Mr. W. Wilsou presented the following report, on bedalf of this commitiee, many of the quotations from newspapars in reference to bells and ringing, chusing the nembers of the Council considerable amusement: During the past year, namerous comments upon bells and beil ringing lave fonst their way into the public Press. strike or ". lock-out ', of a band of ringers in the North sufficient to cause the Sunday newspapers to broadenst the informaLion that the aingers' "r Trade Union " had withdrawn its men for a "iving wage." On hehalf of the comanitee, it was pointed out to the various Editors that the statement was absurd that no such union existed, hor was likely to exist, that the "ingers an strike were outside the pale of tho Exercise of change ringing, and that their status was tirat of the itinerath organ griader compared to a church organist. The coming of the carillon has also helped to bring the bell question before the public. An article in the " Daily Mirror" of March 27 th . on " Chimes," remarked: "s On the Continent, especially in Flanders, bells have a mucb nellower and more stirring ring than in Eugland, and church carillons, although melancholy, are monderfully soothing. Gromwell and his Puritans were responsible for the melting dowil of ancisnt and henutiful toned bells, but those now being manufectuved lave an तry and sharp sothd. Are some secrets of bell founding lost: or is there no demand for perfect chimet?" Also in the "Morning Post" of April 16tit, " leaderelte ${ }^{2}$, dealt in a most interesting mamer winh the same subject. The writer was obviouly well versed in bells and ringing. The article was leatied "Singing Towers." After describing the higls state of efficiency in the ringing of to-day, the writer proceeded: "The music the provide is a noble accompaniment to the people's emotions: it decorates the passing time with arabesqueries of stately eound which, according as the mood of the listeners colours them, may he far-flung litanies of hmentation, or, on joyous occasions, the veritable " laughter of music.' We slanll never cease to take delight in the intricate sequences of "change ringing,' even though we welcome a higher form of bell music-that which is possible only where a koyboard carillon, such as exists in every tower of Belgium and Holland, las beon installed. . . Tre are now on the eve of a new and sirnifient development, the creation of a school of carillon players and composers under the anspices of the Universiby of Birmingham." Now, while every one with an enr for music will apprecinto fone-playing and iss retoguition, it would be unfortunate for our art. if carillons were to be preferred to bells hung for ringing The carilion has come to stay, and we must adapt ourselves to what it may entail. Four committee suggest that when a carillon is about to be installed, influence should $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{e}}$ brought to bear, so that out of the many bells a ring of eight or ten be liung for ringing, on the ground that a carillon cannot express putblic or national sorrow or rejoicing as does a ring of belis hung for pinging Thus provision would be made for both forms of bell music. The question of ringing defence has cropped up in a new guisel. A mixed hand from various parts of the cotnatry, arranged to aitempt $a$ long peal and permission was granted by the authorities concerned. When the ' Ringing World " annoulted it, other ringers took umbrage, wrote letters to the local Pross and induced the aniforities to cancel the permission on the ground of possible damage to the tower and bells! While it is admitteld that there may be reasonable and just objentions to long peals, and tho public have a right to he considered it is scarcely playing lino game for ringers within tha manks to incite a protest and thus bring abont an embargo. Any "backdoor' influence to suppras the legitimate asoirations of a band-whether local or notis to be deplored. Such objections should be marle through the Ringing Press and weighed for what they are warth."
Mr. Wilison emphasised the feeling of tho committee with regard the action tnken to prevent the long peal attempt at Eresham, and pointed out that while objection was taken to this pal attempt, another band rang a peal in the same tower the next weak
Rev. C. B. Matthews seconded the report.
Rev. F. Li Edwards pointed out, with regard to carillons, that it was a mistake to suppose that carillons abroad took the place of church bells for ringing. They did nothing of the kind, they were only a supplement.
Mr. G. P. Burton, who is a member of the committee, said the 5 ought to be glad that Fhe Press was showing greater sympathy if not greater intelljgence gs regards bell ringing. The : Dail Mail, in connection with the Stedman Cinques record at Southwark on tho previons day, had announced to the world the amazing news that ringers preferren to ring in their shirt sleeves (laughter). He suggesten that some member of the Council or committee should he asked just to leave the official "card, of the Conncil so to speak. at the editorial office of one or two of the important papers. They hat a friend at court at the office of the ' Morning Post ${ }^{\prime}$, who was most friendly ta ringing generally, and he sugpested they might with drantage get into touch with some of the other papers.
Alfeman Pritehett said he wanted to remove one misapprehension.

They had 110 professor of darillon music at Bimmingham University, and lie did not. think it was Jikely they would have one.
Mr. Pryce Trylor said lie believed money had been left for the purpose of instructing students at. Birmingham Eniversity in cariton music.

Thie report was adopted.
METHODS COMNITTEIS.
The Rev. HL. Law James, on behalf of the Mefliods Committee, gaid thor were authorised last year to print the collection of Plain Major Meihods. His part of the business was done, and so was Mr. Trollope's part, and the papers were at the present moment ith the hands of Mr. D. H. Lewis, who was au extremely busy nerson. He had been carrying them ahout with hins from one hotel to another all ower tho country, dealing with them piecemeal as he could, aud Mr, Learis had suggested that het should give it up and resign from the conymittee. That, said Mr. James, was the very last thing they wanted. Mr. Lewris was one of the best members of their committeo, and doing good work. It was work that was of importance. and he suggested that the Conncil should have patience ann let them get it done as soon as they conld. They conld not hurry Mr. Lewis, who xas up to lis eyes.in work

THE PEALS ANALTSLS

The report of the Analysis Committee was ratad by the Rev. A. T. Beeston. Practically the whole of it had previously appeared fu" The of a mass of statistics, but, when quastioned as to the nepessity of goirg through already publislied details, Mr. Beeston snid be was meraly carrying out the request of tie chairmar of the committee, whe was not present at the meeting.

When the report had been read, the Rev. B. H. T. Drake humor ously suggested, amid lathber, that it be referred back for further details.

The President said they were greaily indobted to the committer for the enormots labour they had expended upon the report. All he could say was that they lad infinttely more leisure than he had (Aaughter)
Mr . W. A. Cave called attention to the inclission in the Aualysis of peals of Triples ratg on seven bells, and sajd he understood that the Council hat decided that these should not be recognised.
$T l_{1}$ Rev, A. T. Beeston brid the decision of the Gouncil was that they should not be countenanced?

Canon Baker asked how the Counci] could disconntenance them except by omitting them from the records

METHHOD NOH ENCLATURE
The report was adopted, and later the same committee's report on method nomenclature was brought up by the Rex. A. T. Beeston, who moved its adoption. This report has already heen pulalished in these columns. The motion was secooded by Aderman Chambere, and had been declared carrica, when the Rev. H. Law James intervener to point: out that the committee had taken upon itself to change the names of methods which had baen applied by the Melhads Committee and publislied in 1907. He mentioned as instances College Eingle and Canterbury Pleasure, and adfled that by fineir action the dualysis Commitfee wanted to say that a reverse method was a sivgle method -in other words, that black was white. He roved that the matter he referred back.-M $\mathbf{M}_{\Gamma}$. J. A. Trallope seconded, and added that he would also like to see a revision of some of the mames. The ouly safe plan in naming methols was to name them after towns
J. W. Parker said the committee hat the higliest jeapect for theiopmions of Sr. James, and they recognised what lise liad dono with regard to the publication of methods, but in this motter they could not agree with him. The ohject of the commilitee was to indj. cate as dearly as possible what thed nethod in tho collection really was. The method of College Single Minor liad been rung for over 200 years. It was the method in which, when the treble got down into 3 rd's place, the bells from the front macle 4 th's, and went back to lead. The method in the collection was that method reversod, and as the old method was that rung as College Single the committee thought by pitting it down as College Single Reverse they wera indicating to the Exercise what exactly the methor was. Continuing, Mr, Parker sain the committee either wished the report to go through as it stood or that the matter should be placed in the hands of some other committee.

The Rer. H. Law Jamets said this matter was not, n question of opinion: it was a question of what was right and what was wrong. Mr. G. P. Burton said some ringers were much concerned about the absitrd names the committee liad given to some of the methods. They did not want to make the Excroige a laughing-sfock

The Rev. D. S. Powell asked if the committee had not gone beyond their powers, in renaming these mettrods. Fe understood they wero asked only to find names for tho unnamed methods.

PRTORITY OF USE.

The Relv. A Ti Beeston said the question arose out of the diff culty experienced by the Analysis Committec. When methods were rung beariug two names, they were not aware which method har been rung, and it was to get rid of that confusion that it was deciced that any claim to the name of a method should be sent in to the librarian within a eertain period. At the Council's last meeting it was decided that the Analysis Committee should take up the work of clearing up this confusion. That being the case, it was necessary to go back and find out what names lad been given to methods that were being rumg, and in the search they had to make they came across methods bearing certain names which were in the collection, bearing other mames. Iu denling with the matior they found it neces sary to go, as ther stated they should do, on priority of use. Acting on that principle they enhodied these changes in their report, and they stood by it.

Mr. Trollope said the names of the two methonls referwed to by Mr. James were put into the collection delliberately by the Methods Commitree. There was a prinmple behind the action. The method to which the Methods Committee gare the original name of College Single was being rung as such in many places, and the name of College Single as applied to the old method would die out. If there was any point in the argument about coufusion. be believed it was only a question of a fow years hefore it would be eliminated entimes. What the Analysis Committee were now doing was setting back a mattor that had long beren going steadily forwerd, and which lad been entirely approved $b_{V}$ the Exercise.
Refer'ing to the point raised by the Rev. E. S. Pawell, the President read the mimute of the meeting by which it was decided that the committee should after a certain dato name ther unnamed methods.
The Rev. D. S. Powell: Does that fiwo them power to give new name to a method which already liad a name printed in the collection?

The Rev. A. T Beeston said the Methots Committea, when they publishert the collection, Gave the name of Stedman Slow Course to a method which they acknowledged to be ni mistake Had the Methods Committe power to fake the mame given to a recognised mathon and give it to one of thair own?
The Rev. FL. Litw. James said if ther acoepted the Analysis Committee's recommendation, the Council, to be consistent would hare to sny that Cambridge Sitprise must lose its name, and that Double Norwich Major should be Norwich Court Tob.

Mr. C. T. Coles anin the committee semed to have gone beyoud the terms of the leference.
The Rev. A. T. Beeston said the Council, at their last meeting, accepted the principle an which the commitiee had acted. namely, the question of priority of use.
The Rev. If. Law Tames saje the subject whs a techucal one which should have been settled. He liad heen trying his best for the last month or six weeks to bring the committee to see it in its true light, and that was why he was prepared to fight (laughtery)
Mr. Cave pointied ont that members might refrain from voting for the rmendment hecause the committese liad threatened to resign. It would be a great regref to many of them if the question was not decided on its merits.

The Rep. F. Ll Enwfords moved that the matter until next yoar's Council meetiug.
Mr. A F M. Stewart seconder?
Mr. W. Wilson moved, and Mr. T. Parker seconded, that the Conncil proced to the next business

On being put to the meeting this was carried by 2 votes to 20 .

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Ketfering.

Arrangements wenc made to hold a special meeting of the Association on Saturday, June 9th, at Wellingborongh, when the Lord Bishop of Peterborough will addrass the mambers.

The President proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Edmumi's for conducting the service. and to the clergy of Nortiampton for placing the warious rings of bells at the disposal of the ringers during the day.
Tla Vicar of Sho Edmund's. in roplying, said low pleased he was to med the ringers, and promisen to do all he could to help the Association.
Some excellent ringing was enjoyed in a variaty of methods by a representative gathering during the day.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

The anmal mesting wes leld at Llandudno on whit Monday, when members from the following towers were present: Buckley, Wrexham, Rhyl, Portmadoc, Hawarden, Bangor, Gresford and Llandudno. A service was held at Holy Trinity Church, when the Rev. Canon Ll. R. Hughes gave au cxellent address, dealing with the origin and derelopment of bell ringing as a means of calling people to the worship of God.-Mr. Huglies presided at the organ.

The business mbeting was held in the Churel House, the chair being taken by the Rev. Canon Highes. Mr. A. J. Hughes, of Rhyl, spoke of the recent bereavement of the Rev. T. Lewis Jones, of Bangor, president of the assooiation, by the doath of his wife, and it was unamimously icsolved tiat a letter of sympatliy be sent to him.
The following officers were all re-elected: President. Rev. T. Lewis Jones, Bangor: Master, Mu, A, J. Hughas, Ryy]: lion. treasurer, Mr. Fdw. Rowlands, Wrexham; hon. secretary. Mr. D. H. Jones, Buckley; distriet secretaries: Bangor, Mr. Wm, Pegler; Rhyl, Mr B. R. Collis; Wroxham, Mr. FI. Moore, juar.; Buckley Mr. C. H. Jones. It was decided to hold the half-yearly meetinp rt Bangor on Saturday. Sept. 1st, and the mext anmual meeting at Rhyl on Whit Monday, 1924

New mambers were proposed from Portmadoc, Buckley, Wrexham and Rangor, and a hearly vote of thanks was phased to the Rov. Canom Irghes for presiding at the meefing, and also for his address at the service.
After tha meeting. the ringerg were entertained lo an excellent tea. provided bv Mr. Hughes.
Touches in various methods were rung during the day both before and after the meeting.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The Whit Monday meeting was held at Morpeth in ideal weather. A company of 23 sat down to an excellent dinner at the George and Dragon Hotel, Mr. Story (the presideat) presiding, supported by Mr. E. Ferry (hon. eceretary), Mr. A. M. Hall (hon, treasurer), Messrs. G. Holmes, and Fi. Parkinson (vice-presidents of the Northerg and Eastern Districts, respectively), Mr. J. E. Crofton, Northern District secretary, and others. The agendas for the comenitte and general meting were very short, and the party werg soon out enjoying the conntry, but not before they had had thel pleasure of hearing the Whitley Bay band tap of a course of Stedman Gaters on the Jandbells, and three courses of London Surprise Major by the Gofton brothers. Tho Whitley Bay hand arrived in style, with 'Etizaboth,' and T. T. G. as 'cheffonier.' As well as walks round the Castle Grounds and the country in the immediate district, touches of Plain and Treble Bob Minor, Stedmen Triples, Bob Major, Cambridge Surprise Major, etc., were rung on the ancient watch lower bells, situated in the Market Place. The parisli churoh, for the services of which the watch tow br bells ring. is about a milo further south. In the ringing chamber is a slab bearing the lines:-

Have you heard the Morpeth Wonder

The tower lias two stone watohmon on its battlements. The bells are rung thrice daily, and the curfew is still fung here.
The clock is said to bee a very old one brotight from Bothal Castle. For meny years it had only one pointer which made il, if not a Morpeth wonder, a Morpeth curiosity. The late Aldermall Cranston supplied the necosary works for the gecond pointer. The fact that the clock had only one pointer, stamps it as an ancient one for, as most people know, the first clocks had only one hand. the hour hand,' the minules had to be guessed.
The Roman Cetholie Orureh in Oldgate, Morpeth stands in what was part of the gardens of Collingwood Hause, the residence of Lord Collingwood. The pastures round the Castle are full of oak trees planted by Lord Collingrood, when le feared thera would be a short. age of onk to build the men-of-war.
Untit quito recently there was a strap and Iong henvy rope some $25 f t$. or 30 th. lang kept in the Watch Tomer belfry. Which was used in the old duys of bull baiting; it is now in the Town Hall Mratum. It was a law of the ancieht Corporation that no butcher should kill a buil, the flesh of which was to be sold for humen food, unless the bull-had becn publicly britad in the market place. In the museum are many interesting relirs of the past. ireluding 'The Branks,' or bridle, for pulishing geolding women.

IHES MASTER＇S REPORT

The Masier in the weport，stated：Although the tolat memler ship is slightly reduced，it does not indicate any slackening of int est，but is rather due to the difficult times through which we are passing．A cousiderable number of names have been removed the list，dine to non－paymeht of subscriptions，same not of their choice，but from a necessity arising out of lack of regular emplor ment．The membership now stands at 989 ．slowing a docrease the ydar of 32 ，which is undoubtedly temporary，and will again Ehom improvement when the revival in industry is more apparent． expenditure amounts to $£ 53 \mathrm{l2}$ ．Id．showing a balanced in hant ai E23 14s．O2氏．，tesulting in a net gain of Fill 10s．उd．，which would have been greater had all subscriptions duo been paid．The five－bell tower of shalford has again been affilated and has an enthusinstic young band，making 99 towers in nnion with the Association whin constituteg a record．Fortyeight peals all on tower hells lave bect mug as follows：Stelman Cinques，1；Bob Royal，2；Stedman Caters 2；Grandsire Caters，1：London Surprise，2；Cambridge．4；Superia Eive Suprise，1：Double Norwicli Major，2：T．B．Major，4：Boly Major，3：Stedman Triples，2；Grandsire Triples，4；Surprise Minor， 4；Minor in various methods，14：and Doubles，2．Thirty－one mem－ bers shared in the conducting，and forty lwo rang their first pent． The new ring of eight，hang in a steel frame it the trianguat tower af All Saints＇．Maldon，has been dedicated and opered．The rimg of eight at Romfont has been relung in a steel frame．A new treble has been added to each of the ringe of twe at Kirby－le－Soken and Ingatestone．It is proposed to recast some of the Rayleigh liells and rehang the whole ring of eight．Necessary repairs have also been carried ont at．Halstead and Thasted．An append for funds is being made to relast and rehang in a new frome the ancient rime of ejght at Great Bridiow．Alhough the past yerr may be describe as unerentful，we ean congratulate ourselves that good work has been accomplisherl．It is gratifying to know that in en fnereasing num ber of parishes the bells are vegularly sending out thair message inviting all to publio worship，which is church warkers is our first duty．In conclusion，the Master expressed thanks，on belialf of the Association，to the honorary secretary，district officers and anditors for their zealous work to promote the interests of the association during the past year

OFFICERS RE－ELECTED．

The report and balance shaet were wanimously adopted． Mr ． G Faulkner raised the auestion of advertising the meetings of the Fssex Association in the＇Ringing World，＇and the Master stated that ar rangements lad now ben mado for the notices to be regularly pulb－ lished in the＂Ringing World．
The election of officers followed．－Canon Lake．who temporarily tank the rhair，said it was a great pleasure for him to propose the olection of Mr．C．F．Howard as Master，and the Essex Association were rery fortimate in having a Master who took such a kean inter est in its affairs（hear，hetar）．Wr．Caleb Fenn（Barking）seconted and the motion was enrried unamimously amid applause
Mr．C．H．Howard，in reply，said he was extremely obliged for tho renewed confidence（this being his fourtenth successive appointmen to the officel，and so long as it was the wish of the members tha he slould occupy the position lie would emdeavour to continue to cart an the htisiness of the association in a proper manner（hear，hear）

The Naster proposed the re-election of Mr. F. J. Pitstow (Saffron Walden) as Jon. seoretary and treasurer, and said he hat ontered with enthusiasm into his work, which lie was carrying on in a most eatisfactory manner.-Mr. G. Fankner seconded, and the motion was camied unamimously. - Mr. Pitstow, in reply, acknowledged the good work done by the district Masters and secretaries, and said he should be pleased to darry on for another yeur.
Messrs. G. A. Black and G. W. Fanlkner were re-elewed anditors, and thanked for their survices. Messrs. G. R. Pye. W. J. Nerard, E. J. Butler, and the Mastur, were again appointed representatives to the Central Counen.
The guestion of association property was discussed and it was ayreed that the havdwellis should be kemt in tive ringing chamber al ilie Cathedral. and the peal books and other property in the hands of the general secretary.-M1. T. Faulkuer very kindly undertook to wite the pexl book up to date free of cost.
The question of the utility of the peal analysis published by the Central Council in the 'Rusing World, was discussed, and the Haster stated that it was interesting to a great many ringors and associations, and entailed a large atrontint of labour upors those who compiled it.
compredmber of new mumbers from Hawich and Braintree were enmolled.

RFGOGNISED BY GHUTRGH AUTHORTTES.
Mr. T. Faulkner proposed Lhanks to the Master for presiding, and achuowledgen tho good work of the district offeers for the associa-tion- Mhe motion was carrjed manimously.
The Master, in reply, retimed thanks for limself and itie district offecers, whose work lie always rocognised in the anltual report. The Essex Associalion was now recognised in the county as an authority an bells, and during the past yonr he had been applied to over a score of times from different parts of tho diocese for advice. Thes Master of the Assaciation and disfrite affeers werel of fen written to from parishes where there were proposed restorations of church bells, and there were frequent journeys to parishes where meetings were held to consider sucli matiers. In the lasl ten years the Essex As. sociation had hecome recognised loy the ehnurh authorities in such maitars, and there was scarcelp a restoration going on in the county There the association had not been asked for adrice. Very often the association lad been the means of preventing patched up jobs being made of bells restorations, and sometimes work had been put off for a year or two, so that it could be done wall. The influence of the Essex Assnciation was alpays to see that work was properly carried out (ihears, liear).
r, F. J. Pitstow proposed, and Mr. W $=\mathrm{HI}$. Dyson seconded, thanks to Cinon Lake and the Rer. W. H. Pelmam.

Canon Lake, in reply. said the chnuch suthorities at Chelmsford regarded it as a great compliment to hare the lissex ringers there, and they could atways he assured of a warm welcome.
Arter a luncheon of Hicks' Restaurant tho ringers adjourned to the Cathedral and vurious fowers in the district, where some excellent towches were brought round. On the Cathedral bells there was some wery fine ringing, including Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Royal. At the other towers maltiods ranging from Grandsire Triples ta London Surprise were successfully hrought round by mixed companies. Brery opportanity was given to young ringers to try their hands on twelve bells and in advanced Major methods. The Fssex Association has held many suocessful meallings during its long history. but it was agreed that bhis gathering af. Chelmsford was the most successful and enthaiastic over experiencen, and spoke well for the advance of the ari in Essex.

POINTS FOR PEALS.

Sooner or later the Central Council will have to drop the allocation of points for peals in the Analysis which they annually publish. As a tabulated record of the peal performances of the various associations, the table is an exceedingly interesting one, and the historical records of the Exercise, to say nothing of the immediate interest, would lose a great deal if the analysis were abandoned altogether, but with the allocation of points it is a totally different matter. No member of the Analysis Committee would, we think, endeavour to claim that points can be any true criterion to the 'value' of all peals. In order that the points may be considered as in any way a reflection of the peals rung by an association something much more than a llat rate for each method and length is necessary. Under the present arrangement it is not possible to take into account weight of metal, 'go' of the bells, 'first peals,' good ringing or bad ringing, or anything of that kind which contributes towards the true worth of a periormance, and ringers are recognising more and more that the points allotted may have no real relation to the mefit of a peal. Without any reflection upon the county of cream and cider, a peal of Grandsire Triples, rung by a Devonshire band under the conditions which exist there, is of equal, if not greater, merit than a peal of London Surprise rung by the leading lights of, say, the Middesex Association. But none of these things are, or can be, taken into account in dealing with peal points, and to that extent these points are worthless, if not misleading.

Then there is the question of handtell peals. Recently we published a letter from one of the Birminghan band (who know as much about twelve-bell ringing both on tower and handbells as anyone), expressing surprise at the paucity of points allowed for the peal of Sextuples, and calling attention to the disparity of points between Grandsire and Stedman Cinques. Mr. Alfred Pulling, whose authority and experience in handbell ringing is well known, points out other anomalies in his letter in this issue, and his opinion is but one in the gathering reeling of discontent among ringers, who seriously study the peal point question.

The scale of points, even within its present scope, is by no means satisfactory. Add to this that there is now no competitive spirit acknowledged by the Analysis, that many important factors are perforce ignored, and that the allocation of points greatly increases the work of the committee, and we have weighty reasons why 'points for peals ' shouid be dropped from the table compiled on behalf of the Central Council.

ROWLEY REGIS BELES.  AN APPEAL.

Dear Sir,-I take the liberty of appealing throngh your columns for help towards reinstating the pcal of bells of the ancient parish of Romkey Regis, Staftordshive.

Tho church was destroyed by fire in June, 1913, when so many other churches and public haidelings were being sacrificed in a political campaign of that period.
After lying in rums for ten yeas the churcla is now being raunt. Tha fower has heen built as lijgh as the nave roof, but the Church Council being already in debt to the extent of over 92.000 eamnot undertake the completion of the tower and installing the bells.
A publie effort is being made by the four daughter churches ol Bhackheath, Old IIII, Cradloy Heath and Tividale to complete the tower, and also help loward the $£ 400$ to reliang the bells. Rowley Regis is one of the poorest parishes in the black Country, where there are practically no industries.
The bells, undamagerl by firc, were augmented to eight in 1887 by James Barweil. The original five were by Matchew Bagley, of Chal. combe. 1694 . The tenor, 15 owth, was recast in 1848 by Mears, and again in 1881 by Blewa.
On behalf of the poor parishioners, who are yearming to hear their belis again, I ask all lerge-hearted clergy, haity, and ringers to help. Sulseriptions will be gladly received and ruly acknowledged througl your columan and mat be sent to Loy dis Rank (Rowley Bells Account), Old Hill: Blackheath Branch of Lloyds Bank, or to me. Yours, etc.,
Beanty Bank, Old Hill, Stafi:

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SQUIhE PROCTOR'S TETERANS RINGING AT BENNIFGTON.
A very enjopathel meeting was held on Saturday at the old-world and, from a ringer's point of vien, interesting village of Bennington, upwards of forty making the journey through the by-lanes and roads. Those who attended for the first time expressed the pleasure it had given then to be at Beaningtan, which 60 years ago was a famous ringing centre, as the nunaerous peal boards testify. There were ringers from many places, including Cheshant, Hertford, Waze, Hitchin, Tottenhan, IIford, Hatfield, Yakden, Great and Little Munden, and last, but by 10 means least, the Edmonton band, who. together with several ladies, arrived in a charabane and were a welcome adlition to the company. The ficctor received and welcomer! the visitors very leaztiily, and provided tem free to all.
At the busmess meeting, held niterwards, he presided, and waaccorded a very hearty woter of thanks for his kindness and generosity. Touches were rung in all the standard methods London anrl Bristol Surprise included.
One very interesting fcature was to see two of the veterans of the old Squire's band ri 60 years aro, Mr. S. Page and Mr. L. Chapman. both between 70 and 80 yens of age, the former ringing a faultless course of Superlative Surprise, and the latter a course of Stedman Triples.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

On Saturday aitermoon, June gid sereral menhers of this Guild. imcluding Mr. W. Storey (president), Mr. A. M. Hall (hon. treasurer). of the Durbam and Newcastle Associationi Messrs, J. F. IR Keen, I. Rowell, W. H. Barber, A. IF. Hillier, I. Foreman, and G. R. Pieker: ing: journeyed by motor-car and bus lo Cramlington for one of their periodical wisits to the chureh tower, where touches of Kent, Cambritga, Double Court and Boh Minor were rung on the six bells.
Mr. Oswald Simms, the Endefatigable Ringing Master of the tower, received the party, and joined in the ringing. Afterwards be entertained the members at his hovise to tea, whide they were joined by the Rer. Hughes (curate), whose genial company added much to the enjoyment of the outing.-After tea ringing took place on handbells, accompanied by the organ-Mr. Storey thanked Mr, and Mre. Simms, on behalf of the members, for their very kind hospitality. Had the weather been mare favourable a friendly game at crichet, with some of the local talent, would have formed pari. of the dav's outing. - It was indeed gratifying to note that Mis. Simmss health had been restored after her illiness.-The party refurned to Newcastle about 10 o'clock, after a most suceassful and enjoyable day's excinsion.

MUFELED RINGING.

On Monday, June 4th, after the funeral of the late Mr. J. A. Lambert, a well-known member of the Surrey Association, a quarterpeal of Grandsire Caters was rulig, witla the bells half-mulfled, at St. Peter's, South Croydon: Miss Elien E. Hardeastle 1. Miss Elsie E. Chapman 2. T. A. S. Bloxhain 3, Miss Freda E. Orr 4 F. W. Larbey 5, T. Banister S. W. J. Rumlle 7. C. Dean (eonductor) 8, オ. E. Cooper 9. S. W. Holdaway 10. The ladies are from Clanham Park, the ringer of the 7th from Plymouth; of the 9th from St. John's, Croydon ; the rest of the local church.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATYON.

I'he meeting of the Central Division, hold at St. Nicholas', Brighton. Junc Zunt, proved successful, about 60 being present. Ringing commeneed at 2.30, and continted untit 4.30, when the visitors proceeded to St, Nicholas' Hall, where tea had kindly been provided by the Yicar (Canon H, M. Hordern), who welcomad all as they entered.
The business meeting which followed was mostly of a routine nawime. Messrs, A. Bachstaw (Keymer), E. E. Bislı (London) and Chas. Dean (Oroydon, were elected members. A very liearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells. the serrice, and for his most trenerous hospitality. The members then aftended whoral service in the chuvel, the adidess being giren by the Vicar. The collection taken for the Associadion's Benevolent Fund amounled to sill Os. 7d

The tower was again visited until about 8.30 p.m. rounds to Cambridge Royal baing rung, many ringing on ten bells for the first time.

The following towers were represented: Aldrington, Anganoring, Brighton (St. Nicholas' and St. Peler's), Burgess Hill, Easthourne, Heene, Fenfield, Hurstpierpoinl; Keymer, Lewes, Lindfcld, New Shoreham, RotherfelA. Eleyning. Twineham, Uekfield. Waldron, and non-resident members from London, Croyton and Portsmouth.

Best thanks are dure to the organist and choir, and to the St. Nicholas' branch, who did much towards making the meeting a success. The next mocting will he held at Ingufield.

DURBAN'S YOUNG BAND.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, It was with the ghealest pleasure that we read in 'Belfry (Tossip 'in "The Ringing World" for April $15 t h$, that Mr. Johu Prickett, of Chensstow, was leaving the old country for Durban. No douht Ehere will be many who will miss him sady. but their loss will, J hope, be onl gain. We are sadly in need of skilled assistance, and a very warm welcome watis him at St. Mary's, freyville, if he cares to join 185 . It may interest ringers to know that, excepting the writer, none of our band had heard or handled bells before, and their keenness and constant attention to thein work is an object lesson. The Fand contnins four young ladies, and six boys, the ages ranging from 14 years to 21 , the oldest being a young lady, A little birt whispers that one of the hovs is preserving his "Ringing World "witil a view to having it bound for the tower.
The correppondence on' Simpson Tuning has been closely followed hy us, and we can only say that we aje fery well pleased with our hells which are tuned on the five-tone principle. Yours faithiully, 11, Ohlate Road, Durban.

DEATH OF A WESTMINSTER ABBEY RINGER.

MR. JAMES WILLSHIRES SUDDTEN WND.
All London ringers, and many in the country also. will learn with deop regret of the death of Mr. James Willshine who passed awry on May 22nd. About forty years ago. when the Rochester Row bund was formed, the decoascd began lis ringing career under the late Mr. J. M. Hayes, and he was always to be found at fis post at se, Stephen's Clutch on Sundays. He was one of those selected to form tha Abboy company, and was ringing there on hibit Suuday. Oa Whif Monday lre and his family paid a visit to Brightan. Wihen retiring to bed that eveniag ho was in his nsual heallh but passed awey apparently in his sleep, about six oflock on the Tuesclay morning. from heart trouble.
The funcral took place on the following Monday at Wandsworth Cemetery, Canoa J. Perkins, of the Abbey, representing the Dean and Cbapter, conclucted the service, and gave a rery fouching address to about thicty ringers who were presenl. Anong the many wreafls was one in the form of a church bell swinging in its frame sent by lise Abbey comrades. A course of Stedinan Triples was rung over his &rave by f. R. Newton, F. R. Pasmore. W. H. Pusmore and J. N. Oxbortow.

In the evening the usual ' whole pull and stant ' was aumg at St SLephen's Ohurch by J. N. Oxborrow, J. Rowhotham A. A. Hughes, H. Ellis, H. R, Pasmore, A. Mavdonald, W. H. Pasmore and A. B Peck. Tho receased took part in many peals on cight teu and twelve hells, the last three being the womding peal of Cambridge at the Abbey, a peal of Maximus, and one of Brislol Surprise. He will be greatly missed by his Westminster rompades.

WINCHESTER GUIED.

A very successfal quarterly meeting of the Basingsloke districh was held at Andover on June 9th, those plerent includine the Rev. $C$. D. P. Davies (hon, secrefary of the Divisign), Ir. G. Foundry Eatabllahed A.D. 1570 (12th year of reiga of Elizabeth\}.

The firte peal of Stedmen Caters on handhells was rung by the College Youthe on June 15th, 1851.
On June 20th, 1756 , a peal of 'Carathan's Treples ' was rung at St. Peler-at-Arches, Lincoln, and it is pretty well recognised now that this peal was Garthon's peal of Graudsire Triples, the name of the composer having become wrongly spelt in lavuding it on Jasper Snowdon, to whom ringers owe so much, was born at Ilkler, Yorks, on June 18th, 1844.
The will has just heen proved of the Rt, Hon. Richard Robert Cherry, K.C., formenly Lord Chief Justice of Jreland, and President of the Jrish Association. He left estate valued at 253,439 .
It falls to the happy lot of few ringers to conduct peasls of Cambriage Surprise Royal and Bristol Surprise Major on one afternoon. This was accomplished on Saturday last at Lougliboraugh, by Harold J. Poole, of Leicerter. More streugth to his elbow!

The first Surprise peal in the Gitv of Leicester by an entirely 'local' band still remains to be rung. Verb. sap.

GRAVESEND BELES.

NIET PEAL OF ETGHT DEDICATED
A mixed lot of bells at St. George's, Churectr, Gravesand, have now been recast into a fine peal of Bight by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. The bells were dedicated at a special service on May 30 th by the Bishop of Rochester, the evant being one of joy and gencral congratulation in the town. The service was the consummation of two years: perseveving efforts, in which the Mayor and Corporation lent a hand by subscribing one hundred guineas, the Mayoress (Mrs. Thamas) raised a similar sum, and Mr. E. Hadlow, one of the ringers. collected no less than 2500 . One hell was recast at the charge of the children of the late Mr. William Russelt, IT.P., nind another at the charge of Mr. G. Sandford. The cost of the peal is abont $£ 790$. but other expenses have raised the totul cost of the improvements to about $£ 900$.
The inscriptions on the bells give tlyeir history:-

The Mayor and Corporalifon and other dignitariss attended the service of dedication, which was of an improssive nature, sud the Bishop gave an appropriale address. After the dedioatory prayers rounds were rung on the bells by E. Hadlow 1, R. Tall 2, R. Constant 3, Miss D. Tall 4, Re. Smith 5, J. Constant 8. A. Constant 7, W. Parris 8. After the service, which coneluded with the $T_{e}$ Deum, the Benediction and the Halłelujah Chorus, a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung.

The bells, tuned on the Simpson principle, are hung on ball bearings. The cast iron frame is carrieit on beavy steel girders, and Messrs. Taylor and Co. have carried out their work with their usual efficiency. The tonor is $18 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$ in F.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

A VALUABLT REPORT.

The Rer. O. W. O. Jenkyn moved that the Council adopt the report issued by the joint conforence of the Towers and Belfries Con! mittee and the Socioty for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. This report, upon the preservation of ancient towars and bells and advae os to bell restoration, was the outcome of conferences between the two bodies, and a summary has already appared in our ciumns. Mr. Jeakyn said the outstanding personality at, these conferences was Mr. E. H. Lewis.-Major J. IH. B, Hesse seconder the adoption of the repori.
The President said it was the most valuable report they had ever issued, and would do immense good from the ringers' as well as architelcts' point of view. It was a happy augury for the future that architects and ringers liad come to agree upon such an important subject.
Canon Wlee said it would be remembered that there was recently 3. case where ancient bella had been mutilated by having the cannons remared. It was at a tower with only three bells, but there was a great deal of indignation expressed $b_{p}$ authorities in the diocese concerned that this mutilation lad heen done without proper authority. ind it was sometimes assumed that ringers. as such, cared only about the "go." and, to some extent the tone of their bolls. and nothing about the history or preservation of ancient bells. He was, therefore, especially glad to sele this report signed by representatives of The Council as well as by the Society for the Protection of Ancibnt Buildings. It emphasised the neek for eare for their old bells. Modern hells were far more musical in nearly every case than ancient bells. nld balls were, however. priceless, as evidence of the bell founders; work in the pist. and ringers ac a rule knew too little about the history of the bells in their tower. Every care shoulf] be taken to preserve any ancient bells that they still had. The difficulty was that many were in towers which scarely came under that Council, but he was glad that ik should be distinctly recognised by that Couneil that ancient bells should be treated with the greatest possible mare (hear, liear).

Mr. T. H. Beams asked if the report had been submitted to the Royal Tnstitiate of Archilects. If they could be got to agree to it, it would be of still greater weight.
The President said the architects had been largely circularisea with this report.

BALL BEARLNGS TOR BTILSS

Tha Rev. H. Drake pointed out that since the report was drawn up Major Fesse (one of the Council's signatories) had publicly stated that he had changed his mind with regard to bail bearings for beils, and asked what his position now. was.
The Rev. ©. D. P. Davies said the report merelt said that the advantages of ball bearings was doubtful. Personally he was wery much against ball bearings.

Major Hesse said his opinion was that they were cheaper and letter both for the user and bell hanger. To renew them every ten years even would be cleaper than renewing plain bearings every forty years.
The Rev. G. W. O. Tenkyn said the conferenco was carelful not to overstate facts, and if they were not sure, they would not pretend that they were. They all felt, and Major Hesse felt, at the time the report was drawn itp, that nobody could be quile certain about ball Erarings. He thoughi Major Hosse had been more conrincen as to their utilitjo since, and it was guite possible that everybody's opinions might change as time went on. Continuing, the Librarian said, with regard to the distribution of the report, he thought they ought to play up to the society who were selling it where they could to cover the rosl of printing and giving it away in cases where it mipht bo given with advantage. Tlut Council had provider 55 towards the cost of printing. and lie suggested that copies of the report slould be sold at 4d. each. He thought, however, that if associations or diocesan aulloritieg desired to print it they should be allowed to do so, but he was most anxious that if it were printed it should be printed in The report was adopted, and on the motion of the Librarian. it was also resolved: "That this Council does not desire to exercise any righis of copyright on the report of the conferewice between representatives of this Council and the S.P.A.B.'

THE YEAR'S NEW RECORDS

The Rev. A. T. Beeston presented the report of the Records Com mittee, and submifted a list of the records of first peals in nem methods and of progressive lengths rung since the last Council mocting. He said they were glad to notice that the new methods, both of Major and Royal were of the highest order. The list. included the First peal of (1) Kent Treble Bob Roysi in fhe "Tlkeston' Fariation by the Midinat Connties Assoriation: (2) Kent Treble Bob Royal, in Sextuples (in Vriation by the Middlesex Ascocialion: (3) Stedman prige Major by the Lancashire Association; (5) Cambridge Court Bob Major (iu hand) by the Cambridge University Guild: (6) Middlesex Surprise Royal by the Middlesex Association; (7) limee spliced Major methods (in hand) by the Cambridge University Guild (8) Primesg Mary Surpidse Royal by the Midland Counties Associatiou; (9) Doublo Oxford Bols Major (in Land) by Lho Ely Atsociation. Progressive lengthis luve been yung as follows: 21,363 Stedman Gaters ly the Oxford Dionesan Guild; 5,376 and 5,408 Torkshire Suprise Major by the Clester Diocesan Guild; 5,040 Clifton Surpribe Royal by the Gloncester and Bristol Diocesan Association: 7.008 and 12,886 Cambridge Surprise Major by the Midand Counties Association. The committee thought it advisable to direct the attention of the juxercise to the necessity of adding a claim by foonote or othersise to the amouncement of any performances which was known or lelieved to bo a reeord. No claim, for instance, was atbaclued to the 7.000 Cambridge Surprise Major rung during the Fear. Suclz omissions increased the likelihood of these performances being overlooked, Tho commitice awaited the Council's instructions respecting ble publica. tion of the schedule they had prepared of first and record performances in all methods. M.r. Beeston added the commitite were of opinion that it would be unwise to print"yt until tit had been subjected to examination by the Dxercise and any mistakes pointed out. The report was adopted, and on the suggestion of the hon. secretary it was decided to have typed copies of lie schedule placed in the library fou circulation among riggers.

SOUTH KENSENGTON MUSFUM EXHBBT

The Hon. Searetary, reporting Jor the Musdum Exhibit Committee, said the committee had not achieved very mucla so far, but they bad broken a lot of ground, and come to one or two tangihle points. The committec had had an interesting meeting with the euthorities of South Kensington Museum, and they were unamimous as to the lines which they should follow. The authorities were not spending any money on them, but they would give them the use of a glass case and a certiain amount of wall space. When they considered what ihey should put into the case, the groal, thing focussod upon everyones attention, espeoially the experts', was Mr. John Cbrier"s famots ma chine, with which the authorities were very nuch impressed. With out that machine the exlibit would lose 90 per cent. of its value. Mr Carter had expressed his willingness to loan the machine for a period of five years. With the machine lhey wanted some ausiliary exhibits, and ho the hon. gecretary) had himself had made a madel, showing at ring of six bells hung in at teak frame. That was at the musemm, but Mr. Carter's maghine was not. Then. they had lad very kind offers on the part of one or lwo of the founders to see What they could do, in the way of putting in one or two models of belk. If and when they got lhese, they would bo making astart, but until they lad Mi. Carter's machine they cowid not fully repre. sent the science of ringing in the spletidid case wlich had been placed at their disposel. The reason why the nachine was not jet there was that before Mr. Carter deposited it, he wished to ring. officially and in a proper manner, a peal an it, and also desiren a certain gentleman to call that peal. As to the wall space, the commitlec agreed it would be wisest to utilise it by laving diagrams printed and framed. Then came the question whefory the Council was propared to pay for the printing and framing, or were they to fall back on the private manificonco of their members, or to make a collective effort. He was tempted to suggrat that their should have somo diagrams printed and sell them to towers, where they might be very useful, to defray the cost.
The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said it was dxceedingly important that they shoula have something to show at the South Kensimgton Museum as soon as they could. They lad been in conferened for something like two years, and $\begin{aligned} & \text { tus time they did something, howewer little. }\end{aligned}$
Mr. James George said he should deplore printing diagramts for belfries, because they had plenty of lazy ringers now. The place to learn methods was athome, but if these cards were used in belfries the lazf ones would come to the belfry to learn the methotis.
The Rov. H. Law James suggested that litey should use the diagrams from Snowdon's ' Standard Mothods 'for the purposes of the extibit.

Mr. A. Hugher said the great idea of having the cards, and having then large, was in order that they could be easily seen. If they put up the small diagrams on the big well space they would be too smail to be seen by anyone passing through the muscum

Tho proposal to usd' Sfandard Method ${ }^{\text {a diagrams was earried by }}$ 27 votes to 17
The Rev. H. Drake then moved that both the large and small diagrams should be used. He believed the large eards wonld be of use in a belfry.

The Hon. Secretary said if the diagrams were to be in acale with thd exhibit they must be large. If they had the cards and the small disgrams, any person whase interest was aroused br the large dia grams would be able to look at the smaller ones, and ther would have the whole thing.

Mr. W. A. Cave offered to print the large diagrams for the Conncil, and this offer was accepted with thanks
This concluded the business of the committees.

BORDE思LAND VEETS.

long aiscussion, ably opened by Mr. F. H. Borrett, then took place on the future title of the association. There was a strong eeling on the part of many of the borderland members pecsent for relaining some reference to Suffolk in the title, in tiew of co many members is East Suffolk having decided to continue fheir membership either as life members (non-resident) or hitherto as annual sub sclibing members, and it was strongly urgerl that the dassociation Ehould not, therefore, dissocinue Suffolis entively fram ins style, apart rom which, the barderland ringeres would be seriously ineonvenienced they were left out in drawing the mew houndmy, and in framing the new fitle. It had also to be amembered that a large portion f Fant Suffolk (the whole of Lothingland Deanery-ihe Jowestoft hinteriand) remains definitel $\mathrm{l}_{\mathrm{y}}$ in the area of the Diocese of Norwich. MT. F. R. Botrett proposed, and Mr. G. If. Cross seconded, that he future title of the association be the Norfoliz and Suffalk Associa-
Mr. A. L. Coleman (general secretary) said such a title us the Norfollir and Suffolk Association would rather complicate the prescot position of affairs than lessen difficulties, the meeting having provisionaly accepted the comnittees recommendations with regaril to dis continuing the district organisations in Suffolk. Suffoik members Would retain their membership eilher as life members (non-resident) or ans amual subscribing membere, az they pleased, the inter reon in Suffolk the tille report. If no organisation was to be carried on in Suffolk the title should be confined to Norfolk only, otlierwise the position in Suftolk would appear somewhat anomalous with organisation in Norfolk and none in Suffolk, and slould have further consideration.
Mr. G. P Burton took the same wiew, and gate reasons for change of tille, rather than reverthis to the old styie, 'The Norwich Diocesan Association," as some wisher. which was not acceptable to many in Suffolk, especially the Suffolk clergy. He proposed as an amendment (which Mr. Ban S. Thompson sceonded), that the title be Lhe Norfolk Guild for the Diocese of Norwich.

This amendment, howerer, was lost by a large majority, anril on the chairman putting the rubsuntive movion, it was carried by ans overwlelnaing majoriiy.
The Chairnom, replying to a guestion as fo whether the titho selecfed was wise one said he could only reply with that well-wort plirase, "Wait and Soe.
As all motions passed at the meting mest come up for raticica ion it the anmual general mectimg on Octolser 4 ils next, it will allow time for development and consjderation.

SUFFOLK MBMISRRS' IUTURE POSITION.

Mr. G. P. Burton moved, and Mr. Ben S. Thompson seconded, That this Assaciation wishes well to the mewly-formeni Suffolk Cruild, but in view of the intinnte redations existing for so many years past between Notialk and Suftolk hhe Association will continue to weloome Suffolk tingers absembers,
The motion, on heing put ro the meeting, was carried menn, won.
Mr. F. ll, Borret moved, and 引!. IK, J. Goate seconded, as ecommendation to the ammal general meoting or the Associakion, That all Lisel Siffolk members of 20 years standing should we excused any further subuediptions, and ipso facto hocome life members (honnesidenti.-M1. A. L. Colenum moved ras an amendmant, and Mu. G. P. Burton seconded, a lerm of 25 years instead of 27 years. Who ameudment, on being put, to the meeting, ws lost, and an the chaiman putting the sulasandive motion, it weared by anajority Seemg that the firnus hat not heen gone into, and that calculathon mush he made of the effect of the propestal on the asseciation's finauce, the general secretary ( $\mathrm{ST} . \mathrm{A}, \mathrm{L}$. Coloman) was instructed o do so, aud report to the anmual geveral meding.
Or tho molion of Mr. A. Lu. Colemarn, a lonyt vo ve of thanks was passed lo ilhe Ven. A. Y. Buckland for presiding over the secont lad to leave for Norwich

THE PEALS ANAEYSIS. THE ' FARCE ' OF POINTS.

Sir, The more experience one gets the mare ono realises the farce of points for peals. The Exercise canmat exper the Amalysis the same namber or points to a bana who may have been struggling for montlas to ring a peal of Grandsire in hatu as if our company nere at Guidford rang one? Again, hake compositions; in my lumble opinion the finest thing pet recorded "in Land, was the silent Caster" © Old-Bob One-Part by the College Youths, hut they only deceived the same mumber of points as if they had rumy whe Four-Part, comducted by that master of Stedman, Nr. Winney. You camot; compare the two things. The writer of the letter jn your Lssue of May 18th mentions Stedman Sextupies. Anyoue who has had any experience at all of handheili- matist realise what a performande that was. It does not matter how remarkable the band may he in ringing Bingues, when it comes 10 two mores bells it, is a wonderTul thing. The least the Autlysis Comnittee could lave dome was to lave writell to the concluclor and found ont what ho and tha band cansidered a fair mumber of points for the performance.
The shagestion is made to lave different pants for tower and hand. bell peals, and I rgree, if you are to have points at all, althougl I do mot think that Exercise at large takes much notiee of points. Handhell peals are a different fling altogether from tower bell penls, and should be treaied separately. Tako oight men on tower bells and four on liandbella, of the same ability, give them exacely the same amonnt of practice, and who would ring it peal of Stedman finit? I should advise some of our friends who do not think much of landbell ringing to iry jt, and they may find out there is something more thatn simply binging the bells up and down.-Yours, ete.
A. H. PUELING.

TWO SDGGESTIONS AND A CORRECTION

Sir,-In looking through the intercstion Analysis of Penls rung during the year 1g22.' on page 297 of "Thie Ringing World, I find difficulty which I think will be experienced by many whose eyesight, like my own, In not what it once was, of connecting the grand totala of points and averages witly the associations to which they belong. owing to a tendency to 'get of the metals ' in tracing the long dines of figures backwatds, this being especially the cate with the middle figures half-way down the list. May $T$ suggest to the Analysis Committee the atvisability of, in fufure printing the list of associations after the table of firules as well as before it, as is often dome widn the lists of rtations on the timetaliles printed in brond sheet form, whicle one sees at railway shations? Another help woutd be to divide the list into sections of five ar six associations each, by means of horizontal lines extending from end to enh, the entire width of the table.
In-the analysis of bandheld peals (page 300) the Ely Diocesna Asfouiation it credited with an averago of 8.88 points per peal. If the Thang Stanton.

COUNCIL DEBATES.

Two incidents in the Central Councit meeting indicated what, to outsiders, may appear as a certain lack of good spirit. The first occurred wher the discussion arose on the Analysis Conmittee's report on the nomenclature of methods. Two objections were raised to this report as it stood, one by the Rev. H. Law James upon the committee's action in altering certain names which had been deliberately given to methods by the Metlrods Committee when they compiled and published the Collection of Minor Methods, and the other voiced by Mr. G. P. Burton on the question of the absard names given to some methods by the Analysis Comnittee. When asked to take the report back for further consideration the committee adopted a 'take it or leave it ' attitude, and, holding up the bogey of having nothing further to do with the subject unless the report was adopted in toto, persuaded the Council into accepting the report unaltered, mainly from fear of offending the committee. There was no desperate need for its immediate adoption, for the report is of little importance until the Council reprint the method collection. Moreover, it does not strengthen the ground of anybody to threaten to resign a task if he cannot have his own way; and many members must have felt with Mr. Cave that they would like to see these questions settled on their merits. It is a moot point whether the committee did not go beyond their powers in changing existing names, and when they introduced a brief report last year stating what were to be their guiding principles, lew people imagined they proposed to deal with existing names as well ats with methods which were unnamed. On the point of the new garden titles for some of the methods, persistence in them is but adding to the terms which may bring ridicule upon the art. The committee had an excellent opportunity of doing something to raise the dignity of the names appliedto methods and to set a precedent for future action; instead they chose to go back to the antiquated ideas of a century ago and to take up an attitude, when their choice was questioned, which a little backbone on the part of the Council could have defeated.

The second point on which the Council showed lack of spirit was when they carried 'the previous question' in regard to the motion on the sulpject of the demolition of City churches. If a topic of this kind is outside the purview of the Council it should be for the President to rule it out of order before it is discussed, but 'the previous question' is a poor way of getting rid of any matter. It excludes any further discussion until disposed of, and members who may have had views to ex(Continued on page 386.)

AN IRISH PEAL OF SIX RE=OPENED.  PEPPERY'S : TRIP TO BLESSLNGTON.

The Prarish Church of Blessington, in the county of Wicklow, is dedicated to $S_{t}$. Mary, nud contains a peal of six bells all dated 1682. some of therm bearing tho fonnden's name, Thomas Bartlet, annl the foundry mark of the Whiteciapel Foundry. There is in the chancel a very fine tablet inscribed in Latin, and surmounted with the arms of Archbishop Boyle of Armagh, to whose memory it was erected. The translation runs: "tjochiael Bople, D.D. Archbishop of Armagh and Primato of All Irelnncl. chancollor for 20 years, and frequently acting as judge in ecclesiastical causes. Among his many praiseworthy acts for the good of church and country he erected at his own expense the Church of Mary, Blesiutoa, and the cemetory (for the glory of God, the worthy carrying out of Bivine worship. and for the convenienco and use of the parish), and provided all the necessary sacred vessels and church furniture, and alded a bell tower with a chime of six bells. He solemmly dedicated the alove to God, and the service of Religion on the 24 th day of August. 1683. This memorial stone, with the inseription thereon, has heen set up as a memorial of his munficence ly lis son, Morough, Viscount Blesin ton.

> Go thou and do likewise."

The title of Yiscount Blesinton is now extinct, but time secus to lay its hands lighty on Blessington, is all the ancient stones and buildings which the writer saw were as fresh as when pub in by tho pious Blessiugron folk now passed to their rest more than two cemturies ago. Eyen the bells wich are beautiful castings show $17 \pi$ bigns of corrosion. cach onse bearing a heratiful merlailion with the arms of the donor-Salurday, May $\mathbf{i} 2 \mathrm{~h}$ h, wze a real rell-letter day in the Wicklow Hills, as the bells were to be refopened, after a more than ustally long silence. They had been reling lyy Master Mathow or Byme, of Dublin; in it new stebl frame and futings. with the frms patented slido rest. "the "go" of the thells is all that could the expected, wis the maninous verdict of the nmmerous ringers who took the orentful trip ( 011 -a (rain which might have conveyed our forbears to mect goode Master Bartlet in 1683), to open the new peal.
Twas not mecessary for me to adjure Goode Mistuess Peppery to call me early on the eventful 12 th (hot of Aurust, goqde reader. thougl thel "grouse : wero getting it hot up there), for, $i^{\circ}$ raith, ye Goode Dame was ns ready as her liege to take the plorious air and feast hyr eres on the superb Wicklow Fill scenery. We boarded ye goode "Rocket Express , at Terenure Terminus, near a score of faint hearts and fair Ladyes: Goode Mistress Peppery aicl adjure some ol us to tie knote in aur lower limbse we wontured on the top deck as ye 100 f whis so low and ve sides ' hon est.' Ye gem from Christ Churela dided call it 'Electric.' As to hat I had " mace doots,' for ous disemburking we dit alt resemble prime smoked Yarmouths, buth he did assure me that that was where the 'trife same in. Punctually at 2.0 pm . oar fery dragon emitted a smoke screen aud tried to emulate a swallow, lut hat to stick to the rails in the end, and off we sailed up the hills, past the old stone house, yelept 'Hel] fire club,' where the Fenians of old held their deliherations. We did not stop to seek election, though Goode Mistress Peppery fid assure me I was qualified these long years. At the next stop the Railway Hotel had its windows broken, and tle frames covered with wire netting. and ye Goode Gaptain of St. Pat's did affrm 'wats to keep the fouriste from stealing the glass as souvenirs, but Goode Dame Peppery fid? venture that twas to keenp their own thic"es in, not orhers out.
At Tallaght there is a fine old church tower, partly ruined, amid beautiful scenery and a small imviting emporium, equipped with a guanint ofd painterd sign of two foxes rampant, which informs all and sundry that 'this foxes covert never draws hlank.' This last I can vouch for the aceurace of: hut, good readers, 'with bated breath.' I did arrive just in time to hear, ye Oaptain of Pat's explaining to Goode Mistress Peppery that. Tailaplit' was Trish for 'burying place, and ye Goode Spouse did confide fa fimm that slio knew Peppery lad loug thouphe of settling down, and thet sucly a sylvan retreat would be ideal for him. I dial then pouder long which of the two coverts would he drawn mont of tea for mr graceless self.
At the next junction the gent from Chrisf. Churel retired below decks. I murnured ' mal-de-mer,' but Mrs, P. Hamed the lailstorm then in its pomp. I did opine 'twas cold enough for snow, but a gent from St. Pat's granted that if it did the smoke screen emitted hy our chip machine was effective to hide us from any snow yer showu. an we had the pluck to brave the top deck of the first car.

But all things end some time, even conjugal smoke screens, and I nrrived in Blessington with my bows stove in and miy patent log out of action, but needless to relate ye Bester of Pilots was, as usual, triumphant.

Wo were greeted on arrival by the Rector, the Rey. Wm. Reeres Scuyll, with a hearby welcome that touched all with its spontaneity, and wh were at once at home. Bis arrangements for our comfort were perfection itself, and when he piloped us to the tower to try the beils we wore met by Mr. Mabthew O'Byrne, of the Fountain Head Bell Foundiy, whieh has been in existence for mare than two hundred years, and does a very flourishing trade in bells. We wore shown his firm's work, which he described with a verve that only one of his own genial personality can. We rang them, and we changed hands and lisiened to then, and everyone war satisfied with the various 240 s of Winor, 120 s of Dowbles, and call clanges with the local ringers, and our praise was unstinted. Then we were shown the church and tis famous tablat by the Rector, who piloted us down to taa in an old-world roan in this beastiful old-world Wicklow atmosphere, where the tables groaned 'neath their load of good honest Wichlow cheer, and the ladies were all smiles as they welcomed us and pressed upon us dainties after dainties, till efen ringers could do no more, good trenchermen Elough they always are.
Our votes of thanks to all concerned are of the heartiest, especially to those Wicklow ladies who surely e had the way with them.' Need I say that ' lirain' time camo all too soon after more ringiag, and a pleasant hour with Mr. Byrne.

It is wortly of note, that in 1798, the time of the Fenian Relbellion, a rebel ablack was repulsed from the church tower. and at the present day Blessington is again in tha limelight as a centre for rounding up the Republicrn troops: indeed, a sharp skirmish took place the very evening after our visit, but it is pleasing to find that during this time all places of worship are immune from the atbenfions of both parties-and the local band are taking up change ringing.

PEPPTT? FISSELF.

OVERLAPPING.

To the Editor.

Sir:-In your issue of June 1st I see that at a meebing of the Gloucetter and Bristol Association the secrelary complained of overlapping, and stated that a ueighbouring society in one of its branches hard 40 per cent of its members from the Gloucester Diocese. Now, if ha means the Worcestershire Association (Southern Branch) let me point out that the fault lien enlively witly themelves. A fow years ago the members of two bands in the Whehombe hishrict approanhed me about joiniug 418 association, and I tulvised them to join their owit county association. I also saw a prominemt ringen "rom Cheltenhann, and gave hinn the address of the secretary of each band. I alio gave the address to another ringer in Gloucester, but it appears that no achion whs taken to ropo in these ringens, su they attended one of our guarterly meetings, and made application to join our association. Since then another band Irom near Tewkebury made application at a guarteriy meeting. Can anyone blame us that wo wecepted these bands as members?-Yount, etc., F. J. JOFINSON.

LOCAL BANDS.

To the Editor.
Sir,-In your last issue you have an inspired note in "Betfry Gossip,' which says: "The first Surprise poal in tho eity of Letcegter has yet to be rung (by a local baur).
Tn your issue of June 17th, 1921. wits a pesi of Superlative rung at St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, in which every ringer was a member and exclusively attached 10 the hover. The footnote stated that chis is the first Surprise peal rung in Leicestar by an enbirely local bard.'
I and not aware of aupthing to invalidate the cham.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The Southern Distriet of the London Caunty Association held a very suecessful and enjoyable meeting at St. Jolm's. Croydon, on Saturday last. Upmards of 30 ringers were present from parions places, including Beckenham, Camberwell, Clelsea. Beddington, Ealing, Lambeth. Roelampton Putney, Streatlam, Westminster Addiseombe. Walton-on-Thames, etc
The heay poal of eight (tenor 30 cwb .) weye made full use of, and the following methorls were rung: Grandsire and Stadman Triples, Kont $\xi_{T}$ Double Norwioh, Cambridge and London Majar Several of the youthful membors ascended to the top of the towes to enjoy the viow, and probably this may account for the wonder ful appetites shown later.

An excellent tea was parfaken of af the Hare and Hounds, azd was very much apprexiated and enjoyed.
At the subfequent business mecting, four new members were made.-A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. and Mis. A. W. Clark for the splendid arrangements made, to tho Rev. P. MeCormick for the use of the bells, and to : mine host' for the splendid tea supplied. The next meeting wis announced to take place on July 7th at All Saints'. Fulham.
The tower was re-visited, and a further hour's ringing took place. At the kind invitation of 'mine host, the party again adjourned to the Hare and Hounds, and a pleamant social evening was spent. Good-humour was abundant, and everyone was merry. Several present rendereil some songs, the general secretary being in bis element as the accompanist. Stedman Caters and other methods wene rung on handbells, and all items received the applatise deserved. "Time fles." andi this particular evening went all out to prove it, it seemed, and the ringers reluctanily dispersed ail out the correct time.
It is hoper blat tiase sociai eyeninge nuay ocur mole regulanly at meetings, although, of course, accommodation is not of ten available.

RINGERS IN A CHESFIRE VILLAGE.

The village of Capenhurst, in the Wirral Peninsula, was visited on Saturday, June $16 t h$, by 80 ringers and friends, including the Master and general secretary of the Chester Diocesan Guild.
The war memorial ring of six bells were kept going from 3 p.rr. until 9 p.m., in a good variety of methods from Plain Boh to London Surprise. The quaint ofd church was well filled for the service, and the Reav. A. T. Beeston gave a short address. After service, the Rector kindly provided tea at the Rectory. The wife of the Rector and willing helpers kept their guests well supplied with good thinga.
A short business meeting followed, and a vote of tianks was enthusiastically accorded the Rector and all those who had done go much for the ringers and friends.

SURPRISE PEAL IN LEICESTER.

To the Editer.

Dear Sir, Would you please insert, the followint reply? 'Re Surprise peal in Leicester. The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major runt on the 24 th May, 1923, was the first peal of Cambridige Surprise rung in the city of Leicester by a LJEICESTER hand.' This is not ant atticle, as the writer is not au fait on such things. As for sending it 'local ' instead of 'Leicester,' there are various lectiones to many pars, if the reader wishes it. Therefore, I stick to my statement above, that it is accompli.- Yours truly,

PROPOSTD DEMOLITION OF CITY CHURCHES.

The Rev. F. LI. Edwards then moved the first of the motions on the agenda: : That this Council, meoting in the Diocese of Salishury, in which sir Christopher Wren was loon and baptized, exprosses the fervent hope tiat no sanchon will be given lo any further demolition of tha chumeles, with which lee adorned the Gity of London, and which hear such a valuable wituess to the Christian religion in the world's busiest centre of secular activities.' Thre mover said he considered the motion was appropriate in point of time and of place. It point of place it was appropriate luecause Wren was born in the fiocese of Salisburs. As to it being appropriate in point of time, he mentioned that two or three years ago, motion, not on sinilar lines but the same in priveiple, was passed at a mecting of the Council, hut miscfired because it was sent to the secretary of a committee Which it was subsequently discovered hat coased to exisl. The same question of the dernolition of churelies in the city was to be lroughb forward agein by another committee appointerd by the Bislop of Loudon. Major Hughes D'Aelh seconded
Mr. J. A. Trollope opposed the molion. remarking that the majority of the, chureles it was proposed to demolish were worth notining at all, and were a dear weight on the London diocese. For files site of one of tlig churohes at the bach of Lombard Street Barclays Bank were prepared to give a quarter of a million. The commitfene that recommended the removal of these chnrehes consisted of entnemt Churelmen who knew a good deal mare about the churches than did those who agitated against their removal from a craza for preserving thinge beratise they were old.

Mr, G. P. Burdon, who supported the motion, protested against Mr. Trollope's statement that these churches were worth nothingFrery time he (tho speaker) went into St. Michael's, Cornhill, it was an inspiration to him. All Hallows", Leminard Street. was a beantiful churoh. If from a business point of view these churghes were worlif so much money, were fley uot worlly ton thousand times more to the country? It would be a scandal if that council did not let it go forth that titey protesteri against the demolition.
Canon Baker said lie felt the motion was out of place there. They were Clurchmen met for a special purpose, to discuss matters relating to bell riuging, and if they discussed matiters ontside the scope for whioh they were met it seemed to him there was no limit to the subjacts they might put down on the agenda. Next year they might have a rebolution on the question of Prajer-Book reviaion, and fancy Ihat Assembly passing a resolution ahout Vestments or heservation, that sort of thing. He thonght the question of the city churches was an archilectural one or an artistic question, and not one that whs within the scope of their proceedings. He proposed the prerious question.
The Rev. C. D. Mathews saicl this was largely a mation of senti ment and to bring it down to a point where that Council was conmornod with it directly, it aught to be sfated in the resolution what churches containing pals of bells it was proposed to demolish
The Rev C. D. P. Davies sairt he partly agreed with Canon Baker, aut not altogether. Fie thought they might pass some resolution on tho towers that contain bells, which whs what they did at Northampton. There, it was hold that it was ontside their province to express opinions ahout churches whioh had $n 0$ bells, but as a congress of ringers they might express their opiniou about churches which had neals of bells.
Alderman Pritcliett, ssid The did not think they could logically disinguish between churches with bells and charches without pere equally sacred, and if they preserved one, they should proserve he other. bul he thought the Council was going outside its functions debating a question of that kind.
The motion of "the previous question - having been seconded was nut to the meeting. amid some protestr against this method of closurng discussion, aud carried.

FIRST AND RECORD PEALS

Tha Rer. H. Drake had given notice to move ' That this Council recommends that first or record peals should not be rung for a society outside the limits of that society's area. He said the objection raised to it in 'Tla Ringing World " was not one which that, resolution was intended to meet, and he, thereforo, suggested that he should ba allowen to amend it, so that it was in positive imatend of uegative form, viz., "That. this Council wecommends that inst on record peals should be rung for a society within the limits

The Precident: Are you gring to alter that now?

The Rev, H. Drake: I am going to ask the meeting to allow it be put in tile positive form
The alteration having boen arreed to, the Hon. Secretary seconded the motion pro forma.
The President: Does anyone wist to spoale on it?
The Rov. JI, Law James: Yes. I will move the previons mestion ( (laughter).

Mr. F. Willsan ppposed the resolution, and jointed out the difficulties of applyiug it. Suppose, he said, aight men travelled from oue county to the next for a peal, who was going to elect them as mombers of that astociation, whon thers was no one else in the helfry? They were not mompetent to elect themselves, therefore they would be bound to ring the peal for their own association.

The Rev. H. Drake: The resolution only recommends.
Mr. Jameg George said he agreed with Mr. Willson, and, nlthough he belonged to pretty well every societs in the kingdom, and the revolution wauld not make muds difference to Jim, why should he be compelled to join a society wben le went into some other area for a pasl. and who would elect visiting ringers unless there was a majority of the band helonging to the society?
The Rev. F. T. O. IFelmore pointar outt that the resolution did not refer to all peals, but only to first and record peals.

Alderman Pritchete put, his opposition to the vesolution very concisely. "In the fist place, lie said, 'if is umecessary, in the second place it is nureasomable; in the third place untrorkable, and in the fourth place uniutelligible, aud I am going to rote against

A Member: Or the Coliege Yonths?
The Thev. H. Drake said he had discussed fle regolution with Mr, Willson, and alfered it to meet his objection. but it did not seem to liave done so (laughter). As it stood. the resofution was simply an expression of pious opiniou that ringets should not go out and ring first or record peals in the area of other gociotios, but that they should profierably ring them at home

The motion, on being put, was lost by a large majority MORE BETAILS NOT BEQUTRED
Tha next motion was also in the name of the Rer. H. Drake: That the Peals Analysis Committee be asked if thes oan ata a column showing the ratio between the number of members and the pointr gamed by ench socieity. He saict that after the vory heavs report which they hed heard thal moming he was unwillint to add to the commitcee's labours but if they where to have anythinm saic as to which was the first socidty there should bo some account taken of tho number of members. It seenied rather absurd, for instance, for the Salisbury Guild which was in fanty low place in the sinalysis, to be contrasted with an associntion like the Norwich of Midland Counties-there was not a fair chance of comparing the two. If they dould have another column showing the ralio between the number of members and the points gained they worst be abla to get some further value out of the analysis than they liad at pretsent.

The motion foumd no seconder, and, therefore, was declared lost. SPLICED-METHOD PEALS
The Rev. C. D. Dapits proposed ' Thal in compositions of $5,00 \mathrm{c}$ chames or upwards on seven or any higher number of bella in which the plan of splicing various mathod: is adopted it is se sential that there should be no repetition of any row fhroughoutthat is to sap, that the whole composition shall be "s true 's it the universally accepted seuse of that word.' He said that years ago, when be was jound, it wati a great thing, not very ofter accomplislied, for a peai of 42 six-scores of Grandsire Doubles, seven 720 's of Minor to be rung. Then the practice grew of ringing six trell prals in seven different methorls, and thoze things, he thought, were most landable. It was a great thing for those wio had only got six bells to make the utmost use of what hells they had got, hut when it came to the question of eight-bell towers where they could ring peals of Triples or Major, the question as sumed a different aspect. He was ldrl to put this motion down on the agenta by a letter which he received a little time ago, in Which lis opinion was asked upon a proposal to ring a guarter-peal cach of London, Bristai, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, each coming round at back strols and going of into the next mothod at hand. To his mind that was a very different question from that of the six bell ringens whom he had mentioned. All honotur and eredit to them for making the best use of the bells they lad. Thay Fand orily 720 changes to work upon, mind could not lielp repeating them. But when they had got eight bells if fley permitted repetition, they would be striking at the root of what lad always been the main object in every peal evelr composed from the beginning of change ringing, namely, that it should be true. He was rather old-fashioned, and he could not say that he "cottoned' vers warmely to splicing at all, but if they wished to have splicing let them have, on eight or more bells. a true peal. The Rer. F. S. Powell seconded the resolution.
The Rev. H. Law James asked if the resolution war necessary. The rules of ind Coumeil already laid it rown that every peal on seven bells and upwards must be true, and therefore, he thought, the motibu was neerlless MP. J. A Trollope sain he believed the original suggestion was made belween himself and Mr. Davies in the course of correspondence, His feeling at the time was that it was a thing wortly doing, and if they rid not like to call it a peal ' they could call if a ' performance.' Tho band that could ring four quarter-peals in this way would $b_{e}$ doing something worth doing. They could not splice the methorlis fogether, so they would lave to ring it in quarter-peals.

Mr. J. Parker said the should not linink anyous would attempt to ring four quarter-peals that were not irue. He was not so sure it wis impossible to get a trite composition. It whs not necessary to change from one method to the other at a lead end.
Mr. W. Willson asked if one of the rules of the Council did not alreatly provide that in peals on 8,10 or 12 bells there should be not leas blan 5,000 true changes rung without interval in any one method.
The Presideat: The mofion is absolutely in order
Mr. E. M. Alkins: The effect of the motion is simply to earlarge that rule, to cover a number of methods spliced together in onc true peal.
The resolution, on being put, was carried nom. con.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Ringers generally, will agree with the text of Mr. Pulling's letter of las week re "Points for Peals," winat concerns ringers more than points (or no points). for paals is the number of handboll peals rung wiblout a competent umpire or referee being employed, I believe the Central Counchl many years ago made somo recommendation on fhe subject. Apart from the findings of that Cohtral Council, it, semms quite the proper bling to have a referee in close proximity to the ringers of the peal with a copp of the composition at hand. ready to tick off any or all of the course euds of the peal als they come up, or should one came where it slould not be call stand. Uniless a peal is rung under usual conditions this rule (I considen) should apply, or the peal be not incluad in the Guild or Association's record under whose aw pires the peal is supposed to have been scored.

BISHOP SUGGESTS A FEDFRATION.

A federation of ringing societies in the diocaso of Peterborough, Which covers the counties of Northampton, Leicester and Ruthand, was suggested by tha Bishop at a meeting of the Centaral Northants Association held at Wellingborough on Saturday week, and a resolntion suggesting a conference on the subject was carried.

Tho meeting liad been arranged in order that the Bishop might meet the ringers, and one of the largest gatherings in the history of the association took place.
The Kettering District was represented by 57 members, Wellingborough by 51, Northampton by 22. Thapestan by 22 , Peterborougls by six, Guilsborough by seven, and Weedon one. Tho Central Associalion offcers present included the Rev. J. P. Frend (president, Mr. W T. Wilson (treasurer), aud Mr. D. J. Nichols (secretary): tho Wellingborough District by Mr. F. Barber (secretary); the Kettering District by Mr. Black (secrelary): the Northampton District by Mr. S. J. Lawrence: the Turapston District by Mr. J. Nickerson: the Weadon District by Major C. O. E. Nicholson; and the Ladies Guild by Miss Hepburin. Amonget fle clergy present were the Rev. R. G. W. Smeaton, Rev F. F. Houuiball (Wellingborougl Parish Westacott (Wilby), Rev. C. H. L. Hopper (Wekley), Rev. ColeHamilton (Desborongh), Rev, J, White (Pitsforcl). Rev. F. J. Aukins (Jsham), and Rev. D. MeVarisl (Wollaston).
It was a very haraty service in the Parish Charch, faniliar laymus being sung, with Mr. E. Hearl at the organ, tho Yicar taking the prayers in the early part of the service, and the Bishop the specjal prayers at the close of the service. The collection for the bell resloration of Peterborough Cathedral realised £3 0s. $10 d$.

MESSAGL OF THE BELLS.

The Bislop founded his address on the words, 'O come, let us worthip, a seatenco which contained in the fewest words the message of the bells. They in that diocese, and not the least in that county. had a pectline interest in bells. One of the earliest of bells so far as the actual date was concerned, came from Cold Ashby, and was flated 1317. The listory of chnrel hella was part and parcel of the history of English Clurchmen thongth the centuries, and how they had tried to make the worstip of God the centre of their life. One of tho earliest bell foundries was connected wilh that county, and they also knew there was ona at Lefeester, where the maker used to put on belfs the licad of the reigniug king. Atter sketcling the bistory of Teylor's, of Loughborough, which in 1731 had a conudry at Kettering, and belling of some of the fanous bells that fisey had cast, the Bishop went on to spenk of how the bells entered into the life, especially on great mational occasions. The bells marked the obcasions of joy and also of sorrow, and he supposer there were more maffled peals mug during the last ten years than for fivel centuries before. They werc outward and audible sigas of their duty towards God, and inell ringers wero the instruments by which that call to worship was made far and wide, a cnli which. alas, of len met with litule response on the part of those who herrd it. a call which, nome the lefs, was responded to br thousands amd fhausands every Sunday and often on weekdays ns well. Thongh the call to worshin had nover been responded to as it should be it had newer ceased in bo sounded. and he ventired to say that there was no dass of people who ouglit more fervently to realise their duty of the call la worship than the ringers themselves, who might reasonalby be expected to practice what they preached. He once remembered rending of a blind lamplighter who went about the lown and lit the lamps, but he never sam the light himself, nor dict the light ever bring any benoftt to him. That would be rather a parallel ense the bell ringer who sounded the call lo worship and yet, though himself a morker in the Honse of God, never realised thle privilege and joy of uniting in worslip with his fellow Christians. Let them be an example in that respect, and realise that they belonged to a big fomily circle. In these days the greatest need of Europe and of their own country was an ackiowledgement of God, both in public ant private affaire, amd. Wherefore, the fingers' work should be onn inken witlz great solemnity, for the bells were a continual reminder to thoze who had cars to hear to remember Gad and His worship. The Bishop conclucled by expressing the hope that in the meeting that was to follow some kind of federation wonld be formed that would link the ringers in the three oounties of the diocese in one groat family Service over, an adjoumment was made to the Charch Hall, whero 170 sat down to tea. The Rer. Frend presided, and the Bisliop also honoured the gathering with his presence.
The Chairman, with tive openiog observation that ringess werg rea. sonable people, went on to say that they had improved enormously. When lie sharted to ring 31 years 8 go lie found the members of the team attending practices more regularly than on Sundays, and discovered that the reason for that was an enormous stone jar in the belfry (langliter). He then pointed ouf that the belfry was pari of God's Honse, though it had mot always been looked upon as such. As a Rural Dean le always took cere to visit the belfry of churches and look at the bells,

TFFE SUGGESTED FPDERATION.

Mr. D. J Nicholy olserved that the preseuce of the Bishop that day would help to slimulate all matlers connceted with hells and rimpers. Hia felt sure that the suggestian of the Bishop of the forrnalion oi a Dionesan Ringers Association was welcomed by a farte mitaber of ringers. It was suggested that the assaciation should ho eflled the Peierthoroth frith of Cluteds Bell Ringers, and should ambrace all the associations. They would stall have theit own dis1 rict organisations.

The President moved the rollowing resolution: "That in the opinion of this mosting it is desirable that a Peferborough Diocesan Guild of Ringers should be formod; and that the president and secretary of lifs asmocintion bo asked to coufer with representatives of other associntians in the counlies of Norlhamptanshira. Leicgitershire, amit Rulland, to report to our commiftee, for the information of the Jishop. "This remalution was warter unanimously.

Fallowitg upon a geveral discussion, Ihe Bishop said it was a vory great pleasife to find limsolf ab so large a gathering of that sssociation. and wolconed the idea of a lederation of the associaLions of the whole diomese. Ho used the word federation insiead of amblgamation, as it lelt oach assocition freedom of morement, but fi linked up the ringers from all parts of the fiocese. tneidentally Dr. Woods observed that the hall ringers of the nhecese were 1 wol limited to the male sex. Tf the ferieralion was formed no one would he more plensed than the Bishop of the diacese.

Mr. F. Wilford (Northamplont moved itanke to the Wimur of Wellingharaigh for allowing the use of the thells, and to Mr. Nichols and Mr. Barher (of the Wellingkorough Disisiet) for making the local arrangements. -This was seconded $h_{y} \mathrm{Mr}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Wilsom, and heartily carrive. - Major Nicholson also inilinted a hearty vote to the Bislop for his presence and interest.

The Yicar of Wellinghotougli, resplondmer, firsl vold of his difficulty in getting to bea a proficienl bell ringer, aurl went on to sav that a year ugo be veniured to make a remart abont how desirable it was that. ringers, who called other to chureh, should first get the example, and. in spite of its unpopularity, lie gatin it again (latughter).
The Bishop's brief reply terminated this part of the proceedings, and scweral toucles on tile hells followed.

A MISSING REPORT.

Hembers of the worcesterghire Association may have wondered that no report of their anmull meeting on Easter Monday appearen in our columns.
To make the mattor clear we desire to say that the responsibility orisinally lay with no affeial of the association. A report was, it ippears, sent to this office, enclosed with another communication, and both hy some means were accidenially destroyed. It was only when inquiries were made aloun. font wbek later as to the nonappearance of the report, that the Eidifor was aware liat it had ever reached this office, An immediate request for a further briaf teport and subsequently for a copy of the minutes. from which a shmmary of tha proceedings at the meeting could liave been wisten, were refused. Han either of these reguests, which were accompanied liv a private explanalion, boen complicd with. the members of the Worcestershire Association would not have been entirely without a repart of their anmul meeting, sbridret though it might bave been. We reguet that wo were the original calse of any disappointment which they may laye felt, and also that the relitals with which we met, prevented our doing anything further in the mater.

FEDERATION IN PETERBOROUGH DIOCESE

The appeal made by the Bishop of Peterborough, at the recent meeting of the Central Northamptonshire Association, for a federation of the ringing organisations in the diocese of Peterborough, is one that will find at great deal of support among the ringers in that area. It strikes a new note in regard to the lines upon which ringers should unite their forces, and the executive of the Central Northants Association has shown a readiness to Corward the Bishop's desire by appointing representatives for a conference on the subject with the other associations whose areas extend within the boundaries of the diocese. The societies affected, in addition to the Central Northants, are the Peterborough and District, the Towcester and District, and the Midland Counties Association, for, in addition to Northamptonshire, the counties of Leicester and Rutland are concerned.

When the modern ringing associations were first formed, they mapped their areas on differing lines. Some followed the county areas, others the diocesan, while some took in territory whose boundaries were only vaguely defined. Among the last named was the Midland Counties Association, which has its centre in Leicestershire, a sphere of powerful influence in Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire, and embraces Rutland and part of Warwickshire. The Midland Counties Association has, despite its wide area, been a consistently hornogeneous whole, and, in its more than forty years' existence, has established a position which we feel sure its members would be loath to break. The Bishop of Petcrborough is doubtless fully aware of this feeling, for his suggestion is for federation in his diocese as distinct from amalgamation. The resolution passed by the Central Northants Association voices the desirability of q Diocesan Guild, but we imagine that that ideal will he one for future adoption, and that the Bishop's proposal will probably be found the first and best step to its ultimate realisation.
The greatest factor in the success or otherwise of the scheme will be the attitude of the ringers in the Leicestershire area. Without their co-operation a Diocesan Guild for Peterborough can be only a partial success. It is hardly to be expected that Leicestershire ringers will lightly sever their connection with the association to which they have so long been affiliated, and a scheme by which they can retain their membership of the Midland Counties while giving support to at federation for their own diocese is, we think, one that is much more likeiy to appeal to them. Sueb a position would be a new departure in ringing organisation, but a workable scheme [^36]ought to be quite within the range of possibility. Among the objects which all our associations seek to promote is that of increasing the recogntion of ringers as church workers, and by no means can this be better achieved than by gatning diocesan status. Any proposal which helps this forward deserves full and serious consideration by all concerned, and when, as in the case of Peterborough, the suggestion emanates from the Bishop of the Diocese, no stone should be lelt unturned to secure its eventual adoption, thus setting the seal to a claim which in some areas it has been very difficult to maintain. The course of the conference will be watched with interest by all ringers.

LEICESTER SURPRISE PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dent Sir,-Tha item published in Belfry Gossip on June ISth, re tho firsi Suprise preal in tho city of Leicester, has brousht two toplies, $a$ courteaus one from Mr. Wm, Willson, and an claborated conglomeration of [rocy words from "Basta." Five word "local" soums to be the word that is earing this ink slinging, may it not degenerite to n nud slinging contest! Feither of the peals under disctission can be clamod as thang $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{y}}$ local men. In bath these were ringers taking part whose place of renidence is outside tho ciby boundary. Tho fact that all flaeir ringing is done with Leicester men, whilst perhaps loringing them mater the heading of Eeicester ringers "annob bring thena under the temm " local." I understand that in some places the trom 'local' is taken to cover a tower to which ald the ingers belong-not merely allached. The pend at St. Margaret'l lisg not been pul forwart on this grouncl. The one at St. Tohn's Has. Mr. Willson will find if he cares to take the trouble, that onf of tho ringors in his band was slill a member of the staff of ringers at anolfer Lofeester churely at the time his peal was rung. "Thero ale in Lefenter at present ringers enough and to spare io ping Surprise peals at about three churches; in one afternoon. Why not get togelher and do it? It would he much better, at any cate, hnm designing footnotes and replies to same. This, at least, is tha opinion of

SILENT BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-TL is my privilege every Sunday to assibe at one of the most benatiful eluaches in England. St, Xinry's, Croscombe, Somerget, but alas! one of its olfef glories is silent. I refer to its hells. Aftor doing yeoman sorvice for conturieg the whole peal has hat to be sent nway to be denned, quarter-turned and tuned. Bul in atdilition to this the old wooden ball-cage is so decayed as to need entiro replacement, and extusive repairs to the belliry itself are neessary
The wort ts being done by the famons firm of bell founders, Messrs, Taylor and Son, of Louphiborough. The total cost is at least .e7ç, of which only fhout eth00 has been mased, much of it in the little prarisli itself, lenving sone $£ 309$ afjll to he found.

Now I have heard that lhere is a custom amongst belfries of having $\curvearrowleft$ "whin romind "amongst the momhems to assist other belfries whose kells linve fallen on evil days. and I am writing this letter in Thn hops that it will antwh the eye of symparhetie members of other belfries.

If the belfrias of this diaceso alone were to send a contribution it would be a great holp. Tiurlher. I know thal Closcomho has always sesponded to appeals of this kind.
Tf, an I hope this appeal kinclles a response from all those who hove the welfaro of all beliries at heart, will they please send their contributions to tho Rov. G. Freman, The Reciorv Croscombe, Somerseif-I romain, yours faithfully, OSCAR STANWAY.

OLDEST PEALOF SIX.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-The mecount in lane week's : Ringing Wrorld of the Blessington six hells, all daled 1682 . has made noe wonder if there are many peals of six older than liat date, and whether the peal of six here may he nearly, or quite the oldest. This Martloy Worcester shires sir tenor 14 ewt. are all dated 1673 , so that this yenr is their quarter-millenary, or 250 th year of existence; they were cast hy Rich Keene (and by fradition close to the church) the 5 th hell being inscribed ' Rich Keene caste this Ringe, 1673. They are good-shaperi bells. hut their tone was much inmproved by the fate Mr. A. Hughes in 1914, who tuned them in situ. They were refted nad quarterturned (for the fint time since being east) in 1895 . by Blackharis, of Salisbury. The franue, a stroug structure of oak, is also dated 'I673. Q.G., and "ests upon still more nazsive timbers, which show, from brass sockets, that thew were the berring timbers of still olden bells. I should be math interested if any of your readers know of an otider compled six. I lang on one at. Ipswich (by Miles Gray, rater] 1636, I wink) some years ago, but I fancy thev are now eight, Tours faithfully, Martley Rectory, Worcester, Jume 23rd, 1923.

The first peal of Grandsire Cinques ' in hand ${ }^{2}$ was rung at Biv mingham on July 2nd, 1886.
In connection with the record peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark, which we mentioned as being the longest peal on twelve bells, this was wo in point of time, but it did not exceed in number of changes the record of Grandsine Cinques which is 13,001 rung at Painswick.
Eingers as a rule are ready to respond to an appeal made in a worthy cause. We hope there will be a generous response to Mr. A. E. Parsons appeal for tle restoration of the bells of Rowley Regis Church.
The peal of Double Norwielk rung and published last week for the Norwich, St. Edmundebury and Ipswich Association took place at St. Margaret's, Lowestoft, Sulfolk
The death has occurred at Crawley. Sussex, of Mrs. J. Rice, widow of the late Mr. John Rice, who passed nway only a few weeks ago. Many ringers who have visibed Grawley have eujoyed the hospitaliky of Mins. Rice, and will join in sympatly with the bereaved family.

THE CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

 STOOKPORT BRANOE.It is the usual practice of ringent, when together, to talk in ringer's jargon, but in one compartment of the 2.10 p.m. Stockport to Wilmslow, on Saturday, June 231 r, it is quite possible that certain ringers were mistaken for gardeners, and if the old adage is correct, eertain critics of the names of some of the Treble Boh Minor methods ought to have suffered from birning ears. After the "fidiler' had done his usual fiddling round the hells, and a course of Oxfotd had lreen rugg, three courses of "Marigold ' (the first) were nicely tapped off.
The church service was conducted by the curate (the Rev. A. H. Fowell, B.A.), wha, in the coture of his short address. Welcomed the members to Wilmslow. Tea was served in the Parish Fall, to which aboul forty members and friends sat down. During the business mepting which followed, witla the branoh olaimman in charge, many items of bianch affairs were discussct. Notice was given of the annual festival, to be held at Hvde on July 28th, and it was also intimated that thosa intending to be present for dinner would have to purchase tickets beforehand, or otherwise make their own arrange. ments.-Five new members were electad and Lower Peover fixed as the place of the next mecting on August 25th, at which members of the Northwich branch are invited to join. -The usual votes of thanks concluded the meeting, after which tho bells were again requisitioned, ca[l changes, Grandsire Doubles, Bo万 Minor and Treble Bob, which incluted choice bits front the "garden,' being rung

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

 SOUTPHMRN DIVISION.The quarterly meeting was held at Wortley, near Pbnistone, on Saturday, Jume 16 fl , when upwards of 30 members and friends attended. The towers represented wers Sheffeld Cathedral ; St, Marieg' All Saints', Ranmoor; Rawmarsl, Hathdworth, Treeton. Arksey, Hoylandswaine and Bolsterstone. At the service at 4.30 the Vicar (the Rev. T. L. Braslinw) officiated, and gave his listeners some very in teresting information concerning the greaf poets and church bells
Tea was provided at a cafo near the olurch. After tea the busi ness meating was helk. Tle minutes of the last meetjing were read and confirmed, and Messrs, J. Frinson, C. Lake (St. Marias') and F Wadsworth, G. Wadsworth, A. Sellars. F. Downing and J. Dronfield of the local company, were elected members of the association. was very pleasing to seg Mr . Dronfield again taking up ringing, F said the roung members of the Wortley band trere so very enthusiastic he could not stay away any longer. Some diselussion took place as to the next quarterly meeting, whiclz, by rule, should be lield in September. lut in view of the assoniation dinner being beld in Shef field in Soptember it was deciderl to defer the meeting until October, and an invitation being forlheoming from Dore it was decided to have the meeting at that place on October 20th. -The Vice-President Mr. F. Willey, gave a brief summary of the committees plans for tho annual dinner, and urgen all who possibly could to attend, remarking in passing that if ringers could come from places as far off as London and Newcasthe, surely those living on the doorstep could make an effort and help to make it a huge success. Votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells were proposed and carried. In replying, the reverend gentieman thanked all the members for their presence, and gave a learty invitation to visit Wortler ans time thew found it convenient.-Mr Wooler also respanded on belalf of the local band. This concluded the business, after which the members indulged in further ringing. The secretary would like to place on record ling hest thanks to Mr. Wooler for so kindly convering him to the car termintus in time to catch his train from Sheffiela.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.  (Continued from faga 395.  CARE AND USE OF BELLS.

Thig Fon. Secrebary presented a draft copy of a proposed card of instructions on the care and use of bells, suitable for hanging tower. This hed been based, upon oards issued by founders, and also upon a set of "instruetions" and a ciroular of "advices, which had heen supplied by the Trev. H. Draike. The paragraples were considered seriatirn, and when the Conncil lad exprassed their triews on cach, the whole was provisionally adopted, and the hon. secrebary asked for instructions as to the printing, which he estimated wowld cose about st.
Mr. I'. H, Beams suggented the printing slanold be deferred until the funds of the Council permitted the "instructions" heing pubtished.
Replying to the Rer M. Kelly, the Librarian said the Council's publication on 'the care and use of church bells, was out of print. The idea of this card was to bring tho matter up to date, and put it into a simple and short form. He proposed that the bon, seccetary be authorised to have the cards printed so fal ag the instrucdions related solely to the care of bells.

Canon Elsee seconded, and it would bceally valuable to have such a card in many beifries, where perhaps no work liad been done to the belle for some time.
The Rov. H. Law James said that in every steeple where there was real live band. the card was not necessary, and where there was not a real live band they might just mes well not liave the card, berase nobody would take any notice of it.
Major Hesse asked if the bell fonmers did not issue a card which covered all the instructions which they had heard upou the mechanical side
The Hon, Secretary: I have taken these justructions from their ards.
Major Hesse: Then is it nobessary to have the card at allp
The President said the founders" cards were only placed in towers where thay lad recently done work. One tower in fifty might have card; the Council wanted to get the card into the other forty-nine Ganon Baker said he knew a tower where they liad a set of 57 rules (langhtor). He asked if the rules were olserped. and was told the ringers never looked at them (langliter). If the 'instructions' read $b_{j} \mathrm{My}$. Young could bo condenfed and boiled down to something short, he thought it migJt be useful, but it would require a great leal of condensation from what they had heard.
The Rev. H. Drake thought they should print the card and cir:ulate it as a sort of missionary propaganda, where bells were not properiy looked after. The reason why it semed so long was betatise two diferent cards were read, and, therefore, a good deal appeared twice aver; when they were boiled down he did not think the card would he found af all long. Since the last meeting of the Council several cases had come before his notice where bells had been clocked, and some destroyed as a vesult. They ought to let people know that that sort of thing was wrong. It onght to be known in every tower in the kingdow, and, therefore, they should make reference to it on the eard. They ouglet also to have a reference to the local association so that people might know to whom to refer when bells needed overheuling, ar when it was proposed to add to them. He was willing to defray the cost of the card if it would go forward in the way suggested (applause).

The proposal to adopt the "instructions' as the basis of a oard for hanging io the belfry wras carried, and the Rew. H. Drake's offer was accepted with thanks.

THE NEXT MEETING.

The next meeting of the Council will be held in London, and it was resolved to apply to the Dean of Westminster for the use of the Terusalem Chamljew at the Abbey.

MULTMETHOD PEALS

Mr. WT. A. Cave called altention to the decision of the Council that peals on oight bells aum over should consist of one method. Last year, he said, there was a peal rung, consisting of Littlo Bob and Plain Bob spliced, and it had been included in line Analysis. He nonkended tlat it should not be recognised by the Council as a peal.
The Rew. H. Low James urged thab the motion lyy flic Rev. ©. $\boldsymbol{D}$. P. Davies, which they had alresdy carried, covened the poiat.

THE RECORD PEAL OF STEDMAN CTNQUES

Mr. C. T. Coles said before the Council separated he thought they should pass a vote of congratulation to the College Youthe upon the masterful performance on the preceding day at Southwark. As ane of the listeners, he could say it was most excelleat. riging, and he flought they could say it was the most wonderful poriormance ever accomplished in Stedman Cinques.
Mr. W. Witlson said he had great pleasure in seconding. He had never heard such striking on twolye bells in luis life. It was a gigantic ntertaking, and commanded the admiration of all men (hear, hear). The motion was carried by acelamation.

The President proposed a vote of thank to the Dean and Chapter for permitting the Council to meet in the Chapler House, and be was sumb le was voicing the wiews of the Council when be said that at 110 place during the last 30 years of their metings had they ever received such a welcome, and had such excellent acrangements made for them as had been made by the Salbbury Diocesan Guild (applause). The remembrance of the drive they had on the previous day, the ringing they had, and the nice fellowship would remain a memory with them all their lives. For these excellent arraugenents they had specially to thank Major D'Aeth, who Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Mr. Hervey Beama and Mr. Stewart.

The motion laving been carried,
Major D'Aeth replied, and said it had been a great privilege to have the meetiags of the Central Council in that beantiful cathedral. He believed it would do a great deal for the arf of ringing in that large and scattered diocses, It would show the clergy, who did not visit them very often, that the church bell ringers were a body of churchmet before they were ringers

Mr. Beams, who also replied, said Mr. Edwards and Major D'Aeth id mosli of the work, $h_{\mathrm{s}}$ (Mr. Beams) had only been the 'ginger.' Ha saw that they did it (laughter)
Tlie Rev, $\mathbf{F}$. Li. Edwards also riphonded, and the meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the president for presiding, proposed by Caman Bakor.

SOCIAL GATHERING

Tho members wene entertained to tca at the Church House by Avchueacou and Mrs. Garpenter, to whom the President propased a cordial vote of thanks.

A party was afterwards conducted round the Cathedral, and later in the evaning a social gathering was held at the Cathedral Hotel, a company of about 70 being present. In addition to being welcomed by the officers of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, their patron, the Earl of Shaftesbury, was also present. The Rev, F, Ll. Edwards, presented the president, thel honorary secretary, and one or two of the leading ringem; to his lordship, who then extended his good wishes and a hearly welcome to the visitors. He said that le feared ho knew lititle of the actual science of ringing, to which consequenily he would not refer, but he knew that many fanous ringers were present, mul he offeren all a hearty wolcome. He pointed out that clrango ringing was both an art and a science, and it was inportapt for good ringing that there should be knowledgo and enthusiasm. Ho felt Niat it was an excellent thing (from many points of view) for lads and young mea to take up, including as it did the rudiments and discipline of good citizenship. He referred to the importance of experienced ringers going from parish to parish to help those affiatod to the fruidd. In reference to their moting in the Chapter House, he said that he felt they must have been deeply imprassed by the beauty of the Cathedral. He hoped ther had all enjoyed their sojourn, and would carry away a lasting and happy impressian of their visit.
Canon Coleridge, in reply, said they had never had extended to them such a wonderful reception as that which they had meb mith at Salisbury. $H_{B}$ referred to the very kind way in which they hat been received at othor meetings in previous years, and particularly to the last meeting in London. when the Dean of Wastminsler received them on the occasion of service at the grave of the Unknown Warrior. Though they had thus in the pasta been received by lifg dignitaries of the darch, never before had thoy been welcamed as hero in Salisbury, whore they found the Dean, the Archueacon of Sarum and the Bishop, who had each addressed words of welcome to the Council that morning. But in addition to the Loords Spiritual. they had that evening the special distinction also of being welcomed by a represents. tive of the Lordif Teraporal. He assured the Earl of Slaftesbury, upon behalf of the 40,000 ringers of England, of whom they hat many of fhe elite present. of their sincere appreciation of his kindnets in coming there to grace by his presence their meeting that evening, and in their mame the thanked him most heartily for welcoming them.
During the evening a course of Grandsire Catere was rung on handbells, and his lordslip. who was found to lave an excellent tenor voice, sang some clarming ballads. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn also gave a humorous song. and in response to a general reauest the president gave one of his humorous tales. The evening will be long remembered by all prosent as a very happy and enjoyable one.

RINGERS FROM IDLE AT KILDWICK

On Satarday, June 16th, the Idle company of ringers, with two frionds and four ringers from Shipley, visited Kildwiak. Arriving at the grand old church at Kildwick about 3.30. It was not long before the bells were up and going to Superlative Surprise. The company were subsequentlp joined by Mr. J. MeKell, of Gargrave, and Mr. Garlick, of Skipton, and the bells weye kept going to the fol lowing methods: Superlative Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Stedman Triples, and 360 Violet Minor. Tlie party desire to take this opportunity of thanking the Ficar of Kildwick for the tase of the belts which are a beautiful peral, also to the loeal company for having evercthing in readiness.

ROWLEY REGIS BELLS.

AN APPEAL.

Dent sir, - take the liberby of appenting through your columas for heip towarts reinstating the peal of belts of the ancient parish of Howley Regis, Staffordrines.

The churd was destroyed by fire in June, 1913, wher go many ather charches wad pablic buildings were being sacrifered in a political campaign of that period.

After lyime in ruins for ten years line church is now being relunit. 'Tha tower has leen buth. as lifgh ig the nave roof, but the Clurch Council being already in debs to the extent of over $£ 2,000$ cannot underinke the completion of the tower and inatalting the bells
A public cftort is being made by the four aaughter clurcles of Blachheath, Oli Hill. Ciralley Heath and Tividale to complete the tower, and also lielp toward the $£ 400$ to relang the bells. Rowley Regis is one of the poorest parishes in the Black Gonntry, where lhere aro practically no judustries.

