OLD NORWICH RECORDS

SOME time ago I had the opportunity of examining a mass of manuscript papers, chiefly relating to ringers and ringing in Norwich and Norfolk from very early days. There were loose papers, cheap notebooks and newspaper references galore. The latter alone, all accurately dated, amounted to 681! There were 304 references to 'The Norwich Mercury' from 1737 to 1886; 210 to 'The Norfolk Chronicle' from 1761 to 1864, and 164 to 'The Norfolk News' from 1845 onwards.

There were also dates and places of baptism of many of the early Norwich ringers. One of the earliest was of John Garthon in 1661—the conductor, in 1715, of the first peal of which we have a record—of Edward Crane, 1696, conductor of the second peal of Stedman Triples in 1731, and Samuel Thurston, 1789, who is noted down as 'illegitimate.' Marriages of John Garthon, 1684; William Porter, 1763, the inventor of 'Court upon Ten'; and S. Thurston, 1810.

Burials of Thomas Melchior, 1755, conductor of the first peal of Stedman Triples in 1731; Edward Crane, 1774; Robert Chestnutt, 1821, conductor of the Double Norwich Maximus in 1816; John Garthon, 1728; Chris Lindsey, of 'Imperial the Third' fame, 1820; and Samuel Thurston, 1841. There is also a list (39 names) of Norwich ringers in 1715, the year of the first known peal, and 56 names of members of the 'Purse Club' in 1739—the benefit club of the Mancroft ringers.

These particulars are given as a sample of the extent of the entries, and it took a long time to arrange them in more or less chronological order and with extensive index. The list was copied, including newspaper references, into a ledger of over 300 pages and is surely a book of historical value. I have been wondering where it can be preserved, especially as one or two 'libraries' I have come across are not attractive! In one of the old 'Purse Club' books are the figures of two methods, 'Norwich Surprise' and 'Norwich Exercise,' but they probably would not be passed by the Methods Committee! The first has 48 rows to a lead, the treble having a double treble bob hunt, with one bell remaining in 1.2 for 47 changes, and is given as the composition of George Watering, and the 'Exercise' was introduced, by leaflet, by Thomas Hurry in 1846.

In the same book appear a few compositions. Samuel Thurston has put his name to Reeves' 5-part 5,120 of Treble Bob Major (Snowdon, page 2), although he obtains his favourite Shipway part-ends by beginning at the second course. But perhaps in those days latitude in transposing was not a sin. His name is also under Tebbs' 3-part peal of Treble Ten in the tittums (Snowdon, page 96), and which is false. Then follow the figures of 5,076 Stedman Caters, with Thurston's name attached. It is entered in this way:—

5,076 STEDMAN CATERS

,070	DIL	TATATA	TIA	CA.	LLI

10		times	rene	ated.

Four times repeated Bob on 7.8.9.

Several composers have seen these figures, but were unable to make head or tail of them until fortunately Mr. Charles W. Roberts took a copy and has written to say that, with the help of Dr. G. W. Slack, the figures are elucidated and the peal is true. In present-day fashion the composition would be shown in this way:—

231456	1	4	5	6	15
365421	_	_		_
615423				_
362415		_		_
652413				_
136452		_	_
632451		_		_	_
Four time
at 1, gives	231456	5978.	Then	call	two

Four times repeated, omitting bob at 1, gives 231456978. Then call two courses with bobs at 1, gives rounds at the fourth change of the last six.

The part-ends would therefore be:-

3 4 1 5 6 2 4 5 1 6 2 3 5 6 1 2 3 4 6 2 1 3 4 5 2 3 1 4 5 6

Mr. Roberts writes: 'The course-ends given on the original copy do not represent six-ends, but are the fourth changes of the course-end sixes, a procedure evidently adopted to allow the treble to be shown at home at the parts-ends. The very early composers always regarded the treble as the full hunt bell, and, even in principles like

Stedman, they would want to have it at the lead at the conclusion of each part, in order to copy the well-known Shipway part-ends, so used at that time in peals of Major. The dashes representing the calling are almost right, with the exception of one slight error, but the figures representing the calling positions are quite wrong, due perhaps to faulty transcribing. However, there is quite enough information to enable the peal to be set out in the usual form and, for its day and generation, it is a magnificent exposition of the composer's art, probably the first peal with the bells in the tittums position throughout. It would be interesting to know if it has ever been rung, and it would be a compliment to a great composer to ring it again. Compositions like this prove, beyond all doubt, that most of the early composers thoroughly understood the internal falseness of Stedman, and knew how to avoid it. In general they worked on sound lines, did not worry a great deal about musical positions, but had a great regard for truth. In many ways the old composers have never been fairly treated, and their work often regarded as false without any justification.'

As to Mr. Roberts' query about the peal being rung, so far as Norfolk is concerned, certainly not. No peal of Stedman Caters was rung in either Norwich or Norfolk until after Thurston's death in 1841. A 5,295 was rung at St. Andrew's in 1842, and 5,296 at the same church in 1843, both conducted by Henry Hubbard, the first being Shipway's peal with the 5th and 6th the full extent behind the 9th.

