STOCKTAKING.

It is a customary task with the first issue of a journal in a new year to do a little stocktaking, and to hazard a guess as to the future. While the former may be of use, if it reveals our weaknesses, and may give us satisfaction. if it shows us any gains, the latter is generally a rathe profitless speculation, albeit one which is dificult to resist. Looking back over the year which has just closed, we think it may safely be said that, on the whole, 1924 was a period of general progress in the ringing Exercise. In the practice of our art there were features which mark a general forward tendency. There bas been an 'expansion,' if one may use the term of twelve-bell ringing, if not in the actual number of peals rung, at any rate, in the number of ringers who have been able to participate in twelve-bell ringing, which in the past used to be reserved for a much narrower circle than is now the case. Opportunities are still somewhat limited, but we believe an analysis of the twelve-bell peals rung this year wouk show that more individuals and more towers were in cluded than in almost any past year. There has not, perhaps, been much expansion on other numbers, but a useful standard has been maintained, with a band at Willesden breaking new ground with plain Major methods -an example which many more might follow with advantage.

For the most part the meetings of the various associations have demonstrated a sustained interest on the part of members, but there have been instances in which a slacking off of enthusiasm has called forth comment. The apparent loss of interest by ringers in the doings of their own association is, of course, a matter for regret; but so long as those in office realise the position and take steps to revive the flagging zeal of the members, there is no cause for despair. At the same time facts should be looked in the face, and, as this is a time for good resolutions, it is an opportunity for special effort to pull things together. Without doubt there is room for increasing the attractiveness of the average meeting, and unless the arrangements are adequate there is always the risk that they may be a disappointment to many, from the sheer lack of opportunity for ringing which a large attendance may impose.

There is still much in front of our associations to be done. Although they may be counted successful Irom the point of numbers, they have not accomplished their mission by just adding to their membership, and we are not sure that they are all sufficiently well organised to carry on efficiently the work which should be theirs. There is spade work to be done everywhere, both in re-

[^0]gard to ringers and bells, and associations might do more than is often done at present in getting dilapidated rings restored and preventing others from reaching the last stages of deterioration. It ought to be the business of each association to see that all the rings of bells in its area are maintained in good ringing order, but it must be admitted that the efforts made in this direction are not always as definite and determined as they might be. It is in this direction, particularly, that we should like to see more enthusiasm displayed in the coming year. Where the policy of 'drift' has been permitted to creep in let it be exchanged for at campaign attacking all those centres where neglect and indifference prevails in regrard to the belfry. Energy in this direction would bring its reward in more ways than one. It would stir members to new effort, bring in more ringers, and awaken a wider interest in the association's doings. It is a policy that would pay good dividends, and we hope that some of the results of its more general adoption may be seen in the year 1925 .

The quarterly mecting of the Southen Division was helrl at SL. Stephen's, Eastwood, Roherham, on December 20ih. The altendanes was very poar, the towers represented being Rawmarsh. Killamarsh, Handsworth, Donemster, Consboro'. Headingley, Arksev and Rotherham Parish Chureh. A sfort meeting was held in the ringing chamber, at which Mesars, A. Stamp and J. Adams, of Rolherlbam, and P. Gledson, of Conisboro', were elected members of the association, and an invitation to hold the amnal meeting of the division was received from All Snints', Shoffeli. This was accepteri, the date being fixed for Mareh 2lst.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT WEST WYCOMBE. CEREMONY PERTORMED BY THE MAYOR.
At West Wycombe Church, on Sunday, December 2lst a board was unveiled and dedieated, commemorating the first eight-bell peal rung in the tower-Stedman Triples on December 16th, 1923. Tha cere mony was performed by the Mayor of Higlı Wycombe in the presence of a inrge congregation whel gathered to honour the memory of the late Mr. Thomas Martin, who devoterl a long life to public work in the parish. The board was presented by tis son in memory of his father, and is a handsome plece of work carved out of fine old English dak. It is surmounted by eight bells, and the inseription in gold leiters is 2s follows:-
'Oxford Diocesan Guild of Clurch Bell Ringers. This tablet com memorates the first cight-bell peal rung in this tower, 16 December. 1923. 5,040 Stedman Thiples Thurstans' Four-Tart: Fred Hayes Treble; G. Twitchen, 2; Ralph Coles, 3; Artbur 3. Haing, 4; Edward Markham, 5; Sidney T. Goodelild, 6; Jolin Evans, 7; War. Coles, tenor. Conduated liy Jolin Evans. Presented Nofember, 1924, by Thomas G. Martin, in memory of his fallher, Thomas Martin, of Downley. Ob.: August 3ath, 1919. Rev. H. Pickles (Vicar), Sir Johr Dashwoad, Hart., W. A. Day (churchwardens).'
The Mayor eulogised the work done for West Wycombe lay the late Mr. Martin, Fho, le said, spent a good and protitable life devoted to the service of rioing his best for his fellow men.
The Vicar (the Rev. Harold Pickles) also referred to the great esLeem in which Mr. Martin was held, and remarked that it was a coincidence that the last two bells added to their tower were dedicated to the memory of the Mayor's anestor, zind now the peal tallet to the memory of Thomas Martirs. They would notice that at the top of the peal board there were carved eight bells, lapresenting the number which they had in their tawer, and he had no hesitation in saying that the whole was a splendid piece of workmanship, and the gift, unselfighly made, woutd be a credit to their helfry. He saw there that day members of the High Wycombe belfry, and many others would have been present had it been possible, 5uit the mresonce of that great congregation showed that the memory of Thomas Mertin still lived rmongst them. They had heen privilegen to take part that afternoon in the dedication of a memorial not only to their Perish Chureb, but above all to do honour to the memory and unselfish spirit of Thomas Martin.

The Vicar then recited the dediontory prgvers, and after the service many of lhe congregation inspected the tablet. ns it stoon in the chareel.

MAURICE SMITH.

SHUNTING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir ,-At last the murder is out. And it is neither caused by loss of blood, not, I hope, by at 'cut.'
The Rev. C. D. P. Davies says that from the days of his boyload he has nlways understood by the railway 'shunt,' the oporation of causing a velicle or train to run from the pair of rails along which it was going, on to anather pair.
But this is not a slunt at all, the riglit name for it is switching.' A. switch' is a piece of parailel rails hinged at one end, antl with poime at the other. As these points are 'switched or moved on their linges, from one pair of lines to the other, so the train running over them is switched over, or left to run straight on. If the new pair of rails is another line, there is no sluunt at all. If, however, they lead only to a siding, then a train, diverted by the switch, is shunted, in order to let something else pass.
It will bo seen that there are three essential parts to the idea of a shunt. (1) That which is shunterl must have its course broken, but mot altered or transferred to mnother lifte; (2) something else must be allowed to pass; (3) that which is shunted must resume its Former course, after the slunt, cxactly is it would beve done hail thare been no shunt.
No explanation of a shunt that has yet appeared in your columns fulfils any of these requirements. lt is cienr that Mr. Davies is thinking of something quile different. Mr. Powell says the shunted train is ready as in whole to start off ' on another set of rails.' And Mr. Baker says, 'We are doing the same tling all the time.' How can a train be shunting 'all the timesp'
I do not think Mr. Davins cath be realiy hinmed, as he modestly calls it hik "private name, slowing some doubt as to its correotness. And I ihink lie would be the first to agree, that if he really meant a 'switching Bob ' when le wrate a 'Shunting Boh,' on page 196 of 'Grandsire, he deseribes actually in different operation from that which he intended to explain.

TEN BELL TOWERS. STONHAM ASPAL, SUFFOLK.

[By J. R. Jerram.]

The tower contains a peal of ten bells, tenor 24 cwt . note E. They were given by Theodore Eccleston, of Crowfield Hall, in ${ }_{1742}$, but several of the belis have beey since recast. Their history is fully set forth in the inscription on the ninth bell. These bells bear the following inscriptions at the present time:

Tieble, Second and Fourth. T. Mears of London Fecit, 1826.
Third. Danl. Wade. aged 8o years. Wm. Last, two af the parish ringers. T. Mears of London Fecit, i826.
Fijith. Wm. Banyard & Saml. Davie. Ch: Wardrns. Pack & Chapman of London Fecit, 1770.
Sixth. Joz Roper, John Blomfield. T. Mears of London Fecit, т 826.

He was a member of the Society of Eastern Scholars, and rang the temor at St. Saviour's, Southwark, in a peni of 6,012 Grandsire Caters on November 28th, 1735; just after the new peal of twelve, cast by Sautuel Knight, had been hung there. He was elected a meraber of the College Youths in 1744, and served the offee of Master in 1750.
His matie appears on an old peal boarie at Coddealam in a peal of 5,040 Bob Major, November 9th, 1742 . He died in 1753, and was buried at Mortiake on January 14th in that jear.
It may he anded that he also gave a treble and second to MortInke Parish Church in 1746, thereby augmenting the peal to eight. Tha treble wns afterwards recast by Robert Catilin in 1784
I have no record of any peal hoards at Stonham Aspal. If there are any it would be interesting if some correspondent would furnish copieg of bliens.

THE TASK OF THE INSTRUCTOR

 HELPING YOUNG RANDS.The monthly 'fraternal' and smoking concert of Devon ringers took place on Saturday, December 13th, at Franklin Hall, Exeter, afler the Gathedral Guild practice. This was the third of the series, whiell Mr. W. J. Southwood, hon. secretary of the Exeter district, hus organised, and thase galherings have met with great success. The Rev. K. A. Lake (Vicar of Feavitree) presided, and an enjoyable programme oí untista wus provided, ins. H. E. Kingdon conrributing some Devonshire yarms and dities. Mr. Z. Laver opened an interesting discussion an 'How best ban we anstruct and young bands?' and some most thelpful suggestions were put forward out of the experiences of the speakers. The chairman ably summed up the discussion from his own standpoint, adding some useful advice.
The debate was opened by Mr. T. Laver, honorary secretary of the Excter Catredral conapaty, who dealt with the difficullies of teaching change ringing to the two classes of bogimers; the existing round tingers with their prejudice ngainst scientific olange ringing; and the young hand who come fresh to the belfry without any such prejudice. He urged itue necessity for breaking the round ringers " of their lurdy-gurdy style, which gave no open leads, the advatuge of blackboard illustration on the methods of producing changes and of handbell practice, although, he nddet, that if one that to start from the begiming with the handbell ringing it would probably nat be wortis doing, for round rugars clid not take readily, as a rule, to handbells. Lads of 14 to 16 gave an instructor a better chance of turning out a good band, as they lad nothing to unlearin, and were genevally more tractahle and willing to be tanght than older men. Fiandbells could be made a great lielp in the instruction of lads.
With round ringers, a gool deal of persuasion had cuasing would be necessary on the part of the instructor, lut wil? yourgsters a more peren:ptory manner was pessible, although with all it was necessary to have tact, and make a chreful study of the tempernment sunt ability of the pupsls. Practice should be sinde as altractive as possible, berause nothing hinderel progerss so much as irregular attendence, ant at certain stages ono absentee could spoil a night's practice for all the others. Mr. Laver went on to emplingise the importance of impressing pupils with tho becessity of regulat attendance in the belfry. and thas stipdy of change ringing at hrome. The instructor's ta:k would not always be an easy one but if he carried on his work impartially and consideralely many of his diffeultics would smooth themselves out Fe would need to he endnux a witls mach patience and discernment. and slonied not too lanstily form an oninion as to the nbility of an npparently backward pupil. ## LADIES' GUILD

The Midland district of the Ladies' Guild had a vory goot meeting nt Coseley on Saturday, December 13h. Mombers were present from ringers laad the bells going when the wisitors arrived, and helped the ladies to keep them moving throtyhnth the afternoom, Mr. E. T. Allaway and Mr. J. F. Croves also helped to give the ladies some the service, at which the Guidid' form wns used. Afterwards a rush was made to the Selisolroom, where n splenfid lea was waiting, and o which ample justice was done by the company of 35 who sat dowa. A now life memher was clecten, in Mrs. T. Prico, of Coseley.
A hearte vote of thanks to the Vicar and Mise Law for her service atheorgan to Mr. and Mrs. Gongh, and the other ladies, brought a pleasant meeting to a clase.

METHOD CONSTRUCTION,

To the Editor.

Dear sir, The Rev. E. S. Powell is wrong once again. If he wild luok up what I have written of London Sutprise Royal and Maximus lae will find I have stated that Lomdon Royal is a seyen-part touch, London Maximus a five-part, touch, and I can prove the truth ut these facts just as easily as I have proved that the Minor and Major are one and the same methot.

Some methods will extend with coursing order lead heards, some will not, and the coost that I have ever clamed is, to have discovered the nearest possible to what London Roybl and Maximus shondd be, and I have stili another method thet more neariy appromimates to the real melthort, theu anything discovered previonsly.
I am pleased that Mr. Trollope agrees I am wasting my time in nuguing with people of the calibre of the great little We, This being mutually nuderstond, I shall now livae leisure to give the Exercise some results of my discoveries during the past thirty years, and Hrese will be practical yesulte, not theoretical.
When your readers lave scanned what follows, I think they will realise, if $m y$ opponents do not, that the poor ignorant ' Mr. who has just brains enought to write down figures, and no eyes to sce finything finther, is not quite as ignorant as he has been made out to be.

The great little We, the clever men with logical minds, they make mystery where there is no mystery, they formulale arbitrary definitions, and then talk and write of mathematical truth and progression, of the cyclical path of the treble among the working bells, of comrsing ourier, of construetional shunts, etc., etc., they have gturlied dauble shunts to the exclusion of single shunts, and they have but In very vague irlea of how the double sluunts are produced.
The following Ehanle enn be made in the Quick Principle or in the Trehle Bob Principle, either as single shunts or in pairs:-

Quick $41 h$ 's over the Treble going up produces 12547386
Ouick 3rd's under the Treble going up prortuces 16325478
Slow 51h's over the Treble going up produres 12547683
Slow &th's uncler the Treble going up produces 18325476 Quick 6th's over the Treble going up produces 12547638 Quick 5th's under the Treblo going up produces 17325488
Tif we want to find the result of pairing the single shunts all we have to do is to transpoese the first by the sembn. the third by the fourth, the fifth by the sixth

12547386 fransposed bv 18325478 produces 13527486
12547683 trinsposed by 18395476 prorluces 13527486
12547638 transposed by 17325486 produees 13527486
Ithe abote doubla shants are those that produce the first half-lcad of Double Bublin Court Bob.
When the ereat litile We reach this far they come do a full stop, and they 而hink and say they have discovered all there is to be discovered in the matiter of method construction; in some murious fashion of their own they want to 1 reat every method as though it were produced by double shonts, whether there are any double shuats in
Have they discovered all? wio shall see. Wo will take the first two shunts agnin.

12547386 transposeत by 16325478 produces 13527486
12547386 transposed by 13567284 produces 15738264
12547386 transposed by 15738642 produces 17856342
1254386 transposerl by 17854326 produces 18674523
12547386 transposed by 18472563 produces 18482735
12547386 transposed br 14286735 produces 14263857 12517386 transposed by 12643857 produces 12345678
If the first trankposition 13527486 is a constructional shunt, perlaps The great littin We will explain to the Exercise the eategory the remaming five coursing rows come maler?
The two following rows 15327486 and 12537486 are the 10 th and 12th shunts of first variation of London that I gave, ther are also the 10tlo and $12 \mathrm{l}_{1}$ sliants of Lonton Surprise Major and Londoathorpe.

15327486 trunsposed by 12537486 produces 15738264 so we only re-
quite two shunts out of twentr-two to hring ap the lead head of the first Viriafion of Londan given, but 15738254 is rol, the only ronrsing fow that cam be got by fransposing 15327486 , 15327486 iransposed by 15245578 produces 13527486 15327486 trnnsposed by 12537486 produces 15738264 15327486 Eramsposed by 15728364 prontuces 17856542 15327486 transpased by 17856243 produces 18674525 15327486 transposed by 18674532 produces 16482735 15327486 transposed by 16483725 produces 14263857 15327486 transposed by 14362857 produces 12345678
Again. J have no doubt, the Exercise would like it explnined, if the first row is a constru otional shanf. whal category do the remaining five coursing rows come under?
Hore is something for the sreat little we to ponder over there is nof $n$ single shund that, can be made in the Primaty Princigles or The Treble Fily Principle fhat cannot be transposed similarly.

GREAT TEW BELLS REOPENED,

RETUNED AND REHUNG.
An imoressive service took place at the Parish Church of St, the Right Rev. Bishop Slaw, Archacacon of Oxford, rededicated the bells.
The beautiful peal of eight has been retuned and rehung in a double tier of cast-iron and steel frames by tha well-known firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainhank, of Wliteclapel, under the nble suparintendence of Mr. Jesse B. Tyber. The work las been carried out according to the most appioved aud tup-to-date principlos, the bull bearings, which have been fitted, making the ringing of the bells much easier.
It is interesting to note that the greater number of the bells were cast in 1709 (in the reiga of Queen Anal), a fime noted in chareh listory as being full of promise for the sniritual life of the eharch urtil the deadening effects of the Whig ndministrations under the early Georges cast its hlighting effects on the Clurch of Englant, suppressing lier convocations and paralysing her efforts,
The darlicatiou of the bells took place nfter thie second lesson, which WRs read by Canon Carral of Baton, the service being intoned by the Vicar, and prayers reat by him. The Bishop, preceded by the two churchwardens (ML, Singleton and Mr. Legge), fhen procceded to Lho hase of the tower, where the bell ropes were hanging. Mr. Tyler, representing the firm of Mears and Stainbank, then handed the ropes to the churchwardens, who, in their turn, handed them to the Bishor with a request to dedicate the, hells to God's serrice. The Bishop, after the prayers of dedication, placed the ropes in the hands of the incumbent, giving the hells jnto his clanere.
This part of the service was immediately tollowed by ihe ringing uf The bells for two or three minutes, in the preseree of the congregation
The Bislop toolz for luis test, "Rejoice in the Lord always," From Plailip. iv. 4, being prut of the epistle for the fay. Tho Bigliop said it was not only at. Christmas and other greaf fentivals they were hold to rejoice, but always. The work of the Redeener should always give us cause for thanksgiving and rejoicing. Frizy especially rejoiced that day because of the restoration of the tower and the relanging and refuning of their splendith peal of hells. They possessed a beaniful chureh in a pieluresque village. The ringing of those bells reminded then of their duty as Chrisfians to assemble together and rejoice in their puhlic worship. The bells awoke pleasant memories, snd though their puhlic worship. The bells awoke pleasant memories, snd though those of joy and gladness. The work they hat undertaken to bring about such a Lappy result had, le sait, been a consideraljle effort for a small place; $£ 1,100$ had been required, aud there yet remained E180 to complete tinat sum. They fortumately had been greatly assisted by kind benefactors living outside the parish.

After the service, some change ringing was carried out by visiting ringers, including members of the Chipping Norton band.

BLACKPOOL RINGER'S DEATH.

Wo regret to report the ileath, al Blackpool, on December 15th, af
Mr. J. R. (Joe ${ }^{2}$ ) Winter, at the fage of 74 years.
Mi. Winter lad been a ringer tu St. John's Chureh, Blackpool, for 53 years, and will be well remenbered by a large number of the ringers who have visited Blackpool. He atways rang the tenor bell, fnd so recently as Angugi, 1923, ho rang his first geal. He eontinued to take an active part in ringing matiabout a month hefore his reath. Mr. Winter was not a noterl peal ringer, but nevertheless, his heart was in the pursuit. He will lue mold missed hy his brother ringers at St., Jolin's Chureh.

A wreath in the form of a bell was sent ly the wardenp, sidesmen, and ringers of St. John's. The ringers also attended the funarkl, and a plain consse of Girandise Triples was rung on havalbels at, fire graveside.

HELL RESTORATION AT HORBURY, YORKS.

On Saturdry, Jecember 134h, the bells of ss. Peter and Leomard's Churela, Horbury, were again set in mation, after a silence of aboul. six montis. They lave been thoroughly overlanaled, put on latest trpe of hall trenrings, and all motern improvements instatled. lat the carrying out of this work, Messus. Mears and Stainbank lave upheld fheir reputation,

A semve of thanksgiving was held in chavelh, when the Ficar (Caman Flill: gave a mbst interosting address, slowing how a modern pral of thells could wedl be the indeal of all mankind, that is fately lieing striutly in tune athd trate to itself, and also just os strietly in tunc and trae to its neighbours

This was preceded hy same excellent ringing by Lhe Brtley company. Thea followed in the Parishl Hall, of which about 70 partook. Ringing in various Major and Mizor methods was the order matil half-past, nine, ringers from Sandal, Kirlethorne. Huddersfiekd, GrofImm, Whtli, Pontefiret, Wortley, Rawmarsh, Ossett. Birfield, and the lonal company, alf of whom expressed their approval of the exrellent "gon "of the bells.

RINGERS AND C

A letter which appears in another column, froms the Hon. Secretary of the Central Council (who, all will hope, will have a speedy recovery from the results of his recent accident), is a reminder to ringers of their duty to ensure that their names are on the electoral roll of their respective parish churches. Since the passing of the Act, which set up the new representative organisations of the Church, the management of church attairs has become nuch more a matter for the laity, who now have a greater voice in the concerns of the church than formerly, and as ringers are responsible for what is recognised as an important piece of church work, and have charge of valuable church property; it is wise that they should be represented on the Parochial Councils.

This matter has been urged before, but it needs emphasising again, for there are doubtless many parishes where no representative of the ringers has a place upon the Council. It is true that the appointment of ringers to the belfry is still a matter entirely in the hands of the incumbent-it was specially so left by an amendment to the original Bill-but that does not alter the fact that important matters affecting the belfry may come before these Councils, and unless the ringers are directly represented their point of view may be entirely lost sight of.
Another reason why ringers ought to be directly represented on these Councils is that those responsible for tha aftairs of the church would thereby be reminded that the ringers are a recognised part of the church organisation -a point which is apt to be overlooked. A representaltive on the Parochial Council would add dignity to the ringers' position. It is also the first step towards securing that in all matters in which the tuells or the ringing are likely to be affected, the woice of the ringers shall be heard in the Ruri-Decanal and Diocesan Conferences, and, indeed, in the National Assembly itself. But the primary essential is that ringers should see that their names are on the electoral roll of their parish, and Mr. Young's letter comes as a timely reminder that the opportunity for doing so is before Easter.

Another sulject indirectly connected with this matter is that of securing representation on Diocesan Advisory Boards. The Central Council took this matter up at their last meeting, but it is not at all certain that in every diocese there is a person with a knowledge of bells and ringing sitting on these important bodies. By working through their Parochial Councils and Ruri-Decanal Conferences, ringers can help to bricg about sucl? an appointment where it has not already been made.

NORTR NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A most itteresting galinoring of ringers took place at Ordsall and Gast Reviford on Boxing Day, ta keep up the old custom of ringing these bells for the Christmas festival. Ringers attended from Auston, Workson Sittion-on-Trent, Scotter, Gainsborough. Steckwith, Rolinerhar, Ordsall and East Retford. Five trom Galnsborough, witls the writer of these notes, met early ati Ordsull for the parposs of attempling a 5,040 on the bells in hanour of the hon, secretary's 31st wedding anniversary, this being his birthplace. In consequence, however, of a wedding taking place at 10.30 a.m., and hawing to wait 90 minulus, the attempt was abandoned. Novertheless, a nice 720 of Kent Treble Bob was rung, commencing as tho newly-wedded couple werg leaving the church. The following methods ware rung up to 12.30 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal: Plain Bob, Kent Treble Boln, Stedman, Oxford and Canluridge Surprise. A yisit to Frasf Retfort at 1.30 p.m. Found Mr. J. Segar in altendance ready to welrome the visitors. He tapped a course of Boh Major and Grandsire Caters on the landbellis, and also took purl in some touches of Stedman Triples, Grandsire Triples and Caters, nud Kent Treble Boh Royal. Stednan Caters and Double Norwich rofused to go, and the ten bolls were lowered in peal. The menbers were pleased to welcome the appearance of two lady ringers, and Mr. Briggs, of Rotherham, and Mr. H. Wreburton, late of East Retforr, all of whora took part in the ringing. A most enjoyable day was spent, aud the ringers nceord tivir henrty thanks to the Vicnr of Mast Retford and the Reclor of Ordsall for placing the bells at their disposel. H.H.

MR. W. POSTON'S 100 PEALS.

Mr. W. Poston lage ming his first contury of peals, chiafy as the result of pioncer work for the Hereford Diocesan Guild in the Ross district, where formerly the mere ifea of Enrning the tenor in ta Minor was looked unon as alsuitd by the majority of ringers, In the 75 peals conducted, 19 ringers have been put througin their first peal of Doubles, 35 through their firs peal of Minor, and 10 through their first pari of Triples. At Bridstow in 1910, the scheme for adding a Gell bell and recasting four old bells was iniliated, and all the funds persoally collected. All the baud at Bridstow were taught from handling a rope to ringing a 14 mathod peal, including London and Cambridge Surprise. In 1224 the scheme for ading two webles to complete the peal of eight was initiated, and has been successfully carried through.

Rung in 29 towers, with 100 dificrent ringets.

BELERY GOSSIP

A 'double-handed' peal of Surprise Minor in seven methods whs rung on Monclay at Long Stanton, Cambs, is whicla tho Vicar's two talenled sons, John and Christopher Waolley, took parts with Mr. C. W. Cook.

The lon, secretary of the Ceutral Council (Mr. E. Alex. Yroung) is still in Lewisham Hospital as the resuli of lis accident. His anjuries, which were extremely painful, were caused through a plank giving way while he was inspecting a building, and precipitating him into a trench.
The accident happened at exactin twelve o'clock on the 12 f a duy of the $121_{1}$ month of '24-a singular coinciclence-und a correspontient who lias visitcd Nir. Young, and found him cheery and progressing favourably, bopes that he may be disclarged from hospilal ou the 12 th of this month.
His many friends will be pleased to lenrn that Mr. Young is making good progress, allfouglt it will probably lo some time before he fully recovers from the effects of the accident.
Ihe St. Mary's company of ringers, Durban, South Africa, of whehs Mr. O. Clarkson, of 78, Wiadermere Road, Dnrlan, is secretary, will be glad to correspond with any riager who contemplates going out to Dtirbant.
A 'long, peal of Stedman Triples is contemplated. No one, let us hasten to say, has yet found more than 5,040 changes, find the 'long', refers to tho ringers and not lo the mumber". A band of "six-footers ' has been crganised for a peal ut St. Giles-ir-the-Tields. It is not true, however, that some of the ringers are so tall that wells will have to be sank in the foor for them lo stand in so that their hands will not come fo confact wifl the coling, when the bellag go ay at back stroke!
The Sheriff of Nottingham, a leading solicitor in the city, replying to arm invitation to attend the W. D. Crofts Memorial Dinner, has written, "l shall bo plessed to take anlvantage of an opportunity of menting the gentlemen who ring the changes much more pleasantly than is the case when I meet them profossionally.
Mr. Philip Hodgkin writes lhat the peal of Oxford Treble Bols Roynl at Madstone, renarded in our last issue, was wof the first in the method on the bells. The first, whe nccomplished on Nov. 15th, 1784, when the Collego Youtls rang 5,040 Old Oxiond Treble Boh Royal in 3 hours 40 minutes.
The weight of Chard tenor is 28 cw ., not 23 . as recordef last weck.
Those who follow the development of change ringing in the Wrest will read with intarest of the first 720 of Cambridge Minor rung by a-resident Dewon band. This is a promising, if small beginaing, for the 2nd lalf-century of the Guild's history, alld is we lope, the precursor of a mew hievelopment in ringing in the contaty of creard and cider.
Mr. C. H. Foward, Master of the Essex Assogialion, has the proud record of laving mow rung for 40 consective years (with one exception when D.G.R.A. Was in operation) for the carly celebration of Holy Communion on Christmas Day, and on New Year's Eve.
The frst kuown peal on tea bells was rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, London, on January, 111h, either in the yemr 1716 or 1717. This was Grandsire Caters, but, the ancient board recording the performance disappeared when the chureh wiss reprired 14 1796. The peal was rang by flie London Soholats, find was supposed 10 be the anly peal of Caters rung while St. Bride's contained ten heils.

A peal of 6,048 ' Tmperial the Thind ' Trehle Bobl was rung at St. Michael Coslany. Norwich, on January 13th, 1772.
Samuel Thurston, of Norwichs, conducted an peal of 5.280 Oxiorcl Treble Bob Major at Redenhall, on January 13th, 1858, ${ }^{*}$ on the 102nd anniversary of the Ancient Ringing Saciety.
The first peal of Forward Maximus whs rung on January 13tlo, 1903, at SL. Martiu's, Birminglami.
On January I5th, 1774. n peal af 7,040 Oxford Trehle Bob Major was rung at. St. Peter's, Nottingiatm.
The dedication of the bells of St. Meter"s Clarch, Bumbley, which lave been recnst and selntag in a new frame by Mesars. J. Teylor and Co., of Loughborough, will take place on Janurry 17 h .
As far as records have been kept, we helieve that Mr. Brank Beaneth is the sixity ringer qo rencli flue one-thousand-peal mark. The others were the Inte Rev. F. I., Robinson Mr. Williarn Pye, Mr. I. G. Shade, the late Mr. Jirnest Pye, and Mr. George Willianss.

Eisteners throughout the Butitish Isles, atad, doubtless many on the continent, heard the New Year heralded by the bells of St. Mer-Lin's-in-the-Fickis. The ringing at this church, affer mirlnight, was broadeasted very auccessfully, and althougla other things were superimposed upons it, the bells malde a most mppropriate backeronnd for the occasion. This was, we believe, the first time that St. Martin's hells bave been hroadensted when netually ring, although their chiming lias frequently lieen heard.

RINGERS AND THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY.

To the Edilor.

Dear Sir, At the last Central Council meeting, it was held to be very desirable that ringers should take overy opportunity to secure that representatives, conversant with beila and their hanging, and also change ringing, be elected to the various Councils, confercnces, ete., to do with the above.
As the lime for action is between the Now Year and Eateter, organiged ringing centros, throughout the counliy, should now take such steps as will attain the desired result,
The Church of Engiand Aesembly (Powers) Act, 1919, provides For the alministration and govermment of the Church. There are conshituted threc 'Houses,' i.e., Bishops, Clergy and Laity. In respect to the last named the following extracts may bo of use, viz. :-
1.-The laity shall meeting in Parochial Church Meptings, and he represented (1) in Parochisl Church Councils; (2) in Rurjdecanal Conterences, where they exist; (3) in Dionesan Conferences; and (4) in the House of Laity of the Assembly.
2.-All sepresentatives must he actual lay conmunicant members of the Clarch of England of twenty-one years of age and upwards, but, except in the case of Parochial Charch Councils, need not the qualified electars in the area by or for which they are elected. No candidate may be elected at any election who fas not, previously consented to serve in the capacity for which le or she is a catudidato. All representatives may be of either हex. Section 3 provides for ati electoral roll, a copy of which should be Gixed to the churdh door. On this roll all regular athendants at the churcit, whether resident or non-resident, are entilled to be placed (heing over 18 years of age). Ringers should at least a fortnight before the nanual parish meeting, see that their mames are on the voll. They slond then ensienrour io elect some of their number to the Church Council, and further to see to be represented upon the Rurifleenal Conference. From ihese, latter memherg are elected to form the imporfant Dionesals Conferences, and, again, from these fatier are elected the members of the House of 'Gaity.' Yours faithfully E. ALEXR. YOUNG,

Hon. Secretaly and Treasurer.

MR. JOSEPH JOYNES

DF.NTH OF AN OLD EAST RETFOTD RINGER.
By the teath of Joseph B. Joynes, the ringers of East Retford and district lose one of the most amiable and the kindiest of men that ever handled a bell ropes. His uprightness and honesty of character, his bright and cheerful disposition, endearct hime to all with whans he came in contact. The deccased was g ringer of unarked ahility. fined all his good ringing to his own native town. His many ties cansed him to give up ringing in the year 1911, when he conducted his last peal. $7 n 1890$. When the East Retford bells were relung and two new trehies added to make a ring of ten bells, a new band of ringers was formed by the Ficar, the late Canon Ebsworth, and Mr. Joynes became its fist captain, a position he had up to 1893. Some of his best ringing performances on the bolls he loved so well were the conducting of the first peal of Grandsire Caters by an East Rotford company, and the faneral peals of Qued Victoria and King Eiwarel VTT.: alse the conducting of Hold's Original of which peal he was very proun. By his ricath, the Northern Rubler Company also

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION, MEMBERS' UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The ammal report of Lancashire Asseciation, which covers the yeaz to the end of August last, is an interesting publication with a mass of information. There were on the books 1,382 members, inciuding 84 lronorary life; 21 honorary; 208 non-resident, and 1,069 performang members, of whom 109 were elected during the year.
The financial statement show's a loss on the year's working of thl 95. 9d., the tofal receipts being E67 Is. 11d., and the expentiture 578 12s. ©ch. The largest part of this is incurred in printing the annual report, 351 9s. 9 . The real casse lior the cleficit is, however, that a large number of norninal members fal to pay their annual subscriptions. Last year, out of 1,069 on the baoks, anly 698 paid their subscriptions. The accumalated fund of the association is rapidly diminishing. The association now possersios a balance of E10 3 s .6 d . in the bank and $£ 20$ in war script, besides a stock of diagrams, whose estimated value is $£ 127 \mathrm{~s}$. 6d. The total worth is, therefore, 过1 11 s ,
The number of peals rung was 117, one less than the previous years total, but in variety of methods equal if not superior to any presious record. liortyone members rang their firsk peal, and 164 lheir first in a method.

A. CUMBERLAND EXCURSION

On Saturday, December 27th, seven merabers of the Egremont (Cumberland) band visited Broughton-in-Furness and Millom. Tho previous evening a gale of wind and rain spread over the north-west of the county, and the outlook for the morrow looked anything but promising. Anyhow, all bruved the clements at $6.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. . the rain having abated somewhat, but the wind wrs so great along the sea coast that after a certain distance had heen covered a second engine had 10 be attachet to the train to help. Arriving at Broughton some three-guarters of an lionr late, the party were met by Mr. J. P. Barker, who conducted them to the church, and pointed out wnri ons anteresting old-time items. The belfry is beaiatifully painued, and the bell chamber Ecrupulously clean, no grease or even dust was visible. Great: credit is due to Mr. Barker, who, it was learnt is respoasille for this. The bells (eight, tenor 10 cwit.) were soon going to Boh Major, 336 heing rung, followed hy 576 Kent Major, Mr, Bar ker raking a rope in both louches. ## NEW BELL AT EYTHORNE, KENT.

DEDICATION BY THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTFIRBURY.

