The hon. treasures gave a britef summary of the finance of the association, and urged all members to do their best to assist in keeping up this very mevessary side of the work, mot only by prying their own subseriptions promptly, bat also by interesting their clergy and others ta become hon. members. The vice-president also asked the local hon. secrecaries to alo their very best to the same end, for, since the lamented death of the president, Mr. R. B. Chambers, many of his personat lijemts had ceased their honorary subseriptions.

PRESENTATION TO MR. WILLIAM WILLSON.
The vice-president then informed the meeting of a very pleasant duty lo had to perform, ankl that was to presont Mr. Williann Willson with a slight token of the members' appreciation of his good work for the association mud vinging generally. This tauk the farm of a solid silver tea set, which he trusted Mr. Willson would value as murli as le (the vice-president) did the watch presented to him lyy the members in 1893. Mr. Grifin spoke in eulogistic terms of the good work Mr. Willson did as hon toteasurer for nine fears, and in othear divections for the association.
Mr. Willson, in nccepting the gift, spoke 'very f'eclingly. Stating that whaterer lie had done in the past pilher for the association or for ringers and ringing, he was stinll willing to do ngam, and any service renderax was given with a free, good will. He laml been a member aome 40 vears and had seen many changes. Orte parbichlar trait eould not help being noticed, and that was the fact that all the hon. treasurers had home the imilials ${ }^{\text {w }} \mathrm{W}$. W.,' vir. William Wakley, geni, William Wakley, jun., William Wilson, uud now they last Wales Wallace! He also remarked on ble fact that it had been facetionsly remarkedl lie hat lwo ' y's' in both his mames, nmal it, was stid one would not be anough for him! (laughter). He thanked the members for their goed wishes, and would appreciate and value their gift mosi lighly.

SUGGFSTED MEMORIAL TO THE LATF PRFSIDTNT.
Mr. C. F. Webb ambed if it was possible to promote a sclame for a memorial to the late president, and, as one suggestion, mentioned the fact that at, Peatling Magna, Leicestershire, where Mr'. Chambers had great interests and reverin property, there was a ring of form bells. On theis restoration in lenc they were gieatly indehted to the late president for his gencrosity, and, in addition to other gifts, he had the tenol bell recust at his own expense. This bell is 13 cwt. amd inscribed :-

AN ADVANCE IN MINOR SPLICING.  SOME NEW HRINCIPLES

By Gearge I. Joyce, Leytonstone.
'1'Iose uf 115 who poseess a copy of than useful libtlea book: "Methoti Splscirg,' will have tead that spliced Minor ringing was introduccd hy the lref. H. Litw James, when, in 1909 or thereabout, he dismaveraf that methods conld the spliced + by leads " and 'by courses, a peal in 14 meblods (in seven true exients) being rung in 1911.
The next step was the splicing of methods in three complementary lends, ino first peal on this '3-lead plan being ar'anged and conciscied by Mr. J. W. Parker in 1813.
The publication of 'Methad Splicing' in 1925 introduced the '6-tead' splice, and the splicing hy 'mixed places ' at tho lead Byds. Fxtent - on Lhese principles were rung by the Leytonstone company in 1926, and embodiod in a 22 -nothod Sulprise peal in 1928.
[t lus bena suggested move tuan nuce in these columns that a complete and concise table of Minor methods which will splice would be of great assistatee to those interesten in arranging such extents. With the ohject in view of compiling such a table, ir r. A. G. Driver, of Tielucdere, Kont, has undertaken an exhantipe investigation, which fist resulted in a number of splices hitherto nuknown.
Not all that is now can be exampled in the Surprise metuods, with which the Leytonstone company are more famfiar, but the following instinnes buve been selectod by way of introducing Mr. Driver's worls to the Exercise. The extents were ring af St. John tho Baptist, Jeytonstome, and are the firsts of whese particular types.
CARLISLE AKL GUNECASTRH SURIRRSE (Nos. 9 and 17)-On Sunday, duly 14th, 1929, in 26 minutes, for morning earvice. These mothods are spliegt in three-lend blocks. $A s$ described in *Method Spliang, tine 3 -lead splice is confined to the middle rows, whereas Mr . Driver has extended it throughont the lead. This makes neces. wiry a combetion to the statementi, on pago 5 of the book, that wotuorls canal be splictal wher they start in diferent ways.
NETHENSEALE and BOURNE SURPRISE (Nos. 28 and 41) -On shuday, August 25th, 1929, in 26 minutes, for morming service. A ondie on a G-lead principle, whin is remarkable in that, unlike $k$ : l'nrkers, it is not confined to the '5is section' of the methods; and, moreover, it does not product the extent of the rows within the six complementary leads. Agath two methools which start in diferent whys nre truly spliced.

NORTIUMBERLAND, CARLISLE and SANDIACRE SURPRISE (Nos, 8, 9 und 11).-On Suwday morning, September 29th, 1929, in 27 minutes, tor liarvest festival. Thess methods are spliced on a lowel frat interesting priuciple evolved by wr. Driver, which he terms "rompesite courses. [t has heen thought, in the past, that the 'odd]' methods of Mr. Fidler's 'groups' can be intruluced only in complete vourses; but, in the 'composite courses;' these methods ane spliced in such a way that no complete course of any metherd is rung.
NO1RMOLNE IPSWICH, 1PIMROSL, CAMBRIDGE, HULL and BOURNE SIIJPRISE (Nos. 36, 37, 38, 39, 40 and 41). -On Munday; April 8 th, 1929 , in 27 mins., for praclice. An example of an extent from a set of 'composite courses,' further waried by the use of Mr. Parker's ' mixed places ' at the lead ends. 'the figures re appended, whereby it will be seen that Hull and Bowno Surprise are hoth included in a 720 Which ruis round. These methods liavo 165432 at the lead ead (handstroke pow), with ethis and 2ndts places hetween the leads, re speetively, and it has hitherio been thonglit that such methods could not lo etrbodical in sur extent hotween 'rousds.' It is tho second eombinition of more than five legitimate Surprise methods to be splicerd into a 720 between rounds, und, unlike the other (to be found an 引mgo Il of "Methot Splicing"), 110 method here will eplice with molher' 'by the leads.' It may he mentioned that both of these combinutions of six methods keep the tenors the 'right way.'

BENJAMIN ANNABLE AND THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

Sir,-Abont the end of last year you kindly published a letter fyom mo in which I guestioned the accuracy of one of the records in the interesting landbook which gives us the history of the College Youthis. In the "list of zotahle performances by members of the Ancient Society of Cullege Youths, compiled from the Peal Record Books, the firit entry is: "Jamary 7h, 1689, St. slopulchre, Snow Hill, Plain Bob Triples, 5,040 changes, 3 hours 45 minutes, tenor 31 cwl., Composed and Conducled by Benjamin Anmable.' J. pointeal out that if, as Osbome stated, Amable died on February 1st, 1756 , and, as the "Clawis" records, he was between 60 and 70 years of age, he could not possibly lieve composed and conducted a peal of Bob Triples in 1689. If he aide cull tho peal in la89, then lie must bave beers nearer 90 yeat's of age when he died, but it was unlikely that so swon after his death the writerg of the "Clavis' mould linve made a mistake of twenty years in his age. Moreover, I drew attention la the fact that Amable was Master of tave College Youths in 1746 and suggentral it who douhtis] if he would have been appointed to office tot the age of 80 or thereabouts.
In commenting on my letter, Mr. E. Aler Young admitued the difficalty with regard to reconciling the date of this early performance and Annable"s age, and suggested, as a possible solution, that Annable wns a much oller man than his contcmporaries hlought. Mr. Young Added that reference to Snowen and Osborne did not help us.

Here Mr. Youm appears to be in error. Iooking casually through old volume of 'Church Bells ' recently, I carae across an article (December 9th, 1876; by Jasper Snowan on 'Anuable's M.S.' (now in the Britisb Museum). In thas anticle Snowdoll says, Annabn was a nember of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and in the earlier pages of their peal books lis mame is to be found connected with nearly all their great performances. He joined the society in 1721; infact, he was the only member admitted in that year. He was eleoterl a steward in 1737, aut made master in 1746. The lnst mention of his name in the books of the society occurs in the pen rung by the College Youths at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, in 1754. The dates quated here, by Snowion, are, I presume, not guess work, and can be werified hy reference to the hooks of the society. If, in fart, Anmable jomed in 1721, that would finally settle the questien whether he composed and conducted the 1689 peal.
As Anmable composed and conducted tie peal of Grandsire Cinanes at St. Bride's in 1724, which is the next performance on the list, I have my own theory as to how a mistake may lave occurced, but Mr. Young mag be right whan he says that 'in the several transeriptions, Anrable's name was akded as conductor and composer, where the ariginal had omitted to state these, nowi " hearsay," like a rolling sumw ball, had eventually arkicd what was deemed the only possible namo and incirlentally overlonked the age diffeulty.' Fowewtr, the Ancient Society can, $T$ imagine, now settle the anestion, if, as would seem fo be the case, Anambe's mame appears in the Name Book as laviut been elected in 1721. Will Mr. Young be good enough to cxamini it and let us know?

Anything which adds to our knowledge of these ancient pioneors is weleome. Few of your readers probably are aware that Annald was, by trade, a haker, for on the first page of his famous note book, MLT. Sinowdon tells us, is written:

London College Youtlis.Amstevinm Coffee House.Benjamin Amabble, BakerYours faithfully, OOLLEGTAN.

KEGWORTH RINGERS VISIT THE FENS.

The ringers of the Parish Charch, Kegworth, Leicestershire, with friends had their anmual outing on Saturday, September 21st, when they visited the Fen district. Travelling via Melton Mownay, Oalkham, Stamford with its cluster of churches, and Peterborough, then stopper at Market Deeping, where rilgimg took place, and severn touches were brought round. Fere they met Mr. Horace W. Das. Who kindly conducted them to St. Jumes', Deeping, and arranged for them to rimg on these belfa (a very fine six by J. Taylor alal Co.), but time would not allow of a long stay. A few touches ware, however, rung, and the lndies handled these heavp six very well, the go being good. Proceading to Crowland, where Mr. A. Holland provider a substantial ter for the visitors, which all enjoyed, the party visibed the famous Abhey nud its surroundings, and brought round a fow toncles on the bells. The return journey was commencri shortly after seven o"clock, via Cowbit, of skating fame, and herc the party were met by the Vicar (the Rer. E. Clark), who is a son of a former Rector of Kegworth, Rlso his sister (Mrs. Gleeri), who were delighted to meet the visitors. A ghort wisit to the church and an inspection of the old documents and Elizabethan commuaion plate was of great interest. The jnumey was continued via Spalding, and Kegworth was reached about 11.15 p.m. after a memorable nad happy day. Thanks are accorded to all who belped to make a successful outing.

DEVIZES BRANGH AT WARMINSTER.

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the Minster Church of St. Deny, Warminster, on Saturday. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. and service was later conducted by the liev. A. T. Bellars (Vicar), the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch (Mr. C. B. Heginbothom). Tea followed at the Magnet lea Ruoms, the Rev. A. R. and Mrs. Bellars and Mr. Curtis (ehurehwarden) being present.
A short business meeting followed, at which the Chairman expressed to the Vicar the congratulatians of the branch on his marriage, and wished him and Mrs. Bellars long life and happiness.
The Vicar, in replying, thanked those present for their good wishes, and also thanked the local ringers for ringing for his wedding and on bis return, and also for the present which the ringers had given him and his wife. The Vicar said he would like those present to see this gift, which took the form of two silver inkstands in the form uf bells. He added that he was very pleased to welcome the brauch gaia to Warminster. Mr, ared Mrs. Bellars, tlden left.
The Chairman extended a welcome to the visitors and the following were elected members of the Gruid: Messrs. IT. Button, W. Chatfiedd and H . ircoody .
On the notion of the Chairman, z vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the hells and conducting the service, to the organist, and to those who prepared the tea.-Mr. Curtis, in reply, said he was pleased to bo present as churchwarden, and be fell that sometimes the work of the ringers was not apprecimed as much as it should be, as it was done ont of sight. It was, however, none the less a work for the chureli.
Seend wns proposed for the November meeting, and Bradford-onAvon (Chirist Clurch) for juecember.
Visitors included Miss I. Hastis (Leatherhead, late of Warminster), Miss N. G. Witljams (Path), M+. W. Prescoft (Bath), Mr. E. Coward (Mere) aud Mr. W. Evans (Burglatron-Sea). Ringers in addition o the above were present from Warminster, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Bratiton, Mere, West Cranmore, Corsley and Rowde, Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were jung cluring the afternoon and evening.
Warminster has a peal of eight bells (tenor 28 cott, approximately), and a brass plate affixad to the pillar aear the belfry door bears the iollowing: " l'he bells in this tower were rearranged December, 1881, and converted from a peal of six bells into a peal of eight liels. I'le treble aud Fecond bells were added by George Thomas Vjcary: Nos. 3 to 7 were jecast ank the tenor jotained. James Frasmus Phillips, Bart, Ticar; Edward Eawards, Thomas Ponting, elutchvardens.
A peal board in the belfy records a peal of Grandsire Triples by the Cumberland Youtls for the opening of the bells, and tile visit of the I'rince and Princess of waies to Longleat, December 18th, 1881.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

A well-attonded quarlerly mecting of sto. hartin's Guld for the Diocese of Birmingham took place at Edglaston Parish Church, Birmingham, on Saturday, September 28th. The church, which is knowa lacally as 'the Old Chureh,' is dedicated to St. Bartholomew, and, although within a couple of miles of the ceatre of the cily, is pleasantly situated in a quiet residential districh. The date of the ariginal church is unknown, but from authentie records a small chapel stood on the spot in 1340. Since then it has passed through many vicissitudes. During the Civil War it was laid derelict by Farliamentary Forces under rinker Fox, and the materials of the roof wele used to baricade Edgbaston Hall and make bullets. Betwcen 1658 and 1684 the parishioners began to rebuild the church, and about 1725 the Lovd of the Manor put it into very good repais. Considerable alterations were madc in 1810 , and again in 1885 it was restored and eularged.
The tover contains a modern peal of eight bells by Taylor. Until qeently there were only gix belle, and four of these bore the date
b85. Ris.
Ringing in various methods took place from 3 to 5 p.m., in which
W. Burgar, of Slieffiek, took part. Tea was then partaken of in the seluolroom and was followed by the business meeting, at which hair. Several Hew members were electod, including Mr'. Cliford IH. liall, the carillonneur at Bournville.
It was decidea to hoid tha Fienry Johnsen Commemoration Dimer a. usual on Satumay, Mareh 1st, 1930.

A rote of thanks to the Vicar, Ganon Blofeld, fior the use of the liells, for providing such an excellent tea and for his presence amongsta them that afternoon was propesed hy the Chairman. In acknow|rviging this, the Vicar stated how pleased he was to he with the Guild and how mueh ho appreciated, the serviges rendered in the melfry.
After the meeting a course of Sterman Cinques was rung on a hew peal of handleelts, in which Mr. Vice-Fresident Tom Russam took part, the band being T. Kussam, P. Laflin, H. Withers. A. Walker, E. Norman and J. Neal. A retura was then made to the belfry, here further ringing took place until ghout 8 p.m.

A JOINT MEETING AT GUILDFORD.

SURREY ASSOGIATION VISIT GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GDILD.
Guildtord Diocesan Guild and surrey County Assuciation members fraternised at Guildfond on Saturday, when ringers from a wide area spent a pleasant half-day. Joint mectings of this description are a welcome feature of present-day gatherings, aud in tha case of organisations which overlap in their territory as these two do, hrey arte all the marc commendable, as they cacourage that friendy spirib which Ieads to completely amicable working between the two socicties. Guildford is favoured by having two excellent peals of bells, one of eight at the Cathedral and the other af ten at $$$. Nicolas Church. The Former were open on Saturday during the afternoon, and tho latter both aftermon and ovening. The result was fhat S. Nicolas' was, more or less, neglected luefore tea, lut a band was got together to ring a good service tounh. In the meantime, Holy Trinity Cathedral bells had ben kept going, under the direcifon of Mr. A. H Pulling, in a pariety of methods up to London Smprise Mrajor. The service in S. Nicotas' Church was conducted by the Rector (the Rep. G. M. Wheeler), and an address was given by the Rer: G. Wellercott, who has come to reside in the diocose on retiving [roms the charge of a parislı in the West of England, where he took a practical part in dinging at his own church. It wats an inspining sermon, coming from a ringer. Thasimg his addess on the words, 'In that day there shall be on the bells of tho horses, "Folimess unto the Iord," " be referred to the appeal of the bells to the people and the fascination of the art to ringers. There was an old saying, ' Once a ringer, always a ringer.' That, said the preacher, was true if they started in the right spinit and if they had a love of ringing. He referved to the changed tone which had come jato the belfries and hoped that it would ever be maintained.
A company of nearly fifty sat down to tea at a near-by cafe, and afterwards Mr. Walter Harrison (vico-president of the Guidford Diocesan Guild) welcomed the Surrey Assoeiation, remarking that such gatherings must tend to improve the good fecling between the two bodies. He also thanted the preacher for his address, and the Vicar for conducting the service.-Admiral T. P. Walker (vice-president) secoaded, and took the opportanity of extending, on behalf of all prosent, cardia! congratulations lo Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling upon celebrating their silver wedding.-MI. D. Cooper (district secretary) acknowledgen the welcome on behalf of the Surrey Association and hoped to see the Guildford Diocesan Guik members at a similar gathering in the Surrey area. He also thanked Mr. G. Grover (Guildford District searetary) for laving made all the arrangements. The Rev. G. Wellercott replied to the vote of thanlis in a homely peech, in which he again evincted his interest in ringing.
Mr. U. H. Eippin (hon. Eecretary of the surrey Associntion) nade an appeal for thip for the widow of the late Mr'. C. Gordon, who was ill and itu sfaitencd cireumstances, and, in response, several of those present made contributions to fibe fund.
Afterwards S. Nicolas' belfry was visited, and for more then two hours the ten hells were kepls going to Grandsire und Stedman Caters, Treble Ten aud Gambridge Surprise Royal, under the direction of Mr. C. Fazelden (District Ringlog Master).

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

Blessed witi exeellent weather, the above society hed one of wheir nost delightful week-ends this summer, starting from Newcastle by bus on Saturday, Seplember 2lst, at $9.30 \mathrm{a}, \mathrm{m}$. The venue was Whitby and Scarborougl, and to the number of elemen they reached the former in time for lunch at the Station Fotel. From thence to the tower, where the handy peal of ten was turned in to short touches of Stedman and Erin Caters and Forward Royal. Niter a tour of the ancieat Abbey of St. Hilda, and other parts of the town, Scarborouglh was reached in timo for dinner at 7.30 at the Lord Nelson Hotel, an ideally comfortable place for a holdiny on the foreshore. The night was filled in in a ' go-as-you-please, fashion, and after a touch on handbells, followed by a more or less friendy game of cards, bed was sought as the last resort.
T'wo touches were rung for service rit St. Mary's on the fine peal (tenor ef cwi.), Double Norwith Major and Stedment Triples. After service, Mr. Harry Ferguson conducted his fyiends from his native town on a charabanc tour round Elye Marine Drive, past the Lard Nelson Hotel, and round by Scawhy ant Forge Valley. The afternoon was spent somewhat lasily, four preferring touches on handbells and others the charms of the south clif and shore, whene the beauties of the Italian gardens and precinets were a source of delight.

The party boarded their bus at 5.30 , and Ianded in Newastle well pleased with all they saw and did. The members wish to thank the Vicars of the two churehes at which lhey rangs and also Mr. Ferguson for his kindly arrangements at Scarborouglı, together with his calleague, Mr. Barton. The members are also most grateful to Mr. Arthur Payne, their secretary, who made sucla adminable plans for their comfort and amusement,

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CANJIIRBURY DISTRICT APPOINTS A RINGING MASTER. By the kind permission of the Rev. D. A. Taylor (Vicar), the autumn mooting of the Canterbury District was held at Winglam un Saturday, October Eth. The meeting was well attended, there being 31 members present, representing the following towers: 1hrebourge, Canterbury Cathedral, St, Alphege, Dover, Littlebourne, st. Peter's, Thanet, Scurry, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Swindon, Tunstall, Walrner, Wickhambreaus and Wingham.
Tho bells where ringing soon after 3 o'clock, and from then until 4.30 pm. some very enjoyable touches in Grandsire, Bob Major and SLedman were accomplished. 'tho Rev. Taylor officiated at the service for which tho association's form was used, and gave a particularly interesting address. Mr. F. Lovell, of Wingham, very kindly presided ut the organ.

Subsequently, adjourning to the Dog Int, the ringers found an excellent dea awaiting then. The Vicar presided and was later voted to the clair for the business meeting.
Tho election of two nonresident life members, W. R. Drage, Long Eaton, Notes, aud T. IR. Dennis, Cambridge, was confirmed.

Adj discussion arose as to the advisability of tho Canterbury District appointing a Ringing Master. The suggestion met with general approval, il being thought that it was yecesary for the cultivation and conkinunnee of successful meetings to get someone to take the lead mad make the more or less shy fingers take off their coats and joint in.'
Subsecucuthy Mr. Whitehead male a proposition that Mr. Tr. Brett, Oniterhury, be elected es Ringing Master for tho Canterbury District, and, failing his attendance at any meeting, the ringers in the tower Ghnuld elect their own "master" for the afternoon, preferably the comriuetor on secretary of tic local tower, flee Ringing Master to be elected anally at the annual district meeting. The proposition, upon being seconded by Mr. Slingsloy, was put to the meeting and carrion wi th one dissentient.
Ospringe was decider upon for the next by-meeting, the probable date being 23rd November.
Before tho meoting closed Mr. Brett proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rues. D, A. Taylor for his kind words of welcome and for the service, and also to Mr . Lovell for the musical arrangements.

Adjourning to the tower after the meeting, the ringers enjoyed further good ringing, adding Kent and Oxford Treble Bob ta the methods achieved.

NORTH STONEHAM RINGERS IN BERKS.

Tho North Stoweham ringers, together with the choirmen, had their annual outing on September 14 lh. A start was made at 8 p.m. in two motor charabancs. Nowbury, with its fine ring af eight bells, manuly rehung by Messes. Wears and Stainbank, was the first stop, the party being met at the church by Mr. H. Curtis. Leaving Newhussy, a trip over the lovely Berkshire Downs brought the party to Parringlan, where there is a grand ring of eight by Mess rs. Taylor and Co. Ringing here was not of the best, as the bell ropes are apt to strike the clock wires, and this put several of the company "off. However, a good lunch restored confidence.

A move was then made to Drayton, where everything was of great inlolest to the ringing members of the party on account of its asso cintion with the late Roy. W. E. Robinson. The beautiful carving which ho executed, the ringing records, and the memorial screen were of much interest, and it was with regret that the visitors learned thin there is not now a ringing land at this church.

East Inaloy was the last place on the programme, where Mr. W. Hikhort had everything in readiness, including a splendid tea, which was first disposed of. Afterwards, a move was made to the church, aud the party enjoyed ringing on the light ring of eight. A special feature was a good touch of Grandsire Triples, in which four of the East lesley ringers took part. Homie was reached at $9.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m} .$, every. one "growing that a most enjoyable day had been spent. During the trip, tourlues of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge find Superlative Major were rung. The best links of all no due to tho various joumbents and steeplekeepers of the fou towers risiterl, una particularly to Mr. G. Williams for altaryomonts made in such interesting comity.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S RULES.

A fortnight ago we said we hoped to be able shortly to put before our readers draft proposals for amending the rules of the Central Council, in order that those members of the Exercise, who are interested in the endeavour to place the Council on a firmer footing among ringers, may have something definite to consider. In this issue our contributor, who a few weeks since put forward some reasoned suggestions, submits his ideas in concrete form, side by side with the existing rules, so that complete comparison can be made.

It has to be remembered that at present the associations throughout the country are very loosely knit to the central body. There is the Council, to which any ringing society of over a certain membership may elect a limited number of members, and, in so doing, shall pay eertain contributions. There the connection ends. The societies owe nothing in the shape of support or loyalty to the Council, the Council owes nothing whatever to the societies. That state of affairs may have been adequate when the Council was formed in 189 and when, as the first President (Sir Arthur Heywood) put it, they had yet to make a position for themselves; and it depended upon the judgment with which their decisions were drawn up, whether the Council would come to be regarded as the final authority upon all Ringing matters.'

In the course of neariy forty years the position has changed. The Council, in the opinion of the majority of ringers, has justified itself as the central organisation of the Exercise, but it is generally recognised that its position, under its present constitution, is not as secure or as well defined as it ought to be. The Council, as the mouthpiece of the Exercise, should have all the weight of the associations and guilds behind it and it should be answerable to them for any actions it may take. At present, in theory, at any rate, associations, as such, have no voice in the delfberations of the Council; and, as such, they cannot bring recommendations to the Council. In this sense the Council is undemocratic, for the sccieties who 'pay the piper' cannot 'call the tune.'

Briefly, the suggestions made elsewhere by our contributor are that the basis of the Council shall consist of affiliated societies (instead of merely of the slected and honoraty members), that these societies shall undertake to recognise the decisions of the Council, that the representative nembers shall be elected annually, instead of triennially, and that the Council shall officially report its decisions to the affiliated bodies. These proposals are put forward in definite terms, not that they shall necessarily be submitted in this or any other form to the Council for adoption, but (Coutiuued on page 658.)

to give ringers at their many meetings during the next six months the opportunity of talking over the subject with something before them which can be approved, amended, or rejected. In a genuine desire to get a full expression of opinion of the Exercise we invite all district and general secretaries to bring our contributor's proposals to the notice of their meetings and to send us for publication any decision taken in regard to them. In that way the views of ringers throughout the country may be made known, and at the right time suitable action taken, if there is any desire for it.

FIRE DESTROYS FAMOUS YORKSHIRE TOWER.

 HOWDEN BECLS CRASH DURING BLAZEDisaster has overkaken the fine old Parish Church at Eowden, East Yorkshire, fire having practically destroyed the magnificent tower, wilh its riag of eight leells, and the chancel beneath. The church is one of rreat heaty of architecture-an excellent exanople of Early English. Accorcling to historians, it was made collegiate in 1266 , and it ranks among the five or six most important churches in Yorkshire. Its noble tower, rising to a height of 135 ft ., dominated the town and countryside.
'lho fire occurred in the carly hours of Wednesday last week, being discoverad shorthy before two o'clock, as the result, it is said, of the cries af a sea lion in a menagerie in the market place, which is close to the clurch. Soon the streets were filled with people, who saw the whole of the tower enveloped in flames. Howden Fire Brigade was quickly on the scene, and help was summoned from Goole and Solby, whose brigndes arrived scon afterwands. Volumes of smoke and clouds of sparks were emitted from the top of the tower and througln the windows, and as the fire increased its hold lirid fames ahoti up and the whole district around was lighted as by a lugo torch. It was an awe-inspiring spectacle.
'rios tower is sibuated inmediately over the chancel, and onlookers could hear the beams crashing to the ground and bringing destruction into the ohurch itself.

BELIS GRASH INTO THE CHANCEL.
It was early realised by the fire brigedes that to savo tho tower from tha flames was hopeless. All that could be done was to gllow the dre to burn itelf out in the tower, and to save the remainder of the church. The Fowden brigade began operations on the morth side by broaking in one of the nave windows, througl which water was poured on the burning timbers as they fell from the tower to tho ground. Tho Sellyy and Goolo brigades worked from the sauth side, two stained glass windows being broken to enable tho firemen to bring their hose into play. The parish registers, duting from 1541, the communion plate, lectern aud Book of Remembrance (containing the aames of the local men who foll in the war) in the south transept wero saved, hal tho altar, with jits caudlesticks, and other ornaments torgatior with the communion rails and other furvishings in tho chancel, were demolished by tro falling beans.

Aler an honr's work the Selby and Goole brigates got into the thutel by the south entrance. The buiking was filled with smoke athd the floor was flooded with water to a alepth of seweral inches, The roof of the tower had bacome molten lead, which poured into the rhmed. Just after 4 t.m. thore was a deafening crash as the first of the bells fell inte the chancel from the steeple. One after another four more bells, including the tenor, of over 26 cwt , came erashing dows, with tho noise of exploding bonbs, and part of the east withow cll out.
The effect of the fire is that the tower is burned out to a shel] and much datinge has been dono to the masonry. There aro liuge cracks in the battlements down to the broken and burned-aut windows on the sides of the tower. Three belle liave been saved, but one in wedged precariously betwoen the steel girders forming tho cariously betwoen the steel gi

POLICE RINGERS VISIT BIRMINGHAM.

A DAY OFF DUTY.

On Saturday a mectiug of police ringers was beld at Birminghana Arrivilg shortly after 11 a.m1, the visitors were met by Sgt. Dowding, Birminglam City Police, who piloted them to the Police Social Club, where lunch was selved. The party afterwards proceeded to King's Norton, where they were welcomed by the local ripgers.
The splendid bells were soon sef going in an atbempt for a pcal of Stedman Caters, which, unfortumately, came to grief after 2 hours 50 minutes, owing to a change course. The ringers taking part were Sgth Lawrence (Hatficld) 1, S号. Dowding (Bimmingham) 2, Deteotive Poole (Leicester) 3, P.C. Glayden (Reigave 4, P.C. Beesan (Surey) 5, P.G. Tuffery (Birminghan) 6, P.C. Digby (London) 7, Sgt. Jenny (Leicester) 8, Inspector Bottrill (London) 9, Sgt. Schleuter (London) 10. After 'stand' had been, called the culprits wente imraetiately reprimanded and cautioned.'
Narthfiek bells were open for ringing during the afternoon, wisitore and locals making use of them during the peal atthempt. Afterwards all adjourned to the Bull Hotel for toa. Sgt. Jenuy proposed a vote of thanks to the local ringers for their hearty welcome and for the arrangements made for the visitors' comfort. Mr. Webber replied, saying how sorry he was the peal liad failed, but hoped the band would come again. 'Idling and gossiping' was then carried on without interruption from "Euperior officers," till a general rush was mude for train and bus, all getting safely aboard, ab the last minute.

A CORNISH GATHERING.

A FEW FRIENDS MEET AT ZENNOR

The Church of St. Sewara, Zeumor, Cornwall-part of which was built during tho 12th century sud which was eularged and the tower added in the 151 h century-until about thres years ago contained three bells, one of which was lying broken in the first stage of the tower. However, in December, 1926, a restoration took place, and a new ring of six, tenor 12 ewt. in $G$, was dedicated. This was entirtly owing to the great efforts of tha then incumbent, the Rev. W. F. R. Trewhella, who raised the whole of the money for the restoration. Mr. Trewhella is now Vicar of St. Paul's, Truro, where therc is one bell weighing 12 cw t. (five mare are wanted).

On Saturday last Mr. Towhella was again able to enjay several hours' ringing ou the bells which he augmented, as were also four of the Truro Cathedral band, one from St. Agnes' and six from Gulval (including Dr. J. Symons and Miss E. Symons). From 3.1 .5 until 5 o'clock the bells wers kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Boly Miwor. Fhose present then crassed the road to the Tinner's Aums, where they were tho guests of Mr. Trewhella for tha. A sumptueus repast was partaken of, the Cornish clotted cream from a well-known local herd of Guernsey cows soon receiving the attentiont of the ringers. Afterwards the Gulval contingent had just time for one more touch of Grandsire Doubles before departing. Those who were hincy byough to have come from Truwo by car were able to stay to bring round a quarter-peal ( 1,260 changes), the first on the bells, of Grandsire Doubles in 40 minutes, viz. : $R$. Woods 1 , R. Dibbs 2 , Rer. W. H. R. Trewhella, 3, W. H. Southeavi 4, A. S. Rolserts (conductor) 5, H. Stephens 6.

Everyons leartily thanked Mr. Trewhella for providing such f splendid tea, and the Truro ringers wero especially grateful to him For the forty mile car ride.

CARDINAL'S VISIT TO SHEFFIELD

On the occasion of the visit to Sheffield of His Eminence Cardinal Bourne on Oetober 1st, the bells of St. Marie's R.C. Churoh werc rung. A quarter-peal of $\beta$ ob Major ( 1,280 changes) was brought round in 52 minutes: J. Tuke 1, G. Lew is (conduetory 2, W. Burgar 3, J. A. Dixon 4, W. Biggin 5, R. Harrison, sen. 6, T. E. Lee 7, R. Harrison, jun., 8. The bells were aiso rung at intervals on Wednesday, October 2nd, on the occasion of the opening of a now R.C. School on the Manof Estate.

bell frame. The chancel floor was covered with charred woonwork, iu which were parts of the broken bells and pieces of fallen masonry. The fire is believed to have broken out in the belfry, but the canse is unknown. The amount of the damage has not yet been ascertained, but it will run into many thousands of pounds.

VIGAR'S APPEAL FOR RESTORATION
The bells were originally cast by Pack and Glapman at tho White chapel Founclry in 1775. At various times come of these hape beer recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co, of Loughbonough. The tenor was anc of them. About 20 years ago the Sth was recast by Messre Warner and Son, of London, so that very few of the original belle remained.

Writing to 'The Ringing World,' the Vicar of Howden (the Rev Arthur Waring) says: 'You will have heard of the sed disaster to our inahehless tower, which was burnt out during the night of Tues day last, October 8th, and the bells partly destroyed, only tifre remainiug. I wouder if your readers would kindly consider an apper. for help from them (if only a small sum) to assist us in restoring the damage? We should fecl deeply grateful for any soall clonation 中, help us in making good the loss we have suffered, througli tho destruction of the tower and the bella.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

AN INSTRTCTIVE MID-WEEK MEETING.
In line autumal weather a meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held at Frampton on Thursday, October 3rd, a day arranged to give an opportunity to aftend a meeting to those members who cannot attend on Saturdays. It proved a happy gathering. A charabane left Dorchester at 2.15 and made for Gydling, a beautiful country village right off the beaten track and miles from the main road. Here the party wers met ly the Vicar. 孟 band of willing helpers were putting the final touches to the decorations for the harvest festival, which was to take place the same evening, and tho ringing of the fine old peal of tive was greatly appreciated, This church dates from the 14 th dentury, and has a Nornan foat and come fine gargoyles. The tower and north porch are notewartliy. The bells are a beantiful mellow peal, with tenor 191 owt. (approximately). The 3rd and 4th bear the dates 1611 and 1613 respectively, and the opinion was expressed that they would make a fine octave. Bidding tho Vicar and his lalpers adier, a move was made for Frampton. At Frampton the Vicar (the Rev. G. Wymne), the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. H. Gundry) and the local band gave the visitors a hearty welcome. The bells were soon set going to Stedman aud Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor until the service, whict was of a bright and cheery character, and was led by a fuli mixed choir. It was corducted by the Ficar, and the Rev. R. H. Gundry read the lesson Subsequently tea was partaken of in the Vicarage gardens.
A stort business meeting followed. In the absencte of the chairman (on holiday), the Master presided, and was attended by niembers from Bradford Peverell, Cherminster, Dorchester, Frampton, Shrotor and Wyke Regis. A welcome visitor from outside the branch was Miss N. G. Wiliams (Bath), who ligs been spending at holday in the district, and who has given valuable help to some of the towers. Regret was expressed that she was not staying longer. Another old friend present was Mr. W. Shute, who had motored from North Dorset. Several apologies for absence were received.
It was antinged to hold the annual meeting at Dorchester either in December or January.
Regret was expressed that the clairman wished to resign, and the eccetary was asked to invite him to reconsider his decision. The Master also promised to write.
Mr. Gray, on behale of the Frampton hand, asked for the services of an instructor. The Clarirman congratulated them on the step, and he sectetary promised to do his best to make arrangements for such. A short discussion took placo on the best means to be expopted,

AN OLD UNIVERSITY RINGER.

Wo the Editor.
Dear Sir, -I have read witls intercst the noto in your issub of Octobel 4th on "An Old Univergity Ringer." Christopher Burne, my brother-fn-law, was nuito keen on change ringing when at Oxford and could rigg any bell througb a 720 of Plain Bob Minor. But ho was oftener on the river than iu the bolfry, being captain of his college boet club and spare man for the Unjwersity Eight in 1876, and again in 187, the year' of the 'dead heat.' Somb threc ol' four years ago he presented a treble to the chureh at St. Mary Bourne Hants, to complete the ring of sis. The gentleman who was unwilling to be identified with such an insignificant performance as a 720 of Bob Minor is today a prominent member of the Central Conncil. Yours faithfully,
F. A. MILNE.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very representative galhering of ringers met at Hatfield on Saturday for the first district meeting held there sines the addition of the two new bells. The geaera] opinion of those present was that a ptery good 'splice' had been made by the boll founders. The bells were set going to Stedman Caters, and during the afternoon and evening Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal, Trehle Ten and a course of Cambridge Surprise Royal were rugg. The party adjourned at 5 p.m. for ter, which was followed by a brief business meeting and handbel ringing. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Ct. Albans, tize date to be arranged so as not to elash with other meetings.

The tower was then again visited, and the bells kept going until 8 p.bu., bringing a very enjoyable meeting to a close where towers liad left the Guild, with e view to getting them to rejoin. The Master and secretary promised to assist in this matter A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by the Chairman to the Vicur, nat only for taking the service, but for providing such an cxcellent ten; also to the organist nad choir, and the lndies for maiting at the tables, and to the organ blower. The Vicar replied and hoped tio Guild would come again.

Another visit was paid to the tower, and help was giren to some of the menbers to ring their first 120 . A move was next made to Bradford Peverell, and bere the fine going peal of five were rung to Stedman, Grandsire and Plein Bob, and assistance was giver to the local band. A very useful and instructive time was spent.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a colfection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwatded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ancient custom of ringing the curfew hell at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. was revived at tho old Parish Churel of St. James, Poole, Dowset, last week, and will be cantinued henceforward. The revival took place at a special service, when the bell was rung by Alderman F. S. Garter, president of the Society of Poole Men. The lesson was read by the Dayor and a sermon was preached by the Rector.
St. Martin's bells, Birmingham, will be heard on the wireless on Sunday evening, 7.50 to 8 p.m., and the Cadiedral bells (St. Philip's) on the following Sunday, also at 7.50 .
The bells of St. Marys, Birkenhead, will be rang for the first time on Mayor's Sunday, November 10th, 'after' a silence of 12 years.
The 'headquarterg' of tho Manchester handbell band have been moved from Lime Grove to Greck Street, Stockport, but it is hopent that the peal ringing will be maintained.
John Folt rang his ouly peal of Grandsire Cinques with the Union Scholars on October 20th, 1751, at St. Bride's, London. This was thee months after he had conducted, from manuscript, his famous one-part of Grandsire Triples, when it was rung for the first time In the following year Holt left the Union Scholars and joined the College Youths, with wham he rang twe peals. With the record of the last of these in tilio College Youths' peal book, Holt's name as a ringer disappears from the scene.
A peal of Bob Major, 15,120 changes, was rung at Oldiam on October 24th, 1807. The ringers could hardly have known that ir 1793 a peal of 15,360 bad been rung at $A$ ston, otherwise thoy would surely have beaten this record, which sfauts to this day as the longest length in the method.
The first peal by the Gloucestar and Bristol Diocesan Association (Grandsire Triples) was rung 50 years ago next Wednesday. It waconducted by George Wanklyn.
The first peal on the bells of St. John's, Waterloo Road, Loudon, now silent and unused, was rung on October 24th, 2825 . It was a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major, rung by the College Youths.

The 'dead heat" befween the three teams who recently tied in the Barnsley Society's Shield ecntest was 'rung oft ${ }^{\text {s }}$ on Saturdas'. when Shelley won. Sandal were scond and Wath-on-Dearne third.

The Herts Association meeting at Flamstead has been postponeci owing to illmess.

SALISBURY GUILD'S LOSS.

A great loss has been sustajued by the North Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild in the death of Mr. Edwin Ridout, of Okeford Fitapaine, a keen ringer and noe who for very many years bardly missed attendance in flae belfry and at church.

The funeral was conducted by the Rector of Okeford Fitapaine (the Rev. F. Etheridge), assisted by the Rev. C. A. Phillips (secretary of the Wimborne Branch) aud the Rev. F. H. Phillips, sons of is former Rector. A large number of brotber ringers were among the many mourners, jucluding the Master of the Salisbury Guild (the Rev. R. F. Gundry) and the secretary of the branch. Muffled touchrs wore rung before and after service.

THE CENTRAL COUNCII.  SUGGESTED ALTERATIONS TO RULES.  [Contributed.]

Having been responsible in some measure for raising anew the question of revising the rules governing the constitution and procedure of the Central Council, the writer accedes to the request of the editor of this journal to put forward, in concrete form, some suggested alterations of the rules which would, it is thought, incorporate the proposals made in 'The Ringing World ' of Aug. 3oth. Doubtless there will be many who will not agree with them even in principle, and many more who will disagree with them in getail, but they will, it is hoped, form a basis for discussion and thus lead eventually to a definite expression of opinion in many of the associations, first as to whether some change in the constitution of the Council is desirable; secondly, as to whether, if it is changed, it should be in the direction of strengthening the ties between the Council and the constituent bodies; and thirdly, as to the actual terms upon which future relations between them should be maintained.

Very few ringers outside the Council, in all probability, have any knowledge of the rules as they at present exist, and it is perhaps advisable, where changes are suggested, to give the rule as it now stands, side by side with the proposed atterations. By this means readers will be enabled to compare the two with a full knowledge of changes involved.

It is quite possible that those who agree in principle with the suggestions may desire to put them into different terms; if they do the opportunity now occurs to offer alternatives, so that before the next Council meeting some definite amendments to the existing rules may be put forward, if-and this is the point which should be emphasised - the associations themselves deem alterations advisable. It rests with them. The one desire on the part of the writer is to bring the associations and the Council closer togerher ; if possible, to remove what has recently been a source of friction, and to make the Council leader as well as adviser of the Exercise.

Here, then, are the suggested alkerations to the rules, for discussion. The existing rule is given first and the proposed change alongside.

Various minor alterations to other rules might have to be made if all or some of the proposed revisions were made, but that is a matter of detail.

1. That the Council be knowlu as the Centrial Council of Church Bell Ringers.
2. That the Council consist: (1) Of Representative Members. from all recognised Societios, Associations and Guilds of Church Bell Ringers (hereinafter referred to under the general term "Soaieties '), numbering not less than seventy-five members. ## BRANOH MEETING AT KINGSTEIGNTON.

A successful quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Braneh of the Devonshire Guild was held at Kingsteignton an Saturlay last, ringers being present from Paignton, Torquay, Cockington, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, Christow, Exeter, Sowton, Clyst St, George, Littleham, Tharverton, etc. The bells, which had been rchung and augmented to eight by Messrs. Gillett and Johustan, of Groydon, earlier in the year, were weli utilised during the afternoon. In the unavoilable absence of the Vicar of Kilysteignton, the Rev. E. S. Powell (Presi(lent of tho Guild) oflicialed at the service, und based his address on the words, 'What mean yo by this gervice?'
After tea in the Schoolroom, Mr. T. J. Laxton (chairman) presided over the business meeting which followed. He referred to the fact that since the last meeting they had lost by death two old members, Mr. C. Jrew, of Paignton, who had been connected with ringing for ahoub 70 years, and that grand old man, the Rev, Maitland Kelly, ex-president of the Guid. The meeting steod in silence as a token of respect.
For the annual branch meeting, to take place on Saturdiy, January $30 t h, 1930$, St. Miclagel's, Teignmouth, was chosen Votes of thanks to the Yicar of Kinersteigntan for the use of the Thells, tog the Rev. F. S. Powell for taking the service, to the organist and steeplekesper were passed. A hearty vote of thanks was also accorted to the chairman, who suitably replied.

Arising ont of a discussion, it was resolved to try and arrange a combined meeting of branches in Torquay at the fatter end of November,

This concluded the business, and the visitors returned to the tower, where tonches of Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stodman Triples and Kent 'lreble Bob Major were rung. Seweral members visited Bickington earlier in the afternoon and rang touches of Gramdsire and Stedman Doubles.

ORJECTIONS TO ANNUAL JLECTIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir, My initial point about annual elections to the Gentral Conncil is that thele wonk lo no certathty of continuity from year to year, and for a body daing such a large proportion of its work through committecs, that fact alone would render tho proposition impracticable. Ib is true, as you, sir, rery properly point out, that a similar tisk is tokou every third Jear, but it certainly seems to med that the aleliberate introduction of this clement of chance every yrear would to rather going out of our way to ereate difficulties, and that such a chango would inevitably tend to geduco the proportion of cleotipe members an the committees. While there might not necessarily be any objection to that in itself, it. would have just the opposite effect to that of increasing the dircet interest of members of ascociations in the wark of the Couneil--Yours faithfully, F. LL. EDWARDS.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

The annual festival of this association was held in the city of Durham on Saturday, September 28th, and, although tly attendance was not up to expectations, there was a very beppy spirit athout the gathering, which promises well for the future.

The Dean of Durham read tho lesson at the festival service in the Oathodral, and a very interesting and inspiring address was given by the Vicar of Stockton, the Rev. G. W. Frogeatt.
An cxcellent lunch followed, at the old Three Tuns Hotel, Mr. E. E. Ferry, the president, in the chair, supported by the Assistant Bishop of Newcastle (Dr. Wood), Mr. William Stary, Mr. C. L Routledge, Mr. Arthur Paine, Mr. J. W. Parker, Mr. J. F. Birc, Mr' G. S. Taylor (hon, secretary) and others.

After the loyal toast, Mr. William Story, in a happy speech, prat posed the health of the Bishops and clergy of the two droceses, Bishop Wood replying.

The secretary read Ietters of apology from the Rev. Preb, Wyine Willson, Canor Folmes, the Rev. A. Dunn and Mr. William Newton (Stockton).
Irs his anoual report, the secretary referred to the bell restoration at St. Cuthbert's, Blaydon, and said that Mr. James Oliff was training a band of young ringers there, and they were making good progress. The pro-Lent meeting had been held at Blaydon, to encourage Mr Cliff in his work, and the pre-Whitsum meeting at Whitley Bay had boen very successful, but the summer meeting at Darlington, where there were three towers available, only brought together about 15 members. Dtring the year they had sustained some severe losses amongst their members and friends, viz, the Rev. H. H. Barff, Vicar of Wylam, who died with tragic Euddenness while on the way to a. preaching engagement at Stochsfield; Mr. R. B. Wilson, one of the original members of Holy Trinity, Darjington; and their okd fricad Mr. Joseph E. Sykes, whose tragic death at Copenhagen was still fuesh in their minds. 'Joe Sykes was always a welcome vizitor in that district, and when he was last thers, fom January to Mareh, 1928, he scored ten peals, three of which he conducted. The association had also lost good supporters in the Rev. Cunon Bothamley; of St. Nicholas'. Durham, who bad resigned owing to ill-health, and the Rev. T. H. A. Morris, of St. Oswald's, Durlam, now Vicar of Hintlesham, noar Ipswich. The chief event of tho year had beer the great gathering of ringers at the North-East Coast Exhibition on July 13 th when the proprietors of the "Neweastle Ewang Chronicle" and Messre. Gillett and Johnston, the bell founders, invited the member to a demonstration on the Wellington (New Zealand) War Memorial Carillon. About 500 members and lady friends attenderl, and were deliphted with selections on the bells by Miss Nora. Johnston and change ringing by Mr. T, Groombridge, jun. An excellent tea war provided by the hosts and tho day plosed with a social gatherian and concert, arranged by Mr. C. L. Routledge, in the "Ohronicle "Hnll Nowcastle. SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING.
Eighteen recoud sheets for Sundsy service ringing had heen sent in this rear, and St. Ignatins', Suaderland, headed the list for: eight twelve hell thwers with 1,279 points, St. Peul's, Whitley Bay, beine second with 997 points. Of the six-hell towers, All Saints'. Hurwortli, gained the first certilicate with 734 points, St. Oswali's, Durhan being second with 65 pojnte. Holy Thindty, Darlington, had scorer 1,440 points, but did not wish to compete this year. Mr. Adarn Deas headed the list of peal rinpers for the year, having scored 14, Mr W. H. Barber mid Mr. John Anderson belng second with 12 eacfu and 11 members have run㘯 their first peal. The total number o peals rung during the year was 21, which was a considerable decrease on lase year
The framed certificates gained by the four towers under the Sundn ringing scheme were prcsented to the belfry representatives by Bishop Wood.
Tho officers for the wear were elected as follows: President. Mr E. E. Ferry. Neweastle: secretary, Mr. G. S. Taylor, Sunderland treagurer, Mr J. W. Parker, Sunderland; elitorial secretary, Mr C. L. Routledge. Newcastle; anditor, Mr. J. F. Bird. Neweastle vice-presidents-Northern Distrint, Mr. E. A. Kerth, North Shields Southerm District, Mr. Alfred Ccates, Darlington: Eastern District Mr. E. Burnett, West Fartlepool; Western District, Mr. W. F Pattison, Chester-le-Street; West Tyne District (secretary), Mr. K. F Taylor, Walhottle; Werinesday Guild (secretary), Mr. G. Siddle Cliester-le-Strect.