At Mancroft the first of Stedman Caters was a 5,001, conducted by John Cox and rung in 1858, and one was rung at Great Yarmouth in 1855. Thurston himself called Stedman Triples at St. Giles' in 1839—his only peal in the method on any number. This was Lates' composition with 262 calls, and, although a board records the peal, Mr. Snowdon, in his 'History,' does not mention it. Thurston, in 1831, miscalled a peal of Stedman Cinques at Mancroft after 4,884 changes had been rung, but his qualifications cannot be doubted, for he called a quarter peal of Triples in 1822, and Powell's half-peal in 1830, double handed on handbells and from a non-observation pair. These were not everybody's 'cup of tea' in those days! C. E. B.

Generous hospitality was extended to the band that rang the peal at Asfordby, Leics, by Mr. J. Harry Cook, the head ringer and churchwarden, and Mrs. Cook. Recently St. Margaret's choir, organist, vicar, congregation and verger held a service at Asfordby.

The sympathy of his many friends will be extended to Mr. F. E. Collins, Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, in the death of his father, which took place last Saturday.

The brothers 'Bill' and George Prescott, from Somerset, spent a busy week in the set, spent a busy week in the Worcester area recently, when four peals were rung and some disappointments experienced. 'Prescott Week,' as their annual visit is described, is a term by which each local ringer's wife knows she will not see her 'old man' home straight from work, and presumably resigns herself to the inevitable! George achieved his 100th peal at Hinton-on-the-Green during the week, an event duly celebrated. the week, an event duly celebrated.

By ringing the treble to a peal of Stedman Caters at Derby Cathedral on October 31st, Mr. Francis R. Lowe 'completed the circle' of the tower.

The ringer of the tenor in the quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles at Horsell, Surrey, published on page 698, was Mr. Jack R. Worrall and not as submitted.

Flying Officer Eric Dench flies to Canada early in November on a nine months' navigation course. He took part in a farewell peal at Sileby on the day of the Leicester Guild Festival.

The first quarter at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, by the local band since the restoration of the bells, was rung on All Saints' Day. 'We hope to send some more in the near future,' writes the tower secretary, Mr. L. J. Fox, 'as we are once more getting on our feet and now ring for service every Sunday.'

One of the disappointments of an editor is in abbreviating reports on account of space. He was really sorry that he could not share with his readers the witty writing of Betty Olney dealing with N.S.T.G. visit to Bristol, or give 15-year-old Heather Heath full measure of her descriptive story of Brixham Young Ringers' outling.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Among the several peals arranged for visitors to the Leicester Guild Festival was one at Southwell Minster. The ringing gallery proved a bit eerie in the dark, and a slow and stately peal was rung. The only regret the band had was that they had not starved for a fortnight in preparation for the sumptuous spread which Mrs. Fred Milner had provided for them after the peal. The time that the band got to their respective hotels and homes, if known, had better be kept secret, but there was no doubt a good time was had by all even if a few shots were fired at the Gun in the process.

Farmer readers will appreciate the cartoon

Farmer readers will appreciate the cartoon in 'The Farmer and Stockbreeder' of October 27th dealing with the dairy farmer's hobby.

The peal board which was dedicated at Dallington, Northampton, reported on page 712 contained a quarter peal and a peal of Doubles. We regret that there was an omission from the report.

There are two other Girl Guides in Middle-sex holding the Campanologists' Badge apart from Miss Ball. They are Audrey and Jean Palmer, and, according to a correspondent, they were both awarded the badge before Miss Ball.

The recasting, augmentation and rehanging in 1921 of the well-known ring of 12 at St. Margaret's, Leicester, was due to the cnergetic leadership of the then Vicar, Canon Payne, who afterwards became Vicar of Knighton. He afterwards became Vicar of Knighton. He is retiring in the New Year to live in Norfolk. We have received from Mr. A. Davis the umpire's report on the record long length of 15.840 Plain Bob Royal rung at Bournemouth on October 17th. Mr. Davis writes: 'Every course end was checked and all the calls were read confidently and accurately throughout and made confidently and accurately throughout and I have no hesitation in giving the peal a firstclass certificate.'

CENTRAL COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP

Non-Territorial Associations and Dual Representation

The following challenging article by Mr. Jack R. Worrall, on the question of Central Council membership, will be read with interest. He wants the abolition of all nonterritorial associations.

POR some years now, the University seats in the House of Commons have been abolished and a recent announcement confirms that they will not be restored. Has no one ever considered the analogy between the University seats in Parliament and many of the 'seats' on the Central Council? Surely the time is long overdue for a thorough overhauling of our system of electing members to the Central Council. New ringing societies are continually being formed and these will, no doubt, apply in due course for representation on the Council. What qualifications are required by a society or an association to enable it to elect its own representative to the Council?

An increase in its numbers will only make the Council bigger and more unwieldy than it is at present. How many of its one hundred and fifty-odd members NEVER express an opinion in fifty-odd members NEVER express an opinion in debate? Do not a large number of members look upon the Whitsun business meeting more as a social gathering? I think they must do. Further, are all decisions of Council subcommittees subject to ratification by the whole of the Council? If so, why was the recent ban on anonymous letters in 'The Ringing World' not put before them? I hope the reason for the ban was not fear of self-criticism.

All ringers should belong to an association of some sort or other. Outte a large number of some sort or other. Quite a large number are members of more than one. The representation of new associations on the Council will not serve the purpose of increasing the number of ringers represented. It will merely enable a small group of ringers to have in-creased representation. The Council will not become any more democratic-I have always assumed that it aims to be. Take, for a hypothetical example, the case of a lady ringer who is a member of each of the following associations: The Ladies' Guild, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, the National Police Guild, the Universities Association, the Oxford University Society and the London Counties Association. She would be entitled to take part in the election of 13 representatives to the Council.