An event of much importance to the juhabitants of Epthoroc, near Dover, took place on Wednesday aftemoon, Dec. 37 tis , when the Archnshop of Canterbury dedicated the new trebse bell recently added to the old peal of four bells, the work having been carried out ly Mr. T, Groombridge, jums, of Crayford, and the cost detrayct hy pubtic subscription of the parisilioners and frieads.
When the presenf Rector came to Fthorne, 30 years Hyo, one bill only, the tenor, was humg in the tower, two others being housed in outbuildings. In 1896, he had a new treble added. and the whole hang for ringing in a new fume, which was foumi large enough to take the new bell just installed.
The church was well filled for tle dedimation service, and prohably no parishioner now liwing could remember any previons oceasion when An Archbishop of Caterbury had taken part in a service in Eythome Church.
A shortened form of servite was wsed, contliteted by the Rector (the Rev. Basil Burrows), Miss Burrows presiding at the oryan. Other clerty preseni were the Rev. Canon Thoras (Northbourme, the Rev. J. D. Bevan (Chillenden), and the Res. A. T. Harre (Tilmanstonte). At the conclusion of the lywna, 'When morning gilds the skies, the choir and clergy, followed by the Archbishop. moved in procession to the church porch, where the new hell was dedicated, athd rounds wore rung on the five bells by local men, whilst the procession returned. The hymm, "Fark. liark, my saul, was sumg. aftam whinh the Archbishop gave a short address. His Grace said that the bells of our churches were really more important to people ontside the church than to those inside. Whether they came or neglected the smmmons to God's house to worship, they were reminded that prayers were being offeren to Hirm who cared for them ath, He said he had daily to deal with those who came from other lands. settlers from the Colonies, and dsewhere and he was struck with the way they always said what they missed most-was the sound of the bolis on Sundays and days of publie rejoicing: and how they welcomed them on their return.
The coneluding hymn was 'Angol voices erer singing.' nad the Archbishop concluded an impressive serrice with the Blessing.
As the congregation left the church, ilie hells were asgain ring by Messrs. H, Palmer. G. Merrfield, F. Bridenden. F. Windle and W. F. Elliott. In the evening, the fisi olange ringing was performed hy T. Groombridge, junr., W. E. Pitman. G. Merurfield, F. PRImer and W. F. Elliott.
The inseriplions on the belly are as follows: Treble, weight $4 \frac{1}{5}$ rwt., 'Te Dennl Laudamus,' Mears nud Staintiank, 1924: 2nd, 5t ewt., ' Fenite Txultemms Demino,' Toln Warmer' and Sons, 1896 ; Sud, 61 cwt., Joseph Hateli made me, $1662 ; 4 \mathrm{~h}, 8 \mathrm{cwt}$. . Sanct Katherina Ora Pro Nobis. $W$. Jordan, 1470: tenor (approximately 10 cwt. in A Nomen Magdalena Campara,' W. Jordan, 1470.
It wonld be interesting to know in anv two bells which hase never heen recast exist in any other tower of earlier dates.

THE WASHBROOK MEMORIAL

Sir-Referring to the corresponaience which has appeared recently in your columns on the subject of the Washbraok Memorial, I was not aware, when I wrote to you three weeks ago, that the tower in Which the memorial bells are to be lang had been definitely chosen. This knowledge might not, however, have prevented me from suppart-ing Mr. Marrice Smitla's sutgestion which I consider most approing Mr. Maurice Smith's suggestion, which I consider most appropriate.
I cannot help wondering if the suitabilitw of Kidlington as the lome of the memorial was consideved by the committee, and I regret that I did not follow earliev developments which would lave given me an opportunity of pressing the claims of Kidlington.
As the matter is irrevocably settled, $I$ can only expréss my lope that all those who like myself, would have preferred to see the memorial bells lung in another flace, will sink their personal opintons and supporit to the best of their ahility the fund, the object of which is to perpetuate the memory of one of our greatest ringers - Yours truly, Chalfont, Dec. 31st, 1924.

STONHAM ASPAE.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-There are no peal boards in the ahove tower, althongh, of course, seyeral peals have been rung there in recent years. The earliest of which I have atry acconnt is a peal of Kent Treble Boh Major on May 14th, 1894, I should say, however, that some were rung prior to this. and possibly Mr. Tlieodore Slater. of Glemsford, might be able to supply the information.

The bells are searcely pealable at present, as the 8 th goes very hadly.-Yours sincerely,
W. G. RUMSEY.

LANCASHIRE RINGERS' SOCIAL.

On Siaturday, December 13th, the fourth anmual social, lield in. comenction with tho Preston branch of the Lancashire Association, took place af Preston. In the afternoon, there was ringing int the 1'reston F'arish, Preston sit. Mark's, and Penworlhant towers, where the following methods were rung: Plain Hob, Kent and Oxford treble Bob, Double Norwich, Graudsire aud Sledman.

Hingers and friends, to the namber of 130, then bud tea to gether in the Parish Chturel Schools, the catering being carried ont by Mi. R. Bronghton, who s ulso a Preston ringer. He was abily ussistei by Lhe Preston mingers, their wives, and lady friends.

After fult justice lati ifecta done to an excellent meal, a slight alteralion to the programme was made, as a Preston concem party who came to entertain tho gathering, had another engagoment later.
Inmedintely after tea, therefore, the quarlette sang 'Comrades in Arms,' which they rewdered in the best professional manner, and the party had to respond to an encote. This was followed by soncs by Miss Heald, 'Another Yay, and 'A Devonshire Feddtry,' which were sumg in excellen styid. Miss Hetal is a dayghter of the capdain of the Preston ringers. The gitartette then gave anotler item, - 0 percettul night.

Mr. E. R. Martin proposed that the lacartiest thanks of the gathering be given to the party for their excellent entertainment, and this was carried with lond applnuse.
The gathering then divided, some taking part in a whint drive in an adjoining room, while the reat went on with the concert and dance, during whieh Mt. J. Watkinson dolighted bloge present with humorous items, entitled 'The Eges', "The rest of the day's your own, and " Filgrims of the right." Mr. Wm. Nelsors also snrg.
The masic for the dance and concert was provided by three of the Leydan Parish ringers, Messrs. W. Clements (pianist), J. Watkimson (violin) and 13 . Walkinsen (elarionette) $^{\text {. }}$
Ringers were present from moste of the towers in the branch, as well gs Bolton gnd Wigat hranches, fnd the evening was thoroughly enjoyed. ## PRESENTATION AT SITTINGBOURNE

A very interesting ceremany took place in the belfry of St. Michael's Charcts, Sitingbourae, on Thursday evening, December lath.
Ju the presence of a number of the rivgets of the situinglounde district, M: Walligna Spice wha is well koown in Kentish ringing circles. was presented with a anse of pipes, a tobacco potich, and a set of razors, "in recognition of his umining energy and valuable assistance tomards the promotion and! advancenent of the art of campanology in the district.'
The presentation was performen by the captain of the Sittinghourne bund, Mr, H. E. Simpson, who, in a few well-chosen words, referred to Sir. Spine's ringing carcer. Ho had known Mr. William Spice. he said, for over twenty years, fand whenever he had needed any assistance he had found in $\mathbf{3 r}$. Spice a ready and willing helper. They were indehted to him for having arranged for then many evenings of enjoyment, and in order to show their appreciation of his efforts amone them, they had assembled to ask him to accept that tangible exputession of their gratitude and esteom. Thes hoped that Mr. Spice would live many years to continc his work mmong them.
Mr. Spice was, of eotyrg, completely takon br surprise. Expressing his thanks for the handsome gifts, he assured them that all he har done for the relvancement, of hell ringing had heen to litm a real 'lahoul of lowe." It was indeed ploasing to feel Ehar what samal] assistance he had given was so musli appreciated.
During the evening, fouches of of Stedman and (irtandsire wers hrought round, but, in spite af repented attempts, the ringers could not reach the end of a course of Cambridge Surprise, alliliough that methorl is by no means "foteign : to the ringers of the clistrint to whiels Mr. Spice telongs

ONE THOUSAND PEAES.

MR. F. BENNETT'S ACEIEVEMENT.
My. Frank Benuet, of Brighton, rang, on December 27th, ad Chiswick, his ouenthousabulth peal, and thus became a menber of that very limited bathd of asen whose peals run into four fgures. A thousand peals is at proud record, and as will be seen by the list given helow, Mr. Bennet.t's collection covers a great variety of metheds.

Mr, Hennett began his ringing at Basingstoke, Hunts, wliere he was a pupil under ilie late Nr. Farty White, in 1885 . In 1887 ho removed to Guildford, where he rang at S. Nicolas' Church, and was one of the now company formed there in the following year. Mr. Bennett rang his flrst peal, wiih three others of the band, on March 2ad, 1889, this being conducted by Mr. Gearge Williams, with whons he was later so closely associated at Brighton, and who, it may be remarked, is himself also one of the few to scove a thousand peals. Mr. Remetl's first peal as conductor was a peal of Grandsire Triples on Uctober 3 rd, 1889 - the first peal by the local band. In the following year the first local peals of Boh Triples, Bob Major aud Union Triples were added to the list. In 1894 two new trebles were placed at S. Nicolas' tower, and a peal of Grandsive Gaters rung on them. The following year SIr. Bennett, went to live at Brighton, where he became a meniber of St. Peler's company, at that time one of the leading Surprise bands in the kingdom. During the twelve years he remained in Rrightan, BIr. Bennett fang no fewer than 409 penls, including the firsti peals of Oxford, Norfolk, Westminster and Bristot Surprise ever riag.
In 1907, Mr. Bennett removed to London, where le organised a Surprisu' band. which met with great success. This [ist does not include one peal of Grundsire Major, one of Keut Treble Bat Major, one of Wateriog Reverse Boli Major and [our of Stedinan Caters, the eompositions of which were afterwards found to bo false. It must have been a matter of considerable pride and gratification to Mr. Bennett that anc of lis fupils, his own danthter, was able to to take part in lis one-thousandth peal. Mra. F'. I. Thairs iahorits much of fer father's great ability, and her performances, both upon lower bells and handhella, have placed het in the forefrom among ringers (of both seres).

LYONSHALL RESTORED PEAL.

On Seturday, December 13th, a thawkgiving serwice was held, when the Bishop of the Diocese proached to a largo congregation. About 10 or 12 years ago over $£ 300$ was spent on these beils, the work ther being entrusted to a local man, but the Hercford Diocesen Guild has since that greatly enlightened the ringers and the parishioners on what was really hecessary, and too much praise cannot be bestowed 0n the subscribers and the collectors (Mr. J. Bell and Mr. J. Bowen), who both worked with a real zest to collect the 5350 required to cajry out the complete restaration. This consisted of new steel frame, ball beariugs and new rubber studded clappers, the wort being carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.
After the service, the bell ${ }_{6}$ were rung for a short time by the local han-f then the assambled ringers all adjourned to tea at the Memorial Hall, ibont 50 sibting down, represeating ien diffevent towers, viz., Clifford, Eardibley, Ameley, Kington, Stationton-anAtrow, Eardisiand, Dilpyn, Weobley, Fimboltons, Madley, and the local band. Among those present were whe Rev. G. W. Turner (hon. secretary of the Fereford Guild; and Mr. C. F.dwards (Guildi Master.
After tea, the wisitors returned to the tower, where various meihods were rung until 8 p.ns. For the purpose of testing the 'go' of the bells, a band met at the tower on Sunday, the lifth for or peal of Treble Bob, and after ringing three reo's of Osford and nearly three of Kent, a trip occurred, whicis brought the peat to grief: Fi. P. Fyett 1, C. W. Taysom 2, T. H. Tavsom 3, W. E. Williams 4, ©. Eitwards (conductor) 5. E. Smith 6 . All agreed thai fhis fine old peal

dedication of a new peal of bells at penistone

On Salurday, December 20th, the delication of the netr peal of bells and clock took place (as already brielly reported), at lenistone, in the presence of a crowded congregation. The Vicar conducted the service assisted by the curate. The Ven. Archeleacon Harver. of Sheffield, dedicated the new clock, which takes the place of a very old one that lad become the worse for wear after many years of "marking time. ${ }^{1}$ The beils wre then dedicated, after which suitable prayors were offered. Archadeacon Harvey gare a mosi interesting talk on ringing, which would, no doubt, clear away many queer notions held by the uninitiated.

After the Benediction, the Ticar ennounced that the old Ponistone rungers would be the first to open the new bells, which they did by ringing a six-score of Oxford Treble Bob Mjnor. Iltis was followed by touclies by wisiting ringers.

The bells, a musical ring of eight, tenor $14 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt., by Taylar's, were much appreciated by all, the tone and "go"being perfect.
Tea whis generously provided by the Ficar and warlens. The flrat peal, as announced in the peal records, was rong by a mixed band, reble, 2nct. 4th and 6ut ringers being from Bolsterstanc; 3ud and 7th from Ecclesneld; 5th from Ashton-under-Lzme, and tenor, the enthasiastic and energetic leader of the young Penistone band. The peal, which was rung slowly, and well-structr, brought out the full music of the bolls. The 2nd ringer deserves every praise, he being only 16 years of age. After the peal the band was entertained to †ea br Ml. Geo. Hill. The heartiest thanks are due to Mr. Hill for his untiring labours in arranging all the details, and bringing a onemorable erent to a successful conclusion.
The general opening of the bells will take place on Saturalay, Jan. 24 ti .

THE 'EDUCATION' OF THE RINGER.

The subject of 'lectures ' for ringers, which has been referred to once or twice recently in our columns, and to which another correspondent returns to-day, is a matter which is really worth serious consideration by those responsible for promoting the art of ringing. At present such teaching as is officially given by associations is limited almost entirely to the most elementary leatures of the art, and time and again we have pointed out the inadequacy of the system which is generally adopted. What usually happens when a band is placed under ofiticial tuition is that a comperent ringer is sent to the tower to instil into a band of begimers the first principles of change ringing, which generally carries them to the length of ringing plain Doubles or Miner, and, in exceptional cases, perhaps, as far as, say, a peal of Grandsire. But when they have reached this fringe of the subject no more is done for the band 'officially:' Often, of course, the instructor will carry on, especially if he has a promising band not too difficult of access, but what we are now referring to is the 'official ' attitude usually, adopted. The point where most bands of beginners are left is about the equivalent to that of a child who has been taught how to spell simple words and is then told that, having been given a-start, he must now create his own enthusiasm and go on and learn by himself. For every band that goes on from the official instruction stage to become competent ringers in advanced methods there are a dozen who stick ' just about where they are left.
What is wanted is a policy that will introduce "continuation' classes, whereby beginners may be led on to greater things, and " lectures 'on various phases of ringing given at district meetings might well be one feature of this advanced education. There are many sides to our pursuit, among them the historical and the engineeting, as well as the mathematical and the practical application of our art, and knowledge on all these could well be spread by means of papers read at meetings, and dis. cussions upon the subjects dealt with. Such features could not but add to the general interest of meetings, as well as being of benefit to the individual. Something on these lines is being carried out successfully in the Exeter District of the Devon Guild-where, at the periodical ' Iraternal ' gatherings, there is always a discussion on some subject of mufual interest connected with ringing. The whole question, as we said at the beginning of this articie, is well worth serious consideration by all associan tions, and doubtless there could be found connected with most, if not all, of our big sosieties men capable of preparing a paper on one of the many topics of interest to ringers.

The recent references to Stonlam Aspal bring from Mr F. W Bawe the intimation that lie took part there, on Whitsun Monday, 1884, in a 5,000 Kent Troblo Bob Royal, which' was called by the late Mr. W. L. Catchpole. The brothers Motts were in ilhe band, which was composed mainly of lpswich men, dnd the tenor, which was mot gang well at the time, was rung by the oldest member of the party, Mr. Edward Reeve. At the time, it was said to be the first pual on the ten bells.
The College Youths rang the first peal of Cimquos on the 191 h January, I724. The peal-Grandsire-was ring by a band which included Bonjamin Amoble, and Robert Catlin, the bell founder, and was "ye first that was ever done.
A peal of 'Garthings Trelules' was rumg at St. Murgarat's, Lyma, an Janmary 20 th , 1740.
On Jamury 20th, 1777, the Cumberland Youths mag a peal at 6,240 'Trehte Bol Royal at Shorediteln.

A ponl of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung af Cheltenlam on January 2lst, 1898. At that time it was believed to bo the firsi, Jut a few jears ago "The Ringing World" was able to publish the record of a peal rung at hakefield in 1822.
The anniversaries of the deaths of two noted ringers oceldr next week. Harry Bastable, Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, Bitmingham, for eleven years, djed on Jnnuary 19th, 1899, aged 50; dames Motts, of Ipswith, died on Jamunty 21st, 1923.
The ' Lym Advertiser' of Jantary 2nd, 2875, reconded the lollowing: 'On Saturday, Robert Pamonta the chimer ist St. Nicholas chapel, performed for two hours without intermission on the pual of eight bells, chiming a large number of changes in a very regular mamer hy pulling cords atiached to the clappers of the bells.

According lo eustom,' sad at Sitinglowne paragrapla in a Kentian paper, "our crack change ringers had a glorious time during the Chisstmas holidays. On Boxing Dity the bells of St. Micliael, Borlen, ant 'runstall, were ptaling for hours. Darkness alone hsaught the ringing to anslandstill.
Now wo kinow why Messts. Cheesman and Co. did not ring all niglat. They camot ring when darkness sets in.
In ringing the extra bell in the tower at Newenstle Calhedral on Salurday, Jmunay Jod. in a peal of Stedman Trinleg, Mr. W. H. Barber has now rung a peal on every bell in the lower liunt for ringing. This was the first penl of Triphes on the light peal of night, the only other peal rung on them having been one of Double Norwich at ' Peace' time.

LECTURES FOR RINGERS.  To the Editor.

Dear ©it,-I have read with interest the various letters on the subject of composition and construction, and thaugh these are all very interesting, and are neesssary ior the benefit of the Exereise, Lary are far atove the heads of the average fingers who fail to Hrasp their moaning. The most lucid 1 lave as yet seen is Mr. Trodlope s most recent contribution on Q -sets. It is really a masierpiece in its explanatory sense. The suggestion lhrown out in your issue of December 26th is no irlle jest. if your experts would give hectantw at unetinge on ' How to call or conduct 'hy position. jnsteal of louking to see if the ropes iall in their places, ant the theory of " in and auk of course, and thee the construction of methods, it woukd greatly hencht the young Exereise, and the lecturer would hee sure of an audience.-Yours sincerely, $\qquad$ once a begrinter.

There was again a large gathering of ringers, and in nddition to the mumerous representatives of bands in the dincese of filoncester nind Bristol, there were visitors from London, Newporl; Loughhorouyh, Bridgend, etc. Tlie arraygements hat been made ly a committee, consisting of Messis. F. G . Leaker (chaiman), W. Knislst (rice-chairman), P. C. Williams (hon. trea* mourcr), W. A. Cave, L. Gowing, H. T. Howell, \}. &. G. Jefteries and Miss E. Smity (stewards), Messrs. S. Abraham, U. Braven, E. J. Brown, J. A. Burford, J. Goukd, J, R. Jones, W. Staffort, G. Trow and W. S. Fimery, witl Mr. Edgar Guise, hon. secrelary, who worken imfefatigably to secure the suecess of the proceedings. The rlecorations of the dining tall were appropriate to the occasion, and prominently displnyed was the old "ringers' jug," which was used in Bristol dhinty of forty years ago by the Society of Union Yauths.

Mr. F, G. Leaker presided over the gathering, at whicla the Bishom of Bristol was the principal guest. There were, in addition, many clergy preseni. an pacellent dinner wath serveri, and, after the loyal toest, Lhe Chairman proposer "The Churnh.' Tee said that at no time did the Churoh meed lielp more than at the present. He also referced to the parodial roll, and expressed the hope that ringers wand fulfil their responsibilities in connection with this. In a reference to kion new University haithings, the speaker remarked upon thas close allinnee between the churches and the univorsities, and said that it was through fac universities that they got the splendian sermons that fligy hearif iu clarch. In the magnificent tower that was growing to completion a mammotll bell would soon the erecterl. As soon as fo bell enterod a lower it inmediately converted a dead tower into a live tower, and the messace of the hells should the an inspiritthon to all. Itle speaker adked that the Jord Bishop, who was the gucst of thr evening, was loved by all, ho matter to what thenomina tion they belonged.

BISHOP AND RINGERS

The Bishop, in replyarg to the tosst, suld lie often felt there was a thager of ringots feeling fini they, in the belfy were away from the centre of the chareh, that they were not part of the congregat tion, the shureh, or the worshin. Thas riagers were really a vory irnportant part, ard he was sume flat they wond make their place in the chureh all that was hest, not only in the conduet of the helle and their ability to use them, but also in other pliases of the life of the chureli. Thev as elergy, were open to criticjsm, he knew. They were nof up to the shandard that they ought to he, or as symnathetie as they mighit he. They know the reason. Thote was only one quarter Trath whinh they could draw elergry and that was the laily (laghter). The Bishop, Whose eloguent response was touched with many passages of lumatur. in a refereace to the sense of humont thai le remarted, stust cxist in the lives of those like the ringers who were liolping to hring the message of foy and linimons into the lives of ofliers. recalled a conversation trith an old Wiltalive farmer, who remarked. 'Yes, I've seen three Bishops of Bristol, your reverence, and I mever want to see anollier " (lamothor). His lordship weni out to say that lof felt, he ought to say something about hells that evonang. Cortanty as he iooked round the inbles lie snw many belles Thare was holhing so inspiring on a bentiful stummer's oveling as the spund of a meal of hells aeross the fiolds, inviting the people to wome into thie ralurch, sounding of message of encouragement and aftection-l lie Clurision mossage into the cars nud to the licarts of all those who wore within liesring distance. Some of these hells land beantifal inserintions, and it was quite ns interesting to collent these as it was the eurious eptaphs that they found over chorchyard graves. Trobably ihere weve many wireless enthosiasts there that evening. remarked his lomakin. He lat heara landhelt ringing on the wireless mily a short while ngo, and he thought that some of their smletrlid experimente conald he hroadeast it would nonvey a gipat rleal of pleasute to countless homes (opplanse). The Bristol United Ringing Guilds was mroposed by Mr. Ernest Bishop, of Swindon, who remarked that they land some excellent Fuidits in the cily of Bristal. inelurling St, Stenhen's, which hard "reated records of which they minght be nroud. The bishop, referring to fins, said that if the bells were to be trans ferred to a new churct they would lave to ensure that there would be adequate accomnorlation. It would be extremely difficult at the present moment to raise the necessury sums for this purgose. Arobliew diffienlty was that these churchee were under westrics, and there was no more reactionary hody than a seleed vestry (lauglater). It would lye extromely difienlt to persuade thern to part with any portion of their property, and there were legal diffealties also. His lordinip would be pleased to convey the remarks matle to the members of the vostrics.

Dr. Alexander, churchwarden of St. Marr-le-Port Chareh, Bristol, asked that he might be allowed to say fow words as a scelect vestrgman (laughter). He guite appreciated the suggestion made, - that with subur'hs rapidly growing the need for churches should be considered." Why not send these bells to give their message if they had no further message to givg in their present position?

CATHEDRAL WITHOUT BELLS.

We are bound together in one great object of pramoing clange ringling and hime fellowship and good conduct of the belfry, said Mr. Wiliam Knight, in proposing "Kindred Guilds and Associations." Eristol was supposed to be the city of churelaes and bells, said the speuker, but the Moller Clurch was without a peal of bells. He would rather see a peal of bells at the Cathedral than a new bell ab Bristol TTniversity.
Mr. Pryce Taylor, of Louglonough (who represented the Midland Counties Association), said that as he travellea about the couniry he saw an enormous number of young fellows who had taken up ringing and were sticking to it. These gatherings were of great assislance. The speaker referred to the great bell, weighing ten tons, that had been cast for Bristol University tower, mentioning that it was already cast and tuned alad ready for dispatcla. With Great Peter of York it as the third heaviest in Eagland. He atded that seweral names lad heon suggesteti for the now bell, such as 'Yellow Peril' and "(iold Fake' (laughter), but he did not know what vame it would eventually receive. It lad a Latin inscriptios, but, amid humorous reforts, lye said be whald ant divulge its translation; he wouli leave that for Bristol hiager's to do when they read it.
Mr. A. A. Huglies, of London, whe asso responded, remarked that ringers gatherings did a wonderful amoment to cansolidate the Guilds' position. They created links that were not easily broken between Dristol and Lohdon and ihe ratious districts.
The Rev. R. H. Whitford, in proposing the loast of "The Press," made reference to the amonul of usefulness which journals dealing with special subjects could be put to
Mr. J. W. , iones. in submiting 'The Artisis,' paitl a great tribute to Mr. F. F. Spiller, saying hat he singled him out because he (Mr. Joues) being a Welshmar knew what a baritone was. He would be going finto the Rlicndda Falley in the next few days and he would tell them that they would have to go io Bristol Enited Ringing Guild's hanquets on hear hetter haritone singing than they lad in Wales.
He (Ax. Jones) added: "We have ahtheard r lot akout Bristol Surprise, but evervoge in that room had hat Bristol Surprise that nigit. He had atended all four dinners of the Guilds, and it wot his emphatic opinion that that one was ihe best.
Mr. C. Read, in responding, said that it gave them all real pleasure fo come to the Bristol Uniterl Ringing Guilds dinner, and that they all hoped to be assonited with it for many years to come. He was surprised at the mumber of dinert tha, evering, there being 131 present. He had a lot to do with dinners, and know what at strugyle there 11sunlly was to get 80 . It showed, he said, the enthasiasm of the ringel's.

During the evening hamdbell selections were givent by Messrs. Browth Ald Mises Jorden. songs were contributel hy Mer. Lloyd Williams, Mise Filitl Fill. Mr. E. H. Cooke, Mr. F. Spiller and Mr. Yal Davies; Messrs. Spiller and Williams sang a duel; Miss Dorothy Hill and Mr. A. Stowell gave recitations, and Miss Read played some delightfol cello solos. The programme, which was a most enjoybble one, and of ligh musical meril, was artarged by Messers. W. S. Enery and E. Guise, and the accompanists were Mrs. W. Sowden aud Mr. C. Read, I.$.M.
During the aiternoon ringing had been indulged in at various Bristol Churches, a peal attempli at St. James' being unfortunately lost about half-way

BULWELE RINGER'S DEATH

If is with regrel we ntmounce the deth of matd ringer, in the proson of Mr. Enoels Foster, of Bulwell, who died on Tuesdey, Jan. 6i.n. at the ago of 63 years. $\mathrm{H}_{6}$ was interral in Bulwell Clumchyard on Saturday, January 10ıh.
The deceased, who had been a ringer at the Parislı Churely of St. Mary, Bulwell, for orer 40 ycars, will be greatly missed. Four of his brother ringers rang a course of Grandsive Triples on handbeils at He graveside, and ft touch of 546 Grnadsire Triples was rung on the tower heils far moming serviee on Sundry, Jamuary 11th, with the bells half-muffecl, as a last token of respect.

THE ITINERANT BELL FOUNDER

AND THE BEER ACCOUNT.

An interesting little article headed "The Thirsty Bell Founder, Daily News.' The information it contains is larecly hased upon ibe records of that itinernt founder, John Wiaylett (who was ith businpss trom 1714 to 1727), which uppear in Dr. A. [9. 'Tysen's 'Chureh. Belts of Sussex." Wa are not so sure, however, that the inference that the beer provided on various occasions was all for the founder. In all probabibty the ringers had their full shave uf :t-nad, perhups, parsoc and churchwardens, too, for the official expenditure on the beverage was appasently only on ceremonious occasions.' be that as it may, the writer, we think, is a little wide of the mark in sayng that Waylett was probably of the gipsy typs. She has not realised the fact that in those days-two centuries ago-the lack of means of transport made il imperative in many mases for the uell founder to go to the bells instead oi the bells going to the founder. Sul the article iz nowe the less interesting reading. Stie says

All ove: Sussex from the little willage churches come the chinses of the bells cast by old John Waylott, the tinkering bell founder of the 16 h century. Sussex possesses forty of his bells, and during his wavderings he repaired the peals throughout ilie connty.

Probably he was of the gipsy type, loving the npen rond, making friends as he tramped from place to place, and choosing to make his fires in the open and work in the felde instead of in a foundry. His bells stial chime from every quarter, and the old parish records prove that he drank heer as he worked, plenty of it.

His method was simple. He would call on the Finat of the Prrish, and inguire if thew bells were winted, or if the old ones meeded repairing: when he received an order le would dig $x$ mould in at Aeld near the church, make his fire, collect the metal he needed, and cast his bell or repair the cracked onte on the spot.

In 1724 he was at Lewes, where lie built his furnace, and mended the peals for all the outlying villages. It was in that yoar he cast the Sterning peal. made a new treble hell for Mayfield, und recast the old one. Thred of his bells nere now in old withylam Chnen. the little village associated with the Sacksille family who have ouncd Buckhurst Park since the reign of Fenry II. The chureh was partially destroped by lightang, but the vaults where the Sackvilles werc buried escaped injury. $A$ large window gives their genealogy, now represented by Earl De La Warr. The Latin inseription reads:

The noble fanily of Sapeville lere awrits the Resurrection.'
fohn thaylett's work on the hells evidently made fims thirsty, and the old parish records show $f$ hee amount spent on beer diuring lis visits. Wheen he was at Withwam the churchwardens paid $3 / 6$ for his theer, and the price por gallon was less than for a pint now. Mayfichl, nocording to the old parish accounts, the expenditure an beer in conneclion witla lis visit was follows
Beer to the ringers when the bell founder was liere
When the bell was weighed
When the bell was loaded
$2 / 6$
210
When ithe bell was carried to Lewes and back
1010
When the bell wos weigled and hung
Bepv for the officers and athers langing the bell
Reer for the ringers when the bell was lung
The ringers of tho litde village of Burwash on one occasion refused to ring the bells when George IV. passed througl on his journey hack to Brighton ofter a tisit to Etchingham. They had rung him in 10 the wilhage on his way there, but stolidly refused to ring him out on fitis relurn.
No persuasion wount move the Sussex men, so the bells were silent, herause the First Gentleman im Furope had not mentioned heer

PRESENTATIONS AT SHROPGAM

On Saturday eveuing a farewoll half-peal was rung by members of the Norfolk Guild, consisting of seren six-scares each of Canterbury Pleasurc, Grandsire and Plain Boh. Before lowering the hells, Mr. C. Hewith on belials of the Shropham company, presented their cotrductor with an inkstand, and Mr. W\% Allen, condutotor of Rockland All Saints company, presented lim with a fountain pras. They remarked thaf Mr. Mason deserved some recognition of his unsparing efforts for the 18 years (except during the wari duting whisels he hati spent many hours in teaching young ringers, and making the ringing of muci higher standaid They fell sure that the ringers of Martham would be the gainers by what would he last in that. hefiry, gifta. ## RINGERS' SUPPER AND PRESENTATION AT STANMORE

A pleasant evening was spcil at Zion House Stammore, on Thurs day, January Bth, when the Stanmore ringers held their annual supper. The Rector (the Rev. W. A. Hewitt) presided, and was supported by Mr. C. T. Coles (hon. secrerary, Middlesex County Associa(jons) Mr. F. A. Edwards (Bushey), MIr, J. Milner (Islewortis) and numbers of the local band. A letter of apology wa receired from the Rov. S. F. L. Bernays (Rectar of Finclaley, and late of Stanmorel, explaining his inability to be present.
After supper had been disposed of, and the loyal toast honoured, Mr. G. Hugles (Master') proposed the toast of *The Rector and Churchwardens."-Mr. Euyhes expressed the pleasure of the ringers al laving the Rectol with then, and regretted the unavoidatule absence of the churchwardens. He niso mentioned thiat as g societry they Jiad made good protress during the last twelve monthe, whic, was due to the great help given to them by Mr. Edwards and Mr. Milner, and he assured the Rector that the socicty was strongar mow that it Jond ever been. - Thn toast was then drunk with musical honours.
The Rev. W. A. Hewitt, in reply thanked the members for inviting him to their anmual supper. Fe was glad to meet them, nnd also to hear the hells rume and ho espenally thanked thera for the peal rung on the eve of his induction in Decemher.
Mr. F. Hill (seoretary) proposed the toast of the wistors. He thanked the hon. seatetary of the Middlesex County Association for heing present with then, at which they felt honoured. To Messis. Edwards and Milecr he expressed heartfelt gratitude for the immense armount of trouble thoy had taken to holp them at Stanmore Tlhis toast having been honouted, the Rector presented Mr. Fetwards with a fountain pen as a small token of the regard felt for him hy the local jingers. It was the intention to present Mr. Miner with a suitatyly engrayed bell, thut the jeweller having failed them, this part of the proceedings had to be postponed.
Mr. Edwards brefly thanked the Stanmore ringers for their gift to him, and said it was a pleasure to help them. They had themaelves given him every encouragement by attending the practices regularly. and he was glad that some of them had achieved their ambition of ringing in a peal of Grandsire Triples.
Mr. Coled expressed his thanks at being invited, and said he was very pleased at the progresg mane by the Stammore ringers durmg 1924. Hn hoped they would go on until thev were able to ring a peal with an entirely local bonct. On behalf of the Midaleser Association lie thanked Mpssts. Edwards and Milner for the lielp they fand so freely given to the Stanmore ringers.
Mr. Milner alsn expreserd his thanks, and said it was a pleasare to heln such a fine lot of fellows as he met at Stammore.
Songs by Messir. G. Hughes. F. Edwards, F. Fill. Wr. Lancley and H . Moxom were interspersed hatween the warious faasts, and a pleasant evening came to an end all too sonn.

RINGERS AND CHURCE COUNCILS.

WHAT TO DO AND WHEN TO DO IT.

To the Editor

Dear Sir, -In your leading article, and in Mr. Young's letter, it is stuted that tho "time for action is betwaen the New Year and Enster.'
In our Diocese, I do not know what liappens in others, we aro advised to hold tho panual Paroelial Church meeting (au which members of the Church Council for the onsuing yeat are elected), as early as possible in the New Year, now that tho financial gear ends with the civil ycer. This being so, ringers should, at once, seo that llieir nanes are on the roll. If there is any doubt about it, and the roll is not posted at the chatch, procare a form from the incumbent of they are not placed eomewhers in the church-and fill it up, or ringers may suddenly wake up to the fact that the annual meeting $\mathrm{i}_{5}$ announced, and there is no tima to get their names on ' a fortright before the annual meeting.
Having gat this far, the mext duty is to aftend the meeting in force and plamp for their representative by giving him fle three votes allowed to any ane candidate. The regulations provide that any votor may give three rotes to one or more candidates provided Hat they do not give more votes in all than they are entitled to. Thlat number of votes each elector has is the same as the number of mambers to be election. Stupposing that 18 members are requiren, canh voter will have 18 votes, anti may give up to three each to the candidates he wishes to vole for but not mote than 18 in all. Of course, if the number of members to be elected is other than 18 , the number would be different.
It may be thought unnecessary to go into this hare, but at the nceting flis poinit may be overlooked, so it is just ns well to know about it beforelaad.
If a band of ringers, wifh their wives anti relations, who have votes will attend the meeting and each give the ringers' candidate lree votes his cleciion is in most cases assured. I do not suggest that they should not wote for any others, but do not plump for more firn the ringers who are up for election Ihninster.

