 GILLET & JOHNSTON, CROYDON, 4th March, 1919.
Westminster.

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and given general satisfaction.

I am authorized by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom.

Yours faithfully, F. T. BUCK,

Architect, Diocesan Surveyor

MODERN WORK

THE PROPOSED MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The suggestion that a memorial service should be held at St. Clement Danes, Strand, in honour of the London ringers who have fallen in the war, is one that we think will commend itself to the members of the Exercise associated with the Metropolis. The number of men connected with London ringing activities who have made the supreme sacrifice is very considerable, and those who cherished the friendship of now departed comrades will welcome the opportunity of paying a tribute to their memory, such as would be provided by the service proposed. Would it not, however, be possible to extend the scope of the service beyond that of a purely metropolitan character? Could it not be of the nature of a ringers' national tribute to their fallen colleagues?

Ringers from every corner of the country have fallen on the field of honour, and nothing could be more impressive than to have one great memorial service if it could be arranged upon anything like representative lines. It is true that such a gathering could be attended by only a comparative few from long distances. Nevertheless, those few could be the official representatives of their associations, and thus give a national character to the proceedings. Associations send members from one end of the country to the other to attend a Central Council Meeting, and private individuals have travelled equally long distances to attend such annual festivities as the College Youths' dinner in London, or the Johnson commemoration dinner at Birmingham. Here is a thing, unique in all history. The greatest of all wars has been brought to a close, hundreds of members of the Exercise have laid down their lives, the opportunity occurs to pay honour and homage to their memory. Let us do it and do it handsomely.

We feel quite certain that the Rector of St. Clement Danes, who has made the suggestion for a London ringers' service, would welcome the wider proposal and lend his aid in making the service one befitting the occasion, and Mr. E. Alex Young, who introduced the idea to the ringing fraternity, would gladly undertake the greater burden of work which a national service would involve. Let the service be open, of course, to every individual ringer who is able to reach London, but to make it really a national tribute to the fallen members of our bellfries, every association should send at least one or more official representatives. The last Saturday in February has been suggested as the date; there is time to make the arrangements complete, and we hope some steps will be taken which will enable a ringers' service of a national kind to be held. But there must not be delay, however, and we hope that association officials will at once consult their committees and get into communication with Mr. Young.

OPINION OF OUR MODERN WORK.

Broomfield Vicarage,
Chelmsford

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in stating that we are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which you have carried out the work entrusted to you of re-arranging and re-hanging the Broomfield Church Bells.

We consider that the work reflects great credit upon your firm, and believe that your system of hanging the bells reduces the vibration of the steel frame supplied by you to a minimum.

The CHURCHWARDENS unite with me in this expression of opinion. The BELLRINGERS are also unanimous in their praise of the alterations effected by you.

Yours truly,

CHAS. EDMUNDS,
Vicar of Broomfield

RINGERS' MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Associations and ringers who wish to give their support to the proposal for a memorial service for ringers who have fallen in the war should communicate with Mr. E. Alex. Young, 1, Station Buildings, Catford, S.E.6. By a typographical error Mr. Young's name was, unfortunately, wrongly printed last week.

BIRMINGHAM RINGER KILLED.

Walter Gossago, a member of the ringing company at St. Chad's Cathedral, Birmingham, and also a chorister, has been killed in action, and as a last token of respect the bells of St. Chad's were rung half-muffled on December 26th, and a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples brought round by: R. Ducker 1, C. Mackenzie 2, J. Corrigan 3, W. Ellis 4, W. Webb 5, J. Porter 6, T. Kelly 7, T. Fearick 8.

OXFORD SOCIETY MEMBER'S DEATH.

Mr. F. Castle, for upwards of 30 years a member of the Oxford Society and of the band at St. Mary Magdalen's Church, has recently passed away, and in his memory a 720 of Kent Treble Bob was rung at the church with which he had been so long associated. The 'whole pull and stand' was also rung: W. Smith (conductor) 1, W. H. B. Wilkins 2, G. Stone 3, T. Payne 4, W. Jeffries 5, T. Finch 6.

ROTHWELL RINGER DIES OF WOUNDS.

