THE GALLANT ATTEMPT

THE public imagination in various forms was captured by the gallant attempt at Loughborough, reported in our last issue, to ring the extent of Major. It was turned into a popular story for the jaded palates of the public at large. From some of the Press there came ridicule; it was good fodder for those who dislike bells, but to some of our journals the feat was placed in its true perspective of human endeavour. This is how 'The Times' sums up the attempt:—

'Ringing "the extent" on eight bells was,' they claimed, 'like climbing Everest, something to be done because it was there. Roughly, they had reached the South Col, and the going had not been so hard or the unconquered terrain so difficult. At all events, this is one world record an Englishman can be somewhat leisurely in achieving. The Americans and Russians are not so keen on ringing bells.'

'The Manchester Guardian' had this to say:—

'The attempt failed after ten hours' ringing, which to the lay ear sounds as impressive as success. Not that the lay ear heard any bells. The tower in which the marathon peal was rung was boxed and insulated so that Loughborough's sleep might not be disturbed. The bells boomed inwardly, arguing through the long hours with themselves. This monumental act of introversion—as if an orchestra were to play every item in the repertory in a sound-proof hall from which the public had been excluded—might have been thought the outstanding example of campanomania since Paulinus, Bishop of Nola, first introduced the heartening clamour into the customs of the Christian Church. . . .

'So it went on, through half a silent night and half a day. The satisfying complications of the English art had been carried a further, if tongueless, stage. Not to be compared, no doubt, are the casual jangle of Europe's bells, or the automatic carillons, or the tree-top tinkling of mission churches in Africa, or the banging temple bells of the East thwacked with chunks of wood, even if these can be heard. And this morning, when the ancient and incompetitive parish church broke into silver voice like a rumour of Christmas, it sounded like some curious indiscretion.'

And what does the average English ringer think of this attempt? The prodigious feat of James Barham at Leeds Parish Church, near Maidstone, in 1761 is still held in veneration else the Kent County Association would not have restored the grave of this old worthy. As to the authenticity of this performance, it certainly cannot be questioned in this age, but according to the canons of peal ringing to-day it would not be recognised as a performance by the Peal Analysis Committee. When the attempt was first mooted one of our 1,000 peal ringers referred to the attempt as 'madness.' Another old veteran who had a number of record lengths to his credit discussed the event with a glint of enthusiasm in his eye.

There was throughout the country a feeling that Mr. Eric Critchley and his band were not attempting the impossible. Long length ringers regarded the attempt as within the compass of human endeavour. The necessary qualifications of those participating is not only physical fitness but a mentality to withstand the monotony. Would a more complicated method have been an antidote to the drugging effect of hour after hour of Plain Bob Major? Before making the attempt Mr. Critchley studied this question and he firmly held the view that his best chance of success was with Plain Bob. We are promised another attempt next year. There will be no shortage of recruits; a score or more ringers would volunteer to add another laurel to English ringing.

We feel certain that not only those who made the attempt but the Exercise generally is indebted to Mr. Paul Taylor for permitting the use of the bells and making such comprehensive arrangements at the Bell Foundry Campanile. That the attempt was made on secular bells removes an objection; also that as far as noise was concerned the bells could hardly be heard outside the foundry dismisses another possible source of criticism.

Opinions are divided upon whether such peal attempts harm the Exercise at large. With the careful precautions taken at Loughborough there can be no criticism. The attempt focused attention upon our craft, and when once the curiosity of the public is engendered there develops from some inquiring minds the question: What is this change ringing? This is the first step towards recruitment. As our readers know, ringing, once the elementary stages have been mastered, has a peculiar fascination. And it is not necessary to have the stamina and grit of Mr. Critchley and his colleagues to enjoy to the full the practising of our craft and make a humble contribution towards a higher motive than mere secular enjoyment.

When Mr. George William Park died, last August, it was not possible to arrange an in memoriam peal in his own tower—Holy Trinity, Darlington. The peal attempt was left over until December 3rd, the 63rd anniversary of the installation of the bells and of his joining the belfry. The peal, London Surprise Minor, was his favourite method.

The temperature when the peal of Stedman Triples started at Melbourne Cathedral on November 28th was 99.2 degrees. Is this the warmest peal on record? It was a farewell peal for Miss Valerie Willard, who leaves for England on January 1st. The peal also made history, being the first of Stedman to be rung in Australia by a resident band.

There were four 'first peals' in the peal rung for Sir Winston Churchill's birthday at Cotleigh, Devon.

Mr. H. Gorton, of 152, Deane Road, Bolton, would like to get in touch with the ringer who rang the bells of Bethlehem. Mr. Gorton himself has rung these bells.

Five young girl ringers at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Send, Surrey, ran a stall at the church's annual bazaar and raised £7 2s. through their self-inspired effort.

The peal at St. Mary-le-Tower on December 4th enabled 80-year-old George E. Symonds to complete the 'circle' and Miss Patricia Clarke has now rung Cambridge on all numbers.

The Rector of Great Bromley, Essex, the Rev. J. R. Ransom, has rung his first quarter peal. Except for the trainer, Mr. George Moss, the band was the regular Sunday service company.

We are informed that the first quarter on the bells of St. Paul's, Bedford, since the war, was rung on September 30th. It was conducted by C. E. Jeffries and was the first on eight bells for R. M. Lennard, P. J. Shipton and J. R.
Taylor.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead writes that the peal at Shute, Devon (page 772) was the first on the bells. The only previous peal at East Brent, Somerset, was in 1930. A peal of Grand-sire Doubles was rung at Week St. Mary on September 28th, 1929.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, late hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, celebrated his 90th birthday on December 5th. Now confined to his bedroom, he was greatly cheered by the many individual and collective birthday greetings received. He most sincerely thanks those who thought of him. Mr. Jones rang 535 peals, extending from his first at Caerleon on January
12th, 1899, to the last at Blaenavon on April 23rd, 1949.

The last peal at Milborne Port, Somerset, was rung in 1926.

