CLAIMS TO COMPOSITIONS.

A correspondent, who is not without some knowledge of the subject, referring to the fact that in our last issue composers renounced their claim to three peals, ventures the opinion that if it were possible to publish the figures of all the peals composed during the last decade or so, perhaps not five per cent. of them would be found original. While some ringers may not be prepared to put the figure quite so low, there can be no question that a very considerable proportion of the compositions produced in these days have been obtained before. There are some plans in some methods that are completely worked out, but would-be composers do not know it. They belong to a new generation and the work of men that have gone is unknown to them. In due course another new generation will spring up, and they will reproduce the work of those now living. It must inevitably be so all the while there is no complete record of compositions to which reference can be made. For the time being, at any rate, the Central Council cannot see its way to forming such a register as would be required. The difficulty is not so much in getting the material together, as in making effectual use of it when it has been compiled, and yet the need of such a thing becomes more and more apparent as time goes on.

Our correspondent points out that the disclaimers of last week were brought about by the publication of the figures and, obviously, publicity is one of the best means of ascertaining whether a composer is entitled to claim a composition. There are, however, two very strong reasons against it. In the first place the obligation of proving the right to a composition should rest upon the composer and his right should not stand merely by default of a counterclaim. Secondly, the publication of compositions on any large scale is a costly matter, and it cannot be expected that others should bear the expense of printing figures merely in order that someone may be satisfied, not necessarily that a composition had not been obtained before, but that at the date of its publication no one else claimed it. When a man puts together the figures of a peal it should be his responsibility to show that he has the right to call it an original production, but how can he do that unless there is available for his use some record of what has gone before? Constantly composers, who are just making their first groping efforts in this branch, send their figures to 'The Ringing World,' asking if they are original, so that we know there is a real desire among this class of beginners to do the right thing and not claim as their own anything which has been previously produced. But in the absence of definite information, what is more natural than for a budding aspirant to claim his work as something new even though its plan may be so obvious that scores of his predecessors may have obtained the same peal. The time is certainly coming when the word 'composed' will lose a lot of its significance. In regard to a great many modern productions 'arranged' is already a more appropriate description, and there would be good ground for using this term in all cases where the plan of composition or the requirements of the method were not entirely new.

BELLRINGERS GO FOX HUNTING.

There was a very pleasant gathering of ringers at Foxearth on Saturday, when the Northern Division held a meeting at this place, the first since 1924. Although the parish is somewhat isolated from the rest of the county, a number took advantage of the ideal autumn afternoon and proceeded there by bicycle. A warm welcome was extended to all by Mr. Sam Evans, the leader of the local band, who had everything in readiness, and touches of Stedman; Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major were rung before the service.

The service was taken by the Rector (the Rev. G. H. Bassett), Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the Association, read the lesson, whilst the Rural Dean, Dr. Young, of Birdbrook, gave a most helpful and enlightening address. This was followed by an excellent tea at the Village Hall, which had been arranged by Mr. S. Evans, and about thirty sat down. The Rural Dean, the Rector and organist attended, whilst Mrs. and Miss Evans and a friend waited at table. A business meeting followed, at which one non-resident life member was elected, and it was decided to hold the annual district meeting at Bocking on November 14th.

Mr. Howard, in proposing a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector, said he hoped that some membership would be retained at Foxearth after all the association had done. He thanked the organist for his services, also Dr. Young for his helpful address and advice, and assured him that his words would long be remembered. He also thanked the ladies who had assisted at the tea.

The Rev. G. H. Bassett, in replying, said the ringers were always welcome. He was very pleased to meet them, and hoped they would soon pay another visit.—Dr. Young also acknowledged the vote of thanks, and said it gave him the greatest pleasure to meet a company of ringers.

After other touches on the bells, some of the cyclists decided to make for home. They had left a Fox in the earth, and decided to explore new roads on their return in search of another. All went well until Borley Church was passed, when some of the leaders headed for the Belchamps, whilst the remainder kept to the proper road and finally found the 'Fox' at Bulmer. The others, being somewhat dissatisfied with the state of the Belchamp roads, took to the fields and, after encountering hurdles and footbridges, arrived at a farmhouse. Night was falling, and the thought of home greatly impressed them. Having inquired of the farmer's wife for the 'Fox,' they were politely told there were plenty in the district, but they were greatly relieved when she directed them to the one at Bulmer, which they reached after covering about four miles in one hour and twenty minutes. By this time the other members had seen sufficient of Bulmer, and, although the chief whip gave a loud blast, there was no response from the missing few, so they headed for their own village, which was safely reached. After partaking of reasonable refreshment and discussing the formation of a search party, the last huntsman returned weary and worn, but in good spirits, and although the price of refreshment had been advanced one penny per pint, he said he would have one 'if it cost him a bob.' And he did!

