A REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL.

The surmise that the Central Council, when they met in London on Whitsun Tuesday, would have a full day's business before them, proved correct, for the deliberations lasted until nearly half-past five in the afternoon, and, what is more, none of the time was frittered away, as it has been frequently in years past, in discussing trivialities. As a matter of fact, the meeting proved one of the most interesting that has been held for a long time. We must postpone until subsequent issues comment upon many of the topics that came under debate, and confine ourselves at this moment to one or two items of a general nature.

The meeting was extremely well attended, and a perusal of the names of the societies represented will show that, with one or two exceptions, every association of importance sent its delegates. The most conspicuous absence was the Sussex County Association, which, for some years, has declined to appoint representatives. It is regrettable that this association, which has in the past figured so prominently in ringing matters, should persistently refuse to join in with the other associations in the country in this matter. This year a lot of 'new blood' has been infused into the Council, and it can be said, without any reflection upon the composition of the Council in the past, that it has probably never been more representative of all phases of the Exercise than it is today. Practical ringers of established repute are included by the dozen, many of the best brains in the realm of composition and the theory of the science are included; the technical side is represented by the best engineering skill which is available to ringers; architectural, building, antiquarian and legal knowledge is to be found among the members; and, not least important, there are, in addition, large numbers who have had long experience in the management of associations. In comparison with the composition of some Councils in years gone by, this Council is, we venture to say, a body far more representative of the interests of ringing and ringers, and if any association holds aloof merely on the score of what has happened in the past it is doing itself and the Exercise a disservice.

One very pleasing feature of last week's meeting was the presentation to the Rev. Charles D. P. Davies, who, for nearly twenty years, with so much painstaking labour, devotion and ability, filled the offices of hon. secretary and treasurer. It was three years ago that Mr. Davies resigned, but the meeting this year, occurring again in London, was considered the most fitting at which to make this special acknowledgment of his services. Apart from his connection with the Council, Mr. Davies has rendered invaluable aid to the Exercise in the past, his share in the Snowdon text books on Grandsire and Stedman being alone a monument of work which will stand for all time. His executive services to the Council were longer than those of any other man, except Sir Arthur Heywood himself, and the Council's gift was the least acknowledgment that could be made of work so well and so whole-heartedly done.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting was held on Whitsun Monday, at Sevenoaks. Never before during its forly-four years' existence has the association had a general gathering thera; and for that reason alone it was imagined that a record attendance might be possible. The natural beauties of the place and its surroundings might have proved an additional attraction; and the weather was tolerably fine, though a trifle more sunshine would have been appreciated. It was somewhat disappointing, therefore, to find that less than a tenth of the practising members of the county, that is, about eighty or so, put in an appearance.

The programme usual on those occasions was observed: Committee meeting at 11.15; service at noon; and luncheon at 1.15. The towers open for ringing were: Sevenouks (6), West-Shoreham (8), Brasted (6), Seal (6), and Seal Chart (6). (8), Westerham (8),

At the service the association's form was used, the prayers being At the service the association's form was used, the prayers being read by the hon, secretary, and the lesson by the Rev. A. W. Habersohn, assistant curate. The address was given by the Rector (the Rev. W. E. Gilliat) from the text, Col. iii, 23: 'Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily (from the soul), as unto the Lord.' Three hymns were sung, 'When God of old came down from Heaven,' 'Come, gracious Spirit, heavenly dove,' and the special ringers' hymn, 'Unchanging God, who livest, Enthroned in realms above.' The organ was played by the Rev. G. C. E. Ryley, M.A. Mus.Bac., Vicar of East Peckham, with his accustomed taste and skill. The collection was devoted to the Benevolent Fund. skill. The collection was devoted to the Benevolent Fund.

The luncheon took place in the grounds of the Lime Tree Hotel, in a covered sort of alley, which would have sheltered the company from rain or sun, had there been any, but afforded no protection from wind. Fortmately, however, there was not more than a gentle breeze, which would have been more pleasant, if it had been a trifle warmer. Through the modesty of the Rector, the hon. a trifle warmer. Through the modesty of the Rector, the hon. secretary was called upon to preside, being supported by the Revs. W. E. Gilliat, A. W. Habersohn, G. C. E. Ryley, Mrs. Gatchouse (a life member and practical ringer), the district secretaries, Mesars. Tribe, Buesden, Groombridge, Sone, Mitchell and Latter, and other members of the committee. After the usual toasts, 'The King,' and 'Archbishop and Clergy,' with thanks to the preacher, to which the Rector responded, the hon, sceretary read his report, which, with the statement of accounts, was adopted, on the proposition of Mr. F. Mitchell, seconded by Mr. F. White (Tunbridge Wells).

