the lights of Brentwood reminded all that time and trains wait for no man. Thus ended most delightful afternoon, voted one of the best in the anoals of the South-WFestery Division.

THE SECESSION OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

To the Editor.

Sil, With the tent of your leading article on the secession of the Gloucester amil Bristol Diocesan Association from the Central Council uo out, I feel sure, will disagree, and 1 most cordially endorse the last two or three lines of your opening paragraph.

My special object in writing is to endoavour to point out what I strongly fecl to be the wholly inadequate, and I may add, the ubibrly unteasonable grounds of the action takon.
ferbaps the shortest way in which to explain what I feel will be to Lake the speects of Mr. Guise as reported in your columas, and to tomment upon cach paint as it arises.

Bu: before doing so, let me disavow any feelings but those of the warmest personal firiendship for the hon. secretary, with whom, during the two years" of my mastership, it was the greatest pleasure to work. My warm esteem for him, however, cannot blind my ejes to his utter want of logic.
(1) Ringers throughout the country really thought they sent delegates
What if they do? What does it matter? As regards their being "members " or" delegates," we send thern as our representatives, and it lies wholly between ourselves and those wo send to arrange the Lerms on which we send them. We may regatd them (wrongly, as I personally thinkl as "delegates, but tise Council las every right, if it so likes, to regard them and treat them as 'members.' If they regard themselves and act as delegates, they break no rule of the Gotheil. They merely accept a lower status.
(2) + Upon a memlier staling that be had been instructed to rote in favour, althougla he was personally against, the ruling given was that ho wats there as a member of the Counoll, and not as a delegate from his association.

Where was this ruling wrong? Any other ruling would have bend mbsolately indefensible, and would lave lowered the position of the Council before the whale Exercise.

What did the ruling mean? It meant that as far as the Council was concerned the member was free to wote in any way that he chose. The Cauncil not only has na power (I hope it never will bavel to ordar a member to vote in any particular way, but is far loa jealaus of its own freedom and of that of each and all of its members to gag their freedom of speech. What arrangements there may he between any individual member and the association whinh sends him, or what limitations they may put upon him, are matters 1hat concern them and him and bis sense of his own dignity and independence, thal are mo affair of the Council. On this point Mr. Prescott spoke most valuably and to the point.
3. Concerning tise item on the ageoda for 1926, which Mr. Guise complains was 130 allowed at the meeting, my memory does not serve ne with sufficient accuracy to enable me to speak, but there whs probably some formal flaw somewhere that could easily have been roatified in readiness for 1927
4. As regatris the fees payable this year, Mr. Guise shows misapprohersion of the position in more thas one particalar. First, by the rules of the Council the fecs are payable, as jn most other organisations, in time for the treasurer to balance the accounts for presentation at the annual meeting, and in defering their payment at the proper time this year Mr. Guise was not only running counter wo the rules of the Council, but was treating the hon. treasurer in a ghamer that he lamselt would have resented had he been in his place

Nexl, as the Council dees not expire till noxt year, the elected represenatives were actual members of the Council, and the associatian whs not ouly bowad in honour to pay their dues, but could not prewnt them from attending the meeting, if they were able and willing to go. Mr. Guise was therefore mistaken all through this pas't of the business, and, so far from any blame attaching to the hom. semetary of the Council in anything that he said or did, it sema to me that the very reverse is the case.
No: [ fear that Mr. Guise has managed to get fogged on the whole question. The pity of it is that he found 35 members at rather a small anmual meoting to follow his lead and land the association in a regrefintale position.
One comfort is that it has been the means of the Council securing the-ns I hope-permanent services of suedi a good man and a good 1'uger as Mr. W. A. Cave.

CHARLES D. P. DAVIES.

WHAT THE COUNGIL HAS RECEIVED.

Dear Sir,-1 am exceedingly loath to pour ail on a conflagration, but will you kindly allow me to point out that possibly throngh a מrimer's error, M1. Guise is stated in your last issue to larye said the Central Council has received $£ 4,000$, approximately, during the past forty years.

In case some of out members should say, 'What have we done with ab large a sump" I would state that tha gross anounts received to date are E650. Nust of the money avalable, as your readers are aware, lias been spent on producing the Council's publications. I must adel hat, despife our serious disbursements of late years, the Commil still has apwards of $E 130$ cash in liand or invested. - Yours faithfully,
E. ALEX. YOUNG,

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

The picturesque village of Gresford was the venue of the Northo Wales Association's annual meting held on Whit Monday. The weather was gloriously fine, and a most enjoyable day was spent. Finging commenced af 1 p.m., and a gervice was afterwards held, conducted by the Rev. W. H. Boulton fin the alssence of the Vicar (Canou Williams), who was indisposed. A tery interesting address was given on the history of the bells, and of Gresford bells in particular. The 3rd bell is over 300 years old.
The business meeting was presided over by the Vicar of Tryddyu, who referred to the death af Mr'. Edwam Rowland, of Wrexham, the treasturer of the association for many years. Those present stood in silence as a token of respect.
Two new ringing members, and one life member were eleoted
Two new officers were elected, viz., Ringing Master, Mr. W. Jones, Wresham; hon. treasurer, Mr. T. Catherall.
It was decicied to hoid the nest balf-yearly meeting at Llandudno in September, and the annual meeting at Pormadoc.
The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairmau. Ahout forty members and friends afterwards sat down to an excellent tea, prepared by Mrs. G. Williams. The tower was then again visited, and excellent tauches of Stedman and Grandsire were rung.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The spring meeting of the Witaly and Woodstock lyranch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Yarutou on Saturday, May 11th. A service was conducted in the Parish Church by the Rev. E. N. Aston. Mr. W. Evetis, jun., the district seeretary, read the lesson, and the Rey. E. M. Thompson (Feetor of Woodstock) spoke on the words, "Make a joyful sound to the God of Jacob.'
After tes the spring meeting was held, the Ref. F. R. Marriott (president of the branch) being in the ctesir. The Rev. E. N. Aston welcomed the members to Yaniton, and Mr. W. Evetts, jun., thanked the Rector of Woodstock for his address.
The balance sheet showed that at the beginning of 198 there was a balance in land of E 24 15s., and at the end of the year there was E29 18s. The number of ringing menthers was 120 , and Mr. Evetts sad the number of hon. mombers kept up well. They bad lost, by the death of Mr. J. F. Mason, of Eynsham Hall, a valued hon. mem-ber.-It was agreed to hold the autumn meeting of Wilney on Octoher 5th.
The meeting decided to give a testimonial from the branch funds to Kr. Jolno Monk, of Witney, who lad been contected with the branch for half a century, the greater part of which time he had been hou. secretary.
Touches were rung at Cassingtan and Yarnton. Ringers were present from Yarnton, Cassington, Slanton Harcourt, Fredand, Stand lake, Witney, Eynslim, Wootion, Waodstock, Summertown and Swindon.

BELLS ON BALL BEARINGS

The following is a copy of a letter, sent by Mr. Cyril F. Johnston, of Croydon, suthor of the booklet, 'Belis, Old and New,' to Mr. E. Denison Taylor, of Loughborough:
Dear Mr. Taylor, - am writsig to you direct to reply to your firm's letter which appears in last weck's issuc of 'The Ringing Warla,' under tho heading "Bells on Ball Bearings."
In my pamplaf, 'Relis, Old and New; I have dealt only with complete peals hung on liatl beariugs, and I am glad to know of that at Longney, so that it can be added to that of St. Stephen's, Clapham Park.
Would you mind telling me if this applies to Hensinglam also? I mann, are there eight bells only in the peal? In that case, I will add menion of both those lowers in the paragraph reforred to, before any mate copies are issued, as only the first hundred have been presented, and my idea has been to keep the booklet ug impersonal as nossible nid entirely clear of the name of any bell founding firm. It is an atempt to put ihe truth forward as clearly and moderately as possiblo to thase interested in bell restoration generally
I am asking the editor of 'The Ringitug World' if he would be good enough to publish a eopy of this letter. - Your's very truly,

(Signed) CYRL F. JOFNSTON.

P.S.-Before going to press, I was told that the entire peal at Waltham Abbey hat been hung on hall hoarings, and I thorefore sent a representative to vedify my own belief that the two tenors only had been so treated.

Messis. Taylor and Co. have replied as follows to Mr. Johnston:Dear Sir,-Referring to your letter of the lst inst. (addressed to Mr. E. Denison Taylory, we have to inform you that, as stated in our letter in last weeks 'Ringing World,' we fitted ball bearings to the eight bells of the Hensingham peal in 1914.- Yours faithfuly

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

PRESENTATION TO NORTHERA BRANCH PRESIDENT.
In glorious weather the annual meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Gainsborough on Saturday, May 25th. Among the towers represented werc Barrow-on-Humber, Bassingham, Bigby, Blankney, Branston, Elsham, Grimsby (SEt. Andrew's), Haxey, Liniooln (Cathedral and St. Peter-at-Gowts), Scotter, Scunthorpe, Stow, Uleceby, Upton and Willingham, in addition to the local company. Mr. and Mrs. R. Rieliardson, from the Elloe Deaneries Branch, Mr 7. H. Brothwell, Treelom, Mrs. Jiast, North Collingham, and Mr. I. Hartholomew, were also present.

The hells wert available during the afternoon and evening, and were kept going in various methads ranging from Grandsire Triples to Londou Surprise Major. Service, consisting of shortened evensong, was helti, a large congregation being present. The music was led by a mumber of the chairmoys, and the singing was beartily joined in ty all. Mr. F. F. Limley (Northern Branch president) read the lessons, and an elonulunt address was given by the Very Rev. the Dean of Lincoln (Dr. T. C. Fry).
Afterwards over 100 members of friends partook of an excellent tea at whe Parish Church Institute. This was followed by the business meeting, over which the Dean of Lincoln presided, supported hy Mr. Linley, Canom Morris (Vicar of Gainsborough), Ree. H. T. Parry (president of the Grimsby District), and members of the committee. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. R. Scott (Sleaford district sectetary), Rev. R. Bond (Caistor, late of St. Peter-atArches, Liucom), Mr. H. Knotit (Washingborough), Mr. H. Haigh (secratary of the North Notts Association), Alderman J. S. Pritchett (Resorder of Lincoln), zud Major H. D. Marshall, D.L., J.P. (Pilham Hnll, ('ainsberough).
The balance sheet nud secetary's report for 1928 were passed, and the whole of the officers re-elected, viz: President and treasurer, Mr. F. F. Linley; hon. secretary, Mr. F. S. W. Butler ; hon. auditors, Mr. 1. W. Stokes and Mr. J. R. Slarpe; Ringing Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman; twa 'epresentatives to serve on the Guild Committee, Mr. Geo. Chester and Mr. J. A. Freeman. Messrs. H. Matcon (Lincolv), F. I. Mingay (Grimshy), and R. Scatt (Sleaford) were elected to serve on a sult-committee, consisting of representative members from each branch, For the purpase of considering the printing of a more extiensive Gaild ammal report, similar to those of pre-war years.
A resolution from the committee, 'That an honotarium of $£ 22 \mathrm{~s}$. be granter to the hon. secretary,' was carried.
The last, but not by any means least, interesting itern on the agenda was the presentations of a handsome easy chair by the Denn, on bolualf of the members, to Mr. Limley, as a token of their affec tion und appreciation of the invaluable services which he has rendered for the welfarg of the ringing eammunity during his term of office, lirst, as a vice-president of the North Lincolnshire Association from ils formation in 1884 to 1889, then as a vice-president of the Northern Branch of the Liverln Diocesan Guild from its amalgamation in 1898 to 1905 . In the latter year he was elected president of the Northern Branch, and without on break has held that office down to the present diny.
The Dean spoke apureciatively concerning the excellent work that Mr. Linley has done, particularly in regard to the augmentation of the Cnthedral bells, while the members showed their full approval by singing Fror he's a jolly good fellow.
Mr. Linley suitably thanked tho members for the kind way in which they had shown their appreciation of his services.
Voles of thanks to the churcla authorities for the use of the bells, to the organist (Miss Cox), to the caterers for the excellent tea provided, and to nuy others who had helped toward making the meeting such a success, concluded the business.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A BRANCH MASTER APPOINTED.

A well-athonded mecting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Sawston wn Saturday, May 25th. Members were preselit from Cambridge, Fulhaurn, Greal Staughton, Tekleton, Long Stanion, Melboum, Newmarlet, Over, Staplaford, Tumpington, Willingham, and the laeat bunal. It was agreed, on the proposition of Mr. A. E. Austin, supported by Mr. C. W. Cook, to hole the next meeting at Bouriu in July
'Mhe appointment of a Branch Master was next disenssed, ami, afler Mr. A. E. Finch had cxplained the matier, he proposet, and was supported hy Mr. F. Hurry, that Mr. F. Warrington carry on as Brancil Master, whimh was carried unanimously. Mr. P. Webb, Yekleton, also remarked an the necessity of a Branch Master who would see that at the branch mectings all got a pull. More satisfaction would thus be given.

> A vote of lhanks was necorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his inspiring address and for presiding. The Viear, in reply, Welcomed the association la Sawstan, and thanked his organist (Mr.
(G. Robinsou) for his services that afternoon. To Mr. F. Hurry, who (. Robinson) for his services that afternoon. To Mr. F. Hurry, who mato arrangements for tea and also had the bells in reatiness, eredit and thanks are also due, as everyone had a geod time. The maethods pung ineluded Superlative nud Cambridge Surprise Major, Donhle Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Plaiu Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsite Triples.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY

A most successful meeting of the Sheffeld District Society was held at Bolsover on Saturday, June 1st, when over 40 menibers turued up to ring on the fine musical peal of eight, tenor about 15 ewt., founded by Taylor and Co. in 1902. With a ring of bells in such good going order, and possessing a sweet, melodious tone, it is not surprising ithat they arc so freguently used for peal attempts.

Favoured with bright, sunny weather, the visitors who hailed from Chesterfield, Staveley, Ecelesield, Barlborough, Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's, North Wingfield, Rotherham, and several other towers, had a very pleasant time. The local company, as usual, were in full force.
Tea was provided in the Parish Hall, at whin the ringers were joined by the Rev. Canon Paget, Vicar, who welcomed the visitors, and presided over the business mecting, at which new members were elected, and a hearty vole of thanke was atcorded to the Canon for the use of the bells, to the local company for their arrangements, and to the ladies for providing a bountiful tea. To this the Canon suitably replied, his remarks being supplemented by a elerieal relative. Courses of Triples, Major and Caters were afterwards rung on handbells, and a move then made to the tower, where totuches ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise were successfully accomplished.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SECRETARIAL CHANGE IN FARNHAM DISTRICT
A meeting of the Farmham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Bagshot on Saturday, when about forty ringers were present. The Rev, R. L. Board, Yicar of Wolverton, Hants, hon. secretary of the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, was the prencher at the service, comducted by. the Vicar of Bagshot (Rev. R. W. H. Stuart). The latter also presided at the tea and meeting held in the Village Hall. The principal business was the election of a new district secretary in place of Mr. Bernard Clark, whose husiness ties made it necessary for him to resign. A young and enthusiastic ringer, Mr. C. Denyer, was elected in his place, and a vote of thanks to Mr Clark was passed and ordered to be vecorded on the minutes.
Mr. W. J. Francis, churchwarden, of Bagshot, who was also present at the meeting, was elected to fill a vacancy on the Executive Committee as $\pi$ representative of the honoray members.

Major Gale was elected a ringing member of the Howley band.
A vote of thanks was accorded to the preacher and to the organist, on the motion of the clairman, who in tarn was thanked for conducting the service, allowing the use of the bells, and presiding at the meeting.

Aftorwards, the district secretary, with the secrelary of the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmonth Guild, and the secretary of the Sonning District, of the Oxford Diocesnal Guild discussed arrangements for a joint meeting of the three Guilds which is to be held at Hawley and Yateley on August 31st.
It is rather remarkable that circumstances have compelled a change in the secretaryship of each of the four districts of the Guidel this year.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH AT' BROMHAM.
The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at St. Nicholas' Church, Bromham, on Saturday, June 1st. The Guild serviee was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. L. Thorold, Miss King being the organist. Tea followed, to which 35 sat down. Mr. C. D. Heginhotham, chairman of the bramoh, presided over the business meeting, and extended a hearty welcome to the visitars, Miss N. G. Williams, Weston, Bath, Mcssrs. T. Davison and J. Harris. Chippeubam, and Mr. R. Eorton, Calme.
The following were elected riembers of the Guild, wiz. : Messrs. G Popnall zand W. Williams, of Bedwelty, Mon., and Mr. It. Trout, of Chippeniam. The usual vote of thanks was passed, to which tilse Rector replied.
Ringers, in adrition to those mentioned, were present from Devizes St. John's and St. Mary's, Bromham, Rration. Rowde, Holt, Bishop's Cannings, Melksham, Warminster, Trowbridge. Touches in the various standard methods were rung daring the afternoon fad evening.
Bromliam Church, which is dedicated to $t. Nicholas, is, excepl for morth and west walls of the nave, and the lower part of the tower, which are Norman, a Perpendicular buitding. Its glory however, lies in the south transept and chapel, which were, the out remodelled and the other erected, hy William Beauchamp, Lord St. Amand, who there founded a chantry in honour of our Lady.
The bells, tenor 17 cwt 2 gF .12 lb ., E flat, were cast by Johut Warner and Sons, London, 1875. A tablet in the eluureh cout memorates the recasting. The old bells are supposed to be the heतls which inspired the poet Thomas Mnore, whe lived at sloperton Cottage from 1817, and who dien in 1852, and is buried near the belfry steps, to write the poom 'Evening Bells.'

ANOTHER "WOBBLE.'

Those who studied the Methods Committee's report and who now read the debate upon it at the Central Council meeting will be struck by the fact that once again the committee have "wobbled.' In their report they set out to justify the inclusion of the compositions, which have been the subject of such strong controversy, on the ground that they were true and complete and fully in harmony with the fundamental principles of change ringing. When they came before the Council the committee pleaded to be allowed to include them not, on their merits, but on the ground that it was desirable that they should be put on record as something of interest, while, when, eventually, after a singular deadlock, caused by the defeat of an amendment when it became the substantive motion, a compromise was reached, the committee said they lad got all they wanted by being allowed to put the compositions in an appendix with a note that the inclusion did not mean that they were suitable for ringing in a peal! The fact was that, having realised after the publication of their report, the strong feeling in the Exercise against the recognition of peals in which such compositions were used; the committee trimmed their sails to meet the gale and rescued their craft by putting in at another port. They would have saved a great deal of discussion had they said from the first that their oniy intention was to place these compositions on record, without committing themselves as to whether they were suitable for inclusion in a peal. Although one might not agree with them that a Collection of Minor and Doubles methods, published for the purposes of practical ringing, was the place in which to create a museum, the Exercise would have been much more generally inclined to meet the committee's wishes had they originally been told this, instead of having thrust upon them the contention that these compositions should be included because they were in accord with the fundamental principles of change ringing. That was the crux of the whole matter.

The generally agreed argument advanced in favour of the Bankes James arrangement of Cambridge has been, of course, that it was the only means by which seven 720 's in the method would be got, with tenors always the right way together behind. The claim for saving the Pitman and Morris arrangement of Doubles is that it gives an opportunity for variety. It may, perhaps, surprise the Methods Committee, as well as the majority of the Exercise, to know, after all that has been said about the impossibility of obtaining seven 720's of Cambridge starting from and ending with the rounds and having the tenors the right way, and all the 'sob stuff' that has (Cortinued on page 370. ) been written about robbing the five-bell ringers of opportunities if the Pitman and Morris Doubles are scrapped, that a well-known ringer has in his possession no fewer than eight 720 's of Cambridge with the tenors the right way, and $5^{2}$ true six-scores of Grandsire Doubles with ordinary bobs and singles. These will shortly be published, and will therefore remove all excuse for the use in future peals of any of the other 'mixed ' compositions round which so much argument has centred. These can be relegated to ' history' with the 'incomplete peals ' of Grandsire Triples and other less interesting stuff which has disappeared from practice, unwept, unhonoured and unsung.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

MR. H. HAIGH RESIGNS SECRETARYSHIP.
The annual general meeting of the North Notts Association was held at East Retford on Saturday, June lat. Service was held at the Parish Church, condacted by the Rev. A. Parkinson (Vicar), and the address was given by the Rev. H. R. Peel (Vioar of Norton Cuckney). The preacher referred to the uses of churoh bells, and said the work of ringing them was a work for the honour and glory of God, and a most beantiful and interesting art. The ringiug assuciations, by their rules and regulations, were careful not to degrade it, and it was now looked upon as ars important branch of church work.-Mr. Harry Bilagg, one of the ringers, presided at the harmonium, and 35 members were present.
Tea was provided at Cooke's Cafe, nind the business meeting followed, presided over by the Yicar of East Retford, supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson (Ordsali), Rev. F. S. Gurtis (Everton), the Misses Burchnall, Mrs. Erst, Mr. W. D. Mctoalfe (churchwarden), Mr. Stenton, the hon. secretary of the Northern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild (Mr. F. S. W. Butler), the hon. and assistani secretaries (Messrs. H. Hagh and H. Revill), and many others. Apologies were received from the Rer. A. J. Lindsell. (Rector of West Retford) and the Rev. R. Hodgson (Vicar of Anston).

Tho balance sheet and annual report, which were presented fyy the hon. secretary, showed a balance on the right side after a grant of E5 had been made to the fund for the new bells at Anston. The number of peals rung during the yent was 12 , an increase of 4 over 1927. The Misses Burchnall had taken part in six peals and attended every district meeling during the gear. The membership voll up to the end of the year contained 21 vicc-presidents, 125 resident attacher members, 12 unattached members, and 58 non-resident life members. making a total of 217.
The financial statement for the year ended December 31st showed a gain of 5 s. 7 d ., and a balance in bank and treasurer's hands of £34 33. 5d. The Hon. Secretary tendered his resignation, after 17 years' service, and thanked all who had done so much to make the meetings successful daring these yeats, the local press and "The Ringing World,' the vice-presidents, by their financial support and attendances at a great many of the mectings; all of which had giver him joy and inspiration to carry on as hon. secretary for a greater number of years than lie intended to. He had beaten all records by serving in all for 43 years as one of the committeemen, having been one of the founders, with the late Vicar of Worksop (Rev. F. T. Glodden)
A vote of thanks was heartily accorded to Mr. Haigh for his long service, on the proposftion of the Rer. A. Parkinson, supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson.-The horn. secretary briefly replied and thanked the members for their good wonds of comfort and cheer.
Mr. Robert Mr. Stockdale, 34, High Street, Ordsall, Retford, was elected hon. secretary, and MI. H. Revill, 18, Tumael Road, Ordsall, Refford, issistant secretary. MLy. H. Haigh was elected bon. treasurer, and the.Rev. R. F. Wilkinson was elected representative on the Central Counci].
The next meeting will be held at Everton on July 13 th, and adrertised in "The Ringing World." The following new members were duly elected Horace W. Jast, of North Collingham, A. Towler, D. Newboult, W. Ftuness, of Eati Relford, G. Stevens, L. Robinson and A. Pethinym, West Retiona.

During the afternoon and evening fouches were rung at all three towers, in a variety of mothods, and mombers were present from Anston, Barlhorongh, North Colliugham, Cuckney, Edwinstowe, Gamston, East Marktian, Ordsall, East and West Retford, Suttob-on-Trent, Whealley, Whasp, Worksop, Gainshorough, Wisterton, Lincoln Cathedral, Southwelt Cathertral, Sheffield Catheriral and Hough-on-the-Hill.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was accorded to the three incumbents, Rev. A. Parkinson, Rey. R. J. Wilkinson and Rev. A. J. Lindsell, for the use of the bells ab East and West Retford and Ordsall respectively, and for their presemee at the tea and meeting; to the Rer. H. R. Peel for his address; to the tea makers, and all others who had used theil best endeavour to make the meeting a success. This concluded the ruecting, and the bells at all three towers were ruvg until 9 p.m.

BROMLEY YOUTHS.

A peal was rung ot Bromler, Fent, as reonted Inst week, hy the Society of Bromloy Fauthe, to commemorate the 156th anniversary of the completion of the hells at SS. Peter and Paul's Charch. A peal board in the helfiry states: 'In Januars, 1773 , the old tive bells in this tower were trken down, recast and augmented to eight. And on Mry ye 29th they were limished, on which a sett of Fouttis of Bromley in hent dif join in articles to learn to ring.
The opening ringing was done by some Landon ringers, and a fortnight Later, namely, on June 12 L l , Tames Barham took his band there aud rang a peal of Oxtord Treble Boh Major. Barliam rang the 7 th and called tho poal. A footnote to the peal copicd from a pocket book of his suys: "This was the first long peal on them bells. although two companies had beeu from Londen to try:" There fad thus been three atternpts in a fortaight.

OPENING OF SHAROW BELLS．

On Whit Tuesday，May 2lat，the Bishop of Knaresborough，in the preasence of a large congregation，rededicated the bells of Sharow Parish Chargh，Yorks．This ring of eight，six of them cast in 1824， and the two trebles in 1871，has been retuned，fitted with ball Eearings，and rehung in the old frame，by Messrs．J．Taylor and Co at a cost of some 8300 ．
The service opened with the hymn，＂When morning gilds the skies，＇ bang in procession to the base of the tower，where the Bishop offered ap the two dedicatory prayers．A few rounds were then rung by the following ringers：F．Jingle 1，G．Richmond 2，R．Pear－ son 3．C．Mowforth 4，E．Schofield 5，T．Shepherd 6，C．Howroyd 7， F．Hudson 8.
The service then proceeded，conducted by the Rev．R．E．Pownal： （Vicar），the lessons being rend by the Rev．W，E．Laidman，Vicar of Kirkly Mill．The Bishop preached an eloquent sermon，taking as his text Palm xix．3，＇There is neither speech aor language，but their woices are heard among you．
Further touches were rung by the lacal ringers after the gervice， ant again at night，with the assistance of the Ripon Minster com－ paly．
The tone of the bells is vastly improved，aud the＇go＇of the ring has greatly surprised some of the local ringers，whose efforts in the pest thave at last met with rewart．

HERTEORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION

MEETING AT OLD．WORLD BENINGTON
＇Ihe spring meeting of the Eastern District was held on Saturday， and a goodly number atteaded，and much enjoyed the visit to this Inistorical tower and the old－world village，with its timbered hotases clustering round the old village green，and its old rookery，from which，mingling with the sound of the merry little ring of bells，the cawing af the rooks could be heard．The church is an interesting and ancient building，and two old moummons are of interest，one being to the memory of a Crusader．

The Rector，who is himself a ringer，and wha is trying hard to restone in some measure the status of ringing at lais tower which oace was so fameus for its band of Surprise ringera，plorided tea and exiended a warm welcome to all．

Some good practice was put in，the highest achievement being Cam－ bridge Surprise，e method which the old bells lad rung out hundreds of times sixty years sgo．While some of the wisitors reere busy at the bells，others eajoyed the beaty of the surroundings in the spring sumshine．

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH＇S FINANCIAL POSTTION．
The annual meeting at＇the North Bucks Brancli was holl at Shen． ley on Saturday，June 1st，and，the weather being fine，adtracted a gathering numbering about 80 ，and representing tho follawing towers in the Branch：Bletchley，Beachampton，Bradwell，Chicheley， Fenny Stratford，Great Buckbill，Loughton，Milton Keynes，Newport Pagnell，Stony Strafford，Simpson，Twyford，Whaddon and the local tower．Various methods were wung until service，which was con ducted by the Rector of Shenley（Rev．H．Evered），and was fully choral．It was a very iaspiring service，and was attended by a g god number of parishioners as well as by the ringers．Tea was sup－ plied ou the Rectory lawn，and thoroughly enjoyed by all，the sur roundings making it very pleasant．

At the business meeting the Secretary（Mr．W．Sear）rearl the report and presented a statement of accounts which was considered very satisfactory．The Franch＇s financial position showed fl7 11s．9d．in hand，and £10 invested．The Sucretary，after briefy stating the work done，proposed that a grent of 55 be given to the Guild Restoration Fund，and that was approved．The Brancl now had 176 ringing menbers and 19 honorary memhers．
The officers were re－elected，the Rev．L．Moxon，of Newport Pag－ neli，chairman，and Mr．W．Sear secretary and trensurer．

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Messus. Gillett and Johnston have been entrusted with lecasting aud rehanging in a new frame the peal of cight at Penn, Statio, &ud the rebanging of the following peals of six: Pucklechurch, Glos, Graveley, Herts, Maisey Hampton, Wijts, aud Garstang, Lanes.

To-day is the first recorded peal of Stedman Caters rumg on handbells. It was accomplished in the ycar 1851 by some famous old Collego Youths-John Cox, Gcorge Fervis, William Coater, Mattlew Wood and James Dwight-and was rung at the Osborn Arms. Ferris, Cooter, Wood and Dwight afterwards rang the first peal af Stedman Triples ' in hand,' and with John Cox and Henry Haley rang the first of Stedman Cinques.
The interest which has been shown in the recently augmented rimg at Lincolo Cathedral, recalls the fact that the first peal in this belfry was a peal of Treble Bob conducted by Mr. F. E. Dawe on June 15th, 1886.

Another Lincolv anniversary occurs on the goth, for it was on that date in 1756 that at St. Peter-at-Arches Church a peal of 5,040 Garathan's Triples was rung. This is believed to be Garthon's peal of Grandsire which was rung at Norwich in 1715.

The peal rung at Bletchley on May 4 th was condueted by F. Sear mad not H. V. Sear as published.

THE NEW BELLS AT HATFIELD

The two new bells given to the Parish Churela at Hatfield ly the Bishop of Ezeter and his wife in memory of their son will he dedicated by the tishop on Thursdiny, Junc 20th. The bells liave been cast and are being erected by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.
The bells bear the following inseriptions:-
Treble: 'In memory of Rupert Edward Gasoyne Cecil, bom January 20th, 1895. Killed in action at Ypues, July 1itly, 1915. Mears and Stainbenk, 1929.

New 2nd bell: 'In memory of Rupert Edward Gascoyne Ccefl, sou of William, Bishop of Exeter, some time Rector of Bishop's Hatfield, and of Florence, his wife.' Meals sud Stainbsnk, 1929.
The chime room and bell chamber have been thoroughly cleaned by the Rector, his family, his gardener, and Miss Elizabeth Bennett. Eighteen sackfuls of ditt and rubbish were thrown down from the tower and bumt. Such a clearance had prohahly not been effected since 1847,82 years ago, when the spin'e was built, and those colrcerved in the cleaning feel relieved that the same task will not fall to then again in their lifetime.

The new bells will give Hertiordshire another peal of ten at present there are only two such, at St. Peter's, St. Albans, and Al Saints', Hertford.

MR. AND MRS. B. KEEBLE'S DIAMOND WEDDING.

OLDEST COUPLE TO RING HANDBELLS.
Mr. and Krs. B. Keeble, 53, Vine Street, Romford, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary on June 7th. Both attended the eleven o'clock Eucharist at St. John's Chuch, ai the close of whieh the hymn, 'O God, our Help,' was sung as a thanksgiving for the blessing of 60 years of married life.
Mr. Keeble was one of the founders of the Essex Association, and taught the whole of his family, including Mrs. Keeble, change ring ing upor handuells. Five yoars ago, when the whole of the family of three sons and four daughters were home to celebrste Mrs. Keeble's 77th birthday, every memaer of the family took part in method ringing. On June 7th last a 120 Grandsire Doubles was rung: A. Keeble 1, Mrs. Bonny (daughter) 2, B. Keeble 3-4, Mrs. Keeble 5-6. Mr. Keeble was 82 in Aprif, and Mrs. Kechlo reaches the same age in August, and it is claimed that they are the oldest man and wife to accomplish such landbell ringing, simple as it may be to many ihousands of ringers.
A peal of Boh Major to celehrate the eqent was rung at Barls Colne on Saturday.

FIRST PEAL AT WESTBURY-SUB-MENDIP

To the Editor.

Sir,-Tlie first peal on the bells at Westbury-sub-Mendip, Somerset, was rung about eight years ago, when a peal of Minor was scored. I therafore wish to withdraw the claim to the furst peal on the bells which was published in. The Ringing Warld' on June 7th, 1929. For the above information I must thank Mr. J. T. Dyke.-Yaurs faithfully,

THE CENTRAE COUNCIE.

THE DEBATE DN THE METHODS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. William Willson, speaking against the Methods Committee's Report, paid a tribute to Mr. Law James' speech, which, he said, was the acme of senso. Mr. Willson spoke in terms of eulogy of what had heen done for ringing by botly the Rev. E. B. and Rev. F. Law James. Some of their compositions, he said, were marvellous productions, and the name of James would be honoured in the ages to come. That, however, was no reasou why they should accept the proposal of the committee of which $\mathbf{M r}$. Law James was a member. In the publications of the Council regulations were laid down for ringing, and the first of them was this, that all peals upon all murnbere of bells should commence from and end witil rounds. That was in print still; th had never been repealed, and he contended it still stood and put out of court these composite peals which the committee suggested should be inclurled in the Minor Methods book ("No, no. ${ }^{\text {' }}$. They talked of progress. That word was the most abused wort in the English vocabulary, and every man who boasted of progress wanted watching (langhter). There was usually a reason bebind it. When change ringing was evolved from rounds, the first principle was truth, otherwise they would never have troubled to try to get tur peals. The day the 120 and the 720 were obtained, that day "finality" was written across the extent of Doubles and Minor, and no man could go a step further, not even Mr. Law James. They might get new methods; they could not get a change further. The Doubles about which they were disputing were all hopelessly false. Mr. Trollope would have them believe that because the handstrokes were true and the backstrokes were true, the composilion must he as nice as pie. But he did not tell them all. The moment they mixed these things up they became hopelessly false. Mr. Willson createrl amusement when he conpared them to the mixing of beer and water. If you take a pint of colfl water and a pint of good beer and pour them into a quari jug, the highbrows would tell them that they had a guart. 'You have,' said Mr. Willson, 'and you can drink it, for me (lauginter). The water was pure and undefled; the beer was good enough for anyone, but they are no good for anything when you mas them' (laughter). In regard to the Cambridge Minor, he said, he had no objection to one of the compositions going into a museum to show how close they could sail to the wind without soing overboard, hefanse they could get 719 changes true, but he lefied them to get 720. Changes and rows were synonymous terms as far as ringers were concomed. One counted the rows when one counted the number of changes in a peal, and if they did this they did not iake the rounds before the start as the first change of a 720. Scientife or unscientific, it was simply rot to talk about rounds beore they began as being incorporated with the figures they rang. They had always considered that a peal starterd from rounds, and it was lined off in the composition. The composition ended when the hells eame round, if it were not so there was no need for a coming home course. All they would have to rlo would be to saw off the tialse changes aud call it a peal, because the conductor would say tho bells were not bound to come hame. In the Bankes James Cambridge 134256 was ' plained' in the body of the 720 , and came up at the end as a bob change; in the second 720142356 repeated, and rounds came up in the last 300 of the third 720 , and rounds completed the first block of 2,160 . Each 720 was thus hopelessly false. If they wanted rounts at the beginming they coulrl not have it at the end without repelition, and no peal an earth would come round at the end if they once incluthed the younds at the begimning. It would mean the end of all discipline in change ringing if they once admitted these false compositions, ant here were those who viewed the proposal with great alarm. They cauld not get a true 720 in Bankes James arrangement mless they counted rounds before they started, and he woulk ask Mr. James, as an expert-
Mr. James: I am not an expert, and I don't think there is one in lis room.
Mr. Willson said he would ask them two questions: Would they ecognise any performance that failed to come round? Would that be a peal or no peal? (Several members: No peal.')
The Rev. E. S. Powell: These 720 's do not come round, but the 160's do. These two blocks arc twue.
Mir. Willson: It comes round twice in the lasi 720 .
Mr. Willson: It comes round twice in the last 720 .
Rev. E. S. Povell: You jing rounds twice, that is another thing Mr. Willson: Rounds comes up twice.
Rev. H. Law James: Mr. Willson has gone away from whet we rere dealing with in the report. He is discussing peals of Minor; we Mr. Willson: Ming peals of Minor.
Mr. Willson: Mr: Trollope did. He added that he was going to move that the report be referred lack in order that the controversial tgares might be deleted.
Mr. Trollope suggesfed Mr. Willson should move defunitely to dethe items by name.
Mr. Willson said he was prepared to do this. There was no end to what wouki occur if they once admitted false peals. To suggest that false peal would be a help to any man, aud especially that it was 011 g to help a young ringer, was absurd. It was not progress, unless it was the rake's progress. He proposen that the report be re-ferrert thack for the deletion of the Morris and Pitman Doubles, the London Minor and the Cambridge Surprise Minor.

Mu. James George seconded.
ONE PEAL OR SEVEN PEALS?
Mr. C. T. Coles said Mr. James' explanation had cleared Ute air a great deal and showed that the Methods Committee did not intent to foist viese compositions on the Exercise as necessarily being true in aceordance with the lradition of the Exereise, but tinat they inerely wanted tien published as historical and useful. He submithed therefore, that all the talk about whether the compasitious were true might easily be left witil they came to resolution Na. 7 on the agenda. There was one remarth made by Mr. Willson whict he would like the Gouncil to consider during their dinuer time. When they were ringing a peal of Minor, did they ring one peal or seven jeals; did they ring seven peals of 780 and publisin it as sucin, or did they say they rang a peal of Minor? He submitted that they rang a peal of Minor, and in doing so they commenced from aud ended with rounds. If in between rounds came up only six times, and any other change came up seven times in between, they rang only one peal.

Rev. B. E. Tyrwhitt Drake suggested that the Council slould defer settling the report until they had dealt with question No. 7 on the agenda.
Tho President: The two tinings luavo nothing whatever to do with each other. The committee wat io publish a book up-tudate; the question whether these things should be rung is atuother matter.
Mr. Pulling: Does the Methods Commithee intend to putsish these peals with a note saying that they do not cunform to the rulos of Central Coumeil?
Mr. Trollope: Certainly not; it is not mecessary.
Mr. Pulling : Then you will publish then in the book as 720's that can be rung as a peal? If they are published in the book, they will be published as fit for a peal?
Mr . Trallope: Obviously
The Hon. Secretary: Would it be possible to put them inia an appendix?
Mr. Trollope: They practically are an appondix.
Mr. Cave: I propose that the report be adopted, and the hook lue pubilished, provided these peals are put as an appendix, jusi to sluw what has been done. Mr. "James told us ilat in 25 years' time someone might be bringing it out as something fresh, but if the compositions are put as an appendix it will save people trouble.
Mr. C. Mce seconded.

COMPLETE GHANGE OF FRONT.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith said the committee bad made a complete clange of front. In their report they aticmpted to justify the publication of these compositions on the ground that they were trie and in harmony with the tradition and usage of the Exercise. To say that they were in harmony with tradition and usage was a travesty of the use of words. But the committee had now appayently aljandoned that ground for inserting the compositions, and uppealed fol permission to melude them for historical purposes. The bouk which the committee proposed to publisil was nevei intended to be what the Snowdon publications, like Grandsive" and "Stedran," were, historical survejs as well as books of instruction. The comnitten's compilation was for practical puiposes only, and was not conceratul with the historical side at all, and therefore compositions which had a purely bistorical interest shauld lave no place in the publication. As some of the Council prohably knew, he was not prepared to yo the whole way with those who said the Bankes James Cambidge to what might bo consibered trie. In the consturetion of an method, who studied method construction in these days disputed. It thok two rows to make a "elange, and, obviously, therefore, it required 721 rows to make 720 cinanges. As 720 was the extent ohtainable ons six bells, it followed that one of the rows reguired to make the 720 changes must be a repetition, and in an ordinary 720 the row that was repeated was rounds; the last row repeated with the first row, and in between them they got the 720 cinanges. The rouncis whichl and in between them they got the 720 clianges. The ronmis which came at the end, was the first row of tine next 720 . In the Bankes James Cambridge the row which repeated was not rounds, hut in the first 720 134256, which was the 21 st row but before thai row was reached they had had 720 true rows and 720 ehanges, mind he submited that as that had happener and the second 134256 helongeri to the second 720 , the dirst 720 must be considered as complete as if the 721st row was rounds. It seemed to him it did not motiter Whether the 721 st row repented with the first or the 600 th . He had summitted this argument to some well-known leaders of the Exorcise, nud they agreed with him that it was sound. He nsked those who thought on these matters to consisley this point with fin unbiassed view, and he beljeved if they did so they wodd mgree with him that the Gambidge was both true and complete in cach of its 720 's in 50 far as completeness meant the production of 720 changes by mears of 721 rows. The ather compositions in dispute did not by any means stand this test, and as 120 's and 720 's wrem absalately false. That heing sa, he hoped the Council would decide that they should be exelnded from airy publication which was to be issued in the name of the Council.

Afier the lunch adjournment, Mr. Pulling asked if the committee would give a definite assurance that if published these compositions slould be inserted with a footnole that they should not bo rung in mals. if they were only to go in as history, they should puti a note hai hey sloculd not he rung as peals.
Mr. Coles asked, on a poiat of arder, whether that was net prejudyinct motion No. 7 , which had not yet been before the Council?
Mr. Trollope said the committee would not put any note to bay that cornpositions should not be rung.
Mr. Coles: Mr. Trollope is infringing on the same point.
The President: I think you are right.

A RETROGRADE STEP.

Mr. James Hunt said his association (the Bath and Wells) felt very strongly on this malter. He gave the Methods Committee every credit for the magnificent work which they had done, but in his association, where out of 130 towers 80 were six-bell towers, the feeling was so strong that he hadi been instrucled to vote against the committee's proposal to include these compositions. As ringers they must stand for truth. In their report the committee said the principhe of trath and completeness wats so decply implanted in the tradition of the Exercise that it would be an ample safeguard against any oxeess, and, furthermore, that the Exercise had preserved a high sthudard in these matters and kept within rigid bounds for more than two centurics. There was no Central Council in the old days, sniel Mr. Huati, and the old ringers stood for everything that was goonl and truo in ringing (hear, hear). They started from rounds ancl finished with rounds, and he would like to ask whether anyone there would ring a peal going ofl in any way than from rounds? They could not count the rounds at the starl, and therefore the Bankes James Cambridge whs out of order. He supported the amendment that these four things be deleted from the book.

Mr. H. W. Wilde snid he had heen interested in six-bell ringing for forty years, and he had taken great interest in what the Council liat done for the six-bell ringers in this matter. He admired the work that had been done, but he considered the Methods Committee now proposed to take a retrograde step. The compositions of Doubles anil Mr. Law James' Londou Minor should not be passed without very careful consideration. In introducing these Doubles and the other things which hat iveen mentioned, they were, in his opinion, going hackwaril. In the past the committee had been very eareful not to pass undesirable things in the way of methods, such as by omitling Giratadire Minor, while in other ways they had brought olher methads such as College Single Minor into line with the resolutions passed by the Council. If they went backward and introducerl these conpositions of Doubles and Minor they might as weli reintroduce Graudsire Minor and Woalbine and Violet Treble Bob Minor which were not regular methads. Fe certainly could not vote for the report as it stood.
The Rev. E. S. Powell, a memher of the Methods Committee, aaid the committee were in an extraordiugrily difficult position; they were hetween cross fires. Naturally all those who for one reason or tratleer disapproved of these new developments, or some of them, were likely to vote ngainst the committee, but lee was sure the Council was aware of one thing, nud that was that the diferent opinions that had been expressed concrary to the Methods Commitite had negatived one another. One party said, and he had an inkline of ympating with them, that all extent shoutd be true and complete. If so, that meant that the 120 of Doubles had got to start from mands and end with romeds. The position was a logisal and consistent one, but if they were going to object to that they must be propared to go a step further. After all, the modern dideas of splic ng extents were entritry to the tradition of the Exercise. If they were going to serap one of these new ideas he was afraid they would lave to scrap the lot' ('No.'). He did not want to develop the point-and he was not at all sure that he was in order in mentioning il - but there was undoubtedly a certain parallel between the two and many of the Council would realise it, Dealing with Mr. Goldsmilh's argument that Mr. Bankes James' Cambridge Surprise praluced a true peal-lic thought there were others of the Council who neeepted it as true- Mr . Powell said that if they had a true round hoock, they could start the composition just wherever they liked, and it did not make nny difference to the truth or falseness of it.
Mr. F. Hopgooul $l^{2}$ roviderl you start from rounds.
Rev. E. S. Powell: Yea, of course, starting from rounds., If, however, cuntinued the speaker, they started Bankes James' 2,160 of Cambridge MEinor from any lead, except three, they would get a repelition before the emt of the first 720, and yet it was said, becunse they could ring 720 true rows without repetition, it must be true, while if they could not ring 720 rows without repetition it worili not be true. Therefore, they were told in many quarters, linnkes James' Cambridgo must bo irue aud other spliced arrangemutits false. The only reason for ringing Bankes James' composilion was to ayoid the 6-5's at backstroke, aud they could not start anywhere but ait these particular lead-ends to do that. The Pitman binbles was on exactly the same lines. There were 24 possible phaces al which they could stant, liut there were only two of them from which they could get 120 rows withoul repetition, and who watated which ihey could get 120 rows withoul repetition, and who wated jitsl two 240 's of Graudsire Doubles?

If the theory of those who supported the argument of the fames Cambridge and the Pitman Doubles was true, continued Mr. Powell, he was perfecty certain there had never been a peai of Grandsire Doubles rung on the Pitmau plan which was a true peat. It was perfectly obvious that those who had used the Fiiman arrangement had started from various leal-ends in order to get variety. It was because these compositions did not differ in principle that the committee found itself up against a dead end. It was not dhat they wauted to press the Law James London or the Morris Doubles upon them. They had got to come before the Council with some consisfent case, and they could not put a case before them which would show the Bankes James Cambridge as true and the others hopelessly false. With regard to the question as to whether these were liseful peals to put into their report, they had never tried to persuade the Council, if they read the report carefully, that they wished to recommend them to be runk for peals. He was afraid that Mr. Goldsmith had been misled by the leading article in his own papar (faughter). All they had said was that they did not feel in a position, from their knowledge, to condemn them wholesale-it was a matter to put before the Exercise. There seemed to be several members of the Council who said, That is all very well, but eren so we do not agree with the Metrods Committee as to what is fit for peal riugine (hear, hear). All right, why then did they not raise the snme of jection when the Peals Collection Committee were doing their magnificent work in the Collection of Treble Bob Peals? It wonld be out of order far lim to ask Mrs. Fletcher wisat percentage of those humdreds of peals were fit for peal ringing, but a very large number would be recognised as not fit for ringing in the tower in theal.
A Member: That is a matter of opinion; it is not because they ave false.
Mr. Powell said it was a mater of opinion whether it was adyisable to ring a peal with the 2nd the extent in Gth's place, hut was there not a certain parallelism between the two things? The Methods Committee were asking the Council to allow fhem to put these compositions on record; if such compositions were condemned by the Council, that could be made known afterwards.
A Member: Too late, then, sir.
Mr. Willson: They should be stamped Tike the false petals of Double Norwich in the Double Norwich book with the word False across them.

Mr. Powell said it had yet got to be proved whether they were false. He hoped lue had shown sufticiently clearly that fhe argtir ment, the only effective argument which up to the present had beer used, abd that was the one about the 120 true rows, had nothing in

The cammithee simply asked that the matter be dealt with in onder that these composilions might be placed ou reaord, and they would leave the Council to deal witli the othes guention of peal ring ing. The committee did not feel able to express a definite opinion they aid not feel able, either individually or collectively, to condenis all or any of these compositious as false. He corld go into detaile to explan why, but he did not think it would carry things any further than they were at present.

HIr. Witae, a member of the Metbods Committee, haring been oriven leave to reply to what wr. Powell had said with regard to the peals of Treble Bob, said if was true some of the penls seut in for the Cafleotion were not wonth ringing, but the great maiority of Hhen were-time were some excellent peals in it. the Peals Collec tion Committec had instructions to juclude them all. If it came to printing the peals, he lad no doubt that all those not worlh ringing would be eut out. Some of the peals were not worth provitge, but they had instructions to prove, and they did it.

A DEADLOCK.

INT. Witlson's amendment was then put to the meetiog, and, afte two counts, was ceefared carried by 30 votes to 29.

Mr. Trallope then asked: What about the book?
Memhers: Publish
My. Willson: P ublish it without the compositions.
Mr. James: No, sir. What is the use? I have done my best Lhe Council: the Council daes not want me to do anything more This gtatement was greeted with a elorus of moes.
Mu. James: Yes. I loave got a brother, said Mr.
Mi. James: Yes. I lave got a brother, said Wr. James speakins wil for this Gotin been treated to-day. M\% brother has done precious lietiot as 1 trat ten jears, and it is entirely due to that abominable lreatmenc from a lot of ignorsut people.

Mr. Coles said he was surpriged at some of the memhers of that Council when some of these compositions were already in thein ow

When the amendment was read by the president before putinc as the substantive motion, it took the form of proposing the omiscio of the foul compositions under discussion, "because they are all hppe lessiy falge.

Several memberg expressed disagreement with this addition, ant Mr. Goldgmith asked permission to move a further amendment to delete theme wordg.

The Rev. T. S. Powell objected, as, he said, this was the specift Eround upon whith the amendament lad been carried.
The objection was upheld by the president, who, on putting the motion. $\begin{aligned} & \text { decalared it lost. } \\ & \text {. }\end{aligned}$

NEW RING OF TEN FOR LANCASHIRE.

DEDICATION AT LEYLAND.

Lancashire, nome too well off for rings of ten, has gained another by the addition of two trebles at Leyland Parish Church, and enbhusiastic scenes marked the parochial May Festival on Saturday, May lith, when the recast and augmented peal was dedicated by the Bisliop of Blackburn. The church was crowded from end to end, over 2,000 gaining admittance to the service, while many more were nuable, to find even standing room. The service was fully choral, arery resident member of the choir being present.
The Bishop, standing on the chancel steps, pronounced the dedicawry prayer, while the whole congregation knett.
Following immeriately upon a long and clear call to action from a carnet player, a voice from the tower was heard to say, "Treble troing, and within another moment the encineering skill and workmanship of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, was manifest, as without a fault every bell was pulled off, and the sweet music of the heautiful bells rang through the village. Probably the only dissenfientig were the two young owls whose mother liad hatched then "ut in the tower behind the mechanism of the clock.
No efforts lave been spared by the famaus Croydon frm to pro lluco a truly model and ideal peal, second to none in the country 'flus eight bells bawe been recast and augmented by two trebles, and the whole hung in new fittings, inciuding ball bearings, in a metal 'H' type frame. Tlas span of the stately tower is such as to enable atl the bells to he accommodated on the one level. The teluor has hect equipped with the firm's patent clapper control, by means of which a beautiftul hum travels across the air, and the ease with whin the local rimgers handled the bells for the firgt time the following day is a grand testimony to tho excellence of the work.

The old bells weighed in all 79 cwt. 3 gr . 7 lb ., with the tenor 22 cwt. 22 lb. Tha metal las been redistributed, and the new peal of ten weighs in all 100 cwt . 2 qr . 15 lb , with the tenor 23 cwt .20 lb . in E flat. An Ellacombe chiming apparatus, for tune-playing purposes, bas also been fitted to the whole peal.
"Che firm was represented at the dedication by Mr. Cyril F. Jolanon, who look part in che Sumday ringing as an honorary member. f the band.
There is already an enthusiastic band of ringers in the parish, inluding a number of ladies.
The treble is inscribed "Srayer', the 2nd, 'Obedience'; Srd, "May Jesirs Clirist be praised, the gift of Margaret Kellett, 1897; John

(Oontinued from previaus columu.)

This left a dearilock, and Mr. Trollope asked for instructions for he commitiee. They wanted some guide as to what they were to o. Ohwionsly, what ther wanted to do, he said, mas to carry out the Council's wishes. Would they mect the mishes of the Gouncil f they printed these compositions separately, as a sort of appendix, I the end of the book, and said that the compositions contained epelitions of changes, azad that the insertion of them did not commit the Comeil to the opinion that, they ware fit for ringing in peals? Mr. Willson: You admit, then, that there are repetitions of hanges?
Mr: Trollope: I am admitting nothing at all. I ani asking whether we should do this, not what we want to do, but what the Counci] wrats us to do. Shall we put these in the end of the book and say hese compositions apply to five and six-bell methods, but the insertion of them here does not commit anyone to the opinion that hey are valid for peal ringing?
Mr. G. J. Sedgeley proposed that that should be done.
Mr. Cave: That was my proposition just now; accept the report ntl publish these compositions as an appendix.
Mr. Willson: Why print them if they are not worth ringing?
Mr. Pulling: When Mr. Trollope gets a thing in his own hands, he onerally does what the committee wanted beforeland (Gaphber'), M1. G. P. Burton suggested that the words sheuld be: "The inserion of thene compositions as an appendix does not vommit anybody o the opinion that they are suitable for peal ringing-
Mr. Whittington: Will the inclusion of these compositions legitimatise them, and will it give pcople the right to have thoge peals ecognised by the Analysis Comnittee if they are rung becatuse they he in that hook?

Rev. H. Law James: No.

The President: That entirely depends on resolation No. 7 .
On the proposal being put to include the compositions as an appandix wilh a note in the terms suggested, it was oarried by 44 rotes o 3, and Mr. Janes remarked: 'Thank yout, gentlewen; that is all

A YOUNG CONDUCTOR

In these days when young "ngers are bard to get and still mote diflicult to keep, if is always a pleasure to find a youthful recruit making headway, and this meek we record a peal of Grandsire Triples at Holton, Lancs, conducted by Peter Crook, jun., who is only fitteen years of age. Few ribgers have called a pea! of Triples at nu eatlier age than this.
Petcr, juntor, is the son of Mr. Peter Crook, of the Bolton Police, who is honorncy secretary of the Boltou Branch of the Lamerohine Assuciation and an active leader iu the Exarise in that district. Foung Peter, who inherits lis father's love of ringing, rang his first peal at Holy Trinity, Bolton, ou Mas 26 th, last year, when he wis but fourteen years of age, and it was conducted by a proud fatber He has now shown the stuff he is made of by himself calling iz peat, and the way in which ie accomplished the task marks him out as a most promising nember of the Exercise. Fingers generally will congratulate him upon his performance, and will wish him every suceess in the future.
The photograph is reproduced by the kindness of MLessers. Tilloison"s, Ltd., "Bolten
The inquiry zade in our 'Belfry Gossip. column recently as to who were the joungest ringers to ring a peal, has brought us the following letters:-

To the Editar.
Dear Sir, Adrertiag to your enquiry with vegard to yonh ful record makers, I beg to inform you (in all modesty) that at the age of 14 years, a month after my Ith birthday, I ralag an inside bell to a peal containing seven different Minor methods, and while still 14 years old I rang my first eight-bell peal.
Have these performances been accomplished at an even earlier age, I wonder? I should rery much like to know if I was the youngent ringer to ring a seven-method Minar peal "inside. "- Yours faithifly, EDWARD H. SPICE.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCTATION

A. welt-attencled bye-meeting of the Cancerbory District was lield at Petham on Saturday, June 8th, by kind pumission of the Vicar, the Rev. Cluirenont. The followiag towers were represented: Canterbury Cethedral, St. Aphege, Wickham, SEury, Wingham, Herne, and later the Vicar paid a visit to tho tower and weltomed the ringers. He expressed disappointment at not being ahbe to join them㫙 the tea, owing to auother engagement
The tea was servert at the Duke's Frad, where a considerable amount of surprise seemed to oxist that ' people should come such a lang way just to knacks bitp of iron alyout -a remark which causeri a grod deal of laughier.
After tea, ringing continued until half-past seven, touches in the following methods being brought round: Kent and Oxford Troble Bob, Plain Bob, Dauble Oxford, Stedman and Grandsire. Cambridge Surprise was attempted.

WEDDING BELLS.

The hells of King's Somborme were rung ola May Ilth, 10 celebrate the wedding of the dauglater of Mr. Roynolds, a sidesman and churd councillor. As the happy conple wore Icaving the chureh, a toweh of 720 Grandsire Doubles was rung. The ringers then attended the reception at the Fillage Hall, after which they rettrned to the tower where a quarter peal of Boly Minov was surcossfully brought youtri, conductad by Mr. W. riucker. The temainder of the evening was spent with touches of Sterman and Doubles. The local ringers were assisked by ringer's from North Stonelumand Romsey

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

 FORTHCOMING JUBILEE CFLFBRATION.The annial general meeting of the Winchester and Portsmouth Piocesar Guild was held at Portsmauth on Saturday, June Ist, at St. Mary's Parish Institute, this being the jubilce year of the former Withelasstar Diocesan Guild, which was founded at Basingstoke on Tune 26th, 1879. Tlie Vicar of Si. Mary's (Ven. G. G. L. Lunt, M.A., M.C.) presided, supported by the Master (Mr. G. Williams), genpral seretary (Mr. (T, Pullinger), treasurer (Rev. N. O. Woods) and the perls recorder (Mr. F. W. Rogers).
The balance sheet presented to the members showed an income for the yenr amounting to $\mathbf{\$ 8 6} \mathbf{1 8 5}$, and an expenditure of $£ 307 \mathrm{~F}$. 6d. thowing an incroase on the general fund of 856 10s. 6d. The accounts were adopted unanimotzely.
in presenting the annual report, Mr. Williams remarked that the past year lind heor the first under the newly-formed Winchester and Portsmonith Guild, nud had in many respects heen an ungualified suctess. The smaller districts liad been formed at the beginuing of the yorr and bad resulted in a great deal of activity in all parts of the diocese. In the Christchurch district only one tower was not affiliated, and only three had failed to join the Guild in the Portsmouth district. TIle completion of the memorial to the late Rev. C. E. Matthews had been the most important event of the year. A Eplendid response to this appeal had resulted in over $£ 100$ boing coljected, and the nemorial had taken the form of two treble bells at Milford-on-Sea. He was happy to report that the majority of the towers and bells in the dietrict were in good condition; but at Arreton, Avington, Hurstbourne Prior, Southampton (Holy Rood) and Warnford the bells needed relianging and great efforts to reise money for this purpose were being made. Three augmentations bad ben eniried out during the year-at Milford (five to eight), Highcluding, Mr. Willians observed that at the end of last year the total membership was 57 life members, 68 hon. merobers, and 590 ringing mumbers, with 88 towers in union.
The Master gave a lengthy and intercsting report of the proceedings of the Central Council meeting at Chelmsford, for which he was thanked.
The Fiev. F. Sear (hon. secretary of the Audaver District) presented to the members a draft copy of the Guild's proposed new form of service, and it was unauimously decided, subject to the Bislop's consent, to print copies of the same for subsequent use.
On the gnestion of the suggested new Guild certiticate, the Secre-ary said they had been fortunate to abtain the holp of Mr. W. H. tary said they had been fortumate to obtain the holp of Mr. W. H.
Fussel! (Slough) in this direction, and as lie was with them that day be would like to thank him (Mr. F'ussell) for his kind help.
Mr. W. H. Fussell said that it would be a great pleasure if to could lielp the members in thit way. He hati had the hoaour to do girnilar service for the Swansea and Brecon Guild, and he suggested, as he did in that caso, that the cortificite should not be too much on the large size, but ruther compuct and neat. The members thanked Mr. Fussell for his help, and it was left to lim to draw up one ar two sugested designs for approval at the gext amual meating.

A NEW TREASURER

The vice-presidents of the Guild were re-elected and Mr. G. WilJjams was re-elected Master. Mr. G. Pullinger was re-elected general secretary, and was beartily ilanked for the untiring efforts he had given to the Guild during its first torm of office, especially in the direction of spade work required in the new districts.
The Hon. Treasurer (Rev. N. C. Woods) asked to be relieved of his nost owing to medical reasons, and it was with regret that the menthers consented. They thanked him for his splendid service to the Guild in the past.
The General Secretary mentioned that when he first heard of the treasurer's desire to be relieved of office, be at once communicated witls the Rev. Evan Jones (Vicar of Hedge Eud), a former secretary of the Basingsioke District, who replied eaying how pleased he would be to accept the post, and remarked that he had been 'like a fish out of water since he tas compelled, owing to another appointthe Rev. Jyan Jones he rsked to become hon. treasurer.
The Recorder of Peals (Mr. F. W. Rogers) asked that this office should be performed by another member of the Guild. He was opposed to any one member holding more than one job, and thought that a straightforward work like this could easily be performed by another. He conld then devote his whole time as secretary of the Portsmouth District. Mr. H. R. Aitken (Portsmouth) kindly consented to hecome recorder of peals, and hoped that he would performe this duty as efficiently as his predecessor.

FUBILEE MEEIING.
At the lasi anmual meeting it had been decided to hold the jubilee celcbration of the formation of the Wincliester Diocesan Gruld in co-operation with the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Haslemere and Ietersfield on July 6th. Since then, however, it has bemome doubtul if a joint gathering nt two such widely separated towers could he male a success, and the goneral secretary (Mr. J. 8. Goldsmith) wrote suggesting that the whole idea of a joint meet ing at these tower'g should be scrapped, but mentioning that if it was deciled to praceed with the idea the Guildford Guild would operate to the best of their ability. He also suggested that greater success would attend a jubilee meeting at Winclester, and hoped a ater date than July 5th, when the Guildford Guild would hold their festival, would be chosen.
In view of this letter and also that the places mentioned were on an extreme side of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild's area, Mr. W. Andrews (Winchester') proposed that the idea of the jubilce meeting be adhered to, but that it be held at Winchestar on Sulurday, July Gill, with a special service to be conducterd by Minot Cenan N. C. Woods daring the afternoon in the Cathedral. This motion was seconded by Mr. R. J. Stone (Portsmouth) and earried.
It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Southamifton on Saturday, July $12 \mathrm{~h}, 1930$.
Afterwards the usual votes of thanks were aceorded the tiear St. Mary's and the Provost of the Cathedral for the wase of the 1 spective peals of hells, the business mesting telminated.
The members attended service at St. Mary's, at whioh the Vienr officiated. The Provost (Ven, B. Williamol read the lesson, and an cloquent and inspiring address was given by tho Vicar of Fanelan (Rev. A. Cory)
An excellent tea was served in the Parish Instituta, the clergy being present with the members. This concluded, sonne indmiged fn handbell ringing, whilst athers visited St. Mavy's belfry and also tho Cathedral

During the day members were present from Alverstoke, Jilack moor, Carisbrooke, Fareham, Highclere, Newport, Narth 太tameham, Portsmoutli (St. Thomas' and St. Mary's), Ryde, Swanmore, Souritampton, St. Mary Bourne, Wickhan and Windester, alsu tessrs. E. (Slough). The ringing practised durind the day ranged from riand sire Triples to Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise Mador

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH

A Grimsby District meeting, held at Louth an Whit Monday proved a great success, and brought together ringers from far and near. Amougst those present were Rev. J. Barker, Rector of Great Cottes, and members from Ulechy, Barrow-on-Humber, Bartou-omFumber, Grimsby St. Andrew's, Burion-on-Stather, Scunthorpe, Laceby, Goxhill, and the lacal ringers. There were also ringers fuct Lincoln, Boston, Derby, Eeicester, Nottinglaam, Hull and Rotherham The fine peal of eight, which havo recently been rehung, were kept going until the service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev H. ## LARGE GATHERING AT PINNER.

The Nortlo ard East District meeting of the Middlesex County Asseciation and London Diocesan Guild helk at Pioner on Salurday, Inme 1st, attracted a large number, upwards of 50 attending. Rings ing started punctually at 3 p.m., and the fine poal of eight bells were utijised to the fullest extent until service time. The Vicar (Rev. O. E. A. Rowland) gave a most interesting discourse on the history of bells generally, and of the Pinner peal in particular. The present peal wore recast in 1926 at the Whitechapel Foundry, and are famed all round the neighbouting district for their sweet tones. The Vicar also expressed luis appreciation of the visit of the association, which yre wislied every success.
Serfice over, the members adjourned for tea. Some difficulty was at fust experienced in finding seating accommodation, owing to the mexpectedly large mustar, but etentually all were served. At the business meeting ten new members were admitted, including the confirmation of the election of thee policemen who rallg in the palice peal at St. Geotge's, Southwark, on the previous Saturday. In proposing that their election be confrmed, the Fon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) congratulated the band on ringing the fixst Surprise peal by a band of bobbies,' which would find an honoured placed in the reoords of the society.
The Han. Secretary reported on the meeting of the Centrai Council, referring at length to the Doubles and Minor controversy. He also mentioned the splendid report by the Legal Committee, of which their president (Mr. E. A. Milne) was a menter.
Mr. Milne added that the report in question fully covered the ground, and would be published shortly. The next meeting was arranged for Farrow Wenld and Stammore on June 29th.
A hearty rote of thanks to the Rev. C. E. A. Rowland, and to Mr. R. H. Collyer, was manimously passed, and the meeting terminated. Mr. W. Pye looker after the ringing, and all the standard metbods were rung, ineluding an excellent touch of Spliced Surprise in four.
Amongst the many visitors was 'he of England,' who, when he is at home, resides at Bimmingham. He might now have been the ole inhahitant of Finmer (his birthplace) hat he not taken a fancy to roaming. On this occasian he roamed round Pinner looking for old friends, but, like the rimgers in his equly peals, they're all dead. ${ }^{\text {' }}$

BRISTOL UNITED KINGING GUILDS.
DISPLAF OF ACCURATE STRTKING $\triangle B I L I T Y$.
On Friday, June 7th, a display of acourate striking was held at St. Michael's Chureb, Bristol, under the adjudication of Mr. J. Tु. Dyke (af Chilcompton, Bathi. One of the earliest features was the excel lence of striking by the St. Michael's Guild, and a further conspicuous feature was the ability of the newly-formed Guild of St. Werburgh. The St. Michael's No. 2 band very pluckily took part in spite of the handicap of having four of the most recent learders.
The resule will not be discouraging to either of the Guilds quoted, bue rather tend to bring about a desire to make furtier displays anore difficult for those who have had such a long experience. The fesults were as follows:-

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Pring also spoke of the good that must invitably result by the effort of the gristol United Ringing Guilds to ensure better striking. Mr. Dyke was thanked for his servicer.

UNDER WHICH KING?'

The article which appeared in this column last week has brought forth, as we expected it would, a reply from the principle spokesman of the Methods Committee. It is a justification of the Committee's change of front in their reasons for wishing to inciude, in the new edition of the Collection of Methods, the much debated compositions. At this stage it is hardly worth while disputing at length over what happened at Chelmsford. Mr. Trollope may not think the Committee "wobbled," but Mr. Trollope has publicly admitted that he does not profess to go in for verbal consistency. That is exactly our cornplaint. You can never pin them down and we leave Mr. Trollope to get whatever comfort he can from his letter. The greatest sin which anyone in the Exercise can commit is to disagree with the Methods Committee. That has frequently been apparent. Unless one worships at their particular shrine, the wrath of the gods is called down upon him.

The Ringing World, in this discussion has stood for a principle-upholding the decisions of the Central Council. The Council at Hereford passed a resolution which required that in peals of Doubles and Minor the component 120's and 720 's respectively should be true and complete. It was a motion passed, after three months' notice, if not with the expressed acquiescence of all the members of the Methods Committee, at least without disapproval from any of them, and one of them seconded it. When "The Ringing World " endeavoured to support this decision of the Council, the Committee, MrTrollope has said, had 'to take up the challenge' because ' on that particular thing his (the Editor's) views were not our views, The real issue here raised is, 'Under which king?' If the Exercise is to have a lead, is it to take it from the Council, or from the Methods Committee? The contention of "The Ringing World 'in regard to the inclusion of some of these compositions in one of the Council's publications is that it would give authority to their use, when the Council had already laid down requirements for a peal which deliberately excluded them. Moreover, that to include such compositions would open the door to the admission of even less desirable compositions, which would lend themselves to all kinds of peal 'faking' by unscrupulous conductors-the traditions and grood sense of the Exercise notwithstanding.

It is as well, perhaps, that, amid all the steam that has been let off, this position of 'The Ringing World ' should again be made clear. It was becatse the Methods Com(Continued on page 386.

Late of BERMONDSEY and PECKHAM.

Maker to St. Paul'n Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Imperial Innti-胡, Canterburg, Edinbargh, St. Alhans, Linooln, Durham, PeterGerourh, Melboura (Australis), Rocheater, Dublin, Bt. Petrink's, Mameheater, Durban, and Woreater Cathedraln, ete., to.

Muffers, Ringing Mats, Matting Flag Lines, etc., etc.
mittee were proposing to offer something to ringers which their own Council declined to recognise that we criticised them, and it will not, we think, be disputed that but for this criticism the Committee would have included in the promised new edition of Minor Methods without comment the compositions which they are now prepared to label as of questionable suitabrlity for use in peals.

The question now, however, is not much what has passed, as what is to be done in the future. The position of what shall be recognised as a peal of Doubles or Minor is at the monent in a most unsatisfactory position. The resolutions in the Council's minute book still stand, but things cannot remain as they are. A motion by which it was sought to defne again what a peal on five or six bells should consist of was postponed, but sooner or later the question has got to be settled. Obviously there are two schools of thought, and it might be well, if they cannot come to any unanimous agreement, that they should endeavour to arrive at a temporary compromise and draft resolutions which might be put before the next Council meeting so that ringers may know exactly what is expected for a peal. Such resolutions, if passed, should be loyally observed by those who look upon the Council as the central authority of the Exercise, and if new ideas develop which render suciz definitions out of date, they should be properly amented before any Committee of the Council attempts either directly or indirectly to override them.

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

HOYLANDSWATNE CTJP CONTEST.

This amual ovent took place at Hoylandswaine on Saiurday last Tive bands entered, and were drawn to ring as under: 1 , Wath; 2, Cuwthorne; 3, Sandal ; 4, Felkirk; 5, Shelley. Mr. J. R. Brearley was the judge. The first band commenced at $3.20 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , the last band finished at 6.30 p.m.
Tea was served in the Parochial Room. About 60 ringers and friends, among whom the fair sex were prominent, sat down to a faast of good things.

The business meeting followed, the Ficar (Rev. J. Hewitson) kindly acting as chairman.
The following were elected members: Mr. Noel Moxon (Cawthorae), Mr. R. Harrison (Ecclesfield), Mr. Femingway Dransfield (Demsbury, non-resident), Mr. George Simun, Elland (non-resident).
The Barnsley and District Shield Gontest, proposed to be held at Monk Breton, was discussed. Several members referved to the hard going of the bells at that church, and the proposal was thereforo cancelled, and Crofton, near Wakefield, subsitituted.
For the July meoting Wentworth was selected.
The judge's award for the cup contest was declared as uncler Shelley, 76 faults, first prize, silver oup and six clocks; Wath, 210 faults, scoond prize, six sets of half a dozen dinner knives; Felkirk 3 ; Cawthorne and Sandal ' rung outi.'
Of this, the sixih nmulal contest, it may truly be said its effect for good was very marked. An cxcellent social feeling provailed through out. 'Tle victars walked away with the trophies, but sound friend shíp was trimmphant.

CLEVELAND & NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Cleveland and North Forkshire Associa tion was held at Ripon on Whit Monday. Ringers gathered in tho old torn from Thirsk, Darlington (St. John's and Holy Trinitr) Midalesbrough, Sharow, Ormesby, Tadcaster, Hulwouth, and, joined by the local band, kept the beatiful peal of ten going until a, late hour at night. Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Treble Bob Ropal, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Major, and Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung, and the featare of the ringing was the beautiful striking. Visitors to the gathering, the shape of Mr. H. Withers, of Binminglam, and two Prestom ringers, were welcomed.
At the ennual meeting, which was attended by about 25 ringers, the secretary (Mr. T. Metcalfe) presented his ammal report which alluded to the diamond wedding of one of the members, which lasd been celebrated during the year. That was Mr. James Barnett, who, at the age of 80 yeare, is still a ringing momber of the association, and has been a ringer at Northallerton Church for 50 fears. He is one of the original members of the association. The association han suffered loss by death in the passing of Mr. G. Neesom, of Thirsk, at the age of 84 years.
The referees under the Sunday service ringing scheme annotnced that Middlesbrough liad won the first certificate and Whitby the second certificate for the last year's competition, and it was decided that the Skelton tower should become the owners of the first certificate and Middlesbrough tower the awners of the second certifieate at the expiration of the twelve months.
The officers were re-elected, and the president (Mr. J. G. Pollard) was appointed as one of the association's depresentatives to the Contral Conncil in the place of the Ref. A. Simpsan, the otrer representative being the lion. secretary.
A vote of thanks to the Cathedral authorities for the use of the bells was passed, and the members expressed their appreciation of the kindness of the Dear in so readily consenting to their request to be allowed the privilege of the use of the bells.
The meetings of the association for the next year were fixed for Ormesby in autumn, Thirsk pre-Lent, Robin Hood's Ray ois Easter Monday, and Northallerten on Whit Monday, and in addition special mocting was arranged to take place et Sharow on June 81 The weather was glorious, the ringing was good, the meeting a quick and businesslike one, and the meals were excellent. ringer can expect more than that.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

A very enjoyabie meeting was held at Rammore Common on Saturday, members attending from Bedington, Canterbury, Groydon Mitcham (SS. Peter and Dorking, Ewel, Guildford, Leatherhead, Mand Christ Church), Reigale, Mitcham (SS. Peter and Paul's and Christ Ohurch), Reigales
Streatham (St. Leonard's nnd fmmanucl), and Wandsworth. Ringing commenced about four o'elock, and continued until 5.30 , when a party of 24 sat down to a substantial tea, which was thoragh enjoyed.
The business meeting followed, and was of the usual routine nature-A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Dotuinson for having everyming in readiness. The members then returned to the tower, and further ringing wis enjoyed throughout the evening, the methods pratised ranging from call changes to London Surpriso.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCEATION

l'he quasterly meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Marsdon on Saturday, Juae 15th, ringers heing present from Queensbury, Denholme, Lindley, Guiseley, Bradford, Leeds, Heudingley, Earlsheaton, Shipley, Birstall, Lighteliffe, Drighlington, Longwood, Amondlury and the lacal company. In ibe afternoon touches of Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Double Norwich were lung. Toa was servod in the Perochial Hall, and the business nepeting was held immediately afterwards, Mr. J. Cotterell (viceopresident) being in the cheir.
Nl'. H. Hoylo gave a hearty welcomo to the Yorkshire Association, and appealed to the members to give all the help they could to the young ringers of the Marsden band, assuring them it would be greatiy appreciated.
Three new members were elected: A. Rothery (Longwood), A. Hancock (Northowramh, and F. W. Rislaworth (Perry Bar, Birmingham),

As there ware no invitations for the next meeting, which will be arranged, if possible, on Saturday, Augusi 24th, it was decided to leave it in the hauds of the secretary.
Votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the ladies who helped at the tea tables, and to the lacal company for the arrangements made, were carried unanimously.
Mr. M. Harrisen raised the question of the order of ringing at these meetings, which, he said, was unsatisfactory. This caused a considerable amnount of discussion.
Afterwards the tower was again visited, and further ringing indulgerl in

HERTEORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A valy successful and mell-attended meeting of the Northern District was held at Offley on June 8th. Ringers were present from Buldock, Bedford, Kimpton, Hitchin, Kisg's Walden, Letehworth, Luton, and the local band. Touches in most of the standard methods were brought round, and a sliort service was conducted by the Vicar. During the service a peal board was dedicated in the belfry.

After tea several of the company indulged in handbell ringing, Grandsire Caters and Triples being rung. Further ringing on the tower bells brouglit a pleasant meeting to a close.

CRAWEEY.-On Sunday, Jume 9th, for matins, 1,344 Double Norwich Major in 48 mins. by the local company: Miss F. Wyman 1, R. Gwift 2, G. Olifer 3, K. Snelling 4, G. Nice 5, N. Elliott G, R. V. Jolunson 7, 0 . Sippetts (conductor) 8.

THE PEAL AT HASLEMERE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,As one who took part in the peal of Stedman Caters al Haslemere, on May 18th, I hasten to relieve the anxiety of "Pintinnabulator' and his friends by saying that the details as recorded are perfectly true. Aithough the ringing was a bit on the slow side, it was perfectly good, and as regards his remarks about 'the ability of the tenor man and the weight and "go" of the tenor,' I think that can be left to any ringer to know that in all odd-bell methods the tenor man can only "cover" as fast as the remainder will allow bim, otherwise it will end in chaos. Judging by his suggestion that the last quarter-peel was rung twice, I take it that ho aud his band would expect to ring a peal there in less than three hours, but either they bave not rung at Haslemere, or are comparing bells of similav weight tuned on a different principle. For my pari, I like to enjuy the ringing, and would not give a "button" to race bells for the sake of doing so, even if they go well.
I am afraid that as "Tintingabulator ' las not the courage to sign his name and mention the ringers on whose behalf he wrote the letter, we shail got be able, if they ring a peal of Caters in cxceptionally quick time, to agk them if they left out the last quartor-peal-Yourts, etc.
F. W. ROGERS.

Portsmouth.
["Tinfinabbulator,' who obviousiy delights in a little "Ieg pulling," cr, should it be, "pulling Puiling's leg, will perhaps be interested to know that after the peal, so a correspondent informs us, the said tenor man remarked that lap would like to go to the tower again with a band with plenty of leisure, so that they might take their time oper a peal and ring it ai 'a nice steady pace.'-ED., "R.W.']

WHY SPOIL THE PEAL?

Sir, -As an absolute ' tyro,' ulthough having rung about fifty peals with the conductor of the peal at Haslemere, $F$ feel that Tintinaabulator' has not had the pleasure of ringing a PEAL (capitals, Editar, please) with the conductor in question. (Bnyone can ring a fast peal, but it takes a good band to strike a slow one.)

This same conductor has often said, "Why spoil the peal for the sake of a few minutes' extra ringing?' and I would suggest that any critics where ' length of time' is concerned should pay a visit to Foly Trinity, Guildford, when a band of this gentleman's training are ringing a peal of Bristol or Superlativa, and afterwards express their opinion. Forgivo me trespassing. I ans not afraid to sign my name.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Master Edwin A. Barnett, the youngest member of the Roynl Cum berland Youths, son of NY. Ldwin Barnett, and grandson of Mr Edwin Barnett, seu., of Grayford, has won a scholarshup teuable for eight years at Jartford Grammar Fchool. About 250 boys competed for 20 free places, and Master Barmett's suedess is all the more noteworthy from the fact that he is only $10 \frac{1}{2}$ years of age.
The bells of 急t, Plilip's Cathedral, Bimmogham, will be broad cast on Surday from 7.50 to 8 p.m.
Mr. Bernard H. Clark, who until recently was hon, secretary of the Faroham Distuct of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, mel with a serious acoident on Sunday week while motor-cycling. He was struck broadside-on by a cer, and in addition to recemme a number of minor jnjuries sustained a fracture of the right thigh. He is now in hospilal at Chalfont St. Peter, and his many ninging friends will wish him a speedy recovery.
A correspondeat writes: "In "Belfry Gossip" last week th was stated that the first peal of Stedman Triples "in hand" was rung by the College Youths, no date heing given, howerer. Is this correct? Was not the first peal of Stedman Triples in hand rung by the Royal Cumberland Youtlis on December 19th, 1853, by John Cox (conductorl, 'Thomas Powel!, Henry Haley and Thomas Britten?
We find that the Gumberland's peal hook describes this as "the first peal of Stedman's Principle ever rang on handbells.' This clam was evidently justified from the fact that the 1851 preal of Stedmanl Caters proved to be a false composition, and that a peal rung in 1855 by the College Youths is ranked gs the firgt peal of Stedman Caters on bandbells.
The first peal by the Midland Counties Association was rung on June 23rd, 1882. This was a peal of Grandsire Triples at Derby.
The only peal rung on 14 bells, Stedman Sextuples, was achieved on handbells at Birmingham on June 24th, 1922, and no one seems very gnxions to repeat the performance.
Mr. William Pye must have set up a new record by having rung one thousand peals for the Middesex Association. This extroordinary achievement was completed last Saturday.

THE TWELVE BELL RECORD.

Arrangements are being made to attenpt a twelve-bell record at Ashton-mader-Lyne, Lancs, on August Bank Holiday. A band of welt. known ringers, with Mr. William Pye as conductor, will then en doavour to ring a 15,312 Gambridge Surpuise Maximas.
Many great performances have been achieved at St. Micharels Chureli, Ashton-under-Lyne, and it was there, in April, 1911, that the present Maximus record, 12,240 Kent Treble Bob, was rung in his. 39 mins. Three years later the existing record of Royal, a round 14,000 , was accamplished on the same bells in 9 hrs. 24 mims. The tenor at Ashton-under-Lyne is, 27 owt.
The freatest number of changes yet rung on 12 bells is the 13,001 Grandsire Cinques at Painswick, Gloueesierghire, on Fehruary 14th, 1920, which oecupied 8 hrs. 45 mins., hut the higgest twelve-bell performance undertaken up to the present is the 12,575 Stedman Cingues Fung in 9 hrs. 47 mins. at Southwark in 1923.

READING RESTORATIONS.

ST MARY'S BELLS RETUNED AND REEUNG
In connection with the peal of Grandsire Triples ruag on itre bells of St. Mary's Clurch, Reading, on May 2end last, it may be interesting to many to know that this heavy old peal in made up of four bells by R. Catlen, 1740; two by Knight, of Read. ing 1640 , and two by Mears (recast 1863 ). The hells were terribly oul of dune, and going very roughly at the end of 1928. Experts advice was therefore taken, ant ine whole frame and fittings condemmen. As $£ 800$ had been raised to repair the fine old tower, which even then was in the hands of the builders, things looked very black, but a true son of the Chareh, keenly interested in ringing came forward and said, "Get the bells done; I will do the needful. The job was put in the lands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who deared the tower and put in heivy girders and cast-iron frame, took the bells to Whitedhapel, tuned them, and sent back a rery fine peal of eight. The ' $\mathrm{go}^{\prime}$ ' is now all that ean be desired, and St. Mary's, Rearling. to-day ean boast of one of the finest peals of eight in the diocese of Onford. A young band is being instructed in the art, and it is hoped at no distant date that change ringing will be well established again as in old times. The band who rang the peal were entertained to supper afterwards by the ringer of the second, and $\pi$ very pleasant hour was spent.
The bells of St. Lawrence's, Reading, are, we uncerstand, alsa to be relung by Messrs. Meare and Stainbank.

PEALS OF TEN IN HERTFORDSHIRE

By the addition of two bells at Fatfield. Hertfordshire will have four peals of ten, as at present there are three, namely, St. Peter's St. Albans, Ald Saints', Hertford, and St. Michael's, Bishop's Stortford, which were increased to ten and openced on July 19th, 1820 , and retmed and rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and roopened on August 6th, 1928.
Last week we mentioned only three-those which are given in the Jist of towers in the Herds County Report.

NEW MEMBERS OF PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.
The formal adoption of the report of the Peals Analysis Committee, which appeared in 'The Ringing World' of May 10th, was moved by Mrs. Fletcher and seconded by Mr. George Wiliams.

The Hon. Secradary said he regretted that Mr. J. W. Parker hadi writtel saying he felt compelled to withdraw from the committee, with which he had been associated so many yoars, and also to withdraw from the Council, of which he was an bon. momber. He (the secretary) had written to Mr. Parker urging bim to defer any action until the London meeting next jear, and Mr. Parker had agreed to leave his resignation from the Council in their hands. He, however, desired to come olf the Analysis Committee. The question erose whether they ought not to have someone in his place on the committec instead of waiting until next year.
Mrs. Fletcher said Mr. Parker and she did the work between them last Fear. Mr. Beeston checked part of it, but was not able to finish it. This year Mr. Parker had done the analyses with her, but he had now seni her the papers, and slie bad no one to check the figures at the end of the year.
Mr. Goldsmith proposed that Mr. James George and Mr. Gcorge R. Pye-two gentlemen with a certain amount of leisure should be added to the committee to assist Mrs. Fleteher.

Both these gentlemen significd their willingness to help and wore therefore elected.

The report was adopted, and the President expressed the Council's debt of gratitucle to Mrs. Fletcher and Mr. Parker for the cnormous amount of work they did in connection with this report, which was of very great interest to ringers throughout the country.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn moved the sdoption of the Towers and Belfries Committee's report, dealing with belfry neoustics, which appeared in 'The Ringing World' on May 3rd. He added that he had had a good deat to do in the territory of his own Guild during the year. There was certainly now no excuse, when anyone was setting out to renovate a tower, and so forth, why everything should not be, from the acoustio point of view and the ventilation point of view, perfeet. There were many towers where bell restoration work was not necessary, but where a great deal could be done to improve acousties or ventilation. He did not thiuk any band of ringers ought to remain concent when they could either not hear therr bells in the belfiry, or heai them too much, or when people outside connplained. Fe was sure from his experience that these things could e put right.
Rev. H. Law James suggested that the committee should visit Lincoln Cathedral and hear the bells inside and outside the tower, and examine the tower, because there they had suceecded in getting carried out the whole of the principles that were contained in Sir Arlhur Heywood's book on the hanging of bells and on scoustics, and the resuli was absolutely satisfactory. People living under the tower wauld not object to the bells being rung for twelve hours at a stretch, while in a distant village, he had been told, it was said it was no good ringing the church belis when the Cathedral bells were being Major Hesse, wha seconded the report, said he had also had a busy pear. Wiith regard to Lincoln, be had a drawing of the tower sent him by the late Mr. Pryce Taylor, showing various elevations at which the bells might be put. He would like to know how far below

he louvres they were.

Rev. H. Law James: About 40 feet.
Mr. E. M. Atkins asked whether the committee had made any inMairs ahout the welding of bells?
Major Hesse said he was afraid nothing had been done. He believed the welded bell at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, was still standing up.
Mr. C. J. Sedgeley (Ipswich) said the 7th at St. Maryle-Tower as welded. It was much cheaper than recasting. It had been rung o two or three peals of Maximus, and seemed to be unaffected.
Asked whether he thought the bell was as good as it was before was cracked, Mr. Sedgeley said he thought it was.
Major Hesse said he saw one job. It looked all right, and be heard the bell after it was done. But be did not hear it before, so could not compare the tonc.
The Hon. Secretary said after the Hereford meeting he wrote to Mr. Symonds, at Ipswich, on the matter, and he reported very favourably on the bell thint they had welded there. It was useful to now it was still standing up all right.
Major Hesse: I think a welded bell is a blemish in a tower; it is the same as a recast bell.
Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn asked if the committee should undertake the revision of the book on the preservation of bells? He supposed t. fell to their lot.

The President: Yes

Rev. H. Drake: Will this report be included, or something to the me effect?
Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn: That was our idea.
The report was adopted, and the committee requested to revise the book on the Preservation of Bells.

THE YEAR'S RECORDS.

The Report of the Recours Committee was presented by Mr. T. H. Beams as follows: Firsf peals in new methods, and progressive lengths in others, rung since the last report and up to the end of March this ycar, were:-
Peals in new methods include 5,040 Gainsborough Little Bob Major by the Korkslime Association: 5,184 Kent Surprise Major by the Essex Association; 5,280 New Cambridge Surprise Manimus by the Suffolk Guild, 5, 940 York Surprise Royal by the Midland Counties Association; 5,040 Melton Surprise Royal by the Midland Counties Association. In Spliced Methods lave been rung a 5,000 in six Plain and Treble Bob Methods, Little Canterbury, Ganterbury Pleasure, Plain and Litile Bob, Kent and Oxford Troble Bob; a 5,040 ${ }^{\text {a }}$ Mixed ${ }^{3}$ Bob Major (?) by the Durlam and Newcastle Association; a 8,184 in Spliced Surprise Major methods, Londou, Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative and Lincolushire Surprise, by the Middlesex County Association; a 5,184 in six Surprise Methods, Loodon, Rutland, Bristol, Superlative, Cambridge, and ludsey, by the Middlesex Gounty Association; 5,040 Spliced Surprise Minor, in 22 methods, by the Essex Association. A progressive lengela, 5,056 clanges, of "Hereward ' Boh Major, has been rumg by the Kent County Association. The report was adopted.

THE LAW AFFECTING CHURCH BELLS.

The Legal Comuitee (Messers. J. S. Pritelelt, F. A. Milne and E. W. Elwell) presented the following report, which was read by Mr. Milne:-
The sole
The sole right of acecss to the belfry is vested in the incumbert (Blund, ed. 1921, 273), but the incumbent's rights are not given bim for his sole use, and le must permit access to the belfry to allow of such use of the bells as is consistent with the purpose for which they are placed there (Blunt Book of Church Laws, ed. 1921, 328 ), e.g., summoning parishioners to worship on tolling at a funeral which is an esseutial part of the riles of the Cburch.
The bells should only be fung with the incumbent's collsentan and they must not be rung agatinst his express wish. The property in the bells as in oflaer church arnaments is in the churchwardens (Whitehead Church Law, sub-tit. "Bells,' 4921 ed., p. 42); hence it was formerly beld that $\pi$ churchwarden could not be couvicted of stealing a bell. The churchwardens have the custody of the keys of the helfy, and are to lake care that the bells are not ruag wilhout proper canse: but the minister camoinlly with them is to be the jutge of the proper cause. They would seem, therefote, to have a but in what mantuer or to what extend it is diflionlt to defme. For the custady of the keys implies that the belfry is to be opene. or not at their diseretion, and the property of the hell ropes is in them (Jack improperty rung the churchwardens, according to Canon 88 would be the responsilite partics. But the churchwardens are not anthonised without the consent of the incumbent to give orders for the bells to be rung, and it would be an exclesiastivel offence if they were to break open the helfry door in order to have the bells ring. for the freehold of the church is in the incumbent, and the lawful custody of the key of the chucch belongs to him, so that unless he consents the parishioners cannot except on the occasion of divine consents the parishioners cannot except on the occasion of divine service procare the ringing of the bells. Should they break in and ring the bells they woutd be guituy of an ecclesiastieal offence, and procecdings should be taken against them by the incumbent they rould be mulcted in easts (see Redhead $v$. West ( 1862 ), G, L. Thmes 580, and Cripp's Law of Church and Clergy, ed, 1921 , p. I90, 19211. The Parochial Church Council's Measure f192li, while leaving the property bells, bell fitings and bell ropes) in the chumehwardens, transfers to the Parochial Chureh Council all the powers, duties and liabilities of the clurchwardens relating to the care, maintenance, preservation and insurance of such goods nnd ornaments. The Parochial Church Council is the hody to be first approached, if auything goes wrong witl the hells, and it is its duty, so far as num he possible, to put things right. So far, however, as the ringing of the hells is concerred, it wonld seem that the Parochial Church Conncil Measure has made no alteration in the law, and that save fin so fiur as vinging for the elurch servies is coneened, it remains with the as ringing for the elurch serviees is coneemed, th remains with the bells slanl] be rung, the churchwardens still having the same intiefinite right of interference.
As it rests with the incumbent to appoint all churels officers of lier than those as to whom special provisions are made by Ecclesiastical Law and the Parochial Chureh Council Measure of 1921, e.g., churelwardens, zidesmen, parish clark and sexton, it would seem that every regular ringer should be appointed or approved by him. in every well-regulated belfry the ringers are formed inta Guilds or societies subject to regulations appraved by the jucumbent, and there is practically no dificuley in the malter. But on every change of jocunbent it would be anvisalyle that the rules for the time being in force should be submitted to and formally approved by him. The Parochinl Churcla Council have no voice in the matter, any more than they have in the appointment of orednist, but if any remuneration is th be made by the Council to the riogere for their gervices it is shriously the ruty of the inemmbent to keep the Council intormen on all mathers relaling for the ringing of the bells.
'flhis ruises the quastion as to who is responsible, if anyone, for
He safety of the ringers and for compensation in case of injury. So fas ath nil ringers are eoncerned, it is the aluty of the church autharitips to gee that the faclls, fall chamber and fittings are reasonably matce and that there is mothing in the nature of a trap wheroby fan jumatious persan migh meen with injury. It is possible that if the inclimitery was aware that the bellg cotild not with safety be rung, furt with that krowledge permilted ringing to take place, lie night wonlrl dpply to any person who left a bell "up, and without warning invited a stranger into the belfry or (as in a case within the wriler's recollection) omitted to close a trap door in the belfry and abyame fell farough. Such things are, of course, very unlitely to loppora, lun it may sonetimos oceur that a ringer is aecidenially injurad withont home attaching to anyone. In such a case, if he was $n$ paid ringer, the question of compensation under the Workmen's Compeneation Act would arise. There would then be contract of sorvice with an employer who would be the person liable to pay. Who whe the employer would be a guestion of fact which would largaly alepend upon who paid the money. It might be the incumhend, the ehurchwardens, or the Chumeli Council who enlisted the winla probaliy be held liable. The Church Conncil, however, being a corporate body, its members would not be personally liable, and filse Coumil itgelf only to the extent of moneys in hand.
Whib regard to bells gemerally, a faculty is reguired for their remowel, altoration (such as recasting ) or erection. Thae granting of a faculty for a new peal of bells is by no menins a matter of course. Thar Clancellor will lregidate where there is a risk of annoyance being causerl by their heing rung with nnmecessary ftequency or for an matumestary length of time, and bing should he carafully borne in a drowded nopula peal is in contemplation especially where there is "Ihe ringing of church bells is almost of mecessity an monoyance to some prople, howevel pleasing it may be to olhers. It cannot, therufore over be held a public nuisance rondering the ringera criminaly liable on indictment, but if may be a private nuisance liable to be restrained by injuthetion at the instance of any person apecinily aggrieved (Soltau 8 . de Helf, 2 Sim., 133). There is, however, 10 reported case in which an injunction bas been granted to resturain the ringing of the bells of a parish olnareh, emi so long. as tuells are rung in modration-oven for pral ringing-it is unikely thal the Coulls will interfere will such an old-established custom, hawoyor much it may annoy individuals who reasonably or unreasomably hold olurel bells in ahhorrence.

The President said they were all very grateful indeed to the three mumbers af the Legal Committee for their report, which he took it the Cowncil would accept.
$A$ Member: Will it be printed?
The Presicent said no doubt it would be printed, bat he rould not sify for certain that it would be done at present. It was most inspurtan, lie added, in riew of what miglat happen, that the Legal Committee should be kept in existence to wadd events, and to ect in ense of emergency on the Council's behalf. They would be grateful if the commititee would do this.

Row. H. Drake asked whether the committee lead considered how fric Ite law regarding moving maclimety applied to bells?