But for the last-named Association, all those in the above list are non-territorial; in other words, their members do not belong to one diocese, one city or county or any geographical area, but are scattered far and wide throughout the country. Other like associations which I the country. Other like associations which I have not mentioned are, of course, the College Youths and other university societies.

Why should non-territorial associations be represented separately on the Council? I can find no good reason for it. All their members are presumably members of their own local associations and will be eligible to elect representatives to the Council By degriving ALL. sentatives to the Council. By depriving ALL non-territorial associations of their representatives, the size of the Council would be reduced by 17. The size of the Council would be reduced by 17. The size of the Council could still further be reduced by the removal of such anomalies as the existence of two associations covering the same ground. I am referring particularly to the Surrey Association and the Guildford Diocesan Guild. At the last annual meeting of the former association no more than 50 members were present, yet that asso-ciation has three representatives on the Council and the Guildford Diocesan Guild has four

Let the Central Council start putting its house in order. Abolish the representation on the Council of ALL non-territorial associations. Do not be over-eager to elect honorary members, but reserve that privilege for men who have given many years' faithful service to the Exercise. Try and publicise the work of the committees more and publish reports before they are offered for adoption, so that they may be more fully discussed.

To all ringers: Take great interest in Council as its every decision affects you. When choosing your representatives, elect men whose judgment you respect. Make sure they go to Council meetings to express the association's views and not their personal ones.

Let members of the Central Council make wise decisions, let all ringers abide by them, so that church bells may be rung, week in and week out, ever to the glory of God.

WORCESTERSHIRE & DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION

An Enjoyable Annual Dinner

THERE was an attendance of 171 people, five short of last year's record, at the 16th annual dinner of the Worcester and Districts Association, held on Saturday, October 24th, at the Guildhall, Worcester.

The chairman, the Very Rev. W. E. Beck, Dean of Worcester, was supported by the chaplain (the Rev. L. J. Birch) and Mrs. Birch, the Rev. Romilly Craze (Vicar of St. Peter's, Worcester), the Master (Mr. C. Skidmore) and Mrs. Skidmore, the secretary (Mr. J. Johnson) and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. W. B. Cartwright and Mr. S. T. Holt.

Among the visitors were eleven ringers from Claverley, Mr. J. Keyte (Oxford Diocesan Guild) and from Birmingham Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dowding, Mr. W. G. Critchley and Miss C. Harding.

The chairman said that although he was a ' campanological ignoramus,' he would like, on behalf of the clergy, to express an appreciation of the ringers' purpose in the Church and the way in which they dedicated their art to its

Mr. C. E. Stinton, J.P., proposing the toast, 'Church and State,' pointed out that ringers tended to forget the true purpose of the bells. Although ringing gave pleasure, bells were primarily rung to call people to worship.

In reply, the Rev. R. Craze said that the ringing of bells was one of the greatest things to strengthen the friendship of the Church and State. In England the Church and State worked together and in their particular way the ringers helped to forge the link between the two.

Proposing 'The Worcestershire Association,' Mr. D. N. Layton said, 'We drink to the Association as a mark of confidence in it and in its future. The Association exists to call people to worship, personal pleasure and to repay the debt to our teachers by helping beginners.'

The Chaplain, who acknowledged the toast, said that he was privileged to be the Associa-tion's new Chaplain and wished it prosperity and good ringing in the future.

Mr. R. R. Savory, proposing 'Kindred Associations,' told of the welcome given to him by other associations and said that Worcestershire extended its friendship to all visitors.

Mr. J. Keyte replied for the other associations. He said that although he was in the Oxford Diocesan Guild, he owed a debt of gratitude to the Worcestershire Association, which he joined when he was a mere beginner cycling in to Evesham.

Then the chairman proposed a toast to Mr. J. D. Johnson, the secretary, for the way in which he carried out his duties. Mr. Johnson acknowledged the compliment and assured the company that although he was conscious of his shortcomings he had always tried to do his best and always would.

After an enjoyable dinner, made even more enjoyable by various liquid lubricants and the comfort of an adjacent bar, the evening ended with an entertainment provided by the ringers. This included piano-accordion playing by Capaldi, handbells to accordion playing by N. Capaldi, handbells to accordion playing with G. J. Hemming and J. D. Johnson, songs by G. J. Hemming, rise and fall on handbells by C. Skidmore, J. Lloyd and T. Hemming, and changes on handbells by Miss S. Jackson, G. Bowen, R. G. Morris and D. Beacham. Miss D. Hicks accompanied on the piano, and Messrs. D. Watson and T. W. Lewis were the

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Branch Meeting at Stoke Gabriel

A well-attended meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Stoke Gabriel on October 24th, attended by branch members as well as members of other branches.

The bells were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob Minor during the afternoon, this being followed by a service in church conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. F. Beaumont), who gave an excellent address, touching on the value of team work.

touching on the value of team work.

After an excellent tea at the Castle Cafe the usual business meeting followed, with Mr. J. E. Lilley in the chair, supported by the president (the Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox).

A number of apologies for absence were received and one new member was elected. It was resolved to visit Buckfast Abbey on Nov. 28th, and the following programme for 1954 was adopted: Jan. 30th, Babbacombe; April 24th, Brixham; June 26th, Staverton and Broadhempston with the South-West Branch; July 24th, Rattery and Dean Prior; Aug. 21st, branch outing: Oct. 23rd, Kingsteignton; Nov. 27th, extra meeting at Buckfast Abbey; all subject to the usual permission being obtained. It was left to the chairman and secretary to consider the question of a special ringing after-consider the question of a special ringing after-noon, at which the local Press would be in-vited. Ringing took place at Paignton Parish Church in the evening.