Tho lotlis, undamaged by fire, were augmonted to eight, in 1887 by Iames Barwel]. The original five were by Matiluew Barlay, of Chalcombe, 1694 . The lenor, 13 ewt., Was reonst in 1848 by Mears, and again in 1881 by Blews.
On bedralf of the pool parishioners, who are yeiruing to hear their bells again, $T$ ask all large-hearted clergy, laty, nut ringers to help. Sulsariplions will he glatly received and duly acknowlerged througli yollr colurniss, atud may bo sont to Ljoyds Bank (Rowley Bells Accombt), Ofrl Hill; Blackheath Bramoh of Lloyds Bank, or to meYours, ebe

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of tive Archdenconty of Wisbects Mranch wat hela on Saturday, Jino 2nd, at Sutfor. Ely. A good mumber of ringers from neighboming towers was present, Finging was indulged in during the afternoan. Service was heid, the Ficar (the Arclsdeacon of Wisheols) offisinting. After welcoming the association, the roverend gentlemen spoke of uses of beils, both religious and eecular. Tho orgatist ant full choir atiented, and the associalion form of service was used. Afterwards a enpilal tea was provided by the Vicar and luty helpers, which was much apprecined by all present,
The business mecting followed, the Archaleacon presidiag. Four finging members were enrolled, and Wilburton was chosen for the mexi, anceting. - A hearty vole of thanks was accorded to line Vican for providing the ka, faking the service, and leading the bells: to the lady helpers; the organist, choir, and the local band, for haying all thingly realy, and making everyono wejeme.

THE WARWICKSHIRE CUILD.

On satutray, June 16tlı a very enjoyable time was spent by about 40 members of the Guild, and soveral trieuds, at the village of Berkswell. They came from Allesley, Chilvers Coton. Coventry, Jx. Ha!l, Namenton, Stake, and the local band. The Rev. G. A. II. Russell, Rector of Whithash, whe also present.
this amual gathering at the Rectory, by the kind invitation of the presidond and Mrs. Back, is Always loaket forward to with pleasure.
The tower whs open for ringing at 3 p.m., and at 4 o'clock teat was providet in tho laectory.
The Archdeacon of Warwick, in a few well-chosen words, weleomed the Cruild to Berkswell once again, and said il was a pleasure both to limenff and Mrs. Back to sed so mary present. It was a function thoy both looked forward to year by year.
In the course of his remarks, be said ho [elt sure the Guild was progressing ; the typo of ringers to-day reachod a much highes s!nudard than a fow yours ago, and were laking their proper places He churelk workers. He would like to see more of the clergy interest thonmelves in the ringers, and attend the meetings when held in their district. The hoped some day to see a peal of oight at Berkswell.
Mr, IL. Argylo, senr-, proposerl a licarty rote of thanks to the Arohileacon aud Mis. Jinck for theiv kiud Jospitality. He hoped, would be Mr, and Mrs. Back's pleasure to invile them to Berswell for many yeas to come.-Mrs. Back laving suilably replied. the proposition was carried with acclamation. Several members availed them selves of a visit to the park, where a fete was being lield, others adjournod again to the chatrel for move ringing. The melhods rung during the aiternoon and evening included Gramdsire and Stedman Douhles, Oxford and Kiplt. Treble Bob, College Single. Cambridge and Irondon Surprize.

Tho falling of the bells in peal bronght the ringing in the tower to a close, after which tho handbells were brought into uso and some excellent touches hronghil round.

CHELTENHAM AND DISTRICT BRANCH

The summer meebing of the above hranch was held at Winchcombe on Saturday, the 16 th inst. The bells (a ring of six) were etarted going at thice oclock.

COLLEGE YOUTHS AND CUMBERLANDS IN KENT

On Saturday, June 16th, members of the Ancient Society of Col lege Youths and the Royal Cumberland Society rosumed the friendly rivalry initiated by Mr F. M. Mitclatl of the former. and Clr.-Gergt. J. Benuett, of the latter society: On the previous occasion peals were arranged to he attempted in Fent at Northfeet and Swnis combe, rapegtively, the methods to he Double Norwioh and Stedman Triples, and bobh peals were suecessfully rung, and it was agreed that the methods and towers be reversed at some future daie.
above date was chosen for the regathering, and the societiats met arranged. the-College Yanths af Northfleet to attempt Donble wich, and the Cumberlands at Swanscombe for Stednan Triples, and both bands were rgain suecessful, as will bel seen in another column. Tom Groombridge, jumr', calling ' that's all' to Double Norwich after 2.53 and J. H. Cheesmal likowise to Stedman after 2.47. The ringers met at Northfect after the peals. The handbells were brouglit into nse, and Grandsire Ciuques, Stedman Caters and Triples and Bob Major were rung by mixed bands, neither society claiming any appreciabled superiority in peal ringing, handbell;, etc. - Mr. Percy Clark, on behalf of the College Youllis, congradulated the CumberIands on their success, and said le was pleased to see the whole tho ringers that day were memberg of the Kant Association, with one exception, and commenter on the excellent spirit that was shown, and hoped that further meelings conifd be arranged. He was pleased to note thad tho Cumberlands had the same band that was in the prevous pelal, and wras sonly the Gollege Fonths, for various reasons, were not able to muster the same hub a representatipe hand had been got together. - Cro.sergt. J. Jomuett, in true Royal Marine faslion, responded on behalf of the Cumberlands, and reciprocated the kind remarks of his Jafe fellow. Sergt. Clark.

MULTI-METHOD PEALS.
Among the subjects debated by the Central Council was that of multi-method peals on eight bells and over, and we do not think anyone is likely to quarrel with the decision that, when a peal is rung in more than one method, there must be no repetition of changes. It was to ensure this that the Rev. C. D. P. Davies moved the resolution which was carried, thus amplifying the existing rule regarding true peals which was framed in the days before method-splicing was seriously thought of. The motion, as was made clear in the mover's spech, was prompted by the fact that there had been in contemplation the ringing of four quarter peals in four Surprise methods, linked together by a row of rounds between each. Such a performance would be unique, but we do not think it would present any difficulties to an experienced Surprise company, and it is as well that the Council should have settled the question as to its qualification to be connted as a "peal before it has been rung, instead of waiting until a claim had been made

Peal ringing has reached such a stage in these days that any step which will add increased merit to a performance deserves encourasement, and just as multimethod peals on six-bells are to be desired in preference to seven extents in one or even seven mathods, so we look forward to seeing on eight hells and upwards frequent peals in which numerous methods are combined. At the moment there are difficulties in regard to the composition of peals of this character in the Surprise methods, simply because the latter are, for the present, very limited in number, but in due time we may hope te. have available a collection similar to the Minor methods, and it is probable that there will then be as much scope for spliced peals on eight belis as there is at present on six

Nothing should be done to discourage investigation. and advance in this direction, although a suggestion at the close of the Council's meeting, that a peal rung in two Major methods should not be recognised, rather points to a feeling that not all ringers favour peals upon fin principle. What the objection to spliced method peals can be we are at a loss to understand. On six bells they are eminently to be preferred to, say, a peal in fourteen methods coming into rounds at the end of each 360 , and no one can deny that the introduction of a number of methods into one true extent adds infinitely to the difficulty and to the interest of the ringing. While there can be no question of admitting a repetition of rounds or any other change in a peal on eight belis, the same features of difficulty and interest are introduced by splicing on the higher numbers, and when we come to the limit of intricacy in one-method peals, we ought to we!come any other legitimate manner of widening the scope.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

CONTMST" AT 百AJIFAX.

In connection with the above Association, an eight bell cantast of 672 changer, any methorl, was held at the Falifax Parish Church tower on Salurday, Jume 9th, by the kind permission of the Vicar (Bislop Frodslian) and ohurcliwardens. The following companieg look part, and the whole of them rung Kont Trehle Bob Major: No. 1. Mitfiel : No. 2, Birstall; No. 3. Balley; No. 4, Earkleaton; No. 5, Lightelifto Perish. Ringing commenced atout three o'elock, and the lasti set. finished about seren o'clack. Tea was provided in tha Schools. Later in the evening the annual meeting was held. The following officials were selected for the next twelve months: Presiseut. Mr, J. Haricastle (Bradford); wicepresidents, Messrs. J. H. Hardy, W. Frith. J. Lewson and J. E. Carter; treasurer, Mr. F. Salmons (Halifax); gevetary, Mr. L. Hargreaves (Halifax); trusteb, Mr. J. Liwsan (Lighteliffe),- hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Ficar aislop Frodsham, and clurchwarders, for allowing the association the use of the bells, and for being present at the meetr ing.-Proposed by Mr. J. Lawson, seconded by Mr. J. Cotterell, Hishop Frodshan, in weplying, expressed him pleasure at seeing such an excelfenf, gathering, which numbered about eiglity. It was a long time since a contast was held at JIalifar, but he hoped it would wat be so wery long before they would pay another visit to Halifax. He seid it, was in the 'Church Demair' that on the first of April, 1891, Samuel Smith, bell fonnder, cast, the Falifax bell called : Stancliffe,' in his own louse ab York. It weighed 22 ewt 1 qr. 17 ib., and ho said jt was no mean cffot to ring such bells. The art of bell ringing had several different versions by legal men, but in his opinion the ringing of bells each told its own story, and quoted the follow-ing:-

\begin{aligned}
& \text { Men's death I lolt, } \\
& \text { By doleful hnell. } \\
& \text { ' Lightning and Thunder, } \\
& \text { I break asunder. } \\
& \text { Ot Sabbath all. } \\
& \text { To Church I call, } \\
& \text { The slepy head. } \\
& \text { T raise from bed. } \\
& \text { The musick so fierce } \\
& \text { I do disperse, } \\
& \text { Man's cruel rage } \\
& \text { I do assuage. }
\end{aligned}

The Halifnx tower was finished 1470 , and had taken fwenty yenrs to build the clurch. The oldast bell was put in in 1472, and reoast 1639. The bell, which was known as the " priest hell," was callod such. becase it rings five minutes before the service begins. just to maril the priest that it is time to put on liks surplice. In Viear Ashburn's time it was lent to a Brenrby Church, but whe fetched baek 40 or 60 years later about 1626.
The judges, consisting of Mr. J Braadley (Bradford), Mr. D. R. Smith (Halifax), aged 76, wit) Mr. O. D. Carmagton (Halifax), marker. gave tlieir decision as follows:-

No. 1, 436 faults, 10 pemalties, total 446.
No. 2, Mang out,
No. 3. 227 fiults, 10 penalties total 237
No. 4, 248 faults, 10 peralties, total 247.
No. 5.290 faults, 0 penallies, total 290
The No. 3 company, Batley, were declared winners and Bishop Frodsham presented the cup to Mr. Soholey, the conductor, who, in replying, said it was the first time they liad tried at an eight beil confelt since they had their new peal put in. - Mr. Nightingale (churehwarden) spote of the very enjorahie timo he had spent among the ringers.-A vote of thanks to judges anil chairman closed a vers anceessful meating.

REV. F. J. O. HELMORE HONOURED.

TABLET IN CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL BELARY
An interesting little ceremony took place in the belfry of Canterbury Cathedral on a recenf ovening, when the Rer. Canon 3. G. Gardiner unveiled a haudsome marble tablet placed there by the Dean and Chapter in honour of the 200th peal of the Rev. L. J. O. Helmore, Pracentor of the Cathedral, and for thirty-eight yoans president of the Gathedral 73and of Ringerts, and who is also treasurer and secretary of the Kent Association.
Canon Gardiner remarked that owing to the absence of the Dean and Vico-Dean it becamo his gaod fortume to be allowed to un viil that tablet. Haring been for a good many years now in Holy Orders, le had met many bands of ringers in different parls of the country, and had learned to respect higlaly the servicos which they rendered to the churches. Ringing was not so fashion$\mathrm{abl}_{0}$ as it once was, but he was confident that the services which ringers rendered, almost wholly without fee or reward. reflected the greatest credit on their loyalty to what might be delicribed as their great craft, their loyalty to the chareh, and loyalty to the purpose for which the bells were wung. For that renson it sas a great privilege for him to be there. but; there was a more persopal side. Those of them who knew the belfry far better than he did knew how much they were indebted to Mr. Helmors for Whe very great services he liad rendered. Since Mr." Helmare frak botame asjoniated with ringing in that Cathodral in 1882 he fad given of his best, and had succeeded not only in maintaining a high reputation in the eraftsmanslip of ringing, but in Eeepiag before their minds and the minds of others who associated with him the purpose for which bell ringing existed. Fis mamo was known not only throughout the diocese, but whrough Fagland wherever ringers congregated, and that tablet would perpetuate for all time the memory of hes serrices as a bell ringer. In some respects, however, Mr. Helmore was only $a$ child af tho steeple, as Ite understood theres was one there who had rung in the Now Year for fifty-one years on that peal of bells. Canon Gardiner then, on belalf of the Dear and Chapter, unvailed the tablet plased there as a tribute and in apprecialion of the long services Mr. Felmore had reudered.
Mr. Felnore anid he felt his words would be very inadequate to express lis feelings to the Dean and Cluspter for the very unusual way in which they had shown their appreciation of his longcontinued but lumble services. Te began there in 1892, and rang his first peal in 1894. Since then the number had gradually incieajed, and he would have oompleted lis 200 th peal in 1914 or 1915 but for the war. After the war he sef out to complete lis 200, and told his frients that would be the extent of his ringing. but he had not been a man of his word (laughter). and had gone boyoud that already, and he hoped, if spared in health and strength, perlaps to go on towards 220 . He thought that tablet was not only a great compliment to himself persomally, but also to their company, and he thought they ought to render the Dean and Chapter due thanks for the notice thoy had taken of them ringer could do nothing of himself, he mast lave the rest of mulual self-help and co-operation. In condusion. Mrr. Helmore mantioned that they hoped withim the next month or two to haver the two additional bells (making a peal of twelre) as a memorial to those of their Association who had fallen in the war.
Canan Gardiner then rean the tablet, which hears the following inseription

Kent County Assaciation of Glange Ringeng
On February 3 rd, 1923, in 3 houns 25 minutas, a Heal of Sterl man Caters, 5,031 changes, wais rung in this tower by the following members of the Cathedral Company: Whalter H. Audrews tweble Henry G. ## WINDSOR RINGERS' PICNTC.

The ringer's of the Parish Churcl, Windsor, har a most enjoyahle anual outing on Saturday. May zoin, whien the party, nccompanied hy the Vicar the Rev. C. H. Hamilton), If. Churehwaruen Burns, of the Parish Church; Mr. Churehwarden Foremant, of Salnts Churen and the verger ( $M$ r. Poador), went for a charabane tolll. The ringer assembled at $7.30 \mathrm{n} . \mathrm{m}$. to ring in hohour of Her Majesty he Queant bifthday. and after two exeellent houchics, conducted by Messyt. Stil well and Earman! a start was made by charabanc for Henloy throug? he lovely scenery via where some excellent touches of Glandifire journed to the chu Bob were rung, whilst the Vicar and church-start was then mader for Wallington, where the parts was met by The Rector and steepleksener, the former showing the yisitors oven The fine old churel. Snme execlicint ringing took place, and after wpressing thanks to the Reclor a start was mnde for Dorqiester, where the party were met ly Mry. William Huti:on, steeplekeeper, and some exellent ringing took place upon what is probably one of the finlest kinaly most histoytic penls in the country. Afterwards Mr. Hufson churgh. The Albley is well worth in wisit, it dates from the very arly ages alithough in a wonderful state of preservation, the dafe of the Ahbey foundation losing 1140 -parts of it probably existed eveln hefore this date. The stainerl glass windows and frescob: are very henuififul. as is also some old stonework, dug up in the unightortrioot and placed on gxhlibition. Three stone monuments believed to dała from the reiga of Ealward I. are also worthr of note: laty oue ileplores that these beautiful figures are mutiated hy visitors carving their names on them, truly doing danage in there educated times to ilie steeplekeeper, having providerl an excellent meal. At Beison lihe bells were found to he very noisy, the ringing chanber heing just underneath them. However, some very good touches were broughit roumd, although the conductor hatl to assuine the vocal powery of drill sergeant to make himself heari. After a wayside lialt for lea, Newbury was made the last point of call. Here the party, much to their surprise, wel's met hy the Rev. Deacon, who was at one time curate at Windsor. Mr Quinton and other ringers al Newhury weres In the tower. and exerilent toucles of Granabire, Oxford Bob, Steir man. elc... wete staccessfilit brought round, and amid hearty wishes siart wra made for home. Eut a halt was made by the ronuside for

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

MTCTING AT BARLBOROUGH.

The members of the NorLh Notts Association held a meeting Barlborongh, and fise proceedings were of an exeeptionally interesting charmeter.
Ringerg vere prosent from Anston, Frkington, Killamarbl, Trecton, Harthill, Shiccoaks, Norton Guckney, West Retford. Ordsall and Worksop, along with a full muster of the local company, bringing the total up to 40.
Some good singing was done on the fine peal of six bells put in by Trylor's in 1914. Service was held in the Parish Church, and an address was given by the Rector the Rev. J. D. Grifitlas) based on the words, $O$ magnify the Lard with me; let us exalt His name togettier.' The hyming, "O God, our help in agcs past, and "Ye servants of the Lord. were sung, with accompaniment on a sweettased peal of handbells by the Barlborough ringers, who also gave farther selections in the divurin Insliftute, which were much appreciatect.
Tear war proyided by the lady workers, and was presided over by the Rector*-At the businers meeting which followed, E. Dalingwater and J. Dixon, of Gainshorougl, were elected non-residont life membems, and Messrs. J. Wison and F. Shimman and Miss Emie Bunting, of Barlborough, as efficicut members.
The rext meeting wili bs held at Sutwon-on-Trent on August Bank Holiday, when fino weatior and a wood attemcance is desired Votes of thanks were proposed by the Hon. Sec. (Mr. H. Haigh), and seconded by T. Hargreaves, to the Rector for the use of the balls. for presiding aver the tea and meating, and also for bis admirable address in church: allo to the lady workere for providing suoh an gxoellent tea, and the Barlborough ringers for the excellent arrangements mado tor the wefare and happinesg of the ringers, and their selections on the lanudbells.
The Rector briefty replied. He had very little knowledge of the art of bell ringing, zud he had often wondered why the bell ringers at Sonthwank Cathedral locked thernselvg up for nearly twalpe hours in the belfiry on suelı on beautiful day as Whit Monday. But ha wandored molager now lue had berome enlightened a bit, and if all their atiterapts at new methorls and long peals were successful the first fine, their interest would wane. Fe realised that it was an important branch of ehurch work that always kepe them interested, and wonld do so until tha end of time.
The following methods were rung during the alternoon ant even ing: Plain Boly, Sandall, Oxford, Kent, Violet, Duke of York, Killa-Galsit, London abid Cambridge Shrprise, The conducting was done by tho junior "G.T.' of Anston. He rang his bell in London and Cambridge Surptive viry cleverly indeed.

DISPUTED PEAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,-In reference to the peal of Bohs Hinor rung af Tiney All Sainls, on May 23 ra , this was false. In the first 720 a hol was missed. and the hells were brought jomal, after ringing only 604 changes, and then went on for the second 720 . As you will rememher, it was the aamo 720 repdafed, bus instead of reposting it seven times they finished up with repeating it only six tives. They may well say it was the quickest peal on the helle. The fenol was recarded as 17 owt., but it is 22, ewt. With a drafi of 75 ft , the quickest pall rung on the bells so far is 3 hos. 6 minutes, hul it looks as though the weight Wats out down to accord with the time. The tonor is in $F$ sharp, and not in E fat as stated. Fotirs truly, WM, ROSE.

LONDON'S THREATENED CHURCHES.

To the Editor.

Deal Sir, I hare read with keen appreciation your apposite remarks on the use made of that artifice jn debate known as 'the previous question' to dispose of the resolation against the demolition of Wren's Churches. Permit me to add a fow words on the subject
First let it be ssid that the proposer and seconder of 'the previous question" at Salisbury were lioth gentlemen well known to me, and for whom personally I beve the highest regard. Their point of riew T can quite mell understand-that the Central Council meets purely and simply to deal with matters affecting the interesto of ringers, and consequently anytbing outside that category is ipso facto outside the Council's province. If I had had the opportunity of replying to oh jections, $\bar{I}$ could have cited instances, in wlich the Council has on previous occasions passed resolutions on matterg of public interest, so thint it would have constituted no violation of any established prin cipie to do so in this case. As it was, the form of procedure adopter deprived me of such opportunity. As Jou rightly observe, sir. "the previous question' is a poor way of gatting rid of any matter, and as it transpired in the course of procedings that neither our esteemed president nor that distinguished luminary of the legal world, whose presence graces our assembly, could explain what the said "previous question really means, it will be all to the good, if in future this practice bs recognised by tacit, consent sa discredited device for ' hit. ting below the belt,
Fo turn for a monent to the subject of the resolution. many argu ments could-and would-have been adduced in suppert of it hoth by me and by others. Suffice ill for the present purpose to state two concrete facts. The list of city churches threatened with dentruation -and desecration of the sites-containg two names well known to ringers. One is St. Dunstan's-in-the-Easi-a thoroughly " live " and well ordered Parish Charch, with a stately tower and eight magnificent bells. The otleer is St. Magnus-a churcls almost perpetually used for private worship, and often filled not once a week, bul: on three or four days in the week, prith a devout congregation. At it recent festival a lindied people or more were unable to find standing room half an hour before the service. The church rises as a monument of grace and dignity in one of the mont squalid parts of Londan. From its tower the Angelus rings out thrice daily, and ringers are heartily welcome to the use of its ten bells.
If churohes such as these were ever demolished for the commercial value of their sitek, it would he an act of sacrilerious infany without parallel since the deps of Cromwell.- Yours truly.
F. L]. EDWARDS

OLDHAM'S BELLS.

BIG PEAL IN A SMALL TOWER

Great interest was taken in the reopening last Saturday of the peal of bwelve at Oldham. Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughiorough, flave yecast the whole peal the new tenor being just over 35 cwt , compared with the 32 ont, of the former bell,
The peal has been hung in entirely new fittings of the latest type in a new strong ancl massive iron framework. specially designed and constructed to suit the peculierities of the tower, which is very smal] to carry such a large peal of bells, the internal dimensions of the hel] clamber being approximately izft. square.
The bodls are fof beatififul tone, and the large number of ringers from Lancashire and Yorkmhire who were present at last Saturdsy's gathering were delighted with Oldham's new possession. Messrs. Taylor and Co. have provided a magnificent peal.

SAFFRON WALDEN TERCENTENARY.

The unique history of the Saffiron Walden Ringing Society, which is probnbly the oldest ringing organisation extant, renched a memorable milestone on Wednesday of last week, when the three hundredth annivensary of its foundation was celebrated.
Throughout all this lang perion there has been a' ringing day and an anmunl sermon preacher, to commemorate the deliverance of one of Saffron Watien's townsmen, who, being last, in the forest, was guided to safety by the sound of the hedls. He left a sum of money for the commemoralion, and at last Wedncaday's ovent the ringers and visitors. Who aftended in large numbers. were entertained to tea ly the Mayor and Corporation, while the townsfolk at large enterent into the spirit of tire colebration.

DONCASTER © DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

A suceessiul meeting of the Doneaster and District Society was helri at Faxey last Saturdar. Memhers were presemt from Arkser, Alwick-le-Street, Doncaster. Thorne, Hatfielt. Treeton, Gainshorough ancl Refford. Touchear of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. Plain Bol, Kent and Oxfard Treble Bob. were rung on the beautiful toned peal of six bells, with tenor of 28 cwt . The visitors found the bells yery diffinlt to ring at first, hut all went well when they had got Heed to the ropet:
A short service was conducted by the Vicar of Haxey (the Rev. W. H. Streppard)

Al the business meeting, which was held in the vestry, it was de ailed to hold the next meeting at Rawmarsh.
A resolution was carried expressing regret that it had biem fount necessary to stop all ringing on the hells of St. Marg's. Tiekhitt.
Tea was partaken of in the Schoolroam, and afterwards Grandsire Triples mere rung on the lisndbells. Many of the visitors accepted the Vicaris kind invitation to look round his grounds and to inspect his pollection of old relies, efc.

LOCAL PEALS.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir--I do not agree with * Eeen Smiling's ' definition of the word 'local.' To be strictly accurate, the locna is born, not madue, but there is no credit in boasting of one's birtluplace, since no mat can control his origin. Everyone knows what is meant by a village local. yclept 'yokel,' who. far from the madding crowd, pursues thic noiselcss tenor of his way, hut wheu we come to large towns and cilies, the word takes on a wider meaning. It is not confined to barough or parislt boundaries. If it were otherwise, then few mayors and aldermen of our cities would be local mens bat he would he a hold man who asserted that they were not! Not everyone can live within a कorongh boundary, and in its wider range. a 'local" is a resident in the locality.
In the peal of Superlative rung at St. Jolurs, Leicester, seren of the band were living well within the boundary. The eighth had settled in Leiester, and han lived in lodging: in the city for some time. Unable to rent a house, he bought one, ten minutes walk from the tram terminus. He attached himself to St. John's Church. amd rang there regularly. Query for "Keep Smiling ' If ha or I bake a house similarly, shall we cease to be local men? I think not
If a man works within tle boundary and sleep: outside it-or vice versa, or of two men (botl from elsewnerc); is the one fortunate enougli to obtain a house within the boundary more entitiod to locus slandi than the other (unfortunate) one?
What credit is there anyway P There is credit to a band ringing their first intricate peal unassisted
The letter part of your correspondent's letiter: ' Whar don't they gef. together and do it?' I am unable to answer. having heen at all time: willing to co-oparate: but I presume the reason is because 'they' have not been asked, and since the M.C.A. reporth= show that not a single Surprise peal except that under discussion, has heen rung unassisted either in or out of the city, that fact tells its own atory Moreaver, I doubt whether it would be a good thing to ring all the bells in a city at one time except for some purblic reason. As T grow older I see two sides to the question, sad am under the inmpretsion that much as we love change ringing: we can ride our hobby to death, and peal ringing that becomes too conmon loses its charm and its value.-Tours truly, 1 . WTLLSON.
P.S.-In my orevious letter the word " tower chould have read

Dear Sir,-I am not aware who rour informant is who raised the dispute re the first Surprise peal rung by a local band in Leicester. The iden of mait ringers is that a local bancl melans actual residente of the place where the peal was rung. If the surrounding rillages contribute towards the band, where do we stop? A local Lejcester band could he made to iuelude ringers from Melton Mowbray, Market Harbora' etc. Recently a peal of "Princess Mary "was rung at St. Martin's by nine residents, and one member from ouflide the city area. Although this one member is a regular Sunday Service ringer at St. Martin's the peal was not and conld not be cluimed as heine rung by an entirely local band. The same applies to Mr. Tillson's claim. The other claimant for the honours waz so very sure, that he has empluasised his claim in large capitals. then most modestly clawled under a nom-de-plume- The fact still remains that the firsi Surprise peal by a resident band of Leiediter ringerg in the City of Leicester las yet to be rung.-Yours tuly. F. H. DEXTEKR.

Lacumitis, writes: Surely in the case of a cils, "local - can only mean residents in the parisil to which the church belongs. The fact that a ringet does all hits ringing in Leicester does not make him a Leicester ringer any more than the man selling Spanish onions is a Spaniard. So far as my knowledge goas there has been no peal of Surprise Major or Royal by a Leieester band. Certainly St. Jolm's claim comes an near as any, but it is uot quite sufficient.

REOPENING AT WIGMORE, HEREFORDSHIRE.

The bells of St. James' Church. Wigmore, after being silent for up wards of 20 years, were reopened on June 21st.
The bellis are a musical peal of six (tenor 9 cwet. in A fiat), cast by Rundall in 1721. The 5th was recast by Taylor in 1889. The work of re. storation has been mont ably carriet out by Mr. A Bowell, of Ipswich, who fittert new wheels, bearings, headstocks, and strengthened the frame. The service whis attended by a large congregation. The opening ceremony was performed by the Rear. Preb. S. Cornish Watkins, Rural Dean, and the bells were ring for a minute by ringers representing six towers in the Guild. The Rural Dean preached a most appropriate sermon, in the course of which he paid a warm tribute to the influence of the Heraford Diocdian Guild of Ringers. After the service, a supper was served to the clergy, ringers and choir.-The Rural Dean, on behalf of the clergy and ringers, thanked those who had provided the supper. - The Vicar responded on behala of his peoplo, by thanking those wha hat faken part in the service.

Bridgeman's works were well repaid- the specimens of carwing, both in wood and stonc, being axquisite. The belle of St. Mary's (8) and St Michael's (6) were made good use of until tea-time. At the general meating which followed, protests were made at not being able to ring on hine bells of the Cathedral. The Chairman (the Rev. Canon Penry) imlimated that if it was their wish to pass a vote of censure on the Dean and Chapter; he, his one of that distinguished bods. weuld vacate the ehair, as he felt that he could not remain in flat capacity under flie circumstances. Thy Rev. C. H. Barker (elevical searelbary) advised that discretion should be used rather than a drastic resolution. "That wo proceed to the next businesz. was moved, and seconded, and upon a rote boing taken was garried by a atrong majority. The balance sheot was read and pissed and ordered to bei printed, together with the riport. The offieers were re-elected with the exreption that what $J$. Evans take the places of $A$ Law and D. J. Tyler as nuditors, and T. J. Elton in the place of W. Fisher as representative at tho Central Council. The following places were chosetn for the coming meetings: Cannock in September, Tood Green in January. Tipton in April, and Lichfield (amual) an June. Several uew members were elected,

A vote of thanks to the chairman conciuded the businesk

EALING RINGERS' EXCURSION

The ringers of St. Mary's Parish Church, Faling, together few triends. held their second annual outing on whit Monday. Hand bell ringing was indulged in en toute, and the party commenced their progriame at St. Mary's, Slough, in good spirits. The mothods rung hero and the two ofiet towers visited tore Grandsire and Stedman Triplea, Plain Bob, Kent and Double Norwich Court Bob Hajor. An exceltent luncla was partaken of at Messm. Jitlstone's. An hour's ringing at St. John's, Windsor, was greatly enjoved, and the party then dispersed for a while, roaming over the castle and town. Messrs. Lidibtone's was again risired to dispose of an appetisiug tee. pleasant motor journey to Burnhan was accomplished, and the tower of St. Peter visited. The "bus, returned all too quickly, and the prelty little village reluctantly left. The train journey from Slough to Ealing was as jolly as a rajl journcy could be, and when 19 peoplo (!) travel in one compartment, some fun could be expectert. Thanks are die to the local finger for so kindly arranging things and rasisting in the general ringing.

THREE HUNDRED YEARS.

The ringing festival at Saffron Walden was an event of unique interest in the annals of ringing. The tercentevary of any Society is a historic occasion, and no ringing organisation has previously had the opportunity of celebrating a record of three hundred years of continuous existence. Therefore there is cause for special congratulation. Bells there were and ringers there were, for hundreds of years before 1623 , but the foundations of the Saffron Walden Society were laid before the days of change-ringing as we now know it. The society came into existence eight years before Fabyan Stedman was born at Cambridge, and fourteen years before the College Youths were established, and its history is authenticated by the curious bequest which has perpetuated the 'annual ringing day.' Thomas Turner, who owed his deliverance to the bells of Saffron Walden, did greater service than he knew, when he showed his gratitude by bequeathing a sum of money for an annual sermon to the ringers and the ringing of the bells. He was the means of building up a society which has not only kept his memory green, but which, in turn, has played its part in the building up of the Exercise.

Saffron Walden was one of the first among provincial towers to adopt scientifc change-ringing, and from time to time the society has been among the foremost exponents of the art. In confirmation of this we have only to turn to the fact that Holt's Original was rung there in the year 1753, conducted by one of the ringers taking part-a feat which stands as almost, if not quite, the first on record in regard to this peal. Coming to later days, we associate with Saffron Walden the great family of the Pitstows. Fred-and ringers thus speak of bim affectionately-is stili the Ringing Master, after 65 years' connection with the belfry; and who, among the older generation of ringers to-day, does not recall the genius of his gifted brother Nathan, one of the greatest composers the Exercise has known, and one of the gentlest and most modest of men? Another composer, whose association with the tower goes back for half a century, is J. F. Penning, who in b's day has readered great service in the field in which he worked.

We recall these facts so that Saffron Walden's contribution to the art of ringing shall not be lost sight of in the brighter glare in which, at the moment, the Society is now basking. The three hundredth milestone is an interesting epoch in the onward march of any organisation, but the part that the Society has played in the progress of events is of more importance. For a provincial tower, Saffon Walden, largely by the men it has produced, has left its mark more deeply than most, and the Exercise will hope, [^40]with the Vicar of this fine old Essex parish, that there may be no risk of any falling off in the future. There are always difficulties in infusing young blood into country bands, but the tradition of Saffron Walden demands that the Society shall be handed on to future generations in a condition not less vigorous than it has come down to us.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD,

DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE

The ancient cily of Winclester was on saturday the meoling-place of members of the Dioccians Cuild for their ammal restival, and the ervent, was memorable from the fact that: the Bistop took a shnre in the proccelings. Sonuthing like eighty ringers were present, reprosenting many towers in this widespread diocese, Surrey and Isle presening many wifit beltries contriluting itheir quota, as well as the Hampshire lirunclies. The Cafthedral, nomw in posiession of at rimg of twelve hieils, was the eentre of attraction to the visitors as they arrived, nat many of the menilbers lhad thowir first pull on this number. The business ineeting was loold in the Oddfellows' Hall, and was well at. (marled. The Rev. C. E. Mathews (vice-president) oecupied thes sfair, and was supported by Mr. G. ## diocesan divjeion.

The Clinirman said the conmmitlee find that mornine disctisser at Iensill the proposect division of the Diocess. and its cffect ubpon itre finili, nutl the committre carmo to the conclision that the best course to purssie wns to tiold at sperial merting whin the result of the delilorertion in the National Assembly in the foliowing wrek, was known. As the members were aware, the National Assemble would deceile the inater one wav or the other. and a Bill would then go through Parlianent to make the schome legal. The committe thought it would be premature to discuss any question of the yos sible division of the Guile until they know exaotly what, the division of the diocese was going to ise. Personally he would be very soir to see thie Guild split nip, tuit if the dionese should be divided int thres, it was for ringers in each of the new dioceses to say what they would like. If the ringers in at new Guidford diocese weye to wisil to havg a diacesan guild of their own, there would be notling to stop them from laving it. The same would be true of a new diocesc Portsmouth and the Isle of Wight, but the committee felt that decision sloould be arrived at until the various districts had been sounden as to their wishes, and untill thiey knew exactly what was going to happen. Whon they knew how matiters stood they woulla call a meeting of the committee to go into the whole nurestion
Mr. W. Andrews (Winclester) said the ringens in Hampslire very mueh regret losing alyy parti of the present menbeership of thr Guild. The wisit of Surtcy men was alwnys looked fonyard to, nud they would feel their loss very muah. He hopedi if the diocese divided, that: it wouk the possible to carry on the Guikl as it was at present. He thought an division would nat makn, for effeiency, but rather the reverse, and he shonlal possonally very much regret old associations were broken. The Glaucester and Bristol Diocesal Association ladd contimust, in spite of the division of the dicerrst with very satisfactorv resalts, and he snw no reason why their ow Guild slould be divided, even if the division of the diocese took place (applaniso).
Mr. J. J. Jones (Guildforcl) said Surrov members would fael severance as mucir as, and probably more than. Hampshire members heeause they would miss the granth old Cathedral and the hearty wel romo they met in Winchester. But if they diad form a separal Guitd he was sure by far the ereater portion of the present Surre members would remain as a compomeling members ' of the win cllester: Guild, and would come to their meetines whenever possilhl (anplause).
Mr. W. T. Thecker (North1 Staneham) said Portsmouth districh hat passer? a resolution that in the event of a division of the diocese the recommended that the Grill be callen fhe Winchester. Gnildiord an Porsmouth Diocosan (Grith, and contimue the same as before with different name (hear, heart)

On saturduy, Jule $16 \mathrm{H}_{4}$ the ringers of St, Peter's Churelh, Irthling horough, with friends from Finedon and Wolluston (all ringers) leld their first but wery sucessfin whole day's outing, visiting five churches in Bedfardshire.
A starli was made from Irthlinglorontit at eight o'clock, and after a good run of about thirty-two miles, the first slop was made at Barton-in-the-Clay. The bellg were pulled up, and a course of Kent Treble Job rung. After a good touch of Double Norwich, a caurse of London Surprise was thouglit to be the first in the method on the bells. Mr. Kendall, a local ringer. took purt in a short bouch of Stedman Triples, and the bells werg then lowered in peni. Tha Ficar very kindy prowided light refreshmentz.
Laton wis reached about 12 o'ciock. Several of the local banel weloomed us. Stedman and Double Norwich were rung on the fine peal of eight, but Loudon Suprise wouldn"t go at ull, and after two attempts the bells were lowered. A& Dunstable luncheon was served. Wr. A. Slamman, secretary of the Bedfordshire ringers, joined the parly. Dumstable has a heautiful church, and contains a fine pea of eight bells, renov weighing about 26 owt, and those frying this belf thoughy it, the best, considaring tho metal, that they had everhanded. $A t$ all five of the belfries there were several ringers to wel come and assist the company. Doublo Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Saperlative Surprise were rung. London Surprice unfortunately cane in grief in the hast lead. The Rev, Canon BuFor was thanked for the uge of the bells, attr the ringerg for their assistames.
1 pleasant time wrs spent at Woburn with several local men. The church jo $n$ fine new building. The ring of eiglit bells were taken from the old tower and hang in the now one after boing recast, and are a very musical peal. Several methorls weite rung, including London and Cambridge Surprise. After tea, arranged by one or two of the local ringers, the handbells were brought into use
Newport Pagnell was the noxt place. Half an lourts good ringing Thas enjoyed an tho peal of elglit, a well-struck course of Canbridge Surprigo fintining to good day's rivging.
Aiter a long slop at Ohes, Irthliughorougls was reached ahout 12 oclock. Alt agrecd that the first ouling was a luge success.-Thanks nere rocomied ta all the clergy [ou the wso of their bells, the ringers Who so kindly welcomed and assisterl at the various towers, and Nr. ## THE DISPUTED PEAL.

To the Editor.

Denr Sit-Being one of the ringers in the peal of Bob Minor at Tiney All Saints I coniradict the remarks made by Mr. W. Rosn in his lofter published in "The Ringing World * of July 6uls. I am not quite an infant in the art of ringing, and slould know if a peal were falso. The first, 720 ( 9 bobs and 6 singles) was perfectly torwet, as were also the following six (one with 22 singles and fivo with 18 hohs and 2 singles from the fenor).
Mr. Rose mentions they were called alike; therefore, if lie says a. hoh wns missen in the first, how was in he did not know the second was a rlifferent calling? Tho answer is that lie kiows very litule about ringing. Tlie tenor is 45 ins ( 17 cwt , approximabely in E fath) Mr. Rose is wrong in daiming it. to be 224 ewt - Yours truly,

FRED C. WIGMORE
Mr. Hony Price aski Mr. Rose to say what the calling of the first 720 was (or should have been), and say which bob was leit ont, so Lhat it may he fnown what did happen. Fob Minor cannot come home ab the softh change, because the treble is strikjag her Trackstroke in fiftu's pluce at the 604th change. Mr. Price adds: Mr. Those says they only repeated it six times. Doesit' that make seven? Thincy tenor was uast by Thomas Norris, of flamford, in 1661 and is $455-8 \mathrm{in}$, in diameter, the note being Fiat. I memble when [ think of the sound resulting from anybody staking a well (el 22: owt, in $\mathrm{F}^{\prime}$ sharp, as Mr. Rose says it is, I should be surprised if she weighs more than 17 cwt. Will some expert please teff us tite approximate weight? Tliaere is a gond draft of rope, tut nothing like $75 \%$ t. Somo new ropes they had wero only 75 ft tolal lengts, aud they have yards to spare. This is only the third peal on the bells, so mobody can say for cerlain what is the fasteet ther ban bo ramg. In conclusion, everyhody who heard the poal (excopt Mr. Ikose) said if wus quick winging and good striking. Mr. W. Roze is al Thiney ringer, and your correspondent is not the $\mathfrak{W}$. ## DISPUTED PEALS.

Those who desire to dispute the validity of a peal have to be very sure of their ground. There have been one or two recent instances in which performances have been brought into question, but in which the doubt has not, in the end, been substantiated. When a band publishes the report of a peal it does so, by an unwritten law, upon its honour, and any reflection upon a peal performance is a reflection upon the bonour of the ringers, or, at all events, upon the conductor. For that reason especially no one should lightly assert that a peal claimed to have been rung was a false peal. When the assertion is made, he who casts the doubt should be able to prove his case up to the hilt, or, failing this, should honourably withdraw his statements.
It is, of course, possible, under certain circumstances, for a genuine disagreement to occur with regard to the bona fides of a peal, for ringers may have differing opinions as to the amount of clashing or the number of errors that may be allowed before a peal is disqualified. The best ringers permit very litle latitude in this direction. but there are, unfortunately, a few who, so long as they can keep the bells more or less together, will claim anything as a peal provided rounds cume up in the appointed place. Betweer these two extremes are many degrees of perfection and imperfection, and what ought, or ought not, to be admitted as a peal, is left to the honesty of those taking part. After all, peals are rung principally for the gratification of the ringers themselves, and qualityby which we mean good ringing, whether the method be Grandsire Triples or London Surprise-not quantity, should be the aim, for what satisfaction can there be to look back upon a badly rung peal? Quite certain it is that a number of indifferent performances are recorded as peals, but on the question of the striking, it is for the band to say whether or not a peal claim should be made.

When, however, it is a nuestion of the truth or otherwise of a performance, there can be no question. A performance which, by any chance, falls short of the stipulated five thousand, in which there has been a repetition of changes, or a shift in the coursing of the bells, is rigidly ruled out, and it is flagrant dishonesty to clainz it as a peal. It is, therefore, a serious reflection, especially upon a conductor, to say that he has published as a peal a performance which has been 'cooked.' We make these remarks without any special reference to the peal at Tllney All Saints, although it is the correspondence on this matter that has prompted us to put forward these views. Ringing history can furnish numerous instances of bitter controversy over the legitimacy of peals, but short of having an official umpire for every attempt, the Exercise must accept the word of the ringers, unless there are exceptional grounds for dispute. And then those who challenge a peal mưst be able to prove their case. Mere assertions without proof recoil upon the heads of those who make them.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Thine prople of Vancouver oridently appreciste the bells on publio acasions, for just prior to President Fruding's visit, the Press, in typical Western manner, was demanding that the bells should plas bheir part of the auspicions occasion.

- Change Ringing Championabip ' was the Jeading under which one London daily newspaper announcet the unveiling of a pea tablet at Southwark Cathedral. on Tuesday, commemorating the re cocit peal of Stedman Citques.
Mr. A. Bowell has recently execuled repairs to the peal of eight ati Rolvenden, Kent. The ienor needed much attention, and has been relung with all modern fitiags. New bearings, gudgeons, stays, pulley blocks, nearly all new wheels, etc. constituted the chicf part of the work to the romaining seven, and the peal is now in first class ringing condition. The hells have been exarined and tested $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{y}}$ Juembers of the Ken! County Association. They were perfectly satisfied that the work had been efficiently executed, and tho 'go' of tho bellg was all lhat could be deaired.

It is seldonn that the funds collected for bell restoration exceed tho amount required, but this happy circumstance has oceurred at Benen den Kent, where an overiaul is to take place. The balance is to $b_{0}$ devoted to wther church purposes.
MTs. R. J. Wilkins, of Bristol, was, on Salurlay, elected Presitlent of the Ladies Guild for the onsuing year.
It is said that, even the Guild meeting could not pase off without a tliscussion on hats.
The first peal by a band of ladies was rung eleven years ago to day. May we not soon expect tho first peal by a baval of marrict ladies? There are more than sufficient for the purpose. if they cail fear hemselves awry from their domestie duties.
The ringer of treble in peal at Whibtle ou July 7 th should read Alfred, ${ }^{\text { }}$ not Adam Blogg.
A tidy bejfry or a well-kept ringing chambey is not always fount in our country towers, and especially in Devon, wrikes a corrospond ent. Not only are there few seats, or oven lat pegs, but the floor is rarely swept, windows and walls aro dirty, ringing roonis ill-ventilated or often draughty, and appear too often more like a tool house than a respectable meeting room for a hand of men. If we would induce young and especially an intelligent grade of fellows to take us ont art, wo should gain much by pleasing surroundings.
St. Sidwell's (Exeter) pal of 10 has just been resfared at a cost of over fecto, and the opportunity was taken to colour the walls and ceiling, frame up ald relics, renovate peal hoards, add more seats ant finoletrn, at a cost of E22, and now it gito a homely appenance lo all who ring-especially the many visitors who remark upon its tidy appearalioe.

TEXT BOOK ON SURPRISE METHODS.

To the Eatior.

Sir, -It is well known that the late Brothers Snewdan intended to compile a book on the Surprise Methods of Canbridge Superlative and London, but through death, the Exorcise was robbed of a valit able addition to the Snowdon sories. I submit that a text book on Surarise methods is badly needed at the present time. Tlis six-bil fingers are well catered for both in * Standard-Methods, and the O.C. Collection, but when we come to eight aud ten bella, the tha mpton gifferent Take such methods as Gilf, Bristol, North an bells. Princess Mary Clifton. Middesex, and no doubt, there and several others. Assuming that all these methode are wortlı pingin one is forced to the conelusion that the information concerning then is in a very few hands. Supposing our baud wished to praclise ons of these methods, it would mean that the leader would have to writo to Mr. X for the figures. Then lie would lave to draft skeleton coursas for his band, or get then each to do their own, and aven then it is not everyone who can put ringing information into plain language. The question now arises, who would write such a book Rs I lave indicated? I do not think it is a job for the Central Conntil to tackle. but I do think there is a golden opportuniby for gome oapable mamber of the Exercise, and there is no doubt we here such men. Probably aome ringers will belittle this suggestion and say, "Where there's a will therc's a way," efc.: also. finance mould be a stumbling-block. But if such a booh were produced it would be a valuable one and we oould not grumble at the price whether it. was 7s. 6 d . or 10s. The convenience of baving a thook ombracing all the Surprised methods on 8,10 and 12 bells wauld ba inestimable, and $n$ orowning triumpli to the Snowdou books, which have thuylt thousands of ringerg the art of chamge ringing. - Yours faiflưulty,

TEN-BELL TOWERS.

ST. ANDREW'S, NORWICH.
(Bi J. R. Jerram.)

With regard to the early history of the bells at St Andrew's, Norwich, we find that there were six at the time of the Inventory, taken in the sixth year of Edward VI. also a 'sants bel of half a cwt.'
In Kirkpatrick's MS., taken from church accounts̄, and copied by Mr. L'Estrange, and published by him in his 'Church Bells of Norfolk' in 1874, we find the weights of the bells and names of the donors, when they were 'new, yotten,' in 1567 . From this it appears the 'lytie belle' was given by the executors of Mr. John Cooke Draper, and weighed 7 cwt . The second, given by the same, weighed

ST. ANDRFWM NOLZWICF.
7 cwt. 1 qr. 21 1 b . The third (present sixth) was not broken, and weighed 9 cwt .3 qr 23 lb . The fourth was recast at the cost of the parish, and weighed $12 \mathrm{cwt} .2 \mathrm{qr} .{ }^{2} 3 \mathrm{lb}$. The fifth was given by Mr. Robert Gardener and Mr. Nicholas Cowbyche, and weighed 15 cwt . 3 qr . 26 lb . The tenor was bought of the Prior of Black Friars at the dissolution of the monastery, and then ( 1538 ) she weighed 25 cwt . 12 lbs . She 'brack \& was yotten agayne \& made moche bigger' it 1567 , and then weighed 26 cwt 3 qr .7 lb . The inscription on the original bell was, 'Laudo Deum verum, plebem voco, convoco clerum, defunctos pioro, pestem Fugo, festa decoro.' The new bell cast in 1566 was inscribed, 'Campana ista facta erat. Sancta quidem non sum, sanctos conservor in usus.' The last part was evidently intended as a fling at the Romanists.
The old fourth bell was recast by Wm. Brend in 1608 , and was inscribed, 'Blessed be the Lord our God both now and evermore.' She weighed 13 cwt .3 qr . 12 lb . He was paid $£ 4$ for the recasting. The fifth was also recast by him in I52f, for which he was paid $£ 5$ Ios. This bell is the present tenor. We have already noticed the old tenor, and we find further that-

At the making of the new frames for the bels which was in ano 1633. the sixth and greatest. Bell was taken down and new yotten to be made tuneable to the rest of the 5 bells and wayghed 26 c a or ther about, which being new cast by Will. Brend Belfounder and of 21 c . weiglth, it proved to little and upon the 16 tl day of $A$ pril. 1634 was new crst againe by him made biggcr and waiglied then $24 \mathrm{c}=$ and 11 lb , butt then proving somewhat too big to accord with the restio of the belis and otherwise defective in the casting it was fres: skivred and then afterward some part of the head, viz, the upper part of the mayle Comell brake of, by wela skivring and breaking off thirty six ponnds of tho waight of mettal was taken awey, and then it wayed $24 \mathrm{og} 2 \mathrm{qc}, 3 \mathrm{lb}$., unto which was added when it was cast again the third time 7 ll , of pewter being 18 Decem, 1635 , by Joln Brend, and now it wayes according to our own wairlat being waighed in Cheistmas Hollidays 1635 leere at, otr church 23 c. 1 qr. 10 db ., and there remayne in Motiall well was sold to Toim Brent 1 c .1 gr for £4 12. The said great Bell hath these Latinn verses written about, it, made by Mr. Jolm Chappell our Minister.

The position of the ropes in St, Andrew's belfry is wather peratinr. The frame mado for six bells in 1650 was an actagonal one; two belis heing lumg in the two midde pits, and the other folr on the four sidas thereof. When the pent was made eight in 1705 the two trebles were loisted in a frame ahove in the centre. The atditional frebles added in 1825 to make ten were hoisled in frames above these. forming a kima of pramid. The result is. if I am not miataken. trat the ropes fall in the following order: $1.3,2,7,10,5,4,6,9,8$. If I ant wrong in my cescription I hope that some local minger will correct me.
The following talaleis are in the belfry
The splendid Cliurch of Androw's, Norwidh, prion to the year 1825, had only a peal of 8 bells, at which Lime Mr. Thos. Tury one and Son, of Whitechapel: amd the ten were rung for the lims time on 19th July, in the above rear. On which occasion Mr, fiam. Thursion (by trade a intomemasoni) made a tablet ancit placed it on the north wall of the belfir. On May 5th, 1842. here was rung Mr. Tohn Reeve's one-conse peal. consisting of 5,040 changes of TRFBLE BOB ROXAL in thee homs and twenty-seren minutes. called by Henry Hubbard. It was in the KENT Yariation, aud bas the 6tis 24 times each way; it was rung by the following pervons:-

TROUBLESOME LITTLE QUESTIONS．

To the Editor．

Deal Sir，Tusi recently there seem to liave eropped up lots of litile guestions whid want setiling，subl as，for instance：－

Whati is a＇local＇peal？＇
What is the first peal in a melhod on the beds？
What＇s in a name？
And sundiry olher minor maters，to say notiting of those greater subjects（stili a sourco of difference，oven between friendis）which I dave nol mention－for various reasons．
The Central Council will not，meet again for nearly a ybar，and in He meantime these leaser lopjes will be left simmering unless mome－ ane－perfecily unbiassed，of course－rsels about the task of laying down the law．Therefore，as I am a perfectly disinferested person （in proof whereof I have never rung a peal in Leitester or Chelms－ ford，ant I have nerer rung in the first 700 of a new method）－here goes．

The difficulty that confronts me，however，is the knowledge that always in these mattexs you can never get botli sides to agree and The individual who butts in iwe know the old saying about Fools and mgelsi usually＇gets it in the theck．＂But nevertheless－here goes．
This sounds ratuer like a nervons bathen standing on the bank chilly strean trying to serew up courage enough to take the plunge！ You can almost trear my tecth chatrering．But，believe me，I am Peally almost as hold as those doughty fighters，Peppery
th．
That peal at Leicester has crealed quita a pother，and if is fime re hat somac defintion of a local，peal，but it would be beiter stiil if wo dropped tho use of the tem altogether．It is just one of Fhose words whinli may mean any old ibing．To prove this let mes air $m_{y}$ Latin（culled from an inexpensive dictionary）．Local＇is de－ rived from＇locus，＇meaning＇a place＇－no relation to＇locusta，＇＇a lobster：Now a place may be of unlimited size，and need not neces－ sarily be＇within the meaning of the Ach＇：it may be as large as a parish，as large as Leicester，or as large as Lejeestmalire．So where are we？Every correspondent who has writtent to The Ringing Warld ；upon this subject may be right My dictionary tells me that Cocal moans＂confired to a spot，place，or definite distriol．＇There fore，it seenss as if a＇local，hand may come from anywhere as long in they prescribe the definite district from whith they come． But as I have alrcady seid．I do not expect anyone to agree with he and［ strgeest that this would he a mice little topic for the Council to deal will．Yt would probalily provide therf with a subject f discussion for years．
Then，what about the first pead of Grandsire Caters on the bells at holmsford Cathedral？I fithey I can see the peg on which whe hand that rang the peal on June 30th hang their claim．Since Canon Papillon rang lis pfal af，the Jissex comaty town，the bells have been new enst Now when a ring of hella go into the melting fot and get poured out info some new moulda，are they new liells．or what are they？The moro you ponder on it the more rou herin to are they？The more you ponder on it fle more you hegin to wonder whellier a recagt peal is a new peal．When a lady remakes That，is it n new lat？She likes her friends to think it is，but is it ${ }^{5}$ When thb old metal goes into the furnaco and comes out again is still the same melal but we like our friends to think we have got a new peal of bells．But have we？
What＇s in a mame！My pet poet wrote，A rose hw any other name would smell as sweet，＂lut there is a saying，＂Give a dog a bad neme and thang him．＊A nethod renains the samn method Whatever you call it but some names are bad enough to kill it．al－ Hongh it must he solmitted that sonve extraordinurg titleg have sur－ Fivertour dear old friend＇Grandsire：for instance．I often won－ dem whem llant name was dug up，and who wewe he sponcors？Whal ocession to refer to it！We all know the gibe of＇Grandfather＇s Triplets．Now we are apparently to give them（the pulbliu，not the triplets）the opporfunity of casting more ridictu upou us，if they wish．

The horticnlurist who went round his gavden，and，seeing a geranium，promptly selected the name for No． 28 of the Treble Bob methods，or，spotting a marigold，hethought him to apply it to No． 24．may have magined lae had an inspiration．But to thiuk that a whole committes should bave swallowed such rubbish almost passes belief；while the fact that they should elect to take up an attitude of ＂do as wo tell you or we thow up the joh，＇is really astounding．In my opinion anthorly who achs like rhub has got a bad case．Now that one of the committee lias helped to get these methods ytug under the flowery titles，riugers may expoct to hear little of them in the future，unless mayhap，other ringers with other notions tako upon Hemselves to call them by more rational titles．And，after all．witn is to prevent，them？In fact，I am inelined to he a rebel myself，gef my own band to ring 720 in some of these methods call then by oher mames，and sce what happhis．I wonder whether we shoult merely be excommunicated，or whether there would be something with boiling oil in it？
I do not suppose，after all，that I lave sethed to anyone＇s salic． Faction tho jrritating litite questious with which ！hegan this letter． Perlaps I may have irritated rather than pacified；and that I may dodge the bricks，I must remain folts imy，CRITIOUS．

SURPRISE PEALSIN LEICESTER

To the Editor

Dear Sir，－＇Keep Smiling tells us that int the geal quoted by Mr． Wilison，a rioger from a clumeh other thmu St．John＇s assisted．Mr中䊉son also tells us that seven of the fand lived well inside the boundary；the 8th，of couree，lived outside．Well，well，you camot have the tenors logether and parted at lise same time．
On looking ap the Surprise parla arranged by the sencetary of Si Marpin＇s since the war，I find that there have been about bo sue cesses，representing over 83 ，yer cenl．of aitempls；also that Mr Willson is cortect in sayizg that in every one，olle or more ringers from elsowhere assisfed．What，however，struck ona ws more re－ markable was the number of those who tassisted in them who lath stats，to their name denoting their fint Surprise peal，or their first peal in the methoni．Yerily this does lell its own story－Yours turuly．

E．H．DEXTER．
P．S．－The only Suprise peal to dale by all resideuts of Leicester was rugg af．South Wigoton in 1913，and conducted by the late G．It． Fowler．

Deas Sir，－In reply to your correspondemt F．H．D．，I think he quite aware of the identily of the writer he refers to in his Jebter， Ho says that if the ringers do not live within the cily boundary they are not local，or Leicester ringers！Why then，pulilish the peal of Bristol at South Wirston as＇rung by i hand of Leicester ringers＇？ The foragoing peal lias the same disqualification as the peal under disenssion．which was based on the assumphion that if the ringer Wha a Lajester man in that case，he could，uso be one in the wher． Apparentiy then it was a misconception when 1 made the first state menh in conncclion with the peal．In tulure，perlaps．there will be more truth in＂their＂footnotes to peals．

Locumitis＇says thaf＂loral＇means all rekiding in one parish！ Yet F．H．D．mata it cover the whole town area．Also he stule－ that to the best of his knowleage there fas been no peal of Surprise ruag by a Leicester band（his statoment covers the peal af Wigston）． He must have ovmlooked the peal of Brishol，which is wery unlikely if ho is interested in Leicester aloings．－Fours very truly，

玉．R．WHYTMIFAD．
Dear Sir，Haviug read Mr．Will：zon＇s latest commanication，I still hold to the opinion that a man is local only to the place where domiciled，and thet no amount of argmment can mak him other wise．His remark re peals rung ontside the city is entirely besidr the point at jssue．Haviur mentioned them，however．I boy leave ugain to point him in crror．After making such careful investign lians how came ine to miss the peal rung at South Wigston on Oct． Ltit，1913．the first and only peal ring hy ats undisputable band of Leicester locals？
This correspondence is now dosed．－EA．

A NEW DEPARTURE IN SOMERSET.

The Bath and Wells Diocesan Association has much to congratulate itself upon in the progress revealed at the annual meeting. The extension of the art in the SouthWestern counties of England has always been a laborious task, and ringing in Somerset was especiaily badiy hit by the war, a loss of individual members-the common experience of all ringing organisations-being accompanied by a serious falling off in the number of affiliated towers. The wastages of the war are, however, now being made up, and not the least gratifying part of last year's work was the rejoining of no fewer than thirteen towers, in addition to the bringing in of two new ones. This is eloquent testimony to the zeal which has been displayed in rebuilding the association, and, with the acquisition of numerical strength, further progress in the technical side of ringing may be confidently looked forward to.
In the manarement of its finances, the association has introduced a principle which others might copy. In addition to the yearly contribution which has to be paid by members, a modest annual affiliation fee for each tower is charged, and it is urged that this fee should be paid by the church authorities. With the growing recognition of ringers as part of the church organisation, this method of affiliation, apart from the financial assistance which it gives, has much to commendit. It is a binding link between a parish and the central diocesan body, it emplasises the association's connection with the Church far more than does the individual subscription of a ringer, and it maintains, whatever the size of a band may be, a full and equal recognition of all towers.
It is hardly to be expected that the ringers should be asked to provide this affiliation fee. In a considerable number of cases the annual subscription is as much as the ringer can afford, but a five-shilling or ten-shilling fee from the Parochial Council is not an extravagant demand to make, even upon a poor parish. The difficulty arises in levying a new charge of this description, and a parsimonious Council might possibly hesitate before dipping jnto its pocket for the purpose. Proper representations, however, would go far to remove the opposition, which would possibly be found greatest in those parishes where the role of the ringer is placed on a lower level than that of other church workers. It is very largely to emphasise the ringers' position in the church that we say that such a scheme of affiliation is a desirable one. To many associations, with difficulties in making ends meet, this new source of revenue should be a very welcome one, and we imagine the example set by Bath and Weils is likely, in course of time, to be copied by many other ringing organisations covering diocesan or county areas.

John the Taptizt's Church. Bathet. The service, conducted by the Reclor (the Rev, Caron Man ninge, whicls was fally choral, was it most impressive one, and wa raticnded by a large number of members of ithe Association indur ing Messis. $F$. A. Milne and $T$. Beadile (vice-presidents), W (Mastcr), G. P. Tueas (District Master), C. T. Coles ('hon, secretary Foskeit, J. G. Shade. G. R. Pye, w. Pich worth, J. E. Miller, A. Bannett, and many ollhers of the olfer menbers wino had know the late President for n considerable period. There were also present Messrs, P. L. and W. King (sons), ann! severa! Barnet friends of the late Mr. King.
The service opened with a processional hymn, "How blessed, from the boulds of sin,' whith was followed ly Psalim xv. The lessons were read by Mre. A. Milne (Diocesan lay reader), The Mngnific: also was sumg. Afler the 3rd collect, lie clergy and chor proveeded to the fort. cilose to which the memorial hari heen erected. Mr, Milne then unviled and dediented the tablet with these words:-
Glosti Amen. in the Faith of Jesns Chiniste Son and of the Frols Glost. Amen. Tn the Faith of Jesus Christ, we deciente this tabict to the Glory of God and in pions memory of Eis Servant, Arthur 'Lumas King, sometime Diocesan lay reader. President of the Midelle. sex Association, and member of the Guild of Bell Ringers in this Church.'

AN APPRECLATION.

Mr. Milne then andressed the congregation as follows:
memise of the sidslucer Country Guild of Change Ringers. in the unavoidable albence of Diocesail dent it has fallen to my lot to umveil the table: we have erected memory or our late revered president, Arthur Thomas Kingcould have wished that M1. At ibe amual meeting of the association, helt April last year, in speaking of Mr. King, I said that he was a man upon whoso worl fou conld absolutely rely, and in whose fuldment you could inplicitily tritst; a man who never: ju my derience saif als unkind worl or did an winkind action. I do not thak it would be possible to give a better appreciation of his character; and am conviluced that every word I sajil was true. What a tower strengeth he has been io the nssociation you all know. When first becmea member things were at a very low elbb; and it eatirely owing to his tact and infinite patijencB that the two wings of the ussociation, N. and E. and S. and W, were ly rought logether. and that the association rose to a position second to none in the United Kingdom. And it is pemtiarly appropriate that a memorint to him should have leen erected in this charch. for dithing thr Whole of the 20 years or more that he was resident in Bumet Ire wne a lay render in the parish and few who lag the pricilcgo of hearing him will forget the impressive way in which he read the lessons. Xin he rest in peace, and mas we all be inspired by his example follo ${ }_{W}$ in his steps.
The choir then sang the hymn, 'Ring out, wild bells.' ant retumet to their stalls. Afler fhe Rector' lad said prayers, the hymn. "For all the Srints,' was sung. and the service was conchuded with the Benle dietion, and Recessional hymn, Through the night of doult ant sortow,
The memorial tablet is of white Sicilian marble, momberl an a whit mar ble background, the dinensions of the latter being 2ft. 4ins. 1 ft . 10ins. The inseription, which is ent and painted Venctian red, rearls as iollow
' In gratitude to frod for the fife and work of Artlur Thomas King L.S.O., loyal disciple of the Lord Jesus Christ and devout Clured man, the members of the Middlesex Connty Association and London Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers lave placed this cablet in memory of his example and devotian, and of his service to the ayt of bell ringing.
Great satisfaction wis expressed at the neatress of the work ant at the why it had been carried out gemerally. Prior to tile gervire the hells were rung with half-muffled clappere, the 'service touch' being a well-sirnck coursa of Bristol Surprise Majar: After the ser vise the belik wore rung, open, whilst the hells at Hadley were also available, and menalers made fult use of then.

SUGGESTED BEIKTY REPAIIS FUND.

The Rev. Frecman, of Croscomhe hrieftr adrivessed the gathering. the outset he made it clear Mat he had only reconfly gome to ive at Groscombe and lie had thate the di=covery that his ringers were not affiliated to the Association. He promised that should bn speedily remedied if they allowed Croscombe to join. The reverentit gentleman went on to outline a sugemetion that all affitated hranches should contribute to a fund to assisi parimeg faced with heavy expenses an restoring lowers and bells. Te pointeal out that Crosconbe had a very ancient and heantiful olrurch with six bells. The ringing of these liad had to be stogped through tha conditiou of the cago. and until a retaration scheme costing something Itke finco had been carried out. By tremendous 'slogging, the villagers had raised $£ 50 \mathrm{~h}$. and otlou parishes near were promising some help. Fe dif not busgest the bellmen shotild be the material supporterz-lihev already gare their sorvicos-but if some soheme could he arranged whoreby thas nombe did if would bea fremendous thing. There were people in their churelies who lie felt sure would he willing to pay for the credil of their Chuch, and he promisorl that whenever the appeal came fo Crascombe lie parish would do the same. Mr . Freeman had their hearliest sympaby and ho hoped ther might, be able to givo some help in thati way.
Mr. J. Hunt, moverl that in future the accounts should be mad.: up to the 31st. December, instead of May 31st. He pointed out flat prachicaliy ail Church accounts were now made up for this periad, and if the motion whs adopted there would not he the rush to got the finaneinl statemeni completed for that meeling. - Mr. Taylar seconded.-The Clairman mentioned that the connittee supportont the proposal.-In answer to a guestion he sladed that lie did unt hhink the alteration of any rule was involved. They could mat da that. He sliond put it an his sssumplion. and if it farned out 05 orwise it wond bocome inoperative. - For the motion there woter 25. and against thee. The Chairman declared if. carriod.

The Cliniman moved a very hearty vole of thanks to the Vicar of Feovil (the Rew. H. C. Sydenhamy firr the use of the vestry, and warden) and to Mr. J. F. Raker (local secretary and Master of the Yeowil Guild), who had done everything possihle to make the molings sumessful. Mr. Goodchild, in acknowledping the rote, said it was a preat delight to them to recelve a visit from the Diocesan Association.
In tho Parish Chareh Divine service was nonducted by the Ticat of Yeovil, the whole of the party attending. The singiny was les by the choir, antl Mr. F. R. ## RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I whsh to make an appanl, through your columas, is the fixercise at large for help in compiling this roll.
Below will be seen two lists of names which I have denoted it and B.

In list A, earlain names are gratged together which bear a similarity to each other.
I want to know low many persons ate described in each group, and. if anly one, which place or tower oul of two or three lias the right to claim that one. To trike an instance: Were there two ringers of the name of ' Atwater, E., killerlp If there was only one, slould he tho described as coming from Sltratlian or Cuckfeld?
In list B , there are centain mames given as belonging to Guilds or Associations, but the place or tower is left blant. I want if possible too bo able to fill un this luank space.
Scorelintiog of Guilds and Aspociations have done their best in the matter, and I now appeal to the friends of these fallen ringers to sehd mee such information-as some of them surely must have-as will enable mo to conve to a degision in each case.-Yours truly,

The annual meeting of tie Suffolk Guild was heln af Ipswich last Saturday. After a service in the Tower Chureh, at whieh Arehdeacon Farmiloe preached, tea was prorided in the Co-operative Hall, at the cest of some of the clerieal menher: in East. Suffolk.
At the meeting which immediately follower, with Arohdeacon Eamiloe in the chair. if was rlecided to reelect all the offiens en bloc. The Secrefary read out the list of towers wheh had sent in a total of 442 ringing nembers, 21 honorgry mpmbers, and wwo life members These were all elected, with the addition of sewen now members then proposed.
The Secrefary explaned that, although be lad sent out all these foms at the begiming of Jume, it was only during the last few days that the greater number had been returned: he lad therefore, had no opportumity of astertaining how many there were on the former which hat not been entered on these returns, but he knew there were sufficieni to bring the total nemes already enrolled to over 500 , and there were all the names in three districts yel: to come in.
The Sccretary reporled that eleven towers harl compounded: guly one of these was an old tower, on which the Guld accordingly los 2s. The othar ter were now towers, none of which would probably have joined the Gaild, bringing in 71 shillings and 82 new members It was decided to hold the ammal meeting in fulure on Taster Manclay

The meeting closed witly the usual wotes of thanks

THE RECORD PEAL OF STEDMAN CINQUES.

COMMEMORATIVE BOARD UNVEILED AT SOUTHWARK CATHEDRAL.

A board, recording the 12.575 Stenman Chqueg rung in 9 liss. 47 mins. on Witit Nonday by the Aneient Society at Callege Fouths, was unveiled at Sonthwark Gathedral last week. The plotorraph slows the hand, with Mrs, Rotheri Trank, who perforned the ceremony, and Mr. Roberl Frank, the Rectar"s watden (who presented the hoand, and is sccold on left or picture).

Abstract

On Tuesday, July 17 th , before the ustal practice in the tower of Southwerk Cathediral, a Loard giving partichary of the vecord peal of Sterlman Cinques, acoomplished by members of the Ancient Society of College Fouths on Whitsun Monday, was wreiled loy Mrs. Robert Frank, wrfe of the Rector's warden. There was a large attendance of ringers, including the whole of the peal band, and Mr. Frank, who had generously given the board. Mre. Frank, in a happy speech, apalogised for her prasence in the tower, and suggested lifat it miglit have lwell more semby if one of the five youthind lady memberg of the society had ben called upon to perform the ceremony. Ove thing which made lev retiecnt was lier lack of knowledge of campanologs. She liad, lowever, found a good friend in Mr. Hughes, of Messis, Mearg and Stainbank, who had proved an effcient leacher. She whs very proud that the record peal had taken place in the tower of Southwark Cathedral, a church rery dear to her nud to Mr. Frank, fhe Rector's warden. For the hencfit of visitors she might explain what had happened on Whitsun Monday. Twelve members of the Ancient Soniety patliered in the tower and begat to ring at $8.30 \mathrm{f} . \mathrm{m}$. They rang Stedman Cingues for mearly 10 hours, and accomplished mearly 13,000 changes. More changes had been rung on one occasion at Painswick. but the beils there were infintely liglater, and consegtiently the performers rang for a much sharter time. The rimging at Sautlarark was the longex ring on twelve bells, and an epoch-making achievenent in the rimging world. It was a great physical and mental leat, and those who look part zhould feel proud of their suceess which fortmately liad no bad after effects. She foll slie must. congratulate the College Foutlis, that honourable company of ringens which had 300 yents of history hehind them. They Jud chosen Southwark some 200 years ago for 1 heir first oudstanding performance. Tt was not surpriaing that sa worliy a thody had charge of almost all the towers in the Gity of London. Me. W. E. Garrard, Mester of fle College Yauths.. thanked Mr. and Mrs. Frank for their keen iuterest in tho society, and ho accepted, on belaals or the members, the board which Mr. Fitank had so kindly presented. He was grad lo see thal the names of the twelwe ringers had been set out on thic memorial, and he knew that in years to cone men in the ringing world would look back and honour those who liad the keenness and physical enturance to acomplish 50 much.

Photograplis were tilen taken for the Press, and afterwards the band who rang the peal gave an exhibition of their art.
In the beading to the composition which was prinled in ond lasf issuo the first. INo figures were transposed. Hhe length of the peal was, of course, 12.675 and not 21.675.

And in Leicester they falk about: Surprise, really the first we locals got in Leicester was, "Not a man losi his head ' (that's the first. we got! the chief reason. Altier our brief but plasant stay we depart congratulating onte another ous retaining all the tentacula members of our Dexter paws after bidding "Old Bill." farewell!

The nose of the Elite is now turned in the direction of Whitwick.
Oln! and in front of the bus,
Wag De-Go-by did ride
With De-straw, packed behind sim,
And De-George on each side.
Here we were met by Mr. Fearu, who gave us a corciat welcome, and conducted us up into the belfy of St. John-the-Baptist, whera a nice lrandy ring of eight were soon on the swing: the music is not quite so delicious as the other St. John's at Leicester. Fet-
One great feature in conneclion with the belfry of this grand old l3th century church at Whilwiok is the exireme darkness, which uftorded no less than four of the party tire opportunity to acquire a change of raiment- A change of course - only of those bipennate garments ycleped jackets, and considering the very high atmospheric pressure no great surprise would have been ocogsioned some the party had divested themselves of their biftureated nether garmeats, und they latd got swapped over.

Again we ate on the move, rolling along now on the fringe of the beautilul forest of Ginarnwood, in which stands the Cistercian abhey of St. Beruart, tonnded in 1835 . The tinst Catholic abley built and continuously used $x_{s}$ such in England since the Reformation.
Od-zooks: We arrive ab Ablby-de-la-Zouch, the seene of many a romantic Passage of arms, where the phry are expected (but not to graco the lisus. Alas! the warrion we liad lef at liome, we are gad to relale very indisposed). Odds fislit Liko Charley's Aunt. tho old bus kcot tumaing till she had win past the cafe where a most samptuous and welcome lea was laid all ready for us. With a hut of shambing the ofd chariol was-lyouglat to a standstill in the garage connectorl with the hospitable cafe, and aftor a bit, of a rinse, ox ternally in the medicated waters of "Iwanoe " and internally by an cxcellent enp of tea, the party arljourisel, and wore conducted by Mr. Beadsmore, to that moble embatiled chifice of stome known in De-la-Zoo, as the church of St. Helen, where hangs an octave fit to summon aty congregation in the lant, hat owing to the teruific heat ittle ringing was done upon the towey bells. Same good doublehanrled." howevel', was done upon a fine get of handbells, the property of illo locals. On looking rotind the interion wo found some ppleudid monuments, amongst then ant altar tomb to Francis, 2nd Earl of Tinalizgdon, K.G., oh, 20th Jtme, 1561 . In the north aisle. tumer a stone catmopy lies an alabaster effigy of a 'Pilgrim.' sup. posed to lye anique. How these estaped the Cronvellian despoilers one can only conjecture. Another relic of h bartarous ago stands ut the S.E corner of the tower arch, fn the form of a finger pillory in Which two of the visitors were fand imprisoned by their Paws! Yes Pawal reader. Paws! for on leaving the church our attention was centred on the many shields caved around the western portal and emblazoned with so many devices. One inceresting shield received muls attention by one who lard made some fitle study of heraldry, but never hefore had the seen an shiold emblazoned with e Thres Frogs , in pale, froper upon the field. Birda, ejanulated the interesten one, such as Martletts arte common upon coats-of-arms. Butbut! a frog is a limuy hisd, for when if stants, it sits-and when it kits, ili sits on that which ft las wot got, almost!-And when it hops, it flies! Almost, nearly! It's true! There. on the sonth of the churcti stands the ruits of a once stately castle foumded in tho reign of Edward IV, by Sir William (alerwards Baron Fastings), and was ustd as a residence by him and liks descentants for ahout two hundred years, and in which the illfated Mary Queen of Scots was for eome lime imprizoned, the only portions that remain are of the hall shanel and kitchen.

With a few more landstiakes we embark for ihe homexard spin through aberes of ripe strawberries. On, ou, we go to the county town of Derby, where the "Father " of the flkeston Youths "dropt off.' He wasn't hurt, so we drove on, and did not stop to piek him up again, feeling sure that he would find shelter for the night somewhere, for lie was ju possession of a minjature set of housebreaking implements. Wo hope that he wis sot entertained at the county Frating estalishment of 'George wive.' Of that we had no great fear, so we made a final spurt, passing throurh the pleasant vale of Depenale, where. amind ruin, stands one solitary arcli. At one time here stood a magnificent and stately house of God, dediented by the whilerabed canons of Premontra to the Blessed Firgin Mary. Now alas! the only incense rising
Is the sweed perfume of flowers.
Monks wo longer dread the greensward,
Sute is slithes in evening hours.
Aln! And 'Lwas in the cool shade of evening when the Elite dischacged leer cargo in the ancient market place of Ilehesiune after a aojourn in the land of jousts and hmuling. and throngh the medium of "The Ringing Forld, we lerewilh temder our grateful thank; to all who contribubed tineir quota to our entertainment: ant comtorts, viz, Messrs, Stubbs. ## ORIGINALITY IN COMPOSITION.

Although written in a jocular vein, there is much truth behind the letter on the subject of the foundation of compositions, which appeared in our last issue. Many claims are made to original peals which, were they investigated, would quickly be demolished, and yet, for want of some means of inquiry, these compositions go down in the records as belonging to this or that composer when, perhaps, the same figures may have been obtained years ago. Moreover, the same thing will repeat itself in the future, and 'composers' yet unborn will seek to claim as original what is being produced to-day-unless there is some machinery set up by which claims can be tested.
It is now, we believe, a more or less recognised fact that an individual cannot actually be held to be the creator of a method, because all methods are the outcome of the application of mathematical formulæ. The man who hits upon a method, happens to strike, unknown perhaps to himself, one of these formulx, and he gives out his work as a method of his own production. But when men of wider knowledge set out upon a similar task of production, they obtain not one but, may be, hundreds of methodsbad ones as well as good-and they do it, not by a laborious construction of row upon row, but by the application of a mathematical process which gives them the whole of the possible methods in the class they are working upon, thus including all that have ever gone before or can ever come hereafter. This goes to show that the casual producer does not actually create a method but simply discovers it.

To a large extent the same thing may be said of compositions. They exist in infinitely greater variety than methods, but there are certain basic rules upon which one must work, and there is very little produced to-day that can really be claimed as an 'original' creation of the composer. He may take credic, perhaps, for piecing together in a fresh way certain existing formulæ, but it is undeniable that to produce anything which is absolutely new in those methods, which have been rung for solong, is almost impossible. To take only the examples of Stedman Caters and London Surprise Major, mentioned by our correspondent. 'Compositions' in these methods exist literally in hundreds of thousands, and a man who can obtain something which is not a variation of one of these peals, is either extremely clever or extremely lucky or both. A part, however, from the general aspect of obtaining peals 'in bulk,' such as Mr. Jobn Carter and Mr. Gabriel Lindoff have done, there is the question of the enthusiastic young composer who sets assiduously to work to obtain a peal in this or that method. When he is successful, very little opportunity is open to him to ascertain whether some previous composer has obtained the selfsame figures, let alone finding out whether it is not merely a variation of something already produced. The mere publication of the figures is not always sufficient to elicit whether the composition is new or not. What is wanted, as a beginning, is the reference file, which we have so often advocated, and this is one of the things which the Central Council will have to undertake sooner or later.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.
The sixteentis amnal general meeting of the Warwickshire Guild whs beld in the Birminghans District on Saburfay, July 21st. Mem bers ware prozent from Birmingham, Cavendry. Stoke Exhall, Erdington, Numeaton and Siutton Coldfied, together with a aumber of the Aston ringens, Tlo towers of Aston Parish Church ( 10 bells) and Erdingtou Li. ©. (8), wero open for ringing during the afternoon and evening. The Guild's special service was conducted in the Parish Church by the Rer. - Holmes, who also gave an interesting address.
Tho tean and business nibeting followed in flae Parisla Roon by kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. Canon W. J. Cole. The tea was specially nrranged and served by a nunber of Phillips at their head, and who kindly assisted.
In the whavoidable absence of the president (tho Ven. Arehdencon of Werwick) the Ringing Master, Mr. A. Roberts, presided. Th Hon. General Secrebary (Mr. A. Wilkorson) read a report of the Guild's uctivities dusing the year and presended a summary of accounts, which showed a balance in hand of sio 4 s . 5 d .
The olleers wereall re-elected, and on the motion of Mr. H. Argyle, seconded by Mr. Jos. l'emberton, were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their services.
A discussion ensued witl reference to the cost of printing the report, the hon, treasurer fulimating there were not sufleient funds to meet it.

A rosolntion was moved asking members who wished for it report to conlribute the stam of 6 . towards the nost. A member thought thig meant incroasing the subseription to 2 s ., and sfated he knew some mombers could not aftord it. He also nientioned lwo other nasociations who guve 䏡eir members the report.
Il was pointed out that up ta now the Warmickshire Guild had dono tho arme, but it was obvious, with a report costing ls, $4 \frac{1}{2} t$. per copy to print. the working of the Guild could not be mantuined at lidd. per member. IL had ialso to be borme in mind that olle of the largost associalioms had for some years charged ls. for its neport, although it land a halance at tho bink rumning into three figures. Ulimately the rasolution wrs earried by a large majority.
Sloke-iil-Coventry was selected for the next quarterly metiog in Othber, and five now members were duly elected.
Foles ar thanks wero accorded the clergy for the usb of the bells, to Canon Colo for the nse of the Parish Room and arranging the service; 10 the ladieg for providing the tea, and to Mr. Bernard Witchell, disirict secretary, for his excellent arrangements.
'The ringing generally w'at not up to the Guild's usual standard. the fenor al Aston going batly, while for some reason Major would not go : mi Erdingion. Nevertheless fle meetiag was enjoyable, rind exceded in several ways the last annual meetiog in Birmingnhm

TUF ANNDAL REPORT.

The Hon. Secretary's report stated flat tharterly meeting land been heled at Numeaton. Leaminglou and Stratford-on-Avon. It was very gratifying to be able to report a meeting at Stratford, after repeated refusals since the year 1909. A very pleasina incident occurred in the lower at Lemmington Parish Chameh, when the anew Bishop of Cowatry was introringed to a good nuriber of mombers of the Guild. The montily meetings on the whole were well atcended. During lic yery 16 new members had joined the Guild, vike 10 ordinury five nom-resident and one honorary ithe Rev. J. L. ## DTMTNT#HED BATANCE,

The newumb showed a fralanee in hand nf filo is frl., as comnaved with, t 22 10s. 6d. Lwo yerrs ago. The four bells at Bulkmgton rere to he overhauled in the near future, and angmenterf to six hy Mesars. Taylor and Co., and it was unierstood that Coleshill would shortly be augrented to the octave. Tlie Vicar of Bulkingfoulad inviturd the fuild to onen the belle at the dedication. He pointed out that there was slitl a gond sum required for the object, and hoped the members of the Guild would do their best assist with funds. It was a very great pleasure and eafisfaction record the appointment of the president of the Guild as Archdeacor of Warwick. Whilst congratulating the president tiley could 1 disguise the fact that: his new office was sure to make great inroad upon his time, and if any young clergyman would assist him will the work of the Guild, he would no taubt feel Fery grateful. Messte H. Argyle and A. Roberts, the representatives on the Central Coun cil, both attended the Comeil mecting afo Salisbury on Whil Tues day, and thanks were due to them. Thanks werb also due to Mesirs F. W. Ashbourne, T. W. Chapman, J. B. Fentov, F. E. Perwin am B. W. Witchell for their work as liou district secretaries, and to the other officers and memhers of the Guild for their support and work during the past year; also to the clergy who had placed their towers and bells at the members disposal, both for peals and meehngs particularly the president and Mrs. Back, and the Rev, and Mrs Russell, of Whitussl, for their kind hospitality when the meeting were held there. The fascination of change ringing musti alwiys be a powerful factor in uniting nombers together but they last to re member that, as a Guild, Gair object was to see that the bolls wer regularly rung for the services of the chtirch, so that they as ringers might thus become more and more yecognised as office helders in thr clurch.

PROGRESS AT CONSETT.

A deputation from Newcastle Gathedral Guild, consisting of Messus W. IL Bartbe Alf. Hillier and A. M. Hall, prid a fraternal wisit Consett tower on Salinday, July 2ath, 10 give i helping hand to most willing and persevering band of ringers.
The ringing members turned up in very good numbers. nud severa tounhes of Grandire and Stedman Triples were accomplishec.
Exoellent progress was shown, and the nembers being eager accomplish greater things, it was decided to make their fiss at tempt at a peal of Grandsire Triples on Saturday, August 25th, bo conductod by Mr. Barber.

Driving the afternoon ringing, the party had the assistance of Wi W. Sinclair, the Ringing Master at Blackelill Chnich where there i a now peal of eight, bells, and where mreat things are expected.

Anolier ringing enthusiast, tho Rev. $A$. W. Lister. of Tanfich Clumeh, joine the lappy pury at Consety later in the evening, atif lelp to make the gathering a great success.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATYON.  TONBRIDGE DISIRICT AT GOUDHURST

The summer meting of The above was held at Goudhurst on Saturday, July 2lst, and was attended by over 30 members. Be sides the nentrers of the dintriet; the follawing from other alstriets were present: Messis, W. Ifaigh (Gillingham). G. Pound (Boxley). W E. Pitman (Cantertury), C. Tribe (hon, secretary, Ashford distriet) Ringing commenced about three o'clock, and ihe usual service lield. conducted by the Vicar (Canon Raikes). Tea was partaken of the Star and Crown Holed, the Ficar presiding, and a vote of thank was passed to him for the use of the bells, for conducting the ser wice, and for presiding at tea.-Tlie Ficar responded expressing h pleasure in meeting the monbers. -The business meeting follower Mr. G. Ldwards (Penshurst) in We chan Canorz Raikes laving leave.-Three new members were elected.
The Disfrict Secretary (Mr. W. Lattery anobunced flat the wor of relanging the bells at Bonemden and Lambarhurst would shard? be commenceri.
Votes of thanks to Mi: W. E. Pitman, Mus. Bac., for lis services a The organ for the service and to Mr. G. Edwards for presiding al the meeting coneluded the business, and the members adjourned to he tower for further ringing.
The heary going of the hack bells and the lat weather made Majo ringing rather difficult work but some goon practite at Siedman and Grandire Triples was oblained. These bells nue a fine peal (tenor 27 cut.), but they sadly need the attention of a bell hanger

TUNSTALL'S NEW TREBLES

Two men treblez have been added to the ping of six at. Tunetall Kent, the new bells being the gifi of Mr. Cliarles E. Homewood. Wffen Court, Thastall, in commerooration of his eightieth birthday Tou years previonsly Mr. Tonewoorl presented to the charch turret elock. and alsa had tho existing jing of bells timed.
Mr. Flomewood, who, despite hi; adwancing rears. enjoys goon] healel, took part, in the dediention strvise. The opening touch on the hells was rump by W. Spice selnr. 1, E. H. Epice 8, Afterwards tonches of Grandsive find Stedman Triplez and Kent Trebie Bob Major were rung $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{r}}$ mixed bands.

The mugmentation was carried out by Messis. Mears and stain bnink. and who have hung the two new bells in a slael frame The work las हeen done in a most cffient manmer, and grea satisfaction has been expressed both with the "splier "and the collent ge of the bells.

NEW BELLS AT CANNOCK.  DEDIOATION AND OPENING.

A peal of eight lias been added 10 Staffordshire by tin augmentation of the belis at St. Luke's Parish Churef. Cannock. Of the old siz, two lanve been recast, and a new hreble and tenor added, as part of the church memorial to those of the parish who fell in the war. Massrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who carried out the mork, have relung the whole ring in the latest fittings, and Cannock' has a peal of bells of which it can be proud.
The dedication ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. the Dean of Lichfield, at a choral service which was largely attended.-Mr. R. E. Murping, who las acted as hon. secretary for the fund for the restoration of the bells, and as the representative of the subscribers, asked the Vicar's acceptance of the gift of the bells. The Vicar thes formally placed the bells under the care and guardianship of the clurchwardens of the parish. Mr. W. E. Jackson (people's warden) having accepted the elarge of keeping and preserving the bells and using them only for the purpose for which they lave been given, thie Vicar called upna the Dean to dedicato them. Several prayers followed, and the clerry then proceeded to the choir vestry at the foot of the tower, where the Dean offered up a dedicatory prayer, and followed by tolling one of the bells. After a chayer of remembrance' by the Dean, the 'To Deum ; was leartily sung
The Vicar explained that the total cost of the work was £ $£ 775$, and They hade £725 in hand prior to that day.
The Dean, in his address referred to the history and uses of bells, and asked what did bells mean in the early days of Cannock? The place was then a rast stretch of forest land, and was known as Conkbury. Tho district was wild and ag unsafe ns Iteland was a year or so ago. In 1239 Henry MI. licensed the holding of a market in the place on Tuestlays, and he also sigued the statute for the hodidg of a fair on three days in October each year. This fair was associated with the dedication feast of their church and was fired for October 15tly, 16.1 and 17th. Lregends and inscriptions ou bells hecrme the custom in tine Ifth century. The Dean said he was glan the inscriptions on the old Camock bells had been wisely preserved. Thair bells stood as a token of God and they had a definite message to those who worshipped in that church. The bells told them that ali the needs of the people were remombered. It was well that we should by the : In Memoriam s bells keep sacred the memory of 1, Eose of the parish who gave all for the sake of right
The offertory, which was in aid of the Bells Restoration Fund. amounted to E 1263 .

Immediatoly following the dedication service in the charch, rounds were rung on the bells. Amongst those present was Mr. Pryce Taylor, representing the founders. The ringers were all members of the Stafford Archichiaconal Association, and were under the direction of Mr. Herbert Knight, of St. Peter's. Wolverhanpton, and included Messrs. D. Mitchell ayd J. D. G. Harris (Sth Pefer's WoIverhampton). T. J. Flton and W. Poweli (St. Matthew's, Mralaail) Chrie. Wallater (St. 'Gilos's. WiIfenhall), J. Perry (St. Mary's, Brewoad), Wm. ## BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-morrow $i_{\text {B }}$ the anniversary of the opening of the litile peal of twelwe at the Waterloo Tower, Quex Part, Kent. They were erected by Mr. John $\mathbf{P}$. Powell, solely for his amugement, and to attain the art of change ringing, having an eminent tutor far the purpose, who, in patronising ihis manly art, has evinced a consider. able ability in this very abstrase science.
Boin the College Youlhs and the Cumberlands were invited to the opaning, and each took a twalvebell band. The Cumbarlands (incluc. ing Willim Shipway) rang a peal of Grandsire Cinques fcondncted by George Gross), but the College Youthis contented themselves with tauches during the two days of their stay

Being in the neighbourhood of Margate, the event attracted a considerable concourse of fashionables,' bootins having been erected, and the park and pleasure grounds opeued to the assembled auditors
What was probably tha first trae penl of Grandsire Royal, was rung at Painswick on August, 6th, 1815. It is described in the Painswick Youths' peal book as "Tittum Grandsire Royal."
The peal of Double Norwich Rayal rung at Aylsham on Satarday stated to be the first in the method in the county since the peal a St. Peter Mancroft, 1769, recalls tho fach that bhere is no authenti record left to us of this early peal. In the 'Gavis,' however, the following passage occurs, in connection with the ten-hell ringing in this mothod: "The first peal that was rung in the above methor was ty the St. Peter's company in the Oity of Norwich on the olt peal of ten bells, which formerly occupied that steople.
Jasper Snowdon went to considerable pains to werify the recorsi and althourh no information was obtainable in Norwich itself, the Osborne MSS. in the British Museum states that the Double Nor wich Court method was invonted by Thomas Porter, a trunk maker residing in the Markel Place, Norwich, and that tha first perform ance was a peal of Ten-In rung in Norwich in 1769. The actual darn of this peal being given, says Mr. Snownon, strengtheng the evidence in favour of its performance
It was in comnection with the practice of Courd Ten-In, at St Peter's at 6 a.m. on Sundays during the summer scason, that Johm Twiddy, the parish derk who resided near the church. wrote the following lines, which were publislied in the ' Norwich Mercury':-

Ye rascally rivgers, inveterate foes,
Disturbers of those who are fond of repose.
I wigh for the peace and quief of these lands
That Ye had round your necks what ye pull with your hands.
Any ringers, staying in Blackpool, hetween Augush 6ib and 11th who would like to try for a peal, should communicate with Mr. C Sharpies, 3, Ruland Gate, Blackpool.
It will be seen from the list appearing on another page that the Central Cauncil's Librarian is still awailing informalion with se gard to a sumber of names of the Ringers Roll of Honour. Therp are ringers who can clear up these pueries, and theg will be ren dering useful service if they will do so promplly.

Ringers visiting Grimsby or Clesthorpes will be welcome al St Andrew's Church, Freman Street; Grimsby, on Sundays. $10.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$ and 550 p.m., also on Thursdaye. $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.
Congratulations to M.' F. G. Woodiss on the bivth of a sou and heir.
The peal of Stedman Triples at Banstead, Surrey on Saturding was Mr. T. Benney's first attempr for a pal since the year 1881 prior to which date he was chosely associated, and ratg numerous peals with many of the most famoug men of the College Youthe He rang remarkably well considering his long absence from the ringing world.

A peal was rumg at Marlley, Worcestershire, on Sunday to cele burata the 250 oh maniversary of the bells. This ring of six was cast br Finhard Keeme. of Woodstock, in 1673 , each bell hating this dat cast upon it. The oak freme is also dated 1573. It is supposed tha they are the oldest complete original peal of six in the Kingdon. I is most unusual for any old peal to have cacaped breakage ar re casting for 250 yents.
Mr, and Mr. Rupert Richardson wish to thank all ringers who have sent their kind wisles and congratulations on their recent marriage, and trust they will accept this acknowedgment. as'it is im possible to write to each one individually

A big fete in aid of the bell restoration funcl at Sutton-on-Trent is to bo held on Bank Holiday, and special arrangements uave beer made for visiting ringers. A meeting of the North Notts Associa tion is to be held in conjunction with the fete.

A COMING LEADER.

ONE OF LEICESTER'S BRILLIANT YOUNG MEN.

MR, HAROLD J. POOLE OT LEIOESTELR
That brilliant young Leicester ringer, Mr. Harold J. Poole, recently completed his first 100 peals, and his achievement is really an extraordinary one. Still under 21 years of age, he did not ring his first peal until July 3 rd, 1920, so that he very rapidly climbed the campanological ladder. He reached his century inside three years, and crowned many excellent performances by calling the record length of Cambridge Surprise Major. Mr. Poolz has a great ringing future before him.

HANLEY PARISF CHURCE BELLS.

STAF要S PEAL OF TEN REOAST.

4. Ereat acquisition to Staffordshire bells is the recasli peal of Een t the Parisla Church. Hanley, which were opened on Saturday, July 21 st. Tho bells had been prachically unnsed fou five years, but tho parishioners cheerfaly faced the great effort of carrying out a complete restoration. The cost has been about $£ 1,309$ and all but abont $₫ 65$ has now been raised. Messrs. Gilleth and Johnston, of Croydon, were entmpted with the work, and they have installed a peal of ten bells, of which Eanley is now justifiably proud, and with Which the large body of ringers atcending the opening were completely satisfied. The bells, with a tener of $17!$ cwt. have been hand on the five-tone principle, and hung in now steel and iron frame, with new fittings and ball bearings thoughout. Their position in the tower is lower than that, of the old bells. and the insprovement in tone that has been effected lias grcally delighted the parighionens. At the same inme Mesers. Githelt and Johnston have nstalled a new electric self-winding chine clock the gift of Mrs. Mountford, in memory of her husband. The clock has four 7ft. skeleton dials filted centrally in the louvre windows, ten feet higher than the old dinls were placed. This clock the first of its kind to the erected, is smilar to flat at present being justalled at the Roya Exchange, London, and in four other olurches in the country by Hessus. Gillett and Johuston. There is only one weitht and that a small one, attached to the going frain. but the most remarkable featrtre about the clock is that it rewinds itgelf automatically every 20 minutes, which means a great saving in expense, and obviates the uecessity for heavy weiphes surpended from pulleys at the top of the clock tower. Incidentally, there is mote room its the belfy. Compared with the size of the normal weightedriven clock, it has considerably more power.

The tedication of the bells and clock tower took place on Saturday week, the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Stafford. There were 73 ringers present, representing no fewer than twenty towers, visitors coming from Wanchester, Crewe. Burton, Mansfield (Nats), matl Brantree (Es'sex). The opening ringing was done by the local land, assisted by Stoke tingers, viz. Messis. Fanley, Churton, Alcock, Cormer, Cordall, Dale, Cortell, Prophett, Sargeant Degr anrl Prge. The first touch of clingge ringing wat a cour'se of Stedman Caters by Messis. Morley, Similh, Allersea, Page, Allman, Cordell, G. CTawley. A. Olawloy. Fitehford. The Church Conmeil entertained fla risitimy ringers to ter at the Lichfedd Street Schools, and atter Laa, Mur, Sargeant conductor, Handey ringens), who bas been a ringer at the church for many pears. spoke feclingly of the satisfaction all the ringers fell at the reopening of tho bells, and the beantiful tone and easy "go.' He praized the Rentor aud mhurchwarden for their ofiorts in connection will the restoration, and their endenvour to lave everything done in the hest possible way by a horough and careful invesigation of the various diffienle technical questions which had eropped un within the last few montlis: He hearlily welcomed the Fisitors in the name of the Hanlev ringers, and appended for help to keep the new bells ringing until the moal band were strang enougn to carty on.
He was supporta by Mr Corner who especially thanked the Stoke He was supported by Mo Comer who especially thanked the Stoke and Neweasile ringers for help tunity to ring in their towers.
Mr, Clurton (Sloke) proposed a wote of flanks to the Rector for use of the bells, and to the Council for the excellent tea provider This was supported by the Ringing Master. Mr. Titchford (Wol(anton), who said that Hanley had now the finest peal of belly in lee association's area
The Rector (the Rep. II, A. Tamplin), replping, flanked the numerous lingers who had come from all round and helped to make the opeuing a success. He also wished to thank the iadles who had so kindly looked after them at tea. He especially expressed his satistaction with the work of Messrs, Gillett and Jolmston. whose staf had laboured most ztrenuously to get everything ready so that the opening shoula br a success.-Mr. C. F Johnston snitably replied.

DEATH OE A KENT RINGER

A PIONEER OF CHANGE RINGING.
We regret to record the death. on July 16 th a after an illness of some months of Mr. Hubert J. Blackwell, of Chelstibid. Ho was a well-known ringer in West kent, ancl in prewar gays wis one of the most enthusiastic and energetic ringors in tho Lewisham district.
Sixty-two years of age and a nalive of the Weald of Fient, ho commenced ringiag ab Bidedenden, when appucuticed in the vilage. Afterwards he migrated to Penshurst, Mereworth, and then to St. Mary Civay, subsequently taking up a business at Chelsfield, where he Jad lived for the past thirty years. Most of his earJy work in the beliry was instilling the fatt of change ringing into the local bands wherever he was, At St. Mary Cray and Chelsfield lie was the pioncer of half-pull ringing, and at each place got the bauds far enough to ring several methods of Doubles. Although as in other villages, the bands did not lase many years, he had the satisfaction of seeing some of his pupils attain a certain degree of proftciency among thens Mr. A. T. Verrals, of Brighton; Mr. R. Morgan, of Dartford: Mr. J. Emery, of Hersham: and Mr. I, Emery of Bromley. After a lapse from ringing for a few yoars, owing to busincos, le started again about 1905 , ringing and trapelling considerably.
He valg about 62 peals in various methods up to Superlative, most of them for the Kent Countw Association. He was also a member of the Ancient Society of College Youtlis, the Oxford Guild, ant the Surrey Association. His busiest fime of ringing wis when the Lewisham dislrict Surprise party was Relive, under the conductorship of Mr, F. Bennett. He then inang the treble to many Surprisa peals. and many limes have that band eujoyed the lospitality, both of Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell al, their home al. Chelsfield and of his people at the old home at Hawkhust and Benenden. Prior to the war the deceased was an hon, menber of the SS. Peter and Paul's bant. Bromley, and for Jears eycled the seven mites, winter and summer, to practice and Sunday morming singing, but since the war he stayed at Chelsfiek, ann devoted himself to good works in the villuge.