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Western Division, held at Apsley on September 12th, was not so well attended as in previous years, owing to the weather. Ringers came from Hemel Hempstead, King's Langley, Watford, Willesden, Berkhamsted and Tring, and members of the local company were present. The methods rung ranged from Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor. The Rev. C. B. Goodwin held a short service, and very kindly entertained the ringers to tea. At the business meeting, Mr. H. Bishop acted as secretary in the absence of Mr. J. Puplett. The president, Mr. F. J. Reeves, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his generosity in providing tea, and to all those who had helped in making this meeting a success.

DEATH OF DR. EUSTACE HARWOOD.*A FORMER RINGER AT OLD WINDSOR.

The mortal remains of the late Dr. T. Eustace Harwood were laid to rest in the family grave at Old Windsor Church on Saturday, September 5th, the Vicar, the Rev. A. E. McCaig, lately from Cornwall, officiating. The service was choral, and many of the deceased's medical friends and brother bellringers were present. At the conclusion of the sad rites a muffled peal was rung on the tower bells. A memorial service was held on Sunday, September 6th, when the Vicar gave a brief address based on the text, 'The memory of the just is blessed,' in the course of which he mentioned the long connection with the parish of deceased and his father, and referred to the former's literary gifts.

For many years Dr. Harwood resided at Hampstead, but he always maintained his interest in the parish of his birth and its bells. He devoted much time to historical research for his valuable work on 'Windsor Old and New,' a recently published volume, which reveals deep insight into the customs and traffic on the Thames before the days of railroads. This work was dedicated in 1929 to the memory of his father, the Rev. T. E. Harwood, M.A., who was curate of Old Windsor 1862-1873, and Vicar from 1876 to 1911.

Dr. Harwood, in his younger days, became interested in bellringing under the foreman, Mr. J. Gutteridge, who is now 84 years old, and had rung about a dozen peals of Grandsire Triples for the Oxford Diocesan Guild. His first was in January, 1893, conducted by Mr. J. J. Parker, followed by several with the Rev. J. H. Hindson, then Vicar of Wraysbury, just over the river. He had called Parker's Twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples, and was one of the team which scored the 'first local' peal, conducted by Mr. Wm. Welling.

Dr. Harwood's medical studies were carried out at Edinburgh, and whilst there he rang in a peal at the Cathedral of St. Mary, one of the band being the first lady to score a peal in Scotland.

During the war period, Dr. Harwood did strenuous and valuable work at St. George's Hospital, London, and recently he was in private practice. He was of a genial, kind and reserved disposition, much like his father, who died in 1911, and who the writer had the pleasure of knowing personally from 1878. Only last June Dr. Eustace Harwood called to see him and handed him No. 333 of his book—the issue was limited to 400 copies—and had a long chat over the tencups about the old days at Old Windsor when there were only five bells in the tower. Even the possibility of a band of M.D.'s attempting a peal in the near future was discussed, but a greater conductor has called 'Stand.'

DOUBLE GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that there are only two TRUE PLAIN courses of this method, it would be interesting to the Exercise if we could see the actual figures of the six-score, a description of which is given in the new 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods.' Perhaps the committee will oblige.—Yours faithfully,

OWEN KAY.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A number of inscribed ships' bells from British warships, many with war-time associations, are for sale, the most expensive being one from H.M.S. 'Tiger,' priced £10.

Family peals and 'name' peals we have had, railwaymen's and gardeners' peals, but the latest is a 'colour' peal. Last Sunday there were as many tints in a belfry at Brith as you would find on an artist's palette—Gray, White, Green, Brown, Hazell, Rose, Golden and Pink, and between them they rang a peal of Superlative.

Congratulations to that fine old Ipswich ringer, Mr. Robert H. Brundle, who reached the age of 80 years on Friday, and celebrated the event by ringing a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus on Saturday. Mr. Brundle is the oldest ringer to ring a peal of Surprise Maximus, and we hope he will be spared with strength for many years yet to continue the art he loves so well.

The bells at Henlow, Beds, have been restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have added a treble to increase the ring to six. The dedication took place last Saturday.

Owing to a misunderstanding about the membership of one of the ringers, the peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, rung at Prittlewell on August 8th last, cannot be credited to the Essex Association, and consequently is to become a peal for the Kent County Association.

FRAGMENT FROM KINGTON MAGNA.