BRIXHAM YOUNG RINGERS

The wet weather did not dampen the en-thusiasm of the Brixham Young Ringers whose outing took place on October 31st.

Towers visited were Diptford, Ugborough. Galmpton (with its fairy-like bells) and Marlborough.

Of Marlborough, our correspondent writes: 'The cleanliness of the ringing room (if it can be so called) took our breath away. It is an alcove curtained off from the rest of the church. The white plaster walls and smooth concrete floor, together with green velvet curtains at the leaded-light window, and some acting as a screen, produced a modern atmosphere and dispelled all our illusions of all ringing rooms being either stone edifices or oak-beamed places. A pleasing sight was the vasc of flowers which glowed on a little table at the front of the alcove. The ropes hung down in a perfect circle, and some very good touches

'The sight of numerous certificates at the various towers has whetted our enthusiasm still further and we are determined that soon St. Mary's Guild of Ringers will be as greatly accomplished as they are. Miss Heather Heath concludes her delightful report with a special word of thanks to Mr. John Bell (vice-captain) for organising such a successful and instructive outing, and to the ringers of the towers visited for their warm and splendid co-operation.

METHOD-LEARNING AID

The Introduction of Rhythm

(The following notes resulted from an attempt to meet the requirement of an aid for those learning a method of the more difficult type; but the idea may prove helpful also to those out of practice in such methods.)

In some methods, of course, the 'work' does not lend itself so readily, as in others of does not lend itself so readily, as in others of similar complexity, to be learnt with reasonable speed and certainty. Usually this is due to lack of symmetry or 'balance' in successive portions of the bell-path or 'blue line.' In such a case there is little the beginner may do, other than to learn the method the 'hard' way: and, as an old hand was once heard to say, 'Learn it cast iron!' (Alternative for experts—The Grid Pattern!)

But though a method may exhibit a blue But though a method may exhibit a blue line lacking in symmetry of visual form, yet we may usefully fall back upon the help to be got from the symmetry of sound. In other words we may abbreviate the work in rhythmic form, to be learnt in 'sing-song' fashion. While rhyme-endings to the lines may help, they are not essential (or always possible). The essential thing is that the lines, read either aloud or just mentally, should be articulated with appropriate emphasis on the syllables of the words, according to a rhythm or beat. In the example given below the rhythm runs:-

Tum Te Tum Te Tum Te Tum

Take, for instance, the first line:-

'Lie; Five — Six — Five; T — B Lie;'
Tum Te Tum Te Tum Te Tum -and this sort of thing is to be maintained for each line as learnt.

The lines include the usual tips as to meeting the treble (always shown in brackets), call warnings, and positions at lead-heads.

Before attempting to commit the jingle to memory, the student should first study it carefully, line by line, in conjunction with a fully set-out plain course, in which the blue line and the treble path have been picked out. (For example, as in the Standard Methods Diagrams and in the Ringer's Notebook and Diary.) So that, not only is each phrase in the lines clearly understood, but also its related blue-line portion can then be readily visualised, on subsequent repetition. on subsequent repetition.

Note the following:-

- (1) The lines are grouped in stanzas or 'verses,' each verse relating to the work of the bell-path in one particular division (or 'lead') of the plain course.
- (2) The number preceding each verse identifies the work of the lead to which it relates, by the actual position of the bell in that leadhead row. For example, the first verse below gives the work of the bell starting from 8ths position at the lead-head.
- (3) So the sequence of the verses is that of the work of the method, and they should be learnt in the order as given; but obviously the given sequence may be followed by starting at any verse, and, running downwards, reverting to the top and down again as necessary. As set out below, the sequence is seen to start with '8,' and it may easily be remembered as 'down the evens and up the odds.' (Different, of course, for some methods.)
- (4) Ensure each verse is known 'cast iron' before starting on the next.
- (5) In the text: 'T' means Treble: phrase in brackets with 'T' indicates where and how the Treble is met; 'T-B' means Treble-Bob, and indicates dodge-whole-blow-dodge: 'H-P' or indicates dodge-whole-blow-dodge: 'H-P' or 'Head-position' means position of bell at the division head, i.e., in the lead-head row.

LONDON. (Major work)

PRACTICAL APPLICATION

Remember--Learn one verse thoroughly before the next.

Visualise each bit of the work as you say the relative line.

Learn thoroughly till you can automatically carry on from any starting place-even the middle of any line.

As you take your rope to stand in for London, recall the opening line with the corresponding bell-number. This gives your start.

As soon as 'Go!' is called, mentally repeat that opening line, then ring it. Then the next line, and so on.

The last line of a verse warns your approach to the lead-end. Be ready if a call is made to take up the new H-P, and switch to that-numbered verse. In any case, listen for the treble's back-stroke blow and check your correct H-P

It may be found helpful to cut out the portion between the two cross-rules above and to paste it on to a plain postcard, to carry in the pocket, and refer to when permissible, until the learning drudgery is over.

It will pay handsome dividends!

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

The eighth annual general meeting of the Society was held on October 31st. Ringing during the afternoon was at St. James', Clerkenwell (8), and at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, Stepney (10). This was followed at 5.30 p.m. by a short service at St. Dunstan's, conducted by the newly-appointed curate.

