AN ENDLESS CONTROVERSY.

The 'lead ends' controversy seems perennial, it springs up, is debated and appears to die a natural death, only to pop up again later with new vigour. Settled, apparently, many years ago by the report of the Central Council's Methods Committee, it was revived some six or seven years since by the Hon Secretary of the Council, when he endeavoured to get the Council to upset its previously adopted decision. Through the war period it led to a lengthy newspaper debate; Mr. Davies produced a pamphlet on the subject, and at the Council meeting at Gloucester it resulted in some strong speeches. There for a year it rested so far as the Exercise was concerned, but, as our readers will see, the question cropped up again at the Northampton Council meeting. The Hon. Secretary crowded into ten minutes the outcome of twelve months' thought in bis efforts to prove the error of the Committee's ways, and there came a brief response from the Rev. H. Law James, as the champion of the other side. No vote was asked for or taken, nor could there well be any decision. A discussion, as the President pointed out, was a matter of days, if not weeks and months, and the Council passed on to the next business. Indeed, such a technical matter could not be settled by a debate in the Council, and, as it has now been definitely decided that the Council's resolutions are to be binding on nobody it would be as well if this question were now left alone for everybody to enjoy their own opinion.

If, however, its settlement on lines other than those laid down in the Committee's report is really essential, we think Mr. Davies should take some action to bring the matter to a head How this can best be done there is no one better qualified than the Hon. Secretary of the Council to decide. If the Committee decline to reconsider their findings, it would be equivalent to a vote of want of confidence to set up an ther tribunal to investigate the matter afresh; and yet, without the considered conclusions of a body of experts to guide them, the Council could not be expected to throw over their own 'd-cisions' as set out in a report which they have accepted and published. It is a difficult position for Mr. Davies, whose sincerity of purpose in this discussion is in itself almost enough to convince 'the man in the street'; but the recrudescence of the topic is beginning to get wearisome, and it should be carried to a conclusion or dropped. The Exercise does not want to see public debate of this question carried on without fiinality. It is, in fact, rather indifferent to the whole subject, and the general opio ion certainly is that it is useless to continue the argument unless something is done to bring the question to a head, and get the Council to revise or confirm its 'decision.' To bring about an alteration, Mr. Davies will need the weight of the 'experts,' but at pre-ent they do not appear to be on his side.

DEVON'S NEW PEAL OF TEN.

DEDICATION OF CULLOMPTON BELLS

An interesting and important restoration has taken place in Devon-where Cullompton bells have been relong, three of the peal recast, and two new trebles added to make a ring of ten. The work has been varried out at a cost of over £1,100 by Mesus, Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the reopening and dedication took place on Saturday week.

The Vicar (the Rev. R. N. F. Phillips) conducted the service and the lesson was read by the flev. E. J. Barton chairman of the N.E. branch of the Devon Guild. The Archdeacon of Exeter performed the dedication, and preached from the text, 'Woe is me, if I preach not the Gospel.' The local ringers rang a few rounds on the bells immediately after the dedication. The ringers from St. Sidwell's, Exeter, under the leadership of Mr. Edwin Shepherd, had been invited to onen the bells and rang touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters. All the ringers in the neighbourhood were also invited and ringing was indulged in until late in the evening by bands, or individual members from St. Many's and St. James' (Taunton), Tiverton, Halberton, Ufleulme, Holcombe Rogus, Clyst Hydon, Kentisbeare, Thorverton, Bradminch, Plymtree, Ottery St. Mary, Huntsham and Bampton, Mr. Denison Taylor represented the Loughborough foundry, and Mr. J. II. Shopherd, of Swindon was also present. All the ringers were very kindly intertained at a nubble tea in the Vicarage Grounds.

The restoration has included the rehanging of the bells in a new iron frame carried on steel girders, and the recasting of the old treble, second and sixth. The new treble inscribed. Thanks be to God for Victory and Peace, 1918,' is the gift of the Vicar, and the second is a memorial' bell. It has been given by Mr. A. Burrow, and is inscribed 'To the glory of God and in memory of the men of Cullompton and died for their causing in the Guest War. 1914,1919.

scribed 'To the glory of God and in memory of the men of Cullompton who died for their country in the Great War, 1914-1918.'