AFTER PEPYS, AND RECENTLY DISCOVERED.

July 4th (Eve of Lord's Day). Did decide to go to Aquae Sulis to ring at the annual meeting of the ringers of Somerset. Took Gryph on the pillion—a stout fellow. Did encounter much rain and mist, but did ring on the bells there. Mighty pleased with the sermon, for the Rector there did not tell us what naughty men the ringers of old were. Nor did he tell us that we should attend the services for which we did ring, that being mighty difficult for some of the ringers there, who did work on farms. But he did speak some common sense. At 8 p.m., did start back, still raining. Radstock in fine style, but missed petrol cap. Gryph would go and search for it. Half an hour, but no cap. Four shillings. Did hold hand on tank, mighty uncomfortable. Stratton-on-Avon, petrol pipe broke, so mended same with tubing from the lamp, and so on to two miles from Shepton. No petrol, much having run out unperceived when the pipe broke. Now dark, and having no carbide must needs push to Shepton. Garage man mightily astonished, but did fill us up with petrol and carbide and give us a cork. 11 p.m. and on our way. Two miles and lost out of mag. chain case, this falling off with a great clatter. Gryph said he would carry the case, so away again. 12.30 a.m., the timing chain broke. Memo: must get new one. Mended chain, still raining, and timed up the mag.—not easy, but Gryph struck matches and away again. 2 a.m., lamp went out and had to refill it with carbide and water. Strange it should be short of water, seeing we had had so much. 2.45 a.m., left Gryph and so home to bed, 16 miles, 3.30 a.m.

July 11th. A Dorset meeting, with some keen fellows. New chain to mag., fourteen shillings. Did take Gryph, the new chain working well, albeit somewhat noisy. Started back late. Mag. chain broke. Did decide to push, putting new chain on handle bar. Five miles and Gryph asked if chain was all right. Could not feel it, so must needs return to search for it. Had to push bike back for the sake of the light. Went back and found chain. Fourteen shillings. Five miles. (A fragment is missing here.) Resolved to buy a new machine, though mightily disturbed about it, for must needs attend Sanger's practices, Double Norwich. Copper bath rung London and is highly excited. Must not let him leave me so far behind. So to bed early, nothing but scurvy punctures in the new machine. Some say the tyres be perished. Fourteen punctures in eight days. Methinks the devil be in the bike.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Heathfield on Saturday, September 19th, when 35 members and friends attended from the following towers: Battle, Brighton (St. Nicholas'), Burwash, Crawley, Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Hawkhurst, Heene, Lewes, Mayfield, St. Leonards (Christ Church), and Uckfield, together with members of the local band. Mr. W. Haigh, of Etchingam, and Mr. John Evans, of Hughenden, Bucks, were also present.

The bells were kept well going in all methods from Grandsire to Cambridge during the afternoon and evening, and several young ringers obtained their first touches in various methods.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of the Vicar (the Rev. Grahame Clarke), no service was held.

A splendid tea was provided at the Star Inn. The Rev. F. N. Hope presided at the tea, and at the business meeting which followed Mr. W. D. Smith occupied the chair.

Mr. W. Haigh, of Etchingam, and Mr. Arthur Field, of Pevensey, were elected members.

There being no further business, the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwarden for the use of the bells, etc.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.*BELLS NOW AT LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.

At the end of last week St. Bene't's historic bells were lowered to the ground and were removed on Saturday to the Loughborough Foundry. Our photograph shows them outside the church just before they were loaded on to the waiting lorry.

At the Foundry the bells are to be sandblasted and cleaned, the rap notes corrected, new independent crown staples fitted, ball bearings and new clappers provided, and all the other fittings, including headstocks, replaced by new. The frame has also been dismantled, and will be reconstructed and strengthened.

or to the hon. treasurer, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading.

The reopening of the bells and the celebration of the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman is tentatively fixed for Saturday, December 5th.

WEDDING BELLS.

At St. Mary's, Rye, on Saturday, September 12th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung to celebrate the marriage of Mr. Cyril Wenham to Miss Nellie Gain. Mrs. Pattenden 1, K. Pattenden 2, W. Button 3, A. Daw 4, F. Burt 5, C. W. Player 6, H. Wood (conductor) 7, C. Coleman 8. Ringers of 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 8th hail from Stone-in-Oxney, where the bridegroom is a member of the local band.

A BERKSHIRE RESTORATION.*THE BELLS OF WALTHAM ST. LAWRENCE.

