The ringers then iavited $n$ few youngsters to wigit Lichfiela, and arrangenents were made to instal a band of ringers and teach them the art of change ringing.

THE LATE REV. A. H. F. BOUGHEY.

FIFTY SEVEN YEARE PRESIDENT OF CAMBRIDGE UNNEREITY GUILD.
As briefly recorded in our last issue, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, president of Cambridge University Guild, died at his home in Cambridge on Tuesday, September z2nd, at the advanced age of 87 years. By lis death the Exercise has lost ode of its mont walued members, for his bervices to the art are incalculable. Many of the leading figures in the pasli and present generation owe the first inception of their entlusiasm for ringing to the spirit which he fostered and the instruction which he gave.

Anchitel Harry Filetcher Boughey, bouru on August 14ib, 1849, was the third son of Lt,-Col. G. F. F. Bonghey, of the 59th Regiment, who died 81 years ago. He went up in 1868 to 'lyinity College, Canbridge, from the once famous Kensington School, where le was the favaurite pupil of two successive headmasters. W. Haig Broma and Joseph Mayor. Fie came ont as unth wrengler und ninth clessic in 1872. A Fellowship of Trinity followed in 1874, and soon after the postis of lecturer in classics and in thenlogy the latier of which he retained till 1903. He was ovdainert in 1877 to the curney of St. Michael's, Gambridge, under his friend aud contemporary, A. J. Mason, whons he succeeded as Vicn from 1878 to 1884 . He was Junior Destr of Trinity thom 1884 to 1886, 'Intor (in succession to J. Prior) from 1886 to 1896 . and Senior Dean from 1897 to 1908 . The College then presentedi him to the living of Great St. Mary's with St. Michael's, and there lee vemained till 1913. He was Fumal Dean of Cambride for four years, and examining chaplain to Dr. Handey Monle, Bishop of Durlam, irem 1904 till Bue Bishop's death.
Tn 1883 he married Miss K. A. Lovell: she died in 1935 . Their elder son, C. [. Fr. Bonghey, headmaster of sherthome School from 1927 to 1933, died in 1934, and their younger son. a lientenant in the Rifle Brigade, was lost at sea by enemy action in October, 1918. There aro two daughters, Mus. A. F. Scott and Mrs. R. M. P. Drace.

HIS WORE FOR GAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

Mr. Boughey was a great antipuarian and an expert herald and genealogise, but readers of this jonrnal know him best for his esssoiafion with ringing; and by the members of the Cambridge University Guild ha was held in deep affection. He became the first president of the Guild; his rooms on the ground floor of the Great Court of Trinity College became the members' meeting place, and there scores of undergraduates were taught clange ringing.
Chabridge Doiversity Guild was formed out of the society, founded in 1879 by W. O. Pearson (now Vicar of Henley, Suftolk), known as the Clare Sociefy. This was established on Fiebruary 4thi. but on February IOth its titlo was changed to the University Guild, and on May 31 st Mr. Boughey was elected president, an office he held until his death, a period of 57 years.
For years Mr. Boughey encouraged tine art among the young men who went up to the university, and, despive frequent setibacks fron the constant change of residelits, la contimed to "tum out' ringers who, in after years, have succeeded to many of the leading positious in the Exetcise.

He set an example in handbell ringing and many notable perfornamces have beau rung by Mr. Bonghey's pupile. Prog'ess ati first was slow, but on April 28 hli, 1890 , Mr. Boughey, with the brothers E. B. and H. L. James and C. F. Wedemeyer, vang the first peal for the Guild, a peal of Boh Triples on handbells. coudtucted by H. Law James. It was Mr. Bougney's first peah. Less than a year inter, howevar, with C. A. Glemants on the tenors, Mr. Bonghey and the brothers James scored the "first ever' of Double Norwich on handbells. As the years progressen Mr. Bnighey, of course, took part in many other performances both in and oulside the University Guikt, but be was nore at home on handbells than church bells, for a physical infurmity made tower bell ringing a somewhat exactitg ordeal for him. He was never prouder of a performance than be was of a peal of Stedman Ginques, which he rang ou the bells of his own church, when Reclor of Great St. Mary's, and in which his carrate the Rev. H. S. T. Richatdson, also took prit- the first occasion ou which zector and curnte had ever rung a peal of Cinques togethe'r in their own charch.
For three fears he was president of the Central Council, from 1918 to 1921, following upou the death of Sir Arthur Heywood.
When the jubilee of the Oambridge Tniversity Guild was celebrated in 1929, the members presented Mr. Bonghey with a handsome silver rose bowl in token of their appreciation and regard. Advancing years and ill-health hach prevented Mr. Boughey from taking an active part in ringine for a considerable period, but his interest in the arl end particularly in the Guild nover waned to the last.

THE TUNERAL.

REVISED RULES ADOPTED.

The annual festival of Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held in Newcestle an Saturday. The festival service, with an add"ess by the Rev. R. T. Herelton, of St. Panl's, Newcastie, wae held iu the Cathedral, and concluded with a short service at the Ringers' War Memorial, during which five of the ringers rang a short 'touch' on henabells to the memory of their fallen comrades. There was a large attendance and the service was a vary impressive one.
After an excellent dinner at the Crown Hotel, the annual meeting was held, Councillor Arthur Payne, of Gateshead, the president, being in the cheir.
A very batisfactory report of the year's work wns submitter by the hon, secretary, Mr. G. S. Taylor, of Sundertand, and the accounta, presented by Mr. J. W. Farker, of Sunderland, showed a very batisfactory thalance of 87535 . 1d. in hand.
The rules of the association had been carefully revised by a subcommittee, and these, with one or two alterations, were unanimously adopted.

The certificates for the greatest number of points gained for Sunday service ringing wore awarded to St. Paul's, Whitiey Baj, and St. Ignatius', Sumderland, and the cortificates for six-beh towers to Holy Trinity, Darlington, and St. Cuthbert's, Binfieldaide.

Association meetings are to be hell next year at Chester-le-Street, Fexham and Wylam: the annual meeting to be held at Durham.
Councillor Arthur Payne was re-elected president, the vice-plesident for the Northem District being Mr. Murray Oubrikge, of Newcastle; the Southern Distrjet, Mr. S. Bryant, of Shildon; the Easterm District, Mr. R. L. Patterson, of Sunderland, the Western District, Mr. F Sheraton, of Chester-le-wtreet; and the Wednesday Guild, Mr. J. F. Scott, of North Shields.
Mr. Roland Park, of Darlington, was elected secretary, and Mr W. N. Park, also of Darlington, treasurer. The editorial secretary, Mr. C. L. Routledge, of Newcastle, and the auditor, Mr. J. F. Bira, of Neweastle, were also re-elected.
It was decided, as an experiment, to hold a meeting on a Banis Holiday, and this will probably be held on August Bans Holiday, a申 Snuderland.
The number of peals rung during the year was 28. 14 of which were rung by Mr. F. Bennett's touring band on their recent eight days' wisit to the North-a very remarkable performance.
A vote of thanks to the Rules Revision Conimittee for their valuable services brought a very successful meeting to a close.

WALTHAMSTOW RINGER'S 80th BIRTHDAY

SEVENTY YEARS' CONNECTION WITH THE BELFRY

is well mown in Walliamstow, especialy amonget Wallbanstow rimgers, and it was not surprising that the ringers at the larish Clareh debired to honour the 80th birthelay of Robert J. Mayward, which occurred on the 23 rd September. The Suturday after this day was selected for a peal, and ten members of the St. Mar)'s Society, imeluding ! Old Ejob, himself, met for a pural of Stedman Caters, If Bols had felt as young as he did only cour or five years ago, he would lave mounted the tenor box to bang the Hrum, at whicle particular job he had few equals, and holle to excel him, as the late William Pye aften testified. As it was, however, lye was content to ring the fiftli, and he rang it wetl. Indeed, one of the bind, a rimger with over 900 peals to his credic, said lo him afterwards, 'Well done, Bob. If I live to be 80 I ioope I shall ring as well us you did foary. But wo anticipate.
Before startjng, there were one or two preliminaries. Fued Maymard, the local eaptain, sug\% slionk be rung for the Middlesex Assoctation, as a cumpliment to Mr. ©. T. ## NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCLATION.

PRESENTAPION 䈍O MR, NOIAN GOLDEN
A large gathering of members representing all four branches of the Norwich Diocesan Assoviation met af Salle on Saturday, September 19th, when ringers from Aylsham, Buxtou, Fakealıam, Gressenhall, Halvergate, Norwich, Notth Walslian, Reedham, Reepham, Saxlingham, Wiveton, Wroxham, Wymondham and Yarmouth rang short tonches on the bells duritg the afteruoon and eveling. Weicome risitors were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gross, of St. Martin's-in-theFields, Loudon, and Miss Kitty Willers, of Trumpington, Cambs.

A short service was conducted by the Recter; Canon W. L. E. Parsons.

A busimess meeting followed tea at the White Forge, with the Rev. H. W. Benson in the chair, supported by Mr. N. Golden (honorary brancli secretary), Mu. A. L. Ooleman (general secretary and traagurer), Mess's. G. Bailey, Fi. Fi. Carter. W. Clover, W. C. Duffeld and G. Mayers, members of the committee, and representatives from the towers aforesaid.
It was decided to hold the next meeting at Wroxham on December 12th.

The belfry election of Charles W. Cooke, of Newton, Cambs, was mulified.
Then followed what was deseriber by the chaiman as 'most serious business.' It concemed Mr. Nolan Golden, who was recently married to Miss Iris Daly, of Checkendon, Oxon. Apparently, said the Chairman, Mr. Golden had led a wild life till 1924, when he decided to become a ringer, but he had behaved well since, having taken part in about 300 peals for the association, and having been honorary secretary of the South Nrorfolk Braach since 1929, and of both the North and South Norfalk Branches simes 1934. There were many other things. continued the Chairman, on the dossiey with which Mr. Coleman had provided him, but he would not prejudice Mr. Golden's modesty by peacling them utit: fudeed, the only thing they wers concorned with was his marriage. Accordingly the members had suth scribed for two armehairs and an album, bound in red leather and containing the names of 168 subscribers, prefaced by an jlluminated address as follows:-

From the Norwich Diocesan Association of Ringers to Mr
Nolan Golder, on the occasion of his marriage, August 5th, 1936
This album contains the names of members subscribing to the cost of the two armehairg presented with the subscribers best wishes for his future happiness, as a mark of appreciation of his services to change ringing in the diocese.
Mr. Golden, in reply, thanked the members for their tokens of goodwill. He was grateful for their generous appreciation of his association with ringing in the diocess and for the expression of good wisfles he had received from them on his marriare
Mr. William L. Duffield, chairman of the South Noriolk Branch spoke of the excellent work Mr. Qalden had done for the branch and conveyed the best wishes of the branch to Mr. and Mrs. Golden for their future happiness.

Mr. Joln G. W. Harwood, hon. secretary of the East Norfoll Branch, expressed his appreciation of the help Mr. Golden lad given to young ringers in his branch, and stressed Mr. Golden's willingness to do anything for change ringing.
M. A. L. Coleman, general secretary and treasurer, welcomed Mrs. Goiden to the gathering. Mr. Coleman added that he was indebten to Mr. Golden for very great help, not only ith tho routine work of oryanjging and conduching the business of the association, hat also for bringing about a revival of interest in change ringing in tlue diocese.
A vote of thanks to the Rev. F. W. Benson, Vicar of Buxton, for conducting the meeting, brought the business to a close.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Northern Division was held at Gestingthorpe on Saturday week, when 24 ringers were present and spent a most enjog. able afternoon and evening. The following 11 towers were represented: Halsterd, Eayls Calne, Bocking, Gegtivgthorpe, Pebmarsh, Great Bardfietd, Sible Hedinghan, Wickhan SE. Paul's, Sudbury Colne Engaine and Great Tey. Owing to the absence of the Vicer (the Rev. H. M. Greening), there was no service at the church, but the bells were kept going from 3 p.m. until nearly 9 o'clock with the exception of a break for tea. This was prepared at the Lion Inn by the landlord, Mr. F. Jealous, to whom a bearty woto of thagis was passed for the excellent way it was served.
The District secretary (Mr. F. Tidgwell) apologised for the cbsence of the District Master, who was engaged elsewhere, and Mr. 0. Snowden was invited to take the chair.
The next meeting, which would be the anmual gathering for the district, was nuranged to be lield at Brantree on November 14th.
The Secretary said he lan recoived a letter from their old firend, Mr. W. Keeble, who had lately heen indisposed; he was pleased to say lo was much better and looking formaxd to mecting them again, The secretary was asked to ronvey tho best wishes from that mecting to Mr. Keeble.

The following metkods were ming during the day: Stedman Doubleg, Bob Minor, Double Courb, Oxford, Kent and Foodbine Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor.

INVERARY BELLS RUNG

PAISLEY RINGERS TRY HIGHLAND PEAL.
For some timo past there has been a peal of ten hells lung in the new tower at Inverary Church, Scotland, an the estate of the Duke of Argyll, but they have not yet been consecrated. The ringers of St. James' Clurch, Paisley, recently paid a visil to inverary with the object of inspecting the tower and bells. Thay enjoyed a fine coach ride by lakeside and mountain.
The Duke of Argyll, who happened to be at home, heard of the risit and came to grect the ringers. He expressed is wish to have the bells rung for evening service. The ropes were, therefore, adjusted, the front eight bells raised, and 120 Graudsire Doubles rung, with 6-7-8 covering, by P. R. Forrester 1, J. Porteous 2, A. Sunter 3, A. E. Wreaks (conductor') 4, A. J. Rodger 5, J. Colvilie 6, A. Forrester 7, J. MeGregor 8. The temon (41\% cwt.) was alterwards pullerl up to chable the Duke to hear it.
The Duke banked the ringers for what they had done and said how pleased lic was to inave heard the hells mung: He slated, however, that the bells would not be dedicated matil ali the necessary work was completed, and that ahout $£ 1,500$ was still required for tliat purpose.
The ringers then bade adien and thanked him for the privilege of Finging the bells, instead of having then elinned.
The vetum joumey was then underlaken and home reached wilhont incident, except a stoppage on the summit of ' Rest and be Tianakful,' where several of the party got ont to admire the valley from the top. As one of the party remarked: It is awful, yet it is grand.

THE BELLS OF VICTORIA CATHEDRAL

ANO'HER VISIT OT VANCOUVER RINGERS.

Vanconver ringers paid another vigit to Chsist Church Cathedral Victoria, on Sunday, Seplember 6th. The party consiated of Messis 4. W. Foster, A. B. Jomas, W. Sampsun, T. Greenaway and A. C limpus. They were met in the tower by Messrs. It. II. Carrier, $A$. frotman and Js. W. Jzad. Several touches of Grandsife were ruag for both mornitg ant evening services and afterwards a 504 .
Writing to us of this vigit, Mr. Limpus gays: These bells are surely the finest which ever came to this Continent. It is certanly a pleasure to ring on them and travel that 85 miles over the water and return to do so. Now that the roper have about done their stretching they are much easior to handle. We find the bells cannot be rushed nad sound much belfer rung somewhat wide, about the pace of those ut Woskningter Ablyey, which I leard throngh the radio at the late King's fumeral.
Our visit ended at Mr. Izard'g residence willh handluells and refreshments bringing a most enjayable day to a close. Mrs. Izard informed us the bells were clearly heard at their louse, which is five miles clistant from the Cathedral.
What a pity, he adds, thero are so few ringers in Victoria but wo arre in hopes inat those that are there, after a little more practice, will soon bo ahle to come to Vancouver for a woturn wisit. All of then, with the exception of Messrs, Garrier and Trotuman, have not touched a ropo for some 20 wears or more. MII. A. C. Mellinish, who is now staying two weak in Vanconver, did very well on the 5th in our tower (the Cathedtal of the Holy Rosary) last Wednesday, when we rang a 336 Grandsire J'riples. De was not a little proud of the fact, it boing life first tonch for 31 years. We shall he nhle to give him some good praclice whifist he is here

AN EXCURSION IN SOMERSET AND DEVON LYME REGIS RINGERS' OUITING.

The Jymo Regis risgers explored a portion of Sonerset and Devon for their rammal utatisg on Saturday, Septenlber 5th. Startiug at 7.30 n. 11. , the road was taken over Henisury Fort to Cullomplon and thence to Wiveliscombe, which was the first halt for ringing. Something in the nature of a cloudburst on the Cullompton read was an early disappointment, but it conld not submerge the high spinits of the party, and for the rest of the day nothing but intermittent showers wara experienced, allowing the glorious scenery of Exmoor and the Exe Valicy to bo thoroughly enjoyed.
At. Wiveliscornbo they were met by the Ficar, and a very nice 'eightit,' with $\pi 20 \mathrm{ewt}$ tenor, wore soon sel going to Triples. This proved to be the right place for a cup of tean and a bun. A 'proper' cup which woukl matco three of any Jepme production and Chelsea burs which stayed coiled to the lasll Thus fortified, the prity rolled nlong to Dunster. Here a moet of the staghounds was in progress, its attrection being rather lost. by hot having the surroundings of the picturesque old street. For the first time in history, wiw said, the meet had been thansferred to the show enclosure adjoining the polo groumd. Mr. Tudhalf piloter the ringers to the belfryeand joined in some good linging of Gramdsire and Stedunn Triples ane Bob Major. A bhort rifle uflerwards brought them to Mineliead in time for Innchean. Those who lanow Minehead will appreciate that tha climb to the ehnreh immediately nfter lumeh is a fest of noy ringen's euthusinam. As a consequence the bime trible for the day suffere considerably. The first an'ivals in the tawer contented theoselves with a conve of Cambridge on the frast six + later the back four were raised, GTandsire and Sledman Trimpes were ming and a few rounds on the ten to give the two juniovs their filst pill on fen bells. Mr. Thorme had everything ready here, fund the wisitors rejoiced in the welt-furnshed ringing chamber and the beatiful ringing order of the bells.
From here the rint to Tiverton was leisurely, for Cutcombe hill lut to be climbed, and a very winding road prolibited any speeding. After a splendid Devonshire tea, the fine toned might (tenor 25 "owt.) ath St. Peter's wns leapl to adrantrge in Grandsire amd Stedman Triples. Brampford Speke, the last tower of the dis, was reached athout 7 p.na. Hore the Rev, E.V. Cax had haped to meet tife tondists in hiq own tower, but a change of plans kent him awny, and he was Joprosented by. Mr. Rowe. The liglt six (lenor $5 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt, $\}$ were soon rattling nlong in Stedman and Plain Bobh, finishing up with a course of London, which, Jowever, was a little foggy in the last half-lend. But tha bells, being strangere to London, will mobably like it hetter paxt dime. One hom was lefli, for shopping (at Woolwortse, of coursc)

The thanks of the party are conveyed to atl the inemmbents who so radily gave permission for ringing, ulso to those ringers who assistant with the arrangenemts at the rarious towers ant gave, in every in slance, such a wam welenme.

A COALBROOKDALE CELEBRATION

MR. E. WEATHERBY'S CONNECTION WITH SHROISFIRE As reconded in the peal columns last week, a peal oi Grandsive Caters at Coalhroakdale was rung in honomr of and to celehrate Mr, Eruest Weatherby's 65th birthday. Those who read with intergst the dedication and opening of the new peal of eight hells for Yictoria Cathedral, Britislı Colunibia, on Sunday, July 12th, will know (hat Mr: Weatherby travelled 2,000 miles to take part in the celelration. Born at Marked Drayton under the shanlow of the church, he soon becnme attached to the local ringers. The ruging chamber there resembies the old Curiosity Shop, mainly due to Mr. Ernest Weatherby and his brother William. Ernest was one of the pioneers of the old Salop Guild. established on June 8111. 1883. The first meeting was held nt Jilleshall. The Guild was recoustrupted in 1889, when a special neenting was held in St. Mnry's belfry, Shrewsbury, Mr. Wealherby and the Market Drayton ringers were present at that meeting, andil were the first to receive instruction from Mr. Gibsol? of Whitchurch, who was appointed instructor of the Guild.
Duting the whole period Mr. Weatlierby was connected with the Market Drayton ringers and the county lie was most energetic and popular. One of lis ontstanding undertukings was to orgnnise the peal of Grandsire Triples, rung at Righ Exall. Shropshire, and conducted by Wilian Shoot on October 22nd. 1910. Mr. Weatherby left nothing to chance. Owing to a long rope dranght with a ground floor mill, he paid several visits previous to the freal and fixed at rope guide. No peal had been rung at High Exall since the year 1812, whent the famous Samuel Lawrence, of Slifnal, and his hind rang two peals there
It is interestiug to note that old Shropslire riuging records state that a peal of Bob Minor, 720 changes, was rung on Atcham bells, Shopshire, on May $23 r d$, 1787. Three of Mr. Weatherhy's velatives rans in this 720, which was considered a very good nerformance for those days. Arrangements are being made for six coulty ringers to visit Atcham on May 23 rd . 193 \% , The 150 th amiversary, to ring another 720 of Boh Minor, providing the bells are ringable. Mr. Weatherty has alread made arrangements to give the band a bam and ege tea after the 720.
At Conlbrookdale on Satiurday last he lind ordered a hot sulpper of roast chicken, apple tart, etc, for the birthdny band, and Mr. Hugh D. Gotd, a very old friend of his, as a guest. The supper and social hour taok place at the Conlbrookdale yugers' 'den,' woll known to visiting ringers as the W.F.F. headcuarters. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bailey catered for the party in their usual wholehearted way. After supper the haudbells were brought into action. Eugraved on one of these is "Music is medicile to the mind. ## PREPARING FOR THE CORONATION.

The coronation of King Edward VIII, next year will provide a great opportunity for the use of the church bells of the land to play a part in the national rejoicing which will surround the occasion. Speaking at the annual dinner of the Surrey Association on Saturday, the President of the Central Council made this the subject of a double appeal to ringers. He urged them to seize the opportunity to get back into towers where peal ringing is at present banned for various reasons, and stressed the importance of paying special attention to the performance of good ringing. In these two things the president should be warmly backed up by all the ringing associations. His words of advice will be read in the ranks of every ringing organisation, but ought not to be left at that. Mr. Lewis speaks not merely in a private capacity, but with the authority of the holder of the principal office in the Exercise, and particularly on matters relating to ringing for national occasions his utterances have special weight. There is ample time between now and next May for ringing to be thoroughly organised for the Coronation, and it should be the duty of the various organisations to see that plans are properly laid. Unless there is a local band in active occupation of a tower, there should be no hesitation on the part of associations to make every effort to get the bells rung. Steps of this kind would probably lead in many instances to a reopening of a ring of bells.
It is, however, equally important, if this end is to be secured that such ringing. as is tone, shall be of a quality above reproach. Most of the objections to ringing arise from too noisy bells or bad striking. There are various means by which the former can be obviated-and should be obviated not only for the Coronation but for all time-but the latter rests upon the ringers themselves. Indifferent strikers have all the winter before them in which to improve their capabilities, while bands can make themselves more efficient as a 'team.' There is more need for team cohesion in ringing than, perhaps, in any other pursuit, and only assiduous practice will make a band as perfect in their ringing as human failings will allow. There is special reason, therefore, why activities in the belfry this winter should be conducted towards a definite end, and it is an incentive which should help to raise the quality of ringing generally. Good ringing is demanded at all times, but when our towns and villages are to be drenched with the sound of bells ringers should ensure that their performance is of the highest standard possible. There may be some who think that on an occasion of national rejoicing the more the bells are (Continued on pnge 654.)

FOR BEGINNERS.

GETPING THE TENORMAN INSIDE.
In trying to make a forward move this winter among all the ment bers in the tower, there is one who must not be forgotten, allihough wo are afrad he has, in the past, often been "given up as a bad job." We mean the ringer whosc limitations have confined his efforts to ringing the tenor behind. A good tenorman is a valuable possession, for nothing makes for poor striking more than a tenor ringer who cannot keep a beat. But it does not follow that even a good teaorman slould never ring any other bell or acquire the skill to ring chnnges.

Sometimes his failure to get away from the tenor is due to au obstinate belief in luss own incapacity to len'n clange ringing. He says be cannot learn, and because he believes it, he won't try. Eventually his colleagues give up their efforts of persuasion, aud the tenorman remains content with his job of "blowing the drum.

Where there are such cases, may we suggest another attempt to get the tenorman to take up change ringing by explaining to him that in 'covering' he has already lenmi something about 碀? Unless Jue is purely a blind machine, he has learat that he has to pull over different bells as they come up behind. If he 'covers' to Grandsire he bas observed, if he has any eyes at all, that he rings a whole pull after first one bell and then anoller, and, unconscivusly perbups, he has learned to look for the bell he has next to follow. Then he has doubtless noticed that at intervals-when the dodges are made-lie has only half-pulls aitemately over two bells.

This Knowledge should stanci him in good stean in learning to ring one of the other bells. In striking over the bells as they come up behind, he is taking them in coursing order, exactly as if lie were ringing one of the working belly, the difference being that he las two blows, instead of only one, over aach.
If this is explainet by the aid of figures on paper, many ringerg will see how similat in ropesight change ringing is to covering in a method like Grandsire.

But assuming that at first the problem is not clear. the others in the band might go a step furtler to help their colleague up the ladder by ringing, say a plain course by whole pulls. Then their pupil will be doing exactly what he has done in covering. He will take each bell in the same coursing order nad strike a whole pull over each, exactily as he lad done when ringing behind, except that lie has to pull down, or hold up a little, as he moves. A beginning could be made with Orimimal, which wouth nat iavolve place-making or dodeing, and when the leamer has grasped the idea there should not bo much difliculty in instucting lim liow to do the same thing in halfepulls.

Ringing by whole pulls mav mot be orthodox in these days, hut may derice that will enablo a ringer to grasp what lias to he done in clange vinging is justified. And whole pull ringing maw also provide a bit of fun for the rest of the band just by way of a charge

THE BELLS OF BUCKFAST ABBEY

As will be secn in the advertisement columos, there is to le a joint meeting of the Mid-Devon and Southi-Wrest Branches of the Devon Guild at Buckfast Abbey on Saturday, October 17.h. Those Fisitors intending to be present and nre alle tw to so should be at the Ablocy to take part in the ringing from 1 to 2 oclonk in order to avoid any confugion later in the afternoon. Buckfasticigh Parish Church bells are also available for the use of visitorg, hut visiting hatas slould make their own arrengements if they desire to ring elsewhere.

PENDLEBURY RINGER S LONG SERVICE

At Christ Church, Pendelury, on Saturday, Sept. 19th, a Half-perd of Grandsire Triples ( 2,580 elinuges) was ming in 1 hour 26 minutes by F. Sharples 1, ${ }^{1}$. Lingard (conductor') 2, Fi. Green 3, A. Wallwork 4, C. Seddon 5, N. Tompkins 6, A. Lomas 7, T. Johes (St. Peter's. Swintan) 8. The ringing was to commenoraie ilie 79th birthday of the conductor, who has been a bellringer for 63 years.

Refreshments were aflerwards provided and the fingers extended their good wishes to Mr. Lingard. They expressed the hope that he would live to see and ring for many similar accasions. This was tho longest touch ever rung by F. Sharples, F. Green, N. Thopkita, A. Lomas and F , Itones.

RECTOR'S FIRST RING FOR 25 YEARS

A very enjoyable monthly prnctice mecting was held at Benchampton by members of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Saturdny, September 26th. The ringers were met at the church by the new Rector, the Rer. Marmaduke Warner, who was kenfy interested in the ringing and surprised the Iocal band by standing in for a few rounde. He lemarked afterwarde that it was 25 years since be last had a riug. Diring the evening a visit was made by the Rev. O. E. Wigg, Deputy Master of the Guld. About 20 ringers were present from Beaclanmpton, Buckingham, Cosgrove, Little Horwood, New Bradwell, Stony stralford and Wicken. The next monthly practice was arranged to take place al Maids Morton on October 31 st.

DEATH OF MR. HENRY S. ELLIS.
MIEMBER OF FAMOUS BAND.
One of Londan's oldest rinsers passed away on September a6ith in the persor of Mr. Henry s. Eillis, who was 78 years of age. He was a prominent menher of the Ancieat Socieby of College Youths and a past Master of the London Connty Association.
A native of Brighton, Mu. Ellis first became interested in minging while working on the restoration of part of St. Jolm's Parish Chinch, Groydon, whire it is now jntended ta matal a ring of twelve bells. 'The opportunity to Leann, however, did not come until a little later, when tit tho enid of 1883 a band was formed at St. Stephen's, Westmineter. Undar the instrinction of Mr. J. M. Hayes, tius young company made rapid progress, and their first peal, Grandsire triples, was seoren in September, 1884.
The older readers of this journal will recollect to what prominence the St. Stephen's hand rose. They hecame the most accomplished ant minterprising company in Jundon. 'Jhey ineluded Bob Newton, Johu

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
ANNUAL DINNER.
Seventy-four members and visitors ilbended the fifth annual dinuer of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, held at the Saracen's Head Hotel, "ty thing, Worcester, oll Saturday, September 26Ll-at the association. The chair was taken by the Rev. G. W. Webb (clerical vice-president), and among those preseat were the Rev. W. Buehanat Dunlop (Rector of All Saints'), Messes. J. R. Newman and R. G. Knowles (lay vice-presidenta). W. Short (Master), J. D. Johneun (general hon. secretarg), W. H. Johnon (treasurer), E. E. Barber and S. T. Holt (auditors), C. Cammand J. W. Heath (Brancl Ringime secretarieb), W. Rafora (Cevtral Committee), C. Woodberry (C.C. representative), efc. Visitors included Messsis. F. E. Haynes (Ringing Master), T. H. Reeves (han. sectetary), A. Walker, E. T. Allaway anc G. E. Fearn, all of St. Martin's Gutd, Birmingham; J. Alstin (Gloucester), L. W. G. Morris (Leerls), George Lewis and Mrs, Lewis, of Sheflield, Apologies were received from the Lord Bishop of the Hastings (clerical secretary) and Mr. James Hemming (Centrai Committee).

Mr. F. E. Hayues proposed the toast of 'Chureh and State.' He deolared that hellringers are proud of their connection with the Churel, and, as loyal eitizens. are associated with both Cluareh and State. Among oiher tilings, Mr. Haynes, in an orgginal and provocative speech, said, in reference to a recent Lamheth Conference, he thought the Church might attend more to its own husiness, which was spinitual, and leave politics to statesamen.
The Rev. W. Buchanan Dunlop, replying to the foast, safin the grond had hean rather cut awny from under lis feet by Mr. Haynes* challemge immodiately. He wondereal what would happen if the toast Chinech and State ${ }^{\text {B }}$ were proposed in Germany or Russia to-day. Rellringing was intimalely connected with the State, as was shown at the Jubilee and death of King George, and would be demonstraterl the Coronation mext ycar.
Continuing, lee sad that the Church and the State conld do without bells, but they would feel the loss kealy. He thonglit of bellingers as having a dreat part to play irn raising wen's thoughts to hirfrer things, and the highest things are spirimal. He felt sure their figh mission hrought the chmel, and Stabe closer together.

RINGFRS' STAT'US IMPROVED.
Phe next toast wis "The Worceatalshire Association," proposed by Mr. T. H. Remes, who remarked that the statios of ringers har improved and that some 53 year's ato the first rule of the association was "To promote belfry yoform." To-day that rule cane last in the three major rules, and the words, 'wliere it is needed,' had been inserted. Mr. Recves recallen somo of the mancs of those who har laclped to make the association what it is to day : Sam Spittle, W. Rock Small, John Smith, W. Mikliewight, nut of ont own day William Slowt, or, as most of thean called him, Bill ' Short. Then again there was Mr. I. R. Newanan, who had served falthfully for 30 yearg as general hon. secretary, and Mr. James Hemming, who had been Southem Branch secretary for 25 years. These men had worked hard calrying on with the good work and exprosserl the hope that all members wauld give him their loyal suppont and co-operation.
Continning, Mr. Reeves said he was distressen to read recently "The Ringing Work" a letter from a clergymau regarding false peals, and he felt sure that no one there that nimht woutg agree with what the elergymat had writtet, however great the disappointment might he of havine rimg a false peal. 'Tvery composition ought to be definitely proved carrect before being fung, declared Mr. Reeves, adding he know it was a difficult matter, lout thought it conld be overcome. Fe surgested that a man composing a peal might find two other competent composers to testify th the truth of the figures.

PAROCRIAL MIND' DEPRECATED.
Mr. J. D. Johnson (hon. secretary), in reply, said he was glad of a suggestion for a complete chamge of speakers this year, thongh he himself had still to cee up and speak. He had been told that, ns it, but he would have piteferved not to have done so. Mr. Johnson welcomed the presence of so many ladies. Dhere had, he said, beens mnch ill-sdvised correspondence in "Phe Ringing World ' about ladies the belfry, but his opinion was that ladies lad done mueh to refine belfries.
He went on to say that when the association was formed aver 50 years ago one of its chicf oliects was to gite local bands a diotesan oatlook, and he deprecated the attitude of hands who still lave the bell restorations in many parts of the Tmpire and the new peal of bolla reomenty installed in Jisifish Columbia, and said that. any demavture frou the wider ontlook wrs a retrogression to more than 50 vears ago.
The Worcestershine Association land mo illustrians mame. contimed M: Tohuson, like Hemy Johnson of the St. Martim's Guild, hut thet lad men who spent most of their lives in teaching beginmers methons inom Grandsire Dnulbes upwards.

The loast, "Kiadred Assuciations," was proposed by the Chairman, Who said it wus a great pleasure to him to hear such good speeches as lagd been made. He particularly tiked the firstispeech and would very much have Iiked to have had a talk with Mr. Hayues to prove, amogr other things, that the State originated from the Church.
The Rev. G. W. Webb said they heard nowadays much about complezes, the commonest owe being fear, but at getherings like that pll complexes disappeared and they got perfect liarmony. It was refreahing to meet together and exchange ideas, for thought was always good for them. He said it must be a source of gratification to every one present to see such a splendid muster, and lie hoped to see them all again next year.
The Chairman mded in a humorous veia, causing merriment by asying ho had some yeurs ago rung the tenor behind to a quarterpeal in 20 minutes!

A HAPPY ATMOSPHERE.
Mr. A. Walleer, who replied, said that evidently the bells did not need relianging at the church where the chairman had rung his quarter-peal in 20 minutes, and suggested that he (the chairman) had made a mistake in the time. Whereupon the chairman, amidst laughter, admitted lis mistake, his memory being at fault, and deolared the quniter-peal had taken double the time he had first statiod.
Continning, Mr. Walker said it was a happy atmosphere there that night, and loped next year to see an even larger number. He urged young ringers to support the meetinge and the dinner, for it was at such pinces that those who thought they knew it all found out bow Hitle they really did know. On behalf of the St. Martin's Guild he extended a learty invitation to all for the Henry Johnson Dianer next Fehruary at Birminghsm.
A programme of music aucl songs, with the inevitable handbelle, was given between the toasts. A good courso of Grandsire Caters was rung by G. E. Fearn 1-2, George Lewis 3-4, F. E. Haywes 5-6, L. W. G. Morris 7-8. A Walker 9-10. Songs weve given by Mesers. W. C Dowdilg, G. I. Hemming and E. C. Barber. Miss C. Heath geve a pinnoforte solo, and later partnered Mr. J. Bunten in piano and accordion duets, which earned prolonged applause.
Tunes on handbells by Messrs. J. D. Johnson and G. J. Hemming Fith Mr. A. Wallser at thie piano also added to the enjoyment, Fhile the Misses Amy and Florence Johnson, in a short duologue, had sly digs at certain members of the association, causing much fan and not a little blushing.

A very happy and memorable evening closed with community sing mog, Auld Lany syme and the National Anthem.
The arrangements of the programme aud the dinner itself left nothjrg to he desired, and in the capable hands of the committee concamed one mav safely say that the Worcestershire nnmual dinner bas become ain institition.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION,

NEW PRESIDENT ELBGTED

The annual meeting of the Janoashire Association was held at Kendal on September 26th, and, considering how far torth the town is situated, an attendance of about 50 was very fair. Ambleaide bells were also at the service of the members, but Bowness bell are not available on a Saturday. Service was held in the Parigh Charch, conducted by the Rev. Ceann Lee Nicholl (Vicar), eaxigted by tho Rav. A. Scott (Bolton). Ter was served in the Schools to reprosentatives of 22 towers from seven branches.
The business mecting followed, the chair being taken in the unavoidable abserce of the vice-president (Mr. H. Davenport) by Canom Nicholl. The committee'a report was presented, as were also the balance sheet and auditors' report.

The Cheirman afterwards anmounced that the Rev. A. Scott wem the only nomines for president, and invited him to fake the chair which he did. He thanked the members for the honour.

Mr. W. H. Shuker was re-elected for two years as secretary. Fipo nominations were received for the vacancy on the Ceatral Council, and in a ballat vote Mr. L. J. Williams, of Church, was elected

The chairman and Mr. T. B. Worsley gave an account of the progress of the Canon Elsee Memorial.

Bolton was chosen for neat year's nmual meetigg, with the name of the church left to the committee to decide.

Votes of thanks wero accorded to the Ficar, the organist and lacal ringers for making everyone comfortable and happy.
Ringing ceased about 9 p.m., as early trains had to be caught by long distance members, some of whom could not get home before midnight even then.

VICAR'S SILVER JUBILEE.

The peal of Stedman Triples at All Saints' Church, Pontefract, on Monday, September 28th, recorded ic this jesue, was rung to mark the Rev. A. G. Shipley's silver jubilee as the Vicar of &ll Safnts' Church.
The Vicar is held in high esteem in the town, and on Sunday, September 27in, the Deputy Mayor (owing to the illness of the Meyor) and members of the Corporation, parishioners and friende in large numbers attended divine service on Sumday morning

During Mr. Shipley's 25 years of ministry in Pontefract he hes always shown great interest in his bells, which he claims are one of the finest peals of eight in Yorkshire.
He has always been most willing to place the bells at the disporal of members of the assomiation and vigiting companies, and 44 penla have been ring on them furing hir inmmbency

BELFRY GOSSIP

Messrs. Gillelt and Johnston liavo received the order to recast the tenor and restore the bells at Hailberton Chureh, Devon.
A congregation of over 300 attended the dedication of the reatored bells at tive village of Thorucombe by the Bishop of Salisbury. The work, which included the recasting of the tenor and the furing of the other four bells, was carried ont by Messus. Gillett and Johnstan.
The five bells at Paulerabury, Northants, rehung in a new frame by Mersis. Tayloy and Co., were rededicated on Sunday week by the Bishop of Peterborough, A chapel in the south aise was dexicated af the aame service.
Mr. Albert W. Coles, Master of the Middlesex Ascociation, is at present in hospital, where he has urdergone a minor operation. We are glad to be sble to say that he is going on well and hopes to be out in a few daya.
The footnote to the repart of the peal at Aston Abbots in our last issue was inaccurate. The first peal on these bells, which were augmented from five to six, Mr. H. B. Whitney, of Linslade, writes, was rund on Saturday, October $4 \mathrm{th}, 1930$, and was conducted by Artaur E. Sharmar, of Dunstable. The Oxford Diocesan Guild heve rung a peal there in recent years.
As Walthamslow is not available for the quarterly meating of the Royral Cumberland Yonths in October, it has been arranged to visis Romford instead on the 24th. Particulars will appear in our advertisement columss next week.

In the peal of Bob Majol at Coddenham on September 26th, the ringer of the 5th was Authur R. Wooderd, not Claude as reported.

Many ringers are auxious to see the skill of the talented oxhey handbell band, who have made bistory by ringing peals of Splinced Surprise Major. They will have an opportunity at Hillingdon on Saturday, when they will demonstrate their skill during the social in connection with the joint mecting of the Middlesex Association, Ladies Gmblat aud Oxford Guita.

At the baptism of the Wimborne Branch secretary's baby, Eunid Esme, at St. John's Ghurch, Parkstone, on Sunday week, the Rev. F. L. Enwards, hou. secretary of the Salisbury Guild, was a godfather. As he was prevented from attending, a Double Norwioh ringer from Poole kindly acted as his proxy.
In our atticle on the lour in the North, jeference was made to the bells of All Sinints' Chutel, Gosforth. The original eight bells were cast and installed by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. in 1901, and the same firm adder the two trebles to make a peal of ten in 1980 .
We regret, that pressure on our space again makes it necessary to holf over the publication of several reports.

MORE PEALS WITHDRAWN.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir', With reference to the 32 Surprise methods pea! referred to in vonr lust issue, I wish to withdraw the three peals called by me at Folkinglam. Market Deeping and Alford, as I used the extent referred to luy Mr. Relfe in last week's issue exnelly as it appeared in 'Fhe Ringing World, of August 2nd, 1935. However, previously I called a true one for these particular six methods, but as the one in 'The Ringing World' seemed less complicated, I used it for the 32 method peals, so that anyone who has rung with me with these methods inelucled before May 23rcl, 1936, may rest assured that they are true.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

PRESTDENT'S 'STRIKING' REQUFST.

The Septemalber meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at Rothwell on September 26th. Owing to a wedding and a fnneral, ringing was delayed until 3.50 p.m., but afterwards weut in full swing in a varietry of methods until 5 p.m., when tea was selved in the Ohurch Inslitute, over 30 members and friends, including the $\begin{gathered}\text { Ficmr }\end{gathered}$ (the Rev. E. S. Brauscombe) sitliug down.
The president (Mr. W. H. Senior) ochpied the chaik' at the business meeting, and rumbers were present from Armley, Batley, Burley, Drighlington, Fland, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Ohad's), Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Sharow, Sherburn, Shipley and the local company.

Oyo rew member, Mr. Goorge Ward, of Rothwell, was elected.
After discussion it was agreed to hold a ringers' Communion eervice ia place of the naual gervice at the annual nomination meeting in March, which will be held at Christ Church, Armley-
The President appealed to the members to attempt to obtain a better standard of striking at the monthly meetings, and reminded members that the public were unwiling listeners, and it was up to them to make the ringing fit to hear.
The usual vote of thanke was accorded to the Fiear, churehwardena, local compmy nad ladies on the motion of Mr. W. H. Semior, eeconded by Mr. L. Drake. Mr. T. W. Strangeway and Mr. H. Hower repied. The next meeting is due to be hele at Bradford Catherita? on Octoher 31sti, 1936.

The burness meeting was then declared closed, when the handbella were successfully rung, while others returned to the tower for finthar ringing, which contimated umbil 9 p.m.

CROYDON BEINS MTSSED．
Passing on to refer to the work which is being umdertaken at Croydon Parish Gfurch，the Clairman said fov some time the bells had been dimb and everybody was asking whon they were going to be rung again．＂Tt feels lonely，gtrangely lonely＂，he said．＂Year after year we have had half an hour of hellyinging on Sunday momi－ ings and Sunday eveninge，aud the Tuesday uight ringing．We misg thom fremendously：young and old miss that wonderful call of the bells．My brother bellringers－I may enll fou that，glthouch I am but a daffer at it－you don＇t know what a memendous yalue there is In this eall of the bells to the peaple．WFe at the Parish Chareh of Croydon，＇he continmed．＇valne the work of the ringers，and $I$ only hope that the happy relationship between the clergy and ringers al． our church may be the same between atergy and ringers thoughout the land＇（applause）．

OVFRLAPPING DTFFICULTIEA．
Mr．Lewis proposed＂The Surrey Association，＂and referred to the overlapping of rinping arganisations whicin pxists in and aronnd Surres．
As mentber of the Kent Connty Associntion，he wis asked to meet representatipes of the Surrey Asomintioflon this subject some time
a号o．Silmey wanted to get the whole of the diocese ot southwazk， which ment into a little bit of Kent．Ag a member of the Kent Association he had to gay that his association wanted to atick to the county of Kent．He did not know what had bappened flually about the sumey terribory．There mere difinulties in this question of terri－ wory but be did not think theg were serious as long as the offcials of the different associations worked together in a friendy ppirit，The reason lie mentioned this was that at the present time practically every association in the country was affiliated to the Central Comacil， ard，therefore，insterd of laving entirely independent assaciatione， they were more or less branches of one great body of clange ringers． If the varians associations would bear that in mind and，wilen there was any difficulty of overlapping meet in a friendly spirit with the intention of not being too parochial，but doing what was beat for the ringing Exereise os a whole，he was certain there would be no difficulties and he could foresee in a few vears time，if they wished to品et diocesan stafus，that they wonld be able to do so，aind poscibly as far as Kent was concerned they woulf mot be so＂pig－headed as they were a year or two ago（laughter）

CORONATION RINGJNG．

To－morrow morming，conthued int，Lewis，we shall lape another hour in bed．It has something to fio with ringing，for it means that to－morrow night aud on succecding oveniogs it will be dark an hout enilier，and it sliould be much easier to eft ringers，jo country places nt anf rate，into the tower for proctice．There is a very special reasor why we slianld make an effort this winter to make onr prachices as successful as passible and practise as diligently as possible，for next Fear shonld be one of the grentest ringing gears we hare ever had． At the Jublee of King George there was a wonderfil respouse by ringers to the general feeling of the public in the desice to expreas then love and veneration for onv late King．Again，when we lost King George，the ringers in a wonderful manneu all through the conntry，expressed the deep feelings of the pulalic on that ocensiou． Next year we are looking forward to the Corvmation of our mem King to the good. It kad, perhaus, given an added impetus to ringing and greater skill in the art in the eornty. Mr. Jolinston ecalled that long before the sturey Asseciation was formed, cltange ringing was practiged in the connty, and mentioned peals sung in 1846 and 1857 at Camberwoll by the Surrey Yoaths, and in 1734 at Croydon by the Croytion Youths, in which the tenor int St. John's Church was rung by two moth. They thought hidey were a very respectable lot at Croydon Parish Cinrch, suid Mr. Johnston, for they had three curates who were ringers there, nud they had been told that if there was a rium of twelve there as they believed there might be in the near future, then the ringers deserved it (applanse). A local paper that week had spoken of the custing of six of the bells for the ring and lakd relerred tw the pouring of the ficry metal into the canldron to the weight of 40 tons. ${ }^{3}$ As these bells represenied about oue-third of the weight of the peal, it mesurt that there would be about 120 toiss of swinging metal in the lower, with approxinately a 30 ton ringing tenor (laughter). If that actually linppened, he knew they would all wish with him that the famons Mr. Jimuly George wonld be well coough by that time to ring the tenor on the opening day (laughter). As le dill nol wish, however, to raise namecessary fears in the minds of the ecclesinstical unthorities, he had better say that he thought 1he local Hress had slipped up and nixed tons with hundredweights (langhter)

In conclusion, M, Joluslon referred with regret to the peuding rosignation of the Master owing to ill-health, and of the tweasurer (Mr. C. Denn). They wished Mr. Burt n speedy recovery. Mr. Dean hind served almost a lifetime in the Surrey Association as assistani socretary, secrelary, trensirer anal representative on the Central Council. They extended to him their warmest wishes and hoped he nuld not disispluear entirely trou their sinrey belfries (applanse)
Tho Rey G. Fart moposed. The Visitors, to whid Mr. F. W. Housden rusponded. The latter said they dirl not think of themselves ns visitors, but as part of the whole body of churchworkers. Perhaps one day, instoud of so muluy different associations, they would have one national nesaciation, workine for one common canse-service ringing for the Church. They sloowd remember that the hells beloug to the Churdh; they were Chere for the special purpose of Sunday service ringing, which was sometimes a little lost sighi of and peal riuging was put kirsi. It should be their first object to see that the bells Wero ring properly for scrvice on Sulday mornings and evenings.
Mrr. A. Shelton submitted "The Ringing World" in felicitous terms nusd wished the jonrmal long life mad prosprity.
Mr. J. S. Goaldsmith replied and look the opportmity, as hom ascretury of the finiliford Diocesau finild, of referring to the harmony existing in the district where the two associations neerlapped. This was due to the kinduess and courtesy of the officials of the Surrey Association, whicls the memhers of the Guildford Guide endeavoned to reciptorate. They holl vealised that there was no need for clashing interests, hat, blint indil wore workine for the same ends (applause).

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

IUDGES' COMMENTS ON CUP COMPEITMORS RINGING

On Saturday, Septemincr 26th, members of the North Notts Associa tion met at Gnmeten for the minth munnal cup competition. The prospect of being possessors of the Crawford Silver Cup for a year nduced four teans to eompete, vix, Burnhy-in-the-willows (who entered for the frst time), Shireoaks, veterans of the contests, and Orleall, two teams, linown generally ns ' $A$ ' and ' $B$ ' respectively. There wha $n$ good company of other ringers as well as the competitors when the firgt team went ur to riug at 3,15 . The draw for positions had resalteते as follows: (1) Ordsitl] ' B ,' (2) Shireanks, (3) Barnby, (4) Ordsall ' $A$ ': lut as the first team were not ready, owing to their boing ruma short, they gavo place to Shireoaks, who get a good etandard and sebued to liave won the cup before the others had rung, except for: a lupse wheu the tenor rope came off the wheel. Bazrby, with open leads, same next, followed by the two Ordsali brads, gnd ha in was now 5 ochock, ters was taken and the meatine hald
The Rev. S. M. S. Snit, the Rector of Gamston, took tho chair, and gavo the nssocintion a very warn welcome. He read the reanlt of the competition, which wns: Shireonks, 192 faults; Barnby, 252 faults: Ordsall ' $A,{ }^{\prime} 186$ faults; Ordsnll ' $B$,' 288 faulte, penalties 10 for not getting bolls affer practice piece, and 30 for not heing ready to fing in their turn, 328 faults.

THE REV. A. H. F. BOUGHEY.

 IN APFREGITTION.The president of the Central Council (Mr. E. H. Lewis) was one of those who, while in residente at Caubridge, came under the influence of the lata Rev. A. H. F. Bouchey's tintion in ringing. Mr. Lewis has written for 'The Rincine World' ilve following appreciation of Mr. Boughey's services to ringing and to the Cambridge University Guild:-

Apart from his own achievements as a ringer, Mr. Boughey's great work for the Exercise was the teaching of the rudiments of change ringing to generation after generation of undergraduates.

As president of the Cambridge University Guild from the middle of 1879, a few months after the Guild was founded, he carried on this good work as long as his health allowed. It was not an easy thing to do. Undergraduates come into residence normally for three years. The terms are short and in the summer teln it is diffionlt to find tome for ringing So that it is hard for undergracuates who have ne previous knowledge of ringing to get very far before they have ne previous kiowledge of ming

Each October the president, wilh unlailing patience and unfailing good humour,-started to teach a fresh batch of begingers, knowing that only a smell proportion would get very far, at least while they were at Cambridge. The work among those who did not progress very far was probably not wasted. A number of them were subsequently oxdained, and they at least knew something of our art, and would lee sympathetic with the ringers of the bells of which they might subsequently have charge.

As a teacher Mr. Bonghey was excellent. On tower bells he was most particular about the proper handing of the rope. His consturt advice to the recruit, "tlown, right to left; down, open fingers," will not be forgotteu hy his pupils. If there are members of the ©uild who have not "an anrecalle puli," you may be sure that they learmt to hantle or mishandle a bell before "coming into residence." There was never much chacee of really good striking in the tower, with practices on the "Seage" and withr too many beginners ringing together; lint Mr. Bonghey laid the fonndations in such a way that members could become gool strikor's when they got the cilance.

It was easier to get on catickly with handbells. A good handbell ringer himself, Mr. Boughey was always zeady to start again at the very beghning, first single-lianded, then double-handed, with each new batch of members.

It was largely due to his untiviug patience that the Cambriage Guild made and kept its tradition for liandbell ringing. In addition to the regular practices, he used to ask the more advanced membera to come to his roons on Sullday evenings, when new mathods were tried, or longer lengths atteupter. He was always ready to take a wair for a peal if he coukd fit it in with his manv engagements, and if mecessary to use his office ns Scnior Dean to give "permission for musie" in prohibited hours.

The Cambridge Guila has been doubly forturate in having as presidand one who wns so excellent a teacher and one who was contimualy resident in Cambuidge. He will be preatly missed, fud i is sad no Tonger to be able to think of " $\mathbf{R}$, Great Court " as lieadquarters.

THE IRISH TOUR.

STORY OF A SUCCESSRDL TMH'
As will huve been gathered from the peal columas of "The Ringing World, the tous whets took place in lrelathl met with at considerable measure of success. This shtecess was not coulined to ringing ; socially the tour had happy results: as a sighl-seeng expedition it certainly was very chioyable; and its eflect un rincring in the parts of Irelanh risited will, we feel sine, he of good value.

During the evening of Friday, September 11th, elght members of the party met at Eiston to catch Lle irisli Mail to Holyhead, and to enjoy a pleasant jonmey across to Dubliz. All went well until Holyhead was roached. It was then fanm that rongla weather was ahend, and it tumed out to be ton rough fol more than one member of the party. Ovel what adnally happelush it is liest to draw a veil, Eut vows wer made hat even is free thip would not tempt one at lenst to go to tustralia. It was wibl great relfef that the bout was left hehind, and the train at Kingstown bontrded for the short rain journey to Dublin. At their hotel the tourjsts found lhat, with one excep. tion, the party was complete, and by 11.30 a.m. the first peal of the tonr was commenced. This was at Christ Chmeh Cathedral, and in just over 31 Lhours a grood peal of Stadnan Caters lad luen ruag. There nre twelve latls in this tower, eight hy Rudhall and four by Murphy. I'wo of the hells are semi-toncs. Trle whole peal was relang by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston in, 1931, and the jeal lumg was the first on then since that date. The composilion, by Gabrici Lindoff, was a new one, and has now been rnig twice, called by a Dublin man at Wallhannstow, ancl by a Walthatnstow man at Dublin

where the firsf peal of Cambridge Royal in Ireland was rung

At the invitation of Mr. Rohert s. Murpher, Mr. W. H. Wilson and other members of the St. Patrichs Cnthedrm Society, the whole party wisited a certain place during the evening, and met old (and new) friends. A very pleasant hony or two was spent reviving memories and retailing all the latest linging gossil?, as well as drinking the health of the hostg.
Next morning Jim Benmett, the last of the band to arrive, tumed up in time for breakfast. The first item on the day's programmo was service riuging at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Here Dr. J. C. Cherryr son of the late Lord Chief Tustice Cherry, welcomed the tourists. Stredman and Grandsire Ginques, and a few rounds on the minor belve, just to hear law they sommed nompleted the morning's zinging hut a further visit was paik to this tower for ringing early in the aftertion, when the party was weleoned by Dean J. F. C . Wilson.
In the inlerval between these two wisitg to ille Cathentral, a little sightseeing, under the conductorship of Bol, Murphy, J, McMormin and ofliers, ended ins a surprise, and a rerg pleasnin surprige, fon. Somelhing that is andertised as being grotd for yon, served whero? You are wrong, guess ugain!
Bruy was visited as soon as the aftemoon"s rimong al the Cafhedral was over. The first item was tea, lout I. IT. S. condin"t wait. He managed to get his, nud finish it off, before the olhers Trad stanted. The ringers at Bray Chureh kimaly gave up their ringing to the tomists. Who much enjoyen some Bristol mid Cambridge Surprism, The hells, tenor $28 \mathrm{cwt}, \mathrm{are}$ by Messrs, Taylou and Co. (1880), and are a marroifient peal. Tha tenor was relnithe 3111929.
On Monemy. September 14th, the long tren lorgan, the first olinective being Funiskilletr, 716 miles itway. J. H. S. was off early : he rid moti intent to mios the tratin. On armal at the stafion it was fonnd that the compartments reserved for the parts were it the wrong ond of the train, aud consequently a change had to be made en route. We suspect I. F. S. of rescrving these compartments; nost railwaymen manage to mess up matters consected with railways, if yon do not believe this, thank of Grunthan !
After a stopat Newtown-Butler for Custons, aud many" other stops for no apparent reasons, Enviskillen was reached at 12.30. Here the IRev. H. MacManaway, Dean of Clogher, met the tourists with a small fleet of cars. After an excellent lumeh at the invilation of the Dean, "quick work' was made for the belfry-to fited J. H. S. already thene, meatsuring the tenor. There are ten helle at Emiskillen Cathedral. It is stated that two bells were made from the metal of eamona captured at the battle of the Boyne, 1690, whieh bells were named - William ' and 'Wary.' These two bells wele recasti at Whitechapel in 1858 to make the Guth of a ring of eight, and only last year Messis. Thaylor recast three of this peal, and added two to make a very fine peal of ten, with a tenor of 22 cwt. The preselatigeighth, the suceessor of the orfgimal liells "William ' and 'Maty,' is now maned 'William anir Mary.
A change ringing bate has been started al the Cathedral, and from Ginbriel Lindoff we gather that progress is beniy made. Needeas to say, the first pacal on the bells made a great impression, aux we hope many resalutions were made to repeat the performance with a local band

After the peal, a photo of the parly whs taken, ant teth was served ar the Dennery. at the end of athother enjoyable ureal, MI. C: T Coles thanked the Dean and Mrs. MacManaway for their hospitality. FUTRHEST WEST.
The Deau, in reply, gave the Engligln ringers a vary learty welcome to Ineland. The Editor of tive ' Fermanmet Thitnes was preseyt, and lias eiven au excellent report of the proceedings in his paper, copies of which have since been received by the band. Duriug the progress of the peal, Mr. Nelson, cuptain of the local ringers, very Eindly took those nembers of the party not rivging for a thotor thip aloug the shores of Lough Erwe, through some vary fine country, which was greatly enjoyed. It was only riglat that Gabriel slrould have the honour of calling the first peal on the Eunisfillen bells, and it is sincerely hoped that he will soon have the pleasure of calling another with local ringerg. It may be of interest to note that the peal was the first of Cambrirge Koyal rung in Ireland, and the ffurtlest west, of Surprise.
Ah jourvey of 60 miles to Londonderry took just over two liours in the train. Much interest was taken in the nountrysule, way peat bogs were pastad, and somebody aclually saw some real white mhtits! Londondery was reached at 9 p.m., the day's mileage beiger 176.
The Cathedral Church of St. Columb, Londonderry, contams a very line peal of ten bells, with a tenur of 32 cwit. There are also three extra ladle, in semi-taues below the gecond, fourth aud sixtlo vespecively. Most of the belis were cast or recast at various times from 1614 to 1865 , and in 1929 the whole wf the then existing bells were recast, ind four, including the present Lavor, were added by Messrs. Gillett and Johnstou.

One of the besv peals of the tour was ring on these hells on Tues day, September 15th, it being a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, conducted by Bob lye. It was the first peal of Royal on the bells and the first Surprise peal in County Derry. At the conclusion of the peal the Dean, the Rev. R. G. S. King, wisited the belfy to wetcome athd congratulate the band, and photos were taken by Ma. Kcnnedy, eaptain of the local conpany, and Leslie Morris.

Colcraine was the next objective, invalving a win jourzey of 34 miles. Flere there is a peal of eqght by riaylor and Co., temor a litife more than 20 cwl. Tho first peal of Surprise Major in County Derry, in this case superlative, was callod by linest C , S. Turner the youngest member of the party. Those not ringing puid a lurried visib to Parbrush and Giant's Causeway, finding the tharre duylight at the latiter place quite insufficient in which to explore its beauties. but at the same time thourobly enjoying the visit to such a wonderfil spot. Coleraine was again reached in time to hear the last two leads of a good peal, and to meet Mr. Bisbop, representing the local ringers.

FIRST PLAL OF BRISTOL IN AN世RIM.
Ballynacna, 28 miles away, was reached quite early oni Wednesders Soptenber 16ill. M1. Patcerson welconed the totrist in the towar, on belale of the Rector aud local ringers. The first peal of London Butprige on these bells wris Fulig in just orer thice louts. The bells, with a tenor weifhing nenr! 18 cwt ., are all by Ments sund Stainbenk, 1895. Anotlier photo was ialecu, after which ther party enjoyed a good hach at the expense of the local ringers. It was regretted that the clams of husiness made it impossible for nuy of thern to attend ta recuive the thanks of the tourists in person, font those thenks, given at this stage though the medium of 'The Ringing World,' aru none the less sineer Train to Belfast, 31 miles, and a further journey of 10 miles, hrought the party to Carrichfergus, where they were met by Capt. Roper, A.O.G. The Ractor, Canon J. C. R. Rutherford, welcomed the ringers in the belfry. Heare the lirst peal of Bristol in County Antriun was conducted by Leslie Wightman, on a very fine toned pen] hy Gillett anci Tolnstom, which do not hang in the tatl steeple, but in as smill tower specially crectod for them. Tise members of the pardy not ringivg enjoyed a conducted Lom of Camiokfergus Castle and "lamind dining the ringing of the peral.