MR. HARRY CHAPMAN'S 500 PEALS.

A LIST WHICH INCLUDES SOME RECORDS.

Mr. Harry Chapman, of Manchester, is the latest among ringers to score his five hundredth peaj.
Hary Chapman, that wham there is no better known or more popular ringer in the Exercise, was born at Bythorn, in Huntingdou, on Nov. 12th, 1863, and commences to pult a bell at the age of nine years, his father heing at that time parish clerk. It was, however, not until he was 19 rears old that he took up change-ringing, and visited Raunds, Northants, for the purpose. Later he came in contact with Mr. C. W. Clarke, of Bedford, and on Augusi 14th, 1886, he rang his first peal. This wus at Catdington. In 1888, Mr. Chapman went to reside at Manchester, where his first peal was Treble Ten at the Cathedral. He took part, in the first peal of Stednan by the Lancashire Association (at Eccles on December 28th, 1891), and conducted the first peals of Oxford Treble Bob, Superlative and Cambridge Surprige in Lancaslire. He was the first to ring Manchester Town Hall tenor single-handed wa peal, and a month after ringing it behind to Grandsire Caters, turned in this bell (52 cwt.) to Treble Ten.

Among other memorable performances, Mr. Chapman took part in the rccord 12,240 Kent Treble Bob Maximus, and the 14,000 Kent Treble Bob Royal at Ashton-under-Lyme, and the record 14,112 London Surprise Major at Eing's Norton.
For many years. Mr. Clapman las been a member of the committee of the Lancashire Association, wheh le las represented on the Central Council, which latfer body honoured him, during a period when he was not an elected representalive, by making limi an honorary member. Of his peals, considerably over 300 lisve been rung for the Lancashire Association. The followitg is his list of 500:-

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I abserse that the Rews. Davies and Drake aw likely to join the lisi of blose who are ab variance in your columns. If they elahorate upon the above words, our knowledge will be colarded antil it will be of interest to see with what polite deference they will agtee to difter. They will thus give a lead to many who appear to see in a difference the ravely missed chance to abuse the opposite pariy.
As regards the two words, it will be found that like ' Railway ' and Railroad,' ' Points " and "Suritches,' "Station" and . Depot, etc. the first are English and tise latter American. If we are adopting them, it is probally due to the eapture of ihe film trade by Americs; which indeed boasts that it will Americanise the world thereliy.-Yours faithfully,

PRESERVATION OF OLD MSS.

Such interesting information as that which we are able to give this week concerning the bells and ringing in clays gone by at Stonham Aspal, leads one to wonder whether some really determined attempt cannot be made to collect, catalogue and, where desirable, publish the records which must exist in various parts of the country, in the shape of MSS. (such as that from which Mr. Slater has compiled his article this week), the peal books of old ringers, and other material which may at present be available, but which in the future, if not carefully guarded, may disappear and be lost for ever to the Exercise. In the hands of men like Mr. Theodore Slater such papers are jealously cared for, but in the hands of some future owner they may be looked upon as worthless and consequently destroyed.
Some old papers of historic yalue, tike the Osborn MSS., have from time to time found their way to the British Museum; the MSS. of Mr. Charles Hattersley have been placed in a specially formed library at Sheffield Cathedral, and the future of some others have, perhaps, been secured. But there is much else which may well entirely disappear unless an effort is made to secure it for the Exercise, and, in this connection, it should be remenbered that interesting as these docaments may be to-day, they will increase both in interest and value as the generations go by. We should fike to see some scheme initiated by the Central Council for cataloguing all these papers as far as it is possible to trace then, so that they may know where to look for them in future, and at the same time steps should be taken to ensure that when present owners (or their heirs) have done with them, these papers will pass to the custody of the Council.

Unfortunately in the past the Council had an unhappy experience with one of its committees in work of this description, but the 'lineal descendant ' of this committee is a much more ' tive ' body, and perhaps it could be induced to take up the task of acting as an inquiry agent to gather particulars of existing MSS. of interest, and to make suggestions for the preservation of the papers, Such work would not only be of present interest, but future generations would appreciate the effort made to save those historical records which, once destroyed, could never be replaced. In addition to these MSS., there is also the question of compiling information as to old peal records. The Council possesses now the ringing publications of the last fifty years. Thie history of our art coutd be made much more complete if such particulars as exist of all previously rung peals could be collected and placed in the Library.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.  DRVIZES BRANCH YJSI' एLINGTON.

On Tuesday eveniag, damuary $13 t h h_{\text {, }}$ a combined practice of members trom 'I'rowisidge ant Bration, with some of the regular ringers, was held at the buatifiu] Church of St. Mary, St. Catherine, and All Sajets, bidingtion, Wilts, by the kind permitsion of the Vicar (the IRov. F. Spreat). touches of Grandsime and Stedman Doubles werc rung. Good sleiking was very difleult on account of the noise, and the " $\mathrm{co}^{\prime}$ of tha belis. 'Lite bells, six in number, tenor about 24 cwt, are sadly in need of the attention of the bell hanger.

Cdington possesses one of the finest clurchen itu the county of Wilts, being built between 1,351 ard 1,351 hy William of Edingcon, Bishop of Wiucheaber, atad Chancellor of England, who also founded the monastery, and at the speaial request af Edward the Black Prince founded a cullege of Augusine Monlts, called the Bonshommes, there. There wore only two houses of this Order in England, the other being al Ashbritge, Bucks. The Monastery remained until the Dissolution, in 1539, when Paul Dush, the Priol or Rector, was made tha frst Bishop of Bristol.

The churels was very extensively repairen at the cost of about 87,000 about 35 years ago. The bells till then ware rultg from the foor of tho churef.

It is to he hoped that somelhing will he dose to put this peal int order, ns Fdingion would then lave one of the finest peals of six in the county. The parisha, lowevel, is purcly ngrieultural, and passesses no enciowments.

Fifty six-scores of Grandsire Doubles, each rung difereatly.' How did they do it? This is the question which the reader will naturally ask himself wien pelusing the report of the peal at Rafloctoct Tho footnote will enliohten him. Erch of the five bells was usod in tarn for ten six-geores as the plein hunt belf.
A peal lias been rung at Weybridge, Surrey, the lirst since Sept. 12th, 1900, when the Rev. F. E. Robinson called a poal of Stedrant Triples.

Forty years ago tomorrow, viz., on Jomuary 2 tib, 1885, the Sussex Association was esfablished, mad there can now be very few of the criginal founders left.
Two days later tho first peal by the Association was rung by the Brighton buanch nt Uekfiehl, conducted by J. Toy, serr. Of that band there are, wo beliere, only two survivors: Chandes Tyler, of Hunfeld; and George King, now in Crmam.
Six other peals were lung in the same year, and ju thoso days a marble tablet was put up for eacla peal! ibue that practice soon became too costly.
Theve was a sitgatar cancitence on Natuary 25th, 1842. On that day a peal of 8.105 Stedman Gaters was rung at Panswick, and a peal of 8,081 Grandsire CaLer's at Stroud, Both, howerer, wferwards turned olt to be fatse.
On Jutuary $28 \mathrm{th}_{1,1} 1751_{1}$ a peal of 5,094 Grandsjre Caters was rung at St. Sepulchre's, Fobloorr, Landon.
The Oxtord Dionesan Guild remg a peal of 10,080 Double Norwich at Appleton on Taunary, 1888.
The sarue date in the year 1911 saw the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maxinus rung in Loudon. This was by the College Yonths, at Gornhill.
The first peal of Double Bob evor rung, 'with bols behind and befare alternately, was períormed at St. May's, Whitechapel, on Surday, Jabaary 29th, 2769, composed and conducted by Gsorge Gross.
Henry Haley, the fanous London linger, diea at Bethal Green on Jamuary 29th, 1980 , at the age of 66 years.
The peal of Grandsire Triples, rung on Deeember 20th, and published under the heading of Biddenhaw, Kont, was rung at Biddenden, and the composer was A. E. Bames, and not Batues, as prigted.
The peal ruyg at Isham last Suturday was finislaed ju complete darkness at 5.10 p.zn. owing to the oruission of lighting lamps, and this explains why Plain Bob was substituted for the last mathod and rung twice in the peal. It was the treble ringer's first peal, and great credit is the to liva on thig acconnt. The peal also celebrated the chasteaing of Devid Edward Alkins by his grandfather, which took place at this chureh on the following clay
There is therit in it peat such as ihat rung at Maribfedr, Gloucester, lest week, us the foolnole reveals.
'He ring of six bells at St. Mary's Clurch, Old Eeake, which liave been silent for some years owing lo their unsafe condition, ate to be rebung with entinely now fithings by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswielt. The work is to be finished by Easter.
We are not certain who rang most preals in the year 2924, but the ringer who exceeded Mr. I. G. Shade's total of 84 inade a good score, We said some time ago that Mr. Shade, who was then a long way past the thousand mark, liad given up work to go in for rioging, and, by Gcorge, he lias not belied the prophecy.
Apropos the "long' peal at St. Giles", a correspondent suggests ihere might be a bow-lcgged ' peal at Bow.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN STEPNEY RINGER.

We regret to announce the dentla of Mr. George Parrell, of Slepney, which Look place on Decenber 31st, after a long nurk printul illness, from cancer, in his 68th year.
Mr. Barrell was a regular service rimger ai St. Dinnstanis Clurch, Stepney, for many pears, and mag the Eenor there and at warious other clurches in the Erst of London, to many peals, at regord of which is not available. Iheing of splendid physigue, the was the ideat man for $z$ heavy or difficult tenor, his perfect timing liveing a great feature of his ringing.
Born af Rittenden, in Essex, on December 17 tl t , 1856 , Mr'. Barrell came to Lonton to join the Canmervial Brewery Co. Steptry, where he was a contemporary of Mr. Emaumel Hall, now residing in ToronLo, Ontario, Caurda. Fiected a member of the Aluciont Society of College Youtlis on November 13tlw, 1890, he always maintained the greatest interest in the society.
On Wednesday evening, Jaauary 7tl, the "whole pull aud stnnd" was rung by the following members at St. Dunstinn's Church: H. Langder, T. Beoney, W. Tamber, W. G. Barrell (son). T. Langelon, A. R. Nacdonald, J. Scholes, It. F. Deai. J. Bullock, W. T. Cockerill; and mfterwards Stedman Caters and Cambrilge Snrprise Major, with F. G. Symonds taking part.

Here the news was regreffully received that Mr. Emannel Hall land cost his wife, after a short jllness, at Toronto.

STONHAM ASPAL BELLS.

INTERESTING HISTORY OF THIS OLD SUTEOLK RING.
We are indebted to Mr. Theodore E. Slater, of Glomsford, for the foliowint; futhey particulars ennceming the bells al shonam Aspall, Sufflk, Mr. Sinter having copied them lirom the MSti. compiled by his futhey.

Sam ael Cirinwood, Innkeper, of stonhan Aspall, grives matice to all lovers of rintriag that on Mondey, tho bwentry-third of May next, the new pund of ten bells, lately casti by Mir. Thomas Lester, of London, and now haging there by Mr. John Witliams, will be rang for the firsb time by auy rompany thut will do themselves the pleasure of coning, The Norwich and Aylsham ringers have hined lodgings at Stomlinar Pye and the arightrouring louses, intending to be in the steeple easly on that date abovementionet.
N.B.-ML: Joln Williams who las lung most of the peals in and nbont Loudon hanges church and chapel thells in the bost manner, and at the cheapest rates, and may be spoken wible at any time at his hotise in Stonlam Arpall Street.
It will be secu by the foregoing that the new peal of ten bells was opened on Monday, May 23ri, I743. Filoy remained thus until 1825, when they were all baken down and enkirely rehung by Thomas and Joshun Finvy, of Natwinh, and sis of uleno recast., They were opened on 'llausulay. Vecember' 28th. 1826, when the two Iurrys and some of tho Norwidh Scholars, with William Leach, of Ipswich, started for a 5,400 of Boll hoyal. When they had rung abaut 3 hours, Leach set his belt, the terrot, and said to Thomas Hurry, who wras calling the peal and diaging the treble and had mate: a false call: 'No! No! Mr'. Hurry. there is scope enough on ten bells without ringing changes over again. I aever rang a false peal yct, and never will, if I know it.

The firt account of a peal being rung on the bells is copied from the diles of the "Ipswich Journal," Jut it is tlought that it was not the first peal rung on the bells.

On Sunday, the 22nd of September, 1751, was rang upon the eight frgest bells at Stonham Aspall, in the wonnty of Sulfolk, a compleat peal of Five Thousand and Fory Boh Major Dabbles, in 3 hours and 20 minutes, by the persons madementioned: Henry Gray third, Daniel Heasham fourth, Richard Wierie fifth, Inmes Gariner sixth, Joseph Alcxavder seventh, Johr Share eiglath, Wham Walker ninth, fames Wilson teror

No conductor's nange is gireu in the "Tpswich Journal."
The aext penl is withont douht Holt's Original, ant this was the first time that it was rung out of London, end the serond time that t was rung at all.

On Fuidav, January 31st, 1752 , wes rang at Stonlam Aspail, in the county of Suffolk, by their own Society of Ringers, a Five Thousazd and Forty Grandsire Tripples, it heing the second time ever rang mitlu two Doubles only, This true peal las been very lately by Mr. William whlker. It was complealed in 3 lours and 10 minutes
 Richard Wade, 41 ; pilliam Ranysard, 5th; Jolin Sharp, 6Ela; Richard Moyse, 7th: Talm Thurlow, tenor. Note. It is thought impossible for man to ring one of the leals and call the Bobs at the same time, he peal heing so intricate.
The inollowing are records of other preals :-

Theotore Ficcleston. Tisi.. 1742.
The following is it description of the tower and bells made by

Samuel shater : "Ho steeple of the Parish Chumels, Stonlan Aspall, is placed on the south side of the chntel, and forms the mincipal entrance to the church, this heing a greal curiosity. In the year 1742, Sheodore Eccleston, a gentleman, zesidity at Growficld Fill, denided to take down the old ring of five bells aut replace them with a ring of ten. It appears that after ba took down the old ring of live an got the new rizg of ten, be luad never thought how and where they were to bo lung, as the stecplo in a small one, buing builk only to recoive the old ring of five. The roon necessary for the ring of tent was found thus : Tie old steeple was taker down to the fioor where tho fuames were to rest on, and in frame was made nearla the size of the stecple, and the bells hung on the walts, and the upper part vas staddied up, boarded and surmounted witls fons wooden pinnacles, and allogether has a very handsome appearance. The olf ringiag room was also very trsefully decorated amd fitted up. It was aboul ten feet from the ground, and the walls and ceiling were plastered, and a boss with a gold and blue rimg for eacin rope to come through in the ceiling. In the centro was a golden pincapple, from which laags the beantiful brass chandelier with its six or cight branches, end roumd the boss was engraved the name of the donor. "Theodore Eccleston, lisq., 1742." The floor was fixed so that, the ringers of the treble and second and the Gfth and tixth bells could stand under the west and east arelies in the steente. The window comes down to tho floor, and used to be opened to hear the trehles from the ontside, as they ling guite on the wall. Then ronld be heard the ten bells to perfection. But now, alas! the ringers are placed higher up in the steeple, and the window alrendy mentioned whove cannot be opened, and so the frebles of this fine ring cannot now be heard in the ringing room, flus making it very awkward for the ringere to strike the ten bells, hut they can be heard putside."
Tradition tells us that the bells were taken first to Crowficid Hall barn, and there Johy Willinms made the farmes for them, the thaber laswing grown on the estate.

When John P. Powell, of Quex lazk, pulblistred his broadsheet and gave one to every existing band of ringers in the kingwom he sent one to Daniel Wade, and that along with Wade's ME. book, are in my possession in a good state of preservation.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION

 TAST MARTKAM'S NEW BELLS.The first meatiug of the new jear of the North Notis Association was beld at Tuxford on Saturday last, and proved a very successful and repuesontative gatlering. BFembers were present from Auston, Blyth, Gainsborough, Dunham, Shircoaks, Trecton, Ordsall, East Retford, Laxton, Lincolth, East Marklinm, Worksop, Sutton-on-Trent, and the local company, uumbering 28 in all. Usually at this place flae Wicar has been in atterdance to welcome all on arripal, but illness preventex hin doing so, anth his depuly was Mr, Smith, Gre of the wordens, who also arranged to hawe the bells in fair golag order, considerimg that two or three of them require the services of a bell hanger. Mr. Smith promised to draw the attention of the Church Council to this, with il view to relanging.
The following methods were rung: Oxford, Kend, Violed, Loudon Scholarg' Pleasure and Bob Minor', a 'T20 being rung in this last-named method by a mixed band. Af $4.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , a gentleman, who shall be nameless, volunteered to give some of the visitors a 1 tha in his large motor-cay betore tea to East Marklinm for the purpose of testing the two now bells which have receatly been put in by miesses. Taylor to angment the ring to eight. These bells were given by the Inte 35 . Henry Couleshew as a memorial to himself and wife, who died quite recently. The tells are a beatiful 'splise' to the okd six, and are another speciment of this well-known firm's grood workmanship, the tone and "go" heing everything desired. The new clock being put in by Mr. Hopps, of Leanington, nepliew of the late Mr. Coulestaw, is heing arranged in the ringing chamber in one correr so as not to impede the view of the ringers, and the ropes fall in a beautiful circle. An intermediate floor has also been put in by this gentleman to deaden the sound, which lias made a great jmprofement in the ringing chamher. The new bells will be denicated on Sunday, Feh. lst, ist 2 p.m. by the Lord Bishon of Southwell, after which the bells will be af the disposal of the visiters during Sunday afternoon and for evening seryice. Threc shart touclass of Kent Treble Bob Major were rung to give everybody a chance, and all expressed their appreciation of the sweetness and purity of the tono and good splice of the ring.

Retaming to Tuxford at 5.30 p.m., tea was served to 28 at Mrg. Jones' Tempeance Hotel. after whinla the usual businiss mceling followed, with Mr. Hargreaves in the chair, it the unavoiflable ahsence of the Vicar.
Cecil Rasliby, of Blyth, was electex a member. -The next meeting will be helki at Rlyih on Fastev Monday, and will be advertised later in 'Tle Ringing World.'-A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to The Viear for the use of the bells, and congratulations wele alsa extended to him and his wife on their recent marriage, wishes being expressed for their heallh, Iong life and happiness.
The tower was açan visited, and the bells were rung antil 8.15 pan., when they wore lowered in peal.

WAITING TO BE PAID!

There are still, it seems, towers where tingers can only be found if payment is made for their services. It reads strangely in these days, to find, set out in the cold print of a county newspaper, the offer of a correspondent to "raise a side of ringers to start at once, "if some other person will raise a fund to pay the ringers & a year each. In the old Oxfordshire town of Dorchester the Abbey bells were silent on New Year's eve, and apparently there has been a general desire on the part of the inliabitants to know why the time-honoured custom, to 'ring out the old, ring in the new,' was not observed. In enlightening the public a ringer resident in the town gave two reasons. The first, which was a good, if not an entirely sufficient one, was that 'there are no recognised ringers at the Abbey tower, although there are plenty in the parish.' The second was in the form of a question, which asked if there was one person in the district that contributes one single farthing towards the help of a side of ringers in Dorchester? And then comes the conditional offer referred to above, with the promise that there shall be no more grumbling about not hearing the bells.

Now, as we have cver been ready to tagree, there are circumstances under which payment to ringers can be justified-especially in cases in large towns and cities where their presence in the belfry to ring for the services actually involves out-of-pocket expenses-but there seems to us sometking radically wrong somewhere when in a country town, with 'plenty' of ringers, a peal of beils hangs silent in an ancient abbey for the sake of a pound a man. The men who hold aloof on the ground that they will not ring without pay, are evidently not men who love the art for the art's sake, and yet they are prepared to ring the bells (presumably twice each Sunday) if someone will guarantee them something less than twopence halfpenny per ringer for each attendance! It is almost staggering to think that men who are 'ringers' can stand out over a quibble of this kind. One could understand the 'mercenary ' attitude better if the demand were something more commensurate with the time involvedassuming that the men want to be recompensed for their services. As a ' remuneration,' a pound a year per man is absurd, as an obstacle to the ringing of Dorchester Abbey bells it is a folly. Surely there must be annong the ' plenty in the parish ' at least one ringer who realises the opportunity which is presented, to raise a band who will give their services to the church and count it a privilege to be allowed to futfil the duty. In thousands of country towns and villages throughout the land, there are companies of ringers (not all of then versed in the practice of scientific change ringing) who gladly give their services

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Cirencester Brancls was held at Cirenecster on Snturday, January 24th, when members and vistiors to the number of 25 being present from Uirencester, Fairford Lechlade, Goln St. Aldwy, Down Ampnej end Swindon, and also an old Cirencoster ringer, in the person of Mr. Wilfed Androws, from Winehester Gathedrai. Ringing comanaced at 3 o'clock at Holy Trinity Church, Watermoor, touches of trandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major being rung till service time.

The service was condueted by the Fioar (the Rev. L. Westmacott), and tea was served at Messrs. Finer's Restaurant. 集t the business meeting which followed, the ohairman of the branch (Mr. F. Edwards) presided. The treasurer's reporl was submitted, and was considered satisfactory

The foflowing offeers ware elected: Ghairman, Mr. F. Edwards; secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. J. Lewis; member on management comroittee, Mr. J. Hope.
Mr. Edwards, in returning thanks, remarked that whie the bell founders had brought the art of casting and hanging to perfeetion, they had not troubled to perfect a really good silent apparatus, sa that ringers could practise withoul annoying people outside.

Twn honorary and three performing members were electen, and Tetbury was chosen for the next menting.
a vote of thanks was passed to the Rer. L. Westmacote for taking the service, and for the use of the bells. -In replying, the Vicar satd that le did get coraplaints about the ringing, but that the consplainers were always in the minority, sud if the bells were not rung the complaints would be very great.

Owing to illness, the bolls at the Parish Charch could not berung, and Watermoor was, flserefore, Bgain visited, and further touches of Triples and Major rung. The secretary made it a special point to see that everyone liad a pull.

BRISTOL BRANOH.

The anmal meeting of the Bristol brancla was held at St. James's, Bristol, on Saturilay last. Riaging began soon after three p.rn., and service was held it the church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. S. E. Swan) officiated. and give a very helpful address. Tea was kindly arranged by Mr, add Mrs. Way, and friends, at the Church Institute.
The business meeting followen, and nearly 50 members were present, jucluding the Rev. E. J. Phillips (vice-gresideut) and the Rev. S. E. Swan.

Mr. J. Goule, on taking the chair, referted to the sad bereavement sustained by Mr. C. Hosmell, of Wormley, in the lass of his wife, and asfed the members to sfand in sympatly.
The hon. secretary's report showed that twelve meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of 23 , which was a falling off on the previous year. $H_{e}$ dics not bhink it was owing to lack of interest, but to the very inclement weather of the pasi summer. Thirty-fve members had heen elected during the year. The Secretary lhanked the tower secretaries for the prompt wry they lad sent in their subseriptions, and remarked it woudd be a great help to the branch if some of the more advanced tingers mould visit the country towers. The peal at Warshfield by all local men reflected great credif on Mr. W. Lewis for the way he had worked, as it was practically an isolated district with no lielp near.

The balance sheet was presentel, and prsserl, showing a balance in liand of 117 1s. which was considerably more than last year.
Mr. Th. A. Caye moved that a letter of congratulation from the meeting be gent fo Mr. W. Lewis and the ringerg at Marshlielf.
The offeers were re-elected, amid applause, as follows: Mr. J. Gnuld, chairmar; Mr. P. F. Willinms, secretary; Mr. J. G. Jeferies on management committee; Mrs. G. Wiltinas wins elected an absociate member; and Messris. H. Buguley and E. Guest, of Honloy, and Messrs. Smart, I. Marsh, T. Marsh and C. Jeteries, af Mangotsfield, were clected perionining members.

The cuncterly meetings were fixerl as follows: Wormley in February; Coalpit Heabi in May; Mungotsfield in August; St. Warburglas in November.

It was decided that, arter the quarterly meeting at Wormley, which was fixed for Fobruary 21st, all meelings of the brench should be hed ou the last Suturday it each mond.

It was also decided that $$ 5$ of the balauce in haud be used for the benctit of menbers atiending the annul mecting at Tewkesbury on Easter Monday. All applications for seats In the charabanc are to ba in the committec's hands by Mareh 281h.
Tho Rev. E. J. Philips moved a learty vote of thanks to the Rev. S. E. Swan for the use of the bolls tul for condacting the service; also to the arganiser for his assistanee, and to the ladies for arranging the excellent tea,
Mr. C. H. Jemings proposed a licarty vote of thanks to the chairmatu and secretary for the excellent way they had carried out their duties during the year (applanse).

This couctucled the business, which was followed by the annust meating of the Bristol Unitud Ringing Guilds.

BELFRY GOSSIP

It is interesting to note, writes Mr. R. G. Rice, 36 comertion with the peal of Bob Major rung ut Hagbourne, Berks, on the LELA January, that the only previous peal in the method on these bells was cung on April 2lst, 1772 , by eight members of the Oxtord City Society (founded 1757), in threu lours twenty minutes, condacted by d . Baket. This was also the first peal on the belle.
Mr . Rice aiso replises to an inquiry made by a comespondent in our issue of January $\mathrm{B}_{\mathrm{l}} \mathrm{l}$ as to whether any tower possestas lwo older bella than the two at Eythome, cast in 1470 . He points oul lhint there are two much older bells at Dorelsester Abley, Oxon. The 7ths was cast in Londan in 1320 , aud tho tenor at Wokiogham in 1380.

Tho peal at Wilton, Tamnton, on Jamuary 10th wits rung in two hours 54 minutes, and not two hours 45 minutes, as printed last week.
The Swindon Parish Churela Guild has, after many attempts, sutceeded in ringing the first peal on the fine new ring of tew. The conductor, who was so intimately associated with thes sclieme for providing this noble church on the liill witla a mew ying of ten, rang his first peal of Caters al the fine old Clurch of St. Lawrence, Rendiag, in 1884.
What would lave been the first peat of Stedman Triples for all except the eonduclor was lest on Saturday evening at All Sniuls' Church, Newport, in the lust half-course of the peal, after 2 hours 58 minutes' ringiag. The attempt wha in honour of the nowly ioducted Vioar, und those taking part were regular service ringers it the church.
Althongla Mr. I. Gi. Shade's 84 peals in 1924 is a wonderinal total it is by no means an individual record for a ycar's riมging. In 1913 the late Mr. A. W. Grimes rang 136 peals, which followed on it iotal of 114 in the preceding year, and set up the unigue pertormaned at 250 in two years. In 1912 the late Mr. Bertram Prewet alsa tang 100 peals.
It would be interesting to Enow, writes Mr. C. F. Ehberson, at which tower the greatost number of peals and methods were rung in 1924. At Willesden, he adds, eighteen peals were rubg in fourteen methods during the year.
Bonjamin Amable, one of the outstanding figures of the early days of ringing, died on Februnty lst, 1766. Hz was buried at St. Bride"s, Fleet Streat.
Harrison's peal oí 10,176 Treble Bob Major was ruag at Waralam, Sussex, in the Kent Variation, on Fob. 2ad, 1891.
"Composed by Mr- Holl, of the London College Youtlis," a peal of Grandsire Triples was rugg at St. Mary's, Nothingham, on Shrove Tuesilay, February 3rd, 1761.
A peal of 10.032 Grandsire Major was rung in 6 hours 18 minales at Walsall on Feb. 4th, 1861
The Crmbridge University Guild mis founded on Feb. 4 th, 1879.
On Feb. 5th, 1783, a peal of 12,672 Bob Major was rung at Bromley. The fime was 7 hourg 48 minutes, On the same day in 1888, the then record lengils of Stedman Caters, 12,041, was rung ic 7 hours 26 mimutes, at Appleton. The last long peal in twis methoul on these bells was nearly twioc the length.

CROWLAND ABBEY BELLS.

The peal of Doubles which was recently mentioned as beivg the first pead on the bells at Crowland Abber Lines was nat the anly peal that has been rung there. On Feb. 20th, 1913, the Peterborough Association rang a peal of Bob Minor, conducted by G. Juston: A. Holland 1, E. Tilley 2, W, Waldron 3, J. Jutson 4, I. Bennett 5, G. Jutson 6. We liave to thank Miss K. A. Jutson for sending us this information. It is interesting to note that there is ghft. ciraught ol rope, with only one floor hetween ringers and bells,

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. ILCHESTER DEANERY BRANCH.

Tho annual meeting whs hold at Martock on Saturdas. A service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Yicar (the Rov. G. W. Saunders), who is also presidant of the branch. About sat sat down to tea in the Church House. Amongst flose present were the Rev. Rliys James (Vicar of Drayton), Mr. E. E. Burgess (getmeral secretary), and Mr. C. D. Foginbothan (Devizes).

At the meeting which followed, all officers were re-elected, viz. President, the Rew. G. W. Snunders; secretary Mr. F. Farmat; Ringing Master, Mr. D. G. Taylor; general committee ropresenintive, Mr. J. E. Baker

It was suggested that an extrin office bo made, that of vicc-president, gnal on the propesa? of Mr. D. G. 'laylar, this was agreed to.-Mr. "F. Gale then proposed that the Vicar of Jrayton, who is an accomplished change rimger, be viee-president,-This was carrict unanimously.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. NORTH AND EAST DISTRICT MASTER RETIRES.
The annual meeting of the Norlh and East Disfrict of the Middleser Connty absocintion and London Diocesan Guild, was held at Edmontor on Saturday last, and was attended by some 40 members. Ginging commenced at ahout 3 p.m., and continued in various methods until 5 p.m., when a short servien was held, at which the Vicar (the Rev. R. C. Evill, an lion, member of the association, gavo the ringerg a hearty welcame.

Tea was served at the Rose and Crown, and was followed by the business meetiug. The president, Mr. F. A. Milme, J. ${ }^{3}$., took the chair, and after the usual preliminaries, the balance sheet, which howed a balinne of EL 7 f . on the year's working, was adopted.
Six new members were elected, including four young lingers belonging to the Stamford Hill band.

It was with great regret that the meding heard of the resignation Mr. G. B. Lucas as Distriet Master. The Pvesident proposed that a hearty vote af hanks be passed to Mr. Laces for his services to tho association, spreat over many years.-This was seconded by the Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles), who stated that the reason of Mr'. Lueas' resignation was the after-effects of his accident of a year or more ngo, which had catised lima almosi to give up ringing. The vate of thanks was supported by Mr. J. Whghorn, Mr, Armstrong, and others, and whs carried unanimously.

Mr. Norman A. Tomlinson, of Soutligate, was then elected as District Master, and the ofher officers were elected as follows: Treasurer, MI. F. A. Milne; hon. secretary, Mr. C. T. Coles; assislant hon. secretary, Mr. W. J. Kemp; Central Committee, Messrs. R. E. Geare, G. B. Lueas and W. E. Oram; auditors, Messes, J. E. Miller and W. Pickworth.

Tho members aflopted the commitlee's recommendation to circularise the athliated Lowers for donations to the Washbrook Memorial Fund. The hon. seeretary would be giad to receive any donations from members of the association, and would forward them to the proper guarter.
It was decided that the next annual meeting of the district shoud he held nt St. Gilos-in-lire-Fields, whilst the arrangemonts of the mext district meeting were left to the hon. sectelary.
Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar (the Rev. R. C. Evill: to Ms. Urove, the arganist; and to Mr. G. Paice, Mr. J. Pirker, and othert, for services rendered, coupled with fin expression regret at the absence of Mr. J. Parker, througla illness, ard a fope of a quick recovery late Govemor of Western Australa, and the Hon. Lats NewdegateNewnegate, of Arhury Hali, Numeaton, 336 Grandsite Trinles end 224 Pan Bols Major. An athempl was made in the evening for a peal of Tundkire Triples, which mfortmately camo to grief, after nearly th hour's excellent rinping. The following members took pant i the ringing: Miks C. M. Dodis, Misg D. E. Lewts, MLiss M. F. FodiMridga, Meksts. J. E. Moreton, A. H. Reamish, H, Wright, R, More-on, Wr. Balger and C. Rayson.

TOO MUCH MONEX?

M.CA. QUARTERLY MEETING AT LONG £ATON.

Saturday, Januarj 17th, saw the memters of tho Midland Counties Association assemble for the quarterly meeting at the Jerbyshire town of Long Eaton, where ringing took place at the Parists Church trom 2.30 to 9 p.m. Although not numerically large, the gathering uonprised jingers who tang nearly everything up to and including London Surprise. The committee, tea and gencral meeting all took place in tho Co-operative Cafe, a splendid repast being served to aboul 45 members. At the subsequent meeting, Ald. R. B. Chambers presided, supported by Mrs. Chambers, Mr. P'yce Taylor, Mr. A. C. Wright (fon. secretary), while a churchwarden represented the local athorities. The Rev. R. E, Wilkinson, of Mansfield-a ringer-parson-joined the gathering, which was representative of the various districts of the essociation. Twentyseven new members were gatliered in, and a long discussion followed on the suggestion to reconstuct the rulus to permit lacal automamy. It was eventually decided to call a special committee mecting sometime in Mrech to disouss the ways and means, providing the various districts approved.

A grant of five grineas was made from the Bell Repair Fund to Hinckley, Leicestershire, for the relanging of the ring of cight, and a grant of thee guineas from the general funds was apportioned to the Washbrook Memorial.

Messis. Wallace and Draper were elected auditars for the treasurer's accounts, which again show an increase of funds.

Apropos of the special committee's iuture meeting, is is boped that all branches will seriously consider the matter hefore sending their secretary as delegate. There are several ways of disposity of the surplus funds-if it is decided to dispose of them. The proposition contained in the suggested new rules is that the capitation fee should? be 6il. per member instead of one shilling and sixpence, and that the report should be free.
It las been decided already to reduce the cost of the report from one shiling to sixpence. The lron. thensurer would suggest that a retum be made either by reducing the annual subscription to prewar scale ( $1 /-$ ) or by a rebate at the end of the financial year, whenever the association shows a profit, and that the quarterly or anmual Eea or tinner should be free. The peal trouble is, he says, that the association las foo mucli money! These remarkes are written solely to draw the attention of absont members to the subject.

AN ARCHITECT ON BELLS.

CONDEHNATION ON IRON AND STEEL TRAMES.
If correctly reported, some of the statements made at a leciuse on Friday last, at Liverpool, by Mr. W. D. Carae, the architect. ought not to go unclallenged. Speaking at the Clurel House, on "Church Bells and Bell Hanging.' he gave a warning to church offeials (says the 'Liverpool Post and Wereury' to look before they leap into acceptance of some of the bell hanging improvements ("gadgets, le called then onee) offered by some bell fonders. Particularly he was against iron or steel bell frames. They deteriorated, le said, and required constant nursing.