Mr. Elwoll said he thought it was quite clear that the Factory Anels did hot apply to cluarch bolls.
The reprit was adophed.
'IHL: COINCIT AND THE METHODS COMMITFFE'S REPORT. 2'o the Editor.
Dut $if, -One of the most astonishing decisions ever made by the Gonmail was that when it decided, by 30 votes to 29 , that the Bankes Thnies Gambridge Minor, Lbe Jaw James London Minor, and the Jibuan and Morris Grandsire Dambles arramgemonts are all thopelasgly: falsu. Whlien wa ring u 5,040 of Minor under the conditions laid down in the Cotrncil's 'Rules and Denisions," we ring 720 changes each geven times, excluding rounde the the heginning, but including rounds it Hine en lil of the last 720. When we ring the Bankes James Gamhridge Minos, or the Law James Jondon Minor, we ring 720 changeg math serun fines, exdading rounds al the logiming, but including rumbis at the ent. We call theth of these performanes A PEAL, und ny dintionry informs me that $A$ equals ONE. Therefore, our ONF PFAL montaing exactly the same 720 changes, exch rumg oxactly the same atmber of times, whether it is nalled under the old rebnditions or under the splieed ramogements. To say that the Iathar ato false is to condenon all the peals of Minor that have ever been rung. (A similat argument can he puts ap in connection with Douthes.)

The question for the Council to docide is whether it is going to admit ns u peal of Miuor muy composition that does not consist of at loust seven separate 720 's, each true and complete in itself, and each Muling with ronnds, and if members had confinen themselves to these points at the Chelmaford meeting much valuable titac would Lave been saved.

Some members evidently reatised this soon aftor the "hopelessly falso" amendment had been carried, for, as lite substantive motion, it was rejected, and a compronise arranged whereby the compositions in guestion are to be publishad as an appeadix, with e note Lhat their publication does not commit anyone to the opinion that they are suibable to be rung as peals.

According to 'The Ringing World' records, the Bankes Jumes Cambridge Minor composition has been rung some 56 timos by 21 associntions. The representatives of some of these associations voted for the "hopelessly false" amendment. I presume they mre by this time congraiulating thensolves that the Council, by rejecting the nmendracnt as the substantive resolution, has saved them from having to recommend their respective associations to delete the 'false" peas from their records. Or will they slaud on tucir own expressed opinions in the mutter?

It is unfortunate that the presidont found himself unable to adopt the suggestion that Mr. Whittington's resolution as to the rlefinition of a peal of Minar (aud Doubles) should be discussed before the Methods Committees repart. A decision on that resolution ruight then have heen come to. As it was, members had exhansted their vocabulary, grown tired of the subject, and so they eagerly voled to postpone, until the next or some subsequent meeting, coming to a decision. an the very vital point as to what slabll cangtilute a peal. Had this point been decided, the scceptance of the $l$ report of the Wethods Committes wuld have heen a mattor of course, or arrangement, according to the decision on the resolution. - Yours faitheully, 21, Vincent Road, E. 4. THE DEBATE ON ?HE METHODS COMMITTEE'S REPORT. To the Editur.
Dear Sir,-It slrould be omphasised that Mr. Wm. Willson's reference back of the report was on the very definite grounds 'that they are hopelessly false, but unfortuaately this is omitter from your report of the debate. A great deal of the debate following the reference back ranged round these words; indeed, an atternpt was made to lave then deleted, but it was ruled out of order by the president. It is not an exaggeration to say that several menbers wha would otherwise lave voted for the deletion of the conposifions, could not bring thenselves to say that they are false; three or four members actually told mo after the meeting that they were unable to vote for the reference back for that very reason.

In yeur report of the debate these words come in for the first tima when the anmendment was put as the substantive motion. In "The Ringing World for May 24th you give a summary of the proceedings, and there Mr. Willson's amendment is given in its correct form. I am sure you lave no intention of misteading, but the omission of this semience in your report alters the sense of much of the subseqeunt debate--Yours fuithfully,
C. T. COLES.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.
Whe guarterly mesting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, June 1st, at the Old Church, Smethwick. The Guild's beathiful form of service was said in churcla at 4.30 , and was conn ducted by the Viear (the Rev. F. S. Girdlestone, M.A., D.S.O.), who also gave a very interesting and holpful address. The Rev. H. T. Robins (assistant priest) read the lesson.

At the chose of the service inn adjournment was made to the school. room, where a bounteous toa was in readiness, and, necdless to say, full justice was doue to the good things provided. Jhe business meeting followed, at which the chair was taken by the Vicar, whe gave a right cordia of the churchwardens and other church officials, as well ns of himself. Several new members were added to the roll.-On the proposition of Mr. S. J. Hughes, the secretary was instrucled to send a letter of sympally and condolence to Miss Pigott, of Smelnwick; on the death of her nother. The proposition was carricd in silence.
It was resolyed to hold the next quarterly meeting at Womborme, subject to the usual permission being obtained. It was also decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Smethwick, the date and amangermons being left in the hands of the Ringing Master (Mr. John Goodman, jun.).

At the close of the meeting, on the proposition of Mr. J. Price, seconded by Mr. B. Gough, a hearty vote of thanks was given to the Vicar of Smethwick for his warm welcone, for his kindness it granting permission to hold this meeting af his churel, also for conducting the surviee, and his eloquent address, and for the use of the tower, hells, and schoolroom in which to hold the tea and mecting, also to the Rev. F. T. Robins for the part he took in the service, and to the organist. Special thanks were also given to the donors of the tea, and to those ladies who prepared and served it, and to all who lad in any way assisted in making the meeting a happy and successful one.
The bells were kept marrily going during the afternoon and evening.

THEREV. MAITLAND KELLX, M.A.
DEATH OF DEVON'S PIONEER IN CHANGE RINGING an arpireciation : by canon g. f. goleridge.
At a good old age, respecter and revered by all with whom he came in contact, the Rev. Maitland Kelly passed from this life to a bigher one on Salurday last in a nursing home in Plymoth, whither he lad been taken for an operation after four weeks of intense suffering at home, his mortal remains being laid to rest in the quiet churchyard of Kelly, adjoining the beautiful gardens of his well-loved home, on Wedresday last, amid a great concourbe of friends and neighibours assembled to pay a last tribute to departed worth.
Mueh miglat he said of his devoted work as a parish priest, first us curate of Abingdou, with a notable set of colleagues, 1868 -70, then it Newton Ferrers 1871-73, as Rector of Plympton St. Maurice 1873 76, Viear of Salcombe 1877-90, Yicar of Ottery St. Mary 1890-1900, where the also held the responsible office of Rural Dear for geven rear's, having also served in that capacity when holding the living of Salcombe, as Rural Dean of Woodleigh. In 1900 he succeeder his "Jder brother as squire of Kelly, and from 1905 to 1912 was Rector of Keliy as well. On all these parishes his devoted work has left an imtelible mark.
It is, however, rather of his work as a ringer, than as a parish pritest, that our readers would wisl to remember him. In his early days change linging was practioally unknown in the West of Eng-land-it had never penetrated further than Bristol. The earliest record is to be found an a tablet in the tower of Kelly Churcin which runs: "Be it remembered that on Saturday, January 21st, 1865,3 six-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung in this church, laeing the greatest number of changes ever rung in Devon by men of the county," Mr. Kelly, al that time an undergraduate at University College, Oxford, ringing the 3nd bell. From that time, for tanded to foster ringing in the West. - For all that long period it has largely been a matter of spadework, conpled with a determination ever to press on in spite of difficulties knowa only to himself; yet he lived long enough to rejoice that change ringing, though not an indigenous plant, lad firmly taken root and was flourishing in the lair county of Devon.
One of the vers oldest of the members of the College Fouths, snd une of the first elected members of the Guild of Devonshive Ringers when fonmed in 1874, Mr. Kelly lived to fill the office of secretary (1890-1896), and, later, president (in succession to Col. C. A. W. Troyte,, which office he held from 1896 till the jubilee mecting in 1924, when he felt he ought to hand over the reins to one pounger than himself. At this time, also, he solely, by lis own wish, ceased to represent the Guild on the Central Council, whose annual meetings never failed to afford him deep pleasure.
On six occasions. between 1895 and 1907, he organised a ringing week in the West. inviting picked ringers to ring peals with a view to showing local men what could and what ought to be done. These lours, Iuxuriously engineered, not only gave unbounded pleasure to those who took part in them, but aroused immense interest and enthasiasm in the localities risited. Some 47 peals were rung on these tours, the greater tumber in places where change ringilg had never heen heard hefore. In some of these the organisel himsclf took part. It is not, however, so muel as a peal ringer as a pioneer that the Rer. Maitland Kelly stiould be remembered. His fregtent, and often, lenglty jourbeys, by rond or rail, sometimes for weeks and months al 4 stretch, to help on a struggling band at its weekly practices; his genial presence erer welcomed at anmal or bragel meetiogsill fnct, wherever and whenever he folt he could do sonething for ringing in the West, there was lue invariably to be found. Above all should mention be made of his uncemiting work in the Kelly tower, should mention be made uf his unvemiting work in the Kely tower, then in the near future, but well cantent to know that he had laid the foundations, leaving it to others to make use of the materials so diligently prepared by him.

Though a gub accident sone years ago caused the mmputation of H foot, he still carried on his instruction work till nearly the ena, when, supported by the belfry wall, he would ring, conduct, or stand behind a youngster and steer him though a plain course or six-score.

Clergy not only sousht his ready help in preathing but many of life laty wate accustomed to seek his adyice in many unczpected quarters. As in example, barely two months ago, ns flie oldest subacriber to tho Lamerton Hunt, his good offices were sought to solve difficulties which had arisen over the mastership.
Evorywhere, and by all sorts and conditions of men, will his genial presence he missed. and not least by the ringing Prieads, whose name is legion. It wis always a great delight to him to meet them, whetlor for ringitig or social converse. As a proof of this, less that two years ago, on the termination of a tour in Comwall, inree of the band called at Kelly on their way home on the Saturday afternoon, on the chanee of seeing him. His delight in meeting them was profound. He talked of theit kindness in visiting an old man, not only at dimer that evening, but again before hedtime, and several tines on the Sunday. So late as two months ago he more than onee spoke of the pleasure theil visit lad given him. It was ever so: what ha felt on that occasion he felt towards ringers whenever he met them
A family of nime sons and daughters are loft to mourn him, a great number of neighbours and frients, and not a few of the Rivging Fraternity. R.I.P.

ACTIVIFIFS IN THE CHURCH

The Rev. Matiand Kelly, who was 86 years of age, was born at Kelly in 1842, the third son of Mr. Arthur Kelly, of Kelly. He war educated at Marlborough College and Universily Gollede, Oxford, where he taok his B.A. degree in 1869, and M.A. in 1872. He was ordained & deacon in 1869 and a priest a year later by the Bishop of Oxford. While at Saleombe he added a chance to tho durch and started a surpliced choir. Ottery also ljenefited fiom his activities, and while there be built a Church Institute, as well as th chapel-ofease at Waggaton, a lambet a mile distant from Ottery. In remembrance of the work Mr. Kelly dld as Rector of Piympton St. Maurice, three choir stalls were presented by his friends, and a brass tablet in the church commemorates the gifu, During his Rectorship an alteration of seats in the chancel was made to accommodate the choir, the font was presented, the bells relunge, improvements made in the tower and churchyard, and an organ installed. He was an enthusiasiic supporter of the Diocesan Choral Uaion, and it owas him a debt of gratitude for his long yearg of scrvice in lis endeavours to improve church music in the divese, $A$ a a boy he tolled the betll at Kelly, when the Duke of Wellington died.

TRIBLTES AT DFYON GUILD MEETING.

The Rav. G. E. F. Molineux (chairman of the North-Jast I)evon Branch of the Guild) annonneed the sad event at a meeting of the Branch at Rackenford on Saturday afternoon, and there was a general feeling of sincere regrei. Mr. Molineux said many present, being young men, could know litile of the great and important work Mr. Kelly fid far the Devonshiro Guild, and perlasps hardly realised the heavy loss it had sustained by his death. There were fom, if ang, in the roam who weve so closoly acquainted with Mr. Kelly as himself. Mr. Kelly was his formor Vicar at Ottery St Mary as himself. Mr. Kelly was his former Vicar at Ottery St. Mary as far back as 1889, and he was associnted with bim during his (Mr. Kelly's) presidency of the Guild for 14 years as hon. secretary of that organisation, and for four or fove years as hon. trcasurer. Mr. Kelly was always full of enthusiasm for the promotion of clange ringing. When Mr. Kelly went to Otfery the ringers lad started half-pull methods. Mr. Kelly took up the instruction, and the Ottery band becane one of the most efficient in the Guild. Perthaps the greatest work in which Mr. Kolly engaged in connection with the Guild was the amual visiting of the different bands, who always cordially welcomed him, and the Guild was indebted to him for the enormous amount of service he did in this and olber directions. There was no one in those daya- 40 years g go-with the same eanthusiesm and opportunity to get about the county to congratulate ringers on their efforts, be helpful, and encourage them in evers possine way to be progressive. Mr. Kelly was the spitit that animated the Guild in its early days, and brought it success, and he tejoiced that Mr. Poweln, who had succeeded to the presideney, wos wothily carrying on the old traditions.

The Rer. E. S. Powell, who succeded Mr. Kelly as president, and was previously secretary of the Ginild, said that from the monent he took ollice Mr. Kelly was always ready to help him, trust him thoroughly, give hims a free hand in his work as secretary, and support lim in every way. When the jubilee of the Guild camn, and years and infirmitics were pressing on Mr. Kelly so that he felt ohliged to retire from the presidency, a situation arose that might have occasioned difieulty. For Mr. Kelly had heen secretary, and then for nearly 30 years president, and was suddenly faced with a young man in the chirf office. But he was full of cheer, ever ready to help, encounage, and advise, never expressing at toulbt at thinge being done under a new regime by a young man that migen not have heen expected always to command the suppote of an older mar. Mr. Kelly"s love of the Guild and of change ringing in its best and highest form was at the back of it all. Whether the Guild would have survired without Mr. Kelly"s imspiration was an opon question, but the tremendous help and encouragement he gave and the work he did were things for which the membors had every reason to thank God and to be grateful for the life of Maibland Kelly Members stood in silence as a tribute of respect, and, on the motion of Mr. Molineux, scconded by Mr. R. Grater, it was resolved that a rote of sincero sympathy br sent fram the branch to the frmily, some of the members of which were themselves ringers like their father
The Rev. E. Kelly, who had come onor from Onkforkl, which is in clared in the Branch's area, thanked Mr. Molineux and Mr. Powell for what they had sad ahout his father, and ackowled ged the sympathy of the members. Personally, he lad been lagging behind in singing, hut lad the consolation of knowing that lee gave a promise to do his best to carry on the good worle associated with the mand of his father

WOBBLING.

To the Editor

Dear Sir - Your leading article does the Methods Commiltee scant justice. I am not, of course, exactly unbiassed, but I-should not have said we wobbled. I shotld have said that wo went to Ohelmsford with a very delinite idea of what we wanted to da, and were pretly successful in doing it. I know that you have got into your hean that we wanted to alter the standards of peal ringing to clange the traditions of the Exercise, to juggle with truth, and generally to play 'Old Harry', with riuging affairs. I should hate to destroy your pleasant delusion (even if I were able), but really our intentions were much more modest. We wanted to get the Council to agree to our printing those compositions; we wanted to prevent the Gambridge coming in under false pretences, and owing to 1. Hose two we wanled to defeat the Whittington resolution

We knew \{uite well our diffieulties and the strength of the oppasition. Monttis aro I calculated flat more than lialf the Council were clefinitely against us, and less than a guarter definitely in our favour. In the Excreise the odds were much greater for, while we could reckon on being supported by all those people who want to ring peals of Gambridge Minor, we cond rcekon on the opposition (passive, if mot active) of most of those who don't want to ring them, and you can calcilate the opposition to us by the strength of these two groups. ribese things, however, are not geflled by counting heads and, auylow, the Methods Committee is usually in a minority. It is part of our joh. We have fought many fights against majorities in the past thirty years, and we always manage to win in the long mirb. After I bad triked to people before the meeting I put the majority against us at about three to one. It behoved us, there forc, to walk warily. Yor, I know, would have wished us to go in liko a bull at a haystack and be soundly beaten. We thought otherwise. We really had the best cards in our hands, and many of them, if we conted manage to play them properly; und thanks partly to sorne bad blunders by our opponents we did manage to pull throngh. We lost the firsil division by one vote; we won the next by two or three; amk all the rest by increasingly large majorities. of course, wo hat to wse croty fair and sound argument at our disposal, and it is rather mokind of you to say that, because we did not tie ourselveg to one argument, we wobbled. Zou must not run away with the idea liat becanso we advanced other reasons we ever ahandoned our contention that these compositions are true and complete, are in bramony with the usage and tradition of the Exercise, and are tharonghly fit for peal ringing

Aud lalking ahout 'wohbling,' what thout yourself? I shoutd say hat the champion wobbler on this matter is the leader writer of 'Tha Ringing World.' Looking back through these artieles the only lhing consistent I can find is the opinion that whatever the Methods Committee does must be wrong. No dauht a sound and laudable opinion, hal one which I enn hardly be expected to agree to. You Glarted on the prounds that the Bankes Tames Gambridge consists of seven true anil complete 720 's, and you trice to altor the standard of Minor nenl ringing so as to admit that and exolude everything else. Logir, justice. and facts were against you. One thine, at least, has heen proved by this eontroversy. If the Bankes Tames arrangement jes saund, then a whole new class of Donbles and Minor composidians is available for five and six bell ringers. But you are Finnd to take the rish. You do not know what to do, whether to sisma to your commendation of the Cambridge, or to join with those who would "scrap the lot.' Aud so we have in the same issue of "The Ringing World' your speceh, where you try, frantically and with a forlorn hope, to justify the Cambrifge, and your article where you relngate it to history with other stuff unwept, unhonoured and unsung.' I do not blame you. There is more than one side to this queciion. Bul who is wohbling. you or we? And since you lave bocn so hard on us, $T$ shoulrl really like to ask you where you stund? Arc you for any reasonable, natural developments in ring ing, and willing to allow lhem to be put to practical tests, or are you wibl Mr. Wilson asud his bide-bound stick-in-the-murds, who don't whit to see ary progress a
But your toll us that the Methots Commitee is going to be surpriged and the Bankes James Cambridge made unncecssary by eight cormplete 720 's oncls with the temors the right way-to say nothing uf fifty-two six-scorms of Grandsire Doubles. I am not going to be surprised. Tulass I am much mistaken, these compositions are alprady in the MgS. now in front of me. Only I think you have found a mare's nest. I think you will find, when you come to namine the eggs on which the old girl is sitting, that four of the cight are not gonuine eggs at all, but only nice white clina nest ogge. I thiuk (minel. I sap, I thinle there are ouly two distinct 720 's of Cambridge Minor which do not turn up 5 -6 the wrong way. Thell of these has a rewerse, and one of them (and its reverse) may be staried at three clifferent miaces. That makes your eight. If nnynne likes to ring gever of them as a peal of Cambridge Minor, I Run't. see what oljjection there can be, but it is rather stretching the meaning of words to call thom eight different 720's. But supposing I am wrong. find thrse are eight different 720's, what of it? How will they affect Bankes James arrangement? Will they make it falso? If the latter were true when you moved the Hereford resolu(Continued in next columb.)

THE SECESSION OF GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL.

OU'I OF ORDER.'

Dear Sir,-Just a few lines with regard to No. 3 in the Rev. C. D P. Davies' leiter of to-day's 'Ringing World' regarding the gecession of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association from the Central Comucil. Jf you look at page 51 of the latest edition of 'Rulea and Decisions, ${ }^{1}$ last paragraph but one, you will see the resolution in question printed in full: 'That in the opinion of the Gloucester and Bristol Association historis bells should not be tuned on the "$imp8on " principle.
Can anyone say that this resolution is not 'out of order' in any assembly, apart from that of the association named? It is, as the president rightly said, the pious opiniou of an association, and still stands as such.-Yours, etc.
W. A. CAVE.

A HAPPY GATHERING

GUILDFORD AND LADIES' GULLDS WEET

very happy meeting, in which the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild joined forces with the Guildford District of the Guild ford Diocesan Guild, was beld at Worplesdon on Saturday, when a party of about fifty were the guests of the Rev. J. C. G. and Mrs. Bruce. A good deal of vinging was done befove tho service, which the Rector conducted, tile Ladies' Guild form being used. Mr. F. Raddon, one of the S. Nicolns', Guildford, band, was at the organ with Mr. Taylor, of Mafdenhcad, as ' blower.
Tea was to lave been scrved on the lawn, but the doubtifl state of the weather caused the bountiful meal to be spread in a hut in the Rectory Gromals. Here the Rector and Mrs. Bruce attended to the wants of their guests, and afterwards Mr. J. S. Goldsmith ex pressed the thanks of the visitors for the hospitality extended to them.
The Guildford Guild bad no business to frausact, and the gentlemen therefore revisited the tower, while the ladies sat in solemn conclave, with Mrs. Bruce in the chair, and discussed the affaits of their district. Mrs. E. K Fletnicr, general hon, secretary of the Guild, was a welcone vigitor. Three new members, viz., Mrs, Pa wards (Old Woking), Mrs. Taylor (Maidenhead), aud Miss B. Stewart (Aldershot) were elected.
Mrs. Bruce was elected vied-president, Niss $\boldsymbol{H}$. Mills was re-elected hon. sceretary, and Mrs. Hazelden, Mrs. Whiltington, Mrs. Melvilin and Miss A. Fisher were elected to the committee. It was deoider to hold the mext annual meeting at Worpiesdon in June, 1930, anrl a guarterly meeting at Wokingham in Ontober
The Hon. Secretary; whom everyone was glad to see so well re covered from her serious accident, regrethed her inactivity during the year, and the memhers expressed the hope that she would soon be ahle to resume ringing.
The husiness concluded with a vole of thanks to Mrs. Bruce Meanwhile the men had been busy in the tower, with touches to suit all tastes and capreities. Among other things Treble Bob was spliced, Cambridge rung and London tried by a laad, some of whon did not know much about it. St. Clement's and Plain Bob Minor Grandsire and Stedman Doubles were also rung, while when the ladies retmond to the tower six of them rang Grandsire Doubles The tenor is 18 ewt., with a rope big enough for Southwark tenor but the lady on the end of it did well.

tion, it is, I suppose, true now. And if it is true, why should it not be rung and appear in our hook, even if there is something else which some may prefer? As for the Graudsiro Doubles, if anyont talks to you about new six-scores wilh ordinary Bohs and Singles ask him if he has ever lneard of a little baok by one Fabian Stedma published in the year 1668. Yours faithfully
J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE
[Mr. Trohlope's vipid picture of our supposed 'wobble' is charar teristic and entertaining. Characteristic, hecause he puts his fancies and his theories down as fack, and entertaining because it is just the giuf to tickle the palate of raders, and we lave enjoyed it as much as they will. We have argued consistently that the Bankes James" Cambridge should be accepled as true and complete, min in this contention we are supported by one of the mombers of the Methods Commitlee (Rev. H. Law James) as well as by other leading authorities on the suhject. There can only be 720 rows and 720 changes in an exieut of Minar, mal you get hoth these hefore repetition is produced in the Ramker James ertents.-Er. 'R.W.']

THE LAW OF CHURCH BELLS.

We printed last week the report presented to the, Central Council by its Legal Committee, and it is an extremely valuable contribution to a subject, affecting the interests of ringers, which has never been adequately dealt with before, as far as we are aware. Hitherto the relation between the ringers and the church authorities has been, in the minds of many members of the Exercise, of a very hazy kind. The majority could not have said, with any real knowledge, whether they were under the control of the incumbent, the churchwardens or, in recent years, the Parochial Church Council. Neither were they definitely aware who had the right to order the ringing of the bells. These and a number of other matters are now made plain in the report for everyone to read. The concise digest, which the committee have presented, covers a variety of aspects of the somewhat complicated subject in such a way that all concerned may know exactly what the law requires, except, apparently, that there is one matter which remains somewhat indefinite. This relates to the authority held by churchwardens in connection with the ordering of the ringers and ringing, but it is the kind of thing frequently revealed in law, and it would probably take a legal action, or even a series of legal actions, to enable the lawyers to argue the matter and the Courts to give a ruling.

So far as the appointment of ringers and the ringing of bells are concerned, however, the position is made plain. The appointment, of the confirmation of the appointment, rests with the incumbent, and the bells camnot be rung without his consent. Even the churellwardens cannot authorise the ringing of the bells without his approval, although when it comes to a question of deciding the proper occasions when bells should be rung they appear to have a voice in the matter.

The position of the Parochial Church Councils seems to be one in which their only legal privilege is to find the necessary funds to pay the ringers, where they are remunerated, and to keep the bells in order, while in the event of a claim under the Workmen's Compensation Act, in the event of injury to a paid ringer while in performance of his duties, the Councils, so far as they have funds in hand, and not their individual members, would be liable for damages. The report of the committee is one which should not be indefinitely buried in the archives of the Council or the record of its proceedings. It should be made readily available to all those whom it may concern, and will, in due course, we presume, make its appearance among the Central Council's publications, but in the meantime it should be carefully studied by those in our associations who may at any time be asked for advice.

At the funeral on Jure 4 th, ringers from Beecles, Bungay, and Lodion attended, and, directly after, mufled touches were rung on the five hells at the adjoining Clurch of Buroham. In the evening hall-muffled iouches were rung at liangay by of representative humd from the distriet.

STALEY BELLS OPENED

CHESTER GUUU AND JANCASH1RE RTNGERS BIG RALLT A combined meeting of the Ghester Diocesan Guild and the Lanca shire Association was held at St. l'aul's Church, Staley, on Satur day, June 15 th, to celehrate the recasting and relanging of the bells. Ringers furmed up in goma numbers, and the bells were set going early. Serviee was conducted jointly by the Vicar, Rev. B. B. Slater, and Canon H. J. Elsee, president of the Lanes Association, The address was given by the Rev. C. A. Clements, Master of the Chesier Diocesan Guild. I'aking his text from 2 Cor. vi. 1, "We then, as workers together with God, the preacher said that all had their work to do, and all must hear theiv park if they desired to do thoir duty. The duty of ringers was to ring tho bells, and to see that they fitted themselwes la give the best service possible. They were acting in a position of great responsibility, and that brought with it great opportunity. The hells conveyed a groat message. They wers not onlling people to licar a sermon, or to bear lovely unusic from the organ and choir, but were calling all to the service of God. They must, therefore, pat their very best inta that call, as only the best was good enougla. Why had the people of Staley spent so much money to obtain such beathiful bells as they had heard that day? It was simply because they reconnsed that the old bells were not worthy of the serwice of God, and they, as ringers, must keep before them the knowledge that nothieg but their best is good enougl.
Tea followed in the schools, and ower one hundred sat down and enjoyed an excellent meal. The Vicar, in welcoming all to Staley, reminded the ringerg that when they were there on the last occa sion, a little over a year ago, he said he hoped they would find a greati improvement in the bells an their next visit. That thope had now boen fulfilled, and he had been assured by all who had heard the new bells that they were a periect peal.
The Rev. A. T. Beeston, in returning thanks to the Vicar and wardens for their kind welcome, said everything had been done to make the day enjoyable, and it was a real delight to be present.Canon Elsee said thal it was the first time he had attended a joint meeting between the two societies, but he hoped it would not be the last. They bad had an enjoynble service, a most inspiring sermon 3 good tea, and a very lapay time together. He certainly agreed with everyone else that Staley had now a spleadid peal of bells
Mr. J. P. Fidler, representing the boll founders, Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough, returned thanks for all the kind remarks that had bect made fibout the new bells. Fe could assure them that they as founders had put everything of the best into the job, as Hley realised that only the best was good enouk
Mr. T. Wilde thanked the local ringers and their lady friends for all they had done to make the day such d suecess. It was a pleasure to wrange a meding when tho local people gave sudy ready assistance fas they had done that day
Members then returnen to the tower, and the bells were kept going in methons ranging from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise Major until nine o'clock.

The belis, which havo been recast and returg in a new steel frame, with ball bearings and all the latest fittings, are "a perfect Taylor jols.' They are indeed a glorious peal with a tenor 18 cwt .24 lb . in F. They now only require the louvres in the tower to be treated, to control the sound in the immediate neighbourhood, and this is to bo clone at once.
Rincers present besides those already mentioned ineluded Mr. E. Wr. Elwell, lou. secretaty Chester Diocesan Guild; Mr. W. H Sluker, hon. Secratary, Lancashire Association; and others from as far afield as Rotherlinm, Sheflield, Greenfeld, Bolton, Frodsham, Warrington, Walkden, Oldhan, Middeton, ete., while alnost al Whe towers in the Stackport and Manchester Branches were representen.
Many went to have a ring at Foly Trinity Church, where there is another fine ring of elght by Taylor and Go, whioh were installed about three years ago. The two churches are about a mile apart, and that Stalybridge is indeced now in possession of lwo perfect octaves of bells is the opimion of all who were present. Many ringers are miready looking forwand ta an opportunity of renewing the acquaintance.

A DESERVING CASE

APPEAL FOR AN ECKINGTON RINGER.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-Knowing the generosity of singers in generai, and quite unknown to the man concerned, I should like to make an appeal for a little timely help on behalf of Mr. Alfred West, of Eckington, near Shreffield.

Briefly, his case is this: Following a serious accident in the mine some years ago, which almost totally incapacitated him, his bealth has given way generally, and now consumption has him in its deadly grip. The compensation pay he receives is inadequate to meet the requirements of a growing young family, together with those of oldes ones who are not in regular employment.
Mr. West has been a Sunday service ringer for nearly forty years but never cared for peal ringing on his own part. As a steeple keeper, however, he excels, and our bells ave in 'the pink of cond tion' owing to his efforts. A short lime ago he quietly intimated that he felt his end was drawing near, and was endeavouring to get his beloved bells in good ouder before lae left us for ever. Hence m appeal

Any help given by your readers will be gratefully accepfed, and should he seat to our Ringing Master, Mr. 'T. A. Fowes-Smith, Salicitor, The Yews, Eckington, and will be acknowledged in "The Ringing World.'-Yours faithfully,

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the. Southern District of the London Gounty Asso ciation and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at Eit. Paul's Bath Road, Hounslow, on Saturday, June 15th. The bells, which are a light and tuneful peal of 8 itwt., by Warmer, were raised soon after thrae o'clock, and were set going to changes, under the supas vision of the District Master, Mr. H. Mance. During the aftermoon and evening some 35 members and friends ratng touches in various methods, including London, Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative ant Double Norwich, whilst the standari methads and the beginnets were not forgotten. A feature of the ringing was the striking, not always too good at meetings. A paity of 25 betook themselves the house of Mr. Gash (verger), where tea had perforce to be taked in two 'shiftis' or 'round blocks,' thie waiting crew beguiling the time with 'Freddy's' famous handhells
The business meeting followed, at which one hon. member Rev Hugh Eyton Tones (Vicar) and one ordinary member were elected There were no abstruse problems before the meeting this time, s the routine was quickly disposed of. and the tower was re-viaited Tho Vicar ascended to the ringing clinmber and offered prayer, an a hearty welcome to the associntion. Ringing concluded at eight o'clock, and the company then adjoumed to 'another place," wheit the handbells were brouplit into use for hotl change and tune ring ing. Messrs. Goddard, Tricker and Ellingham delighted the audience with their tunes, whilst Mr. Geo. Cross and others were able to bring off a course of Double Norwicl. Successful attempts wert made by novices at Grantivire Triples nud Gaters, Stedman Gater and Bol Major, not the least overioyed being the novices themselva

During the meeting a vole of thanks was passed to the Vicar fo his attendance and the use of the hells; Lo Mr. and Mrs. Gash and helpers for providing and serving the tes; to the local men for the welcome extended to the association the name of Mr. Charle Tricker looming large in this directions. How fortunate for a secretary to have a man on the spot who will so willingly laelp! It is worthy of mention that the meeting was attended by both young and aild in the persons of Mr. Ton Beadle, of Tslewarth, and Lititle 'Diek" Deal, of East Ham, complete with patents.

FUNERAL OF THE REV. M. KELLY.
The beautifully-kept little church in the picturesque grounds of the Keliy astate was crowded with a representative gaihering on Wednesdiv week, when the funeral took place of the Rev. Maitland Kelly. All classes assembied to pay their last tribute of reapect, and among the ofticiating clergy was the Rev. E. S. Powell, who succeeded Mr. Kelly as president of the Devon Guild. The Guild was represented in addition by Mr. T. Laver (general secretary), Rev. Hugh Pigot, chairman of the Norlh Devoa Branch, Rev. G. E. F. Molineax, clanirmars of North-East Branch, and Miss Hasson, secretary, Rev. E. Y. Cox (Exmouth), Mrs. Powell, Mr. E. W. Marsh, secyetary, South-Western District, and Mr. W. H. Marsin, chairman.
The Guild, the Exeter Cathedral band, the Kelly ringers, and two old ringing "friends (F. J. Davey and T. Laver) were among those who sent wreaths.
The bells of Kelly Church were rung nutfled before the funeral, and were unmuffled afterwards, and at many Devon churches parting trihutes were also paid by the ringers.
At Paignton, Devon, on Wednesday, Junc 19th, with bells halfmuffled, in quarter-peal ( 1,260 changes) of Grandsiro Triples in 58 mins. : F. Alwood 1, J. Huxley 2, C. R. Walker 3, T. S. Collings 4, D. F. Austin 5, F. E. Parnell 6, H. J. Hole (conductor) 7, C. Boyce 8.

PRESENTATION TO RETIRING RINGER

On Tuesday eveniag, June 18th, a pleasant evening took place in the Parish Hall, Heighington, near Darlington, the occasion being the presentation of a chiming clock forewood case to Mr. T. Ranson, who has been a ringer at St. Michael's Church for 45 years, and has just rotired. The Vicar of Heighington presided, and was supported by Major H. S. B. Surtees, of Redworth Hall, the Vicar of Staindrop (Rev. H. S. C. Spurrier) and others. Msjor Surtees hauded over the gift, which bad been subseribed to by the villagers and friends.
During the proceedings two courges of Stedman Triples were rung by ringers from Holy Trinity Church, Darlingtan, on their handbells, viz. : W. H. Porter 1-2, W. N. Park 3-4, G. W. Perk 5-6, Roland Park 7-8.
Touches of London Surprise Minor and Kent Treble Bob Minor werc alen rung on the church bells before sud after the ceremony by Messrb. W. H. Porter, G. W. Park, W. N. Park, Roland Park, F. W. Gay, W. Oliver, and J. T Titt, of Holy Trinity, and Mr. ' ${ }^{2}$. Clark, of St. Cuthbert's, Darlinglon.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ARCHDEACON HOWSON HONOURED.

The rery successitul meeting of the Liverpoal Branch held at Sefton was arranged to honour the Vencrable Archdeacon Howson, and aboet sixty members aud friends atteaded, including sereral of the senior merabers of the association. Seftan is an old-world village, and the church is an ancient and magnilicent one. The bells were sef going soon affer 3 p.m., and kepll busy until 5.30 p.m., when the gervice was taken by the archdeacon, and Mr. George Lunt presided at the organ. After the service all adjourned to the Parish Hall, where a sumptuous tea had been provided by the Rector (Lhe Rev. Canon Wells). The usual business mecting followed, and was speedily carried through.
At the conclusion the Brazch Secretary moved a vote of thanks to the Archdeacon for his long and valued service to tae Branch in particular, and ringing in gemeral. He added that tho members desired to show their appreciation in a more permanent form than by formally moving votes of thanks, and he asked Archdeacon Howson to accept the inscribed oak Westminster chiming clock with the good wishes of the members.

Mr. Geo. R. Newton added his testimony to the services of the Archdeacos, and reminded the members of the many ways in which he had helped the Brancli.
In reply, the Archdeaoon expressed his great surprise, and althougla he disapproved of such things as lestimonials, he very feelingly and sincerely thanked the memberg for their kind thoughts.

An interesting item of the ringing part of the meeting was referred to-that of a tonch of Bob Minor rung by six of the senior members present, their aversge age being $71{ }^{3}$ years.
The meeting will lang he remembered as one of the best and happiest gatherings of the Branch.

DISAPPOINTED VISITOR TO HEREFORD To the Editor.

Sir,-May I be allowed to reply to $\mathbb{M i r}$. Mears' letier in your columns of June 14th, and to say that we all regret his disuppointment on Whit Monday in not befng able to get up to the Cathedral tower at Hereford. I am alraid Mr. Mears must have been a latecomer, as there was someone on the door at the west end until 7.15. The authorities are very strict upon having doors locked at 6 p.m. We shall look forward to seeing Mr. Mears at some fature time.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. George Middleton, who has hreen elected Labour M. ${ }^{3}$. for Carlisle, was formally a ringer at Christ Church, Crewe. Mr. R. 'IL. Holding informs us that in 1902 Mr. Middleton took part in several touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob 'lriples. He resigned from the tower owing to the irregular hours he had to work in the Post Office.
Mr. Edwm Shephercl, of Exeter, completed on June 6th 50 ycars as a member of the Devon Guild and of St. Sidwell's Society.
Capt. J. H. It. Freeborn bas giverl up his appointment as a representative of Messrs. Gillett and Johuston, and has resumed Lis practice as an architect at 29, Station Road, Rickmansworilı.
Mr. Joscph Potter, who has resided for many yents in the United States, is now on a visit to England, and on Satarday rang witl the Lancaslife Association his firet peal for 83 years.
The ringers, as well as the-Church Council, of Cadeleigh, : Devon willage near Tiverton, have resignerl as a prolest ageinst fut appoini ment to the incumbency made br the Bishop of Excter, after the patroness of the living had offered if to the formar curate of the parish.
The first peal of Grandsire Cinques 'in hand' was rung it Birmingham on fuly 2nd, 1886.
At the dedication of All Saints' Church, Poplar, on July 3rd, 1823, the Cumberland Youths rang the first peal (Graudsire Caters) on the bells.

THANKSGIVING DAY-

WFAT RINGERS CAN DO
Sunday, July 7th, has been fixed as the Day of Thanksgiving for the King's recovery
It is a day when the chureh bells throughout the country should play a special part in the national rejoicing, and an effort ghould be made at every church with a ring of bells to mark the owcasion in sorne special way. Not only should the bells be rung before the thanksgiving service, and the other eustomary services, hat, as suggested in our columns recently ly the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, something should be done to distinguish the proceedings from those observed on an ordinary Sunday, such as ringing in the early morning where it is practicable, or at the conclusion of the Thaukgiving Service. Also, as Mr. Edwards remarked, there may even be an opening in the special form for ringing a few rounds at a central point in the service itself.
Doubtless thore will, in addition, be many peals rung in connection with the Thanksgiving, and it is hoped by the Central Council to lay before His Majesty, with an appropriate letter of congratulation, particulars of the part which ringers in this country play in connection with the national expression of joy.

HATFIELD'S NEW BELLS DEDICATED

The two new bells, the gift of the Rislinp of Exeter and Laty Florence Cecil to St. Etheldreda's Church, Hatfield, were dedicated on Tluustay, June 20th, before a large congregation. "Prior to thit service, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung by the local saciety of rizagers. The service was condnoted by the Fishop, assisted by the Rector of Hatfield (the Rev. J. T. Antrobus). In his address the Bishop explaiued that the bells were erected in memory of his son, Capt. Rupert Edward Gascoyns Cecil, who was an en thusiastic member of the Hatfield Guild of College Youths, ent whose wish it was the two bells should be given. The ceremony wns well attended by ringers from St. Alhans, Hertford, Baldock, Har penden, North Mimms, and Essenden, and after the service touches of Grandsire Caters, Stedman Caters, Treble Bob Royal and Roh Major were rung.
The quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major previous to the servien was rung by the following: A. Shepherd 1, G. Austin 2, R. Richard son 3, J. Shiepherd 4, L. Shepherd 5, D. W'. Richardson 5 , J. G. Dun ham 7, J. T. Kentish (conductor) 8.
The new hells were cast and hung liy Messrs. Mears and Stainhank.

ISLE OF WIGHT FIVE BELL TOWERS

An interesting and most successful bye-prantice meeting was hela in the Island on Saturday last, when three somewhat seelucled fivebetl towers, viz., Chale, Shorwell and Brighstone, situated in the southern part of the Island, were visited by Island members of the Guild, many of whom had their first pull on these hells. The at tendance was most gratifying to thosa who suggested and arranged the meeting. Chale tower was first visited, and gool use was madi of the bells, the frame of which has a blank space in ieadiuess for an adiditional bell. At tea, Dr. J. B. Williamson woiced thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, also to the foreman, Mr. H Ghiverton, whom he proposed as a memher of the Guild. This was seconded by Mr. B. J. Snow (district secrelary), and earried.
A mowe was then made to Shorwell, where the party was met and welcomed by the Vicar and local ringers, and several touches in various five-bell methods were scored. Brighstone tower was reached rather later than the scheduled time, but, thanks to Mr. Creeth the bells were in readiness and werc soon set going, and many goorl touches were rung. This will not be the last five-bell practice meeting to be hela in the Island, especially if the doctor has his way again in the matter.

 BROADGASTING.The Rev. F. L. Ekwards, reporting for the Broadcasting Committee, said that, as most of the Councll knew, the talk on bellringing was given on September 19th, and he had recoived reports on it from personal fuiencts in different parts of the country, saying that it anme through very clearly, and the sound of the handbells was perfect. Undoubtedly, the broadeash had done a certain amount of goon. It required a great deal of labour and time in preparation, owing to the fact that everytining had to be done in a quarter of art hour. He was gratified to find that he so far succeeded in mething the conditions that when they had a rehearsal in the belfuy of Bt. Clement Denes-and they had to thank the Rev. Penington Biekford for the use of the handhells-they got through the lecture, with the iliustiations, in $14 / 2$ mins. Actually at the studio the announcer took up a few moments, and they, thetefore, overran the time a lithle, but the anmouncer in charge allowed them a little extra time, so that the course of Steuman Triples at the end might be finished. Mr. Edwards cquated from ane of the letters he had received from a correspoudent at Laughton, near Sheffield, which saja that the talk had led to a band being formed, and the belfry invaded, to the delight of the Vicar. The hells were rung at Christmas, a thing which even the scxton, who had been there for 50 years, could not rememher having liappened beforc. There were laree bells (laughter), and six wingers, and a splendid enthusiasm in the district, aud it was now hoped to augment the bells (applause). Mr. Edwards added that the broadcast was almost worth giving for that one resulut.
The Presideat said the Exercise at large was grateful to Mr. Edwards for all the trouble he took over the broadcast and the rehearsals. They were also grateful to the band of ringers who dermonstrated with the linadbells. He knew that the talk stirred up a good deal of enthnsiasm and elelighted many people it many parts of Eingland.
Mr. T. F. Beams asked if they were going to have any repetition of the lecture.
The Fon. Sperehary: Nolhing has been arranged. Having 'made hole in the ice,' we may, perhaps, be able to do something in the future, after allowing a suitable interval.
The report was adopted.
PEALS OF MYNOR AND DOLBLES.
The Council mext came to the various rosolations on the agenta, the first of which, "No. $7,{ }^{\prime}$ was, "That this Council will not recogmisp rs a peal of Minor or Tonites any composition in which the hells do not strike in 720 or 120 elifferent orders respectively before hegimning the next 720 or 120 .' It was moved by Mr. R. Whittingtonl, who said that it the year 1911-12 the Council passed this resotution: "That peals of Minor consist of at least seven true and complete $720^{\prime}$ 's, the bells striking round only once at the end of each and immediately going into the next. ' Thic object of the resolution now hefore the Council was, he said, to ask thems to confirm tiat decision, and to say that peals of Minor and peals of Doubles mast conform to those conditions.
Mr. A. H. Pulling, who seconded, snid they did not want someone fo come along later an and say that the Council did not mean what it said by the motion. What they intended was that in Doubles they should start the 120 changes from rounds and should finish at rounds; and the same with Minor, that they should start from rounds and finish with rounds, "and lave none of this "jiggerypokery", (langhter'). They wanted to have things elear this time Rear, heary.
Rev. 13. S. Powell stagested that Mr. Whittington should alter his resolution to read: "That each 720 shall be true in itself and shall hegin Erom atul end with rounds, and in similar terms with regard to Daubles. Fe sympathised with Mr. Pulling, hecause when he rear the first resolution lie thought they might try to klrag in the Bankes Irmes romposition.
Mr. I. Hunt said the resolution arried at Hereford was the start-ing-point of this discussion, and Mr. Law James added fuel to the fire by saying that the resolution at Heveford immlied seven different 720's es being requived for a menl of Minor. He (Wr. Funt) disagerced. It was never intended that a peal shonid consist of sevell different compositions. That would be a great penalty on the sixhell men. There wree nlentry of men in that romm whe could eall a peal oft Stedman Triples or a peal of tandon fum a non-observation bell, but there were a grent many in the Exereige in the country distriets wha conid not call 720 or even 120 fram a non-obserwation bell. Lnst wear Mr. Powell wanted to say that ten different 120 's should the ealled th a peal of Doubles. He would like to ask Mr. Bowell how many towers there were in his nwn county of Devon where there were men to call such a pesl. To insist on seven different 720 's they would be penalising the ringerg, and instead of making ringing progress thes would be putting a hrake on.
Rev. E. B. Powell said the ameniment he had got was to the \& feet 'that this Conteil will not recognise as a neal of Minar or Doubles any combosition in which the $720^{\prime}$ 's or $120^{\prime}$ s were not true and complete and which dirl not start from mat end with romins.' He would ecernally prefer thai to the motion as it stoon, hut if the amendment were carried lie should muln hone it would be defealed as a sabstamite motion. Iuddled as the position was at thu present lime, bu felt very strongly that the Council had hetter hav things as they were with the Hereford motion, to see what happencul and bring the thing forwayd in a year or two's time. A 1 present they had not sufficieni knawledge to affirm what was fulst and what was true.
Mr. Fr. W. Perrins secomed the mmendment.
Res. H. Lat Janes said he took il the amendment brought put exactly what the propnser and seconder meant, but what tie propuser and seconder said wonld have jneluded the Hankes Jamos Cambridge and would have axcluded everything else. He took it they wanted to fulc out everything except 720 s whieh hegan athd ended with rounds.
Several members: Yes.
Mr. James asked the members to imagine on the clock face in the roam six rows of ligures, spreed at ien-minute intervals. The first row was 1234, with the otlers in the following order round the dial: 1324, $1342,1432,1423$, and 1243 . If they read the rows from 1234 in either direction they would come back gatin to 1234. Thes thus had the whole six in one matural round hlock. How mary times did rounds appear in these six rows? Once only. The fact was, there was a great deal of confusion arising in this matter simply and solely because when they wrote thedr peals and touches ancl courses they wrote 123456 at the top, went to the bottom and wrote it at the end. They wrote it twice, butt if they wrote it tound the clock face they would see that all this talk about beginning and endiug with rounds amounted to nothing. There were six rows and there were six changes. Rounds at the end was the rounds at the begiming. If it was a jepetition it was false, and it was either a repetition or it was not a repelition. Striclly speaking, it was not a repetition; it was the sarne thing. The wholo thing was a round thock, and they came back exactly to where they started.
Mr. W. Willson: Will you explaia how, in your brother's Carabridge, in which the last change of the 720 is a bob change, and th14. bob is not made until the baekstroke lead of the trehle, that backsiroke lead can be the first row of the next 720? The effect is not between the treble rows hut at the hackstroke of the treble, which proves that the full trehle lead should be ineluded.
Mr. James gaid according to Mr. Willson's idea rounds at the beginning and roundis at the forl were connted ns two rows instead of one, arth if they couthiarl them as Mr. Willson wanted to count them they wauld ring roumbs not eight times but fifteen times in a peal.
M1. Wh. Faulkner: Rounds at the begimang is only to sleady the bells.

Mr. W. A. Cave: Wonlal a peal, or 120 , or 720 be legal if we harl no rounds at all at the begiming? If we sfarted off 214365 and rang to the end, would that fye a 720? ('No.') Rounds at the start is only a preliminary. I maintain that 24385 is the first change, and 123456 is the last for all practieal ringers.
Rev, Fr. Lt. Entwards: If you started off straight into a methorl withotat any prelimimary roinds, thete would not he 720 changes, becasse the first would not he a change. Whan you have your preliminary rounds and stant into changos, then the first row of the method is the first change. If you started without preliminary rounds you would not elange from anything, und the first row watit not on a change at all.
Mr. Cales asked if the
Mr. Cales asked if the amendment meant that each 720 or 120 whs get at this paint, whether these 720 s wele to be treated as separaio peals ar ane whole peal of seven $720^{\prime}$ s. Until they seflled thal point they would get no further with this motion.
Mr. Whintington eainl lin was prepared to accept Mr. Powell's ampndment, and Mr. Pulling, as seconder, also agreed.
Mr. Trollope said he wanted to make it clear that those who roted for what was now the resolution would quite cortainly vote for tho exclusion of the Bankes Tames Camhtidge. Ite knew there werce lot of people there whan wnted to preserve the Bankes. Jaties Cat lot of people there wha wanted to preserve the Bankes James Cantbridge; if they voted for that resolution it ruled it out. Fe sug gested that tho hest thing they could do was for botly thm amend ment and the resalution to he withdrawn and let them learn the question for a little while. The diseussion that day had provol that therc was a grent deal of differenee of opinion, and, whatever rosolution they passed, this division would remain. Would it not be better, ilherofore, to leave the matter as it now stood with i.he Herciotd resolution. It would have to be amended, hut it was enough to go on with. Let them leave it and see whether the six bell ringers wanted this Cambricge Minor. With all respect to the Council, the linal judgment did not rest with them; it rested will Council, the linal jud
Mr. Willson: I move the closure. There is always this red herring drasn across the trail.
Mr. Trollope said the final judgment must he with the six-beli rimgers, and if the six-bell rimgers continued to ting this arratge something in it. prhe Council oughi. not at this time to lurn it down.

SUGGESTED DEFINITION OF A PEAL OF MINOR.

Dear Sir,-The marnerous lettexs and articles in your paper on the unbjed of poals of Minor lase got he so mixed up that I hardly know how ta starl.
I linve lately looked throlyal a book calied 'Rules and Decisions of the Cunmeid and an accolnt of its work. I. can only think that the copy I liave is eithe "thopelosaly false" and out of date, or that members of the Council, who occupy so much of your space in pouring onti their wandering and complicated hithoghts, bave not read, marked, lexuned and inwardly digested it.

Will somehory pleage tell me if the following resolution, which apperars in Lhis bork still stands good, or las it been overruled or reperaled by the Council or lost by the Methods Commitfee: 'That peals of Minor consist of at least seven true aud complete 720's, the hells striking romad only once ati the end of each and immediately goine inta the next. A peai may bo lengthened, etc.' (1911-12.)

I helievo that another resolution on the subject has simee been passed, but it in oot in the book which I hawe, and $Y$ cannot remember its exact wording, but so far as $T$ know it only amplified tho resolution quoted above, and was not intended to be in substitution for it.

Much as it may be regretted, the Harkes James Cambridge is not, nond never has been, a jeal which could he recagnised by the Council. The first so-called 720 does not enti with rounds. It may be iniended to start with rounds, but no amonnt of argument will convince nuyone will the slightest amount of intelligence that this is the sume thing as ending with rounds.
F' know nothing about the merits ot otherwise of various callings of Doubles. Before the Hereford resolation theme appears to lave been na decision as to what constituled a peal of Doubles in any -rate, there is rothing about them in the book I have.
' lape spoken to quite a number of six-bell ringers about Bankes James' composition. What of their opirnons? They all seem genernlly agreed that this composition is move worthy of being called a peal of Surpriso Minor than a peal consistiog of seven 720 of Camhoridge with the tenor called W.F. W. in each one.

And what of the opinions of the members of the Central Council? $14 y$ whose auhority can they say what or what shall not constitute a peal of Minor? How many of them are Minor ringers? beal of Minor? How many of them are Minor ringers? I do not Hhink it would be hard to find among fliem a few, at any rate, who camol rimg Cambridge Minor, whon lave never seen the figures of Bankes dames composition, who do nat know what is the effeet of enlling five consenutive bobs in the meltod, or who cauld call the momposition if they had the figures.
"The only fair way of dealing with filse matter is to let those who are regularly ringing the method deoide, and I should like to know if there are among your readers ringers sufficiently iuterested in the subject to use their best endeavours to persuade their rcspective Sorielies to send representatives to the Central Council pledged to supporl. a proposibion in farour of a rule in the form af suppord a proprosition in favour of a rule in the form of enclosed draft.
Athough this may not be "bullet proof," it is certainly far more delinila than any of the vague resolutions which have previously hem propased or passed.

Any sociely interested in pexls of Doubles can easily arrange to hase placed before the Gouncl a resolution as to them framed from ther enclosed drafl.
Hy the way, has any band ever rung a 8,040 of Minor with a rowering bell or hells? If they lave, let fhem read the Decisions oil the Contral Council and then say if they are entitled to clam it Wh pent-Yours frilofutly, G. I. GROVER.

THE COUNCIL AND THE METHODS COMMITTEE'S REPORT,

Sir,-Mr: C. T. Coles lias brokell out again. Fe says: "This at the behest of members who could not back up sucb a proposition by a single sound argument', (the assertion that the $120^{\prime}$ s and 720 are false), and adds: When we ring the Bankes James Cambridge Minor . . . we ring 720 changes eacii seven times, excluding rounds at the beginning, but including rounds at the end.'
If he is not wrongly reported, he condemns himself, for in the Cambridge Minor the exact reverse is claimed. It is clamed that tho rounds rung before you go off must be included, otherwise the last clange of the orthodox 720 repeats in each instance.
Mr. Coles and the Methods Commitiee can have it which way they tike, but they cannot have it both ways. In a nutslaell, if rounds ure included at the begimning, you camot come back into rounds again without a repetition. Is that clear?
If rounds are excluded at the beginaing, and ineluded (per Mr. C. T. Coles) at the end, then each of the six 720 's are false, the lest change of cach repeating with a plain lead previously. Now, which wry will they have it? Is that plaix enough?
To say that there are no more false changes in the block of 2,160 than there would have been had the 720's been kept intact, is no exenge. I am exile aware of all the Cambridge virtues, and said so at the Council meetilag, but blae cold fact remains that there aro 719 true changes, and the 720 th is used as the first of the next 720. This means that the last change of a 5,040 must be at handstroke, and it must not be rounds.
Fore is an argument--sonad or otherwise, according to ability to digest it. If every bob in a touch or peal is necessary to complete the said touch or peal, then the backstroke of the trebla lead is necessury, for in Cambridge the Bob is made at the hackstroke change of the treble lead, proving, I think, the absolute necessity of including that change in the 720 , which is fatal to the six 720 's of Bankes James composition. (Mle seventh is not his.)
If Mr. Coles will write out any of the "mixed Doubles' he can play tennis with the false changes. Just draw a line at the 120tly clange, and in the words of the jazz poet, "anyone can see withs only half an eye.
Mr . Trollope in his letter deseribes me as ${ }^{2} \mathrm{Mr}$. Willson and his stick-in-the-muds.' I am not opposed to progress of any kind, but I an conscious that there are many things worth conserving, and which you cannot improve upon. There is very litild virgin soil to dig in these days, and I see no true progress in adulterating the erstwhilo genuine goods, to make mole of them.
W. WILLSON.

Rev. li. Ll. Friwards proposed as an amendment that in view of the fact that the practices affected by this resolution were at present in an entirely experimental stage, further consideration be deferred until a future mecting.
Mr. C. 'T. Coles seconded, and said the question of seven 720 's conslituting one peal was the crux of the whole patter, which poople must hear in mind.
Rev. H. Law James: If you vote for this resolution as it stand are you prepared first of all to cross out from every peal book in the country the peals of Cambridge Minor that heve been rung with my brother's arrangement? ( No, and Mr. Pulling: They have been rung before this resalution.) Is the Yorishire Asseciation prepared to cross out the 9,119 extent of Treble Bob Major with the Lenors together, and in which Jasper Snowdon Jang? Logically, they auglit to, because, after all said and dono, what is sauce for six-bell gander is sance for the oight-bell goose.
The amendment to postpone consideration of the question, on being put, was declared carried by 34 or 35 votes to 24 . It was then put as a substantive motion and carried.

DORCHESTER BRANEH AT MLLTON ABBEY

The summer meeting of the Dorchester Branch pas hald on Satur day week, when Milton Abbey was revisited after several years. To show tho popularity of this remarkahie place, over 100 ringers and friends met and joined in the servion at the Abbey. Those ringers who were making their first visit to the Abbey (aiter an enjoyable motor drive from Botrmemouth and Weymoth, picking tup en route in thee coaches), entered by the Milbourne Romd, which sinks into a wonded glen and comes out on the Abbey Road, and their first implession was one of amazement. The place breaks mexpectediy on the wiew, and heing at a height, the scene, lookiag down on the lake and the silver scenery all around the Abhey grounds, is indeed a sight worth visiting. The Abbey comes into view between the trees and makes a fine pioture. The building stands in the great wonded park in the centre of Dorset. It is a superb Gothic structure, with an elaborate tower, many heautiful windows, and exquisite flying buttresses. It is of Saxon foundation. King Athelstan, the religious and warlike grandson of Alfred the Great, founded the Monastery of Milton in the year 938, as a thanksgiving to God for a remarkable revelation which he received on Milton Hill, and which told him he would conquer bis many enemies and become King of England. Much more might be written, but enough has been said to show that the Abbey Chureh of Milton is not one of the least noteworthy and interesting of the great abhess of Britain.
The first stop en route to Millon was made to Fere Regis (Kingsbere), where the fine perl of six (in D) was rung to Minor and Doubles. This halt gave the wisitors the opportubity of looking round the church, made famous in Hardy's nopel, 'Tess of the D'Urberwilles." The bells at the Abbey are a light peal of eight (but very naisy in the ringing chamber). They were available from. 2.30, and were rung up to 4.30, when service was conducted by the Wiear (Rev. C. J. Ellwood), who gawe the members a most bearty wolcome. At the conclusion of the service he kindly conducted them round the Abbey. Subsequently tea was partaken of dit. the Ham hro Arms, everything being laid out on the lawns for the large party. But alas, the poet's description of "flaming dune * was not ealised, for by teatime the sunshine had all gone, and heavy couds bought the rain, and consequently the meal had to be partaken indinors.
A short husiness meeting was held, at which 18 towers were represented, including a good number from the neighbouring Branch of Wimborne, and two ringers, Messus. Chandler (Hereford) and J. A Waught (Woodford)
Tn the absence of the chairman (Mr. R. N. Dawes), the Master a the Guild (Rev. R. H. Gundry), presided, supported hy Revs. C. A Phillips hon. Secretary, Wimborne Branchi, C. J. Ellwood and C. D. Job, nud Col. and Mrs. H. D. Robson (West Lulworth). Apologies for ahsence were receiven from the president (Earl Shaftesbury), Ven. Archdencon W. S. Moule, Messrs. R. N. Dawes (chairman), J. W. Smith (Dorchester), E. Hutchings (Abhotshury), and A. Gray (Trampton).
The following members were elected: Mrs. H. D. Robson (honor(ry), Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the Essex Association (life), ent Mr. W. Dores (ringing).-Wyke Regis having already been proposed for the mext meating, it was decided to hold this gathering on Saturday, July 27 th.
A comprehensive vote of thanks was moposed by the chairman to the Vienr, the organist and blowet (a noter ringer), and Mr. North, of the local hand. The Secrelary also thanked the Vicar for his kinat assistance and for the use of the hells during the afternoon and evbning, also the Rex. T. W. Tnylor (Bere Regis), Rev. H. A. Cary] (Hilton), and Rev. Canon A. T. Fielps (Pudaletown). The husiness enderi with a hearty vote of thanks to the dhairman. Althougl it was still mining, the members motored tarough the park to Hilton and also to the Abbey, and mang several toudies in the standard methods.

Apologies were received from Mr. A. J. Parsons, Old Hill, who altended the service in the church, but was unable to come to the tea and meeting, having only just recovered from a serious illness, Mr., R. Knowles (Ringing Master of the associationi, Dr. Miles and Canon M. S. Newland.

Several new members were added to the roll, including the Mayor of Bewdey, who became an hon. member. The Mayor thanked the rambers for his election. He said it was the first time he had ever been to a meeting of hellringers, but now that he was a member he should try to be & frequent visitor. He announced that if they cared to accept, he would be pleased to give each one present, is a memento of their visit to Bewdley, a souvenir in the shape of a cigarette ash tray with Bewdley Chureh and tower impressed in the centre
Mr. T. Hemming mored, and Mr. F. G. Bird seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the Mayor for the kind thought which had prompted the gift. The vote was earried with applause.

On the proposal of Mr. T. J. Silter, it was decided to lold the next meeting at Stone.
It was agreed to refer the question of instructors to the Central Committee.
The Secretary moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for presiding at the meeting, for arranging tho service, for the use of the bells, and for allowing the use of his beatiful grounds. He coupled with the vote the names of the Mayor and Matoress for gracing the meeting by their presence.

The motion was carried with acelamation, and the Rector, in reply, said it had given him the greatest possible pleasura to latue ille association at Rewdley

The Mayor also acknowledged the rote of thanks, and said it had bear one of the most pleasnnt afternoans lie lad spent amid quite a happy family gathering.
Mr. T. Hemming moved a hearty vate of thants to Mr. and Mrs. Broad and the splendid band of lady helpers at the tea table, also to the fady orgenist.-This was carried umanimously, and the mernbers then returned to the tower to enjoy further ringing, wich closed a very happr gathering.

YORKSHIRE SOCIETIES FRATERNISE

The anmual joint meeting of the societios in the Southern aren of the Yorkshire Association was held at, Whiston, near Rolherliam, on Saturday, and alihough the numbers fell short of expectations, ahout 30 being present, a very enjoyable time was spent. LFATELERHEAD DISTRTCT TOWERS OUT OF ACTION.
The Leatherhead Distriet held a highly successful meeting at Newdigate on Salurdiy, whon 33 members aml friends from Dorking, Newdigate, Itusherhead, Capel, Cobham, Croydon (St. John's ani St, Peter's), Clarlwoul, Wernham, Thames Diitort, and Rudgwiek, mude good use of the 12 bells awailable (six on either side of the read). Hethods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Whor were rung, and also tronds for those not yet able to ring changes.

The Rectort the Rev. J. W. Wand officiated at the service, and gave the andress, hefore whid lae wolcamed the members of the Fruild to Nowdigule. The address was straighe to the point, and was appreciaded by all. The service over, ten was parlaken of at the Six Hells lm, and ower this the Rector presided. The toa was a most excellent repast, and wemb far towards making the meeting such a surcess.
At the sucenorling business meeting, the Rector was in the chair. The election of Mr. W. H. Southeard, of ']'uro, as a compounding mendin prior to it peal attempt was confirmed, aud one new memher, Mr. Ji. Jnsmmen, of Dorking, was also elected.
The Hom. Socretary, Mr. A. R. Pink, then proposed the usual voles of thanks, whiels were seconded by Mr. Albert Harman (Ringing Mastor). - 'lin Chaimman made a witty spech in response.
$\Lambda_{j}$ this point it was made known to the meeting that Capel bells were now declared to be urifingable. The Tew. J. W. Ward promptly invited the Capel ringers to we his bells when they wished to. This generous ofler was mucly approciated by all the menters, and they marked their appreciation in mo theertain manacr. We could wish for sudh an incumhenl as this in many other parishacs, the names of which spring reatily to mind. This district has now two of its Twelve towers and of aotion, and others that can do with alteration. Ti wand seem well bo consulb that friend of all ringers, tho Archdencon of Dorking, about the matter.

Following the meting, some of the memhers returned to the tower for further ringing nud the bells were kept going till 9 p.m., when thoy were lowered in peal.
this concluted ond of the most successfinl meetings ever held by the Lealherhead District.

DIOCESAN 'CONSULTANTS.'

One of the resolutions passed by the Central Council at their last meeting asked each association to appoint a consultant to the Diocesan Advisory Conmittee or Committees in its area. Some years ago the Council made an effort to get the Advisory Committees each to appoint a member who was conversant with bells and bell ringing. The response was very limited in extent, but wherever the suggestion was acted upon, valuable advice has been available to the Committee. Unfortunately many Committees ignored the request. We are not quite certain that they were approached by the right channel, but with some of them, at any rate, the result would probably have been the same from whatever direction the advance was made. On these committees the antiquarian side is aiways strongly represented, and we know of at least one instance where this element deliberately used its influence to keep the nominee of the local diocesan association off the Committee, for reasons best known to itself, but which our readers may very easily guess. It is this sort of prejudice which the ringing associations will find very hard to break down, and it is doubtful whether Advisory Committees with this kind of bias are likely to be any more inclined to consult a 'consultant' than they have been to welcome men with similar qualifications as fellow nuembers of their Committee.

But if this second resolution passed by the Council is to lave any effect at all, it must go further than the minutes of the Council. The associations must act and those who have not got a member on the Diocesan Board or who have no one who is regularly consulted when bell and tower restorations are involved, should take steps to appoint a competent consultant and to let the Advisory Board know that such knowledge and experience is at their disposal. It will probably be best if there is only one consultant for each diocese, and, if his opinions are to carry weight, he must have a practical knowledge which will stand the test of close examination by those who are likely to disagree with him. He must be able, il necessary, to argue his case, because where the antiquarian expert has to be met it would be futile if the 'practical man' could not keep his end up in an argument and fatal to any future acceptance of lis recommendations if his contentions are lightly upset or his prestige damaged. Having found the man with the knowledge necessary adequately to fill the post, the association should then take steps to ensure his recognition by the diocesan authorities. Probably the best way in which this can be done is through some influential clergyman or layman who has the ear of the Bishop. A merely (Continued on page 418.)

formal letter to the secrelary of the Committee, or to the diocesan for that matter, is unlikely to bear much fruit, unless it happens that either is already interested. But where previous effort to get a member on the Committee has failed it will not be easy to 'break the ice' to secare recognition for a consultant.

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC.

Considerable atteation has ben cirawn to the ringivg of church belis by a letter which appeared recently in 'The Daily Mail,' from Mr, G. E. C. Kendle, of $7 \mathrm{I}^{2}$, Lowisham Park, S.E.13, who complaned of the ringing of tho bells at Lewistam, and asked if they came under the head of public nuisances. He added :
-The jingle-jengle must be heard before the extent of the nuisance can he conceived. On Monday, June Jrd, for instance, the belle begat at 6 am. and rang for 55 minutes. I got up and went to the church and protested to the clief bellringer.

On Sunduys the bells ring from 10.15 to 10.50 , and often from $5.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{mL}$. to 6.25 .

Ont Thurslay the ringers surpassed thenselves, singing from 6.30 to 8.35 willout a stop.
'Lhese belis are not pealed; and they are rang without discrimination, methof, or rhythm

I fim nost prejudfeed against church belle, but they slould be chimed rhythmically $a n d$ tunefully.

One of the difficulties with complaints of this kind is that the ordinary public, reading such a letter, is unaware of the motives that have prompted it. Mr. Kcadle is, we are informed, a schoolmaster at Lewisham, and lives 300 or 400 yards from the cluurch, and not long ago he publicly complatned of St. John's bells, which are about a mile away from his holse.
The ringing on June 3 rid was, of course, to celebrate the Kitg"s birthdip, and that 'on Thursday" was a peal attempt, which came to rrief just before half-way, and when the names of the hand are known (f,. Warnett, sen., A. W. Coles, J. Bennett, H. Warnett, jum. T. Garraid, J. Dafters, J. F. Davis and C. W. Roberts), the sugeeslion that ithese bells are not pealed, and they are rung without diserimigation, method or rhythm, is really too funny-to ringers. Thnhappily, the misrepresentation in the public Press cannote bo countered by such knowledge, and Mr. Kendie may probably be welI satisfied that his complaint received so much notice.

Pcople who make complaints of this kiad are not always prompted entirely by public motivas; there is sometimes personal feeling belined them. It would be interesting to know if there is nlyything behind this present attempt to stir up trouhle at Lewisham, where in the forty years' oxporience of Messers. H. Warmett, sen., and C. H. Walker there las been only ane previous complaint.

DURFAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

The members of the Southera District held theiv meeting at Staildrop on Saturday, June 15th. Therte was a good attendance of ringors, the following towers being represented: Darlingtwn, Holv Thinity, St. John, St, Cuthbert, Bishop Auckland, Shildon, Hivrworth. Gainford and the local tower, members of the Newcastle Cathedral Band, also members of the Oleveland and North Forkshive Associntion, from North Ormeshy and Ripon. Touches of Bob Major, Domble Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Stedmay and Grandsire Triples, Cambridge Surprise Minor and Bob Minor were sung during the afternoon and evening. Twenty-thret ringers saf down to a good tea, arranged by Mr. $\mathbf{H}$. Shipp, captain of the local hand.

A vote of thanks the Vicar, the Rev. H. S. G. Splarrier. for the 1150 of the hells was passed and it was decided to hoiki the uexi meet ing at Shildon on Saturday. September 7th.

SECESSION OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL Fo the Editor.

Sir,-In roply ta the hon. secretary of the Central Council, I beg to point out that he has entirely misinterpreted my remarks regard. ing the sum of $£ 4,000$. I did not state that the Central Council had received approximately $£ 4,000$.
However, to make clearer wr point stated in "The Ringing World, of May 31st, I give the following:-
(The following figures are extracted from the hon. treasurer's books of the Gloucester and, Bristol Diocesam Association of Church Belluingers.)
It has cost this association to be represented at 16 Council meetings the sum of $£ 3519 \mathrm{~s}$. 1d., an average of 425 s . per annum. Aggregating the 36 years that the association was affliated or represented, this totals $£ 81$.

Take this average as a basis for 32 affiliated associations, Guilds nud societies, the total is 82,592 . To this adal the sum received by the Conneil in affiliation fees (I have not included these in the extractis from the how. Ereasturer's bools), the total is 83,242 (not far off my mark). So you see, Sir, what affilietion to the Central Couneil has cust associations and members.

Now, I ask, are the associations entitied to express their opinion upou mattors of importance to the Exercise and instruct their members how to vote?

I contend that, the sooner the Central Council realise that they sue in axistence to create Sunday serwiee ohurch bellimgers, and that scientific maticers are of an asida nature, the better for the future of the Exercise.
There should be a greater stimutus from the Central Council to urge the well advanced ringers to teach young ringers.
One point of Mr. Young's lettor is interesting, that is, he states that the Council has $£ 130^{\circ}$ in hand or invested. Had he mentioned this in his statement of accounts printed in your journal of May 17 th, would it have infuenced the guestion of associations paying larger Affliation fees?

Now, to turn to Rev. C. D. P. Davies' letter, re the last two or three lines of your opening parugraph in your leader of May 31st, Which Rev. Davies most cordially endorses, might I say that I, too, most cordially endorse what you have stated in your views. Furthermote, I can assura you that an effort was made to place the matter for discussion upors the Central Gouncil agendia, but, alas! as I have previouly stated, the members of the Council are afraid, or too reserved, to bring the matter forward even though for a healthy discussion. I have correspondence to substantiate this fact that an effort was made.

Having failed in that direction, I reverled to what has been attempten hefore hy leading members of this association in 1912 and -ther periods luefore that.

The late Mr. Raymond (Jack) Wilkins was one of the most clearminded of men, and his sole object was the welfare of the assacistion and its younger members. He proposed in 1912 that the assaciation slnould cease affilation.
Mr. F. K. Fowalk, a stalwart of this association for nearly 50 Jeans, has periodioally remarked that the association merely wasted money by reanaining nfiliated, and urged that the money should be spent by eending the 'representatives' to our towers to teach the Folusg rimgers. Can it be said that these men were 'fogged'?

Mr. F. G. May, who was once a memher of the Council, afterwards tried to reduce the number of representatives from this association.

Mr. Howeld was, with Mr. Wilkine, anxious to keep to the most important point, i.e., the fundamental principle of teaching ringers to ring the bells of the House of God and for His service, not to the point as to whether to ring what the Centra] Council described or prescribed.
After all, Mr. Dawies must agree with me that the main object of our heing ringers is to ving the bells for Sunday service, and we should be hetter served in our organisation if the Central Council made effarls to fill the empty towers ind athach ringers to the ringerless rapes.
With regard to his points, I think further comment is necessary. 1. I must rensind him that the president of the Council definitely stated to a nomber: 'You are not here as a delagate,' and in view of this I do not agree witly what Mr. Duvies writes.
Personally, I should not fand I do not think any member of the Council would) disregard the words of the president and continue as a delegate, even though Mr. Davies now suggests that this is what thay happen. At this point I would remind him of the question of - Diplomas for young ringers.

This item was placed upon the agenda of this association in 1928 (aceording to its reference from the Central Council), and he will remember that there was a difference of opinion, but without fuld diacussion lie, ag chairman, said, Of courge, we leave that to the members' own discretion.' As a member of the Council at that time, I was anxious to have the views of my association, but could not get it.
2. The ruling of the president was not wrong, and some few days ego I wrote him stating that I considered his ruling just, aecording to the rules of tis Conneil.
3. The motion from this association was in the hands of the Cewtral Council in plenty of time to have seen rectified, had the Central Council intimated that the motion was nou in correct order.
4. I have had advice upon this matter, and I refer it to the Central Council that they might bave an opinion from its Legel Committee.

Associations are constituted hodies for one yoar only. clearly made out, as it is with this association, that the . If it is Council cannot be aceepted as binding, than the rules of the association come first and formost, and when the motion to cease affliation is passed, there is the end of it. And that being so the fees are not payable. The hon. secretary of the Central Council has been good enough to confirm this in a letter of his dated April 25tb, as follow' :
"I cannot gite you the name of the person, inasmuch as the money was sent anonymously on behalf of the Gloucester and Gristol Association. But, of course, should your association elect to withdraw at your annual meeting, the money can be returned to you.' Therefore, Mr. Davies wilh see that tho money was not payable gecording to our rules and according to the hon. secretary of the Genfral Caun-
It is impossible for the ofteials of this association to run counter with the officials of the Central Council or to the rules of that body, because in 1920 this association (with other associations) informerl the Central Counci that they could not necept the rules of the Gentral Council as binding.
If $I$ was wrong in regard to the holding of affiliation fees, as Mr. Davies asserts I was, would it not he proper for the hon. secretary of the Central Council to write to the executive committee and complain of my action? No, Sir, the action of the hom, secretary appears to negative the motion upon our agenda by accepting anonymous affliation fees.
As then, and now, the Central Cauncil will leave no stone unturned to reserve its autocracy

With regard to the comfort that Rev. Davies speaks of in his last statement, I might mention that I forecast this to Mr. Cave at the conclusion of our mecting, and I agree with the selection and election of Mr. Cave as as 'permanent' member of the Council. I sincerely hope that this will prove to be so.
My contention is this, give the menbers of ercry Guild throughaut the country a chance to bring matters of importance before the Central Council, not by haplazard methods, but by a duly constituted rule in both the Central Council rules and that of itg affliated bodies.
It would be ridiculous for any member to quote rules of the Central Council to tha ringers of Englend, as they do not know, and, so far as my experience and knowledge goes, they da not care, what the rulos are.

I would add a quotation fram a speech by the late Sir A. P. HeyFood at the inauguration of the Council

They had yet to make a position for themselwes; and it depended upon the judgment with whick their decisions were drawn up, whellier the Council would come to be regarded as the final authority upon all ringing matters.

What was the reply to this of 80 per cent. assaciations affiliated in 1920? And, furthermore, why?
I reiterate my statement. Upon all matters of importance to the Exercise the associtions should decide which way their representatives voted. Upon scientific matters (which nre of seconclary importance to the Exercise) they would use their own discretion.
The Literature and Press Committee of the Central Council are somowhat anticipating in regard to chureh bells and street noises. I could name many towers in the west where peal ringing used to take place avery few weeks, and at that timo there was Sunday service ringing. In these places there are no Sunday service ringors now, and peal ringing is gone for ever.
As long as parishioners are accustomed to the sound of bells there is no fear of their being suppressed, but immediately a lapse oceurs then they prefer the sileace.
To stimulate ringing by helping struggling Guilds and by gratually filing the empty rigging clambers should be the foremost point of Bll mssociations, and should be tho maic policy of the Central Council of Church Bellringers.
In conclusion, I would paint aut to Rev. C. D. P. Davies that the annual meeting of this association was cxtensively adyerfised and copies of the molions spread breadcas. I regard the smell attendapce as an indication of approval given to the motion, otherwise members would have been there to defend the Couccil. The other 34 members supporting the motion must reply, if necessary, to the point as to whether they were 'fogged, 'hut I rather fancy that they have sufficient intellect to know which way to vote.- Yours faithFully, > Late Member of the Central Coumeit.

IN THE GARDEN OF ENGLAND  WHERE JAMES BARHAM RANG.  BY W. H. T

Following his annual practice, Mr. Irank Bemeti, of Briduton, spend Whitsuntide in the connty of Kent, where Mr. H. Parkes, with Ashford as a centre, kindly fixed up live towers for peal aitempts during a thvee days' stay. Members of the Kent Cotniy Association ralled remad to halp the visitors, and the respective clergy and towerkepers did their sinre to welcame them, and the result was mosi satisfactory to all concerned both as to the weather and peals accomplished. A word of praise is due to the Southern Raibay Compary and the Cambrian bus serviee, wha did yeoman work to convey muscs of holiday folk through the 'Garden.' Their effciency allowed the ringers to fulfil the prog'amme, even if "corridor stand, Wus cujoyed by the London mon on homeward way
The Clarch of SS. Mary and Ethelburga, Lyminge, has not lost any of its historical interest. I'lie marble tablet beside the south porch reads: "Tlac Burial Place of St. Ethelburga the Queen foundress of this Churd and firgt Abbess of Lyminge, A.D. 638-47. The relics of the Queen were removed in 1085 to St. Gregorys, Can terbhry, by Lanfranc. She was a denghter of Ethelbert, King of Font, 633, and portions of the origimal church founded by her are now wisble, after a blousand years' interval. Excavations and restiorabions reveal Roman, Saxon, Norman and Danish periods, the lust-mumed of destraction in their carious raiding expeditions to Enge lnid, hefore the Norman Conquest. The tower, irsually of most inberest to ringers, was built by Cardinal Morton, complated in 1527. The bells, dativg from 1631 , were cast iuto a ring of six, the trebles added in 1904 with new steel frame and fittings complete. They form a pleasing octave, tinging being carried on from the ground Hoor opers to the nave.
Mr. J. Steddy, of the ganden of Eden-brigge, has vivid recollections of the excuvated rums. Some 25 years ago lie made a nose dive' into then whilst hurrying to the tower on a dark night for a peal athempi with the writer. Since then fron railings have been erected alongide the path. For muny years Mr. W, E, Pitman, M.B., was organisi at this church before moviug to Canterbury, and there are several ringers in the county who liave lad the pleasure of acting as 'mutst ' pro tem. lo his young offisping, so that 'Father' might take purl in a "tauch ${ }^{1}$ on practice nights. Mr. J. F. Cheeseman, owo hergan his career as a conductor with a peal of Minor in this town oll the old six bells, was born a few miles away, and we find the sathe family name in peals recorted by Barlam, that man of Kent, al Maidstone more than a century and a half ago

The towerkceper, Mr. Tanton, met the company at the clurch. He is well over 70 years of age, nnd is still a "goer.' Ho asked most kindly after the henlth of Harry Barton, of Deal, and his walking mate, who both took part in the first peal of Major on the bells with lim-a gentle reminder, of anoliep quarter-century gone.

The 'unexpocted' is proverhial in ringing outings, and the be gimings of this ome were very dismal when two man were marked up 'absem winhat leave,' The Lom Bishop, who resides beside the ehtureh, suwed tino situation by uot only granting permission to ming but allowing the use of his telephono as woll. The missing coluple were 'rullg up,' and so on afterwards switelad into Double Norwich to tho glary and honour of Oqeen Ethelburga.
On leaving the churols, the party complied with the lefter of the L. Y. law by gathering round a small wooden box divided into 24 squares. They privalely placed the condenis of the box into the nverted hathdstrake tildum posilion. Renders wil] sympathise with the Ameritati prolibition tactins of the company when it is known that the eontetits suited all palates.

AT GANTERBURY AND ASEFORD

At Sti. Stephen's Church, Canterbury, the absence of Mr. E. Buesden. through indisposition, was ropretted. His excellent substitote well earmed the 'star' accorcled him in the peal list. At the conclusion of the peal, local listeners congratulated the bant at 9.30 mm ., whilst local elosing hours, 10.30 , fillowed the latter to enjoy theit gecond repast sinco early morning. The organiser met with another difficulty on the wry home. A huyst tube of the motor-cyole menat a five-mile walls in the clear meonlight for him and Mr. Pillion Cheeseman. At Llin lime of witing, the Whitsurn 'death roll' of mator cyclists number 21. A few move are on tho 'same way home, and it is rumoured that Prokes is on the list of eligible riders.
On sumday, at Ashford, to quole from an I8tly century peal board, "The exponents of the grand art of change ringing ascended the noble campunile of the Parish Church and rang that ingenious peal, known to the Exereise as... There were IG men present to do duty for the $10.30 \mathrm{~d} . \mathrm{m}$, matins, and some of them, it is to be feared, rid mot, ationd the 5 am . ringmg to honour the gayest of the Church's festivals by an early morning peal. However, what was done was well done jn Stedman, Donbla Nowwich and Superlative, and ila visitors' hook duly signed
The ehurch, dedicuted to St. Mary, has a tall and handsome central Lower, a landmark proniment. for many miles in all direntions, surmounled with nassive turnets at arch corner, and finished oach will spirat and weather vane. Theme is much ascillation when the bells noe rung in monds. Most of the towerg in this part of the county are very similar in outline, and lake after the Bell Harr tower at Canterbury Cathedral. There are ten bells, the two "dead trebles employed for tune chiming, which ure none too happy in their gelection, one for each day of the week. The majarity of the old eight were cast by Hatch about 1620.
At Harrietsham, the Vicar kindly permitted a Sunday aftemoon pal, the attempt for Superlative lasting an hour. The completaly new peal of bells, frame and futings, left the two men conecraed no. ercuse for the failure, Afer tea, the party rang for service a 5.30 p.m. The tower is at the west end of the mave, witli a large Gothic archway now filled up with the new organ, destroying tee view of windows east and west the entire lenglif of the church.
There have been three different ringing floors-the present beneath the bells and the former one on groturd foor, where the iron sally guides are still to be seen. The original ringing foor, where the Lewham and Leeds company did so much ringing-after the eight bells were put in in 1742-was level with the head of the west doar and liad an open balcony on the nave side. It was reached by the same old stone stairs, but the foor is now built up

OLD PEALS RECALLED

An old peal board has been saved, and is row on the walls. The following are the lines recorded:

Izi this Tower was completely Rung by the Lealiam Compary the following eight-bell peal, viz. December 8th, 1746, was :17ng 10,08i changes of that admired Peal call'd Bob Major Deublea, in 7 hour by John Epps tireble, Saml. Grayling 2nd, Thas. Barham 3rd, James Barlam 4th, Abm. Barham 5th, Wm. Fuint 6th, John Freeland 7th Jolm Hunt tenor

March 5 th, 1743, was ruug a Musieal Peal of 6,720 Chauges of Oxford Treble in 4 hours 21 minutes, inciuding Jacob Blundeli and Beajn. Walker Iune 13tl, 1743 , was rung 6, 720 色oh Major in 4 haurs 31 mińuteb including Wilm. Eagles.

N.F.-Here wass also Rung 5,040 Bob Major (including Nichls Grayling and Ifeu Plane), also 5,040 Rob Major Triples, 5,040 Plain Bolb Triples, 5,040 Fullam Triples, 10,080 Bob Major and 5,040 Bob Major Doubles Reversed.

The above Ringers first Instituten the Leeds Society, whose par formance in Ringing has not heen equalled by any Society of Ringers And there is now surviving Saml. Grayling, John Treciand, Abrm Thos. and James Barlinm, and Jolm Hunt, who new erected this In scription, end these six Ringers, with the assistance of Thos. Lacey and Willm. Davis, Rumg at Leeds Jamuary lat, 1793, 5,040 Rob Major in 3 hours 12 minutes, whose ages when andrled together is 577 years And it is Remarkable that this Peal completes one Hundred peals Rung at different Places not less than 5,040 changes each by the above James Terliam. 1794. R. T. Bottle.

Farham's 'century' is probably the first recorded by any chang ringer. On exrmining his peal book it will be seen the two 1743 performances mentioned on the tablet are not recorded in it.
There is a framed card which says: "Peal of 8 Bells were cast at Whiscohapel in 1748, and that Thos. Loster cast I4 peals for the county of Kent between 1735 and 1769.
There is a doubt as to this being the fact. Six bells were cast in 1742, and two trebles Edded, and the 5thr recast in 1744, accordine to the ingcriptions. Surely the old Kent veterans never broke three new bells in two years.
(To be continuid.)

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

A must successiul meeting of Souning Deanery Branch was held at Wargrave on Saturday, June 15th. Ringing commenced at 3.30 on the fitse ring of bells, situated near the River Thames. Sorrice was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. M. Winter), who aftemards kindly showed the ringers the points of interest in this mos bean tiful church, now completely restored after being almost totally destroyed by fire early in 1914
Tea followed in the Parisls Room, kindly provided by the Wicar The Fing. Sectetary sat dow.
The Fion. Secretary, Mr. W. J. Paice, gave notioe that flon nexi combined practice would be at Tinchampstead in July, and that joint meeting with the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the Basingstake District of the Winchester nud Ports mouth Diocesan Guiki would be bedd at Fawley, Hents, ou Augus 31 st
The Secretary, an behalf of iluse present, tianked the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service aud for providing such a bountiful tea; and the organist, who kindly ationded great ineonvenience. The Viear briefly replied, and invited thos prosent to take a walk ronnd the Vicarage grounde.
Owing to illness no further ringing could he done at Wargrave but af Twoford good use was made of the bells until mine o'clock the methods rung heing Geandsire, Stedman, Bob Mujor, Trebl Bob, and Lithle Bobs Major, with rounds for leginners. The tower represented were Binfield. Boyno Fill, Gookham, Finclampstead Furst, Hillingdon, Slongh, Twyford, Wargmwe, Wokinglam (Al Saints'), while the Mastey and Lhe general secretary of the Guild were also preseat.

THE HISTORY OF BELLS AND RINGING

To the Editor.

Sir,-The very line report of the Literature and Press Committee of the Cendral Counci, quoted in your sssue of June 7th, p. 361, mentions the publication of the splendid volume, ' Bells Through the Ages," which is, as stated, a grcat addition to bell literature. One has anly to sec the favourable criticisms of it in many of the leading papers and magazines, aud to hear of the enthasiasm which it has evoked in outside circles, to know that it really fills a longfelt want, i.e., a comprehensive work giving all sides of the subject of bells, viz., early history, celpbrated bells, founding, decoration, change ringing, chimes, cerillons, legends, etc. It has met with a splendid reception, and can be looked upon as a standard work of referenee in this many-sided subject.
The 'L. and P.' Committee then stato that a further work is in course of preparation, and $I$ assume (I trust correctly) this refers to the work I have now been commissioned to write on the "History of Change Ringing.' Whereas Mr. Nichols work deals almost enfrely with the many phases of hells, mine is to be on ringing. Already, in response to my last appeal in these columns, I liave had much help from many ringing friends all over the world, and vaitsable MSS. and books kindly lent, as well as bistorical data copied for me. I have now completed several chapters, dealing with the commencement and growth of clange ringing, early ringing sociotics, ancient peal records, etc., and many other sides of our intercsting art and science.'
Hay I onct more appeal to ant ringers who have, or know of, any ancient accounts of ringing in the old days, old peal records or suchlike, kindly to let me know, or send copies for insertion in my forthcoming book, which I want to be as comprehensive as posible.
I arm sincerely grateful to the many wha have already sent me much valnable information. - Fours sincerely,

A BISHOP IN A CATHEDRAL BELFRY

On Sunday aftermoon, June 16th, Bishop Thomas, of U.S.A., ascended the 250 steps to the Durlam Gathedral belfry, and watched the ringing for the aftermoon sarvice. Ha said ho was delighted, as he had never seen bells rung before. It would be interesting to know if a Bishop has sat in a Cathedral belfry and watched ringing for a service on any prerious occasion.

COMMEMORATION BOARD UNVELED,
A peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal was rung at Stockton Parish Churca in 3 lirs. 25 mins. on March 15th, 1924. A unique feature of this peal was that threa generations of the Newton family took part in it, their respeotive ages being at that date 68, 44 , and 19 . The ringers were as follows: William Newtor (grandfather) 1, William L. Newton (grandson) 2, James W. Newtoll (father) 3 , Alfred E, Bacan 4, Rev. Albert Simpson 5, Thomas Hensher 6, William Ellerington 7, Thomas Laneaster 8, Thomas Metcalfe 9, Joseph E. Sykes (conductor) 10.
To commemorate this peal, a board was unveilod on a recent evening by the Rev, G. W. Froggett, M.A., Vicar of Stockton, and a number of rimgers from the district atiended the ceremony
Mr. Froggett made reference to the fact that Mr. W. Newton has been connected with the church and belfry for over 55 years, and expressed the hope that le and his family would continue their counection for many years to came.
As the board was unveiled and the ringers read the inscription, memoriem of the conductar, his genial persanality snd his peverfailing enthusiasm for peal ringing came back to them. They raalised with profound regret, that 'Uncle Joe' will conduct no more parls on this side of the reil
The bells were rung in Grandsirs and Stedman Caters both before and after the ceremony, the three geacrations taking pari.

LAVENHAM RINGING ANNIVERSARY

A verp happy gathering took place nt SS. Peter and Paul's Church on Saturday, June 22nd, when upwards of thirty wisitors joined the local society for the ringing anniversary. During tho afternoon and evening several short touches on thess far-famed bells were rumg, the methods being Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bab, Doublo Norwicli, Kent. Oxford, Gambridge and Superlative. Tho handbells were alsh brought into use. Among those present were Messrs, G. B. Lucas (Walthamstow), J. Lee (Streatham), T. King (Shipley, Yorks) and Mise K. Willers (Tumpington, Cambs). Other places represented were Bury St. Edmunds, Cornard, Culford, Colchester, Coggeghall, Berglacit, Forpham St. Martin, Grotoa, Falstead, Hassett, Horringler, Long Melford, Little Waldingfield, Sible Hedingham, Otiey anci Wallington (Surtey)
The ringers wish to thank the Rey. G. Lennos Conyngham for the use of the bells, awd Mr. A. Symonds, towerkecper.
On the Sunday evening following, an attempt for a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, artanged specially for Messers. Ti. King and G. B. Lucas, came to grief after 1,180 changes of excellent striking.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The first peal of Double Oxford Bob was a 6,000 rung at St. Giles? Norwich, on July 6th, 1832.
Holt's Original was rung for the first time on July 7th, 1751, at St. Margaret's, Westmingter, when the composer calker' it from manuscript.

Carter's odd-bob peal of stedman was rumg, non-conducted, on handuells by the College Youths on July 10th, 1917.
Father and son rang their first peal of Grandsire Caters at their first attempt at Dudley last Salurday, and a correspondent asks if this is the first time this has been done.
A sentence of two months' imprisonment was passed at sendwich, Kent, on Monday week, on Charles Reynolds, who was accused of assaulting bis uncle, Alfred Reynolds, in the belfry of St. Peter's Church. Mr. Alfred Reynolds is the sexton, and the asseult took place while he was engaged in ringing the curfew. It was snid that the younger man came to the belfry and shouted like a madman. Fe then struck his uncle on the cheok and in the mouti.

THE YOUNG BRIGADE.

At the age of 11 years 4 months, Master F. J. Bowley, jun., of Kirbv Muxloe, near Leicester, rang a peal of Doubles, 5,040 clanges, on five bells (no cover). Is this the earliest age yet in peal records?
W. P. Whitehead called Holt's Original twice before his 16th birtluday. His first peal as conductor, however, was Superlative one montl after his 15 th birthday. Before he had turned 18 years he had called 40 peals and headed tho M.C.A. conductors' list in 1925.
The correspondent who sends us the above particulars says lie is unable to answer Mr. E. H. Spice's query regarding a seved-method peal. but he woukl Jike to ask a similar question in regard to the following methods, all rung at the age of 14 years by w. P. Whitelnead: Stedman Triples, Grandsire Trjples, Treble to Cambridge Major, Superlative, Oambridge, London, Kent Treble Bob Majar, all rung 'inside' with the one exception, and the total for the year 17 peals.

Among others who lave made an early start ju peal ringing lave been E. G. Matthews (youngest son of Mr. J. D. Matthews), who tana 1-2 to a handbell peal of Bob Major at the age of 13 y years, and Farold J. Witchell, son of the late Mr. Bernard Witchell, who rang the 5 th at St. Chod's R.C. Cathedral, Birminglamm, to a peal of Stedman Triples when he was 13 years 10 months old.

PEALS OF MINOR.  \section*{To the Editor.}

Dear Sir,-I have followed with interest the controversy on the question of the necessary conditions for a peal of Minor, nud I think that those who are interested in the matter would do well to pause and consider why the ruling in the 'Rules and Decisions' was framed.
In the "eighties' a habit lata grown up of ringing fourteen 360 's all in different methods; and these performances were considerad by some to be superior to seven 720 's in different methods. But, when tho fact that in ringing a 'half-extent" the tenors could alwnys be kept together was taken into consideration, it became apparent that these performances wore inferior to, and not in adrance of, the seven 720's. Hence the ruling as it at present stands.-Yours, elc.,
E. BANKTE JAMPS.

CUMBERLANDS AT EPSOM

One of the oldest and the youngest of ringing sorieties fraternised on Saturday at Epsom, when the Ropal Cumberland Youtlis and the Guildford Diocesan Guik held a joint meeting. The Cumberland came from a wide district round London, and included three generations of one family from Crayford, with 'Teldy, jum., with recent Eelolarship honomrs sitting lightly upon his shoulders, the yroungest among Cumberlands. The Master of the Royal Society superyised the ringing, which beran wilh rounds on the plessant peal of ten for some of the least experienced. Grandsine and Stedman Caters, Cam. bridge Royal and London and Bristol Surprise Majar followed.
The Rector (the Rev. C. R. P. Muir) had arrangen a deliglitful service, the full choiv being uresent and rendering music, including an anthem, worthy of a full charch. Tea was servod in the adjoining Church Fall, formerly a hrewery, and now housing many of the pargehial activities, including it hoxing saloon. in which, in the winter, the jockey apprentices of this world-famed racing centro disport themselves. The Rector is a man of wide views and sympathics, and his welcome to the two societies was wholehearthe. Ho presided at the tea and was accompanied by Dr. C. F. Waters, the organist. Mr. J. D. Mathewa, the Cumberlands' Master, mroposed a very cordial vote of thanks to the Rector and choir, and this was seconded by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, who welcomed the Cumberlands t the area of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Thrs Rector replied, and the memhors then returned to the cower fny furthev ringing.