MINOR METHODS.

FALSE ROWSS.

To the Enitor.
Daar Sir, - wres pleasen to sea Mr. G. Williams' letter in your issue of Saptrember 17 lib, and I loped that someone else would have replied to corroborate my sfritensuls.

As no one else sectus jucling to do go, I sliall be obliged if you will find space for a few tuo Minor sections and also for some that are false, in Whe hope blat liroy may be educative to thoge who are anxione to learis, and correckive to the gentleman who made false atatemenle, bul liever had the grace to witbdraw them when the was proved to be wrong-a failing the fad gentleman is mich addicted to.

Thare are only lhooe sections in Minor to be considered, because the last balf of the laad must be the roverge of the first half if the mothod is to be trise.
Following urg turee piain scalions of 'Treble Boh Ninor principle:-

| Treble in 1-2 | Treble in 3-4 | Treble in 5-6 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 123456 Even | 241635 Odd | 462513 Jren |
| 214365 Odd | 426153 Even | 645231 Odd |

It is obvious that all the abovo sections are false, the row 1 and 3 repeating, alsu rows 2 and 4.
In any brue Treble Bob Minor method, therefore, the rows in the enctions mush, 子ever follow eme anoblier in llie orter of Even, Ond, Even, Oded, or vice verse, Otd, Ever, Odd, Wven, otherwise the sections aje false in themselves.

(Continuod from previous column.)
In Ventror Aliance, as in methods Nos. 1 and 2 that werg putalished on Angust 14th, there are never arore than two places in a pair of rows, and the method is symmetrical, but seeing blat, there are six even rows and only two chid rows with the trehle in 5 -6, instead of four of each, the method is so false that the plain leads repeat agannst one another.
By adding an Extreme when the treble is behind to Ventnor Alliance, the repetitions comse in the firat lead inslead of 3id and 4th leads, as they also do in No. 2 Delight method published on August 14th.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The memorial dinner to Jasper Whitfeid Snowdon and past officers of the Yorkshire Association ranks as one of the most important social gatherings of the year among ringers. Unlike any of the other similar commemorations, it is a 'movable feast" in that it is held successively in York, Leeds and Sheffield. By this means many more members of the great association are given an opportunity at intervals of joining in the gathering than would be able to do so if the proceedings always took place in the same centre. Last Saturday's gathering in the ancient city of York was once more prook of the attraction which these festivities hold for ringers, not only of Yorkshire but from many distant parts of the country. It is, indeed, a 'gathering of the clans,' and, apart from the opportunity provided to honour the memory of the men of a past generation who were leaders of the Exercise in their day, they provide the occasion for an exhibition of that real spirit of fraternity of which, as ringers, we are wont to boast.

The Yorkshire Association has been in existence for sixty years. It was one of the first of the territorial associations, and throughout the whele of its career has been in the forefront of the ringing organisations of the country. It was placed there by its founder, Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, and kept there largely by the inspiration and guidance of the succeeding presidents. It is not a little remarkable that in its sisty years the association should have had only three presidents. Jasper Snowdon, cut of comparatively early in life, filled the office for ten years. His brother, William Snowdon, occupied the office for over twenty-five years, and Canon Marshall, the present holder, has now reached his silver jubilee as head of the organisation. That the association has been fortunate in its choice of presidents goes without saying. All have brought their special attributes to the direction of its affairs, and though they have differed in their special gifts, the efficiency of the association has been the end for which all have so successfully striven. The fortunes of the Yorkshire Association have been safe in the hands of its successive presidents, who have enjoyed the confidence of the members.

Within its area the association has a number of minor organisations, but the feeling between them and the parent association is such that friction seldom occurs. In the districts of Sheffield, Leeds, Barnsley and Halifax, local societies-local, that is, compared with the great size of the county itself-supplement the work which the Yorkshire Association is doing. For the most (Contimued on page 670.)

part the members of these smaller societies are members of the Yorkshire Association also, and their allegiance to the larger organisation does not suffer from their interest in the activities of the smaller. Only in north Yorkshire has the association failed to infiltrate to the fullest extent. There the Cleveland Association takes an independent stand, for it is a long cry from the industrial and thickly populated centres of the South to this more scattered area, fringing the river Tees. Some day, perhaps, the ringers in that part of the county of broad acres will find that their interests tend to the direction of linking up with the rest of the county, and so completing the structure which Jasper Snowdon visualised when he founded the Yorkshire Association over sixty years ago.

FOR BEGINNERS.

USE YOUR EARS.

There is overy reason why bathds everywhere should give theiz best attention to 'suriking' during the coming wiater's practices. For inslance, the Cononation is combing, lout, of conrse, it is iuportant to berv in mind that good strikiug slould be mude the essential of all ringing. Everything elsc shonld be sactiticed to it; change ringring should be suhordinated to it. It is one of the greatest mistakes to attempt change ringing until you can strike well in rounds, although it is a fact that in the anxiety to push yonng ringers on, beginners are frequently made to ring changes hefore they are really competent in the handling of their bell or are ahle to strike properly in tronds. We hope that increased atlention will be paid to striking. It mathers ar all times, but most in service ringing and in those long spelfs of ringing, like peals, when dise pablic have to listen to tine spells of ringing like peals, when the pablic have to listen to tine sount of the bels for, perhaps, hours ons end. To strike your bell entirely by ropesight-that is by measuring by the eyc the distance which las to be allowed in the pull hetween one lselt and anotherwould be ensy if the distance were the gnme between all bells, and all bells were in themselves so truly hing that they chapper evenly.
lunt bells are of difterent sizes and therefore some Lurn, and consequently strike, quicker ihas others. Fon must allow for this and leave a wider interval in your pull over a big bell than over a little one, so that the space between the actual sounds of the hells will remain the same. Moreover, many bells are slightly and others considerably defective in their "clappering." Thranglı the clapper not hanging at dead contre when the bell is down, it may strike too soon or too Inte when it is mig. In the first case it is satd to be 'quich and in the second "slow."
Obvionsly, if wou are rinfing a bell that is "quick, you must, if you would strike it exactly the right epace hehind the beth fau are striking over, hold up just that extm frnetion of a second whicls will keep the compass set by the other bells, On the ollher hand, if the hefl is slaw, it must he pulled if just a little sooner than a normat bell would he. Unless this is done you get a jaxzy ' effect which entirely spoils the ringing from the listemer's pant of view. What is meeded is perfect beat and thythum.
What we have told you, luwever, is only how to perform a kind of mechanical operation, once yon lave discovered that the striking of yanl bell is defective. What is more impartant is to be able to make the discovery and to tell whether Four bell is beins placed in ite right position amonr the rest to a "hair's-breadith, as it were.
The best equipment a ringer can lave is a pair of sharp ears. Fe will never strike well maless he trains himandf to pick out his own bell from the rest, and to distinguisto the least diserepancy in his striking. At first a beginner mar find it very diffinat, if not impossible, to tell from mony the somins overherd which note is that of the hell he is ringing. His aftention is fully taken up with the hnudling of his rope.
Soon, however, that pays of the process shoutd hegin fo become mechanieal, and he should be abic to devote some of lis attention to listening for lis own bell. Listen for it first in roulls. Const tho notes from treble flownward every time, with emplasis on the place where your own should appeat. Gradually the bell, in a normal where will sem to emphasise itself. Afterwards won will hear it tover, will seem to emphasise whatever its mosition may be amolyg the rest. But this pickillg out of your own bell will not necesenrily hecome casy at the start. Never mink, go on trying: the great thing is tho persevere and not to give up hecause at first it seems impossible. Once you make up your mind that you will never be able to pick ont your bell, you may as well resign yourself to the fact tlat you will never make a good ringer. Use your ears as well as your eyes, and go on using them.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

PEAL RINGING FERSUS MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the Tonhridge District of the Eent County Association was held at Tonbridge on Saturday, October 10th, when 70 por cent. of the affliated towers int the district were represented as wall as some from outside the district. The total number of members present was 69, and the Following towers represented: Benenden, Brastiod, Chiddingstone, Edenfyidge, ITawkhurst, Horsmonden, Leigh, East Pecklann, Penshurst, Seveuoaks, Shipbourne, Tonbridge, Tunbridge Wells, Cranbrook, Sturry, Milton-uext-Gravesend, Croydon (St. Johr's), Bedcington and Northileet. Ringing took place in the afternoon envl evening in the standard methods, the striking being very good for mixed bands.
Tho usual gervice was held, conducted by the Viear, the Rev. Canon F. Childe, late of St. Helens, Laceashire. Tea wes partaken of at the Carlton Cafo and was followed by the business meeting. Among those present were the Rev. F. L. Schreiber (Vicar of Shipbourne), the Rev. E. L, M. Allen (Vicar of Edenhridge), Mr. F. M. Mitchell (tho goneral secretary), Mr. F. White, Mr. C. H. Kippin, Mr. D. Coopar, and 'Unele' Bill Lambert, who is believed to be tive oldest ringer in the fistrict. He las been ringing for about 70 years. The Vicar, the Rev. F. Childs, presided.

In hin report, the District Secretary remarked upor the satisfactory position of the district. Sixty-five per cent. of the ringing towers were in union, and provided the agsociation with 181 practising members, Although, he said, the association had no wish or power to dictate to ita mombers, he would Hite to recora the deplorable fact that on two nocrslons peals lind been attempted on meting days by members. In onc instance the peal whs rung ontside the county, ringers going from the tower where the meeting was held and from a nenrby tower, and in the other caso the peal attempt could be heard from the belfry of the church ato which the mecting was being held. It did not seem fair, the secretary continued, in view of the work entailed in arrangint meetings, for ringers to do this sord of thing.
Tho report, with the balance sheet, was adopted. Mr. A. Richardson was re-elected secretary, and Messrs. E. Everestand A. J. Battin were elected as district representatives. Mr. G. Edwards, who has been a representative for a great many years, intimated that le would mot stinnd agnin for re-election.
Thit was decidnd that the metingg for next year should be held as follows: Sevenaaks in Fehrwary, Hawkiurst in May, Leigh in July, and tha annual mecting at Tonbridge in October.
The revision of the association's rules came up for discuesion, and Will one or two miner exceptions the members recommended that thin amended rates as subnitted by the committee be adopted.
On the motion of Mr. F. W. Fonsden, seconded by the distriet uncretary the dislicict recommended that all members shoule receive, froe of clarge, a report and balance sheet each year. It was pointed out that at the present time members had to pay od. for an enture report of perls, performances, etc., in order to be able to obtain the report and balance sheet.
Tho usual votes of thanks concluded the business meting.

EHFORD DISTRICT SUPPORTS NEW RULES.

The Ashlove Distrift once again held its annunl meeting at Ashford on Satirday, October 3rd, whon upwards of 60 members atitended from 18 towers in all parts of the connty. Service was conducted by the Ficar, who gave a slonto address of welcome, reminding the ringetr of theit privilege ant responsibility. Mr. Paul Steinitz presided at the organ
Tha was served in the Followslip Room and provided by the associntion. Tlie Vicar nam organist both expressed regret at being unable ro your tho company at tea, but both hacl to tahe part in a service following that of the ringers.
The bisiness meeting. which prover to be rather lengthy, was presided wer by Mr. F. M. Mitcheld, the general secretary. Two new members were clected nud a previous election ratified.
'Ho hon, secretary (Mr. T. Conleg) liaving announced that he wonld The matile to contimue in ollice, Mesars. P. Page and W. Otalield were mominated nod Mr. P. Page wis elected. It is hoped that the memhers will give him all the support possilite.

For tho purpose of providing two district representatives on the Centiral Comintiee, Messrs. P. Pierce, F. S. Ruck, W. Olffeld, C. Tribo and $F$. Wanstall were nominated, and as a result of the ballot Mr. F. S. Ruck tnad Mr. T. Wanstnll were electeni.

Mr. C. W. Fveratt was elosen to ant as Ringing Master in place of Hrs, Pnge, it being manimousily aleelded that the distriet canmot do without one.

Arter in good foal of disenssion thte meeting-instructed the secretary nud representatives to shpport the adoption of the mles as amended ly the Cencral Gommitten in Novemhel last. It also asked them to invito the committeo to hold the תנחוnil mecting at Ashford on Faster Maudive mext.

A cotlection for fie Association Bemevolent Fund mmonnted to 19s. 6d.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

NOITTHERN BRANGE AND BELL RESTORATION GRANTS.
Tho haff-ybarly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Feckington on Satinclay, October 3rd. The weather was ideal for the oceasion and was very probably the reason for such a good assembly of members.
The village possesses a large nud magnificent church in which hangs a fine toned ring of eight belle, on which tonchers in various methods were rung during the aftemoon and evening. The six bells at Hale Magna were also available. Amongst the towers represented were Anwick, Bigby, Blankney, Branston, Gainghorongl, Grathan, Lea, Lincols, Metheringham, Nocton, Sleaford and Uleeby, in addition to the local company. Mr. R. Richardson, Master of the Guild, and Mr. F. W. Stokes, hon. secretary, were present, together with Mrs. Richardson, Mies E. Richardson and Mr. G. Ladd, hon. secretary of the Ellos Deaneries Branch, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Bramwell, Cleethorpes. Members of the Guild were also present from Boston, Spalding and Treeton, Yorles.

Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Ficar (the Rev. A. L. Richards), who gave the memberg a very hearty welcome to Heckington. The organist accompanied the musical part of the gervice. Subsequently 54 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea at the Temperance Hall.
The business meeting followed, at which the Ven. Archaleacon H. T. Parry (Northern Branch president) presided.
Metheringham was selected for the 1937 half-yearly meeting, the date fixed being October 2nd.
The epecial ftem on the frgenda was an application for a grant towards the rehanging of the bells at Haxey Parish Church. The Prestdent informed the members that, at a meeting held at Brigg in 1934, a resolution was passed respecting this matter. This was: "That a definite reserve fund of $£ 50$ be fixed, and when near the mergin of that sum no grants be mado, and when above, cases should be dealt with on their merits." He stated the treasnrer bad told him the fuuds of the branch at that moment were below the fixed sum, consequently it was not neceseary to proceed any further with the matter. At the same time, he requested the secretary to make a note of it in the minutes.
Mr. Richardson surgested that the branch shonid form a belfry repair fund on similar lines to the one in connection with the Elloe Deaneries Branch and the one in connection with the Grimsby District of the Northern Branch, both of which had proved very successful.
Arohdeacon Parry proposed a hearty vote of thanks to bhe Vicar for the use of tha bells and conducting the service, the organist, the caterers and all who had helped to make the meeting such a anccess. A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the business, after which further ringing took place during tio remainder of the evening.

RINGERS WHO FADE AWAY.

ARCHDEACON'S ADDRESS AT SURRTY MEETING.

The Yen. Archdeacon W. R. Grichton stood in the chancel of Ranmore Church, Surrey, on September 26th, amongst a small gathering of Surrey ringers, and had some interesting things to say about bells nnd beliringers. He had been in Iudia for 18 years, and, he snid, always liked to hear the saund of the old English lolls coming to him over the air: they created a tramendons stirring of the heart strings, together witl a longing for the homeland and all it represented. They would then bs faded ont, and be would feel once more like a stranger in a strange land. He would remember a church in Ireland which had a good peal of bells, und where the ringers came regularly to ring, but gomohow they too, like the bells on the wireless, acquired a habit of 'fading away' immediately before a gervice started. He hoped the ringers of Surrey were not like that. (He was afterwards told that they were much better, but that a complete redemption from this habit wrold take time.)
In speaking about the story of the bells in the old Testament, which he referred to as "The Parable of the Relfry,' he said that thoy were merely a part of the whole fabric, and hut one of the many attiontes of the Christian Iffe. The ringers were workers together with God and were the inlieritors of a shered trust which must be preserved and handed on mimpaired. They were learners in a splendid school of discipline-lie conld tell from the ringing lie had heard that afternoon that thele musb have been reucli patient practice and the studying of rules. There was no room in the belfry for the ringer who did not pay attention and would not learin. Just as one bad fempered person conld spoil the harmony of the lome, so the rhythm of the bells conld ba destroped by the bad striker or the man who does not try.
The Archdeacon concluded his address by welcoming the Surrey Association to Ranmore and inviting them to come agaim.

Figliteen members sat down to tea. representing Croydon, Beddington, Epsom (Clirist Church), Banstead, Ieatherhead and Dorkinr, whitst duving the afternoon and evening visitors arrived from Capel, Sunlun'y, Reckenham and Reirate.

After a short husiness meeting members returned to the tower, where the bells were kent gaing till nine oclock. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Triples to Loudon Surprise.

Totes of thanks were passed to Avchaleacon Crichton for the use of tine bells and for conducting the service: to tho organist, Mr. A. Redjead; and to Mr. A. Dolbingon Promaking arraugements for the

INAUGURATION OF UFFORD BELLS.

COMPLETION OF RESTORATION SCHEME.

Ufford Church was filled with a large congregatian (all the addi. tional chairs being used) when the ceremony of inauguration was performed by tho Lord Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich. The first lesson was read by the Rev. Hargrave Thomas, Rector of Needham Market, the second by the Rev. R. B. Dand, Rector of Woodbridge.
After this, the churchwardens with their staves came to the chancel doors and led the procession of cross, choir, clergy, Rector and Bishop (preceded by his chaplain, the Rev. H. A. Meetwood, Rector oif Creeting and a ringer) with his staff, to the west end There, the ringers being inside the tower, the donors each took a rope affixed to the bell they were giving, and standing in the mave, just insife the tower door, handed the rope to the Bishop.
The rope of the first hell was thus handed by Mr. C. E. Fisher, that of tho second by Mr. F. L. Fisher, the third by Mr. E. Denison Taylor, the fourth by Mrs. Drake, representing her son, the late Mr. Francis Drake, while one rope, attached to the four old bells, was handed by the other churchwarden, Mr. G. Lankester, with a request that he would inaugurate the ring. This the Bishop did in the prascribed form, and then handed all the ropes together to the Rector, thus putting them into hic eare. As the procession returmed to the chancel, 20 rounds were rung, this being the first time sny of the bells had been rung or heard, and great was the joy and pleasure of those who heard them.
The Bishop began his sermon by thenking all those who had, by their gifts, enabled the people of Ufford to lave the beautiful ring of bellg which they had just heard, and of which they might well be proud. He went on to say that while there were some people to whom church bells appeared to lave a melaucholy sound, yet they were only a small minority. To most people the sound of bells was especislly one of joy, and reminded them of the words, All Thy works praiso Thee, 0 Lord.' This was a lesson which needed to be learned to-day, wher so many people were complaining. Instead of complaining we should be finding causes for praising God, and this the sound of the bells belped us to do.
The Rector announced that he had that morning got Messrs. Taylors' recaipt in full settlement, and there was still some e5 in burd. This and the collection that day (this came to fe 10 s) would go towards paying of £21 for work which had been done lochlly
Among the large number of clergy present were the Reve. H. Gray (Bredfield), Canon Round-Turner (Bealings), W. M. Lummis (Kesgrave), F. W. Moyle (Saxmundham), A. R. Shaw (Hinderclay), A. G. G. Thurlow (Wokinghan), A. E. Milne (Fetixstowe), S. E. Caller (Wiekham) and G. R. D. Bennet (Woodbridge).

After the service the bells were ruug by ringers from all parts of Suffolk and from Essex. Over 150 of the congregation were given tea with the Bishop, by wrs. Drake, in St. Mary's Hall.
All present considered the bells were the most satisfactory ring in the diocese, both in the workmanship aud in the sound. This is well reduced in the church and ringing chamber, while outside it is well blended and softened to those nearby, and carries much better to a distance.

As was recorded in our issue of August 21 si, Ufford bells were blessed and named. The four front bells have been recast. The sixth and tenor are pre-Reformation bells, the forner by William Dawe, of London ( $1270-1385$ ), and the latter, weighing 13 cwt 1 qr .8 lb. , by Brasyer, of Norwich ( $1400-1510$ ). The 5 tin is a bell by John Darbie, of Ipswich, in 1686, and the 7th by T. Osborn, of Downlam, in 1799. The old 4 tle, also cast by Brasyer, of Norwich, probably about 1480, when the church was finally altered to what it now is. This bell, Whenly 'skirted' at some time, and too thin for its note, stands on the floor of the church. The key of the whole ring is nearly F sharp. The founders reported that the 6th and 7th were, when they received them, nearly in tune with the tenor, the 5th being a little flat. The others were, therefore, put in tune with the 5th, whicla has not been tuned.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

SEVENTY MEMBERS MEET AT KINGSCLERE.
A quarterly meeting of the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held at Kingsclere on Saturday, September 26th. Ringing commenced at $2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. on the fine old six bells at St. Mary's Church. A shart service was held, the Vicar giving an address that was very much appreciated.
About 70 members sat down in the Schoolroom to $a$ very fine tea, provided by local ladies and ringers. A short business meeting was also held. The chairman of the branch (the Rev. G. H. Jeudwine) presided, and thanks were expressed by him to the local company for the welcome given to everyone.
Viaitors were present from Hereford, London, Highclere, Reading, Domington, Compton and Newbury.
Aiter the meeting the company wisited the tower and many made a tour of inspection of this very fine old village, with its many objects of interest.
Ringing continued until eight o'elock, when the local foreman, Mr. North, called 'Time,' thus bringing a very enjoyable visit to a close. Methods rung during the afterioon and evening varied from rounds to London Suyprise.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Foundiry Entabllahed A, D, 1570 (19th year of relgn of Elizabath).

There is more than passing interest in the first pear of Cinques ors the bells ' rung at Saffron Waklen, Essex, lasto week, It is mare than 20 years since the bells were increased to twelve, and it is gratifying to know that, after so long a lapse of time, a peal has at last becn rung on them.
Kingsdon Churoh bells, Somerset, are being reluug with new fitm tinge in a new frame by Messrs. Gillett and Jolmston
Mr. Tames Arrowsmith, who, when he retired fram ringing ten years ago, had speat 50 years as a member of the band at the Parish Church, Widdeton, Lancs, has died at an adwanced age, He was a life member of the Laneashire Association, for which he rang 20 peals. On Wednesday week a mufled peal was rung in his memory.
An attempt for a peal of Stedman Caters was made on the glarious bells at Beverley Minster on Saturdny by visitors who were im Yorkshive for the Snowdou Dinner. Unfortunately, dfter two and a lialf hours' excelient ringing, the bells ware brought round owing to the indisposition of one of the band.

It was a great disappointment to everyone, especially to the Birmingham contingent, who eight years ago rang over three hours at the tower and had to stap for a somewhint similar reason.
Some of the band list sulurday werc classified by critics as among the 'old men and cripples.' One had his "eye in a sling " and o bandaged leg; another had lost all his teeth and walked with a limp. Others were not too good after years of wear aud tear, but, fortunately, it did not affect their ringing ability. It wes one of the strong men of the party whom misfortime overtook.

Here is another toothless story well wertls telling. A well-known Midlands ringer was recently spending lis holiday at Bowrnemouth. Bathing one day in a rather turbulent geat, he opened his mouth to laggh at an incident, which we will atat describe here, when an extra big wave investigated the interior of an unexpected cavity.

When the sea receded it onrried with it the gentleman's false teeth! He never saw then argain. We understand they are now being used by a Targe sized whitiag which has been geen of Bournemontli pier. In futhra the ringer proposes to keop lis month sinut when bithing.

And talking of the sea, those ringers who made the recent pasage to Ireland, and escaped the uncomfortable experience of mal de mer, should ponder upor the words of the Poet Laireate quoted by "Panch ${ }^{\text {P }}$ last weelc, when they gloat over the tribulations of their fellow-voyagers:-

- I've a theory that only intelligent people get scasick. I believe there are nerves in their brains that cause it."
Yes, wn admit we have not forgoten the voyage to Atrotralia and back, which we made withat [alling victim to seasickuess ourgelves.

We nre sorry to stato thati Mr. Jolim Tint, the well-known ringer of Bolsover. Derbyshire, is in the Murply Wavd of the Roynl Hospital, Chesterfeld, suffering from severe injuries, received while engaged in shot firing in a coal mine. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

Among the large number of men who have iately come to Barrow-in-Fumess from Ireland and Scotland mad parts of England there nay be ringers. There is a landy peal of eight at. St. James' Cliureh nt the top of Hartington Street, the only peal in the town. The loca? rimgers will be glad to extend a welcome to anyone who cares to give them a look up. Service ringing at the usural times.

Can any render inform us where handbell music can be obtained?
The ringer of the 2nd in the peal of Treble Boh at Kevwpu on September 23 ral was C. Edward Lankester, not Edwin as published. To clear up a mystery which some may feel about two conflicting statements, we have it upon the most reliable authority that Mr. Joln W. Jones, of Newport, Jang his 450 th peal at Bridgend on September 30th

We regret that we are still compelled to hold over several reports, owing to pressure on ouy space.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN BRANCH SECRETART RETURTSS,
The Northern Branch of the Worcestershire aud Districts Association held their September meeting at Brierley Hill, when between 70 and 30 menbers atemded. There was an short service in church, with an address by the Rector (the Rey. J. F, Herliert). after which tea was partaken of in the scliools, followed by the usual business meeting under the chairmauship of the Rector.
The election of the branch officers took place. Mr. Thomas Femming was re-elected Ringing Masler and Mr. John Bass the Central Committee representative.
With regard ta the secretaryship, Mr. W. B. Cartwright intimated that owing to prafessional reasons he could not stand for re-election, and Mr. John S. Mason, of Oldbury, was elected in his place
A vote of thanks was necorded to Mr. Gartwright for his pist services.
Severnl new mombers were electod, mong them being the Rector and Mr. Thomas Lowther, sen., one of the chnrohwerdens.
It was decided to hold the next meefing at Wollaston on the ustal Saturday in Jarmary.

The tea was provided hy the local ringers, and a pote of thanks was passed, thanking them for their hospitality. and to the Rector far allowing the meeting to be held at Brierley Hill.

YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER.

RINGERS GATHER IN YORK CITY.

Archdeacon and the Praservation of Balls.

lh was the turn of York this year to provide the setting for the annual commemoration dimer organised by the Yorkslive Association in memory of Jasper Whitheld Snowdon and other past officers. York is a delightful city, dominated by the towering pile of its Minster, कrith an evel inspiring interest. With the added attraction of its wonderful peal of twelve bells, with a three tou temor, it is no wonder that York proves a great attraction to ringers on the accasian of this trieanial wisit. About 120 were prescnt at he dinuer on Saturday at the Windmill Hotet, under the geaial chairmanship of Cavou C. C. Marshall, of Headingley, president of the association. He was supporterl by the Yeln. Archdeacon of York, the Rer. Canou Sollowiy (Selby), Mr. C. T'. Coles (hon. secretary, Middleser Association), Mr. J. S. The excefint arrangements for the event were made bri a local com mittee, of which Mr. T. F. Earnshaw was president and Mr. Gi. Horner hon. secretary.
After dinuter the loyal tolask was honoured and the president gave the company a message front Mrs. William Snowelost aud Miss Snowdon. who had writien to him once more to consey to the memhers of the Yorkshire Association their kind wishes and thoughts aud the lope that the company would linve a pleasant evening. Canon Marsladl added that he was sure they would all wish him to thank Mrs. and Mist Snowdon for their message and to reoiprocate their good wishes (applause).

> REBIRTH OF CHURCH LIFT:

Mr. P. J. Tohuson proposed the loast of 'Church and State.' In the course of a characteristic speech covering wide ground, Mr Johnson said nowlrere in England wonld they find exemplified, mare thnin in the district ia which they were assembled. the great power and the great work of the Church in dinys gone by. In the mighty Minster, in Solby ane the other ablbeys and churches in Holderness, they saw what lie thousht was tho juspiration of much of the ert which they had in this conntry to-day. In the past the churches were the centres of art-music, painting, architecture were nill commected with religions life-and education and learning. The prohlenis before the Church to-day were of a difficent clasacter. In prowiding for the spiritual requirenents of immense new centres of population the Church was faced with great liahility and anriety, but lie thonght the takk before it might lead to the reliinth of clurch life and work (hear, hear). They nust all play their part in supporting the Cluncels in the colossal efforts which were being male to cope with the now and changerd circumstances.
Mr. Jolinson referred to the recent loss which had been sustained hy the death of the Res. A. IH. F. Boughey and the valuable service which he rendered to change ringing. Countless undergraduates land come unतer h/s iustruction in ohatrge ringing, and lee (the spenker') regarded it as a happy angury for the futare of the art that some of the theological colleges-Ciddesdon and Salisbury among themwere taking up this suljeet of ringing.

BELLS OF REDUNDANT CHURCHES

Proceeding, he referred to the migration of congregations from the ciries and bis towns to the country, and he wondered what would happen to the bells of the churches which were bocoming redundant He pleaded witls those who wele responsible in these matters, where there were bells ive old churches that were ao lone dir leeded, that prbtigion shout be made for then to be installed in the tew chnrelaes, thas saviag these peals aud griving au facentive in the new disiricts for the taking up of change ringing, Another matter in which he hoped they would have the support of the clexcy was in fulfilling their duties at the coming Caroustion. He Joped that that great mational event would lead to the making of ens exception with regurd to Fork Minster belle and that for that occasion the authorities wonld allow a peal to be rung there (hear, hearl. Such a thing woulkl give great gratification to the whole Exereise and to evergone except a few disgruutled people in York (hear, hear).
In dealing with "The State," Mr. Jolning tonchen upou the anxieties in the international outlook and expressed the hope that in this country democratic governmant would ever remain strong aud secure Sooner or later ary otber forn of govermment mast lead to disaste:.
Archdeacon England, who replien to the toast, spoke in appreciatire ticims of the mover's speech, which, he sud, hat thrilled hiut hy the ohvious admiration and sincere love for the Church wifich it displayed. The Archdeacon enlarged upon the magnificent git's which the Church had given and preserved to the uation. The mentioned the fact that in Yotk Minster they had mere $13 \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{h}}$ contin'y sfained glass than was is be found ins. any cathedral in Europe. They also possessed the nnly mannscript in cxistence of all Angla-Saxoll copy of tie Gospels. It this comection he told the story of an Ameriean millionarre who. laviug lieard of this MS., wanted to buy it. [or a mamdred thousand pounds. When the Dean "eplied that there was " wothing doing," thewe came a cable, ' Double my olfer' (laughter). When lie (the Arclaleacon') told this story to a paxty of tourisl Americalis to whom lie was showime the treasure, a lady among thers rasped ont, "I giless you have snid guite enough."

FACING THE NEW SITTATTON

Contiluing, the Areldeacon said the position which the Clarch was facing to day throngh the growing new centres of population had $110+1$ been experiented before. Tis the diocese of Fotk alone thero were foun on five entirely uew centres of the size of large towne which had ghung up. Whatever bhese now centres might becone socially, he feared they could never have the priceless things whel the older planes hud juherited from our forefathevs, the way of churches, bat in the parishes which cane under His jurisdiction es Auchdeacous their policy was, 'Dun't build a hat church' (hear, leary). If you canmot butid a good chmolt at first, butd a proll of the church, but make it parit of a wortlyy clurch (Rpplause). Until they could do Lhat; he said, it was better to be content with a liall. With regare lo the bells in clurches which were no lomger needed, the Arelideracon suid they wove carcfully watching this. There was a case in York of a church which contained a peal wi bells which was to be pulled ritum. They had had many recuesis for a bell fram this peal but they inteuded that the peal sloulr be given in its entirely to some chureh which was prepared to build a tower fit to recerve it (applause), At present the hells were in the custody of the Dean and Chapter uf York, and it was possilule that they would be sent to a church in at new district ot 新iddesbrourg.
The Archdeacon added that the antlorities in the diocese carefolly watched bell restorations to see tilat no one buf experts were allowon to touch the hells and to see also that mil me-Teformatinn bells were preserved. He referred to Mr. Jolmson's suggestion that a peal at York Minster alould be permitted far the Coronatiou, and said he hoped it might be possible to arrange linis (applanse). As he was the ond responsible for this departument, he wonld probably be the one to bear the brint of the complaints, but lie wauld be able th say, "I nm norly, but we don't erown a King epory day (applanse). He would be wery happy if it were fond phssible to arrange for a peal o be fung.
The Archdeacon referren to the fact that the late Mr. Bonghey wag going strong' when lie (ithe speaker) was an urdergraduate at Camhridge, and that the fixst time in his life that Jo sam belle fung wies at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, where he went one practice niglat with a member of Cambridge University Guild. When the ringiug finished he asked if lie migith try to pull the rope before lie wellt home, but was told that if lie did jos misht, go to a long home (langhter), The Avehdencon concladed by referring to the great antiquity of the rolationslip between Chamely and State in this cauntry, and adided that when he saw the tragic and tercible happenings going on around then in other parts of the word he was more than satisfied, despite all our fanlts and shortcomings, to be a citizen of this land in which to lived (applause)
The President in introducing Mr. G. T. Coles, referred to hes raithful atad loyal service to the Chureh and change ringing. The fact that he hat carried on for 26 years the work of hon. gencral secretnry of the Midulesex Connty Association, entitied him to the lighest bonou: they cauld give him.

YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER.

 MEN HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM.(Contimuad from prewious page.)
of the Association, As one who, minil r few years ago, did all his ringing ju Lhe Sosth, Mr', Eoles said, it was not to be expected that he shomled lave rim arross thage famous Yollsaine ringers of the past, but the repulation of these men spread to other parts of the land, and ringers in the sontis hononied whem alnost as mueh is they were hononred ju their own connly. They quite appreciated the reasons why Yorkshire rinders gonght to do them lnonour in the way they did. They all, he sald, falt at times that they wished to honour tho menory of ringers who had gone from them and to whom had fallen tho task of bilidiur up their associations. Those med had dificulties to fage which dicl not confont the ringere of to-day. Thep had to lay whe foundations, the ringers of to-dey lad only to carry on tha work. They benefited by the work which was put in in those early aiays.
Referring to the labe Rew. A. H. F. Boughey, Mx. Goles said that he visited the Middeser Association at their annual meeting in London in 1914, fnd in a sermon los said, 'A change ringer is always seeking something hirlier in his art." That, wded Mr. Coles, summed up what the pioneers of the enrly days tried to do and what ringers to-day were trying to do, but the later found it easier because of the work the pioncers put in. roceching Mr. Coles said the work which Jasper Snowdon did for the art had its effect on ringing throughout the country. Ho was a comparatively young man when he died, bat during his 自indt life ns thiner he did sufficient work to do eredit to a man who lived to be a century. His opportunities as a ringer were not as great os a ringer got to-day, but all he did, he did well. He wns a great teacher and his style of teaching had gone on from that day to this. Ho was a grent writer on tinging watters, and the bools he left behind were still the text books that ringers were proud to Jave. Jarper Snownon was the founder of the Yorkshire Associafion and ilg preaident for ten yenrs. To him, more than bo any man, they owed the fact that Yorkshire had one of the ghrongest and best associations in the combry, Ho wan followed by lis brother, willixm Snowdon. who was president of the mssociation fou 26 years, and did a great deal of worle in repiging and reprinting the books. Another who played a great part in the early work of the association was William Tormer Fiawark, of York, who mist have been held in figh esteen, for he was affectionately Fmown as 'Uncle.' George Bollaind Was another whose memory they lomomred. He was a man who desired to bronk with trodition, nod although le did it in a way they might not cove to tolerate in theso rims, he led the way to greater advances on difforent lines. Mr. Bolland and bis band went on to ring 14 and 2 Minor methorls is a peal, and they commended him for trying to get nway from the stereotyped style. Alliough he did it in wry they woind not approwe tofny, le was the foremaner of 'spliect ' phals; for what he did incited other people to find a war of linking ip tion methods in true 720's. My. Coles went on to refer to the worla if Charles Henry Hattersley as a compnser, to Charles Jackson, of Hinl, an excellent conductor, of whom William Pye always spoke in the himhest terms, to. James Lonlswood, of Leeds, and last of all to Mr. James Cotterell, for 27 years the trensmrer of the associs. tion, who whs arently respected and laved by all who knew him (hear, hear).
Tt was true, continned Mr. Coles, that the Txercise was making mreat strides, funt mach of it was due to the splendid foundations laid hy the pionfers of the past, although they did not live to see the full fruity of their lahours from which the ringers of to-day wete profting. Fhiere was nie thing, however, in which the men of past daye conld equal the ringers of tomav, nnd lhat wns ju their striking. Judging from some of the hroadnasts of the last few montiss, striking in many places wan gnch as tloege past lendens of ringing womk hardly liave talerntral. The hrobdeast which came from Pidsey a short time n.wo was something to ho promi of, hut snme of the hroadeasts they lind had were verv poor". "It is up to us," conclinded Mr. Coles. "not only to correv on ilhe whtls of the worthieg of the prat and to loneft from what they liswe done, hut also to malse everv effort to keep up tho standard of strilsing in the manmer tlyeq wanld wish,
After the tanat Thn heen homoured. a conrse of Stedman Cinquen wns lung al linudhells hw Messrs. Haynes (Bidmingham), Tohmson (Jacals). Swam (Thiminghamb, Smallwood (Bath), Walker (Birmingham) and Bnrhor (Nownatle".

AN TNQUTKY TROM ATETRALIA.

Mr. T. W. Eammshaw proposed "The Visitors and Eindred Ringing Socielics, Fe wolnomed the wisitarg as a citizen of Fork and a memhey of the Yorkshine Assomistion. They were pleased to see so many rletry present, exen thongh it mirdt. be at the expenge of shorter scomons the nexl monninc (latrohteri. The clergy were always welcomed lov ringens, hoth at fforir socinl satiberinga and in the holfro, ant would be more plested if they sow them of tener in the hedfry, They had remresendatives present bhat evening of associations from Scotlona down to Knat, said Mr. Fatnslisw. and they greatly soprecintex their whesmee. They wislued the kindred societies prosperitv in ald their maderdalkims Mry. Finmolian entmerated the many societies represented, and sind such watheanmes as tlat onve an opportanity to ringers to meet and moment ole friondslips flld to erente meve ones. Reforring to the progence of font members of the partv who vinited Ansiralia two yenra ago, Mr. Earnghaw quoted from a letter from ath ex-churchwarden of the church where the English ringers rang while at Adelaide, in which ho referred to & Roman Catholic priest who was anxious to have the mames of belfounders sent to him, as he was hoping to luikl a church and was keen on gettiog a peal of bells. That, said the writer, was due to the visit of the Euglish vingets to Australis two wears ago (applause).
Mr. F. E. Fiaynes first replied, and thanked the Youkshire Asseciation for all they had dove for the enjoyment of the visitors. He consratulated the association on having a body of cler'gy who not only came there and enlivened the proceedings with witty speeches, but who really sympathised with the bellyingers and took an interest in bells.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith also replied
Mr. F. E. Dawe, who said he had been a member of the Yorkshire Association for over 55 years and rang many peals with their past worthies, proposed the toast of "Continned Prosperity of the Yorkshive Association.' Its formation, said Mr. Dawe, followed that of the Devonshire Guild. He knew the founder of the association and some of his happiest days had been spent in Yorkshire. He was very pleased, he said, to hear it suggesterl that an attempt should be made for a peal on the Minster bells. He sterted there with a very good band for a peal of Grandsire Cinques nearly 53 years ago ant rang nearly balf-way, but Tom Fattersley had to give 11p. Althongl that attempt was made so many years ago, he could assure them that he was not yet 'used up,' and he hoped his friends would think scrionsly of him when the opportunity occurred.

Continuing, Mr. Dawe said he possessed many letters which lue had received from Jasper Snowdon and other leading men in Forkshire. They were pell worth preserving, and he hoped to hand them over to the Forkshire Association for that purpose (applaise). He hoped the assaciation would always prosper. He referred to the youngsters' peal, which he organised, and to the perfect ringing which they had on thet occasion. The peal wes called by a boy from Sheffield, and the youngster belnnging to Grayford, who rang the tenor, was also with them that night (applause). Contiming, Mr. Dawe said Jasper Snowdor was a personal friend of his, as was also his brother Willian He also valued the honour and privilege of knowing their third president, Canon Marshall, who had filled the office for 25 years. He hoped Canon Marshall wonld long be spared to preside over them, looking as hale, as hearty and as lappy as he did at that moment (applanise)

PRTSIDENT'S SILVER JUBILEE

Canon Sollowas, in felicituns and humorous terms, proposed "The Chairman." He congratulated him upon celebrating luis silver jubilee as president of the association. He hoped he wonld be spared many years to contimue the splendid work he was doing for change ringing in Forkshire (applause). His name was a honsehold word in Leeds, and everywhere among people who loved bells he was beloved and appreciated (applause).
Canan Marshall, whose health was drunk with musicel honours, said that, as lis came year after year to that dimer, he felt very umworthy to have been called to follow in the steps of the great worthies who had made the name of the Yorkshire Association and who did so much to build up its foumdations. He could in no selnse pretend to be a ringer of the calibre of those who had gone before, but there was ono thing in which he could vie with them. He believed he had the same love for the Torkshire Association and the same desire to build oll the fondations which they laid and to try to liand on the work which had been entrusted to him in the state of efficiency und comradeship in which he came to it.
The pleasing musical programme was sustained by a double quartette, led by Mr. E. Godley, who, with Mr. Frer Holmes, also contributed songs, Mr. Folmes' topical song, which introdnced lines about many of the people present, caused great amusement. 'Anald Lang Syne, and the National Anthem brouglit a most enjoyable evening to a close.

NEW GUILD IN NORTH YORKSHIRE.

TEESIDE RINGERS' ACTTVITY

For some time now $n$ section of the Cleveland and North Forkshire Association has been doing good work in the Teeside area by holding monthly practice meetings. These gatherings have been at Ormeshy. Gusbrough, Skelton mind Salthurn in rotation, and attendances of 15 to 20 ringers have been quita usual, members leing present from the towers mentioned and other towers in the vicinity.
The last moeting, held on October 3rd, was a particulariy useful one, ringers gathering from Saltburn, Guisbrougln, Ormesby, Drrlington and Middlesbrough at the eight-bel! tower at skelton. The local ringers were there in full force. The ringing was of a high standard thranghout, varying from plain courses up to 1,000 's in all the standard methods up to Donble Norwich. No small mead of praise is due to the joung band in turning in the 24 cw . tenor to the eight-bell mothods. The mext meeting is fixed for Satrirday, November Guisbroush, and a learty invitation is extended to all ringers.
A sheme is on foot to make the informal catherings into the 'Teeside Gnite of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, and Tit is more than probahle that the other sections of the ascociation will follow the goot example set them by their Teeside hrethren, and bund together for local practices, thos doing mach good to the art in ther district.

BARRON BELL TRUST'S GIFT

THLLS RESTORED AT ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.
Restored by the Barron Bell Trust, the bells of St. Peter's Church, Ashton-under-Lyne, were dedicated on Sunday, October $4 t h$, by the Archdeason of Manclester (Ven. A. Selwyn Bear). The work included laming and rehanging in a new frame and was carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Ca. The service was attended by the Mayor (Councillor Mrs. Heginbottom), the Mayoress (Mrs. George Heginbottom), the aldermen and comeillors of the borougl. There was a crowded congregation and the Vicar (the Rev. L. A. Owen) Ied the service, which opened with the lymn, 'Omward, Clirigtian Soldiers.' The Rector of Aston and Rurai Dean read the lesson, from Rev, i., 10-18.
The inscriptions on the first seven bells, set to nusic, were sung as a processiontal as the ATchdeacon, clergy, churchwardens and others proceeded to tine west entrance, where the Vicar greeted the bellringers, the representative of the Emma Barron Bell Trust and of the bellfouders, with the words, 'May the Lord preserve your going ont and your coming in, and strengthen jou to perform the service to which He has called you, now and for evermore.' He then requested the Archdeacon to dedicate the bells and frame to the glory and praise of God, in this first year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord King Edward.

After the formal prayers and dedication, the keeper of the tower tolled one of the bells seven times. A tablet recording the fact that the bells were relning in new frameworts at the cost of the Bayon Bell Trust was then dedicated, and the hymn, "Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' having been sung, the bells were rung by the local band : Mrs. Wolstencroft 1, Mrs. T. G. Hawkins (nee Miss J.da Wolsteneroft) 2, Miss F. Grinslaw 3 , R. Wimpenny 4 , J. Clayton $5, ~ T$. G. Hawkins 6, W. W. Wolstencroft 7, F. Robinson 8.
The Archdeacon's inspiring eddress was based on 'The Angelus,' picturiug God, Work and Love. A goodly number of ringers from the sarreunding towns took the limited opportunity of having a pull before remarning to do duty at their own respective churches. The first touch on the bells was rung by Alfred Barnes 1, W. Feruley 2 , J. A. Milner 3, W. W. Wolstencraft 4, J. Fernley 5, Kenneth Lewis 6, 'T'. G. Hawkins T, J. P. Fidler' 8 . The work of rehanging has been carried ont in manner which leaves nothing to be desired. The tone, after tuning, is such that a veteran of 85 years said, whilst he was ringing, that the bells soumded like a great organ and made him feel lie could live another 100 years.

SHOCKS TO THE TOWER

The Church of 5 . Peter, Ashton-under-Lyne, is one of the churches provided by Act of Parliament in 1821 in the reign of King George as a thankoffering of the nation. It is built in Gothic stryle, with perpendicular tower, the height of which is 128 ft. to the topmost stone. It has several times been struck hy lightning, causing damage to various parts, but the greatent shock it received was during the terrific explosion which took place during the war on June 13th, 1917, when 52 persons were killed and almost every window in the town was shattered and the roofs lifted off the houses in the vicinity, including the church itself.
It is churing recent times that much of the unseen damage has revealed itself, entailing an expenditure on the fabric of nearly £8,000, of which $£ 1,000$ has been spent on the tower itself. There still remains (if the wishes of the parishioners and others are to be met), another $£ 400$ to complete the tower by placing mullions or met, , and ithe the openings above the bells, which plave been brought down 15ft, rille inscriptions on the bells are as follow:-
Treble:-
My gentle note shall lead the cheerful sound,
Peace to this parish, may gociwill abound!'
2nd:-
Onr voices tell when joy or grief betide,
Monrn with the monmer, welcome home the bride.
3rd:-
May all in thoth and liarmony rejoice,
Fo honour Church arxi Kilug, with heart and voice.
4th :-
Prosperity aftend old England's sloore,
Let Ashton flourish, now; and evermore.
5th:-
Witll loving voice I call to church and prayer And bid the living for the grave prepare.
6th:
For mereles undeserved this peal is raised,
So may Tly name, $O$ God, through Christ be praised.
74h:-
Grateful for all and avery blessing here,
We look on high in faith, and withort fear
The goodness of our God we do proclaim,
Let priest and people praise His Holy Name.

Tenor:

'This peal of eiglit bells (tenor 20 cwt ) was given to St Peter's Clzureli, Ashton, 1871, by Creorge Heginhottons, Esq. J.P., Mayor of the borough in the years 1855, 1854 and 1855 , to the honour and glory of God.

THORNCOMBE'S ANCIENT BELLS RESTORED.

DORSET PARISH COLLECTS 144,000 HALTPENNLFS,
The rededication of Thorncombe's church bells, after complete restoration, was performed by the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Neville Loveti) on Thursdey evening, September 17th. This was the first bell dedication ceremony by the Bishop since his consecration as Bishop of the Diogese
The service marked the culmination of 18 months' lebours by the Vicar (the Rev. A. B. Hardy) and his parishioners. The whole of the money has been raised, and 144,000 halfpennies-the oriminal halfponay fund appeal by the Vicar-formed the greater part of the amount which hiad to be raised for the restoration. To raise the whole of the money in so short time is a remarkable achievement for sucb a sparsely populated parish as Thorncombe.

The bells form one of the heaviest rings of five in the country. No. 1 bell was faulty, but owing to its age- 1637 -it las been welded in the hope that it may last many years wifhout having recanrse to recasting it. There were a number of holes in the crown of this bell, and they have been filled by the welding process. The tenor bell, which dates hack to 1772 , and which now weighs 20 cwt., has been recast, after having heen cracked for more than 30 years.

A new frame has been built on the latest modern priuciples and consists of massive iron castings supported hy beavy steel girdera, which spar the tower and not only ellsure oasy manipulation of the bells by the ringers, but assist in honding the walls of the tower together
The new fittings include cast iron headstocks and ball bearings, which hevo been supplied in place of tite old piajn bearings, and many other improvements inve heen introduced iuto the belfy.
A congregation of well over 300 filled the church, and many were mable to obtain accommodation.
The robed clergy who took part in the impressive service included the Rural Dean (Ganon Jacob, of Monkton WyId), Canon Lee, of Whitechurch Canonicoram, the Revs. I. Richardson (Wanbrook), E, W. Coles (Broadwindsor), F. D. Richardson (Winsham), B. H. Warner (All Saints', Axminster), J. H. Timherlake (Marshwond), A. J. Shied da (formeriy of Beltiscombe), H. Ifarks (Hawhehurely, C. Carew Cox Lyme Regis) and E. R. Davies
During the course of his address the pishop said: This is an occasion for joy and thankgiving, for your bells have been altogether silent for about 18 monthis, and it is something like 25 years and mote since they were heard at fult strenglih, ringing out over the parish. Now you have got them back with you again, fully equipperl to serpe their purpose in connection with your service to Almighty God and haman sonls. I was most interented to hear how eaterly and gleefully yon have raised the necessary money by your halfponny fund.
In the house of God, he said, the bells are the speech of God. 'I always pray for the tingers of the diocese exch week as they are lelping the bells to speak to the people about God. I find, too, people often look uncomfortable when they liear the bells and they ara going elsewhere than clurch. The most heantiful peal of bellg and tho most perfectly restored set is not going to do anj gooll at all unless the people who answer the summons of the bells are in tune with the mind of Jesus Clirist.
After the service the bells rang out merrily, and the followings ringers took part in the first 120 of arandsire Doubles: J. E. Philhrick (T,yme Regis) 1, L. Glyde (Beamingter) 2, T. Gunning (Beaminster) 3, Rev. C. Carew Cox chaimman of the West Dorget Brameh of the Saligbury Diacesan Guild, conductar) 4, F. T. Paul Fifeld (BucliGant Newton, the Ringing Master of the Dorchester Branch 5. Mr. C. F. Lathey, the secretary of the West. Dorset Brancl of the Guila, and Mr. Cyril Johnston, of Messrs, Gilfett and Johnston, also took part in the suhsequent ringing.

Altogether over 60 rimgers were present, the fowers represented heing, in addition to thoke already mentioned, Chardstock, Wambrook, Whitchirel and Bradpole
The whole of the bell work and reinstatement of the clock striking gear has been carried out hysessrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, whe have many other contracts in hand at the moment in the Weat of Entiand.
The blending of the old bells, which have been carcfultr thened, with the perfectiy toned recast tenelr, and the excellent "go' of this heavy five wore greatly appreciated by the visitug ringers.

On Thursiny, September 17th, a short train journey to Holywoad fonmed a rather light peal liy Taylors, 1891, atif the Clurch of SS. Philip and James. It cannct be said, however, that the bells are Eaplor's bebt. Here the first pent of Yorkshire Surprise Major in Treland was rong , conduteterl lyy Frank Bennett, aud two membors of the band carmen stars.
Another oight miles and Bangor was reached, where Leslie Morris malled the first peal of Superlative on the bells at St. Comgall's Chrreh. These hells are by Tarlors, 1899, and hang in two tieng, The tenor weighs 21 cwl., fund the go of the bells is not good. Mi. S. Miller, leader of the loea! brud, very kindly got over the pieture postcard difficulty by supplying enongls for alt to have one.
On the way luck fo Jelfust, Mr. W. Prate, hon, secretary, Northern Branci of the Irials Association, and Mrs. Pratt joined the tomysts and returned widh them to their hatel for supper and a quiet social pvening.
Priday, September 18th, was a hamk (and alnost blatk) day. it rained nearly all flay and the interesting ten miles' road jourrey to TTilshornugli was spoiled. St, Mannclits churdi was built in 1663 hy Col, tho Rt. The Marans nlso provided a peal of eichtu bells (by Rudhall) and a very fine argan, huilt by sinetzer. The erent dirnwhel to peal ringing is limposition af flis tenar ropo. which hangs in the centre of the tower, with tive other loells in a circle aronnd it. Further, the 'go' of the hells is mot at all gond. An uftemat for Cambridge, with Bill Brown ralling and Rupert, of Surfect, on the tenoc came to grief after neariy two lours' ringing. This was the first failure of the week.
Whilst the ringing was in progress the other members of the partw were conducted over i.lae interesting churel by the Rector, the Rev. F. Matineth, and n wisit wns also mais is an old fort close by. J. H. S. moneluded his moming colfee parties on this particular day, and it whe at Inst realised why he never wished to ring in the moming's reat. Ohs these bachelors Hrogheda was the next ohiertive. A two hours' train journey from malfant, with a eton al Dunclalts for Customs examination of liggage, fingled out. Gibutiel, whispered a few latried wards, and gutryhaty whs amperad hack fito the train. It whe nfterwards fonnd that there noukd lie no ringing at Droghenn owing to the death of the Arch.hishop the previous day

PEAL STANDARDS.

There are peals, and peals. They are rung at an average of forty or more a week, and some are good, some bad and some indifferent. Where the line should be drawn between those worthy of being put on record, and those that are not, it is difficult to say; nor is it possible to set any definite standard of what should be recognised as a peal, in regard to the actual striking. It has long since become established practice that only a true peal shall be recognised; anything false is at once taboo. The question has often been raised as to how far allowance can be made for trips which, in a peal of Triples for instance, must inevitably cause a repetition of changes. The first essential of a "peal " is that the composition shall be true; the second that there shall be no "shift. or 'change course' between any two bells in the ringing; but to what extent trips may be allowed before a peal is invalidated there is no recognised standard, and, indeed, opinions differ widely.

Strictly, every peal should be rung without any mistake that would put the beils out of order; but very few reach that level. A certain amount of latitude is inevitable, but there are some peals recorded and accepted which have been of nore than doubtful merit. Very occasionally they are called into question and one such instance occurs this week. A correspondent has written to us expressing surprise at the publication of a peal, the report of which appeared in our last issue. Had he felt able to allow his name to be attached to his communication his letter would have been printed, but where a performance is definitely challenged it is only fair to the band responsible for the performance that it should be backed by the name of the challenger. He refers to trips in which the bells clashed for minutes together, and says that on each of these occasions the conductor should have called 'stand.' Without going into further details of this particular instance, we think ringers generally will agree that where there are really bad "crashes," the bells should stop, especially if they cannot quickly be sorted out; and this in the interests of the public, who are enforced listeners, as well as of maintaiting the standard of ringing. It is no credit to the tiand and no satisfaction to the individual to record a peal in which things have gone so hopelessly wrong that there are minutes of clashing and banging. More than one well-known conductor in the past has been credited with saying to his band, when the bells have got into a hopeless muddle, 'Fire 'em and then do as I tell you.' If that is true, it may-indicate that the person concerned was a clever conductor, but it also shows that he was unscrupulous. We have great admira(Continued on page 686.)

tion for the man who can disentangle the bells when they get into a muddle, but he should put a limit to the extent to which he should go and still call it a 'peal.' Every conductor will probably have his own ideas as to what that limit should be, but there is more credit due to him when he has the courage to stop, than in going from muddle to muddle and calling it a peal.

CHANGING THE HONT BELL IN GRANDSIRE.

Having given Doubles ringers time, we hope, to assimilate what we said in our issue of September $18 t h$ and to practise Oripinal, which is the basis of all Doubles methods, let us turn to a further variety of ways in which Grandsire may be rung, as a line of advence for Foublas men.

In itg original form Grandsire has, of course, the treble as the hunt bell, but it will probably have been observed from what was said ahout Original that any one of the five bells may be the hunt bell: in other words, in Original any bell may become the 'observation bell for calling a 120 , and as the observation bell in Original is equivalent to the treble in Grandsire, if you practise Original with differeat oliservation bells you can very soon adopt yourselves to ringing Grandsire with differcht hunt bells. To ring several six-scores on end, with an change of the hunt bell ju cach 120, will be found good fun, as well an useful practice.

If you gtudier No. 2 of the illustrations given in our previous atticle, you will have observed how the bells started, namely, now 21354 , but 21435 , followed by 24153, and so on. Now if you ring Grandsire with any other hinnt bell but the treble, that is the way gela must start.

12345 21435  21435 42513 45231 54321 35142 31524 13254 12345

Thal is a course of Origimal. If you want to turn it into Grandsire with either the 2, 3,4 or 5 as hunt bell, you make 3 rd's place after 4.hy bell, whime you select for the hunt bell, has led. For instance, if 2 is the litnat: hell, then 3 ra's place is made in the first lead by the treble: if 4 is the hamt hell, 3rd's place is made by 2 ; if 5 is the hunt holl, the place is made by 4 : mud if 3 is the lint bell, then the place is nuade by 5 and a course of Original becomes a lead of Grandsire. The 3 ri's, of conrse, must he made at the corresponding position its overy lead, and the hobs by an additional 3rdts before the hunt bell leads (just tis is done in Grandsire in its original form, when ircble is the hunt belly. All the ten usual callings can be used, so that by changing the hunt bell tite 120 can be produced in 50 different ways. Thus you can ring a penl without ringing the six-score af changes in exaclly the same order twice. It is worth doing.
In calling it of con'ge, the comblntor must say whicla bell is the funt bell earls bime he changes it, otherwise the ringers will not know when 3id's place lian to he made and when the fodges come, unless they have an agreed plam beforeham, such as 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, in succession.

Ono poin! that has tu be horne in mind is that every time the treble is the selected bell, 3rd's jhace has to be made immedintely. If this is forgotten [t will ' "uset the npplecart.'
As readers who have conducted Grandsire Doubles will know, when tho trebl? is the hant hell, the "observation' bell, or the 'half hunt' bell as it is sometimes called, hecanse it follows the same regular work throughout, can be either the 3rd or the 5th; the former if the calling learias at the first lead, the latter when it begins at the second fend.

When fon use the and as the homb bell, the 1 or 5 can be ased as Whlf funt ' hell: when the 3nd is used, the hall hunt is cither 2 or 5 ; wilif the 4 hh, either 3 or 2: and with the 5 th, either 1 or 4 .
This way of ringing Guundeire is not new. Frbian Stedman told ns all ahont it in hifs first hook, published 1668 . Yet how many ringere frave ever iried itp Well, it offers somelhing fresla for Double ringers, and, despite ils age, can be proctised in many five and six bell towera st something ' new.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

Two now members were elected, viz., C, Morley, of Newcastle, and Fi. Cope, of Stone.

Durint the afternoon and proning a good variety of methods wns wing, and everyone remathed low well the hells 'go.' They wish to mongratifate fiessus. Trylor nnd Co. on the fine wotk ithey liave done.

HANDBELL RINGERS THRILL LARGE AUDIENCE.

WATFORD BAND RING SPLIGED SURPRISE AT SOCTAL
For some years now the Oxford Dioceban Guild and the Middle. sex Gounty Association have met at Hillingdon in Oetober, The Ladies' Guile joined in this year aud last. With a social in the evening, there has always been a good attendance. Last Saturday week all records were brokent when some 90 ringers and friends gathered there. It was a fine day, there were two rings of hells available aud finally, aud undoubredly the biggest attraction, the bandbell band were due to be present and ring.
The ringing at the two towers was like the proverbial curate's egg, but come Cambridge Royal at St. Joln's after tea could not have been bettered. The two Ringing Masters in charge lad a busy time, but with sucla a large atterdance it would bo remarkable if everyone was pleased.
A bright and enjoyable serwice whs conducted by the Vicar of Hillingdon (the Rev. A. M. Beshford). The lesson was reat by Mr. T. A Trollope, vice-president of the Middlesex Association, and one of the local ringers played the organ. When the party assembled for tea, hurried arrangements lnad to be made to extend the accommodation etc. Perhaps the caterers can be forgiven, as there were notifications from 35, attendance estimated at 60 and actually 80 sat down!
After tea Mr. Trollope welcomed the visitors on belalf of the Middlesex Association, and Mrs. Fletcher, for the Ladies' Guild, ant Mr. A. D. Barker, for the Oxford Diocesnu Guild, replied. Hearty thanks were accorded to the local folk for the arrangements made especially the Vicnr and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gadfellow.
Shortly after 7.30 , the patty reassembled in St. Johun's Hall to eljoy a pleasnent social evening. Games and dancing were intersperged with various items. The big attraction of the evening was, of course, tho famous landbell band from Watford. Awid the keenest interest, these talented ringers sat in the middle of the ball and kept the andience entlunalled for orer a quarter of an hour with a touch of Spliced Surprise Major in the 「onr'usual' methods. Apart from the skill in ringing the methods, the ringing was superb and well marited the gpplanse which greeted the snecessful conclagion of the touch H. Hodgetts rand $1-2$, G. W. Woolley $3-4, ~ H$. G. Cashmore $5-6$ and F. W. Brinklow $7-8$

Mr. Trollope thanked the band for coming to Fillingdon and congratulated fihem on their performance. Full of modesty, Mr. Hodgets replied, explaining how easy it was! Fe praised the audieuce for whir attention, for", as the Vicar said later, to "hear" the silence whilst the ringing was in progress impressed him as a non-ringer nearly as much as the ringing!
One obler item worthy of mention was another handbell band who excelled in a different direction. Mr. and Mrs A. D. Barker and Mr. W. L. Gutferidgo delighted the andience with a selection of tunes on their bells, and finaly had their listeners singing with them

Refreshments were served during the evening undev the supervision of Mrs. Goodfellow, whe lad a busy day catering for such a large party.
Ringers were present from many Micldlesex, Bucks and Berles towers. as well as visitors from Bushey, Watford, Edmonton, Willesden, Westminster and Aldershot.