The decensed was secretary of the Willage Snorts Club, and was mamly instrumental in abtaining a splendid recreation ground for the parish. He was also on the Parish Council. and engineer of the local Fire Brigade. Thus, it will be seen, he was a man a many activities, but le was of such a goon and generous disposi tion. that he never made all ememy, and he died beloved and regrevted by all who knew him, especially by those who han been in closcst contact with hing. His place in the life of the village will he difficull fodeed to fill.
He wrs turied on Finduy, July $20 t 1$, in the pretty village elnurat rart, amidst sigus of deepesb gynpathy from the whole iultabitants of hee parish. MI", T. Groombridge, seur", and Mis. I Encery, two of his oldest finging friends, attonden to represent the Kent County Aszociation, and render fheir sympathy with the bereared.
At a meeling oi the Kent Associationt, belel at Crayford on the 2Ist a vote of condolence waz passed to the widow, and on Saturday July $28 t h$, a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Eyns ford, as a last fibute to his memory by eiglit members of the Ken County Association. Bynsford i, ilic adjoining parish to Chelsteld End the tower in which loo hnd tumg nost; peals.

RINGERS AT CRICKET

GRAMLINGTON BEAT NEWOASTLE
Ou Saturday, the 14th July, the members of the Newerstle-onTyne Guild agrin visited Cramington to take part in a friendy game at crickef with the ringivg mentiers of Cramlington Church who were" chnmpioned $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{y}} \mathrm{Mr}$. Oswald Simms.
For four hours a well-contested game was fought out in true sportsmanlike frshion, Cramlinglon eventually coming out winners with $a$ total of IVS runs against ihe Neweastlo Guild 57 .
With a litile more practice in felding the losers would put up very good show, in spito of the varied ages of fleir team As future matelies are in store for them it is hoped the suggestion will not lie averlooked. Youth will tell.
Tea was kindly provided, presided over by the Rep. T. W. A. Allen (Vicar), who weleomed the members, and trusted the happy gathering would be the precursor of many others

RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I mish to mate an appeal, through your columns, to the Exereise at lage for belp in compiling this roll.
Below will be seen two lists of names which I have denoted $A$ and B.

In list $A$, certain mantes are grouped together which bear a simi larity to each other.
I want to know how many persons are described in each group, and, if only one, which place or tower out of two or thece las the riglit to claim that one. To fake an instance: Were there two ringers of the name of 'Atwater, E.,' killed? If there was only one, should he be desoribed as coming from Slreatham or Grekficld?
In list B, there are certain mames given as belonging to Guildz or Associations, but the place or tower is left blauk. I want if possible to be able to fill un this blank space.
Secretaries of Guidds and Associations have done their best in the matter, and I now appeal to the friends of these fallen ringers to send me such information-as some of then surely must liave-as will enable to to come to a decision in each case.-Yours truly,

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN,
Fon. Librarian, Central Council,

NOMENCLATURE OE MINOR METHODS．

To the Editor．

Sir，－Being one of the aufhons of the＂Lancashires ？gund Im manuels，${ }^{\text {it }}$ is with much fear and frembling that I admit this great offerse of giving a пame and number instead of a number．Perhaps if I tell the story of how these two numbers got such outlandish names your correspondent．Mr． $\mathrm{D}_{\mathrm{i}}$ wana，will understand my fear eto．Many years ago there was a company of ringers at Immannel Ohnirch，Oswaldtwistle．Lancashite，who，after struggling on in an uphill fight for seven years，were surprised to find they could ring Surprise．This was in 1902．Font years of ebb and fow regarding surprise，and behohi I discovered Jmmanuel．A fow minutes later another of our company digeovered Lancashire．The anthor of Lan cashite is Mr．Ispac Whalloy，We rang bath liese numbers on Sinday．May 77 th， 1906 ．Inmanuel was named after the churcla we rang at，Lancashite was given ite name，perhaps，becanse what Lath－ ashime ringg today someone elze will ring to－morrow，The two sumhers were then sont to＇The Bell News，＇where it was pointed out that Ladeashire already had a number．and Immanuel was now number．The method Oswald Treble Bob T sent to r The Bell New ${ }^{\prime}$ ，a yoar or two before，and it was found that it was alreadr numhered．J have often wondered if other sis beil companies had tor found the fwo Surprige mumbers of interest，never dreaming Fhat they were in such an exalied atmosphere as near London． Yours sincerely，

ENJOYABLE METYING AT HARLINGTON

Members of South and West District held a most successful mect－ ing an Saturday，July 14th，at the ancient Parish Ghurch of Har－ lington which dates from early in the twelfth century，Tt，has a notio Normars doorway（cir．1130），the finest of its kind in Middle sex，and an interesting foit of transilional character（cir． 1190 ）． The Eastior sepulche－a tine piece of Tudor work（1545）is one of the comparatively few example which escaped destruction in Paritan times．There are some good windows by Kempe，and the manin－ ficent yewtree in the ehurelyard．though of untold age，is still in rigorous health．There are six bells dabiag fron 1769 ．which were last rehung in 1904.
linging was induiged in during the aftomoon，when a short charal service was held，conducted by the Rector（the Rev．H．Wilson）．The Rector welcomed the association，aurd dealt at leiggtin on the good the Guild meetings dicl．It helped to foster botherhooì among ringers，and oftentimes．when some were at variance．it helped to renew the spirit of harmony which is essential to make these meet－ ings a success．
After service，the party adjourmed to the Soloolroon for tea，to which 45 ringers，the eltoiv and organish sal down．The Rectar pre－ sited over a merry party of over 60．Harlington strawberries were in abundance．
At the neeting which followed，the usual vote of thanks was ac－ corded to the Rector and n］I mho assisted to make the meeting such a sucress．
The Rector whes elected an honorary life member，with a promise or the tower and members to be affiliated later，providing tive hon． secrefary sent an instruchor to assist finem，On the secetary＇s ep． Meal to the meeting a rolunfeer was found at once．
Tiandbell ringigg on the lawn，and later another visit to the tower brought a red－letter day at Harlington to a close．

ONE-MAN' JOBS.

From time to time instances come to light emphasising the great disadvantage, we might aimost say the folly, of relying upon one man for the discharge of offices connected with ringing matters. We have often pointed out how, sooner or later, ringing is bound to suffer in those towers where all the conductiog is left in the hands of one man, either through the selfishness of the conductor or the indifference of the other members of the band, who, having no ambition, are content to leave matters to a single individual. After a time the inevitable bappens. The conductor moves away to another district, or from some other cause, it may be illness or death, his connection with the tower ceases. Then comes the collapse of the band as a competent change-ringing unit, for it seldom happens that in such cases the need of the hour produces the man capabie of carrying on from the point where bis predecessor stopped.

When a similar state of affairs arises in connection with an association the position is much more serious. More than once of late a ringing organisation has found itself without an occupant for a secretaryship. The most recent instance is in the Salisbury Guild, where Mr. C. H. Jennings, who took a leading part in founding the Dorcbester District twelve years ago, and has been its hon. secretary ever since, has found it necessary to resign office on account of his removal from the district, following upon a long illness arising out of his war experiences. For two years past, we are told, he has been asking his fellow-members to find a successor, but apathy or lack of interest all the while the secretary remained in office led to nothing being done. Now the district has come to the definite resignation of its chief official it is unable to find anyone willing to undertake the duties. The spade work which Mr. Jennings did before the war, and resumed for a time afterwards, has largely been lost during his enforced absence from the district, which goes to prove how quickly a retrograde movement can set in when the 'mainspring' is removed. It is hardly creditable to the Dorchester District that they should be unable to find a successor to the late secretary, for the work that lies before the branch should be surely an incentive to some member of the Guild to shoulder the task. At the same time there is a lesson to be learned by all who are responsible for the organisation of ringing associations. There ought always to be available an understudy for the essential offices of an association, and wherever there is a secretary there should be an assistant secretary who could take over the duties in any emergency, even if in normal times his position may be a sinecure. In our view, however, an assistant secretary might always find some useful work to do.

PERSEVERANCE NOT KEWARDED

I was one day visiting a member of our band of ringern, who was noted for his laxity in ringing matters, and who also kept a large quantity of fowls.

Noticing ons hen very closely ' sitting.' I ventured to hold her up as an object lesson to jllustrate haw the desirext accomplislmment it eliange ringing could be attained by diligence and persererance.

Iook at that hen, I exclaimen, see how patieatly she : sits, knowin! fuld well sha will bo rewarded by a fine brood of young chicks at the end of hor labours. That hen's patience, lre exclaimed, wil] neve he rewarded if she site from trow fill doomsday; she is sitting on Pitcher egg.

THE CRITICISMS OF 'CRITICUS.'

MUSINGS ON DIVERS TOPICS.

The period of the year upon which we are Butering is known to many people as the "silly season, bocause it gives rise in the Press to discussions on a variety of subjects, some of them censible and wise, many of them lame and rinticulous. All the rest of the year the newspapers rigidly exclade these controversics-they bave not room for them, their columbs are fillen with something more interesting (perhaps!! if often as silly. Now that the judges and lawyers lave gone tor their long holftay, and Parliameut is or soon will be, 'up,' the e two fou nta of material are temporarily dried up, and the opportuniby is provided for the big goosoberry growers, the clampion mangold wurzel merchanta, and a multitude of cranks, to let themselves go in the newspapers. It is the one time in the year when their contributiong are welcomed-well. perliaps not welcomed, but tolerated by editors in t.te efforl to keep things alive.
Being oue anong the multitude above referred to and laving moticed that the dom days and holidays have had a visible effect on the number of peals which usually fill so many of the columns of our own joumal, it las occurved to me that the Editor might possibly colerate, , if not welcome, the outcome of some further musings of an amatelir penman.
One of the subjects which 1 lave long leen tempted to express my views rapon is that mucla debated topic of poal points. Probably the Exercise doesn't wart, to know what my opinions are, and cerrainly will take filte notice of them but tho Central Council has sonu got to do ang of hwo things, either make the peal points what they were originally inlended to be-a compeitive standard-or do away with them altogether. Persomally I am for wiping them out, and mainly for tro reasolis. In the frst place competition in peal ringing is out of place in comnoction with something which we liko In assaciate with elurch work. The Council have to some exteut climinated the spirit of rivalry, which noint scoring creales, by publishing the analysis in alphabetical form: why, therefore, bother abont points at all? Ant after all the compelition, such as it is, is really fietitions, and must be innless every, ringer is to $b_{e}$ compelled to confint his peal activities to one association and one only.
Some ringers in London, for instance, ring peals for five or six different sociefios in the conrse of a year. Where, then fis the campetitive value of their performanees? A footballer is not allowed to score goals for ane team one week and for another team in the same competition the next week, and then revert to the first club or go ont fo a thind in the following week. This wout he absurd, but it would be no more ahsurd than the pregent practine of ringing peals for a number of different societies - if the peals are to be treated on a competitive basis; and what is the use of a scate of points if they are not?

My second objection to points fol perals is that they do not, and, indeed, cannot represenli the true walue of a performance in the majority of cases, Jiglat poials are allowed for a peal of Bob Major. Are these points intended to represent a peal of maximum qualty or minimun quality iu regard to the sfriking? I shall probably be told that they represent all qualities-but if $I$ ann, it is an argas ment in favour of my staloment that points do not represent the true valme of the majority of the peals purg, beonuse if points are to be of aux walue, they must represeut a slandurd. I could multiply the innestrations of the futility of the present point system, if it were necessary to do so, swch as the worth of a peal where all or large proportion of the ringers are first pealers' the guestion the weight of the hells, or even of their good or bad ${ }^{\text {c go. }}$
There is, however, one other featnre in which the allocation of points is unsatisfactory, and that is in the comparison which is made between one method and another. A method mav not present anything like the same difficulty to one band that it does to another. Some people I know look upon Bristol Surprise Major as a method as terathle as London to ring. Having rumg a good many peals of both. my opinion is that Bristol is more to be compared with Superlalive than with Loudon and to mo it never presented any more diffeulty. I just refer to this, to slow that a peal of, sity, Hristol, may bo a much bigger lask to one band than to another, although, in all round ability, the men may be practically equal. Moreover, poin's for peals on higher numbers seem to be allocated by rule of thumb. The commitiee have. I suppose, to atope some methed when con fronted by a fresly performance, and rule of thumb is the easiest hut we have-read from the opinions of those who know, becanse they have rung the mefhod that the number of points for Stedman Sextuples, compared with Cinques, $i_{g}$ not commensurate with the increase in the valne of the performance. Double Norwich Maximus is anollaer method ahout whinh those who have rang it say there are $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{y}}$ no meang adegrate paints allowed.
Then there are the nandhell peals. Can anyone of experience contend that a pend of Stedman Triples does not want more ringing than a peal of Sterman Caters? If Stedman Caters were all turn ing rourses $\mathrm{j}_{\mathrm{t}}$ would 1 de clifferent, but there are only two courses in an ordinary peal of Stedman Caters that, are of any real difficulty to an accomplished hand. And again, ought not Cayters Odd-Bob penl of Triples rung mon-conductef to fount for move than Thurstans' composition with a conductor, or a slort comse peal of Stedman Cinques more than a peal in the filtums throughout? These and many other poinis ilfustrate how little real valio hiere is in peal points, and bring me back to my first assertion, that the Central Council should make them represent what they are supposed to indi. cale-which, I contend, is practically impossible-or drop them altogethor.
Let us continue to have the anmual analysis by all meane. It is a useful and valuatule compilation, which is of mote than passiog interest, for it sets out in compact form what has been done during the year, and brings togelher under one comprehensive review all the doings of all the peal ringers. But the points-phat?

A paragraph in 'Belfry Gossip' last week gave mo catise to think. Court Ter:In was rung in Norwich in 1769, we were told, Now, where did this mame come from? The prefix of Norwich We can understand, but whence came the designation ' Court, and how and when did 'Ten-In" become Royal? I raisod a similar question in a letter publishecl in "The Riuging World' a weak or two ago. And why "Surprise"? One an gues loow this may lave crepti into the ringing vocabulary, but ' Bob , and ' Court,' and "Royal, whence came they? Many' of these ofd names have beome such an integral part of our ringing lanyarge that we seldon stop to think of their origin. Cannol someone among the learned in oltr art tell us how we got these queer names for we must admit they are queer? Thoy are just as quaint to outsiders as, for instance, sueh words as stymie and niblick in golf aro to me. We are still adding to the outfandish and unsuitable terms which ware applying to our art, but when are we going to bring into common usage those terms which the Conncil many years ago adopted, in completing the andife from Treble Bob and Delight, to Surprise-Passalatera and Passalatessera? I cannot pronounce them, and 1 am mot sure that I have spelt them righty, bub some day, perhaps, we shall rend of a peal of New Geranium Passalatesera Maximus. It is guite possible, but what a mame!

Everyone must have been interased last week in the compliment paid Lo that brilliant young Leimeter ringer, Harold Poole, by the pullication of his photograph. His ringing record is one of greal achievenent, but liad the been leis fortunate $i_{n}$ the company to which he is attached his genius wonld likely lave been effectivoly quenched. There are many centres, even to-day, where only one Chasar is permitted to reign, where the recognised bob-caller sees to it that no other is given a chance to hecome a conductor. Such an attitude is more than short-sighted, and Leicester ringers will proh ably be elloying the fruits of their policy long after many bands, witla the 'one and only' an the box every time, lave disuppared. It is necessary to have a leader, but the leader's duiy is not only to lead, but to train others to the task. There are amona the ringers of to-day many brilliant young men. Sornce like Harold Poole are given their opportunity, others are held in leading strings. Jealous, lias no place in the belfry, but abilits and ambition ased to b

TAUNTON RTNGTERS OUTTNG

On Saturday, Jniy 7th, St. James, Guilic. Taunton, lad theit annual outing, accompanied by a few friends. Tho party, wumbering 22, left Taunton at 7 a.m. in a charabanc and motorear. Rnd a run was made to Yntton, where the eight belk were raiserl in poal, and screral homokes oil Grandzide and Stedman Triples hrought round. After an hour's stay. tracks were made for Portisbead, where the genial Ringing Master. Mr. Gillingham. had everything roady. Grandise and Stedman Triples. Plain Bob and Doubie Norwich Major were struck in edmirable style on the bandy eight bells. Which are in $\Omega$ thorough going order. After lumeh a visit was paid to Emmanuel Chumeh. Cliftom, to rean which tike famous Suspension Briage was erossen, ant some splendid riews of the surronnding noighbourhood were obtained. After a few toughes of Grandsire, Sterman and Boh Major, the journes was continued tn Trong Ashton, where tha visitors were met hy Mr. Yeo. The heavy ring of oinht, with a 31 cmi. tenor, were mised in peal ant sevoral tonches including Kent Troble Bob Major were exceliently rung. Birrow Gurney was the nexic call, and here Mr. Claments met the ringars, Several lowhes were tapped off in firsteclasg style. and aftor lowering the bells, the visitors inspeted the pe-Reformations bell, which rests on the belfry floor. This bell was very mioh admived. as was also the most herutiful olutch. The last place on tile programme for ringing was Wraxall. Where there is a fine peal of eight bells, with a 23 cx th tenor. Towches of Grandsire, Stedman gnd Bab Major baving been brouglat round the bellg were lowered in meal. After tea, the homeward journey hegan. Tauntron heine reached at 10,30 . after of thoroughly enjoyable campenological oul.
ing. The rimgers wisl, through the medium of the "Ringing Worid,' to thank the incumbents for the use of the bells, the steeplekeepers for having overything ready, and all others who asgisted in making the day such a splendid suceess.

A TRIP TTHROTGH DORSHT

The riugers of All Saints' Chuph, Castle Cary, with theic wives, had an enjoyable charabanc outing ous Saturday, July 2lst. Weymouth was their destination, but several belfries were visited en routo. Leaving Castle Cary at 8 an., the party proceeded to Marston Magna, where the bells were raised, and a counse of Grandsire Doubles rung. Fctminster was the next call, where after a ring, the party were shown over the chumeh and Memorial Hall by the Ficar and Mrs. Morgan, who kindly supplied refreghraents. Journeying through some of the most beautiful scenery in Dorset the company marived at Fordington St. George, where some of the local band received the visitors, and gave them a very pleasant time, both on the bells aud conducting the party around the church. The last ringing place wis Dpwey, where there is a light peai of six and a fery quaint old church. The short ring there was much appre ciated alike by wisitors and villagers, who nearly filled the church. Weymouth was reached at 3.30 p.m. and a busy lime was spent till 6.30, when the return journey was besurn, Cary being reached at 10.20 p.m., after most interesting day.

AMONG SUFFOLK BELLS.

On Weduesday, July 4 th, the ringets of Thornham Magna, Suffolk, lad their annual outing by motor. Ringing took place on the peal of six bells at Finborougli, the six it Monts Eleigh, and the sin at Preston, AE the latiter place the visitors were met by Mr . A. Symonds, who had assisted witly the arrangements. After dimmer at Laveaham, and ringing on these famous bells, the party weat on to Sudbury, but were wiable to ring at All Saints Church owing to illness. Touches were, however, rung on the peal of eight at Sti. Gregory's, before going on to Boxford and Hadleigh. After tea the journey was contimised to Siowmarket, where further ringing was done. The wethods rung on six bell; were Oxford Kent and Cambridge Surprise, and on eight bells, Oxford, Kent, Double Norwicl Major and Stedman Triples, the touches being conducled by F. W. ]'oppy, C. Cattermole and J. Souter (Diss). The rest of the company included E. Xoungs, A. J. Berry, O. Ninn J. Betts, IH Moss, G. Kemp, F. Hayward, G. Brown and B Chilyers, fogether with the Rectel of Thornlam Magna (tlle Rev, E. F. Bingley).

MINOR WITH DOUBLE BOBS.

A further step in extending the interect of Minor ringing has been made by a peal, which we recorded in our columang a fow weeks ago, in geven Treble Bob Methods, in each of which hobs are called with the treble bohind as well as in front, sometimes with bobs in one place only; sometimes with them 'doubled,' tiat is to say, a bob behind followed in the next half lead with a bob in front. The composition is the result of the ingenuity of Mr . J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, and it was rumg, as will be remembered, $\mathrm{b}_{\mathrm{y}}$ the band of Minor experts at Norbury, Cheshire.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

On August 12 th, 1776 , a peal of 6,012 Grandsire Caters was rung a Lesicester, and on August 17th. 1812, a 5,000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal was rung at Coventry upon the famous bell ${ }_{5}$ of St. Michael's Church -now, alas, no longer langing in the steeple.
The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung at Ipswich on August 15th. 1908, and the first peal of Double Norwich Major in Wales, at Rhyl on August 13th, 1883.

Strange conditions exist in some belfrieg. At Elleamere, Salop, a paid band of call-ehange ringers, ring for Sunday serviees, but a poung and enthusiastic band are permitted to practize change ringing for a short time each week. The latter have just rurg their first quarler-peal.
Mr. F. S. Witson's many frientis in the ringing world will be pleased to hear that his wife, who had to undergo a very seriotis internal operabion some six weeks ago, is now making food progres towards reoovery. It is hoped that she will in the near future be able to leave the nursing home is Norwich and veturn home.

Ohevalier Denyo, the great carilloneur of Malines, who has heen in England for the opening of the Loughborough carillon, visited Cattistock, Dorset, and gave a farewell recital on the carillon in the ehurch tower. Several hundred people visiled the small village to hear the bell music. which was rendered in the master's inimitable styie.
There are still names in the Ringers Roll of Fonour ghout which the Central Council's Libuarian is awaiting information. Will those who are able to help in this matter please do so at once?

The ringer of the 5th in the pedl of Bob Major at Willesden an July 24 was R. A. Fardon, not Farndon, as stated.

ST. ANDREW'S, NORWICH.

To the Eaitor.
Sir-The interesting article on St. Andrew's bells in your issue of July 20th. led me one marning recently to pay a visit again to the deserted belfy one of our mumerous Norwich wrecks. I speak of course, of the beils, and not of the church. which bas had of late years much care lavished on it, and which is not only the second largest of our ancient parish churches of Norwich, but next in point of interesli to St. Peter Mancroft

In the early days of my acquaintance with our art, and shortiy before the bells became derelinl-some time in the 1890's-I recollect ringing on the ten bells. In ihose daya a ringer usually went once to St. Andrew's, and once only. The story goes that the late Jasper W. Snowdon. on being taken to the belfry, exclaimed. "Is thts the place where tley raug London Surprise? Well, letts bogetting back to St. Peter's.' The bells are rather 'a wild lot,' and in this connection, it is not without significance that so long a period as 17 years elapsed after the opening in 1825, before a peal wias accomplished on the tea.
But my object in going the other day to this half-forgothen belfre was to see what. I mighti of those details, 2,3 to which your corre. spondent seeks information up to date.
First, as regards the order of the ropes. Alas, there are no longer any ropes, beyond those belonging to a chiming apparatus, Mr. C. E. Borrott, who has kindly looked up his records, assures me that the ropes did fall in the wusual order mamed, viz., $1,3,2$, 7. 10. 5, 4, 6, 9, 8 .

Then as to tablets. There are only three tablets on the belfry walls-one of stone recording (as stated in your auticle). the aurmentation of the ring to ten in 1805; ant two others of wood, of but indifferent workmanship. Of these latter, the one recorda a peal of 7,360 Oxford Trebie Bob, Nov. 16, 1837, and the olher, two peals(a) 5,088 Trebla Bob Dee. 5th, 1823. and (b) 5,040 "Grandsier Tripples, Treb. 23'd, 1824. There are no tablets in the belfrp to the two peals on the ten belis-Treble Bob Royal. May 5tli, I842, and Stedman Caters, Sept, 15th, 1842 -and I do not think there aver were tablets to these peals.
In the' East Anglian,' an archmological journal, tho frst number of which appeared in 1858. and which contains complete records of all the ancient 'steeple-hoards ' in the Norwich belfries, I find records of the St. Andrew's tablets in volumo 1, No. 28, but only the two tablet to the 8-bell paals are there noted. It would be most interesting, therefore, to learn whence $\mathrm{Mr}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Jerram heard of those fablets to the ten-bell peals. By the way, it has always beer reporied that the compozition of that peal of Stedman Gaters in 1842 was falee.-Yours very truly,
G.EORGE P. BURTON.

THE FIRST PEAL OF NORWICH ROYAL.

AUTHENTICATED BY OLD NEWAPAPER EXTRACTS

Referring, last week to the first peal of Court Ten-In, rung at St. Peter Mancroft in 1769, we Eaid that ihere was no authentie record loft to us of this eariy' peal, exsept that it was referren to in the - Clavis and in ine Osborne MSS, in the British Museum. Mr. T. E. Slater, of Hunts lizill Glemsford, Suftolk howeser, sond i, wo extracts from 'The Nourwieh Mercury, which should certainly set at rest any doubts upon the matter.
In his ' History of Deable Norwich Court Bob,' the lato Mr. Jasper Snowdon wrate with regard to Royal, tiat the first mention of a peal of Royal is the onc said to have beon rung on the old ring of ton bells at Si. Peter's, Norwich. Although nothing beyond what has alread. been stated concerning this peal (stummarised in Belfry Gosim ? last week) is known to me and I am informed by more than one old Norwich ringer that there is now no further knowledge in Norwich of its laving been performed, I am unwillivg not to let $i t$ have tho benefit of the doubt and, therefore. give it a place - Christ Church, Spilalfelds. Thas drawing is in commemoration of an excellent peal rung in this church by a friendily society, on Satur. day, Felo. 28th. 1801 , consisting of 5,040 changes of Court Bob Royal in 3 has. and 37 mins. This great performance (being the first in this miricale methon] is highly estecmed for tle correct sfriking and harmony it produced and cannot be equalled but by tho same exortion and perseverance, which must aver reflect honour and oredit to the performers: Thomas Smith 1, James Purser 2, Joseph Ladley 3, William Beard 4, Johu Reeves 5, Anthony Cavalier 6. William Troup 7, Charles Barber &, John Noonan 9, Edwnrd Bartell 10. The above peal was compozed and conducted by Mr. Noonan.

The cecond peal referred to by Shipway was recorded on a tablet in Shoreditch belfry in the foliowing terms:-

Cumberland Youths. This inscription will land to posterity the unparalleled abilities displayed in the performance of a peal that was rung in this Eteeple, on Tuesday, 7th April, 1801, of $5,220 \mathrm{changes}$ of Court Bob Roynl in 3 hours 37 minutes, being the first ever ruug

In this famous tower many historic peals have been rung, among them tho firsi of Norwich Courf Bob Royal and Maximus reforred to in the accompanying article.
in these records. I also wislt to place it upon this hisi, so that by keeping it still before the eyes of the public, if any corroborative evidence of its accomplisliment yet exists, it may be brought forward. ${ }^{1}$

Shipwas; adds Mr. Suowdon, 'mentions two peal of Royal rung in bis time.

This and the following peal of Royal were rung in 1801. The 5,040 at Christ Church: Spitalfield; by a band selected from the principal socielies of ringers in the Metropolis, and on a tablet in that eteeple it is stated to be.the first peal ever rung in that intricate method. The 5,200 was rung at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, by a banl of the Society of Cumberlands; conserguently by that Statement, they wre the first and only Society blat has accomplished so arduous an undertaking.'
The tablek recording the peal at Spitalfields was deatroyed in the fire of 2836. but a copy of it is preserved in tlie Osborne MSS. The hoard was surmounted by a drawing of the church, and the inscriplion was na follows:-
by any society in tiat iatricale method. Gomposed and called by Mr. George Grass, seuior, Mr. George Lasaigued, junr. Master; Mr. William Ilhompsen, Mr John Baker, Churchwardens; Geo. Gross 1, Geo. Gross, junr., 2, James Nashı 3' W. Shipway 4. J. Poulden 5, John Hints 6, M. Ohammon 7, T. Reeves 8, Samuel Bowling 9, W. Stephens 10."

Mr. Slater now gives us the following extract from the ${ }^{\text {r }}$ Norwich Mercury; which seems to have recorded pretty faithfully all the important doings of the Norwieli ringers:-

St. Peler Mancroft-On Monday April 17th. 1789, 5,040 changes of Parter's Peal of Court Bob upon Ten Bells was rung at St. Peter of Mancroft by the Ringers of that Parish, which thoy compleated in 3 hours and 29 minutes.'
Unfortunately no names are given with the record. In the pear 1816, the year in which glipway publinhod his 'Art of Ringing, in which upponreat the extract given above, another nolice of the Norwich pent was inserted in the 'Norwich Mercury, the Norwich Scholars, apparenlly, being annoyed when they found that Shipway

The Firgi Peal of Norwich Royal-continued from page 505. Had omitted all reference to their peal. Mr. Slater gives ug the ex tract as follows:-

Notice.-Norwich, Nobember. 1816.-In a reent publication on ille intrieate science and ingenious art of change inging it states 1bat Court Boh Royal a peal of 5,040 was rung at Chist Church, Spitalfields, London, by a band chosen from firee of the London Societies in the year 1801. This musical and intricate peal was composed in tinig city by Mr. Willian Porter in the gear 1751, and rung by the vorwich company on the old ring of tien bells at SL. Peter Mancroft Ohurch, a compleat peal. 5,040 changes, on Mondny, April 17th, 1763, and called Norwich Court Bob Royal, which performance cantinued 3 hours and 29 minutes.
The eviderce, we think, will fully establish the peal of 1769 at Norwich as the first in the method and provides the corroboration which Jasper Snowdon hoperi might he fortheoming.
It is interestiug to note that in addition to the first peal of Royal, the first peal of Norwich Court Bob Maximus was also rung af $t. Peter Mancroft; this was on January 20th. 1817. The tablet recording the peal is an follows:-

Mondiy, Jantrary 20th. R817, were rung in this steeple 5,016 of ihat most ingenious and intricate peal. Norwich Court Bob Maximus. in 4 lus. anci 2 mins., wilhout the miss of a bell, or repetition of a single change. This peal very much resembles Norwich Court Royal on Ten: there being very short dodging on tho bells before and bekind, and tenth's place at the bob. The ingenuity of its composition, and the bold and regalar striking yefleet groat credit on the company, anti are allowed by judges to be a performance which. if ever equalled, can nower be surpassed. It is the first peal erer accomplished in England in that intricate methad on twelve hells; wa conducted by Robert Chesnutl and ruag by the following persans: Robert Chesnutt proble. Peckover Fill 2. Jom Gidiens 3. Charles Giltings 4. Somuel Havers 5. Charle; Kelf 6. George Hames 7. John Trowse 8, Jcserh Lubliok g. Thomas 3Tury 10 . Nathaniel Beales 11 . Samuel Thurston and Mattiew Smith tenor,

HERTEORD COUNTT ASSOCIATION

A very sucessiul meeting took. place at Great Wymondley no Satarduy. July 2sth. Members were present from Kimptan. Halfield and Hitclin to meet the local band. At the meeting which followed tea at the Green Man. Mr. G. E. Croft was voled to the chair, and one new member (Mr Lindsey) was elected. Owing to the Thes, Gallop bsing away on holiday, to service conld be arranged for bul he returned homa in time to greet the nambers in the fower before they dispersed.
The usual votes of thank, together with more ringing in the Minor methods, well struck ended a pleasant. half-holidav with the bells. The towes is considered a good example of the Perpendicular period. and was restored, together wifh the elvurelt, in 1884. One of the bells dates back to 1595 . Some of the Norman windows remain in the apsidal chancel. The chance] areh and the south doormay are good Nouman specimeus.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

LEWISHAM DISTRTCT MTBTING

The quarlerly meeting of the Lewisham district was held at Crasford on Saturday, July 2lst. The bells which were recently rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. were made good use of during the alfermoon and evening, tonches in methods from Grandsire Triples. to London Surprige Major being accomplished. Service was held at 5.30 p.m. the association form being used, and an inferesting addreg 5.30 p.m., the association form being used, and an interesting address was given by Camon Gristavis Jones (Rectar)

The nembers then adjourned to the Parizh Room. wliere fet, kindly provited by the churchwarden, and others, awailed thent Nearly fify gat down, including the Rector, churelatarden aud organisl: The business mectiug followed, ihe Rector presiding.

The eleation of Miss M. Nye, previous to a peal, was confirmen, and Lewisham was selected as the place of the next meeting.
A rote of conclolence was passed by all etanding in sileuce, wioh the widow and family of the late H. J. Blackwell of Chelsfield, whose fineral took place the previous day and the district secretary wa asker to convey the same to Mrs. Blackuell.
A hearty wote of thanks was uccorded the Rector for the use nf the bells, his address, and presiding; to Mr. Docker, F.R.A.M., for his services at the organ: 10 the churchwarden and others for the splendid tea they had prorided, and the ladies who had waited at tahie.
The Rector, replying, said it han given him great plensure. He had intended heing away, but had put of going in order to be with them (applanse)-Mr. Docker also said it had been a pleasure to him; he enjoyed the music of the bells, and it minglie interest trem in know that be played the first tune on the bells of St. Andrew's, Welle Street, previous to their being rung.
This concluded the business, and a couree of stedman Caters and Grandsirn Cinques were rung on the haudbells, before the tower was agnin wisited.

THE BELLSOF ST, MICHAEL'S MOUNT.
Mr. J. R. Jerram writes: There are six bell $\mathrm{i}_{\mathrm{s}}$ the tower at St. Miohael's Mount, Cornwall. but only the tenor is hung, and this "dead ' in the middle of the bell chamber, for the dock to strike upoll. The otller bells are lying taseless on the floor, and two of thom are cracked.
The original peal consisted of five pre-Reformation bells, with black-letter : inseriptions. In 1785 they were augmented to six, by recasting the secoud, which was cracked, and ndding anotler bell be. tween it and the treble, which was fully a note sharp with the old second. The following are the particulars and inserfptions, as faken hy Mr. Dunkin in 1875.
Treble.- 'A Ordo Potestatam.' In black-letter with Lombardic capitals. Diameter 24-inch. Lyisg on the Hoor, but apparently sound.
Second.- "Come away, make 110 delay 1785.' In Roman anitals, with inverved $\mathrm{V}_{\mathrm{s}}$ for As. Broken and lying on the foor. By Rudhall. Diameter 26t inches.
Third.- Charles and John Rudhall fecertini.- In Roman apitals. Broken: and lying ou the floor. Diameter $27 f$ inches.

Fourth (on the crown).- Spiritus Sanctus egt Deus * (round the shoulder). "Gabriel Sancte Paule, Ora Pro Nobis " (on the waist " Ordo Virtutum-Maria "). In hack-lotter, with erowned Lombardic capitals. Lying on the fiobr. but apparently sound. Diameter 30 inches
Fiftif (on the erown). - * Filius est Deus * (round the shoulder)
Raplael " Sancta Margarela Ora Pro Nobis " (on the waist) : Ordo Archangelormm Al] in black-letter, with crowned Lomhardic capitals. Lying on the foor, but apparently sound. Diamater 33 inches.
Tenar- - Sali : Deo : deater : (sic for ${ }^{6}$ detur ${ }^{2}$ ) Gloria : 1840 : 000014 coins of Charles T.) I : P.' By John Pennington. In large Roman capitals. The $G$ in "glorin" is veversed. Diameter 353 inches. Hung riead for the rlork to strike upon.
Exidently the original fenor was inseribed 'Pater est Dens.' and mohably the mame "Michacl., Trom $\mathrm{Dr}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Borlase"s MS. We find that the old secoud was inscribed: 'Saucte Nieholae Ora Pro Nohis 'Ordo Pricipatumm."
Not onl ${ }^{2}$ ara the disused hells lying on the floar. but the mhole of tho bell frans has been taken away. Can anything be more deplorable than the present disgraceful condition of these bells?

Each peal comes romnd at hand two leada before the last course end.

RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir, -I wish to make an appeal, through your columng, to the Exercise at large for help in compiling this roll.
Below will be seen two lists of mames which i have denoted A ano B.

In list A, certain nanes are grouped together which bear a simi. larity to each other.
I want to know how many persons are described in each group, and if only one, which place or tower out of two or three laas the fight to claim that one. To take an instance: Were there two ringers of the name of "Waites," killed? If there was only one, should he be described as coming from 'twickenlaze or Bishop's Cannings?
In list B, there are certain names given as belonging to Guitds or Associations, but the plage or tower is left blank. I want if possible to be able to fill un this blank space.
Secreiaries of Guilds and Associations have done their best in the matter, and I now appeal to the friends of tirese falien ringers to send me such information-as some of them surely must have-as will enable me to come to a decision in each case.-Yours traly,

CYRIL W, O. JENKYN.
Hon. Librarian, Central Council.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

OOROEPSTER BRANCH SEGRETARY'S RESIGNATION

Prolonged absence from the district througlt ildhealth, prevented the lion, secretary of the Dorchester Brancly of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild from calling m meeting in the district until & temporary retum enabjed him to arrange a meeting at short notice on Saturday reak in order to fransect the anuual business. The meeting was field at St. Peter's Institute, Dorchester, and weat presided over by the obirman of the branch (筑r. R. N. Dawes), supported by the hon smoretary (Mr. C. H. Jemings). The towers represented were Dorchester St. Petar's, Fordington St, George, Buckland Newton, wyke Kegis, Woof, Swarage, and Bridport, and there wers also visit, ing ringers from Bridport (Mr. T, Herwey Beans, assistant general secrelay y of the Guidd and Bristol ( Mr . W. A. Cave)
The Rer G. C. Niven R.D (Rector of
The Rer, G. C. Niven, R.D. (Reetor of St. Peter's), and his warden (Mr. F. G. Longman) wero also pucsent, and tho last named extended a hearty welcame to the branch, but regroted that thay were that day to receive the resjgnation of thein hon, secretary: A numher of apologieg for non-attendance were received Major $C$. C. Fughes $D^{1}$ Asth (Master of the Guild) wrote that he should like to have been present to Have thanked Mr. Jonnings for the good work that he had done for the Guild, and the Rev. F. Ll. Edsards (general secrecary), in his letter, referred to the successful work of Mir Jemings, whom he described as a standing model of the energetic type of secretary. Appreciative wibutes to Mr . Jemnings services were also rearl from the Rev. E. S. Field (Buckland Newton), Rev. A. L. Helps (Puddletowil), Rev. C. A. Phillips (Fimborne Traectr secretary), and Mr , Martin Stewart (late Master of the Guild). Apologies for atzence were also anmonnced from Messrs. J. T. Godwin (Dorchester). W, Bedford (Bere Regis), and Williams \{West Lulworth).
The amual report was presented as follows: " Unfortunatel ${ }_{F}$ the secretary has been out of the cistrict, in hospital since May last, and ance bis departure we have held no findiber meetings. Two quarterly meetings were held-the first at. Wool, where some excelient practice in change ringing was obtainer; the second at Hilton, but owing to inclentent weather this mechng was not well attended. The secuctary paid three risits to Bore Tegis, during February and Harch, fo give the local band an insight into the art of elange inging. Unomployment among our ringers has taken them to other fistricts, and particulaily the tower of Wyke Regis hes suffered heavily, and we have lost the assistance of Mr. Wiffen a most valuable change ringer, which is greally regretted. We glso regret that 3r. Jobu Bengor, owing to pressure of work, has resigned the deputy mastership. We are pleased to still retain hig assistance, and we trust in the near future to see him at his old post again. We thank our homorary members for their continued support. also the Rev. H. A. Caryl, and the Rev. J. Ge. L. Anderson and his Church Council for providing tea at the meelings and the great assistance they gave; also Major $\mathrm{D}^{*}$ heth and our chairman who assistedin the absence of the secretary, and Mr. Bedford (Bere Regis), who lias given great assistance to tho Guild. Our sympathy is extended th one of our ald and respectod members. Mr. T. Pago (Upwey), in his late illness. In conclusion. the secretary would like to thank all the members for thoir kindness in writing to him while he was away.
The financial statement showed a balance in hand on the year's working of the branch of 84 17s. 3d., in addition to which saviny certificates of tho walne of de7 are held.
The election of offioers resulted as follows: Claimman, Mr, R. N. Dawes: Ringing Master, Mr. G. T. White; Deputy Master, Mr. Run.
Tho meetin
The meeting nert received with mach regret the resignation df Mr. Jemings as lion. secretary, a position which lie has filled with listinct credit for twelve Fears, and relinquished on account of his removal to Bristol. -The Chairman voiced the regret of the members at losing the services of Mr. Jennings, and tio eulogised his raluable Work fou the branch, and also for belt ringitug in general.-Mr. T. Herver Beams also added bis tyibute to the work of Mr. Jennings. Mr. W. A. Cave made atpoial appenl to the members to find a secretary, as he knew it was a great worry to Mry Jemings that away from it. It: would be a load oft his mind if someone would come formard and carry on the wort Several of the merk.
Several of the members mere invited to take over the duties of hon. secretary, hut as no one wauld accept the offime it was left in the hands of the chairman and Mr". Jensings to try to get someone to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Jennings im explessing lits thanks to the members for their kindly sentiments, mentioned that he was the means of forming the $b_{1}$ anel twelve years ago, and no one regretterl more than he did That he had to lenwo the district. His great ambition was to see the bells in some of the lorely towers in Dorset augmented to eight in unmber. Heartily did lie thank his brother ringers for the great Eindness fher hat shown to him, and the splendid fellowship that had exisfed among them during the past twelve years would be one of his lappiast memories and nover he forgoten. If at any time he could be of assistance to the Gutid ho should he only too pleased to do all he possibly could. Mr. Jennings having mentioned that his wife had carried on the eecrebarlal wark during the time that be was laid aside in hospital, the Rev. G. C. Niven said that she was deserv. ing of a special vote of thanks (spplause)
Tt was reported that at the anmund meeting of the Salisbury Dio. cesan Guild, the suggestion was brought forward from the Dean of Salisbury that the Guild should associato ilself with the diocesan war memorial by providing oak panelling for the screen in the memorial chapel in tho cathedral with an inscription sommemorative of those ringers who gave their lives in the war". The branch unanimously decided to subseribe $\mathbb{E}^{2} 2$. lowards the fund, and also eI 1s towards the expenses in connection with the reception of the Central Council at Salisbury last Whitsun.
In response to the kind invitation of the Rev. B. S Field it was resolved to hold the next meeting of the branch at Bucksand Newfon.
Fotes of thanks were passed to the Rector of St Peter's for grant: ing tile use of the institule for the meeting, and to the chairman for presiring. Both before and after the moeting ringing took plage on the bells of St. Peter's and Fordington St, George.

AMONG THE FLOWERS.

AN EXJTACT TROM THF DTARY PEPYS DTD NOT WRITE.
Monday.-Being somewhat dismay'd at the action of tho Central Conncil Lowarts the naming of the Minor Methods, did seriously thiuk of writiug to the Edilor of " The Ringing World ; relative to the deplorable fiasco, which impols one to ask oneself the question, who is more fic to name che methods, those who have the practical ringing of them, or those who only bother with the theory? when the mayd brought in a note from that gaye batohelor: "The Walrus, stating " that the tyme hade come to talke of many things." Like the " whe ' he is, I knew he was again indignant with the Conncil, which had clessed many of hys favaurite Yorkshire methods as unsuifable for the C.C.C. for failing to see eye to epe with the ILellods Committee in the maming of certain Treble Bobe methorls after flowers. I found him move soberley inclin'd than was once hys wont. Tie tille'd to me with deep feeling on the troubles of the Methods Committer, and conplayn'd bititerly of the ridicule mette'd ont to the names of flowers, whinh are much bicer than the names of many places. Says he : the ald Yorkshire methods whioh hear The mames of flowers ale still being jung in preference to the more mokern ones, it is not the mame of it which takes, hat its work." If a mellhori bore a goode name, but was of poove construction, it would never be runge. The critichs to be taken notice of were those who ringe the six-heli methods, and not those who deliberater round u table. The rope end is tho place to criticise, and why is nothing neyther a flower nor a place, and as a method, is not in the highest degree.

After we had drunk our tay, he hegg't me to excuse him smoaking a cigar, is he prefer"d a pipe, it was also, bo sajd, more economick, and he lomoaned the money he had wastod on ithe luxury in the past. Knowing him so well, I ask'd him to shew me his latest methorls and compositions, he having a specially fine taste in this matter, and much zeal in pussing his hobhie, when-. Lord. Mr. Papys,'says spend wiy tyme to more advantage and godiness.' F Iow, for exnmple ? asked I. Gardening is a very worthy and healtliy pastime, says he very grapely. 'and although I lave nover yet had a spade or a trowell in my inande. I contemplate growing fowers and other things, and so passing away my hours usefully when not ringeing.

Walrus, says $T$, rising and giving him my land in true sympatly, "I nuderstand all the signs and portents. They never parv. The yeform'd rake gets rid of all the incriminating evidence. He takes to a pipe and clienp tobacco, and prattles itbout gardening when is the wedding?"
I. "wex month, says he wint a peal of fowers, and then smave "Tight," eays getleer, smoking Coronas, and discussing the merits of $16^{3}$ Dandelion" fis compared with whigan."' And so to bed.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GULLD.

The subject which has for some time past agitated the minds of certain members was again before the annual meeting of the Oxford Guild, as will be seen by the report which has just been furnished to us. The question of holding the annual meeting in Oxford for a succession of years has led to a strained feeling, which has developed, in some cases, into " passive resistance " action by the withholding of subscriptions, and, in the case of one tower, as has already been reported in these columns, to a definite determination to withdraw from the Guild. The whole question of where its annual meeting shall be held is, of course, purely a domestic one for the Oxford Guild to decide, but recent action of some of the members does introduce a question of policy which, if generally followed, might eventually lead to the disiutegration of ringing societies. The fixing of Oxford as the venue of the annual meeting has been perfectly constitutional, for the rules provide that the members shall in annual meeting each year fix the place of the meeting for the following year, and withholding subscriptions or seceding from the Guild is not the democratic way of getting an alteration made in the practice which has been adopted. Instead, it is the first step to revolution, which might end in the disruption of an organisation that, for more than forty years, has been doing excellent work, not only in the interests of its members, but in the advancement of the Art which it was established to promote.

As we have more than once pointed out, there is much to be said in favour of changing the place of meering in an area with wide boundaries and few facilities of intercommunication, and where this policy has been adopted it bas usually been attended by success, although this is not always the case. Whether it would be so in the Oxford Diocese is a matter that only experience would prove, and it is for the members of the Guild to decide whether they will make the experiment. What we desire to do, however, is to urge the members of the Guild who may feel aggrieved that Oxford has once nore been selected for the annual festival to take steps to test the feeling of all the branches before resorting to secession or "passive resistance "-the logical outcome of the latter is only loss of membership. A resolution placed upon next year's agenda and moved in reasoned terms would in all probability cuable a postal vote to be taken which would ascertain the views of every affiliated band. Indeed, we can bardly believe that, linowing the feeling which exists in parts of the diocese, those who assemble next year at Oxford would refuse such a demand. At any rate, the exercise of patience, and the application of all the constitutional means open to members, should be resorted to before any steps, which might lead to a split, are adopted

A NORTH NOTTS VETERAN.

DFATH OF MR WELTAM FARGREAWES OF SHIREOAKS. By the passing away of William M. Hargreaves, perlaps the most interesting personality is the village of Shireoaks, Nots, becomes a memory-but a memory that will be lasting and fragrant. Had je lived until Octoher IIllithe would have been 93 years of age, being the cldest inhabitant of the parish. The North Notts ringers particularly will miss him very much, for he wes one of the most popular men in the associalion. No greater proof of this is neened than the immenso number who asumbled at the church and graveside to pay their last tribute of respect ta the reteran. Mr. Hargreaves' chiei hobbies were gardening ant bell ringing, in both of which le took the grealest, interest and pleasure. How delightful it was to seo him wheeliag home in his harrow his garden tools and produce in his goth year. At sishell ringing he was a splendid striker and safe conductor.
Ho had wisited all the prineipal towers in North Nofts ant Derbyshire, and would walk from Shireoaks to Beiglyon and back fiust after the six bells wre installed in the Shireonk tower in 1864) to get an insight into the art of change ringing. The writer of thase fines well romember: Lte little anechotos ho told of meeting Jim Kitelin and Harry Danks, and olher old memFers of that place. They invited him as le stoon in the doorwny inside the tower to come in and ring and asked him if be conld do owt. Tf so, tale off the coit, lati. With this little introtuction he and his brother John worked gssiduously to estabito at Shircoiaks one of the best six-hell companies in North Nots. He suceeeded in ringing and conducting his first peal of 5.0 chathges in seven Trehlo Boh methods at the age of 66 years-a splendid performance at that perion of life. This was the frrst six-bell peal by all tho company, and also the first sixhell peal by the association.
There are three survivors of thad band left. Messls. Fitzjohn. Hall., and F. Hargreaves (a neplew), who ming regularly for Sunday services. The rleceased veteran rang and vondtucted well tintil his soth Fear, and them los; of memory corapelled him to retire when he could not conduch r 720. The writer walked 22 miles on a Sunday 33 years ago. and Mr. Hargreaves suceceded in griting lam through his first four Treble Bol, 720 s duritr the day, for he was always plearsed to help ail young ringers.
Tho deceased was laid to rest on Mondiay. July 30th in Shireoaks Churehyard, on tho south side of tho old grey lown. Ho thus fittingly reposes heneath the souncl of his own boloved ring of bells, NORWICH, §T. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION.

A general mecting of the Norwich Diacesan Branch of the Norwich. St. Edmundsbuy hud Tpswich Diocesan Agsociation was held at Swafliam on Bank Holiday, when, by kind permission of the Rev. F . Mang ate the ringers who lave taken part in peals on the famous ring of twelve at St. Mardin's, Girmingham, nod a few more were added to the number cin the Tuestay following August Ennk Holi. day, when the band included H. E. Audsley, of Crayford, Fent, '1'. Dyke of Midsomer Sorton, Somerset, S. J. Hector, of Trow. bridge, Wiltshire, and W. Kuight, of Bristol. Amother visitor wais W. H. Barber, of Neweastle-on-Tyne, but this was not lis first visit to the Bull Ring. After the peal a very pleasant social hour was spent, when upwards of thitby ringers and friends were busy remesifrg old friendslips and raking new ones.
The Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, who has just yesigned the treasureiship of the Oxford Diacesan Guild, Wass on $\mathrm{B}_{\mathrm{B}}$ of the founders of that organisation. He was hon. secretary for many years, succeding the Rev. Dolben Paul, and filling tle offico with much success until I911, Sineo then he has been an equally able . Chaficellor of the Ex. chequer. Although adtanced in years, he slill retains an active interest in the Guild, of which lie ind for over 40 years been one of the pillars.

We hear that a cerbain well-Known ringing elergyman is shortly to jon the ranks of the benedicts. No, do not ask us who it iswild horses will not drag the name from ung.
The first peal of Stedman Caters rung by the Cumberlant Youths was performed at Shorediteh on Augusl: 23 rd, 1788. It is describerd in the society's peal book a= ' a true peal of 5.184 Grandsire Caters on Stedman's primele, in 3 lirs. 47 mins., being the second peal evet performed in that method.*

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT TYDE
REV. A. T. BJESTON'S RTSIGNATTON.
If bells, as ancient records say, were dispersors of storms, they bave apparenily losi their power, for thoy failed to driwe away the rain on the occasion of the annual festival of the Chester Diocesan Guild. held at Hyde. The atteudance, in consequence, was comparatively smail. miall.
Scrvice was lield in the Parisli Church, and the Vicar the Rev. H. J. Grabaml gave an adjress. Dimer followed, and afterwards the general meding wat held. It was rather a menorable one in the Guld's history, many items of importance being oonsidered, fhe chief of which was the resignation of the Rev. A. T Beestan from the hou. secretaryship after sinticen years* service. It is regrettatile that his services in this capacity are no longer available. He bat however not wholly severed his official comection with the Guild hut will act as hon, treasurer and representative on the Central Council.
Mr. E. Wr, Elwell of Capenhurst, was umanimously elected to fill the racanoy. Mr. H. Fajrelongh wes reelected to the Mastership, ant Mr. Ashmole (Morthwich) as the other representative on the Central Council.
Wuch discussion arose over the curtailed report, Such ourtailment Was found to be imperalive, and the commiltee referved to the matter as follows: ' In wiew of thes sorious financial state of the Guila, we realize the mecessity of reducing our usual expenses as much as possible. Thina will explain the curtailed form in which our report appears, We have taken this step with real reluctance, and very much regret its nccessily. This is a time of stress and strain which is heing aniversalls felt, and, therefore, such as claims an united effort to "4 carry on." We feel it is incumbeni tupon $\mathrm{u}_{\mathrm{s}}$ to say this, and fo urge our fellow members loyally to furber the objects for which we stand in every possible way. We are certain this alone is the surest and quickest way to returri to normal and easier conditions."
On the recommendation of the commiltee, f5 each was granted to the Nautwich and Macclesficld bell funds. With reference to the latter notice was given that the bells were to be dedicated by the ford Bishop of Chester on Sopt, 12 th , and that it was hoped thati a ringers opening ' would follow in due courge.
Mr. J. Norbury, retiring representative on the Central Connell, gave a brief summary of the mecting at Salisbury.

Following upon the resolution of the Crewe brawh for the revision of the branch areas a special committee was formed to go into the matier, and also to take nemossary stels towards making some suilable acknowledgment of the services of the retiring lions secretary.

Macelesfetd was fixed as the place of the next annual festival. to the held on Augusi. Bank Holiday. 1924.
After a vote of congratulation to the band which rang the recard peal of Treble Bob Majou on the previoth Saturday the usual notes of thanks were accorded to the authorities and alj who helved to make the meeting as enjoyahle as gossible under the weather condilions which obtained.

NORTE NOTTS ASSOCIATION

PRESENTATION TO THE ITON. SECRFIARY.

Sutton-on-Trent was en fele on Atgust Bank Holiday, when tho sports and gala day, in aid of the Church Rells Restoration Fund wag held. Ar interesting feature was the visit of the North Notts ringers, who were present from Anston, Shivenks, Southweli Gathe drat, Blyth, Cuckney, Chesterfield. Treeton. Gainshorough, Misterlon. Coilingham. Erat and West Retford. Ordsall. Gamstan. North Collinglam, Wigan, Workson, and also the local company. A great rarfety of methods was rung on the new peal of six bells. including 720 enth of OxFord. Kent, ad Plain Boh. Tonehes of College Pleasure. Single Caurt. Duke of York, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Loudan and Cambridge Surprise were also rung during the day A subsinatial tea was provided for the ringers in the Church In slitute, presided over by the Rep. C. T. Bartley, Vicar of Sutton.
The husiness moeting which followed was of an intereating clas geter. Mr. Hopkins, of Laneham, reported that Eaxion wished to hecone affliated, and it was unanimotsis decided that they he accepted, on making application $i_{n}$ writing to the hon. secretary.-It wis hecided to hold the nexi meeting af East Hitrkham on Septom ber 1st,

Al this point. Mr. Hargreaves, of Shircoaks, enlled upon the Vicar to make a presentation to the hon, secretary (Mr. II. Haigh, of Worksopl, in yecogntion of his 36 'Years' good work on behalf of ringing. For the last twelve years he had been hon. secretary of the astaciation, and during lifs tenure of office seven new towers lad been added to the roll, and the finarices doubled
The Finar said he liad not known Mr. Haigit wery longr but he recogaised bim to be a hard and conscientious chureh worker. It Wni a dificult task for a secretary to please merybody and fery offen a loard worker reasived more kicks ihan ha'pence. he had afery pleasure in asking Mr. Haigh to accept. in recognition of his services, a uew Humber cyele, subscribed for by 160 members of the nsociation. He (the speaker) had ridden his own macluine for 29 years, and ill was still moon condition. and he hoped that he and the secretary would have the best of lieatth, and would be riding their ' bikes, another 30 years (applause),
Mr. Haigh said the presentalion did nol rome to him as a lotal thrprise. He had overy reason to believe hat his work had been apprecinted for many years beeause liey were never in a hurfy to kick him oun of athice, or find fant af the anmual goneral meeting. $H_{c}$ would greatly ralus the gift. and would value still more the hearty and spontaneous mannep in whikh the ringers had answered Mr. Hargreaves' call for subscriptions to the presentation. He wonled also fealise. Whenever the ringers anw him on his machine. that ther wre all shareholders, but if they asked him for a ride on the new bike they must not be offended if he decined to give them one (laughter'). He thanked Mr. Hargreares and his small committee for the way in which they had undertaken the work of collecting the subsertipliong (applause).
Mr. Hargreaves, in reply, sajd it had been a labour of love, ant te thanked the members for their response.
Ringing was afterwards continued in the fower until 8.45 parm. when tho bells were lowered in peal; meanwhile, the fody ringers from North Collinghan lad acquitited fhemselves very creditably at the hell ropes. The day was looked upon as one of the mosi suceessful in the annals of the association.

CANTERBURYCATHEDRALBELLS

NETF TREBLES ARRIVE.

The two new treble; to make a peal of twelve at Canterbury Cathe ral are now in the tower. They have heen cast at the Whitechapel Foundry, and, as is well known, are being given hy the Kenf County Association in memory of the 56 members who gave their lives in le war.
The bells were taken to the Cathedral on August, 1st, and defobilerl on the floor under the south-west tower. A little ceremony took place mifter evensong, when the Precentor the lev. F. J. 0 . Fielmore), as lon, secretary of the Kent. Countr Association requested Dr. Mason, as Vice Dean, to receive the bells on belialf of the Deart anel Chapter. Dr. Mason duly accepted tise memorial, and added a whort prayer and blessing.

On the trehle bell is the following inseription: A.D 1923. Kent Connty Association of Change Ringers. To the glory of God and in memory of the members who fell in the Great Wrar 1914.1918." The second has only the date of castiog and the initials, K.C.A.C.I., 1914-1918.
It is hoped that the Archbishop of Canterbury will dedicate the hells when he returts from his holiday.

Reports of a number of outings are held over until next week.

GRAVESEND BELLS

A RINGJR'S LABOUR OF KOVE
Out of the total of e9932 9s, 91 . which lias been the cost of restoring the bells ai St. George's, Graveseud and carryige on other necescary work. Mr. Hadluw, one of the ringers, has collected $£ 500$, as a labour of love and in recognition of his efforts lie has been presented with a chimisg clock
The presentation was niade at, a mecting of the committee when a sfatement with regard to the bell fund whs made. OE the amount. to bo raised s.fi8 16s, 2d. had been collected up to dune 11th, and 100 guineas had been promised by tha Town Council. The prenent deficit was 8519 . Id.. una it was proposed to devote the harrest festival offertory to the find.
Mr. Everden, who presented the statement, complimented Messrs Taylor and Co. upon the new hells which whey had provided, and sad ihe tone and a go was a ligh testimonial to their worf. Ho added that with part of the money realised from the sale of the wood in the old hell frame and collections-made by himself and Mr Jutf a valuable clock witl! Westminster chimes hat been purchnsed to bo preserited to Mr. Hadlow in recognition of his wark in connce tion with the fund.
Fagraved on a silver plate ablached to the front of the fimepicee are the works: 'Presented to Elward Hadlow from the Rector Cburch Gouncil and congregation of St. George's, Gravesend, in re. rognition of his enlluniastie assistance for: the restoration of the parish hells Mfy 30th. 1923.
Mr. Everien, in presenting the clock, gaif filzat those who felt, their indebtedness to Mr. Hadlow for what he did in restoring the peal. wished tho timepiece to be an expression of the esteem with which le was ragarded
Mr. Hatlow, in temdering his thanks, said it bad been a labour of ove to collect the money.

Everden said that ever since Mr. Hadlow siarted, just over two ycara ngo he had becn a thorough muisance (innghter). If had been' boll- hells a all throthgh bie day and the night, too. After he had done his work lae bad bean tramping the streets for money During the day, too, le bad been at the same game on the ships in the river, and from that source had collected E20. Alfogether he thad wollectar z500 from over 2,600 pcople (applause). If Mr. Hatlow had not loved the work lic would not laze done it. The had snped the chureh rany pounds by the work he hat dane when he wa: pottering ahant. in the tower. He hoped that Mr. Hatlow wonti in his old age, in 50 years' time, lean hack in his chaiy when tho clock chimed and think of the work he hand done for St. George's Mr. Hadlow peplied that il was Mr. Evarden who hat made him stidek to the work, and He had heen assisich by many. Hiss Tall, one of the ringers, collecting e30. Mr. Hatlow them landed the Renfor a photagraple of the hells. to be hung in the Council room
In reply to a question, Mr. Fworden stated that ilie clock irelonged to the Corporation as long as they kepi it in repair. The bells. however, belonged to the elurch, and when they were taken away from the Corporation's elock the churel fell bound to atiach them again to the clock. The cesi of the arljustments had been fos. The foek hat gone splendidly for eight wecks

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE ANNUAL FWSTJWAL MEETING.PLACE. A CONSTITUTIONAL PRACTIOE.
One of the most important maters diseussed at line anmazl moeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Oxford was the selection of a place for the iext, numual. There had been dissitisfrefion in the Rust Berks and South Bucks Branch at the fact that the festival had been lield for several ztucessive years in Oxford, and the quastion mas ralsed on the motion for the "place of next anmual meeting. Constitutional practice under the rules leaves the selection of the place to tha amuri meeting, and ly a large majority Oxford was decided on for next year.
The festival proceedings beran with service in the Cathedral, ab which the Master of the Guth (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) officiated, the ardress being given by Canon W. W. O. Baker, Rector of Dunslable, and President of the Bedfordshire Association.

Every branela of the Guild was reprosauted among the 115 members who attended the busincag meoting in the Chapter House. Tho Master preaiden, and was supported by Blshop Sbaw, Canon Coleridge, the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis (hon- treasurer), the Rev. W. J. Palmer, and Mr. R. T. Hibbert (low secretary).

The mecting recefved with regret the news that its veteran member end insliruator. Mr. N. Newell, of Reating, had found ringiog rather too exacting at 84. Mr. Newell will canibuac however to fake an active interest in the Guilel.

THM MASTER'S REV1OW.

In his aunul vepory, the Master said there wore now thiteen brameles in tho Guild, and these took in all the towelt in union with the Guitd. This did nol mean, however, that the aren of lobe Diocese whe eftectively coverent. It was, uevertheless, guite useles; in his opinion fo stamil a branch unless there was a real Guild mucleus, gmall though it mighl he to start with. He lad attended maetinge of all the brameles, and could report farourably of the general condition. A new branch had been sturted for Oxford amo District. In th. East Bres ant South Bucks Brunch My. Harman in coujuretion wifh Mr. Coles, liad laken on a hig job frim Mr. Ensseld. who liart felt ahiged to resign the seeretareship after geven rears hard work. Restoration work had been earried out, ut leanson, Boyne Hill. Culham, Il:ioy, amd Thimthuts. Culhath had mow a ring of five and lisley, one of the first rawers to join tho Guild, ffter surggling for cears wilh five badly going bells, har now a beauiful ring of eight Re hat yisided abd harl given advice at Beodon. Binficta, Dlelebry
 Connal Conncil together wilh the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and Messrs. T. II. B. Hesse, E. FT. Lewts, and E. A. Young. in conference with the Snetety for the Praieetion of Anciens Buildings and they had seymerl long and intereating diseussions. Amongst those who passed awny durimg 1922 war Mr. W. Mynard, an attractive personality and a faithful serpalal of the church, who was for sixty years a ringer at Finberton.
Thie nccomits for 1922 showed a balamee in linnd of s51, comparen with a halance of $£ 48$ last year. The buanch subscriptions harl gmounted lo $£ 79$ and hon. members $£ 2 \mathrm{Gs}$. The priming of the anamal report. had cost f33, and general printing. postage, etc. Ell © 7d. The anmur fostival hat cosf ferg 14. 6d.. fowards which members lad paid E20 9s.
The Treasurer aid he had been conmitteman, secretary and trea surer for forty-three rears, and, while he was not as old as Mr Newell, he was not far belind, aral he fella therefore that he must resign his office. He whs prepared however. to nominate a gooul man as his successor, and was himself quite ready lo serve a trustee. Tleme was a very urgent need for economy, the calls on the Guilit haring heen ho heary in recent times as to leave the Guitcl honorary nembers 123 Fere parsons, and hranch secretaries might look ronmi their villages for taymen and lay women who were interegled fult would help.

DISLOYAL AND FOOLIEH.

The Secretary said the year had been a pleasant one and if they fond thenselves ad Oxford acain it was hy their own decision. The Waster nut he wero guite ready to go to any other place. and it Nas for members to speak and vote ns fluy felt. He folt that the dection of some of the members of one branch not to pay any more gubseriptions so loog a: the festival was hed al Oxford was nol ouly disloral, but very foolish beeause after the first year their memherahip would Irpse. and they would no longer have any voice in the aflaire of the Guidd. During 1922, continued the Secretary, he had Theited every branch except the "Vale of the white Horse," and had fotad the brameles in a healthy condifiow. He desired to noint ouf thal working a mtraggling distriut, wat no sinecure, and jnvited bands of ringers or indiuidual nemberw living on the fringe of an area where thefe was no strong nucleus of change ringers, to go over the border sometimes and give a helping hand. The peals for 1922 were dowhle the number in 1921, and tad raned again from Londnn lo

Grandsire, a goorf number of young rimgers coring their first peal, or their first in an adyanged method. They deplored the logs of two towers, hat welcomed tha inclusion of Brightwalton, Great Liaford, Mayclian, Lewknor. Long Crendon. Cummor, Chilton and Wolvercote. If was much ia be desired that sulaveriptiong be paid early in the year.
The Master, who was re-elected with acclamation nominated Mr. A. J. Wright, Reading, its successor to the Treastior. The Guild owed a very great deal to Mr. Hart-Davis, ama they hoped Ehat at hhose moments when he was not in the Thames he would sit in the amolair they presmed to him a few yegrs ago and write English merse aul Greek verse, perlaps on the Guid itself. Mr. Wright had boen a member of the Guild for masty years, and before faat an active mpmber of the Devon Guild.
$\mathrm{Mi}^{+}$. Evans secoutled the nominaion, and Mr. Wrigild was unuri. mously elected.
The rommilte was realented as follows: Mesars. Bariow. Candwell, Holifield. Humfrey, Hibleqt, Parker, Newell. Tebt. Cullun, Sear, Evans and Wilkins, Camon Coleridge, presenting his regort of the anmond mecting of the Central Conneil, said it would be some finm betore the Council would be entertained so well as it bad been ot, Salishury. Canon Coleridge the Tev, C . 0 . Jenkin and Massra. F. Hopsood and J. Fwans wole re-clected reprosentative Council.

OXPOLDS BIG MAJORITY
Thace places wewe propaser for next year" festival. and the voling which decided tise question was as foliows: Oxford, 79 ; Iigh Wycombe, 10; Buckinglanm 3
The question oi a latles of the whole of the Guitd was raiselt, but the Master baid the rule on the point was quite explicit. The annual meeting must decide the wace of next ycar's ammal meeting. Thry could alter the lute but not without notice in the ustal way. For 42 years the fule read as folloms: " A peneral annual mecting slall be held in fridy, for the purpose of electing officers, and tor united practice in change ringing; place to be fixed hy the members in gemeral mecting nssernbled. hut thm सrangements for the feglival. including the time fand the service in church, shall be lefte in the hatuds of the commithes. Tive Easl Berks and south Bucks general meeting in the wiulor $i=$ open to the whole Guidd. As revised it now read: "Tho amaual festival and general meeting shall be held in July at fhe place selecich at the previous ammal festival, all the arrangements to bo left in hae hands of the committec.
member urged that the proponderaneg of voies in finvour of oxford was not so convineing fas it scemed af first sight becalse those who lived near Oxford maturally found it easier to attomd. and they were thero in force to decide on Oxford next year. If they harl a baliot it wald give the people who lived in distant parts of the diocese opportunity to say what they thonghl. Some of them could not get fo Oxford aud back the same day.
The Mastey sairl he thought Oxford way by far the most central place though he was prepared to hold the festival wherever they liked. He thought, howover, that they eonld not bieak in upon the rules in that way.

GRANTS TO BELL TUNDS

A grantr of six guinens was mate to the West Wycombe Augmentation and ERestoration Fund, on the recommendation of ilag commilese.
An application from Bletehley, where a large fund ha; occupied the & lfention of the menabers for some time, aud where th00 has been ralsed, came up for discussion.

Mr. Cullum said this had not arrived in time for the mecting of the committee in April, and had not, therefore. been consideret. Splendid work had heen done, however, by the Bletchley nembers, and they had hever been assisted by the Guild. There was no money in land fo make a parment, but he moved that &iO be earmarkerl for Bletchley, to be at the rlisposal of the funci as soon as it was available.
This was carricd unamimatly, the Secretary adding that at Jitelchley they itacl some of the hest members in fhe Guilt.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY AT BOLSTERSTONE,

A CHURGHYARD MEETING

The usual montily meeting of the Sheffield Bistrict and Old East Dethysime Sociely was held on Bank Holiday at Bolsterstome, Glorious weather provailed, anct it acomed rather a pity that the sensid resarts should have clamed the presemce of so matremembers man this occasion, as the opportunition for making a real holiday in than coustry, with enaugh ringing to satisify the most ardent: enthmsiast, are undimited at this cauntry village. However, vistors pollen un from Ashton, Barnsley, Dore. Handsworth, Hoylandewaine, Kila marsh Norton, Norhury Sheffeld (Cathedral, St. Marie's Bud dll Saints', Wortleg and Worksap, and ringing wo indulged in until tea-time.
The bughess mecting was held in the churchyard, Mr. F. Watkint son (presideni) belug roted to the chair. whilst Mr. C. Itarrison ear -ied out the sintien of scoretary in lieu of Mr, Chowne. wha was mo avoidably absent:
The secretary's report on the apening of Castleton bells was read, and reference was made to the fortheomfing meetiag of the sacietr which is lo be held in conjunction with the Doncaster and District fociety at Doncaiter on September Ist. The question of having the Society at Doncaiter on September Ist. The question of having the use of Arksey hells at the meting in question was debnted, and altimately left to the discrefion of the Doncaster friends.
In moving a vote of thanks to the Ficar, churchwarteus and mont bers of the local company. Mr, O. Potter, of Barusley made a very apt reforence to the interest which both clergy and ohturchwardens are now taking in bells and riugers, and Mr. F. Willey (Sheffind seconeled, with some well ehosen words.-Replying ta this, Mr. Steel chutchwarlen, mentioned how interested he was in bells and bell ringers, incidentally stating that he war one of those who taok part in securing the peal for bolsherstone, the chistrict tharing sulberibed over s600 in six weoks, and the money beang in the bank beforo the bells wero delivered. He was delighted to be with the ringers, and il have lrim great pleasure to be able to convey their thanks to the Vicar for the tase of the bells.
Finging was then further indulged in. the methorls rung being lise four standard methods and Doutale Norwich Major.

RECRUITING

Although summer, by the calendar, is still with us, it is not too early for those bands which are below strength to look round for 'material' to bring their numbers up to a quota, not only sufficient to ring all the bells for Sunday services, but to create a reserve so that bells shall not be silent when there are absentees. Summer months, which provide many ringers with longer hours of labour-in the garden or harvest field-or hold out to others inducements to find recreation in the open air, often play havoc with belfry companies, and not infrequently many weeks are lost in early autumn in getting back into the stride. Where a band has, in addition, to fill up gaps this loss of time is additionally detrimental to progress, and those who are responsible for the organisation of ringing companies should, therefore, seek out their pupils without delay.

Sometimes, we are afraid, in the desire to draw in new ringers, the right material is not always selected. Our art has advanced a long way from where it was even twentyfive years ago, and those with whom it rests to enlist recruits should see to it that they get the right type of men. No one with an enthusiasm to learn to ring should be excluded, but there is no room for the half-bearted and lukewarm. With these it is hardly worth while to waste time in endeavouring to get them interested; they will always be a drag on the wheel. Even if eventally they learn to ring a bell in changes, they will likely enough be a source of annoyance to the rest, for these are the men who become the cause of 'meeting short.' But in addition to men who are keen, it is not too much to suggest that men of quick intelligence should be enlisted. Ringing, when its mysteries are revealed, is a fit subject for stady by brains of the highest calibre, and it will appeal to men of this type if once their interest can be gained. Then there is another qualification which ought not to be over looked, and that is that a new ringer should, for obvious reasons, be a grood Churchman.

If these points were borne in mind and acted upon, a further contribution would be ensured in the effort to raise the status of the ringer and advance the art, and we believe they could be combined with success, particularly if the person responsible for organising a band would discuss the subject and work in conjunction with the jncumbent and churchwardens, whose influence would be of great value. And while dealing with this question let us add this: Too often the numerical strength of a band is insufficient, and when 'recr'iting" is in progress, enough members should be enrolled to give a margin in order that the service and practice ringing may not suffer when, from any cause, one or more members may be absent from the tower.

DEATH OF MR. A. T. MORRIS.

A GENIUS AT PEAL 'TAPPING.'

The death occurred on Augnst 7th, at the Coltage Hospital Dovercourli, after only a brief illness, of Mr. Arthur T. Morris, o Harwich. The deceased will be remembered principatly for his ex ceptional gifts in peal ' tapping,' for he suecreded in executing peals by this means in methods rangitg froms Grandsire to London Sur prise. A good deal of controversy raged round his performancess, but whatever else may be said of them, they were excecdingly clever, and involved a vast amount of concentration and practice.
At Harwich, where he had laught many young men to ring, he will be much missed, On Saturday, August 116h, soveral touctres were rung on thie parish clurch bells, with muffied clappers, ant on the following day the bells were rung hatr-muffed for service.
Councillor T. A. Bernard, of Harwien, writes of the decease ringer that his death will be regretted among a large circle in the Exercise.
'More especially will he be missed,' adds Mr. Bernard, ' by the local band and those ringers throughout the country (and there are many) who owe the foundation of their riuging knowledge his teaching.

On the tapping of peals, of which the late Mr. A. T. Morris was one of the greatest exponents. I shali not dwell, except to state that this was a safely ralve for his overtonnding enthnsiasm for ringing. He had not hundreds of peals to his eredft for lis opportunties, like those of mauy nnother ringer, were few. Har wich is not an industrial town, and there is, consequently, encouragement for ambitious young men to stay there fi therefore. very difficult to keep a first class hand in Harwich. which aceounts for the fact that the late Mr. A. T. Morris jnvariably had three or more pupils, who, in most eases, as soon as they had a fair knowledge of ringing, left the place. This would have discouraged mosi people but not so Mr. Morris. A lat had noly to express his desire to learn the artt and he was at him "hammer and tengs" evers avainhle minute. Thus he did a tremendons amount of rood for the Exevaise.
${ }^{5}$ In his life, as in his ringing. Mr. Morris set a great nample. He was deeply respected by all who were fortunate mough io know him, and for these reasons he will indeed be greatly missect.'

DATE TOUCH.

A WEEK-END IN WALES.

$O$ land of my fathers, $O$ land of my love,
Dear mother of minstrels who kindle and move.
At midsummer last the horcestorshire question arose, 'Shall we gor" and when some half-dozen "Ayes, responded this tour from its beginning seemed most promising. A trio of 'Brum Boys * and another of Swourbridgo sfalwarts, induced Old Tom Salter, of Kidderminster azd the writer to complete the team, and then began the 1 ask of organising the venture. Mr. J. P, Eyett, of Hay, and Mr. Wm, Evans, of Brecon, were applied to for information and assistance, as well as the Superintendent of the Line, G.W.Ry.; and between them, travelling, bed, and board, were ultinately fired up to our satisfaction, and a most enjoyable, varied and economical holiday was the result.
Assembly at Kidderminsler Station at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 4th, was ordered, but not carried out until an hour later. I am used to holiday crowd in and near London, but I found that lior. mingtiam and the many large industrial lowns around can grow a crowd or twa, and sfter several traing its 'triplicate, had passed outwards, wo began our journey for Prestrign, in IRadnorshire. via Berdley, Ponbury, and Lacominster. The guard, finding us to be tourists iravelling "ea bloc, furnisled us with a first-claze comparment, wherein, bedween touches and lunes on the handbels, we dizousied filue improbability of any poal attempt for Saturday. In common with several lundreds of other passengers wo were left stranded at Wraferton Junction Stalion, and no train for Presteigu available till late in the evening, and ro Sunday sorvice to Brecon. Of what use wos Superintendant Nicholls: special passport for our tem to thesel by a widland rous not usually permifted? Optimism is a really good thing at times, ewen hope" Withers, when there is no reliesher in sight, and so an liotel was sought where we might cal onr pocket lanch-and quench the thirst on a hot day with ale, Johmy or' Bass.' The Council of operations sat at one a'clock, and suggeited going on direct to Brocon, cutting out Presteign- 14 miles distany. and no return timin after 6 pm . At the dangerous crossroads in front of our inn stood a unformed scout of tho A. A. on duty. By appealing to him we were ahle to secure a four-seater Ford from tho neighbouring village of Brimfeld, and into or on to this we were slowed with Salter as a centerpiece. Wig rached the church at slowed with Salter as a centerpiece. We reached the church at 2,30 p.an, and were met hy Mr. A. Talbot, district secretary. The latter balf of this drive was very beatiful, the Black mountain range of hills 18 miles away being on our left, backed by the distant 'Sugar Loaf. at Abergavenny at one end and the Brecon beacons at the other, whilst on our right rose Raduor Forest with Plynlimmon, and further on Snowdon, a nanne we method ringers will remember so long the mountuin stands.

Thic Rector of Presteigu, tho Rev, F. 5 . Kewley, is a practical ringer, and we owed hima threefold debt of gratitude, but fate denied ats tho opportunity of personally ofering bim our sincere thanks. He gladly consented to our attempt, ind hoped we stiould sel up a record, met our train at the station due in 1.30 , and arraiged for tea for us at the Bull Hotel. It was much regretted by ereryone that no time was awailuble to enjoy the welcome so kindly provided, and we made for the station at once, contonting ourselves provided, and we made for the station at once, contouting ourselves with the firt peal of Surprise in the cotinty; but, that doesn't fill the aching void of the iuncr man, More than once the loss of our tea was referred to, a sore point in more than ane boson, because nobody had the chance of getting a square meal between carly break. fust. and our arrival ab Hereford, via Leominater, at 8 oclock. At Hereford Station we learnt that thre of the stafi were bell ringer like the late Mr. Potter, general manager of the G. W. Ry, who learnt to ring as a choirloy in Dorgetshire-Mr. A. L, Annetts, of Shrewsbury, whose two sons are belping to make progress at Ahergarenny; No. E. Downes, of Holmer, wha with lis four brothers, las Greafly assisted the restoration fund for rehanging the peal of five Jells. Had adding a freble: and the guard of our train, an old mem-her of the Brecon Society. I may also add, re Holmer, that all the money requireut lias been raised, and the order placed with Mr. J. Groves, of Birmingham. Resuming our journey ati 8.45 via Hay, we again won frst-class lonours and the applanse of onlookers en route to Brecon, where we arrived ad 10.30 p.m. and Fere met and wel. comed by Mr. Wm. Fvans, a resident and tradeaman for 28 years who lias consistently done his hest to keep St. Mary's bells ' mouthupwards,' especially on Sundays. He politely escorted us, to the head. quarters for two nights, 'Rutland House, and he having previously reminded us of the Welch Sunday closing of licensed houses wa were prepared accordingly: in fact, otio of the station slaff informed me one end conveyen a chse of "glass oylinders," with serew stoppers at one end, to our house.

Sunday, August 5th. Breakfast at 8, ringing at the Parish Chureh at 10 o'clock. London and Cambridge for 11 a. $\pi$. matins, the local hand present and introductions made. After the service we had z.n
car arriving at one o"clock to conves us five miles out to Lisntigan Church, through a pictureque valley of the River Usk awny under the Brecknook Hills, the highest peak, Lnown as Brecon Beamon, 2,907 feet, and, on the opposite hand, Lord Hereford'e Knob, 2,263 feet ligh. We were made welcame by the Rector (the Rev. ? A. Davies, M.A., a Welsh scholar who often preaches in the native tongue), and banded the keys of the chureh and tower. 'Go, Canabridge, was called at 2.29 , and rounds came at 5.35 and the octare lowered 'in peal.' Indeed, at each tower we visited the bolls were raised and lowered in this way. The privilege of ringing the first, peal of Surprise in the county was again enjoyed, and it was also the first 8 -hell peal in the newly-formed Diacese of Swansee and Brecon.

The chureh, with its quaint name of an early British seint, is a beatutiful litile model of Wolsh urchitecture, consisting of aave, charcel and western tower, nortlo aisle and eotutla poich. The tower arch Is open to the nave, and on the left-hand side is a stone inseribed: This tower was restored, the bolls recast and reloung and four new ones added to complete the octave by John Llewelljn Morgen in memory of his father, David Morgan, of Llandafi, 1980-1921. The bells are a swet hittle peal, the work of Taylor and Co, of almost a replica of the bells of Northan. Devonshive. Of the tower itself I would add a note. There is a raised pointed central roof in the middle of the lead fat on the top, giving a three feet gangway all round clear of the battlemented walls. On each side of the square, some two to three feet high, are fitted oak horizantal louvres, which enable sound to go out and upwards, \& feature which ought to be copied in many of the towers in our crowded towns. Llanfigan the only houses near are Charch Cottage, the Rectory, half a mile off, and one or two farms more distant. It is an fdeal place for a summer picnic, where the band could rimg all day long. or roam the hills end gaze upon the "land of my fathers." As regards the latter, our timekeeper. Mr. Evans, did so in preferenee to ringing the treble, which was beartily offered to him. As $\& \pi$ instance of the love for our old church that our Nonconformist friends have, I may mentioned that the Morgans, of Cardiff. carry no a large drapery emporium there, and are hic leading Dissenters ot that city. Our ten at the adjoining cottage was prepared by Mr and Mrs. Kendrick and their bonnie family of thlee pigen pairs. The delight of the children when handhelle were rung io several tunes was well worth carrying the bag fall of metal (not Brummagen serap) up the mile of steep incline.
Returning to Brecon, our unloading was effected at the prory Church, a most spacions and beautiful cruciform building. Fere we met the Rev. E. A. D. Roberts, Vicar of St. Mary's, and the verger, whe gave us an hour's enjoyment. One was really glad when thcy said, Let us go up into the house of the Lord.' The roble builit ing, said to be the finest in Wales, lias jusf been raised to the dignity of a cathedral, and owfy on the previout Thesday Dr. Bevar, of Swansea, a former Vicar of Si, Mary's, Breeon, was tected lirst
Bishop of Swansen and Brecon. The tower was oper for our inspurtion, and a long, dificult climb was experienced in gaining the belfry, a room 40 feet square, the passages, formed in tho solid walls of masonry, not giving room enough for some of the well bailt ringers whom 1 know. The bell-loft contains a ruinous set of bells, cast by Hudhatl, Orieinally six, one is repuled to have leen stolari, and two of the five left are badly cracked. The east end of the north aisle lias recently been restored as a memorial chapel to the South Wales Borderers, and the 5,777 men of those regiments who fell in the Great War are remembered in an itluminabed volune hound in leather. A new stained glass east window has yet to bes erected, and a few days preyious to our wisit an ancient hanner presented by his Majesty the King. This will be hung with othere brew to be seen in the chapel.
For a week the St. George's ensign was fown liom the flagstafi on the central tower, which was also illuminated at might by ummers of electric lamps placed round the battlements and seen for marny miles around, to mark the hisforieal accomplisliment of a new see, in spite of the Welsh Disestablishment Act, A sum of $£ 8,000$ and upwards had to be assured before the project oould procect, and this financial diffulty bas been overcome. Better far than all the outtinancial difficuly has been overcome. Better far than all the oulwiard rejoicing was the imptessive effect of masses of wild fowern the common harebeli solf-sown, blooming in profusion upon the grey old walls of the tower, regardless of moisture, sweet emblem of faith. Their bright blue heads wer silently nodding in the wjod, propliesying those larger bells that will eventually be placed here, and - who knows? - perhaps the first ring of twelve for the ## Priscipajity.

Here is a quite modern instance of unexpected interest in church bells by a Brecon resident. Thac late Alderman Thomas williams, who died in 1922. left liz will land for a recreation ground ant stained glass windows for the parist chureh of St. David' e (a erowing suburb of Brecon on the Swansea road), also money to provide a peal of six bells. It remains for the cathedral anthorities to furnish a ring of ten, and the Brecon ringers will then have to get busy irainiug young Jiands to man the bells of Brecor.

ROMNEY MARSII GUILD

This sociely laps had au amual outing for a number of years, and the 1923 trip that took place on the first Saturday in August and be lermed better than its prealecessors. The Master (Mr. C. W. Everoth and Mr. C. Trilue fixed up the travelling erravgements, and Mr. Tribe condueted tho cortespondenco to obtain permision for ringing at the various chuyches vequired, and hearty thanks are due to those gentlemen. Two ehatalonucs were chartered, one starting from Ashford, and the obiner from Appledore. The first destination, St. Peter's. 'thubridge Wells, was reached shortly before nine o'clock. Here Mr. W. Latter met the party, and continued with them for the remainder of the day. Great satiffiction was expressed with the light Simpson-tuned eight at St. Peter's, aud several touches in the standard methods were tapped off. Ahout three attempts, however, had to be made for a touch of sitedmau, but perhaps someone derived good from the faflures, whith provided practice for one still in the infancy of calling. On loading up ugain, the clatrabancs soon inraded Sussex by way of Withyum, where ringing was nof practicable owing to lower repains. Nol far distant, the penl of six at Hartfeld was it the partit's ilisposal. Here the bells took a bit of managing, the ropes and salties being rather clumsy-quite large enougla for Indies' hands. However, Grandsize Doubles and short pieces of Bob and Kent Treble Boh Menor were rung, and hie ringers had consolation ja tho fact that a nieogoing ving of cight awaited them at Holy Trizity, Coleman's Hatch, where the Vicar weloomed the society. This lifhlt meal, Simpson-tuned-perlaps not quite so good as Turbridge Wells, yet very musical-were soon set going, ald the members thorouglily enjoged their tonches al this tower. It was somewhere around midday when they left, and sped away alons several miles of pretty Sussex country to Dast Grinstead. On approaching the town. the slately tower of St. Swithun could be seen and the excurcionigts wislied they could have had a ring on the fine dight conasined thercin, but owing to ringing complainte, permission could nat he obtainect. There was one fhing. lowever, which they dia enjoy at Finst Griusteat, and that was the luncheon, the Master baving mede arrangencatg for this. In the afternoon there was a delightifl trip back juto Kent, and a call was mado it Eienhriage where Mr. Stealdy and other Edenbridge ringer;, and Mr. Tdwards (Penslurst), kindly mof the partiy, and what a beatiful peal of eight they found: medium woight, Simpson-luned, and the best peal heard during the day. Tliey were loath to leave, but there were olhor towers to wisit, Mr. Jedwatiss accompanied the wisitors to iho vernaining places, Hever (six hells) being the nexa lanlt. In blic alurch they were shown the lomb conlaining the remains of the father of Anne Boleyn, and just opposilo the claurch is sul inderesting old han, named Henry Vin., in the mounds of which the viugers partook of a splendid tea, Mr. Elwarhs having kindly urnnged this. The ehief feature of the ringing at Jever was a touch of Mob Minor rung entively by members of the stone coatingent. The evening towers induded in the tour were Chiddingstone and Penshurst. The party did quite well at the former place, hut could not ring at Penshursi: owing to choir practice. The voule home was via Itonlyridge, where the two charabancs parted compury. This report would lack completion withoul making referenco ta all who contributed in any depree. largo or small, to the organisation of the dav's pleasure, including those ringers outside the Guild who rentered greali assistance, and thanks are given to them all. The methoizs rimg were Grandsire, Stedman Plain Bob, Kent Treblo Boh and Double Norwich.

barlmorougil kingelles big party

On Soturday, July 281 h Uhe Bardborough ringers harl iheir anmal cuthig. Tite party, which consi: ted of ringers and their friends, to the mumber of 62. journeyce Lhrough Derby to Slardlow. There a tonell of FemL and Oxford T'reble Bob was successfully brought ronnd. The party then jaurncyed to Loughborough where dinner was partakeu of at, the King's Hend Totel. After dinner, Messiss. 'taylor and Co.'s bell Coundry was visited, where the various prootsses of bell founding were a source of great interest. The new war memovial-a wonlerfal mrillon of bells-was visited at the time when a recital was heing given loy M. Gathat Nees, of Molines, and his maying was much enjoyen. Nollingham was the next place visited, mud a much-ne rled tea was bartatien of at Morleys Cafe. The rest of tho ovening was spent at Nothingham, and Barthorongh wes renclaci at 12.15 anm. Flise outing was it jolly out, and much ent joyed by all.

WEST WATES' EXCLRSION

Sh. C'a1therine's, Govs eimon, and St. Jolun's, Moriston, members of West Wales Association, belet ihere ambual outing on Monday. Angust 6th. when they visited Aberdure, whish was reaclicd after a plensint rite The clurch, with is finc tower und spire, was immediately wisited. Mr. Roberts had the bells in readiness, and a few goot touchos of Graudsive Triples and pluin course of Stedman Triples and Grandsize Donbles for the juniors were rung. The Vicar came to the belfry and weloomed the party, who were shown over the church. Afterwards 504 Grandsire Triples was tapped off in good style, conducted by Mr. J. Willinms, the bells being lawered in peal. This was very inuch apprecined after call changes. After dinner a most enjoyable time was spent in the beautiful park move was then made to Merthyr to try a fine poal of 8 (tenor about 20 ewt.), which were raised in peal, the 'go' heing found to bo splendid. Some of the lacal ringers joined the visitors, and towehes of Grandsire Triples and Stedman Triples and Grandsire Doubles rung. A very enjoyable day was spent, and home was nol reacherl until after midnight. Best ilhanks of the band are due to the respective Vicars for permission to ring and to the local ringers, whe assisted to make a most successful outing.

HARWICH RJNGERS' OUTING

On Saturday, August, 18th, St. Nicholns Guild, Harwich, harl their outing, and, accompanied by a few friends, visited Farleigh, Sufolk, by charabaze, the party numbering 21. Hadleigh was reacherl ahont 3 o'clock. The tower of the fine old charch, with its beatiful slainnol glass windows, was first visited, but the ringers were greatly dis appointed to find that the tenor rope had gone out for repaiss. They had, therefore to be conlent with touches of Plain Roh anil Kent Treble Bob Minor and Grundsire Doubles on tho front, six. Afkerwards the company sat down to a capital cold spread at the King's Head Hotel, with their veterau, Mr. Job Brewster, in the the chair. Gunes on the handbells, also Grandsiro Triples, domble hamied, were very much appreciated. The journey was then sumed to Stratford St. Mary, to the accompenment of a thunderstorm. Mr. Featherstone, one of the lacal ringers, met the pary and had everything in rendiness. Tonches of Kent. Oxform anial Plain Bob were brougit round on this line peal of six. and then the homeward jourvey was commencen, the company having spent a mosh enjopable time. "the ringers wish. throuph the medium of * 7\% Ringing World.' to tha, $k$ the respective incumbents for the risf the hells, the stepplekeper at Hacleigh, and Mr. Featherstone Stratford St. Mary, and aIl others who assisted in moking the a success.

MUEFLED BELLS FOR PRESIDENT HARDING

 RINGING AT BOSTON, U.S.A.Americans in Boston, U.S.A., were impressed by the mufled ring ing dons at the Church of the Advent, on August 10th, on the occasion of the funcral of the late President Harding.

The following description of the ringing was given by "The Boston Herald ':
'Bells. Fully mufled, sounded from the tower of the Church of the Advent for half an hour before and for 15 minutes following the solemn high requiem mass celebrated at that church yesterday morning. The bells were tolled by eight bell ringers, who had performed the same service many times before at the death of a British ring.

The bells, cast after the British fashion, in sets of eight, jang touches of Gravasire doubled and Bob Minor, sounding the clanges at the clurch at 9.45 and $10.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and at 11.30 and $11.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$ They were also rung at the Perking Institution for the Blind hetween 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Shurtlef, president of the Boston Guild of Brall Ringers, which was formed by the English bell ringers several years ago upon thair arrival in the United States, led the ringing of the hells, assisted by Richard Newton, Philip J. Allfry. James Lakir, Willitarn Bashford, Alexander Mathews and Joseph Goodhead. The bells were tolled at 5 o'clock in the evening, the hour when President Harding was buried at his home in Marion, O.'

MEMORTAL RINGING IN LONDON
In memory of President Harding, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, from Thurstans' Four-part, was rung at Et. Clement Danes, strand, in 50 minutes with the bells half-muffed, six hours after the President's death: E. Alex. Young 1, T. Benney 2, A. B. Peck 3, C. F. Winney (conductorl 4, E. F. Pike 5, J. D. Malhews 6, W. Rushton 7, F. G. Symonds 8.

FLIPPANTLY FACETIOUS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-My gente remonstrance with youl would-be "funny" correspondonts seems only to have stimulated them to fresh excrions, and I am sorry that I spoke! I can appreciate real humour as well as most people. But if such "humour" as that of "Samiwell Peppery' and 'Irenseus' in your lasfissue satisfes the majority of pour readers. I am content to remain in a minority; and minorities, We know, wust always sutifer.-Yours,

MR. J. W. PARKER'S 5024 CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE.
It has been suggested by a well-known ringer that the following transposition of the ariginal peal, with the odd-course first, should be publighed, and the figures are given below, for this form is likely to prove the more popular for this original composition:-

DEATH OF VETERAN KENT RECTOR.

An honorary life member of the Kent Connly Association and 55 years Rector of Horsmonden, the Rev. Hugh Forbes Smith Marriots has passed away at the edvanced age of 82 years 10 months. Tho fumeral took place on Saturday at Horsmbonden, when the deceased was interred by the side of his late wife. The respect and endearment in which the weterars rector was leld was evinced by the large number present at the lasi sad ritios.
After the funeral, the "whole pall and stand ' was rung by the lacal ringers with mumbed bells, and this was followen by 720 of Oxford and 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Augusl 26th is the anniversary of the first peal of Grandsire Triples on record. It was rung in 1718 at Norwich, and the peal board, with its quaint wording, is sbill in existence.
It runs: ' On the 26th of August, 1718, whe rung that Harmonious Peal called Grandsirc Triples, which have been ye sudve of ye most ingenious men of this Age, who delight in ye art of Tariations, but all their projections have proved errors, until it was undertook by Joha Garthon, who, with long Study and Practice, have perfectly tiscovered those Intricate methods which were hidden from the eycs of all the ringers in England; the extent of this peal being 5040 changes; have oftentimes been rung with changes alike, but the first time that it was ever rung true was in three hours and a lalf, without any changes alike or a bell out of course, by these men, whose names are underwritten against their Bells as they rung."
Then follows the names of the band: James Brook, John Briggs, William Palmer. Robert, Crane, Henry Howard. Willime CaHow, Tho Melchior and Tho. Barrelt.
On August 26th, 1751, John Holt tools part in a peal of Double Bob Major with tite Union Scholars. In thet year Holt ring ro fewer than nine peals with the society. He was in every peal rung by the Union Scholars from the time he joined in 1745 until he left: them in 1752.
'A coruplete peal of Boh Major Si. George,' was rung by the College Souths at the Church of SL. George ihe Martyr, Southwarf, on August 27th. 1750, "heing the first that was done upon the bells." This 5040 was conducted by Benjamin Aunable.

At. Ofley. Yorks, on Augusi 27th, 1814, a peal of 12,320 Trethe Bob was rung in 7 hrs . 15 mins., being the Jongest peal in that method rung in England. William Woodhead, of Wakeford, was one of the band, and the fach is recorded on a peal bourd in Wakeford Lower, recording a 6030 Grandsire Caters rung in 1820.
' On Monday, August 24th, 1868 , eight veteran change ringers, whose united eges amounted to 553 years, ascended the Parish Chwheh of Guiseley, near Leeds, and rang in masterly style a true peai of Kent Treble Bob Major, consisting of 5088 clanges, in 3 lire. 4 mims, 30 secs."
"Bell's Life," which was the ringer's journal of that day, recorded the above intercsting performance, and adited the further details: "The following are the zames and ages of the men: J. Hauson, of Huddersficid. aged 78, treble; J. Keadal, of Otley. 73,2 ; C . Iles, of Leeds (formerly of Otley). 74, 3; W. Senior, of Earlsheaton, 68. 4; H. Hubbard, of Leeds (formerly of Norwich), 64, 5; T. Dawson, of Bradford, 62, 6; I. Illingworth, of Bradford, 66, 7: W. Dumbleton, of Pudscy, 68, tenor. The peal was ably conducted by Mr. H. Hubbard. and witnessed by various ringers from different places.
The recasting of the bells at Senford, Sussex, with the addibion of extra metal, and the rehanging of the peal in a new frame is to tue triken in liand at onee. The work is to be done by Messrs. Meats and Stainbank Apiopos to our reference last week to the peal of Stedman Caters rung ad Shoreditch on August 23rd, 2788, it will be of further interest to know that the board recording the performance, which now liangs in the belfry at St. Martin's-in-the-Fiolds, has just been thoroughly renovated, through the generosily of Mr. E. A. Young, secretary of the Central Council.

At Kington Magna, on August Bank Holiday, on the occasion of the wadding of Miss Florence Hannam, daughter of Mr. Frederick Hannam, three generations of the bride's family took parl in ring ing the five bells: Fred Hannam, aged 61; William Hannam, aged 33, and Harry Hanaam, aged 12.

Mr. G. H. Daynes writes that the peal of Grandsire Triples ruag at Cubitt Town on June 26th should have theen credited to the Middlesex County Assoriation and London Diocesan Guild. The report. was sent in without the name of the association, and the omis siou has only just been brought to his notice.

Ellasmere, Salop, is not ylone in having lwo bands of ringers. At Loughton (Essex) a similar state of afiairs exists. The Sunday ringing is done by a band of paid call clange ringexs, but a volun tary change ringing band has been permitled to practige one nighi a week (except during the war) since 1883.

Far forty years, therefore, this arrangement has been going on and the change ringing band lass rung peals of Grandsire, Stedman Pluin Bob, Treble Bob and Double Norwich. There have, of course been the usual losses by removals, ete., but with help from West Ham, Lextonstone and Woodford, the band has Eept going, and now there are several youtg mugers coming along, who have reached the Grandsire and Stedman stage
"Doubtful' is informed that all penls of Treble Bolu will run true to Eristol Surprise, but all peals of Bristol will not he trie fir Treble Bob.
The ringer of the 3 rd in the peal at Linton on Augers 11th was Tom Saunders, not Sanders, as published.

