NAMING THE SURPRISE METHODS.

The antouncement, made in 'The Ringing World ' a fortnight ago, that in the book on Surprise Major Methods, which the Methods Committee of the Central Council has now got ready for the Press, names have already been given to all the methods that are to be printed, has disinterred an old bone of contention. The point at issue is, who shall name a method? It seems, in one sense, a small matter, and yet it involves one of those 'rights ' to which ringers attach considerable importance and which they like to retain in their own hands.

There has been an unwritten law that those who ring the first peal in a new method should have the right to name it; on the other hand authors of new methods have also exercised the right of giving a name to these children of their brain, and these conflicting claims each have something to be said for them. Up to a few years ago each method was produced as an individual effort, and, as such, the author had an unguestioned right to give it a name if he so desired, although some of the most distinguished men left the naming of their products to the ringers. But even so there were exceptions.

With the advance in the science of method evolution and mass production, when-and the Methods Committee were the first to advance the idca-no individual can clain to be more than a producer, the position has altered and the rights as 'author' would seem to have largely disappeared. On the face of past practice, therefore, the rights remaining are the rights of those who first ring the methods. But it is not, we imagine, with the idea of usurping these rights that the Methods Committee proceeded to find names for all those methods not previously titled. The experience in the naming of the Minor methods, which got into a welter of confusion, led them to name the plain Major methods before they were published and, in giving names to the Surprise methods, they have only followed this precedent.

Whether, in view of the much wider practice of new Surprise methods, this is advisable is a question open to discussion, and the committee nuight well reconsider the position. There is unquestionably a desire anong ringers of new methods to associate them, either with the place at which they are first rung, or with some other place which they wish, in a way, to honour, and the naming of all these new methods before they are rung may, as Mr. Gabriel Lindoff points out, cause trouble and heartburning. Indeed, untit a method has been rung and given a name by those who ring it there is no guarantee that the name inserted in the Council's volume will ho accepted or not. There is nothing to prevent ringers (Continued on page 2.)

upsetting the well-intentioned aims of the committee. Mr. Lindoff's proposal to number those methods not already rung-as was done in the case of the first issue of the Minor Collection-is worth considering before publication has gone too far, but there should be some reservation with regard to a proper register of the names of those rung in future for the first time.

THE OPENING OF WIGAN BELLS.

POMP AND CEREMONY AT IMPRESSIVE DEDICATION.

A Memorable Service.

Seldom has a peal of belis been opened with more impressive ceremony than was witnessed at Wigan Parish Church on the Saturday before Christmas, when the recast ring of eight bells was rededicated and two new trebles, given in memory of Mrs. Mary Ellen Rigby, hallowed by the Lord Bishop of Warrington. Civic pomp accompanied the religious rites, and the event was one to be long remembered by those who shared in it.
A civic procession was formed at the Town Hall and, led by the mace bearer, proceeded to the church, where the Mayor, aldermen, councillors, megistrates and borouth officials took their places in the Mayor's gallery. The Bishop's procession of clergy, bellringers and others with the choir made a circuit of the church, the crucifer leading the Decani file by the south aisle, and the banner bearer leading the Cantoris filo by the nave, while the hymn, 'When morning gilds the skies, ${ }^{\text {' }}$ was sung. The marshal directed the members of the procession to their allotted seats, but the fresident of the Lancashire Associetion (Canon H. J. Elsee) and the Archdeacon of Liverpool awaited the Bishop at the choir screer, the Bishop, in the meantime, having proceeded to the Mayor's gallery to greet the Mayor ant lis company.
Then, with the Bishop leading the way, the Mayor's procession went to the choir screen, where the opening prayer was said, and the large congregation joined in singing the hymn, 'All people that on earth do dwell.'

THE BISHOR'S QUESTIONS.

Next followed an interesting ceremony, in which the Bishop was petitioned to re-dedicate the restored bells and to hallow the new ones. His Lordshir thereupon demanded and received assurance frow the representative of the Bell Founders that the work had been fitly done, and from the building contractor that the masonry and fitting had been 'well and truly done so that the bells, the tower and the fabric of the church are secured from damage.'
Then the Bishop asked: Will the congregation of this church and the citizens of this ancient and loyal borough heve care of the tower, the belfry and the clock?
To which the people's wardeu replied: The wardens and Council of this parish will do their part.
The Bishop asked: Will the citizens of this town maintain the clock as heretofore?
The Mayor having intimated that the aldermen and councillors of the ancient and loyal borougln of Wigan had subseribed to the work of ropair, the Town Clerk added: The maintenance and repait of the Parish Church clock will be continued at the public charge, according to our agreement and custom.
The Bishof then intimated that he was ready to proceed with the hallowing of the bells, and while the hymn, 'Ye holy angels bright,' was sung, the Bishop and his attendants, followed by the Mayor's procession and the ringers, went to the north door, whence the Apparitor, with the Book of Record, thin Bishop, the Archdeacon, Canon Elsee, the wardens, the representatives of the late Mrs. Rigby, the secretary of the Parockial Church Council, the Mayor, the town clerk, the borough engineer, the representatives of the bel? founders and builders, together with the bellringers, went to the ringing chamber, while the rest of the procession returned to their seats.

IN THE RINGING CHAMBER.

In the ringing chamber the Bishop hallowed and dedicated the bells and then handed his rope to each of the xingers in turn, from treble to tenor, saying to each respectively:-

1. See that you ring these bells to the glory of God.
2. Call God's peaple to his house.
3. See that yourselves answer the call.
4. Bid the careless heed the summous of the Gospel.
5. Let the sick and infirm rejoice with the congregation
6. Let the marriage peal invoke God's blessing on Chyistinn homes.
7. Let the people's rejoicing be heard in your ringing.
8. Let the whole earth give thayks for the coming of the Incnrinte Son of God.
9. Let the people's sorrows be tolled in your solemn peal.
10. Let the faithful he called to the rest of Parradise.

Each ringer, in response, enswered 'Amen' and struck his bell three times. Meanwhile, in the church, while the Rector stood at the altar, the Rev. F. H. Gripper read from the lectern, hetween the hallowings, portions from King Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the Temple ( 1 Kings viii., $22-61$ ). Then, at the sounding of each bell, a verse from Psalm 98 was recited, the first by a junior bor, the next by a junior girl, followed in turn by a senior boy, a senior girl, a chorister, a server, a member of the choir, the organist, a sidesman and the Rector.

When the ceremony in the ringing chamber was concluded, the Book of Record was signed by the Bishop, the Mayor and others, and the procession returned to the church, where, after the bymn, ' $O$ praise ye the Lord,' the Bishop gave a stirring address, and in the course of his remarks spoke in terms of high praise of the work of the bell founders.
The anthem was from Psalm 96, 'Let all the world in every corner sing, followed by special preyers, and the inspiring and impressive service ended with the hymn, 'O Worship the Eing,' the National Anthem and the Benediction pronounced by the Bishop.

MANY RTNGERS PRESENT,
In the large congregation were many ringers, among them, in addition to Canon Eilsee, being Messrs. W. H. Slaker (hon. secretary), C. I. Davies (hom. treasurer), G. R. Newton, T. Hammon, T. W. Gilmour, J. Martin and R. Edwards (Liverpool), P. Crook, J. Wright, J. Halsall, T. B. Worsley aud W. Dickenson (Bolton), B. Knights, F. Rigby and F. Bradley (Preston), S. Holt, B. Thorp and C. Gudgeon (Manchester), A. Prince (Gresford), W. Bibby and Miss N. Bíbby (Frodsliam), Messrs. N. Brown, A. Parker, S. Forshaw, E. Birchall, J. Booth, J. W. Grounds, J. TayIor, J. Genks, J. WF. Hall, W. O. Farrimond, A. Shaw, E. Shaw, J. C. Sharratt and J. Baxendale (Wigan), etc. In the regretted absence of NT. E. Denison Taylor, through indisfosition, the bell founders wero represented by Mr. J. P. Fidler, through whom Messis. Taylor and Co. receiped many congratulations upon the result of their work

At the conclusion of the service three courses of Stedman Caters were rung by a representative company of ringers under tho conductorship of Mr. G. R. Newton, aud the bells were then at the disposal of risiting dingers.

ROTHERHAM RINGERS' DINNER

The second annual dinner of the St. Stephen's Ringers' Guild, Rotherlam, was held at Dawy's Tudor Cafe on Friday evening, December 27th, when a party of ovev 30 in number sat down to dinner.

After dinner the Rev. W. Platt deputised for the Vicar of St. Steplen's, who was unfortunately indisfosed and unable to attend, much to the disappointment of those present.
The company was ably eatertained by Miss H. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. J. Hancock, the Rev. W. Platt, and the handbell ringers, until about $10.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., when some jolly community singing and 'Auld Lang Syac.' concluled the procedings.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A YEAR'S WORK IN SOUTH-EASIERN DIVISION.
In sfite of the thick fog prevailing, a very good number of rimgers attended the aunual meeting of the South-Eastern Divisiou of the Essex Association at Writtle. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. H. Upton), who gave the association lus usual very warm welcome and a very encouraging and interesting address. The lesson was read by the District Master, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips.
The Vicar presided at tea, to which 34 gat down.
At the business the Hon. Sceretary reported that eight new ringing members had been elected during the year, and they had lost by death Mr. W. Lincoin, of Chelmsford. The division had 134 paid-up ringing members. Nine peals hati been rung, consisting of four of Minor, two of Triples and three of Mujor. The conductors Were Mr. G. Green (3), Mr. L. W. Wiffen (2), and Messrs. A. Bradey, W. Burgess, H. Mansfield and T. Lufkin (1 cach). Five members hat rung their first peal. Five meetings had been held, with an average attendance of 33 against 28 for 1934.
Jittle Walthan bells had been relung and a new treble added, making a ring of six, and Purleigh had had their old treble recast and a new treble added, making another ring of six. The district secretary concluded by thanking the District Master, the Lower secretaries and all those who had helped to make the various meatings successful.
Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips was re-elected District Master, and Mr. H. W. Shadrack hon. secretary, and were thanked for their services.

Four new members were elected-Messis. R. Gee, If. Gee, A Wationg and R. Grooves, all of Ghelmsford Gathedral.
It was decided to hold the next meetiug at Little Waltham eithor in January or early February.

A letter was read asking for copies of old peal bourds and tablets recording peals rung prior to 1826 for the Central Council's register, also a letter from the Rector of Purleigh asking for assistance in teaching his ringers.
A vote of thanks was proposed by the District Masler to the Vicar, to the organist, and to Mr. T. Lincoln for maling the arrangements, to which the Vicar replied Handbell ringing followed, after which a return was made to the tower for further ringing. The following lowers were represented: Great Baddow, Broomlield, Chelmsford, Furd End, Danbuy, Galleywood, Maldon, Springlield, Writtle, Liftle Waltham and a visitor from Sudbury.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Tho Editor desires cordially to thank the host of friends who have seat him Christmas and New Year greetings. They have come not only from all parts of the British Isles, but from other parts of the world as well. They included a cable from Melbourne, a latter from Eashmir, in Notherv India, and a message on Oaliforaia redwood from Los Angeles. From whoever and wherever they have come, all these tokens of greeting and goodwill have been warmly appreciated.
After a lapse of 30 years since his lasti peal, Mr. Hary Robbins, of the Hereford Guild, bas taken part in another 5,040 . Thirty years is a long time between two peals.
The annual meeting of the Nitional Guild of Pofice Ringers will be held at Leicester on Saturdey, February 8th, and on Monday, February 10 th, a band of policemen will attempt a peal of Stedman Caters at Leicester to commemorate the centenary of the Leicester City Police Force. In connection with the celebration a church parade of the force to Leicester Cathedral will take place on the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 9th. Quite a busy and interesting weok-end for the police. A peal of Grandsire Iriples was rung on Boxine Day at St. Thomes' Church, Eecleston, St. Helens, Lancs. The bells were originally a peal of six that were in another tower in St. Helens, which was burned down. After the fire the bells were buried in tho oemetery, where they thus remained for 25 years, until this new church at Eccleston was built and openen last year, when the two trobles were recast, the others tuned and two bells added to make the octave. They are now a very musical penl.

The first peal of London Surfrise on the bells at St. Mary's, Slough, was rung on Boxing Day. A peal of London, the first in the town, $w$ as rung on the old octave in the former tower of St. Mary's Church, conducted by Harry Passmore.

Bill Fussell, who spent last Christmas on tho Pacific Ocean and thus missed his Christmas ringing, was at it again during the festive senson last week. He 'rang in 'Ohistmas morning for the first time exactly sixty years ago. He's done a bit of ringing since then, including more than a thousand peals! More power to your elbow, Bill.
In our issue of December 20th it was stated: "St. Mary-le-Tower band have added to their laurels peals in other Surprise Maximus methods, some of them the "first ever." We should have said all of them the "first ever

The first peal of Cambridge Maximus was conducted by the late Mr. James Mouts on August 15th, 1908; the first of Yarkshire Maximus by Charles J. Sedgley on November 30th, 1929. The first of the remaining four Surprise methods were conducted by G. E. Symouds.
Mr. W. P. Garrett, still going strong, has the unique distinction of having rung in all six "lirgis."
Hero is another interestilug point. St. Mary-lo-Tower, Ipswich, is the only steeple in whech 5,040 and 5,088 changes have been rung to Surprise Maximus.
Tho longest peal of Kent Treble Bob rugg in Suffolk was accomplished on Boxing Day, when Thomas Day's 10,368 was rung at Horringer.
John Freeman, of Lincoln, son of Mr. J. A. Froeman, must surely be the youngest ringer to call a peal of Stedman Ginques as his first peal? This he did on Saburday. Few people of any age have dono it, and he was only 16 years old on October 17th last. Well done, Joln!

In the list which we published last week of ringers who lave rung ono thousand peals no mention was made of that well-known ringer, Mr. Keith Hart, of Brighton. Although modesty has prevented him announcing the fact, we learn from another source that Mr. Hart is well past the one thousand mark. If that be so, there are now nine living ringers with a four figure real total.

Many congratulations to Edwin A. Baraett on composing and conducting a peal of Superlative Surprise Major,' writes Mr. W. P. ('Tich') Whitelread, who adds that lie made an unsuccessful attempt to accomplish a similar feal before the age of 16 . Howover, the peat was 'scored' six weeks after his attaining the age of 16 years.

ATTEMPTS ON RECORDS.

MISHAPS AT WARNHAM AND HOYLANDSWAINE.
Neither of the two attempts on peal records on Boxing Day was successful.
At Warnham, Sussex, where a band met for the 14,144 London Surprise Major, the attempt only lasted 50 minutes, when a 'change course' brought some perfect ringing to an end. Afterwards a peal of ordinary length was knocked off with excellent striking.

The attempt at Hoylandswaine, Yorks, for twenty-five 720's in Treble Bob methods came to grief through the breaking of a clapper. The ringers settled domn to their task in confident style, and the bells went merrily for two hours when, mearing the end of the fifth 720 , the fifth clapper broko.
After being entertained to a substantial noeal by the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Brookes, the band, nothing daunted, froceeded to Penistone, where they rang a peal of 7,200 in ten methods, before returning again to Mr. and Mrs. Brookes', whose guests they were at supper.
It was thus a day of mixed luck, but it is hoped to make nnother attempt on the record at some early date.

THE PEAL AT QUEEN CAMEL.

AMONG THE GREATEST ACHIEVEMENTS OF ALL TIME.

In our last issue we gave the bare facts of a peal in seven Surprise Minor methods rung at Queen Camel, Somerset, on the heaviest ring of six in the country, That was possible by the use of the long distance telephone. We are now able to say something more about this wonderful achievement, which ranks with the finest heavy-bell performances of all time.

First of all, just contemplate the weights of the bells in this fine old Somerset tower:

Here is the story of thig great achievement. The bells were rehung 1908 in a wooden frame, and were going extraordinarily well in 1925, when a peal of Bob Minor was rung on them. In 1934, ball bearings were fitted all round, and in the autumn of that year a peal of Cambridge Surpriso Minor wes rung. It was found on this orcasion that the swing of the tevor affected at least one of the smaller bells. This effect was judged to be due to frame movement, as the tower movement is not particularly obtrusive.

QUEEN CAMEL CHURCH.
The idea was then conceived that seven Surprise Minor methods might be rung. Tho band, obviously, had to be chosen with care. It was not only necessary that they should ring seven methods without question of trip, but the ringers of the smaller bells litd to be able to 'hold' them with precision and certainty. Let it be snid at once that the smaller belis were rung magnificently, aithough it meant constant overpulling and the inevitable holding.

A preliminary canter in the shape of a peal in seven Surprise methods had been ruag at Doulting on the previous Saturday. Here

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETIVG CHANGED FROM OHRISTMAS TO EASTER.
The annual meeting of the Llandraf and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held at All Saints', Newport, on Boxing Day, whon a splendid muster gathered from both dioceses, and there were visitors from Bath, Bristol, Hereford, Ross, etc. The bells were oft soon after two o'clack in various methods, and the new yaung band recently formed at Peurrth tried their hands in round ringing.

Service took place at 4 o'clack, the Viear, Canon S. G. Morgan, offeiating. Toa followed in All Saints' Mission Rooms, where a large number sat down to an excellent meat tea hospitably provided by the Vicar and his wife, both of whom were busy carving and attending to the wants of the ringers
The busimess meeting was presided over by the Canon. Thero were reports on restorations and augmentations, which included during the yoar the rehanging of Aberdare and Cowbridge riugs of eight, the recnsting of Penarth ring of six with the completion of the octave, and the overhauling, etc., of Aberavon bolls. After discussion and various propositions with regard to the date of the annual meeting, it was decided to alter the date from Boxing Day to Eastern Monday. The next ennual meeting will be held at Cardiff.
The next Glamorgan meeting is to be held at Bridgend, and the next Monmouth meeting at Usk, the Vicar of Usk having sc口t an invitation to the association to hold a mecting there.
.Mr. G. Wines, of Pentre, was elected Master, and the hon. secretary (Mr. J. W. Jones) and auditors wers re-elected. Mr. J. W. Jones and Mr. C. H. Perry ware elected as representalives on the Central Council.
The whole of the Bonvilston, Penarth and Pontypridd rimgers and various others were elected, and Miss Boon, of Bristol, elected a life menber. Congratulations were extended to Mr. A. W. Heath, of Gardif, on laving been honoured by receiving the King's Jubilec medal. Expressions of regret to Mr. H. Page and Mr. F. Chamberlain in their extended ilness were fassed and shown in a tangible form to Mr. Ghamberlain.
Mr. John Clark, of Ross, proposed the best thanks to the Vicar for his kindness and hospitality, and fhis closed the mecting, which was a pleasant and happy one.
The bells of All Saints' and St. Woolos' were afterwards rung until late in the evening.
the fenor weigls some 24 cwt ., and on the day the peal was ruag went very heavily. When Saturday, the 2Ist, arrived, the chief means of transfort was in Bristol, haring been abaudoned thore owing to fog, the previous night. The train by which the ownel want to retrieve the car next morning was bopelessly late, and camo to what seemed to be a permanent standstill some two miles from Tamplo Meedc station. Something lad to be done about it speedily. With his collar turned up, the owner of the car left the train, walked along the line, down an embankment, climbed through a fence and found limself is a works yard. He walked througlo the office as to the manner born, and emerged from the front entrance. $A$ larisk walk brought him to the car, with bare time to collect three of the baud. Isunch was out of the question
At two o'clock the conductor was picked up. His dey liad starterl at 4 a.m. A mile above ground to the pit, a milo anderground in stoamy keat, seven hours? hard labour dragging coal from an eightean-inch soam, and into the sunlight again ai $1.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Home, a batis, a change and a meal-if he had time-and be was on parade at 2 p.m. Theace to Queen Camel, with sundry stofs to clear ice from the windsereen end to purclase glycerine to rub on it. Tive minutes late is an unusual thing with this band, but it happened on this occasion, to the annoyance of the driver.
As to the feal itself, it was rung with ' bold and regular striking. Tho tenor man, with his usual lack of attention to details, merely ascertained that therc was a rope on the tenor, and procecded to ring it. Not until be had been to lead for the first time did he find out that the sally was so low that al times he had to use the bare rope, and that he had a single rope at backstroke whenevel the belt had to be cut at backstroke. However, on the principle of aever turning back, he carried on.
The methods had been chosen with care. It was anticipated that Lightfoot, with its seven-pull dodge iwice in bach course, would cause the greatest difficulty, but Durlaam, Wells and London krover to be the most difficult from the point of view of the tenors, Wells especially, with its treble work, 5-6-6, 3rd's, 6-5-6, 4th's, 3 rd's, enep lead, 3 ru's, dodge, 4th's, cuused a lot of hard work. Cambridge was child's play to it. However, the job was done and dowe well, and no sooner was the car headed in the homeward dircetian than someono suggested that fourteen spliced Surprise methods would go well thore. It might! The writer doesn't know, and he will require some preasing before he even thinks of it.

THE DEATH OF MR. R. A. DANIELL.

H1S SERVICES TO RINGING.

The rassing of Mr. R. A. Daniell, whose death at the age of 79 wo brieffy announced last week, removes a distinguished personality from the Exercise, better known to the ringers of a geueration ago than today, but one to whom we owe a great deal for his historical researches. Graduating at Cambridge, Mr. Daniell was a man of greab intollectual altaimmerts, and while his actual ringing achievements were only of limitod distinction, his worte it other directions was of groat value.
Ho was a membex of the Royal Cumberland Youtles, and joined the Centra! Counsil in its early days. His love of historical researeh loal him to undertake investigations among the documeats in the Britisln Misenm, the London Museum, and at Oxford and Cambridge, his chiof regrarch at the last-named mace being in councotion with Fabinn Stedman. On a will of a civil servant named Fabian Stedman, discovered in London, Mr. Daniell set great store as the will of the Fabiars of campanological fame, although since he published it fonsidorable doubt has beew raised as to whether these two Fabian Stedmans were identical.
Mr. Daniell's services to the Bibliography Committee of the CenIral Council wore very valuable, and although ill-health and his consequent resignation prevented him completing the work lie had begun, there are numerous papers in tha Central Council Library as his contribution to the historical records of the art, in addition to the many urticles in the ringing Press from his able pen. There is a melancholy interast in the short contribution which appears in our issue to-day-the last which he wrote for puhlication on the subject af bellringers.
Of his aotivities among ringers in London we may recall that he was largely instrumental, with Mr. T. H. Taffender, in reconstituting the old St. Jumes' Society as the Loudon County Association, and that ho was instigator of St. Mrry Abbot's Guild, Kensington. In recent years, however, illhealth had robbed him of the fleasure of ringing in the tower, but he followed ringing affairs elogely to the end.
He hat a gift of languge, and was a ready speaker, although from the point of view of the hearer his delivery was poor, for he spoko in it mufiled voice. But of his readiness as a speaker none could doubt. The writer remembers him at the aunual dinner of St. Mary Abbot's Guild last year. Called upon without warning to propose ia tonst, through the absence of the prearranged spanker, he mado an speech of intense interest lasting something like n quarter of an hour, denling with the historical relations between the Church and bellingers.

Hsd he lived another month Mr. Daniell would have been eighty years of age.
Mr. Daniell was lho rioneer af St. Mary Abbot's Guild when the ald round ringers wero formed into a change ringing band and, with athers, came under the instructorship of the late Mr. W. Garrard. He served as Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths, and representerd the Soeiety on the Central Council from 1900 to 1911. The following ymu ho was elected an Fonorary member of the Council, rediring in 1923.
"Robert Arthur Diniell,' writes his old friend, Mr. Challis Winney, was a diligent worker for the ringing Exercise, like others who wero ot Cains College, Cambridge. Among them Squire Proctor, the Rev. W. C. Jearson, The Ruv. H. Law James and the Rev. E. Bankes James. In ndelition to ringing he was passionately fond of music, nurl was tatught siuging by the late Dr. Hunter, of St. Peter's, Ciaton Square. Mr. Daniell often attemhed Westminster Abbey evensong, and delighterl to sili in the choir stalls. Mr. Daniell used to Fthe Wostminster Ahhey. King's College, Cambridge, and St. Luke's, Chelson, ins three of the best huidiags for acoustic properties. His cousin, fine, Ther. Daniell Bainbrigge, was at one time on the stafi of Itins Abhey."
Mr: Daniell's end was somewhat sudden, and he was apparently in his customary heallh a day or two hefore his death.
Thn fumbal took place on Friday afternoon at Fulham Cemetery, North Slieen. Owing th tho fnet that there was little apportunity of lothing ringiug friends know of the place of interment in time, only fors fingers were present in addition to the mourners. The service was impressively read, and at, the close rounds were rung in slow limo on six hanthells: the thren whole palls rung thrice, with a pause bownem, boing followed by in course of Grandsire Doubles.

It is quite right to recond the dongs of ringers of the fast, for, like those of other men, they are matiter for history. But history should he fair, ama thteasoning censure is not fair listory, and is nvoided by compelant historinus. Our present cnrironmont, whatever its real value may be, is not tho standned by which to judge men who did nut live in ti, and if, when considering bygone ringers, we lako the muly right conso and carry our minds back into their environmenl, we fand nolhing in their conduct calling more justly for censure that in that of nither men in general, living under similar influences, in any period of their bygone world. $R$. $A$. ## BYGONE RINGERS.

HABITS OF ENVIRONMENT.

Mr. R. A. Deniell on the Standards of the Past.

Among the customs that survived in not a few places even within living memory was that of drinking in the belfry at Christmas time and New Year, when beer, and sometimes more potent Itquor, was dispensed in the tower to ringers, and, maybe, their friends. Drinking took place within the sacred precincts at other times, but particularly was it usual at this festive season.

Wirh the realisation among all classes of churchpeople that the belfry is a part of the House of God, this custom has happily disappeared, although such reminders of it as Ringers Jugs and Flagons, preserved as heirlooms' in some places, serve to emphasise the fact that in the days when indulgence in this direction was common, there was in no quarter among Churchmen any thought that such practice was one to be reprobated. It was an accepted custom. In what follows Mr. R. A. Daniell, who formerly contributed so much to our knowledge of ringers and ringing in the past, explains the circumstances of those bygone days.

THE INELUENCE OF THE TIMES.

It is, he wrate (for we have already recorded the melancholy fact of lis death), impossible to form a just estimate of mea unless we take full account of the infrence on their conduct of the conditions in time and place when and where they live or have lived- that is, of their environment; and what that environment at any time was social history tells us. And if, when scutinising what we may clooose to think faults of bygone ringers, we attend to their environment, wo find the same faults manifesting themselves in the same or varying Ways among men iu gereral of their contemporaries.
Ringers linve never been a cloistered body, but like other men liave been subject to the general infuences of their time; and it is unscientific and foolish to isolate them into a separate cidss and then Find fault with them; to consure their conduct about drink, or anything else, as though it had been peculiar to themselves alone, when we know perfectly well that it was not, or to blame them for irreverence in towers wher Church authorities were setting them no standard of reverence to observe.
Singers and Church authorities alike were men of their day, and so they got on well enough together. For instance, if there was drink in towers, where, in old times, was it not? I can say of my own knowledge that the fractice of driaking in vestries was not extinct when $I$ was a young man, and that men in good positions in life took part in it. One of the former clergy of a London church told me that formerly dimers had been sent in from a tavern and enjayed in the vestry, and I have read of a clureh organist, reckoued a fine performer, who hat beer in the organ gallery, fuld of a clurel where tha Sunday School teachers uged the altar table for having their tea. There is abundant cvidence that, when our modern idens of reverence for churches came to birth, Church authotities lad first of all to reform themselves, and, when they began to do so, anything they found calling for reform in towers was only what their owi predecessors harl permittec, if not encouragerl.
It is probably due to a want of understanding of environment that some last-century writers, when writing about ringers, adopted a harsh, narrow and abusive tone, which rightly disgusts us and which stands condemned by the tone now used by clergy and laity of all kinds who, in variots ways of religious and social effort, are working to help the more backwnirl of nur population.
Of course, we cannat infer from these petulant outbursto that at the time they were written the conduct of ringers as a bady was masatisfactory, but when we remember that the abused ringers ware born a century or more ago, and know the backward nnd neglected onndilion of large partions of the pofulation, both in town and country, it the time when these men grew up, we can see that it is not surprising if there were some places where-if better informed or better placed men took wo interest in ringrimg there were ringers unsatisfactory to reformers. Rut in such coses this uab not due to nuy particular wickedness of those ringers; it was due to the -migforture of their environment, wanting in elevating influences and in almast all now deemed mecessary or desirable for the welfare of our people. Their fanlts were not peculiar to them as ringers; they were shared with their neighbours, and are no more than an insignificant incident in our general social history.
In proportion as mon get to understand enviromment, their mental attitude towards others changes from fault finding to an underatnnding of and consequent sympathy with the human beings behimet the fatils.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUIED.

VISTT TO CRADLEY.
The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and Distriet Guild was held at St. Peter's, Gradley, where the bells were made full use of in various mathods.
The servige was faily well attended, the usual Guitd form being nsed, the Vicar of Cradley (the Rev. E. A. Poulouse) officiating and giving a vel interesting and inspiring address; indeed it was considered one of the best delivered at a Guild meting for some considerable time. After an excellent tea in the Schoolroom, the business meeting was held. Before leaving to fulfil another engagement, tho Vicar gave tha members a hearty welcome to Cradley, and expressed a wish that they might come again on some future occasion.
TH1o chair was taken by Mr. A. H. Meredith, one of the churehwardens. Before the commenement of the business, the segretary referred to the lamentable death of Mr. Harry Meson, a vice-president of the Guild, and one of its founders. The secretsry alsm referred to the death of Mrs. B. Gough, wifo of Mr. Ben Gough, of Cossley. an esteemed member of the Guild. He had, he said, sent letters of condolence to Mrs. Mason and Mr. Gough, asking them to aceept on behalf of the members their respectful sympathy in their sad and irreparable loss.
The mombers supported the secretary and stood in silence as a murk of respect.
Several now members were added to the roll, and the Vicar of Cradley and the clainman were clected hon. members.
It was proposed to attempt the quarterty peal at Gradley
The next meeting, which is the annual meeting, will be held at Dudtey.
At the close of the business, Mr. C. Skidmore (Ringing Master) proposed, and Mr. F. Molineux seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Cradley; to Mr. Mereaith for presiding at the meeting; to the donors of the tea and the ladies for preparing and serving it; to the organist for the musical part of the service; to the Cradley ringers for making the neecssary arrangements; and to all who had in any way contributed to raking the meeting a happy and successfisl one.

Further ringing afterwards took rlace,

FOR BEGINNERS.

WORDS OF ADVICE.

There is no special saason of the year when beginners are intreduced to the belfry to start their career as ringers. Those who have a desire to learn are welcomed at any time-that is, in belfries where learuers are welcomed. Unfortunately that is not the case ewerywhere, esfecially in some of those places where a small annual stipend is paid, and the 'old hamds' want to keep the lomes and very small fishes to themselves. Generally speaking, however, a kean youngster is a great acquisition to any tower, and for the bencfit of those who, just at this moment, may be taking up the art. with the beginning of the year, we offer one or two words of adyice.
First of all, do not take on ringing too lightly. Of course, you cannot tell whether it is a pursuit that will appeal to you until you have tried it, but, remember, the study of the art requires real application, and the office of ringer-an honourable position among active servants of the Churcli-demands that you ghould attend punctually and regularly to your daties.
Because it is "only ringing for service" or 'only a ringing practiee' do not imagine you are justified in lightly neglectiog to be in your place. Do not continue with your ringing uniess you intend to treat it seriously-in justice to yourself, to the other members of the band and to the Cliurch.
When you are in the belfry on a general Fractice night, do not be disappointed if all the ringing that is done is not done for your special benefit. You must have patience. Patience is a virtue in all things, especially in ringing. Before you have been in the craft very long you will find you will need a deal of it. For one thing, oven when you have learned to ring a bell, you may not be able ensily to pick up change risging, but, with patience, you will grasp it. in time.
Most ringers, when they start, find themselves groping in the dark for a while, and then suddenly the light comes, and Lhcy wonder why they couldn't see it before. Do not, therefore, he discouraged it at first you find yourself unable to grasp the first thing in clange ringing.

With patience you must have perseverance. Stick to it and do not give uf because you feel you are a failure. And one other thing about your first experiences in the belfry. Do not take offence if your instructor or other senior nembers of the band seem to be a bit 'short' to you. First of all, remember they are not angels; then recollect that, when ringing is goisg on orders lave to be short, sharp and decisive, and that what fou are told is intended for your beneft and the bencfit of the ringing that is in progress. After all, what you may be told and the manner of saying it will probably be nothing like as rough as the chiding which some young men in some other pursuits receive when beginning serious training.
If you arc keen to learn and show yourself ready to take the advice given you, if you are regular and punctund and possess the virtue of patience, soms day you will be as able and, perhaps, more able than the man who in your own belfry calls the bobs and tells others what to do.

RINGERS' WEDDING,  HAWKDNS-WOLSTENCROFT

On Saturday, December 21st, the marriage of Mr. T. G. Hawkins and Miss Ida Wolstencroft took place at St. Peler's Church, Ashlon-under-Lyne.
The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. WoIstencroft, a name long familiar to reaters of this journal. Miss Wolstencroft has been a ringer ist St. Peter's Chureh since she was eight years old, and the bridegroom las also heen a ringer for many years at his Parish Church at Stoke Poges, Bucks.
It is to be regretted that the wedding had to he performed wilhout bells, St. Peter's peal having been dismaniled for relanging. However, regret is outweighed by tha knowledge that at last the work of rehanging has been fut in hand, and, anyway, we learn that lack of bells did not prevent tho salisfactory 'ringing' of the most important item of the day.
The couple will live in London, where they hope to athend ringing meblings as of ten as their new circumstances will permit.

A peal in honour of the wedding was rung at Norbury, Cheshire.

BELL BROADCASTS.

THE B.B.C. 'STANDATR ERACTICE.'
The following further corresponience has taken place between the I3.B.C. and Mr. T. Groombridge, jun., of Crayford, with regard to the broadeast of bells before sunday evening services:-
Under date, Decernber 24tls, the representative of the Religion Execotive of the B.B.C. wrote:-
We are sorry that it has not heen passible to rerly earlier to your letter of November $4 t h$,
Our standard practice, when we broadenst bells, before a service, is now to begin with five minutes of ringing; about hall-way through the balls are faded down, and an announcement of the service is superimposed; the bells wre then faded up again until the service bergins. We want to emplasize that the ringing should always be quite audible bebind the nnmonnement, and that the amouncement is nermally very brief. After careful consideration, we have decided that this is the most satisfactory arrangement; if an announcement were made before the bells begnu many listeners who tuned in onfy a minute or two before the service would not hear from where it came.
We nere arranging to mention the bells hefore gerviees in the 'Radio Times " whenever it is known in time that they will be broadeast, but the 'Radio Times' goes to press well in advanee, and it cannot be guarateen that the information will always be available.
We are grateful for your eriticisn, and hope that you will find this arrangement satisffectary, in future.

RINGERS' POIN'I' OF VIEW.

Mr. Groombridge replicd ou December 30th:-
Denr Sirs, - I beg to acknowledge yours of the 24th inst, with thanks, but am sorry to note that you appear determined to ignore the ringer's point of view-or should fi he hearing-which I tried to explain in simple everyday language in my last tetter.
I would liko to point out that no amount of reiteration on your part of the statement that "ho binging slould always be quite andible behind the announcemcut' will obviate the fact that the keenest ear caunot detect anything hegond that somewhere in the dim fistance bells are being rung, which is totally different from hearing what is being rung.
Furthermore, the brevity of your amouncements may be a matter of opinion; doubtless, to those uninterested in ringing, it is brief, hut I counot concede that poini as ar ringer. To quote an instance, ynu broadeast a service, preceded by ringing, from Richmond Rarish Church, in the North Regional programme on Sunday, the 2Zut inst. Personally, I tried the Jondon Regional first (this, of course, will he obvinted when you put your alrangerneat for publication in the Radio Times' ${ }^{\text {i }}$ into effect, so I do not make any point in this), and finding the organ being broadeast from St. Margaret's Lee, I switehed over the Nortl: Regional just in time to hear the bells going to Treble Bob Major with the 7th just leaving the slow, when your opposition began, and beyond a luym in the background, which might have come from any percussion instrument, I definitely claim that the bells mere not audible. By the time the amouncements were finished and the bells faded in again, they were "in rounds.' I have purrosely used technical torms here, and invite you to approach anyman with a knowledge of change ringing to bear out my statement hail. Treble Bob cannot come "into rounds 'from 'the 7th leaving Ile slow ' in less than 64 changes. As the rate of striking would be about 25 changes per minute, I leave you to figure out how much of the five minutes' broadeast was apailable to interested listeners.
As a contrast, $T$ would refer to your broadeast from Worsley the previous weck, when the Vicar ghee a five-minute talk, followed by tive minulos' uninterrupted ringing, which could be followed and appreciated.
do not propose to bother you further personally, as the position is either, as. I alated in opening, that you appear determined to ignore the ringer's roint, or alfervalively, that I am unable to express mysef clearly enaugh by this menns to the uninitiated, and if this be so I shall be making myself a nuisance without serving any useful purpose, which is far from ofy desire.
If you should care to lave other opinions on the statements I have made, doubticss the secretary of the Midilesex County Associalion nul Loudon Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers (who has already becn in tonch with you), or any of the members of the Ancient Society of College Youths who have been in the stulio would oblize.
Scores of my collengues iu this, tistrite shave my views, exceph Hat they add that 'it is a wasle of time to tackle the B.B.C.' You alone can disprove this latter statement, and, if you succeed, none will be more pleased than $J$.
In a letter to "The Ringing World,' Mr. Groombridge comments:The only course now appears to mo to be that all those interestice should bombard Broadcasting House with a well-worded protest the next time they follow 'their standard practice, and for those ringers at churcles where services are broadenst to slow some self-respect und take 'J. D.'s' advice and ' paek up when the announcer barges in.'
T have laken the liberty of referring the B.B.C. to certain of our fraternily who lave already beeu in touch with Broadcasting House without obtaining their consenl. I have no doubt that these ringers will stand their ground if called upon, a happening which I cannot foresec. I wished, if possible, to convince the B.B.C. 1 hat the opinions

HIGHER METHOD PRACTICES.

Few 'good resolutions' that are specially made for the new year are kept for long and lots of good resolutions for 1936 have probably already been broken. It applies to ringers and their ringing, as much as to other persons and other things, and yet, if there is to be progress, good resolutions are necessary sometimes. It is better, however, not to make them all at once; otherwise they may be too heavy to be borne-that, perhaps, is why so many of them crack at the beginning of the year. It is well, however, that ringers should from time to time determine to do something better in the coming days than they have done in the past. It is interesting as well as pleasing, therefore, to note that in the Eastern Division of the Yorkshire Association an effort is to be made to hold special meetings for the practice of more advanced methods. This, if carried out, will be found an admirable way, for those desiring to make progress, to go a step onward.
Where a band at any one church cannot be persuaded to go forward with something new, they frequently hold back two or three who are anxious to get on, but cannot do so for want of opportunity. Unless there happens to be a nearly tower where practice is possible with others like minded, the only chances are those offered by occasional district meetings. But district meetings cannot be monopolised by those who want the higher methods. They have to serve the interests of all, down to the humblest beginner, and it is unfair to take up an undue proportion of time for advanced methods. Indeed, it is far more in the interests of ringing to devote the butk of the available time to elementary work.

The happiest solution of the problens is unquestionably that of special meetings for the advanced methods, where there are sufficient ringers desirous of putting these into practice. If the beginners and those in the early stages of method ringing could go to a district meeting, knowing that most of the time would be devoted to advancing their special interests, they would probably attend in greater numbers, and, on the other hand, advanced ringers knowing that there would be a special practice to meet their particular ends, would be more content to forego their higher methods. Again, if the meetings were divided in this way, those on the lower rungs of the campanological ladder would have no grievance against the men of whom they sometimes complain, because they imagine their own claims do not secure sufficient attention.
The special practice for the more qualified ringers is thus an excellent way of meeting a situation which some(Continued on page 18.)

times gives rise to a little discontent，if not to any deeper feeling．There is often a difficulty，at numerously at－ tended meetings，in fitting in something for everybody so that all may get just one step further；special prac－ tices should at least halve the difficulty．But even here， some plan of procedure is necessary．Meetings of this kind can be largely wasted unless those who hope to profit by them know beforehand exactly what methods are to be practised．It is usually，also，a mistake to introduce too much variety．One method well practised is better than dablbling with half a dozen． Organised on right lines，these special practices can be of great value in raising the standard of method ring－ ing without sacrificing the interests of the ringers of lower qualifications．

FOR BEGINNERS.

THE RIGHT' AND WRONG WAYS TO HOLD A ROPE.
As one goes about the country oue sees many 'awkward ringers" -ringers who do not know how to hold their rope correctly, and therofore have not proper control over their bells, with the result that they are indifferent strikers. Indeed, tieir bad handling may spoil what otherwise would be some perfectly good ringing.

There is a story told of one 'ringing parson,' a notoriously bad striker, who never could handle his boll properly. He once took part in a Feal, and his striking, as a result of his bad handlizg and his lack of 'ear' for his bell, was atracious. Afterwards, one of the other ringers was asked how the parson got on, and bis zeply was, "Awful. He only made one good blow, and that was when he missed the sally.' Thats is an example of the way not to ring.
The first aim of a beginner should be to hold lis rope properly. Both at rope-end (that is, backstroke) and sally (the haudstroke), the hands shovld be raised as high above the head as possible, It gives the best coutrol, and, of course, the longest and, therefore, the most effective pull. Many ringers at landstroke grasp the sally at a spot which does not permit their hands going much above their nosb, or bean their chin, and their hands go up very little higher at backstroke.

This photograph shows the proper way to hold the rope end and sally at handstroke.

You go inta towers and find that all the rufes are low. You can be sure that, unless it happons to bave been caused by a sudden spell of clry weather, which has resulted in the ropes stretching badly, it is because the ringers of that tower do not raise their hands high eaough in grasping the ropes. The hands should go well gbove the head at both strokes, and steeplekeepers and those responsible for instrueting beginners, should see that ropes are so adjusted that this is made more or less obligatory on the learner. $A$ rope is not too high, if, when the bell is set at handstroke, the bottom of the sally reaches no lower than the ringer's gyes.
And then thero is a right and a wrong way of grasping the rope. The hends should always be close together when folding either the rofe end or sally. If they are wide apart it meaus not only an magrinly and slovenly style, but loss of power, beause the lower hand cannot ' pull its weight,' or, ouglat we to say, its full distance. Those few extra inches with tiat ome hand make all the difference to eifective control.
Then there is the actual grip on the rope. Both the eally and the rope end should, in turn, be gripped with all the fingers of both hands. Often ont sees at handstroke the rope grasped only by the thumb and wwo fingers of the hand holdiag the rope end, the other fingers being gripped round the tail of the rope, as if the ringer wera afrajd of dropping it. Do not get inta that habit; or, if you have acquired it, get out of it at once.

The ideal way is to hold the end of the rope in the erutch between the thumb and forefinger and iet it come on the side of the sally next to the ringer. In that way the fulest possible use can be made of the hand. Indeed, if you ring in many places in the North of England, where there is a tuft, like a short sally, on the end of the rope, you will find any other way both difficult and uncomfortable. Where, however, therg is only a double rope at the end, some ringers -and many good ones among them-grasp botl the rope end and sally together. But try, if you can, to get the rope ead each time under the thamb only. The proper way to hold the rope and sally at handstroke is shown in the accompanying illustration, which we are permitted to use by the courtesy of the Central Council. And, hy the way, if you have not gat a cofy of "Eints for Instructors and Beginners, ${ }^{\text {a }}$ published by the Council, from which this illustration is faken, send twopence to the Hon. Librerian, Walsoken Rectory, Wisbech. You will find in it some of the best advice it is possible to obtain on lhow to ring a bell, with a number of illustrations on the right and wrong ways of holding your rope.
When you start to ring, stand close under the rope, with heels almost together; pull the rope straight down, keeping your hands close to the body, and let them go as far down as possible. If you don't pull straight and don't pull all the way down you lose power.

Get a good start and a good style, and half the preliminary battle is over.

FIRST 1936 DATE TOUCH.
On Sunday, January 5th, for evening service at St. Helea's Church, Sandal, Wakefield, in 1 hour, 9 minutes, a date touch of Minor, I, 936 changes, made up of 496 of Oxfort Treble Bob and 720 each of Sandal Exercise and Kent Treble Bob: F. ## WEST CORNWALL RINGERS BUSY.

QUARTERFEALS OF GRANDSIRE TRIPLES, BUT NO PEALS.
During the past three weeks there has beet great activity amongst the method ringers in West Cornwall. Commencing on St. Thomas" Day (December 2lst), an attempt was made to score a peal of Grandsire Triples on the recently rohung and augmented eight at Redruth, but, unfortunately, this came to grief suddenly in the eleventh part of Parker's wall-known peal, after nearly three hours' excellent ringing. The band was E. Sanders 1, Miss E. J. C. Angwin 2, P. J. Fitchens 3, C. E. Lanxon 4, W. H. Southeard 5 , W. H. Sleeman 6, A. S. Roberts (conductor) 7, S. Seymour 8. The ringing was long enough to test the work, which has been excellently done by Messrs. Gillett and Johnsfon. Redruth bells arc now a musical octave. On December 31st sfecial arrangements were made to ring a quarter-feal of Grandsiro Triples to enable Mr. E. C. Carvolth, the donor of the two new trebles, wha was staying in the district, to hear the bells rung on his birthdey. This was brought round by S . Seymour (first quarter on eight) I, E. Sandors 2, Mias E. J. C. Angwin 3, C. E. Lanxon 4, H. Williams 5, W. H, Sleeman 6, A. S. Roberts (conductor) $7, \mathbf{P}$. R. C. Williams 8 .
On Boxing Day a peal of Grandsire Triples whs attempted ab Helston, on a splendid light ring, cast in 1007 by Messra. 3. Taylor and Co. (tenor 12 cwt I qu. 23 lb .), but the illness of one of the band compelled 'Stand" to be called half-way. A further ettempt was made at the same tower on January 4th, but after 1 hour and 10 minutes the conductor missed a call. A guarter-peal was then rung by F. Harris 1, Miss E. J. G. Angwin 2, G. W. Tayson 3, G. E. Lanxon (conductor) 4, A. S. Roberts 5, W. H. Sleeman 6, P. J. Hitchens 7, J. Reed 8.

On December 30th a guarter-pen? of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Enoder (tenor 13 cwt.): F. Harris (first quarter-peal an eight) 1 , A. S. Roberts 2, WF. E. Minors 3, MFiss E. J. C. Angwin (conductor) 4, H. Williams 5, E. Sanders (first munter on eight) 6, C. E. Janxon 7, P. R. O. Williams (first quarter on eight) 8.

Those who took part in the above, and in visits to other towers for rractice, wish to thank Messrs. P. R. J. Williams and F. J. Morcom for the use of their cars.
If, in the future, any visitors to Cornwall wish to be accommodated with ringing in the Truro district, or in any part of Cornwall, a line to Mr. P. R. C. Williams, Fore Street, Redruth, or to Mr. C. E. Lanxon, 11 , Ferris Town, Truro, will assure them of a hearty weleme.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Three generations of the Tilleti family were represented in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Rushmere, Suffolk, on December 28tin. Miss Phyllis Filletli, at the age of 16 , has now rung peals of Cambridge on $6,8,10$ and 12 bells $!$
Mr. Alfred Boweli has recently rehung the old five bells at Scoltow, Norfolk, and added a trable to make a. Laudy ring of six. Mr. W. C. Duffield, of Buxton, has given six local men their first leason in ringing.
Two attempts were mado by members of the Norwich Diocesan Association to celebrate the cenfenary of the first peal of London Surprise Major, rung at Norwich in 1835 . A peal of London on December 26 th came to grief on Bozing Day after 1 hour 55 minutes' ringing, and a second attempt two days later failed after about an hour and a half.
It is unusual for a man to scora his first peal at 70 years of age, but on the last day of $1935 \mathbb{M} r$. Wrm. Digby, who has been sexton of St. Andrew's Church, Buxton, Norfolk, for 42 years, made his first peal attempt successfully. He rang the treble to 7720 's of Bob Minor.
The ring of six bells of Horncastlo Parish Church, Lines, has this week been removed to Loughborough to be tumed and refitted prior to being hung in a nem framework.
In the course of tie last 50 years many hundreds, if not thousands, of the peals that have been rung have been compositions by Mr. Arthur Knights, the celebrated composer, of Chesterfeld. It is strange, therefore, to learn that his composition, No. 1, composed in September, 1883, has now been rung for the first time. It is a 5,152 of Kent Treble Bob Major, aud was rung at Peawortham on Saturday.

Mr. George Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesten Guild, has got a new address. It is 1, Chestnut Avenue, Eastleigh, Hants. He hasn't moved. All that has happened is thet the local authorities have changed the name of the Avenue.
The bells of St. Leonard's, Streatham, will be broadeast from the London stations on January 19 th for the Sunday eveuing service.
Nine ringers at Bridington Priory can boast an aggregate of approximately 200 years' service as ringers at their parish church. M. W. Robinson has been ringing for gearly 60 gear's, Mr. J. Welburn for 36, and Mr. M. Forbes for nearly 30 years. Four others started 16 years ago, and of the other two, one lias put in five years and the second two jears.
On Tuesday evening, December 24th, the bells of St. Mary's Church, Finchley, were rung for an hour, balf-muffled, as a last token of respect to the late Mrs. Bernays, wife of the Rector of St. Mary's, who was interred during the afternoon.

THE NAMING OF METHODS.  To the Fditor.

Dear Sir,-Regarding your note re Surprise methods, you state "Names have been given to all the methods."
I, for one, strongly object to these 'ready made' names, and wbuld ask, "Fas the authority of the Council been obtained for such a precedure?

Up to the preseat, the hand ringing the first peal has had the privilege of maming the method.
If nemes are provided as auggested, places will be sadded with methods they don't want, and methods they would wish to adapt would have already been allotted, say, to some place not interested in them.

Taka, for example, method the Chester men lave been practising, as I presume, under the namo of 'Chester Surprise.' Are thay to be robbed of that name and some useless method labelled ' Chester ' $P$
Another example. A short time ago I was asked for a method for a cartain name. It was to be capable of extending to ten and twelve. I doubt whether the method that has been given to that name in this collection would suit them.
This naming in advance is causing trouble and heartburns, aven before they are printed; it will cause more after. A certain number have already been named and rung. Let those who have adopted methods claim them now and so register their names, and let the remainder be numbered onIs. I am sure this would give greater satisfaction and less expense.

Dublin.
[This letter was referred to in our leading article last week.-Ed., II.W.']

PEAL BOARD INSTALLED.

On Saturday, December 28th, the Fingsley ringers, together with Mr. J, E. Wheeldon, of Norton, paid a visit to St. Margaret's Church, Draycott, Staffs, where, by kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. C. Codling, they installed in the belfry a beautifully designed oak peal board recording the frst peal rung on the bells, by the Kingsley band, a peal of Minor in seven methods conducted by Mr. H. Carnwell.'
The dedication touch consisted of a 720 of Norwich Surprise Minor, rung by the band, who rang in a peal with the exception of $\mathrm{Me}_{\mathrm{r}} \mathrm{J}$. J. E. Wheeldon, who deputised for Mr. F. Edwards, who has recently left the district: H. Carnwell 1, G. Fulme 2, E, Twigg 3, J. E. Wheeldon 4, W. Qarnwell (conductor) 5, A. W. Hall 6.

LANCASHIRE STALWART PASSES ON

DEATII OT MR. J. H. COLLIER.
On Sunday, December 29th, the death occurred of Mr. James Henry Collior, of Plixton, Eanceshire, after a very short illness. He had rung for service on Christmas moruing, and was taken ill on his way home. After recovening slightly during the next day or two, he passed away peacefully early on Suuday morning.
Born in Flixton in 1869, he had spent the whole of his life there, and after serving as a boy choristar had bean connected with the belfry for over 50 years, and had been the conductor for the past 34 years.
Of a quiet but genial disposition, he had an ever-ready welcome for visiting ringers to Flixton, where he took great fride in maintaining a band for service ringing. This he did with success, in preference to sceking ringing honours for himself, for seldom has it been that Fixton bells were not fully manned for service. The present band, which inclucies a son and daughter $\mathrm{r}_{\text {, }}$ was raised and trained entirely by his own efforts.
The upholding of old customs, such as the eurfew, ringing for Guy Fawkes' nigltt, and other events, in which old-world Flixton seems to delight, were to him another source of pleasure and pride.

He had rung several peals, his first being for Quen Victoria's Jubilee in 1887, when the bells were reopened, and in December, 1833, he rang his last real, one of Grandsire Caters, by five fathers and five daughters.
He retired from the service of the Manchester Collieries, Ltd., in January, 1935, after 43 years' service.
The funeral took place at Flixton on Thursday, January 2ad, and was attended by many relatives and upwards of 200 friends.
There were many beautiful floral tributes, including one from the local ringers.
The full local company of ringers was present, six of whom acted as bearers. Other ringers present were Messrs. W. H. Shuker (general secretary of the Lancashire Association), C. Gudgeon (Manchester Branch Fresicent), T. B. Worsley, D. Vincont, W. Moss, A. Barnes, B. Thorp, C. Ollier, A. H. Bond and D. Brown.

The bells were rung fully muffled as the cortege approached the church, and at the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells. fmmediately after the interment and as the mourners were leaving the churchyard the tower bells were again rung by deceased's tower associates. Later a half-mufled peal of Grandsire Triples was attempted, but unfortunately was lost nesr half-way.
Thus was laid to rest yet another of the stalwarls, and it will take local ringers and friends alike some time to get accustomed to the absence of Jim Collier from the belfry.

RICKMANSWORTH TO HAVE TEN BELLS.

LOCAL RINGERS' SUCGESSTUL REFORTS.
The second annual supper arranged by the local ringers at Rickmansworth, Horts, was held on New Year's Eve. A company of 18 sat down to an excellent repast, provided by M. Woolard, of the Red Spider. Mr. J. E. Jones presided, and the visitors included Rev. W. B. Belcher (Vicar), Mr. Clubbe (senior church warden), and Messrs. Oakley and Crowslay, ringing friends from Watford. After the toast of 'The King' had been loyally honoured, Mr. A. E. Millett profosed the tonst of "The Visitors,' to which the Vicar responded. He thanked the ringors for their services during the past year, and congratulated the young ringers especially on reaching the Stedman stage.
The annual business meeting followed. An attendance book was kept during the past year, marks being given for attendance and punctuality, small money prizes being offered. The xingers with most marks not wishing to claim the prize, the lst and 2nd prizes were won by J. Foster and T. Long, two young ringers, the prizes being given by Mr. J. E. Jones and Mr. A. E. Millett. Next on the list was Mr. C. Lord, who is nearing 80 years of age, and the Vicar lindly provided a 3 rd $I$ rize and gave it to him.
One new rule was adopted, that of a valuntary levy of 3. per weck, per member, to provide a fund for belfry renovation, new ropes, etc.
The hon. secretary of the bells appeal fund, raised almost entirely by the efforts of the local ringers, ennounced that the order for the new trebles liad been given to Messrs. T. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the bells would be installed about the middle of February. Some fer was still required, and it was hoped this would be obtained by the time the bells were opened.
Gramophone records, and wireless, including the broadeast from the Loughborough Foundry, helped to pass a very plassant and enjoyable evening.
At 11.30 the bells were rung half-mulfied, and, after the 12 strokes of midnight, were rung open till about 12.15 a.m.

Ringers who took collecting cards for the bell fund are asked to be good enough to gend in what they have collected, and any ringers who would like to contribute should send tiveir donations to Mr. G. D. Tryer, Hon. Treasurer, National Provincial Bank, Rickmansmorth, or to Mr. F. W. Elliott, 8, Bury Lane, Rickmansworth.

MARRIAGE OF MR. W. H. J. HOOTON & MISS D. M. LEWIS
Many well-known ringers attended the marriage ceremony at Brasted, Kent, on Saturday, of Mr. Wilfred H. J. Hooton, of Nuneaton, and Miss Dilys M. Lewis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lewis, of Moorcocks, Brasted. Like the bride's father, who is presidgnt of the Central Oouncil, Mr. Hooton is a well-known member of the Cambridge University Guild, and after the ceremony six members of the Guiki rang a peal of Minor at Brasted.
While this was in progress a quarter-poal of Stedman Triples was rung at Westerhem by Major J. H. B. Hesse 1, S. H. Green 2, A. A. Eughes 3, Mrs. G. W. Fletcher 4, T'. Graombridge 5, E. E. Lewis (conductor) 6, J. O. Weller 7, G. W. Ficticher 8.

At St. Nicholas', Sevenoaks, the local band attempted a quarterpeal of Grandsire Triples in honour of the event, but lost it a few changes from the end.
At Guildford, a handbell peal was attemr.ted, as no tower bells mere available. This was lost after an hour, but amends were made the following day, when a peal of Grandsire Twiples was scored.

AN INSTRUCTOR FOR TASMANIA?  HOBARI BEGINS TO RAISE MONEY

We hear that in Tasmania a fund has been opened, through "The Mercury ' newspaper, to mable a ringing instructor' to bs obtained from England in order to teach clange ringing, and particularly to instruct a band for the new bells to be erected gt St. David's Cathedral, Hobart. Tho fund has been opened with e donation of 85 from Mr. George Titzpatrick, formerly of Parramatta.

This effort is part of the scheme put forward in "The Ringing World ' on October 11th, 1935, when a letter from the Rev. A. A. Bennet, Vicar of St. George's, Hobart, was published, pointing out the need of instructional belp, and a hint was thrown out in our editorial that, if Tasmania itself was preraved to do its share, the Exercise in England might be prepared to help.
If the best is to be made in Tasmania of the seed sown by the English ringers who visited Australia, a competent instructor from this country is a recessity, and if the Tasmauians themselves rise to the occasion wa feel sure there are many ringers in England who would be ready to give financial help to promote the ert in that outpost of the Empire.
A little later we hope to be able to give further details of the proposals, and if they aro called upon wo believe the ringers in England will sce the scheme through.

BELLS 14,000 FEET UP.

AN ENGLISE RINGER AMONG THE HRMALAYAS.
Mr. L. E. Baybut, a well-known member of the Royal Cumberland Youths, formerly connecied witt St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, who now holds an important post in the State of Kaslmir, Nortbern India, among the Fimalayas, has sent us an interesting letter describing the country in which he is now living.
His 'home' is in the town of Srinagar, thausands of feet up in the mountains, where, he says, there is a very pretty English church. Canor Stokae, the Viear, started to learn ringing on hondbells in England long ago, and, as may be fuagined, was very jnterested when Mr. Baybut took nlong his peal of twelve to the Vicarage when going there to dimner.
These bells, says Mr. Bayhut, lave been a great source of interose to many Europeans, as well as to natives. He has lad tho twelve going once or twice with the nativer, and thinks lio must have made at least one retord, for be doubts if any other ringer has rung changes at 14,000 feet above sea level. This he did with 'four in hand' at Pahalgam, Kashmir.
The districh where Mr. Bidbut lives is known as "The Paratise of the Indies,' and is, he says, well worthy the name. It is a glorious valley in the heart of the Himalayas, with snow-capped mountain ranges all round. Some of the peaks vise to over 20,000 fect, and one is 26,000 . The hills abound with black and red bear, leopards, pantivers and other wild animals.
At the time of writing, Mr. Baybut had not seen a train for oifht months, but was on the point of leaving for Bombay to meet bis wifo and two children, who have gone out to him.
As supervisor of furnishings in the falace and state houses at Srinagar and Jammu, Mr. Baybut has han the good fortune fo see many aative functions, including Durbars and religious festivals.
He asks us to convey his good wishes to all readers of "The Ringing World.'

FOR THE GRUMBLERS

Fo the Gditor.

Dear Sir,-Yout leading anticle of December 20th is longe overdur. Mey all grumblers thoroughly digest it. $I$, for one, would be very sorry to see n change in your weekly' 'lay-out.' I suppose it is a menber of the N.O.P.G. that would (if lie had his way) dispense with the column for beginners. Congratulafions, not brickbats, from

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

PIOPOSED PRACTICES OF ADVANCED METHODS.
The quarterly meeting of the Easiern District of the Yorkshire Association was held at Cottingham on Saturday, when thevo were 45 ringers gresent from Beverley, Cottinglam, Headiogley, Hemingbrougl, Howden, Hull, Market Weighton, Middleton-on-Hhe-Wolds Nunburnholme, Selby, Sherburn-in-Elmet, Sutton-ou-Hull, and also from Harton-on-Hunber and Ulceby, Lincolnshire. The methods were Bab Minor and Major, Treble Bob Minor and Major, and Grandsitc and Sterman Triples. Evensong, conducted by the Vicar (Rev, E. W. Freach, M.A.), was followed by tea in the King street Rooms.

The Vicar presided over the business meetilg, and gave a very hearty welcome to the association to Cottingham.

Four now members were elected, viz, Messrs. Wilfred Lawson and Ernest Cuttill, of Gottingham, C. Robiason, of Sutton, aud H. Kuecshaw, of Market Weighton.
Reverley Minster was selected as fhe place for the annual meeting in March, fhe meoting to be held prepious to the departare of the Viear, Rev. Canon Rigg, D.D., to a living in Cormwall in March.
The usual voles of thanks to the Vicar and local company were rasponded to by the Vivar and Mr. Lawson, and a hearty welcome was also extended to Rev. A. Ferguson, the Vicar of Market Weighton, who accompanied his ringers to the meeting, and who was formerly Vicar of Cottingham.
The gecretary was instructed to write the B.B.O., protesting against the fading awey of bells during broadcasting for church services.
Mr. Vigor, of Sherburn, eaised the question of holding extra meetings for practice of more advanced methods, and efter a discussion it was decided to try and arrange these at suitable dates. The secretary pointed out the expense incurred by these extre meetings could not be a charge on the afsociation's funds.
A suggestion to hold a joint meeting with the Northern District was deforred until the next meeting.

WESTERN DIVJSION'S NEW SECRETARY.

The quarterly meeting of the Westera Division was held at Bramaley, and at St. Peter's Church service was lseld. In the itbsence of tha Vicar, through illpess, the president, Canon Marshall, officiated. Tea was served in the schools to 50 members, and a hearby welcome wrs extended to friends from Sutton-on-Huil. The business meeting was presided over by the vice-president, Mr. I. J. Johnson.
Nima new members were elected, viz., seven from Oxenhope and two from Faworth. It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Liversedge or, failing that, Bingley.
As the secretary had previously intimated a desire to retire on acconnt of work, Mr. H. Lofthouse proposed, and Mr. E. Helliwell scconded, that Mr. IF. Rryment be elected to the position of secretary. This wis carried, and, in welcoming Mr. Reyment to the positinn, Mr. Jolanson hoped that le would be liappy in his office. At tho same time he regretted the retirement of Mr. Ambler from taking un active part in the association, but, in tho light of his gaod work for ringing, sincerely hoped thet work would soon permit him to return to office.
A voto of thanks to the Vicar and churchwevdens, also to the Rev G. Harper for prasiding at the organ, was proposed by Mr. H. Loft hnuse, and seconded by Mr. R. Bottomley. Hope was expressed for the Vicar's specdy recovery, and thanks were given to Cemon Marslanll for unducting tive service, and for his helpful aderess. A vote nf thanks was also passed to the local company for making the rangemenis, and to the ladies for roviding ten.
Tho Rev. G. Harper, Mr. A. S. Boyes and Mr. S. Helliwell replied on behalf of the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company respectively.
Canon Marshall proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman, licily was carrierl. Mr. Jolason replied in his own inimitable way The mecting whs lihen entertained with some delightful handbell ringing, Mr. A. F. West nne Mr. D. M. Shapp giving a course of Grandsire and Sledman 'friples, Mr. Sharp ringing 1.2.3.4 and Mr . Weat 5.6.7.8, a feat which fite company thoroughly appreciated. This branght to atoge a very rleasant and happy meeting.
Members nre asked to note that the adrress of the new secretary Mr. F.' Rayment, is 235 , Green Hill Rodd, Bramley, near Leeds.

NEW RING OF EIGHT AT CAMPSALL, YORKS.

A TRIDMPH OF HODERN BELL HANGING

On Monday evening, December $23 \mathrm{rd}^{2}$, the dedication by the Lord Bishop of Sheffield (the Right Rev. H. L. Burrows), of Oampall's recnst and relung bells was due to take place at 7 f.m. The county of wide acres, however, was, like other parts of the country, iu the grjp of a dense fog, and the congregation which filled the ancient church had a forty minutes' wait until His Lordship arrived.

For the actual ceremony the clergy and charchwardens proceeded to the foot of the tower, where Mr. Cyril Johnston, on behalf of Messrs. Gillett aud Johnston, Ltad., the bellfounders, handed the ropes to Mr. J. Henry Smith, diocesen lay reader, and secretary and treasurer to the bell fund. The wardens then received the ropes and handed them to the Bishop for dedication. I'he local rincers chimed the bells as tbe procession returned to the chancel.
In his sermon the Bishop gave an interesting review of the arigin and history of bells and bellringing, and spoke of the important part which bells had flayed ia history. He said lie did 210 believe in bells being rung for trivial things, but they should certainly be rung at times which wers of national importance. The ringing of bells had now become a science, and one might almost call it a mathematical science. Apart from that, bells also had a very sweet musical sound; they had a great and beautiful harmony. Bellringers to-day lad become as much a part of the church as the choir, and they were a wery strong, vigorous and active set of churchworkers. He was very strongly of the opinion that the ringers should be recognised as churchworkers, and the same sfandard should apply to them as to otlier churchworkers

The Bishop added that he thought it was right that bells in a church should be refledicated with a religious service. 'In a magnificent old church like Campsall,' he said, 'it is fitting that there should be a service to rededicats and hallow the bells that have been used for many a long year.' He thought the fact of there being such a. Food congregation on a bad night like that showed that the people thought it right that they should have a religious service to rededicate the bells.

After the service the bells were kept going till 10 p.m. with Stedman, Grandsire Triples, and other methods, by a campany of the Yorkshire Association, and the Doncaster and District Association, under the direction of Mr. G. Halksworth, vice-president of the latter society, and dramn from the towers of Doncaster, Arkeser, Pontefract, Adwick, Burgwallis and Campsall
The bells are a ring of eight, with a tenor weighing lid ewt. in A flat. They have all been recast and tuned perfectly on the five tone harmonic principle, and are a fine musical example of the Croydon Foundry's craft.
The bells have been fitted with cast-iron headstocks, ball bearings, and the latest fittings, and are hung in a new metal frame of $H$ and A castings on heary steel girders. They have been lowered in the tower, and as space is at a premium in the fower, the bells have been hung in two tiers of four each, but the care displayed in the general arrangement in the tower, and the attontion to detail, have resulted in an ideally haudy ring, of which it is impossible to tell in the ringing room or outside the tower which bells are mounted, or which are below. It is a thiumph of modern bell langing.
The bell founders have also erected a ringers' gallery, in oak, to shorten the draught of sope, and lave reorganised the clockwork in the tower
Mr. H. Braciley, af the local company, has set himself the task of learning the art of change ringing and organising a band. In the furtherance of this task he asks for expert assistance, and hopes that an instructor may cone forward to lend a liolping land in teaching a willing band of learners.
Among thase at the servica were the Vicar of Campsall (the Rev. W. Abel Tumer), fhe Vicar of Woodlands (the Rev. L. L. Kuightall), and the Yiear of Doncaster (Camon Ll. Davies).

MISS PHYLLIS E. TILLETT'S DISTINCTION IPSWICH $\operatorname{ITRL}$ 'S UNIQUE ACHIEVEMENTS.

The peal of Cambridme Surprise Minor rung at St. Aprlvew's Chureh, Ruslmere, on December 28th Iast, brings to the forefront Mies Plyyllis Tillett, who, at 16, is the youngest person to accomplish peals in this method on all numhers, she having previously rung peals of Cambridge Major, Royal and Maximus.
Har first peal of Boh Minor was rung at Rushmere on November 11 th, 1932, and dibing liger fourtcenth year she succeeded in scoring Rob Maior, Grandsire and Stedman Ciaqnes, Cambridge Royal and Oxford Treble Bols Mayimus, thus completing peals on 6, 8, 10, II antry 12 bells.
She also liad the honour of taking part in the 'youths' peal of Bob Major at Crayford on April 21st, 1934, a performance of which she is, rightiy, very proud, and since she has rung peals of Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Rinb, Cambridge and Bristol Major and Cambridge, Superlative and Rechester Maximus. She has, however, yet to ring a peal of Oaters.

DEATH OF OLD LEICESTER RINGER.

It is with deep regret we record the 'passing on' of an old Leicester ringer, Mr. Jereminl Vernon. Decensed was never e promizent peal ringer, but over a long period of years was connected with St Saviour's belfry, and during that time taught and interested many youngsters in the art. He had been in failing healtla for a long time, but a sevious fall accelerated his death, which took place on December 24th at the ege of 77 years.
Ho was a life ringing member of the Midiand Counties Association, and to his memory a floral tribute $u$ as sent from Leicester ringers. The bells of St, Saviour's were rung half-mufled for the funeral, and over the grave a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells by Josiali Morris 1-2, Edward Whitelsead 3-4, Ernest Morris 5-6, Ernest Bag worth 7-8.

OXFORD TREBLE BOB IN KENT.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-In "The Ringing World ' for December 20th Mr. A. P. Cannon clams a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Miaor, rung at Mereworth, Kent, on December 7th, 1935, as the first of its kind in Kent and for the Kent Country Association. I beg to inform him thet the Aldington, Kent, band rung a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor, with seven differeat eallings, at St. Martin's Church, Aldington, ou January 5 th, 1886, in 3 liours 17 mins., conducted by W. Fyder, and all mernbers of the Kent County Association. I rang the 4th in this peal, and W. Post (Redlihl, Suriry), F. Wanstall (Aldington), as well es myself, are still surviving. This peal is recorded on a tablet i Aldington Charch tower.

RING OUT THE OLD.

BROADCAST FROM LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.
Bells, as usual, played their pert in the new year celebrations on Wednesday of last week, and ringers all over the country spent the last hours of the old year in peal and touch
The B.B.C. programme gavo listeners an opportunity of hearjug many tower bells ringing the advent of the new year, visits being peid by the mimophone to several towers between London and Berwick, and the snatelaes of tibe various metiods proved an attraction which us well worth while.
'I'he most instructive as well as entertaingng feature, however, was the 15 minutes spent in the works of Messrs. Joln Taylor and Co., the well-known beli founders, of Louglaborougls. Here Mr. Denison Taylor, in a short talk, gave some interesting facts on bell work, and one of the firm's oldest emplayes gave an account of the work entailed in the moulding and casting of Great Paul, on which lie was engaged as a joung man, and which listeners were to hear later in the programme. The striking of several bells of varying sizes from a hage bourdon to some of the small bells of a cariliou brought a most entertaining fart of the programme to a close.
At the Parish Church, Bishop's Storiford, Herts, on New Year's Eve, a quarter-peal of Grendsire Triples ( 1,260 clanges): W. T. Prior 1, Miss D. Wacey (first quarter "inside") 2, F. Springlanm 3, II. M. White 4, H. A. Wacey 5, F. Bird (conductor) 6, E. Rochester 7, W. Wilkinson 8. Also rumg as a farewell to the curato (Rev. A. D. R. Brooke).

Probably the oldest ringer to speed the parting year by taking part in the ringing was Mr. Coombes who, 93 next March, took part. in a touch on New Year's Eve ad All Saints' Clurch, Ryde, Isle of Wiglit. There were two others in the touch who might he regariled, under other circumstances, as veterans, but who are really only boys by comparison-Mr.-Gearge Williams, of Nortla Stenclam, and Mr. Norris, verger of All Seints', who had not rung together for nearly 50 years.
At St. Peter's Church, Colchester, previous to the watchriglat service, after a peal of Superlative, a touch of Stedman Triples was rung, and to welcoma the wew sear the hells were 'fred' and a touch of Superlative brought round. Those taking Fart wero Messrs. F. L. Bumpstead, W. Clalk, W. Dent, E. P. Dufficld, G. Poyden, G N. Rashbrook, G. R. Toones, H. T. Pye, G. A. Wrightman and V. E. Kerridge.

At St. Giles' Parish Church, Pontefract, on New Year's Eve, 1,008 Stedman Triples: J. H. Lenton 1, H. Walker 2, H. Fox 3, A. Walker 4, W. Tate 5, F. Newton 6, F. C. Watters (conductor), A. Heckiagbottom 8.

EARLY DISTINCTION.

Distinction has come to Miss Phyllis Tillett, of Ipswich, at an early age. There are many capable lady ringers up and down the land, but few have achieved so much so early in their ringing career. To have rung peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus, to have rung peats of Superlative and Rochester Surprise on twelve belis, to have rung Grandsire and Stedman Cinques and Oxford Tredle Bob Maximus, to say nothing of peals in other methods, before the age of 17 years, is something which makes one pause and think. There is no limit to the triumphs of youth. It is true Miss Tilletr has been happily placed and has had facilities which few other people, let alone young ladies, have had, but the fact remains that what she has done, especialiy in the realm of twelve bell rnging, remains unequalled. And now she has been honoured by her own society at St. Mary-le-Tower, by being elected. among a band of veterans, to fill the office of Deputy Master. It is not only a pretty compliment, but a recognition of skill and competence.

There is something in the theory of heredity, in ringing as in other paths of life. It is not always that the son, or daughter, will display the talents of a parent, but there have been notable instances of the family interest and ability in ringing descending from generation to generation. This handing on of talent in ringing finds no better example than in the Tillett family. There are three generations of the same name holding office to-day at St. Mary-le-Tower. But more than that, through the maternal side, there is a direct line back to John Naunton, of Ipswich, who was ringing peals a hundred and twentyfive years ago, so that Miss Phyllis Tillett is at least the sixth successive generation of the family to engage in our art.

Such things as this are of more than passing note. They are of the kind that has made ringing history full of interest. There is the same thread of tradition running through a family in this case, as is to be found in the 'pedigree ' of a foundry like that at Whitechapel, which can be traced back to 1570 ; or like that of Loughborough, which, wandering over the country, carries us back two hundred years. In the case of the founders, the craft of bell casting, tuning and hanging has come down through the years bringing with it the accumulated knowledge of time, with its marked expansion in the methods applied in the last half century. So, too, in the art of ringing. The accumulated knowledge of the art has come down through six generations, at least, of the Tiflett family; opportunities and facilities have increased with each succeeding generation until a girl of sixteen (Contimued oll phge 34.1

FOR BEGINNERS.

MASTER YOUR BELL FIIST.
Not until a beginner has thorouglny mastered the handling ol his bell, so that he has got complete control of it, that is, can put it in ite proper place after the bell he is folluwing, so that he keeps the rlaythm, aud is able to get it either at handstroke or backstroke immediately on command, sloould he attempt method rimging. Mauy a youlg riuger has been spoilt-as a striker-by being allowed to try change ringing before be could properly control his bell. If he camot put it into its proper place in rounds, where le pulle after the same bell all, the time, at exactly the same intrewal, he certainly cannot 'place, bis bell when bo is not only striking after a different bell each time, but lias to vary his owu stroke by holding up or cutting down.

Thexefore, if your instructor does not put you on to change ringing as quickly as you think he ouglht to, it may be that you are not accurate enough in your round ringing. If, before you can strike properly in roumds, you try to take in bell in changes, fon will probably get into a slovenly style, and almost certainly develojp defects in heudling which will grow into a bad hebit.
Gonstant practice will give you confidence. When you begin ringizg you cannot, with successful results, try to give your matention both tas the bell and to the method. The handing of the bell must be antomatic before you can hope to do any geod with melhod ringing. You cannot very well concentrate on both at the same time.

But while you are learning to handle your bell, by actual practice, there is no reason why you should not begin to study chaiuge ringing in theory. Get one of the many elementary books advertised in 'The Ringing World' and study it. Merely reading it through will not Help you much. You want pencil and paper by you when you start, to work out fon yourself the examples on illustrations thali may be given you.

But first of all it may be just as well to cxplain here how changes are produced, for this particular articte is meant specially for those who are at cuite the beginning of their interest in change ringing

What is aimed at in producing changes is that in every change every bell shall speak once, and that the next time they speak, it is in a different order. Moreover, the order is changed to the greatest extent possible, within certain prescribed limits. No bell moves up or down more than one place at a time, and (except for a covering bell when changes are rumg on odd numbers) no bell stops in one place for mare than two changes. Subject to this, the object in producing clanges is to change as many pairs of bells as possible. If there are five hells, to change two pairs; fif there are six, alternately three pairs and two pairs; if seven bells, three pairs each time; alld if efght bells, four paire and three pairs alternately ; and so on. Every pair of hells that is changed must be bells in adjoining plaees, that is 1 and 2,3 and 4 , 5 and 6 ; or 2 and 3,4 and 5 , etc.

Int this article we are not going into the question of methad ringing. We lieve only tried to explain how clanges are formed. Would you like to bry an experiment for yourselves? Write down the fgures 1.2.3.4.5 to тepresent five bells, and draw a line umder them. Undermeath write out changes, by changing two pairs at a time in regular succession, firgt the two front pairs and then the two back pairs, varying it at the 6th, 16 th and every sncceeding tenth change by changing, instead of the two hack pairs, the front pair fod the back pair, leaving the bell in the middle where it is, the succeeding change being, of course, a change of the two front pairs. In addition, it tha 14th, 34 th and 54 th change, make a similar wariation-change the front pair and the back pair instead of the two back psirs. You should be able to produce 60 changes before yon come back again to 1.2.3.4.5, and it will facilitate your work if you put a line under every tenth change. When you have done it, examine the path of the fogura 1. which represents the trehle, and see how regular it is.
In the meantime, get one or other of the following books for study:-

The average length of servica is thas 30 years. Can any tower thent this?

SHEFFIELD LOSES A RINGER.

DEATH OF MR. T. O'HARA.
Tho Sheffield rimgers regret to record the loss, by death, of Mr. Tom O'Hara, for $\operatorname{several}$ years past a member of the St. Marie's Socisty. Mr. O'Hara commenced lis ringing at St. Francis' Church Holbeck, Leeds, uader the tutelage of the late Mr. Robert Binns, and came to Sheffield about 1905, when he joined the St. Marie's Company, Norfolk Row.

On the break up of the company, owing to the Great War, he remained a free lance, visiting different towers and taking part in many peals round about Sheffeld, on eights ten and twelre bells, under the auspices of the Forkshire Association. Possessed of a naive wit, bis linmour at the various district meetings was always a source of amusement, and he was particularly entertaining when he was extribiting sleight of hand tricks.

For same time he wras asscciated with the late Mr. Joe Sykes, of Huddersfield, in erecting gas works machinery in various parts of Great Britain, and wherever they were located the pair of them did what they could to further the cause of ringing in what spare time they had.
$r. O'Hara lost his wife from bronchitis and heart trouble early last December, and probably this loss may have done samething to haster his demise.

He was ringing at St. Maric's on Friday evening, January 3rd, in connection with preliminary details for the broadcast, on Sunday, January 5th, of the service at that church. The following morning he was found unconscious in his home, evidently having had a seizure. He was conveyed to the Royal Hospital, but in spite of every skill and attention he never regained consciousuess, and died on Sunday, January 5th, in his 70th year.

He was horne to his grave in Abbey Lane Cemetery on Thursday, January 9th, by warcmates, and the family mourners were followed by e representative minmber of ringing friends. The customary honours of a course of Grandsire Triples were accorded at the graveside by four of his old colleagues, and the tower bells were also 1ung at uight by various bands as a tribute of respect. $A$ son remeins to monrm his loss.

On Sunday, January 12th, before evening service, at St. Marie's Ohurch, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung as a tribute of respect: M. 功. Wilson (Cathedral) 1, G. Holmes (St. Marie's) 2, F. Wrod (Cathedral) 3, H. Thoype (Cathedral) 4, R. Harrison (St. Marie's) 5, G. Lemis, conductor (St. Marie's) 6. R. Harrison, jun. (St. Marie's) 7, H. Hurst (St. Marie's) 8.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
EASTERN DISTRICT MAKE A GOOD START TN NEW YFAl?.
A most successful meetiny of the Eastern District took place on Saturday, January 4 th, at Houghton-le-Spring, lingers being present from Darlington, Middesbrough, Whickham, Blaydon, Chester-leStreet, Sunderland, Jarow, West Hartlepool and Durham. The Rector visited the belfry during the afternoon and geve tho ringers a very hearty welcome.
A slort meeting was held aifter tea, Mr. R. L. Patterson presiding.
After the loyal toast, the Chairman eaid he was very pleased to see such a representative gathoring, and welcomed rimgers from other districts. He hoped this, tho first meeting of the year, was a yood augury for the coming meetings-it was a plensure to see such a good meeting-and he hoped that ringers would support the district preetings during the year.

Mr. Pickering proposed a wote of thanks to tho Zector for use of the bells, and this was carried with acciamation.
It was proposed that the mext meeting be hela ot Gateshean in March. The date will be published in "The Einging World.

Further ringing afterwards tools place, the methods including Kent Treble Bob Major, Grandsire aual Stedman Triples and Danuble Norwich, the belle being broughte down in peal at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{ms}$. It was a very happy gathering, and the learners were quite pantlusiastie at this, their arst matily, all getting a goon slare at the bells. All thoge present are looking forward to the next meeting ; others are asked to remember Gateshead in March and to watch 'The Ringing World' for the date.

RINGING [N WEST CORNWALL Fo the Editor.

Sin, With regard to tike paragraph in lagt week's issue of "The Ringing Work,' headed 'West Cornmall IRivgers Busy,' and signed A. S. A notics of the annual meeting of the Chester Branch of the Chester Diocesan Quild says 'impontant business with regard to the Cathedral bells is on the agenda. 'Is this the first 'whisper' of a coming augmentation P And will Chester have tho next ring of twelve? Ab present there is a heavy ring of eight.
The parishionerg of St. Olement's, Jersey, G.I., last week accepted the offer of Plizabeth, Lady Knott, to provide a carillon of 17 bells for the Parish Church tower, in memory of the late Sir James Krott. The specification provides for a bass bell of $7 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt, in A shajp.
Mr. George Grills, hon. secretary of the First Jersey Guild of Handbell Ringers, informe ue that this will be the third chime in Jersey, the others being at St. Mark's, six bells, and St. Matthew's, eight bells. SIt. Thomas' Ohurch (R.O.) has five bells hang for swinging in Contimental style. 'We doplore the fact that wa are still without a ringing peal of bells in Jersey," he says, "but while we live, we hope."
In connection with the annual meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberiand Youthe on January 25tj, Shoreditch bells (12) will be open for ringing at 2.30 p.m. It was hoped that St. Bride's, Fleet Street, would also be available, but, unfortunstely, upforeseen circumstances prevent this.

A peai of Grandsire Doubles at Livtle Horkesley, on the last day of the year, was rung by a band, four of whom had not rung a E eal before, while the other ringev rang his first as conductor. The peal Was scored at the first attempt-a meritorious performance.

By the peal of Grandsire Caters, at Worsley, where recently the bells were augmented to ten, Messrs. William Jones and Joseph Ridyard celebrated 25 yeais as ringers, and Mr. P. H. Derbyshire 40 years as a ringer. It was also a birthday peal for the last-named, his 'brother strings ' wishing him many happy returns. It was the first peal on the bells since the old ring of eight was recast and two trebles added by Taylor and Co. They were dedicated on Saturday, October 19th. Further interest is added to the performance by the fact that it was the first peal of Caters by all except the conductor.
Mr. Tom O'Bara, of Sheffeld, whose death is recorded in another column, was proud of the fact that his was the first name printed in 'The Ringing World.' He was the riuger of the treble in the first peal that was recorded in the first issue.
Two items of news from New Zealand. At Ghristchurch Cathedral progress is held up for a tims by the absence of thiee of the bandone gome to North Island, one to the extreme end of South Island and the other to Duncdin. It is not easy to replace ringers in this part of the world.
'It's an ill wind that blows nobody good,' and we hear that the wisit of the Christchurch ringer to Dunedin has enabled the handbell practice of Bob Major to be taken up, Mr. J. S. Wilde and two others have for some time been mectivg weckly, and can now ring 720's in six methods fairly well.
The ring of eight of Coseley Church, Staffe, is to be recast and rehumg in a now frame by John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. At present the bells are a very poor toned peal, and it will be a great acquieition to the district for this to be transformed into a musical and pleasing ring.
The venue of the meeting of the Western District of the Hartford County Association, fixed for Apsley on January 25 th, lzas had to be changed to Redhourn.

DEATH OF THE REV. C. A. CLEMENTS.

MASTER OF THE GHDSTER DTOCESAN GOIJD.
A brief intimation has just reached us of the death of the Rev. Charles A. Olements, Master of the Ohester Diocesan Guld and ong of its representatives on the Ceatral Gouncil since 1927.
He had been a member of Cambridge University Guild since 1887 and took part in many interesting performances with that society. He went to Cambridge in 1887, in the same year as the brothera E. B. and H. L. James and Herbert Drake, and rang the tenors to the Guild's first peal of Bob Major 'ir hand" in November, 1890. In the following February, with the Rev. A. H. F. Bonghey and E. B. and H. L. James, he took part in the first peal of Double Norwich Major ever rung on handbells.
Having entered Holy Orders, le rang in 1894 in the first peal of Grandsire Triples for the Guild, at Sawston, Cambs, and it is interesting to note that in that band were G. F. Woodhouse, the Iate Rev. O. W. O. Jenkyn (then on undergraduate) and W. J. Conybeare (now Archdeacon of Nottinghaw). This was also the first poal rung by the Guild on tower bells. He also took part at Darlington in 1908 in a peal of Kent Treble Bob rung by clerical members of the Guild, and the names of this band are worth recalling. They were the Revs. H. Law James, H. S. T, Richardson, A. H. F. Boughey, E. W. Garpenter, H. J. Elsee, C. A. Clements, W. W. C. Baker and C. W. O. Jenkyn, every one of whom has occupied some promiveat position in the Exercise and all of whom have served or are serving on the Qentral Council. The same day, with the exception of the Rev. T. Leris Jones in the place of the Rev. A. H. T. Boughey, the same band rang a peal of Bob Majar at Bishop Auckland.

In mora recent times Mr. Clements has been unable to take much part in peal ringing, but he lrept his comection with the art through his office in tho Chester Diocesan Guild.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

BLSHOP MEETS MTMBERS AT ANNUAL DINNER

President of the Central Council and Peal Ringing.

One of the most enjoysble in the series of dinners which have been held by the Guildforl Diocesan Guild took place at the Lion Hotel, Guildford, on Saturday. If the number attending was not quite so large as in the previons year-88 were present representative of all the four districts-the evening was an extremely pleasant one. The Bishop, who is president of the Guild, met the members for the first lime, and, having greeted each one of the company as they ontered the dining hall, presided over the proceedings. He was supported by the Provost (Very Rev, E. C. Kirwan) and Mr. Walter Harrison (vicepresidents), Canon G. F. Coleridge (Mastar of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Canon E. M. Girling (Farnham), the Rev. Bankes-Jones (Bagshot), Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guild, Gapt. H. J. Cann, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fughes. Among those also present were Mr. J. Corbett (hon. treasurer) aud Mrs. Corbett, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hon, secretary), Mr. T. W. Roters (hon. secretary, Winchegter and Portsnouth Diocesan Gusid), Messrs. A. T. Greenwood, T. R. Taylor and Hobertson (Portsnouth), J. P. Fidler (Loughborongb), H. E. Anderson (Croydou), M. Th. Taylor (Hobart, Tasmania), etc. A telegram of good wishes was received from Mr. John Pelloe (son of the Rector of Chiddingfold), who is a member of the Guild.

After the repast, the loyal toast was honoured.
: Oni President was proposed by Mr. Walter Harrison, who reminded the assembly of the Bishop's record of achievement during his first year as diocesan of visiting 107 par ishes in the diocese.

THE MINISTRY OT BELSRINGLNG.
Responding, the Bishop said le was reminded of a picture that nppeared in 'Punch' at the end of the war of a Somerset lad who was in an French village which had recently been in the occupation of the Germans. Ho was mooning about the village and campacross a notice in German, ' Zum unterstandeu, which meant 'This way to the dug-out.' Not being a German scholar, the Somerset lad scratched his head and remarked, "Zun understand and zum don't' (laughter'). When it came to bellinging, he (the Bishop) was halfway between the position of 'Zum understand and zum don't.' He could not pretend he understood the mysteries and perplexities of change ringing. He had been talking with the Mayor and Provost about detective stories, and one of the most delightifl he Had read concerned bell-Jinging-' Tho Nino 「ailors.' In it there was a long column of figures which caused hin to regard them with very preat respect, for he must say, like tho Sowerget lad, 'Zum I don't understand.'

There wes another side of ringing which he did clain to understand, and that was the very important character of the service which was rendered by bellringers. The sound of church bells was one of those things which touched a variety of simple haman chords. That sentiment wrs embodied in Tenayson's famaus quolation of the sound of the bells over the Lincolnshire wolds. 'You and $I_{\text {' }}$ caid Dr. Mnemillan, 'have difereut kinds of ministries in the service of the Church. Yours is a rainistry which may in some unconscious way think you cen silently apply it to yourself.'

The Bishop expressed liss pride at being president of the Guild, and ajpealed to the older and stronger branclies in the diocese to make a great effort to hold out the great hand of fellowship to thoso who were doing the work in the smaller parishes and tyy and make the Guild cover the whole divecse. He was constantly grateful to the sound of the church beils, and he loved to come up their High Street in Guildford and hear tho two peals ring (applause).

IMPORTANOE OF PEALS

The tonet of 'The Guildford Diocesan Guild' was submitted by Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council of Church Beliningers), who congratulated the Guildford Guild on its progress. They were one of the youngest of the diocesan guilds and a very fine child for their age (applause). He was told that tho Guild covered 70 per cent. of the possible towers, which was very satisfactory. It was a much hiyher percentage than that covered by the Kent Association, although they were somothine like six times as old. At the same time he felt they should bs 100 per cent. and rope in every tower in the diacese.

Fe understood there was one thing which was hindering their Guild and that was the difficulty of getting towers in which to ring peals. He did not want to advocate competition in the number of peals, but in the quality of peals. It was a little diflicult to explain to imoumbents why they wanted to ring peals. There wes something about ringing a peal which taught a ringer to strike and handle his bell in et why which he clid not think anything else could da. The ordinary short touch scarcely gave time to get used to the bell before it was all over. It was only after a quarter-pal that a ringer could gettle down and polish up kis zinging and the finer points of striking at which they all ought to aim.

Amid laughter, Mr. Lewis drew an analogy between ringing and rowing. He reminded the two Oxford men on his left (the Bishop and Ganon Coleridge) that Cambridge's success was due to the fact that before they left Cambridge they ladi a tea mile pull every day for a fortnight. The long pull satureted the crew with the rliythm of rowing, and that was the gane with peal ringing.
rithere were some people who objected to bells, but on the whote they were a very smail minority. There were people to whom the cound of bells was a positive torture-about the same proportion of people who could not stay in a room with a cat of to whom strumberries were poison. He was sure the vast majority of people in this country loved bells, provided the striking was good.
There were circumstances where the sound of bells watod to be kept out, and that could be done with little expense. The sound of bells, particularly the modern harwonic tuning, sometimes required some modification. The iden was wat the sound should be thrown upwards and not downwards, so that it stretched around the town and not in the immerliate vicinity of the tower. The most famous example was Lincoln Cathedral, where Mr. Law James arranged for the bells to be dropped 40 ft . sa that they could hardly be heard in the Close, bui could be heard in the town. At the new church at Chislehurst, acting on the advice of Cwin Coleridge, they arranged to lave no opening in the side of the tower, but in the roaf. He listened outside, and it was possible to carry on an ordianry couversation. One had to go a quartier or half a mile away to get the full beauty of the bells. Where bells were noisy outside some steps ghould ba takan to modify the sound ly blocking up with 4in. brickwork a part of tho inside of the louvres. They wanted to experiment with the bells while bricking up the louvies to find the right height.

MANY RESTORATIONS.

Mr. 3. S. Goldsmith, who replied, said as far as the Guild was concerned they might say they had a successful jear. Ho could say they were a happy family and got on remarkably well together. One of the things which pointed to the success of the Guild was the increasing number of bell restorations in the diocese. They had in their Master (Major Hesse) one of the mosto expert people in regard to bell ergineering and bell hanging they could find in the conntry, and he only wished lis services ware more frequently callex upon in the diocese. However, he had done some excellent work, and they hoped ho would do more. During the past twelve months there had been six restorations. There was the recastiug of Albury bells, restorations at Witley, Ewell and Dorking and the recnsting of the bells at Ockbaw. He believed the bells ati Shalford wore to be rocast frour a peal of six to a peal of eight. That was an exccedingly good record for a diocese like theirs. Restorations were contemplated at Horsell, Ash and Crondall.
It was a pity that the number of peals they rany in the whocesc last year was ouly 27 , of which 25 were on towcr bells. Of that number, 11 were rung during Jubile weok. Last year there were $E 7$ peals rung without the incentive of the Jubilec. There had been a cradual drop in the number of peals since 1931, when they rang no only eight towers, while out of 29 six-bell towerg there was only seven where a peal was permitted. Peals were not thb only thing that mattered, but it was no question that peal linging meani good service ringing. Another thing the Guild had done was wo start a benevolant fund for those members who mirht Fill on evil times. That was angrat step forward and showed an excellent spirit. They had still a mumber of towers outside the Guild, and they would welcome those rillgers if they would come in. The only way was for the clergy and the Church authorities to take up the cudgels aur buhace then Major J. H. B. Hesse extended a cordinl invitation to "The Visitors, especially the Mayor of Guildford, and expressed the hope that, ho would find time during his year of office to trisit one or both of the Guildford towers (applause). He could not regard Canon Coleridge as a visitor. Fe has known hin for 34 years and fung peals wilh Mr. M. Taylar, fronr Tasmabia.

Tha Mayor of Guildford, who replied, confessed to being onn of those who did not understand the mysteries of bellinging. He was absolutely devoted to the sound of English chureh bells. Cliange ringing was a defnitely English thing which only Englislamen bad practisca. of an Englislman could appreciate. Ho always folt the B.B.C. did well to choose that heautiful mramoplone record of Bow bells to signify the interval period in the progremme. Most of thom, althouph they started to criticise, had got to love that more than aly other interval signal.

ABSOLDTE PERFTKTJON.

All of them in life found at one time or another some momente in their lives which reached absolute perfection. One such moment oceurred to lim in November, 1928 , immediately after the death of Queen Alexandra, when le was walking alorg the North Downs to Shere. As ha was desceuding in the half-misty dusk into Shere village the bells were ringing a half-mmufled peal in Honour of Qucen Alexandra, and that cameo of hifo for those ten minutes lic wonld Alezandra, and that cameo of forget. It was one of the monts of absolute perfection that lie liad experjenced (applause).
The entertaiument was very lappily chosen. There was community singing to accompaniments played by Mr. H. Cyphus, and handbell solos of great beauty and charm by Mrs. A. A. Hughes. Somgs were sung by Mr. H. Platit and touches were rung on haudbells, The surprise of the evening was the fiast public exhibition of a new "ringing machiue,' presented hy the hon. secuetary, whith successfully rang a course of Grandsire Triples with no little moriment, To the unthe art of change ringing.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM

OTFICERS RE-ETTGTED.
The annual moetiug of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Bironingham was held on Saturday, January Ath, wt the Tamworth Arms, Moor Street, Mr. Vice-President ${ }^{J}$. H. Shepherd being in the chair, owing to tho absence of the Master (Aldernan J. S. Pritcheti) though illness.
The Cbairmun referred to the loss the Guild lad sustained by the death of Mr. Harry Misson. Fe had personally known him for 45 yogre, and coukd testify to his charming personality. He asked all to stund for a moment as a mark of respect.

An npolory was zoud from the Ringing Master (Mr. T. E. Haynes), who was thet day attending the wedding of Mr. W. H. J. Hooton and Miss Lewis.

Tho president and vice-presidents of the Guild were re-elected en bloc.
Mr. W. Davies proposed the election of the Rev. H. MeGowan, Vicar of Aston, ss in wiee-presidenk, and, in doing so, referred to the anthusiastic way the Vioar had worked, often against much opposition, in order to get the new peal of twelpe at Aston.-The motion was sceconted by Mr. G. Swann.-Mr. Councillor Paddon Smith, in supporting the regolution, said that now the Guild had two peale of twelve for hendquarters it was only fittiug that the Yicar of Aston sliould be a vice-president.-The resolution was unenimousl's adopted.

OONGRATULATIONS TO THE MASTER.
Tho secretary read a letter he had received from the Master, in wich he referred to his advancing jenrs and ill-health, and for that reason placed his resignation in their hinds. They all verretted the absence of the alderman from that meeting, and wisher hims a speedy rocovery. He was aleo bure he was expressing their wishes when he snid they desired him to agrin accept the offce of Master of the cuild, and lie, therefore, had much pleasure in proposing his re-election.-This was seconded by Gouncilor Paddon Smith and carried umamously. The seovelay was also instructed to convey the cougratulntions and best wishes of the meeting to the aldernan on attaining his 8184 avniversary.
The Ringing Master, Mr. F. F. Fsymes, M.A.; the trustees. Messrt. Tom Russam and A. Paddou Smith; anditors, Mossis. Jonathan Fretton and E. T. Allaway; librarian, Mr. A. F. Swann, were all unanimously re-olected on the proposition of Mr. F. Withers, zeconded by Mr. J. George.
Tho hon. geuretary andi treasurer, Mr. T. H. Theeves, was also reelecked o: the proposition of Mr . W. C. Dowding, seconded by Mr. A. Willser.

The treusurer presented the annual balnuce sheet and reporter au increased balance in hand of 83 . The anditors having giten their report, the balance shect wrs unanimously adopted.
Tho now membere wero clected-Messrs. J. Gibson, of Erdington, and P. G. Foneybourve, of Sutton Coldfeld.
It wha decided to loeld the next quarterly meeting af Edgbaston and the bi-guartorly at Perry Barr.