STAVELEY'S IMPROVED BELLS

DERBYSEIRE AND YORKSFIRE RINGERS TISIT
An invitation was extended to ringers at neighbouring churches to visit Stareley for the purpose of wying the bells, now that they have beena put in good repair the work laving included rehanging on bat bearings. Ringing, which commenced nt 3 p-m., contimiticd nrtil 5 o'clack, when the company, including the Rector (the Rev. H. H. Bibben), Fr. Donglas and McKithrike (churehwarden), adjonvmed t the Clurch Hall for tea, kindly provided by the Recter and served by Mrs. F. E. Parsons and hev helpers. Tho visitors, numbering aboul 35, were from Chesterfield, Folsover, Sheffiold (Cathedral and R.G. Rotherlam, Treeton, North Wingficld, Old Whitington, Eckington Clowne, Darloy Dale, Eeclesfelcl and Dore, and a representative from the frim of Joln raylor and Co., who had mudertaken the work of restoration.

After tea the Rector welcomed the wisitors and mentioned the new scheme for installing the Westminster chimes to the Parish Church clock, which brougtht fortll a spontaneons collection for tho fund.
Messre. H. Taylor (Darley Dalo), A. Knights, W. Allwood (Chester feld), O. Harvison (Longhborough and (f. Lewis (Eectesfield) then delighted the compary by theiv skill in change ringing on handbells. Ringing was then again indulged in on the church bells until after 8 oiclock. The striking throughout the day was unusually grod for a gathering of this description, and all the visitors expressed their appregiation of the greaf improvement made to the bells and the pleasurn it was to ling them
A quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,204 changes) was rung for evening service on the occasion of the harvest festival on Sunday. October 4hat D. Parsons (arted 16 yenrs, lougest lemath) 1, L. G. Palmer 2 F. E. Parsons 3, S. Smedler 4, II. Stow 5, W. T. Palmer 6, J. Knott 7 A. E. Parbons (conductor') 8. The ringers of Std, tenor and treble arr father, son and granalson respectively. Tt is helieved to be the firs time three generations of the same famity linve rung a quarter-peal. on these hells. All the hanil are Sunday service ringers.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM RICHARDSON.

FORMER SURFLEET AND PINCHBEGK RINGEE
On Monday, October 12th, the death occurred of Mr. William Richardson, of Glen Side, Pinchbeck, Lincs, and brother of Mr. Rupert Richandson, Master of the Lincolu Diocesan Guild. The deceased was born at Goodrich, Herefordshire, in 1885, from there he came with his family to Lincolushire, and oventually to Surfleet, where he learnt to ring during the incumbency of the late Rev. H. Law James.

For some years be wat a very active member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, taking part in upwards of 70 peals, including the first peal of Surfleet Treble Bob Caters ever rung, the first peal of Cambridge Surpriee Major in the county and the first peal in 16 spliced Minor methods over rung. Just before the war he married and went to live at Pinchbeck, where fow a time he was a member of St. Mary's band. Later ill-health compelled him to give up peal ringing. For some years he continued to ring for service, but eventalily had to give that up also. He was always punctual for service ringius, at keen pesl ringer and a fine striker, especially when rimging the tenor behind.

For the past three or four year's be lad beer a helpless invalja, and, although not collfined to bed, lad been unable to do work of any kind. Ho had, however, an active brain up to the endi and was able, with the help of his two sons, to carry on his business of bulb growng and farmiag. Although barred in later years from taking an actipe part in ringing, he was always a keen critic of any ringing he heard, and did not lesitate to tell the band just what he thought of the striliking.

He took $\operatorname{such}$ an interest in risping that only nbout ten days before his death he had his son drive him over to the balf-yearly meeting of the Northern Brageh, at Heckington, so that he could listen for a few minutes to the belis he loved so well. The following Thursday he was taken worse, but recovered sufficiently to pey another visit to his old home at Surfeet on Sunday. The recovery, however, did not frat long, and he passed peacefulty away on the Monday evening.

The funeral took place on Triday, October 16th. The first part of the service was held at St. Mary's Ohurch Pinchbeck, and was conducted by the Hev. .. C. Gee, president of the Elloe Deaneries Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. The deceased'r favourite hymo, 'Through all the clianging scenes of life,' was gang, and the cortege left the church to the strains of the Dead March in 'Saul.' The interment took place at the Pinchbeck Cemetery.
The bells of St. Mary's Church, Pinchbeck, were rung mirfled in the evening.

- CONGRATULATIONS TO B.B.C.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-1 wonder how many of our Exercise were " listening in ' on Sunday night at $7.55 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and heard the B.B.C. do that which they have been at great pains in the past to explain 'could not be done.' The prelimivary announcement was brief aud concise, a matter of a few seconds, and was delivered befors the ringing was ewitched on.
I enclose capy of my latest letter to them, and would suggest that; as sonn as they revert to the old style of "superimposed announce. mentg,' they should be bombarded througll the post, with the braaderest from Immanuel Church, Streatham, on Octaber 18th, quoted as a precedent.
T. GROOMBRIDGF

Grayford.

Mr. Groombridge's letter to the British Broadcasting Corporation was an follows:-
Having had occasion in the past to protest very strongly against your method of announcing church services "over the lead.' of the ringing which occasionally precedes these services, may I have the pleasure of being among the first to congratulate you on your action last evening in making your announcement in a manyer which must have given satisfaction to ugtold numbers of listening ringers up and down the country.
At 7.55 prompt your announcer very briefy and coucisely announced The Regional Programme-A service from Immanuel Claurch, Streatham, with the game of the preacher, etc., and then the bells were brought in and the whole tauch could be heard without the irritating break in the middle which bas been the cause of my previous protente.
I might add that $I$ had the company of two ringers last evening, who both desire to support this appreciation.

FUNERAL OF MR, H. S. ELLIS.

The funeral of the late Mr. Henry S. Ellis took place at Brompton Cemetery on Octoher 1st. The first part of the service was held at the Church of SK. Stephen and Mary, Rochester Row, Westminater, the Rev. A. J. Meek (curate) officiating in the absence of the Vtcar (the Rev. Shipley 5. Smith). Tour College Youths attengted at the cemetery, including two past Masters, but owing to the service at the cematery being put formard a quarter of an hour, only six bella could be rung over the open grave. This whe done in klow time and was mueh appreciated. About 20 foral wreaths were laid on the grave. Mr. Whlis was the oldest sidesnian at St. Stephen's and alwhys attended his Parisk Church.

The ring of eight at Lurgan Parish Church, Ireland, are being rehung with new fittings in a hew frawe by Messrs. Gillett and Johnstou.
The annual supper aud social of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association will be held at Heston on January 16th 1937.
The Royal Cumberland Youths are proposing to hold a dimaer in London. The event is to wake place on March 13th at the Bedford Head Hotel, and will, of course, be open to all ringers and their friends. Mr. J. E. Bailey, of 75 , Kont Road, Dertford, Kent, is secratary of the Dinner Committee.

Correspoudents who have writhen to know where handbell mutio can be obtained are informed that a catalogue of pieces arranged and published by the late William Gordon can still be obtained on application to Wilham Gordon, 37, Norwood Road, Great Moor, Stockport.
Bishop Hamilton-Baynes (Rector of Birmingham Cathedral Chureh) and his wardens are issuing an appeal for $£ 1,000$ for the recasting and rehanging of the Cathedral bella.

A facetious member of the Exercise wants to know if it was because William Morris (Lord Nufield) has just given a million pounds to Oxford that his mamesake "Ernest' chose to call a peal last Saturday of all Oxford Minor (Double, Treble and Single) at Belton, Rutland
Mr. Malcolm Melville, hon, secretary of the Warwickshire Guild, is among the sticcessful candidates for the degree of B.Sc. at Birmingham Tuiversity.

Four tingers visited Blackpool the other day, and after ringing in two of the towers, visiling the amusements, etc., decided to go or the North Pier. The first was about to go through the turnstile when one of the others exclaimed that he could hear some bella ringing. Immediately all four took to their heels and dashed off in the direction of the sound, raucla to the astonishmeat of the pier attendant. Tager to acid arather tower to thair lists, they eventually trinced the sound to the Town Hall, but by the time thes renclied it the bells had stopped. A papar seller was asked if the ringing came from the towar above, and his reply was, 'Tes, mate, it's a gramophome as playa 'em every quarter of an hour,'

THE CORONATION.

EDWARD PEAL BANDS SUGGESTED.
To the Editor.
Deer Sir,-There could not be a more fittine and appropriate method for ringers to celebrate the Gorountion of His Majesty the King-the eighth Edward of Englant-than by one or more peal bauds of eight Edwards each

As one of those who is obviously preelnded from taking part in this particular form of celebration, I make the suggestion to those who wore more lindly treated by their godfathers and godmothers.
If there are no diffeulties of an insuperable nature in the way, the perfect place to ring an Edwards' peal would be iu the Abbey tower at some time on May 12 Gil after the ceremony.- Xours fatithfuly, Morth Stonelam, Hants.

EAST BUCKLAND BELLS REHUNG

SCHOOLBOYS FORM RINGERS' GUILD

On Thursday morning, Octoler 15th, the bells of Last Buckland Ohutch, North Devan, recently restored by Jessrs. Tarlor and Co., Loughborough, were rededicated by the Bisliop of Creditou
The fon heavier bells (tenor 74 cwt.) were cast by E. and W. Evaus, of Chepstow, in 1718, two trebles heing added by Mears aud Stainbank in 1906 in an auxiliary frame above the other font. The timber frame had becone rotten and insecnre, and il was decided this rear to relang the bells in a metal frame on one level, and at the same time to retupe and quarter-turn them.
Members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers rang a few rounds during the service, and short touches of Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor ofter the morning serrice and ngain before evensong, at which the Rev. E. V. Cox, president of the Guild, preached. Members of the band were the Rev. E. Y. Coy (Brampord Speke), the Rer. A. Rhys-James (Bow), the Rev. W. H, Smale, F. C. Sinale (Petrockstowe), W. F. R. Smale (Okelampton), A. W. Searle (Exeter), H. J. Rowe (Brampford Speke). It was the first time clange xinging had been heard in the tower; and few present had ever lieard anything but call-changes before.
In the course of the daj the local vingers and several neighbouring bands tried the bells, and all were delighted with the 'go.' of the peal. To those who remembere the hells before, it was olvious that the tone had been much improved.
The boys of West Buckland Schoal attend the church, and have formed a Euild of yhgers rinong themselves, with a mombership at present of twelve. None of them had learned to ring before Easter of this year, and, being mure than tweive miles from the nearest change ringing tower, there is no one to instruct them. But a copy of 'Troyte' End muck enthusiasm. aided hr getarous help from the Rev. E. V. Cos, have goue far, and they hope within a ferm weeks to be doing at least Bob Doubles for Sunday service. They are nothing if not ambitious, and alreatry lave plans for a 5,000 in honour of the Coronstion.
The boys have an enthusiastie leader in their chaplain, the Rev. J. H. B. Audrews, who is curate at East Buckland Churcl?.

The bell restoration fued was started about a year ago and was organised by the Rev. H. A Wadman (Rector' and the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews. The total cost of the work, 2252 6s., has heen realised througl ${ }^{2}$ bocial events and grants maile by the Feoffees' Committee ( $£ 100$ ) and the governing body of West Buckland School ( 25 guiueas).

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

WELLINGBOROTTGH BRANCH.

After a lapse of fon rears the Wellingborongh Branch of the Peterbarough Diocesan Giild held in meeting at Stanwick on October 10th, by kind permission of the Reetnr, the Rev. W. F. M. Hamerton. The visil coincidel? with the harvest festival.
The Guild seruice was Leeld fluthog the afternonn, conducted br the Rector, who heartily welcomed the brabich and gave a slopt address. He said how nulth the clergy appreciated the work of the ringers as churchworkers. He wished theve would be more young men iake up the work of the clurch in its various liranches. He found that it was always the ' Eaithful few ', wha were left, and could be relied ous to do thic work. The musieal part of the service was led by Mr. Claric at the organ. He is a ringer.
A gubstantial tas was procided in the Churel Hall be 3tr. W. R. Lovelf, the local foreman, and ahout 30 were present. including members of tive Thrapston, Kettering and Peterborough brancles. and Mr. Stote, of Coventry. Ia that alisence of the branch mresident ithe Rev. A. G. Bagshaw), the chair at the husiness meeting was taken by the Rector Sulbject to permission, Highan Ferrets was chosen for the anmal branch meeting next January.
The Chairman, in well-chosen words, apperled to the riugers to back ap the seoretary in his work for the Guild, and made reference to the waluable work done by Mr. F. Barher whilst he was with then as branch secretary.-Mr. A. Bigbr thanked the Rector. He also appealed to those preseut to get in full practice gain this winter, esperially in view of the forthoming Coronation ceremonies, when they would be expected to play their prit.
Mr', W. Perkins, Trancl1 Ringing Mnster. nsked that wore would take 'The Ringing World.'
The light musical peal of five bells was kept going during the aftermoon and ovening, chiefly to Stedman mud frantisire Doubles.

BELLS BEAT SPEAKERS.

Blind marehers from Lancasitre fand cheshire arrived in Masclesfield on Tuesdny of last wepls, and were lyelding a meeting in the Market Place when the bells at the Parish Church starten ringing. TMua speakers were mable to make thembelves heard.
Twice ther moved to a fresh ' piteh'' the second, a quarter of a maile nway, hefore they conld hold theiv meeting. The Clairman said there was no ill-feeling asainst the Yiear of Macclesfield, whose kindness in allowing them the use of the wission hall for leadifurarters was much appreciated.
The ringing was a peal of Grantsire Cingues, which was successfulls accomplished.

LIVELY KENT ASSOCIATION MEETING.

CHANGE IN JJWWISHAM DESTRICT OFFICLALS.
The anmual meeting of the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association was held at the Cburcls of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, on Saturday, Octobar 10th, when some 60 members attended, sepreselting the following towers: Buckerham, Bromiey Common, St, Nicholas', Chislehurst, Crayford, Dartford, Deptford, St. John's, Dept ford, Eltham, Erith ford, Eltham, Erith, Lee, Lewisham and Wowwich. Riaging in all the standard methods took place in the afteroon and evening.
During the aftornoon Mr. E. II. Lewis, presideut of the Central Council, addressed the company in a fow apt words, before asting Mrs. Serle to unveil a peal tablet recording tho first peal on the bells. This peal was rung primarily as a token of appreciation for the comphetion of the tower and installation of the bells during the Rev. Canon S. L. P. Serle's incumbency, secondarily the date as nearly as possible coincided with bis birthday
Nrs. Serle then nnveiled the tableb, which wis ndmired as an excellent example of its kind.
Mr. T. Groonbridge, sen., thanked Mrs. Serle for her kindness in ntiending to perform the ceremony
Camou and Mrs. Serle each expressed theiy gratitude and interest in bells aud ringing, and a pleasant little ceremony was completed by a Fell-struck course of Superlative Surprise. prior to the asual service, which was conducted by the Vieat, who gave a very interesting sdidess.

A collection for the Association Benevolent Fund renlised 812 s .80. At the conclusion of the service a conrse of Grandsire Caters was rung on landbells at the chancol Eteps hy Messrs. H. E. Audsley, E. H. Lewis, G. H. Cross, T. Grombridse, jutit, and H. Hoverd.
Tea was served in the Prish Hall, and was followed ly the businese meeting. Mr. and Lrs. Lewis were prevented by ollher engagements from attending the meetisg, aud Mr. W. J. Rawlings (Beekevham) was elected chairman.
After the minutes of the last annual meeting had been conflimed, Mr. F. Barnett moved that the minites of the last (July) quarterly meeting should also lo read, as it was undesirable tialiminutes ahould be held over for a whole year hefore being confirmed. If both minutes were read an this occasion, in future there warld be ouly oue set unread, fustead of two as at present. This was a greed to and the minutes of the Eynsfoti meetirg were then read and signed.
Six ringers (the young band ar chelsfeld were elected memibers of the association, the Rector of Chelsfield was enrolled as an hor, member, and tite election of 1 wo menlens previous to perle was ratified.

The Distrint secrehary presenten a roport of the sear'g work, the balance sheet, etc., and these were adopied.
Si. Nargaret’s, Lee, was chosen as place of mext meeting, witb St. Nicholas', Deptford, is altemative.
The next husimess was the election of olicers, and at times the meeting became rery lively. The chairman's joh oul this accasion was certainly no simecure. A. G. Fill was re-elected Dishuet Secretary, and Mr. T, Groambridge, sen., was appointed Ringing Mastev for another Fenr; but the selection of two representatives on tha Mataraement Commiftee clemanded a ballot, the first for a consitienkle neriod. Five mominations were made: E. A. Barnett (Grayford), W. Snitt (Beckenham), A. Purdom (Bromley Common', I. Wineaco (Dauton'f) nnd F. J. Cultum (Erith). The two last mamed were elected,
The usial rotes of thatik ferminated the meeting, and father rimg ing in the tower followed.
If would be as woll, perlapes, to remind risitors that on thege occasious the husiness meeting is of parnmount importance, any ringing after: the meeting being an added ind meement far their attendance, hart "the meeting is the thoing.

BELL RESTORATION AT BRIDESTOWE, DEVON.  \section*{£300 EFFORT BY ALL DENOMTNATTONS}

Through the united efforts of all and sundry, the bells of St. Bride's Chirch, Bridestowe. ## RESTORATION OF PAULERSPURY BELLS.

NORTEAMPIONSHIRE VIXEAGE TACKEING BIG TASES.
The bells of Paulerspury Parish Ohurch, which have been rehung on at new iron and gteel frame, have been dedicated, together willa a chapel in the south aisle, by the Bishop of Peterborough. The five bells have been so arranged that a sixth can now be adted st a minimum of expense.

There was a large congregation at the service, which was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. Kenworthy-Browne). Jmmediately after the ceremony of dedication the bells were rung for a short time by W. Roger's (Northampton) 1, B. Smart 2, H. Ridgeway (Deanshanger) 4, E. C. Lembart (Cosgrove) 5, J. Faster 6. The dedication of the chapel afterwards took place.
The Bishop, in the course of his address, said he was sure that when the bells were silent they all missed their cheerful noise. Now they were vocal again, they realised that the parish had regained somethiug of its own character, and the precious past lad been restored to them Bit what they must not forget was that whist the bells were a great possession they were a ferrible reminder of great responsibilities &s mentbers of the Church of God.

The dida chapel, too, secmed to bring gifts a littile nearer to the ordinaty man and woman of the congregation, and was a more homely place than tho big sanctuary and fine great high altar.

The tower alill remained to be restored, and was gring to be a bie work, and there was also the roof of the north chapel to be reparred, but let thom be not afraid of what lay before them. They had conguered the late obstacles and they would conquer the new ones. The 'bishop emphasised the value of prayer, and the value of the fabric if rigntily used. If they treated the church as a musemm or an exhibit it was of no value.
The offertory was for the restoration of the tower and the repair of the roof of the north elapel.
Tho bell restoration at Pmulergpury was carried out by Messis. J T'aylou' and Co.

AN OLD DERBYSHIRE RINGER

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS STIMPSON, OF RIPLEX. We regret to record the death, on Sunday, October 4 th, of Mr. Thomns Stimpson, of Swanwick, Derbyshire, in his 65th year. Treasurer of the Enst Derbyshire and Notts Association for 16 years, he was also a member of the Mifland Counties Association and the Indented Ripley band. He was a popular and prominent figure in Whe Exercise, and sincerc sympathy will be extended to the widow and family left in bereavement.

The interment hook place on Wednesday, Octolner 7th, the simple impressive ceremony being conduefed by the Vicar of Swanwicl (the Rev. W. H. G. Methews). There were many benutiful foral tributes, and, in ardition to the family mournerg, there were present Mr. W. Dolbs (president), M1'. W. Allin (vice-president), Mr. T. Clarke (Mastor), Mr. J. W. England (hon, secretary), Mr. H. G. Fvetwell (a former secretary) and over 20 members of the association, who preceded the corlege to the churchs. The bearers were Messis. G. Rawson, A. Brown, T. Glarke and $\bar{f}$. W. Fagland, and the mufled bells payed their solemn and impressive part.

Mr. Stimpson commenced his ringing activities nearly 50 years ago it 'Toversal, Nolls, and matil 1903 , when a new ring of five was inekalled ald Swnwink, he was one of the old Grandsire 'figute ringers.' He then commenced change ringjog in earuest, and rang his fryt penl, of T3ob Minor, nd Clnj Cross ij October, 1905 , conducted by Mr. Willian Thutler, followed by Grandsire Triples and Caters at Duffield. His last paal was rung at Mansfield on October 15th, 1927. In 1928 a serious accidenf, nt work prevented further peal ringing, although he was most [aithful itn his attendance at practice, Snday service and associalion meelings. Sound and practical rather than brilliant, ever ready to assitt others, with a cenial mamuer which las hidden for monthe tho presence of a maliguant rrowth, be was a splendid example to yonng ringers, and while his loss is mourned, others who may succem him will have benefited by his zeal and faithful attention to the nre which he loved.
As a fribute to lis memory, a muffled toncly was rung at Ripley on Werneshay, Oetober 7th, and the half-muffled holle of several towere sounded througlout the district on the following Sunday noruing. जlovning.

A LINCOLNSHIRE RESTORATION.

DONINGTON BELLE IN A NEW TRAME.

The reopening of the bells at Donington, Lincotushive, took place on Friday, October 2nd. The service, which was corobined with the harvest iestival, was conducted by the Vicar of Boston "Stump' (the Rev. A. M. Cook), assisted by the Vicar of Donington, the Rev. G. A Elson, anil was attended by a large congregation.

The bells were rung for au hour before and after the service, a number of yingers from neighbouring towers taking part, Among those oresent were Mr. G. Ladd (Pinchbeck), hon. secretary of the Filloe Deaneries Branch of the Eincoln Guild, Mr. H. Woods (captain of the local band) and the Donington ringers.
The bells are a ring of six with a tenor in F weighing, $14 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. They lave been tuwed aud entirely rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston with modern fittings in a new heavy cast iron frame on steel girders.

The tone and the go of the bells leave nothing to be desired, and Mesers. Gillett and Jolinston are to be congratulated on yet another fine sample of their handiwork.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

MEETTNG AT BETHNAL GREEN

For the first time during its existence, the Middlesex Association and Loudon Diocesan Guild held a meeting at the Clurch of St, Matthew, Bethal Green, London, on Saturday, October 3 rid. From quite an early hour in the afternoon the small belfry, the walls of which are adorned with peal boarde contajpine the pames of many famous ringers of the past, was filled with those anxious to have their first pull on these famous belis.

At the usuel short service the Rector, the Rev. S. L. Sarel, welconed the association, and thanked the members for their assistance fo his ringers. It was a grief to him, he said, that the bells were for a time silent, after such a long period of regular ringing, and he was grateful to those members of the association who had alreaty helped his new band to attain enough skill to enable them to ring the bells for Sunday services.
The Rector said he was sarry that lie would have to go off imme diately sffer the service, but he was due at St. Paul's Cathedral at 5.30. He, however, hoped to return in time to meet the mambers before the meeting was over.

After tea, the nsual business meeting was held. The chairman (Mr. G. W. Fletcher) called attention to the deaths of two members, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey and Mr. H. S. Ellis. Speaking of the former, Mr. E. M. Atkins referred to his own early days as a ringer, when up at Cambridge. It was no clonlt dne to Mr. Boughey that he, and many others, were ringers to-day. He apoke of the enormous amount of work that Mr. Bowghey had done for the Exercise, and added that he would like to thank the Fistor' of 'Tle Ringing World' for the admirable article he had written in that week's paper. As a member of the Cambridge University Guild, he was glad to do this.
Mr. C. T. Coles added a few words, saying that Mr. Boughey had been a member of this association since 1905 , and an hon. vicepresident since 1914, in which yerr he preached at their annual meeting. Ne had spent many hours with members of this association ringing handbell peals, and was a greab friead and admirer of their late Master, Wiliam Pye.
The death of Mr. Henry S. Fllis, of Westminster, was weferred to by Mr. Coles and Mr. W. H. Hewett, He had been member of the association singe 1923

As a nrark of respect to the deceased members, all present stood in silence for a few moments.
After three provisional electious lud been oonfrmed, the Rector of SE. Mathew's, Bethnal Green, was elected au lonorary member, and seven members of his band were admitted as ringing members of the association. The hon. secretary raferred to the help which liad been given them, and added that ho hoped they would soon become as efficieut as any rinder present

Other business inclided a vote of condolence with the Ringing Master (Mr. A. W. Coles) on his illuess and good wishes for his speedy recovery; a vote of congratulation to Mv. R. J. Maynard, of Waltham-to the Ringing Masten and those members of the Clerkenwell and St. Giles-in-in-the-Fields bands who had given waluable belp at Bethnal Green.
St. James', Clerkenwell, was chosen for the next meeting on October 31st, and it was decided to make a special effort to practice Cambridge Conrt Bob Major at this mepting. Will membera please note. It is hoped that at least one new method will be practised at each meeting, without ighoring the usual methods.
Votes of thanks were mown from the chair to the Rev. S. L. Serel. tho ladies who had prepareit tea, and to Mr. Fryer and the Iocal ringers. These were canried unanimonsly and Mr. Fryer replied.
Handbell ringing occupted the minds of several of the party: and tower hells were made use of, under the guidance of Mr. Tom Lock, until nearly uine o'clock, when ringing finished with a very fine toncł of Spliced Surpriso Major.
WhI all concerued please note that practice will be resumed at st. Matthew's, Beflual Green, ou Tuesday, Ootober 27th, at 7.30 pm.

INTERESTING BELLS AT CAUNTON.

PEAL OF THREE HUNG FOR RINGING.
On Thursday evening, Octaber lot, the Lord Bishop of Southwelli rededicated a peal of three hells at Gaunton Church, Nottinghamghire. These bells are quite interesting. The oldest, No. 2, was cast in 1611. No. 3, the tenor, weighs just nnder 8 cwt., is dated 1641 and was of pmusually good tone. The inseription is one that was fatrly common in the 17 th century: ${ }^{\text {A }}$ All men that heare my mournful sound-Repent before pou lye in ground.' No. 1 was cast in 1658, and is inscribed, 'God save His Cinureh.'
The musical pitch of the tenor is A flat, and the bells have been carefully tumed in the major key and cau be swuug, if necessary, by one ringer by manipulation of three ropes, one in caclu hand and one rope will his foot.
The old wouden frame and gear of the bells were in a derelict condition and lave all been replacd by modern gear in an metal frame, so arranged that the bells can be incyeased in number at a later date with a miniman of alteration and expense.
The whole of the bell work, including some incidental clock wark, has been ably carried out by Mersrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Groydon. It is interesting to note Liat Major Johm Hole, who attended the service witl his mother, Mrs. S. H. F. Fole, of Caunton Manor, is a direct descendnat of a Hole who was Ficar of Cauntonl in 1567, the family haviug been continuously in Caunton cince 1510. Major Fole and some of the local young nen were initiated into the art of ringing during the evaning.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Western District was held at Winlaton on Saturday last. Tingers were present from Newcastla Gathedral, Whickham, Blordon, Gateshead, Chester-le-Street, Benfeldside and the local tower. The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening to a variety of Minol method, and some rood ringing restlted.
For the final tourh 720 Plain Bob Minor was yung as a birthday compliment to Mr. Willian O. Bemett, who is the captain of the local tower: R. F. Telford I, J. Thompson 2, T. W. Dodd 3, D. Arkless 4, W. C. Bemett 5, R. F. Hewitt (condinctar) 6.

TWO HUNDRED PEALS AT 17.

E. A. BARNETM"S ACHIEVEMENT.

Young 'Teddy' Baruett, of Grayford, thind of a line of well-hnown ringers, has more than once made history by his jouthful performances. A hundred peals before he was 16; now two handred peals before he was 181 It's rather staggerinur

He las just celebrated his 18 thi birthday, but his second century of peals was completed a month before that. Aud look at the list!

AMBITION.

 Life without ambition is a deadly dulf affair, but it is strange how many ringers have little desire to get out of their own little groove. They are content to ring for the services at their own church-that is, of course, to be accounted a merit-but beyond that ringing does not interest them. From their stage to that of the real enthusiast is a far cry, but what those with an indifferent outlook upon ringing miss is the increasing interest in a fascinating art and the broader spirit of fraternity that exists between those who mix freely with their brethren from other belfries. Those who will visit other towers than their own; who will attend meetings of their association; who will be ready to make some progress in their ringing, all gain in varying degrees in the pleasure and intellectual profit which they get from their activities. Ambition in ringing is as desirable as in any other walk of life, and if pursued it brings its own reward.It was not without a sense of gratification at ambition rewarded that a band of ringers accomplished a peal at Melbourne, Derbyshire, on Saturday. It was, in a sense, a crowning achievement to events of two years ago and a performance which may, perhaps, never be put up again. Melbourne, the little town among the folds of the Derbyshire hills, is the parent in name of the great city of Australia which, with over a million people, is capital of the State of Victoria. This historic link between the two has been cemented from time to time in a variety of ways, and not least in the course of the present year by the generosity of a Melbourne, Australia, citizen who defrayed the cost of rehanging the bells in the fine old parish church of the English town. This restoration made possible the fulfilment of a desire by the ringers who visited Australia in 1934 and rang peals in the Cathedral at Mebourne of ring a peal also in the English mother town. It was ambition that impelled it; it was ambition that achieved it, for it is no mean thing that eight ringers should travel between them $2,75^{\circ}$ miles for just one peal.

They had travelled to the other side of the world together and made ringing history. They made ringing history of a sort on Saturday, for it is remarkable that eight men should ring peals in two Melbournes which are twelve thousand miles apart. We know quite well that such opportunities are unique-have been given up to the present, in fact, only to this favoured few, luut while, in its particular direction, this 'double' must be the limit of ambition, there are many other spheres in ringing in which much could be done to add to their own achievements by those whose opportunities are far more re(Continued on page 702.)

stricted. The moral of last Saturday's success is that there is always scope for the ringer with ambition, and it begins when he goes out to mix with the ringers of other towers or makes up his mind that he will ring another method.

RESTORATION IN NORFOLK.

DEDICATION OT SAHAM TONEY'S BELLS.

On Sunday, Oelober 18th, the bells of St. George's Church, Saham Toney, wero dedicated by the Lord Bislop of Norwich. The bells lave been hung in new frame with new fitting on a concrete floor, muld becanse of the floor having been 'set for only three months, the balle were chimed, thongh it is lioped to have them rung on New Yenr's Eve.

In spite of the belle being chimed, however, a number of ringers atitendad the service, and some for the firgt time tried their hands at chiming. Mr. A. L. Coleman, general secretary and treasurer of the Norwich Diocesan Assuciation, was supported by Mr. N. Golden (secretary of the North and Sontli Norfolk Branches), Messis. R. W. Cooke, S. Fint and C. S. Tuthill (West Norfolk Branch), Mr. G. Bailey (North Norfolle Tranch), Messra. E. G. Bennett and A. G. Harrison (South Norfolk Branchi nad ringers from Fakenham, Gaston, Sthropham, Rockand All Sainis, Winfarthing and Shelfanger.
The riugers, with their wives and frionds, were entertained to ten following the service. Tater ten of tho party rang touches for evensollg on the six belles ab Wation.

FOR BEGINNERS.

A STEP FOR MHNOR RINGEES,

In the anticlo in our issue of September 25th, in which we trierl to interest ringers of Plain Bob in other varieties of Minor, we explansed that this method could be rung both in reverse and double.

There are other methods which can be rung in the same way; that is to say in their construction they can be yaried in the same manner as the Plain method. Bob Minor has 2nd's place when the treble leads, Reverse Bob has 5th's place when the treble lies its whole pull behind; Double Bob las both the 2nd's place wheu the treble leads and Sth's when it lies belind.

There is a series of methods in which places are made 'each sink of the trelsle, or 'across the treble' as it is sometimes called ; that is, when the treble lunts up a bell makes 4th's and then Jrd's (a whole pull in each place) as the treble passes up through 3.4 , and another helk makes 3rd's end then 4th's (a whole pull in each place) as tho treble huats down through 4-3.

Perhaps you will see it better if we set it out in skeleton rovin:-

The firgure 1 , of course, represents the treble, the $x$ the bell making the places, and the dots the other bells. The bell that makes the places is going in tho same direction as the treble, but shops and recrosses the treble, after which it continues in the same direction as the treble has gone (unless some variation is introduced into the method to prevent it). Actually, these "places across the treble ' change the coursing order of that bell and the treble exactly ns 2nd's place in Bob Minor turns it about.

Now, just as there are three methods constructed with plain hunting pure and simple, with the wariation of 2nd's, or 5th"s, or both, so there are three methods obtained from this simple place making "across the treble "-one with 2nd's place made when the treble leads (in addition, of course, to the other places), one with 5th's place made when the treble lies belind, and the otler with both 2ud's and 5th's. In addition there is omethod in the group, making fons in all, without either 2nd's or 5th's.
The effect of these places is to canse the other bells to dodge. The pheces across the treble' cause the bells both in 1-2 and $5-6$ to doduc, and, as in Plain Bob, the 2nd's and 5th's also cause a dodge in the other pairs of places.

The contiguity of these places is such that the " places across the treble 'plus and's cause the two bells behind to dodge from the time the treble goes away until it gets back again. Similarly tile 'places across the treble" plus 5th's canse the two bells in front to dodge fron the time the trebile goes away umbil it gets back again. Second's plus 5th's cruses this lead-long dadging to be carried on both in front and at the back.

Now what we would like those of our readers, who are interested in investigations of this sort, to do is to endeavour to construct them on their own account.

First write out (1) a lead of the method in which only "places across the treble, ane made, that is 4th's and $3 r d$ 's as the toreble hunts up and $3 r d^{\prime}$ 's and 4 this as the treble hurts down. Then write ont (2) a lead of the sume mathod with End's place introduced wher the treble leads, causing the bels in $3-4$ and 5-6 to dodge. Next write ont (3) a lead of the method with 5th's place when the treble is behind, and last (4) the method with both Sth's and 2nd's.
In order that you may check wour work, we will say that the first lead heads of tlicse methods ave (1) 156342 , (2) ard (3) 164523 , and (4) 142635.

When yout have done this conswruct a diagram, that is a live drawn on the track of one bell from beginning to end of the fuil comse. Tf Youl don't want to write out all the leads in full for this purpose wou can do it by tracing the course of one bell througly a lead and then continuing the diagram by taking up the work from the beginning of the bell into whose place the line falls at the first lead liead. Thur if you start with the 2nd in method (1), this hell gets to 6th's place at the lead head; you therefore carly ou with the work of the 6 th for the next lead, which will leave your line in 3rd's rut the next lead head; then go loack and pick up the worle of the 3rd, and so on. Constructing your own diagranss is the quickest way of learning the work of a method, and, in doing it, do not forget to mark the places where the freble passes anross the paill of the other bell.

DEATH OF AN AMERSHAM RINGER.

FORTY YEARS MEMBER OF ST. MARY'S GOMPANY
The death took place at Amersham on October 15th of Mr. Alfred Elburn, aged 57 years. Deceased, who came from a ringing family, was for over 40 years a member of the band at St. Mary's, Amersham. He will be much missed by the local band, as he was a most regular attendent, until a serious operation in December of last year curtailed his ringing activities. He was also a member of the local fire brigade, for which he leed a long service medal.

The funeral, which was attended by the fire brigade and his fellowxingers, took place at Amersham on October 17th. At the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples was rung by E. C. Ayres, L. R. Betts, W. E. Redrup and A. D. Barker, hon, secretary of the East Berke and South Bucks Branch, Oxford Diocesan Guild. After the burial the bells he loved so well were rang half-muffled to his favourite method, London Surprise Minor. The 'whole pull and stand' was then rung. On Tuesciay, October 20th, an attempt for a half-mufled peal unfortunately came to grief after two hours and eight minutes' good ringing through a " Ehift."
Deceased leaves a widow and one daughter, to whom deepest sympathy is extended.

SHOULD LADIES RING WITH HATS AND COATS ON?

F'o the Editor.

Dear Sir,-This question came to me when I visited St. Mary's Church, Wimbledon, on Wedwesday September 30th, on the occasion of a joint meeting of the Ladies Guild and Surrey Association. This was an official meeting of ladies, and there seemed to be some differebes of opinion, for some were ringing with hats and coats on, while others had them removed.
To most ringers to see a man ringing with his coat on appears to be completely ont of order, and to me a lady appeare to be equally out of order ringing with a hat and coat on. Some may hold the view that a lady must almays wear a hat ju church, but I think there is a damger in the belfry. especially where the roam is congented. The ringing of church beils is a service of praise quite different to other services held in chuych. For instance, a ringer would never think of appearing at any other services with his coat off, although he removes it before ringing. That, to me, is an indication that ladies should remove their hats and coats before they actually take part in the ringing of church bells, and especially at Guild meetings. CHARLES TURNER, Captain St. Mary's Ringers, Dover.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

JOINT MEETING AT BUCKRAST ABEEY
A quarterly meeting of the Mixl-Devon Brauch of the Devon Guild was held at Buckiast Abbey on Saturday, October 17th. The meeting was held jointly with the South-West Branch, and bliere was an excellent attendauce of rimgers and friends fram Plymouth, Plympton, Collaton, Paignton, Newton Abbot, Cockington, Buckfastleigh, Ide, Chnistow, Exeter, Brampford SpeFe, Sidmouth, Bath, etc.
Tho glorious peal of bells was kept going to a variety of methods during the afternoon, including a well-struck course of Grandsire Cinques. The great Bourdon bell also crented a good deal of interest.

About 64 sat down to tea in two relays at the Abbey Cafo, and the Mid-Devon Branch subsequently held their busidess meeting, presied over by the Rev. W. R. D. Malls (chairneni).
A letter was read from the general sectetary resarding collentions at meetings for the Bell Restoration Fund. The president of the Guild (the Rev. E. F. Cox) explained the object, nud it was recommended that collections be taken at the services. A collention at the conclusion of the moeting amounted to 6 s . 5 d .

A cortificate was presented by the president to Mr. I. Wensleg, of Cockington bansl.
The place and date of the annual meeting were next discussed, and it was resolved to hold this at Ipplepen on Saturday, February 13th, 1937, subject to the necessary pernission being obtained
The alection of Mr. H. C. Collyer, of Newton Abbot, as an unattached performing member prior to starting for a peal was confirmed

In accordance with the recrmmendation of the General Committee, Mr. C. R. Walker was elected auditor of the branch, and Mr. A. L. Bennett was elected Ringing Master.

It was usanimously resolved on the recommendation of the charman that the secretary write the Lord Abbot of Buckfast expressing the great appreciation of the visitors in allowing the uneeting to be held it the Abbey. Hearty votes of thanks were also accorded the ladies who carried out the tea arrangements, to the Wicar of Buckfastleigh for the use of his bells, and to the secretary of the brancl for making all the arrangements.
The Chairman announced that one of his ringers, who wes a member of the branch, had met with an accident resulting in the less of two fingers, and the memhers present exprossed their regret.
A hearty vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding concluded the meeting. Some of the visitors returneü to the tower for further ringing, whilst others visited Buckfastleigh tower to ring. The meeting was much enjoyed by all.
Ringing at the Abbey vow takes place from the floor on which the bells thenselves formerly stnot?

BELERY GOSSIP.

The bells at Harthill Church are to be recast into a peal of eight, and rehung with new fittings in a new frame, by Messis. Gillett, and Johnston.

Vernon Taylor, the brilliant young conductor of the Lincolnghire band who recently rang 61 methods in a peai of Minor met with a rather gerious accident in the belfry at Frampton about a fortnight ago. The rope of the tenor got under his foot and he was pitched on to his head, sustaining concussion, Ee is, happily, making good progress towards recovery.

The peal of Treble Bob Major at North Wingfield on October 17th was rung for the Yorkshire Association and the Sheffeld District Society.
The first peal of Grandsire Cinques in Cheshire was ruag on handbells on February 14th, 1935, at Stockport. This information is supplied by Mr. A. F. Bailcy, of Stockport, who adds: 'Congratulations to the Macclesfield band on ringing the first in the county on tower bells.'
Mr. W. Poston has conducted a peal in every eight-bell tower in Herefordshire. He completed them on Saturday, when be called a peal at Lugwardine.
From one young fiuger to another, Ernest W. Pye, son of the late M4. William Pye, writes: I should bise to congrafilate E. A. Barmett on his 200 peals.
Mr. Jesse Puplett, whose addres is now Higla Street, Stewhley, Bucks, informs us that the six bellm of Stewkley Parish Clurch are To be retuned, etc., and two trebles added, to complete the octave. This is to be carried out through the generosity of Mr . Bliss, ot former resident of the parish.

PEAL STANDARDS.

To the Editor
Dear Sir,-It is quite possible that I shall be peadited with being the correspondent who whs mentioned in your leader of last weok. referring to peals that should not be reported as such. May I plead with that gentleman to send his name and poutself to publish the Ietter, even if the conductor of the peal in question does liave his weekly appearance in the penl columas?
This happens in all classes of peals from Surprise to Doubles, athongh I was informed sume time back in 'The Ringing World, that it was not possible to ring a second-class peal of Surprise. Rol! We all have ears and so lave the general public. A bit of seouring would do a world of good.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN MONK.

A FINE OLD ENGLISH GENTLEMAN."
On Tuesday, October 20th, passed away a notable stalwart of the Oxford Diocesan Guild in the person of Mr. John Monk, of Witney, He will be missed in the town itself as a genial, kindly man, while as to ringing, he had done nore 'spade work' than will ever he realised except by ringers of 30 (or more) years' standitg.
Tohn Monk had rung more than 150 penls, Stedman and Grandsire Triples mostly. He called many peals of Grandsire in the Witney district and was for many years secretaly and treasurer of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Guild. Whatever he did he did well, Rnd after a peal or a meeting no member could feel dull when once John started to tell the little tales of his experiences of a long life. A born wit, he would keep a company roaring with laughter. Albeit, Johru was a Christian gentlemar.
The interment took place on Thursday, October 22nd, but owing to the rely short notice very fow ringers were present. Messrs. George Holilield, sen. and jun., W. Evetts and Frank Smith, of the Royal Cumberlands (who was one of John's pupils more than 40 years ago), with the writer, attended the gelvice held in the fine old Parish Church, and the committal service in the cemetery. Lookiug down on the name plate, 'John Moak, aged 76,' nade one feel that a renl old friend liad gone. In the words of an old song, 'He was a fine old English gentleman, one of the olden time.' May le rest in peace. The bells were rung muffled in the afternoan and evening by the local riugers. The sympathy of mayy ringers will go out to the widow, Jolm's wife for 53 years, and his three some.

PETERBOROUGE DIOCESAN GUILD.

The quarterly meating of the Towcester Branch of Peterborongh Diocesan Guild, held at Cosgrove on Saturday, proved a success. In addition to members of the branch, visitore fron North Bucks and Central Bucks Branches of the Oxford Guild were present.
Cosprove, a small village abont two miles from Stony Stratford and the Walling Street, has fust had a new treble added to the bells to make a ring of six, and in the opinion of ringers present they are a nice peal, thanks to the work of Messrs. Taylar and Co.
Ringing commenced about 2.30 p .m., and service was conducted latex by the Rey. E. Y. Fonn (hon. secretary), who preached H practical sermon.
Afterwands at ten the ringers were joined by the Rector (the RevH. N. O. Hewson) and Mr'. aud Mre. G. H. Winterbottom, of Cosgrove Fall. The hon. secretary thanked the Rector for the use of the bells, etc.
Handbell ringing and more tower-belt ringing concluted the meeting.

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA-MELBOURNE, ENGLAND.

REUNION OF 'A GREAT ADVENTURE' PARTY  Another Ringing Link Between Mother Country and Commonwealth.

On Saturday a memorable 'double ' was completed by English ringers who, two years ago, toured Australia. On October $24^{\text {th }}$, I934, two days after they had landed in Melbourne, they rang their first peal in the Common-wealth-a peal of Bob Royal at St. Paul's Cathedral.

On October 24 th, 1936 , exactly two years afterwards, eight of this band rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Melbourne, Derbyshire, and thus forged another link between the parent town and the daughter city on the other side of the world.

The CENTRAL TOWER of Melbourne Parish Churth, Dertyshire, from the north.
When Melbonrne, Australia, was founded a hundred years ago, it took its name from the then Prime Minister of England, Lord Melbourne, who was bour at Melbourue Hall, Derbyshire, and whose titie tame from his native village.
Since their return to England, the tourists lave had a growipg desire to complete their association with Austratia by linking up the Ewo Melban'mes it a ringiug sense, and this was made possible by the rehanging of the Derbyshire bells early this year at the expense of Conncillor Neithefold, of Melboume, Aastralia. Nothing seemed to ha lacking ta bind closer together tha bells of the two Melbourues.

The Vicar of the Derbyshire parish (the Rev. Lt.-Col. Jolin Morris, D.S.O.) not auly gave his ready ecquiescence to the project, be welcomed tho opportumity of giving it effect, and in this he was enthusiastically aupported hy his churchwardens and ringers. Everything that could facilitate the peal attempt was offered and done, and our columas record the success that was achieved.
But this is gelitins a bit aliead of the etory. When it was found possible to visit Melbeurne, the hospitality of Glyn Garth, Surflet, ance more exhibited itgelf, and Mr. and Mrs. Rtupert Richardson invited the whole party to make their home the headquarters for the week-end Thus on Friday afternoon they hegan to foremather at this delectable spot for ringers. Bill Linter, having traveled by train from Fareham, Hants, was the first to arrive. Joe Hardcaste and Ralph Maude rolled up on wheels from Bradford, Yorks, an hour or two later. About half-past seven a contingent from the south, Bill Fussell from Slough, George Martin from Maidenhead nad their chauffur from Pyrford came on the scene, only to find much perturbation at the absence of Charles Sharples aud his better half from Blackpool, who were due some time before.

A LOST COUPLE.

It is extroowlinary what vagaries are played by the railway companies upon people travelling to Lincolmshive. Several times the Surfeet 'bus ' went to Spalding to meet likely trains-r'eminiscent of an occasion a littlo more than a year ago-lut in vain.
The Vicar of Surfeet and Mrs. Glark came to Glyn Garth to add to the heartiness of the wolcome. It is unnecessary to dwell on the warmbli of the greetings between the memluers of the much-travelled party and the great pleasure it was to meet ganim. But what had happened to the Sharples? Tho party supped anivl speculations, and at half-past nine Rupert made one more almost despririne jonrney to Spalding. And there they were waiting at the station! They had gone to the wrong terminus in Manchester-ib will be remembered they nearly missed the 'Barrabool' at Fremantle-and been brought to Lincolnslira by a ronte that took them nearly all Iownd England, if one may judge by the time occupied. Rajway travelling, however, is not the only thing that gets upset when Lincolnshire is the objectivo. Visitors to Surfeet on a former occnsion will recolled the mystery of a telegram that arrived one Saturday afternom, some bours after its dispatch. Last Friday a telegram, sent from Manchester, which wonld have elucidaterl the whole situation, failad to arrive at all, and, as far as we know, is still somewhere on the wires.'
However, with the party complete, spinits rose higli, and the only source of regret was the absence of the Rev. E. Bankes James, who was unable to travel on account of the effects of a heavy cold
An early start-at least it was early for some of the party-was necessary next morning for the 70 miles' drive to Mclbonrne. The run to Meiton Mowbray was the story of the hare and the tortoise over ggain. The 'hares,' there were two of them, stopped for pelral, the tortoise, oblivious of the 'pull up,' dasleed by at guite 25 miles an hour, the driver clinging to his steering wheel like grim denth ant his passengers, with their hair on cnd, clinging wildy to thoin sents. The tortoise won the race to Melton by a short head and thereafler was confent to brins up the rear of the prooession
At Melboume the Ficar was waiting, with representakives of the Iocal ringers, to welcome the visitors, and the three rats disporged tho eleven travellers-Mrs. Sharpes, Ralpla Mande amp Enin Richardson making up the party with the eight ringers. To and to their pleasure ther also found wating to greet them a lady, now of Derby, who was present at Bishopourt, Mehonrme, when the tourists wero entertained there by the Archbishop of Melboume the diy after their arival.

MELBOURNE'S MAGNIFICENT CHURCH.

It will bs of interest to say something about St. Mieliacl's Chured, an early Norman bulding reputed to be one of the firest pamples of its type of architecture in the conntry. If. was not inaptly described by Mr. Fussell, who knows what ine is talking ibhont in these matters, as Durham Cathedral in miniature.

The church was built about the year 1090 , and beforc alteratnons, carried out probably in the 16th century, had three apsidal ends at tha east end, with a room over the chanel. TJe mave is of five buys, with stilted arches, ormamented with a zig-zag and platin roll monlding. Thare is a Norman clerestory on the north side and an Early English one on the south, with a passage over all the nave arches, ant continued round the central tower on the same Ievel, which lod to the room over the chancel.
The interior of the tower is a fine example of Normasz arealing in three tiers. Above that the upper part of the tower is probably 17th century work. A. curious feature of the church is that it is entirely tinenclosed, none of the original churchyard heing in existence as is churchyard. The Vicarage, a large stone building, with an anexpectedly fine prospect from the rear, stands in the south-east corner of the space surrounding the church.
The bells are by Taylor and Go. Six of them were cast in 7882 to replace four which dated back to the 16 th centiry. The trebles were added as a jubilee memorial in 1887. Early this year the bells bady needed rehanging. An appeal for funds brought in a certain amomit. azd then, by a happy, thought, Melbonme, Australia, wrs invited in contribute ; The Sum' newspaper sent the first 525 , but, on hearingr of the appes, Councillor Nettlefold, of Melbourne, asked to be allower? to bear the whole oost. 'The Sun ' newspaper's donation was diverter by the givers to charity, and the excellent work done by Messers. Taylor and Co. was thus paid for by a citizen of Melbourne, Anstralia Tha bells were put on ball bearings and go like the proverhial tope But there is just a snag for those numsed to ringing there. The bell are runs from the floor of the chancel and there is 5fift, of rone ur to the wheels and only guides in the upper part of the tower. Enless a perfectly straight and lows pull is applied, the sallies have a tendency to wander into the centre of the chancel or come down behind the ringer's back. At Melbourne one has to think of the actual ringing as well as of the metiloci. The fronts of the choir stalls have to be removed luefore ringing can begis, and the seats are folded back to give ley room.

Well, aftor a few preliminaries, including a flashlight photograph of tho ringars at their ropes, the many onlaokers in the clurch took theor departure, the door was locked and the peal was sung in 3 hours 19 minutes
Poor Joc had a rotter time. Two or three days before, he had had an argument with the busiricss end of a carpenter's chisel-and got the worst of it. He lad a badly eut fingor, which, despite surgical handaging, split opon again while lie was ringing, but with true Yorkshire dogrgeduess he 'stuck it gut' in spite of the pain and the difficulty of bandling his rope under such conditions. More thas one of the petts which this band have rang together bave produced a 'hero,' and the larrele fell on Joe on this occasion. It was. of course, only fitting that the peal should be rung for the St. Paul's Cathedral Society, Melbourne, of which, at a memorable gatliering on the evening of their arrival in the Australian city, the ringers liad been made life members.

Mr. J. S. It had heen their antrition slince their returt from Anstralis to complete the unigue 'donble' by ringing a peal in Melhourne, Derlysilive, nnd they were all delighted that it had been succassful. They were greatly pleased to meet the lacal tingers, and hic congratulatect them on having has their bells put into stich excellent order. He hoped they would go on and progress in the art of ringing so that, one riny they might be nble to visit Melbourne, Anstralia, nud ring a peal there. (A' Voice: 'Some hopes,' and langhter.) Mr. Coldsmith referred to the presence of the Rcv. R. Sherwoorl and said how greatly dolighted they were to meet him again under such happy circumstances. In Australia My. Sherwood did a great deal to smonth the way for their ringing at the Gatherral, and he would probably remember the peal two years ago that very dey, when the Gas Company tried to get him to stop the bells, because, i.hey saik, they could not carry on their business. Some of the rooms in the company's luge offices were right opposite the louvres of the helfry, and he (Mr. Goldsmith) helieved if they could have done so they would have liked at that moment to set Mr. Sherwood on the ton of one of their gasometers nitd blow him up (laughter). ## FROM MELBOURNE TO MELBOURNE

Feetings to ringens Melhourne, Austratia. Peal succestul for Cathe dral Society on bells restored by Councillor Nettlefold. Sherwaod.
A course of Grandsire Caters on handbells and some tunes by Bill and George brought this part of the happy proceedings to a close.
The visitors afterwards, through the kindness of Mr. T. Pearce, the agent for the estate, who acted as guide, made a hurried inspection of the famous gardens of Molbourne Hall. The hall itself stands but a few yarde from the east end of the clurch and was at one time a palace of the Bishops of Carlisle, to whom the church and all its belongings were given when that See was founded. It was later the seat of Sir John Coke, a Secretary of State to Charles I., and afterwards becsme the lome of the Lamb family, of which Lord Melbourne was a member. Low Palmerstan, another Prime Minister; also lived there.
As dusk was falling the wisitors piled into their cars, and Rupert led them sucecssfully throngln the marrow and tortuons roads to Loughhordugh, and thence to Grantham, where lie decided to mlow the other two to malke their own way home, while he went ahead to prepare for the ooming of the rest of the party-although we rather think it was Mrs. Richardson who did the actial preparation. The two remaining cars separated, but after a time when the tortoise was dne home, and overdue, and had not arrived, there was talk of a scarch party going out to scour the countroside for the missing ones. The search was not a protracted one. The car was found safely parked in the forecon't of the Crown at Surficet, and the occupants comfortably engnger in the bar parlour.
At dinner that night 'Australian friends' were toasted, and the healtll of the host and lostess was drunk with gusto.
Next monning four of the party, including Mr. Fussell, who had ming in the Rov. H. Lat James finst peal, rang a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells vomnd the grave of the late Vicar of Siufleet This tribute paid, ringing for service gave the visitors. new to the Jincolnshire village, the opportunity to lear Surfeet's litile ring of twelve bells.
With the afternoon came the first departares, but some of the party extended their visit until Monday before roturning to distant colgers of Emgland.
Tt was a great remion' the shecess of which was in large meastre due to the great hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson.

WARWICKSHIRE GULLD

AROHDEAGON OF COVENTRY APPOINTED PRESDENT

The quarterly meeting of the Warwickshire Guild at Bedworth on Saturday, October i7th, was very successful in every way. The ring ing was somewhat curtailed, as, owing to the funoral of a promnent local resident, the bells were not rung until after tea. However, the handbells were made good use of unti the time for the service. This was curducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. Brodie-Good) and his curate (the Rev. C. Stammers) in the side chapel of the church, and a short luit interesting address was given by the thector.

After tea, to which about 40 members sud their friends sat down in the Clurch School, the company adjourned to anather room for the bughess meeting. The Rev. C. Stammers was in the chair, and nuembers atterded from Stratford-on-Avon, Stoke, Nuneaton, Rugby, Chilvers Coton, Allesley, Bulkinston, Erdington and the local band Several visitors were diso welcomed, including Mr. J. ## REOPENING OF LINDLEY BELLS.

RESTORATION OF A YORKSHIRE RING

On Saturday lastr the Lord Bishop of Wakefield rededicated the ing of eight bulls at, St. Stephen's Charch, Lindley, on the outskirls of Huddersficld, after rehanging by Messis. J. Taylor and Co., o Loughboraugh.
For some time past these bells had been in indifferent condition having done service since 1874, when they were presented to the church lyy Thomas Varley, of Egerton House
Tho peal, which has a teuor bell of approximately one ton, las now been. Notumed, quarter-turaed and cleaned, and equipped with entirely new fittings in a new metal frame, the work being carried ont in the traditional 'Taylor' manner, and, of course, leaving nothing to be desired.
A large congregation was present, including visiting ringers from Triezland, New Mill, Armley, Headingley, Ashton-under-Lyne, London, etc., and the bells were made good use of after the service and during the evening.
It was fiting that the generous donor of the bells, who died only a few months after making his gift, was not forgotten last Saturdny, and a wroath, made in the shape of a bell, was placed upon his grave, which is elose to the churel.

FUNDS RAISED BY RINGTRS.

Tt is pleasing to put on recard the unflagging and determined efforts of the Lindley ringers to get the bells into ringing onder agrain, It may give other ringers, who are in the same position, the necessary hope and fighting spirit to get their own bells restored, for it is a good example of perseverance and grit. Tlie bella had got to such m condition that it was agreed that no more ringing could be done until they were made safe again.
Tine ringers held a meeting and decided to raise the necessary funcs by holding whist drives and distribuling collecting envelopes throughout the district. At last they had sufficient money in hand to undertake the worle and they are now able to handle their own bells ance more. Hard work, perseverance and enthusiasm have been their motto.

They are haturally very proud of what has been accomplished, and gladly say that they have the finest peal in Yorkshire, bar none."

SURREY BELLS IMPROVED

RFSTORATION JN A TWO-TITR FRaME

On Sundiat, October 25 th, the Rt. Rev. O. H. Golding-Bird rededicated the eight bells of Yorktown Clurch, Camberley, Surrey, after they had been zellung and retuned by John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. The bells were rung in a few rounds during the service by the local ringels, also after the service in rounds and call changes. While the congregation were leaving the church, touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman were afterwards Fung by the visitors, which, considering the mixed nature of the band, were good, especially the Stedman.
The bells are hung in two tiers. The lower tier is in an H frame and the upper in a side frame, each mounted ou steel girders runuing north, sonth, east and west, thus braciug the tower. Ench bell pit is also cross braced. All fithings are new thraughout. Tlie 'go' of the bells is perfect, and they all handle exceptionally well considering the wery long draught.
The bells binemselves have bean very much improved by tuming and are now a very musical neal. The whole lay-ont has been carefulty thought out and carried throngla on thorongh engineering lines.

DEATH OF A LEIGHTON BUZZARD STALWART.

A PIONEER OT GHANGE RTNGING.

By the passing on the morning of October 20th of George Bonlield, Leighton Buzzard lost ane of its pionears of change ringing Commenciug his ringing career at Stu. Bamabas', Linshde, in 1886. he transferred iu the followivg year' to All Saints', Leighton Buzzarl, where ho was a member of thit band for 36 jears. He conducted the first two peals of Grandsire Triples by the local bund in 1903 and 1910, and in May, 1904, le called tho first tonch of Grandsire Triples at St, Barmabas', Linslacie, when the bclls were mummented from slx to eight.

During the Great War he ablyr deputiged for Mr. I. Nicholls, the fareman of All Saints' bolfry, and instructed a baud of lady ringers to carry on whilst most of the men were absent.
In 1922, it becamo apparent that his failing lealth would cause him to give up ringing, and to the regret of all le handled a hell for the last time on Christmas Day of that rear. He also retired from the L.M.S. Railway, in whose service he had been on the footfrom the L. M.S.
plate for so long.
During his years of retiremont loe never ceased to tale interest in locel ringing, and he frequently criticised the efforts of the younger ringers in the town.
His death was quite sudden and unexpected, following an operation in Aylesbury Hospital. He lived, howevor, to see the completion of the schemes of rehanging the two local peals of luells in 1935.
The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Cemetery, old Linslade, and kuring the evening a lalf-muffled quarterpeal of Stedman Triples, rung as a mark of respect, was bronsht home on the back 'eight, of All Saints' Glurch: Miss D. Liduitier (first gnarter-peal in the methotl 1, F. Fickers 2, F. Dedman 3, W Botsford 4, F. Plummer 5. F. Bilson 6, J. E. Arnold (conductor') 7, W. Teffs 8 . ## ASHOVER CHURCH BFLLS A RESTORATION APPEAL.