Mr. Steed (Tonbridge) proposed the election of officers, vicepresidents (other than ex-officio), secretary, treasurer, auditor and committee.—This was seconded by Mr. E. Hadlow (Gravesend), and

The company then adjourned, some to ring, others, mainly the older contingent, to enjoy the beauty and quiet of the Rectory garden, which, by the kindness of Mr. Gilliat, was open to ringers throughout the day. There is not much connection between lawn tennis and change ringing; but while the church bells were being rung (not 'ringing,' mind you, as ordinary journalists will persist in putting it), it was pleasant to sit and-watch a tennis match bein putting it), it was pleasant to sit and-watch a tennis match between the Rector and his curate, the former an old Varsity and International football blue, whose fifty years have not yet robbed him of his youthful agility and suppleness. The writer has no record of the kind or amount of ringing that was done during the day; but it would be safe to say that touches were brought round in most of the methods generally practised at the present time.

DEATH OF MR. JOSEPH BLISS, HIGH WYCOMBE

The High Wycombe belfry has sustained the loss of a valued supporter, by the death of Mr. Joseph Bliss, who passed away on Sunday, June 8th, at the age of 70 years. The deceased had always taken an interest in the welfare of the local ringers, and any appeal made on behalf of the tower met with a sympathetic reappeal made on behalf of the tower met with a sympathetic response. Two tablets in the beirry were presented by Mr. Bliss, including one recording a peal of Stedman Cinques by the Royal Cumberlands. A truly typical English gentleman, his passing will cause a deal of sorrow to many other branches of Christian work. On the day of the funeral the heavy eight bells of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled, Thurstans' quarter-peal of Stedman being rung in 50 mins.: Fred Hayes (conductor) 1, George Hinton 2, Ralph Coles 3, Sidney (T. Goodchild 4, George White 5, P.S. Cecil E. Smith 6, Edward R. Coles 7, William H. Plumridge 8.

PASSING OF AN OLD RINGER.

At the Parish Church, Bishep's Stortford, Herls, on Thursday, June 12th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung, with the bells half-muffled: H. M. White 1, F. Bird 2, H. J. Tucker (conductor) 3, H. Dew 4, H. Champness 5, W. W. Tucker 6, W. T. Prior 7, C. Ridgewell 8. This was rung as a last tribute of respect to the late Mr. William Rickelt, aged 76, who was a runger to the late Mr. William Rickelt, aged 76, who was a runger by at the above church for over 50 years.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual festival was held at Hereford on Whit Monday, June 9th. At 12.15, a service was held in the Cathedral, when about 100 ringers were present. The Rev. S. Cornish Watkins preached an excellent sermon from Ps. xix. 3. Dinner was served at the Booth Hall, where 76 sat down, 25 towers being represented.

Some excellent speeches were made.

The following facts were mentioned in the annual report: Ring-mg members had increased from 605 to 690; towers from 76-84; 146 probationers had been carolled during 1923. The hon. members had increased from 79 to 114, and their subscriptions from 225 to 236. Fifty-two peals had been rung. The balances of the districts stood at £48, and the Central Fund at £70.

At the business meeting, held after the dinner, the Master (Mr. J. G. Buchanan) resigned the office, which he had held since 1891, and Mr. C. Edwards was unanimously appointed in his place. The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson and Mr. J. G. Buchanan were elected vice-presidents; Mr. J. Heavan (Bridstow), Rev. F. W. Worsey, Rev. Prehendary C. E. Warner, Mr. S. T. Rackham (Abergavenny) were added to the committee. The Rev. G. W. Turner was re-elected hon, secretary.

About fifty ringers were present, representing a dozen towers. After service the delegates were entertained to tea in the Village Hall by the Rector (the Rev. A. D. Pennington). Being chairman of the branch for this year, the Rector took the chair at the business meeting which followed, and was supported by the secretary (Mr. W. Yeend).

An appeal from the Winchcombe tower for an instructor was necessary by Mr. Howinghout Traddington being the secretary.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his address and kind reception concluded the business. A heavy thunderstorm prevented a move to the tower except in the case of a few daring spirits, but a piano and some lady helpers present, suggested dancing to beguile the time. No doubt the energetic secretary was stiff for Seven bands entered, viz., Ecclesfield, Wortley, Rawmarsh, Wath, Cawthorne, Sandal and Horbury. The test was 720 Minor, in any method or variation. Three bands failed to go through. The remaining four were judged and placed by Mr. Lambert, Bolsover, the faults being as follow: Wath, 256; Ecclesfield, 268; Sandal, 290; Rawmarsh, 414. had made the contest possible.

