OTHER BELLS

WHEN we return to our own tower after outings or ringing excursions, we often hear the remark: 'It's good to be back. I like our bells best.' It is not usually the tone of the bells but the familiar handling that we find comforting, though knowing which bell is which also counts. The odd spacing or circle of ropes in some towers is often confusing. Many are the bands we have seen getting hopelessly confused on our left-handed ring, but that is an extra difficulty which is fortunately rather rare.

Why is it almost safe to say that no two bells run alike? Surely with modern bellhanging they should be very similar, apart from weight—but they are not! However, the instructor is right when he says that any ringer with correct technique of bell control can ring any bell within the limits of his physical strength. And the foundation of that technique is so simple—a long, straight pull at backstroke.

Examine the factors making bells different to handle:—

1. Length of Draught.—A long length of rope always increases the difficulty of handling, especially with light bells. In dry weather the ropes are very elastic and give a springy non-positive feel to the weight of the bell. The long draught also aggravates the amount of the shortening of the ropes in wet weather.

2. Height of Belfry Ceiling.—The ideal height is such that the sallies just disappear at backstroke. With higher ceilings in ground floor belfries it is usual to have sally guides, which counteract the tendency for ropes to drift out of reach, but usually they produce a considerable rattle which makes listening difficult. In any case, extra care must be taken to pull the backstroke well in. When the ceiling is too low there is a tendency for the sallies to lay on the floor above if the ringer is slack in his pull.

3. Weight of Bell.—Any bells under 5 cwt. need careful ringing. Bumping the bell off the stay is the most common fault, and this may be avoided by catching the sally high and keeping the rope's end short so that the body must be lifted on to the toes before a bump can occur. On heavy bells the pull must be judged very accurately, for if overpulled the bell will require more checking than the ringer is capable of. Economy of effort is essential. Ringing a heavy bell is a fine art, and good striking can only be maintained if the 'back bells' are well handled.

4. The Hanging of the Bell.—Modern hanging is seldom other than in ball-bearings, which naturally reduces the effort needed to ring heavy bells; but a bell properly hung in plain bearings is sometimes more pleasant to ring. Some old heavy bells are very long waisted, and the headstocks being attached to 'canons' instead of the modern flat boss makes for much leverage against the ringer and also much slowness in striking. The modern arched iron headstock tucks up the bell, greatly reducing the pull required, though producing complications in 'clappering up,' which have to be solved by specially counterbalancing the clappers. The use of the straight 'Hastings' stay with 'S' guide instead of the old-fashioned curved stay and slider makes no difference to the feel of a bell, but the old style is more liable to be deformed and cause the bell to set awkwardly deep at one stroke.

5. Acoustics.—Many good rings of bells are unpleasant to ring owing to their being either difficult to hear or too loud for the conductor to be able to make himself heard. The ideal is to have an intermediate room between the belfry and bell chamber. When bells are close above and sound-deadening materials are put in, the volume of sound fluctuates when most of the sallies are in the rope holes at backstroke. The rattle of ropes in sally guides has already been mentioned as a nuisance in long-draught towers. Modern bells have so much more 'breath' in them than old ones that they are seldom difficult to hear, but in some cases the hum and harmonics produced swamp the top notes and make the sounds indistinct.

You are probably not so fortunate as to be in an ideal tower, with the best of bells and ringing conditions, but if you ring well and do justice to your tower and bells you will gain much personal satisfaction and give pleasure to the many people in the parish who like the sound of their bells.—A. W.

A new record in regular Doubles methods was created by Mr. Frank T. Blagrove and his band at Hambleden, Bucks, on August 19th. In all 113 individual plain course methods were rung. The record for Minor methods is 126. rung in a peal of 6,480 changes. Congratulations!

The peal at Rickmansworth on August 20th of Southwell Surprise Major was rung after meeting short for Royal.

Mr. L. Willders, of Lincoln, has 'circled' Bassingham tower to peals, completed on August 14th with the treble to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

Mr. J. E. Jeater will be away from home from September 5th to 17th. Correspondence requiring immediate attention should be sent to the Editor at Guildford.

Mr. Adrian J. Tumber, of Bishopstoke, writes expressing his thanks to Middlesex County Association ringers, particularly the Master (Mr. John R. Mayne), for their hospitality during his recent visit.

A plaque recording the quarter peal of Grandsire Caters rung half-muffled in memory of the late Ernest J. Jelley will be unveiled and dedicated in the ringing chamber of St. John the Divine, Leicester, during the practice night on Thursday, September 8th, by the Vicar, the Rev. W. Basil Williams. An invitation is extended to all who wish to be present.

In expressing his apologies, to all concerned, Mr. A. James Poyner withdraws the footnote to the peal rung at Ratby, Lincs. on July 25th (see page 554) in which he stated that he believed the band to be the youngest to ring a peal of Major. His thanks are due to Mr. Ernest Morris, who gave him a cutting of the peal in the same method rung at Crayford on April 21st, 1934. The average age of this band was just over 15 years and the peal was conducted by John J. L. Gilbert, who was then 15½ years. The amended footnote of the Ratby peal should read: 'Youngest band to ring a peal of Major for the Guild.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Trevor Vandy, of Market Harborough, with the minimum of help and expenditure, has recommissioned the five bells at Ashley, Northants, which for 41 years have been unringable. His work was proved by the first quarter peal there on August 6th.

Many ringing friends who visit Cornwall will be pleased to learn that 'Jan' Sangwin has, by ringing his first quarter of Stedman, achieved an ambition of 30 years, when he first learned the method.

We hear that whilst Mr. Gordon Halls, of Derby, is over in New York and Los Angeles, on business for Rolls Royce, his wife, Pat, has slipped over to Paris for a holiday. Sauce for the goose, etc.!

Flying back to the States today is Mr. Russell Young, of Groton School, Massachusetts. His two months' visit to this country, the second year in succession, has brought him into contact with a large number of ringers who have been charmed with the American ringers. Last Sunday Mr. Young rang at Holy Trinity and St. Mary's Churches, Guildford, and in the evening at Hillingdon.