The association meptings for the vear were arranger as follows Pre-Lent, Wram-on-Tyne; pre-Whitsun, Bishop Anekland: Sumnc meeting, Hexham; qunual festival, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

After the meeting short touches were rung on the bells of 5 Nicholas' and St. Oswald's Clurches, and ati 6 o'clock about 20 mem berrs negotiafed the elmost endless steps of the Cathedral tower an. kept the bells going in Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bot Majo and Double Oxford antil about 8 p.m.

ANCIENT BELLS AT WASHINGTON, SUSSEX

A COMPROMISE ON PRESERVATION

A member of the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council (Hajor J. F. B. Hosse) has done a further useful piect of work in edvising the Washington, Sussex, Ghurch anthorities with regard to the restoration of the bells, and by appearing at the Cozsistory Gourt to support the application for the faculty. The Court was held in the churcla by the Chancellor of the Diocese (Mr. Kenneth MacMorran), the application being for permission to recasi ono bell (the tenor, by Richard Eldridge, 1E08), and to add a new one to make sıx, or three to make a ring of eight.

The Chancellor lad intimated to the Vicar that he was prepared to allow the petilion, and, except so far as the recasting of the bell, he did not want to raise diffeulties over other matters. He asked if they had considered repairing the wood frame, instead of using iron.

Major J. H. B. Fosse, giving evidence, said be recommended whe use of an iron frame for the longing of the bells. The timber was in a very bad state, and, if itpaired, would only last for a few years before it would liave to come out. The iron frame would be a support for the tower and would bind all the walls together and be much better for the going of the bells.

The Chancellor said he thought it would be better if oak or teak were used, but Major Hesse poiaterl out that wood was liable to shrink. The Chancellor said he never iusisted on wood if the parishioners desired metal, but wood was, in his wiew, more seemly.
Replying to Mr. Philip Johnson (architect), upon whose advice and experience the Cliancellor saic he was able to count, Major Hesso explained the technical details of the iron frame, and said the present wood one was pretty rotten. The existing frame might go for a few years with five bells.
The Chancellor then asked about the bell it was proposed to recast and inquired why they should not have a new bell
Major Hespe said it was a question of funds, and the Viear (the Rev. A. H. S. Pattrick, remarked that the difference would be between E40 and e50. Major Hesse said the bell was extremely poor, and he thought it was cracked.
The Ohancellor said the problom was whether they thought he ought to allow this 1608 bell to disappear in order that the parish might save f50. That was a difficult question to answer.
After coesulting with Mr. Johoson, the Chanechor suggested that the founders might out out the inseription on the bell and that could be preserved it the church and the test of the metal could then be ecast.
This compronise was agreed lo by Majon Hesse, the Vicar and Sir Eustace Beecher (ohntchwarded).
The Chancellor remarked that there were certain bells he sliould not allow to be touched, but there would be an order for the faculty to be granted in terms proposed, except that the insoription on the bell specified must be cut out and rehurned to the church for preservation. He hoped the Parochial Council would accept thet.
the bells which the Chancellor said he would not allow to the touchod ato prestumably two pre-Reformation bells, probably by a Sussex founder, of the early fourteenth century, and, as such, are priceless antiquarian possessions.

DISS RINGER MARRIED

An interesting wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Diss, on Saturday last, when Mr. Albert G. Farricon was married to Miss Daisy Pigg. The Rector of Diss officiated at the ceremouy, which was Iully choral. The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. William Farrison actod as best man.
After the service the bells were 'fired' aud three leads of Oxford Treble Bob Major Tung. During the afternoon, while the happy couple were leaving for London, the grand-toned ring, referved to by certain of the fraternity as "the peal with feur tenous,' was seb going to Double Norwich, the local company being assisted by Messrs. Poppy (Stoke Asil) and Berry (Thorghaur Magna). Mr. Arthur Leeder, who participatod in the ringing immediately following the wedding, was uyable to take part in the peal.
The bridegroom is a much respecterl member of the local company and is well known for his ringing activities in Norfolk and Suftelk, being a'go anywhere" enthusiast, whose genial manner' and reliability has won him the esteem of all. As a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association and the Suffolk Guild, he has rung during the ast three years upwards of 50 peals ou from five to teu bells pariety of methods, including Superative Surprise.
Members of both Guilds join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Harrison long and liappy life together

SUFFOLK GUILD.

Ringing commenced at the Norman Tower with kent Treble Bob Royal, Graedsire and Stedman Caters, followed by Cambridge, Double Norwich, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandegire friples at St. Mary's Chureh.

LADIES' GUILD.

SUCCESSRUL MEETLNG AT WOKINGHAM

A quarterly meeting of the Southerw District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Wokingham on Saturday. There were about 30 present, including the president of the Central Courcil (Canon G. F. Coleridge) and the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guidd (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn). All Saints bells weyc kept going in viarious methods till 5 o'clock, when all adjourned to the Chureh Hall and enjoyed a good tea, provided by Miss Robinson and Miss Walker. The ladies were successful, after Juuch persuasion, in getting Canon Goleridge to address the meeting. After a few words of welcome to the visitorz, he expressed pleasure at sceing sa many youthful memblers of both seyes, who, he satd, 'could teach the older hauds a good deal.' He also referred to the women filling the gaps during the wan and was thankful to notice that they were sufficiently interested to contiaue this duty to the Mother Church (applause).
Afer passing a vote of thanks to the ladies who so kindly provided tea, members were reminded of the stall in the corner where one could wako purchases, the procceds to go to the St. Laurtences Bell Find.
Mr. Charles Denyer rendered valuable help to the Wokinghan ladies in 'acting' as auctioneer (without a license!), and there te reason to believe the reanlt was very satisfactory
The men were then given permission to return to the tower whilst the ladire' business meeting was in progress. Jit was decided to hold the next meeting at Old Woking in February, 1930. Just before the service the Rev. B. Long eatered the belfry to extend a welcome to the Ladies' Guild.
St. Paul's bells were available from 7.30 and wera put to very gook use. Ringers were present from Aldershot, Binfied, Caverslian, Crowhorre, Farnlam, Guildford (Cathedral and S. Nicolias', Hawley, Hillingdon, Maidenlread, Worplesdon and looal towers.

The secretary would like, through the medium of "The.Ringing World, to thenk all who assisted to make this mecting such a suecess.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GULLD

AN ADMIRAL RINGS BOB ROYAL.
A very pleasant metting of the Leablerheak District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was heki on Saturday at Leatherhead. Origimaly the meeting had been plammed for Epsom, but the bells there were nat available on the date selected, and, by the kindness of the Rev, G. H. B. Caleridge and the band, Leatherhead was offered as an alternative. A company of just over 20 assembled nad got in some excelleni practice. Some six-bell men got touches on eight and eightbell riugers crot practice on ten, so that the afterwoon and evening were productive of good work. The usual serviee was dispensed with on aceount of the Vicar's other engagements, but Mr. Coteridge was able to join the ringers at their meeting, which followed toa in line Institute, and over which the District Ringirg haster (Mr. A. Harman) presided.
Admiral T. P. Walker proposed a vote of thanks to the Ficar for the use of the bells, and oypressed appreciation of the help given int connection with tho meting by the Leatherhead band, and particularly by Mr. Arthur Dean.-Mr. Alan Pink (distivet secretary) seconded, and the Vicar, in :eplying, said tho Guild were always welcome at Leatherhead
The littlo business that there was to be done was quidely tramsaeted, and the ringers returned to the tower, where there was uninterrupted practice for nearly thrce hours. Among the methods rumg wero Boh Major and Royal, Grandsiro and Stedman Cators, Treble Bob and Cambridgo Surprise Royal, Double Norwich Major, Superlative, Caulbridge, London and Bristol Surprise Major, not the least interestiog performanee being that Admiral Walker rang his first courses of Bob Royal on an inside bell.
The visitors pitesent during the day included the Surrey veteran, Mr. Derid Wright, of St. Peter's, Croydon, Messrs. J. lBennett and A. W. Coles (London), and ringers from Cobhra, Epsoni, Fwelh: Leatherhead, Dorking, Newdigate, Chertsey, Guildford (S. Nisolas') and Woking. Only five had notified thair intention of lefing presenf, but 22 sat down to the substantial meat tea. Fither the caterel has been let into the secret of producing the proverbial 'rabbit' from the appartently empty hat, or else he has had previous cxperience of the ringers' customary failing. Anyhow, there was no lack of fare at the tea table.

RINGERS' HELP FOR READING BELLS.

On Saturdap, October 5th, the Bradfeld Deanery Hranch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild annual meeting was held at Pangbourne.
After the rontine busimess had been setiled, the Chairman (the Rev. H. C. Wilder, R.D.) called the alteation of those present to the big scheme at St. Laurence's, Reacling, and suggested that ms the branch was a Berks Connty hranch, a generons grant should he made from the braneh funds. The sum of $£ 55 \mathrm{~s}$. was thereupors voted, the towers in the branch also promising to contribut Good use was mado of tho fine Iittle peal of six (by Rudially. Grandsire, Stedmay, Plain Bols and Cambridge Surprise being successfully brought round.

RINGING CONTESTS.

Competitions in connection with Church bell ringing are responsible for very divergent views among the ringing fraternity. Some there are who look upon them as entirely retrograde from the point of view of belfry reform and not to be countenanced; others hold that they are of considerable value in cultivating good ringing and therefore should be encouraged; while in between these two extremes there are a variety of opinions. In the bad old days ringing contests led to all sorts of disgraceful proceedings in connection with the belfry, and were not infrequently promoted by some 'sporting' publican who saw in them a means of benefiting his own business. But at that time ringing and ringers were generally looked upon as something apart from the Church-the belfry was almost entirely dissociated from it. It was to remove the evils that had grown up in this and other directions that ringing associations were first formed by men who wished to see the belfry used with proper reverence and the art of change ringing extended and raised to a higher plane. It was not unnatural that the reformers should put in the forefront of their programme the abolition of competitions, and in the rules of some of them to-day are still to be found regulations prohibiting members from taking part in competitive ringing. In the Devon Guild, for example, a member is liable to immediate exclusion for a breach of this rule.

Conditions, however, have vastly changed since the days when such rules were first thought desirable. The belfries are now recognised as a part of the Church and are treated as such; the ringers are co-workers io the Church and men of high repute. Ringing competitions in these days are of a different character and, where they are promoted among change ringers, it is entirely with a view to improving the ability of the ringers themselves, and so raising the standard of the service which they nender to the Church. Several competitions take place each year in different paris of the country on these lines and wherever they are held the clergy are to be found supporting them. The Barnsiey and District Society have recently completed one of the closest contests in the history of ringing, for on the first occasion three teams tied on points, and comparatively few faults separated the first and second teams when they tried for the second time to settle the destination of the shield. At the Church where the tie was 'rung off,' the incumbent not only welcomed the contestants, but eulogised the good which such competitions did by improving the skill of the ringers in their craft. And, looked at from this point of view, with all the old evils associated with prize ringing eradicated, who shall say that these contests do any harm (Continued on prge 674.)

or degrade the belfry or the calling of the ringer? Everything depends upon the spizit in which the ringing is undertaken and, given the right spirit, we can see notning more objectionable in this than in a choir contest.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DIFTRICT.

A must guccessful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Sulton-on-Hull on Saturday, October 12th, and was attended by upwards of 40 members and Irienus, representing towers at Beverley, Govle, Homingbrough, FuIt, Kirkella, Market Weighton, Pontefract, Selby, Withernsea, and the local company. The bells, a landy ring of aix, were kept going in various methods during the aftemoon and oveniner. A sumptuous tea was provided at Hilli Farm by Mr. and Mrs. L. Rodwell, and was followed by tho business maceting, the Viear, the Rov, B. M. Challoner, presiding.

Font rew members were elected: Messrs. J. Maurice Diron, IT, Shompard and Geeil W. H. Tomliuson, of Withernsea, and Mr. A. Sothann, of Boverley Minster.
The next quarterly mooting will be held af Beverley in December. A rote of condolence was passed with the Vicar of Howden, the pers. A. Wring, on the sad calanity that has overtaken his noble church, nud the symputliy of ringets go ont to him and the people af Flowiten on the painful misforitune that lins befallen them.
On the motion of the Hon. Scoretery, a herrty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bellis, and to Mr. and Mrs. l. Fordwell for their excellent cathring: alsn to the local company for their eftiont arrangements for the comforl of the visitors.

DEDICATION OF BELLS AT HEDON, YORKS.
EAST RIDING GETS A NEW PEAL OF EIGHT.
An impressive service, was held at St. Augustine's Parish Church, Hedon, Yorksline, on Thurday, October 17th. It was a thanksgiving for the inaugaration of the peal of eight bells, and the selvice included the dedication of two new trebles and the rededication of the origina: six bells after recasting. The service was largoly attended. The Magnifieat and Nume Ditriltis were sung to West, in E fiat, and the anthem, 'Send out Thy light' (Gounod,', was renderod, immediately after which the dedication of the bells by the Vea. J. Malet Lambert (Archdeacon of the East Riding) took place. The bells were rugg for two minutes, during which time the vast congregation remained standing, with who knows what thatghts of thankfulness and joy at the splendid result of their labours for their beautiful parish church. The hymn before the sermon was takers from Lord Teanyson's "In Memoriam," sung to the tune "Warrington, by the Rev. It. Farrisan, and in which the belles as well as the congregation took their part very appropriately. The 'whole pull and stand ' was rung afier verses I and 8 for the two new bells, three 'whole palls and stand' after verses 3 and 4 for the six old bells, and four 'whole pulls and stand' after the last verae for the full peal. The introduction of the bells was most effective.
The sermon was preached by the Archdeacon, who chose for his text 1 Cor. xip. 8, "For' if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battlep' He spoke of the way in whiob church bells were woven into the life history of the churches and the countryside. They were, he said, part of their very being. They gave touguc for joy after weddings, they tolled for death, were sounded after Trafalgar, after Waterloo, and after the Armistice. The people of Hedion had done well in conpleting the noble work of restoring the bells. They could be proud and thankful. It was not only a matter of parochial achievement, but something of greater importance, a matter of promise to a wider circle. He spoke of the glorious treasure of the clurch of Hedon, and of the ancient borough, almost unique in England. It had stood for eight or nine hundred years, and must continue lbe history of its strange, compelling memorable past. The achievement of the restoration of the church and the giorious bells was an object lesson. Around the countryside they could see the ruins of many medimeal castles, mere heaps of stones, crumbling away. Still the churches stood to mark the remaining need for men to seek the presence of God. Never was theres a time when there was a greater need for this. Man was suffering from intoxication of his own mechanical achievement. He bent the forces of trature to lis will, and it wrs impossible to say what would be the oulcame. There must be a spiritual power to guard mankind aright. Education could go fror, but it could not tow the hearts and wills of men. The perennial answer was from these hoases of Giond.
Archdeacon Lambert conclucied with the wish and the prayer that the sound of the bells of Fedon Church would go aut to "Ring out the false, ring in the true, and be instrumental in doing a grent work for the brothorhood of man and the Fatherlsood of God.
The hyom after the semon had been specially written by Col. $R$. Hall for this service, and lie was also the compiler of a delightful sonvenir of the service, which was presented to the Wicar, the Rev. E. H. M. Ainslie, M.A., Rural Dean of South Eoldemess, Ele organist, choristers and ringers, to mark a great occasion in the history of the church.
The bells are a line ring by Messrs. Taylor and Co., the teaor weighing 17 ewt. 1 qr. 19 Ib . The two trebles were given by the late Col. W. Lambert White, C.B., and Mus, Lambert White. Gol. White saw the full peal of eight bells before they were raised to their position in the tower, but to the regret of the people of Hedon lee did not live to hear them ring. He was a most generous benefinetor to the church in which he and his family had worshipped for so mang years.
The bells bear the following inscriptions:-
Treble.-Elizabeth White, 1929.
2.-Wiliam Lambert White, I929.
3.-Tustace Roper, Riehare Gibson, Churchwardens, 1776.
4.-Wind Them and Bringe Them, andi I will Ring for Then, 1687.

5, 6 and 7.-Williayn sud [hilip Wightman made mee, 1686 . The gift of Claries Dumcomb to the Corporation of Hadon in Tenor. - The gift of Charles Dumeomb to the Carporation of Hedon in Yorkshire, 1687, S.S. Ebor
The initials S.S. are those of Sumuel Smilh, a bell founder of Yoxk. William and Philip Wightman were bell founders in London (16821702). Sir Charles Duncomin was one of the two members of Parlia ment representing the barongh of Hedon. He was elected in 1685 The six old bells have now the added fnscription: ' Recast, 1929.
The following ringers took part in the ceremony; Messis. G. F. Hillinms, J. H. Fawell, G. TT. Miller, G. Dowliwg, J. H. Chamberlain, W, Hobssm, A. B. Cook, J. P. Fidler, E. Woad, A. E. West and L. Rodwell, and were afterwaris hindly entertained to supper by Mr G. W. Drescher, rhurchwarden.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SHIPBOURNE'S NOISY BELTRY.
The autumn mecting of the Tonbridge District was held at Elipbourne on Saturday, October 5th, and was attended by about 50 members, this being a record number for a meeting at a six-hell tower. Members were present from Horsmonden, Lamberinurst, Leigh, East J'ecklam, Penshurst, Sevenoaks, Tonbridge, Tunbridge Wells, Jghtian, Chislehurst, Plaxtol, East Grinstead, Godstione, Hart field, Mayfiek and the local band. Ringing commenced at 3 o'clock. The usual servide was conducted by the Vicar the Rev. F. L. Schricber), who is an honorary member of the association, and who gave an excelient address, in which he traced the history of the bells from the earilest date. The lacal organist presided at the organ and the service was rery liearty throngbaut. Mr. T. E. Marriott, one of the churchwardens, was present. After the service the members were kindly entertained to tea by the Vicar in the Church Raom, and, sithough more members turned up than had been anticipated, the caterers were equal to the occasion
The business meeting followed, the Vienr presiding, supported by Mr. T. E. Marriott. One new non-resident life member was elected The Chairman said that no doubt the members had noticed that the bells were very woisy fn the ringing chamber and askea for suggestions to reraedy this.
These were forthcoming, and it is hoped something will be done in the near future. The reverend gentleman also mentioned that they, as churchmen, had heard that the Bishop of Rochester had jssued an appeal for $£ 50,000$ to build churches in those parts of the diocede that had sprung up in recent years, and be duggested that as these charches would require at least one bell each, the association might consider the question of providing some belle for these new chirreles.

Voter of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service, and entertaining the memberg to tea, to the organist far his scrvies, and to Mr. Marriott for his attendance, were pnssed, unt the members adjourned to the tower.

LOST CLAPPER STOPS PEAL.

At Longstanton on Saturday, October 12th, an attempt for a spliced peal of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major unfortunately came to grief, the sixth clapper dropping out after ringing ten courses will excellent striking, the band being Miss $\mathcal{Y}$. Shorter 1, F.J. Cook 2, G. E. Crisp 3, F. G. Gleaves 4, T. R. Dennis 5, F. Warrington 6, O. W. Cook 7, A. G. Rivers 8. If successful, this would have heren the first peal of Spliced Major for Ely Diocesan Association.

DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL SOUTHBY

A ININE OLD ENGLISH GENTLEMAN.
Mr. Samuel Southby, known to many of the older London ringers, passed away recently in his slemp.

Mr. Southby; writes Mr. Challis Winney, "was a Sunday service ringer some ten years ago at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and also at SL. Mary Abhots and St. Andrew's, Wells Strcet. He belonged to the refined "fine old English genleman' type. Mr. Tafender, I Lhink, called his last peal, Stedman Caters at St. Mary's, Pritilewell, somo years since. Mr. Southby was at one time butler to Lord Ormonde, at Kilkenny Castie, Treland, and was practised in his profession. I remember on one occasion is person diligently attempting to pour out whisky witis the cork remaining in battle, when Solithby gracefully called bis attention to the oversight. Mr. Southby was a clever bover and ance stood up in two rounds against Peter Jackson If he had lasted another he would luge won a prize, but Peter foored him next round. Mr. Sauthby's doctor bad told him his ond might come at any moment, but he preferved to die in harness. He was taked down to Tenterden and buried there where his sou resides. May be rest in peace.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF'STAFFORD

The autumn meeting of the Soclety for the Arcbdeaconry of Siafford was held at Wombourn on Saturday, Septomber $28 t h$, the weather being delightiful. After ringing in the afternoon in various methods, a short service was hold, at which the Rev. H. L. Langley (Vicmr) afficiated, and gave a very interesting address. A capital tea was laid in the Church Institute, kindly provided by ilie local ringers, when about 80 members and friends were present. The Vicar, who presided, gave the assembly a wara wolcome, amd asked why they had not been coming more often, it being ten years since the last visit! He, however, honed they would visit Wombourn again in the near future.
An appeal on behalf af the charch vepairs fund was made by the Rev. C. H. Barker, and the lesult was that a useful amount was handed over to the Vicar, the latter expressing his surprise and delight.
A vote of thanks to the Viear for his address, use of bells, etc., to Mr. Englaud for presiding at the organ; to the local ringers for the spiendid tea; and to the ladies for preparing and serving the amme, was moved by the Rev. G. F. Barker and carried with acclamation.
Handbells were brought into ase, and a touch of Stedman Triples was rung by the 'Oid Boys,' while the 'Sedgley Juniorg delighter the audience with tunes and the 'rising' and 'Falling' of a riug of eight.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN "THE RINGING WORLD.
'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about then.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The meeting of the Marlborough Branch of the Salisbury Guild, arranged for Collingbourne, is now to be held at Burbage on the same date at the firse advertised.
'On the 25th October, 1731, here was Rung that Misterious l'eal called Sted cian Tripples, the discovery thereof has been ihe Study of several Ingenious Ringers in England, though to no effect, intil this intricabe l'eal, which differs from all other Methods of Tripples, ts being every bell a like course, was perfectly discovered by Thio. Motheor, who first compleated the Peal of Perfect Stedman Triples with only two Doubles, and no alteration, the extent heing 5,040 clanges.
This is the preamble to the record of the first- peal of Stednan Triples, which was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich. An opposition company at St. Michacl-at-Coslany, Norwieh, disputed the truth of the peal, and claimed as the first, the 5,040 which they rang on December 6th in the same yent. Indeed, so high did feeling run that according to the "Norwich Daily Press "attempts were made to stop the peal at St. Michael's, but the internpters were prevented by the people who had assemhled to hear the peal, fald were sent to their home to their shame with bloody noses.
The inrst peal of Stedman Caters out of London was rung fit Birmingham on October 25th, 1790.
A peal of Gambridge Surprise Roynl was rung for the first'time sul October 26th, 1822, at Wakefictil, by nine local ringers, with Josept Tebbs, of Leeds, which peal, says the old record, "will be a Etanding laurel to the Society for ages to come.'
The first double-handed handhell poal that was ever rung was arcomplished at Sheffield on October 30th, 1811. It was a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major.
November Ist is the fortieth anniversary of the first peal by the Middlesex Association, which was rung at Tottenham. Tho method wns Bob Major, and the ringers wero Messrs. H. A. Barnett, J. Wnghorn, jun., T. C. Grovo, A. Fox, G. B. Lucas (wha was composer antl conductor), J. Barker, J. Waghoria, sen., and W. Pye English. though this peai wras turg so long ago, seven at least of the bend are still liviug. Whether the other ringer, Mr. A. Fox, is still alive, is not known to ofr correspondent.

NORTON, STAFFS, BELL RESTORATION. GFNEROSITY OF NEIGHBOURING PARISH. To the Elitor.

Denr Sir, -At a meeting of the North Stafts Association hula at Biddulph on Saturday, October 12th, an envelope containing the sum of 85 12s. $6 d$. was placed in my hands by the Vicar towards the reansting of the six hells at our charch at Norton, this being the result of (wo 'retimag' collections (morning and evening; at Bieldulph Church, and the Vicars nssures me that the ordinary collections did not suffer ono iota in consequence. Now, for the congregrtion of a church five miles away, upan whom Norton has no direvt ecclesiastical claims whatever, we think this generasity on the pall of the Biddulph pople is anique, for we have never heard of antything similar ocaurring before. The Norton people are deeply grathful for this timely help.-Yours sincerely,

JOAN E. WHEELDON.

BROMSGROVE BELLS.

THEIR HISTORY AND SOME EARLY 1'EALS.
The bells at the Parish Church of St. Joluthethe-Baptist, Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, where a peal was rung last Saturday, have a long liso tory. When bells were first placed in the tower is tuknown, but mention is made of them in 1651 . In 1695 the five bells ware recast into six, but they could have been only a poor lot, for in 1701 the whole ring was recast by A. Tudhall, of Gloucester. Three bells were again recast (the present 6th, 8th mind tenor) in 1773 , and two more added to make eight, by Thomas Ruilaall. In 1790 the seventh was recasi, and in 1815 at subeription list was opener for adding two more bells, which were provided in the following year, when the existing eight were rohung. There was a general restoration of the bells in 1871, when the reopeniag was attended by ringers from Worcester, Brmingham, and other towns. As a ring, the bells went on for over fifty years without serious aktention, except the recasting of the eighth in 1887, aud thoy were rehung in 1927 by Messis. Mears and Stainbank. The fenor is abont 18 cwt. in E flat.

Made eight in 1773, the first recorded peal on the bells was on Deecmber 31st, 1787, when a compleat peal of Rob Major, 10,192 changes, was fung in 6 hiss. 33 mins. In December, 1788 , a peal of 12,000 Bob Major (of which the composition is preserved) was ring. The first peal on the ten bells was ruvg iu the year of the auginentation, this being a peal of 5,160 Grandsire Royal in December, 1816. In August, 1817, a peal of 5,000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal was rung.

It was at Bromsgrove that the Worecstershire Association's first peal was rung, and many other 'firsts in the method' by the association have been lung there.
The inscriptions on the bells are as follows:-

THE CENTRAL COUNCII.

THE SUGGESTED RULES.

To the Editor.

Đear Sir,-The proposals which you lave printed forms so mild a revolution that one would hopo that they will be toceptable to most of us. There is, however, one detail which, if not remedied, will make them inctiective.
The two months' motice required for proposals will not allow these to he published in time for discussion at the meethys whinh mearly every socioty bolas on Easter Monday. On the other land, it will be ton lang la allow of any proposals then made to be put on the agenda for the forthcoming council meeting.
WTould it not be best to fix, say, tea weeks' notice for individual proposals, amd, say, six wecks Sor proposals, amb especially for amentiments, made by the societies? Tlue eflect of this would bu chat private proposals would, tes now, form ha normal agenda, which could be published some tea days beforo Easter. Then on Eastar Monday the societies wotld he expected to review these proposals, and would have opportunity of adding to them, or anemoing then, for the final agenda to be publislided some tev days later. Such a time table would, I think, mest all reguirements, and shomld satisfy everyone.
Mr. Edwards semea io lave set himself a big proposition. the has first of all to prove that certainty of continuty ${ }^{3}$ is possithe in this changing worth, even anong change vingers. Then, that it is desirable. Most people would say that it means whe worst hind of stagnation. He then has to prove that ambal elections woula affech the continuity at all. The has not donte this yeti, and I for one think it would have the opposite effect. The only people whe would be lost would be the 'duds, and they are no good on committees, even if they get there. Last and biggest, would he the effort to prove that the present constitution affords even the lfast "cerfainty of continuity." The way the Nomenclature Committee was treaterl was hardly an example of "contiauity."

PRINCE'S GIFT FOR BELES.

POOR NORFOLK PARISH'S APYEAL.
The Prince of Wales lias headed the subseription list for the authlition of two bells to the preseat four at Groat Massinghan Clurch, near King's Lym. Canoli C. M. MeAmally, the Rector, is anxious to get these two trebles into the towci, and tho parishioners, as far as they are able, are giving lim their support, fut the parish is it purely agricultural one; there is mo squire, and the farmers have no money. The Rector is, therefore, obliged fo go outaide the parish with his appeal.
Gome years ago the belfry was in a terrible state of repair. The woodwork was crumbling, and the three bells then in the stecplo were batly oracked. Camon MeAnally raised sullicient money to teecat these old bells atod add another, which were pht into an iron frame made for a ding of six, so that only the bells thentiselves are now required. The sum of about El45 is wanted, and whint this is raised the work will be put into the hands of Messis. Taylol' and Co. who carried out the previous restotation. There arc it thanher of young men in the parish to whom bellinging would be likely to appeal, aud it would provide then with some occrpation on Sunday.
Here is an opportunity for ringers, particularly those in tiast Anglia, to lend a helpiag haud, and contributions should be sent to Cason MeAnally, Great Massinglam Rectory, King's Lyna, The subscriptions at present received are as follow: H.R.H. the Prince of Wales $£ 5$, the Eark of Leicester $£ 55 s$. L Lord Fermoy $£ 10$, Manchioness
 J. H. B. Hesse £1.

THE DESTRUCTION OF HOWDEN BELLS.

We have to acknowledge a donation of 2 s . 6d. from Mr. D. C. Mears, Offley, in response to the appeal for the restoration of Howrlen Churh tower and bells, made by the Vicar of Howden in our lash issue. This donation lias been forwarded to the Rev. A. Waring. A large sum will be needed to cray out the restoration, and any hulp that can he given by ringers will be gratefully received. ConLributions should be sent direct to the Vicar of Howden.
When the restoration is taken in hand, one of the first difficulties will be the remaval of the three remaining bells which hang precariously in the hlackened rutn of the tower.

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY'S CONTEST.  \section*{THREE TEAMS DECIDE A TIE}

The contest for the Barnsley and District Society's challenge shield and prizes, which took place on August 31st and resulled in three bands tying for first place-an unprecedented occurrence-was rung again on Saturday, October 12th, when the three teams met at Crofton to decide the destination of the shield and the prize-winners. The draw for order of ringing was: 1, Wath-on-Dearme; 2, Shalley; 3, Sandal. A '720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung by each band, and at the conclusion of the ringing about forty ringers and friends sat down to an excellent toa.
Subseguently the judge (Ma. W. Idle) 品ave his decision as follows: Wath-on-Dearine, 124 faults, 10 penalties, total 134; Shelley, foul fs, 5 penalties, tolal 85 ; Sandal, 125 faults, 110 penalties, total 125. Shelley, therefore, were the winners, and will hold the shiseld for the next year. They also loak the first prizes, a pair of hair brashes in leather casc for eacla of the team. Sandal gained the second prizes, a cruet stand each, and Wath-on-Dearne the third, a double-bladed penknife cacl. These thitd prizes were not originally provided, but the judge had decided to give them hingself, as the teams had rung so closely together so maty times, and, he thougla, whoever was third ouglit to get a prize.
Needless to say, Mr. Idle was warmly thanked by all for his generous gift, which was very mucli appreciated.
The Rector"s wife, Mrs. Brownrigg, very kindly presented the slifeld and prizes with appropriate words.
A short business meeting was lield, and among other things it was decided to hold the next monthiy meeting at Saudal ou Saturday, November 9th. A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and Mrs. Brownrigg, the chuthwatdens and local band, and all who had helped to make the meeting a success, was replied to by the Rector in very kindly ternis, in the coutse of whid he stated that, in his opinion, such contests, conducted in the way in which that one ladr been, were bound to improve the quality of the winging for services, and in consequence should have the support of the elergy wherever there are bells.

Thus terminatert a very pleasant day.

DEATH OF A PAIGNTON RINGER.

It is with deep regret we have to annotume the death of Mr. J. S. Collings, of Paiguton, Devon, which took place suddenly on Saturday, October 12th. Deceased had been in ill-health for nearly two years. He was verger at the Parish Church for some time, but his health compelled hinn to resign.
He had been associated with thr Paigntan pingers for many years. When the Paignton band joined the Devon Guild, he was vary keen, and quickly accuim the art of change lingins. Not only was he it great help to his band, but rendered invaluable service as instructor to the Brixham conipany.
The functral took nlace on Wednesday of last week, the Rev. R. D. Mills officiating. There were considerably over a hundred sympathisers in the church; six of deceased brother ringers acted as bearers: F. Allwood, C. Bovee, A. L. Pope, F. E. Earmell, C. E. Austen rud H. J. Hole. Mr. F. J. Laxton (brancli clairman and Messrs. A. C. Taylor and F. Hayden (Bristam) represented the Devon Guild. The coffin was draped with the flag of the British Lerion, of which teceased had been an atoive member. Amongst the many beantiful wraths were tributes from the gardeners of the Pajgnton Ti.D.C.; the British Legion; his brother ringers, Paiguton; and the Brixham band.
In the evening, with the bells muffled, the 'whale pull and stand * was perfectly stiuck 56 times, represeating the fifty-six years of deceased's age, followed hy 504 Grandsire Triples. Those who took part were Messrs. Laxton, Gover', Huxley, Lewis, Austen, Pope, Parnell Boyee and Hole.

A UNIQUE 720.

On Sunday, October 20tli, at St. Peter's Church, Rock Ferry, Cheshire, 720 of Plain Bobs Minor was rung for evening service by a band which consisted of the unusual combination of a father and two daughters aud a father and two sons. The composition of the hand was as follows: Geo. Battle 1, Miss Marjorie Gooke 2, Miss Elsie Conke 3. W. Battle 4, W. J. Battle 5, Joln CooLe 6.
The 720 was conducted lyv J. Cooke, and this is the first oecasion in which such a fanily combination has taken part in a 720 in the distriet.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

PEAK DISRRICT'S ENCOURAGING HEEPING
An enjoyrble meeting of the Peak District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Darley Dale on Sathrday. About 20 ringers were present from Bakewell, Chesterheld, Darley Dale, Derby, Dore, Eyam, Hope, Matlock and Ripley. The bells ${ }_{1}$ a nice going peal of eiglt ( Lanor 16 cwt ), were raised about 3 pin., and were kept going antil welf into the evening, some well-struck toucies of Double Norwich, Oxford and Kent Trebhe Boh Major and Stedman and Grandsire Triples being brought round. A substantial tea at a nearby inn was provided about 5.30 , at which the Rector of Derley (the Rev. R. Griffths) presided.

A strori business meeting followed, the Rector being in the elneir, supported by the Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam), Mr. W. Wallace (Derby), hog. treasurer, and Mr. J. F. Lewis Cockey (Dore), hon. districy secretary.
It was arrauged to hole the next meeting, if passible, at Raslow (six bellg) on November 16th, and it was decided to make Cambridge hrinor the method for special attention at that meeting and Double Norwich the mettod for the next eight-bell meeting. Some good atvice tegardint methods of practice and assistance of learmers was wiven hy Mr. W. Wallace, who also made an appeal for a more generots support of "The Ringing World.
A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and the local company was rusponded to by the former in an cloquent lititle address, in which he referred lo ine message of the bells, their part in rejoicing and sorvow in the life of the Church, the definite mission of the ringers as a part of the Church, entailing labour and sacrifice, and of his appreciation of the work being done by the Midland Counties and like societies.
Mr. G. H. Paulson also responded on behalf of the Daviey ringers, axtending a welcome to those present. A few plain courses of Grandsire Triples and Gaters on the liandbells followed; and Messrs. A. G. and W. Wallace, and F. H. Beanett afterwards entertained those present with a little tune playing.

A TOUR IN YORKSHIRE.

AND A P1PAL AI RIPON CATHFDRAL.
On Sinturday, Oetaber Sth, a party of ten members of the Doncaster and Distriet Society had a diy's outing among some Yorkshive lowers. Tho programme meluded visits to Kinuesborough, Tadeaster, Sellyy Abbey and a peal of Ruyal al Ripon Cabliedral as the main objoctive.
tsart was made from Donoasier at: 9.30 a.m., the weather heing jden!. Pic lirsb stop was made ut Ferrybridge, owing to a defiated tyrc, which eveat was dertainly nat on the programme. Alter a delay of 15 minutes the jaurney was resumed and Kinareshorongli was reached at 11.20 a.m. Mr. Lee preeted the parby and pilolod them to the belfry, where the heautifis foal of eighte were soon tased. I'ouchns of Stedrani, IJonble Norwicla ated Jiftile Bob were rung. Thero was no time allowot to wisit tha various places of interest, mach as 'Mother Shiploa's Cave' and 'The Dropping Well' in this joteresting old-world town, and after a too short stay of 50 minutes the partiy proceeded to Ripons l'lo dirsi interesting event on arrival at Ripon was "Knife and Fark surprise at the Granville Hotel. After an excellent lunch the bells of the Cathedral were raisex after everything had been prepared by Mr. F. Thimete, of the Catlacslonl Society. The bells eame in for it gomi defl of riverse witicism. "hic tone is poor and one camot hear" the trebles in the ringing clamber. A process of "Traplorising" would ertainly imptovo thom. Bob Rayal was the methor chosen for the peal, and the band wete instucterd to finish the peal by 4.40 so that the beils could he chimed for 5 atock ovensothg. Tho peal went sfeadily on until ati $4.40 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. 'Tad calleal a "whang' hob in the riglat place, which bronght the thells into the plain course. A minute afterwards b knock came aid. the belfry door as a fignal that thas hills must stop. Whe ringing ham heen so good throughout the peal that "Ted recided ta finish it, came what may. At $4.44 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. tho bolle ran ramal, and. Tlaat's all', and 'Stand" wero called. The don was opencd to admit the verger, who bad como up to chime for swrice. An offer by the band to ring the full peal for service was declined an the ground that it was usual for the two trehles to he elimed Srom 4.45 mutil 4.50 p.mn, and then far the thire to be chimed frorn 4.50 ta 4.55 pam . The first part of this ceremony was penformed by two of the band, who rang as many changes as is pasible on twe hells in the short time avalable. At 4.55 the remaining seven bells were lowered in peal im double guick" time, so that the clook conled chime the hour. The hatwd deatre to extend their apologies to the Dann of Ripon for overslaying thefr weloome by fonr minutes, ant hope he was pat to no inconvenieuce by reason of their belatiod completion of a splendid peal.
Rain commenced to fall as the bus left Ripon, and it whs soon pouring down. Tadeaster was the next ploce of call, and at 6 o'clock the bus druw up outside the church. Mis. Hicks and several of the local hand greetcd the visitore and texplained that there could be no ringing, as it was not permittexl after 5 p.m. This was to be expecterl, us, according to progranme, the party should have arrived ri. Thdcaster at 5.15 p.in. Before zecommencing the journey the visitors sampled the product for which Tadcaster is noted.
Selly Abbey was reached in pouring rain at 7.30 , and Mesirs. Fe. Cryer fund W. A. Hall welcomed the visitars. The magnificent ring of ten were soon geing to Sterlman Caters. In the first cause n quilel bell went in slow and stayed there, effectively putting 'paid' to the first athompt. At Line second attempt three well-ttinck courses wew rung. These were 「ollowed by a tonch of treble Bob Royal and m course of Cambricke Surprise Major Selby Abley and its beautiful bells were regretfully left behind at 8.45 p.m., and Doneaster reached as linet faler.
Drming tho list shage of the lomewasd journcy a hearty vate of thanks to the organiser of the tour, Mr'. J. E. Cawser; was carried will acelimation.
The party desire to thank the Dean of Ripon, the "Abbot n of Selby Abbey (an old friend of rineters) and the incumbents at Knaresborough and Tadeaster for Granting the use of their bells, and also Messhs. Lee, pringle, Hicke, Cryer and Fall for kimily making local ricampenents. 'l'he towers represented at the outing were Arksey, Conisborongh, Joncrster, Tickhill, Rotherham, Ravenfield, Gainきhorough anki Lincoln Cathedral

BELFRY RECORDS.

There are many directions in which the records of the ringing Exercise are sadly lacking, and information as to past happenings is no longer available. In the early days, of course, it was impossible to bring together for purposes of reference particulars of peals and other events, and yet how valuable and iuteresting would the information have been to-clay if it were available. Alas, it can never now be compiled; it has gone for evet. Here and there, there remain to us scraps of history, retained through old peai boards, the books of a few of the ancient ringing societies, paragraphs buried deep in the files of old newspapers, or retained in the 'scrap books' compiled by old ringers. But while among these records there are, happily, accounts of some of the outstanding early performances in the art, much that would have been of untold interest to-day is lost to us. Not only is this not surprising; it was inevitable.

Even modern facts are soon lost sight of, and instances constantly crop ${ }^{1} \mathrm{p}$, for example, of claims to 'first performances ' on bells, which prove to be untenable. It is hardly to be expected, perhaps, that ringers of this generation should be fully acquainted with all that happened even in the generation that preceded it, although everything of note that has happened in the last half century is on record in the pages of the various ringing journals. The difficulty, of course, is that the precise information required is not, nine times out of ten, to be found, because no one knows where to look for it. There can be no doubt that many claims have from time to time been made, which could not be upheld if tested, but which have never been disputed merely because the earlier records have been lost sight of. The most important of these, obviously, relate to peals, and it might be well, before matters get any worse, if something could be done with a view to bringing to light all available information.

This suggestion might seem to offer a stupendous task, but the collection of these records might be made possible if unciertaken by the various associations. In each organisation some one or more ringers interested in research could probably be found to examine the association's reports and the volumes of the ringing press, and extract for each tower the particulars of the first peal rung therein in each method. These details could then be handed to the custody of the respective towers, where they would always remain for reference. Afterwards, if there was a desire for it, the information could be elaborated by the addition of other peals rung in the tower. Every belfry would thus have its own record, at any rate of essential performances, which could be consulted and which would settle most of the questions of priority of claims. There are in many belfries, of course, records of the peals rung, but by far the larger number have no such records, and it would be a step towards the preservation of local information if something on the lines roughly sketched out could be generally adopted.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.
GOSPORT REYISITED AFTHF 15 YEARE.
A very successful meetiag of the Portamouth District was held at Gosport on Saturtay last, it being 15 years since the Guild last met there, and over 30 inembers were present from Alverstoke, Bramshott, Curdridge, Fareham, Gosport, Fortsmoutin (St. Marys and St, Thomas'), Ryde, Shedtield, Titchfield and Wickham, visitors from Beaconsfield, and Mr. J. H. Shepherd (Swiadon).
The bells were avalable during the afbernoon, and at 4.30 the Guild's serviee was held in the churelt, the Wieal kindly officiating and giving the address. An excellent tea was sorved in the Parish Hall, after which the business meeting was held, Col. A. de W. Kitcat being voted to the cladr. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. E. Woods (Bramshott) and Capt. A. R. W. Woods, R.N. (Alverstoke), who were both inclisposeri.
The Vicar of Gosport was, subject to his consent, elected an ton. member. and G. Juid (Gosport) a ringing member.
It was decided, after a vote, to hold the ammal district meeting at Alverstoke on January $27 \mathrm{th}, 1930$. It was also resolved that the secretary should sead a letter of sympathy to Canon G. Landon (Alverstoke) in his recent lass by the death of his daughter.
Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bella, and the organist for kindly officiating at the organ. In reply, the Chairman, on behaif of the Wiear, weleomen the members to Gosport that day, and hoped that it would not be another 15 years before they came again.
The Secretary (3ir. F. W. Rogers) thanked the chairman for his kind remarks, and also those who had been mentioned in the votes of thanks.

At the conclusion of the meeting another visit was paid to the tower, and, although the bells are somewhat difficuit for strangers to handle, some very good touches were brought round in methods ranging to Double Norwich and Cambridge Surpuise Major.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.  \section*{ARCHDEACONRY OF TEX.}

A meeting of tho Archdeacoury of Ely Bratuch was held at Melbourn on Saturday, ringers being present from Barley, Bourn, Fub bourn, Cekleton, Newton, Royston, Sawston, Stapleform and Trump ington, as well as members of the local band. Tea was provided at the Rose Inn, where about 20 mingers and friends sat down. At the conclusion of the tea a short business mecting was held, Mr. A. E. Austin being elected as chairman. Owing to the absence of the diatried secrebary, Mr. F. Warrington, the minutes of the prerious mettirg could not be read.
There were two propositions for the place of the next meeting, namely, Trumpington and Fulbourn, and on being put to the vota Trumpington was selected, the meeting to be beld on November 23 rcd .
A suggestion was made that it would he hetter to arrange a pregramme of meetings and dates [or a complete year, instead of the present method of arranging at one meeting the place and date of the next meeting. After some discussion, it was resolved that tha committee for the archaleaconry should be asked to arrange such a programme for the ensuing year.
Votes of thanks were passed to the Virar for the use of the betis, to Mr. J. W. Ward for arvanging for the tea, and to the chairmen for presiding at the meeting.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT STAMPORD.
All enjoyable meeting of the Southern Rirach of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Stamford on Saturday last, about 25 ringera and friends being present. The bells of All Saints; a musical peal of six, were set going abont 3 jp.mi to a variety of methods. includ ing London Surprige. The goor-going peal of six at St. Martin's was also available during the aftemoon and cyening, and at this church the bells were rung half-mulfied before service, owing to a funeral having taken place the same afternoon of a well-known churchman of this parish.
A shorb service was held at All Saints" Church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. C. A. Pencock) officiated, and gave a very hearty welcome to the visifors, and also a rery interesidug adaress on bells from ealy times. Tea was served at Yc Olde Barn Cafe, 19 sitting down to the excelleut tea provided.
At the business meeting, the Rev. H. Law James Master of the Guild took the chair, and thre new members from Stanford wera elected.
The noxt meeling being the annual meeting of the branch, it was flecided to hold a meeting at Granthom.-A vote of thanks to the Vicars of All Saints" and Stt. Martin's for the use of the belle, alsoto the Rev. C. A. Peacock and his organist for making the necasary anangements for the sexpice, was passed.
Ringing was conturad at both churches until about 9 p.ra.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The last quarterly moeting of this assopiation for the rear was beld at Liantrisant, Glam, on Satarday. The bells, a light, goodgoing ring of eight, were aff early in the afternoon, and kept going in various methods antil 4.30 , when service was held in the church, the Vicat (Rev. D. F. Simon) officiating, assisted by Canon David, of Lantwit Major, who gave a most interesing address.
Following the service, ahout 60 sat down to a bountiful tea, which bad been laid in the church rooms, and graciously provided by the two churchwardens.
Before tea was fintshed, the Canon had to leave, and was thanked bs the Vicar for his address. This was cudorsed by the bon. secretary (Mr. J. W. Jones), and the Canon, in reply, sajd that it was a great pleasure to him to do all he could for ringers, and hoped the members, would once mare visit Llantwit Major before the year was out. He mentioned that the first bells he ever heard were those of Llantrisant, his home being in the adjaining parish of Pendoylan.

The Vicar presided at the business meeting, at which meation was made that Pentre bells had now been placed on ball bearings and were gring weil, and an intitation was also given to anyone to pas a visit to the towar, where there would be a welonme.

The place for the next quarterly meeting was left over until the anuual meeting, which is to be held at St. Woolos", Newport, on Decentier 26 th .
Mention was made that the first peal of Siedman Caterg had been rung on Llandaff Cathedral bells by members of this assaciation, and the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks. The bells were afterwards rung until late in the etcoing-

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION .

A meeling of the Shropshire Association was held at Whitelurch on Saturday, October 26 th, aul was attended by about 25 ringers from Wellington, Wem, Moretan Corbet, Prees, Slirewsbury, Market Drayton, Alberbury, Crewe, Marbury, and the local company. The hellis, a ring of eight, with tenor 20 ewt,, cast by Gudhall in 1715, were raised shortly after three o'clock, and were kept gaing till 5. 30.
A shott meeting was then held in the belfry, presided over by Mr. F. A. Ilarnett. It was decided to hold the annual meeting at Slirewsbury in Jrumary.
There was no other business before the meeting, and the members adjourned to a nearby cafe for tea, after which they kept the bells going until eiglat a'olook.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT STREATHAM

A successful meeting of the Southera District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Salurilay, Oetober 19th, at Streathan. Proceedings were to commence at 3 , and at 2.55 there was a good Steaman band in attendance at St. Leonard's Church, but no ringing could be done for a short time owing to a christening ceremony which was taking place. Cambrilge was rung as an opening toubh. Other humbler methods fallowed, including Grandsite far beginners. Members and friends continued to arrive, and by service time some 30 odd people were in or out of the not by any ments large ringing chamber. Choral evensong at five o'clock, at which the Fural Dean gave an inspiriting address, was foilowed by tea at Streatian Hall, 28 sitting down to a nicely prepared meal, the arrangements for which were kindly made by Mr. J. Chapman, of St. Leonard's.
The husiness meeting followed, and the usual routine items wer, soon disposed of. An appeal was made for Mr. 'r. Beadle, of Isleworth, a very old member of the disirict, which resulted in the sum af $£ 1$ being subscribed, to be handed to Mr. Hollier (Middlesex) for bis fund.
The ringers then-turned their attegtion again to ringing. The Master (Mx. Mance) took the major fortion of the company to Immanuel Chureh for London Surprise, etc, whilst the secretary took charge of is novices' party, who first revisited St. Leonard's and rang three gond fouches, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Boh Major, and afterwards wenl on to jain the main body. Ringing in various methods was kept up till nine o'clock, by which time some of the out-residents (having io go twenty miles or so) had left. During the mecting a vote of thanks was passed to the incumbents for the use of the two 'eights ' available, to the Rural Dean, the organist and choir, and to Mr . J. Chapman and his merry men who arranged things so admirably.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A small but energetic company met at Warlield on Saturday lajk for an East Berks and South Bucks Branch practice meeting, and after a few touches enjoyed a most interesting address by the Vicar, which included some history of the older bells of this church.
Then an excellent tea followed, at the Vicar's invitation, in the Brownlow Hall, a very up-todate structure with clubroom, billiard room and library attached.