The President of the Association (Mr. R. Thickett) proposed a vote of thanks to the local company, and all who had joined in paying such a compliment to the society. A peal in another new Surprise mothod, of which Mr. Gabriel Lindoff is the author, has been rung by the Leiston band. It is on the extending lead principle, and has been named 'Rochester.' The figures will be published in due course, but we have a hazy notion that a method known as Rochester Surprise was rung many years ago. If that is so, perhaps some of our readers will be able to give us the information. But we may be mistaken.

A peal tablet at St. Poter-at-Arches, Lincoln, records a peal of 'Catharans Tripples' rung there ou June 20th, 1756. This is believed to be Garthon's peal of Grandsire Triples, tho first Grandsire composition that was rung. It was called at Lincoln by John Foster, who some years before had called the same composition at Goddenham, Suffolk, where, apparently, he was a member of Theodore Ecclestone's band.

METHOD NOMENCLATURE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—We read with interest your report of the Council held on Tuesday, and note that there were nearly 90 members present; further, we read that the numbers voting one way or another on the matter of method nomenclature were 63 and 67 on the two resolutions respectively. Presumably the remainder present had gone to sleep, or had attended the Council to have an excuse for Wembley; the real reason, of course, being that they were not interested in whether the names were revised or not.

We all know the apathy that is prevalent at all meetings where voting is necessary, and we deplore the fact that it is possible for a minority to foist their opinions upon the majority because of this: we realise this may be looked at from the opposition's point of view in this particular instance, and we quite agree that the narrow margin of gain must be particularly galling, when nearly one-third of the representatives fail to vote either for or against.

We look for those 'sheep' in general meetings, but should have thought that the 'cream' of the associations sent to the Council would have produced grounds against the council of the sent produced grounds against the council would have produced grounds.

would have produced representatives capable of holding opinions upon all matters. However, thirty of the 'brains' of the assomations evidently thought it not worth the while of the energy required, to cast a vote for or against the upsetting of last year's work in this matter.

We note Mr. Trollope's remarks, and quite agree that the ringers have no right to claim a name for a method—surely the man who 'discovers' a thing has a right to do as he pleases, but while we are touching upon the subject from this angle, we fear that the committee just appointed will have a fairly rough time in the future, if they are going to lay down some rule for the naming of Minor and Major methods. The experts appear to be unable to agree as to what is a correct extension of a method.

Would it not be possible for the Council to the formation of

Would it not be possible for the Council to try to arrange a meeting of the authorities upon method construction, where they might sit round a table and work out a suitable scheme, whereby can be determined what is a proper extension—thus to work for the betterment of ringing generally.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

The proceedings having been opened with prayer, Mr. E. A. Young temporarily took the chair for the election of president, and stated that only one nomination had been received, namely that of Canon Coleridge. He was proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by the Rev. H. Law James, and he (the speaker), therefore, had to declare Canon Coleridge elected for the ensuing three years

Canon Coloridge, on taking the chair, reminded the Council that the work of the Council was a young man's game. time he would be in his 70th year, and they would have to elect time he would be in his fuch year, and they would have to elect someone else. He had tried to do what he could as president, and he felt if the greatest honour of his ringing career to occupy that position. He would do what he could during the next three years. Meanwhile he had to thank the Council for the confidence reposed in him, and he would do his utmost in order that that confidence classify not be misulated (appliage). should not be misplaced (applause).

The President said the only nomination for hon, secretary and treasurer was Mr. E. A. Young, and he, therefore, declared him elected, Mr. Young acknowledging the election.

On the motion of Canon Baker, seconded by the Rev. C. E. Marthews, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn was re-elected hon librarian, and he and Mr. Young were thanked for their services.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Messrs. R. B. Chambers, E. H. Lewis, G. Chester, C. Edwards, H. W. Wilde, C. E. Borrett, G. Bolland, D. J. Nichols and G. Williams, and Mrs. N. Edwards.

LATE SECRETARY'S SERVICES ACKNOWLEDGED.

The President said the next business was a very pleasant one, and one which did not often occur in the Council. It was to ask their late sceretary, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who had served them so faithfully for something like nineteen years, to accept at their hands a slight token of their appreciation for all that he did as their treasurer and secretary from 1902 to 1921. The gift took the form of a cup, which was inscribed;

'CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS.