The bells are hing on ball bearings, but it is necessary that there should be no confusion, especially in Devenshire, between this principle and that adopted by Messis. Aggett, of Charford, whose system is really that of roller bearings. The peal was much admired, and the 'go' was perfect, it being possible to ring the tener with one hand quite easily. Cullempton is much to be congratulated on now possessing a fine peal of ten, the fifth in the county. The local ringers are taking up change ringing, and have applied to the Devon Guild for an instructor through the local branch secretary,

It is interesting to note that the original peal was east in 1746 by Thomas Bilbie of Chewstoke, and the tenor (19 cwt. 2 qrs. 4 lbs.) bears an unusual inscription: 'Me resonare Jubent—pietus mors—Atque Volupfas. Richard Bevis. Esq., Richard Harvard. Richard Wills Thomas Hone, Franc. Webb, G. H. Wards, Bilbie the Founder. Bush the Hauger, Heathfield the man that rings the tenor, 1746.'

Cullompton was for about 100 years (1715-1818) the home of a bell foundry carried on by the Bilbies, who also had the foundry at Chewstoke and they are believed to have cast 352 bells for Devonshire. business was taken over by William Pannell, a tinman, who removed to Exeter. His business came to an end in 1855. He is buried in Cullompton Churchyard.

LABOUR TROUBLE.

A demand by workers in the printing trade for an increase of wages as produced a delicate situation. The Typographical Association A demand by workers in the printing trade for an increase of wages has produced a delicate situation. The Typographical Association (which includes compositors and machine minders) have asked for an increase of 20s. per week and have been offered 10s. The offer has been refused, and notices have been handed in, which will expire on Saturday, unless a settlement can be effected in the meantime. The threatened withdrawal of labour applies only to the provinces, but as it affects the office at which 'The Ringing World 'is printed, we feel compelled to make this brief statement. It is hoped that a strike may be avoided, but the position is critical.

DEVON RESTORATIONS.

The fine peal of six bells at St. Gregory's, Seaton, have now been completed by Messrs. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford, two new bells having been added, and one of the old bells (the 4th) recast. The oldest bell in the tower dates from 1430. The bells have been hung in massive iron frames on steel girders and modern principles have been introduced into the hanging, including Messrs. Aggett's patent adjustable bearings. The bells were dedicated on Thursday, June adjustante bearings. The belts were dedicated on Thursday, June 3rd, by the Archdemen of Exeter, in the presence of a large congregation, and opened by the Colyton band of ringers, under the Rev. Molineaux, captain. The belts were rung after the service; also by numerous sets of ringers, who all expressed great satisfaction at the tone and especially at the easy 'go' of the belts.

Messrs. Aggett hope to commence this year the fine peal of six at Botus Fleming (Cornwall), the peal of St. Mary's Abbey, Buckfast, and the peals of six at Poughill and Rockbeare.

WEST WALES ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the West Wales Association was held on Saturday, June 5th, at St. Catherine's Church Gorseinen, there being a good attendance of members from the surrounding towers. The bells had been set going to Grandsire Triples, owing to a very serious case of illness close to the church the bells had to be stopped. Service was held, conducted by the Rev. W. J. Thomas (Vierr), who gave a very practical address and Mrs. Williams presided at the organ. The service concluded with the hymn, 'Fight the good Fight.' The Vicar invited the members to tea at St. Catherine's Hall, and a vote of thanks was accorded him for arranging and officiating at the service. and for so generously entertaining the members to tea. The ladies who so kindly waited at tea were also warmly thanked.

who so kindly water at tea were also warmly thanked.

The business meeting followed, at which the Ringing Master (Mr. J. A. Hoare) expressed regret at the absence of the hon, secretary (Mr. C. Morse), who was unable to attend owing to the death of his daughter, who passed away at the early age of 18 years. The deepest sympathy of the meeting was extended to the bereaved family.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Raglan on Sept. 4th, when it was hoped that members will make a special effort to attend.