The peal of Colchester Surprise Major published in the issue of October 22nd, 1954, is 23 in Lindoff's list and not 22 as given.

Mr. Neville Brown, who took up change rining a year ago and is now 70, rang his first quarter at Loddon, Norfolk, on November 8th.

The quarter peal rung at Loughton, Essex, on November 27th, was the first for at least 30 years. Five of the ringers were from the Sunday service band, and hopes are entertained for an 'all-local' quarter before long.

So successful was the bellringers' service at St. Bartholomew's Church, Penn, Wolverhampton, on Advent Sunday, that it is hoped to make it an annual event. The lessons were read by the tower secretary and vice-captain, and the visiting ringers included the Association's secretary, Mr. F. Bennett, and his wife.
The Vicar, the Rev. T. D. Boulton, officiated.

Somerton (Somerset) ringers are very proud of being able to include a plain course of Stedman in their quarter peal for the Premier's birthday. Their long-expected quarter of Bob Minor for the harvest festival failed to come round. 'We are still trying,' writes our correspondent. That's the spirit.

RINGING IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE

By the Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

GLOUCESTERSHIRE is one of the counties where change ringing has been practised from the earliest times after the invention of the art, and we find some of the earliest peals ever rung recorded there. Thus Painswick has been a centre of the Exercise for well over 200 years, with several peals in the 1730's, and practically as many peals were rung there before 1881 (when my survey commences) as have been rung since that date. Gloucestershire can well be proud of its ancient traditions and the lead it has given to ringing throughout the land.

The main general impression from a preliminary look at the records of the different towers of the county is of a steady level of peal ringing throughout the period. There have not been, on the whole, very violent fluctuations as in some counties, and most towers have their peals spread fairly evenly over the years. This is supported again, I think, by the way the six-bell towers are gradually being 'conquered'—only two other counties have a greater number of these, by the way. Thus in the 30 years before the first war, 49 of them had one or more peals rung at them. Since 1919 another 50 have been added to the list—about the same rate.

BRISTOL, ST. STEPHEN'S

And now to examine the individual towers. Bristol, St. Stephen's (10), easily leads the way with the largest number of peals, having twice as many in the period as any other tower—217 in all. A footnote to the first peal recorded in 1887 says it is the second peal on the bells, the only previous one being rung on April 9th, 1936. Since 1887 there has been a regular average of three or four a year over the whole period. The only years when a peal wasn't rung are 1905, 1906 and 1935 apart from the war years.

Painswick (12), with 108 in the period, comes second. Of course, this tower is renowned for long lengths also, and at various times in its history has held the record for Grandsire Caters and Cinques, Stedman Cinques and Kent Treble Bob Maximus. Then there was the unfortunate occasion, 30-odd years ago, when one such record length was found to be false. The peals have been well spread out over the 70 years except for a gap between 1933 and 1945.

Quedgeley (8) has 107, and here more peals were rung in the 15 years after the first peal on the bells in 1891 than since, for 80 came from that period. At the moment it is doing well with 19 since 1947 (none this year so far and only one last year). These are the only towers which have passed the century mark—one 12, one 10 and one 8. Another of the five 12-bell towers comes next (Gloucestershire has more of these than any other county outside London, being equal with Lancashire)—Cheltenham, St. Mary's, with 88. 15,227 of Grandsire Caters was rung here in 1889 and this is still the record tower-bell peal in the method, I believe.

WAR LOSS

Three of the seven 10 bell towers follow: Stroud (83), Bristol, St. Nicholas' (72) and Gloucester, St. Michael's (71). The second of these was destroyed in the last war. The first had a rather larger proportion of its peals rung between the wars and the other two were more active before 1914, especially St. Michael's, Gloucester, where the last peal was rung in 1920—the only one since 1914. Prestbury (8) has also recorded 71 spread evenly over the period but with rather fewer since the last war than before it.

To mention the two remaining 12-bell towers—Tewkesbury has just reached the 50 mark (it was not, of course, a 12-bell tower at the beginning of the period—the first on the 12 was in 1934). Here again we find a pretty consistent average over the whole period from 1883; then Cirencester has 31, 21 in the 30 years before the first war, eight in the 20 years between the wars and two since—a slight preponderance on the earlier years.

There are three more 10-bell towers to mention. Bristol, St. James', has 45. There was a sudden burst of energy here just after the first war, for 25 peals were rung from 1919 to 1925. Only six have been rung since, including one since the war, in 1946. Bristol, Christ Church, has 42; 39 came from the years 1901 to 1914, so there have only been three since—in 1918, 1919 and 1953. The third 10-bell tower is Berkeley. This became ten in 1920 and six peals had been rung there as an 8-bell tower between 1900 and 1912. Only ten have been rung since then—six between the wars and four between 1945 and 1951. For a ten-bell tower it must rank amongst those which have recorded the fewest peals.

NOTICE

Beginning with the first issue in 1955, the price of copies of this paper obtained from newsagents will be 6d. per copy.

The 'Ringing World' Committee regret having to take this step, but rising prices leave no alternative if we are to remain solvent.

The terms for postal subscribers will, for the time being, remain as at present.

As for 8-bell towers there are three more which have reached the 50 mark. They are Bristol, All Saints' (57), Barnwood (51) and Upton St. Leonards (50). At the first of these 53 were rung prior to 1914, but there were two in 1948. Barnwood became an 8-bell tower at the end of the first war and peals are quite regular from then (there were two when it was a 6-bell tower). Thirty-eight of Upton St. Leonards' also came from before 1914 and there have been two since 1945. One 8-bell tower still remains to be rung—Chipping Campden.