Although the date of the diamond wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, of Leicester, was August 8th the peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at St. John the Divine, Leicester, in honour of the occasion was not rung until August 20th, owing to some of the band being on holiday. Mr. S. Harrison visited the couple to tell them of the attempt and was gratified to learn that the family celebration coincided with the rearranged date.

Whilst the recent quarter peal was being rung at Dean Prior, Devon, after the institution of the Rev. J. W. Timms to the benefice, several members of the congregation watched the progress of the ringing with great interest. At the conclusion the new Rector expressed his thanks, and gave a message to the ringers from the Lord Bishop of Plymouth, saying that his Lordship regretted not seeing the ringers personally because the quarter peal had already commenced.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE COMMEMORATED

A remembrance week-end was held in Hampshire to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the death of Florence Nightingale, and this culminated in a special remembrance service held at the Church of St. Mary, Southampton, on August 14th, which was attended by members of the staff of local hospitals, the British Red Cross Society and the St. John Ambulance Brigade. The service also commemorated the 100th anniversary of the founding of the first Nightingale training school for nurses.

The Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild co-operated with the anniversary and rang five peals and a quarter peal over a wide area of Florence Nightingale's home country, i.e., Bishopstoke, Christchurch Priory, St. Mary's, Southampton, Winchester Cathedral and Brightwalton, Berks.

The peal at Bishopstoke was of particular interest. A new method, 'Nightingale Treble Place Bob Major', was found for the occasion by Mr. Frank Blagrove. Mr. R. Roger Savory, who conducted, had to use two different calls.

The quarter peal was rung at Romsey Abbey, the nearest ring of bells to Florence Nightingale's resting place at East Wellow. This consisted of 1,260 Grandsire Triples, and was rung prior to the Sung Eucharist on August 14th by Miss C. White 1, C. M. White 2, M. D. G. Northway 3, H. J. Page 4, D. Greenlaw 5, C. Redwood 6, A. W. Fry (conductor) 7, L. F. Cobb 8.

The bells of St. Mary's, Southampton, were also rung previous to the memorial service.

Soothes Away The Worries

As a very busy business woman, I have to do most of my 'chores' in the evening. I always save the quiet jobs in the garden, weeding, transplanting, etc., until Thursday because that is the local church bellringers' practice night, and the peaceful, 'far-from-this-troubled-world' sound soothes away the worries of the week.—Mrs. M. James, Sale, Cheshire, to 'Woman's Weekly.'

BEDFORDSHIRE RINGERS MARRIED

Two well known Bedfordshire ringers, Mr. Stephen Ivin and Miss Avril Thackray, were married at All Saints' Church, Houghton Conquest, on Saturday, August 13th.

The bridegroom, who attended Bedford School and later studied at Merton College, Oxford, is the only son of Mrs. M. Ivin, of 26, High Street, Houghton Conquest, Beds.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thackray, of 79, Spenser Road, Bedford, is a former pupil of Dame Alice Harpur School, Bedford, and subsequently attended the Leicester College of Domestic Science.

Father Francis was the officiating clergyman. Miss A. E. Lloyd, a college friend, made a charming bridesmaid and the best man was Mr. P. Border, whilst Messrs. J. R. Taylor and J. B. Long acted as ushers.

About 30 guests were present at the reception at the White Hart Hotel, Amptill.

As the ceremony proceeded, in this beautiful old church, those of us whose minds tended to wander probably recalled the time, about 12 years ago, when the bridegroom first became interested in campanology and how, in no time at all, he handled a bell with the skill and assurance of a veteran.

His progress since those days is well known to all who are interested in ringing, but not all of us, probably, realise how much he has done for the advancement of change ringing, and many of us, who smugly pride ourselves on our regularity, overlook the fact that we could render far greater service to the church if we had a fraction of Stephen's penetration and persistence.

If I say that his charming bride is a lovely ringer I am in no danger of being wrong (whichever way I am interpreted!) and neither Bob Singles nor Surprise Maximus is any trouble to Avril!

As this young couple set out on the great adventure, their numerous friends wish them every happiness and many years together.

SERVANTS OF THE EXERCISE — No. 36

MR. C. W. DENYER
Master, Guildford Diocesan Guild.

Charles William Denyer was born at Tongham, Surrey, on March 25th, 1911, and a year later the family moved into Aldershot, where their father, Mr. William Denyer, was employed in the printing trade. Charles was educated at the local C. of E. school and later at Farnborough Technical (now Grammar) School. The light ring of six bells at Aldershot was augmented to 8 in 1920, and the 3 young Denyer children, Grace (13), Nancie (10) and Charles (9), were the first three recruits to learn handling the new trebles under their father and C.Q.M.S. George Gilbert.

In 1924, at the age of 13, a local peal of Grandsire Triples at Aldershot enabled Charles to ring his first peal, although his sister Nancie had scored a peal of Plain Bob Major a year before—the youngest lady to do so and a record which stood for many years. Peal ringing is not his chief ambition in ringing, however, as the modest total of 90 on tower bells proves. On his 20th birthday he conducted his first peal (one of Minor) and his total conducted now is 25. In each of these there has been one or more first pealers or first in the method. In addition he has rung two handbell peals—one of Minor with the late J. S. Goldsmith (Mr. Goldsmith's last peal) and one of Grandsire Triples with the late A. H. Pulling.

The Guildford Diocese was formed in 1927, and a year later Mr. Denyer was elected secretary of the Farnham District, a post he held until 1948 when he succeeded to the office of District Ringing Master. On vacating that position five years later he was made a vice-

AN APOLOGY TO MISS ARMSTRONG

In regard to the recent controversy over the ringing of the curfew at Morpeth Watch Tower, Miss J. S. Armstrong has received the following letter from Mr. J. Ainsworth:—

'I would like to say on behalf of the persons who have rung peals on Morpeth bells recently that we were not aware of the inconvenience we are causing you. We sincerely regret that the whole business had to come to light in the public press. Finally, may I say that I hope you will ring the curfew for many years to come.'