Last Sunday was a memorable day in the history of the parish of Waltham St. Lawrence, Berks, for during the morning service the ring of six bells was dedicated after complete restoration and the recasting of the 4th and 6th. For some time past it was known that the fittings of the bells were in a bad state, and this summer, through the generosity of a parishioner, Mr. C. A. Monkhouse, the work of rehanging was put in the hands of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. Fortunately the old timber frame was in good condition, but, after removing the headstocks, the 4th and 6th were both found to be cracked in the crown. This necessitated recasting, and the whole ring was removed to the foundry so that the other four bells could be tuned. This additional expense was generously borne by the same gentleman.

A good congregation assembled in the fine old church for the morning service, which commenced with the processional hymn, 'We love the place, O God.' After the second lesson the clergy proceeded to the ringing chamber, accompanied by the ringers (four of whom were choirmen), Mr. Churchwarden J. J. Warren, Mr. Cyril Johnston and Mr. W. J. Paice, hon. secretary of the Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The actual dedication ceremony was performed by the Master of the Guild, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn. Mr. Johnston handed a rope to the churchwarden, asking him to accept the completed work, and Mr. Warren in turn passed the rope to the Master, and called upon him to dedicate the work to the glory of God. The Master then gathered all the ropes together, and in the sight of the whole congregation blessed the work 'in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.' After the ringers' collects the ropes were placed in the hands of the Vicar, the Rev. F. D. Browne, with a solemn charge to keep the bells from all profane and unhallowed uses. The bells were then rung in rounds by the local ringers, and the great improvement in the tone of the ring was at once appreciated. The whole ceremony was most impressive, and must long remain in the minds of those who witnessed it. The service was then proceeded with, the Master giving a practical address, during which he touched upon the urgency and the nature of the work completed in their tower, the self-sacrificing task of the ringers in that parish and elsewhere, and appealed to young people to come forward and offer themselves as ringers, acquiring that love of bells and the art of changering which alone could make them proficient.

After the service, some short touches of Bob Doubles and Bob Minor were rung by the local ringers, assisted by Mr. Johnston and Mr. W. J. Paice.

The bells, which are now fitted with ball bearings and go perfectly, were originally cast in 1808 by T. Mears and Son. The tenor is 12 cwt. in F, and the total weight of the peal is 45 cwt. 18 lb.

STAVELEY RINGER'S DEATH.

The Staveley company has suffered a severe loss by the death of Mr. Alfred Markwell, which occurred on September 7th, after only three days' illness. He was at work on the 3rd, and, being a goods guard on the L.N.E.R., was getting ready for duty on the 4th when he had a seizure and lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he never recovered. He passed away on the 7th, and was laid to rest on the 10th, several of his workmates and ringing friends being present at the funeral service.

Mr. Markwell was never a great peal ringer, only having rung one peal, but he was a most regular and consistent Sunday service ringer, and always ready on all occasions to 'do his bit' to keep the bells going. His pleasant face will be sadly missed, and his place will be hard to fill. Only the Sunday evening before his death he took part in the service ringing.

He joined the Staveley company at the outbreak of the Great War when the younger men of the company had to join up. Having years before been a six-bell ringer at Wilburton, he proved a valuable addition to the depleted company. He was also a chorister, having been a member of the Staveley Church choir over 20 years, and before that was a member of Bulwell and Stockport choirs. He was an ideal churchman. He loved his church and tried to serve her at all times. He ever did his duty to the best of his ability.

Mr. Markwell, who was 62 years of age, leaves to mourn their loss a widow and one son, to whom the deepest sympathy goes out. The son is following in his father's footsteps, being ringer, chorister and deputy organist at Staveley.

The deceased was a member of the Midland Counties Association and three other societies, and was Staveley's representative on the committee of the Sheffield District Society.

The bells were rung half-muffled after the funeral, also at both services the following Sunday. The ringing for the morning service consisted of 720 Bob Major, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Bob Major was rung, followed by 'the whole pull and stand,' by the following members of the Staveley company, as a tribute to his memory: H. Stow 1, L. G. Palmer 2, W. T. Palmer 3, A. Steward 4, F. E. Parsons 5, N. C. Lewis 6, A. E. Parsons (conductor) 7, J. Knott 8.

SCOTLAND'S GREATEST RING. INVERARAY TOWER AND BELLS NEARING COMPLETION.

CAMPBELL CLANSMEN'S GENEROSITY.