HENRY JOTNEON COMMEMORATION DINNER
Tlua secrotatry reporled that he Irad booked the Connaught Room AL Who Imperial Hotel for Snturday, Febinary $29 t h$, and it was unamiinously agreed to invite tho Rector of St. Martiu's, Canon T. Guy Rogert, to pregide.
This concluded the husimess, and tho meeting then resolved itself into an very pleasant socia! gathering. This was the fret meeting held at the Lemporth Arms since the Great War, and seweral of the older momhers of the Guild became very reminiscend of the former gatherings which lind trken place in that room.
Sevrral gond honches werg mung on the handbells as well as tance, secompanied by Mr: Albert Wrilker at the piano. Mr. Farry Withers enlivencd the evening with several songs, inoluding the famous 'Bob Mujor. ${ }^{\text { }}$

FUN AND FROLICS AT HESTON.

SUGCESSFUL MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION FUNGTION
The fourth amual 'do" of the South and West District of the Middleser Country Asseciation was held on the first Saturday of the New Ferr-and a very good start for the year, too.
Ringing, naturally, commenced the proceedings. Phe six bells at Norwood Green, under the direction of Deputy Master W. H. Coles, and the octave all Heston, with Ringing Master G. M. Kilby in clarge, had the full attention of many ringers during the afternoon. We hear 'surpriking' things were done with some Minor-splicing and all that-now really, Bili, whet would Jim Hunt say about it? It was a festive occasion and, shall we say, privileged?
Ronnd about 6 o'clock the Village Hall became the scene of much inctivity. How nice it is to watch ringers meeting old friends, andcam ringars talk? There appeared to be the greatest reluctance to gather round the 'festive board, until the scentorian voice of the head waiter, an old friend, too, sent everyone scurrying to their seats!
The happy party of aearly eighty sat down to an enjoyable supper, under the chairmanship of the Vicar of Heston, the Rev, G. Orages, He was supparted by the vice-president (Mr. J. A. Trollope), the Ringing Master, Deputy Ringing Master, hon. treasurer and Mrs. Collins, and the hon. secretary and Mrs. Goodfellow. Many wolfknown ringers were present, including Messrs. E. C. S. Turner, J Bennet, H. Kilby, W. Willims, J. H. Riding, F. Carke, J. Herbert and Mus. Herbert, Mr. and Mre. W. T. Elson, etc. Ten lady ringers were present (without the limmony being disturbed!), and numerous wives and girl friends were there to see fail play. The president (the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane) was delayed by car trouble, fnd was only able to pay a short, but none the less welcome, wisit later in the evening. Apologies for absence were received from the Vicars of Brentford, Ealing and Isleworth, Messrs. G. ' ${ }^{\text {C. Coles and W. H }}$ Hollier.

At the conchusion of the supper, the loyal toast was duly lonoured. The Vicar of Feston, whose presence was required at the old pcople's party, also being held that evening, gave the association a hearty welcome to Heston before leaving. Heston, he said, is now a very different place to what it was years ago. Then they liad green fields, orchards and nurgeries. Two of the things be liked best in Heston were the beautiful old church and the bells (applause). He thourght the bells played a very large part in the life of Heston, and he heard very fow complaints from peoplo who objected to the ringing. Someune told him only the other dey that he had had a letter from a friend in Canada, who would give anything to hear Heston bells again. Contiming, the Vicar said he was very grateful to the ringers for ringing the hells. It appeared to him that there was a very great problem confronting young people in these days of comparatively short hours of work, and that was what to do with thely leisure. What better could they do than tnike up the fascinating art of eliange inging? He was always pleased to do what he could for the ringers and their ringing.
The vice-president thanhed the Supper Committee, Messrg. Chandler Gladmen and Goodfellow, for fheir labours, and was supported vociferousiy from all parts of the room.
The tables lawing been renoved, the remainder of the evening was devoted to a sucial programme, which catered with appareat success for both young and old. Joe Herbert and Miss K. M. Bradford led the way witlo some rousing choruses to mat everyone in good spirit. Double musidal chairs followed with a prize for the winmers. A very fine course of Grandsire Caters was rung by Miss F. Himphrey, Messra. Kilby, Trallope, Tumer and W. Williams and received the pplause it dearved.
Miss K. M. Bradford, who was frequently at the piano, was joined hy her sister, and their dueta on that instrument gave great delight (o the many appreciative critios in the audience. Honorary members actively interested in the assaciation are not ofter found fiming in progranme of this sort, and a genuine surprise jtem follow when Mr. F. Stamp, of Brentford, demonstrated some clever conjuring tricks. The Vicar, with his usual thoughtuiness, sent over two turns that appeared at the oId people's party. Mr. S. Haywood, month organ soloist and champion of Great Britnin, 1919-27, displayed hes versatility over a zange of nearly a dozen instruments of all shapes and sizes. 'Dr. Brown's' whinlwind entrance, perionnance and exit gave great amusement. Fis market place oratory- since taking 987 hoxes of your pills, I pow have ball bearings in every joint lhreatened to have a serious effect on those whose laughter was besoming uncontrallahle! As the two persistent amateurs sarg later,
Youl can't do that there 'pre?
And so the evening pissed. Games and dancing were very popnlar Rugby enthusiasts had a treat when the male members plaved hendhall witly a balloon (or balloonsl). There were scrums, ruslies, fouls nnd injuries as well! A real good 'rourh house,' The ladies were more genteel, but not much 1 Auld Lang Syne, with the company joining hands in the time-honoured fakhon, comcluded a most successful rening.

BRANSTON, LINCS.-At All Baints' Ghurch, on Novemher 1st, 720 of Cembridge Surprise Minor: Moses B. Billiggs (first 720 as con ductor) 1, Walter Tomlinson 2, Joseply Canham (first 720 of Cam hridge) 3, Kennetlı W. Mayer 4, Jack T. Millhonse 5, John Walden h Rung for the patronal festival.

MARRIAGE OF MR. W. H. J. HOOTON & MISS D. M. LEWIS PRETYY GEREMONY AT BRASTED.
There were picturesque and animated scenes at Brasted, Kent, ou Saturday week, when, as already briefly reported in these columns Miss Dilys Mary Lewis, detrohter of the president of the Central Council, and Mrs. E. H. Lewis, was married to Mr. Wilfyed Henry John Footon, M.C., eldest son of the Rev. H. G. Footon and Mrs. Hooton, of Cambridge, headmaster of Lindley College Preparatory School, Leicestershire, and non-resident secretary of the Cambridge University Guild.

The bride is keenly interested in horticulture, and passed through Swanley Gollege, securing her B.Sc. London (Hort.). She also serves on the Community Conncil of Kent, aud at one time was a follower of the Bolebroke Bearles.

A large congregation, iucluding some 200 guests, filled St. Martin's Church, the company including mayy well-known ringers.

The service was condricted lyy the bride's uncle, the Rev. H. S. T Richardson (Rector of St. Nicholas', Hereford), and the Rev. JJ. Y. E Bryan (Rector of Brasted). The bridegroom's father, who was to have officiated, was ungble to be present owing to illness.
A large crowd gathered at the pietaresque old church to witness the ceremony, and the bride, with her three attendants, made a charming picture in auch delightful surraundings.

The bride was given in marriage by ber father, and she wore her great-grandmother's beautiful Irish lace wedding dress, set over a gown of pale, gold tissue. She wore a brooch set with sapphires and pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She capried a sheaf of auratum lilies.

Tho bridesmaids were the Misses Agatha and Berbara Lewis (sistere of the bride) and Miss Margaret Hooton (sister of the bridegroom) They caried sheafs of mimosa and daffodils. Their silver hand-made brooches studded with jewels were the giits of the bridegroom. Mr. Martin Hooton (bridegroon's brother) was best man
The church was beautifully decorated with yellow flowere and ever groens, and the hymus, "God be in my head,' 'All people that an earth do dwell ' and St. Patnick's hynn were sung. Mr. Miller was at the organ

The groomswen were Mir, D. Thursfield and Mr. H. St. G. Footon.
Tho reception was beld at Moorcocks, when noarly 200 guests wero present, and later the bride aud bridegroom left for a motoring tour in Wales

The bride and bridegroom are to reside at Lindleg Lodge, Higham-on-the-Fill, Leicestershire.
A peal, recorded in another column, was rung at Brasted in the afternoan by members of the Cambridge Cniversity Guild, and the bells at Westerham and Sevenoaks Parish Churches were also rung in hodour of the event.

RINGERS' WEDDINGS:  A FAMILY OF RINGERS.

At St. Peter's Church, Twineham, Sussex, on Boxing Div, the wedding took place of Mr. Erncst Frank Packham and Miss Muriel Mad Sayers. The bridegroom is a member of the local band of ringers, and a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung in honour of the marriage: George Alhert Jackham, jun. (conductor) (brother of bridegroom) 1, Frederich Charles Packham (brother of bride groom) 2, Gharles Wickens 3, Fruest Willey 4, William Harry PackJam (brother of bridegrom) 5. Hr. W. ## THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY

NEW EDTTMON PUBLISFTD
The furth edition of the Directory of Churcin Bellringers, fubjished by the Bristol United Ringing Guilds, is now on sale. It hes onlgrown its predecessors very considerably, and now mounts up to mora than 170 puges of information. It coatains the names and addresses of morc than 1,600 ringers, and information in respect of approximately 3,750 towors, the particulars in respect to more than 750 ineluding the number of bells, tenor weights, times of Sunday rimging and practice nights.
The nficials of all the associations and cuilds are given, and a valunble sedtion is one contuining hints for young conductors, written ly Mr. J. 'T'. Dyke.
Tho Directory is a mosl useful work of reference, which every ringer should possess, It increases in scope and value with? every mition, and the Exercise owes a debt of gratitude to those hardworking members of the Directory Sub-Committee who have so painglakingly compiled the information.

The committee, in the rreface, romark that the work already accomplished can bo the sound basis of at yet more complete and accurate roference book, and this is quite tirue. Its future depends on The support which the ringers themselves give it, but in the meantime The fourtil edition is a wonderful shillingsworth. Before it is enLirely sold out, those who have not alrendy secured a copy should Corward their shilling to the hon. secretary, Mr. Edgar Guise, 46a, 'Thukurd's Close, St. Michael's, Bristol.

INJURED BY BELL CLAPPER.

上1,200 DAMAGES FOR BOY.

An action of some importance to Ohurch authoritios was alecided in the King's Bench Division on Mondzy, when Mr. Justice Hilbery awarded $£ 1,200$ damages to at boy, Charles Edward King, of Bromdstairs, now aged toe yenrs, for injurifes sustained when the clappler of a bell al. St. Peter's Romen Catholic Church, Broadstairs, fell and severely damaged his slcull. The only question for tho Cont was tho nmount of damages, liability being adaitited. The boy's father, Charles Edward King, was awatded 224 agreed special damages.
Tho dofendants were Dr. P. E. Amigo, Bishop of Sonthwark, and uther tratitees of St. Peter's Church, the Rev. Mrirtin de Vidts, priest-in-charge at the time, and Messrs. James Longley and Co., Ltad, of Crawley, who hung the bell in 1931
Mr. Clinrles Dourhty, K.U., for ihe plaintifis, said that in July, 1934, tho boy was ringing the bell at the church, of which hie parents were members, when the clapper foll from the bell. It dropped a great height and stuck the boy on the top of the head.
'It was remarkable that le was not killeal,' said counsel, 'His whull was broken and crushed in.' He lay unconscious for a eonsider"Flo time before he was missed. He was then found near the rope which ho had beon pulling. Tho damaged bone was removed aud leter the boy was fitted with a skwll cap in which was an aluminuma plate covering tho injured place. He wouk have to wear something of the linal all his ife. The accident had serionsly affected the boy's healtin.
Giving juldment, Mr. Jastice Hilbery said the boy, knowing that the Lop of his skull was not complete, would be apprelensive of intury for the rest of his life.

THE PASSING OF OUR KING.

To-day the whole Empire is mourning the death of its Sovereign, and sorrow at the passing of our King is profound throughout the civilised world. We, who are members of the British Commonwealth of nations, have lost not only the head of the State, but, so deeply had His Majesty endeared himself to the hearts of his people, there are few who do not also fee! that we have lost the head of what His Majesty himself so aptly described as ' this great family.' There is among us to-day a sense almost of personal bereavement and those who on Christmas Day heard, perhaps, with a thrill, the King's voice in their own homes calling them his 'very dear friends,' experienced the pangs of deep sorrow when through the same medium of wireless on Monday night they learned the fateful tidings of the passing of a very human monarch, a great king and a great man. In ail humility we add our contribution to the expressions of grief that have swelled over the world and our respectful condolence with Her Majesty the Queen and the members of the Royal Family.
Already throughout the country the bells in out church towers, which but a few short months ago were joyfully pealing for the King's Silver Jubilee, have been sounding in muffled notes for the passing of His Majesty. The tolling of the great bell of St. Paul's Cathedral on Tuesday morning, according to age-old custom, marked the beginning of the solemn tribute of the bells in every town and village, where once more they are the interpreters of the feelings of the people. There is, we venture to say, no greater national expression of sorrow than the sound of muffled bells, spreading out over the land from the churches-the spiritual home of the people - which at such a time as this has, to many, a deeper significance than usual. Ringers need no prompting on an occasion like the present. Far and wide throughout this country they have already begun their mournful task, which will be discharged in no perfunctory spirit, but with a sense of responsibility and in the knowledge that, although modern science brought the news of the King's death into the homes of the people within a few minutes of his passing, there still remains to them the duty, handed down through the centuries, of marking the passing of their Sovereign and of expressing, through the bells, the nation's grief.

This is one of the occasions, sad though it is, when the public themselves look for the sound of the bells and nowhere, we feel sure, will they be disappointed. The period for muffled ringing will extend to the day of the funeral, and, for that occasion, special ringing will, we hope, be arranged in every tower. In practically every church, we imagine, there will be a memorial service at the hour of the Royal funeral, and the ringers' tribute to the King should reach its climax at that time, when, as a prelude to those mourning services, muffled bells throughout the land should synchronise in their ringing.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

PROTEST TO THE B.B.C.
On Saturday, Janatry 11uh, at meeting was held at Hadleigh, Siffolle, when owing to obher athractions only 20 ringers, including two visitors from Essex, turned up. However, this number reprosented 14 difteront lowers, nud came from Sudbury, Long Melford, Groton, Uffort, Little Waldingicld, Mendlesham, Sploughton, Woodlaridge, Chelusford, Spriugfield, Stoke Ash, cud Iprwich (St. Clement's, St. Mathew's and St. Mary-le-Rower). Four lady ringers came from Springield, St. Matthew's and St. Mary-le-Towor.
The ringing iucluded Bob Major. Suportative, Cambridge. Double Norwich, Stedman, Grandsire Triples and Oxford Treble Bob. Jea was presided over by the Dean of Bocking.
At the subsequent meetivg it was decided to write to the B.B.C. protesting against the treatment of ringing for broadcast services. It was suggested that the B.B.C. be asked to appoint a ringer to their staf, whom they could consult when broadcasting from churches where there are ehange ringers.
The seeretary roported that it. was hoped to get the reports in the printer's lands early next montly.
Good use was made of the fine peal of eight (tonor 28 ewt.) until 7.30 .

The last nine conrses three times repeated.
Bristol is only rung when terminated by a bob 'W.' Fourth's place bobs used throughout. Tigures of Superlative (No. 2) have not yet been published.

SHROPSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.

A well-known Shropshire ringer, who was formerly a member of the band at Farnhan, Survey, lias passed away in the person of Mr. Frederick Alexander Barnett, of Wem, A native of Kent, Mr. Barnett was fommerly hend brewer of the Farmham United Breweries. His brother, the late Mr. G. A. Barnett, was captain of the Fambarn baud in the latter years of last century, and these two did much to lift the Farnham band out of the rut of Grandsire Triples.
Mr. Fred Barnett went to Wem over 20 yenrs ngo to take up another appointment, and became leader of the Wem Parish Church ringers and a member of the Parochial Clunch Council, of which he was secretary for a considerable period. He was also for many years Rector's warden. He was a member of the Sluropslire Association and formerly a member of the old Wiachester Diocesen Guild.

A SIXTEENTH CENTURY BELL FRAME. To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-In the tower of St. George's Clurcl, Salam Honcy, Norfolk, may be seen a wonderful structure of oak beans of great aize forming a cage or framewort for hanging bells. This remarkable exampla of craftsmanship in wood was in all probability constructed to hold three heavy bells which are known to bave been in existence to hold tiree heavy bells whin are known to have been m existence in the time of Edward VI. (c. 1547). There is good reason to believe it was constructed at the end of the fifteenth century to contain these bells, for the stout and fine tower was built. then. The cage has been altered from time to time to suit first five bells and later six. Thinough the centuries these have been rung to call the villagers to service aud mark occasions of public rejoicings, victories, marriages, births and deatis.
The age of bell carges is still something of a mystery. Tliere is reason to believe that others still remain which are as old, but precise ovidence of this is not so good in any other case known to the writer. The cage is not now strong enough for its purpase and a new on: is being made, and at the same tima the parish is repaicing the tower. Everyone knows that such works strain the resources of a country parish. The Rector is anxious ta preserve the old cage in the tower, aud those who have knowledge of bells and bellinging feel that this is very desirable.

In the circumstances the parish cannot raise money to do thin. This society, therefore, appenls to your yeaders to send subscriptions to the Rector for this work. The cost is estimated at $550-\mathrm{a}$ sman! sum when the importance of the 'cage' is considered. Contributions should be seat to the Rector, the Rev. M. H. Richmond, Saham Toney, Thetford, Norfolk, for this purpose, or to me.

Secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildinge. 20, Buckingham Street, Adelpli, W.C.2.

DEATH OF PERRY BARR RINGER-

To the Faitor.

Dear Sir,-This week's sad evart affords a supreme instance of the practical value of the Gentral Council's recommendation adopted at Liverpool and made known through your columns to the Exercise.

Naturally all ringing at meetiogs held on Saturday will be done with anafled belis.

It may also be suggestred that, where a tower is witlout mufles, a set ba obtained-or ever extemporised-in time for His Late Majesty's funeral.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

There were many visitors in Bristol for the B.U.R.G. diuner last Saturday, and, as usual, most of them made their hendquarters at the Grosvenor Hotel. As, this year, no reports have reached us of furniture removals, we imagine they spent a quiet nirgt-after they got to bed.
The Jrondon County Association is promoting a series of elementary twelve-bell ringing practices. The first took place at Bow, and the next is scheduled for Cripplegate. The sole object is to encourage twelve-bell ringing among those who at present have little or no opportuwity for practice on this number, and the scleme deserves every support.

At the rge of 73 yeare Mr. F. C. Cooke has just rung his first peal with a bob bell. In 1902 and, next, in 1934 he rang the treble to peals of Grandsire Triples. Now he has scored a peal of Eent Treble Bob on an 'inside' bell at Crayford.

The mea of 1,000 peals hope to meet for a peal in the Gity of London in February, perhaps on tho 15th. The "Bills" hope to ring a peal at Ealing on February 2nad if all goes well, and the bachelorg will make an attempt, somewhere in Middlegex, on Leap Year's Day, Februny $29 t h$, when, we are informed, dear Kato will be asken to act as umpire.

The peal of Suffolk Surpriso Major recorder in our last issua was rung at Helmingham, not Framsden as stated.

Messrs. John Taylor and Co, Loughborouth, bave received the order to rehang tha ring of five bells of Longparish Churcli, Hants. The peal is to be tuned and relnigg with new fittings in new frame and a new troble added to completo the peal of six.
The bells of the Wigan Parish Church will be heard over the air on Sunday, February 9th, from 5.45 to 6 p.m.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION,

JIVERPOOL BRANOH WELCOMED BY NEW RECTOR.
A most successful and enjoyable meeting of the Liverpool Bramch of the Lancashire Association was held at St. Nicholas', Liverpool, on Saturday week. Members were prosent from Wigan, Rainford, Aughton, Southpor', Bootle, Woalton (Stt. Luke's), Bredbury, Rock Ferry, Liscard, Wallasey, Birkenhead, Birmingham and Childwall, in addition to the local compary. The serviee was conducted by the nery Rector (the Rev. David Railton), who also gave an excellent address. The church organist, Mr. C. W. Bridson, accompanied with the organ tho singing of the hymns.
Tea was provided in the Church Institute, after which the meeting was presided over by the Rector, who extended $n$ Jearty welcome to the wisiting ringers and gave some interesting accounts of his experiences in former parisles.
A lititle formal business was transacted, at the close of which a vobe of condolence was passed to Mrs. Clements and members of her family in the loss they bave sustained in the passing of the lato Rev. C. A. Clements.
The late Master of the Chester Diocesan Guild was well known in Liverpool and Lancashire and held in the highest esteem. The membors stood iu silence for a short time to mark their respect.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Rector, the organist and ladies who had assisted with the tea arrangements.
The next meeting is to be held at St. Mary's, Walton-on-the-Hill, on Saturday, February 8th.

BRISTOL UNITED RINGING GUILDS

ANOTHEJR GREAT EVENING.

The fifteenth annual dinner of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds was held at the Cadena Cafe on Saturday. The proceedings conumenced witlz riuging at Bristol's famous leaning tower (Temple Church). These hells have recently been rehung. Tifey are a musical eight of about one ton tenor. there has always been some diffeulty in ringing at this tower owing to the fact that it leans 7ft out of upright, and it seems thaf, even now, the third and fourth bells require further adjustment or eareful hauding. The writer was pleased to noto that the elrurel anthorities have had linoleum latd down and the ringing chamber cleaned up for the visitars. At 3 p.m. A mator-coach conveyed 33 of the wisibars through the eity and over the downs to a very charming spot, Henbury, and here the eiglat bells were soon set going. The wisitors were invited to tea with the Vicur of Hentury, after which they were escorted back to the city by the Henbury captain, Mr. J. Gould.
Those not faking part in the tour found the heautiful ten bells of St. Nicholas' Church a vailable from 3 p.m., aud at 4 p.m. the twelve at St. Mary Redcliffe were ready, under the direction of Mr. H. Pring. St. Peter's bells (8) were aIso opert, and over 30 xingers made use of this tower. St. Stephen's (10) werc rung from 5 to 5.45 p.m.. this being used as all overflow towor. Many visitors took full advantage of 'tea and bun' at St. Thomas' during the afternoon
At 6 p.m. all ringing had ceased, and the patw, numbering close on 200 , met at the Cadena Cafe.
Tlue chaimun ( $[1$. H. Knight, of Wringtow) was supported by the Bishop of Malmeslury, the Rer. M. Paterson, the Rev. E. Beddoe, the Rev. Ensor Davies, Mr. A. A. Huglies (College Youthis), Mr. J. W. Jones (hown secrebary, Llandaft Association), Mr. W. H Shuker (bon. secretary, Lancashire Association) and Mrs. Shuker, Mr. A. Walker vice-president, St. Mark Mrs. Waller, Mr. S. After an excellemt dimer, the Glajman, fin giving the toast to His Majesty, expressed regret that the mation had oaluse for anxiety concerming his healih.
The Nabtongl Antien was sumg. Apologies for absence were re ceived from Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Conncil), Mr J. P. Fialler, of Loughborough, Mr. Dennis, of London, and Mr. W. Stafford ( $a$ founder member of the B.U.R.G.).

RINGERS' DEBT TO OHORCH.

The Chairman proposed the toast of "The Church." He said they all greatly appreciated having the Lord Bishop of Malmesbury amonget them. They gave him a very hearty welcome and sincerely hoped that le wonld take away with him happy recollections of a pleasant evening spent among a society whose members are all doing their little bit in the interests of the Charch, of which he was so distinguished a member. The Clarch, coutinued the Chairman, was the greatest institution in the world. Hat it ever struck them what this comtry, and, indeed, the world, would be without our churches? They, as ringers, fnew that they had something in addition to what others lave to thank the Church for, as without their beandiful towers and peals they would be whable to exercise the noble art in whin they were so doeply interested and from which they got so much pleasnice and enjoyment, an art which they hoped gave pleasure to pheasine and enjoyment, an art wh

The Chairman referred to the great support add co-operation which they as a body received from the clergy. It was a great satisfaction to know that they had this assistance, wibhout whim their efforts would be well nich impossible. It had been his pleasure, and no doubt that of many olhers present, to instruct clergy in the ant, and it could not be too widely knowu how pleased they weve to see them in the tower (amplause). Indeed, if they wanted more zingieg, one of the best ways was to get the elergy to be ringers themselves. They had so many beautifud churches with splendid peals of bells in that part of the countary that it was up to them to see that there was plenty of tinging, and not only ringing hut good ringing, and for his part he shonla always do his best to hep to nttain this end. The Chairmas concluded that he appreciated the honour conferred upon him by the Guild in appointing him its chamman, and said he would do his very best in its interests, and for the success of ringers and ringing in general.

HMLPING IN SUPREAE TASK
The Bishop of Malmesbury, who was condialty received, remarked that he was shortly going to a church near Swindon, where it would be difficult to get a bani of ringers, as he had been told that young people would not interest themselves. That was he felt, rery contradictory to what he saw before him, for among that gathering were many young faces. It was always a greab pleasure to bin to see and be with ringers, and they should be proud of their nohle calling and their worderful art of ringing
The Bishop added they were doing something worlh doing in a deeper sense, for the sound of bells was associated will, the thought of higher things. The bells were a call on sad mud joyful occasions, and sent out a great challenge to the world to think of God. Tingers were doing something to help in the supreme task of every Christinn, that of spreading the Gospel of Christ.
The toast to the Gloucesicr and Bristol Diocesan Association was proposed by Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport), who paid great tribute to its early prominent members-the Rev. C. D. P. Daries, Mr: Ehillotw and Mr. F. E. Ward. He, the speaker, was indeloted to the Gloucester and Bristol Association members for his first suceceses in peal maging; and doubtless many more in the room that evening were similarly placed. He wished tho association continued prosperity.
Mr. S. Romens, Master, responding, said that this year was bis jubilee year as a peal ringer for the Gloucester and Bristel Diocesan Association. It was 50 years ago when fre rans lis first peal in Gloucester. During the past year about 100 meetings had been lach by the varions hranclies, and it had been lis privilege to get to sone of them. There was every indication of the continued wosperity that Mr. Jones had so kindly wished them.
Mr. John Austin, in a toast to 'Kindred Societies and Visitors, remarked upon the popularity of the Bristol dinner. He was impressed by the fact that ringers and their wives should tarel so many miles year after year to visit Bristol for that gathering. It was the aim of the Guilds to give every welcome to their visitors. He mentioned the many associations represented in the gathering.
M. A. A. Highes, responding, addressed the rimgers is " Your Bxcellencies.' He said he was quite justified in adaressing them thus, as he knew most of them were excellent ringers. On belalf of the wisitors he expressed thanks to the B.O.R.C. for all the arrangements made for the aftemoon and evening. Mr. Finghes paid tribute to 'The Ringers' Directory,' and said how gratefti] the Exercise mus be to the organisers for this excelicnt and handy book. The B.TT. R.G. were to bs congratulated npon its many improvements in size and quality of paper, etc. He could hardy conceive low it could be produced for a shilling. No ringerr he said, should be witliout a copy
Mr. A. Walker, in proposing the toast of "The Ringing World, urged all mombers to take n weekly copy. It whs obvions that ihe only way to get perfection in everything was ta rive it reasonable support. The Chairman expressed regret that the Editor was unahle to bo with the company that ovening. Earlier in the week Mr. Goldsmith had written to say Mrs. Goldsmith was ill and that it might be impossible for lim to atitend

SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. Donald Marsh, pro, viee-chairman, proposed 'The Artistes,' and said how very gratefinl they were to those who had coutributed to the successful evening.-Mr. G. Cooper (one of the artistes) veplied. He was sure that his fellow-artistes, like himself, had enjoyed the eveuing as much as the rest of the company lad.
The artistes contributing to the programme were Miss Ella Meadowcroft (songs and Lancashire dialect story), Miss Anu Kelly (elocutionist), Mr. E. Vaughan Coleman (mystery) and Mr. Geonge Cooper (entertainer). Two surprise items were piano-accordiou solos and a burlesque song upon Bristol ringers by Mr. A. Richards (St. Peter'm Guild). Incidental music was supplied by Messrs. B. Guise (piano) R. Wittshire (violin), I. Athersucli ('cello) aud R. Amos (bass). The accompanist was Mr. Charles Read, I.S.M. It was with regret that the St. 'Thomas' handbell ringers, so popular at these anmul dinners, had to withdraw at the last moment owing ta the serions illness of one of their members. In ordor ftat the evening should now be without some thae jinging, however, Mr. J. Thomas, of London, and Mr, E. Guise met at 5 p.m. and learned a couple of tunes which thoy rendered later in the evening. A course of Stedwan Cinques was rung by visitors from Birminglam. Sheffiele and London.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DOTUHFSTER BRANCH OELEBRAPES SIEVER JUBILEE

Membership Reaches Recort

Special interegi attached to the munal meeting of the Durchester Branch of the Salistmry Diucesan Guid on Saturday week, when the silver jubileo of the branch was celebrated. During the quarter of a century of its existencs the branch has been one of the most active areas in the Guild, and its growth is proof of the sustamed eneryy with which the officials have conducted its affairs. I'lmoughout the wholo period Mr. C. H. Jennings has filled with enthisiasm the post of hom: sectelary, and it is in no shall measure due to his efforts that the work of the hrawch bas been so sucessfully carried on.
The necting in celebration of the silver jubilee was hetd in Dorchester, fud no fewer than 22 towers were represented in the large gathering. Tho proceodings begna with ringrigg at St. Peten's and St. Gecrese's chturehes, and a thanlsgiviny service was hodd at st. Peter's. The inspiring quild ofice was used, the Rectar (the Rev. A. Wilkinson Markly) and the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. H. Guntry) officiated
In his addiess, the Rector extended a waim weleome to the members on that anspicious occasion. It spoke well for them all, he safd, especially the older members, becanse by their geal and loynlty they had kopt together the differentr bauds af ringers connected with the verious parishes. They had also been an inspiration to tho younger seneration to become ringers. They were thankful to God not only for the silver jubilee, but fer the spirit of perseverance, continaty and trotherhoud which had been shown.
The Rentor based his address on the text, 'Piually whatsoever things aro true. It applied specially, he said, to their work as bellringers. When they were in the belfry fhey must ring true; they mnst ring to time and regularly, male theiv bell as it were consistent, and pull their weight. In the same way, as citizens of this chuntry, everyone was expected to ring tme. Then if they were going to ring troe they must sperk what was trite. 'lhare was no one presert that afternoon who difl mot know that it whas sliffonlt at all bimes and in all places to 㫙eak thal which was trac; but at men and women of God tivey were expected by Him to speak what was thae. Then another thonght was thoy had to act what, was true; to ach a lie was greater than speaking a lio.
After tho zorvice the wembers and friends prutools of a high tea in the Parish mostitute, admiralily served by lady workers of St. Peter's Chateh. The yoom presented a cheery sceue with its Chuistunastide decorations. The large gathering was presided over by the Rev. N. H. Gundry, ind the company itucluded Mr. R. N. Dawes (former chairman of the branch), the Revs. A. W. Markby, F. Lh. Edwards (Kington Mngma, genernl secretary of the Diocesatn Guild), D. F. Slemeek (Charminster), A. S. Bryanli (Upwey), C. A. Plillips (Wimborme), A. F. Godley (Stratton) and IR. P. Fanow (East lulworth), MIr. A. F. Martin Stewatt (former Minster of the Guild) aud Mr. C. H. Jennings (branel secretary)

FPROPRTATELY DESIGNED BIRTHDA产 CAKE

A strikiug' centropiece' at the head table was a hage birthday cake, tho gift of two honorary wembers, Commander and Tris. Honderson. It; was a fine specimen of the confectioner's art, and bore the inseription, "Dormester'manch, Salishury Diocestu Guidd of tingers, 1911-1936. Greetings.' It was cleverly and appropriately desimned. the eranmenkitiou including churel towers, beils, with wheels and ropes, the latter loving sallies and tucked rope ends
With due ceremonial the cake was cut by the claamman, and the tonsi of the donots was drunk with enthuslasma.
At the neetimg which followeal ten, Mr. C. F. Jonnings presented as report, in which he said the past year lind been one of exceptional prorress. The membership showed a [ur har increase mod now stood at the rebard fighre of 170 . It was Inped that another bell-or possibly lwo-might he raded to the existing peal of fonr at, Preston as sont as funds wonla permit. Clance yinting was progressing very atendily, ufthongly some towars were hindicapped owing to members leaving the district. Ho appenled to those towers affected to fil the gaps as foon ns possible. The great feathre of the year as far as theil own hranch was concerned had heen the eight peals of Donbles, soven conductud by Mr. P. Field (Buckland Newton) nurt one by Mr D. Rishon (Everslint). The lon. secretary extended a warm welcome to Torse to the Rev. R. P. Farrow (Vicay of Tast Lulworth), who was well dinown at change ringer. They as a branch looked forward to lis assistance.

We regred to recard the passing of our helowed Bislop, the patran Af our दuifd,' the report udqled. 'He took move thrul a passing interest in all mitr work. We ate prond to pay tribute to the memory of one whi had $n$ wonderfal knowletge of presentitay problems." As a token of respect. a halfomuflean pend of beubles hat heen rung at Buekland Nowton, while every towor ins the hrancle had rundg halfmufted linaches. I'he teport nisn maced on deeord witll regret the death of the Ror. P. W. Taylor (Hern IRegis). The scerelary aclinowlodered the holp that ho had reecived from Mr. J. W. Simith.
The Chaimman conventulated the brameh on celebrating its silver ubiler, and when he inquived how many menbers were presont who jimed when the bimmeh was frrst formed, four stood up
Mr. Dawos, who was the first chaimman and held office for 21 years, aho extended his conrarabiations, and snid il was pleasing to linow that from a small berinning the memberghip now stood at the record of 170. Particularly was he glad that younger members were conning on, for it shawed kenness in the splendid worle of advertising tlie church. No one in a parish or village could hear the bells ringing without knowing that there was a gervice and that they ought to attend it. As vice-chairman and vice-president of the Salisbury Guila, he thasked the ringers for the work they were doing for the Churgh.

REVIEW OF 25 YEARS PROGRESS
Mr. Jennings gave an interesting review of the 25 years' existence of the brancl. He recalled that the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was founded i. 1882 and that its second president, the late Capt. J. E. Acland, was a Dorchester eitizen. By 1897 the nembership had increased to 308 and the Guild was sub-divided into four branches, two for Dorset and two for Wiltshire. The Dorchester (West Dorseb) branch extender from Lyme Resis and Ohardstock in the West to beyond sherbome and Stalbridge in blre North, and including part of the deanery of Purbeck. By 1909, however, only 11 dowers were affliated to the branch-Dorcliester, Puddletown, Bradpole, Beaminster, Bridjoort, Leigh, Maiden Newton, Slierborue, West Lulworth, Wool and Wyke Regis. The same yent the new neal at Nilton Abbey was dedicated, and at the Guild festival held in honour of this event intimation was received that tha West Dorset branch would be divided into three-Dorchester, Bridport and Sherborme to be the respective centres. In 1911 the new Dorehester branch, comprising the towers at Dorchester St. Petor's, Puddletown, West Lalworth, Wool, Wyke Regis and Leigh, was formed. The membership was thet 47. Mr. R. N. Dawes was appointed the first chargatm (a position he held for 21 years), with Mr. G. T. White as Ringing Master and Mr. C. H. Jenniugs as hou. secretary and treasurer. By 1912 the braneli had become firmly established; membership inereased to 78 and the tower

Fordington St. George was added, while a new peal at Gpwey was apened. Charminster, Hilten and Wilton Abbey towers were aided, and after three years the position was stronger than even the most optimistiu lad anticipated. Then came the war years. Some 500 Guild members saw war service, and ringing was cansiderably aurtailed. The war over, tale branch went alaead onee more, atnd in 1920 had the privilege of reopening a fine peal at Bere Regis. In the following year Frampton jained the branoh, which thed comprised 12 towers and 119 members. Two towers-Filton and hilton Abbey-dropped out and memhership fell below the 90 mark, until the affilation of Alobotsbury and Rradford Peverell gave it the recuired impetus. The branch made steady progress until its coming of age ill 1932. To-day, in contrast to their early years when there were six towers with 47 members, they lad 15 towers with 170 members.

Various speakers paid tribute to the splendid work done by Mr. O. H. Jennings, the geueral how, secretary of the Guild speaking in hiph temins of the successful labonrs of the branch secretning

The brlance sheet showed receipts of $£ 37 \mathrm{l} 8 \mathrm{~s}$. 7acl. and expenditure of $£ 2010 \mathrm{~s}$., leaving a halance of $£ 17$ 8s. 7 t d , as compared with $\$ 15$ 4s. 2 dicl. for the provious year.
Mrs. A. L. Mill (Buckland Newion) was elected anl honorary member, and three new minging members were emolled, mamely, the Rev. R. P. Farrow (East Luworth), Mr. Donglas Freneh (Wool) and Mr F. W. Gill (Abbotsbury)

The officers were elented as follows: Chairman, the Rev. A. W Markby; vice-chaiman, the Rew. R. P. Farrow; Ringing Master, Mr. P. Field (Buckland Newtom); Deputy Ringing Misaster, Mr. Smart (Upwey) ; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. C. H. Jemings. A vote of thanks was accorded to the retiring officers.

ROMSEY RINGER'S DEATH.  TAST OF FORHER BAND

We regret to recond the death of Mr. Ton Cole, who hat been a inger at Romsey Abbev, Hants, for over 40 years.
Mr. Cole lad been in pocr health for several jears, but the end came suddenly. Fie had decided to attend the ammal district meeting of the Wincliester and Portsmouth Guild at Sontlampton on Saturday, Jannary 11th. His daugher went into the garden to call lim to get teady and follnd him dead
The funcral took place on Jannary 14lh, when the Wincheeter and Portsmontli Diacesan Guild were represented by Jessts. (G. Williams, A. Smith and G. Pullizger. Scveral members of the Romsey band were also preserı
Mr. Cole had rung several peals for the aldi Winchester Guild and wis well known and respected by a large number of Hanpshire lingers. Fie was the last of the very efficient band that flourished at Ramsey abont 3n years ago

This is the second member the Romsey band have recently losti Mr. F. Raskins, for many years foremen of the tower, passed away about two mosths age

WRAXALL RINGER'S BEREAVEMENT.

On Monlay, January 6th, aftere a short illuess, the death took place of Prebendary Joseph Willim Firth, B.A., in his 72nd year. As a last token of respect and sympathy, a quarter-peal of framdsire Triples, with the bells larlimuffled, was rung following the committal service by the Bishop of Bath and wells, on Saturday, Jauliary 11th Miss D. Waterman (first quarter-peal) 1, J. Gould Q, J. Bishop 3, S Rutchers 4, L. Derrick 5, E. Shearu 5, N. Goombs (condhetor') 7, E. Drvey 8.

FOR BEGINNERS.

A START WITF GHANGE RINGING.
Those who want to make a gtart in change ringing, which, as we pointed ous last week, should not be attempted montil complete mastery of the bell has been obtaincd, will probably be put first to bunt the treble in sume plain nethod-pariaps Graudsine Doubles. If, hast week, you worked out and exmmined the fagures as we suggested, you will have noticed low regularly the treble noved np and down amone the other beils. It went just one place at a tinae, from lead until it got behind all the reat; and then back again one place at a time until it led onee more. Aud fliroughout the sixty charges it did not deviate from this straiglat path.
That is what is called "plain humting* and in the Grandsire method, whatever the number of hells, that is the path which the troble pursues. It you will look at those 60 changes usain, you will notice that none of the other bells follow exaclly a similar course, and in Grandsire, if the extent of 120 elanges is runc, all the other bells have to follow ar patio in which thete are devintions from this stamight up and down track followed by the treble.
But because the treble has a simpler path, it does mot mean that the treble is a less importhit bell than the others. Indeed, jt may be sitid to be the most importent of all the bells, for upol it the athers base their work; and if the treble goes wrong it is mincli more likely to put the rest out than it one of the otlers makes a mistake.
The prificiple involved in linnting the treble is the besis of all the complicated ns well as the simple work which is to be fonnd in method rimging. It is the foundation upon which bells move from place to place among the rest. As we pointed ont last week, no bell moves more than ole place up or down at it time. It may remain for two blown (or a whole pull) in ous position, but when it moves it is always into the adjoining place.
Thus, in plain hunting with the weble, when you start you can move only into 2nd's plice; that is, only one other bell can pall in frout of you. Phat bell must be the one that was previously pulling immediately after you, the ranson being that be, too, can only move a place at a bine, and, hs lie is hunting down, he must change piaces with the one in front of linu. In fact, as far as the treble is concerned, that is what happens every time, while he is huming up. At the next shrolse he will strike after the hall now pulling after him, so that if while he is makiag one stroke he looks for the bell that is pulling after him, he will know exactly who to follow at the bext pull. Again, when he sluikes in and's place he will bave only olle bell in froot of him, when in 3 rit's place there will be two bells. in 4th's three bells, in 5th's four beils. He will, in fact, then be belind them all.

In lunting down he will follow the revelse proeess, namely, pull neat time in front of the one now in frout of lin. But that is not so easy, and the best thing to do at first may be to coume the bells in front. When hunting up you contimue to jucrease the number of the bells in front of you until, in Donbles, all fonr pull before you do. When you hunt down you begin hy having all fout in front of 504 , then yon amit the ong you are striking over and pnll after the other three. Again, omit the two you liave sturick over, and pull gfter the other twa, Once more, onit tho three you have struck over, leaving only one for four attention, and then, lunving struck over hin, lend with your awo bell
In order to do it accurately, you must liave perfect command of your belt, and you will find that when hunting up you mist hold your bell up a litto, and when bunting down, pull it in a lithe, beange in lumting $n$, the interval between your places is lozger, and whem hunting down it is shorter. Moreover, if you are riuging on a heawy peal of bells you will find pou will have to allow just a little more time, that is fon will have to hotd your lyell off a fraction of a secoud longer when pulling after the ligger bells. It is these little nllowances which make all the dificrenco betwent good and bad gtriking, ald you canuot do it if you do mot control your bell.

ANOTHER SPLICING RECORD.

FORTY-SIX METEODS IN SEVEN 720's.
The Chester Guikd band, who have bean doing some wonderful things in six-bell method splicing, have added yet apother to theis laurels, by extemding the number of Minor methods rung in a peal to 46. Last February they crowned their prevlous achievements by a peal in 42 methods; lusi Saturday their peal in 46 methods included a 720 with no fewer than 13 Treble Bol and Tlird's-place Delight methods.
This 720 is given below. It was substituted for the first 720 in the carlier peal and followed by the other six 720's (published in "The Ringing World ${ }^{2}$ on March 22nd, 1936), except that the three-lead splies were omitted from the second, third and fourth 720 s. This new 720 was composed lyy Mr. Kenneth Lewis, from tables supplied by Mr. A. G. Driver.
The thirteen methods consisted of Treble Bob and Third's-place Delight wiethods viz. : Ockloy, Capel, Duke of Norfolk, Sandal, College Exercise, Loudon Scholas' Pleasure, Norbury, Kingston, Oxford 'lreble Bob, and Carisbrooke, Donottar, Wath and Pontefract Delighl.

The otiner 720 's were thoso rung in the 42 -wethod peal, except dhat the three-lead splices wera omitted from 720's 2, 3 and 4 . There were 78 olanges of method

The band hod not struck a blow in ayy of the Delinht metlrods used the first 720, nor protifed it, it being rung at ble first attempt. In connection with this interestimg performance, it is worthy of menion that the conductor, Mr. John Worth, had just previously 170 g his 150 th peal, and of this total he had conducted exactly 1000 . His performances make up a remarkable record. He radg his litst peal on Juns 3 rd, 1929, a peal of Grandsive Doubles, which he conducted at thr age of 19 , after having been a stoney ringer for seven years. His list of peals is as follows: Oxford Treble Bob Maximus 1, Bob Maximus 1, Cambridre Surprise Hoynl 2, Oxford Treble Bob Royal 1 (condıcted 1), Kent Treble Bob Royal 2 (1), Bob Royal 1 (1), Stedman Caters 1, Grandsire Caters 1 (1), London Surprise Major 6 (5), Bristol Surprise Major 7 (6), Superlative Surprise Major 3 (2), Cambridge Surprise Major 18 (13), Manchester Surprise Major 1 (1), Staffordshire Surpuise Majar 1 (I), Yorkshire Surprise Major 1 (1), Norfolk Surprise Majov 1 (1), Spliced Cambridro and Rutland 1 (1), Spliced London, Cambridge, Bristol ind Superlative 1 (1), Carisbrooke Treble Rob 1 (1), Oxford Treble Boh Major 3 (3), Kent Treble Bob Major 8 (3), Spliced Kent and Oxford 1, Double Norwich Major 6 (2), Bob Major 8 (6), Stednan I'riples 2 (1), Grandsive Tuples 10 (8). ## WARWICKSHIREGUILD.

NEW MEABER, AGED 10, RINGS GRANDSIRE CATFIRS
In spite of travelling diffieulties, the quarterly medting of the Wa wicksuro Guidd, leld at Wrawick ous Satarday, was very well attented. Tho aboudance soems all the zure erediable when it is pointed out that nearly half of those preseat live 15 or more miles nway Ringing ou the Len bells of Si. Mary's Church was followed by a short service in the chancelt The service was reanducted by the IRev. A. 13. Heuwood (Vicar), who also gave an interesking address.

Tea at the Porvidge Pat, was followed by a slor liusiness meeting, over which the Yien presided, supported by Mr. J. H. White (lRinging Master), Mr. A1. Melville (hon. secretary), Mr. 17. W. Perrets, Mr Avsum and meabers from Allesley, Numeatan, Chivera Coton, Bulkington, Lillingtan, Bedworth, Stoke and Stratford-on-Avon, together with the local band.
It was decided to hold the monthly meetings at Shilion in February and at Thaworth in March, the laiter to be a joint gathering with the Staffordsbire Association,
Tho following new members ware elected: Master W. H. Male, of Warwick (aged 10), George Knight, of Bedworth. F. Price, of Strafford-on-A fors, Walter Beebe, of Nnicaton, D. W. Hophins, of Warwick, and J. I. Garuer-Haywhrd. The eleetion of K. A. Roe, of Wigston, Leicestershire, prior to a peal was also datifiet,
Mr. A. J. Hinde, jul. gave notice that a Confimation will be beld ali Buakington on February $14 t^{\prime}$, ad 8 p.m., and invited numbers to come and ring before and after the serviee, as their owa ringers would be engrged in ohner capacities at the service,
The ruectiag closed with a vole of lhanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the service, and for kindly taking the chair at the meoting, and also the organist. - This was proposed by the Rioging Master and replied to by the orgraist and the Vient

A return was then wede to the belfry, where further rimging took place, and Master Billy Male, of Warwiek, cefebrated his election at the age of ten as a member of the liuild ly very creditably inuting the treble to a course of Grandsire Gaters. There certainly appears to bo the making of an excellent ringer in Bilty; hat this is as it should be, since both his father and grandfather are ringers at. Warwick.

LITTLE HORKESLEX RINGERS' PERFORMANCE

To the Editor.

Doar Sir,-My besi regards to the band at Little Horkesley. Tlieir first peal comes from the heart of a call-change district and is a玉reat perfomance. I liave rung with them many times and hope that this first peal will be the first of many. Good luck, Liftle Fortesley!

HIGHER METHOD PRACTICES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, Whilst I agree in the main to the points you raise in your leading article on this subject, there is one' point upon which I think wany ringers will disagree with yon, and that is your atatement that it is far more in the interest of ringing to devote the bulk of the time ayailable at district meetings to elencrary work. My personel opinion is that it is just as unreasonable for the begimer to expect to have momopoly of the arailable time as it is for experienced ringers to desire to pratice liggler methods all the time. District meetings are surely intented to cater for all comers, and if your auggestion to cater mainly for beginuers were cruried out there might be a tendency for the more advanced ringers to absent. themselves from the meetings owing to their interests not being sufficiently recognised. As one who has attended meetings in mayy parts of the country, may I say that the impression I have formed is that the ringing arrangements might be befter organised than they are ir many eases, and that a properly authorised and capable officer should be in charge of the belfry, his duties being to sce that everyone who attends has a fair chance.
When I was present at a meeting of the Sheffield District Society last year I heard the arguments for nad against the appointanent of a ringing master to tahe charge of the ringing at their meetings. The appointment was made and inquiries have shown that the yesults are highly satisfactory. Woukd it be too much to expect that ringing master's of other sneieties should carry out what are their obvious duties? By all means let us hava additional meetings for advanced methods, but do not let us lose our sense of proportion. Important though the learner may be in the intefert of the continuance of our art, he is not entitled to monopoly of the belfry at meetiners, qua there is still somethiug due to those guthusiasts who have by their sacrifices made sucli meotings even possible. Some ringers still hold the wiew that it is much betfer for a learner to try out his first touch in a new method with good experieneed ringers rather than six or eight learners should afl struggle together and succecd only in abtaining practice at "firing.

AN AMAZING ATTITUDE.

The bells were of no interest to the Church as a Church. As a machine for spreading Christianity, which was its primary function, the Church had no interest in bells. . .. If he regarded himself as one whose business it was to assist Christianity in Kingston, then he took not the smallest interest in the bells.' This amazing statement was made last week by the Rev. T. B. Scrutton, Vicar of Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, to a meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce, when the subject of the restoration of the bells was discussed. The bells have been allowed to get into a dilapidated condition, they have been silent for many months, and to put them into ringing order again the sum of 6600 is said to be required. 'Quite honestly,' said the Vicat, 'if it is left to us, the bells will be left.
It is difficult to write with restraint when one reads such words at this from the ecclesiastical head of an important parish. Kingston is a town with a long and honourable history; within its boundaries it preserves the stone on which Saxon kings were crowned, it is the administrative centre of an important county, and its church in the past has had no mean share in the life of this Thames-side community. For more than 200 years the bells in this ald tower have served the church, and played their part on civic and national occasions. They have called generations of worshippers together, and he would be a bold man who would deny that their voices have failed to have any influence among the people.

The Rev. T. B. Scrutton's views seem to be on a par with that other clergyman who said he would prefer a steam siren to bells for his new church. We cannot beLieve that the Vicar of Kingston really represents the views of the townspeople. Indeed, the attitude of the meeting which he addressed pointed to the fact that something should be done to put the bells in order. But for a responsible Vicar to declare that the bells are of no interest to the church as a church is one of the most extraordinary declarations which we have ever heard. Let it be said the Vicar is quite ready to have the bells put in order if someone else raises the money, but it is not the question of who raises the money that concerns us so much as the amazing declaration that the bells are of no interest to the church as a church. To us it seems a marvellously distorted view to take of responsibilities which go with the office of head of a church, which has a valuable peal of bells in its care; bells which for centuries have fulfilled a purpose which has endeared them to thousands of Christian worshippers and which, happily, are a part of the local life of Kingston however (Continued on page 66.)

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

PUDSEY'S FXAMPLE

The society's first merting in 1936 was held at Pudsey on Saturday week, instead of as usual on the last Satarday in the month, in order to avoid clashing with the Yorkshire Association's general meeting. The weather couditions were not of the best, as frost and snow made travelling very difficult. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and a variety of mothods were rung until tea time. The meal was served in the usual generous Pudsey style in the Park Hotel:

At the business meeting the president occupied the chair, and mennbers wers piesent from Armley, Butley, Birstall, Burley, Bradford, Galverley, Drighliagton, Elland, Halifax, Headingley (St. Ohad's and St. Michael's), Holbeck, Leeda Parigh Ohurch, Rothwell, Shipley, Sherburn, Selby, Subton-on-Hull, Tadeaster and the local company.
Three дew mombers were elected, vir., Messrs. A. E. West and D. M. Sharpe, of Sutton-on-Hull, and F. S. Morley, of Selby

A vate of thanks to the Ficar, clunchwardens and the looal conzpany was proposed by Mr. P. J. Johmsou, who said he wondered how often these votes of thanks were passed on to the Ficar and clurchwardens.

In thanking the local company for the splendid way in which they received the society, he reminded those present that the Pudsey headquarters had not always been es casy to find as fhey were lo-day. Mr. O. Prati, in seconding the vote of thanks, referred to the new peal board in the Pudsey tower, which showed five different peals of Surprise, and he thought that other towers should attompt to emulate this feat by regular attendance and practice. He made a special appeni to the ringers who were in the labit of linving five extra minutes in bed on a Sunday monning to think of their friends waiting for them in the tower.
The reply should have come from the chairman of the Entertainment Committee, but, unforbuately, he was indisposed and unable to be present; the depuly chairman was too busy entertzining; and after Sam had been asked 'to pick up hs musket, the reply cane from Mr. W. Barton, who infonmed the company that the vote of thanks was always passed on to the proper quarter.
The date of the noxt meeting was discussed in wiew of the fact that the Ladies' Guild had taken the usual Saburday. One proposition was that the meeting be held as usual on the last Saturday in the month (which is leap year day) in order to keep the young members out of Aunt Kate's clutches in case that lacly came to Ossett, but tho proposition, which was acoeptod, was that the rext meeting be held on February 22nd at St. Michael's, Feadingley.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

LOSS OF MEMBERSHIP IN WELIINGBOROUGE BRANOH.
The annual branch meeting of the Wellingborough District of the Peterborough Dicessan Guild was held at Irthlingborouglt on Satardey, January 18th, by kind permission of the Eector, the Rev. I. W. Wright. Despite the wintry conditions, ringers were pregent from Welingborough, Northamptun, Kehtering, Warkton, Pytchley, Burton Latimer, Greudon, Farls Barton, Finedon, Higham Ferverg, laands, Stanwick and Addington, besides a full muster of local ringers.

Service was held in the church, conducted by the Rural Dean, the Rev. A. G. Bagshaw, Vicar of Finedon. The address, given hy the Rector, was much appreciated. He taok for his text, "Make thee two trumpets of silver, of a whale piece shalt thou make them, that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly and for the journeying of the cemps' (Nunabers x, , 2). Their ringing, suid the Rector, was of little use or value unless it. brought them neares to God, and, as their Guild player yemirded them, it should prepare tion for the bime when they, too, should depart from this life.

The singing of the three hymis, with the excellent accompaniment. of Mr. Ross Hickling on ble new organ, was most enjoyable.
A collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to 11e. 6 d .
Tea was served in the St. Peter's Roome by the wives and friends of tho Inthlingborough band, about, 50 being preseat. At the business meeting which followed, •Bozeat was chogen for the wext gathering.

Two honorary, five ringing and one out-courty members were elected.
The secretary's report and balence sheat for 1935 werg read and adopted, and although there was a disappointing loss in weuleersbip, through various causes, a satisiactory balance in hand was olntained. There are now on the books threm honorary life, 17 honomary and 150 ringing members.

The officers for the year were all we-elected as follows: President, the Rev. A. G. Bagshaw; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. Bigley; Central Committeo, Messrs. G. Basford aud A. Plowman; Branch Conmittee, Messcs. A. Y. TYler, FF. Jones aud A. H. Martin; auditor, Mr. E. Jolmson. Mr. W. Perkins, who was congratulated on ringing 400 peals, is to officiato as Branch Ringing laster.

Among those present were Mr. R. G. Black, of Geddinglon, Guild general secretary; Mr. H. Baxter, Kettering Sranch secrotary; Mr. W. Whitmore, Thrapston branch secretery, and Mr. F. Wilford. Mr. F. Berbel, the former branch secretary, was also a very welcome visitor. The handy ring of eight bells were zung during the afternoon and evening, practice extending from rounds to surprise Major methods.

It would be very interesting to know which tower was first to toll out 70 in the early hours of January 21st. It was ascertained at the Cumberland Youths' meeting on Saturday that Guildiord Cathedral commenced at about 12.20 a.m., sud Burnham, Bucks, at 12.17. Was there anything earlier?
The aame band that rang a peal at Aldershot for King George's Silper Jubilee on Seturday rang a muffled peal to his memory. It is a purely local band. Lefl May thore were four "first peals' and a "first in the metiod." On this occasion there were five who rang thoir firat peal in the method.
Mr. A. J. Ginn, of the Over, Cambe, Society, has rung for two Jubilees, Dimmond and Silver, for the deatibs of &wo Queans and two Kinge, for two coronations and four rayal weddinge, a record of distinction shared by a comparatively limited number of ringers.
The ring of six at Maiborough, near Kingshridge, Devon, is is to be tuned and rehang with new fittings in a new frame by Megsrs. Gillett and Johnston.
Ringers requiring copies of any of the Gentral Council publigations shonld apply to the hon. secretary, Mr. G. W. Flatcher, 45, Walgingham Road, Enfield, Middlesex, sending the necessary remittance with the order.
The Shropshire Association's meeting at Shrewsbury is postponed to February 2and, and the Essex Association meeting at Litthe Waltham to February 29 th.
Mossrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, are rehangiug thee poals in Derbyshire, viz., the rings of eight at Matlock and Melbourne Churches and the ring of six at Spondon.
On Sunday, Mr. Edward Clapshaw, Farnham's oldest ringer, celebrated his 9lst birthday. He continues to eajoy fairly good heaith, and in the congratulations conveyed to him by Mr, R. Hasted and Mr. T. Upshall, on behalf of the lecal band, all ringers will join.

The many ringing [riends of Mr. Harold J. Poole, of Leicester, will congratulate him upon his promotion last week to the rank of Ingpectar in the Leicester Gity Police Force. Inspector Poole is hon. secretary of the National Guild of Police Ringers, whase annual meetiug is to be held in Leicester on February 8th.

RINGING IN WEST CORNWALL.

To the Editor.

Siv,-I was very eurprised to read in "The Ringing World ' of the 17th inst. that Father Trewholla has taken exception to what appeared over my initials. I do think he could have come and told me, as I was at home for a full week after the paragraph appearcd.
Let me say, and both Lt.-Gol. Jerram and Father Trewhella know, that I have always respected the positions which they hold, and that I have slways been wilting to help then. The whole tone of the latter's letter savours more of "glorious ollicialdom," which I detest, than what one would oxpect of a priest.
I think a great refiection has been cast upon Mr. P. R. O. Williams, wha, Iast September, succeeded me as Truro district secretary, and Mr. C. E. Lenson, who, last Februeny at the annual meeting of the Guidd, was elected peal secretary for a special purpose, and who has put in a tremendous amount of work, collecting and typing all peals rung for the Truro Guild since its farmation for a proposed peal book. These two have worked together splendidly, and practically every weak visit one or more towers, with other ringers, to help local bands. It was owing to these prectices that we scored several 'frist" quarters and peals during the past month. Fathor frewhella knows well that in the past he has often received letters from visitors secking information and has passed them on to me, as district secretary, for attention. Why not Messss. Williams and Lanxon, who, with a fem othera, are the live wires of the district, and why have a district secretary or peal secretary?
If I had asked visitors not to write to the Diocesan Master or eecretary, a cemplaint would have been legitimate.
Now, I will go on and point out a glaring mistake which has appearod in the new 'Ringers' Directory.' Wrong mames appear as Truva Diacosan secretary and treasurer, Mr. Williams being skated as the former and not Father Trewhella. The lattor and Col. Jerram are not mentioned. Somebody should be ticked off-not me this time! It is not my nature to take up matters like this, but I an afraid the two whom I mentioned may have their enthusiasm damped a little Several of my friends who have visited Cornwall know only too well how a few, who are really enthusiastic to advance, appreciate being able to take part in an occasional peal with their help. No, we are not 'peal mad, because often we are rising, ringing rounds or call changes and falling, buts we like to make such visits worth while both for visitor and visited.

Ringing in Cornwall will improve when young ringers are encouraged, like Miss Phyllis Tillett, to whom you referred (may I add my congratulationsf). At present there are several who have to streggle hard to practise what they hold in theory, and who, in their own towers, are never asked to conduct.

I think this is my very first ontburst. I hope it will be tho last.

THE DEATH OF KING GEORGE.

BELLS IN THE NATIONAL MOURNING.

A Background to the Funeral Procession.

The national mourning for King George V. has been expressed in no more fitting manner than by muffed bells sounding from the church towers of the land. Many peals have been rung, but in less pretentious forms, in a multitude of cases, perhaps, only in rounds and call changes, the ringers of England have endeavoured to interpret, by their ringing, the nation's grief at the passing of their King.

Those who stood in the neighbourhood of Westminster on Tuesday morning and watched the great funeral procession set out on its journey to Paddington Station, and those who listened in their homes to the impressive broadcast of this first stage of the solemn final obsequies of the dead monarch, heard as a background to this poignant scene, the half-muffed bells of Westminster Abbey. In slow and stately rhythm they sounded, above the tramp of martial feet and the distant strains of funeral music with, intermittently, the booming note of Big Ben, tolling out the passing minutes and the roar of the guns in their last salute to the dead Sovereign. Few who witnessed, or even listened to the description of this historic event, could have failed to be impressed by the part which the bells played upon this mournful occasion.
Peals which have been rung with muffled bells as a tribute of loyal respect and sympathy with Queen Mary, King Edward VIII. and the Royal Family are printed in other colimans. Below we give some of the lesser performances of the past days:-
On Tuesday, January 2Ist, at tho Parish Church, Girencester, a quarter-peal of Grandsive Caters (1,259 changes) : F. W. Bond 1, F. L. Coolse 2, A. Painter 3, F. J. Lewis, sen, (conductor) 4, J. C. Eden 5 W. G. Cools 6, S. Hicks 7, H. S. Parsons 8, W. H. Hayward 9, F. J Lewis, jun. 10 .

A VICAR'S STRANGE DECLARATION.

BELLS 'NO INTEREST TO THE OHURGF.

Whe Will Pay for Restaration?
An extraordinary attitude towards his charch bells, which are now silent for want of repair, has been taken up by the Vicar of Kingstan-on-Thames (the Rev. T. B. Scrution)
Last week the Ficar attended, by invitatiou, a meeting of the Kingston Clamber of Commerce, who were ansious to leparn what was going to be done about Kingsion's silent bells, whioh have not been rung for King George's death, and may nat, untess action is quickly taken, bo rung for King Edward's coronation.
The cost of the restoration would be about $£ 600$, and the President of the Chamber explained that Kingston was now without its peal of belle because the structure upou which they were mounted was in such a perilous condition that to use the bells would be courting disaster. Did the town want the bells? He thought there could be only oue answer to that question, but who was to pay for the necessary гераіг work
The Rev. T. B. Scrution said (wo quote from the report of the Surrey Comet') he was not thore to make any appeal the was really representing the Mayor. Thie peal comprised ten beils, which had existed since 1748 , when two wero added to tho peal of eight already existing. The question was, dic the town want tho bells rung? He said "the town' because the bells were of no jnterest to the church, as a church. As a machine for spreading Christianity, which was its primary function, the church had no interest in bells. They might bo of some slight interest to the church in awakening people's interest in it, but if he regarded himself as one whose business it was to nssist Christianity in Kimgston, then he took not the smallestinterest in the bells.
' NOT A CHURCH OT GNGLAND INTTEREST.

The only interest he had in them, he added, was as a Kingstomian The interest was municipal-civic. It was not a Church of England interest. Some people might be inclined to say 'It is the business of the parish church-let them get on with it, but, satd the Ficar, "quite honestly, if it is left to us the bells will be left.' The Parochial Clurch Council was prepared to find half of the $£ 600$ needed, allhough they would prefer not to raise any of the molley because they had plenty of oblher thing they could spend f300 on. The sum of $600 was the minimun reguirement, as advised by experts, math should result in the peal being all right, for 50 or* 60 years. Tlie Mayor bad in mind the issuling of an appeal to the town and surrounding district for half of the 5600
The Vicar said he did not regard tho Parish Churcle as being fine preserve of any one denomination. He regarded as boing held in trust for the whole of Chistianity, and le asket people to rise to that conception of the church, and, in that conception, have the bells put in order
Min. F. S. Durbin asked whether it was intended, in the evens of and competition ringing
The Yiear said that so far as ho knew there was po intention to intensify the ringing as compared with what used to be. The Kingston Kingston. It was hoped to arrange the belfry so that the sound was thrown upwards, reducing the volume in the immediato vicinily and sendiuf it further. As to the value of hallinging, that was a mater of individual opinion. One person would say that the bells were a muisance; rnother wouk say that the fown did not seem the same without them. It was a mafter of taste upon whicl it was no use arguing.
Mr. ©. W. Beckett and Mr. F. Funston Benson spoke in favour the bells, from historic and sentimental points of wiew; and the matier was left for the Enecutive Commitee to bring to notice again at a later date.

IN TEE HANDS OF THE MAYOR
At the annual clurch meeting at All इains' Parisin Hall on Thurs day, at which the Rer. T. B. Scrutton presided, the Parochinal Churrh Council reported that the bells lad been declared unsafe and their use was suspeuded until the necessary work had been earlied out. Dr. W. E. St. L. Finny asked wher people would lo askerl to subscribe to the repairs.
The Vicar said the matter was now in the hands of the Mayor, and he cond not prejudge what he mould do. The Mayor, however, was taking a great deal of interest, and steps were being taken towards something being done. His own hope was that they would have the bells in working order in tirme for the coronation of King Edward WIII, 'If that is to lappen thinges have got to move,' ho added.

DEATH OF REV. B. H. TYRWHITT-DRAKE

HON. LIBRARIAN OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL. Killed by fall of a Tree.
In the midst of the national mourning, the Exercise has to lament the death, under tragic circumstances, of one of its leading members. On Saturday night the Rev. I3. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, Rector of Walsoken, near Wisbech, was killed by a falling tree. He had been Honorary Librarian of the Central Council since 1933.
It appears that a man, dlfred Freemen, was engaged in felling a largo tree which stood near a new honse adjoining the Rectory grounde. The Rector weut out, shortly after ten o'ctuck, to see how the work was progressing, and found that the mau was about to drop tho troe. "Ihe Rector, it is said, was advised to stand year a elied, which would bo well clear of the trec when it fell. After it had been dropped, Freeman went in the darkness to the syot where he expected to find the Rector, Failing to see him, Freeman made a senrch, and the Rector was discovered lying with his face buried in tho ground. He had been struck by au arm of the tree as it fell and his medk liad been broken.

Tho whole Exercige will extead its heartfelt sympathy to the widow and family who lave been thus trugically bereaved.
Tho Rov. Bararicl Halsey Tyrmhitl-Drake, who was 53 years of age, was the younge日t son of the late Rov. W. T. Tyrwhitt-Drake. Aftier leaving Hajleybury, lo proceeded to Pembroke Colloge, Cambridge, where he took his 13.A. degree in 1904. He was then at Wells Theological College, before being urdained deacon in 1905 and priest 11 1906. He betame M.A. in 1908. His first curacy was af Almondlury, Forlshiro ( $1505-9$ ), and he then became chaplain to the South African Railway Mission, in the Diocese of Grabamstown, an effice which he creapied 1909-10. lieturning to Jingiand, he was successively curato at Si. Mary's, Hitchin (1910-12) and of Sand?, Beds (1912-14). The was appointet to the living of Thutadridge in 1914 , and from 1916 to 1918 was 'lemporary Chaplain to the Jorees, becoming Honorary Chuplain in the fater yenr. In 1925 he became Vicar of Wigginton and in 1928 Rector of Watlington, Norfolk. His appointment to the living of Walsoken took place in 1933.

WILEL THE CAMBRIDGE UNIFERSITY GUILD
The Rev. B. E. Tyrwhitt-Drake was me of the clergy who got his interest in ringing stirred when he went to Pembroke College in 1901 and joined the Cambridge University Guild. Prominent among those who joined the Guild at thn same time wece Messrs. E. H. Lowis, H. ES. T. Richardson and P. S. Poole. Under tho tuition of the prosident, the Ifev. A. H. F. Bohyrgey, rapid progress was made in handbell finging, nad among the penis that were subsequently rung was the first poul of Maximus (Plain Bob) 'in hand' by the Guile and, incidentally, by the College Youths, of which all six ringers werc nemberss M1. "IyrwhiteDrake rang the tenors to this peal. This wus in Novenber, 1903 , and a monlth later he took part in the Guild's first peal of Roynt in hand
Fis first penl of Konil Treble Bob Major was rung on one of the Guild's tours, at Fenley, Norfolk, in 1904, this being also the frest in the method by the Guitd. Then, having taken Holy Orders, he rume in the Guild's first peal of Stoctman Triples (1906), and at Draytan, Berks, in 1909, ho took wart in the first clerical peal of Doubla Norwich Major, the other ringers being the Rews. TF. S. T. Richardson, 'L'. Lucwis Jones, H. J. Elsee, A. E. F. Boughey, C. A. Clements, D. W. O. Tenkyn and ju. L. Jлmes.
These, of erurse, aro only some of the netable peals in which the Rev. B. F. 'i'vrwhitit-Drake took part, but they are sufficient to show that he ployed an intoresting part in the earliter activities of the Cambricme University Guidd. A little later ho was associated with it in anather notible performance, the first handbell peal zung by also took part, Mr., Tyrwlilit-Drake ringing 9-10. After the war he was ano of ithe ton officers who raige a peal together at Croydon to celohrate peace.

SERVIOPS TO RERTS AND ELY ASSOGIATIONS.
Gieaber parochial respongihilities afterwards prevented him from taking an nctive patit in peal ringing, allough he has never censed to ronder valuable serpice in other directions. While Ficar of Thundridge, Herts, he was in 1915 elected president of the Hertford Connty Associntion, a postion whicl he also filled the following year. At his first election the late Ganon Papillon humorously commented on the fast, that Mr. Tyrwhilt-Drake, anfortumately, hacl no ringing peal of lrells at Thmelridge, for of four bells in the steeplo, two were cracked. A firth was in the Vicar's pigsty. The tolls were Iatier restored and incrensed to six.
The Fierts County Association elected Mr. Twrwhilt-Drake as a representalive on the Central Conneil in 1919, and he continned to Topresent that houly until 1928, when he removed to Watlineten. Tlee Fily Diocesan Association quickly took advantage of his willing sorvices and elocked him thetr hon, eecrelary, and in 1929 their representalive on the Council. Last, yeur he resifned the secretarysbip

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

IRTBUTHS PO HLS LATE MAJESTY

Repregentatives from Kinytor Magna, Winterbourue Earls, Britiord, Warminstor, Wilton, Damerlam, Dinton, Martin, the Giby Churches of St. Martin and St. Thomas and other neighbouning pariglies attended the annual meeting of the Salishury District of the Diocesau Guild, held at St. Martin's, Salisbury, on Saturday last Ringing comnenced at 3 p.m., the bells at str. Eimund's also being available, both peals being half-mufled in recognition of the national mourning.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. K. N. Ross, the address being given by the Rev. E. A. Maycock, of Ronsey Abbey. Mr: A. F. Brown was at the organ, and at the conclusion of the service played tho 'Dead March' in 'Saul.
Tea followed in the Parish Rooms, and later the branch chairman (Mr. E. G. Caple) presided at the general moeting, supported by the brameh secretary (Mr. F. W. Romaine), the genoral secretary of the Gujid (tho Rev. F. Li. Edwards), the Rev. R. S. Smith (Martin), the Rev. H. W. Moule (Damorlaz), the Rev. K. N. Ross (St. Martin's) and the Rev. E. A. Maycock (Romsey Alobey)

Opening tho meeting, the Chairman oaid, "Before commencing the business of this mecting, I would refer to the matter which is foremosto in our minds at this time, the passing of our King. No Sovereign could have devoted a more active life to the good of his people, and we join in expressiag our sympathy with the Queen and Royal Family. ${ }^{3}$
The compray then stood in silence for a fow moments.
The balance shect was adopted, Mr. Caple re-elected chairman, and Mr. F. W. Romaine secvetary and treasurel.
Other officers clected were : Ringing Masters, Messes. L. Waruis and TF. O. Smith; committee, the Rev. R. S. Smith, Messrs. W. Wyatt, A. Southey, W. Roberts and W. Wright.

A ballot on the choice of towers for the quarterly meetings during the ensuing year resulted in Semley, Coombe Bissett, Wylie and Downton being chosen
Mr. F. Wright, of Dinton, reported the satisfactory completion of tho rehanging of Dinton bells, and extended a hearty infitation to the branch to attend tibe rededication and opening of the bells. It was resolved that notification shond be made to the towers by the branch secretary, when the date of reopening was known.

Two new nembers wers elected from Damerham.
The general sccretary (the Rev. F. Ll. Edwerds) addressed a few words to the meeting on the subject of amangemients during national, diocesan or local bereavements. He stated that the branch secretary had wired for his directions as to whether the meeting should be abandoned in viow of the death of His late Majesty. He (Mr. Edwards) stated that he himself had been the proposer of a mation to the Central Council on this matter, and it was considered that it was quite in arder to hold a meeting when arrangements had been made, provided the bells were rung half-puafled. He cited the instance of the recent death of the Lord Hishop of the Diocese. There were two branch meetines on the day following lis death-these were held, and the bells muffiod, in accordance with custom.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. K. N. Ross for conducting the service in the absence of the Rector of St. Martin's, and to the Rev. E. A. Maycock for coming from Romsey to give the aditess, also to Mr. A. F. Brown for his good offices at the argan. Mr. Brown had expressed his regn'et at being unable to attend the tea owing to another engagement during the afternoon.

HOW 'IN GOURSE AND 'UUT OF GOURSE' AFFECIS  \section*{METHODS}

A short time aro a reader sent to the Editor, for publication, what He deseribed as a new mothod of Mirur. Ho had been experimenting fud had found a mothod, with the treble making places in $3-4$ instend of fodging, which produed tho regular lead-ends which are found in recognised methods. On the face of it, it looked interesting and seemed ta conform to requirements, but on examination it had a fatal blemish-it would not produce 720 true changes.
Actually it only needed the close examination of the first lead to prove its fanlt, which was that all the rows (that is the figures denoting the changeg) with the treble in 3rd's and 4th's were ' of like nature', that is to say, they were all 'in-course."
To obtain the extent of the changes in any method, lialf tho rows must be in-course nad the other lablf out of course. In other words, the extent of a melhod is made up of hall the changes 'in course; and half of bhem "out of course," and unless a method will produce this mecossary condition, the extent of the changes on that number of bells is not possible.
It is conceivable, on eight or more bells, to have a method which will produce a peal of 5,000 changes, without having in the plain course an equal mumber of in course and out of course changes. As a simpls exauple, there is Grandsine Caters (the Grandsire method rang an juine bells). In this you can have a peal of 5,000 without once heping the belis out of course-but that is because you have such a vast number of chages to select from. As you may know, the extent of the changes on nine bells is 362,880 , so that there are actually 181,440 clanges 'in course' which can be utitised.
Wher, however, it comes to Minor, the extent of which is only 720 changes, it is a different matter. Not only must you have an equal number of in course and out of course changes before you can prodice a ture 720 , but this half and haif business must apply, if the treble bas auy form of regular hunt, to every position of the treble,
In a 720 the treble (and, indeed, every other hell) strikes 120 times each place; that is 120 times at lead, 120 times in 2nd's and a similar munber of times iz each of the other places, $3 \mathrm{nd}^{15} \mathrm{~s}, 4 \mathrm{th}$ 's, 5th's and 6th's. To obtain a true extent, therefore, 60 changes with the treble at lead must be in course, and 60 out of course, and so on with the changes in which the treble strikes in each of the other places. (This applies to all the bells, but we use the treble as tho siniplest guide.)

Whatever the nature of the rows may be in one lead, they will, in every regular method, be of the same nature in the correspouding place in every succeeding lead, unless a single is made, but as a single cannot be used in Treble Boh and kindred methods, it is not possible, if all tho rows with the treble in any oue place are of like uature, to produce a true 720.
In the first lead of the method sent to 'The Ringing World' there are these rows, as the treble makes places in 3-4:-

\section*{Treble going up 281435  | 281435 | Treble coming down | 436125 |
| ---: | ---: | ---: |
| 621345 | 346152 |  |
| 623154 |  | 341625 |
| 265145 |  | 431265 |}

An 'in conrse' row, ar cladye, was explained in an carlier article in this series; put briefly it is this: It is a row which is oltained by changing an even mumber of pairs of belis from rounds. Thus, 213465 by changing two pairs is "in course,' but 214365 , having been obbained by changng an odd number of pairs, is out of course, aud, as a matter of interest, you will fird that if you have an out of course row, no tramsposition of an equal number of pairs will ever produce rounds. If you take, say, 214365, you cat go ou changiag lle row two pairs at a thue, whether they are adjoining figures or not, until doomsday, but you will not produce 123456 . It needs two 'odds, to make an "even, aud once you have an "out of course' or 'odd, row, you must have another before you can come back to rounds. But this is rather by the way.
The point which we want to emphasise for the bencfit of beginners, who are searching for new methods, is that unless you have your hut bell in an equal number of ofd and even rows in eacli place, you cannot produce the extent of the method, aud the first lead is the test of the whole method. If you take the eight rows given above, you will find they are all 'in course.' Your can test it for yourself.' Take the first row and transpose two pairs at a time, eay from 261435, make 216453, by transposing 6 and 1 and 3 and 5 . Then transpose two other pairs 2 and 1 and 6 and 3 , and you have 123456. You have transposed four pairs-an even munber, proving that 261435 is ' in course.' The next three rows are ensily proved. Each is a two pair transposilion from the whe befare it.
In the same way, test 436125 . Transpose first 4 and 1 , and 6 and 2 , giving 232465; then transpose 3 and 2 , and 6 and 5 , and again, with four pairs clanged, you liave 123456 . The other three rows are each & two-pair change from the one in front of it.
Now, in the method na it stands, it would be impossible, for instance, to produce 621435, or 261345, or 263154 , or 623145 , or any other onepair veriant of any of those eight rows; nud as the method will not produce these zows, if is ohvious a true 720 cannot be obtainet.

Which ald goes to show that the guestion of 'in course' and 'out af courso changes is important to those who want to become composers.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Portsmevili District was held at the Cathedral, Portsmouth, on Saturday, January 18th, when members and friends were present from Alverstoke, Arundel, Brighton, Chiddiugfold, Curdridge, Farelam, Gosport, North Stonelam, Portsmoutl (Cathedral and S't. Mary's), Petersfield, Southampton, Soberton, Swanmore and Wickham

The Guild service was held in the Cathexiral. The Rev. J. A. S. Rublitiond offiated and addressed those present. An excellent wea was partaken of in the Green Row Roams, after which the business meeting was held, the chair being taken by the Rev. J. A. S. Tutherford.
The Chaiman first apologised for the absence of the Provost (Very Rev. T. H. Masters), who was unfortmately confined to his hed.
The balance slieeb showed a slight increase in membership, and after the sum of $£ 710 \mathrm{~s}$. 8d. had been forwarded to the general treasurer, the district balance was $£ 15$ 4s. 1.4.
All the officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, and new ringing members were elected from the Cathedral, Curdridge aud Gosport. It was decided to lold the next amunl meeting at Farehan on Saturday, January 16th, 1937

Votes of thanks wore accorded the Provost for granting permassion for the use of the bells and Green Row Rooms, to the Rev. J. A. S Rutherford for offcinting at the service and presiding at the business meeting, to the organist and caterers.

SOUTHAMPTON DISTRICT"S EXCTLLTNT RECORD

Tlie annual meeting of the Southampton District was held recontly ni Southampton, wher over 70 menbers were present from a large number of Hamphice towers. Mr. Taylor (Newbury) brought along a very welcome contingent from the Oxford Guild.
The towers of St. Mary, St. Michael-and Holy Rood were at the disposnl of the members during the afternoon and evening, and warious performances, ranging from rounds and call changes to Cambridge Royal, were rung.
Service was held at Holy Rood Church, and the Rev. A. C. Hopkins gave an inspiring address.
At the business meeting the secretary (Mr. G. Pullinger) reported that 1935 had been a very successful year from the point of finance and number of members. Only two tawers in the district were not affiliated tri the Guid, and ane of these was without a band. Simday service ringing had been well maintained, with one or two exceptions, where bands were below glrength and had difficulty in getting and retaining rechuits. Tlie distict had lost by deatiz three old sud valued meuhers-Mrs. G. Williams, the Rev. E. T. Butler and Mr. Fr. Raskin 3
All the district officers were re-elected. Mr. W. T. Tucker was olected as an additional ropresentative on the Excutive Committee. It was decided to hold the next mimual mecting at Southampton on Tannary 9th, 1937. District meetings were arranged as follows: Romsey on Feloruary wend; Fawloy, May 16th; Sherfield English, July 18th; and Upham, October 3 rd.

Fwenty-oue new ringing members were elected at the meeting

MEN WUMH LONG SERVICE.

The anural dimer of the St. Foln's, Slamore, ringers touk place on Saturday, January 4th, at the Crown Hutel, Stanmore. Ihe Rector (the Rev. W. A. Hewett) presided. After a well-gerved meal the par'by urank the loyal toast, with musical honcurs.
Tho Rector then proposed the taast of "The Hon. Secretary of the Middleser Association (Mr. C. T. Goles), und, in reply, the latier expressed his pheasure that he was once more able to attend this arnual dinner, especially as the band at Situmore wias one of the oldest in the association. He referred to the long service of some of the local ringers, Mr. W. Clveshire, with 53 jears, and Mr. G. Hugtes and Mr. Moxom, with 43 years each. He also said he was very pleased to seo Mr. F. Edwards present and hoped ho wauld soon be restored to complete licalth again. Mr. Coles urged the Stanmore and Harrow Wenkl bands. so closely allied, to vie with each othor in frieutly rivalry uow that Earrow Weald possessed eight bells.
The toast of 'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. E. Leverstreli (hon. seceretary), who referted to the presence of friends from Harrow Weald and Bushey.
Mr. G. R. Goodslip responded, and referred to the good relatious existing between tho bauds at Harrow Weak and Stanmore.
The Rector proposed the re-election of MLr. G. Hughes as Master, erying that Mr. HugTes hat been a faithina servant to the Charch for vory many yerrs, and they could not do better than re-elect him. This was agreed to with acelanation.
Mr Hughes accepted office, and asked the members for their continued logal support. He proposed the henlth of the Rector and thanked him for the encouragonemt he always gave to the ringers.

A pleasant nasical eveming followed the dimer. During the afternoon a peal of Bob Majbr was attempled, but failed after two lionss' good ringing.

ANNUAL MEETING OF GAINSBOROUGH DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Gainsborough District was held at Gainsborough on Satarday, Jenuary 18th, and, in spite of the wintry weather, a large number of ringerg were present. Members attended from Lea, Gainsborough, Upton, Willingliann and Stow, and visitors came from I'reeton (Yorks), Surfleet, Lincoln and Blankney. The bells wero available during the afterloon and evening, and some good ringing was done in the staudard methods, all who wished having a turn at the ropes.

Servics was conducted by the Vicar (Canon Rond-Turner), and aftorwards tea was partaken of at the Sun Hotel.

At the business meeting which followed the officers were re-elected en bloc with the exception of Mr. E. Diawber, who wished to he relieved of his duties as district committee representative. Mr. G. W. Creasey was elected to fill the vacancy. Two new nembers were elected from Lea, and the Collowing six-bell towers were provisionally chosen for this pear's meetings: Stow, May gtli; Broughton, June 10th; Epworth (Isle of Axholme, tenor $30 \mathrm{cwt}$. .), August 22nd; and Brigg, October 17th.

Yotes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his address, to the organist and to the caterers.

An added attraction to this mecting was the display of the film depicting scenes of the Australian tour by Mr. Ruperit Richardson, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. Butler afterwards proposed a hearty vote of tlanks to the Guild Master for contributing such an interesting item to the meeting

RINGERS WEDDED.

On Saturday, Decomber 28th, the wedding took place of Mr. J. F. Orampion and Miss A. Petty. The bride is a ringer at Christ Chureh, Wanstead, where the marringo ceremony was performed, and the bridegroom is a member of the Woodford Parish Chureh compmny.
Mr. Crampion's ringiug prowess is toa well knawr to require description, suffee it. to say that he achieved a remarknble degree of fame during the time when he was intimately conneted with Liondon ringing eircles
The happy conple were the recipients of many splendid gifts, including a chining clock from thair ringing colleagues. The best wishes of all those readers of 'The Ringing World' who know them will go with it, Mr, and Mrs. Crampion are now living at Chadwoll Heath, and are, of courge, still continuing their campanological activities.

BELFRY ACCIDENTS.

The recent case in the High Court, to which reference was made in 'The Ringing World,' raises important issues for Church Authorities. It will be remembered that the action was one in which substantial damages for personal injury were awarded to a boy, who, while ringing a bell at a Roman Catholic Church, was struck on the head by a clapper, which fell out of the bell. The defendants were the Roman Catholic Bishop of Southwark and other trustees of the church, the priest at the time in charge of the church, and the bellhangers, who were a firm of builders. The question before the Court was merely that of damages, liability having been admitted.

It would have been interesting to know something further of the case beyond the rather meagre details that have been published, but there are certainly some facts which are worth considering. Assuming that the boy, then only eight years of age, was ringing (or, more probably, chiming) the bell by authority, this case seems to show that in the event of any accident happening in the belfry, church authorities are liable in damages if the ringers are there for any authorised purpose. The reported case did not, as far as we have seen, reveal the grounds for admitting liability, and there is little use in speculating upon them, but one thing seems certain, that while, up to the present, church authorities may have merely regarded their responsibilities as limited to liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act, in respect of paid ringers, there is a further liability in regard to accidents to unpaid ringers. It may be that negligence by those in authority has first to be proved, but the case just decided seems to point to the fact that a clapper falling out of a bell, the dropping of a piece of plaster from a wall or ceiling, a defective belfry stair (and there are many such) and any similar type of accident, if it results in personal injury, may lead to the award of substantial damages, even if the sufferer is a voluntary worker.

In the pamphlet on 'The Law Affecting Church Bells,' published by the Central Council and drawn up for that body by a committee of legal members, it is stated: 'So far as all ringers are concerned it is the duty of the Church Authorities to see that the bells, bell chamber and fittings are reasonably safe and thats there is nothing in the nature of a trap whereby an incautious person might meet with injury. It is possible that if an incumbent was aware that the bells could not with safety be rung and with that knowledge permitted ringing to take place, he might be civilly liable in damages for any injury sustained.' In the case of a paid ringer, the question of compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act would arise.

Happily accidents in the belfy are few and far between, but the risik, however rare, is nevertheless existent and this recent case should at least give church authorities a deeper interest in the condition of things in the belfry and among the bells; to say nothing of the staircases, at those churches where worn or irregular steps in badly lighted stairways are a constant menace to the safery of those who ascend and descend them.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

NEW COMPOSITIONS TO BE PRINTED IN ANNUAL REPORT. A quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held on Saturday, February 1st, at Wigston Magan, near Leicester. The fine ring of eight belis was made good use of during the afternoon and evening by members from Burton, Derby, Hinckley, Loughborough, Nottingham aud Leicester branches, as well as several outcounty members. It was unfortunate that South Wigston belle were unavailable for this meeting. The committee met in the afternoon, and arising out of their deliberations it was decided to grant f5 to the Bell Repairs Fund at Austey, Leicester, and also 822 2s, to the William Pye Memorial Fund. It was decided to print the annual report in the usual way, and, after a lengthy disoussion, it was proposed to print figures of new compositions rung duxing 1935 and the new methods rung by the Wigston Masna band.
A short service followed, conducted by the Vicar, and a peal board dedicated recording the Fubilee peal of Buckingham Surprise Major.
Tea mas served in the Glurch Rooms at 5 p.m, and over 30 ringers and friends sat down. Inmediately afterwards the general business wis proceecied with, The president (Mr. E. Denison Taylor) gave a revjew of the past quarter's work, but first voiced the feeling of all present at the grent national loss of H.M. King George $\nabla_{\text {., }}$ and asfed all to stand a few moments to his beloved and respected memary.
Fewer peals had been rung during the quarter, but calling for apecial mention was the new method called Claybrook Surprise Major, rung by the Wigston Magna band, and 9,760 Bob Major, composed and called by the general hon. secretary, which never liad a single bob, but 400 singles! He was pleased to have the Vicar of Wigston present at the meeting and thanked lim for the inspiring service.-The Viear, in reply, gave a welcome to all members present and trusted all had enjoyed the bells.
New members proposed since the last meeting, viz., 15 ordinary, two rejoining, two life, two honorary, were duly elected.
The hon. treasurer (Mr. W. E. White) explained that nominations for Central Council representatives and general officers, if duly proposed and seconded, could bo received by the general hon. secretary up to one month before the aunual meeting at Easter.

Two auditors to check accounts were duly chosen-Messrs. C. Harkison and J. H. Dean.

This concluded the business, and Mr. J. Fi. Swinfield proposed a vote of thanks to the local company for all antangements made and to the ladies for catering. Further ringing on the bells and "impromptur meetings' elsewhere brought a successful afternoon to a close.

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

MEMORLAL TO LATE MAS'CER DEDIGATED.
The annual general meeting of the Socicty of Royal Cumberland Youths was held at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on January 25dh, Despite the national mouraing for the death of King George $V$., the attendanes was considered very good, about 50 members and friends attending. Although there was no ringing on the tower bells, the time was well occupied in handbell cinging. At 5 oflock the Ficar unveiled the memorial to the late respected Master of the saciety, Mr. J. D. Mathews. In a few well-chosea remarks, Canon McCormick spoke of the sreat work Mr. Matthews lad dane for the society.
Mr. G. Cross (Master) then asked the Wicar to accept and dedicate this memorial to perpetuate the memory of Mr. Matthews.
After a prayer, the Ficar pulled aside the curfain which covered the tablet.
The Lord's Prayer was repeated by all and the ceremony concluded with the Blessing.
The tablet is of black glass in the shape of a bell, witli gold lettering, supplied by Messrs. Caspar and Co.
A sumptuans tea was prowided by the Vienr and Church Council in the canteen, and afterwards a coursu of Stedman Ginques was rung on handbells to the deligint of the assistants.
A move was then made to the celebrated Vestry Hall, where the business meeting was held. The balance sheet was presented by the treasurer (Mr. G. W. Steeve), and showed a very satisfactory balance on the right side-about double of the previons year.
The secretary (Mr. G. A. Card) gave his report, which was also considered very satisfactory, as progress had been maintained.
The following officers were then elected: Master, Mr. G. H. Gross; sccretary, Mr. G. A. Cand; treasurer, Mr. G. W. Steere; trustees, Mr. T. Smith and Mr. A. Herdy; seniar steward, Mr. P. Bevan; junior stewasd, Mr. F. Arnold; auditors, Mr. T. Newman and Mr. F. Symonds.

It was decided to hold three quarterly meetiugs, as usual, the following places and dates being decided upon, providing permission be obtained : March 28th, Gravesend; July 18th, Beddington; October 10th, Walthamstow. Due notice of these neetinge will be edvertised in "The Ringing Wor'd."
It was also decided to hold a practice meeting at Sloreditch on the last Thurgiay in the month, from 6 to 8.30 , to help on the young members at this clurch.
Four represeutatives for the Central Council were elected, viz, Mr. G. H. Grosa, Mr. G. W. Steere, Mr. J. Parkel and Mr. G. Gibert. This conchuded the business, and the Vicar was thanked for presiding.

BELERY GOSSIP.

We rggret that owing to the great pressure on our space, many peal reports and touches are unawoidably held aver, as is also the report of the reopening of Marple bells, which have beez restored by Messers, Taylor and Co. A report of the annual meeting of the Truro Diocesan Guild will appear in aur next issue.

During the peal at Finchampstead oll January 28 th it was noticed that all the ringers were wearing spectacles! This may not be in new record, but it is certainly a rare occurrence.
The ring of five of Thornford Church, Dorset, is to be rehung and a new treble added to mike six. The work is in tho capable hadds of John Taylor and Co.

We are not surprised to leara that Mr. J. T. Dyke, the genial hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesson Association, has received many congratulations upon the performance at Chewton Mendip, recorded in our last, issue. A tindicated that it was his first peal of Surprise Major. Even the printer's 'dewil' should have known beter than this but there's many a slip-when one is hatraling type.
The ladies are to hold a meeting at Ossett, near Wakefield, on February 29th. As usual the presence of gentlemen will be welcome, but the secretary warns them, by asking them to note the datel
The two eight-bell towers in Taunton liave four active ringing members, erch of whom has calied a peal on eiglat bells.
Frederick G. Smith, aged 16, the ringer of the treble in the peal at Beaconsfield, rang his first peal (Bob Major) without the leasto semblance of a trip. There are very few ringers of any age, who ring their first peal without a slip of any kind, and Fred Smith's performance was a highly creditable one.

MUFELED RINGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -I natice by your peal reports that some mufled ringing was done at the usual ringing speed, and one footnote even adds, 'Quickest peal on the bells.'
I venture to suggest that muffled ringing loses its beauty if carried out at the usual speed and method, but is most impressive 17ut with half-muffled clappers in whole pulls, or, better still, call changes. At the tower where I ring we could not manage whole pull changes to a method, so arranged suitable call changes, the tenor making about 15 blows per minute.
It would be interesting to hear what is considered correct.
There is no time given for the quarter-peals.
Galhampton, Somerset.
W. A. OSBORN.

HALB OR WULL MUFFTND?
Dear Sir, -In going through my 'Ringing World' of last week I was surprised to find that bells had been rung in peals or quarterpeals two ways, some lialf-muffled and some fully muffled for our beloved King. For my part. I think this was wrong to have had two Kinds as stated above. Going back to the time of Qusen Victoria's death, I have always anderstond that bells shoild be rung fully mufled for any member of the Royal Tamily, which I take it means King or Queen and sons and daughters of the Royal House.
As we ring bells lalf-maffled for, sny, clergy, churchwardens and ringers or anjono else of inportance, when ft comes to such a sad loss as the nation has just sustained I think there slould be a marked difference in the way in which the bells shouid be muffled.
We all know our King looked upon himself as just an orcinary man, but the whole nation looked upon him as something far beyond that. I certainly think that we ringers should be given to understand which is the right way to have them muffled, then whenever guch a sad event falis upon the nation again-I wrust this may be a long, long way off-all bells will be muffled in the same way throughout the country. At Broxboume we had them fully muffled with the tenor open one side.
May I ask if the Central Council could discuss this matter at some convenient time and inform all ringers of their wiew on this important subject?
I trust no ringer or ringers will think $I$ am making an attack on any ringing, whether half or fully nuffed, becanse we all lad the samo sincerity at the end of the rope. All I ans asking is for information as to which is the corrent way to mulfle bells on the death of a member of the Royal Family. $\qquad$ G. FADLEY.

At the half-ycarly meeting of St. Michacl's lelhingers on Thursday, January 30th, an oak panel recording two peals-a peal of Stedman Triples and a peal of Bob Mrjor-was dedicated by the Vicar (the Rey. W. McGarthy). This oak panel was presented to the belfry by Mr. H. M. White, the secretary of the local band, the peal of Bob Major having been rung upon his silver werding. Mr, H. J. Tucker, of Chichester, and formerly of Bishop's Stortford, who conducted the peal, was present, and the ringers gave him a hearty welcome.
The Vicar thanked Mr. White on belhalf of the churchwarden and all present for this handsome gift.

During the evening touches were rung in parious mothods, fneluding Grandsire and Orford Bob Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Grandsire Oaters.

DEATH OF REV. B. H. TYRWHITT-DRAKE

WALSOKEN MOURNS A BELOVED PRIEST.

Many tributes have been paid to the loss which the parish of Walsoken, the town of Wishech and the Diocese of Ely have sustained by the tragic death of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhite-Drake, who, as recorded last waek, was killed by a falling tree in the Rectory grounds on January 25th.
Apart from his purely parochial duties, Mr. Drake had allied himself to many good causes, and took an nctive part in social as well as ehturch life in the district.
He took great interest in the affairs of the British Eegion, end was chaplain and vice-president of Wal soken branch. In Eree masonry he was Past Provincial Grand Claplain of Hertfordslire.
The great grief felt in the districh at his cleath wes manifested at the funeral on Wednesday week, when, despite a rain thet never ceased, such a large and representative congregatiou assembled that the chureh would not hold all who attended.

The Bishop of Ely the Rt. Rev. B, O. F. Heywood took part in the service, which was conducted by the Fical of Wisbech (the Rev. F. F . Stallard). Prayers were re cited by Archadeacon Ward, and the comnittal prayers were read by the late Rec tor's cousin, Camon F. Halsey, of Great Gaddesden Herts, whore Mr. Dralie's fablher was formerly Finar.

In addition to the family mouruers were inany clergr, most of whom wera robed
There was a paratle of tite British Legion, with their siandard The Women's Section, with their standard, was also represented, While the Wisbech Salvation Army was present with theit band. Wisbech Brotherhood and Wisbech V.A.D. sent representatives, as did also the local lodges of Freemasons, the Walsoken Rectory Bowls Glub, tha Wisbech Women's Institute and the Wisbech Male Voico Choir.
Mr. E. H. Lewis (president) and Mr. G. W. Fietcher (hon. secretary) represented the Central Council, and other ringers present were Mrs F. K. Fletcher (hon. secretary, Ladies' Guild), Mr. R. Riohnrdson (Master, Eincain Diocesan Guild), Mrs. Richarison (hon. secretaty, Lincoln District of the Ladies' Guid), Miss K. Willers (hons, secretary Ely Diocesarl Agsociation), Mr. F. Warrington (hon. secretary, Ely Diocesars Association, Central District), Mr. A. N. P. Woodard (lon secretary) and Mr. W. H. J. Hooton (representily Gambridge Uuiversity Guild, Messrs. R. Crofts (Elm), A. Johmson and W. Manm (Hilgay), I. T. Smith (Wisbech), S. Ingle nint E, Shinkins (Terrington), A. $\bar{Y}$. Bowen (Shouldham), O. Cousins and W. Cousins (Tertington St. John), A. G. Giddins (Maroh), ete.
At the graveside rounds were mong on handhells by memthers of the Ely Assaciation and the local service ringers.
Touches of Bob Minor were rung on the tower bells, with elappers deeply maffled, thoth before aud after the fervice, and maffled rimging took place on the bells get eeveral towers in the Wisbech Rural Deanery.
At Walsoken, on Sunday, February 2nd, the bells were rung with clappors deeply mufled. Touches of Bol Minor were rung beforc moming sarrice, and in the evenils a 720 of Bob Minor: W Starey 1 W. Cousins 2, G. F. Mason 3, S. Steed 4, Itewis Bush 5, F. C. Wigmore (conductior) 6.
On Saturday, eight members of the Wisbech Bragel of Ely Diocesan Association attempted a peal of St. Clement's Boh Major at All Saints Church. Hilgay, with the bells half-muffled, but owing to e shift course the belis were called into rounds after' I hour 15 minutes' goad ringing.