OXFORD GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH PROGRESSING.

The annual meeting of the North Bucks branch was held at Sheu-The annual meeting of the North Bucks branch was held at Shenley on Saturday, June 5th, when about 120 members attended, representing Bletchley, Beachampton, Calverton Chicheley, Emberton, Fenny Stratford, creat Horwood, Linslade, Maids Moreton, Milton, Keynes, Newport Pagnell, North Crawley Olney, Stony Stratford, Simpson, Twyford, and the local ringers of both Shenley and Loughton. After an hour's ringing, a service fully choral, was held, and was much appreciated by all those who had the pleasure of attending thanks to the splendid arrangements of the Rector and President of the branch (the Rev. J. R. Vincent) who had asked the Rev. Karney (Diocesan Missioner) to give an address. The preacher related soveral experiences whilst a prisoner of war in Germany, and while serving as chaplain to the prison camp. chaplain to the prison camp.

After service an adjournment was made to the Rectory grounds, and tea was served on the lawn. The business meeting followed, the Rev. J. R. Vincent being in the chair. The balance sheet and report nev. 38 R. Vincent being in the chair. The balance sheet and reporterally by the secretary, showed the branch to be in a satisfactory condition.—The Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) was present much to the delight of all the members. At the request of the meeting he spoke of the progress of the Guild, and also referred to the proceedings of the Central Council at the Northampton meeting. A few kindly remarks were also passed in favour of supporting the

Ringing World.'

The usual vote of thanks was extended to all who had so ably assisted in providing the tea, to the Rev. J. R. Vincent for so kindly making arrangements and placing the grounds at the disposal of the branch, to the Rev. Karney for his splendid address, and to the Master (the Roy. C. W. O. Jenkyn) for his personal attendance.

After the meeting further ringing was indulged in until it was time to prepare for home. The methods rang included Grandsure and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Court and Cambridge Surprise Minor. The meeting generally was a complete success, and everyone who attended was well satisfied that the North Bushe branch may once more entities best to its preparative. Bucks branch was once more getting back to its pre-war state.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Hon. Secrotary, with the consent of the President, real a lengthy statement which he had prepared on the ' Lead Paids ' question, in which he set out arguments in support of his contention that both leads are those only at which calls are made, and that no place made within the lead, which is part of the regular work of the lead, can be termed a boo. This contention no claimed was supported by the termed a boo. This contention he claimed was supported by the Council's own Glossary and by the Exercise at large, and he argued that the conclusions of the report of the Methods Committee were therefore, wrong, and that their contention that all methods must have either Grandsiro or Plain Bob lead ends was equally wrong, because it was based on false premises. There might, added Mr. Davies be some conceivable justification for their plea for the exclusive use of Grandsire and Flam Bob lead ends, if they achieved any real advantage, but they conspicuously failed to secure the one quality which it was their special mission to secure viz., the maintenance of the same coursing order, which was conclusively proved by his method B in the pampulet. Lead Ends, in which though the lead ends were Grandsire ones, the bells go down in a different coursing order in every lead. The true position might well be summed up in a few concise statements: (1) a bob is an alternative; (2) on the occurrence of the bob position there may be a bob, or there may not be a bob; (3) a bob is a substitution of one rule for another; (4) a bob is always a link; that which is not a link cannot be a hob; (5) no place which is invariably made is ever a bob; (6) any lead not containing a bob in the souse indicated above is a plain lead; (7) a plain lead may be of any form, provided always that its cycle of repetition produces as many leads as there are working bells. Mr. James, continued Mr. Davies, complained that he (the speaker) called any lead a plain lead in which a bob was not called. So did the 'Glossary.' Nor plant tend in which a bot was not called. So this the 'Glossary.' Nor did Mr. James improve his case by objecting that the employment of the term 'plain lead' was only colloquial. So was nearly every other term in the science. The important thing was not the term itself but the sense in which it was used, and in this instance 'plain lead,' on the authority of the 'Glossary' (and of all ringers except Mr. James and his friends), meant a lead devoid of calls. This was not a fight about names it was a fight for freedom. Ware methods with light about names it was a fight for freedom. Were methods with non-Grandsire and non-Plain Bob lead onds to be banned and stigmalised, or were they to be acknowledged as 'regular' and to be esteemed as fit for use as the others? To stigmatise a method as 'irregular' involved a very clear attempt to get rid of it. The coursing order.