The greatest ring of bells in the Highlands and the finest north of the English border has, within the last few days, found its permanent home in the new tower of the church of All Saints, Inveraray, Argyllshire. These bells, from the Loughborough Foundry, are a magnificent peal, with a tenor of  $41\frac{1}{2}$  cwt. in C. Their installation is almost entirely due to the interest and enthusiasm of His Grace the Duke of Argyll, whose ancestral home is Inveraray Castle. The scheme to provide a noble tower for the church and an equally noble ring of bells was originally conceived before the outbreak of war in 1914, and gradually the bells were secured through the generosity of various donors, headed by the Duke, who gave the first seven bells. The eighth was given by his neighbour and vassal, Sir John Noble, Laird of Ardkinglass; the ninth by 80 of the Duke's friends and clansmen of the Campbell name, and the tenor (in honour of S. Molaise) by two Campbells. Gifts by many others provided the frame and fittings, and in November, 1920, the whole of the ten bells were cast.

At this time the tower was not even begun, so the bells were taken to Inveraray and erected in their frame in a temporary wooden 'Cloichtrach' (the Gaelic word for Bell House), and they have been chimed by means of a clavier, so that their glorious tones are already familiar over the countryside. The bells and their fittings cost over £24,000.

Having got the bells, the next effort was devoted to raising the massive tower. The first stage was up to the 73ft. level, where the bell frame was eventually to be placed. The walls of this portion are between 8 and 9 feet thick, and, internally, the tower is 22ft. 9in. square. This part of the building cost £9,750, and when it had been completed there was a pause of two years while further funds were raised, for another £8,000 was required to finish the structure. By this summer the walls were completed with fine strong battlements, the tops of which are 126ft. above the ground. A turret takes the stair up at one corner of the tower, and its top, capped by a pointed pignon, reaches a height of 138ft. The roof is of strong oak and lead. The floor of the ringing room is of oak, and there are two cement floors above it, forming a 'silence' chamber. The walls above the bells are 4ft. 6in. thick, and pierced by seven high sound windows, with fine stone tracery, such as is found in many Somerset towers. The ground floor, lit by big windows on the west and south sides, will some day be linked up to the church by an aisle—at present the tower is separated from the rest of the building. The ringing room has four windows, and the silence chamber four slits which display the thickness of the walls very well. The tower was built without any exterior scaffolding.

The bell frame rests on immense steel girders built into the walls and, like the bells which it carries, is a worthy specimen of Taylor craftsmanship.

The dedications, weights and diameters of the bells are as follows:—

The dedications are to ancient Celtic saints 'who, in their earthly lives, founded Parish Churches, Chapels, or Monasteries, in the immediate neighbourhood, and planted the Rood of the Redeemer on many storm-sick headlands, or in smiling glens or in lonely forests, where in the sixth and seventh centuries they did great Wonders amongst the Children of the Gael for which they are kept in unfading remembrance.'

The following are the inscriptions and translations:—

During the past few weeks the bells have been taken from the bell house and raised to their proper place in the new tower by Messrs. Taylor's bell hangers, and a few days since the last of them, the tenor, was hoisted in the presence of the Duke of Argyll, Lady Mary Carr-Glyn of Argyll, Lady Elspeth Campbell of Argyll and Dr. Campbell. Soon all the fittings will be complete, and the bells will then be used by means of the clavier. But £1,300 is still required before the great scheme is free of debt, and until that time the consecration and hallowing of both the bells and the tower by the Bishop of Argyll and the Isles cannot take place.

The munificence of the Campbells—the clan of which the Duke of Argyll is chief—may be gauged from the fact that, apart from the bells, members in this country, the United States and the Dominions have contributed over £7,000 towards the tower alone. Inveraray tower and bells, begun from a desire to beautify and adorn the church, are now to serve another purpose. They form a memorial, and each bell is in memory of those who fell in the Great War or in former wars, who came from the parishes or glens where the saints named on the bells laboured, or to whom one of those parishes was dedicated.

THE IRISH TOUR.

BY W. H. F.

'England and Ireland, though the seas divide,
Are kissing each other at every tide.'

Who is for Ireland next year? was the question amongst the members of Mr. Williams' party touring North Wales in 1929, when several replied favourably, but the suggestion fell through, and it was Wales again for the 1930 outing. Once more the question was put, and with Mr. Lindoff's enticing 'blarney,' fresh from Dublin, this visit became an accomplished fact in 1931, and herewith are a few notes of the tour by special request. There are now quite a number of English ringers who have crossed the Channel in the past—notably the Pye brothers, 1909—who well know, by experience, the hearty welcome to be met with at the hands of our Hibernian brothers. To those who have never 'cuddled' an Irish Sally, I would mention a further inducement to go over. Good Dublin stout can be bought for sixpence a pint, when once you have made the heaving passage of Edwin Barnett's 'ditch.' I remember, after a visit in 1907, Tom Faulkner, of Barking, writing me in a very sad strain asking why we did not take him with us? I hope my readers will not trouble me with similar inquiries.