Afterwards the fower was again visited, chielly for spade work, until all had been satisfied.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN "THE RINGING WORLD.
'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possibie, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic posticards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be pulblished at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woling, Surrey, and the sender should enclose bis name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We desire to thank the many ringers who have responded to our request, in the notice at the lead of this column. We hope that those who have not yet bect able to send the picture of their chasels and information about the bells will kindly do so.
Messrs. Taylor and Co. are restoring the ring of five bells in the ancient tower of Fughy Parish Church. It is of inferest to note That Rugiby Parish Church is unique in possessing two peals of hells, there being a ringing peal of eight, witli tenor 25 ewt., in the other tower of the same church.
In conncetion with the Students' Mission Campaign, two Cambridge undergraduates visited Kington Magna early in September. During two days spent in the village they became interested in ringing, and have since both joined the Cambirige University Guild.
Several weterans took part on Saturday at Bradford in at peal of Treble Tca, which was rung as̀ a compliment to My'. Josepla Broadey, one of Yorischire's 'grand old men, on his 70th birthdny, as a birth ${ }_{2}$ day peal for Mr. Tom Maude, whose interest in ringing and ringers has hexn mantained through many years, and also as a compliment to Mr . J. W. Cundal? on the 38 th anniversary of his wedding. Many happy returns of the day' was the wish extended to the trio.
We are happy to record that after seven weeks' inluess, Mr. Walter Perkins, of Irthlingborough, Northants, is on Ilse road to recovery, and lopes to be at work again in $\pi$ fortnight's time.
Tonday is the amiversary of the opening of the bells at St. 'Paul's Cathedral, which took place in 1878 .
The first "name' pral on record was rung by a band alt with the Chisistian name of William. There wome eleven of them (wo to the tenor), all members of the Royal Cumberland Youths, in a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Martin-s-in-the-Fields, on November 3rd, 1796. the condluctor being William slifuray.
The bells of Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, which were heard over the ether on Sunday evening. have been associated will change ringing almost from the earliest days, and as long ago as November 5th. 1725 , peal of Grandsire Triples was rung there.
What is believed to be the first peal of Superlative Surprise on record was rumg at St. Peter"s, #uddersfield, on Novernber 5th, 1821.
Recanse of the nearness of a durelh, which interfered with his Sunday tennis, the High Sherif of Somerset has had his rating assessment reduced on appeal. He staied that it was impossible to play tennis on Sundny evenings, as the people in clurch could look through the church windows neross his lawn and watel the play: also that ihe church bells were rather trying.
The name of the ringer of the third in the peal of Treble Ten at Heddington on October 16th, was connected with Trafalgar: and not the Norman Conçuest. It should have been Nelson Filiobti.
The asterisk in the report of the peal of Trohle Boh Royal at Bromsgrove should have been against the name of the ringer of the 71.1 instead of the 8th.

HEDON CHURCH AND ITS BELLS.

Hedon, in the East Rilling of Yorkshire, bossasses a very fine cluurch, and a nolle tawer, in which, as recorded in our last issue, e ring of eight hells has just heen installed and dedieated.
Originally there were five bells there, cast 1686 and 1687, and, from their inseriptions, they appear to have been presented, not to the church, but to the Corporntion of Hedou. The tenor whs east in 1687 by Sanuel Smith, a bell founder of York, the bell heing the gift of Sir Clamrles Duncomb, one of the two members of Parliament for the borough. The fourth bell was cast in the same year, presumany at the same foundry, nut bore the musual ingeription, 'Wind Them and Bringe Them and I will Riug for 'Chem.'
The other three lyells of the five were cast lyy William and Philip Wightman, of London, and were also the gift of Sir Chatles Dancomb. A treble was added to make at ring of sis 1 m 1776 , and the whole of the bells have now becn recasi by Messrs. Taylm and Co. atud two trebles authed, the gift of Col, and Mre. Lambert White, makng at fine ring of cigat, with a tenor of $17 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. The inseripions on the old hells hare beeu reprotheed on the new, and each baars iu addition the words, 'Recast, 1929.'

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

EASTERN AND WESTERN DISTRICTS' JOLNT MEETINA.

A joint meeling of the Eastern and Western Districts of the Du Han and Newrastie Diocesan Asseciation was held in Sunderdand on Saturdny lask. The ringers began to meet at Bishopswearmouth Churel: ht 2.30 p.m., and the bells were soon going mervily to touchra of Gmadsime 'Tripies and Kent Treble Bob Major'. By four oclock the belfy was fell of ringers, so a party 'took off for Holy Trimity Chureh, where Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. it $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. all ringers wcaded their way to St. Ignatins' Institute for tea, but owing to some mistake the victuals had been sent to the wrong place. After at good deal of hurrying and scurrying, however, the vingers sat down at 6 p.m. to a most substantial meal.
Afterwards, a short meeting was held, presided over by Mr. E. Ruruetr (vice-president of the Eastern District), supported by the Rev. G. H. J. Baily, Vicar of S1. Ignatius' Church. Votes of thanks were given to the clergy of the respective churches for the use of the beils, Mr. Baily replving for the incumbents, and saying what a great pleasure it was for him to be at the meeting. He was always ready to grana the use of the bells at any time, and wished all suceess to all belfries:
Mr. Enttison, of Houghton-le-Spring, moved a vole of thanks to the ladics for helping at tea, and this, uaturally, was carried witl acclamation.

It was proposed that the next meeting be held at Weat Hartlepool in conjunction with the Southern District on Saiurday, December 7 th .
Aiter the meeting, St. Ignatius Church was wisited, where touches of Kert, Granisire, Stedman. Double Norwich and Superlative were rung, and it was pleasing to know that one or two learners had their first touches at this meeting. Finging finished at 8, and all agread that it had been at very suceessful and happy gathering-

CONGREGATION STAY TO HEAR BELLS RUNG

RECTORS NOVEL STEP TO INYEIAEST PARISHIONERS.

On Sunday, October zoth, members of the Winclester and Portsmauth fiuld from Highclere and Woolton Hill were invited by the Rector of Burghelere (the Rev: Canon 道edlicoth) to ring the belly afler evening sorvice, the object being to enlighten the people of Burgtelere in the art of change ringing

The Rector preached a sermon on bells and change ringing, and asked the congregation to stay amd listen to the ringing.
Burghelere clucch bells (a light ring of six) were for some time in a wery bind state, and very little ringing wos, or could be, fone with them. However, funds were raised, and the bells now have been relung with new fittings, ineluding ball bearinge, by Messrs. Mears and Strinbank. The result is that the bells go perfectly.
Twelve members from the two towers mentioned took this opportunity of ringing at Burghelere, and some yood touches of Doubles and Minor were brought round. Scveral in the local ringers were also present, nud it is lsoped they will make good use of ile bells. Thanks were accorded to the Rector for the opportunity provided to ring the bells.

DEATH OF BRISTOL RINGER

A LOSS TO SS. THILT AND JACOB'S GELD.

It is with decp regret we have to amounce the death, at the age of 58 yents, of Mr. Isaac Long, of Staploton, Bristel, who Masyed awry on Sumay, October 20th, after an ilmess lasting less than a week. Up to a few dass before lis death, doconsed took part tegularly in the Sunday and practice ringing at Sta. Nicholas' Church and at SS. Philip and Jacob's Church, Or the Guik at the later elurch he wrs a valued member.
My. Long began ringing at Staplefou Chturch 40 yoars aga, anded eont tinued there until the St. Niohelas' Guild was formed some ten years Later by Mr. Fred May, ${ }^{\text {d with }}$ whom he rang many peals, incliding the first peal of Erin Caters in the country. Aiter the Sc. Nicholas' Guild was disbauded, deceased joined the ES. Philip ami Jacobl's Guikd, and has been one of its keenest members for the past 11 yenrs, ringing about 16 peals. He rang about a hundred peals aliogether, from Triples to Royal, the methods ineluding Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Eent, Oxford, Forward, Exim, and Double Norwich, ant most of them were rung at the heavy end.
The funcral took place amidst many tokens of sympally nut respect, on Wednesday, October 23rd, it Fidgeway Cemetery, the strvice having previously been held it Stapleton Clurell. Nost of deceased's fellow-ringers and many ringers from other churelos were present, and his employers (Messys. &. Wilkins and Sons, builders), for whom deceased was foreman, were also present. The handbolls were rung at the graveside hy fon members of Ss. Philip and Jaebh's Guidd: Miss A. Brown 1-2, F. E. 'I'yler 3-4, E. J. Brown 5-6, F. W. Wade $7-8$, and an atiempt was mude for a mafficd peal of Stedman 'Triples at St. Ptilip’s, lut unfortunately this failed ziter nearly two hours ringing. However, on Sumby evening, October 27th, prior to the service, a mafled quarter-peal of Keal Treble linh Mnjor was rung by: Mise A. Brown 1, P. C. Williams 2, F. W. Wad 3, W. C. Hunter 4, F. Skidmore 5, G. S. Wiltshive 6, H. T. Howel ${ }_{7}$, E. J. Brown (conductor) 8. This was followed by the whole pull and stand 58 times.
Mr. Long's presence at St. Philip's will be greatly missed, not only for his ability, which was considerable, but for his cxcellent company

LADY RINGER WEDDED

The wedding took place at Chifldingfold Church on Sanurday, Jetuber 26 th, of one of the lady fingers of the band, Miss Dorollay Atiwell (datighter of Mr. T. Attwell, himself an ald ringer at hifs picturesque Surrey village). The bridegroon was kil. Frank Haris, until lately also a ringer. The trido was given nway by ber fathor, and was attended by her ringing sister, Miss Mahel Attwell, as bidesmad. The service was choral, Mr. E. Howard being at the organ. Owing to serious illness near the church, the tower hells could not be rung, but touches no hatalbells were ruit by Messris. d. P. P'elloe, A. J. Bartlett, M. Smither and G. Luff, who with oblet ringers formerl an archway with laandluells, uttder whicls the bride and bridegroom passed as they left the church. The ringers' piestint to Miss Attwell was a hismit hartel suitably inseribed.

THE FIRST PEAL OF MAXIMUS IN HANTS. SOME PERESONAL NOTES.

The peal of Cembridge Surpriae Maximus at Winchester an Satur day way in the mature of a gathering of the clans. Hampshire, Surrey, Kent, Londion, Essex, Somerset and Worcestershire were represented in the band, and it is not unworthy of note that in this first peal of Muximus ever rung in the connty of Hampshire were two associalion Masters (Winchester and Portsmouth, and Mirdecsex), four association General secredaries (Middlesex, Guildford, Bath and Wells and Surtey), and a Winchester and Portamonth District secraLary
Mr. Willian Pye, who celebrated with this performance the 40 th ahniversary of his firsi, peal-and his fortieth year of peal ringing has heen marked by achiovements greater than may in his wonderfui carecr-wadided yot another to flie still expanding list of twelve-bel towers in whidh he lias rung a peal, while, among the 'novices' in the panl whs Mr'. Gearge Willians, who, it may be recalled, first rang at Wimelester Cathedral as long ago as the year 1873! He and Mr. J. 5. Cinldsmitl took part in the first peal of Stedman Caters on the bells-the first in Hampshive and by the Winchester Guild-just thirty years ago, andi, masier and pupil, they also rang together in the first pets of Cambridga and London Surprise Major in the county and by the Guild, both well over thirty years ago. They also shared in the first peal of Stedman Cinques in the county and by the Guidd, and their participation in last Saturday's peal was thus a happy culmination of a long association.
Mr. Sidney T. Holt, of Worcester, steppen into the band at the last moment to fill a breacla caused by illness, and this brilliant yonng ringer proved his worth. He had never before struck a blow in Cambridge Maximus, and he rang almost without a trip From start to Cluish.
To these persomal notes must lue added the thanks of the band to the Dean for granting the use of the bells, and especially to the genial Dean's verger (Mr. J. W. Elkins), who made all tha local armanements, was there to walcome the ringers, and, at the close, was the first to enter the belfry to congratulate the band upon lasuige rung a fine peal. Mr. Wiffed Andrews, the leader of the Caliedral ringers, was away on holiday and unable to be present to greet the visitors, but he sent his good wisles, which were much apprecinted.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

PEAL TABLET LiNVEILED

A most suceessful meeting was letd at Biddulph. There was a vory good attendance, over 40 members being present from Bucknall Norten, Burslem, Brown Edge, Uttoxeter, Swynerton, Cheadle and Kingsley. The chief event of the afternoon was the unveiling of a beautiful marble peal tablet recording the first Surprise peal in soven methads on the bells. The ceremony was performed by the Vicar (the Rew. S. Myers Bridge), who, nfter congratulatinp the ringers on their performance, said how much he appreciated the services which the ringers rendered. He then charged the wardens with the care of the tablet.
Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, the conductor of the peal, replying, said that f. We placing of such a tablet in the belfy was not only in distinet wnament but it would stand for a long time recording ta the generations of "ingers to follow the performance of the present-day ringers, und so enerurnge them to keep ringing up to a high slandard.
Tun was served in the schoolroom, and was presided over by the Virar, after which a voto of thanks was accorded to the Biddulph ringers for so kindly providing the tem and giving the association such a heurty weloome.
unicue event took place inmediately after tea, when the Vicar anmounted that: Je had great pleasure in handing over to Mr . ## LANCASHIRE'S BELLS.

DISAPPEARANGE OF RUDFALL'S CASTINGG

The Chutch Belis of Latncashire: Epilogue, was the subject of the lecture, hy Mr. F. H. Cheethan, at the opening meeting of the winter session of the Lancashire and Cheshire Antiquarian Society. It was in substance, says the 'Manchester City News,' a summary of his papers on the church bells of Lancashire reail before the seciety a few years ago, in which he dcalt separately and in some tetail with the bells in the six Hundreds constituting the county. Dealing now with Laucashire as a whole, Mr. Cheetham said that there were only twenty-two bells which could with certainty be assigaed to a date enrlier than 1550. Of these only four were dated, and two of the four belanged to the sixteentli century.
The oldest was the bell at Claughton dated 1296, and the next one at St. Miclasel-on-Wyre datod 1458 . But there were five or six belle which could be assigned to the fourteenth century, and a like num ber to the fifteenth century. There were only six dated belis belong ng to the period 1550-1600, but when we come to the soventeenth century the number is mtich larger, some thirty-four dated bells of that period still remaining.
Of these, seren came from the Wigan Foundre, held successirely by John, Geofrey, and William Seott. Mr. Cheetham spoke at some Iength of the Wigan hell fommers, bath of the Scats in the seventeenth, and the Ashtons of the eighteenth century. One of William Scoti's bells, dated 1666, still hangs in Chetham's Eospital, Manchester
Only three of Ralph Ashton's bells now survive in Lancashire, hut there are aver a score by his successor, Luke Ashton, ranging in date from 1723 to 1758 . In all there were about 265 bells of eighteenthcentury date in the county at the close of the war, of which 189 were cast in the Rudlall Foundry at Gloucester, but during 才he last ten years a number of these lad been recast.

IOSS OF RUDHALL'S BELLS DEPLORED
The disappearmuce of the older Rudhall bells, said the lecturer, was greally to be deplored, and even more so the melting down of a bell Eated 1685 in north Lancashive
Mr. Cheetham drew attention to the recommendations of the Cell tral Council for the Care of Churches as respects claurin balls, and said that in spite of these recommendations Discesan Adwisory Cornmittees in different parts of the country still allowed old bells to be recast without insisting on the retention of the original inscriptions. The Central Council liad endorsed the memorandintu drawn up in 1923 by a conference hetween the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings and tho Contral Council of Churd Bell Ringers, in which it was agreed as a general principle that "in case of recasting, the enrichmme and inscription shauld he reprodweed on the bell in facsimile, and the new bell should be dated and the fact of its recasting mdiled.
It was also agreed that bells cest hy famous founders, such as Abraham Rudhall, slould receive special care, probably the same as bells of pre-Reformation date. The Manchester Advisory Committee lad, however, allowed the cathedral bells, which included sim by Abraham Rudhall dated 1706, to be recast without regard to these recommendations, and the same thing had occulred at Eccles Parish Church, at Leyland, and at Sacred Trinity, Salford, where Rudhall bells, dated respertively 1709,1722 , and 1748 , had been melted down

DEATH OF A LINCOLN RINGER

MEMBFR OT CATHEDRAL COMPANY FOR NEARLY 50 YEARS. By the death of Mr. Isaac Vickers, there has beess lost to the Cathedral company one of the oldest ringers in the city of Lincoln. It is only as recently as last September that, aftor a period of over 54 yeara with a local engincering fivm as a toolsmith, Mr. Vickers retired and looked forward to a gufet enjoyment of leisure in his declining years, but it was destined not to he so. After a very short illness ha passed away at the age of 76 years ou October 23rd, and was carried to his last resting place on Saturday, followed by several of his fellow-ringers and workmen. A half-mumied quarter-peal of Stedman Cinques ( 1,323 changes) was runt on the Cathedral bells in one hour and four minutes in the evening by the following: George Flintham 1, Harold Marcon 2, Charles McGuiness 3. Gearge Chester 4, Lewis Snell 5, Leslie Pack 6, Tom Pyle 7. Fredk. W. Stokes 8, John A. Freman icondnctor) 9, Stanford J. Wolfe 10, Jahn Wralden 11, Rupert Rieliardson 12.
Mr. Yickers was one of the old sohool of ringers, who in his early Aays considered it an achievement if a band could be got together able to ring the plain methods. Ho was always ready to give a helping liand, and when the old North Lincolnshire Association was formed in 1884 this name was foumd amongst the first list of members and as one of its instructors. He rang several peals, conducting a few, and looked with pleasure upon ringing his first peal of Stedmar at an adwanced age. He was enrolled a member of the Cathedral company in 1882, and acted as treasurel and conductor for many vears, finallp succeeding to the office of Master in 1918, a position he beld at the time of lis death. He was a man with a strong dis position, with a straglatforward character it all his doings, and a stanach churehman

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
THE APPROACEING JUBLLEE.
The annual meeting of the Lewisham District was beld at St. George's, Beckenham, on Saturday last. The bells were made good use of during the afternoon, and service was beld in the church, the association form being used. The Rev. Father Winton officiated, and yave au interesting address.
Service over, the company adjourned to the Church Hall, there to partake of tea, provided by the Roctor (Rev. E. A. Morgan), who, at the conclusioe of the meal, welcomed the association io Beckenliam, and deplored the lack of reeruits to the Exercise.
Mi. F. W. Thornton moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Recfor for the use of the bolls, and for his generous hospitality in enterfaiaing the nembers to tea; to Father Winton for conducting the service and giving his aduress; to Mr. W. Smith for making the arrangements for the meeting ; aud to the ladies for helping at table. This was carried with applause.
The business meeting followed, the Rector presiding. A report of the year's work, read by the disirict secretary, was adopted.
One ringer was elected as practising member of the association, and the election of four members previous to peals was confirmed.
'The retiving secretary (Mr. A. G. Hill) was re-elected, and the retiring representatives (Messrs. I. Emery and E. Barnett, jun.) Were nominated for a further term of office, but on receipt of an intimation that Mr. Emery did not seek re-election, the nomination was altered to E. Barnett, jun., ant W. Smith, and this was carried.

Chiglehurst was chosen as the place for the January meeting without dissentient vote.

Then followed 'any other business,' which, as usual, was the most productive of speech of any item on the agenda.
Mr. W. J. Jeffiries mentioned the 'Helmore T'estimonial Fund,' and hoper that the Lewisham District would exert itself to obtain a much better result. This jidea was developed by other speakers, notably Mr. F. W. Richardson, and it was finally agreed to make a collection among those present to swell the fund. The result was the gratifying sem of 22 2s. 6d.
The nexl business to engage attention was the arrangements to he made for the next annual general meeting, which would mark the association's jubiles. It was suggested that the meeting be held, if possible, in the samo place as, and on the exact amniversary of the innugural meeting. The district representatives undertook to convey tho members' wishes to the general committee on the occasion of its mext meeting. The Chairman suggested that it would be a happy thought to endeavour to secure the presence of the Dean of Ganterbury (Dr. H. R. L. Sheppard) on this ocession-an expression of opinion endersed by all those present.
Mr. A. T. F. Fodges, churchwarden of St. George's, was elected an hon. rember of the assaciation, at his own request. (Oh! that others would profit by this example!
The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. I. Emery, regretfully accepting his withdrawal from office, and expressing a wish for his speedy and complete recovery from his present indispositiou.
This concluded a successful meeting, the members regaling themselves with handbells, nutification of a serious illness mear the church preventing further use of the tower bells.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
CARY DEANERE CHATRMAN LEAVING.
A quapterly meeting of tha Cary Deancry Branch was held at nere Swindon, Bristol, Baheary, Braton, Diteheat Templecombe, Buckhorn Westou, West Pemard, Fvercreech, Castle Cary, North Cheriton, Mere, Zeals, Barfon St, David, North Cadbury and Kington Magre. A short service was held in the Parish Church, at which the Rector (the Rev. R. Mulene) officiaicd. Tea was partaken of in the Catash Ima and thoroughly enjoyed by the Iarge company, after Which the business meeting followed, Preb. D. M. Ross being voted to take the chaik. The agenda mas a small one.
The chairman informed the members that the next mecting would be at Evereveech in Jenuary.
Preb. Ross then announced to the meeting that he wouls be leaving the Cary Deanery in a short timo to take the living of Claverton, uear Bath, and therefore he would be resigning from the office whesident. He had always thoroughly enjoyed the mectings whilst at Cary, and would be sorry to go. Whiteheal thanked Preb. Ross for his kind help at all their meetings in the past, and said how sorry they all were to hear he was lenving them.
The Rev. E. S. C. Lock, Master of the association, also thanked Prob. Ross for his pust services, but hoped he would not be lost to the association, as he was stle the tewers around Bath would give him a hearty welcome.

Preb. D. M. Ross proposed a very hearty voie of thanks to the Roctor for his kinduess iu welcoming the ringers, and for the use of th: bells, also to the organist and the ladics who waited at the tea tables.-This was seconded by Mr. R. Look and carried. The party then returnob, Bob Minor and Stedman concluded a splendia meeting, thoroughly enjoged by the large company present.

THE FIRST PEAL AT GAMLINCAY.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-The peal at Gamliugay, Cambridgeshire, on September 28th last, is not the first on the bellis, as believed by the band to be.
The first peal at Gamliugay was rung ou December 11th, 1897, and Was a peal of Minor in sever methods, viz., 720 each of College Pleasure, London Scholars' Pleasure, College Exercise, Yiotet, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob. mine ringers were Edgar Thisey, Isaac Hills, William J. Barker, Charles Chasty, Charles W. Clarke and Frauk Hull. It was couducled by C. W. Clarke, and the tenor was then believed to be about 23 ewt. Winh the exception of Mr. Clarke, none of the ahove band ligure in the peal records of today. Mi. Clarke at that period was one of the most prolific: peal scorers, especinlly on six bells, and it is quite pos'sinle he bolds the record on that aumber of bells.-Yours faithfulip, Liverpool.

HOW TWO PEALS WERE LEFT BEHIND.
The following is the story of two peals and low they were not rung. Four ringers from Clewley and a friend arranged to spend a ringing week-end in Wiltshire, with Devizes as headquarrers. A weal of Jouble Nonvich was to bare been attempted at Melksham on the Saturday afternoon, Octobar 29th, and a peal of Superlative at Devizes (St. John's) on the following afternoon. Most of The party journeyed by car, and the reat by trails. All mel safely at Devizes, where a substantial and much-needed dinner was donolished in a linger-like manner, after which a start was made fnl Melksiam. Here the visitors were met by the douglity Mr. Joseph T. Dyke and two other gentlemen. An amusing interlude was provided before the peal by two cats fighting in a troc. This proved a had omen, as, after 20 mitutes of Double Norwich out these glorious bells, the 2nd rope ungratefully broke. Ciroumstances not permiting of a second start, Mr. Drke kindly offered to get the use of Keeril bells, which he did. At this church, with its peal of six hells (tenor ahout 22 cwt .) and long draught, 720 Canbridge Surprise was successfully $22 \mathrm{cwt}$. and long dradget, brought round by: Robert Swift Kenneth Sneling 2, Bernard F. Wells 3, Nelson Elliott 4, Joseph T. Dyke S, Oliver Sippetts (conductor) 6. It is believed to be the first time thase bells have bect ruag to a Surprise method. After ten, farewell was said to Mr. Dyke, and the parby returued to Devizes for the night. On Sunday morning ath hour's ringing was enjoyed on these fine bells for morning service, the methods rung being Double Sorwich, Kent Treble Bab, Grand-sire and Stedman Triples. Here it was learned tini these bells were sire and Stedman Triples. Here it was learned that these bels were not avalable for the peal, but in: Hillier had procured Bishop Cannings bells instead. The party were unable to admire the scencry owing to the torrential rain, but they could, and did, admire these mag. nificent bells. With the assistance of Messrs. Hillier, Andrews and Wegt, an attempt was again made on Double Norwich, but after an hour and ten minutes' good ringing the betls neatly ran round. (The culprits shall remain anouymous. 1 So, reluctantly, the company reMary's. Then farewells were said, and homuwad they wended their ways, eventually arriving in the small hous of Monday morning. The partr would like to thank the various gentlemen who met them nis car, and, last but not least, the hostess, Mrs. Swift, all of whom it is hoped to meet again at some fubure date to rerrieve the peals

INTERESTING THE PARISHIONERS.

The somewhat novel step taken by the Rector of Burgh clere, Hants, with the object of interesting his parishioners in the church bells and enlightening them upon the art of change ringing is one which mignt, perbaps, with advantage be taken in other places, where there is need for stirring up a little more enthusiasm in this phase of service to the Church. Canon Medlicott, having preached a sermon on bells and change ringing, invited the congregation to stay and listen to the ringing, which was done by ringers from neighbouring chutches. We constantly hear of the difficulties there are in getting young men (or women) to take up ringing, and even in those towers where there are alreacy bands there is constantly the fear that, when the old ones drop out, there will be no one to fill the gaps. The ringers themselves are ready enough to bring along new hands; their difficulty is to find them.

We have often urged that in providing recruits for the belfry the responsibility rests as much upon the church authorities as upon the ringers, and the incumbent, whose consent is necessary for the admission of any new ringer to the belfry, ought to take a hand in inducing members of the congregation to take up ringing more often than he does. His infuence can often prevail where that of the ringers would probably have little weight. But it is seldom that the clergy, unless they are ringers, or are specially interested in their bells, bestir themselves to see that the ringers are kept at full strength; yet they would get exceedingly busy if their choir stalls showed signs of becoming empty.

On the other hand, we believe that the dificulties of recruiting for the belfry would often be lessened if parishioners could have shown to them some of the many interests which are to be found in bells. If they were given some idea of the fascination of scientific bell ringing, of the value of the practice as a physical exercise and mental training, and of the intriguing grip which a theoretical study can give, many more, we believe, would be induced to corne into the belfries. But it can only be done by educating the public, and no one is in a better position to pave the way than the parson. If he is not a ringer himself he can usually be easily prompted, and in any case he can bring possible candidates into touch with the ringers. The action of Canon Medicott in endeavouring to create interest in his own parish by a practical demonstration of change ringing was a means of furthering the cause. There are many towers where companies are not suficiently numerous to ring all the bells for the services, and it might scrve to create some new interest if the incumbents at these churches could be induced to follow the example of the Rector of Burghclere.

A SALISBURY RESTORATION.

A fresh chapier in the history of St. Martin's, Salisbury, began with the reopening of the peal of eight belle, which took place on Saturduy evening, October 194 h , when a special service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. N. Wilson, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Plaxtou (ourate). Among the congregation were the St, Martin's churchwardens, Mr. C. S. Hibberd and Mr. B. Jenking, Fev. F. LI. Edwards, general secrotary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, Rev. C. Phillips, secretary of the Wimborne Branch, Mr. F. W. Romaine, secretary of the Salisbury Branch, and Mr. R. Dove, who represented tho firm of Messus. Gillett and Johnston, to whom the work of relanging the bells on ball bearings and overbauling of frame and fittings had been entrusted. The work lias been carried ont in a mest thorough manner, and the go of the bells is now excellent.
In the course of his address the Rentor made special mention of tho 7 th bell, which is the oldest one of the peal, and bears the inscription, 'Br Mec and Loly to Heare the word of God' and is dated I.W., 1582. The inscription on the Lenor is, "Call a Solemme Assemblie, Gather the Feople. I.W., 1624.'
After the scrvice the bells were set going in various methods, ineluding Grandsice and Stedman Triples, Plain and Kent Treble Bob Major, elc, until ahout $9 \mathrm{p.m}$., whers they were lowered in peal, bringing to a close a very pleasant gathering.
Ringers wero present from Rournemouth, Pranksome, Poole, Ringwood, Wimborne, Corfe Mulen, Shrewton, Dintow, Broadehalke, Hritford, Coombe Bisselt, Beldinglan, Croydon, and the local band,

A WEST COUNTRY APPEAL. To the Editor.
Sir,-Readers of 'The Ringing World,' or, at least, a number of them, are aware that the Church of St. George (Witton), Taunton, can boast of a talented band of ringers, having recently rung seven and len different Surprise Minor methods in peals. The Vitar and Church authorities, recognising this, decided, after being appealed to by the ringers, to increase the ring to eight and rehang the whole in $\mathrm{a}^{2}$ new frame and fittins. A faculty has been obtained, and the order placel with Mesers Mears and Stainbank. The local band to give the job impetus, guaranteed to give one of the new trebles complete with fittings, the cost of which is about £50. Towards this they ave subscribing half, viz., f25, which everyone will agree is a handsome donation. They now make an appeal to ringers generally for finallcial help. Therc are doubtless many ringers who would be willing to assist a band that are doing all liey possibly can to help themselves. Any contributions seat will be duly acknowledged by Mr. S. G. Coles, 3, Holly Terrace, Staplegrove, Taunton, or by yours truly, 5, Floronce Terrace, Bishop's Hull, Taunton. J. HWNT,

DEATH OF AN OLD YORKSHIRE RINGER.

We regret to announce the demise of Mr. Frank C. Willey, a member of the All Saints ${ }^{2}$ Church company, Sheffield, whose death took place suddenly on October 29th, at the age of 72 years. As choristor and ringer he was connected with All Saints' for an uninterrupted period of 50 years, being steeplekeeper and conductor for most of that time. Joining the Yorkshire Association in 1881, he was & vigorous worker in the interesta of change ringing. He had occupied the position of vice-president of the association, which he had also represented on the Central Council. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and had rung 24 peals.
Mr. Willey was a very well-known member of the Druidis Friendly Society, of which he was a lodge secretary for some years. Of breezy, generous disposition, Mr. Willey was always a welcome risitor in any gathering. Unfortunately, "Frank" was a victirn of a paralytic attack three years ago, which rendered bim almost unable to talk or walk. He partially recovered from this, but a further attack resulted in death.
The interment took place on Saturday, November 2nd, at Burngreave Cemetery, being preceded by a service at All Saints Church, at which the Rev. G. H. Staveley (Vicar) officiated. 'Jesu, Lover' of my soul,' and 'Abide with me, two favourite bymos, were feelingly sung by a large gathering of friends and churchworkers. The following representative ringers were present, in addition to many others: Rev. C. C. Marshall (president, Yorks Association), Mr. P. J. Johnson (hon. secretary, Yorks Association), Mr. G. Lewis (vicepresident, Southerv District), Mr. F. Clarke (hon. secretary, Southern District), Mr. R. Harrison (president, Sheffeld and District Society), Mr. R. Harrison, jun. (hon, secretary, Sheffield and Diskrict Society, Mr. J. Lewis Cockey (Midland Counties Asseciation), Mr. C. D. Potter (Barnsley and District Society), Mr. A. Gledstone (Doncaster and Distriet Society), Mr. J. A. Dixon and Mr. W. Burgar (St. Marie's), Mr. J. Thorpe and Mr. S. F. Palmer (Cathedral), Mr. S. Briggs (Rotherham), Mr. J. R. Brearley (Bolsterstone). A course of Grandsire Triples was rang at the graveside, and also touches of Grandsire and Treble Bob on the tower bells, deeply mulfled, as a tribute of respect.
Mr. Willey leaves a son and two daughters to mourn their loss, his wife having predeceased him about five years ago.
The bells of St. Marie's R.C. Chureh, Sheftield, were rang for evenitg service on Sunday, November 3rd, with the ciappers half-mufled as a token of sympathy and respect to the late Mr. Frank Willey, who was a past officer in the Sheffeld District Society of Change Ringers.

A JOINT AFFAIR.

A HAPPY GATHERTNG AT EALING.
On Saturday last the Southerr District of the London County Association were at Ealing, the guesta of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, South and West District, there being the bells of St. Mary's Parish Chureh, fond, in the evening, those of Christ Church, at the disposal of the company. Ringing commenced soon after three, and various methods were rung prerious to a service conducted by the Vicar (Rev. C. J. Sharp), during which he gave a lesson-address on the Beatitudes-most appropriato and Delpful, The singing was well rendered, Mr. H. J. Dasson presiding at the organ. Tea, under the direction of Mr. aed Mrs. Hunnisett, was served in St, Mary's Chureh Fouse, presided over by the Vicar, where a party of about 40 sat down to a substantial repast, After tea, Mr. J. A. Trollope, hon, treasurer, Middlesex South and West District, welcomed the London County men and ladies to Ealing, saying that this was a unique occasion, and one which they, as officers of the Middlesex Association, were very pleased to be able to take part in, as promoting good fellowslip aroong the different societies. Skimming back a hundred pears or so, he recalled the fact that the London County, then the St. James' Society, was mainly the outcome of a quarrel between Annable and Holt, and be sketched the progress of that society till the present. He loped and was sure these gatherings did no end of good
Mr. Mance, District Master, L.G.A., responded, thanking the Middlesex men for the splendid welcome extended to them, and hoped that meetings of this nature would continue. The hon. secretary, Mr. J. Herbert, L.C.A. ${ }^{\text {also spoke in support, as well as Mr. A. D. }}$ Barker, Oxford Diocesan Guild.
A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar was proposed by Mr. W. J. Hollier, lon secretary, Mixdleses, for the use of the bells, for the service, and for presiding at the tea, also to the organist for his services, to which the Vicar responded in a few words, laving, he said, grasped long since what bencets could accrue from such mixed gatherings.

He was then forced by an engagement to leave, doing so amidst applause. A course of Grandsire Cingoes was rung on handhells by F. Goodfellow (Middlesex), J. A. Twilope (Middlesex), G. H. Cross (Loudon), J. Herbert (London), E. S. Turner (Middlesex), and W. Wilson (Middlesex). A vote of thanks was returned to Mr, and Mrs, J. Hunnisett and their helpers for the excellent irrangements made for tea, which was provided in Mr. and Mrs. 'Jim's' own inimitable way. The two towers were then yisited, and ringing was carried on until nine o'clock. During the daj the standard melhods, Double Norwich, Cambridge and London Surprise and Rounds, were rumg.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We are informed that the bells at St. Mary's Church, Birkenhead, ave to be dedicated by the Bishop of Chester at $5.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to-morrow. The reopening was previously annourced to take place on Sunday.
A gudgeon of the tenor bell at Inthlingborough is at present broken, and ringing is therefore suspended for a time.
We bear of peals coming to grief in many different ways, but it is not often a young Rook gets into the belfry and upsets a peal, as was the case a slort time ago at a pretty little willage in the Mid lands. Perhaps, writes our correspondont, Mr. G., of England, will explain, as he nearly wrung its neck. The gentleman wanted to play tennis near the tower.
Tho ringer of the 6th in the peal at Winchester was Abert W Coles.
Ringers throughout the country will join us in extending greeting to Cation G. F. Coleridge, who celohrates his birthday on Sunday.
One of the carliest peals of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus was rump by the Society of Cumberland Youths at St, Saviour's, Southwark. on November $10 t h, 1766$.
On November $13 t h, 1797$, a penl of 5,003 Stedman Caters was ruag at Christ Church, Spitalfelds. This charch formerly liad a ring oi twelve bells, which were destroyed in a fire, but there are now onff eight in the tower.
November 13th is also the anaiversary of a peal of $10,080 \mathrm{Nem}$ Treble Bob Major (Kent) rung at Huddersfield in the year 1820 . It is recorded on a board in the belfyy and in addition to the usual particulars it preserves the figures of the peal. Four of the ringers in this peal took part eleven years later in the 15,168 Kent Trehle Boh Major at Ellnm. Ten men, however, shared in this peal. A that time it was the greatest length composed in the method.
Nimety years ago next Wedncsday, William Rock Small was borm at Wednesbury. This famous old Black Country ringer lived to tho advanced age of 85 years.
The first 'Clarles peal was rung at Bristol an November 13th 1895. The method was Grandaite Triples.

TO KEEP SOBR!ETY.'

Here is another variation of "Belfyy Rules' in the old days. They are to be seen painted on a board on the soull side of the tower of Fowey Chnrch, Cornwall:-

Hark, how the chirping treble sings most clear,
An Covering Fom comes rowling in the rear.
We ring the quick to church, the dead to grave,
Good is our mse, such usage let us have.
Now up on end at stigy, come let us see
What laws are best to keep sobriety.
To Swear or curse ar in a Choleric maad
To strike or guarrel, thangh be draw no blood,
To wear a hat or spur, to o're turn a bell,
Or by unskifful handling mares $n$ Peal,
Such shall pay sixpence for each single crime,
'Twill make him catutious 'gainst another time.
What forfeitures are due as here it is exprest,
Here is a box to take the same wherebr "bave Transgrest,"
And we the whole saciety of Ringers do agree
To use the sane inn love and unity.

DEATH OF MR. EDGAR PEMBERTON

EEMEBER OF A FAMOUS IPSWIOE COAPANY

Death has removed another veteran ringer, whose name was famous in the Erercise at the end of last century. Mi. Edgar Pembertron, one of the last survivars of the celebrated Ipswich band, passed away at his residence, 41, Bramford Laye, Ipswich, on Thurgday, October $31 s t$, at the age of 78 years. He had long been an invahid-a wictim of arbinitis-but his interest in linging remained to the end, although he had not been able to get mp into the belfry for some years.
Mr. Penberton was one of a band whe made ringing history at Ipswich, where he became a member of the baud at St. Mary-leTower Chureh, when it was reorganiged in 1876. He rang his first peal (Grendsire Triples) at St. Johu's, Waterloo Road, London, on May 22nd, 1978, the band being George Newson, Thomas Sadler, David Stookwood, William Coppage, Edwin Gibbs, Willian Baron, Edgar Pemberton and George Isley. On March 1st, 1881, My. Pemberton ranr the eleweath to a peal of Kent Treble Bob Marimus, the tirst peal on the twelve bells at St. Mary-le-Tower Church. It was rung at the third attempt. This peal was the begiuning of a series of achievements extending over many years, and in all lie rallg in 270 peals, inchuding the first peals of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques in Sulfolk; ithe first peals of Double Norwich Major, Royal and Maximus, and the first of Cambridge Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus in the county. The Cambridge Masimus was the first peal in the method ever rucg, and in this, as in all the Sutprise peals in whicll he took part, Mir. Pemberton rang the treble. In 1880 he rang in peals of 7,296 and 10,272 Kent Treble Bob Major at Debentram, and he also reng in an 8,896 in the same method at Rochester Row, Westminster. He took part in a 10,176 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Ufford in 1895, but he was not in the 16,608 at Debenhan in 1892 , al
The late Mr. Edgar Pemberton. thongl he was in wo previous attempts for it at that tower, and in two pheners at Leiston. In each of the latter they rang over 10,000 changes and broke down. When, eventually, the peal was rung, Mr. Persberton, whose tuade was that of a carpenter, was working at Bnry St. Edmunds, and was unable to take part. In long lengtlis of Double Norwich, Mr. Pemberton pang $6,608,8,064$ and 10,080. Thus he had a great share in the ringing which the Suffolk men of those days-men like Daniel Prentice, William Ireland, Tumes Hotis, and William Catrhpole, and the enthusiasts who comprised their hand-made memorable.
Mr. Pemberton's peals were as follow: Kent Treble Bob Maximus 38, Oxford Trehle Bob Maximus 3, Gambudge Surprise Maximus 2, Douthle Norwich Court Bob Maximus 3, Bob Maximus 1, Stedman Cinques 25, Grandsite Cinques 3, Keat Treble Rob Royal 11, Oxferd Treble Fob Royal 3, Cambricge Surprise Royal 1, Double Norwicly Courb Boh Royal 6, Bob Royal 1, Stedman Catelz 18, Gravdsire Caters 7, Kent Treble Bob Major 23, Oxford Treble Bob Major 17,解 Majar 2, Dolthle Norwich Court Bob Major 38, Superlative Sur' prise Major 9, Cambridge Surprise Major 9, Loudon Surprise Major Stedman Triples 26, Grandsire Triples 17, Plain Bob Triples $I_{1}$ Minor 2.
The funcral took place at St. Mary-le-Tower Church on Monday, and much sympathy lass been expressed with the widow, son and laugheer in their berearement.
Mr. Thbert Brundle is now the sole surwivor of St. Mary-le-Tower Saciety fa reconstructed in I876, and is atili on the active list.

BELLS THAT SAMUEL PEPYS HEARD.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION VISIT ST. OLAVE'S

a very enjoyable meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday last, at the famous Church of St. Olave, Hart Street, City, where, some 250 years ago, Samuel Pepys was galled to service by some of the bells that are now part of a pretty octare. The back IVe were cast at Whithapel in 1662 ; tlee present thild at the same foundry in 1694. It was therefore foting that Messis. Meare and Slainbank should have the work of retaning this old peal of six and adding two trebles, which that firm did right well only a fow months ago. The back six form the carliest of London's rimging peals, with the exception of the five bells at St. Bartholomew the Great, Smithfield. The latter peal are not at present in a ringable condition, so that the bonour of possessing the oldest ringing peal remains with St. Olave's
Last Saturday's meeting was attended by some 50 ringers, who made good use of the bells. Rounds for the begingers present, Grandsire and Stedman for the more ackanced, end London and Bristol for the budding experts, was the order of the day, and thus all were served. It was a great pleasure to see Mr. Joseph Wagborn present, and taking park in the ringing at the adwanced age of 86.
The aderess at the gervice was given by the Rector (Rev. 7. Wellard, D.D.), wha reminded zingers of the service they did for the chutch. The bells in this church had done great service in the past, he said, and had been rung for the caronation of muny Finglish Kings and Queens. Fe made reference to the fact that Samucl Penys, who lived close by the chanch, and who was buried there in 1703, had listened to these bells, wud had probably received inspiration from them.
Of the business done at the meeting, mention might be made that it was arranged to, hold the next meeting at St. Bathew's, Upper Claption, on December 7th.
sum of 现 3 s. was roted to the fund opened on behalf of Mr . Beadle, one of the founders of the association, and sometime Master and vice-president of the South and West District. It was pointed out that this was an urgent matter, and as such miglat be deale with at this meeting, rather than awaiting the district gonual meeting in January or Febiruary next. The members present mamimously agreed that the sum be paid-over to the treasurer of tho fand, and that the matter should come up for confirmation at the annual meeting.

A vote of thanks was accordert to the Rector for his excellent adduess, and for the use of the bells; to the organist who had very kindly assisted at the service; aud to My. H. I'. Wilson, the dowey keeper, for his unfailing lelp iu making the meeting a pleasant one

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

MID-WEEK MEETING OF CENTTAL DISTRICT
A meeting of the Ceutral Divisiot took place at Henfiela on Wednesday, Octoher 23 vd , and the experiment of holding the gathering on a Wednestay instad of Saturday was completely justified by the result, as shown by the large and representative atteadance. This much the hon. scerelary is vory ploased to learin, but feels cornpelled to complain of the lack of consideration shown by some mentbers to those who are extending hospitality, to say mothing of the time and trouble taken in organising the meeting. The total number oxpected at this meeting, according to returus, totalted onls abotit a dozen.
The tower was open at 2.30 for biluging, which continued till 4.30 . when those present, over ffity in number, adjourned to an excellent tea provided by the kindness of Canon R. J. Lea (the Vicar of Fenficld and Mrs. Lea. This was followed by the business meeting, presided over by Canon Lea, supported by the Master (M.: J. T. Pickman). Mr. Ketth Hart acled for the secretary, who was unable to be presicnt.

The busincss was of the usial routice mature, and the following werg elected members: Wiliam Morep, Eric BLorey, Frank King. Farold Trower, Ronald Childs, of the Hentild Branch. The election of Messis. Alfred Ballard, Stouey Stanton, Redvers F. ElHingtan, Anstey, Leicester, Rouald H. Dove, Thornton Heath, and F. Wilforil, Northampton, as non-resident members, was confirmed.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks to Canon and Mrs. Lee, proposed by Mr. Rickman, was entlusiastically carried.
The service which followed was conducted by Canon Lea, who, in the courso of a striking address, drew altentian to the influence cxerted by the age-long atmosplicre of worship that pervaded the ancient parish churches of England, such as the one in which they were then worshippint, with its six centuries of existence.

After service, ringing was continued, wethods from Grandsire to Cambridge Surprise being rung.
The following towers were representer: Rolney, Bosham, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas', The Good Slaephend) Chichester, Crawley, Feene, Helfield, Lewes (Southower', Lindfield, Lower Beeding Senforix, Shorcham, Stoyning and Faralham.
The locel company are fortunate in possessing a group of keen, younc probationers, and they lizve a capital peal of eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

MAISEYHAMPTON BELLS RESTORED.

RINGERS' MEETPNG AT THE REOPENING

A very successful meetivg of the Civencester Branch of the Glouceslet Hirl Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Maiseyhampton on Stulurday, Ocloher 26 th, on the occusion of the dedication of the new fifth lefl and the rededication of the other five bells. The peal was ariginally cusk in 1708 by Abraham Rudhall, but the tenor was reatast in 1825 by Johet Rudlatl.
The Clurch of St. Mary was well filled for the service, which commenced with the hymu, We love the place, O God." The lessons were read by the Rev. Canon Jones, Vicar of Fairford, a member of the ressociation.

The bells wore dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Gloucester, and were then ang for a few minutes hy the local ringers. The samon was prenched by the Bishop, who gave a very interesting address dealing with belle and their uses. During the singing of the last layma collection was taken in aid of the bell fund.
The bells werg then open for ringing, and between 30 and 40 fingers were prestht from Oirencester, Wifcomb, Sydenlam, Swinalon, Siraton St. Murgaret, Telbury, Lechlade, South Cermey, Presihury, l3urford, Fairford, Elkstote, Coln St. Aldwyss and Croydon. Two vely woleone visitors were Mr. Wilfred Andrews, of Winchester Cathedral, und Mr. Firnk W. Porrens, of Coventry.

The bramels sceretary (Mr. F. J. Lewis) did his best to see that everyono had a pull. Fer was served in the Village Hall, null was presinded over by the Rev. A. W. Coode, the branch clairman, tut as he had la leave early, Mr. F. Edwards took the chair for the business part of the meeting, at which Girencester was chosen for the nnmal meoting in Jamuary.

MAISEYHAMPTON CHURCH.

Hr. Ellwards proposer a vote of thanks to the Rector (Rev. H. Peach) for granting permission to hold the meeting, and to the local ringers and their wives who provided the tex. He also congrutulated Messrg. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, on the excellent, work they had done. Mr. F. E. Collins, who had Juag the bells, replied on hehalf of the firm.

A shorl time was then spent with the handbells, and the tower was agnin visited and the bells kept going till about 8.30 . The methods rung during the aftemoon and evening were Grandsire, Stedman and Boh Doubles, Plain Bob, Dauble Court, Oxford and Keat Treble Bob sud Cambridge Surprise Minor.
"Ehe fiftly bell has been recast and the whole peal of six rehung with ouw fittings and ball beariggs. The firm and the bell hanger are to he congratulated on the splendid work they have done. The new bell fits in perfectly with the other five, and all the ringers were ananimous in saying thant the 'go' of the bells was perfect, one ringer remarking that this would be the place to go for a record peal of Minor.
The following are the inscriptions on the bells:-
Treble.-God preserve the Clunch. A. R., 1708.
2.-God save the Queen and Church. A. R., 1708.
3.-Abrit Rudhall cast us all, 1708.
4.-Prosperity to all our benefactors. A. R., 1708.
5.-Peace and grod neighbourlawi. A. R., 1708. Recast in 1929.

A NEW RING OF EIGHT FOR SHROPSHIRE.

CLAVERLEY BELLS ATGMENTED AND REHUNG

An important event in the history of Claverley, Shropshire, was enacted when the Lord Bishop of Hereford (Dr. M. Lintou Swith) dedicated the restored and augmented ring of eight bells. A very large congregation, perhaps a record for the parish in point of aumbers, atteuded and reverently participated in the heautiful service of cledication, which was contwoter by the Vicar (Rev. R. P. Guy)

The Bishop, in his address, spoke of the influence of bells, and. the important part they had always played in English willage lite. From the earliest time, he said, the hell had been used as a moans of gathering Christian people together for worship; indeed, so much was it a Christian institution that Mahomet forbade the ringing of hells in Moslem cities. In certain religions, when the worshipper entered the temple, he rang a bels to call the attention of his god to the prayer lie wished to offer. But it was not God that needed reminding; rether was it man that needed to be reminded of the presence of God and the duty of public warship.