Where the Record Peal of Major was Rung.

ST. CIFAD'S CHURCH, OVER, CTESHIRE
It was at this cilurch, standing in the fields at Over, Cheshire, that the record peai of Kent Treble Bob Mujor was rung in 30 nomas on July "2lst last by the Chester Dio vesan Guik. The 17.280 clanges wonstituted the langest lengith ever" rung on eight bells by nne scl of men, the previous recoril having been the 17.104 Double Norwich Major at South Wigston in 1904 .

FATALITY TO A RINGER.

It is with much regret we hare to recort the theth of Mr. C. G. Earl, a ringing member of the Icigh-on-Mcndip Church (Somerset). The deceased, who laa been a ringer for 25 years at the above ahureh, met with a fatal accident, being knocked down by a motor while on holiday.
The funeral took place on August 16ith, deceased being carried to Whes last reeting-place, which is clase to lis beloved tower, by his follow-ringers. Dep respect and sympathy were shown, ringers from Doulting being present. also M. J. W. Pernberton, who conducted the deceased's list and only peal, and happened to be on holiday not far aтау.
Muffled touches were rung on the bells after the funeral. Mr. Earl wini be sadly missed by his colleagues in the belfry.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The nsual monthly meeting of the South and West District was held at, SE. Pefer${ }^{1}$, Staines, on Saturday, by permission of the Yienr (Rev. F. Marroti), who also entertained the company to iea. Unfortunately the weather was againsi a large attendance, but there was a master of 35 , of whom 29 arrived for lea. The Ringing Master was an absentee (on holiday) for the first time. A shori service was held, conducted by the Rev. Huscley Williams.
Mr. O. S. Bird presided at the lusiness meeting, when Heston was selecter for the Octolver meoting.
The asual vote of thanks was accorded to the Yicar for the use of his bells and his kind hospitality, which was wery much appreciatod; to the Rey. H. Williatms; to the organist ; to the Misses Riggs and Griffen, for the sble way they attended to the ringers' needs at lihe tea table; also to Messrs. Parker and Presion of the local band.
Riaging again took place at St. Peter's until 7.30 p.m., when a messenger arrived asking that the bells should cease, owing to jllness in the vienitity. Fortunately the hon, secrefary had previously ohtaimed permission to ring at St. Mary's, where the bells were sonn sek going to Cambridge, etc., until, at 9.15 p.ri. a rope broke, and suddenly brought the ringing to an end.

Witl a vole of hanks to the Fienr of Sl. Mary's a most pleasant mentiug terminated.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

THE OXFORD GUILD ANNUAL MEETING. WYCOMBE SECRETARY REVIEWS PAST ACTIONS.

To the Edilor.

Dear Sir,-It is always a pleasure to read your well-reasoned leading articles, and the recent one with reference to the Oxford Guikd is equally acceptable. But if you will allow me, in justice to the Wycombe ringers, to give, as briefly as possible, a resume of the tacties adopted by them prior to their decision to sever connection with the Guild, it will be seen that all constitutional methods you suggest in your "leader' have been tried, but found wanting.
At a previous annual meeting of the Guild a resolution from Higlt Wycombe, strongly supported by the then branel secretary (Mr. W. H. Fussell), was proposed, asking for the festival to be held at a place other than Oxford. This was clefeated; the result being received with fronical cheers, Nothing daunted, the Wycombe men framed another resolution to the effect that the three Archdeaconries be visited in tuin, and a referendum of towers taken. This was submitted to a largely attended brancli meeting, under the chairmanship of the master, and canvied with only two adverse votes by unattached members; and the general secretary undertook to place the same on the agenda for bine ensuing meeting at Oxford. This motion, with its recommendation from the branch. was duly submitled to the annual meeting at Oxford. What was the result? One parson characterjsed this resolution from the largest brancl of the Guild as 'hunkum'; while another brilliant cleric termed it "an insult to the committee," both these comments being allowed to pass unchallenged from the chair. The height of absurdity was rcached when one of the parsons stuggested, with regard to financial difficulties, that members unable to pay their cxpunges "should ask their wives for the money."
At the last annual mecting the wycombe men refrained from attending, parly from disgust, and also not to prejudice in any was anolher resolution to alfer the vente, thinking that as the feelings of this part of the district were well known, the generaliy-accepted British axiom of fair play might prevail. but again failure, or rathev selfishness! Now, sir, I think you will agree that all coustitutional methorls have been tried; or, if you prefer it, the "gloves kept on.' Now they must be discarded, for exceptional diseases demund exceptional remedies. You say you fear disruption or a "split." Quite so. Great as the regret at severance after a memherslip of $20,30,40$ years, or even a longer period in the Guild. we feel that there is a plentude of ringers in this district to form a strong and healthy Gitild of its own, and whose festivala could lye held at warious venues withont fear of stagnation.
Our dear old friend, l'om, in his annual report, speaks of foolislaness.' but the fools part of the hasiness is a continued obstinacy which prevents clear insight into the future. The Masier expresses his ansiety to loold the meeting wherever the members wish at, which is, of course, Oxford, because of the excess of votes on that particular oceasion. Why was the custom of over 30 years' standing altered? Was it to gratify a passing whim, or what was the reason? I have been as brief as conslstent with a slatament of facts, but, owing to space, there are many points necessarily not touclicd upan. but after a 'leader' and giving a couple of columas anith the wind up, perhaps you will kindly indulge us witl this reply.-yours trwly.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

ENJOPABLE MEETING AT BECKENHAM.

The Southern Distriet of the above association helel an enjoyable meeting at Beckenliam on Saturday last. The clerk of the weather could not have known that a meeting was arvanged, or he suraly would have been more generous in his selection on this date. The would have been more generous in his selection on this date. The rain commenced to fall jn the morning, and ceased only at short and very infrequent intervals. The attendance, in conseguence, was not as large as was expected. However, shortly after threc o'clo:F the bells of St. George's were set in motion, to the tune of Cambrielge Minor. This was followed by some Stedman Triples, and Donhle Jorwich, Superlative, Gambridge and Londoa Surprise Major wers also rung during the aftermoon and evening.
A special service was arranged for the rinpers, and the Vicat deliwered a very interesting and instruetive address.
In this connection it may be suggested that a weckly choir pratho for ringers would do much good, and then, at these services, the oretan wond no longer play lymm solos!
Tek was partnken of at the Grephound Hote], and was greatly enjoyed by the comparatively small number who sat down. The business menting was afterwards held, and the next meeting annauncel for fake place at Fulham on September 1st.
The liawor was agaia visited, and touches in various methons were rung. The flanks of the memhers were ascorded to the Ficar for the use of the bells and for the special service; also to Mr. W. Smith for making the visitors so welcome and for the excellent tea grrangements.
Ringers attended from Chelsea, Roelnanton, Camberwell, Lamもeth, Southwark, Streathom, Beddington, Ealing, etc.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.  PORTSMOUTH DIS'HRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the Portsmoutls District was held on Saturclay last at Bishop's Waltham, and was attended by merabers trom Curdcidge, North Stonchaim, Portsmouth (St. Mary's), Ringwoad, Swanmore, Wickiam, Winchester and the local band. 'lhe atrethoda rung on the peal of six comprised Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bots and Cambridge Surprise.
Tea was served in the white Swan Hatel. The busiaess meeting was mostly of a routine rature, the local tower becoming afliated to the district through some members rejoining the Guid. Uwing to Mr. F. W. Rogers, one of the representatives at the Guild Commistee, having becu elected recorder of peals, it was necessary to elect another member, MF. W. Taie, being chosen.
It was decided by vote to hold the annual district meeting at Fareham in November, duc notice of which will appear in The Ringing World. -The usual vote of thanks to the Ficar sul those concerned for the use of tho bells concluded the meeting.

THE DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE.

The quarterly mecting of the Yorktown Districh was held ab Cliertsey on Saluraay, August th. Unfortunately no fieging could be done owing to serious illness very close to the church. Menbers and friends attended from Camberley, Ealing, Guildford, Hersham, Putney, Stoke Poges aud Old Windsor. Jea was served in the Parish Room, followed by the business meeting, at which the Rev. I. Scrith ocoupied the chair. 'the Vical welcomed the mem. bers, and explained the reason for their being umable ta ring. One lonorary member and one compounding meinber were electex.
Several members expressed their views on the future of the Guild as affected by the division of the diocose, and it was then resolved that the secretary write to all towers in the district and ask them to give their opinion on the subject to the representatives dtending fhe next Guild committee mecting.

A vote of thanks was accorded 10 the Vicar for presiding.
A few eoturges of Grindsire Triples and Cateres on liandbells by Mr. and Mrs. Barker with the voung members of their hanal from Stoke Poges concluded the meeting.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.  NORTHERN BRANCH MEETING.

A meting of the Gainsborothg District of the Northern Branch was held alb Corringham on Saturday, August lith, and was not so successful as bad been anticipated, members being present from Gainsbotough, Stow and Messinghan, in addition to one of the local company.
The bells were kept going in yarious methods during the afternoon and evening. Thoa was provicled at Mrs. Prescott's house, and was followed by tlse business mecting, at which Mr. F. F. Linley preskded.
Yotes of Hanks to the Ficar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, also to Mrs. Prescott for providing the the were unanimousiy passed, after which the members liad the pleastre of listening to some interesting remarks from the Irresident in wannection with St. Lawrence, the patiron saint of Corringham.
A vote of thanks was passed to the president for taking fhe chair nd for the address which evelyhody had enjoyed.
The members then adjaturned to the church for eventong which was said by the Rev. R. Thornton, Viear of Corringham, and afterwards further ringing took place until about 8 p.m., when a pleasint mecting was brought to a close.

ALL BUT THREE.

Dear Sir,-Criticus suggests that at some time we may have to ase the strange words "Pasallatria" and 'Pasallatessera' as names of meilhads. I think not: they are already and deservedy obsolete. I remember when the Central Council was asked to pass the report in which these words found an experimental place, the late Mr. A. T. King asked what they meant. Tbe perpetrator of the "crime,' who at this distanee of time shall be nameless, told the astonished and ambed Council that they were three Greek words meaning "all hut three, and flree others meaning "all hut four." When Mr. King replied that they certainly were not, we were told, to our furfiom amusement, that fatere was such a thing fin doe-Latin, and so one might shanose that these words were dogArpelan, and so one mght, shapose that these woris were dogtalk ahout dog-Greak: nor did dog-Latin ever mean fralse use of words sucla 89 13is.
Tr Greek Passallatria means either (1) "Universal slavery ${ }^{\text { }}$ or (2) The plarine with pegs.' Passallatessera can only mean 'Four things furnishen with weigs, or gate.
But why go to Grook for ringatg lerms? Of all langatages Greck is the most unsuitable. In this case an anithel is nol roquiret. merely a columu heading: the Foglish words 'All hut three' and All but four answer all requirements, and will no doubt rlways be used.- Yours, ete.

DUREAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

The August meeting of the Durbam and Newcastle Diocesan Asso ciation was held at Bis lop Auckland and Shildon, and 34 sat down to an excellent tea fn the Mission Room of St. Audrew's, Aucklame, kindly provided by the Vicar (the Rev. A. B. Parry Evans), who, untortuantely, was unable to be present, as le was away for his well-earned holiday. The Rev. G. O. Williams acted as host, in the absence of the Vicar: There were ringers present from Figly Trinity, St. Tolm's and St. Cuthbert's, Datligton, St. Igmatius, Sunderfand, Foughton-le-Spring, Tanfeld, Chester-le-$treet, the Cathedral, Newcastle, and st. George's, Jusmond. A postcard was read from the president. Mr. Storey, fran Sutherland, expressiog sincere regret to be uarble to be present. in lis absence the vice-president for the Southerm District (Mr. G. M'. Dark) presided over the meetiog, and proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Ficars of Auckland and Shildon for the use of the bells, especialy to the Rev. A. B. Parry Evans for so kiadly providing such an excellont teat.

The Rev. G. O. Williams, who is in charge of the parish in the absence of the Vicar. responded. He apologised for the absence of the Ficar, and sajd the Vicar will be very pleased to welcone the ringers at any time.

The Rev. $G$. $O$. Williams was elected an honorary ringing member, the Rev. A. Brown, of Haugliton-le-Spring, a ringing member, and Mr. S. Bryant, of Shildon, who was elected in the beffry previous to starting a peal, had his election coulirmed.

This not being a business meeting, there were no minutes to be read, but the certificate for the first place for the six-lbell towers for the Sunday service ringing for 1921 and 1923 was presented to Mr. G. W. Park, who recelved it on behalf of St. John's, Darlington, by the Rev. G. O. Williams. The ringers then ndjourned to the tower for more ringing. The bells were kept going during the aftermon and evening to the tune of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Boty and Kent Treblo Bob Major. This brought a very sur cessful gathering, in most glorions weather, to a close.

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK．

A yery pleasant time was spent ou Auguse Bank Holidny by a few members of the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Associa－ tion，on the couthern borders of the countr．The first place visited was Longdon，where a peal in seven methods was aftempted，but after ringing nearly two 720 ＇s the holiday spirit erept in，causing a stand The Fiear hat provided lunch，and afterwards a start was made，an hour in advance of scheduled time，to Forthampton which is in Gloucester：hire．Here two local ringers joined tho party，and at－ templed，with success，some of the more advanced methods．The nest place of call was Chaceley，the young ringers again taking ad－ vantage of the opportunity to ring samething out of their ordinary rottine，Afler a stop at a friendly farmer＇s，Eldersfield was reached and more ringing done．Mr．H．Price，of Longdon，who is a worthy son of the late Mr．C．Price，well known to the older Black Country ringers，anton as pilot，and also took part in most of the ringing．
The methode rung during the day consisted of London and Cam－ hridge Surprise，Treble Bob，College Single，Oxford Bob and Stedman Douhles．The party includen Messrs．J．J．Jefferies（who was chosen Ringing Master for the day，J．Bayliss，Siduey T．Holt，W．Ran－ ford．O．Canm and R．G．Krowles．Thesp towers all contain some excellent peals of six．the tone being grand，though some need the attention of a bell hanger．
Reint situated out of reach of trais or bus service，the push hikes＇were tisaful．
Bidding good－bye to one of the parly at Eldersfield and dropping the pilat on the way，Upton whs reached about eight oblock，when Mr．nad Mrs．Camm providen a welcome cup of lea，and thanks are the for their hospitality on this and previous oeeasions．The hand glsa wish to thank the respective Vicar：for the use of the bells，and hope in the future to visit some of them for peale．

PEALS OF THE PAST.

Is it not time that something was done to compile a record of all the early peals that were rung, so far as information is still available? This question is prompted by the reference made in our columns last week to the first peal of Grandsire Triples, the record of which is still happily preserved to us in that tower of many historical performances, St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich. There are in existence in numerous towers ancient peal boards recording most interesting performances of a bygone age; among the manuscripts now in the custody of the British Museum, and in the old peal books of such societies as the College Youths, the Cumberland Youths, the Painswick Youths and St. Martin's Guild there is a further source of information concerning the doings of early ringers, but hitherto no steps have been taken to bring all this information together. Jasper Snowdon is, perhaps, the Exercise's greatest historian, for in his patient, painstaking, methodical manner, he collected a mass of particulars, much of which he gave to the world in the various ringing books of which he was the author. His work was invaluable, and it is probable that but for his researches ringers generally would know little of the bistory of their art.

Of a large proportion of the peals that were rung in the first hundred and fifty years of change ringing, no record, of course, remains; but we do think that the time has now arrived when ail that can be ascertained of past peal performances should be coliected, and brought together into one comprehensive record. is there not here a really useful and valuable work which the Central Council might do? and what more fitting place for the retention of this record than the Central Council's library? The ringing publications of the last fifty years are already to be found in the library, and they may be taken to cover practicalliy all the peals, at any rate of any note, which have been rung during this period. What we would suggest is that the Central Council should undertake to compile a record, in the fullest detail available, of all the peals, about which information can be got, rung prior to this period. The nucleus could be obtained by extracts from the peal books mentioned, from the museum manuscripts, and from the late Mr. Snowdon's papers. Ringers could then be requested to provide copies of all old peal boards, and others who have the possession of private peal books and records could be asked to help. In this way, we believe, not only an interesting but an almose invaluable history of peal ringing could be conpiled. Moreover, it would serve the further purpose of providing a duplicate record of existing ancient peal books and boards, which, though

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD.

- Higher Pever kettles

Lower Pever pans,
Knutsford's gWeet music,
Rosthern's great drones.
So runs an old Cheshire ditty, relative to the bells of varions churches. Higher Peover has anly flree, whilst the others have sia each, and are in the area of the Stomport branch of the Cliester Guild. which hela its quarterly meeling at Lower Peover on Saturday lasi. It is one of those out-of-way places often beard aboul, bub seldom seen, except by the very curions. The writer formed one of a party which unwiltingly, had a circular taur on "shank's pony." Inquiries, on leaving the train, elicited that fous miles was the dis. tance; two hours after, the ' locals,' whom we asked. were sure it Was a food foor moiles, and rain was coming down. However. Lower Peover was reached in time for lea, and whon this whs over some commenced the journey hone: those who did not arrived bate early on Sumday morning. The person who said fishermen were nad, had never met those who went to Peover from the Stockport side.
Altogether about twenty-five members and friends werg present in. eluding those from the Norlawich branch, who wore heartily welcomed. Nothing untoward happened at the business meeting. Denton was fixed as tha place for the next gathoring, to be lield on Saturdsy, November 24th. The hon. Secretary was thanked for lis address in church, and the authorities for permithag the meeting to be held.
Cheslire is famons for its quaint old buildings, but gome so effectually rivets the attention as do those of the Black and White. on Magpie style. Tlug are reminiscent of the days when the distriots in which they are situat were covered will forests, the wood from thege being the cheapest and handiest material for their construction.
Of the : Magpie. Ghurches, Lower Pcover is ponsiderea to be the best example. Originally built in the 13/h century and several times restored, it is an interesting and curious ecclesiastical rarity, The intorfor is almost entirely constructed of oak. blact with uge, anrl the wood pillaws supporing the roof are roughly liewn. In the Shakerley Clapel there is an oak chest which surely belongs to an age when giants were in the lancl. Tradition has it, that if a maiden failed to raise its lid and thow it back with one hand, she Was not a fit wife for a Cheshire ycoman.
The Western tower was built in 1582 , the bells were recast and reluag in 1911, by Warmer, and are rung from the ground foor. They were well requisitioned throughout the afiemoon and evening, in a variety of methods. then the hest method lrome was tacklerl and successfully accomplisfied in four hours. Then to bed. J. P. F.

THE FIRST TRUE PEAL OF GRANDSIRE,

To the Editor.

Sir, -In last week's issue you annonnce, *August $26 \mathrm{th}_{3} \mathrm{i}_{3}$ the annit versary of the firgt peal of Grandsire Triples on record. It was rung in 1718 at Norwich.' The peal board assertz that a "hr. John Garthon, who, with long study aud practice, have werfectiy discovered those intricate methods whinh werg hidden from the eyes of all ringer; in England, it beiog the first time that it was ever rung true, etc. Can ang of our Norwich ringers supply, througli your columas, a copy of the original composilion? Jones. Reeves and Blakemore, in their . New Canpauologing page 57. say: "Ever since Grandsire Triples hath been discovered, or practised, 5,040 changes manifestly appeared to view. Further on il says: "Hardham Condell, Annable etc., exhansted all their skill and patience in this grand pursuit.' Yet seemed convinced that the task " itself was an utter impossibility, or their united efforts were unequal to it.' Holt's famous one-part' peal was performed on Sunday, July 7th, 1751-33 years later than the recorled Norwich peal.

Onar ancient College Youths' recorrl states that ' Mr'. Ben, Ammable composed the first peal of Grandsire Triples, containing 194 Sohs and 46 singles,' and ye! we must benr in mind Mr. Ben. Annablo was contemporaneous with Mr. John Folt. If thoso leading lights of this noble scionce failed to discover, in their united efforts'-wears after the 'Norwich peal "-according to the Gospel of Jones. Reeves, etc., to accomplish a solution of the difficulty. Wr. John Folt's one-part peal, in my opinion, must be accopted as tho 'first true peal' of Grandsire Tuiples.
I hope, sir that readers of the: Ringing Wrorld : will aceept this letter in the anme tranquil spirit in which it is writen, and that no aspersions will be cast upon any of those "noble pioneers of the art mentioned in this letter. ## A WEEK-END IN WALES.

Bank Holiday, August 6th. Breakfast at 8, peal attempt at St. Mary the Virgin ut 9 a.m., so arranged early that we might catch the I. 10 train to Hay. 'Go, London,' resulted in 1 hour 23 minutes ringing. Ab luncb it was suggested to try again in the afternoon, as it train at six would allow us to reach Chfford. The afternoon's atfempt jasted 1 hour 30 minules. Any further devialion from tho progrumme was nof permissible. However, the editor of the Jreeon 'limes' was kind enough to suggest, when reporting our doings, our visiting the town again and staying till we did ring it. There's no accounting for the vagurice of peal ringing. The one performance most needed was, as it happened on this oceasion, the only failure, and then at the lower end of the ropes. It is only fair to any thut our conductor, 'Bobbie,' was never in better bobbing form. Members of our parly brought picture posteards and knickknacks to take home for' 'molher, ${ }^{\text {' }}$ before entraining for Hay and Cliford. They quiekly regained their holiday spirits amongst tho crowds of trippers afithe station. With a liearty farewell to and from Mr. Evans, who, it is laped, will some day attain the distinction of being 'grandfather' of the ringers in Brecon.
The churclt at Clifirat, situated in a lofty tableland, overlookiug the ftmons Golden Valley and the valley of the River Wrye, whir moet ali TIay, fwo miles distani, is well worth a visit for the scevery alone, and to liear the bells-by Mears and Stainbank, of Jondonwithout a peal, true and complete, thrown in as a sort of change ringers honus. The sound of the bells is micely regulated by pairs of partholes on each face of the square tower. There aro no ugly laurres to deflect the sound downwards. and, like the belfry at Llanfigan, ought to be referred to by the Central Council as an object lesson in dealing wills noisy fells and towers.

Mr. Hyett met us at Hay Slation. Our train being Iate, he wisely arrnged a car to get us top to our tea room quicily, and we retrieved oursolves from reproach by lumble apologies to the host and the many friends there to welcome us, and regrettine the absanre of the Ringing Master of the Herefort Guitd. An cnjoyable cvening was spent, with tho Rev. Walwy Trumper in the chair, and church ladies to attenct to our wanls and to pour out 'r a nother' pleasa.

Messrs. Grove, Mathews, Slort and Bass reodered their twelvebell airs 10 perfection, and cousses of Catars 'im hand deligated the eonipury. Mr. T. Salter proposed the thanks of the visitors wro the Purochial Church Council and the Vicar for hospitality, and to all those who had done their best la make the last hours of the boliduy visit so bappy. The chureh tower was not visited, but hind permission was graciously accorded our team "to try London" in the morningi, and 'goar-nights' were said with some hope of the hat trick being accomplished after all.
On the way to aur hotel, 'The Swan' at Hay, we heard seperal 31ack Country anoedoles, atnol aur Tom, whose sult late not lost its dinvand, hat to admit that his the pace that kills. Wo were waylaid by Mr. and Mrs. Hyett, who had perpared supper for us. The landhalls hrought down the younger fyetts, and we were joined by two of the leam who rang in the first pal in the new diocese the previaus Siaturday, Hessis. Rackham and Willians, who had cycted over from filwern for the diay, And 'so tio bed,' as Mistress Peppery would say, al 11.30 p.ant, but in outs case the landlady was Mrs. Powell, who that not appear to understand wly ten men only wander the 'reather:' Gilwern found thom in No. 9. Brom in 5, and Stourbridge in 4, according to the rooms allocated-a housa full ef ringers, und a parish church adjoining withotat bells, and that in a busy market town of some importance Thesday A August 7th. Yes! yes! Samuel and his sever boys will be along san! Well now, we will tuickly henr the bells, I toll you!' Spoken with the singing voiec of a man of Wales, the above words were the only relies of our Western brothers met wilh. 'The picturesque costume of the natives was not, seen, not even a 'tall hat,' one of which we were kemly secking to take home with us. Breakfast at 8. Car 8.30 n.m. We gitwe Mrs. Powell a haudbell selection before leaving, and, in return, partook of a Welsh decochion possessing an 8-7-8 favolumetheglin, a sound tonic for methodimen. Reaching Clifford Churels at 9.15, wo began busimess prepnrations in earnest, and for the fonell time every rope and every licaring was examinad ly the organiser. An hour of good London found the hand well settied town to their task. The keen byes easl at each other. as pieces of the rmethod hat to be acenmately fitted in to time and compass, were nover melaxed, and the weleome 'that's all come at 12.40 pma .

Once again our kindly host, the Vicar, presided at the board that checrs, a cider luncheon enjoyed and thanks tendered; ever fying time urging us anward. Leaving Whilney-an-Wye at 2.16, wo huke the hondownd journey at Hereford for an hour, and visitel the Church of All Sitinis. Hero we were met hy Mr. Gwyone with open belfy, who ingtired of me, "Are you all there?' I ventured to shy "Whought sa," afler my experiences of the past few days with the the Newcasllin men, with Mr. J. W. Jones of Newport, were to have the bells from 3 to 4 p.m., and our pardy were mistaken fur Nowtheraers. Unfortmately our twain went on at 4.17, and th fraternity of teams from the borders of Scotland and Wales frustrated by the absence of M1: Ferty's lads.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

BEDFORDSHIRF RINGERS IN HGRTFORDSHIRE

Through the kindness of the Vicar and churchwardens, the Luton Parish Church bell ringers had their anmual outing on Salurday, Ang. 18th, by motor charabanc. A start was made from the straw hat town' at 9 a.m., and travelling via Whitwell, St. Paul's Walden the home of the Duches of York), snt Knebworth, Bonnington roached at 10.30 a.m., after a somewhat exciting journey along the conntry lanos. The Luton men were welcomed to this world-wide vil. lage by the deetor (bhe Rev. W. E. Mills), and the veteran eampanologist, Mr. Sanuel Page, one of Squiro Proctor ${ }^{\text {a }}$ s famous Surprise buud, who rang a couple of touctes with the visitora on the musical ring of eight. A familar figure, however, was missed by the writor in the person of the late Mr. John Kitchencr, who is greatly missed by all at this pretty rillage.

Bidding adieu to the Rector (who is taking up the arti of campanology) and 'Sam;' the journey was resumed at 12 o'clock for Hertford, via Watton. Hot lunch at the Dimsdale Hotel was served in first-ciass sijle. During this time a very heavy thunderstorm passed over Hertford, a deluge of rain following for mearly ajh hour. After lunch an hour's xinging was enjoyed at All Saints' Church, containing a peal of ten. Tlie verger welcomed the wisitors, on behalf of the Vicar (the Revr. T. G. Smith), who, with his ringers, was hiswing aut outing at Brightom. These bells go well but are a little noisy in the ringing chamber. The party next made their way to Baskay, via Waro and Brangling, and were welcomed at the tower by the loenm tenens to the Rev. W. T. Stublos, who was on his wara Lion, and Mr. W. Machon. The bells, which aro a very handy rin of eight, have a grand tenor, weight 15 cwt. As tea could not b obtained in flis village the journey was resumed to Rovston, about five miles clistant, where at tio Bull Hotel a substantial repast partaken of. All were interested in a young fox of four months at tho hotel. As Royston was nob in the programme for ringing. Bal dock was the next atopping-place, the ringers being met by Mr. Jelan Cawriell, who woleomed then on hohalf of the Fiear. Ringing was indulged in on this fine peal of eight, with a tenor of 28 owt., from 7.30 to 8.45 p.m. At 9 o'clook 1racks were made for "stawopolis. via the Garden City, and Hitchin, Luton being reacled nbout 10.30 p.m., after a mosti enjoyable time. The following methods wert rung at the various towers during the dav: Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, Double Norwich. Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Stedman and Grandsire Caters Oxford aud Kant Trehle Ten. The members of the Luton hand wish to thank the incumbents of the various churches for the use of the bells and the local ringers for their many kindnesses and welcome, which were greatly appre ciated.

TOUR IN DEFON,

St. Mary's Guild, Taunton, accompanied by Mossrs. Cozens and Young, churelnwardens, made a tour of part of Devon by charabanc on August 18th. Lenving at 7.15 am . Exeler was renched at 9 a.m. where a brief halt was made. From there the journey was continued to Moretonlampstead, where the lParish Church was visited, and the bells raised in peal some good Stedman Triples being then rung. The bells are a very musical peal by Gillett and Johnstou of Groydan Chagford was the next place of call and the ringers were met the Rector and the foreman of the fingers, who condueted them the belfry. Touches of Slednan Triples were ang in fine style. belle lavo vecently been rehung by Messis. Aggett alad Sons, Chagford, aud they " go' splendidly. The temor is about 21 cwt After loaving Chagford, a most pleasant duive over Dartmoor exporienced, and this beautilul part of Devon was admired by The nexf stop was at Buckfastleigh, where lanch was partaken at the Golden Lion. The parish churely was pisiced, altd some Trethin Bob Minor and Stedman Doubles were rung. From there the riuger walked to Buckfast Ahboy, the real object of the day's iouruey. Het they found a peal of twelve bells cast by Messis. Warmer and fo. of London, and lung by Messrs. Argett and Sons. Owing to ihe 41 avoidable absence of several ringors at the last moment only rount on the twelve and Stedman and Grandsive Caters could he rang. Afte tha bells had been lowered in peal, the ringers were kindly shown over the Abbey by one of the monks. The Abber itself can only b described as magnificent, when it is remembered the work has all been dono by unskilled labour by the manks themselyos.
homeward jourmey a halt was made at Ashburton, and the last ring ing for the day, a few touches of Stedman Triples was done herc Afterwards the journey wns continued to Exeter, and tea wis par haken of at Deller's. Taunton was reached about 11 p.m., and every bodv agreed the day wis one of the most interesting aver spent by the Guild.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

LUDLOW AND CHUROH STRETTON DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of this distriet, held at Wistanstow on Aug 18th, was well attended and very enjoyable. The company number ed 27, and the following towers were represented: Bitterley. Brom field, Olunbury, Leintwardine, Ludlow. Norbury (Cheshire) and Stokesay. The Rector (the Rev. W. D. La Touche) together with the local ringers, welcomed the visitors on their arrival, when the bells were raised, and useful practice obtained in Grandsire Doubles sad Typles.
Service was held in clurvel, conducted by the Reotor. who also addressed the members, and exhorted them to spare no efforl in an endenvour to attain proficiency in whatever they undertook,
The Rector lad kindly made all arrangements in regard to the tea, whick was partiken of in the Schoolroom. The business meeting was afterwards leld, with the Rector in the chair.-Seven full members and one probationer from Wistanstow tower were duly elected.
A pleasing feature of the mecting was the number of young ringers assembled, who, if they act upon the sound advice given by the Rev. La Touche, will be of great service to the Guild in the future Courses of Grandsire Caters and Triples were rung upon landbells, ancl also a 720 of Bob Minor in 19 minutes by the following: P. Lane 1-2. G. Randle 3, A, R. Harrison 4. Rev. H. S. T. Richardson (conunctor) 5-6. This was the first 720 Bob minor by ringers of 3 and 4. Ludlow was chosen for the next quarterly meeting to be lield on 10th November, if convenient.

MEETING AT OLD RADNOR.

The summer quarterly meeting of the Presteign and Leominster Districts Branch of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held at Old Radnor on Saturday, Auguzt 18th. The proceedings commenced with the business meeting at the Ficarage, the Fiear (the Rev. I. Lloyd) presidiag. -One new member was elected, and it was decided to hold ihe nest quarterly meeting at Pembridge, in November, and combined practice at Dilwzin in September, and Ese in October, the dates to be fixed by the district secretary.

The meeting also passed a vote of syupathy with the parents aud friends of Mr. E. B. Fitz-Patrick, a menber of the Kingsland band, and a promising member of the Guild, who died last month.

Tle Vicar and Mrs. Lloyd very kindly provided tea, and attended to the wants of the company, 22 members sitting down. A hearty vote of thanks wais accorded to the Vicar and his wifo for their kind. ness, Mr. Lloyd expressing his great pleasure in welcoming the visitors, and hoping to meet them all again next summer.
The party then proceeded to the church, a distance of abont a mile and a half, where they found other members had already is sembled. The bells, a fine ring of six, with tenor about 16 cset. wers kept going till 8.30 p.m. to Grandsire and Bob Doubles and Bab Minor.
The church dedicated to st. Stephen which is situated on a hill commanding a lovely view, and contains a very finely carved screen, is well wortid a visit. This was the first meeting held there by the association, and was very successful, menbers attending from Almeley, Hay, Kington. Kingsland, Knightou. Lyonshall. Staunten-onArrow. Stoke Prior" and the local band. Fandhell ringing was carried on at intervals. The last iten of the evening was * The land of my fathers, played by fons members.

BRIDGEND RINGERS' LONG EXCURSION.

On August 7th. Lhe Bridgent ringers had their anumal outing by charabanc. " $\mathrm{Go}^{\text {' }}$ ' was callel soon after 7.30 a.m., and after a bice run via Cardiff and Newport, the first stopping-pince, Llangibby, wins reached. Here a nice hanty ring of eipht were soov 距, going to Grandsire Triples. After a look round the elurch, the party proceeded ilurough Dsk, Monmouth. etc. Io Ross where they were met by Mr. J. Clark, who harl everything in madiness. Sliont tonches of Grandsire werb the order, and thon an hour's lovely drive brougite the excursionists to Hereford. After dinner et the Cily and Counly Restaurant, All Saints Ghurd was visiter, and ac few rood touches brought round. The roturn journey was made via Abergavenuy. Where tea was parlaker of at lime Victoria Cafe. Thme woull not allow a long stop here, but tho journey whs again hroken at Llangihhy, where a pleasant hour was spent with che or two or the local ringers. Bridgend was eventually reacherl about 12.30 a.ma evers one having had a roysl time. The ringers take fhis opporthity of thanking the various clergy for the hase of the hells and all who inelped to make tho outing such a success.

Incidentally the peal was Mr, Shade's $1,223 \mathrm{st}$, and, like "Charley's Aunt." lie is " still ruming.'

THE OXFORD GUILD ANNUAL MEETING.

To the Editor.
Sir, 一As a membobr of some thirty years* standing. I take ab least a speculati*e intarest in the affairs of the Oxford Grild. It appears to me thit the members in the mare remote parts af the diocese have a real grievance. As was very logically peinted out at the annual mesting. the fact of hotding the festival at Oxford one year practically ensures its being held ihere the next, since the great majority at the mecting are just those to whom Oxford is easily aceessible. It is simply in the nature of things that they should contimue to voie for Oxford year after year.
Tiat being so, the only way to give tile-oller parts of the diocese a chance is to take a vote by ballot unless the annual meeting could be induced by a strong recommenitation from the commiltee to impose a self-denying ordinance and vote for another aentre. But does tho rule as now revised preplude an appeal to a ballot next year It specifes 'the place selected at the previous annual festival, but it does not define the precise mode of selection-whether by a show of hands or otherwise. As far as I can see, the terms of the rule would be sntisfed hy a general hallot of all members, the votes being counted and the result declared at the anmal meeting, just as well as by a show of hands on the part of those aotually plesent. The old rule required the place to be fixed by the members' in general menting assembled, which implied that only those present conld vote. but the rule as since revised simply provides that the selection shail take place at the festival.
It. may be of interest, to state, what is the practice in the Salisbury Guitd, which also covers a wide area. The entire arrangements are in the hands of the nommittee, and they ensure thit all members shall have due consideration by holding the festival at Salisbury once in three or four years, and in the intervening years taking the different districts of Dorset and Wilts in hurm. The two cases are not parallel, as the change ringing facilities of Salishury are not to be compared with those of Oxford - except for Oxford's dearth of might-bell towers-but the principle might be adopter in a modifed form. And the outlying parts of the Oxford Diocese offer greater attraction for ringers now lilan thirty years ago. Fours truly, Kington Magna.

F. LI. EDWARDR.

MORE MUSINGS ON SUNDRE TOPTCS.

The question of the mecting-place of the Oxford Diocesaz Guild for its annual festival seems likely to lead, not merely to ${ }^{\prime}$ strained relations '-it has reached that already-but to actual breaking point, if the matiter is nod wery carefully hamded. Knowing something of the feeling which has boen growing in Buekinghamehire during the last year or tro, I can say this much, that some of the ringens there aro smarting under what they honestly consider to be a real grievance, and it forobaly because membors of the Guild in other parts of the diocese liave failed to realise this that tiey hase, more or less lightly. outroted ilie proposal to make the anmual festival a rerambulating * one I an, a peace-loving subject, nad I loke constifutional methads of daing things; but there are times when it musli be realised that drastic action may be necessary, and it is quite obvious that tie Wyconbeites, nud those who think with them, intend to force matter's $\mathrm{by}_{\mathrm{y}}$ a step which once taken, may well prove scrious breakaway for the Oxford Guild.
To be quite candid, I doubt if the majority of those who voted Oxford * the last mecting, fully realised what their action might mean. To them it was merely a ase of the majority has it, and they roted as they did because they believed that Oxford is the best centre for the festival. In that they may be right but the views of minorities canmot always be ignored, and what they are leading for, if they ro not look oul is a rival assomation in Buckinghamshire. I doubt if this possibility occurred to them. Such a gplit, above all things, mould be most regretable, mut members of the Guild in other parls of the diocese ought to be alive to this prohable yesuit of persisting iu a course which. though constitutionaly justifible, is a source of grievance to a strong secfion. There is time yot to save the worst, and I luave the greatest admiration for the tact of the Mastey of the Oxford Guild- If there is a way out no doubt he will find it, but it will not do to adopt a policy of drift, in the hope that tho feeljug aroused will die down with the phasage of time
The letter of the Rev. Ferbert Drake lask weck did several things T the first place it put my spelling right, albhough i had only gone aslray in the number of les. and an ending or two, but principally it showed how. even in the enlightened days of the twentieth century, the Exercise can hate freak (as well as Greek) words foisted upon il hlthough. For that mather the progress of twenty years since Passallatrin' and 'Passallatessera ' were coined. has not, apparentl], brought men to mole rational viewe, when they can adopt such absurdities in nomenclature as-but, no; let us try to forget them. I tremble, however, to think what abmormities the Peals Analpsis Committee will inflid upon us whels they come-if ever they do-to game the humareds of new Major methods. which some diay, The Conncil will publish. And that opens up another question: Why he Peals Analysis Committee? The Council have got a Methods Commitee: the Methods Committee provided tho methods, and why on earth they were not given the task of sclecting namk for their own productions passes comprehension, A Carpenter may bo a good "ardener, but j is quite certain that in Analysis Committee makes a poot hand at christening metiocts.
But I haw got rather awas from my subject. These words * Passal. dithí ame "Passallatessera. Mr. Drake tells ths, are alrearly and deservedy obsblets. There I do not quite agree with him. That they onglit to be, there is no doubt but their absence of use, I imagine, is more beduse there are at present no mothods practised which contain 'all but threes or 'all but four.' When there are, the legislator who was the originator of Llyese tongue twisters will no doubt pop up ant refer us to Clause 3 of Section 4 of fhe Acl-I doubt pop up aud refer us to Gause 3 of Section 4 of the Act-I the clause, section, nod year may liape been, and ser that, as it has not been repealed, it must be applied and the New Spring Onion Maximus must be classified under the Passallatessera head to distinguish it from the Surprise, Passallatria and other classes. these things do not become obsolete-they just hybernate, and then. When a succeeding gencration comes up arainst a melhod rung for the first time. someone dives into the arolives of ringing fif the original perpetrator has paused beyond the stage of diving) and says "Hers you are, our grandfabhers named this a "Passallatessera" method, ant we must use that name hecanse of tradition. More over this method does nol; belong to the vegetable cless; it belongs the zoological group, and as it is obriously a cross betweer Kangeroo Surprise and Hippopotamus Dolight, we ought to call it Kangerotarmus Passallatessera Maximus." " That's the kiud of thing we to in ringing.
But seriously, Mr. Drake's exposure of the way these terms were adopted goes to prove that we have altered very fittle for the better. in that respect at any rate, in the last hundred years. This dog: Greek, or pussy-Guglish, or whatever you like to call it, ought to have no place in ringing terminology, and here is another little job for the Central Council. let them overheul their rutes anal decisions and clear out soma of these absurdicios. By the way, i wonder how Iatessera " veally indicate? Mr. Drake told us what they are mfended to mean, and what they realiy do mean; but what do they convey in rigging? We know owl old friends "Treble Bob:" 1mperial,' anai "Surprise." Woll, for the benefit of those who hepe not studied the subject, I may just explain hut the "all but three, and all but four relate to the cross-sectiong of methods with Freble Bob lunts, and that, just as a Surprise method has a place made at very cross-saction and Treble Bob at nohe, so " Passallatria' and Passallafessera; have places mude nt ' all but three," and "all but four. cross-sections respectively.

There $\mathrm{i}_{5}$ still a band of ringers within reach of Boston, D.E.A. What a struggle dear of Dr. Nichols made to plant change ringing on tho American continent, but hov livtle reant did be see for his efforts! True he had round him for the last few years of his long life a limited company of men imported from England, but all his labour to induce change ringing to take root among the Americans themselves onded in almost entire fajure. Reading the report of tho mufted ringing in Boston for the late President Harding one realises that the American Press knows ans litile about the subject as do the English newspapers. Apart from the fact that the ringers rang Grandsire doubled ${ }^{\text {a }}$ (that is not an impossibility. I imagine, though I rion't think the Boston men rang Double Grandsire), what nmused mo mosi-if ose may allow amusement to enter mito such a solemn matter as muffled ringing-was to read that these ringens " han per omed tho same service many times befone at the death of a Britisl king. Happily British monarchs an not often meer muffled peals, and these ringers would have to be fairly olf in tho teeth I they had rung at the death of more than one British king, eecing flat Edward FII was the only king for whom muffled ringirg has been done since William $T V$. died in 1828 ! But I suppose the American reporter wanted his readers fo know tlat in Boston the ringing was really done by men of experience, atal experience gained in ringing mufflen for kings sounds more imposing lhan ringing for ommon ciay-over in a democratie cotnetry
Which reminds ma that last weok some Englisl reporter must bave had his leg well pulled. I was much interested in and article-an instivecire article up to a point-published in a London daily newspaper advocating a great carillon for London. It enlarged upon the music which such a set of bells would provide for a wasl audionce, and deseribed quite accurately the methods of modern tunfing. It was in ackalacing the clams of the carilon as compared with bells hung for ringing that the writer began to get out of his depth, and, by one man, where one man was required for each bell wipulat were rung in the ordinary way, he went oft the deep end when he concluded with the statemeat thati there usen to be a peal of twetro belk which required a platoon of sixty men, all eqgaged at the same time to rilg them. They must lave been some hellः! I sup pose they lafe been rehune by now, as the witier spoke of them a the past tense: but I think I know one gendleman who, despite the necessity of the platoon to keep the twalve going. would have been quite ready to tackle tho tenor single-lianded.

A REVIVAL IN DURHAM.

INTERFRTLNG GATHERING AT CONSETT.
The proposed attempt at a peal of Grandsiro Triples on August $25 t h$, as announced in our issue of August 3yd, had untortunately to be postponed to a date to bc faxed in Ochober, owing to the unevoidable sbsence of the conductor, Mr. W. H. Barber of Newcastle Calfedral, on urgent business. However, two of tha Cathedral ringers. Messrs. Alf Fillier and A. M. Hall, had made the journey to Consett, so they acivised an attempt for a hali peal of the same method. This was ascomplished in an hour and 30 minutes, in good style, and conducted by Mr. G. H. Wilkinson, the secretary of the Consett brud.
This was Mr. Filkinson's finst altempt at conduoting, and overy credit is due to him for his pluck and reseurce. He is of a retiring nature, but has great hopes of adding one or two peals to the credit If the local band before many montis are over. He has the making of a capable conductor, which the association is in great meed of these times, and it will not be his fault if he does not get his firat peal as conductor this year.

It was a pleasant, surprise to meot several ringers from the neiphbouring towers, and to hear that the prospects of a lappy and united body of ringers at Blackhill. Benfeldside and Consett not forgetting Tanfield, were never so bright. and that a healtliy sense of rivalry is springing up is the district.
The local band kindly provided refreshments for the risitors, for which they returned thanks, and after a short rliseussion on future developments the company broke up at 8 o'clock. looking forward eagerly to their next meeting in Ochoher.
It is very encouraging to know that the Ficar of Consett (the Rev. W C. D. Feddeny welcomes these periodial meetings. and throws no ohstacles in the way of the association having the use of tha church bolls to carry on. and further improve the art of ohange ringing in his deanery.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

THE PRESERVATION OF ANCIENT BELLS AND TOWERS.
The 46 th aunual report of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings is a record of a year of valuable work.
Reference is mad to the conference on bells and bell hanging mbich took place between tho Society and the Central Council's Cammittee, and ile report adds:-

For some years before the war the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buiddings and the Central Committee of lingers misunderstood each olher. Particularly was thjs the case with regard to the treatment of old bells and bell cages and in regard to the material of which new bell eages should be made and tho form they should take.

The agreement resulting from this conference will he most useful, and in proof of this fact we are able to state that it has been adopted by the Ceutral Committeo for ithe Protection of Churches gnd their Treasures, and by that autionitative body, has been sent to the Diocesan Advisory Commitices.s
The following letter accompanied copies of the report of the conference, scut out by the Central Committee:-

The Central Commiltee for the Protection of Churches lias received from the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings the enclosed memorandum on the conferenco between that Society and the Central Conmeil of Chureh Bell Ringers.

The Central Committes considers it a most valuable and helpful document, and would suggest that all Diocesan Committees should endeavour to malee til as fully known as possible by sending it for publication to the Diocesan monthly paper, and the local press at thein cliseretion together with thiz covering letter:

In the judgment of the Executive Comnittee it is desirable to emplasise mos? strongly the danger that may acer"e to our ancient church towers by the addition of more bells, unless they are hung under skilled advice. Ancient towers were not built to contain the more recent type of heavy bell used for change ringing. The great majority of mediteval bells were not only fewer and lighter than those of a later period, but it is highly doulatful if they were ever swung round as in change ringing. It is only now that we are beginning to she the effect of the large number of additions of heavy ringing bells improperly liung and of unsuilably tlesigned frames placed in ancient towers, esperially in the nineteenth ceatury. Those conceraed with ringing should bear in mind that while some ancient towers can stand stich additions thene are many which cannot.
As a general rule it would seem that wooden frames slowld be used in ancient towers, and wooden headstocks on bell $\mathrm{I}_{\mathrm{s}}$ which have canous. Ganons should not be cut oft, save under most cxceptional circumstnnces and never in tho case of a medirval bell. Experiments with untried naterials and methods of hanging slould be confined to morlern lowers.

The Cenlural Committee would suggest that Diocessn Committees should not advise the granting of faculties for repairs to belts without a definite understancing as to whether or not tuning according to the Simpson or flve-tone method is proposed: that no Sinpson tuning shonld be advised on bells dating from hefore 1700 and only ander special circurastances on bells dating from before 1800 . No opinion is here expressed on the desirability of tuning new bells according to the Simpson meiliod, though it may he pointed out that technical opinton is by no means fgreed as to its merits.

The Commiltee would also advise that no agents or representatives of belf faunders should be allowed to inspect or report upon bells on their own initiative save in enses where the bells have been rehung by the same firm within the previons fue years.

The Central Committe is serionsly concermed $b_{y}$ information received as to the condition of certain ancient towers in the country which tre of priceless, artistic and architectural value. It is not without reason that they would urge upon Diocesan Committees the desirability of inspecting and watelring fowers and the need of ohtaining reporls by competent architects in as mally cases as possible.

No additions or alterations to rings of bells or their hangings should be made without asking the advice of the Dioccsan Commio tee.'

ESSEX ASSOCIATION. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION

The quarterly meeting of the South-Westeru Division was held at St. Mary's, Prittlewell, on Saturday. Ringing, which commenced at 3 o'clock. was followed by a service, kindly arranyed by the Vicar (Canon Eilis N. Gowing), who gavo an inspiring address. Tea, kindly provided by the laclies, was partaken of at St, Mary's Hall, and at the succeeding business meeting, at which the Vicar presided. it was decided to hold the district annual meeting at St. Mary's, Walthamstow, in December. It was also decided to hold a meeting ot Woodford, on a date to be arranged by the secretary.
The Master (Mr, A. Prior) proposed a hearty vate of thanks to the Viear for granting the use of fhe hells. for the service and for presiding at the meeting-This was seconded by Mr. G. F. Margetson, and carried unanimously. Thanks are also accorded to the orgapist and choir-boys, and to the ladies who helped at tea, and all who assisted to make the meeting a success.

DEATH OF VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER.

 A MEMBTXR OF THE ' ALL ENGLAND ' COMPANY.On Monday, Augusi 20th, there passed away another of the old school of change ringers, in the person of Mr. Tom Stead, of Blackmanfoot Road, Crosland Moor, Huddersfield. He was a member af what was once known as tre All England Company of Change Ringerg, and helped to win, among many olher priges eight, firsts on both six and eiflit bells. He was also a member of the Hudarsfield Parisls Clurch compans for many years, and took part in a non-conducted peal of Kerat Ereble Bob Major at Dewsbury a record of which was placed ia the Parish Clurch tower dhere.
Mr. Stead was proth of this fent, as it is recorded by the umpires that no word was spoker from calling " go "to 'that's all,' which all must agree was a great feat of concentration for the whole eight men who took part.
He was laid to rest in the pretty cemetery at Kirkheaton, and a muffled ringing took place on the village church bells. Tncluded in the company of zingers who took part was the only surviving memsber of the 'All England company, Mi. J, Pickeving. who is now 86 years of age. He rang the thind bell, which was the actual bell on which Mr. Stead lewrn to ring 60 years ago.
By trade the deceased was a farrier and smith, and he was folowed to the grave by abouli 50 relatives, fellow-farilers, and ringers.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

NORTEREN DISTRICT MEETING AT WITHAMT
A well attended meeting of the Northern Division of the Lssex Association was held ait Witham on August. 18th, when there were ringers prosent from Braintrae, Dunmow, Maldon, Earls Colne, Kelvedon, Broomfield, Great Totham, Biack Notley, Gresnstead Green, and Hull. During the afternoon and evening various touches were rung upon the bells of the Parish Church, where also a slortened form of evening service was held. The Rev, A. Campbell, Vioar of Witham, conducted the service, the Tiev. N. Hagger, curate, was at the organ, and Mre. C. H. Foward, F.P. (Braintree), Master of the Essex Association, read the lesson. -The Vicar gave a suitable address, in the course of which he emphasised that bellis should be rung a hove all clse to the glory of God.
Tea followed at the Church House, where the Rev. H. T. W. Eyro (formerly for many yeens holl. secretzey to the Essex Association) and Miss Eyre kindly entertained the singers.
After tea the Vicar of Witham warmly welcomed the ringers, and at an informal meeting Mr. P. Aslacroft Witiom was admitted member of the Association.-Mr. ©. H. Howard proposed thanks to the Vicar for kindly arranging the service and allowing the use of the bells, to lhe Rev. N. Hagger for playing the srgan. and to the choir boys. He remarked that visiting ringers always had a hearty reception at Witham. where he was plased to know the finurch bells were regularly rang for natirs and evensong by thas loca. hand of enthusiastic ringers. He nlso thanked the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre who maintained his interest, in the Association after many years .
office), and Miss Eyre. seconded, and Mr. Eyre responded.

WHO OWNS ME ?

COMPOSED BY A. B. E. GINNER.
Prompted by receiving a rariation of Annable's peal of Bob Major as a new composition.
Though Grandsire Tripies Primeral Wood,
Holt's calf walked liome, as good calves should;
And left a trail all bent sskew-
A crooked trail, as all calves do,
Since then some hundred years have fled
And $I$ infer Holt's calf is dead.
Leaving behind a Single.
The trail whs taken up next day;
Thurstairs' sheep dog passed that way.
Next Tom Day's fine bell-wether sheep,
Followeri the trail o'er rale and steep,
And drew the flock behind him, too;
As E. B. James is sure to do,
When he dizpenses + Hot Tom.'
So from that day when peals were made;
Througla the wood of figures a path was made;
And many men wound in and out,
Ave bobbed and changed and dodged about,
But still they followed-do not laugh-
The early pathern of Holt's calf,
Whod never heard of $Q$ sets.
Holt's forest patli became a lane.
Which Vicars and Taylor used again.
Their well-worn lane became a road,
Whioh Snowdon made a village street.
And this, before mers were aware.
Thompson's charten thoroughfare,
Of countless compositions.
And soon the central street was this.
Of Parker's 'twelve-part ${ }^{2}$ masterpiece.
Composers, through an age and half,
Trod in the footsteps of Holl's ealf ;
They followed still his crooked way,
With variations day by day,
Trying to improve Holl's pattern.
A moral leason this might teach,
Were I ordained and called to preach.
For men are prone to go it blind,
Varying the calf-paths of their minds.
They toil away from sun to sun,
The net resuli bas long been spun,
Where's their sense of humour?
All that'd required is 'set a seal ';

- Originals, no man can steal.

Let's not get up and proudly call,
Figures whith tre kyown by all
As nothing else than calf tracks.
Apd don't let wise old wood-gods laugl,
Who saw John Holtis primeval calf.
Trace out the Pure Original.

SOURCES OF REVENUE.

Finance is a subject that troubles most, if not all, ringing organisations, but the Midland Counties Association have found such an excellent way out of money difficulties that they have just decided to invest in eighty pounds' worth of Savings Certificates. This is a very practical proof of the Association's excellent financial position, but it would not be possible upon the ringing members' contributions alone. Thanks largely to the energy and powers of persuasion exercised by the President, they have built up an honorary members' list of imposing proportions, the names including :ome of the most influential in the society's area.

This solution of the monetary problem is one which most other associations profess to seek, but which few successfully achieve. The clergy in most parishes are sought out, but in the majority of the associations honorary membership is very largely limited to the parsons. If the example of the Midland Counties Association were followed, the honorary roll would be much wider in scope. and, after all, there is every reason why it should be. Personal influence and tact go a long way in these matters, and while every association may not have at its head a President so infoential as Alderman Chambers, yet in every parish the ringers ought to be able, either directly or through their incumbent, to bring in their leading Churchfolk. An ordinary appeal coming from an officia of anassociation might have little or no result, but personal approach through local channels is more than likely to meet with success. We have often wondered why some of the associations, whose finances are a source of perpetual anxiety to its officers, do not organise a really active campaign for increasing the ranks of honorary members. The Midland Counties Association has shown that it can be done.

Again, to supplement the funds, there is another course open, a course to which we have previously drawn attention. Why should not each tower pay an affiliation feeapart from the individual member's contribution? This fee ought to be provided in each case out of the general church funds, and we believe would in most instances be readily contributed through the churchwardens or parochial councils if the proposal were adopted and properly brought before those concerned. Only recently we advanced several reasons why such a course should commend itself to associations, and we believe it would prove an important contribution to the revenue if adopted. Several associations have recently declared the greatest embarrassment in regard to funds, but the two methods advocated above-the expansion of the hon. members' roll and the institution of an affiliation fee-seem to us to offer far more promising prospects of replenisbing depleted coffers than schemes for peal booking fees or a charge for annual reports. Even if there be any hesitation over the adoption of a new policy by the institution of affiliation fees, there can, at ayy rate, be nothing to prevent an intensive campaign in enlisting new honorary members.

AT THE LOUGHBOROUGH CARILLON.

THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.
Where are the brave, tho strong, the fleel? Where is our Euglisl elitaliry
Wild grasses are their burial-sheet
And sobbing waves their thenody.
O loved ones lying far away
What words of love can dead lips send?
0 wasted dust! 0 senseless clay !
$I_{3}$ this the end? Is this the end?
Oscar Wilde
Among tho plethora of war memorials throughout the length and breadth of the conatry, no other stands out in such bold relief as that of Loughborourh. Leicestershire. Still in its infancy as a borough town, Loughborongh lias rained such a monument to its sons who are sleeping their last long sleep in the soil of Fravee, and in oller lands, that the whole Press of the nation applauded the action. Known only by its scaple industry of bell founding, what better memorial eould be devised than ar carillon in a fower and place which become holy ground in- its association with those who made the great sacrifice. for to long as the bells remain, so long will their memory bo kept green, and rightiky so-lesb we forget, At the dedicatiou of the cowcr and bells on Sunday. July zand, never liad been seen such a mighry concourse of people in the history of Loorglsborongh, and in all probatility, never wih again. Chevalier Denyn, of Malines, Belgium, the reputed premier carilloneur of the world, opened ? the bells, and continued ia series of concerts throughout the following week to the delight of thousands.
It was arranged that the quarterly meeting of the Midland Countieb Association slowh synchronise with the carillon festival, and it was held acoordingly on Saturday. July 28\% it. Alliourlo at all times when held at Loughborongh the association esan rely on a bumper meeting-the previous best being 250 visitors-on this occasion, no less than 375 wat down to thexcellent tea, given entirely. free by the generosity of Messrs. Tayior, in honour of the occasion. The Fearon Hall was pached; nol int inch of room was wasted anf the stairways were ealled into requisition to accommodate the multitude of ringers that came from all parts of the kinglom, and it is highiy probable that this conslituth:s a record for any ringers' meeting.
After grate lad been lustily sung at tho close, ble business meeting wars Proceeded wilh. The chair was oceupied by the presidenf (Ald, R. B. Chanbers, I. P.) who was shpporied hy Ald. W, Mass (Mayor of Loughborongh) the Mayoress, the Ven. Arclideacon of Loughborongh, Mr. Denison Taylor Mr. l'ryce Taylur Mr. A. C. Wright, hon, secretary, ant other officials of the sowiety;
It welcoming the association to Loxghhorough, the Mayor painl a tribute to Messrs. Taylor and Co. saying that the carilion might not have become an accomplished fact lun for their loyal co-operaLion, the largest bell of the 47 forming the carillon, nud weefhing no less than four lons, being their gitt in memory of the sone ihey frad given to the conniry and lert. His Worshin intimating his willingress to hecome an fonorary member, his name was put to the meeting, and carried with ncelamation.
The previdente as usial, handed in thother hatch of new honorary members ior clection, and about Ewenty ringing nominations were also tucepted.
Thie financial position was commended, and it wao ilseided to invest a portion or the large balance al the bank in $£ 90$ worth of War Savings Certificates, these maturing to the vatue of one bundrent pounds in fite years.
Grams of three guincas each to the bell funds of Wesb Rallan and Orston were mate, The opinion being that the money was well spent in assisting duserving eases of restoration.
In ithis connection it may be intimated to other associations that have fibancisl dificult, that 110 hetter way of augmentigy thefr renources exists than the ereation of a large honorary menbers' list, pointing out to them lhat a portion of the balance may be applicil to the relief of neesssilous eases of bell restoration.
For the pinces of next mectings, Bakewell and Jikeston were decided upon.
Hearty voles of thanks were passed to Mrssus. Taplor and Co. for their unbounded hospitality. and this was responded to thy M :Denison Taylor.-Thanks were alse ascorded to the 1 nilies present. The Mayoress and Mrs, RR. B. Chammers, and to the loral branteh for their groat help in handiang the protsem of catering.
As may he expected the bolls of all Saints were in evidence all also the bells of the fommiry. The majority liad come however, to hear the betls of Qucen s Park, where thonsands had gathered to listeu to the famous carillonetr, who sliowed an amazing strill in a Yaried repertoire, ranging from Chopin's 'March Funchre' and 'zhor Wedding Marelb' From 'Liohengrin,' to old Fuglish bulatle.
The carillon has undoutheily fione mucls to popmarise bell mosie. whether it will affust clange ringine advenvelv yemains to be seen. At present ture ringing is a delight to the musioal car. and the carilon mecting af Louglahoroutgh will he a day to be long remerabered.

ANCIENT DURHAM BELLS.

On Thursday August 23 rd , a party of ringers from Darlington visited the vilage of Heighington and rang on the bells of St. Mictuael's Church, 288 Kent Treble Bab Minor, 120 Bob Minor, 120 Stedman Doubles, 120 of Giandsire Doubles, and a second Louch of 288 of Kent Treble Bob Minor a also a course of Grandsire Triples, 120 of Gramdsire Doubles, and a 120 of Loudon Surprise Minor ols the Landbells. On Saturday, August 25 th, 180 Bob Minor and a 360 of Bob Minor were rung, the following ringers taking parl: Messrs. W. D. Lister, of Si John's; F. W. Lupson G. W. Park W. N. Park, Roland Park, W. Oliver and F. Cooke, of Holy Trinity. Darlington; M1. O. S. Burdon of Jondon; and Mrs. Blenkinsopp. J. Beck, H. Hall, of the local band.

These bells are a ring of six, the first three being pre-Reformation bells dating from about 1430 . The treble has the arma of the Neville family, and the figure of the Virgin and the Child in bold relief: and the following inscription:-

- O Mater Dia Me Sma Tirgo Maria.

The second and third bells have also Latin inscriptious on them. They wero augmented to six in 188 B by the addition of thee jarger: bells, cast by Taylor inud Co., of Loughborougla, the temor weighing 15 J cht.

Two peals hape been rung on them, one in seven mixed Minor methods on Jantary 231h, 1896, and one of Shiprise Minor in seven methods on January 22ud. agio. by risiling bands

To the Editar.

Sir,-Every member of the Oxford Diccesan Guilh must feel that your article devoted to the subject of the Guild's annual festival and ths publishing of the letterts from $\mathbf{M r}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Twilichen and Mr. Edwards, will greatly assist the desired end of obtaining equal privileges for all. My certificate of membership is No. 303 dated June $14 t \mathrm{~b}, 1882$, and I cail to mind the year prepious when the East Berks and 'South Bucks Society joined forces with the Oxford Society thus forming the Diocesan Guild. Now. Sir, I would ask memhers to peruse any report of the annual mebtings, held during its existence, successively in the various places in Berks, Bueks and Oxen, $^{\text {xa }}$, and discover any reason for not continuing that procedure. On the contrary, they show how successful they were because of heing recognised as part of a valuable Guild operating in the whole diocese. If this is not the case, I am open to correction. Therefore, as loyal members let us gee that common rights be enjoyed so that the Guild may continue to flourish as of old.-Yours sincerely.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH DIRCUSSES FESTIVAL  MEETING-PLAGE.

A quarterly meeting of the Norlh Buelis Branch was held at Buckingham on Saturday, when quite a large gathering attended representing the following towers: Blatechley, Beachampton Calrerton, Emberton, Linslade, Maids Moreton, Nexport Pagaell Stony Strat ford, Great Horwood, and the local ringets. The belk, a grand peal of eight, were set going at 2.30 p.m. until 4 p mi, when the members ndjourged for tea. Affer this had been partaken of the secretary (Mr. W. Sear) reported that he had no special business to bring before the meeting, but a general discussion took place with reference to the work of the branch, and various opinions were expressed on the controversy that had arisen in the other part of the county in regard to holding the annual festival of the Guild at Oxford each year. It was hoped that some satisfactory arrangement would be arrived at without causing any ill-feeling throughout the various hranches that all helped to uphold the tradition of the Oxford Guild. The Secretary said that he did not wish to voice his personal opinion on the matter until he knew what was actually going to take place, but whatever happened he would have to do what the members wisted whether it was in favour of the annual festival being always held at Oxford, or in the three counties, Oxon, Berh ${ }_{s}$ and Bucks, respectively, eacb year.
After the discussion, a presentation was made to $M \mathrm{M}$ r. W. Sear in recognition of his services to the branch as seoretary for nearly 10 years. The gift was in the form of a sum of money, and the presentation was made br Mr. W. Smith, of Newport Pagnell, in the absence of the chairman (the Rev. L. Moxom).
Tlie Secrelary, in accepting the present, said how glad $\mathrm{t}_{\mathrm{e}}$ was to rective a mall remuneration, but what he appreciatc: most was the action of the mermbers ratber than the value of the present beoause it showed that what he had done in the interetts of the branch during the past had been done to the satisfaction of its members, and llat tre would continue to try and serve them ta the best of his ubility. Whilo such loyalty continued amongst then he felt sure that the Norlh Bucks Branch would always be one of the prominent tranches of the Oxford Guild. It wis the hearty co-operation that he received from all towers that had built tho branch up to what it was, consisting of 29 towars in union with a membership of nearly 200.

Tho usual votes of thanks were accorded to all those who helped to make the meeting a success.
A slont service whs aftorwards held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. C. T. Naters), and further ringing took place the methods rung varying fram Grandsire and Stedman Triples to Cambridge Surprise Major.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

OENTRAL DIYISION AT HENFIELD.

A very suocessful meeting of the Central Division was held at Henfield on Saturday, August $26+1$, when close on 60 were present. Ringing commencerd at 2 and continued until 4.45 , when all assembled at the Parish Mall, where a most generous tea had been provided by the Misses Dixon Brown at which they presided, supported by the Master (Mrr J. T. Rickranu), the Revs. B. J. Boodle (curate), O. P. Williams (Vicar of Ditchting), F. G. Beddard (Vicar of Burges Hill), and the churehwardens.
The usual business meeting followed, and was mostly of a routine nature. The following were elected members: George Mansbridge, Hurstpierpoint; Stafford $H$. Green and John $\mathbb{S}$. Goleismith, non-resident; the Rev. F. G. Bedtard (Vicar of Burgess Hili) hon. member.
Votes of thanks were pesed to the Misses Dixon Brown for their great kindincss in providing tea, and for their presence: the Rey. B. J. Boodle for conducting the service in the absence of the Ficary and the Vicar of Ditelling for his eloquent address. The Vicas of Burgess Hill ulzo assisted at the service.
A collection for tho benevolent fund amounted to &1 2s, d.d. Ringing was then resumed until 8 o'clook, Superlative Cambridge, loundon, Bristol. New Cumberland and Yorkshire Surprise being amongst the methods rang.
The following towers were represented: Brighton (St. Poter's and S. Nicholas"), Burgess Hill, Bolney, Hecne, Henfield Hurstpierpoint, Lindfield, Shipley, Shoreham, Steyniug, and independent and non-resident members werre also present.

The best thenks of the association are due to the Henfield branch, who made such excelient arrangements, and worked hard to make the meeting a success.

A PEAL IN THE TRAIN.

OUMBERLAND YOUTHS' NEW RECORD.

A unique parformance appears in our peal columns this weck the Cumberland Foutls, while travelling down from London to Painswick upon nn excursion, having rung a handbell peal in the train.
There have, we believe been previous attempts by various hanilbell parties to achieve this, but never with success, one such effort, we recolleat, having becn extinguished through the train running into a lumel.
As will be seen from the footnote, the peal last Fyidap was begun at Paddingtor, and finished after the train had passed Stroud, having thus been rung in six counties, viz. Midtlesex. Bucks, Berks, OXFord, Wilts, and Gloucester.
A peal on the sea and peal in the train lhave been rung: When may we expect ta read of a peal in a travelling motor-car or a flying aeroplane?

A BIRTHDAY PEAL.  PLDASANT WEEK-END IN SUSSEX

As resorded elsewhere, & peal of Stedman Caters was rung at Lewes on Saturday, to celebrate the 77th birthday of Mrs. Goldsmith, of Southover, a lady well known to a large number of ringers who have visited the tower there from many parts of the country. There have been bells at Southover for over two centuries; and for something like a hundred years succeeding generations of Goldsnith ware ringers at this tower. Mrs. Goldsmith has been a worshipper at the church for over fifty years, but her connectiou with it has been even more intimate than that of an ordinary member of the cougregation, for it is liere that slae was married, and, after the deall of her hushane in 1884, she carried on for sisteen years the duties of p1arish derk, which office her husband and his father before thim had loug oscupied. Few oulside the actual ranks of ringers lave surpassed higr interest in ringing, with which her family lave been so closoly connected, aud it was, therefore, not without fitnegg that her birthday should be honoured by a peal.
The band was gathered from a wide aren, a contingent from London and beyond making the journey by road. "Elizabetli," with the main party, left ibe Monument at 1 p.m., but the traffic out of the Metropolis, and obstructed roads aboul Craydons, put a curb upon her paces, with the resulf that the County Town of Sussex was nol reached as soon $\mathrm{a}_{3}$ was anticipated. This party, cousisting of Messre. G. 12. Pye (Zomford), C. T. Coles (Waluhanstow), C. Pease (Clielmsford). J. T. Davis (Westminster), and I. G. Slade (Greenwioh), found the rest of the company awaiting them in the tower, the band being completed by Messis. R. J. Dawe and A. J. Turner (Lewes), W. J. Kemp (Clapton), J. A. Hart (Uekfield) nut J. S. Goldsmitls (Woking). Without waste of time on preliminarieg, exgept to elect to the Sussex Association those who were not already members, the bells Fent off into Stedman Caters, and came home at the end of 3 lirs. 53 mins. of excelient ringing, the peal, specially composed by the Woking member of the pariy, consisting of seventy-seven times seventyseven changes. This number was considered the most fiting. in the absence of sufficient time to ring what was originally epoken of, namely, 7777 . And here it mas be added that tho composer, who learnt to ring at this church, desires to express his thavis to the band, and especially for the assistance given by Messrs. R. J. Dawe and C. T. Coles in making the arrangements. Incidentally the peal also formed a birthday celobration for Mr. J. A. Hart, and it is the longest peal on ten bells rung in Sussex.
After the peal the ringers had ' high tea, at which the ${ }^{( }$were wailed upon by Mrs. Goldemith, and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith and Mre. Kemp (who was touring with her husband) also joined the party.
On Sunday morning there was a full muster for gervice ringing, courses of Bristol and Cambridge Surprise Major, and touches of Sledman Caters, in which some of the local men took part, being rung.
In the aftornoon, 'Elizabchb, went off loaded above her recognised capacity, over some hilly Sussex roads. But. she behaved well, and brought her cargo safely to Heathfield, where a capital peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung, and concluded a quite enjoyable week-end's ringing.

ACROSS THE ERISTOL CHANNEL

On August 25th，St，John＇s ringers，Cardiff joined with the AII Saints ringers，Newpurt，for their anmual outing．when Ilfracomhe was visited．Togetner with several of the wives，they crossed the Bristol Chunnel，and a Ine trip was made，the few who were rather upset soon making amends on reaching terra nima．On arrival，the party were met by thet genial Ilfrecombe finger，Mr．R．Dadds，who had made the necessary arrangements for lunch．Time was rather inmited．whelh did away with any speech－making，and tracks were made for the Parish Church，where the bells were quickly raised and sent off into changes．After several toveles a liasty move to the street below，where a oharabme was waiting to tuke the visitors to Coomoe Marting and the drive was much enjoyed．A hearty wel－ come was received at Coombe Martin，and at once the bells were requisitioned，and found to bo a licht musical ring of eight recently installed．After all had trjed their hand the return journey was made through the pieturesque village back to Ilfracombe．A sharp thonderstorm was eacountered，but did not mar the spirits of those who had made the trip．Time woukl not permit of a stay to sample the ring of sux，which shortly，it is stated，will be increared to ring of eight．The steamer was again boarded，where a fine spread was done justice to on the way back．Home was reached in good time，after a thoroughly good day＇s outing，and opporlunity is now taken of thanking Mr．Dadd，for his kindness，and to the incum－ bents for the use of the bells．

EALING RINGERS＇RIVER TRIP．

On Saturday，August $18 t h$ ，the ringers of the above－maned cluvelt （stzenghumed by several friends from Loodon）held their amanal oulng，which this year took the form of a rixer trip，ringing heing secandary thoughi．The party， 18 in number（with a suspicious－look－ mg hamper），lelt Ealing by the 9.30 a．m．tran，and arrived ab Muidenhead at 10.15 a．m．No timo wats lost in reaching Boulter＇s Lock，where a steam launch was boarded en route for Caversham． As soon as tho company had setitled down the contents of the hanper were revented，and also greatily appreciated．During the journey， handbells were brotght out and good practice pat in．Henley was reacherl at 2 p．m．，and here the party went＂ashore，and made theis way to the Jiflle White Hart Hotel，where arrangements had been made for dimer．Time was limiter，and at 3 p．m．the laumeh was again making its way up river，the scenery，wlich was magnificent， being greatly atmired．Caversham was reached ae $4.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ ．，and inaving gathered the the a dead sums，a move was made to the Conterl Cafe，leading，for toa．Mr．J．R．Hackman joined the company here，and lindor piloted the ambitions ones to the tower of st．Laurences，where two tomelno of Stedman，Calers were brought round．A mave was then made to St．Peter＇s，Gaverslam where， through the lsindness of Mr．R．T．Hibbert，this key of the fower Was alitained，and a touch of Stexman Triples rung．After light refreshment，steps were tumed to the station，fand Ealing penched at 9 p．m．，thas ending a day long to be remerniered lyy all who had the pleasure of taking part in it．The bath take lis opportmity （through．［lae Ringing World＇）of thanzing the Rev．W．Follier Fill Robinson for the yery great privilege extended to them，the Vicar of St．Pater ${ }^{2}$ ，Curershm，Mr．J．R．Mackman．and that guod fijend，Mr．IR．T．Hibbert for ineir kindness and the trouble taken in making the day such a great guccess．

WICKWAR RINGJRS OLTTJN．

On Saturday，August 11 th the Wiekwar（Glos，）ringers had their outhry，accompalled thy tho ikector and a few friends．Stanting ati 8 a．m．by charakanc，in delightulul weather，the first stop was made at Marsltrieh，where the party．was met by Mr．Lewis the lacal cap－ tain．After tonches of Daubles and Minor，with tenorg covering．a move waz made for Bradford－on－Ayon，througls pretty country．The go，of the elght hells here was disappointing．the dry weathei hav． ing affected the woortom frame．Aflev ringing some unnamed＇Sur－ prise＂in an attempt to raise them in peal short touches of Doubles and Mmor were ruyg on the front six．Procecding to Trowbringe， which was reached at 12.15 ．dinmer was found to he ready．This over，the party was met by Mr．Sam Hector，who after slowing them ofer the lower and pointmg out objects of interest．helped to raise tha spleadid rins of ten．The＂ro＇of the bells was＇tonping． move was then made for Westbury，where the eight bell：weme it a absolutely，and were only left at 4.30 with many exnressions of regrel．［fp to this fime the time－table had been kept almost to a minute，lut owing to the majority of the party desiring to go to Chippenham by the longer but prettier route，which took them close under the Westbury White Horse，Chippenliam was reached much later than the scheduled time．After a meat tea it was infended to risif bet＇s towers each with a ring of eight，but time would only permita a pull at the Parish Church．Here，Ihauks to the help of the locals，the hest ringing of ike day was andulged in，touches of Sted－ man and Grandsire Triples and Bob Major being brought round in fine style．Chippentrm was left about 8．15 aud home reached just before 10 oflock everybady having thorougaly enjoyed themselves． The ringers，througla the merium of＂The kinging World，wish to thank tie incumberts of the various churcher for the use of the belle． and to the lower keepers and ofluers for so kndly meeting them and laving everything ready，which to a great extent was responsible for making the outing so enjogable and suceessful．

RINGER'S ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.
PLUGKY RESCUE BY HIS WITE.
A cool head and courageous effort by Mrs. Eisie Hairs, saved the life of her lausband, Mr. Prank I. Hairs, while bathing vear Surfeet week or two ago.
Mr, and Mrs. Hairs wemt for a swim, and while in the water Mre. Hairs noticed her hushand in dificultics. Swimmits rapidly to his assistance she was just in time to prevent him going down for the last time. By almost superluman effort, she dragred lim to the side of the river, and her cails for assistance were answered ty two men at work not far off. By the time they arrived, and were able to pull Mr. Hairs on to the bank, Mrs. Hairs herself had almost reached the point of exfiaustion. Mr. Hains was soon brought round again. and is happily no worse for his unpleasant experience. $\mathrm{H}_{8}$ undoubtedly owes his life to his wife's plucky rescue, Mrs. Hains being an excelfent swimmer. The accident was witnessed by their onk child, who was on the river bank.

CAERLEON RINGER'S BEREAVEMENT.

We regret to record the death of Herbert Watis, son of Mr. George Watts, of Caerleon, Mon. Mr. George Watts is a regular service ringer at the parish chutch, and the bells wete rulg muffied on Saturday, August 11 hi as a mark of respect. The deccased was at camp at Porthichw] with the Monmouthshire Territorials, and was seized with Meurisy on August 4 th, and passed away snddenly onthe 7th. He was interred ai Caerleon Churchyard on Saturday, Aug. 11th. The sympathy of all ringers will go out to the parents and family in their sad joss.

A. SPLASH" IN THE NORTH.

The young Lontion ringer, Reginald D. Marshall, made quite a splash' when at Sunderland for a fortnight, noit only in the sea at Roker, although $\mathrm{l}_{18}$ did a deal of that, but in the way of peal ringing. Six attempls were defuitely arranged, and of these five were accomplished. The other, Cambridge Royal al North Shields, could not be slarted for, owing to the late arrival of the pair from Sunderland. However, some good ringing was done on the belle, including 720 of Cambriage Royal. A further attempt was made to get a bob and single peal of Sledman Triples, but was not suecess. ful. In addition to peal ringing, Mr. Marshall did three Suntay's serviee ringing at St. Imatius, including fouchen of Superiative and Cambridge Major. Stedman Triples, and a quarter-peal of Double Narwich.

THE COUNCIL AND ITS DECISIONS.

A correspondent this week endorses the suggestion made by our contribuțor "Criticus," that the time is more than ripe when the Central Council should overhanl its so-called "Rules and Decisions," and with this, we think, most ringers will agree. The early resolutions passed by the Council were embodied in one of their publications, which is still on sale, but, as the Rev. H. Drake points out, this booklet contains no record of the Council's doings in the last twenty years or so, so that, despite one or two supplementary pamphlets that have been published, members of the Exercise who really wish to know what the Council have done, or to consult their ruling on any point raised in recent years, have very little, if any, possibility of finding out, except by searching the files of the ringing press. It would hardly be fair to the Council to say that these years have produced nothing to place on record, and their "decisions," however few, ought to be available, as Mr. Drake says, to all who desire to have them. Under present conditions we doubt if even the Hon. Secretary could say what the Council has resolved on any specific point without making an exhaustive search of the minutes. From time to time the Comeil have adopted reports of its committees containing recommendations, and have passed resolutions of general importance to the Exercise, but all these, since about the year 1903, lie buried in the archives of the Council. Moreover, it is, we believe, a fact that some of the "decisions" arrived at years ago, need serious revision in the light of more recent knowledge, and it is therefore high time that the Council brought this part of their work up to date.

When originally formed, the Council came into existence largely upon sufferance, by which we mean that it was started and maintained by the united goodwill of the associations. Its value to the Exercise has now been established, and despite the view held by some as to its lack of usefulness-an opinion for which the Council cannot hold itself blameless in the past-without the Council the Exercise to-day would be like a ship without a rudder. But there is no question that the Council have been slow to keep ringers in touch with what they have been doing. It was not until we agitated for action that the Council took any step to bring its proceedings officially before the affiliated societies; and certainly upon all subjects appertaining to ringing, on which the Council bas come to any decision, ringers ought to have at their disposal an up-to-date and concise reference. Perbaps the Council, when next they meet, will see that sonething is done in this direction, and we would also suggest that they should, at the same time, adopt some scheme to keep ringers acquainted with the contents of the library.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS.

FIRST PEAL ON THE RING ON TWELVE.
The firsf peril ou" the ring of twelve bells at Winchester Oathedral was rung on Saburday lasbi, by a band gathered from a wide area. The firs twelve-bell peal in a tower is always something of an event, and whon to this is adided the fact tlat that tower is whe belfry of at Cabhedral, and that no other twolve-bell peal bad been rung in the conty or on tower bells in the whele diocese, the inferest in the performanco at any rate for those taking part, is greatly enlaneed. So when the band roming from Kampshire. Surrey, Lon don, Samerset and Birminglam, furned their laces towards the an cient cily, which for many hundred years played an importamb part in the history of tiris country, it wes with high hopes and keen de sire for auccess. IRail, motor ant cycle brought the ringere to the poict of concentration, and who picture of the old-world town, with the massive groy pile of the Cathedral bathed in the sunshine of a glorious September morning, and riaing in atl its impressive grandon from the centre of the ciliy, an the view bursi suldenly upon the ayc on rounding f shoulder of the hills above Winchester, is a memory that will long remain with the writer.
But the towor and nol the view was the objective, and about cloven o'clock the band were welcommed in the great old belfry. reach. od by larkous stairs and aarraw passages, by Mr. Elkins, the Dean's volger. A bifurt for the peal was cuentually made at 11.30 , but after a quaterer of an hour the tenom ropa slipnod whed, aud put an end to the atbmint. Another start, und ble same thing happened with: less Whut bwo courses rung. The prospeg of a peal, gloomy after the first incident, locked amost bopeless the second time but nothing haustend. and with a baro four hours in which to ring. a. further at tempt was made. Couste after conaze slipped by, with nothing unlowned to mar the ringing, and eventuatly after 3 hrs. $55 \mathrm{mins} . \mathrm{Mr}$. F. Ti. Dawe hat the satisfretion of caling * This is all, to the first twelve holl peal at Winchester, as he had done nearly forty years ago on June 13 th 1885 , to be exact, to the first peal on the old eight hells. Mr. Challis Wintey, itj is intoresting to note, also took part in botli peals.
The band bate this opportunity of tendering thoir grateful thanks to Mr. J. W. Iflkims, the courtcous and over-obliging Sacristan and Denns verger, for obtaining perenssion for the peal aud also for tho exablent arrangemenl mado by him for a substantial meal afterwards wear at liand.
Subsequently. in the lovely summer evening, Mr, F. E. Dewe piloted somo of tho party to the various places of interest and beatuty in whis delightinl and listorical old city inciuding King Alfred's statue, the much-almired atayor's Thecruation Gardens, with the many streams of mystal-like wnter, together with the old ruins and grounds, with its more modern structure of Wolvesey Palace. Then they prid a Hurried wisit to tho Dean's Earden, from which the finest view of the grand ald Cathertral is ohtained. Here the conductor thanked the ladies present who wore intereated in the ringivg, and eaused a message to be conveyed to the Dean, Thanking him for granting permission for tho peal, and expressing best wishes for a speedy recovery from this presenl, indisprosition.
A walk alang the side of the Rever Itelen, fowing through the peaceful meadows, anid prelty surroundings, and by tha College playing ficlals, froight tho party to tho anciert and stately structure ni SL. Gross, where, although ifter closing time, they bad the good fortune to encounter tho Reveread Master, who at once with the ald of a private key. lifindy allowed the visitors to go round this most interesting fud imposing pile.
The bells of Winchester Cathedral are a mixed lot, and originated, presumably in a lieary peai of six east by Richard Phelps, of the Whilechapel Foundry, in 1734. To those Thomas Lester, lis suceessor, added two trebleg in 1742, maling a peal of eight. At different imes tile Ireble, fourth and sixth were recast by Robert and James Wells, raspectivoly, of tile Aldbonme foundry. In 1891 the tenor was cracked and renast by Mears atd Strinbank, who. in the following year, added two trebles to make a peal of tan, one bell being riven by the citizens of Winchester and the other iny the Winchester Diocosan Guild. The old fifth, and helps, became crackeri in 1903 and was recast at Whiteitpe. In 1921 wo more hells, anti by Gillotit and Johneton were fiven in the Winchoster Gaifl as a memorial to the mombers who fell in the war.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

AN EFMORT TO REYIVE INTEREST.

The half-yearly meeting of the North Wales Associandon was helil at Bangor on Saturday. Sept, 1sf. Tho president (the Rer. T. Lewis Jones) was in the chatr, and the Rev. Wm. Morgan-Jones and members from Bangor, Portmadoc, Rhyl and Buokley were present. The assomation having becone re-affiated to the Central Council the lon, seeretary (Mr. O. H. Jones) was appointed is representalive of the association on ille Connctl.

A number of towers in the district hnving lapsed membership the rasociation since the war, means of reviwing interest in the of change ringing at the places were discussed, and if was decider to arrange ringing meelings at the variotis places, whenever possible. and to invite the ringers of the distriet to attend.
File President expressed the hope that there would be an increage in the number of peala rung by the association in the vear foture.
It was unanimoualy decided to present the jate Master of ringers (Mr. W. T. Pegler) and the hon. secretary with an honorarium of $£ 1$ each in recognition of their eervices.
A hearty voto of thanks was passed to the Rev. T. Lewis Jones for his services, past and presento to the association, and also to the Rev. Wm. M. HoryanJones for assisting at ihe meeting.
The Rev. Wm. M Morgandones was elected a wime-president of the ascociation, and the Rer. Canon Ll. Hughes, of Llandudno, wa elected an honorary member and a vice-president,
A short service was held in St. David's Church before the meeting when an excellent address was given by the Rev. T. Lew is Jones.
The members were entertained to ter after the meeting by the president and the Bangor ringers.

Touches in variobe methods were rung during the day.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL. HOW THE MEMBERS ATTEADED. To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -It has been maintained that Oxford members are responsible for woting the festival at Oxford. Concerning this I would say that I have examined the atteadance roll of the last uceting at Oxford and that 1 find from this that the Archdeaconries were represented as follows: Oxford 21, Bucks 2i, Berks 62; also that Oxford City was represented by 3 ; the ten-maile radius round Oxford by 18 ; outside 10 and within 20 miles by 30 ; outside 20 and within 30 miles by 22; outside 30 by 24. The majortly in favour of Oxford was about 60 .

DOUBLE NORWICH CATERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, On Aug. 10th, you published two peal compositions of Domble Norwich Caters, which come round at hand. The figures of the method in my possession under that name stact off 214365879; to come round at hand tho change before rounds is also 214365879 , so the method that I have will not allow homing at hand. Probably there is another methad under that name; 9, 1, 5. 1, 7, 3, 9, 5, 9 are the places for the balf lead. 3rd's or 7th's place bob treble "in 5 th's at the call. If this $\mathrm{i}_{5}$ correct, then the figures published must lue false- Yourg truly,

THE LADIES' GUILD.

SOUTHENR DISTRICT ANNUAL MRETNG.
The fourth amual meeting of the Southern district was held on Saburday, Sepl. lst. af Ranmore, Surrey. Ringing commenced at 3 oclock, and Grandsire, Sfedman and Plain Bob were rung before service. The Ticar conducled rhe Guild service, aud gave the visitors a warm welcome. A good tea was enjoyed, and the business meeting followed, at which two new members were elected, viz. Miss Hastie, of Leahberhead, and Mis, Baker, of Frittenden.
The lion, searetary (Miss Mills) and the committee were re-elected. and Guidford was chosen for the next amual meeting.

YORKSHIRE RINGERS' ALARMING EXPERIENCE.

OHULCH STRUGK BY JIGHTNING DURING SERVIOE.
The quarterly meeting of the Eastera District of the Yorkshire Association was held at Hemingbrough on Saturday. Sept, lst, by king permission of the Vient (he Rev. H. P. Peacock), and the bandy ring of six in St. Mary's Chuch was kepe going to various methods during the afternoon. Bervice was held at 4 p.m, at which an alsuming expericnce befel the ringers, who were listening to an address by the Yicar. A heavy lhunderstorm was in progress, winen a loun crash of thunder, which sounded like a territc explosion, shook the church. and outsiders stated afterwards that a ball of nire was seen to descond the conductor of the spire, which is IBOft, in height. The organist had his face slghtly scorched, and the verger also felf a shock in one of his legs. Tho Vicri's sermon was paturally iaterrupted for some minutes, and ove ol two ringers loft che church. It is feared that damage has begn done to the spire and an examination is to be made. About two years ago the weathervane was damaged by lighting.
Ten was afterwards partaken of in a hall in the Vicarage grounds, to whidi a company of 30 sat down, representing the towers at Beverley, Howden, Hull, Markeb Weighton, Selby, Sherlourain-Elmet and York.
The business meeting followed, the chath ineing taken by tho Vicer, in the absence of the vice-presificuf (MTr. A. E. Wrest). Threo new members were elected: Mr. F. Maifold, Mr, W. Terry, and Mr. F. Terry, all of Heminghrough.

It was decided that the mext meeting lue lield at Selby, subject to the usual permission being obtained.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. H. P. Peacock for the use of the heils and also for his excellent address, which was- 80 unfortunately interrupted. - In replying, lhe reverend gentleman spake of the great pleasure it gave him and line people of Hemingbrougla to bave the association fifere that day. Thoy were mpt to get eather quiet in the country, and that meetmg juad infused a little cnthusiasm for which they ware very gratefin.
The ladies, who prepared and served tha very cxcellent fea, and the local ringers who had made such desirable aurangementa, wera also accorded a hearty voto of thanks.
Several members, after the meeting took train to Selby, where, by kind consent of the Vicar (The Rev. Camon Solloway, D.D.), the Abbey bells were available unlil 9 p.rs

CENTRAL COUNCIL DECISIONS

To the Editar

Sir, The suggestion made by 'Critiouss " in " The 品inging World for August 31 st is certainly a good one. It is bollh timely and opportune that the Central Coumeil should 'overhaul thair rules and decisione, ${ }^{\text {a }}$
At the Northampton meeting an agiation oulminated which bad fer its object to get the different Associations to olserve the decisions of the Central Council. Now that some of $u_{5}$ have got a number of associations to make this observaice one of their rules (and there is litble doubt that the remaining associations will do the same at the next opportunity) it is up to those who agilated for this to see that these decisious are so arranged amp published Giat they can he known, in order tilat they may be obeyed.
The pamphlet advertised in your columns as 'Rules and Decisions of the Council , is now twenty years ald, as it only goes up to 1903 Moreover, it takes the form more of a report or synopsis of the first twelvo year's of the Council's work, than of clearly cut and well arranged decisions, which can he readily referred to when wanted.
It should be possiblo so to codify and bring up to date what the Gentral Council have done that a concige summary could be put into the hands of every ringer who cared to know of it, or at least of the member's of those associations which have made it a rula to observe such decisions.
Bcfore however any more can be made in this matter it would be necessary to know what is the general opinion of the Exercise about it, and esperially to hear if any other nembers of the Council are willing to supporli sucla a movement.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT FINCHLEY

Althougl not largely attended, the mecting of the North and Fast District of the Middesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, held at Finchley on Saturday last, was a very pleasant one and was tüdoubtedly a success from an educational standpoint. From just before 4 p.ra. until 5.30 the pretty peal of six bells was kept going to warions Minor methods, and at the latiter hour Divine service was held, conducted br the Rer. E. C. Dodderil, in the absence of the Rector on holiday.
Tea in the Mission Halis was followed by the business meeting, at which two members were olected: Mr, E. Morris (Leicester) previously provisionally electect prior to ringing a peal at Willesien, and Masler C. T. W. Coles. son of the hon. secretary.

If was decided to hold the next meeting at Edmonton on Nov. 3 rd
Fates of thanks weye accorded the Reclor (the Rev. W. St, HitlBourne) for the use of the bells; the curat for his very eloquent address at the service; the organist; and Mr. E. H. Tubb for so ably arranging the meeting.
The Hon. Secretary slated that, it baving been nsled when tho balance sheet of thie A. T. King memorial fund would be publishen he would lite to state that they were waiting to hear what the fce for the faculty would be. As soon as that was paid the balance sheat wauld be issued. It was anticipated that there would be a small balance on the righl side.

After the meeting the bells were again rung, the methods pracfised being Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob, Osford and Kent Treble Boh, Double Court. Double Oxford, and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

ST. ANDREW'S, NORWICH. ANCIENT PEAL BOARDS  To the Editor.

sit. I would diante Mr, J, R. Jervam for his letter in your issue of lite 171l August. Haping paid meanwhile yet another visit to this belfry, I am able to give below exact details of the three tablets. Which are on the north wall, and to which reference was made in my letter in your number of 10 th August. It does not appear to linve been previously noticed that the composition of the peal of 7.360 Oxford Treble Job is recorded on the tablet; at any rate, the writer of the notes in the ' East Anglian, in 1863 -and he presimably an archeologist-failed apparentl ${ }_{5}$ to observe the figures which are somewhat inconspictously placed on a scroll in the pediment of the tiablet:--

The 2 following inscriptions are on lablets of woon:-

This correspondence points to the necessity on which your leading article of the 3lst August lays, very properly so much emphasis. of compiling ts quickly as may be a list of all kirown ancient peal records. It is unlikely that copies of many of the old "steepleboards, as is the case with the Norwiels tableis, ure safely in print. Many of the older boards must be appronding a state of decay, and their inscrptions becoming illegible, and apart from this vital consideration. a close scrutiny might reveal details of interest. stuch as the figures of the methods or of the compositions. Iuquiries should also be made if any boards have been taken down and removed from the belfry.-Yours very truly, G. P. BURTON.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. A FINE RXAMPLE OF DETIKRMINED EFTORT.

A. quarterly meeting was held at Peterstone, Mon. on Saturday, Sept. 8 wh, when quite a good number attended, representiog lowers of both dioceses. The bells, a light musical ling of eight. were available, and raised early in the afternoon, and kept goivg until 5 oclock, when a sorvice was conducted by the Vicar, the Rep. Fiubert G. Stanley, who gave a mosi interesting adidress, fouching upon the history of bells and ringers.

Following the service, the business meeting was held, the Vicar, at the outset, welcoming the associntion to the parinh, Farious routine items were dealt with. ineludiug instructors' reports restorations, and election of new members Tho whole of the ringers of Llamariln were elected, thus bringing into the association the affiliation of one more tower.

The Hon. Sccetary explained the reason why the meeting, as originally proposed, could not be held at Penhow.-The Ficar humorousIy replied that if similar circumstances again aroso le would be only too pleased to fill the second place, if desired. The betho were oflerwards rung ducing the evening.
It is worth mentioning here that this parish prormes a fine example of what can be done if an ettort is made in reat earmest. When the present Vicar came to Marslifield his two churches each possessed a ring of six bells in a deplorable state. He got to work and it was not long before Marsifield was restorer and the octave complotod; this was followed by the taking in liand of Peterslone with the aame result. Both clurches are situated midway hecreen Newport and Cardiff (six mlles) and the bells ate aiways available for a peal by any visiting ringers.
The next meeting will be held at St: Andrew'th. Dinag Powis, on Satirday; October 13th if it can be arranged.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

ANOTHER ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

A quarterly meeting of the Dudley and Disinict Guid whs heid at the beautiful village of Kingswinford, Stalfs on Satarday, Sept. Ist. The bells, which have recently been augmented to eight by M1. J. E Groves, were at filh dispozal of the members from three o'clock. Serrice was held, the Guild form of serwice being used, conductert by the issistant priest, who also gave a very eloquen, and helpful address on 'service."

Afterwards the members adjourned to the Schoolroom, where a bountiful tea awaited hlom, upwards of forty members sitting down, representing, among others, the following towers: Bradley, Dudlay, Netherton, Sedgley, Rowley, Tipton, Old Hill, Wombourine, Hands worth, and the local baud.

At the business meoling whid: followed, Mr. Johut Goodman, junr. (Ruging Master). gresided, and sixteen new nembers were added to the roll.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting ab the Gye if the usmal permission is obtained. Obher business of a rouline character being finizhed. a vote of thanks wis passed to the Ficar of Kingswinford (who was mavoidably absent) for his kindness in granting permission to the Guild to hold this meeting at his church also for the use of the bells and Schoolroom in which to hold he meeting; to the Rev. Nomman Fiommingway for his great kiudoess in coming to conduct Tre service; for his address, and for presiding aly the organ for the musical portion of the sarvice: to the ladies for preparing zad serving the ten, and for altending to the comfort of the members; also to Mr. Wric A. Lownes and the local vingers for making the necessary arrangements, and to all who had contribated in any wey in making the meeting a happy snd successfinl one.

After the mecting some strolled round the village, while otharg kept, the bells merrily going until 8.30, when the gathering dispersed, alter a most enjorable afternoon.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

BUSHEY AND OXHEY SOCYETIES.

For the fourth year in succession, the Buabey and Oxhey Societics, on Sept, lst, held a combined outing. Leaving Bushey at 8 a.m., in a commodious "National' charabane, a lorisk run through Hemel Hempsiend aud over part of tho Gbiltern Hills, brought the pardy to Leighton Bugzard. Mr. Nicholls, the genithl local conduchor, here awaited them, and the line peal ate All Saints was soon going to the tune of Grandsire and Sledman Caters, and Superlative on the back cirht. Those who desire a comparison between Simpon iuning and tite other melhod will figd a strong argument for ulse latter in this tenor ( 27 cwt .) zud peal generally. Alter a little argument with tho car engine, a sharp yun brought the excursionists to Woburn, where Messrs. Herbert welcomed them. This magnificent church built by the Duke of Bedford, was much admired. Its massive tower contains a fino paral of eight bells (temor 24 cwit.). A touch of Sledman Triples and a course each of Superlative and Loudon Sillprise eomprised the ringing. Leaving Waburn, with regret, the journey, part of it trough the Duke of Bedford's magnificent park, was continued to Bedford. At dimer, at The Silver Grill, the visitors were joiued b their old friend and butor Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham. The aftermooi was spent in vamous wars, and the homeward foumer whem menced after tea the only call being at Hithin, where Messis, Foster Else. atc., were waiting as well as an old Buslley member losh sight of for 11 ycars. Touclies of Stedran Triples, Superlative and London Surnise were rubg liere, a lumpy peal, tienor 28 cwt . The Lower is very massivo and momy, and requires anotion 100 ft on top to take of its squat appenance. Bushoy was reachen ahouf 10.45 p.m. aite most enjoyable time had been spent. The best tlanks of the party are tendered to the incumbents for permistion to ring, and the foremendioned friends for meeting fle eisitors and holpigg io make he outina st suceess.