AFINLLATION FEE INCREASED.

Ln the absence of Mr. E. W. Elwell, who had had to leave the aneeting, tha Rev, C. W. O. Jenkyn moved: '(a) That homorary members puy an alfiliation fee of 5 s . each per annum; (b) that associations in future pay a fee of $5 s$. per representative per annum.' Mr. Jenkyn said the reason for the proposal was that the Coural cartainly wanted more money. They were going on to-day with the sume affliation fee that they started with, which, he thought, could herdly be said of gnything else. Prices bad all gone up, but the Council weat on with the same affiliation fee. In these days the associations were considerably better in funds than theg were when the Conncil began.-The Rev. C. A. Clements seconded.

Hr. J. Bunt moved that the portion of the motion relating to hos. members be deleted. His association (Bath and Wells) was quite willing to support the second proposal, and instrncted him fo vote for it, but they would not tie his hands with regard to the hon. members. The Council, lie contended, wera not justified in penalising the men who came there at their own expense, after being elicted by the Council for the assistance they could give.

Mr. A. H. Pulling, who seconded, said honaracy members were placed on the Council for the work they had done or were doing for the Exercise or the Council, and they ought not to ask them to pay five shillings, as well as defray ali their own expenses. He thought it wonld be a "cheek' to do so. If the Council were short of money, let them say so and go openly to tho associations and ask for it.

The amendment was carried by a large majority, and the proposal to impose an affliation fee on the kon. members was thus defeated.

There was no discussion on the secoad part of the proposition, to increase the affilition feo of aesociations from 2s. Erl. to 5s. per representative, and it was put to the meeting aud carried by 44 rotes to six.

CONSUL'IANTS FOR ADVISORY BOARDS.

The Rev. H. Drake proposed: '(a) The Council asks each association to appoint a consultant to the Adwisory Committee or Committees in its area. (b) The Council asks each association to make every effort to get as many ringers as possible elected to Parochial Church Councils, to Diocesan Conferences and to the Churel Assembly.* Mr. Drake said the resolution had been described as one which the Council carried several years ago. That was not so. The difference was that on the previous occasion they did their best to get the Advisory Committees to recognise the associations and also to get the Parochial Church Council resolution put it tlie ofber way round. It asked each association to allocate somene whom the Advisory Committes for the diocese could consult, if they wished to do so, and it alsa asked each associntion to make every elfort to get as mang ringers as possible elected to the Parochial Church Councils, the Diocesan Conferences and the Church Assembly. The ringers, be said, were the best people in the different parishes to put on the Comncil-they were the most intelligent people (langhter and applause), tuecause their art, as they had found out that day in the difficult questions they liad discussed, lad taxed the intelligence of the most intelligent people in the country (laughter). Therefore, they were the people who ouglat to he on the rifferent Councils and who slould make up the greater part of each Diocesin Conference and of the Churel Assembly (laughter and epplave). Why was it necessary to put forward this resolution? Ringers, as a rule, werte rather retiring people and the desult was they dixd not get put on the Parochial Cliurch Cannils. It seemed to bim that it was their duty, as a Council, to do what they could to encourage ringers to stand for election. Ho hoped, if the resolution was carried, that the members would go back to their parishes and to their dioceses and say that they had been asked to put forward ringers as mombers of the Cancils, members of the Thacessn Conferences and mbombers of the Church Assembly, and, added Mr. Drake, amid laughter, he loped they would all meet at the first meeting of the new Church Assembly.-Mr. C. J. Sedgeley seconded the motion.
Mr. C. H. Howard asked what was the result of the previous resolution that was passed, recommending that on all Diocesan Advisory Foards there should be somcone with a knowledge of bells and ringing. The present resolution, lie thouglt, did not go far anongh. A consultant was not in suck a strons position as a member of the Advisory Board. He was appointed to the Chelmsford Diocesan Advisory Board by the late Bishop. At that time there was an application [ur f factlty concerning the bells from a certain parish, and the faculty hra been refused. Fad he been only a consultant he conld have done very little, but, being a member, lie was able to plead the case and eventually, after first getting the question postjomed so that it might be furtiber considered, he succeeded in getting through a unanimons recommendation that the faculty be granted. He was in an much stronger pasition as a member of the Roadd, because, as a. consultant only, the case would probably have been decided in lis abstence. If they could get the Boards to allow at least one member from each association, they would be doing a great deal betber scrvice than merely asking for a consultant.

The Rev. C. A. Clements said the associations could not anponin anybody to an Advisory Board. It was entively in the hatuls uf the Bishop and his adviser, the Ohancellor of the Diocese.
Mr. Hownrd said he did not suggest they could appoint nnyone, but they could ask the Bislop in each dioceste to do so and arggest that the association should nominate a suitable person.

Mr. Beams said what many of them wantal to know was thow to get the Bishop's ear.
Mr. J. Funt said in the Batli and Wells Association they appointed sameone as adviser, whe acted gratis, and was prepared to go to any church to make inspections and attend any meetings to revort.

VAREING FXPERIENOES.

Mr. F. Wilford said in his diocesp one or two clergy wroie to the Bishop of Peterhozough suggesting that someane should be appointecl with a knowledge of bells and ringing to serve on the Boatd, and the Bishop asked him to do 80 . If a Bishop were written to by sume responsible person, lat would no doubt be only too pleased to appuitat someane with the necessary knowledge

Major Hesse said in the Guildford Diocese tho Bishop himaele told him that he was a member of the Board, but Hus had never yet been invitexl to attend a meeting.

The Rev. Tyrwhitt Drake said as a result of the Inst resolution of the Council he veceived a tequest from the Advisory Board in his diocese to serve as momber to dea] with questions nrising in wor nection with bells. On leaving that diocese, the wrote to the secrefing of the Board and pointed out that they had made no use whatevel of his services. Unless a person was a full member of the Board and summoned to every meeting, they forgot his existetice. The reply which he roceived was that no case had come up in his district. He did not like to give the secretary the lie direct, but two eases had come up within 15 miles of his own parish.
The Rev. F. Law James said in the Dincese of Lincoln the secretary of the Board sont him sll the papers, in time cases whele bells were concerned, and whatever hice (Mr. James) told him to do, he divi (laughter and hear, hear).
The President said exactly the same thing happened in the Oxforc Diocese. Thers was no single thing to do with liells or towers whirh Aid not go first to their Master, Mr. Jenkyn, who made ne report to the Advisory Committee, and they did wift he recommended. He was much more valuable outsids than on tho committee.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said that at first be foumd himaelf "p against certain members of the Adricory Boatd, who were moslly antiquarians. He lisel to fight it out with them: ha wons and the purely untiquariaus lad more or lese fated out.
The Rev. H. Drake said his resolution was not opposed to what Mr. Foward had said. There was no тenson why they shonld mot have a member on an Advisory Board if they could get one, hut that was not a thing they could do as assaciations. What tifew could do was to have a consultant. In his dionese their alfficulty was the same as it had hen in Mr. Jenkyn's. Tluey were supported by one of their Arcladeacons and had appointed a consultant if the Arigory Commiltoe chose to consult hin. At the present momend it wns hopeless to try atd get a ringer on the Advisory Committee. Fe thought, if consultants were anpointed, madvisory Committoe would dare to negleat them in the futing as thay had done in the prat.
The resolution was then pat and carried.

NOTICE OE THF COUNCIL'S MEFTINGS

Mr. J. S. Cobkismith moved : 'I'lust the vules of the Conneil be amended in order to provide that the motice and agenda of each anumal mecting of the Council be published at least eiglat uteks, instend of twelve weeks, prior to such meating.' He said this motion had been framed, in consultation wifh tho hon. secretary. to facilitatre the arrangements for the meetings. The prosent twelve weeks notice which was given to enable associations to consider the items on the aconda, had proved to be somowhat too early, as it was foum dificult ta arrange the business so far ahend. If the notice appeared eight weeks before the mbeting, littlo would be lost, as the fonr weeks deleted always came in Lent, when few, if any, juportant association meetings were held.--Mr. C. T. Goles seconded and the motion was carried without discussion

MATTER FOR INDTVIDUAL ASSOCTATIONS

A motion stood on the agenda in the name of Mr. W. Ayra, wloo hawever, was mallog to be preseut through illness. It was as follows That a commitiee lue appointed to eonsikler the best methoil of dealine with enses of extraordinary sickness amongst members of anr affiated chamg ringing associations, with pawer to report, he next annual meeting.
The hon. secretary, whose namo hed leen patt on the agenda as seconder, noved the resolution. He sain lie did not expect to have to "father" the resolution, becange lie only indemal to second it pro forma, in order that it might be disoussed. He thanght, however, there was something in the proposal. Some six or seven years ago it was rather urged there shamld he some sort of fund appoinled a small momittce to inspatigate the possibility of a scheme. If tino motion wats carried, lie woutd suggest an small com mittoc, consisting of Mr. Ayre, himself and one other member. They conkd then present a report in a year's time. Mr. James George geconded, saying lis thought it wouk be a very good thing.
Mr. TM. froombridge asked if it was asuitalile thing to be tineen ny by The Council. He thompat it was a matter for the associations. Geveral associations had formed their own howerolent funds, and b was of opinion that each association shouk run its own fund.
Mr . C. T. Coles said beforo tho Council appointerl a committeo it thould be very careful not to interfere with the financial proyisions of the different societies, otherwise it would tread an the tonderest spot of the associations. Some of the associntions might be pretty bard pressed to find the additional affiliation fee, but to fommlate thyy rima which would speltil somte of their funds would be going a bil too far, and he should rote against it.
Mr. ['. Crook said a Police Conference, of which he wis a member, disensged a similar scluemb att great length, and came to the conchasion Inat it was lest to leave cach indivinard place to caryy out its own work.
f'he proposition was lost by a large majority

THE NEXT MEETJNG.

Tho Council was next asked to fix the place for the next meting. Whe ]resident said their rules laid it down that the first meoting of a hew bression should lie lxold in London, so that Londen was the placs for mext yenr. The secrebary lad been trying to get an inviintion from tie Archbishop of Canterbury to meet at Lambeth Frlacs, in: the famous and magnificent library, and they had received a telegran saying that, subject to no unforeseen occurrence, the Archastrop would be only too pleased that the Council should meet there. and to meleome them if possible (applause).

A BIG BUSINESS.'

Mr. Tames George refervel to the fact that a directory of ringers was published by the Bristol United Guilds. It was, of course, by no moans complete, and lio thought the Council might consider the issue of a book which would contain the names and addresses of all ringers.
The President: That wonld he a hig musiness. If you wisl to discuss iti you must draw up a resolntion and send it to the secretary, und it can then he dobated ati the noxt meeting.

THE PRLESDEN'I'S RECOVERY

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said they wero all fully aware, but thay miglit be inclined to forget, that that was tho first meeting of the Conneil since the very sarions iltness and operation of their president. It was perfectly wonderful how he had sheered them through tho lusiness that day. It had beden a trying meeting and diffeult, but tho wis in which Canon Coleridge lind gone through it liad been perfectily splendid (applanse). Flly were all glad to see him and comgratahied him upon his recovery. The propostal a vote of thanks to him for presiding (applause).

Mr, 'EP. Fantker seconted, and, on behalf of 'the rank and file, saicl low eratified they all wera that their president had been ntestored seminely to his normal hoaluh (applause).

COUNCII, MTIT BF: KTP'. YOUNG.

the muibut howing been carried by acclamation, Canon Coleridge monlim, Fhe said that during lis illness it was a great source of consolation to lim to know that he was thought about, and in mamy consolation to him to know that he was thought about, and in many cuses proved about, by ringers througlont the length and breadti af haginut, Theo best times that he had were when ringers came lis see hins. One of his visitors was an old man of 80, another wrs fi boy af nbout 16, wha gave up the whole of a Sunday ard came a. long distance on a bicyele to hring him a dozen eggs. It was most lourhira. Every Sunday ho had visits from ringers, and he knew he was in the thoughts of many others. He was tilianiful to shy that, sit far ns lie know, he was now in the vers best of health (mpplause). Fa coult not hely feeling, however, that age was upan him. Thereforc. le wanted them to think most carepully hefore the next meeting what they were going to clect as their president. He had had the privilege of sorving for thre sessions-nine years-and on one other arcuston lie took the chair, which made ten times albogether. By nexl vear he would be 72, and election meant three pears' work, nad they ouplit to get a younger man. He had said that before, but he hoped they would bear it in mint this time. Youth must be served, ath the Council must he kopt young, with new ideas, and not linve ald fogies foisted upon them (Tnughter), The President then won on to propose a formal volin of thanks to the Mayor and to the Sub-Dean of Cholmsford for their kimaness in weleoming the Council. also and especially to Mr. C. H. Howard and other members of the Fssex Association, who had done so much for their comfort for Llim. MEembers of the Conncil hai been welcomed on the previous day ut the juhilee gathering equally with the association's own memben's, ram they lad enjoynd themselves immensely. He thanked Mr. Howard and all associated with hion for ald they had done (amblatise).
This inncluded the meeting, ant the members and their friends wrre afierwards entertained to ten by the Essex Association, Later

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MJETING IN PUAK DLSTRICT

A general quarterly mecting of the Midland Counties Association was lyold on Saturday, and, after what looked like a bad omen (a fumeral and a serious ilness ncar hy), a sticcessful mecting was hek at the fine old larish Clinech of 33akewell. Althongh on account of the funeral matterg were lich up far a time, eventually the bells werg availuble, athe good use made of them untif 7.30 p.ny. Visitors aud friends from Burtan, Derby, Date, Eymm, Leicester, Nottiogham and elsewhere arrised. The committee met and carriod out the usual rontine duties, and on several points mbde recommendations to the general meetilg. Tea was held in the Town Hall, abont 40 members being present, but, owing to the infux of other parties, it was not possible to hold the meeting there, so all adjourned to the Church Institute. The vice-president (MIr. J. Griffin) took the chair, and was supported by the general hon. secretary (Mr. E. Morris) and the hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Wallace).
The Chairman first, spoke of the greaty lass the association had sustained in the death of the prosident, the luto Mr. R. F3. Chambers, B.A., J.P., and asked all to stand in silence a moment to lins respected memory. It was decided to cutry on for the rest of the year with the mresent officers, and the members aye asked to think of some gentleman suitable to fill tho office of president, but first to make atita sure that anvone so nominatied will stand, as certain proposals have failed in the past for the reason of the nominee being unable to take the oftice.
The following nembers, electer sinee the annual mecting, wereduly confrmed, viz. 2 honorary, 4 lite, 21 ordinary ringing.

A goorl report of the Central Council meeting at Chelmsford wes given br one of the delegates (or replesentatives 1), Mr. J Swinfield, nud supplamented hy the chairman, Ni. J. Grifin, who is an hon. member of the Comneil.
Ringing menthers were nsked to pay theil subscriptions more reguIarly and to holp all they could with the working of the assoniation. A good start has been made in the for worm orinally beaun by mine this. W. P, Fright, of Eyam, Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, of Dore, sud others. Scveral new members have been made, and at Castleton two were now becoming guite proficient. It was hoped all the band would join.

The Rer. W. P. Wright saix he would wo all he conld for these members and for rivgers at other towers, and hearty invitations would to giver to them to join in at Dyam and Dore, or any other tower where change ringimg mas donc. It was hoped gradually to get in all the towers of the district
Mr. J. Griffin had to lave the meeting at this juncture, and Mr. W. E White tonk his place for the emelnding portion, which was principallr occupied with the matter of finance trustees. The hon. treasurer explainer that since the death of the president, who was joint trustee with Mr. W. WilTson for certain War Stoek held by the assocfation, the usunl notice had been sent to and duly acknow ledged by the department dealing with such matters, and Mr, Willson was now sole trustec. The War Snvings Certifeates lield by the late Ms. Chambers were now in tho liands of his executors, pending final clearing up of the estate. It was proposed and carrjed unanimously that these madicrs stand aver-being in quite safe and capable hands -until the annmal mecting. when nuw trustees would be appointed Vote of thanks to the Vicar for the bells and to the local men for arrangements were duly passed. Aljourning to the bolfy. further ringing was inculged in, ranging from Grandsire to Norfolk and Londion Sutprise.

A FAREWELL

On Tlarscay evening, Jume 27th, as a farewcll to the Rev. C. H. Rarnolds, who is shartly leaving the parish, a quarter-peal of Dontoles (1,260 changes), consisting of Plain Bob and Grandsire, was rugg at Funtingfield. Suffolk, by five members of the Halesworth Society W. Pierce I, F. C. Lambert (conductor' 2, A. H. Took 3, Jameo Heward 4, C. Moss 5. This was followed by 720 Grandsire, in whict R. Kenmp, of Funtingfield, rang tho Ereble to his first 720, also 360 Grandsirp, with $G$. Gowan, of the local band, ringing the treble for lis first 360 .
A voung hand has been tecently formed hele, and is making good progress. A six-score of Sbedman Doubles conclurled the even the ringers for their visit, which he mach apprecinted. The ringers wishod him 'God-speed' and health and happiness upon Inis retirement.

EGHAM AND MAGNA CHARTA.

In homour of the Prince of Weles hirthtay and in connection witly the Marna Charta anniversary celebrations, a quarter-peal o Grandsire Triples was rung at Egham Paristr Church on Sunday Junc 23n, in 46 minutes: W. Brants 1. W. Welling (conductor) 2, F Worsfold 3. E. Goater 4. E. Burley 5, H. Chaffer 6, W. C. Parker 7 W. Peek 8. Rutnimmede, where King John signed the Charter, is within sound of Egham bells.

BELL RESTORATION

AN AUTHORITATIVE BOOKLET

A valuable booklet lias been placed in privace circulation, entitied Bells Olfl and New, and deals with various aspects of bell restorafion as they concern the Church, the Bell Founder and the Antiquary. It fas been written by Mr. Cyril F. Johnston, head of the firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, but, adthangh coming from tile pea of such an leminent anthority, it is in no senso an advertisement, and no existing bell foundry finds mention in it. The little work is devoted to the enlighteament of all who are interested or coacerned with the care of church bells, aud is chock-full of information and gaidnace for tht univitiated, It deals briefly with the modern derelopment of the bell and offers advice with regard to tuning and recasting, wiich could not be more disinterested if it came from a writer entirely outside the industry. In defence of the bell founders and the suggestions which they make to church authorities when called in to report, Mr. Johnston says:-
'Bell founding and hanging represent a skilled and highly teehnical trade carried ont by only two or three firms in any one country: and the bell follnders are normally the only experts. It is, therefore, dificult or impossible to get reliable expert opinion except from the firms engaged in the work. This is where the diffientty lies.
"Tlere is, unfortunately, a teadency to judge the oontractor merely from a commercial standpoint, because recasting means, obviousty, an additional price But, if the founder has sound business principles, he kuows that only honest advico pays in the end. and that tris reputation is built on consistont advocacy of what lie believes to be the right course. He will not condemn a bell that is "nearly true within itself," or one that can be corrected satisfactorily, if he knows his work and has the interests of the cinuret his elients and bells in general at heart-as any suceesfifl helffomeier must surely have.
Mr. Johnston quotes an interesting experiment which was carried int tin sloow that harmonically tuned bells lave a greater carrying power than, what we may for conveniegce call, 'the other sort." Two belts, one false and one trine, were a fow yerrs ago taken out to the North Sea on a Trinity Eause yacht. They were dropped on butoys in the oceall and the yacht drifted away from then, following a conmse which preserted an equal distance from each bell. At close rinarters there was no noticeable differmee in the power of cach hel? (they hoth weigherl the same, viz, 3 cwt.). At a distance of arlf a rrilh the folse bell ceaserl to be heard. Whilst the true bell continned to be heard up to a distance of a mile.
As to whether or not a bell should be recast, Mr. Joluston says mphatically that if it is really old, but is going to spoil musieally penl that is being restored, it should be retained as a relie in the church and 1 tonlaced by a iteve athe of proper proportions and of rood tone and trine: hut where it in false in its harmonics and has no particula? elaim to antiouity. then it should be recast-if there s not sufficient metal to correct salisfactorily the harmonies. This a a sentiment which all thnse who have a practical aequaintanee ith old bells will ateadily endorse.
A section of the bookiet is devoted to bell frames, and in regard to the muth that metal frames affect. bell tones adiversely, Mr. Johnston points out that actial practice does not bear this out. Tone and tuns rlepenrl on the skitl of the tune1, and the musical effect is infuenced by the level of the hells in relation to the Inuvre openings. the height of the helfre and other proportions of the tower aud the surfaumings in general
This bonlelat is onp which should be placed in the hands of all murch anthonities where restorations are contemplated or needed. Th deals with a teclmical subject without technicalities and contains so much souml adivice that it nught to lie read by everyone intlerested chareh hefles.
Mr. Tohnstion kindly offers to send a cony of the booklet free anr ringer whan applies. Application should be mado to Mr. C. F. Johneitn at the Belf Foundry, Croydon.

THE METHODS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir', In spite of Wr. Willson's attempt to confuse the issue; I still stind by all I wrote in my letter of tile 8th inst. I have me been wrongly reported, but I hapo appareutly bean misundersfond by Mr. Willsou. It is diffeult to enswer all the points lie brings in, some of which are quite irrelevant to the main point of my last letter, buli I will do my best.

I am not 2 member of tho Hethods Committee, and da not necessarily identify myself with anything the members of that committee may have said. It is, therefore, unfair for Mr. Willson to say that I want it hoth ways. I have never said that rounds at the beginning of Bankes James' Cambridgo should count us the first change, and it is quite certain that the Methods Committece is not responsible for that statement. I'hat point was made in ' The Ringing World ${ }^{\text {B }}$ when tine composition was first published, and it was put in as at argument that the composition thus conformed to the Rules and Decisions of tine CounciI. It is no fault of mine that Mr. Willson did nat write to you on the matter at the time.
I am quite aware that there is a repetition in each of the first six 720's of the Bankes James peal, brit my argiment cansists of this: Wo ring ONE PEAL when we ring seven true and compiete 720 's, each starting from and ending with rounds. We slso ring exactly the samb 720 changes, exactly the same number of times, when we ring the Pankes James composition, and some of us also wish to coll this A PEAL, i.e., ONE PEAL.
How ean the latter be termed 'hopelessly false' when it contajns the same 720 changes, exactly the same number of times, as any peal consisting of seven trite and complete' 720's? To me it is a matter of cefnilion, and the Cotucil is at liberty to alter its definition of a peal at any time, in spite of anything it has previously dectded.
This ratter will never be settled if the "hopelessly frise " ides is persisted in, to the exclusion of the real issuc, i.o., that of definiug what peals an six (and five) bells are to consist of. I feel quite sure that if the Comacil had bad before it the Bankes James Cambridge when it /ivist decider what a peal of Minor should consist of, we should have a much different definition to that of 1911-12. Further, benauso that rufe was lain down at a time when tho spliming of compositions and methods was practically unknown, is it any renson why changing conditions should not be met? It woutd be a sorry diay for the Exercise if such a peal as the Camhytage Is. to hor bunned for feat of opening the door ta that peal-faking by int scrupulous conductors that rou foursolf, Mr. Editor, seem to he afraid of. We should have more faitl ith nembers of the Exercise than tliat.

Members of the Council who were carriea away by Mr. Willson's eloquence and his extraordinary illustration of heer and walier mixing would do well to read very carefully tho cighth paragrapls of Mr . Grover's letter in this week's 'Ringing World.' That gentlemnn's quostions are, indeed, very pertinent ones, but are quipp justified Our anthority is, of course, that we are menabers of tho Cenlaral Gouncil, electad by onr Firious associations. But are we justified in using onr votes to candemn a composition, that has been rung 56 tines, as "hopelessly false ' when six-belI mingers bave slown that they want this peal by ringing it more times than they have rung the "seven true and complete ' 720 's of Canluinge Minor during the periox that has elapsed since the Bankes James' peal was first pulhisiner? - Fours faithftillv.
C. T. OOJES.
P.S.-Will Mr, C. Severu please mublish (wilh your kind nermission) the figures of the neal of Cambridge Minor rang at Kithamarsil on Fehmiaty 18th, 1928, described as 'including Bankes Tamer and Severn's arrangments '?

RINGER RETIRES FROM PUBLIC SERVICE.

PRTSFNTATIONS TO M1R, F. W. THORNTON AT GRERNWICH. Mr. Frederick W. Thornton, well known in ringing eireles in Kent, has fust retired after 40 years' puhtic service. He succeeded lis faller ns unassenger to the old Grechwich Vestry, and, upon the incorporation of the borgugh in 1909, he was appeintex Mayor's attondant a mal mace beater In this post he has served ander eightcen Mayars, of whom eleven are still liviag. These have joined in making a presentation to $\mathrm{Mr}^{2}$. Thornton on his retirement, anal on Wednegrlay of last week at Greenwich Town Hall Mr. Thormion was the recipient of a gold liunter watctr.
The Mayor of Grecnwich (Mr. R. F. A. Purkis) paid a warm tribute to Mr . Thementon's long and faithful services, and added that for punctilious rectitude and quiet decorum, which added so nawh to civic dignity, Mr. Thornton would be dificult to beat.
In tho absence of the oldest living ex-Mayol' of Greenwich, Sir Fat Hamilfon Benn, the presentation was mave by the next senime ex-Maynr, Alderman Jackson, who was present when Mr. Thormbon was appointed messenger to the old vestry in 1889.
Mr. Thornton, in acknowledging the gift, recalled that throughont his service he hat only been absent from one meteting of the oht vestry find one of the Conneil.
rom the Town Clerk Mr. Thuluton has received an illuminater clock, and from the Town Fall staff an oak clock.

WELDED BELLS.

To the Editsr.

Dear $\operatorname{Gir}$,-We have read with great interest your report of the discussion on welded bells that took place at the meating of the Central Council, because the two bells mentioned are amongst the number tuat have been successfully repaired hy the Barimar process during tho last few years. We rofer to the bell at st. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, and the bell mentioned by Major Eesse.
We think that we can safely say that everyone who has respect and regard for objects lrallowed by time regrets the breaklag up andi recasting of an ancient bell, because it is, of course, a new bell of no historic interest that comes back from the foundry Realiy wo cannot undergiand why so many damaged bolls have been dealt with in this way, when they could have been repaired by modern scientific welding metheds at a much lower cost. Tho beauty of many an ancient church has been destroyed by 19th century 'Testaration,' and it is distressing to think of the old bells which have been ruthlessly broken up and melted down, merely because of a slight crack which could easily have been welded at trifing cost.
Wo reatise, however, that some of your readers may be more intarested in the tone of bells and the technique of change ringing than in the history of clel bells, and we would like to point oxt that tho welding of eracked belles should be as attractive to them as to the entinurifian. All enthusiastic bellringers must deplore the fact that so many bells are not rung owing to one or more in the peal being cracked and discoudant. The cost of re-casting has been too often quite profibitive, and, as it result, the hells hang in idencss. On the other hand, the cost of welding the bells could no doubt have bean raised, and if the belle had been repaired by this means, they would have been in constant use today Experienco shows that a welfed bell stands up to contimusi ringing as well as a new bell, and we say withath fear of contradiction that the tone of the boll is restored. This, we think, is proved without a shadow of doubt by the repair carriod out to No. 7 in the famous peal at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
It, therefore, appears to us that from the paints of view of both antiquarian and bellringer, the repair of eracked and damaged bells by scientific welding is a policy bighty to he recommended.-Yours fnithfully, > BARIMAR, LTD.

DEATH OF MR. YORK GREEN

VETERAN COMPOSER PASSES AWAY AT CANBRIDGE.
Wo regret to mnnounco the denth of Mr. York Green, who passed awny at his residence in Cambridge enrly on Sunday norning. The deceased gentleman, who wns 77 years of age, had been in failing bealth for some considerable time, and had done no ringing for over twelve montios
He camo to Cnmbridge in the carly seventies, joining the Cambridge Touthes in 1875 , hut soon afterwards left for London, where he was omployed at Stratford Watks until his retivement.
Tn London the became associated with many prominent ringers of the day, mado many frieuds amongst the Colloge Youths, and rang several peals for that society. Ho was a cornposer of considerable ability in various metlods, and many of his compositions still find favour amorigst peal ringers.
Retiring to Camhridge in 1922, he rejoined the Cambriage Youths and rang, al few peals for the कhy Assaciation, his last boing ati Fulbourn in 1926. Always of modest and obliging disposition, he was over ready to help the heginmer and to take o rope when his health permitted. He will be much missed.

BENEYOLENT SCHEMES IN THE EXERCISE

The question of how best to deal with cases of extraordinary sickness amongst inembers of the Exercise was one of the subjects which came before the Central Council, but as will have been seen from the report in our last issue, even the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter did not find approval. Unhappily there arise occasionally instances in whicin ringers fall upon evil times; when sickness or incapacity leads to a more than ordinary drain upon domestic finances and inflicts a hardship which the man's means are unable to meet. In such cases ringers have constantly shown themselves ready to lend a helping hand, but the help is largely of the haphazard kind, with little or no organisation behind it. In Kent and in Sussex, the associations have established benevolent funds which have done some extremely valuable work, by acting independently, or by being able tr supplement, at the moment when it is most necessary. any effort made in local circles. There may be one or two other associations which do likewise, and it was obviously the feeling of the Council that this is the direction in which any aid for distressed ringers should be organised.

The difficulties of a more centralised scheme would, of course, be considerable. In the mass, ringers are an apathetic body, and while they would in all probability resent anything in the shape of a per capita levy for a benevolent fund, they would by their very lassitude make the collection of a voluntary contribution, however small, an almost impossible task, and one for which few if any association secretaries would care to make themselves responsible. We believe that a grood deal of the funds which are already in existence has been accumulated from offertories at meetings. It is a well known fact, of course, that association meetings, for the most part, are attended by a limited circle of the more enthusiastic members and consequently the swelling of the benevolent funcls is largely dependent on the generosity of a comparative few. And that is most likely what would happen in the case of any larger fund of a voluntary kind-its maintenance would devolve upon a minority of the Exercise.

The only effective way to finance such a fund, so that all contributed, would be by an annual proportionate charge upon each association and to propose that, or anything like it, would, as the secretary of the Middlesex Association pointed out, be treading on a very tender spot. A central benevolent fund, supported by the associations, could only be set up by whole-hearted co-operation and good will throughout the Exercise, but the (Continued on page 434.)

motion which stood in Mr. Ayre's name did not go as far as asking for such a fund, or, indeed, of suggesting any scheme. It merely asked for a committee to investigate the best method of dealing with extraordinary cases, and we are inclined to agree with the proposer (Mr. E. A. Young) that the Council would not have gone very far wrong if it had adopted the motion to see what the possibilities were.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES IN U.S.A

To the Editar.

Dear Sir, - I an glad of an excuse to sead a message from onf small group of American ringers to the many frieads in England who encourage us to ketep the Execeses alive in flis country. The excuse is to report a pleasant trip to Groton School by four members of the Boston band, who, witl ringers fron the school, rang for morning sarvice, and afterwards brought mond severfl well-struck touches of Grandsive Triples.
The Boston wen were R. Newton, J. R. Fenson, J. Goodlead and W. Bashford, while members of the school who stood in wilh them were F. Potter, A. M. Rrown, S. Whitney, S. W. Sturyis, f. I. Sturgis and W. Sturgis,
The 'go' of our bells is now excellent, since a year ago, when Wo shipped the leadstock to Eughand and lad ball beirings instalied by Messis. Menrs and Stainhank.

DOVER RINGER'S SLDDEN DEATH.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Richard Stevens, who was for over 16 , jears a prominent menther of St. Mary's Bellringers; Dover. 'Dick,' as he was familiarly called in the town, was well known in the Canterbury and Ashford distriets, where he bad rung many peals in various methods. He was also a dever handbell ringer. His death occurred surdenly at Southampton on Thursday, June 20th. On Friday, June 28th, tha bells at St. Mary's, Dover, wert rung half-muffled in three of his farounite methods.

EVERCREECH RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, Tune 22nd, the Evererecell ringers, under the leadme ship of their estecmed captain, Mi'. R. Whitehead, and accompanied by the Vicar and friends, had their eleventh anmal outing. The party left Evercreech at 7 p.m. for Torguay hy charabanc. At st. Thomas', Exeter, a touch of 630 Grandsire Triples was rung. Prignton was reached at 1.15 and at Dellers' a lot Iunch was partaken of Arriving at Torquay, a trip by motor launch to Brixham and hack was much enjoyed. After tea the return journey started. At Taunton a broak was made for supper, and hove was reached slortly after II p.m. The weather thrmugnut the day was ideal. Many thanks are due to the captain for his untiring encrgios in naking this outing so delightfully enjoyable.

BRAINTREE RINGERS VISIT SUFFOLK.

The ringers of St. Michael's Church, Eraintree, hat their anmual anting on Saturlay, Jume 29th. when they visited some of the churches in Suffelk. Lavenlam was the first slop, and these fine old bells were set going to Double Norwich and Cambridge Surptise. Then ou to Stonham Aspall, where Grandsire and Stedman Caters were brought round.
Faye was the next stopping place, and, after more Double Norwich and Cambridge, luncheon was partaken of. Wiahy, with its bells recently angmented to eipht, came noxt on the list, and here an excellent tonch of Superlative Srarnde was rung. Thence to Framlingham, where Stedman Triples. Double Norwich ant Cambridre were each brought rounk. Ipswich was reached about 6 p.m., and after ton St. Mary-le-Tower was visited. There, with the nid of some of the loeal momany, Grandsire anci Sterman Caters, Stedman Gngues and Kent Treble lizoh Maximus wete zung. A very nujoyable day wrs spent, and the ringers wish to thank the incumbents of the churches visited for the use of the hells, and also all the loral ringers who helped to make the onting such a success,

MILNROW RINGERS AT LGUGHBOROUGH.

The ringers of Minnow Parish Clnurch, Tancs, ard a fow friends visited Longhhorough for their-anninal outing. Messrs. Taylos and Co. have in hand the retnaing and rehanging of the Mincow bells. and the inspection of the celehrated foumdry therefore, had special interest for fhe prity. Travelling by shloon coach via Stockport, Buxton rnd Matlonk, breakfast was served at Belper. Toughbornargh was reached by 11.30 and at, the foundry the risitors were received hv Mr. C. Hartison and Mr. J. P. Fidler, representing Messrs. Tavlor and Co., and conducted through the works, where the Milnrow bells, now returacd, were an object of special interest. Another "job" which atrtracted special attention was a earillon. The ringers then turned their attention to the foundry peal, hut the lightness of the bells defeated their attempts to bring round a touch. Visiting the Parish Church. however, they brought round tauches of Grandsirn and Stedman Triples, Bab Major and Kent Treble Bib on the fine bells. On the retarn journey a stop was made at Derby for thea and ringing on the bells at the Cathedral, and the journey home was then resumed win Ashbowmu, Ieck. Macelesficki and Manchester Milnrow being reached rboust 11.30 pm . nftor a splendid day. The ringers desier to thank Messys. Hprti=nil ant Preller for ennductiom them throngl the fonnolve, and the anhoritine it Jenghboming Chureh mod Derby Catherlmal for permission to ring.

THE NATIONAL THANKSGIVING.

CHURCH BELLS PLAY A TRADITIONAL PART.

Wherever there was a ringable peal of bells and a band of ringers to handle them, the bells in the churches throughout the land joined on Sunday in the " national thanksgiving to Almighty God for his good Providence whereby our Most Gracious Sovereign has been dehivered from severe illness to the comfort of the whole Realm, and for the signal love and loyalty of his people made manifest in the time of trouble.' For centuries the church bells of England have played a part upon great national occasions in expressing the feelings of the public and on Sunday their notes resounded over city and hamlet, hill and dale calling the people to join in the service of thanksgiving or adding by some peal or touch a special distinction to the day.

Ringing in many jinces began on Saturday with a peal, and here are the iecords of some of the peals specially rong in connection with the Thanksgiving:-

SOME OF THE THANESGIVING TOUCHES.

In many places circumstancos did not permit of peals being attempled, but long touches were scored. In the Guildford Diocese an organised effort was made to secure the riaging of the bells at distinctive limes, in addition to the usual service hours, and at many places there was ringing after the manniag or evening service, or in the rflernoon. At several churches, alsa, following out the suggestion made in these columes, the Bells were rung for two or three minutes tid a central point in the thanksgiviag service itself, and where this was done the effect was most impressive.
Among the records of Sunday's lesser performances were the fol-lowing:-

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. J. C. Cherry son of the late Lord Chief Justice Cherry, of Dublin, lias recently taken his medical degrec, and is now holding an appointment in a Loudon Hospital. Mr. Glerry has scored several peals, but his pursuit of ringing has, of course, been restricted by his studies.
Mr. Ermest Morris has just bees appointed as hon. consultant on bells, etc., to the Advisory Committee of Leicester Diocese, and has already been called upon to report on one ring of bells.

In addition to lis ringing activities, which inelute the secretaryship of the Midland Cotunties Association, Mr. Marris is a member of the Leicestershire Archmologieal Soejeby, and has written a mistory of St, Margaret's Church, Leicester (transcribed from three ancient registers). He has also revised North's 'Chuwch Bells of Leicestershire up to date, and is now engaged upon a "History of Change Ringing.
At Pinner, Middlesex, four of the local band, who have been under the instruction of Messrs. G. and H. Kilby, scored their first peal last Saturday, and another rang his firse peal of Triples. The 'first pealers' included Mr. T. Humphreys, who js 67, and rang the tenor; and Mr. Charles Lord, who is 72. Mr. James George is a native of Pinner, and it seems, even now, that he will brve to look to his laurels.
A correspondent writes to bsk whether the Londaners who wisited Birmingham on Saturday now thoroughly understand what is meant by 'yo Nelson Touch,' and whether it is a fact that one distinguished visitor found it necessary to take off his coat so as thoroughly to enjoy the said "touch'?
Mr. Tr, E. Dawe, who recently visited Yuverness, found the bells in the Cathedral in a very dilnpidated candition.
The first peal of Erin Caters was rung 20 years ago to-day at North Shields.
The opeñing of the ring of twelve bells at St. Chad's, Slutewsbury, took place on July 18th, 1798, and on that occasion the College Fouths rang a peal of Grandsire Cinques.
The rimer of the fourth in the peal at East Peckham was Tom, not Sam, Saunders.

The bells of St. Martin's, Birmingham, will be broadcast on Sunday cveniug, from 7.50 to 8 p.m.

SECESSION OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL.

To the Editor.
Sir, Mr. Guise's long letter calls only for one or two vemarks.
The idea that the Central Council is cin existonce to create Surday service church belfringers is quite new to me. I always looked on this as being the work of the associations, the work of the Council being to give advice to the associations, aud through them to their members, who are slieady vingers.
'You are not here as a delegate.' It seems uscless to try and explain to $\mathrm{Mr}^{\text {r }}$. Guise, as I thought and hopad that I had done in my last letter, that these words of the president do not, and neither the president nor amyone else can, prevent a momber of Commeil from considering himself, and acting in all respects as if he were, a delegate. By doing so, he merely lowers his own status quite gratuitously. In his alusion to the discussion on diplomas at the jubilee meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Association last year, Mr. Guise accuses me of putting an and to the subjact ' without full discussion.' I must leave my conducd in the chair to the judgment in general of those who were present. There is certainly no nint of such action on my part in your veport of the meeting in "The Ringing World' of June 1st, 1928, and your correspondent was within fo couple of yards of the chair throughout the mecting. I adhere to your report of what $[\text { did and said.- Yours faithfull }]_{\text {f }}$

GHARLES D. P. DAFIES.

APPEAL FOR ECKINGTON RINGER

In response to the appeal made in our columns a fortnight ago on behalf of Mr. Alfired West, a ringer of Eekington, who is totally incapacitated, and who has a young family dependert upon him, the following contributions have been received:-

\begin{aligned}
& \text { Windermere Parisl Chumeh Ringers } \\
& \text { W. Pole Routh (Reakling) } \\
& \text { Win. Pickmorth } \\
& \text { W. (Southgate) } \\
& \text { W. H. Fussell } \\
& \text { (Slough) } \\
& \text { A. W. G. } \\
& \text { A Ringer }
\end{aligned}

These gifts are thankfully acknowledged by Mr. T. A. Howes Smith, The Yews, Eckington, near Slieffich, to whom any subserip tion should be sent.
Mr. West has heen a sunday serviee ringer for nearly forty years, and his present illaess follows upon a serious injury in a conl mine some years ago. The eireumstances of the case and the pressing need make this an instance in which mentuers of the Exercige ena render invaluable help by a gererous respouse to the appeal.

BELLS OF HATHERLEIGH RECAST  A DEVON RESTORATION.

The old eight bells at Hatherleigh, Devon, cast by Thomas Bilbie, of Cullompton, have been recast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, and relrung with all new fitings in the old frame. The work, together with the provision of a new clock, has been chrried out at the expense of the Misses E. and $H$. Churchward in memory of thein hwother, Mr. George Gould Churehward. The bells, with tenor of 14 owt. in $\vec{F}$, are timed on the five tone harmonic priveiple, and are hung with the latest type of fittings. The onk frame, which was only about forty years old, has been reconstructed and strengtiened and mounted on a double foundation of steel girders, The rimging chamber has been restored to its original position, ahout halfwry up, thereby reducing the draught by about 30 feet. The inscription on the tenor bell is: "Thomas Bilbie, fecit, Cullompton. Revd. G. Glascott, Vicar. John Seutheombe and John Thurner', jun., Churchwadens, 1813. These eight bells were recast and rohung in memory of George Gould Churohward by his sisters Elizabeth and Heroine. A.D. 1929. J. C. Rossiter, Vicar; F. W. Down and S. Palmer, wardens.;
The other bells bear' the insorjption: 'T.B. 1813. Recast by M. and S., 1929, of Londou.' The work of erecting the cloek, which is to have Westminster chimes, will be begun shortly.

The dedication of ihe bells was performed by the Bishop of Exeter in the presenoe of hery large oongregation, and following the dedicatory prayers the bells were rung while the Bishop and clergy returned to the chancel from the ringing chamber. The ringers were Messrs. E. Palmer (captain, who has beel a ringer at the Parish Chureh for elose tupon 60 years), W. Ellacott, I. Short, A. Luxton, G. Weeks, S. Causeley, G. Short, and Tuck. All were agreed that the recastimg and rehanging liave effected a marked improvement. Everybody spoke very enthusiastically about the tone and "go' of the bells.

In his address, the Bishop spoke of the early uses of towers and bells, and said that he understaod that in Devonshire at the time of the Spanish Armada they were get ringing in all the towns and ril lages in the counly to uall men to arms. The bells were used for different purposes. They were rung not only to give the alarm in denger, but also at festivals. Their most important use, however, was to call the people to worship. "The hells called us tegether in a body,' said the Bishop; 'don't let us think of ourselves only as a parish, but remenber we all belong to one another. Do noi regard other denominations as outsiders. Remember that a great army has many regiments with lifferent forms of discipline. We are all lighting the same great enemy. When we hear the bells it is a call to arims. We must remember that we Christians are a great hody, and we have a great eneny, and in the end we shall win the Kingdom.' After the service the bells were rung hoth by the lacal men and visiting ringers. The Town Band also geve selections at intervals in ike Market Square.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

quarterly mecting of the Andover District was held at Laverstoke and Whiohurol on Saturday, June 29th, members attending from Andover, Binfield, Overton, North Stonelam, Higholere, Winuhester, Woolton Hinl, Wootton St. Lawrence ane Laverstoke. A serrice, with mal excellont address, was conducted by the Reotor, Rev. W, Wragge, who welcomed the members to the tower. Tea was served 9i. Laverstoke Mills canteen, followed by the usual business meeting, at which the Rector presided.
Although quite a number of towers were representext, the number of members was small. However, good use was made of the belis, especially for the junior mernbers, who lud their first touch in ravious methods. It often happens that where a large pathering is present the younger members do not get so much opportunity to ring, anr so get discouraged.
During the afternoon and evening touches of the following methods were rung: Grandsite and Stedman Doubles, Plain Toh, Kent Treble Bol, Cambridge Surprise Minor at Laverstoke, and Grandsive and Stedman Triples at Whiteliurch.

A SEVENTEEN HOUR TRIP

On Saturday, June 22nd, the annual outing af the St. Mary-lcTower Society of Ringers, Ipswich, took place. Seventeen mombers starled at 6 a.m. in a motor satoon, and by eight o'clock breakfast was lueing partaked of at the Blue Bonr Fotel, Maldon. Ringiag was indulged in at the triangular stecple of All Saints' Church, and also on the six bells at St. Mary's. Other towers visited were Galleywond, Widford, Writtle, and, after ringing at Writtle, the company hati the pleasure of witnessing a cricket match in progress, also of lishening to a well-struck attempt for a peal of Superlative Surprise Major by officers of the Essex Association Wpon reaching Great Waltham a splendid dinner awaited the company at Yo Olde Six Bells Hotel, which gave them rellewed vigour to manipulate the ropes attached to the heavy bells there. The last place was Chelmsford Catherral, where a good course of New Camhridge Surprise Maximus was rung. The ringing throughont the day included methods up to London Surprise Major. Tlie society wishes to fhank all steeplekecpers and others who helped to make this 17 hour outing so successful.

ST. COLUMB'S CATHEDRAL, LONDONDERRY, IRELAND

The bells of this Cathedral were probably the oldest peal of eight in Ireland. One was 'vecast for Londondery steeple' in 1614. Another was given in 1630. Five more wera added by King Charles I. in 1638, aud the last was the gift of the citizens in 1671. These have now been reoast by Messrs. Gillett and Johaston, of Groydon, with five additional bells, the tenov weighing 32 cwt., and the tatal weight being 7 tons 13 cwt.
 p.m., when the Bishop of Derry will officiate, and tho preacher will be the Lord Primate of All Ireland (Dr. D'Arcy).

After the sorvice the bells will be rung by uingers from St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. The B.B.C. will broadeast the dedication and bells from $6.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. titl $7.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Those who hear the bells on the wireless are invited to commumicate their impressions to the hon. secretary of the Cathedral, James Trimble, Chapter House, Derry Cathedral, Londonderry. Their letters will be pueserved amongst the records of these historic bells.
The collcction at this service will be for the purpose of providing a memorial tablet to lwo heroes of the siege of Dery who lie side by side in the North Aisle, Colonel Baker, ono of the governors of the city, and Crptain Browning, captain of the 'Mountjoy,' killed at the breaking of the hoom when the city was relicved. For two hundred and forty years their graves havo remained withatit so much as their names baing inscribed over them. Those who have read Macaulay know how much the Empire owes to these men, and it is loped that within the next year a memorial worthy of the Empire, and of such loyal and devoted service as they gave, may mank their resting place. Ringers able to attend will be lieartily woloamed.

ESSEX ASSOCTATION

A very successful meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Assaciation was held at Colne Engaine on Saturaay. A short service was hela in the Parish Church, at which the Rector, Rey. J. W. Dumpe, officiated, and trave an excellent attress. Tca and mieeting followed at the Five Bells Inn. Mr. A. Satunders, the District Master, presided, supported by ihe Roctor, Mr. G. H. Howard (Master), Mr. W. J. Nevard (District Master, N.E. Division), Mr. E. J. Buller (hon. sec., S.W. The reply, received lster in the evening, is quoted above.
THE WTNCHFSTER GUILD JUBDTEE
Wr. Goldsmith went on to suy that as many of them knew the old Winchester Diocesan Guidd, now the winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guid, fram which the Guidford Diocesan (fuid sprang, was that day celebrating its juluilce. Il was most unforhuate thint the two events clasher?. Origimally they had hoped tile two festivals would hava been a joint affair, but the Wiaclsester Guild begar to have same qualms as to the wisclom of having to luring their members acoss Hampshire to place which was ralher inatecssinle to them. The result was that the Wiachester Guild decided to gite up the suggeation for a joint festival and were halfint theit juthilee at Winchester. Unforfunately they fixed it for the same day as the Guildford Guild festival, which had already been fired. He was sorry that the Winchester Guild hat mot choset nnotlier day, as many members of the Guildford Guid would like to have been with them. But as they could now be with them in person they wantert them to know that they were with thern in spirit. They han therefor sent this telegram to the Master: 'Guildford Diocesan Guild assembled at summer festival, send hearty greatings and congratulations upan iuhilee, and hest wishes for continuen sumcess and prosnerity of Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.-Fesse, Master.' (Applausc.)

In connection with the Winchester Dincesan Guild, some of them knew that a memorial was erected to the memory of the Rev. C. E. Matthews, a former Master of the Guild. That momotial taok the shape of new bells at his old ahtreh of Miford-on-Sct, and Mr. Pullinger, the searetary of the Winelaster Guild, had received from the founders of those bells two excellent photagraphs. He had sent bim a letter with one comy of the photograph, in which he said the would like to offer it to the Guildford Guild as a small token of nappreciation of the help which lo recejved from the members in raising funds for the memorial to the Rev. C. E. Batthews. If the picture was accepted, he suggesterf, subiect to the approval of the guthorities, that when framed the platograpli should be placed in the Cathedral chamber or some ollzer tower prominontly associated with the old Guikl. MI'. Goldsmitla assumed that the Guild would bo pleased to ateent this nieture, and that the arrangements as to its destination be left to the officers of the Guild and the nuthorities of the Calhedral or some other chatreh. In conclusion. Mr. Goldsmith referred to the illness of Mr. Thernard Clark, until recently secretary of the Farnham District. He was now in hospital having been involved in a severe motor accident which would probably keep him from work for more than six months. Fie har a fractured thigh and other injuries. With the approval of the meeting he mraposed to send a letter to Mr, Charle expressing their regred it his inability to be present and their hest wishes for his speedy recovery (a) plause Haslomere, who was. unforimately for lhem, away in Seatland, but they welcomed the Rev. O.S. Waiford, who, he learned, was an assistant priest in Haslmere some 50 verrs ago. Fithey were very pleased to pract hirn, and to see him in the chair. Thev also wanteril to voice their thanks to Major Hesse and Mr. Richard Hayes for the excellent local arramements they had made for the festival up from the station he whs mach struck by the heandiful tone of the bells. Thny really sounded most delightful, as they enme acros the country. They owed one other expression of thanks, and that wa very grateful to him, and. finallp, lie had to mention kheir o friend, Canon Coleridge, hoth for his presence and for his address They rejoicen to see him fully restored to health after his serious illness.

Major Hesse sconded the vate of thanks, and said he was pleased ta see such a good attendance at the festival. Fe was sorry that few lie had expecten had not arriwed, but he hopen that all wh were prosent had thoroughly enjoyed themselves. He was particu

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

LINK WITE HONOURED NAME RENEWED.
The quarterly meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held on Saturday, July 6th, at the Parish Church of. St. Margaret, Great Barr, uear Jirmingham. The church has soveral interesting features connected with it. The poreh and tower were restored in 1892, but built into the wall of the porch there is a stone which shows that the original was erected by George Merihust in 1677. In the church are many fine stained glass windows; and in the chaucel and on the wall of the north aisle preserved in glass cases are some almost priceless tapestry altar frontals. The fuwer contains a light peal of six, the front five cast by Edward Arnold, of Leicester, in 1796, and the tenor recast by Garr, Smeibwioh, in 1824. The ringing chamber bas recentily been painted, and is a credit to the authorities and the young band of ringers who ring there. It is bere surely where the most ancient hadder in existence is in regular use. In ofder to reach the bells ono has to ascend by it, and engraved on the side is the date 1715 b.c. The writer of these notes, however, was unable to obtain any reliable information to vouch for its accuracy.
About 24 members sat down to an excellent tes at the Beacon Tru, and this was followed by the business meeting. In the unavoiaable rbsence of the presidicg Ringing Master, Aiderman J. S. Prifehetf, M.A., Mr, Vice-President Paddon Smith propase that Liftt. W. H. Hallsworth, of the Indian Army, now at home on loave, should take the chair. He remarked that the name of Hallsworll was an honoured one in commection with the St. Martin's (ruild, Matthew Hallsworth, grandfahler of Lieat. Hailsworth, having rung many peals in the Bull Ring.-Lient. Hallsworth, in accepting, statert that although he had not done any ringing on tower hells in this country for 32 years, he was, however, keenly interested in the art of change ringing, He was happy to be preseut that afternoon, and would also like to beame an honorary member of the Guild. On the proposition of Mr. Smilh, seconded by Mr. Johnson, and supported by the secretary, he was unanimously elected an honorary member.
Owing to the absence of the Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. Albert Walker, who was engaged in 'fathering' a company of London ringers to the city, the Secretary reported that toe scheme for the restoration of Aston bells, although not to be put in hand immerliafely, had not been dirapped, but would be proceeded with as soon as a small remaining deht on the organ fund had been aleared off.
It was decider to linld the next quarterly meating at Edgbastan Parish Church on the first, Saturdoy in Ootober.

Votes of tharks to the Viear for the use of the bells, to Mr. Merriman for having everything ready, and to the chairman for presiding, concluded the meeting.
A return was makie to the tower, where some excellent touches in Hurious methous from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor were successfully brought round, four lady ringers talring part.
Lieut. Halismorth also took pare in the ringing, and although he bat not liandled a rope for so long managed to ring the treble hrough a touch. Although the attendance was not ali fiat could be wished, yet the meeting was a most enjoyable onc.

NEWCASTLE'S 'GREAT RINGER ' DAY

To-morrow will be a great hay at Newcasile, when members of the Dionesan Guild and Ingers from all over the North of Englady will the the guests of the Newuastie Eqening Chronicle, and Messrs. Gillett and Tohoston at the Norbla-East Goast Exhibition, where they will inspect the Welliugton (New Zealand) cavillon, whioh was cast at the Croydon Foundry. PIr. Clifford E. Ball is to give a demonstration, and afterwards the risiting ringers and their friends will be entertained to tea, and will he wolconch by the Lord hayor. In the evening there is to be in musical gathering at the 'Chronicle' Hall.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The June monthly meeting was held at Rothwell, and members were present from Armley, Batley, Headingley, St. Chad's, Lindley, tuiseley, Drighlinglon, and the local company. Four now members were elected. The methods rung were Plain Bob and Little Bob Majer, Kent and Oxford Treble Bab Major, Stedman Triples and Dathle Norwich Major. Special attompts were made on the lasiuamed mothod hy various ringers, and it is again to be the special practice" methorl at the rext meting at Calverley.

grey ind feeble, and they looked to the roung ringers to carry on the work. If, as he said in church, they wore punctual and persovering, they would not go very firl wrong.
In the evening there pas further ringing at Haslencere, and some of the members also visited Godalming, where, by contrast, the bells wo very heavily. One party patd a visit to Privett.
The message to the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was acknowledged by the Master, who reciprocated the good wishes aprossed in the telegram.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION
A combined meeting of the Cheltenham and Tewkegbury Branches of tho Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held by special invitation at Alderion on Saturday, June 29th. The company had tho honomr of welcoming their new Master (Rev. I. S. Selby), who had motored soms 30 miles to be present. The weather being fine, members Eurned up early, and the nice lighat right of six were soon going.

Service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. A. D. Pennington), who had the assistance of a full choir. The lesson was read by the Rev. E. G. Benson, of Tewtesbury, and the Master (Rev, E. S. Selby) gave a most intercsting address.

After the service, all adjourned to the Village Hall, where the members were the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Pennington, who liad a very efficient staff of heipers.

The busimess meeting of the Gheltenham Branch was hedd afterwards, and was cut down to the minimitm.
The branch chairman (Rer. A. D. Pennington), was in the chair, supported hy the Master, the Rev. E. G. Benson, Rev. W. W. Baker, Mr. W. J. Smith, and over 40 odd members from towet's in the Branci.

The Chairman woloomed them all there that day, but he was sorry to inform them that that miglat be his last chance of offeriog hijs hospitality, as he expecteci soon to resign his living on account of his advaned age.

Chariton Kings was proposed as the place for the anmal meeting, Which was left for the secretary ta arrange.

Mr. H. Wakeford, in a happy speech, proposed a vote of thanks to their host for all he had done for the ringers that day, and mestioned that Mr. Pennington had two hobbies-ringers and railwaymen (applause).-The motion was seconded by Mr. Wm. Hale, and carried with acelamation. The tower was again visited, and good practice obtaincd.

OLD GROUND REVISITED.

Thirty years aga St. Joln the Brptist Association, Leytonstone, -tarted on their series of anmal outings, Bury St. Edmunds being the place selected. Thas year it was decided to revisit this ancient pluce, qud on Friflay, June 14th, ten members left Liverpool Street hy the $7.10 \mathrm{p}, \mathrm{m}$. train. On arrival they were met by Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, and Mr. 'J. Failkner, of Barking, and Mr. Chimbry and another of the local luad conducted them to headyuartera, tho White Lion Hotol. Noxt morning, after an carly break finst, fehnrabane tour to a number of towerg was embarked nipon. Mesars. Durrant and Lots juired the party at Ixworth and Walsham-le-Wiltows was rached at 8.45 a.m. Goou the bells (a good peal of gix) were going to Cambridge- It was found, however, that the hells sudly need tile attention of a bellhinger, and very little could he done on them. Making their way to Rickinglall, the ringers cond things in toon order, and on this handy rier 720 Fork was ncoomplished. After wolles in other mothorls to give everyborly st mull, si reve was made to North Jopham. Here is a handy peal eight, recontly augmented from an old peal of fint by Messrs Mear's and Stainbank, the tone and go being exeellent. Touches of Superative sumpise, Stedman and Grandsire Iuples were rumg L'he chtureh at Chiloldishan was reuthed at 12.30 . This place is very intaresting to Minor ringers. Two stome peal tablets in the tower racoral parals rutig by ringers in lygone days. One relates to a peal ol (irandsire Bol rimmg in 2773, another rung in the year 1822 contrinige a poat of 5,040 , being 720 efth of Cambridge Surprise. Plain Tublo. Oxford Treble Bob, New Ireble Bob, Norwich Court Bob, Donble Rob and Tomplon Court Bob, conducted by J. Mellows. "This giat and masterly performance wis perfectly completed in 2 hours 54 minutes.' Tlarre is also a list of Vicars dating from 1305. A 720 Bewerley surprise was rung, also in masterly style, and a tonch of Carabridge. Then at the Fox Inn a substantial hot lunch awaited tho party. On the way thoy passed the grand old tower of South Lropham, where their late lriend, W. Doran, used to say hangs tho best peal of six in Norfolk, but, alas, they sre How in tho bida a conlition to ring. At Hapton, an anotler handy ring of six, a good 729 Norwich and a tomel of Wells wore tapped off. At Bardwell the ringers weve ugain disoppointed, for this peal of six sadly need attention, nurl nothing move than a counse of Plain Bibl could be athempter on them. Iyworth was next Jeached, and on the splendid peal of six (tenor 16 ewt.) in this fower a 720 London Surprise, stirictly silent, was attempted, hut came to grief after two parts had bect excellently rulte. A 720 Cambridgo followed, by No. 2 band, conducted by, P. E. Avoy. After tion at the Grown Hotel the grand akt peal of five (tenmy 17 owt.\} at ]rakenlam was visithed, and geveral 120's of Stedman and firandsire where rung. The last place of eall 01 Squarday was Routon, whore a faultless 720 Ipswich was mine on the lifht neal of six. Other short touches followed and tracks wore then made fou headquarters, where a social hour with local ringers was spent in handbell ringing, etc.
On Sumdaw pemision hat benn obtained to ring on the fine meal of ten at the Korman tower, but fimo allowed only for two short touches of Gramative Cators. After lireakfast the party took a drive of twelve miles to Lomem Melford, and were amply rewavied by ringing on a grand peal of eight, recently restored by Messrs. Taylor and Co., Grandsint, Stedman and $n$ long tolth of Superlative being mag. Everyone regretted not being able to inspect this very old chutch, one of the largest and most historimal in Suffolk. After lunch there was a trip to Tlvedon, where arrangements lad been mide la ring at the memorial tower for an hour. On the way tho party visited the war memorial, which stands in threa parishes and chil be sem for several miles slanding high above the many trees in the district. Reaching Flvexton bell tower, they found one of the latest prodicts from the Whitenhapol Foundry, a grand peal of dight, and the "gn' perfoct. Donble Norwiel and other methods were Iurlar. The last churoll to ho visited was St. Mary's, Bury, where on this well-known Ting of cieht, (teror 2 e cwt.) Cambridge and Stedman weye funt. Thosm whe toak part weve Messis. W. Miller and J. Monlo (whe went to the first outing 30 years agol, and $W$. Theobald, A. I'rinu, T. Smith, P. F. Aver, E. J. Thatler, F. Farbank, G. Dawson, PR Molton and the two visitors nhove mentioned, and all wisll to renord their best thanks in the clergy for so readily granting permission to ring. to the local ringerg for their assistance, and to Mr J. Cinnery, of This, Ene the nurungements made.

THE 'SLACKER.

We make no apology for reminding members once more that our first duty is to maintain the level of service ringing in our individual towers at the highest possible standard and to spare no pains to attain this end by punctual and regular attendance.' This is the concluding paragraph in the annual report presented to the members by the Master and Hon. Secretary of the Sussex County Association. It deserves to occupy a foremost: place in the report of every association and guild throughout the country. Many bands suffer from the unpunctual and irregular attendance of the indifferent members, who check progress, induce apathy, and finally, sometimes, virtually break up the company. Why is it so many ringers think nothing of coming to the belfry five or ten minutes late for practice or service ringing? It must be because they do not fully appreciate the office which they hold. If they happen to be members of the choir they would not think of walking into their places ten minutes after the service las begun, yet they have no compunction about sauntering into the belfry many minutes late. They count for nothing the time of the five or seven other men they have kept waiting; they treat as of no importance the fact that the bells have been silent, waiting their coming; while their attitude with regard to practice is often one of still less consideration. Their colleagues have perforce to wait the slacker's convenience before they can begin and the wasted minutes, as the President of the Central Council, said in a recent sermon to ringers, quickly mount up to hours in the aggregate.

There scems to be no remedy to cure the failing in ringers of this type. They know that the rest arc to some extent dependent upon them, but instead of this being an incentive to punctuality, it seems to act in the contrary direction, and they rather delight in the 'let them wait policy which they adopt. It is a great pity that all ringers are not imbued with the spirit of one well-known member of the Exercise, whose example was guoted at the Winchester Guild's jubilee the other day. He has declared that he would no more think of being late for service ringing than be would think of being late for work. And not only does he preach this gospel, but practices it most assiduously. If all ringers woulel do this, the standard of ringing in the service of the church would quickly be raised, because time, otherwise wasted, would be devoted to improvement. From the first day a man joins a band punctuality and regularity ought io be a creed instilled into him, by precept and example, and he should be taught to realise that, unless he responded, the belfry has no use for him. The finest example of (Continued on page 450.)

Church Bell Rove and Clock Rope Manutacturer, OU LEWISHAM PARK, LONDON, S.E. 13 Late of BERMONNSEY and PECKHAM.

Maker to St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminstor Abbey, Imperial Institule, Oanterbury, Eliniurgh, St. Albans, Lincoln, Durham, Poterborough, Melbourne (Australia), Rochester, Dublin, St. Patrick' $\mathrm{B}_{1}$ Manchester, Durban, and Worcester Cathedrals, etc., etc. punctuality is to be founci at St. Paul's Cathedral. Here, a quarter of an hour before ringing time the ringers make the long climb up to the ringing chamber and prepare for their task. Two minutes before the moment for starting every man is at his rope; as the clock strikes, the twelve bells are pulled off and they do not stop again until exactly five minutes before the service hour. Sunday after Sunday, year in and year out, this unfailing programme is carried out-punctuality is looked upon as a duty; there are no wasted moments and the highest standard in service ringing is attained. Why cannot the same thing apply in every tower in the country where there is a band? It would raise the art; and it would raise the ringers in the esteem and respect of the people.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.  MEETING AT HARROW WEALD.

The North and East District of the Midelesea County Associationt and Lonton Diocesan Gaild paid its annual visit to the north-west corner of the county on June 29th, the lower chosen on this occasion boing that of Harrow Weald, with a pretfy peal of six bells. In spite of the absence of several prominent nambers, including the lon. secretary and vice-president, on holidays, there was a good attendance, snd $M \mathrm{M}$. Albert W. Coles saw that the methods rung suited all tastes.
The Vicar (Rev. C. S. Durlam) condneterl the service at $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and also presided at the meeting, which followed a very excellent tea in the Institnte. Mr. Goodship made an efficient secretary.
Eleven new members was aclomitted, whilst it was announced that jointi mectings with neighbouring associations had been arranged a.t Hadley on July 27th (Herts and Middiesex), also at Broxbourne on August 24h (Essex, Herts and Middlesex). It was left to the hon. seeretary to arrange the next mecting of the district. Fotes of thanks to the Vicar and the Rector of Stimnore (Rev. W. A. Hewelt) concluder the business.
Stanmore tower was wisited in the evening, wherc Mr. G. A. Hughes mot the mombers, and the ringing ineluded a variety of methads up to London: Surprise Major. Mr. W. Pye, as usual, made

LEICESTER MEN AT LINCOLN.

The members of the St. John-the-Divine Society, Leicester, accompantiod by their wives, held their hanual summer outing on Satirday, June 2gth, when they risited the city of Lincoln. The party, numbering 24, were net at the railwny station ly Mr. George Chester, of Sit. F'etar-at-A rclies and the Cathedral, nud piloted by himi throumh the qusint old sireets. A first-rato ment tea was provided at the Cimeoln Co-operative Cafe. Fiye-thirty saw the party at the Cathedral-in the opinion of the writer, the premier Cathedral of Great Britain-where the new ring of twelve bells were soon mouth upwards. Touclies of Triples, Caterg and Cinques were rung to the =atisfaction of all concerucd, while the ladies were shown around the interior of the edifice. Frain time canne sll too soon, and the company reached Leirester ahout 10 p.m. The best thanks of the society are herewith tendered to the Prccentor and tite Catheiral authorities for the kind permission to ring, and especially to the veteran Mr. Feorge Chester (who, with the writer, yang in the last peal on the old eight in 1896, with Messrs. Lindoff and Craven) for his invaluable help in fiting the role of "guide, plitosopher awl triend."

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD. MEMBERS STILL ON THE INGRESSE.
The annual meetiog was held at Lichfield on Saturday, June 29 th. The bells at the Cathedral were available from 3 p.m. to $3.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., atrd again from $6.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. This privilege was appreciated, as it is only possible to have tho use of these bolls in alternate jears. At St. Mary's and St. Michael's Chutches ihe bells were kept going, with intervals, from 3 p.m, tutil the evening.
Thea was served at the Minster Cafe, where upwards of 70 mombers and friends refreshed themselves. While tea was in progress the Bishop of Lichficld (Dr. J. A. Kempthorne) entered the hall and welcomed the members to Lichfield, at the same tima kindly inviting the company to inspect his gayden and grounds.
The general meeting followed, presided ovor by the Archdeacon of Staffow (Ven Hugh Bright). The Chairman congratulated thu memberg upan the satisfactory statement of accounts and report of the yerr's work. The officers were re-elected, with the exception of Ringing Master, to which office Mr: John Periy, of Brewood, was elected in the place of Mr. John C. Adams, retired.

The following places have bech selceted for meetings to be held during the jear: Wombraume in September, St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, in January, Camoek in Aprit, and Jichfieid for the innual) in June.

The sum of 玉l Is. was voted to the Peun hell restoration fund.
Wiren the busiress was disposed of, the Chairman invited his hearers to visit his garden and to have a 'roll-up' on his bowling green. Those who took advantage of this and the offer from his his lorkship were well repaid.
The committee, in their report, wore happy fo state that the society was financially sound, and the number of members still on the increase. Bell restoration in the Archdeaconry was still on the move, the latest additions to the list being tho rocasting of the ten at Welsall, with two trebles added. This brought the number of rings of twelve in the Archdeaconry up to threc, which was unique for 50 comparatively smah an area. The ring of eight at Pattingham had been rehung, whilo those at Lapley (four') were being rehung, two recast, with the addition of a new troble. The eight at Penu were about to be recast and hung in a new iron frame, ready for opening in the coming autumn. the following peals had been rong during the sear: Grandsire Doubles 4, Grandsire Triples 7, Grandsire Gaters 2. Stedman Triples 7, Stedman Gaters 2, Sledman Cinqnes 1, Doutbly Norwich Court Boh Caters 1, Bob Minor 1, Bob Major 1, Kent Treble Bob Major I, Gambridge Surprise Majar I: total 28 . 'lhe commit tee regretted to record, through aleath, the loss of Albert Addison, of Bushburs, and Eric Lownes, of Kingswinford.

A meeting of the Northern District of the Londoz County Association is to he held tut St. Bepulchre's, Holborn, to-morrow. The notice of this meeting reached us too late to appear in our last issue, and we woull remind socrelaries that all notices must reueh us on 'luesday to ensure insertion in the following Fridny's issue.
There was Bob Major in a pal of Grandsire Triples at Lawton, Cheshire, last week, yet the tonoi was always liept behind. The solution will be found in our peal columns.
Mr. Willian Hawkes, who took part in a quarter-peal at Springfield, Essex, on Thanksgiving Sundry, is 84 years of age, and still a regular service ringer:
The first peal by a band of ladies was rung at Cubitt Town on July 20th, 1912.
Sunday is the anmiversary of the peal of 77,280 Kent Tueble Boh Major rung at Over in the year 1923. The peal occupied exactly ten hoturs.
Forly years ago next Thursday eight James's rang a peal of Granalsire Triples at St. James', Clerkenwell, for the St. James' Society.

THE ATTEMPT ON THE MAXIMUS RECORD.

As has alveady been mentioned in these columns, an attompt is to be made on August Bank Holidiay to set up a new reend on twelve bells, and the following notice is now formally given:-
*An attempt will be made on Monday, August 5th, to ring 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Makimus at Ashton-under-Lyne Parish Church, starting at about 8 a.m., under the auspices of the Lancashive Associatioll and the Ashtan-unfer-Lyme Society
'Compesition, Jev. H. Law James' 29 courses.
'All concerned please note.'

A HERTFORDSHIRE PEAL REHUNG.

The six bells at King's Walden, Herts, have been rehung in ball bearings, by Messis. White, of Appleton, the treble having been recust by Messis. Mears and Stainhank. The greater portion of the cosi has been horne by Major Fartison, of King's Walden, Bury, within whose beautiful groumels the chnreh is situaterl.
The first change ringing on the bells simce the rehanging, toak place an July 10th, when a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung in 44 misutes by $A$. Gillings (conductor) $1, T$. Cann 2, D. C. Mears 3, H. W. Anstee 4, H. Fellows 5, J. Parkyn 6. This was the first quarter-peal by the tenor man, who is one of the local ringers, and the first on an inside hell by D. C. Mears. Mr. H. W. Anstec hopes to form a band of change ringers at his tower in the near future.

LADIES GUILD.

CENTRAL DTSTRECT TO BE REVIFED.

The fiftecth annual general mecting of the Ladies Guilul was held at St. Clement Danes' Church, Loudon, on Saturday, July 6th. The attendance was small, anly nineteen members being present. Ringing took place in the afterneon and cevening, and several memhers had their first mperjence of tem-hell ringing.
A short service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. Perrnington Bickford, who gave a very interesting and helpful address. The members were afterwards cordially welcomed to St. Clement's hy the Rector and Mrs Ponnington Bickford, who both take a very keen interest in the Guild nud its work.

At the business meeting, held in the choir vestry, Miss Steel, the president, took the chair. Five new members were elected.
The pecounts showed a surplus on the year's working of es 14s. Ild., whicl is a very gratifving state of affairs.
The Secretary (Mrs. F. K. Fietcher) reported that the year had heen a very quiet obse, no peals having been rung. Kwen interest Was shown in most districts, but the attendance at some of the meetings was not all that conld be desired. The Southern Distriet secretary had met with a serious accident while on holiday, and had been unable to carry on for same time, but was now much better and able to neamo her valuable work for the Guitd. The Central District had lapsed tempararily, but was heing revived in the near future. In all other districts yegular meetings had been held. and all district secrefaries were thanked for their miming work. Death had elnimed Ltree mimbers, viz, Mrs. A. W. Clark, of Croydon, Miss N. Jolnson, of Finton, near Evesham, and Miss B. Stilwell, of Yateley, all keen ringers and snpporters of the Guild. Mernbers were aghin urged to forward their subscriptions as they became due, anc] save the secretaries time and expense in collecting them.
Miss Steel was unanimously re-elected as president, and Mrs. Fletcher as hon. secretary and treasurer.
The revised rules were discussed and aclopted. It was decided to issue reports this year, and to include under iheir respective districts the ammes and addresses of all merahers
The next annual meeting was lixed to be held in the Western District, at a ceutre ensily accessible, and it was left to the gemeral and district sceretaries to make the nepessary arrangements.
The thanks of the Gimid are aue to the Rector of St. Clement for his kindness in nllowing the meeting to be beld, and to Mr

RINGING CONTEST AT MELTHAM

NINE TEAMS TEST THEIR SKILL.

Tlae IIalifax and District Association's annual meting aud six-bell contest took piace at Meltham on July 13th. It was a glorious day, andi nine sets hall entered the contest. It was decided by the consmittee that each band shauld ring 600 changes, any method, and to do away wilh the usual practice of three leads. The duaw was as followg. No. 1, Thorthill; No. 2, New Mill; No. 3, Sandal: No. 4, Friczlatid; No. 5, Shelley; No. 6, Huddersfield; No. 7, Liversedge; No. 8, Holmlirth; No. 9, Baticy; and all the companies selected Treble Bob.

An excellent lea was provided in the school, to which aboui one hundred naci twenty sat down. Ringing was completed at eight oclock, and the meeling followed immediately afterwards. The president, M1. E. Earnshaw, oceupied the chair. The balance sheet was presented and adopted, ou the proposition of the charman, seconded by Mr. Lawson (Lightcliffe). It showed a sligltt increase on the ycar.
Mr. J. E. Carter proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Meltham (Rev. II. F. T. Barker) for the use of bells, also to the churchwarclens and ringers, and to the ladies for providing such an excellent ten, Mr. W. Ide seeonded the motion, which wns carried unanimously.-The Victr acknowledged the thanks, and said he thought that belringing went a long way towatds this country getting its name of 'Mersio England.' "I'he mother church of that parish was the proud possessor of ane hell, and the same bell was thent for ower ane lundred years. Fe said the people of Meltham weat as far as Mursden to meet the lorry which brothent the present peal to the church in 1836 , and he thought that great ercelit was clue to Messers. Taylor, the bell founders, hs if was still a 'virgin peal.'
The officurs elected for the present year were: Prosident, Mr. E. Earnshaw (Meltham); treasurer, Mr. F. Salmon (Halifar); eecretary, Mr. L. Hasgreaves (Halifas).
Tile judges (Mr. J. Broadley, Bradford, and Mi. E. Whitely, Melthara) gave their decision on the vontest as follows:-

Holnofth were therefore deelared wimers of the cup. Tb shoald he panted out lhat Tharnhill drew No. 1, but were umahle to ring and therefore, according to vule, liad to ring last.
The Viear presented the cup to Mr. चु. 33. Booth, of Holrifirth and congratulated them, as ft was the first time they had won it. Mr. Booth suitabiy replied.
It was decided to have the next six-bell contesil at Fricaland, nean Oldham, as the nuthorities had kindly offered the use of the bells It was resolved that in future two six-bell conteste be held to one eight-hell.
A vote of thanks to judges and chairman closed the meeting.

THE DISTRICT SECRETARY'S PROBLEM

A meeling at the Guildford Districh of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was helr at Pirbright on Saturelay, July 13ths. As the hells arc rung from the ground floor it proved an ideal place for a meet mg on fot day, as not only wats it cool in the ringing roon, but just outside the roor in the churchyard is a shaty tree, under which hose not ringing rould sit. Menbers were present from Old Wok ing. Werblesdon, Pirbuight, West Glamon, Whe Cathedral Churet and S. Nicolas', Guildford, and visitors fronn Croydon, Aldershot Leatherlead and Beddington. The light ring of sis were kept going all the aftemoon and in the evening to rounds and methods from Grandsine and Bah Doubles to Londou Surprise Minor:
The Viear of Pirbright (the Rev. H. S. Talsry) conducted the service, and in the course of his eddress referred to the fact that althongh the music of the bells could he heard outsithe the church the ringers producing it were hidden from wiew, so that the genern publie had very little idea of what was really lappening in the finging room. At least one of the members present could not help but think that if the people of Pirbright ro not know how theit bells are rung it is beceuse they do not want to, for eren the oldest inbabitant sifting in his hath ehair could see into the ringing room from the churchyard ante. Oue of the things the District Secretary is sure the ringers did not see is the said secretary a fow dags before the mecting scrateling his head in the mitdle of the following problem: "If six mentherg notify you of their intention of attenting the meeting, will the weather be fine, fod, if so, how many wisl eudeavour to find a place at the dea table?" Forturately, this time the answer at which he artived was faialy sccurate, for there was ample tea for the 34 who sat dewn to it
The Viear mresided at a short busimess meding. One new member was elected, and the election of one compmonding memben was anlirmed.

THE RINGERS' RALLY AT NEWCASTLE

Between 500 and 600 ringers and frieuds retenderl the great gathering of rilugarg at Neweasile min Saturday, when they were the guesis at the North-East Coast Exhahition of the proprietors of the "New castle Chronicle' and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, founders of the great Wellington Wia Bemorial carillon, whel is one of tho outstanding features of the exhitition.
A full report of the procechings will appear iu onl rext jasue.

A TRAGEDY OF THE ROAD

OLANLPIGE RJNGFR'S DEATR FROM MOTOR ACCIDENTI.
A distrossiug fatality has occurred to one of the Cranleigh, Surrey, compary of bellringers, Mt. Elwin Charman, a member of all olal ringing family, baving been knocked down by a motor-can athol dying as a result of his injuries
It appears that on Saturday Mr. Clarman was jushiug his bicycle up a hill in a rather harrow road near Cranleigh. He pansed at the entrance to Hall $r^{3}$ lace Drive and beekoned ont a nostor-cycle combination. Fefore the combination could come out of tile drive a motor-car came ever the brow of the liill. The two velicies collided and the motor-car erushed Mr. Charman aganst a pillar-box. He was remowed to the Contrity Hospital at Guildford, hut suceumbed to his injories on Sumbly. An inquest was leld on Tueshay, when a verdich of "Death from misadventure" was returned. Re leaves a widow and fanily, with whom the greatest sympatby is felt.

Mr. Charman had becu assaciated with khe helfy at Cuanleigh for many years. He was an old member of the Wincluester Diocesal Guid, and became one of the foumdation members of the Guithform Diocesan Gruild.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

most succossful quarterly meefing tras held at Monmoth on Saturday, when members mustered well from botla Monmonthshime and Glamorganshire. The bells, a ring of eight by Rudlaall, were recast, it is stated, from the origimal bells brought over from Frame ant prosented to Manmanhl, after his stlecessive victories, by Hemry V., who was horm at Mommouth. Very welcome visitats were the Coseley (Staffs) ringors, who were on their anmand oultag, nnd who, miur to the servicu, look purt in thr ringing. Sortice was lamel al 4.30 , boula the Yical aind curate taking paut, whe lation giving a very interesting address.
Following lise meeting, lea, whith had hech tery geatrously prow vided, was served in the Church Room. The busimess meating followed, the Rew. C. K. Smith presiding.
Augmentation, restoration, and inslructors' yeports were received ancl the reptescnatives to the Central Comacil meeting at Cluelms. ford proseated their report.
ogress siuce the last meeting in warious ways was repnted by the hols. secretary, and it was fecirlon th liold flee next Mommeuth meeting at Cafticot in Semtmber, the acst Glamorgan moting th he held at Llanfrisant. New mombers were also elected. After the usurl voke of thanks to all whon had helpod to make dar meeting such a pleasant one, special mention was made of Xir. Konnayd Jones, the local leader, for ali he had done
The bells were then rung antil late, and brought a most successful and pleasathe galliering lo a close

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.  SPADE WORK IN EJAK DISTRTCT.

A mecting of the Peak District was held al Hope and Castledol on Saturday, Juty Eth. Ringiag commenced an the heavy penl of six at Hope (tenor repated to be 197 cw e.), and some amasing anties were witncesed as ono aiter another fried their fands at keping lier going, not the least interested being the renernhle and Ecuial Vicar, who seemed quite tickled at the iden that his bells should presenl a probiem ta experts in the art. A plossabt ehat with the Vicar and lowal rimgers completed the procecdings, tlen thestion of the rentration of the helle and the fakiug up of change
 a. litule variation

Arrived at Casiletan, a very well-going but rather tunatatial pon. of eight awailect the party, with a tenor ahout 15 cwt., surd Enod use whs made of the bells" by hingers from Allou-under-Iron. A subsiantial tea was proviled at the residence of Mr. Payne, that peniol venger and steeplekecper, and a slont business mpeting fol lowert.
 R. Somers:, of Hopo, wrs elected, alll Ewam was suguested as the next meeling place an the secomb Saturdiny in August. Fitetient tinging took place till ahoul $8 \mathrm{pm} . \mathrm{m}_{\mathrm{g}}$ pleuty of opportunity being given to the Casteton anrl Tape ringers, several of whom expressed their intention of altmaling future meetings.

JUBILEE OF THE WINCHESTER GUILD.

FEPTY YEARS OF GROWTHF,

'Ibs: jubilee celebration of the Winehester' Diovesan Guild, which Lesak plince at Winchesier on July Gth, was a greal suctess, over a hanulted members and friends being present. The Guild was established at a meeting at l3asingstoke on Jane 26th, 1879, Iavgely as the mitethen of efforls that latd beetr mate by the Rev, A. Du Boulay Flil] When of Winchester College and now of Berkhampsted), and the Jis. Canon Madge (Winchester). Jlotli these gantlemen, happily, survive, but a number who were actively associated with therr arce no longer with as. The diocese ft that time wan a huge sul, daking in the county of Hampshire, a hig pare of Sumey and tha Isle of Wight. Change ringers were fow and fan between, and the means of intercammanication limited. Bat the spirit of belfry rod'on'm was abroad the enthusiasts worked unsparingly. Various evilres became rallying points, and anong the practical ringers who Whal sume wonlerfal spadework were men whose names should ever retmain amblazoned on the records of tha Guidel, like the late Henry Whate, tho late John W. Whiting, George Willians and others, Mr. Willianas linving, since lis return to the diacese, filled the offices of hom secretary and Master. Other mames which have been prumineratly associated with the progress of that Guild have heen the the Fev. H. Warponter, who was secrelary for fon years.
fhr division of the diocese in 1987 led to the towers in the new Gualdord Diocese fomming their own Guid, bat the reorganisation oft ilie remaining tersitoty into the Windsester and Portsmonth Dioursan Cinild has given new life and growth to the old organisation, whinh toway is more vigorous than ever. Interest in the jubilee cumonemoration was shown by ringers thoughout the area, and cumbenoration was shown by ringers throughout the area, and representatives were present at the gathering from the following fowers: Basingstoke, Bishopstoke, Blacknoor, 13rockenhurst, Chisichameh, Farehnm, Freshwater, Highelere, Hursley, King's Somborne, L, miugion, Micheidever, Milfordon-Sea, Narih Stoneham, Portsmomsth Cathedral, Portser, Romsey, Ryde, Sherborme St., John, Southampton, Stockbridge, Swannore, Tiehborne, Titchficld, TwyFout, Wickham, Whitchurch, Woolton Hill, Winchester, and Xateley. Artong the visitors wern Ms. E. Alex Ynung, hon. seeretary of the Contral Coumail, Mr. E. C. Mermett (BrighLon), representing the Sussex County Association, Mr. C. T. Coles, ionn secretary of the (quintirs (Newbury), iund Mi. G. Bull (ISinfield). Canon Madge jained the members at the serviee, but was nots able to attend the tha. The two next oldest members present were Mr. (T. Williams, whe jeined it Soberlon in February, 1880, nat Dry. Beales, who juined ah Werbridge in June, 1880. The twalve bells at the Cathehram nut the six out St, Marices Churel were rung during the all'lemoon, nud the members then sat down ta tea together in the Ansonic Hall. Canou Braithwaite presided, supported loy the Moster (Mp. (i, Willinms), Rev. N. C. Woods, the hon. secretary (Mi', G. Pullinger), the Rev. Canon Goodman, He Rrv. S. M. Watson (St.
 I:. Alexamer Young, Mr. J. W, Elkins, Mr. Wilfred Andrews, etc. After ten, Mr. G. Willinms mmoneed upologies from severni, incuding the Rev. B. C. Thylor (Binsted, Rev. F. O. Scar (St.
Mraty lourne), Lhe Rev. W. $H$. Thomas (Ronsey), the Rev. Evan dones (Hedge Eand), M1. A. H. I'ulling (Guildford), Mr. H. Barton (Ventmar), find others. He also road letters from the Rev. A. D. Hill regreting that, owing to rheumatism, the was anahle to be proseth and conveying his congratulations. Fe wrote that the was aroul tor see that the Guila had grown and prospered so well. The Waster also rend a lelegram of greeting, congratulation and good wisher sent by membors of the Guildford Dioensan Guild at their a!ाนal festival.

TARLY HISTORY

Mr. Wi:linnons then wout on to say that the Gnild was foumied on Ithe 26th, 1879: he was elected a member on February 25th, 1880, rurl wis probably the oldest, member present that afternoon, There wis very little ringing and yery few ringers in those dajs, and one had fo tuat all over Fimpshite and Sumey to ext motigli men to fing a peat. Ihe firsl peal way rung by the Guild on December 27th, 1881, HL S. Nicolas Churelt, Guildford, ant was touducted by Stephes Brooker. Of the eight who took part ia the peal, Mr. George Sayers, of Ashtond, and Mr. ©. Dudley, of Dorking, were the maly survivors. The second peal rung by the Guild, and the first in Fampshice, was at Soberton, on Jaumary 17th, 1884. That wits his lirst peal, and he was the only survivor, Not till September 24th, 1887, was a pent of Shethman rumg hy the Guild-the tower peal of Siedman wis by a resident hand on Auptist 26th, 1899, also at Stu Peter's, Fareham. This was the 50 th peal by the Guild in a perion covering just over ten ymars. It was only in reent times that peals in more advanced methods latcl been rung in Fampshire lye resident bands. He would like to sae mom of the entlusiasm of Whe old duss shown twe the youger mombers in turuing up for practices and for sunday service ringing. In this connedion, fie passed on to therr the remarks which he read recenty in the annual report of the Stisex County Association, remiuding nembers that their first duty is to maintain the level of service ringing at the highest possible standard, sparing no pains to atiain this ond by purctuad and regular attencance: Mr. Winliame gave the mames of the secretnries of the Guild during the 50 years of its existence as follow: Rev. A. 1D. Hill, 1879-81; Rev. H. A. Spyars, 1881-90; Rev. … C. M. Harver, 1890-98; Rev. C. H. Matthews, 1896-1902; Rev. E. W. Carpenter, 1902-06; Rev. C. W. Scott, 1906-0. Rev. W. E. Col chester, 1908-12; Mr. G. Williams, 1912-19; Rev, Siv John Hetschel 1919-21; Rev. N. C. Woorls, 192I-23; Mr. G. Pullinger, 1923 to the present time. The Master coneluded by extending a liearty welcome to visitors from otleer districts.
The Rev. N. C. Woods said be had two messages to give. One was from the Bishop of Portsmoulh, their co-presideult, who rang lim up that afternoon to give his very best wishes and blessing to the Guid, and the other was from Canon Robinson, who also sent his very best wishes (applause).
Canon Braithwaite, who was greeted witi applasie, said they were grateful to Mr . Williams for the information he had giveu them. It was always interesting to know the history of any society, beande they built their future on tie history of the past. They saw the great progress that had heen made in the ringing in the diocese, and were glad to see such a large number of young men present on that jubilee day: He did not want to make a specoh, fint in his position as chairman he wished to give a toast-that of "Prosperity to the Winehester and Portsmotath Diacesaz Guild of Church Bellringers. Fo did this with all his lieart, and he hoped that the towers wisited that day would be pleased with their wark, and that they would go on giving more and more advanced touthes as they werg able, commencing with simpler ringing and going on further and further. He appealed to the younger members to regard the advice Mr. Williams had given with reference to regular and punctual attendances, by which they would learn more mat more of the great and beautiful art of bellringing (applause)
Mr. E. A. Young said it was very kind of Mr. Williams to mention him as a visitor. As secretary of the Central Council, he felt he was there in a representative capacity, and, ou behalf of the great body of bellringers throughout the countro, he cordially endorged all the good wishes thas had been expressed by the chairman Mr. C. T. Coles (Midnleser Association) warmly congratulated the Winchester Guild-whicla was one of the first in the dautry-on its success during the past 50 years. In listening to what larl been success during the past 50 years. In listening to what hard been said about those early days, one conld but fed that the Guild me a long-felt want. In cangratulating them on the past, he wished them even greater prosperity in the years to come (applause). M1. E. C. Merritt (St. Peter's, Brighton) alsn expressed the pleasure it gave bim to be present, nun added his congratulations ou the juhrile
Fev. S. M. Watson and Mi', F. E. Dawe also spoke. The latter en dorsed what Mr. Williams had stated as to bellringing in the days when the Guild was started. There was a difficulty in getting prae tised ringers in those fays; the was living in Devonshire at the time, and they had to go all the way to Oxford to get a man to make up a paal of Gramdsire Triples.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF RINGING SOCIETIES.
The mernhers then attended evensong in the Cathedrat, wlete the bells-Holy unto the Lord." He spoke of the first importance of everything which concempe in any way the worship and prase of Almighty God, and said liat by no means the least important itern was the belfry. Fe therefore made no apology for addressing them on the subject of bells, beilingels and bellinging ont the 50th shippers,' he said, 'have, from time immemarial, been summoned to church by the ringing of bells; indeed, the churela bells werc, for centuries, the ouly means by which the people knew the time of day. The ghtuly of hell love is an intensely fascinating one. It is so full of romance, num takes has bank to early times in a way which canmot fail to hold 118 enthralled. Who does not know conntry rillages-and, indeed, cities and tovns, too-where very ancient customs still prevail in connction with hellunging? What memories bells bring tanck to us! What associations they have with important events in our lives! As time goes on, and people become romantic in a utilitarian age, these old customs drop out one one; but we, in this city, have at leasl one such ancient custom te-maining-that of ringing the chrfew at 8 o'elock each night.'
The preacher wont on brichy to sketch the ovolutiou of clange Schalars of Cheapside, formed in 1603, and the Ancient society of College Youths, established in 1637. The 181n century and the earlier part of the $19 \mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{l}}$ century, he said, 'are well known as times when matters eeclesiastical were not as we would bave them to be, and it is not surprising to read that yingers and ringing were greatly prejudiced in the eyes of the public. Howerer, ibout half-way througln the 19tly century things began to improve, and in our own diocese we dind on Cathedral ringers heing taken in liand by two dorgy, one a Minor Canan of this Cathedral, and the other are

DEATH OF A YOUNG LANCASHIRE RINGER.

On Friday, July 5th, there was laid to rest in the grapepard of Halsall Parish Ghurch, Lancashire, the body of James Whitaker, one of the local band of rivgers. The deceased was only 19 years of age, and was respected by all with whom he came in contact. Fe was a most promising young ringer. Fonl members of the belfy acted as bearers, and shorty after the interment 720 Treble Boh Minor was rung with the belis half-muffled: J. Gardner 1, T. Prescott 2, A. Mawdesley 3, W. Huyton (conductov) 4, H. Serjeant 5, E. Mluudell 6 .

VISIT TO YORK

The ringers of St. Ignatius' Church, Sunderland, accompanied by the Ficar (Rey. G. H. J. Baily), the curate (Rev. G. D. John), the chumehwardens, and by their wives and ladg friends, a company of 32 in all, had their annual outing on June 26 th, when they visited York. An early start was made, anm, aruiving at York at 9.20 , the visitors were welcomed by two of the Minstel ringers, Messrs. Fearnley and Ricketts, who kindly acted as guides, and after a most interesting walk along the city walls a visit was paid to Mossrs. Rowniree's Wurks. The great chocolate makors have very complete arrangements for the entertainment of visitors, and five lady conductors slowed the party through the various departments. After dinner at the White Swan, a visit was paid to Escrick, a lovely model village six miles south of Yark, with a beautifut claucly which has been restored after being hurrt down about live years aga. The helfry is very well appointed, and lage enough to have accommodated the whole of the party, and the lovely bells were goon set going in tonches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Superlative. A real Yorkshire tea followed at the Black Bull Hotel, and full justice was clone to it, Hearty thanks woro then necorded to the clurchwardens for their presence and their contribution to the expenses, $\left\{\begin{array}{c}\text { welcome }\end{array}\right.$ givell to the visitors, and thanks to the Dern of York and the Rector of Escrick for the use of their bells, and the secretary for his services iu making all the arrangements, in which Mr. Imeson, of the Minster, liad rendered valuable assistance. The party were then photographed hy Mr. Frank Ainsley, and the visitors mat ladies had a walle though the beautiful gardeus of the Rectory, by kind invitation of the Rev. Trollope, and the ringers returned to Fork for a ring on the middle eight of the Minster, hut unfortunately they found there was not sulficient time for a ring. They, however, had the pleasure of secing Great Peter' (10X tons), and learnt with amusement that lie is half-raised every day at noon, and continues to sound for 7 oy 8 man-rased every day at noon, and contimues to sound for 7 or 8 then made for the station, and the party arrived home at 10.45 , after an almost "perfect day.

assistant master at Winclester College, who conducter a practice in No. 4, The Glose, on Decenmer 5lin, 1878. In the following year, 1879, we find the same two enthusiasts organising a meeting at Basingstoke on Jume 26th, at which the Winehester Diocesan Guild of Ringers was actually established. In these early days of the Guild transport was very difficult, and we find that in order to attend a committee meeting at Basingstoke these two men had to walk from Winchester to Micheldever to eatch a Arain to Basingstoke. We alsa lind abizen members of the Guild walking or bicycling on the old-fashianed high bicydes, all over the dincese, lo attend meelings, ting peals, and teach would-ive ringers in a way which compels admiration. We even find one carly member givimg up a good appointment altogether in order to attend a tower to take pari in ringing a peal, because bis employer wonld not allow him ta leave off for the day! It is a pride and joy to us who are celebrating the 50h anmiversary of out Guild's foundation to know that Whe two clergy, who were virfually our founders, are alive to-dayindeer, one of them is actually here this afternoon. It would mot hr possible to mention by manie all those to whon the Guild has reason to be grateful, but I feel that it is onfy just and proper that the naphes of Francis Thomas Madge and Arthur Dur Joulay Hill shoula be mentianed, as it is to them we owe the inspiration which brouglat our Guild into existence; and it was in great part their infueuce, encouragenent and enthosiasm which inspined the eavly members, and caused the Guild-small at first-to become the flourishing institution it is to-day. In conclusion, I would say to the clergy, "Know your ringers, and appreciate the part flacy take in the worship of the sanetuary": and to the ringers I cannot do better than quote the words of their piesent Master (himself one of the very enrliest members of the Guild): "I always make a point of turning up to rinur for each servico on a Sunday, just in the same way as g go to my daily occupation; and I Elank it is mo less than nny incumbent an expect of his ringers, that they should endeavan to atitenk at least one of the services. If a ringer is a consoientious thinker, he will feel it his duty, ou prineiple, to do this." God, Who hes frought us through the lizst 50 yenrs of our existonee, hless and keep an1. Cuild, now and in the future; and of His merey pardon our hortcomings, and accepi what we have done, what we do, and what we hope to do to His honour and glory.'
In ihe evening the bells of the Cathedral and St. Maunice's Church were again rung, and parties were made up to visit Bishopstoke, Furgley, North Stoneham, and Twyford, there being a ring of eight th each of these churches.