majority of ringers and conductors would have heard that such and such a method was 'contrary to the rules,' and would not trouble any further about it. Therefore, he would not rest until all criticism of methods not having Grandsire or Plain Bob lead ends was absolutely and finally withdrawn, so far at least as concerned their lead ends and

DECIDED BY THE EXERCISE.

The Rev. H. Law James said the question raised by Mr. Davies had been settled by an authority they could not get away from and that was the Exercise as a whole during the last 200 years. He had had the opportunity of reading in Sir Arthur Heywood's collection of books everything that had been written on the subject, and previous to Troyte (who disclaimed any idea of being scientific and simply published his book to teach beginners) no one had used plain lead, bob lead and single lead in the way in which Mr. Duvies meant it. These terms were quite modern and, as Mr. Davies said, were the collequial language of the belfry. That, however, was of no use for scientific purposes. In Banister's book was published a list of the peals rung by the Ancient Society of College Youths down to 1875. There were several hundred peals, and there were among them just six peals which broke the rule with regard to lead ends. They rang two peals of Union Triples in 200 years. The same was true of the Union Scholars They rang one peal of Union Triples; all the rest kept the rule of Bob Major lead ends and if they examined the peal books of other societies they would find about the same average. The thing had been settled, to his mind, by the Exercise before any of those present

There being no proposal before the meeting, the Council passed on to the next business, the President remarking amid laughter, that any discussion upon the subject raised by Mr. Davies was obviously a matter of days and weeks and months.

PEALS ANALYSIS.

The report of the Peals Analysis Committee, already published, was moved by Mr. A. T. King, who also proposed that the Rev. A. T. Beeston be added to the committee.

The Rev. H. Law James asked that the analysis should be completed before it was deposited in the archives. With regard to the points, they were absolute rubbish. The committee were instructed last year not to publish them. He would suggest that they be crossed cut. out. Secondly there was one peal rung by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and one by somebody else which had not been included. The committee, in their report, made some strictures upon these peals; but it was not the fault of the conductor, as the peals were sent up for publication, but by some means failed to oppear. He thought the committee might have taken the trouble to put them in. Lastly, the committee had noticed two peals rung in new methods, but they had allocated no points to them.

The Hom Secretary said there was only one instruction given to the committee last year, and that was that the associations should be entered in alphabetical order.

Mr. King said the committee waited until the close of February before they completed the analysis and surely two months was quite enough to enable any association to get its reals minted. As regards his grievance, the Editor had confessed that these peals were mislaid. Were the committee to be blamed for that? He thought Mr. James should apologise.

The Rev. H. Law James said he only asked the committee to put the analysis right before it was laid by in the archives of the Council.

Mr. King warmly remarked that those who had not had the trouble did not appreciate the work the committee had to do. Let them scrap the whole thing if it was of no interest, but surely two months was quite sufficient time to give for the publication of peals.

The Rev. H. Law James said if it was put by as it was the analysis for 1919 would be worthless. He did not see why the committee should not take the trouble to complete it if it was to be of value for the future.

Mr. G. Williams (a member of the committee) supported what Mr. King had said. The committee had a tremendous lot of work to do and he was surprised Mr. James had attacked it in the way he had. The Rev. H. Law James said he was not attacking anybody, he only asked, for the sake of the future that the analysis should be complete. He was not blanning anybody.

The President said he thought he saw a way out of the difficulty.

He would ask their patient long-suffering, ever-ready, ever-genial librarian (applause) when he got this analysis to put into the newlyestablished library to make the corrections that Mr. James desired (ap-

The Rev. A. T. Beeston was added to the committee, and the report was adopted.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE.