'Presented to the Rev. Charles Douglas Percy Davies, M.A., in grateful recognition of his valuable services as secretary and treasurer during the long period of nearly 20 years.'

The President then asked Mr. Davies to accept the gift with their most grateful and hearty thanks and appreciation for the most meritorious services he rendered to the Council, not only as secretary to do the council of the council o tary, but in many other capacities. He was always ready to do what he could for them, and he would still do so in the future, although he was no longer secretary. In the name of the Council he asked Mr. Davies to receive the cup as a token of their deep appreciation of all he had done for them, and of their esteem for his character of the council here.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said he did not know how to thank the Council enough for that very touching token of their regard. It was a most beautiful cup, and all he could say was that the little he was able to do for the Council was done with the utmost pleasure and readiness, and if he was able during that period to contribute to the stability of the Council, to its standing in the Exercise, and to its usefulness, he was amply rewarded without any present. Their recognition of his services touched him extremely. The form which the present had taken was one which he could not possibly have wished otherwise. A cup like that was a possession for ever; not only would it be a great joy to him to see during the remainder of his life, but it was a thing which would go down to his children and their children's children. It would be a standing memorial of the Council's feeling and their kindness towards him. He thanked them from the bottom of his heart, and the cup would remaind him for the rest of his life of the Council's appreciation of the mind him for the rest of his life of the Council's appreciation of the very little he was able to do (applause).

The accounts having been audited by the Standing Committee, were presented by the treasurer. The year began with a balance were presented by the treasurer. The year began with a balance in hand of £76 18s. 7d. Affiliation fees (including 15s. arrears: amounted to £13, and £4 9s. 4d. was received from interest on stock. The expenditure, which included £2 5s. 8d. loss on the sale of publications and £20 for the ringers' Roll of Honour, amounted to £31 10s. 10d., leaving a balance of £62 17s. 1d.—The accounts were adopted, on the motion of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, seconded by the Rev. H. Law James.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

The Hon. Librarian read the following report for 1923-24: The number of publications sold during the year ending April 30th, 1924, is 265, as against 315 in the previous twelve months. It should be said that of this number 37 were copies of the report of the conference with S.P.A.B. It has cost the Council £2 5s. 8d. to sell these books. The sum of 9s. has come in from the 'on sale or return' source, as against £1 8s. 7d. a year ago, but a sum of 11s. 9d. came to hand after my accounts were made up, while one of the four agents for sales has not yet sent a return. The publications 'Rules for a local company' and 'On the Preservation of Bells' are out of print, and there is, perhaps, a little more than one year's supply of 'Legitimate (Regular) Minor Methods.' It is surely a matter of wonder and regret that there is not more demand for the 'Glossary,' especially as a book to give to one outside the Exercise who is asking for some general enlightment on our art. Last August I was approached by Mr. Flitton, of the Suffolk Guild, with an offer to insert an advertisement in their annual report free of charge. This I accepted with thanks. This was followed up last February with an invitation to advertise in the 1924 report at the reduced charge of 5s. for a half-page. I replied that I would bring the matter before the Council, and accordingly 1

Corrigenda of Collections of Peals.-I was instructed at the last Council meeting to proceed with this work, and to publish results when they could be obtained. Roll of Honour.—This is now completed, and is here for your inspection. Within certain limits you left me a free hand as carrying it out, and I trust I have not abused this freedom. Council may remember that it had a very generous offer from Mr. T. Wilson, of Blackburn, to write the names free of charge, if we would find someone to do the work of ornamenting and binding. Shortly after our last meeting, I received a request from Mr. Cousins, an engrosser, of Cambridge, through a member of the Council, to be allowed to tender for carrying out the whole work. Finding that his total estimate was only a little in excess of the sum voted by the Council, and that his specimen work was extremely good, I consulted with the President, and we agreed that we could not do better than entrust Mr. Cousins with the whole work. It must be acknowledged that he has given us a most worthy memorial of our loved and honoured dead. When the Council voted the sum of £20 towards recording these names, it was suggested that a few pounds more could if necessary be provided by private subscription. I am presenting no account for such things as postal or advertising charges, for although the task of compiling this roll has been a hard one, I have felt it an honour to do it. The total cost is £23 14s., and I have this confidence in my brother members that before the Council separates there will be no debt upon the Roll of Honour.

The Librarian added that the Roll contained the names of 1,071

A BEAUTIFUL RECORD.