AMONG STX-BELL TOWERE IN KENT

A most emjoyable trip into the hear't of Fent was taker by the Charlwood (Surrey) and districh ringers on Siturdty, Allgust 18 h The party, 14 in number, under the guidance of Mr . O . Sippetts, sel of by motor charabanc, at 7 a.m., for Shipbourne, which was reached \& 9.45 alter a very pleasant jouncy through the hop saréens and orelateds of lkent. Timo did not permit of much ringing heye, but ouches of London Surprize. Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were broughit round. The Vienr greeted thle party, aud a visit, was paid to the war memorial under his guidance. A start was then wade or Moreworth, where they were met by a local genfleman, who con dueted them to the tower. Tle bells were soon sat going to Beterley Surprise, Cambridre Surprise College Exercise, and Kent aud Ox ford गreble Bob. The next stop was फ़yteriugbary and here the Vicar couducted the wisilors to tho tower. A nice light peal of bells repe fonnd, lout the ringing chamber and the circle ate sadly in neri of improvement, a ratheq large starease to ithe upperr regions taking up a great deal of room. The ringer of the fth stands this stairease above all hiz fellows, and the 5 th man is on the edgo of a trap-door and expectiog to disappear helow orary moment. How aver, touches of Plain Bols, Oxiord Treble Bob, London and Cam oridge Surprise were sugezsifuly accomplished, the bells lowered and start made for Yalding. After lunch, provided by Host Ditcher of the Two Brewers Iun. tle town was visited, and here was found the hest peal of the dav. The fells. With a tenor approximately 19 $c_{\text {wolt }}$, in from the Whitechaped Foundry, beautifully bung bs Bowell, were soon being turned in to Oambridge, York and London Surprise and Kent Treble Bob, and the visitors were sorry to leave but a fumeral made a longer stay impossible. The next stopping place was East Farleigh, and here lbey weve mat by Mr. S. Hayzel den. The bells, althouth light, required some little handling, and there was more bad tlan good ringing here. Cambridge, Oxford and Woodbine were rumg, and it was then fime for tea, which had been arranged at the Sehoolroon.

After tea, iustuctions taken from thr finyselden as to lhe best way to get to East Mnlling whiout was the next stopping-place and he informed the excursionists that they would go up lay tilie North Pole, and they subsequenily found this all right. Dast Malling was reached, the tower visited and the beils saon going to Cambridge and Chester Surprise, Tiolet and Oxford Treble Boh. This mice peal go exceedingly well. After refreshments, Ightham was visited. Here there are some verv old bells, with a tefor ahout 8 cwt ; a loog draught, and locally made ropes, but some good ringing was uccomplished, including Carlisle and Canterbury Surbrise, Fiolek Treble Bob London Scholars ete, The bells were lowered. and a start was then made for home, which was reached zbout $11.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. The convoyance behaved wery well exept on a very steep hill after leaving Yalding. Ftere she stopped half-wav up, and liad to unioad and maike the ascent harself. A few mileg from home there was also a little trouble but nothing really serious. A most happy and suocessful day had been epenti, seren tomers had been wisited over 5,000 changes had been ring, and over 00 miles had heen traversed. Tha conaueling ibroughout the day was shared by Mr. O. Sippetts asd Mr. A. Ellis. The thankg of al. we due to the local clergy for the use of the bells. and to the local ringers lor !avimp alf jo readiness and for meeting the party at the varjous places.

BT. MALY'S BOCTETY. TKEADTNG.

On Suturday, Sept. 8th, the band from St. Mary's wower Renairg. Logether with a few triencls, enjoyed their aunual outing. Soon alwer I p.m, at charabane starxed from the church, and runaing to whe gast end of tho Eown picked up the rest of the party. Once all were aboard a quick run was made to Warfield, where ilr. G. Hiygs met the party, and couducted thern to the tower. Hece, short touches of Stedman and Job Mujor were rung, the first louch of the afternoon beiug absolutely perfect, and an omen of the enjoyable al'termoon to follow. With the aid of Mr. W. Pole-Ronth's map the driver found lis way wo windsor Great Park, which was erossed till Old Windsor was ruached. The river was followed as far as Staines, where a further latit was called. At Ev. Mary's Charch, Stedmer was the order for half an hour, athd then, after re-loading, the party wort on to St. Peter's Ohureh, which $i_{s}$ pleasantly situated by the side of tho Thames' Low-path. The go so these bells was well nifl perfect, and wey wers soon tapping Stedmat, Kent and Double Nowrim the parly being joined by Messra. Greenwond and Parker, of Staines. The party then adjourned for tan, previously arrangerl for by Mr. F. W. Hopgood. Afler tea, it was: all ahoard for Bagshot.' Sa perfect were Mr. Hapgood's arrangements that orce again the parly was welcomed by a local ringer. This time it was Mr. Mye. Good Louches of Stedman and Kont wore runs here, and very sonn the party was speeding towards Yately. While $\mathrm{Mr}_{\mathrm{x}}$. Harry Sim monds was retting his coat off and anxiously hanging on to the fenor rope (which nothing would induce him to eclease) the rest of the party wrs shown the tro historical and valuable chalices in the charel, one plentifully encrusten with diamonds, peayls and turgroises, and the of her of alver-git and crystal which is practically pricetess. The band was dragged to the tower at last, and Sted man, Bob Hujor and Grandzire finislied the dny's tomeles. At 8.45 p.m. the party once mome lonked on the bus, and at 9.21 (acrording to Mr. Farry Simmonds' waichs) Fending was reached. Everywhere the ringing was rood, and therefore, emjovable, hut, the fine weathar, a carefully-chosen route an excellent drive and a pleasand company made it all the moro enjoyable.

A VISIN TO THTG PEAK

The tiugers of St. Inodegarits Church, Old Basford had their second annual outing on August IBth, when they yisited the Derby thise Peak district by charabate. Starting at 8.30 a.m. they pro ceeded by way of Langley Hill nind Riples to ' Holmesford Coltage, Figlt Perf Junction, where a right, royal breakfast of ham and eagg with other goad ihings, was wailing to assuage the keen appetites of the early riserg. Jcanhopit then parsued its Way to Darles Dale Church, where the risifors rang touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples. Continuing the jompoy through the glorious seenery of Chatsworth Park Thaslow, Hathersage, Gastleton, the ultimate destination was reached abott $3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ The wonderful caves, and the well of iceminute were visited. and the relun journey wiss made through Eyam and Middleton Dale, witl jts scenery of "benaty and grandenr. Dinner was provided at High Penk Junction, and home was reached at $10.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. alter a most. enjovable day.

ON S'AMUSE.

STR ' SAMDEL ACKNOWLEDGES HIS r KNIGHTHOOD.
To the Edilor.
Sir,-Not baving seen our paper for the last four weeks it has taken mo all my time to become "au fait, ons all points of interest, but first let me say that when ye best of spouses informed me that at last my many virtues had their reward and I was menimoned in the 'birthady honours list,' I askod, whose birthday; hers or mine? the did say, 'No dolt, tho King's, for you are knglited. Benighted oft hast thon heen. but-the acolade at last!!
But when I gaw the amouncement in our own Coust Journal I did wink and say, "That little rascal I. Pistar, bless his heart, he was sure to be in it. I know.
But, good Sir, I misdoubl me about that trusty blade of jours which curled up ofer my feckless pate: it could not have been the eal Toledo bramd. Don't trust the Simpson-funed variety Mr Editor: stick to the real old W'Kie; only those can tackle a cmanm like mine with impunity.
I an sorry that 1 have raised the ire of a constant reader, but yau know. Mr. Editor, how Inard it is to plesse ewen a few. How ever, I take unto myself the consolation that ye good Mr. Imitation is my simeerest fatierer. rewo years ago we had little to enJiven our jonmal, but now it is full of interest bach week, and such people as "Criticus * and ' I. Pistor ' do their honest best to make it so. Might I remind "A.C.R.' that the " Ringing World ' is entirely made up of what ringors themselves send to it; supplemented by the yery excellent matter wribten by its Editor, who inserts only the hest of what he receives: so if the matter is not muctu good who is to blame? We ourselves, of course. So come along. Mr. A.C.R.' send up some better than the best, and we shall all be plensed.
I agree witli "Gritictis * in his article of August 17 th, the " dog days ${ }^{3}$ are now on top, and so lel's all have a bite, but there are so many tempting calves about that ono does not know where to begin.
I might explain that there are three sorts of calves, those herminating in dainty chansses, those that are the pride of Mullinga's heifers, heef to the heel: and Whe bucolic sort who when in an epicurinn moon, seek out the modest dandelion as a tit-bit for after dinner with the unte and wine. But why not call thal method "Tripe and Onion?,' beloved of Mr. Jipes; that would be easy to digest if we did not like its sound.
Points for peals never were agrecable to all parties principally to those who had not earmed any; but do awny will them-all who want to Know could keep a copy of the "Kinging World," with the last ' points lisf, " Jy them, and use it as a ready reckoner to tof up the point ${ }^{2}$ of whal interested them.

I pointed out ihe words Passalatera, etc. to Mistress Peppery, and she said it was no douldt soldier hat' for ' passez lec; pommes de terres.' Justi one word more, re ye beste of spouses. She can't Inelp teing Peppery, no ringer's wife can. You see she was born 'Pepper," and in clilathood's dayg, if dame rumour speaks cerrectly, was one of Pepper's corns. Those days now past, she has, I tell her (when of good courage), acquired the sting of real cayenne.-I am, Sir, yours in deep humility,

SLR SAMIWIELL PEPPERY
P.S. -1 know I an the whole suite in the bumtions arrogantosity line, so no one need bother to wrile yout to that effect.

THE PASSING OF THE PIONEERS.

The death of Mr. Charles Herbert, of Woburn, removes from the Bedfordshire Association one of its founders and one of the pioneers of change ringing in the county. Mr. Herbert had reached an advanced age, and, therefore, his name was not so well known to ringers of the present generation, but those whose memory goes back forty or fifty years will recall the enthusiasm and energy with which Mr. Herbert assisted in fostering the art.

The passing of these veterans, whose death it is our melancholy duty from time to time to record, reminds us that the Exercise is gradually losing a body of men to whom it owes much more than is often realised. It was between thirty and fifty years ago that the majority of our diocesan and courty associations were formed. Prior to that time the only societies were those like the College and Cumberland Youths and the St. James' Society in the Metropolis, who had members in various parts of the country, and provincial societies, like the St. Martin's Guild and the Painswick Youths. Then came the time when change ringing began to be more widely practised, and when there arose a desire to reform the belfries and put the tingers on a better footing. In the different counties and dioceses men of standing and zeal became interested in the movement, and gradually there evolved the modern associations which we know to-day.
It must not be imagined that the organisation and development of these associations was always an easy matter. It was a simple thing for a few enthusiasts to meet and pass a resolution to establish a connty or diocesan body, but to bring the ringers in all the towers in the area within the fold and to gain their adhesion to the principles for which these associations were formed, was a totally different task. The tone of the belfries, as a whole, was then a very low one, the art of change ringing, except in a few places, was largely unknown, and the pioneers of those early days had not only to break down prejudice, but to carry reforms which many of the ringers at that date did not welcome. Moreover, in their efforts to promote change ringing, it has to be remermbered that they had not quite the same type of men to deal with that we now find in the belfries. Education was at a far lower ebb, and consequently the average ringer was less intellectually equipped for grasping the mysteries of an art which, after all, requlres an alert mind. The struggle of the pioneers of a generation and more ago was an uphill one, witt many discouragements and rebuffs; but they persevered, and the outcome of these labours is to be seen in the healthy and vigorous ringing organisations which to clay carry on the work which they began and the foundations of which they so well and truly laid.

Several shorl touclics of Double Nomwich, Kent 'l'reble Bolo Major, Grandsire and Sitedman Triples were rung. but yood rinyiug was ont of the question on acconnt of the condition of Lhe bells. They are it beatiful peal of egglt, placed in a magnificient, spucion: tower, witly tenor alonal, 24 cup:, batt are greatly in need of the athention of a bell hanger. Tea was pravided by Migson"e Cafe, And laid out in the chantry foom kindly lent by the Rector of Berdale, over twenty sithing down. The Rector of Bedale presided. in the absente of the prosident (the Rev A. Simpson) who was away from home, ind was supporled by the vice-presidents (ML: W. Pick) and the secratary (Mr. T. Metcalfe).
During lea the bad condition of the bells was explained to the Rector.
Tho Rector gave the association a most hearty welcome to Bedale, saying that y was about twelva years since the association visited them. Fe hopert ther would see their way to risit Bedale again soon. ELe latd breen told that siuce the association last wisited them Ihe joells hati gol into a very bad condition. and did not go well. If that whs the case he hoped the secretary would send a reporli to him. Ifo would brine it before his paromial comeil to see what cond he done to remedy the state of affairs. He was very sorry to Tean these things sath about Dedale bells, has the prided themselvos vers nuel upon them. hut he hoped the ringers would nake the best use they conti of them. He wished the association avery succoss.
The Reetor was assured that a report of the condition of the bells womll be sent him as soon as it could convenientl? be got rearly. and it is loped it will have the desired effect.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, Whelliey the publication in the 'Ringing World 'of my two compositions was e waste of space, is a question of whether the space would have been better left blank or what else blore was to fill it. Fortunately the decision was not with Mr. Walere, but With someane more sympathetic, who desired to make the paper aseful. If thousands of such peals have been composed, hat is a rood precedent, and no harm lias been dono by my addiug two more. They are origunl and equal in murit wilh the others excepting the first procuced on the plan. It is nousense for Mr. Walker to ary such penls are merely arranged and not composed, as an arranged composition must hevo a comproser, and very often a re-arranged pead is superior to the original production. The two peals are suficientiy divergent from published compositions to give me a good tille to them, so fru as I know, or I should not lave published them.- Youra faithfully.

These lines (author unknown) are symbolical of the great brothorhood of riugers, and indicate the epirit which makes their outings bo enjojable and invariably a sucess. It is alwhys the predominant fen tire on these oceasions, when old friends reunite for an all too brief poriod, und mew friendships formed. Some weeks ago as alreudy re corded in these columns, the combined companies of Bucnall and Burelem, visited Norbury, and it response to a hearty invitation from Lhese two bants, the Norbury men and friends speat bulf a daf iu the ' smoky Potteries, on Suturday, Sept. ## ESSEX ASSOCIATION  MEETJXG AF IARWICH.

A very successful mecting of the Norlli-Lastern Division was helud at Farwich on Sufurday, Sept. 8iJ A short service was leld in the Parish Chutch of St, Nicholns. Tho Vicat (ho Kev, F. A. Mills) afficiated, and gave an excellent address. The lesson wag read by Mr. C. IL. Howerid. J.E. Master of the Arsocinlion). By the hindress of tho Fiwn, wa was prorided at the Norfolk Restarant. Forty members were present from Mistley. Great Bromley. Tondring, Ipsurich, Thorpe, Great Bentley, Colchester. Hraintrea, int Harwieh, Tho meeting was subsequently held in the same room. The araster presided, supportod by the Fiear. Mr. W. J. Nevard (Master, N.T. Division), Mr. E. $\ddagger$, Stanuard (hon, sec. N.E. Division) and M1. W F. Dyson (araster N Division)

Mr. R W. Stannafd made feeling allusion to the denth of Mr. A Worris, and compimented tip ILarwich hand on their reorganisation, nentioning the pleasure it gave him to hear that the bells were now rung regularly by a promising young band, assisted by alder men bers who had refolned the band.
On the praposition of Mr. Fillis, a rote of condelence with the wido of the late Mr. Morris was passen?
The Mrater hanked the Yicar for the mese of the bells for his ex cellent address, and for the teq. -The Vicar in responding. snid it gave him agrent pleanture to arefome the association to Harwich, and spoke in high torms of his ringers.
During the aftermoon and evening Iouches of Grantsire ant Sledmat Triples. Treble Eob, and Double Norwict: Court Bob were rung. The local band possess in very fiuc-toned set of handbelk and several totuches were runc upon these.

THE CRITICISMS OF 'CRITICUS.'

What's the wie of anyfink? the late Albert Chevalier used to sing; and ha answered it himsele, with the comment, " Why, nuffink!? And that is what occurred ta me when I saw the opinion expressed liy Mr. Albert Walker spoos the publication of some peals of Stedmath Caler. Now what is the use of speming onc's time composing, comphling, concocting, arranging, or ndapling peals in any method, only to be told that you are in $a$ queue cantaining thousanda? Why, it is worge thitn wailing for a quarter of marge in war time. When we know that there are actually hundreds of thousauds of peals of Stedman Caters in existence. I should not be surprised to learm that the two which we saw in print the other day, were already classified somowhere it the list. It would loe a mystery if ther were not, however 'original" they might be as fhe creation of the new claimant. Stedman Cafers, ahove all things, sems to lave been done to death, what with Jolin Garter's hroadsheot of over seven thousand, nad Gabriel Lindoft's collection of a humdred and 'umteen thousands. Here, however, is a revipe for the would-be aspirant in the rallection of conrges of Stedman Caters:

Mix the bobs in a starting coupse to make a merry jingle
Adid oflaer courses, twonty-threc and don't forget the single.
Borrow the final wenty-fours, they are easy to be found,
And splice the lat together go that presently they, come round.
But what applios to Stedman Caters, applies with almost equal force to the majority of other common methods. It is not an unusual thing to see, for inslance, a loohote to a peal of Double Norwich, '1.his comporition is now rung for the first thme.' I have always got my roubts whether it is strictly correcti. It may be the firat time it has been rung as the composition of that particular composer, but the 4-5-6 combination and tho Gth twonty-four times at lome stuntwell neither is new. Some of the older generation knew all about thig lasiness, and as tho varjations have their limilations, it would surprise me if there is anything to be got on these lines that has not heen obitained hefore. Frit this leads to that other question. which the Editor has pressed more than once: who is really to be the judge, and where shall we look for reference? Unless the man who elaims a composition to-flay has some place anoossible to all in which to put his claim on renard, olhers will como and fileh the credit from him in future when they; discover * the same fogures and ring them as an origimai composition, in the same way bitat he may have arrogated to himself-quilg honestly, of cotrse the credif which origimally belongen to some past mastor in tho art. That reference list of compesilions will have to como, and I would add my small voice in urging The Central Coumcil to gret on with the job.
And this reninds me of those two other recent compositions in a mothod not so frcqueutly rung. Why is it we see so few peals of Double Norwich Caters or of Donble Norwich upon any mumber atove cight for that malter? Lingers will ring Grandsive or Stedman Cuters, "till the coris come home, as I have heard it said; but why not rimg Double Norwich Cabers? Is it that the musie is not good chough, or is it only lhat hide-boun conservatism fhat prevents tingers striking out into anything a litlle bil off the beaten track? Persomully 2 do not think the ringing of this knd of thing is encouraged enaugh, or elsa it is there $i_{3}$ no enterprise among ringers. Perlaps it is both, althourh 1 must admil. I arr a little at a loss to suggest who foruld do the encouraging. Double Norwidh Caters, as a method, is huried in "Shipway, and very few ringer have a copy of that century old work. Moreover 1 kinow of no ringing publication since Shipway's time that has trouhled in give the Fixercise any collection of melliods whove the eight-bell limit. Conld not the Central Cowneil -it is ulwnys bue Central Council-give us a little pamphlet with Cater and lloyal methods. inchading the Surprise Royal methods. so that ringers conld lave something to ged on with? There are many lountreds, if not thonsands, of ton-bell ringers, or men capable of con. hell tinging, ta-day, and 1 believe some such' little publication would find at jeady sale.

The letter, published the other day in these columns which eman. ated from the Central Committee for the Protection of Clurches and their Eroasures, must have bera read with somewhat mixed feelings by ringers. With math of Elis leltey all who care for the preservation of ancient towers and bellg will iaree, but the genergl effect of that letter, if it is necepted wholly as it stands by Dipcesan Commiliters throughout, the country, seons to me likely to put obstacles in the way of effective bell restonation in many placas. With the object loston of Taunton hefore us, wleve, with the best expert advice possible, the task of comberling the fowers that he to the practiability of inaroasing tho number of bells was well-nigh insuperable I can easily forese the trouthe that, will arise in the future in some of the olf towers. when it is sought to add a conple of urebles. As well az informing charch authorities of the dangers of augmentation. the Cenlral Committene for the Protection of Clurehes and Eheir Treasures would have done an additional service if they had pointed out that a properly designed bell frame would not only prevent diamage to an old lower, but would atd to its strength, and that, under proper conditions, an increase in the number of bells could be made with advantage, where this said ndditional strength conld be combined with the augnentation of the belle. But somelow, in these official documents no one sees-or chares-that this kind of informa tion is given. Aud so this particular letter goes ouf to uninstrueted church officials, and effectually frightens them from touching dilapidated peal in an ancient lower. Ah me!

ROMNEY MARSH GUILD.

A WELCOME TO RYE.

The above saciely theld their September meeting at Rye liast Sussex). Most of the local ringers attended and welcomed the party. Whieh numbered about thisty. Mr. and Mrs. E. Curd and their rlaughter kindly Hnvited the memberg to tea at the Ruilway Hotel The Vicar (the Rev. J. Fowler) occupled the chair, supported by the Deputy-Mayor (Councihor J. L. Deacon, J.P.). The Mayor (Councillor A. Truelove) had promised to be present, but was unable to keep the appointiment. Following the meal came the business meeting, and the writer feels that ins summing up the speeches, lue is not penning too elastic a pluase when he say that during the four-and twenty years of his ringing career he lias newer listened to more suitable addresses to a company of ringers, and others who werg present, if asked to express un opinion. Would take a simalar attj tude.

The Ficar toot the lead. and conmeneed by voicing thanks to Mr and Mrs. Curd and their daughtex for their kind hospibality. On concluding his references to the donors of the den, flee Vicar wel comed the Guild to Thye, and there was mo doubt about the gemuine ness of that wolcome. Kind, sincere aud honely were his sentences, and everyone present realised to the full fhat it was a great pleasure to the Vicar to allow the Guild to come to his chureln.
The Deputy-Mayor supporled the Wieas in bis Uhanks to Mfr. and Mrs- Curd aud their dauslater, and he, too. in tura, extended a ver cordiad welcome to the members, fand said he was protid to be member of the society. His anouncement that he was presemting each tower in union with the society with his latest illustrated book of Rye, was received wifls applause, and later on in the procedinga the books, autographed by the donor . Were handed to the representitives of the towers represented at the meeting. The speakiv also invited the mombers to come and spend a day at Rye and he would be pleased to show then over the plames of interest in the facient town, including the fown hali. In explaining low this little Lown noted for its intiquity, attracted risitors, he mendioned that than sands of people come to life in the summer season.
Mr. Curd suitibly acknowledged the vote of thanks on behalf of Mrs. Curd, himself and their daughter.
The following were admithed inlo the Guild: Homorary members Mrs. Curd (Rye) and Mr, G. Capeling, Ashiford; Pwactising werabers Mr. Modran. Frampton and Farr Ry'e: and Mr. Jordan Wye.
Thanks were accorded to the Deputy-Mayor for lis gifts, and the Deputy-Mayor moved a vote of thanks to the hon, secretary Mr - H T. Bulcombel for his services, which whs carvied manimously, and which Mr. Balcombe made a suilable response.

Unanimous thank; to the chairman conclurled the meetiag.
After further ringing, which finisled about elight o'chock, the party disbanded, returaing home to their respective parislies with plea sant and happy rocollectiong of their visit to Rye and the lacsit? greetings and kind hospitality cxtende? to thom with remain in thei memories.

REV. CANON RIDOUT VISITS GAINSBOROUGH TOWER.

On Monday evening, Sept. Ioth, the ringers of All Saints" Gainshorough, met in the ringing chamber for the purpose of welcoming the Rev, Canon G. H. Ridout, Vicar of St. Albans, Ferrinas, Johar meshurg. S.A., and formerly assistant prtest at St. John-flue-Divine Gainsborough. This is his first visit ha England for over 17 y yeam and although it is between 23 and 24 years sinee he lcit Gain: borough, the names of tho ringer's at that time (some of whom have since passed awary) are still fresh in his memory.
In spite of itaving been a thousand miles from the nearest peal of bells, while an the African Continent, he still retains lis earm pandogical abilities ant love for the art of change ringing. Durimg the evening touches were rung in various methods, and recollecions of bygone days brought back to memory, a very pleasant two hours being spent by all.
Only three of the old company are now canneched with the torev hut they are supporten by a ritrong band of the rounger gemera tion, who are real onthusiasts and capable of proving their ringing abilities in the future.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

WESTHRN DISTRICT ANNTAL MEETING.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION.

HCHESTER DEANERY BRANCH

A meoting was held at Limington, mear Ilchester on Saburduy, Sept, 15th. The gervice in the Parish Churela was canducted by lie president of the branch (kie Rev. G. W. Saunders. Vicar of Martock). The Rev E. Glanfield (Rector of Limiugion) gave an address, in which he gnid it was the first time he had heard the bells rung. They were rung on his redding day, in Juse, and that he believed was the only time they had been rung for abont two years. He loped the practices would be relsumed his winter, and that the ringers would join the association.
There ara in the tower six bells. which go fairty well. They are hung in two tiers, all swinging one way, causing considerable movement of the tower. During the ringing a shome fell from between the wall and a bean on to the floor of the belfry with a bang. which rather "put the wind up "some of the ringers present.

The president presided over a short inusibess meeting, at which the Rector of Inimington was elected an hoo. member. ant Curry Rivel wis chosen as ilie next place of meeting.

A vole of thanks to the Rector concluded the business
Midsomer Norton. Feovil, Soke-sinh-Handon and Martock wero the topers representer, pnef the melhads practised were Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob

HISTORIAN AND REGISTRAR REQUIRED.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I nole, with pleasure, your suggestion that Mr, Fussell shoukd be ' Official Peal Historinn," and heartily comment the idea. No one could do the job better; W. H. F. is thorough in alt he undertakes.
At the same time the Ringers' Parlianent miglt get on with the job of appointing an official "Tegistirn of Birtlis and Deahus; of compositions. Week by week your pages show more and more how urgently it is meeded.-Yours faithfully,

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.  NORTHERN DIVISION.

The annual meeting of the Norlhern Division was held at Carllon-in-Cleveland, where the bells, a the peal of eight, are a joy to rigg. Most of the lowers in the district were represended, ind the meet ing proved a great success in every way.
During the afternoon a sliort service woss lied in the church, and the Rev. I. L. Kyle, Vicar of Gertron, and former president of the Oleveland Associalion, atdresed the rimgers, encouraging them in thoir work, and emphasising particularly the need for unity and goodwill amongst them in their own lelfries as well as in tho wider circle of their association work.
A busines meebing was held inmediately after tea, the rice-president, the Rev. E. Drage, presiding.
dfisg A. L. Fenderson was unauinnously reelected as secretary of the division for the next three vears. In thavking the singers for the eonfidence shown in her, Mis, Henterson spoke of the loyalty and ready help she hat always received from her fellow rimgers, and trusted the nest three yerrs would continue to show the inereasing number and the narked progress that had been made in the Northern Division of the Association sinec its reorganisation in 1920. The following commitiemen were uso elected: Jr. Barker, Mr. Blatiston (Mindesboro'), and Mr. G. Peck (Saltourn).
The meeting concluded with a vole of tianks to fise Rev. I. L. Kyle for the many kindnesses has shown the ringers, and the warm welcome he had given them in Carllan. In replying, the Vicar in his joval mamer, had some amasing anectotes to tell.
Provided necessary permission is ohtained it is hopen to hold the next neefing at Thinsk on October 20th

COMPOSITIONS OF STEDMAN CATERS. THE MOST MUSIGAL POSITIONS.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir, -I venture to thrink that; Fou would be doiny a service to composers, conductors, and the Exercise at large, if you would give a fuller publicity to the late Sir Arthur Heywood's conclusions on the above subject, as published by him in "Dufliald."
Reviewing the most musical combinations and posilions on different numbers, he says:-

Coming to nine bells, the best posilions for Caters ringing are known, so far as regards 7 , 8,9 , these bells giving incontestably the best effect when in the tittum position. If 6 is after 9 the finest Cater musi $i_{C}$ is obtained; the nox best being with 5 after 9 . Of the four remaining bells there is littie to choose between 2 and 4 , as all these three harmonise with 9 , but 1 after 9 should be avoided as a most discordant interval. In the Stedman method particulsr attention is necessaty, as ilie sequences are different when the bells come bolind in the middle of the course, to those arragged for the course-ends. Owing to the lack of attention to the point camposers have, alnost without exception, fallen into the grievous error of fxing the troble in 2nd's place throughout their peals. The result of this is that 1 is belind 9 in the middle of the course, and thus the most disagrecable discord of which nitne bells are capable is made to recur continually. A littlo examination will show that, if 1 is replaced by 6 , not only will 9 be bohind together in every course, but aleo 6 - 8 ; the fatior being a beauliful combination otherwise anattamabla at backstroke fat which h musical termination is most effective), and indeed only coming at handstroke at rare intervals. Haxing fixed 6 in $2 n d$ 's place, 5 will be the best to place after 9 at the course-end. The next best music is had by placing 5 in treble's place. when the sequence $9,7,5$ will come at backstroke in the middle of the course. This. finished by the temor, is one of the finest terminations obtainable. Of all methods on nine or more bells. Stedman Caters, when properly treated. leods itself to produce the best variety of musioal combinations. As commonl $\psi_{Y}$ rumg, with the treble a fixed bell, it is small wonder that crities deery the milsic as inferior to that of Grandsire." Yours faithfully,
W. A. GAVE.

MPIRESSIVE SOENES AT NACCLUSFIBLD

The scme prescnted at Macclesfiold Parish Church on the occasion of the dedication of the new rint of twelve bells by the Lord Bishop of Oleater, on Wednesday, Sept. 12th, was one that will not be for gotten by llose who were present. Although the time for scrvice was not matil 7.30 p.nas. a queur of the public secking admission had formod by six o'clock, and eventually the church was filled to its utmost capacity; whil列 un the Markel Square opposile a huge crowd bagerly waited wo hear the sirst ringing of the bella. During the singing of the opening lyyan, the Mayor and Corporation, with full insidatia, walked in procession, and took up positiou in the nave, fol lowed by the choir, elergy, and the Lord Bishop of the Diocese.
A shortened evensang comprised the service, aud the formal dedica hon took place at the foot of the tower the ringing loft being open to the south aisle. His Lordship preached a most eloquent sermon, in keeping with the ocension, Following the dedicatory prayers, the bells rang " Qucen's' matil the procession returned to the-chancel. A collection was taker for the bell fund, which amounted to £34 15 s .5 d .
$A_{s}$ the congreyation dispersed the bells were again rung in round nd queens, tite Rev. A C Clements (Rector of Grappenlall) and Mr. Demison Taytor laking part with the local ringers. Afterwards 395 of Grandsire Caters was rung by the following: J. Swinfield (Burton) 1, J. Oldham 2, G. Bottomley 3, S. Dean 4, W, Walnsley 5, A. Burgens 6. Pryce Taylor 7, T. Mottershear 8 j. Norbury (conductor) 9, J. P. Fidier io. A phin connse of Kent Ireble Bob Major brouglat the ringing to a cloge Arter service, the bells were again rang until 10 oclock 'Rounds anr "Queen's" on the twelve, Grandsire Caters and Treble Bols Major on the back bells.
The Bishop and Tiear visited blo ringens to thank them for their servjes. His Lordsitip particularly inquired from which parishes the rarious ringers plesent hailed. Boside the local men fhere were ame from Burton-ou-Trenli, Bollington Grappenhal!. Norbury, ete aIso IIr. E. D. Taylor, representing the founders.
Some fourteen years ago, the old tenor at Macclosfield cracked so whis resolved to liare it recast and the number increased to twelve. but various causes prevented the accomplishment of this plan. At a public meeting held in the Town Hall on July 11th Ygz2, decided to latwe the tee bells recasi, a treble and tenor added, and the whole hung in a massive casti-iron frame Mesars. J. Taylor and Do. were entusted with fine work. Which has been carried out with thoir usual thorotalhaess. The bulls are of splondid tone, and the lenor is worthy of special note. For its weight ( 26 owt.) it is exesp'onally fine.
To lle lisienor outside, the peal is evenly heard; to die ringer egeh hall is audible, chiafy owing to an arrangement wherelyy the trap oor in the ceiling ean be raised or lowered at will effort to clear the debt will bemade in November when a grand bazaal will bo held ith the Town Fall.

After much patience and with no little courage in facing a big ask, Macclesfeld is thus at last rowarded by having a peal of twelve s perfect as bley well onn be.
[i is hoped to have all opent ringing tiay on Oclober 13th, of which ue notice will bo eiven in * The Ringing World.
The weight of the new tenor is 26 ewt riptions on the bells are as follows:

THE SUFFOLK GULLD.

NEARLY 600 M碚BERE

A most successiul practice meeting of the wooduridge district of the Suffolk Guild was held at Ufford on Saturday, Sept. 15th. By permission of the Rector, the bells (8) were at the disposal of ringere duriag the afternoon and evening. Tha bells were furt set gaing to Stedman Doubles, and it was noted that the band included the Fector (the Kar. HI. Drake), one chuthwarden, the parish derk and a sidesman, the touch being successfully brought rounct. Afler this in spibe of we fact that: Uffard is on one side of the district (by the way, there is no other lower containing a peal of bells between this one and the East Coast, a distance of about ten miles in a direct linet, ringers legan to turn up in force, and Grandsile and Stedman Triples, Kunt. Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise being iudulged in. When tea-time cane there was something in the nature of a crowd for this rather remote part, and more chairs, please,' was the order of the day. Ten was wery kindly provided and served in the Churel Hall by M's. Drake, assisted by lady friends, to which full justice was done.

The District Secretary proposed a rote of thanks to Mrs. Drake for providing tea. Afterwards the Rector, who is also the genaral secretary, welcomed the ringers, and briefly described the work and progress of the mew Fuild which was satisfactory to all.
It was learned during a friendly talk that one band consisting of aixteen performing members, hud by their energy secured twolve lionorary rucmbers, an example of what can be dolle.

Ringing was afterwards resumed, and it was a pleasure to listen to the excellent striking in various melhods including Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise br mixed hands. Everyone seemed to tave spent a motr enjovable time while the enthusiasm which abounds for the new Guidi is most noticeable. There are now 570 members enrolled.

HERTEORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION. NORTHENR DIFISION VISIT IOYSTON

One of the inost successful meetings ever held at Rayston took place on Saturday. lXinging commenced about 3 p.ur. and a short service was conducted by the Vican (the Itev. J. Harrison), who gave a stirring address on bells and ringers. Afterwards the Vicar conducted those who wished over his ehureh, showing them some interesting yhotos of the buiding ha it was when he fist became Ficnr some 45 years ago. Ho informed the farty that the clancel was modern, and that the chardi originally ended where the present nave began. This seems to infer that the church originally was much larger: and probably what is now the nave was the choll or chaved, and the present tower might have been a central tower with the nave westward feyond. The oldest remains consist of portions of an arcade, and a window of the 13 th century, with clustered columas and tooth ornament betwedr the monldings of the archers, and finese have been execedingly well sopied in the modern chancel. There are traces of a clapol or chantry on the north side of the church, but unfortunately (as the Vicar said) ha history or records about the Enuilding can be found Teas was served at Beale's Resbamant, and was followed by the meating. over which the Vicar presided. One new momber whs olected, and a vote of condolence was expresed with Mrs. Fr. Fur and ed, and a vote of condolence was expretsed with Mrs. F. Furr and Thanks were expressed to the Viear for his prearice. for his excel lent address. and for the uge of the Gells: atso to the organish for supplying the masic at the serrice.

This meeting whs honoured with the presence of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake the associalion's represenfativo on the Central Counmembers were present, and the ringing, which innluded Cambridge Surprise and the standiard methods, termimated al 9 o'elock.

DOUBLE NORWICH CATERS

To the Editor

Dear Sir, Mr. Dexter is evidently conlusing the coming raund at hand of the above method with that of Stedmats Caters. If lie will examine his course of tho method (whieh is the same) lee will find when the trebie leads ont hand 5th' place is made. Which gives the boming clange 123457698 not. 124 658879 , its he implies. The method is rery false internully, there being 13 false rows agaivgt each lead. I map add that in the peals in question the boh is made in 3rd's when the troble is in 5th's huuting up.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

ST. GILES SOCIETY, READING

On Saturday, Sept, 15th the members of the St. Giles' Society, Reading, toseliner with their wives and sweethearts, numbering 24 in all, liad fleir annual outing. Meeting at $8.20 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. they journeyed by charabang to Basorsstoke, which was reached at 9.30 , and a visit paid to Sit. Michacl's. The bells were soon tapping off a furstrate tauch of Stedman Etiples. Other touchos in this method and Bob Major [ollowed, and the parby left at 11 a.m. for Winchester, whici city was reached soon affer 12 noon. Before dinuer the visitors lad a look round the ancient and beantiful cathedral, and in the afternoon were very kindly received and onducted to the lower which, without the aid of a ruide, they would not have been able to find. Atter a most ardhous climb, which several of the ladies ware obliged to abandon, while others remarked " never arain, they found ihemselves in the tremendous belfiz, with its most noble peal of twelse. After pulling win the tenor, a fine bell of 30 cwt, ringing commenced witt rounds on the lwelve, most of the party never haring heard twelve bells before. I'His was followed by a touch of Grandisire Caters and Stedman Triples, and Bob Major wers also rung. Aftec tea the visitors had a shorit look round the city, and left af 6 p.m. for Basingstake, where, at All Saints' Clureh, with its vory landy ring of nine bells (what a pity it is there are not ten!) the luest ringing of the day was indulged in. Some first-rate Louches of Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich were brought round. The ringing terminated with a splendice touch of Grandsire Triples, by the local ringers, to emable the visitors to hear the bells outside. This was conducted by Mr. J. Ballard, of Basiugstoke. After refreshments, Mr. G. Cook proposed a hearty vote of thankg to all concerned for the splendid arrangements made for the day's outing. Mr. If. Eghy also added thanks to the Basingstoke friends, and to those at the Cathedral of Winchester for granting permission to ring on such i noble peal. Reading was eventually reached soon after 10 p.m. after an enjoyable and succesful day.

A VISIT PO CHICHESTER.

On Saturday. Sept, 15th, the ringes of North Stonchama had theit anmal outing, under the able conductorship of Mr. G, Willians, nud accompanicd by the Viear and curate who ave both ringers. The tup was made by charalmane, and the first tomer visited was Soberlon. where tonches of Grandsino and Stedman Triples. Double Norwich and Cambringe were rung. Hambledon was the next tower, ant] touckes of Stedman Doubles, Kent and Cambridge Ninor brouglat found on the nice-toned ring of six by Mears. Chichester was the nexi objective, where a splendid tea was enjoyed at the Anchor Hotel After tea a move was made to the campanile, where the party found Messis. Rogers and Tate. of Porfsmouth, waiting for them, an! couches of Stedman Triples and Landon, Cambridge and Double Norwich Major were sung on the Cathedral bells. Favant. was the last tower on the programme and Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Superlative and London Surprise Major rung. Home was reached at 10 p.m., after a most enjoyable outing. Tlue best thanks of the party are tendered to the variouz incumbents and wingere who helped to make the outing so enjoyable, parbicularly to Mr. Blake. who made nill nrrangements for the tea,

ROTIEERHAW RINGURS AT BETERLEX

Ou, Saturday, Sept. 8t.ln the Rollerham Parish Church company, and frients from the neighbouring lower of Rawmarsh spent a most enjoyable day on a trip to Beverley, tine jounney being made by motor: The route lay through Doncaster, Askern and Selby. Here the Abbey $\mathrm{wa}_{3}$ atmited, but time being short the party pushed on to Beverley, arriving there at 12 oclock. After dinmer, the visitors were met by the Minster ringers, who, after showing them round he interior of this grand edifice. led the way up to the belfry, where the bells were soou gong to Grandsine and Stedman Triples and Gaters. Everyone laving liad a puli, the party mate ilseir way to St. Mary's Chureh, where further ringing lonk place. Tea followed, and a guiet hour was spent, will a few Beverley friends who had been with the visitors durint thee afternoon. Touclaes of Grandsire Caters. Triples, Bob Major and Stedman Triples on Handbells completed the all two short "visit. Rotherluam was eventoally reached at 71 p.tn., after a most enjoyable outing. This opportanity is fakell ap thanking the incumbents of the Minster alli St. Mary's for the use of the bells, and also Baverley friends who ledperi to make the outing real success

ALDEBURGF-ON-SEA RINGERS' OUTING

On Saturday Sept. 8th, the ringing company of SS. Peter and Paul, Aldeburgh. Suffolk, Iiad their first annual onfing. Starting at 1.15 p.m. the charabanc made for Knodishall and Leiston. where the other members und friend: were laken aboard. The happy partw then proceeded to Winhaston where some nice touehes of Cambridgc Treble Bob and Bob Minor were rung on the good taned old peal of six. Some of the party then amused fomemselves wilh the handhells. Much time was also spent in surveying the vory many items of interest in this guaint old church. before starting for St.

Edinund's, Sunthwold. Here the band were net by ofher ringers from the district, and touches of Bob Major and Treble Bob were greatly enjoyed. Mued fun was caused by the chauffour's remarks after lis visit to the bell chamber. A substantial tea, the generous gift of a kinrl friend, was much appreciated, in the fullest sense of the word, and the car was then steered for Wrontham. Here a course of London, toulses of Cambridge and Bob Minor, were rung. After cnjoyiug a few moments on the handhells, at the residence of Mu. Nannton the homeward jouney was begun in the cool air of the beauliful evening. On weaching Aldeburgh all agreed that this outing was one that would be remembered for many years to come. Chief thanks aro due to the "clerk of the weabler" and those friends who met the party and had evarything in readiness; also to the incumbents for the use of tho bells.

A TRIP TO LEICESTER.

The iden originated quite a long time ago wilh the wish to ring a peal with some of the 'eracks' of the Midland Counties Association, some of those whose exploits of the past year or more lave added to 1le many fine performances put up by that society. The good offices of Mr. Ernest Morris were sought and eventually permission was obtained to ring a peal on what is mudonbicdly one of the finest rings of twelve bells in the worls, "Don't forget to astr Fred Dexter, Fiacold Poole. Faryy Broughton, otc., was the pertinent request, but, alas! the first named was nuxblo to tako purt owing to a donestic bereavement, and his disappointment. was shared by the whole of the band, who also sincerely sympalhise with him in his trouble.
However, it is an ill-wind, ete., and the champion ' peal merchand' from Birmingham, having leard there was a "twelve-bell peal ons, wired asking if the band was made up, and luckily fell into the varant place. Of cqurse the band was not complete without him, and the omission to invite him in the firsi place is really surprising.
Punctually at 4 p.m. 'go: was called, and a file peal of Stedman Cinques was rung in 3 hours and 46 minutas
"What do you thunk of the bells?" was the query of the local (dare we use the word?) men. "Very fine indeed, was the general reply. After the peal a more was made to another sold of 'lucal,' where room had been reserved, and quite a large mumber of ringers met for handbel! ringing. reminiscensing, etc. Stadman Triples, Cators and Cingues were the ordey of events, and tho company was further entertained by the birminglam globe-trotker. who appearg to excel not only at ringing, but at such widely different games as baga. lelle, bowls, nurl goodness knows whit elie.
Sundey morning at 10 found the company at St, Martin's where Lwo courses of Cambridge Koyal and a louel of Stedman Gaters were rung, the conducting loeing shared by Mr. Harold Poole and Mr, C. T. Coles. A motor-bus, ride to Anstey passing en route the scene of Oik Bill's' night out 'by almost exnetly two yearg ago was followed by it welt-struck peal of Bristol Surprise. A hurvied tea very kindly prepared hy $# 1 r^{5}$, Elkington, and a return ride to Leicester, bronghti he time of parting, after a very plearant but all too Ehort, outing Sincere thanks are dite to the incumbents of the two churches for ilowing the peals fo be rung. ant to Messts. Morlis Poole, Broughon and Elkington for their excollent armagements end hospitalit:

CONCRETE FLOORS IN BELFRIES.

To the Editor

Dear Sir, - I should be glad if any of your readerz could give me Any information with regard to the laying in of a conerete foor in a tower, abont 20 feet above the ringing chamber

Would this prevent the belis being heard in the belfry, or would the sound penetrate through the trap door, through which tho bells would be laken up, and also the rope holes? Would the weight of the floor be of any danger or risk of any kind?

Perhips some of your readers may know of the existence of a from of this kind.- Yours faithfully

THE OXFORD GUILD FESTIVAL.

To the Edilor.

Dear sir-The figures given by the Rev. O. W. O. Jenkyn in your last issue are confusing. The tolal number the gives is 201 . The sceretary's report in "'rlse Hinging World" states: ' 115 members attended the business meetisg jan the Chapter House. Thus there is a difference of 86. The Waster states that Oxford, Bucks and Berks werc represented hy lad. If the radius figures are meant to show how this tolal is made up there is a diserepancy of 7; if they are in addtion tilen, as I have pointer out above, there is a wide margin. The reverand genlfeman says the majority in favour of DYFord was 60. The report gives the aumber of rotes recorded, as 82 -which means that, if we take the semplary's figures, 23 votes wele muccounted for; If the Mater's fgures ate necepled, 109 non-vaters; or if the grouped counties only, 12. Perlanp; a more lucid explanation may be forthcoming. There are, I beliove, somewhere about 2,000 members of the Guild, and however big a majorify at Oxford, surely one would bardly contend that 79 votes is representative of the leetings of the whole. Why noli a referendam? Yours thtity.
Higli Wryombe.

OBJECTORS TO CHURCH BELLS.

It is refreshing to finc? a newspaper of the importance and wide indluence of the Daily Chroride devoting a leading article to the defence of church bells, albeit that defence is made with qualifications. The circumstance which gave rise to this article, which we reprint in another column, is an attempt by residents of Welwyn Garden City to secure the prolibition of church bells in their midst, and one cannot but be gratified that a joural like the Daily Chtonicle has expressed views with which, in the main, the majority of English people will agree. If the facts which they give are not, in every respect, accurate, the conclusions will command the approval of large numbers of people.

The attitude taken up by the community at Welwyn Garden City is one which, at different times, has been adopted in sundry places by a minority of folk who have an objection to cburch bells, and so far as this action relates to the garden city itself, ringers need be little perturhed. But there is a general principle at stake behind the question, and if church bells can be suppressed at Welwyn, there will doubtless be attempts in otber places to silence the bells. This is a matter upon whicl ringers should ever be on the alert, and it is therefore not out of place to recall the fact that the Central Council have a special committee ready to belp in questions of this kind, and they should be made acquainted with any attempt that is started with the object of sileacing church bells.

Bells," says the Daily Chronide, at the conclusion of the article above referred to, "have a fine and romantic history, and if really musical in tone, could, even in these prosaic days, bring some joy to the ear, aud perhaps solace to the soul." May we add that bells well rung, do this, and more. They are a constant reminder of the higher things of life; of the call to worship, which many who hear do not heed. If we were asked, we should say that it is probable that in a place like Welwyn Garden City the opposition to beils is not so much that they annoy the ears of the inhabitants, as that they disturb their consciences. These modern mushroom cities, which even the Daily Chroniche describes as "puckish"," are often largely composed of people who look upon Sunday merely as a day for physical recreation, and the call of the church bells is to them too harsh a reminder of higher things neglected in seeking only the pleasures of the world. Men and women to whom Sunday has a meaning and purpose above that of a weekly holiday, are not people who object to church bells, but rather welcome their sounds, and so long as bells are rung primarily for their true object, find them no "nuisance." But such actions as that taken at Welwyn require to be carefully watched, less they lead to wider steps, which might eventually be detrimental to the use of church bells throughout the country.

'ARE CHURCH BELLS A NUISANCE?

Under this heating, the Daily Chronicles oll Faturday last had tha following partinent leading article:-

In this ago Fhen so many ancient eustoms are passing and so many ancient institutions totitering, we must not be surprised at anything. But we monfers to being a litile taken aback at first on hearing that the residents of Wolwyn Garden City consider that the ringing of cliureh bells is an intolerable nuisance, and hava passed a resolution, requesting the authorities concenned to prohibit tham altogether in be locality. Garden cities lave alwayg been the home of what is known as adranced ideas-have always been Puckish places, so to speak. There is apparentily samothing in their fresh brick atmoupluere whide is destructive of all tradtion. One would not. for exumple expect Kensmgton to suggest the abolition of church bells.
'On rellection, however we are not inclined wholly to disagree with Welwyn in the matiel of church bells. But we would not go 80 far as they go. Rather we would say that most and not all chureh bells are monsical, and would urge that as far as our particular city was concerned only musical hells should be installen. A sound and pleasing bell should be capable of three good notes Fet few belle have any two of flore notes, and hardly anv all three in wnison. The great bell of St. Paul's and that of Beverley Minster are notable exceptions; tibe chinues of Westminstier and the bells of certain Oxford churches might, too, be cithed at random as examples of successful musical attaimment.

In the latter half of the $19 t h$ centitry-a period at whiel the complaint. was made that the pothouse and the belfry were too closely allied-there began a revival of the bell rinsing, and down to to day much genume interest; is faken in the art, particularly in aountry districts. Only too often the ringers lisve poor material to handle. and the sounds which they produce are altogether at discord with the reliprons mature of the serwices to which they summon the devout. But if we are not always grateful for the bells we cannot be minindful of the service to architecture that they lave rendered. For find there heen no bells there would have been nona of those fine old lowers which were everywhem erected for their accommodation. It is twae that the tise of cloctes and watches has to same extent diminished their secular importnuce, and that they mre now renuiren maimlv for purposes commected with religious wor. ship. But they have a fine and romantic history and if really musjcal in tone conled even in these prosaic days bring some joy to the azt, and perhaps solace to the soul,"

YE RYNGING AND YE SPOUSES.

To the Editor.

Sir,-I agree wibt s Sir Sammy that we mast laugh and grow frit, aje as fat as ye genteman from Manchester (No. yo prize is offered for guessing his name). Are not ringers, gatherings mora olten lihan not. "made" by the lumorous amecdotes of flase present and the technical side left alone? Apropos of such gatherings did reontly come across an article re a booke on se gentle arb of Ohoosing a Wife, published 1654. Fade goodis Mister Stedman, when he first produced his workes on change ringing, refer'd hys readers to this booke, so that all ryngers cauld kill two byrds woih one stone, those of to-tay would have no need to ryuge ye changea on ye excines for arriving home wyth yo mylk.
You saye to ryuger's wif can help being ' Peppery'; accordynge to je auther, ryogers are at fault for nolj choosing a correct spouse. Let us see what he sayes on the subjeckt; firste la lays stress on the impertance of obtayning a satisfacklory wife. To this we gll tgrec. Secondly, he considers her qualities under six heads: " 1. Re= pord. 2, Looks. 3, Speech. 4. Apparel. 5. Companions. 6. Lducatoon, which are pulses that shew tho fitners and godlinesg of any party with whom he oughd to marry. Fis ideal family constitutes (a) The Governour ' (N.B.-That is the husbund) and (b) the governed.' which are the wife and children but unider cortain conditfons, the former "mate atiayne the rauk of assistant-governour" (unpaid).

Tho duty of a lusband is wisely to mantaine and manage bys aulhority." "Ye gods, Sanı! what dotli "her halyship" saye to this? I do hope she is mat like Maggie," wifo of ye "Tripe and Onion" merchant. But stave, let us look at the duties of a wife: 1. That she be in submission to her husbanrl (phew!). 2, That she be a heiper to him all her days. 3. That she be meok rentle and obedieut. 4 She must learn and labour to forecaste contrive and manage bouschold affairs antl businesse within cioors.

In conclusion, the witer promises. provided the conditions are carried out, " Happy Family and a Colledge of quitetness." thus there would be no asking ' why did you siay nt the "Coffee Pot 's after practice, instead of coming stralight home?'

STEDMAN CATERS

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-The Criticisms of 'Critious 'are generally apt and to the point; in last week's issue, however he is misieading. The statement, Stedman Caters, above alt things, seems to have beent done to deaih,' does not by any means convey the truth.
Possibly, if he is referring ouly to peals with a beli $x$ xed inz second's. he is uot far wrone. Howerer, to the composer with the qualifentions needed to enable him to explore awny from this safe path. there is plenty of scope. For instance, what about the exteat of the nusical position referred to lyy Mr. W. A. Cave the 6 th behind the 9th? I ask' Griticus, how many peals of Stedmen Caters he has seen between 5,000 nnd 5,100 , in ordinary courges wita two Singles ouly, the 6th undisturbed throughout and forty course-ends behind the Gth in the Tittums?-Yours sincerely, Suluderland.

MUSICAL POSITIONS-ANOTHER VIEW

Sir, $\mathrm{I}_{\mathrm{k}}$ is too surprising to read our friend W . A . Gave's letter ou the music of Sledman Caters. One would have thought in these emlightered days, our experts would have written with ibare wisdom and learning. Of course $i k$ is understood flat the words are those of the late Sir A. P. Heysood, to whom all honour and zespect, but Low macy others still think in the same groove?
The treble of a peal of ter, as all ringers in the real sense of the word should know, its a note an octave higher than that of the 8 th, and the 'luaudstroke home' position is held by a large number of ringers to be equally musioal with the "titum position

How. then, can 9, 1, 10. be unmusical. when there is only this differsice?
Again, in Major ringing, the 2nd in a peal of eight bells, is one to evoid putting in 6th's place, ar, causing it to dodge behind with the tenor. Now, whilst a large number of Major ringers can understand this, as coon as ther get on ten hells, tliey lose sight of the fact that the 2nd in eight bells is the th on ten, and immediately want peals of Caturs with the 4 ch in second's place or liehind the 9 ths or the 4th in diln's place in Roval.

AN ESSEX VETERAN'S RECORD.

A peal of Double Norwich at Feering. Essex, last week, was a double birthday compliment. for it was in celebration of the 7oth birthday of Hoth Mr. and Mrs. Joln Sadler. Mr. Sadler Cook part in the peal, which was rung without, a blow out of place or a word spoken. except the conductor's calle-a grand performance for a man of 70 years. Mr. Sndler still walks over eight miles a day to and from work, and has done so for the last, 24 years. In addition he has walked smmething like 15,000 miles to and from Coggeshall Parish Church where he lias rung for 48 years. The congratulations of the Exercise will go out to Mr. and Mrs. Sadler coupied with the hope that they may be spared for many years yet, with good healtil.

THE LATE MR. CHARLES HERBERT.

BEDFORDSHIRE'S GO.M. OF RINGING.
The denth occurred on Theduesday, Sept. 12th (as already briefy anaouneed), of Mr. Charleg Herbert, at bis residence 20 , Bedtord street, woburn. Mr. Eerbert was in his 80 Lh year and for the Inst wo vears had been in delicate health. He came to Woburn from Sudbury. Suffolk, and was a pionegr of change ringing in Bedfordshire. With the hetp of Canon (then the Rev.) W. W. C. Baker, Mr. Efwin Ransom and the lata Mr. Isarac Lills, the Beds Associa ion was formed in 1882, and Mr Herbert acted as honorary secre. 1ary, a position he held until 1889, when he wars made a vice-president.
He was not a great peal ringer, only taking part in about a dozen in all, ats he was not able to spare the time from business in those days, but he was whole-hearted in hidendeavours to keep the science of clange ringing and belfry reform to the fore, both by precept and practice, and his residence was 'open house, at all times for handbell practice with the result that the local band acguired quite a proficiency in this branch of the art culminating :n a peal of Plain Boh Maximut, in which loe limgelf rang the tenors. This still remains the only peal of Maximus crer rung in the countr. As evidence of Mr. Herbert's onthusiasm for the art of ehange 40.320 of Plan Bobince a sceptic he once wrote out the full peal of 40.320 of Plain Bob Major, a performance which is surely unitue, and which is probalyly the only one of its kind in existence.
He it was who prevailed upon the Duke of Bedford to add two trebles to the peal of six in the old tower of St. Marp's Woburn, in 1877. and wrote a most cloquent plea to tha late Duke for the remoral of the bells to the tower of the thew ohurch which though not suceessful at the time, was erentually the means of geiting the prevent Duke to place the magnificent peal of eight in this church in 1910.
Mr. Ierbert took parit in the first 720 ever rung in the county at
The funeral look place at Wobling ont Friday, Sep
Ficar of Woburn (the Itev it Wharn on Friday, Sepl, 1 th the nent of the Bedfordfordshire Association officinting Baker, presieverice. 532 Grandsire Triples weve rang wilh the boll faily mufthed, and 768 Kent Trelale Bob Major after the service, half-mufled. The following took part in the ringing: D. Harris. M. Lane D. Hobhs, II. Smith. C. Mattlews, M. Mathews. D. Janes and A E. Sharman (hons secretary, Bedfordshire Association. On Monday Sept. 17th, a muffien peal was also rung on the lells of St. Mary's. Woburn.

AN APPRECIATION.

Mr. Cliarles Herbert may tridifully be described as the father of clange ringing s in Bedfordshire. When he came to Woburn from Sudbury, Sufolk, is 1865 , there was not a change ringer in the counly. Keen and enthusiastic, he soon began to interast the joune men of Woburn in the art, and persevered in spite of many obstacles and minch good-humoured ridicule from the old "stoney, ringers of the neighbourhood. Some of the opposition he experienced sound strange to us to-day. One man monld mot believe that it was pos sible to produce 5,000 diferent changes. To convince him Mr. Her. bert wiote out tile whole peal of Bob Major at full length.

The first effect of his arctour was sean in 1877, when largely owing to his enterprise two trebles were added to the ring of six at wohanled and rehung. On April $16 \mathrm{th}^{2}$ in thal year the augmented ring was opened by Squire Practor and his band from Bennington. Among other fouches they rang 448 Superlative Surprise Major. In the account of the opening ${ }^{2} 11$ the "Woburn Montly $A$ Avertiser ? for May 1877. this is referred to as being 'one of the most intricate and beatiful spedmens of the art, and rarely attempted by any but the alite of the ringing fratervity. The alite are a much more numerouts oand nowadays.
The adxition of a Seage's apparadus made more frequent practicos possible at Woburn, and Mr. Herbert strove manfully to get a good eight bell band, thongh some time elapsed before his ambition was erlised.
In the meantime interest in clange ringing lat been aroused Bedford, aud the late Mr. Isate Fills began the task of huilding up a company there. There was great rivalry between the Woburn and Herfori companiea as to which should have the honour of ringing the first, 720 Bob Minou' in the coltuty. Mr. Herbert lad the gratifica fion of taking part in one tung at Wohurn two days hefore the Bediond men were sucoessful?
The spread of interest in the comntr seemed to warmant the starting of an associntion and the Bedfordshire Association was launched on March 13 th. 1882, Mr. Herbert was obviously the right man to heome hon. secretiays, and he continued to hold that office for many rears with great succoss. On his retirement lie was elected a fice prosifent. phai continued to hold lhat office to the time of his death. hut acconnt of failing hendih he had done little ringino of late years, worlailf mantain the family tranition, Mr. Clarles Herbert rang comparatively few peals, hut only those who have encountered the diffeulties athendull on the introduction of change ainging in a distriet where it is totally mknown will appreciate the serwices he rendered to the Dxemise. In tho Bedfordshire Association his name will always be gratefully remembered.

All Bedfordmire jugers and many in a wider circle will tender thein sincere sympathy to Mrs. Herbert, and her two sons in the loss of one whoge love of bells and ringing was profound and lifelong.-R.I.P.

THE YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER.

BIG GATHERING AT SIEFFIFID.

A representative company of 120 attended the second dimer orFanised by the Forkshire Association in memory of the late Jaspar Whitfield Snowdon and Past Offcens of the AEsociation and which was held on this occasion at the King's Heard Hotel Sheffelu. The Ven. J. Russel] Darlyshire. Archacacon of Sheffield presided, and a very enjoyable evening was spent, the gathering including represontalives of no fower than 49 different towns.
After the loyal troast. Mr. C. D. Potter (Barnsley) proposed ' The Church and State, to which the Archdeacon responded.
Mr. F. Willey (Sheffieldy submitted " The Memory of Jaspar Whitfield Snowdon and Past Officers, and devoted an interenting specch largely ta recalling the great services rendered to the Exarcise by he lato Mr. Charles Henry Haitersley.

DEATH OF MR. SAMLEL WESLEY, OF NOTTINGHAM,

As briefy recorded in our last fssue, the death took place on Sipp 1lth of Nottingliamp most prolific peal ringer. Mr. Sammel Weslal. who passerl away, after a long illness, at the age of 74 years. The deceased had made ringing a strong hobly, and upurards of 278 peals are placed 10 his ciedit nuder various associations, olieqy the M.C.A. and the Forkshire Associatlon. Having associated himself with the late Rev. F. D. Robinson in many of lis ringing tours, the number of peals is hardly surprising, and contain a good number of Stedman, which mary be considered lis favourite method. A very careftl and good striker, he was in demand for the treble position in many peals in higher methods, although it is to le regrettot that not a single peal 'inside, in methods from and including Double Norwich was accomplished by him. The methods rung with a working bell include Grandsire. Plain Rob Litale Bobs. Treble Bob-in vartous forms. Oxford Bots Darlasion Bob and Stedmank As During his 37 years as stceplekceper ai Lenton, he was also chorister, and this double help to the service of the church is an example wortly of omulation. Naturally after such long service la will be greatly mirsed.
The interment took place on the 15 th inst., when the deceased was laid to rest beneath the tower with which he was so long consected. and the service with the Vicar of Lenton officiating. was fully choral, the hymn. "Now the labourer's task is ocr." being sung over the open grave after the oommittal ecremony. Then a course of Grand. aire Triples was rung on liandbell by two of his former pupils. Messrs. A. Coppock and H. Tr. Cobbin, wilt whom were two of his oldest friends, Messrs. W. E. White and A. Knights (Chesterfield). quarter-peal of Stedman was rung on the tower hells during the afterncon.
Mr. Wesley's wife predeceamed him ahout 18 months and he jeaves four daughters, two being narried to ringers. Sam Wosley and Isenfon towey will always remain synonymols terms. One canot, and never will, think of the one aud not the other.

RINGER'S 5ILVER WEDDING

The silver wedding of Mr, and Mra, Isang Frars of Willenhall, Stafis, was celehrated last week by a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Giles, Church, wleve the wedding was solemnisad on Sept, 18th, 1898. Hr. Evalls, who took park in the peal, hag been a church worker at $S$ t. Giles for 22 yeart being at the predient time a sifesman and member of the Chureh council. Mrs. Evans also takes a great in. terest in the social life of the church. They fave been the recipients of many congratulations. in which members of the Ererciso will join.

CONCRETE FLOORS IN BELFRIES.

To the Editar.

Sir,-In repiy to Mr. Stacey's letter the concrete floor would gof prevent the sound of the bells being heard below. It would soften the effect, but not unduly muffle it, thin concrete siabg being vers resonant,
I do not hifow of such a floor but I have loug urged the great advantage of concrete being used in towers. A serien of reinforced concrete floors, properly designed and executed, would be of the great. est advantage, especially in weak towers. The ahove also applites to cages or frames; the time las long passed when one of the latter should have bem done.

Whe weight of one concrete floor should not be detrimental to the tower. The general question however, requives expert advice aud control, as it ig one which has many pitfalls. Fours faithfully.
155, Rushey Green. S.E.

A FTPICAL EXAMPLE

Sir,-In answer to the query put forward by Mr. Geo. Stacey, de concrete floors un beliries a typical example is to the found at St. Mary's, Jlkeston. Derbyshire where the main girders supporting the motiern $H$ frame are elepated and built into the masonry approximately $3 f t$, above a concrete flom the latter resting upon a atone corbel-or offset-whidh juns all around the tower. The ends of 6 in. Firders, set approximately $2 f t$, part, rest on the east and west worbeling, short lengilis of girder form the hatchway and are hraced to the longer girders whiml run across the fower and form the sides of tratertoor.
The infersections helween each girder rue filled in nwilh concrete, forming one solid five and water proof mass which is loonded into the wels of the firders rad rest, upon the supportine offsel corbel all romind the walls of the towet acting as a kind of diaphagen which, without question. has a steadying and sirengthenting effect upon the masonry at that point. The hatehury is elevated 6in. or 8 in . above the concrete flool, and is covered with wood and. if my memory serves me correctly. I belfeve the wood is corered with sheel Tead. A floor laid on this plan is safe and turable, and thr. Stacey may rest assumad and content tilat if will never be in danger: of falline while the corbeling pemains intach-in shorth, while the tower stands. Further there is no tran of clappers or bells coming through where a floor is made of concrete.
Concerning the sound of the bells, no douly: some people hold a helief that a concrete floor wonld adversely aftect fle mesolsalue of the hells: such an idea is very ermoneons! For example the ringing chamber of St. Mary's refutes ary such sugaestion. It is sifunten $30 f t$ below the enomete floor of the bell chanmer. An intermediate lloor of wood, fornting the clock room floor, is latd on waorl jni-t. the underside of which is matehloardect. In hetweens the joists are staffert wilh luair. The heiglat of the pinging chamber is apinoximalelv 14 Ei. and thromgh the concere floor and the cloek room floor (which in: hane stuffed) the somme of every hell in the octave is distinctly andible. fealare which visiling ringers seidon fail to eulogise and pronounce " Tdend. Fy adjusling the doop in the vinging room $a$ fine effed is produced by the goturd which traverses the spiral stairease ranging from tha soffest pianissimo to londest fortussimo! Trusting that my erude dutaila with be sufficient clear nand compreliensive for your correspondent to follow. I beg to subscribe myself

WORCESTER RAND'S PROGRESS

Uader the enthusiastic leadership or M. W. Page the band al Worcestor have gone forward with rapid starles sisice the war, and have now actded their fint preal of Brislol Surprise. Loudon Surprise Major, firt in He city, and by all the band expept one (Nor, 11th, 1922), a fourteen Thethod Minor peal, firgt; for the association and by all the band Nov. 2lst. 1922). Stedm an Caters, first by all the band except two. and first for the hrestern Branch May 10th, 1023 and now Bristal Surprise Major, first by al] the bond, in the colt, ancil by the Wesdern Brancla.
This is not a homogenegus band, two baving to evele twenty mile: on each visit, two haring a fourtcen-mile journey ench time. and one having a twelve-mile ride on each occasion. Pratices hare only been fortnightly on eighti bellk monthly ou ten bells, and weekiy on six belk, with as much Sunday ringing as can be got ins, The band wonld be glad to know how this compares with olluer companjes' progress.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

GUILDTORD DISTRJCT AND DIOCESAN DIVISION

A Guidford district meting was held at Old Foking on Saturday last, and was well attended, vingers being present from Aldershot; Chertsey, Grauteigh, Godalming, Holy Trinity and S. Nicolas', Guildford, Shere, Worplesdon and Woking. Farious methods were prachised during the afternoon, and a servies was held in the church, conducted by the Yicar (Lhe Rev. G. W. Askwich), who also gave an adrlvess. Tea was held in the warkiug ments elub, 32 sitting down.
At the busincks meeting, which was perifled over by the Vicar, three ull menbers mere elected.
The nembers then discuased the question of tho desirability or othermise of forming new Guild for the now diocese. After several members had expressed their opinions, it was decided to call the represenfativa; of the diferenf towers together and go thoroughly into the mafler and report to the annual meeting of the district. It was also decided to get into touch with the nembers of the Torkitown district if possible,
The usuat rote of flanks to the Ficar and organist was passed, fiter which the members refuried to the tower, and sereral touches in various plain and Surprise nothons were brought round.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANOH ANNUN, MFETING.

The ammal meeting of the Norflem Branch was held aid Grimsby an Stiturday, September 25th. when about 60 mambers and friends were present from various places, including Buytou-on-Humber, Bighy. Brigg. Burton Stather, Gainsborongh, Lincoln, Scolhome, Scotter and Worksop, in addition to the two local towers. The bells of St. James and St. Andrew's were available during the afternoon and evening, and Fept going to the slandard methods and Donkle Norwich. Superlative was also afitempted, but din not prove successfut. A short serrice, ai which the Guild office was used, was conducter by the Rer. E. V. Qlapton (one of the assistant elergy. The preacher was the Rev. II. T. Parify (Roctor of Bigby), who wook for $\mathrm{li}_{\mathrm{s}}$ toxt. St. Joln siii., 15 and 17 , and gave a mort excellent di.a coniso on the subject of hamility. Mr. TI Tushby, one of the locad ringers, presided at the organ.
Toa was prorited at the Chureh Frouse, Bull Ring, after which a very liearty vate of thanks was accordgil to the caterers for tha efficiont mamner in which they lad alkended to the wats of thane present,
The businesg meeling followed, at which Mr. F. F. Linley took the chair. The following officers were electect: President and treasurer, IFr. F. F. Liniey; honarary secretary, Mr, F. S. W. Ar. C. K. Paker proposed that the Ringing Magter be all ex-affec mumbe of the Guild committee, but this wau ruler out of arder. $\mathrm{MH}_{1}$, Jaker then withdrem his proposition, and it was agreed that the secretary be insiructed to write to the Guild Eedetart, stating that a suggestion luad been made fyy the hrateh, that the Ringing Master of each of the branches should be na ex-officio member of the Guild Committee.

There were tiluee nominations for the two mplesentatives on the Central Council-iIr. Geo. Chester, the Rer H. T. Parly and Mr. F. W. Stokes. Aftur al show of hadeds the fin two were elected. Stow was proposed as the place far the hadryearly meeting, arrl Slenford, as an nmendment. the ghject being to try and croate enChusiasm and revive the interests of the Guild in that part of the bramch. Eventually Sleaford was eelected.
In regard to the 1924 anmal meeting due to the beld at Lincoln) a question was raised as to whether it wauld be ppssible to obtain the use of the city bells for the occasion. sceing that the Guild meeting is leeld at Lincoln every year.-The Rev, R, Bond, Hector of St. Petcr-at-Arclies, stated le did not think it would be altagether possible, and as mu allemative Harmston and Washinghorough were mentioned, but after same disulssion il was agreed that tho meeling be theld at Lincoln.
Referving to the fact that the rules of the branch were bady in want of fevision. Mr. Linley rmarked that he had daften a now copy and was lianding it round to the nembers of the committen for then inspection. He also gave a resume, as far as possihle, of the amonuts collected $b_{y}$ the branch members for the Catheriral Bell Fard.
Apologies for absence along with all gond wisho:, werte read from The Very Rev, the Dean of Lincoln Canon W. Hicks Messingham: the Rev. C. G. Harton. St. Anthew's, Grimsly ; and Mr. C. W.P. Clifton, Lincolt

NOISY BELLS.

The article on this page last week referred to one phase of the objection which from time to time is raised against church beils, and in this issue will be found mention of the fact that in other places, beside Welwyn Garden City, there have recently been complaints against ringing. We are glad to know that they are being dealt with, where they have arisen, by a member of the Central Council's Press Committee, whose function it is on these matters to act as a Vigilance Committee. Objections of the lind referred to usually come from a minority, but in this, as in other things, minorities, if persistent and loud enough in their demands, can sometimes gain concessions, and more than one good peal of bells is silent because an incumbent is anxious to avoid offending some individual or small section of his parishioners.

At the same time it behoves those responsible for belfries to use their utmost endeavours to mitigate any possible cause of annoyance from bells. There are, it must be admitted, towers where the bells hurl down into the streets and adjoining houses almost a deafening noise, and there are many others where a reduction of the sound might, with reason, be made. There are various plans by which this modulation of the sound can be effected, and frequently it can be done at comparatively small expense. Where new peals are being put in or where new frames are being installed, steps are now usually taken by the bellhangers to secure this desirable end, either by placing the bells well below the windows, or by blocking up the louvres and letting out the sound by openings in the roof. When ringers have to meet a condition of affairs which does not involve the lowering of the bell frame, much may be done by blocking the louvres, either by brickwork, or felted boards, or even sandbags, where expense is a consideration.

Other ways of reducing the noise outside the tower are also possible, and what we would urge is that in every tower where there is the slightest reasonable ground for objection the ringers should consider this question and bring it before the notice of the Incumbent, Churchwardens, and Parochial Council; who might even be invited to judge of tios matter for themselves by specially visiting the vicinity of the churck when the bells are being rung. It should be remembered that noisy and untuneful bells are as much a source of irritation to the public as to the ringers themselves, indeed, probably more so, for ringers derive some pleasure from the fact that, whatever the bells may be ilke, they are following their art, while the public, having no knowledge of campanology, have no such compensation. Wherefore it behoves all concerned to do their best to allay any cause for complaint, even before complaint is made.

CONCRETE FLOORS IN BELFRIES.  To the Etite

Deat Sir, -In repir to Mr. Stacey's inquiry about concreta floors in towers, A moncrete floor was laid in the belf'y at St, Mary's Clurch, Ambleside. Westmorland when the uew peal of gight was pist in in 190I. The heiglat of tho ringing clamber is $15 f$ fis, Sina, and the fion $20 t$. fhick. It cansists of top concrele loiu, thick, then boxes of silicato of hatten Gin. deep. then 8 iu. hollow space. The floor las an area of 16ft, 3 in. by 16ft,
The bells are rather noisy in the ringing chamber. but in 1912 , acting on the adwiee of Mr. A. W. Briglitan, of Londom, the whole of the concrete floor was covered with bags of sawdurat abont, 4in thick. which reduced the somm wonderfully. ## ESSEX ASSOCIATION．

FESTIVAL AT DUNMOW．
Some thirty ringers responded to the invitation to the rioging festi－ val at Dunmow on Salurday，Sent．29th．Great Bardfield，Stebbing， Felsted，Chelmsford，Woodford and Braindreo were represented，and among the company were Mr．©．H．Howard．J．P．（Master of the Association），Mr．W．H．Dyson（District Master Northern Division）， and Mr．G．A．Black（one of the association＇s auditors）．A short service was hold in the Parish Clurch of St．Mary，at which the association office was weed．
1 sumptuous tew was provided in the Parish Hall．The Vicar （the Rev．W．J．House，M．A．）presided，supported by his church－ wardeu．
The Master expressed the thanks of the risitors to Mrs．House and to the ringers＇wives and friends who had so generously provided tea，and to the Ficar for bis hearty welcone．－Tlis Was seconded by the District Master，who gave a very interesting account of the history of tise churelt，with its very fine fower and bells．The Vicar and Mr，H．W．Smith responded，the latter stating the idea of the gathering was for the purpose of stimulating a closer spirit of brotherhood among the neighbouring towers

A social haur followed with sougs and tune ringing by the Stebbing ringers．Touchas of Bob Minor，Kent Treble Bob and Oambridge Surprise were rung upan the very fine tower bell ${ }_{3}$ ，the heawiest ring of six in the counly．It is Ioper that at some near date two trebles mill be added to complets the octave．

PRESENTATION TO VETERAN RINGER．

A very successful meeting was held ati St，Nicholas＇Wallasey，by the Wiral Branch of the Chester Diocean Guild an Şaturday，Sept． 29th，atd the opportunity was laken to make a presentation to Mr． William Hurlios．This took the form of a nicely printed penl card， recording a peal of Grandsire Triples at St．Mary＇s，Liscard，on Sept 22 nd．Mr．William Hirghes，who received the gift at the hands of the Vicar，has been a ringer for mearly 40 years at Liscard．The penl was rung in his honour on his 70th birthday，his golden wed－ rling and also his son＇s silver wedding day．Mr．Hughes rang the trehle and his son the tenow－In thanking the Vicar and ringers for the kind words and Finder thoughts which lad prompted them，he said he would ineasure the picture an long as he lived．

PEALS OF STEDMAN CATERS． To the Editor．

Dear sir，－In reply to Mr．Daltry＇s letter in your isede of Septem－ \＃er 2lst last．I do not for one moment wish to deprive him of any title to the bwo peals of Stedman Oaters publislied in your issue of August 3 sist，and concerning which I expresed my opinion ut your issue of September 7th．But I am still conviaced he has mot added two more to the chousands which already exist．If there is any space in our excellent weekIy ringing journal for compositions．Iet us，I sny acrain，have something off the beaten and wellworm track．Peats of gtedman Caters and Ginques，short woure and long course，have been rugg in Birminghan and elsewhere，especially during the last 20 years，both on tower aad landbells，wilh the front six bells in Fartous possible combinations，and the hare bells in the titums，in－ verted tiltums，backstoke and handstroke home positions these con－ taining musical qualitieg not to be obtained on the ordinary plan where the treble or sth is fixed in second＇s place．
I agree with Mr．Joseph．W．Parker in his letter in this week＇s issue of the＂Kinging World＇that there still plenty of scope for lhis claes of composition which would give adtled interest to peal hands and conductors．What is more wanted than a reference fios containing this class of composilions ap to date？It slould be taken in haud by our Central Council ad the very earliset opportunity，and then added to the list of publications so that it wold be within the reach of all those interesked by applying for：sanme．
I shall be ploased to send to conducions peals of sterman Caters or Gingues $b_{F}$ repuled composers，which $I$ have in iny possession．and which are off the beaten track．－Yours faithfully

SLDERT WALEER．

At a receut meeting of the Salisbury Diocesan Guilu, the Master (Major Hughes D'Aeth) informed those present that his motor-oycle registered just over ton thousand miles, travelled in the causo of the Guild since te took office in 1919.
Some half-dozent members of the Ancionl Socicty of College Youths were invites to attend on Tuesday the commemoration of the 500th anniversary of the death of Sir hichard Whittingtom, the ceremony takiug place at St. Michael Royal. College HIll. Whittington will always be associated with Bow bells, and his name has been given to a change well known to ringers.
A peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor has been rung at Liversedge, Yorks, by a band whote average age is $17 \frac{1}{2}$ years, Wlat makes the performance the more meritorious is tho fact that it was the first peal by all, and was ruig at the first attempt.
Mr. John Carter has returned to London from the Lsle of Man, and his activities will doubless be once more turned to ringing.
The peal at Over, Cambs, on Sept. 19th was rung for the Ely Diocesan Association, a fact that was omitted by the sender of the repori.
The first peal of Btedman Cinques on record was ruag by the College Youtlr at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on Oct. 6th 1788. They did the thing properly, for the length was 6,204 (rung in 4 hrs .47 mins.), and this stiond as the longest length in the method unilil 1806, when the Cumberlands rang it 6,334 at Spitalfields.
Hol's Ten-part was rung for the firsi time on Oct, 12th, 1754, at Shoreditch.
In memory of his fathe). Alderman George Cadbury is extending tire carillon at Bourneville by the addition of 15 bells making the total up io 37 , giving a chromatic scale of three octaves. It will then rank as second largest in Eagland.
Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan ringers should note that the meeting announced for Dursley to-morrow eamot he lyeld, owing to illness, and is, therefore, poztipoved to Oct. 13th, when it will talke place at Berkeley.
Macelesfeld bells. Cheshire's first peal of twelve, will be open for ringing on Saturday, Oct. 13th when all ringers will be welcome. Particulars will be found in our notice columns.
Mr. T. R. Butter of Ellesmere, Salop has made an unusual start its peal ringing. His findit peal was on handbeils, when he rang 1-2 to Stedman Caters, and his next was a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Marlin's, Birmingham. He is the finst, Sluropshire ringer to 111, a pair of handbells to a peal Stedman. His friends anticipate for him a highly suceedeful ringing career, given the opportunity.
The following was posted on the door of a country church some time back: "This is to give notice that no person is to be buried in the churchyard but those living in the parish. Those who wish to be buried here are desired to apply to me.-J, B., parish clerk.'
We are informed that the peal of Bob Major rung at St. Mary's, Patney, on Sapt. 19th. should nol be crexited to the Ancient Society of College Youths.
The peal of Stedman Triples af Lavenham on Sept. 17th was A. Symond first in the method away from the tenor, and not his frst peal away from the tenor.

OHARLES HENRY HATRERSLEY.

The life of the late $\frac{1 \mathrm{~L}}{} \mathrm{r}$. Jasper Whilfield Suanton Javing been fully recounted by the hev. C. C. Marshatl at Loeds last year Mr. $\mathrm{E}^{2}$. Wiliey (Sheffich), who proposed the toust of he evening, devoted his spech mainly to the lite of the late Mr. Ghas. Henry Hattersley, and said: : fin proposing the toasb of the Yorkstire Association of Change Ringers and the memory of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and past affeers of the Association, I cannot Jepp but bring before you many ofher notables of the Exercise, and as our president, the luey. C. C. Marshall gave you a good outline of the founder of this association and bits works, I trust that if I should tuespass on any thing flat lias already been said $b_{y}$ the reverend gentleman he will not take ili as any act of piracy on my part. Passime before my imagination I see many faces and bhink of the great work those men hare done for our astociation but none shand more plainly jun my menory than Charles Henry Hatterslcy. who was very accurately deseribed in the Ringing Worla, as the G.O.M. of clange ringing. In recalling mauy interesting details of this eminent gentleman's ringing career, I musl briety introduce to you some other names of ringing ceibloriv whom he received lis early instruction, and to sucls effect that at the age of eleven years we find him pricking out Trehle Bob. It wais, however, many years after this when he found out the internal false changes in this method, a thing unknown in Sheflield in the carly days of Mr. W. Booth (who dled in 1849), and Mr. W. Hudson (who died in 1851). Mr. Hattersley was born on Sept. 12, 1844, and from his earliest days took a deep intergit in the art of change ringing, good striking being one of his greatest fortes, and when this was not forthcoming he often intervened with caustic remarles whicl were quite understandable by ihose who had erred. At a very early stage in his career he used to attend our dear old Cathedral and ring for morning prayers, and as years passed on we find oul pioneer together with the indefatigable founder of ting. our association, makivg lapid stmides at the very early age oi 18 jears. He rang his fint peal of Stedman Caters at Clocsterfield in I862 and a year later a peal of Bob Royal with the famous Robert Daft, thus linking hinself and the present generation with the giants of the art, a century ago It is not for me to recall all the notable performances of this worlhy chieftain, either in the art of ringing or in the study of composition. He wais always to the fore in vigorous discussion concerning the merits and otherwise of published peals through the ringing Press. and woe betide any man who claimed anything beyond his right, In ringing he stood out for the best, and I have shared with others his severe clastisement, when miking emors, missing dodges, or becoming hopelasly Iost. Amongst his most notable ringing feats all of which stood out as the best of thet period, I may casually inkance a 6,006 in five different methods. rung af Rotlerlam in 1881, and fo the following Fear we fod him conclucting a 6,595 Stedman Caters of his own composition, and also taking part in a silent peal of Stedman Triples at Burton-on-Trent. In 1887 he rang in a 13,041 Stedman Caters at Cheltenham, and the following year at the same place in a 15,227 Grandsire Caters. However, his outstanding performance was with lifs hosom friends at Birmingham when he rang a 9,238 of Stedman Cincues. Mr. Hattarsley and mygelf were verg ciose friends, and he oftel related to ma with pride und honour the details of the many occasions upon which he had rung for hours with varions companies without a word of corraction being epoken. As a composer he has to hit credit a peat of 5,056 Superiative Surprise, containing all the possible positions with the sixth and tenors together, with the second nover in sixth's place. I- arso evolved a new eleven-course sel of Stedman Caters Which is also applicable to other methods by researching composers. In London Surprise lie composed peals with the fourth and sinth the extent in sixthrs and the fifils and sixth the extent in firth's, theso ranking amongst the first ever composed in this precarious method. As a conversationalist and expounder of the art of campanology, lie Whs ho all who mef, and heard him most impressive with his worls of wise counsel and sound advice, which could not fatl to be of the utmost value for their ftuture guidance. His fund of recollections and anedotes was most entertaining, and dothllass there are many people preseut who will recall enioyable dass and eveniugs spert in his company. And here we wild lenve hina, as a stalwart of our association more full realising that he hard lived a life fully up to the Lradition of a famous Anlmiral of our Fleet when lie cricd ant, England expects -_-: Well could he alsa say with Carlyle, What frults yoti see in me, bry to avoid search your own hearis aucl you'll be well emploted. ## A LOVING CUP.

Tho Archicacon then made ullusion to the fact that he lad noticed in the Oathedral ringing chamber a massive silver jug presented to the Cathedral company ${ }^{5}$, the ringere of Ashton-under-Lype abont 50 yenrs ago. It struck him that that was a suitable occasion on which this mirht servo us a lowmg cup, and accordingly, at his request, the jug was filled with cider, and during the course of the evening, the cup being soveral times refilled everyoue present was enabled to drink therefrom. This jucident will no doube be of interest to the orjginal donoss, slould any of them be alife, or their successors.

Then followed a capital course of Stedman Cincues: C. Harrison 1-2 J. Thorpe 3-4, S. Palmer 5-6. S. Briges 7-8, A. Walker 9-10, W. Chown $11-12$. Mr. Albert waikel (Birmingham) is to be thanked for kiadly filling tha breach at the last moment by ringing $9-10$, one of the original baud having been compelled to leave Shetfield during the duy an business. It is noteworthy thet this was the first occasion on which Stedman Ciuques on handbelis had been performed in Sleffield.

Kindred [kinging Societies, was proposed by Mr. P. J. Johnson, lion. secretary of the Yorkshire Association. Who said they hati with them that night representabives who had performed for their various socielies somp of the greatest ficats in change ringiag. He moted that one of the previous speakers, refering to the performances of Mr. Clas. H. Hatlersley, elophasised the long peal of Stedman Cingues ith Bimingharo. He (the speaker) was very pleased to see with them lhat night representatives of the Birminglem Society. They rlso hat with them representatives of tlae Aucient Society of Gollege Youths. Phey hat a specially warm eorwer in their henrts for the Gollego Yauths, for he believed he was correct in saying that whon it was proposer that the Yortabire Association should be a soctely, it was suggested that instend of a County Association, they shome form a branch of the College Touths in Sheffeld. It was owing to that monuentolls decision nat to do so, that tho Yorkshire Asocintion hacame the pionear of County Associations in the United Kingdom. Hilailit they did not repret this they beartily welcomed He College Yauths that night, and he took that opportunity of offering them bineir vary hearty congratulations upon the feat of yinging the 12.000 Stedman Ginqugs with a tenor of 50 cwt . That stood a chance of beconing a record for all time. Continuing, Mr . Johnson said they ahso had with them reppesentatives of the Lancashire. Midland Countios and Surrey Azociations, and he had great pleasure in extending ta them the heartiest welcome. In Mr. Albert Walker they had a worlhy suceessar to the famous masters of Birmingham, who lad, he thonght, conducted the greatest variety of Stedman Gingues of aty man living. They hat au extan warm regatd for the representativa of the College Youthir in Mr. J. Rowhottom. There were very fow men in that roam whe could siate that fiep hat a direct astrocialion wifh Jasper Whitfeld Snowdou, hut Mr. Row: botton was onlo of that how repillay diminiling luand. They trusted ho might bo spared to hanour liem with his presence al those gatherings for momy jears to come, and thus link then up with the ginutis of the past, He compled the names of Hr. Albert Walker and Mr. Rowlootonn with the boast.

CHAGEORD FIRM'S ACTIVITY.

During the last month the peal of six bells at Stoke Damerel, Dovonport, have been under restoration, and are now placed in perfect ringing order. The tenor is 17 ewt. and this is one of the finost peals of six in Plymouth. Tho work has been most efficiently exceuterd by Messrs, W. Aggett and Sons, Boll Works, Chagford. Orders have also been placed with Messrs. Aggett and Sons, for the restoration of the following paale: Dunsford (peal of six. also new clock gear and chinies). St. Gluwins, Ponryn, Cornwall (peal of six). Roborougli, N. Devon (peal of six), Gjdeigh (peal of five bells, new second beli to be added, new peal of six for Withiel. Bodmin, Cornwall.

NEW PEAL OF SIX FOR ESSEX.  A COMPLELE RIESTORATION AT KIRBY-IESOKEN

Kirby-le-Soken, Essex, a vel'y puetty village, near Clacton-on-Sca, is now in possession of a peal of six belle, the dedication of which took place on Monday, Sept. 17th. About two ycars ago the old dive bells were in such a condition as to be masafe for ringing, the crown of two bells baring a large piece broken ont, and one othr cracked. The framowork was also beyond repair and unsafe. Thanks are due to the Vicar and members of the Prochial Council for the raising the necossary funds for a complete restoration, which included recasting tho old treble, 2nd and 4 th bells, and the addition of a new treble bell to make six. also the rehanging peal in a new steel frame for eiglat.
Tho kells were dedicated at a special service in the afterncon by Lis Bishop of Colchater who preached aut appropriate semmon. The sarvice ended with a collection in ajd of the restoration fund, generous response being made.
Ater the service tea was kindly provirled for the congregalion amf ringers ou the vicnuge lawn by the Vicar (the Rev A. Gledhili) and tha Parochial Council. Duriog the iea the Bishop gave a ahort ad dress eancernug the uses of belle, which was listened to with great interest.
Tea over, the ringers adjourned to tho tower. anti touchers of Donble Court Plain Bob, Tent Tueble Bob and Cambridge Surprise were pung, visitors heing present from 'Choryimpton. Greal Bromley, Great Bentley, Weeley, Thorpele-Soken, Frinton-on-Ser. Tendring, Ipswich, Chadwoll Heath and Edmonton.
Ertryone oxpressed great satisiaction with the tone and : go, of the bells, which though rather light, the tenor is only $8 \frac{3}{3}$ ewt, are a very musical peal and it is hoped the emply spaces, will be fillert hefore many years. The locn] band of riugers, if given help and instruction fin clange vinging from the noighlouring towers, will open up a lifithoreardof pare of Essex-in the eampanologicsl sense.

The work of restoration has been calried oat hy Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipsujel:

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

AL工 SALNTS SOCIFIY, HTGH WYOOMBE

The annual outing of the members of the Parish Cliurch Beltry took place on Saturday. Sept. 8th in gloriaus weather. Leaping Wycombe by tho 1.3 lifain, Keading was reuched coon after 2 , and a move was made to St. Giles's, where the party were ' anapped sy the ' camera fiend.' Fere the Reading ringers and the Vicar of Wycombe were awaiting the party; and the bells were saon sot going to various metitods, Ifter a fem touches, the next item on the programme was a visib to the delightful old-world willage of Sonning, which nestles on the bauks of the Thames-picturesque and peaceiuI -a striking contrast to the noise and buslle of the crowe-throngen stieets of the biscuit town. Tea was in realines at the French Horn Fotel. A Fisit to the church tower proved equally elujoyable, the tone and ' go ' of the hells heing everything that could be derireal By bus to Reading, ani tram to St. Peter's Church, Caverslum, was the rext order, and thongle the parly fowing to the clarms of dear oid Souning proving so altractive were inte the Cavershan ringing calleagues were paticutly waiting to welconve them. Hern again, the bells went beautifully and the touches concluded with a couple of courses of Double Norwich. Owing to lack of time, the Wyconbe men wera unable to take arivantare of a pull at st: Lawrence, which had been kindly offered them. The visitors wish to thank the incumbents and ringing friends who helped to make the visit so enjoyable.

LAVDNHAM RTNGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday. Sept. 8th the Lavenham ringerg held blejo annual outing. Traveling by motor-bus, the party, numbering 14, under the 'care' of Mr. S. Th. Symonds, set off from what was once known as the "Town of Eight eights," at 8.8 a.m. for Middanhall, which Wha reached after a fine run of 23 miles. Fiere they were met by Mr. P. Fordham and his "campanologist" wile; also Mr" F. Salter, of Thetford. Touchas of Grandsire Stedman, Bob Major and Super lative were rung Messrs, Saller and Fortham faking part, and Mra. Fordham ringing the treble to the Bob Major. Abter inspecting the carving in tho church, especially the oak organ loft in Gothic style, the work of Mr. Fordham, a journey was made to Byandona a village of flint-built coltages and once famons for its fint works. Hera Plain Boh, Double Court, Kent and Cambridge Surprive were upped off. The next stopping-place was Crispe's Temperance EIotel, Thetford, where a splendid dinner was partaten of, at which Mr. Salter was present. Afterwards the handbellow were used and then the visitors moved to the chuch of Sij. Peter. where they were met by Mr, T. Staga, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Foh Major were rung. Unforduately the treble rope broke in the tonch of Bob Major. A run was then mado to Eleveden. Itarg Grandsite and Stedman were rung, also two colloses of Bob Kajor with four of the local men stunding in. and Mr. F. Salter as coadnctor. The bell tower and cloisters, erected by Eirl Ireagh in memory of the late Viscountess Tueagh, were then inspected. also a splendid silver and enamel memorial to the late Dhulep Singh and his wife, and iwo memorial tablets, one in memory of the men who foll in the war and the other in honour of those who returned; this while the party's wariloneur 'aponised' his fellow travellers with tanes on in peal of tubulars in the ofd elareh lower. A visit war then paid to the impressive memorial erected in memory of the fallen men of Iiveden Estate. This monument is a magnificeat Corinthian nolumn rising to an imposing lieighti of 127 feet. Built chiefly of Weldon stone it is sumounted by a Portland stone urn. Ilft. 6in. fa height. The pedestal is 20ft. by Ilft., and the shaft is $88 f t$ in heightr and 8 ft . in dinneter tapering to 7 ft . There is an interior cilculan stairway of 146 steps lighted by vertical incisious. The coltrmm stands at a point where the three parishes-Elweden Eriswell and Jcklingham -merge. so that each of the huge panels of Hoplon Wood with the names of the fallen is in the particular parish indicated. The nowle structure weigh 500 tons, and took over 18 montlis to orect

After refreshments the "budding" conductor ordered the party to look to ' while he tried to stemalih "a 'kodak." A visit was then made to the Norman tower, Bury St. Edmunds, where several friends were met; here Grandsire and Stedman Caters Kent Royal and Major and Double Norwich vero rung, and concluded the programme. Lavenhara alias Eighteights was reached at 9.10 p.m. -The company wislies, througli the 'Ringing World,' to thank the rospective imeumbents for une of the bells; the friends for liaving everything in readiness; and Mr. F. Saller, who, on his motor "bile, acted as pilot from Mildenhati to Elveden,

THE NORFOLK GUILD.

The long and sometimes acrid controversy which arose in ringing circles through the formation of the new diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, and the consequent desire of ringers in Suffolk to have an association of their own, is now, we hope, at an end, for on Thursday of last week the old Norwich Diocesan Association, which for a time has been carrying on as the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, passed resolutions which, in effect, formally adopts as its area of operations the present diocese of Norwich. This termination of the sharp division of upinion which existed in the eastern counties will, we think, give general satisfaction, and is proof of the good sense which has ultimately guided the action of the ringers in Norfolk. They have realised, as the President pointed out, that the Association has to face altered conditions, and by decicling to restrict their title, and ipso facto, their area, they will be promoting that good feeling between the two counties which it is the desire of everyone should exist.

The new official title of the Association, "The Norfolk Guild of Ringers for the Diocese of Norwich,' is rather lengthy and cumbersone - but it is no more so than that of the new Guild for Suffolk, whose style Norfolk stems to have adopted. Although name is not everything, there is something to be said for adhering as far as possible to an old title, and for that reason we think it rather a pity that the members did not revert to that well-known name, with such fine ringing history behind it, 'The Norwich Diocesan Guild.' We do not mention this point for the sake of criticism, but we like simple names, especially when they stand, as in the case of the old Norwich Diacesan Association, for such fine traditions, and have been synonymous with progress. There will be a feeling of regret among many ringers throughout the country, we are sure, that the old established title is to disappear, for while the diocesan connection is retained in the descriptive words, the Association will become, for short, 'The Norfolk Guild.

The main factor at the monent, however, is that the old diocese and the new have each their own organisation. Each is strong enough to stand upon its own feet, and the decision of the men of Norfolk to contine their efforts to their own county, will not only remove friction, but will restore the feeling of brotherhood between the ringers of the two counties. The Suffolk men, who formerly owed allegiance to Norwich, will by no means lose their affection for the old Association, and the anticipation that the majority of them will retain membership as non-residents is almost certain to be fulfilert. Eust (Continued on page 612.)

[^63]Anglia will now have two Guilds, operating in friendly rivalry, but with a spirit of goodwill between them, which, we believe, if properly fostered, will find a responsive chord throughout the towers in the two counties and maintain the standard of ringing which has been associated with Norfolk and Suffolk in the past.

DEDICATION OF A PEAL TABLET. HJRTRORD RINGERS GATHERING AT KING'S LANGLEY.

Althoush only a brief notice had been given of the unveiling of a tablet in King's Langley Ohurch to commerrol'ate the first peal rung upon tho belts by the ical company, and also tho fist real by overy member of the band, over thirty tingers from tring. Hemol Hempstead, Berkhamsted Watiord and St, Alvans, asserabled on Saturclay week to pay uribute to the perseverence of the King's mangley maters in the accomplishment of their first peal on Jantuary 22nd, 1922.
The dedication was preceder by a short sorvige, conducted by the Ficar: the Rev. J. P. Eaythornthwaite, consisting of the Lord's Prayor and rersieles, Cantate, lesson and Nunc Dimittis. He then unveiled the Lablet writton in black, wilin the following statement:
In the Faith of Jesus Ohrist, and tho tho Glory of God, we unveil this tabled, and have placed it in the tower of the Parish Ghurch, as a mamorial of the zeal and derotifon of those whose namet; are inscribed theroupon, nad for the encouzarement of effeiency in the sarvice of God, thraugh the ministry of bell ringing, whereby worshippers may be summoned to God's House of Prayer, and the heart; of the caveles's muy le awarened to their duty to God." After proyer and a lyymn, the Viadr proceded to the aisle, and gave a most homely and practical address from Col. iii. 23. 24, "And whatsoever $F o$ do, do it heartily $\mathrm{z}_{3}$ to the Lord, and not unto men: knowing that of the Erord we shall receive the reward of the inheritance: fov Je serve the Jard Christ" He commencen hy saying that it was sometimes thought anc sometimes openly stated hat hell riugers dird not bake their work so seriously as other chureh workers. Whilst venlatimy tha opinion as to the correctness of this itlea, he wished thern always to remember ilat there was a very definite shaudard of work in bell riuging. Wo are all called upon to use to the fullest oxteni any talents we have to the advencement of God's kingdom, and bell rinting is a service in which we can nse our talculs in tho service of Christ. This talslat, for the unvaling of which they lata assembled that day, was a permaneut reword to the fact that the King's Langley ringers do finke their work in this right spirit. He welcomen the visibing members of the association. and asked them nlways to tike this high view of what was their special why of honouring God. He Elien briefy toucheal upon the lithorv of bells, remarking that from oxtreme antiquity they had been associated with the worship of Ged. En Englmal, in the days mhen watches and clocks were unknown. the ringing of the chturch bells was the only why whereby the willagers conll know the time of Divine worship - whatioy privilege whs this for be hall ringers of thoso dayt Conditions are not so today; but aevertheless bell ringers lave a very special and splendid part in the perfarmence of public worship.
At the conclusion of the service, an invitation was extenced to all to partake of tea in the adjaining hall at which the Vicar presided, supported by Dr. Fishar (ehurchwarden), Mr, G. W. Cartael, lom, secretary of the Hertford County Association. Mr. [k. S. Cooke, aud others.
The Ficar, after givily a most heurly weicomo to the askembled company, called upon Mr R. S. Cooke (ueputising for Mr. Walker, who, to the regret of all was detamex at business) to yive an account of the doings of the lochl band. Tisis Mr. Cooke did most successfully, methioning the valued efforts of Mr. G. N. Price, and others. anm tho first peal atlempl on Dr. Fisher's wedding day; how Mr. Fisher lard promised a peal hoard if the peal was successful. Alhoudg failure marked the firs: attempt Mr. Fisher generously allowed lais offer lo stand. As a loken of the appraciation of Dr. Fisher's activities $\mathrm{Mr}_{r}$. Cooke, on belalf of the bancl, presented hinn with a framed portrait of the team, the frame being made from a portion of tho old luell frame.
Dr. Fisher Whanked Mr. Cooke and las fallow ringers for their kind gift and relafed many reminiscences of tho peal and the history of the bells.
Mr. G. W. Cartmel, on hehale of the visitors, thanked the Row. J. $P$. Heythombwaide, aud the local company for their invibation to the service and to then tea. ## BELERY GOSSIP.