During the dedication, rounds were rung by the local compary assisted by Messers. S. R. Roper and W. Dyer, Groydon.

At the conclusion of the service an expert band from Wolverhamptou, with Mr. Cooper as conductor, attempted a paal of Grandsire Triples, whict unfortunately came to grief in the second part
There was also present a representalive gathering of about seventy ringers from Birmiugham, Market Drayton, Coventry, Womhome, Sedgley and Coseley. All were delighted with the fine tome and easy go of the bells.
It was only in July lagt that it was decided to restore the six bells and put them in ringing condition, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's tender being accepted. The bells were dismantled and sent to Croydon, during the second week in August, and were brek in the chureln tower again and ready for use in the fourth week of September-a very creditable record of expeditious work. The contract incheded recasting Nos. 4 and 5 of the previous peal of sis, adding two trebles and hanging the whole in an entirely new frame with the most up-to-dnte fittings. As the contractors are clockmakers as well as bell founders, they were also entrusted with the restoration of the clock, the striking part of which hind been out of use for years.

Claverley now possesses a peal of eight (tenor $15 \mathrm{cwt} 1 qr .7 lh.$. ) of which they may justly be proud. Special attention has been prid to the distribution of the sound of the bells by blocking up the louves to various jeights, so that close to the church the volurac of saund is brought to pleasant proportions, and $n 0$ one bell tan ba heard above the others. The like effect has been accomplished inside the tower.
During the evening the visiting ringers, with the local bati, werp entertained at the Crown Hotel, Mr. I. Marsh (captain of Claverley ringers) presiding. In addition to the ringers there were present the Vicar', Mr. R. L. Meredith amd Mr. J. Thompson (churcheardens), arid Mr. G. Green.

Speeches were made congratulating Messers. Gillett and Jobnstor on the excellence of the work and upon the expeditious way it thad been carried out.

Mr. S. R. Roper suitably tesponded on behalf of the firm.
It is hoped, in the near future, to lave a ringing festival.
The situation of Glaverley is rather unique. It is in Shropshire, but on the border of Staffordshire sud in the diocese of Hereford, so that it would seem an ideal place to hold a combined meeting of the associations of ringers for those counties. In miy case visiting ringers can be assured of a warm welcome and wonder\}ul hospitality at all times.

SUFFOLK GUILD VISITS THE STONHAMS

A meeting of the Debenham Branch of the Suffolk Guild was heir at the Stonlanms on Oclober 26th. After ringing in various methods on the bells of Earl Stonham and Little Stonham, the company which included Canon Wonnacatt (Stonlam Aspal), Rev. T. D. B Parry (Little Stonham), Rer. A. A. L. Gedge (Eard Stonhans), and members from Cretingham, Debenham, Framsden, Great Bentley Eelminglam, Ipswich, Stowupland, Stoke Ash, and Wetheringset sat down to tea at the Maltsters Arms.

Mr. E. F. Poppy expressed regret at the absence of the district secretary, Mr. W. C. Rumsey, of Debanlam, through the illusss his wife. He thanked the incumbents for the use of their bells.
Rev. E. D. P. Parry, in welcoming the ringers to his parish, ex pressed his regret that none of his band were present, and spoke at some length on the pleasute it would give him if the Suffolk Griad cotid induce his band to become active members of the (futild and more proficient in their alt. He felt himself too old to take any part in ringing, but he would do anything to get his band to taile and become more profeiont.

Canon Wonnacott and Rev. A. A. L. Gedge both spoke in ils. same strain, remarking that ringing, for some cause or other, always semed to alternate between waves of enthusiasm ant the reverse.

Some good ringing in varions methods, on the fine ten at $tmman Aspal, concluded a very pleasant meeting, although moris lom talent wonld have been welcome.

ON THE PILGRIM'S WAY.

GUJJDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD MEET AT SEALE
A successitul six-bell meeting was held by the Farnlam District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Seale on Saturday. Over thirty members were present, and their wisin was mode all the more enjoyable by the weloome which was given by the Rector (the Rev. S. Arrowsmith) and the ocal ringers. Beck, and remains, even to-day, totally unspoiled. An almost coninnous stream of modern eraffic roars along the top of the lill, but Seale is notouched by it. It stands on the ancient Pilgrim's Way and the foundation of its church is lost in the mists of antiquity The present building lias a square tower over the cloir, and ariginally the ringing clamber was approached by a staircase behind the choin stalls. The entrance to these steps was never intended for stout ringers, for the door is of the minimum width-oven a thin man woulc have to go through edgeways. It was, however, hardly ior that reason that a new entrance was cut into the outer wall of the tower, giving access to the stairway from outside. Before this was done, the ringers coming down from the tower at service time hat to distarb the organist from lis seat, so that some other means of getting into and out of the belfry was abviously called for. At the top of the stonc stainway, wooter steps up the side of the hancel roof take one to the little ringing chamber, and even here hig men were not catered for, while a low ared, is a trap for the unwary, as the Master of the Guild found to his cost on Saturday, when a rather badly damaged cranium caused bis early retirement from the scene. Tho hells themselves are quite a good little ring, with a tenor of about 7 cwt., and hung on ball bearings. The fifth was originally cast by Robert Eldridge, of Wokingham, in 1608, but at the time of the Imventory taken in the reign of Edward VI. there were three bolls in the tower and one 'sauce' bell. Even in 1588 hey had a stoeplekceper, fol in that year the churchwariens paid Tolin Jure 12 pence for ' kepinge the belles.' Meny other interesting items appers in these old accounts, such as, for instmence, the ollowing:-
1591, for ringing when lev Majesty (Queen Elizabeth) came to Farnham, $12 d$.; and expenses upon coronation day in drinke to the rimgers 80.
1593, to Carpenter for mendime the beils three daies worke, 35 . $6 d$. iron worke aud nails $\overline{7} 4 \mathrm{~d}$. ; for charges at the mendinge of the luells in bread and drinke, 10 d .
1594 for a cleet that mended the Stecke of the little bell 2ra, for nobding of the goodgin of ye lyttle bell 2d.; for Whitt Lether at Farmam Fayre to mend the bels bandreks, $7 d$.

1597, for scap to dress the bells 1d
160t, for ringeng for the king (James I.) & grese for the bell oppes 5d
1506 pd to the Bell founder for new castinge of the bells and all harges helonginge therennto as Smyths work \& carpinters \& such e $\overline{7}$ if is ixd
1607 Laicle out at Okengam when wee earied the bells, lxs vjd.; or carryng d recarryng the bells, xs.; pa to the bellfoumder for wetall $\mathrm{y}^{t}$ he put into the bell, xiij li at vi a pound, vjs. vjd.
Tlle Guild's form of service was used on Saturdey, and was conucted by the Rector, who also acted as arganist, and gave an adress, in the courge of which he dwelt upon the important part hich bells played in the life of the nation, the parish and the inividual, and the importance of the art which the ringer exercised.
The Rector afterwards presided over the tea and business meting n tho Village Hall, and extended a welcome to the Guild. He was hanked by Admiral Walker (Guild treasurer), who also expressed he visitor" appreciation of what had been done for them by the neal band and by the caterer.
Two new nombers of the Seale band were elected, and nominations district offeers for next year were reccived. So efficiently have he present officers disclarged their duties that their names were the mly ones submitted, and at the annual listriet mecting at Farnhan January they will he duly elected.
During the afternoon and evening there was ample ringing for all, and it ranged from rounds to the higher flighta of Spliced Treble Fob and Cambridge Surprise Minor. Pilgrims found their way to Geale from Aldershot, Ash, Biackwater, Farnhan, Guildford (Caticedral), Hashemere, Hawley, OLtershew; West Clandon and Woking, but few of them cante afoot as did the men of old.

LEOMINSTER RINGER'S DEATH.

4. the Church of S5. Peter and Paul, Leominster, Herefordshire, iu Thursday, October 31st, a quarter-peal of Graudsire Donbles (1,260 banges) in 49 nims.: H. Sirrell 1, T. C. Gwillian 2, A. Fairbanks 3, Jones 4, F. A. Jaine (conductor) 5, W. Quartley 6. Rung with the anlls half-muffled as a token of respect to the memory of Gus Nicholls, a respected member of the Leomiuster band, who was interred that day. First quarter-peal for ringers of trebie and third. The ringers of 2nd and $5 t_{1}$ are from Fye and Kimbolton respectively. The rest belong to the local bamd.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO ROCFESTER DISTRICT SECRETARE.

The annual meeting of the Rochester District was held at Rochester Gathedral on Soturday, October 26th, members attendiag froms Gravegend, Gillingham, Chatham, Rochester, Frindsbury, Milton-nextGravesend, Lewington, Borden, Rainham, Tunstall, Queenborough, and also from the Ashford District. During the afterzoon every opportunity was taken by the ringers to try their skill on the fine peal of ten bells. Evensong was atteuded by over fifty, the choir and arganist being in attendance. Afterwards, the party, numbering about sixty, were entertained to tea by the association af the Temperance Cafe, the Dean of Rochester being present, supported by the Rector of Chatham, the Rev. Buckingham from Gitlingham, and alsb the general secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitekell.

The business meeting was presided over by the Dean, who thauked tha ringerg for giving him the opporturity to meet them at suck a fine gatiluering.
The secretary then asked the Dean to make a presentakion to the late district secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, and handed a small box to the Dean. The Chninman humorously remarked upon the contents of the box-baying he believed it was rouge-and spoke about the qualities of Mr. Mitchell, who, after ten years as district secretary, liad now heen chosen as a 'county man.' T'he hox, upan being opened, was found to contain a beautiful ringer's gold pendant, inscriben, - Thent County Association of Clango Ringers. Presented by Rochesfer District to F. M. Mitchell, 1929.
Mr. Mitchell, in replying, said he was completely taken by surprise. He thanked tho Dear for bis kiod and encouraging remarks, and also the ringers who bad given him such a deliglatif reminder of ten happy vears' work as their district secretary.

The Rector of Chatham (the Rev. Audrey Standen) was elected an hon. menber, Miss Beer and Miss Jones, of Gravesend, and Mi. J. Wilder, of Queenborougl, as practising members.

The officers of the district for the ensulng year were elected, viz, Mr. S. Shellack, hon. secretary; Mr. W. Haigh and Mr. W. Spice. district representatives. In the selection of the place of next meeting, Swanscombe was duly declared at the head of the poll.

The final item on the agenda being 'any other business,' the Dean emarked that this was where the fun conmenced.
The Secretary drew the attention of the ringers to the previans week's issne of "The Ringing World' containing reference to the Central Council, and a spirited discussion took place.

It was finally agread that the district secretary should bring the matter up at the forthcoming general committee meeting.
A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the Dean for presiding at the meeting, and the ringers then returned to the belfry, touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Treble Bobs being successfully brought round.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIBTRICT AT KINGSWOOD.
A by-meeting was beld at Kingswood on Sitiurday, October 26if, the towers represented being Horley, Chatwood, Merstham, Limpsifeld Clart, Crawley, Buckland, St. John's, Croydon, Newdigate, Reigate. Godstone, Redhill, Burstow and the local band. the mombers were also pleased to have with them Canon Ridout, of Johannesburg. and Mr. C. W. Roberts, of London. There were als visitors from Dorking and beatherhead. A short ind interesting service was held in the church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. Wethered) afficiated.
The tea, which was kindly given by the Church Gouneli, was provided at the Infants' School, 42 members and friends being present. The seccelary would like to point out that, while be is rery pleased to see present so many members who help to make the mectings successful, it would be a great lielp if those intending to come woulri let him know, as on this accasion lie had ordered tea for 30 or 32 . and waluable time was taken up in finding chairs and tables to accommodate the extra gucsts.

A short business meeting followed, the chair being baken by the Master of the association, Mr. D. K. C. Birt. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vienr for the use of the bolls and for his address as the service; to the Glurch Council for their kinduess in providing the ter; to Mrs. Braid for officiating at the organ in the unavoidable absence of My. Hicks; the organist; and to Mr. Boadle, captain of the local band, for his assistance in arranping the meeting.
Great disappointment was felt when the visitors were informed that ringing musk be discontinued at eight o'clock instend of at the usual hour of 9 p.m.

Tho bells at Kingswood, which are, no doubt, the best peal of six in Surrey, were heard to advantage furing the afternoon in methoris. ranging from Grandsite Donbles to London Surprise Minor, also in rounts for the loginners.
The next meeting will be held at Redhill in December.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A LITTLE MUNDEN RINGER. A VLLLAGE IN MOURNING.
It is with great regret that we record the death of William Stanloy (Bob) Latwreuce, which took place under tragic circumstances. The deceased, who was 22 years of age, was the dearly-loved and unly eor of Mr. W. H. Lawrence. While returning lome from work on the evening of October 2lst, riding his motor-cycle, he collided, in the log that prevailed, with a horse that was straying ou the road. He sustaned severe injuries to tho head, and was taken to the Hertford County Hospital, where he passed away on the 2fth without regaiming consciousness.
The tragic occurrence shed a gloom over the whole village, for Bob Lawrence was loved by all. The deceased was a meniber of thee Church Conncil, and not only was he, like his father, a ringer, but he was also a member of tha choir, and in the belfry and the chanenl he was to be found regularly far every Sunday service. He had not rung any peala, but he could ring quite a number of six-bell methuds. He took his part in the life of the village, and was a member of the Cricket Club and the Mon's Club.
The funcral took place on the 31st ult. amid great manifestations of sorrow. Litile Munden was a village in mourning. Tho church was lilled to overflowing, and many were unable to find seats. The hymine sung were, 'They whose course oa earth is o'er' and 'Ten thonsand times ten thousand.' Psamm xxxix. was chanted, and the Nunc Dimittis was also sung. Four of the deceased's yaung friends cartiefl him into church, and fout of the ringers from the church to like prive. Eight of the rursing staff, colleggues of deceased's sister, were presenl, and added impressiveness to the sad service, at the elost of which the bells were rung mufled. The floral trihutes nuribered seventy-four. The sincerest sympathy has been showa to Wr. William Lawrence, the sorrowing father, and deceased's two sisters, irom both inside and autside the parish. The loss is a severe blow to the family, coming, as it lias done, so soon after the death ni the deceased's mother.

KING'S NORTON (BY CALBY), LEICESTERSHIRE.
WHERE PEALS ARE FEF AND FAR BETWEEN.
As repprted elsewhere in this issue, another step in the ringing history of this famous outlying village was accomplished on Satardity last by a peal of Grandsire Triples! This place was made ifmens by Squire Wm, Fortrey, who not only rebuilt the church but gave the bells (origimally ten) in 1760-4. He also gave bells to the nearlyy willage of Galby (six), and others to Hougliton, Kebworth, and S. Margavet's, Leicester. His name appears as a subscriber to Indi's famons broadsliect. Soon after he bells were installed, the Sherwoud Youths came all the way from Nottingham and rang the first pueal, recorded thus:-

- On May 28th, 1776, J. Holt's peal of Grandsire Tripies at Norton-by-Gaulby, the seat of William Fortrey, Esq. in 3 hours 31 minules: James Wilkinson Treble; Richard Peat 2; Robert Metheringham 3: Willinm Bradley 4; Richard Sharrah 5; Francis Braper 6; Williaro D. Crofts 7; John Mason Tenor. Conducted the W. D. Crofts.'
Then, after a lapse forly years, we read in the 'Leicester Riuging. Tuesday last being his Majesty's birthday, the Leicester Scholars met at Norton in this county, by particular degire of the Norton and Gatulby Scholars, to strike off the musieal peal of cight bells of that place. They rang a true and rampleat peal of 5,040 Grandsire Triples, which was brought momat in simasterly 5 tyle in 3 hours 20 minutes by the following nemons, viz: J Jouaihn Haywood Treble; Jolnn Clarke 2; Thomas Clarke 3: Jnmes Gill 4; George Harvis 5; Lawrence Stains 6; Willinm Recves 7; William Wood Tenor. The peal was called ly Williarn Recpes. After it had been rang, tho Leicester, NorLun ind Gaulby Scholars partook of an excellent dinner, and the day whs complated by ringing several courses of Grandsire Caters on tho handhells.'
'lhis peal is commemorated on a slate tablet in the helfry. The halls still liang it their original two-storey frame (the three trebles faboul ten feet above tho others), but of rccent ycars Mr. F. $G$. Rinington, of Manchoster, spant a lot of time and money on them, having had stays and sliders added, ete., thus making it possible ta ring a peal on them. Two abortive attempts were minde by the late Mr. J. W. Waslibrook to ring peals, but later the locals the 150 th anniversary year of the first peal on the bells, the present Slierwodd Youtlis of Nottingham came and scored an excellently struck peal of Steiman Triples on December 4tl, 1926, in 3 hours 5 minales, conducted by Mr. A. Coppock. No other peal has been rumg hete until the one recorded this week, at the suecessful conAn Hign of which, naedless to bay, all the band and the locals were very gratified. One would like to see (and hear) a peal of Major on them. and it would be quite possible if a band not afraid of 'work' would only have the courage?

THE GREAT REUNION

The anniversary celebration of the Ancient Society of College Youths seems, as the years pass by, to make a wider and widec appeal to ringers throughout the country, and last Saturday's proceedings were striking evidence of the ever growing popularity of the event. From the four corners of England men came to London to take part in the assembly, which is, as befits the old society, the largest gathering of its kind in the social programme of the ringing year. It is now in the fullest sense a ringers' festival, for it has, since the war, taken on a new significance. Whereas formerly it was just a dinner party, it has now become a function of real importance, which not only continues the convivial side of the proceedings, but helps to emphasise the connection between bell ringing and the church, through the service whicin is now made a feature of the festival.

It was at the old church on College Hill-destroyed in the Fire of London-that the society had its origin, and, to the church which has succeeded it, the society now returns once a year to hold an official service where, nearly three hundred years ago, it was born in a small but august company. The story of the Ancient Society goes back beyond the beginnings of change ringing as we know it to-day, and throughout the centuries of the history of our art the College Youths have not only played an important part, but have been almost as much to the Exercise as the trunk is to the whole tree. The founders, of course, could have had no notion of the extent to which their society would grow and grip the imagination of ringers as time progressed, any more than they could have anticipated the vast developments which have taken place in the science itself since their day. But there are traditions and an atmosphere about this old society which are distinctive, and the progress of time only serves to deepen respect for it and widen its influence.

It is, however, not alone this respect for and this influence of the society that are responsible for drawing together the representative company that every year comes to London to celebrate the anniversaty, and the assembly is by no means exclusively a gathering of members who come to do honour to their Society. Others outside the ranks delight to join in the festival and are glad by their presence to pay tribute to this old and honoured organisation. Apart from this, however, one great attraction of this event is the certainty of meeting and greeting old friends. The College Youths' dinner is one of the greatest reunions in the Exercise, and if it were suddenly to be dropped it would leave a void which nothing else could fill in exactly the same way.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

BIDDENHAM'S VETERAN RINGERS.
A meeting of the Bedford District was held at St. James' Chureh, Biddenham, on Saturday, when a company of 38 vingers was present, representing Bedford (St. Paul's and St. Peter's), Brombam, BidCenham, Oardington, Clapham, Grent Staughton, Harrold, Kompston, Kaysac, Wobara, Turvey and Stagsden. The bails, a well running peal of six, were set going at ahout 2.30 , and kept in constant use throughout the aftornoon and cyening
Tea was served in the Village Fall, where an excellent repast had been prepsred, and the prosence of the Rev. W. Norman at tea and the busibess meeting was greatly appreciated.
The Vicar, in welcoming the association to his tower, said they were all-pleased to see anongst them Mr. William West, who is coptain of the Biddenham band at the advanced age of 82 . Fe spoke of Mr. West as 'the old man with a young heart.'
It would be interesting to know if there is a ringer with as grest a record as Mt. West, for he has been a member of the Biddenham band for 71 years, heving been made a memher on November 5th, 1858. Mr. Harry King, also a Biddenlam ringer still on the active Jist, is one of the oldest members of the association, having joined at its establishment.
The Vicar said when lie first came to the village be was struct by the barmony and concord of the place, and fin those days he thought he was right in saying Biddenlana had one of the linest bands of ringers in the county, producing latmony on the bellsbells not rung in time produced very obmoxious noises.
At the business meeting, wibl the Ficar in the clair, it was decided, after some disctussion, to lold the annual meating at Sh. Peter's Church, Bedford, on December 7th, if the hells are available.
The advisability of appointing a Ringing Master to suparviso the ringing at meetings was also discussed, and it was resolved to ask Mr. F. Gaytion to carry out this olfice at the next meeting. A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. West for making local arragements, closed the meeting.
The melhods rung on the bells diuring the day ranged from Bob Doubles to Londan Surprise.
An interesting feature in the trwer is a huge framed record of the bolls of the churches of Bedfordshire, giviug the mame of theclurch, the number of bells, the weight of tenor and the founders" names.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

DEVIZES BRANCH EXTENDS WELCOME TO VETERAN.
A very successful monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was beld at. Seend on Saturdey, November 2nd, a good company being present, when ringing commenced. Tha Guild service was conducted by the Yicar (the Rev. W. A. Butler), with Mr. A. T. Weeks as organist Tea followed at the Bell, to which 25 sat down. The following towers were represented: Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Southbroom, Hoit, North Bradley, Rowde, Trowbridge, Melksham, and visitors were present from Bath, Wootton Bassect, Mere and Buckhorn Weston.

Mr. C. D. Heginbatham presided ak the business meeting. After exterding a hearty welcome to all pregent, the Chairman made special reference to the presence of Mr. H. Brownlee-West, a vicepresident of the Guild, and formerly branch secretary. Although Mir. West is well over 86 years of aga, he is in good health and very active; in fact, as soon as he arrived in the viliage on Saturday be called to see an old friend, Mr. Joe Willshire (change ringing ingtructor and verger), who is at present unfortunately on the sick list.

Mr. West thanked the chairman for his kind remarks, and assured them all it was a rely great pleasure to him to see so many old friends again.

Foul life members wero clected, viz., Messrs. R. Swift, K. Snelling and N. Eiliolt, of Crawley, Sussex, B. H. Wells, of Merstham, Surrey, and two vinging members, Messrs. J. S. Weeks, of Southbroom, and E. Wilking, of Holt.

An invitation was received from Holt to hold the December meeting there, if possible.

A move was made to the tower for more ringing till 8 p.m. During the afternoon and evening the following methods were successfulls rung: Oambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Tueble Boh, Plain Bob, and Little Bob Minos, Stedman and Grandsire Dotibles, everyone being delighted with the "go' and the music of the peal.

DEATH OF A RIPLEY, DERBYSHIRE, RINGER.

The Midland Counties Association has lost one of its promising young ringers by the death, under very tragic circumstances, of Mr. Hugh F. Attewell, of Codnor Park, Derbyshire. Mr. Atteweli, who was only 29 years of age, learned to riag on the five bells of the ancient church at Pentrich, and subsequently joined the Ripley company, rapidly becoming proficient in the standard and Surprise Major methods. He had nok been able to take a regular part in the Sunday service ringing at Ripley for about two years, owing to his remoral to Codnor Park to reside near his place of business, but he had decided to retura to Ripley, with a riew to renewing his active associationship, when le was taken ill with double pneumonia, and be passed away in the Derbyshire Royal Infrmary on Thursday, October 31 st. Mr. Attewell leaves a widow, and an infant son only eight weeks old.
, The interment took place at Ripley on Monday, Nopember 4th, the fecensed being borte to his last resting place by fellow-members of the colliories staf of the Buttorley Company, Limited. During the sad ceremony, the belle werc rung half-mufled, end, as a last tribute of respect, on Monday evening, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples ( 1,260 changes) was rung in 52 mine., with the balls halfmuffled by the following: John W. Cupit 1, Herbert Day 2, Kenneth G. Sheldon 3, John J. Turner 4, Frank F. Hill 5, Fred W. Hill 6, Alex. Hutchison (conductor) 7, W. Henry George 8.

The heartfelt sympathy of the Xipley ringers is accorded to the widow, and father and mother of the deceased, is their very asid bereavement.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN "THE RINGING WORLD.'
The Editor of 'The Ringing World.' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a phatograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded int an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Jasper Whitfield Snowdon died on November 16th, 1885, at the age of 41 years. His death, coming just when he bad reached his prime, was one of the greatest blows the Exercise has ever sustained.
'The Antient Guild of St. Stephon's Ringers,' Bristol, was granted ar Royal Charter on November 17th, j 620 .
The first peal of London Surprize Major was rung at St. Avdrew's Church, Norwich, on November 17th, 1835. It was a composition by Shipway and conducted by S. Jhurston, and was one of the most memorable performances in the history of ringing.
It was at another Norwich church, St. Giles', on the same cay in the year 1760, that the first peal of Imperial Treble Bob Maior was ruug, and immediately it was completed John Webster, who had rung the 6th, dropped dead in the belfry.
It was this John Webster who wrote to Dr. Mason, of Trinity College, Cambridge, baying that the Norwich company seemed 'entirely to slight John Holt's broadsheet of peals of Grandsire. He owned it was not a generous way of treating Mr. Holt's perfornance, adding that, 'I believe they are induc'tl to this by that ingenious ringer, Mr. Anable's not encouraging of it, had he approved of it his influence on the College Youths I presume would have been sufficient to have sent it to the press without any further subseriptions.'
This letter threm great light on the attilude of ringers towards Grandsire composition in those days, when men were striving for a peal without singles. Apparently, Annable did not approve of Holt's peals because they contained singles, nad his influence was so great that the Norwich men, on the strength of it, withheld their support.
Onc hundred and twenty years ago on November 20 th , eight mernbers of the Tebbit family rang a peal of 5,208 Oxford Treble Bob rt Sohana, Cambs.
Twenty years ago next Wednestay, Holt's Original was rung silent "at Christ Church, West Bronwich.
The hon. secretary of the Salishury Diocesan Guild will be abroad for the sake of his bealth till the middle of January. Any sorrespondence requiring immediate attention may be addressed to the assistant secretary, Mr. T. Hervey Beams, Bradpole, Bridport.
There are still ringers to be found who are prepared to make gome serious personal effort to fulal engagements. Last Friday, Mr. G. A. Blaxcell 'push-biked' 42 miles, after a day's work, to take part in a peal of Minor at Winfarthing, Norfolk.
A peal was rung at Rickmansworth, Jerts, in honour of the V.C.'s. The Lenor at Rickmansworth is 20 cwt .20 Jb . in D. Is this, asks a correspondent, the lightest I) hell in the country? And have there been any faster peais rung on this weight, wilhout a trip throughaut? The time of the peal was $2^{\prime}$ hrs. 55 mins.
The bells at St. Mary's, Birkenhead, which were reopened on Saturday, have suffered long periods of silence, but it is not twelve years, as was at first said, since they were rung. There has been occasional ringing on them since, the Inst time they were rung being at the induction of the Rev. R. E. T. Bell.
Mr. R. Matthews writes that the first peal by a local band at Wollaston, Stourbvidge, was rung on October 10th, 1910.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION
GREAT GATHERING OF RINGERS IN LONDON.
SERMON BY OXFORD GUILD MASTER.

Coinciding with Lord Mayors Dry, the celebration of the $282 n d$ amniversaty of the foundation of the Ancient Society of College Touths took place on Saturday, and was once again noteworthy for the large number of ringers it drew together from all parts of the the large mumacr of ringers it drew togethed from ald parts of tha Church, London Bridge, were open in the early part of the afternoon, and aftorwards those of St. Olave's, Har't Strect, aud St. Andrew's, Holborn, and all of them were well utilised cluring the time available. Following the custom revived since the war, an service wat held at St. Michael's Churcl, College Fill, where the men who founded the society nearly three hundred years ago were wort to practise, and from which the society got its name. The congregation of men filled the seating accommodation to capacity, and the bright service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. Canon Bullock Wehster'), the hearty singing of the hymns being a faalure. The semmon was preached by the Rev. C. W. D. Jenky, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guildi.

A UNIQUE GATHERING.
The preacher chose for his Lext Proverbs wvi. 31, "The hoary head is an crown of glory if it be found in the way of righteousuess.

ST. MICHAEL'S, PATERNOSTER ROYAL, on College Hill, the Mother Church of the College Youths.

There is, he said, na ringers' gatheriuk quite like this All ringers peculiar features. In one case it may be a diocespn guild ot a cointy association antural mecting; in anather case it may be a gathering together os the amiversary of the death of same great ringer who, in his generation, justly hek sway among his fellowmen, and after his deatb his memory is held in honour and On another occeasiou it may be that the gathering togethel is to welcome the restoration of some well-loved ring of bells; but, to my mind, there is a unique feature about this gathering, which has been going on now for nearly 300 years, and which is called, and, 1 suppose, always will the called, pose, aways Youthe diuner. In trying to think out in my own mind what cxactly it is that is the unique feature ghont this gathering, I rather blundered apon some sort of explanation which I will try to give you as shapily as possible. Those of us who are ringers and who love onr bellringing have a pride in itthe proper sort of pride, not the sort of pride which says,
'I pan ring so many methodis, I can ring so many' metwous, and I am quite satisfed with myself; hut the pride wheh says, 'Almighty Gad has given me a great gife and it but I am not a bit satislied ret that: I have used it to the full or used it properly."

From time to time, contimed the preacher, they felt That they wanted some sort of responsc to that feeling, some sort of acknowledgrnent of that pride. Some of them in their work in connectiou with bellringiag ware sometimes led to ask themselves whether they were not pursuing an idenl which was, after all, only an ideal, anil would never be accomplished, in trying to make people see whai, they meant and what they wanted to do. It was just at this time of year when they were taught to reach out far and wide, riglat beyond the seas, and think of their brothers and sisters, wha perhaps once rang with then and were now far away, and to think of them ras they would the remembering the Christmas bells; to think of Hhose in distiant lands who wotad miss the sound of the bells and we Green fields; and to think, also, of those who wont forth, leaving all behiud lhem, and passed out of the sight of men, having mande the great sacrifice. Thiey as ringers came there at that lime of your with some sort of response to that pride which they felt. They lmad rather felt it that day, as some of them had watched that very line payeant associated with the City of London, had leard the hells ringing, and remembered that God had given them a very grat conntry and empire. And they had come there that day, also, as bellingers, into the heart of that empive, among the glorious rhturches and the glorious rings of bells, and to that church which sawr the beginning of change ringing 292 years mo, to that clurch which covered the remains of him who went out wrudering and was called back, and bad bis destiny in this world guided and lixed for him by the sourd of the bells of Bow. They came then'e, to fle rity where change ringing had existed sines the telen of King Charles I., and where it remained rigorons enougly to call logether that day a gathering from the length atid breadtl of the land, mombers of cither groat ringing associations, many of ahera also members of tho Ancient Society of College Yaulhs. At a gathering like that they Ald, perliaps, begin to feel this response which they desired, and did begin to fecl that they might le thaukiul to Gind that they were chutch bellringers. They thanked Him for His guiding liand in the past oner the art whicl they loved, that He had accepted this change ringing for His Church, and had nade it His fandmaiden in the service of His Churcts that He liad awepted diem as His servants service of His Church; that He liad aweeted ihem as His servants and harl endowed then, some inore, some less, with the fifts requisite for this mmistry. They thanked liod that at this point in the listory of change ringing it was, speaking gencrally, found in the way of rightcousress.

NOT A "HING OF Y゙ESTERHAY.
It. was not a thing of yestevelay, this change ringing of theirs: it was $\pi$ hing of long standing. It had vame thongh difteult itmes, but Gock had made it what it was lo-dny, when the bells of their churchus wero runge to express God's message to His people. Theme were, of comse, exceptions. There were thase, andoumterly, who had taken up helloinging as a pastime, as they might have (afeer up athy other game, and wha did not persine if in any olifir spirit than that. Fut incy weve the exeeptions, and change ringing to-dny wacrown of glary when it was to be found in the way of rigliteaustncss. He belicved that everyone who was really a ringer af heart, and lati a pride in his ringing, and was prout of being at ringer, would be all the better when he went home for having effenderi that gathering. He would go liome inspised by Jkis visit to Jondon, by due service in which he was taking math, thy the mediug with old friends and by the whole selting of this city in which they were met, and not least, promps, by whal they lad seen in the great show wheln hatd passed that day through ils streets. It might be, in that show in a fow years time, hey migh "have a serbes of cars requernting hell fomeding from the beginning for Lometon land not been hedindInand among those who had founded the hell-fonading industir?
In conclusion, the preacher sain there were wo most inportant, fhings that he warted to speak on quite showily. The first was that they musi maintain a standard of gonsi ringing: that Hey should strike every blow, that trey slaquid set their frees ngainst Those who might lave rung maby peals, but latilyet to leatn to ring a bell, who seomed to think that the backetrok was merely an awkward methen of bringing the bell back into the handstroke position. Thay must seek to ring truly erter'y hlows. "That was one thaing which would ensure the crown of glary. The sceond lhing was they must be, most truly, men of God, antil in this he wanted to reminel ringers might he very regular and faithind in ringing the bells for Sunday services, there was nol nearly enough of them who looked upou one particular church ms his apiritual home who could say, "Illis church," wherever it migltt be, "is my church; it is here that I go and place tupon the altar, as it werc, the niliowitg of iny life and service, bere that I seek for imspirstion.' 'There were somse who, he know, hat to perform ringing in many ulferent clatruss on in chtirches he rang at and make it his spiritual hone, to enter into the whole lifa of that church and to make lis contribution ar mervice to it as a churchworker. In those ways, as they grew nearer the bonry age, they would add the lustre of a crown of glory to change ringing, and they themselves would bo fllad with the juy which, God grant, they inight Hways have as lapy came ncarer in the crossing, because they would be found in the way of righteousness.
'The volumtary' after the service consisted of a conves of Stedman Triples tung on handbells by Messers. Winney, Waltser, Smallwood and Young.

THE DINNER.
Almost a record company gathered at the Bridge House Hotel for Lfir: annual dinner, the party numbering ovor 250 . The chair was laken by the Master (Mr. J. Bullock), and the vice-chair by Mr. J. S. Hawkins. Among these mresent wero Rev. Canon Coleridge C. Herltord (St. Andrew's, Holborn), Rev. Canon Haldane (Southwath Cathedral), Mr. R. Waldea (chatelwarden of Southwark), Rev. HI. if. Fynes Clinton (St. Magmus'), Rev. Ganon Buliock Webster, Rex. J. Lh. Edwards (lion. Secrevary of tle Salisbury Diocesan iluilii), Rev. W. Ponninglon Bickford (St. Olement Danes), Messrs. A. A. Hughes (treasurer, W. T. Gockerjll (hon. secretary), C. J. Choon and I. J. Sampsan (stewards), C. F. Winney and W. Prime (thusteres of the society), E. A. Young (lon. secretary of the Central Cumacil), W. Fenton, J.P., Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master, (iuililfurd Diocesan Guild), Messrs. A. J. Wrifht (Bon. treasurer) nud IR. T. Hibbert (secretary, Oxford Diocesan Guild), C. H. Kippen (hon. ymeretary of tho Surrey Association), J. D. Mathews (Mastor of the Royal Cumberland Youthsh, E. H. Lewis, Mrs. Wilkins and Mis. Kann (Brisfol), Messis. J. E. (traves (Birmingham), E. Bishop (Swindor), H. Marcam and FI. Walker (Lincoln). There were repregendatives from many towers in and aroumd London, limgers coning in protics from the Greenwieh and Gravesend District, Rearing and Cavergham, Barking, Faling, Holhorn, Bethnal Green, Southwark, Fitmonom, Portsmenth, Croydon, Guildford and Figh Wycombe, while smong those from more distant placos ware Mesars. J. T, Dyke (Hon. secrelary, Bath and Wells Assnciation), A. Walker (Deputy Kinging Master, St. Martin's Guild, Bimmingam), J. F. Smallwood (Derbsi, F. Pervin (Coventry), S. Palmer, Wilson, J. Holman (Sheffich), C. Hartison (Laughboraugh), W, DD. Smilh (Easthaurbe), Hristol, J. Austin (Glomenster), T. Kims and $F$. Tich (Batb), W. Knight and W. Tlamas (Bristol\}, G. Popmell (Marklamm, South Walest, C. Mee (Tpswioh), A. Rivers (Cambridge), W. J. Noward (Great Bentiay), A. Bennatt (Buckfastaigh), E. Poppy (Eye), F. Deneh (saffron Wraldent, etc.
An interesting fact was revealed during the repast, when the Master 'took wine' with members of the society of over' 50 pears' standing. Tlose who responded numbered six, and were Canon Culeridge, Messrs. T. Wallage (the 'fatler " of the society), T. Benner, W. D. Smith, J. W. Rowhotham and W. Prime.
The tonsi of "The King' was honoured on the call of the Master, who then proposed khit a telegram should be fent convering fram that sathering respectul ereetings to the Prinee of whales and his gallan gucsts at the Fouge of Lovds This suggestion was endorsed with eheers.
The Master then gave the toast of 'Ple Chureln,' to which Canon Faldune responded in a facetious speech, in the course of which he ssin, on behalf of the clergy, or the great majority of them, that they dirt apprecialo very liggly the work which the Ancient Society of College Youlhs and rimgers generally did for the Church (hear, lieat). It was very arduans work, and work which made great claims upan their powers of mind and body, and work which had its risks; in Facl, so risky was it that he hat never been able ta make up lis mind la start it (haughter). Fery often, he continued, bhoge who listemed got as mach pleasure as those who rang, and le could lanestly say no ringing be had ever heard at his tower had excelled tha ringing of the Gollege Foublis. He realised that at Soulthwark thoy hat ihe very fire peal of bells (hear, heary. Somelimes he was it was rery good, indeed, he world reply that it was the Colleue Foulise (laughter'). If', on the other hand, it was not so good, he sain it was a Southwark Surprise Major (laughter), and dici not tert. Canon Faldmas concluded by thanking the company for drinking the lanst of "The Churels.

C.G OF THF BELFRY

(aban Coleridge proposed the Loast of "The Ancient Sceiety of Colluge Yonths. ${ }^{2}$ He said he was very glach thoy had sent from that assembly a messiate of grectiug to the gathering presided ower by the Drince of Wales th be House of Lords. He said lar could not, of course, rememhor alt the raliand deeds done by those gatlant then, but he recalled three instanees in which the coveled crose was won by men whose only weapons hat heen their own fists. But, he undow, what about those twelve valiant men who, at Ashtonluriage Surprise Maximus in 11 drs, 33 mius, one of peal of Carnfoats ever done in the amals of chonge ringing? (applanse). He happened, during the following week, to be staying in Somerset, ntul n loeal paper, having got hold of the fact that this poal bad been rung, ended its report with the question, "We wonder what the inhabitnnis thought of it? (laughter). Fe was able to inform some groal dral of it; that they turned out in great numbers to cheer it, in the town tund for mites around who was not delighted. Did these men have it V.C. for holding the ropes in their fists for III hours? They dida't, but they deserved it, but merit brought its own reWhat, atme the ringers of that penl wanted nothing olse (hear, henr'). What struk lime was that a good many of those who were pinging in that peal coulr no longer be called yaung men. They were getting on in years-he did not know what their average age was, but whether ther were vounf or whether they were getting into the sere and yellow leaf, ringing seemed to keep men young, and accasions like that gathering of College Youtins had a great facility for keeping them yotng. It was always said that a donkey did not get to its prime until it was a hundred gears old, and he ihought it mist be the same with some ringers (laughtor). Even when men, owing to stress of circumstances, could not manage to ring any longer, not a few of them were engaged in doing valuatyle work for the Fexcrise (hear, hear'). He mentioned one-ane of his oldest friends-the Rev. G. D. P. Davies, who, thotugh stricken down some time ago and who now liad the greatest difficulty in moving about-put in a great deal of time for the good of the Exercise, either collat ing works or writing new ones. One of bis most recent was 'Odds and Ends of Grandsire Triples,' which was a most interesting little work, especially for the youmg composer. Canon Goleridge went on to say that recently Mr. Davies preached at Tewkeshury Abbey (on the accasion of the jubilee of the restoration scheme inaugurated by his fathery, although he had to be carried inth the pulpit by his son and the verger. The spaker cameluded by remarking that the sate cess of such an organisation as the College Youths needed the exuberance of youth and the wisdom of old age, and when those were combined, as they were in that Ancient Soctety, that societw woult go oul and flourish to the end (applause) Ge coupled with wouli go ou and fourish to the end (apptause) He colpled with verything else, Mir. Cockerill, the hon, sentory (applause) and A course of Stedman Cimques was then mmg on bandbells by $F$. Hodgetts, G. F. Swant, A. Wialker, J. F. Smallwood, A. H. Pulling and H. Langdon.

A IONG DEATH ROLL
In rising to respond, Mr . Coekerill was greeted with elieers and Cackerill said they had reecived apologics for non-ateandace and Cockerht said hey had reemed apologies for montatendance and J. H. Ellison, G, F. Phillimove, B. T. Simpson, S. G. Pansonby and N. T. Hopkins, Messes. J. C. Mitehett. P. Johnson, W. H. Judd, E. Morris, Nichols, and 'T. Reeves. They had also received a telegram from Bristol Tnited Ringing Guilds sending best wishes. Since they ast met at dimner said Mr Cockevill they bad mode 40 unw bers (appladse). They lad met for ringing practices 76 times during tho yoart, and these practices had been altended hy 117 different meribers ai some time or other. He regretied that the dedeased mernbers fotmed a rather long list. they had lost by death Robert Holloway, Hemy F. Clandler W. H. C. Courtner, Tom Coxhead Henry W. Jackson (Bolton), John Wilkins (Walthamslow), Joseph E. Sykes, Robert Thompson (West Ealing), Geo. Alder (Buraham), Rev, Maitland Kelly, York Green, Sam Soutliby, Geo. P'. McLaughlin, Edga: Pernberton (Ipswich), Frank Willey (Sliefteld) and T'om Payne (Oxford. The peal list was only a very noderate one, ouly fifteen hnving been rung-all in the Lower: Grandsile Triples 2, Stedman Triples $3_{1}$ Stedmarn Caters 4, Stedman Cinques 2, Double Norwieh Major 2, Superlative Surprise Major 1, Cambridge Surprise Royal 1. He thanked the company very beartily for the way in whinh they had received the toast
Mr. A. A. Hughes submitted 'The Visitors,' and took the opportumity of thanking, on belalf of the sactety, the various imemments of Londou churelees for their permission to hold practice meetings at their churehes. The society appreciated flo excouragement that was given them in the work which they ditd
The Rev. H. J. Fynes Clinton replied, and remarked that visitors to that galhering not only eajoped the lospitality that was extended to them, but were verg much struck by the extraordinary entilusiasm hat was shown, mot only among members of the Ancient Society in Lomdon, but lyy others who came to that dinner from such long distances-an enthusiasm which they could find equalled in hardy nay other wark or habby. It must be the comradeship of ringing and the knowledge that they were doing a most valuable work for the Glumeh. Tlieve was no fickleness in bellunging, but an enilhtiasm and stedfastuegs which aet an example to all other church workers.

Mrs. Hughes at this point gave some delightfuily played handbell solos, with all her accustomed artistry. She rendered Love, could I only teli thee," and 'I'll sing the songs of Araby,' and, being encored, with "musical lomours," played an old favourite in 'Land of Hope and Glory.

The Vice-Chairman (Mr. J. S. Hawkins) proposed the toast of 'The London and Provincial Ringing Societies.' He remarked that there were present that evening representalives from vearly every society, essociation and guild in the country. On belalf of the Ancient Society of Callege Youths he extended to them a bearty welcome, and, laving referred to the valuable work which was being done by these societies, concluded by wishing them continuedi success and prosperity
Mr. E. A. Young first replied, remarking that their first thought must go out to those who were not with them that night, but who were associated with them is their anciant Exercise. They had many vigorous societies operating in the London area, and among them was the Roysl Cumberland Youths, whe was the Royal Cumberland Youths, who went back in their listory, (Continued in next column.)

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

THE MASTER ENTERTAINS LARGE GATHERING AT' BRAINTREE.
In large numbers on a dolightful automn day, members responded Lo the invitation to atoend the annual mecting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association at Braintree ou Saturday last. The procedings aommenced wilb service in the Parish Churcl, with an inspiring fudress from the newly-appainted Vicar (Rev. Jas. Case, M.A., B.Se.). Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association, read the lesson. Tha collection for the Association's Bell Restoration Fund amounted to El 10s. Upwards of one luudred accepted the Master's invitation to lea, bue company being representative of thirty-five parishes.

At the subsequent meeting, Mr. A. A. Saunders was thanked for his past services aud reappoinled District Master.

Mr. W. Arnold, who has carrien out the duties of gecretary for the past two years in a mosi efficient manner, intimated his inability to continue, uwing to busiuess pressure, and was heartily thanked. Mr. F. Redgwell, of Earls Colne, was unaninously elected his successor.

Rev. O. L. Martiu, Vican of Tarls Calne, was clected an honorary nember, ant Mrs. C. C. Courtanla, of Perny Pot, Falstead, was elected an honorary life member. Several ringing members were also elected.

It was decided to fold the next meeting at Feering in February.
The Master made feeling allusion to the sad loss sustained by Mr. W. If. Lawrence, of Littie Munden, Herts, by the tragic death of his son, Mr. W. S. Lawrence, as reported in 'The Ringing World, and a rote of condolence with Mr. Lawrence and his two daughters was passed in silence, the Mester being requested ta convey the sympathy of the menting to Eliem.

The Vicar was thanked for the use of the bells and for his address, and the organist was also thanked for his services.

Mr. H. E. Hammond voiced the liannks of the meeting to the Master for providing tea for so large asi nssemblage.

Immediately after the meeting the whole company were shown over the magnificent Town Hall, recently presented to the town by Mr. W. I. Courtauld at a cost exceeding $\mathbf{x} 60,000$. In the spacious Council Chamber the Master, who has been a councillor for twentyonn yenrs, explained the special points of tho whole building, and enumerated many other gifts by Mr. Cotrtauld during the past few yenrs, including a hospital completely equipped and a recreation ground endowed so as to be entirely free fron clarge an the rates.
Thie District Master" ant Messrs. W, Kecble and L. W. Wiffen did their utrnost to ensure that everyone of the large company had a ring on the hells, which are in excellent order. Commencing at 2.30 p.an., they were, with the exception of the period of the service aut mecting, ringing unceasingly in methotis ranging from l3ob Major to Lomida Surprise.

CAMBRIDGE MAXIMUS BY VETERANS

Mr. James George, who is approaching his 76th birthday, has achicved anotlier distinction. He has rung his first peal of Cambrifge Surprise Maximus al a greater age than any other first, pealer in? the melhorl, and has thus given another proof of his Vonthful mental capmeity. Mr. 'Bob' Brundle who also took part fin the peal, was 78 last September: On the evidenco of many competent ringers whe were listening outside, the peal was splendidy sbretck and went like clockwork from beginning to end.

It is no small achievement, even for a man of many achievements, to ring his Cirsh peal of Cambridge Maximus at the age of 76, when dose men ate thinking of retiring from the belfog, if they have not alverdy disappoared from the seene. The peal.was really a crowning achierement for Mr. George, for it whs hits one thousandth peal on town bells. Jt was also his twentieth peal of Maximus, including the 12,240 Troble Bobs Maximus, to which lie rang the tenor, in 8 lirs, 39 mins. He has now rung peals of Canloridge Surprise on 6 . 8,10 and 12 bella.

Mr. J. M. Mitcheld. hon. secretary of Lle Kent County Assomintion, replied for the Provincial Societies, and reminded the company that nert year the Kent Association wonld celebrate its jubilec. He remarkeri that he would like to see every association have its own beneralent fund. In Kent they had such a fund which had often proved its value. They started it 17 years ago, lad paid out about £90, and had a bainnce in hand of aboui $£ 130$.
Mr. R. T. Hiblerth proposed the concluting toast, "The Press, whinh Mr. J S. Goldsmith responderl, and tlie formal proceedings coneltided with 'Auld Lang Syne.'
Diting the evening songs were sung by Mr. T. T. Fowler, Mr. स. Spice and Mr. Bullock, gens, Mr. H. N. Pitstow being the accatnpanist, while some clever card tricks were pertormed by Mr. J. A. Eslar.
A considerable number of visitons remained in London until sundry and rang at various churches for the morning services.

And what is Silchester? Well, if you take New Doubles, extend it to seven hells, and reverse it, you will arrive at the above set of ligures; but iam not going to let it go out into the world with sucla a name as Reversed New Triples, or even New Triples Reversed. Sach a inme would kill any method. Fou may ling Reversed New Triples, if you like, but if you use my Bob, call it Sileliester, please. But, says the critic, your Bob is not a bob at all. Quite so, neither is the Singlo used in Grandsire Triples a single. To be exact, they are both double changes. But it is always ealled a single in Grandsime, and it will, I am sure, be vost concenient to call it Bob in Silchester, especially as mother call is necessary.