FORTY-THREE UNCONQUERED TOWERS

In the case of the 6-bell towers there are still 22 unconquered, but considering the large number of these (121), that is a pretty good record of achievement. This number is rather too large to list. Haresfield has the highest number of peals in a 6-bell tower—24. This tower is going strong at the moment as compared with the second on the list—Hempsted, which has 23. Eighteen of these were rung in the last century, so there have only been five in the last 50-odd years. The last was in 1937. Sixteen of Hardwicke's 21 have come since the last war, so this tower, too, is doing well at the moment (but none this year, as I write). Cranham has 16, the first in 1888; Cromhall has 13, all since the war; Minchinhampton also has 13, all but the first between the wars; Brockworth, Coalpit Heath and Stonehouse all have 12 and all have been heard in recent years. Only seven of the 28 5-bell towers have had peals rung at them, and four is the highest number at any of these (at Elkstone and Tredington—the latter having its first peal as far back as 1886). Thus there are still 21 unconquered 5-bell towers in the county.

There are many more points of interest which could have been mentioned and which, perhaps, readers' letters may bring out. If so, I shall be pleased to amplify and comment, if necessary.

THEFT OF TENOR BELL

Unearthed on Blitz Site

A fine of £100 was imposed by the Exeter Magistrates on December 4th on Richard Henry Trevorrow (40), a carpenter, of Plymouth, for the theft of the tenor bell from St. Sidwell's Church site, Exeter. The bell was valued at £200.

The Chief Constable, Mr. A. E. Rowsell, said there were ten bells in the church ring. Nine were recovered after the 1942 bombing, but the tenor, weighing 25 cwt. 1 qr. 3 lb. remained undiscovered.

Trevorrow was employed by a Plymouth firm of contractors, who were taking limestone blocks from St. Sidwell's for use in a church at Plymouth. The bell was unearthed and, on Trevorrow's instructions, was broken up and sold to dealers in Exeter.

The presiding magistrate (Mr. R. P. Thrasher) told Trevorrow that he was fortunate the offence was not committed during the war. If it had, he would have faced a charge of looting, and the penalty would have been very heavy indeed.

Mr. Thrasher said that it was up to St. Sidwell's Parochial Church Council to take steps to recover damages from Trevorrow or his employer.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Ringing at Barnes, Richmond and Twickenham

The quarterly meeting of the Northern District was held at Barnes on November 27th, when, despite a half gale, a good company of ringers turned up and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon's ringing on the handy eight.

After a short service the company adjourned to the Church Hall, where local ringers had prepared an excellent tea. This was followed by the business meeting which included nominations for 1955 officers. All the existing officers were nominated, with Mr. Mudd in addition, for the committee.

The usual votes of thanks being dealt with, a move was made for Richmond. This was the first occasion for many years that these bells had been available to the Association, and the opportunity to add a new tower was taken by many visitors. Under the guidance of the District Master, Mr. F. E. Collins, satisfaction all round was assured. The General Master, Mr. Roy Davies, was in charge at All Hallows', Twickenham, which bells were also available.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

There are three generations of the Warrilow family ringing at St. Mary's, Stafford. Mr. R. J. Warrilow is head ringer; his father, now in his 78th year, still attends regularly twice on Sundays and also on practice nights, cycling 3½ miles to do so; and his son, Robert, also rings.

Ringing at Carbis Bay for the Prime Minister's birthday started on November 30th at 7.30 a.m. for the 8 a.m. celebration of the Holy Communion. The ringers were the Vicar (the Rev. A. S. Roberts, R.D.), Mrs. H. P. Hurrell, Mrs. T. Sullivan, Marion Jones, Jill Swanne, Evangeline Roberts, Roger Sullivan, John Sullivan and Peter Rogers.

For some time Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Corby have been contriving for the former's 500th peal to coincide with her 100th. Success was achieved at Enderby, Leics, on November 22nd. On the same occasion Mrs. H. J. Poole scored her 114th peal in 1954, thus beating the record previously held by Mrs. F. J. Marshall of 113 peals in a year by a lady. The band was very much a family affair with three Stanfords, two Pooles, two Corbys and the Corbys' next-door neighbour for a makeweight.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

Winchester District Dinner

The third annual dinner of the Winchester District was held in Winchester on November 27th.

The bells of St. Maurice's Church were available during the afternoon and ringing ranged from rounds to Surprise. A special ringers' service was held in the church, conducted by the Rector (Bishop B. C. Corfield). In a short address the Bishop stressed that ringers held a sacred office and that no matter how many bells were being rung, their message always included the word 'Come' and not 'Go'—'Come', 'Come in', 'Come to church,' etc. and not 'Go', 'Go in', or 'Go to church.' Ringing was entirely spoilt if the ringers did not attend at least one of the services for which they rang.

The dinner was held in the Westgate Lodge Hotel under the chairmanship of the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth, supported by the District secretaries and treasurer. After the loyal toast from the chair Mr. H. Mansell proposed 'The Church.' He thanked the clergy for allowing the continued use of their bells and for the addresses they gave at the services. He also mentioned the difficulty of getting younger people to take up the art.

The Rev. J. R. Beynon, Rector of Twyford, in his reply, referred to the antiquity of bell-ringing.

Mr. H. Street, in submitting the toast to 'The Guild,' said he always thought bellringers were a friendly and sociable lot, but after three dinners he was beginning to wonder. The occasion of the first dinner was marked by high winds and heavy rain; the second by snow; and this one by a violent storm. Was it a sign of wickedness?

The name of Mr. W. C. Lampard, the Cathedral captain, was coupled with the toast. He recalled salient features in the history of the Guild and that this year it had celebrated its 75th anniversary. He finished by urging ringers to look after their Sunday service ringings.

'The Visitors' toast was honoured on the call of Mr. S. B. Carey, and Mr. R. A. Reed, replying, said that the Winchester District was doing a fine job under its secretary, Mr. J. A. C. King. He had found visitors always welcome and a very happy relationship existed.

Members then adjourned to a lounge for a variety concert which included impromptu performances by Mrs. C. H. Kippin and Messrs. S. B. Carey, J. A. C. King and R. A. Reed. Mrs. R. A. Reed officiated for these at the piano.

CHRISTMAS DAY BELLS

On the morning of the 25th each Region will present a radio Christmas card, prefacing it with a short 'touch' of bells from a tower in the area. A greeting in local speech will follow, with other items. Originating in the West Region, this nation-wide programme, 'God Rest Ye Merry,' will be heard in all the B.B.C.'s Home Services.