The business meeting was held at 7 p.m. in a private room at the Hayfield Tavern, with the president, Mr. Dennis N. Layton, in the chair. The main business of the meeting was the election of the officers for the session 1953-4. Mr. D. N. Layton was unanimously re-elected to the presidency, but Mr. R. Price and Miss Hilary Shaw did not seek re-election as Master and secretary, due to the proximity of final examinations. Mr. D. Kay Adkins was, in his absence, elected to fill the post of Master, and Mr. J. R. Leeming that of secretary and treasurer.

After some discussion concerning the Whitsun and summer tours, and the annual dinner, these matters were referred to the committee and the meeting adjourned.

DEDICATION

BARROW-ON-HUMBER

A large congregation of parishioners and ringers attended Barrow-on-Humber Church on October 24th, when the Bishop of Lincoln dedicated the augmented ring of eight bells. Two new bells have been added and the six restored and rehung in a new frame.

The choral evensong with an address by the Bishop was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. S. Owen. The bells were rung for a short time after the service. Tea for all was served in the Institute Hall.

At the district meeting which followed, the president, Canon H. Thackray, said the dedication of the eight bells was a great occasion for Barrow and the Guild, and congratulated the parish and the local ringers on their achieve-

Mr. J. Bray, Ringing Master, endorsed the president's remarks and also congratulated the bell founders on the way the work had been carried out. After the meeting the bells were rung for the remainder of the evening.

BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The October meeting was held at All Saints'. Hessle, on October 10th. Only 20 members attended, the celebrated Hull Fair being no doubt a big counter-attraction, but a welcome increase came from the farming section after the harvest had been garnered.

The Vicar, the Rev. C. R. Day, joined the ringers in the afternoon and took a great interest in the ringing, especially in the time taken to train learners and the causes of poor striking.

A service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar, who gave an excellent sermon.

The local ringers and their ladies provided a good home-made tea, which was greatly appreciated by the ringers. The business meeting followed, one new member from Rise being elected.

Ringing took place again after the meeting, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of the Society was held at East Ardsley on October 31st, when members were present from Armley, Batley, Birstall, Collingham, Elland, Halifax, Headingley (St. Chad's), Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Ossett, Rothwell and the local company.

The bells were raised shortly after 3 p.m. and kept going till 5, when a break was made for tea and the business meeting. The president. Mr. T. Strangeway, was in the chair. The vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells and to the local company and the ladies for the arrangements and tea was proposed by Mr. H. Loft-house, seconded by Mr. H. Jones. Mr. E. Watson, of the local company, suitably replied. The November meeting will be at Ossett on the 28th.

Further ringing was enjoyed after the meeting until 8.30 p.m.

JOINT MEETING AT CROYDON

This year the joint meeting between the Surrey Association and the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association took place at St. Peter's Church, Croydon, on October 10th. Admirable arrangements for the tea and service Admitable arrangements for the lea and service were made by Mr. R. Blow.

During the tea Mr. Collins welcomed the visitors and said these meetings fostered the good spirit and friendship amongst ringers and he trusted they would always be held. Mr. Hill. in reply, thanked the home Association on behalf of his members for the welcome received and hoped next year to see the Surrey Association in their District.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE MASTERSHIP OF THE CUMBERLANDS

Dear Sir,—A speaker at the Cumberlands' dinner said that the Society had only had six Masters this century.

If that is regarded as a desirable precedent, without making the slightest reflection on the good work of the present Master or on that of the new man, may I suggest that there should be an understanding that except for the secretary and trustees officers should serve for year only?

The reasons for frequent change are too ell known to need repetition. Sooner or well known to need repetition. Sooner or later we are all the victims of illness, lack of time, home ties and even apathy and for more than 12 months is an unreasonable time to expect a man to be free to pull his weight as he would wish.

There is also the member whose life's ambition is to go to the top of his Society. It doesn't appeal to a lot of us, but it is a harmless desire and ought not to be ignored, and if, as has been suggested, the Cumberlands must have a Master at Headquarters, surely it is easy if necessary to elect a deputy.

At the annual meeting of far too many Societies the elections are invariably 'the same as before, and very soon the capable man will not allow his name to be put forward for fear of slighting the one in office.

Is it presumptuous to urge the meeting at St. Martins-in-the-Fields to set a good example?

—Yours faithfully.

C. CULLEN.

CLAIM 45 YEARS TOO LATE

Sir,-Sorry, but the Kingswood claim for first seven Surprise in the county is 45 years late. About 1908 there were several local Surprise peals rung at Clandon. At the Coronation of King George V. there were only two Surprise peals rung on the day, one at Clandon and the other at Guildford, a vast difference to the recent Coronation. A. H. PULLING.

RUGBY CONVENTION

Dear Sir,—I should like, through the columns of 'The Ringing World.' to thank the visitors from neighbouring towers who assisted the Rugby ringers over the period of the Rugby St. Andrew's Convention.

The Convention lasted eight days, from October 25th to November 1st, a service being held in the Parish Church each evening. allow the 'locals' one or two evenings off during the week ringers from the neighbouring towers of Bilton, Dunchurch and Willoughby joined us, and with their help the bells were rung before each service. For several of the visitors quarter peals were arranged although unfortunately only two were successful.