At the iuquest, which had been hek ou the preceding Monday: evidence was given that the tree felling was begun during the Saturday afternoon. but was held up for a time owing to rain. It was completed by lanp-light, and just before the tree was thrown, the Rev. B. H. T'yrwhiti-Drake was warned by Alfred Treeman, who was doing the wort, assisted by his son, to stand in a place of safety, which he pointed out to the Rector. Apparently the Rector aid not stop in this spot, for after the tree was down Freeman failed (Continued at foot of next column.)

THE CHURCH AND ITS BELLS.

WHAT THE AROHBISHOP OF OANTERBURY HAS SADD.

Striking Contrast With Vicar of Kingston's Views.

The extraordinary attitude teken up by the Vicar af Kiugtion-onThames with regard to the relation of his bells to the Churel has been tho subject of much comment among rivgers, and to many of those who love church bells, because of theiry association with centaries of Christian workhip, it came as a painful surprise.
The Rev. T. B. Scrutton's viows are, happily, shaved by few of his fellow clergy, and wa present below a striking contrast. One quotation is from the deciaration of the Vicar of Kingston; the ofler is extracted from the axldress given by the Archbishop of Canterbury at the jubilee service of the Kont County Association in Canterbury Cathedral on Taster Monday, 1930.

The Vicar of Kingston:

The bells are of no finterest to the Church as a Church. As a machine for spreading Christianity, which is its primary func tion, the Clurch has no interest in bells. They may be of some slight interest to the Chureln in awakening people's interest in it, but if I regard myself as oue whose business it is to ansist Clitistiminty in Kingelont, then I take not the smallest intereset in the bells. The only interest I hiwe fin them is as a Kingstonian. The anterest is municipal-oivie It is not a Cluurch of England interest. Some people may be inclined to say: 'It is the business of the parish chricth-let thew get on with it.' But, quite bouestly, if it is left to 11 s the belle will be left.'

The Archbishop of Canterbury

Tlie vaice of the church helle is, amolge the many voices of the world, full of a very special signifoation and meanine. Some of the dcepest associations of luyian life, mosk of all, of course, tile message of the Clurch, the bells epeak ont. There are other voices within the Ohurch, of teacling, of worship and of praise, but the bells always seem to me to be the vaice of the Cburch itself, when the buildings, so many of them old and weacrable, try to speak for themselves. The bells, therefore, rive their witness of what the churches themselves staud foz throughout all the changes and clinnces of the gemeralians that have passed, of things that are unsem and etomat. Sunday by Sunday the somding of the bellig Ieminds the people of God's chaim upon thenr lives. ... To me there is always something joyful and rather assuring in the gound of He bells. They speak of the fillt that endures and of the everlasting sospel of the love of God.

DOES MUSIC OF BELLS MEAN NOTHING? T'o the Editor.

Dear Sir, -It is, indeed, diffirult to write withe restraint of the remarke uttered by the Ficar of Kingston, and, although it may be impossible for a ringer to view the sibject with the reverend gendeman's eyos, can it be really possible that the wusic of the bells mears nothieg to him?

I annot brine wyself to belteve that if the Rev. I'. ]3. Seruthon was at Westminster on Thesday last, as I was, he conk possilyly have failed to be deeply woved, for of ali the sourds I. heard on thatif day none of them lad the eficets of stirring typ the ennotion as the wonderful mouraful rliythom of the Abbey bells-and, my word, how they were rung!

Bells have always been regayded as the most appropriate wry of expressing the aation's joys and sorrows, to suy nathing of their vegular Suaday ringing lo remind us of our duty to God and His House.

Lastly, if the Vicar of Kingston was really in earnest, and no ono will deny that lig was very frank, it is time The mored to a clurch without a peal of bells and made roum for someane a lititle more sympethedic towards our very ancient and noble art.

We should be very thanful that there are few elergymen who hold that wiew, aud I turst that lis convictions will be overraled.

DEATH OF MR. ALPHAES BERRY

SUTTOLK RINGER WHO DIED TN HOUSE WHERE FTE WAS BORN.
It is wish mucli regret that we record the death of Mr. Alpheus Bervy, which occurred somewliat suddonly, on Wednesday, Janmary 22 nd, at Thornliam, Suffolk, in the house in which he was horn 52 years ago. For some years he had been district searetary of tho Eye Branch of the Suffolk Guild. Till four years ago, when he was appointed sexton of Thormham Clareh, he had been an enthusiastic peal ringer, and had rung upwerds of 330 peals, often cyoling many miles after' a day's work to make peal attempts in various methods. mies after a day's work to make pean atwenpts in various methode. in 1912, also, in more recent years, in most of the peals of Suprise Minor rung there.

Tho deceased was interred in tha presence of a large congregation, which inchuded Lord Henniker, the Fon. Jolm Henniker, Rev. the Hon. Fietor Hemiker, who, with the branch chaplain of the British Legion, conducted the service. Deceased was a member of the Legion, and 30 members attended. All the workmen on the Thomham Hall Fstate, where Mr. Berry was foreman, were present.

At the conclusion of the service the bells wore rung with half-mufled clappers by ringers from Braisworth, Gotton, Diss, Eyc, Finninglam, Gisliugham. Gaboldisham, Mendlesham, Redrave, Shelfanger, Stoke Ash, Thormham, Thormdon, Walslanm le Wiilows, Wiekham Skeith, Wetheringsett, Wymondham and Yaxley. On the following evening an excellently struck halli-muEled peal was rung.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

ANNUAT MEETING OT THE SONNING BRANGH.
The Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild held its annual meeting, as usual, at Wokingham, Berks, when, despite the arctic weather, a considerable number of members (including several ladies) attended.
Ringing took place at All Saints' and St. Paul's Churches both before and after the meeting.
Service was held at All Suints' Church, the Rector (the Rev. G. Kenwarthy) olliciating, assisted by the Master of the Guila, the Rev Canon G. F. Coleridge (who read the lessov), the Deputy Master (the Rev. O. Flliot Wiggh, ard the Rev. A. G. G. Tlutlow (curate of Al] Saints ${ }^{*}$ ), who preached a striking ecrmon from Revelations ili., 15 : 'Neither cold nor hot.' He remarked that the text emphasised that our reltgion should be filled with fervour: strong words, almost as though it were better not to become Chyistians at all than be lukewarm Christians. Everything was to be keen. Our Lord's parables emphasised this. The people mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles were 'all out' for their Lord. It was the same now. They were told about the uselessuess of the slacker; he was of 110 help to the Lord's work on earth, but directly hindering it. The history of the Church showed that, when from flourishing it 'slipped back,' slacktess was the cause. When Christinns were so keen that they feared not persecution or even death, the Ciuroh flourished
We wanted not so much better Christians as more of then in these days if the Chareh was to go forward. It was up to each one to see if te were 'puiling bis weight' or whether he was hindering the work of the Church, which had no use for slackers-those who came to see and then, censorions, went nway saying, 'I'lat was not very much help to me.' Those only of real help to our Lorch were those who went ont after Him in a spirit of absolute loyalty to Fim Slackess was the one great drawback in all their work for our Lord and His Clurch. Tlie keen ones were a tremendous support to the Churel, but there was room for improvement.
The preacher then indicated ways in which people might become even a little more helpful. These included for ringers-kemness in their work, shown in punctuality for ringing for church services on Sunday and fox practice on weeklays-a help and not a jundrance to the band. There was a difference, he said, between cloir and ringers In the former, one voice out of a part, wrous or absent, might pess comparatively unnoticed, but the ringer absent or incorrect was bound to have an obvious effect. The preacher added that he had scarcely flared to say so much, but for an article he recently read in "The Ringing World' on this subject, and went on to say: 'Ringers, ou tho whole, aro the most splendid fellows I have ever met, and when the youngsters get heckled by the other ringers it is all to the good Don't be affended when you are told of your mistakes. Ringing is very diffeulb task, and surely that is what makes it so worth while Always be tirying to lear'm something new. You improve by practice.
To take pride in one's work and to work together as a team were well worth while, he proceeded, and mentioned a tower, ' not far frum liere, ${ }^{3}$ where in 1934, out of a possible 1,100 attendances only 25 were missed! Such could be done by keenness. It was well, sometimes, to think about all those litite fanlts and failings, too, as well as to remind themselves what a tremeulous privilege it was to be a ringer, even if people did discourage by criticism.
Among those present at the service and subsequent proceedings ncluded the Revs. A. P. Carr, W. T. Stubbs and L. R. Majendie, Mr. A. J. Wright (Guild transurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Gnild secreMr. A. J. Wright (Guild treasurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Gnild secretary), with fovenen of the towers and ringers, a congregation of about 70 .
A collection for the Bramela Restaration Fund amounted to £1 2s. od Mr. A Yould, F.R.C.O., was at the organ and played 'Belfry morn,' sung during the service.

BUSINDSS MEETING

The usual mert tea followed, held in the All Sxints' Church Honse the fare ineluding the mueh fawoured Wokingham meat pies and also minee pies. Miss A. F. Walker and her helpers, the Misses Greany, Ward, Cox, Butler and Mesdames Rose, Henderson, Broaks, Lindsey and Willis, formed the efficient stafi of waitresses, ate, while, under Mr. C. Goddard's able direction, the Rev. R. L. Majendie, Messrs. F. E. Chapman, A. E. Priest, W. Houlton and L. Russell acted as carvers.
The meal over, the Master thanked in happy terms the ladies and gentlemen who had carried out the tea arrangements, and this was emphasised by acclamation.

Mr. W. J. Paice (the hon. secretary) thanked the two Rectors for their kinduoss in allowing the use of their towers. not only on that day, hut on many other occasions. Ire further thanked the Rector of Alf Saints' for the service, which they were alwnys delighted to attend on those occasions. He further thanked the preacher (the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow), whose sermon, he said, had hit the nail right on the heat, and he hoped it would go in deep. He also thanked Mr. Yould, the organist, for his beantiful music, and regretted that Mr. Yould, was unable to be with them at the tea.
The Rev. G. Kenwortliु, responding, paid F tribute to the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow's sermon, and remarkerl that simee Mr. Thurlow's coming to All Saints' he hinself had learat quite a lat about bell-ringing and what a wonderful art it was. He felt they were a splendid lat of rirgars (applause)
The Master of the Guild (Canon Coleridge) presided at the business meeting.

The hon. secretary referred to Mr. Darwill, of Waitham St. Lawreace, and Mr. A. H. Jones, af Wokingham (both members of long standing), who were ill and unable to attend the meeting. He congratulated Mr. W. Bagley, of Easthanstead, upon his partial recovery from eye trouble, expressing pleasure at seeing Mr. Bagley again with them (applause).
Tho balance sheet was then presenten by Mr. Paice as hon. treasurer. The balance had increased from e5 12s. 1d. in 1934 to fil 7s. Kl. on December 31st, 1935 . He thanked Miss Walker for her donation of £3 15s., and paid a warm tribute to Mr. Owen Goddard for his kind services as auditar. He also thanlied the hon. members and foremen of towers for the prompt payment af subseriptions.
On the proposition of Mr. J. Moth, seconded by Mr. L. Russell, the repori was edopted.
Mr. Moth then said Mr. Paice had not drawn his honorarium, voted some years back. Mr. Paice said he did not take it, as the branch had not given instructions.-ML. Moth then moved, and Mr. Rance seconded, That the sum of four guineas be awarded to Mr. Paice, as honorarium for two years.-This was carried unazimonsly, and Mr. Paice expressed thanks.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.
Mr. Paice reported 27 honorary and 142 ringing members, against 25 and 153 the year before. During the year Dr. Attlee had left Burfield and the Rev. J. G. Etwand had succeeded him. Miss Renshaw, of Walthan St. Lawrence, had passed away, and her sister, Mrs. Robins, had expressed a wish to fill her place as an honowary member. Mr. F. Hanson, a Wargrave ringer, hod alsa passed away. In mavy ways the past jear had shown increased activity, and more kecmess had been shows by masy members. At a successful meeting at Waltham St. Lawrence in the summer, a variety of methods were runt in good style. The Rector and parishioners were thanked for their find welcome and hospitarity. Peals had been brought home by mixed hands from the Deanery towers, but mone by individual branch towers. Good practice in Minor methods lad been put in at several of the report was adopted, with thanks to the secretary.

The Deputy Master presided pro tem. while the chairman was manimously re-elected.-Cazon Coleitdge, thanking the branch for the honour, said he would do his best, but nge and infinity precluded his mounting tower steps. He would saun reach his 8alli year. Mr. W. J. Paice was re-elected on the proposition of Mr. J. Moth, seconded by Mr. F. Bentry, who bothe expressed cardial appreciation of the excellent work done loy the hon. secrediary.
hifr. Pajes suitably responded, and referred to Mr.
hr. Paica suitably responded, and referred to Mr. G. J. Wright, of Sonning, who was not present owing to illness. He was one of their oldest members, nud he wished him many more happy yeers.

Messirs. Ti. Dentry, J. Moth, J. Rance and J. White were then reelected brauch representatives to the Guild Committee. I'lie Branch Committee, consisting of foremen of the towers, was re-elected.

Rcommendation from the Branch Committee for a half-yearly meting to be held in June at Waltham St. Lawrence, and for monthly combined practices as before, were carried.
The haster regretted that, with so few of his Saturdays free and lis not being able now to get about as he would have liked, he latad very little to report. He proceeded humorously to make an encouraging speech (applase)
The Deputy Master, in similar vein, expressed lis satisfaction at visiling the Sonning Branch, also lis pleasure at the way in which Mr. Yould had so beautifully played the orgas that dey.
A. J. Wright (Guild treasurer) said the money for tho fuild was coming in very satisfactarily. He hoped for a better balance than they had last year. Altoough past "man ${ }^{1}$ allotted span of life, he would still do his Iiftle bit for the Guild. He wished everything good for the Sonuing Branch, whith atways gave him a hearty welcome. They always dif their best, and Mr. Paite was again first in getting in his figures. He congratulated him on his treasurersliip and for his Restoration Fund. He wished every tower and brants would do that. in which case they would be much better off. He wished them all a very happy Nom Year (applause)
Mr. R. T. Fibbert (Guild secretary) colyrabulated $3[1$. Paice on being "first in.' Mr. Hibbert said that he could himself still get up tower steps and crawl over the framework of bells. Easthampestead had invited help for reconditioning their bells, which request ho commended to Mr. Paice and to the Guild Restoration Fund Committee, who would themselves make a recommentation. Tlie Guild was for mutual help, and he hoped somebody would bring the mater forward. 'Tet all work together with loyal supportr,' lre added.
The Rew. W. T. Stubles, Rector of Lasthamstead, said ahont £ 150 would be required for the restoration of bells and tower. He would ask the Guild to lean the amount, and hoped, in a year, to collect sufficient to repay it.
On the proposition of Mr. Paice, seconded by Mr. Rance, five grineas was voted unanimously to Easthampstead from the Branch Festoration Funa゙.

The Rev. A. P. Carr thanked the chairman for presiding, and Canon Coleridge, in reply, said he hoped for some time yet to lue with them, either as a humble member or as theit chaiman (applanse)

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

PRESTEIGN DISTRICT WANTS TO GEANGE ITS NAME.

The ennunl mecting of the Presteign District of the Fereforid Diocesan Guild wes held at Lyonshall on Saturday, January 25th. Tho towers represented were Knigton, Eardisiand, Dilwyn, Staunton-or-Arrow and Lyonshall. The service was conducted by the Viear (tho Rov. W. C. Eilison), who mato special mention of the great national loss by the death of King George. Tea was aitorwards provided at the Vicarage by the Vicar, and this was followed by the anual business meetiug. The Vicar presided. Mr. T. Jouss (Kington) was elected District Ringing Master for the ensuing year. The instructors, Mr. L. Evans (Eurdisland) and Mr. W. Richards (Lyonshall), wore re-aleched, ne nlso was the hon, secretary (Mr. Jabez Preice).
In his report, the searetar' $y$ paid high tribute to Tyonshall and Elanaton-on-Arrow ringers for attendances at the combined practices and quarterly meetings, and said that, on the whole, members attenced much better in 1935 than before.
Tilaere was a long discussion on clnaging the name of the district, and it was unanimonsly agread that it shonld be called the 'Kington, District instead of tise 'Presteiga' District. The decision will bo sent to the Eereford Guild for epproval.
The neat quarterly meeting is to be held at New Raduor in May. Four new members, three from Kington and one from Lyonshall, were elected, and five qualified ior cerlificates, three from Staunton-onArrow and two from Lyonshall.
Hearky yotes of thanks were passed to the Ficar for taking the service and providing the tea, to the lady laelpers, and slso to Mr. Bowen (Lyonshall) for seting as organist. The bells were afterwards rung half-muflect till $9 \mathrm{p}, \mathrm{m}$.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

BRANOH COMMITTEES THAT DO NOT MEEPS
A meoting of the Northern Tranelh of the Worcesterslire Association was hall! at Kidilerminster on famuary 18th. Good use was made of the now ring of twetve bells, and the gervice, held in church, was eoudnctod by the Yienz' (Canon L. B. Sliden, M.A.), who also gave ther a dedress.
Pean, by invitation, was provider in tho Porish Fall, at which aboutt 50 members sat down. The Vicar presided at the subsequent businers moeting, supported by Mr. T. Famming, Mr. Charles Woribury, Mr. J. Bass (Central Committee representative) and Mr. C. W. Copper (librarian).

Referenes was made to the loss to the associntion by death of Mr. Harry Masen, who had been an indefatigable worker for the association. His gifls were aiways of material value to the association. It wns proposed that the secretary send? n letter of condolence to Mrs. Mason, the members agreeing by gtanding in silence a few moments.
Anothe:" genticmen who had also passed on was remembered by a great many of tho older members, the Rev. C. A. Clements.
Apologies were announced from Mr. W. B. Cartwright, the hrauch sonctinry: Mr. J. D. Tohnsou, general secretary of the association, aud Mr. W. Short, Ringing Master of the nssociation.
Ti. was decided to hold the next moeting at. Chaddesley Corbett in Tunc, and it was arranged that the quarterly peal should be attempted nt, Tinderminster, by the kind permission of the Vicar.
Tive now performing members wero olected.
Mr. Th. Mattlews raised ma interesting point. Ewch branch, he saiel, hana a conmilitie consisting of the leraler of each company, who should bo responsible for all moneys due to the aseociation and see that they werc duly collected. FIe hati no recollection of them ever being salled togethne, and he thongliv it would be a good thing for them to meet and discuss matters conconning the towers in the branch.
A very hearty rote of thanks was accorded to the Fiear for the use of the bells, conturting the service, to the organist and to those who lad kinally provided the tea and waited upon the members.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORO SOLIETY.

Alihongh the reather was uninviting, a considerable number of numbers assembled at St. Mary's Church, Kingswinfortl, on the orention of the guarterly meeting of the Society for the Arclideaconty of Staffort.
The Ruv. D. J. Wilson. Vicar, condnoted the service, and gave an inleresting adderess. Iu the conyse of his remarks, the Vicar suid how Piensen he was to see some of his oft friende frour St. Mattrew's Onreh, Waleane, where at one limo he was doing service as curate. Rev. O. H. Barker proposed a vote of thanks to the Ficar, organist, towerkmeper and the enterers.
It wha resolved to hola a speeial meeting for practice at Wom-
 On the proposition of Mr. K. Knowles, the elerical secretary was askel to somid a letter of spmpathy to Mr. George Fughes-who is at presont int hospital-with best wishes for a spedy recovery. presont int hossital-with best wishes for a speedy recovery.
Tha next quarterly mecting is movisionally nrranged to take place

FOR BEGINNERS.

PITFALLS IN GARLY GOMPOSING

There are many young ringers who like trying their hand at compasing. Last week we showed those who would like to fiud new methods one of the pitfalls which must be avoided if thoy try to construct a new method. Here are one or two points selected nt randam which they must bear in mind if they endeavour to compose touches or peals.

The indiscriminate stringing together of lead-ends (or ' lead-heads') and courses does not necessarily lead to a true touch or peal. Yoh can, by experieace and study, get to kuow that certain combinations produce certain true blocks of changes, either of leade ol courses, but departure frdm what we may term these standardised callings requires the application of tests, to ensure truth, that cannot be ignored.
For instance, if yen are frying to get a composition of Grandsire Triples, you cannot throw in the bobs anywhere until the bells are bronght round, and depend upon it being a true touch. To give the simplest example: If you are pricking your touch by the lead-ends, you cannot heve 325476 at a plain lead or a bob, because hefore that comes up in your ringing you will have had "ramds, at hand-stroke. But the liability of ervor goes much cleeper than that. Every Teadend can be produced in two ways, by n plain lead or by a boh. As an examplo, 758634 , produced by a bob at the first lond, could alsn ocenr at, a plaim lead after 723646 ; it, therefors, follows that, if you begin a touch with a boh at the first lead, jou must also liave a bob at the lead following 723546.

The leads which have a relationghip of this kind yur ius blocks of five, and there are 72 such blocls in the extent of Grandsirc Triples. Wach of these blocks is a cycle and they are tnown as Q-sets, It is impossible to set them all out here, but here is an example:-

| :--- |
| 234567 |
| 345572 |
| 467525 |
| 672534 |
| 723546 |

$B$ 253746
354267
456372
657423

C
752634
255746
355267
456372
Notice the relationship between the five rows in $A$. Golumn $B$ is the plain lead which frollows the corresponding row in $A$ column $G$ shows what will be produced if a bob follows a instead of a plais lead. Notice also that the rows in O are the satue as in A, excepte that the oycle is begun at a different plase
Thus th follows that if you linve a plain lead after 234567 , You cannot lave a bob after 345572; or if 346572 is followed by a plain lead, you cannot lave a bob nfter 467523 . If you use all your Q-set, as you must in a peal, it menns, therefore, that if a plain lead follows any row in column $A$, a plain lead must follow them all; or, if a bob follows otie, a bob must follow all.

Tt may happen in a touch, however, that you will not use all the lead ends in columan A, and then it is possible to use both plained and bobbed leads, but the utinost care is necessary. Before, 玉lyerefore, wasting too much time on composing Grandsire, it would be well to study the subject more clasely as it is get out in Suowdon's honk on the Grandsire method, for Grandsire composition is a somewhat precarious task.
There is a similar snare in methods like Bob Major, which can very ensily be seen ly enting out the landstroke and backstroke leads of the treble.

| Handstroke | $\ldots$ | 12436587 | 14326587 | $\$ 3246587$ |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Backstroke | $\ldots$ | 12345678 | 14235678 | 13425678 |
|  | Bob | Leads. |  |  |
| Handstroke | $\ldots$ | 13246587 | 12436587 | 14326587 |
| Backstroke | $\ldots$ | 12345678 | 14235678 | 13425678 |

An examination of these figures will show that, while it is possible to use one lead plained and ons lead babbed, if all titree ara to he nsed, then (tuless a single is used for one) all must bo plain or all bobled. This applies not only to those leads where the tenors (that is 7-8) are together at the lead-end, but to every lead of the course, Not only lave you to nvoid the repetitions which may occur in this way, but thero are other hiclden sources of tronble which you need to know how to avata, and we hope to be able to say mora of them rext week.

AN OLD STORY.

Often, as long as things appear, on the surface, to go smoothly, members of ringing associations are content to accept them as satisfactory, and it is just as well that occasionally they should be shaken out of their complacency. There is one place, at least, where ringers may be sure of being 'told the worst' when they hold their anoual meeting, and that is in the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. There the members may be confident that they will get from their Hon. Secretary not platitudes and congratulations, but plain speaking on their shortcomings. It is given in the kindest spirit-and they appear to enjoy it. The trouble, however, according to Mr. Grover, is that they do not take it to heart, but we feel quite sure that it makes them think. Reports that are mere recitals of statistics andi a means of handing out bouquets may be very charming, but it is a good thing that opportunity should sometimes be taken for plain speaking. This applies, not anly to the Guildford Diocesan Guild, but to most other ringing associations. There would be less apathy and selfishness if, where it is needed, those concerned were given a few home truths to digest, by those in a position to express an opinion.

Speaking with a certain amount of inside knowledge, we can say that the state of affairs in the Guildford Diocesan Guild is no worse, even if it is no better, than in many other societies. Behind the scenes there is a good deal of hard work being put in, but, as cverywhere, there are those who are content to let the willing horses work and to take all that is offered them without making any effort to reciprocate. There is a certain proportion of ringers who seem constitutionally apathetic where ringing affairs are concerned. It is an old story. To stir them into action and initiative is an almost impossible task, and there is, on the face of it, some justification in the argument of those who say that such ringers are not worth wasting time on or that if they have any desire to get on they will make their own opportunities. And y'et even the most apathetic may have some point at which their interest might be touched. If they are left entirely alone, they will for ever remain outside the fold; but constant friendly contact may, and very likely will, have satisfactory results.

The real point, however, is that it should not be left to just a few enthusiasts to maintain touch with these lukewarm towers. It should be the business of all the members to share in the missionary work, to extend the hand of fellowship and keep the contact. It is not altogether a matter of instruction; it is, in the first stages at any rate, a question of seeking the confidence and interest of those who are loth to have anything to do with organised ringing. Once this is established, other sleps to progress will probably follow, but the work at the outset is one in which all who have the interest of their association at heart shouid share. A solution offered by the secretary of the Guildford Guild, is that neighbouring towers should link up in pairs or threes and cultivate the spirit of fellowship upon which all progress must be based. It is a suggestion worth considering, but it would obviously be a mistake to carry the 'parochial spirit,' as a correspondent describes it, to the limit of excluding from peal ringing visitors from other areas in order to help the lame dogs and the stay-at-homes. Such a course would, it the long run, have disastrous effects.

MUFFLED RINGING.

MUFFILD PEALS FOR TUREE SOVERBTGNS.
In connection wift the poal of Stedman Triples rung in Leeds on Jamuary B8ili, it is interesting to noto that Mr. Francis Barker has now taken prart in muffed peals on Hie dentla of thece Sovereipns, vie., Grandsire Caters at Wakefiold on Fobruary 4th, 1901, for the Inte Queen Victoria, Kent Treblo J3ob Major at Liversedge on May 14th, 1910, for the lina King Fawand YIT. rud Stednant Triplea at Laeds on January 281 hi , 1936 , for tho lato King George V .

FOR BEGINNERS.

SOMLTHING ABOUT PROOF.
Wher you prick touches of Grandsire Triples you will find that it will perhaps be ensier to check the truth of the touch if you write it out by the lead unds. Then, until you have called a single, if the lead ends are true, the touch will be true. If singles lave been used, then make another column beside the first in which you write all the handstrokes and check these also against themeelves and the backstrokes in the first column.
The composition of peals of Triples is a mucli more difficult matter than peals on herhor mumbers, the reason being, of course, tant in Triples every change has to be used, whereas on higher aumbeis there is a very much larger scope.

For inswance, in a peal of Major you lave 40,320 olianges from which to seloct your 5,000 , and even if you do not 'part the tenors, which means that both the 7th and 8th are left to follow the work of a plain course throughoub the peal, you have as many as 13,440 to choose from in a plain method.
In comporing Major it is usual to do it by course-ends (the change at which the tenors are in the corresponding position to that frean which they started and which would he more correctly described as 'course-heads'). It is not sulficient, however, for the courbe-ends to be conrect-there can easily be repetition elsewhere. A check on this would be by the lead ends, ns in Grandsire, but there is a shorter way-

The method is made up of a eeries of plain conrges, 120 of them, with the tenors together, and every hob you call shunts you from one course to another. Thus, if you starb from 23456 (omitting treble and tenors) and call a bob Wrong, you are shunted into the course which startz 52436 , or if you waited until you reach the Middle before you call a bob, you are then shunted into the course which starts 43652, while if you wait for the Fome before a call is wnde, ther you switeh into the course 42356.

Fou are not likely to let the courge-ends repent, and what you have to be on fund against is тepetition of pieces of other courses occurring in between internal bobs, such as between Wrong and Middle.
For instance, if you called this touch-the course-ends are true, but the leads between the Wrong and Middlo of the third course repeat with the correspouding leads in the first course. How can you prove it without writing ont all your lead ends? Draw up a table of three columss. Over the first put 52436, which is the course-end produced by a bob Wroug from rounds. Over the recond put, the 43652, the course-end prodiced from rounds by a bob Middle, and over the third put $42 \mathbf{x s}^{5}$, produced by a boh Home, thus:-

42356
Now, under each colnmen write the fignes which will be obtained by transposing by the figures over the top of the line, whenever a bob is called. Thus you start from 23456 and in the first colnm yon write the row obtained by the 52436 twasposition, which is, of course, 52436. In the second column, as there is a bob Middle, you write the result of transposing 52436 by 43652 , whiel is 42635 , and in the third column, as there is a hob Home, You write the reculy of the transposition of 42635 by 42356 , which is 84235 .
Let us set it out.

You will notice that where no bob is oalled you make no transposition, but reproduce tha figures from wherever the previons bob was made. You will soe what we mean if you refer to the fignres where the Wrong and Middle leads are plata.
To check the truth of the touch you examine encli columm oeparately. If there is no vepetition in a column that, much is true, but if there is a repetition in any one of the columns, then the louch or pea! is false. In the courses given above there is repetition in the first column, nnd, therefore, the touch is false.
When you proceed to prove any touch or peal by this mothod you must lave a columa for each place in any conrse tliat a bob is called, so that if there are bobs 'Before' you must have a column for that. Aud here you must not only write down the rows prodnced by the bobs, but also the rows from which the bolss come, the reaeon being that if a bob Before is called in Bob Major, there are two leads in which 7-8 are on the front, and both must, be taken into account Here is a sloort touch which inchudes Befores, the transposition for a Before being 35064 :-

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

GRIMSBY DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.
The annual meeting of the Grimsby District was held at St. James', Grimsby. Owing to the death of His Majesty King George, the bells were fully mufled. Towers represented were Bacrow-on-Humber, Barton-on-Humber, Burton-on-Stather, Bigby, Goxhill, Eillingholme, Louth, Scuntlorpe, Thoruton Curtis, Ucleby, Waltham and the local members. The Guild Ringing Master (Mr. R. Richardmon), Mis. Richardson (secretary of the Lincoln District of the Ladies' Guild) and Mr . Bramwell, of Cleethonpes, were also present. The service was conducted by the Rev. Tallents (assistant priest), who gave an interesting address.

After sorvice, members adjourned to the Ghurct House, where tea was awaiting them.
At the business meeting which followed, the Guild Ringiag Master kindly presided, through the unavoidable absence of the president of the district (the Ven. Archdeacon Parry). The Ringing Master and secretary's reports were read, and a wote of thanks passed to the officers for their reports.
Mr. Richardson proposed the re-election of the president. This was seconded by Mr. C. W. Taylor and garried with applause. The other officers were re-elected en bloc, and four mew members were elected, viz., Miss Fayres (Barton-on-Humber), Miss K. M. Felle, Mrs. F. Oook and Mr. Renders (Baryow-on-Humber).
The District Bell Fund accounts were presented and accepted. Owing to the illness of his wife, Mr. W. H. Fineyhoe asked to be relieved of the offige of secretary of the Bell Thud. Fe liad held office since its ineeplion in 1923.-Mr. O. W. Taylor kindly accepted the office. It was decided to taike a retiring collection for the District Bell Fund, and this amounted to 11s.
The following dates and places for meetings recommended by the District Committee were accepted, subject to alteration: Mablethorpe, May 23 rd; Bigby, Jume 13th: Burton-on-Stather, July 18th; Elsham, September 19tli; Scunthorpe, October 31st. As the combined practices had been a success, it was decided to have three practices, which will take place in Febrinarp, March and April. Places and dates will be advertised in 'The Ranging Worla.'
The secretary was asked to write a letter of sympathy to their old friesd, the Rev. J. H. Park, of Thornton Curtis, in his illness.
A leerty vote of thanks weve passed to the senior curate (the Rev. Wilson) for the use of the bells, to the Rev. Trallents for conducting the service and for his address, to Mr. F. Rushby for presiding at the organ, and to Mre. Stow, the caterer, and her helpers and to those who had made arrengements. Also to Mr. Richardson for presiding over the meeting and for his kindness in coming to show his films of "Che Great Adventure " and other subjects. Mr. Richardson also gave a runaing commentary, which made the pictures all the more interesting. Great thauks are due to Mr, and Mrs. Richardson for all the work they do for the Exercise. Nothing is too much trouble end distanca no object to them, and ringers in the Grimsby District appreciato their kindness.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

MEETING AT A FARM HOUSE.

The anmual meeting of the Towcester Branch was held on Saturday at Alderton, samall village of about 60 inhabitants and quite of the beaten track. The church has five bells, lately rehung by Messirs. Taylor and Co., and ceedit is due to the ringers and villagers for the interest they have taken in raising close on $£ 200$ for the work. A broken stay rather marred the ringing before service, but with the assistanes of Mr. F. Ridgeway a new ono was fitted and ringing carried on.
In his address, the Rector (the Rev. Beasley) welcomed the Guild to Alderton and spoke of the good work ringers were doing. No village ball being available, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fountaine offered two rooms of their farm house to have tes in, 42 being present. Aiter the meal had beeu disposed of the business meetine followed. Capt. Grant-Ives was re-elccted president. The Rev. E. F. Fean was elected hon. secretary in place of the Rev. R. Howes (wino foow resides at Beenham, Berks). The Rev. F. V. Fena said he was not a singer but would do what he could to carry on, and thanks were accorded him for taking the office.

Messis. A. J, Green and E. O. Lambert were electea on the Central Committee, and the Branch Committee were elected en bloc.
Thanks wers accorded to Mr. and Mrs. Fonntaine and the helpers at the tea, and to lacal ripgers. Ringing continued up to 8.30 , when a very good meeting was brouglit to a close.

There is no need to have a column for the Middle in this case bepange there are no calls there.

Here is a calling which, twice repeated, will come round. Work it out and sea whether or not it is true. The calls are W. B. H. H. W. M. H. (twice repeated).

BELERY GOSSIP.

Two Worcesterbico rings of six aro to be rehang by John Taytor and Co., viz, Little Comberton, neev Pershore, and Wellend, near Upton-on-Severn.
Mr. Arthur Walker, who rang his oue hundredth peal at Campsall, Yorks, on January 30th, made up his contury by ringing penis in 18 towers and under 25 conductors.
The report of a peal rung at Stowmarket on January 28th has been sent without the time.

Congratulations and good wishes to Mr. W. J. Nevard, the Essex veteran, upon his 80th birtłday anniversary. He celebrated it on Saturday by taking part in a peal of Bob Major at Holland, Esser, and afterwards entertained the company to bigh bea. By a coincidence, the peal was rung on the 50th anniversary of Mr. Nevard's first peal in the method.
The bells of St. Mary's, Nattinghaw, will be broadcast from the Midland Regional Station on Sunday evening, February 23rd, 7.55 to 8 p.m. Wik any reater who heard the old peal over the air please write to the Ringing Master, Mr. A. Coppock, 33 , Fazelwood Road, Nottingham, as to whethor these tuned bells 'came over' as clearly and distinctly es the old type?
Tho 'Thousand Pealers' are to meet at St. Olave's, Hart Straet, to-morrow for a peal. If experience counts for anything, they ought to ring it. We hope they will mot suffer from "nerves."
A Sulfolk newepaper has apparently found a new method. It records that ' A course of Bol Major and 168 of Grandsire Tripes were also rumg with the bells haff-muffed.

BELLS FOR THE 'QUEEN MARY.'

HONOUR FOR THE LOUGHBOROUGH BELLFOUNDRY
Messre. John Taylor and Co. have been honoured with the order to aast the ship's bells for the world's largest vessel, the luxury liner "Queen Mary." The different watohes will thas be souaded on the 'Quen Mary' upon a harmonically tuned bell, wheh means that instead of the displeasing 'clang' usually associated with ship's bells, the passengers aboard the 'Queen Mary' will hear the sweet and musical tones of a perfectly tuned church bell. There are to be three bells, and the largest bell, upon which ' Eight Bells' and the other watches are sounded, will be of enormous size for 8 ship's bell, as it will weigh $350 t b$., as against the weight of the average ship's bell of abat 30 or 40 Ib . Thas the 'Queen Mary' will have a ship's beli worthy of her importance.

BFLL BROADCASTS.

RINGERS' "GHASTLY FAILURE' AT WIGAN.
The B.B.C. have begro to do something to make change ringing better known to the public, and in their Northern programmes have instituted a series of broadcasts entitled "The Ringing Isle." On Suaday evening the item came from Wigan, where there lias recentuy been installed a new rillg of ten bells. A slort iutroduction was given by the Rector (Canon O. C. Theknesse), but the ringing which followed was, to say the loast, a disappointing exhibition. We bare received the following piotest with regard to tit:-

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Cannot something be done to prevent a ropetition of such a fiasco as that which occurred with the braadcasting of Wigan bells last Sunday evening. The bells themselves were fine, the microphone admirably placed, but the ringing after the bells left rounds (which themselves were only moderate) cau only bo described as disgraceful. There were no leads, at times four or five of the bells were striking together, and the wholo feature was turned into a horrible and ghasty failure by this poor performance on the part of the ringers.
The B.B.C. Ing been subjocted in your columne to a gooi deal of adverse criticism from ringers regaring the broadcasting of change ringing, and it is most deplorable that such a mess should have been made of what would have been otherwise a splendid opportunity to popularise ringing broadensts. Suroly the ringers of Wigan mast have been aware of their limitations-what a pity it is they were too vainglorious to admit them and that they did not invite a band of ringers on such an occasion who would he cepable of good striting. Nothing but perfect striking onght to be aimed for hy the aathorities on these occasions-no band is infallible, but it was not a case of an odd trip. there was not a clear row of ehanges from start to finish. I am a rember ol' the Lancashire Association myself and regard such a performance, on such an important oceasion, as a refection against the association. I suggest that in future, when change ringing is to be broadcast, the Chnrch autharities should go over the local ringerss heads and approach the president of the Dounty or Diocesan Guild in whose area the tower is situafed and get him to nominate a bend most likely to achiteve perfect striking.
'DISGUSTED.
MFMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. A. E. PARSONS.
Tlie dedication of a memorial to the late Mr. Albert E. Pargons, of Old Hill, Staff, is lixed for March lst during the evening service, commencing at 6.30, in the Clurch of the Holy Trinity, Old Bill. The from of the memorial is a reading desk, given by his wife, and the dedicntion will be performed by the Bishop of Worcester. All ringing friends that can possilily attend are invited to be present. Tlue betts will be available for ringing from 5.30 p.m.

CHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS.

GUILD JUBILEE SCIEEME TO ADD TWO TREBLES.
For over half a century, among ringers of the Chester Diocesan Guild, it has been the hope that the Gathedral should one day paseess a ring of ten or twelve bells. Yet for one reasou or another this hope has never materialised; always there seems to have been some obstacle to bar progiees in this direction. During the post-war period, when rings by the hundred have been installed or augmented, the long wished for augmentation at Chester remained a seemiogly impracticable proposition. Thie does not mean, however, that the bells lave beon neglected. In spite of the fact that it has been gecessary to raiso and spend over 050,000 on the fabric of the Cathedrel during the last 15 years, the bells were rehung in ball bearings and the franue strengthened about soven years ago hy Messrs. Mears gud Stainbank Previous to this some doubt had been felt about, the ghfoty of the tower, owing to the appearance of a crack, and ringing тав diacontinued for several months. Acting on expert advice, the Cathedral authorities bad the walla braced witi iron tie-rods and the structure was subsequently pronounced safe.

Up to 1867 the bells were a ring of five, probably cast (Hot all at the aame time) by Henry Oldfeld, of Nottingham, but of these only one remains, the present, bith. This bell bears the Oldfeld trade mark and the Latin inscription states that it was made on the order of the Dean and Chapter in 1806. The original and (now the 5th) was casb in 1604. A good deal of recasting seems to have been done hetweeu that time and 1827 by both Rudhall End Warner, and in 1867 the latien carried out a scheme which provided for three new trebles, recasting the old treble, and the congtruction of a massive oak frame. The Sanctus bell, east in 1626 and weighing about $4 \frac{\mathrm{cw}}{\mathrm{c} . \text {. w w }}$ walso humg in a separate frame with fithings for rintimg. That the jois was well done can be judged from the fact that it lats lasted so loug.

There is every indication now that Chester will presently be numbered among the ten-bell towers $A$ meeting of the Chester Branch held at the Cathedral last Saturday was attended by the Master end hou. secratary of the Guild as well as representatives of all the branches. The chair was taken by the Deain, the Very Rev. F. S. M. Bennett, and if was unamimously decided that, laving regard to the fact that the Guila will next year eelebrate its Jubibee, a scheme be launchod for the additian of two trebles to the present ring of eight bells at the Cathedral.
The Master hon. secretary, the Rev. F. J. Okell (vice-chairman, Chester Brancht, Messis. J. Morgan, J. Swindley, R. Sperring and the hon. secretary and hon. treasurer of the Chester Branch were elected as au Executive Committee, and plans for launching the appeal for funds will be considered almost immediateiy. The cost of the augmentation will be in the neighbourhood of ge220.

CHESTER CATHEDRAL

A BERKSHIRE STALWART

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM E. TAYLOR.
The death occurred early on Wednesday, February 5th, of Mr. William E. Taylor, of 8, St. Luke's Road North, Maidenlead, after a very painful illness borne with much fortitude. Mr. Taylor was the eldest son of the late Mr. Willism Taylor, formerly a builder, of Norfolk Park, and was a native of the town. He speut most of his 64 yetrs in the building trade, being a partner of the film of Taylor aud Davis. In his work, as in his riuging, he was liked and respected by all. By a strange coincidenee he was buried on the 4ath anniversery of the first peal of London Surprise (in which he took part) to be rung in the county of Berkshire. He was a member of the Troyel Cumberiaud Yout ins and Oxford Diocesara Guild from the date of riagitg his first peal in 1892, also of the Hertford County, Middleser County, Guikford and Winchester Diocesan Guilds and the old Waterloo Society, London. Fis last peal was rumg aid Old Wiudsor, Ferks, on August 29th, 1934.
The funeral took place on Saturday, February 8th, the first part of the burial service being in St, Luke's Church, the Rev. Canon C. E. M. Fry, M.A., officiating, and afterwards at Maidenhead Cemetery. The mourners included tho following ringers: The widow and son, IT. E. Taylor (Burnham, Bucks), T. J. Fowler and A. D. Barker (District Ringing Master and secretary), W. Walker (foreanan), E. Eldridge, A. Fawdry, A. Balawin (Bayne Hill), L. Stivell (Windsos), F. Hussell (Bray) and George Gilbert: (Burnhain).
The flowers, which were very beautiful, included one wrenth (in the shapo of a trowel) fron his workmates, a wreath from the Boyne

Hill ringers and ous (in the shape of a bell) from the Burnlama ringers. Individual wreaths were received from Mr. and Mirs. A. Smith, of Thatchani, and one from Bertha ant Hilda, aleo Mr. and Mre. Tred Russell.
Following the lowering of the collim, handbells were rumg aver the grave by A. D. Barker (London County) 1-2, T. J. Fowler (A.S.O.Y.) 3-4, L. Stilwell (R.C. Y.) 5-6, and F. J. Russell (Oxford D.G.) 7-8.
The bells at Boyne Fill tower were rung hnli--mufiled on Thurgday evening aud again after the funeral on Salurday. Buraham beils wero also rung half-mutled duving the period of the Euveral.
Mr. Taylar leaves a widow and three soung children to mourn their loss.
Mr, Taylor's peal list is as follows: Minor: One method 4, two methods 2 , three methods 4 , fous methods $1_{\text {, five }}$ melhods 1 , feven mothods 12, mine methods 1. Trinles: Plain Bob 2, Oxfore Bols 2. Grandsire 16, Stedman 16. Major: Plain Bob I4, St. Clement's Bols I. Dionble Norwich 9, Eent Treble Bob 8, Oxford Treble Job 5, Spliced Oxford and Kent 1, Ashtead Surprise 1, Berksbire 1, Cambridge 2, Ipswich 1, Loudon 6, New Cambridge 2, Rumtymede 1, Superlative 4. and Grardsire Caters 1; total 118. Of this tolal Wr. Trylor conducted two peals of Stedman Triples in October, 1895, and from Felinary; 1896, until January, 1926 (a lapse of 30 years), lue did not participate in any peals. A Cumberland to the backbone, , ine of the most chearing pieces of news he received just before his death was the fact that his only daughter had been (in addition to his wife and son) accepted m member of the society at the amual meeting recently held at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields.

WHEN GEORGE IV. DIED

EEAL OF 100 FDARS AGO REOALLED.
For thu death of King George V., a peal-of Stedman Triples was inurg at Leeds Parish Ohurch. It is warthy of note that a peal of Now Treble Bob Royal (Kenty was rung with laffemuffled bells as a fribute of respect ta His late Majesty King George JV. at Leeds Parisla Church on Jily 15th, 1830 , by the following ringers, who ascended the steeple sliortly after 9 p.m. and completed the peal at 43 minutes past midaight: Thomas Rafton, treble, Johm Judson 2, John Thorp 3, William Groves 4, Christopler Isles 5, Joseph Moxon 6, John Mortimer 7, Willian Gawkroger 8, Samuel Smallpage 9, James Naylor, tenor. The peal was composed by Mr. Hugh Wright and conducted by Mr. Samue! Smallpage, both of Leeds.
Tho William Gawkroger raferred to in this peal designed the ring of 13 bells which were installed in the new Leeds Parish Clurch in 1841, which, according to the 'History of the Parish Clurch,' by John Rusby and J. G. Simpson, was the first ring of 13 bells to be iristalled in the Kingiom.

MUFFLED RINGING.

To the Fditor.
Sir,Both your own columas and those of local newspapers testify to the wholehearted response of ringers to the call of loyaty and duty in paying the tribute of mufled bells to the memoly of His late Majesty.
Majesty, would be interesting to have some information as to different lacal ubages in this respect. Doubtless in mosl places the death of the King was first annonnced by tolling a single bell. In some towers a matficd peal followed within a short time. In others it is the practice not to ying muffled peals before the day of line funeral.
Fere I tolled the tenor bell at unidnight and a muffed peal was rumg the next day. Thereafter the tenor was tolled every evening during the King's lying-in-state. The bells were rung muffed both for bilie Conversion of St. Paul and on the following Sunday, and then at inlervals an the day of the fumernl.
Some of your readers may like to send a brief report of their doinge in this respect.
F. LL. EDWARDS.

Thington Magna.

ANOTHITR QUESTION.

Dear Sir,-Here is another quegtion which has raised controversy in this parish respecting the dpatio of the King, and the Vicar is asked to settle it Should the tenor bell be tolled as at an ardinary funeral, or as the asual passing bell, or should it be pulled one stroke per minute?
The Vicarage, Moulton, Northampton.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD．

When the Guidford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild holds its annual meeting，the district sceretary（Mr．G．L．Grover）has a thabit of calling a spade a spade and doiut hiv best to dispel amy sense of eelf－complacancy that may have aetiled on the members．They had Their eustomery＇shake up＇on Saturday wheu they met at Guilaford． Fere are bome of the points from Mr．Grover＇自 report：
The district has baen carried on in acoordance with the usual routine thraughont the year，and I am able to report that it is still in being＇，but this does not mean that much progress has been made ur that there are very prononnced signs of anination maywhere．It marsly indicates that we are still doing litile more than drifting apathetically along．
In no case was the attendance of districk members at distriet meet－ ings anything to shout about．

GOOD RINGWHS＇＇NERVES．

Roforing to the fact that interest was aroused at Shere in 1934 by Guild members endeavouring to seore a peal with members of the lacal band，tho hon．secrevary said：Do wot any of you think that what was done at Shere might witl advantage be repeated there and also nttempted at ather places？It could not make things much worge．I fond two years ngo that our chicef diffeulty with regard to mattaris of thin description is the tendency of really good ringers to get it into their heads that their nerves will suffer undily if they have to struggle through peals with less able ringers．What，then，is their interpretation of the remarks made at the amual dinnerv by tha president of the Central Canncil，who，in referring to cur difficulty in obtaining towers for peal ringing，stresser the point that peal ringing teaches a ringer to strike and handle his hell in a way which nathing else can do？What interpretation cnn be placed on this ather than we want towers for peals primarily for the purpose of polishing up the rimging of those whose opportunities for peal ringing are bither vary limited or non－existent and not solely for the con－ vonienter of experienced bonds who desite to ring for mere pheasure？ I do not mean by this that exports ourht always to sacuifice their peal rineing pinneures and do spade work，but I flo think thet what litto peal rineine we do in this distriot is not made to serve the best purpeaes from the point of wiew of diatrict members．

VISITORS ：ARE THEY WELCOME？  Ta the EDitor．

Dear Sir，－It is to be hoped that the parochinl viewpint expressen by Mr．G．Grover at the anmual meeting of the Guilaford Distriet． deprecating ringers from antside ringing peals on towers in the district is not tho general attitude of the Exercise．Whilo perls by local companies are to be commended，circumstances jur ringing with the wide gradurtion of profienoy make it desivable that geographical bounaries alould be swent away．

When I became emolled as a tipger I was told that I had foined n Fremasonry that extended throurgant the whole conntry and that T would be welcomed in atery tower that $T$ wisited．So far that friendly atmosphere lias never been haking wherever I have heen．
As a Guildfordinn．I shmild feel aggrieved if there shonld be an impression abrasd that visitors are not welcomed in this dishrict． Onr visitors＇bools tells a different story，and is an exammile of that spirit of byotherliness that emanates from any tower．T Ghould acti that however argust and distinguished our visitny miglut be there has never hem hesitnacy to point out the error of his ways（if any）in liandling ov striking，in the fond hope that he might profit from his assnciation with us！
Change ringing will be a dwing art if this spirit of netochial isols－ tion and debendence on nureiy local talent for peal ringing is penerally adouted．Mr．Grover must remember that the strength of a chain is its weakest link，and so is the strength of those ringing together． Importations to local perls invariahly strengelien the fnnd and enable a gromp to acomplish what wonld at times be an impossinility．

THREE HUNDRED TWELVE-BELL PEALS

A NEW RECORD

My. Albert Walker, who for so many yuars was the enthusiastic Riwging Master at St. Martin's, Birrotngham, kas just completed what is a remarkable record. In celling the first peal, ring hali-muffled in memory of King George, on the newly-angmented pat at Aston, he brought his total of twelve-belf peals to 300. of which 195 have been on tower bells and 105 on Inandbells. Ma. Walker would be the last to claim why sjecial merit in the distinction the las achieved; with him ib has been, he says, largely a matter of circumstances and opportunity, bul it is, nevertheless, a new record in peal ringing.
Bred to twelve-bell ringing in St. Martin's fanous tower, and occupying the office there as conductor, he has been in the happy position of leater of a belfy where more twelve-bell peals have been rung than anywhere else in the conntry. In addition, the ability of the men he lias had rouml him enabled handbell peal ringing to be brought to a Gine art, and this helped considerably to swell his total.
Of the 300 peals which he has rung on twelve bells, Mr. Walker has conducted 126, an indication that, despite his opportunities, he has never souglit to monopolise the calling, and many a man has to thank him for the opportunity of conducting a twelve-bell peal. Of the handbell peals of Stedman Cinques, one was non-conducted and one 'silent,' the latter being unique in that the band, when they met, 'drew' for the pair of bells they were to ring. Anong the peals of Cambridge Surprise Maximus wns one rumg uon-conducted at St. Martin's.
In addition to these performances it is to be remembered that Mr. Walker conducted the only peal yet rung on fourteen bells, a peal of Stedman Sextuples on handbells. Fere is the list of twelve-bell peals.

Mr. Walker's iwelve-bell peals on tower bells have been lung at 27 cathedrals and churches, und he lias conducted peals in 19 of them. St. Martin's, Birmingham, of course, heads the list. Hepe lie has rumg no fewer tlan 140 peals of Ginques and Maximus. In addition to St. Murtin's, he Jras conducted twelve-bell peals at Exeter, Worcester, Winchester, Canterbury, Sheffeld and Southwark Cathedrals, Tewkesbury Abbey, Aston, Taunton, West Bromwich, Walsall, Arals, Tewkesbry Abbey, Aston, Tannton, west Bromwich, Walsall, Surfeet and Cornhill (Landon) churches. The other places at which ho has rung a peal are St. Paul's, Lincoln and Oxford Cathedrals, Buckifast Abbey (the only neal ming on the bells), Reading, Bristol, Girencester and Cripplagate (London).

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING AT BROXBOURNE
A very anjoyable time was spent loy those atbonding the meeting of the Easteru District at Broxbourue on Saturday week. Some thirty ringers assembled and the musical peal was kept busy. The Vicar welcomed the association to Broxbourne, and conducted the service, and gava a short but helpful address, basing his words upen ' Make a joyful noise unto the Lord.
Friends and members wero present from Chelustord, Spuingifid, Sambridgoworth, Waltham Abbey, Leytonstone, Fertford, London, Nazeing, Cheslunt, Broxbourne and Little Munden. Methons ranged fram Grandsire Io Camhridge and Superlative Surprise.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

MID-DEVON BRANCH TO CONTINUL

The ammal meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon cinild was held at Paignton on Saturdas, whea ingers were present irum Exeter, Sidmoutb, Christow, Newton Abbot, Dean Prior, Cockington, Collaton und Flymouth, as well as the local ringers. Ringing wooli placs during the afternoon, touches of Stedman Doubles and Grandeire Triples being rung, as well as ronds for the legs experienced ringers. A service was later conducted by the Rey. W. V. Duke, who bused an excellent address froul the text, $\%$ cone let us worship and fall down' (Psalms 95, v. 6).
Tho visitors afterwards adjonrned to fle Schoolroom for tea, and the gonera] secretary (Mr. $\mathbb{X}$. laver) ocenpied the chair at the subsequent business meeting.
The meeting stood in silence as a token of respect to His late Mijesty King George V.
A letter was read from Mr. F. J. Laxton, of Torquay, who wisherf to regign the chaimanship of the brauch owing to contiaued illnegs is his honsehold. The branch decided to place our record its appreciation of his valuable services with the bope that be would become chairman again at somes future date. An apology for absenco was also read from the president of the Guild (the Rev. F. V. Cox), who was attending a similar meeting at Pyworthy.
The secretary's report showed that three meetings laad been heh during the year and that there had becu an improvement in the attendances. A fow bell restorations had been cartied out in tha branch, and three neals of Grandsire Triples bad been rung durine the year by mixed bands. Tliere was a slight decrease jn the membership of the branch. -The report was adopted, es was also thus treasurer's report.
Arising out of a decision at the spring meeting last year to con tinue the brauch until the anmual mecting, it was decided to carry on the branch as usual, and the Rev. W. R. D. Milis, of Collaton, was elected chairman. Mr. A. L. Bennett was elected secretary and trasurex, and Messrs. R. Whitirg (Collaton), O. F. Austin (Paiguton) and $J$. Olding (Cockington) were elected representatives of the branch to serve on the General Gomnittee.

RINGER'S 55th ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

To celebrate the $55 t h$ anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and 3irs. G. Holmes, of Sheffield, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rimy on Sunday, Febriary 9th, at St. Marie's Church: F. Gates (firs) quarter-peal) 1, J. Osguthorpe 2, W. Burger 3, G. Folmes (conductor) 4, G. Lewis 5, R, Harrison 8, R. Harrison, jun, 7, H. Hurst 8 .

Mr. W. W. Wolsteacroft replied os hehalf of the visitors and cor gratalated the bellhangers upon tho remarkable improvement in the 'go' of the bells.-Mr. T. P. Fidier, representing Messes. Taylor and Co., having aleo received nothing but praisa upon the euccose of the work, suitably responded.
For some time Marple bella have had an nnenviable reputation, nad ringing then was a laborious task, due in tho main to weak supporting beams and worn bearings. Now, new ball bearings have been fitted, the old timber frame strengthence and gircers fixed under the beans carrying the frame. The result is gratifying to all concerned.

MARPLE BELLS.

TWO HUNDRED YEARS OLD PEAL RESTORED
in 1731, Rudhall, of Glaucester, cast a new ring of six bells for the 1mrish Church of Stockport to replece five that had been taken out of the tower early in the 18th cenlury. Some years later e portion of the tower gave way and some rude buttresses were erected. However, in 1805, after riryging for several days in succession for Nelson's preat victory at Trafalgar, tho old tower was se shaken that the bolls wors seldom rung argain, and the last time they were heard from that Lower was on October $13 t h$, 1809 , at the Jubilee when Goorge III. was King.
In the Collowing year the tower was pulled down and the bells stower away, some in an ald mill in Porbwood and some in the hearse Jouse. Whon the new, and present, towar was built, a new ring of eight bellg was made for it whilst the old peal lay unheard and unvung.

MARPLE BUYS THE BELLS

Mfearrs. Rudhall, who had placed the new ring of eight in the new tower, offered the churchwardens and trustees $£ 400$ for the old six hells, but there was a very strong foeling anainst them leaving the parish on acconut of their sweet tone, and eveatually at a large meoting held in March, 1816, the trustces unenimously resolved that the township of Marple should have the option to purchase af the prico olfered by Rudhalls. "I'his resolution brought forth the following appeal, dated 28th March, 1816 :-

Ta the inhabitants of Marple and its wicinity.
The trustes appointed by Act of Parliament for the taking down and rebuildiug of the Parish Charch of Stockport, baving made the township of Marple an offor of the peal of bells belonging to the former edifice, it is earnestly hoped that a subscription may be raised equal to the purchase of them. The sum required is Fous Hundred Pounds, being tho prico at which Mr. Rudhall, of Gloncester, a descendant of the original founder, has offered to take them from the trustees. Isitite, it is hoped, need be urged to prevail upon the inhabitants of Marple not to suffer these bells to be conveyed away from anongat them for ever. The real oxcellence of their tone must be well remembered by them, and acarcely an individual is there that has not listened to them with feelings such as fow but would wish to experience ngein.
Thus site of the chapel is a consideration that ought fo have its weight. On an eminence that commands an extembive view of the bold swelling hills of Derlyyshire, as of the more fertile plaing of Chesbire, ne situation could bo better adapted to give full effect to their uncommouly fine tone. From this hill the bound of them will go forth far and wide, and it cannot be doubled but that the inlaabitants of the ather townships, when they hear them, will rejoice that, their neighbours did not Euffer them to bo removed for ever out of the parish, and will applaud both the spirit and the liberality of the township of Marple.
rhis appeal had such an effect that Samuel Oldhow, Fisq., Nathaniel Wright, Laq., and the Rev. O. K. Prescott, ourate of Marple, conrluded the hargain and becama personally responsible for the amount. On April 2gth, Wr. Oldknow sent his dray for the treble and tenor, and Mr. Wright geut two carts for tho remaining four.

Func 30th, 1816, snw the openiug of the peal; Mirinun Tanerwood, nf Marple Hall, a deceendant of Judge Rradshawe, who tried Charles I., was clnistened and tho day kept as a galn day. Prizes were diven and competed for by tho ringers of the district; unfortumately, there is so recond of what ringing took place nor details of the bands who competat, so our readers are left to imagine what took place.

In 1886, tho luelis were going bally, and the various fitings were suffering from a common complaint, old age. They were rehung by Toln Thylor nud Co.; of Joughborough, on the then modern principle, sun rubain tho parishioners fiberally responded. The reoponing took pleco on Easter Monday, $1886_{\text {, by the Fhy }}$ Hald rimers, at that time and of the best companies in the district.
For some time past the " $\mathrm{g}^{\circ}$ ' of the bells has egain slowly but firmly bold the ringers that all wes not well above, with the result the Churcla ansthorities wisely decided to make good the damage due Io fair wenr and tear. All tlia fitings hava been thoronghly overhauled and now ball bearings of the latest type provided. Messts. Tolin Taylor and Co. havo again undertaken the worls, which has benn carried out with their usud efficiency. At the same time the opporfiunity was taken of having the old timber frame strengtliened and tha main carrwing beams reinforced by loary steel girders, and onee nove bho parishioners thave responded in their cuetomery manner.

THE DRDICATION.
At a apecial service on a recent Saturdav, the hells were formally reopened aflor relianging; tho service was fully choral and was conducted hy the Vicar, tho Rev. F. S. Spackmam. The Rev. A. J. Humphreys, R.TV., Finar of Norbury and Rural Dean, delivered a striking sermon in his usunl inimitnble manner.
In ndition to the numerons parishoners, ringers from six different ritoceses Enva their support to the service. The nstal welcone was extendim to the ringers and a very sulastantial tee was provided in tha Parish Fall at a most reasomatle charge.
The Row. T. S. Spankman greeted the wisiters and briefly explained the varions itoms of work tint lad been undertaken by the plureh nuthoritics.

BELLS AND THE CHURCH.

Our article on the strange attitude of the Vicar of Kingston-on-Thames towards the bells of his church has brought from a correspondent a reply in which he not only supports the contention of the Rey. T. B. Scrution that "as a Church, the Church has no interest in the bells," but also scathingly denounces the attitude of ringers as a body towards the Church, by lack of interest in its work and witness, and adding that ringers are 100 selfish and narrow minded in very many cases. The writer also goes on to accuse 'The Ringing World, of consistently failing to do anything to suggest that ringing is in any way allied to a spiritual cause or the extension of the Kingdom of God among men. In our issue of January 31st we expressed our views of the attitude taken up by the Vicar of Kingston. Our correspondent is equally entitled to his own opinicns on the subject, but on one or two points we feel it is necessary to say a word in reply, lest silence should be taken as an admission of his indictment.

To deal first with the accusation against this paper, let us say at once that we have never pretended to be a religious journal, but to say that we have done nothing to suggest that the art of ringing is in any way allied to a spiritual cause, is to reveal ignorance of the policy and actions of this paper. When circumstances have demanded it, we have published leading articles dealing with the responsibilities of ringers in this dircction; and always our columns are open and are frequently used for the publication of extracts from addresses delivered by those far more able than a layman to direct attention to the spiritual connection of the ringers ${ }^{3}$ work.

As to the selfishness of which ringers are accused by our correspondent, it may be casy to pick out inclividual cases, but has he ever thought of those ihousands of loyal Churchman-as loyal as he is himself-who Sunday by Sunday, year in, year out, give their services to the Church in the direction in which they are the best fitted. All cannot go into the pulpit, or into the highways and byways to preach repentance to sinners, but the ringers' vocation is no less worthy an offering, and, if we are Believers, we must believe that that offering is no less acceptable to the Master than other forms of service to the Church. Space forbids us traversing all the points raised in our correspondent's letter, but let us say this much about the value of the beils to the Church as a Church. The parson, from the pulpit, preaches to the converted, or at any rate to those whose sense of the importance of higher things takes them to the Church as a matter of course. But this is only a small proportion of the people. The sound of the bells reaches a far wider (Continued on page 128.)

circle, and if their notes only stir a thought of the Church and all it stands for in the minds and hearts of just a few who otherwise would give it no thought at all-and to this fact there has often been testimony-surely the bells are not only worth while, but are an adjunct to the Church and its work? No one has ever clatmed that the bells themselves can save souls, but they are a constant reminder to the warld of the existence of the Church, which is out to point the way to salvation, and they are its best advertisement.

If, in some cases, belfries are mismanaged and the incumbent, who is the responsible person, is content to allow the bells to be manned by the wrong type of ringer, that is not the fault of the bells, or of the ringing Exercise. But ringers as a whole are rendering consistent service to the Church, and, as a body, are as good Churchmen and Christians as other Churchfolk. The bells which they ring are not nowadays a substitute for a clock, but a valuable adjunct to and a practical form of the call which the Church makes to tise people to come and worship.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.

PEAL BOARD MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. W. PY゙E.
The minual business meeting of the Guild was held at Liskeard on February 1st. Canon Windsor took the chair and tivere were present Lt,-Col. Tervam (Ringing Master), Mr. W. H. Southaard (vieepresident), the Rev. W. F. R. Trewhella (secretary), Mr. H. Dunstant (treasurer), Mr. C. Lanxon (peal secretary) and representatives from every brasch of the Guild and the Mid-Cornwall Association.
Arising from the minutes, the secretary said lis had receired a letter from Bishop Frere, thanking the Guild for their sympathy in his illness and good wishes for the future. The secretary also said he regretted that Dr. Symons, their president, was umeble to be withs them.
The Ringing Master reported that le had attended most of the minor festivals and the diocesau festival, and expreased his regret that the autumn festival of the Launceston Brancir had not taken place.
The secretary reported thint two towers hat joined the Guild (Advent and Eanivot), and that one (St. Dominic) had dropped out. Tho hells of Callington had been restored and those of Redruth augmented to eiglat.
The treasurer reported a balance of 19 s . 1 l. , with 864 3 s. Id. on deposit.
The peal secretary reported that nine peals had been rung for the Guild during the last twelve monthe.

The secretary reported that the Bishop (Dr. J. Hunkin) had consented to become pabron of the Guild.
All the officers were re-elected unnimously as follows: President, Dr. J. Symons: vice-presidents, the two Archieacons, Canon H. Mills, Canon S. Windsor, the Rev. R. Hocking, Messrs. W. H. Southeard, J. T. Treffy and W. Woorl: Ringing Master, It.-Col. C. F. Jerram: secretary, the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella; treasurer, Mr. I. Dinnstan: peal secretary, Mr. C. Lanxon.

It was agreed to form a Standing Committee, consisting of the Ringing Master, secretary, treasurer (if money matters affected) and the secretaries of the branches and Mid-Cornwall Association.
A proposal to redraft the rules concerning the award of medals and certifientes was referred to the Standing Committec.

It was agreed to place a board in the tower of St. Stephen-inBrannel Chuych to commemorate the last peal called by the late William Pye, which was in that tower. The Rector of St. Stephen, who is secretary of the Mid-Cornwall Association, gladly agreed to accept this peal board for his church.
Mr. G. Lauxion was electerl to replesent tire Guild on the Central Cauncil for the next three years.
It was resolved to hold the annual festival at St, Stephen-in-Branmel, and the Rector gave his consent.
After the meeting members went to Liskeard tower, and rounds, call changes, Grandsire Doubles and Triples were rung.

CHURCH BELL CONSULTANTS.

A YORKSHIRE STALWART

DEATH OF MR. W, D. HILLARY, OF SKTPTON.
The death liss occurred at Skipton, Yorks, of Mr. William Downham Hillary, at the age of 76 years. A native of Kettlewell, he had resided at Skipton since his marriage in 1880 to Miss Elizabeth Billows. They celebrated their golden wedding in July, 1930, but Mrs, Hillary predeceased her husband.
By his death, the Skipton Parish Chureh cingers have last one of their most able and corscientious memhers. Fe was the second oldest member of the band, the oldest being his brotter-in-law, NL: William Billows, who has two years' longer service. Mr. Hillary jojned the band in 1878, when there was only a peal of six bells, and the ringers were Mr. William Trees, Mr. Joseph Barreft, Mr. J. Ingham, Mr. W. Pate, Mr. Joseph Thompson, Mr. Tom Harry Trees, Mr. S. Watson, Mr. W. Hoidswortb, Mr. William Billows and himself,

He served under three rectors-the Rev. P. C. Kidd, the Rev. H. L. Cook furd the present holder of the living, Canon R. S. Stoney; he rang in hollour of great events in the reigns of three monarchs, among thern the Jubilee of Queen Victoria in 1887, the Dimmond Jubilee in 1897. the coronations of King Edward and King George and the Jubilee of King Gearge. Illuess prevented Jim from taking his usual stand on the accasion of the funeral of King George $V$.
Mr . Hillary took part in 38 peals, jucluding 6,048 of Oxford Treble Bob in 1889. Mr. Fillary joined the Yorkshise Association in 1887 and was at tlse time of bis death an honorary life member.
During the war, when n number of ringers joined the fighting forces, their places were filled by four ladies, anong them being Mr. Bilary's deughter, Miss Adn Hillary (now Mrs Geonge Bottomley), who rang until 1922.
In 1879 Mr . Hillary joined the old Skipton Folunteuts and served until 1901, having attrined the rank of sergeant. For 19 years Mr. Hillary was a member of the Skiptor Fire Brigade, and he rose to the position of superintendent.

As a young man, Mr. Fillary was a promiment athlete, and at one time was regarded as the best exponent of the long jump in the district. He also acguitted himself well in the sprigt events, and was no mean performer in events over lang distances, as his success testiffed.
He had five sons and four daughters. One son, Thomas, who was a member of the Territorials, died before the war. while two of his brothers died during the war-Horace, in Englaud, from wounds received at Gallipoli, and Harold, in France.

RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING.

INTERESTING OELEBRATION AT GUILDTORD.
An interesting peal is recorded in our columns this week. It was rung at S. Nicolas' Church, Guildford, on February 2st, in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raddon, of Guildford. Mrg. Raddon was the second daughter of Mr. and Mis. Butter, of Woodbridge House, Potterne, Wilts, and the weding was solemuised at Potterne Parish Chureh, on December 2nd, 1885, by the Ven. T. B. Buchanan, Archdeacon of Wilts. Mr. Raddon was at that time one of the ringers at Potterne.
In 1898 Mr. and Mrs. Radelon moved to Guildford, and Mr. Raddon joined this old Winchester Diocesan Guild. For some yearg, before the formetion of the Guildford Diocesan Guidd, My. Raddon very efficiently discharged the duties of hon. secretary of tho Guildford District, and he became onc of the foundation membere of the Guildford Diocesan Guild.

The peal in honour of the golden wedding was arranged for Decomber 7th, but the funewal of King George's sister on tlat day cansed its postponement. It was eventually rung on February 1st at S. Nicolas' Church, where Mr. Raddon for nearly 40 years has becn a member of the hand, and one of the ringers was Mr. C. S. Burden, of the St. Paul's Cathedral Company, who yang at Potterne 50 Jears ago for Mr. and Mrs. Raddon's wedding. He was one of Mr. Raddon's ringing pupils.

Mr. Raddon was unable to take part in the peal, but ho wet the band and wished them 'good Iuck ' before they started, and was at the bottom of the belfiy steps to greet and congratulate them when they finished. Afterwards, continued health and bappiness "to Mr'. and Mrs. Raddon was approprintely hononved.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

It is interesting to note that the number of reports which have reached us of peals rung either muffled or half-maffled for His Majesty King George is 174 . This is onls about 15 less then those rung in celebration of His Majesty's Silver Jubilee. When King Edward VII. died, 103 memorial peals were rung.
Messrs, Taylor and Co. are carrying ont two rohanging jobs in the county of Stafford, viz., the ring of eight at Stone and the Fing of five at Seiglford.
The Fenry Johnson Commemoration Dinner at Bimingnam on February $29 \mathrm{th}^{2}$ once more promises to bring together a "national, gathering of ringers. Wisitors on that occasion will have the opportunity of ringing on the new peal of twelve at Astan Parish Chntch; where the bells will be available from 3 o'clock until 5 prm.

The talented haudbell band at Oxhey, Herts, last Friday rang a peal of Spliced London, Cambrdge and Superlativo Surprise, with 106 changes of method! It was composed and conductert by Mr. Harold Cashnore. The other rimgers were Messis. H. Hodgewts, C. W. Woolley and F. W. Brinklow. This must surely be the figest ringing performance evor accomplished. Last November the same band eang on handbells a peal of Spliced London aud Cambridge, and, great as is their latest achievement, we have no doubt their ambition soars higher yet!
After a good inany years' service as hon, secretary of the Bristol Branch and subsequently of the Bristol Rural Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, Mr. Trank Skidmare hes given up the office. His successor is Mr, C. Gifford, Gifford House, Frampton Cottrell, near Bristol, Glos.
An acre of grass land at Eltham, Kent, the revenue from whioh, for 400 years, has been used to provide bell ropes for the Parish Church, and as an anoient charity yiclded about 20s. a Year, is now covared by Counil louses, and the Woolwich Borough Council has decided to redeem the dharity.

THOUSAND PEALERS' PEAL.

A UNIQUE PERTORMANCE.
The 'thousand pealers' were successful in their' effort at St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, on Saturday, Shey rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, but, wo are told, with all their experience the importance of the occasion weighed so heavily upon them that they started "as nervous as kittens."
We have not yet received the official account of the peal, or accurate details of the colossal peal aggregate of titese eight ringers, who, ir addition to their outstanding individual achievements, now have the distinction of being the first peal band whose members have each rung over a thousand peals.

Our readers will be interested to know the nawes of the ringers. Thay were James George 1, George R. Dye 2, William H. Fusseli 3 , Tohn F. Cheesman 4, Frank Bennett 5, James E. Davis 6, George Williams 7, Alfred H. Pulling 8. It was called by the doyen of conductors, George Williams, and rung in 3 hours 16 minutes for the Middlesex Association.
There gre other particulars which we hope to publish about this unique performance when the 'official' report comes to liand.

PEALS IN 1935.

SEVENTY-NINE MORE THAN IN THE FREVIOUS YEAR.
The total number of peals rung in the year 1935, according to the records published in 'The Ringing World, was 1,863 , an increase of 84 tower-bell peals, and a decrease of five handbell peals in 1934, when the total was 1,784 . The increase in peals on tower belts was due, of course, to the large number rung for King George's Silver Jubilee. Here is a summary of the peals rung last year and in the previous year :-

| 1935 | Max. | Cing. | Roy. | Caters | Maj. | Trip. | Minaor | Doubl | Total |

what is the right procedure?

Questions as to proper practice in regard to mufled ringing have been raised by the vnaiety of procedure in connection with tho death of King Gearge V . In most cases the local ringers acted an their own initiative, and sometimes in consultation with the incumbeat, and the natural result has been that there was no unform procedure.

To the Editor

Sir,-Inving read the corvespondence on mufled ringing in the Ringing World ' of last weels, and also having noted the jumerous pals published during the last few weeks in connection with the passing of Fis late Majesty, I think there nre several points that need discnssion.
Firstly, are we guite onrect in vinging half-mufled for the pinssing of a monarch or any member of the royal fanily, and especially for the memorin] service? Surely the ringing ought to be fully mnffled! Siecondly, should the ' Fassing locl' ' be tolled, of rung up, and should this be dond between sumget and sumrise? I think it wonld be to good advantage if some definite rule conld he referred to on these occasions, drayn up by the Cestral Council and supported by the Ohurch authorities. At present the method adopted is more or less left for each individual io act on lis own initiative.
The Rey. T. L. Edwards suggests readers should sead a brief report of their doings in this respect. Here the tenor was tolled one strake per minute for am hour ou Tuesday, January 2lat, at sumrise, sud in conclusion 70 strokes were climed representing the age of the dead monarch. The bells were chined (singly) for the services on Sunday, January 26 h . Onv Mondar, January 27 th , a peal was mung lalfmuffled. On Tuesday, 28th, the heils were rung fuly mufled for an hour prior to the memorial service at 7 p.m.

AT DEVIZES.

Sir, When we, at St. James', Southbroom, Devizes, Ineard of the sad news, my father, captain of the trower; tolled the tenor bell lalfmuffled for one hour, wiz.. from 8 to 9 a.m. Shen, in the evening of the same day (Tuesdas, Jantary 21 st), we rang half-muffed, some of the time ringing the whole pull and stand. On the following Sunday as well as on the day of the funeral the bells were ruag fully muffled.
A. T. WEEKS.

AN ISLE OF WIGHT 'UNWRITTEN LAW.'

The unwritten Itw at Newport, Isle of Wight, which has been respected with regard to muffled ringing is as follows: Fuily muffled for a menabr of the royal family, a bishop and a ringer; half-muffed for any ather chuzch dignitary or charchworker. For the death of King George the knell was tolled four times daily for a quarter of an hour it one minute intervals, at 9 a.m. and 12 noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p m , until the monning of His late Majesty's funeral. The bells were ramy fuily nuffled for the memorial service on Tuesday, Jaunary 28th, and also at tha Sunday services on Jaunary 25 th.
For the proclamation of H.M. King Edward VIII., on Wednesday. Tannary 20nd, they were rung open at the request of the Mayor of the borough.

FHLF OR FULKY MUPNLED?

Dear Sir,-The question of the correct procedure in regard to muffled and half-mufled ringing is, I consider, a very important one, anc should be not only discussed by the Central Council, but a definite decision passer-since there appears to be a wried opiuton among ringers.

In expressing a nation's sorrow in the passing of a Kinc so beloved through the message of the bells, surely fully muffled, would have been fhe most appropriate.
If otherwise-the question for the Central Council's consideration appenvs to be 'For whom should belis be fully muffled'?
Ryde, Isle of Wight.

RINGERS' PLACE IN THE CHURCH. AN INDICTMENT.  To the Editar.

Sir, -Th your issue of the 31 ge ult. yon admit to some annoyaree al the yemarks of the Vicar of Kimgston. Less haste and more carefnd reading of what he said (as reported in that same issme) would have preventerl your woeful misconstraction of his viewpoint. Your repart nakes it clear he wants to see the bells repuired that it is the concers? of all Kiugston and he hopes all Kingston will help, and that his church will fud 5309 of the cust, thongh they could to with the money for more importants things.
Merely 'as a church blie charch has no interest in the bells '; yout dislike this, but it is true. The Clurch's job is to save souls; hells are of rery little use in that job. Tlaey used to call out to the clockless countryside that if was time for worship; in these modern dnys blat is not needed. They have nin anmal appeal hip to a point, and few Englishmen would like church bells to hecome silent. But you carnot honestly maintain that thers play much part in helping to canveri souls to Christ, or in bringing people to church. Probsby 70 per cent. of the ringers thembelves vers ravely, if ever, attend the worship to which theiv ringing is supposed to have called others. This has much to do with the declining interest of the Church in its bells and ringers.
Quite frankly, the majority of the ringers ring as a hobby; they have 10 chlier interest in thas work or witness of a clurch. Ringers are too selfish and warrow-minded in very many cases. They wat people to erect and maintrin belfries-wilat for? So that ringers Feople therect pursue their hobby, wing louns of peals of mathematical marvels of no interest to anyone but themselves, and if the overhurdened churchfolk or parsons murmur, the ringers' journal finds it 'dificents to write witl restraint.
I want to see ringers come into the full strean Chrisilan service and their work recognised, but ringers will have to consecrate their work and their outlook far more than they do, find be found among the worshippers whom the Ohruch has to seek and sare.
Ringers must get ont of the namowness of the belfry and look on the Kingdom of God from the cross and the altar.
I note that voris state that Kingston's bells have failed to lave any influence on the people; von assert that 'only a bold man would deny it'! 'The Ringing World' lins never a line ar a wotd, 「rom cover to cover, week by week, that would evarl remotely suggest that ringers vegard the Exercise ns anything more than an art or a pastime: nothing to suggest that it is in any way allied to a spiritual canse or the extension of the Kingdom of God among men. Ringers linve no interest in the chureh ' B a churels,' hont they dislike the ineritable conseguence that the churchas an charch' has tittle interest in them. Ringers need to hroaden their outlook and your journal should help them: not attenpt to stir then up to resentment of a courageons and tery proper point of view.

Wednesday evening, Februars 12th, sam the culmination of a spirited effort by the authorities of Spondon Parish Clurch, Derbyshive, in getting their bells placed in first-class order, when the whrk of rehanging was vedediceted at a specikl service conducted by the of rehangmo was vedediceted at a specikl service conducted by the Wicar, the Rev. H. G. Brocklelnust. Fhe preacher for tho ocension was the Rev. A. R. Roberts, Rector of Stanton-by-Dale, who sinid that when he was asker to preach this special sermon lie did a lat of wondering as to what his text sheuld be until be read a copy of "A Great Adventure.' In that booli he saw that the jnscription on ene temor hell of Foly Trinity Church, Hobart, Tasmania, was Their somd has goue out to all lands nand their words unto the end of the world,' and this fave him thats which he songlit.
The result was a fine sermon, in the course of which lie explained in a very lucid manmer what the 'Great Adventare' was. We do not know whather the zeverend gentleman is a vinger, but lie certanly seems to be a ringers' parson.
The bells at Spondon consint of a very handy ring of six, with n tenor weighing 8 ewt. 1 qr. $18 \mathrm{lb} .$, easy to hanale, and the sonnd in the ringint room is 'just nice.' The bells can be 'tapped' with that degree of nicety so beloved by dovotees of good striking. If a hand cannot strike these bells they ornmot ring any peal as they shonkl bo mine.

The Vicat and lis people are to be congratulated on the manner in which they Inve tacklerl the job. In spite of the vast amount if money they lave raised curing the past years for other purposes, they faced the issue boldy and without undue delay, sceting an that work lad to he done to the hells there was no dilly-dallying, bat a concerted effort to put things richit. Messrs. John Trylor and Co.. of Longliborough, were entrusted with the work, and one cannol speak too highly of the mamer in which flyey linve cairied out the contrack. The result speaks for itself. At the opening service they were vepresented by Mr. John P. Fidler.

SCOTTOW'S 'JUBILEE' BELL.

AUGMENTED PEAL DEDICATED.

The new peal at Scottow, Norfolk, was dedicated on Tuesday, February 4 th, by the Ingworth Rural Dean, the Rev. Harward Watts, Rector of Blickling, assigted by the Vicar (the Rev. Newtun Fent) and the Rev. R. Jenkyn Owen (Rectar of Swanton Abbotb). A shortened form of evensong preceded the usual prayers, etc., used for the benediction of bells, wherein was heard three strokes on the new treble, which is an addition to the old peal of five, aud then a course of Bob Minor by the fallowing: W. C. Dufficld (Buxton) 1, B. Rout (Aylsham) 2, C. E. Barrett (Norwich) 3, E. J. Barton (Buxton) 4, W. C. Medler (Hevingham) 5, G. W. Bailey (Wroxham) 6. Good striking enabled all to enjoy the clear musical tones of a very handy peal, whe tenor being abont 101 cwt .
Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, has put in a now iron frame and rehung the old five in all new fittings, the whole job having been completed in a most satisfactory manner:
The tower had also needed certain repairs, and the funds were largely provided by a generaus donor, who prefers to reman anonymous, angmented by the surplus from the Parisb Jubilee Fund. The work was undertaken as a memorial of King George V.'s Jubitce, the new treble loenting the inscription, "Jubilee,' followed by portraits of the lats King and Queen Mary.
About 20 IIngers, some from remote parts of Norfolk, greatly enjoyed the ringing, which coutinued until late in the evening, and the very adequate tea so kindy provided by Miss Duraut at scottow Hall.

DEATH OF A LONDON RINGER

FIFTX YEARS A OUMBERLAND YOUTH.

The death occurred on February 10th of Mr. Jolin Lee, of Edgley Road. Clapham, S.W., at the age of 71 years. He had been in fniling healtil for a few months, had a heart attrack in December and passed away peacefully on Monday of last week.

Mr. Lee was for 50 years a member of the Royal Cumberlend Youths, and also a member of the London County, Sumey and Middlesex Associations and a member of the St. Leonard's, Streatham, hand. He kept no count of the mumber of the peals he rang, hut it is assumed to be aboub a hundred. The most notewarthy in which he took part were the peal, in six hours, of 10,072 changes Kent Trehle Boh Major, rong at Foxearth, Essex, in 1888, aud the Surrey Association peal 10,400 changes of Double Norwich Major on Easter Mmaday, 1924, at Christ Church, Epsom.
The futeral toole place at Norwood Gemetery on Friday, February 14 th. In addition to the family mouners there were present Mr. T. H. Taffender (Mnster of tho London County Association), Mr. F . Mance (Southeril Distriet Master of the Lrondon County Associntion), Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (secretary of the South and West District, Midilesex County Association), Mr. J. W. Touches were rung on Saturday, Februay 15th, balf-mufled during the evening at St. Leonard's Church, Streatham, by local and visiting ringers as a mark of respect.
As a ringer, deceased was a perfect striker, and will be greatly missed. He freguently attended practices and district meetings in fondon and suburbs.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION,

THE MANCHESTER BRANCH SECRETARYSHTF

A mecting of the Manchester Branch of the Trancashire Associntion was held at Birch-in-Rusholme on Saturday, February 15th. Ringers attended from Howden, Bredhury, Gorton, Frestwich, Pendleton, Radelife, West Didshiry and Worsley, together with a few unattached members of the branch. The meeting had the pleasure, also of the presence of Mr. J. FI. Shepperd, of Swindon.
The business meeting was held in the tower; with the brauch president, Mr. G. Gudseon, in the chair.
At the outset the clairman requasted the members to stand in silonce as a tributc to the memory of His late Majesty King George $V$. Associated also with the tribute was the late Mr. James H. Collier, of Flixton. The chainnan spoke also of Mr. R. H. Bent, of Prestwich, who has been ill for a ronsiderable period.

Ptaces chosen for next quarter's meetings were: Mareh 21st, Prestwich; April 18tll, Gorton; and May 16th, Worsley.

The following were elected members of the association: Messrs. Clianles Ridyard nad R. Jones, of Worsley: Alan Mosley, John Fuxstep, Harry Ogden, John and Alan Wrigley, of Birch; Ewart Murgatroyd, of West Didsbirv; Alan Brown, of Bowden, Cheshire; and T. Charles Bond, of Cirencester.
The seeretary (Mr: D. Brown) intimated his desire to resign from the position owing to his rifficulty in attending the meetings and keeping in close touch with the branch, and requested the meeting to cousider the desirability of electing a successor nt the next runarterly meeting in May.

After the usual wotes of thanks had been passed, several of the new members were wiven some very useful practice, which at tha moment is very welcome at Bitch, where a yomg band is endeavouning not only to raise their' status as ringers, but also to mise funds for a belt restoration scheme. We wish them suceess in every way.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

STOOKPORT BRANOH ANNUAL MEETING.
The ammal meeting of the Stockport Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guik was hetd at Norbuty (Hazel Grove) on Saturday, Tanuary 25 ths. The bells were ruts fully muffled from 3.30 p.m, to $4.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., when the service was held in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. J. Humphreys), who geve a very inspiring address, basing his remarks on the text, 'Unto you I call.' He observed how the bells reflected the different feelings of tho popalace. At that time they slowed our sorrow it the deatla of our beloved King, aud last may they sonnded forth thein mote of joy on his complefion of 25 years' reign. Still, under all circumatances, their call was to the people to join the churgh in its sorrow or joy, as it had been all down the ages,
After service tea was served in the school by the local ringers and their good ladies, and some 35 members and friends partook of an excellent repast.
After tea the bisiness meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Vicar, and at the commencement the members stood for in monent in silence as a marle of respect and affection for His late Majesty:
The Chairman expressed regret at the death of the ex-Mastor oi the Guild, the Rev. C. A. Clemenis, who lad prased away about a fortnight before. He said he felt, sure the members would wish to send a message of condalence to Mrs. Clements, and lio moved that the secretary be instructed to do so. This suggestion was unanimously adopted by the mecting, and the members stoad silently for a minutie as a tributo to his memory. The report and statement of accounts were approved and adopted by the meeting. Tle olicers for the ensuing Frear were elected, and thanks were extended to the retiring officers for their services

Fotes of thanks were accorded to the Yiear for the use of the bells Fnd for his fine address, to the local ringers for having everything ready, to the ladies who so ably catered for the requirements of the inner man, and to the organist for his assistance in church,

The ammal meeting of the South and West District of the Midrlesex Counly Assuciation and Condou Diocesan Guild was leld at Stt. Mary's, 'lwidenham, matinday week, when the besf athendurace for some yethrs, ofel 60, wus rocorded. Nearly all the affinted towere were ieprosented. Risforing took place an Hampton during the aftemoon ancier the disection of the Deputy Ringing Mrster, Mi. W. H. Colos, while tha Masliar, Mr. George Killy, was in charge ft Twickenlan, wherr tinging was to be hat bolih in the afternoon and evening. A fealing was the variety of methorls rung, ranging from Grandsire Triple日 to Spliced Surprise Major in seven methois, the latter the hest struck torteh of the day.
Shortened evensoni was conducled ly the president of the nssocia1ion, the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane, who is Vicar of Twickenhem. The National Anthem prefaced the service.
The President, ill a brief address, referred to the life and death of Tis late Majesty King George V. He hoped that the wonderful cxample of a Chyistian life, ns lived by him, would be a strength and comlort to all.
"Phe vice-president read the lesson, specially selected as a tritute to the King and also to the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake. The hymns wure well sumg, as unazl.
Flea, held in the Churen fall, taxed the resources of the caterers to The utmost (they did forget their postcards, after all I). Eventually all were supplich, although some were seated rather meonventionally!「mmediatoly after ten, a touch was rung on Mr. George Kilby's finc lamithells.
The President, referring to the events of the past fortuight, moved the following address to King Elward:-

- The Mifldlesex Connty Association and Kondon Diocesan Guild respectiflly tender to Your Majesty an expression of their decp semow al; the grievous loss which the nation has sustained in the fleath of Your Majesty's illustrious father, and an expression of their respocilul sympathy wilh Your Majesty in Ubese the dark dayg of yaur grief.

Thes tender to Four Majesty a spontaneons and dutiful expression of thon loyalty, and they pray that your reign may be blessed hy peace for your people and comfort for Your Majesty's own self,
The members alood to receive the motion and signified their assent nitence. A. Trallope spoke in feeling terms of the tragic death of fro Rey, B. Fr. Thrwhitt-Drake.-After a tribute to his work for and his milue to the Exorcise, it was ngreed that a message of syunpathy ho sent to the widow and family.
The hon, secrelaty (M,F. W. Goodfellow), in his report. oommonced by roferring to the pascing of the greatest ringer of ath tinse on Mnreh &th. Mr. William Pye. He had been Master of the assogialion since 1910 and he had raised the standard of rimging enormously since then. His great ringing feals at Exeter Labghborough and Ashton-ander-Lyne, to menlion hut a few, will long be remembered. Te was the firgt man to call a thourand peals. He rang 1,969 peals in all, of which lie called 1,4Z7. He was a man of great modesty and arcatily loved by those who really knew lim. Dotails of the proposed momorial to his memory were given and an enmest appenl for further chations made.

THE ORLANISATION OF LOCAL GUIHAS.
Continaing, the hoth. secretary gave details of meetings held during thr rear, the awerage atfendance of 31 heing an increase on the provious yent. Sunday service ringing had bedn maintained, although While thends were finding it difficult to keep up to full strength. While the rroblem of new ringers is one of some perplexity, it is not withont golution. A closer co-operation with the inonmbent is desimble an this point, and while there are choirboys and youth arganisations in the parish, one source, at least, of possible reernits shonld remain. Thencling should not bo the somewhat haphazard perfonnance it gometimes is, hat should be carefulty plamed, with mantionnce of interest an tmportant feature. Hatrdbells can be used in this respech with ndventage, ringing both thnes and changes. The netive interest of church oflicials should be stimulated ou all nossihle accasions. All bants shoulf he formed inta s Guild to rank as " nuroehial organisation, holding a mecting at least once a year, and, f possible, an muntial outing
Feston ringors hmaded the quarter-peal lisi with ten in five aiferent methods Only twelve peals were rume during the year, a big decrease. The best performance was the peal of Spliced Surmise Major in sis methods. This was conducted liy E. C. S. Turner rrom an "inside" bell. and was his own composition. Congratnlations were extended n bntlu the Feston Rnd Sunbury hands on ringing peals with an whtrely tocat hand. Thirteen memhers were alocted anting the year, tut. there was $\pi$ dismal story of ever 20 outstanding subscriptitous. (Pay up and play the game!)
The reporb concluded with thanks and constatulations to Mr, C.T. Coles, who lind recortiy oompleted 25 years as hom, secretary of tho Norlh and Dant District.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

COMPWITION FOR OFFIESS.

The annial general meeting was held on Saturday at St. Clement Daues, Strand. Ringing took pince at St. Giles', Cripplegate; St: Margaret's, Westminster; St. Steplen's, Rochester Row, and St. Clement Danes, where many methods were indulged in. Service in St. Clement Danes Church was attended by a large number of nentbers and frienkls. Led by the organist and choristers, the services was conductod, in the absence of the Inonorary chaplain the Rev. W. Pemington Bickford), by the Rev. W. Kiugston, who gave a short address, in which he pointed ont the importance of bells in calling the peopla to worship.
Tea was partaken of in Perdy's Restanrant, where a conupany of 97 sat dowr. Aiterwards some letume for further ringing at St. Clement's bill 7 p.int, obliers wade their way to the meeting hall and a few left rang handbels, a courge of Kent "r'reble Bob Major being among the items: E. J. King I-2, I. W. Taftender 3-4, A. D. Barker

5-6, J. G. A. Priou 7-8.

Business in the Parish Hall wns plesided over by the Master, Mr. T. H. Tafender supported by the hon, sectotary (iffr. ©. O. Moore) and assistant secretgries, skewards, etc. The presentation of the balance sheet by one of the auditorz (Mry A. D. Darker) revealed that the association had a bafance in luand on the yeares working, thus increasing the society's assets.
The anmal. report showed that during the rear 1935,13 peals had been rung, being two more whan in 1934. They were conducted by nine different ringers as follows; The Master 4, Nu. T. W. Taffendev 2 and the following one each: Messrs. J. Bennetit, J. W. Chapman, W. Fewitt, E. J. King, F. Skevington, F, D. Smith and W. Wjllians. The ontstanding peals were the peal of Stedman Triples at St. Olave's, Hart, Street, City, by a band of Treemasons on October 28th, the frrst peal of Major and Surprise on the bells at Waodiond on November 16th, and the peni of Stednan Cinques at S't. Leonard's. Shoreditch, on December $7 \mathrm{Fth}_{1}$ rung muffled for an esteemed membor, Mr. R . Bevan. Tlue association liad elected 37 members during the year, and,
 Daniell, who was a past becretary and did so much in formulating the Landon Conty dssociation in 1903 from tlite ald St. James' Society, founded 1824. He was also the compiler and donor of the assooiation's service books. The report, also noted the practices adopted by the Northern Distriet for mid-week, and, with regrok, the inability of Mr. J. Herbett to carry on the sacretaryship of the Southern District. It was hoped to produce an annual report this year for sale at a small cost giving very useful information.

A HANDBELL COMPETITION.

Interest next centred on the election of officers who had been nominated at the previous quartery neetirg. There were two nominatious for the Mastership, Mr. T. H. Taffender and Mr. A. D. Barker. The result of the election revealed an overwhelming majority in favour of Mr. T. H. Taffender, who was declared elected amid applanse. For the office of general sceretary there were also two nominations, Mr. C. O. Moore nind Mr. T. W. Taftender. Mr. C. O. Moore withdrew and Mr. T. W. Tafender was, therefore, duly elected. The fallowing were elected to the other offees: Messrs. A. J. Harding and E. E. Hawthome, assistant secretaries; Mr. E. A. Young, treasurer: Messi's. T. WYait and P. Carter, stewards; Mr. A. H. Keighley and Mr. F. E. Dawe, trustees; Central Council yepresentatives, the Master (Mr. T. F. Taffender), Mr. F. E. Dawe and Mr. T. Waugh. A Fote of thanks was unanimously passed to the clergy for the use of their bells duving the afternoon, to the homorary chaplan for the attendance of the organist and choristers, alad leaving him to dispose as lue wished of the collection made at the service.

The meetins thels expressed its opinion in connection with the proposed removal of All Hallows, Lombard Street, and the secretary was requested to wrive the appropriate authorities that the church shomld be preserved and allowed to remain if at all possible.

The cancluding item of the evening was the handbell contest. There were four entranks, but one bard had to withdraw, as ono of its memberg was unavoidably ubsent. This left tho repreaentatives of St. Mary's, Woodford, to compete first, followed by St. Dinstan's, Stepney, and St. Stephen's, Rochester Row. Each band rang a conrse of Grandsirc Triples. Trhe decision of the three umpires resulted in the cup being retained by the bark of St. Stephen's, Rochester Row. The meeting then came to a close with another course of Treble Bob Major on handluells.

It was agreed to hold the firth annual supper next year, and the next district anmual meeting at Isleworth
F. D. Bishop and V. A. Rawlings, of Chiswick, and the Rev. J. W. Ainger, of Twickenlam, were elected members
W. H. Coles was elected Master and E. C. S. Tumer his deputy. The hon. secretary ( $\mathrm{F} . \mathrm{W}^{\prime}$. Goodfellow), assistant hon. secretary (W. G. Filson) and fon. treasurer (T. Callins) were all re-elected. Thanks were rocoxted to all who contributed to the success of tho meoting and to the retiring officers.

FOR BEGINNERS.

A STEP IN CHANGE RENGIAG

Let us hark back this week, for the sake of the 'rery beginners who are just making a start with change ringing. In the first issues of 'The Ringing World ' $\ddagger$ 隹 to ring a bell aud went on to explain how to hunt the treble in Doubles. We want to go a step further this week in this direction and give yanng ringers a little direction in ringing some other bell 1.1 1 an the treble to Doul3les.

It is as well, perlaps, to explain that there is a variety of ways in which Donbles (that is ringing five bells and changing two palis at a time) can be produced. One of the oldest methods is Grandsire, and this is frequently the method in which beginuers are started. On five hells and upwards no method will produce all the possible changes; Giandsite Donbles produces ony 30 out of the possible 120, which is the number that can be got with five bells.

The reason is this: In this method there are two bells which follow only a plain lunting course, that is moving one place at a time from front th back and back to front without any deviation, and as a consequence they retum to thoir relative startigg positions every teu charger. There are, therefore, three bells left to do the "work" of the method, and as ther camplete the cycle by the time the Inant bells lave been up and down three times, the bells come round at the ens of 30 changes.
The working bells, as they are called, all follow the same cycle, but each berine it at a different place. In the plain course, the never Icaves it, whatever happens. The working bells in the plan treble and and are the bells dous the plain hunting, and the treble coutse are, thercfore, 3, 4 and 5 . and they hunt, for the most port, like the other two, moving one place up or down as the case may be. But if they did bothing more than this, the bells would be back in roninds at the end of tea clianges.

Some variation in the work has consequently to be made, and it is done in this way: The bell which the treble takes off at lend, instead of liunting itght up to the baek, only gaes as far as 3rd's place. Herc he hres a whole pull (it happens to come at backstroke and handstroke, just as the whole pull behind daes when you make it) and hunts down agyin to lead.

PLACE DAKING AND DODGTNG.