Silehester will prove interesting to any ringers who feel tempterf to try for the first peal, while, to the composer who likes to take up somelhing new, I can promiso a most interesting study.
Here is the peal again written out by the bob-leads, as some conductors may profer it so :-

AN OLD RINGING BOOK AT OHEW MAGXA

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, Your lending article of November 1st curionsly coincides with a discovery I liave just made.
I have always believed that change ringing in North Soblowet was introduced by Squive Palairet, father of the famous crickctars. Now [ hase to hand irrefutable evidence of change ringing doue in the Chew Magna district, considerably over one hundred sears ago, it the slape of a manuseripl book which las heen handed down through the generations, and is now the property of a Chew Magar ringer. On telling Mr. W. A. Cave of this, he quoted au olil say-ing:-

A single, extreme, a single, hob, too,
None cant equal the rillgets of Chew suggest, smay be a misquotation of
The first lime, $]$ suggest, thay be a misquotation of * A hob, extreme, a trob and single, too," as the latter protuces a six-score.
To revert to the book, it contains 28 extents of Duulles. Sume of them, with eurious nanles, e.g., Mrs. Crambol, Thomas Sage's Delight, the Cambridge Journey, Gog-Magog, are merely six-scores of Grandsite, wills or without extremes.
Others, such ns " Little Mr. Bols, are extents nroduced by cansing one bell to lie eight blows hehind, or in front. Others make the treble da a peculiar hust, while others change the home kell.
Calls, in addition to the boh, single, and extreme, included the lialf-simgle and the "sliarp." It would appear that the sharp meant an odd dodge on the front, with 3rd's place to correspond.
Now Doubles, as we know it, is there, except that the single is made in $2-3$ instead of in 45, as nowadays. All dodges were calfed, by the way
"One ringer was sory, when [ mentioned it, that April Day was not inclarded.
"Aln!" said another, "if us wetc lo ring le, "iwotzld zound more laike November night. - Yours failhfully, Clileompton.

DEATH OF FORMER MASTER OF COLLEGE YGUTHS
The doah of George 't'. McLathghin, n former Master of the Col Inge Yottlis, who died at the age of 70 years, passed aimost unwaticed in the Exorcise. Writing, to pay a slight tribute to his Wruth" Mr. Cliallis F. Winney says:-
Gearge MeLatginlin was Master of the Ancient Society of College Youlles in 1887. Qur dinner on Saturday, November 5th, in that yenr, was a great success under his chairmanship as Bridge House Hotel. 'The bells ati Ste. Magnus' aud St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Putney, wero rung by the parochial ringers, and these were the last two elurches to kecp up 'St. Guido Faux.' I think this was the last arnivermary when there was any paid ringing for the Gunpow ut St. Pinl's, and took part in in peal there. He called Mr. Cockerill's first poal at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Putcey (Holt's Original), Saturday, Iune 25th, 1887. He wis very keen in all be did, especially in dingisg Holl's Original, non-conducted, rung with the material forged at St. Abans. Messrs. Mitahell abd JBuckiugham are both still engaged in business in London.

George McLaughlin was an export packer at the Army and Navy Slores, and was persioned of from there mome five or six years ago. Hu hat been out of tonch with ringing siace be gave up as instructor Ht St, Joln's, Wilton Rond, where Messrs. Dawe, Gover and Wimney started to ring. Cancer wag the cauge of death. May he restin peace.

THE 18& TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carilion of 64 Bells, about to be installed at Rerridia Cedrca, New York, U.S.A.

GOOD STRIKING-AND BAD.
When the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild gets into the pulpit to address a gathering of ringers he can be counted upon to preach a sermon which will really appeal to the intelligence of the congregation and give them food for thought. As a ringer he, of course, approaches his subject from a different angle to those clergy who have no practical acquaintance with the art and little actual knowledge of what it involves in time, and patience, and study. Those who attend ringers' services frequently have to suffer an address consisting of a bashed-up retrospectmore or less inaccurate-of the uses of bells, coupled with an admonition that the ringer's place, after ringing, is in the churcin. It may perhaps, be well, that ringers should sometimes be reminded of the history of the instruments they use, and of the duties associated with their office, but there is so little variation of the theme that those who make a practice of being present at these meetings sometimeswe feel compelled to say so-get just a little tired of it. It is refreshing, therefore, to have the opportunity of listening to an address such as that delivered to the Ancient Society of College Youtbs-full of interest, of new inspiration, and of good advice.

One of the points which will appeal most strongly to all good ringers was the emphasis which the speaker laid on the importance of good striking in ringing. It is not a new subject, but it carries added weight when it comes from one who is himself among the best of ringers. It is unfortunately too true that there are those who have rung many peals, but who have not yet learned to ring-to ring well, that is to say. There are many in the Exercise who, though their names may bave appeared in the records of peals, are still inefficient in the management of a bell-who merely 'slop' through their ringing, and, what is sadder still, are content with that. One poor striker can and does spoil the efforts of the rest, however good they may be, and no man ought to be satisfied until he is competent to 'place' bis bell in its exact position every time. That is not to say that the best of ringers do not sometimes make a bad blow. It was, we believe, the Master of the Oxford Guild who on some former occasion said that if he were asked to define a good striker he would say be was one who, when he made a bad blow, knew be had done it and could kick himself for it. That is a delighiful definition and it woald be difficult to find a better. The trouble about bad strikers-and no man has really learnt to ring a bell untit he can strike well-is that they do not know it. They do not take the pains to learn to listen for their own bell, and they seem to have no sense of time or rhythm. Bad strikers we shall probably always have (Continued on page 738.)

[^76][^77]with us, but there is a great deal in the point which was made by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn when he said we should set our faces against those who ring many peals before they have learnt to ring a bell. Young ringers need encouragement, but the encouragement which is provided by peal ringing should only be offered when they have really learnt to ring a bell.

BELL RESTORATION IN THE OLDEN DAYS.

HOW MONEY WAS GOT IN THE MIDDLE AGES
An interesting record comes down to ans in the archires of the diocese of Winchester, throwing light on the manner in which money was raised for church purposes in the Middle Ages. Referring to the foct that the parish and town of Farnham, Surrey, have just raised £300 to rehang and retune the bells of the Parish Church and to put the chimes in working order, the 'Guildford Diocesan Gagette, says: 'Note the continuity both of parish life and of the English Church. We ask our readers to think of the 14 th century and the particular year 1388 . Forty years earlier the Black Death had ravagod the country and halved the population, with momentous results to the religious, social and economic life of the country. Richard II. was (I388) on the throne. Wycliffe bad been dead but four years; Chaucer had just completed his Canterbury Taiess monasticism and the Medieval Church were entering upon a period of decay. But parish life weut ou; people had the same needs: money was just as much wanted then as now for Church purposes. We dip into the episcopal register of the great William of Wyreham (1367-1405), and we read that in the jear 1388 the people of Farnham were raising money for the purchase of church bella; the parishioners were duly and properly assessed (the "Quota," instead of being a new idea, is an ancient medieval practice). But it was easior then to raise money than it is today. It appears that a fer of the parishioners would not pay up. What happened? The Bishop heard of it and issues a mandate to the Rector of Farnham to "admonish certain parisbioners under pain of ecclesiastical censure (i.e., excommunication) to pay up." They stood no nonsense in the Midale Ages.'

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. STARTING THE REORGANISED BRANCHES.
A gencral meeting of the newly-constituted East Norfolk Branch of the association, the first of a series under the reorganisation scheme, was, by kiad permission of the Vicar (tife Rev. Canon R. Aubrey Aitken), held in the Priory Hall, Great Yarmouth, on Saturday, November Sth, for the election of officens and committee.

The general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Goleman) read a letter of apology from Ganon R. Aubrey Aitker, expressing his regret in not being able to preside at the meeting.

Mr. Denison Fayward was voted to the chair, and was supported by Mr. Arthur L. Coleman, Mr. Wiliam J. Lee (district secretary), and representatives from Acle, Beecles, Great Farmouth, Reedham, ete.
The General Secretary gave a brief ontline of the purpose of the raeeting, after which the members proceeded to elect officers and committee as follows: Mr. Denison Hayward, chairman; Mr. William J. Lee, hon secretary; Messrs. Robert W. Barber, jun., Willian E. Bason, John C. Dicken, Edwin R. Goate and James Taylor, members of the committee.
The General Secretacy moved tho ratification of the belfry elections (prior to peals) of Messrs. Bertie J. Howchin (re-election), John W. Ward and Colin Harrison, life members (non-resident), and also moved the election of Messrs. James Bunn, Robert William Barber, and Francis Herbert Glossop Hind as members of the association. The notions, on being put to the meeting, were carried.

A vote of thanks was passed to Canon R. Aubrey Aitzen for the usa of the Priory Hall, and the meeting then closen, and the members adjourned to the belfry for ringing-

BOW BELLS.

CITY CORPORATION AND THE RESTORATION.
The famous bells of St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, which have all too long been silent for need of restoration, were mentioned at a meeting of the City Corporation recently, when the Lord Mayor presented a letter from Alderman Sir Louis Newton, on behalf af the Rector and churchwardens of the church, asking for the assistance of the Corporation in raising the funds necessary to carry out urgent repairs to the fabric, organ and bells.

Mr. Deputy Ellis said 'Bow bells' were not only known to every citizen of London, but they were known all over the world. Their historic association with Dick Whittington endeared them to every British man and woman, and the Court sbould do all in its power to see that they were repaired.

The letter was referred to the Coal, Corn and Finance Committee.

LIGHT BELLS IN •D.

Writing in answer to the inquiry as to whether Rickmansworth has tha lightest $D$ bell in the country as a tenor (its weight being 20 cwt. 20 lb.$), \mathrm{Mr} . \mathrm{C} . \mathrm{H} . \mathrm{Jenning}$ says that Bere Regis (Dorset) tenoor is $18 \frac{1}{c} \mathrm{cwt}$. in D .
The tenor bell at St. John's, Devizes, Wilts, was cast by R. Purdue at Salisbury, in 1677, and its weight is $19 \ddagger$ ewt. in D fat, and measures 50 in across. A perfect peal of Grandsire Triples was rung there, writes Mr. Sidney Hillier, on September I4th, 1912, in 2 hrs. 54 mins., and it is worthy of note, as the tenor ringer was blind. He gained the deserved congratulation by the band for the perfect way he rang it.
As to fast peals, the writer was one of e band who rang a perfect peal at Trowbridge, Wilta, on April 19th, 1913, in 2 hrs. 47 mins., the tenor being 24 cwt.

M2. W. W. Pitraz writes: 'A correspondent asks whether a peal rung at Rickmansworth with a tenor 20 cwt. 20 Ib. in 2.55 can be beaten. Yes. The writer participated in a peal at Margate on October 19th, with a tenor $22 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$, in 2.53 , and that without a trip. Mr. Buesden, the conductor, will bear me out.'

BARNSLET AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

MEETING AT SANDAL

A meeting was beld at Sandal, near Wakefield, on Saturday, November 9th. The attendance of ringera and friends was only abont half the number that attended at the aear-by tower of Grofton in October, which represents the difference between the attraction of a shield contest and an ordinary monthly mecting. However, Sandal bells still hold a charm of tone for ringers, after a ceatury's wear, that seems to say, 'Ringers may come and ringers may go, but we go on for ever." There is a surrounding home for these sounds that never wearies. The houses, placed mostly in gardens, are fit to offer a happy welcome.
The proceedings were of the usual character. The worthy Vicar, the Rev. Parry, was at the tea table as of yore, offering a welcome to young gad old. Unfortunately, duty called him away, but not undil blessings and good wishes were given to the association.

One local veleran (Mr. G. Robingon) was there to receive all-round congratulations after recovering from cight months' very serious illnese. Mv. Noah Wath, president, occupied the chair, ard hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar, the local ringers, and some ladies who always display a breezy activity towards the association. The next mecting is most likely to he a jaint one with the Yorkshire Southern Division at Rawmarsh in December.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviousiy, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at ance, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs. .

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ringer of the tenor in the peal of Grandsire Triples on November 9th was Arthur C. Nason, not Nash, as published.
When the Mortlake Society rang a true and compleat peal of 5,040 Boh Major Tribbles' on November 22nd, 1731, they recorded that "this is the third time this peal was ever rung and the first by the method designed and called by W. Walker. ${ }^{1}$

A William Wglker was ringing at Richmond and Mortlake for many years, althougin it is rather likely that the later Willian Walker was a son of the ringer whis "designed and called" this eariy peal at Mortlake. If not, then William Walker must have been of the same wirile stock that, long after, produced the gentleman who is 'still going strong,' William Walker rang in a peal of 10,640 Bob Major at Mortlake in 1776.
One of London's earliest rimging societies, the City Scholars, rang a peal of 6,012 Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate on November 23 rut. 1732. Another of these long defunct London organisations, the Enstern Scholars, phit up a recorl ist West Ham, when on Noversber 25th, 1737, they rang a peal of 15,120 of Bob Major.
Sunday next is the anniversary of the frst penl of Maximus rung on handibells, a peal of̂ Oxford Treble Twelve at Sheftield on Nowember 24th, 1816.
Exactly two hundred yearg ago next Wednesalay, tie London Scholars rang a peal of 6,204 Grandsire Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornlill, the Colloge Youths twelve days before, viz., on November 15th, haping rung the first peal on the bells, a 5,126 Grandsire Cinques. The bi-ceatenary of these two periormances ought not to go unmarked, despite the fact that little peal ringing is now permitted at this tower.
The first peai at St. James', Bermondsey, was rung one iundred years ago mext Thursday. It was 5,120 Oxford Treble Bob Royai by the Cumberlands.
It was at the Shakespeare's Head, Wych Street, Strand, in 1896. that W. H. In. reported to the members there angembled that the College Youths' certificate was the wort of Bartolozzi, and produced several engrawings, purchased of a street trader's barrow in Rochester Row, to support his clajm, Amongst those present at that meetiog were Messrs. Routh, Hayes, Allbone, Haworth, Barry, McLaughlin and Winney, besides others, but the last-named, with W. H. F., is the sole survivor to-day, Janctly forty years later Captain Yorke confirmed the fact of the certificate being Bartolozzi's work by his diseovery at the British Museum in 1926 .
The first peal of Cambridge Surprise on the bells at Ourdridge Hants, rung last Saturday, recalls the fact that the first and only cother Surprise peal rung on the bells was Superlative over 31 years ago. Messes. G. Williams and F. S. Bayley took part in both peals the litter on the same beil, the seventh, but the former, who rang the tenor in 1898, and called the peal, took on a lighter task thif time. When the first peal was pung, Curdridge was one of the: noisiest towers in the country.

ANCIENT BELLS AT KIMPTON, HERTS.

 ONE 500 YEARS OLD AND STILL IN USE.A ring of six bells, the most modern of which is over two hundred years old, hangs in the tower of Kimpton, Herts, and a peal was rung on them on Saturday last. These six bells are of various dates, the age of the fifth probably exceeding 500 years. This bell is 36 inches in diameter, and in addition to a device, bears the Latin words, 'Sit nomen Domini benedictum' ('May the name of tbe Lord be blessed'). It was probably cast by one William Burford, whose last will dates from the year I 390, and on this evidence the bell certainly appears to be more than 500 years old. At one time it may have been the only bell, and it is possible that it may be slightly older than the tower, which was built about that period.

KIMPTON ©HURCH.
The rourth is the next oldest bell, and hears a device of the arms of the Bishops of Winchester and the words 'Saucte Dunstanc' (St. Dunstan). It was cast by Jom Saunders, of Reading, Berks, about the year 1540, and bears the founder's initials, "J.S." It is 33 inches in diameter.
A third bell existed at this time, which has zow disappeared, for ont the Inventory taken in the year 1552 there were three bells in the belfry. The missing one may, however, have been recsst later.
The treble bell bears the mame of Thomas Hoo, the owner of the Hoo Estates at the time. It is 28 in . in diameter, and has a cross stamped upon it and the date 1636, also the maker's shield, "R.O.,' that is, Robert Oldneld, who cast bells in Hertiord at this time.
Tho 3 rd bell is of the same date as the treble, and by the same maker. It bears the same marks, but lias, in addition, the initials 'W.M.-C.W.', probably meaning' Witlian Michell, churchwarden.
Two years later the tenor bell was lung, east also by Rohert Oldfeld. This is 40 inches in diameter, and beare the inseription ${ }^{\text {thil }}$ liam Micheli, 1638.?

AN APPEAL

DISTRESSEUE CASE OF LANCASHIRE RINGER.
The Blackhurn Braach of the Laucashire Association has made an appeal to all its merabers on behalf of Mr. Harry Tomlinson, of Burnley, one of its old merabers, to help him in his time of zeed.

Mr. Tomlinson,s who is a widower, with a daughter entirely dependent upon him, was taken to the Infirmary some twa moxilis ago to have a Ieg amputated, but collapsed whilst under chlaroform, and had to be revived with oxygen before the operation had taken place.

His circumstances are such that an appeal has been mado to help to alleviate his suffering and distress, and, should any member of the Exercise outside the branch feel disposed to help a brother ringer, subscriptions, however small, would be gratefully received and duly acknowledged by the secretary of the branch, Mr. T. Hindle, 58, Anvil Street, Blackbura.

BALL BEARINGS v. GUN METAL BEARINGS.

To the Editor.

Dear Gir,-I have been asked by the authorities of one of the churclies in the association of which I am presiclent to advise them whether it is preferable to have their bells (which reçuire relhanging) put into ball bearings or gun melal bearings.
I have my own ideas on the matter, but before passing them on would be glad to lave a concensus of opinion of members of the ringing fraternity, more expericoced in this matter than I am.
May I ask for expressions of opinion through your paper whether ball hearings or gun metal bearings are preferable from the points of viow of durability, ease in ringing, and consistency. The bells in question are a quick-running peal of eight with a 12 cwt. tenor.
For obvious reasons I am writing uader a nom-de-plume, but my name can be furnished if desired.- Yours sincerely, NORTHERN' PRESIDENT.?

LINCOLN'S ANCIENT RINGINC SOCIETY.  \section*{FOUNDED BEFORE THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.}

In a letter to "The Times," with reference to a claim that the Ancient Society of Callege Youths, founded in 1637 to foster the art of campanology, is the oldest of its kind in the world, Ghancellor Srawley of Lincoln, says:-
"May. I ventare to point out that the "Company of Ringerg of our blessed Virgin Mary of Lincoln" is of still earlier date? It was in origin a voluntary, association, and in the mumiments of the Dean and Chapter there is a parchment document bearing the date, October 18th, 1612, which contains the Ordinances drawn up by fite members. Anothel document, daled September 23 rd , 1614, contaias the Patent of the Dean and Chapter. On tho walls of the Ringers ${ }^{3}$ Chapel at the base of the south-west tower of the cathedral are inseribed the games of the Masters of the Ringers, beginning in 1814. In the Ordiannces the purpose of the assaciation is stated to be "for the ringinge of Sainete Hughe bells and our Ladye Bells. solempre feastes and dayes and otherwise upon good oecasions.s

wery successful monthly meeting was held at Arley, near Numeaton on Saturday, November 16th. Members attended from AlLesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Craft, Fillongley, Leamington, Nuneaton, Shilton and Stoke, together with the lacal hand. The Rector (Rev. M. J. G. King) weleomed the ringers at the Institute, where tea was arranged. A bazair was being hold is the building to help defray the cost of the bells.

The methods rung during the meeting were Plain Bob Doubles and Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, York, Beverley and London Surprise. This was the first visit of the Guild to Arley, where the bells have recently been recast and augmented by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

The 2nd bell was the last to be installed in the tower. It is 29 inches in diameter, and bearg the inscription, 'Jobn Carpenter, chureliwarden, 1728. John Waylett, London, made me, H.s.' It is not improbable that this bell is the recast old bell, existing in I552. Waylett is known to hare gone through the courtry casting bells at this time.
There is a tradition that one or more of the bells was stolen from the meighbouring claurch of Ayot St. Lawrence, at some time, but no confirmation of that is now fortheoming.

CHESHIRE PEAL OF SIX RESTORED.

RE-DEDICATION OF BELLS AT ST, MARY'S, BRKENHEAD. Afier a silence, seldom broken, extending over about ten yeare, the bells of the Parish Church of Birkenhead (St. Mary's) Fere heard again on Saturday eveuing, November 9th, after they had been rededicated by the Lord Bishop of Chester (Dr. H. L. Paget). The old frame of wood having become very dilapidated and unkate for ringing, these bells, of which there are six, have hung idly in 1.he tower for years. In March of this Jear a subscription list was opened for the purpose of having the bells put into ringing condition, to which the townspeople, including the Corporation of tine borough, most generously contributed, and the work of having a new iron frame constructed and the hells quarter-turned and tuned was entrusted to the well-known firm of Messrs. J. Taylor and Co, of Loughborough, who were represented at the opening by Mr. J. P. Fidler. The rededication service, which was conducted by the vicar (Rey. A. G. Williamsor, M.A.), was attended by the Mayor and Mayoress of Birkenhead, the ex-Maypr and Mayoress, and other prominent citizens, the ex-Mayor reading the first lesson,
In his address after the rededication, the Bishop spoke of the readiness with which not only the members of the congregation but also the townspeople generally had contributed to the funds for rebanging the bells. Without the beils they had been neglecting, to their peril, the beauty of public worship. Devout and regular attendance at divine service was one of Gon's own ways of helping them to hold together. The voice of the bells might be just the very voios calling them logether in the performance of a common duty and a common privilege.
After the actual ceremony of rededication, and whilst the Bishop and ciergy were returning from the belfry to the chancel, a wellstruck courge of Plain Bob Minor was rung, and, following the service, tutuches of Plain Bob, Kent Troble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor werg rung, the ringers afterwards expressing satisfaction with the 'go' and tone of the bells, which will make a welcome addlition to the 'zings' of bells in the town.
The inseriptions on the belis are:-
Treble-Wilimm Dobson, Downham, Norfolk, Fecit 1881.

MAYORAL SUNDAY, ARMISTICE AND TOC H RENGING.
On Sunday, November 10th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Birkenhead, and St. Peter's, Rock Ferry, joined forces so that, as the former churcla havo not yet a competent band, the newly-restored bells should not bo silent for 'Meyor's Sundey.' At St. Mary's Church, following the civic service, a 720 of Gambridge Surprise Minor was rung by: F. Banton 1, W. J. Battle 2, G. R. Edwards 3, J. Cooke 4, T. A. Rogers 5, H. Ludkin (conductor) 6. For evening service at the same church, a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung by: W. Bavite (first 720 in al Treble Fob method) 1, G. Battle 2, G. R. Edwards 3, F. Banton 4, W. J. Battlo (conductor) 5, J. Cooke 6.
Tho services at St. Poter's Church were of a special nature haviag yegard to the commemoration of the Armistice, and the bells were half-muftled for both morning and evening services. A 720 of Kent Troble Bob Minor was rung in the morning by: Miss D. I. Leatham 1, Miss M. Cooke 2, J. Gorst 3, I. Lerlio 4, J. Hughes 5, W. Dean (conductor) 6, whilst the seme band rang 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor prior to the evening service.

Following evensong, a speciai service for Too If members and olhors was conducted by the Rev. A. Ball, M. A., prior to which 720 of Gambridge Surprise Minor, with the bells still half-mufled, was rung by: F. Banton 1, J. Gorst 2, J. Leslie 3, W. J. Battie 4, G. R. Fdwards 5, J. Cooke (conductor) 6. After the service, which was most impressive and ineluded the 'Ceremony of Light,' the bells were rung 'open' for a few minutes whilst the coggregation dispersed.
Thus, between the two churchos, five 720 's were rung in one day, a 720 nt St. Mary's in the morning being lost through the conductor missing a eall.

A special word of thanks is here extended to all those who so kindly assisted tho St. Mary's ringers, both for the Sunday service ringing and ulso at the rededieation service the previous day.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUKLD. NEGLECT OF 30 YEARS RSMEDFED.

Shalford Church is so close to Guildford that ringers have not thought it necessary to hold a mecting there for the last 30 years. This was remedied on Satarday, when the last district meeting of the Guildford District for the current year was held there. In spite of the wretched weather-rain, a heavy snowstorm and then more rain-aver twenty ringers attended from Old Woking, Aldershot, Rudgwick, tho Cathedral Church, Cranleigh, Worplesdon, West Clandon, S. Nicolas' and the local company. What the weather was really like may be gauger from the fact that no ladies were present. The bells were kept going in rounds and various methods from Doubles to London Surprise Minor throughout the afternoan and evening.

The Guild's form of service was conducter, end an interesting address given by the Vicar (the Rev. Hamilton Jackson). The organist had kindly arranged a choir. Afterwards the ringers did full justice to an ample tea, which was served in the Church Hut.
The Vicar was in the chair at the business meeting, when nomina tions for district officers for 1930 were received. No election will bo necessary in the case of the Ringing Master, secretary and anditor. Although three names were proposed for the office of Ringing Master, namely, Mr. C. Hazelden, Mr. F. Bennett and Mr. A. H. Pulling, the two first-named geatlemen declined to accept the office, and Mr. Palling will therefore be elected at the annual meeting. Mr. Hazelden withdraws from office after gerving the district for many years as Ringing Master, first with the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and, siace its formation, with the Guildford Diocesan Guild.
There are three candidates for tho two places of ringing members on the Executive Committee, aamely, Messrs. C. Hazelden, B. Redford and O. N. Burdock.
Mr. E. G. Martin, organist at Shalford, was elected an honorary member, and he drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that choir bioys vary often dropped out of Chural life on leaviag the choir, and pointed out that the ringers had an opportunity of keeping them interested in Church work by teaching them to ring.
In the discussion which followed, some members seemed of opinion that choir boys are the most difficult end hopeless of people to turn into ringers. Others thought that they are no woree than any other class of recruits, but the general opinion seemed to be that Mr Martin's suggestion is excellent in theory, but difficulties, which only ringers can appreciate, arise in practice.
Admiral Walker was entrusted with tine task of putting into words the thanks of the members to the Vicar, the organist, and to the ladies who helped with the tea.

One entinsiastic joung ringer then starten e lively tiscussion by seekirg enlighterment as to the exact meaning of the Rer. O. W O. Jeakyn's reference, in his address to the Gollege Youths, to back strokes being considered by some mingars to be only an awkward method of getting the bell back into the handstroke position. After geveral members had expressed their views on the subject, the Vics, remarked that as neither be nor his churchwarden (Mr. Hayes) could understand what it was all about, the meeting had better ond

DEATH OF TWO NORTH NORFOLK RINGERS.

The already thin ranke in North Norfolk ringers have been recently depleted by the death of Messrs. Meager' and 'Temant, of West Runton and Cromer respectively.
Mr. Meager, who came to Norfolk from Northantis, was a man of sterling character, genial and good-natured. Although not far ad vanced in change ringing, what he rang was rung well. 百e was a real holp to ringing at Cromer, and was always punctual.
Mr. Tenmant passed away at the age of 47 in the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital on the 8th inst. The funeral, which took place on Tuesday, November 12th, was followed early in the evening by the ringers tribute, the bells being rung half-muffled by the following S. Love, L. Risebrow, E. Wilson, C. Pooley, F. Pearce and T. James W. Burgess and C. Silver also took part.

Mr. Tennant learnt to ring with his father at Shipdham, in the county, and, after serving an apprenticeship there, came to Crome: two years before the war. Here he found a company freshly started to learn ringing at the instigation of Mr. John A. Godfrey, and this company he joined. In 1919, Mr. Tennant undertook to train a band of ringers, and before long the bells were being rung reguiarly to Minor. He had rung six peals only for the Norwich Association, no: being able to throw off business ties, but he was a devoted servar of the Church, and assisted not only as a ringer but as a member of the choir and the Church Council. Requiescat in pace. N. G.

THREE GENERATIONS.

Young 'Teddy' Barnett scored his first quarter-peal, and ist the frst attempt, on Sunday, when he rang the treble to 1,260 Grand sire Triples for morning service at Crayford. It was called by ins father, and 'grand-dad' rang the 2ad. Edwin jii. js only 11 year of age, but he is showing a keen aptitude for ringing. The tour

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION

PRESENTATION TO FORMER SEGRETARY.

Mr. Herbert Haigh, of Worksop, recently retired from the office of hon. $\varepsilon e c r e t a r y$ of the North Notts Association, of which he was one of the founders in the year 1886. On Saturday week the members, in recognition of his long and loyal service, presented him with a wallat of Treasury notes. The presentation took place at a meeting held at Gamston, and members were present from Anston, Creswell, Collingham, East Martham, Edwinstowe, East Retford, West Retford, Gainsborough, Ordsall, Lincoln, Misterton, Sutton-on-Trent, Worksop, and the local company. Several methods were rung on the bells of St. Peter's Clurch during the afternoon, and at 5.30 the nnembers adjourned for tea, which was served in the schoolroom.
The Rector of Gamston (the Rev. E. A. Paxton) presided over the business meeting, and was supported by the Rew. R. F. Wilkinson, Rectar of Ordsall; Mr. Herbert Smith, Gamston House; Mrs. Grawford and her daughter, Mrs. Rowseli, Lanelam; with Mr. H. Haigh, Worksop, treasurer; Mr. R. W. Stackdale, hon. seeretary; and Mr. H. Revill, assistand hon. secretary.

Letters of apology for absence were received from the Rep. H. R. Peel, Cuckney, and the Rev. R. E. Rogerson, East Markharn.
Tho Rector extended a bearty welcome to the association, and remarked that it was through the efforts of Mr. Haigh and the generosity of Mr. Smith that the bells of Gamston Ghurch had been put into such good order. He spoke encouraging words to the members on their excellent work.

Mr. T. Hercy Denman, J.P., Netley, Southampton, a former ringer at East Retford Church, and the Rev. E. A. Paxton, Gamston, were elected vice-presidents; and Mrs. Rowson, Lanehem, daughter of the late Mr. C. Crawford, East MarLham, was elected an honorary life member. Her brother, Mr. A. Crawford, Rampton, is an honorary life member.
Masters R. Smith and W. Brett, both of Ordsall, were elected members of the association.
It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association at Shireoaks on Saturday, January 18th, 1930.

A FOUNDER OF THE ASSOCIATION

The presentation to Mr. Haigh then took place, and was the occasion of well deserved eulogiums of the work done in the cause of the association and of bellringing in general by the recipfent, and was also a tribute to the respect and esteen in which he is held. The wallet was inscribed, 'H. Haigh, 1929, North Notts.'
Mr. Haigh was among the little band of entliusiasts in 1886 who met at the Priory Schools, Worksop, with the late Vicar of Worksop (the Rev. H. T. Slodden) and formed the association, with the first Bishop of Southwell as president and Mr, Slodden as secretary. Mr. Haigh, who succeeded the late Rev. B. Darley, Harthill, as secretary, was born at Ordsall, Retford, on September 22nd, 1866, and learut to ring at the early age of ten years.
In 1890 Mr. Haigh played an important part in helping to get the East Restford bells rehung and augmented to a ring of ten, and the ringing chamber put in good order. He taught g new band of ringers soon after the Rev. G. J. A. d'Arcy settied at Worksop, and was successful in having the bells rehung at the Priory Church, being responsible in collecting $£ 66$ towards the restoration of the peal. His motto is to practise on practice nights, and on Sunday to give the very best services in ringing for the lonour and glory of God.
In addition to his love for the bells, he las many hobbies. In his vounger days he was a keen cricketer, and played some good inninge for local clubs. From 1890 to 1905 he collected almost 8100 for St. Swithin's Cricket Club, for which the Rev. W. C. Ridding, then curate at East Retford, presented him with a beautiful smoking cabinet:
A letter was read from Mr. T. Hercy Denman enclosing a cheque for the presentation fuad and expressing his appreciation of the valaable services rendered by Mr. Haigh for many years in tite art of bange ringing.
Mr. F. Hargreaves, Shireaks, who was also unable to be present, referred to the ungrudging services rondered by Mr. Haigh to the Association, which was reflected in its financial position and the unembership. Mr. Stockdale was a good succcessor to Mr. Haigh in the seeretaryship.

MANY BELL RESTORATIONS.
The Rev, R. F. Wilkinson spoke of Mr. Haigh's long and energetic Fork for the association and of his keen interest in the art of bellinging. Mr. Haigh had travelled handreds of miles to attend meetings of the association in town and country, and they highly appreriated his services. He (Mr. Wilkinson) became acruainted with Mr. [aigh when he was a curate at Mansfield, and he had read of Mr. Haigh's activities with great interest. Mr. Willinson referred to Mr. Smith's recent visit to Germany, and remarked that the 25 -ton bell in Gologne Cathedral was made out of cannons which the Germans took from the French in the war of 1870 , but, becoming short of

A PEAL AT SOUTHWELL CATHEDRAL  AN UNUSUAL BELFRY.

It js interesting to note, as reported elsewhere, that after a lapse of 18 years the bells in the quaint and difficult belfry of Southwell Cathedral have had another peal recorded on them, tjis bringing the total to five in 208 years. The bells were cast and hung in the tower by Abram Rudhuli in 172I, and it was not until 1894 that Mr. Francis E. Dawe conducted the first peal on them to the tune of Grandsire Triples in 3 hrs 27 mins . In 1905 the Rev. F. E. Robinson conducted a peal of Stedman Triples in 3 hrs. 27 mins. Four years later, the first and only Surprise peal, 5,056 Superlative, was eredited to that able canductor, Mr. Willian Keeble, in 3 hrs. 38 mins., and in 1911 the Rev. H. Law James condueted 5,084 Double Norwich in 3 hrs. 39 mins.
The ringing chamber consists only of a balcony projecting $\$ f$ t. from all sides of the tower, and forming an open space $16 \mathrm{~m}^{\mathrm{L}} \mathrm{L}$. square in the centre, with a 60ft. drop to the bothom of the church. As a means of sefety a wooden barrier about 4 ft. high is fixed in front of the ropes, and on top of this is fastened another $4 f^{\circ}$. of stroug mesh wire vetting, through which the sioger is obliged to look to find his colleagues' rapes. This, together with the bells being lung the 'opposite way round, make it extremely dificalt for visiting ringers, and often the tenor has been mistaken for the treble.
The pregent peal of Stedman Triples is the quickest jet rung in the tower, this, without doubt, being due to the excellent worls of Messrs. Taylor and Co., who were entrusted with rehanging the bells recently. The band are indebted to Dr. Teylar, cousin to the Lord Bislop of Southwell, for his kiad hospitality at the Bislrop's Falace after the peal. Handbells later brought a pleasant evening to a close.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

The attendance at the quarterly meeting of the I.O.W. District, hald at Newchurch on Saturday last, was very small indeed, only eight ringing members, (representatives from Brading, Godshill (2). Newport (3), Ryde and Whitwell) putting in an appearance. Nevertheless, good use was made of the six bells, and methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Double Court were rung. Tca wus kindly provided and served to the ringers by tho Vicar and Mrs. Bamford in the Parish Hall. The Rural Dean also presided at the business meeting, at which Mr. A. Jackson, of Ryde, was elected a ringing member,
It was resolved to hold a by-prectice meating at Casisbrooke on Saturday, January 4th, the annual meeting having already been fixed for Saturday, February 1st, at Newport.

The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rural Dean and Mrs. Bamford for providing tea, also to the former for presiding. A course of Grandsire Caters was then rang on handbells by B. J. Snow, W. Upton, H. Bartan, Dr. J. B. Williamson and H. Phillips, and further ringing was afterwards indulged in on the church bells.

ammunition in the Great War, the bell was taken down, broken up, and raelted down. Since the war another bell, weighigg 25 tons had been made, and was now tolled every day. They all appreciated Mr. Smith's presence to make the presentation to Mr. Haigh. Mr. Smith took a great interest in church bells, and members were always glad to come to Gamston and ring the splendid peal in the church tower.
Mr. Smith, in makiag the prescntation, gaid he liad a sontimental regard for bells, and when he was abroad he missed the sound of the bells which was so familiar in Englund on Sunday mornings. It was an old custom in Belgium on the occasion of a public holiday for everybody to visit one of the cemeteries and churches to honour the dead, and he would like to see it practised in Eogland. Mr. Smith observed that Mr. Faigh was primerily responsible for the renovation of the bells at Gamston, and he had much pleasure in handiag him the wallet of treasury notes as an token of appreciation aud esteem for his services.
Mr. Haigh suitably replied, and gave a short laistory of the association. He observed that he had been associated with no fewer than sixteen restorations of bells in clurch towers in Norith Notts, including East Retford, Ordsall, East Markham, Misson, North Wheatley, Tuxford, Guckney, Sutton-on-Trent and Ganaston. He had often walked to Gainsborough and Jincoln to ring the bells.
Mr. Stenton proposed a vote of thankg to Mr. Smith end to Mrs. Ashforth and her helpers for the excellent way in which they had catered for the tea. Mr. Stenton said be bad been associated with Mr. Haigh in ringing for 40 years.
Mr. O. McGuiness, Inincoln, seconded.
The Rev. R. F. Wilkingon proposed a vote of Lhamks to the Rev. E. 4. Paxton for presiding, and for the use of the bells, and the proceedings terminated.

SILCHESTER．＂

To the Editor．

Dear Sir，－A peal of the method Mr．Bankes James calls Silchester was rung at St．John＇s，Waterloo Rond，Lambeth，on October 23rd， 1912，under the rame of Waterloo Revorse Bob．It was rung as a Major method with a bell in the hunt，but，of course，that does not ulter the method．You will find it as No． 70 in the Gollection of Major Methods．I should not aall it an extension（or，at any rate， not the exiension）of New Bob Douthes．New Bob Triples is given hy Fiubbard and as a Major method in tho C．C．Collection，－Yours faithfully，

Mr．George Bake，writes that＂Sitchester＂was published by him in＇Bell News＇as lonr ago as Jume，1900．It was published with－ out name．
Mr．Arthne Graven points ont that if＇Silchester＇had been a ＇legitimate＇method he could lave published it as lo山g mgo as 1902.

A CRITIC CRITICISED.

With big black headlines, 'Bells that make our Sundays hideous and our nights intolerable, ' Everybody's Weekly,' in its last issue, produced an article, by Francis E. Trotter, ralculated to curdle the blood of all peaceloving people and rouse them to such a condition of active indignation that one might almost expect to hear that the population of these islands has risen as one man to fall upon the bells of our churches and smash them each into a thousand pieces. People who object to beils do sometimes write like that, and we sympathise with them-sympathise with them because they are usually the victims of unfortunate circumstances and a misplaced sense of discrimination and proportion. The trouble seems to be that Francis E. Trotter has made his habitaLion in a neighbourhood where church and other clocksseveral, more or less, in number-strike the hours at varying times, and some of them the quarter-hours, through the night, while on Sundays solitary church bells clang out a rather monotonous call to worship. Consequently Francis E. Trotter-unlike the majority of people, who quickly get used to the striking of clocks at night and don't lose a wink of sleep about them, and who are generally within the hearing of only one church bell or one peal of bells which ring for service-lays about him with the big stick and belabours bells of every kind, and, by inference, the ringers of them. That is the fault with writers who have a bee in their bonnet: their condemnation is sweeping and they lose perspective.

But Francis E. Trotter disclaims any desire to speak irreverently or frivolously, and tells his readers that one of his loveliest memories of the war-time was when, in a train passing through North France, he heard the tiny bells of one village church and then another sound across the small rounded valleys. That is just the secret of it. It is the conditions that make all the difference. Probably those French bells were, as bells, as bad or worse than those English ones of his acquaintance, of which he now complains, and it is quite obvious that Francis E. Trotter hias yet to hear a good modern peal of bells weil rung. Nowhere in all France would he hear bells like them. It is unfortunate that he had not heard some of these glorious rings before he embarked upon his tirade, in an effort to influence public opinion.

And yet, for all his fuming, thoughtful readers will appreciate the exaggeration with which the article is filled, from this characteristic statement, that 'all the inability of the churches to agree with one another in a Christian way is symbolised in the clanging, arguing. bickering, contradicting, quarrelsome exhibition of bells jostling and pushing and shouting one another down.' Anyone acquainted with the facts knows that, with very few exceptions, bells are used only in the Estatblished Church; that in extraordinarily few instances are churches so closely situated that their bells can be heard in annoying confict; and that therefore this fulmination against church bells in general is nothing but a bit of empty "flapdoodle." If the clocks at night disturb him, he must be a sufferer from insomnia and should consult a doctor; if the bells on Sunday upset him, he should consult a parson-it may be that conscience is pricking him for a long-negIected summons. But the pity of it is that so many of the readers of his article will not realise this.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUIED

NEWBURY BRANGF GRAN'IS FOR RESTORATIONS.
The annual mecting of the Newbury Brapeh of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Newbury on Saturday, November 16th, when, despite a very wet dajy the attendance was good.

The Rectar' (the Rer. L. R. Majendie) dedicated two peal boards commemorating peals rung in November, 1922, and August, 1929, after which a short touch ai Grandsire Triples was rung by the members preseat, whose names appear un the boards, augmented by Miss V. Robinson, of Wokingham, and Mr. R. T. Hibbert, conducted by Mr. H. W. Curtis (captain of the tower).

Service was held in the larish Church, conducted by the Rev. A. Browning (Rector of Peasemore), the address being given by whe Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who preached from the text. Irom sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpezeth the countenance of his friend' (Proverbs xxvii. 17). The Rev. L. R. Majendie presided at the organ.
Ten was served in the Parish Room by Mus. H. W. Curtis, assisted by other ringers' wives, ard 58 sat down to an excellent meal.
Tlie business meeting followed, over which the chairman of the branclı (the Rev. L. R. Majendie) presided, supported by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Guild secretary), Mr. A. J. Wright (Guild treasurer), Rev. Fiugh Bonsey, Rev. A. Browning, and the hon. branch secretary and treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis)
The Secretary reported a very successful year ; the balance in 1928 was $£ 13 \mathrm{12}$ s. This year $£ 13 \mathrm{3s}$. had been voted to three towers for restoration, leaving an metual balance in hand of 5417 s .4 d .

The sum of $£ 2$ was voted from the branch fund to the Berkshire Twelve-bell Fund. ${ }^{\text {. }}$

The foremen of towers gave satisfactory reports.
The Master congratulated the Newlyury Branch on its meeting and its officers. He was giad to hear reports from nearly every tower in the brauch.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert atso spoke on behalf of the St. Lawreace Twelve-hell Fund, and the chairman promised to send £l.

Mr. A. J. Wright commended the brancla npon granting so much of the lalance to bell restoration.

Three new honorary members were elected, and 15 new ringing members were also enrolled.

The next meeting was fixed for Chieveley in February, and the spring meetiog for Thatoham in april.

The meeting closed with an expression of thanks to the Master, to the Rector, and to the ladies for ploviding tea.

Further ringing then took place until 9 p.m.

THE LATE CANON NOLLOTH.

HIS ASSOGLATION WITH BEVERLEY AND YORK MDNSTER BELLS.
The dealh of Ganon H. E. Nolloth, D.D., which we briefly recorded last week, removes a great lover of bells. Canou Nolloth was Vical of Beverley Mingter for 41 years, and during his jacurabency did a great deal to beatify the building, and le added the glorious ring of bells for which the Minster is famous. Fo ratired in 1921, but took an active part to getting Fork Minster bells and Great Peter recast.
During his long incumbency at Beverley, Ganon Nolloth spent a considerable amount of his private means in bentifying the church Lo which be was greatly devoted. He put in the fine mosaics and figures in the niches in the altar screen, stained glass windows in the transept, and a new organ case, and also erected the iron fencing round the churchyard; the last-mentioned work alone oost over £3,000. Oanon Nolnath was also responsible for the scheme he partly financed of filling in the niches in the exierior of the Minster with stone figures, and he and Mrs, Nolloth were generous benefactors in connection with the present peal of ten bells and clock which chimes on the peal and strikes on the great bell which hangs in the other tower.

When Canon Nollath left Beverley he gave the property he beld in the town to the Mimster for the improvement of the living. For several years be was a member of the East Riding County Council. As a Canon of York Dr. Nolloth frequently preached in Yark Minster, and since he went to live at Oxford continued to take his appointed tarn at the Minster.
Both Forle and Beverley owe much to Canon Nolloth in regard to their noble rings of bells, and a short time ago the York Minste: ringers made a prosentation to him in appreciation of the work lie bad done in connection with York Minster bells.
Canon Nolloth, who had been living at Oxford since 1921, had reached the advanced age of 84 years. Mrs. Nolloth survives her husband.

A FAMOUS BRISTOL GUILD.

THE ANTIENT SOCIETY OF ST. STEPHEN'S RINGERS.

Occasional references have been made in our columas to 'The Antient Sociery of St. Stephen's Ringers," an old Bristol Guitc, which is supposed to have been founded about the year 1620. There was a tradition that Queen Elizahell visited Bristol in 1574 anct expressed herself so pleased with St. Stephen's sweet bells of the Church of St. Stephen-the-Martyr, Bristal.

and graceful tower that she promised to give the ringers a charter. But the royal charter does not seem to have materialised. Perhaps Queen Elizabeth forgot about it. It has sometimes been stated that King' James I. rectified Elizabeth's omission, wut no charter has been found, nor any record of one, and there is no good reason to suppose there ever was one. Had a charter been issued by the Lord Chamberlain it would have recited the purposes for which the Guild was formed, given the names of those associated with its control, and probably the date of it loundation. The absence of such 'a document, and, indeed, of any other written record, prior to 1681, leaves the origin of the society entirely a matter of conjecture, and the numerous attempts made to ascertain its true lueginnings have not been attended by much success.
Probably the Guild had a very iuformal begimnine thatgh the Ordinances plainly indicate a religions foundation. The earliest of these Ordinances go no further bacle thas 1620, but there is clear indication in theni that the EL. Steplen's Ringers were already an ancient body, and local historians linve suggested thut it wat a preReformation society for religious, benevolent and social purposes. That fhey were urginally responsible for ringing St. Steplaca's hells is obvicus, but thal athivo connection with the church seems long since to have ceased. Here are two interesting extracts from the Ordinances:-
'If anyone of the said Company after the time he shall come int the Church shall be so satucy as to take the rope to ring before the Master and the eldest of the said Comprny who have been Masters shail be settled where they please to ring, the party so elfending shall pay for such his offence twopeuce, one pemy thercof to the soxton and the ather peuny to tho Company.

Jf athy of the said Company shall be so rude as to tum inte the Bedfry before to do kneel down and pray as every goud Christian ought to do, he shall pay for first oftenco sisponce, and for thic second the shall bo cast out of the Company."
The rurliest known minute hook of the society is of the year 1682 , and the iirst known Master was Thomas Atkins, elected in '1581, ithd wilh only one short break in the first half of the cithtienth century the list of Masters is complete to the present day. At first ald the members were acmal ringers, but by the close of the seronteenih contury mon-ringers were admitted, and gradunly the tinging eloment disapperred
The Guild has hati its ups and downs, and occasionally come near to extigetian, hut it never quite died. and io tho mid-ninetemth century began ils great work for the fabric aud emitelishneneat of the churels of St. Slephen. So, while the members never rang, they rendered a greal service to the church by nssisting wheu needful in the upkeep of the buildiug. Only a few Joars ago they sponl about $£ 2,000$ on the renovation of the tower:
Thero is one other feature which they have stendfastly maintained, and that is their annual feast, and from the bille of fare that hive come tiown to us, the menlbers have generuly managed to do themselves well.' The menu for une of The feusts in the forties of last century, for instance, contained three soups (molnding turtle), five kinds of fish, venison (in three forms), lamb, veal, ralves' heads, beef, tonguc and fowls, with dueklings, venison pastry, gosling, rodst elicken ant turker as entrees, three puddings anm dessert.
Even to-day the quality of ihe hanquets is maintained. The members and their guests dined tegether at the Rea Lodge, Rritiol, on Monday week, under the chairmanship of the Master, Mr. Fratucis N. Cowlin. The diners successfully negoliated a rederchié ment of ten courses, including the traditional turtle soup. There tere eight toasts, including one "To the memory of Good Queen Bess.' The ofld chservance of the "Procession of ithe Don" was honotred, the 'charter' was read, and the new Master (Capt. Mardon! installed. There was a distitguished company present, including the Lard Mayor and Sherifts of Bristol, and Sir Ernest Charles (Master of tha Merchant Venturers' Society), and daring tho eveniag an oddress and a silver salver were presented to Mr. H. E. Roslyn, in recognition of his services in compiling fund publishing a history of the Antient Society
The Church of St. Stophen-the-Martyr, Bristol, with which thy Antient Society is associated, is conspicuous for the elegance aud beauty of its tower. The church itself dates bate to 1304. and was rebuilt between the years 1450 and 1490 , the fretted tower, which is 133 feel high to the leads and 35 feek more to the tops of the pimaneles, heing erected in 1469. ## DEATH OF MRS. W. H THOMAS

W WLL, KNOWN BRISTOI, LADY RINGER
It is wifl great regrel, that we anoumeo the death, at the age of 46 years, of Mrs. William $H$. Thomes, wife of the popular president of the Rristal United Ringing Guikls.
Mrs. Thomas was ringing as recently as Armistice Day and Colstan Day (November 13th). It is presumed that she contracted a chili un Armistice Day, and tieath resuled from pneamonia and seplicremia 011 'I'uesday evening, November' 19tlı. Mr. I'homas was away traveling ati the time, and only reached home several lours after aleath hat taken places.
Decenad hari jung nine peals for the Gloucester and Bristol Dioecsan Assoniation, heing three of Stedman 'Triples, four of Stedman Caters and the treble to Cambidge Surprise Major and Royal.