It was very pleasing to find help so readily forthcoming when requested and to know that such friendly relations exist between neighbouring towers.—Yours faithfully,

MEMORIES OF 30 YEARS AGO

Dear Sir,—I was very interested to see the reports of the two peals in 'The Ringing World,' which were rung for the 30th anniversary of the wedding of my old friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal.

At the time they were wed I was angling for my first peal, and Mr. Joe Hall invited me to come along on the Tuesday evening as there was just a chance I might be needed. At the same time another good old friend, Mr. Tom Jones, was also angling for his first, and the late Mr. Harry Chapman had invited him along, It was left to the conductor to decide. This was the late James W. Washbrook, and the Great Man decided to give it to the older man, so Tom had it, and a real good job he made of it. I would like Mr. and Mrs. Deal to know that Tom Jones is still in good heart, although crippled by rheumatism, and has not rung for many years. One thing I shall always remember was the look on his face when I took him the Coronation copy of the 'Picture Post,' which had a fine action picture of Dick Deal handling one of the big 'uns at St. Paul's.

My colleagues at Manchester Cathedral join me in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Deal many more happy wedding anniversaries.—Yours faithfully.

N.S.T.G. VISIT BRISTOL AREA

Fifteen towers in the Bristol area were visited during the week-end commencing on October 9th by a new Society with their own pennant bearing the initials N.S.T.G. and an emblem of a bell encircled by a motor tyre. The designer, Mr. Derrick, gave the assembly (four of whom came from the eastern half of the county and one from the south-west) a choice of titles.

The N.S.. he pointed out, could stand for 'Nailsea Society' (where the party assembled), 'North Somerset,' 'National Society' or even (for Mr. P. Bond) 'Near Sunningdale,' according to individual requirements. The 'T.G.' remained constant as 'Tower Grabbers.'

Another feature seen by many for the first aroused much interest and by means of which he pronounced the notes of the tenors.

Ringing on the Saturday took place at Emmanuel (Clifton), St. Michael's (City), St. Werburgh's, St. Ambrose', Christ Church (City), St. James', Horsefair (where the host and M.C. nearly put an end to the day by attempting to ring with his rope twisted round the gas bracket!). The day concluded with Mrs. Horseman's excellent supper.

Sunday morning found the Society at Backwell (8) where they joined the local band, and afterwards at Chelvey, where the visitors provided an unofficial choir and guest organist at morning service. In the afternoon nearly an hour was spent at Portishead.

No Bristol had been rung over the end but methods rung included:-Doubles: Union Bob, Grandsire and Stedman. Minor Plain and Little Bob, Cambridge and London Triples: St. Clement's Bob, Grandsire and Stedman. Major: Plain and Little Bob, Cambridge and Double Norwich. Caters: Grandsire. Royal: Plain Bob.

Special thanks are due to Michael Horseman, who organised the week-end, and to his family, who so kindly entertained us.

Note.-Mr. P. N. Bond's 15th tower (and ours, too) being grabbed on the way home, was incidental to the week-end, as arranged for us. and so is not mentioned above. We stopped at Bremhill. Wilts (6), where the local ringers extended to us a very hearty welcome and where we enjoyed our short ring before evensong.

OBITUARY

MR. ALAN PEACH AND MR. JOHN F. VERNON

St. Margaret's, Leicester, lost two old ringers in two days—Alan Peach passed away suddenly on October 30th, and John Flude Vernon on October 31st. Both had been ringers at St. Margaret's before and after the first Great War, but were not associated in recent years for these reasons—Alan Peach moved first to Quorn, then to Loughborough with his business; and John Vernon had been unable to ring for several years on account of failing health.

Both had rung a few peals in the early days but although not keen on this side of ringing were always at their posts for Sunday services and practices.

To their memory 1.260 Stedman Triples was rung at St. Margaret's. Leicester. on All Saints' Day. on the 'Margaret' eight by Barbara Endall (first in method) 1, T. H. Bent 2, W. Thorneley. jnn., 3, J. B. Bennett 4, G. A. Olliffe 5, Colin Walker (conductor) 6, E. Morris 7, P. Davis 8.

A second edition of 'Notes for Beginners' is in course of preparation. Mr. W. G. Wilson hopes that all the orders received up to Nov. 2nd will be fulfilled this week.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Summer Tour in Worcestershire

THE University of London Society of Change Ringers held its annual summer tour from July 25th to August 3rd in Worcestershire, with occasional sallies into neighbouring counties.

The centre of the week's operations was a private hotel at Kempsey, whence 20 members set out, armed with packed lunches, in a highly undisciplined convoy of cars and motorcycles, to explore the ringing amenities of some five or six towers daily. The tour was arfive or six towers daily. The tour was arranged by the Society's president and late Master, Mr. Denis Layton, who also took firm charge of the ringing.

On the first Saturday afternoon an advance party arrived at Kempsey through heavy rain. The first tower was St. John-the-Baptist, in Bedwardine, Worcester, where an hour's ringing was enjoyed before supper. Service ringing on Sunday morning was at All Saints', Worcester (10), and at the Cathedral in the evening.

The week started in energetic style on the first Monday by ringing at towers in the Malvern district: Powick, Madresfield, Malvern Link and the cight at the Priory Church at Great Malvern (which was admired more than the bells), Upton-on-Severn (with a characteristic welcome from Mr. Charles Camm), and in the evening on the charming little new six at in the evening on the charming little new six at Earl's Croome.