A pulylic meeting was held in the Parish Room, Ashover, Derbyshire, on Wednesday October 14th, presided over by the Reclor, tho Rev. J. B. Nodder M.A. to cousider a report received from Messrs. John Taylor and Co.. bell founders, Loughborough, on the conditiati of Ashover church bells.
It is now 34 years since two additional hells were added and Hne rest of the peal thoroughly overhanled, and in consequence of local reports to the Rector thint some attention to then was necessary. the bell fanders were invited to make an examination, as a resilt of which it is revealed that wear and tear has made necessary ceriain work which wonld involve an immediate cost of approximately e50. In addition the bell founders pointed out that practically the whols of the bearings are showing wear to such an extent as will render it necessary for these also to receive attention and renewal within is comparative sloart period. In wiew of this they strongly adysed that the bearings shonk bo renewed at the same time and thereby avoid the donble expense of providing the necessary tools, tackle ant appliances for ravrying out the work of complete reptoration.
At the meeting it was decided to accept Messrs. Taylor's estimate of approximately 8140 for the complete work of reatoring the peal to a frat-class condition, incluting the placing of the bells on ball bearings. nnd to eadeavour to rajse the necessary money by pahbir subscription.
It was considered that anyone who lad visiten the old-world villaro of Ashover, and was interpsted in its delightfin old church and heautiful poal of bells, whicht have a tenor of about 18 cwt., might like to subscribe to this wortly project which is impnedintely being taken in liand. Ary subscriptions thereto would he gratefully acknowledged by Mr. A. W. H. Bowler, Eastwood View, Ashover, near Chesterficld, who has been appointed treasuter of the fund.

HERTS ASSOCIATION 'FAMILY PARTY

At a meetiug held at $A$ bbots Langley, a peal tablet was unveiled recording the frrst peal rung on the hells by an entirely-local band.
Owing to the large number of ringers who sid not attend, the meeting resolved itself into a family party, having tea in the beantiful dining room of the old vicarage. the afternean and evening were spent in a vory social way, ringing in various methods (Surprise and otherwise), and an excellent toa given by Mrs. Geddes.
Tho peal bond was unvelled by Miss Glenister, who rasg in the peal. It is a great pity that greater support was not given to the meting in this charming charch.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

A mecting of the Westeru Division of the Silesex Association was Indid at Lyminster on Saturdey, October 17 th, when 23 members were presont from Arandel, Angmoring, Billingsharst, Heeno, Warnham, Tarring and the local band. Ringing during the afternoon was followed by a service, conducted by the Viear (Rer. S. P. Duval, D.D.) Tea was served at the Vicarage and was followed by the usual business meating
A vote of thanks wes accorded to the Ficar for the use of the bells and to the ladies who served the tea.
The Vicar, in replying, sald he was pleased to see so many yonag ringers preseat, and that ringers would always be welome in Lyminster.
Ringing continued till 8 p.m. and ranged from rounds to Cambridge.

A DEVONSHIRE EXCURSION.

VISIT TO LITTLE KNOWN TOWERS.

We cannot brimg the sunsinine to others without enjoying it ourselves. Thus we thouglit, when heavy rain pelted around our 'chara as we journeyed, away on the borders of Devon and Somereet, in the hunting preserves of the Dulverton pack, where in a bygone genera tion 'Passoll" Jack Russell used to hunt.
The Eenial secretary of St. David's, Fxeter, band (Mr. Gardner) was our waidiug light, and all that the members of a party of 20 ringers, wives and friends had to do was to enjoy what sunshine there happened to bo aboint. A case of bottles occupied a small comer near the driver's seat. Mr. Qardaer made certain of no dryness ' in the bus.
We left St. David's at 8.30 and our host led us-Titerally so, as he occupied the front seat-along the Exe Valley, through Tiverton to Washfield. The Iittle grey tower frowned over a bit of landscape of inviting beauty, a churehyard of woudrous tidiness aud a little grey church of Perpendictar style, containing a fine soreen and a good Norman font. In a very unobilisive corner of the 'roce's acre' he the mortal remains of 'Prinny, Dr. Dangar, of St. Luke's. Readily the six tuneful bells responded to Grandsire Donbles.

Joumeying onward o'er hill and dale, through trackways old and winding, wherein our bus brushed bracken on each side, and even bronght us safely through a ford, we came by dint of determination on the part of onr driver to East Allstey. On our way we pesser the Gibloet Woor, on which the last gibbeting of a man in Devon is said to lave occurved. At East Anstey we found in the Perpendicular chureln, perched on a hill, a very musical peal of six bells. Tlae Vicar welcomed us, and though the argued that the tenor, contrary to our better judgment, was about 14 cwt., he produced evidence which proved that it was but 7 cwt ew
Molland. our next stopping place, is only a few miles fron Fast Anstey as the crow flies, but the meandering journey took our driven fally half an hour, sometimes very hazartous driving. The ancieut edifice, however, was woth his pains. It is a relic of the centuries worth gold to our great church, and if only the fall box pews, more common a couple of centuries ago, are preserved to futhye generations, it is worth while. Molland has a fine peal of five bells, with tenor near 18 cut., and were they an eight what a glorious volume of melody would float across the valley below! The tenor was a haudful to turn in in Donbles, and our "Ringing Master" Riclardson fonnd the fourth a bit tronblesome. The Vicar, who welnomed us, is evidently a votary in the footsteps of Parson Jach Russell
High Bray was reached by a drive throngh the Bray Valley, with its towering eoppices and woodlands, which reminded ns of Lynton, The church stands on a hill, and many a time did onr driver reverse to get round the bends and land us safe anrl true outside tho churelr yard gates. The sextoness seemed quite displeased that the party would not ascend tive grey square tower to view the pastaral scme We saw the Bray Vale beneath. Figh Bray bells responded well to our efforts, and our Doubles must inave charmed the cars of the Tittle maids who eleaned their Sunday hoots beside tho cottage door. Rut frieud Searle was muela conderned with his rope, and the hure dinot he tied dangled precrriously near his 'spectacles" at bactstroke. O was it at Chayles when we attempted our Doubles on the five? How ever the locals contenfed thenzelves with subla "prodigions' yopes in length and size puzaled Mr. Ridler (of Thorvertoin)

We found Clartes after a rambing ronte and many inquinies by our forbearin driver. It is away nap somewhere. with Sonth Moultom somewhere morth or south, and it stands on a hill and averlooks a wonderful valley. The five bells go well and ate very musical in what appeared to be A minor. with tenor about 8 ewt . And by the southern porch he rested and heard the Doubles on his rillage belle How turly Gray's Elegy paints village life! Yes, the old sexton sat on fombstone and leard half-pull ringing, perhaps for the first time iu his life. Our dutwer guetioned if ever the people of Clariles han seen "the pictures."
I heate romards of 'more civilised roads,' 'hack to civilisation,' as we apmroached Pilleinh. And we gaw flannelled crickebers on the Castle Eill (War] Fortesque's) grounds as we passed on to the claurch, Where we fonnd a masical ring of six.
Ter at Barnstaple and the ran of 40 miles along the Taw valley hronght ins to St. Davir's at 8.45. Mr. Rideer salely in the 9.30 for Thmwerton, and 'Good night,' ended a very joyaus day
Thank you, St. Dnvid's band; thank you, Mr. Gardner! F. G. S.

MAINTAINING THE PERSONNEL.

We are hearing constantly of towers which, having had successful bands in recent years, are now finding a difficulty in keeping a company together and getting the bells rung. By 'successful ' we mean bands who have, for a considerable period, never failed in the regularity of their service ringing; who, whatever else they have done, have fully manned their bells on Sundays. Now, however, there is a falling away, and the bells are partly silent at the very times when they are expected to sound at their best. The trouble is not confined to any one district, the same story comes to us from various parts of the country, and when it comes, it comes more in sorrow than in anger. We record an instance this week, at Drayton, where the late Rev. F. E. Robinson was Vicar. Here the inhabitants have so much missed their hells that they have petitioned the Vicar to have them rung again.
Summing up the evidence which these cases have produced, there are two main causes-old hands dying off and none to replace them; younger ringers lured away by other attractions or demands upon their time. In almost every case it is the older men who, with undiminished loyalty, are doing their best to keep the bells going in face of many discouragements. Despite this disconcerting state of affairs, however, we imagine that it is no new phase. For hundreds of years the people of England have been told that the country is 'going to the dogs.' But it hasn't gone yet-in the sense that the phrase is here used. Pessimists who hear of the falling off of interest in the belfry may tell us that ringing is going to the dogs, too, but it is a long way from that. This is no new failing. Always there has been an ebb and flow in individual towers, and those who have been able to maintain a full company over a long period of years have indeed been fortunate. In the mass, the number of ringers is well-maintained, although it must not be forgotten that the number of church bells in the country is rapidly increasing. Nevertheless, it is regrettable that bands long noted for their regular and devoted service are gradually breaking up from some cause or other, and the bells becoming more and more silent in these places.
When a band begins to fall to pieces because, while having apparently ample personnel, the members just absent themselves from their duties, and put other claims first, there is every reason for sympathy with the remaining ringers, who are 'let down' through no fault of their own. Slackers in the belfry are difficult to deal with, if an appeal to their loyalty has no effect. Their (Contivuce on page 118.)

loss means a definite set-back for a time, but often they are men whose interest in the belfry has been the ringing alone. When that fails there is nothing to hold them. This type can only be held by constant new interest, and if they are to be 'caught' before they finaily slip away, the rest of the band most show a new spirit of enterprise and build up a progressive programme. Once the slackers have gone, there is nothing for it but to begin again, and in making a new beginning it is safer to use as material those who are Churchmen first and are prepared to become ringers afterwards.

Where the losses are due to the attrition of years or removals, there is nothing left but to begin once more at the bottom and build up. As everyone knows, this takes time and patience. Actually it ought to be guarded against at all times. No tower should be without one or two beginners. Only a small proportion remain permanently attached to the art, and it needs this small proportion to cover the gaps as they occur: In the tower where you find no learners, you may soon find no ringing.

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

SERVICE TO BE HELD AT ST. OLAVE'S, HART STREET.
A quarterly meeting of the Saciety of Royal Cumberiand Youths was held at Romford on Satneday, October Z4th, and was fatrly well attended. Touches were ring in various methods during the afternoon, and a service was held, conducted by the Vicar, who, in his address, gave the rimgers in hearty welcome and spoke of the recensity of palling together.
Tea was partaken of at the new dance hall close to the clanch, to which about 25 sat down, and afterwards ringing for 7 o'clock service took place. At the business meeting, held in the belfry, the proposed dinner of the society was discussed, and it was decided to hold it on March 13th. A letter was read by the Master (Mr. G. Cross) from the Vicar and Church Council of Shoreditch iaviting tho members to a ringers' sarvice on Sundey, Naveaber 8th, at 11 a.m., and another from the Rector of St. Olave's, Fart Strect, suggesting a service for ringers on Suaday, December l'3th, to be held in the gvening. Notice of this service appears in the advertisement columns.
Two new members were elected, and a hearty voto of thanks was accorded to Mr. E. J. Butler, proposed by the Master and seconded by Mr. A. Pye, for all the trouble he had taken ta arrange the meeting at such short notice. Votes of thanks to the Vicar and organist for thoir kindness in making the service a success wele also passed. Ringing in verious methods afterwards continued till 9 p.m.

UNION TRIPLES.  iTS ORIGIN AND HISTORY.

By J. A. Trollope.
Union Triples is an off-shoot of Grandsire and this is how it came about. In 1718, John Garthon, of Norwich, after 'long study and practice, composed the first tune peal as Grandsire Triples. But he did not take the plain course as the unit and try and extend it to a five-thousand by means of bobs, as a modern composer would have done. What he did was to take the six-score he knew as Grandsire Doubles and apply that to seven bells, using the system of hunts which was then the recognised plan of composing extents, and had come down from the Plain Changes.

Stedman had thoroughly explained this system, and Garthon probably had the 'Tintinualogia' and certainly the 'Campanalogia.' He found that in Doubles a bob is called at every lead end except when the half-hunt (the fifth) is Before. On seven bells that gave him a threelead course in which the balf-hunt (the sixth) dodges in 6-7 down and 4-5 up, and produces a five-course block in which the quarter-hunt (the seventh) completes its revolution. Neither on five nor on seven bells does the half hunt go into the hunt, but the conditions for composition by hunts are fulfilied as they are not fulfilled in the plain course. So far all was plain sailing; but now be had to fix the path of the quarter hant (the fifth). He must not interfere with the bobs when the balf-hunt is dodging in $4-5$ or $6-7$, and he must not call a bob when that bell is belore, for that would at once make the peal false. So he introduced a fresh sort of bob, which be called a Hic, in which fifth's place is made when the treble is leading at handstroike. With nine of these Hics, used exactly as the bobs are used in the Standard 720 of Plain Bob Minor, he joined together six of the five-course blocks producing a guarter peal. But the quarter huat only feil into half its full number of 4631275 6413725 $614735^{2}$ 1674325 1763452 7164325 $761345^{2}$ positions, and so a complementary quaster peal was necessary in which the quarter huot fell into the missing positions; and these two quarter peals, with the two corresponding ones with the changes out-of-course, gave bim the extent of the rows. To link the four quarter-peals toyether te used a $Q$ Set consisting of two Hics and two doubles made alternately at the ends of the quarter peals.

The peal has three sorts of calls, and after some years it was superseded and became obsolete. Men who knew nothing about it began to despise it as false and worthless, and even in modern times after it has been rediscovered and printed, it is usually looked upon as a crude and immature production. But it is anything but crude. It is a very fine composition, worthy to he ranked with Holt's ten-part and Tburstans' Stedman Triples; and it did more than any peal except Annable's Bob Major to influence and develop early composition. It has three sorts of calls if we look at it as a peal of Grandsire Triples, in which the plain course is the unit; but that is not how Garthon and the early ringers looked at it. He had to extend Grandsire Dotibles, using hunts (originally Grandsire Doubles was a particular six-score, not a metbod with plain course and bobs and singles), and according to his promise, the regular succession of two bobbed leads and one plained on seven bells could not be altered. They were the method, and his plain course was really the block of 2 ro rows. The Hic was his bob, and the two Doubles were the minumum number required to clange the nature of the rows. W. D. Croft, in his notebook, gives what is evidently a copy of a manuscript by Garthon and there it is stated that, 'we never call anything but the extreams (i.e. the Hics) in this peal.,

In less than three weeks after the performance at Norwich, the Union Scholars rang the peal ar St. Dunstan's-in-the-East. The ringer of the seventh was Robert Baldwin, who apparently was the coaductor. He tried to simplify Garthon's composition by reducing the number of different calls used, and as he could not get rid of the Hics or the Grandsire bobs, he got rid of the Grandsire plain leads. What he did in effect was to treat the B block as the plain course and the Hic as the bob, though in practice the names were reversed, the Hic being considered as the plain lead. At the time, and until quite recently, men did not understand the distinction between a plain lead and a bobbed lead. Annable more than once says. ' you can bave it which way you please.' In Union Triples the bob making bells are the bells 1 in $3-4-5$ at the handstroke of the treble at the so-called plain lead.
By means of one Grandsire bob and two Hics, Baldwin obtained a three-lead course, which fixed the path of the half-hunt, and a block of five courses (2Io changes), which fixed the path of the quarter hunt. This block he extended to a peal by using the same composition as in Garthon's peal.

Following their custom, the Union Scholars called the new peal after their own name, and, though so far as we know, they did not ring it (at least not the full five-thousand), the method had a considerable amount of popularity in London during the first half of the 18 th century. Annable called the first recorded peal on February 17th, 1728, at St. Lawrence Jewry for the College Youths, but as it was only claimed as the first in that tower, it is probable that others had been already rung, which are now forgotten.

The method was also rung to some extent as nine bells, and the Cumberlands scored the first peal of Caters $(6,410)$ on December 26th, 1786 , at Shoreditch. Baldwin used the same Double as Garthon had used, but ringers preferred one made at back-stroke in 2-3, when the treble is lyading full, after the manner of the common Grandsire single; and using this, some unknown man produced a very simple and regular 5,040 of Triples which is given in the 'Clavis.'

After a while the method fell into disuse, but it was revjved to some extent in the closing years of the 19 th century, mainly through the influence of men like C. D. P. Davies, A. B. Carpenter, W. H. Thompson and J. J. Parker. The interest these men took in the method was due to its composition, not on account of any particular merits in actual ringing.

During the controversies which followed the appointment of the Wethods Committee in 1899, it was condemned as unsymmetrical, and is little rung at present.

A good deal of heat was generated during the controversy over Union Triples, especially between such doughty protagonists as C. D. P. Davies and H. L. James, and, as usual, the truth was not wholly on one side or the other. The method is unsymmetrical only in its so-called plain course; the real plain course (the $B$ block) is perfectly symmetrical, and so does not offend against the rule. But it consists of only three leads, and there is another rule which says that a method must have as many leads in its plain course as there are working bells. Is this a sound and neressary rule? Certainly it is for Minor and Major, but I am not sure if it is for Triples and Royal. My opinion in this matter has developed during the years, as you can see by comparing the Methods Report, which I wrote in (Contizued in wext column.)

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was held at Danbury on Saturday, October $24 t \mathrm{~h}$, 42 members and frieuds attending from 13 towers, viz., Great Baddlow, Borellam, Broomfield. Chelmsford, Ford End, Danbury, Goldhanger, Maldon, Springfield, Writtle, Little Walthan, Sudbury and Colchester.

The association's form of service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev, F. S. Hopkirk), who Gave a very interesting address. The lesson was read by the Master: (Dr. P. T'. Spencer-Phillips), and the singing accompanied by the organist, Mr. Beckett.
Tea was partaken of in the Village Hall, served lyy friends of the local ringers, the Rector presiding.
At the business meetiug, presided over by the Master, it was dectded to hold the annual meeting, which will be at Great Bacidow, an Saturday. November 28th.
A vote of thanls to the Rector for allowing the ase of the bells and for taking the service, to ihe ladies for preparing and serving the tea, and to the orgauist, was proposed by the Master and carried with applause.
The Rector, in reply, welcomed the ringers to Danbur's, and hoped they would soon come again.
Hawdell ringing followed and further ringing at the tower, and the bells being lowered at 9 p.m. brought another enjoynale and successful meeting to a close.
(Contilused from previous column.)
1903, with the preface to the 'Collection of Triples Methods,' which I wrote in 1935. But that is not the real plain course.

On the whole I think that Union Triples does comply with necessary rules. The proof of the pudding is in thei eating. Is Union Triples a method which has proved itself worthy in actual practice? Mr. Goldsmith, who has rung it, says it has, and $I$, who have never struck a blow of it, cannot gainsay bim. But I should hardly think it is in the same class as Oxford Bob and Double Court, and on the whole I think we did well to leave it out of the ' Collection of Triples Methods.'
[Union Triples was the subject of aus article ' For Beginuers ' in our issue of August 14th.]

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to recast the peal of eight at Glodwick, Oldham.

Mr. Albert Smithers, a ringer at Dunsfold, Surrey, siace 1892, when the three old bells were recast and three new ones added, died last week. He had been a member of the cloor for many years. He was a member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and formerly of the old Winchester Diocesan Guild before the splitting up of the diocese.

Mr. F. E. Pitman is in Edward Surgical Ward, Farmborough Hos. pital, Eent, where he has been operated on for appendicitis. He is making excelent progress and hopes to be able to handle a rope agaln before Christmas. This is the first time he has missed Sunday service ringing since he started ringing aine years ago at Southampon.
The bells at Ilchenter Church, Somerset, are to be restored and relung in a new frame by Messrs, Gillatt and Jolvston.
The dedication of the bells at Habberton, Devon, is to take place on November 21st, instead of the 14 th as at firgt announced.
The marriage took place in London last week of Mr. James E. Davia and Miss E. E. Hardeastle, who are making their home at 118 , Sarsfeld Road, Balham. Mr. Davis has, for more than 40 years, been prominent in London ringing circles, and Miss Hardeastle is a welllinown member of the Ladies' Guild. Their many friends will extend to them cordial congratulations and good wighes.

SHOULD LADIES RING WITH HATS AND COATS ON?

A SUGGESTION TO TEF LADIES' GUILD.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-I cannot see how a lady can ring comfortably with a cat on any more than a man can. There is no law against a female removing her coat in church, but there is against removing her hat.
St. Paul's words in I. Cor., xi, 5, 'But every womau that prayeth or propliesieth with fer head uncovered dishovoureth her head,' has beell extended to mean, she musi in no wise enter a place of worskip with uncovered head, whether praying or prophesying or not, or whether a service is proceeding or not, or whether ringing or not, as a belfry is considered part of the church.
The difficulty with the ladies is, their fashions in hats are always clanging. Sometimes a wide-brimmed hat or a atarina which is fatal to good ringing, or one of those charming little helmet hats of a few years ago, which were ideal for ringing, aud very becoming withal.
If inging ladies would adopt a special ringing hat, something like those brimless helmet hats, of a beret, the propicm would be solved at once. They need not be wor'n out of doors, but folded up and carried in a handbag.

A specially designed ringing hat for use by the Ladies' Guild would be on a par with the old achool tie.

BELLRINGERS' SERVICE.

A HAGBOUTRNE GOMMEMORATION.
The bellringers' annual serwice at Hagbourme, Berks, was held on Sunday, on the ninth anniversary of the dedication of the bell frome. After the service a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (Thurstans'): F. H. Abbott I, H. K. White 2, W. V. Webb 3, H. Bishop 4, J. Sawyer 5, R. G. Rice 6, A. H. Webb (conductor) 7, E. Sawyer 8.
Hagbonrue has a fine peal of bells, and the local newspaper, which pablighes the following verses, says it las been authoritatively stated that the bells of Hagbourne are the second finest peal in England.
When good Queen Bess was on the throne these bells of ours were cast, By unknown founders, working in a day that's long since past. Tliey graved thom with the maker's name and many an ancient rune, But the hand of God was with them when they chipped them for the tune.
Ho knew that throngh the ayes, in the spot where they were husg, Thoir voice would be His messenger whenever they were rung, And if at times the pulpit should appear to lose its power, For ever pure and true would be the message from the fower. The villages that lie azound, they boast about their peal,
And never for a moment own the jealousy they feel,
But they listen-how they listen-when the distant music swells, And old and young together say, "There go the Haghourne bells.'
Yeg, the Hagbourne bells are hinging, there's a wonder in their song, For other things have altered as the ages pass along,
But who can doubt the futire, and who can be afraid?
For the Hagbourne bells are ringing as the day when they were made.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL TOWER.   PROVIDING FOR WORLD'S HEAVIEST   PROVIDING FOR WORLD'S HEAVIEST RINGING PEAL. RINGING PEAL.  \author{ Cirder Foundation Like Railway Bridges.

}BY E. H. LEWIS

A number of members of the Lancashire Association and their friends, who had come to Liverpool for the antural dinner on Saturday, availed themselves of the opportunity to see the progress that has been made with the central tower of Liverpool Cathedral.

The party was met by the clerk of the works and were first taken through the drawing office. Here a sectional model was displayed, showing the arrangement for hanging the bells. Then they climbed 179 feet to the floor of the ringing room. On the way up and on arrival one was impressed with the immensity of the building. The tower is 75 feet square inside. In such a tower it would be possible to hang on one level twenty-five rings of eight belis each with a 14 cwt temor, or sixteen rings of ten bells each with a 25 cwt . tenor! The weight of the tenor of the ringing peal is to be four tons and a 10 ton bourdon bell is to be allowed for. So very special arrangements have to be made to support the 16 tons of swinging bells of the peal with so large a span.

The crown of the vault is about 170 feet from the floor, about the same height as that of Boston Stump. Clear of the vault by a few feet are the bottom edges of the huge girders that are to carry the load of bells. These four wirders are trussed steel structures, placed in pairs diagonally across the tower. The ends rest on other shorter girders which cross the angles of the tower. They look like two full size railway bridges, each with twenty fect clear track-way, about 85 feet in span and twenty feet deep, interlacing where they cross. Like railway bridges the ends ate mounted on rollers to allow for expansion. The twenty foot square at the intersection of the two bridges will ultimately be the ringing room.

Over the girders will be a foor and ten feet higher another foor, supported from the girders by reinforced concrete pillars. On this second foor will be the "beilframe,' which is not a frame in the ordinary sense of the word, but a series of wedge-shaper concrete pedestals arranged in a circle. These pedestals will each carry two bearings and all the bells are to swing in radial planes-that is, towards and away from the centre of the tower. All the wheels are to be roped on the inside of the wheels so that the ropes will fall in a perfect circle in the ringing room.

At present the tower walls are a few feet above the tops of the girders, and ultimately they are to reach a height of over 300 feet.

The general impression gained was that everything connected with the bells had been very carefully worked out, that they should not be more difficult to ring than St. Paul's, and that, like St. Paul's, it will not be a tower for begingers.

Some of the party expressed regret that the lift was not vet installed, but they were all very grateful to Mr . Claיtle Davis for making the visit possible, and to the clerk of the works for hie kindness in meeting thens.

SILENT DRAYTON BELLS

PARISHIONERS PETITION FOR 'HECM TO BE RUTG:

The bells of Drayton Parish Church, Berks, associated so iutimalely with the late Rer. F. E. Robinson, who was Vicar there for mary years, have been silent for some time past, owing to lack of ringers. They were heard agair last Saturday, when visiting ringers rang a peal of Stedman Triples, but of service ringiug there is now mone

In the past, appeals for ringers lave been made, but with litflo result. Fifteen parishoners have now petitioned the Vicar (the Row. B. J. Littlewood) to arrange to have the bells rung, butt the jroblem is one for which the Yioar is at present unable to find a solution. In their memorial the parishoners say

We, the undersigned parishoners and worshippers at Drayton Church, are anslous to khow if you will arrange to have the bells rung and chimed as in the past. We think it 1 nomentable that snch a beautiful peal of bells, hung for the use of the parish, shouth be silent.' Those signing the memorial state that the folloming are generally admitted facts: First, that the bells of Drayton Chureh used to be rung and chimed regulariy for every church service. Second, the bells are a beautiful peal, known far and wide rmeng campanologists for their full tolle and easy landling. Third, these same bells ara now mosty silent; " it is lamentahle, and more linan lamentable, a standing witness to the want of energy and enturasasm of possible young bellringers in the purish, a sol reflection upon the spirit, and the motives of the present day, when compared will the past.'
The memorialists go on to point out that botin in 1932 and 1933 appeals were made in the Parigh Magazine for volnnteers, bul dinat. there was t very feeble, half-hearted response, thourg experienced instuctors were fould who would lave been more than willing to teach. They also made reference to the late Rev. F. E. Rolynson, some binse Vicar of Drnyton, who whs the first man to ring in over one thonsand peals, and whose example did mueh to poptilarise ringing and introduce change ringing in out-of-the-way places.
The Rev. B. J. Littlewood wrote in duly in the nagazine: ' It is a sad reflection to know that the Drayton Church bells, which were once the pride and joy of its expert bellyinging Ficar, mo longer make an appenl to the possible chureh bellringen's of Drayton of the present day. Suuday after Sunday of late the beffry has been silont. save for the momentary ohiming of one bell, announcing the loour of divine service. Eight beautiful and far-famed bells lang in the charch tower waiting to be rung. It is almost impossible to believe that an equal number of persons from the pounser generation in Drayton cannot vet be found who ace willing to come forwatd and lenri the art of bellinging.' He extended an invitation to thoso who nre included to do so. The position stitl stands the shae to-dry.

BELL TONES

LEGTURE BY SIR WILLIAM BRAGG
At an cotversuzione beld at the Institute of the Royal Society of Great Britain Inst Triday erening, Sir William Brage eque another of his pobnalar lectumes on 'Sound.' Fe took hells and their' tones un liss specifie suljoct, and illustrated it in a simple and most interesting way ly the use of varjous modern scientific apparatius. The fratline methits however, were two hells of abont 5 cwi, eath, which Taylur and Cor. respectively.
The lechurd Iriefly described the tones which the prodnced from tuning forks, gongs, Chladui's plates, etc. Turning to the bells, he then aliciterl and amplifien, through the microphone, their ehief tones, viz., the lumbiote, fundenmentrl, nominal, thiri ("tierce ') and fifth ("quint '). Tn describing these he spoke of the extraordinary bleud of sonurls (often very complex) which minte to form that familiar hell toble which reaches our cars. As an instance of the difficulty of the subjent he atid that it seemed there are certain tones heard hy tho ma whin liave yet to be locater on the hell, if indeed they exist thore at nill.
Sir Widlan then explained on the piano and by mousical stavas on n blackliertd tile two necepteit methois of tining - the 'Simpson,' with its mium Lhird exemplifieci in the two hells they had there ihat evening, and the presimpson, with its major third hut flatlened seventh, illistrated by az eramophone record of the great bell at Cologne. To remarked, in suriking this geventh, that it whs impossible to get tha proper walue from a pinno of such tones.

In enmelnsion, a brief reference to the method of tuming a hell was made, illustrated by a morel apparatus, and the andience also heard records of a 'ring' of eighl, bells and of the famous Lavenliam tenor.
The distingnished vempany present listened with close attontion and pleasure to the well-known leeturer, who was leartily applanded at the pud. pleasant grathering of the 符athbam District of the Guildford Diocesna Guild was held at Yorktown, Camberley, on Saturday, when, despito a dronchine day, a tair mumber of menhers were present to try the newly-restored bells. On the previous Sunday the ring of eight, funed and rehumg by Messrs. Taylor and Co., had been dedicated, and thoge wha attended the meeting found a much inmproved peal which went entirely to their liking.
The very bright service, whinh was atteuded by choirmen and boys, who led the singing, was comducted by the Vicat (the Rev. F. W. T. Waithman), who, in his address, spoke of the lessons of All Saints' Day. The Vicar presided over tea in the Parislı Room and was supported by Mrs. Waithtana, the Guili treasurer (Mr. J. ## SURREY VILLAGE BELL SCHEME

RINGER＇S GENEROUS GIFT TO FUND

The bells of the Church of St．Mary the Virgin，Chiddingfold，one of the most picturesque of Surtey villages，have beon rocast and slighty increased in weight．The old ring of eight，cast by no fewer than seven different founders，between crra 1480 and 1894 ，were，as may le imagined，a very＇mixed，lot，and as the frane，buist originally in the sevententio century for fire bells and suloseguently added to，first for the addition of a sixth bell and theu for two firther trebles，had become decrepit and showed signs of having been atiacked by the deathowateh beetle，opportumity has been takea to make a ＇clean sweep＇and instal new bells in a new frame．
The work has been carried out it a highly satisfactory manaer by Messrs．Mears and Stainbank，and Chiddingiold can now toast of a very tuneful ring，which shonld prove a joy to ringers and rillagers alike．The old 5th bell was cast by Roger Landon at Wokinglam， abous the year 1480，and bears the inscription，＇Sancta Tribitas． Orn Pro Nohss，together with the＇R．L．＇fommer＇s shield and the ＇Lion＇s Head＇fonndry starup．On account of its antiquity and antiquarian interest，this bell lias been preserved and is hung＂dead． to be nsed as a minnte bell．It is replaced in the peal by a new bell， enst＇To the glovions memory of the reign of Kirg Gcorge V．，1910－

1936．＂Thzother seven bells have heen recast and by additiona！metal the peal has been raised from a total weight of 46 cwt to $50 \frac{\mathrm{cw}}{\mathrm{ch}}$ ， the tenor being now 12 cwt． 2 qr .26 ！3．in F shap，against the 10 cwt ． $3 \mathrm{q} \mathrm{J}^{\text {．in }}$ in of the farmer bell．The new bells aro tuned on the five－ tone larmonie principle ancl are hung in cast iron framework，on a double fonndation of steel girders，which span the tower tu both directions and thus help to tie the walls together．The whole of the girder wark has been cased in concrete and looks an extremely massive joh．All the lutest improvenents have been cmbodied in the fotings， which inctude rast irou headstocks，ball hearings and ball bearing pulleys．

IN MEMORY OF ZFEBRUGGE HERO．

A layge portion of the sost of the restoration has heen borne by Mr，T．O．C．Halghan，himself a ringer and a member of an old Cluddiugfold family．Two of the new bells have heen inscrimed in menory of his parents，the late Capt．Fenry Crosby Halahan，D．S．O． Zelburge Mole fin the valiant St．George＇s Day episode of 1918 ．One of the ollher bells lias heen given by Mrs．Trate，of Chiddingfold，in merioly of hel hustoand，the late Mr．A．F．Tate．
The willagers of Chiddinglold filled their chureh almost to over－ flowing on the aceasion of the dedication of the new bells on Wednen－ day evening of last week．Mr．J．Gray and Mr．H．C．Nash，D．S．M．， represented the Zeebrugge 1918 Assoiation．The service was con－ ducted by the Rector（the Rev．C．H．R．Baldwin），the lesson was reat by Capt．Crispin，R．N．，and the ceremony was performed by Bishop Golding－Bind（Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Guildford）， With the Rector and churchwardens the Rishop proceeded to the tower at the wast end，where Mr．A．A．Hughes（representing the founders）presented the rope attached to the pre－Reformation bell to Mr．R．F．B．Osborn（Rector＇s warden），who，in turn，banded it to the Bishop，requesting him to rededicate the restored peal of bells． The onstomary prayers followed，and the 13ishop then defivered the rope to the Rector，committing the hells to him as a sacred truet． The Rector then chimed the luely，and，as the procession returned to the clancel，the peal rang out in vounds，rung lyy the local benrl，Mr． Oliver Halalan taleing part．
The Bishop，in his address，spoke of the importance of worship， prayer and praise．The primary eall of the bells，he said，was＇Come， come，come！＇aud England would never he a really hoppy courtiy matil it found its way beck to the altan

After the service the opening louch un the bells was Jung by Chid－ dingfold，Faslemere，Godalming and Cuitdford members of the Diocestar Guild，and afterwards tomelnes wore rang by matay visiting ringers．

A GFNTROTS G1Fए

At a largely attended social gathering the Rector said the chnrela－ wardens had asken him to express the gratitude of the whole parisla to those who by subscriptions had helped to the realisation of their peal of hells．Where all had riven so fredy he wonld mention no mames except that of Mr．Oliver Halahan（applause）．He had given moge： generously aud on such a scale that it must have involven considerable sacrince．It was to his initimive and geverosity that they owed the achievement of their ambition in regard to the betls．They would remember him and his gallant father and devoted mother in memory of whon he had made the efft．The Rector thanked Mr．Hushes for the craftsmanship aud skill of his firm，and thanked Major Fesse，of Haslemere，the Master of the Guithford Diocesan Guild，fol his mivice and puidance．He thanght Major Fesse would agree that the diocese of Gaildford had another peal of lyells of which it might well he aroud（npmlause）．They were flad to know that someone from their awn parish（Mr．Carter）had been associated with the work in the conereting of the girders．
The Rector ammoneerl that the Bells Frund now stoot at E5 5517 s ．Fif． of which 810 16s． 9 ．was the collection un church that evouilug．＇Thm collection inchrated fl 5 s ．9d．given by the children of the day seliools． The churchwardens liad asked hin to stress the point that the monay for the hells lad been collecterl withont atyething in the way of an appal，herond a general appeal in the wasazine．There hed heal no begging．
Mr．Osborn，on hehalf of Chiddiareald churchpeople，bresented Bishop Golding－Bird with a croole astl a walking stick．looll msh， grown and made in Chiddingfold．He thanked the Assistant Bishop： for his visit．
Sneeches were also made by the Rural Dean the Rev．E．J．Seymanr． of Hamblecion and Bishop Colding－Bird，who thanked the peonle of Chtdelingfold for their gifts

tHE value of ringing by diagram.
'Illo Minor methouts which wa suggested yon should ligure out for foulsclyes lagt week were: (1) The methot with 'places across the trecile 'only, Double Court; (2) the same method witls, in addition, Zudi's place when the treble leads, Hereward Bob; (3) the method with "places across the treble' plus stli's when the treble lies an whule pull behind, London Bob: and (4) whis nethod, with 2nd's place nddex, when the treble leads, Danble Oxford Bob.
If you drew the diagrams and marked tho places where the treble crosses the working bell, you can write ont your own tables if you wish to learn the method hy the rule of 'passing the treble, but there shonld not be any real need. The diagram is the best way of learning a method.
It ringing any ' treble flominated method, the position of the treble is a guide of infinite value. Ever the experts, who can ring a peal in a Sirprise method, withont having seen a row of figures of it and need only the diagram, rely quite a lot on where they pass or dodgr with the treble. The treble is a finger post all the time.
To begin witls, of course, yoll may not see where the treble is until you actually come to strike over it, but careful observation will in time enable yon to see exactly what its position is, even if it is at the wher end of the hells. Thus there are nany ringers who, if they are not sure where mext to dodge in, say frandisire or Bob Major, jusl keep an eye on the trelle to see when it Ieads.
Thim point we want to emphasise is that whether you ring your metherns by memorising separately, each piece of work after you pass the treble, or whether youl antry in your mind the whole outline of the work as shown in the dingram, the places where you pass the trehie should be thoroughly learned.
There is this difference between tive two methods of memorising a mellind. If you ring solely by 'passing the treble,' you may not be guite sire where you wil] next meet if until you actually como upon ii. then if you are not furite certain of your own position yon may gel hepelessly lost. If you viug by diagram, with the position of the trebio defluitely marked, you will at lenst know where to expect it. If yon nll ring by passing the treble and the treble gets out, you all get out : if yous ring by diagram and the treble goes wrong, you can probatily put him rishit.
Ringing liy diagram lins this further advantage. Yon have the whaln conrse in your mind's eye, and. as it were, can look far enough athent dawl your paill to see exactly where, yon are going before your coms to the actual work. If yon rely entirely npon a descriptive table (if we mav so call i6), in which you have to wait, until you mect the treble lefors you know what uext to do, your vision is very largely restricted.
Try, therefore, to learn your new methods by diagram. Yon will finct in nll of them that one lalf is the reverse of the other-which sulustrntinlly yeduces your task-while in some eases it resolves into fonm similar quartexs turned abont, either upsicle down, or back to frunt.

Take Double Oxford as ni crample. You will find that you lave a three-pull dodge on the front before leading. Then, after making znd's, youl have a three-pull dodge after leading. Onc is the reverse of the other. The same thing happens at the hack before and after the whole puils helinki, with Sth's place sandwiehed in between.
The work in $3-4$ consists of a dodge, places across the treble and a dodre. The planos coming down are the reverse of those going up, Thus, with very litile effort, youl can grasp the detaile of the work the courre, and all you have to do is to commit their sequence to memory. You have a liclp in knowing where to look for the treble ly the fact that if you moct the troble belore a certain piece of work in one half of the consse, yous will meet it in the corresponding place affer the reversed yersiou of the wort in the other half of the conrse. Tf youl meet it, going ono way, in the contre of a piece of work, as Yoil do in tho place-making in Donblo Oxford, you will meet it in the centre of the reverse piece of work going the opposite direction. Study rour dingrans, therefore, and ring your methods by their nid. Whin roal have drawn your 'graph, mairk on it the pixce where each beil starts. Learn this as well and yon will find it a great aid to somelhing mare advanmed later on. 'Tables ' ao not lend themgolyes anything like as well to this linowledge as do diagrams.

THIRTY-THREE YEARS AS TOWERKEEPER.

MDFNLED BELLS FOIR ANSTEY RINGER.
After a lony and painful jiness, patiently borne, the death took place on October 25th, at 38, Bradgate Road, Anstey, Leicestershire, of Mr. Alfred Cuffin. For & bout 33 years Mr. Cuffin wis the bighly respected towerkeepel at St. Mary's Church, Anstey, a position which his fatluer held for mairy years before him. Furing that time decoased taught many fonngsters bow to sing a bell, and be always did his intmost to make visiting ringers welcome.
OnIy six weeks previously the bells Mr. Cufflin loved so well hri been reopenex after the 6th, 7th and tenor had been recast and a few minor repairs cartigl ont to the oblerg of tha ring.
The fineral took place on Wednesday, October 28t1. The first part of the service was held in St. Mary's Clarch nud was partiy choral. The inturment tank place in the Ansfoy Cmetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes, inctuding ono from lis feliowringers and one from the parachial Climeh Comucil. MLessis. $R$. $F$. Elkington and $F$ : Jordan represented the rinuerg at dise funeral. Deceased's two ringing dangliters, Mrs. Mary $L$. Disnoy and Miss Eileen F. Cuffint, and his son-in-law, Mu'. Alban Disuey, were amongst: the chief mourners
In the evening, as a last token of respect, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rumg at St. Marw's Chureh. with the hells laffmuffled, by the following menthers of the Midand Connties Associa tion, six of whom are members of ihe loonl band: &. If. Harrison 1 , A. Disney 2, R. S. M. Kunith 3, F. H. Fitton 4, I. F. Wado 5, R. .'. Elkington (conductor) 6, R. Barmow 7, F. Tordan 8. Also 240 Stedman Doubleg with 4-6-8 covering, with Mise I. Simpson and Messrs. C. W. Hopkinson and s. Sleath takimg part.

AMBITION.

To the Editor

Sir, All ringers of the right-thinking type will agree with the firsi paragrapli of your leader of the 30th nit. But how many with ambition in this present age aye really apprciated? There is one big bugbear to ambition: Immediately a ringer shows any signs of it, he is up aganst another class of ringer (generally men who have held the limelight in the past), who are afraid that his arobition is going to ontwit them in varions wegrees and positions in the fraternity. This class of ringer should be the last to complain of fepleted bands instead, he is usually the first. Often one hearg the ald cry, "We nan't get ringers.' It would be truer to say, "We can't kenp ringers '! Experience has convinced we that the man with only a lukewarn interest is the none most appreciated. Scathing, but true. In and around Northampton there are over a score of such ringers. in addition to others who have had ambition but have 'pacled up' 21 dispust. At the same time, there are towers witly eirht or more bells where it is no uncommon thing to hear three chimed for Sunday services, and, when rung, more often then not only to Doulnes. It is a deplorable state of affairs, but one which, after alt, cannot be worsdered at. Ambition we all know is essential for suecest, but when it cannot be taken in the right spirit it is no use complaining of the present sad state of affairs in many belfries, wlere in time one can foresee there lyeing neitler ringing nor ringers.
Northampton.

SATISFACTION OF AMBITION ATTAINED

Mr. James George, who has not yet recovered from his serious illness, but whose interest in everything relating to ringing is unimpaired, writes to congratulate us upon what he describes as 'an excellent leading article' 'in ont last issue. "Too many young ringers," he says, "are onfy satisfied to stay iu their own iowers. The attainment of ambition of the proper hind is g great satisfaction to any ringer.
His many friends will he glad when Mr. George has suffeciently recovered to be in the belfry again, so that lie maty achieve further ambitions.
BROMSGROVE, WORCS.-On Sundny, October 18th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: A. J. Martin $I_{1}$ A. O. Lewis 2, F. F. Martin (condnctor) 3, R. Lewis 4, F. B. Martin 5, S. J Jones 6, F. Crump 7, H. Norbury 8. The first quarter-peal of Stedman rung for Sunday service by an antirely local band at this church.

OBJECTIONS AND REMEDIES.

Last week we recorded a case where parishioners had petitioned a vicar to have the church bells rung again, after a period during which, owing to the lack of ringers, only one betl has been chimed for services. This week comes news of an opposite kind-a memorial signed by a considerable number of people in Taunton-to have ringing, both at St. Mary's and St. James' Churches, considerably restricted. Both these churches are in the thickly populated portions of the town. We also refer in this issue to the silence of a celebrated peal of bells in London, a silence broken only on very rare occasions. Until Sunslay evening these bells had not been rung for service for years.
It is always gratifying to know, as in the case of Drayton, that the parishioners miss the belis when they are not rung, and that they have sufficient interest in them to seek to get ringing restored. At the same time it is of no use to be blind to the fact that the situation in populous districts is different and dificult. At Taunton, apparently, the chief objection is to early morning ringing and peals; at St. Bride's the objection is to ringing at any time. When ringers pursue their art all the world about them can hear, and for that reason when bells are situated in thickly populated districts ringers in their own interests should exercise their craft in moderation, just as they expect the public to show toleration. We do not suggest for a moment that the ringing done in the two towers in Taunton is not done in the strictest moderation, but we do know that no toferation is shown towards ringing at St. Bride's.

While agreeing that the public must have consideration and that ringers would damage their own interests in ignoring substantial and reasonable objection to the sound of the bells, we hold that the church authorities could do a vast amount to placate the public and maintain the use of their bells if they would adopt the simple expedients that are so constantly advocated by those who really know what they are talking about. The bricking up of louvres, or the use of sound resisting material in the windows of the bell clamber, has been proved to have all the results desirable. To point to one of many instances that could be quoted: Bradiord Cathedral, which stands right over the General Post Office. It was impossible to conduct business in this latter building when the bells were ringing and ringing would have had to stop if nothing had been done to moderate the sound. The louvres, however, have been effectually blocked, the sound finds its way out through the roof; the bells can (Continued on page 734.) be heard perfectly in the ringing chamber; from outside there is never a complaint.

We have often been staggered to find, when new bells have been put up or expensive restorations carried out, that while hundreds of pounds have been spent on the bell work, for the sake of a little extra money the bells have been left to become an almost immediate source of annoyance to surrounding residents. It should, we contend, always be part of a bell restoration scherne to provide for the moderation of the sound, outside as well as inside the tower. Moreover, in every populous area where the bells are over noisy, it should be the business of the ringers to urge upon the church authorities the need for carrying out a scheme of their own volition, instead of waiting for pressure outside, which in these days of growing feeling against noise of all kinds, will assuredly come sooner or later.

The ringing, which commencerl ahout 3 oclouk, was continued until shorthr after 8 o'clock, save for an adjournment for a short service in the church, conducled by the Rector; and tea, findly artanged by Mrs. Walter White.
Aruple justice tiaving been dolle at the fable to the good thinges provided, a conrse or two on the hadibells was ring befora a returia to the tower
During the mecting methods ranging frow Grandsire Dontiles to Chmaridge Surprise Minor were rung, also an nitemut for Cotgrave Alliance, but owing to this being sprung on some of the ringers at very short notice, it was not an waqualjfied saceess-but better luck next time.
This may he said to lave been a very shocessful meeting, exprensions of pleasure and enjoyment and hopes to conse atyan heing heard on all sides.

FOR BEGINNERS

A SBVEN-MTTHOD PTEAJ OF MINOR.
In recent articles we have referred ta methods whid internally are similar in construcion, but are varied by the addition or omission of End's place when the treble leads and 5th's place when the treble lies its wholo pult behind, and wo have showh, we hope, the value of the diagram as a means to learning the mothods.

Now, in the methods of this type diagrams can be ntilised in an intercsting way. Mr. J. Th. Dyke, hon. secretary of the Brth and Wolls Association, who wes tito anthor of the Central Council's handbook of 'Hints to Instrintors and Beginnerg, explains low he gets fonr methode from one diagram. ]t is based on the linking up of the hall-leads by the 5 this andior Rure places. Mr. Dyke worked out a course of Canbridge Minor on squared praper, filligg up with black cach squarc into which the bell wonld fall throughout the courge. Fle then cat it into lalf-leads. These fralf-leads care be joined Logether in four ways, llus producing, in aldition to Cambridge, Norfolk, Ipswith nnd Primrose at a few seconds' notice.

Thase ere forr Surprise nethodis, but the same thing can be done with plain methods, fird if you like to make ont a disgram of Double Contr in this wry, you chu cut il inlo len pieces by dividing it between dob hlows of the treble in frout and hehith, and by rearranging thear produca $n$ diagram of cither of the other three methods at will.

While on tilis subject of similar mothods of Minor there are two oflers, simple wariants of thase alrearly given, which you might Ithe to shinty, es, with them and the ather four lased on Double Court, and $n 720$ of Flain Ball, youl linve geven 720's for a peal in seven different methods
Lythmal Holy and Ithelwal Hols ate very like London Bob and Donble Oxford. Everybling in the same execpt in the dodeing on the front. In London Dob anfl Donble Oxfowl two bells meet in I-2 when tha treble gers away and radige combimonsly mulil the treble weturns.
In Lythum and Thelwell these hatls lie still over each ather in furn in the middle of the lead. At first sight it looks wather a trichy piece of work, but, in reality is isn't if you examine the work of the two bells iu combination.
Tho bell that takes the treble off, leads, lats one blow in 2 nd's (parie of a dodge). leads another whole pall, then has a whole pull in 2nd's, ancl one blow at Iead (alsa part of a dodye), then it passes tho treble and roes away to its dodering and place-making in $3-4$.

Pho boll coming ait to the fronti from $3-4$ aloes the work in tite reverso order. It hats one hlow at lead (part of a dodge), maks Znd's mul leads a whole pull, then one blow in 2nd's (part of a dodget nud leads anolicer whole pull, as fle treble comes to lead again. Let us put down a lead of Double Oxford and Thelwall so that you may examine the difrence. We will separale the two front bells to make jif ejearer, mat the two back belis so that you can also see better the phace-making across the treble in 3-4.

| Double Oxford | Thel wall |
| :---: | :---: |
| 123450 | 123456 |
| 214365 | 214365 |
| 241356 | 241356 |
| 423165 | 423165 |
| 243615 | 243615 |
| 426351 |  |
| 243651 | 423651 |
| 426315 | 246315 |
| 246135 | 421653 |
| 421653 | 412635 |
| 412635 | 146253 |
| 146253 | 142635 |

The liner neross indime the half leads.
These figures shaw what lithlo difference therc js betweer the fro methods, and it slould be simple when you lave learnt Donhle Oxford to go straight to Thelwall.

Joythan is I'luelwall without the 2nd's place when the treble leads nund has the same relation to it that Loudon Boblias to Double Oxford. Tho sceond "tead head" of the course, that is the row under the hottons linc, will be 164523 , and as 6th's place is thus made when the treble leads, the bob inas to be made on the three lasek bells insterd of the threr front ones.
Whatever the method of Minor, the bob is made in 4th's. If the method has anul's phace, one bell runs Out and tho other In, as in Bob Minor. [But if, when the treble leads, fth's place is made instead of Zud's, then at a boh the belts behind have nuother dodge together instead of separatinf. 'Tlife work which they thea fake up varles, of course, with the method.
'llie calline of these two classes of methods should not give the conductor dificulty, for just as lie can get a 720 in methods with 2 nd's placo by calling ihe 6 th wrong, Riult, Wroug, twiee repeaten, and doubling it by singles callen at the last plain Right in each half, so, in methods with Eith's place wheu lie trehle leader ren's can be ohinamed by calling the 5 tia Jn, Out In, nud at single at the last plain Ont in ench half.
Now, whot alsout praelising for that peal in seven methods?

EVENTTUL DAY AT LIVERPOOL

Liverpool extended a hearty welcome to the mombers of the Lancashire Association and their criends when they assembled in that city for the fifth allzual dinuer on Saturday, October 31st.
Early in the afternoon many members of the party visited the Liperpool Cathodral in order to see the progress that has been mado witin the central tower. An acconnt of this wisit by Mr. E. H. Lewis appeared in last week's issue of "The Ringing Word.
Later the members of the association and their friends were the guests of the Lord Mayor of Liverpool in the Town Hall. In the unavoidable absence of the Lord Mayor of Liverpool, the guests were received by the Deputy Lord Mayor (Aldcrman F. T. Richardson) alk Mrs. Richardson, supported by the president of the association (the Rev. A. Scotf). After tea a short address of welcome was given by Ahierman Richardson. The president and the Rector of Liverpool replied. Alderman Richardson condneted the party through the buind ing, pointing out the objects of interest. The music was supplied by the Liverpool Gity Police Band.

About 180 were prescut ab the dinner in the Beap's Paw Restaurant The president of the association presided. Apologies for absence were received from the Bishop of Liverpool (owing to indisposition), the Bishop of Manchester, the Rev. Canon O. C. Marshall (president of the Yorkshire Association), the Fifitor of "The Ringing World,' aut Hr. W. S. Matm, the nnly sunviring founder of the association.

After the toast to tho king, Mr. E. H. Lowis, president of the Central Conncil, proposed "Erosperity to the Lancashire Association. Mr. Lewis referret to brondeast ringing and said that many did not appear to know when ringing was fit for broadeasting, because they did not seen to be able to hear good striking. In order to achieve better striking, Mr. Lewis urged nore practice on handbells. After attaining perfeet striking on bandbelfs it would be much ensier to obtain good striking in the fower, and Mr. Lewis urged vingers not to be setisfied motil blicir ringing in the tower was as good as the best handbell ringing they had lieard.
Mr. George R. Newton, Tesponding, wifolded the story of ifin assoriation and of gratb achevements in the past. He referred to the fact that bells were now silent in towers that had been famons for good ringing ant deeply regretted that such a thing had come to pass. Mri. Newlon went on to say that the strengtly of an associa bion shouk he judged hy its standard of peal ringing, and they dit not seem to get the same class of peals as they did 30 or 40 years ngo. He assumed that it was flue to the loss of mayy of the hest men.

IIVERPOOL RECTOR'S SUGGESTION

The toast of "The Gnests' was proposed by the hon. treasin'er' of the association, Mr. Claude I. Davies, and the Rector of Liverpool (the Rev. David Railon) responded. Mr. Railton said that he did not think that people fulty appreciated bellringing until they weut to places where they could not henr them, and he thought a sure way of making bellinging nppreciafed by the general public would be to stop all ringing for i period of some months. Ho would nevel forget his feelings on heariug the bells of Folkestone Parish Church on his arrival from France after the war. Mr. Railton went on to snggest the extended use of bells to occasions other thau Sunday services. The coming Coronation would afford an opportunity of seeing how the people of the country valued bells; they would be ringing out over the woild and symbolising what could not be expressed in words, the meaning of our constitution and hopes for the fiture
The President, in replying to "The Fealth of the Clairman,' pro posed by Mr. F. R. Willians, mresident of the National Guild of Police Ringers, thanked the association fur the honour that they bad conferred upon him by electsig him president in the place of the tade Canon Elsee. He realised that no light task awaited him in succeeding a man respected and beloved by all and one who had been president of the association for over 45 years. Mr. Scott referred to the specches of Mr. Lewis and Mr. Newtor, and said that it was the duty of the present menbers of the association to achieve the same standards, if not better ones, as those mentioned by Mr. Newton. That meant each individual member of the association becoming as efficient as zossible, including the president. After expressing the thanks of the company to those responsible for the success of tho evening, Mr. Scott ended his remarks by saying that the president was at the service of the association
Messes. Cromptan and Blandell, of the Liverpool Gathearal choir, nud Mr. T. Gliristie cutertained with songs and duets, Mr. C. Shavples by handloell tapping, and Mr. and Miss Booth with handbell ringing. The mrangements of the dinner were admirably made by Mr Claude I. Daries.

LORD MAYOR'S GRAMOPHONE BELLS

MANCHESTER'S SUBSTITUTE AT THIS YEAR'S CIFIC CEREMONY.
The new Lord Mayor of Manchester took offec ta the accompaniment of gramophone bells. The belis at Manchestar Town Hall are now at Lourghorougl Foundry, where they are being recast and formed into at ring of wwelve. The bells have long played a part in the civic celebrations on November 9th, and in order that tradition might be maintained, a gremophone record of the bells of St. George's, -Stockport, were amplified from the Town Hall tower. Grandsire Caters and 'firing' had been recorded, and by the use of two records and two turntables the bells could be repraduced continuously for as long as desired.

ALDENHAM'S FIRST LOCAL PEAL.

LORD ALDENHAM PRESENTU PEAL BOARD.
On the eve of All Saints, a peal tablet was dedicated at Aldenlam, تerte, by the Vicar, recording the first peal rung on the bells by an entirely local band. After prayers and a psalm, the tablet was unveiled and a touch of tepples rurg by the band who took part in the peal.

The trablet is of polisher eak lettered in black, a simple, ditnified record.

With the Vicar ard ehurehwandens (Messrs. A. P. Goote aud H. P. Harland), the ringers and ante or two guests enjoyed an excellent tea at the Fillage Club.
Mr. Inwood, on behalf of the society, thenked the Vicar and wazdens far their kindly interest, and the conductor for his services in enabling them to ring the peai.

Mr. G. H. Horton roplied, and the Vicar, in well-chosen words, gave an account of the bells and expressed his appreciation to the band Who ring for Sunday services. Ho encouraged them to advance to higher methods.
The tablet was presented by Jord Aldenhem sud the company entertained by the wardens.
Thig beautiful church is chiefly of the Perpendiculat period, with mone Early English and decorated work, roof carved and painted. It dates from 1480. The fout, an oak chest and some brasses date from about 1250: there are also several interesting tombs. The bells were cast origipally in I883. The tenor ( 15 cwt .) was cast by Chandler in that year; the 7th, 6th, $5 t \mathrm{~h}$ and 4 th old bells wele recast in 1885. The three smallest (undated) were cast by Meara between $1780-1850$ and a sructus by Williem Whifman. The tower was erected ahout the 13 th entury.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

NORTHERN BHANCH AT SCUNTHORPE.
A very plaasant meeting of the Northarn Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at the new Charter Town of Gcunthorpe on October Slst. Owing to weddinge, the bells were not availeble unit 3.15, after which hour, however, the fine peal of eight were mede good use of during the afternoon and evening. Menibers attended from Bigby, Grimsby, Cleeby, Burtou-on-Stastier, Bertou-on-Humber and the local tower: The Guild Ringing Waster (Mr. R. Riohardnon) and Mrs. Bichardson were present, also ringiug friends from Treeton and Lea.
The service was conducted by the Vicar, tho Rev. Charles Eteele, who gave an excellent address. Mr. Tamsey presided at the organ. Thirtu-two afterwards set down to tea. The president (Archderoon Parry) presided over the business meeting, supported by the Vienr and Guild Master. It wes decided, providing it can be arranged, to hold the district committee meeting at Waltham on Saturday, Jantary 9 th.
The District Ringing Master (Mr. N. Bray) said that he should like to see repregentatives from all the towers in the district at the commititee mesting.
The President expressed pleasure at the presence of the Guild Master and Mrs. Richardson, sesing that they had such a long dietanes to travel. The Master, in reply, said he made an effort to attend aa many meetings in the Guild as possible.

Votes of thenks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, to the organist and those who had made the arrangements, were passed, and a similar vote to the president for presiding brought a very happy meeting to a close.
The President mentioned tart the meeting was unique in that four members of the Central Council were present.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Central Brancls of the Ely Diocesan Agsociation was hald at wilingliam, Camba, on Saturday, November 7th. Ringing was pery good and ranged from Plain Bob to London Surpriva.欮embers were present from Cambridge (Great St. Mary's and St. Bene't's), Chatteris, Haddenlam, wilburton, Over and the local company. As a service had beea arranged for 6.30 , the Rector (the Rev. Canon A. C. Hair) consented to omjt the 4.30 service, the Guild serviad taking the place of eveysong. Canon Hair gave an iptaresting address, basing his remarks on the one word 'Unity.'
Further ringing took place afterwavis until ebout 8.30.

RINGING AS AN ACT OF WORSHIP.  To the Editor.

Sir, Tlie report of Canon J. G. le P. Fiatten's adidesa at the Dolifield meeting gives rise to cortain reflections. Do let us clear our thinking of hundug; however sineerely we, as ringers, gtwive to lipe up to tho paltern of Christ, our thoughts while we are ringing are centred ronad the method and the striking, the co-ordination of mind and muscle in an agreeable pursuit. Even thongh our art is consecrated to the worship of Gorl, is it true to say that it is, in fitgelf, a sujliaient act of worship?
True worship has Gorl as the Central Figure, and organ, choir and ringing are meant but to prepare and direct onr ninds thither, all working togetiner as part of a pattern. To divorce ringing from the jatterin and call it as great an act of worship as the servica itrelf does not seem to me to be aiming very high.
May I presume to sumgest a better way to Ganon Hatten and to other nlergy: give us lavmen a service which is thrillingly alive with the apivit of Jesus Chist, where we may see the vision of the transformation that Glorious Manhood can make in us, and we shall stay to such a gerviee because we want to, and not from any sense of mere duty.

Famous Bells that are now Seldom Rung.