Visitors from Surrey and Hertfordshire rang at the Watch Tower on August 23rd for half an hour.

president of the Guildford Guild and in 1958 was elected Guild Master. This year he has also been elected to the Central Council. He is able to ring double-handed on tower bells, and has completed two quarter peals—one being at Hersham, where Mr. W. Simmonds rang 1—2 and himself 3—4 and Mr. Tony Price 5—6 to Bob Minor. The other double handed quarter, of Grandsire Triples, was at Farnham earlier this year.

Like his late father, Mr. Denyer is a printer, having been apprenticed as a compositor to Messrs. E. W. Langham, The Herald Press, Farnham, in 1927. During the last war he served for five years in the Royal Artillery (Searchlights) and spent a short period in Norway. In 1942 he met Miss Edna Page, serving in the A.T.S. and they were married at Streatham, in April, 1943. At the close of hostilities Mr. and Mrs. Denyer first made their home at Aldershot, but moved to Farnham in 1949, when he was promoted to works manager of The Herald Press. Their son Michael (10) and daughter Janet (8) are both learning to ring at the St. Andrew's Parish Church, Farnham, where their father is now captain of the local company.

Apart from ringing activities which occupies most of his leisure hours he finds time to cultivate a large garden complete with greenhouse and beehives. As a boy and later as a man he sang in the choir at Aldershot Parish Church and served on the Church Council there. At Farnham he is a sidesman, a member of the P.C.C. and on the Church Restoration Committee, which included the recent recasting and rehanging of the eight bells.

Mr. Denyer comes from a family of bell-ringers, for his maternal grandfather rang call changes at St. Peter's Church, Ash, for over 50 years. In addition to his late father, the family ringers now include his wife and two children, two sisters, two brothers, two brothers-in-law, a sister-in-law, three nieces and two nephews, all of whom live in and around Aldershot and Farnham. His lifelong friend, Mr. William ('Delight') Viggers has shared in his active life as for together they have been cubs, scouts, choirboys, church councillors, and of course, ringers. Incidentally, Bill Viggers is also a printer!

HUMOROUS HUMUS

(Inspired by a recent Yorkshire outing, for Clare's benefit.)

Discussing crops the other day
Some words of wisdom came my way,
I heard a hymn to humus sung:
Ah yes, my boy, you can't beat dung.

Use it, and you'll never fail
To grow the finest curly kale,
Onions that burn your tongue
Thrive when fed on lovely dung.

Spuds—like footballs—sweet peas, too.
Come your way if only you
See that roots or seeds are sprung
From the whiffy, niffy dung.

Now farmers know the worth of nitrates,
Slag, salt, lime and superphosphates.
But since the days when they were young
They've all believed in rich dark dung.

Our village church amid the green,
Presents a charming sylvan scene,
And when the Matins bell is rung
What's the message? Dung, dung, dung.

NOT NEWS

Dear Sir.—I suspect that the composition, published on page 584, for Osgathorpe Surprise Major is not original. It is a shortened version of the 6.496 which I obtained (for York Surprise Major) some time in 1950. At that time I understood that it was not new but I do not know to whom it should be credited. Mr. C. J. Sedgley perhaps?—Yours faithfully,

RAVING RINGERS' 1960 TOUR OF KENT

A Minima Ad Maximus

AFTER a rather hectic tour of South Wales in 1959 the Raving Ringers chose a slightly flatter location for the 1960 tour. Saturday, July 23rd, saw 14 Ravers bravely battling their way through the holiday traffic jams, following the various courses across England towards Rochester. Unfortunately only six Ravers arrived on time at the Cathedral but eventually another carload came in sight and we were able to set the ten ringing to Caters and Royal.

During a touch of Royal a very out-of-breath telegraph boy arrived in the belfry with a telegram for the Ravers. It was addressed to 'The Belfry, Rochester Cathedral.' Congratulations to the G.P.O. for quick work. Unfortunately the telegram bore the alarming news that the remaining carload of Ravers was puncture bound two hundred miles away with best part of the equipment and provisions for the week. Not knowing exactly where the next meal might come from the Ravers took no chances and dined well before making their way to the camp site which was in the shadow of Barham windmill, just off the A2 from Canterbury to Dover.

COMPLETE AT 1.30 A.M.

The tents that had arrived were soon erected and the party sat down in the middle of the field to cards. Dusk fell and as the night wore on those who had beds to go to left the card circle. Only three were left, huddled round the 'Tilley' when at half past one the last car arrived bringing the remaining tents and bedding and, most important of all, the chief cook.

Although 65 towers were scheduled for the tour, an easy start was made on the Sunday with only four towers, including service ringing on the ten at Leeds (20 cwt.) and Maidstone Parish Church. We had a little difficulty in leaving Maidstone as a couple of handcuff happy police officers were anxious to arrest two female Ravers for jay walking. The Kentish population are so good that they hadn't had a conviction for weeks!

Monday morning dawned bright and clear and the party set off for the first full day's ringing in an assortment of vehicles ranging from a Riley to a Vespa. A good start was made on the six at Bekesbourne and nine towers were visited during the day ending at St. Laurence-in-Thanel, where we joined the local ringers at practice.

By Tuesday morning the full complement of ringers had arrived and the completed party consisted of 14 ringers representing eight counties. Tuesday's programme consisted of eight towers including Ospringe, where the tour photograph was taken with the Master in full regalia. In the evening we joined the Cathedral ringers at Canterbury and had a most worthwhile evening's ringing including Grandsire and Stedman Cinques and Plain Bob Maximus.

Wednesday saw the Ravers heading seaward and the eleven towers visited that day included Deal and Dover, where we joined the local ringers for practice.

AMONG THE SKULLS

Nine towers were visited on Thursday, a good start being made at Elham, where a well struck course of New Cambridge Major was brought round. The Ravers considered Hythe's to be the best bells of the day. Several Ravers spent an even better time amongst the thousand skulls stacked in the crypt and when the time came to leave it was difficult to tell which was which. The day's ringing ended at Folkestone, where we were made most welcome at the practice and enjoyed mixed ringing.