The President remarked that it was due from him to say how deeply the Council was indebted to the Librarian for his work in connection with the Roll. He had spent not merely hours and hours, but weeks and weeks, in trying to get everything as accurate as possible. The work had been almost superhuman, kad before them that day the most beautiful album. He would like to add that it was taken to an art expert at South Kensington. who said it was the most beautiful example of modern writing and illumination and ornamentation which had ever come into the illumination and ornamentation which had ever come

With regard to the disposal of the volume, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said he had a 'brain wave' with regard to it, for it occurred to him that a most suitable place to keep it would be in the library at St. Paul's Cathedral. He, therefore, wrote to the Dean on the subject, and the Dean had consented. He (the Librarian, therefore, moved that the Memorial Book be placed in the library at St. Paul's Cathedral, on the understanding that it be open to the inspection of those who visited the Cathedral and wished to examine it, until such time as the Council determined .- Canon Baker

Some discussion ensued as to the exact terms on which the volume should be placed in the library, and eventually it was unanimously agreed that it should be deposited on permanent loan, and should be produced on all such oceasions as it might be demanded by the Council through the hon. librarian.

It may here be added that the volume, bound in royal leather, was open to the inspection of members, whose admiration of the work of Mr. Cousins was unbounded. The title page of the Roll is a copy of the King's Scroll:—

They whom this work commemorates were numbered amongst those who, at the call of King and Country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger, and finally passed out of the sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom.

The whole book is a positive work of art, but this page is a really glorious specimen of the illuminator's craft.

With regard to the distribution of the Corrigends of the Council's Peal Collection, the Librarian suggested that the slips, when completed should be sent to applicants who forwarded a penny stamn (a halfnenny for postage and a halfnenny towards the cost). It would be notified in 'The Ringing World' when these slips would be ready.—This was agreed to, as was also the proposal that the Council was unable to pay for advertising its publications in association reports, Canon Elsee suggesting that associations might be willing to insert such a notice without charge.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The following hon, members retired by rotation: Messrs, J. Carter, R. A. Daniel, Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Messrs, J. S. Pritchett, J. A. Trollope and J. H. B. Hesse.

These were re-elected with the exception of Mr. Daniel, and with the addition of Mr. Joseph Griffin, of Burton, and the hon, secretary (Mr. E. & Yange)

The Standing Committee were elected as follows: Canon Coleridge, Canon Elsee, Revs. C. W. O. Jenkyn, H. Law James, C. D. P. Davies, Messrs. W. T. Cockerill, J. Griffin, E. H. Lewis and E. A. Young (re-elected), and J. S. Pritchett, A. A. Hughes, Cyril F. Johnston, and Pryce Taylor (added).

The reports of committees were next received by the Council. For the Peni Collection Committee, Mr. J. A. Trollope reported that the work of the committee during the past year had been in connection with the corrigonda.—The committee was re-elected as follows: Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Messrs. J. A. Trollope, H. W. Wilde, J. W. Parker and Miss E. K. Parker; und the Rev. E. S. Powell was added. added.

The Literature and Press Committee's report, which has already appeared in 'The Ringing World,' was adopted, and the committee re-elected as follows, with the addition of Mr. A. Paddon Smith Revs. C. E. Matthews, A. T. Beeston, F. Ll. Edwards, Messrs. G. P. Burton and W. Willson.

The Rev. H. Law James reported for the Methods Committee. He said the Council would remember that two years ago the committee was instructed to print a selection of the Collection of Plain Major Methods. He was sorry to say Mr. Lewis had still got the manuscript. He (Mr. James) had been writing to him vigorously, but had got no reply. Mr. Lewis was a very busy man, who seemed to be in a position rot only of writing to him vigorously, but be in a position not only of national, but of international importance. They did not want to hurry him, but while he could not say they would have the collection in print by the next meeting. he hoped they would do so.

The committee, consisting of the Rov. H. Law James, and Messre.

The committee, consisting of the Rev. H. Law James, and Messiv. E. H. Lewis and J. A. Trollope, were re-elected.

The adoption of the report of the Peals Analysis Committee, already published, was moved by the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, and seconded by the Rev. A. T. Beeston, the former remarking that in the past year he had had to leave the greater part of the work to his colleagues.

The President said the analysis was a perfect monument of zeal and crudition. What the Exercise owed to the gentlemen who undertook this vast responsibility no words of his could express.

but they thanked them very much for their labours (applausa).

The report was adopted, but on the proposal for the re-election of the committee, the Rev. E. W. Carpenter said he had reluctantly to retire. He had had fifteen or sixteen years of the work, and now he found that his sight was failing, and it was really necessary that he should give up. He hoped members would take the hint of the President, that they wanted young blood. They still had Mr. Beeston and Mr. Parker, who were so excellent at the work, and Mr. Williams, who was always so helpful in any reference that was sent to him. They could carry on if the Council could induce some younger member, who could be broken into the work, to give them assistance.