Our route was 'Go Great Western to Liverpool, then British and Irish Steam Packet to Dublin, at a cost of only 46s. return ticket, available for 16 days.' Messrs. Newton and Davis kindly dispatched our 'freight' from Liverpool landing stage at 10 p.m. on Saturday, September 5th, and Messrs. Lindoff and Murphy hauled it on to the Dublin North Wall with a hearty welcome at 3 a.m. on Sunday, the 6th, omitting the physical act of affection mentioned at the head of this article.

We had a most comfortable crossing. No one attempted to do an 'odd place last' in his neighbour's bunk. It is quite astonishing what a boat steward can do for a passenger when one has learnt his language; we even envied the Menin Gate travellers their seaworthiness when every man made a 'whole turn' in crossing the English Channel last August. The River Liffey looked its best, a bright sunrise, shining through the mist of morning, being reflected in the ripples on the water as we glided upstream from Dublin Bay. Numerous seagulls wheeling overhead seemed to be united in screaming to our party in Erse, 'Cead Mile Fáille.'

Named after King George V., the George housed us till Monday. This boarding house may well be termed the ringers' rest; its bed linen has sweetly covered the sleeping forms of a whole band of Georges—Messrs. Pye, Williams, Price, Newton, Dent, Fletcher and Martin—to say nothing about the Great George of Rugby—when they slept on Irish soil for the first time.

On Sunday, there was ringing at St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10.30 and 2.30. The visitors' book received new entries, and the Irish Association five new members, who were ably 'branded' by the president with the 'Shamrock' for life. It is worth the journey to be made a member of this society—you cannot be elected in England—and in the belfry was assembled a strong muster of local ringers who held the novices whilst the iron was heated. Among those present were Mr. M. J. Hogan (president), Mr. R. S. F. Murphy, P.C. (ex-president), Messrs. J. A. Atkinson, W. H. Wilson (hon. secretary), Robt. Tait, T. MacMorrán, E. Lutman, G. G. Lindoff, J. W. Townley, A. L. Murray, E. George, G. Lindoff, and several others, including Mr. James Trappitt, of Beddington, in his 78th year, just out of hospital.

Touches of Caters and Cinques were rung, all the bells being brought into play at one time or another according to the particular 'set' we wished to hear. The conductor, like a magician, simply removed a rope to the background and brought forward another, and, 'heigh presto,' a new ring of bells was heard to suit the note of the tenor as required.

Here is a 'belfry' of all the belfries. I have not seen a better in England. Spacious, well fitted and furnished, ample windows and ventilation, good circle and draft of rope; its dark grey stone walls, relieved with white cement pointing, form an excellent background for the coloured sallies, and the plain oak peel boards that reveal the ringing progress of the St. Patrick's Guild for the past 30 years. Since Armistice Day a custom has been carefully maintained at this tower. All ex-Service ringers meet annually and ring an open peal at St. Patrick's, without notice or reminder, until they die out. There are nine—'lucky nine'—left to carry on for 1931.

The evening was spent at Bray, a fashionable seaside town twelve miles out, with a fine bay and esplanade, sheltered by Bray Head, which our tenor lad climbed on foot to balance the extra strain on his upper limbs. Touches for service were rung on the Taylor peal, the local company, some 24 strong, turning up to greet us. I may just mention that they are after the Irish shield for Sunday service ringing. Mr. J. B. Tough, the foreman, is keeping well, and the Rector, the Rev. Chancellor G. D. Scott, still doing duty after 38 years' residence. Alas, Bray and its Vicar sadly reminds me of another Bray and its late Vicar, in Berkshire, who was called from his life work at an early age only a year ago to the regret of all the neighbouring ringers.

Stormy August weather has not been confined to England. Just previous to our landing in Ireland, four inches of rain fell in two

M.P. AND RINGERS.

A DEVON EXCURSION.