That really slould be quito ensy to do, for, laving led and atruck over the trehle and one other bell, you strike over whe treble and the other bell ngain in the same order, and lead once more.
'lluis making of 3ud's place checks the hunting of the other two hehind, and they eacli have to take one stap bach, which is called a dodge, before going on agria. One bell dodges after lying its wholepull behind, and ilis is cealled 5-4 down, and the other dodges before it, lies its whole-puil, wluch is called 45 up.
We slakll probably be taken to task for using the term " $54-4$ down.' For oue thing, most people call it ' $4-5$ down', and for another the woul 'down' is superfuous if you sBy " $5-4$," which sheuld indicate that the dodge is made on the way down. We have, however, made use of both expressions so that you may have no doabt aboist them,
Now, in between the dodges and the 3rd's piace, all the bells plain hunt. and there are mations ways in which you may know when the dodges occur.

Fou should count your way as well as bunt it, by hnowing at, each pull exactly what place you are in, whether it is 2nd's, or 3rd's, or 4th's, or Sth's. Then you will know when you come to your dodging places.

The Gramaire methad actually begins with the 3rd's place and the accompanying dodge, sa let us inagine you are rimgimg the 3rd. While you a'e ringing rounds yon are making one of the blows which constitutes the 3rd's place. When you start into changes, therefore, you must have one more blow in 3rd's before humting down to lend. This will be over the treble. Next you strike over the other bell that is in the hunt, and then lead. Now yon hunt up and lie a whole pull belind. When rou have started to hunt dawn and have struck in 4th's ptace, froul will find that the bell you struck orer is not coming up over you. He is the one that is making 3rd's, and you nunst go bnek a step over the bell you had previously struck over. When that las been done rou will be able to continuo four forwaxd march to fead. By the titne you get behind again another bell wil] be making 3rd's, and on accourt of the ground you last in the previous dodge you will find that this time you must dodge lefore you lie your whote pull. When you do this whole pull, the second blow will bo over the treble, which, as we sar, 'turns you from behind," and eongequently' will tale you off at lead.

This, as has already been pointed out, means that you linve this tiane got to mrake 3 rd's plaoe. This, then, is the crele of the work: Make Zrd's place, lead, humt, up, lie a whole pull behind, dodge 54 down, lumt down, lead, lmot up, flodge 45 up , lie a whole pull behind, humt down, lead, make 3rd's place.

If you cound your places and notice where you pass the treble, you have ar guide as to what to do, by the following table:-

Pass treble in $3-4$ going up, dodge $5-4$ down.
Pass treble in 2-3 going up, dodge 4-5 un.
Puss treble ju 1-2 going up, make 3 ri's aud leat agajn.

BROADCASTING.

The broadcasting of bell ringing has claimed a good deal of attention lately among ringers, and there have been two points that have excited most discussion. One is the action of the B.B.C. in superimposing announcements on the ringing prior to services and the other is on the character of the ringing itself. On the first question the B.B.C. seem to have taken a definite stand, and, unless other influences can be brought to bear, it would seem that the ringing on these occasions will have to suffer temporary eclipse white the amouncer goes through the items of the service. To ringers, of course, this fading down is annoying, but it is not a matter in which the public are likely to concern themselves. They get the effect of the bells, and the 'atmosphere' associated with a church service is not, with them, we imagine, broken when the bells become for a short time, merely a background. They have not the same appreciation of the technicalities as ringers have, and until the B.B.C. look at the ringing that is done as a part of the service itself, instead of a prelude; until, in fact, they are prepared to accept it, as they do a hymn sung by the choir, broadcast service ringing is likely to continue to suffer from the voice of the announcer.

The other question is one which, in our opinion, affects ringers even more intimately. The quality of the ringing sloould always be the ringers' first consideration, and those who are responsible for broadcasting should take every possible step to see that nothing but the best striking is produced on such occasions. The prestige of the art is much more at stake when the sound of the bells goes out over the ether. Bad striking is to be deprecated at any time, but usually when it is heard by the public the public, as a whote, are not particularly careful in their listening and may or may not notice specially that the ringing is poor. But when the bells are broadcast, there is definitely concentrated listening in the homes of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands of people, and bad ringing under such circumstances is bound to create a much worse impression than bad ringing heard in the street. We would appeal, therefore, to all bands of ringers entrusted with broadcast ringing to use every effort to secure striking as perfect as possible, and to attempt nothing which they cannot do well. We realise that where broadcast ringing is to be done it is difficult to ask the indifferent ringer or ringers belonging to the band to stand aside, for fear of giving offence, but the importance of a broadcast is such that, although some may disagree with us, we think that even this step should be taken, if necessary, to secure the best perform-

[^7]ance. Many a man is left out of a peal because he is not considered good enough; a broadcast is infinitely more important. It is better not to broadicast the bells at all, than to do it badly-but the trouble sometimes is that there are ringers who do not know that they are bad strikers.

NOR'CH-WEST DTVISION ANNUAL MEETING.
A meeting of the North-West Branch was lield at Pyworthy. The Rev. Raveajuill, of Sutcombe, the chairman of the branch, and Mr. J. W. Sangwin, the hon. secretary, were supported by a muster of ahout 40 ringers from Bridgernle, Exeter, Bramford Speke, Holsworthy, Plymouth, Petersmarland and the home tower. The president of the Deven Guild, the Rev. E. Y. Cox, also attended.
The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Herbert, who gave an imteresting and helpful address. The Rev. Ravenhill read the lesson.
Tea was served by the church helpers in the Wicarage Hall, after which the annual business meeting was carried throngh. Mr. Sangwin read his report, and Mr. W. Shears submitted the balance sheet, which showed anl increased balance in hand.
The Rev, Ravenhill was re-elected chairman, Mr. J. W. Sangwin secretary, Mr. W. Shears treasurer, and Messrs. F. Sangwin, A. J. Motters and the Rev. W. H. Smale as representatives to the Genera! Committee
The Vicar of Pyworthy was elected as an honorary member of the hranch. It was decided to hold the summer meating at North Lew (where, according to local tradition, the Devil died with the cold), and the next aynual meeting at Torvington.
Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar of Pyworthy, the organist and choir and all the ladies who had selped in the provistion of tea and the cornfort af those present.

DEATH OF MR G. F. PICKLES

AN OLD HORBURY RINAER.
The death took place on Tuesday, February 13th, of Mr. George Frederick Pickles, at the age of 72 years. He was a change ringer at St. Peter's Church, Horbury, for 46 years, and an old member of the Yorkshire Asbociation, which he joined in 1891. There are now only two members left of that old team at Horbury, namely, Mr. Robert Thicket and Mr. Herbert Rowley. Mr. Pickles, in addition to his interest in ringing, was also a prominent supporter of the clurch throughout lis life, and at, one time acted as sidesman.
The interment, took place nil Saturday, February 15th, at Horbury Cemetery. A large number of ringing friends attended, and touches wore rung on the muffled bells throughout the afternaon, and at the gravesidg a touch of Grandsire was rung on lhandbells. On Sunday the local ringers rang with bells half-mufled to 720 Kent and 60 oxford Treble Bob as a token of respect and esteem.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUKLD.

LEATEERHEAD DISTRICT'S 'SURPRISE' MEEIING.
A good deal is heard about Surprise in ringing in these daya, bint is great surprise was in store at Leatherhead on Saturday weels, when 50 ringers representing 19 towers assembled there, in spite of the thick for, for the annual meeting of the Eeatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild amd the quasterly meeting of the Southern Disirict of the Ladies' Guild. The Riuging Master lad a busy afternoon, trying to suit everybody's tastes and capabilities. The Guild's gervice was conducteé by the Rev. P. $\overline{\text { V }}$. Bruckin, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, and several choirboys assisted in the singing.
Trea was screed, as usual, in the Institute, and was presided over by the Rev. P. V. Bruckin, who was voted to the chair for the business meeting which followed. The balanco sheet and committee's report were reed and adopted. The balance showed a decrease of 11 10s., but part of that had been replaced by stock, several badges being still for sale.
The report was not altogether satisfactory, as a few ringing suhscriptions had not been paid and two honorary members had been lost. the Rev. A. E. Robins laving moved from Đorking and Mr. W. T' Wailer having died. Attendances at the meetings had increased slightly, but still only about half the nuembers had attended a meeting. Four peals had been rung in the district, one of Grandsirc Triplen and three of Double Norwich. These included two 'first peaks' and ong 'first in the method.' These ringers were all members of the Banstead band. Other gratifying features were the restorations at Ewell ant Diorking, and the interest slown in ringing by the new Vicar of Ewell at the reopening of the bells.
Two new nembers were elected, and after a ballot for two membera for the Guild Executive Committee, all the retiring district officers wera re-elected, and all the retiring general officers renominated, with the eddelition of Messrs. A. Harman and G. Marriner to thag names of those nominated for tha election of Central Council representatives.
The committee's recommendations as to places for meetings during the year were accepted without corament.
Mr. A. Harman's scheme for combined practices, that two adjoining towers work together and visit each other on alternate weeks, was next ciscussed and finally attreed to.
Miss H. F. Mills thanked the district for the welcome given to the Lndies' Guild.-The secretary replied that visitors weve alwrys wetcome to the district meetings.
After the usual votef of thanks to all who bad helped to make a good meeting, the men went lack to the tower, the ladies rejoining them after their shout husiness meeting.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The ring of six bells of Bitton Church, near Bristol, is to be relutng in new framework and two trebles added to complete the peal. The work will be carried out by John Taylor and Co., Loughborough.
A visitor to this country from Tasmania, Mr, Maleolm R. Taylor, a member of the band at Holy Trimity Ghureh, Hobart, lias seored a peal at Crayford, where be has had the opportunity of learning change ringing with that enthusiastic company. Mr. Taylor is the first Fass anian borm ringer to score a peal, and the knowledge which he is gaining in the art in England ginould be invaluable when he returns home.
There was another interestine thing about the peal at Crayford. The tenor was rung by Miss Mollie Redpath, who thus completed the 'circle ' in this tower. Few other ladies lave, up to the present, rung a peal on all the bells in any one tower. The peal was originally arranged as a purcly local one, and the band extend their thanks to Mr. H. E. Audsley in filling up, at a mament's notice, the gap cnused by the tomporary indisposition of Mr. Edwin Barnett.

The composition of the peal of Spliced London, Cambridge and Superlative Surpise Major rung on handbells at Oxhey on Fob. 14th was the same as that published in 'The Ringing World' on Nov. 15th for the Spliced London and Cambridge, except that Superlative was rung for Cambridge in courses $4,5,6,7,10,13,14$ and 15 in each part.
Mr. Th. E. Sone, of Paddock Wood, Kent, has called 50 composinions, by Mr. Arthut Knights, of Chesterfeld, when rung for the first time. They include Cour peals of Kent Treble Bob Royal, 36 of Kent Treble Bob Major, three of Oxford Treble Bob Major, six of Double Norwich Major and one of Grandsire Caters.

Among the notable performances recorded in our peal columas this week is a peal of seven different 720 's of Bob Minor rung by the local ringers at Barnby-in-Willows, Notts. It was the first penl by all the band, who deserve congratulations upon their ackievement.

Mr. James George, at 83, is the oldest member of the "Thousand Pealers' band, and Mr. Alfred Pulling, at 57, is the youngest.

All the ringers are in the labit of climbing belfry steps, but one of them exhibited such an intense dislike of the escalatov that he chose to walk up the steps rather than ride on the movizg stairs at Waterloo Station after the peal.
The 'Apollo Magazine' for February contains a finely illustrated article on ringers' jugs, pitchers aud gotchers. This is the second article and the two together embrace all the known examples of these curios. It lias been written by J. R. Nichols, author of Bells Thro' the Ages,' and Ernest Marris, anthor of 'History and Art of Change Ringing' and the recently published folume 'Legends o' the Bells.'

On Sunday evening a dedication at Ricknansworth will give Hertfordshire another ring of ten bella.
It has taken 37 years for false rows in a peal of Londan Surprise Major, composed by Mr. Frank Bennett, to come to light. The peal was published in 1899, but the repetition escaped the notice of the critics of those days, and now, after all this time, the error bas been discorared by Mr. C. W. Roberts. In another column the composer withdraws the peal. It is bad luck for all concerned-but aceidents of this kind will happen.
A number of letters received on the methods adopted in muffled ringing have been received and will appear in our next issue. Numbrous other reports are also unavoidably held over.

SILVER JUBILEE OF 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

With our issue of March 13 th 'The Ringing. World ' will celebrate its silver jubilee. The number will be of epecial intevest to readers.

BROKEN CLAPPERS.

At the usual practice at Yeovil last week three courses of Grandsire were attempted, but after' the first course the bells were 'falliug about' so badly that the conductor called 'rounds' and 'stand."
As usual, the tenor man had a solo, and before he got his 'footing,' the clapper of the bell snapped of and collapsed. This is not a new thing at Yeovil. The same thing happeaed onls a month ago, and last week's happening was the fourth time in all.

Can anyone, we are saskerl, recommend something for sticking them together $P$

KINGSTON TRADERS SUPPORT APPEAL.

A meeting of the Kingston-on-Thames Chamber of Commerce last week decided to support an appeal for $£ 300$ towards the cost of the restaration of the Parish Church bells, on condition that the Church authorities raised the other f 300 that would be necessary. It was decided to urge the Mayor to jssue the appeal, and the decision of the meeting has been communicated to the Vicar.

Several speakers, while expressing support of the propesal, took exception to the Wicar's attitude that the bells were of no interest to the church as a church.

MEN OF ONE THOUSAND PEALS.

I looked far back into other years, and lo! in briglt array, I saw as in a drean the forms of ringers passed away.
The dear little Church of St. Olave, Hart Street, in the City of kondon, is destined to make history, like the team of chureh belidingers who assembled there on Saturday, February 15th, 1936.

Previous gatherings of visiting clans have included the Septuagenarians, the Bankers and the Masonie Brotherhood, and it would appear that St. Olave's Church was spared from the Great Fire of Lrondon in 1666 to secure for herself these 20 th century records.
If you approach the church from the Old Jewry, there can be seen to-day a house built A.D. 1850, or again from the Tower of London you traverse Seebling Lanc, a thoroughfure which Fabian Stelman and Sumel Pepys frequertly travelled-the former to ring, the latter to sing at St. Olave's. uncertain, and, for better or for worse, "Go, Cambritge, sounhed soon after three oclock.

As to the actual ringing, it was real good, a litule on the slow side due to the muffled clappers used "in memoriam for H. H. the ante King George V. There was scarcely a hitch throughout, excopiug about the serond laonr, when the bells in 56 failed to cleat eateli other for a couple of blows. It was only natural that the band shomid be arxious to ring a perfect peal, but no human machive has yet done so, and it is doubtul if the same team could achieve a better. The formal record will be found iu another columa,
Thanks to the Rector, Prebendary Wellati, the ringers were made welcome to the bells, and to fhe steeplekeeper (Mx. H. Willson), whu received them with right poodwill. The litule Olive branches who nei at the ehturch the day after sit, Valentine's appreciated the kindiness granted them.

Near Mark Lane Station tea was eujoyer at a Lyons Cafe by the team and their friends just as the place was closing at 7 p.int., and was short of rations. The stafl cut short he anmated conversation.

 F. Bennett, G. R. Pye, J. George, G. Williams.The preservation of this building is mostly due to its position at the junction of two roadways-Hart Street and Seething Lane, with the burial gronnd on the other sides. Its ald ring of six bells, tenor dated 1662, were cast a mile east of Aldgate at the old Whitechapel Bellfoundry, at couple of good trebles to complete the octave liaving been added in recent years.

A peculiarly dense fog prevailed all over London on the day that the 'thousand pealers' met, and main line trains were delayed, but the team duly arrived safely in time for the photographer to take a fashlight before attempting the peal; and to receive encouraging words from a few friends-Mr. C. T. Coles, the Kilby brothers, Messrs. R. Saunders, W. R. Madgwick, E. Brett, J. H. Riding, F. F. Pike and others among them.

Assombled in the belfiy, several questions arose as to which society should the attempt be ceditod, each man haviry at one time or another joined nost of those in England. Who would like to conduct? and who would ring fie tenor? At last pressmen, photographers, friends and the steeplekecper retired and left the team to their fate, ever Expressions of rerret were leard at the absence of 3tr. Keitia Hart tho only other living ringer who has rung one thousand peals. Memories of the Rev. F. E. Robinson, the first man to ving 1,000 , were recalled, and tha canly loss of the late William Pyc, in 195 , after compiling the highest total ever rung, was deplored.

One could add much to the history of the respective members who took part in this penl, and I fully realise that all of them were born years too eoon, because their total combined age amounts to 565 years, or an average of over 70 years per man. Again their fotal peals number 9,978, or nearly 1,250 per member. Mr. Williams has now conducted 998 peals, and shauld make it 1,000 by the time be rings 1,400 . Mr. Jumes George, our ' nipper,' cannot exist withont some climar to his performance, in this caso he celebuates his "first peal, rung at St. Ceorge's, Camberwell, February 16tif, 1889, anil is the anly survivor of the team of 47 yeers ago. ## PEAL RINGING AT RHYL.

STEPS TAKEN TO AVOID ANNOYANCE TO PUBEIC.
The annual meeting of St. Thomas' Socictp, Rlyy, was heid on February 11th, the Vicar (the Rev. R. H. Roberts) presiding. A riscussion with regard to peal ringing took place, and the president said he lad received complaints from one or two people living in the vicinity of the church to the effect that peal ringing cansed an annoyance. However, steps have been taken to remedy this by boarding np the louvres of the belfry to divect the sound upwards.
Another item of interest was the retirement of the secrefary, Mr. B. R. Collis, after 27 years in this office. He was congratulated upon his long service by the Vicar and his fellow-ringers.
The new secretary is J. Dean, Broxton, Brighton Road, Rhyl.

A FALSE PEAL OF LONDON.  To the Editor

Dear Sir,-My attemtion has freen called by Mr. C. W. Roberts to a 5,056 Lundon Surprise Major in two equal parts with in In and 5 th course in each part, which I published in 'The Bell News' of Auritst 19th, 1899 , and in the Sussex Report of 1901 . Vofortunately, I find there is a repetition in 34 in tine 6 th lead of the 10 th conrse with the 3 rd lead of the 23 rd , and ausin in the 11 th and 22 nd courses. The peal was rung at St. Peter's, Brighton, on January 14th, 1901, conducted by G. Williams, and again at Lindfeld, November 20th, 1935, conducted by 0 . Sippetts. I sincevely apolegise to all those who took part in these two peals for such an error on my part.

RINGERS' PLACE IN THE CHURCH.

We have received many letters on the issues raised last week by 'Sincere Wellwisher.' The following is a selection from them.

A GOUNTITY VICAR'S EXPERIENCES.

To the Rditor

Sir,-May $I$, as a ringing Vicar and lover of belts, write some thoughts which came to me as the restlt of reading the last two numbers of "Tho Ringing World
[ huve not seen a full necount of what the Vicar of Kingston-onThames said, and so do not care to give an opinion on it. The letter of 'Sincere Wellwishor' contains some truth, but is it the whole truth? Of course it is the business of the Church to save souls and of all her members to do all that lies in their power to help in this work. But it is also the work of the Churel to oter worship. I reqard the service as a great offering of worghip, in which music has ati important place, and the ringing as making up part of the whole cantributed also by the organist, choir and congregation, each doing its own part in the producing of one act of worship. An old Yorkshire ringer once said to me, 'It is not decent to offer to God anything but the best. You must not ring Grandsire if you can ring Stedman. The people don't know, but it is for God.

My expertence of ringers does not agree with the writer of the Ietter. J'ram tho days when I was privileged to ring with great Yorkshire ringers like William Suowden and Charles Hatbersley to the present time, I have met a good many. Ringiug twice on Sunday with my own men and at the association meetings, I have come to bulieve that the ringers are usually earnest churchmen. I ean only speak from my own experience, but I have always had from ringers unfailing help botls in the belfry and in other work for the church.

No doubt there ara clergy who do not realise that bell music is worship, and ringers, oftem 'unattached,' who ring a bell, dedicated to God, for their own amusement. In both cases it is regrettable, but no good is done by abuse. Lee the people who eare work on quietly to make things better. Certainly I value the mell who ring with me and worghip with me, and when I gef too old to ring with them 1 hope those I have targlt will onrry on their work for God.

A COUNTRY VMCAR.'

RINGING TS A PART OF THE SERVICE

Sir.-'Sincere Wellwisher's' letter in your issue of Fobruary 21st contains some vory plain speaking and much mattor for thought. It is well that any reply should be equally plain.

Sincere Wellwisher" does not seem to grasp the fact that in ell church worl there are petivities that do not directly save souls. Some of these activitics are administrative, as, for instance, the work of parochial chmrch councils, and some are contributory or supplementary. Among the lattor are organ, choir and bellingers.
It is olvious that organists are not chosen primarily for their piety. They are chosed bocalso they are experts very much in love with their art anil ready to devota their talents to the sevice of God. Choristers, too, nre usually enthasiastic amatenus, with a love of musie, enxious to give what service they can to their Maker. No church would say The chumeh has no interest in organ or choir.
Bellingers certainly ring for the love of their art, as organists flay and choristers sing for the love of their art, Nevertheless, it. sloouk not he overlooked that ringers are conscious of therr responsishouk not he over ooked that hingers are conscious of therr responsoven more nnvarving in their attendance for duty twice on Sunday than muany so-called clurehgoers.
Is the service to God a kham becmuge it, arises in the first place from a love of the art itself? It camot be, until the art fails to rentribute to the glny of God. Love of art produced J. S. Bach, and a divinely inspired determination produced the 'St. Matthew Passion.' love of thes art lias provided for us great physicians, amd divino inspirabion lins fed them to confer great bonefte on manlind.
If 'Sincere Wollwisher' will hroaden his outlook, lye may come to ferceive lingers as importanti office beavers in the church. The time when helts were rung to call people to service is past. The ringing is a portt of the serviec, and the bell riggers lave the privilege of soumding forth the mighty prelude to the service, prond and glad to do so on one of the noblest musied instruments God has given.

EDGAR C. SHIAPHERD

MISREPRESENTED
Sir, -After reating the letter in "The Ringing Woyld of Iast week's issuo, headed "Ringers' Place in the Chureh. I think we. as a body of ringers, have lyeen grossly misrepresented by 'Sincere Wellwisher.' Ho las certainly not minced matiers, and has given us a. full Ehare of the deencst dye. Ho asserts that tha hells play little or no part in the life of the Chureh. Whether this be so or not, att the present lime our bells and belfries have never had more attention, nor have rostorations hoen more extensively earried nut, which goes to prove that the average clergy and laymen have as deep a love as ever for the sound of buelish charch hels. Judging from other romarks made by 'Sincero Wellwisher,' he is not r ringer, nor has ho much conception of what a regular Sunday Eervice ringer js willing to sacrifice, week of what ar regular Sumany Empice ringer is willing to sherifice, wee

We are accused of being aarrow-minded, selissh and nonentities in he reneral welfare of the Church. I would point out that in many cases a ringer is found to take more interest in general churchin work than the rest of his fellow-workers. If he is not already aware, it may interest 'Sincere Wellwisher' to know that in our ranks we have clergy, lay readers, churchwardens, church councillors, choir members, sidesmen, servers, etc., so I fail to see that the ringing fraternity does not take an active part in church work as a whole.
True, there are black sheep in every flock, and we are no exception and if we do not attend service as often as is desired, to my mind this guestion must be left to each individual to regulate, and the ringer stands on his own merit, just as any other laynen or churchworker. C. T. H. BRADLEY

Hon. Secretary, Lincoln Diocesan Guild, South Lilmes.

AN ILLUSTRATION FROM OVER.

Dear Sir -I am afraid all will not agree with "Sincere Wellwisher. By the sound of Londof's bells 'Whitington' tumed back, so the story gaes, to become Lord Mayor of London. Who knows, at the present time, a soul, perliaps on a journey to hell, is turned beck by the sound of bells. On page 127 of your issue No. 1,300 you give an account of a ringers' guild service at Sutton. Perhaps it will delight Wellwisher' to know that at that selvice it was noticed several were singing without aid of hymn books. Where did they leann it? In church, of course! One Chistmas morning not far distant we ripgers at Oyer rang at $8.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Fourteen were present and twelve stayed and took part in the celebration. Our bells are rung in peal for morning and evening services throushout the winter and often in summer, and most of the wingers stay for morning and all for evening services. Four ringers are sidesmen, three on Parochial Church. Council and three in the choin. These are all members of Over Society of Ringers.
One Sunday evening, not long since, 29 past and present ringers were counted at evensong, and this in a small parish of ebout 850 population. If church bells bripg back one soul to repertance, they are not rung in vain. There is more joy in heaven over one simmer that repenteth than over nimety and nine that need no repentamee. F. WarringTon, Vice-Crpt., Over Society of Ringers.

ACCUSATIONS UNJUST AND UNFPRUE.

Dear Sir,-Your correspondent 'Wellwisher,' by his attack on 'The Ringilg World,' proves that he is not conversant with his subject but as you have dealt so affectively with him I need say no mote an this point
To 'Wellwisher' I would say his accutations against ringers are both unjust and untrue: ringers as a body are neither selfish nor narrow, but, on the condrary, I find the great majority with whom I come into contact really broadminded people.

Wellwisher says that probably 70 per cent. of ringers rarely if ever attend service. I say that 80 per cent. are regular churchgoers, and, furthermore, a preat majority of these are regular communicants. The reason for this is not far to seek. Ringers to-day are recrulted from among churchpoople. In our own band, for instance, we have a chulchwarden, a sidesman, a Sunday School teacher, two choristers and an organ blower, whilst three of these and still olle other are members of the Churoh Conncil, and I know that our band is typical of many another band to-day. 'Wellwisher" says that the interest of the church in jta bells is declining. Once again he is wrong. If he read 'The Ringing World ' he should know that during the last few years more bell restorations have been undertaken than ever before, and lhe will also fad that ringers are doing their bit, financially and otherwise, to licly in the work of the Church at home and oversens

THE PHARISEE AND THE RINGER-A PARABLE.
Two men went up into the temple to pray-the one a Plarisce and the other a Finger. The Pharisec stood and prayed thus witl Jimself: 'God, I thank Thes that. I am not as other men are; ex tortioners, unjust . . . . or even as this ringer, selfish, narrow-minded never lonking on Thy Kingdom from cross or altar caring for nothing but his hobby: nonoying greatly we. righteous Pharisees with hours of peals; andi, ahove all, reading a journal whose editor acknowledge Thee not. O God, turn these perverse ringers (particularly thi 70 per cent. who rarely, if ever, attend the worship to which theip ringing is supposed to call others) into the full stream of Christian service. May Thy Church seck and save them, perfecting them, as I am perfect and scorn all simmers.

The Ringer returns to his beloved bells-the Pharisee takes pen and paper and writes behind the obscurity of a nom-de-plume.

Verily a parable for certain who trust in themselves that they arr righteous, and klespise others.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION  THE PROPOSED NEW RULTE.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -In the account, jn your igsue of February 14th, of the mecting of the Lewisham Distriet of the Kent County $\Delta$ seoeiation, particular referonce is made to that part of the district representatives' zeport of last November's Central Committee meeting which concerns the proposed revision of the association sules.

The follawing is a summary of the present pesition:-
It was felt at the annual committee meeting, held in November, 1934, that the present rules, having been in existence since the associntion was formed, were now of little value and needed revising.

A sub-committee, formed to consider the matter, met on Octuber Sth, 1935, and proposed several alterations and new rules.

The district represeatatives received the proposals on October $26 t h$. The last Lewisham District meeting, before the Central Committee meeting on November 23rd, had beev held on October 12th, and, as it was impossible for them to be guided by the wishes of the district, the representiatives had to act as they thought fit. Part of the subjcommittee's proposed Rule 8 was as follows:

A Ringing Master may also be clected, whose duty will be to take charge of the ringing when mectings are held, proviacd that nu responsible member of the tower is present."
(Tise italics are mime.)
Hor this clause in italies Mr. W. J. Jefiries was responsible. When it was discussed by the sub-committee of five on October 5th, three opposed it, but by a misunderstanding, the secretary included it in the proposals. Unaware of Mr. Jeffries' convection with this clause, I, in writing to him on October 27 th , said: 'I received the draft of the proposed rules last evening, and was pleased to see the Ringing Master mentioned, but concerning the clause, "provided that no responsible member of the tower is present; I shall consult my colleagne (Mr. W. Smith) with a vicu to opposing it, as to give power with onc laud and take it away with the other is absurd. one liand and take it away with the other is absurd. ${ }^{1}$
This I did at Maidstone on November $2 \mathrm{~F}_{\mathrm{rd}}$, on the ground that a man citlere lield an office, or he did not; there could be no 'ifs," buts" and 'provideds,' and tlat if such a clause were to remain, it would make the offec a farce, and the liolder ari object of ridicule. The other members apparently thought the same, for, of the 28 present, 26 voted ngainst the motion.
This I reported to the Lewisham District, at Crayford, on February Ist. Thereupon Mr. Jeffies, who seems to be representillg a perpetually disgruntled section of the district, read what might be termod more pecurately, 'considerable' than 'considered, statement (see " Ringing World" of Feb. 14th), which charged the representatives with being 'Mussolinis,' and acting without any authority from their dist tict.

As has ben said, the strb-committee met on Octobor 5th, but their recommendations were not lnown natil October 26th. Neither represcntative was a member of the sub-committee, so that if Mr. Jeffries was so anxious that they should act in accordance with the district's wishes, why did not le, at the distaict meting at Bromley on October 12th, inform both the members nnd the representatives of the proposed alterabions, instead of abusing the representatives for mot seeking the members' wiews on matterg which neither lenew anything about?

Rule 4(a) in the sub-committee's recommendations is :-

They may join singly or in bands, and in the latter case the subscription may be paid in one sum by any parish or ringers' fund, but no ringer shall be admitted as an unatanched member it the county whore there is a band in his parish or near veighbeurlood whieh he may join.'
Both Mr. Smith and I considered that this should end at the words 'ringers" fund,' as the rest could not be enforced; and again the majority of members supported on ${ }^{\text {contention. }}$
To this also Mr. Jeffries took exception. But why? There are in the Lewishan Distaict eiflit nonattached members, of whom seren are regnlar Sunday service ringers. For personal reasons, however, they do not wish oflicially to join any bond. Surely such members" wishes should bo respected. They should not be made to feel that the association does not want them.
Lastly it was decided by a majority of the members present nt Crayford, at the instigation of Mr. Teffries, to hold a meeting of the Lewisham District Committee in order to discuss the proposed new rules, and presumably to order the representatives how to vote. But if such a mectine takes place, it can have no effect-and certainly the representatives will not be bound by its decisions-as the rules are for all members, nnd will be discussed, not at a committee mecting, but at the anmual meeting of the association, when each member will lave the epportinity of voicing his own opinions.
I write this in the hope that it will interest others outside the I ewisham District, and I sincerely lope that they, in the five othor disticts, will not have such obstinacy to overconse.
E. BARNETT.

FOR BEGINNERS.

ANOTHER STEP IN OHANGE RINGING.

It was explained last week that the Grandsire method, which we wore endenvouring to show you how fo ring, wols produce, in itself, only 30 chnuges when applied to five bells. There are, however, 120 possible chanpes on five bells, and, therefore, to ring thent alt it is necessary to have "bobs' and 'singles.' These are variations in the work, winch take one bell out of the hunt (the one which is mot the treble) and puts another in its place. The bell that comes out of the bunt joins the other two in the cycle of work-that is, the dodging and place-naking.
Here let us interrupt a moment to point out somethirg which appeared in the article last week, and which, as it stood, was apparently rubbish. It was merely a transposition of two lines, the third and fourth in the fourth paragraph. The material part of it should have read as follows: "In the plain course the treble und 2nd sre the bells doing the plain hunting, and the treble never leaves it, whatever happens. The working bells in the plain caurse are, therefore, 3,4 and 5.
But to resume. From this it is obvions that the firge bell to come out of the luint when a bob or single has to be made must be the 2na, which is fut the hurt when you begin, and some ather bell has to tako its place. It has alyeady been explained that the Grandsire metliod is formed from the plain hunting caurse by the insertion of a 3ud's place inmediately after the treble leads. A bob is effected by an additional 3rd's piace immediately in front of the Jrd'g place cammon th every laad. This canses the bell that had been in the lunt to have two dodges (or a double dodge, ts it is called) in 5-4 (down), which is after turning the trable from behind and lying a whole pull. The cffect of this is to stop the bell, which would otaerwise come to donke ins 5-4 (down), before it lies its whiole pull behind, and canso it wo dodge twice in 4-5 (rup) with the bell that is coming out of the lunt.
The ndalitional 3rd's place is made by the bell that passed the treble in $\mathbf{2}^{-3}$ going up. Instead of bunting on up to $4-5$ for a fodge, it stayg no whole pul] in 3rd's and then hunts down again and leads after the treble. It is then in the hunt, and follows the treble from front to back and bsel to front until anotier bob or single is called.
A bob nakes no difarence to two of the bells-the treblio and the bell that the treble takes from lend; the one, that is, that makes the ordinary 3rd's place.
If the holy is called by the conductor at the right time you sloould have no difficulty in linowing what to do.
If Fon lave got to make Srd's and go fnta the hatt, the treble wilh be the next bell You strike aver. Tf you have to double dodye behind, you will aetually be in the dodging place, that is in 4 th's on the way nap, or in 5th's on the way down.

But as another check, do not forget that you shouki be counting your places, and you will know what to do by the position in which you pass the breble. We catn formulate a little table for the puppose, as we did for the plain cotrse, thus:-
Pass treble in 4-5 going up, dodge fwice in 5-4 (domm) out of the hunt. Pass treble in $3-4$ going "p, dodge twice in $4-5$ (up)
Pass treble in $2-3$ noing yp, make 3rd's and lead again, in the humt. Pass treble in 1-2 going up, make 3rd's and lead agaim
Perkaps it onght fo be explnined that a double dodge, that is dodging twicc, means taking a step back, woing forwavd one place, 』nal stepping back a second time before going on with the hunting.
One otlagr thing meeds explamation hefore you attempt to ring 120 on a working bell, and that is, how to make a 'singie.' The antual work differs in two particulars from a hob. The treble is still unaffected, and the bells double dodge behind exnetly iss at is bols, hut the bell that unde 3 ri's place, after passing the treble in $2-3$ going up, makes the other 3rd's place as well; that is, tu stops two whole pulls in Jrd's place tuefore going bath to lead again. IL is mot then in the hunt
The effect of this double 3rd's phace is that the bell which orvlinarily would have made 3 rd's esmot reach that position, and ji lias to have a whale pult in 2nd's place oror the troble, and lead after the treble, which puts it into the lunt. The figures which follow show the difference between an plain, a bob and it single lead.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

NEW NORIH AND EAST DISTRUCL RINGING MASTER

The qunual meeting of the North and East District was held at Christ Churely Soutligate, on Saturday, February 8th, and was attended by upwands of 60 members. The beautiful paal of ten bells, one of tha finest in the country, and always a credit to the founders, was rung to miny methods between threo and five o'clock, whan the insual short service was held. In the absence of the Vicar, though illness, tho sermon was preached by the Rev. H. Edwards.

Tea was served at the Cherry Tree Hotel, after which the business meetizg took place. The chail' was taken by Mr. G. W. Fietcher (vice-president), who was supported by Mr. J. A. Trollope (vicepresident, Soutin and West District), Mr. W. H. Hollier (association treasmer), Mr. W. L. Oram (district treasurer), Mr. A. W. Coles (Master), Mr. G. T. Coles (hon. secretary), ILI. G. R. Goodship (assistant hon. secretary), ete.
A resolution expressing sympathy with His Majesty the King in the loss of bis illustrious father, aud wishing bina a successful rerga, was carried. A resolution of sybpathy with Mrs. B. F. Tyrwhith-Drake, and with the Ely Diocesan Guild, in their serious loss, was also carried. The formal businuss of the mteetiug was then proceeded with. The balanco sheet, submitted by the treasurer, which showed a loss on the rear's workizg of $£ 109 \mathrm{~g}$. 2d, whs carried. 1t was yoted, however, that a sum of 815 had been voted to the William Pye Memorial Fund, so that the year actually showed an considerable credit balance The assets shoved $£ 2995.7 \mathrm{~A}$. In the hands of tho treasurer and stock to the face value of $£ 75$ 13s. 8d.
Twelve now members were clected, and two elections made prior to peals were conlirmed.
The election of afficers then tools place. The District Master, Mr. A. W. Coles, felt it was desirable that le should make way for another ringer on his election to the position of Ringing Miaster of the association. Mr. 'Thomas J. Lock, of Willesden, was, therefore, elected to the District Mastership, umidst louk applause. Mr. Lock, in returning thanks, said he would do his best for the members aud hoped always to have their support. The other oficers were re-elected as follows Hon. treasurer, Mr. W. H. Oram; Lon. secretary, Mr. C. T. Coles; assistant hon. secretary, Mr. G. Rr. Goodship; Central Committee Messrs. R. E. Geare, H. Kilby and G. B. Lucas; auditor, Mr. G. W. Tletchar; trustees, Messrs. W. H. Oram, C. T. Coles mnd W. Fickworth.
A vote of thanks to the retiring Mastcr was proposed by the chair-man.-Mr. A. W. Coles, in reply, said lio hoped to be able to carry on at those towers where he had been giving help, enel would do quything lie could to help the association.
The hon. secretary was requested to sent the good wishes of the meeting to $\mathrm{Mr} . \mathrm{R} . \mathrm{K}$. Knight, of Leytonstone, who lad recently roached his $915 t$ birthday. It was mentioned that Mr. Kniglit had been a member of the Royal Cumberlands since 1866, surely a record: THE PYE MEMORLAL.
The present position of ibe William Pye Memorial Fund was explained by the bon. secretary, who said that the fund now amounted to about El56, and tiat the money was still coming in slowly. Estimstes were being invited from the leading bellfounders, so that the committee hoped to bo in a position to place the order very shortly. It was sincerely hoped that the bells would be ready to bave the opening when the Gouncil met in London at Whitsun, so that this truly arational memorial would have a truly national opening. St. Mary's, Finchley, was chosen for the next district meeting on March 14th, and St. Augustine's, Kilburn, for the next annual meeting. The Chainmar, after welcoming the several members of the South and West District who were present, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. C. 1 . Peploe) for the use of the bolls; to the preacher (the Rev. H. Edwards) ; to Mr. J. E. Miller and the loeal ringers, and to the orgenist, to which Mr. Edwards very suitably replied.

The meeting closed with in vote of thanks to the chairman for the able way he liad condncted the meeting.

Fandbell ringing followed, Etedman Caters, Treble Ten and Double Norwich Major being rung ; whilst many visited the tower, where anything from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung. The new Master, Mr. T. J. Lock, was anxions to see that everybody had an opportunity tre ring, and made quite a goed impression in this his first effort at looking after the ringing requirements of a big meeting.

THE SPIRIT OF HENRY JOHNSON.

Since the days when Henry Johnson was at the summit of his intellectual powers and influence, the art of change ringing has made vast strides in the scope of its opportunities and the widening of its practice. Other men in other ages left an equal mark upon the Excreise, and men who have followed him have carried the sdience far beyond the limits which Henry Johnson knew. To all but a handful of ringers to-day, Henry Johnson is but a name and yet there remains attached to it a vague indefinable something which stamps this Birmingham worthy, not only as an outstanding figure of bygone days, but as an example of the highest type of church bell ringer, not only in the practical exposition of the art, and in patient and painstaking explorations of the problems of his day, but also in selflessness, modesty and comrage.

His attributes were not an after death discovery; they were appreciated by his contemporaries. He was lyonoured in life, which is more than happens to many men of genius, and is the best proof of his outstanding character In a centre where change ringing has had a firm foorfold for nearly two hundred years, and which has produced many men of note, Johnson's services to the art were preeminent, and it is for no insignificant reason shat for nearly fifty years men have gathered annually in Birmingham from all over the country to show their respect to this great but humble man and all that be stood for.

It is more than likely that with the passing of time Johnson's place in the history of ringing would bave been far less appreciated than it is but for the vearly commemorations. Those who knew Henry Jobnson in the flesh are, in the natural course of events, rapicty thinming out. Not many more years can elapse before they will all be gone. It may well be, therefore, that Heary Johmson will become, even at these annual dinners, a still more vague though still honoured figure. We shall no longer have with us men who can give us that personal lowch, which, fortmately, at the moment, we still cen kexp through description and anecdote which these samivors of a past generation can pass on to us first hand. But when they all have gone, Henry Johnson's memory will be well worth while preserving by a gathering such as that which has taken place for so many years somewhere near the anniversary of his birth, if only that it may help to keep alive the spirit which dominated the man throughout his life and particularly in his association with our art. The Exercise to-day needs more than ever the maintenance of the Johnson spirit, which gained for him the love and respect of his contemporaries and a niche in ringing history from which he can never be displaced. ## YORKSHIRE ASSOCLATION.

GROUPING OF EASTERN DISTRIGT TOWIERS.
The annual meetiug of the Eastern District of the Korkshire Assuciation was held at Beverley Minster on Saturday, February $29 t h$, and was attended by over 40 ringers, lepresenting Cottinglam, Heming brough, Howden, Hull, Market Weighton, Ripon, Selby, Sherburn-inElmet, Sutton-on-Hull, York aud the local compray-an excellent gathering considering the shocking state of the weather.
Service was held in the Minster, and an address was given by the Vicar, Canon W. H. Rigg, D.D.
Tea was followed by the business meoting in the Parish Room, over which the Vicar presided. Four new members werc elected, viz. Miss Marion Henry, of Cottingham, Mrs. Scarth, of Pickering, Mr. Leslie Barrow, of Hedon, and Mis. John Knos, of Hull.
Bridlington was seleoted as tho place of the June meeting, or, failing Bridington was sele.
Bridlington, Hatficle.
Bridlington, Hatfield.
It was decided to support the Northern Distriet by holding a joint meoting at Helmsley in Apxil, Mr. E. Hudson, the Northem District secretary, having usized the Eastern District members to combine with the Northern in holding tho meeting.

All the retiring officers were re-elecled for a further period of thice years.
After discussion it was decided to leave in the hands of the vicepresident and plistrict secrciary arrangements for the grouping of towers for special practices and meetings, it being hoped by these means to improve the atandard of ringing and give more encouragement to towers in isolated distriets.

Mr. Gryer moved a vate of thanks to the Vicer, and said how sorry he was that the Vicar was leaving Beverley, He wished him 'God-speed' on his departure to a living in Conwwall. The motion was seconded by Mr. Howell, who remarked on Canon Rigg's kindnees att all times to the rimgers of the Yorkshire Association.

Canon Rigg, in replying, said low happy he had been to welcome the association to Beverley, and added that he would look brek on his 15 years at Beverley will pleasture. That was his last pablic function before leaving Beverley. He hoped the ringers would give lis successor en good welcome.
Mr. West proposed and Mr. Hull saconded a vote of thanks to the looal conpany, which was responded to by Mr. Middloton.

Further ringing concluded a very rood meeting.

DEATH OF A MILNROW VETERAN.

The death took place on Wednesday, February 19th, of Mr. Joln Fitton, of Milnrow, at the age of 81 years. The late Mr. Fitton had been a ringer at Milnrow for 64 years and was a life meraber of the Lancashire Association. Fe had taken part in 61 peals and was a very keen and devoted ringer, vegularly attending both at Sunday service and practice ringing.
The funcral wook place on Saburday, February 22 nd , in tho Minnow Churehyard in the presence of a large gatinering of ringers and friends. As the cortege arrived nt the church the bells were ringing fullp muffled. Messrs. J. C. Benuett, W. Staff, H. Hamar, S. Parry, A. Buckley and J. H. C. Massey, sis of his brother ringers, acted as henrers, and ringers were pressent from Newhey, Rocldale (Parish Church and St. Alban's), Jasto Orompton, Hanrer, Middleton, Brcup (St. Savinur's), with Messes. DEDICATION OF NEW TREBLES AT RICKMANSWORTH.

A JUBIEEE COMMEMORATION BELL.

The two new trebles, to complote the ring of ten, at St. Mary's Parish Ohurch, Rickmansworth, Herts, were dedicated and rung at a service held on Sunday evening last. Pre-service riaging was performed on the existing eight belle, the actual dedication of the two new bells taking place after the first hymm.

The Ficar (the Rev, Canon W. B. Belcher) preceded the choir to the western porch, where hung exteusion ropes from the uew bells, the whole congregation facing westwards. After short prayers, the Ficar $\begin{aligned} & \text { gwung eacl bell in turn, dedicating the first treble in memory }\end{aligned}$ of Harriet Alice Millett, the mother of one of the local band, and the second in memory of the Jubilee year of our late revered Sovereign King George Y. Following two collects, the new trebles were raised and for the first time the pealing of the ring of ten was heard by the congregation and neighbourhood.

Subsequently, in a simple, stirring sernon bnsea on the scriptural verse, "The sound has gone out to gll lands," the Vicar spoke of the primary purpose of the bells being to summon people to the House of God. The sound of the bells, he said, was a challenge to unbelievers and to those that needed oncouragement in the Chajstian life besides piving a welcome to those who come to worship God. These two bells, he coutinued, stand for all that is noble and fine, the one to a devoted mother, the other to a devoted King, both servants of the same Gud. The Vicar concluded by quoting the inscriptions from the old bells, mentioning that the first historical reference to the oripial bells lung in the steeple was in 1552 .

A company of upwards of 35 ringers from various towers as fan apart as Lincolushire and Sussex gathered in the ringing chamber after the service, and warious touches of Caters and Royal were ondulged in.
Mr. J. P. Fialer, from Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who carried out the work, was present, and received many congratulaEions, not only on the excellent, tone of the new bolls, but also on the amazing improvement of the ring as an whole as a consequevee of the aülitions.
The dedication ringing of the ten was performed by the local band A. E. Millett 1, J. T. Jones 2, W. Crowsley 3, C. Tord 4, J. Foster 5, A. W. Howletf 6, A. Jones 7, T. Long 8, F. W. Elliott 9, E. Hookhani 10.

The Vicar visitpd the ringiug clamber and extended a welcome to all the visiting ringers.
The inscription on the Jubilee bell reads:-
The people of Rickmansworth placed me here,
To ring ont their thanks in Jubilee year."

LEICESTER AND DISTRICTS' ANNUAL DINNER.

THE BLST YET!

In spite of dreadful weather-snow and sleet galore-the Lefester and Districts' annual dinnel this year proved to be the best yet the bells of St. John the Divine (10) and SG. Margaret's (12), 5 to 6 p.w., were made good use of during the afternoon, in various methods [rom Grandsire Triples to Stedman Cingues. At 6.30 a company of Well over 100 assemblerl at the George Hotel, and it is rumoured that if the memberg go on increasing at these annual 'do's, the management contempiate enlarging the dining roons. Those present came from Anstcy, Aylestone, Belgrave, Rillesdon, Burbage, Ratley, Silelyy, Syston, Loughborough and other places, and friends from Kettering, Rugby, Southwell, Oakham and elsewhere.
The social which followed was quite an impromptu affair, there being no 'set ' progranme and no speeches of any kind. It opened with a perfect course of Stedman Caters on handbells by C. Harrison, G. S. Morris, E. Morris, H. I. Poole and J. Morris. Then followed wiolin solos by a gifted member of the Police Farce, and humorous ditties from a like source were very much enjoyed Handbell tunes by C. H. Webb, F. E. Wilson, E. Morris and H. J. Poole were appreciated, Trut the dit-bit was the monologue by 'Dirty Daniel,' whose disconrse an 'peas" brought down the house! Fis identity was discovered, however, when he gave the evergreen "Ilkia' noor bart hat," and wo knew the 'Fider,' who for his efforts was awatded a rubber duck Later, on, 'A flat,' not to be ontdone, contulbuted his famous "Farm yand, and he too received a ducts. To see bliese ducks hobnobbing made one wouder if this is an omen for further 'duck suppere'!
The Sergeant-Major may be Dexter-ous at froth blowing, but at balloon blowing he is nowhere. This competition was won by the twa Harrisons-Colin and Sidney. Anstoy Bell Fund came in for it small donation wher the chairman announced a penay rafle for a prize worth laving-an ornament to avy home," Rathy won this and we trust good use will be made of it!
Miss Haigh sang dainty Scoteh songs, and Mr. Joe Moryis rave his old favourite 'Johnay.' Further ceurses on haudluells of Stedman Ginques and Triples, Rugby Major (?) and Musical Minor all helped to make up an enjoyable evening. The phase 'all that courd be desired ' aptly applies to this social gathering, and any preseat who did not enjoy tremselves would be well adrised to sec a doctor at oncel

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The first peal of Triples on the bells at Narton, Glos-a peal of Stedman on Sacurday, February 15th-was ring on the 16th anniversary of the peal of 13,001 Grandsire Cinques at Painswick. This peal occupied 8 hourg 45 minutes, and three of the band took part in the peal at Norton, Messra, A. G. Hamis, T. Baddwyn and J. F. Ballinger. Mr. M. F. R. Hibbert asles us to slate that the long courso composition of Erin Triples, rung at Denliam, for what was believed to be the first time, had been rung ab Weduesbury on February 3 rd, 1912, conducted by A. G. Wallater.
The peal at stat. David's, Exeter, recorded in this issue, was rung us a jubilee peal for Mr. A. W. Searle, in the belfry where he learned to handle a rope. It was also a diamond jubilee celebration for Mr. E. Shapherd and Mr. W. Richardson. In addition, it was a golden wedding peal for M1: E. Slepherd.
Mr. Harry Mason, of Goodrest, Fagley, chaiman of the Birmingham Gun Barrel Co., Ltid., of Heyseech, Okl Hill, who died December 7 th last, aged 72 yearg, has left estate of the walue of $555,58811 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$. with net persotialty $\$ 15,50915 s$. Nr . Mason was long connected with Midand ringing circles, and a well-known member of the Worcestershire Associatiou, St. Martin's Guild and Dudley and District Guild.
The ring of five beils of Bulwick Chuteh, Northants, is being rehung with new fitlings in zew frame by John Taylor and Co.
Two veteran ringers who attended the Henry Johnson commemoration on Saturday were presenk at the first dinter 48 years ago. They were Mr. F. F. Dawe and Mr. Tom Miller. Inodentally it is interesting to know that the latter rang bis first peal of Stedmau Cinques as lonar ago as 1880!
One of the Birmingham veterams whom ill-health compelked to miss Saturday's dinner was Mr. Tom Russan. He is 81 and has playent an active part in rimging in Binminglam for two generations.

Mr. Hary Withers, who hes just retirex from the service of Messrs, Cadbury, of Bournville, where he was the limm's first carillomenr, still holds the record for the longest unbroken aktendance at the Johmson dimer. He was present on Saturday for the-well, we don't quite know how many times, but it is about 40 in succession.
The Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild has lost another old and esteemed member in the persen of Mr. Gearge Passimgham, of Farelom, who has died at the age of 77 wears. He rang the tenor tha peal of Grandsime Triptes at Tareliam as long ago as 1887. He was buried at Fareham on Monday.
Mr. Joseph J. Parker, of Farman Royal, kriown hest, porlaps, for his fanoous twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples, will celobrato bis BSrd birthday to-monraw, and friends are meeting at his villawe tower that afternoon to celebrate the event. Ringers everywhere will join in congratulations to the weteran.

BELL BROADCASTS  PRAISE FOR CROYDON

To the Editar.

Dear Sir,-Tb was a real plíeasure to listen to iho splendid performance by the Croydon Parish Church baud when they broadcast on Sunday moruing last, and anyone who las ring an these bells in recent years will, I think, arree that the ringers deserve the highest praise for their excellent striking.
The performance was not unduly maned by tho abnouncer, who was mercifully short-an example whicla miglt well be emulated by the Sundey evebing announcers.

Should this happen to be the 'swan song' of these bells 'over: the air' before they are broken un, whose who listened-in will at least lave a memory of a grand peal beatifully rung. F. F. DOVE. Leeds.

HATS OFT TO THE B.B.C.'

Dear Sir, Might I sugrest that all interested zingers who are listeners oll the radio make an opportanity to thank the B.B.C. for all they do for our art. To-day, Smany, Mareh 1st, with your article in the last issue of "The Ranging World' still fresh in mind, it sat down to listen to the broadeast of His Majesty bae Kimg. Five ramutes before this was timed to lyegin all programmes were stopped and millions of people all over the world were prepared for His Majesty's message with four minates of that wonderful recoyding of the bells of Bow. Surely bellringing at its best never receinod sucla publicity. Also I would point ont that the B.B.C. seem to like to put bell music in the programmes. I can recall many times, in plays and local features, when the sourd of bells has heen put in, which indicates, I think, that the B.B.C. like bells to be heard.
To-nichet, I listened in to the broadcest from Derby on Midland Regional, and here egain the B.B.C. are to be congratulated. On this occasion the bells were faded in and allowed almost fonm minutes with out interruption. Then tise bells were faded down behing the announcer's Yoice until bley almost blended with the organ, which was faded in towards the end of his remarles. I should imagime that to $n$ non-ringer this would appear to have a good effect. Miglt I add that the Derby band struch well and gave was gomething worth listening to. So away with grtmbling. I say, 'Hats off to the B.B.G.'

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

Representative Gathering at Birmingham

St. Martin's Guild Prosperity

Thare was once again a larre and representative gathering of dingern at Birminglan, when, on Saturday, the Herry Johnsur ' dimer was bed for the $48 \% \mathrm{l}$ time. I'lis ocension is always one of the most attractive social events of whe year in the Exercise, and visitors were present from many distant planes. In the afternoon there was the opportmity of ringing at whe fanous Church of St. Martin and at Bishop Rveler's, and for the first time for many years Aston Parish Church bells were availabie. Herce there is a fine new ring of twolve, opened Inst year and natarally attracted the attention of all who could get to the tower There is, of course, an incimate associntion between Henry Johnson and Aston, for it was here that ine did much of his ringing and in the churelyard he lies buried

An excellent dimaer was served in the Commanght Room at the Imperial Hotel, to which nearly 140 sat down, Canon T. Guy Rogers (Rector of Birminghame) presided witin his customery geniality, sup ported by the Rev. H. Mrtiowall (Vien of Aston) and Mrs. McGowan, the Rev. F. Spronle (curate) the Rev, Canon Blofeld (Vicat of Fighneston), the Rev. C. H. Williaus (Vicar of Bishop Ryder's), the Rev. A. F. Fraser (Vicar of Solihall) and Mrs, Fraser, Mr, W. W Stovens (churchwarten of St. Martin's), My. W. R. Heaton (Solinil) Mr. E. 1. Dufteld (Master of the Ancient Society of College Fontlis), Mr. A. A. Hughes (Inomen), Mr. T. H. Reeves (hon. secretary of St Martin's Guild and Mrs. Reeves, Mr. F. E. Haynes (Ringing Master), Messis. A. Padden Smith, J. H. Shepherd, J. George (the oldest ringer present) and A. Walker (Fice-plesidents), Mrs. A. Walker, Mr Rupert Richarlson (Master, Lincoln Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Richardson. Ringers were present from manty of the towers in the diocese and there were risitors from Iontor, York, Sheffield, Bristol, Gloncester, Derby, Liverpool, Bath, Oxford, Coventry, Wolverharmpton, Walsall, Loughliorough, Croydon, Appleton, Rotherhaw, Davenham, etc.

THE MASTTFRS GREETINGS.

The Hoh. Secretary said letters of apology for absence irad been ceceived from, amoner otlaers, the Tord Mayor of Birminghan, the Lord Bishop of Sirmingliam, Mrs. Guy Rogers, Mr. C. F. Jolnston (Crowion), etc. Alderman J. S. Pritehelt, Master of the Gaild, wrote Hhanting the racmbers for re-electing hin and expressing regret that lie would be unable to be present at the dinner. "As the nerabers of the Guild insist mpon re-electing une Yaster, notwithstanding ny age (81) and infirmitics,' he wrote. "I cannot refuse an honour that is so kindly meant, am if my tinging friends ace content, with n Master Fho can onl r he sa in name, there is nothing more to be said. I need hardly sar,' he conlinued, 'that $I$ deeply regret my enforced I need hatdy sar, he contimued, that deeply regret my enforced thinking of pon all the time and wishing if contd be there to propose 'Prosperity to St. Martin's Guilk," hint there comes an end to all Uhings, and I an hapuy to think $I$ huve been spared to be wibh yout fnt so many years. Please give my kindest regards to all my old friends. Every good wish for the welfare of the Guild and each and every one of its members."
After the toast of the King hace been enthusiastically honoured, Mr. Framl Smallwond proposed 'Church and the State.' He said they, ins ringerg wonld yield to none in their loyalty to the Church. They were good churchmen: they luew what the Church stood for and they tried to live up to it (applause). They watehed with pride the efforts which the Rectry of Birmingham was making towards that most desired end. Clumelh unity, and they armired the way he took his stand in the Dissenters' pulpits (applanse). Fifty years ago that would have been such a shock to the parishioners of St. Martin's that they womlit have felt themselves justified in predicting the end of the world (langhter). Proceeding, Mr. Suallwood deprecated treating the tonast ais so unuch for the Chinch and so much for the State. They shonla bs taken torether and indivisible. They did not want to see the State contralled by the Chureh, nor ilne Clinell coutrolled by the Statr. They han followed with interest and sympathy, ite said, the recent deliberations of the Chnrch Assembly and whatever was the ontrame, as ringers they wanld be prepared to abide wy it. They liad recentiy got a new head of the State, and ringers wonld concede to him fall loyalty and support. Ther hud alreaty shown tleir loyally in muny ways, by ringing peals for his accession, and they had shown Their loyalty also by the mufflex ringing whick taok place on the onchsion of the lamented death of King George. Heconpling with the tonst the mames of the chairman and the Rev. H. MeGowan, Mr. Smaliwnod roferred to the work which the latter had done in seming the recas ing, anmmentation and reluanging of Aston bells, and said SI. Martin's Guitd was glad ta be able to refurn to its other headquariters and to know that at Aston ringing was going great gims arsin

SERFICES RFNDERED BY RTNGERS.

The Chairman first resporded, and remarked upon the present happy marlnership which cxisted between Church and State, compared wilh thr: condition of things in some other countries. He hoped the outstanding tithe problem was going at last to be settled in that spirit so clanracteristic of this country, whinh some called the spinit of compromise, but which he woutd rather call the spirit of mutual consideration. Camon Rogers expressed juride in the aervices rendermay ringers, ank said he was excedingly moud of the ringers of St Martin's and the lappy relationshia wheln existed between him and them (applanse). It hat bern ar reat happiness to him thet evening to meet; and shake hands wilh ringers from all parts of Ehginnd and to know that they appreciated that gathering and the losspitality nnd kindoess, which led to a mutual increase of friendslip. (applanee).
The Rev. H. McGowna atso replied in a humorous speech. He said one of the most encouraging things abont the renstatenent of Aston hells had been the marvellous spivit in which the old riugers luad rallied romd and the help they had received from St. Martin's in getiong the twelve bells rung. Taylors had distinguished themaelpes by the bells they had provided, and he fele that all who sisited the tawer would feel the same about then. The speaker reminded the company that Feny Jolnson was buried at Aslon and that over lise grave was a rery distinguished montment provided by the ringens of England. Ringers descrued well of the Chinch, and in bis exproience ho had fond that they wero often a groat help in many ways hesides in the belfy (applanse)

A PLOTURE OF TOHNSON

H.F. F. E. Dawe, in proposing the toast in The Menory of the fate Femry Johnson,' sain Johnson was born at Lichfield 127 years ayo and very soon came to Bimmintham. He was, as they all knew, a strikimg exanple of what a wan should be. Fe (the speaker) made Hemry Jolmson's acqumintance immediately after his $72 n d$ biethday, when he rang in the then longest pert of 9,328 Stedman Cinques ut Sit. #artin's. He rang one peal with Jolmson, one of the finest five thousands of Stedman Cinques that could ever be rang, and when Hallsworth, the conduetor, who had the decpest vaice he han ever heared in a belfry growled "This is all," Henry Jolmson, jum., who was also in the peal Eurned yound and sain, 'Beat that in Laondon if you can.' He (Mr Dawe) rane with Johnson on many ocensions, and they wore the conld pictare him in a slate-roloured suit of clobhes, a hard frif hath lat, wilh his silwery hair, a forsh complexion with ilie haom of healh, and a clear grey eyo even at his great uge. To Fenry Johmson awl the late John Cax. of the Roynl Cumherland Societs, lie ownt a debt of grabibude for all he ever knew of composition. Fie has still got the proof scales which Johnson grve him, nnd now he liad a litle more proof scales which Johnson grve him, and now he liad a lithe more the lad from Johmsna and fake ant eatly opmortmitu of hauding them to the fuild. They wonld he worth having (npplause). Mr. Dawe cantinued that he rememhered going to the frrst Jolinson dinner or the day that Jelinson was 80 years alk. Oh that necasion the nild man was at his best. It was marrellous for man oly man of 80 to wet up and talls to them as he did. On that oceasion he represented the Ancient Society of College Youths, of which he was then thr Mrster It. was a national gatherins, nud hn wondered if theac was anyone else present that evening whe atitended that first anthering. Te had been prosent at maty similat gatherings since and lad alwave been received with the utmost hindress and courtesv nud had enjored the ringing ha lind had in Bianinghan, where the Sundav ringing was as good as could he heard amywhere in ihe countrs. The spipid whiel obtained in Johnson's day ohtanerl now, and whald. lae folt sure continue

JTGHT WEO RUNG WITH JOHNSON

Mr. Dawe asked these present. who ralag with Heary Johrson to stand. and this revealed that there were eight presemt. Mr. Duwc added that he hoped they wonld long he spared to meel ngain and enjoy ono anothor's eompiny as mueh as they were doing that evening.
The tonst was drunk in silence.
Mr. A. Paddon Suilh. who. in the atosence of the Master, proponed tho toast of 'Continned Prosperily ta St. Martin's Guikl:' snirl the would all be sorry at the shsences of Atitman Priteheti. Of contres. Mo was in his 82nd pear anti had lately been suffering from a had elitl, and thev conld well undersiand why he was not with thent that ever ing. Mr. Recves wonld convey to thn Alderman the kindest frgarth and best wishes from all in that room (applanse). It was dificmll contiuned Mr. Smith, to lo called upon to follow a trant, a silver tongued ovator, such as Aldmanm Triteliett was. for it, was diffenit to magine a more nlrasant speaken, patticularly when gin was proposing that, toast, as he had ane year atrev, ye he cond no attempt to copy his mpthods. order of his speech. Fe ased to lead of hy mentioning those memhme whom they lost during the twe ve mombes by denth, atd it was his (the speaker's) sad duty to mention the names of four wha hat passed awaw since the last. Tolnson dinner wha held. Their sld friend Farry
Mason was a remalar attendant at those gatherings. Ho was 72 years of a,ge, and atthough he zas mever a twelve-laell rimger, he was a most excellent mal and a loyal dhurchman, and 8 regular ringer on eight hells. On ten lie was not sit happe and on twolve he practically con fessed he was positively miserable (laviter). The Rev. O. A. Clements was a Cambridae man and at one time curate at oldswinford. In fillose days he always mostnoned evorything that might turn up on Ghose days he alnued

GUILD'S EXCELLENT OFFICERS.

Tuesiuy evening to come in to the practice in the Bull Riag, and he always caught a very late train hame. Those were in the pre-war days (langliter). Therc were many athers in that gathering who had enfoyed the lours in his company after the practices at St. Martin's. He was lator preferred ta Grappenhall. They very mueh regretted to know he had passed on, Another who had gone from them was Mr. Qoorge Pigott, of Smethwick, who died just Ewelve months ago. It was nice tra know they still had with them nad in that room that night one of his brathers. The last he had to mention was Mr. Charles Eook, of Perry Barr, not knowu, prerhaps, to many of those present, but one who was just a regular linger at his awn clurch. He never travelled very much, bat had been a member of the Guild for many Fears. In a sense, said Mr. Swith, be thought they were fortuaate, they had anly lost four members in the last twelve montlis, and they mast the thankful that death had dealt lighty with them.

A PROSPRROUS GUKLD.
With regard to tho prosperity of the Guild, he thougit he could aay they were prosperous. Their bank balance grow from year to year. One of these days, perlaps, the members would get a dividend or a honus distribution on their shares (laughter). Considering their nelivifies, it was good to know that they were on the right side as far as anone; was concerned. The chief event within the last twelve monibs wass, of course, the opening of that magnificent ring of twelve bells at Aston. They wore ull very delighted to have with them that night the Vicar of that famous old clurch. It had already been referred to as their soher headquarters.' The Guild comprised the ancient St. Martin's Yonlis, whioh was later the St. Martin's Society, and the Holt Society of Aston. They were amalgamated and the two churches were always regarded as headguarters. Unfortmately for the Guild, Aston bolls got out of order and became impossible to ring. Now, unler the Rev. H. McGowon, they had not only been restored, but thoy were fortunato in having a new peal of twelve. They could once more riaim to be doublcheaded, and in that way, perhaps, they were a libto remurkable.

Procooding, Mr. Paddon Smaith weferred to the reoent expression of national monining in the ringing of the bells of this country. It was, he suid, time that ringers gave mp the wode of desoribing muffled timging as "mulfied clappers.' The clappere were only part of the machine used to ring the bell, like tho wheel, the stock aud the slider. It hod nothing to do with whe toue, and yet they read of bells being rung with linff-mafiled clappers. Inaginc, ho said, a wifter on the day of tha Kinm"s funeral, standing in the country describing the effect as ho stood on the top of a hill overlooking an valley on a typical winder afleluoan and saying from the trey tower below came the mournful sound of the mufled clappers. Fell, I ask you? said Mr. Smilh. 'Tt seems to me perfectly stupid.'
It would be inpossible, continued Mr. Smith, to have prosperity in their Guild unless they had really good officers, and they were very fortunate ju this yespect in Firmigham. They had a good Ringing Master in Frank Hapueg, f. 'youngster' who was bringing new ideas to tho jol. Everyone was peri'ecty loyal to him, with the result that rimung at St. Mithin's nut in other helfries was successfully carried out, hat somelimes the practices were rather thinly attended. He wrild ask these members who could possibly manage it to be a little move resculni in attendance on Tuesdays at St. Martin's. Some of them could not. met there, hut there were plenty who could. Mr. Reaves was tho best secretary the fuild ever luad, but he had a long way to go before he had fitislued his sentence (langliter). His three immerialo pretecessors cachs decupied the offiec for 20 years. Mr. Reeves harl ouly done seven yenrs yet, and they would not remit any of the raminder (laughter nnd hear, hear), Mr. Reeves was an excellent speretary, ancl it was nice lo know they conld almost see in him his 「ather, Mr. Sam Recves, who, in his day, was Master of St. Martin's Guild. If he were alive today le would be very proud of Mr. "thomins Ropyes, as they all were. Long night lie remain in oflice (applnuse),

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.  riddles of the proposed new rules.  To the Editor.

Dear whr, Will you kindy allow me to endorne the reasoued statement by Mr. E. Barnelt, which appeared in your last issue, nad commend to other menbers, that Rule 8 must termimate at "keld ' and Rule 4(a) at 'ringers' fund,' as obviously rules(?) such as those proposed by our esteomed fuiend Mr. W. J. Jeffies are utter nonsense. Will Mr. Jeffries answer the following:-
Rule (riddle) 8: When is the Ringing Mastew not the Ringing Master?

Rule (riddle) $4(a)$ : If one of his service aingers left and failed to join another band, would he remain a member of the K.O.A.?
Rule 8 : If his object is a tilt at the present R.M. suvely the proper course is to nominate another at the next annunl district meeting.

PROPOSED REVESION OF RULTS.

Dear Sir, -It is regrettable that the personal differences of opinions between responsible offeers of the association should ho allowed to be placed beforc your readers. In regard to Mr. E. Damett's letter to you, published in last week's issue, it is purely a case of six of one to half a dozen of the other. Mr. Barmett accuses Mr. Jeffries of obstinacy, but he was just as obstiutce over Rule 4 (a) cuding at funds (see last week's issue) as Mr. Jefrics was over Ialle 8.

I am as deeply interested in this proposed revision as either of these two mea, but I shall express my wiows in the right place, and, I hope, the right manncr. If my propositions are not acceptable to the majority, then majority rule wins, and I stand by it. This is part of the constitution of any assaciation, and must be adhered to. I frust we shall read no more about this matter, at least until after the annual meeting of the association, when all the riembers will have a chence to pass opinion.

MR. HERBERT KNIGHT'S 38th ELECTION.  WOLVEHEAMPTON LEADER'S LONG SERVICE.

For the 38th time Mr. Herbert Kaight las been elected captain of St. Peter's Society, Wolwerlampton. Other officers re-electcd were Messrs, G. A. Baker (semetary nad treasurer), Mr. F. Brotherlon (ibrarina) aud Mr. T. Smith (representative to the Society far the Archdeaconry of Stafford),
The elections took place at the ammal meeting which followed the annual supper of the society, aver which the Rector (the Rev. Canon J. Brierley) presided. He expressed thanks to the ringers fov their services, and described their netivities as a valuable piece of work done in the best spirit of the church.
The secretary, in his report, referreat to the peat of Stedman Cincues rung at St. Peter's on August 24th last year, in which Mrs. R. Ricliardson took prot. It is helieved to be the only peal in St. Peter's in whicis a lady has rung. Appreciation was expressed at the eftorts of the former Rector (Archdencon Hodson), the wardens and the Church Council in having had the bells overhanled at a cost of $£ 122$, towards which the ringers lad made a domation of fs. Mentions was made of touches of Stedman Triples nud Grandsire Caters at 6 a.m. last Easter Day-a recond for so early in the morning-and the receipt of a Christmas greeting from the ringers at Zoly Trinity Church, Fobart, Tasmania.
Thanks were accorded the wardens-Messirs. S. H. Tonks and W. M. Pinsan-and Mr. C. H. Clapham Fol continued interest in the saciety and its annual gathering.
A musical progratume, including selections an handiclls, followed.

WELL-KNOWN HAMPSHIRE RINGER DEAD

We regret to record the death of Mr. Arthur E. Smith, which took place suddenly at King's Somborne, on February 17tin. The funeral took placs on Feburuary 2lst, and the Winchester and Portsmouth Diacesan Guild were represented by the Master, Mr. G. Willianas (North Stoneham), Mr. W. Andrews (Winchester'), Mr. E. J. Harding (Portsmauth), Mr. W. Linter (Farelam), Mr. J. Smith (Wicliham) and Mr. G. Pullingev (Bishopstoke).
Following the loweritg of the coffin, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung ou the handbells over the grave by E. J. Harding 1-2, W. Audrews 3-4, G. Willinms 5-6, W. Linter 7-8.

Mr. Smith was of a very jolly nature, and well Innown to Fampshire ringers. His car wes of in at the disposal of members for retting to out-of-heway towers. Fie had taken part in wree peals for the Winchester and Eortsmouth Guild, and was very interested in all matters connected wibl ringing. He was largely instrumental in gettiner the old five bells at Kins's Somborne rehnug and increased to six a few years dgo
As senior member of a firn of agricultural ongiucers, he was well dinown tu farmers in the comilies of Fanmshire, Wiltshire and Dorset.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A CONTRMST WITH 50 YEARS AGO IN READING BRANCH. Canon (G. F. Coleridge, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, speaking at the amual meeting of the Reading Branch, at Reading on Feh. 22nd, conirasted the position of the branch to day with what it was 50 ycurs aro, when he was hon. secretary. In those now rather distant days the district consisted of only the three Reading towers, Cavershati and Tilehurst, and they used to hold committee meetings seated on barrels in a room in Mr. William Newel's brewhouse. They trensacted their business all right, but, said the Canon, amid langhter, the smell of the mald and hops and other things in the brewery drove out any desire to drink the finished product. He could not call to mind a single instance when any member of the committee ever had anything to drink after the meeting. In those daye the branch had only about a third of jts present memberalip, but they were a vely happy party. It was about 52 years since he took over the secretaryslip, which he had to relinquish on going to Crowthorne ten years later, but his interest in the branch would remain as long as he had lueath in his body. He hoped it would continue to flourish and increasc. Commenting on the presence of a number of youtliful ringers from Checkenden, Canon Coleringe said this was is happy ansury for the future He wrged these youths to continue their intercst in this branch of chuch work, and in tineir pursuit of knowledge of the art, he tok them they would find great help from the articles for beginners appearing in "The Ringing World.

The neeting was held in St. Mary's Church Howse, under the chairmanehip of Dr. J. I. Joyse (chairman of the branch), who was supported by blie branch hou. secretary (M1. E. G. Foster), and, in addlition to Canon Coleridge. the Rev. C. E. Wigg (Deputy Master of the Grild). Mr. A. H. Writht (Guild treasurer) and Mr. R. T. Hibleert (Gnild secretary).

The balanoce sheet, which was adopted, slowed that the balanee in hand had heen raised from ex 16s. 101 d . to 299 s . $4 \frac{1}{2} d$, largely owing to the fact, that last yem the branch did not pay for teas at the ammal meeting. fs load been remitted to general treasurer.
In his reporiz, the hou. secretary stated that there were 21 homorary menvers and 151 ringing members, & reduction of eight in the latter. rinee satisfactory quarterly meetings were held, and it hat been decided by the committee to estrblish a bell vestorntion fund in the branch.
All the oflicers were re-clected, and Mortimer (in the spring), Neitlebed (in the summer) and Henley (in the autuma) wero selected for the quarterly meetings.

TILEFURST BELLS NEED REHANGING.
Representatives of towers gave their reports on their respective belfries. the Chairman commenting that, on the whole, they semed satisfactory.
Annong the "eports was one in respect of Tilehurst, where the bells ludly nexd relanging. In this comection Mr. Hibbert, who had made an inspection, said the fact that six of the bells swung the weakest, way of the tower had a great deal to do with the tronble.

The Vicar of Tilehurst said a sum of $£ 260$ was needed to carry out the necessary work, and he was prepared to put the matter before his Chureh Councit. It wotld be a lhousand pities to allow the bells to tha all to pieces, and, while they were at present, athle to do a litile ringing, there was no reason why they should not do more ringins if the bells were in a bettor state. The parish was already commitfod to repaying $£ 600$ for a new hall, and, in addition to what they at present received, they frad to raise $£ 330$ a year for the church to pay thoir way. If they undertook tho hell restoration scheme and raised a fund by a specisi effort, lie loped the ringers of the district would rally to their support.
Mr. Fibbert said now was the time for the Vicar to make an application to the Guild for help. He hoped he (Mr. Hibbert) would live to see the bells at Tilehurst, shleufich and Swallowfild all made to " घo."
At the outsot of the meeting the Chaiman had welcomed visitors from nther branches of the Oxford Guikd and from the Herts Association, Guildford Dincesan Guild ank Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Associa-tion.-Mr. J. S. Goldsmith acknowledged the weleome given and congratalaied the branch upon the able officers it had at the head of its affairs.
The uneting concluded with the nsual wotes of thanks.
In the afternoon there had been ringing on the twelve bells at st . Lanrence's Church, and the rings of eiglit at, St. Mary's and St. Giles'. Service was held in St. Mary's Chureh, conducted ly Canon Parham, who. in an interesting address, said the crafto of the ringers was exereised primarily for the glory of God, and it, was this which gave dignity and importance to the affice of church hellringer. Ringers were ragarded, for the mast part, as important workers in the parish in which they served, and for that reason he always liked, when speaking to a cormany of ringers, to express on behalf of the elergy and congregation their thanks and grationde to the ringers. In the exemise of tho eraft in which they found so moch pleasure and interest the ringers themselves shonld recognise they had a vocation which was an act, of service to God, and that in it "lley shontrl give of their best. Their service shoula not hergin nud end in the belfry: it should be a prelnde to the offering of worship in the fellowship of the Chnch and of the life of service rendered in the performance of the duties of every das. Servies rendered in that way, in praise and adoration, and with humble love ancl gratitude in their hearts, would not fail to meet with love's reward
A collection, amounting to 21 s . 6 d. , was made for the purpose of establighing a beli restovation fund in the braneh.

NEWBURY BRANOH AT SHAT

A meetine of the Newbury Branch was held at Slian on Saturday, February 15 th, when upwardis of 30 ringers attended during the after' noon and evening. The follawing towers were represented: Beedon, Buightwalton, East Ilsley, Newhury, Peasemore, Shaw and Thatehan. Visitors attonded from Abingdon, Beenham, Burghclere, Highclere and Nords Staneham. The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. Kingsley Keford), who gave a wery inspiring address. Mr. W. A. D. Morris was at the organ. Tea, to which 27 sat down, was served in the Parish Hall.
The Rev. W. Kingsley Kefford (chairman of the brancla) presided over the business meeting, supporten by the Rev. R. Howes (Vicar of Beerhaw)

The next meeting was fixed for Peasemore on April 25th.
The Rev. IR. Howes thanked the Rector of Shaw for his address and welcome.
Fotes of thanks were also accorded to Mr. Morris for playing the orasan, and to Mrs. Owen and otleer ringers' wives who helped in providing the tea.
The tower was again visided, and Graudsire and Stedman Donbles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob anti Gambridge Minor rung.

V.W.H. BRANCH MTETTNG.

The spring meeting of the Vale of White Horte Branch of tha Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Trongcot.

Touches of various methods were rung during the aftermoon, and service was couducted by the Rev. B. M. Hawes (Vical of Longcot), who also gave an interesting acdress. Wr. J. Edwards was at the organ.
Tea was served to 26 ringers and wisilors in the Schoolvom, and was followed by a short business meetine, at which the Treo. A. J. de D. Dente (chairman of the bratheh) presided, supported by the Rev. B. M. Hawes, the Rev. C. G. Seymour Metford (Vicer of Shriveniam), the Rev. C. E. Wigg (Deputy Master of the Guild), Mr. R. Gilling (brench secretary), and members from Longcat, Farington, Bucklaud, Shellingiond and Shivenham, with visitors from High Wycombe, Abingdon, Bicester and Swindon.
It was proposed to hold the anumal meeting at Faringdon and the next ly-meeting at Shrivenham.
vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Longeot for allowing the meeting to the leld there fund for his impressive adidress, to the organist for giving his servies and to the ladies who did the eatering
The Chaiman snid he was very plenced to sce such a good attendance and thnuker the visitors for coming.
The Rev. C. E. Wigg replied and gave a few wotcls of encouragement to the members of the branch.

The ringers then returned to the tower and ringing continued during the evening.
The Deputy Master and a few atherg paid an visit to the ITffoghon and Grent Coxwell towere.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

NORTHERN DIVISION AT COGGESHALL

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Corrgeshall, aud, despite adverse weathet conditians, 40 ringers were oresent from Chelmsford, Earls Colne, Springlield, Buantree, Kelvedon, Withan, Great Tey, Feering, Dummow, Falstond, Pebmarsh, Great Bardfeld, Sudbury, Gr'eenstead Green, Caggesball, Bocking and Colchester.

Service was couduhted by the Rev. A. Gordon Wright (Yicat of Pattiswick), The Rev. F. Fickford and Mrs. Pickford (of Corgeschall) were also present. The Fibar, it his address, said if the bells remained silent in this country, it would be a tragedy. The service was ehoral, Mr. G. T. Heam being at the organ.
The compary was aflervards kindly entertained to tea at the Woolpack Hotel by the Rev. athd Mrs. Pickford, after which the Dislriet Mastur (Mr, A. A. Sannders) presided at the wheness meetiogThe next place of weeting was fixed for Felsted on April z 2 sti .
Mr. W. W. Wiflen proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Piekford for the ase of the bells, also to him and Mis. Pickfard for kindly entertaining theas to ten.
The Ficar said lue very much appreciated their thanks. He thanked Mr. Beckwith and the district secretary (Mr. T. Ridramell); also the ringers from other towers who had done so much to help the local ringers. He urged them to stick to it after so much had been done for the bells by the late Miss Gardncr. The effect of the bells, he said. wha jncalculable.
Mrs. Piekford also returned thanks.
Mr. F. Claydon proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Gardor Wrimlit, who suitably replied.

The mecting closed with the singing of the National Anthem
Touches in wrions methods Irom Rob Minor to Somdon Surprise Major were rung during the afteatmon ant evening.

MUFFLED BELES

ONE WAY AS CORRliGT AS ANOTHER.

To the Editor.

Dent Bir, Some of your correspundents are nsking which is tho carred way to ring muflod for royalty. The alswer is that no way is morn eorrect than another; the only guestion is wheh somuds the bost. Prabsbly the most, effective is ta ring the whole pinl and buatm, Ialf-mumfed vory slowly, with a whole pull on the tenor alone between each elange and varying the orver in which the bells are turs. To do this properly you, would want a good band. Seventy Jonnds 'whole pull and stand' is monotonous. When changes are rumg, either in touches or pala, half-muffled is inflitity superior to fully muffled, but quek ringing mins tho effect, and Major is preferable ta 'luples

We toole three hours and thres quarters to ring a peal of Buh Majur at, st. Mary's, Faling, witis a tenor of $19 \mathrm{cw}_{\mathrm{L}}$, and the ringing wht by no merans too slow: With shonfo tomelnes even slawer ringing sombes luoter.
A very interesting article can lie wrillen on the use of belle at funcrals, and perhaps one day you may like fo publish it. Moanwhile I. may point out that maffeal ringing was intronluod by ringers to enmmentrate ringers. The tolled belt is the only official way of commemoraling rayalty. Pully mumled risting is not mach more than 200 years old and half-mufted considcrably less.
J. ARMYGER TROLLOPE.

CENTRAE COUNCTL GUTDANCE WANTYD

Ta the Editor.

Danr Sir-Wilh reference to the leters whith appeared in "The Kinging World, conecrning low bells should be muffled, I take it thale uniformity is aimed at. 1 feel sure that as puactically all associations amel gutils are affiliterd to the Centra] Compil, and hato agreed to athide by the Conncil's decisions, the onus for a suling an the matter falls on the Council.
However, ith order to ivaid mmecessny $y$ delay. I would satgest to those members of the Council, wha will met at Whitsun, to give some thoutht to this matter before the Conmil meeting and snbmit suggestions of opinions in writimg to the sectecary, who could tabulate the same in readiness for the Whitstan meeting.
Th whend not then take long far the Conncil to come to some defmite inminmetion on the matiter, and $T$ feel surn that this could be included in the Rules and Decisions of the Council for tho puidance of evervone. Liverpool.

CLAUDE I. DAVIES.

IMPRESSIVE: YRACTCEE AT SEDBERGH

Denv" Sir-Our austom lrore, at Sedijergh, is to Jing a tonew, abont 600. with the bells muffled. Hon slow up. Atter a few ronads the tirelile sets. rfter a few more the 2nd gets aud so an, incroasing the interval as each hell sets, tintil the tenor yemains by itself, It then rings the rge of the decoased. I do not know where the custom romes from, Cambridge passibly, hint we have always done it, and it is most impressive.

DIFPBEENT FTEWS OF CLERGY

Sis'- Dlae hells at \&t. Mary's, Dover, were fully tnuffled with the exception of tenery at backstroke on Jntrinay 21st. "Flie Vicav chimed the lenur at milday 70 strokes to don'respond with the years of the King's arge. In the evening the bolls wore ruag, also on the following Shmary. On the Sumday erening the Yicar asked if the bells could the haif-nuffled, but. I fold bim that I contdn't do that, as it was the general practice all Lhifogh the conatry for the bells to be fully mulfled for the passing of the reigning King. This, $\mathbf{I}$ helieve, was the opinion of most ringers, but now times love altered and we have Ls acfuaint ourselves with nodern opinion. The leading town, Westmingter Ahber, has settied this, as they rang bipe bells lialf-muffled at: the commencement of the last jommey of the body. Prolsably the wituless has cansed bilis change, for on this oceasion the half-minfled ringing was very impressive
Thero ate many diferent ophinons. Some think that all should be treated alike at dealit. The Rector of St. James', Dover, wok a difiorent view, and saivi no liells were to be rung from the time of the doath to the day of the funcral, so that the bells were rot rung for cither services an the Sunday:
II appeats, therefore, Lint if the Central Coumcil discuss the suhjeet and decido on any sel, Tutus abous it, the clergy, who are in charge eft the hells of a chureh, huy stitl hold different ideas alsout muffing the bells. What the ringers liare done an this occasion they have dome with a real good spinit to flo the best they could.

TURNER, Captan, St. Mary's, Dover.

EX-CHOIRBOYS CELEBRATE CHOIRMASTER'S JUBILEE

Mr. C'ourlenny woods has just completed 50 years' service as organist and choirmastor at Solihull Olnureh. Ta celebrate this, on Pelisuary 22nd, the band rang a fuarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes) : W, Lceson 1, Ei. Brage 2, J. N. Jukes 3, T. Wamer 4, J. Shepherv 5, E. C. Shopherd (composer and conductar) 6 , J. Brupg 7, S. Bragg 8, R. Bragy 9, V. W. Rige 10. Eacle member of at Solilutl wonder if this is unidue.

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING PEALS OF BOB MINOR.

In the old days of Minor peal ringing it was held What a 5,040 should he made ut of at least seven different methodm, and when a peal was rung in less methods it was hardly thought "proper " by many ringens. Ideas have kleveloped since those days, and just as, in one rivection, ranging has extended to the introdnction of many metliods in one $720-\mathrm{m}$ thing which our forefnthers would probably have denounced if they had thought it possible-so in the other direction we hare come to admit that a peal has equal chan to recognition the seven 720 's are made up of ane and the same method.
Thers are oftels reasons why, if a perl is to be rung, it must be limited to one method, but where this is necessary the conductor can, and should, if possible, ring seven different 720 's. Here, however, he sometimes comes up against a 'surs,' for he may find it diffealt, to learm, espeaially if time is limiter, seven totally different callings.
Id is, however, passilile to get seven different 720's without having to memorise seven different oallings. (Parenthetically we shall not be surpised if we do not hear somethine abont this from someonebut nover mind, we will deal with lim when the brick sonast through the oflice wiudow.)
Conductors, we take it for granted, linow all alhout the two add 720 's, in cue of whith tbe tenor is called Wrong, Rifht and Wrong and the other in which the 56 is called Right, Wrong and Right,

Unless you care to do so, you need not memopise the calling of five other 720's to complete the peal. T'alte, for exauple, a two-part 730, obtained with bobs and the use of two singles only. The bols produce a true 360 . In that 360 there is imeluded not ouly the 23456 at the start. but also the lead heads 34256 and 42356 , which really divide the 360 into three parts, alkhough they are not called alike, nor are they vecussarily of the same lengtls.

You learn the calling from 23456 , and also where the 34856 and the 42356 oveur. To get three differeat 720's 'within the meaning of the Act," all yous have to do is to use the same calling, heginning it in the threa different places-much in the same waty as you ring the same mellod, although you start jn a different place when you ring a different bell.
Let us illushate what we mean:-

| A. | B. | 0. |
| :---: | ---: | ---: |
| 23456 | 45362 | 25463 |
| -23564 | 56223 | 56234 |
| -23645 | -6234 | 63542 |
| 34256 | -63425 |  |
|  | -62453 | -63254 |
|  | -25344 | 35642 |
|  | 54263 | 54326 |
|  | 46563 | -42635 |
|  | -46325 | 23456 |
|  | -46253 |  |
|  | 65432 |  |
|  | -5324 |  |
|  | 34462 |  |
|  | 42356 |  |

The fignres are $\pi 360$ divided into the theree paris, with pait enals when 56 are at home. It is equally true whather you begin with the calling of $A, l 3$ or $Q_{\text {, }}$ and your singles to complete the 720 arc inserted 360 changes apart. Whichever section you begin with will province the 'part ends' in the same order becanse, for example, 42356 from 3425 is the same transposition as 34256 from 23456 .
In the Central Conncil's Collection of Minor Methods you will find a. number of composilions triven whin ean be treated in this way, and while if Tout use this methad of calling your peal you cimmot, porhaps, bo silid to have used seven difforent composilions, yoth have certainly mug seven different 720 's, because the leads do not come up in the same order.

OUR THANKS.

This number celebrates the silver jubilee of 'The Ringing World, and it is an occasion when we may be forgiven if we say a personal word to our readers. Twenty-five years is quite a long time for one man to remain in control of a weekly journal, however humble the publication may be, and our first thought is to express our thanks to all those ringers who have given their support to "The Ringing World ' week by week, and especially to those stalwarts who have been loyal to us from the very first number. The passing of the years makes them a diminishing band, and we appreciate, more than we can find words to express, their constant and unfagging assistance. It is a combination of factors which makes the publication of a journal possible, and first and supreme is the confidence of its readers. No one realises our shortcomings more than we do ourselves, but we are happy in the ralisation that in our efforts to raise the standard of ringing and the status of ringers we have held the confidence of the vast majority of our readers. If we may paraphrase the words of a great American, 'You may please all your readers some of the time, you may please some of your readers all the tinue, but you cannot please all your readers all the time.' And, realising that from the first, we have never tried to please everybody all the time, but have done the best according to our lights to promote the interests of ringing and ringers as a whole. Our readers must be left to judge how far we have been successful.

The task of running ' The Ringing World' has never been an easy one. The reasons are known to many, but up to the present the paper has never failed the Exercise. Let it not be forgotten, however, that the sands are running out. The hand that at the moment guides the plough and has endeavoured to direct it all through these twenty-five years cannot go on indefinitely. When it fails, we sometimes wonder who will be prepared to undertake not only the work but the financial responsibility. If the future is to be made secure, ringers must do their share to make it so. At present the Exercise as a whole cannot be said to play the part it ought in maintaining a weekly journal. We ask ringers, therefore, for a more general support, not for our personal ends, but to secure to the Exercise a journal of its own which will contnue to serve it when its present Editor is no longer able to fulfil the task.

To those who have given and to those who still give us their loyal support we return a heartelt 'Thank you.' To those who from time to time have contributed to our columns articles of interest and instruction we also express our sincere acknowledgments. One whose pen lightened our very first issue and many succeeding numbers, and has since returned again and again in trenchant attack upon those things from which he has strongly dissented, as well as penning his more sombre thoughts, both in prose and poetry-Mr. William Willson-writes specially for this number, and so, too, does Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, whose instructional and historical articles have, almost from the first, brought knowledge and interest to readers of this journal. Indeed, Mr. Trollope has had an even more intimate association than that with 'The Ringing World,' for he shared in its production during those many weeks of 1934 when the Editor was privileged to join the Australian tour. This issue also contains an article which, in the midst of his busy life, the president of the Central Council has kindly consented to write. To these three gentlemen especially we extend our thanks. And one other sincere acknowledgment we must give on this accasion. It is to the printers and publishers of this paper-The Woodbridge Press, Ltd., and the Rolls House Publishing Co., Ltd.-whose never-failing co-operation in the production and distribution of the paper has made its prompt and unfailing appearance possible every week for twenty-five years.

FOR BEGINNERS.

SOME ELTMENTARY TRANSPOSITION,

In the article last week we illustrated how three different 720's of Bab Minor can be got by using the same calling, but by begmoing at a diferent place. This principle is not himited to Bob Minori it lias a much wider scope. Actually it applies to all compositions which make up what is termed a 'round block.'
A "round block, for the bonefit of those who do not know, is uny block of changes in which all the bells come back together to the point from which they started. Usually it is from rounds to rounds; it can be from and back to any other row. There are many obvions reasons for starting and fingling with rounds; but the theoretical truth of a touch or peal would not be affected if you started and finished with any of the rows in between the rounds-it would still be a round block.'
But here is a further interesting thing about a 'round block.' If you start with rounds it does not matter at what point you begin calling your cenposition, as long as you return to the starting point; that is to say if you begin in the middle, and call the first halif aiter you have called the secoud half, you will produce the final rounds just as surely as if you began at the beginning.
You will not get jonur changes in the same order; you may not (and probably will not) get the same parb-ends, if it is a composition which is divided into parts, but the whole will be complete just as ons compasition of Rob Minor was complede in the illustration last week.
That composition would have prowneed the 360 changes whether We beran at the 2nd, the 151 bb , the 23 rd or any other lead, but we slowed the suitable starting places as we kid, in order that 5.6 should not be brought up the wrong way behind.

From a "rousical" paint of view it is better to have 5.6 than 6.5 at backstroke, and if you nive thinking of trying an experiment with any 720 of Minor on the lines we are endeavouring to explain, just bear this in mind. You waut to arrange your transposition so that the positions in whigh 5 and 6 fall in the original composition are not affected.

As a simple example of how easily a transposition may bring the tenore up the wrong way, take the "original" composition of Bob Minar, in which the tenor is called F. R. W. It would be equally true if you called it W.W.R., but, while the first calling keeps 5.6 the right way whenever they come behind together, the second would brigg them up together the wrong way sometimes. For this reason, if yon want to transpose a comprogition, and you want to rigg it on orthodox lines, just watch your step.

The same thing applies to compositions in other methods. Transpositions are very uscful for a young conductar if he has not the physical strength to ring a heary bell to a peal. If he is uot competent to call it from a ' non-observation' bell (that is, to ring one of the bells that are moved about at the course or part ende), he can still try his hand at calling from another bell if he finds as suitable trenspesition.
In making these transpositions it should be remembered that the thing that matters is that the number of jeads hetween the bobs remains the same. In this way, for instance, several transpositions of Parker's famons twelve-part peal have been made. The way in which Mr. Parker originally gave it to the world was lile this (by the bobjeat and singled leads) :-

Now, as long as you keep the hobs and singles at the same reinkive distances apart, you cac begin by calling this peal ab any point. You will not, of course, get the same part ends. Moreover, it probahly will not look as symmetrical, and the 'music, may not come up att the same regular intervals, but it will be a true penl. There are 30 places at which you can begin your peal; figure out some of them and see what they are like.

If you want to make A fresli 'obseryation' bell, and uso the same calling es for the 6th. you can do so. if you pick out as a starting point a place in which your own bell is in its natural position (as at roundsy and then apply the calling of the 6th, beginning it nt a point at which the 6th comes into the position occupied in rounds by the bell yon choose. You will have a 'part-end' in 420 changes, just ne Mr. Parker hag, although, as we have said, you may not produce such an easily-remembered series as Mr. Parkcr's is.

REFLECTIONS IN LIGHT AND SHADE  COMMENTS OF AN OLD WARRIOR.  W.W.' Takes Down His Battleaxe.

Hi! boy, hand me down that battleaxe off the wall yonder. Wipe off the vaseline, and, while about it, give me that crash hemet. Why? Because there are likely to be ructions. Thanks. The edge is not so sharp as it was when this journal started on its career. The hand that wielded it is growing gnarled and weary-and might hurt friend as well as foe. When you grow older, boy, you will realise that the man who calls a spade a spade, and not an agricultural implement, often finds himself in a hornet's nest. But don't be afraid. If you think you are on the right track, wade in. Remember Wellington's cry at Waterloo: ' Up and at 'em.' You will be looked down upon, especially if you don't wear the old school tie; but never fear, sooner or later it will dawn into their addled pates that no man has all of it in his noddle. And now, boy, sit still while your uncle does a spot of work. Get me?

This is the ailver jubilee of 'The Ringing World,' aud many events bave taken plage since it first snw the light. Time has gone quickly, Por I remember fifty years ago as easy as twenty-five. In the Exercise many things have happelied, good, bad and indifferent-according to how you view them. We have seen old traditions of ringing violiated, ridiculed and revoked under the flimsy plea of Expediency and Progress. We have seen a nultitude of methods zung in one peal, and it lias come to such a pitch that to ring a "straight "peal in one method looks very poor stuft indeed. What I don't like is the attitude of certaiu 'N.C.O.'s' of the Central Gouncil. They assume the role of Dietator, and wish to pillory all peals that do not conform to their silly idea of 'Splicing.'
If I interpret it arisht, that idea is that only peals that change the method a given number of times should be allowed to be called spliced." Do thay really think that they can twist the Enghish language to suit their own twisted ideas? What is the meaning of the word 'Spliced'? The dictionary tells us 'To join by interwerving.' Just no. Nothing is taid about un-joining it by going back to the original a dozen times or more. To ring a spliced peal ou any number requires a great gbility, but, in my opinion, the Minor peals ane more entitled to the definition than the Major. In fact-and this is a stone-cold fact, and not an opinion-any peel in which more thinn one method is rung is 'spliced,' whether you join up at any lead-end, part-end or at rounds. Aud I challonge any argument to the contrary. (Stoady, there, fiready, or there may be a deep deprossion exiending over Ealing.)
Tliat brings me to broadcaeting.
Several enthusiastic writers have criticised the B.B.C. for outing out the bells before a religious service. Of course, we should like to lawe nove ringing, but diose who assert that the ringing is part of the service had hetter think again, for their contention is not justified. The ringing before a service is like the overture to a play, or the preface to a book. If it wero otherwise, what about the thousands of one-bell churches? Should the B.B.C. broadeast a clanging single bell for ten minutes before n solvice? It is the service that counts, und, although I love rirging, we should be grateful for what has already been ane. You geed not take niy woud for it, but turn to tho Book of Common Prayer, which states ' Whe minister shall canse a bell to lie tolled-before he begim, Our work is done bafore thie service begins.
I reokon that the B.B.C. las done more to popularise ringing than all other efforts put together, by ndopting Bow Bells as an interval simal. Wo must be careful that we do not give the public a surfeit of it, and thereby mise $\pi$ real outery against us. Personally, I could do with more boil-music on the 'wireless' for some of the turus arre maddening to 110 . I don't mind the Trat Stack Prices; I oaly prumble a bit at Chamber Music; the Foundations of Music are well concreted in my aystem, and I can put up with a Symphony concert, but what gets my goat are the Lathehtima Warbler and the Crooner. The formor-apparently bred ant fed ou jelly-louses me to fury. His Tra-la-1a' makes my nostrils quiver. At 'Hoy, Noni Noni' my ayes bulge out, and those around me quickly remove glass and cutlery out of reach, while amother switches off the radio. For the lanch erooper who is nsurly "dancing with his hhadow' I would like to get behind him with my trusty werpon, wheu I think he would go on a tour.
Yes, I prefor Bow Bells to thesc every time.
This last quarter of a century has seen some changes in ringing. The year after this joumal started, the first ladies' peal was rung.