The Rothwell company, Leeds, have lost a promising young ringer by the death, in France, from wounds, on November 3rd, of Pte. Ernest McWilliam, of the R.A.M.C. He was a member of both the Leeds and District and Yorkshire Associations, and in addition to being a ringer, Pte. McWilliam was in the choir. Muffled touches were rung on the Rothwell tower bells by his old colleagues, as a last tribute of respect.

WAR-TIME SILENCE BROKEN.

On Armistice Day, after a silence of 4½ years, the fine old peal of six bells at Iver, Bucks, were rung in rounds and call changes, both before and after the thanksgiving service by a band got together by the Vicar, the Rev. W. E. Gilliat, who came into the belfry during the ringing, and thanked the ringers for their services. One of the ringers had not attempted to ring a bell for fourteen years, and another for 12 years. Two members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild assisted with the ringing.

COMPLIMENT TO RINGER-CHURCHWARDEN

The peal rung at Bishopsgate, London, and recorded in our last issue, was arranged as a compliment to the churchwarden of St. Botolph's, Mr. Thomas Walker, the hon. secretary of the London County Association. It was also rung to commemorate the glorious victory of the Allies, and further as a birthday compliment to Mr. H. Weber Brown, B.A., G.C., and Mr. Duffield.

Mr. Churchwarden Thomas Walker has always taken a very keen interest in ringers and ringing generally, and he is described by a writer, as in very truth, the 'Friend of man and the guide of youth.' He has been elected a governor of the Foundation School of London, and is serving his second year as churchwarden of St. Botolph's, which carries with it a Governorship of Bishopsgate Institute. The combined offices which Mr. Walker holds affords him many opportunities of displaying his kindly disposition to old and young alike, both in and outside the circle of change ringers. His untiring efforts are always directed to the best interests and welfare of the parish. Mr. Walker, Mr. Weber Brown and Mr. Duffield were all the recipients of many hearty congratulations from Mr. Pridmore and other friends present when the ringing took place.

RINGING FELLOWSHIP AT HAWKSHEAD.

On Wednesday, December 18th, at St. Michael's Church, Hawkshead, in 1 hour and 4 mins., a date touch of Boh Minor (1918 changes) was rung by: Charles E. Webb (conductor) 1, Thomas Bradley 2, Thomas B. Newton 3, Frederick W. Coward 4, Sergt. T. F. Hewartson, R.A.F., 5, William Robinson 6. The ringers are members of the Farnes and Lake District Branch, of the Lancashire Association, and the touch was rung as an act of ringing fellowship with Sergt. T. F. Hewartson, who was on leave after three years in Egypt and Palestine. The ringers of 3, 5 and tenor hail from the neighbouring belfry at Ambleside, the others belong to the Hawkshead tower.

Hawkshead is one of the very quaintest little towns in England, situated picturesquely near Esthwaite Lake, half-way between Lakes Windermere and Conistone, and in normal times is visited annually by large numbers of Americans, as well as Britishers because of the fact that the Poet Wordsworth was educated at its Grammar School, and also because of the wonderful beauty of its natural surroundings and remoteness from railways and 'the madding crowd and ignoble strife.' The six bells, retuned and rehung soon after the present Vicar, Canon Irving, came to the parish are beautifully melodious. They have been kept going for the most part in full team, during the whole of the war, the ringers not named among the above being Jacobus Ellwood, vice captain; Thomas Townson, and Churchwarden W. D. Hey's.

CLUN AND ITS CHURCH.

AND THE STORY OF A RINGING WEEK IN SALOP.

Sunday.—We met in the tower at 10 o'clock, and rang various methods till Divine service commenced, a special preacher giving us an address on the work of the National Society, an organisation founded a century ago that began the important task of the education of the masses. To-day the Church School buildings alone, without including the land on which they stand, are valued at £53,000,000, the generous gift of churchmen throughout the land. Afterwards we had an opportunity of making the personal acquaintance of the preacher who had been able to master a bell in rounds, but courting began about the same time, and the latter art won. We have heard that some men forsake the bells for the belfry, but more than one good band to my knowledge has had to deplore the loss of a male companion bent on other ringing. The recent learned discussions on 'lead ends' are as nothing compared with the old, old story. Once more we were favoured by the Vicar and churchwardens, and the afternoon was devoted to an attempt for Major, which resulted in peal No. 5 being accomplished at the second attempt, the first try lasting about half an hour. Mr. Minton, of Bishop's Castle, paying us a visit to hear the ringing. The Rev. H. J. Scott was present as chaplain, and gave the belfry prayer before starting.