Change finging, said Mr. Caroe, was pecnliar to this country. The caritlon bell of the Continent was a musical iastrument. The other bolls were not, musical instruments. 'There is music,' he said, 'and there is bell music. A bell has tirge distinct notes - the top, the lower, and the major thircl, which demands a musical ear to detect it." Bells, he ackled, should be heard from a distance. Talking of towers, the strmin caused by the bell ringing was very great, le ssicl. In the tower itself, weight nnti solidity were the first desiderata, There must be solid material and good mortar. Bells were api it make mincemeat of bad mortar.

Canon Wells was chairman at the lecture.

DEATH OF A READING RINGER

The feath occured with tragic suddenness, at Reading, on Sunday, January 18 ilh, of Mr. Arthur Lovejoz, aftier a fatal attack of preumonia, at the early age of 18 years.
Ho lad recently joined the thay, and came home on the Friday preceding his cieath, to fake part in a peal at Aldermaston, bul was laken ill on Saturday, and passed mway on Sunday. The news came as a shock to lis many friends, as lie was of fine physique and extriordinarily active and keen.

Arthur Lovejoy was well known in and around Fending, and also at. Portsmouth, as an exceptionally entiusiastic and able ringer, and although he had been pinging for only three years, he had reacherl a very high stamiard, botis in striking and ringing the mote advansed methods. Prior to joining the nary he acted as steeplekeeper at St. Lamrence"s, Reading, succecting the late Mr. W. Newell in that capacity.
The funeral took place at Reacing, on Friflay. January 23rd, ant wha attented by several of lis friends of St. Lawrence's, who provided a wreath, and also by brother ringers from other Reading towers. A course of Grandsire Triples was rumg on handbells over the grave. and mufled touches were rung at $t. Lamrence's in the evening in which several of the local towers were represented.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

BROWNTDGE VETERANS' SERVICES ACKNOWLEDGED

A very successful meeting of tho Preston branch of the Lancashire Association was held at sit, Marys R.C. Churcls, Brownedge, on Saturday, January 10th.
This was the tirst meeting at the chately under the auspices of the association. as althougl tho bells havo been hang in tho tower sivee 1867, they hare been reputed as a bad going peat, while the tenor has not teen rung in changes for a great mumber of years, and never by local men.

The ring is supposed to lee the hentiest peal of six in Lancashire, Lue fenor being 2 I cwt. The bell was east by J. Wurphy, Dublan, and iłe other five are by Mears, all cast in 1867. They ute hang w two tiers, and, according to one of the local ringers, the whee on the fenor was smaller originally than at presmet.
The visitors were weleomed by the Rector, Fatier J. A. Turnet, and the local ringers, and previaus ta the ringing a wisit was paul to the vesiry, where at fery interesting coremony took place, the reverend genfleman making a presentation to two of tho oflest lecal mer, bodl of whom had about 47 years' service rioging to flue crodit. Those two veterans were BLessur, James Gerrard and Willinm Whalley, and both expressed their gratitude for the presents, and related sonm of their experiences of long ago. The Rector then provided light z'efreshments for the gathering.
A move was afterwards made to the belfry, where some well-struek touches of Piain Bob, Kent, Oxford and Woodbine Treble Bob were Fung, also Grandsire Douhlis with the lomal tuen, some of whom had heir first altempt at Bob Minor.
At the hosiness mecting three of the local men wete made memherg of the resociation.
The riagers were coaplimented on the striking by the Rector ast the vaterans, and the meeting closed with a lesson to the locad mea by somo of the visitors, Anong those present was Mr, Ji, Timhrell, of Clipping (the compaser of one of the loug lenarilis of Trebie Fob), after a very long absence

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION NORTECRN BRANCF.

A meeting of the Northerr Wranch was held at Cradley on Saturday, Jenuary 17 th, over 50 members being present, and neariy every tower in the arear represented. Before the service, touches in ratious thods were bronght round. The service was eonducted by the Viear (the Rev. W. S. Coaperi. In his address, the Vieft welcomed the members, and said they were froud that Cridley had been chosen again for emecting, after f lapee of abont 12 years. God had given bell ringers the gift of masic to cheer their fellow Christinns, but unfess dominated by the spirit of love the work was of no avait. Ii luve was not there it was just notge, and not music. He kuew of no Chrisifan service of greater valtie than bell ringing.
Tea was served in the churds Schools, and at the business meeting which followed, the Vicar presided, supported by his wardens, Mr. A. Powell and Mr. B. Parry, Messrs. R. ## THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE M.C.A.

The majority of the ringing societies will, we imagine, envy the position of the Midland Counties Association in their substantial surplus of funds. None other that we know of is at this moment in such a happy position that it can say that it has too much money. On the contrary, many of them have been unable to make ends meet, and only the other day we gave an extract from the Lancashire Association report which showed that the reserves of that large organisation were on the verge of disappearing. Circumstances are, of course, widely different in the various areas, but the reason of the Midland Counties Association's financial success is not far to seek. It is fortunate in having as its president one who is no mere figurehead, but a hard worker in the cause of the association. Coupled witi this he has a position of influence in the northern midiands, and his personal efforts have resulted in a large acquisition of honorary members, whose subscriptions have been largely responsible for raising the association's funds to their present high level. An equivalent of Aiderman Chambers is not available to every association, but we are convinced that much more might be dore by way of gaining honorary members than is done by many of the ringing organisations. The methods adopted are usually of a very casual kind, and yet it is realised that a society must have honorary members' support if it is to be free from financial anxiety.

The Midland Counties Association is now in the strange position (for a ringing society) of having to discuss how best to dispose of its surplus wealth, and in our report last week various alternatives were put forward. Among the suggestions, however, we did not notice any mention of educational work, such as the possession of funds would enable an association like the M.C.A. to undertake. The explanation of this may be that in this respect, also, the association stands in a singularly happy position in being able to get the work done without expense to the society. But if this is not the case, we should like to see some of the association's surplus funds earmarked for educational purposes, and by that we do not mean merely sending out an instructor to help a band of ringers master the rudiments of change ringing. We have often urged that associations should assist ringers, eitler in bands or individually, who are otherwise without the opportunity, to advance from the bottom to the top of the campanological ladder, and there is no doubt that both financially and in the possession of competent men for the task, the Midland Counties Association is in the position to carry out the experiment on a scale never yet attempted. How best the funds available could be (Continued on page 82.)

applied to this purpose is a matter for the M．C．A．to consider，but it now has a unique opportunity of starting a real educational scheme which would be of far greater value to the art than any trifling reduction of the mem－ bers＇capitation fee could possibly be and the giving of the suggested local autonomy will probably be found a useful step loward the carrying out of an＇educational＇ scheme．

THE 'PITCH’ OF BELLS.
A correspondent has asked us to what 'pitch' (or keynote) belp founders cast their bells.

We write subject to correction, but we believe it is a fact that English founders do not mako at preetice of exting bells to any particular piteh, unless requestod to do so, and the tuning of the kells depentis npon how they come from tho mouldis. A peal of bells might by chunce exactly agreo with a standard pitch, but more often than not they would be somewhere between high and low pilch. In naming the pitch the foumfers, we believe, use the nearest note according to concert pitch (i.c., high pitch). For instance, if the tenor of a peal is one-eighth to a quarter of a note flat or sharp of ' $F$ ' they would describe the peal as being in the key of 'F.'

NORFOLK GUILD.

MRETING AT FAST DERETAM.
Alter the report of the arnual meeting held at Great Yactuouth fast year, several mombers of the above-named Guild lad begun to think ringing in Norfolk was a thing of the past, but happily they were wrong.
On Saturday last a meating was leld at East Derehnar, when between thity and forty members attented from the following places East Dereham, Notwich, North Elham, Gressenhall, Yaxtam, Ketteringhan, Repham and Joningham. Ringing on tine tower bells took placo fram 2 p.m, until $7 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., the methotls rung being Sterlman, Doublo Norwich, Treble Bob, Grandsire and Bob Major. Soverat members took part in their first towches of Stedman, and this, and the fact lhat; fhere were quite a number of young ringers present, was a very encouraging feature.
At the conclusion of the tower bell ringing, handibells weza produced, and touches of Treble Bob Major, Grandsire Triphes and Bob Major were bronght round.
All agreed, when the tirme arrived to return home, that a successful meeting had been lield, and it is hoped that many mare such meetings may be arranged in the neat future.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, HIKMINGHAM.

WFE MEMBERS' ENTRANGE FEE TO IEE RALSED.
The annual mealing of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocesg of Birmingham was held at the St. Martin's Hotel on Tuesduy, Jan. 20!h, undel the elaimonnship at the presiding Ringing Master, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett. All the officers were re-elected for the ensuing twelve months, and tize presiding Ringing alaster was congratulated on haring attained his 70th birlhilay. In thanking the memberg, Alderman Pritchett said linat he wished to express deep. gratitude to those who took part in the peal of Stedman Cinques rung al St. Martin's to celebrate his birtluday.
The balance sheet for the past Jear was duly adopted, and after some discussion it was unanimously agreed to raise the entrance fee for life members from $2 / 6$ to $5 /$. The entrance fee for ordinary memberg remains as before.
The Secretary (Mr. A. Padilon Sinith) reported that, the Connainglat Room at ithe Imperial Hotel had becn booked for Satariay, February 28th, and it was decided Llat the Eenry Jolnson Commemornition Dinacr should be held on that day. On this ocension it happers that the comaemoradion will iake place on the actual bifthing of the old gentleman.

Tive new tombers were clected, and eleven tower elections ratified. The aext quarterty meeting will, with the pernission of Lhe Viear and wardens, be laeld at King's Norton in April.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.  CHEW DEANERY BRANCH.

At the service, an excellent adidress was given by the Vicar of Long Ashton (hie Ruw. J. L. Varley). Tea was served in the Church House, and was followed by the business meetiog, which was prosided over by tide Rev. J. E. Verloy.
Mr. T. Wyatt was re-elected chairman of the branel. Mr. Q. Gourt was re-elected wice-chairmath, together with Mr. J. Bishop; Mr. Perey G. Feo was re-elected as honorary becrelary yuth troasurer ; and Mr. $G$, Yeo as Ringing Mnster and representative on the general conanilice. Two new members were elected, and Portishaad was chosen es the pince for tho noxt quarterly meeting. Nailsen was selected for an intermodiate mecting.

A vote of thanks was given to tho ladies for the splendid tea they had prepared, and to the Fiater for the use of the bells for his kind address, and for presiding at the meeting-The Vicar suitably responded.

A vote of thanks was passed, with epplause, to the hon. secratary for his serviceg
The meeting then terminafed, and the members agnin visited the tower, where the bells were kept going until 8 o'clock.

PRESENTATION AT NORWICH

WFDDING GIFT TO MASTLR OF MANCTOFT GUILD. OL Tlucsulay, fanuary $27 \mathrm{th}_{1}$, at the amual mecting of the Si. Peter Mancroft Gilide, a presentation whs ruade to Mr. George P, Burton, the Master, on tho ocension of his tharriage to Miss E. S. Bird, which tuok place on Thaseday, the 29th, wh Chriat Clureh, Eaton.
To those concerned, the selection of a suitable memento was an easy matter, for wood from the old frame recently removed from Mancroft tower was arailable, aud from some of it a pair of electric lamp siandards were made. Curiously enonglt the wood used was from the pit of the sixtl-the last hell Mr. Burlon rang at Mancroft 10 n pal before they were takon down.

In offering the gift, with the best wishes of the Guild, Mr. C. E. forreth referred to the great amonnt of lime Mr. Burton had devinted to the furtherance of ringing in the etty and diocese, and to the respect and regaid fin which he was held by all ringers with whom lie had come in contact.

Mr. Burton, in Hoknowledgment, expressed his appreciation of the sembimental character of the presentation, and particulary for this he wits grateful to the members of the Guild.
As will be seen from our peal colımas a peal of Stedman Triples was rung an the day of the marriage.

WEDDING BELLS.

Werding bells rang out at All Saints' Olurch, Binfield, on Wedmesday evening, Janamy 21st, in honour of the marriage of Mr. Gilbert Buil, M.M., one of the local hand, and Miss Amy Catlerine Hentler, of Jending, which took place at SL. Mark's Charch, Readityg, that day. A quarter-peal of Bob Minor was attempted, but unSurtunately came to grief a few minutes before the end was reached. 'lhis, however, did not prevent the band from drinking 'Health and prosperity to the bride and bridegroom, ${ }^{1}$ and expressing good wislies for thar futare Jappitess, when they smopled the britic cake, carried by oue of the ringers direct from the reception, which was held of St. Mark's Fall. A peal of Grandsire 'ryptes was rung in celchration of the eveut at Wratfelci on Jinnuars 24th, aud published in our list issue.

A TRIAL OF TACKLEY BELLS.

On Saturday evening, January $31 \mathrm{si}_{1}$ ringers froms Headington (Oxford) paid a visit to Tackley Church to try the bells after the relanging and the addition of a new treble bell ta make six. Ringing was indulged in for about two hours and a half, and several Louches were successfully brought round in various methods, with very goad striking.
The visitors were highly pleased witit the 'go' of the bells, and gratifying remarks werc made in regard to the very sweel tone of the ring. The towelies ineluded Kent Treble Bob infor, Stedman and Graadsire Doubles. A 720 of Kent Treble Boh Minor was brouglat roum hy A. Dubber 1, F. Beckett 2, G. Stace 3, F. ## TOO MUCH MONEY.

THE PROPOSALS BEFORE THE M.C.A  To the Edifor.

Dean Sir, Tho relerance to surplus funds, ete, wh the account of the Matarnd Counties Asseciation at Long Haton in your issue of Jatuary 30 th is very misleading, as it gives an enlicely wrong impression of the business to be brouglat before the meetiug of the special committee, and I shall be glad if you will give me the opporiunity of explaining the siturtion.
The numbar of yingiag members in tho association is very large 736 at the end of 1923, aud, I'think, exceeding that number considerably at tho present time), the area from which these members are drawn covering the counties of Deiby, Leicester, Notinglan and Stalford, making it very inconvenient for menbers living near one side of tho area to atbend the quarterly meetings when held uear the opposite sjale, nud as the associntion is already divided into sevea districts (tor the purpose of callecting subseriptions and as gisting in the formation of the general committee) it must follow that in each year at least floree of these districts have no general mecting of the association in their particular area.
Cousidering the above circumatances add the inconvenience arising therefrom, it was thought by certain memhers that local goverament whould be given to each of these seven districts, who should each hold three quarterly meelings in their respective districts in each year al iheir owa expersc, learing the annual meetimg to he arranged by and at the expense of the central body who should do this and certain other things, funds permilting.
To provide the funds for the above, it was suggested that the central body should take all honotary and life members' subseriptions, and one-third of all ringing members' subsariptions, leaving the remaining two-thirds of the ringing members' subscriptions for the use of the districts in providing postage, advertisements, expeases of their meetings, etc.
If ihe above scheme is io lue carried through, new or allecations of existing rules become necessary, and for this purpose the sarae have been drawn up and submitted to the principal oflicers of the associnfions and the district secretaries, with notice that they would be proposed tht the mext anmual meeting.
In making the alterations in the rules to oover fle above, and no or two other minor suggestions, it was thouglat belter to redraft the whole of the riles, and, if possible, to pat them in a clearer or less ambiguous form.
It will be seen that the proposition is not that the eapitation fee he sixpence fuer nacmber, instead of one shilling and sixpence, but onethird of rall ringirg zuembers' subseriptions, which, with the subseriptions at one shilling and sixpence does work out at sixpence, shonid Fo to the Central Fund of the Association, Bui wont if the subscription was reduced to one shifling or raised to two? It do not think a rebate at the end of a finaneinl year showjng a profie very practicable or fair to the lardworking districts.
Now, it is far from me to wish to upset the association (it has no more loyal memiser), nor do I wisl to go conlrary to the majority of its members, of to do anylheng which would not be for the mutual benefit of us all, buti I am afrain from what lins heen said and written I am misunderstood, I hope not wilfully. I believe there are guilds and associations of rugers working on the suggested lines, motainy the Lincolu Diocesan Guild. I should be glad to know names Cotgrave.

THE LATE MR. ARTHUR LOVEJOY A TRIBUTE FROM PORTSMOUTH.

It was wila deeps regref, writes Mr. F. W. ## ANCIENT YORKSHIRE PEAE OF SIX.  DARFILLD BELLS REHUNG.

On Sunday evenjug, when the church was packed to the utmost, the bells at All Saints', Darfield, were rededicated by the Ven. Archdeacon Derluybire, of Sheffeld, assistea by Canon A. E. Sorby, Rector of the parifl, and the Rev, T'. Wilson, curate. After the dedicatory prayor, the local ringers, assisted by Mr. Charkes Dean, uf Messin, \{ifleti aud Jolinston, raised the bells in peal. The Arelideacon gave a very interesting and instruetive address, tracing the history of bells and their uses from ancient times dova to the present day.

As the congregation left the church, the bells were rung by the visiting ringers from Wath-on-Deame, the first touch being a 720 of Royston Delight: W. Bramham 1, H. Chambertain 2, J. Champiou 3, R. Wickelts 4 , A. Gill 5, C. Walsh (conduclor) 6. There were also present Mr. C. D. Potter, of Barnsley, Eecretary of the Barnsley and Disivict Society, Ma. Frank Atkinson, of Wragby; 31r. C. Bell, of Wombwell, and several other riagers. The bells were kept going in various totaches by mixed bands untit $10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m} .$, all agreeing that the work gave every satisfaction, and the "Ero' of the hells was splendid. The wark of restoration has been carvied out by Messrs. Gillett aud Johnston, of Croydon. The old bells lave been refuned and cleaned, and fitted with all modern ime provenients, including ball bearings. The frame is a massive struefure of steel girders and rast iron, to hold eight bells, the infention being to add a treble and tenor at some future date. The present six are an intoresting and ancient ring.

DEVONGHIRE GUILD

MED-TEVON BRANCH.

The anmual meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was hele at st. 3lary's Churels, Torguag, on Saturday, Jantary 24tl, and proved to be one of the largest and most successful meetings since the formation of the branch. Ringers were prescat from Exeter, Exmonth, Christow, Cocktigeton, Gollaton, Buckfastleigh, Littleliempston, Paignton, and St. Mary's Church, Plymonth. Some gaod tonches of Stedman aud 历imudsire Triples were brought round during the afternoon, and a short service wiss beld in the Parisli Glureh. conducted by the Rev. E. Grifiths. About 50 sat down to a splendid tea, and at the subsequent business meeting Mr. F. J. Laxton presided, in the absence of the branch whaman $\mathrm{Mrr}_{2}$ H. W. Wilkes). The Hon. Secretary (hrr. H. T. Hale) then vead the annual report, which showed a very suecessful year. Good quarterly meetings had been helk at Stoke Gabrizl, Dartington sud Tolnes, and Ipplepen, and, in spite of the heavy expenses, there was still a balance in Hand.
Mr. H. W. Wilkes was agein elected chairman for the ensuing year, subject to his approval.-Mr. H. J. Hale was unanimously reelected hon. secetary. and, in retuming thanks for their confidence, he nsked for more assistance, as the branch covered a large area and lhe felt he liad not the time to carry out all the duties that were required.
The Chaimman parressed the pleasince of the members in havity wicli them that dry the president of the Guild (the Rev. E. S. Powell), the genemal hon. secretary (the Rev. E. Y. Cox), also Messes. Shepherul and Southwood (Exeter), and Mr. E. W. Marsh (Plymoutli).-Mr. E. Shepherd comgratulated the branch, and said he had watched it mith jnterest. He remenbered starting to teach a band in Torquay 26 weavs ago, but if fell through, and he remembered the lute president once saying that "clisnge ringing' would never be established in Midi-Devon, but he was glad to see it was, and that good progress was being made.
Mossrs. Solthwood and Marsla mave some very encouraging advice, and 3 Ir. F. Th. Gover congratalated the members of the South-Western branch on their recent achiovement in ringing theiv first 720 of Camhridge Surprise Ninor, The Rev. E. S. Powell Triefly acknowledged the congratulations.
The Clanirman proposed a hearty vate of thanks to the Rep. S. R. Carden and the Req. Canon Ll. Bevan, Vicars of St. Mary"s Church Rud Bahbacorthe respectivelty for the use of the bells: also the Rew. E. tirifftins for conducting ilie service, and Mr. Reginald Job for presiding ai the oryan. He also expressed the pleasure of the memhers in having with them that day the eaptains of these towers, and gaid that allhongh they did not ring in the same style as others in the brameh, it was pleasant to see such good feeling existing.

Ashburtor and Ruckfastleigh were chosen for the noxt guartery meeting, to be held on May end.
The meeting then terminater. gnd the nembers ajoumant to Babbacombe, where further ringing was earried on.

BELL HANGERS $\mathcal{E}$ 'ODD-STRUCK' BELLS.

 To the Rditor.Dear Sir,--In your issue of last week a speaker at a Cirencester weeting is reported ats laving expressud the opinion that 'the beilfoundars hatd brought the art of casting and hauging to perlicetion. As to the easting, 1 would not conlradict the speaker, bui 1 would like to tarike a little grumble about certain instanees of modern heli linugrg which 1 have come across.
A few years ago, the 'hoad.' of one of the leading firmas of bell lounders, speaking in my hearing, said that in his opinion the time was fast approaching when the heaviest of bells would be ring in changes with very little physical ciltort. Jee this as in may, 1 was rimging on a peal of bells recently roliung by the from alluded to ringing on a peal of bund found that the tenor, which had not bean zecast and which was miz "ofld-struck' bell, was lung sa thut its quick stroke was at hand-stroko, and its slow anc at back-stroke. Now, since I believe the practice af making a fatise before the lanat-strokn round change is a uriversal oue, mad since, if the bells are heing propezly struck, this pause must affect not only the leading bell, but each other bell ge well, I guit: fail to undershat why any boll hanger wio knows anything about our system of ringing sllould hane ia bell, al any rate a heary one, in this way.
Tio mako myself quite clear abous ithis, let us suppose that cight bells are being rung, and that they are ringing at the rate of on round per two seconds, and giving a pause of a laiffeseond hetore each land stroke sad. Nlich is, 1 think, nbeut the customary thing (I was taught when learning to make rio pause equal to double the intermil between each bell during the round or change, whecher ringing on five bells or on twelre.) In this case, then. iwo and a half speonds will elapse between the back-stroke blow of a bell in rounds nand its ensuing land-stroke blow, but only two semonds before fis next backstroke blow. In the ease of the bell 1 have referred ta I should say that if it wore fung nuil an equal pull given on each stroke it would give just the veverse of what is required for hand-stroke apen leads.
1 have been told that such hells as $]$ ant referring io can be rung properly if slowly enongh. That is quite correct, bus even thep it is makiag the ringing more lahorions tham it need be; sacondly, the defeets in bells of poor quality ate mull move prostonneed when rung slowly, and, further, a much more skilful ringer is required to ring such a bell. Whisist I know that we have some bauds of ringers whe could rimg alnost to perfection a peal of bells, each bell of which was odd-struck, they are few and far telween, and in any case the aim of hell hangers should be to hang bells in sach a way as io make the art oi ringing them as ensy to accuire as is pessible. I wersid even go sa far as to advocate that bells slould not be cast so as to strike perfectly evenly, find that they should strike slightity quicker on the back-stroke ilian the hand-strake when lung.
I have been prompted to make this 'grouse' ' about the work of our bell hangers on necount of ilhe number of instances of heary bells beiug lung in the manner of which $I$ have complained, and because I realise thitt we lare thousands of bells which, although odid-struck, are too good in quality to be recast on that ateouma but which will at some time or other renuire the hell hanger's attention. Those bells, when rehumg, might just as well be luug in the manner best suited to the style of ringing, which las heen in eridence for longer than anyone living can recall (and for all I knots much langer than thati, is in the laplazard mamer T have found many to he--Yours faithfully

EDWARD P. DUFFIELD.
Alton, Hants.

CHELTENHAM RINGERS' DINNER.

LONG Pral recalled

A thorougthly enjoyable erening wass spent by the ringers of the Perisit Church and Sit, Mary's Guild of Ringers, Chedenham, at their annual dinner on Tuesday evening, Janary $27 \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{t}}$ at the Belle Vue Hotel. The company, upwards of iwenty, including several wisitors, srt dowe to a capital Hinner, and o convivial erening followed. After the loast of 'The Fing, had been duly lonoured, (incluting the Rector) regretting imatility to ntlend, eliefly by venson of illimes. Reference was also made to tha fact that two of the ringers of the long peal of Grandsire Caters (15, 227 clangers, tung in nine liants and $43^{\circ}$ minutes on $A$ prif 22nd, 1889 , were present, viz., Mr. W. T. Pates (who ronducted) anti Mr. A. W. Huaplris (who rang the tenor')
A good programme of songs, recitations, manimiscences, and varions items on the lamdbells, were also given by Mossrs. Pates, Partons, Harles, Humphris, Collicr. Foster. Clements. ## A NOTTINGHAMSHIRE RECORD. BEESTON JAND'S SUCCERS.

The Beestou band, who last sadurday scored a penl of Lanilon Surprise, have now rume peals of Kemt, Oxford, Stedman, Doable Norwich, Nolfolk, Superlative, Cambridge and London, each pertormrance being the firsti in the county of Notts by a locul band. It is worthy of note that Mr. William Cliffort, sear, the ringer of tha 2 nd is in his 76th year. Fie commered his Surprise career at wroll aver 60 years of age, and has now achieved his ambition in scoring a peal in the highest methorl. It is probably a record for a man to ring his first peat of London Surprise at his age. There can be few mat whose first peal as 'conductor' has been in this method, and Mr. Eercy Price received hearty congralulatious from the rest of the hancl. The peal was rung on the 4lst anniversary of Mr. J. C. Diakems' frys peal, which was 5,040 (irandsire Triples, ou Jatualy 3lst, 1884, at Beeston Clarch.

QUADRUPLE CELEBRATION AT LEYLAND.
The peal last Saturday, at Leyland, Lanes, was ruag to colebrate the minith anniversary of the wedditg of Mr. E. Bannister's dangliter to Mr. Ernest lierry. Twelve months ago a son was born to Hom. Mr. E. Bamister intender being in the weal, but ill-ineath preventer hian. The band wish to take this opportunity of thanking him for tho splendid tea whed he provided, and trope he will soon regain his health and be able to take his place in the ringing chanber at Leyland. Five of the hand took part in a peal rubg ior the wedding nine years ago. The ringers on that occasion were : ' 1 ', B. Worsley, T. Barlow, A. Ridyurcl, B. A. Kuights (eonductorl, H. Franee, $S$. Watkinson, W. Pemington, E. Brinister; aud the method (ns on Saturiay), SLednan Triples. Mr. S. Watkinson, another Leyland ringer, takes a rope accasiomally, but not so frectuenty as of yore, and looks liack on 40 years of married life at the cuil of January. frally, Mr. Pennifeton's daughter was married twelve months ago. Since all these interesting cvents hapgen at the same fime, an effort is to be made to ring $n$ peal on eacly succeeding last Saturday of January.

BELLS AS MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS. To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-In your issue of January 30 lh, you give a report of pirt of a specels by Mr. W. B. Caroe, the architect, in which he speaks rather disparagingly of present-day bell hanging, and nlso mazes some rematks on chatage ringing. He is reportent to have said the carillan hell of the Continent was a musical instrument. The oidier hells were not musical instruments. In contradiction of this, I should like to quote a conversation which took place outside a church tower one Sunday night, a lew wecks ago, where a new peal of eight hari just been installod, not it thousand miles from Shemelfl. & bund of wi=iting riagers had came down the tower steps, and werc talking of the mesits of these and warious ather prals of hells. Sibid one euthusiast: - You should hear Birstald hedls. When we were there we had bexti up and rung a louch, and gol the bells down, put on oup coats, and came down into the ehrelhyard, abd when we got there we cotal hear the bells still liumating.
Wher munt' said another, 'that's nowt. Tha should hear Oldham. When the ringers go there to ring at Sunday marning the trelts are jus, finishin' hummin' from i' sumbay hefore.' If there is any truth in this, Mr. Elitor, I think that Mr. Caroe's sfatement lian charels bells (or at least, inorlorn ones) are not musieal, is, to say the least of it, all exaggeration.-Yours, etc.,

GLOUCESTER G BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The funual meeting of the Wotton-under-Euge Branch was Hell at Berteley, and 25 members attended trom Berkeley, Dursley, Stimelicombe, Cualey. Slimbridge, Wickwar, Wotton, and Olverlon. Mr. J. Austin, of Gloucester, was also present, and umbertowk the conducting of the various methods, which were practised during the

Owing to tho illness of the Ficar, the Guild service was conducted by the curate (the Rev. G. E. Stevenson), aud the Veu. Arcladeacen Groaves, president of the branclu, gave an excellent address, based on words taken from the Sermon on the Mount (St. Matthew v. 14), - A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid: He congratulated the fuild on the good work it was doing, not only for the great art of scientific chauge ringing, but also for the church. He went on to point out the importance of their work as rimgers. They were indeed as a city set on a bill. and their work could not be bid. He, therefore, appealed to then to make thenselues worthy of their calling, and to let their light so shime befors men that they might see their good works.
The party then edjourned to the old Giramar School adjoininco where a bountiful tea liad kindly been providen by the local ringers and their wives, some 54 n $\in$ mbers siting down

After the tea the president, laving another engagement, had to leave, but before he did so the secretary said le was sure lie should be voicing the feeling of all ir: sicying how delighticed they were to have him with them, it being the finst gnaiversary of tis election as president of the branch. It was also the first wime that ration as a body of churchworkers, inad met him smee his appontment as irchdeacon of Oakham, and begged to offer to him the sireerest congratulations on that appointment. - In replying, the Archdeacon thanked the members fior their kivdness, and assured thew of the great interest he look in all that concerned the yingers. He would do all ho could to help them in every possible way.
The business was then proceeded with, Mr. F. Wilford, Master of the Guild, presiding.-Yardley Fastings was suggested as the moxt place of meeting, gud three new members were elected.

The secretary presented his report and balance shoet for the past year, which were considored most satisfactory, and were passed year, wimously.
Votes of thanks wore heartily accorded to tho Vicar fon the use of the bells, to the organist, and to the locel rimerers and their wives for theil help with the tea.

Further ringing was then indulged in, end a notable risitor durigg the ovening was Miss Vera Robinson, daughtel of the late Rev, F. E. Robinson. Afterwards a social was held in the Clubroom of the Green Dragon Eotel. Touches and selections were given on the handbells by the lrthlingborough ringers, and some capital songs were rendered by various members of the company. Mr. A. Perkins presided ad the piano.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD. WORK IN THE DEVIZES BRANCH.

During lasti quarter the Devizes branch held threa meetings. The first was at Bishop's Cannings on October 4th, when 34 ringers atteaded. The bells here are of beautiful tone, and, as they were put in the tower in 1602 are one of the oldest rings of eight belle in Englanti.
The secoud meetin呂 was at Hilperton on November Ist, but a wet day marred the aitendance. Riaging after tea took place al Trowbridge.
The annual meeting of the branch was beld at Devizes on December 13tli, when the bells at three towers were available. A peal board was unveiled in St. Mary's tower, and the service was held at st. John's. A company of about 70, including seren lous, nendbers, were present at the tea and business meeting. Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, chairwan of the branch, was cordially welcomed back after his loug illness, and lie reported that the brancl had made steady progrees during the year. Various bell restorations lad been carried out, and others were in land.
T'he secretary's report showed a satisfactory state of affairs, and an increase in membership. The numbers were 20 hovoraly mentherg and 226 ringing members.
Mr. G. D. Heginbotliaw, of Devizes, was re-olected ehairman; Mr. F. Green, Dovizes, was re-elected hon. secretary and treasurer; 这r. J. Francis, Trowbidge, was alected Ringing Master; and Mr. S. ## A NOTABLE PERFORMANCE.

The record of the peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Paul's Cathedral last Saturday is the record of a great performance. The peal appears exactly as sent by the conductor, without any footnote whatever, but if ever a peal was worthy of comment such an achievement certainly is. It was the first peal of Cambridge Maximus on the bells, which are the heaviest ring that have been rung ' all in 'to a peal. Moreover, the tenor at St. Paul's is the heaviest bell ever turned-in to a peal by one man, and congratulations will be extended to the band of College Youths who made the successful attempt. It is some years since the first effort was made to ring a peal in this difficult method on the noble bells of St. Paul's, and the real merit of the performance can only be fully appreciated by those who have had experience in ringing a method of this character on bells of such a weight.

Peal attempts at St. Paul's Cathedral are only very rate occurrences, and we believe there have been but nine peals rung on the befls in the forty odd years they have been in the tower. At first it was considered that the tenor was necessarily a two-men job, but in course of time it was proved that not only was it possible for one man to ring this great bell behind to Cinques, but it was demonstrated that the bell could also be turned in singlehanded.
Peals of Keyt Treble Bob Maximus have been rung in the past, and now at length a band of College Youths has added yet another great achievement to the many which have marked the history of the Anciēt Society, wbile Mr. Alf. Peck, who rang the tenor to the record peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark Cathedral in 1923, has once more proved his marvellous capacity to undertake a giant's task. Others there may be who could equal what he has done, had they the opportunity, but their number is extremely limited. On such a ring of bells as those at St. Paul's, however, every man who takes part fully deserves a share of the credit, and last Saturday's ackievement will undoubtedly go down in ringing history as one of the most notable peals on record.

The performance recalls some other fine feats, such as Mr. William Pye's singlehanded task at Exeter Cathedral, when he rang the great tenor bell behind to a peal of Stedman Caters, and the achievement of a man like Mr. James George, who, when past $7^{\circ}$ years of age, can turn a bell like Southwaris tenor in to a peal of Maximus. Mr. James Washbrcok, in his prime, performed some herculean tasks, among then the peal at Wells Cathedral many years ago. Then, too, there should be included those who have previously rung St. Paul's tenor singlehanded to peals of Cinques or Maximus, and those great achievements like that of Mr．H．R．Newton，in ringing Bow tenor to London Surprise Major．We have giants amony us in these days，and the traditions of the Exercise can provide nothing finer than some of the performances of the present generation．

PRESENTATION AT EXETER

A recy interestigg cemomony tool place in the belfiry of St, David's Church, Exeter, on Monday evening. February 2nal. In the presence of the Vicar (the Rev. E. C. Burkitt), Mr. Westaway (churelawarden', Mr', T. Laver (hon. secretary pro tem. of the Exeter Braneh, Devonshire Guild), Mr. J. C. Oke (assistant seeretary), Mr. W. J. Sontbwhal (late hon. secretary), and the St. David's band, Mr. F. J. Dares was presented with a gold hell pendant and a fountain per, both suitably engraved, to conmemoraic lis luaving successfally necomplished the feat of ringing 100 penls, many of which he has eonducted.