Members of the Exeter District of the Devon Guild and their wives mustered strongly on Saturday, September 12th, for a visit to Mamhead Park by invitation of Sir Robert Newman, M.P., who has a long honorary connection with the Guild. Eight societies were represented, and the company totalled between 60 and 70. Sir Robert received his guests with his customary cordiality, and with the assistance of his brother-in-law (Mr. F. R. Lumley) and the Rector of Mamhead (the Rev. W. Greener, hon. chaplain to the Forces) showed them over the gardens and grounds (which are famous for their cork, ilex and other trees) and the Parish Church (which is close to the Park and has memorials and gifts that are linked with the Newman family). The tower contains a ring of five bells, all cast by Thomas Bilbie, of Culmpton, in 1763. Three have inscriptions showing that James Davis and William Braddon were churchwardens at that time; another bears the name of 'The Honourable William Vaughan, Esq.,' and the remaining bell records the name of the founder. One bell was 'crazed' as long ago as 1884, and at the present time only chiming can be done. Several enthusiastic members of the party examined the bells and fittings, and by tapping the bells found they were of agreeable tone. Subsequently the visitors were taken to the clock tower (which commands some of the most charming views of the Exe Estuary and East Devon coast) and shown the gateway and castle keep (a copy of one in the northern part of the country). As the weather was breaking, tea was provided in the great corridor with its fine collection of statuary. Here handbells, available by the forethought of Mr. W. Howe (hon. secretary), were brought into use, and then the visitors were conducted over the house and shown some of its treasures, which include wonderful tapestries (representing Europe, Asia, Africa and America), Japanese art, Dresden china, and so on. The company grouped outside the entrance for photographing by Mr. H. V. Richards, and the opportunity was taken by Mr. A. W. Searle (chairman of the district) to tender to Sir Robert Newman, Mr. Lumley, and lady relatives the sincere thanks of the visitors for the kindness of the welcome, the hospitality and the courtesies extended in explaining features of the church and house. He remarked that every guest deeply appreciated the kindness of Sir Robert in extending an invitation to visit his beautiful home, and, in expressing a general hope that it might be repeated, suggested, amid much applause, that great pleasure would be felt if by that time Sir Robert had become Lord Mamhead.—Sir Robert, in reply, said he had happy recollections of gatherings of the Guild as a guest, and that it was a great pleasure to act as host on this occasion. He could not hazard any opinion about future events, but trusted that the ringers, having found their way to Mamhead now, would possibly be able to do so again.

From Mamhead one section proceeded to Kenton and Powderham, and another to Kenn and Exminster, where, by the kindness of the incumbents, they were able to have a pull on the bells.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at St. Peter's, Bramley, Leeds. About thirty-six ringers and friends partook of an excellent tea, which had been prepared in the school. The Vicar and churchwarden extended a hearty welcome to all the ringers, to which Mrs. Ryder, the vice-president of the district, suitably replied, according votes of thanks to all who had in any way helped to make the meeting such a success.

A choral service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar. After service the ladies held their meeting, at which two new members were elected—Miss Ashton, of Headingley, and Miss V. Holmes, of Dewsbury. Ringers attended from Essex, Rotherham, Rothwell, Bramley, Headingley, Armley, Bailey, Burnley, and Handsworth, Sheffield, and various methods were rung during the afternoon and evening on both tower and handbells.

days, and it rained for 42 hours continually. Much damage was done to houses in and near Dublin, and the Lord Mayor's Fund to relieve distress is now nearing the £1,000 mark. It was very doubtful whether we could get to Bray by train, Ballisbridge, crossing the river Dodder, being half demolished, and heavy lattice girders torn from the buttresses. A single track relief line rigged up showed the 'directors' of our party what an Irish 'gang' can do in a very short time. Whilst writing on the weather, it is well to be able to state that our stay of a week was one long spell of sunshine, excepting a few hours on Friday night, and we saw everything with those 'violet coloured eyes and dark sweeping eyelashes' that spell beauty for the colleen as well as her admirers.

In Ireland there are very few 'pussyfoots.' The Irish Free State can offer England a lesson on licensing laws. Our humble Sunday needs were met by special permit from the chief constable, and how we fared at the O'Connell Statue is the private concern of Mr. Murphy. Certainly the sparkling mineral waters matched the wonderful array of jewellery that surrounded our kind host.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.*ANDOVER DISTRICT ORGANISES COMBINED PRACTICES.

The Andover District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild decided, at the quarterly meeting on Saturday week at Abbott's Ann, to divide the district into three areas for the purpose of organising combined practices. In the course of an interesting discussion two points were emphasised, namely, the necessity of instructors and the desirability of experienced ringers visiting towers in their area, especially where there is a young band. The hope was expressed that the second point particularly would be taken to heart by the older and more experienced members of the Guild. The charge was levelled that many were unwilling to visit strange towers, more especially those with only five bells, and it was pointed out that visits to other bellfries increased a ringer's experience, whatever number of bells he was used to ringing, while those who had only five bells to ring often needed more encouragement. To visit and help them made them feel that they were members of a Guild and not isolated units left to get on as best they could. The Guild would like to see every tower possess six bells at least, and it was urged that ringers should do their best to foster the idea, as it was felt that where the ringers themselves were keen, the parishioners would back them up.