From Scotland the bells of Britain's largest carillon, in the tower of the East and West Churches of St. Nicholas, Aberdeen, will be heard. Heralding Northern Ireland's contribution will be the bells of the Assembly Hall at Belfast, while a pre-recorded peal from York Minster will bring in the North Region. Down in Devon ringers will 'sign on' the West Region from the tall tower of Widecombe-in-the-Moor Parish Church.

In the Midland Region two towers will take part: first the bells of St. Martin's Parish Church, in Birmingham's Bull Ring, will be heard, and later, the ring of eight in Bretforton Parish Church, Worcestershire, will be introduced by Mr. John Hall, J.P., a market gardener in the Vale of Evesham, who is chairman of his Parish Council and a keen ringer. From Wales will come the sound of a single bell, but the oldest in the country still in use, which dates from 1290, and hangs in the tower of Llanallgo Parish Church, near Moelfre, Anglesey.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ladies' Guild Branch Contemplated

A quarterly meeting of the Sussex Association (Eastern Division) was held at Christ Church, Eastbourne on November 27th, when about 20 members attended.

Although the ringing during the afternoon and evening reached no great heights in method ringing it was enjoyed by those present and considerable help was given to the younger members in such methods as Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. N. Marcon.

At the business meeting which followed an enjoyable tea, Miss J. Earl and Miss S. Tonkin, of Hellingly, and Mr. M. Laidler, of St. Mary's, Eastbourne, were elected members of the Association.

A question was raised regarding the formation of the Ladies' Guild in Sussex. After some discussion it was decided to approach Mrs. Percy with the suggestion that she should arrange a ladies' meeting with the object of encouraging the ladies of the other Divisions to add their support to that of the ladies of the Eastern Division.

Good progress is being made towards collecting the sum necessary for the repair and overhaul of Bexhill bells, and it is hoped they will be ready for ringing some time during 1955. Wadhurst bells should be heard again soon after Christmas.

The general secretary of the Association (Mr. R. Percy) gave details of the 70th anniversary of the Association, which is to be celebrated at Brighton on January 29th. He also informed members that Association badges would not be available until after the anniversary.

R. W. P.

Mr. G. J. Butcher, of Northfleet, has completed the quartet of peals in Plain Bob and rung handbell peals on all numbers from 5 to 12.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Standing Committee was held in St. Andrew's Parish Hall, Queen Street, Norwich, on December 4th. In the deeply regretted absence of the president (the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, who is ill), the chairman of the East Norfolk Branch (Mr. E. R. Goate) was in the chair.

The annual general meeting for 1955 was discussed. It was agreed to hold this on Saturday, May 7th, when the annual service in St. Andrew's Church (despite the continued unringableness of its bells) at 4 p.m., and the tea and business meeting in St. Andrew's Parish Hall (not to be confused with St. Andrew's Hall, the ancient monastic church, now a great place of meeting for Norwich). Ringing arrangements to be as far as possible as at the last annual meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Yallop, who run many delightful functions in St. Andrew's Parish Hall, undertook to do a good tea for 2s. 6d. (1s. 6d. to those at school), with assistance from ringers' wives. Agenda at the annual meeting not to include new members, who could be more conveniently elected at Branch meetings.

It was agreed that a new Norwich Diocesan Association badge be produced forthwith. Mr. Nolan Golden undertook to arrange its design and manufacture, and it is hoped to be able to sell it at 2s. 6d. each (2s. to those at school). It was noted that all members should pay their subscriptions to the branch secretaries, also their peal fees to the Association Ringing Master, Mr. Nolan Golden, in accordance with the rules.

It was agreed to send £5 from the Belfry Repair Fund to Great Bircham, which has recently spent £140 on bell restoration.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Cirencester Branch

The annual meeting was held at Cirencester on December 4th. Ringing took place at Watermoor (8) in the afternoon and the Parish Church (12) in the evening. The priest-in-charge at Watermoor took the service at 4.30 p.m.

The Association's Master (Mr. A. L. Barry) presided at the business meeting, when the retiring officers—chairman, Mr. W. A. Godwin; secretary, Mr. R. E. W. Wenban; and management committee representative, Mr. E. H. Jelferies—were re-elected. A rota of meetings to be held during 1955 was adopted. A very successful meeting was enjoyed by all. R. W.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

JAMES BARHAM'S PEALS

Dear Sir,—The recent attempt to break the record for the full extent of Major has drawn attention to the previous peal, rung at Leeds, in Kent, by James Barham, who completed the peal in 27 hours.

A broadsheet in the old ringing chamber of St. Mary's, Woolwich, was printed by George Naunton, of Ipswich. It is undated, but gives and 'Account of peals rung in different methods by James Barham, of Leeds, in Kent, in that and neighbouring county from 1744 to 1813.'

Among them are the following:—

December 30th, 1752.—14,500 of Bob Major rung in 9 hours and 30 minutes.

January 13th, 1753.—20,160 of Bob Major rung in 13 hours and 34 minutes.

March 31st, 1755.—16 hours.

April 7th and 8th, 1761.—40,320 of Bob Major rung in 27 hours.

Of the effort of March, 1755, a footnote states:—

'This number cannot be clearly ascertained nor can it be deemed a Peal, in consequence of the breaking of a clapper, when the said James Barham stood 14 hours 44 minutes under the 7th bell, drunk his glasses of wine and called all the Bobs. The proprietor of this work has a certificate signed by a respectable person who is willing to satisfy upon oath the truth of it.'

It would appear that this was an attempt on the full extent of Major, or, at least, a rehearsal similar to the 14,500 in 1752 in preparation for the half-way, rung in 1753. Likewise, it is reasonable to suppose that James Barham called the bobs in the successful peal, of which the footnote merely states:—

'The whole Peal of Changes on 8 Bells, having never been performed before, or since.'

No mention is made of the composition. If Thomas Steers was the composer he must have been a young man at the time, for it was 26 years after the peal was rung that he was elected a member of the Cambridge Youths, according to the date given by Mr. Hibbins in his letter to 'The Ringing World' of November 26th, 1954.—Yours sincerely,

A. GROVE.

Woolwich.