The President said they heard with great regret Mr. Carpenter's decision to retire, but they must allow for age.

The Rev. C. E. Matthews appealed to some of the vounger members to come forward and take the place of the senior members.

Eventually the Rev. A. T. Beeston, and Messrs. J. W. Parker and G. Williams were re-elected, and Miss E. K. Parker added to the committee.

METHOD PRODUCTION

To the Editor.
Sir,-It must be confessed that all scientists have to plead guilty to Mr. Baker's charge of arbitrariness. They assume (and I acknowledge it is an enormous assumption) that 2 and 2 make 4. However, most people are willing to account the fact that it is so,

However, most people are willing to accept the fact that it is so, and, moreover, they do not as a rule trouble themselves to worry whether this statement is an arbitrary law or not.

All mathematics depends upon belief that it is true, and once that is accepted the rest follows of necessity. Incidentally there have actually been produced (as Mr. Trollope says) by strictly logical reasoning a series of formulæ by whose means all known methods and thousands of unknown ones can be turned out as mechanically as sausages are discharged from a sausage machine, and these formulæ provide for the mathods' extension to higher and these formulæ provide for the methods' extension to higher numbers by every conscivable means.

That these formulæ lead to a different inference as to the relationship between London Surprise Minor and Major, from that which finds favour with Mr. Baker is unfortunate-for the formulæ or for Mr. Baker.

Your readers will, of course, understand that I make no sugges-tion as to his theories being arbitrary. If they were so he could never fall into the weakness of reasoning, shown by the pot in its conversation with the kettle .-- Yours, etc. E. S. POWELL.

The many friends of Mr. Sam Thomas will regret to learn that he is now dangerously ill with pneumonia, and is an innate of Ward S6, Lodge Moor Hospital, Sheffield. His condition is critical, but hopes are entertained that a strong constitution will enable him to pull through safely,

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL GATHERING AT CHELMSFORD.

The members of the Essex Association assembled in large numbers at Chelmsford on Whit Monday for their 46th annual meeting, which proved a great success, and again justified the choice of the which proved a great success, and again justified the choice of the Cathedral town as the popular rendezvous for Essex ringers. In the morning the twelve bells of the Cathedral were rung by several bands from different parts of the county. There was a break in the ringing for the annual service, at which the association form was used, together with special hymns. The Cathedral Precentor officiated, and Mr. C. H. Howard (Braintree), Master of the Association, and the lesser.

The Bishop of Chelmsford (Dr. Guy Warman) was the preacher, and expressed his pleasure at being able to address the representa-tive bell ringers from the Diocese. The ringing of church bells to some people might appear a matter of very small moment, but all down the history of the church in our land it had been part of the ministry of the Church of God. The ringers and himself each in their particular function were serving in the church - they were fellow servants. The Bishop said he was afraid if he had to ring hells-which he had had to do once or twice in livings he had held -he would do it very badly, and possibly if the ringers had to preach a sermon they would do it almost as badly. Each had their particular task, and he was certainly not contemptuous of ringers. If a service was worth doing at all it was worth doing properly, and the ringers had recognised that by banding themselves together in an association to make their particular piece of service as effective as it could be. Why were church bells rung: why did the association exist, and what was the compelling motive? why did the association exist, and what was the compelling motive? There were no church bells in the day of the Master, but He suffered the common experience of life, and had something to say about every piece of work. The method and pattern behind His work was the pattern for to-day. Ringers enjoyed their service, and one could only feel sorry for people who had so misconceived life that they had no enjoyment in it. Ringers took pleasure in their work, but it was quite voluntary, and they could stop ringing the church bells to-morrow if they wished. The ringers, of their own sweet wills, rang for service, and the duty of life was sweetened by the thought of love. He asked the ringers to go back to ed by the thought of love. He asked the ringers to go back to their task, feeling that a happy compulsion rested upon them to do their task as well as it could be done in the service of the church of the Lord Jesus Christ. He wanted bell ringing to be put at the highest: not merely an interest, but a service, and happy service was the road to the Kingdom. The cheery music of the bells was a witness that love was service.

VILLAGE DIFFICULTIES.