Friday was a day mainly of sixes and a variety of Minor and Doubles methods were run, including Norwich. Cambridge and London, Grandsire and Stedman. The only eight of the day were Ashford and Wye, where the ringing was most enjoyable, despite the fact that 'Wye' Surprise never did quite come round.

Saturday's ringing centred in and around Canterbury and began at St. Alphege's, where we had to burgle our way into the belfry due to a lost key. Lunchtime, spent at Whitstable, provided an excellent opportunity for some of the party to take their annual footbath to the great interest of the local holiday makers and the even greater amusement of the writer who chased the barefooted ringers with a crab. The day's ringing was concluded with a visit to Quex Park, an article about which has recently appeared in this journal. Here, with the aid of local ringers, we rang Grandsire and Stedman Cinques and Caters.

The journey to Sunday's first tower was very short as we rang for morning service at Barham, where we were joined by three Girl Guide ringers camping locally. After an excellent sermon by the young Rector we moved to Canterbury for lunch. During the afternoon we visited the beautiful villages of Appledore and Wittersham and the day's ringing ended at New Romney for Evensong. A leisurely drive along the coast road to Folkestone gave us a chance to take a last look at the Kent countryside, then we headed back to camp for the Ravers' annual conference. The conference lasted well into the night though the writer can report little of its happenings, due to the fact that she fell asleep around midnight.

Monday dawned bright and clear and hectic packing activities were only interrupted by a short sudden deluge, which conveniently soaked the tents as they were about to be packed up. Only one tower was arranged for the day but, owing to traffic difficulties, only eight Ravers managed to get to the sixty-fifth tower of the tour.

Having had a most enjoyable tour in Kent, the Raving Ringers would like to extend their sincerest thanks to the incumbents and tower captains of the churches visited and to the Kent ringers who were so helpful and hospitable. We would also like to say a big personal thank you to Chris Clarke and Dennis Bowen, who put so much work into organising this year's excellent tour.

ALPHABET FOR BEGINNERS

By T. J. LOCK

"Q"

Q SET.—The term Q Set was coined by W. H. Thompson to denote the interrelation of sets of rows. A definition is that it is a series of rows representing disconnected leads or sixes which require to be all treated alike in composition, i.e., either all bobbed or all plained or, as in Stedman Triples, a certain group bobbed and an equal group plained. As the application of Q Sets is in connection with compositions you are advised, if you wish to know more of the subject, to study a copy of W. H. Thompson's papers or to seek the benefit of some such knowledgeable composer.

QUEEN'S—is the change in which the bells represented by odd numbers strike successively in their natural order, followed by those represented by even numbers also in their natural order. As 13572468 on eight bells and 1357924680 on ten bells.

QUESTION.—When is a ringer not a ringer? Answer—When, without proper reason, he does not do his duty by taking part in Sunday service and practice ringing.

QUICK BELL.—Stedman's principle is composed of two parts, a quick six and a slow six. And a quick bell is one that having completed its double dodge in 4-5 down commences a quick six by hunting straight down to lead and, having led one whole pull, hunts straight up into 4-5 again. In other words, it is plain hunting to and from lead after the double dodge in 4-5 down.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WESTERN CANADA'S GREAT WELCOME

Dear Sir,—I came out to Canada to visit my daughter, who lives in a very large fruit-growing district in a valley in the Rockies. This week was the first time the daytime temperature was below 90 degrees for 54 days—give me English rainy weather!

Bearing in mind what Jim Bennett, of Grun-disburgh, had said, that if I met the ringers of Victoria and Vancouver I was in for a real royal time, I made the journey to Victoria with my daughter—a ringer in England—by air. We left at 7 a.m. on July 29th and landed at Victoria Airport at 10.15 a.m. Here we were met by Mr. Izard and conveyed by him to a motel he had kindly booked for us.

The day following, the ringers from Vancouver were visiting Victoria to ring on the fine bells of the Cathedral. After ringing standard methods, we were conveyed to the country cottage of Mr. Izard, jun., which is situated at a beautiful spot by the sea. Here we were entertained to a meal—some had a swim—and then handbells, until it was time for the Vancouver party to get the boat. A most enjoyable day.

On Sunday my daughter and I assisted in ringing for Cathedral services, during which we had some good striking. Mr. Izard, his son Arthur and daughter Margaret are all ringers. We had no time to relax, as before we left at 4.15 p.m. on the Monday either father Izard or Margaret would take us to interesting places. This was a ringing outing never to be forgotten.

I was privileged on August 13th to take part in the Vancouver ringers' visit to the Benedictine Monastery, Westminster Abbey, Mission City. The Abbey is situated on a hill overlooking the Fraser Valley—a real beauty spot. The tower, which contains ten bells, is of unusual design, and the ringing chamber can be entered from either the outside or inside. The monks joined in touches and afterwards provided us with tea.

Back the 45 miles to Vancouver, and here I was provided with supper, bed and breakfast by one ringer. On the Sunday morning we went to ring at the Cathedral of the Holy Rosary. Another ringer entertained me to lunch, another to tea and a third took me in his car for four hours' sightseeing. Yes, Jim Bennett, hospitality of the highest order. Thank you, West Canadian ringers!—Yours faithfully,

PETER CROOK.

BIRD SONG WITH BELLS

Dear Sir.—On a recent Sunday morning the owner of a tape recorder fulfilled a long-standing promise to come and make a recording of our bells at Burghill before Matins.

Later when the recording was played back to the band each member had an opportunity to assess the quality of his ringing. What also surprised me was the wealth of bird song coming continuously from the tape, during the periods when the bells were silent. Previously I had not been aware of the amount of bird song in my garden and in the lane beyond.