This was at Cubitt Town in 1912, and I was there to listen to it. Many thought it was only a passing phase, but they were wrong, and the girla have gone from stiengti to strength. Surprise peals have been added to their victorites, and he would be a bold man who would decry the lady ringers of to-day. A Iecter las just been received, ${ }^{\text {D Dear }}$ Sir,-ha I know you to be a family man, I feel I can asle your help. It is very annoying to me that ever since some silly ass put into print that I was after the bachelors-which is not true-I am sniggered at wheu I go izto a belfry. It happened like this. I heard ane of them sing a sont called "The Ringers," and the lines ran, "Now if any young lady who wants to be married without any fues. She should climb up the belfry some fine Sunday morning and take a look at us." Well, I did, but one look was enough. I wouldn't touch them with a long pole. The bachelor band is safe from me. Most of them aro fossils and ought to be iz a museum. I have seen better faces an clurch spouts. (You mean gargoyles, Kate.) So I thought I would let Jou know the truth. Only last week on Leap Xear Day I weut up a tower, when they began to whisper, and soon every man began to pack up and slink away, What would you do? Yours sincerely, Kate,

By publishing yout lebter, Eate, 1 think $I$ will help to allay the bogey, and it is very probable that they will leave off letting you alone.

I wouder sonetimes what sort of mentality possesses the ringers who are always sat for the "quickest peal on the bells"? In my opinion, they must be dead to all semse of music. Do they yealthe that bells are cast in different tones so that they shall be heard distinctly? How can they be heard distinctly if they are raced along until all tones are jumbled together in pandemouiun? Do we consider how such a noise falls on the public ear? The time will come when we will have to consider it. It is doubly offensive when rusg muflled at racing speed. What would we think of an orchestral conductor who boasted of hawing rendered Fandel's "Largo' at jazz speed? Whenever a peal is rumg with a 20 cwt, temor in or about 2 hours 45 minutes. I assert that it errs on the wrong side. There is something grand in the rhythm of stately-rung bells, but I feel only pity when I hear a good hand spoiling their work by racing bells along ontside of their proper gait.

It is strange how apparently innocent resolutions can liave farreaching consequences. Take, for instance, the one passed by the Central Council, calling upon affiliated societies to abide 'by the rules and decisions of the Council.' It was introduced at Salisbury by Eome prehistoric cave-man from Bristol, who no doubt reazt welj, but it means that members of associations lose their freedom to wale their own rules. Those mules are worthless, gince evory time the Council changes its mind your rales must change aiso. Tlie rank and file of the Counct are willing to be led by the nose and to revoke one fear the previous year's work. They did it on the six-bell question in order to admit the Cambridge Minor, which, being false on the last row of each 720 , was absolved on the gromed that 'the last row of a peal doesn't belang to that peni, lut fs the firgt row of the next " which you or same other fellows nuy ar may not ring this week, next week, some time, or never). Thereby hangs a tale: Four men stood on the corner of the street waiting for "apeniug time." It was after a G.C. meeting and their throats were dyy. Said C. T. C., "Let's go and have a quiek one, but wait a moment, I am cashing a cheque at this bauk.' After a long wait, Tom came out looking like a beetroot. 'What's up?' we asked.
"What's up?' "Why, the blighter-I mean the casluier--has given me one short. The cheque is for $£ 720$ and lie has only paid me $£ 719$. He sape that, the last one is the first of the next one I may cash. I've been had."
J. A. T. stood trying to look nneoncernex, and fidgeted with his tie.
' What about it?' I asked.
'I didn't speak,' he replied.
I turned to the 'padre,' 'What do you say, Mr. E. S.?'
He smiled and said, 'It's a fine day.'
Well, we wers movicg off to get that quiek one, when-I awoke!
No man is indispensable in this world, but the death of Willian Pyc is the greatest shock the Excrciae has reaeived during the last two decades. In our younger days, we read with a thrill of Annable, Hole and Recyes, of Gross, Hurry, Shipway and Hubbard, the names of men who in their day and generation were heroes in the world of bells. All of these, howevei; fade before the brilliance of William Pye. In the early mineties, it was apparent that a new luminary had come up on the harizon. Aftres his first 10,000 of Treble Bob came the then record of 15,072 Double Norwich, and it was clear that while there were fresh fields to caaquer, this ringing Napolean would not rest. Only those who have rung with him can know his temperament. As I write there comes before me the mental picture of the Laughboromgh long peal. W. J. Nudds was not a strong man, and samdwiched between Lindoff and myself Nudds rang the eighth with his back to the belfry clock. When we lad rung cleven hours he said, 'I can't go ons' and his face as white as chalk told of his predicament. I said a fev words of eacourggement, but the conductor just looked na and nodded, all the while sending the tenor along lise a piece of human machinary. At twelve hours came another spasm. Nudds was about all in. Then a cry from the temor box, "Stick it, do you hear? Stiolk it!' The rither of the 8th did stick it. He put his last few ounces of strenpth into it and the peal was won: 18,027 .
William Pye roes down in history as a gient among ringers. In the annals of ringing his name will for over stand in bold relief. He has trodden the stage for the last time, and passed to seenes unknown, but bis name will live. As was said of Casar, 'This was a man.'

MUFFLED RINGING.

To the Rditar

Dear $\$ \mathrm{Sir}$,-Questions have been asked through your valuable naper as to bow bells should be rung for any great persomage at their death. In my opiniou, no difference sloould be made. The custom is to ring bells open, just as they are, for all occasions such as Sunday services, King's birthday and at any time of rejoicing, national and other. Why, then, make any difference when ringing for anyone called to their last reat, King ar commoner? Ring the bells half-muffled, well sthuck-there is nothing more impressive, provided the tenor is behind. Half-mufled ringing of Major and Royal $\quad$ ounds, to my ear, a giceat disrespect to the departed. I have had just over 40 years' experience. Taunton.
J. HONT.

UNIFORMITY DESIRABLE.

Dear Sir, Since my letter in 'Tlue Ringing World ' of February 7th, letters that have appeared on this subject seem to jadicate that the writers were undor tho same improssion as myself, but Mr. Trollope now tells the that no way is more correct than another. Thad. answer, in my opinion, does not land those of us who are asking which of the two should be demed correct nuywhere. It seams to me only to let us down a little deeper inte the mire.

If one way is as correct as the other, $I$, foi one, to whose lot it generally falls to do the muffling, would certainly only half-muffio the bells, as it is much easier to do that than fully mufle them. If I may be allowed to use Mr. Davies' plrase, 'what is needed on auch occasions is unformity Ehroughout the country.' The only way to get this in the future seems to me to get the Central Council to take the matter up.
If they should think this necessary, may $E$, for one, ask them to give it very careful consideration, for, if half-mufling is decided upon, that's the end of fully mufling, because if it is not done for royalty, for whom elso ate we to do it?

Our pas columns reveal to-day the names of eight bachelors, described as 'free and untrammelled" of the average age of 22 years. Ther celebrated their freedom with a peal at Horbury on Lutap Year Day.
John Taylor and Co. are rehanging the heavy ring of six bells at Newland Church, Glos., and the peal is being removed to Loughborough for tuning and refitting. 'The bells are ta be hung in a n new frame. Newland Ohurch, situated in the Forest of Dean, is a beautiful structure with a grand tower, and is known as 'The Cathedral of the Forest.' The tower has been badly cracked by the action of the bells in the old timber frame and is undergoing extensive renovation.

Last Friday, Mr. Albert Walker gave a leclure on beils and bell ringing to the Birmingham Engineors and Surveyors Association. There was a large and appreciative audience, who followed the lecture with seen interest. The telle was illustrated with about 50 lantern slides and change ringing on haudbells.
We understand that Mr. Pilson Young, whose striking articles on bells and bellringing appeared in 'The Radio Times' a while ago, has been commaissioned by the B.B.G. to build a "feature ' programme about bells.
The Finckley District of the Midlaud Counties Association is appealing for help on behalf of Mr. C. H. Briggs, of Sloney Stanton, who has been ill for a considerable time. If any fricnds of his, who are residing out of the district, would care to send any amonnt, however small, 埌 will be gratefully receiven. Donatious should be sent to Mr. A. E. The University of London Union has now granted permission for the use of the title 'The London University Society of Clange Ringers.' Any past or present members of London University are invited to communicate with Mr. C. Dodd, Royal College of Science, London, S.W.7, with a view to joining the society.
Is it correct that two of the leading exponents of the art of ringing in the Guildford Guild failed to pull up their bells 'right way' before starting for a peal at Withey (Surrey) on Saturday?
Our inquirer says: Perhaps an explanation might be given at an early date in the Beginners' column of 'The Ringing World." At any rate, the lesser fry in the Guild feel that they can indulge in a chortle in gecret.
Without waiting for an explanation in the Beginners' columu, our readers may be informed that No. 1 pulled the treble up the wrong way, to the great amusement of No. 2. But No. 2 then proceeded to wayl the 4 th up with the clapper the wrong side. 'He that laughs pull the 4 th up with the clapper the wrong side. 'He that

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM DAVIES

A WELL-KNOWN LVERPOOL RINGER
We regret to reeord the death of Mr. William Davies, of Liverpool. He passed away at the residence of his son-in-Iaw, Mr. Claude I. Davies, on February 27th, after suffering more or less for the past two years. The late Mr. Davies was born in South Wales in the year 1861. He went to Liverpool when a young man, and pursued the career of telegraphist until his retirement a few years ago.
His first peal was rung nt Liverpool in 1884, and his last, a peal of Stadman Triples at Rotherhithe, about nine years ago. Deceased had rung in upwards of a luundred peats, chiefly in the standard methods, many being with the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Sbeffeld and Ashton-under-Lyne Societies.
Mr. Davies was a ringer at St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpoal, for a period of 40 years. He held the office of steeplekeeper for many years, and it was mainly due to bis efforts the peal of twelve was restored in 1911. Many of the bells for years before that had beeu unringable. He was an excellent ringer and striker on all numbers of bells, and he was always a melcome visitor to London, particularly in the days of the late Mr. James Pettit.
The latz Mr. Wiliam Davies' peals were as follow: Grandsire Triples 13, Grandaire Caters 5, Grandsire Cinques 1, Stedinan Triples 20, Stedman Caters 9, Stedman Cinques 4, Bob Major 16, Bob Royal $1_{1}$ Bob Triples 1, Oxford Bob Triples 1, Minor in geven methods 2, Kent Treble Bob Major 20, Royal 6, Maximus 4, Caters 1, Oxford Treble Bob Major 4, Double Norwich Major 7, Superlativo Surprise Major 2, total 117. One of Grendsire Triples and two of Bob Major were rung an haudbells.
The pea's were rung for the Lancashire Association, Chester Diocesan Guild, Yorkshire Association, Llaudaff Association, Gloucester and Bristol Association, St. James' Society and tho Ancient Society of College Youtlis. Mr. Davies took part in two of the three peals rung in the Isle of Mnul, a peal each of Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major at Peel on July 4th, 1888, both being College Youths' peals.
The funeral took place at Childwall on Saturnay, February $29 t h$ The service was read by the Rev. R. B. Parker, who also delivered a very apprepriate address, in the course of which he touched on the late Mr. Davies' calling al ar ringor and his loyalty as a churchman Among the mourners at the graveside were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davies (son-in-law and daughter), Mrs. Gladys Davies, Messts. William Harold and Harry Davies (sons), Capt. Pope and several ringers, including Messrs. E. C. Burkitt, A. Lintatt, G. Sergeant, E. Gittens, J. Bowstead, G. Lydicieth, J. Marlin, G. R. Newton, otc. There were many foral tributes, among them one from St. Nicholas' tower.

CENTRAL COUNCIL PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

TWO INFLUENCES WHICH BENEFIT RINGERS OF TO-DAY  The Ringing World ' and the Central Council

The president of the Central Council (Mr. E. H. Lewis) has written the following special article for the Silver Jubilee number of 'The Ringing World.' In it he points aut the importance to the Ex日rcise of the Council and this journal.
Ringers of to-day are far more in touch with one another than they were a generation ago. Two influences have been mainly responsible. One of then is 'The Ringing World,' to whose Editor we owe a great deal. Week by week for twenty-five years he has kept up the high standard of the paper and let us know what other ringers in all parts of the country were doing. Not only that, in his excellent Editorials he has given us good advice and fair comments on passing events.

THE PAESIDENT OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

So accustomed are we to the weekly issue that perhaps we do not quite value as we should the continuous effort that must be required to maintain the standard of the paper. Congratulations to him on the completion of twenty-five years' service to the Exercise. May 'The Ringing World ' long continue.

The other means of communication between different districts is the Central Council. The meetings of the Council give the Exercise its only chance of discussing, as a body, subjects of common interest. Sometimes, it is true, the matters under consideration interest only a section, perhaps a small section, of the ringers of the country. Such a section, however, is not restricted by locality, but by interest in some particular branch of the art we practise. Mathematical intricacies of method construction do not appeal to every ringer, but they are of intense interest to others, and lindoubtedly, from such discussions, new methods and more musical compositions ultimately arise.

From the spread of knowledge which we owe to "The Ringing World 'and to the work of the Council there is a danger that the theoretical side of ringing is made too easy, and that some young ringers try to run before they can walk. The result is that the old standards of striking are not maintained. That the danger is real is shown by some recent broadcasts. It is to be hoped that it is only a passing phase, and it is up to "The Ringing World and the Council to hold up an ideal of good striking as the necessary foundation of all ringing. Without it the whole edifice of method ringing which has been built up is useless.

There are a few ringers who grumble at " The Ringing World.' There are some who think the Central Council is of little use. Let them remember that if they want a bigger and better journal they must support it with a bigger circulation. If they want a better Council they must elect better members, if they can.

EDWIN H. LEWIS.

AUTHOR OF THE • TWELVE-PART.

mR. J. J. Parker's 83rd Birthday Celebrated.
A represontative gathering of ringers from Berks, Bucks, Middlesex and Surrey assembled at Farmam Royal on Saturday to ring 'many bajpy returns ' to Mr. J. J. Parker on the 83 rd anniversary of his birthday. About a score were privileged to come early and take tea with their oid friend, who looked remarkably well, although he lhas to abey certain doctor's restrictions.
Mr. W. H. Fussell voiced the sentiments of the party in a short speceh, mentiozing, among other things, that Mr. Parker had seem six pieare at Farnham Royal, and giving still another iustance of our old friend's vergatility, Mr. Parker was a first-class sboemaker.
The Branch Ringing Master (Mr. T. J. Fowler) also enid a few words on the world-wide fame of 'the twelve-part.'
Mr. J. J. Parker replied, sayiug what great pleasure it gave him to meet his frieuds again and hear their efforts in the tower. Amongst the methods tried may be mentioned Grandsire, Stedman, Double No wich, Keat, Superlative, Cambridge and London, but not quite a.l were surcessfich. A 'fall in peal' (not too easy on Farnham eifht) brought the celebrations to a close.

PASSING OF 'A GREAT ADMIRER' OF BELLS

Two years ago the bells at. Wolmer Church, Kent, were restored after being in rather a bad poile condition. Tho work was carrica ont by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the expense was borne by an anonymous admirer of tile clurch bells. Since then it has been revealed that the 'great admirer' was Mr. A. J. Matthews, J.P., who has just passed away. The interment took place on Thursday, March 5th, when the bells were rung half-muftled in the evening, a pasl being successful as an tribute from Kentish bellingers.

RINGER FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

DEATH OF MR. G. ORAMP, OF TENTERDEN.
The death oceurred on March 5th of Mr. George Cramp, of Tenterden, at the age of 87 years. The deceaseal had been a riager for over 60 Yenrs, and was one of the pioneers of change ringing at Tenferden. He was a regular attendunt up to the end of November last
He rang his first peal in 1888 , the first peal by a resident band. Ha had rung several peals since, but kept no record of them.
Tha funeral took place at Tenterden Cemetery on Monday, March gth. Ringers were present from Frittenden, Hawkhurst and Tunbridgge Wells as well as Tenterden. Touches of Stedman Triples were rung with the bells half-muffled during the evering at the Parisl Church by local and wisiting ringers as a mark of respect. Mr. Cranıp will be greatly missed.

A BIRMINGHAM VETERAN

MARRIED 62 XEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Coley, of Sheppcoto Street, Ladywood, Bir mingiam, celebrated the G2nd anniversary of their wedding on March 2nd, having been married at Stourbridge in 1874. Mr. Coley is 83 and lins wife is 82 .
Mr. Coley was a chainmaker by trade, and began work at the age of 12 , being paid 4 d . for a 14-hour day. He retired &t the nge of 72 He was for many pears a ringer at Bishop Rydor's Cburch, and he stiill delights each Sunday morning to listen to the service ringing at St. Martin's and have a word with the ringers afterwards. He is a link with many of Birmingham's former ringing celebritieg, for he kuew all the 'old school ' of Johnsou's days.

A RETROSPECT.  HOW ' THE RINGING WORLD' HAS SERVED THE EXERCISE.  By the Editor.

In March, 1911, the first issue of 'The Ringing World ' appeared. It was the fourth journal published entirely for the benefit of church belliringers and devoted exclusively to the interests of the art of change ringing. Before the advent of 'Bell News' in 1881, 'Church Bells ' had devoted a section of its pages to matters affecting bellringing, but these were only a small portion of the publication, and when 'Bell News ' arrived on the scene it quickly supplanted the earlier paper in its usefuiness to the ringers of that period. Many years later came in turn 'Campanology' and ' Bell Ringer,' both short lived.

The Ringing Worid ' made its appearance at a time when the rapid expansion of the Exercise made a new journal desirable, it might almost be said absolutely essential, if the requirements of ringers were to be met. It was a time when a kind of atrophy seemed to have struck the old weekly, whose services to the Exercise in its earlier days deserve to be acknowledged. But the passing of the years weighed heavily on that publication, and, as it gradually drooped and faded, it was inevitable that, if bellringing was not to receive a serious blow, other efforts were required to save the situation.

Thus it came about that a somewhat daring young man ventured to take the plunge and offer the Exercise an alternative ringing paper. There were plenty to remind him of the old adage that fools rush in where angels fear to tread, but while in some respects there have been disappointments, he can to-day say he has no serious regrets. The action taken at that time probably saved the Exercise from being stranded, at any rate for a period, without a journal of its own, for it was not very long afterwards that 'Bell News' languished into death. It may be that the younger and more enterprising paper hastened the end, but there is little doubt that it must have come sooner or later from financial anæmia.
But the path of the new journal was far from smooth. It was scarcely out of its swaddling clothes, so to speak, when came the war and the disintegration of many cherished schemes. 'The Ringing World' was fortunate to survive that cataclysm, which carried away in its devastating grip many hundreds of small publications. Once more the Exercise was saved from a break in the continuity of its newspaper records, for had this paper disappeared under the strain, no new enterprise of that kind-even if anyone could have been found ready to launch it-would have been permitted owing to the paper shortage. And so, through the years, 'The Ringing World ' has proceeded to its silver jubilee, giving ringers week by week a faithful record of the events of greatest interest in the Exercise, keeping its readers in touch with the steady development of the art, expressing its own views on subjects of importance, with, we hope, fair and impartial criticism, and with a desire to give its readers food for thought.

These twenty-five years have carried us into an entircly new generation of ringers. Men who, when 'The Ringing World' started, were the pillars of the Exercise, are many of them to-day but a memory. It is impossible to recall here all those giants of the past who, in this quarter of a century, have been taken from us, but there is satisfaction in the memory that they were, we believe we can say without exception, friends of 'The Ringing World.' These were the men whose labours materially helped to build up the fortunes of the Exercise. They recognised that the most serious thing that could befall the art of ringing would be the absence of a pubfication devoted to its interests.
A journal to unite the forces of the Exercise, to encourage and stimulate progress, as well as to perform the common task of circulating information, is absolutely essential to the well-being of the art. This has all along been appreciated by those who give any thought to the subject, and the efforts of 'The Ringing World ' in this direction not only were recognised by those who, when the paper came into existence, were becoming gravely concerned as to the future, but by all who have since come into positions of responsibility and leadership in the Exercise.

But 'The Ringing World,' having so long served the Exercise, has, as the president of the Central Council points out in his message, largely come to be 'taken for granted.' Its regular appearance every Friday morning has become so much a matter of course that there are few who stop to think what would happen if ' The Ringing World 'failed them. Half the interest in ringing is in knowing what other people are doing, and what progress the art is making in other parts of the country. There would be little known of that without a ringing paper. In conjunction with the work done by the Central Council, it is the ringing Press which has made possible the rapid advance of the art, by the spread of knowledge and the encouragement which it has given to progress. Indeed, it is not too much to say that most of the usefulness of the Council itself is made possible by the publication of a ringers' paper.

The Ringing World 'has not always seen eye to eye with the Council of its committees, and its criticisms in the past have, we believe, led to improvements and to a more active service, but this journal, which is really the mouthpiece of the Exercise, firmly believes in the importance, indeed the necessity, for a Central Council, and has always given its wholehearted support to those decisions which appear to be in the best interests of the art of ringing.
Ringers of the new generation have had their path made so easy for them by the work of those who have gone, or who, remaining, are now in the 'sere and yellow 'eaf,' that they are likely to overlook all the time and labour which these men have in the past devoted to the task of, if we may use the simile, clearing the jungle. In this work they have been facilitated by the journals which for more than fifty years have been published for the advancement of the art. 'The Ringing World ' has taken its full share in this work, and if the labours of individuals, without its aid, had not been in vain, the dissemination of the results of that labour would, at any rate, have been much more limited.
Of the value of 'The Ringing World ' in publishing the reports of current events, we need not speak here, except, perhaps, to say this: Different people have different ideas of news values, and when space is strictly limited and there is room for 'so much and no more,' there is bound to be sometimes a little heart-burning in those who are disappointed. It is hardly necesary, perhaps, to repeat what we have often said, that no one re(Continned on page 178.)

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS' PROGRESS.

HOW METHOD RINGING HAS DEVELOPED.

By J. Armiger Trollope.

One of the most notable things about change ringing is that, though it has been practised for centuries, and though it never had any fixed rules, nor, until the time of the Central Council, any authority which could make rules, yet it has been at all times and in all places essentially the same thing.

The "sixes" were invented somewhere about 1610 , and it was sixty or seventy years before there was a sufficient number of bells in a tower and before there was enough improvement in the hanging of these bells for them to be rung in the modern fashion. But as soon as method ringing became really possible, which was, roughly speaking, at the beginning of the eighteenth century, all the essentials of the art were fixed, and they have not altered since.

MR. J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.
If Benjamin Annable and his hand could revisit the scenes of their many exploits they would come back to a London which they would not recognise. Not only would they find miles of strects where in their time were remote country villages surrounded by fields and lanes, but the City itself would be so altered that they would not know it. The streets, the houses, the people-all are changed, but directly they had climbed the winding stairs to St. Bride's belfry, or St. Michael's or St. Martin's, they would once more be on familiar ground, and should a modern band be there they could mix with then and take part in the ringing, just as they used to do two hundred years ago. Stedman Cinques, no doubt, would be strange to them, but they knew Stedman Doubles, and it would be no trouble to them to apply it to the greater number of ropes. As for Grandsire Cinques, Bob Maximus, and Treble Twelve, they could ring them as well as any modern band and better than most.

But though change ringing is thus fixed in its essentials, it is absolutely necessary that it must grow and develop, or else it will die. Growth is necessarily slow, but there must be growth. Things change in the ringing Exercise very slowly, but they do change. Sometimes when we look back over the years that we ourselves have known, we wonder what improvement there has been; whether all the trouble and time and patience that many men have expended has not been wasted; and whether things are any better than they were.

How much better are we than we were twenty-five years ago in the year that saw the birth of "The Ringing World'? Are we are better off at all? If we go by the number of peals that are rung I should inagine, though I have not checked the figures, that the number is about the same now as in 1911. Peal ringing is not everything, but it is a very good indicator of progress, though a rough one; for the men who ring peals are usually the best service ringers. But though there has not been any remarkable increase in the number of peals or of peal ringers, when we look more closely at what peals were rung we have very considerable grounds for congratulation.

The best bands of to-day are probably no better than the best bands of five-and-twenty years ago, but there has been a very great levelling up. Far more men ring Surprise peals than in 1911, and among the more advanced there is a greater readiness to practise new methods; in fact, it is in method ringing that the greatest development has been made. That is due to the war; for the war, which radically altered practically every man's ideas and thoughts, had this effect on ringing, that men were more ready to welcome new ideas and less inclined to stand in the old paths just because they are the old paths.

We must expect that now and always the greater part of the changes rung on bells will be in the standard methods, Grandsire and Plain Bob, Stedman and Treble Bob; and all these were rung two hundred and filty years ago; but, fortunately, the number of men is increasing who are not content to stay there.

Some indication of progress is given by the number of peals in Surprise Major methods. When the present century opened peals had been rung in only five methods, which now rank as Surprise-Cambridge, Superlative, London, Gloucester and Norfolk-and in six which were then called Surprise, but are now relegated to other classes-Abion, Liversedge, New Cumberland, Oxford, Westminster, and St. Stephen's. Before 1911 four more Surprise Major methods were rung-Bristol, Yorkshire, Peterborough, and the Rochester variation of Superlative. Two others-Brighton and Guildford-were rung before the war, and since that time peals in no fewer than seventy-four new methods have been accomplished.

That is where the greatest development has talien place, and the next greatest has been in " spliced ' ringing. It began in six-bell ringing, and the six-bell ringers are the ones who have most profited by the development; but spliced ringing on eight bells is now getting a fairly common thing. When Mr. Alfred Pulling called Law James' peal in the four standard Surprise methods niost people imagined that it was a performance which was not likely to be excelled for many a long year; but I suppose there must be now nearly a hundred ringers who have rung a peal of Spliced Surprise. For the present the series by the Middlesex Association, which included all numbers of methods from three to twelve, and which was conducted by William Pye, stands by itself; but it is probally only a question of time before another band will be found to beat that record. In method ringing, therefore, we have legitimate cause for congratulation.

Perhaps the best sign of all that the Exercise is alive and progressing is the fact that we are getting an increasing number of the right sort of young men, who are ready to go forward and explore new ground in ringing. We must not expect to find many bands like that at Helmingham, who have rung peals in thirty Surprise methods, but twenty-five years ago such a thing would have been looked of as impossible. Quite as impossible, too, would the wonderfui record of twelve-belt peals by the ipswich band have seemed; and there are other companies who have done almost as notable performances.
On the whole we may be satisfied with the progress change ringing has made during this last quarter of a century. Twenty-five years is not a long time in the history of the Exercise, though it is a long time in the life of an individual ringer. Perhaps I may be allowed to offer to the Editor of 'The Ringing World 'congratulatons and thanks for his share in development and in keeping the art alive and flourishing. There have been very difficult and critical times during these five-andtwenty years, when the problem of keeping a ringing paper going has been acute. Ringers do not often realise how essential it is to have a regular journal, and they do not support it as they should. They would quickly find out its value if they were to lose it.

A RETROSPECT.

grets more than we do that some of the lesser important items have to be sacrificed to the exigencies of space, but readers can rest assured that, whatever the reasons, everything is carefully weighed, and the discrimination used is always on the side of the greatest interest to the greatest number.
Ancl that leads us to the one solution of the difficulty concerning limited space. It is all wrapped up in circulation. If ringers would give the paper adequate support, the provision of a journal increased in size, either frequently or permanently, would be a financial possibility, and so also would be a reduction in price. Is it too much to ask ringers themselves-as a silver jubilee contribution to 'The Ringing World '-to make an effort to this desirable end in their own interests?

This article, however, is more concerned with the past than with the future. Let us conclude, therefore, by saying that twenty-five years as Editor of ' The Ringing World,' while not being without its anxieties, has been a period which has provided us with a great deal of pleasure. Its greatest recompense has been the host of friends which we have made from end to end of the country and overseas. Such friendships are beyond price.

APPLETON CELEBRATES MARCH THE 4th

BERESHIRE FILLAGE FESTIVITIES.

Well over one hundred years ago, in a quiet little Berkshire willage, a wicked squire purloined certain lands (athenticated by records) belonging to the poorer inhabivauts. 'Landgrabling' it was called in those days, and the quiet little Berksliure village was not the only one in England which suffered from the depredations of the squires of bygone days. The Berkshire villagers, however, raised their voices loud in proteslation, but their protestations did not result in the return of their lost land. The souire, lowever, conld mot be convinced that ha lhad no tight to the lands he had scized; but to assuage the anger of the inhabitants, and possijaly to bring consolation to his own soul for his own misdeeds, be eatertained the vilkagers to a gigantic feast on the village green and placed in the tower of the Parish Church ii peal of six bells.
Everybody may not know the origin of the peal of bells at Appleton. the little Berkshire village referred to. Should anyone feel that the story now told does not ring true, let them ask George Holifield, an Appleton veteran ringer, and if he cannot bring conviction to the doubting, then 110 printed record will ever convince.
Further conviction, however, should not be mecessary, for an Saturday Appleton celebrated the 128th anniversary of that gigantic feastr on the village green (which took place on March 4th, 1818) and the placing of the bells in the tower. Another remarkable fact in nunectiole with this particulay ampersary is that George Holifield has atr Lexded more than lhalf of the number, for he has never missed in joining in the celcbrations for 64 years. Surely a remarkable record, sud one hopes that many more such occasions way be added to his already loug listi.
It was a busy day in Appleton on Sathray. From ati early hour that famous peal of bells, angmented first to eight and how to tean, and which have coatrobuted largely to the campanological records of thig country, were linging merily, and it wis in the early hours of the afternoon when the bells ran into rounds and a successful peal of Stedman Caters had been accomptished by a mixed band of villagers and visitors from London. Thes came the turm of visitors from many other parts of Lhe country, and representatives from Oxford, High Wycombe, Swindon, Newhury, East Hagbonrne, Bucklebury, Reading, Wokingsam and mazy other places indnlged in methods from Minor to Caters. Among those who foregathered to help the valiant villagers were the Rev. O. F. Wigg (Doputy Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, Mr. R. T. Hibbert, the secretary, accompanied by 'Bill,' the Rev. A. G. G. Tharlow, Mr. Gcorge Williams (Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild), Messrs. Clark, J. S. Hawking, J. Thomas, Wilfred Williams (Loudon), Mrs. A. E. Lock, the Misses Stella Davis, Maric R. Gress, etc.
At The Thatehed Taveru (in these days divested of its 'thatch'), Whe ringers assembled to celebrate the feast, The occasion was a festive oure, and flthough the viauds may not lave assumed the gigantic proportions of those of 118 years ago, yet they were heartily enjoyed by the fiftr folk who partook of them
Tlise National Anthem was enthusiastically sung following the loyal toast, given by thic Rev. C. E. Wigg, and the rest of the day was given over to merrymaking. And what a time was spent; what a feast of talent among those congregated! The famous brothers White were woll to the fore as entertainers. There were siz of them, Guthbert, John, Henry, Richard, Fred and Stedman, whose ages range from 73 years tro 50 . They delighed the assembled gathering by their hnme ringing, and also their exthbition of the 'lapping' of a course of Grandsire Caters. What. a history lay behind the bells they used. They were part of a peal of 50 cast by the father of the six brotherg over 70 years ago, anill, what is more, the grandsire of the six brathera rang in tha first 720 Bob Minor ever recarded an the bells. Should anyons like to see the record, ask Gearge Holifield for a glimpse of that wonderfil book, which is one of his most cherished possessions. What a pity there nue not more places in England which could celebrate the histor'y of their bells in the same way as Appleton does.

DEATH OF MR. E. C. MERRITT

BRIGHTON RINGIER WHO FLIAPED TO MAKE HESTORY
We mach rogref hawing fo record the death of Mr. Fdward Merritu, of Brighton, which took place suddenly on Mareh 4 th. On the previous Satardiy las hed attended the meeting of the Western Biviaion of the Sussex County Associntion at Heeue, and was then apparenty in the best of heatel and lonking forward to joining his friends at the next divisional meeting in a fortnight's time.
Always it consistiont churchanan, with a considerable knowledge of churel aftairs, he completed some yeara ago his ambition fif visiting every cathedral in Englund and Wales, the last being St. David's, which Je described as being " fifteen milos from nowhere.
Mr. Murritt's first ringing of jmportance took place when he joined the St. Peltur's, Brighton, tower in 1888. There he helped to make history with the 'old band, the pioncers of Surprise ringing in Sussex.
Coming from Boumemouth, Nr. Merrit remained a memher of St. I"cter's until the end, and the tublets in the tower revord bis takiog part in most of tho first peals in the higher methods. Despite his unquestioned superiority as a Surprise ringer, Mr, Merritt was not blind to his duwy as a membor of the association, serving on the compittee at vartous times, and was never lappier than when giving a helping liand ta a beginner.
Of lato yoars he had done very little peal ringing, one of the last, if not tho very last, which lie rang being in 1933, when, after a long absenco from peals, to gratily the earnest desire of an old friend, he took part in the peal of Stedman Caters at Southover, Lewes, to celebrato the 40 th anniversary of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith's first peal, in which lie liad also taken part.
Tho first part of the funcral serwice took place at his favourite Church of St, Barliolomew, Brighlon, from whence Je was bome to tho Brighton Cemetery for cremation. Besides Messrs. J. T. Rickman (a former Master of the assoriation) and S. E. Armstrong (assistant hou. general secretary), there were present at the service representatives from the three Brighton towers, St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and the Good Shepherd, and from Southover, Lewes.
In Mr. Merritt tire Exercise has lost a great ringer and a good friend.
A half-muffled peal was rung on Saturday at Southover, where Mr. Werritt luad rung many peals

DEATH OF FORMER LITTLE MUNDEN RINGER.

Wo regret to renord the sudden death of Mr. G. H. Carter, of Little Munden, Herts, at the age of 55 years. He was found dead sitting on hig bicycle by the roadside bank on February 23rd, death havitg been due to hemorrhage of the brain.

The deceased had given up ribging for about six years, but had previously been a riuger at Little Munden for a Iong period, and was ane of the band when change ringing was first started at that place. Fo had taken part in 36 peals in Little Munden tower, besides many others in oflser towers. He was a very safe ringer and good striker. The Garter family have been connected with Little Manden belfry for many years, decensed's father and three brothers all having been ringers there, while one brolher. Mr. Sidney Carter, is still a member.
Deceased lad been a soldier in the Regular Army and had served in India.
The funeral took place on Saturday, February 29th, at Little Munden Churclipard. The coffin was covered by the Union Jack and a contingent of the British Legion attended and laid wreaths on the ;Tave. After the funeral 360 Oxford Treble Bob was rung withe the bells half-murled by W. Williams 1, A. Woolston 2, S. Head 3, A. Plillips 4, W. H. Lawrence 5, A. Lawrence (conductor) 6.

DEATH OF A NORTH STONEHAM RINGER

We regret to recond the passing of Mr. W. G. Edwards at Bishopstoke on February 25th after a long ank painful illuess at the age of 47 years.
Mr. Edwards was bom at Calverton, Bucks, and was tanght to ring on the bells at the Pauigh Church. Phere and at the neighbouring tower of Stonetr Stralford he did all his early ringing.
In 1910 his work took lin to Eastleigh, where he joined the North Stoneham band, and remaimed attached to that tower until his death, althourh he had resided for some years at Bishopstoke. He formed one of the Sumpise band that was built up at North Stonelam by M1: G. Williems.

Mr. Edwards did not lreep a recold of his peals, but they number about 80, ranging from Doubles to London Surprise Major. Witls one Dr two exceptions the werc Imni for the Oxford and Winchester Cuilds.
ilhe funeral took place at Bishopstoke on February 29th. Mr. G. Williams (Master) 'represented the Winchester and Portsmouth Guikd, and members were present from Bishopstoke, North Stoneham, Southrapton and Portsmouth.
Following the lowering of the cofln, a plain course of Grandsive Caters wae ring on handbells over the grave by N. Gurtis $1-2$, J, Faiblut 3-4, G. Williams 5-6, F. Bayley 7-8, D. C. Willians g-io, 'rhe chureh bells were also rung half-mufled immediately after the service.

During the evening a peal of Grandsire Caters, with the clappers half-nulfled, was rang at North Stonchnm as a last tokern of respect.

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

Mr. T. H. Reeves, who responded ta the toast of "Continued Pros perity to St . Martin's Guild, proposed by Mr. A. Peddon Smith, first thanked the artistes who had made the musical programme so enjoyable. The work of the Guild roes bravely on, continued Mr. Reepes, and the Guid continues to prosper. He emphasised what Mr. Smith had said with regard to the Puesday nigint practices in tho Buly Ring. Ho knew it was not always convenient for ringers to assemble there, but he hoped that all who eould would make a point of attending to give their assistaues and encouragement to the Finging Master, Since Mr. Faynes had been Ringing Master they had incroduced an innovation by holding bi-quarterly meetings. 'I'kese mectings had been very enjorable and enthusiastically, attented. Their main object was ia encouraga the art of change ringing and they did that botli for the younger ringars and with practice in the higher methods. He gave a pressing invitatrion, especially to yonng ringers, to attend these meetings. They had somo yely huppy gatherings, and he believed they were doing a lot of goon. With regard to tho Guild generally, they were a particularly iappy band, everything rar smoothly, and, as far as he personally was concerned, ho had nothing to complain of in regard to the support the members always gave him. He was very happy to be thair secretary, and as long as lae could usefully hold the position he would be happy to serve them (applause).
Mr. F. E. Hapnes proposed "The Visitors," remarkurg that the Guild was very happy to see so many old and new friends among them. It would be almost invidious to mention individual names when they had visitars from so mayy distant places. He would, however, like to mention one who was not a visitor, but an old member of St. Wartim's Guild, Mr. Tom Miller. #e would like to assure hims on behalf of the company that they were all very pleased fo see him &gain, sufficiently recovered from ins recent serious illness to be able to be with them. Mr. Haynes coupled with the toast the name of Mr. E. P. Duffield, Master of the College Youths. MI: Duffeld occupied an exalted position, and had been mistaken by the chairmas for the Lord Mayor of London (lahehter). That mistaide, of course, was f reasonable one when they saw the handsome badge of office with which his manly breast was andormed (laughter)
Mr. E. P. Dufitald said he was very proud to be the first Master of the society to wear that badge of office, which, as they knew, wes presented to connmemorate the forthcoming tercentenary of the socisty. He hoped it would be worn at Binmingham on many future occasions (hear, hear). There was an added pleasure, he proceeded, in coming to Birmingham this year in that, instead of heving one modern peal of twelve bolls upons which to ring, they had two sheh excellent peals, the best possible examples of modern bellfounding (applause). Continuing, Mr. Duffield said lee thought he was speaking what was in the mind of everyone when he said how much they missed the face of one who more, perhaps, than any other they were sorry to puiss. Twelve months ago he could not help wondering how many more fimes they mights see that gathering graced by the presence and wouderful peisonality of their Master. They of the College Youths were proud of the fact that, with two exceptions, Alderman Pritchett, was the senior surviving member of the society. He hoped he might still be spared to them, although it might be in a more restricted measure of activity. His great persmality had undoubtedly been of immeasurable lenefit to St. Wartiv's Guild over a great number of years (heat, hear), and one of the things which they loaked upon as a real privilege was to meet and fisten to Ademan Pritchett (applause). Mr. Duffeld went on fo mention the William Pye menorial. Judged by his performances Wilham Pye was, he said, without equal in the realms of rizging at any time, and he ventured to say that it would he a long time before they shw his oqual. Of all the memorials that had been erected to the great figures of the Exercise, none, he thought, wonld commend itself more reatily to them than the memorial to William Pyc. The committee felt it wonld be nice to lave the memorial conpleted before the assembly of the Central Gouncil in London at Whitsun, and it would, thercfore, he appreciated that the committee were anxious to act the subscriptions in as soon as possible. Mr. Duffield concluded by thanking St. Martin's Guild for the hospitality extended to the visitars.
Mr. G. E. Fearn proposed "The Ringing World,* and enumerated the many benefts which ringing and ringers obtained from the publication of the paper. He referred to the fact that the silver fubilee of the paper world shortly occur, and said tho best way in which that long servica to tho Excreise could be eelebrated wonld be by every ringer becoming a rogular subscriber and by encouraging new gupporters. He was surc that the increased circulation which would thus loe provided would be reffected by the provision of an even more seful paper for tha Exercise.
Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded.
The remaining toast was that to "The Chairman,' proposed by Mr. F. W. Stemens and ackoomedged by Canon Guy Rogers.

A lengthy musical programma was greatly enjoyed. Glees were gung by the Lyric Male Quartette, gongs by Mrs, G. T. Matkin, Mr.
W. O. Dowding Mr. Mackenaie and Mr. A. Dedey, while members of St. Martin's Guild rang an short touch of Kent Treble Bob Maximus. The creming was one of the most successful in the long goves, and in no small measme तue to the organising energy and ability of the hoo. secretary, Mr. Reeves.

WILLLAM PYE MEMORIAL.

IPENDER FOR BELSS ACCEPTED.
Au is generally knowm, the proposed memorial to ine late Wijliam $]^{\prime}$ ye is to take the form of two bells and ded to the existing six at St. John thi Baptist's Church, Leytonstone, and a auitable tablet to be placed in the church porch, close to the belfry door. The committee recently considered ostimates for the bells, submitted by the three leading belfounders, and aceepted that of Messrrs. Gillett, end Jahmaton.
Stepos are being taken to obitain the neecssary faculty, and it is confidently hoped that the opening of the memorial beils will tako place on Saturday, May 30 th, which day will give many ringers visiting Londen for the Gentral Council meting an apportund by to be present.
In the meantime, to enable the memorial to be opened freo from debt, approximately 845 is required. The cormittee urgently request all casuriations holding amunl meetings during the next few weeks to contribite generously to this worthy object, and individual ringers, especially those who had the privilege of ringing with the late William Pye, end who have not yet cubscribed, are asked to do so.
The sixth list of donations is appended. These amounts are gratefally acknowledged by the undexigned, to either of whom further donations should be sent.

A SOHEME FOR OOMDBNED PRACTIGES.

On Saturchay, Febrmary 29th, a vary anceessful meeting of the Northern District of the Ferts County Aseaciation was held at Royston. The allondance wis hipher than usual for this tower. The belle were raised at, 3 p.m. and kept going until 5 p.m., when the Vicar (the Rev. F. T. Greigi conducted a short service, and in his address offerer a vely wam welcomo to the vingers. The company adjourned to the Ohncll Room, where they were tho guests of the Ficar to an excellemt lam.
At the business meeting which followed, the Fioar was elected to tho clinitr.
Tho secretary put forward a seheme which he hoped would meet with nirmbors' approval to arrange combined practices at whious tavers in the district. The object, he gaid, was to gncourage and assist towers where young or "stagnant, bayds exist. Fhe proposed sulecting some six towers, and (subject to the consent of the various clergy and ringers) arrange the practice on their respective practice triglits. [t was a thing which, if well supported, would benefit afl emecried. The jdeanges met with unanimons approval, and arrangements will be patblished in "The Ringing Would.

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

EXTENSION OF SEIELD CONTEST.
The annual mesting was held at Sandal on February 15th, when the towers represented were Ackworth, Adwick-le-Street, Barnsley, Dewsbury, Earlsheator, Felkin, Rothwell, Shefield, Sherbura-inElmet, Wath and the local company. The bells were kept going during the aftermon, and at the service a short address was given by the Vicer (the Rev. A. Walls). Tea was served in the Parochial Hall, a grod company heing present. The Rev. Canon Hone, Rector of Bernsley, presided at the business meeting, at which a vote of condolence was passed with the relatives of Mr. George Pickles, of Horbury, who was a ringer for 45 years, and was buried there on thet day. The motion was curried by the company standing in silence. The guditor's report showed an increase of $15 s .6 \mathrm{~d}$. on the year's working, and the balance sheet proved satisfactory to all.

All the officers were re-elected.
Messrs. R. H. Dove and T. W. Strangeways were elected members of the association, and South Kirby was chosen for next place of meeting.
A disoussion arcse re the extension of the radius for the Shiold Contest, and it was fimally agreed that it be open to all who are members of the association one calendar month before the contest.
After the usnal vote of thanks, further ringing taok place bothe on handbells and in the tower in various metiods.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

OENTRAE DLSTRIGT AT EDMONTON.
A very enjoyable meeting of the Contral District of the Ladies Guild was beld at All Saints', Bdmonton, on Saturday, February 2211 d and was very well attended. Methods were rang to suit the needs of all.
A very short service was lield, at which the Vicar officiated, following which the company sat down to an enjoyable tea.
The meeting was even shorter than the service. Mrs. Deal presided, and it was proposed by Mrs. Fletcher that the next meeting should be held at Lambeth. The date was left in abeyance to suit the Vicar
A vote of thanks was accorded to Mra. Fletcher for waking all the necessary arrangements for such a successful meeting.
The members adjourned to the tower to join the menfolk in further ringigg.

TWO QUESTIONS FOR KENT,

The question of appointing District Ringing Masters in the Kent County Association seems to have given rise to a considerable division of opinion in the county, and there promises to be lively debate at the forthcoming annual meeting both on this and on the other proposal not to admit to unattached membership a ringer living in a parish or neighbourhood where there is a band he may join. As far as Kent is concerned these are both matters of domestic policy, which the members themselves must settle, and despite all that has been said there is no reason why such questions should not be settled with perfect good feeling. But there are points in both which will interest other similar ringing organisations.
In many other associations and guilds District Ringing Masters have been appointed with excellent results. Where there is no such official, the ringing at meetings is often badly organised, and the old adage that 'what is anybody's business is nobody's business ' comes into play. Where the ringing is in the hands of a properly responsible official, whose duty it is to see that all capabilities are met and ambitions satisfied, ringers are usually properly catered for. Of course, not every Ringing Master is always successful, but without such an official in charge there is obviously less chance of this end being served. Whether the proposal before the Kent Association to make a proviso that the Ringing Master shall function only when no responsible member of the tower is present is wise, is another matter. It appears to be the crux of the situation as far as the association is concerned, and it is an issue of importance which the members must carefully consider. The point, as it strikes us, is, will competent men be found to act purely as a makeshift? Would a self-respecting ringer accept office knowing that he would have no authority, if he attended a meeting and found a local ringer in the tower? Usually an office holder makes it a point of honour to be present to discharge his duties, but would a Ringing Master, who did not know until he reached the meeting whether or not he would be entitled to function, be prepared to make a sacrifice to be present every time?
The other matter is one which is equally of interest to others besides members of the Kent Association. It seeks to drive into affiliated companies any ringer who may be residing in the neighbourhood, if he would retain his membership. We presume the words 'which he may join ' are intended as a safeguard in case a ringer might not be acceptable to the nearest company. But even if that contingency is provided for it seems to us to create (Contivued on parge 186.)

a rather dangerous situation. While it is recognised that every ringer should be definitely attached to a tower, circumstances can quite conceivably exist which, in the individual's opinion, make it desirable that he should remain independent of his local band. For instance, unless a man can be regular in his attendance for service ringing and practice he may feel that he could not in fairness to others attach himself to a band, although he is prepared to give his services when they are available. But because for that or other reasons, he prefers to remain unattached to a particular tower, it seems to us that the association is hardiy serving its own best ends by denying him membership. Even the proviso referred to, if proviso it be, is one-sided. No company, we imagine, would admit the right of an association to compel them to accept into their band a ringer whom they preferred not to have. For that reason the proviso is necessary. But if that is admitted, it cannot be fair to put coercion on a member to join a company he prefers to keep out of. The proposal before the Kent Association may have been drafted with the best of motives, but it seems to us of very dubious value. It might weaken rather than strengthen the organisation.

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING FROM A NON-OBSERVATION J3HLL.
From previous articles, readers will bave been able to ather that it is poseible for conductors to rary a composition to suit their own convenience. It is just as well, however, that young conductors should as soon as possible learn to call origival compositions from a nonobservation bell.

It is difficult to lay down aus hard and fast rules for this; different ringers have difierent ways of doing it. Some are competent emough to know where all the bells should be at any time, athers where they should be at the next bolb-they do it by transposition-and they can work out as they go along what they themselves will be doing in relation to the observation bell.
Others can do it merely from an excellent 'ropesight,' which enables them to see where their observation bell is without making transpositions. But in the earlicr stages those whe wish to call from nonobservation bells have to learn some of the effects of the bob-making process.
Let us laok for a bit at Plain Bob. There are certain things which act as a definite guide. For instance, it is a frequent thing to huve bobs the full length of a course apart, auch as a geries of three Homo calls. If at the first of these calls you dodge aither in 5.6 (up) or 6.5 (down), then you wili be in the corresponding place at each of the next two calls, because in either of these places is the bell untaffected by the bobs.
T'le threa 'bob-making' bells, alse, are not difficult to follow. The positions 'Tn,' when the bell runs in to take the treble of lead: 'Out," when the bell runs straight out from leading and make the bobs' whon the bell makes 4th's place follow a cycle. Let us for brevity indicate them as I. O. 4 respectively. If a bell is I at the first bols, it will be at 0 and 4 at the two succeeding bobs, proviced, of course, the bobs are a full course apart with no other calls between. If a bell is at $O$ at the first bob, it will be at 4 and I at the succebling bobs; and if it is called 4 at the firse it will be at $I$ and $~ O$ at the succeeding bobs, This applies whether the calls are three "Homes,' thiree 'Wrongs, on three 'Middles.'
If a Wrong follaws a Home, the call, in Bob Major, is at the next lead; and so is a bob at Home following a Middle. There are plain methods with Bob Major bobs in which the lead onds do not follow in the same order, but there is always this similarity botwean them. Whether the W follows the $\mathbf{F}$, or the $\mathbf{H}$ follows the $M$, either at the nest lead or after more than one lead, the same bell that rums Out althe first call, will also run Ont al the next, so you will know when to call the bob by the fact that the treble is to take this bell of at lead.
The transpositions in obler cases you can work out for yourselves and make your own table, For justance, the bell that will mun Ont Wt the Home after a call Wrong is the one that made the bob at the Wrong. If the call after the Wrong is a Middle, then the bell that made the bob at $W$ will also make the Bob at M . If you investigate these things for yourself, you are more likely to remomber them than if you just read them in this article.
If yau have any pretension to be $a$ conductor, you must, of course. be able to follow the coursing arder of the bells, and one of the mosi. helpful guides to calling is to be able to discern whien a bob is approaching, by the relationship of other bells to the treble.
A boh Mídle changes the 6th's place bell; a bob Wrong changes the 5th's place kell. The 6th's place bell is the bell coursing in frout of the tenor. If you call a bob Middle, that bell, which at that prace is coursing down after the treble, will be called In. If you are nol quite sure when the Middle is coming, therefore, watch for your gth's place bell to make 2nd's, and hunt up after the treble; the vext lead is the place at which to call the bob.
When you call a bob Wrong, your new sth's place bell will run Out. The time to call the bob is when this bell leads in front of the treble. If you want a bob Before, you watcl? for the tenor to lount down in froat of the treble. That is the lead at which to make the call, becanse the tovor will then run aut. There are many other points whiel you can pick out for yourself if you look for them, and, carefully stored up in your memory, they subconstiously come into operation when you are ringing.
Do not forget that you can learn a tremendous lot abont conducting by the nis of pencil and prper, and to get used to calling fonches and peals from non-observation bells you nced to study and practise. But there is this consolation, a great deal that yon learn to-day in plain methods like Bob Major will apply equally when wou come to more complicated things like the Surprise mothods. For instance, much of what we hava said about Boh Major could be said also of Superlative or Gambridge or London. So that in stuxying Bob Majar you are laying a foundation for many other things.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT SHREWSBURY.
The Shropshic Association held its anoual gemeral mecting in Shrewblury.
The balls of St. Chad's Church were in uge shortly after 3 p.m., and despite tho wentlier a large company assembled.
A short service was conducted in St, Aidan's Chapel, after which was was tuken in the St. Ctad's Parish Rocm, there being 46 members present.
th the business meeting an npology was received from the Ringing Master, Major Trevor Corbett, who is abroad, and Canon G. M. Bell was ciected to the chair.
A. wote of conclolence to Mrs. Barnetz was moven by the Rev. E. C. Pigot, and a moment's silence was observed as a mark of sympathy for the death of Mr. E. Barmett, late conductor at Wem.
The meeting was unanimously in favour of all officers being reelected, the opinion being expressed that a very satisfactory year's progyess had beell made.
The balance sleet, presented by the treasurer, the Rev. E. C. Pigot, showed that without allowance ior Gentral Council tea expebees and the Pye Memorial, expandituce and income were approximatcly equal, the eubstantial balance of nearly 230 being in hand.

It was decided to continue the practioe of paying half tea expenges.
A lengthy discussion on meeting places resulted in a vote being taken, the following towers being selected: Coudowar, Waitchurch, Marke Drayton, Moreton Corbet aud Malins Lee.

A number of new members were elected as well as one confmation of election before a peal.
Tha secretary (Mr. R. R. Pole) proposed the election of Mr. J. Grifitian ms instructor, with authority in arranging touches at meet-ings.-This was carried.
Mr. W. A. Farmer (Shrewsbury) spoke of the excellent results produced by the committee elected to arrange the reception for the Central Conncil, and proposed the election of a committee to deal with matters left from the annual meeting, Messrs. W. Saunders, A. Pritchard, J. Griffths and W. A. Farmer being appointed, together with the secretary and treasurer.
The business meeting closed with a pote of thanks to the chairmau, Canon Bell, after which a return was made to the tower.
tho standard of ringing during the day was yery gaod, Cambridge, Major, Grandsire nnd Stedmen Triples and Oaters, Kent and Plain Hob Ropal being rung, as well as a course of Grandsire Cinques Many ringers ctijoyed their first ring on twelve bella.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN BRANOH AT DODDERHILL.
A successful meeting of the Wastert Branch of the Worcesteraline Association was held at Dodderhial, adjoining Droitwich, on Eaturday, March 14th, and was attended by about fifty mewbers. Welcone visitors came from Hinton, Stourbridge, Bromsgrove, Oldbury aud Kicg's Norton, amonr whom were Mr, I. D. Jolinson (general hon. eecretary) and Mr. C. W. Cooper (libuarian). The bells were set going at 3 p.m. to Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples, Mr. C. Camm (Ringing Master) sceing that evaryone had a parl.

At the service which followed, the Mev. A. G. Pettigrew delivered an interesting adidess, and remarked upon the jmportance oi ringers in the life of the Church. After tea, which was generously provided by tha Vicar, cnme the business meeting, and the frst important item was tho announcement of the intended resignation of Mr. R. G. Enowles as Central Council representative for the branch.

Mr. Enowles has been a member of the Council for nine years, and only cama to bis dedision to resign after carciul consideration. He was asked to reconsider lis decision but said he was marble to do so. one reason being that the felt he could not undertake the long journcys the coming threa years would ontail, and the absence from home.
The meating then regretfuily accepted his resignation aud thanked him for tha able manner be had carrred out his duties. Mr. G. Hinton proposed that Mr. S. T. Holt be nominated as successor to Mr Knowles, whereupon Mr. Holt proposed the new branch secretary 1 Mr G. T. Large), who, however, dechined the office. Mr. Holt was, there fore, nominated.
Mr. W. H. Raxter was chosen to conduct the quarterly perl at Dodderhill, with as many of the local band in it as was possible. It was proposed that Welland be the place for the next meeting, witt Hanbury as the alternative.
The meeting unanimously agreed to send Mr. J. S. Goldsmith henrtiest congratulations upon the silver jubilee of "The Ringing World 'and sincere wishes for its long and contitued existence in his hands.
The Ficar gave a very appropriate speech, in which be said the paper deserved better of tho Txercise than at present, and made tho suggesfion that if individnal ringers could not take it, perhaps every tower in the branch would take a copy, which would be better than at present, and might leat to more individuals taling it when they realised its worth. Ho himself would certainly become a subscriber
After the vate of thanks to the chairmen, members again made use of the bells until 6.30 p.7n. Tonches of Stedman, Donble Norwich and a course each of Gambridge and London Sinstise was rung. It is very gratifying to the secretary blat this, his first meeting in that capacity, should have been such a success.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A peal at Glossop, recorded this week, was rung in honour of what is rare in church work. Three of the band were celebratiag tho completion by each of them of 50 years' continuous service as ringers at St. James Church, Whitfeld. Their names deserve to be priated in capitals: JOSEPH MARSDEN; THOMAS JACKSON; WLI GARSDEE It is a magnificent record!

Mr, Philip Hardy, who has been a ringer for 52 gears, has just conpleted 50 Jears as captain of the ringers at Thrussington, Leicestershire. Mr. Hardy, who is a retired schoolmaster, is 76 years of age.
Mr. Johu Castle, of Bedworth, at the age of 61 years has just rang bis first peal. He took the treble to 5,040 Grandsire Jyoubles at Bulkington, Warwickshire. After the peal, which was specially arranged for Mr. Castle, the ringers were hospitably entertained by Mrs. J. L. Hinde. The ringers of 1 and 2 were from Bedworth, 3 and 6 from Bulkington, 4 from Nuneaton and 5 from Chilvers Coton.
Cranleigh has traly the 'drawing room' of the belfries of the Gaildford Diocese. The large carpet which adorned the centre of the rimging chamber was greatly admired by more than one lady member at the meeting on Saturday.

These new impravements were noter by the wisitors, who were accustomed to the somewhat uneven floor that used to be very much in evidence.
Congratulations to Mr. R. Whittington on these improvements. He was a genial host to the visitors on Saturday. A treachant critie, perhaps, when away from home, but a helpful coussellor in his own tower.
The ' Dast Anglian Masazine' for March, an artistic proauction sold at 1s., contains an interesting article by M. C. G. Hooton on "Bells and Belluinging in East Anglia," with a number of appropriate illustrations, includiag the inscription on the tenor bell at St. Bone't's Chureh, Cambridge, and the famous tenor at Laverbam, cast in 1625.
'Master' Maurice Eibbert can, we think, justify the claim made on his behalf to be the 'youngest, ringer to ring a peai of Spliced Surprise. Fe rang a peal in four methods on February $29 t h$ on the oceasion of his eleventh birthday! The only snag to the record is that he was born in 1888.
The ring of fivo bells at Fxning, near Newmarket, is being relnng with new fitings in new frame by John Taylor and Co. The work is being carried out nuder the direction of Mr. Weir, architect to the Society for the Protection of Ancient Biuildings, who is also J'estoring the tower.
The bells of St. Mary's Church, Portsea, are to be broodeast on the National wavelength on Sunday at 7.55 p.m.
A number of reports and letters to the Editor are unavoidably held over.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION  AN APPEAL FOR UNITY.  To the Editor.

Sir,-Revised ruies, a copy of which has been sont to all bandz iz union with the Kent County Association, are to be discused aud approved; or disapproved, at the annual meeting on Easter Monday. Judging by the tone of recent eorrespondence in "The Ringing World ${ }^{2}$ and discussions in some districts, I am inclined to think we are "in for a lively time at that meeting." and I sympathise already with the chairman, wheever he may be, and also with onr wortly general secretary.
Personally, I think a largo majority of our members are taking very little interest in this matter of rules, and would prefer not to listen to all this argument and personal feeling which I fear exists amongst members in more districts than one. This is very regrettable and ourht not to be.
I sincerely trust that when we meet at Westerham on Faster Monday all those who intend to speak will do so in the right spirit and cut out all personal fooling. In this season of Lent let ue simpall our differences one with the other privately, and then on Easter Monday go to the meeting in full force, prepared to shake hands and enjoy the meeting, and ringing at all the varieus towers open to 11 .
If this feeling were strengthened amongst us, J venture to say there would be little need to revise some of our existing lules, as many of the now unattached members would join a band im nion, as they should do.

Incidentally, I think, if Rule 4 a ends at 'Fund,' we shall soow have a large list of unattached members. Again I say, regrettable also, if the right spirit prevailed at all these ringiut meetings, there would be little need of a Ringing Master, which is nuother sore point. Finally, I sgain plead for more unity and brotherly feeling in our dear old K.C.A.C.R.
W. SPICE, Sen.

Tunstall,

- NAME PEALS OF CAMBRIDGE.  Fo the Editor.

Dear Sir,-With reference to the footnote to the 'William' peal rung at St. Mary's, Ealing, on Saturday, Tebruety 22nd, 1936, and publighed in the last issue of "rime Ringing World, may $I$ state that a 'Thomas" band rang a peal of Cambrídee Surprise Major at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, on Saturday, December 15th, 1934, composed by T. B. Worsley, coudueted by T. Greombridge, jun.

THOMAS J. LOCK.

OUR SILVER JUBILEE. CONGRATULATIONS TO ' THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor desires heartily to thank the many correspondents who have sent their congratulations to "The Ringing World ' and personally to him, upon the Silver $J$ ubilee of the paper. These messages have been further proof of the appreciation which ringers have of the work which is done in the interests of the art.

At the meeting of the Worcestcrshire Association at Dodderhill and of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Cranleirh on Saturday resolutions of congratulation were passed, and at Burnham, Bucke, and at Guildford, Surtey, complimentary peals were rung.

It is impossible to quote the many congratulatory mexsages that have been received, but here are a fow typical examples of the kindly aature of the letters that have reached us:-
' On behalf of our lacal ringers and myself I should like to offer you the heartiest of congratulations upon "The Ringing World's" silver jubiles. What you have done for the Exercise in maintaing the paper durivg these many and difficult years is appreciated more than, perhaps, you can ever know. We should like you to have, also, this expression of our gratitude for a very noble work. May the day be far distant when you will cease to gaide the helm aud inspire-as you have been doing-the minds of ringers all avor the word! With the very best of wishes for future prosperity.
C. CAREW COX.'

The Vicarage, Lyme Regis.
It is wonderful achievement to have kept the paper going all this time. As I have said before, what should we do without it? $\mathbf{I}$ do not think I hove missed ane number in all the 25 years. Ringers ought to support it in greater numbers. I hope they will more and more reatise its value and inorease their support.
W. H. LAWRENOE,'

Little Munden, Herts.

' Congratulations on the 25 years' circulation of your valuable "RingWorld.' May it for ever continue. I have its first issue.

Congratulations on your silver jubilee, and may you he sparea long to continue with the activities of "The Ringing World." As one who has taken tho joumal for about 20 years, it las always been the greatest pleasure to me to read its contents.'

DEATH OF MR. J. PREWETT.

FORMER HERTS ASSOOLATION AUDITOR
The death has occurred at Bushey, Herts, at the advanced age of 93 years, of Mr. Jacob Prewett, father of the late Mr. Bertram Prewett, who, before lie was killed in France in 1918, had established himself as one of the most prominent and able ringers in the country.
Mr. Jacob Prewett was one of a family of 15 and was born at Aldebury, Wilts. Fo went to Loudon when be was thirty, but all his life ratained his love of the country and was never happier than when in lis garden. He went to live in Bushey in 1879 , and was a sidesman at St. Paul's Church for 23 years.
Although not ringer, le was greatly interested in ringing, and for many years was hon. auditor of the Herts Association. Deccased, who is survived by a daughter, was buried on Tuesday weck in the grave where his wife was interred, the Rev. J. R. Parkyn officiating at the service.

THE NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

AN APOLOGY.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-I should esteem it a favour if you will canse to be published in wour next issue the following:-
I very much regret having made reference to Mr. W. P. Deane in such a manner as in my letter published in your issue dated D'ecember 20th, 1935, relating to the annual meetiug of the North Stafis and District Association at Stoke on December 7th, and I wish to extend to him au apology for liaving dolle so
J. F. WHEELDON,

Ringing Master', North Staffs Association.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Swinclon Branch was held at St. Mark's, Swiadon, on Saturday, March $14 t h$, with a fairly good attendsnce of wembers and visitors. Some very good practice was obtained, the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Triples to Double Norwich and Cambridge draor. The places for the next three meetings were fixed as follows: Brinkworth, Purtoll and Bishopstone, of which due notiee will appear.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETING OT THE SOUTHERN DIVLSION AT BARCOMBE.
On Saturday, the annual meeting of the Southern Division was held at Barcombe. The tawer was open from 2.30 to 8.30 , and the 40 ringers present kept the bells well employed in methods ranging from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Minor.
The Rector (the Rev. F. W. Farrar) conducted the service, and preached an unusual sermou, which was greatly appreciated far its eloquence and sincerity.
After service the ringers were entertained to tee ato the Rectory, where the business meeting took place. The secretary (Hfr. S. E. Armstrong) was re-elected for a further year, as were the committee ard the Committee of Advice.
Mention was made of the great loss the division liad suffered in the passinl on of two of its oldest members, Mr. G. Bleacin, of St . Nicholas', Brighton, and Mr. E. O. Merritt, of St. Peter's, Brighton The members stood as a mark of respect, and the socretary was asked to send a letter of condalence to Mrs. Merrist.
Twelve towers were represented at the mecting, and it was par ticularly gratifying to have present the Master (Mr. H. Ih. Butcher), the hon. gemeral secretary (Mir. A. D. Stolle) and the secretary of the Eastem Division, who was accompanied by the hon. breasurer.

DIVISIONAL SECRETARY RETTRES

Mr. A. W. Groves' Twenty-Dne Years' Service

After serving the Western Division of the Sussex County Association faithfully and well for 21 years, Mr. Alfred W. Groves has refired from the office of hon. secretary. He relinguished his duties at the annual meeting of the division, held at his own tower at Heene, and received the warm thanks of the association, expressed through the Master, Mr. H. R. Butcher.
Ringipg, which commenced at 3 o'clocle, was followed by a short service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. A. Haviland). Thirty members, including Mr. F. R. Butcher, Master of the Association, were present at tea in the Ohurch Room, representing the following towers: Anundel, Billingshurst, Brighton, Chichester, Goring, Heene, Lymingter, Shoveham and Warnham.
At tha business meeting the Rector presided, supported by the Master and Mr. S. E. Armstrong (agsistant general secretary)
Twelve new mombers were clected, viz., Messrs. Lesifa Smith, Leglie Green, Hilton Ungless, Waldegrande Ungless, Stanley Cheeaman, Frank Bentick, Frank Alfrey, Anthony Cowd, Jefirey Cowd, Haymond Read, Mervyn Atwwater and Cliford Warcham.
The following afīeers were elected: Mr. F. Meetens, district secretary: Messrs. T. Adams, G. Norvis amd J. Farmer, on the Association Committee; Messrs. E. Lindup, E. Greenfeld and R. Wood, jon., as Advisory Committee.
Votes of thanks were accorded to the chairman for presiding, for providing the tea and for his excellent address.-The Rector suitalbly esponded and gave the members a welcome to Heene.
The vote of thanks, proposed on behalf of the association by the Master, secoaded by Mr. Walter Clarman, to the retiring secretary, was received with acclamation.
Mr. Groves, replying, thanked MIr. Butcher and MLr. Chaman for their kind words, also the members who had so readily supported him during his 21 years of office. The members then returved to the belfry for further practice.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

LARGE GATHERTNG AT RANMOOR.
The ammal meoting of the Sheffield and District Society was held at St. Fohn's Chureh, Ranmoor, Sheffield, on Saturdey, March 7th. It was attended by 75 members and friends.
The mice light peal of ten bells was available quite early, and touches in verious methods were ring during the afternoon, to suit all who eared to have a pull, Mu. George Lewis, Ringing Master, carryigg out his dutjes in a most admirable manner despite the large number desirous of liaving a ring.
The Rev. G. K. Dixon (enrate) conducted the eervice at shont notice owing to the Vicar (the Rov. H. O. Foster) having becn taken ill. The Rev. G. K. Dixon's address was eloquently given and appreciated all who were fortulate to be presont, Tea, provided in the Church Hall, was followed by a courge of Graddsire Caters. The president (My. C. Hayres) occupied the chair at the business meeting, ato which the adoption of the balance sineet was moved by Mr. W. Wooler and accepted.

The hon. secretary (SIT. M. E. Wilson) gave his repart on the past year's activitics. Elever peale had been rung, subserintions were well paid up to date, and attendances at mectings were excellent. Twerfy new members, including hon. memhers, had been elected.
Mr. Norman Chaddock was elected Ringing Master, Mr. George Lewis resigning, owing to business reasons, The remaining officers wers re-elected en bloc.

It was decided to hald the ringing competition for the society's silver cup at Clowne on Saturday, July 25th.

Mr. Potter (Barmsley) tendered a hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the mecting a most enjoyeble gathering.-Mr. William Bilson (Rammoor company) suitably replied.

Several visitors were present in the tower after the meeting, from outside the district, having taken advantage of the popular evening tiips. The bells were kept going until 9.15 p.m.

DEATH OF AN OLD TODMORDEN RINGER

VISITED AMERICA WITH FANDBELIS.

It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Toln Mittou, of Tormorden, Lancs, which oceurrod at the Manchester Royal Tufirmary on Wodnesday, February 12th. The funeral took place at the Unitnrian Church on Saturday, February 15th, his birthday, when had he lived, he would have been 83. He is survived hy a daughtor and three sons. Mr. Mitton had led an exceedingly active life, and was one of the town's most familiar figures. He started work at the mge of eight years and retired on attaining the ege of 70.
In local ringing circles he was well known and was the oldest ringer in the district. He had been of steeple ringer at the Unitarian Clurch for nearly 50 years, but it wrs as a loandilell ringer that the gained most distinction. He was a mewher of tho old Todmorden Handbelt Ringers, who, in their prime, performed in the principal halls in Englant, ind in 1899 fulfilled an engagement at the Maritime Fxbibition at Boston and qave performanees at other principal cities and towns in the United States and Ganada.
Mr. Mitton never lost his interest in handbell ringing, and gave selections at parties when called upon. All his life he had been associsked with the Unitarian Church and School and since youth had heen a member of the Humility Lodge of Oddfellows, M.U.
The following ringers acted as beareas at the fumeral Messis. H. Davenport, W. Crabtrce, F. Fielden, J. Nash. G. Sutcliffe mud F, Suteliffe. As tho funernd' was nrriving at the church the 'whole pall and stand, was mug. Over the grave a conrse of Grapdsire Triples on handhells was rung by Mr. and Mrs, W. Crabtree. Mr. H. Davenport and Miss Rose RetT, and aftorwards mixed hands of Local rincera rang touches of Grandsiro and Plain Bob with the tower bells filly muflea.

VETERANS STILL ACTIVE.

BIRTHDAYS OF THREE

This picture whel we repraduce to-day las a fresh news interest. It is, as many of our readers will recognise, a photograph of the band of veterans whe in October, 1933, rang a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, at the time their combined ages amounted to the record total of 612 yearg.
Since that time two of them have passed away, Mr. Walfer Prime and Mr. Ernest Bishop. Tho rest are still 'going strong.

We record in another column a peal to celebrate the 83rd birthday of Mr. William T. Pates, of Cheltenham. Mr. Pates was among the men who, at the latter end of last century, niade zinging history.

Last Monday, Mr. F. E. Drwe celebrated his 74th birthday, and on Tuesday Mr. Challis Wimey completed his 78th year. We regret very much to say that Mr. Winney was last week admitted to St. Dunstan's Hospital for treatment for trouble m one of his legrs. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.
Mr. James Gearge, anobler of the veterans band, and, yow 82, third only in seniority of age, has just rung his 1,250 ph peal. It was Mr. Pates' birthday commemoration peal, to which Mr. George rang the 11 th .
Mr. James George, who rang the 9th to a half-mufled peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's for the death of Queen Vietaria in

In the lato '80's two recorca were set up at Cheltenham, and in both peals Mr. Pates was the conductor. In 1888 a peal of 13,054 Stedman Caters was rung in 8 hours 16 minutes, and when, on the last day of the same year, this Caters record was beaten at Appleton with a 15,041 . Mi: Pates organised a band who rang in April, 1889, a 15,227 Graudsire Caters at Cholfenham in 8 houss 43 minutes.
Mr. Pates' $83 r d$ birthday was celebrated first of all with touches rung on the Parish Chureh bells, followed by a jolly little supper party at his home, Tudor House. Selections on haudbells and songs afterwards passed a happy hour or tro, and the 'health of Mr. Pates ' was honoured on the call of Mr. Yeend, sen.

1901, the tenor at Cripplegate, Loncion, and the tonor at Aston-underLyue to peals for the death of King Faward V1I., iu 1910, tho tenom ab Bow, Cheapside, in 1925 for the fumeral of Queen Alexandra, as well as taking part in a peal for the Silver Jubilee of Fing Guorge V. and a half-mufted poal for His Majesty's death, has had this long connection with royal events brought to the notice of His Majesty Kins Edward VIII. He has now veceived a lebter from the Home Office, in which the Secretary of State says: "Your letter of the Sth March, giving details of your bellinging on certain occasions and expressing sympathy with His Majesty on the death of King George, has been laid before the King,"

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.  OEVIZTS BRANCH AT POTTERNE

The Devizes Branch lield their March meeting at Potterue on Saturday, when 30 members attended from Bishop's Cannings, Bristol (St. Peter's), Bratton, Devizes (St. John's), Findon, HoIt, Keinton Mandewille, Market Lawington, Melksham, North Bradloy, Nailsea, Potteme, Rowde, Sonthbroom, Seend, Tibbury, Westhury and Warminger. The Rev. J. A. Etrorton, Yicax of Narket Lavington, and Mr. O. D. Heginbothom (rice-president) were also present. The Vicar of Pattene (the Rev. A. Swann) condicted the Guild service, in the course of which he gave a short address. He said that the rimgers holding their meetinge every month in different parish was a good and right thing to do, to help in the cheorful worship of God. Men of ability aud character were needed to help in the work of the Church.
At the close of the service all adjommed for tea in the Church Hall, and Messrs. Wells are to be congrafulated on the arrangements made.
The business meeting followed, Mr. E. T. Whita (branch chairman) presiding. The ueual routine having been disposed of, Mr. White voiced thanits to those concenned in the arrangements, stating how pleased ereryone was to see Mr. Hegirbothom at the meeting. In reply, Mr. Eeginbothon said he was thankful to be wall allough to attond. He went an to refer to the loss the Derchester Brancla had sustained by the death of the Rev. E. S. Ficld, Vicar of Buckland Nowton. The eecrebary was asked to send a lefter to Mr. P. Field, Riaging Master of thati braoch, conveying the sympathy of the membere in his lereavement.
The sectetary also reported the passing of Mrs. Cook, of Brabiton, widow of tho late Mr. Ben Cook (vice-chairman of the brauch for a mumber of years). The meeting stood in silence for a few moments as 亿 marl of respect.
The members afterwards returned to the tower for finther ringing, with the exception of a handbell party, who remaimed under the conductorship of Mr. ㅇ. Hillier. During the evening Devizes (St. John's) and Sonthbroom bells were available. The methods rung covered a wide range, some excellent practico boing obtained by the younger members.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

FARNHAM DISTRICT SECRETARY CRLTICISES SLACKERS.
Ille ammal matiag of the Finmam District of the Guildiord Dioccenc Guild was held at Faraham on Saturday, February $29 t h$. Ringing started at 3 p.ra. under the conductorshig of the District Ringing Masker (Mr. IR. Hasted).
THo Guild service was couducted by the Rector of Farmbam (Canon E. M. Girlisg). Choirboys led the singing, mad Mr. G. G. Macklin war at the organ
In tho ecarse of his address Canon Girling said the subject of changes ought to bo familiar to bellringars, and he wanted them to think of somo useful changes which they could make in their own lives.

EIGHT GHANGDS.
Canon Girling went on to describe eight changes, which was the number of bolls in Farulam Church tower, whicla they might make. Ho Frst suggesteỉ a clange in temper. Sit. Jobn, who once liad a very obwious temper indeed, Eater became known as the Apostle of Love. Fe had heen abla to chango his temper. A change in their reading was, he thought, indicated. He suggested a change from the lighter forms of literature ta sometling that was roally good and worth while reading ; to the great novols that would become classies and, of course, that greatest of all books, the great library they called the Bible.
Speaking of a chnnge of babits, Camon Girling said it was so easy to get into a labit, say, of not attending cluveli. Perlaps some of them, after they had ruag the bells for other people to go to cluurelt, dit not themselves go. Perhaps a change in that direction would be lielpful. Then they would be a great deal better for a change of langunge. He did not mean to infer that they were all havd swearers; but the belfry was part of God's house and consecraled like the rest of the buildiug. Their language should be beyond reproach.
Than how about a change of morals? Fie did not mean that they were bad in that way, yet would it not be possible to make a change and set up a standard of what was really good and pure, and make a real stand for God and purity?
Cnuon Girling went on to speak of a clange in prayers-a development and real effort on their part to hold a conversation with God and to listen to what He said. Referming to a chalrge of heart, he sumgestod that instead of having their affections set on the things of the oarth they should havo their real affection entwined around the things of the jeart. If all of them went throngl these changes what a diference it would make. Not only would their technique be improved, hut they would know they were ringing because they wanted? others to share in samething they had already known for themselves.
Ten was gerved nt Rogers' Cafe, to which 45 sat down, Afterwards tho business mpeting was prosided over by Canon Girling.
A cheque for Ios. 6nl. towards the Guild Benevolent Fund was received from an hon, moraber, Mr. W. A. Dollimore, who was heaztily thanked for his generosity at all times.
As no other nominations hind been received, the district officers were re-plected, viz.: Ringing Master, Mr. R. Hasted: hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. C. W. Denyer; hon. auditor, Mr. P. Eldridge. Executivo Committee representatives: Ringing, Messrs, T. Upshail (Farnlamy and F. Nye (Bagghoty, and honorary, Mr. W. A. Dollimore (Adershot). On the motion of the Recter, the oficers were fhanked for their scrvicas in the past.
The bajamee eheet showed a slight inerease of the balance in hand, £15 17s. IId., as comparell with 815 15s. 1d. last year.
It was explained that the cost of the valuable fibrary books bought ly the Guild had been silarexi by tho four districts, the amonnt from aich beirg based on the parcentage of members in each district. The Farnhama Distride paid 35 per gent. of the total cost, viz., £2 32s. 6d.
The accounts wero adopted.

CRITIOISMS.

The clistrict secretary, in his report, recorded that the ringing memberslip had decensed from 132 to 121. Honorary membership that remained at 30 as in 1934. Four belfries were endeavouring to risise furts for restoration purposes. At Grondall ringing had stopped owing to the very bad condition of the boll frame and the bells; nt Ash the bolls and frame desperately needed overhauling by bellhalpors; at Jorktown a fund lad been open for a considerable time for the rehanging of the belle, nud at Faraham the fund for tower wall repaits nind refaciug was still in need of support.
'The report procoeded; ' Every ringer should be punctial and regular at practice and each should be there with a will to learm. Some there aro who "know all there ts to know " about ringing nnd they vefuse to bo told anything. The result is that they not only spoil their own clinnces, but they prevent precress baing made in the tower.
"A ringer who nttends practice andid who fails to show up on Sunday is utterly failing iu his (or her) duty, as also is the tinger who never attents a practice or mecting, but wio arrives end expects to ring on Sundny. Sundny service ringing shonk not be turned into an ordinnry practice.

- Any rimger who waits to hear the bells before going along to ring is not playing the game; nor is a ringer who does not appear on practica oflat until after tho "boginners" liave finished. The most orperienced rimper on leam somehing, even from rounds or plain courrees of Doubles.
- Worse still is an experienced ringer who does not attend a belfry because " they are only st crowd of beginuers and can"t bandle or strike the bells.

Certain belfries in this district boast more ringers than bells, but through the slackness of certain members all the ropes are not manued on Suadays. Where these circumstances prevail, it is the duty of local captains to get recruits so that these unreliable people may not diaorganise the service riuging. Recruits sitould be obtained, if necessary, assistancs being sought from the incumbent.

Most of them know that ringers in all these classes were to be found all over the country. He regretted that they liad a few in their own district. He appealed to all ringers, particularly those in the branch who felt, perlhaps, that they lad not becn pulling their woight, to make a real effort and endeavonr to do their full share in the church work which they had, or stould have, so much at beart.
It was thought that the drop in the ringing membership was not as serious as it appeared. The Grondall membership had almost ceased, but it was loped this would be rectificd as soon as the bells and frame at Grondall were restored.

THE TTAM SPLRIT.
The Clairman commented upon the excellence of the report, and paid tribute to the team ppivit of the ringers generally upon the way the criticisms were received. He hoped all wonld attend to the urgent matters contained in tho report, particularly where bells or bell frames needed attention.
It was decided to hold meetings during 1936 at Hawley (8), Famborough (6), Frensham (6), Yorktown (8) and Bentley (6), with an additional meeting at Seale (6) if it were possible to arrange one. The dates of these meetings were left to the secretary ta fix. The annual district meeting was agreed upon for January 23rd, 1937.
The Guild officers were renoninated, with the addition of Mr. C. W. Denver for the Central Gouncil.
The following new ringing members were elected : Mescrs. K. and D. Dalton (Freasham), V. Wilkinson (Yorktown) and S. Butler (Aldershot). Mrs. F. J. Eweus (Yorktown) was elacted as ali honorary member.

It was decided to restart the District Committee, which will consist of the district officers and two membera from each of the eleveu towers in the district. As the Guild with at preseat only permits one member from each tower, it was agreed to give notice of motion to tha Executive Committee for the necessary amendment of this rule. It was considered that two members would attend a committee mecting, whereas one might not.

Mr. J. W. Carter (Seale) sincerely thanked Canon Girline for Mis welcome and his address. Mr. Carter also thanked the organist, choir and loeal ringers for their ghare in the success of the meeting (applanse). Canou Girling briely replied.
A collection for the William Pye Memorial Fund amounted to 11s.
At the close of business the ringers returned to the belfry to iudulge in further ringing. Towerg represcoted during the moeting included Aldersliot, Ash, Seale, Bagslot, Alton, Guildford (S. Nicolas'), Farnham, Farnborougit, Worplesdon, Brookwood, Hastemere, Handon, Yorit town, Frenslam and Bentley.

CONGRATULATIONS AT A MEETING.

THT EDITOR MELLS OF HIS DIFFTCULTRES

The thoughts uppermost in the minds of many ringers last week-end was the silver jubilee of 'T'lie Ringing World, not forgetting the joumal's founder, editor and propretor, Mr. J. S. Goldemith, who thronghout the past 25 years has contributed in go small measure towards the advancement of the Exerciso.
When the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild met at Cranleiglt on Saturday-and there was a gallant muster of 43 ringers present-many personal congratulations were extended to the Editor, who, being genoral secretary of the Guild, was among those who attended.
To put the matter strictly in order and to see that the efficient gecretary of the Guildford District (Mr. George Grover) duly recorded the memorable cecasion in the minute book of the district, an appropriate resolution of congratulation and best wishes to the Editor of : Tle Ringing World 'was proposed by Mr. T. W. Whito, who mentioned tha enormous value to the Exercise of 'The Ringing World,' not only from the point of view of the advancement of ringiug, but particularly in cementing together ringers in all parts of the conntry into one great fellowship. The ambassador of this friendelip had been Mr . J. S. Goldsmith, whose happy personality as he trevelled over the country to attend ringing meetinfs and functions was a great factor in establishing a spirit of unity throughout the ringing fraternity. The resolution was seconded by thle chairman (Major J. H. B. Hesse), who spoke of the self-sacifice of Mr. Goldsmith, whose worl as Editor he was sure was largely a labour of love. He appealed to ringers present, for a stronger support of 'The Ringing World, and urged those present to do their utmost to increase its eirculation.
Mr. R. Whitington, Cranleigh's veteran zinger, endorsed the resolution, which was carried with acclamation.
Mr. Goldsmith, in acknowledging the meating's good wishes, expressod the hope that he miglit be mpared to carry on for a few more years to come. As to tho future, he was afraid it would be fery dificult to find anyone interested in ringing who was prepared fo (Continued on page 199.)

take on 'The Ringing World' for the very mall remaneralion oftered. It would be a catastrophe to rincing not to lave a joumal, whether it was culled "'lhe Ringing World" or went under some other amae. If any of them could do anything to increase the circulation, the extra revenue would be retumed to the ringers, either in a better or clreaper paper. Peoplo did not realise that the cost of distribution was mare than the cost of the production of the paper: The cost of diskilution through the newsageat was more than lide a copy.

COMBINED PRACTICNS.

Mr. C. E. Smith raised the question of combiued prectices, and inguired whether any reports had been received following the decision of the district annual meeting.
The Chairman replied that Haslemere hat had a visit from Grayshott, and Mr. Whittington spoke of the happJ, relatjonship oxising between Ewhurgt and Granleigli. He had received an inquiry from Dunsfald, and was willing to visit that tower as soon as they wero ready for him.
It was also reported that. Worplesdon and Pirbright arranged comLined practices, and Mr. W. R. Melville slated that Holy grinity, Guildford, was receiving visitars from Old Woking.
Three new members-Messes. C. Farker (Pirbright), F. "I'. Foad (Godnlming) and J. Woodiord (Cranleigh) were elected. A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector of Cranleiglt (the Rev. H. L. Jolnuston) for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, to the organist and to the Cranleigh vingers for making the arrangements.
Plenty of yriety was inturduced into the ringing Superlativa, Cam. bridge, London, Kent Treble Bob, Stedman, Bob Major and Crandsiro all being tricd with varying success.

THE COUNCIL AND ITS BUSINESS.

Very soon, now, thoughts will be turned once again to the activities of the Central Council, which will meet in London at Whitsun. It will be the first meeting held under the complete operation of the new rules, and for this reason there will be some change in the representation of the affiliated societies. There may be a few who will not be entitled to as many representatives as in the past, but where there are changes they will, for the most part, be in the direction of increased representation. Membership goes in the following proportion for territorial societies: One representative for a recognised society with over 75 and less than 150 members; two representatives for a membership between 150 and 300; three for a membership between 300 and 450 ; and four (the maximum number) for a membership of over 450. Membership for the purposes of representation is based upon resident ringing and hon. members; non-resident ringing nembers do not count for this purpose. Certain non-territorial organisations, tike the College Youths and Cumberlands, are not affected by this "residential" qualification.

This new rule does not necessarily mean that societies will elect the full number of representatives to which they are entitled, although most of them will probably do so, but it does mean that they wifl be called upon to pay affliation fees to the Council in proportion to their membership. Hitherto it has been possible for even a large society to have full advantage of the Council's activities, while electing only one member and paying accordingly. As the Council's resources are devoted to furthering the art in a number of practical ways-notably the publishing at cost price of numerous works connected with ring-ing-it is only fair that societies should furnish financial support to some extent commensurate with their strength.
In recent years the work of the Council has been growing, and every meeting has provided almost more business than can be compressed into the hour available. From past experience, and from what we have heard, it would seem that the next meeting, which, of course, brings with it the triennial appointment of officers, is likely to be a very lengthy one. It would seem as if the time is approaching when the Council will have to start its meeting at an earlier hour than eleven o'clock. On one or two occasions in recent years the final stages of the business have been conpleted with a thinning attendance, owing to the early departure that some members from long distances have to make. It would be better to begin a little earlier and have any time there might be (Continued on page 202.)

to spare at the end of the business, if it could be arranged. One of the difficulties in the way is the present practice of holding a meeting of the Standing Committee before the Council meeting; but, seeing that this committee has, for the past few years, begun its meeting the previous evening, there would seem to be no insuperable difficulty in an alteration of the Council's meeting time, so that the business on the agenda can be got through in a full assembly. At any rate, if the congestion of the agenda increases, some change will be necessary if the business is to be adequately dealt with.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

an appeal for punctual sbrvice ringing

most enjoyable meeting of the Eastern and Western Districts of the Durlam and Newenstle Diocesan Association was held at Gateshend on Saturciay, March 14th, nany bolfries being represented from north of the Tyne to south of the Wear. Two ringers were also present from far of Kivkby Stephen. The bells were kept going during the afternoon, and tea was partaken of at the Anclorage. A short meeting was held, over which Mr. F. Sheration presided, supported by the Rev. Canon Steplenson.
After tha loyal toast, the chairman welcomed the 'strangers, and also the visitore, and hoped they would have a happy time.
Mr. J. Andereay proposed a vote of tharks to Canoy Stephenson for the use of the bells. He went on to say that he always appreciated the way in which the Cannon tumed up at ringers' meetings, and particularly the annual meeting, and Canon Stephenson always gave them ot hearty welcome. Mr, Anderson also reminded ringers dint, boing church bellingers, it was their duty to ring for sunday gervices, and that it was renlly church law that bells slondd be ring before services. It was sad to tlink of some belifies where ringers land often to wait for just ons or two and then probably not get the bells going. It was up to erch ringer to do lis utmost to further the art.

Canne Stephensan, in reply, said it was always a pleasure for his bells to bo rung, nad he wished the meetinge were more frequent. He appreciated the services of the ringers and hoped they would go away feeling that they had lad a happy time at the meeting.
Mr. Pickering proposed a vote of thanks to tie ladies for the housteous ten, which he was sure that everyone present had enjoyed. -The verger repliet on behalf of the ladies.
Mr. G. S. Taylor read a letter he had received from the Rector of Bishop Auckland asking the asbociation to hold a meeting there. A special meoline was arratnged for April 25th.
It was proposed that the next meeting be a joint one between the Enstern and Western Disbricts, and be held nit Chester-le-Street on Snturday, Jume 13th, Furthor ringing afterwnrelg tool place, and everyone wRs quite antisflod with the amount of ringing they obtained.

STILL RINGING AT 93

RYTHT VETERAN THF OLDES'T ACTIVE RINGER
To-morrow Mr. George Hemry Coombes, of 25 , Swanmore Rosd, Ryde, tale of Wight, will celelvate his 93 rd birthday, and ringers evarywhere will join its congratulating him
Mr. Coombes has been r ringer at All Srints' Church, Ryde, since the bells wero installed in 1886. Fe continues, despite bis great ege, to ring regularly for divine service on Sundays, and seldom misses the weekly ringing practice. Not only is Mr. Coonibes the oldest active ringini naember of the Winchester and Portsnoouth Diseesan Guild, huti is believed to be the oldest retive service ringer in the アritish Isles.

FOR BEGINNERS.

MAKTNG THE MOST OF DOUBLES.
Those ringers who confine their attention to ringing Doubles-and there are many-have a very limited scope for- varicty. Whereas un six bells the number of 'regular ' methods available ruys to over 200, if we include those which can be 'spliced ' together to make up a trine extent, the methods of pure Doubles can be counted on the fingers, while if we inchade all the methods which in these days would pass muster, it is only just over a score. But even with this limitation, the scope is not fully exploited by those who are compelled, or for other reasons are content, to confine their attention to five-bell methods.
We often wonder why this should be. It is a very monotouous thing always to ring just one method, especially when itg extent can be disposed of in five minutes or less. It may be that many ringers linve not the figures of the methods from which to learn. Let us, if we can, help you to something fresh.
'To begin with, we will assume you can ring Grandsire Doubles, in which there is another bell besides the treble doing a plaiy hunt, and a third's place made (causing the two bells behind to dodge) when the treble has led.
Now, try and rimg this method 'reverged " as it is called. You still have a bell in the hunt, but the Jud's place is made when the treble uas laid its whole pull behind. That canses the dodge to be made by the two bells in front-one dodging 1-2 (up) and the other 2-1 (down). In Grandsire 3 rd's place is made by the bell that the treble takes off lead: in Reversa Grandsire it is made by the bell that the treble turns from behind.
The bell that dodges in $5-4$ (down) in Grandsire passes the treble in 3-4 on its way up. In Reverse Grandsirc the corresponding dorge is in 1-2 (up) and the treble is passed in $3-2$ on the way down. In each case you strike over twa other bells before meeting the treble. The otller dodge, of course, is made after meeting the treble one place earlier ; is Grandsire you pass the treble in 2-3 before dodging in $4-5$ (up), and in Reverse Grandsire you pass the treble in $4-3$ as you go down.
The bobs in Reverse Grandsire are made when the treble is behind. The bell that passed the treble in $4-3$, instead of going down to the front to dodge, makes 3rd's and goes up again, turning the treble from betind and beooming the bell in the hunt. The bell coming out of the hunt double dodges in 1-2 (up), and the bell that would have dorlged in 1-2 (up) double dociges in 2-1 (down)
When a Single is made the bell the treble turns from behind (oorresponding to the one the treble turus from the front in Grandsire) makes 4th's place and turns the treble from behind, being then in tine hunt. The bell that would have gone jato the hurt, had tho call been a. bob, makes aut additional 3rd's place before going up behind again.

The conductor's task is quite a simple one. Reverse Grandsire is called exactly as Grandsire, except that the bobs and singles are called when the treble is in 3rd's place going up, instead of when it is in 3rd's place, going down. If you must have an observation bell, then for the calling that in Grandsire brings the 3 rd or 5 th eacli time into 4-5 up, call either the 4tli or the 3rd into 2-I (down)
Now from Reverse Graudsiro to Reading Doubles is an easy step. A plain lead of Reading is bobbed lead of Reverse Grandsire, and a plain course consists of only two leads. In Reading, however, the boh is matle when the treble is in front. The bell that, on the way up, passes the treble in 2-3, makes 3rd's (as if it were a bob in Grandsire) and goes down to take the treble off. This causes the two bells behind to have a simgle dodge-there is no other 3rd's place made from the front as in Grandsire, and there is no bell in the hunt.
A single in Reading is made by the two bells behind "lying still instead of doclging. That is to say, the bell that would lave dodged down makes 4 th's place and lies another whole pull behind: while the bell which. had it been a boh, wonld have dodged in $4-5$ (up), lies a whole mull behind: actually earrying on as if it were a plain lead
A 120 can be got by calling Job, Bob, Single at altermate leads and repeating. So that you may compare the methods, here are the figures. Note that in Etarting there is no 3rd's place made. The Jrd goos stralght up and the 4 th straight down:-

WHITFIELD VETERANS HONOURED.

FLFTY YEARS' SERVICE AT ONE CHURCH.
The three veterane at St. James' Church, Whitfield, Glossop, who, as already reported in 'The Ringing World,' have completed 50 years' eervice as ympers at the churels, have been honoured by their friends. They are Mr. T. Jackson, Mr, J. Marsden and Mr. E. Garside, and a tablet has now been erected in the belfry recording their long and loyal attachment.
The trio and their wives were eutertained at a social gathering, at which, mong the many ringers and friends present, was Mr. J. Lawton, who started runging with the other turee, but who spent eight years as a member of the band at the nearby tower of Holy Trinity, Dinting.

After tea, a sileace was observed in memory of the Whitfield ringers -twelve of them-who had passed away in the last 50 years, and then congratulatory speeches were made by the churchwardens and others and by the Vicar (the Rev. J. W. Cooke). The latter eaid the record of the ringers woild be wery hard to boat, and he had not heard of a better. He handed to the ringers the tablet worded as follows:-

St. James' Churels, Whitficld.

To commemorate with gratitude and thankfulness their completion of '50 years' individual service us ringers in this belfry and church, February, I886-February, 1936: Thomas Jackson, Joseph Marsden, Eli Garside.
The Vicat said the tablet was to be placed in the belfry, amongst other memorial tablets, and he did not think there could be a more fitting or hallowed place for it. He expressed deepest appreciation and thanks to the three ringers and boped they would be spared to ring for many more years nt Whitfield.
The veterans were romiliscent in their replies and had some interesting and amosing stories to tell of ringing and ringers in their early days. Speaking of the time before they took up change ringing, Mr. $T$. Jackson said that, when he and his colleagues started ringing in 1886, there were no cinema shows and very few other attractions, and they used to go practically every night and do a bit of zinging. Eventually, he said, they got to ringing 'single thirds,' and on one ocoasion rang 'single thirds' for three hours. an admiring friend treated them to half a gallon of small beer and cigars as a yeward for their achievement (laughter). When they started clange ringing on eight bells somes of the old ringers left and the younger ones had to take their places. Mr. Jackson, in conclusion, said that during the 50 years he had been connected with ringing, of all the ringers they bad had, be lad never known one of them get into trouble (applanse).
(Contimued in next column.)

LADY RINGER MARRIED.

Miss E. Horice Turner, hon. secrethry to the Northern Branch of the Ladies' Guild, was marcied on Saturday, March 14th, to Mr. H. Kelly at St. Mary's Church, Handsworth, Sheffield. Miss L. N. Cawthorne, late secretary of the Northern District, was bridesplaid, and Mr. H. Swallow was bost mant.
The bridegroom is a sargenat in the bocal section of the Church Lads' Bripade. The bride's cepabilities as a ringer are well known.

After the ceremony, as the bridal counle left the church, the local company lang ons or two touches of Kentiand Plain Bob. Tho Chureh Lads' Brigade also formed a guard of honour outside the church.
The reception afterwards was attended by the Rector (Canon W. A. Baker), the local ringers and numerous other guests. Touches of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples 'in liand" after the reception brouglt great applause from the gruests.
The Handswath ringers presented a Westminster climing clock to the bride and bridegroom, whose Future residence will be 171, Richmond Road. Handsworth.

Mr. J. Marsden said Je was glay to know thero were younty ringera to follow them. He did hot thalk there were many phaces which, during the last 50 Fears, haci had less trouble with the Vicars than had been the case at Whitfield (laugliter). They had liad no trouble with any of them during the whole of that time (laughter and applause). Riyging, he concuded, had been part of thenr lives and, he could certainly say, a very happy part
Mr. Garside spoke of the very $\mathrm{l}_{\text {appy }} 50$ years which he and his colleagues had spent, is far as ringing was concerned. They lad grown up together and had stuck logether, aud during all those years ho could safely say they had never had a wrong word with each other (applause). He hoped flley would live for mavy years to continue service ringing. He did not think there was a finer set of ringers in Emgland than at Whitfield, so far as their close association with the church and school was concerned. He hoped the young zingerg they had now got would continue for the sale of the church, because he shonld never like the bells at Whitield to be stopped.

Mr. J. Lawton made a few racy remarks, and the Vicar added appreciation of the wives of the three veterans. They must have had a certain amount of encouragement from their wives, he said, and thanks were due to the ladies in this respect (lauglter and applause).

Auld Jang Syne ' hrought a memorable and emjoyable gathering to a cloge.

BELERY GOSSIP

John Taylor and Co.'s bellhangers are now busy hoisting the bells of Buckfast Abbey. It is expected that the peal of twelve, with the 2 ton tenor and the 7 ton Bourdon, will be rung for the first time on EasEer Day
The ring of eight belis of Staveley Parish Church, Derbyshire, are to be rehung by John Taylor and Co
The Middlesex Association and Oxford Guild joint meeting and socind will be held at Hillingdon on October 10th.

A quartar-peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Beenham, Berks, on March 14th, by the following members of the local band: E. Wallace, E. Richardson, F. Churchill, the Rev. R. Howes, G. Fowler, Th. Tigwell (conductor). This was the first quarter of Minor by all except the conductor. As four of the band are gardeners by occupation, it helps to prove the contention which one of the ringars nalkes, that jou cannot enter a belfry without finding at least one gardener there; and the recommerdation which the same rimger gives to the dergy and others, that if they want to elugage a gardener, always engage a ringer.
A first peal by all the band is always a noteworthy performance, and the ringers of the peal at Batlampton on March 14th are, therefore, heartily to be congratulated upon their achievement.