Mr, J. C. Oke, in asking the Tiear to make the presentathon, congrabulated Mr. Dayey on his splendid achievement, sud said, in addition to his luaring accomplished this feaf, 1he presentation was glso being made in recoguition of his excellent scrwices as Ringing Master at St. David's, and for his raluable help to the Guild.
The Rev. E. C. Burkitt, in making the presealation, luartily congTatulated My. Darey, and Ahanked Jim for lis servies. He hoped that he would the spared to contimue his wark, and also that he would be able to make his total peals twice that namber.
Mr. Disver, in repiy, expressert his thanks. He saitl withont the Gelp of others if, would not have been possible for him fo lave rung those peals, and he tenreverl themi his best thanks. The greatest honour te felt was when the opporlunity occured to get a poung hand through hims first feal.

THE W. D. CROFTS' COMMEMORATION DINNER.

 SUCCESSFUL GA'MERING AT NOTHINGHAM.On Saturiny evening, January 31st, the Notingham Society of Sherwood Youths, at tho $A$ livert Hotel, hed their ammal dinner to the memory of Willian D. Crofts, who was the genius of the society 150 years ago. It was in every way a most successful function, a company of 84 sitting down. The Master (Mr. A. Coppock), who occupted the chair, was supported by the Shenif of Nottinglam, Gouncillor R. A. Young, tho Rev. R. F. Wilkinson (Mansficld), Mr. C. Rilej (ehurehwarden of St. Poter's, Nottingham), Mr. G. Walker (Birminglam), Mr. W. E. White, Mr. F. Blood (local seoretary), and other prominent local ringers.

After the layal toast had been honoured, the Master congratalated the Beestan jingers on their initinl performance of a peal of London Surprise Major, to which Mr. F. S. Price replied.

The "star" burn of fhe cvening was the ahle and witty response by the Sherift to the toast of the City and Corpornlion of Nottingfram. One point in particular he emplinsisod, namely, his delight in finding, in this mercendry age, a body of men who loved their art for its own sake, and noh for any pittance that mighi acerue from it.
Another speaker always a soure of pleastre and delight, the Rer. R. R. Wilkinson, regaled the company with staries of the difficutties of incumbents with thear ringors in the year 1871. How thankful prosent day incumbents onghi to bo to the ringers' associations.
Mr. W. Willsous should have replied, but indisposition prevented his atfendance, and his presence was greatly missed. At very short notice, Mr, Ji. C. Gobey stepped into tha breach.

The toast of 'The Ellerwood Fouths' was proposed by Mr. W. Hunt, who likenen the wevival of the somiety to the splising of a bell rope, and he congrabuated the Waster on its accomplishment. This toast the Rex. F. S. Irice, whan is developing a raciness of speech, supported.
The progename was in eapable lands, amnsemont being caused when the chairman called 川pon himself for asong. Anti such a song l At any rate, whe weather has heen a wee bit fincr since. Songs were also sung by Mr. A. T. Bradley, Mr. J. F. Adkin. Ml', Matthews, and the Welbeck Quartette. Mr. W. Tunt cantributed oboe and saxopliote solos, with Mr. W. Thylor af the piano. Each alinner has been aue hetter than ils predecossor, and the committee tencler their thanfes to each and all for making this one such a strecess.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.  EASTERN BRANGH

The anvual mecting of the Fastern Branch was held at Sibses om Saburday, January 3lst, and proved oue of the best meetings sizce the braneh was set going againn afler the war. Members were present from Boston, Benington, Bicker, Butterwick, Frampton, Freiston, Stickney, Frangle, members of the local band, and also several friends From the Elloe Deaneries and Worthern Brawches. The Ringing Master of the Guild (the Rev. If. Law James) was proverten from being present, though illness. Ringing was commenced shorbly fifter 2 p.m. This beautifal-toned ring of eight las recently been in the hands of Mr, A. Bowell, of Ipswich, aud everyone remarked on the spleadid "go " of the hells. Yarious touches of Grandsire Triples, Joh Major, Kent Treble Boh Major and Double Norwich were successfully hrought lome. short service, conducted ly the Ficar (the Rev. C. V. Complin Cogan), was leld, and his adiress was most inspining. Afterwards, the company was entertained to tee at the White Fart by the Ficar. The business meeting followed, ilie chair, in the absence of the President (the Rev. J. R. Thother), boing occupied by the Rex. C. V. Camplin Cogar.
The President was unanimously ve-slected. The vice-presidents were re-elected en bloe, with the addition of the Rev. C. F. Camplin Cogan. - Dre., J. Plailips, of Bulterwick, was ngain unanimousif re-elected to the joint offices of secretary and dreasumer; Mr. J. W. Lakin, junr., of Wrangle, was afso unanimonsly re-elected as Ringing Master of tha Branci, and Mr. Alex. Sharp as Guild representative.

Votes of condoleuce were passed with the families of the late Mr. Enos Clayton and Mr. Joln Slamp, ine members standing ins silence. The former at one time Ficid the office of secretary of the Ola East Lincs Acsoctation, wucceding Mr. F. Nason in that capncily. The Intter was a member of the Guild for nearly forty years. 'Botls the decessed ringers were members of the Freiston band.
The Yicar of Sibsey was accorded a very lacarty Fote of thantes for his hospitality, for the use of the bells, and for conducting the servica. Leake, was selectati for the noxt quarterly meeting.
Two new ringing members wore duly electer.
At the conclusion of the husiness, a touch of Grandsire Caters on Mr. Rupert Richardson's lannibells was rung by the following : Mrs. R. Ricbardson 1-2, W. Wood 3-4, R. Richavdson 5-6, J. W. Wood 7-8, G. Latd 9-10.

The tower was again visitert, and several touches in elght-bell methods, as well as some in six-bell methods and a touch of Stedman Triples, were brouglit round.

THE REPAIRS TO WYCOMBE TOWER．
The annual meeting of the Wycombe belfry was teld on Monday week，when the menbers speut po pleasant and enjoyable time．
Whe oftecrs for the yoar were re－elected as follows：President，tho Vicar（the Rev，F．M．Molyncux，M．l3．E．，M．A．）foreman，Mr．Ralph Coles；deputy，Mr．Edward Markhan；hon．secretary and treasurer M1：George Twitchen．Several new members were elected，the mem－ hership of tho tower now standing at 22.
The finances were bighly satisfactory，and among the grants made were 10s．to a former member，10s．to the Washbrook Menorial，£1 to the Touror fands．
Tha renair of the towor，in its rolation to ringing，was，of course， a great topie for discussion，but，unfortunately，no time could be stated us ta when ringing would be rosumed thongle gratituda was expressod that ringing was permitted daring the time the seaffolding was being crocted，The work is being begun at the top first，Weldon stone being used for tho mulfions of the louvre windows，and the sonffolding will be ramoved gradually．Thero is a slight hope that ringing may be resumer？when the loustes are finished．
Businuss over，the Presitent kindly invited the members to dinner －a typical ald－Euglish repast－which was floroughlw enjoyed．AFter the menl，the ress of the evering was spent in conviviality．A hearfy expression of thmake to the Ficar for this gencrosity，and his practi－ ＂ith interest in the belfy generalty，brought a very pleasant annual to n close．

A NOTTINGHAMSHIRE RECORD．＇

A correspondent writes that our paragrapli under the above head－ ing whis not mecomate．Tr chronologieal oricer，the first peal of Oy － ford Trebile Bols rung by a local band in the counto of Notts was a 7，©40，at St，Peter＇s，Nothingham，on Feb．15tlf，1774，coaducted by W．13．Crofts．The first peal of Kont was alsn at St．Poter＂s，Nol－ lingham，Decomber 12th， 1836 ，combueled by W．folnson ${ }_{i}$ and，fin－ ally，the first lomal peal of Stedman lies to the credit of the Retford men．
We would adel that the information which we ased in our para－ yraph was samphed to us，aud the sender was appareaty unarare of the earlier performances，
Mr．H．W．Wide wriles congratulating the Beoston band，and in－ quires if 31r．Cliffurd，semr．，is the oldest man to ring a peal of Lon－ Ron Surprige．

CHURCH FAS TO REEUSE BELLS．

 LIVERPOOL TOWER NOT STRONG ENOUGH．St．Barnabas＇e Church，Mossiey Hill，Liverpool，is not，after all， to have the peal of bells which did service for so many years in the old Chureh of St．Peter，Chureh Street，Liverpool．At ihe moraing Eervice，on Sunday，the Vicar of St．Rarnabas＇s，the Rev．J．Kirk ［1ike，pretaced his sermon with an announcement which，be said，he knew would be a disappointment to the congregation．It had been found that the tower of the church would not bear the strain of the bells．
Subsequently，in an interview with a representative of the＇Liver－ pool Daily Post，＇the Vicar said the ofer of the bells was gladly ac－ cepted by St．Barnabas＇s people，who never had any doubt but tlat the church tower was strong enough to carry them．An expert sur－ vey，however，had shown that this was not the case．＇Our disup－ pointment，＇arlded Mr．Pike，＂is very great，bul we have to accept frels，and mize the best of thom．Those lovers of the bells who have kindly contribated to the fund for their being lung will be com－ municated with at，an early date．＇

It was estimated that the cost of langing the bells would he 21，000．This was a leavy responsibility for the congregation，hut they accepted it．A subscription list was opened，and there was no doulst that in due time the money would lave been raised．

RINGER AND VERGER FOR 40 YEARS，
The funeral of Mr．Edward Lucas，of Slalford，Surrey，whase death，at the age of 69 years，oecurred on ilnatary $22 n d$ ，took place on January 26 th．The first part of the serviee，which wag hold in tho Parish Church，where Mr．Lucas was for 40 years a ringer and verger，was fally rhoral，and was attented by many who had known him in his official capacities．The music included his favourite hymn，＂The day Thou gavest，Lorll，is ended．＂

The bells were mumfed，and the whole pull and stand was rung 65 times before the sorvice began，also for a few minutes while the cortege reformed to proceed to the cemetery．Immediately after the commital seatences liad been recited，the ringers＇beautiful Farewell was given by Messrs．G．W．Steere．A．H．Pulling，C．Hazeldnn，W， R．Melville，a perfect couse of Grandsite Triples boing rung on handhells over the apen grave．Other ringers present were Messrg． H．Hution，C．N．Burdock．G．Petter＇，E．G．Heatli，T．Streeter，etc． Thanks ate duc to Mr．W．R．Melville，who at some sacrifice to limself mate the necessary preparations for the ringing at Shalford．

-The company rurg on Monday, Feb. 14 th, 1731 , a complete peal of 7,018 Grandsjre Cinques, being the longest that was ever lone, and in 5 hours and 19 minutes it was completed. Tlus the College Youtlis' record of a peal rung at. St. Michacl's, Cornhill, when 'B. Anuable calE'd bobs.

And it was February $14 t h, 1920$, that the grentest number of changes in a twolve-bell peal was rumg-13,001 Grandsire Cinques, al, Painswick, in 8 hours 45 minutes.
Tho 'four nines' of Grandsive Major ( 9,999 changes) was rung at Oldinm exactly one hundred pears ngo next Sunday. but from a note in Suowdon's 'Graudsiro' it would suppear that the ligures of this peal eventually proved false.

Next Monday is the annivorsary of two long peals, a 14,224 Bob Major at Aston, by St. Martin's Youbls, on Feb. 16th, 1789, and 8,448 Stedman Cinques at Prinswick in 1858. On Feb, 16th, 1790, n 6,000 Oxford Treble Lob Royal was rung at Cembridge.
Londou lost a peal of twelve bells on Wednesday, Feh. 17th, 1836, when Christ Church, Spilalfields, was destroyed by five.
The College Youk rang a peal of 10,000 Oxfort Treble Bol Royal at Sloreditel on Peh. 18th, 1777 -one of the series of increasing lenglis which were the outcome of the rivalry existing at that fome between them and the Cumbernads.
The first peal of what we now rall New Cambridge Siurprise wa rung at Hukdersfield on Folb. 181h, 1822, and, as far as we ara aware, no other peal in the methed was rung until that at Burton in 1887.

At Wamham, Sussex, the fist, peal of College Single Major was rung on Feb. 18th, 1889.

Henry Ealey, one of Lomdon's gratest ringerg of the last century, was born at Betlinal Girect on Fob. 19th, 1819. He took part in anay memorable perfommaces on lower zud handbells, ant rang, in all, 182 peals, of which lie condueted 155 and composed 105.

Lithle Bob' writes, with reforence to the ancient clated bells at Eythorne, that in North's 'Bells of Northamptonslife,' and 'Bells of Leicestershive, too, spenking of ancient dated bells, the author says: "Two, richly ormanented and dated 1323, are fa the tower of Sl. Mary's Church, Somercotes, Lincolnshire.'
At the amutal meeting of the St. Lawrence (Thanol, ringots tian uther day, the record of the atteudances was read, and it was found that the Vicar (ihe Rer. A. G. Wilcox, ML.A., Hon. C.T.) Inad wisited the tower 31 times during the year. Can any other tower bonst of such frequent waits from their Viear?

HEAVY HANDBELL PEAL.

It is interesting la note that in the fandbell peal at Leicester (reported elsowhere), whe hoaviest seli of bells yeb rung "in lamed was unded, the tenor being size 26 in $G$. The perl was rung at the first altempt. The previous rerords wore on hells with size 22 teror : Grandsire Triples, on April 20th, 1888, at Jpswich, and Stedman Triples on May 131.h, 1914, at Guildford.

The pea! land its amusing side, for after hatf-way the ringet of 5-6 conta he sem banging out signals of distress, by wriggling about ansl screwing up his inouth, through the sormess of his fingers, while, when a litite later, a well-known part end came up, the tunnrman sighed, ant snit]. 'I wish that was all." The conductor clecered him up with the cryptic remark, 'only nother few tlocks to go,' and the last quarter not yet started on! He hung on gamely, and finished in fine stvic. pyon thongh minus several inches of skin from his fingers, whilse 5-6 had "knobs' on lis. The conductor gratchad his delicate firgers by laving them hound up beforehaud, whilst 3-4 ditu't seem any the worse, oxeept. For a little soreness.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION,

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The anoual meeting of the Yorkshire Assaciation was lietd at Bradford on Saturday, Janury 31st. The day's business commenced with thes audit, couducted by Messrs. G. T'itterington aud J, Wotton during tho morniag. The line peal of ten bells, cast by the famous Loughborough foundry, were ruag in a variety of methods until 4 prab, when the mnnual service was held in the Cathedral. Owing to He tempestious weather, only some 130 visitors wore present at the service, at which an encouraging and mosi intercsting sermon was preanhed by the Vicar of Bradford (Ven. Arcladeacon Jones). The Tinar extanded a hearty welcome to the visitors, and, baking as his tent, 2 Corinthians, v., 14 ("Tle love of Clarist constraineth us'), the speaker stated that, owing to being out of sight, the ringers' ministry of joy was seldom recognised. The muffled bells reminded them of sorrows, while the joyous ringing at Christmas and the New Year reninded them of the saving of the world by our Lord, mud the glory of t, ne coming jeat, Bells were a busutitul nccompanment to the ministry, and change ringing was a splendit holbby, but the love of Chrish must be the driving force behint any church work, however attractive it might twe as a hobby. The ringers part was the bighest form of selvice, atud must be regarded by them as being actuated from the highest motives. 'Ihhey that bear the vessels of the Lord must be dican.' The pugacher urged his hearers to Irain and develop their spiritual claracter, so that their example might have a great influence on the young inen, making for Christian manhood and the increase of spiritual influence.
A bountiful tea was ofterwarts served in the neighbouring Gathedra] sctrools, this most enjoyable function being immediately followed hy the business meeting. Apologies were read from Mr. Pryce Taylor, the Kev. E. Drage, and Messrs. F'. Willey and G. B. Bolland, the two senior vice-presidents of the assaniation, who were absent through illness.

Mr. J. Cotterell the retiring treasurer, was re-elected, with acclamation, on the mation of Mr. F . Crycr, seconded by Mr. F. Dale.-1n responding to a henrty vote of tlunks for his many services to the association, Mr. Coltercll urgeri the mettiag to consider the advisatility of getting new blood intio the official work of the association, in order that the interest in the administration should not get too stercotyped.
The auditors daving presented their report on the excellent state of the ancounks and books, the balance sheet, which showed a gain of £IL Os. 11d, for the year, was acceptet, on the motiou of Mr. F. Dale, seeanded by Mr. J. W. Cundale.
The amual report of the commitee was agroed to, on the motion Wi Mr. J. Peritect, seconden by Mr. I. Cooper.
It veas rocided that the arrangements for the anmual meeting kliouldi be left to the goneral conmittee.
The conmiltec placed hefore the mecting an invitation from the Lanenshive Association to hoid a joint meeting at Todmorden, it being agreed that the invilation be accepted, and that the offeers of the espectife ascociations make the necessary arrangements.
The President (the Rex. C. C. Marshall) aumounced that the Snowdon Memoria] Dinmer mould he held at Leeds on Saturdny, Sept. $194 t_{1}$. i wote of thanks to the Vienr of Bradford and his churchwardeas ior kindly granting the use of their magnificeat peal of beils, also for 1.15e eloquent address ant gervice in the Gathedral, was moved by the Chairman. The loma company and the laties who offiated at tise tea-habies were specially hanked for their services, on the motion oi Mr. J. Lawson, scconded by Mr. F. Cryer.-Thts was replied to by Mr. J. Cotterel!.
Mr. A. C. M. Fiela brought to the notice of the meeting the deplorable state of the bells at Kunresborougli Parisla Church, which are now totally unringable, and, owing to theil boing in an isolated disqrict, great difncully is being experienced in raising the necessary funds for restoration. Fo invited the various rowers in the asociafunds for restoration. Fo invited the rarious towers in the association's area to contribute as liberally as possible to the restoratiou furd, when the collecting sheets were issued.
A vote of thanks to the chairman, further ringing at the Gatheiral, with an enthusiastic gathering subsequently at "a house within the meaning of the act,' brought a most enjoyable day's proccedings

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

TONBRIDGE DISTIRICT AND MEETINGS AT SLX-BELL TOWERS:
The annuml meeting of the Foubridge Districte was held at Tonbridge on Saturday, January 3lst. The vsual sorvice was held, couducted by the Rev. F. L. Schreiher, Vicar of Shipbourne, and an excetlent address was given by the Rev. S. FI. Clark, Vicar of "Ionbridge, based on the insoriptions on the bells of the churdi.
Ten was provided at the Carlton Cafe, and was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar presiding, supported by the Rev. F. L. Schreiber and Mr. A. M. Jarling and Mr. F. D. Tophana, churchwardens.
The District Secretary (Mr. W. Latter) read his ammal report, which was considered satisfactory. In this he stated that there was a slight falling of in the number of members, compered with the pryious year, One band, Shiplourne, had dropped out, but Hadlow band had rejoined. He also reported that a complete restoration of the loolls land just been carrice out at Brenchley by Messris. 5. Taylor aud Co. The old six bells had beeu taken down, retumen, two new trebles atderi, and the peal relung in a new iron franae. The two trebles were to be dedicated on Sínday, Marcla Ist. He land offered, and the Vicar had accepted, the services of a band of members of the association for this occasion.
The Rev. F. L. Selirieber sain that he regretted that his band had dropped out, hut he hoped that this was only temporary. The bells were rung regularly for the services, loul lace wore only two at the original band left. The others were all young ringers, and they were all too busy with foothall or ericket to attend Saturday mectings.
3r. W. Latler was re-elected hon, secretary, and Messis. F. White and $G$. Edwards were thanimously re-clected district represectatives. Seven new practising members and two Lon. resicleut life members were elected.
In selecting towers for meetings during the ensuing pear, a discussion anose as to the claims of six-bell towers. The general feeling seemed to be that if the sir-well ringers would attend eight-bell tower meeting mach more could be conte in educalional work than in holeiing meetings it six-bell towers. At the same time, it was felt that six-bell towers should not be left out, and as an invitation had heen receiverl to hald a meeting at Tast, Peoklanin, it was ultimately decided to hold meetings at Brenchley, East Peckham, Granbrook, Fadlow, and the next annual district meeting at Penslurst.
Foins of llanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for arranging the service, antil for prosidiag at the mecting, to the Rev. F. L. Selarieber, and the organist, for their serfices, to the charchwartiens for their attendmee, and to Mr . W. Steed for making the arrangements, were passed, and responded to by those gentlemen.
The mewhers adjournca to the fower for funther ringing. CLASERTNG MEETTNGS.
The quarierly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at Cluist Claturch, Eritls, on Saturday, January 31st. Tlie bells were kept going to various miethods throughont the afternoon and evening. Service was beld in the chureh, with an intereshing address by the Vicar (the Ref, Q. H. B. Coleridge). The curate (the Rev. A. V. Ledbury) presided at khe organ. This was followed by a splendid tea, kindy supplied by the Ficar, who presided, but was uabble to stay for the business meeting owing to pressure of other rluties.-Mr. T. Groombridge proposed a liearty vote of thanks to the Wicar for the use of the bells, for the service and address, and for the splendid len, This was catried with applause.
The business meeting followed, the Rev. W. Mr. Browne, Vicar of Si. John-the-Baptist, Erith, kindly acting as chairman.
The Rev. W. M. Brown (Vicar) and the Rev T. H. Pyke (curate), of St. Johnthe-Baptist, Erith, were elected hon, members.
Eiglat new practising members and probationers were elected, and the election of two members provious to preals was confirmed.
Flelam and St. Mary's, Woolwich, were proposed for the next meeting, St. Mary's, Woolwich, being chosen. The hon. secretary was instructed to communioate with Eltham witla a riew to laoling the summer meeting there.
The district representative on the Confral Comantee of the As. sociation (Mr. W. J. Jeffries) read a roport of the moeting lield at Ginterbtury in November last. - This was adopted by the mecting.
Mr. T. Giroombridge, junr., asked if some arrangement could not he mate to nvoid the clashing of mectings of the varions districts. He mentioned that there were four Kent Connty Association meetings on that date (3nnuary 3list). -This matter was left to the comaittec to deal with.
It was numbioned that the bells of St. Jolun-the-Bnptist, Erith, wepe to be rehung, and the chairman agreed to communicate with the general secretary of the association on the question of a grant from the Association's Belfry Regairs Fund.
learty vote of thanks was ancorded the Rev. W. M. Browne for presiding at the meeting, to the Rev. A. Y. Letbury for his services at the orgnn, and to the ladies who helpmet the tea. -The Charman responded. and this brongltt the menting to a close.

DONCASTER AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

BELL RLNGERS' SUNDAY' SUGGESTEIM.

The anmual meeting was held at Doncaster St. George's on Saturtioy, Jamuiny 24 tl . There. was a fair athendanco of members, aud thu belts were made good uso of during the aftemoon and evening, tonelas in the four standard methods being rung.
A short service was held in the Forman Chapel, and an address was riven by tho Feu. Archeleacon Sandford, the president of the socicty. The text chosen was: " Their sound went into all the earth, untr their words unto the ends of the etarth ' (Romans 10, 18). '2'sp Archedeacon praised the art of change ringing, and said that, allhough Ite couth ring an belt in rounds, he lad never been able to master the urt of clange ringing beenuse he "hadn't the brains."
Tea was partaken of in the Momorial Fall, and tho business merting followed. The chait was taken by tho Rer. A. A. Barinam, who was supported by Mr. G. Halksworth, vice-presideni; Mr. G. Clark, Ringing Master Mrw, H. Woodhouse, J.P., hon. Eteasurer; Mr. H. Walker, hon. seccetury; Na. WY, Reyne (representing the Barasloy and Distriet Sociely), and Mr. J. Holanes (representing tho sil. Gcorge's Society).

Ilie secretary's repont was considered safisfactory, and approved. Thae balance sheet sliowed a balance in hand of over ali.
The secretary was roted a gift of 52 2s. from the fuads as a smail ioken of rppreciation of his services during the four years the society has been in existence. Mr. G. Haltsworlh was re-elected 10 serve another three years as riee-president.
Four new members were clected, and Adwick-le-Streef was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The usual rotes of thanks brought the meeting to a close.
In his repart, the Secretary said: The attentance of members at the meetings has not been so good as one would expect, And thme is room for improvenent in this direction. Perhmps the promise of a revipal in trade in the new year and at couserutent fali in the cost of living may reflect favouably on the attendance ar out meeting in the future.
The number of names on our books is at present 182, but noly 145 of these lave paid their aunual suhseriphion. Fifteen new ment hers were electef during the year, and we lost two menbers by kenlit.

After only four years working we have the sum of X11 $15 s$. 2d. slanding to the credit of the society. Thifs slows that ons finameial affairs are in a rery healthy condition. We have no olject in viow that we strould accumalate such a latgo sum of money, and in inv opinion the hest use that it can to put to is to provite ingtuaction for Foung ringers, cither by subsidising the eost of books of instruction, or by helping to pay the expenses of an instructor.

SUGGTSTED ADDITION TO DONCASTER [PARISZ CHURCF BELLS.

Two peals lave been mang for the society during the sear, a peat of Kent Treble Bob Major, and a peal of Grandsive Triples. Progress fas been made in method ringing, and nt most towors in the district three or four differcnt methods are practised. In metrod ringing we wust adopt a progressive policy and not be satisfied until we cen ring the most dificult methods for Sufnday Serwices. It is almost impossible to make much progress iu ringing on the higher numbers of bells, on tor nnd twelve bell peals, because wo have not

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION,

THE DISPOSAL OF FUNDS.

A most enjoyable and successful alternoon and evoning were spent at Woonhouso Eves, on the occasion of the Loughboraugh Distrjet meeting on Saturday. The viliage is rather an outlandish place, situated right in the heret of the Leicestershive liills, and outsido atteadance was, therefore, rather poor, but the local ringers turned up in good force, when, soon after thee o'clock, the beautiful peal of six bells were ruised, and touches of Plain Bolo and Grandsire Doubles brought round.

At flue business mecting, lively discussion took place regardiug tive way it which the associabion's money might be spent.
Nil. Farry Fisyos, the local tower secretary, stated that he hoped the Central Committeo of the M.C.A., when they mel in March, watid consider how best to dispose of a little portion of the money they liad in hand. It would be a great adruntage if the Central Commitee woud make a grent to lonal distriet secretaries to use or bringiog a band to such towers as that to which he belonged, for the purpose of helping to teach the young ringers, who were at fresent drifting oway for the want of outside support.
The dishict secretary endolead this jelea, whith will be pat before he comnnittee.

BELL HANGERS & ODD.STRUCK BELLS.

 To the Editor.Dear Sir,-I would like to crury the sulject of my brother's letier on 'false, bells a step further. Many ringers seem to think that there is a certain anount of chance in connction with bell langing as to whether a bell will strike falsely ol not. In my opinion this is not lhe case.
I consider that if, when the bell langs in 'down' position, the lip lics symmetrically und horizontally about a perpendicular dropped from lite axis of the gudgeons and midway between them, and the Knuckle joint of the clapper is fixed symmetrically about this perpendicular, then the bell will not bo false. Now, such a simple geometric construction as this contd as easily be applied to bell hance ing as to any other department of enginecring. Fet we find new bells not only striking falsely, but very falsely.

What is the reason for this? It is, I think, that come bell hangers, like a good many other actisans, do not always do their work thoraughly unless they are well looked after.
The bencfits derived from baving true striking bells are twofold. First, it is easier for roung bands to learn on therr: in the second phace it is easier to produce good striking with theat, theroby reducing tife liability of outsicle complaints of "noise of the bells."
It is quile common now, I think, to find the clause "the bells are to be in perfect tune in bell founder's contracts, and I think it just as essential that 'the bells shall not strike falsely' should also be stipulated.'-Yours faitlufully, Nolwich.

MORE EXFFRIMENJING REQTJRED.  To the Edilor.

Dear Sir,-The letter ircm Mr. E. P. Duffeld. in your last issur, criticising B Bell langets and oddentruct bells, provides matter tor reflection on the curious mander in which many rings of belis are left hy first-class bell hangers. 1 am strougly in sympatiay with Mr. Duffield, who objects to bells being left ly modern Iolitheres, whels are in many cases hopelessly false. I live vivid recollections of ringing a splendial tenor on a modera peal of bells, to a peal of Double Norwich. This bell was wery wide at back, while the soventla was equally elose at back, with the result that the long clodging lack and front involved much nnnecessary labour.
Ore fruitful cause of inafficient attention being paid to experimenting, particularly with regard to peals of ten and upwards, is, fa $\mathrm{my}^{7}$ opinion, the fact that in the great; majority of cases the tenor is simply used as a covering bell. It is obrions that the task of carering with an odd-stuck bell is much easial then jingilg it iu, and if some means could be devised to make balla clapper with greater precision, the whole Esercise would be laid wder a great dehe of gratitude.-Yours faithful

Leeds.
PCRCI J. JOHNSON.

BRISTOL-AND SOME REFLECTIONS.

The anniversary of the first peal of Bristol Surprise Major, which occurs on Sunday, leads to the rellection that this is the only modern Surprise method which has become really popular. This first peal was rung at Brighton on February 22nd, 1901 , at a period when the hand of St. Peter's Church were leading the way in the introduction of new Surprise methods. The company had rung several others before this, and there was nothing at the time to lead one to imagine that Bristol would become any more fancied than were some of the rest that were being brought to light. But gradually the excellencies of the method began to be realised, and, offering something really distinctive in its actual practice, Bristol gradually came to be looked at by bands capable of Surprise ringing, and now is the only method in this category that in any way holds its own with London, Cambridge and Superlative in the number of peals rung.

We often wonder why so few bands ever ring anything beyond the four Surprise methods named. It is not because they are not capable; it cannot be because other methods are not worth attention, for, while they may not all be up to the standard of Bristol, it is quite certain that some have musical qualities equal to or better than the other three. It is no fair comparison to set the good points of the old methods against the bad ones of the new, or vice versa; and it is possible for a man who understands methods to pick holes in most of then. We must then, we think, look further than the methods themselves for the expianation. Is it that ringers do not trouble to go beyond what one may call these 'common' methods, because no one else rings them, and there would, therefore, be little or no opportunity to practice them away from one's own tower? If that be so it is rather a poor excuse for putting a brake on progress-for progress includes extending the variety of the methods we ring as well as the intricacy of them. We really think it must be the ultra-conservatism of ringers as a whole that causes this desire to remain on well-beaten tracks; otherwise we should see more bands following tne example of the Leiston company and adding other methods to their "repertoire." Even in the simpler methods the same argument applies. A band at Willesden rang a number of fresh plain methods last year -a most interesting series-and their experiment might have been expected to lead others to venture on the new ground. But we wonder whether, in ten years' time, any one of them will be in general practice, or whether Plain Bob and Double Norwich will still hold the field almost undisputed, as they have done in the past.

\section*{LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.}

The annual meeting of the Grimsby District of the Northenn Branch was held at Grimeby on Saturday, January 3ist. A fair numbor of members wore present, considering the bail weather, Bigby, Barrow-ou-Eumber, Waltham, and the local towers of St. Andrew"s and St. James' being represented. Both peals of efglit werg available, bub owing to wealiner conditions the membors concentrated on S't. Andrew's. Touches of Stedmen Triples, Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and Bob Minor were 1 ung.

Service was leld in Stit. Andrew's, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. T. Russel Wiarrilow), assisted by the Rev. W. D. Chapman. An address was given by the Viear, who spoke on the duties of ringers.
Tea was lreld in St. Aedrew's Hall at 5 p.m., 25 members and friends sitting dowr,
The business meeting followerl, fine president of the district tho Rev. H. 'I' Parry, Rector of Bigby), presiding, supported by Canon Markham and the Rev. T. Russel Warrilow, and the Rev. W. D. Chapman, Mr. W. Heyboe kindly deputising for the secretary (Mr. F. Mingry), who was absent though illness.

The president (the Rev. H. T. Pariv) was re-clected, as wits the secretary (Mr. H. Mingay). Mr. G. W. Taylor was elected representative on the Northern Branch Committee, Mr. R. S. Lang as Ringing Master, and Mr. G. BIanchard as Deputy Ringing Mester. The Rev. T. Russel Waryilow and the Rev. ग. W. Carpeater, of Kingerby, were elected bon. members, and the following as performing members: Mr. G. White, Mr. J. Allenby; Mr. F. Smilli, of St. James', Grimsby; Mr. F. Pepper, of Barrow-on-Humber; and Mr. W. Howson, of Goxliif. Places and dates of meeting were faxpd as follow: Elsham, May 16ih; Bigby, June 6tln: Tharnton Curtis, July 4th; Burton-on-Stather, August 15th; Brigg, September 12th. A combined meeting with the Gaiasborougl district at Scuathorpe was suggested as an extra meeting.
It was decided to form the Grimsloy Distriet Committee again. This committee las been in abeyance for many years. Each tower is requested to inform the secretary of the vame of the representative appointed.-Votes of thanks to the president for taking the cliair, to the Vicars of St. Andrew's and St. James" for the use of the bells, to the organist, and the caterer, were heartily given, atd hrought a very pleasant meeting to a close. \section*{CONCERNING CONSTRUCTIONAL SHUNTS.}

\section*{By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE,}

First if all, I want my reader to ring a course of Plain Bob Major. In the tower, if possible, if nat on peper, and in imaginanion. I want hirn to study carefully the different coursing orders in that ccurse. Fie will find that ail the working bells keep the same coursing orier among themsalves throughout \((2,4,6,8,7,5,3)\), but that the treble is in a different position in each lead. She starts between 2 and 3. In whe second load she is between 3 and 5 . In the third between 5 and 7. t each lead end she makes one step in coursing order until she has, in repular succession, occupied each of he seven possible positions. When she lias completed the cyclo she gets back agrain between 2 and 3 , nad the bells run reund.
Every method which has treble and working bells, contains at least one similar cycle; most methods contain two or more. For instance, in Deuble Bob you will find that the treble alters her position in coursing order twice in every lead; and during the course completes two full cycles.
The operations which cause these alterations in the position of the treble iu coursing order we call 'Constructional Shunts'; and my present object is to explain the various ways in which these alterations can be made. These constructional shunts will themselves prolueg a great number gad pariety of melthods, but many methods (ineluding pracionlly every Treble Bob matlod) contain other work, which js called 'Additional Shunts.' With them we are not at present concerned.
For the sake of elearness and to avoid laving to write largely in general terms, I am goigg to deal only with Major methads, which bave ono plam lunting treble and seven 'Extreme' or 'Working Bellsa' But all I say can, with the necessary verbal alterations, be applied to all methods on all numbers.
The warions Constructional Shunts are as follows :-

\section*{A. THE EXTREMES}
1. The Extreme Before. The hell the Ereble turns from the front wakes second'g place the bells above dodging.
2. The Extreme Belind. The bell the treble turns from behind makes seveath's place, the bells below dodging.

EXAMPLES.

\section*{B.-THE COURT SHUNTS.}
3. R. Court Sllunts and
P. Court Slunts

Tine bell coursing immediately in front of the treble (hunting up) makes any one internal place, the bells ahove dodging. The placemaking bell then crosses the treble's path, and immediately makes another place (the bells below dodging).
Or, the bell coursing immediately in front of the treble (hunting down) makes any one internal place, the bells below dodging. The place-making bell then crosses the treble's path, and immediately makes another place (the bells above (odging).

The two places and the accompanying dodging together form one operalion.
R. Court Shunta are those made at back stroke.
P. Count Shints are those made at hand stroke.