How many countrymen, I wonder, are deaf to the hundred and one melodious sounds produced by the various members of nature's orchestra: the rustling wind in the trees, the running water in the ditch, the bleating of sheep, the mooing of a distant cow, the songs of the cuckoo and other birds. One may well profit mentally from a few moments of quiet, listening to the symphonious strains coming from nature's orchestra.—Yours faithfully,

F. MORRIS.

ERNEST MORRIS.

FOUR BELL PEALS

Dear Sir.—In the issue of the 'R.W.' of August 19th, Mr. P. H. Whitaker, of Coleraine, states 'there is at any rate one ringer who objects to the recognition of performances on four bells as peals.' May I, through your columns, inform this gentleman that there are at least TWO.

I raised this question a fortnight ago at our district meeting of the Suffolk Guild, and pointed out, in almost exactly Mr. Whitaker's own words, now that the door is opened to four bell peals, soon we should, most likely, be hearing of 'peals' on three. Unfortunately our district C.C. representative was unavoidably absent, and I'm wondering whether or not every member of all the Associations present at the Council meeting were in agreement with the recognition of peals of Minimus? If they were, well, it's surprising. I think.

All are entitled to their own opinion (or should be), but my own, for what it is worth (probably not much), is that performances on four bells should not be recognised as peals by the Central Council or included in the analysis.—Yours truly and respectfully,

JAMES BENNETT.

Grundisburgh.

FALSE PEAL OF DOUBLE OXFORD

Dear Sir.—I find I also have called the 5.008 of Double Oxford (peal 23, C.C. Collection) at Washington, Lincolnshire, on September 24th, 1958. With apologies to the band I withdraw this peal, number 3,556 in Lincoln Diocesan Guild report.—Yours faithfully,

JACK L. MILLHOUSE.

Lincoln

PEALS OF MINIMUS

Dear Sir,—Mr. P. H. Whitaker may rest assured that at least one other ringer agrees with the views on 'peals' of Minimus expressed in his excellent letter in 'The Ringing World' of August 19th.

In fairness to members of the Council, however, it must be said that at the end of the meeting some doubt existed as to whether they had voted in favour of recognising such peals. There was a certain amount of confusion when voting on the Methods Committee's report, and the Standing Committee's recommendations arising from it, took place.

The answer would seem to be for a motion to be placed on the agenda for next year's meeting to the effect that the Council declines to recognise peals of Minimus. This would provide a more satisfactory test of members' opinions.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Honorary Secretary.

The Central Council of Church Bell Ringers.

OWNERSHIP OF BELLS

Dear Sir,—Mr. T. J. Lock's 'Alphabet for Beginners' is a valuable mine of information; it has taught me many things which I would not have lighted upon otherwise.

However, I must disagree with his statement, in 'The Ringing World' of August 12th, that there is no ownership of bells. Like all the goods and chattels of the church, bells and their ropes are in the legal ownership of the churchwardens, who are for this purpose a kind of corporation at Common Law.

This view was expressed by Sir William Blackstone in his 'Commentaries on the Laws of England' (1765, seq.), and the point was neatly illustrated in 1835 in the slander case of Jackson v. Adams.

Adams alleged that Jackson, a churchwarden of the Devon parish of Stoke Gabriel, had stolen the parish bell-ropes. The judge ruled that since Jackson was a churchwarden he was the legal owner of the bell-ropes, and in the eyes of the law it was impossible for him to steal them.

The churchwardens' ownership of bells is a bare legal title only, it does not confer on them all the normal rights of ownership, and, as Mr. Lock points out, bells may only be rung with the incumbent's consent. The responsibility for the care, maintenance, preservation and insurance of bells is now in the hands of the Parochial Church Council.—Yours faithfully,

NORMAN R. PHILLIPS.

A MYSTERY ELUCIDATED

Dear Sir.—The publication of the 5.042 of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus by Peter Border in your issue of August 5th has elucidated the mystery of how this number was obtained.

In consultation, Mr. C. J. Sedgley considered that the 'twisting' was achieved in quite the beginning of changes, thereby bringing up the middle lead, cutting out about half a course; this would obviate the use of the single.

In the early '30's, two 5.040's of Cambridge Surprise Maximus were rung at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich—one by ringing Primrose at the first lead bringing up the Wrong, the other by calling the tenor 6ths, 7ths and home.

Referring to peals of Treble Bob hunt Maximus, all different numbers of changes up to 5,280 have been rung at the 'Tower' church, including 5,088 and 5,184 of Rochester Surprise Maximus.—Yours truly,

G. E. SYMONDS,

Hon. Secretary, St. Mary-le-Tower Society.

IV ITS CONSTRUCTION

When we come to write out figures with eight bells—or to ring changes on them in the tower—we find that we can have a lot more variety. We can make places or dodge in different positions, thus producing many different methods. But we will now confine ourselves to using the one very simple alteration—Court Places—that we have learnt about in the last section. Examine the figures of this lead. The treble is plain hunting throughout. The other bells plain hunt except for the Court Places and consequent dodging.

The bell coursing in front of the treble (3) makes fourths place, crosses the path of the treble, makes thirds place and then courses behind the treble. While it is making fourths place the bells in 5-6 and 7-8 have to dodge—they can't get through otherwise. While it is making thirds place, the bells in 1-2 dodge for the same reason. That completes one internal set of places. By this time the treble has reached the 5-6 position and the next set of Court Places has begun. The new bell coursing in front of the treble (5, because 3 has now gone behind it) makes sixth place, crosses the path of the treble, makes fifth place and then hunts behind the treble. Note that before it started these places, 5 had had to dodge once in 5-6 because of the first set of places. And note that the bell concerned in that first set (3) had to dodge in 3-4 after them because of the second set of places. While 5 was doing its sixth place the back two bells had to dodge and while it was doing its fifth place the first four bells (in 1-2 and 3-4) had to dodge.

That completes the second internal set of places, so that when we come to the half lead end the treble has been moved two positions relative to the other bells. Instead of being between 2 and 3 when it started, it first got between 3 and 5 and then between 5 and 7.