A peal tablet is to be unveiled to-morrow at St. George's Church, Bolton. One of the peals which it records is a peal of Stedman Triples rung in 1900 in which Ganon Elsee, president of the Isanceshire Association, took part. Three of the band who rang in the peal are dead, but it is hoped that some of the otherg remaining will join Canon Elsee at the ceremony.

BUCKFAST ABBEY BELLS.

WORE NEARING GOMPIETION.

In addition to the new ring of twelve bells, with a 40 cmt telor in 0, Messrs. J. Taylor and Co, are making a notable addition to the bells of Buckfast Abbey. This is to be a bourdon of 74 tons, and is being given to the Abbey by Miss de Trafford, in memory of her sister, Lady Bellew. The nane 'Hosanna' will be given to the bell and there will be cast on it a dedicatory inscription in Latin.
The new peal, which will consist of 14 bells, is to be hung some 20ft. highor thau the old ring, in the now neatly completed tower, and will be carried on a massive iron and steel frame designed by Messre. Tayior and Co. to strenghen the structure.

The work of hoisting then into the tower is now in progress.
The old peal had a 28 cwt , tenor and was lhug in a wood frame. The ringing was done from a stome gallery in the centre of the transepts, with an awesome drop of something liko 60ft. to the floor of the church below. Only one peal was rung under these conditions -a peal of Stedman Ginques, conducted by William Pye,
In future the ringing elamber will be on the fioor where the old bells stood.
We understand it is hoped to lave the bells erected about Easter, but the tower itself, which wijl complete the final stage of the great building, the whole of which has been carried out by the monks themselves, will not be fnished until towards the end of the year.

DEATH OF MR. R. K, KNIGHT.

A VETERAN OUMBERLAND YOUTH.
We regret to record the death of Mr. Robert K. Knight, late of Gloucester and Walthamstow, which occutred on Saturday lact at his residence, 105, Hainault Road, Leptonstone, at the age of 91 jears.
Mr. Knight, who was born at Gloucester, lenrmen to ring in that town. He came to London in 1866, to take up a position in H.M Customs at the docks. One of his first actions was to join the Royal Cumberland Society, which he did in August, 1866. He became a member of the St. James' Society in February, 1867. Later he joined the Essex Association, when he became a member of the St. Mary's, Walthamstow, band, in 1892. He joined the Middlesex Association in 1897.

At St. Mary'e, Walthamstow, he rang the tenor to a peal of Grandsire Caters on the occesion of the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, and nearly four years later he rang in a muffled peal at the same church to record the passing of that Sovereign. This peal was called by the late William Pye, whom Mr. Kuight always greatly admired.

In 1892, on one of his annual wisits to his birthplace, he joined the Gloucester and Bristal Diocesan Association, and well remembered Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association" his brother, the Rev. E. ringing with the late Rew. H. Law James and jus bother, the Rev. E.
Bankes James, when they were wery poung men; and also with many other well-known Gloucester ringers, all of whose names he recoliected

For the last 15 years Mr. Knight had bean confined to his bed with an incurable leg trouble, but his interest in ringing never waned. He was gifted with a wonderful memory, and, with al wide gitere of reminiscences, was most entertaining to listen to. He was keenly interested in the William Pye memorial, and up to the time of his deatl, had collected quite a considerable sum of money for that object. He was never so liappy as when a ringing friend went to gee him, and one of his greatest days was when he recelved a visit from Mr. and Mrg. R. Richardson on the day after their return from Australia, which gave him comething te talk about for montine afterwards.
The funeral took place on Wednesday at Ilford Cemetery.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.  \section*{REORGANISATLON OT FINANOE}

Seventy-Fiva Per Cent. for Central Fund

At the annual meeting of the Surrey Association at Southwark on Saturday, a change was maie in the rules, by which 75 per ceat. of the district receipts will be contributed to the central fund, instend of sixpence per member and a levy to meet the cost of the snoual report.
The meeting was attended by nearly 100 ringers, representative of a large number of towers in the county, and many visitors. After enjoying ringing on the noble peal of twelve bells at the Cathedral, where on the first Sunday in every month the association supplies at bend to ring for the morning service, the members attended the heautifully sung eveusong. Afterwards an address was given by the Rev. IF. C. Kinnear, of St. John's, Croydon, where he is learning to ring. His subject was the brotherhood of service, and he apoke of the place of the ringer in the scrvice of the Church. There were many people, he said, who remained outside the walls of the Church, and it was $n$ wonderful privilege which bellringers had of sendigg out to them the message of the Gospel. It was more than just sentiment which touched people when they hard the sound of the bells. It wass something of tine appeal of that voice which had gone ont into all lands and its sound unto the onds of the earth. They could not dissociate the bells of the Church and the message of the Church. They were one and the same thing. The bells rang out the message of the love of God. If that wes true, it was important tiont those who rang the bells shonld keep that message befora them. There had been correspondence lately in tide ringers' paper about the worthiness, or unworthiness, of bellringers. He remembered when be was first ordamed and went to a Landon parish, he went into the belfry and found that one of the great secrets of that place was its friendliness.

When I told the Vicar what a nice lot of ringers he had got," said the preacher, he replied, "They are no good at all. They ring the hells and that is all Fou see of them." I said, "Are you sure that is all you see of themp? I had to point out to him that two of them were members of the choir, three others were nembers of the C.F.M.S., ready to do anything they could, inrespective of their ringing, and that I had often seen one or two others of then with their wives at the Sunday evening services. You see,' added the preacher, 'he didn't know. It may not be always the case, but I believe that often those men who Sunday by Sunday go inte the belfries and perform that extraordinary megic of the bella lave been looked upon as just outside tha Charch. There may be a fear that ringers map think only of their ringing, as some organists and choirs may think only of their music and singing, and I want to appeal to you to-day to bring to your bell-ringing not only the skill God has given you, but all the Christian forces of your life."
Tea in the Chapter House was followed by the business meeting, over which the Rev. J. C. Kinnear presided.
The treasurer's balance sheet, which was adopted, showed that the hrlance in the general fund had increased from f5 18s. 11d. to £12 3s. 4d.

A SUCOESSEUL YEAR.

The committee's report, presented by the lion. secretary (Mr. ©. H. Kippin) stated that the year had becu a very successful one. In the Narth-Western District twelve meetings were beld. Five were distrint meetings, which had an average attendance of 37, two were joint meetings with the Guildford Diocesin Guild at Ranmore and East Molesey, and five were mid-week meetings with the Ladies' Guild. All the joint meetings were well supported by members of the district. The Southern District reparted a new tower to be affiliated to the association, viz., Jingfield, the bells of which had been restored and alymented to a peal of eight. Four district meetings were held with an average attendance of 30 . Membership in both districts bad increased, and the total number of mnnual subscribing members was 297 (North-Western District 198 and Southern District 98 ), an increase of 23 on the prewious year. Ringing had taken place at Southwark Cathedral on the first Sunday morming in each montle by members of the association, and excepting during the holdiny months the twelve bells were rung for service. $A$ rota system had been estatblished and 23 memberg at present were responsible for the ringing. The committee tendered its thanks to those members, and would welcome any further volumteers to assist in ringing the bells of the Cathedral Church of the diocese.
The nssociation stil! flourished financially. The balance in hatt in the goneral and district finds at 31st December, 1935, was 5338 Bs . 1d., as against $\mathrm{f34} 5 \mathrm{~s}$. $5 \mathrm{~d}^{2}$. at the beginning of the rear, belige an increase of 84 17s. 4 d . tipon the Year's working.
The committec regretted to report the death of Mr . H. Goodwin, of St. John's, Redhill, and Mr. A. J. Trappitt, of St, Mary's, Beddington. Both were regular serwice ringers at their respective towers. Mr. Trappitt had been a member for 42 yents and had rung 168 peals for ithe association. He was district secretary for nine years. His death was a great loss to Beddington tower and to the asgociation as a whole. During the year 21 peals were rung, 89 members taking part in the folloping methods: Supertative Surpise Royal 1, Stedman Caters 1, Trandsire Caters 2, Gambridge Surprise Major 1, Double Norwich Major 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Bob Major 2, Stedman Triples 4. Grandsire Triples 3, London Surprise Minor 1, Bob Minor 1 , and Minor in four methods 3. The conductors were as follows: C. H. Kippin, 7; O. Sippetts, E. Hancox and L. A. Titly, 2 each; W. Olaydon, R. V. Fuller, C. W. R. Grimwoot, A. Harman, E. Morris, O. Pothecary, W. C. Smith and H. $\mathbb{R}$. Thorpe, 1 each. Ten members rang thei? frst peal, four fheir firgt, en a working bell, 17 their irst in the methed and five their first on different numbers. Statisfies for the past five years showed that aithough peal ringing was gradually decreasing, through the difliculty of obtaining towers for peal attempts, individual interest was still being maintained. In 193251 peals were ruig by 100 members. In 1935 the 21 peals were rung by 89 members.

INOREASED OENTRAL CODNCLL RUPRESENTATION

The following officers were re-elected: President, the Bishop of Groydon; Master, Mr. D. K. C. Birt; дon, treasurer, Mr. C. Dean; hon secretary, Mr. C. H. Kippin; hon. auditor', Mr. G. W. Steare. Mr. E. G. Talbot was elected assistant hon. secretary, Mr. F. E. Darby retiring. Mr. Kippin thanked Mr. Darby for his valued services. His work, he said, had been carried on benind the scenes and tho hor, secretary got the credit for it.
As tho membership was now 3n3, under the rules of the Central Council the asbociation was entitled to elect three representatives and the following who had been nominated were elected: Hesere. D Cooper, W. Glaydon and O. H. Kippin.

Leatherhead, Croyion and Kingston were proposed for the next annual meeting. Croydon was withdrawn, and, on a vote being taken, Leatherliead was selected by a largo majority

On the recommendation of the committee, a grant of gl ls was voted to the Willinaray Pyemorial Fund, an amendment to increase the amount to $£ 2$ 2s. being defeated
The conmittee recommended an alteration to tule 17 , increasing tho district contribution to the general fund from sispence to 18 . 6d. in respect of each member whose subscription shall lave been paid.
The hon, seccetary explained that the districts had hitherto contrit buted 6d. per member, and had paid, in proportion to their membership, for the cost of printing the annual report
After discussion of points raiscai as to the amount to be contributed from 'shilling' members (those who join at the end of a year) and hon. members, the motion was adopted with the substitution of 75 per cent." for "15. Bd.
The following alterations to rules, also recommended by the committee, भुere also adopted:-
Rule 4, pargoraph 1, substitute the following: "All nominations for gereral officers and representatifes upon the Gentral Council should be made aither at the previous amural district mectings, or in writing to the general seoretary, providing such nominations are in his bande Feast 14 days before the nnnual general meeting Addition to rule 16: "All nominations for district officers and committee representatives should be made either at the previous district meeting or in writing to the district secretary, providing such nomina tions are in his hands at least 14 days before the anmual district meetintr. Any contested election must take place by ballot.
The hon. secretary explained that liftherto the nominations had to be made in writing, but during the ten years he had been in office, no nominations had ever been received, and the committee had liad to make the nominations. Under the proposed amendments they would ensure that nominations were made at district meetings, when the business would be on the agenda. At the same time. there would be nothing to prevent nominations being sont in in writing.

It was resolved that the ammual dinner should be leld again this year, the place being left to the comaitteo to decide.

THE FORTEROMING OENTRAL COUNCIL MEEIING.
On behalf of the commitite the hon. secretary moved that the expenses of the Central Council representatives should be divided bebween the general fund and the districts.
After some discussion, it was decided to allow the question to stand over until the next anlual meeting, as on this Dccasion. with the mecting held in London, the cxpense would be comparaturely smal!.
Mr . M. Northover said he thought the members were entirled to a written report on the Conncil meeting, which could be read at the written repart on district meetings.
Tlie hon. secretary said he made a rerbal repott last trear at a meeting of the Santhern District, but Mr. Northorer was not present. Mr. Northover said a written report would be arailable to thoge members who were unable to attend the meeting.
Mr. F. W. Housden eaid the dificulty raised by Mr. Forthover ponld be removed if evorybody supported Thn Ringivy World " (hear hear).

The Chairman said he would recommend that, too He found a great deal of interest in the paper and he boped chere would be a good response to the appeal made recently by the Eaitor for a larger circulation

The hon, secretary said when the Central Conncil met in London three years ago, the Surrey Asscciation was invited to join with other associations in arrarging the social side of the proceedings. The association then guarantecd two guineas townrds the expenses, but were only called upon for fil 7s. 4r. He believed the association would be invited to join in a similar arrangement tins year, and proposed that, if that he so, the association should contribute as sum up to two guineas.-This was agreed to.

DEATH OF AN OLD ASTON RINGER

MR. JAMES FOPEIN'S WORK IN THE BELFRY

We regret to record the death of Mr. James Eopkin, an old Aston ringer, who passed away on March 5th at his residence in Church Lane, only $u$ fow yards from the church ho loved so well. He was 76 years of age.
He went to Aston about 35 yeare ago and soon joined the Sunday band of ringers.
He learned to ring at dsllby-de-la-Zouch and was at one time a pupil of Mr. J, Jaggar. Ho had rung several peals of Grandsire Triples and Caterss and Bob Major.
Mr. Hapkin was a delightful man and his presence in the belfry was always for the good of the company. He was regular service ringer and clurch attendant.
His racmory will always be retained in Aston belfry on account of the beautiful illuminated tablets of pal records that hang on the walls. His writing of these is admired by all who see them.
Ho wailed a long time for Aston betls to be restored and was very delighted when ha heard them again last summer. But the years had laft their mark on 'Old Jim;' und he found the climb up the steps too much for hirn. He had a few rounds on the new bells on two occasions, but that was all ho could manage. He fad nothing but preise for the new peal.
He was buried at Aston on Monday, March gth. The Vicar (the Rev. F. MeGowar) oficiated, nnd in hiv yemarks paid tribute to the deceased as a man who did things quictly and effectively. Decensed leaves a widow and son and dnugliter to mourn their lose.
A course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave by $D$. Matkin, J. Jirgar, A. Walker and H. Withers. Several Aston ringers and other vingers took pert in balf-muffled ringing on the tower belis inmediately atter tho burial service.
The service was attended by about a laundred members of the "Soas of Rest "from Aston Parl, of wlich section the late Mr. Hoplin was secretary.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR, A, WRIGHT

TABLET DEDICATED AT PAINSWICK

A tablet to the memory of the late Mr. Albert Wright, of Pitencombe, was dedicatex at. St. Mary's Church, Painswick, on Saturday alternoon, February 29th. The tablet, which is on an onk base, is in the belfry of the chnreh, and has been erected by the ringers of Paingwiek as a matic of appreciation of the late Mr. Wrirht's gervice to them in the promation of vinging. ## YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIVISION CONGRATULATES 'THE RINGING WORLD

The anaual meeting of the Southem Division of the Forkshire Assa ciation was held at Handsworth, Shelield, on Saturday, and was attended by a representative guthering, upwavds of 40 members being present from Barnsiey, Doncaster, Wath, Arksey, Sheffeld Cathedral, St. Marie's, Ranmoor, Wortley, Rotherham, Eastwood, Rewmarsh Norton, Bolsover, Chesterfield, Treeton and the local company. A good variety of methols, ranging from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise, were sampled, and there was some excellent striking especially in the higher methods.
The usual first-class tea provided by the local company was very much appreciated.
At the business meeting which followed, the Rector of Handswarth (the Rev. Canon W. A. Baker) presided. Previons to the business, the secretary referred to the loss they had sustained by the death of Mr T. O'Hara, of St. Marie's Company, Sheffield, and the members stood in silence as a last mark of respect to an old and valued member of the association.
Two new mombers were elected, viz., T. Nicholls, of Whath, and F . Gates, of St. Marie's.
For the annual joint meeting, to bo heid in June, it was decided that if the bells at Barnsley, which are at present at the Croydon Foundry, are evailable, to hold the annual joint meeting there in June, failing which, Penistone was selected.

The retiring oflicers, Messrs. G. Lewis (vice-president) and G. Clark, F. C. Wilson and W. Wooler (committee), were re-elected and thanked for their services during the past three years.
The hearty congratulations of the members were exteaded to Mr. Panther, of Wath, on resching the total of 100 peals for the association. The secretary was instructed to convey to the Editor of "The Ringing World ' the very best wishes of the members on the oceasion of the jonrnal's jubilee, and tho meeting agreed to do whatever was possible to increase the circulation of the paper, for it was felt that if ringers had no paper it would be a calamity and almogt impessible for the various associations to cariy on

Tho Chairman, having to leave, was heartily thanked for lis presence and services and for the welcome which he alwars extends when Handsworth is visited, and which makes such a difforence to a meetnug however small it mav bo
Votes of thanks to the local company and to the ladies were accorded and veplied to by Mr. F. Watkinson on their behalf.

WESTERN DIVISION AT LIVERSEDGE

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association held their anmua meeting on Saturday, March 14th, at Liversedge, when that delightfu peal of bells was kept going throughout the afternoon and evening Upwards of fifty members were present and a large variety of methods was rung. Toa was served in the schools followed by the business meating, over which Mr. P. J. Johnson presided, supported by the association's president (the Rev. Canon Marstall) and the Rev. E. H. Fernic.

The Ohairman, in a characteristic specol, appealed to all members to give their fullest support to 'The Ringing World,' which that week was celebrating its silver jubilec. He said this paper was not receiving the support which it merited, and he urged all present to do whatever they could to increase its circulation.
Five new members were admitted to the association, wiz., Messre. N. Greaves (Bramley), W. E. Rameden (Drighlington), William Har greaves and John Turner (Lindley) and George Ward (Rothweli).

The members showed their confidence in the retiring officers by re-electing their vice-president and the thee committee members for a further period of three years.
In proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wamdens for so kincly placing their bells at the disposal of the association, Canon Marshall said how pleased he was to see his old friend, the Rev. E. H. Fernie, who lad recently returned from Australia.-This motion was seconded by M.r. W. S. Green.
The Rev. F. H. Fermie, in replying, assured the members that the welcome was indeed sincere, and le hoped he would have the pleasure of teceiving the association again in the near future. Fe also referred humorously to the time when he tried very hard to lean ringing, but his efforts nearly ended in disaster.

The Chairman, in voicing the association's statitude to the looal campany for their splendid arrangenments, reainded the members of that wonderful band of ringers whose peal boards and records in the belfry pay tribute to their skili. He also congratulated the ladies for the very efficient way in which they hed served the tea, mentioning that although some of them had very little experience of catering they certainly lnew how to look after ringers. Their armagements were a credit to them.-Mr. W. Idle seconded this proposition, and Mr. Fred Hodgson replied for the lacal company.
The members then made their way to the tower, where the bells were kept going until 9 p -u
The Jume meeting of the Western Division will be held at Bingley, by the kind permission of the Rev. A. C. Vadden. Full partioulars will be advertised later.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCLATION.

MEEIING DLSOUSSES MUFFLING

The North and East District meeting of the Middlesez County Association and Loudon Diocesan Guild, which was held at Finchley on Saturday weck, was attended by some 36 ringers, giving a denial to the oft repeated assertion that the six-bell meetings are not well supported. Amongst those present were many well-known 'Surprise ' ringers, who were not backward in ringing Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor for the benefit of several youngesters.

A bright service was held at 5 o'cloch, with a helpful sermon by the Rector (the Rey. S. F. L. Bemays), who afterwards joined the party at tea.
At the subscquent business meeting four now monbers were ad mitted, and the election of Mr. Georgo Williams, provisionally made an February 15 th prior to the ' 1,000 pealers' peal, was confirmed.
It was anounced that the amual general meeting of the nssociation was arranged to be held at Ealing on April 25th, and Pinner was chosen for the next district meeting on May aud or 16 th
Specimen copies of 'The Ringing World'silvar jubilee number were distributed, and the hon. secretary strongly urged any members not aheady subscribers to become regular readers. The Jisercise in general, and associations in particular, owed a lot to 'Tbe Ringing World,' said Mr. Coles, and without that journal the lot of secretaries would be much worseucd.

BELLS OR OLAPPIRS?
Comment was made on recent correspondence in 'The Ringing World ' ort the subject of the muffling of bells $s_{3}$ and the chairman (Mr. G. W. Fletcher), who is hon. secretary of the Central Concil, said that the matter would come up for discussion at the next meeting.
The holl. secretary referred to the romarks made at the Bimmingam dinner by a speaker who said he thought it silly to eay the elappers were muffled. Mr. Coles said it appeared to him just as silly to sat that the bells were mufled, and in any case the muffle was put yound the clapper and not round the bell. Actually it was the note of thie hell that was mufled, and it would seem to be quite in order for a fontnote to read 'Rung half-muffled (or muffled), etc.,' without any 'eference to the clapper or bell.
Mr. Fred A. Barker welcomed the members present to Finchley, ant expressed tha pleasure of the local ringers at seeing so many at, a six-bell meetivg
Mr. G. W. Fletcher proposed a vote of thanks to the Rectar for his Aldress at the service, and for allowing the meeting to take place to Mr . $\overline{\mathrm{F}}$. Cherrett for arranging the meeting; to the organist; and to Mrs. Barker and friends for preparing tea. Fe also ackmowledged Mr. Barker's words of welcome. The vote of thanks was carried with applats

Whist some members amused themselves with the handbells, athene eturned to the tower, where the new District Master, MM, T. J. Lock, looked afler the requirements of all, with Grandsire Doubles up to Lordon Surprise Minor

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

AN EXPERTMENT IN WEST DORSET

The first of a series of combined practices for the West Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Guidd was held at Bradpole tower ou Saturday week. Members attended from Beaminster, Bradpole, Ghideock, Evershot and Lyme Regis with the intention of rainimg some insightionto Grandsive. Stedman and Plain Bob. Every opportunity was given ta those who had not teken a working bell in thesc methods before, and encouraging results were olytained as the fruit of keen paper study in preparation for this meeting. Ere the aftemoon was over some quite good touches of Grandsire Triples were rung as well as courses of Stodman Triples and tonches of Bob Major, all of which undoubtedy stirred the interest of those who had never talien a rope in these methods before, or had never hat tho chance to get beyond Donthles hosides helping to instil the hone amens the others that the practice of fresh methods will be introduced into a wider range of towers in the brancl.
The Rector, the Rev. O. W. A'Ombrain, mast kindly provided tea for all, and was warmly thanked for his welcome and encouragement. This was felt to be a really useful gathering, during which every moment of the time was well employed, everyoue heing most spmpathetic to insimetion; and it js hoped thet such practices may hecome a regular guarterly feature in the future programme of the branch

FATHER AND SON

ANOTHER RECORD

The association of a father and son in the art of change ringing at the same parish church may be held to constitute a record. The father was Mr. Thomas Roberts, who began on the 'dimner bell' at Ringstead, Northamptonshire, at the early age of 14, and, from that time, continued as a change ringer until his death just before the beginning of the Great War, accomplishing a service of over 60 years
His son, George Henry, was initiated jnto the art at about the age of 20 , and has $210 w$ completed a service of 51 years in Ringstead and the neighbourhood. Father and son have thus nceomplished in length of service an aggregate of 111 years, and they raug together for a period of 30 years , as one might say, side by side.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

EASTERN DIVISION AT LITTLE WALTHAM,
A very successful and enjoyablo meeting of the South-Eastern Division was held at Little Waltham on February 29th, and, in spite of the inclement weather, 46 members and friends attended during the aftermoon and evening to try the bells, which were rehung aud a new treble added to make six last year after being out of riuging orde for about 40 years.
A very pleasing feature of the gathering was the numbor of young ringers who attended, especially those who belong to the local band. They are very keen and visit other towers in the neighourhood for additional practice.

The Guild service was couducted by the Rector, the Rev. S. C. Gayford, who gave a very interesting address. The lesson was read by the District Master (Dr. Spencer Phillips) and the singime accompanied by the oryanist.
Tea was partaken of in the Memorial Hall, served by Mrs. Gayforc and several lady helpers, aud presided over by the Rector.
At the busimess meeting, presided over by tho District Master, seven new ringing members were elected, wis., $A$, Boyce, J. M. Goyford, L. M. Hedges and T. J. Mathame, Great Walthon; A. Erevetit and A. M. Joslin, Boreham; and F. P. Lewis, Maldon.-It was proposed to hold the next meetirg at Galleywool on May 2nd.
The District Master, on behalf of the members, thanked the Rector for the use of the bells and trlying the service, and congratulated hin on the success of the restoration of the bells. He also thanked the organist and Mrs. Gayford and her helpers

The Rector, in reply, gave the association a hearty welcome and hoped that they wonld come again as soon as they could. He thankod the association for their help in the restoration of the bells.

Handbell ringing followed, after which a return was made to the tower ani] at 9.15 the bells were lowered, ftus bringing another enjoyable meeting to a close.
The following towers were represented: Great Bardfield, Dunmow, Great Baddow, Borelam, Broomfield, Chelmsford, Ford End. Dan bury, Galleywoor, Goldhanger, Maidon, Springfield, Great Totham and Little Waltham

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

GOLDEN WEDDING AT YATELEY.  \section*{RLNGERS SHARE IN FESTIVITIES.}

On Thursday, February 27 th , in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Butler, of Manor House Farm, Yateley, Manta, it quarter-peal of Grandsire Iriples was rung. Their grandson, $C$. Butier, rang the treble, this being lis first quarter-peal. Their son, G. Butler, was conductor and their sou-in-law, F. Wats, raug the third, this being his first quarter-peal of Grandsire "inside.
After the ringing the ringers were asked to sit down and more of the band rang a 504 es a further compliment. Mr. G. Butler then led the party to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wates, son-in-law and daugliter.
Here the band were warmly welcomed by Farmer Butler and his good wife, together witin his daughters and grandchildren, and invited to take part then in a real golden wedding feast. The bridegroon cut the splerdid three-tier cake, with bells all round; wine was brought. and the president of the band propesed the health of the farmer and wife. Bells were rung in changes and tunes. Sougs wore sung by the son and danghter, and a real good evening passed quickly away. Such is the spirit of comradeship in fle Yateley bsund of ringers, who considered themsolves highty honoured, as a band, to have an iuvitation and to be the chief guests on this great occasion for the family.

AFTER 22 YEARS.

LOYAL SUPPORTERS.

The celebration of the Silver Jubilee of " The Ringing World ' has brought us, in adcition to many congratulations, intimations of the loyal and unbroken support of numerous readers from the first number to the current issue. When reflecting on the twenty-five years of the paper's existence, we said that the thing we valued most of all was the many friendships we had made from end to end of the country. Among those whom we call friends, surely none are more deserving of the name than those who have stuck to us through thick and thin from the very beginning. Of those who gave 'The Ringing World 'support from the first number, all too many have passed on. Many of them there were who never failed us while they lived. Others there are who have only come into the art in later years. They in their turn have shown the same loyalty and will, we hope, continue to do so.

But those who have subscribed to all the thirteen hundred and more issues of 'The Ringing World' must be a comparatively small circle, and we have received from several of them a suggestion that we should endeavour to find out how many there are. We are very pleased to fall in with the proposal, and we invite all those who have been subscribers to this journal without a break from the first number up to now to send us their names and addresses. It will form an interesting ' Roll of Honour,' which we shall be delighted to publish. Not only are we indebted to their constancy, but it is such as they who have made the continuation of a ringers' journal possible.
It has been a source of gratification to us to know that the interest which the silver jubilee of 'The Ringing World ' created has led to a renewed realisation in many places of what a ringing paper means to the Exercise. We hope this realisation will be translated into action by a more widespread endeavour to increase the circulation of the paper. It is our present readers who can best bring new supporters. They are the people who are in touch with the non-readers, and it is their steady persuasion which, almost alone, can spread the circle of subscribers. May we once more ask our friends, therefore, to stress among their fellow-ringers the importance of maintaining a paper devoted to the interests of the art, which deserves the best that can be given it. That best, however, is limited by the amount of support that is forthcoming among the ringers themselves. But for all that has been done by our friends during the last twenty-five years, we once more express our deep thanks, especially to those who through the whole of this quarter of a century have so staunchly and unfailingly supported what many correspondents like to describe as 'Our journal.'

FOR BEGINNERS.

ANOTHER METHOD OF DOUBLES.
The construction of regular methods of Doubles very severely limits the number available, atad Grandsire, Reverge Grandsive and Double Grandsire are the only methods with two bells in the hunt. Of other 'regular 'methods there are only fve with ono bell in the hunt. We dealt with one of them, Reading, in conjunction with Reverse Grandsire last week. Noue af the other four are pure Doubles from end to end of the plain courge. Fither when the treble is leadine or lying behre, two other bells bave to lie still, leaving only one pair, instest of two pairs, to change. Wherens in the three watieties of Grandsive and in Reading all the clanges in the plain course are phre Doubles, and the full extent of 120 can be obtained by the use of two singles, substituted for bobs, in these other four methouls the place-making referred to has the effect of a single in every lead and consequently the actual calls eaployed are bobs only.

One of the methods of this type is called Union and is really like Grandsire with a hob inthead of a plain lead, coupled with a 'single ' when the treble is behind. This single ts made by the bell that takes the treble off lead, making 3 rd 's mad going back to lead again, While the bell that the treble turns from behind makes 4th's and turns the treble.

Fou can set ont the work in a convenient table thas:-
Pass treble in 3-4, double dodge in $4-5$ (up), lie whole pull behina, make 4th's (under the treble), lie whole pull belind, double dodg. $5-4$ (down).
Pass treble in 2-3, make 3rd's and Inad, 3rd's and lead, 3rd's and lead.
You can summarise it thns:-
Double dodge up, make 4th's, double dodge down; after leading make 3ra's and lead, three times.
In other words, you make zrd's after truning the treble from lend and passing it in 23 and I-2. Aiter tle third tine fou will find tho treble, coning down throngh $4-3$, will provent you thaniog 3rd's again.
The plain course runs to fonr leads. A bob causes the bell that would liave double dodged in $5-4$ (down) to run straight in; 'the bell that would have dodged $4-5$ (up) to lio a whole pull heltind ard lieve a single dortge in 54 (dawn), amd the bell that passed the treble in 23 and should have made 3 rd's, to rum out mad dodge in $4-5$ (up).
The extent of 120 can be obtained by calling a bobe at nay ane of the four leads in the first enurge, and at the corresponding lead in the two sheceeding coursee, The best place actually to call the bobs is when the treble is in 3rd's plase on the way down. Below tre the figures of a plain lead and bob lead of Uuion, and wo. recommend beginners to write out the figures of the full courge, dyaw a cantinious line over one of the figures, other than or in addition to the treble, and study the diagram which is thus produced.

A diagram is a great ajd to ringing a methon. Adwanced singers nearly always learn their methods in thas way, and if you begin now, ringing by diagram will become a habit wibh you. Learm the outline of the diacram by noting, when you tuant up or down, where the place making and dody ing occur, and noting, too, where you pass the treble. When you can do this it is astonishing how easily Fou can learn new methords, ohe reason heing because in all regular melhods one-half reverses on the other, and frou fird similarity and synmetry in the work.
Well, here are the fgures of Umion Dorbles:

AN OPEN LETTER.

TO AN OLD IPRIDND.

Dear Tom, I must aey that I enjoyed the jubilee issue of our peper more than usual, especially the articles. 'J. A. Trollope' is always worth reading; and so is 'W. W.' in his way-even to that liftle dig at youl It was the latter, coupled with the fact of the jubilee, thet reminded me. It must be getting on for five-and-twenty years since Reubon anki you engincered my first peal, and I suppose this is why I reagnt otherg 'giving you one,' while I am perfectly prepered to 'have a go' at you myselil Howaverl

You know, if I were one of the 'leading lights ${ }^{1}$-a naster or secreGary of a large association, on the C.C., and all that, one whose opinion carried waight-I'd put up a scheme! I'd suggest a 'tax' on associations, or somothing, towiad the production of a larger paper-a sort of insurance against its lapse in, I hope, the far distant future. I think something like it conld be done, if everybody got together, because tho assoriations would be lost without some neans of broadcasting : End, I helieve, with the Editor, thet a Ereat pert of our ringing lifo lics in the reading of what others do and say. I do know Hat much of my own interest would wane without this privilege.
 As usuml, Je's got it ell wrong, limsn't he? You see, that cashier pisid you from a bundle of notes which were numbered XYZ 0-999. I fesi sure that lis gave you the first note. Of courge, No. 720 was left on his own pile, and you must have had four epo on that one. You got the lot, old man; the trouble is that you didu't count 'em. Of course, if lis kept back No. 0, and spoilt the sequence, you've been diddled; but, take it from me, no self-respecting crshier would be such a fooll
Well-here's to increased circulation; or, thet scheme
GEORGE.
HHAT ELUGSIVE POUND.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir, I cashed a cheque for Ex the other dny, and the cashier insiated an paying mo $£ x+1$, explaining that in that particular bank it had always been the custom not to count the first pound at all.

I had already sent in my resignation to my empioyers and was in the act of drawing a fow small cheques to 'Self" when, like Mr. Willson, I awoke.

MR MR. WJLTSON'S DREAM

Dorr Sir,-Mr. Willeon's mamory has pliyred him false. What happened at that strcet corner was this: We had decided on good ind sullivient frounds that a drink was necegsary, but could not find between us the price of one round. Tom, however, had his wateh left nad so he went round to the pawabroker's to raise something on it. Ho ceme back countiag a handful of silver, and as ho drew nigh he said, "Dnsh it all! He lias given me one bob short!" But Mr. Willson, overjoyed at the sight of so much wealth, grabbed the moncy out of Tom's hand, rad, busting into the Latin tongue, as is his wont when even poetry canmot express his feelings, called out, Ad infermos unum! Eces pubbum! Quod habes amice? Miklum et bitterump Pintum? But it was Tom's money. And Mr. Willson is not awake yet. J.A.T.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

FASTERN DIFISION TLECTS 22 MFMBRERS

The Ensters Division of the Sussex County Association held its annunl mevting at St. Mary's, Eastbourne, on Sathriay, March 2lst. Tho Vicar (tho Rev. F. P. Hughos) conducter the service and gava a vory appreciative and manly ndress retarding the use of chureh bells and ringers' tiuties rolating thereto.
Toa was partnken of at the Pitmin Ingtitute, and 41 members eat down to an excellent repast, the Fiear presiding.

At the buginess meeting which follpwed, the Master, Mr. H. R. Butcher, occupying the clair, tha whole of the outgoing execrtive were re-elected, and 22 new mambers were clected-a very creditable madition to the division. The election of Mr. J. P. Pelloe, of Oxford, as a non-rasident member was confirmed.
Tho secretary (Mr. A. O. Panlthurst) arain called attention of members to line necessity of those desirous of attending these mentings sending a posteard intimating that fact. At that meeting he had only made arrangements for 30 teas.
A vole of threnks was necurded the Fienrs of St. Mary's and St. STaviour's for the rise of flie bells at those towers; to Mr. A. Piper for his gencrasidy regarding the cost of the tea, which he party defrayen, and to Mr. Rutelier for presiding at the business meeting. Tho members then wont on to St. Saviour's tower, where the bells wero kept eoine mutil ofolook. During the day tonclies in frandsire, Stodman, Treblo Bols, Double Norwich and Surprige metheds were rung.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DISTRICT'S REOORD GGTHERING AT STQPNEY.
The Northern Distuict of the London County Association aud North Southwerk Diocesan Guild held a very successfin meeling at the ancient and historic Church of St. Dunstan, Stepncy.
Stepnez bella have the roputation of being one of the finest rings of tan in the country, weputation with which most of the 50 or more people present at the meeting fully agreed, after hoving heard and rung them.
The newly-formed local band, known as tine Guild of Stepney Scholars, set the bells going to Grandsire Triples sliortly before the advertised starting time, and subsequently sone of them rang in touches of Grandisire and Stedman Gaters in a manner which promises great things for Stepney ringing in the future. Illwe batad is a very young one mand it is very gratifying to see change ringing firmly established in what has for many years beew a stronglold of "stoney ringers. It is to be loped that they will very soon achieve their ambition of rirging an entirely lacal peal.
Various methods were rung by the visitors until $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., when tea, Which the local hand very generously provided, was served in the Parish Hall.

Following this, a short business meeting was held, at which the usinal routine matters were spedily dealt with.
St. John at Hackney was chosen for the next meeting, to be held in May, St. Mathew, Upper Clapton, being mdopted as an alternative. The secretary pointed out that the districf would be celebrating its $25 t h$ anciversary later in the year, and it was decided to leave the matter for the committee to sattle in what way this event should be commemorated
The District Master proposed a very learty vote of thanks to the Rev. R. French, M.A., M.G., for the use of the bells, to the local band for the arrangements made and for the splendid welcome extended, and to the ladies who prepared and waited at ten. In responding, the Rector assured the society, 1 hat the visit of the association to his church had given him and his riwgers a great deal of pleasure, and he assured them that so long as be was Rector of St. Dunstan's they would always be welcome.
A return was then made to the tower, and, cxccpt for a break between 7.30 and $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. for a short service, linging was carried on until about 9.15 p.m.

Methods rung duriug the afternaon and evening sanged from Grand sire Triples and raunds to Lowdon Surprise Majar and Gambridge Surprise Royal.

Fisitors were present from many towers, and the District Master extended aspecial welcame to Messis. F. Warriagton and B. Wayman, of Over, Cambridgeshire.

This was the assaciation's first visit to St. Dunstan's, and that the opportanity was appreciated was demonstrated by the fact that the attendance was a record for a meebing of tho district.

A LONDON RINGING SOCIETY.

HAPPY GATHERING OF ST. MARY ABBOT'S GUILD.
The ringers of St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, held their annual dinner at Slaters' Restaurant, Knightshridge, on March 21st, when the Viear (the Rev. E. Brooks Johnson, M.A.) presided, supported by the Rev. G. A. Jackson (curate), the Rev. Colin P. Cowley (formerly of St. Mary Abbot's, now Rector of Slenley, Essex), Mr. H. V. Kenyon and some thirty members and friends. The loyal toasts were duly honoured, and that of "St. Mary Abbot's Guild" was proposed in felicitous terms by Mr. Kenyon, who is churchwarden and an old friend of the Guild. It was responded to by the Master (Mr. W. E. Judd), who gave a short account of the year's work and peals rung, and mentioned the increase both in methods and standard of practice which had marked the year.
The toast of 'The Church.' was given by Mr. G. J. Strickland, who recounted briefly the historical aspects of the Church, its numerous beneficent activities and its close association with ringers, which he trusted would liave a long and happy continuance.
After dinaer, Mr. N. A. Dart and Mr. D. A. Roberts Thomas at the piano conducted ans excellent programme of zusic and song, in whichi all present joined. Handbells were also being rung, and there was tune ringing by Messrs. J. R. and H. Mackman, whilst a song by Mr. Roberts Thomas in his native lavguage brought a very successful evening to & cloge.

OVER RINGERS' RECORD

Ringing at Over, Cambs, on Monday, March 23rd, for the customary weekly practice was just a little out of the ordinary. Cambrjdge Surprise, Superlative Surprise and three separate courses of London Surprise Major were rung as well as Double Morwich Major. Those taking part were J. Parish, M. Ginn, R. Smith, C. Robinson, F. C. Ginn, A. W. T. Ginn, W. I. Ginn, A. J. Ginn, F. G. Gleaves, B. Wayman and $F$. Wairington. It is believed that this constitutes a record for any one local company, botte in the Ely Diocesan Association and in Cambridgeshire.

BACHELORS.

SUCCESSITUT ESCAPE.

The bachelors in several places celebrated ttreir freedom on Leap Fear D'ay in peal attempts. Some were rung, as our peal colnizin testify. Some were not, and the party who defied Eate foar vears ago (and only one of whose number lias seen the errar of his ways in the meantime) were among the unsuccessfut.
Their meeting place was kept a close secret. They arrived at the church, so we are told, in various disgsiges but, with anziery weighing heavily upon them lest they slould be discovered by one or more eligible females, they were unable to concentrate suffenty, wed tha peal 'went west ' after ahout fwo hours.

One at a time they slipped out of the belfry door into the night, and ceparated as quickly as they could, in the hope that, at any rate, some would escape. Their planes were successind. "Not age of them was considered worth capture,' a lady correspondeat tells us.

BELL ROPES MUFFLES: &ca.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The uew belly for Hobart Cathedral are now packed and ready for shipping from the Loughborough Bellfoundry: It is not expected, however, that the tower will be ready to receive the bells until the яummer.

With a 5,040 of Minor in 14 methods, spliced inta seven 720 's, Mr. Walter Ayre, president of the Herts County Association, rang his 400 th peal on Monday week. Of these peals, 247 have been rung on tower bells, of which IO4 have been conducted, and 153 have been rung on handbells, of which 81 have been conducted.
On March 22nd, 1886, the Hereford Diocesan Guild was founded, and on Saturdzy week sha members belonging to the Prestelgne District, celebrated the jubilee by ringing a peal of Grandsire Doublea at Lyonshall. The ringers represented six towets, and after the peal were entertained to tea by the Rev. Ellison.
A peal of Doubles, rung at Mursley, Bucks, last week deserves special notice. The Rector (the Rev. J. M. Tredonnick), who is 70 years of Rge, and lus son, Mr. J. E. F. Tredennick, rang their first peal together. In addition, it was the first peal on the bells of their own parish and was conducted by Mr. J. E. F. Tredennick. It was the first peal by three others of the band. The bells have recently been rehung and two recast by Messrs. Bowell, of Ipswich.
We understand that a now 'Bow Bells' interval gignal is shorfly to be put into uss by the B.B.G. The one which has done duty up to now is a recond made some years ago of the old bells. A record has now been mede by the Columbia Graphophone Company of the recast bells, and this will be substituted for the earlier record. Ringers will be interested to contrast the effect of the old and the aew rings broadcast in this way.
The meeting of the South and West District of the Middleser Association, which was to have been held at feltham to-morrow, lass been cancelled, as has also the meeting of the Slheflield District Society.
Tho ring of eight bells of Alresford Charch, Hants, is to be rehung with new fitting in new freme by John Taylor and Co.

Mr. K. W. Mayer, of Lincoln, who was to have taken part in a peal at Welton, Lincs, on Saturday, met with a serious accicent while ab work. The gap in the perl band was filled at the last moment by Mr. Jack Pearson. Everyone will wish Mr. Mayer a speedy recovery.

WILLENHALL BELLS,

COMPLETE RTSTORATION PROPOSED.
For some time past, the condition of tite ring of eight bells in St. Giles' Parish Church at Willenhali, Staffs, has beon causing anxiety to the Parochial Chturch Council, and, after taking the opinion of leading bellfounders, the Council has decided that the tine has now arrived when the relianging, recasting and repairing of the bslls cannot with safety be any longer delayed. The approximate cost will be $£ 750$.
The parish is already faced with heavy expendinare for other purposes, including schools, organ alld church fabric, and it is hoped that ringers generally will support the fund for the restoration of the bells, which have been frequently used in past years for practice and peal aitempts, while many learners heve rung their first touch or peal at this church.
The Council, therefore, appeals for generous support to enable this work to be proceeded with. Contributions will be gratefully received by the Vicar, the churchwardens, or Mr. Chris. Wallater, l, Marston Street, Willenlaall, captain of bellringers.

BELL ROPES' LONG LIFE.

A parl of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at Henley, Suffolk, last Saturday, and it is inveresting to mote that it was the 177 th peal on the bells, with the original ropes made by John Pritelard and supplied through John Taylor and Go. of Loughborough, 34 years ago, when the bells were augwented to eight.

Althougln the bells are a light peal, the longevity of these ropes is a remarkable tribute to Johm Pritchard's product and the attention bestowed upon them by those responsible for their care at Henley.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A very successful and enjoyable joint meeting of the Warwickshire and Staffordghire Societies was held at Tamworth, Staffs, on March 21st, and, in spite of the fact that the tower is on the boundary of both societies, about 35 members attended durimg the aftemoon and avening.
Tho very fine ring of eight belts was mado good use of durimg the aiternoon, after which move was made to the schools for tea. Among those present were the Vicar and churchwarden of Tamworth. The welpome the Ficar gave to the ringers was replied to by the Rev. G. H. Barker and Mr. F. W. Perreus, on behalf of the Staffordshire and Warmickshire Sacieties respectively.
Before returning to the tower for further ringing, change ainging ind tunes on handbells were given by Messrs. J. B. Fenton, H. Enjght, F. W. Perrens, G. F. Swann, C. H. Webh and J. H. W. White, Tho best thanks of the ringers aro due to Mr. S. G. Chaplin, of the local company, for his valued assistance in both making the meeting possible aud a success.

A 'ROLL OF HONOUR.'

OF SUPPORTERS OF ' THE RINGING WORLD.

The Silver Jubilee of 'The Ringing World' has prompted several original supporters of the paper to suggest that we should publish a list of present readers who have been subscribers without interruption from the first number.
This suggestion we gladly accept, and we invite all those ringers who have so loyally supported 'The Ringing World ' throughout these 25 years to send us an intimation on a postcard, with their names and addresses.
Do it to-day!

a REYIVAL AT ST. MHERAEL'S.

It is gratieying to learn from statcments made at the seventh annual dinner of the Gloucester Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association that there is promise of a real ringing revival at St. Michael's Church, Glecucester, with which yeazs ago the Teev. H. L. and E. B. James were actively associated, and at whicl the St. Michael's Juniors Society flourished.
The dinner, which was held at the Spread Eagle Hotel, Gloucester, was presided over by Councillor W. R. Eggleton, who was supported by Mr. S. E. Romans (Master of the associition and chairman of the branch), Mrs. Romans, Mr. W. H. Harris (branch sereetury), Mrs. Harris, the Rev. F. C. Prichaxd, Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams, Mr. E. Guise (hon. secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association), Mrrs. Guise annd visitors from Bristol, Mangotsfield, Cheltenham, Ruardeant, Newent, Westbury-onseevern, Stonehouse, Miuchnmpton, Swindou, Ross, Lydney, etc.
After the loyal toast, Mr. Etygleton proposed. 'Church and State,' to which the Rev. E. C. Priclard responded. He said he was greatly impressed by the fact that the ringers att st. Michael's Church always prefaced their ringing with a prayer. In regard to the bells at St. Michael's, he said it was his intention that the belfry of his church should speak. The ringing of bells, he said, recalled the real joy and happiness of religion.
The toast of ' Kindred Societies ' was proposed by Mr. H. Kuight, who said ha was. yrateful for the support which the Gloucester riugers gave to the Bristol ringers. Gloucester, ie added, was known all over Englana for its history in ringing.
Mr. Jack Clarke, giving the toast of 'The Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association,' said he had never mived with on association thit was better or more true. Some years ago he thought that ringing in Glourcester was nearly doomed, because apparentiy the clergy were not in sympathy with it. Ringing in Gloucester at one time, he bzid, used to be second to none in the kingdorm. It was a great pleasure to him to hear now that the Rector of St. Michaei's would do his utmost to forward bellringing. If bellringing were carried on as it used to be in Gloucester, no one could grambio about it.
Mr. S. E. Romans, respronding, said there was a shortage of young ringers in the eity, and he appealed for new members. The clergy, he thought, might' help thern in that way and encourage young men to take an interest in bellringing. His ideal was to get a separate band of ringers for each tower in the cilty. At present they had to divide up to make a band for each church. He was glad that they had the use of the bells at St. Michael's Ohurch, ayd they had been able to ring for Sunday services at least trice a month. Fight bells bad been used, ard they hoped in the future to be able to use ten. It had been found unsaio to ring the ten bells until some structurai gilterations had been made. Unfortunately, funds were not forthcoming for that at present, but the nssociation might be able to contribute a donation towards the fund.
Mr. Romans proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' to which Mr. Eggleton and Mrs. Eggleton, Mr. Prielard and representatives of the various districts responded.
Mr. G. Pinnell said there were some boys in the Bible Class at st. Michael's Church who were prepared to learn bellringing.
Entertainment was provideel hy Messrs. T. T. Harris, L. David, J. Austin, J. Williams, R. Benfeld and G. H. pinnell.
During the afternoon ringting took place at St. Micluel's, St. Mary de Crypt and St. Mary de Lode Churclies.

BISHOP WELCOMED WITH HANDBELJS.

"The six bells at Tamerton Foliot, near Plymouth, were rededicated by the Bishop of Exeter at a special service on Satardity afternoon, March 21st, and the old Devon village church was filled to capacity by a congregation numbering about 450 , of whom 100 were visiting ringers. They came from belfries far and near-from St. Budeaux, Comwood, Brampiord Speke, Plymstock, Plymonth (Stt. Andrew's and Emmanuel), Plympton St. Mary, Buck'fastieigh, Wembuny, Ermington, Bickleigh, Botus Floming, Egy Buckland and Bere Ferrers.
The visiting clergy jnehaded the Rov. R. H. Litcas, R.D., of Plympton and Vicar of Yealmpton, who acted as Bishon's chaplain; Prebendary S. R. Carden, Fiear of Egg Buckland: and the Revs. T. A. Hancock, Vicar of St. Budeaux C. E. T'. Wills, Vicar of Plympton St. Maurice ; E. Y. Cox, Vicar of Brampford Speke (president of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers); A. Calder, Vicar of Modbury; Leigh Murray, Vicar of Bickleigh; H. Leigh-Lye, Vicar of Maristow; is. M. Campbell, Vicar of Ivyluridge; E. J. Burt, Viear of Crown Hill: E. J. Davies, Vicar of Elburton: B. Benskin, Vicar of Maryfield, Torpoint and R. C. Alexander, Vicar of Shaugh' prior.
Prior to the service the Bishop was met at the clurcle door by a band of handbell ringers, who rang a well-struck course of Grandsire Triples as he entered the chumeh, the band being S. R. Roper (Croydou) 1-2. T. G. Myers (Plymouth) 34, G. H. Myers (Plymouth) 5-6, L. E. Collins (Groydon) 7-8. The Bishop expressed lis appreciation of the handbell ringing, and saill it was the first tiwe that he bad been welcomed to of church in this way.
During the service his Lordslip, preceded by the choir, churchwardens and clergy, proceeded to the west end of the clurch at the base of the tower, and performed the dedication corcmony in full view of the congregation. As the procession refurted to the chancel, some well-struck rounds were rung oas the tower heils by the local band.

NEW RINGING GALLERY.

Immediately after the service rounds and call chauges were rung, in the real Devonshire styile, by the St. Budenux band of ringers, and then followed two perfectly struck touches by a mixed band, one of Kent Treble Bob Minor and oue of Bob Minor, the ringers being S. R. Roper (Cropdon) 1, G. H. Myers (Plymonth) 2, T. G. Myors (Plymouth) 3, E. W. Mersh (Plymouth) 4, Rev. E. V. Cox (Branpford Speke) 5, L. E. Collins (Croydon) 6.
The bells were subsequently kept going to call changes and bhe four standard methods until 9 p.m.
The bells have been retumed and rehung with up-fo-date filtiongs, with afl the latest improvements, in a massive new iron frame, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, whe have also erected an onk inging gallery about 12 ft . rbove the ground floar. The new position of the ringers, with the consequent shortening of draught of the ropes, hiat $^{\text {ith }}$ brought about a great improvement in ringing condilions in the tower. Messre. Gillett athl Tolunston lave elso overliauled the clock and added to it, a Westminster quarter clime section
Mr. S. R. Roper, who represented the fims, received congratirlations from all sides on the excellent work througfout of the Croydon Foundry.
It is interesting to note that during the four years of his incumbency at Tamerton Foliot, the Rev. F. B. Soady has successind] completed the restoration of the tower, the installation of a modern heatiog apparatus and electric lighting, and the restaration of the bells and clock.
During the afternoon some 300 visitors and proishioners athented a public tea.

UNITY IN THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

To the Editor
Dear Sr :-It was not my intention to enter into this correspondeneo at all, as in .my opinion the position was capably stated by Mr. W. Spice, sen., in the first parngraph of lis letter. Unfortuluatcly, he then proceeded to disciss the subjeot right nway, and I mistr iake excention to his last remark about the geed of a Ringing Master. As one who helped to start this question in the Lewisham District. I mast say What the idea of appointing a Ringing Master to quell that undesirable spirit, never entered into ny calarations. I. would remind Mr. Spice that the greater the unity and hrotherly feeling, tle greater the aftendance at meetings, the morn ringers to he accommodated, aud, therefore, the greater ineed of at emmpatent Thiuring Mastor to keep things on the more. ## LANCASHIRE OCTOGENAREANS HONOURED.

James Arrowsmith, retired 52  Jahn Hollows, not out ...... 60

This is the excellend record of years of service put in by two veteran Lancashiro ringers at St, Leonard's Church, Milnrow. Both bave recently reached the age of 80 Mr. Hollows birthday being on Febriary 24th and Mr. Arrowsmith's on March 24th. In honour of the double oveut, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Milurow last Saturday, in which Mr. Hollows took part.

For upwards of 60 years John Hollows lias stood in the band at the troblc boll for service ringing, and has taken part in & number of peals rung on historic occasions, He also rang in the first local pealis of Treble Bob Major, Plain Bob Major and Grandsive Triples, and in the only peat of Minor on the bells at Milnrow.

James Arrowsmith had upwards of 52 years' continuous service ringing to his credit up to his rotirement 10 years ago. He, too, rang in the first peals of I'roble Bob Major, Plain Bob Major end Grandsire Triples. Both veterans are life members of the Lancashire Association.
On Febroary 29th the ringers of Middleton Parish Church with their wives and friends met ab Miss Nall's Oafe to celebrate Mr. Arrowsmith's 80th birthday. To日 was served aud afterwards whist was indulged in.
Dhring the erening Lancashire dialect recitals and songs were rendered, snd Mr. Arrowsmith's health was lonoured with the singing of 'For he's a jolly good fellow.
Dhring the evening Mr. John Hollows was presended with a pipe in appreciation of his long and faithful services. He acknowledged the gift in a very humorous speech, in the course of which he thanked his friends and said how glad he was the band was again showing sign of a happy future.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

IRISH ASSOCIATION.

OHRIST CHURCE, DUBLJN, WIN SUNDAY ATTENDANCE

 SHIELD.The anmual meeting of the Irish Association was held at Limerick on St. Patrick's Day. Considering the great distances travelled by those present, 72 must be considered a good muster. The following towers were represented : Dublize (three towers), Bray, Arklow, Waterford, Cork and the two local towers, st. Mary's Gathedral (eight belle, tenor 24 cwt.) and Moumt St. Alphonsus' (eisht bells, tanor 27 cwt .) The majority made the jourrey by car, and the weather, proving all that could be wished for, made travelling pleasant.
Luncheon was served in the Stella Restarant, and was followed by the business meeting. The president, the Very Rev. Dean Mayers (Waterford), occupied the chair, and the Dean of Limerick gave a cordial welcome to the members to that old city.
Tho following offcers were elected for the ensuing year : President, Mr. D. McNeice, Mount St. Alphoasus', Limerick; hon. treasurer, Mr. D. Qibson: bon, secretary, Mr. G. Lindoff Ringing Master, Mr. R. S. F. Murpliy, P.G. Messis. G. Lindof and R. S. F. Murphy were elected representatives on the Central Council
Dublin was selected as the place of meeting next year, and alsout 40 new members were elected
The Sundey Riaging Atterdance Shield was carried off by Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, with 100 per cent.
Tho Murphy Cup, presented by Mr. R. S. F. Mruphy, P.O., for a contest in striking at the annual meeting, was won by Waterford Cathedral, St. Finbarr's Cathedral, Cork, putting up fine opposition. The sum of one guinea was woted to the William Pyo Memorial Fund. Both rings of eight were made good use of during the day.

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

PROPOSAL TO REVIVE ANNUAL DINNIBR
A quarterly meeting of the Royal Cumberland Youths was held on Saturday at Gravesend, when about forty members were present Ringing commenced soon after 3 p.m., and Grandsire. Stedman, Cam bridge and Superlative were rung.
The service was a shortened form of evensong, and the address was given by the Rector (the Rev. H. T. Soutlryate), who took as his text, 'Have faith in God.'
Tea, which was prowided through the generosity of Mr. W. J. Beer, was partaken af at the Co-operative Cafe, and wes followed by the business meeting, which was presided aver by the curate (the Rev. H. W. Dunn)

Six new members were electerl, viz., Miss J. E. Hardeastle, Miss B. M. Mills, Messrs. W. J. Eric Pearbice, A. Durling, J. R. Dyke ant George Naylor.
It was decided that the societry should contribute $21 \mathrm{1s}$, towards the William Pye Memorial.
Mr. J. E. Bailey proposed that the annual dinaer be reyived, and, after somo discussion, it was agreed that a small committee, consisting of the Master, treasurer and secretary, should look into the matter, and that this committes should have power to co-opt mombers.
Ifr. A. Havd referved to the loss that the society liad sustained by the death of Mr. R. K. Knight, who was for nearly 70 years a member. All present stood in silence as a mark of respect.
Mr. S. J. T. Shellock proposed a vote of thacks to the Rector for the use of the bells and talting the service, to the organist, to the Rev. H. W. Dunn for presiding at the meeting, and to Mr. W. J. Beer for so Fenerously providing the tea.
Handbell ringing followed, and a passable course of Stedman Cinques was rugg. The members then adjourned to the tower, where further ringing took place until nine o'clock. The methods rung jncluded Grandsire, Stedman, Cambridge, Bristol, London, Double Norwich and Duffeld.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

WJEL-ATTENDED MEETING AT STURRY.

A highly successful and enjoyable meeting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Assodiation was held at Sturry on Saturday. Ringing commenced at 2.30 and continued until 4,30 , when the members attended service, which was condncted by the Vicar (the Rev. P. Lambert). An interesting address was riven by the Rev. Father Reeves, of Westbere. Over 70 members, representing 17 towers, sat down in the Parish Hall to an excellent tea, provided through tho generosity of the local ringers and their friends. The Vicar, the Rev. Father Reeves and Mr. W. Prosser (chucchwardeu) were present.
At a short business meeting which followed, with the Ficar in the chair, five now members were elected, and, amid much applause, the Rov. Father Reeves was elected an honorary member. The applause was renewed when Mr. Prosser said that he would also like to become an honorary member.
Votes of thanks were passed to the Ficar for the use of the bells and conducting the service; the Rev. Tather Reeves for his address; to the Sturry ringers and friends for their welcome and hospitality also to Mr. Pitman for presiding at the organ.-Tle Vicar and Mr Slingsby replied.
A return was made to tha tower, where rincing contimed until late in the evening, everyone being catared for, from rounds for the beginners up to London Surprise Minor for the more aflvanced,

STONHAM ASPAL TOWER.

The peal of Double Norwich Royal rung at Stonham Aspal, Suffolk, recently, recalls that the top of the fower was removed so that the bells might be installed. Most of them hang above the tops of the walls and, as our picture shows, they are covered by boarded timber framing which supports the roof.

The masonry taken from the top of the tower was used, it is said, to make up the path to the church, and ringers who do not know this are sometimes mystified when they are told that at Stonham Aspal one has to walk a hundred yards over the top of the tower to reach the ringing chamber.

THE LONDON UNIVERSITY SOCIETY.

POINTE FROM NEW ORGANISATION'S RULESS.

The new London University Society of Change Ringers, which has received permission from the university anthorities to use this title, will, it is hopel, take its place in the Exercise with those other Dniversity Guilds associated with Cambridge and Oxford.
The rules provide that the officers of the society shall consist of a president, wicc-presidents, chaplaiu, secretary and treasurer, who with three other nembers will constitute the committee. The anual subscription is to be 2s. 6d, for ordinary members in residence, and a life membership sulbscription of 5 . for those who have completed their tern. Menbers of the socictiry are to betome memberg of the London Connty Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild, if qualifed in accordance with the rules of the Guild. The 5s, life membership subscription of this Guild is payable througly the treasurer of the University Society and is due on election.

The annual meeting is to be held in May.
The rules also provide for a fortnirhtly practice at All Hallows', Lombard SFreet, alternating with the London Connty Association practica at St. Ciement Dames.
At the moment, however, the tower of All Hallows is closed, owing to the condition of the fabric, and it is malikely that any further ringing wilt be possible on the bells for a long time to come.

SURPRISE RINGING IN DEVON.

FRIST MAJOR BY RTSIDENT BAND.
The first course of Surprise Major ever rung in Devon by a resident band was rung at St. Andrew's Church, Plymouth, on Tuesday, February 25th. Cambridge Surpuise was the method, rumg by eight of the regular Sunday ser vice ringers: A. Weathorley 1, W. F. Oatway 2, S. O'Shauchnessy 3, A. Mitcheimore 4, A. W. Myers 5, R. Orery ह, G. H. Myers 7, T. G. Myers 8. On Tuesday, March 3ed, two courses of Cambridge Surprise were rung, with Messrs. WY. Hiscott aud J. Lukins ringing their first course of Surprise Major.

NEW TREBLE BELL AT HAMPSHIRE CHURCH.

A 'COMING OF AGE' GIIT.

An eveat of raxe interest to the parish of Wootton St, Lawrence, Fants, took place on Sunday, March 15th, when the Bishop of Southampton (the Rt. Rev. A. R. L. Karner, D.D.) dedicated the new treble bell which has been added to the existing live, aud given by Gol. A. S. Bates and Mus. Bates, of Marydown Park, to commemarata their dacghter's 21st birthday.

During tho service and afterwards the local ringers rang a few rounds on the new six under the gridance of Mr. H. Balanm, whota tower captain and has a good band in the making.

Messrs. Mears and Stambands carried out the work and a very good peal has resulted. With the younget ringers, who are very keen to leam the art of clange ringing, mish good work ghond bo done.
On Tuesiay, March 24th, the actual birthday annivarsary of Miss Anne Bates, the first 720 on the bells, an extent of Bob Minol, was mong by W. J. Marlow (first 780) 1, R. Hickman 2, B. Hunt 3, C. Ostier 4, H. Balaam (conductor) 5, J. Chestermau 6. Touches of various oticer methods were alsa rung. Everyone was very pleaserl with the 'go' of the bells, and a very usefal six has been added to the Basingstoke Listrict of tho Winchester and Portsmonth Diocesan Guid.

EFFECTIVE MUFFLING.

To the Edttor.

Dear Sir, We have had mant diverse opinions expresged on the subject of nuffled rineing. Perhaps I may be permittred to surgest a procedure which would satisfactorily solvo all pwoblems. In a certain country tower of my acquaintance, not fin from a noted Bucks village where thev thatch the pond to kecp the ducks dry, the worthy steeplekeeper muffled his bells with sections of car tyres. Result, the bells were completely inaudible and no one's susceptibilities were affronted

JUBILEE PEAL BOARD AT WALSALL

On Thureday evening, March $5 \mathrm{th}_{1}$, a peal board commemorating tha ringing of a peal of 5,005 Stedman Cinques for the Silver Jubilee of the lute King George V. and a peal of 5,017 Stedman Gaters by John Carled for his 70 th birthday was very kindly unveiled by Miss A. Windle, J.P., in the ringing chamber at St. Matthew's Charch, Walgall, in the presence of tho Vicar (the Rev. H. J. Carpenter, M.A., R.D.), the ringers and friends. The board is polished black and lettered in gold.

Miss Windle gave a very interesting short early history of the bells at the church, tha earliest koown being in the jear 1540. At one time the lirbest bell was taken away and used for the repairing of bridges.
Mr. T. J. Elton remarked that he hoped that would never be the fate of the present tenor of their now excellent ring of twelve.
Both the peals recorded on the board were rung by service ringers of St. Mattliew's.

THE BROADCAST FROM PORTSEA.

To the Editor.

Sir, I would like to say how much I appreciated the broadcast ringing from St. Mary's, Portsea, on Sunday week. The bells came throngh excellently and the striking was of a high order,
As bhere has been so much recent correspondence on the subject of the broadcasting of belle, I certainly think that bands who are ear trusted witl the opportunity to broadcast, should place striking above everything. Rounds well struck is infinitely better than indifferent change ringing. I was one of the band who broadcast the opening chanke relging, Boston Stump a few years ago, and it was decided to ring rounds only in an offort to get the best sEriluing, rather than attempt any sort of change ringing, altiough every member of the band was a change tinger of some experience and had rung peals.

THE COUNCIL AND ITS BUSINESS.  \section*{To the Editor.}

Dear Sir,-With reference to the leading article in your last issue, the new rules of the Council, which, so far as they relate to repregentation, come into operation this yeal, contain the following: 'For the purpose of this rule the basis of the calculation of membership for territorial and diacesan societies shall be the number of annamal entheribing howorary and ringing mombers, and resident life members.' Your arbicle does not make this clear. It states that non-resident ringing members do sot count for purposes of representation. This is olwiously incorrect. The rules admit for representation all members of tervitorial and diocesan societies who pay an annual subscription, whetler they reside within the territory of the society or not. Only non-rusident life members are excluded.

21, Vincent Road, E. 4.
four correspondent has quoted the rule correctly. Our reference to non-resident ringing mentbers was intended to apply to those who, living outside a sociely's area, pay one sum for life membership, but that, as Mr. Coles points out, does not exactly cover the position.Edreol, "llinging World.']

BELLS SILENT AT DTSTRICT MEETING.

The third anmal meeting of the Alton and Potersfield District, was held nli Alton. those presentincluded the Rev. F. G. Eyses (distriet chairman), the Rev. T. N. R. Griffn (district auditor), nnd ringing members [rom Alton, Blacknoor, Hawkley, Patersfield, Privett, Steep and one unattached. Ont account of the death of His late Majesty King George $\overline{\mathrm{V}}$., the bolls were kopt silent as a token of respect, with the exception of a short service touch with clappers fully maffled. The Guild's service was conducted by tie Vicar (the Rev. T. N. R. Grifin), why also said \& few words of welcome to those present, and ppolso of tho loss tho conntry had sustained by the death of King George. Tha was served in the Parish Room, to which 26 grt down.
Before procseding to the business mecting, the chaiman callod for a. short silence ns a mark of respeet to the late King, and spoke of his appreciation of the action of the members in letting the arrangements stand under tie circumstances and yet giving up a certain anount of pleasure by keeping the bells silent.

The ammul report and batance sheet for 1935 were read. The latter showed a balance in hand of 56 .
The district etlicers for 1936 and the committoe were re-elected. Pive now ringing nembers wero olected from Bramshott.
Tho naxt annual mestive was fixed for Jamuary 23rd, 1937, at Peterafield. The next quarterly neeting will be held on April 25 th.

GREAT RECORD PROVED FALSE.

Occasionally the ringing Exercise gets a nasty shock, when some treasured and worthy record is brought crashing to the ground by the discovery that what was believed to be a good and true performance was in fact false. Today the peal at Southwark Cathedral on May 21st, 1923, when the Ancient Society of College Youths rang 12,675 Stedman Cinques in 9 hours 47 minutes, and thus created a new Stedman Cinques record, has been found to be false. Such happenings are always a minor tragedy. That nearly thirteen years should have elapsed before the discovery was made makes it doubly disappointing. There have been instances of " record" peals being found to be false after the publication of the figures, but we do not recall any case in which the discovery has been made so many years after the public appearance of the composition. The figures of this peal were set out in "The Ringing World ' a few weeks after it had been rung, and one imagines it was subjected to the scrutiny of the "experts ' of the day. It has, however, been left to the present time for the error to be brought to light.

There will be every sympathy with the band who thus unavailingly put up what was, despite this present discovery, a great performance. There have been a number of memorable achievements on twelve bells, both before and since, in which the number of changes has been exceeded, but there has been no other peal of such length rung on bells of this weight. The tenor at Southwark weighs 50 cwt. It is regrettable and, indeed, sad, that this great effort has now turned out to be abortive, but it is just one of the things which, however careful men may be, are liable to happen in ringing. Sometimes peals have turned out to be false through carelessness and even ignorance on the part of composers, but even if every apparent care is exercised, as we imagine was the case in regard to this peal, it would appear that the risk of error can never be entirely eliminated where new long leagths in such methods are produced. The unfortunate happening at Painswick in 1930 is still fresh in the minds of many people, but that 'tragedy" was quickly discovered. In the case of the Southwark peal, however, the composition has been open for inspection for more than twelve years, but no one has detected the fault until now.

Some day, perhaps, another band will put up an equal performance to that at Southwark-that remains to be seen-but the men whose record has now got to be expunged from ringing annals will probably never be able, as a band, to attempt again what they did thirteen years ago. But though their 'record' as a true peal has gone, their performance will ever remain as one of the greatest in ringing history.

FOR BEGINNERS.

MORE DOUBLTS

'luere is a method very little rung, called New Bob. It is closely allied to Double Grandsire, if bobs were possible both behind and in front at every lead, the likeness conving from the fact that Jrd's place is made both before and siter the treble's lead, and before and after its whole pull behind. But, in addition, New Bob has a Znd's place made when the treble is leading, which causes the bell behind to lie a whole pull.

Illus is necessary, otherwise the bells would cane round at the first lead end, as, in fact, they do if you ring Double Grandsire and call a bob both back and front. Perhaps the man who designed Now Bob couceived this way of rimging Double Grandsire. But however that may be, New Bob will make a change for those who want something fresh on five bells.
The method starts off as does Grandsire, but 2 and 3 continue to slodge together on the front; that is the 2nd in $1-2$ (up) and the 3rd in 2-1 (down) until the treble comes back to lead agrin. This is actually a double dodge.
While this is going on, the other bells coming from behind, being unable to get down to lead, have to make 3rd's place and go up agnin, but, except for the bell that lurns the treble from behind, these bells have only one blow behind (made at hand-stroke).
There are two of them in each lead which make this add blow behind, and this causes one other bell to do a curious piece of work. This bell is the one that turns the treble from behind. It lies a whole pall, makes one blow in 4 th's, lies another whale pull, makes is second blow in 4th's and then lies yet another whole pull, the last blow of all being over the treble. This piece of work may well be deseribed as 'full work hehind.'
The result of this double dodging on the front and the full work belind is that every bell (except the troble) reaching 3 rd's lias it whoic pull in that position. Remamber, tharefore, in ringing the method you cannot go into and out of 3rd's without a whole pull in that place-it helps you when you are in doubt. If the second of the two blows in 3yd's is over the treble you go doum (and double dodge on the front). If it is not over the treble you have to gu wa; then, unless you turn the treble from belund, you have only one blow in 5th's.
['he only otler thing to remember, unless a bob is called, is that when the treble Ieads, the bell that has dodged in 2-1 (down) makes 2nd's and dodges in $1-2$ (up).
This mey seem a rather long explanalion of a Doubles methou, but we have tried to show something of its canstruction. If you understand the construction of simple tings like this, you acenmulate knowledge which helps you to understand other wore diffecult things later on. But yon can summarise the work in New Bob quite easily thus, beginning with the 3 rd :-
(1) Make 3rd's, double dodge in 2-1 (down)
(2) Make 2nd's, double dodge in $1-2$ (up)
(3) Make 3rd's, ane blow behind
(4) Make 3rd's, full wrork behind.
(5) Make 3rd's, one blow behind.

Make 3rd's (which is once more the sbarting point).
Although the calls in New Boh are designated bobs, they are, in uffect, singles, for only two of the working belis change; the other two 'lie still.' The bell cloing the 'long work beljind ' is not affected, Turt the bell that comes fron behind to make 3 rd's and double dodge on the front, maiked (I) above, makes 4th's instead and after one blow behind becomes (4) above. The bell that find dorlged 1-2 (up) and made 3rd's, instcad of going up behind, retirrss to the front, and, after leading, donble dodges in 1-2 (up) as (2) above. The bell that would hawe made 2nd's makes 3rd's and goes back to the dodging on the front, as (I).
To produce 120 , call a bob at any one lead in the first course, and at the corresponding place in each of the two succeeding courses. Below are the flgures of a plain lead and a bobbed lead. Write out the full course, based on the first colmm, draw it diagram as ex plained last weok and study it.

THE BANKES JAMES CAMBRLDGE,

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-1 am writiug this on the aveninf of the publication at my dream, in anticipation oi a possible reply in next week's issue of "The Ringing World.' In my opiuion, the only possible objeotion to the Bankes James composition of Canbridge Minor is the olle voiced by Mr. P. J. Johuson at a Central Council meeting, viz., that the fres row (rounds) is not Ombridge, and that the method does uof. commence till the couductor says, 'Go, Cambridge.
However, in deference to you, sir, and to your reakiers, I appeal to you to digcourage any furtiner controvergy in your columns an this worn-out subject, but I should be quite prepared to debate the question by post with any ons correspondent, and to notify you of the final result if it is of any interest.

[It may save space, and perhaps postage for someone, if we say at once that those who take the opposite line of thought to Mr. Johnson and Mr . Collett hold that the first row (rounds) is as mueh a part of the method sis 156342 and corresponding rows, that you cannot get the first change without it, and that the conductor has already said, 'Go, Cambridge,' when the essentiul row of rounds is rung. The overwhelming force of this theory will be realised by anyone who tries to construct a symmetrical even-bell method without including in it the initial row of rounds or an equivalent.-Endor, Ringing World.']

LINCOLN GUILD.

The Grinsby Distriet of the Northeru Brameh held at combined practice meeting at Barton-on-Humber on Saturday. A fairly laryo gathering. representing most of the towers in the disbrict, was present. Visitars from Hull (Haly Trinity), Leas (Gainshorough Digirict), Leverstack Green (Herts) and Sutton-on-Hull were heartily weleomed. The mothods for practice were Double Norwich Court nad Cambridre Major, which were well exploited during the evening, several having their first course in these methods. Everyone present appeared to have enjoyed this very instructive practice when the bells were lowered at 9 p.m.
Thanks are due to Canon W. E. Wrahin for the nse of the bella, mad to Mr . A. Hoodless for making arrargements.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MIDDLESEX RINGERS

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-The Middesex County Association accepted me es a member in 1899 . Since then I have taken f very keen interest in all its doings, especially of the peals. Their nembers have accomplished some autstanding performances. The seven-method Surptise Major peal rung at Staines, and puhisined in the cirrent issuc of "The Ringing World, in my opinion is the best ever: Seeing that it was rurg by members residing in the countr, I sincerely congratidete them. It shows progress on the right lines.

BROKEN CLAPPER ENDS PEAL ATTEMPT.

A peal of Doubles at Slanglam, Sussex, on Suturday weck, came to an end in the 22 nd six-score when the chapper of the tenor broke and fell out. The ringers were George A. Pactham (conductor) 1, Fred Packham 2, Frederick Godsmarlk 3, Charles Wickens 4, Ernest PackHam 5, Joseph Mansbridge 6. The peal was being rung oat the back six.

Trouble, through clappers breaking. has been exparienced at many places since the war. It is not the fanlt of tho maliers, but arises, wa understand, from the quality of the jron that is now produced. It is extremely difficult to get a proluct that will stand up in all cases to the constant shock impoged upon the shanit of at hell clapper.

"THE RINGING WORLD" SILVER JUBILEE.

At a meeting of the Ancient Sucicty of College Touths, held Just week, a resolution was adopted congratulating the Iditor of 'The Ringing World ' upon the silver jubilee of the paper, offering the society's best thanks for the great service he is rendering for the welfars of the Ringing Texercise, and wishing him every success in the future.

Congratulations have also come to us from the Liverpool Branch of the Lancashire Association.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

INTERESTING GVENT AT BOLTON.

On Satnrday week there was a large attendance of ringers at the monthly meeting of the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association, held at St, Genrge's Church, Bolton.
At 3 p.m. the bells ware going, and ringing continned until about 8.45 p.m., except for tea nind service. The Ficar, the Rev. Canon H. J. Eisce, M.A., who is also president of the association, very kindly provided tea and conducted a short service.

Immediately after the service, the Vicar dedicated two poal tablets, ons recording a peal of Stedman Yung in October, 1900. This is the only peal of Stedman ming on the belis, which were installed in 1806. Four of the band werc at the meeting, Mr. Albert E. Wreaks having travelled from Paisley in Scotinnd, and Mr. Thomas Peere from Heyshan, the Rev. Canon Elsee and Mr. Honry Moss. The only other sulvivar is Mr. Joseph Potter, now in U.S.A. The late Rev. F. E. Robinson conducted the peal, and the late Mr. Titus Barlow and tie late Mr. Joln Makin completed the band. The other tablet records a peal of Grandsine Triples rung on May Ioth last year to celebrate the Royal Silver Tubilee of the late King. The band consisted of six local members, nssisted by two from Holy Trinity, Bolton.
The tablets are of oak lettered in gold leaf and are the very kind gift of Mr. Richard W. Mosley, a ringer of the district.
Canon Elsee gave a brief history of the bells, cast by Rudlazl. Fe said not many peals had been rung on the bells. They were in a part of the town in which peal ringing could be a nuisance.
Mr. Clade J. Davies, of Liverpool, moved a vote of thamks to the Vicar for providing the tea, for the service and for granting the use of the bells; also to the organist and ladies who heiped.

The weeting passed a resolution congratulating the Editor of "The Ringing World" upon celebrating his silver jubilea as Editor, and conveying many kind wishes. Spenkers prossed for more members to take the paper, the value of which was poisted out.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

WHEN PEALS AND MEETINGS CLASH
The annual meeting of the association is, as uaual, to be held ato Norwich on Eabter Monday. In the fifty-ejghth report, which is then to bo presented to the meeting, it is slated that the year bad no remarkable events to record. The balance sheet shows a balance of E10 12s. 2d. in hand, against £2 3. 10d. the previous yenr, with invested reserve funde of the present value of $$ 1425 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$.

During the year 12 members were lost by death, 10 members resisned anti there was the usual deletion of members for non-payment of subscriptions. The election of 44 new members leaves the total memberghip of 857 , against 868 for the previous year. The pent performances for 1935 total 80 peals, rung in 19 different methods, at 32 towers, conducted by 26 members, 168 members taking part in the peals. The peals included the first peal by the association of Chesterfield Bob Major, rung at St, Mary Magdalene's, Pulham.
Regular Sunday service ringing by many companjes is maintained. The report stresses the imprirtant duty of making every effort for the maintenance of regular ringing of the bells for the main services on Sundays. Tha clergy and parishioners like to hear their belle om Sundrys calling the people to worslip. 'We ringers,' says the report, owe a debt of gratitude to tho incumbents who always so genergusly grant us thair kind permission for peals. As office holders in the Church, it becomes pur duty to be in our place in the belfry on Sundays.'
In quoting from branch secretaries' reports, it is stated in the North] and South Norfolk branches more and more ringers are getting the habit of attending every meeting they can, with most pleasant resulta. The standard of ringing throughout the branches has heen well maintained and advanced methods have gained ground
On twe other hand, West Norfolk Branch reported that ther wumber aftending the meetings was not altogether encourggigg, and showed a drop on the average attendance of the previous year. Reference is made to the eleventh-hour cenceliation of a meeting at Wells-on-theSea, on account of a peal baving heen rung there a fortnight belore and nearby residents strongly objecting to a further long spell of ringing. The incumbent had been on holiday and did not know the feelings of his parishioners until the last minute; on tho other hand, the peal ringers most probably never thought for one moment that any objection would be raised, but it does seem to raise the question as to whether it is in the best interests of the association and of ringing generally to run these events too dosely together, particularly in those places where the inhabitants have not. been schooled ta loaring the bells so regularly as we ringers think they should have been Reports of peals rung on Monday should be posted to "The Ringing World 'the same cay.

Those who desired to hear the fine peal of bells af Ripon Cathedral over the air on Sunday evening were disappointed at the brevity of tie broadcast. The pianoforte recital which preceded it extended beyond ite time and the bells were heard for barely two minutes!
The Rev. R. Slierwood, who was precentor of St, Paul's Cathedral, Melhourne, and with whom the tourists to Australia in 1934 were closely in touch during their stay in that city, fo on his way with his family to Englaud, where lie is taking up parochial work. At a farewell gathering Mr. and Mrs. Sharwood received a cheque for sloo subscribed by friends of the Cothedral, and the Gathedral chair presented him with an illuminated address.
Had it not been for the false peal of Londou runs in 1901 and just recently discovered, Mr. George Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, would last Saturday have scored his 1,000 h peal as conductor. As it is, his recognised total is now 999 ! We imagine it will not be long before that extra one is made up.

The handbelt peal of Doubles rung at Hinton-an-the Green last Saturday is another "milestone.' it is ${ }^{2}$ believed to be the first handbell pasi rung by ladies.' Coupled with this is the fact that they are all members of the same family-a farnily well-known in Worcestershire ringing.

Tho peal at Titelumarsh on March 21st was rung in 3 houns 23 minutes. The ringer of the 4 th in the peal at Gorseinon on March 28th was John H. Hanson, not Harrison as printed.

Mr. J. Corbett, hon, treasurer of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, has been elected hon. secretary of the Forest Artisans' Golf Club, athached to the Royal Berkshire Club. He will now dream of 'birdies' and 'eagles' as well as 'bats."

The historic slave bell, which is used by St. Michael's, Fort Wellington, British Guiana, and the broken clapper of which nearly killed the vergel recently, has been repaired and replaced in the church. The inscription on the bell can still be plajaly read, 'Thomas Mears and Son, Fecit,' with the date 'London, $1805 .{ }^{\text {. }}$

BELLS OF CROYDON PARISH CHURCH

Fo the EAitor.
Dear Sir,-As no render appears to have commented upon Mr . R. H. Dove's letter with regard to Groydon Perish Church bells, perhaps you will allow me that priplege.
A few years ago I was called in to inspect the tower and bells of that church, which I did and reported generally. The bells are a sound ring of eight by Taylor's, and, it is said, initiated by Grimthorpe. They are on the heavy side and of "old stavdard' tunjug, but when going in peal liave a bold, round tone of good carrying power.
If the anonymous iady who desires to defray the cost of their recasting were to confine her generosity to rehauging the bells and to the rearranging and strengtheaing of the oak cage, etc., it would, I am sure, be Groydon's gain. Incidentally the town has already a fine 'Simpson' peal af South Croydon, and it might be, too, a matter of interest to retain this sister ring, tuned upon the other system. I believe that they ate within hearing distance of each other.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DIVISION MEETING AT FORSHAM
The annual meeting of the Northern Division was held at Forshnm on Saturday. Members totalling 45 were present from Arundel, Bolney, Balcombe, Billingshurst, Brighton (St. Peter's and Good Shepherd), Crawley, Cuckfield, Capel, Godalwing, Horley, Lingfield, Lindfeld, Lowel Beoding, Maresfield, Merstham, Rotherfield, Shoreham, Turners Fill, Uekfield, Waruham and West Grinstend.

Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and a short service was held at 4.30 . the adidress being given by the Ficar (the Rev. R. W. O. Len, M.A.). Trea was partaken of at the Queen's Head, and at the meeting which followed the chair was taken, in the wowvoidable absence of the Vicar, by Mr. W. Charmat.
The officens for the ensuing year were re-elected and are as follows: Divisional secretary, Mr. O. Sippettis; committee, Mr. G. Apps, Mr. W. Charman, Mr. G. Olliver ; Gommittee of Advice, Mr. G. Apps. Mr. W. Charman, Mr. O. Sippetts.
Two new members were elected, viz., Mr. J. Lovell, of Rotherfield, and Mr. F. Roberts, of West Grinstead.

After the mecting the tower was again wisited, and rincing continued till 8.45. The methods ranged from rounds to Spliced Surprise Major.

FAMOUS PEAL WITHDRAWN.  12,675 STEDMAN CINQUES RUNG IN 1923. Composition Now Proved False.

Fate has dealt a cruel blow at what, for nearly 13 years, has been looked upon as a great record and certainly one of the finest performances in ringing history. On May 21st, 1923, a record peal of Stedman Cinques, consisting of 12,675 changes, composed by Mr. H. G. Miles, of London, was rung at St. Saviour's Cathedral, Southwark, in 9 hrs. 47 mins., by 12 members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and it has stood since then as one of the greatest achievements in the annals of the art, not only for the powers of endurance exhibited by the ringers, but also for the excellence of the ringing throughout the peal.

Now, after all this lapse of time, a further examination of the composition, which was published a few weeks after the peal was rung, has revealed that it was false. The announcement is made in the following communication, which we have been asked to publish :-

THE ANGEET SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

Sir,-After a period of nearly 13 years since its performance, it lats heen discovered that the composition of tho long peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Sonthwark Cathedral on Whit Monday, 1923, by merahers of this society, is false.

WILLIAM T. COCKERJLL, Hon. Secretary.

March 31st, 1936.

The ringers who fook patt in the peal were Messrs. C. F. Winney 1, O. W. Roberts 2, W. S. Langdon 3, W. Rushton 4, H. Langdon (condinctorl 5, W. Hibbert 6, R. T. Deal 7, T. Langdon 8, T. Groombridge 9, R. T. Hibhert 10, H. R. Newton 11, A. B. Peck 12.
We understand that the ralseness of the peal was discovered by Mr. C. W. Foberts, who, yecently looking over the figures, found that just one six, in the last turning course, four courses from the end, repeated with an earlier part of the peal. Fe communicated his discovery to the composer, who reported it at the meeting of the College Youths last week. Naturally the anutouncement was heard with great regret and no little consternation.

Tha suctety, while regording the facts in the minutes and acknowledging Mr. Robents' part in the discovery, decided to seek permission to linve a smali brass plate attached to tho peal board in Southwark toper to record the fact of the falseriess.
To all cencerned, we feel sure, ringers everywhere will extend their sympatly, on being robbed of the full reward of a great achievement, which was thus describer in "The Ringing Work " at the time:

Tho intention was to ring a peal of 15,051 , if possible, and althougln this length was not accomplished, a peal of 12,675 chengos was brought round in 9 hour's 47 minutes. The task was a stupendous one, and one which deserves the admiration of all ringers. For more than nine and three-quarter hours those twelve men ravg some of the finest Stedman Cinques that ever were heard, for all listeners agree that from first to last the ringing was magnifcent. The bells went off into changes nt two minutes pest nine in the morning and so even was the ringing that the first ten courses came up in 62 minutes, the noxd ten in the same time, and each of the two succeeding ten courses in only on: half-minute more. Hour after hour the ringing went on with clocklike regalarity, but after the record had been broken it was deemed wise to bring the bells round, for Mr. Alfred Peck, on like tenar, Wis feeling the strain of the long sustained effort. No one wonders at that. To ring a 50 cwt . bell for that length is a fremendous triumph, and everyone nust agree that a 12.675 in hand is worth a good deal mare than 15,051 in the bush, so to speak. Great credit is due to everyone of the band, and it should not be Forgoten that there were, in addition to men of tried merit and long experience, two youths in the peal, ons of whom, Wison Rushton, is only $17 \frac{1}{2}$ years of nge. One of the thinge which enabled the peal to he rung was the atteation riven to the bells by Mr. Alhert, Hughes, who four or five times during the peal went up among the bells, and with great coolness and dexterity oiled the hearings.

BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENT TO VICAR

At Thorne, Yorks, on Tuesday, March 31st, 1,200 changes Grandsire Triples weve rung as an 82 nd birthday compliment to the Vicar, Cumon J. T. Littlewood. For several penrs this annual compliment has been paid the Vicar ; R. A. Andrews 1, J. Thorley 2, A. Wands 3 , TE. A. Hepworth 4, C. H. Tlorley 5, W. Hobson 6, C. Thorley (conductor) 7, R. Ward 8 .

TWELVE BELLS FOR LEICESTER CATHEDRAL

NEW RING TO BE CAST AT LOUGHBOROUGH.
King's Special Consent to Name the Tenor ' The Coronation Bell.'
The ten bells at the Cathedral Church of St. Martin, Leicester, are to be recast and made into a ring of twelve, which are to be ready for the Coronation.

The Provost (the Ven. F. B. Macnutt) summoned the Cathedral ringers to meet him in the Church House last Thursday night, when he announced the splendid news that work was to be put in hand at once to recast, rehang and augment to twelve the Cathedral peal.

This came as a complete surprise to the ringers, as, owing to other financial schemes in the diocese, it had been thought that it: would be a long time yet before the renovation of the bells could be tackled. However, things have evidently been moving quietly but rapidly behind the scenes during the past week or two, and various generous donors have promised to see the whole thing through with regard to the cost of the scheme. It is confidently expected that the Cathedral will now possess a fine ring of 12 , and various improvements are to be effected in the belfry which will make it an ideal tower from the ringers' point of view.

His Majesty the King has graciously given his special consent for the tenor bell to be named 'The Coronation Bell of King Edward VIII.' His Majesty has made this conditional upon the bell being used for the first time on Coronation Day. It is also interesting to note that one of the new trebles is to be named "The Bell Founder's Bell. '

All those who have rung at Leicester Cathedral, or St. Martin's as it was formerly known, are only too familiar with the present poor peal and the unsatisfactory ringing order. Congratulations will therefore be extended to Mr. Fred Dexter by his many ringing friends throughout the length and breadth of the country that he is now to have a peal wortliy of the band which he has brought to such a high standard.

The Cathedral authorities, who are proud of the fact that the Loughborough Foundry is in their Diocese, have, of course, placed the work in the hands of Jolin Taylor and Co.

The completion of this new scheme witl give the city of Leicester two rings of twelve, the other being at St. Martin's Church.

DEATH OF AN OLD WALKDEN RINGER.

On Saturday, March 28th, there passed nway one of the old Walleden ringors, Mr. Samuel Onkos, who had reached the age of 72 years. He liad been a member of the Walkdeu company sinee 1884, but had not rung duriag the last three years owing to ill-health. He had Eaken part in 41 peals for the Lancashire Association.
The funcral took place on Wedresday, April 1st, at St. Paul's Clurcls. He was carried to his last resting place by his brothar ringers. Tho floral tributes, whicl, were very beautiful, included one in the form of a bell from the ringers.
After the committal a course of Grandsirs Triples was rurg over the grave by Miss A. Potier 1-2, A. Potter, jul. 34, John Polter 5-6, A. Potter, sen. $7-8$. While the mourners were leaving in ghort touch of Stedman Triples was rung. A mulfled peal was rugy on Saturday.

MOTIONS.

It, was proposed by the Rev. F. Lil, Edwards, and seconded by Mr.
That an address be presented by tho Council to tho Diocesau Bishops, requesting them to take measures to ensure that the designs prepared for churches to serve new centres of population shall include due provision for the ultimate enection of substantial towers to eccommodate peals of bells properly hung for singing, at such points ans to place avery group of houses within liearing of a peal of bells a at the same time directing their lordships' attention to the fact that all cause of annoyance from the sonm of bells can be effectually eliminated, if architeets' designs couform to the recommendations of the Towers and Helfries Committee,'
On the understanding that the wording of the actual address be modified, the resolution was carried.

It was proposed by Mr. C. T. Coles, and secouded by Mr. E. C. s. Turner:-
"That in view of the extension of the practice of splicing methods this Council resolves that the term "Spliced" shall bo applied only to those peals in which there are at least as many changea of method as there ary courses in the peal, sulject to the following stipnlations:
(a) In peals in even-bell methods in which singles are used, the number of clauges of meblod before a single shall be at least equal to the nuruber of courses preceding the simgle, and, similarly, atter a single, equal to the number of courges which follow it.
(b) In peals in odd-bell methods, the number of changes of method slanl be at least equal to the number of changes of the bell in the hund. or of the courses in the peal. Subject only, in peals in which less than six methods of Triples are rung, to auy reduction of the number necessitated by lwo or more humb bells, relating to the same method, being consecutively, called into the hunt.
( (c) The conditions relating to even-bell methods shall apply in peals of Minor to each 720 individually, and for the purgoses of this rule each 720 with a Treblo Bob hunt shall be considered to lave six courses. and each 720 with a Plain hant or with an Alliance and Little hunt, twelve courses.
'(d) Peals of Doubles shall be ceemed to comply with this rule if there is at least one change of method within a 120 and mot more than half a six-score is rung without changing iuto a different method.
"Peals which contain move than one methor, but which do not conform to the foregoing, slull be called "Combined" peals.

That as splicing involves changes of methoda at plained, bobleed and sumgled leads alike, it is further resolved that peals in wiich the change of method is not made at the lead-end, such as cerlain peals of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, sliall not be termed "spiliced peals."

'These decisious shall apply to peals oun all number of bolls.

Note.- The above motion is given in its amended form, permission having beeu given to anend paragraph 2 , and an amendmeat proposed by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, seconded by Mf. G. L. Grover, in respect of paragraph i havivg been accepted ly the proposer and seconder of the mation.
The following amendment was proposed by Mu'. J. Funt, seconded by. Mr. J. Parker :-
ch method turas." each method l'illys,
On the suggestion of Mr. S. H. Whod, it was agreed that the rliscussion on the motion be postponed nutil the meal. meating, and the following amendment, proposed hy Mi. S. JF. Wood, seconded by Mr. T. Clarke, was carried:-

That all peals which contain more than oue method shall be called "Spliced Peals," That weparts of all Spiliced Peals shall include n reference to whe mober of methods rutg and the number of changes from one method to another eluring the peal.

It was proposed by Mr. W. H. Fallier, seconded by Mr. C. 'I. Coles. and carried :-

That in tho opinion of the Conaeil it is desirable that a reeord should bo wade of old and walnable peal hoards, atw that a committce be appointed to prepare this record.
The Standiug Commitiee reemmonded that the commitice consist of Mr. W. H. Hollier, the Rev. C. E. Wige and Mr. W. Ayre, and that all members of tho Conncil be asked to co-operate. On the motion of Mr. Hollier, seconded by Mr. A. D. Barker, the recommendatio: was adopted.
It was promosed by Mr, J. S. Goldsmithl, seconded by Mr. A. C. Hazelden, and carried :-

That to chsure the necuracy of the Council's Peals Analysis and as a matiter of mencral interest, those responsible for senting the reports of peals for publication in the ringing Press be inged to denote all 'first peals' and 'first peals in the methad' both by any of the ringers and as conduchor. Froposed by Mrs. E. K. Feter, seconded by Mr. G. R. Pye. and carcied:-

That a tecord be prepared of past, nembers of the Council, giving a short aceount of their work, and where possible a photograpli, nud that a cemmittee be appointed to mondertake this work.

The Standing Committee recommended that the conmittee be Mr. J. S. Goldemith. Mr. W. A. Cavo and Mrs. Fletcher, and that these consult with Camon Colericge ith the anse of carlicy mempers.
On the President's motion, the recommendation was adopted.

PLACE OF NBXT MEETING.
I'lie President formally stated thet the aext meeting was, by rulc, to be hold in London, when tho new rules would be operative and all affiliated societies must pay sffliliation foas based apon the number of members to which they wero entitiod.

OTHER BUSINESS.
As to New Rules. The Rev. W. H. Trewhella stated that trie membership of the Truro Diocesan Guild was not individual, but by Lowers, and out of 800 members of towers, only 55 were change ringers. If, for the purposes of the now rules, their memberghip was taken as 800 , financial differattes might render it impossible for his Ginild to romain affilited.
Tho Presidont asked Mr. Jrewhella to report to the Council if tiese difficulties arose, in order that thesu special circumstances could ban considered.

As to proposed memorial to Mr. W. Pye.-On tho President's motion, the Ceuncil endorsed the schome which was being launched by the Middlesex Connty Association, supported by the Essex Association.
As to reports of Affiliater Societies. -The President invited all sociatios to send copies of their annual reports to the hon. secretary.

As to "The Ringing World."-In reply to an inquiry by Mr. C. H. Kippin, it was stated by the Preaident that the committee appointed to consider the question of advancing the circulation was still giving its attention to this mattor:

Founders of the heaviest bells cast in England.Few things in all the twenty-five years' existence of - The Ringing World ' have given us greater pleasure than the messages that have been reaching us from those readers who have supported the paper since its first number and whose names we are delighted to include in the 'Roll of Honour.' These letters have, in scores of cases, brought congratulations and compliments, which are most encouraging, but what has impressed us most of all has been the sense of loyalty revealed and the appreciation of the fact that the prosperity of the art of ringing depends very largely upon the maintenance of a journal cevoted to its varied interests. These writers ate, of course, all of them growing old in the art, for even a quarter of a century is a good speli in a man's life, but the loyalty of many of them goes back a good deal further than the first days of "The Ringing World,' and a few even to the era before the 'Bell News. ${ }^{1}$ They have always realised that the future success of change ringing has depended to a great degree upon the interchange of ideas, the extension of knowTedge to the widest possible degree, and the co-ordination of the efforts of ringers in the main essentials. Without the medium of a journal this would be nearly, if not quite, impossible.

It is this realisation which we wish could be impressed to a greater degree upon those who think that a ringing paper is an unnecessary luxury and those who prefer to leave its support to others. One stumbling block to this is, of course, the fact that many tingers, indeed, from the number who actually support 'The Ringing World,' we can say the majority, have but a poor conception of the ideals of ringing. They have no ambition to make progress in the art, are content with what instruction they can get from their colleagues in the belfry, and, for the most part, only indifferently fill the office which they hold in the church. The ringer who fully appreciates the responsibilities of his office is the ringer who is also loyal to his colleagues and eager to advance in the art. He is not the man who thinks only of his paltry share in the loaves and fishes, or wonders what he can get out of it. He is the man who puts his best into it for the sake of the art and of the office that he foolds. It is to the men of this type that ringing newspapers have always had to look for support in the past, and with them largely lies the difficult task of securing that support which will make the maintenance of their journal possible in the future. There are, we know, hundreds of ringers who have come into the Exercise since the first number of - The Ringing World ' was published, who are as keen (Continued ou phge 250.)