Many Cumberland Youths and geveral Cumberland Ladies assembled at SL. Bride's Chureh, Fleet Stwect, Londou, on Sunday eveniug, when they lad the now rare opportunity of ringing these famous bells for service. The bells had not been rumg on Standar for a long period.
Thes were rung last yerr for the Silver Jubilee and on Lord Mryou's Day. This year they were open on the occasion of the Central Council meeting and were rung for Lord Mayor's Day on Monday, as well as on the previous evening. Next year's programme, it is said, will comprise zinging for tire Corovation celebratjons and Lord Mayor's Day. In the intervals the ropes are removed from the wheels and日tored-a neccssary precaution to prevent rapid deterioralion.

PETITION AGAINST BELLS

IAUNTON RUSIDENTE PROTEST

There is an agitation in Trunton for restrieting the ringiar of the bells at the Churches of St. Mary aud St. James. A petiliols, containing 240 signatures of people living or working in the neighbourhow of the churches, has been sent to the Ficar, charchwardens and Curres Council special atfention is drawn to occasions when the bells are rung as esrly as 6 a.m., or 7 a.m, anel to the prolonged bonts of ringing for three of four lours, with hardly a break, and the petitioncrs ask that this ghonld be discontilued.
The Rev. W. H. Heaton-Rensham, Vionr of St. Mary's, writing jn the current issue of the Parisla Magazine, points ont that the petitioners include occupiers of offices, such as those in Hammet Street., who are not normally at worl during the times which are the subject of camplaints.
Others who have signed the appeal, however, are nearby residents.
Belis have been rung at botli churches for many centaries, long before any of the present houses, shops or offices were built, so it is nery matter,' the Viear abserved
It deserves attention, lowwever, and it will be considered at the 'mreh Council when next they meet.'

HISTORIC PEALS

for at reminder of the thing for which the Church stande. And the bells are the onjy sounds of this kind that ate likely to reach them. St. Briders tower is one of the most beantiful of Wrey's steeples, and it has the distinchon of being the first Loadon tower to contain a peal of twelve bells. In 1710 A braham Rudkall, of Gloucester, cast a peai of ten for St. Bride's, with a tenor of 28 ewt., and on January 11th, 1717, what is supposed to have been the first peal of Grandsire Caters ever rumg was accomplished on these bells by the Society of London Scholats.
In 1719 Rudhall added two trebles to make a wing of twelve, and an old tablet records the following performance:-
On Tiscsday the loth January, Ir 24 , tie SOCJTETY OF On Tucsday, the loth January, I724, the SOCIBTY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS rung compleatly a peal of 5,060 GRANDthat performed the Srine were as follows, viz. On November 22nd, 1725 , the College Yontis rang at St. Pride's what, fo believed to be the first peal of liob Royal, composed and conducted by Benjumin Anmale, nad on February 26th, 1726, they lang the first peal of Roh Maximas. Fille rinters were Wilizaz Woodruff, Robert Catliu, Edwand Chadwell, John Ward, John Hardman, Francis Geary (who afterwatds becamo an Admiral), John Dearmore, Sanmel Jeacock, William Langhton, Peter Merrygarts, William Thomproa, Beajami, Anamble. It, is recorded that all the persons who puas in this penl left the church in their own carriages," Fleet Street, in thosc days, it is said, used to he thronger with pervinges full of centiry who liad como to leatr the music of the bells. Bute times lave clanged; apparentiy no one wants to hear theu now.
Benjamin Anmaloe, who dien on Fehruary Ist, 1756, was buried at St. Bride's, anrl the following panegric appeared in the powspaper nceant of his death and buriai :-

A fow nights ago was buried muler the tower of St. Bricte's Mr. Reujamir Amabel, the best ;inger that was evel known in the world. Till his time ringing was only called an Avt, bint from the Strengtis of his great Genius, he manded it to the Malhematics and tis now a Scielice. This man of Firntes and Ringlug was like at Newton in Plilosophy, a Ratcliffe in Physte, a Hardwiek in Wisdom und Law, a Handel in Music, a Shakespear in Writing, a Garrick in Actimg. O rave Bon.
Other early peals on the bells in addition to those mentionex were 5,104 Grandare Cinques bs the Tuion Selolats in 1751, and 5,238 Treble Bol Maximus by the College Jonthe in 1777 . The $5 h_{1}$ nad 6 th bells wete verast hiv Summel Kinight. ify 1736, but the rest are still the hells cast ly Thillall 226 years ago.

Great interest was created in Hobart, Tasmania, when the belis for St. David's Cathedral arrived by the s.s. 'Port Alma.' 'They are 13 in number, with a tenor of 15 cwt., and eight will be hung for ringing. The erection of the bells, to the specifications and drawings of the founders, Messrs. J. 'Taytor and Co., of Loughborough, is being carried out by Messrs. Johnston and Wells, EnÉneers. A Hobart paper, referring to the arrival of the bells, said, ' Passersby paused to wiew clesely tho four great bells which, of the total of ehirtera, had heen newly moved fromz the wharfside to the tower foot. The hell coming in for closest scrutiny was that around which, benorth tho houge sigis of its Lougliborough founders, run the inscription, 'Fach chime or step from earth to Heaven till ye veach the great whits throne.

CLIPPING THE CATHEDRAL.

bells of LEAMINGTON HASTINGS.

IN USE AGAJN AFIER QUARTER OF CENTURY

Not for 26 years, with tho exception of the kiay the Armistice was signed, have the chureh bells been rung at Leamington Hastings, owing to their unft coudition. A fund was started some years ago for the restoration work, but as inderest. in the suljject fluctuated a great deal, very little was done nutil the present Vichr (the Rum. G. E. Wigram) was inducled in 1988. He revived the lost interest, and by private house whis drives and social ovents the fund graw slowly till at last, by a hequest from Ganou Caitwright, followed by a gift from the children of the late Canon and Mrs. Sitwell, the moneys aggregated to the ampunt required.
A tablet is erected in the belfry, which luears the worde: "These bells were rehumg in 1936 atio cost of $£ 350$ hy the prishioners, assiet ed by a bequest from the Iate Canon Thoodore Jalm Gartwright in memory of his murriago in this chareh, and a gift from the olildren of Canon Degge Wimot Sitwell and his wife. The restoration work whs carvied out My Messrs. J. Tayl of Loughborough.
The hells were rededicated on All Saints' Day, which was the patronal festival of the church, The Rev. E. S. Powell (Vicar of Staverton) performed the ceremony and with the following words gave them into the care of the Vicar and the chirchwardens: Receive these bells that have been solemuly set apart from all profane and unhallowed uses as a sacred trust committed unto thee, and take caro that they be ever and only used in God's service and for Fif glory.
Subsequently a plain course of Grandsire Doubles was mung by members of the Warwickshire Guild: O. H. Webb (Rugby) 1, J. B.
Fenton (Rugby) 2, M. C. C. Melville (general segretary) 3, I. H. W. White (Ringing Master) 4, W. A. Stote (Doventry) 5 .
In the course of his sermon, the Rev. E. S. Powell said: 'Let me take this opportunity of congratulating rou as a parish and a congregation on the relanging of your charch belis. It is a great work which has at last been safely and satisfactorily accomplishecl.'
In conclusion, the preacher said: "Once more you liape your bells set high in their steeple-well, truly and safely lianging. You will be Iooking forwaw, longingly and hopefully, to bearing these belis regularly linging. You have not spent all that money in order that one should only ine rung or that five shand be tolled ar chimed, hut so that they shonlat give forth their full voice, which they car only do when rung in the manner they are inteuded.

Bellinging requires a great deal of application and perseverance an the part of those who practise it. Fon will have to yet learners, but yon must note expect them to be able to ring so welt in a few weeks as those you liave heard ringing jnst now. In Leamington Hastings pou are only a small community, but I ask you, now you have done this frrst part of the work, that yon will yeally do something move than one generally heats bellringing described-a call to worship -but believe that the minging in itself is an act of praise to God and an act of worship. I would ask as many of you as possible to be practical and persevering ringers.
Inmediately after the service, 120 Grandsire Doubles what rung by the same five ringers, and then, in turn, otleer ringers fram Rngby, Warwick, Bapbury, London, Clifton, Nuneaton, Swindon, Brinklow, Dunchurch, Monks Kirby. Chilvers Coton and Staverton tried the ropes.
The ringras were entertained to tea after the service by the Vien and Mrs. Wigrau and Mejor and Mrs. Anson.
Several Iparners lave already volnnteered to become ringers, and arrangements have heen made for their instruction.

NEW OCTAVE IN GUILDFORD DIOCESE

Shalford's six bellis recast into gight

The dedication of a new ring of belle nt the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Shalforl, near Guikiford, Has griven the Guidford Diocesan Guild area another ring of eight. The tower previously contained a peal of six, but when their restoration became necessary, it was decided to terast them into it lighter ring of eiglit. The scheme was promoted during the incumbency of the Rev. David Railton, now Rector of Liverpool, pud to him is due vety largely its success.
A large congregation attended the decication service on Friday evening, the ceremony beind performed by the Bishop of Guidfort, Tlie Vicar (the Rev. M. Tobias) concluctod the service and the lesson was read by the Rev. D. Railton. The lishop went to the ringing colmanler for the act of dedication and was accompanied by the vicar, the Rev. D. Railton, the Bishop's claplain and the chnychwardens. The wailing contregation lenrned of thic completion of the ceremony by the sonnd of the bells, ring in tounde by the local ringers.

BISFOP AND MINISTRY OF CHURCF BFLLS
In his address the Bishops said the ministry of church bells liad always secmed to him a very interesting subject. The words which tolld alout it from Tennyson's 'In Memorian ' were well known. The bells helk together all the memories of a man's life, following him with slrength, quiet and inward peace. The very lamiliarity of the sound of the bells of their old home, their village, theis towns, hat preached them something of that strength and quijetness of spirit that cane from things that were familiar.
Was all tind just sentiment? He had wo answers. The first was diat it was lochl patriotism-the love of one's own place in which certain familiar sounds such as the sound of the churela bells of the old home struck a note that was better than they first thought.

Yon people of Shalford,' said the Bishon,' n'e proud that the bells slowid ring ont again. That is local patriotism; the love of the's own place. It is a feeder to the patriotisms that are greaterthe love of country and the love of mankincl.'
Tis the world to-day, he said, the trouble was that many people That the frult that they hitd no root in any place which really belonged to them.

Thio best citizcus were those who knew that true ritizenship was not helonging to a combtry which harl no boundaries, but the country Which was heyond thase present confines of time and space. Every time lise bells sounder from tawer or stepple something was being led to the beart and wind of mea ahout that different citjzenship. The great yote which shoula be sliviel in this age was the confidenit somed of Clristiay faitlo. Those hells as they rang out would make that a note of confidence and bope alout the position of our church ist that nge.

After thi service tonches weye rung on the new hells, which have been cast ly Messrs. Taylor mud Co.

BELLS' INTHRESTING HISTORY

Shalford bells have a long history. The Inventory of Edward VT.'s reign indicates that the church then contained five bells, whose weights "vera sairl to he 14 ewt., 13 ewt., 12 cwt , 10 cwt . and 8 cwt ., with "a leltill bell callid a sawne bell contegnyng bio extymacion xxy lb. weight.'
These bells were remast. in 1613 by Richard Fletridge, of the Wokingman Foundry. They hore this appeal in rlyme:-

1. Lord, plend my cause against my foes,
2. Confound their force and might,
3. Fight on my part aghinst my foes,
4. That seek with me to fight.

This tenor apparently recast later, was inscribet, ' Giorin Deo in Extelsis, 1636. R. E. and J.W.
In 1789 Jolm Warmer, of London, recast the hefls into six with a mew set of inscriptions:-

1. Thy glory, Lord, we will resound,
2. To all the listening nations round,

And with our tongues,
Our roites raise,
6. To Thee, O God,

The tenor was recast by John Warner aud Sons in 1866
Once more the bells lave uew inseriptions. The following appear on the new eight:-

Treble.-Sing we merrily unto God our strength.
2.- Keet Thy sniuts sing with joy inluess.
3.-Sing ye praises with understanding.
4. -O praise the Lord with me; nud lets us magnify His name together.
5.- He liath put a new sang in my month.
6.-O let uy mouth be filled with Thy praise.
7.-O come fet us sing unto the Lowd.

Teror- -The tongne of the dumb shall sing. This betl and five others were recast in 1936 to make this peal of eight bells. The parisl gave this bell in commemoration of the Silrer Jubilee of F.M. King Gearge V. in 1935.
The new tellor is 13 owt. 2 qr. 8 Ib., the necessary new bell metal having been added to make up for loss in meltisr. In place of the old timber frame, whicls has been ecrapped, is a rew massive castiron framework on steel foumdation girders. Modern fittings liave, of canrse, been installed throughout, and everyone who leard them wns delighted wiih tle tone of the bells.

AMBITION.

To the Editor.

Sir,-The experience of Mr. P. Anos must be umique. In no lixercise is merit more openly renogrised than in change ringing. My limited experionce teaches me that most of the hest rimgers are always ready to help 'lame flogs over stiles' by whispering iuto the ears when their footsteps faller- I camet argree with the term jealousy being appliod to ringers whose names often appear in the pages of "The Ringing World.'
Tutil 1895 I was a stony; ringer. In 1930 I happened to stray into an eight-bell tower and timidly essayed to 'drum' the tenor. Becoming imierested, I learat to ring the treble in Grandsire, Minor and Major, then inside, followed by Kent and Stedman Triples. This partienlar band had no practices whatever all the time, and I learnt thege methods under the guidance of old lands at Guild meetings nainly. It is not true that the renarks of Mr. Amos are universnily correct. Pencil and paper helped, but the bugbear of rope-sight had to be got over by practice. Courses in Kent (inside) cane as a first shot, and I trusi Double Norwich will be similatly successful when a Pterapted Opportunity will arise when Mr . Amos will be enabled to prove his ability and recognition, but in the meaatime lat limm master Cambridge, Superlative, London, ete, on paper. The Pyes, Bennetts, Shepherds. Farts and Co . will most certainly give help and opportunity, even for peals when his reputation is establishedi.

MOTTO FOR RINGERS.

Dear' Sir,-Your article nir 'Ambition,' followed by that on ' Mainitaining tho personnel, will give ringers something to think aliont. Ringers who are content to ring for services at their own cluncli may be in at groove, but suroly not a bad groove., Apparently the ringers of Drayton arc not content to ring for services at their own clurch.
Mr. George wisely refers to nubition of the proper kiad. Now just what is the proper kind? In my opinion it should bo the ambition of every ringer who does not belong to a regular service ringing hand to join one and use his art for the servioe for whicll if is intended. Of course, I know some cannot, but thore ahould not he so maty fingers who are umatached and yet lave ringable penla in their own parish. Tlue men who do the service ringing not onfy give service, but ate responsible for the church lieephirg vie bells in orter, without which there would he no chance for 'stunt ' peals,
Secondly, I lhink it should be the ambition of ringers to rimg music, that is to strike well nad maderstand what rhythm is. Wre have heard of fingers who are responsible for putting a single note in the right place in a simple major scale who do not know the sontrd of the hell which they are ringing. The only explanation I ean think of is they linve been so engrossed in learning new mathods since ther learied to pill the rope that they have had no time to listen to the result of their studies. The mollo af every ringer shoukd be:-

RINGERS ' DISCOVER' WINFARTHING

What the Rector of the parigh described as is difficuit place to find' was 'discovered' by a number of ringers on Saturday hast, wher members from the North, Soutle aud West Brauches of the Norwich Diocesan Association, together with visitors from Newmarket, spent a pleasant afternoon and evening at Winfarthing.

A number of methods frous Doubles to London Surprise were rung ou the six bells. The Rer. ©. H. Barber, Rector of Winfarthing, condureted a slort service.
Following is hearty tea at 'lhe Fighting Cocks, during which the members did ample justice to the deliglitful spread of home-made cakes and pastries, a slo't business meeting took place. It was decided to hold the yext meeting at Saxlinghan Nethergate on Jamuary 23 rcd .
The Chaman thanked the Rev. C. H. Barber for his address and for the nea of the hells, and in reply the Rectar expressed his plensure at having the associalion's meeting for the firsk time at Wiufarthing. So many people had failed to find the village that he was glad to see so many present, from so far afield as Dersingham, Fakenhmm and Nemmarket. Contimuing the Rector amused the company with his stories of a certain wedding and a certain Surday Sclool, and said he would be glad to lear similar yarns with regard to thellringing.
The Rrancll Secretary expressed his thanks for the sapprort he had received from all the members, and referred to the members and Friends who had set out from Dersinglam, Fakenham, Nesmarket, Yorwich and Wymondian and had helped to make the meeting such a suceess.

RINGING IN THE WEST COUNTRY

EFFORTS OF NEW CORNISH BAND

A few weeks ago, an account of the dedication of Mullion bells was published in "'he Ringing World.' T'lese bells had been silent for many years, owing to shitertural defects which readered them unsafe, consequently the ${ }^{\prime}$ restoration has eauserl great excitement and enlimsiasm in the viltage.
Since the dedication, ringing las been yoing on upace, and the interest and endiusiasit tho ringers is as marleed as ever

Unfolturately, the patiense of the vilagers wilh the ithavoitahle craglaes of the ansitions monees is weariag rather thin, but it is haped that they will hear with them a little longer, as really they are a very promising hand, and Mullion will son be as proad of its ringers as it is of jts bells.
Jitrers are 17 ringers in all, six of whom are absoltute beginners. All six ghow great promise, and one of them rang very successfully in rounds $\pi$ fortniglit after he siarted to learn
The more ndwanced have heon ringing for a few months, and can ring call chnnges on four balls fairly stilfinly, and thongl the striking is not alwaye as mernate as it nighto be, it is rapidly improving. All iste very keen to master the intricate ant of change ringing, some so much so that they want to plunge right into it, not reabising that fittile heatway eith be made until they have gained proper hell control. Siacl to tell, these very enthasiasts ave sometimes responsible the inacetrate stailiug in call chonges.
Sunday service ringing is rarier ont vegulanly and efficientily, and possibly at no vory distant date the romuds and call elianges of to-day will he sumerseded br tonehes of Grandsite Donhles and Bols Minor that is if the band continue to progress as rapidy, as they are doing nt preamd, 'They are, wo understatiti, receiving 'postal tuition' in change ringring from a frioud in a distant connty. ## RINGING AS A SOCIAL FACTOR.

The representative nature of the assembly of ringers in London on Saturday for the 2g9th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths is typified in the announcement that no fewer than twenty-four of the societies affiliated to the Central Council were represented. And these representatives of the Exercise came from at least twenty-two countics to do honour to the venerable society which now enters upon its three hurdredth year. Ancient organisations, like ancient buildings, frequently fall into decay, but with the approach of its tercentenary the Anciert Society seems to have renewed its youth, and it will go forward into this memorable year with the good wishes of exery member of the ringing fraternity.

In Saturclay evening's proceedings there was one speech which stood out among a number of good speeches. It came from one of the newest ringers in all that big assembly of experienced men, and it created a marked impression, both by its matter and the manner of its delivery. It had a touch of humour and the hall mark of sincerity. The Rev. G. A. Ellison, son of the Rector of London's famous church, St. Michael's, Cornhill, and curate at Sherborne, made the main theme of his reply to a toast an appeal to ringers to interest boys and young men in the art of ringing on two grounds, because they were losing the art of amusing themselves, an: for the sake of the discipline which change ringing provides. Mr. Ellison adnitted only a very short experience of parish life, but there is no cloubt he has quickly put his finger upon one of the things which makes for restlessness among the present generation. Many people in these days do not know how to provide their own amusement; they prefer others to entertain them and, in being entertained, they lack the controlling force which the discipline of study and team work gives.
Is filling up gaps in the belfry ringers are apt to look upon it chiefly as an effort to maintain the practice of change ringing, but here is another angle from which they can approach the task. The mental and physical (tiscipline involved in change ringing is fully realised by those who take the art seriously, and Mr. Ellison's speech should provide an additional encouragement for those upon whom devolves the task of maintaining the personnel of the belfry. There is to-day need for young ringers to keep the art alive; and ringing can supply one of the needs of youth-it can teach self-discipline and provide a means of restoring to some extent the decaying art of self-amusement. Ringing can thus become a valuable social factor.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCLATION,

LTVERPOOL BRANGH.
A very successful meeting of the Liverpool Branch was held at Woolton on Saturelay, November 14th. It was a real pleasure to visi this beautiful church in a charming suhurb of the city of Liverpool. The bells of Woalton are equally beautiful, well in keeping with the church, and the going is very good. A representative gathering kopt the bells going most of the ffternoon and evening to maty methods. The Rector of Woolton conducted the service in the chureh and the Vicar of Gateacre Eave the address. The other clergy prescat were the president of the association (the Rev. A. Scott) and the Rev. J. A. Brisgs, of Fazakerley,
The business meeling follomed tea, with the Rector of Wooltor presiding. The Rector extatrded a welcome on belalf of tho braveh to the president on the occasion of his first wisit to the branch after his appointment. A leeard welcome was extendex to the Rev. J. A. TBriggs, a member of the asociation, who has recently joined the staft of the parisly of Fazakerley in Liverpool,
The sincerve thanks of the branch, were extended to Mr. Claude Davies for his hours of labour in making such a surcess of the annaral dinner of the nssociation.
Two new members wero admitted.
The President expressed the thanks of the company to the Rentor of Woolton for the use of the bells and for his welcome, and to all responsible for a luappy and successful meeting.

LADIES' GUILD AT CANTERBURY.  NEXT YEAR'S JUBILEE DINNER.

The only factor againet an enjoyable meeting of the Central Distried of the Ladies Guild at Ganterbury was the weather, although even that did not stop a goodly mumer attending from far and wids. Loudon sent strong suppolt, and from the other extreme came two frow Exstiags.
Sit. Steplien's was the centre of the meeting but some of the braver soule, under the gudance of Mr. B. Luck, wisited the two sixbell towers which were also opeu, St, Dunstan's and St. Alphage. A service was held at st, Stephen's, conducted by the Rector the Rev. Barnes). Being a service Eor ladies, the local ladies' choir tund lady or ganist assisted lim in this function. The Guild's new service forms were used.
Tea followed in the Parish Rooms, nud was much appreciated. The party of 40 was joincd by the Recter:
A message of goodwill and best wishes for an enjoynble meeting was delivered from Canon F. J. O. Helmore, who was sorry that he was unable to be present,
A slort business meeting was then held, Mrs. Deal presidimg.
Five praclising members were elected, i.e., Miss D. Colegate (Sevenoaks, Kent), Miss N. Scopes (Enfick), Mies H. Snowden (Ha]stead, Essex), Mrs. G. Trendall (Pebmarsh, Essex) and Miss F. Oakshett (Hayes, Kent). One honerary member, Mrs. Shorter, of Walton-on-Thames, was also elected.
It was proposed to hold the next mecting at Broxbourne, Herts, on Saturday, January 2ud.
Mrs. Fleicher announced that the jubilee anniversary dinuer of the Guild would be beld on Saturday, October 23rd, 1937, also that the new badges were selling very well.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector of St. Stephen's and the other incumbents for the use of the bolls at the warjous churches, to the organist and choir (ant forgetting the organ hlower), and to the ladies wha provided tece. A very hearty vote of thanks was also passed to Mr. B. Luok for sill the trouble he had taken in his endeavaur to make the meetilig a success-including his visit to the railway station.

After the meeting great liaste was made to the Cathedral, as the bells were available for only a limited time. Ringing there ineluded rounds, Stedman Cincues, Stedman Gaters and Gramdsire Triples on the back eight, but about $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. a rope brake and bo "goodbye" was said to any further operations.

FOR BEGINNERS.

BACK TO SILEDMAN DOUBLES.

What's wrong with Stedman Doubles that it finds very little place in peals.' Stedmenn I'riples is a popular method. Of the peats of rriplos rumg in the firat mine monlis of this year, nearly 40 per cent. wero Stedman. Of the peals of Doubles in the same period, only just ovel 11 per cent. inaluded Stedman, while uearly 60 per cent. constatal ol Grandsire only. That does not seem right to us, for it tannot all be due to the fact that many beginners start their peal rimging areer with Gradsire Doubles. There must be same othor reason. Is it that five-bell method ringers 'funk' it becanse it has no 'treble ' as a gunk a'
One thing appeara certalin, that five-bell method ringers ought to give more aitention to it. Stedman Doubles is worth ringing, egpecially as a variant from the plain methods, and should be studied by all those whose opporturities of ringing on higher numbers is limited. For it has thas advanlage, that when the opportunity comes to ring on a higher namber of bels, there should be as little diticulty in rinurng Stedman Triples as in going from Grandsire Doubles to Triples-assuming, of course, that Stedman on five bells has been properly mastered. We wonld like to enconrage the ringing of Stedman by beginuery.
Jt is not really a dificialt method to learn, even though it lias no treble les guite yous. The most important thing is to memorise thoronghly the 'Slow' work.

As you know, the extent of changes on three bells is six and Stedman is constiruclied in groups consisting of six changes. The three bells in frond ring these six changes, the others dodge. When the six changer have hoen completed one of the three bells moves awny, end anotier takes its place.
The 'sixes" are formerl in two ways, one being the reverse of the other, lint for praction purposes all that the beginuer need remember is that they aro altemately 'slow ' and ' quick.' The 'slow' six is a six into which a fresh bell enters the slow work, whith detains it in front for fivo sixes; a 'quick" six is a six produced by a bell (called tho 'quiuls' bell) ruming sliraight in to lead and out again, it being thas in front for that mes six only.
The 'slow' work consists of two 'whole tumns' (distingnished as "first and "last'), in between which are two "loalf turns' (distinguialed alsn as 'first, and 'last'). A whole turn consists of a whole pull nt lead, ono how in 2nd's pirce followed by nnother whole pull ai lend. With only oue blow in between them it follows that the whole pulls mast be maflo in opposite ways; that is, if one fa lnandstroke nna backstroke, the other must be backstroke and haudstroke, and wiee versa.

A hnlf burn consists of one blow at lead only-made in the same change ns the whole-turn bell strikes ono blow in 2nd's. Before, between rud after each of these pieces of work 3rd's place is made, tut the work ocerrs in this order, after leaving the dodging in $5-4$ (down).

Srd's, first half turn.
Jrd's, last half tiv'n,
Srd's, last whole tin'm,
3rd's, (before dodging $4-5$ up).
Tr the first whole turn lead at back and hand, make a blow in 2uin's, then lend at liand and hack.
fin the first half thm leat one blow at handstinke.
In the last hali bith lead one blow at backstroke.
In tho fast wiole turn lead nt land and back, make a blow in 2url's anil lead at luck and hand.
These five sixes slow tho complete slow work by the $4 \mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{t}}:-$

|  | 23.45 | 34251 | 34512 | 41325 | 41253 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Hathatmuse | 32415 | 43521 | 43152 | 14235 | 14523 |
| Backstroke | 234 | 453 | 341 | 124 | 415 |
| Tamlsimere | 243 | 543 | 314 | 214 | 451 |
| Backstralay | 423 | 534 | 134 | 241 | 541 |
| Fatdstroke | 432 | 354 | 143 | 421 | 514 |
| Hactastoko | 34251 | 34512 | 41325 | 41253 | 15432 |

The wry in which a "quick' lell comes in and out can be observed give cxamining the work of the 5th in the second column and of the 2nd it! the fourlh column. These are "guiek" sixes; the nthers are "slow sises. Noties how, in a quich six, each bell leads a whole mull nt hund nud back, while a 'slow, six begins and ewds with a liulf pusll, earsing thin twa intorvening bells to lead at back and hand.

An eacls holl lonves the frout it gons to $4-5$, where it has n nouble dofego un. then it lies $a$ wholo mull belind and has a douhle dodge down. After that it goes into the work in front in 'the opposite why in whinh it mane out.' In other wowds, if it was a slow bell last limm, it leturns as a quick bell; if it was quick fast time it goes if) slow mext.

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC   THE TAUNTON PROTEST:

   THE TAUNTON PROTEST:}The towers of St. Mary's and St. James', 'Danton, concerning the ringing at which a protest has been made to the cburch anthorities, are situated about 200 yards apart. We are informed that the argitation against the bells was initiaded by a retired military offieer who came to regide between the two towers about three yeara ago.

The St. James' band attempt a peal once in three mouths, and if the ringing exceeds two hours it is treated as if it wore a peal, so far as attempts are concerned, aud the three months is allowed to elapse before anothcr atternpt is made. The early ringing is donte on the King's birthday and St. James' Day, when the bells stalt at 6.15 a.m. and ring for half an hour. The time is fixed to ellable the men to get to their employment at 7 o'olock without ' losing tine.'

SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

To the Rditor.
Sir, -Not linowing anythiny of the circumstances at Tanturn in regard to the objections to ringing, one wouders if the many practices that ane hed are not often greater oanses of antroyance than peals or service ringing. Expecially may this be the case with Guidd or combined practices.

Quite recently I have had pleasure and appreciation expressed to me ou tha ocoasious of ringing for a wedding and for a peal; and questions and obvious displeasure about the ringing at a subseruent combined practice.

The unavoidable bad striking, the constand stopping and starting, the clashing of the bells preceding a rarged finish as the bells are set, is, to my mind, frar more likely to canse annuyance and give ground for objections than any well-struck peal. $A$ brass band does not hold its practices in the High Street, and, if we are to make progress in our art and bring yonag ringers on, we must devise some means of making our practices, especially the loyg ones, less of a nuisance to those who are enforced listeners.

I venture to make soms practical suggestions:-
(1) Keep learners to lnghed belfs until they antr ring rounds or call changes perfectly.
(2) Make more use of handbells for learning new methods.
(3) For Guild and combined practices avoid as far as possible towers in a thickly populated area.
(4) Try and introduce a means of semi-silencing the bells as at present in use at a certain tower in London Wokingham.

A SUGGESTED 'ARRANGEMENT",

Sir,-As one who commenced ringing at St. Mary's Clinch, Tamton, 40 years ago, I am maturally interested in reading in this week's 'Ringing World, the 'Tannton Resideuts" Protest " for restricting ringing on the bells at St. Mary's and St. James' Churches.
These two towers are practically within a stone's throw of one another, and the petition to restrict the ringing, in my opilion, is not altogether unrensonable, especially on the part of those resiments in the vicinity of the two churches:

St. Mary's, 12 bells, tenor 30 cwt. in 0 .
St. Tames', 8 belle, tenor 20 ewt. in E fiat (or E).
However good the strikfng, the disconcerting misical effect, when these two peals of bells are ringing togetlier can ensily be illustrated by two handbell bands ringing at the same time Cingues or Maxinus (tenor key C) and Triples or Major (with an for J fat temor). Even rounds is sufticient.

Fere $I$ woald respectfully supgest that some arrantement be made by the tws church authorities, in conjunction witb the Ringing Master of rach tower, wherebp the bells, especially for Sunday service, would be rang alternately. Say St. James' in the morning and St. Mary's for the evening service, or vice versa. This I feel sure would avoid a great deal of ammoyance.

Regarding peal riuging, the hest arrangements where complaints are concerned is to fit silencers to the clappers, as is successinlly done clsewhere in thickly populated districts, or brick up the lonvres, ete.; as Fou suggest in your leading article in this week's ' Ringing World.'

My Trunton friends will know I offer these suggestions in good faith and in these modern times they are worthy of cansideration.

strikes another blow in 4th's and then has yet another whole mall behind, following which it dodges in $5-4$ (down).
The bell that comes up has one blow in 5th's a whole pill in 4 h's and mother blow in 5th's. It then returar to the work in front. As a result of the single hoth bells go in the same way that they came out.
One other lhing, if you are new to Stedman. It is this: The orAlinary start of the method is not with the begiming of a six." It begins like Grandsire, and a new six starts with the thitd change. 12345 23145

THE SUGGESTED 'EDWARD ' CORONATION PEAL

To the Fditor

 to express my point of view concerning the suggested Edward peal at Westminster Abbey on Coronation Day next your.
Now, sil, since you approve of the proposal, I was disnayed to find you throwing cold water on it, and consider the attitude you adopted ill last week's 'Ringing World ' to be very regrettablo and bardly worthy of your paper.
Apparently you lowe formed your opinion becuuse of your ' knowing something of the difficulties which would have to be surmounted. But I eontend that even this fnowledge is no excuse for letting the matter drop.
Now I assume that opposition to the suggestion will have only two sources, that of the regular Abbey ringers, and that of the authorities or the powers that be. And I am convinced that if the first of these is overcome, the other will automatically fall into line. Maybe this will not be so simple as it sounds, but difficulties are made to be overcome, ave I am as yet unconvinced that those which stand in the way of the proposal aro insurmountable.
If, then, this reasoning is correct, the thing to do is to win over the oppssition which may (I don't say that it will) come from the regular ringers.
I can imagine and sympathise with their perhaps jealous feelings in hending over the bells to a team of Edwards on such an important oceasion. But if there is a general approval of the suggestion throughout the Exercise, and this, I think, can only be ascertained through the znedium of 'The Ringing World,' then surely not even the jenlous regarvl the regular ringers might have for their position will stand in the why of the peal being attempted.
Iu conclusion, may I be so bold as to suggest that a compromise could be effected by the Abbey ringers 'ringing them out' inmediately after the service for, say, lailf an hour. and then to let the Edwards carry on P EDWARD S. T. FARR.

Bradley, Melkaham, Trowbridge, Westany and warminster, and visitors were welconed From Bath, Blugdou, Batheaston and Swindon.
The Vicar (the Rey. Canon Clarke) conducted the Guild office, Mr. Bowyer officiating as organist. Tea was served at the 17 thin century cafe, The Three Gables.
At the short weeting which followed, with Mr. E. F. White presiding, sympathetic reference was made to the loss Mr. W. Baxter of Trowbridge tower, had sustained by the death of his son, and the secretary was asked to send a letter to him expressing the sympatly of the members.
Mr. E. Parker, now residing at Holt, was elected a ringing membel of the Guild.
Holy Trinity tower, Bradford, put forward an application for a course of instruction in stedman I'riples, and it was decidel to forward this to the hou, general secretary of the Guild.
Votes of thathks were expressed to those who had helped in the success of the meeting.
During the evening Cluist Churel bells were awailable, and ringing continued at both towers until 8.30 .
Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwicla and Cambridge Surprise Major. The next meeting of the branch is due at Warminster on Deceniber 5th.

BURTON' SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, - As your have already heen informed that the method ring at West Wycombe on September 5th was Brighton, and not Burtan, it only remains for me formally to rectify my report, which shomad read: Brighton Surprise Major, first in the method for the Guild and by all the band. $\qquad$ H. WINGROYF:.

Dear Sir,-I offer Mr. Baker an apology for unwittingly infriuging on his method 'Brighton Surprise,' and to the band wham I misled into calling it Burton.

Menbers of the Hertfoxd County Association and any other ringens who care to pay a visit to Hitcling to-morrow have the opportunity of rimging on a lovely eight. A meeting of the association is to be held there and particulars will be found in our uotice columas.
The restoration of the belis at Eckington Glurch, near Shefficid, is to be carried out by Messrs, Gillett and Johuston.
Mr. Arthur Knights, of Ghesterfield, seems to have an illexhaugtibla supply of 'new' peals of Treble Bob Major. One, heard for tile first time, was rung on Saturday at Longwood, Zorls, but it was composed in March, 1882. Nearly 55 years between being composed and rung! Among the associations end guilds represented af the College Youths' dinner on Saturday, in rddition to the meubers of the society itself and of tha Royal Cumberknd Youths and the London Caunty Association, were resident mGmbers of the following: Bath and Wells, Ely, Essex, Gloueester and Bristal, Guidford, Hertiordshire, Kent, Jawcashire, Llandaff and Monmoutir, Middlesex, Midland Gounties, Nouth Staff, Oxford, Peterborough, Saligbury, Scoltish, Suffolk, Surrey, Sussex, Warwickshire, Worcestershire and Yorkshire.
A peal of Stedman Caters at All Saintr', Poplar, was lost in the last course on Saturday through the clock weights crashiog.
The popalar hon. treasurer of the College Yohths is well known for the large size in pipes which he favours. On Saturday le mounted one so big that he was mistaken for the afficial saxophone playcr of the society. No one offered him "a pipcful o' baccy '-it would fave been too expensive.
A peal by Bank officers was to lave been attempted at Sk. GiIes. in-the-Fields, London, on Saturday, but ths oue of the company, coming from a distance, missed his train, they were short of staft. Happily they were able to enlist the services of a Civil Servant on the spot, and the Middlesex Association gained another peal of Superlative and three new members. The rest of tho campany feel indebted to E. A Barnetf for standing in at, a moment's notice.
The ringers who visited Australia two years ago will regret to learm of the death of Mis. Murcay, wife of "Mr, Jimes Murray, of Melbourne. Slie died after only a short ilmess. Mr. Murray conducted the first peal in Australia, rung at St. Philip's Clureh, Sydney, in 1890, and nearly 45 yeare later took part in the peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Panl's Cathedral, Melhomme

Truly local! Mr. and Mrs. Hatry T. Chandler rang together in a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Lyoushall Parish Churoh, Herefordshire, on October 30th. At this church they were baplised, coufirmed, married, learned to handle a bell and rang their first peal.
Mr. Gearge Popnell has now left Tcedegar Hospital, where te was detained for some weeks after an accident while crossing of monntain. He is still 'on arutches,' but his many friends will be glad to learn that he is making good progress.

George Willinms, Mastey of the Wincluester and Portsmoulih Guild, has won distinction. He is nearly 80 and on Saturday rang his first peal of Grandsire Cinques! W. H. Symonds, a member of the Hercford Cathedral band, Lnok part in a peal of Stedman kriples on Saturday-his first peal of Stedman, at the age of 72 years. At the age of 68, Joseph Swain, of South Normanton, has rung his firgt peal. Boys will be boys!

The ringer of the 7 tl in the peal at Basingstoke, recorder in our last issue, was Joln Chesterman, not Ghester as printed.
The ringing at Stratford-on-Aron, yecorded last week as for the 50th anniversary of the Viear's 'induction, was for the jubilee of his 'ordination.' Csuon Melville was appointed Fiear in 1308.

INFORMATION WANTED.

To the Editor
Dear Sir, The anthorities at Bowden are considering bricking up the louvres. At present the sills are about 3 ft thelow the smallest bells when raised. ## A YORKSHIRE VETERAN.

FIRST YORKSHITE RINGER TO SCORE 400 PEALS.
The peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major at Quecnebury, Yorks, on Saturday, rung for the marriage of Mr. Farmy Wilde, a menber of the local company, and Miss Marjory A. Nrwsome, was also noteble for the fact that it enabled Mr , Toseph Broadley, of Bradford "Joe" to his confreres), to achieve a long cherished ambition of his very eventful ringing career, to be the first Yorkshire ringer to ring 400 peals. These are made up of 398 for the Yorkshide Association, one for the Lancashire Association and one for the Shropshire Association.
In spito of his advancing rears, Joe ran his bell like a young man and was heartily congratitiated by the band on his performance. Although to does not compare with some other stalwarts of the Exer cise as regards the number of peals, lis total represents a long period of hard toil, and many are the ringers who have been encouraged by his very cheerful word of advice.

In conversation with him after the peai, he said he has mever failenl to be a subscriber to the weckly ringing paper since one was first published gome 55 years ago. Tiong mey he be spared to enioy the rest he so well deserves.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

CELEBRATION OF THE 2ggth ANNIVERSARY.

Twenty-Four Guilds and Associatians Repres entod

Members of the Ancient Society of College Youths and ringing friends from many parts of the conntry gathered in Loudon in lauge numbers on Satnorday for the $2 g 9 t h$ anniversary dinner of the society. Ringing took place at several city churches during the aftermoon, and, following the custom of recent, yetrs, a getvice was held at the Church of St. Miehael, Gollege Hill. It was at a church (destroyed iu the Great Fire) which stood near this site that the first College Youthes used to practise.

The chusch was filled, and the service, which was delayed a quarter of an hour, had to be somewhat curtailed. The Rector (Canon Donglas) officiated, and the address was given by the Req. E. G. Turner, Ficar of St. Giles', Cripplegate. Ho spoke fram the words,

MR. E. P. DUFFIELE,
The Retiring Master, Who Presided.
 asked Canon Coleridge if he would give him same suggeations for the address, and the Cation had given lim two cantions. The first wag, - If you don't know anylhing about bellringing, don't say anything about it,' and the other was, 'Mind you ares shors.' The spealeer went on to speak of the effect of bells at the Armistice and un other publac oceations. On the eishth bell at Cripplogate Church, he said, was the insomption, "Peace and good neighbouldrond." That was a message which they needed more than ever to give the world to-day. Thes needed to practise them in their own lives and they were the things that men and untions needed.
At the close of the eervice, in which the hymus, " O God, our help. and 'All people that out earth do dwell, wele lueartily sung, a course of Stedran Triples was rung on handbells in the chancel by J. Thonas, E. F. Lewis, T. Groombidge, jun.. and W. A. Cave.

Groonhtidge (father, son and grandison), who wero present. After the repast the loval toast was drumb and the Nationst Anthem surg.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE TERCENTENARY

The Master proposed the tonst of 'The Church" and remarked suncinchy, 'No Church, no Ancient Sociefy. When twelve months ago they assembled on a similar cecasion, he satid, they fad fresh in their minds the part they, as ringers, had played in celebrating the Royal Jubilee. Within about two months of their gathering thay were phaying a totally opposite part; they liad to perform the sad oflice of assoniating thenselves with the parsing of a beloved monnch. Fust as they rase to the occasion in 1935, so they did in 1936 , and they were looking forward to playing their part again in 1957 (hear, hear). Another thing which wonld be exercising their minds, and esperially the minds of their officors, during the coning year would loe the fit ways and means of celebrating a great event in the life of that Ancient Society. It might interest them to know that already a committee of four had been appainted, whose job it was to consirder ihe manner in which the tercentenary, shonld be celebrated and io make such recommendations as ther might think necessery. They would thas see finat they were not allowing Tine to defent then in making such preparations as world be adequate to the occasion. They had not forgotten the invitation that was thrown out to them-it nas virtually an invitation-two vears aso by the Archdencon of London (to hold a service is St. Paul's Cathedral).
Proceeding, the Master apolorised for what he described as an mfortunate happeninge that aflomoon, when, owing to the failure to reep an mudertakieg by the custodians of the society's property, the regalia and the mace were not available for uke at the gervice, ann tha serrion itself was delayed for the service loows. This cicated a good many little difficulties, nud he apologised to the Rector of St. Miohael's that this mot only oansed delay in the commencement of the sorvice, but also threw it out of gent. He assured him, lowever, that it was no fault of the society

What is the Church? asked the Master, turuing mare particularly to the loast. He was prepared to recognise that when they proposed that tanst tlay thought of the hody ecclesiastic. and they were very plensed to see that body so well represented there by so many infuential members of the Chumeln (applause). He could not, hawever, resist the urge to regard it from a wider wiewpoint. One way in which he loolted upon the Church was as the guardian of religion. What was religion? Fe would say religion was a belief in a Higher Authorites. which Authority must guide their every coutsp of action and relationship, whether political, social or morn, whether matinat or international, so that they camo back very nearly to the point where they brought in, as was customary on many such occasious, Church and State. He Buggested that if they had a Church whieh had no 'truck' with the State there was something wrong with the Church, and yet whilst the Church must bring its influence to bear tho aflairg of the State if it did not he thonglat it was sadly failing-tho Glurch nust not be responsible to the State for the conduct of its affairs, and he hoped the day, would never come when the State would be allowed to have a voice in guiding the conscieuce of the Church (applause). They saw to-day totalitarian States where the Church was not its own master; its consolevee was controlled by the State; its ainos, its allegiances, were subordinated to the ambitions not of a democracy, but of a caucus. A Church such as that was a sham and a mockery; indeed, it was worse thau no Church at ail, because a Church that did not stand firm ou questions of principle would be decidedly harmful. While ft gave the impression that it wre loyal to its a!legiances and principles it was in reality merely the moutlipice of a kind of propagauda department of the State. He was sure they all hoped that such a stato of thinge would never come to this comntry of onrs (applange). Indeed, they hoped that the time would soon come when these nations would be brontht to realise the mudncss of the policy into which they had allowed themselves to be Iriven.
In coupling with the toast the name of Canon Perlsins, the Master sutd le was much in their minds on account of his connection with tho great Abhey of Westminster. He had not got a peal of twelve halls there, which they thonght a churel of the importance of West minsfer Ablory shonld have. Perhaps as time went on Canou Perlins mouster Ablicy shonid have. Pernaps as time went on

'IPLIFT' OF THE BELLS.

Canon Perkins said as he went about the combry-and his life look him up ind down the country a good deal-one of his happiest experiences was to sce the way in which the old historical Church of aur land was appreciated. Coming from the Abbey-he had heard of othor buiklinga called Abbeys, but he only kuew "The Abbey (laughter and applause)-he supposed they would expect him to tel hom of the plane and projects for the Coronution. He conldn't. Not haing the Dean-he had not had proper justice done to him (laughter) - lo had to preserve the character, more or less, of au oyster, but he mould asarere them when May 12th came, although they had not got mould assure them when May 12th came, although they had not got the twelve bells wheh the Master hinted they desired, thejr poor little ring of cight loells would succeed in doing ample justice to the Corourtion of King Enward VIBT. (applanse)
Procoeding, Canon Perkins expressed gratitude to those present for all they waro doing for the cause of religion and the spiritual uplift of tho conntry ly their work upon the bells. He was branght up as a child at St. Paut's, Redford, he snid, and in his hoyisll way used to take in intercst in the eirht bellg there. As the years had gone on lis han come to realise the wonderful spiritual message the church bells of old England had. Last April it was his privilege to take part in a most memorahte servica at the ancieut foundry in Whatechapel, when eight: bells, the yeplica of the bells of the Abluey, which he loved so dently, wero sant out 6.000 miles away to Victorif in British Colmmbia. Fie lian boen behind the humess from the first, for he was closely connected with ihe Canadian Churcly, and he assured them that, the message of thoso hells in Victaria Cathedral liad been someHing they land no iffeg of here in England, Of conirge, there liad heen nccaints in the Press, and they hat probably read the vers good necount whidy appeaved in 'The Ringing World, but he had Feat noro finformain than that. People out inere had heard those fells who had henve nothing like it for 40 or 50 vears, nat hed wilked up ond down the ghreet, in Victoris literally erying with jow Those hells whioh Moart and Stanhank had turned out so splendidy were gromg la be a very greal spiritual uplift to that communitw (applanse). He thanken Messts. Mears and Stainhank and he thanked all of them who were engaged in the work as ringers. Fie hoped they would condinue for many a long year up and down the countrv in this Ringing lise to deliver the message of the bells-that wondious message of aplift to the whole community (applanse).

ADVICE JO YOUNG RINGERS.

Canon Colcrigge, who was recoived with cheers, in proposing the fongt of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths,' thanked the men hers for thoir extremely warm greeting. What struck him more than anything else in the present dity, he eald, was the tremendous advance there had been in the art of ehange ringing, in the methods which were rung and in the comparatively new gystem of rimging spliced metfods. He did not forget an occasion, more than 50 years apo, when he met certain Callege Youths after a practice at Southwark. Most of them were eating tripe and onious (langhter). He met sovernl notable men, and one of thear was Murray Hayes. He asked Tayes to tell him what he considered was a ringer at the top of the trec. Eryes replied that it was the ringer who could ring that highest and bestr of all methods, Stedman Cinques, and ring it properly. 'No man could wish to so any furtber than that,' Hayes said. He (Canon Coleridged did not know what Hayes would sny if he could have been thers that niphtr. Things had changed nud they had men who eould do most wonderful thinge, as they were to see a littlo later in the handisel ringing. Why was that ${ }^{\circ}$ Because those whe so excelled in ringing difticult methods had a right grounding and a right foundation. He wighed every young ringer would read and study these most admirable articles for beginners, which had been appearing every week for some montis past, in "The Ringing World.' If they would only apply themsalves and put their whole liear't into it, he was certain they would see ars immense adyauce in the practice of the art (hear, hear). It was a most thankless tiask veaching youngeters, especially in the country, continued Canon Coleridge. He recently received a lettor from a brother clergyman, who was working very hard indeed in tnstructing six-bell ringers round about him. In writing, he said, 'You live in a totally afferent ringing world to what I do. You associate yourself with men who can ring all sorts of methods, such as Cambriage Royal, mud who acturlly telk about course-ends, and so on. That is your world." "It isn't, a bit, fs a matter of fact,' commented Ganon Coleridge, amid langhter. 'My world,' the writer adder, 'is totally different. All I can do is to got them to see that there is a certain method oalled Grandsire Doubles and they thime there is nothing to go for further finan that. When they have rung 120 of Doubles they think they are at the top of the tree, amd it is a very difficult job to teach them even that.
Canon Coleridge recalled an incident whicls recently happened in a country village which he well knows and where Sanuel Taylo Coleridge, philosopher and poet, once lived. To the clutrch on the previons Sunday week came an old man, between 75 and 80 yeare of age, from the next village in order to ring. They put hinn to ring the tenor. He was rather blind and conlda't read the figures and soon got at sea. One of the yingers called ont, 'Eere, Bill, you be after me.' 'No I bain't," he stal, 'no I bain't. I knows where I pught to lee, but I bain't the'e' (lauglater'). There is sometling good in confessing a farlt Iike that, said Canoli Coleridge. It was difficult in the country, but if they could get ringers to read that book by Mr. Dyke, whoh the Contmal Counch published, and also that wonderful set of articles is 'The Ringing World,' they would get betterringing in every place in England, He hoped the day would come when those articles would appear in book form.
Referring to the demolition of the Church House, Westminster, and particularly to the pullisg down of the great ball of the building, to make way for new premises, Ganon Coleridge said he never thought that that house would cone down so soou. It was less than 50 wears ago that they us yould curates were asked for contributious to build the hall iar memory of the Jubile of Queen Victoria. It took many shillings out of their pockets to do it and he mever thought a memorial of that kind would disappear so guickly. The whole face of London was changing, and perliaps it was forturate that the College Youths had not got a Company Hali, otherwise the hand of the clestroyer miglat be upon it. Next year they were keeping their three humdredith ammersary, and those responsible for the arrangements would lave a tremendous work to do in gething a place which would accommodate all who would like to come. They would want a bigger church than St. Mithael's and a bigger lali to dine in. He wished the Mnster, the stewarcs, the secretary and everybody else responsible, success in their efforts, and he wished the society prosperity and every individual member every happiness and blessing. He coupled with the tast the name of Mr. Cockerill, who was, he said, ever young, and not like an ancient building likely to fall down (Ianghter and rpplause).
Mr. Cockerill's health was drunk with musical honours
Tollowing this came the 'exhibition piece' of the evening. The talented handbell haud from Bushey rang in touch in five Surprise methods-London, Superlative, Bristol, Ealing and Cambridge. The large andience listened spellbound. After a short false start, the tonch was rung in perfect style without a semblance of a trip; indeed, without a noticeable mis-tilow. The riythm was perfect and the pace fast. Tined nver one Half-minute, the ringing was at the rate of 40 changes a minute. The method changed at every lead, bobs were sprinkled aboul the touch, but from method to method the bells went as cleanly as if they had been consecutive leads of Bob Major. It was a wonderful exhibition, given, be it remembered, under strained conditions in the presence of a critical audience. Lend cheers greeted tha successful conclusion of the touch, which lat been wing in the tenseness of an almost brentliless hush. The ringers were Henry Hodgetts 1-2, Cliristopher W. Woolley 3-4, Harold G. Cashnore (conductor) 5-6, Frederick W. Brinklow 7-8.
The fallowing is the touch, whicls consisted of 352 changes :-

TELE PAST YFAR.
Mr. Cockerill was cordially received on rising to reply to the toast of tho soclety. He said letters of apology for absence had been received from the Very Rev. Di. Mathews, the Revs. Canons Haldane, Sheppard, Alexander and Mozley, the Archdeacon of London, the Rectors of St. Maryde-Bow and St. Michael's, Cormbill, Mr. Albert Walker (Birmingham) and Alderman J. S. Pritchetit, Master of St. Marcin's Guild, Birminglam, who was 82 and whose healtly would not allow him to be with then that hight. Alderman Pritelielt was probably their senior member. They had, continued Mr. Cockerill o remember 14 members who Inad passed away since their last annual dinner.

While the compauy stood in silence, Mr, Cockeri]l read the [ollowing names: Arthu (i. Villis, Johu Avig, Edward E. Richards, the Rey. Charles A. Clements, the Rev. B. H. TYrwhitt-Drake, Willam Davis, the Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee, John W. Rowbotham, Thomas Benney, John Howes, Charles J. Chooct, the Rer. A. H. F. Boughey, Kenry S. Ellis and Alired Tarbun, sen.

Continumg, the Hon. Scerebary said that during the year 32 new members had been elected and 75 meetings for practice had beem held. Seventcen peals had been rumg as follows: On tower bells, Stedman Trjples 2े, Caters 4, Cinques 4, Kent 'I'reble Bol Mujor 1,' Bob Royal 1, Spliced Yorkshire and Cambridge Rayal 1 , London Sntrpise Major 1, Spliced London, Bristol, Cambridge and SuperIative Major 1, Gambridge Surprise Maximus 1. Tlue spliced peals heey one peai of spliced London, Bristol, Cambrialge and Superlative, rung by the bighly talented band who were with them that night (applanse). Mr. Cockerill conchuded by asking the member's to joiu with him in wishing Canon Coleridge many lanpy returns of his birthday, which he lad celebrated on the previont Tuesday (applanse) Mr. W. Rousthton, in proposing ' The Visitors,' suggested ihat the title of the toast should be either 'Our Guests' or 'Our Friends.' 'A wan, he quoted, should keep his friendships in constant repair.' was one of the nighte on which they hoped to repail those friendships; they also hoped to make new friends. Mr. Roughton had a happy word to say abont each of the clerical guests who was present, and ho added that the visitors that night had seen the College Fouths as they were and they had lieard bine most perfect handbell ringing in the world. He loped it wonld jesslt in their taleing a good deal more interest in the ringing at their varions churches than they had ever done before. It had been a joy to him and he was swre it had been a joy to every ringer. There were to men in the world who had ever been able to do it except these four, and they were all mombers of the Ancient Society (applause). Those visitors who would like to know more ahout the society he asked to look at the ancient records which were displayerl in the ante-room. They contained the history of tho society and were very worth while looking at,

CHANEE RINGING AND CHARACTER

The Rev. ©. A. Ellison, son of the Rector of Combill, replied to the tonst. Nany preaple, he said, would be surprised that a gread society like that, containing so many experts min the art of change ringing, should entertain and ask to speak to them such a pery raw beginner in the art as he was. But he must say, for his own prit, lie war not surprece, becanse their action was only typical of the lindness and thought which be had received from all bellimgers since he started taking an interest in the art just a vear mgo. Henven alone knew, he liad given ringers enough provacation during the last yenv (langliter). But despite all his thickheadedness and foolishness he load received mothing but kindness from his fellow-ringers, and he wond like to think his presence thero that night was symbolic of the fellowship of the bells which united the most expralienced with the most inexperienced in one family (hear, hear), He brought to them, continued the speaker, grestings, first from his fellow-ringers at Sherborne, who would be glad to extend the hand of hospitality to them in the tower of Sherborne Abbey, and from his father, the Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill, who regretted very much that he was uabble to be present. He (the speaker) personally regretted it, because there were wot many things he conld do better than his father, but if his father had heen there, he (the speaker) would have been able to vemind him that, whereas when he was a curate at St. Mary Abloots he attained only to the heights af calt clanges, he conld strnggle through a plain course of Grandsire Triples (laugliter and applanse)

Gontinuing. Mr. Ellison said he hoped they would not think him impertinent if he made an appeal to them to do as much as they could to interest boys and yourg men in tha art of change finging (hear, heary. 'I have had a very small experience of parish life,' proceeded the speaker, but of one thing I am certain, that ane of the great fangers to character to-day is that penple are losing the mit of amosing themselves (hear, hear). If they have a lejsure hour they want to see what is loeing done for them, on the wireless or in the ciucma. I believe that the discipline of change ringing, thes thorongh תess which it inculcates in the people who practise it, and the term spirit which pervades the whale of the art, are things which arc neces sary to character and are necessary to all our young people to-day (hear, liear, and epplanse). I believe, whenever you can persilade a Foung man to learn this great art, which $I_{1}$ for one year. lave been practising with tho greatest joy in the world, you will be doing very grent serpice to the youth of the conntry, as well as preserving this great native art for the future, (applanse), Tir proposing "Kindred Societies, the Vice-Clatirnan sxin he did so by wirtue of the frot that he was the immediate Past haster of them from the earty days of the society anfi dhat, as he stnod there as vice-chairnam, mang of his predecessors had also stood there and woiced the same sentiments. Immediately in front of them they had their terceatemmer, and looking lack down the centaries, f.ley must be thankful to those who hat steered the society through the shoals and roeks with such skilful hands. He liferd to think that their founder, Tord Brerelon, sitfine. perthaps, somewhere near where thay wero assemplecl. Fart said te his friend, Sir Cliford Mifton, "Now, Clif, we must have a feast, wo must get gul a programme. I will propose a tonst to His Majesty, Charies I., and the State and Clurech, and I thiul you, CIIf, should tonst the rigging brethren, He did not suppose they would call them 'Liudred societies' in those days but lie was sure they woild always remomber their ringing friends, despite those little diflenlties which all societieg must have. But dilliculties were the salt of a society, said Mr. Young, so long as the were med by opposite forcea and a sense of brotherhood. Thus they met that night and sent out theit' greetings to findred societics, If wonld be dificult to say how many societies were represented thero that evening, but they felt with fhem iu the aspirations and struggles and joined in wishing then the best of hock joy and success (applausen. There were very few societies older than their own, but they thought that niglat of all the little villase societios and of those great guilds and associations which were linked together mader the Parliament of Rivgers, the Central Conncil. They were fortunate Ilati in their Senior Stewny and Mrster-Elect, Mr. Lewis, they had the President of the Conncil (applause). It wes a great homour to them to have him as a member and an offeer of thein seciety (appouse).

OTHER PEBBLES ON THE BEACH
Mr. Lewis, in acknowledging the toast, snid that in that day's issint "The Times, at the buttom of the ecclesiactical news, it was announced that ' the Ancient Society of College Youths, the associntion of bellringers, will hold a service ats St. Whathat's, when handbells will be rung.' No doubt some members of the society believed everything they saw in print, and, if so, they now lonow that the Ancieni. Society was the association of bellringers. At the same time, by Eheir kinduess in homouring that tonst, the society did realise that there were a few other pebbles on the beach (laughter), that there were one or two other socfeties up and down the country, and on belialf of those societies he thanked then for linving lonoured tho tonst. Fe could not sag le actually represented every ringing society or assachation in the country, but he did represent bearly the whole of the larger associations. The number was somewhere about 50 , amiliaved to the Central Council, and he understood that 24 of them were represented in that room (applause). Fo notieed that there were representatives flom the frr ends of the country. From the west they had a represcntative who could teach them how to hande r rope, even with one hand when the needs of gature remanded it (laughter), and there was someone there from Wales. They had ulsu got a representative of the scottish Association, who, as far as he knew, was the only change ainger who, to use a yood old scotish term, was a "residenter' jn the connty of Arryll. He thanked the College Yontils for the weicame they extended to kindred societies year by year, aud le woild like to thank them particularly this year for the wonderful examiple of handiall ringing they liad giwen thens Ho thought it ought to be alesson to the country members. A fortnight ago, speaking at Liverpool, he pleaded for a much greater use of handbelis, becacise be believed it was fajriy easy for a band ta attain a moderate degrea of striking on handbells, and, having got that, to have something to aim at in the tower. He loped the country members wonld go bome with that marvellons rhythm in their ears. Apart from tho intrieacy of the methods, the rhythm was about as perfect as it conld be (applause). He lroped it would etscourege others to do somsething like it and apply thythm to the tower bells (applanse).
Mr. L. Porter sulboitted "The Press, which, he said, hace everything in its power to make us or break us. He appealed to ine to be guided by the temmique winich they cond obtain from mingers so that then reports of ringers" achievements might be acenrate. With rogard to their own ringing paper, they weze all ngreed, he said, that such a journal was necessary iu the interests and progress of the nri. He appenled to the Editol to give them what they wanted, and he was certain that ringers would nat only subscribe to the paper, buli do all they coald to encourage ofters to do the same. He rippealsili to ringers, whatever their views, to five the ringing paper that sunport which had been asked for times ont of number.
Mr . J. S . Goldsmith, in replying, spoke of the excellent ' press ${ }^{\text {, }}$ which ringing was bow receiving gencrally. Referving to the prowhat they wanted, lie said lie was always ready to do that if ringris themselves really isnew what ther wated. The troulle, so far wo hre was concerned, was that nearly everybody who wrote fo him on the subject wanted something diferent (langhter), and tho Editor conld only use his discretion mind give the roaders that which he helieved wonld interest the greatest mumber (hear, hear).