A SOUND DEVELOPMENT.

There is probably no diocese in the country where the restoration of church bells has, in recent years, been carried on to a greater extent and with more persistent effort than in the diocese of Oxford. This has been largely due to the infuence of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, whose members, from the Master downwards, have set themselves out to get the towers put in order. And they have been succeeding in a remarkable way. Local ringers, branch and guild officials have done wonders in persuading church authorities to undertake schemes to repair, and ofter to augment, their bells. The good work has spread, and last year the Master, who is the consultant on bell matters to the Diocesan Advisory Board, was called in to inspect and advise in quite a dozen cases. In practically all these towers work will doubtless be taken in hand, if it has not already been accomplished or begun, for it has been noticeable in the past that, when the Master has been asked for advice, a restoration scheme is almost always the outcome.

But it is not in advice and persuasion alone that the Guild has taken a part in getting belis put in order. It is taking its share in a practical way as well, and one of its most important developments is the financial assistance which it gives to these schemes. The Guild has established a restoration fund which seems almost to have the characteristics of the widow's cruse. A steady stream of grants goes out to churches where restorations are undertaken, yet the fund scarcely seems to diminish. This, of course, is due to the ingenuity of the treasurer, to whom the fund owes its inception, and although last Saturday five grants, amounting to nearly twenty-five pounds, were voted, Mr. Wright will probably come to the next annual meeting with a balance almost if not quite as large as he showed this year. The Guild's contributions to bell funds are not, however, limited to these votes from the general meeting. Each grant from the central fund follows a similar amount from the coffers of the branch in which the restoration is proceeding, so that this year the Guild will provide nearly $£ 50$ for this good work.

It is a wonderful example to other societies and it demonstrates to the authorities and to the public that ringers are not only ready to give their time to the service of the Church, but that they are also prepared, when need arises, to dip into their own funds to help to restore to proper order the bells which they ring. It is not every ringing organisation that has money to devote to this purpose on the same scale as in the Oxford Guild, which has over two hundred affiliated towers, but everywhere there is a growing tendency on the part of associations to make donations to bell funds. It is a sound and practical development, because it not only demonstrates the ringers' desire to help, but gives the associations a special interest in these restored peals which should make them all the more keen to see that the bells are kept in constant and efficient use.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATEON

A highly successful meeting of the Easlem Distritet of the York shire Association was held in delightful weather at Fatield, near Doncuster, on Saturdny, July 13th, and was attinaded by upwards of inirty members, representative of Lowerg at Yoole, Hawden, Hull. Fermingiougl, Fhome, Pontefuct, Selby, Eastrimgton, and members of the local bathl. A short service was lichl in the Prish Church, ans address being delivered by the Viear (Rev. J. Haythoruthwaite) who took as lis text the last verse of the last Psalm. He commented that tho nvurage nee of ringers was mitheh higher than formerly, and deplored the [act that the younger men did not offer themselves for ringing as provolusly, owidy to the greater mumber of attractions whish now nbounded.
Tra wan afterwards sorved in the Victoria Hall, and was followed by the husinesg menting, the Yicar presiding. Apologies for absence wore ronived from the vice-president, IT. F". Cryer (Selby), nat Mr. F . W. Dute (ITull). An invitation received frome the Vicar of St. Aprustine's, Fidon, noar Hull, to hold the next meeting at ihat place, was umammously nceppted. The peal of sir, at presentinnder regtoration, will be augmented to eight, and it is hoped will be ready for the meeting. The Viear was elected an lan. member, and Messrs. H. Crowe and G. Wilburn ringing members of the associa-
A furtrly vole of thatas was acoothed the Fiear for the use of the halls, for service and address, to the organist, to the ladies who sorved lea, and to Mr. H. Crowo and the local hand for their excellent arrangementis.
A few short touches in the tower brought to in close another delightful meeting.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL. MEMBERS, NOT DELEGATES.  To the Editor.

Sir,-Through the kindness of Rev. F. LI. Edwards, hon. secretary of the Sulisbury Biocesan Guild, who sent me a cutting from the 'Daily Mail' of 4 th inst. (a paper which I do not usually see), containing an article lsy Viscoun Brentford (Sir W. Joynson Hicks), entitled 'Advice to a Young M.P.,' I amenmbed to quote from it a passage which my fricud, Mr' Guise, and any ofhers whom it may concerm, would do well to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest.
He says: "There is one point in regard to which I am increasingly allious as years go on. .... When every constituent conds what you have said the next morning, and writes to warn you that you mustn'b say it again, there is a tendency to become a delagate and not a representative. Burke was right when, in returuing thanks for his election at Bristol in 1774, be said: "Your representative owes you not his industry only, but his judgment; and he betrays, instead of scrving, you if he saclilices it to your opinions. When is a member of Parliament." I am satisfied that we should all try more and more to realise this point. We are not members Twickenham or for Manchester; we are members of the great Pa liament of Great Britain, with the interests of the whole nation in our hands, and with a responsibility to the whole of it.
[ commend not only what Lord Brentford says, but the voice Burke, coming, as it dit, from 13ristol, to Mr. Guise, himself Bristol man, and to any of his friends who hitherto have thought as he does.
The Central Council oansists, not of delegates, but of members, each supposed to do his best, not necessarily for the association that sends him, but for the Exercise as a whole

CIARLES D. P. DAVIES.

DULY CONSTITUTED RULES WANTED

Sir,-Where is the consistency of a body whose position should be above even criticism?
Rev. Canon Coleridge, president of the Ceatral Council, to a menber, May 29th, 1928: 'You are not here as a delagate but as a member of the Council.
Rev. C. D. P. Davies: 'That these words of the president do no and neither the president nor anyane can, prevent a member of the Council from considering himself, and acting in all respects as if he were, a delegate. By doing so, he merely lowers his own status gratuitously.

I think Mr. Guise is right. We want duly constituted rules understand our position, nob haphazard methods which result ahove.-Yours fathfully, JOSEPF GOUJD.

APSLEY AND HEMPSTEAD RINGERS' OUTING.

The Apsley end Hempstead ringers, with a few visitors, bad onjoyable day among the bells on June 15th. Lenving Apsley 7.15, and picking tip at the Ringers' Rest, and Boxmoor, the joumney was made to Monks Risborougl, where hangs a peal of six. Thesc were rung to various metiods for nearly un hour, in spite of the old juts and brooms that were continutly getting mized up with the rinpers' fect! After a raid on the postcard slop, a move was mady to Watlington, where the peal of eight were soon going. Lowering the bells about 12 oclock, the next thought was dinuer, arranged a Henley, so another move was made. sorme real giant mushrooms being encountered ou the way. If the dinner dicl not provide grea thrilts, it did one thing, and that was to supply "ball bearings' the bells. Fenley Parish Church was then wisited for an hour, the journey resumed to Bray, with its 27 cwt. tenor on the ent six. Here the greatest ambition, in at least one person's life, accomplished in due course, when the tenor was turned in, in masterly manner, whinout 'stopping.' However, after just over hour's stay, this nice bell had to be left behind, and the journey sumed to Wiudsor, stopping hy the roadside for the 'annual came parade.' After tea, an hour's ringing was enjoped at St. John Churcu, finishing the day with a spleudid touch of Stedmant The rest of the evoning was spent in various ways, some with the locit ringers, until 9.30, when a move was made for home, the journey heing enlivened, as ringers know how, with songe old and now. Th party take this oppertunity of inanking the various incumbents fo the use of the bells, and the vergers and ringers who met them ing the day, thas makiag the auting a success. Touches in the lowing methods were runk: Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Bol Minor rad Major, Kent Treble Boh Minor aud Major, Oxford Boll Minor and Oxford Major, Camberdge Surprise Minor, Stedran Tripira a method known locally as 'Leverstoek Green Surprise,' and Litile Bob Major.

After the peal at Harrietsham a homely tea was enjoyed at the Bell Inn, kept by Mr. Owen Hodges, who was formerly one of the Biddenden bund. Mr. Hodges saved the ringing book, once the property of John Fermar, an old hand at Farrietshnm, who died about eight years ago, aged 82 years. In this book in Fermar's handwriting were some doggerel lines, probably copled by him from the original in 1781, describing a peal of 5,040 of Bob Major and the ringers thereof. Here are some of the verses:-

In seventeen hundred and eighty and one,

To begin the hew rear, as the old one was gone,
Eight sprightly young striplingg were met in Leeds steeple,
All ringers of fame, and I'll tell you the people.

Crorvs:

Hi, Derry down, ring away, Derry down day.
These active Leeds youihs who accomplished this peal
Went to it like lions, with hearts true as steel;
In measure and time made the clappers to beat,
Five thousand and forty-Boh Major complete.
To each ringer is devated a verse, giving his name, age and occupation. One of these runs:-

The seventh, a Barham, of very great fame,
A noted bob-ealler, and James is his name
His age, fifty-five, and he bohs them about,
Aud keeps lis bell right till the peal is rung out.
Such a noble performanee has never been done,
Their ages four hundred and ninety and one;
You will ne'er find their equal I venture to tell,
If you search the worde through they will still bear the bell.
So, now, brother ringers of every degree,
With your bells and your bottles be merry and free;
Thlien fill up your glasses, for here ny song ends,
Drink a health to brave Fairfax and Martin and friends.
Hi, Derry down, ring away, Derry down day.
The Hon. Robert Fairfax was owner of Leeds Castle, and gave the troble bells to Leeds Parish Church in 1751.
A heautiful May moruing gave good heart to the company on their way by roni from Ashford to Appledore, where two attempts for Superlative and a change to Cambridge Surprise met with suecess for the "third time of asking." The Vicar kindly met the party at the church, and Mr. F. White, of Cranbrook, spliced a faulty rope. At the churchyard gate stands a heavy oak settle, newly made, which hus just been installed for the use of the parishoners-it reeds the words 'Rest and be thankful' carved upon it, and the date, yimilar to such a seat in Twyford parish. It may be noted here that the ringers were the first (prohably) really to make use of it. A cold lumeh at the adjoining inn, with redueed 'malt, allowance, was partaken of bofore departing for the "big job" on hand for the flernoon.
Tenterden Parish Church, sometimes called the 'Cathedral of the Harshes, stiands upon a rising plaieau and forms with its handsome fower a landmark for miles around. 'the oldest record of the building diates from the reign of Henry II. In 1180, the Archbishop of Carterbury instituted Fugla Norman, and as late as 1240 it was found that he was still Rector. Henry de Wynglam wis nominated to the living in 1252, the parishioners objecting to his appointment. An affair took place in the church in which one Heary de la Smaleide (Henry of Smalliythe) was so wounded that lo died. Wingham was a native of the parish of that name near Canterbury, and was a man of some merit: the King not only pardoned him and others tabout 20 names are given), but eventually he became Bishop of London, and died in 1202 .
The earlier registers have heen lost, and not until 1311 does the name of a Vioar of Tenterden appear in the existing records. The dedication of St. Mildred is very uncommon. There are only three other churches in the whole county which have the same name-Greston, Nurstend and Canterbury-and it first appears in the registers of 1479 . In the Abbey registers of St. Augustine's it is recorded that Tenterten helongs to the manor of Minster, in Thanet, and as St. Mildred was very closely connected with that Abbey (being second abbess), her name follows ownership. Tha architecture of the oldest mortion is Early English and Lancet, the ceiling of the nave is waggon shnped, panelled and liandsomely carved, but the period is unknown. The roof is covered with shingle, an unusual method of rinfing. These werr renewed at the last restoration, but their first use goes back to 1584 . The porch and doorway appear to be $14 \mathrm{th}_{3}$ century work, also the font, which is decorated style. In 1798 a dreadful hailstorm broke every pane of glass in the south and southwest sides of the church.
The tourists arrived at the church at three o'clock, and were met by the verger and head ringer with 'Riglit away, and the bells were taised. The ringers were instructed not to take notice of anyone going un and down the staircese, as the place was open for any risitors to ascend to the top of the tower to get a view of the dis. tant scenery. However, someone duriug the peal gol iuto the clock ronm and interfered with the ropes; several tried the belfry door and called to the ringers, but still the changes rolled up in regular sequence until the condactor called "That's all. Tenterden bells form the heaviest octare in the county, und few peals of Major have been rung upon them siece Plilip Hodgkin fist turned in the tenor single-handed in 1912. On the present occasion the band realised that the honowrs of the aftermoon were due to the excellent compass of the three 'backenders' throughout the peal.
How ilie party enjoyed a Tenierden tea, and rode lightheartedy on air'-mentally and physically-back to Ashford, and parted hastily at the station for their respective homes, is a Kent recollecfion that will stand for some time in their ringiag memory. There is an excellent little booklet destribing the church, hy A. H. T., 1927, of which a copy was sent the writer by lames Hayward, and here are some extracts of the chapters on 'The Tower' and 'The Bells," but the author does not disclose the fact that a ring of eight bells was prowided by voluntary subscriptions in 1769, and the whole were cast by Pack and Chapman at Whitechapel Another fact which sppears to have no record left to tell the tale is the risit to Tenterden of the Leeds Youtlis in 1771-on May 20th, toa, by a coincidence, wher thoy rang 5,184 changes of Oxford Trable Boh Major in Shis. $27 \mathrm{mins}$. , conducted by James Barhaw, who rang the 7th. The tenor bell of that time weighed 33 ewt., antl "lhomas Lacy, who rang itw, had to hava a little lielp to complote the peal. How many ringers are there to-kiay who rememijer Teaterden fenor as a 'handful' that wante ringing?

11.15 , and the party was weleomed at the plaform by the "arand Ola Man, Mr. Janies George, who acted as guide to the Bull Ring. Here they fonmd Mr' Albert Walker in his usual humorous form, and soon everyone was listening to the glorions peal of twelve that 'Brum ' is now able to boest of. Touches of Stelman Cinques unt Treble Twelve were brought zound, and everyone was delighted with these benutiful bells, and was of apinion that great credit is due to the Whitechapel Foundry for this excellent piece of work, and many eongratulations were showered an Mr. A. A. Hughes, who was a guest of the Guild. A splendid repast was served at the Nelsen, and the party went on by train to King"s Norton. The train wes a few exclamations when memhers of the Metropolitan Police, who played their part by looking after the 'heavy end,' forcen themselves and the rest of the party into the compartments. On the very musical ring of ten at King's Norton methods ranging from Grandsire Caters to Cambridge Royal and London Major were rung in good style, duriug which time several games of bowls were enjoyerl on the lawn across the road,' where, later, all sat down to a meat tea, which was greatly appreciated, especially as the compasy inwluded severnl lingers from Birminghan and distmict. The social which followed was commenced by tunes on the handbells hy J.
Bulloch, E. Russell and J. Jawkins. Piann selections and songs were rendered by J. Bulloch, A. Walker and G. Dowding, a most entertaining item being lanthell tumes by the afore-mentioned, accompanied by Mr. A. Walker at the piano.
Mr. Choet proposed a vote of thanks to all the Birmingam ant King's Norton geatlenen who luat assisted to make the outing a happy one. This was seconded hy Mr. J. Bulloch.-In reply, Mr. A. Walker mentioned that the Flimingham mon themselpes had lud si dolightful. day, ind he would look forward to the time when they would come again. The ringing han been first cless, which proved that London had several hands of experts. Mr. Walker went on ki sey that although Mr. Reeves, the secretary, was unable to be present owing to a ringing meeting of st. Martin's Guild, they had present Mr. Smallwood and his "bebier half,' also Mr, A. Ward, of Derby, who joined with him in extending best wishes and prosperity to the Holborn Guild
Returning to Birmingham, a further social hour wound up the happy proceedings, and a toast was duank to the health of St. Martin's ringers and to Mr. J. S. Golrlsmith, Editor of 'The Ringng World, to whom a card, aulographed by all present, was sent Happy farewells were the parting gifis as the Londoners stonned out on the homeward journcy. $A$ final toast to Mr. J. The Hon. Eecretary reported that he had received communications from soveral towers as to the advisability of changing the date of the ringing competition in 1930 owing to the difficulty of several ringers being mable to obtain permission to leave their work, and was afterwards resolved, on the proposition of Mr. E. Stitch, seconder hy M.. John T. Williams, that the competition be beld on the first Saturday in Mr
The hon. secrelary was asked to enquire whether an invitation could be extended to the Guild to hold the competition at Llanelly, Carmarthenshice.
At a commitice meeting held after the annual meeting it whs decided that the rules of the competition be the same as in previouts tests, with the nddition that the ringers taking part must be Sunday service ringers.

DTSTRTBUTLON OT DISTRICT FUNDS.

Avising out of the minutes, the Hon. Secretary also reported that ati, a nommitiee mealing licld at Brecon on Mray 25 th , to consider the question of the distribution of the balnace of district funds, it was resolved that the rosolution as now appearing in the minute book shoult he minended to read as follows: "That two-thirds of the balnuce in the luads of districts at the end of a year, after paying all expenges, pte., bist exoluting inse halanom in hand at the comnomement of the yeat, be hatistioned to the gratial funt of the Guid.

- After reading a notice of mation by the Northern District, that "half of all subseriptions for the year he paid to the genernl fund," and a motion by Elhe Southern District, that 'two-thirds of the balance in hand at the end of year be paid to the general fond," it was resolved that the commitiee's proposal he confrmed.
Mr. E. Stitch raised the question of the Nouthern District having anticipater the meeting's confirmation of the committee's decision, hy bringing into the balance sheet such money as would be due to the general fund under the new resolation, and the district was requested to adhere to the original resolution for the year ended June 30 i last. The new resslation will take effect from July $1 \mathrm{st}, 1929$.
The meeting's attention was drawn to the fact that Mr. Pitman's term of office as tho Geild's representative on the Centeral Council had now expired. It was unanimousiy resolved that he be re-elected for a further period of three years.
Mr. Pitman gave the meeting n very full report on his wisit to the meating of the Central Council beld recently, and le was herrtily thanked by the chainman,
The Hon. Secretary reported as follows. Peals rung for the Guild up to the period ending December 31st, 1928, were: 1923, 2; 1924, 1925, 3; 1926,$10 ; 1927,14 ; 1928,12 ;$ total, 42. A suggestion was made at the meeting that the lon. secretary should receive some honorarium for having noted iu the oapacity for five pears (since the formation of the Guild), but the official concerned refused to entertain the suggestion.
The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to the Rector of Tenby for the use of the bells and Church House, and also the Lord Bishojx for his adduess and for presiding over the gnumal meeting.

BEDFORDSHIRE & HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATIONS

A very enjoyshle meeting of the Luton and Sb. Albats Distriets the nobove associations was held at Dunstable on Saturday last, the fine ring of bells being enjoyed by several ringers for the first time A short service was beld, conducted by the Rector, assisted by the Rev. S. Dye (curate). The service was wery bright and brief, and appreciated by all, the singing of several well-known hymms being the feature.

A short address was given by Canor W. W. C. Baker, president the Beds Association.
In giving a lantly welcome to the ringers, he praisen the idea he two associations meeting together, saying that although th were separate bodies they were both members of one diocese
Tea was provided by local churchworker's in the Parish Hall
No busimess was transacted, but several excellent spocehes we made. The Rector (the Rev. G. C. Rolfe) was in the chair, supported by Canon Eaker anki Mr. H. Golding (president of the Herts Association), and Mr. G. W. Gartmel, hon. secretary.
Canon Baker gave a warn welcome to the wisitors, and Mr. Cart mel replied in a cordial speech of thanks.
The usual potes of thanks were passed, and the tower agrin isited.
This was the first joint mecting in Bedfordshire, but from expe sions heard on all sides it was loped it would not be the last.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION

A very successful raceting of the Shronshire Association was holl at Moreton Corbet on Saturdny, July 20th, in icleal weather forty members were present from Market Drayton, Nalinslee, Wran, Coalbrooktale, Ruyton-eleven-Towns, Clive, Prees, Slieriffhnes, Stanton, Whitchurch, Alberbury, Slirewsbury, and the local company. The members were also very pleased to see Mr. Faulkner, who lives at Dawlish, Devousbire. He formerl, resider at Iglatfield, Whitumrch, and was a regular attendant at the meetings of association.
Ringine on the fine peal of six bells commenced at three o'clock and while some were ringing, others inspected the beatiful grounts of the Ficarge and played bowls on the lawn.

LADIES' FIRST PEAL OF MAJOR

COMMEHORATIVE TABLET DEDTCATED.
An evenh of outstanding interest took place at Handsworth, Sheftield, on Saturday, when a bandsome white marble tablet, recording the first peal of Major ever rung by ladies, was unveiled and dedicaled at a meting of the Northerm District of the Ladies' Guite. The tablet, which is mounted on a black marble base, is beautifully insombed in gold and black. Mrs. Baker, wife of the Vicar, performed the ceremony of unveiling, while the Rev. Bater solemaly dedicated it 'To the Glory of God and the inspiration of all whose eves may rest upon it.' The service was continued in the church, to which the ringers descended, and the Vicar gave a most interesting adilienss.
Shurtly afterwards a very happy company sat down to tea in the schoolroom, the tables being tastofully decorsted with flowers. The presence of the late secretary of the district, Mrs. Powell, and the Rev. E. 5. Powell, added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.
I'wo or three items of business made it necessary to hold a short meeting, over which the Vicar's wife presided, while the gentlemen relumed to the tower, but not before the most sincere and hearty thanks had been expressed to tho Vicar and Mrs Baker for their valuable assistance.
Tlue time and place of the September meeting was discussed, and it was finally decided to hold a combined meeting with the Peak District, details of winich will be notified later:
The mext item was the resigation of tho secretary (Mrs. Jacques), aud the election of Miss Cawthorne to fill the vacancy was unanimonsly cartied.
The meeling wiskes to take this opportunity of thanking the local company for their great interest and genevous assistance, which played so great a part in making the meeting such a success. Special refurence migint here be made to Mr. Tred Watkinson, without whose untimg ofionts that object could not lave been attained, Solng very good ringing in methods ranging from Cambridge to Hlain Bob, was thoroughly enjoyed during the evening, a wouch of the latter being rung entirely by ladies.
'The anmual meeting of the Northern District was held at St. Mary's Ghuth, Nottingbam, and members attended from vartous parts. The ten hells were wade good use of with the aid of the gentlemen on the heary end. At the business meeting, which iollowed tea, two new ruentiers were elected. The date and placo of the next meeting were left open. Votes of thanks to the local band for having everything iu readiuess, and readering the necessary assistance, were unanimously passed. Further ringing during the evening brought at liappy meeting to a close.

GRANDSIRE CATERS BY FATHER AND SONS.

Ta the Editor

Dear Sir, - It reply to jour correspondent, re the peal of Grandsire Caters at Dudley, a peal of Crandsirc Caters was rung at St. Mary's, Reigate, Surrey, by the Reigate Society on Saturday, September 23 ri, 1899. The band included a father and two sons, viz., F. T. Hoad, sen. (conductor'), F. T. Hoad, jun, end G. T. Fioad. It was ihe first peal on the bells after rehanging, with two new trobles added, it was rung at the first attempt, and was the first attempt on ten bells by all the band. - Yours faitufully,

PORTSMOUTH RINGERS' OUTING

The St. Mary"s Portsmouth, ringers and friends held their annual outing on June 15 th . Leaving beadquarters shortly after 1 p.m. they jourueyed via Fareham (where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bayley) to Twyford. Here they were in timie to witness a fireman's wedding, complete with fire engine, firemen and other equipment. As soon as the ceremony was over, z visit was paid to tho tower, where touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise were rung. During the vinging one of the company met with an accident in the churchyard, which necessitated removal to Winchester Hospital, and this unfortuate incident rather spoilt the enjoyment for the remainder of the trip. However, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, who had met the party here, continued the jozrney with them to whitchurch, whore a very pleasant ring of eight was found, and some very nice touclies were brought round At Basingstoke, an excellent meat toa was partaken of at the Crown Festanant. Mr. H. Horne hindly conducted the party to All Saints' Church, where there is an excellent, but rather noisy, peal of eight. Strictly speaking, there is a ring of nine here, tha other bell onabling a ring of eight in the minor key to be constituted. Some good touches of Stedman, Bob Major, Double Norwich and Yorkshive Surprise were rung, after which Mr. and Mrs. Williams left the party, and the journey was convinued to Alton. The Ficar kindly met the visitors. The bells here are indeed a magnificent peal, recently vecast by the Croydon Bell Toundry, aca after touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise bad been rung, they were lowered in peal. Home was oventually reached about il p.m., aftor a most successful trip, save for the unfortunate accifent earlier in the afternoon. The company wish, through these columas, to flank the clengy and ringers who kindly met tham en route, and helped to contribute so largely to the success of the outing.

In reference to the footnote ta peal of Stedraan Triples ruug at Thurcaston, Leicestershire, on Sunday, July, $14 \mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{h}}$ which read that eight towers were represented, we ave asked to point out that Edmonton was not represented by any member of that tower.

There is to be a ringers' opening of the hells at Tideswell Cluureh, Derbyshive, known as the 'Gathedral of the Pank,' on August Bank Holiday. Messrs. Taylor and Co. have recast the temor ( 121 ewt.), put in a new 6th in place of the old 4th (a pre-Reformation bell now placed in the church), and added two bells to complete the octave.
Something like a "week of Taylor reopenings has just taken nlace. On Monday, the 15th, the recast peal of six (tenar 13 cwt ) in a new frame was opened at Navenby, Lincs. On Tuesday, the 16tli, a re cast ring of six (tenor 9 ewt.) in a new frame at Horbling, Lincs. On Saturday, the ringers' opening of az recast peal of ciglit (tenor $10 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.) at Halewood, Lancs, and the openimg of a recast peal of dight (tenor 20 cwt.) in a now frame at Eccles, Lancs. On Sunday there was the consecration by the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool of a carillon at St. Helens, Lancs.
A peal board has been unveiled in the tower of St. Peter's Church, St. Albans, commemoratime a pat of Bob Major, rung on May 18th last, on the occasion of the dedichtion of n new lych gate, erected at the western entrance to St. Peter's churchyard, by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. B. Giddins, in memoty of their son, William Craven Giddins, who died in 1911.
The ring of eight at Wateyford Cathedral were opened on July 26tl, 1872, and the first peal on thetr, which was the first peal in Ireland, was rullg on the following day.

A peal of 7,552 Grandsive Major was rung at Aston on August 30th. 1793.

CRANLEIGH RINGER'S FUNERAL

The tragic cleath of Mr. Alwyn Charman, which was reported jo our last issue, has made a sad breach in the ranks of the ringers at Cranleigh, Sutrey, where lie whs the conductor of the Parish Church company. He was the type of man who cotuld always be reliad upon to be in his place boil for service and practice ringing, and although not keen on peal ringing was wholeheartedly attached to the tower and the duties devolving upon him. His father had been ar ringer at Cranleigh hefore him: his hrotier, who preceded him as conduc tor, and two nephows are also memhers of the band.
The funerai look place an Tlursday afternoon, and a considerable number of parishonens and workmates of decmand attonded. The family mourners meluded the wiflow, the deecased's four datugters, his brother and other relatives. The Guileford Dinensan Guild was repregented by Mr. and Mrs. R2. Whittingten, and Messrs. ## OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Oxford, even on a broiling hot day, has many attractions, and on Saturday the members of the Oxford Diacesan Guild showed in no uncertain fashion that the city still appeals to the majority of them as the best of nil places for the annual festival. There have been persistent endenvours in recent years to move the festival to other places, but on every such oceasion Oxford received an oworwielming preponderance of votes. The meeting on Saturday attracted nearly two hundred members, and despite the tropical conditions, mosl of them spent of thoroughly enjoyable day. The heat did not deter a great deal of ringing on the many peals of halls which the city possessos, both in the parish churches and colleges, and there were fow who did not have as much exercise in this direction as they desired. Chiof interest in ringing in the morning centred in the twelve at Christ Cliurch aud the ten at Magdalen College, while later in the day the ten at New Gollege, the light rings of eight at St. Ebbe's, All Saints' and St. Giles', and the bells at St. Aldgate's, Holywell, St. Mary Magdalene's, St. TThomas' and Carfax, were all available, as were Merton College eight, but the reputation of the last-named daterred any attempt, under the atmospbarical conditions, to ring them.
The festival service was held as usual in Clurist Ghureh Cathedral, where the Viear of St. Laurence's, Reading (Rev. R. F. A. Bullock' preached an eloquent sermon.

The business meeting, attended by memhers from many towerg of tho widespread diocese, was held in the Chapter House, the Master IRev. C. W. O. Jenkey presiding, supporied by Mr. A. J. Wright (hon. treasurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (hon. secretary), and Canon G. F. Coleridge, while among the numerous vigitors were Mr. J. S. Pritchatit, Presiding Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham.
RESTORATION WORK GOES ON APACE.

RESTORATION WORK GOFS ON APACE.

The first husiness after the disposal of the minutes was the officers' reports. The Master's report referred to the loss the Guild had anstained by the death of the Rev. R. H. Fart Davis, who had served for many years in the capacitics of secretary and treasurer, and who, though not a ringer himself, bad at heart the welfare of the ringer and the success of the Guild. The peal total was a. better one than Tast year, and it would be interesting to know how many peals bad been attempted and well nigh ring. Fo liad personal knowledge of a good mally. It was, however, hardly possible to gow attribute failure to the bad 'gaing' of thm bells, and the work of vestoration was still going on. The Master had visited to report and advise at was still going on. The Master land visited to report and advise at Banbury, Stecple. Clayden, Fawley, Goring, Nettlebed, Newbury. Oakley, Radley, Reading St. Mary, Somerton, Stoke Mandeville and Winklow. Wort has loen carried out sucessfully at Ambroseden, Aston Tirrold, Bray, Henley, Finton Waldrist, Maids Moretou, Nettlebed, Stoke Mandeville, and Sumningwell. At Caversfield a new bell replaces the famons eally 1 Jth century bell, which is now luung down in the church. Two trebles liave been added at Ambroseden, and the tenor has been recast, and a fine ring of eight replaces an indifferent ring of six. Stoke Mandeville also rejoice in tro new trebles and a niee litile ring of eight. The work of tuning and re-hanging the rings at St. Marw's, Reading, and St. Wicholas', Newbury, is now in hand, and before the year is oul there is promise of a great work being done at Banhury. Not the least encouraging sign of the times is the way in which the more experienced ringers in many branches are co-operating with their secretaries in real in many branches ale conperating with then secretaries in read their regular meetings and peal attempts. In conclusion, the Master referred with gratifieation to the vecovery of Ganon Coleridge, and expressed the hope that he might long be spared to be what he isnot, only to the Oxford Guila, but to tha whole ringing fraternity.
The Mrster foded to his venort that, they had lost ant old friend and it grent lelpes of the Guild, Mr. A. H. Goeks, of Marlow, who had passed away. Many of the older members of the Guild would remember the excellent work Mr. Cocks did in the towers at Marlow and Hugheuden. He was treasurer of the Guild for a time. and was festival secuctary for some years, and in those capacities he served the Guild well. But perlaps Mr. Cocks was best known to ringers as the author of 'Church Bells of Buckinghamshire.' Whenever he the speaker) veferred to that volume, as he ofters did, he paused in admiration of the man who in those days, when lacomotion was not ansy, travelled all over the country and mate an analysis of the bells of Buckinghamshire, aud gave such wonderfal information of the hell founders all over the country. It was not until about six months after Mr. Cocks died that he (the Master) know he had been omitted from his report.
The Master said, further, thet there had heen honded to him througlh the Misses Hart Davis a peal of handlolls, left ta him, to conmittee ggreed with him that lie shoulfi get the bells put into riecent order, and lhat they should be lent out to towers who wanted to borrow them for a time for the instruction of young members. Those who wanted the use of the bells should weite to him.

FLOURISFING FUNDS.
The Matev's report was adopted, as was also that of the treasurer.

19s. 5d., as compared with $£ 138$ 7s. 8d. the prerious year. The income was 5118 8s. 50 ., a decrease of 88 10s. Jd. This was accounted for by a reduction in the donations to the Restoration Fund, a smallev number of reports sold, and a smaller collection at the testival. The net cost for the year was 89014 s . 8d. This was $£ 14$ less than last year. The nmount received from the branches was £84 3s, 6t. This was the largest sum received in the listory of the Guild, and it was a good testimoujal to the excellent work done by the branch treasurers. There was also an increase in the number of hon. members. The balance in the hands of all the branelies amounted to $£ 193$ 7s. 4d. Tlisere were stilI some branches whicii had not opencd a banking account. Fe hoped before next year they would have done so. The halance shects showed that the money appeared to lave been expenderl very wiscly. He expressed a hope that more moncy would be spent on insiruction. Some balance sheets had not been audited, and he asked all treasurers to see that all their accounts are certified as correct loy an auditor. During the year two grants had been macle from the Restoration Fuud amounting to $\mathbf{f 6}$. At the last annual meeting it was decided to transfer 25 per cent. of the amotmt received from hon. members to this fund. He catimated that this would be E25, and the actual amount was S24 15S. The amount transfermed was E6, which jugt paid the two grants. There was now a balance in hand of E36 19:. 3ả. Grants had been promised to Deddington atud Bathbory.
Mr. Wright ndded that the report did not show the exnet posilion, as in addition to the balance in hand flrey actually had sho more than shown, this being the sum invested in Government stock, which appleared in a separate account. Since the ent of the year they had purchased another $£ 30$ of stock, sa that next yenr they would have a clear interest of 85 to place to the restoration fund.

The report was adopted.

AN EXCELLENT SPYRIT OF BROTHERHOOD.'

In bis report, the Secretary said a review of the year 1928 contd not bring any thoughts but of thankfulness that progression was ithe trend of the Guild. The general tone was good and sonnd in all districts, and most of the branches were growing. Sunday service ringing was well maintained, peal ringing had been more successful. Although the lotal was hut 57 penls, it wauld hear analgsis; London, Bristol, Cambridge and Suporlative Major were scored by tha siakwrts of thr Fast Berks and South Bueks Branch, and two peats of Cambridge Minar were rung, making 22 Surprise peals in all. Stedman, from Cincues to Donbles, nambered 16. The romaining 29 peals embraced Treble Bob, Plain Bab, Double Norryth Major and Grandsire Triples and Doubles. A great mang peals were attempted and lost towards the end. The nembership had juncensad slightly: Hnn. members 209, ringing members 1,806-total 2,015. The towers affiliated were more than the Guid had ever had before, 201. This was due to the energy of branch secretarjes. Restoration work had been carried out in several towerg with great suncess and satisfaction. He had sisited most of the hamehes during the Fear, and had fomme, as before, an excellent spirit of brotherhood, which was the great thine if the objects of the Guild wete tu be reached and madotatued. Fe again tondered his thanks to all brancli seccetaties for tho fielp they gave him during the yedr

The report was adopted.
The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkju was re-elected Master by acelamation, his name being proposed by Canon Colenidge and secouded hy Mr. 4. P. Routh

Mr, A. F. Wright was unamimously re-electen laon. scenetary,
Mr. R. 'T'. Hibliert hon, secelary, with thanks for their services. M1:. Ja. Humfrey resigned from the committea, having gone to live outside the diocese. The other plevers elected members worf remppainted en bloe, viz, Miss V. Robinson, Messes. J. F. Burlow, T. Frans, G. CandwelI, G. Holifield, W. Hibbert, sen., G. Martin, R.
White, A. D. Cullum, H. Sear and J. W. Wikins. Miss Stella Davis (Newbury Branch) was elected to fll the wacancy

The four representatives of the Guild on the Central Council werc re-elected, viz., the Master, Cainon G. F. Colevidga, Mr. F. W. Hopgood and Mr. John Evans.
The meeting was asked to confirm the elention of 166 new members, who had been admitted during the yoar. The How. Secretary, in making the proposal, said this did not macan that the Guild had grown to that axtent, neither was the whole of the difference necounted for by members who had died.
The Master: We don't want members to die, but we wish mote would stick.
The committee recommended that the festival in 1930 be bold at Oxford. They suggested, if an altermative was desired, that Slough should be chosen.
Mr. Hopgood thouglht it would he rine thing if they made a cluange and visited some other place than Oxford. That was an Oxford Dioshouln aid and over the diocese with their festival. There was no better way fhan to follow their former eustom of vigiting the three counfies in succession. He proposed that next year's festival he helr at Slough.-Mr. A. D. Barker seconded.
On being put to the meeting, Slough received 15 wotes and Oxford 61. Oxford will therefore be the wentuo in 1930 .

Ou the motian of the Master, the Ref. Dr. Archer Houblan, for merly Archdeacon of Berkshire, whs elected a vice-president of the Crnitu.

RESTORATION GRANTS VOITED.

The Hon. Tressurer brought forward the committee's recommendations as to restoration grants. He said he was proud of the Restoralion Find. It was a chila of his. They had spent close on f50 in grants, and illoy now had e42 19s. 30, in tho fund. They were Hltumly commitfea to grants at lanbury and Geddington, and if they rime the grants tecommented that dhy the balance would be droluced to 813 . Ho was, however, going to move later on that they mantintie for this year to take 25 jer cent. of the hon. members' subseriptions, which would mean ef for the fund, and this with es 16 s trors interest would increase the balanes upon which they whuld bo able to draw next year. Fie proposed the following grants bu made: Arnhroseden £5 55., Newlury fis $58 .$, St. Laureneo's Reading, £5 5s, 'Ihatcham f5 5s, Hampstend Norris $£ 3$ 3s. Similar grats liad been made in each enso by the branches concerned.
The Wister said this was a tremendous change compared with what if pas when lie jomed the Guild, when they used to deal with two guifers here and flierty shillings there. He thouglat the wark they were now doing was perfectly splendif.
11 r . Hopgood proposed that the grant L St. Eaurences, Reading, should bo ten guineas. This was seconded by Miss Rohinson, who snirl thelp was hadly meeded.

C'amon Golerirge suggested that $2 t$. Laumen's should have five gtuinetts for the restoration, but if they embarkerl on a twelve-bell sulherre then lef them lave thair ten guineas- Whis proposal, seronded lyy Mr. A. D. Cullum, was errvied with only one rlisseatient, amil, with this amendment, the tzeasurer's list was adopted.
I! was also resoived that 25 per cent, of the lion. members' sub soriptions which came in to the treasmer should be devoted to the Resteration Funcl.
proposal that all applications for restaration grants should be line liands of the general seoretary hy Marel 31 st each year, in wider that thoy miglit he considered first by the commititee, was drefeated by 24 votes to 14.

Conon Coleridge gave, as usual, an interesting account of the prowowling of the Central Council at Chelmsforc. He remarked, how"wa, that it ought not to be necessiny, hs everyone should lrave read the very full report of tho meeling in the puges of 'The Ringing

The Master, snid they were vory muel privileged in that Guild to lave that mart from tha prosicient himself, The Central Council wis prosided over in a most efficient manner, and diffeult situations which ft limes arose were carried through by fle well-known persomality of Canon Coleridge. He proposed a vote of thanks ta him for los report (applause).
The Master also proposed a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chaplou far granting the use of the Cathedral, the Chapfer House, and thi, dining liall for lunch; also to the preacher and to the organist.

S1:. Fowler, in senonding, suggested that the key of some of the axceptionally high-pitched hymus might be transposed for their services.
'the motion was replied ta by the Rev. R. F. A. Bultack.
Mr. Barker mentionen the loss to the Gnild by death of Mr. G Ahicer, ancl also that Mr. J. J. Parker, of Farnham Royal, who was Wha of lhoir vice-presidends, had recently bern beveaved by the death of his wift, and sine then had met with an aceident, faving beon knexked down by a motor-car.

The mecling concluded with a woto of thanks to the Master for prositringe
"The company then adjourned to tho handsone and historic dining thall of Christ Church for lanch, at the conclusion of which, on the call of the Master, the toast of 'Glutch and King, was honoured. An infumal vate an the question of the hymu tunes revealed that tho 1 majority were satisfied will the seltings used.

Altorwats the members dispersed for ringing at the warious towers.

THE 'RALLY' AT NEWCASTLE.

GREAT GATHERING OF RNGGERS ENTERTAINED.

 THE WELLINGTON GARILLON ON FIEW.The great 'rally' of ringers at Neweastle-on-Tyne on Saturday reek brouglit together the largest gathering of ringers which has uver assambled in the North of England. The object of the wisib was to herv and inspeot the Wellington (New Zealand) carillon installed by the enterprise of the Neweastle "Evening Cliranicle" in a specially rrected campanile in the North-East Const Exhibition grounds, and ringers and their friends foregathered from places as far apart as Helby and Edinburgh and Paisley. The visit, was on the invitation of the propristors of the 'Evening Chronicle' and Messrg. Gillett and Joheston, the founders of the now famous bells, and the 500 ringers who accepted invitations spent a thoroughly interesting and enjoyable day.

The beauty and chanm of the bells was impressively revealed to the critical visitors during a special demonstration givon by Miss Nora Johnston, now one of the foremost of carilloncurs, and unquestionably the most skilful woman carillonneur in the world.
Tlue recital was composed of the well-known ummiyers which have become so populat with the crowds which collect regularly in the Exhibition groumis and on the adjacent Town Moor, aud the beilringers were thrilled with the musical splendour of the bells and the consumaate skill of the expert lady who manipulated them

It was with the simplest melodies that the carillonmeur cast the assembled hundreds under the irresistible spell of the bells. The impression created by numbers like 'Londonderry Air,' 'Old Folks at Home," 'Home, Sweet Home,' and "Lithle Grey Home in the Wesi:' was portrayed in the crowd's attentiveness.

THE BTLI TOWER AT THE EXHIBITJON.
Miss. Johnston proceeded to illusirate the scopo of the bells by enterigg itens of such a diversity ol' character is 'Chanson 'ryiste, - Here's a Health anto His Majesty,' 'Drink to Me Only,' and 'Little Bo I'eep." Tha heat made Miss Jolnston's job much more fatiguing thare exsual.
The visitors were conducted into tha bell tower in batches for an inspection.
One of the most interested of them was 17-yeat-old Ephraim Wenaiggton, of Gateshead, who, pralysed and only able to get about with the aid of crutches, had to be carried tup the steep steps (4 a man's back.
The recital condutect, the visitors adjourned to Carvick's pavilion is the Exhibition grounds, and, after parraking of ten ous the invitation of ilse proprietors of the 'Lvening Chronicle' and Messrs. thillett and Johnston, they were accorded a welcome hy the Lord Mayor of Neweashle (Celr. A. W. Lamahert) and the Assistant Bishop of Newrastle (Dr. Cecil J. Wond)

A USEPUL COMMUNITY.
'the Lord Mayor said the estecmed hellingers as members of a most useful commmity engaged in remering an inspiring service to their fellows from the belfries of the eonntry's charches. 'We in Noweastic,' he proceeded, "greakly apprecinte the Wellington carillon is one of the greatess attractions we have here, and I num very prond of the fact that the Lady Mayoress berself was the first lady to play the bells. I would express the hope that it may be possiblo Lo abtain the services of some of those great carilloaneurs from Belgiam while the wonderful bells are still on 'l'yneside; and Ifeel that a hint to the "Newcastle Clironicle," who have rendered us sueh great scrvices in secriring the bells for the Exhibition, may result in ho futher treat [ have mendioned ling provided us.

Mr: Cyrii $F$. Johnston, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, said he believed that afternoon's gathering was the largest meeting of bellrisgers ever organised in tho North.

An assurance that the 'Newcasfle Chronicle would do their utmost to carry out the suggestion of the Lord Mayor to secure the services of a scries of eminent Zelgian carillonneurs was given by Mr. C L. White, publicity manager, representing the divectors of tho ' Newcastle Chronicle.
At the request of tho change ringers, Mrs. A. W. Lambert, the Lady Mayoress, gave a recital on the carillon on Saturday night.
For tell minutes slie siat at the keyboard by which the bells are manipulated ly the electro-pneunatic syztem, and, without nusic, gafe a skilful rendering of several airs which the carillon bas made popular on Tyneside.

When the pressman supgested to the Lord Mayor that the city should have a carifon of its own, after the Wellington bells are re moved, he observed, 'I wish some gemerous citizen would proride the money to buy one.

The day closed with a social and coneert in the Chronicle Hall Pudding Chare. An excellent, musical programme, arganised by Mr. C. L. Routledge, was provided by a number of popular local artistes.

In the absence of Mr. Eriward Teblnott, managing director of Newcastle Chronicle, Ltd., Mr. Routledge took the chair, and was supported by Mr. E. Ferry, presidenl of the Durhan and Newcastle Diocesan Association. On behalf of the proprictors of the 'Chronicle, 31\%. C. L. White welcomed the members and their ladies, and explained that refreshments were to bo had at any time in the vaults below the hall.

Quartets and solos were given by the Cabiedral Quartette, Messra. I. J. Gibson, J. F. Gilfespy, W. Haydu Hobkirk and Mr. Jenry Frater, Mr. Edwatd Newton actilig as accompanist. Miss Nora Johnston gape a surprise turn, 'Never Mind,' introducing a most amusing verse about the carilion and herself. Ono of the most entertaining numbers was that of Mr. Martin Fienderson, the blind concertina player, whose elforts were greeted with e cholus of applause. Mr Gyril. Johmston had also brought his 'carillon' of 23 haudbells, from which he tapped delightful melody-all popuhar airs, even in cluding the Tymeside anthem, "Blaydon Races.
A course each of Stedman and Grandsire Caters whs given by mixed buads, and tunes on the handbells by Messis. Tora and James Gofton were also enthnsiastically encored. At eleven oclock the National Anihem was sung after votes of thanks had been carried by storms of applause to the hosts of the evening, and to the antistes, which went to prove that all had a fery happy and ontortaining day, with the Exhibition thrown in as a distinct asaet to a day of glorious weather

TOWER BUILDING RECORD.
The carillon which was on view was that which attracted considerablo attention a few months ago at Croydon Bell Foundry, sud is to form the memorial to the men and women of Wellington, New Zealand, who died in the service of the Empire. The complete curillon consists of 49 bells, the largest weighing 5 tons, the total weight of bells being $31 \frac{1}{\text { t }}$ tons, but owing to considerations of space it was not found practicable to instal tho two largest bells at Newcastle. The Wellington War Memorial Carillon Commitice, through the kind intervention of Sir James Parr, K.C.M.G., High Commissioner for New Zealand, arranged for the loan of $\$ 7$ of the bells fo which two trebles were added in order to give four completef octapes) to the North-Fast Coast Exhibition during the summer of 1929. The largest of the 47 bells weighs $3 \frac{1}{2}$ tons, and its note is B firt.

When it was found that there was no suitable building for these bells in the Exhibition grounds, the Newcastle "Evening Claroniche," with the characteristic enterprise which raarks the comduct of this great journal, at once instructed Messrs. Mauchlen and Weightman, architects, of Newcastle, to design a special campanile, the erection of which was entrustect to Messrs. Henry Kelly, Lte., contractors.

Within thee weeks the tower was designed, the foundationg pre pared, the steelwork fabricated in the yurds of Messrs. Wright, Anderson and Co., Ltd., Gateshead, the bells and mechanism dismantlecd in the Croydon foundry of M[essis, Gillett aud Jolunston, despatched br sea, erected in place and inaugurated on The opening day of the Txhibition by F.R.H. the Prince of Wales, in the presence of the Hegh Commissioner for New Zealand, the Lord Mayor of Newcastle, the Duke of Northumberland, and tho Marquis aut Marchioness of Landondery

The inaugural recitals, given by Mr. Clifford E. Ball, Mus.Bac., of Bournville, a coused the greatest enthusiasan, audiences of more than 100,000 people collecting on the Town Mroor to hear the hells.
The bells are luned on the five tone larmonic principle to equal temperament and to international piloth, The clavier for band operation by a carillonneur has a range of $4 \frac{1}{4}$ clramatic octaves, the lowest 25 keys being attached to pedals as well as to the manuals.
Each leell has an inscription bearing the name of some battle on engagemenr, whose names have now become houschold words: "The Somme,' 'Jutland,' 'Gallipoli,' 'Ypres,' ete. Five of the loells have hadges or symbols-No. 34 , the hadge of the New Zenland Ritle Brigade; No. 35 , the New Zoaland Army Nursing Sorvico Srmbol: No. 36, Special Morical Serrice Symbol: No. 44 , the Arms of the (Continued in next column.)

TO WINDSOR AND STOKE POGES

'The amual outing of the bellringers of All Saints' Church, Maldon, Tissex, took place on Saturday, June 22nd. Twenty-one people left Maldon at 7 a.m. upon what proved to be a most interesting excursion, though a little rain met with early in tha day necessitated the hood of the charabonc being put up. As was the casc last year, each member was provided with a programme and gutde, which gave a short history of aly the places to be visited, with a time-table. A fow rourses of Grandsire Triples and Gaters were zing en route to WaItham Abbey. At Forest Lodge, in this parish, a call was made for freakfast, where, amid seenes of jdeal natural benuty, on the edge of the forest, a hearty and substantial meal was enjoyed by the enmpany. A short journey then boought the party to Waltham Abbey Clurch, whera arrangements liad been made to inspect the grand old building. Witll the help of an official guide, a comprehensive tour wns made. Though probably still the grandest ecclesiastical buiding in Essex, the clutch is litule in comparison witla the magaificence of the Abbey in the days of the monks. A long ride hrough Enflel, Barnet, Flstree, Harvow and Blourh brought the party to Windsor, tha main objective of the day. So much of inferest was to be seen herre that little hope was entertained of including everything. Tlin tich mud majestic loveliness of St. George's Clasel whe the first attraction, and the party was takel round the inferior by a ghide, whose explanations were of much interest to all. Anather guicle thon took a section of the company up the curfew tower, where lang diglat heavy holls, the tenor of which is the curLew belf that Gray used to hear from Stoke Poges, a few miles out. A chiming apparatus, which has been functionimg for many years, then played some hymn tunes, ronnds, and Queens on the bells, which are also ocossionally rung. After a walk vound the balcony uf the castle, a move was made for the Parish Church (St. John-theTaptist), where some goon tonches of Grandsire and Stedmin Triples were rung, and also some Bob Minor. Mr. T. Smith, the stecplekeeper, who had fixed up tea for the company, theat led the way to tha lea tooms, where the party was joined by Mr . J. Amos, who, before moving to the Lomdon district, was an entlusinstic member of the Maldon band of ringers. After tea, a move was made for Stoke Poges. Fere the Ficar, the Rev. Mervin-Glare, and the steeplekeeper, Mr. T. G. Hawkins, welcomed the ringers. An unusual slonight glaircase outside the towor is the wny to the ringing chamhuter of this helfry, And when, some good touches of Bob Minnr and Stedman Doubles had heen vung on this delightful and musical pabl, filse Viear guided the party ronnt fite durch, fully explaining the many interests of the heautiful building, whare Gray useri to worship, where he is huvied, and in the churehyard of which he is supposed to have written hia immortal clegy. A verg fitting fimal nermony was performed by wrif. W. Giak, when, far from the shate, where lienves the turf in many a moutritring heap,' he ably recided Gray's Elegy, the members of the party grouped nomong the fombstones of which Gray wrote, the church forming a colourful bankround, and the quiet evening calas making the scene impressive. The homewnal ronte was through the city, and during the journey some connse of Rob Minor, Grandsire 'Triples fund Caters were rung an handbells. Fome was reached at about 11.30 p.m., after sixteen and a half hours of yeal pleasure. The incumbents at the places of ringing will bo writton to nad privately thanked, for it greaty adds fo Ihe day'g enjoyment to have welcomes surh as were received on this trip.

CHURCH OFFICIALS LIVE LONG IN NORTON.

On Saturday, July 6th, the parishoners of Forton, in Derbyelime (the birtliplace and the last resting-place of Clantrey, the greatest of English sculptors), gave a parochial welcome to their newly-appointed Rector, Rev. T. Stanton Peffe, M.A. Io celebration, the ringers, under the conductorship of Mr. A. P. Knights, rang on the belis of the ancient Church of St. James, a peal of Bob Major ( 5,024 clanges) in 3 liss. 10 mins.

After a public tea in the schoolroom, adjoumment was mate to the Oakes Park, where exhibitions of dancing were given by the scholars of Forton and Greenhill Schools, other games and sports were indulged in, and comnunity singing, concluting with the National Anthem, brought to a close a ved-letter atay in the anuals of Norlon Church history.
How rarely such occasions can have offered is revealed by the fret that the span of years from 1763 to 1929 has been covered by fout incumbents only. Speaking of long tenure of office, it is interesting to note that the people's warden, Mr. Ernest Hunstone, has serwed jir this capacity for 32 continuous years, the recent doath of the parish clerk; Mr. J. Shaw, leuminated '40 years' service, while the learter of the ringers, $\mathrm{M}+\mathrm{Wm}$. Biggin, has completed 50 yearg of serviee fs a ringer at this ehurel.
Norton Church was built ahout 1180 by Robert FitaRanulpla, the founder of Beauchicf Abbey (nearby), and up to the time of the Reformation was served by the Canons of Beauchief.
Its parish registers commence with the year 1559, the first yoar of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Originally ihe tower leld six bells orly, hut in 1896 these were recast by Taylor's, of Lougliborough, and opportunity was taken to bring the peal up to eight in mamber, the tenor being 154 ewt. The ringers at this church are also skited exponents in handbell ringing.

AMONG ESSEX TOWERS

The Foxearth singers, augmented hy friends from Glemsford anil Long Meltard, had a short ringing tour, arranged hv Mr. Evans with his usual organising ability. Great Tey was the first hait, and his nice peal of eight were soon going to Tueble Bob and appreciated by all at Kelvedon. Mr. Elliot met the ringers, and a treat on these heavy six was essayed. The heavy end man of the party, Mr.' T . Slater, found no oppasition for the tenor, and be just revelled in it. After a tatich or two, the party made for the fectory, where, as guests of the Rev. and Mus. Groft, tea was partaked of. Feering was The next tower visited, and liere the party had the pleasure of meetims and ringing with Mr. W. Keehle. A pull at Earls Colne terminated the ringing part of the programme. The thanks of the party are aue to all those who helped to make Wle twip successful by having bells ready for ringing, and especially are they indebted to the Rev. and Mrs. Croft, of Kelvedon, for their kindness in providing tea.

HASTINGS RINGERS' TRIP TO ROCHESTER

Oit Saturday, June 29th, the bellringerg, memberg fond iriends af the Borough Cliurch of Hastings assembled for their anaual outing. The bells of St. Clement's were rung, and the company, numbering forty, left in the 'Village Belle' motor coacles shortly after 8.30 a.m. for Rocbester. Passing through Cranbrook, the party arrived at Maidstone well on time. Hero a very enjoyable time was spent for about an hour in boating on the Merlway. The company then made their way to zochester, which was reached after a glowious liour's rum. Sone of the party visited the Castlo ruins, whint the ringors made their way to the Catlodral, where thoy lramped up the old steps under the onk beams supporting the roof, aud arrived in fhe ringing room. Here at one o'clock they cang the Cathedral bells. tho Dean laving kindly granted permission. Leaving Rochester at 3.30, they made their way to Tunhridge Wells, wher'e tea was partaken of, and, later, they proceeded to Colemans Fatch, where they were welcomer hy their late Rector (Rev. H. B. Foyster). The Rector conducted a pnrly over the Vicarage and surroundinge, and the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at Riverside Church, New Yorx, U.S.A.

Although ringers are rapidly being converted, in the mass, to an appreciation of bells made on modern principles, there remainsamong many of them a respect, amounting almost to reverence, for bells of real antiquity. Not willingly would they part with a rare specimen of the art of the ancient founder and it is gratifying to realise that where the fate of such individual bells is in the balance there is a growing tendency to preserve these old castings merely as relics, linking us with a by-gone age, by giving them a place of repose in the church. By this means such bells are saved from the melting pot and also from being retained as a blemish, from the musical point of view, in a peal. Bells with more than three hundred years of life are comparatively rare, at any rate in towers where there is a ring, but a complete peal of bells of this age is an even greater rarity. There are a few about, of course, but only a very few, and one of these is shortly to undergo rehanging. The ancient bells to which we refer are the peal of five at Sedlescombe, in Sussex, which are not only more than three centuries old, but have the even greater distinction of coming from the same foundry. They were all cast at Whitechapel, the tenor in 1595 and the others in $1606-7$. The former was by Robert Mot, and perhaps we can appreciate something of its hoary age when we remember that when it came from its mould, Queen Elizabeth was on the throne; Shakespeare was but seven years old; the Spanish Armada had only just been defeated. When the rest were cast, Gunpowder Plot had been discovered but yesterday, and it was thirty years before the College Youths formed themselves into a society. Through all this long period these old bells have hung together in the village tower, calling the faithful to worship, Sumday by Sunday, marking the passing of the years, and signalising in turn the joys and sorrows of the people of something like a dozen generations. What more fitting then than that the foundry which gave them to the world, whose history has run side by side with the long life of the bells, should now be called upon to restore them; to give them a new life perhaps for further centuries of usefulness. It may be easy to 'pension oll', just one old bell; but such action in the case of a whole ring would be a very expensive way of indulging one's sentment. The next best thing - if not the better thing - is to restore and thus preserve these interesting relics, and, in the case of Sedlescombe, it is proposed to increase their dignity by adding a treble to make a ring of six. Such old bells may not come up to modern standards in either tupe or tone, but as rare examples of the work of craftsmen of a by-gone age they are irreplaceable.

FIELD OPERATIONS IN E BERKS AND S. BUCKS

The E. Q. stafis of the 'Red 'and 'Blue' forces met whilst detraining, en route for their respective hattle fronts on Saturday. The position to be stormed by the 'Reds' contl be seen in the distance, strongly fortified with timber, ancl the Red O.G. wis left, with wishe日 for success and a hope to see him later. The 'Blue' O.C. (depnty) proceeded alono to his field of operations (Lane End), where he was joiced by three others (one mon-combatnat). The remainder of the H.Q. staff arrived in tho next 'trak,' having mado a detour to inspect the Q.M. stores. Fortunatefy, some zeinforcenents arrived from the narth, in the shape of Messrs. C. D. Potter and R. J. Ricketts, the last-named generously 'providing the rations,' Messrs. J. Jvans and F. West (with hiş 'infernal machine') afso helped to swell the ranks, Ringing in varinus methods wis enjoyed, including a little 'spliced,' and some of the local lalent scored in a 360 of Plain Bob. The return journey was samowhat aimilar to the arrival, i.e., by devious ways to the rilhcad, where the Blue O.C. met the discomfited ' Redis,' who bad been soundly frounced by St. Clement's. As usual, the poor privates were blamed by the O.C. (non-commis sioned) for ' not bolding their position.'
The next practice meeting for East Berks and Soutla Bucks Branch should bo on 4 ugust 24th at Warfield. Peal arrangers please gole.

GLODWICK RINGER'S JUBILEE.

Mr. Albert Clegg, who for fifty years has been a ringer at St. Mark's Church, Glodwick, Lancs, has been presented with a beauliful timepiece and an ebony walking stick, bath suitably inscribed, by his many friends as a mark of appreciation for his long and devned sorvices, The Vicar of St. Mark's, the Rep. W. Sellare, made the presentation, and referred to $\mathrm{Mr}^{\text {r }}$. Clegg's great regularity and punctuality during his 50 years service, a vecord of which Mr. Clegg sould fael proud.
Mr. Clegg suitably responded, and other members of the company spoke in appreciative terms of Mr. Clegg's esteemed services as a ringer.
Tho gathering closed with prayer, after which a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was runc by a representative bedy of the Olelbam Association, conducted by Mr. Glegg: F. Rawton, Moorside, I, A. ## SHEFFIELD CATHEDRAL RINGERS VISIT LOUGHBOROUGH Reocmily the mombera of the Slueflietd Cathedival company had Hhair mantal ollting to Louglaborough at the kind invitation of Mr Calis Tinarison, of the firm of Messrs, John Taylor and Co., and a late mumber of the Sheffeld Cathedral company. As the main object was in sec and gniher as tutuch knowledge as possible counected with tha manufacture of bells, an carly start was made with a viow to ronching Messrs. Taylor auri Co.'s renowned foundry whilst the work wrs in full swing. This boing accomplished, the pratty wer warmly wricumed on arrival by Messis. Harrison and Fider, who immedialely took tharge of and conducted the party round the exteusive works, mal minutely explained the many intricacies and proeesses entriled in the nasting and hanging of a modem peal of bells.

Surprise was expressed at the large ensemble of the firm, full intrest heing maintained right up to 'knocking of' time. Among the mumbrous peals of bells to lie seon in the course of completion, special intorest was taken in a large carillon temporarily erected in being given by the lims representative.

THE Q.SET PRORLEM EXPLAINED

 AN ENLIGHT'ENING BOOKLET'.A Fittle book, entitled 'Odds and Finds of Grandsive Triples,' has been written by the Rev. C. D. P. Dawjes, who, as many of our readers wall know, is probably the leading authority on the Grand sire method. '[ho Mr'. Devies" investigaions more than forty years ago, the Exerese owes a great deal of its knowledge of Grandsire Triples composition. His appendix to Spowdon's 'Grandsire' is not the least walunble part of that interesting and exhaustive work, and his peal compositions ate among the 'elassies' of this method. Ally thing, therefore, which comes from his pen on the sutaject of Grand sire "luples is to he weleonued, and in his newest contribution he again places the Excrcise undor an obligation
Most ringers who "dabhle' in composition have heard of Thomp sou's theory of $Q$ sets. If thoy have not heard of it, they veverthe less find themselves ty against it when they begin to compose peals, and unless they understand the principle of these $Q$ sets their way to success is, indecd, ant arduous, fund ofteu a disappointing, one Mr. Thompson was not a ringer, and he approached the subjee merely from a mathemationn's standpoint, but he proved certain facts vory conclusively. His work solyed ance for all one of the problems which had besef composers, mamely, whether a peal of Grandsive Triples could be obtained by plain leads and common bobs nnly. In a pamphlet, which he published in the year 1886, Mr Thompson proved the impossihility of the task.

There are probably fow yingers of to-day who have had tho oppor tunity of studying Mr. Thompson's pamphlet; their closest acquain ance with it is through the review in the pages of 'Grandsire.' The IRev. C. D. P. Davies now brings this vital theory, worked out by Mr. Thompson, into a practioal relationship witl composition as applied to the Grandsive method. This bo does with a elarity which will elable alyone, with a desire to study the subject, to grasp with comparative ease the impartant primoiples which underlie what to many ringers is a term fall of mystery- $Q$ sets.
In addition to the explanation which is given ot the question of $Q$ sets, the author also contributes an interesting analysis of comm famous peals of Grandsire Triples, and has a final word to say on the subject of the different views taken by the editor of 'Grandsive and himsolf in the matiter of tho starting of the calling in the two halves of Holt's ten-part peal-a subject which created a lively dis cussion many jears ago
T'o all those who do not make the belfry door a heginning and nan ending of theit interest in ringing, 'Odds and Finds of Grandsire Triples ' will provide an interesting and an enlightening atudy is obtainable, post free ls. Jis, from Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Keme Lan, Tewkesbury.

MEMBERS OR DELEGATES

To the Editar

Dear Sir,-Tn view of the opinions being expressed on the abova subject, would it wat be advisable to paise and consider the unique position of the Gentral Council-a body which derives its power solely from the respect which it commands among the Exer-cise-before accepling the principle that a member lass the riglik to vote against the considered opinions of his (or her) association?
1 would reply to the Rev. C. D. P. Davies' statement this wedk that 'the Council consists, not of delegates, bui of members, hy asking how those individuals becorne memhers except by being delegated to represent their fellow-members of their respective associations?
I agree that we elect these represcatatives, having faikh in theit judgment on any question thal may arise, but, as I believe harpened originally in this controwersy, when a question has arean been discussed by ati associafion and a definite opinion formed, s that association has a right to expless that opinion throush elected represcatative, irrespective of his own personal opinion, to expect his support in the Council Chamher, the only alternat being, should he be unable to accept their views, his resignation the election of another who can conscientiously represent that opintion.
Tlais l have found to be the invariable rule in organisations where the Council has the authority of rules binding on all federalnd hodies, and shoutd be a point of homome in our ease, where, as stated before, the Council chrries the day simply by the respe which ili conomands amond the Exereise

This respect, I fear, wil] mot he increased if we acecpt the $p$ ciples of any learliug politician for our guidaner. Ringers exist all states of political opinion, and I doubt if any praminent pont cian can be found whase Parliamentary prineples would be accepton without serious question by a greal many, gud, still further, Gouncil is in no way a nomintorart of the national Parliament whatever Fiscount Hrentford, Burke, or any pariy leader may said, the judgmeat of N. 户.s is detormined, not so much by the of their constituents ar by the mational needs, as by the party and I fear that when that atomphere peradies our Council chamb will stifle the plostige of that assemhly among ringars flaroughout the country-smely a condition which mone of us cares to enntenplate.

ECCLES NEW BELLS

FINE NEW RING IN LANCASHIRE CHURCE.
At a largely attended service, at which ull classos of the community werc represented, the new ring of eight bells at Eccles 1 Parish Church, Lancashire, was dedicated on July 20th. A procession was formed at the Town Hall, where the Mayor and Mayoress met the schoolchildren and proceeded to the church after laying a wreath on the cenotaph. A large number of ringers was present, and the bells were dedicated by Rev. Canon H. J. Bisee, president of the Lancashire Association. Towards the end of the service the congregation assembled in the churchyard to hear the bells, a short touch under the conductorship of Mr. J. Myles boing rung. The proceedimgs outside concluded with the hymn, 'Hark, liark, my soul!' and a verse of the National Anthem. A wreath was placed on the grave of Jr. Fiward Oldield, a ringer who bad worked hard on behale of the fund for providing the new bells.
Messrs. Taylor and Go. were the founders, and the new ring, with a tenor of 19 ewt. 3 qr .13 lb . in $\mathrm{E} \mathrm{fat}_{\text {, evoked the greatest admira- }}$ tion. A great improvement in the acousties outside the tower has been reffected by the provision of a lantern roof.
The inscriptious on the old bells have been reproduced on the new as follows:-
1.-Edward Byrom, 1768. Glory be to God on High. (Recast by J. Tnylor and Co., 1929.)
2.Ann Byrom, 1768. Serve The Lord in Fear. (Recast by J. 'I'aylor and Co., 1929.)
3.-Eleanora Byrom, 1768. Music is Medicine to the mind. (Reenst by J. Taylor and Co., 1929.)
A.-Our foices shall with joyful sound make hills and valleys echo round, 1768. (Recast by J. Taylor and Co., 1929.)
5.-Prasperity to this Church and Town of Eccles, 1768. (Recast by J. Taylor and Co., 1929.) H. N. Ross, B.D., Yicar of Ficcles. Churchwardens, F. W. Watson, S. Hesketh, F. H. Wellwaoc.
6.-To lionour both our God and King our voices ghall in consort ring. (All theso Bells, cast originally by Lester and Pack of London, in 1768 , for St. John's Cliurch, Manchester, were given to Eccles Church and recast by J. Taylor and Co., of Eaughboraugh in 1929.)
7. Ye ringers all that prize your health and happiness be sober, merry, wise and you'll the same possess, 1768 . (Recast by J. Taylor and Ca, 1929.)
8. St. John's Church, Manchester. Lester and Pack of London. FIGCIT 1768 . In wedlock bands all ye who join with hands (Continued in next column.)

A VILLAGE'S EXAMPLE.

ANOTHER NEW PEAL OF SIX FOR SOUTH LINCS.
The opening of the church and beils of the small village of Horbling on July 16th was one of marked interest. Less than four years ago the comdition of the edifee was such that it seemed almost im. pessible to save it from ruin, but, owing to the splendia co-operation of the Reoter, the Parochial Church Council, and parishioners of Horbling, the sum of 53,800 has been raised, and this fine old edifice las been made safe for genarations to come. Tha Iorrl Bishop of Lincoln was present for the dedication service, and in his address congratulated the people of Horbling on completing such a big task-a wonderful achevement; and in rejoicing with them in their thanksgiving, he commended their untiring efforts to larger and more pretentious places.
At the conclusion of the service, a well-struck 720 of Cambridgo Surprise wus brought round by: Rev. R. Law James 1, J. P. Fidler son 6.
The work of recasting the peal of live bells and making them into six, together witt the provision of a now iron frame with all the latest fitinge, was entrusted with Messrs. Taylor and Go., of Laugliborough, aud they ave again to he congratulated on the splendid work they lave completed. Horbling now possesses a musical cing with a tenor of 9 cut. in $B$ flat.
On Saturday last, July 20th, the Southern Braneli of the Lineolr Diocesan Guild hek their quarberly mecting at this church, vingers being present froa Peterborough, Market Deeping, Deeping St. Nicholas, Bourne, Morton, Rippiagale, Folkingham, Doncaster, Spalding, Pinchbeck, Surfleet, Branston, Orston, I3ilinglorough and Horbling. Service wns held in the claurch, conducted by the Rector of Hopbling, and the address given by the Bishop of Grantham, who gave a very interesting uatine on the various uses of bells throughout the ages.
The tea and business meeting followed at Tateson's Cafe, at Billiugbarough, where 29 sat down

During the evening the peal of six at Billingborough, aud also the bolls at Horbling, were again mate good use of, in melbods ranging from Plain Bob to London Surgriso.

The heayy peal of six at Heytesbury, Wilts, are to be campletely rehtug by Messs. Mears and Stainbank, who are also going to trehavg the eight bells at Brancepeth, Co. Durhan
The first peal of Grandisire Royal was rung at Painswick on August 6th, 1815.
The ringers who etteaded the rally at Neweastle-on-Tyme on hine 13th were delighted with the courses of Bob Major and Grandsire Caters and the three leads of Treble Twelve, so ably tapped on the back twelve of the carillou by Mr'. 'r. Groombidge, jun
The James's, who have for a long time been kem on a name peal, scored a success, appropriately, on tite fortieth anniversary of the frst James peal. Among the Jims was 'He of England,' and it was his 1,030th peal. We understand that he has alreaty tentatively booked St. James' Day, 1969, for the next 'family' affair.
Quex Park bells were opened on August 4 th, 1819 . This is the lightest ring of twelve in the country, and they hang in a tower in n private park.

ONE OF THE OLDEST WHITECHAPEL RINGS.

SEDLESCOMBE BFILS TO B弓 RESTORED.
One of the aldest complete poals from the whitechapel Foundry remaining in the country is a ring of five tit Sellesoombe, Sussex The. tenor was cast by Robert Mot, in 1595, and loents his famous vircular stamp of three belk with his initials R.M. The other four bells were cast by Joseph Carter, who succeeded Rohert Mot as heark of the foundry. The fourth was aast in 1606, and bears the shiehd of Richard Brasyer, who was a founder at Norwich a hundred years enrlier. This shield has an interesting history. It is found ou many bells in Norfolk, east by Richard Brasyer and his successors during the 15th and part of the lotht conturies. Tt then disappears from Norfolk, nand in 1588 it is ased by Robert Mols. From Molt it passerl to his successor, by whom it was used from 1597 to 1609 , and by William Yare, his son-in-law, aud suecessor in a foundry at Reading, in 1610 and 1611 . In 1613 it is found at Norwich again, haing used by Wiliam Brend, a hell founder there at that time. It is worth notieing, in conmection with the relurn of this shield to its original home, that in 1614 no charter of tla founderg company wns granted One of the regalations was that every founder should put his own marlh on his articles of manufacture.
The three smallest bells at Sedlescombe were cast by Joseph Carter in 1607, it being recorded on the treble that 'Iolin Darbie and Willian Dawe gave this bell.
Serlescombe bells are now to be reliung and nilgmented to six by the Whitechapel Toundry, from which the original five belks came mote than three liundred years ago.

INVERNESS CATHEDRAL BELLS

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, My altention has been drawn to a parageaph in "The Rioging World " of wis 12th in which it is stated that a pisitor to Inverness "Found the bells of the Cathedral in an wery dilapidatert condition.' This is altogether an incorred and misleading statement to make. The hells were robung and sted girders partially sunstituted tor the old wooden frame as recently as 1914. and therefore There has not heen time for them to get into a very dilapidated condition, howerer badly they might have been treated. But they havo not heen hadly treated, and if they are not at present in first-class ringing order it is due to the fact that since the wav they lave not been rung
Ours is the anly peal of bells in this part of Scotland, and where there is no ringing tradition the difficulty of enlisting and training ringers in one small place is very diffenlt, as you can well inagine. That condition of affairs we ate now doing onv best to remedy, and I lave a band of young men, all of whom until recently had not seen a bell ar a bell rope, ont of whort I am trying to make rimgers. Tours failhtully,
A. A. D. MACKENZIE,

Provost of Invermess Cathedral.

THE PEAL AT THURCASTON.

To the Editor.

Sir,-To use the expression of a genifeman from Leicester, someone from Edmonton has broken out' over a footnote to the peal of Stedman Triples at Thurcaston, Leicestershire, on 5 naly 14th. Had I known that a footnote of this kind was to apperr after the peal, I woukd have have seen that Bishopsgate was mentioned instead of Edmonton. - Yours truly,
W. R. MADWICK

TENTERDEN TOWER.

This handsonge and beautiful tower is one of a famous trio within a circuit of about 20 miles, the others being at Ashford and Lydd, which, from certain similarities both in design and size, are each thought to be work of tha same architect. Ashford tower is 120 feet higth, Lydd 132 feet, while Tenterden cames it sccond with 125 feet of massive dignity.
It is built in the Perpendicular style, and was in course of erection during the middle of the 15 th century, according to evidence from wills. In that of Rober: Cok, dated 1449 (one of the earliest Tenterden wills) there is a beruest of 5 mares ( $£ 36 \mathrm{~s} .8 \mathrm{~d}$.) to the making of the new bell tower. Henry Easteagh, by will made in 1461, gave 12 pieces of his best bimber to the work of the mew tower, whilst Thomas Petlesden gave 109 marcs ( $\$ 66$ 13s. 4d.). Numerous other parishioners geve of their goorls, time and money to the buiddag of their church and tower, and it remains a noble monument to their memory. Unlike the lest of the clareh, the tower is built principally of Bethersden marble, the buttresses are of very fine propertions, and the double west doorwhy is also a rematkable fatare, the only other instance of a double dooryay in Kent being at Lydd, thus affording a prominent instance of the similarity of the two structures.

A recent work on church architecture names only four othel parishes in England having this unique feature, ane each in Wilts and Northanats, and two in Norfolk. The large west window, it js interesting to learn, was built at the cost of Thomas Cok, who, by Fis will, dated 1473, desired his executors to provide from his goods "the whole of the new Window fully glazed in the West part of the yew tower of Theuterden."
According to the Kentish historian, Edward Hasled, there was formorly $a$ moted "dropping stane' in the arch of the doorway going into the bell loft, but upon the water drying in $J u l y 1720$, where it fell underncath, the stone becnme hard end slippery. From time to time this tower has bech associated with sundry legends concerying the Goodwin sands and Sandwich Haveu. As, hawever, the sands were formed and the Haren greally decayed before the building of this tower, it is obvious that it had nothing to do with eilher. At ath examination of the fabric made in 1891, it was found that the mortar was beyond question made with sea sand, and the joints partly filed up with sea shells. The churchwardens' accounts of 1709 show that sand and shells were imported from the neigibouring port of Rye, Sussex.
As all our teaders are sware, lotteries of every kivd are illegel at the present day, huli formerly they were not anly common but recagnised by the State. One such drawing took place as far back as the year 1567, in which the finst prize was $£ 5,000$. Each scrip sant in hed to be marked with $n$ "posies or 'motoce, and it is recorded Erlward Hales tried his fortune with the following lines, his ticket No. 40884, and his prize 1s. 2d. :--

The riew from the top is a very grand one, extending to the sea and French conse, when the Gris Nem light way been scen. It for merly liad a beacon, a sort of iron kettle holding about a gallon, and at tha time of the Armada this beacon communicated with others alt Fairlight, Sawcul, near Rye, Romney Church tower and other places. From a platform at the top of the piunacles, erected in 1864, the ordnance sturveyors could see rearly 100 churches. The tower underwent a thorough course of restoratiou and repair, and to mark the completion of such a grand work the Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Davidson) preached at the special service held on Jnnuary 12th, 1912.

THE BELLS

All the bells liave been recast from time to time, and the churchwardens' accounts contain numerotis entries respecting their repair and new cesting, also of sepairs to the clock and obimes. Before the tine of these accounts we learn from the will of John Godday, dated 1471, that ine bequeathed for the purcluse of a dest hell for the bell tower of Tenterden $£ 10$.
The tenor bell weighs 30 cht . This is the same as the tenor of Canterbury Catherral, and only i little less than that of Maisstone Parish Chusch, which is stated to be the heaviest hell in Kenl31 ewt. A few items of interest eoncerring the bells may be quoter from the carly ehurelwardeus* necounts 1616.-Ttem, pd. to Goodman Warde and his man for one day amb a halfe in now hanginge of the great bell, iiss. iiiic.

Other eatries show that in 1628 the third bell was east at Broomfield foumdry, near Madstonc: and in $1636^{\circ}$ it was cast again, His time at Rerfen foundry near Sittingboume; while in 1671 ons of the bells was seqne to St. Mary Cray foundry to be done at a cost of ahout $£ 30$. In addition, there is a page rull of minor cxpenses, all of which are get forth in detail.
One more hell item from the accounts may be brinfly mientioned. In the yenr 1709 five 7onng men of Tenterden were concerned in bueaking the "recat bell' of Tenterden by striking it, maliathy with the idea of getting more sound out of it. Joln Brissentern heing the one who actually struck the hlow that hroke if, was ortored has the vestry to pry thinee pounds, the olliers hoing called unon to pay 10s. each, hat one of them evaded pavment, as only Et 10 s . apprars as having leen received. A rate of 8 . in the $£$ was levind in the parish to taise a fond to replace the bell, to he made in all mo spects as good as formerly ${ }^{*}$ This producerl $£ 142$ 5s. 4d., and the hell was forthwith cast in Tenterden.
The accounts for the rear 1710 contain full narticulars of the materiais nsed sum the prices, the wotk of casting being done lyy Rimhard Plselps, bellfounder, of London. The hell founders' two principal items wore fill as per agrecmenl, and e225 19 s . for additional metal.

A fresh peal of six was placed in the tower in 1717. and it is wery unfortmale that the churcharardens' aceountg of this preriod are missing. The enrliest entries relating to the bells dates from 1614, and for the clock and chimes in 1516 . In that yoar tho relork needed $\pi$ new repeai at it cost of 7 s , while Jercmy Auslen, the Enxton and Clarke, was paid 23. for setting the Chymes grimgo.

LONDON'S OLDEST RINGING PEAL

BTLLS OE STM OLAVE'S, HART STREET, RESTORED.
The City of London has now gained anothor peal of eight. The old ring of six at Sit. Olave's, Hart Street, has been retumed and z'ehung, and two new trebles, which make an edmirable splice, have heon added. The work has been carried cut by Messrs. Mears and Stainbente, and it was from the Whitechapel Foundry that the old hells originally came; thr back five cast by Authony Bartlett in 1662, and the old treble (now the Jud) by James Barllett in 1694. The back sis are how the oldest peal, avalable for ringing, in the City of Lomion. She bells at St. Bartholomew-the-Great are an older peal, but rioging on then bas been forbidden.

St. Glave's ringing chamber formerly had the umpleasant distinction of being the dirticest in the city. Thanks to the efforts which huve teen made in conmection with the restoration, a complete transforthation has been eftected, and when some further improvements, thow in hand, are finished it will be quite a comfortable little ringillg chamber:
The dedication of the bells took place on Monday (St. Olave's Day), the cercunany being performed by the Lord Bishop of London. A special servioe was arianged, the dadicalory prayers being said in tha haptistery. After the Bishop's address, the ringers abtached to the tower rang the bells. The retuning has resulted in a great inprovement in the old six, and the new trebles have added to the eftect, and Messrs. Mears mad Stainbank are to be congratulated upon providing the city with an admirable right ring of efght. The Lenor is 10 owt. 3 gr . 25 lb . in $F$ sharp, and bears the names of tha charchwardens of 1662 . 'Anthony Bartlett made mee, 1662 , is inscribed on enuh of the baek five, and 'Jacobus Bartlett me fecit 1694' wh the thard. The new trebles hear the insoription: 'Mears and Stainbanle made me 1929. The gift of Alderman Sir Charles Wakelidd, Bant." On the second is added, "Tom Welland, Rector, D. O. ※err, F. H. D. Man, Churehwaudens.'

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH GUILD. PORI'SMOUTH DISTRICT AT BRAMSHOTT.

A vecy successful meeting was held at Bramshott an Saturday last in fine whather, about 30 ringers and friends being present from Bishop's Walthem, Blackmoor, Bramshott, Gosport, Portsmouth (St. Thomas' and St, Mary's), Shedfield, Steep, Titohfield and Rogate, also Mr. and Mrs. A. ## KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

A by-meeting was leold at Appledore on July 20 th, when about 20 members and friends attended from Ashford, HyEhe, Rolvenden, Rye, Stone and Tenterden, and the locals. Ringing began at thee o'clock, and owing to the excessive boat the bells were nat fully tutilised, as the shady spots were preferable. Service was canducted by Rev. M. M. Vicker, who also gave an address. Tea was provided at the Vicarage through the kindness of the Vicax and Messrs. G. and A. Johnson, whose hospitality was much appreciated jn the cool fingle. There being no business, Mr. C. W. Player voiced the thanks of those present to the Vicar and Messrs. Johuson's for the oxcellent tea. Some strolled round the garden, while others enjoyed a game of bowls, which was abruptly ended by the great gale which brake upon them. Ringing was thea kept up till 8.15, the mefhods rung being Double Norwich, Stedman, Kent Treble Eob and Grandsine Triples.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

The summer meeting of the Tonbridge District, held at Westerham on Saturday, July 20th, was favoused by brilliant weather: A relightful old-world town, Westerham is famous as the birthplace of General Walfe. It has alsa a beautiful old church, iu which the font at which Wolfe was baptised still remains, and the register is still preserved recording the christening of the general). There is, in addition, a good peal of bells, and it was not surprising that nearly fifty ringers attended. Ringiug commenced about three o'clock, and with the interval for tha sarvice and tea was kept going in various mathods from Grandsire to Superlative. It was the members' own fault if they did not get a pull in any method they wished.
The service was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. J. A. Castle (who also gave an excellent address), while Mr. W. E. Pitman, of Canterbury, presided at the organ. An excellent tea was partaken of in the Parish Fall, and the business meeting followed, the Vicar prasiding. One new hon. memtuer (Rev. E. L. Langston, Rector of Scpenoaks) was clected. -Voles of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service and for presiding at the meeting were passed, and, in reply, the Vicax expressed lis great pleasure in merting the members. It was the first time since he came to Westerham that a meeting had been held there, and be hoped that another me would be beld in the near future.
Votes of thanks were also passed to Mr. Pitman for his services at the organ, and to the lacal members for making the anrangements. These laving been responded to, the members adjourned to the lower.

The bells, which have recenlly been recast and relung, urere set going at three oclock, and ringing continued till 4.15. Mr. Fawles, of Mincheat, then photographed the campany in iront of the clutrel. The association form of service was conducted by Rev. H. P. Boulton. The Vicar read the lesson, and Mr. Deed, of Minehead, presided at' the organ. 'The Vienr gave an appropriate address from 11 Cor. v. $177^{\circ}$ Old things are passed away, behold all things are become now.' He reforved to the recasting of the bells. The old bells were ont of tune, and might have been retuned, but they at Carhamptou wanted no short euts, as thoy did not last. They therefore decided to make a thoroughly good job by having the bells recast, tuned, amd relung in modern and up-to-date fittings. This had been a big task for a small parish, but lisey had worked together, and a job had been done of which they were proud. Let the recasting of halls be a lesson to them, he said, as be went on to compare the re-creation of souls to the recasting of the bells.

A splendid tea was provided by the Fiear and Church Council in line Village Hall. Forty members sat down, and the Vicar presided, the helpers including Mr. Cook (churchwarden), Mrs. George CriclIrad, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Bryant and Miss Tooze.

THE GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL SECESSION

To the Editar.

Dear Sir,-I am surprised to see that my friend, J. Gould, has lent his signature to a letter ohviously written by someone elso in order to fog a dead borse. If he las a gennine desire to contribute to your colunns, let it he something original, not a reitaration of what bas already appeared. For instance, he might be able to give your readerg the real reason why the Gloucester and Bristol Association saceded from the Central Council, and, on the other harrd, he might ant.
In the latter cose, may $I$, througla you, extend to him a cordial invitation to meet me at my address any time after seven ocelock in the evening of either August 7th, 8th, 9 th or 10 hh, when $I$ will show him ample evidence of it (by inumendoes if not by actual allegations), and all typewritten.

Mr. Gould, like myself, was one of those present at the founding of the St. Steplien's Guild 35 years ago. He remembers the time when Guadsire was the standard dish, and when it was a rarity for a toncli of Sterman Calers to come round. When transport was difficult and the push bike was the oaly reliable means of conveyance between Shipelampton and Bristol, Joe dici not miss many practices; but when jomprovements took place, both in transport and ft ringing our friend did not quite keep up to the level, and gradually dropped out of the ringing at St. Stephen's aliogether, althougl: still retaining membership. Rut, notwitbstanding this, I had the pleasure of calling his first (and only?) peal of Double Norwich. If anyone has to publish an necount of all the harm $T$ have done, and, I suppose, am still doine, fo Bristol ringing and ringers, I mould rafler it be an old friond like Joseplı Gould than anyoue else.

The ancien elumelt fremilt 1494\} lonkerf son) gave both nssociations a vory lienrty welcome and the congregation some somal advice. Tea was afterwards serverl, presided over by Mr. J. A. Mihe, J. P. (president, Middesex Association), who was supported by the Rector and churchwarden (Mr. Pritain) and sevoral officers of the two associntions. Mr. W. Nash (St. Albans district secretary) and Mr. B. Tarman (District Master) represented the Herls Association, whilst Messis. W. Pye (Mastert, W. Piekworth (Yice-prosidient), and C. T. Coles (aistrict secretary) represented the Middlesex Assaciation.

After tea, Mr. C. T. Coles grye the Herlfordshime visitors a very hearty welenme to wirldesex, and expressed satisfaction at the suceess of the meeting, as shown by the attendance.

Mr. Nash thenked the Middesex Association, and spoke of the fraternal feeling encouraged hy these meetings.
Mr. Mine gave a littie of the history of the Hadley bells, whing, prior to 1876, were a peal of four, lwa of them being cracked. Tn that year two were added, and the meal renained six mat 1921, when lae added twn trebles, one in memory of his faiber aut mother, and the other in memory of his only son. Caplain Alexamder Milne, Herfs Yeomanry, who was kiled in the Great War.

It may be added that Mr. Wilne was hom at Fadley some 75 years ago. Mr. Milne proposed a. loearty vole of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bolls, which was carried with applause. The Rev. G. Kichardson again expressed his measurce at meeting the two associations, and hoped they would visit Hadley again.

- Mention was madr of the regrettable absence of Mr. W. Dell, for 50 vears a ringer at Hafley, whe is in hospital after a stroke, and the Rector promised to convey in him the good wishes of nlt present. Finging inok place dturing the aflernoon and evening at Monkan Fanley, mat it the eroning at Bamet. All the standard metands were rung as well as a touch of Spliced London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise. It is hoped to hold next year's joinf meeting at North Mimms, Fertfordsinire. In the meantime, members of the two associations should note Algust 24 th as the date of the contbined meeting of the Esex. Herts and Middleses Associations, whicla

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL RINGERS' VISIT TO NORTH SOMERSET.

On Sulurday, July 13th, the St. Paul's Cathedral corapany, with at number of friends, spent their anmual outing in North Somerset, The parly was met at Brisiol by Mr. W. A. Cave and Mr. J. IT. Dylee, and the first call was wrington, The noble ring of ten (Lenor 37 cwi.) att this church were much enjoped by everyone, The fower is one of the linest in the county, and was considered by Barry to be the linest example of Perforated Perpendicular style in the country. Its proportiong were copied by him in designing the greai Victorla tower :11. Westminster. The bells were originally a ring of aix by Thomas Bilbie, of Chewstoke. In 1845 , the tenor and trable were recast by Charles and George Mears, of Whitechapel, and in 1911 they were augmented to ten and completely rehung by the Whitechapel Foundry.

An interesting anecdote was related to Major Eiesse years ago by Tames Chidacy, ane of the old six-bell band, to the effect that when the recast tenor and treble were dedicated, the last of the Bilbie fimily came over to hear the mew tenor. It in very satisfactory to know that an miliusiastic local band rings ewery Sunday for services, and a remarkable feature is the strict puactuality of every member.

Lunch was served at the Golden Lion under the direction of Hostess Mrs. Axford, and it is worll recording that the Golden Lion is one of the most comfortable inns in the country, while Mrs. Asford's kinduess is proverbial.

After lunch, the pariy journeyed via Burrimpton Coombe and Cheddar Gorge to Wells. Burringlon Coombe was made famous by Toplady, whose liymo, 'Rock of Ages,' was inspired whilst he was taking shelter under a large overlanging rock during a stom. Cheddar forget is too well known to need comment, and cueryone wat bremonlously jmpressed by the wonderful scenery and the caves. At Walls Cabliedral, ringing an the noble peal of ten could oaly bo of shart duratian owing to a service being leld. The next stop wes Chewton Mendip, where hangs a very fine ring of eight, cast by Tlaylar in 1913. The tower prevsously containet a ring of six, tenor about 27 cwh, hy varions finmers. The six were recast into eight as the gift of Temed Walitegrave.

The bells were rung before and after ten, and as time wonld not pernit of rinmite at St. Mruy RodelyTe, Bristal, a short stop was made at Pensford for a social half hour, uffer which the party proceeded to Themple Meads Station, where they embarled for Lontion in on sperinl satoon vouch.
One frequently hears of gotnerations of ringing families, and it is interestiag to relate that at wrington the Vowles have been ringers for thome thet four generations. Hajor Hesse has actushly rung wilh four generations of the fatuily.
The best thanks of the party are due to Messis. Cave and Dyke fat ith mrangements so kentiv and elfemety made on behalf of the vistors, also to the Dean of Wells and the Rectors of Wrington and Chewton Mendip for the use of the bells.

IN DORSET

The ringera of All Suints' Church, Caslle Cary, with their wives, had thair annual outing on July 4th. They left Castle Cary at 8.15 atin, by charabanc, with rain falling steadily, thair lirst stop being at Norton-sub-Hamdon. After ringing for balf an hour on these splendid bells and inspecting the church, also enjoying the view from the tower, the trip was contiumed, and the rain was left behind. Netherbury provided the next bells fo be rung, and thence the party proceeded to West Bay for a short walk along the sea front, the wather by khis time being beaulifully fine. The next call was at Thurton Bradstock, with a figlit penl af six. Journeying on for about two miles, and solecting a suitakle site, the party drew up on the roadsile for dinner. The lovely sucnery of this part of the Dorset coast is almoss impossiblo to deseribe. After the meal the journey wat continued thong the hills, with the sea on one side and the sun shinimg overnoud, to the list stop at Ablootshury, where is another light fing and a most interesting old church. Here, after a few touchos, the company proceeded to their destination, Weymouth, which was fenched about 4 p.m. Here the party broke up and went in various directions, roassembling at 7.30 for tha returu trip, which was made through Dorchester and Sllerborne, home being reached at 10 p.m.t after most enjoyable excursion through lowely country with nelightful scenery. Mhanks are acoorded to the ficars and aingers, whogave the cordpayy a hearly weleome at all the towers.

AN EXCURSION IN SHROPSHIRE.