The rasult of all these semen Constructional Shunts is the game. It is to reverse the positions in coursing order of the treble and the bel immediately next before it. Each shunt is one step in the treble's cyclical path in coursing order. In the plait course on eight bells each shunt puts the treble from between 2 and 3 to batwoen 3 and 5; and brings up the lead end 13527486.

\section*{C.-THE SLOW WORK SHUNTS.}

One or more of the bells which the treble (hunfing up) leaves on the front, remain in the same position until the treble returns, when all the bells plain lunt. The slow work bells are the bells coursing immediately after the treble

The result of a Slow Work Shunt is that the treble is put forward in coursing order as many posilions in coursing order as there ave Slow Work hells. Thus, the lead end produced by a 1 -Bell Slow Work Shurt is 142G3857. By a 2-Eill Slow Work Shunt 6482735. By a 3 Bell Slow Worl Shunt 8674523 . And so an.
These Construchonal Shumts inclutie ercry one of the operations by which the position of the treble can be altered in coursing order. They cas be used in combination, several shunts being made in a single lead. But, of course, the work of one must not interfere with the work of another. For instance, if you here a Slow Work Shunt you cannot in the same lead lasve an Extreme Behind, for the later would upset the Slow Work Shunt. You will also notice that several of these sliunts produce features that are not desirable in a finished method. P. Court Shunts and Slow Work Shunts cause bells to lie still for more than two consectutive Hows. Tho majority of the Conrt Shunts are not symmetrical about the treble's path. But there are means by which these blomishes can be removed, and they do not lessen tho ralue and use of these Constructional Shunts in producing good methods. However, we need not trouble about that now. What we are concermed with for the moment, is what Constructional Shunts are, and the work they do in producing a methad.

All these Constructional Slumts men be applied directly to Treble Fob methods, and there are in addition one or two variations whigh are peculiar to that Principle.

\section*{STAINDROP VETERAN RENGER}

DIES BEFORE HEARING NEW PEAL OF BELLS
Many of the older numbers of the Durham and Newcastle Association will read with regret of the passigg away, at the ripe old age of 84 years, of Mr. Daniel Shipp, who was one of the origina! members at the formation of the association in 1877. Fe was born in the village of Great Filbraliam, in the county of Gambridge, where, as a boy, lie usen to go up into the belfry to watali the riagers, and at home used to look over his elder brofler's shoulder as he pricked out the changes. He came to Staindrop in 1863, where he formed a band for change risging, of which he was the capiain for very many years, being succeeded in that offiee by his younger son, Mr. F. Shipp, who, assisted by his elder brother, Mr. J. W. Shipp, is ably carrying on the work started by his father. Fhere aro still two of the original baad at the tover, in the persons of Mesars. T. Leomard and W. E. Jolinson.

The late Mr. Shipp was one of the keenest ringers that the writer has ever met, walking or cyeling many miles to ring long after ablier men had coased to take interest in ringing. Fe tonducted the only 5,040 of Winor ever fung on the bells of St. Mary's, Staindrop, winich, at the time of his death, had been removed for restoration, as they were not considered safe to ring
Thece is to be a nem frame and new peal oi eight installed and dedicated on Palna Sunday by the Lord Bishap of Durinem. They will be rung for the fist time on Easter Day This new frame and peal of cight are by Messrs. Taglor and Co., Loughborough.

The Yiear (the Rev. H. S. C. Spurrier) hag thrown open the tower on Easter Monday to members of the association, and any other ringors who would like to be present Fisiting zingers will, no coubt, regret that Mr. Shipp should have passed away wefore henring the new peal of efght in the tower whim he so loved.

\section*{DISTRICT MEETINGS.}

Happily the recent experience at a Surrey district meeting, of which a correspondent complains this week, is not a common occurrence. A meeting at a six-bell tower was arranged and duly advertised, but only nine ringers attended, and those attached to eight and ten bell towers were notable for their absence. As our correspondent points out, this is extremely disheartening to the officials, apd especially to a secretary who is struggling to work up a district and has been promised help from outside, which assistance failed to materialise. It is seldom, especially in areas where bands are fairly numerous, that ringing meetings are as poorly attended as the one mentioned, but the point of greatest interest is whether, as our correspondent seems to think, ringers on higher numbers than six bells shun meetings at six-bell towers. This is a complaint which, we think, cannot be made of ringers in general. Experience proves that, as a whole, ringers at eight and ten bell towers give valuable support to the six-bell meetings. Often they are more strongly represented than are the six-bell men at eight-bell towers, and their assistance is a great asset.

The question arises, however, do we make the most of the opportunities which these district meetings present? For the most part the ringing is of a casual kind, with no definite object in view, except that everybody shall get a pull. Often, of course, someone gets a touch in a fresh method, or some beginner is given a start, but there is generally an entire absence of any organised attempt to make the ringing progressively educational. Nor would it be easy to arrange the ringing on these 3ines. At the same time we think something might be done, particularly in those districts where it is the practice to hold monthly meetings, which enable members to come together with frequency. For instance, it might be possible to arrange to devote certain periods at each meeting to the definite practice of specific methods, efforts being made beforehand to secure the attendance of stfficient accomplished ringers to ensure adequate help for those who availed themselves of the opportunity thus offered for advancing themselves in the art. Obstacles to such a step as this are easy to be found, but there is unquestionably a need for ringing more organised, educationally, than is usually the case at district meetings, and the subject is worth thinking over. We are pleased to note that our earlier observations on the question of more advanced instruction for ringers at such gatherings is already bearing fruit, and that in more than one association arrangements are being made for competent ringers to read papers on subjects dealing with the art.

\section*{GURDFORD DISTRICT MEETTNG.}

The two villages of Bramiey and Wonersh were visited on Saturday by members of the Guildford District of the Winchester Guild. There was a good attendance, and the ringing during the ufternoon at Branley, and in the everint af both chutches, each of which possesses six bells, included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Boh and Treble Bob. The Rev. Solby Lowndes Rector of Bramley, conducted the serrice, and, led by the organ, the singing was very hearty. - Who Rector, in a practical address, offered words of enoontagement, appreciation and exhortation to the members, and, in urging ringers to put their best into their work and to do it for the glary of God, instead of for purely persona! pleasure, pointed out that: music and art were materinl adjumets to worship in which men should offer to the service of God the great gifts which He had bestowed upon them.
Mr. W. Melville. chairman of the district, presided over the tea and business meeting which followed, and was supported by Mr. C. Hazelalan (Ringing Master), Mr. E. Radion (hon. secretary), and nearly thirty members.
The Chairman referred to the loss which the Guild liad recently sustained by the death of Mr. E. Latas, of Shalfori, and the members expressen their sympatly with the relatives by standing in silence for a few moments.
The Ringing Master reparied that since the last meeting the Guild harl been askerl to oper the bells at Weat Horslcy, after restoration. There were only tliree bells, and they wera not liung for ringing, bat the Guild were glad to be of service. Ho believed they made an impression, atad that in futare, perhaps, something more might cone of it. Ghange ringing on handbells provided a voluntary at the sorrice, and demonstrated the advantages of a larger number of bells.
Congrafulations were offered to tho band that rang the peal of London Surprise af Holy Trinity, Guildford, recently, there being several 'firsts in the method,' and none but the conductor had previously rung more than two peals in the method.

Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O., churchwarden of Woking Parish Church, was elected an honorary member; Mr. Nerman Harding, of Glandon, was elected a practising member; Mr. Voller, of Wonersh, a probationer i and 3Ir. W. Farley, late of Wells, and now of Folkestone, a compounding member.
The meeting cancluded with a vote of thanks to the Rectors of Bramley and Wonersla, and to the organist.
Touches of Grandsire Triples and Sterlman were rung on Imanibells, and then the visitors divided themselves between tlie two towers for further practice.

\section*{A MEMORYAL TOUCH}

Ringing took place at All Hallows \({ }^{+}\), Lombard Street, from 2 to 3.30 p.m., and at St. Clement Danes' from 3.30 to 4.30 . The service was conclucted by the honorary chaplain, the Rev. W. Pennington Biekford, M.A., and the preachea was the Rev J. A. Mayo, H.A., Rector of Whitechnpel, who gawo a very interestr ing and lulpful address. The presonce of organist and choir was much appreciated. With tho Rector's apmoval it was subsequently Ifecided to devole the ufiertory to the wanes W. Washbrook Momorial Fund.

Sixty-three ruembers sat down to tex at this Express Dairy, and afterwards prococded to the Parish Koorn for the busimess meeting, where they were joined by furthar marthers.

The balnace sheet was presented, and passed. The secretary gave a report on the past year's work, whin nutioned, among other fitings, the centenary dinner, the summer outing to Cliertsoy, and the successful eflorfs to restart the Northert District organisation. Sixteen new members were elected eltring 1924, and thirty peals were rung as follows: Grandsire Cinques 1, Roh Major 2, Fob Royal 1, Double Norwich Court Bob Major 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Konl I'reble Bob Royal 2, Stedman Triples 10, Stedmati Caters 3, Steriman Cinques 2, Cambridge Surprise Major 4, and Superlative Surprisg Major 3. Eighty difforent members, representing thirity difterent parishes, took part, in these peals, of which the Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender, corducted 25, Mr. J. Bullock 1, Mr. J. H. Cheesman 1, Mr. F. J. King 1, Mr. F. Skevington 1 , ind Mr . I. A. Trollope 1 .
Proposels were brouglat forwand dealinge with the rearangement of the boundary line between the two districts, but these met with litith support, and no alteration was made. - The District Mastel and Secretary stated that they were content with the present ditision, and were hopeful of the future. It was, however, surgested that Julp might he given. luy the central body to certain local bagds who wera striving to become proficient, and this will be considered by the committee in due course.

Mr. T. H. Taflender was again re-elected Master, without opposition, the meeting registering its full support in his favour. Mr. A. F. Keighley wes appointed hon. secretary, aud the othet elections resulted as follows: Senior assistant seeretary, Mr, R. Newnan; junier assistant secretary, Mr. T. W. Talfender ; treasurer, Mr. E. A. Youag ; trustees, Mr. J. George and Mr. T. A. Young; senior steward, Mr. W. E. G. Fewson; and junior steward, Mr. F. W. Chorley.

The mecting concluded with voteg of thanks to those who had helped in the arrangements, and to the retiring officers.

Ta the Editor.
Dear Sir, With reference to the abave record, I always take it that "loeal band' means all the ringers belong to ona tower, I had not forgotiten the peals of Oxford Treble Bob of 1774, or Keat Treble Holy rung in 1836 , but there is no record of those ringers belonging to one tower, and the great probability is it was not so. I am afraid my deliglit at out band accomplishing bhe peal of London Surprise Major (which I had almost given uns as impossible) made me forget for the ticno being the penl of Stedman by the Retford men, and T apologise to them and witforaw all elaith with regard to that mothod. I sluonde like to add, in conclusian, that the only two peals of London ouducted by Notts men have been by members of the Beeston band, viz., Brr. A. Goppock and Mr. P. Price,-Yours faitlfuly,

FREDK. S. PRICE.

\section*{BRISTOL SURPRISE \\ \section*{To the Editor.}}

Dear Sir-Your leader this week is especially interesting to me, and prabably otilers in the city, from wheace it takes its name. I think it was early in 1900. at the anaual cimmer of the St. Stephen's Guild, that the late inr. F. F. Wrard spoke of the method, and promised to sond on a lead of jt. Jhis I dity received, and in my sprre lime set thp in fypo the finl| plann conrso, and printed of some 150 copies. Wo then set to and rang it, and it was only then we heard Lhe Brighton men were ringing it . This, I confiess, put the damper an a little. Wo knew their capabilitics; Brighton was up to the 'London ' standard when Bristol was in the 'Crandsire' stare. However, in pal was not rung at once, and we might hare been first liad we persevered.
When the peal was rumg I wrote to the 'Bell News' and offered rongratulations, but clisagreed with the description "harder than London,' but was told I woulrl soon find it was when we started to mako the bobs. (I lane made a few since, but still say Londen is the most rifficalt.) At the same time, I oftered free copies of the plain course to mayone who woulel send bue a stamped addressed envelope. I have the list of those who sent; it was f very slort list. I have, lowever, given all the 150 awny now. Ins this done a little to popularise it, do your think?
I have received another Surprise Method (Major) from the Rev. E Bankes James. Perlaps I will do the same with that. T said, perlaps! Yours truly, W. A. CAVF.

\section*{OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.}

The annual meeting of the Reacing Brarch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Reading on Salurday last, 70 members being present fron the various belfries of the district. Proceedings commenced wilk show touches on the bells of St. Lawrence's, St, Mary's, aud St. Giles' Clurches. A bright service was then held at St. Mary's, the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jonkyn) and the Rev. A. 'I', Gray ofliciating, while an approptiate address was given by the Rev. Cnnon E. J. Norris.
The members then proceeded to the Cenlral Cafe, Friau Street, for tea. The business meating which followed, witl! Mr. P. Routh in the chair, was quite an ammated affairs, holpful suggestions, of interest to ringers, coming from many members.
All the officers were re-elected, amang thosa present, otber than those already mentioned, being the Rev. Canon F. G. Coleridge, Crowhorne; Mr. J. Evans, Higł Wycombe; Mu. J. Bower; Goring; Mr. A. F. Wright, Supt. Jiggins, Mr. H. Tucker, Mr. A. W. Pike, ete.
Special mantion was raade of the deaths of three members of the buanch, Messis. W. Newell, C. Gilos, and A. Lovejoy, the members standing in silence at a token of respect.
A report was received Irom the hon. secretary (Mr. F. Wh. Hopgood), showing an increase of 27 members during the year, the brancls now haping 165 members. Tower reports were received from Messis. J. Swain, St. Mary'si A. Osbornc, St. Giles' ; J. R. Mackapan, St. Lawrences; A. D. Cullum, Caversham; E. G. Foster, Tilehurst; G. White, Healey; E. G. Frankum, MapledurLam; H. Tucker, Purley; and W. Ford. Martimer.
After the business meeting the members entertainet themselves with pianoforte solos, songs, lumorous stories, and handbell ringing, the artists being Mrs. Wood, and Messrs. Julian Were (from BirnaingHam Cathedral), A. W. Pike, E. G. Foster', J. R. Mackman, W. Webb. s. E. Davis, Supt. Wiggins, etc. The meeting closed by singing if National Anthem.

A Iarga gathering is, as usual, assured for the Fenry Jolmsou Commemoration Dinuer at Birminghan to-morrow, and those who will be present can be sure of an enjoyable evening. This year's celebration falls on the astual anniversary of Jomson's birtly in 1809. His birthday in 1881 was celcbrated by a 9,238 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham, then the longest leugtir in the methot.
The ringing at Bishop Ryder's Church for visitors to Birmingham to-morrow will be from 2 to 2.40 p.m. only, as a peal attempt is to be made at 2.45. Last week it was statek, ja error, that the ringing there would begin at 2.40 .

The first peal of Union Triples ja Wales Jas been rung at Bridgend, Glam, conducted by Mr, O. H. Perry. Incidentally, it is quito a long time sibee a peai of Union Triples was rung anywhere.

Members of the Central District of the Laches' Guild attempted a peal of Stedman Triplos last Saturlay at Ewell. After some very fine ringing for 2 lours 5 minutes a shift course unforturately uccurred.
A birbuday to-tnorrow which will bring him congrotulations and good wishes is that of Ted Horrex, of the College Youtls, who will be B7. And be it remembered as loug ago as 1866 on March 3rd he rang in a peal of 8,448 Kent Treble Bob Major.
Sunday is the nnniversary of two loog penls at Painswick. Ono in 1734, when 8,064 (irandsire Caters was lung, and the other in 1735, whea 10,080 in the same method was rung in 6 hours 27 minutes.

On Maveh 1st, \(1889,13,440\) Crnterbury Pleasure Major was rung at Wamham, Sussex. in 7 hours, 45 minutes.
W. D. Croits called a peal of 10,260 Grandsiro Caters at St. Mary' \(\varepsilon_{1}\) Nottinglam, on March 3 rcl, 1778.

One hundred and forty years ago, on March 3rd, the Anacreontic Society rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Oswestry. Who or what they were, no one now knows.

We are informed that the peal of Kont Treble Boh Major, rung at Edenbridge on 10th May, 1924, condncted by Clias. F, Kippin, should not be credited to the Kent County Assacintion.
We learn that, apart from the interesting explanntion upon ' In inm Ont of Course, which will begiven by Mr. W. A. Cave at the Bristal United Ringing Guilds' Socin! on March 7th, there will be a very good and varied programme.

HELP WANTED IN THE WESTERN DISTIRTCT.

\section*{To the Editor.}

Dear Sirs-At the anual meeting of the Surrey Association, at Berdington in 1923, a laty was asked if she would take oret the none too easy duty of re-forming the western district, whith lad fiallen away almost to nothing. Sho assented, and, I think, deserves prajse for taking on such a task. She has worked very hard to bring the membership up to the present strength.
The point to which I wish to draw attention, however, is that a good many menbers of other districts promised to help her, by attending the mpetings as much as positole, but the lady must have tell like giving up ber responsibilities as hon. secretary at the menting at Esher on Febinary 7th Iast, when only nine members attended.

The reason may have beca that tit was only a six bell tower, and it seems to me that these towers are shumued by mine out of every ten ringers connected with towers whieh have a larger mumber of bells.
[ would like to ask as many as possible of all districts of the suryey Association to come to the ling of the gecretary of the Western Distriet in her hard, uphill work, and hot to forge. the six-bell towers.

LELCESTER DISTRICT MEETING.
A meeting of the Leicester district was hold at Wigston Magia on Satitday, Fely. 2lst, members being prescat from Syston, Markut Farborough, Croft, Jeicester, and the local band. 'Tonches of Grarilsitro and Stedman Triples, Boh Major, Double Nowwelt and superlative Surprise Major were all brought round during the aftermon.

A husiness mecting wiss held in the Schoolroom, at whicls the proposed new rules were freely discussed.
After the business had been disposed of, "the next move was hack to the belfry, and with the aid of 'the peal smatelers' (who fand now made their appenance), further fouehes of Boh Major, Kont anal Cambridge Surprise Major were rumg. This brought the tower bell ringing to a close. Afterwards, a very enjoyable time was speni af a place 'within the meaning of then act. (kindly reserved by the wigstan friends). The handbells were bronglat into action, ant tateless of Stedman Cinques were rung, followeri by tunes and warious kinds of jazz ringing, and, last but not loast, a rise and fall (more fall than anything). This brought an enjoyable half-rlay to a close.

\section*{DEATH OF MR. EDGAR WIGHTMAN. \\ MEMBER OF A WELL-KNOWN RINGJNG FAMLY.}

Deep regret will bo felt by a large number of ringers at the death of Mr. Elgar Wightian, late of Woodford, Essex, who passed away on Sunday evening, Trebruary 15th, at Uxbridge Hospital. He had had an atanch of induenaz, and got out too soon after it. A yedupse followed, and plewrisy and pncumonia doveloped. He was removed to hospital on the Thursday, but despite all efforts on the part of the doctors and nurses he succumbed on the following Sunday.
Horn at Framsden, Suftolk, in 1875, ho was one of the well-known ringiag family of Wightman, father and sir sons forming the bulk of the band at Cretingham. Farrier and general sinith by trade, he rent to woodford, Essex, in 1896, and while thero assisted the joung bunds at Woodford and Leytonstone, where he soon made thiags move. His ringing activities were carried on in the Issex, Kent and Middesex Associations, and with tho Gumberland Youthe. Unlortumately he kept no record of his considerable number of peals, but anoug those that he rang whs the 15,072 Double Norwich (his favourite bictlod) at Erith on April 3rd, 1899, one of his own conpositions. Ho also raug a pair of handbells' in the first doublebanded peai of Stednan Cinques by the Middlesex Association, conduded by Mr. W. Pye. Mr. Wightman was rery active among the Cumberlands in the early yearg of the present century, and later, wile will Mossrs. Warner and Son, got together a liandhell party comeeted with the foundry. He was a very fine ringer and conduetor, thoroughly at home at either cod, but particularly good round the back.
Only last yoar lie romoved fron Wondford to take up a new business at Uxbridge, Middlesex, whece he was assisted by his son (who is also a ringer'). He was making exeellent progress when stricken down by jllnces. Fis death will be keenly felt amongst ringers in the Sunth-East of England especially in the South-Western Division of the Essex Association, where le had endearcd himself by his courteous manner, and his readiness to help at all times. For a aumber of years he neterl as Master of the Division.
The deceased was buriet on Wednesday, February 18th, at Uxbxidge Cemetary. Anomgst those present were Messrs. W. Miller and F. D. Snith, of the leeytonstone St. John's band; Mr. C. Morths, of the Woodiond baud and Mr. E. J. Butier, represonting the Essex Association. Amongst the numerous floral emblems was at wreath from the St, Joln's, Leytoustone, Society, and also one from the members of the woodford and Loughton bands.
On Sunday, February 22nd, and Monday, Fob, 23rd, Jalf-mufed ringing took place at St. Jolu-the-Baptist's Church, Leytonstone. On each oecasion 720 London Surprise Minot was ming non-conducted andi sfrictly "silent", as \(n\) mark of respect to the late Mr . Wightman, who conducted the first extent of London Surprise on these bells on \(\Delta\) pril 1711, 1898.

\section*{READING'S LOSS.}

\section*{DEATH OF MR. CHARLES GILES.}

On Suatiay, Feb. Bth, thero passed to his rest one of Reading"s besh ringers, in the person of Mr. Charles Gijles, a member of St. Mary's bting a regutar Sunday Serviog ringer, he will be a great loss to Mr. Aitles was it member of the Onford Diocesan Guild, the. Winchester Diocesan kiaild, and several other societies. He was a keen rimger, thd his services were frequently sought after for special occasions. He was a clever riuger in most methods, having ruag peals from Craudsile Triples to Lendon Sirprise, one of his best feats being the 'silent peal of Stedman Triples at Drayton, Berks, tive firsi lime Thurstans' geal was rung non-conducted. This feat he accomplished without any previous practice in Stedmen caling, this aloue proving the possession of mo mean ability. He was a safe conduetor on 6, 8 ar 10 bells, and lad rurg somewhere about 200 peals. The funcral took place at Reading Cemetery, the first part of the service being conducted at St. Mary's Clurch by the Ven. Archdeacon of Berks and the Rer. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Guild). diter tho commintal, a plain course of Grandsise Triples was rumg Sinry's, with the bells lialf-muffled, as n token of respeet by ringers from all the towers in the borough.
Deceaser, who was 58 years of agu, had heen unwell for some time, but kept up lis servise ringivg and employment with Messers. Huntley, Bowne and Stevens, where lae had beey since boybood, until a fortnight hefore his death. He leaves a widow and one daughter to mourn their loss.

\section*{THE CENTRAL COUNCLL}

The annual meeting of the Council will be held on June the 2ad (Whit Tuesday) next, at Chester. Full particulars of the meeling wall bo published later. Notice of any proposed motion should bo sent hefore April 18th.

Will secretaries please note that the manual subscription is now due, and, together witi the names and addresses of representatives, should be sent to the lons, secretary, M:. E. Alexr. Yaung, of 155, Rushey Green, Catford, S.E.6.

Dear Sis,-Your readers will be interested to know that for the Central Council meeting on Whit Tuesday, at Chester, the local committee have already arranged for the usc of the Cathedral Refectory, and that further we have the very grateful promise of the Lord Bishop of Chester that he will himself attend and welcome the Council. The subscriptions to the Council are now due, and so far only three have been receiverl, viz., Peterborongl, Ladics' Guild and Chester (a very pobs return compared with previous years). I wish also to add tiliat three Guitds or Associations linwe dropped out on account of now-payment of the subscriptions for the year 1924. It is not ton late for lhem, however, if they will forward the amount for both years, to be reinstated.
We should also be liappy to think that a well-knowa Guiki in tho South of Thgland would roconsider its present position, and rejoin the Central Council.-Tourg faithfully, E. ALEXR. YOUNG.

\section*{NORTIERN DJVISION AT COGGESHALI.}

The first meeting of the Northern Division for the year was held on Saturday last at Coggeshall, the place liaving been selected from the fact that the ald land of ringers liad become extinet, and a young band had been formed to carry on the work. It was thought, therefore, that a mecting would give them help and encouragement in mastering the art of change ringing. The ringing commenced at 3 p.m.s and aingers were present from the following 23 parishes: Coggesball, Maldon, Dunmow, Braintree, Kelvedon, Sudbur, Ealls Colpe, Rayne, Broomheld, Foxearti, Great Bentley, Mistley, Stebbing, Feering, Assington, Sible Hedingham, Greenstead Green, Great Cornard, Palslead, Halstent, Jung Melfori, Romiord and Jarlow.
Service was held in the Church of St. Peter-ad-Yincula, and tlut Vicar gave a short and helpful ndidess.

After the service, the ringers, to the number of 43. sat down to tea in the room in the Vicarage grounds, the chair being occupied by the Vicar. supported by Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Association), Ir. W. J. Nevard (District Master of the North-Eastern Divisiou), Mr. 引. J, Builer (secretary of the South-Westera Division), Mr. D. Elliott (Assington), Mr. F. W. Wiffen (District Master) and Mr W. F. Dyson (district secretary).

At the business meeting, five of the yaung Coggestaall band mere elected members of the association.
It was decided to hold the June meeting at sible Hedinghacn, and at bye-meeting, about the end of April, at Beichamp St. Paul's.
A question arose as to the eustody of the association's peal book, and the Master promised that it slould be produced at the annual meeting far inspection.
It was mentioned that a well-known ringer, in the person of Mr. Edgri- Wightman, of Woodford, had, duriag the past week, passed awny very sudtenly, and the members rose for a few moments in silence, as a token of respect to his memors.
The District Master agnounced that a peal board would be taveiled al Braintree on Saturday, Mareh 7 th, at 4 p.m., when any visiting ringerts would be welcomed, and a tea provided at a small cost.
A hearty vote of thanks was moved to the Ficar for kindly allowing the use of the luells, for taking the serviee, and for his helpful address also to the organist for presiding at the organ. This uns carried with acclamation, and the Vicar suitably replied, expressing the pleasure ji had given him to havo the meeting at Coggeshall.
During thi day, ilhe following methods were rung: Superlative, Cambridge, Stedman, Grandsire, Bob Major, Double Nortich, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob.

\section*{RINGER'S DVATH AT PRESTBURY.}

On Hucsuay evering, Feb, 17th, the local band met at St. Mary's Churels, Presthurg. Gloweestershire, and rang a well-struck quarterpeal of Grandsire Triples ( 1,260 changes), in 47 minutes. The hells were half-mufleck, as a mark of respect to an old ringer, Mr. James Major, who was laid lo rest earlier in the day. He was carried to his grave by colleagues of the belfry. Ringers stood as follows: C. Tovey W. C. Rose 2, H. Newman 3, J. J. Causon 4, G. Walterg 5, W. Hale 6, T. l'endiy (contuctory 7. J. Harrison B. Afterwards, the whole pull and stand" was rung 68 times, corresponding with the age of tha decensed, T. Compton taking the place of W. C. Rose Decensed, who was much respected, had been a finger for about 34 yenrs, hut hat been unablo to trko an active part in liaging for the last "wo years owing to illness.

[ROOF OF ROUND BLOCKS AND PROOF OF CONSTRUCIION. By GEOLGE BAKLER
Li an old but not forgoter controversy of 1913, I foumd that a particular method, one of my owa discoveries, published in ' 13eh Nuws,' March 17th, 1900 , was produced thy three orthodox bobs, &uick 6uth's, Quick 3rdrs, and Quick 6th' \(\varepsilon_{3}\) and there nnd then I lajd it duwa as an axium that all methods, principles and systeuls were produced by making loobs and Extremes in the Primary Principles.

Lixcept that I hava adophed Lhe tern! 'Shunis,' I have never deviated from that statement, and that i was right in making is can now be abuudantly proved. Moreover, 1 can go a step further, and dectare that there is a general baw in ancthod construction, and that lay applies whather it be method, principle or system, and the axiom frid down in 1913 ean be anplified in 1925 as follows:
All methods, principles and systems, double or single, reyular or irregular, symmetrical or asymmetrical, with one, two, or ary numher of hunts, or no hunts at all, are produced by making SINGLE WEUNTS which form LuUCND BLOCKS in the Primary Principles os tho Trable Bob Priveiple, and these round blocks are not wonfined to the first lead or division, but rua rigit through the Plajn Course.
A crude way of proving the rxiom above would he to write out a [ull plain course of LEEK MATOR, but 1 hope to make myseli undurstood by the use of two đivisions ouly.

Proof of construction is finding the actual lead or division head which will produee as a PLAIN ROW, a row that las already beea prodnced by a slunt, and then transposing all the lead or difision heads of the shants of the method or principle in their consecuife order.
For proof of this we will take the slunts of Leek Major, and I must explain that these are double hobs, i.e., Quiek Jrel's and 6th's, Gut being made in the same row they count as a SINGLE Shunt. The first double bob produces 58672314 at 96 h change of \(Q\). \(P\). Thie second double bob produces 67418523 at \(9 t h\) change of \(Q\). \(P\). The third double bob produces 87538421 at 11th change of \(Q\). \(P\) To prove the truti of the above it will be sufficient to give the transpositions of the first and last division lieads.

And now, at long last we have the real iruth the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, in the matter of method construction, and all the arbitrary definitions ever laid down nre scatiered to the four winds; for what is true of Leck is cqually trie of London Surprise Minor and London Surprise Major, or any method. principle or system that ever has been, or ever will be, consiructed.

Leek Major contanus three round blocks produced by shunta, and seven by plain hunting.
London Minor contains 16 roand blorks praduced by sliunts, anif eight by wair luncing.
luondon Major contains 22 round blocks produced by shunts, ami ten by plajn huzting.

I lavo no doubt, now thre it has been pointed out to them, ny oppononts will he able ta prove the fact for themselves, and indeed I slatald not be surprised if eventually they want fo claim all the credit for this discovery for themselves.
the anly extennating circumstances that I can find for one of my opponents is the fact that he was one af the first membats of the Legitimate Methorls Commiltec. Tlue importance of the position seems to lape muddled lis brain, and fas yedrs went on every arbitrary definition that le became a party to eppeated to him as a natural |aw Befo.e I leave the subject of Leek Major, I want to call the alm tion of the Exercise particularly to that metlod.

The methorl was sent to me early in the year of 1913 by my intimate friend, Mr. E. A. Rideway, of Lech, Stalordshire, with a re quest that \(I\) shonld examine and give him my opinion of same. did so. I found it was produced from the Quick Principle by thre! double bobs, that it had what, I temt reciprocal relationship of thy opposite pairs of bells, 1-8, 2-7,3-6, and 4-5; a claractaristic of the Primary Principles nnd of the Treble Boh Principle, that the changes wer'e alternate quatiruple ancl triple thooghout, that tha places were all made the right way, j.e., at hand and back strok that the division heads mut ends were in coursing order, that mushcally it was far in adrance of anything previously diseovered, the Plain Conrse containing both Quecu's nud Tittums, and being a douhle method the eighty changes of the plain course consist of forty rows, aud these forty rows reversed, bringing up all the backwatd coursing raws, brekward Queen's and buckward Titums, etc.
I also proved the method, and found that with the tenors together, f bols only are usod, thare is only one false sourse end 126543 , if singles are tised there are two extra 124635 and 125354 , but if \(6,7,8\), re fixed the neethod then hare at clean proof senle
This unique metlod was "murdered" as soon as published by a gentleman, who slall be mameless, fedaring tlat it was as mongiel method.
I, heing the sponsor for the methen and partly responsible for ita publication, cathe out of my retirentent, and astert the nameless one his reason for calling the method 'mongrel,' and I was informen that Principles could only lave tho following division heads and entis

It ouly took ne e werf short lime to prove the above defintion of a Primetple to be an arbitrary one, nud later I publislued in the 'Bell News' and 'Ringing World a method which could be prom dined with auy one of the four possible rows as the first dirision head, j.e.,

\section*{INTERESTING GIFTS TO PRESTON TOWER}

A very succussful meetince of the Preston Brauch was beld at Whittle－ li－Woods，on Soturday，February 14th，about 30 members being pre－ suab irom brindle，brownodge，Chorley，Hoghton，Leyland Parisly， ［＇reston［3arish，］＇enwortham，and he local tower，together witin visi－ tors from Staudish．The methods rung ranged from Plain Bots to Superlarive Surprise．

Toa，purtaker of at the Bungalow Tea Rooms，was followed by the business meeting．
On taking the chair，Mr．E．R．Martin said he was pleased to wel－ come the visitors who werc present．
After the transaction of the ordinary business，the Secretary read currespondence between．Mr．Thomas Russam，of St．Martin＇s，Bir－ minghaw，and hinself，in whicl Mr．Russam said he land in his pos－ gessian a print of Preston Patish Church，as it was in 1821，together wilh two peal records，which 与e offered to give to the Preston ringers， as lie thought they were the peaple who ought to have them．

Tha secretary wrote thanking lim for his gonerous offer，and sug－ gested that he（the secretary）should hand them over to the Preston ringers at this meeting，on Mr．Russam＇s belalf．To this Mr．Russam had ggreed，and had forwarded the print and records．
The secretaty fhem road to the meeting the records，which are as follows：－

On Thursday morning，Sept． \(81 \mathrm{~h}, 1831\)（being the day of the Garonution of his most Graciuus Majesty King William the Fourth）， the Sociefy of Chauge Ringers of this towu ascended the noble Gothic tower of the Parish Charch aad rung a trite and complete peal of Bol Major，consisting of 5,120 harmonious changes，in three hours and ten minutes；conducted by Mr．Joln Chew．The following are the rames and tho bells to which ench was placed ：

Trate．Mr．Thomas Croasdale．
second．Mr Thomas Thompsen．
Third－Mr．Benjamin Indertor．
Fourth．－Mr．Richard Grabam．
Fifth．Mr．John Mayor．
Sixth．Mr．John Smith．
Seventh．－Mr．Jolin Chex．
Eighth．－Mr．John Simpson．
Weight of tenor 25 ewt 1 qr． \(14 \mathrm{lbs} . *\)
On Mondry evening，Jamuary 30th，1837，a select band of the So－ ciely of Change Ringel＇s，Prestou，accompanied by Mr．Wro．BowEer， of Manchester，ancl Mr．Jolin Varley，of Croston，rung on the bells in the tower of the Parish Clurch，the celebrated ten course peal of Gramisire Tripples，consisting of 5,040 changes，in two hours and 59 minutes；conducted by Mr．Thomas Brodrick．The following are the bemes and the bells to which each was placed：－

Treble－Mr．Edward Halliweil．
Second－Mr．Thomas Thompson．
Third．Mr．Benjamin Anderton．
Fondh．－Mr．Richard Graham．
Fifth．－Mr．Thomas Brodrick．
Sixth．－Mr．Samuel Leiveslej．
Serenth－Mr．William Bowker．
Eighth．－Mr．John Varleg．
Weight of tenor 25 cwt ．I qr． 14 bs.
The print was then handed round for the members＇inspection，and wil were highly pleased with it，
The Chairman said he would like to move that the best thanks of all present，and especially of the Ereston ringers，bo accorded to Mr． Bussam for his gift．He added that he hed a special interest in the recurds，as one of the ringers named was one of his ancestors，and mo doubt other＇s in nati about Presion would also he relations of them． The secretary hopes Mr．Russadi will accept the vote of thanks throngh＇The Ringing World．\({ }^{\text {I }}\)
It is the intention of the wardens and ringers that the souvenir should be framed，and a suitable footnote added，ta show the origin of the gift，and then to put it in the Preston Church tower．
The print differs in some respects to the church as it is to－day，as in the picture the tower is summonted by four pinnacles only，while to－ day there is a spire as well as the pionacies；also ove of the entrances to the ehurchyard is different．
Another item of interest whs then discusset，this being the ques－ lion of edtucating the ringer＇s on the linos suggested by a recent
 Was decided to ask Mr．Wm．Taylar，of Penwortham，to prepare a Piper for the mext meeting．
This closed the meeting，and most of the members went back to the tower．
The hest thanks of the meeting were passed to the Vicar for the arse of tho bells，und to the local men for laving all in readiness．

\section*{ST. MARY'S RINGERS' GUILD, HANDSWORTH.}

On Saturday, February 2Ist, tho members of the ebove Guild helti their thitd aunual social and danco in the Endowed Schoolroan at Handsworth, Shefeld, where 150 paits of feet tripped upou the floor in matric fashiou, to the merry strains of misic. The duncing was interspersed with song, solo, humour, nud the evor-poular * doublelumded. Mrs. S. Godden sang, in rich contralto, ' In un old-fashioned town, and the 'vid-lashionod' athence demanded an encore the artist obligiug by sidging. Absent:' Then thene was a turn from the iniméable Mr. Bert Cophey (humorisi), who proved very popular as he rolled ofl' ata netion song, "The Catious Lover." And then Mr. M. layling (baritone) followed with "Mate o' Mine," and singulayly, Mris. Godden lannelred out in her next seng with "My shyp to he followed by Mr. Copley with the tickter, "My word, you to look quoer." The oflat laty who sat next to the writer hubbled over so numb that her jewallery jiugled like the chaies of a curf horse, and slie laughod until hor ribs rattled. I'lis artist could not be let go until he had obliged again, and again, with "Won't yer, Bill?' and + It may be so," but in the writer's opinion, the forto stroke of the evening was given by this groat humorist in u sentimental monologue, entitled * Eartion Warc.' It was choek tull of hometruths, and, being of rather a seriots mature, mo wonder it 'touched.' A course of refreslaments was followed by in course of Grandsire Triples: Old Waf-kitu-son 1-2, Wil-son 3-4, Godden 5-6; azud, it's a fret, a "Garth' completer? the circle on 7-8. JYe wifo of the 'Clief Baker' in Handsworth presided at the piano, accompanted by Messrs. Glossop (violiz), and P. Motiram on the drum cymbalis and "oojalis,' tho latter revinding one of a peal of 'one, two," and one once fieard and can never be forgotten. Messis. Watkinson, Goulden and Garth acted as M.C.s, and a fellow near the thoor took the Card-well, and flum took his livok.