As a result of the discussion combined practice areas were arranged as follows: Whitechurch area: St. Mary Bourne, Laverstoke, Longparish and Hurstbourne Priors. Andover area: Over Wallop, Nether Wallop, Abbott's Ann, Wherwell, Tangle, Thruxton and Ampford. Highclere area: East Woodhay, Woolton Hill, Burchclere, Newtown and Sydmonton. The instructors appointed were: Whitechurch area, Mr. F. Cluett; Andover area, Mr. O. Smart, sen.; and Highclere area, Mr. H. Knapp. The first practices will be at Whitechurch on October 10th, Andover November 7th, Highclere December 5th, all at 5.30, and it is hoped that all who can will attend. The instructors will do all they can to help towers in their respective areas when asked, and it is felt that if the plan is well backed up, great improvement in ringing in the district will result.

The meeting at which these arrangements were made was attended by nearly thirty ringers from Basingstoke, Bishopstoke, Andover, Abbott's Ann, Highclere, Newtown, Nether Wallop, Over Wallop, Wootton, Whitechurch and Winchester. Service was conducted by the hon. secretary (Rev. F. S. H. Marle), and tea in the Village Hall was followed by the business meeting, at which, in the absence of the Vicar, Mrs. Steedman took the chair.

Abbott's Ann tower was affiliated as from January 1st, 1922, and the following members of the tower elected: Messrs. E. W. Chaplin, R. H. Annetts, S. Fry, D. Oram and H. H. Warwick. Miss Cross, Miss Roxburgh and Mr. F. Cluett, of Whitechurch, were also elected members of the Guild.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.
TOWCESTER BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting of the Towcester Branch was held on Saturday at Cold Higham. Ringers were present from most of the towers in the branch with a few visitors. The branch's form of service was used, with the ringers' hymn, 'Unchanging God,' sung to the original tune. Tea was partaken of in the Rectory, and thanks are due to the energetic secretary (Rev. R. Howes) and his helpers. The ringing was very encouraging. Several Minor methods were rung for the first time, and several ringers had their first attempt at Stedman. Methods included Grandsire, Bob, St. Simon's and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Double Court, Double Oxford, Double Bob, St. Clement's and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

LADY'S FIRST QUARTER AS CONDUCTOR.

At St. Mary's Church, Twickenham, on Saturday, September 19th, in 45 mins., a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: Miss E. Rabbitts 1, A. Cutmore 2, M. N. Haines 3, W. Daniell 4, Miss K. Bradford (conductor) 5, E. Goater 6, C. W. Pipe 7, P. E. Hawthorne 8. Miss Bradford's first quarter-peal as conductor. It was rung as a twenty-first birthday compliment to Mr. Edward A. Morris, captain of the local band, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Bob Major.

A QUERY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—On perusing the columns of 'The Ringing World' for September 18th I read an account of a peal of Grandsire Triples having been rung at Thatcham, Berks, on Saturday, September 12th. When reading the 'Reading Mercury' and Oxford Gazette' for September 19th I found the same peal reported as a peal of Stedman Triples under Thatcham news. Which is correct?

If our official organ, 'The Ringing World,' is correct, the latter report may be very misleading to many ringers, as the 'Reading Mercury' is widely read in Berks, Bucks, Hants, Oxon, Somerset, Surrey, Sussex, Middlesex and Wilts.

Thanking you for finding space for this, yours etc.,

GEORGE GILBERT.

Maidenhead.

[We think our report is probably the correct one. The composition was given as 'Holt's Ten Part.'—Ed., 'R.W.']

DEATH OF OLD WALSALL RINGER.

With the passing of Frank Hallsworth, whose death occurred on September 10th at the age of 79 years, Walsall has lost its oldest ringer. He became a member of St. Matthew's band in 1870, and in 1887 succeeded his father, Mr. William Hallsworth, as steeplekeeper, and held that position for about 40 years, when he retired owing to increasing infirmity. His last peal, one of Stedman Caters, was rung on his birthday in 1913. He was one of the two honorary life members of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.

He leaves three sons and one daughter, the eldest son, Major W. Hallsworth, who is in India, being a ringer. The interment at Queen Street Cemetery, where his wife was buried 40 years ago, was preceded by a service in St. Matthew's Church. As a last tribute a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques was attempted by the local band, but it unfortunately came to grief shortly after half-way.