Mr. Thomas leave日 thee sons, two of whom are ringers, Wilfred huing attached to Oxford Eniversity Guild, and Stanley, a useful member of St. Stephen's (fuikd, Bristol.

Mrs. Thomas, like her hushand, was very genial company, and the writer's mind is caryed back to thatay lappy ringing mectings which slat attemied during tille past few montis, one in particular across Hirr stroteh of Somerset from Pill to Clapton-in-Gordano.
Many happy memories of the deceased lady will be cherished, and ringers in the West, as weli as many other parts of England, who knew her, will extend deepest sympathy to Mr. Tbomas and his fanily in the great loss they lave sustained.

At St. Stopher's Gharch stie will be greatly missed, and the Bristol branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diogesan Association lias lost at valuable membor, who regulatly attended the meetings. E. G.

SILCHESTER '-AND THE TWO NEW METHODS.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir',-Mr. James askr, "What is it?' Personally, I think he onght to know. But if he has forgotten that the Central Cauncil hed a committee, named 'The Legitimate Molhods Committee," and that they liave given a definition for each class of metlood, he should kizow that the one in question js not a legitimate one, inammeh as the changes aro not all Triple changes, as it bas a doutnle change when the treble lies liev blows behind, and also when trehle leads when a bob (or single) is called. Had this method conformed to rule, I could have published it as long ago as 1902.

CLERGY AND RINGERS

To the Eator
Sir, Will you, through your columns, kindly voice the cry of at somewhat negleoted body of churchworkers, and submit its appeal both to the incumbents and fellow-workers everywhere, then on botil sides an emmest effort be matle to remedy a greatly regretted state of allairs?
Long and varied experience proves that bellingers note the abseace of their Ticars from the ringing chanbers, and we fear that in only too many instances they have adceptod the situation and look for nothing else. There are, of course, exceptions, but the rule, alas, is ouly too general.

On the other hand, elergy and congregations note the absence of the ringers from the services to which they have just been calling the parishioners. Here, again, there are exceptions, but the practice is yery common.
These topies were freely discussed at a recent meeting of bellringers, the outcome, Sir, being this reguest to voice the cry, hereby expressed:-

Could not all incumbents make their bellringers as sacred a charge as their Sunday School teachers or any other body of warkers? ${ }^{7}$
All present agreed that a warm welcome would be extended were incumbents regularly to visit their belfries, warmer still if they would set about aoquiring the art of change ringing; and would, without doubt, find the ringers respond to the changed attitude. The incumbents on their part would soon be able to rejoice over wingers joining in the worship to which they call others.
Signed on behalif of the meeting,

J. R. KING,  Vicar of Measiam.  JOHN LEACH.

Hon. Secretary,
November 24th, 1929.
Burton-on-T'rent Distriet,

DEATH OF MR. J H GARTSIDE

EARLY LINK WITH LANCASHIFE ASSOCIATION,
The death of Mr. John Henry Gartside, of Chorley, Lancs, removes another of the few survivars of the first days of the Lancashire Association. Mr. Gartside died on November 18 th at the age of 75 years, and by his passing Chorley loses one of its most respected inhalnitants and the Churcle one of its most stalwart sons. He was a man of many activities, and in all he andertook he faboured unostentatiouslyr but thorouglaly. Born on January 8b1, 1855, Mr. Garbside hegan work in his father's plumbing and painting business at eleven Jears of age, and after his father's death he carvied on the business with Mr. S. J. Gartside. Familiarly known as "Jolm Fenry," the deceased devoled a great deal of time to religious and friendy socicty work.

His connection with the Chorley Parish Church and Sunday School extended over the long period of 66 years, commencing as a Sunday School scholar. He wias for over 40 years a Surday gchoal teacher, and held the long-service bronze medal of the Manchester diocese. He was a member of the church choir for over 15 years, became a bellringer at the age of $I 5$ years, and served 39 years in this capacity, he had been treasurer of the Parish Church Schools for 30 years, and for 25 successive jears was re-elected people's warden, vetiring in 1924. He had also been Sunday school librarian avd stpperintentient for a shors period.
Mr. Garcside was present at either the first or second meeting conrened for the formation of the Lancashire Association, which was held at St. Georee's School, Chorley, in 1876 . There arg still une or two left who were present at that meeting, one being Mr. Tohn Marsden, who still riners regularly at Chorley Parish Clurch. Mr. Gartside was the president of the Lancashire Six-Bell Association, which was dissolved just pribr to the Great War, the members of the society being absorbed by the present Lancashire Association. Owing to lais other church duties, Mr. Gartside had mot been actively assooiated with ringing for a lon mumber of years, but his place las been taken by his son, Mr. J. H. Garkside, jun., who is more widely knowa to present-day mombers of the Fxercise as a good ringer, especially ous the heavy end. He las recently rumg the tomor to the two heaviest peals of Minor rung by the Lancashive Assaciation. Mr. Garkside, sen.'s, connection with friendy society work was almost lifelong, and in addilion to being for over 58 Jears" standing an Ordfellow in which he served in all the lodge and district oflices, his grealest interest was in tho Loyal Order of Ancient Shepherds, in which be rose to the highest office of Chief Sheplierd of die Order in 1906.
The funeral took place on Friday amid every matifestation of regret. In addition to the family mourners, there were in lage number of representatives of local organisations, itrolung the riogers, whose doral tribute was in the shape of a bell. The service was ehoral, and the bells were rung half-mullited.
On Sunday morning, as a last token of respect, before the moming service, a quarter-pal of Grandsite Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled: H. Fisher 1, H. Foster 2. 'I'. Lofthouse 3. F. Southwortin 4, J. F. Gartside, jun., 5, F. Rigby (conductor') 8. W. Blackiedge 7, G. Hewitt 8.

CLERGY AND RINGERS.

The appeal, which appeared in our last issue, for a closer interest in their ringers on the part of the clergy, particularly, and their fellow churchworkers, generally, is one which, althoughi often made in various quarters, will stand reiteration. Big advances in this direction have been made during the present century, but there is, frankly, still much to be desirec. There was a time, as we all know, when, in the vast majority of parishes, the tower was a place entirely apart from the church, and the ringers were looked uporn as a body of men whose acquaintance was not to be encouraged by 'respectable ' people. That state of things has happily gone for ever, thanks in the first place to the reforming zeal of the various associations and guilds, which have placed ringing on a higher plane and brought into the belfries a totally different type of ringer. Many of the clergy thankfully recognise this, and many others, when occasion arises, do lip service to the labours of the ringers. But a large number of clergy still take no interest, either in ringing, as one of the arts of the church, or in ringers as churchworkers and part of the church organisation. There is probably no section of church life in which the clergy as a whole take so little personal interest as in the bell ringers and anything which can be done to improve matters in this direction is well worth the eflort. It is quite true that if the ringers saw more of the parsons in the belfry, the parsons would see more of the ringers in the church, and this point is well emphasized in the appeal to which we have referred.

Good in every direction would accrue from a more sympathetic relationship between ringers and clergy. Fortunately the persistent activities of our associations have brought about this better understanding in numerous instances, but much remains to be done. There are churches where the ringers seem to be merely 'tolerated ' by the incumbent; there are others where, if the parson realises their existence, he entirely ignores them, except in the exercise of his veto to stop peal ringing. We do not say that there are never faults on the other side. There constantly are; but we do say that it is the duty of the incumbent to show the same consideration for and the same interest in the work of the ringers as he displays in that of any other body of workers. The interest of the clergy in the activities of the ringers helps to maintain the company at full strength, by making the ringers realise that their services are really appreciated. This, in turn, ensures the regular ringing of the bells Sunday by Sunday, and also secures the maintenance of the belis in an (Continued on page 770. ) efficient state. And not only is an incumbent's interest in the ringers repaid in the directions thus indicated. If one of his chief aims is to see the ringers as often in the pews as at the rope-ends, he will find there is no surer way of achieving this than by the encouragement which his frequent presence in the belfry would give.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER AND ENGLISH BELLS,

SUGQESTED PUROHASE WHERE THERE ARE NO RINGERS.
'The 'S.O.S.' which went out from Ehalesworth, Sufolk, for ringera las baen "pickeil up" iti nll parle of tho world. Many of the English newspaners copied it, nnd it alco found its way into Americen journale. Here is what a Aaltimaro newspaper had to say about it under the healing of 'Old Fuglaud's Bells '-and if any Engligh parish oannot find xingeis, the oppartanity apparently offers to sell the bells to the Amerisans, who are aut to buy anything with a real old Engliah flavour about $\mathbf{j t}$ :-

A briof diapateh from Halesworth, a little village deep in Suffolk, tells of the lack of inkerest among the young Falesworthians in tho time-honoured art of bellinging. The ten ringers now practising tatal mare" than 700 years in nge, and they have no suecesbors in sight. Thut is to say, one of England'a finestr traditions is in danger of remes. y .

This clisis, if it be one, doce not affect Americs directly. Belgian curillons, operatey froms u keyboard by a single player, aro becoming poparlar in this counlry, but the English bell ringing by bands of from fivo to ten ment is not kwown. To its advocated thie is sad, for they claim r. finer performance by hand then is possible through the use of any machincur. The pure tonte is beard, so they say, when the clapper and boll ruing together by gravity. And certainly there is a epirit of good fellowship in a band of hellringers which a carillon operator canant devalup in himself. To be sure, boll ringing in England at one tinsk served as an raljunct of the nearest pothouse, but in recont yeare it has regained ital higher standing, and tho alien who hears a "I'reble Bob Major" on a fine Sunday morning lias gained a memory whinh whan his double about the narme cannot weaken. Or a "plain course" of "Grandsica Triples"-the nomenclature is charmingly antiquo and correspondingly abscuro to the uminitiated.

Cals "thofficient Americe taka np this highly technicel art? It is pessithle. If bell ringing in roally lapsing in England, the bells will remain ancl ean perthas be haught for the edification of the New World. In fact, thas suggestion ahould be mado serionaly to Hajedworth. II, ufter that, they camot get voluntears to halp out their serex ringers, thay havo no right to the bells.

This quarter-peal was rung as a last foken of respect to the late MrCharles Grenves Vincent, aged 91, who was elected honorary treasurer of the ringers in 1886, when the belis were dedicated, and held this office continuously for many yeare, when, owing to his ripe sge, his son, Major C. W. Vincent, took over the duties of treasurer.

PETERBOROUGE DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very enjoyable meating of the Peterborough Branch of the Peterborougl Diocesan Guild was held at Doeping St. Jamea on Saturduy, November 2nd, and was well attended by mombers and ringing friends from Northampton, Peterbereugh, Market Deeping, West Deoping, Deeping St. Nicholag, Spalding, Bourne, Edmonthorpe, Wymondham and the local bend. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. on this fine peal of bells, and warious methods were rung prior to the Guild service, which was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. Pain).
An excellent tea was provided by Mrs. Patworth, 15 sitting down. Afterwards the Master of the Guild (Mr. F. Wilford) pregided over the short business meeting.
It was left to the seeretary to liry aud arrange a joint meeting with the Ely Diocesar Association at March carly in the new year. A vote of thanks was accorder to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and also to the organist for presiding at the organ.
The methodg rung during the aflernoon ond evening Were Plain Bob, Court Bob, Double Oxfort, Owford and Konl Treble Bob, Cambridge, London, Primrose and Ipswich Surprise.

SPLICED DOUBLE OXFORD & ST. CLEMENT'S TRIPLES BY A. J. PITMAN.  234567 Start Double Oxford.

SEVEN DIFFERENT 720＇s．

To the Editor．

Dear Sir，－Our band is just getting well enough advanced to ring peals on six bells．Will some reader of your paper kincly tell us what exactly is＇seven different 720 ＇s＇？Daes it mean that there must be seven different compositions，or could the same composition be used，making a different bell the observation，which would thus produce the 720 changes in a different order ${ }^{\text {P }}$

Also，is it permissible to ring six 720 ＇s of Bob Mipor and 720 of Grandsire Doubles and call it a peal？Recently a peal was rung at Brierley Hill，which was a mixture of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples．Is it permissinle to do the same thing on six bells？Our band would be interested to know．－Yours，efe．，

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR

 PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

At Howden, Yorks, a mau has been committed for trial, charged, on his own confessiou, with having set fire to the church. The fire destroyed the magnificent tower and bells, as well as the chancel, and damage estimated at over 10,000 was cone.
The first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung by the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild at Portsmouth was rumg on Saturday last, and the band wish to associate with it the name of Mr. F. A. Burbett, who, although taking part in the practices, was tuable, through indisposition, to take part in the peal.
It was on this day in the year 1731 that a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Michanl at Coslany, Norwich, by the rivals of the St. Peter Manoroft company, who had rung the first peal in the melhod about six weeks earlier. There was a great deal of local feeling zbout these performances, and it is evident that the Coslany rimgers doubted the truth of the Mancroft peal.
The tablet in St, Michael's belfry states: 'In this steejple, on the sixth of December, 1731, was Rung that most Incomparable as well es Intricate Peal of Stedman Triples, which had been long ye Study of many well skilled in the Art of Ringing, but without success, till Edwatd Crane, one of the company, with much prins and application brought it to perfection with two Doubles. This peal contailus 5,040 Triple changes, 2 Doubles only excepted, and is allowed by all Judges of the Art to be the most Ingenious Peal that till now has been composed.'
On December 8th, 1883, the ' five onos' of Stedman Caters (11,111 changes) was rung at Fulharin by tho College Youths. Youth as well as experience took part in that peal of 47 years ago, for there arc still several of that band alive, ineluding Frank Dawe, Jack Rowbotham, Challis Winaey and Walter Prime. The two latter regularly take their place at St. Paul's Cathedral every Gunday, and Walter Prime, who rang the tenor at Fulham, is stifl to be seen an the tenor box at St. Paul's.
By contrast, it was only two years earlier, viz, on Decemher 10th, 1881, that the first peal was rung ad St. Paul's Cathedral, yet all the 13 men who took part in that memorable performance lave gone from us. Jim Petit (who alled both), George Mash, Ted Horrex and Jack Hayes took part in the two peals.
Painswick, which is shorlly to be the scene of anotiner recorchbreaking peal attempt, hold the Trehle Bob Maximus record for nearly eighty years with a peal of 10,224 rung on December 9th, 1833.

In the paragraph which we printed in our issue of Novewber 22 nd with regard to peals rugg at Southwell Cathedral, one peal was omitted. Mr. E. H. Lewis writes that the Cambridge Eniversity Guild rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major there in 3 hrs. 30 mins. on August 3ist, 1906, conducted by H. G. T. Richardson (now the Rew.).

The peal of Spliced Oxford and Kent Treble Bob at, Neweastle-onTyne, and recorded last week, was rung on Wednesday, Novernbr 20th, not Tuesday, the 19th, as reported.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT AT BANSTEAD.
A very pleasant meeting of the North-Western District was held at Banstead on Saturday, when, despite the unsettled weather, thirty members and friends attended during the afternoon and evening from Banstead, Beddington, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Epsom, London, Merstham, Mitcham, Rickmansworth, Wandsworth and Watford. Ringing commenced at 4 o'clock, and good use was made of the lells until service time. Service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Canon F. N. Skene). Tea followed in the View Tea Rooass, where 26 sat down to a very enjoyable meal. The Vicar presided at the business meeting afler tea, supported by the Master of the Association (Mr. D. K. C. Birt) and the District Master (Mr. A. W. Clarke).

The election of Mr. A. J. Smith, of Leatherhead, previous to a peal atternpt was ratifed
It was decided if Camberwell bells were not available for the district annusi meeting that the secretary try and arrange it at Kingston on the fourth Saturday in January if possible.

BANSTEAD CHURCH.
A very heaply vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bolls and for conducting the service, Mr. F. N. Pitstow for kindly playing the organ, and Mr. F. G. Woodiss for the help he gave in arranging the meeting.
The Vicar suitahly replied, saying how plensed he would bo to wel come the associatian at Banstend at any time. The tower was again wisited, end ringing continued until 7.30, when to everybody's regret xinging land to cense owing to a concert in the Parisl Room. Methods practised during the meeting ranged from Grandsire 'Lriples to Bristol Surprise Major.
Banstead belis are a ring of eigit recast, from a mixed octave, by Mesgrs. Gillett and Johnston in 1921, and they are rung from the ground floor. The former trebles were by Warner in 1892, but the others were ancient castings, one of them, the 6th, baving come from the Whitechapel Fountry in 1585, and being the work of Mot: It was inseribed 'Robertus Mot me fecit, 1585.' The other bells were as follow: 3rd, B.E., Gloria Deo in Excelsis, IG38 (cast by Fldridge) ; 4th, William Carter made me, 1613: 5th, Thomas Mears, Fecit 1791: 7tll, Lester and Pack, of London, fecit, 1756: tenor, Williaz Eldridge made mee, 1661 , I.L., S.L., Churchwardens. There were 'V belles in the steple' as long ago as Edward VI.'s reign.

SURPRISE MAXIMUS.

IPSWICH BAND RING YET ANOTHER 'FRST.'
The peal of Xorkshire Surprise Maximus rung at Ipswich on November 30 th is the first peal of Maximus ever rung in this raethod. The figures were published by Mr. Arthur Craven in 'The Iinging World.' It is very musical, as the bells work in their correct coursing order, both before and belind, with very little exception.
St. Mary-le-Tower Society thank a well-known East Anglian ringer, now resident in Loudon, for bringing the methol to their notice. They heve now rung peals in len different Maximus methods since 1921.
It is worthy of note that the first peals of the only four Surprise Maximus methods practised have been rung at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, viz.:-

August 15th, 1908: Cambridge Surprise Maximus,
April 30tb: 1927: Superlative Surprise Maximus.
December 8th, 1928: New Cambridge Surprise Maximus.
November 30th, 1929: Yorkshire Surprise Meximus.

THE BELLS IN NORWICH DIOCESE.

MANY UNRTYGABLE PEALS

In an article which he has contributed to the 'Norwich Diocesan Gazette,' Mr. Arthur L. Colemau, hon. secretary of the Norwich Diocesau Association, has taken the opportunity of explaining the deceutralisation scheme which the association has just put into operation, and points out that the object is to strengthen the work of che organisation in the diocese by getting into closer touch with the clergy and the young men of the parishes as recruits for the belfries. Xoung ringers, he says, are much needed at flre present time for the regular ringing of our bells for Sundny services. There are in the diocese eighty-eight rings of five bells, seventy-two riags of six bells, thirty-five rings of eight bells, three rings of ten bells, and two rings of twelve bells, making a total of 200 rings, whict would require 1,206 ringers. It is a very deplorable fact that a very large percentage of those rings of bells are unringable. Even such being the case there is a great shortage of ringers. Although our total membership of all grades numbers 806, less than half that number reside in Norfolk. Of recent yoars the membership of the clergy has greatly fallen off, not one-third of what it once was; hut for the good feeling and help received from the clergy the association could not exist, and without ringers our church bells could not he rung to summon the people to divine morship.
The relationship between clergy and ringers is a vital and mutual one; they stand and fali togeher, in this particular hrancla of Cburch work. On the matter of so many unringalle peals of bells in the diocese, it is too often assumed that chureh bolls, once hong, require little attention. Up in the windy heiglats of lowers they hang, unvisited by Chureh autharities and Church officiels. Who caro little to keep such valuable property in repair and in good order for ringing. Too often our bells and belfries are found to be the dirtiest place in our parishes-a veritable disgrace that it should be so in a consecrated portion of the church. It woukd he an excellent way for Archdeacons and Rural Deans at their periodic visitations to inspect the bells and belfrics, and to see that the clergy and churchwardens ac least keep them in a presentahle state.
One of the surest safeguards for keeping a ring of bells in permanent repair is to organise a good company of change ringers, who will in their own interest and love for the bells look aftor them, and with the co-operation of the clergy and clurchwardens mecet the little expenses yearly needed to keep a peal of bells in excollent condition for long periods. It would be 110 difftenit maiter for a secretary of a diocesme or county nssociation to state cases of rings of bells, restored, say, fifty years ago-ane with $n$ company of change ringers, the other without any ringers. In the former case the ring of bells would be found in as good a state of repair as when re-stored-the latter case, with never a bund of ringers to see aftor the bells and so left unattented, unvisited by the Church authorities, and thus left for fifiy years, would become unringable and in need of restoration at heary expense to put them in ringable order. We would commend the work of the nssociation to the clergy and churchwardens of tho diocese, and in theing so appoal for thoir cooperation in manning our belfries with young ringers and for tha care of our boautiful bells. To many of tho clergy we owe a deep delot of gratitude, who have always on overy occasion at our meetings so kindly granted us the use of their bells and, whenever pojsible, co-operated with us by being present at the association mentings.
Finally, we would bring before the clergy and laity that change ringing is an art and a science well worthy of their attention and interest.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

SOUTH NORFOLF BRANCH INAUGURATED

A gemersl meeting of the Solath Norfolk Brameh of the assaciation, the third of a series ander the new conslitution, was, by kind perthission of the Rector (the Rev. Ralpli L. Whytehead) held in the Vnshar of the Parish Church of St. Mary, Diss, on Saturday, Noremther 23 rud, for the electian of afleers and commitae. Thie Rector [ntesided, and supportiag lim wore Mr. Arthur L. Colemen (gencral Aectetaty and tireasurerl, Mr. William Trelnurl (distriet secretary for Dissi, and members from Diss, Dicklelnugh, Garboldisham, Noich Lupham, Palgrive, Wymondham, etc.
The Gencral Sceretary, in Ais intraductory vemarks, said the decantralising scheme by the formation of forn branches was a move in the right direction. It lud one vary great ndvantage, that it wotad give to many more menubers an opportunity for active work or thr committee of their respestive branches, with full liberty to curry on the basiness of their branches for the welfare of the associntion. It was for the memberg to precect to eleet chaimant, secrethrs, and committee for the Soulh Nortulk Bramelt of the association. IMe Rev. Ralph L. Whytehend was olected chairman, Mr, F. A vote of thanks was passed to the Kev. Ralph L. Whytelead for die use of the vesiry, and also for the use of the bells. "The Reetor The mumbers thes atjaumed to the beltey for riaging.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

Deav Sir,-In reply to "Northern President"s" query re bearings for chureh bells, I am of firm opimion that ball races of the selfaligning radial type, with two rows of balls, of proper diameters to deul with the lodd, are far superiou to plain bearings.

The use of ball beariags is rapidly growing to nearly every class of machinery, and their durability has been put to severe tests. For charch bell work, lowaver, they seen to be spceially suifed.
A few points, in lawour may be acceptable. In a swinging bell the load is without shock, the dificultieg of lubricetion are entirely overcome, ns when once packed with grease the bearing neads mo sttention for years, the bearing is about half the width of a plain bearing (space is often precious in the belfry), the bearing is always in aecurate alignment, so that, if woodwork is used, a small shrinkage dives not upset matters. In case of renewal they can be fitted at a small cost by an unskilled man, and can be easily obtained.
From a ringer's point of view, the perfect going bell is that without friotion or any ather force acting on the bel! other than that put on the end of the rope. The co-efficient of friction is much less for a ball cace thati for a welt lubricated plain bearing.
I may add that I ara in 130 way connected with any bell founders, but am speaking entirely from the stanchoint of int engimear, who happens to be ituterested, and who is a vinger. - Yours iaftifully,

GNGINEER.

TOO COSTLY?

Dear" Sir,-In your issue of November 22nd, "Northern Prejident' inquires about the "merits' of ball bearings, i.e., "guls metal or others, the hells in question having a 12 cwt tenor. My answer to this is that bells of this weight do not require wall bearings; they go quite ensily ewough if hung properly in the old style. Bells of, say, 17 cot. and over may racelve thege bearings witl advanture, I whs recently ghown a "ball bearing" (nol gun mekal), opinion this is too exponsive, and they are quite unnecesary for light bells.- Yours fuithfully, ANON. Bath and Wells Association.

Ipswich.

FOUR ASSOCIATIONS MEET.

COMBINED GATHERING A'I CLAVERLEY.

The picturesque village of Claverley, situtated in bive county of Salo, on the border of Starordshirc, was the place chosen for a Shropshire Association, the Worcestervhire and Districts Association and the Stafiord Archdeaconry Society. The following towers were represented: Coalbrookdale, Ironbridge, Broseley, Bricgnorth, "Brierley Hin, Fradley, Walsall, Wolwerhampton, Tettealall, Swindon (Stafs), Brewood, Coventry, Croydon and the local tower. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. A. J. Skelding (hov. secretary of the Worcestershite and Districts, Northern Branch), and Mr. F. Baker (lon. secretary of the Shropshire Association, Bridgnorth Branch), who had returned from hospital only two days before.
The ancient church now possegses a fine zing of eight bells which hava recently been augmented from sis, four of the old ones bawiug hoen reluned, two recast, and two new ones added, the whole beines hung, on ball bearings in an iron frame, by Messre. Gilleti and Jolnston. Hoth the tone nnd "go of the hells gave great setisfaction, the general apinian being that it was an admirable splice. Tho muthods rung inchaded Grandsive Doubles and Triples, Stedmant Triples, Prain Fobland Keut Trehle Bob Major, Double Norwich and Cambridge Supprise, us well as rounds and call changes for the local learners.

Tea whs served et the Crown Hotel, which was greatly enjoyed 'Ithe Vicar Rev. Ralph Guy), after giving the company a warm welcome, delighted his hearers with some humorous tales, fresh from the Mint. Handbeil ringing followed, including Grandsire Caters, Stedman Triples and Oaters, those taking part heing R. Pickering, H. Knight, F. W. Pervens, J. Perry, E, F. Mitchell, and W. Saunders. A return to the town for an trour ar so concluded what might well be termed a sucessful venture.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUHLD.

COMPETITION FOR OFEICES IN CHERTSEY DISTRECT.

The Chertaey District of the Guildford Diocesas Guild held a meeting at Esher on Salurday. Some very useful six-bell practice was pht in by the two dazen ar so vingers who attended and who came from Hersham, Walton, Ottershaw, Thames Ditton, Oaflands Park, Fisher, Cobham, Guidfford (S. Nicolas'), Loatherbead, Alecshot, Woking and St. Peter's, Croydon.
The service was conducted by the Rector ( $\mathrm{Dr}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Floyer), who also played the organ, and gave an address, in which he pointed out that suctess in the work for the chureh needed the sane qualities of enthusiasm, concentration and co-operation that were required for success in the belfry.
The busimess mating was held after tea, when Admiral T. P. Walker presided. Nominations were receiven for the officers for next year. Mr. H. Hancock was again Honsinated for the post of bow. sireretory. The District Ringing Master (Mr. F. J. Chaffeg) was renominated, and, at his own suggestion, in ordet to give members a choiee, Mr. F. E. Hawthome was also nominated, although, the latter was reluctant to let his uame go forward Thero is to be competition for the two places on the Exective Committee, four names being put forward in addition to thoge of the two rehing members. The Rev. W. N. Willis (Ottershaw) was renominated as the represenlative of the hon members.

A vote of thanks was accorded, on the motion of the chairmen, to [Jr. Floyer for the use of tho bells and for the service, and to Mr. Fifistowe of the Esher band for his share in the successful arrangements.
A short but juteresting discussion afterwards took place on the best means of altainumg good strikimg.
The ringing during the dity incluted Grandsire and Stedmar Doubles, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor, while, yielding to the pressure of the progressuists, some of the amateurs tried their prentice hands at Oxford Bob, Double Oxford and Double Bob.
Esher Pas"ish Church is a comparatively aew struature, and stands in a perfectly kept churchyard, which tas an unusual number of handsome memorials to the dead. In the tall spire there is a light ring of six belis, which were put in in 1853 . In the now dismantled oid charch there were, at the time of the Edward YI. Inventory, "iij belles iu the steplo and a land bell." There was also a tradition liat there was in the tower at one time a bell said to heve been brought from San Domingo hy Sir Francis Drake. It bave no inscription. It was probahly only fahle; it was mueh more likely to lave been a bell given to the chureh, sayg at Surrey historian, by a Mr. Francis Drake who owned the manor in James L's time.

SEVEN-BELL METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I do nat think that Mr. Craven is quite accurate in his remarks aboul Triple Methods. It is quite true that a section of the Exercise has all along held that seven-bell ringing should be continuous triple changes. It is quite true, also, that some of our leading authorities inotably Rev. C. D. P. Davies and, I think, Sir Authur Feywood) have maintained lhat seven-bell methods which are not continuous triple changes are not legilimate. But the Exercise, as a whole, has ouver said so. Nor did the Methods Committee or the Centra! Council ever say so. The Methorl Report says that a seven-bell method which has not cantinuous triple clanges cannot be considered 'perfect.' This was a concession to the abore opinion. $\mathrm{N}_{\mathrm{y}}$ own view, arrived at after examining several thousands of methods, is that the regular suecession of the nature of the rowe $j$ sometimes of great importance in gelting true peals, but otherwfsc of no importance at all. The only real teat of a method's value is its suitability for minging in the tower. Judged by that gtandard, Waterloo Reverac Bob (which is the correct namo for Silehester) is an excellent mettod, decidedly better than Stedman. You mey judge of this matter by asking yourgelf this question: Is Oxford Treble Bob so very much better than Kent, or Superlative so very mach betber than Cambridge, or Norfolk Stu'prise so very much hetter than Bristol?-Yours,

> J. A. TROLLOPE.

A FRIEND OF WENHASTON RINGERS

On Thursday afternoon, November 21st, there was haid to rest in the quiet churelygard of St. Peter's, Wenhastom, Sufolk, the remains of the late Mr. E. Hardingliam, father of the Viear, and an honorary member of the Suffols Guild of Beliringers, who had reached the ripe old age of 87 years.
Tha deceased gentleman took a grea! interest in all matlers connected with the church, especially the choir and bellringers, and was beloverl and estcomed by all with whom he came in contact.
The bells of the Parish: Church were ring nuffled in the afternoon, and again in the eveming, seretal 360 's and ather touches of Bob Minor being, rung by: Messrs. Bnm Ellis, A. Leech, G. and E. Stockdale, R. Roberts, R. Pearce Hum G. Pearce, of the local conspany; F. G. Lambert (district sectetary), A. H. Took (Halesworth), sud J. Puncherd (of Bramfield).

A PARISH CLERK OF 1710.

BY ' CASCABLE.'
The following is a skit -political, of caurse-by Jonathan Ewift, the famous Dean. It, however, throws some very intereating sidelights on pariah life of the period.

Yot, be it acknowledged that at the age of sixteen I became a company-keeper, being led into idle cotuversation by my extraordinary love to ringing: ingumuch that in a shart lime fisa mequainted with every eet (sic) of bells in the whole country; neithor could I bo prevailed upon to absent myself from wakes, being called thercunto by the harmony of the etecple.

While I was in these societies I gave myself up to unspirituri! pastimes, wuch as wresting, dancing, mud cudgel-playing, so that $r$ often returned to my father's house with a broken pate. .. "What man is there, howsonvor dexterous in any craft, who is for aye on his guard "?"

This outspokon individual also took the tenor to a peal on one momentous occasion, followed by $\mathrm{F}_{\mathrm{c}}$ 'beano' over whose details we will draw a veil.
To procesd: 'No sooner was I elected into mine affice parish clerky but I laid asido the powdered gatautries of my youth, and became a mew man. . . I was deternined to refarm the manifold corruptiona and abuses which had crept into the church. Firgt, I was epecially sevore in whipping fortli doge from the temple, axcepting the lap-dog of the good widow Moward, which folped not, not was thero offence in his mouth. Secondly, I did even proceed to morogencse, thougl oore agninet my heart, unto poor habes, in toaring from them the apples which they privity munched at church. Thirdly, with the sweat of my own hands I did mako plain end smooth the doge-ears throughout our great Bible.

Ho appeared to be a nan of many parta. Tisten to this: *Sinons did I make, and if entreated mend, with good approbation; faces alas did I shave, and I clipped the hair. Chinurgery I also practised in the worming of dogs; but ta bleed adventared I not; except tha poor. I once han the honour of tumming gir Thomas bimself without feteling blood. Furthermore I was sought unto to geld the indy Frences her spaniel, whidh was wont to go astray; he was colled Toby, that is to say, Tohias.... We Had London singing-masters pariahioners in titis mew manner of worghip. What though they eccuse me of humaning through the nestril as a sackbut; yet would I not forego that harmony, it having been agreed ly the worthy parish clerks of London ta proserve the same. I tutored the young men and maidens to tune their voices, $n s$ it were, with a pailtery, and the church on the Sunday was filled with these new hallelujalis."
Finally, he is overpowered with vanity. He firgt attempta to give hinta to young curates low to preach, following on to higher game nntil ha finaliy lets himself go on Dr. Selioverell and politics generally.

Although the biter Denil has used this fictitious charneter to vilify a great and good man, wa can, newertheless, casily deduca from hik general and vivid description what the life of a perish clerk must have been in Queen Anne's reign.
Says Swift: 'In the chumbard (no unmo mentioned) I read tbis epitaph, said to be written by himalf (i.e., thes

O reader, if that thou canse, rea
Look down upon this stone:
Do all we can, Dealh is a man
That never spareth none.'
If this epitaph is not fictitious, then it belonga to an individual named Paul Phillips. Other parishes mentioned in the full narrative aro Milton, Yelverton and Wayhrook.
Can readers bay, please?

BROADCAST RINGING AND CHIMING.

The following appeared in inst weck's issue of 'The Rndio Tines":
"As a regular reader of "The Radio Times," may I make a suggestion thet when Sunday serwees are relayed from various churchus and ave preceded by bells, some distinction might be made in the anmouncensent, so that listeners maty know beforchant if the bells are to be scientifically ruug or mochanically chimed? Trke, for example, serwices relayed from St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London, and also trom St. Mavtin's Pealish Clurch, Birninglam, buth amnancements are liended in the same way, viz., "Tho Bells," and yet the formet consist of one maus "clanging" out hynith tuhes, etc., on th chiming mathime, whilst the latter is proper change ringing by a competent band of fingers. The two performances do mot begr cont parison. Might the word "olamen " or ${ }^{44}$ rung" be inserted naxher "The Bells" (as the exse may be) in order tliat listeners mayt bo forewarned ${ }^{\circ}-F$. C. T.'
Bravo! F. C. T., writes 'F. W. T.,' and se say all of us! And might not the 'chimer' at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Landon, be asked to canfino his efforts to the playing of hymu Lumes only, and to kindly tofrain from inflicting his atfenpts ot "changes" upors ibe sensilive cet's of charge ringers?

CONDITIONS FOR PEALS.

When a departure is made fron a well-defined practice in ringing, complications inevilably arise, often in a direction which the originators of the innovation did not anticipate. During the last three or four years, there have occasionally been rung peals on eight bells, in which Triples and Major have been spliced together and on ten bells in which Caters and Royal have been spliced. Now the question has been asked, Is it permissible to ring a mixture of Doubles and Minor and call it a peal? It is a pertinent question, and one which requires a definite ruling. There will doubtless be divergent views held on this question, but as things stand, it is difficult to see how any differentiation can be made between the practice on eight and ten bells and the application of similar prin ciples on six bells. If Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters can be combined in a peal; and Bob Major and Grandsire Triples, why not Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles? But if this last is to be admitted, it is going to add further complications to the definition of what shall constitute a six bell peal?

The present rules of the Central Council, although they have been amended to provide for the splicing of methods when they are of like nature, for instance, all Major, as in the ten method Surprise peal recently rung, or all Triples, did not contemplate the splicing together of odd and even bell methods, and it is open to question whether such performances are strictly entitled to be recognised under 'the conditions required for peals.' There is certainly no provision for ringing both Minor and Doubles in the same peal. In the case of Triples combined with Major it would seem to depend on whether the definition of a peal on seven bells (with or without a covering bell) applies to such a performance. At present the rule requires, in a peal on seven bells (and when it was framed it was doubtless intended to apply to all peals in which Triples are rung), that ' the number of changes be not less than 5,040 rung . . . without interval, being the extent of the changes in the method or methods chosen. . . .' The definition of a peal on eight is wider-4 that there be not less than $5 ; 000$ true changes rung without interval '-and it is only if this rule can be construed into including Triples, and if Triples, spliced into a peal with Major is excluded from the other definition, that Spliced Triples and Major can be strictly recognised as a peal. The position with regard to Caters and Royal is, perhaps, a little less questionable, for the rule as to Caters states that there shall be not less than 5,000 true changes . . . with the addition of a covering bell,' while that relating to Royal is exactly the same as for Major.

BMETHWICK, No. 18.

Telegraphic Addres: 'BELLS, SMETHWICE'

Undoubtedly the whole question requires clarifying. Either the Council must discourage the splicing of odd and even bell methods in peals, or they must amend the rules so that this new development in ringing is ' legalised.' The definition of a peal of Minor is likely to be again in the melting pot; it might, therefore, be a good thing if the whole of the 'conditions' for peals were overhauled. It seems rather obvious that the position cannot remain as it is, otherwise the whole of the rules governing peals might as well be scrapped, and that would be a distinctly retrograde step to take.

BUSY LOUGHBOROUGH BELL FOUNDRY.

It will wo dondt be of interest to many of our readers to note the wonderful capacity which the Loughborough Bell Foundry has for turning out work, their bell haggers being engaged on no less than ten different jobs, all of which ale to be compleied this month. The following list gives details of these particular restorations, etc:
Shirley, Warwickshire, augmenting peal of five to six and banging, in a new iron frame, with moderw littings.
Bradden, Northants, reasting the riug of five and hanging wits modern fittings in the existing framework.
Whimple, Devon, rehanging peal of six with nodern fittiags in new casli-iron frame.
Claybrooke, Leicestershire, recasting the treble of four and adding four new trebles to complete the ring of eight, and hanging, with modern filtings, in new cast-iron framework.
Yatesbury, Wilts, adding new treblo to ring of four and banging, wich modern fitimgs, in a now iron framework designed for six bells.
Radstock, Somerset, adding new tenor to make ring of six, and hanging with modem littings in oak bell frame.
Tilsworth, Beds, recnsting ring of five into peal of six, and hanging, with modern fittings, in new cast-iron framework.
Thatcham, Berks, adding two trebles to complete the ring of eight, and hanging, with modern fittings, ill new cast-iron iramework.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

MELTING AT ASHTEAD

The Leatherlaead District held ita Inst district mecting for the year at Ashtend on Saturday, and ghod progress was made in Heveral directions, The attendance was small, only 16 ringers putting in an appearance from the following towers: Ashtead, Banstead, Epson (St. Martin's), Haslomere, Dorking, Leatherhead, Woking and Guldford (Cathedral). Actually only 12 district members were present. "This is not gonl enough, and does not vepay the efforts of the men who try to make these meetings a success, Mothods ranging from Girandsire Doubles to Bristol Surprise Major wore proctiseri wilh var ying degvees of suctess. Some nseful 'spade work " was accomplished, and all enjoged itheir practice on this handy ring of bells, which lave probably been mote "worked" by peal fiende than any other tower in the diocese.

The Rector, Rer. IE. J. Austin, conducted the service, and in an impromptu talk welcomed tho ringers to Ashtead. Ha mentioned the fact that he had never before been in charge of a church which possessed a pea! of pells, and said that he bad grown to love them, ats alan had his parishioners (a remarle which will doubtless delight the siad "peal fiends'). He outlined the work of ringers and its value to the Clucch, and his address was much enjoyed by all.
Tea followed the service, and was partaken of at Evelyn's Tea Room. The lables presented quite a festive appiearance, and emch one harl to Christmas eracker, some of which, appropriately enough, contained bells.
The ter and following business metting was quite g jolly affair, and Llie spiril of comaradeslip, so necessary to a ringing meetieg, was much in ovidence. Three new honorary members were elected, viz., Miss J. A. Gleeve, of Dorking, Mus Y', P. Walker, wife of Admiral Walker, дз an hou. life member, and the Rev. E. J. Austin. These elections were carried unanjmously amidst great applame.

At this point the Rector had to leave, and Admiral T. P. Walker proposcd e very hearty rote of thanks to him for all lie had done to malse the meeting a success, and also to all those who lad contributed their services in various waya. In reply, the Rev. E. J. Ausfin said how greatly honoured he felt in being made a momber of an organisation which was doing such goonl work for the church, and promised to further its interests as and when he could. He said he folt he mirst rpologise for refusing to grant the bells for a peal on ono occasion, but be wonderet whether the bells would annoy some fresll parishioners of bis. He felt the riugers would understand his point of view, bat there was now no need for apprebeasion in that directions.
Fo left the meeting amidst applatise, and the Leatinerhead District feels that it has made another friend among the incumbents.
The next item on the azenda was the nomination of distriet officers for 1930 . The Loatherlhead District must be fairly satisfied widn its puesent officers, as few changes were reparted. Mr. Albert firman that no rivals for the posilion of Ringing Master, and neilher had Mit. Alan R. Pink as district secretary. Fhe two representalives oin the Fxecutive Committee (Mr. Alfred F. Winch and Mr. George Marriner) wore again nominated, and one other, Mr. Willinen Jrmes, of Cohham, tho idea being that the str-bell towert hatald have a representative.
Rev. Gi. H. B. Coleridge was again nominated as the representative of the honorary membors. This was the extent of the business, mand line megting eloserf with a vote of thanks to the chairman (Major J. H. B, Hesse). The mombers then retumed to the tower ol furdré ringing, which ended at 9 p.m. by letting the bells down in poft. This latter we feel would hare met with Whe approval of *he: 'West Country' experts.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

 JOINT MEETING OF DISTRICTS.A joint meeting of the Eastern and Southern Districts of the Dur ham and Newcaslle Diocesan Associntion was hekd at West Hartlepool on Saturday. There waz only a fair aftendanse of memberg present, in fer of whom urrived at St. Oswald's Chureh at 2.30, and rang a well-stratck 720 of Oxford Minol. More members then turning up, the bells were soon going to Grandsire Triples and Caters and Stedman Caters.
Ter was the nest important item, and a good spread awaited the ringers in St. Oswald's Miesion Room.
After tea a short meeting was helct, presided over by the Rer. T. H. Lilburn (Vicar of St. Oswald's).

Mr. Burnett, vice-president, mover a vote of coadolence with the relatives of Canon Knowlden, of St. Aidan's Churel (who passed away in November after a long iliness), the ringers standing in silence for a few moments.
Mr. Titt moved a vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells, and Mr. Lilburu, in reply, weleomed the ringers to West, Hartlepool, where, he said, they would always be assured of a hearty welcome when they came. The bells of St. Oswald's would also be available for them at any time. The Vicar referred to those people who objected to the bells, and said they should be ignored, as the balls watd certainly be missed by a great majority of the people.
Mr. Metcalfe proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies for the ex cellent tea, and Miss Stophenson suitably replied.
Gateshead will be the place of meeting to be held some lime in Trnuary.

After tea the ringers weat to All Saints', Stranton, but owing to some misunderstanding the church was locked up. Thoy therefore proceeded to St. Aidan's Church, where touches af Bob Major, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Majar were rung until nine octock.
The ringers all agreed that this was an enjoyable meeting, but the presence of a few more ringers would have been welcomed.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' MASTER'S BADGE

A silver replica of the badge wom by the Master of the Ancient Society of College Fouths has been presented to the London Museum by Mr. W. H. Fenton, of Heston House, Heston, Midelesex. This medal was struck in 1837 to celobrate the bicentenary of ilhe society, and that worn by the Master as a badge of afice was formerly the property of James Mash.
The one now presented to the London Museum was the property of H. Mills, and recently came into the possession of Mr. Fenton, whe has given it to the metropolitan collection at fhe suggestion of Mr E. A. Young.

TIMBERSCOMBE RINGER'S DEATH

A quarter-peal of Grandsire 7riples (1,260 clanges) was rung mith the bells half-muffled, in 50 mins., for monning service at the Parigh Church, Timberscombe, Somerset, on Sunday week, in mentory of the late Mr. E. J. V. Thorne, who died on the previons Friday week, and who was a member of the tower band. The ringers were: G. Stacey 1, S. Grabham 2, J. Pugsley (conductor) 3, F. Date 4. F. Houd (first quarter-peal) 5, I. Farmer 6, E. GouId 7, W. Yeandle 8. During the course of his sermon, the Vicar, Protb, the Rep. H. H. Bell,

'GODFATHERS' FOR EAST DEVON TOWERS.
AN INTERESTING PROPOSAL.
The annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild was held ar St. Sidwell's, Exeter, an December 7th. Although a large nunher were present, many others were prevented from attendigy by the ravages of thie storm. A hearty service was held in St. Sidwell's Church, the Rector officiating and giving an interesting address
At the husiness meeting which followed the tea, at St. Sidwell'g Institute, the Rev. E. V. Cox, chairman of the branch, presided, and was supported by the Rev. E. S. Powell (presidert) and Mrs. Powell, the Rev. Lanyon Owen, the Rev. E. A. Jullyan and others.
A vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist and the local ringers was carried with acclamation.
The hon. secrebary and treasurer's report on the year's progress and linance of the branch was adopled, and showed a slight decrease in the membership.
A resoiution was carried that the committee should take stens to evolve a scheme whereby one or two experienced ringers should act as 'godfathers,' so to speak, of each of the various towers, with a riew to maintaining the interest of members, improving the standard of the ringing, and farthering the progress made in now methods, ete.

It was decided that the spring meeting should bo beld at Whimple on Warch lst. Messrs. Taylor and Co. have rehung the bells there, and they are to be dedicated to-morrow
Several new members were elected, and some change ringing certifieates presented by the president.
The Rer. E. V. Cox was re-elceted chairman for the ensuing year, and Miss E. Lonas hon. secretary and treasurer.
The bells, of the Catiedral, St. Sidwell's, Heavitree, St. David's, St. Thomas' and St. Petrock's were availsble for vinging by kind permission of the Dean and the respective incumbents.

BROADCAST RINGING AND CHIMING

To the Editor.
Dear Sir:-As a ringer and listener, I wholeheartedly support the Eutegestion made by ' F.C.T.' that some distinction might be made ir the announcement in the B.B.C. programme witi regard to scientifcally rung changes or mechanically chimed hym tunes, by inserting the word 'Chimed " or "Rung" in the announcement in both "The Ranio Times' and the daily Press, for the beneft of those who are not aware of the difference. The two performances (if not the performers) do not bear comparison.-Yours truly,

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
'The Editor of ' The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.
The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender sloould enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Cambridge Universily Guild has received some seven or eight recruits this tern who are very keen and have learned to manage a bell Change ringing instruction is going on on handbells, and in this the reteran president (Rev. A. IF. F. Boughey) continues to give valuable help.
Berkshire's new ring of twelve, at St. Laurence's Church, Reading, will be dedicated at 8 p.m. on December ROth. Owing to the lateness of the hour there will be wo general ringing, but, as announced in our rotice columus, the tower will be open for ringing on the aftermoon of Boxing Day.

One of Benjamin Annable's many great performances was conductiug a peal of 8,008 Graudsirc Cinques at St. Saviour's, Southwark, on December $15 \mathrm{~h}, 1735$. He rang the 10 h on this occasion, and three men rang the tenor. In February of the previous year Annable called a 7,018 in the same method, and on that occasion assisted two others in tlie ringing of the tenor.
Twenty-five years ago next Sunday the first peal was rung in South Africa-a peal of Grandsire Triples at Woodstock.

We record ihis week a peal of Canterbury Pleasmre Royal rung at Leeds, in Kent. It is interesting to reall that the first peal of Canterbuty Pleasure Major was rung at Warnham, Sussex, on December 17th, 1888.
In reference to last weok's letier, lieaded "Silent Holt's Original, another of the band, writing from the Isle of Wight, affirms that so far as he is concerned he feels still capable of taking his part in a Lepent performance.
Fioday, Mi. Franeis E. Duwe celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of bis first peal, Grandsire Triples at St. John's, Wilton Road, London, called by James Pettit. Mr. F. T. Gover, of Paignton, Devon, is the ouly ofher survivor of that hand.

The ringer of the 4 th in the peal at Bottesford on November 30th was Clarenee F. Briggs, not Bird, as printed.
At the special invitation of the Dean of Worcester, a large party of Rirminglam ringers and friends visited Worcester Cathedral on Sunday, and rang for an hour aid a half' for the cvening service. The visitors made up a party of 17 , and tonches of Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Maximus were rung.

THE EXTENSION OF NEW DOUBLES,

To the Editor.

Dear Sir-I have rend Mr. Cave's letier, and to make cerdain that I am not wrong (it was very unlakely in this instance), I have interviewed the officers of St. Stephen's Guik of Ringers, and they carroborate my siatement that New Dorbles extended to Caters was rung apon at least two occasions, at St. Stephen's Church, Bristol. This was bofore May, 1926 . At Chester or Ipswich, it is difficult to reucuber, I esked a Ceniral Council member's opinion about it; theuce my statement, namaly, about three years ago. 'The member's opiaion was that it was irregular, and that is perliaps why no more was rumg at Si. James or St. Stephen's.-Yonrs faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE.