\section*{POTTERY RINGERS' 'OFF DAY.'}

Gin Saturdey last, six members of the Stoke-an-Treat dsocintion paid a visit to the mother town of the Potteries (Bursfem) to attempt \({ }_{25}\) peal of Treble Bab Minor at the Church of St. Jolan. Arter ringing 25 minutes the tenor rope broko. The handy men of the hated soon spliced this, aud a frosh starto was made. The peal was glidjug alony beantifully in filue fifth metitod, when, after twa haurs anging, the rope of the second bell cane tumbling clown on the writer's siroulders. This put the "tin hat" on the attempt, is it was now Loo late to make nnother slart. One of fle band atiributed this tlllank to the fact that bad they got througla this peal it would have been lis thirteentl.
The local ringers have ruade application several fimes for an sot of now ropes, but the Recior and charchwardens are evidently atader the impression that hell ropes belong to thas perperiunl systems.

I'le first stage of the jourgey liome was by electric car, but before reaching Hanley it came to a dead shop, something liavizg gothe wrong with the mechanism, whicle hela up quite a string of other cars as theg arruyed behind it. Eventually the vingers artived at Hanloy saicly. Here the writer boardod a "chara' for Milton. 'As goon as

\section*{RINGERS AND FREEMASONRY.}

The Johnson Commemoration Dinner at Birmingham on Saturday lacked nothing in its traditional enthusiasm and cordiality. Although the days of Johnson are fast receding and the number of those who knew him in the Hesh is gradually but surely diminishing, his memory is still green, while, through this popular event, there must be many who, although they never saw Henry Johnson, and indeed knew nothing of ringing until long after his death, feel as if the famous old man had been a personal friend. This annual gathering not only serves the purpose of preserving the memory of one of the greatest ringing intellects of all time, and of one of the most lovable of characters that ever graced the Exercise, but it provides a fine illustration of the spirit of what we like to call freemasonry among ringers.

In this compection we would draw attention to a suggestion made in the course of his speech by Alderman Pritchett, who presided. There are in the ranks of ringers a great many members of the craft of Freemasonry, and the chairman, who is himself one of the foremost Masons in the country; suggested that a Ringers' Lodge should be formed in London. We imagine that Masons belonging to the ringing Exercise will welcome the proposal as cernenting still more firmly the bonds of brotherhood which exist in both spheres and uniting them in a manner which is not at present attainable. To ensure that the Lodge shall retain its characteristic and remain essentially a ringers \({ }^{3}\) Lodge, Alderman Pritchett's idea is to make it a necessary qualifica. tion that candidates for membership shall have rung a peal. This is a condition which would maintain the exclusiveness of the Lodge, and should attract to it all those who combine Freemasonry and ringing.

Having mooted the subject, doubtless Alderman Pritchett will see that the proposal is given the opportunity of taking shape. He is admittedly the very best person to launch the scheme, both from his knowledge of and fis standing in the craft, as well as from his long and active connection with ringing. There have already been Freemasons' peals rung on eight and ten bells, and there is a keenness among members to associate the two things. A Lodge thus formed would enable those ringers who are connected with Masonry not only to enjoy a closer contact, but through their more intimate association in the lodge to come together much more often, as members of their ancient order, in the belfry. We hope Alderman Pritchett's idea will materialise at an early date, for we are quite certain that he will have the full support of all ringers who are also Freemasons.

The annual meeting of the Glastoniury Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was held at Glastonbury on Saturday, February 21st, when the Rev. L. S. Lewis presided, and about twenty members were present. The towers represented included Glastonbury, Street, Groscombe, West Pemard, Pilton, Doulting, Shepton Mallet and St. Ebbe's, Oxford.
The ringer's form of service was conducted at St. John's, and the Vicar gave the members a very helptul address.
Tea was pariaken of at the Misses Taylor's Restaurant, and was followed by the business mecting.
The Rev. L. S. Lewis brieffy referred to the loss the branch had sustained in the departure of Mr. Walter Farley, the hon. secretary and treasurer of the brancl, and moved is yote of thanks to him for lis valuable services. - This was seconded by Mr. W. Marsh (Street), and carried with acclamation.
The Ron. Secretary read a repori on the past year's work, together with a siatement of accounts, which were unanimously adopled.
The re-election of the Rev. L. S. Lewis, as president for the ensuing year, was moved by the Hon. Secretary, seconded by Mr. H. J, Trim, and carried.-The Rev. L. S. Lewis suitably responded.
The nest business was to elect an hon. seeretaig and treasurer and a representative on the general committee. - Tho President. brought forward the name of Captain Babington, of the Abbey House, Glastonbuyy, and proposed him as an hon. member.-This was seconded by Mir. J. Thyer.-Capt. Babington was then proposed as hon. secretary for the branch.
Mr. W. Marsh (Streest), moved, as an amendment, that the election of hon. secrefary be left over till the next meeting, and this was seconded by Mr. Rowse.
Mr. #. Collins (Croscombe) moved the election of the tomporary hon. secretary, anti proposed Mr, F. D. Rickards.-Mr. T. Willmot seconded, and this, on being put to the meeting, was carried.-Mr. Rickards briefy responded.
Three probationers from Street, and the like number from Pilton, were elected.-The tower of West Peunard agreed to rejoin the Deanery Branch, and Pilton also joined up.
The place of the next meeting was fixed for West Pemnard, on the proposition of the hon. secretary, seconded by Mr. H. J. Tria.
Votes of thanks, proposed by the fiew. E. S. C. Lack, of West Pennard, were accorded to the Vicar, the choir, and organist, ano all who helped towards the arrangements of the meeting, and these were carried unanimously.
Touclies on the hells, before service and afterwards, helped to make up a most enjoyable meeting.

\section*{DEVON GUILD.}

The quarterly meeting of the Exeter Branch, was held at Exminster on Saturday, February 21st. Proceedings opened with a splendid service in the Parish Church, ronducted by the Vicar (the Rep. D. G. Samuel), who extendeतf a very hearty welcome to the Guild.

\section*{THE LATE LADY MARY HOWARD.}

During the pasf week, Sheffeld lost its first Lady Mnyoress, by the death of Lady Mury Howard. Being tho late Duke of Norfolk's sister, it fell ia her lot to hold the companion ottice of Lady Mayoress at the time her brother was Mayor of Sheffeld, the Duchess liaving died some time previousty. Tha generous support which the Howard family lave given to the Roman Catholic Church of St, Marje'g, Narfolk Row, Shefield, will always be remembered by local ringert, for it was througb the instrumentality of the late duke that the rery fino peal of eight were erected.

The death of Lady Mary Howard thus severs another link with the past, and as a token of respect, St. Marie's bells were rung mufled for evening servico on Sunday last.

\section*{DUMB=BELL APPARATUS.}

Dear Sir,-Ocosionaliy, in quite umexpected querters in the realm of literaturc, one comes across a reference to bell ringing. For instance, Ilore is in that interesing book, "Here, There, and Everywhete, by Lord Fredk. Hamilion fwo was acquainted with the late Canor simpson), a lengthy paragraph in appreciation of the 'Simpsons ' tuning of bells:
Mr attention has just been calien to a clapter in 'Leaves from the notelonoks of Lady Dorothy Nevill,' describing Knole, the beautiful treasure house of the Sackvilles, wherein there is an account of a curious dumb-bell apparatus. I quote verbatim :-
*A curious feature of Knole is the attic which for generations has been known as the Dumb-bell Gallery, on account of jts conbaining a quaint wooden machine something like a windless withant handles. Around she middle of the roller is woumd a rope, and at cach chd are four irons terminating in a ball of lead. The rope formerly passed through a hole in the floor into a gallery helow, and anyone puting it would cause the roller to revolve and rewind the rope again, giving the person pulling the same exercise as is obtainet by ringing a church bell. In the seventeenth century, bell ringing was a very popular pastime, and prolinbly it was about this time that the machino was set up, in order to altord opportunities for silent practice.
- A dumb-bell machine of the same kind, or rather the remains of \(i t\), wes also in existence up to some few years ago at New College, Oxford-indeed, it may be still there to-day. \({ }^{\text {a }}\) an wondering whetter anyone at Oxford, or in the noighbourhond of Kiole, could give any further information as to the dumbInll mpparatus in question, and as to any helfries where such an spparatus is, of mas. installed.-Fours very truly, G. P. BURTON.

The death, from pueumonia. is ancounced of tho Rev. C. O. Ohilh, of St. Agnes', Kennington, who was one of the orlginal members ui the Oxford Universify Guild, and rang, we believe, in the Guile's first pai, and was also in the first clerical peal, at Drayton.
At Soliluh they liave something to Brasg about. Ten close relatives rang a querter-peal of Grandsire Caters on Sunday ereniny and seven of the band can baast of the name of Bragg.
The hon. secretary of tho Middlesex Association must be rery proud of lis son and heir. At the age of 14 years, Charles, junior, has scored his firs peal, having rung the treble to Grandsire Caters. Congratulations to falher ind son.
His meny friends will regret lo hear liat Mr. George N. Pribe is ill, and his condition is serious.
The great scheme for recasting York Minster bells is progressing, and the old peal have beon removed from the lower to the Longhborough Foundry.

A peal of 'Double Bob Royal 10 -in' was rung at St, Mary's, Nuttingham, on March 7th, 1791. The peal was called by W. D. Crotis, and there were two mon on the \(9 t h\) and two on the tenor. There would be few bands to-day prepared to ring a peal under these conditions.
One of the very etrliest lont peats, and a truly remarkable performance for those days, was the 12,603 Grandsire Caters sil Nurwich on March 8 bli, 1737. It was only in the previous year that the hells had been augmented to ten. The tenor was rung singly by a roung ringer for 8,000 changes, and by a second ringer for the rest of the peal, which was completed in 9 hours 15 minutes.

On March 10tls, 1784, a peal of 7,008 Oxfard Treble Bob Maximax was rung at Southwark in 5 hours 48 minutes by the College Youtia.
Warcir 12th is the anniversary of the frst peal of Treble Bob Maximus. This whs in 1758 , and was also Fung at Southwark by the College Youtlis.

\section*{CARLISLE CATHEDRAL BELLS}

LONG-SILENT PEAL TO RE AUGMENTED.
As a memorial to the late Dean of Carlisie (Dr. Hastings Rashdalla Mrs. Rashdall bas generously ofered to defray the cost of rehanging and adding to the Cathedral belis, which, except for a doldfu! ding-dong and a mechanical bymin tune, lave been sifent for the beg: part of a century.
The tradition is that the bells were rung last to welcome ' Bonnis Prince Charlie in 1745, and that, in consequence of this indiscreijon the Govermment forbade them to be rung again. The legend was taken so seriously in 1887 that Queen Victorja wrote to ask Disn Close whether it was because of his supposed embargo that the bulls of Carlisle ware conspicuously silent at her Jubilee.

The present peal of six, with a tenor of about 20 ewt. is to be increased to eight, and the work is to be carried out by Messes, Ment and Stainbank.

\section*{J. W. WASHBROOK MEMORIAL FUND.}

The treasurer of the above fund, Mr. A. J. Wright, of \(40, \mathrm{Ha}\) lon Road, Reading, lias received from vayious assaciations, towns and friends the sum of E 60 , and has the promise of a few potand more. Whilst thanking all those who have contributed, we must point out that a great deal more is needed before the work car the put in hand, and, therefore, aste all intending subscribers to seml their contributions to A. J. Wright and R. T. Hihbert, joint secs.

ful evenimg was receiverl from Messra. Goberell nnd Rowhotom, of ful evenirg was received from Messes. Coekerell nod Rowbottom, of the College Youths. The toast list and programme, prepared by the secretary, was zgain a happily conceived souvenir of tho occasion, containing a plotograpls of Henry Johnson, and being studded witly apb quotationg from a rariety of sources, wheh added piquancy to more prokaje items in the menu and toast list.
After an excellently server dinmer, the loyal tonst was entlusiastiir honomred.
Hr. J. .]. Kentiall proposed the tonst of "Clurch and State.' Tt be a fatal diay for England if Churda and Slate were separated.

\section*{BITMINGHAM'S NHW RECTOR}

Canon Gusy Rogers lad an extremely nordial meeption on rising to reply. He satid he lind really no right to appear there that evenjog, becanse as yed. he was hot hatir Rector, but he regarded if as a great honour to make his first public appearane in Birminglam in conterlion with fhat honourahle anti frmons St. Murtin's Guild. He bore form the Essex Association a greeting to them. In the old phureh as. Wast Farn, foum whinh he had just come. they had a peal of ton brils, fatd. Hio finme of St. Martin's Guild was well known theite, and he was relurged to hring them a message of greeting (applausel. He vegariod himself ns axtrontalinarily fortmate in coming to a ehtureh which hat such a repuiation it the bell ringing morld as St, Martm's, Bmomghan, and, thelerore, le was proud io be sssocmated with them thal nignt. Une of his old ringers hand said to bint in a latuarous way that be was one of the people who made a Hoise up aloft. He (the speaker) chouglat he might add to that, hast he (Canon Ragers) was ane of rhose who made a noise dowa below (laughter). They up aloft with the bells, if qhey did their part in the right spirit, helped people towatds a sense of worshig and an understanding that religion counted for something in the wortd, just as much as he did who tried to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ down below. He rejoiced that they were associated in this splendad work, not only in making religion the common possession af the peoplo of England, but trying to prosent it to them in an attractive way as woll. He supposed there were occasions when the Clurch and State lad sometimes been presented to the warld in a somewhat sinister connection, but when they thought of the real meaning of that toast they all agreed it was worth while proposing, agd that it was an honour to respond to it, It meant that they, the people of Whis country, could not really do their best, or be their best apari from religion, and they were readering a service to thus country in making the religion of Jesus Clurist krown and felt to its uiternost horders. He supposed there were three things people asked of religion. One was that it should give them a reasonable answer to tho riddle of existence; secondly, that it should set before them a moral standard; and, thirdly, that it should give them power to periorm it. They all needed an answer to the questions where they had comp trom and where they mere going to, and what was the meaning of life, and lie believed their religion supplied that answer. He believed if they were to pull down all the charches of this conntry, a demand would presently arise to rehutild them, because man needed religion, and because he nust have an answer to the riddle of oxistance. And thoy must have an answer to the queation, 'What is the moral standard to which they should live up?' Religian stupplied them with that standard; 需 was a standard which had not varied From generation to generation, and it set before then the stnnedard to which all men in all time should approximate. It also supplied them with the power to perform their duty. It was not metele for the clergyman to do mos daty in this matier, luut for all of them ta join together in this great profession of making religion a real living thing. Is depended on ihe bell ringers of Binmingham, as well as the elergy, and it was onl \(y_{5}\) when the clergy and lait 5 were joined in ane grent force rud made the Gaspel of Jesus Clicist a reality That the Church and State could falfil their proper frnction and bring in the Kingolom of God (applanse).
Mr. T. T. Braton was entrusten with the toast of "The Immorial Memory of Fenry Jolinson. Fe said he first made the acquaintance of Fenrr Jolnson insi fifty years ago, when the Birmingham worthy bronght a hand to Shrewshury. where ine the sheakers was living. It was this acquaintance with Mr. Johnson and the Birminghan men which hecame the inspiration of what lie was ahle fo do later in Stmewaburs anfl Felshpool, just in the same wat as arounintare with Mry Tolanson berame the inspiration of ment annther man. Henry Tolinson had the privilege of living in the mitiFictorian age. which was the finest periad the warld fand ever sech. He was g genius of his day. and lic left many heanfiful compositions bahind him. That gathering was, is it were, the aghes af
Henry Johnson, and his memory was embalmed with them, and wotal Henry Johmen, and his memory whe embalmet with them, and wotald Thos tana! was drunk in silence, and aftprwards three leads nf Morris.

\section*{REVIEW OF TFEE YTAR.}

The Clatiman then submitted 'Continued Prosperity to St. Mar tin's Guild.' He was happy, he sald, for the finst fime for many years to say that their ranks had not heen fhinned by death in a single instance. but they lamanter the absence from that gathering of theiv old friend, Mr. W. Rock Small, He was now 85 years of age, hut, lse was pleased to say. was in better lienlth at flae present time thon he hat hend for the past iwo years. The folm Ruffer: now the "father " of the Guild, was also prevented thy jll-health ant infimity from being present, and Mr. Jola Carter lian also writien to sny le would be nresent witls them in epirit, but on mecount of would write to bhes three gentlemen and inform them that thet were is the thoughts of ail present that evenumg (hear, hear). Re was very pleased to see that they had stelt athagnificent gathering that night, and that they had with then matuy distioguishorl guests. Gae eapceally he would like to zeation, beutuse of the remarkable pertormanea in which slie had recently taken path, when she rang in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus : a performance that marked her as ono of the most distinguisled campanolagists in this country; the refered to Mrs. Dick Deal (applause). Fhe past year lad been a most successful one for the Guitil. From the yepore of his deputy, vis. Albert Walker, he found that they lisd rung 39 peals, 32 in the tower, and seven on handbells. Amongst the wost notable of these was a pead at Lichfieid Cathatral, on one of the rare occasions when is peal was allowed, this being to celehrate the jubilee as a ringer at the Cathedral of Mr. Fred Cope. Then there was the splendid pent of Stedman Cinques at Exeter Cathedral, on the famous ring with its \(72 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt. tenor, the furst peal rung on these twelre bells. Coneratulations on this, peal came in from all parts of the country, and the members of the Guid would be glad to know that tie nagnificent performance was to be properly commedioraled by a suitable tatulet, by permission of the Denn and Chapter. Then there was the successful twelve-beli week, when peals were rung at Leicester, Birminghara, West Bromwicin, Painswick and Cirencester. Whe only failure bems at Wolverhampton, where a rope broke. This tour "מabled members of the Guild residing outside Birmingham to ment nnd ring poalg in towers other than St. Mavin's. It was also interesting to know that the pead ritng during "ilat week af St. Martin's was the 200th peal on the bells, and they hat in their peal books a complete renord of cvery pal from the year 1755 down to the present day (hear, hearl. In November, hy kind invitation of the Vicar af Cheltenham, the Guild wisited the Parish Church, and rang the first peal of Stedman Cinques on Cheltenham belle. There liat been, continued the speaker, a very fair atfondance on practice mights, bu: to might have been, better. The service ringing liad been splendidy maintained throughout the year, and the ringers in May last broadeast three comeses of Stedman Cinques ithe first time that bells rung in changes hati ever been heard by wireless. The: experiment was most suceessful, and only on the preceding Siunday a similar experiment was carried out from sit. Philip's Church. when a touch of Stedama Caters was broadcasr, Proceeding. Alterman Pritchett said lo desired to mention the splondit sercices rendered to the Ginild hy his Depuly, Wr. Albert WaIker (applause). As presiding Ringing Master be shone by Mr. Waller's reficetod glors Fdhat hers at Bristol. York and London. and. he wonld like to add, that accasion celehraided the soth anniversary of his membership (applause).

\section*{SUGGESTED RTNGERS LODGE OF FREEMASONS.}

There was an altempt to ring a Masouic peal on the 27th Decembet, when elewen ringers, who were also Freemasons, came from all parts of England, only to meet wilh disappointment, farough the failure of the twelftim mon to reach Birwitgham. Disappointments we not rare in ringing, and he mever knew disappointmentw in one af £wo iastances to prerent suceess at last, ankl he was quite certain that there would be the first Masonic peal of Cingues rung at St.
Martin's Church in that town (applatuse). And while he mentioned Fremasonry and ringing, he world like to see a Treenasons' Jodge of ringers established in London, the gualification being that every memher must have jumg a peal He hat no doubt if such a lodge were started there would be a Fery large number of country members who would join it. Continuing. Alderman Pritchett said the continued prosperity of that Guild depended largels on Mr. Waker, the Deputy Rmging Master, and sitill mote largely on Mr. express the ralue of their services, and were the to do then justice Fr might seem fulsome exaggeration to those who did not know them as well as the members of the Guild didd (applausc)
The toast was coupled with the mame of Mr. A. Paddot Smith, whose liealth was drunk with musical honours.
Mr. Padclon Smith, in lesponding, said he would like fo take that, the earlient opportunity he had had, of saring how exceedinety prowil they were to have the Fiector-to-he of Birmingham witl they were to have the Rector-to-he of Birmingham with form. They were axecedingly fortunate to bave him with them, and he hat done dinners he attendeni in the future it could not nuean so muen fo many as having him there with them that night (applause). And after all it whs mot jnappropriate that the Rector should come firgt among the ringers in entering his new parish, for on approaching the churoh the ringerg in entering his new parish, for on approaching tho church the first thing one sam was the spira, the first thing one lieard was the falls, that was, if ines were in time (laughter), and the first people to great the Rector were the ringers, and it was in accordmhed with tho fitness of things, therefore, that the ringers ghonld be city of Birmagham on his first public appearance (applatuse). If the Rectoi held any wrong jedens with regard lo ringers and ringing, that gathering might help to remove some of the reproaches with which they had been saciviled for genctatians by ignorant people (hoar, heut). They liad sume eminent clergy pyesent, and le would like to take that opportunity of submitting, will all due deference, That the time had come when they shothd cease to stress ilse point that the ringers' task was to call the peonle 'o clarch. Whatever ease there whs in the past for holding that view, he contended ithax entirely disappeared in thest days of universind clocks and watches. They ought to regard ringing, and espeeinlly rituging on Sunday before the scrvices, as a geat act of pruise and thanksiving, (hear, hear), Irequently the greasest act of praise performed at the church or a Sunday morning and far tralasecading the sermon in importance (languter). F"tie Retor had already referved to them as the people who made the noise up aloft, and that was not a bad idea, for the voice of the bells reached out in the open spaces and the sumless shoms, they reachen out to many places where the preacher's voice could never reach. There wero people who would ant came to hear the preacher, but miness they moved-and there wore cortain diffentios ahotit moving in Lhese dnys-they had got to bear the heils (Iaughter). Ee considered ial this matter that they were carrying out the Psalmisi's injurstion to 'Praise Fim on the loud cymbuls; praise Him on the well-tuned cymbals.' The bellg were the cymbals, and it was up to the parsolts lo soe that they were well-tined. King's Norton they hat lately taken a great step, ant han iedeed got well-tuned cymbals (hear, hear). They had an excellent hant of ringers to ring fism, but, unfortumately, they had ouly eight bells, He looped before long they would find them turned into an equally spidandid peal of ten (applause).
A course of Stedman Cinques was rung lyy Messrs. Lafin, Smann, Waiker, Smallwood, Norman nud Withers, and the Chaiman then announced that the 1151.\(\}\) enniversary of the himily of Henry dolmson had been celebrated that day by 4 peal of London Surprise Major rung at Bishop Ryder's Chureth.
Hr. Alhert Walker proposed "The Visitors, and remarked that they fad the suppori hinat evening of friends from the College Youths, Hhe Cumberland Youths, the Surrey Association, the Gloucester and Bristal Association the Durliem nand Newtastle Associalion, the Claster Diocesan Guikd, Hie Lanchshite Association, the Midland Counties Association, the Slaropslaire Guilr, the Norlla Wales, the Bath and Wells, the Fsses, the Berlfordshire, the Herts, the YorkElvire, the Worbestershime, and abher Asocialions, they land also with them representatives of the great foundries at Whitechapel, Loughbnrouth and Cropdon, and to all the visilars they extended a hearlg weleome. They missed one on two faces from nationg visitars of past Carter and Mr. Hatry Chapman, of Manchester, who were prevented from attending hy indisposition. They were alwags glad to welcome visitors to Birmingharn, and he hoped that thoge who weire wiht them that evening woutd join them on mang future oscasing with them (applause).
Mr. A. A. Hughes first responded, and expressed the appreaiation of the visitors of the kindness shown to them at Birminghan on that and many similat oecasions. At the meeting of the College Youtha on the preceding Tuestay evening he was ybquested to conver the hearty greetings of that society to all their friends at Birminghom and he wisher, on belarlf of all the visitors, to thank St. Martin's Guild for their most cordial welnome.

\section*{A STORY OF JASPRR SNOWDON}
at the outsel of the procecting to that injundion by the chairman dive minutes cach, saip lice was reaninded of a perfectly nuthegtic story tald in comnection wilh a greal Yorkshire ringer-htic foutuder of their association. Fe was a man of inclonilable energy, nad whs not particulariy patient when le land to listen to lang sermons. Hia father was Ticar of Itkley, and one Sunday morming, when he was preaching, the son, who was in the congregation, pulled otnt lis whatela and looked at if with some sign of inmatience. To the astonishment of everyone the preacher leaned over fromithe pulp and said All right, Jasper, I shan't be long now ' (langher). The Chaiman, contintued Mr. Jolnson, had sati that he lived in the reflected glory Riminghan liven in the vefiecten though mang of the wisitors to Master, so far as ringing achievoments of the Deputy Ringing sonally was indebted to the Gint for ware concermed. He per nowica through certain handhell peals, which he was cortain the ohar ringers wonld remember if ho itid not (laugitier). He belieworl be was correct in saying that the Yorkshime Association was tilc oldegt of the county associations in the country, and lie felt it a complimerrt to lis own association to be asked to rospond to that toast on behnlf of the visitors, hecalse they felt they hat in their opris founder a man ihan whom the Exercike liad never known a greater, and they were conferring honour on the name of Snowdon in coming to pay tribite to one of his great predecessors in the art of clange ringing, He thanked them most heartily for the weloome extenced to the visitors, and he could assure them that, whether they liked if ar not, he interded to came to those gatherings as long as be was able (laughter and applause).

M15. T. H. Reeves proposed the toast of "The Ringinge Worle." He sid the ordinary Press was lamentably ignorant on ringing maEters, nitd it was, therefore, ossential that the lixercise should have its own paper. They had that puper in "The Ringing World,' and every ringer shoutd support it, because the beteer it was supported the wore it would iucrease in value and interest. Referring to the controvargies which took place in the columns of the paper between the experts, ho suggested that it would be far better if the experts would connhet their arguments flirough the post, because much of what flay lad to say did not interest the ordinary ringer.
H. J. S. Goldsmith, whose name was coupled with the torst, alInding to the exports' controversies, pointed out that there was glso another side to the oue put by the proposer. While the experts might never agree on some subjocts, the publication of their pows led others to think over these more advanced matters for themselves, and eventually to profit from whal thoy had read. In this respeot it enafylud progress to be made, which could not be so general if the experts liad to limit themselves to the post.

\section*{CEAIRMAN'S MANY-SIDED ACTVVITIES.}

Mr. Lauldon Smith summitted the "Health of the Chairman," and referod to the many depariments in life, apart from ringiag, in which Alderman Pritchett achieved Eame, notably in Freemasonry, in wic affars, and in the law. It was true, he said, that their chairman had not yet heen Lord Mayor of Birmingham, but the Lord Mayor had to do what Alderman Pritchett told him (laughter). Fe was the honoured Presiding Ringing Mastar of their Guild, andi he the speaker realised that there was nothing further that they could nifer hira, unless be could become the Lord Bishop of Birminglam (hugliter). So long however, as lie was propared to aceept the oilice which ho now held they desired no other occupant (hear, hear). He hat not onily the confience and esteem, but the love of every meaber of the Guild, and the Guild wis honoured in having at its twad such an hononred and highly placed gentleman (applause).
The Cheirman, in replying to the toast, which was enthusiastically received, sail the Guild had conferzed on him the highest possible honour in making him their Presiding Ringing Master. It was one of the proudest things of his life to have held that position. He hand had a long life, a healthful life, and a pleasurable life, and one of the greatest pleasures in his long life Liad been his association mith bells aud bell riugiog (applause). In conclusion, the Chairman thankud the artists, Mr. Tom Davies and Mr. Dai Thomas, and the St. Martin's Quartette for their delightful entertainment, which had herin appreciated ani enjoyed by everyone.
The iso first named coutributed songs and duets, and the datter sung a atumber of quartettes, in which their well-balanced voices were heard to perfection.
Mrs. Tom Davis was the accompanist.

\section*{WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.}

Uu Saturday, Feb. 28 : 1 , a rery suecessful meeting of the Yorktown District was held at Ottershaw, and there was at very good atcendance of members from the various towers in the district-a great upprovement on some past meetings. Ringing commenced at three oclock, and various methods were rung, both before and after the serweo and meeting, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge auprise Minor

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

THE ANNUAL MEETMNG.
The annual maeting of the Surrey Association was hed at Leatherhead on Saturday; when about 40 members were present from all parts of the district. The busizess meeting was presided ower by Mr. Chas. R. Reading, of Christ Chureh, Mitcham, while all the secretaries were present
Mrs. Hobson, wife of the Vicar of Leatherhead, looked in at the meeting, and tendered hey husband's apologies for' his absence, which was in consequence of his being called to Winchester. - A rote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and Mrs. Hobson was asked to convey this to him.

The plage of the next annuai meeting was fixed for St. Peter's, South Croydon, in January next.
Mr. J. D. Drewett wrote tendering his resignation as Ringing Master, on the grouads of illness, but the members felt Mr. Drewet had so long been connected witli the association, fond had so endeared limself to them, that they much preferred his remaining mester, even if the position was onty held mominally, and, therefore, he and all the ather officers were re-elected for the year.
A heartig wote of thanks was accorded Mr. Arthur Dean for atranging the tea and obtaining the inse of the bells. Ringing commenced at 3 o'cfock, aud continued undil late in the evening, towehes in various methods from Cambidge Royal downwards being rung.

Cheadle was the venue of the Stockport Branch annual meeting on Saturdey, February 21st, and as usual there was a goad attendance. The Parish Church, dedicated to St. Mary, is a typical old Cheshire Church, a good photograph of which appears in the Rer. I. E. Robinson's book, 'Among the Bells' (page 496). Ringing is performed on the ground foor, consequently there is a long dratught, which is a sonrce of difficulty to visitors at first. The back six bells were cast by Ahel Rudhalt in 1749, with a tenor of \(13{ }_{3}\) cwt. Int 1889 , two trebles were added by Mersrs. J. Taylor and Co. These wers requisitioned in good time, and kept going until 4.30 p.m., when service was held. This was condarted by the Redtor (the Rer. W. Brown Pollock), who gave an execlient address.

Tea was provided at the Parish Hall, and no froable or pains had heen spared in making provision for the wisitors. There were fifty members present, and the Rector joined the party at tea, but as he was unable to stay through the business meeting, he was accorded a cordial vote of thatks, and to this lie made a hearty reply.
The Hon. Secretary reported the deatlas of Mr. Joshus Hownoft, of Hyte, and Mr. Joseph Brockelhurst, of Hayfield, and intimated that lee liad sent leters of condolence to the relatives. His action was confirmera. and it was decided to place on record the semding of these letters.
In presenting his anatal report, the Fon. Secretary cammented on the lack of interest displayed, and appealed for a little more 'ginger \({ }^{1}\) to be administered. Five meetings tad been held during 1924, at which the average attendance was 35 , a decrease of fure on the previous jear. The menbership totals at ture end of the gear were: 20 honorary and 168 ringing members, two honorary and 10 ringing members laving been eleded during the year. Onis six peals had been ming, four of which were Minor, one Double Norwich Major, and the other Fent Treble Bob Majol.

The Hon. Treasurer reported that, including the balance in hand of e3 l6s. Id. at the commencement of the yoar, the toknl receipts were £25 13s. 0td., and after meeting all expenses there was a balance on the riglati side of \(8598.7 \frac{1}{2} 4\). which was very satisfactory. There were, however, a number of subscriptions outstanding, and it was hoped these would soon be forthconing.
The reports were accepted, and all retiring officers were re-electect.
After much discussion, it was again decided to arrange the placess and dales of the mectings for the year, and the following were fixed, subject to the approval of the respective authorities: Business meetings: Warburton, Hay 9th: Marple, July 25th: Disley, Sept. 19th; and Stalplaridge (E.T.). November 28th. In addition, there will be a special practice meeting at Taxal on-June 27th. These will be duly adpertised as they fall due.
The following motion pas passed for consideration at the next generat committee meeting : That the ammal festival of the Guitat shall be held in each branch area in turn.'
Pleasure was expressed at haring the company of the general secretary, Mr. E. W. Elvellt who, since his appointment, has lost no tine in gettigg thoronglly conversant with the doings of cach branch.