On Saturday, July 6th, the ringers from Lawton, tagether with several from Kidsgrove, held their annual outing. The perty numbered about 35 , inclucling fricads. About 1 p.m. a start was inade per bus for Whitchurch, which was reached in good time. Here the ringers made for the tower, where there is a ring of eight by Rudhall, tenor 20 cwt . Touches of Grandsire aud Stedman Triples and Bob Major were brought round. From Whitchush the road led to Wem, whero a substantial tea was enjoyed. Afterwards a move was made to the bolfry, where touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung on the peal of eight, with a tenor of 14 cwt. Clive was the next tower to be visited. This was reached after a delightiul trip into the country. The church at Clive is quite a new building, bang not yet 50 years old, but it is certainly worth seeing, and it is sisuated in a position which gives a splendid view of the country for miles round. Fere there is a ring of six by Taylor temor 25 cwt . These wore scon wised and set going the the tane of Bob Minor. Touches of Kent aud Oxford Trelole Bob were brought round, and then the bells were lowered and the ringing for the day completed. The homeward joumey was made througls that well-known beauty spot, Hawkestone Park, where the scenery whs fully appreciated by everyone, And then on through Hodnet and Market Drayton. Fome was reached about 11 p.m., after a very enjoyable day. The riugers eztend their thanks to the iucumbents for the use of the bells, and to lhe local ringers who turned out to welcorne the party-

SAFFRON WALDEN SOCIETY

The socicty's annual outing was held on Monday, July 1st, al! the members being present, with Messrs. W. and W. 'L. Prior, of Stansted, and P. Webb, of Ickleton. Leaving at 8.30 a.m1. by motor hus, the first stop was made at Dunmow, where all eajoyed ringing on the fine peal of eight, the methods being Stedman Triples, Cambridge and Jondon Surprise. The next call was made at Felsted, where the party were greatly intevested in the ald Grammar School. On visiting the church tower, Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Cambrige Surprise were rung. Going on to Earls Colne, the visitors were met by Mr. T. Ridgwell, who was a member of the society matil his retirement from the Poliee Foree last February. An excellent loot lunch was ready at the George Fotel, and the members were very grateful to Mr. F. Ridgwell for making the arrangements. Stedman Iriples, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise were rung at the Parish Church, and then the party went on to Clachon, and spent a quiet aftermoon by the sea and listening to the band. The return journey began at 8.30 p.m., and a call was made at St. Peter's, Colchester, where on the fine peal of eight Stedman Triples, Cambridet and London Surprise were rung. Home was reached at 10.30 p.m., after a very enfoyable day. The society wishes to thank the incurcbents for the use of the bells at lowers, and the local secretavies for making all arraugements.

ESSEX RINGERS IN SURREY

On Saturday, June 29th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Shenfidd, and St. Peter's, Soulh Weald, Essex, accompanied by a few friends, speat a most enjoyable day in Surrey. Leaving South Weald about 7.20 , and passing through the heart of London, the first stop was made at Christ Clucch, Ottershaw, a protty church with six bells facing a lovely common. After a good ring: the party were soon on the way 1.30 Forsell, another ring of six, which were kept merrily going until 1.30, when the party sat down to an excellent lunch in the Clirurch Institute. The next call was at St. Michael's, Pirbright. Hore the bells were raised in peal, and some good touches were brought round. bells were raised in peal, and some good touches were brought round. In the ciuwclyard, the party were inicrested in the grave of Stanley, the African axplorer, which is marked by a huge block of stone brought over from Africa.
T'he party then moved on to Bagshot for tea, which was served in St. Anoe's Hall. After tea, Mr. H. Turner thanked My. G. Miles on hehalf of all present for what he had done to make the outing such a success.-Mr. Miles, to whom the ground covered recalled old memories, suitably replied.
The ringers all agreed that it had heen a splendid day, and thanked the clergy for the use of their bells, and the friends who met then at each tower. The methods rung during the day were Stedmau, St. Siman's, Grantsive and Boh Doubles, Plain Boband Kent Treble Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Trehle Bob Major.

A TOUR TO FAMOUS TOWERS

Tlie summer outing of Swindon Parish Church Guild was revived this year with great succusz, after havigg lapsed siace 2g25. The party, numbering 24 , including visitorz and some of the members' wives, started by charabane from Srivdon at 8 o'clock, and a fine rum of 45 miles to Evesham was much enjoyed, as the weather was fayourable and the country looking at its best after the welcome raja of the previous day. At the famous bell tower touches of Stexlman Caters and at course of Bob Royal were rung on the fine peal of ten The mext halt was Pershore, reached at 11.30 , and after a brief in spection of the beantiful Abbey Church, an adjourament was made to the Royal Thee Tuas Hotel, where a substantial hot dinner was appreciated. A ring on wis beautiful peal of eiglat hanging in the magnificent old Norman tower followed from the unique ringing cage suspended 80rt. above the floor. Here touches of Stednan Iriples and a course of Cambridge Surprise Major were accomplished.

Rincing at Worcester Cathedral was the next item, aud was looked iorward to very eagerly, as reports are abroad that these recest bells are considered by experts to be the finest twelve in the land. and with this opinion some of the pisitors, who have heard all the famous paals of twelve, are in agreement. They are cer tainly a magnificent peal, and the whole restoration has been carried out in a manner that reflects the highest credit on the firm respou sible. It was with a certain amount of trepidation these mighty bells were tackled, seeing that most of the ringers are accustomed to perform on a peal of ten with a tenor 22 cwt., compared with 50 cwi. However, the first eight having been raised in peal and tho big ones singly, the whole twelve wer's set going to rounds to give the pounger members an opportunity of ringing on such a famous poal, after which a creditable course of Grandsiro Cinques, followed by a course of Bob Royal, with Mr. W. A. Cafe on the tenor, was bung
With a certain amount of regret this interesting old city with ats famous Catheciral and magnificent bells, was left belind, and tracks made for the ancient lown of Tewkesbury. Fere, on the ten bells in the world-famed Abbey Church, touches of Stedman Caters and course of Crmbridge Surprise Royal were tapped off, aud Cheltenham, bire last place of call, was reached oaly 15 miautes behind schoduled time. Mr. W. T. Pates was in waiting and extended hoarty welcome, and soon the beautiful light ring of twolve were roing to Grandsire Ginques, followed by three courses of Stedman Cinques, manimously voted the hest ringing of the day, and $a$ fiting conclusion to a most enjoyabie outing.
After the heavy rains of the previous day the weather was really most kind, and, beyond a few spats at intervals, the day was bright nd sunne, but on leaving Chaltenham the rain returned with generosity that must liave dolighted the long-sufferiog agrieulturists However, a capable driver, looking ahead, had thoughtfully put the hood up. The thanics of the Guild are gratefully extended to the Dean of Woroester, Minor Canon Facob, wha met tho party, kindly rondicted them to tho ringlag room, and gave fnterestiag particulans of thit hells, and to the incumbents and steeple-keepers of all the oftier chiurches visited.

TO SURREY AND SUSSEX

The first Saturday in July was the date fixed by agmement for the second annual outing of the St. Mary's company, Slourgh, when the tuse of a fourteen-seater charabanc was gewerously offered them far the day by the Parochial Church Council. The party eonsisted of twelve 'laymen,' the two varant seats being well stored with sumfly good things that wera eventually laid in the inner man duriog the perfect journcy of just sixteen hours' duration.
Worthing whs the oljective, with one or two hoary old bell towers 'thrown in' along the way, as a relief to the monotony of batmeing seats and useless limbs. The route taken was via Windsor Greal Payt in the morning's bracing ain, Bagslof, Aldershot, Farnham (tenor 23 cwt ), Fislemere, with its fine views, and Pulborough (tenor $13 \frac{1}{2}$ aw in, where luncin was taken at the Five Bells. One hour was enjoyed by the seaside exploring the parnde, the pier, and the rapid growth of this popular resort, but the citizens of Worthing have not yet consiclered the hovougla as being "worthy' of a peal of bells. The homeward journey was made by way of West Grinsteaf, with its Sussex wiews; Cowfold (Mr' Cropley's birthplace) ; Forsham (tenor 24 cwt.), tea at the Queen's Head Hotel; Dorking; with its noted Fox Hill scenery; Weybridge, where a car-bureita' supper was enjoyed just one minute before Thme, 品entemen' ; and so anward via Staines to Slough, the company dispersing as the midmight chimes were sounding from the home tower, pll delighted with the kindness shown them at each of the three belfries visited. Five methods were rung during the toan--Stednam and Oxford Bob Triples, Plain and 'rreble Bob Major-but gond old Grandsire was reserved for the final touch, the conduetine being shared by Messrs. Hoopar, Henley, Baleman and Albrow. The roung hands were responsible for beautifully subdued melody rendered on the return journey from the back sent of the car with a set of jazz instruments bought at Worthing; and Messirs. Barton and Howst for a vote of thanks, not only to those supplied the whoels of the chariot, but also to those who lielped to turn round the wheels of "The Ringing Whorld.

A NEW TWELVE-BELL RECORD.

The successful attempt made on the twelve bell record at Asliton-under-Lyne on Monday will rank in ringing history as one of the greatest achievements in the annals of the Exercise. In point of view of time occupied and number of changes rung the peal was well ahead of any previous twelve-bell performance, but apart from the physical demands made upon the ringers, the outstanding merit of the accomplishment is the method which they rang. Cambridge Surprise Maximus is the zenith of twelve-bell ringing as practised at the present day-we do not think that even Superlative on twelve can be put into a higher category-and a peal of such length, in such a method, whatever the future may have in store, will ever remain a landmark.

As a feat of physical endurance the peal is one of the finest that has even been rung. The bare fact of standing for eleven and a hall hours, and ringing without pause or refreshment is in itself a great feat, which makes enormous demands upon the stamina of every one of the band. To the back-enders one naturally turns first with admiration, but particularly in a peal in which the tenor is a working bell, the men at the light end must not be forgotten, for in ringing to twelve-bell time they are bound to have their bells upon their hands to some extent. But, as we have already said, it is not alone from the physical side that this peal becomes a memorable one. As a feat of collective concentration it stands as high, if not higher, than any other ever accomplished on tower bells. Cambridge Surprise Maximus is not a method in which a ringer can relax his attention, much less 'go to sleep,' if success is to come to the peal. From start to finish every man of the twelve has to be 'on his toes,' to use a sporting phrase, or the consequences are fatal, unless someone else comes speedity to the rescue. In some methods one can carry on for a time in a somewhat automatic way, but in methoons like Cambridge Maximus there is no such relicf. It is a case of sticking closely to the method all the way:

There is another feature which in our opinion makes this peal a remarkable one. Usually records are associated with youth, but the band at Ashton-under-Lyne was, as a company, anything but youthful. Some are approaching, and others well past fifty; one or two, are nearer sixty years of age. They have, of course, the advantage of experience, bat one hardiy looks for record making among men who have passed the meridian of life. In other pursuits it would be well nigh impossible, but it illustrates very vividly the fact that bell ringings stands almost alone in the unlimited age at which a man (Continued on page 498.)

LAVENHAM RINGERS IN ESSEX AND HERTS.

On Saturday, July 27th, the members of the SS. Poter and Paul's Saciety, Laventam, held their annual outing. Travelling by charabanc, e start was made at 7.30 a.m. from the church, and Felated was the first church visited, where Mr. Farrow and the loca Ringer Master received the visitors. After ringing courses of Grand sire and Stedman, Kent and Suporlative, a move was made for Great Dummow, where the fine peal of eight, already raised, wer set going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Nor wich and Oxford Treble Bob, Mr. W. H. Smith and another locs ringer taking part. The next call was at 3ishop's Stortford. Her the party were greeted by the genial Vicar and Messrs. Beeston and Springham, the last-mamed proving a very interesting companion A very nice ringing room and peal of ten were found at this place Boln Major, Grandsire Triples, Grandsire and Stedman Catars, ans Kent Royal were rung here. At the Black Lion, the parly di justice to an enjoyable and much-needed lunch, which was followed by handhell ringitg, and the arrival of 'F.G.' from De Beavoi Town, N.I. It is hoped that the ringing at Bishop's Stortford prover an additional item of interest to the party of Rhodesians visitima there lhat day., At the next place, Sawhridgeworth, the party weri 'all ears open,' for had not 'Dame Rumour' many times said *Here is a peal as good, if not better than the eight at Lavenham! A course of Boh Major was suffient for 'Tympanium' to pronoune the verdict, 'They're a long way behind Lavenhaw lot." Othe methois rung were Grandsire Triples and Stedman.
Good-bye was said to Mr. Tarling, and a short run made to Harion Parish church, where the local men were ringing the back six fo tine benefit of a Iearner. The party were met by Messrs. Small Cordell, Wheeler and Rochester, also Mr. C. Bulton, a nativ Sudfolk. Thuse Eriends joined with the visitors in courses of Grand sire Triples, Plain Rob, Double Narwich and Cambridge Major. Br sire Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Major. B
fore departing, the partj cncountered one of the representatives J. Wall of 'Stop me' fame, who, not being in the slow, soon chang' sereral 'singles' into 'bobs '! At Harlow Common, the party ha teu, and were velconed by Messms. Geo. Dent and I. Gavill. Courses of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent were ramg on thimorry little eight. Two attempts at Superlative came to grief owing to one of the band trying to make a 5.6 dodge in 3.4 ! After mor good-byes and a run through part of Epping Foresi, the homewal trail was struck, passing through Ongar, the last resting-place Fane Taylor, Lavenbam's peefess (1783-1824), Ohelmsford and Brain tree, home boing reached after a ploasuut tour of fifteen and a hal hours' duration. Votes of thanks ware accorded the clergy of the churches visited, the ringers who met the partyy and the hon. secy tary of SS. Peter and Paul's band.

INYERNESS CATHEDRAL BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I was much ioterested in tho recent remarks on the abore, the mast northerly peal in existence, and until recently, I believe, ine only xinging peal in the Highlands. Faying been married at Invemess Cithedral in 1919 by Rev. A. J. Maclean, Bishop of Moray, one may, perhips, ciaim a not unatural sentimental interest in the matter.

A fow years since I spent a very interesting hour with Provost Mackenzie in the towar of the Cathedral, and I remember well his interest in the bolls, and his strong desire that they should be rung. I lade a good look round the fittings, and raised several of the belis, and, except for a lack of oil on the bearings, I noted particularly that everything seemed to be in very fair condition; and I am pretty sure that Provost Mackenzie, something of a ringer himself, would be the last person to allow neglect.
One is particularly interested to note that there is at last some prospect of the bells being rung, and in wishing Prorost Mackenzie every success in what nust be a very uphill task, one ventures to express the hope that if there are any ringers visiting this beautiful burgh they will nol fail to make thenselves known, and to offer a little help nud advice.
It may not be gonerally known that the peal is a fine ring of ter, tenor about 26 cwt., but that the two trebles are hung ' dead.' The bells are made rrequent use of, being climed, I believe, for all services, several times each day, and pery effective they saund across the water:

A more ideal sething for a fine ring of bells it would be liard to imagine than this beautiful Cathedral, with its twin towers rising close to the banks of the broad and swift-flowing Neess, with the castle and the royal burgh of Inverness rising in terraces from the opposite bank, where the masic of the bells is mellowed and reflected, and the whole seene, redolent of Scottish history, from Macbeth, through Cromwall and Culloden, to the less romantic times of Lloyd George and nis Cabinet meetiog in 1921, is one of beauty unsurpassed in this comatry. Fours faithfully,
J. E. IEWIS COCEEY.

Leammood, Dore.

THE'JAMBOREE

The galdrering of Boy Scouts from all parts of the world at Arrowe Park, Birkenhead, gave some Wirval vingers an opportumity on Suturdity, August 3rd, of ringing a peal on the splendid bells at St. Sawiotr's Church, Oxion, which is about a couple of miles from the venue of the jamboree. This was a peal of Gambridge Surprise Major, hand was lae first peal of Surprise on the bells, and also the first peal rumg heve since 1919 . The changes followed one another with almost clockwort precision, and any ringing experts who may have been in the vicinity would have had great dificulty in finding the slightest fault with tho striking. Many expressions of regret that these bells were not more often available for peal ringing were made.
Alter the peal, the ringers were entertained to an excellent tea at Oxton Hall, kindly provided by Mr. A. H. Heal, a sidesman of the church, who takes a keen inlerest in the chnchand ringers. Owing io the inclemency of the weaiher, it was unfortunately impossible for the ringers to avail themselves of the facilities for bowling on the lawn, but an inspection of the gardens and grenhouses was much lawn, bud an inspection of the gardens and greenhouses appreciated, especiaily by the horticulturist of the party!
The ringers would like to take this opporiunity of expressing their most sincere thanks lo the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Sayer, M.A.) for so kindly allowing the use of the bells, to Mr. A. H. Heal for his kindly and thoughiful action iu providing a much appreciated tea, and iastly, but by no means least, to Mr. H. S. Brocklebank, the and lastly, but by no means least, to Mr. H. S. Brocklebank, the gouial towerkeper and branch secretary of the Guild, for having everythilg in readiness for the visitors.

At St. Saviour's Church, Oxton, on August 1st, in 50 mins., a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,280 changes): B. Brocklebank 1, J. Cook 2, W. Fughes 3, T. Rogers 4, R. G. Edwards 5, J. C. E. Simpson 6, S. Xostin 7, J. Rreese (iongest length as conductor) 8. This son 6, S. Mostin 7, J. Breese (longest lenglh as conductor) ${ }^{8 .}$. This fisit to the world jamboree. The Prince fuassen close to the church ell route from Birkenhead to Arrowe Park, while the ringing was proceeding.

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY

Fo the Editor.
Sir,-I should like, through your columns, to thank the many ringers who have so leadily responded to our call for the second ahtion of 'The Ringers' Directovy.
Many have sent messages of gool wishes, nad I am sure the committee will very muth appreciate tho thought.
would like to add that it would greatly facilitate the wark of the Difectory Cammittee ji subseribers would send their farms in at the farliest. Yuurs frithfully,

ST MARGARET'S RINGERS VISIT KENT

The anmal outing of the ringers of St. Wargaret's, Westminster, took place on July 13 th, and a most enjoyable time was spent. Leaving Kennington, jusi opposite the Oval station, soon after nime o'clock, a most delightful ride via Farnigghann, Wrotham and Maisstome hrought the party to Headcorn, the first ringing call of the Lour. Here the party were met with a request, owing to illuess in close proximity, not to ring long- They eomplied with a course of Cambrifge Surprise and a short touch of Sicdman Triples, which enabled all to have a pull. The ringing room is on the ground floor, and the 'go" and the bells are certainly goot. The chief item of interest on the day's prograname was call No. 2, St. Mildred's, 'Tenterden. The visitors had all previously heard of the fame of theso bells, and as they stood admiring the beauty and nobility of this lovely lower, the news was gently broken to then that they could not ring owing to the clerk to the justices buing huried that morning. The party were, of course, very disuppointed, so much so that the verger, noting the laoks of 'deep depression,' suggested noking the relatives if they would care to have the clappers muffled for a short ring in the afternoon. This was readily agreed to, and while the verger was gone to make the suggestion and get permission the company partook of an excellent dimner at the Woolpack Hotel. As they were nearing the last Boh iu his course, the verger returned, saying they could ring the bells muffled. Tlie local captain then arrived with the news that lie could not lind the nufflers, but after a diligent search Miss Hardeastle found blue missing artieles, and Boh frimwood, Charlie Roberts, and the Governor were quickly aloft fixing things up. Double Norwich and Stedman Triples wore very soon pouring forth from this grand left-luanded peal, and the high opinion all had heard of these bells was certainly upheld. Amidst more heautiful scenery, and past many more churches, at which some of the company had rung many years ago, by some local cricket matches, at which they sometimes stopped to look, the party reached Crambook, the third lower on the list. Hore the local eaparin informed the visilors that 'they were not like Tenterden." 'They want some pulling,' lie said; in fact, he didn't believe they could ring them. Howevor, a sturt was made, the next method on the list heing London: Miss Hardeastle 1, Mrs. $R$. Sanders 2, Miss F. Ore 3, A. W. Coles 4, W. H. Hewit 5, C. M. Kirby G, C. W. Roberis 7, R. Simders 8. The outstanding feature of this visit was the look of utter bewilderment on the face of the local crptain when Renthen said, 'That's all' and 'Stand" fwo roundes nfter. It was not the ringing of the course of Lomdon Suprise on this lumpy, heavy-going peal that won his admiration, lont all stopping when the conductor said 'Stand.' 'I have to give five minutes' notice to my chaps,' he saitl, "to get them all to stop by ihe time the service sterts." A shori touch of Grandsire Triples wis next rung, and then the party said farewell to Cranbrook. Continuing the journey, the company arrived at Brenchley, where tea had been arranged. This was not quite realy, so a visit was marle to the tower. Here courses of Bristo], Cambridge and Superlativo were rumg. with Mr. Jack Wheedon standing in, all of which were much enjoyed. After iea an exciting billiards malch took place hetween Gamberwel and ton, the latter eventually winning easily. The last place of call for ringing was Hadlow, reached about half an hour before the arrival of a parly from Crawley. Dpon this quaint octave, which is exrolly like the front eight of a peal of twelve, the Londoners commenced with a perfect course of Kent Treble Boh Mrajor, then a tonch of Stedman Triples (A.W.G.'s variation), a course of Cambridge Surprise, and so finished the day's ringing Dry lips were again moistened, and a start was then made for bome, via Tonbridge and Sonorks, and upon nrriving at the Oral station another most dellg the olthers that have ging passed into the realm of memories, with the others that have gone before. Best thanks are extended to all thase who gracted permission to ring, aud to the towerkeepers for all they digl to make the day the great success it undoubterly was.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

CANTERBLRY DISTRICT WELCOMES 92-YEAR-OLD RINGER, Br the kind permission of the Ficar, the Rey. Peter Lamberi, a by-rneeting was held at St. Nichalas' Church, Sturyy, on July 27th. Tho meeing proved to be a very successful one, and was comparatively well utfended, there being twenty members present. The relanging of the six bells has just been completed by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, and are now in good ringing order.
Sone very gond ringing was aceomplished, the methods being Kent, and Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Grandsire.

The Vicar kindly offeiated at a service, at which he tove a very appropriate and much-appreciated mdtress.
Afterwards, the ringers adjournen to the Leopard's Head, where a very delighlful tea haci heen provided on the lawa. The Fiear presided over the meal, and iook the chair at the subseq̧ant meeting, at which a very hearty vote of thanks was passed by acelamation to the Yicar for his kind welcome and for the service, and to the organist, Mr. Ctoss, for the musical arrangements.
During the afternoon the ringers welcomed to the tower 4 m Slingsby, who, although 92 years of age, very ably rang the treble in a touch of Platin Bob.

LONDONDERRY CATHEDRAL BELLS

IRISH CTYY'S REJOIOINGS AT DEDICATION.
Wilh a solemn and impressive service and great rejoicing the new peal of hells, thirteen in all, erected ai Londonderry Cathedral, were dedinatef hy the Lam Primate of Treland on July 25 th. The bells have theen east and insiulied by Messrs. Gillett ana Johnston, of Croydon, tell of them toing lung for ringing, and the other three, whicls ars semi-tones, for tune plnying. The weight of the tenor is 31 cwt , and the total weight of the ring is over seven tons.
St. Colomb's Cathedral, Derry, was completed in 1633 , and it was recorded on the tenor bell of the ald pienl of eight, which were ref:asl of 1812, that the five larger hells were presented to the City nI' Londonderry by King Charles I. in 1638.' Another was given by Ihe cilizens of the town in 1671, sud two by the Honourable the Irish Society in 1630. Wlien the boils were recnst in the early 19th century lise old inscriptions were not preserved on them, but these are being restored on the new ring of ten. The recast tenor bears Lhe inscription: "Glory to God in tlie Highest. The Honourable the Irish Society of London, Founders of this Cathedral and Donors of ils two most ancient bells, gave ma A.D. 1926. Colonel Sir Louis A. Newton, Bart., Aldorman, Govelnor, Frederick Whittinglam, C.C., Deputy Governor, Lestie C. Lnuflragin, Secretary.'
The Aedication service was unique in the history of the Cathedral in many wayb, and it was the first to be hroadoast from Derry. The congrogation was the largest whiol, had over followed a service in

All the muric spoke of that triumph, first sounded in the processional hymn, 'Lifled snfe within the tower,' ant continuen in the hymm 'Thou art coming, on my Srviour, ${ }^{\text {a }}$ the Te Denm, and the Recessional, "Ring farlh, joly henls: The object of the bells was dwelt apon by the Lorrd Bisinp in the course of the dedication, and by the Lord Primnte in his address, while the solemn nature of the message which they at times will tell whe conveged hy the impressive words of the beadlifnl hymn, 'O Strength nnd Stay,' sung to the majestic music of the Londonderry Air. The congregation, which was perliaps the most representalive that ever sat in the Cathedral, included amongst mony nther notahie people, Major Ronald Ross, M.P., Mr. M. S. H.M.L. for tile county ind Mrs. Tames Carseadiden, a direct Alesmantant of ane of the 'Tmmortal Thirteen."
The 'Immortal Thirteen,' who ar'e commemorated on the thirteenth lind, presented in memory of Capt. Rrowning hy the Browning Cluh of Appreutice Roys, were, it is interesting to recall, "the Brave Thirthen Apprentire Boys who shut the getes in 1688 and Tho hells were tiedicaled hy the Lord Bishop of Londonderry, and the nddress was given hy tho Primate of All Ircland. In the course of lisa addross, tho Primate, wio epoke from the words, "Glory to (ind in the Highest" (St. Luke ii. 14), said: 'Here in Derry the hrells have $a$ significance which is inseparable from the heroie history nf the place. This Gatherral, together with the old walls of the sily, form an enduring monument of one of the most wonderful kiorios in the records of mankind. Within the walls of this Cathedral thm heroic people of the cits met for prayer, to the God in whom thay lirusted, day after day, during the awful period of the singe. For this high mind holy purphose the members of our Church and those of the Presbyterinn Clurch resorted here continually, ohserving their own ways of worship, hut all united in the same fromt resolve and tho same faith in God. The tower of the Catheilral was the slation from which the besieged made lheir observations and from which they signalled. And on every occasion of pidhory or sutuess the hells pealed forth their message of gladness. And when the Gital relief came, and the long and tertihhe struggle was over, they culled the vistors to the great service of thankgiving to God far the deliveranon He had grantod. The City of Detry has a long nul notable history. Tha ansient Irish Church was very remurkable fow the numher of great Glristian missionnties whom it sent forth to ryangelise regions where the old pagan faiths still sprvived. The missionary spirit of St. Patrick blazed up with wonderful power in the shuls of many of those who were nourished in the centres of Ohristian faith whinh wete formed as the resalt of his labours. These centres hename famois also as centres of learning at a time whent Enrope wns sinking into harbarism. This ancient Irish Church was notuple ulso for its independence, and it is of interest that the first mention of a bell in connection with a Christian service is to he found in an ancient life of St. Columba, where the sounding of a hril appurs ns the means of calling to prayer in the clurch. Thus your newly-restored and augmented ring of bells may be truly said to virry on a long tradition. beginning in the sixth century and musi plocionsly and wonderfully emphassed in the great deliverance of 1689 . Connected with this Intier event, our service to-duy has hern associated in a special way with the memory of two of the hniness of the sige. The collection which will be made is to be for a tathlet to commemorate the courage and devotion of two brave men-Colonel Honry Baker, one of the governors of the eity, who nobly discharging his diffeult and dangerous duties, and worn out with labour and disease, died when the siege had lasted 73 days, aud was buried in the norll aisle of this Cathedral; and the galiant Crptain Browning, of the Mourtjoy, leader of the relioving ships, who was killed in the moment of victory at the Breaking of the Beom.

The Primate then spote of the message of the bells, and eoncluded: - Listen to their voice; come when they call; reoeive fiheir messuges into your heart; and you will he able to join in the eternal Song of Praise, "Glory to God in the Highest."
The Primate's appeal for a generous offering towards the provision of a memorial to Calancl Baker and Captain Browning met with a ready response, the collection realising 886.

Eleven members of St. Patriak's Cathedral Society, Dublin, had been invited to Derry to assist in the opening, and the looal ment having rung the rounds at the moment of dedication in $a$ pery creditahle manuer, the Dublin contingent at the conclusion of (lae Service rang 1,259 Graudsire Gaters: G . The ringers were all greatly pleased with the belfs, hoth in an and tone, and Messrs. Gilleti and Johnston may feel justly proud of Londonderry bells. They are indeed a fine penl. On the Thursins, the ringers present were entertained in the Northern Counties Hotel by Mr. Jolnston, a very pleasant evening being spent. Some of the ringers refurned to Dablin the uext day, but others remained until Saturday to enjoy the hospitality extencled to them. Mr. J. C. Orr acted as 'guide, philosophev and friend' during the stay.

IN THE RINGING ROOM.
The 'Sentinel' published mu jateresting description of the scene a the belfry:-
'In the ringing room of the lawer, up the narrow stairway, ils steps worn by the feet of conluries of visitors, a little group stands wating for the sighol wo sand out the glad message of Derry's lis-

RINGING MEETING AT SUDBURY

A joint meeting of the Suffoll: Guild and the Essex Association was held at Sudbury on July 20th. After tea, ail which 53 were present, Mr. C. E. Howard, Master of the Essex Association, was elected cbairman.
New members were elected, and meetings arranged.
Mr. Leslie A. Allingtou was elected secretary for the Sudhury Branch. Wemlers wer'e present from Ipswich, Lavenham, Mistley, Ufford, Wormingford, Little Waldingfield, Stebbing, Maldon, Sudbury, London, Haskoton, Foxearth, Clacton-on-Sea, Long Melford, Glemsford, Thorington, Great Cornard, Groton, Sible Fiedingham, Colchester, Earls Colne, Grensted Green, Great Bentley, Sproughton, Halstead, Cambridge, Braintree, and other towers. The following methods were rung: Bristol, London, Superlative, Cambridge, Double Norwioh, Treble and Plain Bob, Stedman, and Grandsire. The company of St . Peter Mancroft, Norwieh, were also in the town, and joined forces with the other Guilds.

ICKLETON RINGERS AT YARMOUTH.

On Saturday, July 20th, the church choir and ringers of Fokleton, Cambs, spent a very enjoyable day at Yarmouth. At first the excursion was arranged as a choir outing, and as sevelal of the ringers are also members of the choir, it was decifed to include the ringers and friends as well, so a party of over sixty left Great Chesterford Station at 5.50 a.m., arriving at Yarmouth about 9 a.m. Permigsion had been kindly given for the ringers to have a ring on St. Nichalas Church bells in the atternoon. Some of the local men very kindly thet the visitors and made them welcome. Touches of Grandsite Triples were rung; then, with the help of some of the Yarmouth silgers, a cotrse of Grandsire Caters was brought round. Afterwalds, a party of sixty foul sat down to a substantial tea. Home was reachad soon aftes midnigbt.

-The visitors are loud in theil praise of the poal, and Mr. Jolnston duly receives congratulations on the latest triumph of his worldrenowned firm. The ease with which even the heaviest bell-the teror, presented by the honourable the Irish Society-can be rung, is attributed to the successfiul introduction of hall bearings. ## SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUHLD.  SIX-BELI RINGERS EIGHT-WELL PRAOTMGE.

In delightiful wenther a vely successful meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was hela on Saturday week at Wyke Regis, Weymouth. Representatives attended from Abbotsbury, Bere Regis, Bournemouth, Charminster, Coffe Mullen, Dorchester, Fordington, Lytchett Minster, Poole, Warcham, Winchester, Wimborne and Wyke Regis, making a fotal of 56. The bells were available from 2.30 p.m., and sharp to the moment the Lytchett Minster band (which includes five promising young ledies) were in the rimging chamber, and had the bells in motion. Other ringers followed, and the practice was specially devoted to enable six-bell ringers to extend their knowledge of eight-bell methods. Service was conducted by tho Rector (Rev. E. de B. Thurston), who gave a lomely and thoughtful address. He welcomen the mombers in the oame of the church and parish, and concluded by giving a bistory of the bells.

Tea was partaken of in the Memorial Hall and was followod by a short business meeting. In the absence of the chairman (Mr. R. N. Dawes), the Rector was voted to the clain. Apologies for norattendance were received from the chairman, the Master of the Guild (Rev. R. H. Gundry), the general secretaty (Rev. F. LJ. Edwards), hon. seeretary, Wimborve Branch (Rev. C. A. Phillips), Yen. Archdeacon W. S. Motule, Messrs. W. J. Simons (Dorchester), E: Futchings (A bbotsbury), A. Gray (Tramption), W. Hewlett (Puddetown), and R. Bowditeli (Sydling).

Messers. F. White (Granbrook, Kent) and H. T. Chandler (Lyonshall, Fereforl) were elected life members.
t was decided to accept with thanks the kind invitation of the Vicar of Frampton, near Dorehester (Rev. G. Wynn), to hold the next meeting at his parish.

Votes of thanks to the Rector, to the ladies far their services, the organist and blower, and the local bond, were carried with acelamation, and replied to by the Rector.
The tower was then again visited. Most of the members ascended to the top to see the fore view, including the beautifal panorame of Weymouth Bay, and the American fleet in Portland Harbour. Practice was continued undil 8.45 p.m.

Wyke Regis Church is a fine gtructure, exceedingly wall placed, and its tower is a prominent oibject for some distanos, especially seawards. It is Perpendicular in style, and was consectated in 1455. The tower contained four old bells. These were recast by Taylor and augmented into a fine peal of cight, with a tenor of 17 cwt , in 1891.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (Rev. E. S. Saleby) has had an uyfortunnte experience in his first year of office, for the bells of his incumbency, Leonard Stanles, Stonehouse, Gloucestershire (six bells, tenor 14 cwt.), were taken down last week owing to serious decay of the tower. Various attempls have been made to strengthen the tower without success; the foundations have even moved from new supports.

A peal rung at Trowbidge lask week mariks another step in the history of the Salishury Diocesan Guild. It was the fisf peal of Cambredge Surprise Royal in Wiltshire, and the first by the Guild. It also coinciced with the passing of tho famous 'four sevens,' Mr. J. 2'. Dyke having parted with the 'Chileompton bus.' He has Laken on another velicle, but it is doubtful if it can prove a beffer servant than the famous Austin, which hiss covered so many thousankls of miles-many of them for tinging.

The tower at Debenham, Suffolk, where many jears ago an Oxford Troble Bob Major record was set up, tas recently developed some rather serious cracks, in consoquence of which the authorities consider it would he wise if sa peals were rung until the trouble has been remodied. The bells, however, will still be available for service ringing aud short touches.
Last Monday's great performance at Ashton-under-Lyne recalls the fact the frat peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung rit Ipswieh on August 15th, 1908, so that the 'coming of ago of this method in the realms of practical peal ringing has been roarked in a significant mammer.
One hundred and eighty years aga next Monday, John Holt called a peal of Bob Tripies at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields for the Society of Union Scholars. Holt was also the composer, and the figures are sitl preserved in Snowdon's 'Ropesight.'
The first peal of Double Norwich Majar in North Wales was rung at Rhyl on August 13th, 1908.

It would be nice if the past O.C.s of Red and Blue Forces ceuld settle this point, as the present N.C.U., O.C.D., 'Reils,' has only an ouiside knowledge of the discomfiture in the branch prior to his arrival. There would then be nothing left to Bray ubout (see peal columns).

THE SUFFOLK GU1LD AND THE CENTAAL COUNCIL.

To the Editor.

Denr Sir, There has heen much writtens as to whether members of the Central Council are 'Representatives' or 'Delegates." That does not really seem to be tha question at issue. It is true, the matter was brought to a licad by a remark from the chair on this point. But, after all, what we are to call them is a question of nomenclature. So long as the persons in question are clearly identified, Mr. Davies is quite right in saying it does not really matter which term is used.
What we do want is some way by which the Central Council ant the associations can co-operate in the work each lias to do. A suggestion was made thaf diplamas should be issued. The question was referred to the associations. Bat there is no machinery by which this can he done. Each of us inad a different idea of what was weant. The result was that the Gloucester and Bristol Association rosenter the way in which their proposals were treated, so much so that by a majority at a meeting they have withdrawn from the Central Council.
The Suffolk Guild were, however, treated much worbe than the Glousester and Bristol Association, as your report of our last anunal meeting on Easter Monday showed. Yet we have not withdrawn. The matter was discussed, but it was agreed that we conld do no yood hy withirawing. The result las shown that we were right. Fad both sacielies been represented, we could have joined forees at Chelmsford, and put, the matter in train to be remedied. But the G. and B. people were out of it, and could neither help us nor themselves.

I an quite-certain that no one wanted to treat us or the other ussociation badly, and that a well fhought-out scheme has only to be put before the Contral Council to bo adopted. Bul as long as they are content to dispute abotut empty words, when what we and they really want is to get something done, they are simply standing in their awn liglt.
Fas no one any practical suggestious? At Ipswich we put forward the idea of Standing Orders. Let us get on with it.

NEW TWELVE-BELL RECORD.

${ }^{15} 33^{12}$ CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAXIMUS RUNG AT ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.
Success attended the band which at Ashton-under-Lyne on Monday attempted a new twelve-bell record. Under the auspices of the Lancashire Association and the ishi-ton-under-Lyne Society a mixed company started for 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and this was brought to a triumphant conclusion after eleven and a half hours' ringing, characterised throughout by good

The Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Ashton-under-Lyne, where the new record was made.

At 7.46 the welcome 'Ilhat's nill' was heurd, and a mighty cheer went up from the immense crowd gathered in the vicinity of the chureth.
The honours of the peal were will the conductor, william Pye, who knew his job all though. He was aibly helped by the other hackenders, and the midde meu stood firn. Docs the 5th man know how to make a mistake? the trehle man is well known in the North. Ho is now well known to some ringers from tbe Soutl. He was alyrys where he should be. The 'unknown quantity' on the second showed thit his previous experience of long lengths enabled himt to finisit as frest gs when he started. A very useful man to have in a band! But somelhing nice could be said about all the hand.
The striking throughout was good, and very few trips occurred. Mi. Hen thathe was iu the belfry before shand was called, and was the first to congratulate the conductor on his fine performance.
On arriving in the porel, the Fingers found the Rector awaiting thenn. Canon Thompson, after congratulating each ringer individually, spoke of the great honour they had done to Ashton by ringing such a time poal on the bells. The ringing history of the lower had been gloriously added to.
It fell to the writer to thank Camon Thompson for bis very gemernus words, and for his great kindness in giving his permission for the peal to be rung. The Rector also saw to it that the wherewithel was provided to obtain very necessary refreshment, for which lie was cordinlly thruked.

ASITTON RINGERS' SPORTING SIPIRIT

On openitrg the church door, the storm hurst. William Pye was in great demund, and hands were narly shaken off. It seomed as if half the poraliation of Ashton were present. All ablempt to get a photo taken for the press whs ouly partially successful, as two of made, and Williarn was followed to the hotel by ant admiring crowd
Later in the evening a gatiering of ringers took place, and cangratulations came afrosh. The veteran San Wood, Ben Thorpe and others who were in the Treble Twelve record were sincerest in their praises, and one member of the southern contingent took oecasion ion voice the deep appreciation of the band for all that had been done. A more 'sporty' spivit could nol be found anywhere, than to invite somehody to come along, tum beat your own xecord, and make it casy for them to do it! Mention was also mank of the whole-hearted welcome of the hundreds of people who gathered to hear the peal linished. At some places it is more likely that it would have been a welcome with brickbats.
All good things come to an ent, and the evening passed much too quitkly. Half the band made their way home, and half stayed at Ashton to go wn to Liverpool the next day for an ordinary length peal at St. Nielolas Church. This was in response to at invitation given by Mr. $\mathbf{G}$. R. Newton and the Liverpool ringers to "bring as many as you like and ring jotst what you like.' And what could be more welcome?
It would be out of place to finisly this shart aceount of the ringinf of this peal without once agnin thanking all those who couIrihuted to the suceess, motably those great men at Aslaton-underLuyne, Messrs. Sam Wood, Hen Thorpe, S. Thompson and company. A werd for the bells. They are a delight to listen to, and a treat lo, ring. There were no complaints anywhere, not even at the end. They werc completely restorel and rohung two years ago by Measss. Meairs num Staiubank. The holls were rentoverl to the Whitechapel Foundry, where they were sand-blasted and retuned, and then re1.urned to the lower to be rehung on ball benvings in an entirely new frame and hittings, and with iron headstocks. In addition, $a$ llat trelle whe ulded to make a liglut peal of eight. Both in toue llat treble wats added to make a litht peal of eigh and "go" the bolls are a real credit to the lirm.

PORTUGAL'S HISTORIC CARILLONS.

EXTRAVAGANT MONARGH'S DOUBLE SET OF BELLS.

A famous Portuguese carillon has been placed in order, and has now been henrd again after a silence of more than forty years. This be the most gigantic building in Porlugal, and one of itie ten biggest in Errope. It whs built in the eighteenth centary by Eing John V. of Portugal, bul has not been imhabited for over a cear tury. The edifice iteelf covers an area of 40,000 square matres, con tains 880 enormous rooms, and has 4,500 doors and windows. It belfries are 68 metres high, and are supplied with 114 bells of various sizes. The library is one of the attractions there, and is known to all bibliophiles. It contains 30,000 volumes.
At one time the double carillons of Mafin were said to be the finest in the world, each set possessing 47 bells, varying in weight from 30, to 10,000 kilograms. According to the 'Cliristian Sciente Monitor,' the existence of duplicate sets is due to the vanity of King John, whose greatest ambition was to vie in acts of extravaguit splendour with his cousin Louis XV. of France. Having made up his mind to have the best obtainable chimes to adorn his monstrous fantasy, when their great cost was hesitatingly revealed to him, the sovereign answered wilh ostentatious carelessness, 'So cheap!
will have two selis made.
The carillons were inaugurated in 1730, thase of tho northern tower being constructed hy Nicolas Levache, and the southern by Guillaume Willolock. They became one of the alitractions of Portis gal for trnvellers, and for nearly a century and a half were one o the favourite pastimes of kings. The people of the neighbouring countryside also rejoiced in the merry or plaintive strains that conld be heard tent miles off. About 40 years ago something went wrong with the intricate centuries-old machinery and clocks. No one couju be found in the country who knew how to mend the ancient chimes and so the rust-covered bells kept silence until their oxistence was almosh forgotien. Great political changes absorbed general attentian, and music was a negligible guantity.
Now, however, that a certain stability has been restored and time is found for the great work of restoration, it was resolved that the marvellous carillons of Mafra could not be left in permanent neglect.
Two fanous experts, Jef Denyn and Desire Somers, were called Ythe Portuguese Government from Belgium, and these ment have for the last year worked in the Mafra belfifies among the rusty clacks and mighty wireworks. In their opinion these chimes are uuique in valuc and workmanship; but they considered the duplicasary for the two sets a useless expenditure, so that only the southero tower was restored.
The imauguration concerl was attended by the President of the Republic, members of the Government, and diplomatic corps, ancl a concourse of thousauds of people of all elasses, whe, it is said, wers thrilled ou hearing the first sonorous vibrations trembling through the air, and sent up a mighty shout after the Portuguese National Anthem had been played.

The meeting itselî was held at 4.45 p.m. in the Ormerod Memorial Hall. The business dealt with was of the kind generally found on the ugenda of most anmual meetings.
The Master (Rev. C. A. Clements) was in the clair. A good deal of discussion was raised by the annual report, and a certain amount of energetic oppositioa to its publication in its present form was offred. Eventually, howover, its aloption was moved, and the mation was carried with one dissentient.
The election of officers passet off without incident. The Rev. G. A. Clements was re-electer to the office of Master amidst acolamation, and the Fier. A. T. Becston to the office of hon. treasurer. The only chance was the resignation of the tron. secretary, Mr. E. W. Elwell, owing to his manf other business engagements.
Mr. WT. W. Wolstencroft said that he was sure that all the members would he sorry ta lose such a valuable and genial seeretary as Mr. Elwell had shown himself to be during the last seven years, and that he personally found it a pleasure to attend any meeting ai which Mr. Efwell was present.
Mir. J. C. E. Simpon (St. Mary's Vicarage, Manor Road, Wallasey) was elected as the new hon secretary, and Mr. Elwell was elected as the ringing mearber representative Jrom the Wirral Branch on the commitec in place of Mr. Simpson.
Tt was decider that in future each branch should adwertise its meetings in 'The Ringing World,' such advertisements to be paid for loy the Guild. Phe furchase hy the Givid of copies of the Latichfor by the Guild. The Jurchase hy the Guild of copies of the Laticashite Association Instruetion Book for distribution to members was approved.
An application for a grant from the Guild fancls towards rebanging Dadleston hells whs conlirmed.
It wrs decirled ta hold the nexi anmul macting at Northwich on Easter Momday. 1930 . Votes of thanks were passed to the Hon. auditors, Messi玉. H. and W. Jackson.
At the conchrsion of the neeting. tlof inembers partook of tea in the Lady Lorer Art Gallery, Port Sinlight, during which a vote of thantes was passed to the peal recarder, Mr. J. Cooke, for his valued work which he had put in during the past year.
Tea being flaished, at peneral move was made to the towers, those upen for ringing being Rock Forry (six hells), and Bebington and Port Sunlight (eight hells). Ringing was carvied on till about 8.30, anal some was also doue in the afternoon before service. The ringing was of a varied plaracter, but a good variety of methods wns rung, ineluding Grandsire and Stednan Triples, and Plain Bob, Kent and OxFord, and Cambridye, Superlative and Bristol Surprise Majar.

A FIVE COUNTIES EXPEDITION.

The annual outing of the Bolsover ringels took place on July 20th, fund an ambitious tour extenden to 188 miles, in five counties, ineluching ringing for an hour at eacis of five churches. It semmed rather a tall order iut the raidst of a heat wave. Irthlinghorough was the farthest point, and the whole of the day was plammed to a schedule. Leaving Bolsnver al $7 \mathrm{~m} m$., the barly travelled via Mansiokd to nick up su old and faithful friond, and reached Oakliam at 9.15 . The fiftymiles journer had been deliolatful. They were welcomed by Mr. Higes, and sonu had the hells going to various Major methods. Ringing on this grand peal was greatly enjoyed. Aftor a look round this historic town, and lameh at the Grown Hotel, they wh off to Ticlimarsh, 35 miles away. There they were welcomed by 'he local commany and Mr. W. Perkins, who took them in hand for he riay. Tichmarsh bells are a niee peal by Gillett and Johaston. full force in welcome the party, and MM. F. Wilford was also there. Thrapsion hells are a very nice ring by taylor and Co., and, incincnlaliv. the hack six were onst at the same time as Bolsover back in 1898. After touches in the usual methods. the party weat on o Irthlingborough, and were met by Mr. A. Y. Tyler and others, Whn gave them a real welcome and joined in tapping off touches in few Surprise methods. Tea was provided at the Bull Hotel, and afterwards Mr. $\mathbf{F}$. Wilford welcomed the party into the district. Wr. Wilfort having been thanked, the party set out for Burton T,atimer, where there is a nice light peal by Taylor and Co. Here ggain the locel men met them wilh P.C. Robinson, late of Bolsover", nar My. F. Tite. Some of the party, feeling tired, preferved to lisken while the enthusiasts did some real good striking. The methods rung duriug the rlay included Boh Major, Little Boh, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, London atid Bristol Surfrise, and the company desire to thank the incumbents nt eacla owner, and the local men, especially Messrs. Higgs, Perkins, Tyler and Wifford, who spared nothing to make the outing the surcess it sha. Home was reached at 11 p.m.; after If hours of enjoyment.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.  PRESTON BRANCH DOINGS.

The annual branch mesting of the Preston Branch was held ato Chorley on Saturday. The attendance was rather smaller tilian usual. The bells at both the Parish Chapleh and St. Mary's R.C. wero ntilisea during the day, ringing commencing about 3.30 , ami continuing until nearly nibe oclack, with a break for tea and the busimess meeting, methods from Dotible Court, to Cambrirge Surpriso being rung.
The Ringing Master (Mr. Wru. Slatiples) presided at the business meeting. The Secretary gave the following report of the foings of the branch: During the year meetings have been held at Peawortham, Eccleston, Whittle-le-Woods, Preston St. Mark's, Croston, Brindle and Tarleton, as well as the ammal social at Eigher Walton. The meetings bave been attended up to the averuge for the last few years, but the members attonding ave mostly the same, and I wand like to appeal to the chief vingers of the different towers to try to get those members who are not as Keen as they might be to try and attend the mectings. The meotitg at Eccleston was rather out of the ordinary, coming as it did on the eve of the diamond wedding of the oldest active member, Mr. R. Rigbye, to whom the branch took the opportunity to make a presentation in nommemoration of the rare eveat. Tilie attendance at the annual social was slighaly uncer the average, hut as usual all present had an enjoyable time. With regard to ringing in the bramelh, $I$ cannof sey there las been much advancement generally, although ono is pleased ta note that a new and enthusiastio hand has been got togetier at Tarlaton, where the efforts of the Rector, and the Croston ringers sem to be bearing fruit. Our peal list is rather smaller than usual, but some of the peals aro perhaps more meritorious, notably the peal of Cambridge Surprise at Hoghton, which was the first of Major in the method lyy the branch, also the geal of Kent 'rehle Bob Royal at Blackburn Cathedral, which was alse the forst by tho branch, and lung at the first attempt. The conductor was the only ringer in the peal who had rung a peal of Royal in the method before $t$ would like at this point to thank the Blackburn Branch for their kindness in arranging, and allowing us to make the atiempt, which proved sis successful. The full izi of the perts rung is as follows: One Hoglton, one Granasire Triples at Whithe-le-Woarls, the first in the methors on the bells, the peal at Whittle being a local peal lanfmuffled in honour of the fallen memhers from that tower ; two peals of Duable Norwich, one at Brownedge, the first peal ons the newlyangmented peal, and one at Preston Parigh Clutch, rung in honotis of the wedting of Mr. Alex Martin, ane of the local ringers; onte af Kent Treble Bob Royal at Blackhurn, one one of Kent Treble Bob bells at Higher Walton has been cerried out since the last annual meeting, this heing another welcome addition to the eight-bell towers. Subscriptions have come in faitly well, and we have made ar reelected 18 new members during the year, so that ane list will he as lavge ar larger than it has been pleviously.
The secrefary and Ringing Master were hath re-eleoted, as alsn were the branch committer men. The hest thanks of the bramoh were given to hoth officers for their services during the year, to which the secretary and Master suitably replied. suggesting a joint meeting between the two hernches. This was agree to, the mattor boing left to the secretaries to arrange.

GUILDFORD DTOCESAN GUILD

FARNFAM DISTRICT MEETING

A most successfu] meeting of the Farmham District was held at Aldershot on Saturday, Tuly 27th. This meeting had ben origimally arranged for Farmbornugh, hut nwing ta sickness in the prish it was transfericd to Aldershot, and 38 members and friends were nresemt from Aldershot, Ash, Bagshot, Blackwater, Faralam. Hawley, weale and Woking. Ringing commenced at three aclock, and later the Guild service was conducted bw the Rove A Dudey An excellent tea was provided in the Parish Hall by Miss A. Fishor and other ladv ringers.
At the business meeting the Rar. A. J. Dudley, who was electer a ringing member of the Guild, took the chair, fnd ane hon. member (Mrs. Walker, wife of Admiral T. P. Walker, the Guild's estement treasurer), and one compounding member (Mfr. J. Spartow. hon. sceretary of the Rowal Cumberland Youths), were also elected

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, hom. general secretary of the Guild, qavo an inferestine recount of the procendings of the Central Gouncil, and was hoartily thamked.

A message of condolence was sent to Mr. B. H. Clark, lato hon. semetary of the district, who is in hospinal as the result of injuries received in a motor aceident.
Votes of thantrs were accorded to the Wicat for the use of the bells, the Rev: A. F. Dudley for conducting the service and prosithing at the meeting, to the ladies for meparing ten, and to the oreanist and blower. Touches were afterwards rumg on hambells, and the tower bells were kept going in various methods until nine o'clock, one touch being runte in which six ladies took part.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

It wais thought that a large number would be attracted to the dolightful town of Darlington for the Durlam and Newcastle Assaciation's summer meting on Saturday week, and the officials were rather disappointed when only 15 sat down to the excellent tea at Hunter's Cafe. Those present included the president (Mr. E. E. Ferry) and the Rov. A. S. Thompson, Vicar of St. John's. St. Cuthbert's belis were kept going during the afternoon, and St. John's and Holy Trinity after tea, with a final tally at St. Cuthbert's from 8 to 9 . A very pleasant time was spent, all agreeing that the meeting had been well worth while. Six yew members of St. Peter's, Jartow, wero elected.

A FIVE BELL TRIP

On Salurdny, July 27h, live menibers of the Loughborough Parish Chuteh Sociely visited the Saxon Churcli of Willoughby-on-the-Wolds. By kind permission of Mr. I. G. Baldock, churchwarden, the Vicar being away, the bells, a light peal of five, were raised and set going to 120 's of Bob Douhles and Grandsire Doubles. It was soon found thiat thoy sadly needed the bellhanger. The bells were lowered in peal, and ifter beat it visit was paid to Walton, by kind permission of the Rev. B. M. Bitd, where a guarter-peal was tapped off in finc style, consisting of four 120 's of Bob Doubles and six of Grandsire, the ringers being: J. Onslow 1, C. Bollard 2, C. Allsop (conductor) 3, T. Saddingion 4, J. Towell 5 .

YORKSHIRE FRIENDS, HOSPITALITY AND DALES.

The ringers of the Parish Church of St. Mary, Penwortham, Lancashire, paid a visit to old and new friends iu Yorkshire for their annual cxcursion. The occasion was not merely a day's outing for ringing, lut a commenaration of a somewhat unique event, for it was oul June 8th, 1912, that the bi-centenary of the bells was celehrabed, tud, since then, an encleavomi has been made to hold an out-invibation had heen recelved from the band at St. Michael's, Headingley, Leeds-onec described to the writer by Mr. Arthur Craven as hite Liliversicy ho make Howangley the venue, and, once transalacrity. So, at nige ocelock ou u line summer morning, the party; which ineluded Mr. B. A. Knights, of Preston Parish Chuvech, nnd also five ladies who had eyes on the shops at Leeds, and a giorious disconcorn for the tenth commandment, set; out along the beautiful valley of Lhe Riblle. P'ast Whallcy Abbey, one of Lancashive's historical gems, wid whalleg Church, where time did not permit a sigo to try slap to try he now ring of eight, the journey proceeded by way of Pendle Forest, the lome of the Eancastire Witches, to the main Pentins Range, a yerion of vast expanses and wild moors. Soon, however, these moors were crossed, and the party passed along wooded rombs, town to the sheltering warnith of Keighley. Here they were met by Mr. R. W. Jemison, who lect the way into tle holfry, and soon the hells-a parlicularly fine ring of eight-were set going. Touehes of Bob Major, Grandive Triples and Kent Trehle Bob were sucensfully rung, and an adjourument was made to the King's Amus Hatel for dimner. Hiving satisfiei the iuner man, ille parly set out once again, this time down ilhe lovely valley of the Aire, ihrougl, Bingley and Shipley, where again goon rings of eight had to to passed by, to Calverley, where the local rumers were aftor a touch of Rob Major, ambition persuaded a joint band to try a touch of Superlative Surprise; it was, however, not surecessfut].
The journey on to Treadinglay was quite a short ove, and soon the party remehed its destination, where many old frients were met. After 'callin' for a little while, the bells were raised, and over an hour's ringing iudulged in, Boh Major, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples ant Superlative Surprise all being rung. The two bands had arranged for a joint ter, and this took place at a neighbouring cafe, a yery happy gathering. After tea, Mr. P. J. Johnson, addressing a few words nf welcome to the wisitors, referred to the pleasure of meeting old frimuls and making the autuaintance of new ones. He spoke, too, of the iraditions of Hearingley, and the time when so many as five Suprise methods were rung for Sumday services; also of the ncenssity for Lraining recruits and setting a high standard hofore them.- MI. J. IT. Thylor, responding, said he knew that once Headingley had been decided upon as the venne of the trip, everything would be done hy the hosts to make the day a menorable thing would be done hy ilie hosts to make the day a menorable one. He extended is cordial invitation to the Headingley band ta ond Hisit Jenwortham. Handhells were then chtained, and a touch and it course of Bob Major successfully rung before the tower was itgain visited. Tlue ringing heing conded, and the ladies having fount tio male portion of thic party, farewells were said and the journey home commenced along the lovely vale of the wharfe. Yorkshire frionds, Yorksliire hospitality and Yorkshire dales!-could anyone desire more for their day's outing? Such was the good fortune of the Ponworthum band, and they wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Vicars of Koighley, Calverley and Headingley for the use of the hells, sud their friends the vingers at those places for menting them and doing everything possible to make the day one of menting hathert mumories.

A DAY IN WARWICKSHIRE.

For the amual ouling of the band at St. Peter's, Dunstable, Beds, ou Thursday, July 25th, a visit to Warwickshire had been planned, and involved a motor trip of 120 miles, with plenty of ringing thrown in. Fourteen ringers, with the Rev. S. Dye (curate), set off in ligh spirits fol their day's adveuture att $7.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Southam, 50 miles distant, was the first tower. At 9.45 the party were welcomed by a local tinger, with the invitation to riug as long as they liked. The Church of St. James is a fine old building, with a very handy ring of eight, Iung from the ground floor. 336 Stedman, 168 Grandsire Cambridge, and a touch of Double Norwich were well vung, and after a hasty look round the willage the jotrrey was continued to Jillington. On arrival, the party were welcomed by members of the local band, and the bells, a lovely little ring of eight (tenor 9 cwt.) were pulled up. An excelieut touch of 433 Stedman Triples was rung, followed by a touch of Boh Major and a course of Superlative. Mr. F. W. Perrins unexpectedly joined the party at this tower, aud, beedless to say, his help and guidnnce for the rest of the day gave the greatest pleasure to all. Tracks were made for Leamingtou Spa, where dinter was amaiting the party, who afterwards enjoyed a stroll in the lovely Jepson Gnvdens. Ringing took place later nt the Parish Church, where there is a ring of eight (tenor 12 cwt . 3 qr.), with a long drnught, which, with springy ropes, vather bolfored the hand for a start. However, sone good ringing was done, includiag five courses of Litile Bob. Touches of Stedman and Grandsire, and a course of Cambridge Surprise Major followed, and the hells ruag down. The journey was then continued to Warwick, where tea was followe by the 'tit-bit, of the day, namely, ringing at St. Mary's. The party were joincd here by Miss D. E. Lewis, hon. secretary of the Warwickshire Guild, and Mr. A. H. Beamish, of Chilvers Coton, and one or two ather visitors, whose names are unknown to the writer. The parly were met at St. Mary's by Mr. T. Male, who conducled them to the tower. St. Mary's, as is well known, hat a fin ring of ten (tenor 25 cwt.) and, consiclering that the majosity of the visitors hatl had little 10 -bell experience, some very good riuging wns done. Rounds, so that exorytody could lase done. Rounds, so that everybodly could have a puill, was followed by 413 Stedman Gaters, bciut the first touch of Caters by several of the hand 384 Cambridge Major, 168 Granisire, rad a touch of Little Bob Royal, the Royal being rung as though the band had been ringing liogal all their lives. Tlae ten hells were then lowered in peal, which concluded the ringing for the day. A social half-hour, aud the long journey home was then beguu yin Banbury and Buckingham. Banbury was the first stop, and it is a good thing no more stops like it were possible. Banbury Cross had, of course, to be inspected, and the oakes, among other things, had to be tester, so that it was long after dark before all the erring members got aboard and the last 40 miles of the journey begun, some reaching their hames on the 25th, others on thie 26th. However, one of the most eajoyable days hai heen spent, and the band, through "The Ringing World," wish to thank all who helped to make it so successfil, the Warwickshire friends for meeting them, especinlly Miss Lewis, the Warwichshire Guita secretary, whose help in prowiding information as to towers was much appreciated.

SHELLEY RINGERS' EXCURSION.

The ringers of Slhelley Church, accompanied by the Vicar (Rev. Walkden), the sexton and other interested friends, making a total number of fifteen, erjoyed a motor trip on Saturday, Jine 22nd. Travelling by way of Brighouse, over Keighley Moors, the happy party nrived at their rendezous, Skipton, about 3 p.m. Th: ringers wisited the fina Parish Clurch, to enjoy the sweets of change and music an onc of Taylor's latest peals. The rest of the party toured this fine old market town, with history marked on its streets aud luyildings. At 4.15, a reunion took place for a short four to the castle, etc, and afterwards the company sat down to a repast al Whitaker's Cafe, High Street. The Vicar proposed that a telegram be sent to Dr. Horne, of Oid Hall, Shelley, Lhanking him as the donar of the trip, also that a vote of thanks be given to C. D. Potter, secretary of the Bafnsley Associntion, who was the medium of commntication in the first phace between the worthy doctor num the ringers.-This was carried with geclanation. Further yinging and sight-seeing foilowed. At 7.39 the return journey commencet At Bradford a short halt took place to refuel, and home who reached at 10.45 , all feeling thankful for the pleasures of glorions weather and sights that please.

THE REORGANISATION IN NORFOLK

The Norfolk Guild for the Diocese of Norwich-which was a cumbersone and almost unnecessary duplication of title-has ratified the proposal to revert to its original name and henceforth is to be known, as of old, as the Norwich Diocesan Association. By the older members especially this alteration will doubtless be received with pleasure, for, while the question has often been asked, 'What's in a name?' there is a flavour about old titles which many people are loath to lose, and changes sometimes have a tendency to break tradition. The reasons for the departure from the original title of the Norwich Diocesan Association need not be entered into here, but since the division of the diocese which eventually led to the setting up of the Suffolk Guild as a separate entity, the Norwich Association has more than once altered its name. In reverting to the name given to it at its birth, more than fifty years ago, the association will bind itself with new links to a past recod as brilliant as that possessed by any territorial ringing organisation, a record from which its newer names must to some extent have divorced it in the minds of many ringers.

Like some other associations whose areas are largely rural in character, the Norfolk Guild has been finding it difficult to maintain the active interest of its members, and now, in addition to changing its name, it is reorganising its administration. At the meeting last week a scheme for three districts, each with more or less autonomous powers, was submitted, but has been referred back for a further division of the central area into two districts, making four in all. Hitherto the diocese, as at present formed, has been split up into eleven districts, some of them with very few towers, and a mere handful of members. Obviously such small numbers could not be expected to make a great success, for they are handicapped both financially and in the bells available for meetings. Improved organisation, therefore, pointed the way to larger amalgamations, and with fewer districts it is hoped that more energy will be shown. In days gone by, of course, areas had to be mapped on the basis of railway communication, for it was on this means of conveyance, and this alone, that the majority of ringers had to rely. The network of motor omnibus routes which has spread with such rapidity over the country in the last few years has altered alt this, and actually the railway to-day has often to take a secondary place when studying the convenience of members. The old lines of division in the Norwich Diocese may have been more or less compelled by the sparse railway facilities, but roar iransit has put an entirely different complexion on the (Continued on page 514.)

subject. In these days the stecessful district must be large enough to offer ample choice of towers for meetings and to be self-supporting financially; and must be small enough to put the members within reasonable taucis of all, or, at any rate, the large majority, of the towers. The Norwich Association is endeavouring to solve the problem, and it is to be hoped that its efforts will result in securing for the officials of the association a greater measure of active support in the work which they are doing than has sometimes been apparent among the mass of the members in the past.

PEELERS ENTERTAIN PEALERS.

RINGERS IN TRE HANDS OF THE POLIOE
On Saturday lasi over 80 ringers, their wives and friends from many parts of Lancashire met on the Athletic Ground of the Bolton Borough Police, at the invitation of that body, who had kindly placed it at their disposal. A bowling match between the police and the ringers opened the events, and although the police won, it was only after some very keenly contested games. Then, as in preFious years, the interest began. Old scores were wiped off, or new challeuges contested between rival towers. A policeman has a son a vilger, a ringer also has a son a policeman, and the latter pair's matich was tho 'tit-bit." Ladies also tried their skill with the 'woods.'
Hot and cold refreshments were provided, and a few of the women folk attended to these wants. When all were tired of the greensward, a 'ree and easy' entertainment was provided in the pavilion. Here Miss Annie Potter and Mr. Rohert Marsden provided vocal solos, and P.C. Hayhurst the mirth.
Those who lad seen too many summers for dancing enjoyed themselves in quift corners eitzer with a game of whist or a game of dominoes.
Mr. Enuest Cutsforth moved a vole of thanks to the police for again inviting them there that afternoon, He said he feit he was voicing the opinion of all, when le said they bad begun to look to this as an anmual affair, and be hoped it would be carried on for many more years. Mr. John Poticr, in seconding, anid he hoped that next lime the police would play howls left banded. T'ben the ringers might have a chance to win.
In reply, P.C. Hayhurst said the ringerg were very welcome visitors. It was pery nice to see old faces again, and if the ringers loaked forward to this event, so did the police, because they were sure of gelting a good entertainment, apart from the sports side, and hoped that some time during the winter they would come again. He said he also wished to congratulate them on having such an energetic organising secretary in Sergi. Crook. The Police Athletic Club know the walue of his services in that line, and as a liead in the sports section.

The president of tio Lancashire Association (Rev. Ganon Elsea) looked it during the proceedings, but regretted he could not stay, ns he had many pressing engagements.

Commulty singing, dancing, gramophone recorde and touches on the haadballs brought to a close, all ton sonn, another happy and enjoyable day between the pealers and peelers.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

品EAK DISTRICT.
A pleasant, but not too well attendel, meating of the Peak District was held at Eyam on Saturday lasi. Probably, the largelyattended oponing of the bells at the nearby village of Tideswell on Bank Holiday, and the ever-popular Bakewell aliow in progress an Safurday, had much to do with a small attendance. However, the fitteen or so ringers who were present from Bakewells Castleton, Dore, Duffield, Eyam, Hope and Tideswell were rewarded with in very pleasant afternoon in this beautiful and historic village, somi: eajoyable, if somewbat jazz-like, ringing on the light ring of six, in which learners had every chance, and a substantial toa provided by the kindness of the Rev. W. P. Wright.

At a short business meeting following tea, it was decided to holil the next meating on Septomber 14th at Tideswell, where a warm welcome and much hospitality are promised, and where it is hoper thero will be a large gathering.
The usual votes of thanks to the local church authorities, and particularly to tho Rev. W. P. Wright for his kindness and hospitality, were cordially endorsect.

PROGRESS AT BISHOP'S STORTFORD

Since the bells of St. Michaed's Church, Bishop's Stortford, wert: retuned and rehung, and the company re-formed in July, 1928, a most successiul and progressive year has passed. The bells heve been rung for morning and evening service on each of the 52 Sundays, and the performances include seven quarter-peals of Grandaire Triples, one quarter-pea! of Stedman Triples rung by the local band. and one quarter-peal of Cambridge Surprise Majar, in which the company was helped by visitors from neighbouring towers. Twn learners have rung their first quarter-peals. A very enjoyable outing was held on Whit Monday, when the company visited Ely, calling at Royston and Godmanchester for ringing on the outward journey, and at Sawston and Yekleton on the homeward jowrney. Al the annual meeting the following afficerg were appointed to serve during the coming year: Mr. F. Bird, Master; Mr. H. White, secretary; Mr. W. Wilkinson, treasurer; and Mr. W. T. Prior to gerve with the officers. The balance sheet for the yenr was presented and adopted. This showed a balance in hand of 9695.40 . Fhree learners, all ladies, were accepted as members, viz., Miss Wacey, Miss Rickwood, and Miss Torn.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Not content with a fifteen thousand of Cambridge Maximus on Bank Foliday, five of tho long peal band took pari in a peal of Stedman Cincues at Liverpool the following day, and une, by way of a change, went on a ringing tour for the rest of the week. Ye gods!

A Leicester Vicar, so the 'Burton Daily Mail" anmonnces, Has advertised for voluntary ringers. This is how he worded the appeal: Qualifications necessary; Earnestness, enthusiasm and energy, Preference will be given to those who are prepared to take up ringing seriously, and to give the greater part of their (spare) time to a sturly which is more braing than billiards, more captirating than cricket, more fascinating than football, and more plensurabie than the pietures. Remumeration: More kicks than ha'pence. ${ }^{\text {? }}$

The secretary of the Salisbury Guild, in addition to clerioal and campanological activities, is a country correspondent for the Children's Country Holiday Fund. A group of little girls from North Loudon, recently spending a fortnight at Kington Magna under his care, were shown a photograph of the ringerg at St. Paul's Cathedral. One of the girls quickly pointed out Mr. Cockerill and exclaitaed, 'That looks like the King'!
A new peal of ten bells was opencd at York Minster on Augusi 19th, 1765. They were cast by Lester and Pack, of London, and the order that they should be as nearly as possible like Bow hells seams to have been faithfully carried out, for the tenor was just three pounds heavier than the tenor at the famous Cheapside church.
' On Saturday, August 22nd, 1752, was rung at St. Mielarel's Coslany (Norwich) a complete 5,040 of Mr . Holt's Tripples in 3 hours, without changes alike or a bell out of course. It being the first time ever performed by eight mea only, so intricate it was thought no man could ring a bell end call the Bobs. It has boen rang in London and Stonham Aspal with prompts, but was ra口g by these men wilhout a prompt.' Thus the 'Norwich Mcrcury' recorded the performance of Folt's Original whell it was called for the first time by a conductor ringing in the peal.
The report of a peal rung at St. Werburgh's, Blackwell, Derizyshire, has been sent without the date. We constanEly receive defective peal reports. May we once more ask correspondents, especially those who do not often send this kind of communication, carefully to cheek iheir report, before sending it, with any of the reports of peals, of which a number appear in every issue of The Ringing World.' They wnuld thus be sure of including all the essential defails, and it would frequently save delay and dismppantment.
A little chime of eight bells, with tenar $2 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt, was dedicated last week at South Valling, near Lewes, Sussex, as part of a scheme in connection with the commernoration of tho tercentenary of the clrurclı. The bells werc supplied by the Whitechapel Foundry
South Malling Church is notable for the fact that John Farvard (the founder of Farvard University in America) was married ihere on April 19th, 1636.
By a slip, the date of the first peal of Double Norwich in Wales was givell in our last issue as 1908. It was rung on August 13ilu, 1883.

ROBERT MOT'S BELLS.

To the Editor

Sirs-Before leaviag Loudon last Friday I had only time to glane al. my "Ringing World,' but I read with pleasure your 'leader about Mot's and Carter's five hells of Sedlescombe. An Elizabethan 'ring' of tive must be extremely rare-the more se if untouched by the restorer. [ know of only one-natouched or otherwise-pre Reformation ring, i.e, that at SE. Bartholomew's in the City of Londan, which is a ring of five bells.

With the ahave in mind, venture to send jou a plea from the Tyrolean Valley, which knows neither crrillons nor peals
In your reference to the proposed saving of the tive bells of Sedlescombe, we ne left wilh the impression that tho augmentation involves retuming, and that, as usual, litile regard will be paid to Robert Mot's own views as to how these bells should sound, and have so done since the great days of Elizabeth. If, indeed, as may be the case, they are to be 'Simpsonised,' then, even it they bossi more than the famoug 'five harmonic tones, they will sound neither as they dich to Mot's approving ear nor to those of the 'rude fore fathers of the homlet, whose ears, like our own, were less eritienl. These villagers certainly approved and cared for their bells, since they lave come down to us 350 years later, untouched and entire.

Blest be he who spares my tones,' Mot may have said, which motto I commend to our friends at Whitechapel, asking thea not to be rude to their famous forefather.

Twenty years since, these bells would have been recast without a murmur. Twenty years bence those concerned in saving then will be generally praisen, And twenty years again, and-well! per haps even tuning machines may shake in their shoes. - Yours faith fully,

Innshruck, fugust 5th, 1929.

LAPLEX'S LITWTLE RING.

Stending like a hatwark on a prominence some three miles north of Brewood, the ancient Norman tower of Lapley, Stafford, until recently contained four old bells which for nany years were unringable. Two of the bells were tardig cracked, as also was a very ofd Sanctus bell, which also hung in the tower.
'lhis 11 th century church. with barely twenty houses round it, has much to intorust. the visitor who cares to turn off the Old Wathing 3 menet and wander into this out-of-the-way place. The parish registers date back to 1538 , and are therefore as old as any. The foat is supposed to he the work of some Dutch sculptor, as an inscripbion carved on ore panel in plajn Roman characters is said by one learned linguist to mean "The Birth of Clirist" in modern Dutch. The bowl of the font is octagonal, and measures 36in. in diameter and 18 in . in height. The slaft and base are modem, and only the remains of the original. Seven of the panels are carved, and represent various episodes in our Lord's life, while the ejbhth panel is left plain. The date of the font is douhtful. One witer wonders if it dates back to the first half of the twelftlo century.
In the ainging room are some curiously-carved bosses on the walls which are said to be decidedly French in character.

Close to the church there stood at one time a priory, which in the time of Edwaud the Confessor was bestowed on the monks of the Abbey of St. Regimus, of Rheims. The church itself is satil to lave been founcled in the clevenih century by the Benedictine monks fronu this Ahbey.
But it is in the bells flat readers of The Ringing World will be mosi interested. Of the four old bells, the treble was badly cracked, and bore the date of 1655 , which shows it was put in the tower in Cronwell's time-not a time when onc would expect this sort of thing to take place. The second bell is dated 1565, and is therefore one of the oldest bells in the county. The thind bell is dated 1629 , snri bears the inscription, 'Santta Petre, ora. pro. nobis.' The fourth was dated 1817, and was badly damaged at the celebrations of the Dimmond Jubilee of Queen Victoria. As regards the Sanctus Bell, an exhaustive treatise on the bells of the county menkioas only two other ancient Sanctus bells, ane in Lichfield Cathedral and the other at SL. Mary's, Stafiord.
The preseni Vicar of Laplex, the Rev. O. St. J. Smith, apout two years ago set about the task of tying to have the bells restored, and issucd an appeal for funds for this purpose. The frst work to be unclertaken was the Sanctus bell, nud thanks are due to Messus. J. Taylor and Co, Longhborough, for saving this old bell from the melting pot, the result being that il new Sauctus bell has been provided, while the old one is hung in the chancel of the church as a relic of the past.
The fund for restoring the other bells gradually grew until at length the order was placed with the same firm to recast the treble and fourth and retune the second and thitcl, while an additional treble bell has been given in menory of the late Prebendary Talbot, who was at one time Vicar of Laploy. The whole rigg lias been hung in a stenl frame with all the latest fittings, qud provision has heen made in the frame for a sixth bell to he added when funds ate available. The tower has been strengthened by three tie rods, and is of sucli a size that it wouki hold athotrer 8 ou 10 bells.
The dedication of the bells took place on Tuesday evening, July 30th, by the Lord Bishop of Lichfield, hefore a crowded congregation, extra seats having to be placed in the chancel and aisle, while many people had to stand.
Ifter the service the ringers from Hrewood rang varions 120 's of Doubles on the bells under the conductorship of Mr. J. Perry, who has worked lard for the restoration. The work done reflects great eredit on the Loughbarough firm, the tone of the bells being greatly admired by all who heard them.
The task of providing the sistll bell, it is unclerstood, is to be undertaken hy the school children of the parisl), which includes the parish of Wheaton Aston, and is to be ealled 'The children's hell,' a very appropriate way of completing the number. If this article is read by anyone who has been councoted with the parish, or anyane else who feels that they would like to belp forward the work, Mr. J. Perry, Brewool, Stafford, wonk be pleased to receive any - donations, and would hand them over to the proper quarters.

As will be seen in the peal columns, a peal of Doubles has been rung on the bells, and it is intereating to note that the band consisted of the present and some of the past Ringing Masters of the Society for the Archadeaconry of Stafford, with the hoa. secretary added for safety, while the penl was rung slowly to give the parishioners the bencfit of hearing the full tones of the bells.

EDENBRIDGE RINGER'S DEATH

At Edenbridge, Keut, on August 1st, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 47 mins.: W. Leigh, sen., 1, E. Lejgh 2, E. Collison 3, R. Temmer 4, G. Malyan $5, J$. Hensman $6, J$. W. ## TWO ASSOCIATIONS MEET.

MIDDLESEX AND GUILDFORD RENGERS FRATERNTSE.

Sunbury on thr banks of the Thames, is a pleasant spot on a summer's day, and a joint meeting of the Sontl and West District of the Middlesex Association and the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. hela there on Saturday, attracted inn attendance of aver 50. Many visitars were present from distant places, incluing Messes, R. F. Elkington (Anstey, Leicesterahire), A Bailard (Stoney Shanton), D. D. Jentison (Keighley, Yorkshive), Ballard (Stoney Stantan), D. D. Jenvison (Keighley, Vorksire), O.
Sippetts (Criwley, Sussex), the veteran Mr. Joseph Waghorn, of East Ham, etc, while the two associations were represented by ringers from Hillingdon, Heston, Haling, Chelsea, Chiswick, Sunbury, Guildford, Godalming, Woking, Faslemere, Oatands, Ottershaw, Ringers were also present from Ctoydon, Beddington, St. Margaret's Westminster, and Bishopsgate. "Hucre was ringing throughoitt the ofternoon and evening suffeient to satisfy all tastes. It wias, as usual on such occasions, of mixen quality, lut Mr. F. W. Goodfeltows. the Ringing Master, was assiduous in his effortis to 'tit up' everyanc. A short, hright service was held, at which the chrate (Rev. W. H. Jones) officiated in the absence of the Rector, and the singinp was led by the organ, at which Mr. Poole presided.
Among those present at tea, in addition to those already mentioned, were Ma. C. S. Bird (vice-president), Mr. W. H. Holler (hon. sec.), and Mr. J. A. Trollope (hon. treasirer of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association), Major J. H. 13. Hesse (Masler, Admixal T. P. Walker (hon. treasurer), Mr. J. S. Geld smith (hon. Secrefary, Guildford Diocesan Guid), Mr. H. W. Chaley (Chertsey Disfriet Ringing Master), Mr. G. H. Kippen (hon. secer(Chertsey Disfrict Ringing Nas
tary, Surrey Association), etc.
There was no business to be transacted, but botin Mr. Bird and Mr. Trollope welcomed the Guildford Guild, and this was acknowledged by Major Hesse and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith. The latter also suggested that a letter of congratulation should be sent ta Mr. Willian Pye (who is Master of the Middlesex Association and the hand wher rag the record twolve-bell peal enslier in the weck.-This was al once agreed to.
Thanks wera accorded to the Rectot, the curate and the organist, and the district see. was aster to convey the condolences of the naeting to Mr. Tom Beadle, who in the past has doae so much for the Middlesex Association, mad who has had a long period of illoces. Mr. Feadle lad sent his greetings to the meeting.

THE NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.'
NORFOLK GUILD REVERTS TO OLD TIILE.
By the ratifieation of tho resolution passed on Easter Monday, the Norfulk Guild now reverts to its original title of the Norwich Dioecsarn Assaciation. Tho rabification took place at a meeting at North Elmpam an Bunk Holiday. Jiy the kind permission of the Rev. D. IL. 'fownstad, MI.A. (Vicar), the ring of eigltt bells of the Parish Churd was placisd at the disposal of tho members during the day. Jumehenn was served at the George and Dragon, the Rev. E. I. Thansend presiding, in the absence of the president. (the Archdeacon of Norwich). He was supported by Mr. Charles E. Borrett (viccopresident), Mr. A. L. Coleman (secretary), Messrs. W. L. Dufheld, W. C. Dufineld, W. 13. Duacan, members of the comanitee, and several representatives from Norfolk and Suffolk.
The Secretary moved the ratification of tho belfy election of Messrs. Williant C. Bumn and William Buekenham.

The sentelary brought before the meeting a motion passed at the br: sabstituted for the word 'mssociation' in the original title of the (inild. The motion was not supported by the meeting.
M1. W. C. Duffield then moved, nud Mr. B. Whiteside seconded, - That bly original motion, as puti at the annual general meeting hold at Norwtich on Easter Monday, April 1st, 1929, be ratified in necordunce with the ref erondum to lle members on changing the title to "The Norwich Diocosan Association of Ringers," " The motion, on heing pat, was carried by a substantial majolity.
"Hhe secretary presented the sub-committee's report on the grouping of the eleven existing districts into three branches of the assocuation, viz., 'The West Norfolk Branch, "The Mid-Norfolk Branch," and 'Tlibe Fast Norfolk Jrancis," and "that each brauch slanll be governed hy a committee consisting of a chairman, hon. secretary, and five memberg elected to form the committes, and ench branch shall be at liberty to manage jts own business and elect its officers and arrange gencral and periodic meetings for the practice of change ringing.'
A fiscussion followed on the areas of the branches. The 'Wast, nad 'Eas!. branches were favourably commented apon, the whole criticism heing ant the area of the Mid-Norfolk Branch, which was considered far too large an area to work satisfactorily. The view was exprossed that it should be divided into two branches, called 'The Nortin Nortolk' and 'The South Norfolk,' thus maiking four branches of the associntion instead of three as recommended in the sulh-cimmittea's report.
Mr. W. E. Duffield moved, and Mr. W. B. Dunean seeonded, - That the report he referred buck to the sub-committee for further considoration for the division of the Mid-Norfolk Branch into two mrurches, athe fine motiou, on being put to the meeting, was carried by a large majority.
Mr. A. L. Colenian (socretary) moved & vote of thanks to the Ret. F. H. 'Jownsend for so kindly presicling, and also for tho use of the Parish Ghurols bells.-The Rev. E. H. Townsend suitably responded, aml the meeting then closed.
'Ille members adjourned to the belfry for further ringing.
OXFORD AND WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILDS.
JOTNT GATHERING AT NLWBLTET.
A very successful joint meetng of the above Guilds was held at Nowhyy on Siturday last, when 50 members attended from Swindom, North Stonelinm, Fnglefich, Branley, Rainhan (Kent), Reading, Maidenbead, Ringwoof, Croydon, Faringdon, Aleamaston, Beenhan, Norlh Masseth, Wiuchester, Binfield, Bucklehury, Beedon, Thrightwalton, Highclere, Woolton Hill, Shaw, and the Newbury rinters. Service was conducted by the Rector (the lev. L. R. Majendie, who grwo a very interesting address. Tea was served int the Parish Room by Mrs. IH. W. Curlis, fassisted by the pingers' wivels. The Rector presided, and was supported bs Mr. G. Wiliams (Master of the Winchester Guild), Mr. N. T. Hibbert (general secre-Lary of the Oxford Guild) Mr. W. Andrews (Winchester Cathedral), and Mr. H. W. Curtis (hon. secretary and trensurer of the Nowbricy Buanch)

The Reator weleomed the ringers, and said how pleased he was to see so many present.-Mr. G. Williams spoke on behalf of the Winehester Guild, saying it was 40 years since be rang on Newbury brills,

Mr. H. W. Curtis also welcomed the Winghester Guidd, and hoped this would be one of many meetings to be held jointly by the two Guilds.
The Rector proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Curtis and the ladies for providing the tea.-Mr. H. Wr. Curtis proposed a vote of ilanks to the Rector for his address and for the use of tire belle. - This was seconded by Mr. Orocker and carried with applause.

The fewer was agnin visited, and some good touches in the following methors were rung: Grandsire and Siedman Thiples, Plain Bob, Kend 'Treblo Bob, Gambridge and Double Nowich Major.

Apologics wore recoived from the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Otfotrl Guiki) ind Mr. G. Pullinger (feneral secretary of tho Wimbester futit).

NEW BELLS AT DERBYSHIRE CHURCH.
HAPPY GATHERING AT THE "CATHEDRAL OF THE PEAK."
The town of Tideswell, buried in a hollow of the bold swelling hills in the Peak district of Derbyshire, was en fete on Bank Holidoy, when tho music of the angmented peal reverberated over the neighbouring hills and dales. The church, commanly known as the 'Cathedral of the Peak,' dates back to the 14 th century, and is a popular slirine for visitors to this part of the country. Its archifecturo is in a class by itsolf, and the buitding contains many fue examples of statuary, brasses and tombs, one of the latter being むated 1358. The carving in the church is extremely fine, and is all of local execution. The tower is a massive and rugged one, surmounted by four lall pinnacles which give an added grace to the presents a truly beantiful picture.

It was, however, to hear the augmented ring of eight bells that the majority of visitors paid a visit to this fine old town. Over 60 ringers turued up from Staftord, Derby, Chesterfield, Bolsover, Burton, Stockport, Cheadle, Norton-le-Moom, Norton, near Sheffield, Sleffick, Rotherham, South Anston, Duffield, Bakewell, Dore, 'T'reeton, Bolsterstone, Eyam, Handswortil, etc., and were mell repaid for their journcy in spite of uncertain woather.
Ringing commenced before noon and contiuued untill late in the ovening, a special feature being the very fine ringirg which took place by mixed bands-a tribute to the way in which the relanging of the peal has been carried out by Messr's. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.
A short service of welcome was held in the afternoon, the Vicar expressing his great pleasure at the interest slown by the number of visitors present.
In spite of the fact that only three nemes were sent in for tea, there was ample food for all, and the generosity of the Tideswell folk in this diveetion will not be easily forgotben. It demonstrates in no uncertain way the hospitality of these hamely people. After tea the Rev. W. Peter Wright moved a vote of thanlss for all the good ilaings provided and to all concerned for the Kindness shown.

A pleasant social half-kour followed, some very good handbell ringing tuking place, hut the tit-bit was provided by Mr. Maurice Swinheld, who tapped two coarses of Duffield Major on the piano and a touch of Stedman Triples contucted by Mr. Framls Smallwood; then followed a comse of Duffield simultancously with the piano and handbells. 'True' stories were then related by the Vicar, the Rev. W. Peter Wright and the "Fidler."

Mr. J. E. IL. Cockey referred to the new district formed by the M.O.A. in the Peak Districk, and hoper that tho Tideswell company would see their way to join them, and thus swall the rouks of this section of the assaciation whioh had made such a suceessful beginning.
There was formerly a peal of six bells at Tideswell of very indifferent tonal quality, but now there is a fine ring of eight with at tenor about 1.3 cwt .
The old thi, a fourteenth-century bell, has been placed on view in the church, aud has been replaced by a new bell. The tenor has been recast and two new trebles added, the whole having been hung Messens. Taylor and Co. have given Derbyshire another fine exannple of their work, and the Tideswell company feel prond in their acquisition and appreciate all that the firm has done to ensure such a satisfactory anc Jasting job.
The firm were represented at the opening gathering by Messrs. J.
D. Fidler and C. Harrison, who arrived yeatly packed, with their spouses, in a well-knowe Morris chara.
There is to be a gathering of the Peak District of the M.G.A. in Septomber (14th), particulars of which will be duly advertised in this journal. That this meeting will be a huge success is a foregone conclusion. Undoubledly, a bearly welcome awaits the association.

MINOR RECORD ATTEMPT 'OFF.'
Owing to unforeseen circumstances, two of the band who were to have attempled the record peal of Minor at Rickinghall, Suffolk, on August Bank Foliday, were unable to stand in, and the paal was therefore abandoned for the time being. A 5,040 was, however, rung. Miss Kitty Willers had cyoled from Trumpington, Cambs, a distance of 42 miles, to listen to the long peai, and was invited to take part in the seven 720 's, Mr. B. Chilvers, of Cotton, giving up his rope to the lady, who enjeyed the good strifing throughout the pend.

THE TWELVE BELL RECORD.
To the Editor.
Sir,-One must write to congratulate the whole band who rang the recard peal at Ashton-mader-Lyme on Bank Holiday-a marvellous performance. I was talking to Mr. Sperring somewhere in Chester hast Tuesday about this, and he said, 'That's nothing for this band; if they made up tineir minds they would ring twice as | loug, by gomm!'-Yours, ete.,

RUARDEAN BELLS REOPENED

The peal of eight at SL. Johu's Church, Ruardean, Gloucestershire, has been wehung in new gudgeons and ball hearings, the 6ils bell recast, and the 7th bell replaced, the work laving been carkied out hy Messirs. Gilleth und Johnston, of Croydon Bell Foundry. The dedication took place on August 18t, the service being perfomed by the Rev. J. F. Glaylon, M.A., warden elect of St. Nicholas', Bristol University, assisted by the Ficar, the Rev. E. Parnell. A gaod congregation assembled, including ringers from the Souts and North Frorest and Gloucester Branches af the Association.
At the dedication the bells were rung in rounds by the local band, after which the Rov. J. F. Clayton addressed the congregation on the use of ehurch bells.
At the conclusion of the service, a slort touch of Grandsire Triples was rung by the local band, and the bells were then thrown open to the risitors, miler even ringer present had the opportunity of having at pull." The methods rung ranged from Grandsire to Double Norwich.

The visitors were afterwards entertained in true Forest style, Mr, Harper (secretary) presiding, supported by Mr. Wikes (conductor of the local bami), MLF F. O. Colling (bell hanger), Mr. W. H. Harria (secretary of Gloweester Branch), Mr. J. Austin, Mr. Baldwyn, exSergl. Willians, of Newent, and Mr. J. Clarke (Ross)
Mr. Collins said he would like the opiaion of the ringers present as to the "go' of the bells to erable him to report to his dirm. Fe was sorry that the representative of Messis. Gillett aud Johnston (Mr. Raper) was abseut, but he expected liat sometling had detained him.

Mr. Austian thanked Mr. Collins for the excellent way in which the work had been carried ont. The 'go' of the bolls, he said, was everything that could be desired.-Mr: G. I. Irrungdon and ex-Sergt, Willans expressed agreement wili Mr. Austin as to the 'go' of the bells.

Mr. Collins, in thanking the speakors for thoir kind remarks, said he was glad to heal they had found everything to their liking, and lie would convey their opinion to the head of the firm, as he knew how mucl it would be appreciated.
Fx-Sergt. Williams thanked the donors on behalf of himself and fellow-ringers foy their kinduess in entertaining them.-This was supported by Mr. Bransdon--Mr. Fnypet replied on belalf of the flenors and the local band, and said it gave them all the greatest pleasure to hear the remarks from the previous speakers regarding the 'go' of the bells. He was pleased to see so many old friends amongst them that eveniug, and if at any time they required the hells for a peal he slould only he too pleased to assist them. He thanked them all for coming to the assistance of the local band that vening.
Toundes on the handbells by ringers and tunes by Messrs. Austin and Williams brought a pleasant gatluering to an ent.

PETEREOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Brazch of the Peter borough Diocesan Guild took place at Peterbotough on Bank Eolithy, and was well attended, ingers being present from Northampfon, London, Leicester, Shouldham, Chatteris, Somersham, Raunds, Wymondtam, Guildford, Irthlingborourh, Titchmarsh, Market Deeping, Littleworth, Spalding, Luton, Stamford, Husbands Bosworth and the local band. ## THE CHESTER GUILD'S REPORT. To the Edifor.

Dear Sir,-The account of the Chester Guild annual meeting, which tpacared in "The Ringing World" on Friday, August 9th, contrined ramark that the motion to accept the annual report was passed with one dissentient.
A freal of Minor, consisting of sevens Surprise 720's, rutig at Wrllasey by six members of the Sinday bent, was published in the sonaxd report as all outstanding performance for the Guild. I askerl the chairmnn at the meeting if this was the only outstandiug performance put up ly the Guild during 1928. The late General Sceretary (Mr. E. W, Flwell) replited that it. was so
To a furthar enquirs, he remarked that the peal of London Surprise Major rung at Frodsham by a Jocal band, although it might be the first of its kind rung for the Guild, was not, in his opinion, an autsianding performance for the Guild, comparable with the peal at Wallasey. I differed from bim, and voled accordingly. Finence tho are rissentienti-Yours truly, F'rorisham.
W. BIBET.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

I3RIDGNORTH'S VETERAN RINGER HONOLIRED.

On Bank Holiday a notahle visit was paid to Bridgnorth by the Hercford Diocesan Guild of Bellyingers, who assenbled to houour Mr. John Overton, Ringing haster of the Bridgnorth District, and one of the oldest members of the Guild and committeo. Some four years ago Mr. Overtan was presented winh an iluminated address on his complolion of 50 years' service as head ringer of St. Leonartl: Church.

I'he bells wore set going shorlly after two o'clock in the afternuon at botif churches, and at 4.15 a specini service was conducted by the Rev. Tuevor Margan.

A party of sixty members and friends sat down to a splendid tea at King's Head Fotel, whereat Mr. C. Fdwards, Guild Ringing Master, presided, supporled by the Rev. L. E. Lewis, of Madler, Hergford. Apologies were recived from the general secrotary, Rev. F. S. T. Richardson, Rev. Trevor Morgan and the district secretary. The visitors, who assembled from far and wide, included Messrs. John Clarke (Ross), Albert Walker (Birmingham), John Bootlı (Wigan), 「i:. J. Salter (Kidderminster), A. Fackelt (Halesowen), Wiiliam Slort (Cleni), A. Rowley (Tinton), Frank Perrins (Coventry, Frank Stoneley (Mandester), with otiler representatives of the district from Broseler; Bronsgrove, Gonbrookdale ank the Hereford Distict.
The Chairman explained that there was no "business" before the meeting, which had been specially convened as in complimont to Mr John OverLon, one of the oldest ringiug nembers of the Guild. His spoke with feeling of Mr. Overton's successful work, partietarly with regard to change ringing, and the instructions he had given to beginnerg, and enjoined the younger ninging members to benefit by his training and example.
Mr. Oyerton, who, on rising, was tumefully greeted as a 'jolly good fellow,' suitahly replicd, thanking his lamarers for their appreciation, and expressing a hope that he hat been of same service to ilse Guild.

Mr. Shopt, Mr. Samders (Coalhrooklale) and Mr. John Charke also spoke briefly of Mr. Overton's good work.
Mr. Albert Walker, Ringing Master of St. Martin's, Birminglanan, also expressed his appreciation of Mr. Overton in warm terms. He proffered to him the very cordial wislics of St. Martin's Guild. After tea a nicely-struck course of Grandsire Cabers was rung on handbells ly live of the visiting members. The visitors then returned to the lowers for further ringing, wheh during the day incluried Cambridge Surprise Major, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Cambridge Surprise Minor, Keut and Plain Bob Minor, and Grantsire Doubles.

Mr. Overton is 78 years, and is still gn metire member in the belfry

A TAUNTON RINGER RETIRES.

Writing in the Angust 'Parish Magazine,' the Vicar of St. James' Church, Taumton, says: 'I lave to announco that after having occupied the position of leader and conductor of the belluingers in St James' tower for 37 years or so, Mr, J. Maddock las resigned owing to inabilify to fulfil the duties of the post. For some few years past Mr, Maddock has desired to take this slep, but owing to the esteem in which the is heid by the ringers he has been dissuaded from doing so. There is not room here to state all that Mr. Maddock has dome in connection with the ringing in St. James while he has been in charge. I hink an interesting booklet could be written upon that subject. I would tender our heariy thanks to Mr. Maddock with the observation that during the time of his leadership the reputation of St. James' for good ringing has been deservedly very high.
It is a pleasure to be able to and to the ahore that Mr. Maddock conducted the first peals of Minor, Bob Major, Kent Treble Hob Major, and Stedman Triples for the Balh and Wells Association, and these were all rumg by the regular Sunday band of St. Janies Church. Mr. J. Maddock, much to the regret of all local riagers, ceased to take an active part in ringing some four ar five years ago. A man of a very geninl matare, his successor will hape a hard task to follow in his steps. Mr. Maddock is 'mine host' of the Woon Slieet Inn, where he will be very pleased to see any ringer's whi care to call.