The annual business meeting followed at the Vestry Hall, where the Bishop of Chelmsford presided over a crowded attendance, representative of all parts of the Diocese. The 85 members present included the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, ex-hon, secretary to the association; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal, Messrs. Thomas and G. W. Faulkmer, L. W. Wiffen, W. H. Theobald W. Lincoln, W. J. Nevard, P. Timson, F. Deach, E. J. Butler, G. R. Pye, and many other distinguished ringers tinguished ringers.

The Moster presented his report as follows: It is gratifying to record, year after year, the continued success of our association and its work. The past year has been no exception to the general rule. Although now forty-five years since its foundation-and recognising all the good work accomplished in the way of belfry improvements, the extension of the art of change ringing, the raising of the status of ringers as church workers, and increased interest of the clergy—still much remains to be done. The difficulty of maintaining regular bands in the villages increases. Our efforts in future should be especially directed to giving assistance to isolated towers by more frequent visits from those who have the advantage of belonging to flourishing hands of competent exponents of the Exer-

Financially we are in a very healthy state. The income is £60 12s. 8d., against £58 2s. 4d. in the previous year. The expenditure shows a decrease of £12 6s. 4d., which enables us to replace in the reserve fund £10 of the £25 12s. which was taken in 1921 to meet the cost of the War Memorial, leaving a balance in hand on the general account of £29 2s. 11d. Our reserve now totals £79 1s. 5d. The membership stands at 1.037, an increase of 48 on the year—and exceeding the record in 1921 by 16. During the year, the ring of six at Arkesden has been remained and available with the ring of six at Arkesden has been remained and available the ring of six at Arkesden has been repaired, and various minor improvements have been carried out in several towers. An order has been placed to recast and rehang, in an iron frame, the unmusical ring of eight at Great Baddow, and it is hoped the new bells will be dedicated and reonened in the autumn.

Forty-five peals have been rung during the year, namely: Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 1; Stedman Cinques, 1; Treble Bob Royal, 1; Stedman Caters, 1; Grandsire Caters, 1; London Surprise Major, 5: Cambridge, 6; Superlative, 3. Double Norwich Major, 6; Treble Bob, 7; Bob Major, 2; Grandsire Triples, 2; various minor methods, 9. Twenty-two acted as conductors.

The death of the Bishop of Chelmsford, Dr. Watts-Ditchfield, our president, was a great loss to the association. He took an immense interest in our work; his presence at our annual gatherings served as an inspiration, and his frequent messages thrilled us with fresh zeal. The late Bishop's influence in our association will long be felt. In ringing members we have lost Mr. Arthur Edwards, of Boreham; Mr. A. T. Morris, of Harwich; Mr. A. G. Clarke, of Boreham; Mr. A. T. Morris, of Harwich; M. Broomfield, and Mr. A. B. Peak, of Maldon.

Our new president, Dr. Guy Warman, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, is already keenly interested in the association. He very readily consented to accept the office, and we confidently look forward to increased usefulness under his presidency. The district officers and auditors have maintained the work of the association at its present high level, and I tender them, in your name, our Sincere thanks for their continued efforts.

On the proposition of Mr. E. J. Butler, the report and accounts

BISHOP AND RINGERS.

The Bishop of Chelmsford said he wanted to tell the ringers how glad he was to be with them that day, and how he appreciated their ringing as he moved from place to place in the diocese. On going to a parish he heard the bells ringing, and knew the tremendous efforts the ringers made to perform that duty. He was grateful for the services of the ringers rendered everywhere. If the diocese was to become one big family it had to be realised that the diocese was to become one big family it had to be realised that the Bishop, bell ringers, and others, were all part of the work. In the last 50 years the story of bell ringing was one of wonderful advance. Fifty years ago, before the Essex Association was formed, there were scandals and difficulties connected with bell ringers, and he very much doubted if a Bishop would have been welcomed to their meeting, for bell ringers and the rest of the church were not on the best of terms with one another. Now they were a happy band of brothers and sisters in these enlightened days, working together in a great cause. He wished the ringers more power to their elhows in the work they were going to do (applause).

Mr. Ellis, Harwich, proposed, and Mr. G. Pye, Romford, seconded, the re-election of Mr. C. H. Howard as Master, and spoke of the capable way he had carried out the duties.—The motion was carried unanimously, and Mr. Howard, in returning thanks, also thanked the Bishop of Chelmsford for his helpful address, and for the ready way in which he consented to become President of the Essex Association. The newly-elected Master then took the chair, and the Bishop left the meeting.

and the Bishop left the meeting.

Mr. F. J. Pitstow, Saffron Walden, was re-elected hon, secretary, and all the officers were re-appointed. It was decided that the general committee should consist of all the officers, and not less than five members to be elected from the meeting. The following three, the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, Messrs, W. Lincoln and T. Faulkner, were elected, and two seats were left vacant.