A PEAL BY EIGHT EDWARDS

At Gravesend, on Saturkiay week, a band of eight Edwards pulled off a peal of Sterman Triples. Other 'name' bands, lerl by the Williams of Shipway's day, have rung peals, but this is believed to be the first time that the Edwarts have accomplished such a performance. Six of them were residents of Kent, and the other two came from across the Thames. The onductor was Mr. Edward $P$. Duftield, of Colchestor (who rang the 11th in tho record peal of Cambidge Maximus at Ashou-unden-Lyne), and the others in the band were Messrs. E. Hadlow, E. Beer, E. Spice and E. Morrad (all of Graresend), E. Allen (Rochester Cathedral), E. Smith (Stratford) and E. Huck (Ashrord).

BELLS REOPENED AT WOOLTON HILL.

A HAMPSETRE RING REEUNG

On Sunday, December lst, the bells at St. Thomas' Church were reopencd afier being rehung with moderm improvenents, including ball bearings, by Messrs. Mears and Stahbank. The vesult is flat the balls now ga perfectly
To mark this occasion, special mention of tha bells anu change ringing was made by the Viear (Rey. E. E. Utterton) in his sermon. He spoke of the various uses of hells and of the great art of tinging. He told bis congregation that it was far more difficult to learn change ringing than many people imagined. He also spoke of the position of the bells and wingers, saying, that as the bells were hung in the highest part of the ehureh, one naturally had to look up to the bells and singers, and he himself looked up to any "inger who mastered this great ant.

After the service, he said the bells walld be rung in variaus meihons, and he asked the congregation to stay to listen to the ringing, and many did so. Some good ringiag was done by the local band nal visitors from Highelere and Newbury in the following methods: Grandsire and Stedman, and Plain Bob.
Change ringing las flowrished somewhat at Woolton Hill during the past few yerrs, and it is hoped to get back to the original standard of Surprise ringing in the near future. Tho ringing included 720 of Bols Minor by: H. Curtis 1, J. Scott 2, J. Ber'y 3, F. Knapp 4, L. Robhins 5. R. Rex (conductor) 6, followed by 360 in the Eame method by J. Robhins 1, A. Challis 2, F. Kinapp 3, J. Berry 4 , 5. Beaven 5, F. Curtis (conductor) 6 .

RRISTOI, BRANCH,

A very stuecessful meeting of the Bristol Tranch was held at. SS. Philip and Jacob's Churelt, Bristol, an Saturday, November 30th, 16 towers being represented, togelher will the local band. The bells, a nice peal of eight, were raised soon after 3 p.m., and some good touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge Surprise Major were brouglit round. Rounds and Queens were also rung for the beginmers.
The servinc was taken by the Yiear (Rev. M. E. Thorold), a vice president of the association, who gave $\pi$ very interesting address.
Tea followed, and there were over 40 memhers present an the husinoss meeting.
Mr. J. Gould (chaiman) asked the mombers to stand in silance as a token of respect and sympathy for the late Mrs. W. H. Thomas. Deceased was very popular in the Bristol Braneh, and will be grently missed at these meetings. She was pressant as recently as ibe last monthly meeting of the branch at St. Mathew's.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. W. H. Thomas, the president of tha Bristol United Ringing Guids, in which he thanked the nembers for their letters of sympatiy and flowal tribute

The naxt meeting, as is the nisual custom, will be held at frislington.

THE AMERICANS. AND HALESWORTH BELLS.

Dear Sir,-I expect i know Falesworth and its ringers as well as anyone living et a distance. In ease nuy of your ceaders should be led to the erroneous conelusion by your last; week's paragraph, that. our brethren there hobble up to the church with a pair of walking sticks of anything like that, I moula like to mention that this is dy no means so. If is mercly a case of there being not much young blood in the band, but I venfure to say the present company whu (D.V.) carry on with Grandsire Triples and Bub Major under their enthusiastic conductor for many a year yet:
Haleswortit can by no streleh of thia imagination be callet 'a bittle willage deep in Sufolk.' It is a fair-sizerl market town, with a station on the direct Londan-Yarmouth line, and a fine Parish Ghureh with a melodious peal of eight. The drawback to ringing is that the ropes hang something like this: I 82464357 , which is rather puzating to beginners. The Halesworth men are of the right sorl. A visiting ringer would be sure of a herntg welcome, and, intcen, would be an inspiration. The bells merely want rehanging, and, who knows, perhaps some day a fresh eight will came along flife, and then things wotld go ahent. As for ithe Americans wanting the bells-I shofld say, let thera keep their money. - Xours truly,

HARRY BARTON.

ST. STEPHEN'S GUILD

ANCIENT RULES FOR TLE ORDERING OF RINGERS.
In an article in these columna a fortnight age we briefly outlined 1, he history of the Antient fruild of SL. Stephen's Ringers, an old Bristol Socinety which, while it is not now connected with riugitrg, had its origin in the ringers of that charch move than three hundred yenris ago. Ta-day the Guild devotes its energies largely to raising funds tor tine preservation and restoration of the chureh.
There las recently been pulsished on belialf of the Antient Society ia handiome volume. 'Ille author is Mr. II. F. Roslyn, a momber of tho Guild, who has compiled an exhaustive history of the Guild, fo fin' ha is can be traced, hased mainly on the minute books which, with ung exception, arc intact from 1882 . An interesting hislory of the charch is also given, as well as a deaeription of the handsome tower.
Tha churcla was founded between 1247 and 1291, and was athached to Cilastonbury Abbey, this connection Iasting until the dissofution of the monasteries, when the patronage passed to the Crown, in whom it is sill vested. The chureh was robrilt about 1470, the tower heing erected at tho sole cost of Master Jobna Slipwatd, who aiso gave the great enst window. Slipward wats one of the most impurtant citizens of Bristol of his day. He was a wealthy merchant, and wrs the secoud of his family to fill the highest office in the city. His fatier was Mayor in 1444 and 1453 , nud he hinaself served as Muyor in 1463 and again in 1469. He also represented Bristol in Parlimment in 1450.
He left directions for a most elaborato funcral, as was the eustom of rich men in those days, and also for the observance of the anniverbary of his death. He charged fis property with tho maintonance of two chaplains for twenty-five years, aud after that one chaplain in prrpetuity to celebrale fiaily at the high altar of SL. Stephen's for the good of his soul nald the souls of his parents. A solemn rectuiom mats whs wi be eclebrated every yenr on August 3rd, in connection with which there ware a number of bequests, inelading twentypence for tolling the bells.
In the records of the Antient Guild, however, probably the most interesting portion lo ringers is "The Ordinnces," sometimes known a. the "charler." Tliese ordinances have been transerihed at various dates, but they are directly traceatie to 1620, and it is supposed that even those of this date wero a transcription of an even earlier copy. The ordinances, which are real every year, as a part of the rithal ubserved at the annual banqutel, begit with the following pramble:

It is afteed and delermined that everyone that is or shall be of the Compatuy or Socioty of St. Stophon's Ringers, shall keep Orclunsy eoncerning the good government and Peaceable Society of the said Company, and that none shall be of the said Society hut those ihat shall be of Honest, Peaceable and Good ConversaLion, and stuch that shail be at all time and times ready to defered whatsoever slanll be alleged againsl the said Company as well in regard to any Challenge ns of nny other Wrong or In juty that shall he offered nod done by nyyone of what estate or s" those that would or shall exasperale themselves arainst us. ## BELLRINGERS AND CLERGY.

To the Editor.

Sir,-My attention hass been drasen to the Ficar of Measham's lotiter in your issue of November 29th. It may intereat your readers to know that Holy 'l'rinity Churels, Liandudino, is an illustration and a confirmaifon of the puint with wheh he deals in Jis admirable lebter:

Some time ngo the conductor of our bellringers approached me with e. view to the clorgy visiling the helfry on Sundays.
I gladly welcomed live suggeskion, and now before every servite (at which the bells are rung', either 1 or one of my clerical staf! climh up to the ringing chamber and hald a sloort service there.
We say the Lord's Proger together, and pray for the blessing of God upor the worle of our bellingers, emphasising the value of the service rendered by thens to the gioty of God.
This eustorn (which I trust will never be discontinued) is already bearing frut, and is bringing lome to the hearts of the ringers that they are regarded as an imporrant group of churehworkers. -Yours faitifully,

F. P. WATKIN-DAVIS,

 Rector of Llandudno.

A TASK FOR RINGERS TO DO.

Dear Sir,-Thu letter headed 'Clergy and Riogers' in your issue of November 29th, atnd your leading article under the same title in last weak's issue brings out what is, indeed, a main object of practically all our ringing societies.
Will either help in bringing about this mueh desired ideal? Directly, I hardly think so. It is a caso of preaching to the couverted. The ringers who read these two items will concur that it is to be desired. The incumbents who read 'The Ringing World' are, in the majority, ringers themselves, aud, of course, haring the interest of ringers at heart, will also concur.

This is not enough. How many ringers who, as I have alleady stated, agree to this ideal, will approach their own ineumbent and bring these two items ho his notice? How many iacumbents will approach their cierical hrethren, or thein Archdeacons, or even their Bishops, and do likewise?

In this way only-again a case of spade wart for the enthusiastcan the appeal be sproad on to new ground, and if we, as ringers, consider this idea to be an ideal, it is up to us to arouse the interest of those whom wa desire to be interested.-Yours faithfully,

LAYMAN."

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

A meoring of the Swnosea and Brecon Guitr was held at Gorscinon on Sammday last, when about 30 members atonded from Aberavon, Gadoxton, Monviston, Swansea, Llanelly, and the local baud. The bells (eight) were kept going until 4.50 p.m., when a short service was conduoted by the Vicar (Rev. W. J. Thomas), and the curate (Ruw. D. T. Price) presided at the organ. A meat tea was then partaken of in the schoolroom, most generonsly provided by the Picar and wifly a willing hand of ladies to look after ilie wants of everyonc, this was very mucis enjoyed by all present. Unforbunately the Vicar had to lave when tea was over, but before departing he gave the Guild a hearty welcome bo the parish, wighed it continued suceess in the futura, and he hoped ail had enjoyed themselves.
The business meeting followed, when the Master (Mi. A. J. Piiman) was voted to the clatir. The clection of officers for 1930 took placa. Mr. E. Stitch was re-elected gevereary, and Mr. G. W. Hollis was re-elected auditor. Baglan was choson as the place of next mecting.
Two new members were electec. It wns decided to have a practice at St. Wary's, Swansea, on Jamuny llah, it 5 p.m., for Stedman Triples and Ficat Tueble Bob Major". A hearty vote of thanks was accerded the Rev. W. J. Thomas for the use of the bells, for conclurling the service, and for the tea, to the Rep. D. T, Price for presiding fat the orgnn, and to the ladies for their kindmess in waiting at the tea tables.
The lower was again wisited, when Stedman and Grandsire Triples ant Bob Major were rang, and the bells Iowered in peal about 8 p.m., hringing to a close a most successful meeting.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S CONSTITUTION AND POLICY.

DISCUSSION AT A LANCASHIRE MEETING.

A well-abended meeting of the Bhathourn Branch of the Eamonslaive Association was held at Churchhirk on Saturday, December Gth. Members were present from Blackbura (Cathedral and St. Michael's), Burnley, Acorington, Helmshore, Riahton, Oswaldwistie, and a full master of the local comprny. Ringing during the day consisted of Grandzire Triples, Stedman Triplas, Rob Major, Kent Treble Boh Major and Double Norwich Major.
During the meeting a short paper was read by one of the members on 'The Constitution and Pohey of the Central Council' aud the suggested alteration to its rules, as coutributed to *The Ringing World of October 18th. The members werc unanimously of the opiṇion that the time had come when the Central Council should be the real hean of the Exercise in pratice as well as in name, and that the societies comprising the Council should loyally accept its rulings and decisidis.
A long discussion tonk place on the relative merits of the triennial nuf annual election of representatives, and in the and the majority frvoured the existing system of tricnnial elections, it being urged that it takes some time for a person newly olected to the Gouncil to settle down to the ways and menns of his new surroundings, and therefore before he becomes a really useful member lie may be displaced.
It was agreed by all that the sacioties ought to pay their fuil quota of subsoriptions on all representatives they are entitilen to send. It was also thought that a notice of anotion coning from a society through its secreary or other official would carry more weight ant receive greater nonsideration from the other bodies
Mr.. W. H. Hunter, of Buraler, occupied the chair, and a very successful meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector and wardens for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers for their usual kindy welcome and their good example to other towers in atleuding ell bloc at fheir own loeal meting.

ORIGINAL COMPOSITIONS.

Time and again we have urged the need of some kind of register of compositions, and time and again there arise incidents which demonstrate how needful such a register really is. Not infrequently there is open dispute as to the rights of authorship; often, we are convinced, compositions are attributed to composers who have no right to them according to the recognised practice of the Exercise. In the latter categoiy there are many instances, of course, in which the composers have obtained their figures by perfectly independent work, but they have no right to authorship, because earlier composers had secured the same peals, and it has to be borne in mind that even variations of a previous composition cannot always be allowed to claim " riginality.

We are prompted to return to this subject again by the appearance in the Lancashire Association's annual report of a composition of Double Norwich in five parts, with bobs at 1 and 6 only, except for cne solitary bob at 4 in the first course of each part. We thought it was a pretty well recognised fact that anything new on this plan was out of the question. The peal under notice has probably been composed at least a hundred times, in different methods, and we have consigned it to the wastepaper basket at least a score of times. Probably Herry Hubbard, who composed an exactiy similar peal of Double Norwich to this 70 years ago, has the best title to it, and none of the variations that have appeared since have been any improvement upon it. Even so, it is more than likely that this simple nine course plan was rung to Bob Major long before Hubbard's time; indeed, we should not be surprised to learn that old Ben Annable himself had discovered it.

It may be disappointing to a composer, after a genuinely independent effort, to find that he is not the first, but the last of many in the field, but that does not alter the fact that a composition, appearing in a widely circulated medium such as the Lancashire Association's report, is likely to be rung and the record passed on to posterity as according credit to someone not actually entitled to it. The difficulty, as we have so often pointed ont, is that the new composer has no means ready to hand by which he can ascertain if his work is really original or not. The Central Council has in its possession a large nucleus for a register of compositions such as we suggest ; but, while the register is already badly needed, and as time progresses, will become more and more necessary, it will not be easy to find those who would be able to undertake the task. In our view, however, it is a matter of sufficient importance to demand attention, and, in necessary, the Council should pay for the work to be done.

To the Edilar.

Dear, Sir-- ann pleased to ste that iny letter to the 'Radio Tlimes, on the above subject has been noliced nind approved of by listening ringers. I doubt, however, whether the B.B.C. will trouble to act an my suggestion, which I made with the sole object of trying to poini out to the many listoners, uninitinted in ringing, that what they so of hen hent ou Sundays brondeast from St. Mntin's-in-theFields is not ringing, wherens that from other towers generally is; they can then be their own judges of the difference.
White on this sutrject ! should be glat to know if the beils of St. Martin's ever do ring? If so, I shoukd like to hear them in peal, through the" madium of my sol, as the hack eight appear to be of good tone, but the strange weird toones of the trebles, that one hears an the wireless, make min thitik a little 'Simpson turning' would be an adynnage. Has any wher listence naticed this peculiarity? Yours,
Newnarket

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD  ENTHUSLASTIC MEECTNG AT NETHERTON

The quavterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, December 7th, al St: Andrew"s Cliurch, Nethertion, Wores, and was very well attended. The bells wele placed at the disposal of the mambers from three o'clock, and were kept going merrily until service, which was held in the Parjsh Cliurch. The Guild's special form was used, the service being conducted by the Vicar of Netherton (Rev. H. C. Kemp), who also gave a very interesting address. At the close of the serwice an adjourament was made to the School House, where an excellent tea was in roadiness, and, needless to say, full justice was done to the gond things provided. The funds for the ted were obtained by subseriptions from St. Andrew's parishioners, collected by Mr. Albert Prestidge, sen.
The business meeting followed, at which the chair was occupied by the Vicar, who was supported by Messrs. W. S. Sidaway (Vicar's warden) and E. Baker (people's warden). The Chaiman said how pleased he was to meet thern, and on behalf of himself, the wardens and Church Council he grve them a hoariy welcome to Nethertion.
After business of a routine claracter had been disposed of, several new members were added to the roll, inciuding the charchwardens, who readily consented to their mames to be added to the list of honorary members.
It was resolved to hold the next meeting, which is the amnual one, at Dudley, on Saturday, March Ist.
It was also decided to attempt the quarlerly peal at Netherton, the date and other arrangements being left in the hands of the Ringing Master (Mr. Jobn Goodman, jun.). Trhe question of the Guild's monthly practice was again discussed, and it was raranged that the practice be again proceeded with on the firgt Monday in each month, meeting at 7.45 p.m., at Dudley Parisin Church.
On the motion of Mr. Price, scconded by Mr. James George, a weleome was extended to ME. Harry Masom after a long absence.Mr. Mason feelingly replied. He said he had received many Ietters from his ringing friendis, and he very much apprectated their kindness. He had written to a few, but at the moment be had been unable to reply to all, and he hoped they would aceept his appreciation and thazks. Mr. Mason proposen that compliments and congratulations be given to Mr. James George on having recently attaiaed his 76th birthday, also to Mr. Joln Goodman, sen., 'falher' of the Dudiey band, with the hope that they might be spared for many years yet to come.-Mr. Geolge briely thanked the menibers for their congratulations, and Mr. Johu Goodman, jun., replied on behalf of his fatlier, wha was unable to be present.

The semetary mentioned that since their last meeting the Rev. Dr. Swindell, the veuerable Vicar of Sedgley, had passed on, and on behalf of the memberg he had sent a letter of sympathy and respeci ta the family of the degeasen gentleman. The Chairman proposed that the secretary's action tin endorsed, and the motion was carried in silance, the members standing.

At the close of the meeting, on the proposition of Mr. Mason, seconded by Mr. S. J. Huglies, and supported by Mr. J. Gearge, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Ficar of Nethertan for his kindness in granting permission to hold the meeting at his church, also for conducting the service and for his admirable and interesting address, for the use of the tower and bells, and the School Hanse in which to hold the meeting, also to the wardens for their attendance and interest, and to the organist for the musical part of the service. A special vote of thanks was giver to Mr. Albert Prestidge for his worlk in making the necessary mrallgements for the tea and meeting, and to Mrys. Prestidge and the Indjes who assisted her in preparing and serving the tra and who looked after the comfort of alt present. Thanks are also added to those who subseribed to the tea fund, and to all who had in nuy way assisted in making the meeting a happy and suceessful oue. - Mr. Erestidge thanked the members for their vote of thanks, anki suid that it wai a pleasure for him to he of sorvice. Mr. Chureliwarden Sidaway also thanked the memhers, and said what a pleasure it luat heen for him to be with them thal afternoon. - Mr. Churchwarden Baker briefly thanked the members, and said people missed a lot by not knowing anything ahout their hells or bellringers. It was a pleasume to thim to be with them that afternoon, and he wrold look forward to meeting thom againThe Vicar also resnonded. Afterwards same of the members again returned to the belfry and kept the hills going in various methods, and so codet a happy and enjoyable meeling.

WEDDING BELLS

On Salurday last, al Holy Trinity Clurel, Old Hill, Staffs, an attempt was made for a peal of Gramdsire Triples, but owing to the bad " go of some of the tells, it was hrought round at half-way (2,520 clanges): R. Gough 1, P. Hackett 2, G. Swallow 3, J. Price 4, W. Green 5, H. Goodman 6, T. Gnodman (conductor) 7, G. Guest 8. This was rang to celeborate the wedding of Miss B. Price, daughter of Mr. J. Price, the esteemed leader of the Old Hill rilogerg, to Mr. J. Cox, alsa of Ola Fili. After the ringing, the ringers were kindly entortained to tea by Mr. and Mrs. Cox, to whom the ringers extend their thanks, and wish them every lappiness in their future life.

QIICK PEALS．

To the Editar．

Dent Sir，－I have wondered why no one has raised a query，re－ gateling the extraordinarily quick peal rung at Crayford some time ntso．

I can understand why such times $a=2$ luts． 20 mins，are consifered ordinary at the Loughborough Bell Foundry，when the weight of motal，ete．，is taken into consideration，but for a quicker peal to be rung on a peal of bells，with a teoor double the weight，is，to put it middly，remarkable．I should like to see it repeated，because if it can he accomplishod once it can be done again，or，possibly，it could be shortened still further．
In noncluding，I might say that my firsi peal of Major（Treble bok method）took 2 hrs． 22 mins，und I latye also rung in the quiekest peal yet on tower hells，which would hawe been faster still if lluy had just put on a bit more speed as I asked them to．

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR

 PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.
The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at nnce, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.
Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

'A Merry Christmas to all our readers.
Whimple, Devon, bells are to be dedicated to-morrow. By a slip, it was gitated in one part of our last issue that the dedication was so take place last Saturday.
The City Corporation has contributed one thousand guineas to the restoration of Bow Church, Cheapside, and, we understand, a definite portion of this is 'earmarked' for the bells. It is to be laoped that this very necessary part of the work will now soon be taken in hand, and that a really comprehensive scheme will be carried out.
Anong the earliest peals of Stedman Cinques was one of $5,334 \mathrm{rmug}$ at Christ Church, Spitalfields, by the Cumberland Youths on Deemaber 20th, 1806. The same band on December 13th had rung over 5,500 clanges in an unsuccessful attempt for the same peal, and in the interim, viz, on Decernler 15th, the Junior Society of Cumberlands had rung a peal of 5,886 . That was in the 'good old days.
Join Cox called the first peal of Stedman Caters rung at st. Saviour's, Southwark, on December 20th, 1836.
The opening of the new ring of eight bells at Claybrooke, Leiestershire, which was to have taken place to-morrow, las been postponed until January 18th. The augmentation of the four old bells into an oclave has been carried out by Mossre. Taylor and Co.
The members of St. Mary-le-Tower Society, having received many letiers of congratulation upon ringing the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise: Maximus, wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank all the writers for their kina and encouraging ramarks.

The first peal by the Lancashire Association was Grandive Triples at Bolton on December $22 \mathrm{nc}, 1877$. The last survivor of the company that scored this peal was Mr. H. W. Jackson, who diet in Jantary last.

The Christmas holidays have been a favourite time for recordmaking, and we have not space to mention all the long lenglins accompligbed. They have included the 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham on Boxing Day, 1901 , the 15,168 Kent Treble Boh Major a1 Elland in 1831, and the 10,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamsiow in 1923. Two Superlative records (sinee surpassed) wore also made on Boxing Day, 9,312 at Crawley, Sussex, in 1894, and 9,728 at Clent, Worcestershive, in 1910.
The record length of Double Norwich (17,104) was makie at Soudlu Wigston on December 27th, 1904, and the Double Oxford Major record $(10,176)$ was rung at Brierley Fill on December 27th, 1909.
Two other interesting performances of a bygone age may also be mentioned. On December 26th, 1782, 5,040 'London Union Trefbles ${ }^{2}$ was rung at Si. Giles-in-Lhe-Fieldis by the Society of Londion Youthe, - being fine first peal in that methofl. Whal was the method!

Sauire Proctor and his band of village residents rang a peal of 6,048 London Surprise Major at Bennington, Ferts, on December 26th. 1871, "being the greatest scientific performance ever achieved in change ringing.
The late Sir Arthur Heywond, who died in 1918, was born on Christmas Day eighty years ago.
Mr. Perkins, of Hemingford Abhotis, Hunts, has had the misfor: une ta break his ankle, and will be kept from ringing for a time.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH AT HOET

A meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at St. Katherine's Church, Holt, on Saturday, Decemher 7th, Ringing commenced about 3 p.rn., and later on a peal hoard, recording the two peals of Grandsire Doubles rung by the local ringers, under the conductorship of Mr. W. C. West, of Melkshatn, was unveiled lyy Mrs. Seoti, of Stanbridge House, Holt, and dedicoted by the Vieas, the Rev. T. Roberts. This was followed by the Guild service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the lesson being read by the chairman of the branci (Mr. C. D. Feginhotham), Mr. Wicks, of Devizes, being the -organist.

In a few well-chosen remarks, the Fion welcomed the branch to Holt, and referred to the interest the local ringers were taking in their work, ats shown by the hoard which had been unveiled. People who hat never taken any interest in ringing were now begining to do so. Ringers, he said, should make the first object of their ringing the glory of God, and then they would get greater pleasure from their ringing.

Tea followed in the schoolroon, $\mathbf{M}$ rs. Scott honouring the company with her presence.

A short business meeting followed, M1. C. D. Heginhothom presid ing. The Sucretary (Mr. F. Green) reparted the receipt of 222 . from the Parochial Ghurch Couthel of Holy Trinity Bradford-onAvons, and 2145 . from the Parochial Church Council of St. James'-the-Great, Bratton.-A vote of thanks was passed to those Councils

Rev. Iudor Jefteries, Vicar of St. James, Southbroom, was elected an han member, and Mr. W. Bolwelt, of Hounslow, late of Devizess a life tinging member

On the motion of the chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the argnuist and to those who prepared the tea.

Ringers, including Mr. W. J. Prescott, of Batli, were present from Alclhournc, Bradford-on-Avor 'Holy Trinity', Bratton, Devizes, St. Johns and St. Mary, Soutlı $\rightarrow$ m, Holt, Rowde, Trowbridge and Melksham.
Thouches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Keut Treble Boly were rung during the afternon and evening. No douht mote riugers would have been present but for the flooded state of the roatis.
Folt Church, dedieated to St. Katherine, was restored during the year 1880-91, when the clerestory and chancol were added to the church. The tower dates between 1450 and 1500 , the fond is late Norman, with herring-bone ormamentalion. The east wandow is a memorial to Miss Fdith, Mackey, daughter of Mr. Alexarrder Mackey, who at that time resided at Holt Manor, sud afterwards at the Giange, Irowbridge. Fe was one of the first vice-presidents of the Salisbury Guild, aud a great friend to the Trowbridge ringers of his day. The eentral light of the window slows St. Katleatime, the patron saint, with the spiked wheel.

The bells at St. Katherine's Churelz, Holt, Wilts, are a ring of six, with tenor of 9 cwt. F tha, and the most. interesting of them is the 5 th, a preReformation belf from the Bristal Foumdry about the year 1500. It bears the usual Bristol cross and a bince medallion, which is also found म屯 Clarchill, Somerset. This bell ( 362 inches in diameter) has the inseription, 'Sancte Micrel ora pro nobis.' Up io the year 1905 there were five hells-tlar present 5 th being then the 4 th-all of different dates. 'Ilrey bore the following fuscriptions:-
Treble: Willian Earle: Williant BG bie: Benctuclors 108 ad: Thomas Sartaim, Curato. Roger Gomy, Clurchwarden of Foll (star)
3rd: TAMSES BAILEY, C.W., 1716. W (bell) C.
5Eh: THHO CARINGTON: C.W. (belf) C. 1898.

Of these, the 3rd was by William Cucker, of frome, and the tenor by Lewis Cockey, of Brisiol, who is also foum at Sufton Weuey-
In 1905 the first three and the 5 th were recast by Warner, aft a treble added. 'flhe treble had the following inseription on the waist: 'I'o the Glory of God and in Memory of the Rev. H. H. Hoseley, B.A., Vicar 1865-1901. This bell was given and the faclls re-cnst by the People of Folt, 1905'; and the 'enor', George A.S. Metfort, Viear; William Deverill, Waller Buckland, Charchwardens.'
These bells were a wory poot lot, especially the lencil, und consequently they were recently recast (exteptithe 5fili) hy Mesirs. Monts and Stainhank.
At the time of the Edward IV. Inventory (1553), it was recorded that there were at 'Hoitte, 3 ij hells.'
The belfry doar, made by a parishome is interesting. Carved an th are six bells, surmanted by the date, 1475 , which is supposed to an the year in which the tower was erected, and below, ${ }^{4} 1914$, Vicar, Rev. T. Roberts, M.A., ${ }^{\text {a }}$ and a St. Katherine's wlieel.

BELLS UNDERGROUND.  To the Editor.

Sir,-In reply to tho query in this week's 'Ringing World' as to whether handbelis have been rung underground hefore, geveral attempts were made for a peal of Stedman Triples in Chislełurst Caves by in College Youths band in 1904. These caves certainly bear no resemblance to a coal mine, bat are completely underground, the spot where the attempts were mude being about 80 to 100 feet down. -Yours faithfully,

T'. GROOMBRIDGE, JUN.

IN A COAL MiNE.

Dear Sir,-It may be of interest to our Leicestershise fricuds to know that a 336 Grandsire Triples and a course of Stedman Triples was rung in the West Pit, Cramlington, some years ago, by B. C. Dizon, 士. E. R. Keen, O. Simm and yours sinecrely,
H. HARBET.

Dear Sir,-As far back as 1904, a party of Yorkshire ringers, including the late Mr. Gharles Jackson, of Hull, rang a atoutse of Grandsire Gaters down a colliery at Gildersome, near Moriey, Yorkshire. Trusting this will be of interest to the elluirer, l remain, on behalf of some of the Yorkshire party, yours sincerely,

WM. AMBLER.

WEEKLY PEAL AT'TEMPT FOR TWO YEARS.

JERSEVERANCE OF RINGERS A CENTURY AGO.
On Deember 22nd, 1828, ' The Times,' then price 7at, recordnd the following: 'On Thursday, the I8th inst., eight members af the Amior College Society, members of St. Saviour" © Solatiawark anm Trinity Church, Newington, rang on the bells at the latter place a true and excellent peal of grandsire triples on Steadman's prineiple, containing 5,040 changes, which was completed in three hours and four minutes, and is the greatest pertormance ever achieved upon any peal of bells in the Kingdom. The above peal contains 598 bobs and 122 singles, and is the most perfect of the kind over produced, hul has never been rung until the present occasion, when cwery boh and single was regularly called and made.
Now, however, comes the most illuminating part of the story. "lle patagrapl goes on: ' Two years have elopsed since the Society first attempted to rimg this peal, during which time they have assembled every Thursday evenitrg to perform it, and in ilte vavious unsuccessful attempts which have been made, they have rung upuards of 200,000 changes in this most difficulit of all the systems in the art of ringing. This system of ritging was invented by Mr. Fohian Steadman, a native of Cambridge, about the middle of the 17th century.'

THE 12-BELL PEAL RECORD.

PAINSWICK ATLEMPJ COMFS TO GRIEF.
The abternpt to set up a new record lenglo on twelve bells at Painswick on Saturday was unsucergstin.
After it rather late start, and with new ropes, the ringing came to grief ufler two hours. It is hoped to make another altempt early in the new year.
In the afternoon a peal of ordinary length was rung.

NEW RING OF EIGHT AT GORINC

PRE-REFORMATION BELDS PRESERVED.
Iflere were probably few happier and prouder people in the counIry in Wrdncsday of last week than Johm Bower, the foreman of the lioring tower, when, after their kedication hy Bishop Shaw, he was "ntrusted by his Viear with the ropes of a ring of eight bells.
for upwards of forty years lie has kept a Minor hand together at (foring, and together with his old Eriendi, James Abery, las done his best to trach change ringing in the Bradlield Deanery Branch of the Oxford Guild.
The old ring of six at Goring was, from a musical point of wiew, a poor lot, but it contained two pre-Reformation bells, one of which bears the uame of Riclard Wymbis, who was casting at the end of the thirieenth century, and mist surely hold an almost unique place nameng church bella. There must be few bells that have done duty for six handied years, including half a century of Minor ringing, as this has done.
Illese old bells have now been taken oul of the ring to be handed as treasures of the church to sutceeding generations of Goring folk. "Ihe wher four have been broken up and have gone towards making as delightful a ring of cight as good ringers love to handle and as hell lowers like to listen to.
Al the close of the service the hells were rung in Grandsire, Siedtuan, Kent, Double Norwich and Cumbridge.
Many and hearty were the congratulations received hy Mr. Bower from his old friends who were present at the realising of a dream of almost a lifetime.
The entire cost of the bells and necessary work was met by the pious benefaction of one who of late worshimped in and loved Goxing Chanch, and who left in his will a sum of moncy for this specific purpose. The work has been excellently carried out by Messts. Mears mul Staiphanke.
The ringers present were the Rev. C. W. O. Jenky (Master of the Oxford Dlocegan Guild), Messis. R. T'. Hibburt, A. A. Itughes, G. (tilheyt, J. Shepherd, H. Tucker, J. Aleery, A. Tyler, amI Miss S . Dovis and the local ringers. Tonches of Cambridge Surpnise, Double Norwich, Kont Treble Bob Major und Grandsire Triples were rung.

NEW ORGANISATION COMPLETED.

A peneral meating of the North Norfolk Branch of the association, the fintha and last of a series under the new constitution, was, by kimi permission of the Vicar (the Rew. H. McMallen), held in the halfiry of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on Saturday, December 7th, for the election of officers and commitlee. The president of the nssumintion (the Archdeason of Norwich) presided, and supporting lim were Mr. Arthur I. Coleman (genergl secetary and trensurer), Mensirs. (i. 12. Burton, W. C. Duffield, I. J. Borrett (Ringing Master, Si. Joter Mancroft Guidd), W. B. Duncau, B. S. Thonpson and R. W. Conke (district secrelaries), fund members from Buxton, Derelan, Fakenhum, Gresscuhall, Houingham, Norwich, Reepham and Wy inumdhurı.
'Tlo general secretary gave a brief review with anew scheme under whirb four turanches had been formed, nnd said thast the special businuss leffore the mecting was the election of chairman, hon. secreMisw lwifore the meeting was the election of chairn
The President refertod to an artiele which had heen contributed by Iheir general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Coleman) to ibe 'Norwich Dibeesan Gazette,' and said as editor of the 'Gazette' he was glad to lave had the opportunity of publishing it, and thus bringing such an impurtant matter as thint of church hells and ringers before the clergy of the diocese. The President then asked the memhers to proeend to elect their chairman, hon. secretaly and committee.
$1. Grorge P. Rurton was elected chairman, Mr. Wiltiam D. Dumcan hon. secretary, Messus. Willian Clover, Robert w. Cooke, Willimm o. Duffielit, Rens A. Thompson and Bertie Whiteside members of ine commiltee.
Mr.: G. A. Cooko moved, and Mr. Coleman seconded, the clection of the Rev. Ermest F. Morison, Rector of Fakenharn, M.A., an hon. menter of the association.
11 was rnsolved that a meeting of the North Norfolk Branch be held "1 Wymondham in Janurry, 1930 .
St pote of thanks was nassed to thr Rux. H. McMullen (Vicar of St. Peter Muncroft) for the use of the leeliry, for holding the meeting, nud also for the use of the bells after the meeting.
The meeling then elosed, and the menhers rang some short tonches upon the bmils, but being Saturday and market fay the ringing was strielly limited.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Owing to the Christmas holidays, 'The Ringing World' will have to go to press much earlier than usual next week.

Reports of events which have already taken place during this week should be sent in at once, and reports of peals rung and meetings held to-morrow (Saturday) should be forwarded in order to reach us not later than first post on Monday. Nothing received after that time can be inserted in the next issue.

Secretaries are particularly requested to note that Monday, first post, is the latest time for receiving notices for next week's ' Ringing World.'

ANOTHER SURPRISE MAJOR METHOD. To the Editar.

Sir,-We shall soon have as many Surprise Major as Surprise Minor methods-mostly wariations of each other.
However, before this happens, would these enterprising constructors oblige by giving the Exercise a new Triple method-one veally worthe ringing? Moreover, if composers of peals would try their hand at producing a freala penl of Grandsire Triples, the space occupied in your columns would not be taken up.-Yours faithfully,
D. GEGLL-WLLLIAMS.

Shirley, Southampton
[It may interost onr correspondent to know that Mr. J. A. Trollope, who is working on Surprise methods, has got over 2,000 of them, and they are still coming.-En. 'R.W.']

THE EXTENSION OF NEW DOUBLES,

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-[ am sorry to have to write you again on this matter, but I think you will agree necessity demands it. I, also, interviewed on Saturday, November 30th, two of the officers of the St. Stephen's (Bristol) Ringing Guild, lo give it its correct title, ayd this is their evidente reprorluced as faibfully as possible, although not ver-batim:-
The Hon. Secretary: 'I don't remember ringing any new method of Caters, unless it was one of those easily explained, such as Frin (from Stedman) or Double Norwich (from the Major). I know nothing of any other:
The Conductor: ' I believe we did have a "go " at it one night, but we did not ring a course. We did not have a second
The Sul-Conductor (myself) says: 'If it was rung at St. Steppen's it must have been on a practice night when I was not present.
It is just possible that (the method being rung at St. James') some of the St. James' band came to St. Stephen's one evening and tried the extension with some of our memiters standing it. I must confess I have never rung even a course of New Doubles, nor laye I been in at tower while it was being rung. In fact the only person who has ever mentioned the method to-me (previous to November 30th) was Mr. Guise, when he told me thoy were ringing it at St. James', and asked if I would stand in a peal of it. He mentioned the extension to Caters and Cinquus, and said that two working bells would be on the front dodging together from the time the troble left till she returned. On this account I disapproved of the method, and heard nothing more of it until less than a montlu ago in 'The Ringing World,
With regatel to my possible absence on the occasion of the method being rung, I would poinl out that (previous to Whit Monday, 1928) 'ibsent' marks against my name, either for practice or Sunday ringing, were conspicuous for their rarity.
This morring (December 15th) I interviewed that most excellent servant of our Guikl, the steeplekeeper, with regard to the above, and he says: I know nothing about it. I Jave nerer rung it, and don't want to. He also said that the hoth. secretary (who, I take it, is one of the officials Mr. Guise interviewed) repudiates the state ment that be corroborated the assertion, and also repeated, in effect, the words given in my lefter above (December 13th, 1929).
This evening a momber uf the committee also disclaimed all knowledge of the nethod or its being rung at St. Stephen's. In view of his position as the holder of the keys, the cvideace of the steeplekeeper is most valuable, und emboldens me to again say: 'Mr. Guise is wrong. 'The method has never bcen rung at St. Steplen's by the St. Stephen"s Guild." I will go further nod say that, without the four I lave mentioned, and the 'non-effective' members, we could not ring it
Mr. Guise's last letter was pare bluff, not to call it by an uglier name-Yours truly,
w. A. GAVE.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

 A REVIEW.The Lancashire Association's quntal report is always an interestijng as well as an informative one. Established in 1876, the association has grown from very small beginnings to a total of mearly 1,500 members. At the end of 1879 there were 11 honotary and 90 ruging members, at the end of 1929 iheme are 80 honorary and 1,406 ringing members. These lasi ligures are not the highest totals reached, as in 1927 they were 98 and 1,451 respeotively, but Lameashire is suffering hadly from the goneral alepression in trade, and this doubtless easily acoounts for the falling-off in membership. There is now a total of 1,144 resident tinging members, of whom 99 were elected in the period eovered by the report. The year's ineome amounted to e7i 13 . Gd., and the ordinary expenditure to fer 16 s . fid., leaving a net gain on the year of $£ 717 \mathrm{~s}$. It is pointed out, however, that the amount received only represents 820 ringers.

NOTEWORTHY PERFORMANCES
'Iliere weve 104 peals rung during the year mader review, the outstanding porformance being the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne, and the heartiest congratulations of the association go out to the ringers eoncerned on the accomplishment of such forvellous performance. Grandsire Triples (23) beaded the peal list, and these contained a good percentage of first pacals. The report singles out for special mention several of the performances.

We are glad to note, it says, the steady progress madis in our Preston Branch, and offer to them our congratulations on their twa recent successes, Camhridge Surprise Major at Hoghton and Fent Royal at Blackburta Cathedral, loth these poals being the first rung by that branch. It is our pleasure to record a peal of Superlative Surprise Major rung by the local company at Newchurch, near Warrington, in honour of the 400 th anniversary of the parish and the silver jubilee of the present clsurch. Peals of Double Norwich Court Boh Major have been accomplished at Standish and Churehkirk by the local ringers there. Our Lircrpool Buanch is again to the fore with peals of Stedman Cinques, Kent Maximus and Camlridge Surprise Maximus, rung at St. Nicholas', the peal of Cambridge along wilh a peal of Grandsire Triples at Bolton being rung in connection with the Natioual Tlamksgiving for the King's recovery, Bolton Brameh bas provided us with a very youthiul conductor, and we congratulate Mr. P. Crook, jun., on his excellent performance.

A noteworthy feature is agan the large number of peals rutag by al companes, and we look forward to the time when all our towers local companies, and we look forward to the time when all our towers wild attempt that very worthy wilh their own local band." It is always a pleasure to record the footnote, "Firsi peal by all the band," htit when this is accompanied also with "All service ringers at the above dharch," the pleasures is even greater. One such cones fram ont Wigan Branch at Rainford, amm we extent to the fingers there onr hearty engratulations.

Great credit is also due to our ringers in Manchester for their handtoll performances, the peals of Oxford Royal and Oxford Major being the firsi in that method by our assaciation on landbells. Daring the year Mr. 13. Lafliu, of Perdletorn, andi Mr. A. Potter, of Walkden, rang their $100 \mathrm{H}_{3}$ peal, whilst their 50 th was accomplisheri by Mr. S. Holt, of Middefon, Mc. W. Horsn, of Todmorden, and M1. W. Taylor, of Penworliam.

Fifty-four members rany their first peal, 128 their first peai in some particular method, whilst eight members couducted their first Peal. PEAL BOARDS PRESERVED.
'During the year the cing of eight at Leyland las been rehurg and increased to ten, but unfortunately the association lias not been allowed to hold a meeting there. The ring of eight formerly in St. John's, Deansgate, Manchester, has been removed to Eccles Parish Cliurch. With the exception of the tenor the bells lave been recast, and Eccles fow proud to possess a ring which in tone and weight is worthy of that ancient church. The peal boards formerly in St . Joln's tower ate now preserved at Eceles. The ring of eight at Milnow has been relung in a new frame, and the ring of eight at Halewood lias also been recast and rehung.

The report adds: We have suffered a great loss by the passing away in January of Mr. H. W. Jackson, of Bolton, who had been treasurer of the association alnost, if not quite, frm the beginning, He lad reached a good old age, but lis interest was mablated and his genial presence at our meetings will be mudy missed. It is proposed that a memorial to him shonld be placed in the Church of Holy Trinity, Bolton, near to that of his old friend, Joel Redford, th furmer secretary of the association. We lave also regreffully to reentri the death of three other ringing menbers, $M$. Oldfield and E. Oldfich, of Eccles, and W. H. Harrison, of Colne, and of several honorary members. Among them we rocall with gratitude the names of Canon Rowntree, iato Rector of Stretford; the Rev. T. Taydor Evans, late Viear of Holy 'l'mity, Bolton Dr'. A. J. Wilson, late Vicar of St. Mary's, Oldham, who was largely concerned with getting the great ring there recast and rehaug; and My. A. Fi. Folme, of Dewsbury, a former viec-president of on asseciation.

- Our best thanks are always due to the hranel secretaries on whose labours in regularly attending branch meetings and keeping in touch with ringers in their districts, the practicel working of the association chiefly depends.

WARWICKSHERE GUILD.

A very enjoyable mecting of the Warwiekshive Guild was held at Newhold-an-Avob, metr Rugby, on Saturday lasf. ## POSTMAN RINGER'S RETIREMENT

Mr. George Taylor, of Ringmer, Sussex, has recently retired from the service of the Fost Ofice, after nearly forty years as rural postman. In that time he walked about 100,000 miles and cycled about 200,000 miles in the exercise of his duties, and he bas been presented with a medal in recognition of his long and faithful service.
Mr. Thaylor was for many years a ringer at Ringmer Parisly Church, and was a very efficient tenor man. He rang a few peals, one of whici, a peal of Grandsire Triples, in the year 1894, was the fastest on the beils. It was rung in 2 hrs. 32 mins-mot bad geing with a $14 \frac{\mathrm{cwt}}{} \mathbf{t}$ teror.
Ringmer bells are by Mears and Stainbank, and before being erectea in the church tower were on show at the Industrial Exhibition of the early ' eighties.

ANOTHER TWELVE-BELL TOWER.

The year which is just closing has been one of great activity in bell restoration and augmentation, and it is a striking testimony to the work which has been clone by the bellfounders that, within a few days of Christmas, one firm alone had in hand the completion of no fewer than ten important contracts. Not the least interesting of the augmentations which have been carried out is that which has resulted in giving the county of Berkshire its first ring of twelve bells, the consummation of the scheme being witnessed last Friday, when the service of dedication took place at St. Laurence's, Reading. This is the second ring of twelve to be brought into existence this year-the other being at Walsall-and it will be welcomed because it establishes another twelve-bell tower in a part of the country where, hitherto, opportunities for twelve-bell practice fave been lacking, and, what is more, in a centre where there is every chance of real use being made of the facilities. There are to-day forty-seven peals of twelve in the British Isles, hung for ringing, but we doubt whether in much more than half the towers is twelve-bell ringing regularly practised. From time to time, doubtless, twelve-bell ringing takes place in all of them, but there are many where it is only occasionally heard.

The growth in the number of twelve-bell rings has been really remarkable since the war. In the last eleven years there have been as many rings added as there were in the previous fifty years. A century ago there were just fourteen peals of twelve, in 1878 they had grown to 25 , and now there are 47 . York Minster was the first to possess twelve bells, the augmentation being made in 168 r , but there was a considerable interval afterwards, when there were only ten bells there, and the famous church of St. Bride, Fleet Street, can claim the largest unbroken history for a twelve-bell peal, the trebles being added to the then existing ten in 1719. At one time the practice of change ringing on twelve bells was conifned to the privileged few, and except perhaps in London, Birmingham and Norwich, there were no twelve-bell companies that lasted for any length of time, until the latter half of the nineteenth century. To-day, of course, the position is much different, and twelve-bell companies can be found in many places, but, what is more, the number of competent twelve-bell ringers has vastly increased, thanks to the additional facilities for practice which are now enjoyed. There is every reason to hope that Reading will provide an active centre, where twelve-bell ringing will be encouraged on an ample scale. The Berkshire twelvebell scheme was launched as a venture of faith; it has (Continued on page 818.)

A GREEK DISAPPROVAL.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir, - Apropos of your recent learling article, a young fimek at my hotel was enlarging a few day̧ ago on his objection to bells. The illustration on the front page of 'The Ringing World' harl aroused his ctiriosity, and coining a new Greek word for the purpose I explajued that it was "a joumal for lovers of bells.", At hat he queried how I could find eithen "necessity or beauty" in bells, and proceeded to tell in quaint lingligh how they hat disturbed his slumbers at Locarno. He was slinying af an botel near the Chureli of Madonna del Sasso, 'and the monk,' he seid, 'belled ai 5 otheck. Oh!' (At this point he jumperl in hia seat to indicale the efteet that it had on him. 'And then be bellod it agaiu every half-hour lial eight o'clock.'
As the young gentleman in question makes a practioe of coming to breakfast in lis night attire just beiore 10 a.mı, one can readily undelsfind hat the good monk's efforts to neonsge carly rising did not secure his npproval!-Yours trulg, F. LL. EDWARDS.

THE MAKING OF A BELL

LEOTURE JBY A BELT FOUNDER.

A locture on the lechnical side of bell founding was given by Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, before the Now cemen Society for the Study of the Histary of Engineering and T'echnology, at a meeting held at Prince Fenryts Room, Fleet Street dondon, on Deemiter 18th.
In the course of an interesting lecture Mr. Hughes pointed aut that fundamentally the actunl processes of moulding and casting have altered only slightly during the last six or seven conturies. The firsti step in the founding of a hell was to design the slape, and the making of this fesign was perhaps the most imporlant part of the whole work, for the satisfactory qualily of tone depended apon cor reel shape and forrect proportions of thickness al various points The quality of metal, whilsi of importance, was secondary to design. Mr. Fughes wezt on to degeribe in detail the process of mould ing, and contrasted the enre necessary in this part of the work compured with that for commercinl castings, in which it is eustomary to add a percentage of thickness to allow for nachining. In the case al bells there was no machining in the accepted sense of the word, and the founder designed lis bell to produce the note required. It whs for this renson that such particular care was taken with the monaling, as the limits for correction by the tumiag machine were tery amall. The moulds of botll core and cope are subjected to drying at several stages in order to reduee sluninkge to the lowest possible point, nud are finally given a dressins of plumbago and polished to produce a clearl, smooth surface on the casting, also to prevent hilo metal from luyning jnto the mould and to aliow of easy stripping' after casting.