Now do just the same pieces of work in the second half of the lead. The bell coming down in front of the treble (7) makes fifths place, crosses behind the treble and makes sixths place. While it is making fifths, the bells in 1-2 and 3-4 dodge. While it is making sixths, the bells in 7-8 dodge. By this time the treble has reached the 3-4 position and the next set of Court Places has begun.

The bell now in front of the treble (8) makes thirds place, crosses behind the treble, makes fourths place and follows the treble down to lead. While it is making thirds place the bells in 1-2 dodge. While it is making fourths place the bells in 5-6 and 7-8 dodge. We have made two more sets of Court Places—that is four alterations in all in the lead—and, as we would expect, our lead end is the same as the fourth lead end of Plain Bob Major—18674523.

V THE WORK OF THE METHOD

Now that we have seen how our method is constructed let us see what the work of one bell comprises. And although it is not essential, the best way for most of us to do that is to produce what has become known as the 'blue line.' That is, the path of one bell throughout the whole of the plain course.

To do this, first of all write out the complete plain course—seven leads each constructed exactly as our lead shown and described above. I know that this is not necessary, but you will find it very well worth while. The repetition, on different bells but in corresponding parts of each lead, of our four sets of Court Places will fix the basic idea of the method firmly in your mind. When you have the whole seven leads written out, draw a line from beginning to end

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8
2 1 4 3 6 5 8 7
2 4 1 3 5 6 7 8
4 2 3 1 6 5 8 7
2 4 3 6 1 5 7 8
4 2 6 3 5 1 8 7
2 4 3 6 5 8 1 7
4 2 6 3 8 5 7 1
6 4 8 2 7 3 1 5
4 6 2 8 7 1 3 5
6 4 8 2 1 7 5 3
4 6 8 1 2 7 3 5
6 4 1 8 7 2 5 3
6 1 4 8 2 7 3 5
1 6 8 4 7 2 5 3
1 8 6 7 4 5 2 3

through the figures representing one of the bells. Let us say you choose the second. Here is the path of that bell, described in words because of the difficulties of print. But if you can see on paper and later in your mind the actual shape of the line you will find it much easier to learn.

THE WORK OF THE SECOND

(a) Lead: two dodges in 1-2 up; dodge 3-4; dodge 5-6; two dodges in 7-8 up and a whole pull behind. This is called 'Treble bob bell up.' Note that it starts after the treble's whole pull on the lead, that you pass the treble as you (and it) go through 4-5 in between your single dodges in 3-4 and 5-6 up and that, as you finish your whole pull behind, the treble comes up to take your place at the back.

(b) You hunt away from the back in front of the treble. So when you get to fifth place you start Court Places in 5-6 down—make fifths, cross the treble's downward path, make sixths and then dodge in 5-6 down. This is called 'Near places from the back.'

(c) Hunt down to the front, dodge twice in 1-2 down, lead whole pull, dodge twice in 1-2 up and then hunt up. This is called 'Full work on the front.'

(d) As you leave the front to hunt up you will leave one bell behind you and then the treble. When you reach 5-6 dodge once and make sixths. By this time the treble will have caught you up, so you cross its path, make fifths and follow it to the back having made Court Places in 5-6 up. This work is called 'Far places from the front.'

(e) You will reach the back after the treble and lie a whole pull; dodge twice in 7-8 down; once each in 5-6 and 3-4 down; twice in 1-2 down and then lead. This is called 'Treble bob bell down' and is the exact reverse of the work in (a) above. Note that it starts after the treble's whole pull behind, that you pass the treble as you (and it) go through 4-5 between your single dodges in 5-6 and 3-4 and that, as you finish your whole pull on the lead, the treble comes up to take your place.

(f) You hunt up in front of the treble. When you get to 3-4 you make Court Places there. Fourths place, cross the treble's upward path, thirds place, dodge 3-4 up and then hunt up to the back. This is called 'Near places from the front.'

(g) Hunt up to the back, dodge twice in 7-8 up, lay a whole pull behind, dodge twice in 7-8 down and hunt down. This is called 'Full work at the back.'

(h) As you leave the back to hunt down you will leave one bell behind and then the treble. When you reach 3-4, dodge once and make thirds. By this time the treble will have caught you up so you cross its path, make fourths place and follow it down to lead, having made Court Places in 3-4 down. This work is called 'Far places from the back' and brings you to the end of the course.

Now we can summarise these pieces of work:—

- Treble bob bell up.
- Near places from the back (i.e. in 5-6).
- Full work on the front.
- Far places from the front (i.e. in 5-6).
- Treble bob bell down.
- Near places from the front (i.e. in 3-4).
- Full work at the back.
- Far places from the back (i.e. in 3-4).

If you have neither the time nor the patience to write out a whole course to get the 'blue line'—or you feel it unnecessary—you can produce it from the lead given above by tracing the path of the second up to the lead end, 2 is then in 7th place, so next trace the path of 7 from the start to the end of the same lead. 7 is then in fourth place. Back to the start and trace the path of 4; then 5; then 6; then 3; then 8 and you will be back to 2 again.

VI AIDS TO RINGING

Now let us see what we can find out by looking at our full plain course which will help us to keep right while actually ringing.

1. Although the treble does a plain hunt you will notice that, unlike in Plain Bob, it does not follow the bells in the same order as it hunts down as it did when hunting up. This and the fact that many ringers ring this method entirely by the position of their bell when they pass the treble means that you need an experienced treble ringer, not a beginner.

2. When you are in the front (1-2) or at the back (7-8) all your dodges are double ones. You can always tell when you have a double dodge before the whole pull (front or back) because the treble comes to you and your whole pull must be just before it arrives; or when you have a whole pull first (front or back) and the double dodge after, because the treble will be there when you arrive and you must have a whole pull to allow it to get away and another bell to arrive. At all the other times you will be doing full work (front or back)—that is a double dodge each side of your whole pull.

3. In the middle (3-4 or 5-6) you only have single dodges—one in each place if you are doing treble bob work and you pass the treble in 4-5 between them. At other times one dodge in the position of your Court Places.