This committee's report by Mr. E. H. Lewis, who was unavoidably absent, was read by Mr. E. A. Young as follows: At the mosting of the Central Council in 1919 this committee made a request that representatives would report to them any cases where harmful action was bring taken by the societies or individuals to prevent bells being hung in the best modern manner. No such reports have been received by the committee during the year. As the result of work already done by the committee and the publication of 'Bell towers and bell hanging,' the members have been consulted individually with regard to the hanging. ing of peals of bells (Major Hesse, Mr. B. A. Young and Mr. E. H. Lewis, each on four occasions). Advice has been given in these cases, but the committee do not consider it advisable to publish the details. The pressure of other work has been so great on members of the committee that they have not been able to initiate any further research work, but they hope to be able to give advice or assistance in any specific case which may be brought to their notice.

The report was adopted. Canon Elsee reported for the Bells of Belgium Committee. He said their difficulty was that they had no reliable information as to the actual state of the towers and bells in Belgium. Mr. Lewis had hoped to get some definite information go as to put a proposal before the Council, but he had not yet been able to do so. He was hoping to go to Belgium in the near future and to get first-liand information on the spot.

The report was accepted.

UNIQUE PERFORMANCE RECORDED.

On Saturday May 29th, a good number of ringers assembled in the belfry of Ali Saints' Church, Corston near Bath, on the occasion of the unveiling of a peal board, erected to record a real rung last year, nd in which, for the first time father, mother and son took part. The Rector (the Rev. C. C. Parker), Master of the Bath and Wells Association unveiled the tablet, and said how pleased he was to have Association unveiled the facility, and said now pleased he was to have it in his tower. He hoped it would be an incentive to his own ringers to persevere and he able to accomplish a similar performance. He thanked the donors of the board (Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins), and congratulated them on the unique record they had achieved.

Mr. Wilkins, in acknowledging the thanks and congratulations, said how pleased they always were in meeting the Rev. C. C. Parker, who, as Master of the Bath and Wells Association for many years, had done as Master of the Nath and Wells Association for many years, had done a lot of work on behalf of ringers and ringing.

The following is the inscription: 'Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.—On Wednesday, July 9th 1919, in 2 lars, and 50 mins., a neal of Stedman Triples (5040 changes): Sir A. P. Fleywood's No. I. Tenor, 93 cwt: William A. Cave (reble, Arthur E. Wilkins 2, Mrs. Raymond J. Wilkins 3, Raymond J. Wilkins 4, Jesse B. Tyler 5, Gilhert H. Harding 6. Thomas F. King 7, Samuel J. Hector tenor; conducted by William A. Cave. This is the first poal in which father, mother and son have rung.—Rev. C. C. Parker, Rector.'

After the ceremony a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung, and will be found recorded in its proper place.

LADIES' GUILD.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT OHIDDINGFOLD.

A meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Chiddingfold on Saturday, June 5th when a very enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent by over thirty ringers from Aldershot, Dorking, Bugshot, Crealeigh, Shalford, Guildford Puttenham, Witby ordering Bagshot, Cranleigh, Shalford, Guildford Puttenham, Witley and Godalming. Owing to the station and village being nearly three miles apart, it was practically a cyclists' meeting. Many visiting Chiddingfold for the first time were charmed with the pretty village, the church and the easy-going little ring of eight bells, which were rung for the first time in rounds by ladies. During the afternoon and evening touches of Grandsiro and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Kent Troble Bob were brought round, in all of which wethers belies took next. methods ladies took part.

The Guild service was held at 4.30, the singing being led by the local lady ringers, who are also members of the church choir. One looks forward with confidence to the time when the performance of these young ladies in the belfry will equal their work in the choir.-The Vicar (the Rev. C. C. Lefroy) gave the address, and, with the organist sat down with the company to a substantial tea, provided in the

Parish Hall,

After tes, a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. Melville, Steere, Hazelden, and Mrs. Hazelden.—Miss Fisher (Dorking) in a happy little speech, thanked the Vicar and local ringers for the very hearty welcome and most enjoyable time they had given the visitors, and especially for the almost inspired words the Vicar had spoken to them in church.

At the short business meeting two ladies from Aldershot were elected members.—It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Chertsey, as the hon, secretary had oscertained that a meeting there would be much appreciated by the Chertsey members.