EARTH AS A SILENCER

Dear Sir,—We, also, have a deep layer of earth on the floor of our bell chamber at Long Crendon, which appears to have been there a considerable number of years. This makes a very effective silencer.

Unfortunately, we shall soon be faced with the problem of moving it, as the frame has to be treated. For this and other restoration work our Vicar has launched an appeal for one million pennies.

Perhaps a moth-proof felt, as is used in the construction of modern flats, would be more appropriate.—Yours faithfully,

G. J. TYLER.

Aylesbury, Bucks.

A COMPOSITION OF SUPERLATIVE

Dear Sir,—I am afraid Mr. William Thornley has made a slight error in claiming the peal of Superlative on page 784 of 'The Ringing World.' This peal on the commonest plan for peals of Superlative has been published under the name of E. Timbrell (Yorkshire Association Peal No. 4,201), C. H. Hattersley (Kent County Association report for 1910, Peal No. 1,530) and J. W. Washbrook, plus the usual selection of simple variations by Messrs. Knights and Lindoff too numerous to mention in detail.—Yours sincerely,

R. F. B. SPEED.

Kingston, Surrey.

THE EXTENT OF MAJOR

Dear Sir,—Reading in the issue of December 3rd Mr. Harris' interesting account of the late C. Herbert's stupendous achievement in writing the whole extent of Major, reminds me of a story told by the late George Martin, of Boyne Hill. As it was some time ago I might err a little in detail, but, briefly, this is as I remember it:—

A ringer of George's acquaintance got into conversation with a representative of an American firm of safe and lock makers. Apparently bells and ringing were discussed, and a plain course of Bob Major changed hands, with the explanation that 40,320 such rows of figures could be obtained without repetition. Some time later our worthy received a communication from America offering the sum of £300 if he would supply them with the extent but the poor man was then in a bad state of health and although financially embarrassed, was not capable of the task. His colleagues came to the rescue and, between them, brought the issue to a successful climax.

I believe I am correct in saying that some of our firms of safe makers possess copies of 'Standard Methods,' using the various diagrams in the construction of their craft.

An old friend once asked me for the calling of Holt's Original, and he eventually wrote the whole figures to convince his fellow workmates that it is possible to get 5,040 different changes on seven bells—not such a colossal task, but enough to show the pains that some ringers will take to prove that 'there is more in bell-ringing than meets the ear.'

Hard luck, long-peal band. Best wishes for success next time.

W. WELLING.

Old Windsor.

SAXILBY, Lincs

Dear Sir,—I notice reference was made to our tower the other week in one of your 'Letters to the Editor' concerning an old Lincolnshire rhyme. It may be of interest to your readers to know that in 1943 four of us taught ourselves to ring on the old four 'ding dongs' mentioned in the poem. By the time we had mastered Bob Minimus we had raised enough enthusiasm in the village to have the old frame taken out, the existing four bells rehung in a new steel frame and two new trebles added at a cost of over £700. The dedication was in April, 1947, and since then we have raised and maintained a small but keen band ringing Doubles and Minor methods. None of us have ever rung a peal, but since the bells were dedicated in 1947 the bells have never been silent before Matins, and ringing for Evensong has only been missed ten times; we regard service ringing as all-important.

Incidentally, our band of nine members consists of five choristers, four sidesmen, three church councillors, the organist and the church treasurer.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN M. BLAIKIE.

Saxilby, Lincoln.

Note.—We congratulate the band on their quarter peal, the last being rung over five years ago.—Ed.

STEDMAN CATERS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Topp's interesting composition of Stedman Caters recalls to memory a composition we rang in 1931 by the late G. Lindoff. He turned the bells every six courses in the Tittums and hand stroke position alternately, and had a 6.5 or 5.6 at every alternate course end through the peal.

A. H. PULLING.

UNWELCOMED PUBLICITY

Dear Sir,—Some time ago there was a spate of hostile criticism in the lay Press, brought on by the peal attempts of one of our prominent members.

You may recall that I wrote a letter, which you published, decrying the publicity which appeared in the daily newspapers, and I suggested that these matters should be confined to 'The Ringing World,' as publicity often does more harm than good.

This has been borne out in good measure in a recent issue of the 'Daily Mirror,' in which we come in for withering scorn from a tin god who assumes the title of 'Cassandra.' This abuse, and I do not believe we have heard the last, was brought on by the recent attempt at Loughborough.

Many ringers would be hard put to explain why one should want to ring for 20 hours. How, then, can we expect members of the public to understand? We are now being compared with pole squatters, marathon piano players, dancers, talkers and other crazy individuals, and what answer are we to give to the critics?

Believe me, many town towers have enough criticism as it is without this unnecessary storm of abuse being used to feed the flames. Please sir, may I, as a very humble, quite indifferent ringer, appeal to those more gifted performers to keep their prodigious feats of strength and concentration confined to the ringing Press, where at least it will be sympathetically received, if not entirely understood.—Sincerely yours,

ERNEST J. ROWE.

Tottenham, N.15.

INFORMATION WANTED

Dear Sir,—The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead has been misled, I think, by a misprint in Mr. Blagrove's recent letter re plain Major methods. This is in the two methods he rejected, which when corrected give Plain Bob coursing order in 7-8. They correspond to Crayford and Little Bob with places in 5-6 instead of dodging in the middle of the lead.

Could anyone please state the method rung at Anstey, Leics, on April 6th, 1935, which, according to Corrigan, was published as Huntington (which had already been rung) and renamed Wicken? Therefore, what is the 'Wicken' rung at Wicken, Northants, on July 12th, 1953?

Also, could the methods Evington Surprise Major and Framland Surprise Maximus be given, please? If they have been, and I've missed them, sorry!

And does Gainsborough Surprise Major have places made in 1, 2, 3 and 6 simultaneously between the 14th and 15th rows in the first half lead? This is according to the description given in 'Belfry Gossip,' but seems odd.—Yours sincerely,

D. A. FRITH.

Grantham.