4. If you are doing near places (from the front or back) you have a single dodge after them and then plain hunt all the rest of the way up or down.

5. If you are doing far places you have the single dodge before them, having plain hunted from the front or back until you reach your places.

6. The double dodging, front or back, is caused by both sets of places. The single dodging in 3-4 and 5-6 before or after places is caused by the set of places in 5-6 or 3-4 respectively.

7. If you are left behind by the treble, either in the front or at the back, you are treble bob bell up or down.

8. Of the two bells which were dodging together and which left the front or the back immediately before the treble, the first one away goes to far places, preceded by a dodge. The next one away does the near places, followed by a dodge.

Many ringers, having learnt what is involved in full work, treble bob work and far and near places, ring Double Norwich almost entirely by two or three of these eight aids—especially by the last two. But there comes a time when the treble goes wrong and then a knowledge of the 'blue line' is indispensable. (To be continued)

SUFFOLK RINGERS' OUTING

Ringers from two popular Suffolk towers—Stratford St. Mary and Higham—with friends, spent an enjoyable recent Saturday in Lincolnshire.

After ringing call changes and standard methods at Kirton-in-Holland the journey was continued to Boston. The many steps at Boston Stump were negotiated to ring on the Taylor ten and enjoy the view including the frightening but impressive hole in the floor.

After lunch Bennington bells were rung to methods, aptly including Lincoln Surprise, followed by visits to Frieston and Fishtoft, both with gigantic towers, as is typical of this lovely county.

On the way to Spalding one of our most ardent tower visiting enthusiasts, quite by accident, heard Surfleet bells ringing. On approaching Mrs. Richardson, who was meeting the Stowmarket ringers, we were invited to return and ring these pretty twelve after visiting Spalding. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Chapman joined in the ringing at Spalding and helped us to lose Spliced. On our return to Surfleet, another attempt was made at five Spliced with the assistance of Ron Noon, which was unfortunately augmented to eight Spliced when the unworthy conductor had to use Plain methods to 'get them home.' Ringing also included Bob Royal and some very good rounds, on twelve, by the learners.

Thanks are extended to all clergy and local ringers and to Walter Bailey for arranging yet another successful outing.—L. N. M.

LADIES' GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

ONCE again the attendance at the annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild showed an increase, and the bells in the eight towers open during the day in and around Bath were kept going in a variety of methods. We are sorry that some did not get a ring at the Abbey, and would tender our apologies for the broken stay, to the band which followed us. Those who witnessed the incident will be glad to know that the ringer concerned was not put off by this mishap and appeared in his own tower the following day with only a few bruises to show for his long drop!

The Guild service was held in the Abbey at 3.30 p.m., conducted by the Archdeacon, the Ven. E. A. Cook, who welcomed the Ladies' Guild to Bath.

Tea had been prepared at St. Mary's Hall by members of the Western District, a wonderful meal to which everyone did full justice; but it was noticed that this year the men did not take the strong hint about washing up afterwards.

Mr. Alan Lee, the secretary of the Bath Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, was present at tea, and welcomed the Ladies' Guild on behalf of the Association. He wished them a successful meeting, and safe travelling for those who had journeyed a long way in order to be present. The Guild last visited Bath in 1936, and Mr. Lee hoped it would not be another 24 years before they came again.

The president (Mrs. P. Staniforth) thanked Mr. Lee and also voiced the thanks of the Guild to the various incumbents who had given permission for their bells to be available, to the Archdeacon for taking the service and for his interesting and challenging address, to the organist, and to Miss Johnson and her committee for making all the arrangements for the meeting and catering for the tea. She also thanked the men for their support, and especially for their help in ringing the heavier bells.

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Staniforth was re-elected president, and a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded her for the work she had done in the past year. The other officers were also re-elected, viz.: Miss D. Colgate secretary, Miss J. Beresford treasurer and Miss A. Bailey auditor. The president expressed the good wishes of the members to Miss Bailey on her recent engagement.

With reference to the election of officers, it was felt that perhaps some members did not realise that nominations could be sent in even though the proposer and seconder might not be able to attend the meeting, and it was suggested that at the next annual meeting an additional rule should be considered to the effect that each District should send in its nominations for all officers by a certain date. Mrs. E. A. Barnett also proposed that a rule should be added that a certain sum should be paid to the Central Council representatives, as she felt that some members might not like to be nominated because they could not afford to attend the meeting.

FINANCES HEALTHY

In her report the treasurer pointed out that the balance sheet was very healthy, the excess of income over expenditure being £17 17s. 8½d. (We have had that halfpenny for some years now, and shall be quite suspicious when the treasurer manages to lose it.)

Gratefully Acknowledged

The Editorial Committee acknowledges with gratitude the following donations towards the cost of producing 'The Ringing World':—

Personal.—R. Roger Savory 5s., Anonymous (with peal) 5s.

Peals.—South Perrott 3s., Kirkburton 4s., Twerton-on-Avon 2s., Hutton Cranswick 3s., Prittlewell 3s. 6d.

Quarter Peals.—Holme Pierrepont 3s., Epsom 2s., Walthamstow 5s., Plymouth 4s., Ashley 3s. 6d., Iron Acton 2s. 6d., Edmonton 2s. 6d., East Meon 3s., Flitton 2s. 6d., Wellow 1s. 6d., Ealing, Middx 2s. 6d., Dronfield 2s. 6d., Harbury 4s., Romsey 4s. 6d., Brampton 3s. 6d., Old Swinford 1s. 3d., Edmonton 2s. 6d.

Mrs. T. Lock, of the Central District, asked if the Guild would like to replace the peal board, which commemorated the first peal of Stedman Caters rung by a ladies' band, and which had been destroyed when the Church of St. Clement Danes, in the Strand, was blitzed. The 35th anniversary of this peal would fall on January 20th, 1961, and it was therefore agreed that, subject to the approval of the incumbent, a new board should be provided and a meeting held on January 21st for the dedication of the board. The ten ladies concerned, all of whom are still alive (and active), will be asked to ring the service touch at this meeting.