SCOUTS IN SERVICE RINGING

On Surday, at the Parieh Church of the Holy Cross, Woodehurch, Chashire, 720 Boh Minor was rung far moraing service: R. Bennet 1, J. Jolunson 2, W. Bennett 3, G. Philips 4, H. Martin 5, H. Philips (conductor") 6. For erening serrice, 360 Bow Winor: R. Bonnett 1 , Scont A. Ricketts (Chewton Mendip) 2, J. Johnson (conductor) 3 G. Philips 4. H. Martin 5, MY. Benuett 6 . Also 240 of Plain Boli Minor: R. Bennett 1, Scout A. Ricketts (Cliewton Mendip) 2, J. Johnson (conditetor') 3, Scout F. Ronan (Macclesfield) 4, F. Martir 5, W. Bennelt 6. The ringers of the sccond and fourth were present at the world's jamhoree at Arrowe Patk, and Woodehurch is the nearest tower to the camp. The 720 in the morning was rung by the Jocal band auring the period of the jamboree.

A 200 MILE TRIP

The ringers of St. John-the-Baptist, Hillingdon, together with a fi w friends, hat a 200 miles' trip for their annual outing. IThe bharabinc containing the party deparled from the churela punctually ait 7.30 a.m., wader grey skics and with a ehilly wind-not what one would expect to get at the fime of year. Through High Wycombe they went, almost beiore the inhabitants were awake! The famous wh coaching village of West Wycombe came next, then the chmb up and over the leafy Chilterns. T'hey kept to the outskirts of Oxford and inade the first stop at the fine ofd town of Woodstock. A bries wisit was paid to the spacious Jlenleim Park, with iss fine lake ant magnificent palace. When the journey was resumed, the party were behind theif schedule, and on arrival at the first tower at which they were lo ring, were nearly in hour late. This was Chipping Camptien, in Gloucestershirc. However, Mr. Withers was stith pationtly waiting. 'Jlue hells, a fine ring of eight (tenor about 24 cwt.) were raised, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples rung. When the coach was again sought, those who went sightseeing, umong whom was the Vicar of Hillingdon (the Rev. F. J. Kitcat), wore full of praises of the fine old town, the finest in the district. At least four points of interest are worth mentioning-the splendid filtoenth-century chureli, in design almost exactly resembling that of Fairfort in the same county; the almshouses; the remains of Campden Houre, which was destroyed during the Civil War; and the splendid village street. It is wide and long, and the majorily of the houses are 17 l century, with many much eariier.

On resuming the journcy, the sum began to shine, and cveryone's spirits rose mecordingly. A stiff climh brought them to the top of Broadway Fill. Linfortunately, a dense haze hid the greater part of the wonderful parorama flat can be seen from the summit on a clear day. The roarl zig-zaged down the liill into the lovely old village of broadway, one of fite prettiest of the Cotswolds, vay, in the counkry some say. A very tasty lunch was awailing the wisitors at the quaint old thatehed cottage of Mrs. Aston, and full justice was done to the excellent fare provided. After this was finished, the party faced the camera, and, when a brief inspection of part of the village had been completed, took to the road again,

Eventually they crossed the Avon, made famous by Shakespeare's brithplate, up the litl into Fvesham, and its market place. Passing through Ahliot Reginmid's gateway (1122-1149), the party reached the fine old sixteenth-century bell tower. Of its belis, Evesham las always been proutl, and rigltly tao. They are a magnifieent ring of tem (tenor $31 /$ ), and a betiter ring at the weight cannot exist. With the geaial Mr. James Hemming there to receive the party, the bells were quickly raised, and everyone accommodated with touches of Grandsire and Stedmen Caters and Kent Major. It was with difiouty that the mingers left these wondeuful bells, and they were behind time on deprotme.

Perblore was the next stop, and the visitors made their way to the romains of the beautiful Abbey

The main part of the present atructure was consecrated in 1239. Part was destroyed by fire before the end of the century. The main monastic buildings seemed to have endurer until the Dissolution, when thoy were demolished, with the nave of the great chureh, the choir transepts and the tower being suffered to yemain. In the latter is hung a ring of eight bells, tenor abollt 26 owt., and they are one of the finest octaves in the kingdom. The ringing chamber is unique. Some seventy feet from the ground two huge beams bridge the tower from the centre of ench wralt. The floor of the ringing chamber is set on these, a sfuare about 15 feet with the corners resting on each beam, with the calrance alang one of the latter. Ironwork railings constitute the sides, through which can be scen the fioor of the nave, hundreds of feet below. At least, that is a first impression! No sooner had some of the party got into this 'bird's enge' than their nerve failed them, and they fled down to eartly again! Howover, those brave souls that remained managed to ring some Grandsire and Stedman Triples and l3oh Major. Bidding farewell to Mr. Need, they regained the coacis and set off once more.

A pleasant divive through the archards brought them to old-world Tewkesbury. Tewkesbary contains some fine ald houses and a glorious Abbey. To those who have read Mrs. Craig's celebrated book, 'Jolm Halifnx, Gentleman, Tewkesbury has a special interest, Gloucester, was waiting for the visitors at the Jolir Austir, of way up many steps and passages to the spacious ringing chamber. Tho bells, atring of ten, tenor about 22 cwh, were raised, and time only allowed of a wach each of Grandsire and Stedman Caters. It was, howevor, 4 ease of 'short and sweet, as the bells go well, and are of a good tone. After ann all too brief inspection of the Abbey, thoy all mel again at Yo Old Willow Cafe for tea. Fruit salad and crean, huttered sconos and cups of ton loo numerous to count were among the many good things disposed of. Father Time, again interlering, they bade Messrs. Austin and Hemming good-bye, boarded the coach and set off again.
t Cheltenham, tho gride and his wife alighted for a fortaight's holidry at pretty old Broadway. Thoy took with them the best wishes and thanks of all for arranging stach an enjoyable day's outing. The homewnrd route was by way of Northleach, witney,

ON THE ESSEX AND SUFFOLK BORDERLAND

For their monusl auting, the riugers at St. Clement's Church, Ipswich, phaid a visit to fihe Essex borderland towers. Starting by bus at cifht o'clock, the party, which numbered 12 , made their first call at Aaton, where the bells were soon going to Grandsire Doubles. Learing here the next stop was at Foxearth (Essex), where hangs a light ring of eight with a tency 7 cwt. These call for some ringing, as the pendalum of the clock swings in a glass cupboard in the centre of the belfry and causes extra dodges to be mada on the part of the ringers. The bells also hacg leftharded, but some l'reble Bob Major and Grandsire Iriples were zung. The next move was to a good xing of six at Helchamp St. Paul (Essex), where con ditions were good, and Ipswich Surprise was scored. The next stop was made at Stoke-by-Clare, where the six bells require ringing Three leads of Treble Bob each satisfied the company, and a guich un brought them to Clare, where an excellest dinner had becn provided at the Bell Hotel by Hostess Barchan. This over, a wisi was paid to the tower, where Ireble Bob and Bob Major were rung an the fine peal of eight, with a tenor of 28 cwt. These caused longer stay than was allowed for, and consequently a late start was made for Pentlow (Essex), where is a round tower with an exed lent going ring of five, but which wants a conductor with a goun voice to make himself heard. After some Grandsire aud St. Simon' Doubles, a move was mande to Glemsford. Here a very short ring was enough to setisfy everyone. One course of Plain Boly Minor is hard work on them. The party then proceeded to Fartest, another bad-going ring of fire, on which Grandeire was rung. The work here was well repaid by the excellent tea which had been preparch on the Rectory lawn by the generosity of the Rector. After tea, the compary frad their photograph taken by the aid of a "Self-timer" an the lawn. The secretary of the compsuy provided lhis, and go was able to inciude jimgelf "in the group, which, by the way, turned out excellently. Tea over, a move was made to Lavenham, with its ring of eight, with tenor 23 cut., and the pride of Suffalk. Here the hep of the local hand was obtained, and Bob Major and Treble Bob brought round. All the band climbed to the top of the tower, which is the finest in the Eastern Counties, aud can be seen for ove seven miles owing to its meat size. The church ilself is I30ft. in length, and Gift. in breadth. The tower has no spire, but rises to a height of 141ft. Its other dimensions are in proportion, so its sizn car be well gauged. Leaving here after most had got over the tasl of climbing the 196 steps to the top, the last stop was at Monk Fleigh, where hang's a good ring of six, witla tenor of 18 cwt. Fier the belfry floor is open in the middle, save for the rails put there prevent a fall. The 5th man has wo climb over the rail into anothe raileditin portion. Here some Double Oxford Minor was rung, am sounded well with the three dodges behnd. A return was then marl via Hadleigh, and home was reached at 10 oclock. Everyone agreen that the secretary (Mr. F. Bowell) had arringed a good round, even if he trad not selecten the best roads. The distance covered was 7 miles, with ringing ab 10 churches- 7 in Suffolk and 3 in Essex Nearly all the bells in this district call for some bard

LINCOLN AND LADIES' GUILDS

A very successful combined meeting of the Grimsby District of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and the Lincoln District of the Ladies ${ }^{2}$ Guil was beld at Bigby on Saturday, July 20th. Members attended fron Barton-on-Humber, Jisham, Grimaby, Ulcebs, Burton-on-Stather Scunthorpe, and the local tower. Dr. F. P. H. Birtwhistle, o Barton-on-Humber, and ringing friends from Hull and Lincols, Mrs Richardson, of Surfeet, secretary of the Lincola District of the Ladies' Guild, and Mr. 磌. Richardson, were alsa present. The bell were kept going during the aflernoon, and the president of the Grimsby District (the Rev. H. T. Parry, Rector of Bigby) conducted the service, Miss Peart presiding nt the organ.
A splendid ten was kindly provided by the president, and after wards the business meetings of both organisations took place, the president being in the chair
The collection for the district bell fund amounted to $13 s$
The usual wotes of thanks were passed to those who had arranged the meeting, to the Rector for providing the tea, and to the organisi for presiding at the organ.
The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. G. Blanchard, con ductor of the Bighy band of ringers and Deputy Ringing Master illiness.
Tle date for the Waitharn meeting was alterod to Anoust 3ls The men then adjoumed to the tower and Rectory gardens, and the ladies held their meetigg.
Oxford and Wycombe, the lome tower being reached at 10.15 p . m Wuch of the success of the outing was due to tho excellent help rel dered by Rev. E. R. Benson, of Tewkesbury, and Mr. J. Hemming of Evesham, while the cordial welcome extended to the visitors b Messrs, Withers, Need and Austin, at Campden, Pershore and Tewkesbury respectively, added considerably to an enjoyable time Nearly two hundred miles were covered, six counties visited, ash four really fine sets of bells rung on. Above all, the weather prow kind aftor all!

GLOUCESTER EB BRISTOL SECESSION

Eisewhere in this issue appears a letter，signed by prominent members of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association，recording their regret that a small number of members could not see their way to settle a slight difference of opinion without resorting to the pre－ cipitate and drastic action of withdrawing the associa－ tion＇s affiliation to the Central Council，and asserting that they（the signatories）will do all in their power to pass，at the earliest opportunily，a resolution more in kecping with the real feeling of the association．Thus it would appear that the secession of the Gloucester and Bristol Association from the Council，although properly carried by a majority at the annual meeting，does not reflect the true opinion of the members．The decision to withdraw was carried by 35 votes to 25 ，which was at comparatively small majority in a division in which only 60 members took part out of a total of something like 900 resident performing members．Whether the result would have been the same had the whole nine hundred voted．it is idle to speculate，but there can be no excuse that the members，as a whole，did not have due notice of the proposal．Whether they realised the importance of it is another question．

The decision，on the face of it，was arrived at mainly on the ground that the Council did not recognise the right of an association to instruct its representatives how to vote on specific questions and also on account of the grievance which certain members felt they had over the treatment of the association at the hands of the Council． These matters obviously influenced those who voted at the Chippenham meeting，and the Exercise，whether agree－ ing or disagreeing with the action taken，respects the views of those who voted．But the communication which we publish to－day，coming on the top of Mr．Cave＇s te－ cent letter，is rather suggestive．In any case it reopens the whole question and the members of the association throughout the diocese would do well to give careful thought to the position which has been created．They are evidently to be asked to reconsider the matter at their next annual meeting and，in view of this，they will do well to ponder on the question whether their own desire to see a change in the policy of the Council would not be better served by re－affiliation and effecting the alteration by constructive means from inside than by stopping outside and taking only destructive action．A central body in an organisation such as the Ringing Exer－ cise has grown to be，is essential to establish standards， to co－ordinate effort and to do those many small things which，if they became anybody＇s business，would be no－ body's business, but without which the art would lose considerably. The Central Council, however, can only exist with the good will of the Exercise and it can only be what the ringers make it. Before the next meeting the triennial elections will take place, and if the associations require any change of policy they have now the best opportunity to make their voices heard and to send representatives to the next meeting pledged to give effect, if possible, to their views. The reforming zeal of the Gloucester and Bristol Association could be better used inside than outside the newly-elected body.

CURIOSITIES IN HEMSLEY TOWER

MIDDLESBROUGH RINGERS' DISCOVERIES.
Tho Middlesbrough band of tingers held their anmual outing on July 27 ht . A motor tour of the Clevelnal district was arranged, and Hemsloy, Pickering and whitby whe visited in iturn. The party, numbering some 17 ringers and iriends, left Middlesbrough at 8.15, nad were soon enjoying the beauliful scemery of Rilsdale, with jts lovely valley and wonderful views. The first stop was mado at Homsley, and the eight bells were soon merrily yinging The ringers were much tickled by the quaint notice which hangs on the belfry wall, and is:-

To visiting ringers. When ringing into "sot," please ring rounds as far as possible. If threo or four bells are rung in, it will be takey lyy the Fire Brigade as an aldim to turn out.
The alesire to see the Firo Brigade do their turn was great, but tho templintion was resisted, and a perfect raise accomplished. Touches of Stedman, Grandsire, Plaiu Fob and Kent were rung with perfect Etriking.
The tune of the 6th, 7til and But oxcited some curiosity, and the ringers were amated to learm from thelr gaido that the 7th was cracker. and liad been rung in that condition for over 30 years, A visit to the ringing chanber to view this phenomenon revealed the fact that tito bell had a distinct crack some 2ft. long in $j$ t, which ahout 30 yoars ago had been 'ropaired, by a German 'engineer,' who liad lot straps in and had bolted them to the lell in ovier to keep the two sides of the clrack apart. A most remarkable bell! The viaitors were also astonished to learn that between 8200 and szoo had been spent on renoyations of tho belis nhoul fivo years ago.

A wonderful specimen of old time litorature was also observex in " the Trisles of Hibe Comparr," tho most strifking being the last, which reads as follows:-

Tho zingers are to rememiner that the helfry is part of the Clunch, the House of God. The bells are instruments of sacred music. The riager's office is a sacred one, and should be performon with reyerence, and especially it is their duty not only to call wothers to worslifp Goil, but themselves to set a good example of attendance at public worship, and espectally at morning sorvice on Sunday. As it is a pubic scandal for those who havo callod togother the congregation to leave the Church in the faco of thom, it is necessary that those who do so leave should lo marked
Tho anombers who subseriber their names tea this unique rule are Jong since flead awrl buried, hut tha wisitors felt that there was a gool deal to be learnod from the old words.

After posing for the official phoingraphers, the party journeyed on to Pickering, where a sulstantia] meal was disposed of, and a fow touches rung on the cight bells there. rrle Castle was visited Dy tho fair sex, and more explorations would havo been undertaken, but time whs pressing, and the journey no Whithy had to be commoncerl. This beany spot was romeled about 4.30 , and visits to old haunts and frmiliar places were made hefore ten. After the bountiful repasi had been disponsed of a eall at the ald chinch, in the company of friends of the locsl hand, was made, and the bells kept merrily pealing until 8 oclock, when blie necessity to begin the retura journey outwelghed the desires for mare tronches an tho leantiful peal of ten. An amusing occurrence hrupened in the tower whilst a touch of Stedman was boing ring. A little white derrior suddenly made its appentance in the belfrt, nud it was " louch and po" for moment whether the tempr rape diknta hurn that quadruped into sausage meat! A hasty grab by one of the bystanders sawed the litits interloper from nia nutimely ond.
The party arrival tame in Middeblyoush about 10.30 safe and sound, and tired, hat happy with the remembrance of a glorious day, in which everylhing went, well. The ringers desire, throngh tho medium of this paper, to tirank thin clergy of tho fliree ehnureles for their kind permissian to use the bolls, guid also to express their appreciation of the ringers it, oach elhurel who attendel to their needs. It the a glorious din, the weather was kind, the finging was good, the mbals excellent, and the travelling arrangements norfect. The whole trip was well organised and rellected great credit nn Miss Laneaster, the 1 hath-working secretnry. relected great cred.

PUTNEY MEN IN SUFFOLK  AN ENJOYABLE WEEK-END

The ringors of St. Mary's Ohureh, Putney, spent a week-ead in a tour of part of West Suffolk, and the weather being fine, a wery happy time wiss the result. A disastrous start, in which fgured the luggage expert and others, cansed a train to be lost, and, as troubles never comic singly, the next train was held up for one and a half hours in a delightful piece of country called Nanor Park. During this time good practice was obtained on a famous peal of handbells, of which more anon. After the wreckage of a previaus train had been removed, the journey was resumed, and the party eventualiy reached Sudbury, that first port of call, at about 12 oclock, being nearly $2 \frac{1}{2}$ hours behind sohedule. No tima was lost bero bowever, as the charabanc which a kind secretary and Mr. Seotb (Sudbury) bad chartered was boaxded, and off in one minute (an addition to the parby here being Mr . Ellintt) to SS. Gregory and Peter's Church, where a very nice eight were soon 'put througl itt' but not the bend. After finding a logt chaufeur, Foxearth (just in Tssex) was mext visited, and this very fight peal was tiricd out, some finding the trebles rather tricky. Good touches worte, however, accomplished, and the party "hist the road' for Long Melford, which was reached in time for luneh. An al fresco meal was provided at the Sculehers Arms (a scutcher, was elicited, was a wool comber of former days, when the cloth industry was the principle one of the districty by Mr. F. Bizby, one of the local ringers, and full justice wis done to the homely and humble B., C., P. and B. After a "flubter" on the handbells, delight to the townsfolk, the tower was ascended, and ringing in threo standard methods was rlone. The party then pushed on to Bury St. Edmunds. The fine peals at St. Mary's and tle Norman Tower were both at their disposal, and, among other ringing: two spleadid tovehes of Grandsire Caters in the havd stroke position were rulg, with the assistance of ane or two Suffolls friends, two peopla ringing their first touches on ten bells. Time was ever fleeting and the order "all aborrd" was not immediately complied with, the luggage morchant being eligulfed in the strumgle for a pieturg posteak. Faring cone out of the fray minus collar and tic, and grasping the sid postcard firmoly in his right hand, he was hoisted inlo the charabano, which sct off to Lavenham, whore a meat tea whs "waded into," and, beds having been allotiod, the visitors set forth to ring on the famous bells in the equally famous tower. Messrs. Symonds and other lacsl men lextended a hearty welcome. No neer to say that ringing was enjoved, two courses of TYonble Norwich with the help of Mesers. Symonds being the show piece' of several toncles. No doutht exists that Mileg Graye was a clever or lucky man, for his tenor speaks with no mucertain voice. Another Mr. Symonds turned up from De Beauwir Town, very hot and bothered, with bicycle complete, and ho was vocifer ously welcomed by one ar two old 'shipmates.' A social hour followed, the handbells being much in ovidence, turnes and change ringing being done. A novel feature was a prize distribution for good wark. A gentleman, who slaall be nameless, but who rejoices in a multitude of Christifan names, Frederiek, George, etc., ete., who possesses that gweetest litite peal of cup handhells ever, much in gridence all the week-end, and who is not unknown in and around Isleworth, gained the first prize, a very useful artiole (verlb. sap.). The steretary was second ant Mr. A. Symonds third. This bronght bedtime and repose, althongl it was said by one menhler that a peal of handbells in a feather bed is not ton comforbatle to sleep on. Up in good time on Sunday, the party wiewed the very ancibut and bistoric butildigs which Lavenham contains, the old cals carving and halftimbered structures being a joy to see and the admiration of all Breakfast was at 8 , and, mark you, none was late. A course of Gramelsire Triples, like a famous huntsman's hom, brought Mr Symonds from his bexl, and a bus was boarded for Sudbury, where th visilars were due to ring for service. The fime peal of eight at All Saints' was at their disposal, and, having been joined by Mr. Lee (not of London), some good toucles wern rung, one of Stedman beine ortstanding. Mr. Scott, guide, coumsellor and friend, showed the visitors round, and a pleasant hour was speral by the Riwer Stour Dinner and a quict afternoon (for some) in a cool, shady spot brought teatime, and another engagement at the Parish Clarch to ring for service brought up the courss end 6.32, and saying "tood-bye Sudbury and Lavenham frimals, the Putneyites sontrainerl for Londou It is to ho hoped that Fred. G, managed to gef home per push hike in time for breakfast on Monday morning. The others wished hi woll, but pitferred the Jron Harse. Thanks ane dine to the derg who granted pormission to ring, to the local ringers for their cantes, mad to Mr. Scott and Mr. Stedman Symonde for the arrangemen mand for the visitors comfort. Eight towers were wisited, and the conducting was sliared hy Messra, Elson, Cassel and Ferbert. A very fine onting was brouglat to a close on reaching Lirempool Stucef at 9 o'clock.

PASTON, NORFOLK.-On Sunday aílernoon, August 11th, at St Margaret's Churoh, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,280 chantos) in 434 mins. J. ## A SHROPSHIRE RING AUGMENTED.

CHESWARDINE'S TWO NEW BELLS.
The dedication of the augmented peal at Gheswardine, Shopshire, took place on Thursday evening, August lst, the ceremony being performed by the Rew. A. V. C. Hordern, Rural Dean. The service was largely attended, the chutch being full, and ringers were present fren Market Drayton, Hocmet, Stanton, Norton-in-Hales, Burton-on'Tvent, etc., also Messrs. G. Harrison and J. Oldhem, who represented the founders (Messis. Taylor and Co.).
The actave has bebr completed by the addition of two trebles, and Messis. 'I'aylor and Oo. are to be congutulatod on making an excellent " $\operatorname{splice}$.

The weble is the gift of the inmily in memory of the late Mr. William A. Hinstall, for many years purish clerk of Cheswardine, and the 2nd was given, as a thankofferiug for having come bafely through the Great War, by Dr. Basil Hughes, son of a past Viear of Cheswardine Immediately after tho ciedicatory prayers, the belis werter rung in rounds for a few minutes by the local ringers, assisted by geveral of the visitors, and after the service touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rang, everyone being highly pleased with the fone and "go' of the bells.

The bells lave been rehurg in a new stecl frame, with ball bearings and fittings of tho latest pattern. The old 5th (how 7th) bas been recast and the others tuned. A get of guides has also been puri in, as the bells are 1 ung from the ground floor.
The tenor is an interesting beli, it was cast by Clibury, of Wellington (whe cast numerous bells in Shropshire and district), and bears the following inscription : 'SOLI DEO IMMORTALIA SIT GLORLA. 1634.

The ringers were afterwards entertained to supper by the Vicar, the Rev, II. S. Remitre.

On Saburday last a peal of Grandins Triples was attempted by members of the Shropshire Association, but came to grief after over two lours" gropd liuging.

MUFFLED BELLS.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A veterans peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was ' rung in masterly style* at Guiseley, Yorks, on August 24th, 1868 . The combined eges of the baud totalled 553 years. The condutor was Henry Habbazd, who was then 44 years old.
The College Youths rang a peal of 10,640 Bob Major at Mortlake on August 28th, 1776 , in 6 hours 31 minutes.

At this same church, exactly 100 years ago last Friday, the Jumior College Society (an off-shoot of the Gollege Youths) rang a thue and excellent peal of Graudsire Triples. It was couducted by Thomas Tolladay, who did a great deal for the old St. James' Society in its early days, and 4 mong thase who took part were some wellknown Lonton ringers in those daym, including James Mash ankl Eaward Lansdell.
A record peal of Treble Bob was rubg at Otiey, Yorks, an August 27th, 1814, the length being 12.320. It ocenpied 7 hours 15 minutes. Benjamin Annable ealled a ptal of 5,040 Bob Major St. George at St. Geurge's Church, Southwark, on August 27th, 1750 . It world be interesting to know what method this was.
Matthew Wood, of Bethnal Green, one of Jondon's most famons old ringers, died at the ago of 87 years on August 27 th , 1912.
The ringers of St. Martin's, Birmingham, wil] spoud the day at Liverpool to-morrow. They will wisit the docks and Cathedral, am hope to meet some of their Lancashire frieads at St. Nicholas' Church, where they will ring at 3 p.m.
Mr. IR. H. Bartram writes with reference to the footnote to the peal at Oakham, published in our last jssue, that the first peal of Superlative in the county of Rutlaud was rumg on the bells of Oakham Clurch on May 26th, 1923, by members of the Midland Connties Association.
'Belles on parake' is the heading of a paragraph anhouncing that a. bathing belle parade will be leld at a Woking earnival at tha end of August, and a correspondent asks, 'Is it true that our Fditor has heen appointed to act as the judge at this beanty belle coupetition? If so,' remarks the inquirer, 'he is reminded that somo of our bacholor tingers would much like to be present.' Why?

Threo new hemispherical hells have been presented to $$ t$. George's Church, R.N. Barrucks, Chathan. It is unfortunate that ' 5. B., lato of the R.M., is no longer' in the 'Service' at Clatham. Had he still been there a paal of six real bells humg for proper ringing raight: perhaps, have been installexl at St. George's instead.
Tho marriage of Mr. C. C. Mayme, of Beaconsfield, and Miss Phyllis Moss, of Uxbriage, took place privately, with only a few friends precent, at 9 a.m. on St, Swithin's Day at Fulmer Parish Church. The happy bellringing couple spent their honeymoon with fine weather at Rotingdean, and rang at St. Peter's, Brighton, and at Shoreham during the week with a good Hart.
Berks and Bucks ringers wish them every happiness and success in their mev home at Harrow, and, writes a correspondent, the fatherly prophecy of the "Lancasbire Terror" some ycars ago las practically cone true-' a rolling Main gathers mo Moss.

NO LODGE OF FREEMASONS FOR RJNGERS.

 PETITION REJECTED:The proposal which las been made to establish a Lodge of Freemasons with memberslip restricted to church bellringers las been rejected by the responsible officers of the craft. It had keen suggested that the lodge should be formed at Birmingham, as a convenient centre, and should be known as the 'Campana' Lodge. A considerable measure of support had been promised and the sanction of Grand Lotge was applied lor. The petition has, howerer, been rejected.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I enclose copy of letter received from the Grand Secretary with reference to the proposed 'Campana' Lodge of Frecmasons, which I should be glad if you would kindly publish for the information of those ringers who have taken an interest in the movement. I nead only add that I an much disappointed that sn promising a project should have met with this sad fate.-I an, yours faithfully, J. S. PRITCHETT, P.G.D.,

SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR.

A PEAL RUNG IN TEN METHODS.
Another great advance in the splicing of Major methods was made when Mr. A. J. Pitman, of Pont Talbot, South Wales, published on March 22nd last a peal of Surprise Major in ten methods. This composition was rung on Tuesday, August 13th, at Willesden, by the tame hand thal; had prepiously rung the fivs and six method peals in that tower. it is, perhaps, unnecessary to say that a peal of fuch intricacy was not rung at the first attempt; indeed, two previous attempts had each lusted nearly two hours, whilst ono of about 30 minutes' duralion bad given an opportunity of souse good practice afterwards. The achievement of this peal is unquestionably tho most brilliant performance ever accomplishod on tower belis.

Some idea of the mental activity involved will be gathered when it is pointes out that there ans 129 changes from one method to anather, and that mothod is lung for more than two leads (64 changed) at any oue time. Indeed, in by far the most cases, only one lead of a methorl is rung before a change to another method is called. Then again, the variety of methods, and the similarity of the work in some of them, makes it necessary for the ringer to be always on the alert. It is not only essential to look out for the change of method at the lead-end, and to take care that the work of the next methorl is properly picked up, but it is necessnry lo keep wide awake so as not to forget, daring the lead, which method is being actually rung. Ome ringer trying to ring Rutland whilst the others are ringing London is sure to bring clisaster.

The odd leads of comparatively unknowa and little rung methods are in themselves causes of mich necessary thinking. For instance, only five leads of Yorkshire occur throughonit the peal. Thus, any one working bell can only ring each of five leads once. Lincoinshire, Fudsey and Bristol have ten leads each, and Norfolk and New Gloucester nine, so that leads in these nothods are never rung by the working bells more than twice. As the work of these leads has to be remembered, possilily until mearly the end of the peal, it says much for the mental alertness of tho ringers. For the confluctor it is a gigantic task, and Mr. William Pye is again to be cana gratnlated. Recent performances have once again proved him to be the greateat all-round ringer that has over lived

THE COMPOSITION, 5,120 CHANGDS.
Tho methods are indicated as follows: Lomdon, L.: Rutiand, R. Cambridge, C. : Superlative, S. : Lincolnshire, Lin.; Pudsey, P.; Yorkshive, Y.; Bristol, B.; Norfolk, N.; and New Gloncester, N.G.

First part.

Cambridge and 5 uperlative are interchangeable, and as rung at Wihesden were called alternately throughout the peal. The courseands bracketed are not actually rung. the change from Pudsey to Norfolk cutting out the $\mathbb{E}$. lead. Norfolk is rmg with a 4th's place Bob.

THE SECESSION OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

To the Liditar.

Dear Eir, We, the malersignea memberg of the Gloncester ald Bristol Diocesan fisochation, wish to express our regret at the reesut action of our association in consing to be afiliated to the Central Council.
We do not propose to enfer iuto details hente, but at the same time we are keen that the Fxcreise should be under no wisappodersion a: to the real state of feeling on the subjedt, in our associativn.
It is to be regretted that a small number of our members coulc mot see their way to settle a slight dilference of opinion without resorting to this procipitate amd, to our mind, unnecessarily drastic action; and while we freely admit that the resolution was carcied by a perfectly fair vote at an annal meeting, we wish to make it quite clear that in our opmion the idea of ceasing to lde affliated to the Central Coumil is only favoured by is very small namher of our members.
We feel sure that we have the majority of our association with us in regretbing the nutortuate resolntion which 35 af our members were able to pass at Chippenlam, and it is our sincere Hope thatis a resolution more in keeping with the real feding of the whale association, proposing re-affilation, will bo passed at the Earlicst opportanity.

We can assure the Txercise tlat we will do all that is in oun power to achieve ihis object

SHORT NOTICE" MFPTLNG AT BARNES

A "short notice" meeting was held by the Sonthorn Diatriet of the Lonkon County Association on Saturdiy at Barmes, Surey, by kind permission of tho Rector (the Rev. W. Patrick Dotts). The bells ure a lighi eight, augimented from three okl bells ( $1600-1700$ ) in 1897 by Warner, in commemoration of tho Diamond Jubileo of Queen Fictorin, the tenor bemp about 11 or 12 owt. Ringing commenced in the afternoon with a touch of Stedman Triples under Mr. Mance (Master), and various touclies werg rung till 5 o'clock, when an adjourament was made to the Chumeh Fall, where a tea had been arranged, kindly provided by the Rector, wha was unable to bo pasent, being un holiday. His place wan, however, ably taken by his warden, hif. Bowes Loddiges, who welcomed the association in a few well-dhosem ubords. After tea a short business mbefing, of the usual montine character, was quickly disposed of.
A hoarty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector and charohwateden for the hoanitality and welcome extended th the association also to Mr. Chasles Hunl and the local men for the lrelp and speed with which the meeting was organised. Some 25 members from a not very wide area attmeded, and rang methods up to Cambirige and Superlative Surprise Majnu. Perhaps worthy of note is the fact that four men who rang in the first peal on the bells accidentally sat in a row at tea

THE TWELVE BELL RECORD.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-May we, thrungh the nedium of 'The Ringing World," ueknowledfer with sincere thanks all the mossages of congratulation that have been reteiced by ans on the successfut outcome of the long pral rithempt at Ashton-ninder-Ly he on August Bank Holiday?
'Ilseses cungratulations come from ringers ill all parts of the country, inclasting the Ancient, Suricly of Collego Youthas and the Sta Martin's to be acknowhelged separately
We trust, therefore, that this brief but none the less grateful, acknowledgment wif suftec.-Yours faithfully,
W. PYE.
C. T. OOLES.

MR. GABRJEL LINDOFF'S REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENT
The long peal of Cambricge Simprise Maximus rung at Asliton-undar-Lyne on August $5 t /$ was the first in the method by Mr. G.
Lindof, of Dublin. It is an extraordinary coincidence that his first peal of Stedrinan Cinques was also a record, this being the $11,111 \mathrm{Jung}$ ft Birminciann in 1901.

AN ASHTON PRTSSMANS VLEW.
Usually peals, fud especially long poals, if they excite comment fit ald in the puthic Press, bring forth protests, but in the case of the record twalve bell peal at Asliton-under-Lyne the Jancashire people seem to have entered into the spirit of the performance, and Ashton-under-Lyno is proud that the record should lave been made at their own Parish Church. "Ashtomian," writigg in the "Ashton-under-Lyne Reporter,' said: ' 1 know far more today about campanolngy than I did a week ago. I have bitherto regarded bellungers as men who liad a penchant for leting everybody knosp they were enjuying a littlo manual exercise, men who pursued their hobby min Sunday marnings and fold all and sundry that the hour of morning service approacherl.

Now I know that bellyingers are gentlemen who combine with their bellringing si scientific study of numbers. They truly know whint "ringing the changes" means. After meeting twelve good men and twe, who cheerfutly monselued to be shat in a beliry for eleven hours and 33 minutes, to he without food or drink, to toil ceaselessly at their ropes and concentrate their mental faculties on their work to such a degreo that they managol to ring 15,312 changes without enter, when I think I am justified in attempting to dispel any impreswion that they were melely disturbers of the ether on a Bank Hoidlay.

Nind you, you lave to be a mampanologist to detect the changes, 1 frmkly confess that not until the clase of the record peal in the Ashton Prrish Clhurch on Pank Holiday did I detect any difference, and then the bells semed to ring right down the seale, but my orlucation has appriently heen neglecthed. We all how now what it i- possible ho ring a complele peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and Ashtour has the honhar of having a peal of bells in its historic "what for ?" but I sternly reminded ham that the passion for recorls is mok noufined to bellringens, but clirt track onthusiasts, cricketers faml footballers also attach great importance to records."

" ROPE-SIGHT.'
A NEW EDITION.
One of the grealest services which Jasper Snowdon rendered to the Exercise was thal of placing in the bends of beginners a book, written in simple language, which explained the rudiments of change finging amd their praetical application in the belfry. He called this book "Rope-sight, and it: usefulness and popularity sas a means of instruction was at once appreciated. For exactly 50 years it has remained the first text book of the beginner, and, incidentally, it may ha noted it was the forerunner of the Snowdon series, which has done so much to ruise the standard of methed yinging.

Tope-sight' has now rencleal its eighth edition and is as much in domand as ever. It should be placed in the hands of every beginner and part of his oducation in ringing should be a study of the chapters of this book. It can be obtained (price ls. 10d. pest free) from Mre. Laura Suowdon, Cartmel, N. Lanes.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.
INTERESTING MEETING AT DORNING.
The Leatherhead Distriot of the Guikiford Diocesan Guid helkl their summer meeting at Derking on Saturday last. This is the first visit of the Guild to this fine cluarch, and proved to be quite successful. The Church of St. Martin, relbilt in 1873 in the decorated style, is the this edifice to be erected on this spot, and with its handsome spire is the most conspionons building in the town. Rumour has it that had Dorking not been right on the edge of the diocese, the Churcu of St. Mastin woald heve been the Gathedral. The bella are quite the oldest part of the church, sud, judging from the remarks of some of the visitorg, it is time some of their antiquity was slorn from them in the slape of completely rehanging the whole peal. Cinfortunately, "the powers that be; rule otherwise, so for the present the ringers' task here must remain an urenviable one.
Abaut 30 members and Frieuds took the opportunity to maet heve, many of them for the first time. The following towors were repithsenterl: Dorking, Leatherhead, Hersham, Guildford (S. Nicolas 1 , Billingalurst, Pulborough, Warnham, Epsom (Christ Church and St. ming, Deptfoxd and Southwark. Amongst the visitors were Mr. A. A. Hughes, Mr. E. H. Lewis and Mr. A. J. Bull (hon. secretary, Surmey Assceiation, Southern Brunch).
Ringing commened at $3.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and under the able management of Mr. Alfued H. Wineh, who carried out very successfully the duties of ringimg master, bveryone had a pull, and some of them land too many. The remarks and facial expressions of some of the visitors who tackled bad going belts round the 'heavy end" were one of the amusing features of the meeting. The methods rung wtare Grandsire and Stedman Tripies, Bots and Kent Treble Bob Major. Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise defeated the teforts of the eompany. Service was held in the church mal was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. J. Newill). Mr. J. Gore provided the uasicel accomprimimest.

The mentbers then adjourned for tea to the Church Room, and, following the tea, came a Ghort business meeting, at which thr Rev: E. J. Newill itook the chair. Mr. Arthur H. Smilh, of Leathorhead, wrs electod a ringing member, and Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, of Brasted, Kent, a compounding member. Tollowing the usual votes of thanks: the mombers returned to the tower for further ringing, which was continued till $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Thus ended another successful meeting of the Lealtherhead District. Grod food, good music, a trial of sirength and \& trial of skill-the Leatherlaead District provides them all, antl after whe meating there are always memberg willing to ahow ant after the meeting there are always memberg wiling to show, visitors the "siglits of the town. 'This is the Leatherhead district's modto, and the committee heg lenve to suggest that they have lived up to it at the latest of their meetings. The reat meeting is at Epson (St. Martin's) on October 12th.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
A sucecsful meeting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Willingham on Gaturlay last, when about 30 members atbended, including the general segretary, the Rev. R. Copeman. Tire towers representiod were Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, Dry Drayton, Chatteris, Fullouru, Great Staugliton, Hemingford Abbotits, Long Stanton, Melbourn, Over, Peterborourg ( $\mathrm{Nr}, \mathrm{J}$ Intson), Somersham, Sawston and the locai band. The association service was condneted by the Rev. J. G. Garland (Vicar of St. Mary's, Cardifi). Tea and meeting were held at the Three Tuns, and Ickleton was woted as tho place of the next thecting at the latter end of September. Notice will be given in due course.
Votes of thanks were accorded the Ficar for conducting the service, to the Rev. A. C. Hair (Rostor') for unse of the belis, to Mr. H. J. Hazel, A.L.C.M., for presiding at the organ, and to Mr. A. Huckle for haring the belis in rendiaess. Tonehes in the standard methods were rung until 8 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal, gyeryone being satisfied with an enjopabla meeting.

BARKING'S 'COPYRIGHT.'

To the Editar

Dear. Silt, Some If or 17 years ago wo were slrort of ringers, and the Lhen Vion of Barking, the Rey. T. W. Eisdell, asked me to write sumething for the Parish 'Mag,' drawing attention to the shortage. I aid so, in the form of an advertisment, and the Vicar, being a 'sport,' published it as Eent. I remember; when stating the terms of rempmeration, bcing afrata of that part befng censoreat.
Some Kuight of the Seissors and Paste got hold of it, and part of it appeared in alaost every uewspaper at the time-even in places wa wide apari as British Columbia nad at least two Australian newspapers. Journals as divergent as "The Stav' And * The Church Times: hanowed Barking by telling the world the Parish Chureh writed ringers, and their rate of pay. Tom Hibbert, of Reading, wrote me for it for use there a few years back.
In your this weck's issue it appears that it has been resurrected an: the product of a Leicester Ticar. Well, he is welcome to the use of it, ankd may it produce the desired result, but the copyright (if any' belongs to the 'Barking Parish Magazine ' and yours sincerely,

GRIMSBY RINGERS OUTING TO LEICESTER.

On Satnaday, Jily 27th, the ringers of St, Andrew's, Grimsby, rith their wives and lady friknds, lad their anmual outing and visited Lciceater. Leaving Grimsloy in the early morning, they picked up the G.O.M. from the country, who, as usual, came provided with a buttonhole for all. A halt was made a't Newark for liglt refreslament and for a visit to the castle ruins. Then they went on to Ionghborough for lunch. Here the party were sliown over the celebrated foundry of Meesrs. Taylor, witir Mr. Stubbs as guide. A most interesting time was spent bere, and nit first brial the fonndry bells played tricks wifh the ringers. Touches were also rung at the Parish Church. At Loughborongh, too, the visitors were joined by their olal friend and host from Leicester, Mr. F. H. Dexter, who piloted them to his city. Ringing was indulged in on the beautiful ring of trelve at St. Margarev's and on the rings of ten at tho Cathedral nad St. Jolv the Diviue Charch. The Iadies, meanwhilc, faded away' into the large open market place, and found useful presente lo take hame. The leturn journes was made through Melton Mowbray and Grantham, Grimsby being reached at midnight n A hlaze of light fyon n huge timber yatd fire in the docks.
The ringers wish to thank all the ingumbents for the nge of the bells, the sleeple keepers and thoir old frieuls, Messis. Dexter, Poole and W. Willson, of Leicester", Mr. Stutabs, and their awn locn] secretars, 'Froddr.' Their best wishes also go out to all the newlywedfled couples they saw leaving the various charches on the way ta remester.

THE 'MAASTER' REFIRES

FAREWELE ' TO EAST JLSLEY VETERAN
Twelve of the 'bwows' and the "passon" from East IIsler rillage recently had their annual outing. At Caversham, where ringing is ringing, the "bwoys' did their best to emtuate the deeds of the local hand, and med with feir succoss. Someone suggesterl that a visit to Caversham without calling at the 'Griffin' would be out of tontse: therefore, a sample was trime. Lunch took place at tite Ringwoll Cafe, Reading. Lenting Reading (having picked up. 'Old Trom, and 'Tunng Bill'), Basingatoke was safely reached, the party being met by Mr. and Mrs. Gurtis, Here a pleasand half-lour was spent puting Mr', and Mrs. Curtis "througll their paces." Witchurch (Hants) was next on the prograrene, but a lialt was made at Laverstoke, just onfside Whithmeh, and at the tower Grandsire Donbles werd tapped off. Arrival at Whitcharch was the cause of consicerable amusmeat. The 'all' ready' was shoutbd and 'Owt Bob' lugged and pulled at tive 3 wad withont result. When the wother seven bells liad. been set up the third was puller mp, mach to Bobss surpriso, Grandsire Triples was then rung. After' tea Highelere, a fine Bittle eight by Taylor, was visided, and the party mrrived at Newhury at 8.45 p.rin, whence 'Ond Tom' departed for Meading. Later Ilaley was snfely reached. To the varions incumbente mind tower keepers of the chuthes tisited the Mistey 'bwoys" extend theit best thanks. The ennlueting of the day was shared by 'Old Tom,' "Young Bill ; and Buffer.
On Sunday eveninis a 500 of Gramdsive "frompes was rume as a compliment to the 'Miaster,' who was retiving after 50 years' faithfint service to his church ant fellow-ringers. Ti would benefit a great many if a pattorn was taken from "Manster"s" look, as for 50 vears he had heea punctual and regular in atcondance, always ready to do that whirls he considerm right. It is lard to replace such men as these. The proudest day of his ringiag career was blowing the "big "nu" belinat to the first peal on the bells, Grantisire Triples, Thit was the extent of his peal ringing, but his loyaty to his church and the Guild will lang be remembered after the peal has heen forgotten. The ringers of the 500 were : 0 . 7 . Hihhert 1 , F. Warwiek 2 , R. Warwiek 3 . W. Hibbert, juus. (conductor) 4, E. Snelier 5 , W, Tithert, sen., 6, 立. Brown 7, K. Rurt $8 . \quad$ W. H.

CHESHIRE RINGERS AT NOTTINGHAM.

A party of Clieshire ringers, Messrs. H. W. Wilde, J. Morgan, R. Sporring, W. Thomas, A. E. Richards, G. Jones and J. W. Clarke, set forth on Friday, July 5th, to sample the bells in the Nottingham district. Shortly after three o'clock tha party and luggage were comfortably packed in two cars, and the ancient city of Chester was left to enjoy jts own rain! Macclesfield was reached in good time, and the noted climb over the Pennines to Buxton loomed ahead. The famous Cat and Fiddlo Inn, perched on the crest of the hill, is passed (if shut) on the left, and Buxdon soon appears at the end of a long descent. It was unfortunate that the rain made it impossible to enjoy the fine seenery in this district.
Dufficld, the first place of call, was reached about 7.30 p.m., where beveral members of the local company met the visitors, and conducted them to the belfy of this beathiful chureh, famous among ringers for jts associations with the late gir Arthur Heywond. Among the many peal boords in the tower, the ono recently erected by the Central Council as a monnorial to Sir Artlaur is of special interest. Ringing was enjoyed for shout an hour, after which the remainder of the journey to Not ingliam was completed. Here the travellers were met lyy Mr. A. Goppack, who har been good enongh to make arrargements for them, to 'park' af the George, and as it was 9.30 p.m. the visitors' book was signed with all speed, and a few good 'rounds" were enjoyed before supper.
There was considerabie improvement in the weather next marning, and Ilkeston was reached shorlly after nine. This tower contains a pleasing ring of eight, and with the help of Mr. Wragg, whe kindly took the temor rope, of quarter-peal of Granisire Triples was completed in 43 mins. Stanton-by-Dale, the next iower wisited, was of considerable interest, especially to Mr. Wilde, for it was in this church that lie was married. I'le bells were soon raised, and an extent of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung, followed by 360 Kent and a course of London. The Rector's kindness in showing the party round lis delightful garden, and presenting it basket of refreshing strawberries, was greatily appreciated.
After a short run, Sandiacre was reached in time for ringing before lunch. It was on this fine old-fashioned ring of six that Mr. Wilde rang his first peal in 1889. That pesl is made more interesting by the fact that it was the first for the M.C.A. To commemorate the ovent, Mr. Wilde called a 720 of Oxford and Kent spliced, and before the visitors left Mr. J. Hall, the towerkecper, joined in a course of London.
Permission to use the bells at Long Laton had heen obtained for the early afternoon, and Mr. Coppook, having joined tho party, coats werc again discarded. The tower, allhougla rather small, contains a light, smooth-running eight, nad a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was brought round in 42 mins, followed by loucles of Double Norwich, in which some of the local company joinet.
The large, roomy tower of Beeston made quite a contrast with the previous one. Herc, again, some of the local ringers were good enough to megt the visitors, and touches of Treble Bob Major and Cambridge were completed before turning towards Nottingham again. Hals were made on the way to view the new university opmed last year by H.M. the King. nald the magnificent war

After a leisurely tea to the strains of music, il little sightseeing was indulged in before repairing to the belfry of St. Peter's shortly before eight a'clock, where the visitors wara very pleased to meet Mr. W. F. White (former secretary of the M.C.A.), Mr. F. Bloon and Miss Thompson. Touches of Treble Bob Royal, Stedmall and Grandsire were rung. It was regretted that Mr. Cobbin, who liad been good enaugl to make arrangements for the bells to be available, was not able to join in the ringing. Notdingham boasts many gunint old taverns, with names equally quaint, so, having come to the end of a good day's ringing, it was not very difficult to find a congenial retreat.
On Sunday morning the meeling place was St. Mary's, where the fine ring of ten were rung for the special thanksiving service, which was attended by His Grace the Duke of Portland and the Mayor and Corporation. In the early afternoon, Nottingham was left behind with many regrots. The relum journey was made via Leek, where a halit was made to visit the fower of the Parish Church. Althougls the visit was uncxpeeted, Mr. Ridgeway, the leader, was gont enough to hand over the ropes to the visiters, and, after a undonbtedly o beantiful ring in every respect.
This condided the ringing part of the prograname, and there was nothing left to do but fo go home. Good things, thoy say, soon hind. The Cheshire ringers will retain many pleasant memorigs of their tour in the Noitingham distriet, and would like to take this opportunity of expressing their sincere thanks for the warm welcome extended to them al all towers. Special thanks are due to Mr. Coppock for his many kindnesses and unsparing efforts, which undoubtedly made the meek-end the success it was. doubtedy made the week-end the success it wh. $\qquad$

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH.

THe monlaly meeting of the Devizes Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was held at the Parish Cluurch of Si: Leonard, Keevil, on Saturday, Angust Zrd, but on account of the wet afterпопл and the holidays the attendance was small. The Guidd service was conducted thy tha Vicar (the Rev. F. M. Weller), the lesson being read hy the chairnan of the branch, Mr. C. D. Hegginbothom. The choir boys were in attendance, and the singing was unaccompanied.
Ter follawed, rfter which a ghart business meeting was held. The Chitiman referred to the madnctions of the Rector of Trowbridge end the Virar of Erlingtan, also lo the death of Canon Mogg, formerly Viear of Bishop's Cannings, an hon. momber of the Guild, who took a great interesi in the branch. Tlose present stood in silence as a mark of respect to the memory of the last named.

The Cheiman also congratulated dry. S. J. Hector, of Trowbritige, on ringing lis 100 h peal for the Guild, and also the ringers who had rung peals for the brancli for the King's thanlesgiving.

The Eectethy (Mr. F. Green) reported that be liad written a letter on behalf of the brameh to Mr. H. Brownlee West, of Devizes, on the wedasion of lis birthday, and at his request the chairman read Mr. West's reply.

It was decided to hold an evening mecting at Uirlfont on August $24 t h$, if the hells are available.
On the motion of the ehairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the: Vicer for the use of the bells, and for conducting the service, alke to the choir boys and those who prepared the tea.-The Vicar replied.
Ringers were present from Keevil, Bratton, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary'sh, 'Trowbridge and Warminster. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bot Doubles and Plain Rob Minor were rung duting tho afternoon and evening.
Keevil possesses a nice ring of sis (tenor 19 cwt., diameter 48in.). The treble is hy Thomas Neais (1842). The second is inscribed, 'Hope Well, I. W., 1609," und the 3ril 'Fear' the Lorde, I.W., 1609.' Tanmes Wells, of thboume, cast the 4 th in 1810 . The fifth and sixth were casi, by Thomas Bilbic in 1761. They bear the names of Samuel Atwood and Thomas Bell, John Marieram and John Taylor, churehwardens, and are ornamented with roses, crosses and fleur-de-lys. There is ulso a Sanctus bell, which is ancient, and bangs in the ariginal cot at, the east end of nave.
The church, an eafly Fnglish building, was unfortunately remorlelled in the 17th century. The window of the north transept is a memorial to Lho Right Hon: W. Fieks-Beach, Father of the House of Commons, who died in 1903. There are the names of fowr chuphwardens on the 5th and 6th bells. This may be accounted for by the fact that the living is held with BuIkington, the clurch of which was destroyed ubout the time of the Reformation. The people of Bulsington then attended Keevil Church until between 60 ank 70 years ago, when a new church was built at Bulkington. The living is now known as Keevil-cum-Bualkington.

WESTON-SUPER-MARE RINGERS' EXCURSION.

A party of 30 ringers and friends of st. Jelm"s Church, Weston-super-Mare, had a long motor tour for their amman excursion. At Bristol they were joined by Mr. W. Thomas (president of the Bristol Elite (Guilds), nut the journey then took the company through pretty and interesting country. Ringing was enjoyed at Stoke-on-the-Wolk, and the journey's !imit, Moreton-in-the-Marsh, was reached at: 1.30 p.m. Hero dinner was served, and at the conclusion of the repast Mr. Thomas, after thanking the company for the cordial welenme extended to bim, referred to the splendid efforts made by Mr. Finest Parker in the interests of the Weston ringers, and also lo lis sterling work as conductor. He had worked lati in various whys, he said, and was an ali-rount sportsman, and his colleagues in the belfry desired to mark their appreciation of his valuable services by presenting him with smoker's requisites, which included an 'firstrate " pipe. Musical honours followed for the recipient, who suitably replied, thanking the company for their kindness and adding that anything lie bad done for them was in the best interests of ringing and had been a real pleasure to bim.
The estonians were then conducted by Mr. Bryan (captain of the. Moncton band to St. David's Church, where several touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung, and the party then sett of [or Cheltenham for tea. On the way home ringing took place at Thornbury, and a supper and social were enjoyed at Bristol. Here the Westonians were joined by Mr. E. Guise (lion. secretary of Gloucester and Bristol Association) and Mr. W. S. Emery (associate of the Bristol Branch), and some excellent songs welt rendered, among the contributor's being Messias. Milton Jones, E. Parker, G. Rails, George Taylor and others, with Mr. Harold Mirifie presiding at the piano. Weston was safely reached soon alter midnight. The pleasure of this annual outing was considerably eulanced by the extreme generosity of a well-known local lady, who has always been keenly interested in the welfare of the Weston ringers, but who modestly desires to remain anonymous.

INTER-ASSOCIATION MEETINGS.

Joint meetings between neighbouring districts of adjoining associations are becoming a very popular feature among ringers. We ale not quite sure to whom this innovation was due, but whoever it was who started this form of ringers' gathering deserves the thanks of the Exercise. It was little short of an inspiration. District meetings in the ordinary way serve, or should scrve, many purposes. In the first place they draw together the members of an association in friendly intercourse, they promote among those who attend them a desire to progress to higher things in ringing, and, by the services which are usually held, they bring home to others outside and remind the ringers themsetves, of the part they play in the work of the church. Joint meetings between associations do all this, and more. They bring together ringers who possibly would never otherwise meet, and thus extend one's circle of ringing acquaintances, broaden one's views on ringing affairs, and often stimulate new ideas, while in areas where associations overlap they serve the even more valuable purpose of helping to subdue jealousies and smooth over points of friction if there are any.
In every sense the intermingling of neighbouring organisations is a thing to be encouraged. After all, our associations all have the same objects' in view, and what rivalries there are ought only to be of a friendly kind: rivalry, for instance, in the determination to see which can do most to spread the art of change ringing; which cau achieve the best all round service in the belfry. The success of an association is not necessarily measured by counting heads or the number of peals rung. The best test of success is in the actual interest which the members take, first, in their duties in their own belfries, and the punctuality and regularity with which they discharge them; and next in furthering the work of their associations. He is a poor member who sits at home and waits for someone else to do everything for him-and yet there are many such to be found. On the other hand, those responsilble for running the various ringing societics must be prepared to do their share. They must organise on lines which will give their members something in which they can take an interest, for it is of no use to grimble at the lethargy of the rank and file if nothing is done to encourage activity in the individual. In this direction the district meetings are one step; the extended interest which is provided by joint meetings is another. Even looking at it from the social standpoint alone, these inter-association meetings are all worth while, and that they are appreciated by many is shown by the success with which they are usually attended.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Chesterfield District of the Midland Counties Associahon was held at tho Parish Chureh of Sid. Lawerce North Wing6eld, on Saturday, Augusl &4th, bub owing to wet weather the attendance was rather sinal, about 20 sitting down to ten, which was kindly proviled by the Lector. Members wero preseat from Alfreton, Bolsover, Cresswell, Chesterneld, Derby, Duffield, Morton, Rotherhain, Sutton and South Normanton. Touches and courses were brought round of Deuble Nowvich, Kent Treble Bobs, Beb Major, Stedman, Cambridge Surprise, Superlative and Norfoll Surprise.
A short meeting followed tea, when it was decident to hold the next meeting at Bolsover' on September 21st. Ringing continued until 9 p.m., when the lowering of the bells brouglat io a close a most successful meeting.

AMONG NORTHANTS TOWERS.

On August 17th, the Wicken aud Stouy Stratford ringers had thefr annual tour, which again proved most enjopable. The places visited were Highum Ferrers, Inthlinghorough, Finedon, Burton Latimer, Kebliering, Rothwell and Et. Gilos' (Northampton). During the day touches were rung in the following methods: Stedman and Grandsize Triples, Steduan Cators, Hob Royal, Kent Royal, Cambridge, Double Norwich and Bnb Najor. The party wish to thank, through 'The Ringing World,' all those who so kindly helped to nulke the trip so pleasant.

SPLICING DF PLAIN MAJOR METHODS.  THE RESULT OF SOME INVESTIGATMONS.

By Stephen F. Wood.

In the leading article of "The Ringing World " of April Sth on Splicing' it was suggested that someone shouid follow the example of Mr. Law James' and Mr. Pitman's spliced peals of Surprise Major, and of Plain Triples, and see what could be done witl regard to Plain Major Methods. The following is the result of some of Iny investigations in this direction.
Starting (as is proper) from the beginning, the first thing we consider is the 'Lead-for-Lead' Splice, which in this case does not lead us far, as the only methods haviag the same change in a lead are those laving different places (i.e., Zuds or 8ths) at the Treble's lend. The splicing of these will be dealt with later:
The next thing to consider is the 'Course-for-Course' Splice. Now, given any 'Court' Methad, we can in general derive 3 'bob' methods from it by adding (i,) 2nd's place (by itself)

\begin{aligned}
& \text { (ii.) 7th's place (by itself) } \\
& \text { (iii.) 2nds and 7ths; }
\end{aligned}

this will give us a group of 4 methods, in each of which the Plain Course (henceforwayd 'P.O.') contains the same chauges.
Let us now consider thie first 15 methods in the " Coltection of Plain Major and Cater Methods, and divide them ap into groaps tweh as I have jusli described, thus:-

| 8th's 「"lace Melhods. | 2nd's Place Methods. |
| :---: | :---: |
| No. 2. Reverse Bob. | No. 1. Plain Bob.  No. 3. Double Boh. |
| No. 4. Shlipway's Court. No. 6. Highbury Bob. | No. 5. Winchester Bols.  No. 7. Marlborough Bob. |
| No. 8. Lavenlam Court. No. 10. Maidstore Bot. | No. 9. Edmonton Bob.  No. 11. Chesterfeld Bob. |
| No. 12. Double Norwioh Court. No. 14. Pershore Bob. | No. 13. Hereward Bob. No. 15. Double Oxford Bou. |

The missing 'Court' method in the first group is represented by the plain hunting cotrse, whieln, tionath, of course, it foes not procluce a method itself, gives its 3 derivative "bob" methods by adding 2ad's and 7th's. It we add to the plaind lunting caurse ' 4 this and 3rd's round the Trehle' we get No. 4 Shipway's Court, and hy adding 2nd's and 7th's we get the other 3 methods hu this group, Nos. $5,6,7$. No. 8, Lavenham Court, is plain hunting with Eroup, and Sth's round the Treble, ${ }^{\text {and }}$ and Nos, 9 , 10 , 11 are its 5 companions. When we adsl bath ' 4 th's and 3rd's rourd the Treble' and 'Ethi's and 5th's round the Treble " to the plain humbing course we get No. 12, Donthle Norwich Court, and the addition of 2nd's and 7th's gives ass Nos. 13, 14, 15.
Th the above tabla I have also kept the and's place " methods and the '8th's place' methods in separate columns, because it will be advisable (at this stage at ally rate) ouly to attempt to splice up methods of like kind in this respect.
The significance of this table is therefore that in any composition where a whole course of any method appeas we may substitute a whole course of the other method in the sume group and column.

A BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENT.

As a $75 t_{1}$ birthdiy compliment to Mr. M. A. C. E. Smith, who has heen for 38 years a Smolay service viuger at Fullam, a touch of 504 Stedman Triples was atumpted at Alt Sainds', Fullam, on Surbday, but proved too lang far the veteran, who was ringing the tenor. Afterwards 504 Grandsire Triples was rung: H. C. Page 1, A. Gutinore 2. II. Beleher 3. J. W. Driver (conductor) 4, H. A. Folkard 5, W. H. Follicr 6, A. Harding 7, W. E. Naale 8.

Now, let us consider the possibilities of splicing these groups together. The question before us now is: "Giwen the P.C. of one of these groups, what courses of anotier of them will contain changes which repeat with it?' Let us take, for instance, the first 2 groups-i.e., the Plain Bob Group and the Shipway Group and compare the P.C.s. We find thas most of the elanges are the same; buts the End and 3rd rows and the 12th and 13 ths rows (counting from the Treble's back stroke blow at lead! in each lead axe diferent. Since there are 7 leads in a P.C. theze are, therefore, 14 pairs of rows in each method which are liable to repeat with each other. Now in 5 of these the tenors are iv wiflerent positions in the 2 methods, so that assuming that we are dealing only with composition with 7,8 fixed they cannot jepeat and we can therefore wash these 6 out. This leaves us with 8 possible places of repetition. Let us take one of those as an example aud consider it in defail.

The 2nd row of the Ist lead of Shipwav is 24135678 .
So that the corresponding row in the course of Shipway whichs starts from 13425678 would be 32145678 , and would therefore repeat with the P.C. of Plain Bob. गllis is the same as saying that if we ring the course in the Plam Boh Group which lias 23456 as its 'Natural Course End ' (henceforward 'N.C.E.') then we cammot riug the course in the Shipway Group which bas for N.C.E. 34256 without repetition. Or again, we may put it in tilis way, 34256 is a False Course End between the 2 groups." The other 7 pairs wil! give us 7 other false-cotirse-ends, making 8 in all,
We lave worked them out for the 2 groups, Plan Bob narl Shipway, but whichever 2 of the 4 groups we select we arrive in each case at the same set of 8 False Course Ends; they wre these:-
$\begin{array}{llll}342561 & 354261 & 632541 & 426351 \\ 423561 & 52436, & 43652 l\end{array}$

This is a very interesting, and most unfortenate, result; and it proves the impossibility of splicing together conves of diferent groups from the above table. It is possible to have isolated courses at different groups which are noli combected by miy of the 8 couditions represented by the 8 false-conrse-ends, and therefore not repeating with each other, but this unfortunately does not luelp tis much because it is not possible to join them up (using Bobsi). This is because the $B$ False-course-ends happen to be just the possible means of transposition from one N.C.E. to another (i.e., Wroag. Middle, Right, Before, Tn, Fifthe. Out and Homel and it is not, possible to get from one N.C.E. to another (in ally method) without using one of them.
Faving proved that we are up against a briek wall in this direction, we must go back and see what side-turnimgs (if any) may be explored with advantage. But first let me just make one point clear. So far I have assumed that we are dealing with in-course N.C.E.s only, i.e., we bave limited ourselves to the use of bobs. keeping Singles for the purpose of doubling the mumber of methods in our peal by ringing one half in-course in certain metheds and the other half out-of-course in other methods. Leter on we will rethrn and consider whether we can use Singles as a means of forcing a way through our brick wall.
Let us now take stock of the state of affairs and see what we can hope to do.
By ringing the first half in-conrse, and the Rud ont-of-conrse, with Singles lialf-way and end, we ean use 1 group in the first half and another in the 2nd. This will give us 2 methods. We can then substitute courses of one ather melhex for whole courses of each of these? (as explained above). This gives us 4 methods. Now, hy exercising ordinary care and a little ingemuity, we can compose on in-course vound-hock which contains cinnms of 2 methods which luave the same changes in a lead. but difierent places (i.e. 2ud's or 8th's) at the Treble's leati (e.g., Donible Norwich antid Double Oxford). In this way we can again double the tumber of mathods in our peal, bringing it up to 8 . The recompanying example contains 7 methods, the reason being that I have chosen the Plain Bob Group as one of the two, it heing so much the bestio known and most practised, and this group has one member missing (as explained aboves.
So far we have kept strictly to full Major methods; if we now admit "Little" Mefliods we can immediately adrl 6 more, becausc there are 6 Litite Methods ( 2 with the 'liveble lunting up to 4 th's place and 4 with it hunting up to 6 th's) in tije P.C. of wheh all the changes occur in either a P.C. of Plain Bob or of Shipwry* Court. Choosing these 2 groups therefore as our foundation we can get a peal containing 13 methods.
We must now temporarily suapend our investigations while we do a little actual composing. The result is the 2 accompanying peals. In ereh of them the autual composing is done in 4 methods, 2 in the first half and 2 in the last, cacln pair being a 2nd's place method and an 8th's place metwod having the same changes in a course. Whole courses of the other methods are then splieed in at appropirate places; the joining logether of the 2ud's place methods is at the course-ends, but the 8th's place methoris wust be joined at the 'Out' lead-end.
In writing out these peals it becomes necessary to dispente with the rather glipshod '1-4-6 business ' which is generelly used in the case of Double Norwich, and zesort to the correct terms, wamely, Wrong, Middle, Aight, and Before for 2nd's place methods, and In, Frith's, Out, and Home, for 8th's place methods.

I am glad to be able to say, in conclusion, that in these two cases the splicing of several methods into a peal has not been achieved at the expense of 'music.' Neither the 2 na nor 3 ml is ever in Gith's place in wilher of them, and I hope that their nusical qualities will batisfy the sternest critic of splicing.

A VISIT TO 'THE GARDEN OF EDEN.'

The members of the Si. Saviour's Society, Eastbourue, accompanied by the president (Rev. Claude Williams, Vicar), the viceplesident (Col. A. A. Oakham), and Mr. C. M. Taylor, churchwardens, also the Rev. L. Hends, former curate of St. Saviour's, now on holiday in England fram South Africa, had their anuual outing recently, when iney enioyed an excursion to Maidstone. The route was taken by way of Pevensey, Niofield, Casfield, Battle, Nuthimm, a pull at Rolvenden and theace to Tenterden, where luacheon was served after a few touches on the melodious peal at St. Mildred's. Seats again being taken in the well-appointed 'Southdown' charabanc, Headcorn, via Biddenden, was reached, where the eight bells were set going to some very good ringing, the journey being afterwards continued through Sutton Valence to Maidstone. After partaking of tea at a local restaurant, a wisit to All Saints belfry was made, where the bells responded to the tune of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, and Bob Royal. This concluded the ringing for the day. At $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , a start was made on the lomeward journey through Tonbridge and Tunbridge Wells. There is no gainsaying the frot that the ten miles between Maidstone and Tenbridge, which is termed 'the Garien of Eden' loy Kentish foll, well merits that description, with its river, with fine meadows on each side of it, and vale covered noti only with hop gardens aurl beautiful woods, but immense orchards. A stop was made at the Abergavenny Arans Hotols, Frant ito water the 'bosses' and other light refreshments). Here the opportunity was taken to thank the donors of the outing and feast, viz., the Ficar aud churchwardens, logether with the worthy secretary, Mr. W. Ware, for their kindmess and appreciation of the efforts of the members of the society in all matters connented witll the belfry. The churchwardens and Mr. Ware responded in felicitous terms. The Rev. L. Hands, whose anme was coupled with the toast, said how pleased he was to bave been ahle, after such a long absence abroad, to be present and to Gave spent such an enjoyable time as that day had afforded. Fe hoped that on his next risit, three years bence, he might be given a similar opportanity.
Fasthourue was reached by 11 p.m. after a most glorious ride througlt some of the prettiest villages in Kent and Sussex. In connection with this outing there is-only one regret, and that is, owing to a previous arrangement at Eastboune, the Vicar had to leave the party at Tenterden. The members of St. Saviour's Society desire, through the meditum of 'The Ringing World,' to thank the incumbents and those in charge of the churches mentioned, for their hinutuess in allowing their bells to be rung.

LANCASTRIANS IN SOMERSET

Heaing about 'Bumshire, near Bath, four kindred spirits decided to find $1 t$, und, after mearly 200 miles of a journey by various routes, we met together at tea, and started what proved to bo a successfin! week. Sunday morning found us at St. Saviour's Churets, Bath, where we successfully brought round a quarter-peal of Stednan Triples. Going round in the evening, we found two 'strangers ab the gate," who proved after challenge that they came from Plymouth for half a day. They made us up for Kent and Plain Bob Mujor for tha service. On Monday Evening we wert at Tiverton, where tomelics of Kent Major, Stedman Triples. Cambridge Major and Superlative were rung. A motor called at the dopr on Tuesday and taok us to Wells, where we speut an imteresting hour ronnd the Cathedral, going on to Cheddar, viewing the Gorge and one of the caves, and, driving on to within seven males of Bristol, we found a house on the roadijide, whete we were suppled with tea. Then on to St. Stephen's practice, where touches and tourses of Stedman Gaters, Kent Royal and Cambridge Major were the order, during which time the laxlie: drove to Clifton Downs nul Bridge. Eventually wa arrived at J3ath before 10 p.m. On Werlnesday, someone conveniontly geting married gave us a chance for a course of Grandsire Caters on the Abhey bells. Thursay heing second day of ihe reces, we went to try for our winter's keep, but after the fiflh vace wo got a 'duckillg' hefore we found shelter. We finished the day at Stt. Saviour's practice. Farlier in the week we arranged to meet Miss Willians in her own tower at Weston an Friday, and bere wo rang 720 Kent Troble Boh Minor with her, afterwards taking tea with her and hev father and enjoying a walk in the garden funder the mulberiy, walnut and tulip trees, whish we do not see in out part of the country. One of the party discovered a piano, and that meant a trial of vocal powers against jt, and a flute, played by Mr. Wiliame, who found us some old songs which were popular about the time we trook up ringing. We went on to meet Mr. Cunning at liathford, where Kent and Bob Minor were the order. Flaring that Tannton ylagers wore passing through on Saturday morning, we met them and had a word as they stretched their legs after their two honms run. Sunday conchaded with service rimging at St. Michacl's. Our guide, haring spent his Facation there for 20 vears, tried to show us in a week what he had found by tramping and traming us up aud down the hills. At the end of a long peal the footnote says the welcome "That's all' was a relief, or words of that sort, but in our long peal it was most unpopular, as it meant going luck to earn another "eightpence.' to deplace that we had spent, and, at the same tive, part with such friends whose names are too numerous to mention, hut whom we hope to mot gatir ix our homes or at Bnmahive. WOO OOP OT BEE.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The longest peal winandbells was rung in the belfry of Holy Trinity Churcl, Guidford, on Angust 31st, 1912, by the Winchester Dioeean Guitd. M1. Alfred Pulling called 19,738 Stedma Caters, wheth was rung in 9 hours 32 minutes. The original intention was to riug 22,222, but a late stack mado it mecessary to bring the bells rand tanliar. As it was, the ringing did not conclude until 11.27 p.m. The ringers werc Arthur Shepherd (now deceased), Alfred Pulling, Willan Shephed, James Hunt and Frank Blondell.
Bertiam l’rewctt, one of the linest ringerg that ever entered a belfry, was killed in action on August 31st, 1918. He had rung 953 peals.
The first ten bell peal in Sootand was Cuandsive Caters ruag at St. Hary's Cathedral, Edinbtrgh, on August 31st, 1886.
The first posl on the bells at Bishop's Stortiord was Grandsire Caters, ring by the Junior Society of College Youths on September 214, 1820.

SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR.

MR. YTMMAN PRODCCES A PEAL IN ELEVEN METHODS. 20 the Editar.
Dear Sir-With your kind permission, I have greaf pleasure througlı The Ringing Worle " in congratulating Min. W. Pye and his band on Ninging my plal in ten Suprise Majen methods. It is certainly a wonderful performance, and, whon I produced it, I was: very doubtinl if a band would ever be able to ring if. There is no doubt it is the most difficult peal evor rung on tower bells.
The following peal ean be rung in eleven methods. Fours faithfully, Carabridger Kent wnal Oxiond, St. Cloment's Bob Minor, Bob Doubles and Stedman Doubles comprised the ringing.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

SOME SUGGESTED CHANGES.
[Contributed]
The relation between the Central Council and the constituent organisations has been brought prominently before the Exercise on several occasions in the past, but it has come in an acute form this year on account of the action of the Gloucester and Bristol Association in cutting itself off from the Council. However much this may be regretted, the Council and the Exercise have got to face the position that a large and important association has withdrawn itself from membership because it is dissatisfied. Disintegration of this kind has a habit of spreading unless it can be promptly stopped and, while it is now stated that members of the association intend to do their best to bring their organisation back again to the fold, it is not certain their efforts will succeed.

It therefore behoves the Council itself to look into the ground of disagreement and not to bury its head in the sand and ignore the circumstances of the moment. If the house needs putting in order the Council should see to it. It may be that its present constitution and policy suits the majority of the affiliated bodies, but let it be remembered that the Council was formed close on forty years ago and that now the constitution and policy remain unchanged.' That may be considered by some to be a virtue; but there are others who look upon it as stagnation. The Exercise bas moved considerably in the last forty years and it is doubtful if the Council has progressed in equal degreeindeed, there are many who will declare that it has moved much more slowly.

When the Council was established its mission in the Exercise was a more or less self-appointed one. Many of the territorial associations at that time had bardly got upon their own feet and the Council, naturally, had carefully to feel its way. It was by no means certain that its presence would be welcome, but a judicious bandling of affairs established it safely as the organi-ed head of the Exercise. From tue start its policy has always been to influence and not to direct matters affecting ringing-to follow rather than to lead. After forty years 'in the saddle' is it not time that the Council adopted a bolder policy, and made itself a real centre of thought and progress, calling for loyal recognition on the part of all the many associations and guilds throughout the country

This question of whether members of the Council are representatives or delegates is bardly one upon which the Exercise need stop to split straws. They are members, and that should be sufficient. They are elected by their associations and if those by whom they are apfointed wish to have certain views expressed on any special subject they should, 'n loyalty to those who elect them, give expression to those opinions-or let someone else do so. And in this connection it might be well if the Council considered an alteration in the constitution to make elections aunual instead of triennial, as it now is.

Nothing would be lost by this change ; but it might do some good. In those organisations where the members of the Council have satisfactorily represented their association, there could be re-election, but in cases where an organisation wished to ensure support of a particular policy, they would be able to ensure the election of men (or women) who were in favour of such policy and there would be less likelihood of the spectacle of a member having to confess that his association wanted him to vote one way, while his own convictions urged him to vote the other. An anaual election would strengthen the position ot the associations, by giving them a more direct control ; it would strengthen the position of the Council by keeping it thoroughly representative of the current views of its affiliated bodies.

Another step in making the Council the feal head of the Exercise, in practice as well as in name, would be to make it a sim qua ron of membership that the Council's rulings should be recognised. To get all the associations to accept this may at first sight seem a difficult task, but it is really the only logical action that can be taken. After all, if the associations are content to send members to the Council, why should they not be content to accept the decisions arrived at? A free and easy attitude, by which an associdtion will accept the decisions whicb please it and reject those that do not, is one that leads no whither. If the question were properly put before the association-if they were educated so to speak-they would, it is easy to believe, come to the view, that to be consistent, they must, if they are affiliated, accept the rulings of the Council and that there is no reason, therefore, why, in retaining affiliation, they should not pledge themselves, as some of them have already done, to do so.
The rules of the Council lay down the number of ' representative members ' which an affiliated society may elect, the number, with a maximum of four, heing governe. 1 by the membership of the society concerned! Instances could be quoted where societies, entitled to, say, three or four members, elect only one or two-presumably in order to save the small affiliation fee. That is a parsimony that ought to be discouraged and even if an association does not send the whole of its representatives to the meetings (or delegates, if you prefer it) it ought at least to pay its full fees.

The Council's rules provide for the representation to be in a certain proportion, so the society of over 450 mem bers, whicb is entitled to four representatives, and which elects only one representative, is depriving the Council of a part of its legitimate income. The Council has just altered one of its rules, by which the fees have beeu raised from $2 / 6$ to 5 - per member ; it might well give consideration to a further change, by laying down, instead, that a society exceeding 75 but not exceeding 150 members should pay an affiliation fee of $5 /$ - and be entitled to one representative; exceeding 150 but not exceeding 300 should pay a fee of yol- and be entitled to two representatives; exceeding 300 but not exceeding 450 sbould pay a fee of I5/- and be entitled to three representatives; and exceeding 450 should pay a fee of 201 - and be entitled to four representatives. This in turn ought also to involve a definition of those who should be included in the total, and obviously the proper basis of counting heards in county and diocesan organisations would be to include only resident members. A large proportion of the strength of many associations is made up of 'compounding ' or nonresident members and these should be excluded when arriving at the membership upon which representation should be based.

In another direction the liok between the Council and the associations might le strengthened and a possible (Costinued in next column.)

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION'S FIRST PEAL OF STEDMAN

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, - 1 n the report of the retirement from ringing of Mr Maldock, of Tannton, it was stated that he conducted the first peals of Minor, Bet Major, Kent Troble Bob and Stedman Triples for the Ball and Wells Association. The first peal of Stedman Triples for the assomistinu was rumg at Dunster on February 4th, 1895, conducterl by U. F. Winncy. Mr. Maddock rang the tenor to the first peal of Stedman at st. James', Trunton, July 3rd, 1897, eonducter by Fervis Shephated, and he wang his first meal of Stedman Triples inside on Demenher 27th, 1898, conducted Wy C. F. Winmey, at St. James'. It is, blevefore, an error to say that he condueted the first peal of Stcdman fuples. I rang in all three of the peals mentioned.- Yours trils, W. W. THORNE means of irritation removed. Both the Gloucester and Bristol Association and the Suffolk Guild have complained of the way in which motions which they bave got on to the agenda bave been treated. At present the only recognised form of motion is that given in a personal way by a member. If associations are to take a fuld interest in the Council and get their suggestions considered by the central body, they ought to be able to send them officially as recommendations. It would often give a proposal more weight and even gain for it a wider consideration by other aflijated bodies. What apparently is wanted is a set of Standing Orders as suggested by Rev. H. Dralke, which would put this procedure and other matters on a proper footing.

Once again, let the Council examine its own position and adapt itself to modern developments. There are many ways in which it might make itself the leader as well as the adviser of the Exercise.

THREE ASSOCIATIONS* JOINT MEETING.

BIG GATHERING AT HEBTFORD
The popularity of associantions' joint mectings was further extmplified on Sacurday lust, when between 70 and 80 xingers atterded a joinl; gathering of the Essex, Herts and Micdlesex Associations at Hertford. A pleasing featate was the number of veterans present, and it was evident that thoy eacl came to see if they would mects other volerans, to chat together over old days. They were not disappointed, and tee especially hope that onc old friem Mr. Joe Waghom will bu spared to attend many more suchs meetings. Divine service was hehl in St. Andrew's Church at 5 p.un., when the Rev. R. J. Paulsen gav the members of the three assoniations a sincere welcome to the conty Lown. 'Tlue Herts Association form of service was used.
At tea Mr. C. H. Foward (Master, Essex Association) took the chair. He was supported by Mr. W. H. Lalurence (Herts), Messris. E. J. Estler, G. R. Pye and W. J. Nevard (Essex), Messrs. C. T, Coles and W. Piokwortil (Middlesex), and a large number of members und fliends of the three socibties.
Mr. Fownd expressed the pleasure of the Essex ringers in being associated with these jome meetings. They werte not now satisfed with two societies fratemising; and lo was pleased that the three associations conkd meet together.
Mr. Lawrembe gave a learty welcome to the visitors from Essex and Middlesex. He was cleliglited at the presence of the Master of the Tssex Astoriation, and also expressed his pleasure at geeing members of the Ashton long peal hand present. Fe heartily congratulated them on their achievement.
Mr. Coles thanked the lnst speaker for the vory kind welcome given to Middlesex ringers, and said he hoped to give Heatis and Essex ingers an egually herrty welcome in Midklesex mext pear. Ho also thanked Mr. Labreuec for his kind refertence to the $A$ shton peaf, and paid a trilute to the excellent; 'go' of the bells, staling that if the belliangers lad not done theit work well it would liave been impossible task.
Mr. E. J. Bither, on behalf of Essex ringers, also expressed pleasure at being present, and was glad to notice that all had lad a nucts octiter tea this year
M: Howard moved a vote of thanks to the various incumlantis for the tuse of the bells, and to the Rov. R. J. Panlser for taking the servico. He also roferred to the Aslaton peal, and to the spliect peal in ten mebherls rung at Willesten. Te ceased to be surarised at anything that was accomplished by ringers nowadays. Mr. Howard also proposed a hearty vote of thanks to M1: Lawrence for the excellent arrangements made, whicl was oarried with acclamatien.

BROMLEY YOUTHS

The ringers art our grateful nates prolong, Apollo listens and approves the soug. (Bromley 7in bell.)
The first peal on the bells of Bromley was rung on Manday, June 14Lh, 1773, in 3 lurs. 7 mins., conductea by James Barlam, of Leeds, who was very jealous of any strange company coming iato the county of Keat for bell openings. He never joined either of the twa old London societies, as he considered the Lemham and Leeds company second to mone in England at that time. His band had rung four peals in that year before visiting Bromley, includiag a 13,000 of Bob Major, at Leeds.
The College Youths opened Bromley bells, and the Royal Cumberlands followed in unsuccessful efforts to score the 'first.' However, both bands consoled themselves the following year by ringing a peal of Treble Hob Major, May 8th, 1774, conducted by Edward Rumball for the College Youths; and a peal of Unton Bob Major, composed and couducted by George Gross, on September 25th, 1774 , for the Oumberlands. It is interesting to note the lengli of these performances $-5,088,5,056$ atod 5,184 clianges-alI Major.
The eight bells were cast by Thos. Jannaway, of Chelsea. He was an offshoot of the Whitechapel Foundry before William Meara retired in 1789.

Establlshed 1844

the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Belts, about to be installed at Riverside Cerrce, New York, U.S.A.

There can be little question, we think, that the Exercise, taken as a whole, is desirous of seeing the Central Council made an effective as well as a nominal head of the Ringing Exercise. Without some such organisation every association would set up its own standards and the art, which is now a national one, might easily lose cohesion both in the expansion of its principles and in its practice. But at present, despite nearly forty years' existence, the Council is not taken seriously by many of the rank and file and its decisions are merely treated as the opinions of a body of people, who may or may not be competent to express them. That, of course, is not the view of those who study what the Council has done and is trying to do. The sum of the Council's labours has been a very large contribution to the progress of the art in the last three or four decades; yet there are still those who imagine that the Exercise could get on very well without it. While the Council's prestige is to-day higher than ever it was, it needs an even wicler recognition than it at present receives. How is that recognition to be obtained? We would commend to our readers the article which was contributed to our last issue by a member of the Council. This article put fortard a number of steps which it was suggested might be taken to bring the Council into closer relationship with the affiliated bodies, and every one of the points raised is worth the serious consideration of the associations. Not the least important of the changes suggested is, in our opinion, the annual election of the representative members, not merely on the ground that it would enable thu associations to ensure that on any issue previously raised its views would be adequately represented, but because we think it would give a closer touch than is now possible, under the triennial elections, between the associations and the Council. At present the election of members of the Council comes before the associations only once in three years, and, except in the few cases where the representatives are asked for a report, nothing tangible to awaken interest in the Council or in any action of the members of the Council, happens again for another three years. An annual election would, at any rate, keep the Council under the attention of the members of the associations, whose interest might be further stimulated if all matters outside the absolutely domestic affairs of the Council were officially communicated by the Council to the affiliated bodies. They could then be commented upon or elaborated by the association's own representatives, and in this way a more direct interest might be established. But with an interval of three years between the happenings within an association's own proceedings of anything relating to the Council, can it be wondered at that memhers of the associations not only lose touch but also interest in the Central body? An annual election, therefore, is, in our opinion, a most necessary change in the constitution of the Council.

THE VICISSITUDES OF AN ANCIENT BELL

BROKEN AND UNFANIED-NOW TO AUGMFNT ABBEY RING
Few ancient bells ean havo experienced the vicissitudes of that which is shorlily to find a new home in Minster Abbey Churela at Sheppey. Recently the tive bells here were restored by tho generosity of Mr. S. T. Hipwell, the old bell thove roierred to froken and useless) is tiow to be recast at the Whitchapel Foundry, and is to be added to Minster Abbey ring to make a peal of six.
The story of this ancient bell is telal by the 'Sheerness Guardian, and will be of interest to ringers:
'It was cast round about the year 1002 by Messrs. Hateh, the same family which, some 60 years later, cast the bells of Minster Abbey Church. The Iong, slender shape of the pall indicates its antiquity Chat bell was hang in the tower of Warden Church, a mud and plaster buidling, wilh a stone tower, which alone withatood the onslaught of time. Ia due course, however, the churel had to be demolished. (Contrary to the usual story, it did not fall down the clifs, although its remains are at present under the sea.) The tail, apparently unwanted, lay for a considerable time among the ruins, forgotten by most people, and neglected by tha rest.
'So time passed, until, during' the time when the late Mr. W. Bramston was Vicar of Minster, it was decided to build a mission church at Halfway. The church was built, and there was but one thing that was missing-a bell. Then Mr. Crawley, who had long been interested in the project, vemembered the bell at Warden. He approached the Ficar on the matter, permission was sought and ohtained, and the bell was carted from jis bed among the ruins and insstalled into the tower of Si. Peter's Church, where again it entered apon-its ecclesinstical duties. Its carcer, however; was not to remain radisturbed, for before very long a fire broke out at the church, which was destroyed. Again the bell was found among the ruins, hat the intense lieat and the fall hat done thein work-it was in pieces.
'That seemed likely ta be the end of its carcer, but Mr. Cumpey again intervened, and the pieces were collected. Being useless for Their original purpose, however, they were deposided in a forge kept hy Mr. Foreman, then at Halfway, now at Minster. There they remained, lying in non obscure conner, until the removal of Mr. Foreman to Minster. There being then no piace to stove the remnins of the bell, they were taken to Minster Abbey Cluveh, whero they remained beneath the clock in the bell tower uytil the death of the Vicar of Minster, and the coming of the Rew. E. A. Miller, some four geare ago. At that time the parish of Warden was taken away from Tinster, to which it liad formerly helonged, and was transferred to Fastehurch. The goods of the parish had accordingly to be transferred also, and artong iliem the broken bell, stil] wnownted, travelled.

During the last few yeurs the pieces have lain at Eastchurch. Nobody scemed to want them, and nobody seemed to know what to do with them. Then Mr. Hipwell, having restored the bells at Winster, wished for another beil, in order that the church might be brought into line with Eastchurch and Quecaborough, which possess six bells each, there being only five at hinster. Hearing by clance of the broken warden bell, Mr. Hipwell spproached the Wicar of Minster with a view to getting the pieces transferred. This was done, and the pieces were sent to London, where they are now in process of being recast.'

THREE GUILDS MEET

Three neighbouring Guilds, Guildiord, Osford and Winclester and Portsmotuth, held a joint meeting nt Hawley, Hants, on Saturday. Hawley is one of the few Fampshire towers which came into the Guildford Diocese when the old Winchester Diocese was elivided, and it stands very close to the boundaries of all three of the dioceses mentioned. Yateley, an eightbell tower, only a mile or so away, is in the Winchester Diocese, and Sandhurst, with six bells, a little further off, is in the diocese of Oxford. All these towers were open for rimging in the afternoon, but the visitors, who numbered nearly 60, seemeri to concentrate on Hawley.
The Guildford Guidd's farm of service wis used, and was conclucted (in the absence of the Rector of Hawley) by the Rev. D. L. Board, of Wolverton, hon. secretary of the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. The lesson was read and the address given by the Rew. B. Long, Rector of Wokingham, who succeeded Canon G. F. Coleridge as Rucal Dean of Souning. He preached from Romans xi. 13, 'I magnity mine office, and spoke of the necessity of recognising, first of all, the fmportance of any work which whs undertaken, and of recogrising, nexi, their wealkness in being able to carry it through. $A$ grnsp of these iwo prineiples, lie said, would do much towards making their work better and more effective. They as bellringers were offeers with a great work lo do for God and His Churel, and they could magnify their oflice if they had in mind the two principles to which ho bad referred. The rauk and file in the Church looked to them to see that their work was well done, and that their lives were lived as hacame their high calling.
Iea was selved in the Memorial Hall, after which there were wotes of thanks to the incumbents of the cliurches, the preacher, tha organist, and those, including Mr. Boyles, who hat made the local arrangements, proposed by Adwiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O., hon. treasurer of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, who welcomed the visiting Guilds, and said how greatly the Guildford Guite valued the opportunity of meeting their nelglabours in this friendly way.
Mr. G. Pullinger (general secretary of the Winclester and Portsmouth Guild) replied, reararking that he hoped the joint gailsering of the three Guilds would become un anmual event.
Mis. R. T. Fibbert (gencral secretary of Oxford Diocesan Gulal) also referred to the good results that must acepuc from such meetings, ant he apologised for the absence of tha Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxforl Diocesan Guild), who was away on holiday.

Mr. W. J. Paice (hon. secretary of Soming Deanery Brauch of the Oxford Guild) said that Canon Coleridge lad sent lis regrets that he was unable to be present, as he also was away on boliday. Mr. Paice went on the say that the ploposal to frave a peal of twelve bells at St. Lawrence's Church, Reading, had now been definitely decided upon. It would be the first peal of 12 in Berkshine, and the scheme hard gone through largely as the result of the efforts of Mr. Hithert. About $£ 170$ liad got to he raised for these fwo bells, and tha belp of any ringers would be greatly appreciated.
Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, hon. secrelary of the Guildford Guild, ulso spoke, and Mr. Hibbert explained the position of the scheme for zugmenting St. Lawrence's bolls.
A number of contributions were alterwarts handed to Mr'G. Gilbert, who had brouglat witly him an, rifficial receipi book.
smong those who attended the gathering, in addition to those whose names have alrendy been mentioned, weve Mr. G. Williams (Master of the Wiachester and Portsmonth Diocesan (iuild), who had to leave early, Mr. C. Denger hon. secretary of the Farnlame District of the Guildford Guild), Mr. Wilfred Audrews (Winchester Cathedrall, and wingers from Aldershot, Bagshot, Buamley (Fiants), Binfield, Finclampstead, Harrow Weald, Hawley, Maidenhead, Seate, Sandhurst, Slough, Woking. Wokingham, ete. In the evening there was further ringing, and Yorktown bella, another ring of eight, were also open.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A mecting of the Western Division of the Yorkshite Assuciation was helf at Kildwick on Saiutday, August 24th. The attendance was small, the following towers being represented: Bradford, Halifax, Keighley, Sheffield, Guiseley, Far Hearlingley, Queenshury, $kisuon and the local company. In the afternoon, vouches of Grandsine thad "Creble Bob were dinng, and at 5 o'clock an adjournment was made for tea. Afterwards, the business meeting was held in the Parish Room, Mr.J. Cotterell (vice-president) heing in the chair.
There were no invitations for the hecmber meeting fortheanimg, and it was decided to endenvour to wrange onn at. St. Michal's, Feadingley.

Votes of thanks were proposed to the Ficas and chrurelnardens for the use of the bells, to MT'. J. J. Brigg for kindly placing his trmunds at the disposal of the visitors, and to the local company for the arrangements made. These were carried unamimolys. The tower was again visited, and touclıes of Duuble Norwich, Stedman Triples, Trehle Beb, and frandsie were tumg.

SOME INTERESTING CHURCHES.

HSSEX EINGFRS HABPY FXCURSION.

The lunghtou and Woadford ringets had illeir annual outing on Sulurday, August 24th. Invitations to join the party were extonded to the Winstrat difigers sud litiends of the local bands, and fortiyone limel up, for the two charabanes engaged for the trip. ## NO "TRICKS" AT 'THEE FOUNDRY.

Accompanied by a fow ringers from Groft, Earl Shilton ringers cisited Loughborough for thoir anual auting on Satorday, August 24in. The principal attraction was the Bell Foundry, where they were met by Mir. H. Stubbs, who kindly conclucted the party round the works, where now peals and chimes of bells were objects of great interest. Mr. J. P. Fidjer hindly cntertained the party with twes on a carillon which lad buen erected before lueing despatched to Amorikia. Tho ringers then adjouthed to the foundry campaaile, where some well-struck tonches of Grabdsite and Stedman Triples and Boh Major were brought round on the litile peal. After a grod repast at a local cafe, the parly visited Woodlaouse Eaves and trited the very nice ring of six there, the "bag' being six-score of Grandsire and Stednan, touches of Bob Minor and coturses of Kent Treble Bob. Tumes and courses of Girandsire Triples on the handbells brought a very pheasant ouling to a close. Thanks are dite to Messrs. 3. Taylor and Co. for kink permission to visit the foundry, and Messis. Stubbs and Fider for their linduess, the Foundry belle on this occasion did not "play Lrioks," as is sometimen recorded in "Mas Ringing World' as being the anse when strangers handle then. One resident remarked that he thouglst the local men wore ringing them.
If ringers cannot ring at the Foundry it is entively their own fault. The party take this opportnaty of hanking the Vioar and Ringing Master at Woodhouse Eaves for putting the bella rat that chareh at their disposal.

HARWICH RINGERS' TOUR.

'I'se ammut outing of the St. Nipholas' Gaikl, Horwioh, tools place on Saturday, August 24th, in glorious weather. Leavirig Harwich al 8.45 a.m. by charabane, a party of twelve, widh their friends, set forth for a visit to Braintree and Makions. After journeying through Calchester and Marks Tryy, a call was matic at Great Tey, and a tisit was paid to the tower, of this old clinch, where the bells wore set going to Kent 'ryeble Bob Major and Grandsipe Triples. At Buantree, the party were met by Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Essex Association and Mr. Wiffen, who had everything in readiness for ringing at the Parish Church. Touches of Graudsire Triples and Kent treble Boh Major were brought round on this nice peal of night, the 'go' of them being splonalid. Lunch was serwed at the Nag's Fead, under the supervision of Host E. Searle, and wans much apprediated. Luncla nyer, fle journoy was resumed to Madon. Hore they were met, all All Saints by wr. W. Chalk, amd touches of Grauclsire and Kent Treble Boh Major were duly brought rouncl. The last time the company rang here the hells wore a peat of six. After tea, tracks were made for St. Mary's, where there is at peal of six. This is a very old tower, wilh enough room for 12 holls. Kint and Oxford Treble Bols Minor were brouglit round, also two courses of Grandsine Triples on handbells. The party left fon home via 'Гip Tree ama Cohehester, Harwich being reached all 11 p.m. The company wish, through 'The Ringing Worki,' to thank the varions incumbents for the use of the bells, also Mr. J. Dyer (liycat Pey), Mr. C. H. Howart (Master), and Mr. Wiffen (Brantree), and Irr. F. Clank (Maldon, for their kintmess which made the day so enjoyable and the outine a success.

LEEDS SOCIETY BREAKS NEW GROUND.

The Leeds and District Society held amother suceessful and wellattended gathering on Saturday. New ground was hroken in the society's history by holding the meeting at Batley. The Vicat wolcomed the ringers at 3 p.ms, and apologispd for the weather, nIhad done with a garden party which was to bave heen held in the Vichirge grounds that afternoon.
Ringers were present from Calverley, Rotiwell, Headingley (St Chad's', Leeds Parish Ghurch, Lindley, Mirliele, Liversedge, Armley, and the local company. After various metlions had been mutr, some of the rimgers adjourned to the claurch schools and joined in the tea which had been arranged for the gatuen partiy
The rext meeting will be beld at Hunsict Parish Churel on September 28 t tl.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Ficar and chturchwardmes for thu use of the bells and ta the locai company for the necessary arranguments, brought the husiness meeting to a close, when ringing was resumed.