A local rhyme mentions 'Hop, skip, and run, say the bells of Clun.' Well, we ringers managed to hop round the Castle ruins, skip the 13th-century bridge a few times, and run round to see the Clun Hospital founded A.D. 1658. There was another old house visited, known as the White Horse, and therein a dark plot was hatched at night, but please do not mention it to Rugby, as he is not yet aware of the matter. Parker's 12-part peal, Grand-fire Triples, was attempted double-handed at Castle Cottage by Messrs. Pigott, Graves, Short and Clark, which promised to be a success till within 500 changes from home. Mr. George's discursive wanderings in search of his comrades only ceased when someone said they were poaching rabbits; but the columns of this journal were intended to first convey the true news to him, had the peal been successful. The rabbiting was very effective, for each of our party left Clun in the morning with a brace of these useful adjuncts to war rations, and I should like to have seen the whole party in the Bull Ring with them, led by the shepherd.

Monday.—A bright morning, farewells all round, and a hearty send off by our Whitty friend—Mr. W. Mead—and the motor rumbled away to Craven Arms, with 'tails up,' the little white patches that sporting men love to see on the banks of a meadow. We had one more venture to make, as the result of our captain's happy thought of sending to Wistanstow for leave to retrieve our lost laurels of Thursday. The reply was favourable, and so was our attempt, and the final peal was finished in time for our band to receive the Vicar's congratulations, and take the 3 p.m. train to their respective destinations. Some of the Birmingham people may not agree that the wits of the team have undergone any improvement, but then we must all remember the saying of an old Farnham ringer who gave up the pastime of bell ringing many years ago, because it 'wring his hands' and blistered his pockets. However, each of us retained our watch on leaving Clun bridge for the last time.

During our brief stay in Shropshire absent friends were not forgotten, and letters of regret for their absence were read from Mr. J. G. Buchanan, Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, who helped to promote change ringing in this district as a resident at the time the Guild was founded in 1886. Mr. John Overton, of Bridgnorth; Mr. Win. Saunders, of Coalbrookdale, and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, of Caversham. Having been requested to report our doings to your innumerable journal, I do so with reluctance because my pen cannot describe the really happy time we spent in the county. We all feel truly thankful to the clergy and laymen of Clun, Wistanstow, and Church Stretton for their generous reception and kind approval of our humble performances. The people of Clun 250 years hence may possibly find records of Shropshire's peace peals in their belfry, for a series of old oak panelling is to be placed there, and nearly four pounds has already been subscribed towards the cost by those concerned in making them. Then, as now, the early prayer inscribed on the second bell will be sounding far and near, and just as joyful, let us hope, as it does to-day.

* All praise and Glory be to God for Ever. 1668 *

W. H. F.

GRANDFATHER AND GRANDMOTHER
IN A PEAL.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Whittington, of Cranleigh, Surrey, who were the first husband and wife to take part in a tower bell peal together, have now created another record by being the first grandfather and grandmother to take part together in a peal. This interesting event took place at Cranleigh last week, the peal being rung in celebration of the birth of their first grandchild, and also as a farewell to Sergt. Carrier, of Vancouver, who had been stationed in the district, and who was departing for Canada with a Cranleigh bride (Miss Chapman), the daughter of the conductor of Cranleigh lower.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

AN 'AT HOME' DAY AT COLGRAVE.