CHIMES AND CHIME TUNES

Dear Sir,—In the long series of articles I wrote under the above title in 'The Ringing World,' July 17th, 1942, et seq., I gave a large selection of chime tunes as played by clocks at many churches. I cannot remember any quite like those at Stow-on-the-Wold given in your last issue by the Rev. H. C. M. Potts—the nearest seems to be at Tideswell, where the following was adapted for six bells:—

1.	1 2 3 4
2.	3 2 1 4
3.	1 3 2 4
4.	2 1 3 4

No. 1 was played at first quarter, 1 and 2 second, 1, 2 and 3 at third, and all at fourth, with No. 6 as hour bell.—Yours sincerely,

ERNEST MORRIS.

St. Margaret's, Leicester.

LETTERS—Continued

REPLY TO THE SURPRISE MAJOR CHALLENGE

Dear Sir,—Mr. Roe makes out a case for the 'ownership of figures' on the basis of responsibility and a tradition, but also a right have composed a certain peal is not only a responsibility and a tradition, but also a right and a just reward for many hours of hard work.

The 'tradition' of claiming to have composed a certain method seems to lie with less than half a dozen men, two or three in the field of Surprise Major and the same number with so-called extensions of London Surprise to 10 and 12 bells.

Mr. A. G. Driver worked out all the Minor methods and all the Plain Major methods, but he did not claim to have composed any of them. I would suggest that these traditionalists follow his example. After all, Surprise methods can be written down systematically at a higher rate than one a minute, so I fail to see where 'composition' comes in. The responsibility of what is rung lies with those who RING it, and not with those who WRITE it down.

There are over 200,000 Surprise Major methods with coursing order bells in 7-8 and triple and quadruple changes only, so there is really no need to ring methods with non-coursing bells in 7-8 or double changes.

Now for his challenge. I find there are 33 Surprise Major with coursing pairs in 7-8, regular lead ends and no adjacent places (in the Grid, Link, or Junction). They are, with 8ths place lead ends:—

- (1) —38—, 14—58—16—14—38, 16—16, 38
- (2) —38—, 14—58—16—14—38, 16—36, 18
- (3) —38—, 14—58—16—14—58—, 36, 14, 38
- (4) —38—, 14—58—16—14—58, 14—14, 38
- (5) —38—, 14—58—16—14—58—, 14, 36, 58
- (6) —38—, 14—58—36—14—38—, 16—, 58
- (7) —38—, 14—58—36—14—38, 14—16, 38
- (8) —38—, 14—58—36—14—38, 14—36, 18

Perhaps someone could supply the names of those that have been rung, as I do not possess any published collection.

If all these methods have been rung or published before, then his challenge was a pointless waste of time and paper. If any of them have not been rung or published, then I challenge him to prove that any one of them is not pealable.—Yours sincerely,

F. T. BLAGROVE.

W. Bedford, near Staines.

GRAMOPHONE RECORDS

Dear Sir,—In answer to those who complain about the noise made by bells, I should like to state that of my heterogeneous collection of gramophone records, the quietest is Y—k M—r B—ls.

Or perhaps I have got the wrong gramophone.—Faithfully yours, F. A. CLUETT.

Gravesend.

A WEEK-END IN FOUR COUNTIES

A Sequel to 'Dree Days in Zummerzet'

(Ringing World, August 13th, 1954)

For me it all began when I read 'Dree Days in Zummerzet', and saw the words, '16th ov October . . . if any ov ee wants to cum wi us, just let's know . . .'. October 16th happened to be within my holidays. Exchanging letters with the Editor eventually led me to the organiser and, to cut the story short, Friday, October 15th, found me Swindon bound.

I hadn't met them before but we introduced ourselves and I soon discovered that they were, in fact, 'purty vrendly.' A quarter peal at St. Mark's was successful and then adjournment for refreshment and to talk about the route for the week end.

Saturday morning we were well under way by eight o'clock, two cars with four in each, destination Nunney, in Somerset, about 40 miles way, where huge stones up to 20 feet high stand in the fields on both sides of the road, relics of the Druids. An hour's run and we were in Somerset, anon to Nunney where the church was under repair, and likely to be for some time, by appearances. There was nothing wrong with the bells, however, a handy six (tenor 12 cwt.). We had our ring and then made way for more of the 'vrends', who'd arrived from another direction. On to Wanstraw, for another ring of six, and here we were joined by another 'visitor', who'd travelled from Bedford since daylight, with his non-ringing friend for company.

Eleven o'clock, therefore, found us a convoy of four cars, moving on to the third six, Marston Magna (tenor 13 cwt.), but we hadn't been there long before the 'gaffer' decreed that some of us move on to Mudford to keep abreast of the time-table. So on to Mudford to find a very warm welcome from the Vicar and a heavy ring of five. If you want to ring a peal there, make it a non-conducted one. Well, the next stop was Yeovil and here we had an hour for lunch before going up to enjoy that glorious ten at St. John's. Stedman Caters was among the best ringing of the day and I think everyone would have liked to stay longer than the generous hour permitted, but on again for the second half.

If C. S. had tried to find more picturesque names that week-end, I don't think he could have bettered those we had, e.g., Marston Magna and now (three more sixes) Preston Plucknett, Montacute (tenor 24 cwt.) and Stoke-sub-Hamdon, until we came to the first eight of the day—Shepton Beauchamp, as handy a ring as you'll wish to find. We 'moved them on a bit' to Stedman and then finished up with a good course of Yorkshire. One more six, Kingsbury Episcopi (another bonny name) made ten towers for the day and then off for the night to East Budleigh, in Devon, ultimate destination whenever the 'vrends of the Exercise' are out.