Opinion, however, was not so unanimous regarding the subject of a dinner to mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Guild. Some felt that the dinner to mark the 40th anniversary, which had been held in Leicester, was so successful that they would like to go to Leicester again. Others felt that London was a more convenient venue, and on being put to the vote the result was in favour of London. A sub-committee was appointed and asked to make provisional arrangements, to be discussed at the next annual meeting.

Where will that annual meeting be? That was something which could not be decided as unfortunately it was not possible for the District concerned to be represented at the meeting, and although the District secretary had sent detailed suggestions the members at Bath put forward yet another possibility; but as soon as the arrangements are agreed the venue will be announced in 'The Ringing World'.

OBITUARY

MR. MORRIS J. MORRIS

AN APPRECIATION

I was indeed very sad to read of the 'passing' of this grand old ringer as I have many happy recollections of enjoyable evenings spent here in Leicester with him.

Mr. M. J. Morris was a commercial traveller and his car held every type of button—all sizes, shapes, and materials—in a bewildering variety. He used to visit Leicester wholesale firms of tailors, haberdashers, and any who used buttons of any sort. His visits were usually about every 6 or 8 weeks for a couple of days, and invariably he would send me a message to meet him at the White Hart Hotel, where he always stayed, and we would either go to a bell practice or the pictures that evening.

Mr. Morris gave me many compositions, some of which I called of Major, Caters and Cinques, and as Mr. Shepherd has said all these were 'written in beautiful lines of figures of extreme neatness of the setting out.'

I rang a number of peals with him at St. Martin's, Birmingham, and one of my best handbell peals was in 1924, when H. J. Poole, George F. Swann, Albert Walker, Ernest Morris, James E. Groves, Morris J. Morris rang a splendidly struck peal of Stedman Cinques umpired by Tom Russam, who ticked off every course as rung. Mr. Morris had often expressed a desire to ring a 'Morris' peal, but this never came into fruition, as we of that 'ilk' lived so far apart.

Morris J. Morris was one of nature's gentlemen and who, in all he did, in speech, dress or action, was a model of neatness, precision and exactness. The Exercise is poorer for his absence, but richer for his having taken the splendid part he played in it.

ERNEST MORRIS.

FARINGDON RINGERS' OUTING

Ringers of Faringdon, Berks, accompanied by friends from Stanford-in-the-Vale, Shrivenham, Hinton Waldrist, Buckland, Clanfield and Highworth, had an enjoyable outing on August 20th. Towers visited were Bourton-on-the-Water, Evesham, Painswick and Watermoor (Cirencester). An excellent tea was provided at Evesham. Thanks are accorded to incumbents and tower captains for the use of the bells.

OBITUARY

REV. A. D. H. ALLAN

The death occurred at Southmead Hospital, Bristol, on August 12th, of the Rev. Alexander Dean Hugh Allan, in his 87th year, following an operation. He was at Oriel College, Oxford, taking his degree in 1896 and ordained in 1898 to the curacy of Chard. He became a housemaster at Reading School in 1900, and in 1907 was appointed headmaster of Wimborne Grammar School. In 1929 he left Wimborne and accepted the living of Cromhall, where he remained as Rector until 1951. He was taught to ring by the late Rev. F. Llewellyn Edwards and was a member of the Salisbury Guild. A member of the Clerical Guild, he participated in a number of their ringing week tours.

There were but two bells at Cromhall, Glos. during his incumbency, but his interest in ringing remained alive, and he gave talks on bells and ringing. It was as a result of a talk to a Girls' Club in 1944 that he set about the task of raising enough money to get a ring of six bells for his church. At the same time he started to teach bands on other bells, mainly at Wickwar, and he and his pupils became members of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, and the Association had a two tower bell tower in its report soon after with 15 members. Almost at once his worth was recognised and he became chairman of the Wotton Branch, which office he held until his retirement in 1951. In November, 1948, the six new bells were dedicated, and opened by a hand taught by him. The Association made him a vice-president the following year.

In 1951 he retired to Weston-super-Mare and it was here that he was interred in the cemetery on August 16th, after a service at Christ Church taken by the present Rector of Cromhall, Rev. W. F. Burlton, who said of him, 'He was not only a good man of God, a cherished parish priest, but also a skilled and keen bellringer, an active Mason of high office and a hymn writer and poet who did all this and much else to the Glory of God and for the good of his fellows, whilst also being a devoted family man whose Christian home was a bright beam of love and example.'

The Gloucester and Bristol Association was represented by the Rev. W. F. Burlton and Preb. Urch represented the Bishop of Taunton and the Rural Dean. A peal was rung at Cromhall the same evening by a Wotton Branch band. When in April, 1956, the pre-Reformation bell, which had been retained in the six at Cromhall, cracked he painted a large number of water colours to be sold to help replace poor 'St. Michael,' who had called the people to worship for over 500 years. The pictures were sold, and a new bell was made, fittingly called A. D. H. Allan, so his name will live on in Cromhall, and elsewhere, when the hymn 'Again, O Lord, we bless Thy Name,' which he composed for us, is sung.

NAMES FOR TEA

Dear Sir,—As no one else seems to have done so may I venture to reply to X.Y.Z. Some years ago when I took over the secretaryship of our branch, the relation between names set in and numbers attending was rather vague (perhaps 14 names so we would add 8 for luck). I have sometimes mentioned how many names had been sent (and added that I expected some people's consciences were pricking!), and our own members are very conscientious about this now. I also take the precaution of sending the notice in to the 'R.W.' a fortnight before and a week before, but not the day before a meeting, to avoid visitors from other parts saying 'It's a fine day: where shall we go to grab a tower? Oh, I expect they will have put on enough tea for a few extra.'

All the same, I sympathise with X.Y.Z. and his (or her) caterers and hope the correspondence will help some who have been thoughtless over this matter to think of the work that many ringers' wives and others cheerfully undertake in order to 'do us proud' at a ringers' meeting, and co-operate by sending that card.—Yours sincerely,

A.B.C.