After further ringing, the bells were reluctantly lowered at 8 p.m., and the cycle ride homewards, through the beautiful pinewood and the cycle ride homewards, through the scenery, was certainly a perfect end of a perfect day.

WESTERN DISTRICT MEETING.

The quarterly meeting was held at the Parish Church, Weston-super-Marc, on Saturday, June 12th. Members were present from Bristol, Fortishead, Clapton-in-Gordano, Bridgwater and Midsomer Norton, and were assisted by several local ringers. The bells, a heautiful ring of eight, were thoroughly appreciated. A short service was conducted by the Rector, who kindly gave a very interesting and helpful address and was present at the ten which took place immediately after the service at Messrs. Brown's Cafe High Street. A short business meeting followed, at which Miss Gillingham presided and at which a vote of thanks, proposed by Miss Gillingham, and seconded by Mrs. Wilkins, to the Rector (the Rev. Preb. Norton Thompson) for his kindness in lending the bells, and to the steeplekeeper, Mr. Stubbins, for the Arealth and the Steeplekeeper, Mr. Stubbins, for the trouble he had taken to have everything in readiness, was

It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Bath in September, and if possible to have an evening meeting for practice at Porthury early in July.

ENCOURAGING SIX-BELL RINGERS. To the Editor.

Sir.—Mr. Morris, in his letter to six bell towers makes mention that the 8 and 10 bell ringers of Loicester were very glad of his help in scoring their 8 and 10 bell peaks, while they openly scoffed at his beals on six. Let me inform Mr. Morris that for every peal he rang on 8 or 10 bells with our society, a first-class ringer of our band stood out to give him the opportunity. Let him also remember that our society got for him his first reals of Stedman Triples and Caters. Grandsire Caters. Double Norwich. Superlative and Treble Ten.

Grandsire Caters, Double Norwich, Superlative and Treble Ten.

As regards ringers of 5 belts being shummed by the 8 and 10 bell ringers of Leicester, I ask the question, is there a ringer in existence who can truthfully say that they were never given a chance, or one who never received anything but assistance or encouragement to get on from our society? Often have we met for a special practice, a stranger turng up, who only rings ' so and so,' promptly our own aspirations have been turned down to give him a chance to ring his aspirations have been turned down to give him a chance to run ms first touch of something or other.

As regards what Mr. Morris has done for the 6-bell ringers of Leicester, I say he has done it for the sake of self-glorification alone. It would be better if Mr. Morris realised that our society made him. not he, us. Mr. Morris says that he received the help or support of one solitary friend, it was "support" mainly in this case, I expect but we had his 'help.' We should be grateful, but I am afraid that we are not. I have written the above to correct a probably wrong impression abroad, that the 8 and 10 bell societies of Leicester ove their successes to Mr. Ernest Morris.—Yours faithfully,

FRED H. DEXTER.

FRED H. DEXTER,
St. Martin's Society, Loicester.
P.S.—On looking up our records I find that 40 ringers rang their first peal and over 140 rang their first peal in a new method, from Triples to Royal, with this society.

Mr. Morris figures largely in this.

COLLEGE YOUTHS AND CITY CHURCHES.

At the meeting of the College Youths held on June 15th, the following resolution was adopted: 'The Ancient Society of College Youths desires to emphatically protest against the removal of the City churches, and will most cordially support any effort which the City authorities may make to save these valuable monuments.'

A TRIPLE CELEBRATION.

The peal at Feering, Essex, on June 5th, was rung in honour of the birthday of H.M. King George V., also as a birthday compliment to Frank Claydon (one of the band) and in honour of the wedding of Mr. R. Fisher (also a member of the local company), and Miss n. Reddick, which took place the previous Wednesday at All Saints' Church. The belis were fired at the conclusion of the peal, and the ringers were congratulated by the Vicar on the excellent striking throughout the peal. The band were afterwards entertained to an excellent repast by Mr. and Mrs. R. Fisher, to whom, as well as to the Vicar for the use of the bells, they tender their best thanks.