Well, we went to bed eventually, but it was a close night in any case, which was maybe why I was up before seven and out to have a look at this viewly village where Raleigh spent so much time. There's his pew in the church, where at eight o'clock six of us raised, rang and ceased for the Holy Communion. Then, after breakfast, to Harford to ring for Matins, and elevenish on to Bradford Abbas, in Dorset, where we had yet another warm welcome and found another good six. Lunch this day was at Sherborne, but the 'gang' had rung at the Abbey previously, so I didn't have that pleasure. However, on to Milborne Port, and there's a weight of metal in that tower; a fine old church, too. We stayed until three o'clock and then on to Henstridge for the final ring of six (tenor almost a ton again) and as good as any for the last six, although they were all good bells that week-end.

Tea next (was it at Ilminster?) and then the last tower of the tour, North Bradley, back in Wiltshire, and appropriately enough the home tower of two of the lads. As spick-and-span a belfry as I've seen, and the bells just as smart with a peal to match (tenor cast in 1519 and the two trebles added only four years since). They made a good job of that splice we all agreed. We finished off by staying to the service and having a good sing, almost a choir on our own. From there it was back to Swindon—the end of a memorable week-end.

THE LADIES' GUILD
Midland District at Kettering

Despite the unfavourable weather, there was a good gathering at the meeting held at Kettering on November 20th. A party travelled by train from Leicester and district and the bells were set going during the afternoon and evening to a variety of methods.

A short form of service was conducted by the Rector, who, in his address, said that campanologists were fortunate in having an interest which drew them to the House of God so often, and he hoped that they found time to say a short prayer at each church where they rang. He stated how gratifying it would be for ringers to be able to say after meeting and tower-grabbing expeditions, not only that they have rung in a number of churches, but also that they have prayed in that number of churches.

An excellent tea was served in the nearby Church Hall by the ladies of the parish. Before the business meeting commenced Miss Thompson (vice-president) expressed thanks to all concerned, especially to Mr. P. Chapman, for making the local arrangements. Seven new members were elected.

The Leicester party, arriving back in Leicester, were met by Mr. H. J. Poole, who caused considerable hilarity on remarking that he was pleased to see the ladies had roped in several new members for the 'Supporters' Club'!

It is hoped to hold the annual meeting at St. Mary de Castro's, Leicester, on Jan. 29th.

IN THE FEN COUNTRY

The bleak and desolate prospect presented by the Lincolnshire Fens did not deter a keen party of tower snatchers from taking full advantage of the excellent programme arranged for them by Mr. Ron Noon on November 6th, when ten towers were visited.

Market Deeping, a tower famous in its 'Day', was reached at 1 p.m. and quickly followed by the magnificent six of Deeping St. James' Church. The age-defying Abbey Church of SS. Bartholomew, Guthlac and Mary, Crowland, which has known the sound of bells for longer than most places, but now possesses only six bells, was admired by the band in the brief period allowed before the road was taken for Gedney Hill, where are five bells. Spliced Doubles were rung there and we were told that a long silence has only recently been broken.

Whaplode—lovely in its Norman nave as well as its bells—was reached in darkness at what would have been tea-time had there been time. Holbeach, though it has eight good bells, could not provide a cup of tea for the weaker brethren, who must, anyway, press on to Fleet. Mr. J. Hallifax, a hearty octogenarian and the ringing Vicar, made us welcome and warmed us in the detached campanile. Another Gedney, this time with six bells and a much larger church, came next and was enjoyed. Long Sutton heard our only course of Surprise Major of the day, Cambridge. Thanks, Lincolnshire!

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK W. TOWNSEND

With sincere regret we record the death in St. Mary's Hospital, Poole, on December 3rd, at the age of 87 years, of Mr. F. W. Townsend. He became crippled with arthritis before the last war, and was unable to continue ringing. For the last year he had been confined to bed, but, active in mind, he enjoyed reading his 'Ringing World' and talking on ringing right up to the last. He was not a big peal ringer and his peals did not exceed 50, his greatest object being to have the bells well rung for service.

Mr. Townsend learned to handle a bell at Bishop's Cleeve and his change ringing at St. Mary's, Cheltenham, and Charlton Kings, under Mr. W. T. Pates and Mr. W. Dyer. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

He came to Poole in 1904 and at that time only call changes were rung at St. James', Poole. In 1906 he joined the Poole band and soon became captain. Under his instruction the Poole band became one of the best in the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. He saw the eight bells rehung in 1907 and was largely responsible for increasing them to ten in 1937, which he said was the most memorable event in his ringing career. The treble in the ten carries his name and is a lasting memorial to his memory.

A good handbell ringer, he was largely responsible for building up the band of handbell ringers in the Poole and Bournemouth District and his pupils appear to-day in many of the handbell peals rung in the area.

Mr. Townsend was District Master of the Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild for over 40 years. He spent a great deal of time in instructing bands in change ringing in days when transport was not easy. Amongst his pupils was one of our leading composers of to-day as well as several ringers who have made their name in the Exercise. During his long life he saw no less than six rectors at St. James', Poole.

The funeral took place on December 6th in Poole Cemetery and was conducted by the Rector of Poole, the Rev. G. H. W. Bevington. After the service a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the open grave by W. Young, Mrs. Marshallsay, D. Matkin and A. Davis.

Amongst the mourners and friends were his son, Mr. W. Townsend, Messrs. B. James, A. F. Martin Stewart, I. P. Davis, F. Hart, L. J. Lockyer, R. Willis and A. R. Macdonald. In the evening the Rector of Poole conducted a short service in the belfry of St. James' Church and gave a brief address in which he stressed Mr. Townsend's devotion to his duties as a ringer over the years.

The local company then rang the ten bells with half-muffled clappers to the 'Whole Pull and Stand' to the years of the deceased's age, after which touches of Stedman and Grandsire Cateters were rung, in which ringers from Wimborne and Bournemouth joined. A. R. M.

AN APPRECIATION

I would like to pay a small tribute to this grand old gentleman, a tribute in which many ringers who knew him in this part of the country would like to join.

It will be difficult to measure the extent of Mr. Townsend's work to encourage the art of change ringing, both on tower bells and on handbells. When one visited Poole tower in his day one was always sure of a most cordial welcome, and that no time would be wasted for, if for some reason the tower bells could not be rung, the handbells were soon in evidence.