On Tuesday ringing was at Ripple (where some members found the 14th century carved Miserere seats at least as rewarding of concentration as the rather tricky six), Bredons Norton, Overbury (a publess but otherwise lovely village), Hinton-on-the-Green (where the genus loci and his wife helped materially to provide some of the most interesting ringing of the tour), Badsey and Great Hampton.

Februaton Norton and Salford Priors were Eckington, Norton and Salford Priors were Eckington. Norton and Salford Priors were visited on Wednesday morning. After replacing a rope at the last-named church the convoy straggled into Warwickshire, there to ring upon the fine and well-behaved ten at Stratford-on-Avon. Here a well-struck three courses of Grandsire Caters was acclaimed as the best ringing of the tour. A following attempt at Stedman was unfortunately (considering the number of curious visitors who had presumably paid to come up into the tower to watch it) not paid to come up into the tower to watch it) not brought round.

STRATFORD'S OTHER ATTRACTIONS

STRATFORD'S OTHER ATTRACTIONS
There is, of course, more of interest at Stratford than its fine ring of bells, and before long members found themselves queueing outside the Memorial Theatre for returned tickets for the evening performance of 'The Taming of the Shrew.' The last available ticket having (for the second time that day) vanished under our noses, we consoled ourselves with the less enlightening comedy provided on a nearby fairground. Here the dartsmen, marksmen and the exponents of other forms of trajectory proceeded to pay inflationary prices for cheap glassware and coconuts, while others sampled vertiginous rides on a variety of contraptions. vertiginous rides on a variety of contraptions. The evening ended in a cafe where, over strong coffee, we wanly declined chocolate biscuits and told each other (always with a slight tinge of insincerity) how much we had enjoyed the Octopus.

On Thursday the party rang at Claines, Wychbold, Stoke Prior, Bromsgrove (whose churchyard is unique in possessing two memorials in which both an engine and its two drivers are eloquently commemorated in connection with a tragic boiler-bursting incident in 1840) and Chaddesley Corbett (the only church in the country dedicated to St. Cassian). Friday brought a very wet morning, and after ringing at Clent and Hagley, members dried-out in the belfries of Old Swinford (where a touch of St.

Clement's Major by a Surprise band was brought round only at the fourth attempt by sheer force of presidential will-power), Stourbridge and Kinver, after which a temporary relaxation from ringing was allowed in the form of a memorable stroll to enjoy the grand view from Kinver, Edge view from Kinver Edge.

THE TRADITIONAL PARTY

The climax of the tour came on Friday night The climax of the tour came on Friday night when the traditional party was held. All the usual games were played (with and without lights), assisted by a ten-gallon barrel of cider, generously provided (and almost as generously consumed) by one of the members. The party ended in various methods of communal head-clearing; moonlight strolls at 2.30 a.m., in carefully assorted raise appeared to suffice for clearing; mooningnt strons at 2.30 a.m., in care-fully assorted pairs, appeared to suffice for most members, but the donor of the cider felt he needed more, and accordingly went for a swim in the hotel's private swimming pool. The question as to whether he had entered the water voluntarily, had been pushed in or merely fallen in was hotly debated at breakfast next

All things considered, ringing next day at Ombersley, Hartlebury, Bewdley, Martley and Hallow was reasonably good. The vintage six at Martley were especially enjoyed and some of the party found their way to a nearby meadow to look at the remains of the pits in which the bells were cast by Keene, of Woodstock, in 1673. Ringing for service on Sunday morning 1673. Ringing for service on Sunday morning on the pleasing six at Kempsey ended with a good service touch of Cambridge. Choral evensong in Worcester Cathedral was attended. At tea-afterwards we heard the Cathedral bells rolling round to very capable Cinques. Somene else's tour had started. We crept away as quietly as possible and rang passable Triples for evensong on Dodderhill's excellent eight.

Bank Holiday Monday was the last day, with only two towers to be visited before dispersing. The traditional flourish of London Scholars' Pleasure was duly rung on the merry little six at Stoulton. At Pershore Abbey the heavy going of the bells and the well-known suspension in mid-empyrean 7 feet above the nave quickly drove the by now rather tired party to inspect the architectural glories of the Abbey

At the final lunch on the river-bank, amidst At the final lunch on the river-bank, amidst a welter of pint pots and unpacked lunches, Denis Layton was informally, but none the less warmly and unanimously, thanked for arranging one of the happiest and most successful tours that the Society has ever enjoyed. Peal attempts had been deliberately excluded from the programme so as to provide the maximum of useful practice for the happingers and the less of useful practice for the beginners and the less

THE FELLOWSHIP OF CAMPANOLOGY

That was the feeling of each and all who visited the tower of St. George's, Mossley, at an inter-county meeting arranged by Mr. Joseph Burgess, of Friezland.

Ringers from the following towers attended: Almondbury, Elland, Kirkburton, Lightcliffe, Lindley, Longwood (on the Yorkshire side). Oldham Parish, St. Mark's, Oldham, and Ashton (on the Lancashire side).

Ringing began about 3 p.m. At 4.45 p.m. a splendid tea was enjoyed at the Tudor Cafe, Mossley, after which a return was made to the tower till about 9 p.m. Seven different, all well-struck methods of Major and a course of Oxford Minor by the Friezland Company were rung.