The proceedings ended wilh Anld Lang Syne sumg with linked hands. The minsical programme included two aongs by Mr. Reginald Tohison, 'Ol' Man River' and 'I travel the road,' and handlbell solos by Mrs. Fughes, renderer in ler inimitable style. Her first item was 'Screntile,' a very delightful piece, written specially for her handbells hy Mr. F. G. Fngkins, organist of Chingford Parish Churei, and publicly performed for the first time. Mrs. Hughes followed this with ' If I might come to you" (W. H. Squire), and, as an elicores, played the ever popular 'Land of hope and glory." Aftarwatds Mtr. Jfughes was presented with a honquet by the Mastert, who spoke of the appreciation they had of what Mrs. Fughes did for their entertaipment year after vear. Mrs. Hughes graciously acknowlecigod the gift. The accompanist was Miss Olive Peake.

The election of officors for the tercentenary year takes place moxti Tuesday.

RESTORATION IN BRISTOL

ClAFTON BELIS REOPENED AFTER LONG SILENCE. Ifle pight bells of Clifton Parish Clumed lave been restorear. Phrey were rededicated by the Ven, W. Welclusian (Archdeacen of Bristol) in the presence of a layge eongregation, Durimy the service, inmedintely after the rededicatiou ceremony, the thelly were heard agnin, after as silenee of right yeara, rounds and ' Quen's' being rung ay the local band. The hells were rulag neain after the service for alout, half an hour, the openisg toueh being thren coursos of Steduan Triples by the following menubers of the Glonceple: and Bristol DiocasaıA Asociation: 1F. G. Leairer 1, E. Guise 2, J. 'liomas 3, P. C. Williama 4, F. A. Burford 5, H. W. Knight 6, S. H. Wool 7, H. S. Gregory 8.

Helreshments were served in the Parish Hall afterwards, and? Isilntes paid ta Mr. H. S. Gregory for his worls in connection with that restoration scheme and the formation of a yongy hand to ring Hic bells, also to Mpssrs. Mcars and Stainbauk (who were represented by Mr. A. A. Hughes) and Mr. J. Thomas for the exeellent why iu which the work bad hees carried ont.
The existing oak frame lons been strengthened, the tenor (weighing 13 (wt.) recast, and the whole peal retured aud rehung on hall lom nings. The 'go' of the bells leaves nothing to be desired anel exeryone is most ploased with their improved tone.

A local band of communieant members of the congregation has Iren formed under the eaptaincy of Mr. H. S. Gregory, with Mr. Sitrohom TI. Wood as instructor.
The leelle have heen rung regularty for the Sunday services since Now ropening, and a start has now bees made with elhange ringing. II is alanost 21 years sinco tho bells wete last rung for the Sumday murming serrice.

THE LENGTH OF A PEAL.

We print elsewhere a letter, on the subject of peals, which may give thoughtful ringers food for reflection. It contains the suggestion that, in view of the fact that the time is fast approaching when, as our correspondent puts it, the whole question of limitations upon peals must receive drastic attention, steps might be taken to lower the recognised standard for the length of a 'peal.' That the question of peal ringing should receive the serious consideration of the Exercise, and that there are, also, occasions when shorter bouts of ringing than three hours would meet the professed purpose of the performance, we fully agree, but there are weighty arguments against reducing the accepted length of a 'peal.'

In the sense that it is laid down that a peal shall consist of not less than 5,000 changes, our correspondent is correct when he says that it is a purely arbitrary standard, but there are mathematical and historical grounds for this definition. In the carly days of change ringing a 'peal ' was the extent of the changes on any given number of bells. It was a six-score on five, a 720 on six, and a five thousand and forty on seven. Old peal boards can still be found in which a 10,080 of Major is described as a 'quarter-peal.' But for practical purposes, ever since peal ringing, as we know it to-day, began in the early eighteenth century with peals of Triples, five thousand and forty has been the basis of recognition, with due allowance for the requirements of methods rung on eight or more bells.

To lower this standard would, we think, be a retrograde step. Peals are, in these days, 'cheap' enough compared with the tax which they put upon the performers in years gone by. To permit about three-fifths of such achievements to rank for merit as a 'peal' would strike at the very root of the value of the performance. When it is said that on the score of proficiency in a method r,260 changes can be as searching a test as the whole peal, we do not agree. The last hour of the peal is, in our opinion, the supreme test of the ringers' phy. sical and mental powers, when they have to resist fatigue botf of body and mind. That last hour of concentration is the all-important factor in successful peal ringing-to cut it out would rob the performance of more than half its merit.

But while we differ with our correspondent on what the standard of a peal should continue to be, we do agree that ringers have got to give more consideration to the public than has been sometimes done in the past. Peals on 'noisy' bells in congested districts should be avoided, except on very special occasions, but many a tower could (Continued on prge 766.)

be saved from eventual silence by the remedies which have been suggested. We consider it the ringers' duty, in their own as well as the public's interest, to get Church authorities to do what is needed to moderate the sound of the bells in the vicinity of the tower. The operation can always be carried out in such a way that the volume of sound can be regulated to suit the occasion. This, coupled with reasonable consideration for the public, and the maintenance of a good standard of striking-the quality of striking makes a vast difference to the effect on the public ear-would, we are convinced, go a long way to remove or prevent objection, but in the interests of the art itself we are sure it would be a mistake, even if another pcal were never rung, to reduce the standard which was set up in the beginnings of change ringing and has been maintained down the centuries.

FOR BEGINNERS.

ARTICLES APPRECLATED.

It is vary grabifying to us to koow tidethe articles for Begingers, which hav heen appearing every week for ubout 18 mouthe, are not only appruciated by nuay of those for whom they are specially writter, but that they noet with tha approwal of members of the Exercise who tavo long since passed beyond tlje 'begimer's stage. The fach that ib has been suggested that the "lessons" should be reprimed fo book Form is an indication of bleli usefulness.

Although written primarily for beginners, in varying stages-ome could not write continuously for those who are only learning to handle a rope, or trying to acquire ropesight-it was our intention to provide naterjal also for those who give instruction, and we are pleased, therufore, to fuarn from aumerous saurces bhat these more or less simple legeons are often proving raluable to bliose who mre terching otherg.

From the appraciation which has been expressed we feel that the arbicles aro on the right lines, and we lope they will continue to be of real usa. A loug series of articles ou the plan of taking the beginner in steps "from rounds to Loudon Sulprise could not, we believe, be publislned in th weekly paper with the semme udvantage. All beginners cannot progress at the sanie speed, and many conld nut Kcop pace with sueh a geries. In addition, the claims of the five und six-boll ringers, os wall ds those who practise on eight, bave to be considered, and each catagary rust lave its turn while othere are digosting what las ulready appeared. Moreover, blere are new ringers constantly coming along, avd we must relurn from time to time to give bhem a helping hand.

A LITTLE STEP TO LITTLE BOB.

For soma few weeks past we have been endeavouring to ghow ringers a way of geting anew interest, by explaning how eany it is, by menns of a little study and patience, lo try something fresh with hopes of sucaens. Oirs extminabion of Minor methods has shown how they are often interlocked in their constrinction, and thus the task of mastering them is to some extent eased,

The same hilf applies to Mijor methods. Fhey run very much in Froups. Ono such group is the Plain Bob mothod, in which, in addition to Bob Major, wifh 2nd's place made when the treble deads, there is Reverse Bob, produced by 7th's place when the treble lies its whole pull behind, cunsing the dodging at that etrare jnstead of af the lead and. There is also Double Bob, with botif 7 th's place and tha accompanying dodging when the treble is belind and gnd's

It is not necessary $10 r^{4}$ us to ga into detinl about the ringing of these two methods-a getuly of the full explanation of Feverge and Donble Bob Minor, which appoared in our issue of September 25tin, should to sufficient.

We would, however, like to Eum attention to another variant of Plain Bob, which readers may like to try. Sonne rimgers look at it rabher nskance, but it is a change and it can lae made to produce good music. Morcover, in a fnshion, it is good preparation for a step to Troble Bab.
We refer to Little Boh. This is a method ju which the treble las a plain lunt, but it goes up only to 4 th's place, where it makes a phole pull, and then returns to lead. That is why some meople do not liku it-the treble nover gets abova 4 th's place.

It can bo rung as Minor; if you like, but, of courso, as the treble is never in $5-6$ the cxtent of chameres on six bells is not possible by this mothoul. In Major, however, there is full scope for a peal and the method is perfoctly ensy to ring.
As readers who have reached the stage of Plain Boh on a working bell well know, the 2nd's place made at a plain lead, or the 4 tits place mado at a bob, caises the bells nbove those places to dodge.

Prectsely the stme thing happens in Little Bob. When flee treble londs, 2nd's place is mude lay the bell which come down in front of the tweling, and the belle in $3-4,5-6$ and $7-8$ dodge. Wlion the treble makeg 4 th's, the bells in $5-6$ and $7-8$ dodge
The regnll, is that; $a$ hell, once it is above 4 th's, dodeses in every dodring place, $5-6,7-8$ (up), 8-7, 6-5 (down) colsecutively. In addition it dodges $4-3$ (down) nad $3-4$ (ap) if the treble is belaw it. In otlen words, yo's dorge in every dodging place as you come to it unless you aro netinally jn $J-4$ witl the treble; that is unless you cross the oble 3408 4.3
Conslract a course foy yourself, draw your dingram and see how gymmetrical if is. Tha conrse is, perforce, only liatf tile length of a conrge of Plain Bol
The bobs are made as in the parent meliod: 4 tis's instexd of $2 \mathrm{nd}^{3} \mathrm{~s}$, with the bell, that led in front, of the treble, running out and making same orker, rud the conductor has to be wary of the fact that the calls at Wromg and Middle coms at consecutive leads-indecd, they have only the dodge lo $\overline{8}-7$ (down) between them while tho Home oncurs four londs firther on: after he has been down to the front again. If ha neads a mental check, Fome occnsra at the second lead again. If ha mends a merbal checir, Home ocenst at the second lead the front withont manking 2ndes Any trie tonth of Toob Mrior will

'CRAFTSMANSHIP' SUBORDINATED TO THE ' ENGINEER. WORCESTHRSHIRE VICAR'S PLAINT.
The annual meeting of the Western Branch of the Worcesterstire and Districts Association took place at Powick last Saturday and was well attended, considering the day was cold and foggy. Powick, a small village lying on the Malveru road some three miles south-west of Worcester, was the scene, we are told, of the first shot fired in the Oivil War which began in 1642, aud known as the dirst Battile of Worcester.
The church is ancieut and possesses a 'Bob Major' tower contaimmg six bells, tenor $23 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. in li int, originally by A. Rudhall, 1705 , but four of them liave since been recast, the tellor in 1835 others in 1910. The tone of the whole peal is mellow and full of dignity, tho handling of them no easy matter unless one allows the arms to go well above the shouIders and uses the straight-alletie-waydown puil.
Ringung legan at 3 o'clock and continued entil 4.15 , when a short service with address was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. I. C. Champion, who is an honorary member of the association. In his address the Viear, commenting upon the ever recuring topic of ringers not going to church, said that he would never try to compel anyoue to go against their wish. As regards his own ringers he left the matiter to conscience, and remarked that it was not so much church-going as the way we lived our daily lives lhat mattered most. Change dinging was a beautiful art, but he himself was often dismayed at the ignorance of some ringers in failing to regard it as such. Ho then leferred to the craftsmanship of the old bellfounders which to-day had beev subordiuated to the engineer, a gain to ringers as fir as the 'go' of the bells was concerned, but to be regretted inasmuch as the craftsman had been dippensed with.

The Vicar's address certainly surprised some of the members with its knowIedge of bells and the understanding of ringers, a fact that was commenter upon later in the vote of thanks.
A 'ringers' tea' was very kindly provided in the Village Hall by Mr. Geaftrey Lewis, a menber of the Cathedral band, who resides at l'owick, after which the business meetuig was held. All the offoers were re-elected, namely, Messrs. C . Camm (Ringing Master), G. E. Large (secretary and treasurer), W. Rauford (representative of the Dentral Committed). The quarterly peal was lefi in the hands of Mr. G. J. Lewis, and it was decided to malke either Wychbold or Leigh the place of tin first meeting for 1937.
The secretary then reportad an increase of aboul 20 members over last year, the total membership being a record for the bratch since its formation. He thanked all tower secretaries and others who had helped to make this possible, and urged on them the necessity for retaining at practices and meetings the new faces they had with them that aftermoon. He also asked for revised and accurate lists of members' pames for the purpose of the next annual report
The large lall, with its wide, open fireplace, provided a Dickensian setting for the meeting, and members were loth to leave it for the murky fog which hung ontside. Eventually, however, a few stalwarts led the why for further ringing, which inchuded Cambridge and London Surprise. Finally the compally, thoroughly warmed by now, dispereed onee again into the gloom, this time homeward bound.

A QUESTION FOR THE METHODS COMMITTEE.

To the Kditor.

Dear Sir,-As a ringer of over 52 years' standing and one who rang his first peal over 50 years ago, I think I ought to have the right of putting questions to the Methods oommittee and to expect a courteous anower.
Most certainly I have the right to try and impart knowledge to he Exercise, which $I$ hnow to be true, in spite of the fact that this kuowledge is opposed to the beliefs of the Methods Committee.
I propose, therefore, to ask the Methods Committeo if they can give tho Exercise a mathematical proof, apart from the course-cods of the peals, whether or no the following peals are one and the same. The peals here given are for 8th's place methods, but they can also be converterl inta 2nd's place methods. No. 1 peal is applicable to the H class of plain methode; No. 2 peal to the J class.
As five-part peals they would be applicable to many Treble Bob or Surprisg methods, provided the methods have clean proof scales.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

HEETING FAILS' IN ITS OBJECT.
The little village of Shere is always an attractive spot for a ringing meeting, and it iresw about 30 ringers to the Guildford Diocesan Guik's gathering on Saturtiay. Indeed, those who visited it had the opportuuidy of seeing it under pieturesqua cenditions in the evening. Standing in the centre of tha vilage, where a giant oak rises seatine at the junction of three roads, the scene was one that may be dreamed about, but seldam seau. A crescent moon shiming from a starlit indigo sky, the ancient Jalf-timbered gabled buidings, with the warm glow of lamps shining from numerous cottage windows, the shingled spire of the old churoh starding out in silhouette, with the bells ringing merrily over the quiat wilage, and the Thingbourne stream burbing beneath the little old-world bridge, provided an enchanting setting, whicli needed to be seen to be fully realised. Shere lins the reputation of being one of the pretfiest willages in Surrey, and it can be as charming under the moonlight as it is picturesque under the midday sum.
The visiting ringers received a warm welcome from the Rector (the Rev. Sir Paget Bowman) when he alddressed them at the gervice; they would have been more pleased could they have been welcomed also by the local ringers, not one of whom appeared until late in tho evening, when 'Old Tommy' Streeter, esteemed by all who know him, made a thelated appearance. Old Tom thinks he has neariy passed the active stage, but le was induced to take part in a short tomel of Grandsire Triples.

The other methods rung duting the afternoon reached out to Cambridge Major, but chief attention was given to those who were anxious to improve their accuaintance with more modest things.
Ringers were present from Guitdford (Cathedral and S . Nicoias'), Oranleigh, Eryhurst. Godalming, Haslemore, Pirbright, Woking, Worplesdon, West Claudon and Bugelot, and visitors from Reigate, Sevenoaks and Dekfeld. The attendance included all the district officers and the Master, hon, treasurer and hon. secretary of the Guild.

At the business meeting of the Guildford District, after tea at the White Horse Hotel, the Master presided and a wate of condolence and sympatliv was pessed with the family of the late Mrs. G. E. Walker, of Wofing, widow of the late Admiral Watker (who was formerly hon. treasurer), and a life hon. member of tle Guild.
One new ringing member was elected, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Shelton, of Reigate, were elected non-resident life members.

A vote of thanks was accor-a to the Ractor and organist, but the hou. district secretary reminded the members that, although they had a good attendance, the meeting; having been arranged with a view to interesting the local ringers, had failed in its object, as not ore of them was present.

But that is the way of same of the ringing fraternity.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

COMMITTEE'S PROPOSALS.
The Shropshire Agsociation held a successful meeting at Condover on November 7th, when over 30 members attended. The very pleasant peal of eight was going ali an early hour, tho long draugit and th couple of newish ropes giving the visitors a good deal to think about for a time. However, some oreditable striking in stautdard methods was heard, and some good practice put in before the service.
The Vicar is a practising member of the association, and showed his interest by conducting a very enjoyable service, also by taking the chair at the business meeting whicin followed tea in the Parish Hall.
The annual meeting was provisionally fixed for January 16 th, other business being the election of Mr. G. F. D. Pratt to the committec The commiteo asked for authority to send out to all towers connected with the association asking for 1936 subscriptions. कhe mames only of members who have paid the amulal subscription will be in cluded in the recister
The committee also proposed to get in touch with the authorities at the three Shrewsbury chrrehes where the bells are not rung with a view to puthing ropes. etc. in order as far as possible.

Further ringilug was enjoyed in the evening, and several enthusiasts found it neessary to hurry off for trains and buses at 9 p.m.

THE ARTICLES FOR BEGINNERS

SUGGESTED PUBLICATION IN BOOK FORM. To the Editor.
Dear Sir, May I strongly support the suggestion which I see that Cmon Caleridge maxe at the Callege Yontlis' dinner-that the excellent series of articles 'For* Beginners' may in due course be collected into book form? Therc are, of course, several existing books which are doing great service, but the articles in your paper are second to noge for cleamess and choroughness.
But now that they have been rumning for more than a year they havo natnrally reacled something dather beyond the strict 'beginner" stage, whereas ringing societies are constantly having to deal with complete neweomers to the art; and many of these newcomers too, alas will probably not start reading 'The Ringing. World' until they feel that they do at least know a little about ringing. So if the articles are sooner or later gathered into a book, I am sure that the result will he of great value-particularly to societies such as the Unipersity Society here, where practically the whole time is spent an teaching beginners.

STRAIGHT FROM THE BELFRY.

After the College Yonths' dimer, ' Peter Simple' had the following in his column in "The Monning Post,' headed 'Straight, from the Belfry.' It meeds no comment:-
"At the 299th auniversary dinner af the Ancient Society of College Fouths, says a recent news item, the assembly heard four Colleate Youths ring for the first time in public a "spliced surprise major" in five methods. "Splieng the smprised major" is a terin well known to campanologists; sucl the five " methods " or inpredients are the sant as those used in all exercises of a similar glaracter. Among the aldey generation of ringers, a ronnd of triple-spliced swelphe bob majors is the usual signal for the party to break up; whence the phrase "riuging the bell,"

The five "methads " according to the best anthorities are sack, stingo, tordy, punch, and that product of nodern campanology, the plain cator and It."

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

Mr. E. H. Lewis Installed.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Ameient. Society of College Yeuths elected their Master for the Tercentenary year, and Mr. E. $\mathbf{H}$. Lewis (president of the Central Council) was urstalled for a period which shonla prove of unparalleled interest in the society's history
The meeting at which the election wook place was lield at the Coffee Pot, in Warwick Lane, almost under the shadow of St. Paul's Cathedral, which has been the headquarters of the society for many years past.
The business began when the retiring Master (Mr. E. P. Duffeld) took the chair and the cercmonial caudles standing on the table in front of the mate had been duly lighted. The silver eandlesticks are a pair, presented hy the late Dr. Arthnmaicholls, of Boston, U.S.A., actually used by the Duke of Wellington througlout his Peninsular campaign.

MR. EDWIN H. LEWIS.
Elected Master of the Collegs Youths for the Tercentenary Year

The preliminary business, which was expeditiously got through, included the reading of a letter from the Rev. Fypes-Clinton, Rector of St. Mafmus ${ }^{2}$, containing the suggestion that when the society or ganised its Coronation ringing, arrangements shoutd be made for bells in the City to be ring throughout the week without the overlapping of ringing at heigllbouring towers. One tower ahould be used each day in a clifferent quarter of the City and the arrangements published in the Coronation programme in the Gity Press.

Three new members werc elected and there was the mique incident of a gradfather proposing lis awn grandson, when Mr. T. Groombridge, sen., sulpmittod the name of Mr. F. T. Groombridge.

The financial statement for the year having heen disposed of, Mr. F. E. Dawe (bie oldest surviving Past Mabler) was voted to the chair while the election of oficers took place.

THE OFFICERS.

Mr. Dawe expressed apprecintion of the compliment paid lim. He recalled the fact that he was elected Master for the first time 49 years ago, and occunied the honourable position on five occasions. He was pleased to meet again that night friends be used to meet 50 , 55 and 58 years ago. He was particularly pleased to eee present Mr. Challis Winney, for they were elected members the same night 58 yerrs ago. They learat to ring together; in fact, in their ringing carecre they had grown ap side by side. Mr. Dawe went on to pay a tribute to the retiring Master, who was to be succeeded by another able gentleman. Bath he outgoing and the meoning hasters woye men 201 whon the binging Excrese had the highest possible respect, For the importaut year which was before then they could not have a more suilable Master than the president of the Central Council (applanse) Mr. A. A. Hughes thear proposed and Mr. T. Groombridge seconded that Mr. Fiwin E. Lewis be elected Master of the society for the ensuing yatr, and the motion was carried amid applause.

Mr. W. 'I'. Cockerill's re-election ss hon. secretary was earried by acclamation. Mr. T. Groombridge, in making the propositions gatd 110 one would ever linow the amount of work put in by Mr. Cockerith, who Lad been secretary longer than be (Mr'. Groombidge) had been a member.
Mr. J. C. Mitchell, who sconded, stid he hat for years metwelled at the way Mi. Cockerill had carried on the job so efliciently.

Mr. A. A. Fughes was re-elceted trensurer. Mr. L. B. 1ºrfer was elected senior stiewand and Mr. J. Wangla junior steward. Messrs. C. F. Winney and F. R. Newton were re-elected trustees.

AUSPICIOUS FPAR BFFORE THE SOCIETY
Mr. Lewis when wok the chair annid applanse, and Mr. Duflield nvested him with the badga of office- ilke new regalia provided by past officer's of the society to commemorate the Tercentenal'y. Mr. Duffield said the invested Mr. Lewis with the badge in the firm belief that the society, durimg his tern of ofice, would attain at prominence and a position of streugth such as in the whole of its 300 years of history it had never attained before. Fie assured Mr. Lewis of the support of the members of the sveiciy aud wished him every success in liss year of office.
'The new Master' said ha felt it was a grent honour' to hawe been elected to the affice in this martioulavy nuspictons yenr that was now starting. He thought Sir Arthur Ircywood wonlal have been rathet glad to know that ine president of the Council which he foumed had been elected master of that society, for when he fist hroheleet the ixdea of a Cantral Council there were remarls fion one or two ald members of the College Youths not quito complizentary to his ineas (laughter). But he weat through wifh it in spite of that, and he (Mr. Lewis) was very glad to fem to-day that the College Yonthe were as kaen supporters of the Conncil as any of tho other societics.
Continumg, be said he mended to du all he could daring the coming year to sumport the society in every possible way. He expressed thanks th the reticins Iraster fon all lie had done for the socicty during his two years of office. Despite the fact that he hud 50 miles to travel to lis home after their mectings, Mr. Duflield had been most assiduous in his attendance (applause)
Mr: Duffield thanked the nembers for their indulgence during his Mastership, and the sfewards and officers for thein support. His two years of office had been very happy ones, and in vactivig the chatr it was a great pleasure to know it was to be filled by one than whom they could find nome more aceeptable to the Exercise (applause
A vote af thanks to the officers of the past year was acknowledged by Mr. L. R. Porter, and at Mr. E. A. Young's snggestion it whs resolved that on ceremonial occasions the modallion badge of office, untit rocently worn by the Master, should in fature be worn thy the Immediate Past Master.
LIMITFD ACGOMMODATJON FOR TERCFNTENARY DINNBR.
The Fon. Treasurer, on behalf of the commitee who lane the arrangements of the Tercentenary celebrations moder considernion, said that owing to the dimer coming so near to the date of the Lord Wayor's banguet, they had been informed that the use of the fuild hall for the society's function was oul of the question. Only lwo publite raoms in the Cify were capable of seating the number of people they would be likety to get at the dinmer, and las asked the mombers to elceite that, uight to which place they would go, the Ahricorm Roams or the Canmon Street Hotel

After delails had beon diechesel, the Canmon Street Fotel, which can seat 400 to 420. was decided npou.
This will prechude the presence of hadies, and a suggestion wus made that they might be provided for in another lall in the sume building:
Mr. Jonnt sturgested that perlams some kind of celehration, in which the ladies nould take part, might loe arramged in the summer.
Mr. Homles stated that now that they had denided that the compans would he limited to 480 , su carly annoumement would lave to bo innde in 'The Ringing World' that applientious for tinkets mast be in in goorl time.
The husiness conclurder, the members, at the all of the loos, secre. tary, dimult the health of the new Master and wished him a sucessin year of office
Then the candles were extinguistren and alowly the company hroke ip.

SEVENTEENTH CENTURY MASTERS

INTERFSTING FACTS ABOUF FARLY LEADERS OF IHE SOCITETY
The election of a Master for the Tercentelaty yenr of the Ameient Society of College Youths gives added interes! to the bintory of the early days of the soniety and what is known of its first Masters.

A volume of futense interest on the history of the College Youths, its oarly members and its outstanding performances, has been written by Mr. I. Armiger Trollope, and it is hoped that this may be publiginad during the forthcoming year'. It, would be a fitting accompaniment to what should be a noteworthy year for the society. By Mr. Trollope's kindioss we are able to mbtish, from his work, the following particulars of some of the eanly Masters of the society.
The society, as is known, was established on November 54, 1637, and the first Master wrs Willian, lard Brereton, the head of an old Cheshire family, whose memlers liad done good service to the State, in the Army, the Church and the Law.
He Irul married, says Mr. Trollope, the daushter of George Goring, afterwards Enrl of Norwich, at the time one of the most powerful men in the country, and the inflnence of his father-in-law and his own social standing bronght him into close contact with the Royn Court and the lighest pergons in the country. He was now 26 years old and, we may suppobe, had fiready practised bellringing both in Loudon and at his collntry home in Cheshire.
The year 1637 is famous for other things than the founding of the Gocicty of College Youtlis; it was the first jear of the revolutionary movement which led to the tomporary ruin of Church and Crown, and fivo years later the Civil War brake out. The College Fouths, arturaliy, were Royalists to a man, and the oder members joined the King's standard on wanl down to their country homes to help his cause.

A ROYALIST.

Lord Brerelon gathered arms, raised forces and garrisoned his house. On the other side was his namesake and distant cousic, Sir William Brereton, who held Nantwich for Parliament, and for some time the opposing forces contended for the controt of cheshire. The issue wus decided in 1644, when Sir Thomas Fairfax mavched ont of Yorkshire, joined Sir William Brereton aud routed the Royalists. Lave Brereton escaped from the battle, but was afterwards captured, and lis enemies refused to exchange him on the ground that ho had put to death in cold blood several of the Parliamentary side.
What truth there was in this charge cannat now be said, butafter a year ho was rot at liberfy and returned to his own honce and took no further part in the war. His troulbles, however, were not by any means over; he had to pay heavily for his 'delmquency ' and the up to taadon.
In the yent 1660 enme tha Restoration and the change in Church and State which it brought with it greatly affected ringing in gengral and the fortunes of the College Youths in particular. The art received a greats stimulus and all those men who had suffered so nuch for their loyally to the royal cause looked for compensation nand reward. Lord Brereton petitianed tho King for a grant to himself and his son of the office of Custos Brevium in the Court of Common Pleas.

Whother his request was granten does not, appear, but on May 31 st , 1661, a whrrant wns issued to pay him $£ 500$ as the King's free gift. Ho was made Lord Lieutenant of Cheshire in conjunction with Thward SLanley, Enrl of Derby, who was also Lord Lientenant of Lancashire and Lord of the Isla of Man. This division of the office was annsual and was done becanbe, while Brereton represented the eavaline gentiy of the county, Derby's territorial and personal infiuence in the district was so great that ho could not be passed over. The arrangement diel not worls well. There was a good deal of ill-feeling between the Broretons and the Stanleys, Derby rescnted the appointment of a colleague and iguored him; and Broreton wns irritated and sulked. The govemment of the connty was neglected and several alarp letters were sont down irom Whitenall. Some of the county gontlenen supgested that hotls Lords Jieuteuant should be dismissed and anoiher man appointed, but this was not done. A hint seems to have heen given to Derby to confine himself to his other combties, and after that Brereton was entrgetic in the administration of Cheshire.

NO MEMORIAL TO FJRST MASTER.

He died in April, 1664, and was buried at the church at Brereton, where there is at present 120 memorial to him. His losses in the Civil Wre and the heavy fines be hud to pay had ruined him.
Loud Brereton's titile was an Irisla one aud gave him no seat in the House of lands, but in the latter part of his life he was a Member of tralimment for Clushira. Fis son sold the Cheshire esiates, and after tha next gencration tie family nnd the title became extinct.

Cifford Cliftot, the second Master (1638), was four years younger than Brevolon. Te was the sccond son of Gerpase Clifton, a wenlthy Nottinghamshive landowner, nud derived his Christian name from his matemal grandinther, George Clifnord, Enol of Cumberland. As the cmitet of the family lie was intended to make his fortume in what we should now erll the Civil Survice. His fatluer was a strong Ropalist and we may suppose that the son was active on the same sine. When the royal canse was finally lost and the King's head had follen on the gcafoin, Cliftou's carcer as a courtier and civil servant came to an ond; so he entered himself ns anstudeut at Groys Inn, intending to seek his cortune as a lawyer, and that no donbt renewed his association with the College Youths.

About Edwayd Flower (L639) Mr. Trollope हays he seeme to have been in much tha smme position as Cliflon, and in after years lie was one of the King's Messengers.

Two brothers, Henry and Rohert Mackworth, the sons of Sir Henry Mackworth, of Eapringham, in Rutlandshire, were Masters in 1642 and 1643. Robert, who was admitted to the Imer Temple in 1640, died in 1717 at the good old age of 97 . He appears to have kept up his connection with the society throughout his life, und his son Thomas was steward in 1693.
Capt. John Harrison, who followed the Mackworths in the chair (1644), was a different sort of person. Soldfer, courticr, envoy, administrator, author and divine, he played many parts during an adventurous life spent in three continents. He was a man past middle life when he joined the society.

Among the other early mambers were Thomas Joyce, the Master in 1641, who was the son of a Darset gentleman; Jahn Hackett, Rector of St. Andrew's, Holban2; two other clergwmeu, John Milyer and Jolin Lightfoot; and John Honghton, Master in 1646, a writer of learned books and dealer in coffee, chocolate and other luxuries "sgainst the Ship Tavern in Bartholomew Lanc.' All these were Cambridge graduntes, except Joyce, who was at Exeter College, Oxford and almost from the begmming there was a close colnnection between the Cambridge University ringers and the College Youths.
Sir Henry Tulse was successively Alderman, Sheriff and Lord Mayor of London. and in the year that he held the last office (1684) he was elected Mastel of the society.

Lohn Teudring, an Essex country gentleman, was not only a good ringer, but also a first-class composer'. He produced some five-bell peals which are very ingenious and elahorate in conetruction. That he was highly thought of by the society is shown by the fact that be was elected Master (1659), only two years after joining the society and without having previously held the office of Steward.
Sir John Everard (1662) was a member of anotlier important Essex family, whose official duties took him to Westminster, where he made the acquaintance of the College Youths and became one of the leading men of the society.

Among the men who have left their mark upon the art of ringing and who in their day served as Master of the society were Tabian Stedman (1682) and Benjnmin Amnable (1746), but the earliest composer who is known to have occupied the chifef offcial position in the society, the man who probably converted 'cross peals' into half-pull changes, was Robert Roan (1652). He first producer the six-score of Grandsire Doubles, and from it 'Grandsire Bob,' the 720 of Bob Minor with the old standard calling.
John Patrick, who joined the College Youths in 1679 . wat Steward in 1684 and Master in 1692, whs one of the men who carried on Stedman's work as a composer. He lived at Ship Gonrt in the Old Bailey and was an inventor and maker of barometers and thermometera and hal a great reputrion among ravigators and scientific men of the time. Fourteen or fifteen of his Minor methods and half a dozen Triples methods are printed in the 'Campanologia' of 1702. THE MASTERS OF THE LAST 100 YEARS.
The books of the College Youths give the names of the Masters from the foundation uutil 1755, when, unfortunately, the custom of recording the appointment in the Name Book fell into abeyance and there is conseanently no record of those who occupied the Msaster's chair until 1822 .

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC

SEOULD THE LENGTH OF PEALS BE REDUCED?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Your judicious remarks on the above subjech should serve as a reminder the Exercise that the time is fast approaching when the whole question of limitations upon peals nust receive drastic attention. It is becoming increasingly apparent that in these days the pablic will not endure uncomplainingly the number of peals and peal attempts that in other days were imposed upon their ears
So far mobody has revived the old question of limiting the number of changes that constitute a peal. Perhaps we have at last become so impressed with the idea that five thousand changes must necessarily go to a peal that the idea of a shorter standard has not occurred to us. Yot the present standard is a purely arbitrary one, and it is quite within our power, as an Exarcise, and acting throngh aur own elected boty-the Central Council-to stipulate that a lesser number shall be recorded as a peal; at any rate, upon ordinary occasions,
On the score of proficiency in a method, 1,260 eballeses, which is the standard for admission imposed by the Ancient Society of College Youths, can be as searching a test as the whole peal. While nove of us would have the temerity to propose so low a fipure as this for a recorded peal, there is no valid reason why we shonk mot accept something ronnd abont 3.000 changes. For the aake of Minor bands the figure might be 2,880 or 3,600 ; that is, either four or five 720 ' ,
Once we made the break with tradition in our minds on this matter we conld, I think, see much to commenal the shorter peal on other gromods than the mere abatement of noise. It has always seemed ludicrons to me that whetleer the occasion is the crowning of a monarch or the christening of the temorman's latest-horn, the Exer cise thas precisely the same celebration to make; unless, of course the Master of the tower has a due sense of proportion, and accords to the infand the perfectly suffient tribute of a guarter-pea?. With the longer peal, the 5,000 . kept in reserve, and not cheapenea by promismous resort. it could he used with effect as a really roya peal when nntional oecasions justifien it.
All the parts of Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob and Troble Bob Major and Camhridge Surprise Major-to name only some of the methods abont whicł the same conld be said-that are worth rioging could casily be compressed into 3.000 . It is the extension of these to peal lenoth that demands the inclusion of unmusical courses, or in some methods the employment of unmusica! lons courses instead of fro better short conrses. Indecd, the whole field of camposition wonld he altered out of our present knowledge if we adonted al 3.000 standard. Needless to saty, the immovememt of the music for outsinf ears mist go a long way towards abatement of opposition to the hells.

Tliere is finally a very importent practical censideration. Short peals. of the length $I$ have indicated. would take ahout two hours to ring on the avprage cight or ten. This shortening of the time wonla permitt, the neal to he fitted into the interya? between afternoon and evening service on sundap, when the occasion was of sufficient importanco to justify the effort, and so have the hrony effect of trangferring manv peal nitempts, not merelv to the most suitable occasion for them, but also to the time when they would mrobably arouse least opposition. It would always be possihle to justify two hours' ringing on Sunday evening much more satisfantorily than threa haurs or more on a Snturdav. Tikewise th would remove from peal ringing the nresent reproach that it is ntterly dissaciated from the true firmetion of the bells: service ringing.

None of the wate kep ringors will contemplate very lappily any such self-tenting ordinamre as I have sugeested. But as pou, sir, have so cogently and rithtiy wamaed ns. something of the kind must be the legser of two evils. for it is anita cerfain that if we do nothing anrselves. somethine mich mare drastie will he done. withont, our commliance perhans, but also without our power to oppose it, Already many thwers are clused for peal ringing altnother: we shall be verv short-sighted indeed if persist in disregarding the portents until there are no towers left to us.
North Stonelanm, Hants

COLLEGE YOUTHS' TERCENTENARY.

The coming year should create a new and conspicuous interest in the Ancient Society of College Vouths. In celebrating its tercentenary it will reach an auspicious point in its long history, and it has begun the year with happy autgury by the election as Master of the President of the Central Council. We are not quite sure that the College Youths themselves fully realised the significance of the occasion, or they would surely have been present in larger numbers to inaugurate this very interesting period. Members have a sense of the prestige and importance of the society, but they missed a great opportunity last week to emphasise this to those other pebbies on the beach' to which reference was made at the annual dinner.

The Exercise will look with eagerness to the College Youths to do something which will mark the year as at memorable one. Great occasions demand suitable gestures. We are quite sure that there will be disappointment that the tercentenary banquet will not be open to ladies-even to lady ringers. One reason is that within the borders of the City of London there is no available foom which would accommodate all that might be expected to attend, if ladies were permitted to be present. It will, of course, be a memorable gathering if over four hundred male ringers assemble round the festive board, but it would be, we think, the more memorable and certainly a very happy gesture if, for this one occasion, tradition had been thrust aside and it were made possible for a mixed gathering to be held. That it is out of the question, as things stand, will be regretted by at least many provincial members of the society. The year, doubtless, will not be allowed to pass unmarked by anything except the usual dinner in November, and in any other festivities that are arranged the elaims of the ladies to share with the men will, we imagine, have sympathetic consideration.
In addition to festivities, however, there ought to be some permanent commemoration of the occasion, and it seems to us there is an obvious and suitable method open to the members. Lord Brereton, the prime mover in the establishment of the society three hundred years ago, was buried in the church at his family seat in Cheshire. No memorial to him exists. What better could the Coliege Youths do to commenorate their Tercentenary and at long last to recognise their debt to their founder than to erect a modest memorial to their first Master near to his last resting place? We commend this suggestion to the members of the society as one which would add distinction to what all ringers hope will be a memorable year.

CAMBRJDGE COUITT.

In the Celftral Council's Collection of Plain Major Methols, there is materink enough for any eightholl baud to satisfy all their mmbition in piain Mnjot ranging, and yet how seldom il is that ringers attempt any of these many interesting methods. Apart from formine easy ateps to progress, they are, in thenselves, worth ringing, while some of them uru enongh to tax tho ability of average ringors.
It scems, however, that hingers have got into a corbain pabli from which they do not eare to depart in thoir efforts to go from the simple to the complex. The steps seem to be Bob Major, Double Norwich, 'l'reble Bob, Superlative or Cambridge.
Now, that is all very well for those able to lake long strides, and it is probably necessary at present for those who try to get practice elsewherg than in their own wower, because these methods seem to be the staple "food, of ringers. We are certain, however, that matuy at ringer has got into a stuto of stagnation, just becanse he has been coufronter by the rather long steps and has found them very difficult or impossible to talke in his stride.

The Central Council's Collection can be a great aid to overcoming this difficulty, and we suggest that bands who are desirous of getting on should thro their attention to some of the methods published in the boak, which will take them nlong in eary stages nod lielp them Lo grasp the process as they go.
When wo dealt with progressive steps in Minor, we endenvoured Lo take our begioners from the Plain Bob method to the Court methorls, in which places made "across the troble" are introduced, instead of or in addition to places in 2nd's and 5th's when the treble leads or is belind.
This principle is applied also to Major methods but, there lueing inore bells, there are more positions where these places can be made. In Minor they can only be made in 3-4; but in Major they can also he made in 5-6. The method, to be symmetrical, mist have places to correspond in each half of the lead, that ia to say if there are places neross the treble in $3-4$ when this belt is hunting up, there must be places in $3-4$ wheu it is hunting down. Similarly places made with the treble crossing $5-6$ up invalves places when the treble arosses 6-5 down.
Donble Court whs the simple example in Minor. Let us put it lyeside or Major metilod.

It will be seen on exmmination that except for the pair of bells in ? 8 in tha Major the first six rows in the Minov and Major are identical gnal we have separated the pairs so that this may be the nasier eecn. The four middle rows in the Major, of course, have no notenterpart in the Minor, but the six following rows, if 4.5.6.7.8 in the Major, are sulbstituted far 23.4.5.6 respectively in the Minor, whil again be ohserved to be identical.
The eight-bell method is Cambridge Court, Like Double Court it is all singlo dodeing on the front, except whon the treble intervenes, und rgain like Double Court there is no dodging in 3-4. Also when treble turns yon from front oy belind 'places across the treble' are made in 3-4. The uncthod differs from Double Court in that it is all thouhh dodging behind, except when the freble intervenes.
Romains the work in 5-6. Tu the figures given above, it will be Heen that a bell (the 5 th in this lead) having previonsly passed the freble in 2-3, dodges in 5-6, makes 5th's, 3 rd's and 5th's, and then dodger down in 6-5. That is really the only umusual piece of work in the molhod. There are only two other dodges in 5-6: one after you lave farmen the troble from behind and double dodged in 8-7 (down) and the other immediately aiter passing the treble in 4-5.

Camburlme Court is alrendy being talten up $\mathbf{i}_{11}$ a few places; we suggest that those who watit to depart from Plain Bob (Single, Reverge ar Denble) should study and ring it.
Firgt draw your dingran, marking carefully where the treble crosses the line of lhe worling bell. With this before you and a stndy of the conatraction of the fagres we hive Eiven, Cambridge Conut ouglit to be an interesting departure from the humdrum of Bob Major.

BELLS AND THE PUBLIC.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, I lave read with math interest your comments on the Hove topic, also the splendid letter written by Mr. A. J. Convgan. You give us an excellent suggestion this week when you say, The operation can always be carried out in such a way that the volume of sonth can be rogulated to sutit the occasion,' which is perfectily correct and very practical.
I feel sure that the above siggests the lines apon whith mensures shand be taken in dealing with the matier. To spend some hundreds of pounds on reskoring a peal of bells and then brick up the lonvers so that the somind comes through the roof, etc., is hardly worith doing. I think that iu some areas peals should very seldon, if ever, be attempted. I have been in certain houses near towers when hells have been ringing and have heen astonished at the volume of soumd. and can ouite imagine what the eflect would be in city offecs and business places.

I feel certain that the public generally favour church bells, ant only a small minority are dead against them, but there are many who object to long spells of ringing for, to them, no apparent reasor,

VICAR'S METHOD OF DEALING WITH COMPLAINTS. AN ANSWER TO 'GRUMBLERS.'

The North-Westem District of the Surrey Ansociation held their last meeting of the year at All Sains', Benhilton, Sutton, on Saturday, when 29 members attended. representing the local band, JanEtead, Beddingtan, Chelsen, Crovdon (St. Joln's and St. Poter'ह), Epsom (Chige Church), Fwell, Merton ant Leatherhead.
Ringing commenced at 3 p.im, and continued until 5 o'clock, when those present attented a short choral evensong conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. S. J. Clements, who also gave the address. Taking his text from Romans, xii., 13, "Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep,' he said that the bells of our chnrehes were the chief means of giving expression to this command, and it; was for this reason the gervice rendered by the bellringers was so much appreciated by the great majority of the people of anr land. He illnstrated this hy recalling the muffled peals which were rung on the occasion of the feath of King feorge V., and also by the rejoicing, so well expressed fyy the bells, at the Christmas seasou. Then there was the forthoming coronation of our present King, when the bellringers would again be called npon to express the national sentiment. He added. however, that he was well aware of the fact that there were in almost every parish people who complained about the somnd of the bells and would like them silenced. With such people he always adopted the attitude that the bells were there first; that they wore welcomed by the majority of the parishioners, whr liked to hear their message of sympathy or rejoicing, as the case might be, and for that reason they conld not be silenced. He invariably pointed out to these 'grumblers', that it wonld be as well if, before trking up residence in a parish, they had a look round to see if there was anrehling sucin as a church with a peal of bells, a school, or a factory, in the vicinity likely to interfere with their peace of mind. and arrange for the situation of their house acenrdingly. "So do not take too much notice of these disagreable people, my brotlers, sair the Vicar. 'So long pas your' ringing is done to the glory of God and in the service of yair fellow-men, go on doing it, sure in the knowledge that your efforts are ampreciated.
Tea followed at the Angel Hotel, and rifter tea a short business meeting was held. presiderl over by the District Ringing Master, Mr. Daniel Cooper. The following were nominated as distobe officers for 1937: Rineing Master, Mr. D. Cooper: treasurer, Mr. F. V. Ynung and Mr. H. W. Simmons; secretary, Mr. Fr Woodiss; muditor, Mr, R. A. Simmons : commiltee, Messrs. T. Bannister, Cyril Smith, H. W. Simmons, F. F. Yonng, w. H. Hewett, Q. Parks and C. H. Kippin.

It was the wish of the meeting that Mr. C. Parks would amept nomination as district treasurer, but Mr. Parks explained that for husiness reasons it would be impossible for lim to undertake the duties of either treasurer or anditor, and that hewonld have to resign his position as auditor at the annual district meeting. Fe was. however, willing to serve on the committee, and his nominatian was daly mande.
The District Committee were requested, at their noxt meeting, to wo into the question of ringing for the Coronation with a view 10 nreparing a scheme to ensure the ringing of tho bells at all towers in the district. in so far as this whs practicable.
The Chaitman explained the arrangements which had been mode for the openine of the new neal of 12 holls at Crovdon Parish Chuserh hy the Archbishon of Cunterbury on December 12th, and requestan tower aecretaries to let him hava their numbers of those who intended to be present, as soon as nossible. in any ense not later than Decemher 7th. Fo that final arranements for acoommodation conld be made

A hearty vnte of thanks was pronosed to the Vicar of Benhilton and to all who hat contributed to the succese of the meeting. The namer of Mr. F. Randall and Mr. Cyril Smith were specially montioned in connection with this vote of thanks, which was enrrimil with acclamation.
The members returned to the tower, where ringing continued antil 9 o'clock. A ver'y good meeting then terminated

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

TOWERS TRANSFERRED TO NEWBURY DLSTRIOT.
Fourtenn towers" in the branch were represented at the annual mecting of the Newbury Bracels of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Newbury on November 2Ist. The attendance, including visitors, numbered 80 .
A short service was corducted by the Rector, Canon W. L. Cooper, and an excellent address was given by the Rev. $R$. Howes, Vicny of Beenhem.

After tea in St. Nicholas" Parish Room, the Rev. W. Kingsley Kefford presided at the business meetiug supported by Canon G. F. Coleridge, Vicar of Crowthorme (Master of the Guild), the Rev. C. E. Wigg, of High Wycombe (Deputy Master), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (geural 6ecretary), Mr. A. D. Barker (general treasurer) and Mr. H. W. Curtis (hon. secreiary and treasurer of the Newbury Branch).

Mr. H. W. Curtis presented his reports for the past year. The balance sheet showed that the receipts amounted to $£ 3715 \mathrm{~s}$. $9 \mathrm{~d} .$, of which $\mathbf{2 l} 16$ Os. 6i. were subscriptions, and the expenditure Eld 17s. 2d., leaving a balance in land of 220 18s. 7d. Five meetiugs had been held with an average attendance of 40 , and their charman had attended every meeting. The brancli liad 18 honorary members, 154 ringing members, and nine lifo subscribers. Mr. Curtis conchuded by thanking the chairman for his help, and the clergy and foremen of towers for making the meetings so successful.
An application whs received from Aldermaston and Beenlam to transfer from the Bradfied Deanery Eranch to Newbury, and this was granted. This makes the number of towers in the Newbury Branch twenty.
Five new nembers were also elected, Mesgrs. F. Turner, W. G Balitwin and B. Curtis, of Newhury, and Messrs. A. Perfitt and W. Turvey, of Compton.
The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, the Rev. W Kingsley Kefford; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. W. Curtis; gencral committee, Mpssrs. S. Quinton, F. J. Owen, T. Curtis and A. Smith.
Satisfactory reports were read from the following towers: Bucklebury, Beedon, Briehtwalton, Compton, Chieveley, Hingerford, East Ilsley, Farmborough. Newhury, Peasemore, Great Shefford, Shaw-cum-Donnington and Thatelaam.
The Febriary meeting of the branch was fixed for Brightwalton, and the sering moeting for Aldermaston

Visitors were present from Abinedon, Reading, Twyford, Swincon, Willesden and Waltingford, and the mothods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Grmasive, Stedman and Double Normich Caters, Bristol Sitrpuise Major and Camhridge Surprise Rayal.

LEEDS SOCIETY ENTERTAIN EADIES' GUILD.

On Saturviry the Leeds and District Society held a joiut meetily with the Northern Section of the Ladies' Guild at St. CHat'a Churct, Headingley.
Handbells were rung prior to the raisily of tho belis at 2.45 prom , nud tower ringing was almost contimous until the service at 4.30 pm . By the grenerosity of the ladies' presideut (atiss Bowling), a splendid tea was enjoyed by 35 ringers. A vote af thanks was accorded to Miss Bowling on the proposition of Mr. H. Lofthonse, seconded hy Mrs. E. D. Kelly.

The business meetings were held in separate rooms. We are not privileged to know the deliberations of the ladies except that two new members were sleated. These were Miss Hawloy, of Sherhum, and Miss Stitsou, of Drigblington.
At the Leeds Society's meeting the presideat was chairman, aud members were present from Armley, Batley, Burley, Bradford Cathedral, Galveriey, Drighlington, Headingley (St. Michael's), Holbeck, Leeds Parish Chareh, Ripor, Rothwell, Selby, Sherburi, Shipley, Sutton and the local company.

One new member, Mr. J. A. Scholefiold, of St. Chad's, wis elected.
The President proposed that best lhanks be accomed to the Viear, churchwardens and the local company far the use of the bells and other arrangemeuts.-This was seconded by Mr. W. Jackson, ind Mr. F. Euthiason repliec.
Tho next meeting is in January, 1937, and at present the date is uncertain. Members are asked to look for the notice in the columas of "The Ringing World."
Members afterwards returned to the tower, where Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Major, Suporlativa and Cambridge Sirprise Major wero rang.

BELERY GOSSIP

The dedication of the new tower and bells at St. David's Cathedral, Hobart, Tasmania, is to tako place on Sunday afternoon. As already reported mi our columns, the ceremony is to be attended by ten Archbishops and Bishops, and the service promises to be an impressive and memarable one. There are $I .3$ beils, including a ringing peal of eight with tenor of about 15 cwt . They were censt by Mesers. Taylor and Co. They will be the first complete new peal of bells in the Coumonwealth since 1892 .

Three or four privileged people last Saturday saw and handloi the only three copies known to exist of the first edition of "Tintinaslogia' -the first book on the art of chauge ringing-published in 1668. It was printed for Fabian Stedman.
Two of the copies, one perfect and the other slighty defective, are in possession of the Rev. W. O. Pearson, of Healey, Ipswich. The third is now owned by the president of the Central Council, and the three precious volumes Fere brought togother in Henley Vicarage for comparison-probibly the firge time for centuries that three sweh books havo been seen together. Mr. Pearson's other treasures in the shape of rare ringing books, the finest collection iu existence, were also inspected with inteuse interest.
An extract from the 'Diss lexpress' of December 1st, 1876, recalls the fitst peat of Kent Treble Bob on the bells of Diss rung four days earlier. This peal was the first rung by William Ireland, who is still amonest us. He was one of the founders of the Norwich Diocesan Association. The paragraph of 60 yeara ago says: 'The ringing was marked with great precision and was heartily enjoyed by lovers of the art."
Mr. James George was 83 last Friday. Although ha is still far from well, he follows the doings of all his friends with keeneat interest, and is looking formard to joining in their activities again in the not too distant future.
Mr. Frank Beunett, of Brighton, has joined the small company of ringers yho have rung a peal in every county in England. He completed this achisvement by ringing two peals in Lincolnshire last week.
Mr. Albert E. Etwards on Safurday rang his 150th peal as conductor. He called the same composition of Bob Major that he did in his first peal as conductor 39 years ago, mod rang it at the same church, St. Mary the Virgin, Speldhurst. These I50 peals have been rung in 52 different towers in Kent, Surrey and Eussex.
Members of the Tower Grablersi Union may nate this: A wellknown Cambridgeshire ringer lang at Over on Simday and Monday, Safron Walden on Tuesday, Longstanton on Wadnesday, Cambridge R.C. on Thureday, St. Ives on Friday, Wilburton on Saturday, Hemingford Abbots on Sunday morning, St. Neots in the afternoot, and Over in the evening, durint the past week.
Boxing Day will be the $35 t_{\text {lh }}$ anniversary of the record peal of 11,111 Stedman Ginques, rung at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, and a peal in celebration is being arranged. The band will include as many as possible of the original company.
Few young ringers have scored a peal at so early an age as Vivian Williams, of Redrutls, Cornwall, who lest Saturday rane the treble to a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Perranzabuloe. He is not yet 11 years of age. Two of the late Mr. Jemes Washbrook's sons, J. W. Washbrook, jun., and W. R. Washbrook, both took part in peals while only tea years of age. J. W., junior, rang a peal of Steafman Triples when he was eleven and called a peal of Grandsire soon after be was twelve.
To avoid clashing with the Middlesex Association's meeting at st. Giles-in-the-Fields, London, on Saturdmy, the meeting of the Northom District of the London Connty Associntiou in the City (which was advertiged last week) Iras been postponed until Dedember 18 th.
Mr. Arthur A. Saxby, of Margate, writes that lie tuned in on Sunday to the only wireless station which announced "The Bells," and had the satisfaction of hearing one bell tolled about 20 liaes and that was cracked!
The service was from the North Regional and was refayed from the Moravian Church, Fairfield, Manchester

COLLEGE YOUTHS' 300th ANNIVERSARY. MORE ACCOMMODATION DESRABLE.

Tha the Editor.
Dear Sir,-I fm sorry, and so are many other ringers, to hear that the numbers for the 300 th anniversary dinner next year are to be limited, owing to the fact that there is no raom available which will hold more than 480 persong.

It seems a pity that people should be "turned away" for this reason only, becanse I feel sure that about 700 persons would be present if guests could be invited.

Unless there is any special reason, would it be possible to stretch a point and fold the dinner outside the actual City where there is sufficiene room to hold all that would like to come?
Before anything dennite is decided, I would suggest that a postcard vote of all members be taken so that the wighes of all contd be obtained.

IPSWICH RECORDS.

PEALS WHICH HAVE MADE RINGING HISTORY.  Central Council President Unveils Board.

A very interesting event took place in the ringing chamber at the Church of St. Mary le Tower, Ipswich, on Saturday, when a board of eight panels recording eight peais in eight different methods was unveiled by the President of the Central Council and dedicated by the Vicar in the presence of a large company of ringers.

ST. MARY-LE-TOWER CHURCH, IPSWICH.
The performances, which are now permanently recorded in the tower, are of exceptional interest. They are all peals of Maximus, but not only were they the first on bells in the eight methods, but in the case of six of them they were the first peals of Maximus ever rung in the methods.
For twn generations at least St. Mary-le-Tower has possessed a baud of enterprising ringers who have made a freat deal of twelve-bell ringing histary, and the performances of the past teu years ol so, recorded on this new peal board, are evidence of the progressive spirit of the present band.
The board occupies the west side of the ringing room and is lettered in black, with red initials, on a cream ground. The records are not strictiy in chronologieal order, the sir first evel' being in the centre, with Forward Maximus and Duffeld Maximus, the first on the bells, on either side.

Tho other six peals were Suporlative Surpriso, Now Cambridge Surprise, Yorkshis'e Surprise, Pudsey Surprise, Litile Albion Treble Rob and Rochester Surprise Maximus. A footuote also reconds the fact that the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung in the towar in 1908.
The spactous ringing chamber was well filled for the ceremeny of unveiling amoug those present, in addition to the Rector, Mr. E. H. Lewis and Mre. Lewis, being Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon, secretary of the Central Conncil), the Rev. H. Drake (hon. secretnry of the Sufiolk Guild), Mr. E. P. Dufineld (late Master of the College Youths unc Essex Assaciation) and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, There were many present old in the service of St. Mary-le-Tower, but semior to thern all was Mr. Robert Brundie, still active at the age of 85 , and capable of taking lis place not only in the service ringing, but in a peal. Fis name appears in seven of the peals recorded on the new board, and he Eorms a living link with a distant past in Ipswich ringing history. He has been a member of the St. Mary-le-Tower Society for 60 year: Hind rang his first peal there in 1877.
Mr. C. J. Sedgley opened the formal proceedings by explaining the object of the gathering. It might be asked, be said, why have this fuss at the unceiling of a peal board? The reason was they were very proud of the peals recorded on the board, and particularly of six of them, which were the first cver ruag in the respective methods. Only one of the methods had ever been practised elsewhere. The board was, therefore, unique, and that must be their apology, if nay were needed, for that gathering.
Mr. Lewis then unveiled the board, and the Vicar dedicated it "as a record of faithful work well done and an inspiration to those who come after.

A FINE SERIES OE PERFORMANCES

Mr. Sodgley then proposed a vote of thanke to Mr, Lewis for his kindness in coming to porform the ceremony, and to the Viens for his interest in the doings of the society. There whs never an inppediment placed in their way with regard to ringing, said Mr. Sedgley, and they always were treated most kindly by the Ficar.
Mr. Lewis, in expressing pleasure at being able to perform a smali part in the proceedings, sate he thought that a eeremony of that sort in conmection with a peal board was very nice to liape. [t secmed to him that it showed quite definitely that elhage ringing lind now been recognised by the Church as part of tite service to the Church by the ringers. As they knew, alagge ringizg, as an art was in ita origin entirely seenler. At the time when it started, owing to Puritan influence in the Ghurch, the proper ringing of the hells for service was entirely banned. It was only becnuse people were fond of the bells that ringing was leapt up for secular purpeses. During tha last 50 years there hat been, as they knew, a preat change in helfy matters, and change ringing was now looked unon as part of the service of the Church.
Mr. Lewis went on to refer to the fine series of twelve-bell per formances recorded on the board. Fe bad for a lang time, he said, hoped that ringers on a higher number than six bells would take a leaf out of the six-bell ringers' book and get to sueh "t statio of proficiency in ringiag that they could competendy ring a methoni without prevously practising t , by stinding a dingram. "That was done in some gix-bell towers where 104 methods were rung in a yeartwo for tho services each Sunday. To a mote limited degree this was being done by a few eight-hell bands, a famous example being nt Helminghan. Apparenty in Jpswich they had got nearly to that ideal on twelve bells, and were such masters of their xinging that thoy could ring a method properly without practice mercly by studying a dingram. That poal board represented the finest bhing that had been done on bwolve bells, and it liad been done by a single band attached to ane tower.

The Vical Lhanked the society for their loyal arnd devated work put in in that belfry. They were all very proud of the ringers whoge fame had sproad beyond the tower and connty yight throngh tho bellringing world. The people of Ipswich lanw how high the ringets stood in thair craft. Belringers as at whin were min and women extraovinarily devoted to their craft, and it was a very raluable piece of church work.

AN ODTSTANDINA BAND OF RTNGERS
Mr. G. E. Symonde, hon. secretary of the society, welcomed the visifors. Fisitors, lie said, were alwrys welcome to their tower and to ring there whenever possible. Some of the visitors had come a long distance to he with whem on that occasion. He was plemanit to say that Mr. Robinsons, who constructed the honrd, and Mr. Cunningham, who wrote it, wervenlso present to see thoir work unveilel. He was also very pleased that Mr. Brinde was with them. His name appenred iti seven of the peale.
Mr. J. E. Goldsmith acknowledged the weloome extended to the visitors. He referved to the work done for the St. Mary-le-Tower Society in the past by men like James Motts, William Catehpole and others, and said the wonderfin performanees hy the talented hand of St. Mary-fe-Tower, which they now saw recorded, were put up by men who reaped the advantage of the excellent foundations laid hy men of a past generation.
Mr. E. P. Dufiefd also replied, and, in enophasising the poite made bs the previous speaker, said the society would probably not hava reached its present standnyd had it not heen for the ground work (Continned on next prge.)

TWENTY-EIGHT MEMBERS ELECTED

CANTDRBURT DIST'PICTIS BIG TNFLUX

All enjoyable by-meeting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association was held at Herme of Saturday. Ringing on the six bells commenced at 3 o'clock. The association's form of service wan concheled by the Ficmr (the Rev. G. Danheney), assisted by the curato (the Rev. Barker), who gave the address.
In the Church Room afterwards upwavds of 40 sat down to an excellent taca, provided by Messrs. Hadlow, of the Herne baud.
At the short business meeting which followed, the Rev. Barker in the chair, 28 new members were elected, Faversham rejoining the association with niue members, ten being elected from Walmer, sis from St. Dunstan's, Canterbury, a new tower, and three from the local tower. It was also stated that the Rev. P. A. L. Clarle, Vicar of Faversham, had rojoined as an honorary member.