FOR BEGINNERS．

REVERSING $A$ METHOD．
In the last article we suggested that those who are interested in these elementary stadies should endeavour to do a little＂method construction ？on their own account，by writing out a course of Re－ verse New Bobs from the lead of New Bob which we tisen printed． In reversing any method in which the treble conforms to a plain or treble bob hunt，the essential thing is to insert the places made by the working bells in the same relation to the treble going from back to front and front to back，as in the original method are iuserted as the treble goes from front to back and back to front－reversed，as it were，in a looking glass．
For instance，in Grandaire Doubles you make 3rd＇s place as the treble leaves the lead going up．In Reverso Grandsire the place is mado in 3rd＇s as the treble leaves the back on its wey down．It hap－ pens that in Grandsire Doubles the place is 3 rds ，whether it be in the original or the reverge methot．But if it were Grandsire Triples，the 3rd＇s place in the original，would actually be 5 th＇s in the reverse， because 3 rd＇s from behind，when you count the pleces，takes you actuelly into 5th＇s．In the same way in Minor，to reverse a 4 th＇s place when the treble is bunting up，you must bave a 3rd＇s place when the treble is humting down．

Briefly，then，to reverse a method，use the same places，counted from the back and corresponding with the reversed position of the troble，as you used in the original counted from the front

In New Bob，as it happens，the 3rd＇s places remain the same hoth in the original and the reverse，because Jrd＇s place is mate on every possible occasion．The difference between the two methods is only in the transfer of the 2nd＇s place made when the treble leads to $4 t \mathrm{t}$＇s place when the treble has its whole pull behind

Hers is another way of getting it．Having written out one lead of the original vergion，write out each row of figures backwards．You will nof be reversing the same lead，but you do roverse the method， and a complete course can be made up from any lead．Indeed，it may be an advantage to break away from the plain course．Below we put side by side a lead of the original and a reversed lead by writing the figures of the rows backward：－

| :--- | ---: |
| 21354 | 45312 |
| 23145 | 54132 |
| 32415 | 51423 |
| 23451 | 15432 |
| 32541 | 34523 |
| 23514 | 41532 |
| 32154 | 45123 |
| 31245 | 54213 |
| 13254 | 45231 |
| 13524 | 42531 |
| 35442 | 42153 |
| 53214 | 14253 |

While，however，the work is changed in the method from frout to back，or vice versa，the bobs are still made whon the treble is at the front，and consequently the calls affect the work in a difecent way． In the ariginal version a bob does away with 2nd＇s place，when the treble leads，but in the reverge method it does away with the 3 rd＇s place before the treble leads．Here is the difference in the hobs，as shown by the figures；try out for yourself its affect upon the sequence of the work of the method

| New Bob． | Reverse New Bob． |
| ---: | ---: |
| 42531 | 35241 |
| 24351 | 32541 |
| 42315 | 23514 |
| 24135 | call bob 32154 |
| call bob 21453 | 31245 |
| 12435 | 13425 |
| 14235 | 14352 |
| 41253 | 41325 |
| 42135 | 33152 |
| 24315 | 34512 |

In each case，without the bob，the hells would have come round．
A six－score in either method can be obtained by a bob at any one lead in the first course，followed by bobs at the corresponding leads of the two succeeding courses．
Now try another bit of method construction．5t．Dunstan＇s is a method built up like New Bob but without any 3rd＇s place made whon the treble is above 3rd＇s．Can you write it out？

BELLS DEDICATED AT CODSALL, STAFFS

MEMORIAL TO FORMER RINGER

It is not an easy task to describe the beauty and exquisite richaess of the new ring of eight bells at Coderill, Stafis. From a ringer's point of riew, the peal is perfect. They can be heard level and to micety in the ringing room-there is no excuse for bad striking in this tower. From the ron-ringer's point of view the bells have added to the amenity of the village, for in spite of the lightness of the peal it possesses e rich and pleasing quality with a depth of tone waith causes "weight judges" to be out in their calculations or guessea.

The dedication service ons Sunday evening, April Sth, was an unforgettable occasion and one which made a very big impression upon the inlabitants of the village. In addition to the bells, there was the dedication of a credence table, churchwardens' staves and a churchyard gate, all of which was done by the Ven. Archdeacon of Stafford-perhaps, better known formerly as Canon Hodson-who later preached a very impressive sermon. It is, indeed, interesting to wote that the Noncouformist friends shared in this enrichment of the church, and at this special service the lessons were read by the Rey. McMillan, of the Free Church in the village.
The ringing arrangements were in the hands of Messts. Parry and Knight, and they ave to be congratulated upon their selection of the anening hand. There was na fault to find with the striking, and the touch of Grandsire Triples at the conclusion of the service demonstrated in no small way what can be done with these bells.
It seemed to surprise the inhakitants that so many visiting ringers altould turr up and make so good use of the belle, ringing being lept up until a somawhat late hour.

We have it on good authority that en amusing incident oceurred prior to tho service. A cyclist was seen to arrive and approach the church in a somewhat furtive manner. After looking round, as though to see if the coest were clear, ho disappeared throagh the door of the turret stairs. Fie was quickly followed by several people, Who had heard someone remark,' 'That chap's gone to take the tenor.' As could be expected, they were naturally perturbed for the safely of the bells and, thinking they were going to be robbed of a bell, chased up the stairs and caught him in the act of measuring the tenor! Fappily lie had some friends amongsli; the visiting ringers who could vottch for Ixis integrity, otherwise Swindon might lave been a ringer short for a few Sundays.
Mr. Charles Forrell, who had been mainly responsible for the restoration of the bells, was the most disappointed man of the day, as, owing to a riding nccident, he was confined to his bed. We wish hims a speedy acovery, and trust he will live long to hear and enjoy this fine peri af bels.
For many years Codsall luns possessed a very mediocre peal of six with a tenor of about 9 cwt ., whose ringing order caused ringers to give tle tower a very wide berth, while, in addition to the poor running order, the ringing arrangements were far from pleasant, as one had to atand on boards that were laid on the bacles of the pews. That has now been done awny with, and a fine ringers' gallery bas beeu erected. As for the bells themselves, they have been recast at the expense of the people of Codsall, and two treble hells given in pious memory of Edwin Moreton, an old ringer of Codsall. They are the gift of his dnughters, the Misses Moreton, who lase also given a memorial tablet. The nugmented ring of cight is hung in a fine new framework. Messrs. John Taylor and Co, of Loughborotegh, who were entrusted with the work, left no stone unturned to ensure it perfectit satisfactory job from ergly point of wiew, and they have provided $n$ peal of fine musical tonc which las evon excecder the most optimistic expectations of the Clurch oullorities, whose foy and thankfuness were expressed to the firm's representative, Mr. John P. Fider, timo and time again. Frora the peal ringer's point of view here is a peal idmal in every way.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Archdeaconry of Ely Branch was held at Ickleton on Saturday, April 4th. Whith quite a representative gathering from the district, members from the Central Branch and visitors from Essex and Herlfordsliire, the reputation of the Ickleton meetings was well maintained. Rimging commenced with rounds (perhaps same claver person will say it always does) at ahout 3 p.m., and finished witl a course of London Surprise Major at about 8.30 .
The Vicar, who conducted the service, in the course of his address referren to tho great loss the association has sustained in the tragic teacti of the Rew. T. H. Turwhith Drake.
All are erateful to Mr. P. Webb, of the local band, for making the hrangements for the meeting.

THE MASONIC PEAL BOOK.

VOLTME DEPOSTTED IN GRAND LODCE

For the information of ringing brethren, Mr. F. White asks us to Fubligh the following with regard to the Mesonic Pesl Book:-
The book is depoaited in, and is the sols property of, the Graud Lodge of England

The Grand Librarian will issue sheets for the writing of peals to a recognised writer on application, and las agreed to ingert the aleets in tho book. The address is "The Grand Librarinn, Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen Street, London, W.C.'
Mr. J. Holiand, of 9, Rolls Passage, Chancery Lane, E.C.4, has written the lest few peals, and is agreable to do them in future at the same rate as originally arranged with the late Mr. Scarborough, viz., 8 s . per peal. (It is, of course, not intended that Mr. Holland should have the monopoly, but he is on the spot and his terms arc moderate.)

Details of the ringers are restricted to the title (Bro. or W. Bro.), and the number and name of one Lodge. Other titios, such as Provincisl or Grand rank or other degrees are omitted. Footnotes are aliso restricted to matters of purely Masonic intereat. The details of the book, as show $n$ in the bill, are: "The loaves are of Jap vellum, gilt edges, book sewn in sutured silk, silk ends, sewn blue silk, and the book is bound in Sumach tanned moroceo of a Masonic blue, and the lettering of embellishments are of fure gold.' The cobt was $£ 7$ 7a., exclusive of the illuminating of the front page, which cost a further 18s. Every care has been taken to onsure that all peala rung by Freemasons have been written in the book, but if any have been madvertently missed, will the conductor kindly inform Mr. F White, Westfield, Cranbrook, to whom no further reports should be sent. The peals recorded are as follow:-

SURREY ASSOCIATION

NUTFIELD REVISITED AFTER 16 YEARS.
A quarterly mecting of the Surrey Association (Southern District) was held at Nutfield, u hich was visited on Saturday, March 28 th, after an absence of 16 years. Thirty-four members attended from Reigate, Rerlhill, Mersthan, Buckland, Horley, Dorking, Gapel, Groydon, Beddington, Swindon, Godstone, Burstow snd Lingfeld, Ringily was followed by a service, conducted by the Tev. Hartwell Jones, who gave an inspiring address. The losson was read by Alderman Temple Newell, J.F. Tea was served in the Club Room, and the Vicar presided at the business meting, at which it was reported that five peals were rung during the last quartor
It was proposed ta attempt the next quarberly penl at Betchwortl, the method to be Cambridge Surprise Major, and the conductor Mr. R. V. Fuller.

The alection of $\mathbf{G v e}$ new members previous to peals was ratified.
Notice was given that a joint meeting with the Sussex Association would be held at Crawley in May, and tho noxt guarterly meeting at Buckland on June 27th
A vote of thanks was nccorded to the Viear and to Mr. end Mre. Moon and the ladies for the excellont arrangements at the tea.
The Secretary recalled the fact that it was 16 years since a meeting was held at Nutfield. The Vicar, in reply, gave the assaciation E. welcome to Nutfeld.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.  ANNUAL MEETING AT ST, ALBANS.

Rev, R. F. R. Routh elected President.
After riuging on the bells of the Abbey, St. Peter's, St. Stephen's and St. Withael's Churches, St. Albans, and at Sandridge, on Ea.fter Monday, members of the Hertford County Association athended evensong ab St. Albans Abbey, re which a special eddress was given by the Rev. E. H. Evans, of Hertford.
They afterwards assembled for tee and the manual meeting of the association ot the Abvey Institute. The Archdeacon (the Vera. H. A. Skelton) presided, and extended a cordial welcome to the company, which represented uver 30 parishes and included ringers from outside the county.
The annual report, presented by tho hon. secretary (Mr. G. W. Cartmely, and the statement of necoltats, submitited by the hon. treasurer (Mr. G. E. Debenham), were adopted. The general fund showed a halance in liand of $E 7$ 10s. 9d, as against 881 s . 5d. at the heginning of the year. The credits belance of the Benevolent Find had been increased by 5368 . 6d., bringing the total to 816 8s. 2d., and a Voluntary Bell Fund had been opened.

THE FON. SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In his survey of the past year's work, the Hon. Secretary said: Whilst the world has been unsettled in political and economic conditions, and in a position of not knowing what a day may bring forth, bellringing has been carried on in our villages, hamlets, cities and towns as csual, the bells sounding out their warnings and also their jubilant notes of praise and thanksgiviteg to the morld at large. As to the work of the associalion, I cen confidently say that it has fully maintained its traditions botl in tho variety and standard of methods practised, and peals rung. Whilst numerically a emall assaciation, our ringing achievements are without rival. Fivg peals of London Surprise Major, and a peal of Spliced London and Cambridge Surprise Major rung double-handed on handbells by Messrs. H. G. Cashmore, C. W. Woalley, H. Hodgeits and F. W. Brinklow stands preeminent as the highest accomplishment in change ringing. Then Wero is tha first peal of Eryri Major rung at Bushey (an enlargement of Bristol Surprise Major). It is interesting to recall that the method was practised by Mr. G. N. Price and his band at Oxbey 25 years ago, but was abandoned because no true composition could bo found of peal lengilh. Also a peal of Wembley Surprise Major rung withont previous practice by any member of the band, being the first ever rung. At Bushey Heath a peal of Spliced Surprise Major, the first in the county by a resident band, has also been rung. The peal list comprises 49 on tower bells and 22 on handbells, rumg in nearly all the standard methods. The first peal of Stedman Cinques at tho Cathedral is also another worthy record for the association, in which seven seored their first peal of Cinques. It was an excellent peal throughout, and has been fittingly commemorated by tho erection of a peal board.
Progreas lias been made in higher methods by several bands. Congratulations are given to the Abbots Langley band on their success in ringing their first local peal, of which they are justly proud. It is noticeable that, whilst a great number have rung their first in different methods, only four have rung their first peal, three of whom were in the Abbots Langloy peal. There have been 26 conductors, Mr. F. G. Cashmore heading the list with nineteen.

At the last annmal menting e wolnmtary bell restoration fund was brought into being at the suggestion of the president. I have received several afpulications from parishes in the county asking whether wo had at fund to liclp bell restorntion, but have always had to give a negative reply, I trist a liberal response will soon enable our treasurer to adra more to the account lie has already opened at the Westminster Bnnk.

FOUR MEDBERS FOR OENTRAL COUNOL.
In drawing attention ta the report by Mr. W. Ayre, on the last Central Council maeting, the Hon. Seccetary pointed out that under Whitswn rule regrating ropregentation which comes into force at the Whitsun meeting Hertfordshire is entitled to four representatives, and the commitiee decided to be fully represented on the Council, and names would be submitted to that meeting. The report eantinued:Bellfounders have been busy in tha county in adding to and $r$ conditioning cxisting peals, notably tho augmentation of the Gathedral bells to a ring of twelve on Jubilee Day, Manday, May bith.
The Deak of Sh, Albais (E. E. I. Fenderson) has left us, but I would place on record our appreciation of the many services he has rondcred to our association, aud we owe to him the idea of a ring of twelve. As soon as the appeal wns issued, success seemed assured, for very guickly Dr, and Mrs. Madge promised the treble and Mr. W. W. Worthington, of Lichneld (one of our menbers), the thind. The scont was given by mombers in memory of Mr. Edward $P$. 'Tho Ringing World ' las recently completed its Silver Jubilee, and I would olfer to Mr. Guldsmith thanks for the services he has rendered by the publication of lis weekly jourual. The writing of a weekly article and tha sub-editing of a miscollaneous collection of roports needs a well-balnmegt judgment if it is to meet the wishes of its supporters. These conditions have heen fulfilled. In the Jubilee mumber Mr. Goldsmith made an appeal for more generous support. Humber mid. Goldsmith made an appea for more generous support. years cannot go on indefinitely, and expresses fear for the future of the journal when his life's work is done. It nould mear disaster to ringing gencrally if the publication stopped. I am conlident that $z$ five per cent. increase in sales would go a long way to stabilise future publishing. The Herts County Association has been to the fore on many occesions, so let us see to it that the future of 'The Ringing World ' (as far as we ara concermed) is removed from the danger zone, and is assured to at least the present generation.
It las been decided to commernorate the Fite-work of Willian Pye by raising a fund to augment the ring of six at Leytonstone to a peal of eight, and we liave been asked to join the scheme. No words of mine are needed to extol his wonderful achievements and the impetus his life must have given to the advancement of change ringiag.

OKANGES IN DISTRIOT MANAGEMENT.
The excellent work of our distriet secretarics is appreciated by every member, and we thank them. It is a most important work, upon which our progiess in change ringing chiely depends. Yaur committee have recently revised the general rules which will be submitted to you to-day, the general principles of which I trust will meet with your approval. It is suggested that eaeh district has its own committee of management, the size of that committee boing left to the discretion of the members. The gavernment of the asgociation will be vested in the president, treasurer, general secretary, assistant secretary (if any), the five district secretaries, and lwo eleated representatives from each district committee. Only members in their respective districts will be allowed to voto at distriet meetings, although other members may speak at the chairman's invitation. This will form a thoroughly representative committee, and should lead to creased interest and advancement in each district.
It is satisfactory to notico that many services have been arranged at district meetings. This is a welcome asset, and I feel sure meets with the approval of ringers generally.
The Benevolent Fund has now a useful balance at the bank. Thanks to tho general good health and prosperity of our members, no demands lave been made upon the funds, and we are in the happy position, should occasion arise, with the approval of the general committee, to help any contributary mennber needing assistance. May the day be not far distant when every band will consider it a privilege to send its yearly contribution.
We are again indebted to the clergy for granting permission to hold the various quarterly meetings, for the serwices they have arranged and general interest talen in our work; also to those who have granted their towers for peals and afterwards, perhaps, boune the brunt of complaints, when the ringers have gone. It las been a successful year, and I venture to predict further advance if the revised rules are acceptad, for they will difuse a greater slare of responsibility to the committee in each district, and a backing to the district secretaries which has hitherto been lacking.

It was decided to contribute EL 1 s . to the William Pye Memorial Ftund.
Mr. E. Jennings (Preston) was elected a non-resident member af the association, and Messrs. L. Hansell (St. Albans), J. White (St. Albans) and the Rev. W. T. Rickett (Tring) were elected rincing members.

ELECTION OF OFFIGERS.

The Rev. R. F. R. Routh, of Hitichin, was unanmously elected president, and in returning thanks he expressed regret that the retiring president (Mr. W. Ayre) was unable to be present, owing to a family bereavement. Other olficers elected wore: Hon. treasurer, Mr. G. E. Debenlam; hon, secretary, Mr. G. W. Cartmel ; assistant hon. secretary, Mr. George Debenham; Jion, libiarian, Mr. H. P. Frost; hon. auditor, Mr. W. Mercer ; Gentral Council representatives, the Rev. R. F. R. Routlı, Messrs. W. Ayre, H. E. C. Goodenougli and C. W. Woolley; distriet secretaries, Messus. D. C. Mears (Northern), W. H. Lawrence (Eastern), W. Nesh (St. Albans), $C$. H. Horton (Watford) and W. Ayre (Western).

The revised rules, as submitted to the bands, with the caception of Rule 3, which was amended to include members of Iuton, SEanmore and Edmonton towers, were approved.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. E. H. Evens for his address.

It was deaided to send a letter of condolence to the family of the Iate Mr. J. Prewett, one-time hon. auditor of the association.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

BIG DISTRICT MEETING AT HEADCORN.

The meeting of the Asbford Distrigt of the Kent Qounty Associgtion, in conjunction with the Remney Marsh Guild, held at Headcorn on Saturday, ApriI 4th (having been postponed from March 2lst), was attended by over 60 ringers and their friends from Ashford, Genterbury Cathedral, Gravesend, Hawkhurst, Hythe, Linton, Little Chart, Newington, Sturry, St. Martin's-in-the-Fielde, Tenterden, Throwley and the local tower.
The bells were raised about 3 p.m., and kept busy until 4.30, when the usual service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. J. G. Pope) Mrs. Pope presided at the organ.
Tea proved quite a problem, for although all were under one roof they were in three rooms, and some time elapged before all were mecommodated. As any kind of business moeting was out of the question under such conditions, the party afterwards returned to the tower, and the business of both sacieties was transacted there, the Wicar being in the chair.

Minutes of three previous meetings were read and passed.
A short cliscussion of the proposed oew rules of the Kent Association taok place, but it was pointed out thet nothing could be done ab that meeting except; explain, if necessary, any point that was not clear. All bands bad been sent a copy of the proposals to compare with the existing rules, and their joh was to vote for or againgt the alterations at the annual meeting on Easter Monday.

Eleven new members were elected, viz, three from New Romney, one from Hegdcorn, two from Newington, two from Stowtitg, one from Hytbe, and two from Tenterden.

The Guild had, among other things, one peal to report, and it was decided to accept an invitation to hold the next meetirg at Newington, Folkestonc, on Saturday, May 2nd.
The Viear was thanked for all he had done in comention with the meeting, also ofts. Pope for her valuable assistance at the organ. In replying, the Vicar said he was always pleased to have the ringers at Headcorn, and especially in this case, as he had met once more a number of his friends from lis last parish of Hythe.
The bells werc then brought into use again, evaryone being catered for from rounds for the beginners to Cambridge for the more advanced. A most enjoyable afternoon cmo to an end by lowering the bells in peal.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

CONGRATULATIONS TO 'THE RINGING WORLD.'
A quarterly meeting of St. Mertin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at Edglaston Parish Church on Saturday, April $4 \mathrm{tl}_{\mathrm{h}}$. About 40 members attended, and the bells, \& nice ring of eight, tenor about 10 cwt ., were kept going in various methods from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major.

The Vicar of Edgbaston, Canon Stuart Blofeld, who is also an hon. member of the Guild, conducted the Guild's service and gave a very interesting and belpful address on the digaity of tbe oftice of bellringers and the necessity of ringing to the best of one's ability.

Tea was partaken of in the schoolroom, and this was followed by the business meeting, at which Mr. Councilor Paddon Smith presided, in the absence of the Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, who was unevoidably abacnt at Lincoln.
Mr. Paddon Smitl was again unanimously re-elected the Guild's repregentative on the Central Council for the ensung session.
Mr. Fredorick V. Nicholls, of Stourbridge, was elected a life member, and Messra. W. L. Whiston, of Handsworth, and J. W. Pettigreu, of Aston, were elected full ringing members.

It was decided to hold the bi-quarterly meeting at Bishop Ryder's Church, Birmingham, an Saturday, Mry 9th, and the quarterly meating at the Parish Charch, Knowle, on Saturdny, July th.

On the proposition of Mr . A. Walker, seconded by Mr. . ${ }^{\text {. }}$. H. Shepherd, it was unanimously agreed that a letter of congratuintion and thanks be sent to the Editor of "The Ringing World" on its attaining its Silver Jubilee.
The Secretary suggested that the best way so slow appreciation was to become regular subscribers to the paper, and urged anyone present who was not already a subscriber to send lis order along without delay.
On a show of hands it was found that seven members present had been zegular subscribers since the frst issue.
The Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his address at the service, to the churchwardens who had kindly provided the taa, to Mr. Freemantle for making the local arrangements, and to the ladies who had so effiently served the tea. It had been a happy gathering, and everyone had enjoyed it.

The Vicar, responding, said it was always a pleatare to entertain the Guild at Edgbaston. He partictlarly missed the Master that afternoon, but was pleased to know that le was recovering from his prolonged illnees.

The ring of eight bells of St. Michael's Church, Yorletown, Camberley, Surrey, is to be rehung with new fittinge in a new irame by Jolui Taylor and Co.
After a lapse of 24 years another peal has been rung on the ring of steel bells at St. Clement's Clurch, Eastings. They were cast about 70 or 80 years ago by Vickers, of Sheffeld. There are bappily only one or two obber such paals about, one beicg at Aandwick, Eydioy, on which the tourists to Australia had the pleasura(?) of ringing during their atay in that city.
Mr. James George has been appointed Vicar's warden at Bishop Ryder's Chureh, Birmingham.
By the way, Mr. George-he is 82-rang the ninth to a peal of Stedmall Ciuques at Wolverhampton on Monday, and when it was fnished offered to ring the tenor ( 33 cwb .) to a peal of Bob Major! He could probably have done it, but the public had to be thought of.
Lavenham bells will bo hcard on the Regional wavelength on Sunday evening in a 'balf-hour programme' from that village at 10.15 p.m. Handbell ringing will also be heard.

A elerical ringing week, with headquarters at Hereford, will begin next Monday.

THE SOUTHWARK CINQUES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, - was very sorry indeed to read in 'The Ringing Worid ' that the composition of the long peal of Stedman Cinques at. Southwark, in 1923, was false, and I extend my sympathy to those who took part in it.
That it was magnificent ringing, I can testify from the mecount given to me by my fether.
He set out that morning inteading to catch a train about 17 a.m, to Salisbury, where the Contral Council were meeting. Having previously looked out his trains, I wis surprised when he came in to aay good-bye an hour or so earlier than I expected. On inquiring the reason for such an carly start, he said, "I want to listen to some of that peal at Southwerk.

When lye returned home ola the Wednesday, I asked him if he hard had a good time. He replied, 'Yes, I didn't get down to Salistury until after 7 o'clock on Monday. I simply could not come away from Southwark. Never, in may life, have I heard such beaubiful rivging. Periodically I would take off course-ends as they came up, and Mr. Cockerill would check them with his fgures. If only I could heve been certain of getting a bed at Salisbury, I would not have come away until the end.'
If my father were alive to-day, I am sure that his disappointment would be almost as great as that of the band.

SPLICED SURPRISE IN MIDDLESEX AND ELSEWHERE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Congratulations to Mr. James Hunt on lis belated conversion. From being a decided objector to splicing on the "lead, plan he has become such an admirer that he describes a recent peal on this plan as ' the best ever.'
I would remind him that the peal rung at Staines was real Spicod -it was not laminated, it does not contain full courses of any method rung, but it is a typical example of the class of peal that the resolution so strenuously opposed by him at the last meating of the Council was designed to protect.

Mr. Hunt, like most of us, lives aud Iearns, but he still has a long way to go.
C. T. COLES,

PEALS OYERLOOKED.
Dear Sir,-On bohalf of the band which rang the seven-method Surprise Major peal et St. Mary's, Staines, I would like to thanz Mr. Hunt for his lefter published in the last issue of "The Ringing World.' Whilst congratulating him in so elianging his opinions as to express his approval of spliced peals which cio not contain a full course of each method rung, i feel that in describing our performance as 'the best ever' he has overlooked the series of peals composed by A. J. Pitman and conducted by the late william Pye, culmineting in the pesl in twelve methods rung at St. Mary's, Ealing, in 1931.

DEATH OF CANON H. J. ELSEE.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION'S PRESIDENT FOR

 45 YEARS.
An Original Member of the Central Coancil

It is with profound regret that we have to announce the sudden death on Good Friday of the Rev. Canon Henry John Elsee, M.A., for almost 40 years Vicar of St. George's, Bolton, and President of the Lancashire Association for more than 45 years. His passing removes a revered and much loved figure from the Church in Lancashire and creates a void in the Exercise which it will be difficult to fill.

THE LATE REV. CANON H. 1. ELSEE.
Garron Elseo died with tragic suddenness, yet probably in a manner and at a time that he would, if he could, himself have chosen. He had gone straight from a service at the Perish Church in the afternoon to visit a sick person, and while at the bedside he collapsed and wes dead before he could be conveyed to hospital.
He had preached in his own church in the morning, and his text was almost prophetic, Christ's last words on the Gross: it is inished.' Canon Elsee that day finisied his course, after a life dovoted to the good of his fellow-men.
During 40 years at St. George's Churoh, Bolton, his vicariate was notable in many ways. Not only did he estahlish himself in the affection of his parishoners, but he was a latier of religious life and social work in this busy industrial town. Some 25 years ago ho undertook a scheme of reconstruction of the old church, whioh was reopener in 1911 after an expenditure of abobt fio, 000 , and it was eharacteristic of lim that in the very last issue of his parish magazine her should offor $$ 100$, towards a sum of 8500 required to clear the debt on the Ghurels House and redecorate the church, "in token of my gratitude for the years which I heve spent at St. Gebrge's.'

Canon Elsee was appointed an honorary canon of Manchester Cathedral in 1918, and in 1927-28 spent nearly a year visiting S.P.G. missions in Southern Rhodesia. In 1930 he was appointal Rural Deen of Bolton, and in 1931 a proctor in Convocation.

> HIS INTEREST IN RINGING.

Outside his work, Canon Elsee's only hobby was bellrittgigg. Born ut Rugby in 1863, he learned to ring a bell whon he wes but nine or ten years of age. It was Benjamin Foos, the old sexton of the Parish Ghurch, who taught him, the ancient custom of ringing the Curfew providing him with the opportunity. Afterwards the youthful pupil learned to ring Grandsire Doubleg on the old fivo bells, which still lang in the western tower of the church. Rugby is one of the very few churches that possess iwo towers and two rings of bells. The one at the eastern end now las a peal of eight.
Canon Elsee was at Rugby School from 1876 to 1882, when lie went up to St. John's College, Cambridge. Thera he became a member of the University Guild, which had heen established in 1879, and here he leamed more of the science of ringing, which up to that time had been limited to five bells. In those days the members incladed some who afterwards occupied a noteworthy place in tlie Exerciec, among them, of course, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, the president, to whom every rimger who has graduated at Cambridge owes a great debt. Among the undergraduates who were then practising were thase who afterwards becsme Canon W. W. C. Baker, Rev. R. Copeman, Rev. W. C. Pearson and Professor M. C. Potter. In 1882 tha young Guild was strengtbened by the advent of the late Rev. H. B. Woolley and Mr. J. T. Rickman, in addition to Canon Elsee. In 1883 and 1884, Ganon Elsee was secretary and treasurer of the Guild, and in 1885 and 1886 conductor, an office which later was mergerl into that of Mastar. He became a member of the Ancient Saciety of College Youths in 1884.
Ganon Elsce was ordained in 1886 at Ely, and for a year was chrate of Borningsea, four miles out of Cambridge, where there were five bells. In 5887 be went to Manohester, and for nearly nine years was curate of St. Andrew's, Ancoats. Here there was only one bell, but Canon Elsee used frequently to get practice at the Cathedral, where he rang his first pail-Grancisire Gafeas-in 1888.
In 1896 he was appointed to the care of St. George's, Balton. The church has a ring of eight bells by Rudball, but owing to its situation in the middle of a populous area, peal ringing has had to bo eonsiderably limited.

PRESIDENT OF THE LANCASHIRE ASSOGIATION.
From the time Mr. Elsce went to Manchester he actively interested himself in the affairs of the Lancashire Association. In 1889 loe was elented vice-president and was made president in the follawing year, go that he has occupied this office for nearly 46 years, amin the growing respect and csteem of the members
He has represented tho Lancashire Association on the Central Council since it was founded in 1891, and his opinions always carried tha greatest weight on this body. There are, we believe, only two other members remaining who were elected to the first Coutcil, viz., Canon G. F. Coleridge and Mr. George Williams.

Canon Elsee's parochial duties prevented him from any very extensive peal ringing, and he did not keep any record of these perfolmances. Fe had, however, rung peals of Grandsire Triples, Coters and Cinques, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, Plain Bob Mnjor and Royal, Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, and Dauble Norwich Mejor.
It is a sat reffection that only three weeks ago Canon Elsee utveiled in his own tower two peal hoards, one recording the only pea] of Etedman rung on the bells, a performance thith toak place in October, 1500. For the unveiling, recorded in our last inste, four of the band were present-Mr. A. E. Wreaks, how of Paisley, Mr. Thomas Peers, of Reysham, and Mr. Henty Moss, with Canon Fisce, Caton Elsee was a bechelor, and is survived by a brother Caman Charles Elsee, Vicar of St. Guthbert's, Hunslet, Leeds, anrl two sisters. who reside in North Wales.

Tho funeral service took place at St. (ieorge's, Bulon, on Wednesday, prior to intorment at Clynnog, Canrnafvon,

The Rector (Rev. J. G. Hamlet) was present ; ho shonld be an ideal ringers' parson, by the way be praises his ringers. He ia proud of the fact that the services of his nine ringers total 189 years.
The usual vote of thaniss was passed, and nine new membors elected. Everyone had a very enjoyable time, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, and Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Woodbine, Gambridge, Wells, Norwich Surprise, Fork and London Minov were rung during the afternoon and evening.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Eastern District of the Ferts County Association was held at Sawbridgeworth on Marcla 28th, what about 30 mambers and friends attenced from Broxbourne, Harlaw, Stansted, Waltham Abbey, Loadon, Chelmsford, Springlield, Nazeing, Sawbridgewbrth and Littlo Munden. A service was couducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Goudge).
Tive business meeting was presided over by Mr. W. Morria, of Sawbridgeworth. Sawbrageworth is situated upon the extremo eastern edge of Hects, and still retains much of its old-world appearance around the churoh. The bells are still ringable, althouglo beginning to need the attention of a bellianger, and hopes are entertained that they may fo overiauled. The methods rung ranged Prom Grandsire to Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise.

INTERESTING POINTS FROM READERS' LETTERS.

The names of those readers who have supported "Tlue Ringing World' from the first number up to the present time continue to fow in and with them interesting suld enopuraring messapes impossible for us to quote from even a tithe of the lettigrs we have impossible for us to quote from even a bithe of the letiers we have recived, but we hope that all who have written to ws will acept our raceived thanks.
Many who have subscribed to "The Ringing World' from its beginning had previously subscribed to otber ringing paners for a number of years. For instance, there is Mr. John Jaggar, who has purchased all the ringing papers since 1876. Then Mr. William Story and Mr. C. L. Routledge, of Newcastle, Mr. W. T. Pates, of Cheltenham, Mr. G. Condick, of Glowcester, Rev. WW. Pearson, of Henlay, Suffolk, tetl us that they have not only takon every copy of 'The Ringing World,' but were subscribers to 'The Bell News ' from its foundation. Numerous other ringers gave their support to the old papers from the early eighties onward, among them Mr. C. Draper, of Duffield, Mr. W. Bellows, of Skipton, Yarks, who began ringing in 1876, and is now 78 years of age, Mr. E. A. Bacon, of Loughton, Essex, Mr. W. G. Easter, of Gillinglam, Kent, Mr. W. Haigh, of Etchinghnm, Susgex, Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, Essex, and Mr. F. E. Dawe, of Woking.
Mr. J. Puplet, of Tring, who is now 65, has been reading the ringing papers ever since he was twelve years of age, while the numher who lave supported a ringing paper for over 40 years would make a long list.
Some of our readers indicate the valae 'The Ringing world ' has been to them in various ways. Here ave a few taken at random: Mr. Percy Webh, of Ickleton, Cambs, says: 'I have been to many meetings, have rung on many bells and made many friends, which would rot have heen possible had it not heen for "The Ringing World." Mr. $R$. WhitEington, of Cranleigh, says that, "Looking over the interesting happenings that have been recorded, many containing references to old friends who have now passed away, brings back very happy memories to me and my wife of our peregrinations all over England on our tandem.'
Mr. C. H. Howard, formerly Master of the Essex Association, seys, "Althougli I am not now able to take an active part in ringing, or attend association meetings, it still gives, me great pleasure to read of the nctivities of my old ringing friends.
'It would not be Friday without "The Ringing World,", writes Mr. Warren S. Hormbrook, of Plymouth. 'I invariably read each issue from date to imprint, and enjoy every "stickful." ' 'May I,' he adds, 'congratulate the Printer's Reader, on its accuracy. It is a very rare event for an errar to get past lim.'

That is a tribute wbich we should like to endorse.
We know of menv readers who on Triday morning look firat to 'The "Ringing World' before their daily paper. Mr. E. L. Wilson, ${ }^{*}$ of Wincanton, says he "would rather go without lunch any Friday of Wmeanton, sars he would rath

WAR MADE NO BREAK.
A mumber of readers kept up their contact with ringing through the Great Wac by means of "The Ringing World.' Mr. Pearl Inskip, of Kempston, Eeds, for instance, received it week by week for the whole four years in France, and the paper followed oflers to nearly every area of the campaign.
Another corrcspondent emphasises the point that his interest does not finish when he has purchased his weekly copy. Mr. C. T. Coles, hon. secretary of the Middlesex Association, says, 'I have taken (AND READ) "The Ringing World" from No. 1 to date, and have the complete set.
Mr. J. P. Hyeft, J.P., tells us that he is in some doubt as to whose name should be entered in the 'Roll of Honour,' as his wife lass very cheerfully paid for each copy. He adds that he must be among the very small bend of J.P. subscribers.
Mr. J. T. Dyke, hon, secretary of the Bath and Wells Association, fo informing us that he bought the first number and all subsequent ones, adds, I well remember sneaking out of college during the Friday mornings to get to the newsagent at the corner.'
The 'first aud last reeder' in the British Isles is Dr. J. Symons, of Penzance, the octogenarian president of the Truro Diocesan Guild, who was an origimal subseriber and continues 'an eager reader of our journal.
Mr. George Lewis, of Sheffield, another of those who have taken every number, says it was his priwilege to take part in the first peal published in 'The Ringing World, viz., e peal of Maximus at Sheffeld, nine of the band being still alive."
Mr. F. E. Dawe reminds us that the first letter that appeared in 'The Ringing World' was from his pen. No one has been a warmer advocate of this journal thau he has.
And here is a hint that we pass on to others. Mr. Storer WW. West, churchwarden of Whitwick, Leicestershive, referring to the fact that he las takean all the ringing papers since 1891, says, 'I have also not forgotion the lirms and business men who have advertised in the ringing papers.'
When 'The Kinging Worla' first appeared, and was oudered by Mr. R. T. Holding jun., his father, who was a staunch supporter of Bell News, thought it was 'another flash in the pan,' and chipper him good and hard when the newsagent delivered 'The Rinking World:' "Necdless to say," adds Mr. Holding, "the mistake was soon remodied, and I always look forward to your next. issue."
Mr. W. Sheplierd recalls ' Ringers' Day' at the Crystal Palace in 1911, ' one of your best ventures.' 'Since then, ${ }^{\text {' }}$ he adds, ' you have kept on and on with an uphill task always in front of you, for it is not appreciated even now that one copy per band is not enough, and that one copy per ringer is surely the duty. I was always faught as a boy to buy my own copy, and not lend it to others for a dieap read.'
A. MFMENTO FROM GLOTCESTER.

A gift which we shall cherigh very much has come to us from Mr. Jolim Austin, of Gloncester. In lis letter, informing us that he has taken the finging papers from 1885, when he rang his first penl, he says, "I am sending you a small memento of your 25 years' service to the art, a bell out of the canons of Thornbury bells, which was presented to me when we rang our first peal of Combridge Royal, The record is inscribed on the bell, and that peal was the commencement of Surprise Foyal and Maximus as we know it to-day. As a matiter of fact, Mr. Austin was the first man to call a bob in Cambridge Maximus, but singularly he has never yet rung a peal of it.
' $I$ wonder how many on the 'Rall of Honour', possess a first copy?' asks the Rev. E. V. Cox, president of the Devonshire Guild, who makes a practical suggestion, 'Let all on the "Roll" get a rew snloseriber,' he says. 'Mine is Mr. H. J. Rowe, Home Living, Brampford Speke.'

I have lad the pleasure of purchasing "The Ringing World " and the enjayment of readiag its various topics, discussions and explanation," writes Mr. F. Watkimson, of Handsworth, Sheffield. "How you manage to select them from the mass you must have received with the fair judgment you do, is almost past comprehension. Although seven sopies are taken every week by members of my band, we still endeavour to inorease the number, but it is really only those who remember the days of the lingering death of "The Bell News" and the lirth and short life of those other papers before "The Ringing Word " appeared, who really understand what the paper means to the Exercise. So few realise thet without it now our art could not make the progress it is doing."

B.B.C APOLOGY

A TRA VESTV ' OF RINGTNG

An apology from the B.乃.C. was read at the meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Association at Norwiel on Monday. The B.B.C. had broancast a gramophone vecord of the bells of St. Peter Mancroft during fotalk on East Anglia, by Mr. R. H. Mottram, the Norwich novelist. The record wes made by the B.B.C. van outside the church, unknown to the Ficar or ringers.
The Vicar (Rev. Hugh McMullan) described it as 'a travesty-an extrandinarily poor idea of what the bells are capable.'

The reply of the Recording Programme Exceutive, after offering apologies for the apparent digcourtesy, explained that, the B.B.C. representative took the record just before morning service, when he was pressed for time.

THE INFLUENCE OF CLERICAL RINGERS
By the passing of Canon H. J. Elsee, the revered president of the Lancashire Association, the ringing Exercise has suffered a severe blow, which, coming so soon upon the tragic death of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, is a painful reminder that within the last few years the ranks of clerical ringers have been sadly depleted by the loss of men who, in their respective spheres, stood out as leaders among their fellows. The passing of the years is bound to take its toll, but we are not sure that the losses have been fully made up by the influx of new members of the cloth. It may be that this feeling arises from the fact that the names of most of those who have been taken from us in recent years had been 'household words 'among ringers for a generation or more, and that the majority of the young clergy who have been recruited to our ranks have yet to make their name, but certain it is that among the older ringers there seem to be growing gaps which there is no one ready to fill. In due time, perhaps, we shall have among the clerical leaders of the Exercise more men like Henry Law James, Charles D. P. Davies, Cyril Jenkyn, Henry J. Elsee, and others who are happily still occupying honoured and responsible places among us. But we must look to the Universities to keep up the suppiy, and we hope that the good work being done at Cuddestion, in interesting students in the art of ringing, will extend to other theological colleges.

The clergy whom we have mentioned spent almost a lifetime in the furtherance of the art and the uplifting of the status of ringers. They realised not only the dignity and importance of the ringers' office, but the value which attached to close co-operation between ringers and the Church. We need in the Exercise to-day more clergy who will not only make themselves good ringers but who will take a hand in maintaining and increasing this cooperation. In these days ringers welcome the clergy in the belfries; it is one of the surest ways of maintaining a company. Too often the ringers are left to their own devices to keep up the personnel of the band. The task would be simplified if the clergy were more actively identified with the work carried on in the tower, and if the incumbent is himself a ringer so much the better. But the infuence of a clerical ringer extends far outside his own tower. It goes out into the diocese, and where a guild or association is fortunate enough to have, as Lancashire had, at its head, a cleric occupying so honoured a place among his fellows as Canon Elsee, the organisation must be immensely the gainer. Canon Elsee has gone to his rest full of years, and beloved by all who knew him. His infuence in the Lancashire Association, so gently yet so certainly exercised for the long period of 45 years, will live on.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

NEW MILL WIN CONTEST AT BATLEY

The quarterly meeting and six-bell contest of the Halifinx and District Assaciation was held at Batley on Saturday, April 4th. Six sets lad entered to ying 600 changes, with a plain conree for practice. The following companies entered : Sandal, Liversedge, Holmirth, Meltham, New Mill and Freizeland. All tho teams rang Oxford, except Liversedge, who rang Cambridge Surprise.
Tea was served in the school and about 50 sat down. After riugine had ceased, the meeting was leld in the school, the president (Mr. E. Earnshaw) being in the chair.
It was proposed ly Mr. Burgess, seconded by Mr. H. Nutt, that the next contest be held at Saddleworth on July 18th, providing the necessary arrangements could be made.
The Rev. E. A. Winter, curate of Batley, in reply to the vote of thanks to the local clergy, ringers, etce, said that as lue came wito the Schoolroom he was met by one of the local ringers, who told him that he was not to get up and start to talk about ringers leaving the belfry and boing for a diank, but whether they did or not he noticed they hever invited him to go with them (laughter).
The judges, Mr. W. Ikle and Mr. C. Hardy, gave their decision as follows:-

> No. I Compary, Sandal, 84 faults.
> No. 2 Company, Liversedre, 96 faults.
> No. 3 Company, Folmfirth, 88 faults.
> No. 4 Company, Meltham, 44 faults.
> No. 5 Company, New Mill, 38 faults.
> No. 6 Compary, Freizeland, 79 faults.

New Mill were, therefore, declared winners.
The Rev. E. W. Wiuter presented the cup to Mr. Bilteliffe, conductar of New Mill.
A vote of thanks to the judges brought the meeting to a close.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

STTRONG FINANOJAL POSITION.

Adoption of Amended Rutes Deferred.
The 56th anminal genera! meeting of the Kent County Association wis held ab Westerhan on Euster Monduy, when over 180 attended, 51 of the towers in union being represented. Variuns towers in the neighbourhood were open for ringing before the association service, which was held in St. Mary's Churoli, Westerham, conducted by the Vienr, the Rev. J. A. Castle, the addvess being given by the Vary Rer. the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Underlifl), who spoke of the beanify of the bells of Engand compared with thase of France, Beloium and Italy

A collection at tha close for the Association's Benevolent Fumd realised 53.
Jimeheon followed in St. Mary's Hill, M. F. White (Cranbrook) being inl the chair owing to the unavoidable absence of Mr. J. H. Lewis. He was supported by tho Dear of Rochester, the Eev. J, A. Castle, the Riev. E. L. Allen (Vicar af Edenbridge), the Rev. T. L. Sclurieber (Vicar of Shiphourme) and the principal officers of the association.
After the loyal toast had been daly honoured, the Chaiman proposed the toasl of "The Archbinhop and Clorgy of the Consty." He snit the aesociation was greatly indebted to the clergy for the enconragement and hospitality which lad been extended to it during the past year.
The Dean of Rochester, in responding, said the members slowed Heir enthusiasm by their atterdance, considering the meeting was held in the farthesfi comer of the county. Fe sald lie never zemernborcd such hearty simging at a service hefore, and congratulated them oll their roca. powers. He thanked them all for their great assistance to the Ohurch by ringing the bells for the Sunday services.
The Vicar of Westerlan alsa replied, and said how pleased he was o welcome them to Wosterhrm after a lapse of 24 wears Apologies for rlosence were rearl from the Rev. F. J. O. Helmote, Mr. E. F. Lewis, Canow G. C. E. Ryley, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith and others.
At the busipess meeting which followed, the hon. secretary (M F. M. Mitclaell) read the anmal report and balance sheets.

CONTLNURD PROGRESS.
Fut the annual report reference was made to the part the members took in celebraling the Silwer Jubilee of King George V. on May flit, What 12 peals were rumg in the condy aud a message of congratulation sent to His hajesty ant fhly acknowledged. It seemed gafe to say thin where bells were rillgable, cvery tower in the county rang onli its joyfit message, which, alas, was to be suddencd before many months had passed loy the death of His Majesty
The association cardimed to show progress in the quality of peals ring, and the hope was expressed that none of the peal ringer were alisent fram daty on Sundays. "We must realise," said the report, 'that the primity oloject of the hells is tiat they are to be pung far Sutaday serviec, and we do rppeal to all ringers it the commty to attacli themselves to some tower for Sundry ringing and to be punctual in their attendance. Unanimity anong members camot always be expecter, lut we do appeal to all to rcalise that our eforts are for the same goal. Lod ris lave more "give and take " in our midst, and then wo shall hare a happier und even ahore prosperous association of, which we slat! continue to be proud
The report combinued fliat there were 116 towers in umin, compriging one of 12 bells, five of 70 hells, 62 of cight bells, 44 of six bells, thed fout of five bells. Life members tatal 31, hon. members $\overline{7} 1$, adult practigng members 916 and 45 jumiors (an increase of 23 practising mombors aver the previons yearh. Seventeen non-resident life memhers joited to make a total of over 350 , and giving \& grand total membership of approximately 1,410 .
The renort regretted the resignation, through business reasons, of Mr. P. W. Smith as loun. secretary of the Canterbury District, a post he had held with distinction for eleven vears. The committee recorded thei: appreniation of his services, and ofrered a hearty welcome ta lis successor, Mir. B. J. Luck. Since the last anmal meeting a new panl of eight had ween installed at the Churcir of the Anmunciation, Olislelinisl, by Messrs. Thylor and Co., the penl of cight at Boughtan-under-Blann had been rehung nime the lower restored. and the peal of five at Chelsficte liad bcen rehumg, hoth by Messis. Ments and Stainbatik. The peals rung duriur 1935 numbered 155, three less than in the previons year, Of these 149 had been on tower bells in 77 towers (font outside the enuntr). Thirty-eight memhers rang their first peal (one at tho early uge af 13 ). The mumber of conductors was 64, four nonducted their first peal mad 12 first as conductor in the method Three mombers rang their first peal on lintudhells. Congratulations werg offered to Mr. . F. H. Chatemar on completing his 1,000 penls. FLOTPRISEING PTNANCTS
The insucial position of the aesociation continued to be satisfactory the balance iu hand on the general account being $£ 4518 \mathrm{~s}$. 1nd. Thic Renevolent Fund again slowed an increase. the total of $£ 253$ 5s. 2 a heing 510 16s. 4 d . over last year. During the year grauts were made in fove instances tatalling $520 \mathrm{5s}$. Gd. The suppart given by mombers at. district meetings was again encouraging $£ 7$ 0s. 4d. hoving been rollected. The Relfy Repair Fund also hhowed an increased balance been paid out to Stouting mad Bubbing for additions and restoration work durisg the ycar. The total funds of the association in investments (at cost) and the balances in the accounts amount to 996614 s . $3 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$, an increase on the past. yerr of 86143 . $1 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$.

The report and balance slaets were namamonsly adopted. Arising out of the report, Mr. W. Spice (Tunstall) said it was only fitting that they should offer their hoarly congratalations to Mr. J. H. Oheesman, who had cormpleied his 1,000th peal. By his quiet and unassuming manner he had eadeared himsell to theu all, and had done muc's to promote the art in the connty. "Co comoncmorate this event Mr. Spice proposed that Mr. Olxesman be elected a Eife momber. -This was seconded by Mr. Bamelt (Crnyford) and carried wilh loud applause and musical honou's. Jinfortunately, Mr. Checsman wats not present.
All the officers wern re-elected, viz.: Messis. F. White and w. J. Jeffies (trustees), G. H. Cross (hen. anditor) and F. M. Mitehell (hon. seeretary and treasmrer'), the last manued heing accorded a liearty vote of thanks for his services.
Mr. Mitchell, in retaning thanks, said he had now served them for seven yeats, mad, as an appreciation of his setrices, the comarrittee had that morning clected him a life momber. Dusing the seven years he had tried to serve thens the thest of His ability, and had avoided, or tried to avoid, "taking sides."

PROTTST AGAINST PRESG ORITICTSM

He was sorry, he contimed, that, theit association's affatrs had been dragged through the Press recenlly, and he was also sorry that Mr. Goldsmith, the Editor of "The Ringing World, was unfortunately absent through illuess. In the issue of "The Rimging World' of Fobruary moth letter appeared over whe simatare of one of their tuenbera in which was a sentence to which he took exception, and as that was the proper place to disenss the association's affaits, lhe publicly claallenged the accuracy of the statement whieh referred to the secretary, and which, to his mind, inferted that he was either taking sides ' or was incapable. He snid, in his own mind, the statebent was incorrect, and that it was proved to be so, show of hands of tite sub-comarittee revealed. Ho vas sure the witer would withdraw the sentence in fairness to himself.
Mr. Mitchell prat praceeded to deal with the oditorial in the issue of March 20:li moder the heading of 'Two questions for Kent.' He had carefully gone theough the amended rules, an copy of which had heen sent to every tower in umion, and ho could find no mention in the amended rales of the suggestions which promated such a criticism. 'Where was no mention of 'mathached members, nor the proviso mentioned re the Ringing Master. Where the Editar got his infomgtion from he was at a loss to understand; and, as their hon. secretary, he must protest against the association's affarg being putblicly criticised and wrongly expressed.
Many members spoke jn support of Mr. Milchelfs remarks, and, after leaghay arguments, it was eventually decider to defer the comfromation of the ameaded rules until the next anmal general meeting, to enable each district to call a special meeting of representatives of each tower to discuss them.
Five candidates were nominated as representatives on the Centra Council, the result of the ballat reveling 'no chnthee, Messre. Mitehel Sone, Grombridge and Cheesman being re-elected.

Hearty thanks were acoorded to the various incumbents of the towers placed at their disposal for ritoging durimg the day, and to Mr White for his able and tactifl conduct in the chair.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEDTTNG

A very happy anmual meeting was held at Wisbech on Enster Monday. 'It is the effort of every blade of grass that keeps the weadow green,' and it was quite obvicus that everyone was filled with a determination to make the mecting a surcess.
Service was eonducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. K. Stallard, at 3.30 p.m. Mr, Covey-Crunp kindly presidod at the organ.

Business followert tea. The vicar apologised for his unawoidable abscuce. It was a great joy to have Canon Covey-Crump, a former general secretary, in the chair. At the begiming of the meeting the Chairman roited the feelings of the menbers in lis reference to the late Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, a much loved officer of the association, and the company stood in silence.
Miss K. Willers was reelected generad secretary and treasurer. Wir. T. R. Denuis wns reappointed auditor The committee were elented as follows: Messrs. A. J. Abrams, R. W. Croft. H. Fielas. F. Gleaves, E. G. Hibhins, T. Hurry, F. W. Jack and F. Wigmore. Messurs. C. W. Coole, W. Warrington and Miss K . Willers were elected reprcsentatives an the Central Council.
It was decided to hold the next amninl meeting nt St . Neots. The sum of $£ 22 \mathrm{~s}$. each was voted towards the restoration work nt Horning. sey and nt Winwick, and fl 1s. towards the William Pye Memoring Fund.
Members espressed sympathy with the Rev. R. Copeman on the death of Mrs. Copernan.
The meeting concluded with hearty votes of thanks to the clergy for the use of their bells and to Canon Crump for taking the elair
Duting the day ringing ranged from rounds to Joandon Surpuise Major and Steduna Cators.

CALLING STEDMAN TRIPLES

Wo have been asked to give a few hints on calling Stedman Triples, Usually when & ringer begins to take up the calling of Stedman Triples he has rot past the stage when he comes into the category of a 'Beginner," but as there may be some towers where there is a desire to take up the method where there is, however, 100 one to call the bobs, we hope a little lielp in this direction may be of service.
The Stedman method is divided into "eixes," in which the three bells in front ring the 'extent ' of their changes. A course of Triples consista of fourteen sixes, but the first clange 2135476 is not the first change of the first six. Actually it is the fifth change of the 14th sia, but it would make no diference to the truth of the method if you began auywhere else. In practice, however, we always begin Stedmen Triples with 2135476, followed by 2314567, and from this we start the first complete 'six.' A bob, if there is one, is mode at the first row of a six, and can be made in any six. These sixes are numbered, for identification, consecutively 1 to 14 , and when a bob at, say, 3 occurs it las to be made at the first change of the third sir. Similarly a bob at 12 is made at the first change of the twelfth six.
Usually one bell is retained as the "observation "bell, aud in Stedman it is generally the seventh, a choice which has certain advantages. Usually, too, the bobs are inserted at those sixes in which they will not disturb the observation bell. Actually you can use any bell as the 'obeervation' and your tonch can be cqually as true (or as false) as if you called it from the seventh, but foy the purpose of these notes we propese to use the 7th.
As the bobs affect only the beck bells, that is those which are dodging in 6-7 and continue dodaing for another six in the same direction (up or down), and the bell dodging in $4-5$ (up), qny bob called when the observation bell is in cither of these positions would disturb its regular progress. The only sixes at which calles can be made withouf 'upsetting" the observation bell are the 3ri, 4 th, 5th, 6 th, 7 th and 8 th (during which it is doing its "slow ' work), and 12 th and 13th (when it is a c quick ' bell)
Another thing about Stedman composition is that bobs generally go in pairs, so that if you have a bob at 3 it is usually followed by one st 4, if you have a bob at 5 it is followed by one at 6 ; a bob at 7 is followed by ons at 8, and fi hob at 12 by one et 13. Bobs at 3.4 are when the observation bell is going in Slow, 5-6 when it is doing its Half-thrns, $7-9$ winen it is doing its Last whole-turn and coming out, and 12.13 when it is going in aud out Quick. The pairs of bobs are, therefore, sometimes jindicated by the letters S. H. L. or $Q$. Bobs ghouid be called at the handstroke before thes are to be made, and the would-be conductor should write out a plain conrse of the method, (Continued in next column.)

MORE BELLS FOR SOUTH WALES.

MAESTVG TOWER TO HE COMILETLD
A quartarly meotixs of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diceesan Association was lield at Bridgend on Saturday, April 18th. A good mugte was present, and the bells, a beautiful ring of eiglat by Taylor and Co., were bept going in various methods.
The Vicar (Canon D. Phillips) conducted the service and gave at typical ringers' address. Tea was partalen of in the Church Room and had been very kindly provided by the Canom's wife and daughter.
The buginess meeting followed, presided over by the Vicar. Aurmentations and restorations were dealt, with, it being reported that it was decided to complete the octave at Llapfrechfa by adding twa more bells. the work to be done in time for the Coronation. There is also a propesal to camplete the fower at Macsteg, which is now built up to the eaves and instal a ring of bells. The hon. secretary was instructed to write the Vicar congratulating him on his effort and wighing hint every success.
Tlie visitors incladed Mr. Chaude I. Davies, of Liverpool, and Mr. S. Roper, of Groydon, and both were clected life members.
The whole of the ringers of Llangynwyd Church and of Nowton Nottage, Poithcawl. were elected, and also Mr. F. C. Howell of Hull, It was decided to hold the next Glamorgan meeting at Newton Nottage, Portheawl, aud the Monmouth meeling at Usk.

Totes af thanks were accorded Mrs. Plillips and her danghter for their lospitality and to the Canon for his kindness in granting the use of the bells, the service ald for presiding at the nuceting.
The Vicar, respondiry, said jt was his delight to welcome the associn tion to Bridgend, and was mindfal of and grateful for the work done by the ringers. It would be alwaye his pleasure to give his permission for a peal by any wisiting ringers.
The bells were afterwards rung in various methods, and this concluded a pleasant, enjoyable and successful meeting.

dividlng the sixes by a line for convenience and examine carefully the exact pasition where he has to make lis calls.
Many simple touches man be got for practice, becanse any of tho pairs of bobs, repeated, will produce two courses (168 changes), and you can increase your length by alding to one duplicated pair, two other pairs. A simples thing to begin with is to call $\mathbf{S}$. twice, $\mathbf{H}$. twice, L. twice, $Q$. twice. The first $H$. immediately follows thin secone S. the first I. the second H., and so on. In full, ite is 420 but the bells will come romnt at the end of the course after any of the pairs, if yau do not begin to call the succeeding pair.
All of the following produce two courses, if repeated, and there are many ways in whith they cat he intermingled to lengthen four touch S. H. L. Q. S.L. S.Q. L.Q. S.H.L.Q.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Foundry Establlehed A.D, 1570
(12th year of redgn of Elizabeth).

In our reference last week to Canon Elsee's connection with the Central Council we said that the only two other members remaining who were elected to the fitst Council were Canon Coleridge and Mr. Georgo Willians. There are othars living who were members of tha first Council, but these two are the only gurvivors who have been members without a break throughout the life of the Council. Canon Coleridge, we beliave, has attended every meeting.

Mr. J. Goukd, a well-known member of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, has completed 54 years as a ringer and 50 jears leades and conductor at Henbury tower, near Bxistol. May he carry on the good work for many years to come. A peal in his honour wes rung thare on Easter Moncay by a band from Soutls Wales, who wero afterwards hespitably entertained by Mr. Gould. The ringers decire to thank him for his kinduess.

A peal of Stedman Triples was muls on Easter Day at Nalvern Link to celebrate the birthdays of Messrs. W. Short, M. G. Knowies and G. Popnell, April I2th being the anniversary of the natal day of them sll. Easter Day was Mr. Knowles' 70th birthday. Mr. W. Short. who is Master of the Worcestershire Association, was born on Caster Sunday, aud this was the third time the anniversary las fallen on this festival. Mr. G. Popnell was born on Good Friday, and the anuiversary has never fallen on that day since, Wo aro asked to state that the composition of peal No. 3,864 , in the carrent Yorkshire Association report, was composed by Arthur Knights and not Amburn Wilson, as stated.
Mr. T. E. Sone withdraws the claim to the first peal of Kent Treble Bob Major on the belis at Bisling, Kent, rung on April 1ith. He has been infermed by Mr. G. B. Lacas, of Walthamstow, ihat he conducted a peal there in this method on May 19th, 1891, for the Middlesex Association and the All Hallows (Toltenham) Society.

In the peal of Minor at Treiston, Lincs, on Easter Monday, there were 38 methods and 147 changes from one to another. No fewer than twelve methods were incorporated in the first 720, and on Sauurday at Wainfeet the same band rang a peal in 42 methods with 167 changes of metiod.
The ring of eight bells, tenor 1 ton, of Lindlcy Parigh Churcla, near Hudidersfield, is to be rehung will new fittings in new framework by John Taylor and Go., Loughborough.
A clock has been placed in the ringing chamber at the Church of St. John the Divine, Leicester, to commomorato the completion of 34 years as Master and steeplekeeper by Mr. William Willson. It was presented by the St. John the Divine Society of Ringers.
One of the largest number of yingers' meetings ever held on one day will take placo to-morrow. No fewer tlan 44 have been advertised in our columns.
It was stated at the annual mesting of the Herts County Association that Mr. Walter Ayre, the refiring president, was absent on accaunt of a family bereavement. Happily he had not suffered a bereavement, but was wisiting his mother who was seriously ill. We are pleased to say cle has now rallied considerably.
Mr. Harry Cliapman, so well knowi formerly as one of the leading apirits for many years in Lancashire ringing, has been efected for the fourth time people's churchwarden at Keyston, Huntingdonshire, where ho is now living in retirement.

In the very interesting broadenst from Lavenlam on Sunday evening, the church and its bells found an important place. Many ringers all over tho country heard for the first time the voice of the famous tenor, and they must all have appreciated the brief tally on Lavenham bells and ringers by a member of thie Symonds family, three generations of which ring regularly in this old Suffolk village.
Ringers who have copies of old peal records to send to the Central Council sbould forward then withont delay to the Convener of the 'Peal Boards' Committee, Mr. W. Ayre, Loverstook Green, Hemel Hempstead.

BELLS FOR VICTORIA, BC.
A NAMING CTREMONF AT WHITEOHAPEL FOUNDRE.
A ring of eight bells, with tenor 29 cwt in C sharp, bas been cast at the Whitechapel Bell Foundry for Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, British Columbia.

A ntumitrg ceremony is to bo performed on Monday week by the Lurd Bishop of London. The teror will be named 'King George $\mathrm{F}_{\mathrm{p}}$ ' the severth 'Queen Mary,' aud the others afler various people.

THE STEDMAN CINQUES RECORD.  \section*{To the Editor.}

Dear Sir,-I wish to apologise for the false lone peal of Stedman Cinques, to the Exercige generally, to your readers for depriving them of one of your entertaining and instructive artieles, but most of all to the unfortumate band which put up such a magnificeat performance at Southwark 13 years ago. I can ouly gay how very much I recret not having taken that extra care which would have made so muclo difference.

ST. MARTIN'S CATHEDRAL, LEICESTER THE SCHEME FOR THE NEW BELLS.
The recent announcement in our columns that the Cathedral of St. Martin, Leicester, is to have a new peal of twelve bells has aroused a great deal of interest, partly because of an unexpectedly early development of the scheme. The cost of the recasting of the old peal of ten and the addition of the new bells, as we have already recorded, has been assured by generous donors, but the incidental belfry improvements which complete the scheme have yet to be provided for. A letter from Mr. Ernest Morys, printed below, gives information upon this matter.

ST. MARTIN'S CATHEDRAL, LEICESTER

The old peal of ten are bnsed upon bells cast by Edwin Amold, of Leicester, in 1781, which have been added to at warious times since. North's 'Clurch Bells of Leicestershive,' published in 1876, gives the tenor as $52 \frac{1}{2}$ inches diameter, the four back bells each beariug tho inscription:-
A. Watchornc, Esg., Mayor; J. Nichols and W. Capp, Churelsunardens; Edwin Arould. Fecit. 1781.
Of the ollier bells, the treble, 2nd and 4 th bear the inscription, "J. Traylor and Son, Founders. Oxford and Joughborough, 1854."
The 3rd recolds: ' J. Taylor and Son, Bellfounders, Loughborough, late of Oxford, Buckland Brewer, Devon, and St. Neots, Hunts, Sucressors to the old and celebrated founders, Neweombe, Watls, Ejrre and Arnold, of Leicester, names of ligh repute dating as early as 1560.'

The 5th is inscribed: "Let everything that hath breath, Praise the Lord,' and the 6th: 'Praise Him upon the well-tuned cymbals; Praise Him upon the loud eymbals.
Now the Laugliborough fuuadry is to put the seal on its ancestral nonnection with these bells, by recasting them and fanking them into Iwelve

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
WEATHER AFFECTS ATI'ENJYNCE AT ANNUAT, MEETING.
The athtual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Newnhamorisevern on Euster Monday. Weather conditions were against the interests of the meeting, and only abould 40 braved the snow, hail anti wind, mixed with condinuous rum and sleel. The proceedings commenced with a serwice, at whieh the Rev. Dodds gave nin ingpiring address. Mrs. Dodds nfliciated at the organ. At the business meeting, lneld in the Club Roon, reports from tho offerls were manimously adopted and the financial statements approved. There was an inereased balance of about 810 on the yerr's work.
All the officers were re-elected, and Mr . J. Austin (Gloucester), Mr . E. Guise (Bristol), Mr. W. B. Kyuaston (Swindon) and Mr. J. K. Armstrong (Cheltenham) were elected representatives to the Central Council.
It was decided to ask the Rules Revision Committee to prepare a recommendation that nominations for Central Conncil representatives shall be made beforeland.
Rule 8 was altered, as from Jamany 1st, 1936 , to the effeat that members may be readmitted by paying one yenr's arrears and the current subseription then due.
After the preeting an exceltent tea was partaken of, and then further ringing took place on the Parish Churcli helts, ar ring of eight with tenor 21 cwt. Amoing these present, was a much welcomed visitor, Mr. Aythur Pegler, of Bengor. It is many years since Mr. Pegler left the district, but le still has many friends to reall old times.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

STOCKPORT BRANCH MEETING AT TAXAL
On Saturday, April 18tz, a meeting of the Stockjpart Bunch was held at the ancient clurch of Taxal, situated at the commancement, of the beautiful Goyt Falley now in process of being turned into: reservoir for the town of Steckport. The sis hells were requisitioned early in the afternoon and a variety of methods were ring matil the short service, had in church at 4.15 . This was conducted by the Rector, tho Rev. H. N. G. Renner, whogave a forceful adiress on the responsibilities of ringers and their ministay. He observed that the bells hung in Taxal tower contained metal from two of a rima of three hells which were listod in Thomas Cromwell's invantory of Reformation times, and there still hangs in the tawer one of tho thyed, thlthougly it is now no longer hung for ringivg. Thins they had in theso bells a link with the chutrch of over three centuries ago.

After service some 30 members and friends enjoyed an excellent tea following which a short business meeting was heled under the chairmanship of the Rector, who extended a very wam welcome to Trxal.
3 was decided to send a letter of congratulation to the Editor of "Tha Ringing World " on his attainment of 25 yearg ${ }^{7}$ gervice to the Exercise. and a request was made that this should be locked up in practical manner by all endeavouring to increase the circulation of Whe paper.
Tha Rev. F. Bonner, of St. Mary's, Stackport, was electeat a ringing member of the Guild.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector for his services in clurch and the use of the bells, to the lacal ringers, to the organific mad the caterers, and to all who in any way had assisted to make the meeting a suecess.

The bells were rumg until a late hour, the ringing ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Splicad Treble Bob Minor.

AN APPEAL.
To the Editor.
Sir, The restoration and augmentation of Leicester (St. Martin' b) Cathedral bells, as announced in last week's issue, will be welcomed by all ringers, especially members of the Midland Counties Association, and in particular those of the Leicester Diocese. I am now in a position to state delaitely that the ring of 12 bells suggested is assured by the generesity of a number of donors, but there will be much work in the belfry and ringers' chamber needed, entailing considerable expense
It is desired that all ringers of the diocese should contiribute in malsing its Cathedral Claurcli belfry n worthy one, and to this end Mr. Wm. Willson (vice-president, M.C.A.), 3 , Winclrester $A$ venue, Leicester, and myself, as consultant to the Diocessun Adisory Committee, have been asked by the Provost and Cabledral athorities to undertake this part of the scheme.

All ringers who have had the pleasuro(?) of ringing at St. Mariin's, Leicester', will know this work has beca sndly needed for many jears, and it is hoped that everyone-outside the diocese as well as withinwill contribute to this worthy cause. We, therefore, nppeal to all friends to send contributions, however small, either to Mi. Willson, Mr. Fred Dexter, or any of the Cathedral ringers, os to me. After the dedication there will be a Ringerg' Dny,' when all contributors will he invited to a service of thanksgiving end to have a ring on the new twelve bells.
Thanking all friends in anticipation,
24, Coventry Strect, Leicester.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR.

LIST OF 'LIFE-LONG' SUPPORTERS STILL GROWING.

The ' Roll of Honour ' is still growing. We print below another long list of ringers who have subscribed to - The Ringing World ' from No. 1 to the present day. It is delightful to know we have so many ' lifelong' friends still giving us their support. Pressure on our space prevents us publishing this week further extracts from the many interesting letters which have come to us, but we hope to be alble to quote from some of them in our next issue.

NEW BELLS AT STAFFORDSHIRE CHURCH,

MEMORIAL TO FORMER CODSAEL RINGER.
Probably the largest congregation which for some time has attended the Parish Church at Codsall was present at the eveniag service on Suuday, April 5th, when the Venerable R. L. Hodson, Archdeacon of Stafiord, dedicated various gilts to the church, which included a credence table, in menory of Helen Walker; churchwardons' staves, in memory of Thomas Harloy and Thomas Harley, jun.; churchyard gates, in memory of Harry Wilkes; and, last but not least, the new peal of eight bells and a memorial tablet.
The six old bells have been recast and two trebles added to make a ring of eigit, given by tho Misses Moreton in memory of their father, Edwin Moreton, who for over 50 years was a ringer at this church. The cost of the memorial tablat was also defrayed by the Misses Moreton.
After the dedication the bells were rung in rounds for a few minutes by a representative band belonging to the Archdeaconry.
The Archadeacon delivered a stirxing and outspoken adiress which will be remembered by many for a long time.
After service, a short touch of Grandsire Triples was rung by the band who rang at the dedication ceremony.
Ringing continued until 9 p.m., touches in all the slandard methods being rung, also a course of Cambridge Surprise Major and some rounds for the local ringers.
There were upwards of 50 ringers present, who came from Coventry, Swindon, Claverly, Stockton, Wolverhampton, Tettenhall, Blakenhall, Willenhall, Walsall, Darlaston, Coseley, Brewood, ete.

Previously the church had six bells, a very mixed lot-treble by Blews, 1867, second by Mears, 1875, third, fourth mad fifth diated 1637, and tenor 1638. The last four do not appear to bave had the maker's name on them.
The ringers had to stand in a somewhat awkward position to ring, and as far as the writer knows no peal had been rung on the belis, and no wonder either.
The death watch beetio is very much abused, but it is owing to its rawages that a clean sweep has been made in Codsalf tower.
The work was entrusted to Messrs. J. Taylor and Co, of Loughtarough, and the work they have done is work they can be proud of. The firm was represeated at the dedication by Mr. J. P. Fidler, and Ihe was the recipient of many congratulations.
Codeall now possesses a splendid peal of bells, tenor a few pounds under ten cwt., hung on ball bearings in a steel frame. Tho tone and go are all that can be desired.
Further, the ringers have now a splendid littlo ringing chamber to ring in, open to the church, in place of the old nwkuard position among pews on the ground floor. This handy ring should also prove vory valuable to the society for propaganda worls.

Presentation to Late Han Secretary

The anamal meeting of the Worcesterchire aus Districts Assuciation was held at Worcester on Eastey Monday, when, in spite of the inalement weather, 130 mombers ans friends were present. Among the visitors were the Rev. C. Holroyd Barker, L.Th., secretary of the North Stafordshire Association, wind obhers Irom Oxford and Sheffeld. 'Hhrougl the kindiness of lie lieadmaster of the King's School, the business meatimg was held in the College Hall, the piesident, the Very Rev. Authur Davies, D. Lith., Dean of Worcester, being in the chair, sipported by Mr. W. Short (Master), the Rev. J. F. Hasijing (elerical secretary), the Rev. G. W. Webly (vice-president), and Wr. J. D. Johnsou (lay secretary).
The Chairmarr remisuled the membere that it wis the first meeting siduce the death of their late president, Dr. W. Moore Fde, and the mombers theroupon stond in silence for a few moments. The president, on belalf of the Dean and Clapter, extended a heauby weleome to the association to Worcester.

The secrotary reported that the Gentral Committee had met in the mormine and jod consideved applications for grawts from the Belfry Repairs Fund. The committec lad decicled to make grants of f5 each towards the aelanging of the bells of Upton-onsevern nnd Nortons,

As reecmmendod ly the committee, it was decicled to give donations of a gumed each to tho Dean Moore Ede and William Pye Memonal Fumds

It was also decided to fold the anmual kinner ngain in Wrorcester on the last Satrarday in Seplember.

The 5Ist anumal report called attention to the lass which the associa tion liad sustained in the death of the late Dean of Worcester, to the number of dianges in the afficers, and to the activity in bell restorations in the northem part of the county, the local church authorities being cougrabalated on the completion of these seliemes. The balance alieet showed a coedit bafince for the sear in tile goneral fund of just over 84 and alsa reeosded in weleame increase of 27 in the mumber of performing members.-Both report and balanec sheet were considered satisfactory aned were adoptred

Tle followiur offcers for 1936 were eleoled: President, Very Rew. Arthin Javies: Master, Mr. W. Short; clerical secretary, the Rev. J. F. Hastimers lay secretary, Nr. T. D. Tolmson; treasurer, Mr. W. It wns decided to leave the anmangements far the anminj peal to the Master, and to liold the next amanal mecting at Worcester
One life member, one lonovary member and 21 performing nembers wene elected.
Tha Rev. J. F. Hastings and Mr. S. T. Folb spoke of the bells of St. Helen's Church, Worcester. These bella were of historic interest as they all bore inscriptiong conmemorative of Marlborough and his victories. They were not rumg at the moment owing to the temas being craclied, but there is fu possibility of the clurel being closed ar even pulled down at same time in the future. In surch an event every effort slonld bo made to preserve the peal intact.-The Dean said lue thought it rery wise of the rssociation to be alive to this question, and to record the fracts on the minntes, especially as it had been brought forward in the presence of the Press

MR. J. R. NEWMAN'S 30 IFARS' WORK.

A presentation was then made from the members to the late general secretary, Mr. J, R. Newman, of Severn Stoke, who load been in ofice the presentation, seid they folt they conld mot let the occasion pass Without some practionl recomition of that womdenful secretaryslip which had now conce to an ond. Under Mr. Newnan's wise guidatee the meablership had more than donbled, their funds lad grown from practionlly mothing to over f8O, and it was all done with a modesty which lield their admination.

Similar tributes to the tact and eolsistent conrtesy of Mr. Newman were paid by Messrs. T. G. Knowles, W. Ghort, J. Hemming, E. .E Barber and J. D. Jolmisou.
Tlie presentation took the form of a wireless, weceiving set suitably inscribed, and a cheque, whilst for her sympathetic help Wrs, stewman was presented with a silver tea tray:
Tn thanking the members, Mr. Newman said they had given him the most difficult foh of all in 30 ycare. The wark was a pleasure, he enjoyed it and did it very willingly, but be could do mothing alone and all that hri been clone was fine to the co-operntion of other officers arrn membevs. Fhe hall lrought bick memories: lisg earliest were of sitting on lis hands to stop the timgling (langhter and applansel. Phea, 22 Fears ago, the association lad presented him with a clock on the eceasion of his marriage. It also bronght back ather memeries-memaries of other offiners who had helped in the early days. Some of them had passed on, but he was glad to say that many were still witla thrm, and were present that, day. Mrs. Nowman also sujtably replied

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION

ANNUAI MEETINQ AT DERBY

In spite of the iuclement weather, cold, arin, sleet and hail-stoms, good muster of members attended the annual meeting at Derby and good practice was done at St. Alkmund'a (8), St, Peler's (8) and St. Andrew's (10) during the day, when all the standard and several Surprise methods were brought round. In the eveuing the Cathedral bells (10) werc available. The committee met in St. Avdrew's Schools in the afternoon, and, arising out of their deliberations, grants were made from the Bell Repair Fuud to Staveley, Derbyshire, where the eight bells are being relung; and to Cotgrave, Notts, where the six bells are waderguing repair. St. Marlin's Cathedral, Leicester, appeal was left for the time being, it being understood that the commitlee will give every consideration to this at a. later date.
A letter from the president of the Central Conncil was wead in connextion with the suggested reopening of Chesterfield tower, and it is sincerely hoped that the Council's divisory Commítfee will continue th press the matter, and that their efforts will lave the desined effect Siggestions for the next three quarterly meetings were put forward to lay before the general meeting
Tea was serwed aft the Pierpout Restanant rit 5 p.7n., and just over 60 members and friends sat down. This is one of the smallest numbers for an annual meeting, but the weather doubtless accomited for the absence of many who would otherwise lave come. All districte of the association were represented, viz., Burtati, Chesterfiehi, Derby, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughborongli, Nottinglam, and visivors werd welcomed from as far afield as Landon, Leeds, Numerkn, Norbury (Clieshife) and ofthor places. At the meeting which followed tea, Mr E. Denison Taylar occupled the chair and gave a review of the past quarter's work. Fe stated that 25 peals had beeu rung. It was with the deepest regret that he liad to record the denths of two eminent members of the Exercise, both of whom were Tife memhers of thio association-the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake and the Rev. Canon H. y Elsed. He called upon the mombers to stand in silence for a few moments ten their respectert menory. The president also noted the recent activities of belluinting in B.B.G. programmes, and stressed that it should be of the wery best to be appreciated by all. Hia also had served the Exercise during this period of 25 years, expressing also the appreciation of mill members of the Midland Compties Association The report and balance sheet were formally dopted on the proposition of Mr. Colin Hazrison (auditor), sceonded by Mr. J. I. Swinfield.
Election of general officers followed, and as there were no other nominations, the following were re-elected en bloe: President, Mr. Fr Denison Taytor; wiec-president, Mr. Witliam Willson; hou. treasurer, officers thanked the members for their confidence for them, and pro mised to serve the intetests of the association to the best of their mised tities

New members proposed since the last meeting were eight honorary, 11 ringing, one rejoined, one life, and these were duly elected. Thi association was also pleased to have as patron the new Eord Bishop of Derby, the Right Rew. A. E. J. Rawlinson, D.D.
Voting for foll members to serve as represmentives on the Central Council took place. Six names were pat forward. and the following Were duly elected, wiz., Messt

The members atitended service in the Cathedral, the specin preacher being the Rew. H. S. T. Richardson, Rector of St. Nicholas', Hereford and hon. secretary of the Hereford Guild. Taking for his text the last verse of $I$. Corinthians xy., 'Always dbounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as je know that yout lxhoni is not in vin in the Lord', the prexcher saik it was a happy thing for any body of chntehwarkers to meet on the dry following Easter. for this festival set God's approtal on the lifo of Jesus. In international affairs the Church lad a wital part to play and any nation remaining loyal to Christian principles was sure of its ultimate trimmph. Ringers had a share in advanciry the Kingdom of God-they had one deffite branch of church wayl. The ruilds and assaciations enabled services to be rendered which otherwise wonld be lost. They lad a double furnction -first to promote and cultivate the art of clange ringing to the attractiveness of perfection, and by raising the standerd of service ringing. The country would be much poorer fou the lack of the witness of the hells. Secondly, to promote the recognition of ringers as church officers and workers. If this meant recognition luv the Chureh, then in that alone had the guilds or associations justified their existence. If in mertht recomition by themselves, the same again most omphatic ally was the He personally valued the work of the guilds and repeated that he felt quite suro that they were the means of encouraging and rendering service to the Chureln which otherwise would be lost.
Thrint the day good use was made of the maguifirent peal of twelve at the Catledrai, and the bells of All Sante', st. John-in-Bedwavine, St. Swithin and St. Nitholas

He was first elected Master of the Ancicni Society in 1884, anki was thus at the time of his death the oldest surviving ex-Master. He was again elected to the office in 1; 408 . The senior past Master is now Mr. F. E. Dawe, who was elected in 1888 , and, fn rill, served five times.
Mr. Rowbothan wns one of the representatives of the Gollege Youths on the Central Gancil durigg the periods 1903-5 and 1909-11.
Mr. Rowbotiam had kept no thecurate recard of his peals, but they Lotalled about 100 and inchuded the 11,111 Stedman Caters, rung at All Saints', Fulluam, in December, 1882 (then the longest length in the methody, ant the 'Johu' peal of London Surprise Major at Rochester Fow, London, in 1904.
In addition to his mombership of the Gollege Youths, Mr. Rowhotham was one of the oldest menbers of the Yorkshire Assaciation, and he frecuently attended the Snowdon Memorial Dimer. He was also a meraber of the Devon Guild, and of the old St. Jnnes' Society, now the Iondon County Association
The fineral took place in Sheflield last Friday.

PAID RINGERS.

Dear Sir, Payment for ringing is a sore paint-especintly with iuging bands whose services are given voluntarijy.
They aver that neighbouring churches which are able to pay their own ringing bands a lee are thus able to ativact the non-paid members of the pooter townts.
The faithfal servions of these pooror chutches take the trouble to leach ringing to liferinners, only to find that as seon as the beginner has become profcient, he is lurcd nway to the wealthier tower.

Naturally, the fathiful ones object to their Lower lyeing made a maining selool for the luencfit of the more aftluent towere.
I should very nucli like to sec readers' letters on this subject, which, I aus sure, is of no little importatce to tho tranquility, as well as the efficiency, of neighbonring towers whevo such a thius exists.

one of the glories of Norwich, and of world-wide reputation. The commonsonge thing to do would have been to get in louch with the Vicar and have armengements made for the record to have been one worth takme. If this bad been done every assistance would lave been given, not by the actual ringing alone, but with adviee as to the best place for the actial recording and so on,
B.B.C.' HXPLANATION .

To this letter a B.B.C. official (for the Recorded Progitmmes Executive) replied: "1 am rfaid that, as you say, the course that was adopted was ecrtanty ealctulated to appear discourteous, fund we hope yon wil accept out apologies an this acconizt. It appears that ons representative did wake some attempt to get in tonch with the Vicar, and I maderstand that he spoke to one of the clergy:. But as it was just before the morning service he felt some diffidence in making any furbiber approach and came to the conclusion that as he lad to choose botween recording the hells then wng and going away withoud recording at all (he hat another appontment elsewhere), he thought it best to make a recording and write subsequently to the Vicar [or permission to use it. I do not put this forward as excusing the procedure adophed, but jad subaquent applicntion been made to the Vicar all might liave been well, as it would then have been pointed out that the recording was not such as to da credib to tho bells. Uufortumately, however, owing to $a$ mistale here, no letter was sent to the Vient, with the results described in your letter. In tho circumstances we cau only express our regiet for what, has occurred

The President moved a vote of thanks the Vicar of sti. Peter Mancroft aud to the incumbents of St. Miohael-at-Coslany, St. Giles' and All Saints for the use of their bells.
The Rev. F. MeMullan meved a vote of thates to the Rev. T. B. Singleton for lis address to the members.
The Archadeacon of Norwich expressed appreciation of his re-election as president, and appealed for younger men to give their services to the church as belrangers. Their mumber, lie said, shonld be two or three times the tatal it was at present in the county. The meeting then closed, and the members adjournea to the various belfries for further ringing until the evening.

THE LATE CANON H. J. ELSEE.

LMPRESSIVE FUNERAL.

Large Mourning Crowds at Bolton and Clynnog.
All classes in Bollon united to pay tribute to the late Canon H. J. Elsce, Vica: of St. George's amd president of the Lancashire Association, on the secasion of the funeral on Wednesday weck. Hutadreds failed to maiu ndmission to the church, aud it supplemevtary service was held in St. Leorge's Ruad Congregational Cliurch.
The body had been piaced in St. George's Church on the preceding evening and the funeral service was reeply impressive in its simple dimnity. Many clengy of the Manchester: Diocese were present, and representatives of the very many arganisntions of Bolton attended, Mr. E. H. Tewis (president) represented the Central Council and also the Ancient Society of College Youths, and ofher nogers present were the Rev. Canon ©. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association : Messrs. W. H. Shuker, hon, secretary, Lancashire Association ; W. J. Moss, Stretford; J. Blackburn, Coppull ; Fradey, Whittle; William Sharples, Brincle: E. Jenniugs, Broughton; J. T. Bimson, Preston : J. Charnock, Choriey ; T. R. Tatylor, Penwortham; B. Thorpe, Ashtontinder-Lyme: A. Barmes, Reddish: Sergt Peter Crook and P.C. Donald Brown, of the National Guid of Police Ringers; and members from the lecal towers.

Thio opeming sentences of the service were read by the Rev. J. F. Southworth, B.D., the present curate, and the Arclideacon of Manchester (Ven. A. Selwy Bean, M.A.) rend the lesson (Rev. 21, v. 1-7). The mayers were said by the vicar of Bolton (the Rev. W. J. Havclock Devidson, M.A.).

A short appreciation of Canon Elsee was given by the Bishop of Fulme (Dr. Sherwood Jones), who spoke from the clancel step. That was not an occasion for onlogy, he said, sund the presence of so many at the service spake more loudly than any words of the place the Canon held in their nearts.

At, whatever paint he touched onr lives, and whatever his relationship to us, he was nlways our Eriend, srid the Bishop.
Mr. Themas Buoth. Mus.Bace, and Mr. Framk Rusinton were at the organ, and they played 'O rest lin Lhe Lord" (Mendelssohn's 'Elijah'), 'I know that my Redeemer liveth' (Handel's 'Messiah'), Prelude in E Minar (Ohopin), 'Danto Funclure' (J. L. Roecklel), 'Then sha! Elie virliteous shine (Mendelssolnh), Prelude Requiescat (West) and - Blest are ble departerl' (Spohr).

The principal nowraers weyo Canon Clarles Elsee (brother), Mr. and Mis. Herbert Dlsce (brother And sister-in-law), Misses G. Elsec and #. Eisen (sisters), Niss M. Smill (lausckeeper), Miss M. Hetherington (arail), Mr. and Mrs. L, H. Boud, and the Rev. J. F. Southworth.
Great crowde of sympathisers lined the streets as the cortege left the cluarch to the sound of wufled bells, which had also been rumg beforg the service. The interment took place later in the day at the iittle village of Clyunog in North Wales.

THE SCENE AT OLYNNOG.
In this little Welsh hamlet, haif-way between Caemarvon and Pwilneli, a little crowd of people gathercd at the old Chureh of St. Benno to pay their last respects to Canon H. J. Elsee. "Whilst we waited at the gates," writess a correspondent, 'the bell which the Banon gave to the clureh in 1924 "in remembunce of Charles and Mary Anne Fifee" was tolled every minate. About 6.45 p.m. the cortege arrived and went straiglite to the gravesido, the coffiu ljorme by rehrys of parishioners. A short service was held, the Rev. W. G. Toues, Rector of Llanzellaiam, and the Rev. J. Davies, Rector of Clynug, 0 角ciating. A hymn was sung iu Welsh by the congregation, Clynueg, oficirting, A hymn was sung in welsh by the congregation, which mambered upwards of 200. After the Blessing, two courses of Which nambered upwards of 20n. After the Bobles were rumg with 6-7-8 covering by J. H. Midwinter Grindeire Doubles were rumg with 6-7-8 covering by f. H. Midwint
'While the meurners were still lingering at the graveside the three bells in the lower were rumt hy the same ringers. Strange as the music sounded, to us it seemed to fit in witl the simplicity of tive whole ceremony.

Dhring the interment the sun, just nbout to set below blie sea, was shinins brilliantly, and turning the waves, not 100 yards away, into shimmering gold, whilst behind us were the Welsli mountains with the sharp peaks of Bwleh Mawr and the Rivals capped wilh snow: Surely nowliere could there be a more lovely resting place for such a man.

The esteen in which Canon Elsee was held by the people of Olynnog wra ouly too clearly shown. Men und women alike wept inresirainedly furing the service. Thein hearts had been won by the kinaly acts and the friendiness of this saintly man.

TRIBUTE OF THE BELSS.

After Canon Elsee's death on Good Friday, St. Gearge's bells were fully muffled. with erception of the tenor, winch was open at the back stroke, for Sunday services, and again Monday and Tuesday evenings. They were rung for the funeral service on Wednesday by rixed bards of risitots, and as the cortege was leavirg the ehurch the 'whole pall and staud ' was rung by the local compang. A few more tonches by the visitars followed and then a peal of Grandsire Triples was mulg be six of the local band, rssisted by one from Holy Trinty, Tolton, fnd mother from the Savieur's Church, Bolton.

RECOGNITION OF RINGER'S LONG SERVICE. PRESENTATHON AT TALGARTK.

Dir. J. Gwya Darjes, M.A., J.L.D. (Vicar), recently presented Mr. W D. Griffths, captani of the Talgarth, Breconshire, rugers, with a goid watch ind chaim, subseribed for by members of the church, in vecognition of the services lo lias readered to the church. Mr. Griffiths has bean captain of the ringers for over 30 years and a chorister for nbout 40 ycars. He has alsn been responsible for the upkeep ansi the repairs of the ropes, bells, etc., and also tenching scorcs of ringers flom repaime to time.
Trom time to time. Mr. Griffitis was the means of getting the bells reenst and rehtug in 1904. He has not been a great peal ringer, laving rung ahout 50 peals, but he has been a regulay Sunduy service ringer, attending twoce cyery Sunday, and always taking his place on a practice night for over 40 years.

A STAFFORDSHIRE RESTORATION.

STONE BELLS PUT IN ORDER.
Palm Surday saw the culmination of a very spirited effort by the Stone Cburcla autborities to 'put their bouse in order.' For a year or two minor defects have made themselves known amongst the bells and, as it was over 40 years since they were inst reliung, it was decided to make good the ravages of time and wear and place the matter in the bands of Messrs. Jonn Taylor and Co., who have fully justified the confidence placed in them.
A short service was held in the ringing chamber at 10 a.m. on Sunday, April 5th, to hallow the completed work. The Vicar, the Rey. H. Lee, officiated, and was supperted by the Ref. J. B. Fritls, Rector of Swynnerton. A distinguished gathering, headed by the chairman of the Stone Urban District Coumen, wearing bis chain of office, was prosent. The service was short but impressive, and on its conclusion the bells were ruag for 10.45 matins, those taking part, if addition to the loeal companf being the Rev. J. B. Frith, Mr. Thompson (hon. secretary of the North Staffs Aswciation) and Mr. J. P. Fidler (representative of the bellhnagers?
It was a bappy thought which prompled the authorities to invite Mr. Frith to deliver the sermon on this special occasion. He is a typical ' Ringers' Parson,' and it was gratifying to note that he appears to have recovered from lis Iomg and painful illness.
The bells at Stone aro a bandy ring, even thoggh they run the wrong way round. The tenor is about 12 cwt , and wis cast, with five of its companions, by Rudihall in 1710. The peal renained a ring of six until 1890, when Messrs. Taylor and Co. added fro trebles to complefe the octave.

SPLICED SURPRISE IN MIDDLESEX.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Mr. C. T. Coles, inz lise letter of thanks ant sareasm, savs we live and learm. I agree. He, for one, would be better if he didn't propose sump ridiculous notious. He las condemmed all Spliced peals of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob except fwo, and he will have a long way to go to carry gis motion if I know anything of the Central Council. In answer ta Mr. E. C. S. Turner, I would say. Please read my first tetter again and digest it:" $\qquad$ J. HUNT Taunton.

CRITICISM.

The leading article which appeared in our issue of March 20th seems to have created some feeling of resentment among members of the Kent. County Association, according to the report of the annual meeting which appeared in our last issue. When the articie was written it was farthest from our desire to say anything to which exception could be taken, but that it should have resulted otherwise is just one of the risks which writers run if they are ever to express opinions. But from the report of the meeting, 'The Ringing World' was somewhat severely taken to task; not only for the opinions it expressed, but also for having even publicly 'criticised " the affairs of the Kent Association. Our readers will probably recollect that the points raised in our article were, first, the proposal to appoint a ringing master in each district, and questioning the advisability of making the operation of his office conditional upon there being no competent member of the local band present, and secondly, the suggestion that no ringer should be allowed to be an unattached member of the association if he resided in a parish where there is a band which he could join.

The Honorary Secretary of the association told the meeting he couid not understand where the Editor got his information. These matters were openly discussed by members of the association in the Lewisham District, therefore they became of public interest both to other members of the Kent Association, and, from the principles involved, to ringers generally. And being matters of public interest, they were open to criticism in the press, although, in our view, our comments were extremely mild criticism, and were directed to questions of principle more than anything else. There was no attack on the association, but we were justified in commenting upon the suggestions if only in order that all the members of the association might know that such proposals had been under discussion. We did not say that the conmittee had approved of them. We were not concerned with who made them; only with the fact that they had been made, and that it was open to those to whom the proposals appealed to bring them up at the anoual meeting. Therefore, there was no breach of etiquette in commenting on the matter.

We were accused of misrepresenting the facts, but it cannot be denied that the proposals were madealthough turned down by the committec-and despite the fact that what we said appears to be resented in some quarters, the truth remains that the rules in the final form submitted to the members support our contentions. castigation of 'The Ringing World' therefore seems hardly to have been called for, but we cannot pass over the suggestion that the affairs of the Kent Association should not be publicly criticised. The affairs of a ringing association having been discussed in public are no more exempt from fair comment than the affairs of any other organisation.

FOR BEGINNERS.

STEDMAN TRIPLES FOR THE YOUNG CONDUCTOR.
Stedman Triples, from the conductor's point of view, is in a category of its awn. The primeipal reason for this is that the coursing order of the bells is bemg constantly split up by the alternate quick and slow work. This makes it difichit for the beginner to lseep track of what all the bells should be doing.

Unless he is specially gifled, he will only be able to acquire the necessary knowledge by practice and observation, and he must not expect to be able to see everything all at once.
If yeu are ringing a method like Grandsire, you cau memorise the coursing orders and travspose them as they change. In Stedman the coussing order only remains anong the dodging bells while they are dodging ; but one of the first steps you can take towards knowing what others are doing is to follow, in addition to your ows bell, the work of what, for want of a better term, we will call your 'opposite number" both in front and behind you. By "opposite number, we mean not your 'cuurse bell' or 'after bell' as you come through the dodging, but the bells that are going in and out, the same way that you sre going. These are the bells that you do not dodge with, except in 4-5 when ane is coming out quick and the other going in except
The chief advantage of linowing which bells are your 'opposite numbers ' cames when you are in 'clow.' If you are going in slow, there is a 'quick' bell between you. The opposite jumber in front of you, when you get into the slow, does the last half tum witli yours first whole turn, atud you dn your first baif turn with his last whole turn. Then the "opposite number ' after you takes lim ont of the slow; that is, begins his first whole turn at back stroke from the other's last whole turn, and yous do your last half turn with him, followed by your own last whole turn for which he provides the first. halt turn.
Thus you have the 'slow, work covered by defmito knowledge all the while you are there; the other bells coming in while you are in front, being, of course, always "quick.' When you dodge in 4-5 (up) the opposite nomber in front of you is in 7-6 (down); when you are in G-7 (up) he is in $5-4$ (down). Then you change to 7 -6 (down) and hu" opposite number after you appears in $4-5$ (up), and you cross him to $5-4$ (down) when le goes to 6-7 (up). One firther adventage or knowing your "opposite numbers' is that they do not chauge their relation with you nutil they fre disturbed by a bob.
Here is another 'tip' which may help your Every bell you clodge with on pour way wop-and this aphlies to all numbers of bells-will go in the same way that you came out, whether it was quick or slow. It, therefore, follows that whe bells you pass and do now dodge wih, will go in the opposite way to which jou came out, or, put in anothen form, will go in the alme way that you will go in bext time yout reach the front.
When bobs are ealled in pairs in Stedman Triples, such ons in the ghort touches which we gave 1 nst week, it should be remembered that If the bobs are at $3-4,5-6$ or 7-8, the bell which has to continus dodging down will go in quick and the hell dodging up will go in slow That means, too, that the bell that makes the first hab of the pa has to go ini quick and the one that makes the second boblas to g in slow. At bobs at $12-13$ exactly the reverse is the case. If your have a four-bol set, that is 3-4-5-6 or 5-6-7-8, the bell that makes the frst bols also makes the last, luving been a 'quick' bell in between The berinner way usefully spend time with pencil and paper study ing the detrils of the fronis work, which, although in "sixes, reall consists of blocks of twelve rhanges. By following this suggestion he can, for instance, learn exactly which belt, in reladion to the work should lead at each of the twelve clanges, and, as failure to lead the most prolifie canse of trips in Stedman, such fnowledge will be of the utmost use when the conductor can speak with certainty.
There are other little points which expericnce winl teach, bu have said enourg to show thit there are guides which iselp a bols oaller to become a uscful if not a hrilliant conductor.
All bob callers emnant rise ta the same level, but study and industry will do a lot. Stedman, despite what some people may say, is mu iateresting method, esperially for the condictor, and our contention has always been that a woll-struck peal of Stcdman Triples is worth three hours of anybody's time.

CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION REAWAKENING.

MEETENG AT THORNABY.

The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association has not had a meeting for a long time, but that held at Thornaby on Easter Monday proved thatit the association was not dead, but only sleeping. It awoke fresh and with new pigour when members gathered together from Middlesbrough, Ripon, Ormesby, Richmond, Guisborough, Darlington and Thirsk to enjoy tha nies peal of eight, thomaby. The ringing was good, ranging from Grandsire to Superlative, aud several members rang touches in methods new to them.
The meeting which follower dinuer was a long and useful one, and showed that all the members present were saxious that the associntion should reaume its good work amongst the towers of the district. A large amount of business was transacted, and from the number of recommendations sent forward for discussion it would appear that the annual meeting to be held at Thirsk on Wkit Monday will be a very important ons. If is hoped that every tower will send its representative to that meeting.

The bella (kindly placed at the disposal of the association by the Viger and ohurchwardens of Thormaby) were kept going throughout the day, and when the members parted to wend their several ways home, they all fell that the Cheveland was once more well in its stride to useful and bappy meetings.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
On the invitation of the Vicer of South Church (the Rev. Canon A. B. Parry-Evans), a special meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at Bishop Auckland on Saturday last.

During the afternoon a peal board, recording a memorial peal to the late King George, which was rung on February lst, was unveiled by the vice-president of the Eastern District, Mr. R. L. Patterson.
The Ficar welcomed the members to South Churelh, and, on behalf of the association, Mr. G. E. Taylor and Mr. W. N. Park congraEuTated the band on their performance, and hoped that the peal would inspire the local men to take more interest in ringing, with a view to ringing a peal without outside assistance, 'First peal by service ringers of this chureh.'
The company then abtended shortened evensong, in this beautiful old church, conductod by the Ficar, and, after an excellent tea in the Parigh Rooms, several touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Trebla Bob and Bob Major were brought round, and a very pleasant meeting came to a close.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.
PRESENTATUON TO FORMER SOUTHERN BRANCH SECRETARY.
A quarterly mesting of the Southem Branch was held on Saturday at Pershore, when about 60 members were present, inciuding visitors from the Western and Northern Branches. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. at the Abbey and St. Andrew's Churek, and a short service was held in the Abbey at 5 o'clock, at which tile address was given by the Rev. Canon Murray
Tea, provided by Mrs. Murray, was partaken of at the Women's Instibute Hall, and was followed by the business meeting, the Rev Canon Murray presiding. It was decided that the next quarterly meeting should be held at Bratforton, subject to the appropal of the Vicar.

Messrs. J. Hall and G. King were elected members of the Annuat Dinner Committae. Several performing members were elected to the assaciation.

At the conclusion of the meeting a presentation was made to Mr J. Hemming, Iate secretary of the Southern Branch, who had held that oflice for 25 years. The presentation, which took the form of a grandmother clock with Westminster chimes, was made by fhe late general secretary, Mr. J. R. Newran, who referred to the good work which Mr. Hemming had done for the branch.