QUALITY AND TONE

Bell metal, continued Mr. Hughes, was an alloy of copper and in, ami, for church bells, the bixture was ahaut 76 per cent. copper and 23 per cont. tim. Many experiments had been macle, but this copper and tin alloy had been proved to bo the best for profucing a clear, pure tone. The note of a bell depended upon its diameter at the mouth and its thickness at the soundbow. Two bells of the same size, but of different thicknesses, would therefore lave different rotes, the thimber of the two being the lower in pitcin. A peal of cight in the diatonic scale were calculated from the following proportions: Taking the tenor as 1, the diameter of the others from the 7 th to the treble would be $8-9$ ths, 45 ths, ${ }^{4}, 2$-3rds, $3-5$ ths, $8-15$ ths, , and each boll would, of course, bo east on the same seale of thickness. As, however, weights varied at the cubes of the diameters, in the case of bells to be hung for change ringing the weights obtained in a peal cast exaclly to this natural scale, would not be satisfacrory, and the smaller anes would be overpowered by the larger ones. It was, tharefore, necessary to depart by calculation from the natimal scale mad gradually to facrease tile weights from, generally spesking, the 6 ih. This naturally necessitated making them larger and, in order to retain the desired note, the thickness muse be proportionately increased. The result was ilat the treble would be ahoul 30 per cent. of the weight of the tenor instead of, accorting fo the natural formula, I咅 per cont

modem tuning, the note and harmonic tones were recorded by - tans of special Luning forks, registering the rate whrations per serond for ereli note. Bath bell was troated on the jintle, until its note responded exactly to the desired forks, and a ring of bells so toused could he gunranteed to be absolutely perfect in tune. It was in designing and tuving that the great advance had been made Fin first tuning machines constructed were laid down at the Glounesber Foundry of the renowned Rudhall family, and at the Whitechapel Foundry abont 100 years ago. From deseriptions handed down, these machines were worked by horse or donkey, and it was he madine which repolved, not the bell, as on modem lathes. With hese cally madhines, it was only possible to tune a bell in one zone, l.t., the soundbow, and he hamonic tones were, therefare, neg fictecd. Previous to these first machines, turing was offeeter by land-chipping metal from the soundhow. Sometimes a hell wotuld lu: sharpened by chipping metal from the exineme adee, the reduced liameler and retention of the ofiginal sourdbow thickness resulting in lesser mmplitude, and, therefore, quicker vibration, giving the higher note.
It had been stated that a few of the early Tinglish fonnders harl sane knowledge of the theory of carrect design. The examples were unosty tomme in the eastern Counties, and one could caly contact will the Flemish founders, or by loaving paid wis to the Continent. One of the most remowned bells in Dast Anflia was tho tenor at Laverlam, Suftell, cast hy Mileg Graye, of Golchester, II 1625 and wnighing abouf 24 cwt. " chi is bell was almost perfectly corvent ir its toncs. The curious thing, however, was that, as good "Fomace as Miles Graye was, his bells wore not consistend in qualily, and one could, therefore, only assume that his knowledge was linitud. Mr. Hughas said his own opinion was that these eerly (unnfers, like their successors, beliewed that atl bells, irrespective of size or scale of thickness, conld be dosigned on exactly the same lines. ## SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

WEST DORSET BRANOH: APPRECIATION OF HON. SECRETARY'S WORK
The anmual mecting of the West Dorget Branch was held at Brid + port an Saturday, December 14th, about 60 ringers attending. Service was lield in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. S. H. Viggars (Rector), aud an address was given by the Rev. B. J. Langhani, Rector of Maiden Newton.
The usual meat tea followed at the Greylound Hotel, presided ower by the Rev. C. Carew Cox, chairman of the branch, supported by tle Revs. B. Langhnnı, B. Hutton, O. H. d'Ombrain, Messrs. F. Bugler (Ringing Master), W. E. B. Northover (Depaty Ringing Master'), and Mr. T. Hervey Beams (hon. secretary).
At the tusimess meeting, the president, Ringing Master and Deputy Ringing Master were all umanmously re-glected to office.
The unweleome anotncement lrad then to be made that Mr. Beams felt unable, on mecount of his ill-health, ta earry on all the duties required of the secretary and treasurer. Mr. Beams spoke an his own helaalf, regretting his mability, but offeriug whatever counsel and direction be could to whosoever was appointed to succeed him.
It was unanimously felt tiat the branch was auxious to retain Mr Beams upon its list of officers as long as' possible, and the warm sympathy of the members was expressed to him. He was, thelefore, re-elected formally as secretary and treasurer, and Mr. F. Brooks, of Beaminster, was appointed hon. Assistant secretary, with the tuderstanding that he would shoulder all the active work.
The Chairman then spoke of Mr. Beams' association with the Guild during the twenty-three years since his coming to Bradpole, of his untiring devotion to the cause of bells and ringing, and of his persistenee which had resulted in the established position of the branch to-day and in the existence of ohange ringing over a wide area where it was previousiy unknown. He asked Mr. Beams to accept the gratitude of the branch, which owed all its progress to Mr. Beams
On behalf of the members, the Chairman then presented to Mr Beams a framert address, accompanied by some uscful gifts, towards which every towor affiliated to the branch had sent a subseription.
Mr. Beams, in expressing his thanks, hoped that the member: would assist his successor in every way.
Bradpole, Maiden Newton, Whitchureh, Netherbury and Beaminster were chosen for the quarterly meetings, and it was resolved to hold a bye-meeting at Litton Cheney.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was accorded the Rector of Brid port, the preacher, the organist, and all the incumbents who lad wolcomed the Guild at their towers during the year
A strong recommendation was passed that the Diocesan Guild should press for the inclusion of a practical ringer on the Diocesan Advisory Committee.
The towers in the neighbourhood were available for ringing, and many young ringers enjoyed some good practice.

THE MAKING OF A BELL (continued from previous column). It was, of course, now koown that this was not the case. With alf these early founders' products, it was noticeable that one or two bolls were better than others, and he (Mr. Hughes) thought there was no doubt that they worked largely by rule offthumb methods. It should not be inferred, coneluted Mr. Fughes, that aIl the old rings of bells in the country should be recast. There were still many old rings throughout the country which, despite technical faults, were regarded favourably, and the general effect in ringing was pleasing. It was also possible to retune many old peals, getting their fundamental notes correct and their harmonic lones as meaily m line as possible, with satisfactory results.
Mr. Eucless lecture, which was much appreciated, and followed with elose interest, was illustrated by lantern slides and models.

The fortheoring Minor Methods Collection contains an appendix which is both an opportunity and a cliallenge-an opportunity for the Extrise to see if it has any use for a new style of peal camposition in Minor and Doubles, and a challenge to those who think that only What has always been done should still be done.
Let us remember that ringing is aus art based on a mathematical science, a science so exact and rigid tbat it makes its own rulos. You cannol get very far from them, Its loner histol'y and its many developments have left ringiug substantially the same thing as when it starled, and we need bave no fear that it will ever be spoilt by lawless innovations. So I an all in fovotr of experiments, and the more the people who make them maderstand the nature of ringing the better chance they liave of being successful.

NOTES BY THE WAY

RULES FOR PEALS-A TTME OF EXPERIMENT. BY J. ARMIGER TROLLORE
The recont editorial in 'The Ringing World" on the subject of Conditions for Peals, saises a rather interesting problem. We are deminded that spliced ringing has fuecome a fairly common practice in late years, and that not only have peals been rung in several Major methods, but Triples and Major and Caters and Royal have been rung in the same peal. And we are asked, 'What about Minor and Doubles? May they, too, be rung in the same peal p. Well, the auswer depends, 1 suppose, largely upon how you are going to mix them. You might ring six camplete 720 's of Minor, followen by six complete 120's of Doubles, and although such a performanec cannot be said to be covered by the accepled rules, it is hardly likely that anyone (save, perhaps, a few purists who are not six-bell ringers) would seriously object. But you could not eall it spliced ringing any more than you could call a complete touch of 2,520 Bob Major followed by a complete touch of 2,520 Grandsive Triples spliced ringing. And there bardly scems to be any sufficicnt reason for ringing such a peal. The essence of spliced ringing is that two or more methads are employed in the same composition, and in ringing you pass from one to the ollier in the middle of the touch, and with no more notice than you get at a hob. It is one thing to start a fresin method from rounds, and quite another to pick ap the work for a new method at any odd lead-end. In proper spliced Doubles and Minor ringing you must have a true 720 made up of the two. Such a thing is no doubt possible, but it would involve making each of the bells in turn a covering tenor, a thing which for obvious reasons is not to be recommended. Apgrt from ihe detestable musical result, it would, I think, violate the sound rule of the Exercise that no bell should strike in any one position more than two consecutive blows
One other way, perhaps, you might do it. You could start a 720 of Minor, then in the middle at it switch over into Doubles, ring a whole or part of a six-score and pick up your Minor again, and so by Ghifting from one to the ohber ring a complete 720 and a complete 120. It would not be true spliced ringing, but it might be interesting as an experiment. But would if be worth while? The band that wants to ring it are the only people who can really answer that ques tion, but I should say, sceing that the scope of real spliced Minor ringing is so wide, that it would not be worth while.

But then comes the question, What about the Central Council rules for peal rivging? Camot we settle this question by seeing what they say and loyally abiding by it? 1 should say that they liave nothing to do with it at all. They were drawn up at a time when nobody thought of spliced ringing, and they do not contemplate these things in any way. True, they do not allow them, but it is not fair to say that they forbid them. Nor do I think that we need worry, it present, about hringing our rules up to date. We are passing through a time of development in peal ringing, and experiments are being made. We want to seo what is going to come out of them, and when we know that wo can rewrite our rules. We do not want to legalise formally all these experiments, hut we certainly do not want to stop them being made.

But people suy, 'That won't do. If we have got rules we must keep them, otherwise better to do away wilh them altogether. And do we want to have a state of lawlessness in the Exercise, where overythat argument is that you must undergand what the nature and use of rules in ringing are. And on this point there is a good deal of misunderstanding, People think ihat our yules are like ile rules in such things as cricket and football, which are necessary to the game, And which, if tayer breaks, lie is yuilty of unfaimess. But they are mot. When the essence of a gatme is competition between two people or two sides, you mast liave rates to hold the proper halance between them, and if one side breaks then it is guilty of unfairness. For instance, the bowler who throws in cricket is unfais to the batsman. But in ringing there is nothing of that sort. Competition only enters into it as a side isscte. Orar culcs are not restrictive. They are not intended to provent people from doing things. They are really directions how to get the hes out of ringing. They are the result of the exporience of the Exercise turing conturies, and they say to ringers, "Tf you want to get the best ouf of ringing, to this and do not do that. But if a band chooses to do otherwise, they are quite within their rights, and are guilty of no unfaimess. It follows that if sufficient reason oceurs any hand may break any of these rales and be justified in doing so. Nor will these exceptions alter the fact that for nearly every case the wule is good and should be observed. No rules should stand in the way of the legitimate and naiural development of ringing. The final test must be whether the novelty is a legitimate and nataral development. And that, 1 think, time alone can solve. Fifty years ago (much less than fifty years ago) a representalive body of ringers would have condemned out of hand such things as Little Mothods, or spliced peals. The time was not ripe for them. But now they have fitted themselves into our scheme of things, and we feel they are right and proper and a gain to our art. Novelty just for novelty's sake and things that are freaks are to be stemly discouraged, but if ringing is to live and flowish it must develop.

READING'S RING OF TWELVE

DEDICATION* AT ST. LAERENCE'S, READING.
It is remarkable what results may be achieved when everyone cancerned does his hest, and at the same time makes its possibleand attractive-for others to do theirs. This is practically, the story of the St. Laurence Twelve, which were ciedicated by Bishop Shaw on Friday, December 20th. The matter was only taken in liand at the end of dune, and some time before six months had clapsed the money was assured. The result ja also a witness to the fact that you can have a ving of twelve possessing beauty, body and halance with a tenor of under 24 cwt . Every bell is henrd distinctly in the ringing room, and all are restrained. The 'go' is all that could be desired.
Besides adding two trebles, the treble of the ald ten has been recest and the whole ring taned and lung with new fitting in a cast-iron and steel freme. The work has been carried oul by Messry, Mears and Stainbank, whose representative in clarge of the work in the tower was Mr. Frank Smith.
It was the wish of the church autionities that the ringing at the dedication should be carricd out by experienced twelve-bell zingers, so the foreman of tower, Mr. R. T. Hibbert, applied to Mr. H. Langdon, of the College Youths, who brought down for the occasion some of the St. Paul's Cathedrai band, most of whom are also members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the bells wore heard to good advantrge in a 504 of Stedman Ginques rung at the close of the service.

The original ten hells were a ving by Robert Catlin, which were estored in 1882, when some of the hells were yecast.

TWELVE-BELL TOWERS

A COMPLETE LISM

The practice of having twelve bells, lung for ringing, iu a tower goes back to the earliest riays of change ringing. Youk Minstev possessed the first, set up in 1681, but these were recast into a peal of ten in 1765, and there was nok twelve in the towcr again until 1844. It was at St. Bride's, Fleet Strect, that the first twelve-belf peal was rung, and the bells here were made twelve in 1719. Cirencester followed in 1722, St. Martin's-in-Hhe-Fields (1726), St. Michael's, Cornhill (1728), and St. Saviour's, Southwark (1735) cane next, but it was not until 1770 that anolhel' wing af twelve appeared in the provinces. In that year the twelve was completed at St. Mary's, Cambridge, but in the meantime, as mentioned above, the twelve at York had disappeared. Two famons peals followed soon after-Birmingham in 1772 and Norwicis in 1775.

It is interesting to mote that two rings of twelve of former days are no longer iu existence, That at Christ Church, Spitalifelds, was destroyed by fre in 1836, and the ring of twelve at St. Peter's, Sti. Albans, completed in 1868, was afterwarda reduced again to ten.
Here is the list of fings of twelve in Grat Bridam and Ireland, with the approximate weights of the respective tenors:-

PEALS IN 15 MLTHODS.

BY STEPHEN H. WOOD.
'Ihis article is really a contimuntion of or at seguel to, one which appeared in ' T'lie Hinging World' of August 30th, 1929. In that Hetinle I was dealing musinly with the first 15 methods in the C.C. Collection, mamely, all those whieh are produced by adding one or broble,' 5 th's and 6 tin's round the troble, ' 2 nd's plate," "7th's place.
Wi: succecderl in splicing seven of thern into a peal, and, later, sthded six " Lititle 'methods to this number: In doing this wo himited curselves to the ase ol' bolss only, with the exception of two Singlesours at the end of each latri-lis tarn the 'course' of the rows; and I promised to rolum later ami see whather we could get any further by using Singles us well as Molss. I have since investigated this ratiter, and hope to explain in Lhis article how the use of Siugle cunthes us to splice the whole 15 methods into a peal.

In my previous arficle (refored to above) idivided the 15 methods up into four groups and slowed how there are eight false courgeende belween any two of them, namely $\begin{array}{llll}34256, & 35426, & 63254, & 42635, \\ 42356, & 52436, & 43652, & 35264,\end{array}$
${ }^{H}$ lise problem befote tis now is, therefore, to prodice four sets of buldral couren-ends which are such that no member of one repents with any member of any of the others when trinsposed by any of "tuese eight false course-conds. This sonulds ratier alarming, but in rality it is nett nearly as liand as it sounds. We can at once get in thels-ong id-courbe and onf out-of-course. Wlat we have to do, therrefore, is to wrile down Lwo sets, beth in-course, which salisfy therso couditions; we oan then write down the two correbponding out-of-course sets, making up ille necessary tour.
"Chere ar'e several sulutions to this problem, giving in onch case Lotal of 50 courde-ends-i.e., just half the full number (and, incirimpally, just about earogla to give us a peal).
'llue following is the most oluvious sturl symmeltical solution:-

In the nhowe, $A$ and $B$ are in-course, and it will be found that the raws of 4 am just the rows of $A$ written backwnids. C and $D$ are out-of-conrse, and fre Lie same as a und B with 5 and 6 reversed. 'Ilyse four sets will be foum to satiafy the conditions.
Now, we could liave got as far as, lifis hefore, but our trouble was Lunt, while we were limiter to the uge of bols only, it was impossible lo gre from A to $\mathbf{B}$, or funm G lo D. Tlie Siugles will overcome this diffeulty, und it now remains for us to see low we ean best jain us these 60 courses into ane ronned black.
thero again we are likely to get tempornily stuck; bat jt is obvious that there mist lie fray of doing it, so that if we think about it longe enougla nuti hatd elougla wo shatl probably get an iuspiration ot brato wave, Now it will be ohserved that the 60 couree-ends whth we ford using are rather peculine; in enels of them 5-6 are either It hone (i.e, in 5-6, either the righi way or reversed), or else are cutrsiag ench other: and these 60 course-ends have already been jothei into an admitable peal of Dauble Nowich some years ago by

I wonld ask any who are interested in these maters to follow flais through very elasely, becanga tho way in which Mr. Bankes Jatnes' pron in Double Norwich is bound up with our present difficulties, and Ifse manmer in which it ovoremes them all wilh one foll swoop, as it were, tum suves us from any further worry about fulsemess, is one of the musi fascinating and beauriful things which I have yet met in fur womp at eomposilions.
The limures of this peal

Filevoll linns repentod, wilti wo similarly-placed Singleg, one in cuch lialf.
This is in itself p very clever poal of Bouble Norwich, but I doubl geveral years later Lo splico many meliods into a peal of Major with such a maximum of simplicity. To begin with, it contains just the courses which we are dealing with, but it does more titan this; it uses only two oalis, Bohs at 'Home' and Singles at 'Oui.' Now a Single at 'Out' in an 8th's-place method has the same effect as a Singleat 'Right' in a 2nd's-place method, and by making this slight variation we at once make room for our end's-place methonk as well as ofr 8th's-place methods, and, moveover, the calls are wow in both cases right at the end of tho course, 6 , there is no possible chance of bits of one caurse repeating with bits of another, cach onn being an entirely separate and indepeudent unit. In fnet, its is all almost toos good to be true

If we write out the peal in full aud mark $A, B, C$ or $D$ opposite each course according to which of the four groups the previous courseand appears in above, we can find aut at once which methods we may use for exch course; there will in each case be a choice of wo For iustance, I have taken the -

Plain Bob, Double Bob and Revorse Boh group for A
Lavenham, Maidstone, Edmonton and Chestevield for $\mathbf{B}$
Sisipway, Highbury, Winchester and Marlborongli for G, and Double Norwich, Fershore, Double Oxford and Herewnrd for D.
Suppose we find A marked opposite a course, then if the calling is Bols at Home, the method to be rung is Reverse Boh, and if the calling is 'Single at Right,' we may ring cither Plain Bob or Douthe Bob. Ant again, if $$$ is marked opposite a course, wo can ring either Dotable Norwich or' Pershore if the calling is 'Bolo oul Home,' and either Double Oxfort or Hereward if it is Single ni Right.
So far thing have been going well for us, but wo now find aurselves up against two smags. The first is fairly easily oxercome; we have got to put in two Singles, one in each half, atnd in doing this we mist he careful about changitig the method. We must always clange from one group to another at a Single, and as in this ease we must make the Singles in the middle of the course, we shall have to change the method in the middle of a course.
The second smat is thore serious; it is this: the the onlling is Bob at Home in all the 8ths-place method courses, these courses will in no case contain the full seren leads. The Teverse Boh courses will give six leads and the Double Norwich five, but the others will give only four, three and two, according to where the "Home" position oceurs in the course the restult of this is that although wo have 60 courses (and 45 fuld ones are enough for a peal), aven if we spin out the length of our round hlock as fir as possible by putting in ouly one course of Pershore, Majdstone, , Hud Highatry, wo are alil! noorly four courses short of a 5,000 . Tlis is a tragedy, and soriothing drastic must be done about it, There is no choice; il wo are to gel a peal at all we must splice jot some courses with the tonors soparatod. I have dome lhis as simply as possible (and having dine regard for ' trath') by making three calls ai. 'Sth's' in each linlf, and by noking the first of them in each ease at Single instead of at Bob, we get over our first shag at the same time, that an avoid messine up the composition any more than is absalutely neoessary.

A MEETING AT BEVERLFY

The quatierly meeting of the Eastern Diatrict was held at Beverley oll Saturday, December 14th, and was but poorly attencled. The survice was hold in the choir of the ninster, where the Vicar, the Ris. W. F. Rigg, D.D., delivered an appropriate address, in the conirse of which file demise of the late Vicar, Cenon Nolloth, was Louchad upon in affectionate terms.
llea was serven ial the Minster Parish Roon to members represerting towers at Howden, Hul!, Firk Tlla, Markef Weighton, Selhy, Sutton, Withernsea and the local company. The business meeding followed, the chair being taken by the Yicar.
The anaunl meeting was arranged to he held at Goole in March, and Mr. E. E. Taylor, of Withernsca, was elected a member of the associdation.
A volo of condolence was moved by Mr. F. Cryer and secondel by Mr. W. Gibson, with Mrs. Nolloth on the death of the late Cutran, the merrbers standing a few moments in respectfu] silence.

A amanimous hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. Dr. Rigg for the use of the magnificent peal, service and address, also to the ladies who kindly administored to the wants of the visitors, and t.o Mr. W. Gibson for the excellent arrangements.

This conchded a small but a very enjoyable and harmonious meeting, to which the Vicar contributed in no smatl degree.

(Ontinued from previous column.)

N.B.-In the 3rd course Plain Bob is rurg till the 'Sth's' pooition comes up (at the gecond leak), and Double Oxford is then rung thll the course-ent, the course cousisting of four leads. In the thir] course of the second half, Double Oxfaud is rung till the ' 5 th's' position conees up (at the 5th lead), and Plain Boh is then rung till the course-end, the course consisting of ten leads. In arranging the melbods I bave as far as possible pul the harder and lesg known methods early, and in this and other ways made the practical performanee of it as ersy as its nature allows.
This peal contains one or two rather unsatisfactory features; to hegin with there are geven methods which only appear once, and in three of these eares only for a short course. There are glso the four coures with the tonors apart, which we had to put in.

I have, however, composed another peal which gets over these diffeulties to s great extent. I will publish it, fud the groups of coursephds $A, B, C, D$ from which it is produced, ita a later issue. It is hased on the game idea, but at the expense of elaborating the calling a liftle bit I have reduced the number of ghort courses, so that the 60 courses, insteal of giving a round block of under 5,000 , now give 6,048 , which is a big improvement.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR

 PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churcles, with a view to therr future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be pululished at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.
Will each tower secretary be good enough to sead a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELERY GOSSIP.

A happy and prosperous new year to all our friends. May gour fortune always attend them, and their shadows ncver grow less.
The St. James' Socicty (which is now the London County Associafion) was established to give the members of the College and Cumberland Youths the opporturity of meeting and ringing peals hir gether. It was established over a hundred years ago, but it was not the first society that exisfed to meet this particular requirement. As long ago as 1738 there was in London 'the Friendly Society of Ringers. How long it lasted we do not know, but on December $27 \mathrm{th}, 1738$, under its auspices, a peal of 6,180 Bob Majer was rung ut St. Andrew's, Holborn.
A 'John' peal, composed by John Holt, reversed by Jobn Caricr and conducted by John Jaggar, was rung at St. John-the-Baptist 3 Cliurch, Hagley, on December 27th, 1902. The Johns, too, rang it peal of London Surprise at St. Stephon"s, Rochester Row, กu January 2nd, 1904, bat the first Joln peal was rung by the Bromidy Youtbs in 1828.
On hundred and eighty years ago to-morvow the "Twickenham Schollars' raug a peal of 6,000 Hob Major at Twickenham.
A peal of 12,000 Bob Major was rung at Bromsgrove on Decemher $29 t h, 1788$, and on the same day, two years later, a 10,080 was rung at Luceds, Kent.
The 29 ch is also the auniversary of the frrst peal of Double Norwich in Surrey, rung in 1848 at Holy Trinity, Newington, comgosed and conduched by John Cox; and the 35th anniversary of 10,176 Kent Treble Bob Major at Irthlingborough, which was couducted hy Charles W. Clarke.
Two records in their day, set up by the Orford Diocesan Guidd, were made on December 31st, when, in 1881, 15,041 Stedman Caters was rung at Appleton; and in 1892, 12,096 Datuble Norwich at Maidenhead.
James Barham rang his i00th peal on January 1st, 1793. The total age of the band was 582 years.
On New Year's Day, 1776 a a peal of 8,046 Grabdsire Caters was rung at St. Mary's, Nottinglam, conducted by W. D. Crofts.

The first recorded peal in the belfry of St. George's, Gravesent, was rung on January 1st, 1786, fifty years after the bells had been instailed. The chureh was burnt down im 1727, and the restoration completed in 1736 . The present bells are a fime-toned prat by Messis. Taylor and Co., dedicated in 1923.
Mr. Robert Spalding inust liave created something of a record When on Saturday week lie rang his first paal of Major, for he is in his 80th year. Age is ne bar in ringing. Prior to this peal of Kent Troble Bob, Mr. Spalding liad rung only one other sight-bell peal, namely, a peal of Grandsire Triples, 17 years ago.
If you want to buy or sell handbells, advertise in "The Rinting World.' An advertiser writes: 'I had soven applications from my two adverfisements of set of handbells, and sold then satisfactorily.'
Mr. H. A. Barmett has completed fifty years as a ringer af All Hallows', Tottenham.
The peal of Grondsive Donhles rung at Huish Champflower, December 14th, rud reported in our last issue, should bave been credited to the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association.

EAST BERGHOLT'S QUAINT BELL HOUSE

The quaintest belfry in this country with a ring of bells is East Bergholt in Suffolk, where at the parish church, dedicated to St. Mary, there is a heavy peal of five bells, the tenor reputed to be about 28 cwt ., hung in a cage in the cluurchyard. They are roofed over, but have neither ropes nor wheels. Each ringer stands on a ledge about two feet from the ground by the side of the bell frame and swings his bell by hand by the stock. The ringers are guite dexterous in handling their bells and the ringing of them is always an object of interest.

There are various traditions accounting for the strange state of affairs; the least probable being that every time an attempt was made to build a bell tower his satanic majesty, annoyed over something or other, pulled it down. A more likely explanation is the one that Cardinal Wolsey started the new tower but his 'fall' put a stop to the work. The former nave was taken down in 1520 and a base for a new tower prepared, but this was never completed, and the bells were housed in the cage as it is seen to-day. Some of the bells have been recast.

The church of St. Mary is chielly of the decorated period, with a spacious chancel dating back to 1450 , containing a beautiful marble floor and well carved oak choir stalls. The windows all round are large, and some very beautiful, giving the building a very bright interior. An oaken chest, 1400 A.D., is placed near the organ, whilst an unexploded German bomb, one of forty dropped from an airship in September, 1915, is hung on the south wall. A short distance away from the church is the birthplaw of John Constable, the artist.

CLERGY AND RINGINC

To the Editor.

Sir, -May I, as a parson who has recently taken up ringing, join in the correspondence re the above?

First let me say that, while fron the ringers' point of view the ideal thing would be for every parson to be also a ringer, there is another side to it, and one which must not be lost sight of. For it is obvious that to learn ringing absorbs mucin time. Some, it is true, pick it up much more quickly than others, but it requires, say, a year or more to become at all proficient at change ringing. Fow many averwarked clergy and curates in large parishes can give one or two nights $n$ week during that time to learn the art in the midst of n! I their ofher engagements? Even a country parson finds limself much oecupied by evening classes, and many might well argue that his time might be much better spent than in the tower week after week. But if he is not a ringer, how is he to get in touch?

He may visit the ringers on practice nights, if he has time and is not atherwise engaged, but the prubability is that he will not understand what they are fioing, and will feel very much uthe way. On Sundays the bells are ringing before ho gets to church, und if they are having quarter-peals his arrival in the belfry will disconcert tho ringers if he attempts to start conversation with them during the peal. If they ace having change vinging, it is not easy to time one's arrival for the few minutes in between the changes. By the time they stop ringing for tolling in he is probably in the vestry gefting ready limself for the service. And do not forget linat there are often many things he must see to just before the scrvice if all is to go with that smootimess which is so necessary to devoul worship.
It may be said that he should be there early to take the opening prayer. Rut if the parson is single handed, and possibly in the country with fwo chureles some distance part, this may entall a rery early start, and $]$ think there are many of my brethrern who would agroe with me that the last half-hour is a very sacred and precious prepantion for pinjer and menifation, and not one to be tighty fispensed will. Hiwing for some years lived about a mile and a lagls from my chureh, 1 know sommething of what time and distance meun.
My point is that there is a very real fifficulty in getting in touel with the ringers, even will the best will in the world. It is easy enough for tha ringer to say, 'If parson were different it would he all right, but the question is, " [s it aiways his fault?' I honesty think that if the parson rings himself it helps to bridge the galf, bat, as I have tried to poinl onli, that is not always easy.
But are we not in danger of losing sight of the main crucial point? The office of beltringers should be as zatred an office as that of Sumday School teacher or any ather charchworker. Quite so: thon we must go one step furthor. Spiritual men and women for spiritara work. Aim, pray, work for converted bellvingers. Then there will the no gap between parson and hellringer; both will be one in thatr aims and purpote, they will not only meet in the belfry, but in many other phases in Clureti life aud work. And there will grow up lie: tween them that holy, happy bond of Churstian followslijp whish is only to be found between those who are truly one in the deepest spiritual things. Their bellringing will then be not merely a hobby nor an occasion for sacial intercourse, but it will be a bit of spirithin? work underlaken from the lighest motives. -Yours truly,
F. ARTHER ROUGHTON,

PUBLIC UNDERTAKINGS.

Mr. Parker's appointment as tower formman [ollowed, ant The set about getting new hands, and soon mastered tower bells in Doubles and Minor. Then be tumed his attention to simple compositions on six bells, little dreaning of the mass of figures ho was to wade through in after years. When Quect Victoria's diamond jubilee eame along, it was Mr. Parkel' who urged tle 'trebles' in opposition to other suggestions, and in 1897 the collected the whole of the funds for the new hells and fittings.
With his meighbour, the Iate George Allder, of Burnlamm, he at once set about hanging the new hells in a new frame withont professional linlp, and in Octolser, 1898, with his own band conducted his own composition for the first pal on the octave. On the death of the Rector, the Rev. F. Stirling Barshall, a well-heloved ringers" friend, who lad heen incumbent for 37 years, the parish decided to keep his memory by installing a striking elock in the clurels lower, and the whole of the fands for this wore collected as a labour of love by Mr. Parker, who has ever since 1891 cared Coy and attended to its regular timekeping.
When the Parochial Couneil was formed, under the Local Government Act of 1894, Mr. Parker was one of the first members olected, aud lass served on it ever since. He now holds the pasition of wiceclamiman, with the rdded dignity of heing Fathor of tha Council, As a fire hrigade voluntent he lark on the care of tire hose reel aut lydrants of the parish for some time. Of these, 101 peals were ruag for the Oxford Diocesan Guild, 19 for the Midalesex Comty Association, find 11 for ohlior sociehies. It will be noticed that "Grandsire' predominates in the list, which shows that the veterat was born too soon, at a tima when half-pull men were searec, and long journeys on foot had to be undertaken fur an 'atterapt' that was froqueutly repeated. For instance, at Wracsbury Mr. Parker marle nearly a dozen attempis, some of almost three hours' duration, bofore he was rewarded with "That's all. In addition to the Oxford Guild and Middlesex Association, he also joined the College Youths, Sl. Jumes' and Waterloo Societies in London.

IN TKE REALM OF COMPOSITTON.

Success with his early efforts in Minor led Mr. Parker to plain Thiples' compositions in Union, Court and Oxford Bolm wethods, and severa) new peals were sent to Farry Burstow, of Horsham (an old friend), and were rung by the Warnham company. Indeed, Mr. Parker was so well recognised as an authority on these metiods fhat he was raked by the Rew. Farle Bulwer to classify a collection, but he gave way in favour of the late Dr. A. B. Carpenter, of Croydon. No conposer of note is free from numerons applications from hudiding conriuctors for information, often of an 'impossible nature,' and Mr. Parker's postbag of the pash 40 years would fill a goodsized brax.
He bas produced several peals of value in Double Norwich, Treble Bols and Superlative, hut it is in the development of now ideas from 1889 onwards that J.J.P. surprised the Exercise by his compositions. All leaders in the realms of method building and composition have, ak one time or another, communicatec with him to their mutual satisfaction and the advantage of the Exercise-Snowdon, Bulwer, Dains, Wnslibrook, Pritchard, Carter and Sir Arthur Foywood, all now deceased, as well as J. W. Parter, of Sunderland, G. Bakef, of Brighton, G. Lipdoff, of Dublin, and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. With the last-mamed, a good deal of the spade worle was done to produce the two modern works on ringing, viz., 'Grandsire' and 'Stedman.' It is on record that Sir Arthur Heywood, on seeing certain productions ty ML. Parker, thiew over a whole pile of work in owler to start afvesh.
During the carly years of the Sussex County Assaciation clatlenge cup era certain of the committee rather fraved for the trath of the peals rung in the Warnham district, not knowing till later who was the actual composer: Quite recently Mr. Lindoff produced a ten-parti peal of Stedman Triples and wished to elaim it, but was refered to the 'Bell News' of 1889. Again, Wra. Sevier, of Gloncester, seni him years-ago a ten-parf peal of Grandsire Triples by the Rev. $H$. L. Tames, which Mr. Tarker converted into an excellent five-part peal. In recent convergation I have nseertained that much of his early work was entirely wasted in midenvouring to 'produce an impossibility, ${ }^{\prime}$ und it was out after elaborate diagrames, with columns of part-ends to correspond with the 'boh sets " of calling, had been prepared that it was possible to answer the question: "Will it go " Garter's ' 20 courses,' with the help of the two Parkers, soon becane 30 , and then 40 courses us wo know them to-day, and, strange fo say, working independently, each man produced them in exactly fly same way
"The Waterlna Society rang Hult's Original reversed br' Carter, and it was questioned by Challis Winnest with lehters to Mr. Parker, who pointer out that by cutting ont the three leards between the Singles, and placing them it the body of the peal, it was quite true. There was at very inferesting half-hour with Carter at the 'Goose and Gridiron" soon afterwards, during a College Youtlis' menting there.
Harcey Reeves, the late editor of "Bell News, had an ambition to call a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Saviour's. Walthamstow. Gartor arranged the conposition-a variation of Thurstans four-part-in suit the 4 th bell as tho observation. This Renwes called. and lad a board erected for it in the belfry. That peal proverl false, but the same composition with the 2nd as observation by Parker runs tuve. When "Bell Nows' started, Harvey, a portiv man, often visited Farmlian Royal foy a week-end, when le woukd engage a pouy and chaise lo drive lhrough the famous Burnham Peeches with Parker, and I ofter heart a cood deal of talking and figuring in various mothods by the pair during onr drive, which ustially finished up at the Dukes Head to moisten the course eads. Mr. Parker had the ptill on him once when Reeves returned his twro ponls of Grandsire Triples on the six-part plan as false, whist they were perfectly fue, a plan which ather composers have since follower up.
What do you consider the most effeotive composition in Grandsircp I asked. 'My 12-part; it is tapable of endless variation, replied Mr. Parker. 'I have it transposed with the second bell as ohservation for a conductor, who is unable to ring at the back end of a ring of eiglat.
This contributions would nat he complete if attention were not Arawn to Mr. Parker's fourfold jubilee, an accomplishment that floes Rerks and Bucks ringer, and, last but not least, fifty years of happy matried life. His many services as a ringer, composer and a committee man for the Ouford Dioceshan Guild were acknowledged by electing him to honomary triembership of 1 he $G$ aikd in 1889, and there is every prospect of his making another jubilee in 1931.
On St. Leonat's Day Four Berks and four Jucks men met at Farmam Church and rang a 'complimentary peal' (as already re-

THE STANDARD OF STRIKJNG IN PEALS.  SOME PCRTINENT REMARKS.  To the Editor

Deat Sir,-Far be it from mo to cast animadversious unon ather people's peal ringing. The standard of striking in peals is necessarily arbitrary, for various reasons. However, there is a delfinte minimum of performance below which no ringers should go.

I and moved to these remarks hy what I heard of a penl at Painswiok on Saturday last, by the band which had attempted to regain the twelve-bell recorfl for length. I irust that no one will think I exaggerate, or that I approach the sulygect with anything but an open mind. I say, then, that this performance was no peal, for neither did it start from nor did it end with founds. Not one of the opening rounds was elean, and owing to the careless ringing of two of the litule bels, rounds did not come up where it ought to have done. Of the forty minutes or so of the ringing that I heard, the least said the better. It reminded me of nothing so much as at billiard player jilly knocking the balls about the teble, with no definite ollject in wiew. If a ball goes in a pocket, all well and good. If it doesn't, nohorly cares. And this was from the hand whicly, had it succected in keeping the bolls going for the proposed lengilh, would have taken precedenco, over the band which rang the Sotthwark Stedman, a mugnificent performance, aud ovor the Ashtou Maximus band.
I have just read bluough the foregoing, and see no reason to withdraw one jot of tittle of my remarlis. The two very efficient ringers who were wilh me at the time agreed with me that the ringing was very bad indeed.
I do sincerely trust thai the band, among whicls are some of my very good friands, will take these strictures as Lhey are offerect, i.e., spirit of friendly eriticism.
Now, Sir, 1 am not the man to toke an attitude which may be construed as purely destructive. Hence I have a suggestion to nake in regard to all record performances. Is it impossible for the CenEral Council to appoint competent jurges to listen to lhe ringing of these peals? The difliculty which crops up immediately is that were such judges to be appointed, they would have no fixed standiard on which to base their conclusions, but thoy would lave their own vers good selse. and that is not an unreasonahle criterion.-Wours tirals:

GLIMPSES OF THE PAST.

LAVENHAM'S FAMOLIS TENOR

The 'Saturday Magazine' of October 17th, 1832 , lad the following paragraph in praise of Lavenlam tenor, still held to be one of the finest old bells in the country: At Eavenliam, all obsaure little towe in Suffolk, once celebrated for the manufacture of blue cloth and hand-spun yarn, stands a noble monument of ancient munificence, rankerl among the most benutiful Gothe fabrics in the kingrion, hoth for durability and grandenr. In the steeple of this church is a bell, waighing only $2,576 \mathrm{lb}$., with such a melodious note as to be nniversally styled "The Matchless 'Tenor '; and 'Magna Britanaia, treating of Lavenham bells, says: "The tenor hath such an admirable note, as England has none to compare to it.'

- Its weight, its shape, its size alike admir'd,

The merry eight with music fill the ear;
Enlerpe, too, invites from far and near.
And thongh, in floniling, all sounds slowly die,
They're quick revived by Echo's sweet reply
Heavd filrough the woods their soft melodious ring
Inspires the warbling feathoved tribe to sing,
Nestling 'mid laves, or skimming o'er the plain,
Distinct to hail each harmonising strain."
Tradilion says that at the time of casting this tenor bell at Lavenham (1625) somo rich wool staplers there and other gentlemen in the neighbourhood contributed great ganntities of silver, and even gold, to the ustual melal, which may, perliaps, acenunt for the vast sumpriovily of its tanc. Three roods of land were left to the church by some sdmirer oif ringing for the ropair of the bell ropes. Judge Hale, Simon De Fwes (one of the most learnec antiquaries of his titme and lord of the manor of Litvenhum), and William Ceci] [Lord High Treastrer of England) were celebraided bellringers, and no doubt travelierl miles to assist at the rejoicings of village festivals.'

BOW STEEPLE.

Bow hells, still silend for want of that altention which all ringers are looping will soon be given to them, arm perlaps the most famous in the world, and the stecple is one of Wren's mataterpieces. It is recorded that about the year 1190, one Longbeard, riaglender of a furious mob, sought rafnge in the spire of Bow Church aud refused to surronder himself to the authovities mintil compelled fo alo so by their cotting fire to lis place of retreat. In 1271 part of the sieeple fell, and, says Stow, the historian, 'slewe manie people, men and pomen, that thon were in the clinch, or dwelled neere there or ahout.' The old sleepla was entirely reluilt about 1460, when the Commar Council of the Gity of London oudered that 'Tow gell, should he rung nightly at nihe o'clock in order to release the Londas 'prenlices.' This belt, says, Stow, heing usually rung somewhat late, as saemed to the young men 'prentiees and others in Cheap, they made and set up a rhyme against the elerk as followeth:Clerke of the Bow Boll, with the yellow locks,
For thy late ringing thy had shall have knacks. ${ }^{3}$
Whemeunto tha clerk, replying, wrote
Children of Chenpe, hokd you all still,
For you shall have the Bow Bell rung at your will.'
This Tow staeple suffered in the Great Fire of London, and Wren's gohle giructare is its suceessor.

FORTUNE SEENT ON BELLRINGING.
One of the most notable of the lords of the maner of Cowley (Gleucesilershire) appears th have been Heny Brett. He was an ecentric man, and was remarkable for his fondness for bellringing, which je gratified by constantly travelling abont the comentry with a mampany of ringers. So costly was lhis amusement that in the end he is said Io have thus dissipated a splendid fortune! He gave a $\left.\begin{array}{rl} \\ 7730\end{array}\right)$ of six liells to tho Chutch of St. Mary, at Cowley, in the year 1730.

WHEN *GREAT PAUL' CAME TO TOWN.

Whan 'Grent Pasal ' was brought from Loughborough Foundry in Lendon in 1881 it mede $\pi$ kind of trimmphal progress through the country. It was drawn on a Irolley by traction engines, the velicle with its loail weighing about 22 toms. Onc day's journey was planned from Leighton Buzand to Dunsiable, hut hetween Fenny Stratford nund Breckhil] the trolley bennme stuek in the mud, and many atleunats hat to be made hefore it could be extricated by janks. The roadway was too soft for the narrow wheels of the heayily-ioaded wagon, and the experiment was made of puling down boiler plates for the velicle to travel ous. This, linwever, met with little success, and naly 100 yards was covered in the day.

The first. 'Thig Ben,' cast at Stockton-on-Tees, also met with misfortune on its journey. TL wns brought by boat to London, and while being mishipped fell into the w'ater. Tt was recovered, only, however, to be Fractured and rendered useless.

HINFD HOR NOT RINGING
Of ringing upan historic oceasions there are many quaint recouds in old parish doctaments, the details laving been preserved because nf tha payments mate by the shurchwartens to the ringers, which were duly elarged up in the parish accounts. At the time of the tivil wars, the barson and the ringers did not apparently always feel safo in their colchrations, and veered from side to aide in iheir loyalty. At Wrington, Somerget, the ringers were paid to ring when Henrieta Maria rode though the little town ou her way to France, but in 1651 a payment of five ahillings was made to the ringers 'for ringing for joy of the route of Worcester, ${ }^{\dagger}$ and in 1652 the like sum, ' when the Lord Protectar was proclaimed,' with another payment in 1857 for 'God's discovery of the bloody plot against the Lord Jrotector.'
Sometimes the nouringing of bolls brought its penalties. The people of Twiokenham, while husied in reaping neglected to have the bells rung when Charles I. passe, through their town in 1647, and 10 is rocorded that they wern muluted in a penally of 13s. Ad. 'for default of ringing in barrets when the King came by twice." In 1529 Queen Gatherine was at Reading, and in consequence of the bells failing to be rung the sum of eightpence had to be paid to her almoner. Earlier still, in 1410, Arcbhishop Arundel suspended cerlain churches in London, 'with God's holy organs and instruments in the same, becatse when in open daylight, passing on foot througls the cily with his erass borme before him, the bells did not ring outt.

A BUKES RXPERIMEN'TS AT BRISTOL
It is said that tho St. Nichalas' Guild of Ringers, Bristol, owes its charter to a royal wiait which Quecn Elizabeth paid to that city. One of her rictims, Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, whose death warrant was thrice sealed, but only twice effectually revoked, lad some lope of ringing, and experimonted on bells in Bristal. At the Temple Chureh, where thore is the famous laning fower, it is said he had the hells rung tu see whether the tower rocked during the process. It must have been well tested, if it was not more gently tried than was the leelfy of St. John's in the same city, where there is ontered in the church accounts far the same year, Paik for reparation upon the church at the ringing of the Duke of Norfolk, 9s. Ild.,' a sum whinh represents about 810 in modern money.

PEALS AT' GHREWSBURY.
The "Shnewshury Chronicle" has given the following details af peala rung in that town up ta 50 years ago:-

The recorded peals of 5,000 or more clanges, rung on our town church bells within the last 144 rears, amount to 21 or n littlo mone, on an average, than one peal for every seven gants. The first of these peals was rung at the Abbey in 1735, comprising 5,040 Grandsire Triples, and lie same peal was repeated the following year in the samo tower. It is stated that three peals in the same mothod, and containing the same mumber of changes, wers rung at Old St. Chad's in 1702,1769 and 1770 respectively, and, in the same old tower, a peal of Grandsire Catery was successtully performed in 1772. Mr. Holl's celehratod peal of Grandeire Triples seems to lande been rung for the first time in our town at St. Mary's in 1778: a peal of Treble Rob Majar was rung at the Abbey in 1783: in 1798 a prai of Gramelsim (eight-in) was mung at St. Mary'e. Onr local socioty of change riugers must have bren in good forme ot that date, for in the following yeal (1799) they succeeded in completing a peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Chad's remarkably distinguibhed for its fine striking: and in 1800 they surpassed themselves by the far moro difficult task of ringing a jeal of Oxford Trelsle Bob Maximus in the same tower.'

THE RINGERS OF CHEW AN OLD RFYME.

And James Rendall, too,
They arade a new Sconch*
For the ringers of Cliew.
This new sconch was made
For to rise and to fall
And the name of John Northeote
Shall reign above all.
In the year of 1804
This noble fine soonch
Was brought into Chew Tower,
Which made all the tingers
Rejoice and to sing,
Here's a liealth to John Northeate,
And God save our King.
If a Gentleman calls
This new sconcli to see,
There's no harm in treating Such ringers as we.
We can ring Bohs and Singles,
Fxtremes and true blues.
There's no ringers can compare
With the ringers of Chew.

THE BELLS OF ST. CLEMENT S

RINGING DEFENDED AMONG NOISER OF LONDON.
The bells of St. Clement Danes, London, Have recartly some under the lash of those who object to bellringing. Ono London Hewspeper gave great prominence to the complaint made against them, and the Rector, the Rev. W. Penningtan Bickford, who is ane of the best clerkel friends that ringers have in London, has spiritedly defended the ringing.
The 'Daily Telegraph' las taken up the cudgels on belalf of the bells, and in a leading articles said:-
' The bells of St. Clement's are famatus, not only in the nursery rhyme, but in fact. Seven of the ten date from William IIf.'s clay, and their music is sweet. Yet it sppenrs that some of the few neighbouring residents object to their ringing. Bells, they think, who to be unheard as well as unseen. Barristers poring over thoir briefa by lamplight are disturbed by the pealing from St. Clement's spine. They do not shave Tratty Feck's awed admirntion for the deep, atrong melody that Dickens has described so well iul "The Chimes." They have no sympathy with the ancient aud peculiarly English art of change ringing which the Rector of St. Clement Danes has encouraged at lis church. Grandsires, Treble Bobs, and Plain Hobs are all equally abhorrent to them.

There is no arguing with the indignant Templats who dislike church bells, but accept the roar of the street traffic as a matter of course. It may be suggested, however, that the evening peals which five Guilds of change ringers perform on Sainday afternoons and on occasianal evenings at St. Clement's are so exceptional in motherm London as to deserve encouragement lather than reproof. Travellers who have heard the nightly carillon in the towns of Belgiun and Northern France often regret the silence of our London belfries, save for the Abbey. Many a good peal of bells, hauded down from generations that delighted in their aerial melodies, longs neglected. When there are eathusiasts who like the akilled tenm-work and hard exercise of change ringing, it would be a pity to deter them. London is noisy enough, in all conscience, but it would not willingly part with the bells of St. Clement's.
The Rector, writing to the 'Daily Telegraph, stid: ${ }^{\text {than }}$ Hing regard to what has appeared elsewhere, I think, in all fairness to our beautiful belle and to the public, it is due from me to say that I have had no complaints, written or verbal, from any resident of the J'emple, excepting just one instance, which was settled most amicably, or from any of his Majesty's Judges at the Royal Courts of Justice, during the nineteen yents that I lave been Rector. On the contrary, when the fanous peal was silent, some years before 1919 , I found that these renowned bells had so many admilels, both far and near, that there was no difficully whatever, in a very short space of time, in providing a new steel frame, which had hecome necessary in order that the London publie could hear them again. The late Queen Alexandra set the bells ringitg after this long period of silence, and the subscribers included some of lis Majesty's judges and several residents of the Temple.'

BISHOP AND RINGERS

A visit by the Bishop of Guildford to Haslemere an Thursday, December 19tiz, for the dedication of an organ, whick an anonymous donor has givea to the Parisil Church, provided an opportunity for a small but happy gathering of ringerg who met there to pay the usual campliment due to a pribec of the Charch whell visiting in his own diocese.
Several touches of Grandsire Gaters were rung befove and after the dedication service, the following ringers being present: Messrs. A. Furlonger, B. Elliot, F. Bowden, R. Overy, J. F. B. Hesse, W. Eldridge and R. Hayes, of the local hand, Messrs. A. J. Bartlett, Chiddingfold, W. and R. Melville, A. FT. Puling and C. Hazelden, Guildford.

After the service, the Bishop visited the ringing chamber and expressed his surprise and pleasure in finding a full company of ringers able to be present for a mid-week function. His Lordship conelutled by wishing the ringers every success and happiness in their wark for the Church.