Votes of thanks to the Vierr for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, and to the Rev. Barker for his address, were passed. In reply, the Vicar said they were always pleased to have the ascociation at Freme. Ho hoped they, would come egain in the near future. The Rev. Barker also replied. Fe hoped to become an honotary member in the near future-Mr. W. E. Pitman was thanked for his services at the organ, and Mr. C. Hadlow and his brother, Mr. F. Hadlow, were heartily thanked for so geverously entertaning the members to a most excellent teat.

A return was made to the tower, and further ringing was enjoyed until 8.30 , many methois being practised, from romels for the beginners to Luondon for the more advanced.

LAnIEs GUILD

MIRST MEETING IN NORFOLK
A most successful meeting of the tadies' Guild was held at Norwich on Sathrday, Navember 81 sit. Ringing commenced at St. Peter Maneroft, where varions methods were rung with the help of the gentlemen present, and also rounds by 12 members of the Guild. St. Giles' and St. Michnelat-Coslany were also visited and a variety of methods rulus.
A short service whs held it St. Peter Mancroft, conducted by the curate. Tea followed at the Curat House, at which 42 members and friends were present
The president of the Guild (Mjss Evelyn Steel) thanked the various incumbenta for the nse of their bells and also the gentlemen for their interest and help. This whe the first Guild meeting to be held in Norfolk, and it had proved a great success.
Four new members were elected.
In addition to the loeal ludies, members were present from Barnehurst, Bedford, Blaykney, Burton-onStather, Finfield, Ipswich and Surfleat.

pul by those two men and athers of their day and generation. They, perhajs, in their tum would have made similar acknowledgment to tha men who went before them. Ipswich lad long lad an outstanding band of ringers. They all knew of other companjes who had attained a high standard of proficiency and to whow the Exercise had loaked up, but some of those bands did not today cxist. They had just fadead out. In Ipswich, however, they had been more fors tunata mad at any rate for more than half a century they had had an expert band of ringers. Facilities for practico had never been lucking and the periodical ringing of peals had resulted in a high standard heing mainteised. The public, too, seened to accept ringing as parth of their lives. Whereas in some places there were complaints alout ringing, even when it was done in moderation, it was extraondinary that in Ipswich a complaint was almost umknown. He suggested it was becanse ringing had becone part of the life of the town. The assured the Ipswich ringers that the visitors were delighted to be will them on that most anspicious oceasion
This concluded the ceremany, and the assembly examined the new bonrd with much inlarest.
Ringing took place both beforo and after the ceremony, touches of Cinques and courses of Royal and Maximite being rung. Among the latter was Little Albion Treble Boh and Cambidge Surprise. The bells are cxtromely pleasant to ring on, and for a mixed ${ }^{1}$ peal are of fine tone and even quality. The oldest bell is the seventh, cast by Miles Graye in 1607. Some years ngo it was found to be cracked in the crown moll was welded with success. The eleventh is another bell hy Miles Grayo, cast in 1610 . Joln Darbie cast the sixth, cijhth and tentil in 1671; Christoplier Fonson the fourtly in 1688; Taylors the third aut semond in 1844 and 1845 respectively. Warver and Sons east the trehle and tenar and recast the fourth and ninth when the bells wore increased to twelve in 1866. Previous to 1844 there were only eigha, hells, of which the present eleventh was the tenor. Two trehles wore arkled in 1845
On Sunday a course of Rochestor Surprise Royal was rang for morning service and a course of Cambridge Surprise Maximus for evening sorvice, hesides other slort tombles of Superlative and Kent Surprise.
Posicurd size photos of the board containing the eight peals can be obtmined at Ed. each, post Pree, from Mr. G. E. Symonds, 28, Chevulier Stroct Tnswich.

SHOULD THE LENGTH OF PEALS BE REDUCED

To the Editor

Dear Sir, With reference to the letter in your lata issue on the above subject from Mr. Corrigan, I, for one, should like to congratulate bin on his pluck in bringing this important questiou forward. I fully agree with what he says as for some yeajs l have liad the same thing on my mivd, but I have never even dared to dip wy pen in ink to write such a letter to "The Ringing World."
There are one ou two things I would like to add to his letter. Take a young band who are just emerying from their raw material stage, just stepping on the lirst rung of the ladder, desirous of making an attempt for a peal, but in great doubt as to whether tliey could ondure the first strain of a 5,040 , taking perhaps say 3 hours and 15 minutes on a faily beovy peal of bolls. I thint if the tondara conld be altered ou the lines that Mr. Corrigan has gut forward in his letter, which would reduce the tine by, say, one hour, it would be a great ingpiration to young bends wishing to make their first attempt; at the same time, there would still be the next step left to go for a 5,040 .
Anotier allegtion arises. Where a great number of aur cinurches years ago stood by themelves, to-day they are being hemmed in on all sides by new houses and thickly populated districts. It is places fike these that we, as ringers, have got to take into consideration and go with the times. Cutting down the number of ehanges and time might be a way of stopping the grumbling or in same ceses going withont a peal at all.
1 also think there is another advantage that would he derived from this ondting down and that is on our twelve-hell peals, which generally take nearly four hours, and in some cases quite that time, especially where the hells fonone too well. In such cases the men at the heavy ent would henefit by this chazge.
Of course, bringing in a rule altering the length to suit such reguirements would not make the least difference to ringing 5,040's where the facilitics are favourable. Points for such short peals aiso could be adjusted according to methods rang. I think there is much more could be said, but I am afraid I have already taken up too much space. I should, however, like to see this question thoronghly discussed at district meetings of all associations.

FALSE PEALS

To the Editor

Dear Sir, - It is satisfactory to see that the Gloncester and Bristol Diocesan Association will omit from its records the two peals mentioned in last week's issue. May I ask why the same thing was not done in regard to peal No. 1,133.Grandsire Cingues, rung at Painswick on March 28th, 1921, all objection to which was sent (in accardanee with instrumtions in the anmual report) to the Master and acknow ledsed by him? Its falseness was mentioned in *The Ringing World in the issue for January 30thl, 1931.

NEW LIGHT ON 'TINTINNALOGIA.

The article which we publish clsewhere from the pen of Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, on the subject of the first of all ringing books, 'Tintinnalogia,' will be a source of surprise to many' of our readers even if it does not come as something of a shock. Hitherto it has been generally assumed that this famous work, the earliest text-book on the art of ringing, was written by Fabian Stedman, for whom it was printed in 1668 'by W. G.' Mr. Trolīope has discovered very substantial evidence that Stedman was not the author of the book, but that it was written by one Richard Duckworth, an Oxford man, who became incumbent of Hartest in Suffolk at the time Stedman was active in the not distant town of Cambridge.

The principal evidence is found in a seventeenth century volume dealing with Oxford men, 'Athence Oxonienses,' in which Duckworth is mentioned as having written 'Tintinnalogia,' and, what is more, the book is described very much in the terms of its original title page. There is further evidence in the diary of Thomas Hearne, an Oxford worthy to whom we owe quite a considerable amount of our knowledge of ringing in Oxford two centuries ago. These two assertions in themselves throw sulbstantial doubt upon the assumption that Stedman was the writer of 'Tintinnalogia,' and with that doubt in mind, other things about the volume take on a greater importance. For instance, there is little question that Stedman wrote 'Campanaiogia,' published in 1677, but, as Mr . Trollope points out, there is a marked difference in the literary style of the two volumes. The difference is such that they may well have been written by different people. Then, too, the books have different titles, and in 'Tintinnalogia' there is a preface, not over Stedman's name, but over a nom-de-plume, and the reason for this nom-de-plume has more than once been a matter of speculation. May not this discovery by Mr. Trollope provide the explanation?

The facts which Mr. Trollope has brought to light do not seriously affect Stedman's place in early ringing history; it robs him of one of our cherished notions concerning his activities in promoting the art, but he is still the man to whom we owe publication of the book. And, after all, it is as well to get an accurate knowledge of these things. The Exercise owes a very considerable debt to Mr. Trollope for the painstaking research which he is making into history for the benefit of this and future generations. The care with which he carries out his investigations have been revealed in many articles which he has published in our columns, and the Exercise will have further evidence of the skill and patience with which he delves into al! kinds of documentary material when in a few months' time it is hoped to publish a history of the Ancient Society of College Youths, which Mr. Trollope has compiled as a result of investigations at sources hitherto unexplored. Our recent article on some of the seventeenth century Masters of the society was based upon Mr. Trollope's work, and gives some indication of the interesting material he has collected. This new light on 'Tintinna$\operatorname{logia}^{2}$ is another important discovery.

GAANDSIRE DOUBLES IN ANOTHER WAY.

We frequently read, in the reports of peals of Grandsire Donbles, of 'ten clifferent callings' being used. When that appears we ali know what it means, but actually, while the 'six-score' is arranged in ten different ways, there are only two callings. One is a 120 with two bobs and a single, slternatiag with plain leads, aud repeated, the second half being called exactly as the first. This calliug can be applied by beginning wifl either of the calls or a plain lead :-

Lead No.
P. stuxds for a Plain Lead, B. For a Doh Lead, S. For it Single Lead. Read downward, each of these is half a six-seore, and the 120 can only be completed hy calling the gecond lialf exactly like the first. To the young conductor these may appear ta be six difierent callings; in reality they are one and the same, begun at six different starting points. In the calling whore a plain lead comes first the 5 th is the observation bell; in those with a call at the first lead the 3rd is the observation bell.

The second composition of Grandsive Doubles is in three parts, instead of two, and has a single at alternate leads, with a boh between thenn and a plain lead at the other of the fout lead ends. This calling, too, can be begun at any point in the cycle, and the 120 is completed by two repetitious of the same calling as used in the lirsto part:-

\begin{array}{rcccc}
& & \text { g. } & \text { lı. } & \text { i. } \\
\text { Leara } & \text { j. } \\
\text { No. } & 1 . & \text { P. } & \text { S. } & \text { B. } \\
\text { 2. } & \text { S. } & \text { B. } & \text { S. } & \mathbf{P} . \\
\text { 3. } & \text { B. } & \text { S. } & \text { P. } & \mathbf{S .} \\
\text { 4. } & \text { S. } & \text { P. } & \text { S. } & \mathbf{B} .

From the ringer's point of view, the limit of variety is monotodous; and thero is rery little more in it foy the conductor. If lue wants to call the two compositions in all their transpositions the sole tax on his memory lies in recollecting which 190's he has called.
It is this kind of monotony which hates the contimal ringing of Grandsire Doubles a deadly dull aftair. Arything which will add even a little variety mast be welcome, and that is why onto or two conductors depart from the orthodox and call what one may term conglomerate conpositions. Some of these run to 240 changes, in the course of which each change occurs twice.
We hear Ifttle, however, of amother form of ringing six-scores of Grandsire which car give the ringers as well as the conductar some small amount of change. There is an altemative single in Grandsireoue which, we believe, is looked upon as theoretically correct, but seldom practised, because the common form lias come dowr to us through the ages.
The ordjary Grandsire single affects the path of all the four working bells; the alteruative single, made at the back instead of the front, actually diverts only two bells, and only one does anything different to a plain on hob lead. This is how it looke in figures compared with the ordiaary single, which is regarded in the hest eircleg os wery ineiegant:-

| Ordinary. | Alternativo. |
| :---: | :---: |
| 45312 | 45312 |
| 54132 | 54132 |
| 51423 | 51423 |
| 15432 | 15423 |
| 15423 | 14532 |
| 51432 | 41523 |
| 45213 | 54312 |

It will be seen that in the second form a bell, passing treble in $2-\overline{3}$, makes 3rd's and roen into the hunt as at a bolb. The bell, passing treble in $1-2$, is unaffected nud makes 3rd's. The bell passing the treble in 34 lies behind and has a single dodge in 54 (down), exactly as in a plain lead. The only one which makes a new departure is the bell coming out of the hutf. This, after lying its wholo pult behivd, has a whole pull in 4th's place (back and band) and then a single fodge 5u 4-5 (up).
A different kind of calling is also available, and it has sin traugpositions. It las three bobs, aconring at altemate leads, a single and two plain leads in each lialf. If a bob is callod at the first lead, the 3rd is the observation bell; il no hot is called at tio first lead the 5 th is the observation bell.
Leed No.

Each has to loe repeated to momblete the 120.

THE RECTOR AND THE GRAVE DIGGER.

A LITSSON TOH RINGEPS.

A mating of the Southern District of the Surrey Association was held on Saturdey, November 2qth, at Horley. Aithough only 18 sat down to tea, more fingers turmed up afterwards and good plactice was put in for the 'lesser fry' before tea. The 'greater fry' had their turn afterwards. All the standard methods were rung. Jf Horley trebles proved somewhat 'flighty' to handle, this was more than compensater for by some delightful reminiscences by that dear old Horley character, Mr. George Kilman, who delighted the company so much that some of them could not eat their tea for laughing Members attended from Redhill, Reigate, Burstow, Lingfield, Merstham, the local band, and visitors from Crawley, Balcombe, Worth (Sussex) and Egerton (Kent).
The Rev. W. C. Reeder gave us a very warm welcome to Horley, and in an unusual and interesting address stressed the importance of paring (not necessarily in money) for what they had the privilege of doing (such as bell ringing). In one place at which he was incumbent, he said, no one could be found who would dig the graves, owing to some superstition. Once after a tervific effort he did get a man to dig a grave, and the man did what a good many more people do, put up the price. In consequance the poople who were burying their relative complained about the charge. He (the Rector') replied, "Would you be willing to dio the gravep' They said, 'Certainly not, we are too respectable.' He then told them, if they were too respectable to dig a grave, they mist pay the man his price for digging it for them. They must pay for their rospectability. Ringers, added the Rector, sliond learn from this and not be too respectable to come and practise and help to train younger people in the art.

Forty-three sat dowu to tea at the Co-operative Hall, including the general secretary (Mr. L. J. Clarth, Mr. Baw (Vicar's wardeu) and Mr. Crozier (church clerk). At the business meeting which followed, the district secretary rend a shart report of the wort in the division during tho year. This showed that oight ringing members had been elected and 24 peals liad been tung on tower lells. It was gratifyigg to note that eight members had rung their first peal in the mothod, five of whom rang their first peal of London Surpriso Major. Five meetings had been held with an average attendauce of 36 .
Mr. A. Saunders was re-elceted District Master. ' Cli district secretary (Mr. F. Ridgwell) was also manimously re-elected. In reply, Mr. Ridgwell thanked al! those who had attended the meetings during the year and especially the correspondent of each company who helped so much by collectilag sutscriptions for him. Last, but not least, Mr. L. W. Wiffen, who had done so mach by lielping othors in the art of change ringing. 'I can say,' added Mr. Ridgwell, 'without fear of contradiction, that at the present time, as far as peals axe connerned, Mr. Wiffen is the backbone of the Northerrs Division' (applause).
Mr. H. Hammond also thankerl the brothers Wiffen for their great help and infuence in change ringing.
Nine new members were elected, and it was agreed to hold the next meeting at Sible Hedingham in Februarr.
The geueral secretary apologised for the absence of the Master (Dr. Spencer Plaillips), who was aftending a meeting af Leptonstone.
A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells alld his address, also to the organist for bis services.
Mr. Daw apologised for the Vicar's absence and on his hehalf gave the vingers a great weleome and said how much he appreciated their services as ringers.
Bocking hells were alsa availalile during the evening. which greatly added to the pleasure of the meeting, and varions methods up ta London Surprise Major were rulag.

A latge gathering of ringers is expected at Crojdon on Saturday, when the new ring of twelve bells at the Parisin Charch of St. John the Baptist is to be derlicated by the Archbishop of Canterbury at 3 p.m. The bells, which replace an old eight, have been cast by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and the tenor is about 36 cwt .

Visiting ringers, who sent in their names by last Monday, are being entertained to tea by the Bishop of Croydon and tho churchwardens It should be noted that tea will be served in the Welcozae Hall Scargbrook Road, instead of in the Old Palace Banqueting Hall. After the evening ringing thele is to be a "gocial' at the Drill Hall, Union Road-opposite Messrs. Gilletl and Johnston's foundry.
The contract to recast and reaning in a new frame the ring of ten at Birningham Cathedral has been placed with Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.
An unusial performance at Honiton Clyst, Devou, is recorded in our peal columas. A peal of Graudgire Doubles was rung with 1-2-8 covering. We do not remember having heard of a peal beiug rung Jike this before, but it is, of convse, just as legitimate a performance as with 4-6-8 or 6-7-8 used as covering bells. Only one of the band had previously rung a peal.
The name of the ringer of the tenor in the peal of Stedman Triples at Earls Barton on November 19th was H. Pettíl, not Petter as printed.
Mr. F. E. Pitman, of Bromiey, is now convalescent after his recent operation. Last Sunday he was very warmly welcomed by his colIeagues of SS. Peter and Pami's Clutch on his return to service ringing. Mr. C. Savage, who zang his first quarter-peal of Stedman Iripleg last week at Easthourue, is a nephew of Mv. A. A. Savage, hon. seeretary of the St. Paut's Cathed'al Society, Melbourne, Australia.
Will the gentleman who accidentally took away someone else's property during the meeting at Iring on Saturday please return the same immediately to Mr. W. Ayre, Old School House, Leverstock Green, Hernel Hempstead.
TIJo manes of the two new members elected by the Ladies' Guild at their meeting at Headingley St. Clad's were Mrs. Bradlej and Miss Hawley, of Sherburn, and not Miss Stitson aud Miss Hewley as reported.

THE RIGHT TO QUESTION THE METHODS COMMITTEE.

The Methods Committee are appointed by the Central Council to consider and report on matters roferced to them by the Council, and the Conccil alone has the righb to which Mr. Baker thinks he is entitled.
If Mr. Baker desires 'a courteous answer' to a question he sloould ask the Council to cleal with it, or, alternatively and with your permission, ask iu your columns for an answer from anybody able to give it.
Ircidentally, I don't think the Methods Committer-as a committeeare entitled to give the Exercise 'mathematical proofs' of anything, except tlurough a report to the Council.

WARKTON TOWER LEADER'S DEATH

RESULT OF A CYCLE ACCIDTNT
It is with great regret that wo record the death of Mr. Horace Patrick. who died at his home rother suddenly on November 27th at tile age of 56 . He had been tower fender at Warkton Ohurch for a number of jears, and wis people's warden. He was a member of the Peterhorougl Diocesan Guild and formerly of the old Central Northacts Association.
Although Mr. Patrick only jang Grandsire, he was a good striker sud took part in several peals witha the local company. Athout a year ago he underwent a setious operation at Middesex Hospital, lyut recovered and was able to retirn to his employment. Abont a month ago, however, he was jnvolved in a collimion with another cyclist, and, althongh the results at the time did not appear to be serious, on Snnday, November 22nd, as he was leaving home to ring for service, he collapsed and remained unconscions until be died, death being due to delayed hemorrlage caused throngh the accident.
The bells of warkton Church were rung finly muffled on the following Sinday. A large number of sympathisers assembled at the funcral at. St. Edmand's, Warkton, couducted by the Rector, the Rev. T. IF. B. Hamond. As the cortege appronched the clintoh the bells were climed. The local zingers were represented by Messts. B. P. Morris, A. Toseland, H. O. Mutton and Mr. E. Rejd fron Weekley tower.

During the evening half-mumled touches were ring, concluding with 'the whole pull and stand' 56 times by Messis. B. P. Morris, H. T. Fasthrook. Miss D. J. Moir, L. Toseland and A. Tozeland. Others taking part were Messrs. R. Wr. Lawrence and E. Reid. Among the florat tritutes was a wreath from the local conjpany. ## THE 'TINTINNALOGIA.

DOUBTS ON STEDMAN'S ALTHORSHIP.

By J. A. Trollope.

The 'Tintinnalogia' is the oldest and, in many ways, one of the best books on change ringing. It is always thought to have been the work of rabian Stedman, but in the 'Athena Oxonienses,' written by Anthony a Wood, towards the end of the seventeenth century, there is a short account of a certain Richard Duckworth which ends with the statement that 'he hath written Tintinalogia or the Art of Ringing, etc., London, 1671. Instructions for hanging of Bells with all Things belonging thereunto.

Wood was a contemporary of Stedman and Duckworth, and is the recognised authority on the Oxford mon of the time. In his young days he had been a ringer, and all through his life he was keenly interested in bells and ringing. With increasing years he became rather morose in temper, and pretended to be very deaf, but, said a man who knew him, he could hear well enough when bells were ringing and could often be seen walking about listening to them, 'which he mightily delighted in.'
Thomas Hearne, the Oxford Diarist, who has left us certain records of ringing in his day, belonged to the next generation. His biographer says that he was 'passionately fond of bellringing, although I do not find that he practised it himself.' Hearne repeated the statement that Duckworth had written the 'Tintimalogia,' and evidently took some trouble to find out about him. He says in his diary, under the date January 27th, 1726, that he talked with a Mr. Whiteside who had known Duckworth, and that the latter was a very great ringer and had very great skill in it.

It seemed to me, therefore, worth a little trouble to see if anything could be found out about Richard Duckworth. He was born some time aboul 1630, in Lancashire, according to Whiteside, or it Leicestershire according to Wood. He was an undergraduate at New Hall Inn in 1647, and was one of those who made submission to the visitors appointed by the Long Parliament during the changes following the execution of King Charles I., and by them was made a Fellow of Brasenose College.

According to "Alumini Oxonienses' he matriculated at University College in 1648, but men in those days frequently changed their colleges. He graduated B.A. in 1651, and proceeded M.A. in 1653. He took orders and was Rector of Hartest-with-Boxted, Suffolk, in 1660; of Tolland in Somerset in 1671; and of Steeple Aston in 1679.

Hearne says that " he made the latter place much better than it had been by recovering and settling many tithes that were refused, in order to which he went to law with the Parishioners and overthrew them, after which he left the place and became Vicc-Principal of Aban Hall under old Dr. Bouchier, but what he did there I know not. This is certain that he had been a schoolmaster also at Steple Aston, and was severe to his scholars, some of which were boys of good birth.'

The only other information about him that I have been able to trace is that he was one of the half-dozen clergymen in Oxfordshire who consented to read James II.'s Declaration of Inculgence,' which led to the famous trial of the seven bishops; that when the Prince of Orange (afterwards Wilham Thi.) came to Oxford and visited the colleges, he was the man who 'speecht it ' at St. Alban's Hall; and that one night someone lelt a baby in the quadrangle at Brascnose, "and the child cryed and Mr. Duckwor th went to the buttery to fetch a candle to see for it.' He lived to a great age.

We know from the title page of the "Tintinnalogia" that it was printed in 1668 by W. G. for Fabian Sicdman; and we know that on February 8 th in the previous year it had been entered at Stationers' Hall by Fabyan Stedman; we know, too, that in 1668 he was writing to the ringers at Leicester to introduce the book. That means that he owned the copyright and was responsible for the publication, but it does not mean that he was the author.

The 'Campanalogia' of 1702, which was wrtten by Doleman and one of his companions, is said on the ttile page to have been printed for George Sawbridge. But what connection there was between Stedman and Duckworth I have not been able to trace. The first was a Cambridge man, the other an Oxford man, and I do not find Duckworth's name among the menbers of either the Scholars of Cheapside or the College Youths, to both of which societies Stedman belonged. But when the book was published Duckworth was Rector of Hartest in Suffolk, which is no great way from Cambridge. He may often have visited the town and, being a keen ringer, would quite naturally go to the belfry and may have entrusted Stedman with the task of seeing the book through the Press.

We must remember, too, that there is no tradition of the Exercise to help us in the matter. There is a tradition, and I think a sound one, that Stedman wrote the 'Campanalogia' of 1677, and that suggests a comparisor between the two books. Now, I have always thought, and have said more than once, that there is a great difference between them. As a text-book the later work is far in advance of the earlier: there is almost as much difference as there is between the 'Campanalogia' of 1702 and the 'Clavis' of 1788 . But 1 have always felt that the "Tintinnalogia' is much the better written book; indeed, in that respect, it stands in advance of any book on ringing which has appeared until modern times, and $I$ an not sure that I should make even that reservation.

The author, whoever he was, was a scholarly man who could read Latin and could write excellent English, clear and straightforward, always using the right word and never a word too many. If anyone doubts this let him compare the 'Tintinalogia' with the paraphase of it which appears in White's 'Ricl Cabinet."

It is very noticeable, too, that the method of explaining ringing in the 'Campanalogia' is quite different from that in the 'Tintinnalogia.' I use to thimk that Stedman deliberately altered his stylc because his subject matter had grown so much, and I am far from saying that the later book is not excellently well written. It certainly is.

It will be noticed that Wood gives the date of the 'Tintinnalogia' as 1671. That refers to the second edition, of which no copy is now known to be extant. Fifty years ago Ellacombe possessed one, which was given him by Lady Tite, but what has become of it no one seems to know. The loss is not so great as it might have been since, except for the title page, it was an exact reprint of the first edition. Of that there seem now to be three copies, all of them in good hands. Harvey Reeves did (Continued on next page.)

BROADCASTING OF BELLS FOR CHURCH SERVICES.

To the Edicor

Dear Sir-Lilte Mr. Arthar A. Snaby, I tumed in to the North Regional station on a recent Sunday and heard one cracked bell wolled about 20 times. This was, howover, much more pleasant to hear than the sa-called ringing from the same station on the provious Sunday, much of which kive of ringing would bring the Exercise into arave disrepute.

THE VILLAGE HANDICAP.  A MENACE TO THE FUTURE OF RTNGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, May I heartily endorse Canon Coleridge's remarks made at the dinner For the Ancient Sopiety of College Youths, when lie spoke of a "right grounding and right foundation" "The Ringing World,' November 20 th ).
May $T$ say how much I appreciate those remarks? I live in a district in whinh change ringing is comparatively dead. We started in $m y$ village as a keen, mmolgruised band of 'chimers' chining regularly far services every Sunday. Then one day I discovered that chiming was not the only use for bells-that they could be 'rung up.' I, therefore agitated at the following church anmal vestay for someone to teacla us bell management,
Tho soxton, a ringer of many years experience, reluctandy undertook to do this. Quite soon we could nanage our bells with some degree of confidence and took to ringing rounds and 'set changes.'
By this tinse wo had been ringing, including the chiming period, for two years, so wo orgaryiged ourselwes and set about the task of 'takiling' reliange ringing.
Then, quite by chouce, an old copy of Jasper Snowdon's 'Ropesight' came into our hands. My friend and I read it with avidity, sight, sumprisord that the sulyent conkl be so clearly expounded and logicflly traght, determined that the method there outlined should be our methoti.
The sexton now rery seldom attended our practices, as he was too lusy wilh otlier hasks, so thet, at his suggestion, my frjent and $T$, us eaptain and serretary rospectively, kept things going. We introdued Snowdrn's method of terehing for a hand of beginners and slowly began to make progress.

Then, about the midrlp of the semson, the sexton came back. Imagine our surprise when he apenly ridiculed our method, said books wero no use, handhells would get us nowhere; the only way to leary wero no use, han inells, Resnltant from this, confusim reigned in the mind of the more backward members, and we were fored to retarn to roumds and set changes agrain.

At the befinning of this season $T$ tried again to introduco Snowdon's tenching, an opmor breach with the sexton resulting. As this was a very unsatisfactory state of affairs for a church institation, and I refused bo work on anything but a 'right foundation and a riglot gronnding." T resigned and with l,wo others left the team.
I now attend anolther tower every Sunday, ga to all the local assacintion meptings and keop up my theory work, by which means I am able to keep myself in practice. Br 'getting about, ' a lot I find that althongl aur tower was a particularly bad case, the same thing is lappenimg alsewhere, especinlly in wilage towers. The baokward, 'pull-you-librougl' ' and confusing methorls of few old ringers is drivinge and koening pomg mon away from vinging.
Shrely it is ahont time that local associations, furdeed the ringing fraternity in general, leoked seriously min this menace to the future of ringing, nspeeially, as $I$ say, in the villages, where often it is hard to got any ringers at all.
witn this article in dre rospect to the older ringers, many of whom are very wortly and helpfal.
Too often $n$ hew liand is hrotiglit along on a roticn, out-of-date foundation, with tha result that atherwise promising ringers becone had strikers anal the eood name of ringing suffers in consequence.
Sir. T invite the opinion of "The Ringing Work' on this m'oblern, and wive my simere opinion that in many cases the beginner ig not hackward but that tho okder men are confusing him, and that where hackwri but that tho onder men are confusing him, and that where in either leaving the beginner alone or 'getting ont.'
H. BEXTJNCK.

the Fixercise good service when in 1895 he published a reprint of this.

I Feel a certain amount of regret, which others witl share, for anything which may scem to rob Fabian Stedman of ruy of his laurels, but we are begrinning to realise that the art of change ringing was not, as some suppose, the creation of one man, and that there were many talented persons "who laid the foundations of the art."

QUAINT INSCRIPTIONS ON NEW ALRESFORD BELLS.

A HAMPSHIRE PEAL RESTORED.

The recently-restored ring of eight at New Alresford, Hants, was fully utilissd an Saturday, November 28 th, at a well-attended and successful distriet meeting of tho Winchester and Portsmouth Diocegan Guild. From 2 to $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., except during service aud the tea interval, the assembled members, lepwards of 40 in number, kept the bells going in methods from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Major, while for the benent of some learners in the gathering there were also a few 'touches of rounds.'
The towers ropresented werc North Stoneham, Fareham, Bishop' Sitton, Old and New Alresford, Winchester, Tichborne, Iwytord, Bramley, Alton, Upham, Wonston, Swanmorc, King's Worthy, Sobertou and Wickham.

At the Guild service the Rector (the Rev. Canon Robinson) gave a brief address of welcome to the Guild members, and, after referving to the part that the diocese had taken in helping to clear the debt on the bells before they were opened, he dwelt on the necessity for that teamwort in all things, of which change ringing provided so conspichous an example.
Tea was served at the Bell Hotal, by invitation of the bellfounders, and it was presided over ly the district clairman, the Rey. N. C. Woods, supported by the Rector and his churchwarden, and by the Ven. Archdeacom of Wincleester, who, in a felicitous speeech by the chairman, was introtheed to the gathering not ns a digoitary of the Chureth, but as a friend of the Guild.'
The bells of Old Alresford (6) and Bishop's Sutton (5) were also arailable for vinging after tea, and wero kept going by mombers of the Guild.

A FINE TUNING JOB.

The work at Net Alresford included the recasting of the treble, the retnming of the remainder, and rehanging the eight in a new iron framo with uew fittinge tliroughant. Th was carried ont by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. The tuning especinlly is admirable. while the stamehness of the frame makea the going as delightful to the practised hand as the tone is to the ear. The effect of the ring in melion has been skilfulty enhanced by some cunning adjustments of the louvres, which greatly reduce the sound of the bells in the close vicinity.

A thanksgiving service was held on Sunday. October 25th, on the completion of the worle. The Bishop of Winchester preached an appropriate sermon, anti an appeal was made for the last flo required to clear the deht on the bells and vepairs to the tower which had been necessary.
It was amnommed later that the collection and fate donations had resulted in the amount requived being raised-a total of nhout $£ 538$. This is a remarkable effort for so small a place as New Alresforl to carry through in a lideto unter two years.
Representatives of the Winchester" and Pertgmouth Diocesan Guild from five different towers were present, and touches of Grandsirn Thinles were jung before and inter service.
The bells wore originally six in number, recast and angmented to oiglit in 1811 hy Mears, of Whitechapel. They were relung and quartor-turmed in 1897 hy Messus. Mears and Stainbank
The inscriptions on the bells are interesting:-
Treble :-
Im swectest sounds let each its note revenl,
Mine shall lue first to leari the dulcet peal.
Second:-
The pulatic maserl us with a liberal hand,
Third:
We come with harmony to cheer the land.

Fourth :

When female virtile weds with manly worth.
We catel this rapture and we spread it forth.
Does battle rage, do sancuine hosts contend

LINCOLNSHIRE RINGERS' NEW RECORD.

SEVENTY MINOR METHODS IN A PEAL

Abstract

Undanated by the fact that their friendly rivals in Cheshere hail raised the Mivor record by seven methods over their provious best, the foung Lincolnshire band have regained the laumels by a peal th 70 metheds lung in their own tower at Algarkink last Saturday.

Wo lave given up being amazed at these extraordinary performances. Prior to Saturday the Cheshine band had rung a peal in 68 Treble Bob methods; the Lincolnshire band has beaten that by two Their peal iucluded an entirely now extent in eight Alliance methods, and a Little method. none of which had heen runt in a peal before. This was the first 720 of the peal, which also inclinded Plain, Treble Bob, Deliglit and Surprise methods. The first spliced peal of Minor was comblueted by the late Rev. H Law James in 14 methods in 1911. This form of ringing, however was not seriously taken up untal afler tive war, for at first it was regarded somewhat as a freak, but whe rapid advance made in the

SCOTTISH RINGERS' HARD LUCK

L.FFI IN DARKNESS WITH TND OF PEAT IN SIGHT A hand of Scottish vingers had a piiece of real hard haek ons Saturday. Members of the St. Miry's Cathedral, Tlasgow, rompany visited St. John's. Alion, to attempt a meal of Stealman Triples, and, after ringing iuto the 18th part of Heywood's Transposition in 2 hourg 25 minutes, the electrie wires fused and left the ringing roon in complete darikness.
The ringing was praiseworthy and would lave heen the first peal of Stedmau by all except the couductor, and the first of Stedruan in Scotland by a lacal service ringing band: R. O. Street 1, H. Sargent 2. R. J. G. Thom 3. N. Leiper 4. T. Winderam 5, E. A. Stafford 6, w. R. J. Piskett (conductor) $7, S$. Lewis 8.

SUDDEN DEATH OF BENHIETON'S VICAR.

INCUMBENT WHO ALWAYE "BACKED UP' HLS RINGFRS.
The ringers and parishioners of All Saints', Benhilton, SutLon, liave suffered a great loss by the death of the Viear, the Rev. S. J. Clements. who died sumdenly in elarch on Sunday morning. He was reading the lesson when lie collapsed.

It was only a week ago last Saturday that he conducter the service at All Saints' on the occasion of the Surrey Association's meeting there, and part of his encondaging address was reported in "The Ringing World ' lest Friday. He had spoken of his frank methods of dealing with those who complained about the ringing of church bells and concluded: "So do not take tno much motice of these clisagreerble people, my brothers. As long as your ringing is done to the glory of God and in the service of yan fellow-mm, go on doing it, sure in the knowleagy that your efforts are appreciated:

The late Finn was wory appreciative of all the local ringers did. He never attempted to interfere witl them. hut always backed then up. Before evensong on Sunday a half-nufled quarler-peal of Grandsire Triples was rume by $R$. Forenan 1, G. Rayner 2, F. Fandall 3 , H. Good 4. G. Chiverton 5, T. Fatiekran 6, W. The existing yecoml tas stood since 1816 . when lworly-ntie 729's ( 15,120 changes) were rang in a peal at Wath, Yorlshlite

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION

LEICESTER DISTRICT MEETING AT SWITHJAND.
Tha Jeicester District's last mepting of the var was heifi at Swithland on Saturday, November 21st. The bells, a ring of six, were set going nt 2.45 to rounds, frandsire, Plain Bab and ather methods. The Rector, the Ven. Archdeacon McKay, eonducted the fassociation service and gave the ringers a hoarty wolcome to gwithland. He delivered a most interesting address.
Ten was served in the hail, a company of about 20 sitting down. The chairanan, Mr. A. Harris, welmomed the pregene of line Rector. After lea the chaiman spoke of the loss the Anstey ringors had just sustained by the death of Mr. Alfred Cuflin. Mr. Guffin land been towerkeper at St. Mary's Clurch for about 33 years.

The chatimns spoke of him as the link hetwen the old five belle wifh the gid hand of ringel's and the new poal of eidht with the present voung hand of ringers.
The company then stood in silence for a few monents us a trihnte of respect to his memory.
The clajiman lhanked rhe Rector for his interesting address, and the ladies for preparing tea. Tunes on the landbelts were given by H. Faumersley, John Fill (aged 12) and S. Harrison, and Grandsire Donbles ly F. F. Bagworth, H. Hammersley and S. Harrison.

The conftay then alfoumed to the tower, where further vinging look place. a very enjopalile meeting having heen sprath.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

DISTRICY MEETING DISCUSSTS ' THE RYNGING WORLD.
With atesire further to promote the sale of 'The Ringing World amony fis mombers, the South and West Distrist of the Middlesex Association issued a ' questionnaire' th tho aflibitell towers, and on Saturday, when the forms were returned, the Eijitor of the paper was inviled to atiend a meeting held at Brentfori and Address the gathering, which numbered nemily 40, from Naling (St. Mary's and Clyist Church), Denham, Sunbury, Hillingdon, Harrow, Hestod, Tsleworth, Feltham, Ruisip and Uxbridge, with visitors from Fulmer and Portamouth.
The subject was introtuced by Mr. W. H. Coles (Ringing Master), From the returns it appearer that out of 82 members in the district, 25 subseribed retularly and only six others wero prepared to take it if the price was reduced to 23 . per week
Several nembers expresserl opinions at the meating. Those who had grunbles mostly complained of the price and the fact that the reports of their quarter-peals were not publishen.
Mr. Goldmith reviewerl at some length the whole position of pullishing a paper in the interests of ringers. In dealing with the financiat side he pointed nut the limited scope for revenue, except through sales, tho difficultics and oljections there were in sulbsidies or in charging for the insertion of peals: and he asked, if wite price of the papor were reduced, who wonld duldertake the financial risk whicl? wonld have to be facerl? It was obvious, if the zetums made to the nssociation were a criterion, that the number of new sulbserilers would be quite inadequato to make up the loss. With regard to the griswance of the non-publication of quarter-peals, he pointed out that, as a rule, these wero of purely local interest.

THE EDTTOR'S TASK.

The Fislitor's task, Mr. Gioldsmith proceeded, was to decide which of the material which came to hand in any week was of the widest general intnrest. If proferpnce were given to quarter-peals, these would som impease to such a degree that neally everything else wonk hate to bo sacrificed, and if there were some who now thought there Wits not onotigh intersst in the paper to make it worth their white to buy, many more would take that view if they found records of minor performances predominatimg. It was nol from any aesire to exclude guarter-penk that they often did not appear, but from pure force of circhmstances. whicts compelled a choice of this or that to be excluded. He asked those who complaned of the non-appoarance of their quarter-peals to remember thnt white as many as possille were publishmi, othor malerial of a wider interest would have to be excluted if all that were sellt in were inserted
Mr: J. A. Trollope (vice-president of the association), who presided, montioned that dinting his olose associntion with the paper in the absenea of the Editor, he saw a number of these complaint. They were not lased on the seneral ground of why were quarter-perls not always publisland, lime why was not my nilirter-penl printed?' He proposen at vote of thanks to Mr. Goldsmill for his attendance and liik athluess.
A1 the ontset of the meeting a vole of sympathy was passed to sim. W. FI. Hellier, the hon, treasurer of the associntion, on the fleath of his wife.
A rote of congratulation to Mr. F. II. Lowis ou leing electied Master of The Callege Youths for the tereentenary yenr of the society was passed on the motion of the chairman, who pointed out that it was the firsi time a president of the Central Conncil had been Master of the society.

SUGGESTED OMISSION OF SERVICES AT MEETINGS
For some reason or other, uncxplained at the time, the service, which was to have been held before tea, diid not take place, the elhurch not heing oper and the vicar not putting in an appearance
Ruferting to this in the eonrse of the meating, Mr. F. C. Chnaler a former district hun. secretary, suggested that the distriet slioutd consiles whether it would not be betfer lo minit the service from their ordinary metings and loold one only on the orcasion of the annual meotine. While the olergy were always ready to hold a service on reqnest. has heliered that. many did so at inconvenience and would he ghat to he reliered of it. Mr. Chandler also pointed out that in the days whan services were wot held, the attendance at meetings was much lareer
Mr. Ellinglana sumported this view, but the Chairman said he could noi necept any motion on such an import ant mattor mithout notice. It wrs muderstoon that the matter would be bronght up at the anmal meeting in February
The ustinl votes of thauks wnic passed, gnd the ringing, which fart faken phace in the nflemoon af Tsleworth and Brentford, was jesumed ab. tha latter lowny. Sir Jdward Wingliehl Verner, Bart, of Darid's Verc, Seale, who was interred in Senle Charchyard the same afternoon.

OLD MEMBERS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

method chosen for this meeting, Rud seyeral 'tonches of rounds ${ }^{\text {a }}$ for some beginners present, liept the meeting going from three to five o'clock. It was regretted that, owing to the Rector being engaged elsewhere, the usual service had to be missed.
Tea was served at the Express Dairy, High Street, with Mr. G. W. Fletcher, vice-president, presiding. At the subsequent business niceting six new members were elected, whilst it was annonneed that the anmal meeting of the districh hat been arranged for Jarnary 3oth at St. Andrew's, Kilburn. The special methed elosen for the next meeting was St. Clement's $130 b$ Triples, but members wore advised not to forget Cambridge Cunt Boib.

The Chairman intimated that at the ammal meeting of the district it was possible that proposals would be hrought forwnrd in respect of the fimancial relations of the districts with the Central Fund. with a view to expanding the latter, and lie hoped members would thime orer the matter between now and the date of that meeting.
The Hon. Secretary saicl that he had had on proposal sent to him by the hon. secretary of the Sonth and West District, procidine tiat resident members of 65 years of age, after $a$ conitituons mambership of ten years, should be excused finther subscriptions. Whilst sympathising with such a proposal, he said that wuless something was done, the Central Fund would lose br this, probably more than it could afford, ant it would he as well if this was coulidered int relafion to the proposal put forward by the elsairman.
The hon. secretary welcomed the several young ringers present, from Bethnif freen, Kingsbury and elsewlere, and urred them to attend recularly and take every opportunity that offered for practice. Only by this means could they become efficient ringers.
The Chairman proposed a rote of thanks to the Rector (the Rev. A. H. Lloed) for the use of the bells; to Mr. R. F. G. Geare for nutangik the meeting: and to the monymons gentleman who had min auite a substantial proportion of the cost of the teat-This was carrief nuanimonsly. and the lusiness meeting terminated.
More ringing, hoth ou tower bells and on handbolls, brought a plensant meetivig to a close.

\section*{A YORKSHIRE EXAMPLE.}

There is a small mining village near Lceds, where the ringers provide an excellent example of what can be donc in a tower when keenness for the art and the right atmosphere are present. Rothwell, as a village, is no more favoured than most other communities, but it has long possessed an efficient company of ringers, and the present band are maintaining the traditions of a past generation. They ring peals occasionally, and in Sutprise methods at that, but their greatest contribution is the regularity of their service ringing and the enterprise that is shown in their practices. Last Saturday the Xorkshire Association held a meeting at Rothwell, and occasion was taken to congratulate the band upon the excellent work which they are carrying on.
Two things are tending to the successful progress. One is the keenness of the leader, whose enthusiasns is infectious among his company. Campanologically they do not stand still. As we took the opportunity of pointing out quite recently in this column, stagnation is a cause in many a tower of the depletion of the band, and even the cause of the eventual break-up of the company in some cases. Progress is necessary to maintain interest, and in Rothwell it has had the excellent result, not only of keeping up the strength of the band, but of attracting visitors to the practices. We are fully aware that the rate of progress must depend upon the material available, but there is always some small step forward that the least accomplished can make. Those who have studied our articles for beginners have seen, even if they did not already know, that progress can be made in the easiest of stages-steps which after a bit may develop into strides. There can be no doubt that in those towers where there is a determination to get on, interest is maintained at its highest level, and no lash is needed to keep the ringers ' up to the mark.'

Thus it is at Rothwell; but there, also, there is another source of strength to the unity and purpose of the company. As Sunday School teackers, sidesmen, choristers or servers, all the ringers have an interest in the work of the Church itself, outside ringing, and the result is an atmosphere of service which rises above the mere fascination of the art. Attachment to the Church enhances the pride of service in the belfry. We have always maintained that the best way to fill the ranks of ringers is from within the Church. There is more likely to be success when the ringer is drawn from the Church to the belfry than when he becomes a ringer first, and an effort has to be made to make him a churchman afterwards. The reason is obvious. The churchman is already alive to the importance of church work, and, if ringing adds to (Continued on page 814.)

his interest, he also attaches the right sense of duty to his service in the belfry, a sense which the "outsider" often does not appreciate when he first comes into the tower. Rothwell is fortunate in the company which for years has kept its bells ringing, and is an example which, if more widely copied, would quickly reduce the number of towers wherein the bells are undermanned, as is unfortunately the case in many parishes.

SOMETHING NEW IN DOUBLES-OR ISN'T IT?
For those Doubles ringers who are anxious to get away from ringing nothing but Grandsire on the very hackncyed lines of the ten old six-scores, we have from time to time suggested a means of extending the scope of their practice. It is true that five-bell ringing, if it is to be in true Doubles, is extremely linited in scope. But you can get variety in the way in which you ring even Grandsive. You can ring Reverse Grandsire and Double Grandsira and New Grandsire. You can also ring the method by substituting some other bell for the treble. We wonder how many bands have taken the trouble to explore these varieties?
Of methods with a plain hunt other than Grandsire, and still produced loy pure Doubles there are comparatively few, Rending is the only ane given in the Central Council's "Collection. 'Elhe rest that are priuted have the blemish of at least one single" in each leadas New Bob, where second's and fifth's are made wheu the treble leads and only two bells, those in \(3-4\), change.
There are, however, other Doubles metloods, with a plain munt, Which can be obtained, but which, so far as we have seen, have never been published nad probably never rumg. They are pure Doubles, and the complete extent can be obtnined with bobs and only two singles.
Reginners should learn that extents of pure Doubles annot be produced without the use of at least two singles. The reason is flat all the while "Doubles' are made, the rows remain of the samo rature; that is, they are all 'in-conrse, or 'ceven' as they are sometimes called; and the "out-of-course' or "odd ' rows cannot by ary means be produced.
An \({ }^{\text {a }}\) in-course \({ }^{\text {or }}\) " even \({ }^{2}\) row is one produced by the regular clanging of an even mumber of pairs of hells, as 21435 from 12345, or 15432 from 14523. It meeds the change of an odd namber of pairs to put the bells 'out of course,' and that substitution of an odd pair for an even number of pairs is called a 'single.' Once jon have produced 'out of course' changes in Doubles you cannok get back to 'incourse, changes without the nse of another single.

Txtents of New Bob and simitar methods aree got by catling bobs only, but the singles are there nevertheless. The solitary changing of the belle in 3-4 when the treblo leads or in \(2-3\) if a hoh it called is actually a "single," and so in New Bols you switch from "in-courso" to 'out-af-conres ( or from 'even' to 'odd,' if you prefer that term) and back again alternately with every lead.
So witi every method of pure Doubles you mukt usb at lease two singles to produce an extent, aud you can, as in Grandsire, inse more than two, but it must be an even number. There are, as you know, six singles in the three-part 120 's.
Now, for the beneft of those who would like something really fresh in the Dortbles line although we shatl not he surprised if someone turns round and tells us that the methot is as old as the hills), here is gomething to sturdy:- \begin{tabular}{lcr}
12345 & & \\
\hline 21435 & & \\
24153 & & \\
42513 & & \\
24531 & Boh & Single \\ 42351 & 42135 & 42135 \\
24315 & 41253 & 41253 \\
42135 & 14533 & 14253 \\
41253 & \(\underline{15432}\) & 12435 \\
12453 & 51342 & 21345 \\
\hline 21543 & 53124 & 23154
\end{tabular}

This method, like Grandsive, runs three leads to the plain course, and, like Grandsire, it has one other hell heside the trehle that does something different to the other folls. That hell in the plain course is the End. which leads, double dodges on the front (1-2 up), makes Srá's and goes back aisain.

The bell that pasees the treble in 1-2, goes out behind, comes ack and makes 3 ra's; thon
Proses the treble in \(3-4\), dadges in \(4-5\) (up), makes 3 rris:
Passes the treble in 4-5, dodges in 5-4 (down), and doulile dodyes in 2-1 (down).
At a bob, called, as in Grandsire. when the treble is in 3rd's piace on the way down, the bell that has been doing the 'slow " work (the 2nd in the plain courge) instend of making 3rd's tuns straight out, lies a whole pull behind, makes 3rd's and then passes the treble in 45.
The bell that would have dodeed in \(5-4\) (down) omits the dodge, rans straight to lead and dacs thic 'slow, work.
The bell that passen the treble in 3-4. instead of dodging 4-5 (11p), lies a whole pull behind and goes straight down to the douhle dodge in front. The bell passing treble in 1-2 is not affected.

An oxamination of the fignres will show fou how the single is made. It retains the hell in the "slow.'
The calling of any 120 of Grandsire can be applied to this method, of which there are three variants. It will make an interesting little exercise in method 'reversing' if our resders will try to find them for themselves.

\section*{YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.}

\section*{rothwell band's services to the church}

In spito of the very indement weather on Saturday, the Western Division of the Yorksliire Association held a most successful meeting at Rothwell, when upwards of 50 members attended from a wide area. The day was exceedingly cold and sleet fell continuously throughout the afternoon and evening, but those stalwarts who had made the journey were able to spend an enjoyable tine in tha belfry and the cosy Chnreh Jastitute.
The bells were raised in peal abont 3 oclock and werc kept moving is a great variety of meslods from Plain Bob to Cambtidge and Superlative antil they were finally lowered about 9 p.m.
A celighiful tea was served the the Institute, to which about 40 members sab down. This was followed by the business mecting, presided over by the vice-president, Mr. P. J. Johngon, supported by the Rev. H. S. Bratiscombe, Vicar of Rothwall.

Tho chairman was in it reminiscent mood when proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for grantirg the use of the bells. Fe spole of his early experiences at Rothwotl when transport Facilities were not as convenient as those of the present day. He also referred to the great traditions in ringing whioh the Rothwell company lad made, and satd how pleased be was to see the present liand carrying an wilh lite work and making sheh excellent progress. They had a loma hand ringing Surprise methods, and this was f feat which, monformately, was not very common. He was also very pleased indeed to soe the chmolnwardens present, and felt sure that if this could be sedn in other parishes, better results would be seen in ringiug.
This was supported by Mr. Sherwood
In replying, bie Rev. H. S. Branscomlse spoke of his early days in tile ministry when he also commenced to ring. Uufortuately he bad to give up ringing through illnces, lant he had a great interest in it anki was plenaed to know that his own company were making such good progress.
Mr. Wormald
Mr. Wormald, in replying for the wardens, said how pleased he was ascont the meeting and to take part in welcoming the Yorkshire Hom hime Rothwell. He had been condected with the chireh simee hoyhood, and he coukl, tharefore, say how proud they wers of ben ringers. Not only were they ringers, hut every member from ringing. Some were Suacay Scbool teachers, others choristers, sidesmen or servers, so that they all had the work of their churel' much int heart and it, was always a source of pride to him as a writen of tile chaveh.
Mr. W. Bartnn, in voicing the thanks of the association to the locnl company for the splendid arrangements and to the Iadies for the worls which they had carried out in Ellpplying and serving the tea, spolke of file social side of there meetings. TThere was a great deal of work entailed in organising and preparing a tea, and the social atmosplere which it created was so necessary in making these moeting its shecess, This was supported by Mr. W. H. Senion.
M1. P. Massam, the local gecretary, in replying, said it was a Nersura to liave the association at Rothwell, hit hoped it would not he so long before they would come again. It was just ten years since the lat meoting was held there, and he hoped they would come harin soon.
Miss Mnry Stition, of Drighlington, was elected a member of the assoriation.
After tho meelimg some of the members adjourner to the reading room where handhell ringing was in progress; others fonnd elijoyment
The billiard room, whilst tho remninder songht out the belfry for furfter ringing.
Menlors weite present from the following towers A Armley, Batley, 13utley, Bradford Cathedral, Birstall, Drimhlington, Eliand, Head ingloy (St. Chat's and St. Mielanel's), Edle, Huddersfield, Leeds Parish Chmelh. Pudscy, Shipley and the local company, and visitors from Ratherlam. I , is pleasing to note that the weailiner could not damp lihe onllusinam of the 1ady members from Drighlington and Shipley, who nlways manne to support, the district meetings.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION
THE LATE MR. EVAN DAVIES' WORK AT CALRLEON
The last quarterly meeting of the year was hedd at the old Roman city of Caerleon, near Newport, Mon, on Saturday, December 12th. The attendance was not up to the usual standard owiug probably to the inclement weather experienced during the morning. Representa tives attended from Aleravors, Cardif, Llanfrechfa, Llauislien, Llangynyd, Newport, Peuartil, Merthyr aad Aberdare. The bells, a light ring of eight by Warmer, wore started soon after 3 o'clock. Later, service took place in the ofd Parish Ginnch, famous for its beautiful stained glass windows. The Yicar (the Rew. H. O. Williams) officiated.
Thea, lindly provided by the Viean and churchwardens, was served in the Gymnasium Hall of the Jndowed Scloong. At the business meeting the Ficar occupied the chair. The hon, secretary read com munieations received from the Master of the association regrefting his inabilily to atteud, and from Mr. Claud Davies, of Liverpool, wishing Ehe association a successful meeting and regretting his in ability to be present. Augmentations and proposed restorations were reported on, which proved that the county of 'Monmouth will possess ane new complete octave and one angmented octave next jear. It is also hoped there will be one augmented octave in Glamorgan.
Congratulations were given to the Aberdare baud for ringing their first local peal on their' rehung bells was agreed that the selection of places for the quarterly meeting be left until the anmal meeting, to be beld on Easter Monday.
The hon. secrelary gave st some length flle history of Caerleon bells. He remembered, he said, M1', Evan Davies comillg to Caerleon as schoolmaster in 1881. Mr. Davies' interest was in the bells. There were then five bells or remnants of bells, more on less cracked, one ius an ash heap and one a box of old metal. In Oelober of that year these remmants were gent to Warner and Sons, of Londan. Two months later on December \(15 t h_{1}\) six new bells were dedicated and opened. Althongh Mr. Davies was not then a change ringer, by the enal of the nexi month, Jamary, 1882, lie lad taught a band to handle tha bells, and Boh Singles were ming for gervice. Progress continued during 1882-3. At the anmal meeting held in Decemiver 1884, a suggestion to complete the oclave was made. Fstinates were obtained during 1885, and on fuly 28 th, 1886 , the two new tirebles arrived, wore hoisted aud hung personally by Mr. Davies.
On March 13 th, 1887 , the first quarter-peal, Grandsire Triples, was ung ly the leoal men, conducted hy Mr. Davies. Other methods wero practised, and on Janilary 12dh, 1889 (48 years ago within a month), the first peal on the bells was rumg, conducted by Evan Duvjes. It was the first peal on the bells and first peal by all. Of the band that took part in that peal there are three survivors-the writer of these notes, who is still ay aotive ringer, and two others who are not now ringing. If the same year peals of Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major were ring
Four years later, mainly through the efforts of Mr. Davies, the Llandaff Diocesnn Association was formed at a meeting held at Llandaf, and Mr: Davies was elected the first Master
It was most fittivg that the meeting was leld at Caerleon, which was yeally the home of change innging in those parts, and ringers owed a debt of gratitude to the late Mr. Evan Davies, whose sor was doing sheh usefin] work for the Lancaslive Asspeiation in Jirerpool The quettion of a printed form of service was disenssed, and i was decided to deal with it at the annual meeting
New memthers wers elected, including four Caerleon ringers. The best thanks were accorded fle Vicar, churchwardens and ladies for their kindnesg and hospitality. Ringing was afterwards again inrlulged in

\section*{MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION TREASURER'S BEREAVEMENT} DEATH OT MRS. W. H. HOLLTER
We regret to record the death of Mrs. Anmie Amelia Hollier, wife of Mr. W. H. Hollier, of 29, Duke Road, Chiswick. Mrs. Hollier, who was 59 years of age, was known to many ringers. Mr. Hollier is breasurer of the Midelesox County Association and Londou Dibeesan Guild, of which he was one time a joint secretary, and represents the association on the Central Coumeil. Until this year Mrs. Hollier always accomparied her husband to the Council meetings.
In May last she underwent a serions operation in the Royal Masonic Hospital, Ravenscourt Parik, of which she was a life governor. When only partially convalescent she was called upon to nurse her lansand in a mast serious illness, the strain of which proved very heary, and again jllness overtook her, this time proving fatal.
The funeral took place at the Chiswick New Cemetery on Monday of last week, the last rites being conducted by the Rev. E. J. FellowesBrown, M.A. Mr. Holiter was not well enough to attead.
The principal mourners were the only daughter (Grace), Mrs. Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. P. Holloway, Mr. F. Davis, Mr. Reginala Cattermole, Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Jomes, W.Bro. Harry Smith, P.A., G.D.C. (representing Chelt Chapter), W.Bro. E. G. Taylor, P.F.G.Sw.Bro. (representirg Vitruvian 87 and Columis 5284 Lodges), Mr. J. Hunuisett (representing Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild) sad Mrs. Humnisett.

Among the many floral tributes were wreaths from Vitruwian Lodge, Cheith Chapter; Middeser County Association of Bellvingers; and Mr. and Mrs. Hunuiset

The sympatiy of his many friends in the Exercise will go out to Mr. Hollier and his daughter in their bereavement.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP.}

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Etd., Croydon, bave been entrusted with the contract for the restoration of the bells at St. Peter's Church Thetford, Norfolk.

Mr. W. A. J. Kigight, of Milverton, writes to extend his apologies to the baud that rang his peal of Stedman Caters, which lias proved to be false.

Tho peal at Romford, rang on December Ist and recorded in our Iast issuc, was Mr. J. E. Davis' 1, 100 th.

A birthday peal was rung at Bucklebury last Saturday for Mr. William Wigmore, who is 81, and has been a rigger at this Berkshire tower for 63 years.
The three generations of the Groombridge family, who, as recorded last week, are members of the Ancient Society of Gollege Youths, all hold the certifcate of the society signed by Mr. W. T. Cockerill as hon. secretary. This must be \(a\) record, and is a sherp reminder of the long period of years during which Mr. Cockerill has so unostentatiously discharged the secretarial duties.
There is notimis like aceuracy in everything pertaining to ringing, We have often heard arguments in the belfry as to the fime ocoupied in ringing a peal, when tho so-called "timekeepers" differ to the extent of a minute or two in their observations. They were nucli more precise at Yamton on Seturday, when the timing of a peal was reduced to seconds- 3 hours 13 minktes 10 seconds.
The peal at Woolwich recorded last week was H. McGabe's first peal, Fr. Johnson's first peal "inside' and H. Mackintosh's first peal of Triples. As printed in our report, the indication marks were attached to the wrong rames.

Peals are recorded in this issue in \(n o\) fewer than six different Surprise methods-and Bristol and Yorksire are not among them. It is indeed as sign of the times' when the 17 eight-bell peals reported are divided among in methods.

\section*{KING GEORGE VI.'s ACCESSION}

BELLS OELEBRATE TEE PROCLAMATION.
The chango in the monarchy so zmexpectedly brought about last weok las been marked ly ringing in miny places for the new King's accession.
We record in this issue few peals cung for the event, but in numerous churches the bells were rung on Saturiay, and in some provincial towns on Monday when the proclamation was officially read.
The Coronation of King Gearge VI. and Queen Elizabetk is to take place on the date previously fixed for that of the former King, and ringers will be able to go on with their arrangements for the event, There will be nothing lacking in the bells' expression of the nation's rejoicing on that yreat occasion.

\section*{CANCELEED MEETINGS.}

The meeting of the Manchester Branch of the Lancashire Association arranged for to-morrow (Saturday) at St. Thomas', Peadleton, has been cancelled
The Fertfordshire Association's meeting advertised for to-morrow at Hemel Hempstend is unavoidably postponed until after Christmas.
Owing to a telephonic misunderstanding we last week announced the cancellation of the meeting of the Lancashire Association at Whittle-le-Woeds, instead of tho meeting at Burton-in-Westmorland. We desire to express our regret to all concerned for any inconvenience caused.

QUESTIONS TO THE METHODS COMMITTEE.

Dear Sir,-I don't know why Mr. W. G. Wiison butts in, unless his letter is inspired from ather sources.
Mr. Trollope in the past, as spokesman of the Methois Committee, has answered questions, not very willingly perhaps, nor very courteousiy, butr, nevertheless, he has cone so.
Why, then, may not the Exarcise have an answer to the question put to the Methords Committee in your issue of November 27th?