Everyone enjoyed the meeting and to further the cause of inter-Association fellowship Yorkshire ringers extended a cordial invitation to the Lancashire company to a return meeting. Let this fellowship continue, were our parting

A MISCELLANY OF OUTINGS

EMMANUEL CHURCH, PLYMOUTH

EMMANUEL CHURCH, PLYMOUTH

It has been the custom for the past five or six years for the ringers of Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, to have a half-day 'autumn cruise' in addition to their day's outing in July, and on these occasions it has become usual to leave the 'highways' and search out the little villages in the remote and lovely country generally where there are rings of six bells.

This year five six-bell towers were visited on October 17th. A good start was made at Exbourne with touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor. Other towers visited were Petrockstowe. Sheepwash and Shebbear (where, before ringing, an excellent high tea at the New Inn was served) and, on the homeward journey, Black Torrington. The party was under the direction of the captain, Mr. J. P. Sims, arrangements having been made by Mr. H. H. Thomas.

The newest recruit to the belfry at Emmanuel

The newest recruit to the belfry at Emmanuel is 11-year-old Sylvia Sims, the elder daughter of the captain, and there is no doubt she looks like following her father in the art of campanology judging by her good start.

IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE

Despite torrential rain at times on October 31st, a very pleasant half-day was spent in Gloucestershire by seven ringers representing the counties of Cornwall, Dorset, Gloucestershire, Kent and Somerset. Towers visited were: Moreton Valence, Quedgeley. Elmore (where it was necessary to open the belfry window to be able to hear the bells), Longney, Hardwicke, Arlingham (a 'backward' ring), Frampton-on-Severn and Standish (a winter retreat for flies). During the trip Mr. Michael Horseman scored his 400th tower. The pre-liminary arrangements had been made by Mr. Leslie Barry and it was a great disappointment he was prevented from going. E. T. P. F.

LEEDS PARISH CHURCH

With their 1953 outing to Chester in May but a memory and next year's outing too far ahead, the Leeds Parish Church ringers decided to hold a second outing before the outing season finished. So with friends from Otley. Guiseley and Thorner, they visited four towers in the North Riding on September 19th.

The first call was Easingwold, a fairly recent augmentation where two modern trebles are rather superior to the old six. Here ringing was brought to a sudden stop, when it was reported that a funeral cortege was nearing the church, but the visitors were relieved to find that it was merely an interment in the adjacent cemetery, and after a brief pause ringing could be resumed

The next tower was Thirsk where a mixed octave of widely differing periods sound pleasant but might go rather better.

Kirby Wiske was undoubtedly the high spot of the day. The visit had aroused much local interest and although these bells-a most musical Taylor six rung from the ground floor— have not been rung for some years, the 'locals' greeted the visitors by chiming the bells.

A bounteous tea was provided in the new Parish Hall through the generosity of the Rev.

H. and Mrs. Channing, and a move was made to the church to do full justice to the bells. It was with reluctance that the party left this friendly village with its well-kent church and lovely bells but there was a still further tower to visit, Kirkby-on-the-Moor (or Kirby Hill) and it was a pleasant coincidence that the visit here took place on the first anniversary of the rededication of these bells after rehanging in a new frame.

This handy little six contains a 15th century 'black-letter' bell—the second oldest bell in the county. The allotted time here passed all too soon and so with one more bell to visit (the Blue Bell) it was time for the journey home.

ST. CRANTOCK, CORNWALL

Twelve members of St. Crantock company had an outing on October 24th in three cars to the first and last church, St. Sennen, a mile from Land's End, where they were met by the Rector. The weather was cloudy and showery, but we could see the Longships lighthouse, a mile and a half from the coast, and hoped the lightkeepers would hear the bells, as we were told they did in the story, 'The Watchers on the Longships.'

The bells are a very light six, and we found

The bells are a very light six, and we found them easy to ring except that the chiming apparatus is in the way of the fourth rope. From Sennen we went back along the coast road to Zennor, where a sumptuous tea awaited us. The bells at Zennor are the finest six in West Pensitts and the state of the state with and sounded majestic compared with the light rings in the other towers we visited. From Zennor to Towednack, an isolated little church with a light eight; the tenor, however, proved hard work. Being six-bell ringers, we contented ourselves with rounds and Queen's, in which we were joined by Mr. R. Collins, the local captain, and 120 Grandsire Doubles.

We then proceeded across country to Lelant, where we were met by the Vicar, the local captain, Mr. P. A. Clifton, and Mr. H. Miles. With the last two we rang 120 Bob Doubles, and Mr. Miles piloted us through some plain courses

DALLINGTON, NORTHAMPTON
On Saturday, November 17th, ten members of the St. Mary's Dallington, band of ringers, friends of newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nobles, of Duston. Northampton, were taken on a ringing outing in the three cars of the Nobles' household.

Bells were rung to Doubles and Minor methods at Cold Higham and the party then moved on to Lower Heyford, where several more touches were rung before a very enjoyable short service was conducted there by the Rev. Grenville Morgan, Vicar of Dallington. with Mr. Pawley at the organ.

An appetising tea was consumed at the Cornhill Hotel, where the Rev. G. Morgan voiced the appreciation of all for the very enjoyable outing provided by Mr. and Mrs. Nobles.

In the evening the convoy proceeded to Pat-tishall Church, after two of the three cars had made a little jaunt down the Watling Street towards London before finding their bearings. The heavy bells of Pattishall rang out for an hour and the party returned to Dallington to raise the bells at St. Mary's for the following morning's dedication festival, and the outing ended with everyone profusely thanking Mr. and Mrs. Nobles for a very enjoyable afternoon.