Mr. Faulkner suggested in view of the excellent balance which the society holds, that those members who had attained 70 years of age should be relieved from paying subscriptions in future, and should be retained as free members.—This suggestion was endorsed by the Master, who stated that the matter should be brought forward at the next annual meeting. Three new members were elected—Messrs. W. H. Smith (Felsted), H. Sketchley and W. Staines (Saffron Walden).

THE DIOCESAN ADVISORY BOARD.

The Master reported that he had been elected a member of the Chelmsford Diocesan Advisory Board, which was a recognition of ringing in the diocese, All matters connected with improvements and alterations in churches, including the rehanging of hells, came before this body. Since he had been a member, each time he had sat on the Board, there had been something connected with bells. On several occasions there were recommendations by gentlemen—some interested in the antiquity of bells rather than their practical use—and he had been able to get some modifications in the recommendations of the Advisory Board. At Great Baddow he was able to put forward the suggestion that the new bells should be relung on one level, and the bells were recast instead of being retuned. It was impossible to get the Great Baddow bells in tune until they were recest. The Master said he wanted it recorded that a representative of the Essex Association of Change Ringers' had been elected a member of the Diocesan Board, as such Boards had been set up all over the country, and it would be useful in future to have it known that the recognition had been given to ringers in Chelmsford Diocese.

Faulkner asked what was the attitude of the Essex Association towards six bell ringing and the nomenclature of Minor He said floral and other names were being given to the methods.—The Hon. Secretary read a resolution from St. John Bantist Association, Leytonstone, stating that steps should be taken by six bell bands to enforce a decision regarding the nomenclature of legitimate Minor methods at the coming meeting of the Central Council.—The Master said he had no hesitation in supporting that proposal, as he felt that the names of methods should stand, and not be changed. In some cases floral names were being used, and in one case a method was renamed twice in about a year. He promised support to the Leytonstone resolution. — This concluded the meeting.

In the afternoon and evening, the following bells were rung;—
Cathedrai (12), Writtle (8), Widford (8, Galleywood (8), Great Waltham (8), Springfield (6), Broomfield (6), Boreham (8). There were somo excellent touches of Cambridge Surprise Royal, Stedman Cinques, Treble Bob Royal, London, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, Double Norwich Major and Stedman Triples.

CANON PAPILLON'S GOOD WISH8S.

The Master received a letter, which he read to the members, from the Rev. Canon Papillon, the first Master of the Association, send-ing his good wishes, and stating he was glad to find many old friends still going strong in the Essex Association, including the present Master, and Messrs. Nevard, F. Pitstow, W. H. Judd, T. Faulkner, G. A. Black, H. J. Tucker, etc. He wished the Essex ringers a pleasant and successful meeting, and the association continued prosperity.

NORFOLK GUILD.

A general meeting of the Norfolk Guild was held at Lowestoft on Whit Monday. By kind permission of the Rev. E. C. Morgan (Rector of Lowestoft)) the ring of eight bells at the Parish Church of St. Margaret's were placed at the disposal of the members.

Luncheon was served at the Crown Hotel, the Rector of Lowes-Rev. R. Bulstrode, Mr. Lancelot F. Orde, and the following members of the committee: Messrs. C. E. Borrett, F. W. Naunton, C. S. Tuthill, F. C. Lambert, J. Souter, and the general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Coleman). Representatives were present from the Norwich, Great Yarmouth and Lothingland districts. Secretary announced that the president (the Dean of Norwich) had written to him apologising for his absence from the meeting.

At the business meeting, Messrs, Hubert Ernest Duffield. liam Baldry and Austin Head were elected members of the Guild. -The Secretary moved a vote of thanks to the Rector of Lowestoff for presiding over the meeting, and also for the use of the hells.—The Rev. E. C. Morgan acknowledged the vote, and expressed the pleasure he had had in presiding.

The Secretary announced that the August Bank Holiday meeting would be held at North Elmham.

Double Norwich, Cambridge and London Surprise Major.

An excellent tea was propovided by local ladies, under the able guidance of Miss Stephenson, and the company numbered 25.

The president occupied the chair, and there were ringers present from St. Ignatius, Sunderland; Holy Trinity, Darlington; Newcastle Cathedral; St. George's, Jesmond; Whitley Bay, and the local towers.

Three new members were elected, and the President proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicars of the three churches for kindly placing their bells at the ringers' disposal, and to the ladies for making such excellent arrangements for tea .- Afterwards there was further ringing.