An answer will oblige.

\section*{A FINE RING FROM THE TOWN'S BELL FOUNDRY. Great Gathering of Ringers for Dedication.}

The Parisin Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Croydon, is now in possession of a fine peal of twelve bells, with a tenor of 36 cwt ., cast by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who have made the town of Croydon famous, not only throughout England but in many distant parts of the world, by the products of their foundry. The new peal was dedicated on Saturday in the presence of a large congregation, among which were nearly three hundred ringers.

It mas a great disappointment that the Archbishop of Cauterbury, who had promised to perform the ceremony, was unable to do so owing to national events, which required his presence in the Heuse of Lords at the very loour fixed for the dedication. The duty was disdharged by the Bishop of Croydon (the Rt. Rev. Edward S. Woods), who is also Vicar, and the occosion proved a memorable one.

In 1610 a new saint's bell was given by Francis 'Tirrel, citizen and grocer of London. It was recast in [757, but was destroyed in ble fire of 1867.

The restoration of King Charles II. gave a great impetur to many pursuits, including the new art of change ringing, and during the next half-ceutury the bells were angmented to the full octave, whilst in 1730 the Socioty of Crojdon Ringers was formed.

In 1738 a complete ring of eight bells was mstalied by Thomas Lester, of Whitechapel, and iu 1816 they were rebum in a new fume. The Lenor bell of Thomas Lester's riug eracked in 1836, was recast at Whiteclapel, and, while being hanled up into the tower, the tackle broke and the bell fell down, doing great damage to the tower and smashing itself to pieces. It was taken back and again recast, and this time safely installed in flue tower, its weight berg 22 cmt .3 gr . 7 lb.

Thege bells remajoed mntil the disastrons night in Jnuuary, 1867, when, melted by flhe intenge lieat, all the bells except the tenor "an down in a glowing stream. The tenor again fell hnd was snashed to pieces. Some very fine casts of the Last Supper of our Lord were made from the metal of these bells, and one is to be seen in the tower of the church. They were rung for the last time on December

THE BELL FAAME AND EELLS IN THE FGUNDRY

Grovion lias for many centuries been ciosely associated with the Ardibishops of Oanterhury, and it remains to this day an isolated part of that diocese. Within the church lie buricd gix Archbishops, who died between 1583 and 1757; while between the years 1534 and 1909 nine Bishops have been consecrated in the chnrel. A church stood on the site in Saxon times, but a devastating fre in 1867 destroyed a buiking that was begun in the time of Archabishop Courtney (1381-96) and completed in that of Archbishop Chicheley (1414-43). Only the tower, south porch and outer walls remained after the conflagradien, and the present church was rebuilt by Sir Gilbert Scott and consecrated in 1870 .
The earliest notice of a bell in the tower is in a register dated 1403, in which it is recorded that 'One Johut de Aldermaston, who was buried in yo church, left hy his will \(x x\) sheep for the purchase of a Saint's bell.'

\section*{EARLF BELIS DESTROYED BY TIRE.}

On May 20 th, 1538 , there was buried in the church a certain Sir Ancrew Corvehill, a secular priest, his burial being one of the first to be recorded in the registers. His two brothers were Sir Wilham Corvehill, e priest of Much Wenlock in Shropshire, zud John, a monk of the same place. Sir Willinm died in 1546, nad the burial register at Wenlock proclaims his skill as a ' rood bellfounder and maker of the frames for bells.' It is quite possible that Groyden Parish Church owes its first peal of bells to this priestly belliounder.
In 1547, during the reign of Edward VI, an inventory of church goods records that 'There ar fywe belles in ye Stepel and a Saunce (SEint’s) Bell.'

31st. 1866, by four members of the Groydon Saciety and four of the Beddington Society. It is strange to record that the gociety held its anmual dinner on the night of the fre in Jnurary, 1867, and so the rinsers were among the crowd who sorrowfully watched the cluurch and bells destroyed.
A new peal of eight with a 30 cut. tenor in E was installed in 1869 by Messrs. Taylor at the restoration, under the direction of the late Lord Grimthorpe, and was rung for the last tims on Sunday, July 5th, 1936.

A MASSIVE FRAME
The frome aud gear were a source of trouble for many years. They are now replaced entirely with new work througlout as a result of a munificent gift from the late Lady Edridge, widow of the late Sir Frederich Edridge, whose devoted service and able adminiatration of church aftairs as Viear's warden extended over period of 30 years.
The new frame is a massive construction of iron castings, fixed to a reinforced concrete grillage which bonds the walls together and is designed to streagtinen the tower materially.
The new fittings include cast-iron headstocks, ball bearings, clappers of an improved design, and special facilities for lubrication and maintenance by the steeplekeeper

The eight 'Grimthorpe' belis, in the light of pregent-day knowledge, were of incorrect design and unsatisfactory in totte, owing to the falsity of harmonies. They liave been reeast, and increased in weight, through the generosity of individual donors and subseribers.
In view of the association of Archbishop Whitgift and succeeding Archbishops of Canterbury witll Croydion for centuries down to the

The "Whitgift Bell' Fund was organised hy Miss Brodie, the danghter of the fate Rubert Brodie, who was the first headmaslor of Whitgift Schoal; and tha bell which was uged from time inmomorial as the 'tolling bell' purd "call hell' will continue to perform those duties.
Fonn additional bells, the new trebles, are gifts to complete in ring of twelvo.
This casting of the tonor bell, the gift of Mr. T, R. Edindee, nephew of tho late Lady lidridge, was wituessed on October 2lst, 1036, by the Mayol of Croydon, bine Bishop and churchwardens, Mr. H. G. Williams, M.P. for South Croyfon, and a party of 200 parishioners.
The tower clock, erected by Gillett and Johnston in 1869, has been roorganised to chime true Westminster quarfers on Nos, 3, 4, 5 and 8. Sundry alterations bo the movement and transmission gear lave been carried out to simplify the combetions and to improve the appearance of tho ringing chamber.
A new belfry foor has been erected to ensure easy access for the tamplekesper for mantenance and regular inspectiou.
The belfry lanveri windows luve been partially blocked with panels of \(n\) specinlly selected material to prevent the sound from bealing down on the immediate neighhourhood, and the effect outside is certainly one that will eliminate all canse for reasonable complaint.
In the course of pronedure required for the granting of a Facmily the proposed sclieme of restoration and additions wat jeevewed by sumdry authorities, and valuable assistance in this direction was rendered hy Mr. TI. F. W. (Grant (diocesan arclitect), by Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Comeil of I3ellringers), and by Major 5 . H. 13. Hesse.

\section*{THE ARCHIBISHOL'S MESSAGE.}

The grent church was filled to capacity for the dedication ceremony, Whe congreatation includiag representatives of the civic as well as the Mhigishs Sife of the town, A procession was formed in the Parish hymn, 'Unchatring God,' was surg as it passed up tine aisle in the following order: Cross beurer, choristers end gentlemen of the rhoir, the master bell fonnder, the visiting clergy, tho macebearrr, tha Mryor of Groydon, the Town Clerk, thic verger, the staff of the larish Church, the Deputy Rural Denn, the churehwardens and the Thishow and Ficar of Croydon

After appropriate prajers, Psalm 150 was sumg, during which a small procession made its way to the westicrin tower, where the Rision purformed the act of dedicalion and the bells were rang in some excellent, rounds by the local ringers. The sound came rather vaguely down info the church so that except nenr the tower they were lut fainily heard, hut autside tha tomes were full and satigiving, and ine inmeniate comment was that liney were a fine peal. When the linells had eensed, the Bishop of Groydon addressed the eongrcgation from the milpit.
"I'las Eislup of Groydon, in his address, said his first word must mecessarily he one of the deepest regret, on the part of everyone, at t.10 nufored shaence of the Atehhishop, for the reason which they

The Auchhishop must be in his place in the House of Lards at that very moment to swear allegiance to their wew King and in order that lie night be able to ofer personally the first prayers in Parlinment for the new King and Queou. The Archbishop seut message that morning, in which he said, "Pray express to your people my most real rearet. The digappomimeat is as great to meas it wat be to them. I must be content to send my Benediction to the bells and to the people, whose joys and sorrows they will celebrate and whom they will summon to that remembrance of God which, in these strained and anxious days, stands forth as the suprems need of the nation.
The Rishop went on to express thankfulness that throughout the crisis through which we had just pased, the nation and Empire hed preserved a steady, calm dignity; and the hope, deeply charged with prayer, that all that had loappened might be overruled by God's providence for the true welfare of the realm and Empire. Before the service closed he would ask them to join with him in heartfelt prayer, bath on behalf of him who had thought it his duty to renounce the 'thoone and the King and Queen, who had fakey on the tremendous burden of Sovereignty. The Bignop added that the first 'poal' on their splendid new hells would coincide almost exactly with the proclamation in London of the new King.
Jroceeding, he said lie thought he could justly describe that as an historic occasion, They lad with them the Mayor and members of the Corporation, who never failed to be with them on great occasions in the Iffe of their own community and in the national life. He also extended a special welcome to the visicing ringers, some 300 of them, who had cone fronn all parts of the country, and represented, lie

The Bishop went on to outline the history of the hells in comection with the Church. The new peal, which he lind just dedichted on behalf of the Archbishop: was due to the generosity of many donors, friends and lovers of Croydon and its Parish Church. The old frame latd been replaced by new work thronghatt, and there were four new trebles, given to complete the ring of twelve, the only penl of this number-wilh the exception of the rine at Sonthwark Cathedral-in the county of Surrey. The eost of the work had been 81.867 10s, of which e74 still had to be raised. It showed the measure of the genelosity. loyalty and enthusiasm of those who wanted Croydon to have a peal second to nome. He hoped the gifts that day would substantially reduce the balance outstanding.

TO THE FNDS OF THE FARTH.
Proceeding, the Rishop sirid it was interesting to recall that by means of the magic of wireless the sound of the bells went out literally to tho onds of the earth. They were proud of the fact that their stecple was the only one in all the land from which the bells of a Pavish Church had been broacleast regularly month by month. The Bishop went on to speak of the message of the bells which, in days when God was often ignored and forgotiten, were a voice calling men ovarywhers to repent and clange their lives, to turn aside from the ways of selfishnesg and seek Gorl's way. The church bells were a sharp reminder that this remembrance of God onght to be far more than merely f fleeting thought, an vague ngpiration or a kind of sentiment. The bells called then to mothing less than to express this remembrance by the actual coming together of God's people to spend time in

\section*{BTSEOP THANKS MR, JOHNSTON}

The Bishop of Croydon satit they were delighted to see so namy ingers present on what he had already describod as an historic ocuasion. He would like to tale that opporinuity of thanling Mr. Jolunston and all the members of his stant for the tinly magnifcent work they had put into this new peal of bells (applause). He was particulayly delighted to see the church alock going once more. It had been a serious deprivation to have the clock stationary and he was pleased they were once more moving with the times. Encouraged by bhis magnificent peal of bells they would continue to go ahead. Not only had Mr. Johnston's firm splendidly carried ont the work, udded the Bishop, but Mr. Johnston himself fax beem instrumentrat in paising a large part of the moncy which had provided Croydon with a peal of bells second to mone in the conntyy (applause). He concluded by bidding the visitors welcome and hoping the ringers would enjoy their few loon's in Crogdon.

Ringels then refurmed to the tower, where wades the able directiou of Mrr. Dan Cooper, the tower master, everyome who desired to do so enjoyed a pull on the bells. Tliey weye anmitted ju batcles to the riming chumber, and mavy rany on twelve for the first time. There Fer'e frequient "tonclzes" of rounds for those who liegitated to try thejr hand at changes, but many short touches of Cirgues were rung as well as a half-course of Cambridge Maximus.
The ringing clamber had been renovated in the course of the restoration, 凤nd now, brightly illiminated and with freshly decorated walls, is a pleasant apartment in which to ring.

The bells handle splendidly, the circle is perfect and in the anging chamber the sound has been nicely modulated. Ereryone, therefore, was able to enjoy their first experience of this latest ring of twolve bells.
Messirs. Gillett and Johnston have provided their town wilh a peal of bells wotthy of thein oreat reputation, amd the completion of the scheme elowns the desires amd efforts of the head of the firm, Mr Cyril Johnsbon, whose ambition it lns been for 30 yenrs to see in the Parish Clusch a ring of hells made in the town and equal to any comparable peal in tlie country
While ringing was in progress, the foot of the tower prowed a convenient meeting place for ringers, of whom there was a colstant stream coming itnd goins throughout the evening
When ringing ceased most of the visilors made their way to the Ørill Hall in Union Street, where a 'social' had been plammed. This was quite informal, but entertaining jtents were provided. The programme hegan with commanity siuging; then there was a demonstration of Mi. J. S. Goldsmith"s "rimeing madnine," on which, to the diversion of the andimee, tomeheg of Grandsire, Sterlman and Treble Boly were rung, while in introditeing the machine Mi'. Goldsmith grve the dudience some \(11 e w\) light ons bells and bellringing. An excellent conjurimg and ventriloquid enfertainment followed, and change riug ing ofs handjells was also incladed in the programme.

The authoress of the now famous novel, "The Nine Tailors (Miss Darothy Sayers), was anong those present, and, having been introduced to the audime by Mr. Johnston, spake to them of the interesti in challge ringing which inspired the theme of her book. She admitted that in masleming the suluject she had filled several exereise hooks lyy writing ont figures
Mr. Johnstom thanked those wha had cantributed to the programme, and a happy evening osme io an end slorty before 11 orclock, after a memorable day.

MISS DOROTHY SAYERS SEES RINGING AT CLOSE QUARTERS In expressing plensure at lier vist to Cioydon, Miss Dolathy sayers lias writtent to Mr. C. F. Johtrathat I was immengely grateful for ble opportunity of hearing your beatiful peal, nnd wateling the rimgers and the befls at close quarters. Tt was also most delightfill to meet all those prominent members of the ringing wath, and I must say again liow very museh I felt honoured by the exiraowdinarily kind appreciation they all expressed of 'The Nine Tators.'
Refersiug to the 'yingine machime' demomstrated at the social, Miss Sayerg said: It was most fascinating to watch in actial movement the thing I had tried so hard to linderstand on paper, particularly the Kent rreble Thob which ochpies so larre a place in my story. I got quite exciled recognising tile movements of the slow Hint bell, and seeing No. 3 actumaty stand to make lien fourth's place at the Bob!

\section*{GREE'TING FROM YORKSHIRE.}

On the same day that Croydon hells wece dedicated, a sinular ceremony took place at Bradshaw, Torkshire, where five bells, also east at the Croydon Foundry, were opened hy the Bislop of Wraliefind. The following telesram from the Rev. F. B. LeATHERHEAD DESTRIGT OFFICERS RENOMENATED.
The Leatharlioad District's list meeting of the year whs held at Ewell on December 5th. Ringing commonced soon after 3 o'clock and continned until 5 p.m., when the Vicar (the Rev. C. G. Holland) conducted the Guild's form of service, the address, given by the Rev. G. Milsom Julses, of West Vwell Church, denling with the messages of different bells, from the common door bell upwards.
Alter the serfice a move was made to the Mary Wallis Hall for tea, to which 24 members and frimuls, including the two clergy, sat down. The Vicar welcomed the Guild's visit to Eweli and said he hoped to sie them there again soon.
The laall proved to be a cosy phace for tean and meeting on such a cold day. It was bamed after a joor servant who, from her small whe of about 58 a yeer, geved nearly encugh to cover the cost of huiking ft, in order to beve an alternative place of worship from the Parish Church.
After wan the clergy had to leave to attend to other duties, and so, on the Ringing Master's proposition, Mr. J, Corlett, the Gulid's hon ironalirer, was voted to the chair for the business meeting, which wis short.
Tha chicf business was tho nomination of district oflicers for next year. The Ringing Master (Mr. A. Farman) said he wished the meeting would find new Ringing Master, as business prevented him from carrying out his duties as fully as he would like to, but as no ona scemed to junp at the job, he was actain renominated, as were ulso the disfrict sceretary (Mi. A. H. Smith), auditor and members on tho Txecntire Committee of the Guild, with Mr. W. J. Whiting's name added to the latter.
The Fon. Secretary also mentioned the Executive Conmittee's decision that the contents of the Benewolent Fund boxes sheuld be handed to each district secretary nt the district's annual meeting, so that the treasaren sloould have the whole sum for inclusion in his yearly balance sheet. The meeting closed with the usual votes of meeting.

Ringing was agnin resumed until aearly 3 aclock in Triples and Mrajor methods to suit all capabilitjes, the bells being finatly lowered in peal.

\section*{DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD. \\ A WELCOME 'lO WEDNFSBURY.}

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saburday, December 5tin, at St. Bartholonew's Church, Wednesbury, Staffs. The bells, ang of tell, were placed at the disposal of the members and the usual service was held. Despite the inclomency of the woather, a fair yumber of members was present. The Guild's form of service was conducted by the Rev. Prebendary H. W. Jones (Vicar), wha also gave a very interesting address. He gave the members a hearty welcome to his church and parish and said how pleased he was to meet them. He could seo by thoge present what a real interest in bellringing thero was in the district.

At the close of the service an adjourmment was mede to the Chureh House, where a substantial tea was in readjness.
The Vicar nccupied the chair at the business meeting, at whieh several new members were elected, including thres of the Wednesbury band. The Vicar of Weduesbiury kindly allowed his name to be added as a vice-president. Mr. A. E. Reed. of Willeahall, was ratified as a member, having been previonsly elected in St. Thomas' belfry, Dudley;
It was pronosed to hold the next meeting, which is the anmual meeting, at Dudley. It was also resolved that the quarterly peal be attempted at Wedneshury, subject to the permission of the Vicar and local band, which, needless to say, was kindly granted.
Mr. Harry Boswell made an earnest appeal to mombers to support 'The Ringing World' in the coming year and help to increase the circulation of the paper.
Mr. W. C. Rhodes proposed that the best thanks of the meeting be given to the Vicar of Wednesbury for granting us permission to hold the meeting at his church, for conducting the service, for his able and interesting address and for the use of the tower and bells and for presiding at the business meeting; also to the organist; to the ladies for their lindness in preparing and serving the tea; and to Mr. A. J. Hubble for his services in malring the arrangements for tea and meeting, which were greatly appreciated by all present.-The Vicur returned thanks for all concerned and clased the meeting with prayer.
Several members again retumed to the belfry and kept the bells merrily going in various metlods until nearly 9 g'elock.

At the tea the branch were welcomed as the gneste of the Rev. E. A. and Miss Steer, whose kindness was very much appreciated. After tea, as no special lusiness was to be transacted, a brief outline of the working of tha brancli and its activities was given luy the secretary. The montlily meetings that had heen arranged at varions places in the branch were thought to be doing good and weve very well atteaded.

The chairman, the Rer. H. A. Byard, of Newport Pagnell, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. E. A. and Miss Steer for their hospitality and for making the arrangoments for the meeting. This baving been suitably responded to, further ringing took place in various methods to suit all who wanted to ring.

\section*{BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.}

On Snturday last the ammal meeting of the Tannton Dennery Branch was held at St. Mary's, Taunton. Ringing commenced at 3.30, and an hour later service was leld, at whicle the Vicar (the Rev. W. F. Featan-Renslaw) addressed the gathering. Tea followed in the Corfield Jiall, and was much onjoyed. The president of the branch took the chair at the meeting, and the annnal report and balance sheet were ndopted. Tliree new members were elected.
Then followed the election of president and other officials. Nonc of them desired to be re-elected, but the meeting thonght otherwise, when they were all reinstalled in affice: Rev. F. Is. Grosvenor, president; Mr. P. Merson, hon. secretary: Mr. J. Hunt, Rimging Master. The hon. secretary was also elected as representative on the Dibcesan Committee
The meeting was a preat success. Forty-five sat down to ten, and with a few latecomers over 40 took part in ringing on the fine peal of 12 hells. Rounds, Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques and Treble Bob Ropal were included.

\section*{RAPID PROGRESS OF WEST BUCKLAND BOYS}

At East Bucklaud, Devou, on Thurselay, December 3rd, on the occasion of the entlronement of the Rt. Rev. C. E. Curzon, M.A., as Bishop of Exeter, a quarter-peal of Bob Doubles by the West Buckland School Guild: Rew. J. H. B. Audrews (conductor) 1, C. S. Qreed 2, H. L. Morgan 3, P. R. Dale 4, D. Turner S, E. V. Westcott 6. Birst quarter-peal on the bells, recently restored by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. Frirst quarter-peal by any of the band and first attempt.
This modest report is of greater interest than is revealed by the announcement of the success attaimed. In auticipation of the restoration of the bells of Fast Buckland, which were rededicated ou Octobey 15th, the boys of West Bucklaud Scliool, who attend East Buckland Ohurch, where their chaplain, the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews, is assistant priest, formed a Guild of ringers. None of them had learned to handie a bell before this summer, and they havo only been practising change ringing since October. But, as may be gathered, under the oncouraging leadership of their chaplain, they are gready enthusiastic and all riug regularly for Sunday services, in alternation with the local band.
The tenor at Fast Buckland is 74 cwt. The four back bells were cast in 178 by E. and W. Fvans, of Chepetow. Two trebles were added in 1906 in an auxiliary frame above the other four. This jear the old wooden frame having become insecure, it was decided to rehang thio bells in a metal framo on one level, and at the same time to retume and quarter-turn them.

\section*{GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION \\ GLOUCESTER BRANCH OFTICERS REELECTED}

\section*{LADIES' GUILD DIFFICULTIES.}

The extracts which we give today from the annual report of the Ladies' Guild reveal some of the difficulties under which the ladies' organisation has to carry on its work. There are approximately three hundred active members, in addition to some 65 non-ringing honorary members and they are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the country. It is only the loyalty of the members and the enthusiasm of the officers that can keep the Guild intact, for it is practically impossible for all to keep in real touch with the organisation. And yet, with all the limitations upon it and the discouragements, which must be many, the ladies contrive to make their Guild an active force in the Exercise.
What would a 'mere man' do as district secretary in face of some of the obstacles! Fancy having to run a 'district ' like the Northern District, which extends from Nuneaton in Warwickshire to Leeds in Yorkshire, and from Ashton-under-Lyne in Lancashire to Nottingham? Or a district like the Southern District in which the membees are as far apart as Hastings and Truro, from east to west, and as Oxford and Portsmouth from north to south? Can one wonder that there is a difficulty in getting in subscriptions, or that meetings are necessarily small in numbers? The Northampton District is the smallest, but members have to travel thirty to fifty miles in turn to attend meetings. In the Lincolnshire District, the secretary and vice-president (who is really the district chairman) five 80 miles apart, and yet interest is maintrained. It needs unbounded enthusiasm on the part of the responsible officials to achieve results, hut the general secretary (Mrs. E. K. Fletcher) is able to report 'increase in membership and renewed interest.'
In the coming year the Guild will celebrate its Silver Jubilee, and everyone will hope that record success may be attained. Despite the scoffers, who think the Guild redundant, in view of the facilities that are offered by the territorial and diocesan associations, most ringers will, we think, admit that the existence of the Guild gives the ladies a suitable status in the Exercise. We know there are still some ringers who think the belfry should be the exclusive preserve of the male sex, but the march of time has brought women into practically every walk of life which a generation ago was thought to be the strict domain of men, and it is admitted that the arts and profusions have gained thereby. The upward trend in belfry :reform lias been helped by the presence of ladies in the towers, and those who used to sneer at the capabilities of women at the end of the rope have 10 admit that there are today many clever women among the ringers of this country, and that, in the mass, they are as competent as men in the mass. It is only in their physical limitations that they fail compared with the 'sterner sex,' but this is not their fault, and even in this they are no worse than many men, for we doubt if three parts of the latter are any real good at the heavy end of a ring of bells. There is a definite value in faving ladies in the Exercise and the Ladies' Guild fills a useful place in the scheme of things. We can only hope that their difficulties of organisation may in course of time be overcome, and that their Silver Jubilee will bring a substantial acquisition of strength.

\section*{REFERENGE INDEX TO OUR 1936 ARTICLES,}

The articles which have appeared under this heading liave been, as we have already pointed out, intended as a help to lifose who are called upon to give instruction, as well as to learners themselves. Purposely they have followed no set plan, for tite reason that all "beginners ' are not in the same stage. Iddeed, we are all 'beginners of some kind or oflier, and that is why sometimes the articles are a sittle more advanced than those which absolute beginners can, perhaps, understand.

Now that we lave got to the final week of the year it may bo as well if we catalogue in some degree the articles which have appeared in 1936 . It will, we hope, facilitato future reference by those who mity have need of them as hints in teaching future pupils. The subjects are, so far as possible, grouped.

CONDTCTING FROM A 'NON-OBSERTATION' BELLLbout cond atur from a ron-oliservation

Dear Sir, In your issue of August 28 th , this subject is discussed in yonr manal clear manner. nnd to me it seems the conclucling words in parurraph i are particulary apt and stum up the position. Yon then aiscues calling the bells 'Before 'and 'In the Hınt' in Grandsire Triples.
In the case of compositions in one part, such as Holt's Origimn or other notable 'peals,' 'lengtlis, etc., the plan, I renture to think, is admirahle. But if, in the case of touches or peals in 4-5-6-7-8-10-12 parts. all the bells falling into 3 rd's place aro to he notrd tironghont, would this not, in effect and iu a broad sense, reduce all compositions of whatever length to one part? I quete a quarter-peal of Grandsirc Truples as an example to illustrade my meaning:-
\(275634-4\)

Repeat nime times, with 5 . at half-way and at the end. (If a Holt single be preferred, the 2nd is retained at the part-end throughout.) On the aca of it, the calling is for the 2nd 'Out,' 'Before,' 'In in the first hrlf, and the 3 ril likewise in the second. (No neca to discuss the alternative when Holb's single is used.) But if the young couductor is to adopt the bells Before, the position is by no nears so elear or so simple. He must memorise the bells, thus: (1) 5.2 .7 : (2) 6.2 .4 ; (3) 3.2 .5 ; (4) 7.2 .6 ; (5) \(4.2 .2(\mathrm{~S}\).\() ; and in the second lale\) substitute 3 for 2 .
Actually this was the first quarter-peal I called, and, though but a lad at the time, I found no difficulty in doing so from the 4 th. and even after 30 odd scars \(I\) would prefer this plan to thaking, all the bells 'Before.'
The subject, as all ringers will ndmitr, is a "big" one. In a givel case, five notable men will probably conduct the same touch or peal on five different plans, and by the fact that onel would be successful shows that each plan is correct.

For a mumber of years I have thought the subject was worthy of a text book,' but finally concluded that if such a book were issued by one individual alone, it woutd prolonbly be adversely recrived by the ringing bretliren.
But, Mr. Editor, from the point of view of the young and ambitimus ringer, I stiti am of opinion such a book wonld be welcomed in tile British Isles, and, maybe, command a ready sale, I particularly refer to the ringer of two or three standard methods, who has un one available to whom lie can look for help in the initial stages of calling.
If, therefore, the Central Coumcil could he induced to discuss \{lifs matter and endeavour to find men who would undertake such a work it would make a notable addition to the publications already issued. I nommend it for your consideration and leave to others the question of metheds лnt numbers of bells.
Carltom, Melbanrme, Australia
ERNEST F. BEHAN.
We do not think we have suggested that all peals and touches of Gramasire slould be called by the bells 'Before,' because it is perfectly trae, as out corespondent poinis out, that to do so would sometimes be a more Iaborious task than calling hy other means. We illustrated our article by explaining low easily Holt's ten-part can he called by the bells Before, but in the following issue we also showed low, in peals of a different tyin-Pracer's lwelve-part was the illus-tration-other *observations,' sith as calling a bell In aud Out of the hunt and into ofher positions, can be used just as easily. Perlanes. however, Mr. Behan had not received that issue of "The Ringing World ' when lie wrote his letier.

\section*{OTHER DOUTBLES METTFODS.}

'The Mar Hatter' writes as follows: "Your Doubles melhod is Reading Doubler, No. 12 In the Central Conncir's Collection, Eut with The Plnin lend as bob, and the Roblead os the methon. Given thur. the method is asymmetrical, while os Reading Doubles it is symmetrical.

Of course, we knew this, but ns a 'method' it is difincent to thm others, and it produces an additinnal lead in the piain course. The varintions, again, are all different, just os there are often four methods of Minor with the enme framework, but differing, as wa have pointed out previously, by the rddition or amission of 2nd's and 5 th's places over and under the trehle respectively.

\section*{RING OF FIVE DEDICATED.}

The gift of Mr. Eli Fielaing, an old and esteemed resident of the village, a new peal of five hells was dedieated at the Ghurch of St. Jolut, Bradshew, Falifax, Yorkshire, on Saturday, December 12th. The ceremony was performed by the Lord Bishop of Wakefeld (Dr. Senion).
The chureh, which is situated on the edge of the famous Ogden Moors, was well filled for the ceremony. Directly the bells had been handed over to the care of the Vicar, a few rounds were rung by the ringers of Queenshury, who have undertaken the responsibility of instructing a young band at Bradshaw.
The Bisloop in his adduess expressed gratitude to the donor of the bells for lis gift, thenks to the Queensbury ringers for their services, and words of advice and encouragement to the youtls who had came forward to be instructed in the art of change ringing.

After the service bells were sung to Bob, Grandsire and Stenman Doubles.
The bells are another fire example of the work of Messrs. Giliett and Johssion, of the Groyion Foundry, who were represented by Mr. S. R. Roper. The tone and go of the bells is all that could be desired, and a great asseb to sunday worship in this village has boen arded hy tho installation of the peal. The weight of the tenor is 8 arlded .0 gyy .12 lb .

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. S. Churtos, of Stoke, secouded hy Mr. G. H. Hall, of Brown Edge, to the Rector of Stoke (Rev. P. Harthill), who kindly provided the tea
The Rector gave a very hearty invitation to all present, and expressed his wish to be with them next year

He was supported by Rev. K, G. Symcox, curate. The Rector, who is president of the association, was in the chair, and was supported by Mr. Andrew Thompson, hon. Secretary, Mr. Kenneth Thacker, assistant hon. secretary, Rev. K. G. Symeox and Mr. Sidney Churton.

After the minutes of the last annual meeting and of the anuual committee meeting had heen approved, Mr. J. E. Wheeldon commented on the secretary's report, which appeared in our issue of November 27th, and stated it was the finest report he had had the opportunity of listenigg to.
Mr. R. D. Langford, hon. secretary of the Ohester Diocesan Guild (Crexe Branch) thanked the Rector and ringers for the welcome extended to visitors when they attended any of the meetings of the association. This was supported by Mr. C. K. Lewis (Stockport Bowden and Mottram joint secretary of the Chester Diocesan Guild),

\section*{RINGERS' DENNER.}

The annual dinner of the St. Aidan's Guild and guests (Blackhill Branch of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association) took place on Friday, December 1lth, in the Ghurch Recreation Hall. A gathering of about 28 sat down to an excellent meal, presided over hy the Vicar (the Rev. Jonkin Jones). The toast of "The King" was honoured. A toast to 'The founder of the bells (Mrs. Lee), was proposed by Mr. Baley, and Mr. F. W. Marshall submitted "The St. Aidan's Guild,' both of which were suitably replied to.
A social was afterwards beld, the proceedings including a small whist drive. Songs were sung by Messrs. Johnstone, Tyson, Lynn, and the Rev. W. Chapman (curate). The arrangements were successfully made by the Ringing Master (Mr. Macfeggan), and a very enjoyable ovening was spent.

We extend to all ouy readers the heartiest wishes for 'A Moury Christmas." The prayer for 'Peace on earth; goodwill to men' has seldom been more necessary than to-day.
Bellringing will be included in the telovision programme to be broadcast on Christmas aftemoon. Four members of the College Youtls will ring Stedman Triples on handbells: Messrs, E. H. Lewis, H. Langdon, W. Roughton and A. B. Peck. Thig will be the first occasion that ringing will be 'seen on the air'.
ML. Tom Hibbert, the popular secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, has spent his loug ringisg life endeavouring to mase the standard and quality of peal ringiug. On Saturday week (as recorded in our last issue) he conducted n peal of Bob Major at Bucklebury. It was rugg for the 8ist birthday of the Buckebury voteran, Mr. Wm. Wigmore, who has been a ringer at the tower for 63 years.
Recording this event, Roading's only daily paper, the 'Evening Gazette,' informed the public that the ringers 'rang a peal of Plain Bob Major, firing 5,040 changes in three hours 12 minutes fron the belfry.' The empliasis is ours.

As one of Titm's friends said to him the next dey, "Well, old man, your standard of ringing has sadly teteriorated, according to tho local paper.' But then, Ton himself once said on a public occasion, that all newspaper men are akin to Ananias, or something to that effect. The reporter of the 'Evening Gazette' seems to have done his best to prove it.

The many friends of Mr. Ben Jarman, of Harpenden, Ferts, wilf he sorry to hear that he is in the Londou hospital and hes undergone a serious operation. It is hoped he will make a speedy recovery.

The name of the ringer of the second in the half-mutEled peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Benlijton, on Thurday, December 10th, should read Arthur A. Fadley, not William, as published.

AUSTRALIAN SCHOOLGIRLS LEARNING TO RJNG,
MISS JOAN KYNASTON'S ETFORTE AT TRENSEAM, N.S.F.
Among the letters which lave brought us groetings is one from Miss Joan H. Kypaston, of Frensham, Mittagong, New South Wales, where she is teaching as a nember of a school staff. She took with her from Eugland all the keemess of an enthusiastic ringer, and is enteavouring to interest some of the senior giris of lien school int the art.
The Rev. C. G. Cox obtained a set of handlells, which were sent out last Dacember.
Since their arrival, says Miss Kytaston, I have shown a number of people how to use them. It was very diffeult at first, as I was the only member of Frensham who kluew anything of change ringingII am proud to say that I now have a team of senior girls who can ring Daubles of Bob and Guandsire, Plain Bob Minor, and have attempted Grandsire Triples and Stenman. Their entiusiasm knows no hounds, nad I vely much hope they will continue as ringerg when they leave school, especially if they are able to visit Euglaud.

The ringers \(\mathrm{ath}^{\mathrm{t}} \mathrm{St}\). Mark's, Darling Point, have been extraordinarily kind and goou to me. Whey gave no the warmest welcorne on my first visit, and each time since then. In August Mr. Kearns very kindly arrangen for some of his ringers to meet us at the church, and ther taught the fire girls I took from Frensham how to handle big bells.
We have twice rung a platin course at the sclionl service, and tine parents have shown great intercst in the bells. [r due coltrse I hope that memberz of the school may help to build up a tradition of change ringing in the State.

BELLS CAST WHEN RICHARD DUCKWORTH WAS RECTOR.
Sir,-The article by Mr. Trollope about the "Tintimalogia' and Richard Duckworth is interesting. It may be of further interest to your readers to know that while Duokworth was Rector of Hartest-cumBoxted a new peal of bells was erected at the Parish Chureh, Hartest. They were all cast by Jolm Darbie. The treble, 2ud, 3rd and 4th were inscribed, "John Darbie mede ma, 1661.

Ths tenor, ahout 11 cwt., "John Drabie made me, 1661. W"illiam Coppinge, Richard Murtell, Ghurchwardens.

These bells are in size and tone like a peal of six with the fifth left out. Although they were rehung in 1880 iu a new onk frame, it is no easy task to ring them. That they have been rung through the ages there is little doubt. On one ocenision, about 100 years ago, one of the ringers, after rivging a short time, dropperl down dead in the tower.
The old ringers, whom I knew when a hop, lad an old set of handbells witly wooden liandles and no springs. The clappers consisted of a short piece of iron with an eye lumed on ane encl, and on the other end was a ball of wood ghoul, the size of a marble, according to the size of the bells. The bells were rough ant not polished, hut just as they came out of the mould. They were not very musical. What has become of ther I am unable to say. The old ringers whom I knew were illiterate. They used to ring 120 's of Grandsire, and they all hat their own bells to ring, which makes me think they aid not ring hy rule. However, they were always pleased to see a visiting ringer: I beliepe the bells sie seldom rung now. T. sr.ATER.

\section*{PEALS OF TWELVE BELLS. \\ RAPID INCREASE IN NUMBER}

The new peal of bells at Croydon Parish Church, the opening of which we chronicled last week, brings the total number of ringing peals of twelve to 55 , all but two of which are in England. Since the war there has been an amazing growth in the number of rings of twelve, which 25 years ago totalled only thirty-four-thirty-two of them in England.

THE TOWER DF ST. JOHN-THE-BAPTIST'S GHURCH, EROYOON [Photo: C. H. Price.

York Minsler was the first lower in which a peal of twelve was installed, but York has not had this number contimuously. A long period intervened when there was only a peal of ten. The Gloucestershive tower of Cirencester has had a ring of twalve for the langest consecttive ferigd, but St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, London, runs it close, for two trebles were added to the then existing ten by Rudhall in 1719 .
In Shipway's dny, that is, 120 years ago, there wete thirtean rings of lwelve in existence. These were in the following towers: St, Bride's; Christ Church, Spitalfields; St. Giles', Crupplegate: Si Loonam's, Shorediteh; St. Martin's-in-the-Fields; St. Michael's, Corn-liill, and St. Saviour's, Soutliwark, London; Birminglam, Cambridge, Cirencester, Liverpool, Norwich and Shrewsbury.
Of these, Spitalfelds afterwards disappeaved in a fire whiels destroyed the tower and bells. St. Peter's, St. Albans, is another tower which once had a peal of twelre. These were subsequatly reduced to the original ten.

It is not uninterestiag to note that in Shipway's list of churches with peals of ten bells (1816) eighten are now alnong the twelvebell towers. They were St. Mary-le-Jou, London; Ashton-under-Lyne, Aston, Canterbury, Exeter, Halifax, Ipswich, Leeds, Leicester (St. Margaret's), Oxford, Painswick, Reating, Sheftield, Shrewshury, Wakefield, Worcester, Yarmouth ank York.

The following is the present list of rings of twelve, in addition to which there will soon be ringing peals of the snme number at Manchester Town Hall and Leicester Cathedral.

WILLIAM, LORD BRERETON. \\ FIRST MASTER OF THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

By J. Armiger Trollore.
In the following article Mr. J. Armiger Trollope writes of the first Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, William, Lord Brereton. In aur Issue of Nowember 27th we gave a brief outline of the career of Lord Brereton, a great Royalist as welt as a ringer, to whom, in large measure, the soclety owes its origin.
In this three hundredth year of the existence of the Society of College Youths a good many of the menibers will no doubt be glad to hear something about the man who was the first Master and principal founder, especially as we are told in the books that nothing is known of him.

The Breretons were a very old family, which had been settied in Cheshire from before the reign of Henry I. The eldest stock lived at Brereton, a village a few miles from Crewe, and there were branches in other parts of Cheshire, in Ireland, and in Norfolk. Many members of the family served the State in the Army, the Court, the Church, and the Law.

From very early times it was the custom to call the eldest son Willian and the second son John; and as this was so in the junior branches of the family as well as in the elder, there were a great many William Breretons, several of whom had the honour of knighthood conferred on them, and many Johns. In the reign of Henry VIII., Sir Witian Brereton was second in command to Sir Willian Skeffington, the Lord Deputy of Ireland and was afterwards Lord Justice. His son, Captain (afterwards Sir) John and Andrew were active in the Irish wars, and other members of the family are mentioned in the State papers of the time.

\section*{LORD BRERETON'S ANCESTRY.}

Another Sir William Brereton held an office in the royal household. He was involved in the disgrace of Anne Boleyn, was charged with having committed adultery with that unfortunate queen, and was beheaded for treason on May 17tin, 1534. Another Sir Wiliam, son of Captain John and grandson and heir of the Lord Justice, was Sheriff of Cheshire. He died in 1559 and was succcoded by his son, a boy of nine years old, who was baplised at Brereton, February 6th, 1550 . This William served in the Low Countries and was knighted at Flushing by Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester, the English Commander-in-Chief. About 1586 he built the hall at Brereton, a building of stone and brick, which is usually considered one of the finest examples of Elizabethan architecture extant. The tale is told, but on very doubtful authority, that the great queen laid the foundation stone and afterwards visited the completed house.

On May 11th, 1624, Sir William was created Baron Brereton of leeightirn in the peerage of Ireland, and in 1 IG30 he chied, aged 80 years. He had four sons, William, horn 1579 , who was entered a student of Lincoln's Inn in 1586: Robert, born 1584; William, born 1586, and John, alfrwards Sir John, born 1591. As all of these predeceased the old lord, the title and estates fell on his death to his grandson, John's son William, who was born on February 28th, L6I1, and baptised on March 8th at Citwsworth.
Of his boyhood and early manhood nothing is known. 1 have not been able to trace his name among the alumini of Oxford or Cambridge, or as a student at one of the lnos of Court, though the names of several of his family appear. In after years he applied for a legal post which seems to show that, like most young men of his class, he did have some training in the law. His student days were over and he was 26 years old when he and his friends founded the Society of College Youths. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir George Goring, afterwards Earl of Norwich, who held a position of great importance at the royal court and managed to secure a very large income by getting hold of monopolies. Through the infuence of his father and his own social position, Brereton was brought into close contact with the king and all the leading men of the time.

\section*{SHORT RINGING CAREER.}

His active connection with the College Youths did not last many years, for clouds were gathering on the political horizon, and in 1642 the Civil War broke out. Brereton threw himself warmly into the cause of the King, went down to his own county, gathered arms, raised forces, and garrisoned his house. On the other side was his distant cousin and namesake, Sir William Brereton, of Handforth, ' a gentleman of competent fortune in that county and Knight for the Shire in Parlizment, but most notorious for a known aversion to the government of the Church. \({ }^{\text { }}\)
Sir William came down from London with a troop of horse and dragoons, infficted a sharp defeat on the Royalists, and fortified Nantwich. Chester City, through the influence of the Cathedral, was for the King; his adherents made it their headquarters; and from the two camps the opposing forces strove for the control of the county. The issue was decided in 1644 , when Thomas Fairfax, the best general the Parliament had (save only Oliver Cromwell) marched from Yorkshire, joined Sir William Brereton and routed the King's army at Nantwich, after which the Royalist cause never revived again in Cheshire.

Lord Brereton fought at Nantwich and after the defeat escaped southward, but he was surrounded and taken prisoner with his son and wife at Biddulph Hall in Staffordshire. He petitioned the Parliament to be exchanged, but his request was refused, and he was told that he must first give satisfaction for killing several of the Parliamentary side in cold blood at. Nantwich. A year later, however, he was exchanged for Sir John Harcourt, and after that he retired to his own house and took no further active part in the war.

ESTATE SEQUESTRATED.
But his troubles were by no means over. The Parliament had fought the wat partly on the ground of the illegal raising of money by the King; and now faced by the necessity of providing the sinews of the war they themselves adopted much the same plan. A Committee for the Advance of Money was appointed, who assessed the value of the estates of country gentlemen and then levied a rate accordingly. Brereton was assessed at &2,500; appealed against it, had it altered, and finally setiled the demand by paying f240.

When the Parliament finally triumphed the estates of those gentlemen who had been guilty of " delinquency. (i.e., of bearing arms for the King or supporting his cause) were sequestrated and among the list of those seized in Cheshire appears Lord Brereton's. The delinquents were allowed to redeem their estates by paying a fine, variously fixed from one-third to one-tenth of the value. Lord Brereton was assessed at \(£ 4,605\) 5s. 10 d .
and ordered to pay one-sixth. He paid half of what was demarded, appealed for a reduction of the balance, and finally received his discharge at Goldsmith's Hall on May 6th, 1648. The estate was said to be worth \(£ 1,400\) a year. His brother John, who as a boy of sixteen had ridden out to serve the King, was also punished by sequestration, and Lord Brereton compounded for the claims on him by paying \(f_{150}\). Thomas Sidway, the estate bailiff, had to pay \(£ 120\).

Mr. Robinson, the Vicar of Brereton, was ejected for delinquency, and in his place Lord Brereton appointed a John Holm, whose doings and opinion were not to the likings of the Puritans of the district. He refused to keep the fasts and thanksgiving days appointed by Parliament or to subscribe to the Covenant. He would not do it, he said, for ten times the value of the living. Some fanatic complained of all this to the Parliament and laid the blame on Lord Brereton. 'This sads,' he wrote, 'the heart of the honest part in the parish.' The Puritans of Churchhulm and Middlewich also complained that Lord Brereton had hindered their ministers and prayed that they might be paid out of his estates.
In 1660 came the Restoration of the Monarchy and L.ord Brereton, like many another country gentleman, looked for restitution and compensation for all the losses he had borne. He petitioned the King for a grant to himself and his son after him of the office of Custos Brevium in the Court of Common Pleas. Whether his request was granted does not appear, but on May 31st, 1661, a warrant was issued to pay Lord Brereton \(£ 500\) as the King's free gift.

He was made Lord Licutenant of Cheshire in conjunction with Edward Stanley, Earl of Derby, who was also Lord Lieutenant of Lancashire and Lord of the Isle of Man. This division of the office was unusual, and was done in this case because white Brereton represented the Cavalier gentry of the county, Derby's territorial and fanily influence in the district was so great that he could not be passed by. The arrangement was not satislactory. There was a great deal of ill feeling between the Breretons and the Stanleys. The latter were suspected of being lukewarm in the royal cause; and 'ten loyal subjects, \({ }^{\text { }}\) headed by Lord Brereton, sent a petition to the King against Thomas Stanley of Alderley, who wished to obtain the honour of a baronet. They protest that their action was not malicious and point out that Stanley had made some persons ' take bonds never to acknowledge a king 'and (this, no doubt, was a sore point) his son Peter had bought part of the Marquess of Winchester's estate frons the Commissioners of Delinquents' Lands.

Derby ignored Brereton and tried to govern the county as if he did not exist, and this offended and irritated Brereton. There was confusion and complaints sent up to Whitelall. Secretary Nicholas wrote to Derly that the King hears the militia is in no good position because the earl will not consult with Lord Brereton about the appointment of deputy lieutenants. All diligence must be used in settling the matter.'

In reply, Derby excused himself by blaming Brereton for not signing the Commissions, and brought down upan himself a sharp rebuke. 'His Majesty is much dissatisfied and begs him to use expedition and let his next letter report his diligence. The reason why Lord Brereton refused to sign the deputations was that the Commissions and instructions had not been sent to him nor his advice taken about Cheshire which the King expects to be done as he is joined in the Commission.

Matters did not much improve and Iater on Richard Leigh writes to the Secretary at Whitehall that, having twe Lords Lieutenant, he finds it hard to please both. Lord Derby now seeks to oblige all he can and Lord Brereton is so wedded to his own humour that mothing else can please. Some of the country gentlemen sent a request that both Brereton and Derby should be dismissed and Lord Gerard appointed Lord Lieutenant; but this was not done. A hint seems to have been given to Derby to devote himself to his other lieutenancy of Lancashire and his lordship of Man and to leave Cheshire to Brereton.

\section*{PETITIONS TO WHITEHALL.}

There was a good deal of dissatisfaction in the county and Brereton reported that he was keeping a strict watch. Several of the suspects the arrested and imprisoned in Chester Castle, for the Habeas Corpus Act was not yet passed. One man, John Grifiths, was especially obnoxious to him. He had been a captain in the Parliamentary Army and a dependant of the Stanleys. Lord Derby made him Collector of Excise in the county, although disqualified under the Act of Indemnity from holding Government employment. Him, Lord Brereton clapped into prison together with olher persons connected with the government of Chester under the old regime, and naturally they and their friends did their best to make trouble for him.
Petitions were sent to Whitehall that Griffths might be released so he could attend to the King's business, but Brereton countered them by saying that firiffiths was a seclitious person, who tried to prejudice the King and Council against those who opposed his wicked attempts, as most of the gentry in the county would testify. It was not the Excise business that troubled him, for he had offered never to act again if he might have his liherty, He tried to escape from the vastle, and, therefore, the writer suspected him of greater matter than harl yet been found out.
Brereton complains that he serves the King in a plate where he can please no party. Onc, Zachay Cruftin, had left preaching, turned cheese factor and rode up and down the country sowing sedition. After he was arrested he boasted that he had written one bishop silent who could not speaik, and another duml) who could not write.

\section*{LORD BRERETON'S DEATH.}

Part of Lord Brereton's duties was to enfore the haws against Nonconformists. He reports that he tork some persons at a Presbylerian Comventicle, but let them wo, this being their first faut, on promise not to do the same again and on paying the soldiers who secured them; hut others taken at all Anabaptist meeting were sent to gand. obstinately refusing to give bonds or take the oaths, but saying they must obey the spirits.
Having got all these people into prison and the c.xpected trouble having been averted, the Lord Liculenam was at a loss to know what to do with them. He sher!fore applied to London for instructions and an (Hrder in Council was issued directing him to release them all on good security and after they had taken the oaths of allegiance and supremacy. Only Grilfiths and athother were to be kept and his lordship was to gain proofs against Griffiths.

A month later, February 20th, 1664, in reply 10 some Government communication, Gearge Brereton wrote that his father was laid up with an excessive cold, but wouid attend to the King's business so soon as he could come abroad; but he never did come abroad again. His illness worsened and in Aprit, 1664, he died and was buried on the 21st at Brereton. There is no memorial at present to him in the church.

During the last three years of his tife he was member of IParliament for Cheshire, but he took no active part in the proceedings and indeed his other duties must have prevented any long stay at Westminster. Two months later Lord Derby showed his relief at getting rid of his 1 roulblesonse colleague by writing to Secretary Bennet and thanking him for obtaining for him the lieutenancy of Chester without a companion.

\section*{TITLE BECOMES EXTINCT.}

There was a Joln Brereton who joined the College Youths in 1657 and was Master in 1660 . I should like to think he was Lord Brereton's younger brotiier, the boy Cavatier of 1642 , only he is said by Ormerod, in his monumental ' History of Chester,' to have dlied in 1656, but I have found some mistake in Ormerod's account of the Breretons and this may be one. John Brereton graduated 13.A. at Oxford in 1646 and M. A. in 1649.

Lord Brereton was succeeded by his son William, an amiable and accomplished man, who was one of the founders of the Royal Societs. He was educated at Breda at the expense of his grandlather, the Earl of Notwich, and was a poet, algebraist, and musician. Owing to the losses and expenses sustained by his father in the Civit War he was compelled to dispose of the Cheshire estates, and when he died administration was granted to his creditors. He was buried at St. Martin-in-the-Fields. His son John died in 1718 and was succeerled by his brother Francis, who died childless in 1.722, when the peerage hecame extinct.
Gieorse Brereton, Lord Brereton's younger son, was il Oxford. He was created Master of Arts by virtue of the King's letter. Anthony Wood says: 'He never sufferet anything for the King's cause, yet because he was at lorel's son, got a fellowship of All Souls' College, where speaking evilly of Sheldon. Arclibishop of Canterbury, atud Ralpll Snow they fotnd means to eject him thence. ' fieorge Brercton afterwards tonk orders and was a Preheudiary of Lincoln.

The nhore necount is based largely on State papers and is taken fiom in ' Fistery of London Ringing in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Hentures, now in course of preparation,

\section*{ANNUAL REPORT REVEAES DHFICULTES OF} ORGANISATION.
The annual report of the Ladies' Guild has just been issued to members. While it reveals general progress, the difficalties attending its organisation are manifested in comments by the district secretarios, The scattered aistribution of the ladies males it difficult to keep the members in touch with the aclivities of the Guid.
The active members number 297, and the non-riuging life memhers 65. They are distributed as followa:-

\section*{Contral \\ Nincoln \\ Northerm \\ Southern \\ Western}

The report of the general hon. seeretary (Mrs. E. K. Fhetcher) states: During the twelve months since the issue of the fast report there has undoubledly been a noticeable inerease in the membership and renewed interest in most districts. The time has come to consider the advisability of altering the districts to enable we counly to be more adequately covered, and a committee was formera at the annual meeting at Bath to go into the matter.
Tho year 1937 marks the 25 th annversary of the Guidd's formation, and it is hoped to lold a dinner in London to celebrate the event, The date has been provisionally fixed for October 23rd, and it is hoped that as many members as possiblo will attend
The district secretaries deserve a hearty voto of thanks far their work during the ycar, and the best way to show this is by supporting the meeting which they arrange.

DISTRICT SECRETARTES' COMNENTE.
Fere are some pertinenent extracts from the reports of the district secretaries:
Central District: On the whole the meetings were very well atitended, except the December meeting. Three lionorary members and nine ringing members were elected at tho meatings, but eleven mennbers have lapsed since the last report was printed.
Jincolnshire District: The balance for the year is not as good as previously, a few memberg having witherawn. Those of our branch who really are interested attend every meeting possible, but others are very lax. They pay their sabscriptions and thare their interest ends, If only membars would realise that abtendance at meetings is necessary for the welfare of the branch end very much apprecialmol by the officials, I am sure more would attend. In our distriet, the vice-president and secretary live 80 miles apart, so that if it were nont. for the use of cars it would be impossible to carry on, as the railway is hopeless. We find that joint meetings with hranchess of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild are a great lielp to all ooncerted.
Northmptonshive District: Although our ristrict corors a small nrea compared witls other distriets of the Guild, it is not proportionately simple or convenient for the arrnngement of metings accessible to the majority of members. Distances of 30 or 50 miles are usual for all of us in turn, therefore an average atiendance of aboui 10 members cannol be considered unsatisfactory. I would appeal, howevor, to each member to do hor utmost to come whonever the Fuild visits her meighbourlood; it is mhen those who could come do not do so that the Guild suffers and is less able to carry nuli fts obnot do so baat the Guid sufters and ts 35 in mumber we must judiciously encourage all the beginems that we come across, so that they are not lost durfing the dingerons stage tibat comes belween then novelty of the learner and the accomplishment of the change ringer. The continued support of all the 'old members' is the greatest help. For us all, slatl we pul our minde to better striking? Fnilowing ant improvement in our own towers there might be great resulis on the valuable occasions when we meet
Northern District: T an pleased to state that the meetings held an Manchester and Ossett were a credit to the district, and I would like to thank members for their suppori in attending these meetings. At the Manchester meeting on change of secretnry is recorded, Miss Cawthorna resigning after six years' serviee to the distuict, this making The third rhange in secretaries since ble formation of the districh. The accounts of the district are very satisfactory, the subscription receipla being above average and practically up to date.
Southern District: The Southern District has held meetings at Alclershot, Lentherlead, Reading and Ash. The attendance (with the exception of Leatherhead when there was thick fog) has heen goorl, nnd the secretary wislies to thank hor keen supporters who hare madn the meetings or success. Tent new membets hare been elected and four have fropped out. The secrelary appreciates prompl payment of subscripticns, and ihanks thoge who are always to time.
Westerin District: The district lias madf fairly satisfactory progurgs during the past year. There has been only one new member, anil snveral of the older ones appear to have drapped out. Also subscriptions have not come in as well as usual. On the ather laand there seems to be greater intercst in the meetings, and the attendance lias greatly imnroved, though this might be still better if some members would rally make an effort to be present whan the meeting is withirs rensonable distance.

\section*{SIX DORSET RINGERS' FINE RECORD}

\section*{FORTY YEARS OF BELTRY GOMRADSSHIP.}

Whea 24 year-old Tom Foote went to the little Dorset village of Marnbull as a young man life seemed to be dull among the village lads. There were no motor-cycles, no films, very few dances, because thal was 40 yoars ago.
So he got other five bachelors together, and in November, 1896, started a bellringing team at hhe Parish Church. Tlue six men, all now grey-haired, still wend their way up the belfry steps to the tower, and in completing 40 years' unbroken service as a team they lave crented a wonderful record.

They estimate that they lave rung for 10,000 honvs.
And one of thers, Alfred Drew, who is 75 , has probably rung for many hours loager than that, for be las beon sexton of Mamhul Church for most of his life.

FORTY YEARS TOGETHER.

The ages of these six fine old countrymen Lotal 406 years. Mr. Tom Foote, the caplain of the team, is 64, Heury Haskett is 73 , Mark Denz 72, Walber Drew 62, and John Crew 60

My. Foote started sil his bellinging career when he was 17 , at Donhead St. Mary in Wiltshire.
- It is extremely difficult to persuade young men to go into the tower nowadays, Mr. Foote told an interviewer. "They think too much about town life, the phetures, dancing and going off to the seaside an Sundays. Yet fellringing is as fine and lralthy an exercise ns you can find. Look how it lins kept this team fit for 40 years."

Once in the days of a former Rector this Marnhull team resigned, and the reasou provides a funny story. Ifenry Haskett was a maltster, and maltsters had to work every day of the week. Henry was often busy at the kiln on Sundays, but le managed to take his 'rope' in the lower all the same.

\section*{ROUND BLOCKS AND TRANSPOSITIONS IN PEAL COMPOSITIONS.}

\section*{BY GEORGE BAKER}

Some eredil for this latest discovery of mine is due to Mr. A. U Driver, of Belvedere, Kent, because is was a doubt expyessed by him about the relationship of Middieton's peal of Cambridge Shupris and a similar peal that ied me chyly in Nopember to test these 1 wa peals to try and find ont whethor Tound Blocks and Transposilinas existed in peal compositions as well as in Methods, Principles ant Systems.
They do exist, and the three sjmmelrically arranged peal composttions which follow together with their Round Blocks and Transpositions prove the fact indisputably.

N.B.-No. 2 peal is No. 1 peal converted from 2nd's piace methoils ta 8th's place methods. The Rounk Blorks are the same in both peals: where they appear to differ, ithe proving value of either shows they are one and the same Round black.

No. 3 peal was the first of the two peals publisined in ' The linging Worid " on November 27fil Inst. Three of the Ronnd Blocks are foreign to the first iwo peals, so it is not ibe same compositiou.
The three peals here given have regular partends, end all are symmetrical in their Bob formations, consequently 'Rounds ' turns up as the last row of transpositions, as it does in Methods, Pribciples and Systems that are symmetrically constructed

Where the first part of a penl contains more than five cousses, or where the port-ends of a peal are irregrlar, or where the Bob formations ave asymmetrical, as in the following peals, 'Roundg' will not turn up as last row of Transpositions.

Middleton's peal of can bridge.

N.B.-Three of the Round Blocks af Mutleton's differ from the similar peal, so they are not the same compositions.

But one Sunday Fenry was very haby at his work-and he was bungry. So when ho dashed into the liell tover he started to muneln a biscuit. Alas! he was caught by tie Rector, who said, i wou't have belltingers taking refreshment in the tower. If they can't wait till the ringing is over I would rather ther did not come at all.'
So the bellringers in sympatliy with hard-worked Henry Haskell resigued in a bunch.
But the Rector soon discorered his icily, and before the next Surday he had repented, and the six rimger were in their places.

And they will be in their places on New Year's Eve to ring thar old year ont and the new year in.

\section*{BLSE GOING RLNG THE DIOCESE.}

A mecting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Ufford, the belis newly rehung, with four new bells, being a great attraction. Fiftytwo sat down to tea, provided by Mrs, Drake. Mr. J. F. Fider represented the founders, and Mr. Ermest Bilney, the charchwarden of Woodbridge, was elected to the chaid.
Mr. Charies Mea was also present; and much satisfaction was expressed at the lirstrate work he had put in in repairing the tower and making it fit for the new bells, and in altering the position of the clock. The line tower at last now looks its it should, instead of one window being blocked otit by a bedly painted clock faco.

Muoh appreciation was alao shown for the more comfortable arrangoments of he tower, now the best appointed, and containing the best going ring of bells in tize diocese.

A collecion was made, amounting to 28 s. Thus the Guild has now raised more than the elo required to fit the frame for some trebles to be added later.
A vote of thanks was passed ti, Messrs. Taylor and Co. for sending such a good riag of bells to the diocese.

The Guld met at Framlingham on December 12th, and ringers wore presullifrom UFord, Litle Glemham, Hacheston, Framsden, Disa und Dobenham. They came from all quarters by bus, motor or cyele, and they first mot at the Parish Church of St. Michael. The ringing ineluded Bob Major, frandsize and other methods.

Aiter wards the party of 17 sat down to tea at Simpson's rottadrant, Hnd a business meoting followed, at which Mr. G. Berry presided.
The Hov. H. Dirake, hou. Eteretary, presented a report, which showed the Guild hat had in successiul year.

If was decided that the next meeting should take place in February at Stowmarket.
voto of thank was passed to Canon H. C. O. Lanchester (the IRector) for tho use of the bells, and two aew members were electad.

Handhenlls were brought into use on the second visit to the tower, after which luriler ringing took plece on the fower bells. Later a visit was made to Dennington