Thas tone and casy running of the bells, east by J. Tayfor and Co. in 1905, won the admiration of all. Touelaes of Stelman, Kent Trehe Bob, and Double Norwich and Bob Minor were rang bat dime stopped the ery for more Daylight sud ringing were both finishen, and the run home was brightened by the "gentle whispers' of the young bloods and the tumeful Norfolk melodies of Mr. Plumner. A happy day harl beer spent, the spirit of comyadeship lind been sirengtheued, and confidenar gained by those who kad recently become association members. All offer their sineere thanks to the incumbents of the various parishes for the use of the bells, aut to the ringeres whagreeted the party-

PORTSMOUTH RINGERS' OUTING

On Saturday last the ringers of the Cathedral Chureh of St Thomai of Canterbury, Portsmouth, with their friends, keld their lirst annual outing, which included visits to six towers in threc counties. Tl'he tour cammenced punctually at the scheduled bime, 7.30 a.m., which fact elicited remarks from the facctious ones, comparing this with tive times of attendance on Suudays and prachice nights. After a plessanti run of 30 miles, througla kie beautiful Meon Falley (durins which certain members completed their radely disturbed beauty sleepl, Alton was reached at $9.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$., where the splendid octave at St. Lawrence's Chureh (Lenor* 18 cwt ) were soon im motion, tonches beins rung in the standard methods. Leaving at 10 a.m., a quick lun took the party into Farminam by 10.30 a.m. Here an old friend in the person of Mr . A. Hasted was present, and by the time haln The party hard blacked the elder ringers, who had found a very congenial retreat in which to renow old acguaintanceship, and a coupla of touches had been rung, it was found that the driver was playing a solo on his horn, being already 20 minutes late for leaving. The next atop was Dorking, where a splendid lanch was done ample justice to at the White Horse Hotel, an ancient and historic coaching house, in which haff the ledies of the party lost their pay in the ]abyrinth of passeges. Unfortunately time did not permit of any inging here in this town owing to the time lost by the conviviality at the last stop. A pleasant run of I4 miles brought the party to Horsham, where a certain member was taught a lesson regarding ringing with a slack rope, when the rope slipped wheel. Touches of Stedman and Kent were brought round. Another six miles landed the party in fillingslurst, where a good ring (tenor $13 \mathrm{cwt}$. ) were soou going to Givaldsire and Kent Treble Bob Major, which were successfully brought round, before settling of for Petwonth and tea at the Angel Fotel. After three of the party had been dragged from the intricacies of clock golf, a move was made the the tower, where hangs a beautiful octave, aud great surprise was expressed that such at specimen of the bell founders' art should cxist without a resident change-ringing bund to ring them. Pulborongh was reacher at $7.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$, where 45 minntes ringing in the cormpany of Mr. Doick was thoroughly enjoyed, the return journey being made via Stindon Woods and Chichester. Whe methons rugg ineluded Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Boh and Kent 'reble Bob Mrjor, the conducting heing shared among Messls. F. A. and F. W. Burnetit and H. L. W. Aitken. All who participated wish to express, throngly the medium of this paper, their gratitude to all incumbents and stecplekeepers, who contributed so much by their courtesy and assistance to the suceess of the outirg.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUMF AND WEST DISTRICi ENTERTATNED AT STAINIS.
A meeting of the Soulla and West District of the Middlesen County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held in tropical heat at St. Peler's, Staines, on Saturday, but the riverside tower drew a large-company, nearly 60 being present from Achon, Chiswick, Lating, Heston, Hillingdon, Harrow, Beaconsfetel, Boyn Hill, Maidenhead, Felthan, Farnham Royal, putney, Croydon, Staines, ete. Ringing started at 3.20, and methods from Girandsire Triples up to anil including Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise were practised during the meeting. A service wns conducted by the Vicar (the RevDi. W. H. Flecker), and the singing was lex hy the organ.

After service, the company was entertained to tea by the Vicar and Mrs. Flecker in the Parish Eall. 'He Vicar presided, supported by the vice-president (Mr. C. S. Bird), Mrs. Flecker and Mra. Bird The usual business was transacterl. Dr. W. H. Flecker was elected an honorary member, and Master George Fawksworily a ringing member for Acton.

At the request of the Vicar, several Louches of Caters, Major and Triples were rung on handbells by Messts. $\mathrm{F}^{\text {. Goudfellow (Ringing }}$ Master), W. Wilson, R. A. Fardon, E. S. Tumel", G. Martin, J. Herbert, J. R. Maekman, Mi. sud Nits, C Mayne
A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Dr. and Mis. Flecker for their kind hospitality, which was grearly appreciated by the whole company, to the Vican for conducting lue bervice and the weleome he gave to the Guild, to the organist, to Miss Helen E. Riggs, who 50 ably served the tea with the assistance of Mr. and Mris. G. Walms ley, and the attention they pajd to the needs of the comprany will not he forgotten.
An appeal was made by the hon. sectetary on belalf of Mr. Tom Beadie, who is in his 79th year; nad has been in and out of hospital for the past three years. "He has becu a member of the Isleworth band for forty-four ycars, ath was it pioneer of change linging in West Middlesex.
The sum of two guineas was collected at the meeting. Further coutributions will be gratefully received by the hou. secretary of the district (Mr. W. H. Hullier, 29 , Duko Road, W.4), and will be acknowledged in "The Ringing World.

Best thanks to Mr. W. E. Parker and Mr. Wralmgley of the Jacal band brohight a most pleasant afternorn to a close. Afterwards the bells of St. Peter's and St. Mat's Churchas were rung.
The next meeting will be held at Twiekenhant, aud the usual notice will appoar in "The Ringitg World."

Did James Barhan, the famous old Leeds (Kent) ringer ring a clastch bell for a longer period without a stop than any other man before or since? A correspondent raises this guestion, and remarks that he has seen it recorded that in the 40,320 Barham rang for 14 lirs. 50 mins. on end.

THE QUICKEST PEAL ON EIGHT BELLS?

What is the quickest peal of 'Iriples rung on tower bells?
Last Friday a peal of Stedman 'riples was rung at Crayford in 2 hrs. I4 mins.! It was rung in a deliberate allempt to see bow quickly a peal could io completer an these fasi-going bells, the temor of which is 123 ewt., and the band really surprised themseves.

Naturally, as the outcome, there is an inquiry as to the fastest tower heli peal af 'rriples. The band that rang the peal at Crayford make no clan to a record, but they would like to know if any peal of Triples has been rumg on church bells in quicker time.

The rate of striking was over 37 clanges per minute, which is, wher one comes to think about it, a remarliable speed.

The Ringing Worla" will be glad to receive brief particulars of any eight-bell peals on tower bells rung in 2 hrs. 20 mins. or less.

THE SHERWOOD YOUTHS.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT GREASLEY
A meeting of the Society of Sherwood Yortlis had been arranged at Nutlaall for Saturday last, but owing to the sudden death af the church orgamist, the Vicar (Cunon Bucter) asked that the meting should be postponed. The request was, naturallw, immediately acceded to. Communication witll the Rer. J. S. Galloway, of Greasley, asking for the use of has bells testuter in permession locing al once readily given by telephone message as follows: 'Come; shall be delighted to have yotu." & notice was, therefore, left on the church door at Nuthali informing those who cared to travel on to Greasley.
The party's arrival was welcomer by same of the local men ard also the Ficar, and a very delightful two hours' ringing was enjoyed by aft, only one tonch failing to come round. Members and friends were, present from the following towers: Bottestord, Coterave, St. Mary's, Nottingham, Arksey, Loughborough, ant the loctis. Touchos in the follawing mothods were brought round: 360 Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Tuples, Kenl Treble Bob Major, and a plain caurse of Cambridge Surprise Minor'. As the party were jusi thiaking of getting ready for home, a well-known representative of the local bell foundry walked in. He was either 'prospecting. or 'joyriding '; it is not known which, so there was anotlaer 'sot to, end the evening finished with a nice touch of Stedman Triples with the abovementioncd gentleman ringiug the 6ilh. The bells at Greasley are a very nice, laudy ring of eight by Taylor.

A very cnjozable meeting ended wilh a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and the local men for meuting the members, and furthen meetings of the same kind are loped for.
It is proposed to heve the nexd mecting at sonthwell Miuser, on September 28tJ.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

To the Editor.

Sir, - No one, I feel sure, could do otherwise than applaud the spirit and general tenour of the article on the Central Councit contributed to your last issue. With the bulk of its suggestions I cordially agree, and if I seem to criticise some of them, it is solely with a view, in complete harmony with your contributor, to forward the Council's utility and influence.

As far as regards the Cloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association in its relation with the Council the 'ground of disagreement' is what I have never been able to discover, the ground hitherto alleged in your columns being wholly, and I may say ridiculously inadequate, and suggesting some hidden discontent which has not yet come out.

The Council can, of course, alter its constitution, and I am among the number of those who say: By all means let it do so, or at least let it try. I much doubt if an annual election of its members would effect any considerable difference, but there could be no harm in giving it a trial. As concerns the Council's policy, it can work only on the materials supplied to it. In other words, it can never make its own policy. Its policy is that which the associations and the Exercise make for it. It can, of course, decline to deal with any subject that it thinks questionable or dangerous, but of these the only ones treated thus, so far as I iemember, have been proposals that the Council should deal with or have control of funds other than its own, those, that is to say, which defray its own expenses of meeting, committees, printing, etc. it has purposely held aloof from anything in the shape of benefits in illness or in want of work, or anything of that sort, and my own strong opinion, I may say, certainly, is that the moment it trangresses this rule it is digging its own grave.

Of your contributor's meaning in saying that it would be well' to make it a sine qua non of membership that the Council's rulings should be recognised ' I am not sure. 'Membership - of what? Of the Council or of the association? If of the Council, surely it is the case already. If of the association I do not see how it can be ensured. The rest of the paragraph is quite plain, and 1 heartily agree with it.
I heartily agree, also, with the contributor's two concluding suggestions, viz., that it might be well for each association to pay an annual lump subscription to the Council according to the number of its resident menibers, and to elect the maximum (or a smaller) number of representatives to which that subscription entitles then; and, secondly, that notices of motion should be forwarded a certain number of weeks beforehand by the honorary secretary of the association to the honorary secretary of the Council, and be published by the latter in 'The Ringing World "not less than six weeks before the annual meeting. This would allow time, in the event of any of them being out of proper form, to correct what is amiss. Want of proper form has, I believe, once or twice created difficulty with the association.

A PEAL OF TWELVE FOR BERKSHIRE. ST. LAWRENCE'S, READING, TO HAVE TWO MORE BELLS.

A decision has been taken to add two trebles to the ring of ten at St. Lawrence's Church, Reading, to provide the first peal of twelve in Berdshire, but it means that the ringers have got to do their part in helping to raise the funds.

A scheme of resturation had previously been undertaken, by which a new frame and fittings for the old ten was to be provided, the treble recast and the other bells tuned. The contract was secured by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and it was felt that the opportunity should be taken to complete the twelve at the same time. Mr.
Tom ' Hibbert, who is the Foreman of this tower, as well as being Secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guilk, worked assiduously to this end, and eventually persuadeal the church authorities that such an extension was a desirable one. The authorities, already committed to an expenditure of $£ 600$ or $£ 700$, would not, however, shoulder any further financial responsibility, but in order that the opportunity should not be lost the necessary guarantee was given by the Master of the Guild (Rev. C. W.O. Jenkyn), who is confident that the necessary additional money, something near 200 , can be raised.

The order was, therefore, placed for the new trebles and St. Lawrence's will now add one more to the rings of twelve in this country. The tenor is about $z_{4}$ cwi., and when the bells have been tuned an excellent ring for their weight is promised. This addition will give the Diocese of Oxford a peal of twelve in each of the three Archdeaconies, viz., at Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford; High Wycombe, Bucks; and Reading, Berks.

BOCKING BELLS FUND

On Saturday a very successful garchen fete and sale of work anul rummage sale was held in the Deanory Grounds, Bocking, in aid of the fund for the relanging of the hells of St. Mary's Chureli. There were mumerous competitions and sideshows, and between 2,000 nod 3,000 people attended. Mrs. S. A. Constauld opened the gromads at 2 p.m. The Brantree town band attented, and there was ifancing in the evening. The takiogs ammonted to about $£ 150$, and it is expected that, aftor expenses have been paid, 8120 with go to the fund.

DEATH OF CROYDON RINGER.

We regret to record the death of a wolf-fnown and respected Croydon ringer, Mr. Willian Groves, who passed tway aftm alomt bwo months' illnoss, at the age of 62 years. Mr. Groves was formenly connected with Croyton Patsh Chareb, where he rung peals as far back as the 'mineties, but about four years ago, ofs leawing that parish, he joined the St. Peter"s Saciety.
Some splendid examples of the dereased's handiwork can be seen in some of the woml carvings in the Parisla Chureh, of which he was carelaker for a number of years.
The funeral service at St. Petar's and the interment at Mitcham Road Cemetery were conducted by the Rev. P. Thornton (senior earatel, while as a last token of respect to thell colleague and friond, the following rang at St. Peter's Cburch a well-struck quar-tel-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes) in 55 mins., with the Lells lale-muffled: D. Wright 1, R. H. Dove 2, C. FL. Kippern 3, J W. Trappilt 4. li, W. Larbog 5, 13. N. Newson 6, E. Denlam 7, A W. Clarke 8, F. J. Collins 9, W. J. Adsock 10.

A RINGFR FRON BOYHOOD.

At Broughton Astley, Ieceestershire, on Monday, August 26tb, in 50 milus., a quarter-peal (1,260 changes) of Grantire Doubles in ton nifferent callings: J. Brant 1, F. S. Joulycote 2, C. E. Carr (comiuc (10r) 3, A. Borlycote 4, H. Bird 5. Rung with the bells half-nuffed as a lagt token of rospect to George Fretter, who ried at the age at 66 years, and who had been a chorister and a ringer af the ehureh from hoyhood. He was interven in the churehyard earlier in the dap. First quarter-posl as conduetor.

A MANLY FMPLOYMENT.
Two humdred years ago there lived at Totnes, Devon, a youth wha, som of the parish clerk, later hecame D1: Kennicot, a Canom of Christ Chureli and Regius Professor of Hebrew at Oxford. Fe placed Gn recora the following 'arlicles' to which the Totnes ringor's suth serilued, and they ged a standard both of fidelity to the art and of sacial promise which, if quaintly expressed, might nevertheless be an object lesson to many companies to-day :-

Among the nany recreations approved of by the sons of pleesure, ringing is a diversion that may be eqphatically said to hear away the bell: and so nueh daes it engage the natives of Grent Britain, be-yomd all other mations, that it lat borne the distingarining appentation of "the ringing isle." The ert, thon, for which this kingdoms is renowned shows a judicious taste it those of its inhabitants who have by their perfornunces contributed thereto, since this art wante no foreign encomiast, but the harmonious bells are the heralds of their own praise. Hhe insenuity required for the diversion adminisparticular sanction among mankind and recommend it as an enployment at vacant hours worthy the regark of all demomintaions.

We, therefore, whose names are sobseribed, taking into fonsidera tion the groat pleasure that results from this manly cmployment, the monemee with which it is performed, and the advantage enjoyed from so halthy un exarcise of out bodies, and also having the peculiar satisfaction of ringing with ease a set of eight bells of establisled fame and applauden excellence, do hereby agree to meet together in the usual place of ringing every Monday cwening at six oclock for our improving this science; and for the greatec certainty of attendance, we do lucreby severally promise to farfeit the sum of threepence if not attonding at tire liour aforesaid, and sixponce not present at seven o'elack, to he deposited in the hands of the treasurer for the time heing, and spent as the major part of the society shall seen fit. ## RINGTNG FOR A DERRE WINNER.

Bells liave been ruag in the past for some strange reasons-it has heen sain, not wilhous truth sametimes, that any excuse is good enough for the ringers to resort to thair art. In the only $70^{\prime}-$ what was looked upors by some people as a judgroent of the gods hefel the ringers of All Saints' Church, Newmarket. 'Accidental as it may lave beens, said one writer, "let it be looked topon as a rebuke to the Parson mud Clardiwardens for allowing such a shamefu! desecration of the grouls of the Church." A newspaper reported the occurvences htus: 'Yery singular accidents occurrod in the steeple of All Saints' Church in khis town (Newmarket) while the ringers wey engaged in ringing peals on Tiursday last. It appears that the sed had just entered a penl in celebration of the Cotage Flower ant Horticultural Exhibition, when the second bell jumper frow langings and fell heamly upon the hearos and floor supporting the frame. Hawing recovered fmom thacir fright, the ringers obtaineil assistance and replaced tho bell and proceederl with their task, which they succeeded in acomplishing, and retired for refresloment. The Fotssembled in the croning on the accasion of the Cremarne Dert bouncing from its place, amd, like its neighbour, the second, fel. with a crash upon the already damaged haor; but; fortumately, the massive heams prevented her going flown, consequently the ringers below escaped injury, abd the bell was uniajured. The damage the bell bittinge and the frame could not be reparcel in time to allow of fuythen ringing on that day, and the merry peals which culivenerl the kown thus abruptly ferminated.

PRIZE RINGING ARRANGED BY PUBLICAN
A prize-ringing contest at Flooro, Northanptonshire, on Septernber 13th, 1874, drew the following seathing oomment from the editor Church Rells " week or two after whe event: "What could have adned the Ficar and Chturciwardens of Floore to allow the bells

BIRMINGHAM RINGERS' DAY IN LIVERPOOL

Un Satitrday, August 24th, a party of ringers from St. Mantin's farish Church, Birmingham, accompanied by their ladies, paid a visit to Liverpool. Starting from Birmingham in fair weather, it commenced to rain during the journey, and on arrival at the destination they wore greeted with a grey sky and a steady downpour, but to compensate for this they received a rery cheerful welcome fram Messrs. G. R. Newtor and C. I. Davies, of the St. Nicholas company. 'Ilae Ringing Mastor, Mr. Albert Walker, had arranged a full proaramme for the day, and the party immediately proceeded with the livist item-to inspect the 20,000 ton Chmard liner, "Carinthia.' Under the guidance of a steward all the public parts of the vessel were thoroughly inspected. Tu see the first-class state rooms, contnining full-sized heds and with batbrooms attaclied, also the dining, druwing and smoke rooms, set one wondering if the last stage in confort and ocean travel accommodation had been reached. The visitors alse inspected the swimming bath and gymmasium, the lather being fitted will all the latest equipment for physical exercises. Hore the Ringing Naster and secretary were promitted to lave a cycle race, which, after a keen siruggle, was won by the secretary by
'shor't wheei.'.
The next item on the programme was a visit to the new. Catherdual. On approaching this, one is struck by the severely plain exterior, which is Accentuated by the local red simistone used. Put when the building is completed and it has its huge central tower, no donbt its grinudetr will be better appreciated. On entering the building, one faces the choir, which is dominated by the great enst window, below which is a richly gilded stone reredos containing sculptured pasels of scenes from our Lord's life. Another noticeable feature is the way the organ case, choir stalls and Bishop's throne all blend with fhe colour of the stone. Nor can one realise that the Lady Chapel has neen used for services for almost 20 yeats.
An excellent lunch was next partaken of at the Oriel Restaurant, and this was followed by a trip across the river to Wallasey. On returning to the landing stage, the party were in lime to sec the White Star linter 'Adrintic' leave for New York. Meatwlile the weather had improved, and the sun was shining glorjously. It was now time to pisit St. Nicholas' tower, and here the Bimmingham ringers were met by a goodly company of local mon. With their assistance, touches of Stedman Cingues and Cambridge Royal were suceessfally accomplished. Tea was served at the White Cafe, and the fisitors greatly appreciated the company of the Liverpool ringers, who, Mr. Niwton later anounced, wotild liave pleasure in defrayms the cost of the theal. Ma. Walker, on belalf of the visitors, thanked them for their hospitality and cordial welcome to liverpool and for Heir nssistance jh the tower, mad Messers. Newton and Davies esfecially for having given up the whole day in order to make their visit a suecess. This was not the first time it company of riugers from Birmingharn hat visited Liverpool, for many years ago, when St. Nioholas' hells were put in, Birmingham ringers were awarded a silver cup for being the hest company at the opening. But where that elap was now, to ane knew. Mr. Walker gava tlyem a cordial Thyitation to wisit Bimingham and ring on St. Martin's new peal.Tewton, on belualf of the local company, said the pleasure had been theirs, and that anything they had beon able to do to make the visit eujoyable had been done willingly. They would like them to came arain soon and ring a peal of Stedman Cingres.-Mr. Walker thanked Mr. Newhon for the invitation, which he hoped to accept at no very distant drae.
mitting to the beliry six sets of strange ringers ta pull about the church beils under an arrangement mate by the landord of the willage pablichouse, who appears to lave managed this ungodly compotition? As usual, the publican seems to have ome in for the he no repetition of such useless fooleries. One of the first steps in belfry reform is fos sever the link between the belfry and the village taproom. Surely it is the dity of all parsons nad churchwardens, by their influence and a athority, to effect this, and then they wild easily shieed in Haisug the tone and respetability of their ringers.

Lead-swingers' have been always with us. Thie 'Anmmal Register Oetoler 13th, 1804,' recorded the following: "A singular" accient happened at the new church, Dagenlam, Essex. Tho Society of Cumhriland Youths were inviled to gpen the new peal of hells, on which they performed in the morming by ringing 7,008 changes of Oxford Treble Loh in 4 Ins 49 mins, but in the evening Mr. Clamon, Masfrer of the Society, wished to oblige the inlabitants of the village with another peal, when mforturately lis leg got entangled in the une, which drew bim up to the next loft, nod, falling thence on his lond, was killed on the spot, the part of his skuld being bert in so that the brains oozed out through the cavilies.' A vivie deseription of the grnesome end of a celelorated ringer of those daps-or it would have lucan had it been accurate. Happily for Mr. Channon, there was not a word of truth is it; and, in fact, the whole paragraph was a fabrication. At that time Dacenlam hat only six bells, and Mr. Clisumom read the description of the 'fatal aceident' to himsels manly years after.

AFTERNOON TRIP IN SOMERSET.

On Salurday, August 24tl, six ringers from Enst Bront, South Bront, Axbridge, ant one from Port Talbot, Glam, liad a tour of about 60 miles, in llie cotrrse of which they ramg at four towers. Crosenmbe was the first ou the list, when five 120 's of firandsire Doubles were rung. Pilton was visited next, where a similan totuel was seored. At West lemand the Vicar arad ome of the local biund gave the visitors a belping land to "rise' the bells, and then twor $240^{\circ}$ s were rultg. Fine wobld not allow further fingirs lace, although ringing on this lovely peal was much enjoyed. Shapwich was tha last call, and 240 was all that could he rung heve. A 15 -mile ridobrought the party safely home about 10.30 p.m., after a plossans aftermon in the country. Tha best thanks of the hame are given for the use of the bells and to the ringers who kindly met the visitors.

A TWELVE-BELL OUTING.

The ringers of St. Mary's, Tambton, held their annal outing ou
 Mr. W. A. Cave, Bristol, Miss Williams, Gatl, and Mir. W. Crocker, former member of the band, mat the party) to Strond, where Mr4. Wright welcomed them. Here the fine peal of ten was set going in Sterman Caters. The next move was to Painswiek, where the famous rigg of 12 was rung in Stecman Cinques. Lanch followed ait the Goldea Heart Hotel, after which the party proceeded to Cheltenham, where Mr. W. I' Pateg gave a weleome to the party, and the ring of 12 was get going in Stedman Cinques. After tea, the party went on to St. Mary Redeliffe, Rristol, where Mr. H. Pring awaiterl Ehe visitors, and further Stedman Cingues were rung. The pauty wish to thank the incumbent of each parish for the use of the bells, also Messus. A. Wright, W. T. Pates aud F. Pring for makiog rangenients.

FAIRFORD RINGERS' EXCURSION.

The Fairford (Glos) ringers and friends had their annual outing on Salurday, August 24tla. Setting off at 7.45 n.m.. East Isley, Berks, was vached at 9.15 . On this nice light peal of eight, ringing waiz enjojed for about an hour. Peasmare was the next stop, whero the party were met by Mr. Rosier thead ringer), also by me of the chureliwardens, who gave the visitors a warm welcome on behalf of the Vicar, who was away. The bells at feasemore no a lovely penal of six, and ringirg on them was very much onjoyed.
Chinvely uas the next call, and before the visitors had been ringing lang they were joined by scyeral of the local ringers, who reguested thens to come again.
Newbury was reacher at 1.10 , and here they were thet hy Mr. Curtis, who had kindy arrangen a lubl lunchoon. Neterwards, that fine peal of eight was set going. Some were in the belfry watening the bells swing, while others went to the top of the tower sightseeing. Hungerford was next on tho progranme. Here was fonnd a mice peal of eight, but rather noisy. J'ea had heen kindly arranged here loy Mr. Wigyins. Last, but not least, the party visiten? St. Mark's, Swindov, and, and afler vinging here on the nice ring of eight, supper, kindly arragged by Mr. W. Smith, was enjoyed by all. Faifford was reached ail 11.55 , after at very enjoyable das

CROYDON RINGERS' TRIP

St. Tohn-the-Baptist company, Crordon, held their numual onting Seaford. A company of 20 rinecrs and friends started nt 7.30, amo a pleasant ride wia Tumers Eijl] brouglat them to Lindlieta, the first Etop. Here touches of Girandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob ancl Dotble Norwich Major were rume at the Parish Church. The joundey was then continued to Bridhton, where they found St. Peter's loelfs ready for them. A flep photographs of the group had been taken, this lovely peal of hells wero soon ringing out to the tune of Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major. Then a muth-needed course of refreslaments of rarious kinds, and a lovely rifie along the cliffs brought tho parky to Seaford and dimmed thme. Aur excellent mend and Cambridge were rung. After this, the aflemanm was free Eon the tingers to spend as they liked. Soms found ther pebhies on that heacl quite comfortalile for an afternoon map, aiherg perforred dech whirs, they reassembled and were welcomed to Sentorn by Mus Fisher, the churchwarden, who was a member of the fire bripaio at Croydon, when the Parish Church was burnt down some 82 years tas made wia Lewes to Maytield, where it short ring was indulged in. THE $18 \ddagger$ TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at Riverside Cegorg, New York, U.S.A.

The ringing Exercise, like other departments of life, has its great men. Some stand out conspicuously for the wonderful feats which they have performed; others deserve fame for the service they have rendered to the art by promoting its interests in other ways. One who comes within the latter category is the Rev. A. H. I. Boughey, of Trinity College, Cambridge, who has just completed his jubilee as President of the Cambridge University Guild. Mr. Boughey has never sought the limelight, yet no man, probably, has done more than he has in furthering the art among those who, in turn, are afterwards able to exercise a marked influence upon it. For fifty years-he was the first and has remained the only president of the Guild-Mr. Boughey has devoted himself to encouraging a love of ringing among men at the University, and it is entirely due to his energy and perseverance that the Guild has been able to maintain a continuous existence for half a century. His task has often been such as would have dismayed any but the greatest and most patient enthusiast, yet despite all sorts of handicaps Mr. Boughey's zeal has never flagged and he has taught and sent out a large number of ringers, many of whom occupy a prominent place in the Exercise to-day. No one, probably, has done as much as he has towards the solution of the problem of promoting an intelligent interest in bells and bell ringing among the clergy and the educated classes. There have been times when, for years together, there has been no one in the University, except Mr. Boughey himself, capable of more than ringing a single handbeli to Plain Bob, yet, for all this long period, he has kept the flame of enthusiasm burning, and it must be a great joy to him to see his pupils from time to time taking the conspicuous and honoured places in the Exercise which they occupy. He has laboured that others may reap; he has toiled selflessly, and to-day the members of the Cambridge Liniversity Guild, scattered over the country, are no small force in raising the standard of the art of ringing and in guiching the destinies of the Exercise- Last week many of them gathered to celebrate the jubilee of the Guild and to honour their President, to whom they presented at token of their esteem and gratitude for his lifelong work. One might write many things of Mr. Boughey; of his scholarly attainments, of his kindly and genial nature, of his courageous triumph in the belfry over physical infirmity, of his great ability as a handbell ringer-the third peal that he rang was one of Double Norwich ' in hand,' the first ever accomplished on handbells-but (Continued on page 578.)

MEFTING AT EEDGLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the athove Guild was held on Saturday, August 3lst, at all Saints' Church, Sedgley, Staff's, but was sparsely attended owing to the inclemency of the weather, whicn greaty marred the proceedings. The beauciful peal of eight bells werc $k$ opt merrily going irom 3 p.m. until the service, ai which the Guiht form was used. The Ticar of Sedrley (Rev. Dr. Swindell) conducted the service, and gave an eloguent address. The assistant priest, the Rev. Aleock, also took part in tho serviee. The Vicar extended a cordial welcome to the mombers of the Guild.
A bountiful tea was aerved in the schoolroom, and "Eull justice w'as done to the good things provided, but it is ragretted that so few turned up to enjoy them. After tea, the business meeting tonk place, the chair being occupied by the Vicar, who was supported by his warden, Mr. E. A. Dews. Apologies were received Irom Mr. E. A. Babb, people's warden, and from Mr. A. Greenfeld. Business of a rouilie character baving been disposed of, ITr. S. J. Hughes gave bis report npon the business tranacted at the Central Conncil meeting al Cbelmaford. He lucidly explained matters dealt with, and asked Mr. F. W. Perreas, who also autended the meeting at Chelmsford, to say a few words. Mr. Perrens very ably dealt with the question of six-bell peals, and at the close of their remarks a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to hoth these gentlemen.
It was arranged to hold the mext quarierly mecting at Netherton, subject to the usual permission being obtained. It was also propasod to attempt the quarteriy peal at Sedgles, tho arrangements being left in the hauds of the Ringing Master (Mr. John Goodman, jua.)

On the proposition of Mr. Jolun Price, it was decided to send a letter of sympathy to the family of the late Mr. G. N. Cockin, of Halesowen.
At the close of the mecting, on the proposition of Mr. S. J. Hughes, seconded by Mr. John Price, and supported by the Vicar's warden, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Sedgley for his kindness in granting permission to the Guild to holid The meeting at Sedgley, for conducting the service, and for his eloquent address, also for the use of the tower and bells. Thanks were also given to Mr. Benjamin Eullwood for his untiring efforts in helping to make the meeting a success; to the Rep. Alcock for his share in the serriee; and to the organist for the musical part of the service.

A special vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Frulwood, who kindly undertook to provide the tea, and to ifore young ladies who assisted her in preparing and serving the bueal. Thanks were aleo tendered to Mr. Dews, the Vicar's wardeb, for his prasence and support, and to all who assisted in any way to make itite meeting a happy and successful one.

The members afterwards returned to the belfry and kept tho bells merrily going until wearly mine o'elock.

GORING RINGER'S RECORD

Goring-on-Thames is to have a peal of eight bells, and the last touch on the old six prior to dimanating was rung on Sunday week, whon a six-score of Grandsire Doublec was brewght ronand by 3. Bower 1, L. Haines 2. W. Aldidge 3, H. Perry 4, G. Wilson 5, R. Barkins 6. An interesting feature ahout ihis six-score was that it was called by J. Bower, who conducterl the first 120 rung on these bells, over 40 rears ago.
It was early in ilje year 1888, when ilhere ware only five bella in the tower, itat the Rev. C. Littlewond promisen asixth bell to the ringers as soon as they could recomplisin the feat of ringing 120 changes; this they did in Harch of that year. The ringers on that ocoasion were J. Holder 1, J. Tarrant 2, W. Aldridge 3, W. Moss 4, J. Bower (conductor) 5 . By condueting the lest 120 on the ring of sis, Mr. Bower can claim fa wonderful lucal recorn.
The new bells are the gift of the late Mr. H. A. Lacey Smith, and are expected to be ready early in December.

FIRST PEAL ON ECCLES' NEW BELLS

The bells, which were formerly at St. John ${ }^{\text {s }}$ Church, DeansgaLe, Manclester, have been recast (with the exception of the tenor) and re-erected at St. Mary's Chmref, Eccles, Lancs. Tho work was carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Ca., Eouglabornugh. The firgt peal on the bells was rung on Saturday by members of the Lancam shire Associntion representing eight towers, viz., Redditch, West Didsbury. Eceles, Stretford, Ashton-under-Lyns, Worsley, Walkden and Smithills, Boltor. The peal was rung on the eve of the 20th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wyles, to whom the riggers wish to convey their thanks for tho bospitality shown to them aiter the peal.

PEAL CORRECTION

The fime for the 7,200 changes of Buh Minor rung at Lavenham, Sufolk, on laandhells, Satnrday, August 31st, was two bours and thirty-seven minutes, not three lours an! thity-seven minutes.

GLIMPSES OF THE PAST

MORE CLIPPINGS FROM A SCRAP BOOK
This is to acquaint the pahlic that on Easter Tuesday mext, at New Shoreham, two half-guinea lats will be rung for, a round peal on six bells, to raise and fall. T'o meet at John Jarman's, at the sign of the Red Lion, at New Shoreham aforessid.' This quaint nnnouncement of a riyging contest at New Slioreham, Sussex, appeared ' F fho 'Sussex Weekfy Advertiser' of March $41 \mathrm{~h}, 1771$. It was piodahly promoted by Jolin Jarman, but what will no doubt strike rendera as curious are the prizes-lwo half-guinea hats. What would have been the use of two hats among six :ingers? Perhaps they world pass them rouni and use them in tirin.
Fifty or sixty years ngo ringing contests were of frequent occurrence in sonue parts of the country, and one sucle took place at Holy. Trinily Church, Loww Moor, Yorks, and extended aver two diays. Fiight banuls of ringers took part, and each had to ring 'half the peal of Holt's Grandsire Triples, or 2,520 changes, and a peal of Kent 'treble Eol.' The prizes emonuterd to £28. One worders what tise umpires got! The Editor of 'Cburch Bells' entered a strong protest argainst tho compctition, in this efforts to further 'belfry reforsh,' "nad at the same time he took an almost equally strong line against Sunday peal ringing. He said the praetice of ringing bells before service is peculiur to the North of England; but it is not the legitimate way for calling people to clurch; the luella should be chimed, pouring forll their sweetest and most suldued music.'

A ST. MARIIN'S, BIRMINGEAM, RESTORATION.

The recent reasting of the bells of St. Martin's Church, Birmingliam, recalls the fact that abouk sixty years ago tinere was no ring ing upon lhem for two years. On Ghristmas Day, 1868, a gudgeon of the elwenth broke, anrl a woek after this accident it was found that the fifth was eracked. The fourth of that time was always considered a poos bell, so that white repaiss were being undertaken it was decided to recast the fourth and fifth, ald to hang the whole peal in a new fionce. Blows nucl Co. recast the bells, and upwards of 700 cuthic feet of onk was put into ine two frames, which cnrried the hells in two biers. Incidentally, his frame now holds the new peal of wwelve it win wo yerrs before the work was completed, and the cost was ahout $\begin{gathered}500 \text {, } 1 \text { rived by puhlic subscription. The }\end{gathered}$ Church Council of St. Mntin's have been saved the tast of raising the wost of the last big undertaking-the new peal of twelve-for, as why be known to many, a "rope ofoft" fund has supplied the nucessary money. Jwo or three centuries ago a generous supporter of the hells left a plocerof land, the income from whidh was to go to the provision of bell ropes. Whith the propress of time, the ancient lenses lapsech, and the lnan, now woll within the boundaries of the city and covered with huildings, is bringing in a substantial innual rental which is devoted lo shurch maintenance and restoration purposes-as well as the prowision of bell ropes. New bells ware required, and the 'rope croft' provided thens.

THE COST OF FUNERAL BLLLS.
The custom of ringing 'the passing bell' is consicered as old as the use of bolls themgelves in Christian churches. Old records prove that fron four lundred to five hundred years ago the relatives, if they cand afford it, could choose the number of bells that were to be rang for the occasion. That a death knell was not limiterl to the bolfing of one hell seems to be prowed by an order of "leet" at Coventry in 1496, by which it was ordained that 'all man p"sones that. heraflir will have the bells to ryng after fe decease of eny their friends, lincy shall pay for a bell rynging w't all ye belles ijs (2s.) ; xxd. (1s. 8d.1 yt of to ye chircheward, and iiij (4d.) to ye clerks. And yf he well have but iiij lyelles xvjel (1s. 6n.) ; xid. (1s.) to ya Charel and itij to ye clerks. And ins for ifj belles, eny p'son y'l well have theym to payc but iiij to the clerks.
In the purish of Wolchurch in 1526 , the charchwardens set out Whe scale of "fees thas:
Fiynte, for the leste belle to rynge the space of oue ower, for man or wamail, of clylde, 4d.
Item, the geconile bell to rynge one ower, Bd.
Itera, thyrde helle to rynge ons ower, 8rl.
Eborn, whute pursome whll have the thyrde to ring 6 owres before nonn, or aftor mone, with the three smallyste belles to rynge at dyryge and masse, to pisy 3s. 4d.
rtan, whate persone wyll have the fourthe bell to rynge 6 owres hefore mone, or after none, witli the four smallest belles at dyryge and masan, to pay 5s, 0 d.

Item, the clerke to have for tollonge of the passyage belle for manne, womanne, or childes, if it be in the day, 4d.
Item, if it be in the night, for the same, 8 d.

'GENTLEMEN OF EDUCATION.'

On Tuesday, March 14 th , 1871, six members of the University of Oxford paid a risit to the neighbouring village of Islip, and succeeded in ringing on the pretty peal of six several peals of Sixscore Grandsire Doubles: Rep. E. P. Barrow (Oriel), treble; J. S Leadam, Esq. (Univ.), 2nd; R. Troyte, Esq. (Twinity), 3rd: H. C. Sturges, Esq. (Univ.), 4th; J. E. Troyte, Esq. (Christ Church), 5th; W. B. Ingham, Esq. (Univ.), tenar. Gondueted by John E. Troyte, Esq., College Youth.

In these days such a performance would hardly be noticed. But in 1871 it was a significant sign of the times, and "Church Bells, in giving prominence to it, added the comment, "Probably these are the first peals on record rung entirely by gentlemen of education. The bells were fairly struck, without any break down; three of the ringers had only been learning since last November. What an encouragement to others to follow their cxample! Besides being able to sing, we think epery young elergymen should be able to ring, aad thea lie will be able to take his proper place in the belfry.

ALL "SNAPPERS."

In the year 1793 there was a very capable six-bell company a Bingley, Yorks, and on the occasion of a local higwig, William Busfeild, Esc., attaining his majority, they "rang sevel whole peals of 720 changes each, in all 5,040 changes, on the most diffeult of known methods, all "Snappers," namely, Chestew, London, Garlisle, Chelsea, Lincoln, Lichfield, Wells. This will be acknowledged to be a mosk remarkable and uncommon feat, all the performers being members of the Bingley Company." This company continued to maintain a high standard, and two of them, Jsare Rhodes and Hezekiali Briggs, took part 33 pears later in thirty-six twelve scores in all 8,640 changes, in 36 methods. Rhodes aud Briggs shared the conducting in this peal. The methods were all Treble Bob or Sur prise methods. 'The above is the greatest number of peals on record rung by one company, all living in the same town, and was acknowledged to be a masterpiece by the best anthorities of the time. The performance, as far as is known, is without a paraliel in the history of change vinging.

FIRS'L COMRINED UNIVERSITY PEAL.

Ou Saturday, Warch 10th, 1877, seven members of the Oxford University Society of Change Ringers, assisted by Mr. C. A. W Troyte, of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, and Huntsham Court, Deron rang at the Parish Chitroh ai Appleton, Berks, Holt's six-part peal of Grandsire Triples, oomprising 5,040 changes. It was brought round in 2 frs. 58 mins. by the Fallowing: J. R. Keble (Kehle) treble, F. A. Milue (Keble) 2, C. D. P. Davies (Pembroke) 3, H. W Ellicott (Brasenose) 4, G. H. Phillott (Christ Church) 5, Rev. F. E. Robinson (Exeter) 6, G. A. W. Troyte (Trim. Hall, Ganlo.) 7, W. C H. Bume (Keble) tenor, Conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. This is the first peal ever rung by members of the two Unirensitiss without the assistance of any other persons

PROGRESS OF IPSWICH COMPANY
On January 17th, 1878, ten members of the Ipswich Society, also of the Norwich Association, rang 1,061 changes of Graudsire Catert in 50 mins., by the following persons: D. Preutice 1, T. Saddler 2 T. Alexander 3, W. Meadows 4, R. Hawes 5, H. Bowel 6, H. Taylor 7, W. Kemp 8, E. Beve 9, J. Minler 10. Conducted by D. Prentice It will be seen by ringers that the above is no great skilful performanec," said a report, "but it is recorded merels to shom the progress made since the formation of the company about twelve months ago, at which time they were scarcely able to ting a course of Grandsire Triples, but through the kinchess and perseverance of the old members several young hands have been raised that are now able to quit themselves creditably in rarious methods, so that at last, it seems probable that this fine ring of twelve bells will have attached to thems a good band of vineers, which they so richiy deserve. The 2nd, 3nd, 7th and 8th were young luands, who had never rung a thousand in the above method before, and besides these the company has several more young liands who are rapidly advancing.'

LONGEVICY AMONG RJNGERS.

Writing fifty years ago in support of the contention that bell ringing was a healday exereise and canducive to longewitj", Dr. George Gregory, of Great Lever, Bolton, recalled the Painswick peal of 12,312 Grandsire Caters, rung in 1817. "Records of long peals rung at Painswick' (he wote, quoting fiom 'Lefsure Hour')' 'date back to 1755 , when change ringing was in ils infancy. The Pains wiet men who rang these later penls may therefore be said have been borr mingers. Thein fathers hefore them were mostly rimgers, and they themselves devated much of their leisure to prac tising this arl. It has been shown that Barhem's comrades could muster in such an advanced stage of life that eight of them who were able to ring nveraged 72 years, amb, in the same mantier, the ages of the Painswick men who rang in the pers just described may be cited in favour of the benefcial eftects of ringing. The only survivor of this band (1878) is Giles Mansfeld, who now, at the ag (Continued in next column.)

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

A meeting was held at Aberavon, Giam, on Saturday, when menbers attended from Catloxton, Baglan, Moryiston, Gorseinon, and the loenl band, and, in nddition, welcome visitors were present from Pentre mad Llanbradsch. The eight bells were raised in peal about 3.30 p .m., and hept going until 4.30 , when a short service was held, conducterl by the curate-un-charge (Rev. A. I. Lewis), who gave the menters of the Guild a welcome to the church. Tea followed in the schootroom, kindly provided by the chureh members, and, needess to say, was emjoyed by all.

At the business meeting, with the Rev. A. T. Lewris in the clair, mention was made of the death of the Yicar of Aberavon, who was an hon, member of the Guild, nud the members stood a few moments in silence as a mark of respect.

Gorseinon was chosen for the place of next meeting, and the Chairman said he was sure all present woutd join him in wishing the local captain and his wife, who were married on the previous Suaday, health nad happiness in the future. -The local captain thanken theat all for thein kind wishes.

Votes of thanks were accorked to the chairman for a[d he had done to make the meating a success, to the donors of the ment lea, and to the ladies for looking after the wants of the company-The Chairman replied, and said it was a pleasure to have the Guild there. He hoped they would come again.

The merlods rong during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Majo: and Kent Treble Fob Major.
of 85 , is alive and bearty; the other nine men died at the respective ages of $89,87,78,80,84,50,71,70$ and 85 years. These mambers, with the age of Mansfield, make an average of nearly 78 years for ench mans: and if the age of the ringer who died at 50 be excepted, the average age of the remaining tine will be 82 years. As a waming to baclulors, it may be mentioned that the ringer wha died at 50 was the only unmarried man amongst the band! These examples will show that ringing may be classed as one of the most beneficial of exereises, aud may fitly be concladed by adding that the oldest riuger ia England is Jonathan Pavier who was born at Sonils Hincksey, neat Oxford, on May $30 \mathrm{~h}, 1778$. He rang his first 5,000 in 1807, and in 1815 ring in a peal of 10,080 of Grandsite Cnters at New College, Oxfard. Although he hias now been blind for many yearo, he is otherwise in full possession of his faculties." The Cuniberland Youths, of which Pavier was a member for nearly 70 years, roug a peal to celebrate his one laundredth bithday in the year 1878.

All the arrangements are now satisfactorily completed for the Yorkshire Association's commeroration dinner at Sheffeld an September 2lst, and it is hoped that a large wumber of ringers will give this gathering their loyal support. Those who lave not already applied for tickets should do so at once.
A ringing tour in Dorset has been in progress this week.
A quarterly meeting of the Leicester District, M.C.A., was biela at Billesdon on Saturday. After tea, several members went to ring on the eight bells at Kiog's Norton (Leicestershive, not woreestcrshirc). A novel way of travelling was devised, viz., placing there forms in a lorry, and one of the party took his bicycle por a ride.
The first 720 of London Surprise Minor on the ljells of Eorsmonden Church was rung on the first of this month. Mr. F. I. Lambert, sen., who rang the 2nd, conducted tire first 720 of Minot on these bells 41 years age
'The penl of Stedman Triples rang at Stansteri, Essex, ou August 7th, should be credited to the Essex Association.
The claim to the first peal of Bob Major wn the bells at Moretonliampstead, Devon, made in a footnote to a penl rung ulare ous August 31st, is withdrawu, as a peal in this method was rung on the bells on August 6th, 1924, under the arspices of the Society for the Archdercanry of Staffort.
William shipway composet and conducted the first peal of Imperial Place Major over rung. This was at St. Mary's, Ishington, ont September 13th, 1802. On the peal board recording this penl-we do not know if it is still in existence-shipway was described as Author of the System of Ringille.
The first peal of Superlative Surprise in Wrales was rung at Llangollen on September 13th, 1907, conducted hy Bertram Prewet, whose great ringing career was eut short by his teath in action in France only fen weeks before the Armistice.

Clatles Middleton, of Norwich, the composer of the one and only peal of Cambtidge Surprise Major with tenors together, died on September 14th, 1886.
The first peal by the Socicty of St. Martin's Youths, of which Sta Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birminglam is the lineal descendant, was rung at St. Philin's (now the Cathedrali, Birminghann, on September 16th, 1755 . It was a peal of Bob Major.
A London Surprise Major record was set up at Drayton, Berks, on September 17th, 1896, when members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild rang a peal of 11,328 in 6 hrs. 6 mins. The Rev. F. E. RohirSon was at that time Vicar of Draylon and Master of the Guid and was one of the ringers. 'Jim. Washbrook was the conductor' With two men on the 9 th and three on the tonor, the first peal on the then new ring of hells at Granthan was jung on कeptemher 19th, 1775, conducted by W. W. Grofts. They had not heard aboust ball bearings for bells in those cays.

FAST PEALS,

Our inq̧iry as to eight-hell peals rung in 2 hess. 20 mins, or lems raised as the result of the Crayford Feal of Stedman Triples rung in 2 hrs. 14 mins.-has brotght us a list of four, all lung at the Loughbotough Bell Foundry, where the tenor is 65 ewt. The quickest eight-bell peal rumg there was on February 1解h this year and occupied 2 hrs. 16 mins., which, like the Crayford peal, was over 37 whanges per minute.
5,040 Stedman Triples, February 16th, 1929, conducted by Fir. Elkington, 2 hrs. 16 mins.
5,040 Stedman Triples, Frhruary 14th, 1927, conducted by w. B. Whitehead, 2 hrs. 19 mins.
5,040 Grandsire Triples, April 19tb, 1924, couducted by Emest Morris, 2 Lus. IS mins.
5,152 Superlative Surprise Major, December 2ud, 1922, conducted by F. J. Poole, 2 lirs. 20 mins.
In addition to the above, a peal of Minor on the front six was rung in 1 hr. 54 mins. To this pes, Mr. James George rang the tenor ( 2 cwt 33 lb .). This, we believe, is the quickest peal ever rung on tower bells.
Another fast performance was the 13,440 Bob Major on the same bells ou April 8th, 1922, called by Enost Moris. This was rung in a hrs. 48 mins. The same length, rung on landelis at Pudsey, took 7 hrs. 7 mios.

Mr. Tom Brunt was for many years a member of tha loeal band, and regardess of his 76 years carae into the belfy after the quarter-peal and rang in few rounds.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

[Contributed.]

The support which the Rev. C. D. P. Davies gave in his letter in the last issue of 'The Ringing World' to the sugrestions put forward by the writer for bringing the Exercise and the Central Council into closer touch, is very gratifying. As Honorary Secretary of the Council for something like 20 years, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies has, periaps, a more intimate knowledge than anyone else of its working and, if one may say so, of its shortcomings. His comments-they can hardiy be called criticisms-are welcomed, as would be any other reasoned opinions upon the suggestions put fotward, advanced as they were solely in the hope of promoting the welfare of the art of ringing by strengthening the ties between the Council and the affiliated associations.

Mr. Davies says that he has never yet been able to discover the 'ground of disagreement' between the Gloucester and Bristol Association and the Councii, the ground alleged hitherto being, in his opinion, 'ridiculously inadequate.' That is probably the view of many other people, but the fact remains that upon some ground or other the Gloucester and Bristol Association has withdrawn its membership, and the Council ought not merely to leave the matter as it stands. The opinion of the writer, for what it is worth, is that the Council is entitled, under the circumstances, to ask for and receive the definite reasons for the association's withdrawal-at present, it would appear, the Council has no official cogrnizance of the secession except the non-payment of the affiliation fees. A good deal has been said about it, it is true, in the columns of 'The Ringing World,' but the real issue between the association and the Council is by no means clear to anyone outside the association. For that reason the Council ought to go further into the question, so that it may learn exactly the grounds of complaint and, if they are reasonable, do its best to remove them.

One remark made in the first article was apparently a little ambiguous. It was suggested that ' another step in making the Council the real head of the Exercise, in practice as well as in name, would be to make it a sine fua non of membership that the Council's rulings should be recognised.' Mr. Davies asks: 'Membership, of what? Of the Council or of the association?' Membership of the Council by an association was intended. Membership of an association by an individual already implies acceptance of the rules of the association. Membership of the Council by an association ought similarly to imply acceptance of the Council's rules. But it does not always do so. No good purpose would be served by drawing attention to specific instances which have occurred in the past of the ignoring of the rulings and decisions of the Council-but they have not always been accepted, everywhere. It is true that it is only logical that membership of the Council should be accepted as commanding loyalty to its decisions, but ringers are not always noted for their logic. The position of the Council would ultimately, therefore, be strengthened if every affiliated Association and Guild were called upon to incorporate in its rules one which provided that the decisions of the Council should be accepted and recognised. Some associations have already got such a rule, (Continued on page 587, col." 1.)

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD.

 JUBREE CELEBRATIONS. presentation to rev. A. H. F. BOUGHEy.This year Cambridge University Guild has reached its jubilee and last week, on the occasion of their anoual reunion, the event was celebrated by many of the members.

Known orfginally as 'The Clare Society of Ringers, the Guild was founded on February $4^{\text {th }}, 1879$, by the Rev. W. C. Pearson and others of Clare College. Men from other Colleges joised, and in May of the same year the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey became President. This office he has held ever since, and for many years past his rooms in Great Court, Trinity, have been the headquarters of the Guild.

REV. A. H. F. BOUGHEY, President for fifty years,
Mr. Boughey's enthusiasm has resulted in a large number of Cambridge men leaving the University with a knowledge of the art of ringing wheh has been urned to good purpose, and many well-known members of the Exercise owe their interest in ringing to the inspiration of the President of the University Guild.
The 19th nnual reunion of members, held this year in cambridge, brouglit together an especially good attondance to celehrate the jubilee of the foumbation of the Guila on Februsry tht, 1879. "The followiug were present for the whale or some part of the week: The Rev. A. F. F. Boughey, president, Canon W. W. C. Bakes, the Revs. R. Copernn, M. C. Potter, F. If. James, E. B. James, Cannil G. H. Runot, Camon H. J. Elsee, the Revs, G. W. O. Jenkyn, H. S. T. Richardson, R. H. Whitford, B. F. Tyrwhitt Drake, C. A. Clements, B. F. Sheppard, F. G. Benson, F. (I. Benson, Messis. J. T. Rickman, E: M. Atkins, R. O. Street, J. H. R. Freeborn, J. Butler, W. H. J. Honton, M. U. G. Hooton, J. R. Duffield, F. F. Haynes.

During He week about twanty fowors were wisited within th radius of thirts niles from Cambridge. Hour peals were altempted, of wheh three were sacecssfully lmaght round. Members were phased to liaye the upportunity of ringing on the reconstituted I welve at Saffoon Walden, the fine ring of eight at St. Nools, and the wollknown ten at St. James", Bury St. Edmunds. The "go" of the Fulam ten was wath appreciated; they have recouty beea restored by a Soham tizm.
To commenorata the 50th ammiversary of the forndation, the president entertained the Quid at dinnes on Werlnesday, Septemfier 4th, in Trinity. The dinner hud been planned for February 4 kh , Ile netual day of the foundation, but all celcheations were postpunerd owing to the sudifen and greaty lamented death of the Rev. H. J3. Woolley, uf Long Stauton. The postponemenc, howaver, gave the Guilit an opportunity of angratulating Mr. Boughey on the completion of fifty years as prexident.
After the dijmet, al which 26 members weve present, Mr. Boughey in a few wotds proposed tho lealth of "The King."

Cruan Baker proposed 'The Guild, coupled with the name of Mr Boughey, who had done such wonderful work for the Guild duringhis long presidency.
Later, Canon Elste also spoke of the work of the Guild and the value of the annual 'Ringing Week. Fe went on to speak of the president and Mrs. l3oughey, expressing a desire thut tho best wishes of the Guild should be conveyed to her.
Mr. #aynes, the Master, spoke in appreciation of the social side of the Cuild's life in Cambridge. He read a letter from the Ht . Rev. B. C. Roberls, Bishop of Siugapore, who lamented bis inability to be present, and sent his hest wishes for the continued suecess at the Guild.
Dis behalf of the Guild, the Master then presented MIr. Boughay with a large silver rose bowl, inseribed, 'A. H. F. Boughey, President, C.U.G.C.R., 1879-1929.
Tn reply, the Eresident thanked the Guitd for its unexpected gift, and expressed lais pleasure nt entertaining so many of the Guitl's memberis.

St. Andrew's Church, Saham, Cambs, where the Cambuidge Uuiversity Guild rang one of their peals during their "Jubilees week.
Prior to 1788 this tower had six bells, but in the year mentioned these were replaced' by a ming of eight, cast by Thomas Osborn, of Downham. Iu 1808, Johm Rriant, of EIertford, recast the two smallest bells and addol two trebles.
The Soham Youths thrived as a ringing socibly for many years. Among them were several members of the Tebbitt family, who took part in a number of peals, and in 1845 rang n "family" peal in which three fathers and five sons took pert, viz, Thomes Tebbitt and his sons Joha, Thomas and William, Robert Teblitt and liss son Robert, Eil. ward Tebbitt, and Benjamin Tebbitt, who at that time was only 15 years of sge. WThuse son he was, the record does not say. At the time the new trehles were put in, Robert Tebhitt was one of the churchwardens, and his name appears on the bells. William Trebliti, Jolin Tebbitt, Robert Tebhitt aud Thomas Thbitt, jun., were still peal ringing in the year 1830, when with other Sohnm Youtlis they took part ie a peal of Grandsire Tittum Caters.

A STAFFORDSHIRE OUTING.

On Saturday, August 31st, the Kingsiey and Cheadle (Stafts) ringers risited Rugeley and Mavesy Ridware. At cach of these two places there is a very good going ring of six bells. Arriving at Rugeley, the party met with a very hearty weleone from the local men, who were delighted to see the visitors. During the latter part of the ringing hore the pilot (Mr. H. Carmmeli' was busy 'fishits out. a suitable place wheren they might refresh the inuer math His quest resulted in a capital tea being partakea of at the operative Cafe, sfter whicl the rimpers went on to Mavesyn Rid ware. The tower at this church holds a beatiful ring of six. recently rehuug by Messrs. J. Teylor and Co., and 720 each of Lirn don and Cambridge Surprise was rung, A tour of this llth century church was then made under the conductorship of one of the Joral ringers, and was very mucl enjoyed. About 7.30 p.m. a start was made for home by way of Abbotts Bromley, where a halt was malo to 'cool the engine,' but whea loading-up time came several of the 'young bloods ${ }^{\text {1 }}$ were missing (and, it is said, they were also 3Fissing. The delay created some anxiety, as one of the party had to make a conncotion at tho other end of the lide. However, the delinquents turned up eventually, so 'all's well that ends well.' 'The thanks of the party are due to Mr'. H. Carawell and Mr. A. W Hall for so ably altending to all the necessary arrangenents.

NEW BELLS AT PENN, STAFFS

The dedication of nerw bells at St. Bartholomew's Church, Pean, near Wolverhampton, took place on Sunduy, August 25th, by the Lord Bishop of Stafiord.

In the early pat of this year it ues found necessary to call fn the belt hanger, and upon the report of his inspection being received the church athorities decided to make a clean sweep of the existing bells and frame, and were confronted with a task of raising stum of about 8500 . This was tackled in grim earnest, with the object of getting the scheme completed hy St. Bartholomew's Day, August 24 th, and the bells dedicated free from debt. This happy resule was achieveri, to the great credit of all concerned. Every. body worked hatd, and if special mention may be made it is of M1. Churchwarden Alan H. Twentyman and Mrs. Twentyman, with Miss Twentyman as a strong supporter; also of the Rev. W, L. Grump, assistant curate, who produced each week some novel postcra which were exhibited in the willage. The bellringers also did their part. Besides distribating upwerds of 300 collecting boxes (which, by the way, realised over £60, thenselves promised the sum of 820. The totit sum obtained exceeds $£ 600$, the surplus cash going towarchs 'extras," i.e., encasing the steel girders in conerete, copper-plating small parks of the fittings, etc.
The dedication ceremony took place at the morning service before a fisll congregation. A special form of service was used, during which the bells were chimed for a short period. After the service they were raised in peal, and several tonches of Grandsire Triples were rung by the local band, and the bells were also ' fired' several times.
Nesars. Gillett and Johnston, who were responsible for the work, are to be cougratulated, both on the tone of the bells they have produced and the speedy way in which the scheme was completed, espocially as difficult obstacles were encountered.
The basis of the old peal was four bells cast by William Bagley in 1696. In 1858, a trehle and tenow were put in by Warner and Sons, ant as a diamond jubiles memorial, Barwell's added two trehles in 1897. The hew tenor is 10 cwh. 12 lb . in $A$, with $n$ dinmoter of 373 frehes, and the total weight of the bells is 45 cm . 3 gr .21 lb . The old haseriptions have been reproduced, with certain adilitions, as follow:-

but the majority have not, although, of course, the fact that they have not does not necessarily make them, as an organisation, any the less loyal in intention to the Commeil. But the fact that the rule appears in the constitution of an association would bring it home to the members of that association that they are expected to honour the rulings of the Council as loyally as they respect the rules of their own society. The least signifcatst village cricket club would not for a monent think of settiog up its own standard of recognition of the laws of the game. Why then should individual ringers or compantes not be animated with the same spirit, and whole-heartedly accept the ' laws' which the Council lays down? The ringers have the right to send whom they choose to represent them, and, being thus represented, the policy of the Councit on any guestion-s the laws of the game " or anything else-is what the ringers like to make it. It is possible that this spirit is not yet fully developed in the Exercise, and that among certain classes of ringers it needs encouraging. If so, this is one of the first matters to which the Council should turn ils attention.

DEDICATION OF PEAL BOARDS AT TROWBRIDGE

An interesting ceremomy took place in the belfy of St. James ${ }^{\text {B }}$ Church, Trowbridge, on Monday, August $26 t h$, when the new Rector (the Res. S. J. Nisbett-Wallace) attended to dedicate thres peal boards. One of these bonals confaned the records of two pealsone of Girandsire Caters, rung on July Tth, National Thanksyiving Day, to celebrate the safe recovery of H.M. the King, and the other, rung on March 9th, in honour of the 81st birchdey of Mrs. James Lansiown, of Trowhridge.
There was quite a gathering in the tower for the unveiling. Several menders of the Lansdown family being present (as a mark of appreciation of the tinduess of the ringers to Mrs. Lansdown), together with the church oflicials, the local ringus and ringers from Devizes amd Melksham, who took part in the mational thanksgiviug peal.
30. Snan Hector was at the belfry door with the Rector, and introduced the visitors as they arrived, Mr. Hector apologised for the abschec of the tower captain, Mr. C. F. Andrews.
After opening prayers lad been sair by tho Rector, MI. Hector axplained the objee of their presence that evening. Irs. Lansdowns fancily had alwnys done much for the hells and the ringers in Trowbridge, he said, and he nsked Mr. M. M. Snailum to unvefl the board recording the peal rusg in honour of Mrs. Landown's birtladay.
M1: Philip M. Snailum said it was a great lunour to hima, as the eldest of Hrs. Lansdown's grandelaidren, to have been invited to unveil the peal hoard. He spoke of the great pleasure it gave Mra. Lanslown to luear the swect music of St. James' bells on her birthday, and he wished to convey to them all her gratitude for the exceptional and high honour that fand been done iner.
Mr. Hector then asked the Rector to unveil the portion of the buard recording the thanksgiving peal for the Ning"s recorery. The Rectov said he would like to cougratulate the ringers upon the peal Which they had rung, and lee was very glad to zee that the Lood Lieutenant of the county had sent thena a letter of thanks and congratulations. They all rojoided at the ronovery of His Majesty the Kiug.
A the Reefor"s request, the Gcoeral Thanksging wis said, and we then riedicated the tablets.
Two more tablets were afterwards dedicated, wae recording the first peal of Kent Treble Buh Royal rung for ine Saliahury Guild in the county in 1925, and a peal rung ly the Antient Society of Gollege Fouth5 in 1923.

At the conelusion of the ceremony a course of Grandsire Caterz was ruag, much to the interest of those who land never before wisited the lower.

A HALF.PEAL AND A BROKEN ROPE

At All Gaints Church, Gresford, Dishirhalife, on Wednestay, Auguse 14th, a half-peal of Stedman Triples (Hewwoot's) (2,604 changes) in 1 br. 32 mins.: T. Butler, sen., 1, R. Sperring 2, G. R. Jones 3, P. Swindley 4, J. F. Rodenhurst 5, J. C. E. Simpsoa 6, T. R. Butler (conductor) 7, A. Tilston 8. A peal was being astempted, but the bells were allowed to "run home" after the half-way single owing to the fraying of the Sth rope, which broke immediately after rounds was reaclied.
On the previous Salurday, the same band was stapped at Chester after ringing a quarter of the peal on account of ithess near the churet.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S CONSTITUTION

The next meeting of the Central Council is some distance off, but it would be well if associations would, before electing or re-electing their representatives, as they have now to do-the last Council having completed its triennial period-kive careful consideration to the proposals which have been made by a contributor to our columns on the subject of the reorganisation of the Council. There is no better time than the present for an overhaul of the position, and with the election of members of the Council is presented the best possible opportanity of putting forward any views for improving the relationship between the Council and the affiliated bodies. At present the ties between the two are of a loose description and, as far as the associations are officially concerned, all that they are entitled to do is to elect their quota of members and pay the corresponding fees. That condition of affairs, established wher the Council was first formed and in no position to take upon itself any authority, may still satisfy some, but there are otbers, the Gloucester and Bristol Association among them, who consider that the associations should be given a definite status in the constitution of the Council. At present the rules lay down that the Council shall consist (I) of representative members from all recognised Societies, Associations, and Guilds of Church Bell Ringers numbering not less than seventy-five members, etc. In these things a good deal depends upon the words that are used, and it might be possible and desirable so to revise this rule of the constitution that the definite status that is asked for could be provided for.

This discussion is outside the Council, therefore it provides an opportunity for the representatives of the Gloucester and Bristol Association to draft when they think are proper amendments to the rules and put them forward-50 that other organisations may consider them. The important necessity seems to us to be to make the affliation of the societies the basis of the constitution, with, as a natural corollary, a provision that each affliiiated association or guild shall, as far as lies in its power, recognise and observe the rulings and decisions of the Council; also that the societies shall have direct access to the Council and the right to submit motions for consideration, instead of as at present, having to get them placed on the agenda in the names of individual members. Naturally any association which put forward a proposal for the consideration of the Council would be responsible for providing a proposer and seconder, and, it seems to us, a motion thus submitted must carry more weight than one which merely stands in the name of a member. But whatever steps are necessary to test the feeling of the new (Contimued on page 594.)

[^58]Council as to a revision of the constitution, they shonld be taken early so that as-ociations may have as long a time as possible in which to consider them. The Gloucester and Bristol Association would do a service to the Exercise if it would formulate its alternative proposals in definite terms and not leave to others the difficult task of finding a formula to which they would be prepared to agree as a preliminary to rejoining the Council.

A RING OF TWELVE BELLS FOR BERKSHIRE.

玉170 WANLED.Two well-known Berkshre ringers are intenf on raisine the 8170
 Reading, to increase them io a peal of twelve, and so great is their faith that, as already mentioned in these colamns, the order has boon placed, so that the work may he done while the restoration of the other ten is in land. Jhe Eollowing appeal for funds lins heen sent out:-
About two years ago the ruthorities of St. Latrence's Chureh in Reading were made aware that their listavic ring of ten bells was in need of rehanging.

As soon as they could see their way to take time matter in hand a fund was opened and estimates wicre obtamed for carrying out the necessary work.

Messra. Mears and Staimbank oblained the contract to take down and tune the ten bels-recasting the treble-and to rebang them with new fitinga in a new castiron and steel flume.
Parishoners and others specially interested in the dhurch responted promptly to the appeal for funcls, sa that in three imontus fses out of the $£ 600$ required las been contributed.
When the scheme was wall launched it whs represented to the anthorities by Mr. R. T. Hibbert, who hesides heing secretary for the Diocesan Guila of Claurch Bellringers is also forentar of Si. Laurence's tower, that ik was a unigue oppartmity for securing a ring of twelve hells fay Reading and the archdeacomy and county of Berkshime-such being already possessed by Oxfordshive and Buck-inghamslire-and that it was possilile io laigg the ten with two additional trebles on one level, that he had it on the best authority that the result would rank amolig the hest of the light rings of twelpe in the country, and that if the auflorities wonld entertain the idesa he, in conjunction with the Rer. C. W. O. Jenkyn, the Master of the Guikt, wond malerake the raise the addlional amount reguired.
This representation was received witla nuch favour.
Will you, then, belp us two Berkshire men to raise $£ 170$ in order that this anchleaconry fund county may possess a ring of twelve mells? Suhseriptions may be sent to Trw. C. W. O. Jenky, Brohdands, Grosvenor Road, Cayersham, Reading; or to Mr. R. T. Hibbert, E9, E'ark Rond, Reading.

HOW IT CAME ABOUJ'  To the Editor.

Sir,-The relamging, tuning hall augmentation of the good ald peal at St. Laurence's Churelı Reading, has heen mentioned in the columns of "The Ringing Worla' several times recently, and my пame has been mentionerl as having senthething to do witly the jols, hemee these few words of explanation and appeal. When it was de: cided io tume and relang the old ton and add melal to tha freble, all ringers who knew the bells erealised that they would he, whon finished, a very fine ritug. A fow of us older vingel's also realised that here and how was the only anance 1.0 get a peal of twelpe in Herkshire, and by so rloing a peat of twelwe jas cach of the archdeamontes uf the cliocesc. Well, I will admu 'fults and follies' by owning up that I did agitate certain people in anthority and drove bome thase facts on all possible occasions; that wo should lave a goond pral of twelve; that there was romm for twelve an ono lovel, with a good circle, and thab in fime we would ring them. When the churela anthoritieg saicl they would he pleased to acecpt two hew bells, but woud not sloulder the further responsihility of $£ 170$, [ went, klraight to the Master of the Oxford Diocesna Guitri, Rev. C. W. O. Jeakyn (who is, like myself, a Borksaine mant, amb, after a slort talk, In said: "We will have a peal of twolve in our artive county. I will guarantee the amount, and we must get what help we can forough onv cum Guild, hrunclacs and towors, and alse from mersomal frimula.' So now, if any tower, bund, or indiwidual tinger would like to lefp. I will be pleased to send a receipt for amomit received, and also, if the editor of "The Ringing World' will oblige, print a list of aubseribers and bulance sheet. I may say that no eheque will be too required for the tehanging of the peal of teln.
RRCHARD T. HIBBFRTM.

A COMBINED PRACTICE AT LAVERSTOKE.

A very sucecssful comalined mractice of the Andover Bianch of tha Winchester and Porismondh Diocesan Guilil was bekl at Laverstoke on Soturday, members attending from Highelere, Overturs, King's Somhorne, Woolton Hill and Woutton St. Laurence, including two Indies from Highelere. Ringing commenced shortly after threr riclock and continued mial five oclock. Then, by kind insitation of the Rev, and Mra, W. Wragge, the memhers were entertained to tat on the lawn, Followed by a stroll romad the beattiful gerden, which extends to the banks of lle Birnw Test. This the memhers grently appraciated, and cordially thanked the Rev. and Mrs. W. Wragge for their kind hospikality. A move war haen made to the tower for further practice. A very nsefal afternom and evening was epent in practisint frandsire and Stedman Douhles mad Foth "imms.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD  NAVFNBY"S QUATET JOWER.

Tifo mewly-inslalled peal of six at the vidnge of Nevendy was an atataction la the large company of ringers who assembled there on Saturday, September 7h, upon the occasion of a guarierly meeting rat the Lincoln Distriet of the Lincoln Diocesnn Guild.

To the anmals of tho district one has to go back 4 good number of years to find wuy mention of this tower figuring in any events of campanalogy. It must, howewer, liave heen desired by the prime movers of Lithe bell restoration scheme that Navenhy should no longer be in the dark as far as ringing is concerned, and that it should he Frought inta line with its noiglibouring parish. There was a little diffecalty on a feelnical mature at the outsot of the restoration scheme, but fortanately it was quickly overcome, and now Navenby possesses th fine peil of bells, with a tenor of 13 cwt.
Viewing this church from the roadside, the smallness of the tower in comparison to the nave of the church presents a notable feature, from which one might well Hssume lisat the builders were suddenly fuced with slartage of material. The entrance to the belfry, like many others in the comntry ends in a peculinu manner. Having proceeded up wifticient namber of steps, one is suddenly confronted witla ath fuertmo in the wall leadiug to the ringing eliamber, the floor of which is some 8-10 feet below. From this opening in the wall one anim obdain an unobstructed bird's-eye view of ilie room. With the new iastallation of bells, consideration has been extended to those rasicling very close ta hide chunch, for the louvres lave been baraled over. Willd lis impurement, however, there is coupled the disadvantage that the striking of the ghutoh clock caunat be liearal to its required measure, with the result lhat it is lighly probable that sarac of the boarding of the louves will yat have to be fomoved. Those present at the meeting came from Lincaln, Blankney, Bassinghnm, Branston, Bardncy, Gainshorougl, Folkigham, Worksop, Ordsall, Callinghant and Navenby, many of whom arrived early irt the aftumoon. The Rector of Navenby kindly conducted a service in the church, and also gave an address. T'ea was then served at the Lian and Roysl Fotel, at which upwards of 40 were present.
Following this a meetmit took place, at which Mr. Geo. Chester took, for the first time, the official position of presiflent-the outcame of a very unanimous election at the Bardney meeling.
Mr. Ohester first of all thanked the eompany for the honour bestowed upon him, fand went on to say that he was following a very good man in the Rev. R. Bond, the late president. He wonld do his utnosl lot the benefite of the Guil. He emphasised the importance of keeping up the strongth of the Guid by obtaining young ringers, and he hoped that the move skilled ringers would not grodge the time given by thon in toaching the new recruits. The main thing for ringers to obsarve was 'to kecp going lorward.'

Mons hew menherg were added to the roll, viz, Miss Rollitt (Navenly) and Mr. B. Jhoyes (Bardney) ps ordinary members, Mr. (Hibeon dackson (Doneqster) and Mr. R. E. Stockdale (Ordsall) both as mon-resident life members.
The next meoting is to be held at Caythorpe on November 16th, for whinh meating the methor of Oxford Bob Triples was selecten for proferential study.

Thanks were accorded to the Rector af Narenby, to the organist, und to the tea makers.
The ringers returned to the tower for further ringing until nite o'clock, when the bells were loweyed, bringing to a close a most succossiful mectiag.

BLIND RINGER'S ACHIEVEMENT.

RINGS STFDMAN DOCBLFS AT FTRST ATEEMPT

A very pleasant theeting of the Mandoorongly Brancli of the Salishury Guidd was hedr at Chisleclori an Saturday. A lovely old-world willan on the wiltshire Down, with its fine old ehurch dedicated to the Holy Cross, and a good-going ring of five bells (temor I4t cwt.), provided mach eujoyment for those present. Ringers were present from Aldhourno, Chisedon, Oghourne, Sheffeld, Swindon (Christ Ghureh and SL. Mark's), and Wootton Bassett
An excellent ton was provided on his lawn by Mr. S. C. Aucher, the fuxury of deek chairs and the like being nucts appleciated.
Some very good ringing was acoomplished both before and after ton, in Plaim lioh, Origian, Grandsive and Stedman Doubles. The most intelesting event of the तay was tho tray remarkable perform-fone of Mr. Whitaker, the well-known organist at Chisledon Boh Doubles withoul the slightest hilch, and later, remarking that Ifte knew the methad but lind nol tried it before, be rang the 2nd isell Ilrough two 120's of Stedman Doubles, striking his bell perfectly. One hinks biat the two touches mentioned ate worth recording, as they musi be almost, if not quite, unique, and one would like to add word of admination and congratulatian to Mr. Whitaker on his achievement. Tho 120 Plain Bob Dhuhtes was rung by: L. Wilson (Wootion Bassett) 1, D. Heginbothom (Aldyourne) 2, H. Wlittakev (Chisladon) (condactar) 3, J. E. Lewis Cockey (Dorc, Sheffield) 4, S. ## WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

THE SATETY OF BROADWAY TOWER.
A meeting of the Southern Ruanch of the Worcestershire and Diztriets Association took place at St. Eadburghe's Church, Broadway, on Saturday week, and proved very enjoyable to all concerned. Tlie hells lave reeently been rehung in n new iron frame with ball bearings, by Messrs. Gillett and Jaluston, of the Groydon Bell Foundry, who have carrien out the work in a very satisfactory manner.

Mr. R. H. Dove, a member of the staff, represented the firm at the meeting, and among those present were the Rev. D. FitzMaurice (Hampton), Mr. and Mra. A. J.. Parsons (Old Hill), Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bird and Mrs. Bird (Old Hill, T. J. Saltel (Kidderminster), W. Sllort (Clent), G. Fern (Smethwick), H. and A. Martin (Bromsgrove), C. H. Jones (Worcester'), S. T. Holt (Crowle), W. Ranford (Suckley), J. Fyle (Charlbury), and members of the branch were also present from Evesham, Hampton, Cropthorne, Hinton, Childswickhats, Dumbleton, Offeninarn, Bretfortor, Badsey, Staintbury, Overbury, Bredion's Norton, etc.
Soon after 3 p.m. the bells were set going to various standard methods, and the order of the afternoon and evening was for short touches so that all present could have a pull. Service was held at 4.30 p.m., the association's form of service being used, many parishiboners being present.
rhe Vicar, the Rev. V. H. Patrick, took the service, and the choir and organist were in attendance. The Vicar, in welcoming the assaciation to Broadway, said he appreciated the good fellowsbip and brotherhood they were creating among their numbers. The old church, be said, had nestled between those hills simee the Norman period, its bells had pealed forth joytul news, and its mufled peals bad sent forth sorrowful news, athd now again they would still brighten and cleer the countryside.
Tea was provided by the Vicar and churchworkers, and was taken at St. Patrick's Cafe, upwarts of 60 sitting down
At the business meeting which followed, the Vicar presided, and was also elected an hon. member to the association. Several performing members were also elected.
It was decided to attempt the quarterly peal on Broadway bells with Mr. J. Hemming as conductor, hut this camsed some discussion, as the Yicar pointed out that the architect was of the opinion that the tower was not safe for long peal ringing, but this was ridiculed by Mr. IR. H. Dove and Mr. C. A. Binyon.
It was further resolved to hold the nexli meoting at Great Hanipton.

Tlig usual vote of thanks was moved by Mr. G. A. King and was arried with loud applatse, and the Fica hriefy feplicd,
A collection was taken al the service for a belfry repairs fund which amounted to 18 s., since which a further contribution of 5 s. has heen sent by the Misses Hingley, of Middle Hill Park, who also bave kindly consented to hecome lion. members of the association.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEWBURY BRANCH.

A very successful meeting of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Piocesan Guild was held at Peasmore on Saturday, Soptember Till, whon the following towers were replésented: Bucklebury, Briglit-walton, Beedon, Chieveley, East Ilsley, Newbury, Shaw, Highicre and the Peasmore ritgers. Visitors wore also present from Maiden heal. A service was conducted hy the Rector of Newbury (the Rur L. F Majendie), who gave a very helpful address form Psalm cxxii. "I was glad when they said unto me: We will go into the bouse of the Lord." Miss Jacohs presided at the nrgan. Tea was served the Misses Brown in their orchard, which was much appreciated the ringers on such a hot day.
The business meeting followed, over whiol the chairman of the branch (the Rev. L. R. Majendie) presided, stpported by the hoo. branch secretary and treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis).
The Secretary reported the death of Mr: J. Pummell, of Hampstead Norris (an old menber of the Guild, all standing for a fgiv moments as a tokell of respect.
The amual meeting was fixed for Newhury about the middle of November, the date being left ta the secretary to arrange with tie Master of the Guild.
Mr. N. J. Blunden, of Bucklehury, was elected an hon. member, and three new ringing members where also elected.
The Rev. L. R. Majendie proposed a hearty vote of thanks to tho Misses Rrown and their helpers far moviding such an excelent teat This was seconded hy the secretary, who also thanked the Rector for his eddress, and Miss Jacolos for presiding at the organ. The tower was again visited, and this noted peal of hells set going again in the following melhoils: Grandsire and Stedman Dotables, Plam Bol, Kent Irehle Bob and Cambridge Minor-

AN ESSEX EXPEDITION

ASSOCIATION VISITS NFGLEOTED TOWERS.
Forty members, repreachting twelve parishes of the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association, assembled at High Easter on Saturdisy last for the purpose of creating interest in the bells, which have nut been rung for many years. Among those present were Mr. O. H. Howand (Master of the Association), Mr. G. Green (District Master) and Mr. H. W. Kirton (district secretary), Dr. Spencer Phillips, Messrs. W. Keeble, F. L. Hammond, W. Lincoln and afber prominent neighbouring ringers.
The bells, a ring of six, with a tenor 18 owt., half a tone flat, restoved, and a treble added to commemorate the diamond jubilee of Queen Victoria, need the attention of a competent bell hanger. The 4 th, especially, goes very hadly. Fortunately, there were among those present men wha could hande nad strike the worst going bells, and some very creditable ringing was done in the following methods Canloridge Surprise, Oxfort and Keut Treble Bob, Plain Boband Grandsire Doubles. Tea and meeting were held at the Cock and Bell, Mr. G. Green, District Master, presiding.
Rey. Canon Payater was eleched a life hoa. member
A short service was held in the church. The Rev. B. H. Vincent, Vient, officiated, gave a warm welcome and a short well-chosen address. The lesson was read by the Master.

After the Vicar had been thanked for the use of the bells and for officiating at the service, his atiention was called to the need of some belfry repairs. A wish was also expressed that an effort should be made to form a hand of sarvice ringers.
The Wicar promised that the request woulrt receive his attention at the same time pointing out the difficulties of securing churchworkers in so scattered and rural a parisl.
A call was made by some on their way home at Gaod Easter. Here is a very musical ring of five, hanging in a turret, tenor about 10 cmt . No ringing has been done on these bells for several jears. The long draught of rope and the need of some oil on the bearings may have accounted for the indifferent "go." Several six-scores of Doubles were brought round, possibly the first change ringing on the hells. No band of हervice ringers is now in existence. The Vicar, Rev. W. T. Vaughan Jones, expressed his plepsure at the visit of the members.

Allhough no opportunity occurred of meeting any local ringers at either of the parishes, it is hoped that the expedition will result in an effort being made to induce some of the jounger generation ta lake up this branch of church work.

HERTS AND BEDS JOINT MEETING.

On Saturday last a joint meeting of the Eertford County Association and Bedfordshire Association was held at Biggleswade. The meeting was well attended, and the different counties were well represented by members from Bedford, Biggleswade, Clifton, Everton Roxtor, Southill, Sandy, Baldock, Barley, Hitchic, Letchworth, Offley, Stevenage, Melbourn (Gambs) and Cambridge.
The bells were raised ahout 2.30 p.m., and were kept going in the following mefhods: Plain Bob, Grandsine Triples, Kont Treble Bob Major, Double Narwich, Stedman Triples, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, and & course of London Minor for the benefit of the 'Minor' ringers.
An excellent tea han been arranged by Mr. C. J. Ball, the Beds secretary, at the Cafe.
After tea, the bells were again suon on the swing, and not before8.30 p.m. was the meeting brought to a close as the bells were rung down in peal in masterly fashion, a fitting close to an enjoyable day.
The sccretaries wish to thank all who lent their aupport, therebs making the meebiag the success that it undoubtedly was, and hope that anothar may be arranged at a future date

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for pieference, be photographic postcards and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the pholographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opfortunity oocurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough 10 send a photograph of his own tower this week-end--before he forgets it? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The peals at Grantham, Ewerhy, and Heckington were tung duling a week-end wisit to Surfleet by siveral well-knowu ringers, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson. The peals at Ewerly and Heckington were rung as a compliment to the host and hostess on the anmersary of their engagement.

A FING DF NO ARCHEOLOGICAL INTBRJST
Tho centrial tower has a loty spire, probably the tallest to be found in the rianese. The ahnreh has long harl a ring of bells, for 3n the time of Tedward VI. il is recorded Lhat there weare, in atdition tohor was alout a ton. The present ring ase a mixed lol and poor in quality. The oldest is the thind, east in 1740 ly Themes Lester', of Lomalon, who in 1746 recast other bells, probably the olit five which figured in the Lifwardine returns. The fifth of this ring was recast by Mhorass Swaine in 1772, two more bells were added in 1792 , the trable of which was recast in 1839. Ten years later the tenor was pertist, nnal in 1874 the fifth passed througls the melting pol. Tha, bells have thus no archreolgegal interest, and, though the temor is ahout 25 cwhe are an indifureme ring. Far some yons they have soridusly meaded rehanging, while ringing at Goditming is carried on mader anolher serions handicup, fur there is searcely any ventiation in the belfry. There are no windows in the ringing room (for tear, the spirn), and only two smal] holes have heen pierced tiluongla the 5ft, thek walls to let in the fresle air. Ringing has alwiys to be maried on by athilicial light, and on that thy such as fast patarday it was hatdy the best conecivathe place for a ringing meeting Novertheless, menturs of the Guidford Distriot of the Guildford Diaresan Guild were present for a disbrict mecting, and enjoyed ilmmselves as ringers are wont to do, even umber the most atuerse conditions. Feroes were neter lacking for the back-end jobs, but the shoftest totahes werc enough at a time. Methods up ta Canbridge Surntise Major were rung during the day.
Tha Gaid's service was conducted lyy the Yicar kev. A. S. Jichatdsh, the singing heing led lag the choir boys. t'lie Vicar's Hidrebs was based on 2 Clyon. y. 13: "Th make one sound to the henrel in praising and thanking the Lord.' The bells of the parish marabes of this country, he said, entered verg closely into the lito of He local communily. In these days when mankind seemed to be mosily maleres of moise, it was a great thing that the boils, with thair mossage, given out Sundny by Sumaley, should call attention to the higher things of life. The preacher referved to the atutios and reponsibilities of the ringers, and poind rd out that their ministry was anll the mosw dfective when, in addition to ealling athers to worship, they set tho example themerlves and attended the services.
An exeellont tea was afterwards gerved in the Chureh Institute, athe the Vienr presifled owe the shout hasiness meeting which followed. Those present inchated the hous. treasturer of the fuild (Admiml T. P. Walker), the hon. secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith), tha. Distriet Ringing Muster (Mr. C. Hazelrent, the district hon.

HINT TO CTFITRCH ATETRORITIES
It seconding, Mr. Geldsmith said they realised that Godalming was fise cold town, and hatd a liac oled cliureh, but he enuld not sny it had a fine peal of bells. He liad not come to grumble, but he would like seriously to suggest to the church authorities at Godalming that Whey consider doing something to their bells. At the moment, the bells really went very badly indead, and he thought Mr. Childs and the oliter Godalming ringers would agree with him.
The bells themselves necder the attention of a bell hanger, continued My Goldsmith, and he thwught the choreh authorities would find it would be chexpir to luve them attended to now than let Then go a few more years, when the state of the bells would be far worse. He believed it was true that Godalming was quite a wealthy borougls (laughter'). So they would not have much difficulty in raising any money mecessary to put the church bells inta order. If that was the case, he suggested they should make a clean sweep. The Fiear lad told them in his sermon something about makers of noise. All the while the Gorialruing bolls want as they did now, the ringers in the tower would be makers of noise-noisc, pernaps, that the inhabitants would not apprecinte! If those responsible wonid put tha hells in good order, and, if possible, lave them tuned harmonicallywhich these were not-and have one or two of the cracked ones put right, they would liave a peal worthy of the town and of the fine old church (hear, hearl.
Mr: Goldsmith said he was sure members of the Guild would not think he was riawitur the long bow, because be believed that certainly not. for 30 years hat the Godalming bella had a serious amount of maney spent on them. There was also not enough venlilation in the tower, fand if anything onuld he tone to improve it while relange ing the bells it would be appreciated not only by Godalming vingers but $\mathrm{by}^{2}$ all who visifed the tower.

THE VICAR'S RFPLY

The Yicar, acknowledging the vote of thanks, said not only bells wore out but even Godalming poekets were liable to wear out (latughter). The Chureh Rons in which they ware gathered was rather inelined to wear out, and at the present monent there was a considerable debt in regard to the repairs. But he was glad to hear from someane outside the parish of a defnite need like the bells, which would have to he fincod, hecause very often a proplet in his own country, such as the secretary or chairman of one's own ringers, whs less likely to be listenad to than someone from outside, of whom there could he no suspivion that ho liad any axe to grind. He know That Goclalming had & reputation of being able to raise money for Anything and everything, and it miglut be to the credit of the parish that slonald be so, but he laped no one would imagine it was necessarily too easy to do that in the present day. As a matter of fact, in reeent poars Godalming had been suffering the loss of some of its hest church supporters, and those who came and replaced them were not quite so strong in their support. That applied, he supposed, not quite so streng in their support. That applied, he supposed tainly bear in mind what Mr. Goldsmith said ahout the bells, and he was sorry to hear that snme were cr:abked.
Mr. Childs, proposing the election of the Vioar of Godalming as an hon. member of the Guilm, remarked that what Mr. Goldsmith had stid ahout the bells was perfertiy true. They dial mend atitention, and had done so for a long time.

Admiral Walker secouded the proposition, which was carried with acclamation.
Responding, the Vicar said he knew of the goor work the Guild alid in the diocnse. Bells were a real national claracteristic in the conntryside, 日nd low believed the work of the ringers was an asset to the spiritual life of the country.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD, PORTSMOUTH DISTRTCT AT CATHERINGTON.

A very enjoynble by-meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at. Chatherington on Saturday last, when, hy kind permission of tha Vicar (Rex. F. M. Lake), the peal of six was matable to the menbors daring the afternoon and evening. The weather was ideal, and mombers wore present from Catherington, Easi Mcon, Portsmouth (St. Mary'sl, Ryde and Titelffeld, also visitors from Ragate and Mr. 7. H. Shepherd (Swindon).

A short service was held in the ehurch, at which the Vicar officiated and gave an excellent athliess, after which the members adjourned to tea. At the close of this, the Vicar welcomed the Guild to Catheringlen, and hoped that before long they would pay them another thanked the Vicay for his kind words, and also for allowing them the use of the hella Ilat day.

At the conolusion the mombers pairt a further visit to the torer until ${ }^{7}$ p.m., when the hells were lowered in pal. The ringing during the day comprised Grandsire. Stedman and Boh Doukles, Pan Bob, Oxforl and Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

FRESH SPLICING

A paragraph last weck mentioned the ringing on spliced principlas of methods which had not hitherto been joinod up in this way. As a matier of fact, something lof wert to is only a nart. We hope to stone, of whel the ringing heferen to something further about this new departure shortly.

DORSET DAYS.

BY W. H. F

A bvief holidny amidst Thomas Hardy's fascinating Wessex scenery in South Dorset was olganised by Mr. M. Herrey Beams, assistant hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, on behalf of a party of change ringers nof unknown to readers of 'The Ringing World. Drewn by 'the ropes' from six counties, they formed a ' non-resilent ' team of eight men, with an Exeter 'pigeon pair' in valuable reserve. Members arrived at Bridport as you please, some of them nt hendquarters, the Greyhound, a noted house, especially to a noted fondon band, but owing to the smmmer crowds others lad to be hounded ' elsewhere
After Sunday morning service on September 8th at Holy Trinity Clurci, Bradpole, everyone assembled under the bospitable roof of Mr. and Mis. Beams for lunch, at which the Vicar, the Rev. ©. W. 1'Ombrain, M.A., welcomed the visitors to Dorset, and offered grace bifore meat. When the aftermon peal carme home, some half-dozen lopty local young men came to see the band, and were surprised to lime no blisters. Ower the tea cups time thavelled 'Schneider speed, and recollections of Leytonstone and Sussex, of the days before M: feams came to Bradpole in 1906, were recalled.
A quarter of a century ago change ringing in the Bradpole district was unknown; there was nowe to be had nearer than Dorchester The Diocesang Guild existed in name rather than as a body, with its four unwieldy divisions to the cardinal points of the compass. Areas unworkable were subdivided into the present districts, which are still too large. Perseverance has produced in West Dorset a good erop of 190 nembers in 17 affiliated towers, and the work of restoration has not been neglected. Scventeen peals of bells have been restored in some way or other according to the means and the interest of Dorsetshire men. Good as the results have been in the past, much still neens to be done, especially in terching the art of change ringing but it is growing gradually, thanks to the practical and personal interest shown by the president.
Referring to the last annual report of the Guild (1928), the list of peals was a record for the Guile, and no less than four prominent ringers paid a visit to the diocese, whose peal records total upwards if a thousand each-Messrs. W. and G. Pre, F. Bennett and George Wiliams. Pinancially, too, the Guild is in a llonsishing state, and muybe, the fgo balance in hand last year is $£ 100$ by now Witin a bright moon to prolong a joyous Sunday, the company proneded by cers and malot-cycle through Bridport to take a breati if the 'Atlantic air " at West Bay. Tley left belind the 'Norman ${ }^{\text {E }}$ Anureth, nor yet a centary oid, erected on the morth side of the older rainous building, which tells onc that the font bowl may have been 700 rears in use; that a solid slab of stone, carved for the lead of is three-light window is one piece, was found in a rubbish heap. In his parish was born an lumble ringer, who rose to be the general nisanager af Elze G.W.R., well known to the wriber as a resident of Slough for many years, and here ho rests. Near the church door, too, where he wished to lie, rests also the late Ticar, the Rev, C. F. going.' His encourarement of Mr. Heans in the efforts to restore unt augment the old ruinaus peal of six bells (cest by Warnel of London, 1865), led to the "order" for tie work being given before t pound was in the trands of the treasurer. But the debt was cleared a one year, and the opening peal $(5,000)$ toused the inhahitants to me to breakfast.
The county of Dorsel from tire days of Elizabeth lias not been eglected by our Kings and Quenns. Lyme, Melcombe, Wyke and Theer Regis all have associations with King Charles II, and George III., but we have yet to hear that there is a Regis St. Giles. Thanks to the Rev. C. Garew Cox, Vicar of Michael's Church, Lyme Regis, ilae party were allowed to ring in the marning, on Monday, Septemher $9 t h$, and an anouncoment in the parish magazine mentioned their coming to ring a peal (which they did), inviting young men of the parisk to take up the art. In this belfry is an ornamental panel of wood, with a hold drawing in gold of a skull and crossbones, in eribed "Monentes Mori," ous a dark background-just the sort of enicement to a young man who is tived of the dungers of motorcling to hang himself. Before rg11, Lyme possessed a ring of six ant by Thomas Bilbie in 1770, from funds raised by voluntary sub ariptions and a clatech rate.
There is mach to be sitid in favour of Sir. Cox's nmouncement. deatifu] bell music is poured from the chmoln towers throughout Ile country without any preliminary notice to the townspoople. When the bells ring, many people would like to take their favourite alk abrond and listen to the 'loud eymbals,' whilst others who are listressed by bell music would prefer a visit to fistant friends and erighbours, and notice of a peal gives them the opportunity of makTheir arcangements.
The visitors retmrned to Bridport via whitehurel Camonicorum Here is a line old ring of eight, tenor 21 cwt. in E flat, and Stedman 'Iriples was lost appramhing lialf-way, while the tenor clapper broke churing the touch of Major, which was treing rung so that all could ate a "pull."

MEETING AT NORTHAW

A visit to Northaw was paid by a few enthusiastic memberg of the Middlesex County Assaciation and London Diocesan Guild on Saturday, Soptember 14th, on the occasion of a North and East District meeting in this clarming but out-of-tie-way village. The smal company included Miss K. Wilhars, who cyeled from Tumpington, Cambs, to attend the mecting. Divine service was held at 5 p.m. at which the Vicar (Rev. E. S. Allen) officiated. Als excellent tea was provided, after which the usual short business meeting was hedr
Two new members were elected, and a wote of congratulation passed to the Ref. A. H. F. Boughey (a vice-president of the associationl on attaining his jubilee as president of the Cambridge University Guild.