Freddie did not make extravagant claims, but he would insist on good striking at all times. His standard was extremely high, so that if he said the ringing was good it was a compliment indeed.

Peal attempts were frequent on the Old Poole eight, and the drill was always the same. Mr. Townsend would have everything ready and settle down to listen to the first quarter, then he would creep out of the belfry. But he would not be far away; he was the first one up at the conclusion of the ringing to congratulate or listen to the inquest.

When tower-bell ringing was banned in 1940, Mr. Townsend assisted the early efforts made in Bournemouth to practise double-handed change ringing. Through him the Bournemouth handbell band came into existence, and as long as a handbell peal is rung in the district, the name of Frederick Townsend will be remembered with affection, respect and gratitude.

MR. ROBERT ALSOP

Mr. Robert Alsop, a ringer at Christ Church, Ebbw Vale, died at Ebbw Vale Hospital on November 29th, aged 76.

A native of Cheddar, where he had learned to ring call changes as a young man, he went to Ebbw Vale when he was 23, but there was no opportunity for ringing until the ring of eight bells was installed at Christ Church in 1937. Then, at nearly 60 years of age, he took up change ringing for the first time, being a member of the service band throughout its existence.

He rang a few peals of Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples. He was keenly interested in all aspects of ringing, and was learning new methods, including Cambridge, right to the end of his life.

He was a faithful member of his church in many of its activities. He was widely read and would often dig out and use a little-known word, with a mischievous glint in his eye. He wrote to 'The Ringing World' many times, often under a pen name, usually over some query of interest. A few years ago he made a table out of a walnut tree that he himself had planted when a boy.

He was the father of a truly Christian family, and was a few weeks from his golden wedding when he died. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Alsop and her daughter and sons.

MR. P. T. CLIFT

We regret to announce the death at Rumney, near Cardiff, of Mr. Phillip Thomas Clift, father of Messrs. D. G. and P. B. Clift, at the age of 82.

Mr. Clift was taught change ringing by Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, in the latter part of the 19th century and was leader of the old six-bell band at Usk for many years. In 1925, when the old six had become unringable, he was associated with the late Canon Morgan and others in raising funds for the magnificent eight which now hang in the tower of St. Mary's Church.

Though he never took part in a peal and had taken no active part in ringing for many years, he nevertheless maintained a keen interest, and any ringer was made welcome at his home.

His first love, however, was rifle shooting, a sport in which he had achieved international honours, having shot for Wales on many occasions in the annual meetings between the four countries at Bisley. He had reached the final stage of the King's Prize on several occasions and had won the coveted silver medal of the National Rifle Association, also the then Blue Riband of the Miniature Rifle Shooting, Sir Elliott Lee's Shield. He was proud to have been one of a long line of notable sportsmen which the small town of Usk has produced.

He was interred on December 11th in the churchyard of St. Mary's Church, where the bells were rung half-muffled to touches of Grandsire Triples by the local band. D. G. C.

PEAL ATTEMPT IN AMERICA

Groton Scholars Learning to Ring.

On November 25th the ringers from Boston, U.S.A., visited the Memorial Tower at Hingham, Mass., where 564 Grandsire Triples was brought round after some very fair striking: A. Matthews 1, P. J. Allfrey (cond.) 2, Mrs. M. H. Shurtleff 3, C. C. Randall 4, J. Goodhead 5, J. F. Laker 6, W. Bashford 7, R. Newton 8. A 672 in the same method was also rung. . . .

On November 26th . . . six members of the Boston Guild visited Groton School and enjoyed a very pleasant outing. . . . One or two short touches were rung before service at the school chapel, some of the pupils taking a rope . . . and at 1.45 an attempt was made for a peal, the ringers standing as follows: S. Warren Sturgis 1, P. J. Allfrey (cond.) 2, W. Bashford 3, J. F. Laker 4, J. Goodhead 5, C. C. Randall 6, R. Newton 7, L. Adams 8. Owing to the noise in the tower, however, a trip which occurred after 50 minutes' good ringing could not be adjusted and the bells were brought to a stand.

[Mr. S. Warren Sturgis was classics master and L. Adams a pupil at the school. The former, a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, rang several handbell peals during visits to this country. Mrs. Shurtleff, the first lady member of that Society, and still living in Boston, also rang a few peals in England.]

Herts County Association

The rough weather probably accounted for the attendance dropping to 20 at the Northern District meeting at Norton on November 27th. The special method for the meeting, Pudgey Surprise, was successfully brought round.

Mrs. H. Werrett and helpers provided a bountiful tea, and Miss J. Sanderson presided at the business meeting when the following members were elected: Messrs. J. Sinfeld and D. Broyd (Houghton Regis, Beds) and Mr. and Mrs. W. Critchley (Hitchin). The annual meeting was announced for Hitchin on Jan. 22nd.

Evensong was said at 6.30 p.m. by the Vicar (the Rev. G. Kenyon). Further ringing followed until 8.15 when the bells were lowered in peal.

MR. R. G. MARTIN

There passed to higher service, on November 25th, Richard Gough Martin, a Diocesan Lay Reader, known in many Northants churches. In his younger days he had an aptitude for ringing, and up to a month prior to his death at the age of 86 often chimed for early Sunday Eucharist and daily evensong at his own church, Weston Favell. He was for many years secretary of the Peterborough Diocesan Lay Readers Association, and in private life was a retired schoolmaster.

The funeral took place at Weston Favell on November 29th, after which a quarter-peal of Doubles (1,020 Grandsire and 240 Plain Bob) was rung half-muffled by: W. Gummage 1, Miss G. Ashby 2, F. Rollings 3, M. Hollowell 4, P. Amos (conductor) 5.

P. A.

MR. A. L. SIMMONDS

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. A. L. Simmonds, of Westfield, Patching Hall Lane, Chelmsford, a member for many years of the Cathedral band.

Before moving to Chelmsford he was a member of the Saffron Walden band. He will be missed by his many friends—through ringing he made life-long contacts.