Mr. Binyon also said a few words in praise of the late secretary's work.
In replying, Mr. Hemming thanked the members and said what a lot of friends he had made while he lad been in office.

After the meeting the members returned to the towers, and cinging continued until 9 p.m., the methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Major.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloncester and Bristol Asseciation was held at Elkstone on Saturday, April 25tl?. The bad weather did not deter a fair number from tuming up at this five-bel tower on the top of the Cotswolds.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. T. S. Tolkjnson) and the Fiear of Chedworth (the Rev. Noel Hope) gave a very fine adidress. Tea was partakeu of at the Rectory, after which the business meeting was presided over by the Rev. N. Hope, supportod by some 20 members.
Several items of interest were discussed, notably the annual outing of the brach to the Oheddar Valley on June 13th,-Ringing was induled in till about 8 o'clock.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The two treble bells which will form the principal part of the William Pye Memorial are to bo cast at Oroydon this afternoon. Wili Mr. O. H. Saul, last beard of in Sheffeld in August, 1926, or anyone knowing his whereabouts, kindly communicate with Mr. Sidney F. Palmer, Hazelwood, 4, Quarry Road, Totley, near Sheffield.

Messrs. John Taylor and Co. wili shortly be rewoving to their foundry at Loughborough the ring of eight from the very fine tower of Holbeach Parish Church, Lincs. One of the bells is cracked and this is ta be recast; the others are to be tumed and the whole peal rehung with new fittings in new frame,
The performance of the local band at Cottesmore, Rutland, in ringing a peal of Grandsire Doubles, the first peal by all, at the firto attempt, is a meritorious aohievement, especially as they are selftaught They gained thei. knowledge from books and the Beginners' Column of 'The Ringing World,' and we are very pleased to learn that the latter has been of such practical use to them, Mr. H. Walker, who rang the treble to the peal, is 64 years of age. The whole performance is an example to many other bends up and down the country.
The many friende of Mr. E. J. Rowe ("Unde y, of Stourton, Wilts, will be very sorry to learn that le is laid up with a broken leg, the result of a moter accident which occurred just as he was leaving home on Saturday night. We ne told that he looked quite comfortable on Sunday and his smile was reminiscent of the completion of a wellstruck touch.
Councillor Arthur Payne, M.B.E., J.P., president of the Durtara and Newcastle Diecesan Association, was elected a member of the Ancient Four-and-Twenty of the parish of St. Mary's Chulch, Gateslead, at the vestry meefing held on April 21st, in place of the late Sir John Maccoy.

BELL CLAPPERS.  To the Editor.

Dear Sir, The reeent statement in your columns that the iron supplied in these days is unequal to the straiv imposed on clappers of bellis faggests to my mind a grent opportunity for a progressive and important step on the part of the bellowuding industry.
I have for a long time held the view that the real solution of the problem of objection to bells on the part of residents in the neighbourhood of churches lien in the discovery of a more olastic and less aggressive material than iron for the clappers. It is matter of common knowledge that the blow struck by the iron clappev on bell metal always produces a comparatively harsh sound close at hand, and that to hear bell music af its best one has to listen at some distance from the tower.

It seems to me that what is wanted in order to do full justice to the musical tone of a bell is an amalgan of metals that will strike a modified and more resilient blow on the belk, which will produce a note botia of agreable quality in the fmmediate vionity and of at least equal carrying power at a distance.

With all the resources of modern chemistry at their disprosal, I suggest that our worthy belfounders devote their attention seriously to the solution of this problem. $\qquad$ -

ACCIDENT TO MR. JAMES GEORGE.

On Thursday of last week, Mr. James George met witl an unfortunate accident in his home at 44, Guckoo Road, Nechells, Finmingham. When coming downstajrs in the morning, Mr. George, who is 82 vears of age and lives alone, slipped from the middle to the botiom of the staircase, and badly injured the bottom of his back on the lowest step. It was some time before he could summon holp, as lie was at first unconscions. He was bady bruised and slaken, and it will probably be some time before he will be able to ring again. His frionds throughout the country will wish him a speedy recovery.

BELL BROADCASTS,

On Sunday nert, May 3 rd , the bells of St. Ambrese's Chureh, Bristol, will be heard on the air at 7.55 p.m. The band taking part in the broadeast are all regular Sunday service ringers at this church.
The bells (eipht) are a modern peni, by Mears and Stainbank in 1928. The tenor is $11 \frac{1}{2}$ ewt. in F sliajp.

The ringers will be pleased to lear what the reception is like nud any other criticism, which should be seat to Mr. Fkidmore, 80, Carlyle Road, Greenbank, Bristol, 5.
Last Sunday evening, listeners on the Ragional wava-length heard tho bells of St. Laurence's Church, Reading, in Stedman Cingues. There was a commendably briof introduction overlaid by the AnHouncer.

Unique Ceremony at Whitechapel Foundry.

A ceremony, unique in bell founding history, took place at Whitechapel on Monday, when a ring of eight bells, modelled upon the peal of Westminster Abbey and destined for Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, British WEST FRONT OF VICTORIA GATHEDFAL As it will appear when completed.

The bells will hang in the north-west tower, which bearg the name of the president of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society The funds for the building of the tower. which is not quite finished, have been entirely raised by the society's friends in England. The southwest tower (that on the right of the picture) is not yet built.
Columbia, were named in the course of a religious service held in the famous old foundry, and attended by the Lord Bishop of London and other Church dignitaries, the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, the High Commissioner for the Dominion of Canada, and Mr. W. A. McAdam, Acting Agent General for the Province of British Columba. The listory of the Cathedral of the Tar West was tald by the Bishop of London in lis address. His Lordstip laid the fondation stone on a visit some years ngo, and the building is still in progress. The tower in which tha bells are to hang is the most recently completed portion of the building and is named after lim, while Lhe bells are the fift of generous donors. The bells aro a magnificent ring, worthy of the noble building which they are to adorn, and nre hung for ringing with the most modern type of fittings. Tliey are a peal which will add lustre to the name of Menrs and Sitninbauk
There was a distinguished gathering for the coremony, which bad been arranged by the British Columbiz and Yukon Church Aill Society, of which the Bishop of London is president and Dr. Perkins, of Westminster Albey, the secretary. The service took place in the erecting shop of the foundry, where the bells laung in their massive frame, complete from braced foundation girders to theis stays. A temporary platform had been erected and seats provided on the floor of the shop to accommadute the mazy visitors whe came at the invitation of the society. While the guests were assembling there came from the distance nild above the noise of London traffic, thee sound of the bells af Whitechapel Parisk Church, well rung by a band of emploges of the foundry.

SCENE IN THE FOUNDRY
The clergy and otters officidly associated with the ceremony assembled nt the Parish Church of St. Mary Matfelon, and passed in procession along the Whitecliapel Road to the foundry. Headed by tho verger and cross bearer, there came the choir of St. Margaret's, Westminster, followed by the Master Bell Ponnder (Mr. A. A. Hughes), the chairman of the Execative Conmittea of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society, acting as Commissary of the Bishop of Columbia, Canon Perkins, goveral secrotary of the society, the Rev. F. P. Layceck, formerly Archdencon of Columbia, and tho Rector of Whitechapol. The Bishop of Colchester followed next, and then came the Bishop of London, preceded by his chaplain bearing the crozier, walking in front of those who were to name the bells. The little procession was walched with curious interest as it moved along the busy street to the foundyy.
In the erecting shop the principal clergy took their places on the platform, and the ceremony opencd with the invocation of the Holy Spirit, pronounced by the chairman of the committec.
Then the sweet voices of the choir were heard in Webbe's selting of the lywn, Come, thou Holy Spirit, come.' Followed intercessions, recited by Canou Perking, for worshippers, for the ringers, for those who shall be married, for the sick, for the dying, and for the donors and artificers. Next the 150 th P3alin was sung.
A formal staloment as to the provision of the bells for the Cathedral was made by the chairman of the committec in the following terms:- These bells for which we have now songht the Divine blessing will hang in the narth-west tower of the Cathedral Charch of Christ in Victoria, British Columbia, which tower will bear in perpetuity the honaured nanie of the president of our society. The six larger bells, offered in the year of the Silver Jubilee of theit Majesties King George V. and Queen Mary, are the gift of Mary Geraldine Mozley, in loving memory of her brother, Charles Raymond Nutt, late Captain in the Royal Field Artillery, whose body lies at Somenos, in the Diocese of Columilia. The two swaller bells recorl the life and work of two honourcd inhabitants in the City of Victoria. Before we proceed to the ceremony of uaming the bslls, lot us remember beforo God those whose names they will hear, and with them our late beloved Sovereign, King George V., and three hishops of Columbia now at rest, by whose devoted labours tha foundations of tho Clinech's work in this distant western. land have been well and truly laid.'
There followed then a prayer for the reparted who are commenornted by tho bells, inchuling Gcorge V. King nud Emperor, Gcorge Hills, Willian Willcox Perrin and Augustine Scriven, Bishop of Columbia, Charles Raymond Nutt, Johr Samuel Henry Matson and John Robert Merideth Matsou, and a few moments of silance were then observed.

THE NAMING GEREMONY
The chriman of tha committee afterwards called in Lume upon those who were to name the bells, and eacin, as they stepped forward, received a rope from the Master Bell Founder. First of all the tonor was named, by the High Comraissioner:-
'I, Yincent Massey, High Commissioncr for the Dominion of Canada, give to this, the tenor boll, by gracions permibsion of Her Majesty Queen Mary, the name of "King George V." Christ, Heaven's King, bo pleased with this ring.'
The Hight Compissioner then struck three blows on the bell by pulling on the rope of the chiming hammer.
The seventh bell. by the same permission, was given the name of 'Queen Mary,' by Mr. W. A. MeAdan; the sixth was named 'Charles Raymond,' by Mrs. Mary Geraldinc Mozley; the fifth, "Edward of Wapmond, by Mrs. Mary Geralcanc Mozey; the Mrth, Eaward of Fngland,' by Canon Mozley the third, 'Onv Lady, St. Mary,' by Mrs. N. K. Woods, Central President of the Mothers' Enion; the second, 'John Samuel Henty Matson,' by Mrs. I. F. Pertin; and the treble, 'Jolen Robert Merideth Matson,' by Miss Z. M. Tien. Each etruck three blows upon the bell named.
The Rey. E. P. Laycock then requested the Bishop of London to bestow hiy blessing on the bells, and his lordship, having offered prayer, placed his crozier upon ono of the bells and recited this benediction: "In the faith of Jesus Ghrist, amen. I, Arthur Foligy, by Divine parmission Bishop of London, and President of the British Calnmbia and Yukon Clurch Aid Societr, Hereby blegs these bells and this work to the glory of God and to the honour of His Holy Name."
Then the benutiful tones of the new bells were heard chimed, in rounds and queens, by Mr. I. Thomas.
The hymn, 'Ting forth, holy bells,' preceded a short and homely uddress by the Bishop, who recalled tho occasion when he laid the foundation stono of the Cathedral in Victoria, and again when he visited it fivo years ago and found it a living centre of chureh netivity. Up to that time, he said, 880,000 had been spent on the building, and then came a little misunderstanding. He was asked if ho would like to have the tower built in his name, und he said, 'Yes,' but when ho found they imagined ho was going to buld it himself, that was guite another story, eapecially as he had 45 churches to build in London. But, as nsual, added the Bishop, it was a woman who found the way out, ant Miss Tien and her friends set out to raise the money. Thanks to their efforts the tower was built, and then came the question, where were the belts to come from? Again it was a woman who came to their aid. Mrs. Mozley, with wonderful generosity, had given the six biggest bells, and other donors lad comploted the peal.
What is the obiect of this tremendous trouble and expense? asked the Bishop. As he anid on that very hot day when he laid the foumdation stone, this Cathedral in Victovia was caling back to Liverpool, six thousand niles away. It called back, 'We, too, believe in God, we, too, believe in Christ, we, too, love the Chiuch.' And now that Cathedral would have a tongue with which to say ifr, the beautiful tongue of the bells which they had just henrd; their sound was going ont into all lands and the words minto the ends of the world. There was no more beatiful message than that of the bells. The bells they had named that day came from one of the most historic foundries in Enfland, a foundry in which bells now over threo lundrea years of had been cast. What he loved to think of was thet long after we had nassed awny, these bells they had now heard wonld stil! be sending ont the messnge of the Gospel on the shore of the Pacific, across the Continent and the Atlantic to Liverpool Cathedral on the one hand, miniting them in the faith of Josus Chuist, and to Japan, six thonsand miles away, in the other clirestion, telling out to the heathen of that land that the Lold is King. Tho spot where this Cathedral stood Was ono of the pivats of tho world; they could not place a peal of hells in a moro beatiful position. The message that would go out to Jrpan would gay, "Here is the Christion faith; this is what you want in order to bo happy." And to this counthy would come the message, "Here is the Chrislinn Eaith, wo hold it hore as you do in the old combiry.' My prayer to-day, coneluded the Bishop, is that the countries on hoth sides of the Pacific and Atlantic may hear and believe the message of the bells.
The hymn, 'Set them nobly in the steeple," was then sung, and the inpressive litule service, in unnsual surroundings, with the ageblackened keans of tha building above and all around the implements of tho bell founder's craft, ceme to a close with the Bishop's Blessing and tho Nitional Anthem.

The inscription on 'Paul of London' is a translation of that on 'Great Panl of London, which was east for St. Paul's Cathedral an November 23 rd , 188I. The words were chosen by the Rev. Dr. Lidion. The inscription on 'Edward of Westaniuster? is a translation of that which appears in Latin on the two Flizabethan bells in West minster Abbey.
The Abbey bells, as most of our reaters ave aware, have all of them been founded and maintained by the same frm, though the latter did not always bear the well-known titile of 'Mears and Stainbenk.' Thus the connection between the Abbey and the great Whitechapel Foundry eovers not fa* short of four centuries, if not longer.
As the company left the shop, IVr. F. Thomas chimed a course of Grandsire Triples on the bells, and this provided for critionl ears some idea of the beanty of the tones that the mog possesses. But to everyone their founds were a source of delight.

After the ceremony the visitors were entertanined to tea in st. Mary's Parish Hall, and dwring tho proceedings the Bishop of London, on behalf of the founders, presented to Mrs. Mozley a model of the sixth bell. cast by herself from the same metal as that rrom which the original was cast. It was suitably mounted and made a very hoppy memento of the occasion

The bells will be despatched to Victoria in abont three weaks time. The north-western tower of the Gathedral, in which they will harg, will eventually be about, 120 ft . high, and there will be a long draurat of ropo between the bells and the ringers. In Victoria there ere two-or three tingers eagerly anticipating the arrival of the bells, and it is hoped they will at once be able to form a company to ring then and eventually to practise change ringing. They could not have better bells for the purpose

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

WEST DORSET BRANCH

The quarterly meeting of the West Dorset Branch was held last Saturday at Evershot, and, notwithstanding most minpleasant weather conditions, was quite well attended. Members were present from Beaminster, Rampisham, Lyme Regis, Bradpole, Poole, Wimborne and Evershot.
The Rector, the Rev. W. Gulliford, conducted the service, and in his addrees emplasised the message of the bells as one of 'Peace, goodwill toward men.' afterwards he very kindly entertained all to tea in the Villate Hall
The chairman of the brancls (the Rev. C. C. Cox) presided over the business meeting. Satirrday, July 18th, was selected as tlo date for the next meeting, at Netherbtiry. It was also agreed that in the meantime ane combined practice should be held at an eight-hell tower and one ab a. six-bel! tower. Mr. S. J. Philbrick was elected as a non-resident life ringing member.
Mention was made that the order had been given for the Testartition of the ring of five at Thorneombe, and it was loped that the 1 tigers there worid come baek to the Guild after the work was completed.
Tho Ghaimman moved a vote of thanks to the Rector for his lind welcome and interest, to the organist, and the ludies who were responsible for the eatering. Fe also congratulated the youthful Evonsshot band on their progress.

Good practice was ohtained or the bells during the aftermoon and evening, and the variety of methods was noteworthy: Grandsire. Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor being rung very credilably.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

GREATER ENOOURAGIMENT BY GHURCH AUTHORLTIES

 WANTED
Beginning of a Benevolent Fund.

About 90 members atberded the ammal meetine of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on Saturday at Guildiord. It had been hoped that the Bishop of the Diocese would attend, but owing to his illness his place was taken by the Ven. Archdeacon Blackburine, who thus made his last public appearanco in the diocese as Archdeacon of Surrey. This week he has left to be iustalled as Dean of Ely

The Guik service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Provost (the Very Rev. E. G. Kirwan), and the Arcludeacon, in his address, Eaid $^{\text {I }}$ that such a service as that ought to serve two purposes-separate consecration and encouragement. It was so easy to become engrossed in a piece of church work and do it quite well, and yet ba forget what was the real end and purpose of that enterprise. And there was a particular danger in auy form of artistic work in the Clurch. He thought he would not be far wrong when he said that the nore one was awake and alive and appreciative of the beautiful in church work, the greater was the danger that one's whole self would end with that partioular form of work. It was because the art they practised was so beautiful tilat he ventured to call their attention to that particular danper.

A GREAT TRADITION

There was no need for him to remind them of the history of the art they practised. It was one of the very few surriving typically English village arts. In Surrey they were seeing their boantiful villages more or less gerapped oy newcomers who were not of the ordinary village type. He was going to a part of East Amglia where he hoped he would find the typically old English village witl its craftsmen who work in iron and wood. Their art was among those surviving craftsmen, and it was in a very honourable company. He hoped they would do all in their power to see that their art was continued. 'You have receiver the great tradition of change ringing from the past, added the Archdeacon, 'and 1 nm glad to see in your ranks many young wen who are capable of handing that tradition on, and it is good. '
There were many disappointments-of keeping a company together and getting recruits. They ratght meet with discouragement from people who did not like the sound of bells, and they were not backwawd in complainiag. Don't be disappoinfed; let this service be a service of encouragement. Ther had inherited a grent past and would carry on.

He thanked the ringers, on behalf of the Church and the diocese, for the work they were doing. Some of them came from villages where it was not possible to ring a peal. To those ringers he wonld say, 'Take heart.' They were nembers of a very lavge and important company and throughont the length and breadth of England there were 34,000 men and women engaged in similar work.
The collection, amounting to 21 12s, was for the Guild Benevolent Fund
At the busiwess meeting, Mr. Waltor Harrison (vice-president) was in the chair, supported ly the Provost (the Very Rev. E. G. Firwan), Major J. F. B. Hesse (Master'), Mr. J. Corbett (hon. treasurer) and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (han. seoretary). Weloome visitors included the honi. secretalies of the rajoining associations, Mr. F. W. Rogers (Winchester and Porlsmouth) and Mr. C. H. Kippin (Surrey).

THI REPORT.

In theil annual report the committee said the Guild had steadily maintained its work during the past ycar, but while in its main objects it had shown do faling-off in carrying out the purposes for which it was founded, the committee could not refrain from once more urging upon Church authorities the diacesan character of the Guild aud asking that it shall reccive from them the backing which that status demands. There were still a number of towers which remained outside the Quild; the committee felt that a warmer encouragement of its objects by incumbents and parochial churelt councils woutd lead to a streagthening of the membership. It was hoped that in future this support miglit be given to the Guild.
The nembership of the Guild showed a slyght decline on the year, accounted for by a rinmber of minor causes. The ringing members numbered 396 , compared with 413 at the end of 1954 ; and the honorary mombers 81, compared with 82 fis the preceding year. Unlike a mumber of other ringing associations, which allow their members to be one and, in some cases, twa years in arrears before their membership lapses, this Guila adheres shrictly to the rule that only those who have paid their subscription by the end of the year under review shall be connted on the roll. The figures which the committee presented were, therefore, an recurate recond of the members whose subscriptions were actually paid for last year. The balance in the central fund liad been reduced by e8 12s. gd. Owing to special calls upon it. The cash balances in the district finds amount to e42 11s. 8d., compared with e48 2s. 2d. at tho enct of 1934. The reduction was due principaily to the grants made to the Library Fund and to grants mado for hell anrl tower restorations.
A Benevolenti Fund was set up duving the year, and, thanks to generous donations, slood, at the end of the year, at f10 05. 9d., which is on deposit at the bank. It is hoped that during the year this amount may be considenbly addad to by contributions from ringere themselvos. There was now a sum of 8405 . 6d. in the New Cathedral Belle Fund.

The comanittee prere arain glad to report the carrying ont of bell restorations at various curclies in tho diocese. The bells at Ewell, Dorking, Witicy and Ockham had been put in order, while at Slralford a scheme is being carvied out to recast the existing ring of bells from six to eight. Ohfaingfold bells were also to be recast, and restoration was contemplated at $\Delta$ sh, In the carrving out of most of this work the services of the Master of the Guild (Major J. H. B. Hesse) had been invaluable to the Church authorities, who had consulterl him, and the diocese is fortumate in laving at its disposal such independent experto and practical advice as Major Hesse was able to offer.

TWENTY-TWO • FIRST PEALS.

During the year, 29 peals were rung, 27 of them on tower bells and two on landbells. The mumber of tower bell peals was the same as in the previous year, and the number of handbell peals one more than in 1934. A gratifying feature of the tower bell peals is that they were distributed over 18 towers in the diocese, whereas in the previous year the peals were rung in only 11 towers in the diocese and three outside. No fewer than twelve of the peals were rung in celebration of the Silver Jubilee of E.M. King George V. The committee hope that this extension of occasional peals to other towers may be maintrined, so that, at least, one peal, with as many local riugers iu it as possible, may be rung in each tower in the Guild every year.
Anotler wery satisfactory feature of the performanees was the number of ringers who reng their first peal. No fewer than 22 members took part in a peal for the first time. This again was largely the result of the Silver Jubilee enthusiasm, for 19 first peals were rung in connection with that occasion. Congratulation must lo extended to all these vingers and to Mr. C. W. Denyer for the part he played in assisting eleven ringers though their first peals in the Farnham District, and also the Wonersh band, who rang a peal entirely with their owr members, which provided five frst perls and a first as conductor. Another peal of pote was a peal of Stedman Triples ruyg at the Gathedral by officers of the Guild, which lans been duly recorded by a trblet in the ringing chamber.
The crmmittee again placed on record thelr appreciation of the work of the officers, and especially of the district officials, upon whom so much of the success of the Guild depends.

In moving the adoption of the anmual report, the Chairman referved to the deaths of Mr. Wi. J. Viggers (Aldershot), Mr. W. T. Waller (Dorking), who were hon, members, and Mr. P. J. Percy (Chertsey) and Mr. A. Spoomer (Shere), ringing members, and the meeting stond to say how extremely sorry their diocesan was that he was unable to be with them; they shared that regret aud hoped that lie would be speedily restored to lhealth. The Chairman did not regard the support to the Benerolest Fund as satisfactory. They had only four individual domations and two collections were taken at district meetings. Ho hoped they would work the fund up a Iiltle more.
The hon. secretary explained that collecting boxes were being distributed that day to the towers, and he hoped that, when the nembors saw the boxes in the towerg they would contribute. The sum of one penny a month from ench member would amount to about 280 a yemr.
The report was adopted, as was alsa the treasurer's balance sheet, which showed a balpnce in hand of 22312 s . 9d., compared witit fi32 1 s . 6 d . at the beginning of the year

TOCR REPRTSENTA'EIVES FOR CENTRAL COUNCIE.
The following officers were elected: Fice-presidents, ML'. Walter Harrison and the Provost: Master, Major J. H. B. Hesse; fon treasurer, Mr. J. Corbett; hon. secretary, Mr. J. $. Goltsmith; hon auditor, Mr. R. Hasted. Mr. C. Hazelder was re-elected han. libravian, the Libuary Commitiee was also re-elected, and the following were elected after a ballot as representatives on the Central Council: Messers. A. I. Pulling, A. C. Hazeldev, G. L. Grover and A. Harman
The meeting decided to hold the summer festival at Weybridge, and that the next anmual meeting should be held at Guildford.
A motion, propesed by Mr. ©. Denyer (Farnham District secretary), that members of the district cammittees may apply for their expenses when atterding conmitice mectings was carried.
Tho hon. secretary said lie had recoived a letter from the ticar of Camberley asking tho Guild to give a grant towards the cost of the restoration of the Yarktown bells. The cost of the restoration whald be not less than E360.
The Master reported that the bells were being tehurg in an new iron frame, and the worle was being nndertaken uy Messis, Tuyors, of Lourghorougin. The bells at Sinalford were also to be reenst, augracted to eight and lang on an iron frame by Messys. Taydors, bells by Messis. Mears and Stainbank wanld begin in tlie middle of next montlt.

On the proposition of Mr. A. F. Pulling, it was decided lo send a subscription of two gumeas to Yorktown. Mr . Grover asked what the Gild had contributed to the rye Memorial. -The hon. secretary replied that so far $£ 1$ 12s. had been collected. It was decided to make the amomm nip to 828.

A LITTLE-KNOWN BELL FOUNDRY.

THE CHANDLERS OF DRAYTON PARSEOW

Ons Saturday, April 4 th a meeting of 25 vingers in the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild celebrated an occasion which was worthy of greater attention than is sometimes given to men of the past, who practised a trade of art and skill under many difficulties. There seem also at diferent times to have been some very haid circumstances which hed to be overcome, and we in our time are benefited by the determination and skill of a family whose nawe is not publicly recorded. Except for one gravestone in the churchyard of bieit mative village, and for the notes of careful research made by historians of campanology, and the name ambossed on many bells, "Chandicr,' of Drayton Parslow, is mentioned with small measure of pithise which the famxy deserved. Many of its bells are richly sounding of music.
In $1 \cos _{3}$ Richard Chandler, who had acgured the trade of bellfonucling with the firm of Atton in Buckingham Town, retumed to his native village of Drayton Parslow, where he began bell-fonding in connection with the smithy which he had inherited from his fatifer. He cast six beils in the four years before lis death at the age of 57 years; his son, Anthony, took up his faibor's trade in 1650 , and in 12 years cast 29 bells; his second son, Richard, followed and east 40 belis in 10 years. Richard, the son of Authony, cast 21 hells in six years; and after him hits brother, George, with others of the fnmily cast 80 bells in 39 years. Another brother, Thomas, succecded George as liead of the 'firm" for three years. The last bell bearing the mane Ghandler is dated 1726, is which year Tdward Hall, who had married a gratdalaghter of the first founder in this family and had alcoady for some years heen one of the firm, took it over in his own name. for some years heen one of hells, but for two perions, of three ind five years respectively, lie cast no belis; from a note of the Recter' in the vegister it may be judged that he met with liard times. His son, Willinm Hati, cast the last bell of this foundry in 1756, itfer which this business was ' doulbtless killed by the competition of the great London foundries."
Jutil Noveraber, 1935, thero were three bells on]y in Drayton Parslow tower. The Sance, in addition, was the single one from the local foundry. Now Messis. Taylor and Co., of Loughhorongl, have made up an excellent light ring of six. At the dedication a tonch of Stedman Douthes was rung, such as the Chander's would have often henrd at the first ringing of their own bells.
The company on April 4th, most of whom came from luolfries in the district, were pleased at hearing somo of this history recounted. Even some of tha local ringers were surprised to hear that Drayton Parslow han takeu such a great part in the ringing world. The heils wore humg in six comnties. Buchs, Herts, Beds, Northants, Osford, Cambriege; and two bells in cloncestershire wele no doubt cast by this family. 'The rillago cansists of littla more than two streets, built on the slope of a bill, funing down from the church and roctory, which gtand on the edge of the higher ground at the south-west alm extrenaity. About the middle of the village is a small smithy, having for its next neighbour the Three Horse Shoes, a hostelry of the humhlest description, built soon after 1850. At the back of these tenements is a bit of gavden gronnd and a paddock, the surface muchs brelacin by oft foumdalions, which mark the site of the former foundry, workerl, together, with the smithy, by several menerations of the Clyandler family, ( $A$. T. Cox: 'Tho Church Bells of Buckinghanshive.'
Ounted also by $A$ H Cox.
Quated also by A. H. Cox:' Rev. T. A. Tumer, in a prper publishod in the Fhecords of Biteks, 1872 , page 125 , " Bellfaundyies jut lic Connty of Taclainglam," says : "One, John Brldwin, a hedrinklep village worlis, tetls me that he, in carly life, succeeded one wiilian Hall probably a mrandeon of Edward Hall, rbove, in the village smitily butsiness, which at thot time was, and still is, carrich on on the site of the old hall fonfory, Baldwin hens testimony, moveover, to having fonnd, whilst digging clay, ete, in the paddock and graden, sundry bits of bell-metn! (not proserved). also to having naken over with the business sundry melal eastings, also small metal ant other moulds (not preserved), and an quantity of sand, all of which Wilinm Hall said lis gramafather usod in the bell formdity bisiness,

The sito of the fondry is now a green bank, at the end of a gavien. A privata house and shop stand on the site of the smithy. Ong visitor, on asking was kindly allowed by the present owner to stand on the site of the fonndry.
And so April $4 t h, 1936$, was the date of the first mepting of ringers in Draytna Parslow, a village which gave much in the history of bells for 220 years, $1635-1756$.
At the instigntion of the present Rector, the rehanging anr? addition of four bells was madertaken, and nater his encouragement the local company is learning the nort of clanger ringing, assisted with instruetion fron the Oxford Diocesan Guild in the North Broke Branch. Here it should be said that among the ringers of this district nute several whose ancestors' names are recorded in their church reaisters as ringers during all the time that the 'Chardler' family were founding bells in Drayton Pirslaw.

The ringers reneived hospitality in the Rectory, and many senes of the past were conjured up in inagination-the Parson tenching tho Chandler chilecm their Catechism in the very roon where we werc, for that part of the Rectory was lyuilt about 1680.
John Lorl, D.D., Whe Rector in 1755, regretted thet the local foundry Lat demayed. The present Rector holds a lively intercsl in the belfry, nnd in the future we shall hope to hear of Drayton Payslow change ringers as famous as their foundry of the past.

THE COMING COUNCIL MEETING.

The Central Council is accorded a distinct honour in being allowed to use the Counci! Chamber of the historic Guildhall for its meeting on Whitsun Tuesday. Very few outside bodies, whose affairs have no official connection with the City of London, are given this privilege, which follows meetings at other such historic places as the Jerusalem Chamber at Westminster Abbey, Lambeth Palace, the Mansion House and Skinners' Hall.
The first meeting of a newly constituted Council always produces a long agenda, and this is again the case for the forthcoming meeting in London. The routine work at this first meeting of the triennial period is added to by the efection of officials and committees, and although the present secretary has done much to save the time of the Council by circulating reports beforehand, it is seldom now that the reports and the accompanying elections are all disposed of until well after lunch. The result is that the subsequent general business has sometimes to be concluded hurriedly and in a dwindling assembly. The Council should welcome, therefore, the proposal that in future the meetings should, where possible, begin earlier in the morning. As we pointed out not long ago, the main obstacle to this change is not so serious as it would have been a few years ago, when the Standing Conmittee did not meet until little more than an hour before the Council. Now that practice has shown that it is possible for the committee to meet and conduct its business with less hurry on the previous evening, an earlier meeting of the full body ought to be possible, with the consequent relaxation of the pressure at the end of a long day.
The Council is fortunate in its president and hon. secretary, and they will be re-elected for another term of office on Whitsun Tuesday, but the Council have to find a new librarian to fill the vacancy caused by the tragic death of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake. Probably the Standing Committee will have a name to put forward, for this is a post that cannot very well be filled on the spur of the moment. There are men weil fitted for the position who would be prepared to give the necessary time, but the number of these who have the storage accommodation available for the library and stock of publications is probably very few. Whoever fills the office of librarian renders a valuable service to the Council and the Exercise, but the filling of the vacancy on this occasion will be accompanied by a sense of sorrow.
There are no fewer than eight committees to be elected, but with one exception, there is unlikely to be any desire for change. The committees are selected for the special aptitude or liking which their members have for the kind (Continued on prge 302.)

[^16]of work undertaken, and as there is no limit to the membership, of competition for places on these committees there is, of course, none. The one exception to which we have referred is the Standing Committee, which under the rules is limited to twelve elected members with the officials and the conveners of committees ex-officio. Here the constitution of the committee may be called into question. We know in some quarters there is a leeling that there should be a greater proportion of representative members, that is, those elected by the affiliated societies. At present about half the number are hon. members of the Council. It should, however, be pointed out that the members of this committee are not elected because they represent this or that section of the Conncil. They are elected from the Council as a whole for their capacity to manage its general affairs and to act for it in between meetings. The members of the committee not only include some of the 'elder statesmen' of the Council, but men of considerable business capacity and knowledge of ringing affairs, but it is, of course, open to the Council to elect whom they please. Hitherto the Council can be presumed to have elected the men considered best fitted for the job.

ANOTHER DEVON RING RESTORED.

MALBOROUGH BRLLS TUNED AND REHUNG.

On Thursday evening, April 30th, a well-atfended service, conducled by the Vicar (the Rev. H. S. Arrowsmith), at the interesting and picturesque Church of All Saints', Malborough, near Kingsbridge, in South Devon, marlked the consummation of the parishioners' efforts to restore the six bells.
The Ficar has had previous experience in the matter of restoring bells elsewhere, and the response to his appeal resulted jn the necessary funds being forthcoming within wo montlis from the time of his laying the matter before the Parochial Chureh Gouncil.
The Rev. E. F. Cox, president of the Devonshise Guild of Ringers, was due to rededicato the bells and to preach, and it was, therefore, a cause of considerable disappointment to all concerwed that Mr. Cox was prevented by illness from attending.

The Raral Dean, the Rev. G. Povter, Ficar of Kingsbrige, had kindly undertaken to talke over the president's duties, and was specially fitted to perform the ceremony, for his own bells at Kingsbridge ware restored sone twelve montlis age. In bis sermen the Rural Dean spoke of the monks who were reputed to have cast the first bells in this country and to have taught the craft to laymer more than 1,200 years ago.
The dedicatory rounds were rung by the local band, composed of Messra. E. Jarvis, jun. 1, A. Yeoman 2, F. Jarvis, sen, 3, R. Stone 4, J. Edmunds 5, and F. Prowse 6; and after the service the bells were kept going till 9.30 p .m. ly visiting bands from East Portlemoutin, Aveton Giford, Galmpton, Buckfastleigh and Newton Abbot.

The bells are a ring of six with an 11 cwt. tenor. They have been rehung with new fittings in a massive two-tier frame of iron castings on steel girders, and No. 2 bell has been tecast.
The bells have been accuratoly tuned, and the improvement brought about called forth many complimentary conments amongst parishioners and visitors.
The work has been ably arried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johaston, of Choydon, and now another ring of bells in South Devon is in firstclass ringing order.
Mr. Cyril folmston was present fo represent the bellfonnurs, and the bellhanger responsible for the election of the bells, Mr. F. Collins, took part in the ringing.

SUFFOLK GULLD.

AN ASSISPANT SECRETARY APPOLNTED.
At the annual noeting of the Sulfolk Guild, held at the Co-operative Eall, Ipswich, on April 18 th , over 70 members sat down to tea. After tean the president, the Bishop of Dunwich, weleomed the largest meeting of Suffolk ringers that had ever been held.
The accounts showed e balance in hand of s33, out of which a double report would have to be paid for, 95 it had been found better to issue the report in the first half of the year, instead of the latter part as heretofore.
The officers were all re-elected, but 解, M. Making, of Sproughton, was elected as assistant secetany in order that he might take ovar the duties, us the Rev, H. Drake gave them up.
It was decided to hold the next meeting at Palgrave, and the next annuel meeting at Bury St. Edmunds, if it conld be arranged.
The committen was asked to choose a ceputation to see what could be done to abate the nuisance of noisy towers. It was pointed out that this could be done nowadays much more cheaply aud eftectively than in the past, owing to the researches of the B.B.C.
It was agreed that the B.B.C. be thanked for the better broadcasts of change ringing that have lately taken place.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

CHERTSEY DISPRTCI TO HAWE A SUMMER OUTING
A mreeting of the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on Saturday at Ottershaw, a six-bell tower, beantifully situated, attracted nearly 30 ringers, and some excellent piactice was put in. The Vicar conducted the service and gave an juspiring eddress. He also presided at the tea and meeting which followod, when two new members from OttersGaw (Messrs. T. Hawkins and W. Horn) were elected, and it was decided to appoint an assistant ringing inaster for the district, as the present Master (Mr. H. J. Chaffey) finds it clificult to attend some of the meetings, owing to business ties. Mr. W. Simmonds, of Hersham, undertook the duties.

It was decided to institute combined practices once a month, in alternate months at Ottershaw, in the other months at eight-bell towers.
Fotes of thanks to the Vicar and the organist were accovded.
Subsequenbly, the District Committee met and dvew up plans for a combined summer outing, which it was decided shonld tako place on a Saturday afternoon and evening in July, when it is hoped to visit towers in the Thames Valley. Detnils will be announced later, but the oxcuraion will be open to any ringers and their friends to join.
A collection at the service for the Guild Benevolent Fuad amounted to 6 s Sd.

A LONDON PEAL RESTORED.

BARRON BETL TRUST BEATHS COST.
The peal of eight bells at the Ghurch of St. George the Martyr, Southwark, was reopeued during evensong on Sunday, April 26th. The bells hed been retuned aud rehung on ball bearings by Messres Taylor and Co. at the cost of the Barron Bell Trust. After the second lesson had been read by one of the curates, the Rector (the Rev. Emest Cook) offered several appropriate praycrs in rededicating the bells, and prayers for all those who heard the bells, whether from siek beds or as pasecrs-by, aud those whose duty it was to ring them.

The opening touch was ruug by a band of the Metropolitan Police Guild, under the conductorship of Chief Inspector William Bottrill, the Guild Master. It was regrotied that Mr. F. Hopkins, the senior trastee of the Barron Bell Trust, could not attend. An apology for his absence was given by Mr. E. Denison Kaylor, who, with Mr. Jokn Fidler, represented the bellfounders. The Loughborough firm is to be congratalated an the work they have carried out on the bells. The "go' laves nothing to be desired, and the tone of the peal has been greatly improved by their retuning.

The bells were kept, gaing after the service until about 9 p.m.. when all ringers present, who included a number of visitors, besides menbers of the Metropolitan Police Guild, had an opportunity of ringing-

The bellis form one of the very few complete rings of eiglat cast ly Abraham Rudhall, the well-known Gloncester founder in 1718, ansl ha regular use at the present timo:-

Treble.-AA.R. 1718.' $4 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.
Second.-' Peace and good ueifhbourhood.' 5 cwt.
Third,-'Prosperity to all our benefactors.' $5 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.
Fourth.- 'God preserve this churcl.' Gf cwt.
Fifth.- Prosperity to the place.' 7\% cwt.
Sixth.-" Mr. William Budger, churchwarden." $8 \frac{1}{4} \mathrm{cwt}$.
Seventh.-'A. Rudhall, Gloucester Bell Foundry, 1718.' 103 ewl.
Tenor, - The living I to church do call, and to the grave, I summon all.' 14 cmt in F .
The reopening of the bells coincided with the bicentenary of the present church. (The bells are older than the present charch, and were rehung in this tower after the old building was pulled down in 1734.) The present church was opened in 1736, and to Dickensians is known as 'Eittle Dornit's Churct.'

A peal of Kent Treble Bob Major by members of the Metropolitan and National Police Guilds was rung to celebrate the bicentenary, and will be found in the peal colnmms.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnstun are about to dismantle the ring of six at Balcombe Church, Sussex, preparatory to rehanging them and adding two frebles to complete a ring of eight.
The names of some of the ringers in the peal of Double Norwich at Milton-next-Gravesend on April 15th were piven in the wrong order in the reporte sent to us. They should heve been Stanley Shellock 3, Harry Hoskins 4, James Bennets 5
The riug of six bells of Southill Church, Beds, is to be tuned and relnung by John 'raylar and Co., Lougliborough.
The ringers of St. Laurence's, Reading, would like to thank atl those who sent congratulatory letters and postcards to Mr. R. T. Hibbert on the broadcast stedman Chnues on Sunday, April 26th. They assure their fellow-ringers that they always try to give their very best for service ringiug.
The now ring of eight bells for Fairwarp, Sussex, are waitivg for the completion of the tower: Visitors to the Oroydon Foulldry last Friday saw them, complete in their frame, in the erecting shop.
The ringer of the 5 th in the peal at Worgley, the report of which was publighed in our last issue, was John Potter.

During the Australian tour a very interesting letter was delivered to me at Sydney from Mr. Heuden, which I hope the Editor of 'The Ringing World, will find room to publish in the near future. His certificate as an old Collesian is numbered 2,394, and I believe he is still in the lend of the living. Mr. Knight, at the time of his death, was probably the oldest member of any London society. Affer joining the Royal Cumberland Society in 1866, he also joined the St. James' Society on February 20th, 1867-a double record.

A NEW SPLICED PEAL.

FOUR METHODS IN SEVEN-LEAD COURSES.
A new spliced peal arransement was rung at Old Windsor last week. It is made 119 of the four methods l'aingwick, Yorkshire, Superlative and Cambridge, and provides a peal with seven-lend course, with a clange of method at every lead oxcopt at the courso cud. It was arranged by Mr. A. G. Drrer, and has the advantage of being true to any peal of Superlative. Tho composition used on this accasion was Emest Pye's 5,152. It involved 138 changes of method.

Mr. Alan Pink and his band wilj be congratulated upon their success, especially as the peal was rung without previous practice, and it was the first peal in four Surprise methods by six of the band.
The courses are rumg: Painswick, Yorkshire, Superlative, Gambridge, Superlative, Yorkshire, Painswick.

SPLICED SURPRISE IN MIDDLESEX.

Dear Sir,-Really, Mr. James Hunt should be careful. He describes $m y$ resolutions on splicing as 'ridiculous,' and states that I condemned all peals of Spliced Kent and Oxford Treble Bob except two. It is nows to me that the resolntions condemn any peals, but if they do, Mr. Hunt's amendment does not help. I am not aware that any peals of Spliced Kent and Oxford 'ryeble Bob, containing full courses of either method, have yet been rung, and, therefore, Mr. Hunt's amendment condemis them all, without ang exceptions
Mr. Hunt should try to realiss what the effect of his own proposals Would be, before he uses such wards as 'ridiculous' about other people's. It may be of interest to him to know that when those resolutions were being framed, with the object of defining spliced peals, and not of making such meals an impossibility, I sought and obtained the assistance of several of the recogaised best men in the Fixeroise. hoth on and off the Council. To describe the work of such men as ridiculons is, well-it is ridiculous!
C. T. GOLES.

A 720 WANTED
Sir,-I should be very pleased if Mr. C. T. Coles would kindly oblige me by publishing a 720 of Kent and Oxford Minor by changing methed at the lead-end, as I am very anxions to call one and ring one
'ONE WHIO WANTS TO LEARN.'

MUFFLED BELLS.

On Monday evening, April 20th, at Christ Clurcli, Alsager, 1,512 of Grandsire Triples (portion of Reeves variation of Holt's Tell-part) was rung with the clappers half-mufled as a token of respect for the late Mr. Samuel Jepson, verger and sexton of the church: E. Peake 1, D. Ti. Whalley (conductor) 2, H. Dixon 3, E. Harper 4, T. Cartwright 5, B. Ferneyhough 6, F. Moseley 7, R. Moseley 8.
At Burbage, Leicestershire, on Tuesday, $\Delta$ pril 28th, a quarter-pond of Grandsire Triples: F. K. Measures (conductor) 1, J. E. Clongh 2 , W. J. Clough 3, A. Ballard 4, G. Dudley 5, W. A. Wood 6, W. Cope 7, E. Rivett 8. Rung with the bells half-mufled as a token of respeet for the late Rev. John Sinker, Provost of Blackburn Cathedral.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR.

MORE EXTRACIS FROM READERS' LETTERS.

Our readers who lave supported 'The Ringing World' from its first number to the present day lave so overwhelmed us with their kiudly messagos of congratulation and encouragement that it is impossible to publish fren the many lettets we have received all the extracts which we would have liked to print. We must, therefore, conterat ourselves with just a few.
"I lave read every page of "The Ringing Would " since the first of the first issue, but I do mot consider I deserve any honour for doing so; rather the honour is his who has provided all these readable pages! This is the kindly appreciation of our services which the Rev. H. Drake has eent us.
"I have read "The Ringing World" from the first issme and look forward to it every Fridey morning with the same interest to day as I did to the first number." Thus that former famous Lancashire stalwatt, Fitry Chapnian. "I started taking "The Bell News" in 1884 and have uever missed a rimging paper a week since. Without it I thould feol loft, he adds.
And writing of long continued aupport of ringing papers, Mr. T. E. Slater's letter is extremely interesting and his fumily's record can, we think, liardly be excelled. "The late siamuel Slater," he sajs. took the first copy, dated January 1st, 1871, of "Church Bells," and took that paper until "Bell News" started is 1881. There bas been a paper devoted to change ringing coming to this house every week, therefore, since the first week in January, 1871, and cvon before that Camuel Slater took "Bcll's Life," which was 4dd. a week, I believa. I and my father hare taken over a thougand copies each of two ringing phpers, "Bell News" and "The Ringing World," and hope to be able to tale another thousand copies.'
We are not sure that we ought to give awby this little domestic sidelithti, but perhaps we may be forgiven. Mr-. J. Pagett, of Derby, says he has taken every copy of the papers issued appertaining to ringing since 1887. "Tho Ringing World. reaches him divect through the nost overy Fridny, and he adde, It is usually put before me with the following remark: "Here's your favourite paper. There'll be no shifting gon now till you liave waded twough it.,
-I have taken every copy of the paper from the commencement, nnd althongh I have travelled in many foreirn climes shace the papar first appeared, $I$ have never missed a number, even wher $I$ have been abrond months on end,' writen Mr. Cameillor Paddon Smith, of Bimanglam. "I have teken many opportunties of congratulating jou on four front page articles, which are such a wonderful feature mod are alone easily worth the price of the paper. It is remarkable to think that except for a very brief period (and thank goodness it was bricf), every one of these articles has come from your owis pen, and I trust you will never arain get so far away from your desk that thín exparience will have to be repeated.

The Ringing World " is greatly looked forward to in our home. We all enjoy reading it,' Writes Mr. Arthur Harding, of South Ealing, who has been a reader from the first copy.

Mr. Fenry Fergusen, of Scarborongl, has subscribed to the ringing papers since the early eighties, and so has Mr. T. W. Chapman, of Nunenton.
Fere is a further list of others who have been supporters of "The Tinging World, from the first Eumber:-

Mr. J. Aviss, Benhail, Suffolk
Mr. A. T. Baker, Ilkestan, Derbyshire.

THE NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Leek on Saturday, May 2nd, when 42 members and friends sat down to tea. They came from Biddulph, Burton-on-Trent, Burslem, Cheadle, Dhaycott. Derby Cntherlral, Kingsley, Kidsgrove, Lawton, Longton, Norton, Newcastle, Uttoxeter, Sheffeld Gathedra, Stoke-on-Trent, Tunstall and Leek.
The Vicar of Leek (the Rea. K. W. Milward) Was preseut, and extended a very warm welcome to all present. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar and ringers for the use of tho bells, and to the ladies for the excellent tea they prepared.

The bells wore rung in various methode during the day, and it was interesting to see Mr. J. Papett, of Derby, ring the treble and second to courses of Grandsine Triples and Caters.

THE WILLIAM PYE MEMORIAL

BEJLS OAST AT GROYDON FOUNDRY.
The William Pye Memorial at Leytonstone Church will be dedicated on Saturday, May 30 th, and it is expected that the cerematiy, which will be performed by the Bishop of Barking, will bo attended by a large and representative gathening of ringers, as the event takes place during the visit of the Central Council to London.
The memorial consists of the adrlition of two treble bells to the existing ring of six at St. Jolm's Clureh, and o commemorativo iablet to be erected in the chureh porch.
The bell work is being carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnstam, and the two memorial bells were cast at the Oroydon Foundry last Friday in the presence of a small gathering of interested picople, among them Mrs. William Pye, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pye nid Mr. G. R. Pye, the hon. secretaries of the Momorial Fund (IIr. C. ". Coles and Mr. E. J. Butler), Mrs. Coles, Mr. J. A. The visitors were received by Mr. gnd Mys. C. F. Johaston, by whom they were afterwards eztertained to tea.

SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT DUNDEE

The Scottish Association began their procedings at Dundep on the occasion of the annual meeting on April 25tlt by riuking for a bride as she left St. Paul's Cathedral after her wedding. The ringerg were surprised, on caming down from the tower for the scruice in the Cathedral, to discover a large crowd gathered round the Cathedral waiting for the bride, who had left an hour previously! The misumderstanding was easy. People who had arrived in town late, hearing the bells and kaowing of the wedding, had hurried to the Cathedral to see the couple leave. Of course, when the cruwd, now disappointed, leamied the trith, it soon disappeared.
The service was taken at wery short notice by the Rew. D. Hemming, owing to the illness of the Provost. Mr. Heruming apologised for not having had time to prepare for the service. He welcomed the ringors to Dondee and said is fow words regarding ringing as a ohurch work which was heard by everybody over a harge area.
The ringers were entertained to tea lay the SE. Paul's Cathedral ringerg at the D.P.M. Cafe, A move was then made to the Old Stecple ringing room, where the business meeling, presided over by Mr. W. B. Sampson, wes lreld. As only routine business was on the rgeudn, this was soon disposed of and the steeple bels were rung to Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major under the charge of Mr. W. Heathcote, who deputised for the Master, Mr. W. H. Pickett, who was tinable to be present owing to pressure of busincss.
After the liells liad been lowered, the cluming apparatus was hooked up end one of the young St. Mary's Cathedral ringers entertnined the: people in the vicibity to excerpts from grand opera.
Only three association towers wore represented at the mecting ant some of the steeple ringers also attonded.

NIVETEEN TOWERS REPRESENTFI' AT NORPHERN MEETINA.
An enjoyable meeting of the Norlhern District of tho Fssex Association took place at Felsterd on Shaturday week, when the foflowing towers were represented: Felstead, Greenstead Grem, Farls Colne, Halstead, Dunmow, Great Bardfietd, Pebarareh, Mind don, Great. Bentley, Sudbury, Braintree, Boeking, Wickham St. Paul's, frreat Tep, Broomfeld, Littile Walthañ, Ford End, Newmarlet and CheImsford Service at the Parish Church was choral and was conducted by the Vienr (the Rev. B. C. Pownell). After the service ath cxcellent tea was partakerl of in the Britisli Lerion Hall, the arrangements for this having been corried out by Mr. W. T. Fitrow, who was assisted by severali lady helpers. The Vicar presided and 42 sat down to wea. A busimess meeting followed, the District Master, Mr. A. A Sannders being in the chair. Mrs. Mansfield, Mr. R. F. Wison, Mr. S. Livermore (Telstend), Mr. R. Portway (Dummow) and Miss Le Bean (Bocking) were elected members of the association.-Tt was decided to hold the next meeting at Wethersfield on June 20th.
On the proposition of Mr. H. E. Hnmmond, hearty thanks werr accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his inspining address and for presiding at the tea. Thanks wera also accorded the choir, organist and other helpers.
'The Viear, in reply said it was their first menting in the parigh gince he becnme ticar, and it was a great pleasure to him. In four years time the chureh would celebrate its 800 th amivergary, and he hoped the ringers would visit them on that occasion.
Thanks were passed to Mr. Farran for arranging the tea, to the lady helpers and to Capt. S. F. Mansfield for the use of the hall.
Fandhell ringing was indulged in, the methods being Grandiare Triples and Grandsire Gaters. The ringers subsequently returaed to the tower and renewed ringing, the following methons theing ring : Bob Minor, Bob Major, Donble Norwich Cobrt, Oxforl Trelle Bob, Cambridge Surprise, Superlative Surprise and London Surprise.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MR. C. 'T. COLTS' 25 YRARS' SERVICE

Tho annual general meeting of the Middesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was leld at Eiding on Saturday, April 25 th. Two of the Ealing towert were open for ringing as well as tha ring of six at Brentford. It is momoured that some of the visitors to tho latte: wore lost in the foothal! crowds and eventially found themselves in Griffin Park! It was no easy task getting clear, anylow Tho mothols rimg during the day covered a wide field, from the simplest to the most intricate-a familiar feature of Middlesex meetings.

Eversong was held in St. Mury's Church, conducted by the Rew. Goodelidel, curate, in the absence of the Vicar, who was on looliday. Tho prosident, the Rev. W. P. Cole Sbeane, Vicar and Rurnl Dean of Twickenham, assisted, while the lesson was read by the vicepresident, Mr. J. A. Trollope. At the conclusion of tie last hymn, a perfect course of Grantsire Triples was rung on liandbells by W. G. Wilson 1-2, J. Thomes 3-4, E. C. S. Tumer 5-6, and G. W. Fletcher $7-8$, tho riugers gtanding at the foot of the chancel steps.
Tho Rev. W. I'aton, Vicar of St. Lawrence's, Brentiord, pave an excellent ddcuress. Basing his remarks on Paahm 18 v. 18 , in the revised version, 'The Frod was my etay," he refer'ed to the furtions of the stay familiar to ringers. How it was nsed when the bell was at rest. How, if it was brokon, a noisy jangle followed. It helped to keep things right and so avoid chatos. Plo text as applied to Churatian lives was singularly Rpposice in its meanings.
Continuing, tho proclice referred to the difficulties of keeping up the strempth of a hand of ringers. Fie feared that bellimging called for sacrifices which many morlern young men were not prepared to make. Au instruetru's task was a hard one. Brt he would say this: If the job was worth daing it was worth dang well. Difficulties sometimes axisted in the relations hetween tho Vienr and the ringers. In all church Fife there abusb exish a touch of Christian charitableness. A little love and fricndliness between ringers and dexgy would go a long way in keeping them together. Ho appealed to all bis hearers to show the love of Ghristian brethren in their lives. When they reacled the end of lifa they would find the Lord was their stay.
Tor was scrved in the Good Shepherd Hall, about 70 pergons sitting down.

HON. SEGRETARY THANKED

The president book the chair at the subsequent meeting, supported by the principal oficers of the association.
Mr. Tmilape (vico-president) reminded the meeting that Mr. C. T. Coles, one of the two joint han. secretaries, completed last antrimn 25 years' failiful service in that office. On behali of members, Mr, Trollope offered hearty congratulations and thanke to Mr. Coles in tha following motion : "The Middesex County Asseciation and Landon Diocesan Guild offers its warmest congratilations and thanks to Charles IMromas Coles on completion of 25 years' service as fon. gecretary, and expresses lite hope that he mav have before lim many more yonrs of success in minging and wsefulness to this association and to tho whalo Excreise. Mr. G. W. Wetcher (vice-president), in seconding said lo hoped wembers would make Mr. Coles' next 25 yerrs easier thay the lnst!
The motion was passed with much enthusiasm, nnal when Mr. Coles replion he was received with applause. He said 25 verrs whs a long time to lonk forward, bub on looking backwnrd to did not appear so long. Fe refmrod ta some of the problems that he liad had to deal with durlige that perion, and said he found ringerg reasouabie people to deal with generally. When he tools office in 1910 there were 620 mombers Now there were 876 . In conclusion, Mr. Coles reminded memhers tiont. the associntion did not exist solely for their plensure. They mart put, something into it for it to progress.
Mr. Coles peforred to the denth of Roberlt K. Knight a few weeks agro. Born in 1844. Mr. Knisht joined the associntion on its formation in 1897. Mombers stood in silence as a matk of respect to his memory
The atmual weport, which was adopted, opened with a reference to the ringing for the Silver Juluflee of King Gearge $\overline{\text { V }}$. as the dhef event of 1935, and to the part played again lyy the bells, in expressing the feelings of the people, whm early this year they mourned the passing of the Sovercign. Procecting, the report said:-

of his generation, perlhaps tha grantest of pye, the greatost ringer of honths gelluess, during which our hopes ebbed and fowed, he died on March 8ths, nt tho age of 64 . It was in December, 1898, that William Pye joined Utis association, and his groat nabilities guickly brought hifn to the front, ratk. Two years later be headed the list of peal conduators, th position whids he necupied almost every succecting year. In 1910 he was clected Master oi the associntion, wheh oflime he held until his death. His inthence on ringing both in this association and elsewhere, cumot he estimated. Numbers of ringers owe to hin their first penle, or their first peals in the higher methods, in the conducting of whinh ho was an oxpert. Indeed, it has been said of William Pyo diat the harder the method, the ensier he made it, and thas it was a plensume to him to nssist his weaker brethreu in rimgiag the more difficult methods.

We desire to place on record our admiration for this great ringer, who, with all his ability, was a fine example of modesty. Never a boast fell from his lips, and it was difficult even to get him to discuss lis own great achievernents. It is fitting that a permanent memorial to this man should be erected, and a movement is on foot to place two additional bella in the tower of St. John's Church, Leytonstone, to his memory. This project is receiving support from the Essex Associa tion in particular, and from most of the other riuging organisations throughout the country, so that it can truly be described as a national memorial.'
Dealing with the worls of the year, the report said that three honorary and 56 ringing members were elected. Nine members were lost by death, and a considerablo mumer of lapses of membership have to be recorded. Our present total of members is 876 , a few in excess of last year:
The peal list slowed a very large decrease on tho post-war record attained in 1934, only 45 peals, including one on handbells, having been rung lagt year. It was noticenble, however, that the towers in which peals were rung, 28 in number, were only two less than in 1934, and that nearly the whole of the decrease in peals was due to many fewer being rung at one tower alone.
An analysis of the peals showed that 152 members look pard in them, and bibat 14 rang their first peals. The latter figure was most gratifying. Thexe were 19 conductors, whilst 49 members rang Lheir first peals in a new method, including three of London, four of Spliced Surprise in four methods, five of Spliced Surprise ir six methods, wwo of Cambridge Royal and two of Stedman Ginques. The most notable performance of the year was the peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods rung ab "St. Paulinus", Crayford, by a band whose ages ayeraged only 22 years. This peal was composed and conducted by Mr. E. O. S. Turmer, who Iater called the same copposition to a peal in six methods at St. Andrew's, Hillingdon. A peal of Belvedere Surpriae Major was rung for the first time at Str, Mary's, Steines, conducted by Mr. A. R. Pink. Peals rung entively by lacal bands included Cambridge Surprise Major at Willesden; Grandsire and Pliin Bab Doubles ati Sumbury; Superlative Surprise Major at Witlesden. Kent Treble Bob Major at Heston; and Grandsire Triples at Edmontan.

DEVOTETY LABODRS

In October, continued the repart, Mr. C. T. Coles completed 25 wears continuous service as hon. secretary of the North and Jeast District and joint. secretary of the association. It is hardly necessary to say how much we owe to his able and devoted labours-that is surely known to every one of our mombers-yet there is a canger that we may take his work too mneh for granted and perhaps some of us mey only realise lis worth when the timo cames for him to hand his task over to another and pounger man. May that day be long delayed! Mr. Coles has not only served our association, but he has taken an increasingly prominent and influential part in the life af the Exercise at large, and he is one of the most respected members of the Central Council. We have also to thank Mr. Fred Goodfellow, to whom the success and well-being of the South and West District is mainly due. Lef us all resolve to show our gratitude by giving tho secretaries cur utmost support at meetings, and by the prompte payment of subseriptions.
The financial statement revealed a balance of $£ 23 \mathrm{l} 12 \mathrm{~s}$. 7d. This meant a loss ont the year of just over $£ 2$, chiefy due to the cose of a arger anmual report.
Mr. T. Miller, of St. Mary's, Faling, was elected a ringing member. All of the officers were re-elected. They are: President, the Rev. W. P. Cole Shenme. Ficar and Ruma Dean of Twickentham; wicepresidents, Messis. G. W. Fretehor and J. A. Trollope; Master, Mr. A. W. Coles; hon. treaburer, Mr. W. I. Hollter; joht lion. secretaries, Messre. O. T. Coles and F. W. Goodfellow. Mr. E. O. S. Turme1 was slected auditor, messrs, C. T. Coles, G. W. Frietcher and W. H. Hollier were re-elected Central Council represenlatives, while Mr. W. G. Wilson wns elected to fill the vacant place caused by the retirement of Mr. Pickworth.
Tho Willian Pye memorial scheme was alealt, with in detail by Mr. Coles. He gave the history of the scheme irp to cate, including the date of the casting of the hells, and said that they would be opened on May 30th. He thought the money would come in and added that over thirty associatiuns and guilds had so far contributed. He Whealed to all members to make an effort to get to Leytonstone on mernory they were endesvonring to perpetuate.

BELLS OF ALL HALLOWS, LOMBARD STREET

Moved by Mr. W. G. Wilson, the following resolution was carried after an short discussion: " That the association expresses the hope that in the event of the Church of All Hallows, Lombard Street, City, being demolished, steps will be taken to retain as an entidy the ring of ten bells at present in the tower and to finstal the bells in some other suitable tower, and that the hon. secretary bo authorised to forward a copy of this resolution to the appropriate authorities and when the demolition of the chureh becomes imminent.
Mr. Trollope referred to the silver julbilee of "The Ringing World." He offered the Editor sincere congrathlations and thanks. Fhe realled the short periond when le was Fditor in the absence of Mr. Goldsmith on the Australian tonir. A great many people appeared lo buy the (Continued at foot of next column.)

"FATHER" OF THE TOWER.

MR. WILLIAM WLT&ON'S LONG SERVICES COMMEMORATED Iu the rear 1902, a peal of eight bells for commemorate the reign of Queen Victoria was placed in the tow of the Chureh of St. John the Divime, Leicester, and Mr. William Willson troble them to his heart. Since that date he his clambered and climbed about the ginders with an oil can and has stood below and rung in many peals; he has tauthemany youngaters the art of ringing; ind fact, he became father' to the belfry in every way. On be death of the danor of the hells, Mr, and Mrs, Willeon added two trebles to the peal in his memary. This meant move girders to megotiate.
Now in 1936, 'Father,' realising that, althougl, he really knew his way about, anno domini could not be ontirely ignored, has decided that the time lias come for someone more active to tale charge of the climbirg operations.
On Easter Sumday evening, the Vicar (Ganon H. V. Willinms), with the churcherardens, visited the belfry and expressed to Mr. Willson the appreciation everyone felt for the years spent in the care of the bells, belfry amd the ringers. He then unveiled a clock, placed in the helritr lyy all members of the company, as a tributo to Mr. Willson's 34 years as MLater and steeplekeeper. As 'Father' did not wish to talk the belfry clock home, a framed photograph of it was presented to him for that prorpose.
Of course. this does not by any means mean that "Fatlier' has finished, and cveryone hopes to see him taking his rope with the rest for many yents to come.

> The inscription on the clock mounting reads:-
> William Willson.

1902-1936.
This clock commemorates the completion of 34 years as Master anrl Stecplekecper.

ANNUAL MEETING

Leeds Pruish Clurch was once again the venue of the annual meeting of the Leeds and District Society, held on Saturday week. The hells were rung up as soon as the clock (after striking 3 p.m.) had finislied chiming out the lyyum tune set for the day food use was made of the bells until tea time, and also later, umit the busimess meeting at 7 pm . when members were present from Arivley, Batley. Calverles. Drighingtor, Burley. Felkirk, Guiseley, Hendingley (St. Chad's and St., Michnel's), Folbeck. Tdle, Tindley, Ostett, Pudsey, Rothwell, Shipley, sutton, Wakefiel and Leeds. Ringing friends attended from Rotherham. Lazaion and Cottirgham.
No opposition te the officels nominated at the last meeting was forthcoming, and the following were, therefove, declared elected: President, Mr. W. F. Senior: vice-presidents, Messrs. J. Hey, S. Barron and H. Davison: Ringing Master, Mr. J. Drake; secretary and treakurce, Mг. T. Lofthouse.
The secretary's report showed a total membership of p24, with ouly 14 members scriousty in arrears with subseriptions. Fleven ringing weetings had been beld during the year and the attendance had been gnod. The fivances of the society ware ins a very healthy condition. The Pre Memorial and the Ringers' Directory had been supported during tho vear.

The list of towers at which it is hoped to hold meetings during the coming two Yeare was referred to the committee to draw up.

The vate of thanks to the Ficar, clarchwardens and the local comman whe proposed by the president (Mr. W. F. Senior) and seconded liy Mr. A. E. West.-Mr. F. Renton yeplied for the lonal ringers.

paper solely to sce their name in it! There was nearly always half as much again material as there was roon for. The nhvious remedy was a larger paper, which the present circulation did not justify. Fe appealed for an increased circulation, not for the benefte of the ownets, but for the good of the Exercise.
Mr. Fletcher referred to the motion respecting 'The Ringing World' of the Central Conncil agenda. There ware some figures he wonld like to mention. The circulation of the paper was less than 4,000 . There were over 870 memhers in this association alone. There were 51 associations, some with 2,000 members! There was vely obrionsly room for improvement.
Tbe following resolution was earried manimonsly: "This meeting of the members of the Middlesex Cownty Association and London Diocesan Guild sincmely regrets that the very fine peal of 12,675 Stedman Cinques muny by the Ancient Society of College Yonths at Sonulhwark Gathedral on Whit Monday, 1923, has now heen fonnd to be false. -Mr. Coles, in moring the resolution, said he had never loeary better Sitedman Ginques.
It was agreed to hold the next annual meeting at St. Giles', Cripplegate.

The meebing concluded with thanks to the various clergy who assisted at the service and permitted their bells to be ming, and to Mrs. Fulwell, Mrs, Goodfellow and Mrs. Hunnisett and friende from Ealing and Hifirgaion, who propared and served a wery excellent tea.

WARWICKSHIRE GUIED TI'TLE.

ANNUAL MEETTNG DECDDRS AGATNSD CFANGE.

The twenty-ninth annual meetintr of the Warwiekshire Guild was held at Chilvers Coton, Nuncaton, on Satnuday, 4 pril 25 th, and was nttended by about fifty members and friends. Towers represented inchuded Alleslog, Nuncaton, Chilvers Coton, Bulkington, Lillington, Rugby, Mouks Kirby and stoke, while several wisitors wele weleomed from neighbouring societies.
A variety of methods wore rung on tho lifht peal of eight during the afternog. A service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rer. J. A. B. Davies, who also gave the address. The Guild's form of fervice was tused. and the hymns, 'The strife is a'er' and "The King of Love,' wera sung.
After tes the business meeting was held in the Parish Hall, the Rev. Davies (president) being in the chair, supported by tho Rev. Ganon J. L. While (a vice-presilent), Mr. J. H. W. White (Ringimg Mastar), Mr. Malcolm Melville (hon. secretary and treasirer), and Mr. A. H. Benmish (hon. auditory. Ati apolagy far absence was received from Mr. F. W. Pervens.
The statement of acouant, presented by the treasarer, was adnopted. Tho year was begun with a balance in liand of $£ 21 \mathrm{3s}$. Iod. Sulserijptions aucunted to si2 5 s. 6d. while the expenses were 518 14s. Gri., leaving a balance of $£ 1414 \mathrm{~s}$. 10 d .
The secretary's report for 1935 elowed that the membership of the Guild had shown roo change at all on the previeus pear. It stood at 281, made tip of 130 resident and 151 non-resident members; twelve new members had joined during tho year. Peals rung numbered only eight. The conducting was shaved among six members, Mir. Jack Smith, of Bedwarth, conducting lis first peal. Nine members rang their first peal, eight of these Jelonging to tha Bedworth band.
The president was re-elected, and the vice-presidents, with the addition of tho Archdencon-designate of Warmick, re-clected en blor. Tho Ringing Baster, the hon. general secretary and treasmyer and the hnn. atditor were all re-elected.
Two nominations were reccived for the position of Central Conncil representativo for the next three yeal's, and, after a show of hands, Mr. D. F. Argyle was appointed. Mr. Argylets fother whs one af the Guilds remresentatives on the Centrat Council fram 1912 undil his deat. 1 in 1931.
Meeting places for the next three meetings were decided upon as follows: May, Jrinklow: June, Old Bilton, and July, Southant.
The following new members were elected: Has. Pittham, G\% Gastu,
S. Baylis, L. Clarke. A. Ahbott, all of Monhs Eirhy, and W. Botley. DIOCLSAN P PROPOSAL DETTMTED.
That, the name of the Guild be changed to the Coventry Diocesan Guild of Chtreh Bellringers' was proposed by the hon. secratary. He pointed out the overlapping which nowe existed between the Guildis territory and that of tho St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmintham, which also covered s lavge patt of the country of Warwickshire. He also pleaded for a closer co-operation belween ringing organisations in general and church authorities, and euggested that the best way of assuring continued prosperity in the future, when large hodies might clamotur for the silencing of church bells, wonld ha by labelling themselves with an ecclesiastical rather than with a semulav title.
Mr. Pervin seconded the proposition, and suggentod thet thore was something macieal in the word "djogesan," nud that it would make the parson and people in general "sit up' when they saw it incorpornted in a title.
Canon J. L. White said that the word portrayed far lage fhan now would imasine. Tt, is thae, he said, wo want tho church anthorities to hank us up more than they ar'e doing at prosent, hint he did not think that any change in mame would assure this bnoking automatically. Eventarlly, after a lively debate, a comnter proposition, that the mame of the Guild stay as it is, was carried hy a large majority

Under the title of any other business, Mr. Percin asker whether it would be possible to arrange a few combined week-nitht practices, as it secmer alificult at present to arrange worthwhile practices approval of the meeting. and the sccretary was instructed to proceed with the arrangement of a few such practices.

Turther ringing in the majority of the standard and Surprisn methads took place after the mecting notil 9 p.m.

FOR BEGINNERS.

HHLPFUL POINTES IN OALLING THURSTANS' PEAL

Usually a conductor's first effort in calling a peal of Stedman 'Triples is "thargtalas' famous "Four-part," or' some transposition or variation of it. There is no need here to go into the hisforical side of this crmposition, although it would be interesting and instructive, but, as the peal is the one generally used, it may be of assistance to voung conductors if we indicalo soma of its characteristies from tha hob caller's standpoint.
The description of "Four-part' has been given to the peal because it congishs of four quarter-peals joined togetiner in pairs, one pair by additional boha, the cher pair by omited bobs, while the two halipeals thus formed are united by singles.
Let uy look th the quarter.nei. This is in inve parts, eacli of three courses, and cach of these five parts callod thus:-

${ }_{3-4-5-6}^{3-6} \quad{ }^{7-8} \quad 12-1.3$

or $\underset{~ x ~}{x}$
The fivo part ends of this quarter-peal are as follows ( 6 and 7 are omitted becarse they 'come home, at the ond of cach part) :-

$\frac{23145}{34251}$  45312  51423  23145

Begin your study of the peal by memorising the 'standard calling ' given athove, and these five part ends, observing the transpusition by which the latter are produced, and noticing particularly that the oycle of places into which the bells fall is 3xd's, 5th's, 4th's, 2nd's, treble's place, or Out quick, $4-5$ (up), 5-4 (down), first half turm, last whole
It is not difficult to larn the position of the 6tls at every call in the part, and this should cartainly be one of the first things the conductor shonla memorise, hecause the sixth, as we have mentioned, 'comes horac, like the 7 thi, at everg part end. For inetance, at the four-boh set in the second courge of each part the 6th is dodging in 6-7 up, witls the 5ih's place bell. At the $3-4$ in the first course and bite 5-6 in the last course the 6 th is called out quick and to make tite hols. Ah the other two pairs of holss the 6th is in the slow; tht the $7-8$ in the first canrse it is in the equivalent position of $5-6$, and nti tho $12-13$ in the second course at the equivalent position of $6-7$. Tho memorise these facts should be easy.

Fere is Hnother interesling fealine about the bob making bells. Thore are, as you will heva scen, five sets of bobs in a part. Beginumg with the $12-13$ in the secoud course, the hell that makes the first bob of this pair also mikes the first bob of the pair tt the succeeding calls at 5-6 and $3-4$ and the first and last of the luabs in the $3-4-5-6$ seb. When it has made this lost bob jt dodges with the bell that is going to take its place when the next 1213 comes along, and when it does, the bell thal laad made the first bob in all these previous sets now mokes the second bob-that at 13 . hell which we are now considering does not make the first hob the that is at the $7-8$ in the first course, but when binese bobs are called this hell is dodging in 6-7 up, as, later, he will dodge in 5-4 (down) after tho forr-boly set, with the bell which, when the $12-13$ is reached, will succeed him as the maker of the first of the pair. Thore is one othor place whore these two bells may bo observed together, and that is nt the part end itseli. The bell that is retually making tho first of the pairs of bolis is then in treble's place (doing the last whole turn) and the other bill is in $2 n d$ ds place (doing the first half turn), so that as the yopes fall for the part end you will see these two bells in front at bnels stroke.
elative positions of the part-end 5 Lh's and 3rd's place bells are also interesting and useful to note. Quite early on you can see if they ato working up correctly for these positions, far the bell which is equig tra he 5 ths phace beld at the noxt part end should make the second lona ate the four-bobset and the bell that is going to be 3rd's place hell ntithe parb end should mone the last of these four bobs, mat this last one, no you will have observed earliet, is the one that up to that time had for three connses been making the first bob of Thine, after the sels.
Then, atter tho part, end, these 5 hi and 3 ra's plece bells dodge halitid fogether, with the 5 going down and 3 going up, at the 3-4 in the first course, at the $12-13$ in the second course, and come together ugain ju the sane way in 45 at the next course ond. The Sth's place heil is alss th mude to the ealling of the $7-8$ in the first courso. Just in the sume way ats the $3-4$ comes with the 6 th ' out guick end making the bob,' so the $7-8$ is called with the 5th's place bell ' out quick and make tha hah, ATd again the 5th is a help in marking our position, for it is the bell dorging in 6-7 with the 6th nt the four-bob set and is agmin dndaring dowth at the 12-13. Moreover, its place at nll the course mads of the part may be ensily olsserved, for, in nddition to heing in 5 tha's ret the part end afterwards going up behind to the "thin it is in Sth's ggain at the frge courge end of the part, in "the's, that is, dodming in $5-4$ (down), ft tho sceond course pand and also at the pmotemel-ard the bell in 4 th's at a course-end will always

W Woolley and the Master (Mr. R. D. St. G. Smith), all of whom had written semiting their best wisbes and regrecting their inability to be present.
$A \mathrm{~s}$ guests there were the Rev. H. F. Stewart, D.D. (Dear of Trinity), Mr. R. S. Jones (Keble, Oxford), representing the University Society, of which he is Master, and Mr. W. C. Snith, representing the Cambridge Youths. Amongst athers present were the Rev. B. T. Sheppard, the Rev. R. Copeman, Mr. E. M. Atkins, the Rev. E. Bankes James, the Rev. E. W. Carpenter (Suffolk Guild), Dr. F. S. Poole, the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, Prof. L. W. Taylor and eight. undergraduate members.

After the loyal tanst by the vice-president, Mr. Blyth proposed "The Guild.' He referred to the absence through illness of the president, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey; to the kinduess and generosity of Dr. F. F. Stewart, who lends lis rooms for meetings each week; and to the tragic death of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, who first suggested this lublecon. The wiee-president also referred to the work of the secretary (Mr. A. N. P. Woodard), to whose activity the prosperity of the Guild was amost entirely due, and he combined his tame with that of the Guild in the toast
Mr. A. N. P. Wooderd, after thanking the vice-president for his kind words, next proposed "The Gueste.' He spoke to the work of the Oxford Socicty, and expressed plensure at hawing a reprosentative with them, considering how tiring and uninteresting is the jouney from the one nuiversity to the other. He also thanked the town representative for his ca-operation in altowing various menbers to join the ringers in their practices at Great St. Mary's.
Letters were read from those members who fonnd it impossible to attend, and the secretary also expressed tho Guild's pleasure at having so many witl them on that occasion.
Mr. $\mathcal{Z}$. S. Jones (Oxford) replied, speaking of his society's achievements and urging the necessity of comhining ringing with one's Teligion, and not enjoying it apart from il.
After lunch a move was made to St. Bena't's Church, where boths Cambridge and. Stedman were rung, and also, duting the day, Bob Major on handbells. Mr. Peter lyrwhitt-Drake kindly entertained eleven mambers to ten, and a few were blin to spend the early part of the evening with the liandbells in the secretary's roonns.

METROPOLITAN POLICE GUILD

SERVICE RINGING AND PRAOTIGE TO BE RFSDMED,

The annurl meeting of the Metropolitan Police Guild was held at St. George's Church, Southwark, on Snturday, May 2nd. The bells were set going shortly after 3.30 p.m., the usual variety of methods being rung. After tea the mexting was held in the vestry, the Rector (the Rev. Ermest Cook) occupying the chat.
During the routine busimess of the menting the Rector voiced his great appreciation to the Barron Trust far the work they had carried out in restoring the bells, and said he wished to place on record his personal thanks to them, and to the Guild Master, Chief Inspector William Bottrill, for all he had done in baing able to get the waluable help of the tilust.
at one point in the proceedings the Rector said that he almost expected that fair number of applicationa would be received by him for the use of the bells for various purposes, peals, meetings, ete. ayd ho had made up his mind that it would be the best thing if he submitted all applications received by him to Chief Inspector Bothrill for his carsideration also. By this he hoped he would mot be considered to be ardopting a "dog in the menger' attitude, but lie folt that the Master lind a much greater knowledge of bells and ringers than he hed, and would, therefore, be able to give a much better opinion in such matters.
It was decided to put into operation the proposed mile that the balle be rung for senviees by the Guild on the second Sunday morning and the fourth Sunday evening in each month, aud the Master expressed his eamest hope that. all members would do all in their powor to fulfil this plat.
All the present officers were re-elected, viz. : Waster, Chief Inepector Bottrill; lion. secretary, P.C. Norman S. Bagwortl; hon. treasurer, P.S. Schleuter. P.S. Willmington was elected vice-president tn place of P.S. Bannister, who was elected to serve on the committee in place of P.S. Miller, and P.C. Gwilham was elected on the committee in place of P.C. Mead.
Considerable discussion then trok place on the subject of practice nights, and after somewhat lengthy delibertition it was decided to revert to Wednesdays, exeept during Lent and ceatain weeks in Advent, when mid-weels services are likely to be held.
A move was afterwamds made to tho tower, where the bells were made grod use of to standard methods until about 9 p.m., when an trijoyable meating was brought to a close.

MORE COUNCIL MATTERS.

The motions which are to come before the Central Council, when they meet at Whitsun, may not occupy as much time as, on the face of them, seems to be threatened. About two of them at least there is not likely to be much division of opinion. There is general agreement, we believe, that it would be well if some authoritative guidance could be given on the subject of the muffling of beils; it will also be a great advantage if the Council have information as to books on ringing matters in the hands of private persons, and whether access to these books for perusal or study can be given. This information will be valuable in a double way. It will enable students of ringing and ringing history to know where they can turn for information, and it should serve as a means of keeping track of books which might otherwise eventuatly be lost.
To the advantage of beginning the Council meeting earlier in the day, if it is practicable, we have already referred, and to the motion which deals with 'The Ringing World ' we must return in a later issue. There remains the vexed question of the definition of a 'spliced ' peal. It would be possible to squander no end of time on this subject, and, as it comes first among the motions, to exclude debate on anything else, but we fancy the chief movers in the proposals may be likely to come to agreement and in this way save the time of the Council. The danger of monopolising more than a fair share of the meeting on this topic comes from the putting forward of ill-considered amendments. A compromise, which avoids any actual definition, is that which Mr. Stephen Wood put forward last year, and which seems to have been acted upon by ringers since. By denoting the number of changes of method in a peal it is certainly possible for the average ringer to judge the merit of the performance in this direction, and probably serves the purpose better than the splitting of hairs in the use of words; for it does convey definite information.

But the Council ought not to have sprung upon them amendments requiring this or that special requirement for the use of the term 'spliced.' The original proposal, put forward by Mr. C. T. Coles, was evoived after a great deal of consideration, and even if this is not persisted with, in face of Mr. Wood's amendment, it did contain the considered views of men who had given great thought to the matter, and it has been in print long enough for everyone to comprehend. But it is unfair to the Council to ask them, on the spur of the moment, to consider some definition of a technical nature, which (Contimned oll page 318.)

THURSTANS' FOUR-PARU'.

Aftor what we have already said aboat Thurstan's "Quavier-pant, made up of five parts of three courses each, it should take the begimmer little time to learn the complete peal.
The first two quarter-peals aro united by calling an additionut pai of bobs at $7-8$ in the third cons'so of the fourth part, which brings up a. $110 w$ part elid 4352l. Then follow five parts of the standatd calling, until, at the third course in the nimith part, another addi tioual pair of loobs is iuserted at 7-8, which brinys the bells back to the place in the original quarter-peal at which tiley left it, atrd the part end is the fourth part end of the quarter-peal given last week
The part ends which hawe been inserted, beginning at the fourth part, are:-

43521  32415 21354  15243  54132

The next part end, the 9tl, is what comes up as the 4th iw the original quarter-peal, wiz, 12534, which, you may notice, has beeu displaced from its proper position by its exact reverse, 43521

In the second lialf of the peal the two quarters are united by the omission of a puir of boiss, the 7-8 in the first course of thircentla and eighteenth parts, which, in eftect, splices one quarter-peal intti the other, the second omission taking up the changes where the first omission broke away

The two lalf-peals are joiuch togelher by a single, eatled in the Iast eourse of the tenth part, when the 7 th is in 45 up, after liguing been in quick, and just before the bells, if the single were not called, would cone round. The single daes not affect the 6tla, bite whe the 7th makes fifth's and dodges down, the 4th makes 6th's awd dodges in 6-7 up. The result of this is that the actual course end is cut out, and you have the Gth going in quick after the 7th. Bobs are called at $5-6$ (when the 7 th is domg the half-turas, just, as in the last. course of eacla part), and n new part end (ine tenth) is produced at the eud of the course-25431.
The fimi single comes at the begining of the third course in the 20th part. It is called when the 7ih is dodging down with the 6th. The 7th makes the single and dodges up and the bellis then come round. These odd ehanges are really the missing ones between the 7th in 4-5 up and 5-4 dowu at lall-way.
Fere ara the part ends affected by the extras, omits and singles:-

The course ends given last week and earlier in this arliele will give you the transpusition for ascordaning the part euds, when then standard calling has been used. Cet pencil and paper and work out all the 30 part ends. You should memorise as many of them at you can before starting to call the peal, not only te check up on the ringing to see if the bells are right, but to facilitate putting into aperation some of those ather guides which we set out in the liast article.
A gidide to the extras and omits, ird case you lose conut of the parts you lave rung, is to be formd in the fact that the 5 th, as well as the 6th and 7th, is unaffected by them. When you wint to call the extras (in the 4th and 9th parts), watch, aftel the second course end, to see if the 5th is following the 7th and 6th from behind. The 5th is the observation boll's 'opposite number, aftew, and is actually workine witl the 7th in the slow at the extra bobs-in the relative position of $5-6$, to the $7-8$ of the 7 th , in fact.
To know when to omit the bobs in the second half (in the firse course of the 13 thl and 18 L h parts) remember that the 5 Ll is behind, doctging in 6-7 up, at the preceding pair of bolos (3-4)

After a little stady aud practice tho begimer shand be able to seb as he goes along, many of the things we have mentioned. At first perhaps, le will onty he able to malise that such and such 2 thitg is happening, but very soon lie shonla see the positions developiug before the reaches them, and then he will fud himself gradnally fithe, if trouble ocours, to gaide the bells into the right chanmels. Of course, a knowledge of how all the babs are to be made does nat mecessarily moan that all the trips can bo corrected, but as a starting point it is invaluable, and after practice the beginner"s powers of observation will grow.

When calling a peal make as many "landmarks' as you can, hat it is a mistake to try to overload your memory. It is better to builid nfs your knowledge gradually but permanently that to try and "cram" your head with a lot of things so imperfectly that at the crucial moment, when tho knowledge is requiren, you cannot recall it

EAST BCRKS AND SOLTPH BUCKS ANNUAL MEETING.
The runual meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Brauch of tho Oxford Diocesan Guikd always attracts ringers from all over tho country, and, despite the fact that there were 43 other meetings advertised for the same day, to shy nothing of the cup final, it is pleasing to note that 68 persons sat down to tea aud nearly 8 ringers wers present at Wooburn during tho afternoon and evening from Berks, Bucke, Herts and Middlesex. Ringing included the four Surprise methods, Superlative, Cumbridge, Bristol and London.
Tho Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. I. A. Hendy, M.A., assisted by the Rov. O. Elliot Wigs, Deputy Mastev of the Guikl, the choir being angmented by ringers from Cookham, South Frarow aud old Whinsor, 稒 is worth recording that everything went to schernle so well that tea was finished by 5.45 p.m.
Various items on the landbells felped to fill in the gap, whilst the secretary tried to write his report.
The chatr was taken by Bir Charles A. Bennett, supported by Mr W. H. Fugsell (vice-chaimma), the Rev. C. Elliot Wige (Deputy Mnster) and Mr. R. T. Hibbert (general seeretny). The Chairmen expressed his great regret at being absert from the two previeus innuat modings, hut said how pleased he was to be present on this occasion and to see so many of tho usual smiling faces, Mr. Fussell evidently having found the secret of perpetual youth. Th was also very grabifying to see so many young faces to kecp the art in a flourishing condition.
Several mew members wera elected, acconats massed and reports necepted. The sum of $£ 22 \mathrm{~s}$, wns voted to the W. Pye Memorial Fund. The officers clected for 1936 were Clairman, Sir Clarles A. Bennett; vice-chanman, Mr, W. H. Tussell ; branch secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. D. Barker; Titanch Rirging Master, Mr. ग. J. Fowler; banch representatives to serve on the General Comnittee, Mrs. A. D. Barker, Messrs. T. J. Fowler, J. J. Kirk, M.S.A., J. G. Truss, F. D. Boreham, W. E. Redrup and W. Birmingham.

It was decided to hald the next montlily practiee at Amersham.
Vates of thanks were accorded to all those who assisted in making the meetiny a success, especially Mrs. Martin and her helpers at the ter table.

It wns manimously deeided to take part in the joint meetings to which the branch had been invited by the Sonth and West District of the Middlcsex County Association. The secretary was also instructed to wrjte various letters!
Mr. R. T. Hibbert rgain made a choerful specch, saying that as long as $\mathrm{l}_{\mathrm{z}}$ could get there, he would come to sce his old friends. The tower was again wisited until 9 p.m., whicli came all too soon for most people.

NEWRURY BRANCH MEETING

Tho sprinif monting of the Nowbury Branch was held at Peasemore on Sabirdry, April 25th, whou 32 members wera present from Bucklehury, Beedon, Brimhtwaltan, Chieveler, Compton, East Ilsley, Newbury, Peasemorc, Tlateliam, Woolton Hill and Yattendon. One visitar attended from Abingdon. A short service was conducted by the Roclor (the Rev. J. Ward Bumnan), who gave a very inspiring address. Mrs. Folmes was at the organ. ## THE INCOMPLEAT CAMPANOLOGIST

STOUKBRIDGE SIUDENT WRYHES OF HTIS FIRST BEAL.
The 'Spring Term' issug of 'The Stourbridge Edwardian,' the magazine of King Edward's School, Stourbirige, contains an interesting article entitied 'The Incompleat Campanologisb;' written by $H$ Walton, Form VI.J. 2 , who a fow months ago rang his first peal. This article is just bine kind of thing to interest the type of young mea that is wanted in tho Treercise, and we hope it may induce other Stourbridge stadents to talke up the art.
Having reproduced from "The Ringing World, the allicial record of tla peal refarred to, ring ato Clend, the witer says: ' It calls up memories of a raw and gusby Saturday aftemoon, when I set out with my brother, who was also ringing his firsli peal, to walk a cold wet mile to the Parish Church, where we met six other ringers. It was a quarter to fout when the small oaken door, which is pleatifully studded with big iron mails, was unlocked, and we climbed the spiral staircase ia the tower to the ringing chamber, a small room some twelve prees square, hung with boards recording former peals on the bells, and with eiglat bell ropes neatly looped to looks in the walls

As this was the third attempt at this particular peal, the first attempt failing when a broken clapper spoiled two and a half hours of ringing, and the second proving a misevable fiasco, we all knew our positions, and after each ringer had made himself comfortable by divesting himgelf of coab, collar and tie, and any other articles of apparel he thouglat fit, the bells wera "pulled up."

After explaining what change ringing is, and what a peal consigts of, the writer described the peal in which lee took part. "The time seemed to go slowly, as it was only marked by the directions of the more experienced ringers to others who had gone astras, and by the instruetions of the conductor, whose duty it is to see that the bells keep in their proper order throughout.

After a time, I began to calculate how far we had gone, and, glancing at the clocle, saw that we were prograssing steadily. After about an hour and a half I felt that the twelwe handrectweights of bell metal on the other cud of the rope had grown to twelve tons, and as the minates drarged past, I was rather concemed, feeling sure that if the weirht of the bell continned to increase at the rate of a ton per miruta (as il apperred to be doing) it would soon carry my insiguificant eight stones up to the roof and back. Fortunately for me, this horrible disasten was averted by the end of the peal. The voices of chairs of angels maver sive half as much joy to the rapt listener as the sonnd of those last few ohanges did to me. What a ronderful feeting of relief to set the hell and sit down!

The more erperienced ringers showed no signs of fatigue, but the muscular labour of three nours of axarcise, which combines the arduous toil of coai-lnearing with the subtle tortures of Swedish drill in the gymmasium, needs to be felt to be appreciated. My back appeared to be broken, my legs were cerbanly paralysed!

This then was my first peal, and to most people it probably seems a waste of a perfecty crood saturday afteruoon. Despite this, ringing exerts a kinch of frscination becanse of its wide appeal. It provides exercise for mind and body, and can be specially recommended as a means of keeping at bay the dreaded "middlenged spread"; the intricacy and neatness of the calculations involved delight the leeart of the mathematician; "no one with a sense for the dramatic can fail to bo interested by the part ringing plays in the life of the nation-the bells rulich peated out joyfully on the occasion of tho late King's Silver Jubilee spoke a little later, with mufted voices and Elow strokes, of a Tand in mouming for the Sovereign's denth.

It takes about a life-time to become a really good ringer', and this is why I am as jet "incompleat," and this article must neces sarily be brief. I could [ill in space by writing at length about the feats of some of the giants of ringing, but I besitate to dannt any reader who, moved hy my eloquent; pent, has rlecided to take up the art. When next then, dear veader, you hear the sound of the bells. remember that you are enjoping the work of men wha are keeping alive English braditions and an eqsentially English art, to which thep have devoter mast of their spare time, an art which I hope wil never dic out. With this I lay down my pen, for if iny piscatoriallyfuclined ramesake had the presumption to thinlk he knew all there is to bo lenowti about fisling, I know that. I san never describe fully ali there is to be known about ringing, and, therefore, refer any inguiring mind to the nearest iower where change ringing is paratised, there mind to the nearest lowes

WHO IS THE OLDEST CUMBERLAND ?

to the Editor.
Dear Sir, In the ]ast issite of "The Ripging World, I was plensed to read a letter from my olr friend, 'Bill" "hissell, witll regard to the oldest College and Cumberland Youths. Three of the four mentioned I have Jad the plensure of ringrine witlo many times vi\%. Toun Bemey, J. M. Routh and R. K. Knipht.

As an old Cumberland, having Gem a member since Janlary 14th 1871, mo certificate bearing that date, it would be juteresting to know if there are any old Cumberlands livine made members between September 24th, 1868, and Jararary 14th, I871.

METHOD NAMES.

To the Editor.

Sir, Your articles for Beginners in the issues for March 27 th and April 17 th touch on a point of interest of which there is varied opinion. I have heard this guestion asked: When a mefhod is reversed or rumg with the use of a different single, can it be cousidered the same method, or has it the riglit to be given a different name; shonld it bo described as "such and such n method reversed," or with the use of extremes or different singles?'
Some years ago e ringer zeversed Stedman Slow Course and gave it the pame of 'Chase.' It las since then been recognised as 'Ohase" and many peals have been rung in which it has been included ander that namo. What, then, is there to prevent anfone naming reversed Grandsirg-ahall wo say "Whiston Doubles," or reversed New Bob 'Honghten Doubles.' and similarly with any other method reverged, whether on five bells or more?
If the associations and the Central Council say this is not permissible, what is gaing to happen to all the peals that have been rung which have included 'Clase 'f' Somse peopla shy you cannot give ore method two different names. What about St. Clement's Minor; is this not an extension of St. Simon's Doubles? Antelope, A pril Day and St. Dunskan's are all more or less a varintion of Grandsire. London Singles, which, by the way, sounds like London Surprise, is another variation. Primrose is a wariation of Cambridge, and so one could ro on!
Where, then, does one staud in regard to reversed methods?
P. AMOS.

Northampton.
[As a matter of historical interest, 'Chace' was a method of Doubles known as far back, at any rate, as 1766 and probably earlier. It appears in the fifth edition of Monk's 'Campanalogis Improved.' it which there is no method printed corresponding with Stelman Slow Course-EDItor, 'Ringias World.'.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

 MEETING AT PINNER.The North and East Distirict of the Middlesex County Associationt held a very pleasant menting at the old-world village of Pinner an Saturday, May 2nd.

The meeting was well attended and the eight bells were kept going during th* afternoon and evening without any interruption througio local residents complaining of the moise of the bells and a request for the cessation of ringing. This speaks well for tho conciliatory attitude taken by the local ringers and church authoritieg in appreciabing the cause of the frequent complaints and doing their best, with evident success, to moderate the sound of the bells neav the church.
Rigging enmmenced soon after 3 prm. and conlinued until 5 oxiock, when a short service was conducted by the Rev. J. O'Connor, who, in the absence of an incumbent, is temporarily officiating at the church. Mr. O'Gonmor, althourl a very sick man, gave the meeting a hearty welcome and also a very instructive address
At the business meeting, prosided ovel by Mr. G. W. Fleteher (vicepresident), letters of apology were read from the association Riuging Master, Mr. A. W. Goles, also from the lion. sectetary, who were anable to be present.
The agenda, which was guickly disposed of, iucluded the election of three of the loca? ringers ns members of the association and the fixing of the place for the next meeting, which wilt be at Stanmore on June 20th.
The Chairman announced that the Pye Memorial wonld be opened an May 30th. He remarked that as the tea would be provided by the Vicar and churchwardens, and, owing to the Central Council meeting beiug helrl in London at the same time, a large gathering was expected. It would be essentisl that due zotice shauld be given to the secretary by those who anticipatesi being present,
The Chairman moved a very hearty vote of tiraks to the Rev. J. O'Counor for the service, to Mr. J. S. Hogr for giving permission for the meeting to bo held, to Mrs. Potts for her assistance, to Mr. Evans, the local organist, for presiding at the organ, and to Mr. K. J. Guyler for haring made all the mecessny aryanements, thereby-musuring the success of the meeting. This was cartiod with acclamation.

A new peal of handbells whs then brought into use, kindly placed at the disposal of the meeting by Mr. Tayloy, of Watford, after which the tower hells were kept going until $g \mathrm{p}$ pth. The ringing was under the able direction of Mr. T. J. Lock, everyone present being well catered for.

BELERYGOSSIP

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are about to dismantle the heavy ring of five gt Thorncombe Church, Somerset, preparatory to rehanging them and recasting the tonor.

Mr. George Williams, the Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guld, who reached his 79th birthday aunjvergary on May 7th, celebrated the event on Saturday by completing his thousard peals as conductior. Few riugers have rondered as much service to the Exercise as Gearge Williams, and tivis makes his wonderful achievement all the more worthy. The peal, which was rung at North Stoneham, where are trebles given by Mr. Williams and the late Mrs. Williams, in celebration of their galden wodding, brought Mr. Williame' total peisls to 1,399.
On Thurgdey, April 30th, members of the Ancient Society of College Fouths rang, with bells half-muflled, the traditional ' whole pull and stand ' as a mark of respect sind esteem to these veny old members, at the Chureh of St. Masuus the Maryr, London Bridge.
To ring seven methods in lis first peal is the excellent performance of Mr. G. L. Fowler at Padworth, Berks.
Messis. Joln Taylor and Co. heve received the order to rehang the benvy ring of eight of Great Waltham Church, Esecx, with mew fittings in new framac.
Selby Abbey bellis will be broudcast in the "Ringing Isle' series on tho North Regional prograne next Sunday eveling, May 17th, at 5.15 p.m., preceded by remarke by Camon Solloway (Vicat) at 5.10. An electrical reconding is to be mado and broadcast on the following evening.
What is the quickest six-score on recond on church bells? Recently 180 changes were rung at St. Nicholas' Chulch, Newton Blossomwille, neav Turyey, Beds, in 3 mins. 5 secs.
The Summer Festival of the Guildford Diocesan Guild will be held at Chertsey ou July 11th.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR.

HISTORIC SLAVE BELL.

To the Rditor.

Sir, -In a recent issue of The Ringing Warld ' You mention the 'historic slave bell ' of St. Michael's, Fort Wellington, B.G.
I wonder if any of your readers could tell me the history of this bell or where to fud it? I am a keen collector of the history and storieg of old bells and rings, and am always grafeful for any information on this fascinating subject.
As I an writing to you, Sir, may I add my sincere thanks with the many who have recently congratulated you on the Silver Jubilee of your jouraal? Thaugh $[$ bave only taken in 'The Ringing World' since starting to ring some four years ago, I lock forward to its publication every week with real pleasure. The fack that I can no longer ring does not in any way detrace from my interest.
I am also following the notes on "Broadcasting of bells before Sunday services" with great interest, and always listen-in to tha broadcasts when possible.
I do hope the B.B.C. will soon realise how intimately our beautiful bells aro connected with tho church service in the hearts of most of 4 4.

FABIAN STEDMAN.  ONCE TREASURER OF THE SCHOLLARS OF CHEAPSIDE.

Another interenting fact in the life of Fabian Stedman has been brought to light by Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, in a search mmong manuscriptr in the Britigh Museum.
The library of All Souls' College at Oxford contains a manuscript giving the rules of the Schollers of Chepesyde, which was lounded on February 2nd, 1603. It has always been assumed that this is the original book belonging to the society, and that the company came to an end some time shortly after the date of the last entry in 1634, but I have found evidence that it is a copy, though a nearly contemporary one.

The original is in the British Museum, among the Sloanc MSS., and the society was still in existence as late as 1662.

The book is a small one of about one hundred pages, finely bound and written on vellum. Like most old documents written in cursive script it is very difficult to read, many letters being made in an entirely difterent way to those at present.