The note in the current issue of 'The Ringing World, referring to peal rung at Appleton in 1877, was commented on. Mr. F. A. Milne, the president, was one of the tingers on that occasion, and fully recollected the peal.
Mr. Milne proposed a vote of tianks to the Vicar for the use of the beils, and for his address at the service, also to Mr. B. McKie and the local ringers for arranging the meeting

The Hon. Secretary expressed his great pleasure at the recent successes of the Northaw baud, who, being quite up to date, wero practising Spliced Treble Bob methods with good results. He urged thern to keep the progressive policy going.
The charming peal of six bells (tenor $13 \mathrm{cwt)}$. were rugg to severa. methods during the aftornoon and eveniug, including Stedman Donbles, Plain Bobs Minor, Kent, Oxford and Kingston Treble Bob Minor, and the latter two methods spliced. Rounds were also rung for tile beginners.

Tca followed, after whieds a short Lusiness meting was held, Mr C. D. Heginbailiam presiding, and extending a bearty welcome to the visitors. He drew attention to recent articles in "The Ringing World ' urging ringers ta take an interest in the work of their associations. He also congratulated Mr. J. T. Dyke on his taking part in the recotd peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under Lyne on August Bank Holiday.

The death of ML. A. N. Smitio, of Bratton, a member of the Guild, was reported, those present standing in silence as a taken of respect Mr. Gyril Gilbert, of Roundeway, Devizes, was elected a metnher, and on the motion of the chairman a role of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the hells, the organist, the chofr and thost who prepared the dea.-The Vipar replicd.
Fisitors included Mr. L. A. Wilson, Wootton Bassett (secretary of the Calne Brameh, Messis. E. Bishop, S. Palmar, R. W. Hyncr, C. J. Gardiner, J. S. Roberts aud J. Berry (Swindon), Messrs. S. Wil shire, C. R. Davison and H. P. Marsh (Chippenham), and Mr. H. Bury (Calne) Mumbers of the branch were present from Bishops Canmings, Warminster, Dewzes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Southbroom, Rowde, Bratton, Trowbridge, Holt and Melksham. Touches of Grandsime and Stedman Tuples, Canbuidge Surprise, Superlative Kent and Oxforcl Trehle Bob, Double Norwich and Plain Boh Majo were rung during the afternoost and evening, a very plaasant time being spent.
It was decider to hold an evoning mecting at Bration and Eding tor ous Septemker 21st, if the be nonthly meeting af Waminsler Bishop's Cannings Chuvel is a very beautiful building, and the hells (tenor 16 cot.) make one of the finest peals of eight in the county Great credit is due fo Hi: T. Merritt, the eaptain and steeplekeeper, for the way in which the ringing clamber and bells are kept.

belfry, and a most courtcons foreman. Canon Raven, in his notes on Church Bells of Dorset, gives the temor of the okl ring of five as 49 inches diameter and 37 inches heigith, inseribed:-

> Hark, when I call, come ta church all; Come to serve God, or come not at all. W. L., F. G.; G. W., J. I. Anno Domini 1669.

In all probability the riflage inn, where tea was partaken of, was named after the elumely hells, the Five Hells, when this grand, deeptoned tenor was added to the four ond onç. Since the atwent of laiways, authors and whers coast of Beidport Bay Traking Charmoulh as a centre, one word comes to athul-elarming and the Great Western Railway publications reveal much of its hes lory to those interested in ' Darsetshire.

NOTTINGHAM DISTRICT MEETING AT COTGILAVE.
A very pleasant and enjoyable meeting was held at Colgrave on Suturday, the enthusiasm of ringere from afar, coupled with the glorious weather, no doubt contributing mach to the success of the grthering. The six hells were available from 3 p.ma, but even before llat time a dady ringer had arriped from Surleet, and a start was made witl a 360 of Bob Minor. Soors there was a goodly conpany al ringers of both sexes fram the following amongst otlier pances: Nobinglan, Sindiacte, Sulton-on-Trent, Treaton (Yorks), Worksop and Wymondiam (Oakham), severnl of the local ringers also being present.
The bells were kept going in warious methods until an adjournment was made for tea, amply provided on Mr. Walter White's lawn, twenty siting down, only three of whom had sent notice of their intention to be present. Luckily the caterer was able to overcome the dificialty, and gave a hearty welcome to all. Will the time ever tome when ringers will give a thought for those who are arranging Thr meeting, ned who uro anxious to make it as comfortable as possible for the visitors? Some may make excuse, and say, 'A bit of bread and cheese will do for me, bat that is not quite the proper thing. A comfartable meal in company with the others who msy be present does much to make an afternoon outing a success.
'Tea being over, a retarn was made to the belfy, the company heing augmented by several ringers umble to put in an envilier apprarance, and ringing contimad imbill after cight ofock. During In: alay many methods werte well rang, ranging from Plain Bob to Cambridge and from the complimontary renarks heard an all sides as to the tone and 'go' of the bells, there is no doubt those present varried away very pleatant recollections of the meeting.

Owing to the absence of the distriet secretary, no armangements were mate for future meetings.

OVERSEAL RINGERS VISIT HIGHAM-ON-THE-HILL.
On Saturday, Soptember 7th, six ringers from Si. Mathew's, Overseat, Had a vory empoyable outing to Higham-on-the-Hill

A NATIONAL SOCIETY OF RINGERS?

As time goes on the various associations throughout the country get more and more inter-related through the now extensive practice of electing non-resident life members at an inclusive and reduced fee. In some cases the membership roll consists of as many as twenty per cent. non-residents, so that the overlapping is really of considerable proportions. This is all to the good in the interests of ringing, inasmuch as it is evidence of the growing intercourse which is taking place between one society and another. But this development of relationship opens up the question of a broader basis of organisation in the Exercise, and from time to time the suggestion of a national society for ringers is mooted. It was spoken of at a meeting reported elsewhere in this issue, and while the founding of one great central body is probably a very distant project, there is no reason why associations should not consider any ideas which may be put forward for drawing them closer together, in furtherance of their common objects.

To make one great and general amalgamation of all the ringing societies is oper to many serious objections, not least of which would be the loss of individuality and local identity of the territorial Associations and Guilds. A national organisation is hardly likely to command the support of the individual ringer to the same extent as at diocesan or county association; its management and direction would be too remote to interest him-even now, in many cases, he shows only the faintest interest in the affairs of his local association, and if this fratl link were broken his interest would doubtless evaporate entirely, And apart from the ringers, there would most probably be a loss of interest among those outside, that is among honorary members, who at present give their support to ringing societies. A national organisation would not be likely to appeal to their sympathy or their pockets in the same way that something intimately linked up with their diocese or county does to-day. Financially, therefore, there would most likely be considerable loss, and as few of our societies could carry on on present lines without the assistance of honorary members, it means that the ringer's contribution to a national society would of necessity have to be greater than he at present pays.

There is, however, a means already at hand, by which something could be done in the hope of drawing the associations closer together than they are to-day, and that is through the Central Council. There are various small ways in which closer relationship could be promoted between the societies, and if a reorganisation of the con-

[^60]stitution of the Council is to be considered, associations might well explore any avenues by which their joint advancement might be furthered. One of the reasons which lead to the suggestion of a national arganisation is the cost to a ringer who desires to visit some place outsiche his own area to ring a peal. He becomes mulcted in a 'compounding' member"s subscription, which may be anything from half-a-crown to seven shillings and sixpence, and he may, perhaps, never visit that district again. There are some ringers who think that a scheme should be evolved to lighten this 'burden,' and this is one matter to which the associations and Council might give consideration.

A KENTISH TOUR.

Ringers of Lymunge Parish Church, Kent, and friends lad their anmal outing on Saturday, Seplember 14th. Learing int $8.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. , they journeyed via Ashford to Harrietsham, where the first stop was made.
I'lie Ficar (tho Rev. H. de Y. Watson) was soon on the spot, and the bells were set going for aboul an hour. It was at Harrietsham that James Hatham rang his first peal. The company made their way to West Malling, where they were met by the Finar and enjoyed fruther ringing. Atter lunching at 'liunbrige Wells, they went on to Gmabrook. Here the only mishap of the day occurred, the hon. secretary of the pusty kindly breaking the rape of the tenor bell. This cut short the stop at Craninook, and the part set out for Headcom, where they were met by the Vicar (the Rev. Gertie), and Mr. Plilip Hodgkin, the hatiter lawing things ready. Grandsire Triples was rung on these heantiful toned bells, and the company were loth to leave. The parky then went on to Appledore, stopping en routo af Teuterden to partake of a well-earned tea. Reaching Appledore, the ringers made their way to the tower, uuder the leadership of Mr. Tohnson, sund to complete the ringing for the day, the exealen touch of Graudsire Triples was brought round. It was the unanimous opinion of friends and ringers that the best ringing of he totur was at Appledore. After an excellent ride, an ideal daya and some boantiful bells to ring on, home was reached about 10.15 p.m. The lingers take this opporturity of thanking the Wicars of Harielsham, West Malling, Cranbrook, Headeorn, and Appledore for grantigg pernission for the use of the bells, wheir kindness being musin appreciated by all.

DORSET DAYS.

BELLS CAST' IN A FIELD
On Tuesday, Beaminster was the destination, While waiting for the conclusion of morning prayers, the ringers wisited Broadwinsor for a brief touch of Minor on the ring of six bells, rehung in an iron frame in 1897 , and with temor of 14 cwt .3 qr .27 lh . St. Mary's, Beaminster, posscsses a beatilul wesfern tower, similar to Tilchmarsh, Nortlants, and here the Vicar and Mr. Bugler, local hon. secretary, met the visitors and gave assistance in the belfry. valiant abtempt for Cambridge Mrjor was made, but, there being no 'Varsity man in the band, it failel to 'matriculate,' although owing to the beat of the day perspiration trickled freely for more than an hour. The bells fre a camplete rimp of eight, tenor 45 tin. diameter, 20 cwt. in D, cast in 1765 by the Bilbies, of Gullompton, in the field adjoining the churchyard. The boundary wall shows to this day where it was cut throurh to allow the beils to be moved up to iheir long lifo in the steeple.
A hot lunch was welcomed at an inm named the New Hotel, which was probably standing when Tom Bilbie aud his son came to cast their bells for both Broad and Beam parishes, This house possesses a skitile alley, dempting enourh for an alternoon off $b y$ the "Throwbridge' man, but George Williams simply carried Sam away after three balls had been bowled.

After the successful peal at Bridport on Thesday ovening, some of the local hand, with Mr. W. S. B. Northover, hon. secretary, came to offer cougratulations, and explained that onfy two peals had been rung in the town previously-Stedman and Grandsiro Triples. He saw that the mames of the party wave duly entered in tho belfry hook, and it is mivisable not to state where they went afterwards, or how they farel at the Sun Im whom the sun went down. Seated beside the chnrclyard sate in his claire was one of the old Bridport ringers, whe had placed himself in at favourablo position to sec the men and hear the performance. He is a young Lawrence, of Shifnal, in stature, weighing approximately 20 stone perhays, and he stated that he had got been able to go up to the belfry for gears, but had been to the bell loft, eeen the new bells and frame, and had telt happier ever siuce. Wonder ceased when he explained that he had bribed the hellhanger to boist him up to the bell loft before taking down the tackle.

How Mrs. Willians rolled lifu sleeves up to aed as scullery maid ancl how Mr. Hector parked his flyo-teater in a rablit lutch are sido issues to be passed over, with the remark that bellwingers do s see life '-occasiomally.

MILTON ABBET

' Make yourself at home nan your friencls will lowe you'-and this is exactly what the party of ten aimed at on Weduenday, whon after a lost peal of Cambriclge Major at Bradpole in the morning they again invaded Lie lomestend of Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Beams. Devon cider aml home-made Dorsed sausfge aftorded ifleal tuncheon for a heat wave, hut the company were tenich the usual 'sit awhile' after it and only time enough was allowed for Mrs. Willians tol band to Mrs. Reams a small pareel containing a 'keepsake' from the guests. On removing the phper coverings the recipicnt, already agreeably surprised, rebumed her thanks with a beaming smilo, and thus farmells were spoken and taken mud the journey of 22 miles resumed.
It was not a case of "Hail! smiling morn, to one of the bant. Mr. Cave, half-macl with nemralgia, was driven io Bridport and had a painful tooth pxtracherl as soon as the party laft the belfry. Milton Abbey, the rext tower to be visited, retjoins ance of illo most ancient and stately liones of the countr, and permission for a peal is seldom obtained. All the velieles arryperl sale and punctually, including the little West Enal 'Morgam." Mr. Perkins' head gardener showed the gronnds, gatcins and greeulionges, where grapes ancl bananas ware hanging temptinga, Of the ancient Abbey, afily the chancel, transepis and tife remtral towers are stanting toway, restored from the ancient ruins; there is rat the nave to reconstrin Dedicaterl to St. Sampson, it is $\quad$ heandiful buiding, :hparated the mansion--formerly a Bmarlintine monastery-by a few yata In 1861 there were five hells hung here by Warners. They since been made into eight, temor $38 i n$. diameter, 11 cwt. in These are ghite separabe forn the whree elock bells east bw Wells, of Aldbonin, in 1804. A whole book of thistory is athacheal to this farmus place, stones and fronts of the buidring going back to $12 t h$ century, The main roud of the vilage is an ohject lesson to all interested in garden cities, and it was laid ont move than a century back

Thb performance here was slow, for one reason being that little 73 years old 'Sampson' on the tenor never hurries his ringing or eating; another that lights were mot turned up, it grew dark and cyeryme slowed down to make sure if the ropes were at hand or backstuke. On the way hack to Doreliester the motorists slowed down, too, the brothers Audrews, with their motor-cycle, 'helping " two of the cars in a predicament before ten tried churchmen slept in the combty town.
Thargday, the final day, began at 8.15 , and by a pretty ride to Wyke Regis, througls Weymouth, ayly to find the clinreli in disorden and electrichans laying in their tubes. Lighting, however, does not tronble a morning attempt. Wyke bells are a peal of eight, uast by Taylor, 1891. Ereviously there were only three bells here, with the tenor badly cracked. A record exists here that thatee bolls were blessed by Bishop Beauchamp in 1455.

After the patal a call was maxle on Mr. Jemintrs, local captain, wha was laid up with a sprained back. Fis absence and that of the Ficar, who was on holiday, left the cluty of host in the verger's well-tried hands, and a roadman's hanch was cousumed before returning for the final attempt at Dorchester Parish Church in the evening.

To Mr. F. C. Benger (captain) and Mr. J. W. Snith (secretary) the visitors desire to tender their thanks for attentions which helped to complete the stedman peal achieved. The bells, ring of six, of 1734 -cast from five old hells of 1550 -were made eitht 1 y Bilbie in 1750 (thenor 49in. 《lameter'), Warners recasting two and restoring the peal in 1889 . A notice appears on the belty koor giving the foreman's address nud the hourg of Sumlay ringing and practices at St. Peter's, Rather a useful idea ancl a help to strangt ringers to find their way up for a touch. Three cars nad a cyele went their way of parting, and only old Bill was left for the railway to carry home with his little handbag, with the Irish customs' mark unon it still visible.

A VISIT TO WISBOROUGH.

On Saturday afternoon, August 31st, ringers from various towers paid thisit to the very pretty villege of Wisborough Green, Sussex, and enjoyed a ring on the recently augmented peal. Among the wisitors was Mr. Charles Tribe, of Tenterden, Kent, who in his early vouth lived there. The ringing incluted 720 's in the following methods: Kent 'reble Boh, Oxford Troble Bob, and Bob Minor, also 120 each of Stedman and Grandsire Doubles. The following took part in the ringing: T. Adams, J. Burdfeld, F. Brooks, P. H. Doick, A. Fiest, C. Iribe, R. Wood, the conducling being shared by Messrs. A. Fiest and $C$. Tribe. At tea the company were the guests of Mr. Tribe. Vates of thanks were accorcied the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. Newton, M.A.) for granting the use of the bells, also to Mr. W. G. Ford, the local secretaty for his belp.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A successful montlily meeting of the Warwickshire Guild wns held at Brinklow, dear Rugby, on Saturday. Members atitended from Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Husbands Bosworth, Monk's Kirby, Numeatol, Shilton, Stoke in Coventry, Stoke Golding, Rugby and Wiiloughby. Tha bells, a light peal of six. (the back five of which were crst by Smith, of Edglussion, iu 1705, and retioned and augxnented by 'laylor and Co. in 1827), were raised about 3 p.m., and kept going in various methods until five o'clock. Tho ringers then repaired to the scloolfoom, where they partook of a splendird tea. Returning to the belfry, which has a stone foor sloping towaids the main door, ringing was again indulged in until eight aclock, when the bells were lowered. The methods rung durivg the afternoen and evening were Plain Bob Duubles and Minor Grandsive and Sterman Doubles, Double Stodman, Double Oxford, Double Court, Fent Treblo Bob, Cambridga and London Surprise.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTH HLOKK BRANCH.

A verg plensant quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Brameh was hed ut Great Brickhill on Saturdiay, September 7th. The fine weather, the heautiful surcoundings, amd a good attendance made the gathoring all that could bo desined. The following towers were represerted: Bletchey, Beaclanmpon, Femy Stratiord, Stoney Stratford and Shenley, with visitors mon Bedford, Woburn and Liaglade. The bells were kept going in various methuds until the service, which was conducted by the Vicar of Great Brickhill, Rev. D. R. James, the Guild forro being used. A short and interesting address was given by the Rev. Harper, Vienr of Litlle Brickhill. Tea was served at the village hotel, when about 30 sat down.
T'he Secretary, M1'. W. Sear, anmonnced that there was no special business to be transacted, but proposed a wery hearty wote of thanks to the Vicar of Great Brickhill for arranging for the meeting, to the Rev. Harper for his address, and to the organist. This was auitably responded to.
Great Brickhill is a beautiful spot, with a nice church. The only place that is not pleasant is the ringing clamber, because of the absence of light and ventilation. No ringing can take place without artificial ligit, and a window is hadly needed. Tlais was brought before those concerned with a view to discussing the matter with the Parochial Church Conncil to see if sometining can be done.

Ringing during the afternoon varied from Grandsire and Btednan Doubles to London Surprise Minor.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN "THE RINGING WORLD."
The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will lse glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to them future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about thens.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, ail the pictures cannot be pulblished at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The secretary of the Salisbury Guild, Rev. F. Llewellyn Edwards, who, in common with other members of the Central Council, has recently visited Belgium, has been elected a member of the Carillon League of Bruges, or, in the sonorous Flemish version of its title, Brugsche Klokkenspelvereeniging.

THE CATHEDRAL OF THE PEAK.

TIDESWELL'S FAMOUS CHURCH.

Tideswell Church, dedicated to St. John the Baptist, is of the Iq th century, and the tower in particular presents a very fine spectacle with its four surrounding pinnacles. The interior contains brasses and tombs, one of which is dated 1358, and a chancel screen. The wood carving in the chancel and elsewhere in the church is particularly fine, most of the work having been done locally. It has a peal of eight bells recently installed by Messrs. Taylor & Co. This famous church is known throughout Derbyshire as the 'Catbedral of the Feak' and one has only to visit the church to realise the worthiness and aptaess of its title.

TIDESWELL CHURCE-'THE GATHEDRAL OR THF PEAK.'

A very successful joint mecting of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild aud the Peak District of tho Midand Counties Association was held at this chureh en Satumlay week, when more than 70 ringers took the eppartunity of trying the fine peal of eight bells recently hung by Messrs. 'Iaylor and Co., of Loughborough.
The towers of the Poak District represented were Bakewell, CastleIon, Eyam, Longstone, Matlack, and Tideswell, whilst members from Ashiton-under-Lyne, Duffield and Handsworth were present on belalf of the Ladies' Guld. Other ringing visitors turned up fram Ecclesfield, Sheffield (Cathedral and St. Marie's), Derby, Staveley, Chesterfield, loughhorongh and Norton, a party from the latter place taking the opportanity of making. Tideswell their rendezvous for their anamal outing. Same very good ringing took place during the day, and many were the expressions of appreciation of the fine 'go of the bells; they are so easy to handle.
With their customary hospilality, the Tideswell folk provided a sumpluous tea, for which the Rev. W. P. Wright, of Eyam, expressed thanks on belialf of all present
In weleoming the visitors, the Rev. W. P. Edwards, Vicar of Tideswell, also took the opportunity of saying how much they owed Messis. Taylor and Co. for the fine work they had carried out; he felt sure it woulcl last for generations to come. In thanking the Vicar for his kind words, Mr. Colin Harrison explained what the restoration med qugacntation had involved, and said the frm had felt honoured to be associated with such a magnifieent claurch and tower.
At the meetings whinh followed, the Rev. W. P. Wrigin toak the chair for the Peak District, and explaised that the secretary, Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, much regretted being unable to be present owing to being on holiday. - It was deciled to hold the next meeting at Darley Dalo on October 12th.
At the ladies' meeting, Miss N. Caw thorne, secretary, was in eommavd, and it is hoped that it will be possible to hold their next meeting at Dore, near Sheflield, on the usual date.
Ringers were loth to leave the bells, but train and bus are no respecters rof persons, with the result that at 8 o'clock the gatioring broke up, but the memories of that happy meeting will linger for many days to come in the minds of those who were fortunate onough to be present.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIE.

THE OBJECIION TO ANNUAL ELECT[ONS.

To the Edifor.

Sir,-The proposal to substitute annual for triematal elections to the Central Council is open to two objections. First, it would prove impracticable; secondly, ii would have exactly the opposite effect to that desired. As is well knotwn, the actual work of the Council is clome chielly by committees. If mentoers held office only for one year, there would be no certainty that any of those appointed to serve on a committee one year would be present the next year to report! The only exceplion would lse in the case of honorars members. The mevitable result of such a state of flings would be that the work of the Council would tend to becone more and more concentrated in the hands of honorary mombers, to the exclusion of the elected representatives, and the acts of the Conncil would consequently become less, instuad of more, representative of the affiated societies.-Yours faithfully,
F. LL. EDWARDS.

ONE CENTRAL ORGANISATION

CHESTER (GUILI) AN1) NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION MFET. A joint meeting of the Crewe Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild and North Stafis Association was held on Saturday, Sepleanber 14th, at Asthury, which is a delightful rillage in Cheshire just over the Staffordshire barder. Fihe church is one of the most anciont and beautiful to bo found in the country, and well worih a visit hy astyone interested in architectural beaty. This clurch formerly possessed a peal of four bells, which have recently been augmenied by Messrs. Taylor and Ca., and are now a lovely ring of six.
There was a good altemdance, and almast all the towers in the surrounding district were represented. A service was conducted by the Iector.

Afterwards the company was eutertained to tea by the Asthury ringers, after which there were votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, aud to flue $\Delta$ stbury ringers for providing tha tea and entertaining the visitors so well.

Everyone agreed that this, the lirst joint meeting of the two Guids, must be repeated, and it was decided forthwilh to hold anoiker meetiug ati the same place next year.
Mr. T. E. Wheerdon, of Norion, spoke of the good work hiat might be done by ihese joint meetings, and expressed tho hope that they would be held more frequcutly all over the country, He also quoted extracta from 'rlie Ringing World's' leading meticle on tha subject, which was mum appreciated.

Mr. Langford, secretary of the Crewe Brancin of tile Chester Guild, spoke in similar terms. Mr. R. T. Holding refermed to the good feeling which prevailed anong ringers, and said that it was well that they should fraternise frequently ai such meetings. He also prophesied that all ringing societies would in time be worlsed from one centre, and that all meabers would, therefore, be mumbers of one great body, and so do away wilh the question of whether they were members of this ar that partictiter associations.
This idea secmed to meet witin the approval of abl present.
After tea, the tower was Rgain visited, and various metheds were rung, including Lomion, Cambridge, Biddulpin, Plain Bob, etc. This brouglit to a close one of the best meetings ever held in the district.

RINGFRS' INDEBTEDNESS TO THE OHURCE.
'Ilne hayal toas having been honoured, Mr. Colin Haryison then properspa "The Clinwh nut Slate.' He said Lhey vegarded the pre sence of Ampheacon as a great complinent, heanse it was to honeut of the inception and carrying on of the ringers' art. Despite "freal alen of indilference by elergy in the past, they had only to think for a mament of what would more than forty thousnad ringers he daing to-day if the Church had not lounded the belfries off Chureh in particular.

All lhas tondeal to show the very important part whidh the ('humblen play in on mational life, ant, despite the nuhamals in molities which we had from time to time, we foum the Chnreln still mannaming its dignity, and its clergy continning the of this wast Empire would support the Church and its undertakings (applatuse).

The Chaimtun, in roplying to thu toast, refered to the grent pleasure it had been to him to have the Rew. Canon Dolan gext to him that evening. He was not at all sulde that Canon Dolan should not have respnoled to the toast, ns many mithions of his fellowchutrowen in England had been rejoicing this year upon one hundred years of latppy relations hetween his Churcha and the State, whereas some prople seemed to think that the Chutch of England was having somewhat strained relations with the State at the inesent moment (laugher). Tho Aphdeacon went on to sty that he was wery happy to think that in that hive gathering the co-operation and association between the Church and the ringers was so clearly demonstrated. He hoped that priests and parsons on their part would loag continue to hoped that priests and parsons on their part woud loge conthat the show sympathy and co-operation with the fimgers, and that the ringers, on their part, would realise that theirs was more than an art, that it was a pince of servien which they dembered, mot only to the commumity, for which the community was not always as grateful as it miglat bo (laughter), but to the Church and to God (hear, heary. The belfs were not merely put into the churches in order that eight, ten or twelve men might enjoy thenselves from timo to time, but they were placed there for the giory of Gorl. He lioped thai all those whose vocation it was to recommend the Gospel to mankiud would always recognise the ringers as brothers in that service, and that the jingers would recognise their art as a sacred art. If that were romenbered he thought they could look forward to a great shecession of thost happy gatheriugs when, with acclamabion, if not always willa claguence, the toast of 'Church nad State" would be honotred ly the whule company (applause).

JASPER WHITFILLD ENOWDON.
The Rev. C. C. Marshall proposed the toast of the evening, "Tlite Memory of the late Jaspue Whitfiek Suowdon and Past Oficers of the Association, and first read a letter which le had received from Mr. W. T. Rates, of Cheltenlam, who, in expressing regret that he was unalle to be presertit owing to pressume of business, wrate that he rang a peal of Grandsin'e Triples with the late Jasper Snowdon, in 1878. "Jnsper Snowlon, wrote Mr. Pates. was a freat man." Referving to his raspected and revered fryend, tite late Mr. C. H. Hattersley, Mr. Pates added, 'What a striker; what company! His motto was "short wisits; long peals." " They wete all glatl, said Mr . Marshall, to receire that greeting from one of the few surviving people who rang peals with their first piesident and founder. He thaught he woukt be in order in suggesting that Mr. Pamer should gend greetings from that gathering to Mr. Pates and thank him for lis expressinn of kindiness. Continuing, the speaker said he had received a lefter from Miss Snowdon, daughter of the late Mr. Wh, ankl its members every happiness in the work. They wer proud to bear the mame of Snowlon and would continue to take an interest in the ativities of the association to the end of theis lives. He (Mr. Marshali) tuok it it woule be their ploasure that he should write and reciprocals the kind wishes expressed in the letter (liear hear). Continuing, Mr. Mrashall saig it was with mizerl feelings that he moso to propose the toast which was to revive their memory of the fountwr of that association, their frest president, and other past officers, and to renow their gratitude to them for all that they ajel for tho association, and in hati, gratidude to renew treir own purpose to do thetr hest to carry on the work which had been handed down to them. He relt it a great honour to have bem nisked to propose that tonst, entiong, as he did, as their third president, following theit illusiriaus foumder, Jasper Whitheld Snowdon, fund his brather, William Snowdon. He had held office sinee 1911, and, while he fell it an honour to be entrusted with the toast, he wished someone else miglt lave becn found, outside themselves, to proposo it, someone who was, perlaps, more fitted to speak, either from personal iknowledge of the fonnder or from a more personal knowledge of their secoud president, and one who could speak on the deeper side of change ringing better than he could. He had said that their purposo was more especially to revive the memory of Jusper. Whitfeld Snowdon. There were some there who had persenal knowlorge of that ereat man, for undoubtedly he was a greal man, a man who brought to the work of chnge ringing and to the formation of their associntion great alility, a very strong, sterting, manly claracter, sumpassing energy and a very keen desire to lift the work of the bet] ringers to the very highest plame, realising that that work was an integme part of the wark of the Church, of which he was so devoted a son. On these points the wouk like to say a word or two.

AN HONOURED PIONEER.
Jasper Snowfon was a man of great and outsianding ability, Ho bronght to the work of change ringiag a very kcen and active brain, ancl he clicl a work for change ringing such as no man before thim had ever done thear, hear). As a linger himself they were told that in 16 short years ho dixi more than most, and the actually rang 129 peals, hesides altempting 127 which were not suenessful. That was some consolntion to those who often failed in their athempts for peals. But it was prohably in the sphere of the liternture of ringing that he out-idistaneal all others, aud ringers knew how much he did

For the Exareise by the assiduous, parctul amd able work which had been handed rown in the various books on bellringing. And not only atid he do this ereat work for bellinging by the books which lie wrote, but it was well also to remomber that he wrote at the same time a great many articles on bellringing in the pupular papters of the day, and by that means did more than, perhaps, any other man to raise bellringing in the estimation of the peogle of the farnd and to crise the whole lone of the Exerciso to a higher level altugether, Secondy, they had to try aud recollent him as a man of great and sterling clacacter, and all who knew hin very soon learned to love him. The gecounts which they liad of the affection in which he was lield by the ringers of that time showed them sumething, at any rate, "f the extraordinarily kind and strong elsaracter he musb have borne. That agnin was a thing most worthy to remember. The next thing which they recalled was inis assiduousness and hard work and the angelfishness in abl that he cid for ringing, in fact, in everything he undertook. As ane read of his life it was hard to understand How he did all that he alid do in those fow short years for bellrinping and for that association, in addition to carrying on bis own business. Hr: never spared limstif in bis desire to help other people, and he could only have accomplished all that he achieved by mever wasting a moment of his life and by giving to everything that he clid tlue vary lest that he conld give. 'Those were things which they wanted to remember. Mr. Marshall recalled the instance of dasper Snowdon's unhomded energy, when the walked from Leeds to London in five days for a loliday, and, on his arrival in the metropolis, took the isext train home. The next point was a greab poiat for them to rememhor, and that was his desire to raise the status of bellringerg and the art. He enabled ringers to see and to realise that theit work was a very real and integral and important part of the work of the Church. He was a piunece in that way, and his purpose in founding the associabion, with tho others who assisted lim, was to bind ringers together as a real part of the working personnel of the church. Before him very little had been done in that way. The Forkshire Association wha the second county or diocesan association to have been formed. The Devon Guild was the first and Yorkshire came mext, and those who did the work ind those days descred all the homour that they could give then as pioneer. It was one thing to be a pioncer, it was another thing to follow, and it was ns a great and homonred pioneer in that matten that they thought of Jasper Snowdor. In reviving that memory they desined to renew their own zurpose in wrying to bring something of that samo spirit into the work which they had been called upon to undertake, especially in connection with the great art and science of bellringing.

OTHFR ILLUSHRIOUS MEN.

l'assing on to refer to other past officers of the association, Mr. Marshall spoke of Tasper Snowfon's brother, Wilham Snowdon, who de said, was, perisaps, sometimes rather eclipsed by the glory which surrounded the memory of J. F. Snowdon, but they lad to remind themselves of what they owed to William Snowdon for the fostering rave which the hestowed upon tinat association thrangh 25 years of presiclency. It was intercsting to reminel them that the firsli mimute hook coverch ten years of the life of the assaciation. and with the exception of one mecting it was written in the handwriting of Jasper Snowdon. The second set of minute haoks covered 25 years, and withont exception, lue believor, was written in the handwriting of William Snowdon. He helieved ho was right in saying that during the whole of tiat time he aid not miss a single general mecting of the assomiation. He undertoak the work in loyalty to lis hrother and with the rend desire to fulfil and carry out to the best of his ability the work which was so sudiden] thrust upon him, and they must that might do howour to his memory and remember with geatiturle what he did for their associatinn. There were other names which, of conrse, came to the minds of many of them, but he could not mantion them all. One or two, however, stoorl out conspicuonsly, and the first was William Horncr Howard, the old veteran of York, a devout son of the Church, who w'as one of the first, and most interesting suppulters of the association He took the chair at the preliminary meetings and in other ways showed his kecm and active interest in the life of the association. They in Sheffield would mot need to be reminited of the name of Chanles Henry Hatterslev, Whose kembess that the very liost should be given to ringing would he rememberex by those who knew him. Mn. Marshall went ran to mention the names of Charles Jackson, George Bolland. William Pearson, Farry Williams, all of whow lahoured devotiedy in the interests of the association, It was, le said. to ask them to rewive their memories of these men that he stom before them that night, and to ask finm to remmaber thal they were called as their surressors to $a$ great and honourable work and a great and homomable lieritage. Somedimes one felt that thase alavs in which we now lived were difficuli days for bellinging. Hr did not think there was the -a me ontlusiasm amongst young poople that they used to find. It was nof so onsy to get young prople to stick to this work, and it those who were tarying on the tiaditions of these men of the mast would put intis the work the some real urselfisherss, it would be the limat way in which they could homont their names. Also he wonld lite to emphasige the desine of those who had gone before them (Continued in next column.)

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

CENTral council discussed

A mecting of the above association was lield at Caldicot on Saturday taist, wheu there was an excellent muster of ringers from both Monnoutishiro and Glamorganshire. Tlie bells, a good going eight, were raisexi ablout threo oclock and rung in various methods. Advantage was thken by a number of the opporturity to go through Caldicot Castie and grounds, the various oljecte of interest being explained ly tha Vicar's brothor, who acted as guidc. Tea, which hai heen very genetously providel by the Vicar and his co-workers, wn served in the Parish Mall, between 60 and 70 sitting down.
The business meting followed, presided over by the Vicar, who nommenced ly heartily welcoming to caldicot the ringers, for whom, he snit, he wourd always be only too pleased to do his level best.
Tustructors' reports and reports on restorations and augmeatations were dealt with.
The hun. serretary braught to notice the recent letters, arbicles, etc., which have appeared in 'The Ringing World' with regard to the' Central Council. Mr. pike then gave natice that he would, at the antuual muevirig to be held on December 26th, puti forward something in regara to it; in the meantime he wonld consider what form li, is resolution stioukd take.

A HEALTHY SIGN.

It is a healthy sign that the recent criticisms of the constitution of the Central Council and the suggestions for strengtheang the ties between the abliated bodies and the Council are being brought to the notice of some of the associations. Already the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, the Worcestershire Association and the Lancashire Association have moved in the matter and others will doubtless follow suit. Great good could result from a general discussion in all the associations, if the matter be approached with the desire to effect improvement. Constructive and not destructive criticism is what is desired, and if this is offered and reduced to concrete form in the shape of resolutions which can be brought before the Council, that organisation can be placed upon a footing which will establish it much more firmly as the central and guiding authority of the Exercise. But in order that this may be done effectually it is necessary that there should be some general basis of preliminary discussion, and we may be able shortly to publish draft proposals which ringers may be able to discuss in their meetings, either approving or suggesting amendments as they think fir. On the strength of the views thus expressed, motions likely to commend themselves to the representatives of the associations on the Council might be placed on the agenda for the next meeting in the names of one or more members.

In putting forward this suggestion we have no desire whatever to force the hands of the Council, but past experience has shown that, unless there is some attempt at correlation, chaos is the usual result, and notbing is done because there is no general understanding as to what course should be pursued. It is only in the hope that we may be of some assistance in co-ordinating any proposals which are made that we suggest the course indicated above. We are hoping to see the fuilest discussion of the subject and the achieverment of the best results. Reasoned criticism through our columns is also invited, because the more the subject is ventilated the more likelihood is there of obtaining views which will gain the approval of the majority of ringers. Those of our leaders who have ideas for improving the usefuluess of the Council and for bringing it into closer touch with the associations and guilds which elect the members should not hesitate, therefore, to put them forward.

Last week the Rev. F. L.. Edwards offered two objections to the proposal for annual elections. He dismissed the suggestion first as impracticable, but he did not tell us why. Secondly, there was the risk that those appointed to serve on a committee would not be present the next year to report. The risk, we think, is not great that all the (Continued on page 626.)

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED A'l SOUTH NORMANTON.
A special meeting of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held on Saturday at South Narmanton Farish Clurch, when a short service was held in the tower for' the purpoge of dedicating a peal board. The borird records two peals, the first a peal of Grandsire Doubles, rung on Monday, May 14th, 1928, awl the second a peal of Bob Minor rung on Sunday, July 14th, 1929, as part of the national thanksgiving for the recovery from illness of H.M. the King. A good company was present, and the liells were rung from 3 p.m. to 4.30 , when the Rectior, the Rer: J. H. Lewis, Mrs. Halpin, a local lady who was jnvited by the ringers to unveil the board, and the churchwarden (Mr. A. J. Evnns), arrived for the service. The Rector, as the representative of the church, was invited by ane of the lacal ringers (Mir. J. Wi. Eugland) to accept the peal board as a gift from the ringers. The Rector invited Mrs. Halpin to unveil the board, and, after the dedication, formally charged the churchwardens with the care of the same, to which Mr. Evans suitably replicd. The Rector then gave a short address, in the course of which he described the bells, and also spoke of his appreciation of the services of the church bellringers. Alhough the church has possessed five bells from 1813, and sis from 1902 , these two peals were the first to be rung ou them, and the only method rung by the local company, until recently, was Grandsirc Doubles. The tower now possesses a useful band, who attend rugularly for Sunday serrice ringing in various Minor methods.
The tenor was given to the church by Mr. George Dodd, and is dated 1654. The fill was cast by George Oldfield, and bears no date, The 3 rd bears the inscription w. B. and Co., and is dated 1774. This bell is supposed to bave come to this church from Pinxton, during Ihe incumbency of the Rev. -. Coke, who was Rector of the two parishes. The 4th, tho gift of the Rev. Guy Bryan, and the 2nd, the gift of Sir Fardley Wilmot, are both datea 1813, while the treble was the gift of Miss Wright, a resident of the parish. The old five were retuned and treble added in 1902 , the work being carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co.
The service concluded, the company adjourned to the Church School, where about 40 sat down to a substantial tea, generously provided by the Rector, who placed the catering in the capable hands of Mrs. A. Foulkes, assisted by the wives of four local ringers. After tea, votes of thanks were passed to the Rector for providing tea, Mrs. Halpin, who performed the nnveiling ceremony, and the ladies who had assisted at the tea.-The Rertor vesponded, giving the association at warm welcome to Soutl Nommaton.

The bells were then ggain set going in tothehes of various methods from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minot, uatil 8.15, when they were lowered in peal, and brought to a close a sarccessful and enjoyabla meeting. The towers represented were Alfreton, Blackwelt, Crich, St. Peter's, Derby, Horgley, Heanor, Morton Mansfield, Mansfield Woodhouse, Melbourne, Ripley, Sutton-in-Ashfeld, Selston, South Normanton and Tibshelf.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

PRESENTATION TO FORMER MASSCER

A most eajoynble day was spent at Jlantudan on Saturday, September 14th, by those members of the North Wales Association who attended the half-yearly mecting. A service was licld at Foly Trinity Church and was conducted ly the Rector (the Rev, Watkyn Davies), who also gave a very interesting address. He extended a heariy welcome to the visitors, and in the course of his address commented upon Elandudno possessing two lady ringers. He said lie wnald bike to see more lady ringers, for they Adlded charm to the helfry.
A short business meeting was held in the schoolroom, the Rer. W. M. Morgan-Jones, president of the association, presiding.

During the meeting Mr. A. J. Hughes, tormerly Master of the association, was presented with a travelling clock in recognition of his past services.
Mr. Hughes vesigned the Mastersinip uthon being transferred to Yorkshire, and resret was expressed at his departure from the district.
An excellent tea had been arranged by Mr. S. Brown, the Llandudno secretary, at Payne's Cafe, and in the ereming good practice was put in on the bells untill seven o'clock.

A LINK WITH JASPER SNOWDON.

M1. P. T. Tohmson proposed 'The Visitors,' and said that almost all Lie countries of the United Kingdom were present. They very , heartily welcomed Cuman Dolan, Rector of st. Marie's, Sheffeld, wha was held in bigh redard by bie ringers of Sheffield and distriet. He hought, perlitas he would be correct in describing him as being connected with freland. Then bhey lad with thers Mr. William Thomas, chairmen of the Bristol Linited Gufles, who had brought Mrs. Thomas with him, and with him, of course, they goti very closs to Wales. Fo understood that Scotland would lave been represented, but ha saw by that morning's paper that the genileman was brought up at Buw Sthent in conaection with the mania for window slashing (laughter). In answar to the charge the Scotsman said he was a bellringer (landiter'), and he committed the offence begause bo wanted tet see "glass go' (laugliter). Tlaey had many distinguished visifors with ther, first of all their dear old friend Mr. J. W. Rowbotham, whem they welcomed oncs more on his native heatin of Sheffeld, but who came there to represent the Ancient Society of College Iroutlis. He believed Mr. Rowhotham was the anly person present that night who ralyg in it peat with Jasper Whitlied Snowdon. Mr. Jolitson gave a special weloome to Mr. J. T. Rew and to the representatives that the other asssuciations present including Diocesan Guild ve of representative was, fiowever, better known to most of them, he said, es the editar' of 'Tle Ringitng World', to whom they ower a great dent ot gratitude for the work he had carried on for many years in the interests of the art of ringing, very often monder serious difficulties and haudicaps. One would like to feel that all ringert gave the same encouragement to "The Ringing Worle", iliat the pitper gave to ringing (applause).
canon Dolat, who responded, hat to correct Mr. Johnson's inYerkshireman. Ganon connecled with Jralana. He a hume said, a to the difficulties which lue experitenced from his neighbours in contneetion with the ringing of tho bells at St. Marie's Chureh, and said that bellringers wore very enthusiastic men, but sometimes they required a geod deal of diplomatie handing (laughter). He recalled thic fact that in 1885 a mufled peal was rung at St. Marie's on the death of Mr. Aasper SHowdon, and only one of the vingers of that paal was living laday. Tlat ringer had been stocplekeeper and ringer at St. Malie's for 55 years, and he was Mr. James Dixon, who was presebt, with then that night (applause). His was a great rorove of perbeveramee and ailigence. Canon Dolan reminded his lienrers that the bells had a solenin place in the service of the dutrch, and it dial not, he said, require a great deal of imggination lo hear the vaice of the ringers in linose bells. These were daya of grent experiences. 'Ithe voice of man could be carrjed thousands of miles without wires; was it foolish, was it altogether impossible, therefore, to imagine that some day they might discover that there was sono sort of suiritual ebhinction betweon the hand that pulled the bolj and the voice that the boll gavo out? He did pot the bofl atm the voice that the boll gavo ours he did not see the bellas anything inpossibla in that, therefore, when they rang gheeplo lihey weve blessed, that thoy wore meant to be a anll to prayer, and that it might be that the ringers communicated to the hells something $a f$ thacir own spirit. If they rang in the spirit in which the bells were blessed, liney would spoat in their own tongue, hout, if the spinit of the ringer was not the spirit in which the bellg werte blessed thu spirit, of the bells might be mallified. Therefore, he liked to see the anen who had rung the bells go into the charchand bily their prayers.

YOUNG FTNGLRS' OPPORTUNITIES.

Mr. Panmef at this point anmonced latters of apology from the Low Bishop of Sheffiek, lihe Juy W. G. Largie (Sharrow), the Rev. Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), Mr. E. Guise (secretary of the Gloncester and Bristol Association), Alderman J. S. Pritchet (Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild), Mr. T. H. Reeves (sectolary) and M[r. A. Paddon shaillı (Rimingham), Mr. G. Holmes (Workington) and ML. EI. E. Buggs (churchwarden of Dore).
Mr. Albert Walker submitted Continued Prosperity to the Forkshire Associatiou, and referved to tho suceess which had attended the wort of the association and the progress it lad made. When it was founded in 1875 there were about a handred menbers; to day 1,here wore over 1,200. Mr. Walker quoted from it letter he lad jeceiver from the Birminglnm voteran, Mr'. Thomas Russan, in which le spoke of the lathe wry. G. H. Hattersley being always a welcome visitor to Birminghn, of the tun there sometimes used to be on the nceasion of lis wisils, and of the interesting anecdotes that passod batween Mr. Hatiterslay and Honry Johnson. The futuro prosperity of the Forkslife Associntion and of all other associations, their wilker what on, depenced apon their being able to instil into their younger members some of the lenthusinsm of thase men whose memary they nowe honouring that night and whose work was being sn ably contimued by unc present excellent officers, so that these young members, with better opportunities, rould carry ou the good work uf the past. Fomig ringers of today liant the finest oppottunities to excel : they liad, for the most part, good going bells, and splendid ringing chambers; they had excellent libraries and cheap facilities to get to other towers and to meetings for social intercourse, which was the foundation of continued prosperity (applause)
Mr. J. E. L. Cockey gave 'Kindred Ringing Societies.' They were hovoured, he said, by having so many ouber ringing organisations represented among them that night, from as far south as Bristo and Bath, and from the doyten of all societies, the Ancient Sociaty of Colloge Youths. Membership of that society was one of tha greatest ringing honours one could atiain the in these days. Mr . frohnson had relerred to the representation of the diferent countries there that might and had said that ficotland was not represented He wishod to correct him in that, for Scotland was represented in his (the speaker's) wife (applause). She was not a ringer, but sho took a kindly interest in moging (applanse). Mr. Cockey thew out the suggestion that more should bo done to bring about ca-operation between ringers and tho other church societies, so that moite migh be koown of the ungellish worls which the former did. In givint the todst, Mr. Cockey sadd the Yorkshire Association wishod kindred societies every success, and he coupled with the toast the name of Mr. Rowbotham.

PEISSONAL REMINISCENCTES OR SNOWDON
Mr. Rowbotham, in responding, conveyed the fraternal greetings of the Aucient Society of College Youths to the Yorkshire Association, and went on to speak of his early associations with Sheffeld ringing. As a boy, lite said, he was apprenticed to Thomas Hattersiey and learnel to ring. That was in 1876, whell the Yorkshire Aspoctation was in its infancy. Of course, he heard a lot about Mr. Snowdon and wher JT Stowdon came to Sheffick and a peal was airanced for him, be (the speaker) was asked to stand in, and it was performed very successfully. That was on November 4th, 53 years ago at the Cathedral. Mr. Snowdon after the peal complimented him on the way in which he rang, and the record of the peal was to be found in those marvelous volumas which were the praceless possession of the Callege Youtbs. After that he was invital to take part in a peal at Holleck with Mr. Snowdon, and in that, too, they were sutccessful. Then he migrated to the Mctropolis, and was ove of those who made a departure from standard methods and began to practice Double Norwich. He (My. Rowbotham) provided Mr. Snowdon with a lot of matter about peals which had been rung years before, for the treatise on the method which he wrote, and the first book which left Mr. Snowfon's lands was sent to him, and writien upon it was, With the author's compliments to his dear friend Rowbotham.' Could anybody desire a prouder possession than that asked Mr. Rowbotham. He had the melanchaly opporbunity of taking part in $x$ funpual veal for Jasper Snowdon, in which, nuother dear friend of Snowdon's rang, Sir Arthur Heywood, and lid (the speaker) represented the College Youths at the unveling of the memorial window in Ilkley Church-the finest thing that had ever been erected to the memory of a linger.

The Chaiman was proposed by Mr. S. F. Palmer, who referres to Archaleacon Dharbyshire's interest in the ringers at Shoffeld Cathedral and of his constant consideration for them. The relations which existed between the Rector and churchwardens on the one hand, and the ringers on the wher, made Sheffield Catherval one of the best ringing places in tite country (applause). Similar relations existed at St. Marie's, and it was due to a large extent to the kindlinese of the jncumbents in clanrge (applanse).
The Archdeacon bricfly ackmowledged the tosst and said the hoped his successors would always have as fine a band of ringets us they had got at Sheffield Cathedral at present.
This concluded the specthmaking, which was followed by an hour of social hintercourte. An enjoyable musical programme was carried (of the well-known Orplens Male Voicto Choir') and infrs. Milnes, while Mr. W. C. Langley contributed a violin solo. The enjoyable prococdings terminated at 11 p.m., but many of the visitors who staved the night met again next morming at the [atherlu] and St. Marie's for ringing before going their several ways home.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION

SUGGESTED RESOLITTON OF LOYALTY TO TEE GENTRAL GOUNGD.
Tlie quarterly" meeting of the Northern Branch of the Warcester shiro and Distriets Association was held at Stone on Saturday, Sep tember 21gt. This was the first menting the branch has held at Stone. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. S . Stork). The organist and cheir were also in atterdance, and renslered the musical portions of the service wery effectively. The Ticas gave an address based on the chief points of the association's form of survice.
Ten was served in the Parish Roors, about 60 being present and being waited upan by the Vical and Mrs. Stork, assisted by several ladies of the parish.
The business mecting took place in the gehoolroom, the Vicar presidiug. Apologies were amonneed from Mr. J. Broad, Mr. W. Fisher, Mr. J. F. Simpson and Mr. H. Mason.
The officers were all re-elceted, and it was unanimously agreed to support Mr. 'F. J. Salter's proposal that at the anmual meeting to be helri at Warecster the branch sloould support a resolution pledging the association to loyalty to the Ceatral Council.
Mr. A. E. Parsons moved that in future a collection should be takern at the end of the serwice for the benetit of the belfy repair fund at whatever church the meeting was held.
Reference was made by Mr. Parsons to the loss the association had sustamed by the death of one of its oldest members in the person of Mr. G. N. Cockin, of Halesowen. He was highly respected in every spliere of life.-It was agreed that the secretary should gend a Ietier of sympathy to Mrs. Conkin and family, and the members stood in silence to mark their respect.
On the motion of Mr. Parsons, a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Fiear for presiding at the mecting, the use of the hatls, and arranging the service, which everyone, lte said, had tharoughly enjoyed; also to the organist and choir for their services. Mr. Parsons added that their best thanks were also due to the Vicar for providing ter, and to Mrs. Stork aryl to the ladies who had so
 The Vicnr, 11 reply, saiti he thought it quite an honour to preside bver so important a bods of church workers, and he would be pleased to sec them ngain in the near future.
A touvh on the handbells outside the Parish Room concluder a very successful mecting, and also amused the parishioners and visitors. Ringing in rarious methods was dung on the church bells boib in the afternoon and evening.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.' The Editor of 'The Ringing World, will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, ail the pictures cannot be pubIished at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be grood enough to send a photograpin of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The. Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSEP.

We bear that the Painswick Youths, who held the record far the longest lengllu rang an twelve bells until the recent performance of 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-muder-Lyne, contemplate making nu effort to regain the honomr: Nr. Atber't Wright, the composer and conductor of, the 13,001 Grandsire Cinques rung in 1920 al Painswick, thas a 16,000 odd which he hopes may he altempted in the near furture.
The first peal of Stedmau Cinques on record was rung by the College Youths at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on October 6th, 1788 . It was a 6,204 , and not only was it the first, but also the longest in the method until 1806, when its length was supplanted by a 6,334 gung by the Cumberland Youths at Spitallicitis.
William Booth, a famous old Shefficki winger, born in 1783, and grandfather of Charles H. Hattersley, died on October 6th, 1849.
The amiversary of the death of another outstanding figure in the Exercise occurs pext week. Henry Hubbard, born in 1807, died on Oclober 96h, 1881.
Mr. F. G. Newmau wishes to thank all ringing friends whio sulbseribed to his fund (which amounted to $£ 21 \mathrm{3s}$. , and also Mrr. W. T. Cockerill for his kindzess.

The will lias just heen proved of Mr. William Christopher H. Burne, of Upper Link, St. Mary Bourun, Hans, who diel recently at the age of 74 years, and whose estate has been sworn at 253,079 . Mr. Burne, who, before lie removed to Sl. Mary Bourne, where lie took great interest in the restoration of the bells, resided at Woking, where he ecrved for many years on the Urban District Council, and was one of its most able chairmen.
While ut Oxford, Mr. Burne leamed to ring-althouglo the did not follow up the art in later years-and rang the tenor to a peal of Grandsire I'riples at Appleton by members of the combined Universities, on March 10th, 1877. IThis peal was referved to in 'Climpses of the Past,' in our issue of September 13th.) Mr. F. A. Mine (uresident of the Middtesex County Association) and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies are the only survivors of that band of over fifty years ago.

The late Mr. Luruc also knew something of method ringing, for he rang the treble to a 720 of Bobsinor at St . Thomas", Oxford, jusis before the peal above mentioned. It was the first 720 by the oxford University Socicty. The following was the paragrapla which appeared in 'Chutel Bells' at the time:-
'On Thurstiny, February 22nd, the following members of the Oxfort University Society of Change Ringers rang at St. Thomas', OxFord, 720 Boh Minor in 25 mins.: W. C. H. Burne (Kehle) trehle, C. ## OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

PLEASANT THAMES-SIDE MEETING.

One of the best practice moetingts held in the East Berks and Fouth Bucks Braneh was that at Cookham on Seturday last. Perfect weather for ringing and a aice btece from the river combined to make it a success.

A bright serwice and no sermon, but an excellent talk on coucord by Dr. Bachelor, the vice-president of the branch, was appreciated. Then tea in the Ficarage garden, where the Vicar warmiy welcomed over 40 ringers, and showed other talents besides that of preacher.

A few tunce on handbells by the Barlow party and one other were followed by some Stedman liriples, whilst the choir boys had their tea, after which the tower was revisited and the hells were kept soing in various methods to a late hour.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.  ANNUAL ELECTIONS.  Y'o the Edilor.

Sir,.-It is not often that I disagree with Mr. Edwards, but I must point out that on this subject facts are against him. In the Suffolk Guild we have always elected our representatives on the Central Council each year, and none of the results he anticipates bave occurred.

He groups together three things which are connected, but not inseparable: (a) Triennial sessions of the Council. (b) Triennial elections of committees. (c) Triennial election of representatives. I have not seen any sug. gestion of an alteration of (a) or (b), and if they were altered there is no reason to expect the consequences be fears: as there are no such had results in other bodies. A committee can be, and usually is, continuous, wbether elected annually or triennially.

All, however, that is proposed is that each Society should elect its representatives every year. What we have found is that the annual re-election of our representatives, along with our other officers, keeps our representatives alive, and the interest in the Council keen. It so often happens at an annual meeting, where the old routine is carried out, that a representative says, or sends word, that it is time they elected someone else, but the matter is shelved because it is not the right year for the election. Then when the election comes the old four are re-elested without comment; or some new member is elected, because it happened to be convenient, rather than because he is the most suitable member.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.

TRURO BRANOH MEETING.

A well attended meeting of the Truro Branch was held at St. Gluvias', on Saturday last, the eve of the Fcast of St. Michacl and All Angels, wheu epproximately 50 ringers were present frous Truco Cathedral, Mabe, Illogan, Perranzabuloa, Perranwell, Gwenap, Keawyn, St. Newlyn East and Redruth. the six bells were set going at $2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. by the local band, as a bride and bridegroom tutt the clurch after a wedding ceremony, and were kept going by the various bands until service time at 4.30 , and from 6 p.m., when tea was over, until, about $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}_{\text {, }}$ train and bus elaimed everyone's atteution.
The service, conducted thy the Vicar, the Rev. E. H. Shore, consisted of a hymm, the Magnificst, an address of welcome and suitable proyers. Tea, at the invilation of the Vicar, was served on the Vicarage lawn, and was enjoyed in brijht sumshine. A vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar and Mrs. Shore for their kindness by the Rev. W. H. R. 'Trewitella, and was seconded by the district secreLary, Mr. A. S. Roherts.
After tea, the district consmiltee, consisting of memane from each tower in the district, met to do lie theedful busimess. The Rev. W. II. R. Trewliola, of Tru*o, was elected chairman, Bud Mrs. A. S. Roberts seevetary for the ensuing sear. It was decided to hold the extra mecting, which shoud have taken place in July, at St. Mabe, to encourage the schernc for the velanging and augmentation of the five bells, on October $26 \mathrm{tl}_{1}$.
rewo invitations were received for the half-yearly meeting one Erom Redruth and one from St. Newlyn Easti, and it was decided to trake the selection at the St. Mabe meeting.
In the evening severai ringers visited Perramwell, about three miles distant, for further riugitg.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Alton District was held at Privett on Salurday, September 2hst, the numbers preseat being disappointing, as only 14 lurned up from the following towers: Blackmoor, Biusted, North Stonelam, Portsmouth Cathedral and Winchester. However, sereral of the six-bell lingers present were very weil satisied, as it enabled them to gel plenty of eight-bell practice in Grindsire, one old gentleman of 71 ringing the tenor hehind to ewery touch durivg the aftermoon und evening, to his great delight.

The next meeting will be hedr it Silborme and Newton Falarace on November 23ta, due notion of wJich will appenr in "The Ringing World.'

RTNGING GOMEPTITION AT EAST MARKFAM
'Ilie North Natts Associalion's Ennual ringing contest for the Crawforl silver capl took place at East Markbam on Saturday, Septemher 21st, when five companies competed. The cup was given to the associstion, to enconcage good ringirg, by Mr. Apthur Grawford, of Rafrptan, in memory al his father, Mr. Chatles Grawford, who dif yourd work holh for the rasociation and the Churel of East Markhatr The contest rirew togetieve ange gathering of ringers and fineir frimeds, some 70 in all, and creafed great interest among the juhabitunts of the village. Mr. A. Crawiond was unfortunately unable to be present.

The ballot far the oudre in which the companies were to ring took place al. 2.45 p.m., and the contest commenced at 3 p.m. Mr. J. R. Srearley, of Renlsteratone, near Sheflield, kindly undertook to judge the conrest, which he did in a most able manner.

A short service whs luthe at 5.15 p.m., The Visar, the Rev. R. E. Rotersin, officiating. Miss E. Rose kindy played the otgan, after which tho ringers sat down to tea, which was berved in an excellent manner by Miss A. R. Stockolale and helpers.

The Rev. R. E. Rogerson presided over the meeting, supported by the ler. R. F. Wilkimsun, Mr. G. Booth (warden), Mrs. C. Grawford, Mis. A. Crawford, Mrs. Rowsoll, Mr. J. R. Brearley, Mr. H. Haigh, hom. Leasurer, and Mr. H. Revill and Mr. R. W. Stockale, hon. secretaries, together with members from Anston, Shiveoaks, Misterton, Fedwinstowe, Suiton-on-Trent, Worksop, Collingham, Gamston, Eagt Rotford, West Retford, Fotkingham, Ordsall, and the loeal company.
I. was resalved to land the mext meeling at Gamstion on November $911_{1}$.
Mr. Arthur Crawford was elected an homorary life member on the mation of Mr, IJ. Faigh, seconded by Mr. H. Steuton. Mr. J. W. Graig, of Orduall, wis elected a vice-president, and Mr. J. R. 13 rearley a non-resident life momber.

I'lie result of tho contest was next apuounced. The faults lost by tho competitats, given in the order in which they rang, were as follow :-

> Ordsall
> Shirooaks
> Suthon-an-Trent
> Suuth Anston
> Warksop

The first four rang a test pice consisbing of 360 changes on gir bells, but Worksop had the grat courage to compele on oight bells.

The wimers of the contes wre doclared to be South Anston. In making his award, the judge remarked that the striking of to-day was not: tes he compared with that previous to the war, and appealed La all to try and improve the striking.

Mrs, Rowsell, Lamelara, daughter of the Iate Mr. C. Crawford, prosented tho cup to the victors, and in doing so expressed a wish that all companies would try and enter for the cup contest next year. She hoped that East Martharn would be the winners some day.
Mi. H. Siention, in receiving the cup for the Anston company, suitably replied.
A vote of thanks was proposed to Mrs. Rowsell for prosenting the eup by Mr. F. Haigh, und seconded by the Rev. R. E. Rogerson.
Mr. H. Stenton proposeri, und Mr. H. Revili seconded, a vote of thanks tio the judge.
"Tlue Rev. It. T? Wilkinson said he wished to thank the Rev. R. E. Rogerson for officiating at the service and presiding at the meeting; alto he thanked the organist, the caterers, the Vicar and wardens fro the use of the bells, and the merohers for making the meeting such a great succes, and hoped that he would see even larget guherings in the near fudure.

BELL DEDICATION AT MINSTER.

On Sailuday, Scptomber 2lst, the hreble, which has been added to Hhe existing ring of five at Minster Church, Thanet, was dedicated at no spucial servica in the aftemoon. A representative company of the Thelester Jistriet of the Kent County Association attended, and the lelds were ring in various methods duming the afternoon. Unforduntely Hrumgements had bean made to tume the organ during the afternoon, and both ringers and organ tuner were greatly handiuapped, the argat tumer deciding eventually to capitulate. A wellstruck 720 of Kent Troble Bob was brought round, and the assembed company wore agreed ilant the 'go' of the bells was excellent. The Irehlo wis originaliy in Wavden Church, und more recently reposed quiotly in a local blacksmith's slop. The work of recasting and hanging was cruried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEET'TNG.

Favouved with a fine day and griven a genoine Lancashire welcome, the ammal meting of the Lancashire Associatimn passed off successfully at Blackburn Cathedral on Saturclay. The atitendance, well above 100, represtated all the ten branches, and was slightly above the average. Scrvice at 4 p.m. was attended in robes by Camen Elsee (president), Canon Sinker (Rector of Blackburn Cathedrah) and his assistaut, with the Bishop of Bleckburn as preather. The Bishop in his address gave a discourse on church nrehitecture, particularly as it had been altered and modified to the requirements of bells and ringers.
Tea followed in the schools, and in an upper roam the business of the tay was transacted. Canon Elsee presided. The committee's report was read, and mention was made of the clection of 102 new members. The balance sheet was satisfactory. There had been belt restorations at Leyland, Eceles, Halewood and Milnrow. The peai recort, although not ns big as last ycar, whs satisfnctory, 104 peals having beea recorded. Fifty-four ringers rang their first peal, and 128 their first in a new method, while eight conducted their fins peal.
The election of officts for two yearg included the re-election of the ringing seovetary and nuditors. Other offices, which were lilied by baliot, resulted in Mr. G. R. Newton, Liverpool, being elected vicepresident, Mr. W. Horan, Todmorden, as treasurel', and Canon Elsce, Messis. G. R. Newton, W. H. Shuker and A. Tominisun as Central Council representatives. For the voting, 1,075 papers had been seat out and 740 relurned-6B per cent., which was a vary fair proportion. An invilation from Liverpool to hold the next amual meeting there was acoepted unamimously, the Secretary remarking that the members could lave the use of ten towers.
One of the members brought up the question of a mational society of ringers, as outlined in "The Ringing World, and asked the brancil secretariea to discuss it in their branches. He also brought up the question of the Central Council, and referred to the articles and comments recevily published as a foundation for discussion. Fis chief iniea was that the associations shonld pay into a general fund to allow all their members to hecome life members of other nssociations, they on their part to pry expenses of necredited members to the G.C. meetings.

Another suggestion was made that a 'Ringing World' year book should be published to contain peal reports, compositions, and interesting and useful correspondence and articles as pulalished the prowions year.
The menting closed witli a vote of thanks to the Bishop, the clevgy of the various towers who had given the use of their bells, the organist and choin boys, the ringers for making arrangements, and to the ladies who served the tea. If anyone suggested to the ladies fhat a cuterer should be employed for these gatherings, it would not be safe for him to be seen in Blackbum again, as they hold second place to none in putting on a tea fit for ringers to sit down to.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ASHFORD DISTRICT'S RINGING MASTER PROBLEM.
The annual district meeting of the Ashford District was held at Hythe on Saturday, September 21st, when between 20 and 30 members attended, including visibars from Dover. The beds were fully made use of during the afternoon, and service was conducted by the Viear (Rev. Chester de Roinville), who gave a ghort and interesting address. Tea was partaken of at the Paddock Tea Rooms, presided over by the Vicar. At the business mecting which followed, the two representatives on the committee and the district secretary were alt duly re-elected.

The Secretary thanked the members for the confdence mot trust placed in him, and with their loyal support be would, he said, corltinte to serve in the position.
Some long discussion arose when Mr. C. Tuibe proposerl that $x$ Ringing Master should be appointed. This was camied on a vote, bat was eveutually lost when it came to the eloction. Thw quarlerly meetings fixed for 1930 were: February, Hendorn; May, New Rominey; July, Cheriton: annual, September, Wyo.
Thanks were accorded to the Vicar for his kindness and for the usc of the bells, the "go' of which was much appreciated by all present.
Further ringing closed a most successful meating, the methods rung during the day being Grandsire Triples, Stedman Tripios, Keni Treble Koh and Double Norwich Major.
Lydd was chosen for the next meeting, the date to be arranged by the secretary.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

WELOOME BY REV. MAITLAND KELLY'S SON.
Tliere was a large attendance of members of the Yorkshire Association ati the general reeting held ai Huntington, near Yovk, on September 14th. Visitors to the number of about 70 came from such a wide area as Sheffeld, Bradford, Leeds, Halifax, Selby, Pontefraet, Searborough, Market Weighton, Aysgarth, Tadeaster, Pickering and Tharnaby; and with members of the York Minster hanki, and the local tower, were altogether a company of close upoa a thundred. One explanation of the large abiondance in addition to the nevelty of the meeting place was to be foumd in the facti that members of the association desired to pay a special compliment ta the Viear of the parish, the Rev. R. M. Kelly, whose father, the Inte Rev. Maitland Kelly (who died in June last) was founder and for many years president of the Devon Guild.
Complete teams of ringers were present from several of the parishes mentioned-in one case, that from Pickerifg, the team included ong or two ladies-and these took turns in ringing the peal of six bells in the delightful rural tower of All Saints'. Later in the evening, by courtesp of the Very Rev. the Dean of York, the superb ring of twelve at York Minster was also made available to the visitors.
In the course of the aftermon a short service was conducted by the Vjcar is the Parish Church. In a bries address, Mr. Kelly traced the listory of the clurch, pointing out that it had been a centre of Ohristian worship since the 11th century. Founding bis address on the text, "Ye have mot chosen me, but I have chosen you," he emphasised that for this part of Christinn worship in which the visitors were specially engaged, they were doing God's work and therefore shonld give of tiseir very best. If this ideal were kept in view, the more they gave of their best the better it would become. He mentioned that in recently looking over anme of his father's papers he had found an addeess in which the latter, on an oceasion when bellringing was for the first time recognised by the Church anthorities, had set up this same ideal. It was an ideal which comprahended not only that the ringing should be the best possible, but that the bells should be kept in the best condition. But, above all, bellriagers, he urged, shonld ever remerabey that they were performing a Christian service in calling people to the worship of God.
Thes general meeting was held in the Memorial Hall, after tea, which mas served by an efficient band of ladies under the direction of Mrs. Porteus. The Rev. C. C. Marshall, president of the Assomiation, occupiod the chair. Amongst tlsose present were Mr. Kightly, Towthorpe. and the retertan sexton, Mr. John Rank, who are hou. members. Apologies for absence were intimated from Mr. Percy J. Jolnson, hon, general secretary; Mr. R. J. Wolstenholme, another lonorary nember: and others. Three new members of the Jacal hand, Messrs. G. Rank, Walker and Young, who hati qualifed, were admitted to memberslip of the Association.
The proeecodings were for the most part of a routine character, and cordial votes of thanks were passed to the Huntington committee for their iavitation aud entertainment, which were acknowledged $\bar{y}$ Mr. Kelly nud Nr. George Rank, the latter of whom had been most indefatigahle in making adequate arrangements for this highly successful and memorable gathering.

WELL-KNOWN RINGER'S SILVER WEDDING.

On Tluursday of last week Mr. and Mrs, A. H. Eulling, of Gualdard, celebrated their silwer wedding, aod thes event was fitingly uarked by a peal (rung on the previons evoning) on the bells at the cathedral of the Holy Trinity, with which, for something like 35 cats, Mr. Pulling has been actively identified.
Mr. and Mrs. Pulling were married at Warboys, Huntingdonshire, nd their connection with ringing is well known. For many years Fr. Pulling has been one of the leading conduotors in the Fxereise, and it is a great joy to his many friends that he has mare such a Hecessful recovery from his serious motor accilent of two years ago lint he is able to take his place in the helfry with undiminished hili. Mrs. Pulling is a past-president of the Ladies' Guild.
After the peal at Foly Tunity Gathedral, the hand were enterained by Mr. and Mrs. "Palling, lo whom congratalations and good ishas were cardially extended.
It is juteresting to note that Mr. Harry Hatton, who rang in tho alver weddiug peal, also toak part in a peal at the same tower in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Pulling's wedding in 1904. That peal was onducted by Mr. Charles Wilshire, who is now resident in Montreal. A pleasing little ceremony took place an Sunday in the Cathedra Ifry at Guidford, when the Provost (Ganon Kirwan) presented in
21. Pulling a silver cream jug and sugar basin in commemoration of silver wedding. The sugar basin was inseribed, 'Presented qud Mrs. A. H. Pulling on the occasion of their silver wedding the Provost and ringers of the Cathedral Society, Guildford, scptember 26th, 1929. ${ }^{\circ}$ In a happy speech the Provost referred in ras of high appreciation to the services Mr. Pulling had rentlered the tower over a very loug period, and wished nim and Mrs. 'ulling many more fears of happy marvied life. SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION. INTEREST AND ENTHUSIASM AT ORMESBY.
It's been a champion meeting.
' It's wortl coming a long wy to get ringing like this. ${ }^{3}$ wheres some satisfaction in arranging moctings when they are such good ones as this.'

What a fine penl of bells!
These were remarks passed hy ringers who atfonded the antomn meeting of the Cleveland and Nortly Yorkshire Association at Ormesby-in-Cleveland, on Saturday, Septemher 21st. Merabers from far aud near travelled to meet old friends and make new ones, and the popularity of these meetings is proved by the fact that representatives of 30 less than 14 towers attended, as follows: Middlesbrough, Hartiepool, Darlington (St. Jolun's, St. C'uthhert's and Holy Trinity Glumehes), Stocktan, Saltbun, Marske, Guisborough, Swainby, Skelton, Sharrow, Whitby and the lotal tower.
The fine peal of eight (tenor 18 cwi.) were ringing from 2.30 int the aftermoon till 8.30 at might, with only a spell for the service and tea, and many were the words of commendation spoken as to the go' and tone of this excellent ring.
The service, conducted by the Vicar of Ormeshy (tilie Rev. E. Flintoff Woodl, was beratifisl in its simplicity and directness, and thase who have bean priwileged to hear addresses an many oovasions such as this were unanimons that the one they then beard ranked amnugst the finest ever delivered.
The tea, which was presided over by Mrs. J. C. Pollard, wife of Lhe president, was a happy aftair, lolid in the Ormesby Bungalow, and in spite of the good appetites with which lingers of the hardy North are endowed, they liad to admit defeat ly tho plentifing prowision made for them.

A short, almost informal, meeting was loct at the couclusion of the tea, and the President welcomed all fhe ringers to the meetingHe dwelt on the pleasure it gave the officers of the association to see such in good attendgnce, and expressed the hope that this was merely the forerunner of many other happy aud well attended gatheringi. He welcomed, as an old frieud of the association, the the first seoretary, and, later, president of the association. He also welcomed the president and secretary of the Southern District of the Durlam and Newcastle Diocesan Association, and remarked that visits by the officers of neighbouring associalions to each other's meetivga would do much to forward the cause of bellringing. 'Pr' Nowtion, of Stockton, the veteran of some 70 orifl Years, and an olitimal memher of the association, was also welcomed.
The thanks of the meeting were accorded fo the Vicar of Ormesby or his ready and willing sanctions to use the bells, and for his beruliful service and address. Several members were elected, and tho Vicar of Ormesby was made an bon, member of the association.
Mr. Wright, in a happy little speech, expressed his delight with such an excellent meeting. Ho referred to the anxious times the associntion had passed througln in its entrier years, but felt that if the presen' meetigg was an example of the good work the association was doing, the labours of the first members and offecers had not been in vain.
Mr'. Woorl thanked the meeting for their appreciation of whit he termed 'the little he laed done, and said that lis services and help in any way were always at tho disposal of the association, of which he was so proud to be a momber.
The hells were soon going again under the leadership of the seoretary of the association (Mr. T. Metcalfe), and the cnthusiasm was so great that on more than one occasion, whilst the tow hells were penling, handhells were in ust jn the churelyard. It was strange for the singers of the tower hells to bear tho hamibells when a tanch an the tower had been completed.
As lins already been said, the ringing went an antil 8.30 , and good ringing it was, too. Dobible Norwioh, Stedmias, Kent Trehle Bobs Major, Bob Major, and Grandsire Triples were rung, all in perfect time and striking. The learners were helped on to do something hetter than they were used to; ringers who were mot too certain of a method lag a more expeyienced manto to stand behind and help thent and everyborly got a pull. Rat all good things heve ta come to an end, and at last the meetrig broke up, rud the mombers went their several ways. They ail felt that of the many good meetings the Cleveland Association has beld, the Ormeshy meeting had beea one of the most successful and happy.
The president and Becretary wore the last to leave the old-time mange. 'hey were tired-dead tived-but liappy with the thought 1hat thair hard work had been well rewatded by the respanse they fad received to their endoavours. Their hopes are that many more happy meetings such as the Ormeshy one may be held. J. С. Р.

HALIFAX ASSOCIATION'S RINGING CONTEST

A SPLENDID MEETING AT FRTEZLAND.

The Halifix and Distriot Association held a quarterly meeting and six-bell contest at Christ Church, Friesland, near Oldham, on Saturday. The bells were in good condition, for, mainly through tho generosity of Captain Schotield, a local resideat, lhey bave been telnug by Messts. Taylor and Co.
A comtritiee meeting was held previous to the contest, and it was decided to adhere to the committee's previous decision to ring 504 ohanges any mothod. Scven sels harl entered, the draw being as follows: No. 1, Batley; No. 2, New Mill; No. 3, Shelley ; No. 4, Liversedge; No. 5, Holmirth; No. 6, Huddersfield; No. 7, Melthan, All tha sets rans Oxford Treble Bob Minor. Ringing commenced abont three o'clock anf continued until 7.30. An excellent tea had been provided, to which over one hundred sat down.
The meeting followed soon after ringing land ceased, Mir. E. Earnshaw (Melthum) occupying the chair. Nr. Carter moved a vote of thazks to file Viear (Rev. J. R. Smith), the clurchwardens and ringers of Firiezland a very good turn in coming there. He thought it would good tea they had provided. The motion heving been heartily carried, the Vicar, in reply, said that the association had done them at Friczland, a wery good turn in coming there. He thought it would havo been a very pood idea if they conld have made a gramophone record of tho alories some of the older ringers had told that afternoon. The lingers of Friozland and churchpeople owed Capt. Schofeld a great debt of gratitude for taking such an interest in the hells and ringers. He was sorry that he could not be with them that day. The Vicar added that he was reminded of a story he had been told of a certain gentleman who, rather backward at speechmaking, had to reply on behalf of the ladies. His only remark was that if il liad not been for the ladies there would be no ringers. He thanked the association for their kind vote of thanks.

The judges, Mr. J. Broadley (Bradford), who is close on seventy peurs of age, and Mr. J. Wood (Triezland), gave their decision as follows:-

| Trastis. | Penalty. | Totai. |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| $\cdots$ | 107 | - | 107 |
| .. | 97 | 20 | 117 |
| . | 139 | 30 | 169 |
| .. | 173 | 10 | 183 |
| $\cdots$ | 182 | 20 | 202 |
| .. | 228 | - | 228 |

Tatlley were declared winners of the cup, which was presented by the Vicar to Mr. S. Gibson. Ho congratulated them on their good ringing.-Mr. Gibson replied. Mr. Idle proposed, and Mr. J. Tinker seconded, a vote of thanks to the judges. Mr. Idle said no one could deny that judging in a long contest was a trying job, and all agreed upoil how woll the judges had done thenir work.
Mr. Burgess, it moving a vote of thanks to the chairman, saje it gave him very great pleasure lo thank the officials of the association for bringing the contest to Friezland. They at Friezland would not rest until they had won the cup.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

MeTRING OT THE CHERTSEY DISTRICT.

Tho Cherdsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a meeting on Saturday at East Molesey. a Thames-side parish on the northwestern fringo of tha dincese. In one respent the meeting was dis-appointing-the atfendance of members belonging to the districtbut in other's it was quite a success, Numberg were small, hut the practice was goonl, thanks to the help given by visitors, who included Messrs. H. R. Pasmore (College Youths), C. F. Kippin (hon. secretary, Surrey Association), J. Sparrow (hon. sccretary, Royal Cumberland Youlhs), D. Cooper (Groydon), E, G. Turner (Ealing), etc. Quild members wero present from Ottershaw, Esher, Thames Diton, Wraton, Lealherliend, and Woking, aurd Mr. F. Brown, of the Molesey company, was indefatignble in luelping the visitors to spend fu pleasant time.
A short servicn was held, which was combneted by the Vicar, Rev. A. G. Le Maburier, who extended a welcome to the Guild, and referred to the facl that the parish, which had always been on the extreme edge of the diocese, first of Winchester and now of Guildforx, had for that reason taken very little share in diocesan life. He hoped that their part in diocesan affairs in the future would be morg pronomeed, mal for that reason he welcomed a visit of a diocesan organisation to that eliurch.

A brief business meeting wis held after tea, presided over by Admiral T. P. Waliser (hon. tressturer of the Guild), who moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar and to Mr. Brawn,

Mr. Browr was elected a momber of the Guild, and a tribute was paid by Mr. Sparrow to the patient spate work which Mr. Brown had dona for many years to keep a band at Molesey.
It is hoped that other memhers of tho tower will follow Mr. Brown's example and join the Guild, and that the tower, throwgh the Barochial Church Cotucil, will become formally amilated.

ANOTHER STAGE IN METHOD 'SPLICING.'

The splicing of Minor methods has been carried a stage further by the researches of Mr. A. G. Driver, and as a result of his labours there have been rung extents in which methods, not hitherto thought to be 'spliceable,' bave been joined together in true seven-twenties. The practical ringing of them has been done by the talented and enterprising Leytonstone band, and the results are briefly set out in another column. This is only one more instance of the unceasing progress which goes on in the art of ringing, and, while the splicing of methods in peals is still looked tpon by many as a kind of freak, there can be no doubt the time is not far distant when the practice will be very generally followed. Both in six-bell and eight-bell ringing rapid advances have been made in the last decade, and while in practice it has been somewhat limited, as far as peals are concerned, there is a growing desire among enterprising ringers to get a closer acguaintance with this interesting departure.

The publication by 'The Ringing World' in 1925 of a book on the subject has enlightened many six-bell ringers upon the intricacies of splicing, and when a new edition of the "Collection of Minor Methods" is available, doubtless, many more will study and apply the principles in their ordinary ringing. At present they are handicapped for want of many of the methods themselves, but this drawback will, we hope, be remedied in the near future. Mr. Driver's plan of uniting in true extents methods which hitherto had appeared to be impossible of splicing opens a further gateway to this attractive side of ringing for the six-bell man, but in the eight-bell towers there is also scope for the enterprising ringer.

It is not necessary to be a Surprise ringer to enjoy this phase of the art, for it has been shown by Mr. Pitman that Triples methods can be joined together, and Mr. Stephen Wood and Mr. E. G. Turner have each published compositions splicing a number of plain Major methods. There is no end to the variety to be obtained and doubtless our ingenious composers will continue to open up new fieids for ringers to conquer. The first stage, at any rate, ought to be simple enough, for where a band can go from one method to another in a peal or touches with only one row of rounds to mark the division, it should not be a difficult step to take, to change the method at some other lead end. A little patience and perseverance would quickly enable a band to grasp the principles, and this, once done, the rest would follow stage by stage. Apart from the extra interest which this form of ringing gives to those who practise it, it is an excellent mental exercise, Rapid change from method to method sharpens one's wits and (Contiaued on paga 642.)

brightens one's mental capacity, for it develops the power of quick thinking. From this point of view alone, method splicing should be made part of the regular practice of every competent six and eight-bell band.

DEATH OF AN OLD BROMSGROVE RINGER.

ONE OF FIRST MEMBERAS OF WORCESTERSEIIRE ASSOClATION.
After a ratler prolonged ilhess, Mr. Geoxge Haywari, of Broms grove, passed away at his home in Worcester Street on Mhurgday, September 26th, et the ago of 73 years. He had not taken pert in netive ringing for some lew years past, but his mind was active in other directions, viz, composing peals and tauches, the whole o which he lianded to the Viear of Bromsgrove (the Rev. IV. C. De La Hey, M.A., M.C.) some twa montits ago for the use of the local ringers and the association in general, and it is hoped in due time to get them classified and copied, so that a copy may be added to the Association Liturary.
He was one of the first members of the Worcestershire and Districts Associntion when it was formed in the 'eightitst, and lad rung and conducted many peals, some of them being recorded on the peal boards in the belfry of Bromsgrave Clurch. Some few of the presentday ringors in the neighouriood owo much to his tuition and help.
Titie internent took place at Buomsgrove Cemetery on Monday, September 30 th, and the following ringers thong various touches at the Parish Ghurch of St. John the Baptist with laff-mufled elappers as a last token of respedt, viz. Messre. A. E. Parsons and F. G. Bird, of Old Hill, Wh. Short, of Clent, Miss Amy Jolinson, Messrs, I. Albutb, H. Mertin, A. Martin, F. Whitwortis add H. Friee, of tine local band. A peal of Steslman Triples was also rung on September 28th with halt-mufled clappers in memory of deceaserl, and has already been recorded in the peal columen of a previous issue of "The Ringing Warld.'

DONCASTER AND DISTHICT SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the Doncaster and District Society was held at Conisborough on Salurday, September 28th, when there was a good attendance, the towers represoluted being Arksey, Doncaster Tickhils, Darfield, Campsall, Sprothorough and Iocal company. bells, of fine peal ofl eight, were raised soon after 3 p.m. and rung to various methods, some good practice being obfained. Tea was provided by the local ringers and partaken of in the Church Lecture Room. The business meeting followed tea and was presided over hy Mr. G. Clark. It was decided to hold the next meeting jointly wilh the Yorkshire Assaciation at Arksey on October 19th.

Tracks were made again for the tower, and the hells were rumg until 8 p.m., at which time they were lowered in peal. During the afternoon and evening the following methods were rulg: Grandsite and Stedman Triples, Bah Major, Kat and Oxford Treble Bob, Litwle Bob Major, Forward Major, Donkle Norwich ancl Cambridge Micut

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The September meating was held at Hunslet Parish Church. Tha attendance in the afternoon was rather poor, but improved after tea. When somo 30 members were present from Leeds Parish Glurchi, Armley, Rothwell, Lindley, Holbeck, IFolbeck St. Francis (R.C. Headingley St. Michael's and Headingley St. Chnis, Drighlingtor and the local company.

The business meetiny was held in the tower, Mv. J. Hey (wichpresident) being in tho chair. "Pluroe new memhises were elected, ent a vote of thanles to the Vicar of Hanslet for kindly grantiag the use of tha bells and to the local company for the necossary arrante' ments was proposed hy Mr. T. Waorliead (Holloek) and seconded it Mr. E. Grimwood (Amey). Mr, F. Smitit, of Hunslet, replied, The mecting being closed, the vaternas began to exclange reminiscenco of visits to this tower over 20 years ago, and further ringing ton place.

A FAREWELL PEAL.

A peal of Minor rung at Springfield, Fsex, on September 28th, wh a farewell to Canon aned Mr's. Pnynter. Canon Paynter has been Rector for 32 yenrs, but before leaving he has had the bells retuned and rehuag on ball bearimys, the work having been catried ont by Messrs. Gillett and Jolinston.

Tha peai was also a vory rbluctant farewel] to the conductor (MF. Buckingham) who is also lonving, mad taking nap his duties wil the Canor.

Mr. Buckingham has heen conductor of tho band for ten year during which time tho bame lias progressed from call cianges Surprise mathods. The go and tone uf the bells are all that on be desired and grently approciated by all the band.

FRAYED ROPE STOPS PEAL

At Badgworth, Somerset, on Saturday, September. 28th, a guarkar peal of Grandsire Doubles ( $1,2 E 0$ changes) in 45 mins : G. E. Shallish 1, W. Balsh 2, E. Avery 3, R. Roberts 4, H. E. Blacker (conductor) 5. Longest length on the Leells. Also three six-scores of Plain Bob. An attempt was made for a peal, hut the bells were called round mh the first quarter, wwing to the 4 th rope fraying out badly. The ringers were afterwards kindly enlertained to supper by the Rector the Rev. Pueb. M. F. Fall.

RINCING IN AUSTRALIA.

CHESEIRE MAN'S VISIT TO MELBOURNTE

At St. Panl's Cathcdral, Melbourne, Australia, on Sunday, August 11th, for twening survice, 630 (Grandire Triples: G. Wheeler (Cheshire) 1, W. L'reston (Kent) 2, J. Murray (Victorja) 3, J. Spencer (Ecicestershise) 4, H. Blakeley (Lancashirel S, J. M. Gucat (BLafordshire) 6, F. H. Criwloy (Cheshire), concluctor, 7, T. Trotter (Victoria) 8.

Mr. F. H. Crawley, a member of the Chester Diocesan Guild, who belongs to the E.S. .Enripides, was calling at Mebborme with his ship. Ic was originaly arranted to attempt a quarter-peal, but time did not permit of the longer length.
Affer the ringing the visitor was entertained to some tune playing on handbells hy the st. Paul's band.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETJNG IN THE CITY.
A mecting of the Northern District of the Lonclon County $A$ ssociation and Narth Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at St. Dunstan-in-the-Fast on Satutday, September 28th, when the ring of eight bells were availahle from $3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. onwarkis. Something of a setback wes at first experiuned owing to the 'go' of the two tewors, which left a gook deal to bo desired, but affer a little attention they werta reduced to a ringable state. Grandsire and stedman Triples ware essayod and achierad, and some of tire bolder spirits suggested Double Norwich, which was tried, and only came to grief through the hreaking of the 7th rope for the secoind time during the afternoan. This terminatad the rimging for the time being, and the mombers adjourned to $H$ near-by Lyons; to partake of tea. This latter having heen Alisposed of, H move whs made to St. Magnus-theMartyrs Ghureh, London Bridge, where the ring of ten bells was wery kindly placed at the members' disposal.

The business meoting was held in the tower of this church, and, there being nothing important to discuss, it was soon brought to a close. After this a good tonch of Stedman Caters formed a capital opening touch. Then Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Sutprise Royal were rung, intermingled with touches of Grandsire, etc. for the heginners. Dauble Norwich. Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise were also ruvg on the back eight before the arajority of the memberc departed, and the meeting was finished by touches of Grandsire Triples and a touch of Plain Boh Minor on the front six, which were then lowered in peal. At this meeting, which was one of the most sucecssful of the year, over thirty members and friends put in an appenrance, all of whom it is hoped to seb again at the hext mesting.

NORFOLK AND SUFFOLK GUILDS JOINT MEETING.

MAINTAINING TRIENDLY RELATIONS.
A joint meeting of the Suffolk and Norlolk Guilds was held at Fungajo un Saturday, Soptember 28un. The athendauce numbered about 20, including the gemeral secrebaries of the Suffolk and Norfolk Guilds and mumbers from towers on boh sides of the bovder.

At the business menting after tea it was suggested that the opxt Suffolk Guild meeking should bo at Woodirridge, ami it was hopud to arrange the first mecting of the newly-formed eastern disirict of the Norfolk Guild before the end of the year.
Roference was also made for the need of maintaining frjeudly relations between the two Guilds for the nutual bencfit of the ringers living on the border line.
The bells of the Parish Church wore kept going from 3 p.m. Hill late in the evening, and everyone setemed satisfied that at successful meeting had taken piace.

SILENT' PEAL RECORDED.

A very pleasant and instructive evening was spend at the Holy Triaity tower, Dartford, Kent, on September 26th, when a board to recond the non-conducted peal of Doubla Nerwich rugg there on March 23rd last was ustreiled by the Viear (tho Rey. L. Hammand who gave the impressions of a non-ringer on the performanee. He expressed plemsize that Dandord was selected for the attempt, and repeated his oft spolken welcanie to visiting ringers. He then formally unceiled the board and cancluded with the bedfry prayer. The band then stood as in the peal and rang 192 Double Norwich (gilent).
A vote of thanks was aecorderl to tho Vicar, and, after his reply, the tower was given over to practice. Grandirre and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major gave all a chance. Surprise puetice is not on often obtainable locally, on this scale at any rate.
In addition to the peal band and the unpires, the local band assembled in full force, and there were also present Messis, F. Regers and A. Greemwood (Portamouth), R. Smith (Narthfleet), F. J. Cullum, jun. (Eritli), T. Emsden (Chislehurs) and T. Barnett (ETed III., of Crayfond).
The band who ragg the real consisted of Messrs. E. Baruett, T: Barnett, sen., T. Gtoombrikige, jun., (;. F. Crose, J. H. Cheesmau, C. W. Roberts, F. E. Audsley ank T. Groonspidge, tilic umpires heing Messrs. E. J. Beer and H. Eoverd

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The dedication of the bells at Kielingbury, Northants, is to take place at 3 p.m. on Sundry, October 20th (not Saturday, the 19th, as ermoneously printed in previous notices). Will intending visitors pleano nate?
Mr. William Pye has done many great things in his ringing career. but we doubt if he has evor lackled anything greater than his per formance on Saturday, when ho rant the 50 cwt . tenor at Worcester Cathedral to a peal. Oaly those who have rung at Worcester can appreciate the greatness of the porformance.
Holt's Ten Part was ring for tho first time on October 12th, 1752, at Shoreditel Church.
Thomas Tolladay, who was arominent leader in the old St. James' Society a hundred jears ago, died on October 18th, 1843.
The annual general meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths will be held on Jamuary 11th at St. Martin-in-tbe-Fields, and nrrangements have been made for a peal tablet to be opened on the same day.
We have the unusual experience this week of recording in one issue peals rung at no less than four cathedrals aud one abbey-Worcester, Laudaff, Ripon, Chester and T'ewkesbury.

THE 29 COURSES OF CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE.

To the Editar.

Dear Sir:-1 herewilh wish to enter a strong protest ngainst the Rev. H. L. James in any way atfacling his name to the 29 courses of Cambridge Royal and Maximus, both of which have been rung.
If there is any credit for extending Middleton's 25 courses to 29, it is due to myself, who firstl used them to obtain the 14,112 of Londou Surprise published in 1903.
Seeing that Middleton's peal is the basis of this block, I think it would only be an act of courtesy and justice ta leave the credit of tho 29 courses with that old worthy of the Cambridge method. Fourg faithfully,

PEAL PACE AT HASLEMERE.

To the Editor.

Sir--In May last, nine simple conntry ringers and one Boltant Wanderer rang a peal of Stedman Caters at Haslemere, which brough forth a letter from "Tintimabulator,' a Londoner, with tho suggestion that, 'even if it was amusing,' we hed rung extra courses.
If he will laok in last week's jssue of 'The Ringing World' be will find another peal, 24 changes shorter, was rung at the same tower, in two minutes less than oul's, which proves to the Exetcise that the kells can be rung at that pace. The College Youthg' band. from their names, do not rppear to be so simple as to ring the hast quarter over again. I hope "Tintinuabulators will withdraw his letter, as it has already caused friction, and, in future, leave tho pace of peals alone, as most ringers lave fads about the speed at which bells should be rueg. Yours ete.,
A. F. PULIING.

MAXIMUS AT WORCESTER CATHEDRAL. ANOTHER GREAT PERFORMANCE.

The first peal of Maximus evoy rung at Woreester Cathedral was zccomplished ous Saturday last, the method chosen being Gambridge Surprisc. Considered by many who had had experience of the bells to be a ' real big job,' it was brought ta a successful issue by a mixed band, the majority of whom rang in the twelve-bell record at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday.

Mr. William Pyo "turned in ${ }^{2}$ the tenor in his own inimitable style, and was the recipitht of the congratulations of a largo audience on Whe completion of the peal. In reply to a facctions remark by a joker from Birmingham as to why he alid mot attempt the record ant Worcester, he said he was not likely to-a five thousand there was quite enotgh.

WORCESTER CATHEDRAL AND CENTHAL BELL TOWER.

The band who falg the peal are greatly iudebted to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the bells, and to the former for las lospitality prior to the peal. The attention and kindnesses received from Warcester rimging frtencts were also appreciated. A peal of Bristol Surprise Major was rung on Sunday afternoon at Claines, at the invitation of ML'. E. P. Mhomas. Here the visitors were welcomed by the son of the Vicar, in the latter's unavoidable absence.
Worcester Cathedral bells were recast last year by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and are a marnificent ring, but, perfectly as the bells are lung, the structural defects of the tower make the ringing of the hells nu easy task. The pinnacted central tower, althongh puassive in appearance, is too thin towards the top to carry the strain of a ringing peal, and, in consequence, the bell frame is supported on woorlen Ftanchions, eross-braced and tied, which are carried up from the main walls at about the bevel of the Catlodral roof. This is an extremoly interesting fenture of the structure, but it did not simplify the belfoumders' jobs. Everything that enginetring science could suggest was done by Messus. Taylor in strengthening and bracing the old frame, and the inevitable movement tuder the strain of a swinging peal was reduced to a minimum. But, while the bells are so perfectly lang, the timber structure is bound to give, with the result: that, as one ringer in Saturday's peal said, they all 'cateh you bonding.' and when a two and a half ton bell plays tricks, well-he is more dhan an average ringer who can pat it though a peal of maximus.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

QUARTERLY MEEPING AT LUTTERWOR'PH

The quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Lutterworth on faturday, October 5th, and, in spite of a very unsatisfactory train service, it was well attended. The first arrivals, however, lud a loug dreary wait until parties arrived from the conntry dishicts, when some fiob Minor and Graudsice Triples were move or less sticcessfully wung. Further members from Whit wick and elsowhere atrengthened matters, and latev on the highor methorls were rung. On the arrival of the second train from Leicester reinforcements and conmittee turned up in good mumbers, and the latter immediately had a formal meeting in the Clureh Hall. They carried out the usual routive, and also passed several resolutions or recommendations for the general mecting. Tea was held at the Coach and Horses lmn mear the chureh, and it was pleasing to see such a large number prosent, between 50 and 60 sitfing dowin.

Immediately after tea the general meeling took place, with the wice-president (Mr. J. Girflin) in the chair, supported lyy the hous. treasurer (Mr. W. Wallice) ankl the hon. secretary (Mr. Ernest, Mortis!. The clection of memthers (seven life, seven orlinury) was duly confirmed.