The old peal of six bells at Holliogbourne, Kent, rast by Samuel Knight in 1723, liave jusl been rehung in a strenglhened frame, with modern fittings. The work has beon done by Mr. A. Bowell to the complele satisfaction of fle ringers who have tried them. A peal in seven Minor methods was rung on the bells on Saturday.
The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major in Hampshire, and by the Winchester Guild was rung at Soberton Hants, on Oct. 3rd, 1898, and by an unpremeditated coincidence the 25th anifitarsary was commemorated by a poal in the same melhod on the same bells on Saturday. Mr, George Williams conducted both.

On Oct, 4 th and 5th. 1898, two other peals of Gambridge Surprise wero rung-one at Privott and the other at Petersfield-by the same band. The peal at Privett was desribed by the Iate Rev. F. S. Robinson in his book, 'Among the bells," as one of the most perfect over rung, and it was the more notoworthy from the fact that when the bells were being lowered the 4 th rope broke.
The Officers of the Worcesterghire Associabion have rung a peal of Stedman Caters. The band was made up of the Master, the general secretary two Central Council representatives, three Branch Masters, bwo branch secretaries, and a committeman. Thus has heen achieved a desire which has been expressed for many years.
Worty years ago next Tuesday a peal of 10,176 Grandsire Major was rung' in land ' at Birmingham.
Oct. 16 H is the amniversary of a peal of 6,030 Gramdsire Oaters rung at Wakefield,
A peal of Bob Maximus at Southwark (the first by the London Counly Artociation) celebrated the 30th anviversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dawe, who wero married at St. Bride's, Fleet, Street, on Oct. 7th, 1893, when a peal of Stedman Ginques was rung by the College Youths of which Mr. Dawe was then Master. He was at the lime thought to be the first Mastisr of tho Soniety married during his term of office.
It will be noticed that Mr. James George has again "turned in Whe weighty tenor, ath $h_{1 e}$ is within a few weeks of his 70hla birth. day!

In our obituary notice of the late Mr. Wesley, of Notingham, it wus staned that deceased lad not rung an 'inside' bell in Double Norwich and the higher methods but it now appears that be rane three or four peals of Doublo Norwich " inside. The error arose owing to his peal records beiny incomplete, and this correction is made in order that there may he no injustjce done to an old and valued member of the Exercise.
Sussex week commences to-morrow (Satarday), 13th, at St, Peter's, Brightou, it 3 oclock. There will be a soaial for members of the C.A. and friends at 7.30 p.m. at; the King and Queen Martborough Place-private roon-whiels will be the visilors' headguarters for tho eigltt days
Famuel Lawrence. of Shifnal. died just a century ago. The inscription on his fombstone $i$ : now indecipherable. It is proposed to ring a conmemoration jeal for him before the year 1923 closes.
The "Windson Youths * rang a peal at Denhany over a century ago - the present day Fouths rang two hours at Warfield for a peal in the same method-Grandsire-last Thirsday week.

An interesting peal was rung al Bristol on Saturday when eight employes of the Great Western Railway Go. 'got home' with a peal of Stedman Triples.

The death occurred on Sepi, 30th of M1. Artliur Edwards, of Borelam, Eesex, Master of the Soulh-East District of the Exsex Assoniation, a valued officer and enthusiantic ringer.
The figures of the new meihod Rochester Sumprise, rung at Leiston last Saturday, will be siven mext week.

LANCASFIRE ASSOCIATION.  \section*{FYLDE FRANCH STAGNATION゙.}

A meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at Letham Parish Churcil on Seliurday week, and was rather betier attended than usual Tonches in the four standard methods were rung, a novel feature in this branch being a louch of Stedman Triples "drummed ' by a lady ringer from St Jobn's, Lytham. Previous lo ringing, the Ficar Inad a chat with a few pingers present, and hoped that the next time the branch held a meoting at the Parish Olurch the ringer ${ }^{5}$ would be provided witll tea.
At the business meeting the seeretary read the anubal report of the branch, showing that only nineteen members had paid their subseriptions, againsli thirby-one the year before. No new members had been elected during the year. against, ten in the previous year. Ten meetings had bean Hela, and an average attendance of twelve showed an average increase of two.

The appontment of secrelary showed there was no competition for the posi. and the retiring gecretnry was asked to continue with tile dulies for another twelve months, He was thanked for doing so mudz spadework during the past two years.
A presentation was made to M1. J. Tipping, of Lyiham, as a practical expression of the sympathy of the members in his aftic tion in having a foot amputated
The next meeting will be held al Porlton in Novemher.

The Norfolk Guild of Ringers for the Diocese of Norwich.  NORWICH ASSOCIATION'S NEW TITLE.

The last metiog of the Norwioh and St. Edmundsbury and Ips wich Diocesan Association, undel ils old title. was held at he he Criterion lestanlant, White Lion Street, Norwich, on Thunaday Oct. 4ti. Earlier in whe day a committeb meeting was beld at the Deanery, the President (the Dear of Norwich) presiding. Supporiine him were the following members of the comraitlee: The Rev. W C. Reason, Messis, G. P. Burton, C. E. Borrett, F. $\mathbb{R}$, Borrect, W L. Duffield. G. Lawes, F. Knights, C. S. Tuthil. and the general secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman).

Diving service was held at $12.30 \mathrm{p}, \mathrm{m}$. in the choir of Norwich Oathedral, conducted by the Dean, when Ganon F. J. Meyrick, Vicar of St. Pelar Mancroft gave a sublime address on Jean Francois Millet's Ereat religionis pictire, ' The Angelus,' and on the voice of the Angelus bell cralling us into the divine presence of God.

Lancheon was subsequently served at the Griterion Restaurant The president was in the elair. and he was supporterl by the mem ther present at the commities meeting in the morning, and the Tev. R. Copenas (hon. secretary of the Ely Diocesall Association) the Rey R Bulitrode (Vicar of St. John's. Lowestaft) Mir D. O Holme, Mr. S. R. Roper, of Groydon, and 36 representatives from Noufoliz and Suffote.
The President, in elogtent terms, proposer the toast of "Tles King, " which was loyall honoured
Mr. (f. P. Burton submitting the toast of r The Bishop and Clergy, said he was sure they felt satisfied in having ille Bishop of the Diocese as their patron, while in the Dean of Norwich they had alı admirable president. The Rer. R2. Butatrode suitably replied.

The toast of 'The Association ' was submitted by ulie Rev. R Copeman. who heartily loped it mould have a long life, and that The peal record would still he kept un, even if the area of the association was curtatled. -It reply the President welcomed those present, and said although the association's area was to be curtailed in territarial activities, wet it was nerer more thoroughly alive than it was doday. He added that the general secetars had receiped letters of epology from the follawing members who were unable to be present: The Rishop of Thefforin, the Archieacon of Norfolk the Archdeacon of Norwich. ## A SUCOESSFUE YTEAR.

Mr. Arthur J. Coleman (general secretary) read the report for the past twelwe months. which stated that the position of the aspociation might fairly be regarded as a subject for congrathation, A powerfit clerical infmemme iv Suffolk land aperafect somewhat strong ly furint the present year whth would have the effeet of diminishing the number of antual subsarithing members. So far, with the oxseption of two, all their Suffolk clerica! honorary meinberg had resignen, but there appeared io be a general desire on the part of their Suffolk ringing members to retain their connection if some forn or ollter with the oid essociation. That particular matter had heen carefully considered by the commitiee. and would be placed before the meeting for the decision of the members. During the past twelve month; 75 new members lind bean elected thear, hear\} hut ther fad to record the loss of six by dealh, and 46 by resignal tion. Tliz lapsed membership was an mknown number until the revision of the register of membership. hut they had a margin of 23 to leave the total ummber af 970 members, as lasi, year. Then had to express the deen egret of the association in the loss sustained by the deatly of the late Mr. James Motts, of Sl. Mary-le-Tomer So eiety. Ipswich on Jaumary 27st last. Fe was not only an outstanding figere in thetr own association, but ta the whola Fwercise. To him was due in 110 small measure the thigh prestige the absociation gained hy his glorious self-sacrificing efforts to bying change ringing to higthest pitel of perfection. He was an original member of the associalion and had taken part in 559 association peals. The memory of suel ana accomplished brothey ringer would long remain cherished by all alembers of the associalion. Ther aliso regretted the deatl of noller Suffolk pioneor, the late Mr. William Grimes, of Debenlam: the Rev. Canon J. Gurner Hoare, and Messrs. Geo Blowers William Faveis and Trederick Housego.
Mr. Coleman then presenfed the funamial slatement, which shomed an expendifure of . 886 O . 9r. The estimated reneipts fincluding arailatile outstanding subseriptions) were 27695 . 9t.. lenving $n$ deficit of $\cong 10$

Or the motion of Mr, F. R Willby, seconded hy Mr. C. E. Bor rett. the report and financial statement were adopted.
On the notion mover bv Mr. C. S. Futhill aeconded br Mr. A L. Coloman iha offeers were re-ampoinled en bloc, viz., the Presp Tent. The Very Rev, the Dean of Norwich: the general secretary and toll.

Mr. A. L. Coleman moved, and $H$ r, Edgar Hunt secouded, tho clection of Mr. Eerbert Muson, as district seorelary for Thettord. Messrs, Gharles E. Borrett, G. P. Burlon and Arthur L. Colemazt were elected representatives on the Central Comsil of Church Bell Ringers.

Two life mombers (non-resident), three honoray members. and fourben performing menberts were eleeted as follows:-Thomas Wilfred Tafiender and W, J. Rogers, life members (non-resident); Arthur Blaxcell, performing member; new members; Rev. G. Jugly Hanning, Fev. F. G, Mitchell and Miss Bertla Tuthill (honorary), Edward Etheridge, Arthur C. Goldsmilh, Heginald ik, Goldsuith, Willian Walpole, Baden Barbor, Kedford Knights Herbert Young, and Miss Jessje Cooke (pertorming).

IHE OHANGE OF TITLE

The President nest rose to speak on the 'thomy ruestion of ble change of title. Some chenge, $h_{1}$ declaced, was necessary for the last four or five scare, since tha formation of the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, file matter had been in debale. The asmociation liad to face altared conditions. Ho wat not responsible for the decsjom taken with regard to the nama at Pultam last June, and wished to disassociate himself from if. li was decided there that the title should be the Norfolk and Suffolk Association. It seemed to him they were arrogating to themselves what was unjust. They were nob in a position to call themselves by that titie. At: the commithee meeting held that morning it was decided bare majority that the title to be recommented for adoption should be 'Tho Norfolk Guild of Ringers, for the Diocese of Norwich.' It was felt that if would then be a very easy matter to acld the word Suffolk if those who were slrayed and lost were to come Dack.

Mr. G. .. Blirton side they har fot to be carcilil, for whey bad the eyes of all the ringers in England an them. It was thought that Eliey were too big anrl too arrogant. He supported the proposition that Hey should fall back on a more modost title.

Mis. C. E. Borrett doubted the wisdom of tho present step. Hls one single fhought in the controversy hitil liecs io do the best for the ringers themselves in both counties. Any ides of arrogance on the part of Norfolk was an entirely mistaken one.
Mr. A. L. Coleran said ihe titlo recommended for adoption by the conmitlee woulid greatly ease the pyesent complieations, and mure it pasilbe for Suffolk members to become mon-trosident life members.
Mr. T. IR Borrett proposed, and Mi. IR. N. Copeman secouded, that the Eitle be : The Norfolk nud Suftolk Association.

Mir. G. P. Burton proposed, and Mr. Wr. L. Duffelit seconded, that the title be *Tle Norfolk Guild of Tingers for the Diocese of Nor. w:ch,
The President, on putting the motions before the meeting, aeclared tha wem Litle. 'The Norfolk Guile of Tingers for the Diacese of Norwiclı" agreed ta by 18 votes to 7 .
A motion was moved by Mr. B. S. Thompson, and seconded by Mr. G. P. Burion, " That Suffole members who, having paid their - noual subserplione for 1923, pay an achlitional sulberyplion of 2 s For 1924; small become, jpso facto, life membens (non-resident), bul solm members shall not be entitled to a copy of the aumuat heport on being put to the meeting was carried ninanimotraly

Tho Rev. W. C. Pearson pronosed a vole of thanks to Canon F. J Meyrick for bis address at the Calloctral aud also for the use the ring of twelve hells of St. Peter Mancroft: ulso to the Tiean of St. Joln de Sepulchte auel the Remor of St. Micirael Coslauy for the use of their lyells.
Mr. D. O. Haime proposer, amt Mr, C, E. Jarreit seconden vote of thats to the Dean of Nowich for juresiching over the meeting: and at the close of the meeting Mr. Arthur L. Coleman whs heartilp thanked for his great services as geueral secretary and trensurer

The meeting Elien closed. and ringing was resumen at the various belfirss. Touches of Stedman Triples, Caters and Ciagues Donblit Norwiclz Coust Bob Major and Rornl. Treble Boly Major and Roval and Plain Bob Major were rung during the day. With visitors and late comens the folai number present at the antial neeting was between 50 anel 60.

A PRACHCAL SUGGESTION.

In proposing the toast of "The Bull Fomnders, the Rev, C. C. Marshalt gave an interesting survey of hae history of the ancient craft of bell founding from the time of John of York down to the prosentriay yenowned firms of Messre. Mears and Stainbank, Tayfor and Co., and Gillett and Johnston, representatives of each of which were present. He dwelt upon the hiph lerei of workmanbhip which had always been attained and maintained, aud laid particular shess an ife honour and esteem in which the craft had always been held both by those ongaged in it, and by those who use tha bells. He humoronsly referved to the only instanco lise knew of a dishonoturable bell founder, quating the old legend, which. however, was now to many present, of tho fonnder who having recoived silver to bo mixed with his molten metal in order to sweeten the tone of a certain bell, kept the silver. replacing it bj in. Whan the day catme for the ringing of the bell. in spite of every effort soarcely any sound could be produced, and in desperailon, seizing the rope, the founder endenvoured, to bring forth sound himself, As it happened, under the stran of his energy the clapper fell out on to his head ant killed him (langhter), Alten refercing to the many beantiful peals nt tho disposal of the York shive Association. loo said that lie failed to see where much im provement could foe made in the actial making of the beils, but he did think somelhing conld tre done in the direction of redacing the volumo of sound in the immediate vicinity of a tower, suggest. ing that if in futuro fowars no opentngs were made below the level of cha bellis. possibly this featare would be remedied to the beneft of ail concerned, and that in this way complaints might be minimised.
Mr. A. A. İughes, Mr. C. Johnston and Mr. Pryce Thylog reeponded to this foast the Iast named remarkine that he onec has 3 the plearilue of meeting Mr. C. H. Fattersley. who procceded to enlighten him on ringing maters aud tell him rarions tales, but lie was aftaid he wis too much taken up in admiriug Mr. Hattersletis silk lati and lisiening to his racy anecdotes to gain the full benefit of the instruction, being then at a very uarly stage in his teens (loud laughtery)

FUTENDS TN A GOOD GAUSE.

Mr. S. F. Palmer (hom. secretary of the Sheflield Committee) proposed $r$ 'The Tisilors,' and remaited that it gave the commitite and himself the greatest pleasuro in seaing such a large gathering. On behalf of that committee, fe offered lhem the hartiest of wel comes to the Ctiy of Sheffield, and to that, gathering in particularThen were proud of the large number flat had responded to the invitation, and sincerely busted hat al] would carry away man pleasart recollecijons of their risit. the Oalhedral, spoke feelingly of the good relationship whinEhe Calhedral, spoke fealingly of the good relationship whing Cathedral, and said low pleased he was to lave the homour of being amongst such a distinguished gathering.
Mr. O. Harriton briefly proposed the rote of thanks to the chairman, and oxpressed the lrope that the imptessions he woild have grined by that, gathering woulk be similar to the Bishop's, who sand ati a a recent meeting that the fraternity which existed among ringers wats a wonderfu] thing, and he always felt a distinct happiness whenever lie was forlunate enough to be with them.'
The Archdeacon briefy responded, and trusted he would have the pleasure of coming amongst them mole as time went on.
The company were mucl indebted to the following fadies and gentemen who rendered very aceplable vocal items during the sourse of the evening whin did much to enlance the enfoyment of the proctedings: Miss K. Jacksom, Miss E, Hague Mr. R. Dixon and Mr H. Crookes. With the singing of 'Auld Ling Syne a memorable evening was brought to a close, and if the comments oif the visitone may be taken as a cxiterion, Slieffeld may pride itself on baving scored a moteworthy success in her first voniura at housing such an important gathering.
At the chose the compsinp parted, some to midnighe trains and lonk journeys othens to fheir homes, permanent or tenparary in Sheffield, a fair proportion of visitors electing to stay overnight and participate ju ringing leye on the Sunday morning.

The Loast of E Kiudred Ringing Sacieties = liaving been cordially honoured,
Mr- Abert Walker, who first replied said he was proud to stand there As Ringing Master of St. Martin's. Birminglann, and to follow such eminent men as his predecessous had been. These were very difficult mea to follow, for they set a very high standard af rimging, not only in Birminglam, but throughout the country. The foundations of composition and coukduching were due to theso giants of the past. Continuing, he said he liad Iislened to the peal of Stedman Cirgnes rung at Southwark lasi year by the College Youths. Fud in bis opionon it ura a remarkable record, ss it was ingosible la ignore the weight of metal handled.
Mr. J. Siowhotfom said that it gave him the greatest pleasure to ropresent He College Fouths at that gathering, and lie henthly thanked Mr. P. J. Johnson for his very kind referenees to his ao. riely. He did not think that the present generation of Loudon ringers personally kow Jasper Whitfild Snowdon. and he Mr. Rowbattome was protiably the only man in Loudon mho had such an intimata association with him, having rumg two peal with Mr. Snowdon many years ago. Ho apoke in the warmest terms of his own per-saml association with the late Mr, Chas. Henry Haltersley, whom lye said he had to thank both for his early insturction in his own binshess and also his knouledge of ringing. He also referred to tho tact thal. the preceding Saturday was the birthday of Mr. Mat. Woor, of London-an occasion worth mentionimes at sudh a gafinering.
Whe Collego Youths sent Uneir wamest wishes for the succas of that function.
The conse of Stedman Giuques rung 'in hand ' at the dinner was not the first in Sheffeld, as mentioned in our Iast issue, and in this connechion the following old records are intercsting:-
On February 11th. 1839 . at Stueffeld, a new peal of handbells (Na. 19, tenor O) was opened with a contre of Stedman Cinques by the Following Sheffeld rouths: 1-2. J. Sandfard, aged $16 ; 3-4$, J. THE BELLS OF HASLEMERE.
A N゙EW PEAL OT EIGHT.
Surrey has gained a delightfu] little peal of eight by the recastint of the bells of Haslemere. This littie town situated amoug the fir-clad hills, not far from the Hampshive border, has a church very picturanuely situsten. In whe squat lower there was formerly a ving of six, onst in 1882, which were afterwards aldgmented to cight. Previously there haul been a peal of five cast by Richard Phelps in 1710 , four of them, howcyer. having bean subsequert|y recast at various dates.
The now peal owes its inception to Major J. HI. B. Hesse, who resides at Haslemere. and whose great-uncle, the Rev. James Legrew Hesse, was formerty Rector of Haslemere for thirty-six years. Major Hesse's ontitsiasm for good bolls lod him to move actively in raising funds for a finer peal than his parish church possessed, and the new peal, tile product of the Ioughborough Fobadry. is the out. come. The weight of the bells has been increased; thoy have been tuned on the five-toned principle, and hung in two fiers, with such delicacy of adjustment that they can be rung with the proverbial picce of coliton.'
The dedication service took place on Wednesday of lasp week, when. despite a dreuching downpour of raiu. there was a large congregation to witness the oeremong performed by the Rector the Rev. W. Wragge), Illie other clergy present were the Rev. Canon $F^{\circ}$. G. Coleridge (President of the Dentral Council), the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of tha Oxford Diocazan Guild), the Rev. E. J. Newill (Rural Dear of Godulming), and the Rev. G. C. R. D'Arcy (Haslemere). Ringers were present, in addlition to the local brud, from Guildford, Godalming, Lortsmouth. North Stoueham. Woking and Swindon. including Mr. G. Williams (Master of the Winchester Diocesan Guildi, End Mr. J. H. Shupherel. presented the founders.

The service was short, and after the dedicatory prajers, the following local men rang the opening rounds: J. F. H. Fesse 1, TI Mack 2. W. Millard 3, F. White 4. W. Eldridere 5 J. Goodelide 6. F. Bowden 7. R., Hayers 8.

Canon Coleridge preached the sermon, his toxt being iaken from Palm xi, 3, "He liah put a new song in my mouth." and from these words and the context--' He broughti me up out of mu horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock anat established my goings, rint He hath put a new song in my moulh. even praise unto our' God'-lye gave an eloquent as well as an: instruclive and impressive address. Ehowing how alosely the casting and setting up of a peal of bells followed the Psalmist's words nad applying the lessons of the bells to tire conduct of Ohristian life.

At the conclusion of the service, a touch of 504 Stednan Twiple wat rung by J. Fi. B. Hesse I. G. Williame 2. Canon Coleridge 3. A. H. Palling Conduclapy 4. J. E. Goldsmith 5, G. Steere 6. Rev C. W. O. Jenkn 7. W. He Melville 8. Subseguently tonches of Grandive. Double Norwich. Treble Bob Superlative and Cambridga Surprise were rung, and the benuty of the bells was much admired Major and Mrs. Eesse rerg kindly eutertained the local and visiting ringers to tea at their beautiful home. 'The Lodge.'
It is interesting to note ihat it was at Haslemere that Alfred Temyson lived. It wath in tho Partsh Church thali be wot:hipped, ant Haslemere beils of old pobably prompted some of those beautiul lines which are familiar to all lovers of poeliry.
Messrs. Taylor and Co, have recorts and relung the old poal of pight bells. to which 7 cut of new metal has bren added lhus increasing the weight of the whole peal. tho new tenor being its cwl. 6 is in F : sharp.
The old inseriptions liave been repronuced on the freble, second and tenor bells:

Treble.- Ring out the darkess of the land, with the initials *E.C. "this beli origimally was the gift of Mus. Collistrwood. of Haslencre).
Secont-: Ring itt ine Christ ihat is to be with the imitials lat patd G.A.H. this hell was the gift ariginally of the late Rector and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Ailken).
The other bells have the diate and founder's name onls.
The Tenor:- Pence and good neighbourliood " with the present Rector's mame and his churchwardens, and undermeath on crest with the motlo, 'Solo Deo Salus.'
In this belt there are a few pounds of metal that came of will the cunons from the minhs betl at Wrington, also off the teury bell at Rowberow, in Somerset, two places that the Herse fanily have been closely comnectelu witis.
The bells are in two ficrs, 12,3 up, in a sido frame, the rest holow in an ' $\mathrm{H}^{\prime}$ frame. The whole peal are now abonl. 9 feet lower int the tower than originaly; $1,4,5,8$, swinging east and west 2 3. 6. 7, north and south. They are mounted on steel girders ruminar norih, south. east and west, so as to bind all walls together, and eitch bell pit is very efficiently cross-braced. Afl the bells are mounted on ball bearinge as are also the rollens, and all are fitterl with grease enps. In andition grease cups are fitted to the crown stapla pins of the elappers. pins of the elappers.

The whole job is corvied aut on cffcient engineering lines and gives thorough salisiaction to those concerned. Tho bells themselves are in perfect tume ons the five tone principle, and are much admired by all the fone being very full For their weight. Much more conld be said ou bins point, lut the bells are in the tower to speak for themselves.

PROGRESS IN MINOR.

No brauch of ringing has advanced faster in recent years than six-bell practice. Limited in the extent of changes that are possible, the scope of Minor ringing has been rapidly widened in a variety of directions, first by the publication of the Collection of Methods by the Central Counci\}, then by the ingenious arrangement hy which several methods are introduced into une true seven hundred and twenty. Old-time six-bell ringers used to find numerous methods with which to exercise their art, but many of these methods were of very poor quality from a constructional point of view. The Central Counn cil's publication, however, changed all this and gave ringers a choice which provides a wide range of regular and really good Minor methods.

Uatil recent years Minor ringers who wanted a peal in more than seven methods had perforce to ring a round touch in each of a number, with the result that some changes might be repcated, say fourteen times-where a peal in fourteen 360 's was rung-while other changes might not appear at all. This has been rendered avoidable by scientific splicing, so that it is possible to put something like thirty methods into a peal and still have eacla possible change only seven times. Moreover, these peals are produced without the tenors coming up together behind in an inverted coursing order, a position which is the bette noir of the majority of ringers. in many of the methods practised in the past the tenors were as often brought lip the wrong way as not, but the progressive Minor ringer of to-day has provided for himz considerable choice of methods which escape this limitation.
Now we have reached yet another stage in the advancement of Minor composition. Hitherto one of the drawbacks to ringing peals of Cambridge Surprise Minor has been the fact that seven differently composed 720 's had not been obtained without sometimes having the tenors the wrong way. The Rev. E. Bankes James has constructed an ingenious 5040 by producing seven distinct 720's, which kecp the tenors the right way together when behind. He las done it by a plan which discards the convention of joining them together at the rounds change. An examination of the figures will show that the extents start variously from 234,433 and 342 , but each seven hundred and twenty is thee in itself. We do not know what some of the 'purists' will say to this plan, although we do not see how thev can quibble with it when the peal begins and ends with rounds and contains seven true extents. At any rate it provides ancther instance of the genius of the Master of Seafield, and it is not unlikely we may see the plan applied to othe Minor methods in the future.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT ESSEX RINGER.

MR. AlHTHDR EDWAHDS, DISTRTCT RINGING MASTER.
A gloom has been cast over ringing circles in South-East Essex by the unexpected death of Mr. Archar Edwards, of Borcham, Master of the S.E. District of the County Assaciation. The sal event accurred an Sunday Sept. 30th, at the Chelmsford Isolation Hospital, from acuto septiturmia followed by nephritis. The decensed, who was 53 years of age. lad been ilt for about a fortuight, but was taken suddenly worse on tibe Saturday, and died on Sunday. He was liead gardener, and had ben employed at. Boreham Manor for about 17 years by the Jate Canon Hulron. He took a kean and active part. in the affairs of fle parish, where he will be greatiy missed. He had been hon, secretary of the local Bowling Club since its formation, and had always taken an active interest in the Cotlage Gardeners' Associations. He was ilso associated wilh the Chelmsford Gardeners' Association. Ho was a sidesman at the churcha and a memrber of the Patochial Churcls Conncil. Fie Jeavers a wordow and famity of six sons nd three dauglaters, with whom much sympalhy wilt he relt.
His connection with ringing extender over a great many years, anu le was a gieat entlusios! in the art. He had rung a considerablo number of paals, fucluding one by a band of 'Arthurs,' hut lie was never so happy as when instructing a young band or getting them thaough their first touch in a new method. Such mon are the salt of the Exercite, and the denth of Mr. Edwards leaves a gap which if will he difliculf to fill.
The funeral took place at Boreham Churchyard, amid many signs of estuem and regret. The service was conducted by the Rer. A. E, Hall (Viear), assisted by the Rev G. Colley, of Ghehnsford. The cortege was led from tho decessed's residence by the members of the local band aud other ringers, the bearers also being ringing friends. The chief mourner's were: The widow; Harold Firzel. ROCHESTER SURPRISE MAJOR.
A NEW METHOD BY GABRIEL LINDOFF.

A peal in this method was rung for the first time at Letiston, Suffolk, on Sptinday. Oet. 6th, and this enterprising and accomplished band have thus added yed another to the numerous Surprise methods whels they have rung.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MINOR.

A PEAL WITH TENORS ALWAYS 'TETE RIGHT WAY.
Peals of Cambridge Surprise Minor are showing an increase, but one of the factors that has acted ifainsl a more general practice is Lis fuct that seven different 720 's could not he obtained without sometimes having the leuors the wrong way.
The following 5,040 las been pu& together by tho Rev. E. Bankes Jameli on a plan that was indicated in " The liaging Worid' some time ago. There are seven distinct 729's. but they do not como round at the eud. The first seven hundred starts from the row 23456. and finishes at 43265 (the handstroke of 34256 ). The advantage of the armagement is that it gives seren difforelt dallings for Cambridge Surprise Mitor, and the tenors always como up the right way. This peal was rung at Grendon on Oct. 6th?

The two new trebles which have been added to the ring at Canterbury Cathedral as a memorial to the members of the Kent County Association who fell in the war, were dedicated on Saturday, and are more is thus added to the peals of twelve.
Another new method has been added to the Surprise list, the first peal of Rutland Surprise Major having been rung it Holsover.

Very few men have conduatert peals from Doubles to Maximus, but by calling a peal of Stedman Cinques at Wolverhampton on Saturday $\operatorname{Hr}$. Robert Mathews $l_{1} a_{s}$ completed the circuit

An interesting peal is recorded in our columns ihs week, eight members of the Metropolitan Police Force having rung a peal of Bob Major at St. Giles-inthe-Fiedds. It was a farewell to P.S. Jas. Benmelit, of 7 Division, after 25 fears service.
A peal of Minor, the first on the bells was rung at Croscombe, Somerset, on Wednesday of last week. The total distance travelled by the band was 154 miles, and some, at least, could mot have arrived home before $12.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. on a dark, stormy night. There's enthusiasm for you!
In connection with the chouble-Innded neal of Oxford Treble Bobs Royal rung at Ipswich last week, it is interesting to recall that the first ' in hand ' was rung at Sheffield on Dee. 3 rd 1811 by a band who about that time rang Major, Royal and Maximus on landbells. One of the earliest peals of Treble Ten was rung at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, on Oct. 19th 1766 . This was the first 6,000 in the method, and was scored by the College Youths.
The only peal of Grandsire Cinques which John Holt rang with the Union Scholars was al: St. Bride's, London on Oct, $20 t h, 1751$.
The Dambridge Youths rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Great St. Mary's on December 22 nd, 1734.

The first recorded peal of stedman Triples, albeit in rival company threw doubts upon its truth. was rung at St. Peter Maneroft, Norwhich, on Oct, $25 t h, 1731$

Oct. 254 is also the anniversary of the first peal of Sledman Caters rung out of London, viz., 5,292 at Birmingham in the year 1790.

A peal of 15,124 Bob Major was rung in 8 hr. 46 ming., at St Paul's. Oldham, on Oct. 24 lh, 1807.
We hear an attempt is to be made shortly in a Midland county for a peal of Stedman Triples by eight members of the Ladies' Guild. The hest of luce to them.

DEVON GUILD

REv. E. V. COX AT DXMOUTE

This quarterly meeting of the Exeter and District Branch of the Guild of Deronshire Ringers was held af Littieham (Exmouth), on Saturday, Sept, 29th, when about 70 members were present from St. Sidwell's, St. David's. St. Thomas', and Heavitree (Exeter), Litleham, Withycombe Raleigh, Topsham, Olyst St. George, Sowton, Ottarton. Christow, Thorverton, Newton St. Cymas, together with the Paigaton band. who were on their anutal outing.
A service was held in Jittleham Church, the Vicar (the Rev. E. V. Cox) and the Rev. J. F. B. Ball officiating. The Vicar preached, and dwelt on the necessity for realisation of the duties of the ringers' office, and the offering of the best work, especially for Sunday services.
Tea, kindly provided by Liltleham friends, including the ringers, was held in the Chureli hut, where Mesdames Cox. Bel] and Dobbie. and Miss Ball and the ringers wives, attended to the wants of the visitors.
Mr. E. Shepherd presided at the meeting which followed
Mr. W. J. Southwood (the hon. secretary spoke of the pleasure at gave them to have the Rev. E. V. Cox in the district, and congratulated him on his appointment to the living at Exmouth. Before coming there he was the hon. secretary of the NorthEast branch, and did splendid work in that district in encouraging campanology.Rev. F. V. Cox, in response, said he was sorry to lease the NorthEast branch, and he congratulated the Exeter branch on its enthusissm, as shown by the splendid attendance that day.
It was decided to hold the amual meeting at St. Sidwell's (Exeter). on Saturday, December 1st.

Mr. E. Shepherd moved a hearty rote of thanks to the Vicar for the beautiful service, also to the organist and verger: thanks were Blow extended to the Rev. J. E. B. and Mrs. Ball, and to ladies and ringers" wives who had provided tea. -The Rev. J, E. B. Ball. in reply, expressed great pleasure at seeing the ringers at Little liam, and said they were heartily welcome. They had a splendid body of workers in the ladies. and the ringers, who had worked whole-heartily to make the gathering a success.

Some arcellent touches of Stedman and Grandsire were ring on

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

SUCCESSFUL MEETHNG AT FEVE-BELL TOWER.
There was an oxcellent muster on Salurday last at St. Andrew's, Dinas Powis, on the oceasion of the guarterly raeeting of the Lhanclaff and Monmouth Diocesinu Guild although the bells are a ring of five, and the so, anything but good. Undoubtedly it was the enthusiasm of $\mathrm{Mr}^{\text {r }}$. Gram, the leader of tie ringers who at a previous meeting invited tha association to loold a meebing there that brought the large gathering together, and it wat most grabifying to see what at response was made to the invitation by members from even the extreme end of the diocese. The bells were started soon after three o'clock, and the first 120 included the two most energetic lady ringers of the association, Mrs. Jenkin. of St. Abhnn, and Miss Pacey, of Rumney. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Edward Davies), and was followed by a bumptuous tea in the Paribh Hail, very kindly provided and arranged by Mr. Cram, who had left nothing to chance, and to whom at the conclusion, the heartiesf thants of the visitars was accorded.
The business meeting followed. presided over $\mathrm{b}_{V}$ the Rector, including fastruchors' reports, reports on restorations, applications for motruction, notices of motion for the annual meeting, and new members, including one hon. membor. Miss Alexander of St. Andrew's, a lady who takes greal interest in the local ringers.
The next meeting is the ammal, to be held at All Saints', Newport, Monl, on Boxing Day, December 26tl.

It was arranged to hold the next Glamoritan quarterly meeting at Llanishen: failing there, Llantwit Major.
At the conclusion of the meeting a most enjoyable hour was spent with the locals. A more pleasant; better attended, and more successfis] mecting could not possibly have been held, even if the attraction had been a rivg of twelve bolls.

NEW PEAL OF TEN AT DERBY.

ST. ANDREW'S BELLS RTSTORED AND AUGMENTED.
The dedication service in comection with the reopening of the peal of bells av St, Andrew's Church. Derby, which have been allgmented to ten by the addition of two new trebles, the gift of Mr. C. E. Hart and family, and Mr. A. H. Ward and family took place on Sunday morning, Sept. 30 t , and wes performed by hie Vicar (the Rev. J. T. Mumford, M.A.), those present including the Mayor of Derby (Ald Oswald Lingt, Ald. R. B. Chambers, President of the Midand Counties Association, and other members of the Corporation, who, torether with the churchwardens and a few members of the congregation. proceeded to the belfry for the dedication ceremony. Whilst this was in progress, 如e organist (Mr. W. J. Baker) and choir rendered the anthem, ' Ring out, wild bells," very effectively.
After the servico, and during the time the congregation was leaving the clurch. the ten bells wera started and produced a very finc effect, after a silence of over three yerrs.
A few rounds and call changes were frst rung, followed by eourse each of Stedmau Giters and Treble Bob Royal. St Andrew's is fortunate to have been able to gather together all the old members of the hand who were serving three years pego.
Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough have carried out the work of rehanging and profidivg the new bells, and although many obstacles have had to be surmounted they have falilled the contract oxopedingly well. St. Andrew's can now boast of a peal of teu bells which are credit to tho church and town
A new iron frame on steel girders has been substituted for the ald wood frame, and the bells have been Iowered about; eight or nine feet below the tower lowres, producing a much moro musical effect, which it is hoped, wiIl aroid complainte re :Noisy Bells.'
The thanks of the Bells Restoration Commititee are tendered to Messrs. E. A. Lewis and E. Alexander Young for their advice on the bells and tower, respectively whiclt greaty cnabled the committee to decide on the thorough overhauling of the bells. The committee also thank those ringels who have suliscribed to the restoration fund.

MEMORIALS TO BRISTOL RINGERS.

On Tussday. October Znd St. Stephen's Church tower, Bristol, Was visited by many of the friends of the late Raymond J. Wilkins. The Rector (the Rev. W. ## THE WHITTINGTON COMMEMORATION ATTENDED BY THE ANOTHNT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTESThe Whitington celebration briefly apferred la in a previous issue, was held at the Old City Chureh of St. Michael Paternoster Royal, on October 2nd being the 5001 h pmiversary of the death of the great Sir Riciard Whitington, four tianes Lorx Mayor of London. Any such colebration would, of course, be incomplete without the presence of the Lord Mayor, libe civic dignitaries, amd the Mastera and Liveries of the Old City Companies, and still more incomplefe to the laity, especially ringers. without some recognition of Whiltington's association with English foik-lore. In view of this, the lector, the Rov. Canon Bullock-Webster, extended an invitation to the Ancieut Society of Callege Youths to be present and also to make tributo in its rlue place with their liandbells. Owing to the limited accommodation available, the Rector was only able to allot seven tickets, and the following were eleated to represent the society at the service, viz, the Master, Mr, W. Garrard, and Messrs, W. D. Smith, A. A. Hughes. E. Fenn, T. Walker, J. Howell and E. A. Young.

Students of the listory of the Ancient Society of College Xouths will remember that they were wont to make an anmual procession to one of the aity churches, hemded by their beatle carrying the mace. It is inleresting, Aherefore. to noto that after a lapse of perbaps 200 years this procedure whs revived, it a modifed form on this occasion. The delegation formed up on College Bill, on the site of the College, from which the society oblained its vanie and the Master wearing his badge of office, and preceded by Mr. W. D. Smith, carrying the mace. led the party in procession, to the church.
During the assembly of a ful] congregation. most of whom wora their traditiosal robes of scarlet and gota, Messes. Smith, Garrard and Young, gave illustrations on handbells of ringing as practised in the earlier days, such changes as Whithington would probably have heard in his own bifetime. Six large size bells were used. and the effect with the oryan accompaniment, was siuqularly impressive and mast appropriate having regard to the fact that Whittington himself, with bis wife, were resting close by.
Several past Lord Mryors were present, togother with the Lady Mayoress, the Acting Lord Mayor, Sir Cliarles Johnstone (who has himself leen Lord Mayor), and the blerifts and aldermen. The Master and Wardens of the Mereers Company (of which Whittington himself was Mastert, and the Vintners and ather conpanies were represented. and amongst the tery distinguished gathering, mention must be made of the ' Falher of the House of Louds,' Lord Coventry who, despite his advanced pors. came $a_{3}$ the direct descenalant of John Coventry, the friend and executor of Whittington.

The beatiful order of service, line soft ausic of the organ, mith the bells, together with the gorgeous rolyes of the congrcgation the lafter hlending with the dim softress of the light from the stained glass windows, gave an impression of solomnity not easily forgotten by those who were privileged to be present on this historie occasion. Af the end of the service, and as a voluntary, a course of Grandsire Triples, to an orpan accompaniment, were given hy Messrs, Fenm, Garrard, Smith and Young, this bringing i memorable ceremony to a fitting termination, and the Fictor has since mritten to express kis deep appreciation for the attendance and lielp given by the Aneient Society.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCITION.
ASHFORD DISTRICT MEMBERS AND TRAVELLING EXPENSES.
The Ashford District annal meeting, held at Appledore on the last Saburday in September, was attended by nearly 40 members, and good parctice was obtsined on the cinurch bells in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. The Vicar (the Rev. A. O Scutt) conducted the service and Mr. W. E Pitranal, Mue. Bac. (of Canterbury), an association member. presided at the orgun.
Tea, provided by the association, was partaker of at the Sqno Holel. with the Vicar in the chair.
At the business meeting which followed, Mr. C. Tribe (Tenterden) was unanimously reelected hon. sceretary, with a special yote of thanks for his services during the past twelve mouths.-Mr. Tribe returned thanks for the confidence thev had again reposed in him, but he reminded them that the time would come when he would have to retire, so he strongly advised them to look around for a succelsor during the next twalve months, althongh all the time he could do the work he yould stick to it.
Mr. G. Paine (Mersham) announced his intention of not secking reelection as one of the two district representatives on the committoe, and, in his remarks, said he thought more could be fone in abtaining honorary members.
Mr. Paine was at the meeting at Mersham over 40 yoars ago, when the association was formed, and he has done much useful work.
Messrs. E.S. Ruck (Mersham) and E. H. Peirce (Brabourne) were chosen as the district representabires, and Mr. Guck in relurning thanks, said that when matters relating to their division came beFore the conmittee, he would always be ready to fight for the Ashford district. With regard to honorary members, he thought Mersham had more than any other parish. In naming a few, he menliomed that the late Mr. C. Bates was an honorary member for 30 years, and Mr. T. Pilcher for something like a quarter of a century. He felt quite certain that if members would look around more hoo. members could bo obtained. Tlis would make a considerable diference, not only with regard to the finds, but would Fet people to take more interest in ringers and ringivg.

A hearty vole of thanks was passed to Mr. Paine for his long and splendid service as a district representative.

Places for meetings were selected as follows: Rolvenden in November: Ashford in February, and if Aslfford is unobtainable Wye to be arranged: Stone-in-Oxney in June, and the annual meeting ab Folkestone in August or Seplember.
Mrs. W. Bution (Rolvenden), Miss Want (Tenterden) and Mr. K. Pattenden (Rye) were admitted as members.
The dssociation pays half traveling expensa, with a maximum of 2s., at one meeting in each district every year, and this subject foimed an iaterestiug debate, the point at issue being wheiner or no this should be announced in ' Tho Ringing World 's advertisement. The allowances have always been paid each year, mad the district secretary takes the view that if members are really interetted enough in ringing to come to a meeting, they would turia up without an allowance notice to draw them there.
Some present appeared to favour it boing inserted in the advertisement. and others preferred the district, secentary's wiews. There were, however no sharp words over the question, and no desire, as it were to "Pierce " one another with the bayouet, or to use any of Mills' , hombs. Each speaker proved limself to be a courteous Player for what lie adrocated, being careful not to Ruck 'any fenthers, ar cause any - Pain(e) ' to be endured. There was no fear of the slip being 'Scutt '-led, for everybody, including the ' Baker,' kept a cool 'Head,' but as no definite solution was forthcoming. the chairman asked for a show of hands of those in farour of amounting the travelling allowance in tha advertisement. Result, no Fotes, and a sinilar result when the chairman wiked if the members aps proved of an advertisement not incorporatina the allowance. It made one begin to wonder what the memisers did. Want.' Did it look as if they hardly cared a 'Rutton, what happened? Not so; for when the chairman sought their opinion respecting leaving the matter in the luands of the district secretary to net at lis discretion nearly all the members "Rose to the oecrsion, and practically the whole 'Tribe" signified their assent to thit course which receited the suppert of a strong ' Castle.'

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for presidino and allowing the meeting to be held at Appledore: to Mr. Pleman for his services at the organ, and to Messre. G. and A. Johnson for assisting in arranging the meeting, concluded the businass.

MR A. J. TRAPPITT'S 100 PEALS.

GILLETT& JOHNSTON CROYDON, surrey

The Recast Tenor ( 30 cwt .) at ROCHESTER CATHEDRAL. New Ring of Ten opened May 14th, 1921.

THAT MUCH-NEEDED REGISTER.
Another instance has occurred of an old method being rung as a new one. A fortuight ago we published the report of a peal of Rochester Surprise rung by the enterprising Leiston band, and last week we gave the figares of the method. Now, it appears, the method is none other than Lancasbire Surprise, first published in 1907, reprinted in our columns in July, 192I, and subsequently published as Leek Surprise. The latter name was, of course, withdrawn when the prior claim to authorship was put forward, and 'Rochester' will, we are sure, be similarly surrendered under the circumstances. That the method should have been thrice independently produced does not detract from the skill of the separate composers, but the credit goes to the first in the field, and Mr. Arthur Craven has the right of authorship.
The point which we want to make, however, is that such a position of affairs ought to be avoidable. It may be said that it is an author's duty to investigate, before be puts forward a method or a composition as his own, to see if his production is original or a copy of something already in existence. To some extent this is true, but the difficulty that confronts an author is that the material through which he should search is so widely scattered that effective investigation is a practical impossibility. Just as we want a reference file of compositions, so is it necessary to have a complete register of all existing metbods in order that authors could have at their hand a ready means of ascertaining what has, and what has not, been produced. In the case of the compositions the work of arranging and indexing them will be a very considerable task, for there are in all methods many thousands, and a good deal of work in wading through the last fifty years of ri-ging publications for figures by bygone composers would be necessary to make the file of the real value that it ought to be. At the same time there is a growing need for the work to be undertaken, and the longer it is delayed the more formidable will be the task when it is attempted.

With methods the work involved would be nothing like so arduous. Methods are not only much fewer in number, but we already have a fairly comprehensive collection of Minor methods and a big collection of plain Major methods in existence. What is required is to get together the figures of Minor and Major methods outside these two groups, and to add all the known Treble Bob and Surprise methods on eight bells, and the more restricted variety of methods on the higher numbers. This is a task to which the Central Council could set their hands without delay, and we hope to see them put it in hand at their next meeting, making it a proviso that in future all new methods must be registered with the Council before any right to authorship can be established in the event of a rival claim.

THE EARLIEST CHANGE RINGER

To the Editor.
Sir,-Can any of your ringers give me the name of the eatlingt change ringer that has been recorded, or the earliest puiciced figures of clanges?
In Buxlsall Churgh, Suffolk, thete ate engraved or scrachel on a pillar in the ringing chamber (f.e., tho central iower) the ' plain phanges , oa four bells with the tenor covering. These aypear to have been signed $\mathrm{hy}_{\mathrm{y}}$ ' John Gborla, Teillinger, hetween 1580 and 1620. For these facts. suggestions, and dates I am indebted to Mr. Fucent B. Redstonc the antiquary, of Woorhridge
This seems to be certainly the carliest record extant unless therio can ho found any other as enry or more certain. Unkil now, the earliest I have come across is that in Stedman's Tintinnalogia of 1667. Ho there states absolutely that mo changes were known or thought possible within fifte or sixty yerrs of that date. Thiwould barely takg ts back to 1619: ank it is pretty certain that Stedman knew what he was talking abollt

ROWLEY REGIS RESTORATEON.
DEDICATION OF CHURCH, TDWELR CLOCK AND BELLS.
It was a great day for Rowley IEcgis, the ' Black Conntry ' parish, near Birningham, on Suturiay. Sept. 29tl. the occasion being the completion and openitg of the new church. together with the tower, clock and bolls.
The chureh was bumb rown in Juna, 1913, but the tower nuf lu-lds escaped. 'The towor, however', was afterwards found to be tustic: and was laken down. So Rowley was withour as church, until the present Vicar. Lieut.-Col. the Hev. F.J. Cheverton was appointed to the living about two yearg ago. IIe at once set to work with a comnittee to rebuild the church at the cost of over. Ell4.000 and lhis great, undertaking las now been completed.
The hells, a ring of eiflat, with the tenor about 13 cwt., Inve been installed by Mr. J. © Groves. Moderti fittings. castriron headstocks, tust-proof ball hearings, have beon prorided, and the bells hums in it frame of steel $H$ sections, on ralled stesl joists. The sleel joists wert built in the tower walls cltring the progress of the builaliag and are fixerl some three feet abose $\Omega$. 7 in. concrete floar. The resull is a most excellent and up-ta-date job and no bells coutd possibly ga better. This work has been carvied out without taking the bells away from the church.
Not half the people who assembled for the rientication conld bo accommodated in the chuteh the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Birmingham. On tha Sumday evening the crowd was even greater. The collections on both days amotuted to $£ 383$ but in spith. of this oxcellente addition to the funds muelh move is stijl needed, ant contributions May be sent to the Ficer or to My, Albert Parsons. Olr Eill, Staffs.

The first churel at Rowley Regis, dedicater to St Giles. was erecteri in the reign of King Johm, betwcen A.D. 1199 and 1216. In 1840 on nuch larger edifice was erected in its steard but the tower remanined. Tho tower was oventually vebuilt in 1858. The clurrch was rebuili in 1904, but the new tower wemainet untit the fire, catused by politienl incendiaries, in 1913.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION,
The monthiy neeting of the South-West District was trid at Heston on Saturday, October 131h. The bells were kept goinm from 3.30 till $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. with warious touches, and a scrvice was then held condueterl by the Ficar (the Rev. F. Wilkinson), with his danglater prestrling at the organ. The service was very bright, thanks largely to a band of young ringers from Stoke Poges, under fle tuition of Mr. ant Mrs. A. D. Barker, and the scout band from Old Windsor, under the gutidance of Mr. W. Welling (Scoutmaster pro tem.) whose vatces helperl considerably with the singing.
After service tea was serverl in the Parisin Hall, when over 40 sal down to a sumpluous repast. with the Fiear presiding.-The hon. sec and Ringing Master oftered i hearty welcome to the visitors, who an always welcome nt these mentings.
At the business meeting which followed. the ustal vole of thank was accorded to all who frad nssisled in making the meeting such a success, after which another risit was paid to the tower where stannard methouls were practised (ill 9 p.m.

St. Paul's tower. Hounslow, was open after tea, and a good man took the advantage of having a pull on these bells. During the evening the attendance increased to over 50 .
A yote of thanks was accorded to the Viear of Et. Paul's for nllowing the use of the bells, and fo Mr. C. Tricker, steoplekecper. Tlee mettiar proved a most enjoyable and moasant one.

MACCLESFIELD'S NEW BELLS.

OPEN • RINGING MEMINNG
An open day for ringers at. Macclesfield, where the bells have just bees iucreased to twelve, was held on Oct, 13Lh avd a great day it proved to be. There were about 100 ringers present. includinar several ladies, from Gheshire, Lancashire. Derbyshire Staffordshire and Yorkshire, and Mr. E. H. Lewig of Glasgow, who lappened to be coming south for a few day's holiday. Tinging started at' 2 oclock, and continued until 5 p.m., when an adjournment was made to the seliool for tea, kindly provided by the church officials, and prepared by the ladies connceted with the ringers' stall. Tho Viear (the Rev. H. E. Stevous), the wartens and other chuch officials were present to welcome the visitors. Alter tea the Vitar expressed lis plensune at the opportunity of extending a welcome to the ringers on belafif of the parish. Macclesfiel uns honoured by the presence of more than a hundred men slrilled in the art of ringing from five counties and his own church officers and ringers were grateful for the spirit of comradeship which had drawn together so many enthusjasts to give a fuller demonstration of the qualities of the new peal. They had atfered loss through the enforced sileuce of the Parish Church bells, but now they folt that grat occrsions would be worthily commemorated by the ringing of this peal which. though it had cost so muelh, mas a great asset to treir noble church.

Mr. H. Fairclougli, Master of the Clester Diocesan Guild, responded ou behalf of the visilore, and proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and church offiats for their invitations, and to the ladies for providing teaz.
Mr. J. W. Weshlorook said Macclesfeld ought to be proud of thein bells, which, for their weight, could mol be beaters. - One of the ringers from Oldham also expressed his pleasura with the bells, and Mr. E. H. Lewis and Mr. J. Norloury, conducior of tho local company, also made a fow remarks.
The Secretary had totter from Mr. Pryec Taylor expressing his regret at not being ablo to lee present, as he lat caughe a chill, and had to spend a few days in hed.
Afterwards the bells were kept goilse untill 9.30 by different bands, and totuches of crundsive Triples. Cators and Cinques Stedman Thiples, Caters ansl Cinruas, Treble Bols Majer, Royal and Maximus, and Cambridge Suprise Major were rang during the daf.

When partint time rame the visiforg went away expressing the plensure they hat derived from their misit, to Macclesfield and ringing on the first peal of twelte in the connty. All were loud in thesr praise of the tone and ${ }^{\text {ano }}$ " of the bells.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION

- OVERLAPPING • DISCUSSED.

A mosi sucessfut and well-atitended quarterly mening of the Southern Branch was held at Badsey on saturday. Oct, 15th. Opportunities for eiglt-bell ringing being somewhat limited in ithe distritut, those present made [ut] use of the octawe at their disposal thronghout the aftornoon and evening, and thite a number of members rane their first toweh jn methods ranging from Grandsive Triples to Cambuidge Surprise. Service was leld in the Parish Church the association's special form of service being used. Taking for his text Psalm xix, 3, There is wo speech mor lauguge where their raice is not heard, file Vimar, the Rev. W. C. Alsebrook. gave a most interesting and original address.

A collection for Rowley Regis Bell Restaration Fund realised 148.
Tea, provided through the generosiliy of several Badsev friends, was partakeu of in tioe Old Schools. and at the subsequent business meeting, the Vicar presided, supported by the Rev. D. Fitzmaurice (Ficar of Fampent, Messrs. J. Sladden aud J. Petbavi (ehtirehwardens), and Mr. C. A. Binyon.

Sereral hew members wore elected and it was decided to accept the invitation of the Rev. H. B. S. Fomler to lold the next meetine at Elmley Castle.
It was also decided to attempt the quarterty peal at Badsey with as mapy of the local bant iss possible.

The guestion of "overlapping' was open to debate, and was responsible for an animated disenssions. Soveral members expressed their wiews. the result being that the ' districts ' members explessed rrnewed confidence un the assaciation.

Heavty voles of thanks to the Ficav for the use of the hells, ikis address, qud prosiding af :he meeting: ilie Row. The method wang as Rochester Surprise by the band at Leiston is mot, ufter all, a new mothod. It is Lancashiro Surprise, by Mr. Arther Craven, and was first published in 1907. It was subsecquently gublished under the name of Leek Surprise, and withdraw when Mr. Craven's prior claim was made known.
The College Yonthis set out for something of a 'feld day ' in peal ringing on Saturday. It had been hoped to arrange four twelve-bell peals at four different churches by four different bands, Only threc twelve-bell towers were however. obtainable and therefore one ten bell tower was sulstituted.
But tlie result was not all that could be desired, and only one peal was successful. Stedman Cinques being rung at Southwark, as re corded elsewhere. Young Ted Horrcy was in this peal
At Bow, Cheapside. Treble Twelve was lost after about an hour nt Stepney one of the band harl to give up, but the worst luck of all was experienced at Cripplegate, where Treble Twelve twent west * after about four hours' ringing!

How easy it is to make a slip in a foomote to a peal without careful roseacch, is again illustrated by the fact that in seecing the report of the handbell poal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Ipswich, Mr. $G$ E. Symonds said the only other peal in method rumg on haydiells in the county was that at Ipswicla on January 30th 1890. He entirely overlooked the three peals rung at Leiston in 1980, and conducted by Mr. C. F. Bailey.
In this comection it is interesting to nole that the firse doublehanded handlucll peal ever rung was Oxford Treble Bob Major at Sheffield on Octoleeg 30th. 1811
On Oet. SIst. 1791, a peal of 7.002 ' Grandsire Quaters " was rung at. Great Sit. Mary's, Gambridge.

Parish riggers ' of Dartford rang a peal of Grandsire Triples on Oct, $30 t h, 1749$ - a goot performance in those days when clocal hands; of clange ringers were fow and far betreen
St. Paul's Cathedral bells were opeaed 45 years aga-on Nov. Ist 1878.

Ringers are insited to an ' open' day at Derby on Nov. 3rd. wher the beils of St. Andrew's now augmented to ten. will be availalle.
The reporf of a peal at Deckleburgh has been sent without the fate

DEATH OF MR. J. WHITAKER, OF HEADINGLEY.  A LINK WITH GLANTS OF THE PAST

The Exercise has lost by the death of Mr. Jolm Whitaker of Hoadingley. Leeds, a link with the giants of the phst, The deceased was born in Leeds in the year 1842, and took tup chauge ringing at the age of 17. at the Parish Church of Burley. Leerls, soon after the light pas of six, were installed there in 1854. Je hegan to have bigher ambitions, howevar and soon became a familiar figure at Leeds Parish Church, in company wilh such celebrities an the Snowdon brothers. Messte, T. and T. Lockwoad and Henry Hubbard semr., who were then attached to that tower, and it was during this time that Mr. Whitaker look part in what was probably the only peal of Treble Bob Maximus ever rung with the back hells in the tittum position. Mr. Whilaker also conducted the first peal of Dowhle Norwich in Leeds in the year 1894 , and about this time was associated with Messrs. H. Willams, the Brothers Thackray and A. Craren. in making histors locally, by taling part in the first handbel peals in the district of Grandsire, Bob Major, Ganterbury Pleasure and Kent Treble Bob. His genial disposition and entlusiasm caused him to be in great request among ringers, and every tower in Leeds has benefited by many hours spent in trying to encourage young ringers. and helping older ringers in more adranced methods
Fis interest in ringing continued up to the last, he being a constant singer at St Michael's. Headingley, until Sunday, Oct. 7 th When arrangements were made to ring a quarter-peal of Double Norwidh in honour of his 81st hirthday. Before that date however, the remains of a merious nttack of influenza asserted itself, and he passed away on Friday, October - 12 th, ufter a shom lout serere attack of bronchial pneumonia
The Puncral took place on Tuesday October 16tla the gervice at Burloy Parish Church and at Lawhewood Cemetery (whele the interment took place) was conducted by the Rer, C. C Marshall, the Fresident of the Yorkshive Association. A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung on landbells at the graveside $b_{v}$ Messrs. $G$. B. Rolland. J. Thackray: P. J. Johnson and G. Robinson. Falf-muffited ringing in warious methods took place at St. Chad's Far Headingley, in the evening. while his collengues at St, Michael's rang a half nuffed peal of Double Norwich, which will be fount recorded in its proper place, to the memory of a dear oid friend and comrade. whose kind and genial disposition endeared him to a large circle of friends. Mr. Whitaker took part in 67 peals for the Torkshire Association, and his death leaves the Exercise the poorer, by the tose of so enthusiastic and somnd a ringer

CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL BELLS.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW TREBLES BY THE ARCHBISHOF.

Canterbury Cabedral is now in full passession of a preal of twelve Lelis, whe two trebles which have been added, at a cost of abeut $x 250$, is a memorial to the members of the Kant County Association who fell in the war hatridg been dedicated by the Archbishop of Cantertury. Alle augmentation las been eanmed out by Messis. Mears and Stainbank. who have made a most excellent splice

About a hundred ringers assembled for the dedicabion, which was performed aftel evensong ou Saturday week. The sermice was simple but impressive. and will long be ranemberen by those privileged to trake part in it. Tine surpliced clergy present in addition to the Priwate, were the Dean of Qanterbury. Dr. S Bickersteth (Vico-Dean, $D_{T}$ A. W. Robiason, Minor Canons F. J. O. Helmore (Precentor and hon. secretary of the lient County Association), A. H. Partridge (Sacrist), and R. $\bar{d}$, W. H. Potter, the Rev. C. Evelegh Woodruff, and the Rev. Henry de Gandole (Domestic Chaplain). Dr. O. Charlton Palmer (Cathedrat organist) presided at a small organ placed by one of the pillars, and the Cathedral choir was also present.

Soldiers of Christ, anise, Tas sung as a processional hymn, and the Arclibishop read opening sentences from the service of the Burind of the Dead. After Psalm xxiii. had heen chanted. tha Dean reurl prayers, including one that they might be worthy of those who had given their lives for their countrp. His Grace dedionted the bells in the following words: "In the faith of Jesus Chrisb, we cledicate these belle to the glory of God and in mamory of those members of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers who fell in the great war. in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost - Amen,' The Precentor heving read a prayer for the work of tho asociation, a fest rolnds were rung on the lwelve bells. The Archibithop's address, was preceded by the ringers' hymn "Unchanging Grof W ho livest.'

THE CATHEDRAL BELES.

Nothing that we do. said the Arehbishop, in this, the noblest of our cathedrals. could fail to liave hislorical significance. Nearly every great episode in English bistory from Saxon days to our own had in some way or other a mark there or connection with those witness-walls. Wo knesw a good deal aboud tre bells which werc successively luag or rehung there in centuries gone by Association with the bells bolonged to nat a few of the great rames connected widh our church history. Dunstan. Finulf Wibert. Fastry, Artudel. and Chillenden were all of then to do with our bells and their placing or replacing there. If we looked at the dafies of the warious bell incidents. especialls in the eleventh, fourteenth ard fifteenth centurias, if wanld be difficult to conmed with great public events what was done there in that stecple. And so it was in ever way right and in ever miv latiral that in comection with the great war our bells sliould he handiled and rleait with afresh. Ferer were they in mone competenf, hands: never were they under a kcener or wiser contral Whan now We rejoiced to think lhat the bells, to-day augmented should carry over the centurics to come a reminder not mercly of the great war-wierein mong our Englisli Cathedrals, Onnterhurv. of course. was closest to the figlting line-but also of the memorg of those Kenlish men and men of Kent who belanging to our associaand truth.

ARMISTICE DAY RINGING

To the Editor

Dear. Sir, Mr. C. F. Goad asks for some ideas about ringing ort Armistice Day: here is one. Now that, the timo for service las becn fixed for 10.30 or 10.45 I would surgest, that the bells be rung opers for service, and liat a short pause take place in the service abont fire ninutes to I1, say. after the sinfing of a lywn and during the panse the bells be rung il rounds with the clappers muffled at band stroke, finishing as near 11 as possible (not lafer'). Then ring 'open, for about half ant hour after phe service is finislicd. Fours arult for about half

NOT A DAY FOR GLOON

Dear Sir-Tour correspondent, Mr. C. F. Good. raises a question that up to now has never bean thmshed nut in vour columns. In past years a letter has appeared suggesiing that hells should be rund muffled, find some towers have carried out the suggestion and at others peals have been rumg muffled by vigitols to the fowers. Wriere ihis has been doue by the axpressed wish of the 1his has been dome by the axpressed wish of the incumbent (who has the power at all times to flirect low the bells sliall he rung) I have nothiny to say. but apart. From this I lope the day may mever come when Armistice Dro will be kept with that solemuity and gloom always associated with muffled hells.
There is a tendeney to furn what should be a happre and jopful
"You know, went on His Grace. "that hy adding these wo bells we have reached the maximum, I beliere. of the equipment which atry belfry can usefully hold for the highest development of our change ringing. We have leartht botter in the last 50 years than over before how ta use our bells fo their fullest power af barriony of beauty aud of suggestion. When they sotand out over our old cily and tho bills which encircle it, the faniliaj messnge will now we entrehed by new thougits and new associations as we recull the brawo men, some 56 in zumber. who, belonging to otr inssocialion, ringers in our kientish parishes, gave thair lives.

AN OFTIGE OF HJGH TRUST AND PRIVILEGE

The office of bell ringer, continuen the Pymaie. was ane of high trust and privilege and of rgreat responsibility. IIe rejojeed to see so many therg that day. and he wished them godspeed. To every thoughtiful man. whether he was a nusician or not bells had a gryanour and a meaning. Some present would recall the strong voico of Thuskin, wha, after denling with music in its warious foms, eaid. A have fallen back on tho most sacred of all musical instruments-the bell. Whether tho cattlo bell of the hills or from the caticdral tower, monitor of men. I believe the sweetness of its proloned tones to be the most felighlftul and lielpful for the ear and thind of all hislruw mental sound." At some periods of our history. bells-charebt beils among them-had a sperial practical and simple use as a means of spreading the news of gueat happenings in oflr lives-vichories, the births ar denths of princes, or common danger. Ta sonle extent that was still donc, and even now luells lad the power, as mothing else hat, of making us. a great mulditurle satierod over a large aroa, sharers of the same enctions as athers-joy of sortow, sympathy or Eratulation, thanksgiving or hope They rejoicerl in that solemn dediontion. and felt that it not only meant sonething to themselves, mat was also an added inspiralion to the vingers. Thoy rejoited in gratitude and hope, trusting that il would conse into their common weekday life, and bid them thank God and take courago.
The lymn. "Ten thousand times then thousmin," Was followed by Lite Blessing:
Subseauently the Precentor shtertained tilo members of the Associabion present to tea al Gaywood's Rooms

The company ineluded faun of the six dishict seevetaries-Mestrs. Groombicige (#ewisham). C. Tribe (Ashford) F Nitchell (Rncherter'), and E. Buesclen (Canterbury). Mr'A. A. Fiuslies rempesunted the counders. and Mfests. W. T. Coekerill W, D. Smill and J. Rowboltom, of the Callege Fouths, were also present,

A rote of thanks lo the lost was proposed by Mo. F. Wrhite (Tumbridgo (TTells), Minor Canon Tielmore suitably replying.
The members of the Cathedral company of ringors who rang the bells ati the dedication were Messrs. W. Andrews 1. Fi. Buesden 2 , $F$. Brelt 3. O. Brett. 4, F. Fairbrass 5, P. J. Paile 6 G. Jenkins 7, F.

They woud never End another Master like him who could give the tima to atterd meelings as he did in all parts of the nouncy. In humdred years' time people would read ahout what Mr. Howard had fone during lis long ferm of office Jor tinging in Essex. Mr. Litskow said Mr. Howard was contimally advocating fle augmentation of bells in otber parishes, and he stigested fhat two new trebles should be added to the Braintree ring of eigha, and that Mr, Flowarist mame siould be inscribed on ane of the new bells (hear . hear).

Mr. C. H. Howard. in reply, said he uppreetated lite latge aftendauce of members ai. that meeting as a compliment Lo Braintree. Braintree was not. an exiraordinary place for rimging but it was on the map (laughter) and it fad eight bells and fle lacal ringers performet their duties in the rithte spinit. The Master said he warlid bear in mind Hr. Pitstow's suggestion to fild two more men bells to Braintree tower: He remembered whent the lasi two bells were adderl to thra rina to celebrate the 709th anmiversary of Huantree Chutel in 1898 ant those bells were humg and paid for six months before the dedicalion festival, although it hat been said lie would never Eet the monev for them (laughter). The Masher went on to speak of former lig meelings of ringers at Halsiead and Felvedar, on the floor fire or six yents were now to he rehung, antit he hopert they would also foe retumed and he heard again. Olber relnaminds were going on, and at a church a fow miles from Braintree it was possitfle a new treble would be athed to 'tile ring of fire. ## By $A R T H U R$ CRAVEN．

In introducing this useful and musical method to the Exercise，I must first of all explain that it is one of tho＂Combridge and －Yorkshire＇Surprise family，and is the outcone of m－endeavours is clear the fialse rows and the adjoining places in $1-2$ from these methods．I think an examination of the mellog ring at Bolsover will prove that I have been sumcessilup．The musical qualities are equal to those obtaimable in such methods as Bob Major or Double Nor－ wich．The bob is made in 4 h＇s place．There is only one Ealse course in Major with the tenors logether，j．e．， 24365 and whem $a$ bob Before is used the lead where this occurs is cut away．
The method bxtends perfectly to any number of bells and in Royal and Maximas carries a cloar proof with tenors together．I append the extension of the method to 10 and 12 bells，and recomment Suppise ringers to give it；their attention，winich I am certain they will not regret

THE DAY OF REMEMBRANCE.

What is the right thing to do with the bells on Armistice Day ? It is one of the occasions when the bells have their part to play in a national commemoration, a commemoration, by the way, which recent controversy has shown is deep set in the hearts of the people. Noother anniversary throughout the year touches the spirit of the nation as does the eleventh of November, and nothing out of harmony with the feelings of the public should be done in any tower. Various views have been expressed in our columns, but we think those which are given in this issue are those which, on reflection, ringers everywhere will agree are most consistent with the commemoration. The Durham and Newcastle Association has issued a general request that, at the churches in its area, ringing before the service at which the Silence is to be observed, shall be half-muffled, and that subsequent ringing shall be with open bells. That, too, is the trend of other opinions, and we think this is the most expressive way in which the bells can be used.

Unquestionably the anniversary of the conclusion of the most terrible war in history, is a day for rejoicing, but we cannot overlook the fact that the day is also a Day of Remembrance. We shall all go to our churches or our war shrines on that morning, filled with the thoughts of those brave dead, who gave everything, even life itself, for their country, and bells that ring for such a service would, we feel, not be in sympathy with the feeling of the moment unless they were half-muffled. At the conclusion of the service of remembrance, however, it is fitting that the spirit of rejoicing should prevail, for never, surely, in the worid's history was there a moment which brought greater relief to millions of mankind than the hour of the Armistice. The strain of more than four years of war, with its suffering and anguish, was lifted, and it is with a feeling of thankfulness that we can celebrate the anniversary.
To adopt the suggestion made by the Durham and Newcastle Association, which other correspondents' letters support, will not tend to make the occasion the day of gloom, which Mr. Cave is desirous of avoiding, but in our view the least ringers can do as their contribution, publicly made to the celebration of the Day of Remembrance, is to ring the bells half-muffled for the service at which the most impressive feature of the anniversary will be observed. What we hope is that there will be unanimity of action, and that in every tower throughout the land the same practice will obtain. The opportunity of taking part in a national commemoration presents itself to ringers in a unique way on Armistice Day, and we trust it will not be lost. Associations might do as the Durham and Newcastle has done-give a lead to their towers in this matter. There is yet time.

LISTENING IN!

Ans, unexpecterl and rather delicate problem, gass the ' Morning Post, ' is arising in many localities where the paryish church possesses a peal of bells and a keen body of bell ringers. Equally keen lis-tencrs-in are protesting that much of their pleasure is spoilt by the noise of the bel's on practice nights. Yet bells are not of much use if they are not rung, and in order to he rung properly the ringers must practige. Wiih a little give-and-take on both sides there seema to be no reason why listeners-in should not be able to have their full enjoyzaent and the bell ringers their accustomed practico.

At the close of the compatitions a service was held，and a most in－ pressive sermon was preachod by Mr．E．T．Boyd－Wileon，Diocesan lay reader．Afler the service，about 60 members and friends sut down to an excellent macat tor，provided by friends in Wootion－ $W_{\text {Wran }}^{4}$

At the business which followed，the landsame challenge shield of the Gritd was presented to limington this tower baving geined the greatest number of poinis on the year＇s ringing，namely， 573 out of a possible 600 ．The judges spoke of the great improwement in the ringing at this meating，and oongratulated the young towers on the plucky way in which they rang in this，their frst compelition．

The Secretary advised the young wowers to put thoir shoulders to the wheel and get on with method riaging，and also urged the older towers to try and edvance a littlo farther along the campanalogical road．He impressed upon them the fact that，if they could but realise it．the competitions were lost and won in fheir own towers．
The Secretiry also spok of the great loss to Elae Guild by the death of Brother Samuel Marshali Russell，who died from the effects of wounds，gas and hardships，which he entured while a prisover of war．

The company showed their sympathy and respece by slandiag for a minute in silence．
This brought the meeting to a close，and after the National Anthem had been sung the belfry was again visited for further ringing．

BELFRY GOSSIP

Good wishes to Mr. William Newoll, of Reading, who will reach his 85 th birthday on Thurschay next. Few people have done the spadework for ringing that the ' father ' of the Readiar ringers bas doue.
The ' Eurp Post ${ }^{\text {' }}$ of Nov. 5th, 1788 recorded a handbell peal of Bob Major at, Nowlon, in which the tenor was rang by a girl of 13.

The first peal of Superlatiye Surprise was rung at Fuddersfield on November 5th. 1821.
Thirty-five years ago next Thursday the Burton-on-Trent men rang a 6,720 London Surprise Major
The first " name " peal was rung by a band of Williams at St . Martin's-in-the-Fields on November 3rd. 1796. This was a peal of Grandsire Caters and Willian Shipmay was one of the band
Mitton-next-Gravesend, Fent, band are out for something in the way of a local record, if not exiending beyond ' local.' At present onl three 720's London Surpriso have been rung on the bells, and all by the same band. with three different conductors. They hope before long to record six differeal conductors with the same bund in the first six extents in the method
During matins at St. Clement Danes, Strand, on Armistice Dap, a procession of clergy, choir and congrogation will proceed to the war shrine there to lay Offerings of Remembrance. A wrath will be placed on the war shrine from ringers. The service will begia at 10.45 a.m., and details of the ringing will be found in our notice columns.

Tho little booklet entitled "Why are you a ringer?" written with the sole object of impressing on ringers the sacred part of the church worl which theq are ealled upon to perform. has been in big demand Copien are twopence falfpenny each. or twelve for 1s. 6d., including postage, and can be obtained from Mr. W. J. Southwood 14, St. James 'Road. Exeter.
The centenary of Samuel Lawrence, one of the greatest vingers of his day, was celebrated by a peal at his native place at Shifral, Sliropshire on Saturday

A number of peai reports are unaroilably held over until next week.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AT LEICESTER. PRESENTATION TO MR JAROLD J POOLE

The whisper went round the helfry, 'the youngster's twenty-one or October 2lst, and a foed would $b_{0}$ an excellent way of celebrabing the erent; shall us?
The reply was shorl and to the poinli: " Yes, let's."
The 2lst falling on Sunday meant that another day would have to ho found for the gathering. and Tuesday the 25 rd , was selected. The deteotive-sergeant was detailed to make the necessary arrangementa, his knowledge of the capahilities of the various houses in the city within the meaging of the Act, being unique. At 7.30 prompt on the day appointed, the ringers and friends assembled. It was quite a ringers' 7.30 , the last one strolling in only twenty minutes late: All who had promised to attend furned up, with the melancholy ex ception of the organiser who hnforturntely was ordered to bed by his doclor the previous day. The sympathy of all went out to kim. His wife made a good sulstitute, howerer, and brought up the num ber to the full total. At the word "go' nineteen kniwes and forks got busy on the excellent fare provided to which full justice was done. A convivial evening followed. The 'dairyman' was appointed to the chair. Tunes and changes on handbells were the first items on the programme followed by songs by Messrs. Wm Webb, H. W. Needham and A. Martin.
The Chairman affer making a shorl and appropriate speech, handed to Mr. H. Poole a framed photograph of the record Cambridge Major band. with the best wishes of the St. Martin's Society, and wishing him "many happr returns."-Mr. Poole mado a short and breez $_{3}$ reply.
The whole party then drank to his health, after which Messrs Wethe and Broughton most successfully slaughtered the well-known duet. 'Larboard Watcl.' One had forgotien the words and the other the tune. The pianist. R. F. Eltington. alias "Anstey' for shortdid not help matters by attempting to play the piece with the score upside down! The old St, Martin's Birmingham, man who wes presont had something to be thankful for. in the fact that he is as deaf as the proverbial stone Recitations by the worthy host and Mr. Weeks and a song by Mrs. Weeks then followed. The funny man of St. Johns - sometimes known as : A Flat, -gave a striking representation of a zoological garden in a fit. Fhrther handbells ringing brought a most suocessful orening to a close.
The only fy in the ointment in connection with the celebration waf bhat a specially arranged attempt for Cambridge Royal at St. Martin's on the provious Saturiay came to grief owing to a rope breaking after $2 \pi$ hours' excellent ringing. The disappointment was the keener for the fact that the previous twelve atterapts for Surprise Roval which liad been arranged for nothing in particular, were auccessful. Stil] thirteen altoys was considered to too unlucty

ARMISTICE DAY RINGING.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOOATTON DECISION,

At the antual meeting of the above Association, held on Saturday last, the question of Armistice Dap ringing was fully diseussed It was unanimously decided that the bells be rung half-muffled a tribute to the fallen. (it being a day of remembrance ns well as of rejoicing), for the morning service, be it at 10.30 or 10.45 , or therealouts. After the two minules' silonce, the bells to be rung open for the remainder of the day for whatever ringing takes place

All bands of riugers connected with the Durham and Newcasile Association are asked to fall in line with this decision.
The programme for ringing at Newastle Oathedral is ringing halfmuffed for the $10.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. service. Ringing open directly after the service, during the afternoon, and for the evening service.

MOLLOW THE WAY OT THE CEIURCH.

Sir,-Is it not best to follow the way of the churoh in this matter? The joy of her festivals is preceded by the sorrow of the vigil or las! in order to remind us of our Loud's words. ' Your sormow shall be turned into joy." Let the bells give out the samo message. Before tho Silence let the bells ring muffled, or a Requien peal. After it Lhe loud peal of fhankgiving. Whis ringing could be either jmmediately before and after the service which accompanies the Silenco or on the preceding and Following days (or even weeks). Sueh a mathod of ringing would $I$ think be both uuderstood br people generally, sad appreciated.

A DAY OF TREMEMBRANCE

Sir, -Whila there is much in Mr. Cave's letter whioh will appeal to many, I regret tiat I cannot; go all the way with him in his argument. He says he hepes it will not become a second Good Friday. Well, Good Friday is a movable date. and is fast losing its significance, and after all. although our Lord gave up His earthly life-these men did the same, and "Greater lave - F You know the rest.
The first Armistice day was an orap of riotous liberty from the niglimare of four and e lalf yars. There wss then no cenotaph or war manorial anywhere. Since that time the day has been set apart -as far as is practicable as a day of remembrance. The two minutes' silence was inteaded to bo universal Empire homage, but is ang honour too great for the men who died? To momind, if any ringing is done at all, it aught to be muffled for the memorial ser-

The recent public outcry against the canceliation of the conotaph sorvice las cassed tho Government to reinstate it. This shows the hold the day lias upon the people, whether sacred or secular at other times. To ring * open ; for the memorial service would be equal to rejoichy on Good priday over the murder of Christ-thourh there are some sects who 'glory' in the death of Him. Armistice 'Day service has become an institution and it makes mon think. Even if by adding our quota of muffled bells, it brings back the sorrow of other days: better that than callonsness. When anation fortets the bor rors of war. ft is ready to embark again. May we never forget,
Yours sincerely.

AN EIFFPCTIVE RJMINDRR

Dear Sir.-Will you please give mo a little space in your widaly read paper to 'broadcast, these few lines. Armistice Doy is essentially a day of remembrance.

With proud thanksgiving, a mother for her children,
Figland mourns for lier dead across the sea
Fleskl of her flesh they mere spirit of her spirit, Fallon in the cause of the free
The most appropriafe service ringers cay render on Armistice Day as an act of thanksgiving. and also as a tribute to the immortal memory of the fallen is to ring a quarter-peal for the morning service with the bells lalf-muffled. There cannot be a more fitting prelude to the impressive memorial services which will bs held in our churches on that day. There is the open note of praise and thanksgiving. and then the muffled tone, resombling. as it dees a divine answer of the departerl, echoing from the heavens-a common cammunion with them. It ig not given to any other instrument of music to sound to all mankind such an effective reminder of Ekis sacren day. For the remaining servicos of the day the bells should be rung open.
It is not mecessary to make this day a second Good Friday, neither is it nocessary to remind Four readers that so long as the great war remains within living memory those gallant brothers who "paid the price ' of victorf will not be forgotiten. One recalls many of them ringers ehoristers, and others-who. had they lived, would have flone much in the service of the clurch

These were FIis servants. in Eis steps ther trod,
Following through denth the martyr'd Fon of God
This then is the reason why various rections of the communits will not be denied paving their acts of romembrance in their own partimlar why-apart from the official two minutes' silence-and rery rightly so, too.

I am sure riagers will weleome the opportuaty of paying tbis beautiful tokan of affentionate regard to the memory of those who ungrudgingly gave bueir lives for the land they loved.
For an hour then, before the appointed time of service lat the towns and countryside be flooded with this eloquent atd sacred music; and, if I may suggest it, a record of these acts of thanksiving and ramembrance be filed in the columus of this journal. - Yours faithfully,

Green's Norton.
R. A. HORNSBY,

Ascociation.

MDPFLDD RTNGING APPRECIATED

Dear Sir,-May I be allowed to say, in answer to Mr. W. A. Gava, that I can hardly agrea that ' Armistice Duy should be more a joy day than anything else. In the first piace. my original suggestion was that 'the balls should be rung half-muffled, the oper side in joy and gratitude for the blessing of victory, and the fouffled side in proud and grateful remembrance of those we loved and lostro As You sir truly said in Jour issue of Noy. Brd last Jear the occasion for rejoicing occupies only a secondary place and that it is primarily as a $\mathrm{Da}_{\boldsymbol{y}}$ of Remembrance that this anniversary occupies firs place in the hearts of the British people. And as the Archisishop of Carwerbury said as reported in your last issue, " that bells had tha power as nothing else had of making us all sharers of the same emotions as others in joy or sorrow. Bympathy or gratulation. thanksgiving or hope
With these expressions I am in hancty agreement, and I contend that the most, appropriate and impressive manner or carrying out the thoughts and wishes of the public generally is by ringing the bells either half or fully muffled on that day, and 1 have good reason to know that such ringing is greatis appreciated. While thanking my fellow-rimgers for wat they hawg done in this direction ior the past two or three vears, may I again appoal to them to do their best to carry on."- Fours faithfully, Wellingborough.
F. BAREER.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS.

ENJOYABLD FOCLAL FIJTENING

A social evening, arranged by tho Eristol United Guilds, was held on Tuesday. Ootober 23 rd in the St. Thomas Parish Roow. It was a stormy evening. and the weabher probably kept many away who would (and should) have been there. Tlas fair sex were very well represented, not all ringers. of course. althourh there were about seven of those present. four of whom, with Mr. E. J. Brown, gave selections on a peal of 20 handbells and here we may make is note of the fact that at last we are able to listen to other tunes upon handbells, apart from the well-worn 'Lassie," "Soldiers" Joy, and Harvest Home. They gave a very good porformance, and their insliructor is to be congratulated on the result of his painstaking efforts. The other items on the programme, all of which were well recejved. were supplied by Miss Iry Baker. Mr. W. S. Emery Mr. Rawling ('collo soli), Mr. Tiley and Mr. Rudman (the two latter also combined in couple of duets), and last but by no means least. Mr. Guise's Orchestra a roally dirst-rate combination of musicians, of whom it was said by one who has had a wide experience that it was the best band lie has danced to outside of London. There was an interval for refresliments, coffen, sandwiches and cakes being on sale practically af cost price, and that they were appreciated was shown by the fact that everything whs cleared.
Tho Rev. T. Fowler pressdent of the United Guilds was the chairman, end he voiced tile thanks of the gathering to sll who had contributed to the programme. and to the authorities at St, Thomas' for lending the room. Thb artistes had giren their servibes freely, and the company were all very grateful
In addition to the Vicar of Si. Thomas' (the Rev. M. Paterson) his two churchwnrdens wore both present with their wives, both of whon were seen joining in the dancing, which took place after the interval, and up to 10.15, when 'God save the King ' brought a happy erening to a close. A collection taken at the door raalised 22 35, $1 \frac{1}{2} d$.
The thanks of all are due and are hereby tendered to all the ladies who were responsiblo for the refreduments, and also to Mr. Guise for arranging such an enjoyablo evening.

GURPRISE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Now what is the Central Council of Churd Beli Ringers to do with that " Collection of Legitimata Methods "? On page riii it is stated:-
(5) Delight method. Having places made at all but ong crosssection.
(6) Surprise having places mate at all the oross sections.

The Rer E. Eankes James published a method called Bristol Surprise." Fow. Mr. A. Craven publishes a method called Rutland surprise. Tolh nethorls ave against the ruling laid down in the book. as they do not contain places at all cross-sections. Are we to condemn the book, on are we to condemin the method? The Major, Royal and Maximus nre thee different methods.

THE PEAL AT LIVERPOOL

This peal was the Ist on twelve bells by the 2ud and 3rd ringers, and the first peal of Maximus by the treble, 4tb, 5ih. 6Lh 8th and tenor ringers. Half an hour before tile peal $\mathrm{Mr}_{\mathrm{r}}$, Spering liad never seen twelve ropes hanging down in ong tower much less rung on twelve, and the conductor-had never previously called. go , on twelve. $H_{10}$ band much regret the absence of the genial Ringing Master of St. Nicholas, who slould have called the peal but was provented at the Last; moment. Messis. G. R. Newton Jones, Fishov and Pickett were elected members of the Chester Guild, and Mr. Pickett was elected a member of the Laneashire Association belore starting for the peal, which was the first of Maximus by the Chester Guild.

WEDDING BELLS

ROYAL CUMBFRLANDE MARTIED.
Once again it is our pleasure to record the marriage of a pair of -ingers-this time from the Royal Cumberlands. On October 21st, at the Church of St. Martin, Gospel Oak. Mr. C. J. Matthews (eldest son of the Master) was united to Miss Kititr Sinith (eldest daughter of a past Master). the ceremony being performed by tho Vicar, in the presence of a goodly assembly of relatives of both families A reception was afterwards lueld at the home of the bride's parents, Whilst the peal of six were ringing out merrily, the ringers afterwartis joining the party to wish the newly-wedded couple 'all the best.' Mr F. Smith gave away his ilaghter, who was simply fressed in fawn and carried a bouguest of chrgsanthemums. Mr. C. Snitin acted as best man. The colaple afterwards left for Eastbourne.
On tho following evenine a peaf of Double Norwicli was rung to mark the occasion at Highgate, where the bride learned her ringing, and has taken part in a few peals.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ROCHESTER DISTIICT ANNUAL MEETIN(G.
The ammal meeting of tho rochester dishrict was lueld it 'Iturstall on Suturday, October $20 t h$. and over 40 rimgers pul in an appearance. The bells at this tower lave recently been augmented by two new webles, through the gencrosily of $\mathrm{Wh}_{\mathrm{i}}$. Chas. Homewood, to com memorate altaining his 80tla year. I'lue work las been most satis factorily unvied out by Meny and Staimbank with thedr customary thoroughness.
Ringine in varionts methods was indulged in autil 5 o'chouk, when the association service was held in the beautiful little charch, which was prettily decorated for the harvest festival, the liector (the Rev. G. H. Green) takiag the service, and giving au excellent address on The ideals of mon.' Mr. Wi E Pitman Mus.Bac, of Canterbury, proved himselt conully as accomplished at tho organ as $l_{3}$ is at the rope's cold, and the dhoir helped to brighten the service.
Forty-one ruembers sut down to da excellent tea in the Village Hall nd the business meeting followed, presided over by the Rector.
The Semetary read ati intoresting repert of the ycar's work. They fad lost one tower, and gained 11 practising members and deplored the fact thal they had, he thought, the smailest mumber of hon. tnembers in aisy district in tho county. Bell restoration lad been going on. Cliffe-at-Hoo had been rehung. Graresend hat an entirely thew peal, two more bells liad been added to the peak in the tower they wero at that day and the two tenors at Frindsbury had been ecast and were hoped to be in by November 1st. Their war mefororial wis now an actomplished fact, as the two memorial bells were decicaled at, Canterbury the meek previous by his Grace the Archbishop of Ganterbury. and whe contributions from the district to date amounted bo exll 11s. 11d., of which sum en 17s. $5 d$ was collected at church serviges on the ocansion of tacin meetings. He thanked all for their qesponse to his appeal on behalf of Mrs. Hayes, widow of one of their old district vingers, which had realised fl4 8s. Fiuan= cially. ther finshed the year, after paying all distriet expenses with over el6 in hand. Of the peals rung he was pleased to record the first that had been rang on the new peal of ten at Rachestor, iand while appleotating the efforts of members in peal ringing, he was fully aware of their knowledge that the primary use of the bells was for Sundry selvae ringiate and lic was pleased to see the district well to the fore in that respect.
The report ant balance sheet were tuanimonsly adopted.-Three new practising nembers wore alected and the liector of Tunstall beame an hou. nember
The election of officers followed, and Mr. E. H. Spice (Tunstall\} satid they were ihankful to their district secrelary for the way be conducted their business and he proposed that My F. M. Mitchell Milton-next-Grapesend) ise re-elceted.-This was earried munimonsly, and Mr. Mitchell if responding, said anything to further the interests of thear association and districh was a pleasure to bim.-On the proposilion of tho tistrict semetary, the district representatives to the Ceniral Committee. Messrs. Haigh (Rochester') and W. Spice (Tunstall), were unanimously ve-slocted

Mr. Haigh conveyed the thanks of the mambers to Che Rector for his address at the service for the use of the bells and for presiding over their meeting, to the choir for their services and to Mr. Pitman for presiding at the organ-The Rector and Mr. Pitman briefy responderl.

The tower at statingbourne was open affer the meting. and Tunstal] was quite degerted after a course of Superlative, the ringers weraling their way through the orchards the frut had alas! all been picked), and good use of the bells at Silfinghounne was made with? methods up lo Cambritge Surprise.
This can be recorded a fhoroughty representatire meeting, as members from the romotest districts put in an appearance. and judging by the way the business was condicted thorotigh harmony prevatls in the Roclester district of the Fent Association.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

On Suturday. Oetober 201 h a most suceegsfu? meeting was held at Whitwiek, Lefestershire. The ancient durch. situated in the herrt of the Charmwonf Forest, with a record of rectors deting luack to the ninth centurf. was visited by same twenty or more ringers from Ugelescote, Loughboro'. Whitwiok, Shepshed, Burton-on-Trems and Netherseal. The vinging commenced with a touch of Stedman Thiples. Further methods were indulged in inoluding Bob Major and Grandsing. The bells are ratier an anctuts lot, fund not so very musionl. but although it is guite thinty pears siuce they were rehung by Mesprs. J. Tarlor and Co. Ilie "go is excellent.

One new member was elected at the husiness ineeting, viz. Mr. Harry Kishy. of Shepslied. where it was decided to hold the next meeting.

LONDON'S NEGLECTED BELLS.

Not without cause, a correspondent calls attention to the neglected state of some of the rings of bells in London and the suburbs. There never was a time, probably, when more rings in the Metropolis were in pealable condition, and yet there are to-day far too many which are left silent because they have gone beyond the point when ringing upon them is practicable. The causes which have led to this state of affairs are those with which ringers are only too familiar. With some it is a case of indifference : sometimes it is lack of funds and opportunity of raising money; in a few isolated instances, perhaps, it is the outcome of a direct desire to keep the bells from being rung.

Greater London is well covered by ringing societies, and there is a fine opportunity for a united effort to bring about an improved condition of affairs in those belfries where restoration is needed. There are few things in which the ringing societies who spread over the Metropolis ever combine, but we believe they might, by united action, bring about an improvement in some, at any rate, of the towers. First of all, it is necessary to remove the indifference where it exists. That is not always easy, but steady endeavour would, we believe, eventually have the desired result, and it is in such cases as these that combined effort is more likely to succeed than the individual action of any one society. Is it possible, we wonder, to form a joint committee of all the societies in and overlapping London to consider this question of the more or less derelict rings, and endeavour to move the authorities concerned? Where mere indifference is the cause such a representative committee ought to be able to awaken interest. In those cases where lack of means is put forward as the obstade, they would be able, tactfully, to advance reasons why, even for the bells, special efforts should be made to put them in as good an order as the other possessions of the church. Of one thing we may be certain: if a committee speaking in the name of all the societies in London could not induce church authorities to put their bells in order, no body less representative would do so, so that nothing would be lost, while much might be gained.

Moreover, if such a committee could be brought into existence, it might, if it included acknowledged experts in regard to bell hanging as well as to bell ringing, eventually become of permanent service, by remaining as a consultative body in regard to bells in and around London. Their views might also be of value in cases which come before the Diocesan Advisory Committees. At present there seems to be little, if any, means of bringing before

BELLSI BELLSI BELLS!

Let the Music of the Beils celebrate Peace. CHARLES CARR, LTDD.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders, are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Belis of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals ' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all Lovers of Bell Music.
In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most ' up-to-date ' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

the Diocesan boards evidence of the kind which could be given by a committee such as we suggest. The ringers' view is presented, if at all, only casually, and now that these Diocesan bodies will practically have in their bands the decision in all cases of angmentation or restoration, it would be as well if ringers were able to put their views, where desirable, officialiy through their own acknowledged experts. It is necessary to tread warily in this matter, but it is one which we commend to the consideration of associations throughout the country, and in which London ringing societies might well take the lead, for they, at any rate, would have a definite task to begin upon.

A NEW GUILD IN WALES  DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION FORMED FOR SWANSEA AND BRECON.

At a meeting held at the Church Housc, Brecon, on Saturday, Oct, 27th, a Guild of ringers for the new diocese of Swansea and Brecon was formed. The diocese Includes the counties of Brecon and Radnor, aud that part of the counby of Glamorgan which forms the Gower peninsula. Hitherto the towers in the two coumties have been affiliated to the Fereford Guild, and those in Glamorgan to the West Wales Association.
Among the towerg represented at the meating were Brecon St. Mary's. Ruilth. Talgarth, Glesbury St. Peter's. Gricklowell, Llangrattock, Llanelly, Eronglys, Clyro, Owmdu, Llanfgan etc. Letters of apology for non-atendance but in full sympathy with the movement, were read from places as far apart as Eniglaton. Skefty. Smansea and Liangorse, while several towers in tho vicinity of Neath al thlough not in the diocese, sent a message of approval, testifying to their willing co-operation in that district

The Lord Bishop of Swansea and Eirecon prosided, and the title chosen and approred for the new societr was. The Swansea and Brecon Diacesan Guild of Church Beli Ringers.
The offears appointed mere: The Lord Bishop, president; the Suls Dean (Canor E. A. T. Roberts. Vicar of Blecon), the Archdeacon of Bremon (Ven H. J. Cturch Jones) and the Archdeacon of Gower (Ven. F. S. Williams), vice-presidente; Master of tle Guild. Rer. T. R. J. Jones; hon see. Mr. W. R. Howells, क5 Struet. Brecon; hon. treasurer Mr. Clas. Powell, Eirecon.

The following were appointed as a commithee, to act with the officers of the Guild: Messrs. W. T. Hargest Brecon; W. Bicknell, Builth: S. T. Hacklam. Llanely (Bremonshire): W. D. Grifiths, Talgarth; C . Powell Liangatiock; O. Morse, Sketty; J, Hoare (St. Mary's), Swansba: D. J. Williams, Gorseinon; J. Hammand, Neath.

The first annual meeting has been provisionall. $\frac{T}{5}$ fised for Saturday, 28 th Jine, 1924. at Brecon.

For the present the rules now operating in the Fereford Guild, were adopted, with the exception of Rules 14 15. 16 and 20 , to be drawn up at the first committee meeting to be held early in the New Year.

At the close of the mecting, the Bishop entertained the company tion ter. and the members afterwards adjourned to St. Mary's tower, where touches of Plain Fob. Grandsire aud Stelman were rung.

NEGLECTED LONDON TOWERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, Week alter weck I read in your columns the interest. ing announcements of bells having been restored, and, in some towers, additions haring been presented, which openg up to the youn. aspirant an opportunity to progress in the art of change ringing. In that respeot they liave my sincere congratulations., London, per su, was apparently the 'Cradle of campanislian fame '-as old chronieles affirm; and yet there are in London and suburbs peals of from six to ten bells still remaining in a goglected condition, bells for the eroction of which our forefathers subscribed. In some districts, representatives of the church do not seem to exhibit that fraternal lenderness and liberalidy which forms a striking feature in the char. acter of a derout and Christian spirit. They might at any rate display a more intimate acquaintance with the requirements and comfort of the belfry and with the ringers. Who devole their services Eratis to the familiar " call * to Divine worship.

At Fomes ' and 'Afternoon Teas' ate preferable to a cold and rlaughty belfry, I admit; but if this beautiful and interesting art conla be grafted more closely into the minds of somp of our minis. ters. mucli good would be done for the church and the science. To those eminent divines mlo have passed away. as well as those revorend gentlemen who are still ' in the inut ' who embrace the belfry as they do the veshry, to the glory of God, and to the good of their fellow areatures, the science owes a debt of gratitudo. Fours, etc.

BOB MTNOR.

A NEW TREBLE.

The first, 720 on the bells at the Parish Church of Deeping St. James, Lincolnshire, since Messrs. Taylar and Co. added a new treble, was rung on Saturday, Now. 3rd, when the extent of Double Court Rob Minor was hrought round by A. E. Sneath I. T. R. Oidham (first in the methods $2, H$. W. Day (conductor') 3 J. Landon 4 . W. Tilley 5, G. H. Wells 6..Messrs. Taylor's work has been carried out in a most efficient mamer, and has given great satisfaction.

THE LATE MR. BONAR LAW

At All Sajnts'. Newport, as in last tribute of respect, a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples was attempted on the day of the funeral of the late Mr. Eionar Law. Unfortunatels a shift occurred just before the haff-way single, after an hotr and thinty-five minutes' ringing.

SHARNBROOK BELLS.  UNFORTUNATE EVENTS.'