Boxing Day was given up to what one may correctly term an 'At Home' at Colgrave. Invitations were sent broadcast by Messrs. W. E. and Walter White to those who could avail themselves of the opportunity to visit Colgrave, with a promise of a peal attempt in the afternoon to revive memories of pre-war pleasures. Colgrave, a peaceful village, is situated seven miles S.E. of Nottingham, and the approach is by foot, cycle, and Petrol-cum-gas Limited. There are several features of interest in the place, but there is only space to mention one or two. In the hunting world it is well known as the 'Joy wheel' of the Earl of Harrington's pack, known as the South Notts Hunt. The village rests upon the borders of the 'Wolds,' otherwise Wolds, which are characteristic of its advantages in circles of sport. Although strictly agricultural in its everyday work, it is also unique because it can be comfortably reached from almost every point of the compass. Another object of particular interest is that at Colgrave there is a house wherein a family (Parr by name) have resided from one generation to another since the time of the dreadful plague. Distinction is also given to Colgrave, from the ringers' standpoint, on account of the work which has been done by Mr. W. E. White and Mr. Walter White to bring ringing to such a high standard as it exists there to-day. On Boxing Day we went there to further promote the art of change ringing; not to watch the hunters' pursuit in the 'Joy wheel, but to ring joy bells' for the glorification of the men and women and armies who have been instrumental in bringing the war to a successful issue. The fare was of a high order, and verged into a peal attempt in the afternoon. This unfortunately came to grief after two hours and twenty minutes by an error at the end of the fifth 720. The members taking part were W. C. Hunt, T. H. Kirkby, the Rev. C. J. Sturton, A. Mackear, W. E. White and Walter White.

East Bridgford was also on the agenda for the day's ringing, and although unfortunately one of our number was indisposed through sudden illness, the Rev. A. Hill, Rector of East Bridgford, kindly filled the breach, and enabled us to make the attempt for a peal. After a capital first 720 had been rung the conductor had perforce to call 'stand,' in lieu of the ever welcome 'this is all' at the end of a success. After several other touches, with the Rev. A. Hill continuing to assist, and including, on this trip, Mr. Tom Squires (Colgrave), we separated with regrets and hastened to our respective homes. H

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

Although altered at the eleventh hour, a meeting well attended, especially by members of H.M. Forces, was held at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, on Saturday, December 28th. Ringing commenced shortly after 3.30 p.m., and was carried on until 6.30 p.m.

The business meeting took place in the Parish Room, adjoining the church, and was fairly well attended, although several members living at a distance had, perforce, to seek their way home early.

The chair was taken by Mr. G. R. Fardon, in the absence of the Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender, still serving with H.M. Forces.—The election of Mr. Edward P. Duffield, of Thorston Mills, Long Stratton, Norfolk, was ratified.—A vote of sympathy was accorded to the relatives of Messrs. F. J. Hardy, Morley, and Taffender, and the Hon. Secretary was requested to convey the resolution to them.

Saturday, Feb. 8th, 1919, was fixed for the annual general meeting, particulars of which will appear in the 'Ringing World' in due course.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector and Churchwardens of St. Botolph's for the use of the bells, and of the Parish Room, also to Mr. W. Arnold, steeplekeeper, for having everything in readiness at both places.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The December meeting of the Western District was held at St. Chad's, Far Headingley, when over 30 members were present, represented by Birstall, Burley, Calverley, Denholme, Gaisley, Holbeck, Horbury, Headingley St. Michael's, Keighley, Leeds Parish, Mirfield, Pudsey, and the local company. During the afternoon and evening, the bells were kept going in several methods. Tea was partaken of in the men's club, Westwood Lane, followed by the general business meeting. In the absence of Mr. Bolland, the Rev. C. C. Marshall (President of the Association) took the chair, and the following new members were elected: Chas. Senior, of Earlsheaton, and Messrs. G. L. Crawshaw, Traynor, and Milner of Mirfield.

The President then announced that the Yorkshire annual meeting will be held at Horbury, near Wakefield, the last Saturday in January. The venue for the annual district meeting was next discussed, and it was decided to hold the meeting at Earlsheaton, if possible.—Mr. Williams moved a vote of thanks to the chairman and local ringers for use of the bells, and arrangements made that day.—This was seconded by Mr. Dixon, and replied to by the Chairman and Mr. Petty.—Handbell ringing was then indulged in, bringing a good meeting to a close.