The recent removal of the bells "t Sharnbrook, Beds, for restoration (including the recasting of four of them) without first obtaining bie necessary faculty. led to strong comments being made by the Worshipful Kennetl Macmorran, Chancellor of the Diocese, siting at a Consistory Court ati St; Albang Catledral.
The petitioners, the Viear and Parochial Church Comeil of Sharnbrook, were represented by Mr. Nelson Teblas, Bedfork, who admitted thet the clock and bells had been removed from the chureh and sent to the foundry of Messrs. Gillatt aud Joluston, Croydon, before application was made for a faculty. There wert six bells-the first modern, the fifth by one of the Newcomes (seventeenth century) and the rest by Henry Baglay, 1638. The tower and spire are of the Northamptonstrire type which prevails in the north of Bedfordshme.
Thr Chancellor (as ieported in "The Ghurch Times ") said ho would go fully jnto the case in giving judgment, because it was desirable that certain unfortunate events slould not $b_{a}$ repeated. It lad been admitted that the hells and clock had been renoved without a faculty. A letter lad been writien suggesting that a faculty was a meve formality. It; was his duty to impress upon the patitioners, and all in whom Glureh property is vested, that churches and their contents must not be interfered with unless with the formal approval of the Bishap's Courd. The bishop was the ultimate guardian of the fabrin of the church; the churchwardens were his officers with legal ownerghip but whose poweus were exercised, subject to well defined rules and limitations. If the bishop could mot trust his officers, the whole of this part of the parochial system would fall to the ground. While the bishop was the onlp authority who could give parmission for additions and alterations to churchos and their contents, that authority was exercised by the Diocesan Court and the judge there must consider whether proposals were lawiul, and if lawful. whether they wero desirable.
The Ohancellor then read an oxtract from a report $b_{y}$ his learned predecessor and two other Chancellors in 1914 wherein they traced the present consistorial jurisdiction over church fabrics, ete., back to 1237, and in which the system was fully explained. During the short time he had held the office, he regretted to find that in the Archdeaconry of Berdford there seemed great laxity in the way in which the fabrios of churches liad been interfered with. without the authoriby of thal Court. The churchwardeng of Sharnbrook had been guilty of an ecclesiastical offence of no light characternamely, the afienation of the Church's geods, an offence for which they could bo prosceated. By this very wrong ast they allowed a firm of bell founders to remove the Church's property. regardless of the trust placed in them. The ${ }^{2}$ were trustees not only for the present parishoners, but for future generations, and for the diocese. The learned judge said he could conceive of no terms too severe or too strong in which to condemn the action of these clurchwardens. One of them liad aggravated his offence by wriking a most improper letter, in which he snid that the Parochial Chureh Council "strongly objected ' to the report of an expert sent by the Advisory Committee: maintaining that lye was not in a position to offer advice. and threatening not to raise monew for the diocese if the Court refused a faculty, and roferring to bad feeling caused locally.
The Chancellor wished it to be known that the Court would not be defected from its duty by any such bad feeling. and float it was most improper that an officer of the Olurch should write to the judge fhreatening nat to do his dutF. Betters. he gedded, would have turned out different] $]_{\text {lad }}$ the proper courso been ptirsued. The Diocesan Advisory Committee ought to lave been consulted first of all. While the committee had no legal clain to bo consulled, and tho Chancellor was not bound by their advice, nevertheless. if petitioners did not consult them in the firsl; place, he liad arranged that all such applications should come before them later on, as ho hat done in that crase.
The Advisory Committee had taken an enormous amount of trouble over Sharnbrook, and lad even incurred some expense in order to advise him properly.
In conclusion, the Clancellor ratlicr reluctantly allower tho reonsting of three seventeonth century bells on account of their very bed condition; but lie made it a candition that the frame should be erceded to the satisfaction and ander the supervision of Mr. A. $\mathbf{R}$. Powss, the architect called in by the Alwisory Committec.

A. SILENT' PEAL OF STEDMAN

Congratulations to the Bristol band who, lasif Saturday yang a silent, peal of Stedman Triples, as recorded in another column. It was originally intended to attempt the peal on September 29th, but seven nen and the umpire met at one chureh, and one waited in vain at another! Eut the ultimate meeting has resulted in well-earned sucgess. It is worlil noting that of the 'inside? men Messrs. Leaker, Guise and Brown, have not yet conducted in peal of Stedman Triples.

NOREURY'S ANCIENT BELLS.

CHESHIRE PEA工 TO BE AUGHENTED.
A fund has beon opened for the restoration of the ancient bells of Norbury Church, Hazel Grove. Stackport. The restoration comprises recasting the existing bells, the addition of two new bells to complete ble octare and rehanging tho whole in a cast-iron frame. The work will wot be caryed out until the fund is complete. Each bell is to be cast for a difierent object, whinh prevents the restoration being cirried out al once.
The six bolls came from Disiey Parish Church in 1837.
The two oldest bells are Nor. 3 and 4, and were cast in 1617 by Mensy Oldfiold, of Congleton and Nottingham. Eaeh has, in addition to their inseriptions. the crest of the Legis of Lyme a ram's head jssunnt out of a ducal coronet.
No. 6 was cust in 1632. and Thears the wery quaint inscription:

- May all people bohold and sce the works of Foode Sir Peter Legh, along with two creats, one as on Nos. 3 and 4, the other heing a dexter arm, embowed, wielding a sword.

Nos, 1 and 2 were cast in 1748 and 1750 respectively $b_{Y}$ Danie] Hedderley. of Bawtry (Yorks) and Nottingham, and bear the name of s Polier Lee, Lord of Lime.'

No. 5 was cast in 1837 by Thomas Mears. of Loncon. It lass on it the name of "Thomass Legh. Esq., Lyme Park."

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Sir,-That the name *Rochester Surprise 'is to disappear" in Ravour of ' Lancashirg Surprise' leaves me with one regret-Roclsesfer is a pretty name, while, for that purpese Lancashire, I veuture to suggest. is not. I hope my Lancashire friends will forgive my saying 80. Whemerer I see it I am at once reminded of such commodities as Worcestershire sauce. Cheshire cheese, etc., which smack of the shires. What a contrast is offerch by the coneise and euphonious - Surpise ? bames to whini we are recustamed - Eondon, Bristol, Cambridge. Gloucester, Briglston. Rutland, etc.! Would our friends in Limcashine, therefore, consider, before it is too late-and the precent juncture seems a fayourable opportunity for doing so-the afrisability of substitatintry 'Lancaster' for' 'Lancashire'p And, would otr Wethonts Commitbee lake a note, and use their infuence in the cause of uniformitur and elphong?-Yours very truly.

ANOTHER VARIATION.

Writing in referenco to this methad lawing been rung as ' Rochester", Mr. Arthur Cmpen. the author, Eays:-
I am very sorcy for the Leiston band and Mr. Lindofl. becnuse it carries a certain amount of clisappointment when one finds that his production is old iustead of new. The first peal was rung at Uswalatwistie. Lancashire, conducted by Jas. Houldsworth in Aurust, 1922 . All the Domble Methods on this plan have been tiscorered well over 20 years. There is still one more that has not been published.
It is allied to " Lameashire " as "Dublin" is 10 " Bristol."

DIFFICULTIES IN THE METROPOLIS.

The College Youths' dinner on Saturday was again the occasion of an enjoyable gathering of ringers from many parts of the country. Each year seems to bring a bigger 'fnvasion' than ever of visitors from distant centres, until the event bas become almost national in character. The Ancient Society has behind it some fine traditions in ringing, and there was never a time when the College Youths had greater prospects before them. No longer are they that 'one company' organisation which, in years gone by, they seemed to be, but they combine now among their active members the experience of age, and the enthusiasm of youth so essential to future success. Indeed, the promising young material to be found in the ranks of the College Youths in and around the Metropolis must be one of the most gratifying features to the older members.

Our article on this page last week seems to have been not inaptly timed, for it served to give the Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths, in responding to the toast of London and Provincial Societies, the cue for a serious speech on the difficulties which in these days confront London ringing societies. His remarks, in our riew, give point to what we said with regard to joint action among the Merropolitan organisations. Quite frankly, Mr. Matthews said that the fact that some Metropolitan towers are closed to-day may be due to the action of ringers themselves in the excessive use they have made of them for peals in the past. Here, surely, is one strong reason why an effort should be made to get derelict rings put in order, so that the peal ringing may be spread over more towers, and thus reduce the risk of outranning the welcome at the churches at present used

Another of the points which Mr. Matthews made was that it was almost, if not quite, impossible to maintain any Sunday service ringing at the London churches. Here again, we think, the suggestion of our article might be utilised. Joint action by all the London ringing societies is just the method by which such difficulties could be met. There are examples to be found, even in the Metropolis, of the successful inauguration of Sunday ringing companiesnot for every service probably, but, at any rate, oace a day. St. Clement Danes, with its own Society of Youths, is, we believe, a case in point. We can quite understand how reluctant men, who have net with constant rebuffs and disappointments in their efforts, may be to make some new attempt, but if only the initial difficulties between the societies themselves can be overcome, we believe, some such course as we suggested last week might, in the process of time, have valuable and lasting results, because there are many subjects, beyond the actual restoration of dilapidated bells, wbich might be taken in hand.

DURHAMENEWCASTLEASSOCIATION.

MR, W. STORY RESIGNS THE PRESIDENCY
The 46 th antual mecting of the Durham und Newcastle Diocosan Assooiation wes held on Satinday. Oct. 27 th , in Darlimston. The bells of the three chumenes in the town were kindly placed at the disposal of the ringers for the diay by the respective vizurs. The commiteme meeting was held de 12 noon, the service in Holy Trinity Church at I o'clock, and dinner at tilie King's Head Hotel ait 2 o'cloct following which thit arnual meeting took place, which lasted until 4.30. So very little ringing was done wutil tho evening. when the bells worg kept going in rarious methods.
The service was conducted by the Rep. P. H. Hill, curate, and a most interesting and breezy address was given by lio Vicar (the Rev. Canon W. F Cosgrave, Rumal Dean of Darlington). The Canon wolcomed the ringers to the service. Thaking for lis text. "We are rellow-workers in Jesus Clirist,' he reforved to the long past finys when a fellow student at Trinity Collere, Dublin, R. R. Charry, afterwards Loord Chief Justice of Ireland: had thught hinn to fing at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Thoy then revived the ringiag on a peal of eight at, St, George's, Diblin, and from that time our the ringing had been contiused there. Canon Cosgrave pointed out that the Hingers wers not only workers for God, giving to the parish an outside voluntary like the organist's voluntary within, but hard workers. too. Few, who were not ringers knew the work involyed in being a change ringer. Ther were also fellow-workers will tho elergy, another illustration of how the Anuch of Engitan insisted on clerical and lay comperation.
Dinner was served git the King's Head Hotel, 46 sitting down. Mr W. Story, the president, was in the elhair, and was supporded bus the Rer. P. H. Hill. Messis, G. W, Park and R, Parkinson, vicepresidents: A. Funter and II Tyson rishrict secretaries: E. Feryy. genemal secretary: $A$. Hall. treasurer: $C$. L. Routledge anditor: J. W. Parier C. Todd, and others.-Apologies were offered for the Threy Vicars of Dartington, who ware methe fo accept the invitation to dinuer as there was a Ruri-itanal meeting at Durham that clay. Canon Cosgrape had rery kinily put off an imporbant mecting to give the address.
 Stary propasen the - Bishop and Glergy of The two Diaceses.
The business wns thon proceertorl wilh, and the treastren prosenil ad the halance sheet which showerl a credit balatice of el ortct. Mr. Fall explained that there were a fow itbins of expendifure in the past year which din? not occur everv year. shoh as the Shanday Service Ringing Certificates. All rour lat leen won outright, so four new ecrificates and wood and glass for four new frames land to be purchased. Someone who preferver] to vemain anonymons " backlegzed ' the frame maker, and made the frames, or thex wonlal have cost more. The printing of the reporls was another hesay item. and he impressed upon all the importance of peying their sishemiptions promptly, and so save much time and letter writing an? post age.

THE YEARS PROGRTSG.

The Secuetarv reported that, it was again his gad duty to mention the loss of one of their hon, members, the Rev. T. T. Hichael, Vienr of Newbura, who died very suddenly on Saburday, Jan. 23 rd, 2923. Of the six bell towers. Holy mrinity, Darlington, took first place for the 2nd year in succession, with 493 points: Houghton-le-Spring second, with 353.95 ; Newhurn third. with 342.9. Whitley Tiat was to be congratulated upon their magnificent Sunday Service ringiug shect, and upan heging top for the $4 t_{2}$ year in succession. St. Tpmatius. Sunderland was also to be congratulated upon junning Whitler Bazy so close. Twenty-three peals hat been rung during the year, 66 members taking part. Ten members had rung their first peal during the year. gnal eipht conductors had conducted the peals: W. H. Earluer, 7; W. Parker, 6; T. T, Gofton, ${ }^{\mathbf{J}}$; E, E, Ferry, 2:
G. W. Peveral W, Harks, C. L. Roudedge, J, A, Gofton and W, Story, one each. The first peal of Maximus on Newonstle Cathedral bells was rung during the year, that of Little Bob, the first peal of Lititle Fob Maximus aver rumg. It was composed and conducted hy Mr. W. H. Barber. The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal by the ussociation was rung at All Saints' Gosforth, by the Whitley Bay band, conducted by Mr. T. T. Goiton.
The report was adopted on the motion of the President.
Fery encouraging reports had been received from the district, snere taries. Mr Taylor of the Eastem distriat, reported that thoy had fous well attended and successful meetings fluring the year, as well as a combined meeting with the Weslern district and Southern district -Mr. H Tyson of the Western district. reported four goorl and fuccessful meetings, and combined meeting with the Tastern dis-triet-Mr. C. Symm of Wesf. Tyne district, also reported four gonl and successful meetings.

On Novenber 16th, 1880, a 5,040 Treble Boh Royal was rung at Solian, 'in honour of the Queen's acquittal.'

The first peal of ' Real Double Norwich Major,' that is, wilh bobs both in front and behind, was rung at Woolwich on Nov. 16th, 1848. The band was that whith came into existence through the efforts of the Banister family four of whom took part in the peal whieh was composed and conducted by Win. Eianister.

A peal of London Surprise Major ( 5,280 changes) was ruse for the first time on Nov. 17th. 1835. at St. Andrew's. Norwich. It is recorded on a tablet in one of the oflier Narwich Churches beneath the record of the firgt poal of Superlative Surprise Major, which had heen rung earlier in the samo year. Having referred to the method as the most difficult system in the art of campanologia,' the tablet proceeds, 'This almost insurmountable task was nceomplished in 3 hirs, and 24 mins. The hold and regalar striking of bolh peals must ever reffeed great credit on the company. Thicy were conducted by $S$. Mrurstan, and are the first peals ever rung in the above varinlions.'

St, Giles' Norwich, was the belfry in which the first peal of Imperial Treble Bob Major was rung. This was on Nov. 17th 1760, and immediately affer the ringer John Webster, who had rung the 6th, dropped dead.

This John Webster it was who wrote in 1753 to Dr. Mason, of Frinity College, Cambrẗdge, informing him that he (and presumably the rest of the Norwich men) could not subscriba to Holt's hroadsheet. 'I must Confess' (he says), 'Our Company Seem Intirely to slight it. though I must Own ik is not a generous Way of Treating Mr. Holl's performance, but I believe they are Indue'd to this by that Ingenious Ringer, Mr. Aitable's not Encouraging of it; had be Approved of it, his Influence on the College Youthe I presume would have been sufficient to have sent it to the Press withont any Furiher Subseriptions, ${ }^{\text {, }}$

Fe goes on to obserse ' that 'tis almosi twonly years Since I sont. to the Read. Mr. Windlall a Whole peal of Ton with two In ferior Changes Only, Fully Explaining hy an Iufallible rule how to make anç proper peal on all numbors that $\quad$ no with a Quick Finnt.'
A family peal by eight Telibits was rung at Saham on Not. 20th, 1809. the methor weing 5280 Oxford Trehle Bob.

The first e silent, peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Burlon-on-Trenk on Nov. 20th, 1886. Joln Carter. Joseph Grifien and John Jaggar, of that band, are still amongst is, although the peal was rung nearly forty years ago.
The peal of Treblo Eob Major at Netherton. Worcestershire. For Mr. W. IR. Small's Wirthday included two veterans, namely. Mr. Reulen Hall who has just atiained lis 7st birtheday; and Mr. Richard R-aund, who aitains lis 69 th on December 24 th rext. Mr. Round. if spared will, on December 3lst next, complete 51 years as a Sundas Service ringer at Netherton, is record of which le is greatly proud. Eis wish was also rratified on Saturday last by ringing wikin son. the ringer of the troble, in his first pea] of Treble Bols.
The sympathy of the Exercise will be extended to Mr. James George in the loss of lijs sister, Mra Norris, of Chalfont St. Peker, who passen awqy at the age of 73 years on Saturday past.
Mr. George is now the sole survivor of a family of nine, of which he was the thitd.
Mr. Gcarge will himself reach the age of 70 yenus on the 87 of this month and we innderstand tha event is to bo celobrated by a peal attempt at St. Martin's Birmingham.

WORLD'S BIGGEST BELL ORDER

MESERS, GIEJETT AND JOFNSTON'S RECORD CONTRACT.
The carillon which Mr. John D. Rockfeller, jumr, is installing in the beautiful Gothic tower of Park Avente Clurch, New York, in memory of his mother, is to be increased in size and ulumber af bolls. Some of the best brains in the architectural ant engineering world of America lave been engaged for some montlis in devising better accommodation fo: the bells than that which liad been possible so far.
The result is that New York will possess the Iarges and moat important carillon that the world has yet seen or heard. The holls will $b_{e} 53$ in number. The hass bell is to weigh 9 tons, whilst the total weight of the bells-apart from the gigantig framework (witioh will be in five sections) and the fittings-is to be over 50 tons.
The premier carilonon hitherto bas been the famous one at Malines. wliere there are 45 bells and the bass bell weighs $7 \frac{1}{6}$ tons.
Many of the bells for tile new carillon are already cast ani in readiness at the Groydon Bell Fonndry of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who secured the contract in the face of keen international competition. This is the largest order for bells that lias ever been placed.

THE SUPPORT OF THE CLETGY

The Master'. Having submitted the loyal toast, next proposed 'The Church,' a tosst which le said, was atways wetcomed by tell ringurs, who realised thein responsibilities and the seriousness of the duties which they carried out. They appreciated the privilege which was given to them of ringing on the numerous pealg of bells-many of them famous peals-and they also appreciated pery much the kind support and assistanco which they receirca from the clergy and churchwardens.
'The Rural Dean of Kensington, in responding, furst paicl a fributo to the services which were rendered at St. Mary Abbots by Mr. Garrard, and went on to say that threatened inskitutions had wonderful way of surviving the threats that surrounded them. The Church was to-iny threatened and criticised. and samelimes ignorm ed. but it was very necessary to the nation's life. It was stili respected and was even lover by some people. nand he would sry to that gathering. who wers members of the Ghurct, aud who the was sure would echo tile words. "Gad bless the Cliureh' (applause).
Rising again the Master said he had a pleasing duty to perform, and one whit was not upon the printed programme. They always had thair festival on the first convemient date after Nov, 5 th, which was Guy Fawkes Day, and it had been said that Guv Fawkes was their patron saint (mumbter). But that wlso liappened to he tho hintidy of one of their most estemed members and they felt they could not let, it pass without some recotimion of their feelings towards Canon Coleridge (applause). It had been intended to keep the maltor quite seeret. bat somehow the Ganon got to know what was going on, and he fold them that all he wanled was their good wishes. But be also said that if they persisted in giving hm someWishes But he also said that if they persisted in giving him some thing else he would suggest one of flice things. The first was a pair of binoculars another was a batger-hair stavine brush qughter) and the third mas a hig batir sponge (lourl latsiter'). We had no hesilation," continued the Master, " in giving hins all; they geve hiss their good wishes, they intenred to give hitn the binoctalars and also the shaving hedsha and sponge (langlier and applause). They hoped the binoculars wonld be useful to hims and that lic would enjoy their use for many years to wome (applase). Canon Colefidge gava up his bimocularg when an aprent was made mone lime for fidel glasses for the troops, whad he had not, had them back. Their gift would replace these, and the sociecy and friends had much pleasure in presenting him with the articles lie had mentioned, fogether with their wery best wishes for many happy returns of the day (applause)

GOODWILL GIFJS

Ganon voleridge who was down in proposo the rext lonst, that of 'The Anciont Society of College Youths,' was received willh the singing of "For lie's a joily good fellow, and, on rising to speak, said that was the thirlieth yeu ho had been in :lat idontieal place, aud to gare him unbounded pleasure to be willa finem fgain and do what lie lad done so often before, pronore the lonst of tha evening. which was the toast of their worlty selves. M1. ## SURPRISE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-For a louk time I hetve hern at a loss to understand how it was that Mr. Carten failed to grasp what $J$ meant in the definition of a Surprise Method that has meen accepteil b the Central Council; but I now treliere that have solved the difficulty.
In all my previous articles on the subject have always indicabed the positions at which the treble passes over a cross gection by ruling a line between the two rows on pither side of the posithon at which slue is crossing; and I rather fancy that Mr. Carter must lave thought that I intencled these lines for the cross sections:

they are not.

I lierewith enclose a lead of Eristol Surprise in which the theee cross sections are ruled in, and it is ensw to see that an internal place is always marde when the treble passes over cither of them. -Fours truly.

BELL AESTORATION AT FELEIRK

On thednesclay erening of last week the dedication serrice took place in cannction with the restoration of the Parish Chturch bells at Felkick near Barnsley. In the unavoidable absence of the Rev C. Exkanm. Vicar Choral of York Minster the dedication wan performed by the Rev. A. Richardson, Rural Deam and Vicar of Cudworth, assisted by the Rev. P. Hadley. Vicar of Eelkirk, and the Hey. IT. Cogill curate-ith-marge, Eirierley.
'I'wo yoars ago it was found that owing to serions degay the wood heams supporting the bell chamber floon were unsafc. and it was necessary to cease ringing, moreover the fittings of the ladls themselres had become wery worm and defective.

A commitlee was formed to deal with the work of jestoration, erfuts in this class at work comsultet, abd by menns of public sulbscription whist drives, teas, etc, aumented by donations from Miss Cardeux Erierley. and of espo, the gift of Mr, and Nrs. Dymond, of Burntwood Fahl, whose father gave three of the bells and fully restored the remander at their last restondion in 1876. the whole of the necessary money was raised hefore ally repairs were put in hand find thus the bells again commence their call to this very scattered parish free of debt. It is a matter for congratulalion that much financial resistance was willingly given by friends of older denominations in the parish

The work warried oul comprised lite slycugtheang of the foor by steel girclens stiffening the ancient oak frame, complete rehanging of the peal of six bells in ball bearings on the latest priaciples, and genemal renewal of fitlings
The costr of the work has been 2000 , and the contract has theen carried out by Mr. Thoombridge, *un., church bell hanger, of Cray. ford. Kent. Mr. IL Denton, of South Hiendley, zeted as hon. arehitect for the work

At the reopering ceremony touches of various melhods were rang by a few memhers of the Barnsley and District Society. viz., Messrs. Ricketts, Clamherlain and Gill, of Wathon-Dearne: Trickett and Rowley, of Horloury: F. Atkinson, of Wragby; W. A. Wooler, of Wortley, Slleffich with their secretary. Mr. C. D. Poticer, of Barnsley. The all-raund improvement was most pronounced and pleasing, and the opinion was generally expresged that the work hat been most satisfactorily cartied out by the boll haver.

METHOD NAMES.

Lancashire ringers evidently do not relish the suggestion made by Mr. Burton that the method which has beer named after their county should have its title changed to that of the county town. We are not surprised at the attitude which has been taken up by those whose opinions are voiced through the letters in our columns-and we happen to know that our correspondents' views are very generally sbared in the County Palatine. Mr. Burton's suggestion was prompted, we feel sure, by the best of motives, but what we like most about the discussion is the fact that ringers are, after all, really interested in the names which are given to methods. About many things connected with the Exercise, members are often inarticulate, but Lancashire ringers, at any rate, are proud to have a method named after their county, and will make their voices heard when a proposal is put forward to change it.

We had begun to think that ringers cared nothing at all for the nomenclature of methods, but siace it is pretty obvious that they do, we should like to recall to their minds the fact that the Central Council, jockeyed into the acceptance of a report by the threat of resignation on the part of one of their committees, foisted upon the Exercise at their last meeting a batch of names for methods that are out of place and stupid in a science based on mathematics. The committee entrusted witb the naming of the Minor methods had a splendid opportunity of purging ringing of some of those ludicrous names which have come down to us from the past, and have frequently made the Exercise a laughing-stock. Instead, they emphasised and perpetuated them, by adding to a class of titles which are positively silly when applied to ringing.
As to whether we call a method Lancashire or Lancaster, Yorkshire or York, is of little importance while we have such titles as Marigold or Geranium. Happily the resolutions of the Central Council are not as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, and we yet hope we may see the whole collection of garden, and other equally unsuitable names, swept away. After all, ringing has passed beyond the nursery stage, and it is due to those who treat the science seriously that, when they want to ring a new method, they should be able to publish their performance under some title that will not bring ridicule upon them or upon the art they seek to foster. And there is danger in the future. If the Exercise is going to swallow the kind of thing that was foisted on it at the last Council meeting, worse may follow when the Major methods come to be dealt with, but it would be a simple thing for the Council to wipe out those present titles, and substitute something more rational and more in accord with the seriousness of the art.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -Will you allow me to make a [ew remarks in reply to Mr. Burton, in your issue of November 9th, in which he adrocates changing the title of the above method to Lancaster. Firstly, the Lancashire Association has no power either to name or re-name a method. Secondly, in this case the right to re-name rests either with. or by consent of the authar. No donbt Mr. Craven's idea was to give Lancashire ringers a method named after their own county and asaociation, as with Yorkshire Surprise, which seems quite logical, as appealing to ringers in its broadest sense. Mr. Burton appears to cast ridicule on the shires. Well, Lancaster is noted for its ancient ' jail,' its asylum, and its total indilierence in matters pertaining to change ringing. After this we can have another methoul named after the county town if necessary, but that Lancashire Surprise should remain as it stands is the wish of, Yours truly,

12, Bankfiele Street, Liverpool. $\qquad$

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Dear Sir-I do heartily agree with good Mr. Burton when ho says - Rochester ' is a pretty name, but I don't agree with lim when he says. 'Lancashive' is not pretty. I would remind good Mr. Burton that from a Lancastrian's point of view 'Norfoltr ' is not as pretty as Latheashire, and that's that in a mutshell. Opinions in all quariars differ on the subject af "Names for Methods,' but, after all, does it matter? We all know why things have names, and perbaps if methods could speak they would be as wroth with their sponsors as some of those mortals who are condernned to go through life with 'Jezebel Jane' and 'Mafeking John' tacked to their necks. I, un my part, did venture to read ye paragraph by ye good Squire Bracondale to Good Mistress Peppery who did remarkyes, Worcastershire sauce is good, so is ye Cheshire cheese, especially Ye one laard by St. Bride's, noted for its steak puddings, but ye good Squire has forgotten that Forkshire relish is great as a Surprise. Norfolk dumplings are a real delicacy (I have one ant I know how niee they are), and ye good Method of Double Norwich, of which I did prate so aften did at once call to her mind ge delicacy known as ' Coleman's Mustard.' So what's in a name after all? And did wind up by reminding me to remind ye good Squire that Lancashire is nlso noted for its clogenan the finesse with which ye denizens of ye County Palatine can rese 'em to displace over-prominent slairt but-tons.-Yours very sincerely,

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The Bristol branch of the above Association held its quarterls meeting on Saturday, Noveraber 10th. Ringing took place at St. Nicholas: Churcli in the afternoon, several lady members taking part. Service, at which the Rev. W. Parton officiated, was followad by tea at the C.E.M.S. House, St. Stephen Street. At the mestirg over 40 members wero present, representing the following fowers: St. Nicholas, St. Stephen's, S. Werburgh's, SS, Philip and James', St. Mathew's, St. Micfzel's, St. Thomas', S. Janes', S. Leonard's, Fenbury, Mangotsfiela, Coalpit Eeath, Olveston, " Winterbourne, and Westbury-on-Trym. The Rev, E, J. Phillips presided. ... Miss Dorotly and Mfiss Bertlia Gordon, of SE. Plilip's, and Mr. G. Gibs ben, of St. Michael's, were elected members. The mecting for December was fixed for Brislington on Saturday, the 8th, while flre annual meeting of the branch is to take place at St. Philip and St. Jucob on Saturclay, January 26th.
The Rev. T. O. Fowler proposed a hearty vote of thanks for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. W. Partou for his address, also to the authorities of the C.E.M.S. House for kindly allowing the use of the rooms.
This concluded the business, which whs followed by a meeting of the Bristol United Guilds in connection with the third annual dinuar, which is to take place at the Grand Hotel, Broad Street, Bristol, on Saturday, January 12th.

CONDUCTORS ALL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -In your last issue a correspondent from Miltor, Kent, asks if six extents of London Surprise Minor have ever been called before by six separate conductors. I answer in the affirmative. When I vas a member of the band of ringers at Bucknall, Staffs, We not anly raug London Surprise in this way, but other Surprise and Treble Kob Methods. On Tuesday, August 25th. 1896, wo rang a band-conducted Surprise peal (5,040 changes) in seven methods, the tenor man calling the frrst 720 and the last one. Aad on Saturday, April 6Lh, 1897, we rang a silent peat of Surprise in seven methods. Now that there are so many contuctors in the Milton hand I would suggest finey try to emulute the ahove iwo peals, the latter especially will provide them with occasion for practice for some timo to come. Wishing the band every success, and honing they will continue to make progress in the nohle art of bell ringing, Yours truly,
Milton, Staffe.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The one hnndredth peal of Stedman Cinques by the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was rung at Bow, Cheapside, on Saturday. Probably the only two other sacietios which have this distinction are the College Youtis, and the St. Martin's Guild, Birminglam. Of the Middlesex Association's peals, 39 lave bean on handbells.
It. will not be long before the one Inundradith peal of Stedman Cinques on the frmons bells in the Bull Ring will be rung. Tlis is quite a unique recotd for any church.
It is intercsting to note that the peal of Stedman Cinques rung at High Wreombe, the report of which was published last week, was the Bitst by parishioners of Wyombe. A week prewionsly the Ail Saints' Society rang the firsi peal of Stedman Triples by 'Wycomlse men.
The report of a peal rung al Radstook, Somerset, has boen sent without the time.
In the long history of record peal attempta is a peal whicliwas rung on Noveraber 23 id, 1732 , at St. Giles', Oripplegate. This was 8,012 Grandsive Caters rung by the Society of Gity Scholars, 息long defunct organisation, in which it took three men to ring the tenor.
The same length in the same methad was rugg at Southwark on November 28th, 1735.
On November 25th, 1737, one of the earliest and longest peals of Bob Major was rung at West Ham. This was a 15,120 rung by the Eastern Scholars, and although a similar length was rung at Oldham in 1807, we believe it is still the longest peal rung in the method.
To-morrow is the anuiversary of the first peal of Oxford Trebio Thoh Maximus on hentbells, which was rung at Sheflield on Novemher 24th, 1816. It is also the 80th anniversary of a peal of 5,295 Stedman Caters rung at St. Andrew's, Norwich.
Recorted on a tablet in the tower of St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, are particulars of a peal of 6,006 Crandsire Cinques rung or Novomber 25th, 1799, by the ald Union Society. This, of course, whs not tho longest length in the method at the time, for the sane length harl been rung more than 70 years earlier by the London Scholars, and an 8,008 was rung in 1735 at Southwank, hut it was e food performance for a prosincial tower in those days.
The centenary of a peal of Treble Roh at St. Andrew's, Norwich, will occur on December 5th. From the present condition of affeirs in that tower, there is, we are afrait, no likelihood of an anniversary celebration at St. Andrew's, at all events.

The Rev. F. R. Bonsey, president of the Midileser County Agsociation and London Diocesan Guild, has been appointed Rector of Wrenliam, Suffolk, and on Saturday a peal of 'welcone' was rung for lim.

His many friends throughout the Exercise will learm with regret tihat Mr. Jolin Certer, who was unable to attend blhe Collego Youths dinner on account of ill-health, is still very unwelf,

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Bration on Saturday, October 27th. After ringing during the afternoon, the usual Guild service was held, conducted by the Wicar, the Rev, W. A. Jeayes. The bells of Edington Church were also available during the afternoon, and a goodly number assembled there. About 20 sat down ta fee, including the Viear and Dr. Locket (Bratton). The fallowing towers were represented: Trowbridge, Bradford-anAvon, Westbury, Devizes, St. John's and St. Mary's Keevil; Holt, Rowde and Bratton. - The Brandz Chairman (MT. C. D. Heginbotham) heartily thanked the Rev. Jeayes for his kindness, to which the Vicar suitably replied. A hearty welcome was also given to Dr. Locket. Further ringing was ofterwards indulged in.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES FAITHFULL.

Tor 35 years steeplekeeper at St. Mary's, Acton, Mr. James Faithfull las passeil away. Locally known as Jimmy, the Bellringer, le was every Sunday 'frithful' in nanse and faitheul to lis ealling in ringing the faithful to the church.

He was huried on Thursday of last week, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half. mufled: F. Goodfellow 1, W, Lawrence 2, S. D. Breeze 3, Miss P. Moss 4, H. Wincote 5, R. Farton (conductor) 6, ©. W. Coulson 7, J. W. Truin 8.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' NEW MASTER

MR. TOM FMBBERT'S ELECTION.

At their meeting last week the College Youths elected Mr, R. T. Hibbert as Master for the ensuing year. Mr. A. A. Hughes was re-elected luou. treasurer; Mr. I?. E. Clark was electod seaior steward; Mr. W. Hibbert junior steward; Messrs. C. F. Winney and Walter Prime were re-appointed trustees, and Mr. W. T. Cockerill hou. secretary.
Mr. W. E. Garraru", the retiring Master, is the leading spirit anong the ringers at the fanous Chmoch of St. Mary Abhot, Kensington, where since 1893 , he has laboured assiduously in the art. Ab that time the bells were rung by a 'stoney ' band, but Mr. ciarrard trained a company of change ringers, and for the last twenty-six years the bells have been rung every Sunday for morning and evening service. What that has meant in labour to the man responsible $j_{5}$ known only to those who have carried out a similar task, ant in Mr. Garrard, London ringing luas one of its most able as well as one of its most modest exponents.
The election of Mr. Tom Hibbert, of Reading, as Master of the Ancient Society, is a notable event, for' it is long since a "provincial' member, residing as far from London as Reading, has ibled the principal office. But Mr. Hibbert is an old mentber of the Saciety, he las taken part with them in more than one memorable performance, and during the period ho las serven as steward, he has been constant in his attendance, desgite the journey that thas been involved.
There are many in the long list of Masters of the Ancient Sociefy of College Youths who have uade a kistinct contribution of personality in attaining to this high office, but mone more so than he who lias just been elected for the ensuing twelve months. A true son of the Berkshice Dowas, he is strongly attached hy many ties to the little village of East Ilsley, his native place, where greatly to his joy, and very largely to his credit, there is now a heautiful little ring of eight hells replacing the old peal of five upon which lie nommenced his ringing career.
Eis work for the G.W.R. Company has taken him into various parts of the conntry, where he has always made friends, and where he las left bebind hinn a reputation of as fine a bandler of a bell, hig or little, as one could wish to see.
A member of many associations, lis longest connection has heen with the Oxford Diocesan Guid, of which he is the valued secretary, and that sombly of which he is now Master. He has for many years resided at Caversham, where he is a stammeh member of the St. Peter's Society, and deputy foreman. Chief among his many ringing achievements are perhaps the record peal of Stedman Cingues at Southwark, and the longest peal ever rung by ten men (Stedman Caters at Appleton).
Mention may also be made of the fact that he has rung peals at the heavy end on the three heaviest rings of cight, ten, and twelve in the kingriom.
Fis speeches are plain, strajght and vigorous, with occasional touches of a quaint humour which is absolutely his own. He is possessed of a frown which has been known to alarn strangers; it is, however, morely indicative of concentration of thought anil lenacity of purpose, except when the ringing is bad, when it signjfies a state of feelings guite beyond words.
He is known to all his friends as 'Old Tom,' and to know him is to love lim.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Finckley District was held at Earl Shilton on Saturday, November 3rd, a large number attending from Barwell, Croft, Chilwers Coton, Earl Shilion. Hinckley, Loicester, Sharnford, Stoney Standon, Stockingford norl Wieston.

A short service was held in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. T. Williamsi, and an interesting address was given by the Rev. R. P. Farrow (Rector of Stoney Stanton). Ten was partaken of in the Schools, the Ficar and his wife kindly inviting the visitors to he their guests.
The busincss meeting was presided over by the wice-president (Mr. C. H. Webh), supported hy the Vicar,-One new member from Eari Sbilton was elected to the association.

A vote of condolence with Mr. and Mrs. J. Needham, of Barwell, in the loss of their sou was carried, the company showing their sympatly hy standing for a minute in silanre.

It was decided to hold the next meetine at Raywell:
Voteg of thanks wern accorded to all who nssisted in arranges ments for tea, especially the ladies, and thanks were also given to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. R. P. Farrow for his interesting addrass.
The Vicar afterwards delivered ans address nin bell ringing from the vinwpoint of a non-ringing clergpman. Members then visited the belfre bat rang tonches in Standard Methors, includine Grandsire and Sterman Trinins. Frim Trioles, Bob Major, Dathle Nor* wich Major, and Kent Treble Bob Major.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT SECRETARYG RTEIGNATIOX.

The aunual meeting of the Portsmouli district was held at FireLratr on Siaturduy last, when 30 members were present from Alwerstoke, Bishops Waltharn, Curdrisige, Farelram, Gosport, Portsea, Portsmouth, Soutlampton, Swanmore, Titchlield and TVicklam. Messrs. D. S. Bayley, G. Williams (Master) and Rev. E. Bankes James were also present; an apology for absence was received from the general secretary (Mr. G. Pullinger). A floort selvice was helfi in the church, the Guild's form of service being used, at which the Vicar of Farelam (the Pev. J. E. Tarhat) oticiated.

An excellent tea awatied the company at Foster's Restaurant, where the business meeting was also leld, Mr. W. Tate oceupying the chair. The balance sheet was presented by the aukitor ( $\mathbf{M r}$. H. G. Reymalds), and was unanimously adopted. - One new member and two probationers were elected.
The election of officers was the next item, and the bon. secretary (Mr. E. J. Harding, sen.) informed those present that he had marle up his mind to relinquish the past. He had been an officer of the district for the past 18 years, and had found during recent years that lue could not pry attention to the affairs of the district as he would like. At the present time the district was in a liealthy condition, and lee thought that by retiring now he would be doing it honourably.-He was urged foy the members and also by the Master to reconsider the question, bat he thonglst the time lad come when a young enthustastic secretary was what tha district reguired. It was with regret that the members nocepted his resignation, and thanked him for his past services. At the reguest of the members Mr. F. W. Rogers was asked to fill the vaceacy

As lue is Recorner of Peals for the Guild lie thoughti it was not in order, but said that if he could do the Guild more good by accepting he would do so. The work of the ]eal Recorder was rather a tame one, and at the members' request he decided to accept.

The rest of the offeers were elected en blac, wiz Fon. anditar (Mr. H. G. Reynolds) ; represeatatives on Cenfnal Committee, Messrs. H. J. Smith and W. Tate.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at, Curdridge on March Ist, due notice of which will appear in the " Ringing World.

SUGGESTED NEW TITLE FOR THE GUILD.

A letter from the general secretary witl referonce to the division of the ajocese was next placed before the meeting for consideration aurl discussion.
The Chairman mentioned that a resolution hat already been forwarded from the district to the effect that the distriat was strongly in faviour of the whole Guild continuing as such, and the meetimg endorsed that resolution
The Rev. E. Bankes James thouglat it would be a disastrous thing to contemplate a splittins up of the Guild. He had attended the meeting especially to place before the members is title whimis he thought wauld cover the whole mrea of the preseat Guiki. The full title which lie proposed was "The Wesser Association for the Dioceses of Winchester, Guiluforn and Portsmoutls.' The Guild would then bn known in short as "The Wessex Association. ${ }^{3}$ Continuing, he said that if we looked back in histary we wond find that Winchester was the capital of ancient Wessex, which later covered the proposed threc dioneses, and be thouglat that * The Wessex Ahsomition' wond he an admirablo titile for the Guild to accept.
This proposed title was accepled unanimously, the Rev. E. Bankes James being thanked for his fine suggestion.
The Chairman proposed the thsual wote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for condacting the gervice, aftor which the ringers returned to the tower. The methonis rung were: Granigire andi Stertman Triples, Bob nend Doublo Norwieh Major, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

Mr. G. R. Favdon next proposed the teast of " The London and Provincial hinging Societies, and referred ig the feelang of brotherhoud which existed belween the College Youtlis aud the kinared organisations of the country. He thres out the suggestion that it would bo aice if the Colicge Fontlis could be given' the opportunity of ringing iL peal oecasionally at St. Martin's, or some other towet of the Cumberland Youths in London. IFe went on to express re gret at the disuppearance from ancong the ringing societies of London of the old Waterloo society, which formenly was the means of hringing on many young ringers. Mr. Fardou added that while in the Isle of Wight Inst year he and some other ringers visited the grave of william Raynor, who founded the society of Jnion Youths in tise Isle of Wiglut abort the year 1777 . They reng the handhells round the tomb, which le regretted to see was in a sad state of decay. Fe suggested thet the Winclacster Guild might consider the restorstion of this memorial, as the Kent County Association had dealt with the tombsione of the great James Barlam at Leeds.

INCREASING DIFFICULTIES.

Mr. I. D. Mathews, who first responded, said he looked upor their chairman and bimself as the godfathers of the ringing brotherhood, by virtue of the position which they held as wasters of the two olit Eondon Societies (applause). They were the two oldest ringing societies in existence, and all the county associations and diocesan guilds were riore or less offshoots of them. With regard to inviting the College Youths lo aing peals in Cumherland towers, he would be rery glad if M. Fardon would tell him how he could get one of the Cumberland towers for a peal for his own sactety, much less for someone else (laughtert). Continuing, Mu. Mathews sainl an article had appenced that meek in ' The Ringing World , telling thero how to put their house in arder in Lonllon, tut lie was afraid the diffeulties in connection with ringing iu London wore nat mily appraciated by those outside the Metropolis. were incrensing in regard to the twelve bell towers in London. People complained about the bells being rung for penls, and it was impossible to heep a regular Sinnday company going at many of 1Wese towors. When some of the towers had been shat up, it hart been the towers where peal ringing hati been nost froquavi, ant it behoved wem to consider whether the closing of some of these towers liad not heen due to their own selfish aclion. Directly peal of bells was put into arder'; if they were askerl-to furnish Sunday band they would not be able to do so, but the Vicar would this wis a position which they as Loncton ringers anglat to safeguard and in their own interests see that, these towers did not get closed throuth over-lise for peal ringing. In view of the difficulties which they were experiencing, he thonglat the next best thing they could do was to try and ring peals together on handhells (applause).
The Res. F. Li. Edwards responded for the Erorincial Societies, and referved to the countesy which country ringers always experienced when they risited the Londion Societies in their towers. He trusled that this spirit of good fellowship would ever continue, and that the time would pever come whon Landon dingers would fail to give such a hearty welcome and fratomal greeting to their brothers from the country (spplause).
Mr. C. H. Forton submitted the toast of "The Visitors," and read some amusing extracts from ancient records, showing low visitors Were sometimes Ereated in oldea duys. The Ancient Society of College Fouths was proud that evening to welcome so many guests, and he assured those connected with the various churches in London tiat the Society was alowas ready to hetp them bap nay wey contecterd with the bells of their charches, for they recognised that it was by the kindly courtesy of the church anthoritios that they were able to progresg and to accomplish those peals, of whith thes had the records in their peal hooks (applause).

THE BELLS AS A PARABLF.

The Rector of Steprey replied in a thonghtful speedt, whieh was lit up by many touches of humour. Briefy referring to same of the historical associations between his church ann? the oity he mentioned that the tenor hell at Stepney was cast for the Monastery in the Minories, in 3346. Tn thanking the Society for their invitation to the visitors, he remarked that the clergy appreciated the opportunitw once a vear of thanking the ringers for what they did. $\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{c}}$ was very much indebted to Mr . Tanging for his personal help. and he also wanted to tilank Mrs. Fughes for the great assistaneen she gave him, br her handbell ringing, at a parochial soiree. Personally, he continned, he would love a peal at Stepncy every week, hut that was not mossible on account of the inlabitants and the shankeepers who lad to earry on their business rigit under the walls of the tower. Ther had to admit that constant peals would be a littla diffeult far those neople who lived eloge to the holls. At the same time, evea if business was carried on round the fower there

Was something wonderful in the ringing of the bells which permeated the whole commercial life yolug on beneath it. Through it all there was the sounding of a woie which, by awakening a religious consciousness, created ar atmosphere that must raise the tone of the secular life going on uround. It was inded a parable of what religion ought to be at any time, permeating the whole secular life of the nation, raising it to leenven, as the notes of the bells raised the thoughts of them all to ligher things. For that ho rendered them most cordial thanks (applause)
Mr. W. D. Smitis proposed the toast of 'The Press,' and rofering to ' 'lhe Ringing World, expressed regret that. its so many lawers the ringers were content to take only come copy for the whole band Instead of supporing it by taking a copy each, and thus enabling the scope of the paper to he exteafled by the fact of its much larger circulation.
Wr. J. S. Goldsmith (Editor of - The Langing World; respoaded, and remarked upon the increasing notice which was bring takeu of hells by some of the leading joumals in the land, articles having appeared which wite likely to mecurare public appreantina at ring iug. With regard to the Coilege Youths, he said he felt sure that the members of the society throughoui the country, andi ringers generally, would like to see published move details of what tho society was doing. At present very little was ever heard of them except for the peals they rang, and on the occasinn of that gathering, but some more frectuent notice of their activilies would be greatly interesting, for there was no need for such an ancient ant honourable society to hide its light unter a bushol.

This concluded the specehmaking. and the very pleasant gathering oame to a close with * Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.
Tha musionl progeamme included two fine songs by Capt. Frecborn, 'Songs of Araby,' and ' I pass hy your window,' sung in response to the demand for an encore. Mr. James Rullock was also encored for the song "Down Fauxlaall Way," and sang " Come to the Frir.' Mr. H. Castell, the accompanist, also sang. The fouture this part of the programme was, lowever, sanaia the hanthell playiug of Mrs. A. A. Hughes, who, to harp accompaument by Mr. Ti. A. Youbz, played "Meditation (Bach-Gounod), of which sho gave a beantiful rendering, ant an old finvourite in * Ash Grove, ${ }^{4}$ in which her skitl in handling the large number ot hells was fully manifested.

RUTLAND SURPRISE.

Dear Sir, $-\bar{T}$ am rather surprised at the contents of Mr, Carter's letter. regarding the dofinition of Surprise. Mr. Carter was one of the nenbers of the conmittee and all the other members with the excepijon of wr. Dains are stijl living) that framed the definition. Mr. Carter dees not make limself very clear regarding his objection to : Bristol ' and 'Rutland,' but I imazime he thiuks an intiernal piace should be made at the treble's whole pull behind. I do noto take that position as a cross section of the treble's path. It is like the whole pull at lead. A dead end, the only way out is to go back. It is the starting and finishing place.
Mr. Carter also states that 'Rutland' Major, Royal and Maximus are three different methods. I must vespectifully inform him that he is mistaken. and I ask him to exteud the same on to 14 and 16 bells, when he will find that on all numbers where there are an odd number of pairs of bells (i.e., RoyaI 5 pairs, 14 bells 7 pairs) the pivot place wilh be mado in 3ral's place instead of 1st's place, as is the case on all numbers with an oven number of pairs of thells. The odil pair of bells dodge in $1-2$. This is a new feature and I eapected some comment.-Fours truly

ANOTHER PEAL OF SIX IN DEVON

SHUTE BELLS RERUNG

Shute, a Deqon willage, between Axminster and Honitou, luas just had its lung of hells increased to siti. I'lis has been matle possible lyy the efturts of M1. Arthur S. Hutchinson (Divecsant reader, and (aptain of the ringers), who raised Eunds for the addition of a new freble and the rekarsing of the whole. The dedication was performed ly the Bishop of Exeter, who, in the course of nu intaresthing address, said a peal of bells was absolntely Englisla. "When you listea to a peal of bells,' said the Rishop, 'it is not raerely the sound you ]ear; but the notes, that tell of Eugland's greatness, from those iron tongues." There wrs a than when they were going to take down the bella in some towers, and put up things which would make a clanging noise. There were still some towers where the hells were not bung as they should be. In every town he would like to see the bells properly rung, according to the good otd custom of Enginnd-rung ronnd in full preal. Concluding, his Eordship appealed to ingers to ring the hells with leverence-with a double reverence-[or, firstly, they were a part of the country-with all its peculinditics, with all its greatness-and, secandly, because they were a part of the worship of Godl and preached a semmon. you ring, whether il be at a practice ou before a service, whether you toll for a deatil or ring a merry peal after a marriage, say a frayer that the peal you ring may hing to the hearts of people that message of penitence to the simmer, a thought to ihe careless, peace to the troubled, and, above all, to twe-hearted worshippers, chary a message to come to God's honse, and there sing those praises which the bells lad hegun.
Ringing afterwards took place, by teams from Taunton, Honiton Clyst, Ěast Budleigh, Claffombe, Colyton, Isuckerell. Uplyme, Cotleigh, Northleigh, Seatou, OIfwell, Wuworthy, Musbury, Dalwood, Kilmington, and merabers of the old Colyton hand of ringers. notable visitor was the Rev. E. V. Cox.
Tea was served in the Sclmolsoom, and a large ompany sat down at the tables.-The Ticar extended a comblal welcome to the Bishop, and roiced the plensure felt at his Lordship's prescnce at the churel service, The Xicar also paid a tribute to Mr. A. IFutehinson, to whose energy the improvements in the belfry were entirely rlue. The Bishop, in reply, said Mr. Hutchinson was of the type of men who, by thoir unselfish work, had mude England great.
The whole of the restomation was entiusted to Messis. T. Doble and Son, Taunton, who lave carried out the work in a higlaly satisfactory manmer. Gireal satisfaction was expressed wilh the 'go' of the bolls by the large number of vingers present.

A RESTORED WELSH RING.  HAVERFORDWEST BELLG DEDICATED.

St. Mary's Farish Chureh, Haverfordwest, is now in proul possessjan of a melodious ring of eight lyells. Up to some years ago there Jung in the belfry eight old bells, in a dapidated timber framework. The fitfings were fuite worn out, and unable to caryy the bells witly safety. It was, therefore, deeded to seud the bells to the fomous foumdry of Messus. Mears and Flamhank, who are to be enngratulatied on the excellent quality of their work. The bells are now of splendid tome. Tlue tenor has boen recast, and is worthy of special note. Ifs weight is one ton: and it hears the insomption, ' I will do my best tor Haverfordwests' The ather seven bells have been returned, and himg with self-nligning laall bearings in totally enelosed dusprool housings. The old nak frame has luee holwen togeliner, and the "go' of the bells is now most satisfactony.
The dedication was performed by the Fery Rew. the Archoleamon of St. Drvids on November 8th. Specinl lymms were sung, and the Archdeacon gave a verg interesting and inspining address to a large number of the inlabisants of the town and district who hat assembled to witness the ceremony. Aiter the Rhessing, the hand of St. Catherine's, Garseinon, made their wry to the ringing chamber, raised the bells in peal, fund rang a well-struck toteln of ald Gramdsire Tuples: C. Willis 1, R. Baird 2, J Willianes 3, HL, Willss 4, A.
 W. Doblins 8. The Fianr nind churchwatdens eame, and oblgratulater the band on then fime raging anci stiving. The bells lath not previously been rung simer 1890. The rinaras wete enterfaned to dinner at the Mariner's Holel, and afterwards ftrther ringing took place in several molinds, inchatisy wo 50 of Grandsive Triples by R. Dahtins 1, H, Wills 2. J. Wibjums 3. R. Bairot 4. A Sluman 5. W. Dabhins 6. J. Williams (monductar) 7, W. Dohbins 8. The bells wno lowered in peal. Afterwards an exceilent tes was enjoper? by the ringers.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed th the Vicar and charchwridens for their welcome and hospitality.

If is inderesting foo mote that hasse old hells are the farme that rang Olfver Crommell to Haverfordwest.

A PLEA FOR STRUGGLING BANDS.

Speaking generally, ringing bas made a wonderful recovery since the war, bands have not ouly been rebuilt, but a great advance has been made in the methods rung. Probably there are very few associations that are not now back at pre-war strength, and feeling that they have fully recovered from the position into which nearly five years of upheaval forced them. Yet we make bold to say that there are a number that, were they to face the quuestion squarely, would have to admit that there is much more that might be done to encourage the art of ringing among the towers which stand within their area. Is there any county or diocesan association which can say that every tower within its borders, with a ringable peal of bells, has got its own company, and that company affiliated to the association? This is, of course, an ideal, but it should be the aim of every organisation, and no society which professes to cover an area should be content until that ideal is reached. Moreover, are all the affiliated towers teceiving the assistance that is necessary to help them to progress?

It is a simple matter to keep in touch with towers and bands which are easy of access from ringing centres; it is the cause of the isolated towers that we would plead. Some bands in out-of-the-way places struggle for years with practically no outside help, and, while they plod on patienily, they receive little assistance or encouragement from their association, except, perhaps, by the holding of an occasional meeting in the neighbourhood. Combined practices, which we bave constantly urged, have had most successful results in places where this method has been tried, but what is wanted in many instances is something more, even than this, to give a real stimulus to ringing. We should like to see specially organised assistance given to the less fortunately placed towers, not by occasional help, but by a series of visits paid by ringers capable of giving real aid. In the winter months that are before us, little, perhaps, caa be done in this direction, but ringers are slow to move, and the period intervening before the longer hours of daylight could well be used by association ringingmasters and secretaries in drawing up a scheme for rendering practical assistance to some of the less fortunately situated towers.

The Durham and Newcastle Association has realised the necessity for a forward policy, somewhat on these lines, and the appreciation which is fortacoming, when such action is taken, was evinced at West Hartlepool, where last week a visit resulted in a revival of interest, both in ringing and in the Association. The point to be remembered about this kind of missionary work is that the association will benefit as well as the company which receives the assistance.

BELLSI BELLSI BELLS!

Let the Music of the Beils celebrate Peace. CHARLES CARR, LTDD.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Belifounders, are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals ' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.
In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most ' up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

[^78]Any interest which may be raised by the help given is bound to be reffected by a stronger support for the association, indicated not merely in membersbip, but in raising the level of ringing in that area. Too much importance can be placed upon the practice of holding district meetings. Good and necessary as these are for the vitality of an association, they cannot provide the same valuable encouragement to change ringing that would be given by properly organised and systematic visits paid, if only by a tew capable ringers, to towers where interest is flagging, or where a band is struggling against difficulties which they are unable to surmount.

THE SUSSEX WEEK.
We'll sing the song, as we march along,
Of good old Sussex by the Sea.
Our ringing tour this yoar, I am fold, was one of the most suecessful outinge known, and, although belated, a review of the week's doings may be interesting. Some have said that London and Bristol Surprise should liave been included in the methods rung, but in eleven peal attempts ten were successful, as duly reported in the ' Ringing World ' of November 2nd, the first soven having been scored straight off the bat. I regret to trouble our Editor with a correction re the Burgess Hill performance. Taking the list of namos, as printed, the pen actually stood in the order of 1-3-5-7-24-6-8; 'Queen's,' and hot as shown. The error is mine, and 1 apologise to the band who are all loyal subjects of Her Majesty This year I had less secretarial work in arranging tho meeting, due to assistance of local veterans, Messrs. Bennett, Stone and Hart, whilst the foremen of the towers visited took considerable paims to fit in the week's programme. Mr. Challen, of Shoroham, owing to illness in the locslity, had to refuse our coming, and this gap was Eindly filled at short notice by Mr. Hammond, of Rotherfield. Letters of regrot were received from Messrs. Evans, Bishop, George, Itwards (Hereford), Cheesman, Barton, Trollope, Walker, Buckland, and our Editor, who were unable to join the party; a certain septuagenarian being too busy migrating to his new nest instead of waiting till April, like the cuckoo usually does.
One sorrowful event arose in the course of my correspondence. Mr. Edwards, of Borcham, wrote me, saying : ' I should very much like to sing at Brighton and its neighbourbood. What is the latest date you can take yes or no?' The next letter I had came from his son to say that his father was dead, and was buried a few days previously. This was somewhat of a shock to me, since I ara no chicken, whilst our departed brother wns only 53 years of age when be made his last sef change.
Only half the members had a programme, with order to cops it, and send original on to another rnember, and I wondered how this would work out. Therefore, I was glad on tho afternoon appointed to see several couples come up to St. Poter's tower, Brighton, shoul 3 p.m., and so a husinesslite star't was made. On campletion of the Royal liere we were most agrceably surprised to find Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Truss, with a number of Briglaton men, awaiting belaw to offer congratulations. We held a conversazione at the King and Queen, when song and handbells sweetened oul temperament, and hastened old 'tempus fugit' more than ever.

On Sunday our forces were divided, one half going to St. Peter's tower, and the other to St. Nicholns', to ring for the morning and evening services. Amongst the touches scored were Gambridge and Double Narwich Royal, Treble Ten, London, Superlative, Yorkshire and Cambridgo Major. We enjoyed tho excellent clinner provided at our hotel, the famons boiled L.O.M. looking, as usual, more like a scrag when we liad finshed with it, and it cannot be said we were greedy with only one leg amongst 24 . A happy Sunday evening together-after Divine service at the respective churches-was spent by visitors and friends alike, many ladies honouring onr gathering, and enjoying the handbell vinging. An agreeable chat with a Worcesterslire Vicar-formerly at Eye - who joined us, brought memories of the late J. Motts, the Rep. W. Pearson, W. Rose and the Poppy, and Messrs. Day and Son, and other Suffolk ringers. Our Ledies' Guild was represented by Mesdames Williams, Truss, Stone, Bennett, W. snd K. Hart, Goldigg, Merrett, and the wife of our reverend brother. It is due to the ladies to add that our tourists were most comifortably housed, during their stay, in private quarters-'twas just like coming home after a gool day's work to find ' Mother' with supper all ready. The railway company was goorl to us as well, issuing return tickets at eingle fares to all the local stations to which we wished to travel, and the weather-that old fellow of many costumes-was generous, Friday being the only time that macs and 'brellas were needed.

For Monday, Wednesday and Friday, we had "doubles on, as follows: Cuckfield and Lingfield from Haywards Heath Station, Hurstpiarpoint and Burgess Hill from Hassocks, and Rotherfield and Buxted from Uckfield. On each occasion we found 'a winner' because trains, towers, and times were manipulated to a nicety, and we had a good trainer. We peal ringers have much to be thankful for. We can follow the practice independent of the elements. We lose no "gate" money if a match is abandoned, neither forfeit the reat of an unused sports field. At. Rotherlield we saw the damage to the base of the tower done quite recently by lightning, yet the spire and bells remained for us safe and sound.
Certain association business was transaeted, Messrs. W. Nevard, A. E. Sharman and C. C. Mayae being olected life members of the S.C.A. in St. Peter's tower on Saturday, and Messrs. William Mend and J. C. Truss at Cuclefield on Monday, by the usual show of hands before we pulled off. I have since ascertained that the necessary entrance fees have been paid over to the hon. secretary.
After our Lewes visit on Tuesday we held another social on refurbing to Brighton. It was almosi destroyed by mine lost of the Kigg and Queen, who tad welet our reserved room over our heada. My disappointment may be imagined when I found some thirty-sis yentlemen and eight ladies standing 'homeless' in the Old Steine Gardens, rather resembling a stranded threatrical company. have military reasons for supposing that more men during the wat found out the value of "The Canteen' than all the pussyfools put logether. A house of that name, well known to rimgers of yore, gave us private accommodation for the ovening. Here John Jay -and there's still a 'John Jay, junior '-rendered in good strle 'Sussex by the Sea.' Mrs. J. C. Truss gave us an old favourite, accompanied by her husband. Mr. W. Hart sang a couple of good soags, and the verger of St. Nicholas also sang, accompanied by his son, an expert pianist; and handbell tunes by Messrs. Truss, Hart and Trussell, were aiso given.

On Thursday we found our failure at St. Peter's, Brighton, Cambridge Thoyal falling to pieces, after 40 minutes. However, this meeting was turned into a practice for Yorkshire Royal (2 courses), and touches of London Major-Messrs. Merrett, Groves, Smart, and others, making up a double team.
We were the guests of Messrs. Mead and Shepherd, an Wednesday to tea and luncli, whilst Mr. Nevard gavo similar hospitality on Saturday as a terminal to the week. Our final attempt at st. Nicholas began at 2 o'clock, which suited the departure of several members on breaking up. We all took tea together at the Imperial Hotel, with a 'nip in the cup,' to the health of the host, and that warmed up the question, 'what about next year?' Ah, well! let ug get orer Christmas first.

Before leaving Brighton we saw the county challenge bell, never claimed by the last winners, now safely stored in St. Peter's tower. We also called on the veteran metliod builder, Mr. George Baker, looking hearty and well, and there, in a small inner rooms we found bundles of papers covered with masses of figures and diagrams enough to fill a small portmanteau, and still he keeps on with the permutations. The Iate John Jay was discussed: also the lithe room alo the Canteen, where Bill Gifford nsed to draw him out. The late Rev. F. E. Robinson, and the Rev. A. T. Beeston, Messrs. Hodgetts, Price, Attree, Rickman and Eden, were all with ms-in onr thouglits even George King, of Canada, down at Sursex by the Sea.

KENSINGTON.-On Monday, Nov. 19th, for practice, at St, May Abbats, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Miss A. Bolton 1, E. G. Lacke Z. H. Dyes 3, A. B. Bennett 4. W. E. Judd 5. C. H. Roberts B. W. F. Garratd (conduclori 7. P. F. Smith 8. First guarter-peal by the freble and secand ringers.

NEW BELLS AT RADCLIFFE.

DEDIGATLON OF i LaNCASHIRE PEAL.
The bells of Radcliffe Parish Church, Lancs, have been recast, and a new frame installed by Messrs. J. Paylor and Co., of the Loughborotgh Foundry. The dedicttion taok place on Saturday last, when, despite the dease fog which enveloped South-East Lancs, there was a large congregation. The Bishop of Manchester (Dr. Temple) should have dedicated the bells, hut, minfortuately fhe motor-car which was sent to bring his lordship got lost in the fog: a wire being received from him half-way through the service that the car had not arrived to fetch him.
The bells were, therefore, dedicated by the Rector (the Rev. J. Bamber), and the germon was mreached by the Rev. Canor Elsee, President of the Lancs. Association, who gave a very interesting address on the history of bells and their meaning.

The Rector efterwards explained to the congregation that that day saw the completion of the third of the war memoriala, the first, the lych gate, as a thanksgiving for the safe return of the men who came back, and the new organ and the bells, ond also a new hoiy table, which it is intended to dedicnte on the Sunday bofore Christmes Day, to the memary of the men who gave their lives, The bells were raised in pal after the dedication by the lecal band, and rung in rounds after the service. The belib, which have been increased in weight, having now a tenor of 15 cwt., are an example of Messrs. Taylor's best work. The framewark, which is of their low side paltern, is strong and massive in coastruction, and rests on heary rolted steel firders firmly bolted together by diagonal wrought. iron tension bars. The fittings lave all their latest improvemenas, including ball bearings. lihe old inscriptions have been roproduced, and on the tenor in addition, "In memory of the brave men who gave their lives in the great war; 1914-1918.

Owing to the weather conditions not many wisiting ringers were expected, but they wurned up from Bolton Parish, Bury, Pendleton and Prestwich Churches, Canon Elsee liad a pull after the serviee, and spoke in terms of high appreciation of the tone and "go' of the ђells, as, indeed, did all the other visitors. Radclifte has now got one of the best peals in the country at the weight.
It is intended to have in ringers day early in the new year, probably in the second or thirri week in Tanuary, of whicll due notice will be given through "The Ringing World," ${ }^{\text {when }}$ it is hoped that there will be a good muster of risitors from the towers in the county.

NORTH STONEHAM.-On Siuday, Nov. 4 tis, for evensong, 450 Boh Major: E. Mundv 1, E. Dumper 2, G. Pillinger 3, W. G. Rowe 4, G. Williams 5, R. Walker 6. W. T. Tucker 7, O. H. Gites 8 .

BELFRY GOSSIP.

With a view to stimulating ringing in the neighbourlaod of Carmarthen a visit was paid on Saturlay last by a few enthusiasts, which included the leaders of Gorseinon and Aberavon towers, and the Sion. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmonth Association. A hearty welcome was accorded by the Viear and late churchwarden. Girandsire Triples and l3ob Minor were rung, and an effort is to be mado to re-form a bend, the bells not having been rung for four years.
A visit was thes paid to Llanstephan tower, some eight miles distant, where it was found call changes are rung. A hearty welcome was also accorded here, and a move is to be made in promoting change ringing. Triples, Minor and Doubles were rung. No peal has hecy rung on these bellis sinee they were opened over forty years aga by the College Youths, but it is suggested that a peal will be attempted there before the next forty weeks are over by those who were there on Saturday
Congratulations to the band who, at Great Hampton, have rung a landbell peal of Kent Treble Bob Maxinus, the frst of Maximus by all and by the Worcestershire Association. Mr. F. J. Johnson must be proud of his son and daughter.
The conductor of Holt's Original at Carshalton on Saturday is 18 years three months old. Are there any younger ringers who have called this composition?
We wonder how many ringers of ta-day can claim to have had ancestors who were ringers nearly 200 yearg ago. Mr. Robert T. Lvans, of Oswestry, Salop, called a peal in lis native town last week, and there are records showing that members of his family rang in peals in Oswestry in 1731 and 1785.
On Decernber 3rd, 1811. the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal on handbells was rung af Sheffield.
The College Youtlis rang their frist peal of Stedman Triples on Decernber 4th, 1803. This was at St. Mary Abbots, Kensington, and was a peal on the multi-bob plan, having been composed by one, Thomas Edwards. Tlie peal container altogether 722 calls!

A peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Stroud, Gloucester, on December $4 \mathrm{tl}_{1}, 1722$.
It is on record that a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, on December 6th, 1731. Tlis was proclaimed as the first peal of Stedman Triples, thus disputing the claim of the St. Peter Mancraft company to the first peal in the method which they rang on October 25th of the same year.
There was much feeling between the companjes at this time, and it was reported in the 'Norwich Daily Press' that a little before the peal at St. Michael's was completed they (the Mancroft ringers) "had the impudence to swear we should not ring it out, and so did fing stones up the church leajs and against the doors, and did cause the boys in the streets to cry huzzas: ray, one of them was so impertinent as to open the window of the church to have got in, but was prevented by the people that stood to hear the peal, and were sent home to their shame with bloody noses."

Ringers who intended Fisiting Ickleton for the Ely Diocesan Association meeting to-morrow are informed that owing to illness, the meeting is postponed to December 15th.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

Ta the Editar.
Sir, It was worlh while to have raised this question of the nomenclature of methods, if only to haye obtained, as a result, your excellent leading article in your issue of the 23 rd; and there is also the gain, you point out, that it transpires a real interest is at last being taken in this important question of naming new methods. Apart from all this, it is indeed gratifying that the subject has been noticed by that ingenious ringer, "Samiwell Peppery."

While it is meet and right that our pioneers, when introducing a new method should lave a voice in naming it, there arises at the same time the qestion as to what extent that riglit should be exercised. Refection will show it is necessary that the right of choice should be limited.
When the time comes-and the sooner the better-to define the limits within which this choice is to operate, it should be definitely laid down that only single place names are to be adopted for new methods. And, so, automatically, we shall get what I would now lisve, and what $I$ am confident will prove to be the proper coursethe avoidance of that terminological superfluity-the 'shires.'- Yours very truly,

Manor House, Bracoudale, Normich.

PROPOSED PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. SGHEMF TO GO FORWARD

A special general meeting of the Central Nothamptonshire Association was held at Kettering on Saturday last, when a company, numbeing ahout 60, sat comn to tea at the Cross Keys Cafe, presided over by the president (the Rev. J. P. Frend), who was supported by the Rev. R. C. Thursfield (Cranford), the Rev. C. H. L. Hopper (Weekley), Mr. W. T. Wilson (treasurer of the association) Mr, D. J. Nichols (general secretary), Messrs, F. Barber, T. Tebbutt, R. G. Black, J. Nickerson, and Mr. J. Bott (district secretaries), Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson (Surtlect), Mr, F. Rawlinson (Peterborough) and Mr. A. King, of Euton.
The business before the meeting was the report of the sub-committee, with velerance to the proposed formation of a Peterborough Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers.
The President, in presenting the report, stated that letters were written to the following six associations: The Peterborough and District, the Oundle and District, the Towcester and District, the Weedon and District, Brackley I. Deanery, and the Midland Counties Association, inviting them to send representatives to a meeting to consider the formation of a Guild for the diocese of Peterborough. At the meeting held at the Hall Memorial Buildings, Bridge Street, Northampton, on Saturtlay, October 23ra, representatives were present (in addition to those of the Central Northants Association) from the Peterborough, Oundle, Towcester and Brackley I. Deanery. A letter was received from the Midland Counties Association stating that the matter was brought forward and duly considerod by their committee and members at their meeting on July $28 t h$, when the following resolution was unanimously passed: "That the members of the Mirlland Counties Association, having carefully considered the proposal of the Bishop of Peterborough as to the formation of a Peterborough Diocesap Guild of Ringers, are unable to recommend that their members residing in the diocese of Peterborough should as a body join the proposed Guild. For forty years they lave been members of the Midland Counties Association, and they have no desire to serer themselves from that body. At the same time, if individual members who live in the said diocese wish to become menbers of the Peterborough Guild, the committee of the Midland Association have no desire to place obstacles in their way, but they trust such members will continue to remain members of their old association.
In addition to the resolation it was pointed out that certain chazges will take place in the area corered by the Peterborough diocese, and that only $z$ small portion of the territory covered by their associetion may remain in the Peterborough diocese.

A draft scherae of rules was submitted for the proposed Guild, and after a yery lengthy discussion, the President moved the followiug resolution, which was seconded by the General Secretary, and carried :-

That this raeting urges the committee to go forward with the formation of a Diocesan Guild of Ringers, and to report to the Bishop in accordance with the resolution passed at Wellingborough on June 9th, 1923.
During the afternoon and evening the bells of the Parish Church were rung by mixed companies, and some very good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Treble Boh Royal, Bob Royal and Cambricige Surprise Royal were rung, which brought a pleasant meeting to $=$ close.

PEALS IN 'THE BULL RING.' To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-May I correct a slight error which appeared in lasti week's issue of your valuable journal?
It occurs in what $I$, and doubtless many others, regard as one of the most interesting features of the paper, viz., "Belfry Gossip,' wherein it is stated that ' It will not be long before the one hundredth peal of Stedman Cinques will be rung on the famous bells in the Bull Ring.'
May I point out that this was accomplished many moons ago, even before the Great War, the one lundredth peal of Stedman Gmques on these bells having been rung on February 24 th, 1914.
The total number of peals of Stedman Cinques rung at st. Mar$\operatorname{tin}^{\prime}$ 's to date is 132 .

This figure refers to tower bell peals only; it does not include penls 'in hand,' or peals rune by the St. Martin's Guild on other rings of twelve. A small matter perhaps, but in the interests of historical aecuracy, on which I know you are personally very keen, just Worth noting.-Yours faithfully,

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

NO DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE IN IMMEDIATE FUTURE.
The Guildford District has always been oue of the mast thriving parts of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and in the pask year it has well maintained its ground. At the amnual meeting at Guildford the area, including Aldershat, Cherisey, Coblam, Craulcigh, Doiking, Fathaty, Godalming, Holy Trinity and $\mathbb{S}$. Nicolas', Guildford, Haslemere, Shere, Woking and Worplesdon, and ringing was onjoyed during the afternoon at botly S . Nicolas' and Holy Trinity Churches. Serviee was held at the former clurch, und the Rector (the Rev. G. M. Wheeler) gavo a stirring address, his subject being 'Erthusiasm."
The business meeting was held after tea at Brett's Mestaurant, Mr. A. Harrison (ciurchwarden of $$$. Nicolas ${ }^{2}$ ) presiding, supported by Canon Kirwan (Rector of Holy Trinity), Rev. G. M, Wheeler, Mr. Marsll (churchwarden of S. Nieoles'), Mr. C. Hazelden (District Ringing Master), Mr. E. Raddon (hon. secretary), ete.
The Hon. Secretary reported that fire successful meetings had been held during the year, and that the balance on the year's working was $£ 7$ 14s. 34.
The Ringing Master, in his annual report, stated that 44 peals liad been rung during the year, which was the same as in 1922 . The proportion of handbell peals had, however, clanged. Whereas in 1922 they had 24 handbell peals aud 20 church hell peals; in 1923 they had 20 on handbells and 24 on tower bells. Also, in this year they had no six-bell peals, while in 1922 they had two. He mentioned this as a hint to their six-bell friends to 'keep their end up.' Although this total of 44 peals was reasonably Eatisfactory on the surface, an analysis, continued Mr. Hazelden, wosld reveal the fact that the peals were performances of a comparatively small number of ringers. This should not be so, and he wished that more of their local companies would go for a peal occasionally. As a matter of fact, only three local bands in the district had rung a peal this year. In this connection he was, of course, aware of the changes whicl were slowly taking place in ringing, as in other church matters. They seemed to be turning more and more to the ideas and ideals of the 15 th and 16 th centuries and the age before change ringing began to be seriously practised'; when ringers became included in the clurch's nine orders of ministers. Ho felt sure that this privilege was not granted merely because bells were used to call people to worship or heanuse the ringers were go expert as to command respect, but because of the considerable use which the Church then made of bells in the actual performance of the services. For instance, the use of the Sanctus bells in the Mass, and for anoouncing the Church's canonical hours made it necessary to maintain guilds of persons who could be at hand to perform the office at the proper liours. We, however, had to deal with an age in which, happily, change ringing was practised. They might wisls and work for the reunion of the bells and altar, but if their part was to be a worthy one, there was no practice that he knew of to equal the occasional riuging of a peal. In conclusion, the Ringing Master paid a tribute to same of their members, who, through good and ill, just carried on. They could, he said, always hear about the first-class performers, but there was in nearly every tower one or more who, year after year, went on teacling young people, first to handle a bell and then perhaps to ring Doubles, before the Foungster left his native village, without thanks and without recognition. Some of these men had grown grey without ever knowing the joy of having a good band, yet they went on patiently teaching, serving the Church faithfully, and their Guild lopally (applutso).
The reports were adopted.
Mr. Raddon was re-elected fon. secretary, with thanks for his past services.
Mr. Hazelden and Mr. A. H. Pulling were proposed for the office of Ringing Master, but the latter declined to stand, and Mr. Hazelden was then unanimously re-elected.
Mcssrs. R. Whittington and J. J. Jones were re-elected on the Central Committee of the Guild, and six new members and probationers were elocted

THE DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE.

The next business on the agenda was the question of the division of the Guild, in connection with the proposed splitting up of the Diocese of Winchester.
In introducing the subject, the Clairman first congratulated the members on the attendance at the service. Fe could not help thinking that it was too often forgotten that bell ringers were a vital and integral part of clurch organisation. As far as his experience went, they seemed in the past to have been considered outside the Church organisation, but the more they could hold their services in the church and feel that they were part and parcel of the Church organisation, the better it would be for the Church and the better for the ringers (applause). With regard to the subject of the division of the diocese, he thought it would hardly be worth spending a lot of time upon it, as if it were imminent. Canon Kirwan would prob-aluly be able to tell them that the division of the diocese was possibly farther off than ith was considered to be at that tame last year, the principal reason being that there was a considerably larger famaunt of money to be prowided than was anticjpafed, and in these hard timos it was fikely to make the division of the diocese mach longer delayed.

Canon Eirwan said that originally thoy weve asted to raise f51,000 in connection with the scheme, and he believed, if they had started last November, they might have raised that amount by June, 1924, hut in July of this year, as the result of the decision of the Ecelesiastical Commissioners, the amount to be raised before the division could take place, was increased to 2106,000 . In addition, tiuere had been a considerable amount of opposition, led by the Bishop of Gloucester, and many people, who previously may have been lukewarm on the subject, were probably now hostile. Personally be was convinced that the scheme would go thraugi, but it might be a long time. It depended mamly upan their collecting the full sum. A further cause of delay was this. The decision of the National. Assembly had not jet received the approval of the Ecelesiastical Committee of Parliament, and lie did not think he would be disclosing any secret when he told them that this commiltee was going to turn down the measure, not on its, merits, but an account of a eertain rider which was attached to the Bill as to the appoiutment of the Bishops. The measure, therefore, would have to go back to the National Assembly, for the elimination of tho rider, then to come again before the Ecciesiastical Committee far aperopal, and afterwards having to be passed by Parliament. He thought it would probably be at least three or four years before it became a matter of practical politics. He thought, with the chairman, that they need not that night discuss a new society, at any rate on the gromed that there was likely to be a new cliocese of Guildford in the near future.
The Kinging Master called attenifon to the suggestion made at the Portsmonth rlistrict meeting that, in the event of the diocese being divided, the present Guild should be continued under the title of the Wesser Association. As Winchester was formerly the See of the ancient Bishopric of Wessex, fre thought it was an excellendidea.
In view of Canon Kirwan's slantement, Mr. Whittington mored that the"meeting pass on to the next business, and this was agreed to.
Thanks were accorled to the chairman for presiding: to the Rev. G. M. Wheeler for the service and his address, and to the organist. Nicolas Gevitelh, and snid they had before the parish a scheme for their improvernent, for which Messrs. Taflor and Co. had submitted an estimate. About $£ 320$ was required to put the bells into the condifion they ought to be in, ant he wonderet if Major Hesse could come to Guildford and tell them how to raise the money, seeing how successful he had been in Haslemere (laughter and applause). However, the church lad ihis scheme to contemplate, and he Troked forward to the day when they could say, 'Come and hear what a really fine peal of bells we have got ' (applause).
This terminated the business, and further ringing then took place at S. Nicolas' Church.

BASINGETOKT DISTRICP FAVOURS DIVISION.
At the annuil meeting of the Basingstole Distriet, held at Basingstake on Saliurday, Nov. 17th, a letter was read from the assistant hon. secretary of the Guild (Mr. G. Pullinger) asking for the opinion of the district upon the question of the future position of the Guild, contingent upon the passing of the measare for the Division of the Diocese. Eventually, it was proposed by the President, and seconded by the hon. secretary, and carried unanimously, that in the event of the measure seceiving parliamentary sanction, the Winchester Diocesam Guilcl ought to be similarly divided.

More than 50 per cent. of the performing members in this wide and scattered district were present, and a most successiul meeting was held.
With regard to the division, "A local member' writes: "This question has already been discussed by the Central Cammittee, and by one or two districts, but I believe the Basingstoke district is the first hody of members to give a decision favouring division, and, therafore, as a member of that distrint, I shond like to give reasons for the course I and my fellow members took. In the first place, I think the raising of the question at all is extremely premature, as it will probably be a very considerable time yet before the division is an accomblished fact, and even then $I$ do not see why the parent Guid should make the initial move. Surely the initiative shon]ad come from the offering. If they feel they can develop fresh life and energy by having their own Guild-and I firmly believe thev can-then it is not the duty of the parent Guild to act selfislly nand endeavaur to hinder their aspirations, hut rather to encourngo them and grant them their 'allotted share.' and at the same time welcome them hack as compounding members at a nominal fee. In this respect, no doubt. the founger Guilds would he giad to return the compliment, and the result would be a roal fellowship such as ringers delight in.

The desirability for division was especially brought home to me at. the last annual festival of the Guild, when the Bishop asked che Surrey members present to hold up their hands, and it turned out that there were only ten present, and I don't think Portsmouth and the Isle of Wight could have shown many more. But if either of these areas whicin aro to form the new dioceses had its own Guild these areas which aro to form the new diocesces hat its own it would probably get nearer a hundred members at its annal festival, and thus crente a far more widspyead interest in the work. Lastly, there is the great point so cogenily put formard by oum hon. secretary, that of church organisation. We recognise the Diocese as the unit of Church life, and the Bishop as the head of each unit, selves under the control of their own Bishop. But a very awknat situation might arise at any time in a Guild of combined dioceses with a Master belonging to one diocese, a secretary to another, and other officials in yet another. It is for this reason that $I$, for one, regret the growth of county associations in connection with church bell ringiag, and I believe I read in "The Riaging World, a few months ago of an effort by the Bishop in Peterborough to bring all the ringers in that Diocese into one Guild, but federated to their own associations, thas showing that he undoubtedly wished to have undivided control over his own churel workers. In conclusion. may I express the earnest hope that whatever conclusions are finally arrived at there will be no recriminations, but that all will continue to wark together henrtily and in a right spirit as Christinns and true Churchmen.

GLOSSOP CHURCF BELLS.
VICAR'S TRIBDTE TO FOUNDERS AND RINGERS.
In the 'Glossop Parish Churel Mouthly Notes,' for Novembor, the Vicar (Lhe Rev. W. Dudley Dixon, M.A.) writes:- "The Patronal Festival this year was, on the whole, well kept. Having only half a church, our services were necessarily simple. We opened out on All Saints' Day with the derication of the bells. There was an excellent congregation, and the service was solemn and very impressive. The Rev. A. T. Beeston (himself a well-known ringer) preached the sermon. After the dedication of the bells by the Vicar the ringers rang a merry peal. Evetyone who heard the bolls was delighted with their berufy of tone. Messrs. Gilletf and Jolunston, the bell Founders, have given us a notable peal. We certainly expected a good peal from our old bells, for the metal was there, but we have got ane better than ever we Jrad hoped for. The faunders are to be heartily congratulated on a very notable performance. It is a peal to he proud of

The whole peal has been recnst and relung with new fittings, ball bearings, nat all the latest improvements; and with the new framewark in the upper tier and the extensive strengthoning of the lower tier, the ringers report that the ease wifli which the hells key of the peal is F .

It is a heavy peal-all the better for that as far as richness of tone is concernerl. Tuned on the five-tonerl Simpson Principle, the music of the hells is beautiful and melodious. The clack is to strike on the tenor bell, not on No. 2 as before. The Angelus will be rung on the tenor also, not on No. 6 as before. The chiming apparatus is going back as before.

I should like to say a word about the firm of Gillett and Jolmston. They have put us in a beantiful peal, which we are proun of. and which they have every right to he proud of, and they have put our bells back again very quickly considering the magniturn of the task. In all our dealings with thern we linve received the greatest courtesy and consideration from the firm and from their bell erector: who has tione the work liere, aud has been most thoughtiul in reducing inconvenience to the services in church to a minimum. It is a pleasture to be able to say this.

It is also a pleasure to record the generosity of our ringers. They have, at their own cost and by their own lahour, transformed the ringers' chamber in the tower. A good real of tho floor had to be relaid-dry rot having destroved the hoards-this they have done. They have covered the floor with new lino, and lave fixed a light in the floor. They have also boarded up part of the air space in the bell tower-an immense improvement. We nre most grateful to them for their generosity, Before vory long, we hear, there is to be a Ringing Festival, when ringers from all over the country will come here to try our bells and try to hreak ringin shall look forward ta this witla keen anticipation.'

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION'S FORWARD POLICY

A HAPPY WEST HARTLEPOOL MEETING.
For some time past it has beer felt that certain ringing towers in the Counties of Durlam, and Northumberdand, lave been left to look after themselves by the Durham and Newnastle Diocesan Ass sociation. On Saturday, November 24th, therefore, througl the happy thought of one of the Newcastle Cathedral members, a beat up" of ten ringers journered, some by motol-cars, and others by up of ten ringers jourcha, Hatlepool, where they were welcomed by axcursion train, to West Hattlepool, where they were welcomed by the ringers of St. Oswald's, St. Aidan's, and All Saints' Cisurghes. Representatives alsa came from Darlington, hriddesbrough, Stockton and Sunderland. Good vinging took place at St. Oswald's and Ai Srints' Clurehes up till 9 o'clock.
At 5 o'clouk a break was made, to partake of tea provided by the ladies at St. Oswald's Church Hall, the Ficar (the Rew, Ghute) presiding, with Mr- Todd, president of the association, in the vice-chair. After tea the Vicar gave a very hearty welcome to all the ringers mresent, and thankerl those gentlemen who had come from a distance to 'put a little ginger ' into them, as it was only by such fratornal wisits they could rouse the cingers to carry out their duties as good Churchmen, and make clange ringing a success. He was fully in sympathy with their good work, and would do all in his power to further it. Allhourg not a rimger hinself, he was heart ant gou with their morement
The President proposer a luarty vote of thanks to tife ladies for all the trouble they hud faken to provide them with such an excellent tea.-This was cerried with acchamation
The President also thanked the respective Ficars for the use of heir bells, especially the chatrman, for the kind way he had re eived them The wamblh of the mecting land so touched him thet be could safoly say that it would not be very long hefore they were anungst them again to give tliem a little more 'ginger.' Their late president, Mr. Wm. Story, who had kindly brought a party ver from Newcastle hy inotors, asked him to state that it would oive him mucli pleasure to repeat the dose again, and at no distant dite.
It whs certainly in the minds of several members present that these fraternal meetings were produchive of nuch good to ringers in genpral, as well as to tire association, and it could not bo too strongry improssed on the district vice-presidents and secreteries to do their utmost to get better xinging established, more metings mmone their bretliren, anti to work their own districts as much as they could.
It would bo a help, if, when arranging meetinge, they would ad vertise in 'The Ringing World,' the costs of which are always paid the accociation. This foct may not be generally known amon the local secretaries.
The late war certainly held up good change ringing for a tima, and many members drifted apart from the diocesan organisation, but now the association was fully alive to the fact that differeni, methods will line to be adonter in these clanged times, to make it a liwin testimony of its good work in fine clurch, they looked to the vicepresidents and districl secretaries to help them in the matter.
It will interest members to know that the difticulty of the outlying churches in Northumberland lins been met by dividing it into two districts: (1) Newcastle Area comprising clurches contiguous to the River Tyne from Whitley Bay to Scotswood; and (2) Northern DisIrict, with churches from Cramlington to Bamburgl, the fatter with Mr. Wm. Story as secretary. It is expected that this clange will meet many complaints, coming from the affected areas, whose towers have not received $a$ wisit from the association for some time, and would gladly welcome them.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT

The Southern Distric of the Durham and Nemenstle Association held a rery pleasan meeting at Barnard Castle on Saturday last, when forenty-three members met from Bishop Auckland, Newcastle Shildon, Staindrop and Stockton, in wiatry weather. The handy peal of eight were kept going during the afternoon and evening, useful practice being obtained in Grandsire and Stemman Trimles, Plain Boh, Oxford, and Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major.
After tea a sloort meeling was beld, presided over by Mr. C. Tadd (President of the Association), supported by Messrs. W. Story, E. W. Perry. A. M. Eall, W. H. Barber, the Rev. F. J. Amies, ant others. In a few well-chosen ramarks, the President cxpressed pleasure in seeing there that day so many members, especially Mr. Story and the Cathodral men, and also proposed that a hearty vote of Lhenks be aceorded to the Viear of Barnard Castle the Rev. J. G. Bircham, M.A.) for the use of the bells, and to Mr. T. Chatt who so kindly lad everything ready

After a short discussion, Heighington was selected for the next ristrict meeting, the date being left to the vice-president and district secretary. Duc notice will appear in "The Ringing World.'

SUFFOLK'S OLDEST RINGERE.  DEATH OF MR. CHARLLS SOUTER.

We regret to record the death of one of Suffolk's oldest ringers, is the person of Mr. Charles Souter, who phssed gway in his 85th year. Deceased was a member of the Stowmarket company for 37 years.
He had been a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association since 1886, but he rang for many years previously at Mendlam and Redenhall. At the forner place he was also a member of the choir for over 20 years. After leaving there he went to Badiey 37 years ago, and worked on the same farm until just receutly. It was the deccased and his three sons who helped to build up the Stowmarket company, as at that time only Plain Bols Minor and Triples were rung. 'Tather,' as lie was familiarly called, used to walt from Badley, which is about two miles from Stowmarket, twice on Sundays, and was at the belfry on the Sunday before fe died. He was seized with a chill on the Monday, and passed away as stated. He had only ring four peals for the association, but, what he did was worth recoraing. as he was an excelleat striker, and always said he would rather ring a peal of Bob Major well-struck than a badly struck peal of Stedman, such as a noled Stedman riyger had recorded as a peal at Stowmarket several years ago.

The funeral took place at Stowmarket Gemetery on Wednesday, November 21st, The frst part of the burial service was held at the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rep. F. L. Faweett), who was assisted by the curate (the Rev. C. Morgan). Among many floral tributes was ove sent by the Stowmarket company.

Although the deceased's fellow ringers could not get together to ring for the funeral, they met on Saturday cyening and rang a quar-her-peal of Grandsire Tiriples ( 1,260 changes), with the bells halfmufled: W. Welhan I, W. Souter (conductor) 2, T. Sparrow 3, S. Sparrow 4, F. Alleri 5, E. Davey 6, A. Grimwood 7, H. Gopland 8. Jongest touch in the method ly the ringers of the 3ra and 5th.
It is estimated that Mr. Souter walked quite 15,000 miles to attenn Sundzy Sorvice ringing and practices! It is men such as he who, working out of the limeligltt, but witit patience and earuestness, are the backbone of the Exercise.

FORGING THE DIOCESAN LINK

The steps that are being taken to form a guild for the Diocese of Peterborough appear likely to lead to success. The scheme that is now being worked out is something more than a federation of existing societies in the diocese; it will, if carried through, result in the amalgamation of the Central Northants Association and the other smaller organisations in the area into one complete whole Investigation has shown that an independent existence. with membership of an organisation which would have little beyond a title, would have, for those societies which joined hands, many drawbacks and none of the advantages of a properly constituted diocesan guild. In their decision to formulate a scheme of amalgamation, therefore, we think the associations concerned bave done rightly.

The attitude of the Midland Counties' Association in this matter is a very straightforward one. It can be readily understood that an association, which has for forty years bad the alleglance of certain towers, would not wish wholly to part with them, but they place no obstacles in the way of those towers, which are in the diocese of Peterborough, joining the proposed diocesan association if they desire to do so. All they ask is that they shall not sever themseives from the Midland Counties' Association. It has to be remembered that the number of towers in the area of the Midland Counties Association which are affected is comparatively few, and even if they do not come into the scheme, they are not likely to jeopardise the prospects of carrying it to a successful issue.

What strikes us as the most gratifying feature about the new proposal is that it emanated from the Bishop of the Diocese, thus showing in yet another direction that Church recognition of ringers is beconing more and more an actual fact-becoming, indeed, a thing that is real instead of meroly an ideal. In the days when many of our associations were formed, ringers were so far apart from church organisation that many of them failed to identify themselves with their dioceses. They established them-selves- within territerial boundaries, which may or may not have been coterminous with a diocese, and adopted county or district titles. The passing years have witnessed a growing tendency for ringing organisations to become more and more recognised as a definite branch of church work, and it is certainly a big step in that direction when a Bishop gatbers round hins the representatives of a number of societies and asks them to form a diocesan" federation. The future of the art of bell ringing will be more and more locked up in the care of the Cburch, to whom, indeed, we may, in time to come, have to look to safeguard our interests. Anything, therefore, which tends to draw tighter the bonds between us may be of inestimable value in the future.

THE YOUNG MAN' OF BIRMINGHAM.
Mit. JAMES GEORGE A SEPTDAGENARIAN.
Like Peter Pas. who refused to grow up, James George refuses to grow old. The years secm to pass him by and the whirligig at time leaves him apparently as young as ever. Last week he celebrated his soventieth birthday-reached, 11 fact, the allotted span-but he remains a man in the prime of life. At an age when most ringers seek out the light end in a peal, Mr. George is clamouring lor somethag heavier and yet more heavy than anything he has yet rung and while there is, at present, no truth in the rumour that the back eight of the Loughborougli carillon are to be luag for rivging, the man for the four-ton tanor if the bells are made pealable withm the next twenly yeurs, is James George, of Birmingham!
This lasti statement mey perhaps be a litule flight of fancy, but one wanders where Mr. George would stop in the worlds le seeks to conquer were it not for the limitations which the size of existing bells und ringing restrictions impose upon his efforts. Within a week or two of his seventioth year he has turned in Southwark tenol and rung Bow tenor to a peal of Stedman Cinques, and that, too, within practically a few days of another not unknown ringer glving up the job at Cheapsice. After these two performances in London, Mr. George's Lask on his 70 th birthday, which was to ring the eleventi at St. Martin's, Birmingham, was comparative child's play.
Mr. George's ringing caveer is a story that has move than once been told, aud there is no need to repeat it here. Re contiuues to range at large over the country' seeking what he may devour' by way ot heavy bell jobs, and, if it were the practice for ringers to adwertise their qualifications, well might be annoumce 'no undertaking toa large and none too smail.' It has become almost a regular thing for Mr. George to ring a peal in some distant part of the country on a Saturchay ovening, travel to Birmingham through the night, and, arriving lione with the milk on Sundag, be in his place for service ringing in the morning. We do not know who liolds the record for mileage covered in pursuit of peal ringing, but few men can have a bigger average than Mr. George, who enn still daim, wo believe, to have rung peals in more twelve boll towers than any oller ringer.
His seventieth birthday, was, as alroady indicated, fittingly celebrated among his own friends at Birmingham. A peal of Stedman Cinques, specially composed far the occasion fay his ald friend, Mr. John Carter, and consisting of 5,070 changes, was rung, wisitors taking part in the peal, being Messrs. W. II. Tussell, of Slough, who by a coincidence celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his fist peal at, Birminghem: J. H. Shephert, of Swindon, although, perhaps, he hardly comes within the designation of "visitor; and Ernest Morris, of Leicester.
Afterwards the band enjoyed the hospitality of the septagagenarima (yes, despite his youth, we may now really and truly call him that), and Mr. Gearge was the recipient of may good wishes. His ringing friends throughout the country will join in the congratulations, and fill, we can edd is, "more power to his ellow!' The conductor of the birthrlay peal, Nir. Abert, Walker, will send the composition to anyone desiring to have it if they will apply to 81, Baker Street, Sparkhill, Birmingham.

PAYHEMBURY CHURCH BELLS.

A RESTORED PEAL.
A large congregation assenbled at St. Mary's Church, Payhembury, Devon, on Saturday afternoon, November 10Eh, on the accasion of the reopening of the bells. These six bells have been recasion in a new iron frame, and the tenor has been recast by Messrs. Gillett and Jolinston, of Croydon.
The Rev. L. B. Stallard. Vicar of Ottery, and chairman of the East Devon Brandi of the Devonshire Guild, gave a splendid address. In the course of his remarks, he said that the bells, in the words of an old parishioner of his, belonged to all of them. He thought it was a splendid work the villagers had undertaken.
The bells were opened by the Ottery St. Mary band. Subsequently bands of ringers from Uffenme, Sidmouth, Clyst Hydon, Broardinembury, Foniton, Buckeroll, and Plymtree, tried the bells, and all expressed their satisfaction with the ' go.' The Rev. H. L. Parry, Fiear of Payhombury, eave a welcome to the various bands.
The rehanging of the bells lias been most satisfactorily carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The ringing throughout the day was greatly appreciated, and the striking was good. The day was brought to a close by the members of the Payhembury baud ringing the last toucl.
After tea the Exeter men gave a good demonstration of handbell ringing. Amongst those presont whs Mr. E. Shepleerd, president of the Exeter Brancli of the Guild.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-After testing the fecling of Lancashire ringers generally. the Oswaldtwistle company feel they lave no option but to leti the name of Lancaslive Surprise Major remain, though in gaming new methods. the Exercise ongint to have some guidanee. For the Parislı Churcli Ringeus, JAMES FODLDS\%ORTH, Captain.
'SILENT' SURPRISE MINOR.

To the Editor.

Sir, -In $\because \mathrm{eply}$ to Mr'. Dawson's query, I wowld say at the outset that be is not in error in thinking that the first true and legitimate 'Silent' Surprise peal las yet to be rung. On Saturday, April 6th, 1897, we rang at Bucknall, Staffs, what was considered at that time a genuine Surpriss peal, silent, in the following methods: London, Chester, Gambridge, York, Superlative, Worcester and Bristol. Birt in the year 1906 the committee of the Certral Council came alonga laid hold of Worcester and Bristol by the scruff of the neek and bundled thom tut of the Surprise class, and also issued it very grave threat to Superlative, if it didn't belave itself. However, they allowed it to romain under sufferance where, I an sure, it must feel an alien. It would have bean far more kind to have packed it off with the other two. This was nine years after our peal was rung, and was a very serious matter for us, as it relegated our peal from a Surprise to a Treble Bob category. Ead we rung a couple of twin methods, say, Wels with London and Durham with York, we should have been within the pale of the Surprise class, but we purposely avoided this, as it is almost equivalent to ringing one mothod twice over. Then again, compare Worcestor and Bristol with Norwich and Ipswich. This latter is simplicity jiself, yet these two methods belong to the Surprise class. I only point out this to show that it is possible to select a much easier peal from amongst the Surprise Metloods than the one rung at Bucknall with two 'mongrels ' in it. Notwithstanding the Council's findings, it detracts not cne iota from ithe pride we feel at this performance at Bucknall. I shall be dolighted to see from 'The Ringing World' in the near future a record of the first ailent peal of true and legitimate Surprise Minor, either at Milton, Leytonstone, or any otller tower.

It would, perhaps, be not amiss at this juncture to say what constitutes a' silent' peal, as it may not be generally known, and it is well to put it before the Exercise occasionally.

1. There should be no intimation whatever given as to when the bobs should be made.
2. If a ringer should happen to make a slip, the others aro not allowed to help liim, as it would be a disqualification.
This is, as I understand, a silent " peal; no sound whatover, except that caused by the bells and ropes. It is very trying to the nerves; in fact, my brother swore he wouldre't go through the ordeal again. He said it was lite being in a vault.- Yours sincerely, Milton, Staffs.
JOHN E. WHEELDON.

DOUBLE 'JUBILEE' AT MANSFIELD.

STORY OF A RINGERS' STRLKE.

Two ringers at the Parish Church, Mansfield, have each completed fifty years of service. T'mey are Mr. George Hardstaff and Mr. Frank May. The former joined the charch choir as far back us 1868 , and two years later, when the ringers went out on strike, lie found a place in the belfry. Mr. Frank May Lerame a ringer in the year following the strike, and simee then they bave continued with groat loyalty to the church. The other day cach was presented with a handsome pipe in ease end a leather tohacco pouch, as a mark of the esteem in which they are held by their fellow ringers.
The presentation took place at a supper at the Church House, at which the ringers entertained tie Yicar and chusehwardens,
The Fiear referred to the wonderiul werord of faithinl church work and membership by Mr. Hartstaff and Mr. May, and Mr. Carr, in handing them the gifts, said these two ringers had formed a great link between past and present ringers. Both had been unfailing in their attendance, and had set a good example to the younger goneration.

One can smile in these days at the story of the strike, which resulted in these two veterans Eaking up bell ringing.

The ringers of that day 'came out' for an increased payment from 15s. to 20s., and Canon Benhett, who had theu become Vicar, said he would give them the increase, if they would attend the service on a Sundiay. It hurf the Ficar to see the ringers troop out of the church into the Ram Inn as soon as their bollig had ceased to clang, so he made the proviso mentioned. The ringers, howerer, preforred the cosy coraer of the 'Ram ' to the interior of the church, listening to the theology of tho Vicar, and they would not conform to lijs wish so they 'downed tools.' Canon Bempett set about gathering anothor band of ringers around bims, and here are the names of a few of them: Matthew Blanksby, Bob Issett, George Sibsey, Charley James, Sampson Joaes and George Jones, together with the two men recently honoured. Old Mr. Gosling, who was ringing for nearly 70 years, and who died but a few rears ago, was oce of the riggers who came out with the others, but after a time he returned and tanght the youngsters the art of ringing. Mfr. Hardstaff, in his young dope, over fifty years qgo, whilst at work on a building. Hermitage Mill, fell & distance of 40 Eect. His Elead weas cut open, and from the 191 h of December until the folloring March he lay in atate of unconsciousness. He gradually recovered nad once having got weil again suffered no disabilily from the effects of tho injury.

Among the other ringers at Mansfield wha have long records are Messrs. Allsop, Carr and David Smitl.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Owing to illness, it has been found necessary to change the venue of the anwual meeting of the Wimborne branch of the Salisbury Guild. The meeting is to be held at Wimborne Minster to-morrow, instead of at Poole, but the programme will remain the same.
The centenary of the London County Association next year is to be celebrated by a dinner, of which a preliminary anoouncement is made in our notice columas.

Tho genial loon. secretary of St. Martin's Guit, Birmingham, is the latest member of the Exercise to achieve the iroud distinction of having rung one hundred peals of Stedman Cinqtes. Mr. A. Prddon Smith completed the 'century' 111 the peal rung at $S t$. Martin's Church last week.
The edvertisement of Mr. T. Milligan, turret clockmaker, of 713, London Road, Derby, appears in this issue. Ringers, we Have reason to know, loyally support advertisers in out columns, and we ard sure that when their church clocks need overlaul they will remember that Mr. Milligan will welcome inquiries.
The roport of the landbell peal of Stedman Triples af Leiston in November has been published twice.
The new penals of eiglit at Nelson, Lancs, and Seaford, Sussex, which are being cast by Messts. Mears and Stainbank, will sbortly be opened.
The bells at Bridport, Dorset, a peal of eiglit, are to be recast and rehung in new framework by the Whitechapel Foundry.
The letter of the hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild, Birminglam last week, correcting an error in this column with regard to the number of parls of Stedman Oingues ruag on the famous bells in the Bull Fing, did nat tell us what the prerious paragraph ought really to have saikl.
The interesting fortheoming event at Birmingham is not the one hundredtli peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells, which as Mr. Smith pointed out was rung before the war, but the two hundredth twelvebell peal on the bells. 'rlwis, indeed, is a move notable record than ever, and is a wonderful testimony to the consistent maintenance of a twelve-hall company in Midlandonolis for something like a hundred and fifty years.
The number of peals rung on the twetwe bells at St. Martin's is now somewhere up in tine 190 's.
Mr. Alfied Bowell has recently been giving attention to the pea! of eight (tenor about a ton) at Benenden, Kent. The estimate included quarter turning, new steel lieadstocks, new wheels, stays, sliderg, gudgeons, bearings, pulley blocks, etc. In addition the sixtla has been recast. The whole work has been carried out in a thoroughly efficient manner, and ringers who have had the pleasuro of ringing at Benenden Eince the restoration, are all agreed that the peal is now in perfect ringing condition.

Our list of long peals is graudully being marle more complete. Recently we referred to the $15,120 \mathrm{Bob}$ Major at West Ham, in 1737 being a record held jointly with Oldham, where the same length was rung in 1807. Mr. Tom Russam, of Birminglam, now informs us of a 15,360 rung at Aston in October, 1793 , tr 9 hours 31 mins., conclucted by J. Short. In 1893 Mr. Russam liad the honour of conducting a centenary peal.
Forty years ago to-morrow the Gollege Youths rang a penl of 11,111 Stedman Caters at All Saints'. Fullam, then the longers peal in the method. No fewer than six of that band are skill atrongst us, viz., Messrs. F. E. Dawe (2), J. W. Rowbothass (4), O. W. Winney (5), E. Giblos (6), E. Horrex (8) and W. Prime (10).

December 9t] is the rinelieth angiversary of the peal of 10,229 Kent Treble Bob Maximus rung at Painswick. The penl in 1833 (eomposed and conducted by William Estcourt) long stood as the record length in the method; in fact, it was not beaton until the 12,240 was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne in 1911.
John Cox, one of London's famous old ringers, was bora on Dec. 9th, 1813-just 110 ₹ears ago.

One hundred and thirty years ago next Monday, a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung by the Junior Cumberland Society, at St. Sepulchre's, Snow Hill. At that time there was scrious rivalry hetween the serior and the junior societies.

The first peal at Su. Paul's Cathedral was rung on Dec. 10th, 1881, and we believe Mr. Ted Horrex is the only survivor of that band.
To celebrate the 65th birthday of a famous old Sussex ringer and pioneer, Mr. Harry Burstow, a 6.720 of Ganterbury l'leasure Major was rung at Horsham on December 11th, 1891. Harry Burstow lived to a ripe old age, and he land a most wonderful memory. He could sing something like 400 songs, most of them of folk lore type, and many running into scores of verses.
St. Martin's Society, Birmingham, captured the then record leogth of Stedman Cinques on December i2th, 1848.

THE 'SMACKING OF THE SHIRES.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-Lancaslite and Yorkshire Surprise are both methods of al least average quality, and had they been first rung in Norfolk and Suffolk and christened Norfolk and Suffolk, no doubt the "Euphoniacs' would have been satislied, and nobody would lave been able to insult those names by saying that "they smack of the shires.' We Northern Sliresmell bestowed tihose names as an honour to those mothods, we elristened them after great and glorious counties; the like of which exigt nowhere else in the universe; counties which from historical, clerical, commercial, or in fact, from any point of view, have honourable assaciation with everything which has made history, both in Church and State, and painted those large patches of red on the map of the world; aad the fact that these two names contained the ' terminological superfuity,' shire did not bother us one whit. We are proud of being Shiresmen of the two greatest blires the world has known, and the committee that would dictate to us as to what we should call our methods will have but short shrift and slorter term of office. Committees are elected to forward the welfare of their electorate, not in frittering away their terms of owice组 promulgating ways of breeding dissent and sowing irritants. Names we bestow are those we know to be the names borne by places with homoured associations or incidents connected with the history of our Clurch and State. We can christen our own methods; let committees carry out the duties they were olecied to do; "define limits" within which a Shiresman's choice shall operate they never shall. I know to what extent our rights of sponsorship shall be exercised if Mr. Burton does not-to the last jot-no less. If our names teem with "terminological superfuities" those who object had bettor get a move on, and ring fand christen the remainder of the unrung metwors. Then we slan't have to offend any further the tender feelings of the 'Northfolk' in the south-east. And, by the way, what nthout writing to the commanding officers of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Regiments and telling them that they possess superfluities, to which the Euphoniacs object, and to 'get a hunch on' aud change These ancient and honourable names.

At this stage ofmy discourse, Mr. Edjtor, my implied ingenuity did fail me, so I did appeal to ye beste of spouses, who did remind me that kings had lost their crowns; nay, their heads as well, through Hheir overweening autocracy; parliaments had been dissolved for abusing the powers reposed in them by their electorate, and that no doubt campanological pussffoots could be given "the bird,' and they tried to tighten the prohibition sorews on our 'ancient lights." Our Northern fastnesses breed the right to do as you like with your own. My letter, sir, may not be opercharged with euphony, it may teem with 'terminological superfiuilies,' but as Christmas is coming I will be easy, and just tell you that I am voicing the opinions, stroagly expressed, of some five hundred ringers and churchmen, whom I have discussed this matter with since it came up.
'Heress to all on us, may we niver want nowt, noan on us, nor me noather, and that 'smacks of one slize' if the undersigned does yot.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.

Tlie attempt at Duffeld on Saturday to ring a long peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was unfortunately not successful. The peal came to grief too late to make another start, but sufficient time remained to ring a five thousand, and this was brought round, as recorded elsewhere.

THE LADIES'GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern Distriet of the Ladies' Guild was hejd at Sandhurst on Saturday. Touches of Kent and Oxford Trebla Bob and Plain Bob Minor were rung before the service, six ladies faking part in each. An extremels impressive service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. Newhouse), who, in his address, gave the ringers a double welcome, one as ringers and the ather as workers in the ehurch.
A welcome tea was served in the Schoolroom, where the business meeting was afterwards held.
Two new members were elected, viz., Miss Newhouse and Miss Oldham, both of Sandhurst. Aldershot was clrosen for the next meeting, on April 5th, 1924.
Miss Robinson proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his kindness, to the organist, and to the local ringers for preparing the tea. The tower was afterwards revisited.

BURSLEM RINGER'S DEATH.

Burslem ringers have lost a valued friend and colleague by the deatls of Mr. A. Lees, who whe faithful member of the band at St. John's Church. always regular and punctual in his attendance. In memory of the demeased, 720 Orford Treble Bol, Minor was rung on Sunday evening, November $25 t_{i_{1}}$ with the bells half-muffled: E, finter 1, F. Sluker 2, T. Hurd 3 , F. Box 4 , P. Kelsale 5, T. Hi]lith (conductar) 6. First 720 in the method by ringers of treble and second

A RELIC OF JAMES BARHAM. HARRIETSHAM'S VALUABLE POSSESSION.

An old peal board of really priceless interest hangs in the tower of Harrietsham, Kent. It was erected in 1794, and records a number of peals rung during the preceding fifty fears, and its especial value lies in the fact that it gives us the names of the men who, with James Barham at their head, founded the Leeda Society.
We give below a copy of the board, kindly supplied to us by Mr. E. Hadlow, of Gravesend, who is a bative of 耳aurietsham, and as will he seen it is particularly appopriato at tino momont inasmuch as it records a peal of 10,080 Boh Major rung on December Bth, 1746.
What the present condtion of this ancient board is, we do not know, but we hope that its preservation will not be neglected.

Was ruyg 6,720 Bob Major, 4 hours 31 minutes, ineluding Will Eagles. N.B.-Eere was also rung 5,040 Bob Major, including Nicolas Gravling and Iden Plave; also 5,040 Bob Major triples, 5,040 plain Bob Triples, 5,040 FuFham triples, 10,080 Bob Major and 5,040 Sob Major Double Reverse. The above ringers first instituted the Leeds Society, whose performance in ringing las not been equalled by any socicty of -ingers, and there is now surviving Saul Graylag, Joln Freeland and James Barlam" and John Hunt, who newly erected this inscription: these 6 ringers, with the assistance of S. Lacy and Will Devis, rung at Leeds, January, 1793, 5,040 Bob Maior in 3 hours 12 minutes, whose ages, when added together, is 577 years, and it is remembered that this peal compteted 100 penls mong at different places not less than 5,040 each by the above tames Barham.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUIED  NORTH BUCKS BRANCE

A quarierly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Old Bradwell on Saturday, when a fairly representative gatherting of branch memberg atitended, although the weather was somewhat unseltled, and the place a little difficult to reack. The following towers were represented: Bietchley, Beachampton, Fenny Stratiord, Linslade, Stany Stratford, and Skenley, togetber with the local ringers. This meeting was the first that the North Bucks branch lad held at lade, Stony Stratfard, and Shenley, together witli the local ringers. who are making good progress in the art of change ringing. 2 ar bells, a nice ring of six, were utilised before service, which all the members attended.-The Vicar (the Rev. J. F. Walion) officiated, and the choir was in attendance. It was noticed that numerous parishioners were also present. The Rev. H. A. Attwater (Vicar of Gt. Linford, and an hon. member of the branch) was to liave been the preacher, but unfortunately, through illness, was unable to attend, and the Rector gave a most interesting and instructive address. Thanks to the ringers' wives and friends a splendid tea was proyided in the Sclicalroom.
The Secretary reporten that no special business lad to come before the meeting, and referred to the fact that the meeting was the first to be held at Old Bradwell. The real enthusinsm that was shown fully repaid those who had made a special effort to attend.

The usual votes of thanks weve passed to the Rector, choir, and others, who hand made the meetin ${ }^{3}$ suoh a suceess, the Rector raspond. jng.

Further ringing then took place, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Donhles, Plajn Bob, Kent Treblo Boh, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor concluded the meeting.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

 STOCKPORT BRANCH MEETINGDenton, like other places of note, posserses a handle, which membors of neighbouring townships are fond of turning. They say ' that Denton folk are always in a fog, and they certainly were on Saturday, November 24 th, when the last meetimg of the year for the Stockport Branch was held at the Church of St. Anue. The fog was of the pea soup variety, for which Manchestor is famous, consequently, travelling was very diffictit, road traffic groped about in the gloom, and trams clanged heir way through the hidden streets, taking about two and a half hours to do half an hour's journey. It is no wonder, therefore, that the majority of the branch members decited 'to keep the honve-fires burning, rather than attend the meeting, but those who did brave the elements, were compensated for their trouble by a splendid tea, to which about twenty members and friends sat down, among them being 'George' and 'John,' from Yorkshire. Mr. E. W. Elwell, of Capenburst, hon. secretary of the Guild, later on joined the company, after having lad a most dilitidt task in locating the place.

The Rector (the Rev. - Hobday), in the absence of the branch chairman, presided over the business meeting, in the course of which the bramela hon. secretary (the Rev. A. T. Beeston) extended a hearty welcome to Mr. Elwell, this being the first mecting of the branch lio Fad attended.
Reference was made to the small number of peals to the credit of the branch this year, the number nol heing at all satisfactory. Mention was also made of the proposed buanch annual clinner, which will be discussed further at a meoting of tower secretaries, to be held at an early date.

The Rector was elected an honorary menber, and six ringing members were elected from Bowdon, and one from Disley
The next meeting, whioh is the annual one, will be held at Stoek port (St. George's) on Siturday, February 231 d .
Votes of thanks were aecorded to the Rector for his address in the clurch, also with the wntrens, for permitting the mecting to he held and for the use of the balls; to the organist; and to the local yingers and their "better halves"for provining a spleadid tea.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

MEETING AT NORTON CUCKNET

A cordial wolcome was given to the members of the North Natts Assowiation when they visited Norton Cuckrew. The bells. a handy peal of sis, wore placed at the disposal of the ringers from 2 to $y$ p.m. by the new Yicar (the Rev, H, R. l'eel), who was in the tower to welcome the first arrivals, and showed his interest in their work by remaining to watoh them ring touches in various methods. Ringers were present [rom Barlharough, Suthon-in-Ashifeld, Mansfield, Ordsall, Vortsop, and the local company, There was only a moderate attendatice, wretched weather preventing many of the keenest supporters, who hutve to rely chiefly on the 'pusld bike, from making the journey. Nevertheless, what was lacking in numbers was made up by good ringing throughout the afternoon and eveniog. The methods incladed Plain Bob, Oxford, Kent, Violet and Killamarsh Treble Bob, the jwnior ringer from Ordsall, Mr. H. Revill, conducting his furst 720 of Oxford.
Tea was serwed in the Churuh Institute, and was presided over by the Vicar, who sulusequently thok the chair at the business meeting. The hon. secetary (M1. H. Haigly) made allusion to the death of Iames Fitzjom, of Shimeoaks, one of the assaciation's okiest ringers. Mr. Fitzjoln was a Sunday Service ringer of nearly 40 years' standing, ane of the best of comrades, quick to learn any new method either by diagram or figures, a splendicl striker, and a ringer who always rang witl a tight rope and graceful pall. There was no slovenliness about 'Jim Fitch,' as he was familiarly called. He titi his work thoroughly, anc it was a pleasure to watch limering his bell oceupying as little room in the tower as any ringer, he (the speaker) had ever seen. Hie was always a keen sportsman from youtl: up wards, and would be much missed by the people of Shireoaks.
The members stood for a few moments in silence, and the Vicar offered a short prayer for the departed brother
The nex meeting will be at Shireoaks carly in the new year, and will he advertised in 'The Ringing Worla.'
A vate of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and the Institute, and for presiding over the tea and meeting.

The thev. H. R. Peel, in reply, give the mombers a hearty welcome, and invited them to come egain in the summer-time. He also gave an interesting account of charch bells of the villages where he har ministered, and spoke in the lighest terms of the work of the bell ringers.
Afterwards the tower was again visited, and further pinging indulged in. One company which shall be nameless, performed the "hat trick." Their 'bus broke down on the journes, catsing two hours' delay; while ringing they broke the stay of the second hell, and afterwards the sliank of the clapper of one of a new neal of handbelis, for whelı" performances "they liad a hearty. reception.'

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

THE ARCHDEACONRY OF WISBECH BRANOH
A quarterly meeting whs held at Whatterea, Cambs, on Saturdey, November 24 th , ringers being present fron Cambridge, Ramsey, Chatterig, March, Wisbech, Peterhorough, and the local band. Some good touches of Grandsive and Stedman Iriples, Steble Bob Major, and Plain Bob, were rung, several making the lirst attempt on eight bells. The Churela of St. Mary is a grand edifice, with a stately tower and spire, 186 feet higl, a landmark for miles around. Ajthough the bello were augmented from six to dight itn i803, there is no record of a peal having been rung on them till 1904, when 5,040 Grandsiro was rung by a party of visitors. The bells are not mentioned in the parisli register since the time of King Edward III., so all that is known of the uresent ving and the previous oue of six is the dates on them. On the present sixth bell the date is 1738 , the third, fourth and serenth, are of the same date. The inseriptian on the third is 'Josepls Eayers, St. Neots, fecit.' The treble, second, fifth, and tenor are by Osborne and Dobson, of Downham, 1803.
The Viear (be Rev. L. I. Chaplin) presided at the tea and business meeting, for which he had kindly lent Situ. Mary's Clurch Room.

Wisbech was chosan for the next meeting
Mr. J. Puplett, of Mareh, who very kindly acted as secretary, in the absence of the district hon. secretary, said he was pleased to see a good number present, and hoped by their gathering that day some good might be done. They appreciated the kind welcome extended to the assecintion, and he was glad to meet the local band, who, he trusted, would persevare in the standard methods. He thanked the Vicar for presiding and for the use of the bells and parish room, and Mr. Neave for having the bells ready.-Mr. Willis, of Ramsey, secouded the proposition, which was carried.
Service was afterwards held in church, the association form being used. The Vicay, who ofticinted, gave the members a very hearty welcome to his parish.
Rimging was carried on during the evening, the visitors being very pleased with the fine old bells.

240 GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.

NEW GALLTNG FOR SIX-SCORES.

Mr. A J Pitman of Port Talbot, witos as follows; I feel sure that the following 240 of Grandsire Doubles, which 1 oblained some time ago, will be fothd useful to conductors of peals etc., in this method who would like further variety in calling as it is certainly monotanons, havinty only ton 120 's to enll four fimes at least.
The 240 wili be found to consist of two distinct 120 's combined. counting 12345 and 23245 as the first changes of frst and second 120 respectively.
There are also twelye variations to be obtained by commencing the calling as from each lead and in the usual way.

MULTI-METHOD PEALS.

The peal in thirty-five methods rung last week at Norbury, Cheshire, teads us once again to urge a much wider practice among six-bell ringers of ringing multi-method extents. We have emphasised the matter on more than one occasion, but we make no excuse for returning to it. The Norbury band, who are heartily to be congratulated on ringing a record number of methods in seven true seven hundred and twenties, stand in a unique position among six-bell ringers. They have reached the top of the ladder in that particular department of ringing, but they have done it only by patience and perseverance, coupled with enthusiasm and determination. It is difficult, and often dangerous, to make comparisons, but we §venture to say that nothing finer in method ringing has ever been accomplished on tower bells. It may be there are some ringers who will disagree with us on this point, but they will be very few in number. But while the Norbury band seem to be far in advance of any other company in this special phase of Minor ringing, what they bave achieved is equally open to others.
There are mayy accomplished six-bell bands up and down the country, and we would like to see a much more general application of method splicing in the peals they ring. We are sure they would find that it gives an added interest to their ringing, and it is certainly another step in raising the standard of performances on six bells. No one would expect a band to strike out at once into the splicing of thirty-five methods. The Norbury men have only reached that number by stages, but a small expansion of the repertoire of a six-bell company would quickly enable them to include multi-method extents in their peals. As Mr. Wheeldon aptly pointed out in his letter in our last issue, it does not follow that a Surprise Method is necessarily more difficult than others whics are included in a different classification, and some of the methods included in spliced extents give a ringer all the mental exercise he desires. Surprise method companies, therefore, need not think that they are dropping to any lower standard, so far as methods are concerned, when they take up multimethod peal ringing. On the contrary, they will probably find it not only more interesting, but a good deal more difficult, than a peal in seven, or even fourteen, Surprise methods each starting from rounds. There is a big scope for enterprising ringers in this attractive field. Minor ringing is opening out upon a very large but little explored region, and there is a great opportunity for pioneers. For those who desire to make a start, the material is already provided, for the metiods are to be found in the Central Council Collection, and 'spliced 'compositions are available for the asking.

ST. MARY'S, ACTON, OUTENG.

Owing to cireumstances the St. Wary's ringers have lo make their outing in liwo half-days, ant lale in tho jear. For the frest trip a Saturday afternood journey was made to Maideahead, where an hour's ringing was thoronghly enjoyed, the methoits successfisly brought round on this lovely peal of eighi beivg Grandsive ant Stedman Triples, Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. The next move was to Marlow, where the party were met by their old frienc, Harry Callins, who joined thera et tea. Alterwards a move was marle to the tower, where some excellent ringing in the ahove-mentioned methods was enjoyed with the Warlow ringers. Wooburn Green was the final call, and Acton was reached near midnight. On the following Saturday the purty visited Reading, where their estecmed friend, Mr. J. R. Mackmen, piloted them to St. Lawrence Church, where they rang some Grandsire and Stedman Caters with the local band and Mr. Oshorn, and the party were weloomed by the veteran, Mr. W. NewelI. Tracks were made for St. Giies', and an hour there with standard methods went all too soon. After this the band split up for tea, some being the privileged guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mackman. The last pull was at Caversham, where a jolly time was spent in ringing various methods until 9.30 . Best thanks are returned to the warions Vicars for the use of the bells, to Mr. Harry Collins, to friends at Maidenhead, Mr. East, of Wooburn, Mr. and Mrs. Mackman and druglaters for their liospitality, Mr. Osborn, and Mr. Simmonds, of Reading.

DEVON GUILD．

SUGGESSFUE MEETPNG OR EXETER BRANGE．
The fourth annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Guild of Devonshire ringers was held at St．Sidwell＇s Institute，Ereter，on Saturday week．A well－attended service was held in the Parish Church，and conducted by the Rev．J．B．Ball（curate of Littleham） and the Rev．E．V．Cox（Vicai of Littlebam－cum－Exmouth）．Tea and mecting were subsequentiy held in the Institute，and among those present were Messrs．E．Skepherd（chairman of the branch），W．J． Sonthwood（hon．secretary and theasurer），J．O．Oke（assistant secre－ कary），the Rev．Maitland Kelly（President of the Guild），Mr．T． Bartlett（Lon．Lreasurer of the Guild），the Revs．E．V．Cox，J．B． Ball，F．Knight，and E．A．Julyan．Letters of apology for inability to attend were read from the Revs．E．S．Powell（hon．secretary of the Guild＇，Preb．Smith－Dorrien，E．P．B．Weber，G．H．Mallett， and A．Poulton，and Mr．S．Hull．About 120 members attended，and included representatives from the following bands：St．Sidwell＇s，St． David＇s，and St．Thomas＇（Exeter），Heavitree，Thorverton，Topsham， Newton St．Oyres，Littleham，Honitor Clyst，Upton Pyne，Withycombe Raleigl，Sowton，Clyst St．George，Ghristow，and Alphicgton．

A vote of sympatliy was passed to the Rector of St．Sidwell＇s（the Rev．F．Jones），who is seriously ill，and to the relatives of the lato Mr．J．Richards，a very old and respected mernber of the Guild．The hon．secretary was asked to write a letter in each ense on behalf of the branch．
It was decided to hold a combined meeting of the Exeter and Soutl Devon Branches at Ohudleigh on Saturday，January 19th，to celebrate the augmentation and re－opening of the peal of eight now being instatied by Messrs．Gillett and Johnston，of Croydon．

The following officers were re－elected：Mr．E．Shepherd，chairman； Mr．W．J．Southwood，hon．secretary and treasurer；and Mr．J．C． Oke，assistant recretary．

It was decided to lold the next puarterly meting of the branch at Alphington on Saturday，March 1st．
It was grabifying to find new members still being elected．Four were admitted ab this meeting．

Mr．Shepherd proposed a vote of than⿻弓⿰丿丨贝刂灬 to the Revs．J．B．Bal． and E．V．Cox for couducting the service；the orgauist，verger and ladies，for kindly presiding at the tea tables．

An intoresting event took place daring the ringing，after the meet－ ing，when two octogenarians，namely，the President of the Guild（the Rer．Maifland Kelly）and Mr，H．Payme，took part in a touch on the bells of gt．Petrock＇s．

YE COMPLEAT CONDEUTOR．

We met for a peal of Cambridge Minor at a strange clurch in a strange village，at least，it was strange to we three．Our con－ ductor met us at the gate，with the ether members of the band， ductor met，us at the rate，withing us to the church，bade us beware the step near the lectern．We have still to find that step，but after a deal of shufl－ ing we struck the riuging room also minus in step．This we found to be illuminated，by a single tlat－flame burmer，12Ft．up the wall．Our cicerane，nothing daunled，produced trona a linad－ bag a complete incandescent fitting，remarking that he had＂pinch－ ed it from the front room．＇By the aid of＇long Fred ：and a bit of agility，the burner was soon＇in situ＇and the peal ran merrily until near the end of the third 720，when another step occurred， over which two tripped liadly，and the fonors came up wrong way． Result，peal＇Napoo．

After carefully removing the gas fitting，and hanging up the mantle（for fulure possible use）out of larm＇s way by means of a hook ingeniously fashioned from a bair－pin，we repaired to a place described by our official french linguist as a＂Estimate．＇There we regaled all and sundry．with courses of Triples．Major and Caters on the most weird set of haudbells in existence．These bells are truly effeminate．having their tongues made of clothes－ pegs with springs from the ubiguitous hair－pin．They hava a nasty knack also of occasionally fifing of the headstack．and proved most disconcerting to the waiters，who bach kept recognisiag his own particular bell and answering it．

However，we threg lad a long way to go home，and our conductor volunteered to show us a near cut across the ficlds to the point whore we could trke a bus．After floundering about the first ficld in the ink ${ }_{y}$ darkness of wnr－times．the conductor mentioned quite casually that he had not been，this way for Tears．Fortumately， we three were all＇old sweats，and，with the ew－bandeman head－ ing the ex－battalion，we made fair progress，until we found aurselves in a feld with an unclimbable iron ferce．＂We oltyht to ha＂went through higher up，＇quolh the conductor．but we climbed the fence and marehed on．

Gravellyacre was soon reachen，and liere the conductor consoled us with＂There＇ll be a bus any minute now．＂There was，and wo got in and soon found we wera making for quite a difforent point to what was desired．binl after about 20 minutes of exacrablo road we struck a chaser，which landed us in Waxton safely．Te wonder if our conductor，who has a penchant for wrang trains， conducted himself fona safely．Anpway，we bhall give him the ＇go by＇next trip．

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The six-bell band at Norbury, Gheshire, who are mithout question the premier company in spliced method ringing, have added yet further to their laurels, by ringing a peal in which no fewer than 35 methods have been linked up in seven true extents. This is really a wonderful performance, and the whole Exercise will congratulate this enterprising band opon their unique achievement.
On lis departure for Brecon, the Rev. T. R. J. Jones, curate of Knighton, was presented by the ringers wilh a solid silver inkstand as a mark of their respect and esteem. The presentation was precaded by an excellent dianer, generously given by the Ringing Master (Mr P. Jones)

Mr. R. Palmer, of Hatherleigh, North Devon, lats died at the age of 94, in the house in which he wha horm and had lived all his life. As verger of the parish church and the captain of the bell ringers up lo recent years, the had rung the ourfew at $80^{\prime}$ clock eacl evening.
Leatherhead bells are to be restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. They have already been taken to the Foumdry, where the gth is to be recast. They will be rehung in complete acw fittings.

Mr. B. Fullwood, of Bedgloy, offers For sale the rights to mantfacture a patent locking device for bells. Such a preventive against accident when bells are up is most desirable, and sooner or later is likely to be added as a sort of 'standard" equipment in belfries.
Both born on December 5th, 1865, in the county of 'Glister,' Mr. J. W. Jones, the hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, and Mr. W. B. Biss, of Cardif, have several times rung a birthday peal togatier. They added another to those successful celebrations ly ringiag in a peal of Grandsire Caters last week.
A record which stood for over 150 years was set up by the College Yeutlis on December 15th, 1735 , when they zang 8,008 Grandsire Cinques at Southwart. This is supposed to be the first peal ou the bells, add the lagth was not beaten until 1887, when 9,020 was rung at Birminglem. At Southwark, "Mr. Benjamin Aurable call'd bobs,' and the peal was 'the longest that ever" was done.'
On the old peal of twelve at Spitalfields on Dec, 20th, 1806, "a peal of 6,334 Cinques upon Stedman's Principle' was rung by the Senior Cumberlands, "being the most ever rung in that method." Only five dajs before the Junior Cumberlands had ruag 5,886 in the sume mathod on the same bells, and these two performances coming sa close togethar are all the more mateworthy from the fact that previously only two other peals of Stedman Cinques are known to have been rung.
The first peal of Stedman Triples "jn hand ' was rung at the 'Three Kings," Clerkenwell, London, seventy years ago oext Weanesday by the Cumberland Fouths. The recold of the performance says the peal was brought round in fine style, the ringers boing John Cox, Thomas Poweli, Henry Haley and Thomas Brithn. The ringing took place in the presence of 19 members of the College Youths and Oumberland Sociaties, some of whom checked the sixes as they were rung. Later on, we believe, Cooter condemned the peal as 「alse. This is a point, perhaps, upon which some of our readers can give us delinite information.
On December 15th, 1904, the first peal in South Africa was rung at Woodstock.
The fire peal of Canterbury Pleasure Major wag rung at Waraham, Sussex, on December 17th, 1888.
A meeting of the London County Assaciation (Soulhera District) bas been arrangod at short natice for Saturday next at St. Luke's, Chelsea.

The question raised in this column recently as to the Foungest canductor of Holt's Original seems to be settled by the performance of a yroung Leicaster ringer, Walter Whitehead, who last week called the peal before reaching the age of 16.

Last Saturday the first peal was rung on the bells at Westoning, Bedfardshire. Originally a ring of five, they were recently made into a peal of six by the gift of a treble by Mr. H. Spensley, of Westoning Manor, in momory of his mother. The work was cerried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The back five hells are deted respectipely as follows: 1672, 1743, 1829, 1722, 1743.

ONE HUNDRED 720's IN A YEAR.
From December 24th, 1922, to December 2nd, 1923, St. James' ringerg, Eitst Crompton, Lanes, rang one hundvef corplnte '7ay's in 13 Linor methods, 71 extents having been rung for gervice, as follows: Oxford ana Fent Spliced, 3; Oxford, 9; Kent, 17; Violet, 17; New Londion, 6: Duke of York, 10; Woodbine, Il: Merchants Return, 6; London Scholars Pleasure, 10: Callege Bob IV., 7; Plain Bob, 2; Kingston, 1; Sandal, 1. There are two bands at this church wha take Sunday riuging in tura.

TEN BELL TOWERS.

tew kesbury abbey. By J. R. Jerram.
Tewkesbury Abbey recently celebrated the eight hundredth anniversary of its foundation.

This fine view of Tewkesbury Alibey is from a photograph kindly loaned ly Mr. F. E. Dawe.

At the present time this noble pile possesses a peal of ten bells, tenor 5 I inches diameter, 24 cwt . The inscriptions are as follow:

These bells were originally a peal of cight by Albraham Rudhall. sen., in 1696-probably one of his earliest works-the two trebics being added by f fears and Stainbank in 1913.
There was originally a detached campanile at Tewkesbury of which Mr. H. B. Walters gives an illustration, in his 'Church Bells of England " (p. 63). The following tablets ate in the belfry:-

- In the year 1837 this peal had two belis recast an l all the others tuned, with new frame and langings by Mr. Cull; and on the 16 lh of October in that year an opening took place, upon which ocoasion the Cheltenham Society succeedect in obtaining a true and compleat peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, containing 5184 changes, in 3 hours 6 mins., by:

' MACTE NOFA VIRTUTE. On these bells. Januaty 15th, 1877, m 3 hours 3 mills, was rung by Tewkesbury Abbey Socicty, a true and compleat peal of 5040 Grandsire Triples, in 6 parts: the whole containing 194 bobs and 46 singles. The first ruag liere by a local Society:

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The last meeting of the year of the North and East District of the Middlesex Gounty Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney, on Saturday last, and was a very enjopable one in every respect. Some 36 members attenderd, and a large number of methods, jneluding Bristol, London and Cambridge Surprise, were rung-
A short service was held at 5 p.m., at which the Rev. J. Meeser (curate) afficiated, in the unavoidable absence of the Rector (the Rev. G. I'. McLean). The sermon was especially noticeable for some werds of real wisdom, which it is hoped were taken to heart in these very troublesome days.

Atter ter a slort lusiness meeting was held, at which three mew members were elected, and a hearty vote of thanks passed to the Theclor for the use of the bells; to the Rev. J. Meeser for his great assistanca and helpful words; and to Mr. A. Riley for his etrorts to make this meeting a pleasant one, in which, it slould be recordett, he succeeded. Thanks are also due to Mr. H. W. Stricsland, a member of the Tottenhani band, for valuable help rendered at the harmonium during the service.
Ringing was again indulged in until nearly 9 o'clock, in which the Younger generation was well to the fore: and, jutging by the in terest taken by little Ernest Pye in what was going on, it will no: be many years before he begins to make an attempt on some of his father's records

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The quarterly meating of the Western District was liefd on Suturday at Portishead, and there was a goad attendance. ## YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DISTRICT AT SELBY.

A quarterly meeting of the Lastern District was held at Selby on Saturday, December 1st, tand by kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. Canan Solloway, D.D.1, the abbey bells, a tise ring of tea, were placed at the disposal of ringers throughout the afternoon and evening. At chural evensong the address by the Vicar of Selby was much appreciated.
T'en was afterwards held in the Co-operative Hrill, and about 35 sat down, representing towers at Dancasler, Femingbrough, Hull, Market Weighton, Leeds, Sherburn-in-Elmet, Thorne, Wetberby, Wortley and York.
The business meeting followed, Tr". Solloway presjding. An apology for absence was received from Mr. A. A. Wert (vice-president), who was unfortunately laid by with a severe cold.
It was decided to hold the annual district meeting at Pontefract in March, 1924.
Two new members were clected to ilie association, viz., Mr, A. D. Clege, of York, and Mr. T. Lensk, of Fishilade.
On the motion of Mr. P. J. Jolznson (hon. gen. secretery), a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Dr. Solloway for the use of the bells, and elso for his address at the service. The Vicar, responding in a humorous and heppy veln, spoke of the great pleasure it gave him in laving the association at Selby-
A vote of thanks was also passed to the choir and organist for their sorvices, and to the local company for having made such excellent arrangements. -This was reaponded to by Mr. F. Ellis (nssistant organist) and Mr. T. Morgan.
The members afterwards adjonmed to the tower for further ringing.

DEATH OF AN OLD SMETHWICK RINGER.

Mr. Joseph Hughes, ac one lime a yingar at the Old Churel, Smeth wick, and in hif carly days at Laghton, near Welbhpool, passed awny rerj suddenly on December 2nd, in his 73rd year. The inter nent took place at the Ohd Church, Sraethwick, on December 6th, the Rev: Canon Astbury oftciating. Meny wreatlis were sont by relatives and old trieuds, and kind sympathy was freely expressed by those of the local ringers who remembered him. His dieath is mourned by the widow, and daughters and sons, Messrs. J. Iughes, of Bangor, and A. J. Hugles, Rhy

The deceased came of ringing stook, his fatler and grandather Iaving been ringers hefore him. He was not a great change ringer, but lian rung a few peals of Grambive Zitipleg, mostly for the Socicty for the srchdeaconry of Stafford.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Saturdin, Deceuber list, af, Pattishali, Northants, a quarterpeal of Grandsire Doubles ( 1,260 changes), in 50 mins.: W. Wige (fist quarter') 1, J. W. Haymes 2, B. C. Asplis 3, J. M. Gray 4, J. A. Towngend (conductor) 5, A. Birch 6.

This quarter-peal was rung after the wedding of Miss A. Whitehead to Mr. Leslie Pagler. The bride is the daughter of Mr. John Whitelsead, who las for many feats been a ringer and choristor at the larish Charch. The ringers were antortained to lea by the bride and briderroom

THE STETELEEEEPCR'S DAUGHTERS

On Saturdays, Nov. 17 th abd 24 th, the two rumaining daughters of Mr. G. T. Leader, of Slough, were respectively married at the Parish Church of St. Mary by the Rector (the Rer. A. G. P. Baines, M. A.), Miss May Leader being wedded to Mr. W. H. Jacques, and Miss Dorotly M. Leader to Mr. David Patey. Mr. Leader gave his daughters away, a quiet pretty wedding in each case, with relations and frients aroused, temmating with a honeymoon spent at Brigbton.
Both ladies were change ringers, taught by their father, Dorothy having rang a couple of quarter-peals of Grandsire Tiziples, and they helped to keep the Sunday Service ringing going during the war and afterwards.
On November 24th the Slough ringers and friends held an enjojable practice at the clurch to honour the douhle exent, when seweral touches of Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung by Mcssrs, Hooper, Henley, Bateman, Smith, Farr, Leader, A. and T. Harding, Ferrymar, Welling, Bedford. Franklin, and the towerkeeper. An adjournment to the Reindeer Hotel, at the invitantion of Mr. and Mrr. Leader, eablyed the company to drink to the health of the brites and the bridegrooms, and to taste the cake,

During his long conaedion with Slough tower, Mr. Leader has spliond many rapes, hati few steoplekeepers can say they liave 'spliced' four bonnje daughters.

GILENT' SURPRISE MINOR PEALS.

To the Euitor

Doar Sir,--It may interest Messrs. Dawson and Wheeldon, and also ohlor members of the Exercise, to know that at least two "silent pleals have been rung in seven legitimate Surprise Minor methods. the first was rung at Oswaidtwistle, Lancashire, on February 16th, 1913, in 2 hours 46 minutes, anul the methods were: Canterlury, Lonlon, Wells, Durham, York, Lancashire, and Stamford. The second one was rung at Walton-on-the-Hill, Liverpool, on Nov. 4th of the same year in 2 hours 39 suitutes, and the metliods were: London, Cnnterbury, Claster, Carlisle, Hoverley, York aud Cambridge.

1 have every rensun to helieve these were two excellent performances, and rung sfrictly aceording to the rules that govern silent peal ringing. lu giving this informution I in no way wish to detract from the ligh maril of the Bucknall men's achievenent in 1897, but rather regret that the Contral Council rulings were against them in later years.-Yours faithfully,

GEORGE R. NEWTON.

A FALSE METHOD

Sir,-Afler reading Mr. Wheeldon's reply to Mr . Dawson's query, wny 1 ask whicl: Superlative was rnng in the peal he refers to: Cambride Surpriso reverse, or the Superlative, No. 42 in c.c.c. Methoils ' ${ }^{\prime}$ If No. 42 was fung I camnot tunderstand why it was hl lowerl to reanain, as 1 am quite sure it is an alien, it being impossible to get a 720 true witla calling W.R.W., 32465 being a false row Perhnps some other gentleman lans pointed this aut before, but not reesentil. To make it more platin here is a 720 by the lead ends showing the false rows.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

On account of the Christmas Holidays, The Ringing World for December 28th will have to be sent to press two days earlier than usual in that week.

Matter intended for publication in that issue should reach us as early as possible, but notices and reports relating to events on Saturday, December 22nd, will be accepted up to first post on Monday, December 24 th

We hope that all peals rung up to the a2nd will be sent to us by that date, so that they may not overload our columos in the following weet, when we bave to deal with the extra pressure of holiday ringing.

SPADE WORK IN CHESHIRE

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Port Sumlight resurded last week is worthy of specinal note. The achievement cen be attri buted almost wholly to the efforts of Mr. E. Ludkin, who, however, would, in liss modesty, be the last to claim such credit. Here are the facts. The treble ringer was first introduced to a belfry early this year, another has been barely two years a change ringer, while in May of this year more than lralf the band had not rung Treble Bob Major inside.
In a district where change ringing was at a low elb and peals by residents almost impossible, Mr. Ludkin's efforts hara been respon sible for the following succeeses since the early surumer' : "Resident peals of Treble Bob Minor and Major and Surprise Miror and Major Several other peals lave been rung, and on eacli occasion one or more 'first pealers' have taken part.
Such labours as Mr. Ludkin has put in in the cause of ringing merit recognition.

A MUFFLED HALF=PEAL

At Clurist Church, Pendlebwy, Lancashire, on Sunday, Dec. 9th, for evening service, with the bells fully muffect, a half-peal of Grandsire Triples ( 2,520 clanges) was rung in 1 hour 30 minutes by Wor. Walton 1, A. Wallwork 2, Geo. Morriss (conductor) 3, 'N. Lingard 4, J. Brockiank 5. S. Bracley 6, G. Sedden 7, J. Edge 8. This half-peal was rung as a mark of respect to the late Mr. W. E. Chapman, whose funeral took place on December 6th at Swinton Cemetery. He had bect connected with Clirist Cluwelh for a number of years, having occupied the affees of churchwayden, siderman and Sunday School teacher, and the loss of his services will be much felt by all connected with the church.

THE PEAL AT GAINSBOROUGH.

The peal of Bob Major at Gainsborough on Seturday was arranged for Miss C. Heplourn, of Isham, Northamptonslire, wha was on a visit to Gainsborough, and is the first lady ringer to take part in a peal on these hells. It was also a farewell compliment to the Rer. K. I. McFarland, of New Zealand, who for the past three mouths has been assisting in the parish of All Saints, and, to the sincere regret of the parishioners, is tnking his departure for other dioceses in Eng land before refurning to his native country.

LONG LENGTHS OF ROYAL.

The attempt which is to be made on Boxing Day for a peal of ro,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal is a reminder that among the many long lengths that have been rung, peals of "Ten-In" are by no means numerous. Peals of Major, in which the changes ran into five figures, could be literally numbered by the dozen-there are records of more than a score over $\mathrm{I} 2,000$ in length-and yet we believe the peals of more than ten thousand of Royal could be numbered on the fingers of one hand. Stedman and Grandsire Caters have been methods over which for nearly two centuries ringers bave striven for records. No fewer than five times in the last thirty-five years the Stedman Caters' record has been broken, while half a dozen new records were made in Grandsire Caters during last century. But long lengtbs of Royal seem to have had little attraction for ringers during all this time; indeed, the record of 12,000 put up in i 784 by the Royal Cumberland Youths remained unbroken, as far as can be ascertained, until the Ashton-under-Lyne men rang a peal of 14,000 in the year 1914. The earlier record was the culmination of an interesting struggle for supremacy between the two great rival London societies, whicls began with a round ten thousand of Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch by the College Youths in 1777 and ended with the Cumberlands' 12,000 seven years later. And that, so far as we are aware, was the end of record making with ten-in for a bundred and thirty years, although there was more or less constant effort on all other numbers, with the exception of Maximus, in which a 10,224 , rung at Painswick in 1833 , waited until 1911 before being beaten-also at Asbton-under-Lyne. As far as we can trace, and should it be otherwise we should be glad to be informed, all the long lengths of Royal and Maximus have been Treble Bob, and herein perbaps lies the explanation of the absence of attempts to make new records. Has it been due to the uninteresting nature of Plain Bob and the monotony of Treble Bob that ringers have been loth to set out upon those herculean tasks that have marked the progress of record peals in other methods? If this be so, the advent of Surprise Royal ringing, as a more or less regular feature of present-day practice, is likely to change this state of affairs. The limitations which may be found even in Cambridge Surprise disappear in some of the newer methods, which are not only more difficult, and therefore more interesting, but, having a cleaner proof scale, will lend themselves to the composition of longer lengths without parting the big bells. We look upon this long peal of Cambridge Royal, by whoever it is first rung-and the Leicester men were unfortunate in not pulling it off-as the precursor of an attempt, or, naybe, series of altempts, to set up a new record in Royal ringing.

DINNERE PRESENTATIONS AT BLACKHILL,
On Thursday, December 6th, the members of St. dilan's Guild Bhackhill, held their first ammual dinner if St. Aidan's Cburch Fall Blachhill. 'Why chair was talsen by the President fthe Rev. Jenkin Jones, M.A., Vicar), Mr. G. W. Brydon being in the vice-chair. About 40 grests sat down to an excellent repast, amongst those present heing Mr. Chas. Todid, of Darlingion, the Presitent of the Durham and Newenstle Dionesan Association; Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brodie, Miss Mudge, Mrs. Lee (the donor of St. Aidan's bells), Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. J. Siddell (vice-presidents), Mr. W. W. Sinclair (the Ringing Master) and Mrs. Sinclair, togetler with the ringers and their wives.-After dianer the Chairman proposed the tonst of the Durlam and Newcastle Diocesan Assaciation of Change Ringers, saying how much St, Aidan's Church was indehted to the association for baving provided ringers when the bells were dedicated a year ago, and for their assistance and advice in all matters pertaining to ringing; also for recommending a practical ringer in Mr. Sinclair as instructor.-Mr. Todd, who replied thanked the cheirman for his kind renarks, and sait that by assisting in the way referred to the association was carrying out one of the abjects for which it was intended, while another was to improve the quality of ringing for Sunday services.-'St. Aidan's Guild of Change Fingers was proposed by Mr. Marshall, and responded to by Mr. Macfeggan.
Mr. J. Siddell proposed the health of the founder of the feast, Mre Lee, nnd referred to her great generosity in giving the bells to St. Aidan's Church
Mr. Brydon proposed the health of the ladies.
#armony was supplied by Messrs. P. Watson, N. Johnson, 日nd others, the ringers adding tikeir share to the proceedings by ringing a plain course of Grandsire Triples and 120 Bob Doubles, ete., on the hand bells.
During the evening, Mr. Sinclair presented each ringer with a certificate of membership of the Durham and Newcastle Association, and also with the association badge to wear on their watcla chains
Perbsps the rasst pleasing item on the programme was when the chairman, on behalf of the members of the Guild, presented Mr. Sinclair wilh a gold albert and pendant, as a slight mark of esteem and regard far the way in which he has carried out his dutieg as Ringing Master. The pendant hears this inscription: ${ }^{\text {a }}$ Presented to Wm. W. Sinclair by St. Aidan's Guild of Change Rinerers, Noveaber, 1923. In making the presentation, the Vicar referred to tize lard work $^{2}$

Mr. Sinclair lad put in, in teaching a band of ringers who were al! novices.

Mr. Sinclair, in thanking the members for their gift, sain it was a pleasure to help and teach those who were willing to learn the art of bell ringing, and he hoped before another year passed, to have the best band of ringers in the district for eiglat hell tawers.
'Auld Lang Sype' and the National Anthem bronght a most enjoyable ovening to a ciose.

BELERY GOSSIP.

The Vencrable the Archdeacon of Swinton has accepted the invitation of the Bristol United Guilds to be present at their third annual dinners as 'guest of the eveling.' Musical items will be given this year between the toasts. There is, we are informed, a little surprise for the committee, which will he very much appreciated, being in the thatare of a return $f \mathrm{fr}^{\prime}$ ' Honour Bestowed.'
The Middlesex Association are, we believe, the forst society to ring a hundred peals of Bristol Surprise. To the fact that their leading Burprise ringers took the method up with such keenness is largely due the popularity which Bristol has attained to-day. Outside the three old Surprise Methods, no other has been practised to anything like the same extent as the Rev. E. B. James' creation. The Middlesex 'hundred,' it is interesting to note, includes the anly three handbell peals in the method, and the 15,264 at Kornchurch in 1912.
The new peal of eight at Neison, Lanes, installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, were opened on Saturday.
Seaford (Sussex) bells which have been recest, and rehung in a new frame, are to be dedicated to-morrow (Saturday).
The very first peal of Treble Bols on record was rung on December $27 \mathrm{th}, 1718$. This was a performance by the Uuion Scholars, and the peal was rung at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, Cily. Following the custom prevailing at that time the society called the method after their own name, viz., Union Treble Bob, but, although the title clung to it for a while, other ringers gave it the name of Oxford, by which we know it to-day.

To all our Readers,

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS."

An interesting fact about this peal is that the composition is preserved to us. It is a five-part, with a befove in every course, and two bobs Wrong and one Home in every fourth eourse.

The Christmas Holidays have been a favourite time for long peals, and among the noteworky peals have been the following: On Dec. 26th, 1831, 15,168 Kent I'reble Bob Major at Eliand; 1885, 8,064 Double Norwich at Leiston by College Youths; 1894, 9,312 Superlative Surprise at Crawley; 1901, 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham; 1901, 10,176 Kenl Treble Bob Major at Beeston, Notts; 1910, 9,728 Superlative Surprise (record) at Cleat, Worcestershire.
On December 27tin, 1904, 17,104 Double Narwich ai South Wigston; 1909, 10,176 Double Oxford Bob Major, Byierley Fill.
Miss Nancy Denyex, at the age of 13 yearrs, has just rung her first peal at Aldershot, where the local band, including four ladies, have just scored their 'first.' The methor was Bob iflajor. The band would like to know if they possuss the youngest lady who has ever rung a peal of Major on tower belis. Miss Denyer rang her bell excoptionally well throughout the peal, and the Ladies' Guild have every reason to be proud of the latest, recruit to their peal ringers' ranks. It will be noticed that a landbell peal rung in London by Gumberland and College Fouths last week, was rung under the auspioes of the Oxford Guild.
Wilh regard to the pal of Cambridge at Port Sunlight on November $26 t h$, it should have been recorded as the first peal of Surprise Major by a baud residing in the Wirral Peninsula.
) The peal of Doubles at Barlaston, Staffis, on November 24th, was rung in 2 hours 50 minutes, not 3 hours 50 minutes, as published.
The new trebles to make a peal of cight at Wesi Wgcombe and the new peal of eight which Messrs. Taylor and Co. have placed in the tower at Newehurch, Lancs, were dedicaled on Saturday. No time was lost in putting the bells to the proft, for in each case $a$ peal was rung on them on the following doy.
A lettor from Mr. A. Craven with regard to Edinburgh surprise is unaroidably held over till rext week.
Sir mats used by bell ringers at Chertsey Parish Chureh-where the cutfew has been rung for 600 rears-have been stolen Trom the beffry. This is one of a series of thefts from ohurches in West Surrey, the belief being that the person who carried them of used at motor-car.

DEDICATION OF NEW PEAL AT NEWCHURCH.
A SPLENDID PRODUCTION FROM LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRE.
Un Saturday, December 15 th, the new peal of bells at the Parish Clurch, Newchurch, neal Warrington, were dedicated by the Ven. Archdeacon Howson (Archdeacon of Warrington). The service was, indeed, very impressive, aud there was a large attendance, which ineluded many bell ringers from various parts of the country, and Mi. Taylor, representing the founders.

The recast bells are a beautiful ring of eight, cast bv Messrs. John Taylor and Co., the famous Loughborough foundry. Tlie tenor bell is a fine-toned bell of just over 12 cwt.; in $F$ sharp, and the whole peal have been tuner on Messrs. Taylor's latest reinforced system of Larmonical tuning. Undoubtedly to the listener the peal sounds wonderfully melodious, quite a coutrast to the original bells, and upon all sides, as the congregation were leaving the churel after tire dedication ceremony, one heard nothing but praise for the wonderful tional results obtained.

Tllen with regard to the fittings, these contain all those improwements in bell haging which Messrs. Taylor have introduced in recent years, inchuding, of course, ball bearings in which the bells swing.
The shrong and nassive iron framework whioh carries the bells is so desiynoed by the bell founders that the least possible amount of strain is placed upon the tower walle, and this framowork is even a source of strength to the tower, as the main foundation pirders are arranged and tixed sa as to form a lrond to the tower walls. The ringers were entranced by the splendid 'go of the bells, sud everyone is to be congratulated upon the achievement of so magniticent a result.

The insoriptions upon the bells are as follow, together with the founders' mark-Recest by Taylor. Loughborough-on each bell :-
Treble. To the memory of their neplew, Rolsert Leigh, who died at Trinity Hall, Cambridge, Nov. 14h, 191 k , aged 22 years.

2nd.-'the gift of the Misses Leigh, Leigli Hall, Kenyon.
3rd and 4th bells blank.
5th,-Three bells, the gift of M. M. S. Marsh, High Peak, Kenyon. lu memory of her brothers.

6th.-To the memory of Ann Allen, Brooklya, Culcheth. The gift of her sister.
7th.-To the memory of Thomas Ellames Withington. The gift of his son and daughter, Arthur and Cecilia.
Tenor.- To the memory of the fallen in the war, 1914-1919. Rev. W. W. Whitterbury-Kaye, Rector. R. Grimshaw and R. Uverton, Churehwardens, 1923.
After the ceremony, the ringers and visitors were invited to the Schools for tea, orer which many reminiscences were recalled. However, as may be imagimed, the ringers were eager to return to the belfy, and the first touch of Superlative Surprise was rung on the lells by the following : Messrs. A. Barnes, P. Taylor, T. B. Worsley, A. F. 'Baily, J. Potter 7". Barlow, J. W. Washbrook and F. Openshaw. Many other methods were rung during the evening by farious ringers.
The Newclurch band consists of Messis. J. Leatherbarrow (leader), F. Reymolds, J. Yates, W. Fampson, J. Orms, G. Pounell, W. Gould and E. Leatherbarrow. There are two understudies, E.' Thomason and F. Thomeson.
On Sunday next a canol service is being held in the clurch, the special featare being the ringing of hymn tunes upon the bells,
"THE BIG BELL OF BOW.'
The famous tenor at Bow, Cheapside, is justly considered by musical experts, and by ringers generally, to be unexcelled for richness and purity of tone. It is also. porhaps, the most historicul and valued bell in existence. The "Big Bell at Bow' is versed in oursery rhyme, and well known in all parts of the world! It cannot, therefore, be mondered at, that, it is the ambition of many men to ring it for a peal. Up to about in century and a half ago, the records show that it alseays required two and sometimes three ringers to achieve this, but in 1787, Philip Pilgrim was the first man to do so single-landed.
A lengthy searel of all the records show that up to the present moment exactly 21 ringers have accomplished this performance, which number includes two well-known ringing parsons. We venture to think, however, that none can appreciate the distinctive houour of doing so more than F. E. Dawe, who called a peal of Stotman Cinques from it on Saturday, December 8th, within measurable distance of his 62nd birthday!
Many peals of Stedman Ginques have now been called from the tenor, but Mr. Dawe was the first to do this wher lie called the famous 'Baclelor's Peal ' at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, City, on 7th February, 1891.
The earliest recorded mention of a bell ai Bow Charch is in 1334, when the city ordered that no one should wander about the streets 'after the hour of curfesp rung out at the Church of our Lady at Bow.' The Great Fire of 1666 destroved the old bells, and eight new bells were installed in 1669 . In 1762 the peal was recast and two trebles added, while later they were made into the ring of twelve which we know to-day.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.
A peal of Cambriclge Surprise Roynal, 10,449 changes, will be attempted (D.V.) at Si. Mary's, Whatharmsiow, hy members of tho Middesex County Association and London Diocesan Guikd, on Wednesday, December 26th, slarting at 9.30 a.m. The compositiou is by

BELLS IN THE COUNTRY.
AN APPRECLATION BY RONALD D. WHITIENBURY-KAYE. To the Editor.
Deal Sir, - After weary months of waiting, we, in a little country parisl, lave at last got a peal of bells in our willage church. Imagine a country district on a Sunduy morning. No bells to call us to prayer in the House of God-no clock to tell the time. No sweet music during the week. How we existed without, one only kiows-perhaps it was because we were living in a state of joy-knowing that eventually we could boast of a peal of bells which no place for many, many miles around could possess.
Dedication day arrived. the village was in a state of excitement, and thronged the churel to the number of about 500 . Aftar the dedication prayers had been read, what did we hear-why, the most telicious sound of the sweetest muste imaginable. Eight bells harmonising perfectly one with another: Aln! how great, we led waiterl for that moment fier many years, just prior to the war, when a fund was opened for a new peal to consist of eight bells.
Just one word about the ringers. Few know how hard our ringers have worked for this great day. We have the finest band of ringers in the country (dubions ringers please note, and if in complete doubt visit Newchurch to learn the honest truthy. Before long we slall be hreaking every record imaginable. The ringers have staffed pactices alteady, nud although it is but two days since we hape lind the bells dedicated, the ringers have improyed wonderfolly.
We have only praise to give to Messrs. Tohn Tayor and Co., of Loughborough, but hal I think is all ther renuire. If we are satisfied they must he and ther will look up to us now to show the resli of the ringing world how to ring bells, ander the leadership af Mr. Joe Leatherbarrow.-Believe mee. Sir, ontr an onlooker. RONALD D. WHTMTENBERY-KAYE.

A PEAL AT 86.
RENARKABLE FTAT BY AN OLD RINGER.
Tlite ringer of the third bell in the peal at Kirkhurton Parista Churelt on December 8th, a report of which will be found on another page, accomplished a feat $w$ hich riugers in the Huddersfild distriot are proud to place on record.

Mr. Josopl Pickering was 86 years of age on Abefust lst lest, and we cannot do otherwise than pay a tribute of admiration to the old geutleman for his pluck and endurance in standing under a bell for 3 lirs, and 10 minutes for a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major. Thu writer is pleased to say that when he went to Kirkburton last Sur-day evening to congratulate Mr. Pickering on his performance he found him at his usual place ready to take part in the Sunday Service ringing, which he had dore istermittently for the loug period of 71 years at this church.
Wonderful feats of endurance by old ringers are often retnted n these columns, but this, it is believed, wild constitute a record, as also in long service as a ringer al one church.

Mr. Pickering is the only surviving memher of the 'All Englend Company of Change Ringers, to which Mr. T. Stead, whose onituary was published last August, also bolonged.
Mr. Eickering helped to win a grod number of prizes in his day, and these include 12 first and 13 second prizes, of which he was justily proud. His first success in prize ringing was gained in a competition in 1862, When he assisted to capture tire fiftif prize.
Mr. Piekering acted as judge on many oceasinns at ringing competitions, and was appointed judge to the old Tuited Counties Association. He has taken great interest in local affairs, and acted as clasirman of the old Local Board, and for aine years as chairman of the Urban District Council, his connection with the Lwo hodies exlending over a period of 35 jears. Mr. Pickering was for 45 years cor'esponding secretary for the Kirkburton district of the Manchestor Unity of Oddfellows.
The finger of the scend bell in the peal at Kirkburton was the third generation of Armitages as service ringers with Mr. Pickering.
During the erening a dinner was sewed in the Masonic Hall, and a social eveaing followed, at which a pleasant ceremony was performed, a framed enlargement of his own photograpll being presented to Mr. Pickering as a token of regard from tingerg, elvir and eniends. It is hoped that Mr. Pickering will be spared many years in as goad health as he ts at the present to carry on his godd work.

ACCIDENT AT OAKHAM BELERY. TENOR BELL BREAKS.

An alarming accident occurred at Oakham Parish Church on Sunday week while the bells were being rung for 10 o'clock Eucharist.
The bells were being raised in peal when the tenor, which weighs about a ton and was being rung by Mr. W. E. Eiggs, stopped suddenly, with a heavy thud. On going to see what had liappened the ringers found that the bell had broken at the crown. The top was still attached to the headstock, but the rest of the bell had become wedged in the frame. Had it come througl the floor, of course, the damage would have been much more serious.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT MEETING ENDS A SUCCESSEUL YEAR
The Southern District of the above Association wound up a success ful jear, by a very pleasaut meeting at St. Luke's, Ohelsea, on Saturday. It was regretted that such short notice was given, and attenclance under the eircumstances whs very good. Ringers altended from Beddington, Camberwell, Croydon, Ealing, HammersmitJI, Islington, Kensington, Streatham, Uxbrike, and the local band. Two ladies were emong the company: Mrs. R. F. Dead and Miss P. M. Moss, from Uxbridge. The methods rung during the afternoon and epening were Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Kent and Cambridge Royal, S'edman I'riples, Superlativo and Cambridge Major.
A very hearty wote of thanks was accorded to the Ven. Archueacon Bevan for the use of bells, and to Mr. Hinds, and the logal company, for liaving same in readiness.
The officers desire to thank the members for their loyal support during the year, and wish them a very happy Chistmas, and in the coming year continued grood progress.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.  ENJOYABLE MEETING OF SOUY'HERN BRANCH.

A successful and woll-attender meeting of the Southern Branch was held at Elmley Castle, on December 15th, when, iu addition to branch members, visitors were present from Worcester, Crowle, Hanley Castle and Upton-on-Seven. The beils, a peal of six on the heary side, were utiliseci throughout the afternoon, the methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles anti Plain Bols to Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise. The Association's special form of service was held in the Parisla Church, the Vicar (ihe Rev. Barcourt B. S. Fowler) officiating. Going somewhat off the beaten track, lie gave an original address, indulging in what he termed 'plain speaking,' a course most acceptable to those present.
A second appeal on behalf of Rowley Rogis Bell Restoration Fund realised 15s.
Through the generosity of the Viear, tea was provided in a private room at the Queen's Head, and he subsequently presided at the business mecting.
Several new members having been elected, it was decided to holr the spring meeting at Overbury, stabject to the approwal of the Rev. T. Lea, and to attempt the quarterly peal on Elmley bells, witli Mr. R. Harris as conductor.
The retiring hranch officers (viz., Mr. J. D. Johnson, Master; Mr J. Hennming, secretary and treasurer; Mr. J. Hall, Central Committee representative) were re-elected en hloc for the ensuing year.
Fotes of thanks to the Ficar for the welcome he had given the brancl. the use of the bells, officiating at the service, and his splendid address, his gencrosity in providing tea, and for presifine at the meeting; to the Rev. D. Fitzmaurice (Vicar of Hamnton) for his presence; to the olganist and Mr. W. Bennett for their services; and to the ladies who attended to the tea tables, were carried in an unustually hearty manuer, those concerned replying briefy.
The Vicar then sprang a pleasant sulprise on the members, in announcing that he had arranged a social evening, and had antained the services of Mr. G. Crook, of Pershore, as pisnist. He himself was the life and soul of the party, giving pieces from his extensive repertoire from 'Three Blue Botiles' and Thee Bassoon, to "The Lads of the Old Brigade, while hif unlimited store of witty ancedotes kept the company in uncontrollable mirlil and good-lumour. Mr . Orook, in his inimitable manner, gave as recitations, 'The Major, 'The Butcher's Boy,' and others.
A new composition dealing with local personnel ane haramely events, was now $r(\mathrm{~s})$ ung for the first time by Mr. G. Ashlev, and caused much merriment, while Mr. F. J. Johnson contributed his usual quota with his 'Pack of Lies,' 'Quipps, the Quaker,' ' Bacon and Greens,' and "Blue-Hairec Boy: Others to contribute to the evering's emjomment were Messrs. T. Hall 'Old Iron.' and ' Hall's Variation of the Farmer's Boy 'J. G. J. Hemming (' Me and Mv Wife') with Mr Fis Poole at the piano, and J. D. Jolnson ('The Trumpeter'). The handibells were also requisitioned, and Treble Twelve heing out of the question (Owing to tlie unavoidable absence of Miss Johng out, of tife Ten and Grandsire Caters wore rung. A novel fenture was introduced hr Messrs. G. J. Hemming and J. D. Johnson, who wave handbell selections with piano nccompaniments by Mr. Crnok. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthemak, hrought to a close what was unanimously voterl by all present th be the to a cuecessful and enjoyable meeting ever held by the branch.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A meeting was beld at Yaiton on Saturday, when about 14 towers were represented. The bells were raised in peal, and touches of Stedman Triplos ruug before the business meeting, which was heldi in the Church House. The Master (the Rev. C. C. Parkery presided, supported by the Rev. F. E. Peart (Vicar of Yation).
At the outset the Master said the meeting should have been leld at Congrestury, but owing to the illness of the Vicar (Canom Law), who hadl since died, it could not be beld there, and he noved that a woth of sympathy witlz the relatives be sent. - This was carried by the memibers standing.
The ordinary business was then procceded wilh, onc honorary and 27 performing members were elected.
It was announted that the next meeting would be held at Frome,
Two resolutions with regard to alterations of rules-one from the Dunster branch sud one from the Ilchester branch-were sead. After same discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the committee, and after they had met, to call a special meeting to deal with tho matter.-The Master then proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. F. E. Peart For kindy allowing the association to conce to Yatton at so short a notice, and for making the arrangements for service, and the use of the bells.-The Viear briefly replied.
Tea was then partaken of, after which a short service was held in the Parish Churcli.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION IRCHDEACONRY OE ELY.

district meeting was held at Ickleton on siaturday, Dec. 15th, when, in addition to the local band, ringers were present from Newmarket, Cambridge, Weudens Ambo, Elndon, Castle Camps, Great Chesterford, and Stapheford. A short service, conducted by the Ficar (the Rev. P. H. Cooke) was held iu the clurch, followed by tea ant rueeting at the Duke of Wellington. Two ringers from Weudens Ambo were elected as non-resident members, and the Rev. R. Routh, Rector of Castle Camps, was elected as a resident member.
The Rev. R. Routh, who has recently been appointed to the living Castle Camps, cycled a distance of 12 miles to atiend the meeting, and took part in sereral touches.
The Ickleton Society of Ringers generously defrayeat half the eost of the iea, which was presided over by the Yicar. The methods rung during the day included Grandsive Doubles, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob on the tower hells, nual Bob Major, Grandsire Triples, and Bob Minor on handibells. The Ickleton ringers also played $n$ number of tunes, incluting carols, on the landbells.

THREE HOURS OF ROUNDS.

In combection with the peal at Westham, Sussex, recorded this week, it is interesting to note that the bells were first hung in the tower in 1789 by the Whitechapel firm, the tencer boing about 8 cwl . In 1921 they were recast ly Messis. Gillett and Jolmston, witlu additional metal, as a menorial to those killed in the war, their mames leing inseribed on the bells.
About 20 years ago rhe ringers of Christ Chutch. Easthonrne, attempted a peal of Bob Minor, which was lost in the sixth extent, and so far as is known, no other attempt has eyer been made to mug a peal on the hells, while only for a short, time has there ever been a clange ringing party in this tower. The peal now rung was attempted at the invitation of the captain of the Westham hrag-the tenor man, and tha Pevensey five, who can all mug Bob Minor, hope to atsempt a peal of Minor shortly.
The time of the peal is not, however, the longest time these bells have been rung. Ahout 40 years ago the newly-appointed Vicar told his ringsrs that in London peals were rung which lasted three hours. They did not believe him, but in order to test it, six mean rang rounds

PEAL OF EIGHT IN PROSPECT POR WATCHET
At the intitation of the Wicar of St. Decuman's, the Rev. W. Bur gess, the Dunster Deanery Branch of the Bath aud Wells Diocesan Association, held their quarterly meeting at Watchet last Saturday. The attendance was an excellent one, there being about sixty ment bers and visitors present, ineluding the Revs. W. Burgess, T. S. Dawson (chairman of the branch), W. G. MoTageat (Reoter of Monk silver', and the Rev. and Mrs. Billington (St. Andries), Messrs. J. H. Sheplierd (Swindon), Coles Bros. (T'aunton), J. R. Fiensley (Williton), W. Hoyle, Ringing Master (Mineheed), and G. Stacey, hon, secretary (Minehead). The towers represented were Stogumher, Selworthy, Porlock, St. Audries, Chipstable, Wootton Courtenay, Monksilver, Carliampton, Minehead and St. Decuman's.
The mombers, who were accorded a hearty welcome by Mr. Burgess, assembled in the church, whare the afternoon's procecdings commencerl with a selection of music, played by the Vicar, on the new organ, which effectively demonstrated the qualities of the instr mont, and was much eajoyed. Subsequently the ustal form of soryice was held, condueted by Mr. Dassson and the Vicar, who gave an inspiring address, in the course of which he remarked that some people had an idea that those who ring the bells do not take the same part as others, stidi as the orgenist aud eloristers, in the worship of God, but he held a different view, as he knew many ringers who were loyal ehurch workers. Fe reminded those present that while as ripgers they lad such duties to perform as ringing in the New Tear, and ringing for werldings, muffled peals, etc., Elspir main duty was in calling people to worship the great God.
His. Hulland presuled at the ofgan during the service, and at its couclusion the company made their way to Suell's Cafe at Watcluet, where they were entertainad to tea by the Ficar
The usual busimess meeting followed, Mr. Dawson presiding. Letters of apology were read from Prels. A. C. Harman (Otd Cleeve), the Rev. G. L. Fitemaurice (Brompton Ralph), and Mr. A. Tout. The business included the election of thee ordinary members and onm honornty menber and the selection of the rext place of meeling. Mineheacl and Carlampton were proposed, and on a show of lands being taken, the deciston was in favout of Carhampton, mid it was eft to the chairman and hou. secretary to fix a date.
'lhe Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vierr of St Decuman's for the cordial welcome which he had given the members, and for propiding tea for slich a large number. - The vate was heartily entlorsed, with applause, and in achnowledgment Mr. Burgess said the was wery pleased to have them therc. Fe liked the ringurs, and being a ringer himself lie knew what it was to take his coat oft. Fe intimeted that the association would always get the same reception so long as he was at Watchet, and lie hoped on their next visit that he would bave eight bells in the tower instead of six (applause).

Votes of thanks were also accorded to Mrs. Hulland and to the ringers' wiwes, who had belped in the reception.-Mr. Stacey also proposed a vote of thanks to the visitors. It added to the pleasure of their meeting, he said, to be honowred by the presence of visitors such as were with them that dey, including Mr. and Mrs. Billington and Mr. McTaggart. Mr. Billington, in response, said they wordn like lhe association to hold a meeting at St. Audries as soon as conyenient.
Mr. MeTagagnt movert a vote of thanks to the chairman, and this concluded the proceedings. Afterwards the ringers adjourned to the tower of St. Decuman's, and edried on briskly witin lhe ringing until $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}_{\text {, }}$ the mothods comprising Grandsine and Stedman Doubles, Kent and Oxford Treble Bols Minor, and Bob Minor.

RURAL RINGING ASSOCIATIONS.

The difficulties of organisation which have to be met by those responsible for running ringing associations which cover scattered country districts, with little or no means of railway communication, can be fully appreciated only by those who have had to do the work. From the campanological point of view, these argas are, and from the nature of the conditions must inevitably be, the most backward, so that the obstacles to progress are increased by a greater ratio than the difficulties to be met with in more compact and better favoured districts. The very isolation of the towers is a reason not only for lack of progress, but for actual retrogression, for bands, even if they have once mastered the rudiments of change ringing, soon slip back to the 'stony' stage-unless they possess exceptional talent and enthusiasm-if they do not receive inspiration and encouragement from contact with other ringers Even where the art does get a precarious hold, the task of an association is an extraordinarily difficult one if it seeks, as it should do, to extend a helping hand to its branches. It is not always the question of distance which proves the handicap; it is the inaccessibility from the absence of railway communication which is the chief drawback.

At the moment the Salisbury Diocesan Guild is endeavouring to solve a problem of this kind. Covering as it does nearly the whole of the two counties of Wilts and Dorset, which are largely rural, and are intersected by few railways, the Guild has always had an uphill struggle, and charge ringing in this big area would have been in a bad way had it not been for the patience and perseverance of a handful of stalwarts, who have kept the flag flying in a few centres and carried the good work into the towers around. The Wimborne District, which takes in a big piece of Dorset, has been considering whether the cause of ringing will not be better advanced by splitting the area and forming a new branch for the northern portion. The working of the existing wide district bas been a formidable task, and the scheme for the division is to go ahead in order to reduce the unwieldy dimensions of the Branch. Whether the proposal will have the result of improving the position of affairs in North Dorset remains, however, to be seen, for it was pointed out that the area in whicb the new Branch is to be established will have only two places on a railway line, and no tower with a ringable peal of eight bells. This is not much of a prospect for a newly-formed Branch. It will need an organising genius and officers of more than average enthusiasm to make a success of a district of this kind. We only hope they will be forthcoming.

THE FIRST PEAL OF KENT MAXIMUS.

INTERESTING FIND AMONG LUMBER.
An unusinal record of a peal, whe first peal of Kent Treble Bols Maximus twer rung, las came to light in Birmingham in a curious way. The peal is recorded on a tablet in the belfry, but the followhity account of it was cridently printed for private circulation. the woly, which has come into the hands of Mr: Tom Russam, is mounted on wooll, and is brown with age.
4 SUPRELATIVE ACHIEVEMENT IN THE ART OF RINGING Birminglam, April 17th, 1820.
The Socieiy of St. Martin's Youths haring for some time conternplaterl is Peal of Changes on 12 Bells, which should exceed in number any peal ower rung in the United Kingdom, appointed Monday, the Lith insta, for the itternpt; and although there were very high odds (any 100 to 1) against any band ringiger a plain peal at the first onset, yol by an anxious atiention to, and a superier possession at, this mreal solence, they succeeded in completing the Herculean task in 5 hours aud 8 minutes. The peal comprised 7,200 changes of new L'reble Bob Maxinus; and what eminently combines to enrich this purformance is that it was rung at the firbt attempt, was the first weal of new Treble Hob Maximis ever performed, and the greatest unther of changes ever jung on 12 bells.
Another generation may rise up to eclipge this, but the present with in all probability suffer it to remain a "tanding dish untouched.'

the firgl considerable peal of Trebie Bois Maximus, and which areatod much emulation in the Exereise, was pereormed at Norwich, by St. Jeter's Company, it the reat 1778 , comprising 6,240 elanges. LHe next hy flo College Youths, London, in ihe year 1784, heing 7,008 shanges: 18 years afterwards, viz., in 1802, the Cumberland Youths rung lwo leads morn than the preceding pesl, making theirs 7,104 Hanges; 18 years subsequenty to disis, viz. in 1820. the St. Martin's Youths, Thrminglam, exceeded this latter pien by two leads, making their peal 7,200 clamges.
The recort which has now come to light fhus gives the history of secord peals of Treble Twelve and is, if only in that respeet, unique among old thouments. The manner in which it eame into the hands of Br. Russan is alsa wather remarkable. Tlae mother of a friend, 11 tuming cal a collection of lumber that had accumulated itrongla lume residente in ona honse, found this anciont 'peal bositl 'amore lhe rabbish, and thence it massed through the hands of the friend to Mr. Russam. Fuquis pliciter the Pred that the origiusl finder was tha grathdanglater of Alex Snuters, ithe ringer of the fifth in the pral. Alox Siunclers, fecording to line pend hook of the St. Martin's Youths, apptrontly raty his fhrs perl in 1809, aud wes evidently $a$ riager of some merit, for he was one of the band that went from thininghnm to Livernool, nod won the cup that lias since disappented. Rut that is another story.
Naturally tive old record is of gereaf interest to St. Martin's Guild, into whose posscssion, it is hoped, it may eventually come.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.  NEW BRANCH FOR NORTH DORSET.

There was a large gathering of members of the Wimborne Branch the Salisbury Diocesan Guild at Wimborne on the occasion of the unual district meeting. Tlae visitors enjoyed ringing duriug the alteruoon on the bells at the Minster, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Double Norwich were rung. The customary Guild service was held, at which the Vicar (the Rev. A. L. Keith) fficiated, and gave an address.
An atjournment was next made to the Church House, where, fol owing tea, the annual husiness was transacted, under the presidency of lie Rev. H. L. Phillips (Rector of Pcole).
The Vicar of Wimborne cortially wolcomed the visitors, observing they miglat rest assured that they could always depend on a very heary welcome wherever they came to Wimborve to ring, because he for one, as weil as a great many athers, hat the highest appreciation of the art of bell ringing and the admitable service which the bell ringers didl to the church (applause).
11 was aunounced with regret that Major Hughes D'Aeth, who had luent Master of the Guild, bad left the neighbourlood, having gone 1.4 Worthing

DEPARTURE OF THE GRULD MASTER

The Hon. Secretary (the Rev. C. A. I'hillips, Bournenouth), in his anual report, observed that the firs words of it should express their special shane in the common sorrow of the Guild at the departure of the Master fron the neighbourhood. Major D'Aeth resided close to tine centre of that unwieldy diocese, and in a wonderful way attended most of the brauch meetings. He was a Dorset man, the practices he and his brother started were mainly in that hrandh, and he had done more than any other man for change ringing in Dorset, es pecially among the beginners in the Exercise. They could best apprecinte his long work among the bells of Dorset by spreadiug it more widely and carrying it on more perseverinoly and faithfully in the spirit of his message to them that day. The programme of meetings hat been only partially carried out for various reasons. Meetings were licha at Corfe Mullen, Iwerne, and Swanage, and though not incge were representative and keen, and good work was done. Prac tices were held at Swanage, Poole, Wareham, and Henstridge. At the former good progress was made with Troble Bob and Dauble Norwich. A peculiarly happy, keen, ant united competition seemed to be going on between Podle and Swanage for the honour of carrying of the most advanced rimging in the lirancls and connty. Good word was nlso being tione at Carfe, assisted by Wimhorne, and Childe Okeford, helped by Shroton. The question of the sub-rivision of the hrands lolerred to North Dorset from the last annual meeting was thoronghly discussed at Iweme Minster and unanimously approved. If would be inaugurated and followed loy the good wishes, and also the continued good help wherever possible of desired of the members of the sontly.
The report was adopted, on the proposition of the Rev. F. Ll. Elwntds (Kinaton Magna), secretary of the Diocesan Guild, seconded by the Rey. R. F. Gundity (Shroton).
Mr. Phillips also, as treasurer. gave particulars of the financial satement, which disclosed a small balance in hand. There were 204 ringing memlers.
The halance sheet also was accented, on the proposition of the Rey A. 1). E. Altan (Wimborme), seconded by Mr. M. Stewart (Ferpdown) PROPOSED SUB-DIVISION OF TFE BRANCH.
Some diseussion took place regarding the proposed sub-division of the branch, which the Gecretary explained would aflect all the towers north of Blandford, or very nearly half the members.
A momher expressed the opinion that, the division would mean the ringing of the death-knell of the North Dorset branch, as he clamed there were not sufficient members to carry on the good work, and he thought it would be better to wait, perliaps, until they had arrived thore advanced methods.
Mr. Edwards emphasised the difficulties of transport in North Dorset, apart from Sturminster Newton and Shillingstone there not being tower on the line. At present, too, no 8 -bell towers were usable, although he hoped an effart would be made to rehang the Blandford liells, whidimeant that the new hranch would be confned to 5 and 6 bell towers.
Mr. Gundry held that the difficulties created by separation were not iusurmonntahle. At present the absolutely unwieldiness of the size of the branch, with the various companies of ringers scatterad at sineh wide-apart places, rendered the working of the branch very clifficult.

Wr. Mratin Stewart endarsed hre. Gundry's opinion, and elamed Hat in North Dorsef there was a great field for enterprise, and 6-bel lowers offered wonderful possibilities.
The Secretaty said that there were scveral keen g-bell towers on the horder of the division, which should add greatly to the strengilh of the braneli. - Gwentually the neetine confirmed, on the proposition of Mr. Gundry, the formation of the North Dorset branelh.
All the officers for the Wimborne hranth were re-elected on the nitiative of Mr. Jdwards, wilh the addition of $\mathrm{M} \mathrm{H}^{2}$. F. W. Townsend, if Poole, $s$ Ringing Master, and the Rector of Poole acknowledged,

TEE GUILD WAR MFMORIAL
The Rev. F. Li, Edwards drew attention to bhe propnsed Diocesan Bellringers' Wat Memorial, explaining that under the mesent scheme for the Memorial Clapel the Cathedral it was intended to restore one of the old side chapels. There was already in existence stone screen work, and it was suggested that the blank spaces should be filled in with oak paneling, and the Guild should assaciate themsolves defnitely with the memorial by providing the panelling for eitler both or one side of the sereen, which could be decorated with suitable designs and any inscription they liked to submit. There was no particular diffienlty in regard to the expense. A desire had been expressed that there sliould be a little more detailed knowledge of what the work would be, and he wrote to the Dean of Salisbury accotdingly, and suggested the casiest way would be if the sub-conmiltee appointed by the Guild at the last annual meeting to deal with the matter were to consult with the Dean on the subject at Salisbury regarding the desigas, etc. - The Hon. Secretary mentioned that members at some branches liad intimated they would lave prefored putting in an extra bell or two soroewhere, as had been doce in ather diodeses, but it was felt that such a scheme was too big to undertake. All the branches, excepting Bridport, had given approval of the proposed scheme, and Wimborme now signified its assent, on the proposition of Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. K. Gundry
The towers of Wimborne St. Giles, St. Jolm's, Bownemoutli, and Wrucham, were selectod as meeting-places for the coming year,

OFFICE FOR USE IN BELPRES.

Mr. Edwards mentioned that recently there tiad been printed bricf offiee for use in belfries, not only at Grild meetings, lout befors ringing. It lad baen drawn up by the committee appointed by the Guid ${ }^{\text {, with the assistance of the Dean of Salssbury. The idea was }}$ that the incumbent or one of the clergy shonld at surl times as arranged by him and the ringers go in the belfry and conduct this affice before the riuging commenced, or it could be done by one of the ringers if he or she was willing to do so.

LOCAL RINGERS REMARKABLE: RECORDS

The Hon. Sheretary observed that a word of thanks and congratula tion was due to three ringers of that neiglahourlaool, who, that Christmas, he believed, would each have campleted very nenrly, if not quite, 50 years service in the belfry. They wore Messrs. A. J. Osman and George Hart (Wimborme) and Fivedk. Holloway (Corfo Mullen!. Although the latter was mable to do very little ringing now, lie (tho sceretary) hoper that he wonld be able to contina to ring for some years longer (applause)
Parties afterwards visited the towers of the Minstel and Corfe Wullen Church.

DEVIZES BRANCR ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Trowbridge on Saturday, Devcember 15th. when a good company was presenit The Guild serwice was theld in the chureh, condncted by the new Rector (the Rey. Canon A. S. Weatherhead). Tea followed, to which about 50 sal down, including the Rev. Ganon Mogg, of Bishop's Cnnnings, and the Rev. A. H. T. Clarke, of Devizes, bath hon. members ol Guild, and Mr. C. H. Jemings, hon. secrelary of the Dorehester hranch. The following towers were represented: Brarlford-on-Avon, Warminster, Westbury, Bratton, Molt, North Bradley, Keevil, Rowde. Trowbridee, Melksham, Devizes, St. John's and S't. Mary's, and Bishop's Cannings, also ringing visitors from Sitindon, Tristol, Bath and Chippenlam.
The husiness meeting followed, Mr. C. J. Heprinbofinom being in the claair.
Mr. Heginhothom reported on the year's work, which showed that a steady increase bad been made in the menbership, both omong the tinging and hon. members, and also that nore members were learming the at of change ringing. Two fawers were receiving instruction this wiater. Mr. Heginbothom said he laad visited 27 of the towers in the branch during the year, and had found them in very gond ordor. Four towers were silent owing to repairs heing necessary. The first peal of tell bells in the branch was opened on Daster Moarlay at Trowhridge, when nearly 300 ringers were present. Twelve peals had been rung during the year, thanks to the untiring afforts of Mr. S. J. Hector (Branch Ringing Master), Mr, S. Hillier and Mr. I, T. Dyke. Three towers had rejoined the hraneh-Stecple Ashton, North Bradler and Market Lavinglod.
The statement of accounts to flate was roarl. Allhough the ex penses had heen heavy there was a small balance on the right side. ${ }^{3}$ Mr. Feginhothom and Mr. FF. Green were reelected as chaimman and secretary, respectively, with many thanks for their past services. Thitteen new ringing members were oleeted to the braneh
The meetings decided on for the next three monthe were at Rrail fordon-Avon, in Jamary: Market Lavington, in Fehmary; naf tha quarterly meeting at Devises, in March.
After the meeting some double-handed work on handbells was done The tower bolls were soon going again, and some good touches of Caters. Double Norwich. Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rang luring the afternoon and evening.

TEE FIRST PEAL OF DOUBLE NORWICH ROYAL.  A FURTHER DISCOVERY

By G. P. BURTON.
From some files of old Norwich newspapars, which tave recently come into my possession, further information is forthcoming as to the Sirst peal of Double Nr rwich Royal, which it will be recollected, was the subject of a special article in the issue of your valuable paper of 100h. August last.
TTurning to the 'Norfolk Chronicle' or the "Norwich Gazette (which latter is its suly-titfe), there is foum in the numbor for Saturdiay, April 22nul, 769 , a much filler, and fortunately, more explicit, account of the peal, than appeared contemporaneously in the columas of the other Norwich paper-' The Nolwich Mercary.' And what is of groatest internt, Ifim mames of the ringers are recorded in this account now brought to light, thus lilling that gap in our previous knowledgo of the peal, and incidentally, furnishing the last link in confirmalion of the performance, if that were needed. The following is the extract in puestion - -

'On Monfay, April $17 \mathrm{tl}, 1769$, was rung at St. Peter's Mancrofi in this city, n conmeat 5040 of that most ingenious peal called the Court Pols. It was performed in three hours and 29 minutes, wilhout a hell heing ont of course; and from tho harmony and regularity of ifs finenges, filled every lover of the art of ringing whith the most plonsint wonder and aslonishment. This ineomparnble fenl was imenlod in the year 1751 by Mr. Wm. Porter, one of the ringers belonging to St. Peters company, and tho from that time it has been anmually prachiced, yet never was perfectly gone through with, without bells hoing out of course, fill now; sa that it may be affirmed, that this is the first compleat 5040 thint over wrs rung in the known ward- Terformed by

Notice the peculian use of the word 'annually, here employed in the presentiday sense of contimually; and the expression 'the first compleat. 5040,' where ohviously the watis 'in that method' are intended to be unilewstoat.
Of the vingers, who took part in the peal, it may be wortla noticing that Jrmes Watling calleal tho 5170 of Grandsire Cinques ruwg on Nov. 23 rol, 1775 -the first fend on the present ring of twelve; while James Walling, Simon Watlirg, John Peak, John Havers, John Dixon, Jolin Dye, nul Thos, Barton took part in the 6240 of Oxford T.B. Moximus, which followed on March $16 t_{1} 17178$, 'which excelled every attempt hilherto known on 12 bells," as the peal board has it. Rut all these worthics hand rpparently vanished from the scene when the peal of Norwich C.B. Maximus was rung in 1817, at any rate their names lienceforth elisappear.
May I add that on consulting the files of The Norwich Mercury
(Saturday, 22nd April, 1769) I find that the account of the peal of Double Norwich Royal is not verbatim as given in your article. The paragraph actually reads:-

- Monday eftermoor 5040 Changes of Porters Peal of Court upon fea bells, was rung at St. Peter's of Mancroft by the Ringers of that Parish; which they compleated in three hours and twentygine minutes.
These old newspapers were weckly publications of 4 pages, and the scraps of ringing news appear in a miscellaneous collection of local ftens. Here are a few tit-hits from the same column, which throw a side-light on the doings of those days:-
' Yesterday nine convicts under sentence of transportation were sent from the castle for London, in order to be forwarded to thr pinntations," Frons a water collant mizon, Ly, Ninalam. cartely died at Bury, Mrs. Wright-a widow lady of an ex-enplary character.'

A lady of great consequence lost the sum of 5000 L a few nights ago at "Hacarc."
- On Mondey last a womar at. Acle was committed ta Bridewell, there to lee kept to lard labour for 14 days, and to be onee publicly whipt, for reeling false and shott farm.'
As rogards Wm. Porter, the inventor of the method of Double Norwiols Royal, it may be of interest to mention that the 'trunk'.a box of wood covered witha skin or leather-made by him and bearing his initials to which reforence is made in Snowdon's "Double Norwich,' is still in existence here at Norwich.

BELERY GOSSIP.

To all our readers we extead every good wish for A HAPPY 踤 PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.
Thirty-five years ago on the last day of December, the Oxford Diocesan Guild put up a record peal of Stedman Caters, which stood until 1909. Twice before in the year 1888 the Stedman Caters reeord had been broken, and then the Onford Guild rang a 15,041 on the famous bells of Appleton, The time was 9 hours 16 minutes.
Four years later the Oxford Guild captured another record, 12,098 Double Norwich Major, rung in 7 lours 10 minutes at Maidenlhead on December 31st, 1992.
January Ist will be the 130 its anaiversary of James Barham's one hundredth peal. To have made sucl a score as that in those far-off days was a marvellous performance, and the peal was noteworthy from the faet that the combined age of the band totalled 582 years. Barlam lived twenty-five years after that, for he died at the age of 93 on January 4th, 1818.

One of the first occasions on which Holt's Original was cailed by a ringer faking part in the peal was at Saffron Walden on January 1st, 1754.
A peal of Norwich Court was rung at Soham on the first day of 1795.

The first peal of Halifax Treble Bob was rung on January Ist, 1866, at Huddersfield. It was composed by William Sottenstall.

At Wrentham, on January 3rd, 1824, was rung " 59 peals of Grandsire and Old Doubles, which was performed in a most masterly manner in four hours.' This made up 7,080 changes, and, all being wail, a centenary peal of Minor will be attrmpted at Wrentham on Thursday. A correspondent to the "Western Garette' inquires where are Houghton bell ropes. He says: "Over four yoars have elapsed since sufficient money was rajsed to buy bell ropes for the church. Perhape one of your readers could tell me where tha money is. Is it deposited in a bank, invested in f company, or used for other purposes? Surely it is time we had merry peals at Ghristmastide.'
The inaugural meeting of the Petarborough Diacestan Guild will be hold at Wellingborough on January 5th.

CHRISTMAS BELLS.

0 Christmas bells, 0 silver bells,
Chimes pealing glory unto God on ligh,
Bear sweet, as ever your music swells
And sweeps in beauty down the midnight sky,
A message of good-will to men,
Peace upon earth
For the Christ's birth
Bending all hearts to love His Isw again !
0 joyous rimging in the night,
O glad earillons of the holy dawn,
Be sign that charity shine white
And all the veils of darkness be withdrawa,
So loveliness of God may pour
From a Manger-place,
To mu with grace
Hearts worshipping witlin a stable door!

TEN-BELL TOWERS.

AYLSHAM, NORFOLK.

In the will of Jobn Betts the elder, of Aylsham, shoemaker, dated 1529 , is the following bequest:
"Jtem J will ther be bought a tribill bell to the $V$

- bellys in the steple of Ailish'm by the advyse of Ed.

With of Ailish'm and John With his sonne of and for the s'm of Xli. And if it may be bought better chepe J bequethe to the seid Edmu'de With and John for ther labor iche of them vis. viijd. And the rest if any be to be bestowed abought the frame of the same bell to hang yo."
This bequest, however, seems not to have taken effect, for it appears from the Inventory of the sixth year of EdwardVIth that there were then only five bells in the steeple.

By J. R. Jerram.

These two founders appear to have been employed when the peal was augmented to eight in 7700 . They were paid $£_{23} 17 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{~d}$. in cash and $\mathscr{L}^{19}$ 135. 6 d . in bell metal for casting four new bells in that year.

In 1726 , John Stephens, of Norwich, recast the sixth (now the eighth) bell, at a cost of $£_{\text {I }} 73 \mathrm{~s} .3 \mathrm{~d}$.

In $17+1$ the present ninth bell (then 7 th ) was recast on the spot by Thomas Newman, of Norwich, at a cost of $£ \mathrm{r} 8$, besides various items for bricks for the furnace, clay, carting materials, building furnace, stocks and ironwork, ale for the men, and cleaning up the church after the work was done, amounting altogether to $£ 3 \mathrm{I}$ IS od.

The peal seems to have been augmented to ten bells in 1775 by Thomas Osborn, in conjunction with Edward

AYLSHAM CHUROH, NORFOLE.

A tablet in the belfry is inscribed: "Jobn Curtis and Thomas Coulson Churchwardens when this Ring was made into eight, 1700 ."

Previous to this we find in the accounts for $1647-8$, "Pd for ye Bricke carrying wob was used about the new running ye great bell, 4 s . od.," and in the following year occurs: "Paid John Long for his hempe strying at the greate bell shooting, ios. od."; and, further, "Pd. for the vse of the barne and making it good againe, $£ \mathrm{I}$ os. od."

Among the documents in I653-4 are two bonds of Jobn Draper and john Brend in $£ 50$ each for "well shootinge the great bell." From these items it appears that the tenor was recast on the spot at that time.

In 1677-8 Samuel Gilpin, of Norwich, was paid $£ 35$ for some recasting, and in 1683 he was paid $£ 1$ 18s. Iod. for recasting the saint's-bell, and for the third bell $£ 14$ I45. 6 d . In 1685 he recast the fifth bell. This work he appears to have carried out in conjunction with Edward Tooke, with whom be worked.

Arnold, of St. Neots, before T. Osborn established the foundry at Downham on his own account. They appear to have recast the two existing trebles and added two above them, and were paid $£ 43$ is. rod. for the same in two instalments.

The present seventh was recast by G. Mears in 1860 and weighs 9 cwt . The former bell was cast by Edward Tooke in 1677.
The inscriptions on the bells are as follows (all in Roman capitals) :
Trable. George Hunt Holley and John Soame, C.W. Osborn & Arnoid fecit, 1775.
Second. John Soame and George Hunt Holiey, C.W. Osborn & Arnold fecit, $x 775$.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Loughborough District was leld at Staniord-on-Soar, where, on the beautiful peal of gight some wellstruck touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman and Bob Major were brought round during the afternoon. The members then proceoded to the bell foundry tower, where, by trind permission of Messrs. Taylor and Co., the littio peal of ton (的 cwt. tenor) were set going to Stedman Caters, Grandsire Gaters and Treble Bob Major. Some thirty or more members were present from Ugglescote, Shepshed, Neatherseal, Long Eaton, Leicester and Longhborough.
Mr. J. Saddington was again elected district secretary for the ensuing year; Messrs. J. H. Dear and H. Whittle were elected on the committee.

"EDINBURGH SURPRISE."

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, While congratulating the Leiston men on their achievement in ringing a peal of the above, I must object to them calling it a new method. It is rather an arrangement, consistiag of half of each of two different Double Surprise methods, viz., Bristol and Peterborough Surprise, spliced together at the quarter sections by the use of adjoining places in 1-2. I think this is a very unfortunate thing to do with two such perfect methode. Bristol Surprise has stood 25 years as the only Surprise method which contains none of these adjoining places, and I append two more Surprise methods to share this distinction with Bristol.

FROM CALL CHANGES TO METHOD RINGING.
At All Sxints' Parish Church, Broseley, Shronsbire, on Thesday erening, Decamber 18th, a quarter-peal of Grandsive Doubles (1,260 changes) was rung, consisting of ten and a half $120{ }^{\prime \prime} \mathrm{s}_{\text {, }}$ each called differently, in 43 minutes: J. Smith 1, W. J. Garbett 2, 4, J. Garbett 3, W. Saunders (conductor) F $_{1}$ A. H. Meredith $5, ~ J, ~ H a r t s h o r a e ~ 6 . ~$ First quarter-peal by all except the conductor. First quarter-peal on the bells. Also three 120's, with C. E. Smith ringing the 4 th.
Untit April of this year only call changes had ever been rang by cocal men at Broseley. The Rector (the Rev. W. Warner) joined tho Hereford Guild as an honorary member, and all his local ringers as probationers, at a quarterly meeting of the Bringmorth district of the Hereford Guild, hel d at Broseley in April. All who have heard the ringing since change ringing startied at Broseley, are highly pleased with the improved sound of the bells. A lot of the instruetive worli has also been done on handbells.

A VETERAN'S WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. William Shepherd, 78 years of age, for many years a well. known ringer at Emmanuel Church, Streatham Common, lias just celebrated the ffty-sixth anniversary of his wedding by taking part in a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples ( 1,280 changes), on Monday, Dec. 17th: W. Shepher d 1, Miss E. E. Chapman 2, Miss F. E. Orr 3 , T. Welbourne 4, C. W. R. Grimwood 5, J. Lee G, J. W. Chapman (conductor) 7, W. J. Anecambe 8.

BEDEORDSEIRE ASSOCLATION.

SUGGESTED CHANGE OF TITLD.
fhe annual meeting of the Luton district was held at Dunstable 0: Saturday, December 15th, when the following towers were repre senteci : Aspley Quise, Bartan-le-Cley, Luton, luighton Buzard, Linstade, Woburn, and Houghton Regis, together with a full muater of the local hand. Arnoog the visitorg was Mr. E. G. Benson, of the Cnmbridga Uaiversily Guidd. The bells were utilised froin 3 to 4.50 p. min when 2 sliort serviee was held, conducted by the Kector (Canon W. W. C. Buker, preside at of the Berfordshire Association) who gave a short address, which was highly appreciaterl by the members present.
The ter and business meeting was held at the C.E.M.S. Club, the aryangernents laving been irt the eapable lands of Mr. F. Hardy, thit club steward, who is also verger of the church. The ten was Hemerously provided by Canou Daker.
The ennual meeting followed, witl the president in the chair.
On the proposition of the Chairman, Mr. A. King, of Luton, was elected prosident of the branch for the ensuing year; Canon Bakor remarking that he thought the office should go round.-Mr. Cyril Herbert, of Woburn, was elected vice-president, to fill the vacancy maserl by the clevation of Mr. A. King.
The hon. secretary was re-elected, on the proposition of Mr. J. Marks, and Messrs. J. Nicholls and H. H. Smitls were elected on the Central Comarittce.
An interesting discussion was raised by Canon Baker, who brought tha matter forward for the consideration of the members, a suggestion that lite time had come when the name of the association sloould he changed to ' The Bedfordshire Association of Chureh Bell Ringers,' and to rescind the rule $\begin{aligned} & \text { tating that a member nust be able to ring }\end{aligned}$ 120 changos before being eligible for membership. All ringers in the connly, whather method ringers or not, would then be eligible for mambership.
Several members expressed their views on the subject, and all presont were asked to give the matter due thought and consideration hefore the nnual general meeting.
The usual vates of thanks were accorded, and the tower again visited until 8 ph. Same excelleni striking in various methods was hatari during tho day, the melloods fung including Stedman Triples, Frab Majos, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, and Bristol Surpripe Major. Mnmhers of the local band took part in each of the SuFprise methods fung.