Seven new ringing members were eleated, and arrabgements for reviving the quarterly peal attempts were left in the hauds of Mr. T. Wilde and the brancla secretary.

The usnal votes af thanks closcti the meeting, when the bells were again requisilioned.

AN APPRECIATION.
It was with great sorrow that all who knew bim leareed that "Charlic" Giles-as he was familiarly called-had passed away on Sunday, Febrairy 8in. Never very robmst, he luad been in a weak state of health for over a year, aud had to take ringing and other things much easicr than before. It was hoped that witl care his life might be prolouged for some considerable time, but it was not to be. He contracted a chill which fleveloped seriously, and after keeping to lis bed for a day or two the end came quite suddenly.
Mr. Giles had been attached to one or other of the Reading towers during all his ringing caveer, hut he was last and longest at St. Mary's, where lie took the greater share of the conducting. His first peal was in 1892 (Grandsire Triples, conducted by F. Hoprood). Others soon followed, and inclurled a non-conducted of Stedman Triples, and several in the mosi papular Surprise methods. Besides ringing many for the Oxfard Guild, Ie also took part in a good mumber with his Winchester Guild friends, especially in those Winclester tours which the late Rev. F. T. Robinson so much enjoyed. On one of these tours, he took part in the first peal of Stedman Caters in Hampshire.
He was one who, to irse St. Paul's words, 'studied to be quiet, and to do his own lousiness, and as such was always welcomed, whether as a member of a company or as a ringer in a touch or peai. Witt him in the band a conduetor would feel that, no matter what the method or the length, there would be at least ono wlin rould really ring the methot and the bell throughout, who worid be able to kelp the wanderer, and in the case of is breakdown would he abla to point out the mistake with accuracy.
He leaves a wife and daughter to mourn lis loss, and to them is offererl the true sympathy of his many ringing frientls.

\section*{THE LEISTON RECORD.}

The record set up at Leiston Church, where one hundred peals in Surprise methods have just been completed, is a noteworthy thing. We have no information of so many Surprise peals being rung in any other tower, and we imagine this must be unique, although one or two places occur to mind where possibly, if the records were searched, it might be found that such a number had been rung. But such a list requires years of steady and persistent peal ringing, and we are really doubtful if any other tower can claim a similar performance. Of one thing, bowever, we feel quite certain, no other tower can claim peals in sucb a variety of Surprise Major methods, for the century at Leiston was made up of no fewer than thirteen different methods, and, when one thinks of it, this is really a remarkable achievement and is another to add to the records which this band can claim.

Leiston bas been fortunate in being able to maintain for a long period a band of able and enterprisiog ringers, of which the backbone has been the broLhers Bailey. What has been done by this band is something more than the ringing of a considerable number of peals; they have shown that on eight bells, as on six, ringers can introduce extensive variety into what they practice. As we have often remarked before, it is really surprising how little ringers go outside the common track to find diversity in the art. It is not that other methods are not worth ringing--there are mady that are-but even Surprise bands who are regularly practicing rogether seldom get away from what one may be excused for calling the 'big four' of the Surprise category. These four methods are so well established among ringere that their claims to first consideration are unlikely to be displaced, but where there are opportunities for introducing variety we should like to see the ringers show a somewhat more enterprising spirit.

Although these remarks are prompted by what has been done in Surprise ringing at Leiston, they apply equally to ringing in less difficult metbods. As we pointed out only a few weeks ago, there is an interesting series of plain Major methods for those who can ring Double Norwich ; indeed the group whicla has been put into practice at Willesden forms an easy stairway from Plain Bob upward, and those who really take a delight in their ringing should apply themselves to these methods. Not so easy, but even more interesting, are some of those ratber complicated odd-bell methods evolved from Stedman and Erin by Mr. J. W. Parker. We still await the performance of a peal in one of these methods, which in their complexity look worthy of the time and attention of the most advanced ringers. They form a new world to be conquered, and the first to conquer it will bave gone a step beyond their fellows.

I'RESENTATION I'O LADY RINGFR AT BUCKNALL.
On Saturday, March 7ib, tiu monthly meeling of the above association was held at Bucknall. 'Ihtis village being easy of access tor tombers of surrounding towers, coupled with the fact that it is the home of 这inor ringing in Noth Siaffordsbire, upwirds of fifly menbors were present, from Kingsley, Bichulph, Newcastle, Stoke, Audley, Busslem. Norton and Cheadle, while visitors from the reighbouring county of Cheshire, representing Crewo, Wisfaston and Narbury, also uthended. Ringing began at 2.45 by the carly arrivals. A short service was lied at \(50^{\circ} \mathrm{choch}\), when an address (indited to five minutes) Was given by the Rev. - Sinister, who said it was the first time he lata been in the company of ringers. There was anc thiag which had impressen him very forcibly, athe the was the great enthusiasm aud kemmess which semed to prevail nmougst tha ritugers present. That was the spirit that was watan in the life of the elmoda generaly. Whatever work was taken up it ought to be done with heart and soul, such as he had wibessed in the belfry that afternoon. Abthotugh the preacher's timo was so linited, every word was pregnant with meaning, and was enfoyed by every one present.
After the service the church tiay schools were visiver anal a spiendid tea, provided by the ringers' wives, was in reatinoss.

After tea, a lagge framed photograph of the Buckuall ringers was presented to one of the lady ringers of the bamd, Mrs. W. Clurksou (nee Miss Alice Whecldon) on the occasion of her recent marringe.
The Rector said he was delighted to mako the presentalion, as both Mu, and Mrs. Clarkson were botl good charch workers. He had seera thenc both grow up in the service of the charch; lwe had land the pleasnre of marrying them in their own place of worship, and le wished theus both every lrappiness artu prosperity (rpplatuse).
airs. Clarkson thanked the ringers for their beautiful present which slie and her lasband would prize very moch. Her honschold duties would now ciam most of her time, hat if they would allow her and ler husband to join them ou some of their outings, whitels she had always enjoged, she would be pleasod to do so.
Mr. Johu Fenton (Rechor's warden) and a great benetactor of the charch. also spoke in eulogistic terms of the work done by Mr. and Mus. Clartson.
Ringiug was afterwards kept up wiil 9 oclock, when a rery sucexssful meening came to a close.

\section*{MEDIFVAL BELLS.}

\section*{To the Editor.}

Sir, We hare been interested latelg in claiws to the possession of sncient bells. It began with the report of the dedication at Eyethorne, whercin it was asked, with justifiable pride regarding the two ancient bells in that tower, if any other church possesged two beils wwich lad nevar bean vecast of earlier diates.
Our Eythorne friend, in giving details of the inscriptions, saye: The inscriptions un the betis are as follows ':-

4th. SANETA: KATHERINA: ORA: PRO: NOBIS.' W. JORDAN, 1470.
'Tonor-- NOMEN : MAGDALENA: CAMPANA.' W. JORDAN, 1470.

The invoctory chnuacter of ille 4th inscription is in perfect keeping witlz thu perjoul, so is also the inseription on the tenor. One would assume that the Iatter was at its dedication given the name of the patronal saint, to which the churela is nedicated?
Doubl, howevel, exists in my mind concerning the founder's name anc data being inscribed on the bells. It is possible, but rery innprobalale, when we consifer the peried. Perlans your Eytherne corresponcent will make that point clear, as it is of great importance to anyone who indulges in 'bell lunting' ; possibly that information whs callated from a documentary record or source.
ln. The Ringing Work' of December \(26 i h^{\prime}\) lasl, Mr. J. R. Jerram gave us an excellent account of the Groyland bells. Tue tenor being of greatest interest, hears the imprint of the fcyn founder, fohn Danyell, i.e., the royal arns quarterly England and France, crowned.

Now sir, Joln Danyell was foundivg &. 1450-1460? And Ewo of his bells liang in the steeple at Whiston, near Rotherham. Theg bear on the waisc the slineld Mr. Jerram describes, but neither of lloge shields are crowned-Drnyeli did occasionally omit that detailthe cross stops are Finury, and not tho medalion stamp as on the Croyland tenor.
The hells are respectively inseribed, and spliced into the peal of eifolity as the

4th.- VOX: AGUFTINI: SONET: IN: AURE: DEI.
The capitals are Lombardic, and the smalls of black-letter type.
Let us then assume Llat Danyell east the Whiston bells at the ing end of hig career. they will be at leash a decade earlier than the Eythoras bells. Noi mach, 1 agree, but it's there.
Now, let, us just take a peep at the inscriptions, which are to be found on the first and second bells in the tower of St. Matthem's, Morley, near Derby. Als! there they are, look at tho elegant Oid English type on the

Treble- I : ORA: PRO: NOBIS : BEATE : ANDREA
Now, here we lave highly ornamental Lombardic capitals forming the whold of the inscription on the Second.-" X : I.H.C. : NAZARENUS: REX: JUD.EORUM.'

Oh Fes, whey both came from the hands of the same founder ihs quaint fleury stop, following the word PRO, on the treble, atad here again it is reprodtced on the second bell following the sacred monogrank, and ance again it follows the word Ring (REX).
But what about the date of founding ? That is to be arrived at partly by the Old English on the treble, which proves that they were not cast before 1400. Sec, the tenor las unfortunately been recast in the gear 1614 by Ohdield, of Nolts What a pity ! what a pity!
Now. let us get down into the church agein from amid the dirt ant grime of past conturies.... El, gutio, just sniff! What a trong perfume of paraffin! Ah! that reminds mo, keep clear of the 'raeter'! it's at the battom of the tower steps.
Come this way, here we have at the cast end of the north aisle, phated in the foor. a collection of encaustic tiles. Thege tiles were made and fashioned by the Premonstratensian Canons of Dale Abbey. 7hoy ware fired at the king br those Norhertian Monks. whose ashes aro crumbling to dust amid the ruins of that once stately pile.
And see, what a raziety of designs are imprinted, from a simple initial letter, to the finest heraldic 'conts' of Lancaster. Grey, Beaumamp and 7ouch. But, lere we are, thic is the ane of most interest It us on 'thits' bell-hunting expedition. On this tile we lave in Rampant Lion lineally crowmer upon a shield ; the shield is canted. so that three bells may be placed within the margin. Yes, the pious Monks of Dalo designed and fred that tile to commenaorate JOHN STATHUMS' munificent gift of three bells to Morley Chureh!
Now. reader, leave those conaustie tiles, and let us examize this slab of Purbeck marble. Tou will see if had originally several lurasses let into it: most of the learaldic shields are missing, but on this efaborate portion, Joln Stathum is represented in armour; barehoaded, and kneeling on bis belmet. Opposite, lis wife Cecily is representerl clan in a loose robe, kmeding also.
Now let us read the inscription, it is in Engligh, and records Statlhames gifts to the church and poor of the parish of Morley- We toht as follows: "Fere lieth John Stathum, Squyer sometime Lorde of that towne and Cecily his wife; which yat to yis elurche iij belles pore folk of 55 prasli 1 ye day of ye Obit of Dame Godych sometine Lady of 3 s towne. Ire said John dyed ye \(\ddagger j\) day of Novembre ye yere of our Lord MCCCCLIIJJ-and yo said Cicely dyed \(\bar{y} \boldsymbol{e}\) zavth day of April we year of arr Loril MCCCCLXIIIJ, of whos sowles God have mercy. Amen.

Hore wo have sufficient proof that Morley bells were cast previous to 1454 so rest content they are, also slighty earlier than the mediavals at Eythorne-and, reader, they still are Ringing, franging, verdantique an" hoary,

Aye, me-they tell a patriarchal story!'
470 yeres after ye Obit of Jolun Stathum, Squyer, an' Donor! What a mamoriall What a memorial! Consider.

IRENAEDS.

\section*{BELLS IN MUSIC. \\ By ROBIN HOOD.}

To imitate the sowd of bells with fle instruments of the orchestra is admittedly dificult, and sucls imitation is ravely attempled. Composers of music for any instrument are fresuently required to illustrate bells, the principal medium being the octave of tubular bells, familiarly known as 'gaspipes," or the gonge usually found among the effects of the drummer. 'L'he writer remembers, ats a child, singius iu a then pophian temperauce cantata in which the air of "Caller Gerrin' " was miapted to the following words :-

I love a merry peal of bells,
Of hope and joy their music tells,
When travelling homeward wearily
They grect us cheerily.
Fark! 'tis the bells of the village ehurch,
How pleasantly they strike on the air,
How merrily they riug.
The Brooklyn Comedy Fout, a combinution travelling the thallis a few years ago, diaz a splendid vocsl imitation of an un-Simpson tuned bell, the waves of harmong being very realistic, aud must have cost hours of practice. The usual method of including a bell in the orchestra is to fif its oceasional strokes to the larmony, as in Marilana " (Alas those chimes!'), 'Il Trovatore' (Miserere scene), and the - Yeomen of the Guard, (execution scene). A much more effective number is the organ solo ly Forsman, entitled the 'Curfew.' This is a wonderfully beautiful tone poem, illustrating a calm summer eveaing, accentuated by the recurring strokes of the curfew boll, played on one note of the carillon stop in the organ.
Then we lave passages of music undoubtedly inspirea by the composers' knowledge of English ringing. The church parade for troops is usually preceded ly a composition, entitled 'Hark! the merry Clitist Ohturch Bolls, " 12356 ;" the numbers being the correct sequence of a peal of six. A six-bell change also ocours in the hymn, " There is a blessed home," curiously enough, repeated, as for n whole pull, this phrase also being employed by Mr. John Carter in his humorons sidit on change ringing. "The scolding witch.
Sir A. Sullivari was a known lover of bells, and probably change rimging had its eftect on the very numerous diatonic melodies which literally poured from his pen. I have heard the chimes of Big Ben reproduced over the 'wireless' on the piano so realistically as afmost to deceive, and 1 heve seen them scored in one selection with fearful diseords and an explanation that such discords were included to give the proper effect.
Then we come to the carillon effect. There are dozens of these. and they make rery attraetive ftems, being often ciever and ingenious adaptations to the orehestra of the oatave of tubular bells. The opera entitled 'Les Cloches de Corneville.' is too well known to escape notice. This also is a carillon device, played dither on the glockenspiel or celeste, fut the church at Conneville possesses no such bells, here being only two indifferent ones, quite incapsble of doing justice to Planquette's melody. The Whittington change on eight bells occurs completely in Mendelssohn's 'Ruy Blas' overture. though there is no evidence that the composer received any suggestion from hearing it at any time. Gounod cewainly betrays infuence in the accompaniment to his "Angeltis.

Regarding Tchaikowskr's "1812 Overture, frankly I am puzzled. Dín he write the tell ofligato as played by British bands? I think not. The usual method of expressing joy through bells on the constiners is a pandemonium of jangling, and not the well-ordered sequences of our own isle. In fact, outside Belgium, bells in any number are rare. Anywar, our methoul of treating the overture is no more bizarre than that of the composer's, who introduces into an '1812' episode a melody nof composed untsl 30 years lster.
The best rlescriptive hell song that \(I\) have heard up to date is min entitied 'I heard the bells at crentide.' It is not an ambitions numher by any means, but the composer has gone one better than most descriptive composers in this partioular task. Now the final ithastration is, perhaps, the finest, and it would be difficult to find a better piece of tono painting. Massenst was a prolific composer, and quantity of production offen spells porerty of quality. Still, we have a gem in the 'Angelus' from 'Scenes Pittoresgue.' An atmosphere of praver pervades the whole number. The three bell notes, the first tbree notes of an octape, are given out by the horns, with a running accompaniment by vialins (or clarinets in the military band rurange. by the orchestra possible. No pere can and poetic illistration of belle ledging its fidelity possible. No one can lister to if wilhout acknowledging its fidelity to its title.

A urecting of the North Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was held at liandford on Saturday, Feb. 21st, and was attended by about 70 ringers from many parts of the diocese. During the afternoon und evening tonches of Grandsire and Stedman were brought round on the peat of eight bells at the Parish Churel of SS, Peter and Panl. A seuvice was held, and whs of a singularly appropriate character. The lymas, psalin and lesson, as well as tha prayers, all emphasised the importance of musie it chureh worship, and the shot address of the Rechor (Ltic liev. lly. Greenwood) was on similar lines. After the service, the company went to the Parish Roon for tea, at the conclution of which a short business meeting was presited over by the Res, R. H. Gundry, of Shroton (chairman of the brathels, and Ringing Master of the Guild).
A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Dr. Greenwood for inviting the branch to Blandford, and for allowing them the use of the tower andi beils. They also thanked him for his address in the elarch, in whicle he hat splendidly pitt before them tho exacl objects of the Guild. They also thanked Mr, G. W. Essex, the organist, for his serrices at the orgnn. The Chairman amounced a Ietter of apology for absence from the Rev. R. E. P. Goringe, of Manston, secretary of the brancli, who was laid aside with an attack of lumbago.

The names of several new members were sdded to the Guild, and the election of the Blanford band of ringers was received with applatse.
Replying to Dr. Greclwood, the Clairman said the Guid existed for the purpose of encouraging change ringing. It was quite unmecessary thak, any should wait until they were clange ringers before they joined. If a band of ringers wished to learn the scieatific method of change ringing, the Guild woulfi instruct them in twelvo lessons free of cost.

Tonches were also rung in the evening on the bells of Bryanston and Durweston Churches, each of whith contains a peal of six.

CHELTENHAM BIRTHDAYS.
Un Saturday cwening, Fels. 28th, the company of the Parist Church ind St. Mary's Guild of Ringers, Chelvenlam, met to celebrate the himiludays of the captain, Mr. W. T'. Pates, who was bora Vebruary \(28 t \mathrm{~h}, 1853\), and Mr. W. A. Humphris, born February 26thr 1865.

At 7.30 the ten bells were raised in peal, and touches of Stedman, Grandsire and W. T. Pates' combinations of methods were rung, after which the captain invited the campany to the spot where ringers sometimes congrogate, when past birthelays were recalled, and tho opportunitios of young ringers of to-day were discussed.
Mr: Pates called the record peal of Grandsire Caters in 1889, having nefor called a bob' in the method before that tay, while the long peal of Sterman Caters in 1888 was his firsi peal as conductor. The young members of the company are proud of their captain, for the devotes at great deal of time ab his residence tenching them how to call touches, brimging bells round, cxplaining "in and out of course,'

Mr. Pates rang his first peal, Holt's Original, on July 21st, 1876, conducted by the late C , Hounslow: Mr. Humpliris, Hol's Ten-Part, at. Upton, St. Leonari's, August 6th. 1885, in which Mr. Pates took pert. Messrz. Sid Haywnrd and \(W\). Fick wero unable to take part in the birthlay ringing, but the former was able to join the company later in the evening.

It. would be very nice if more evenings of the same sort could be spent. They arco thorongliy interesting to young ringers, who thoroughly enjoy finding out ahotut the various melhods whels are digcussud at suel gatherings.

\section*{A BATH ABBEY MEMORIAL.}

On Saburfay, Feloriuary \(28!i_{1}\), the bells ab Bath Abbey wore rang half-muffled, aftel the dedication of a war memorial to former members of Batlı College, whetre the Rev. F. Li. Eifurds (hon. getrelary of the Salislury Diocesan Guidd) was ot school, and at whose request the mafled ringing was kindy arranged by Mr. F. C. Rich al a day's notice. The ringing incluted 216 Grandsior Caters by C . W. Bell I, Miss Willinms 2. W. Temple 3. T. Grant 4, A. Princo 5, E. King 6. Rev. F. Ll, Forwawls 7. W. J. Prescott 8, Cr. Hariling (emmbelor) 9. T. \section*{DUMB=BELE APPARATUS.}

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-A furthec refercace to the above (as quoted by Mr. G. P. Hurton in your Iazt issue) is to be faund in Dr. Raven's 'Charch Bells of Dorset, Which work I am fortunate in possessing, through the gencrosily af Mr. C. H. Jennings, of Wyke Regis.
" In the "Antiquary " for Octaber, 1903, is a short article by Mr. C. Ensenhiglt Corke on an ancient dumh-boll, from which, by permisaion of the nuthor and edito some extrats fand illustrations are taken. Some I wetve years ago Mr. Corke was nuch puzzled by hearing the housckeeper at Knowle speak of thu Damb-Bell Gialery. He went to the nltic, which bore this name: it "was unfurnished and empty, exeapting that in the middle of it stoorl a cutiaus wooden machine resembling a windlass. A rope was wound round tle middle of the roller, nand at each end were four iron nums, each with a poise or ball of lead at eacli cod. The rope formenty passed througla a hole (which still exisls) in the floor into the Leicester gallery below. A persom, by palling the rope in this gallery, woud cause the roller with the iron arms poised with learl Ho revolve at fhe first pail, and the impetus given would rewmul the rope again, and so continue to wind and anwind at eacls pull, thus giving the same exercise as that of ringing a hell in a clurch tower, except that it was ooiseless." "
The attic, or dumb-bell gallery, forms part of the additions made af Krole by Thomas Sackwille, first Earl of Dorset, 1603-8, iu Jacobean atpte of architecture, rehult upon the shone bamement which is 15th century work. This might suggest the approximate date of the madhine, whien is very old and decayed.
The fate Chancellor Fergison, F.S.A., to whom a photograph ancl description were given fully concurred as to the derivation of the anme given lo smaller dumb-hells, and Sir Fenry Diyden attributend il to the 17 th century, when beti ringing was part of a gentleman's palication and practice.'
Joln Nothbrooke, in a treatise ngainst "Diceing and Dancing,' 1577, snys: - In the reign of Queen Eliznhetl: the progress of building in lonalon was likg an jnundation: it overfowed the ancient fields anl vacant spaces within and around the cily, so that tily yards, slonting grounds and racecoursea were covered with streets and nlleys, and thus active civic sports were of a necessity in a great degree laid fiside. As a substitute for these heathful exercises, young gehtlomen were exhorted to lahour in their chambers with poises of loall-that is, to exercise with rlumb-bells. -Yours simcerely, 24. Coventry Street. Leicester.

\section*{DURHAM & NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. STAINDROP BELLS.}

The pre-Lent meeting was held at Hurworth-on-Tees on Saturday, Feb. 21ss. The woather was all that could be desired until late in the evening, when it commenced to snow. The Parish Church belle, which are a very musical ring of six, with a 17 cwt . tenor, ware kept going in various methods from 2.30 until the late evening. Those who were not engaged in ringing all the afternoon very much enjoyed a siroll along the hanks of the picturesque Tces, and in the country around Hurwarth and Croft, whose andent clurches were also visited. Tea was served in the Temperance Cafe at Groft Spa, when 23 sat down, Mr. C. Todd, the president, being in the chair. The following towers were represented : Darlington (St. Joln's and Holy Trinity), Newcastle (Cathedral and St. George*s), Tanficli, Staindrop and Hurworth. At the meeting after tea, one honorary and four active members were elected.

The President expressed the sentimen of all by congratulating the Fiev. A. W. Lister (one of the vice-presidents), now curate of Tanfield, upon his hecoming Rector of St. Steplen's, South Shields. He was sorry St. Stephen's had no bells, and hoped Mtr. Lister would be able to alter that.
The President proposed a vote of condolence with Mr . H. Slipp, of Staindrop, upon the death. at the age of 84 , of his father, Mr. Daniel Shipp, who was one of the original members of the Durbam anki Newcastle Association, when it was formed in 1877 as the Durham Association. It was in 1882, when the diocese of Newcastle was Cormed, that the name was changed to the Durhan and Newcastle Diocesals Association.

The President expressed the feelings of all when he deplored the fact that Mr. Shipp liad not lived to see the old ring of six at Standrop (which he had loved and rung for upwardg of half a century) rehung and augniented to cight by the Loughborongh firm.

Mr. H. Shipp remined thanks, and said he would convey the sentiments of the meeting to his brother, Mfr. J. W. Shipp. He said he hat come to the meeting armed with an invitation from the Ficar of Staindrop for the association to try the hells on Easter Monday. The hells are to be dedicated by the Bishop of Durlam at evensong on Palm Sumday. Thev fill he rung on Easter Sunday. and be onen for ringing on Easter Monday.

The first peal at St. Martin's-in-the-liolds was rung on March 14th, 1727. Tlie church had been consecrated on Oatolecr 26th, 1726 , and it would seem that the London Scholars wero enfilled to a lirst ciaim on the bells for a peal, for they were the first anceessful band. Their peal was B,006 Grandsiro Oinques. Only two other peal perfamaneus by the Loudon Scholars are recorded.
Ou the day following the peal above mentioned, the Coltege Youths rang a peal of 6,314 Grandsire Cimques at St, Martin's, "being the longest that was rung.' 17. Amable conducter this peal, aud Roberi Catin, a well-known London bell founcler of that lime, also took part in the peal.
On Mareh 14th, 1837 , a peal of 10,133 Grandsire Gaters was rung in 5 hours 54 minutes at Christ Church. Bristol.

A peul of 10,080 Bob Major was rumg at Dubenham in 6 hours 1 minute on Mareh 16tli, 1767.
The first peal of Violet I'reble Bol was rung at St. Peter's, Hutl dersfield, on March 16th, 1767.
A peal of Duffield Maximus was rung for the first time on March 17th, 1891. This was af St. Marthn's, Binningham.
The weight; of the tenor at Mells, Somerset, is 26 ewt., not 12 cwl , as published last week.

On March 11 th, 1887, J. C. Mitchell, W. II. L. Buckingharn, C. F. Wiuney aud G. T. Mclaughen, of the College Youths, rang Holl's Original 'non-conducfed' on handhells, at the Goose and Gridiron, City. This was the first time this hand been done.
The peal of Stuperlative at. Soberton on February \(28 t h\) was the first peal in the methad by R. Linter, F. A. Buractit and T. It. Taylor, and it was also G. Pullinger's 50tir pen.
Mr. I'ullinger, who is secretary of the Winchester tuild, lost an arm in the war, but his managenent of a bell is really wanderful.
In connection with the dedication of the recast peal of ten Rotherhan Parish Clurch next Wednesday, notice is given that itue bells will not be open for ringing by visitors except from about live o'clock to 6.45 p.m. The local band are jssuing the anaouncemeni save disappointment to ringers in the district.
'IThe new bells at Shilton, nenl Coventry, are to be wealicated on Salurday, Mareh \(28 t \mathrm{l}\), at 3.30 p.m.
While complimenting Mise Foulk upon the peal she rang at Duit field, Mr. Biggin vrites hant glte whs not the first Derbyshire laty to ring a penl in the county. \section*{RINGERS AND FREEMASONRY To the Editor.}

Dear Sir, -I Was witly greal interest I read your ' leader' in lant week's issue, under the Bbove heading. Aderman Pritathet's sugg"stion has oceupied my tloughts many times.

May I now suggest that Alderman Pritehett seck to obtain ilmo necessary permission, and that the lodge be formed in Bimmingham, to be called the "Alderman Pritchet Ringers' Lodge," alter whieh, and for the convenience of the ringing fraternity. a lodge maty be formed in each of the following districts of England, wiz., North-East North-West, Sou'b and West.
Our London brethren would have no diffeulty in forming a vingers" lodge in their own province

15, Westgate Street, Bath. ARTHLR PRINCT
Several correspondents have written expressing the fope that fithrman Pritchett's suggestion will materinlise.
One Londou ringer writes: 'I lava heon watching, for a lang limen for a lead from some prominent browler .

\section*{MESSES. GLLEFT AND JOHNSTON'S CONTRACT WITH CANADIAN GOVERNMENT.}

Otfaw is to share with New York the distinction of possessing one [ the two fargest cavillons in the world, os the Dominion Government of Canadr has just pluced with Messms. Gillett and Johnston the conHact for a magutifent carilion of 53 bells, to bo identical wilh that for the Purk Avenue Baptist Clucela, New Fork, which is now noarjus completion at the Croydon Foundry, this second aarillon being inslallation in the Fietary Tower of the new Houses of Parliausent of Dttawa, Mossig. Gillett und Johaston have atso secureri the order for the large clock whiclt is to ciriwe the bands of the four 16[t, diameter dinls and to chime the Wrestminster Quarters, and strike the hours on the 9 -ton bell.
The position and setting of a marillon aro of wital jmportance, and ilu would be difficult to imagine a more ideal campanite for these bells than the Otiawa Yictory Tower. If great laeight and elevation, fommanding a wonderful panorama of thas city of Ottawa, the Ottawa River and the Gainenu Hills, ensure that the Gells are effectively hourd over a lacge acea, wille architectare of the tawer is of wonderful heanty and its position on the summit of a hill surrounded by quiet parks and terraces provikles an audilorium from which the music of the carillon can be heard to the best possible advantage. The tower forms the entravce to the new block of buildings just completef, and replacing those burnt down about twenty years ago. sbove the entrance archway is a wast memorial chamber and chapel containing the names of Canadian soldiers who fell in the groat war. Thae loity belfry is about 180 feet above the ground level, and in this the bells will bo arranged lier upon tier in such a way that as the passenger elewator travels upwards to the Observation Gallery escry bell will be visible, while the works of the great clock will be dipplayed in a large glass case in the centre of the clock chamber. Ih is interesting to mote that Messrs. Gillett and Johnston supplied the clock and bells in the tower which was destroyed by five when the origiaal Houses of Parliament were burat down.

\section*{FIRST SERVICE IN BRAINTREE'S ANCIENT BELFRY. \\ \section*{PESL BOARD UNVELLED.}}

On Saturday, vingers from valians parts of Essex assembled at Brnintree far the purpose of unveiling and dedicating a peal board which liad been erected in the tower of flee Parisls Church to record peals of 5,000 changes and upwards in each of the following surprise methods: Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative and London. At 4 p.m., the Vicar of Braintuee the Rev. G. P. Bassett Kerry, R.D.., who was tobed, proceederi to che riuging rhamber of the church, whieh is approadled by a long and hearly vertieal ladder from the foom at the tower, and iliere found a large number of ringers resembled. Before the ceremony commenced, Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the Essex Association, staked the object of the meeting. The purpose of the peal hoard was, he said, to record successinl peals being rugg in four of the most difficult and complicated methods in hiajor elazinge ringing, and turther to act as au incentire to those who come after to aspirc to the ringing of those higher methods. He mentioued that the bonad had been made, and beautifully mritien and painted, ty one of the ringers, Mr. A. W. Coles, of Briston, aml had heea subscribal for entirely by those whose names apparred upon it. The peal of Bristol was conducted hy Mr. Wh. Pye, of Lertanstone, and the other thee hy Mr. W. Keeble of Kelvedon, both of whom ranked anong the ablest conductors in the kingdom.
The Yicar of Brainttee commenced by reading Psalm 84, and offered an appropriate prayer. Aftrmwads, he dedicatwed the board "in the failh of desus Clurist and to the Glovy of God, and then pronounced the Benedicion.
In thanking the Vicar for arranging the zeryiee, Mr. W. H. Dysetr district secretary, Nothern Division, stated he considered the service whs unique iu the history of Braintree Charclı, which dated from 1199. He believed that was the fivst time a service had ever been couducten in the belfry by the Vicar of the parish, robed.
The Vicar, in reply, said he was reyy pleased to have the opportunity of being present and conducting that serrice. In the whole of his minisiry be had never thect in clinrge of a parish before where there was a peal of bells. He was very much stuck by the enthusiasus of the ritagers in their harach of church work. There appeared to be a spirit, of brotherhood among vingers which was soldom foumd in any other branch of chusel? work.
Tho fingers afterwards that tea at the Parish Room, the Ficar and Mrs, Bassett Kenr'y being present.

Mus. Wiffen, wife of "11e Dishict Mastel, Northern Difision, narl ofler ladies, provided ten. Afterwards, handbell ringing was indulged in, and touches of Graudsire Triples, Bob and l'reble Bab Major, Donble Norwich. Superlative aml London Surprise were rung on the tower bells. In the last named method the Master yang his first course.

The service was condtated by whe Rev. I: 1. Boulton (Rector of Exion), and nin impromptu choir selected frem llie members lat the singing, Miss Willians being the organist. 'Taking as Jis text verses six and seven of Psalun 98 , the Rector preached an able sermon, which helt the close aftention of his coin-

Alter ihe serrice, the company were cntertained to tea in the Shoolroon by the Rector and the Parochial Glureh Council. The members were waited upon hy Mris. Boulton, Mrs. Lovelace, Mrs. L. Blillips, Mrs. Bellamy, Mrs. Hannaford, Mr's. Burnêt, Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs, Gunter, and the Misses Burge and Williaros.

\section*{THE LUSINESS MSETING.}

The anmual business took place after tea, the Rev. H. P. Boulton presiding, in the absence of the Rev. T. S. [ywson, whose inability to attend was due to the prevailing epidenoic. For the same reason The Rev. Preb, A. C. Harman (Oid Clecre) was umable to come, and mussages of regrei for non-attendance were also read from the Revs. L. P. Stanley (Hootion Courtenay), H. Liturdner McTaggart (Manksilvery, and d. C. L. Isard (Mineheud).

The amual report and balance sheet were presented by Mr. G. staces; the hon. secresary. The report stated that the braneli bad lith four successful meetings during the past year ai Carhanmpton, Indrorton, St. Audries, and Old Cleeve, at which the average attendatue lad been 55. 'Iliey had to congratulate Wooton Courtonay land on ringitg their first pal, the only peal rung by the deanery during the year; athe also Old Cleeve on life addition of two new trebles to their tower. The hranch hand been strengthened by the thection of 29 performing members and three homorary members. The strengli of the deanery now was 146 members, 31 of whom lied not paitl their 1924 subseriptions. The subeription question uras always a soutce of worry to the secretary, and if the foreman of each tower, shated the report, would sec to it that they were collected and sent erily equch year it would be a great help. Fhey reguetted to record He loss of one of their members throngll the death of Mr. G. Veysey, oi' Winsiout, and sympathy was expressed with the bereaved faraily.
The balanee sheet shownd that the treasurer liad collected from working members 5517 s , and hon. members, \(\mathrm{El} 5 \mathrm{~s} . ; \mathrm{f}\) tower fees making total receipts of 8 12s. 1ld. After expenses were patd there was a balance due to the general secretary of 853 s .

The report and balauce sheet were adopted.
The election of offeers next took place. The Chairman said he was somy that Mr. Dawson was uable to be present. In hin they had a very good ehairman, one who took a great interest in the association, ant they could not do better tham re-elect him.

On the motion of Mr. W. A. Hawhins (Dulvertari seconded by Mr. (s. Atkins (Minehead), the chairatan was re-elecled.
\(W^{+}+l l\) wam appreciations of their services from members, endorsed with applause, M1. Sincey was re-elected hon. secretary and trodAurer, and Mr. Wm. Hoyle (Minelead) Ringing Master. Mr. H. A. 1"hilljps (Timbersconbe) was re-oleoted the branch representative on the Central Committee.

Nine new ordinary members wore proposed and elected from WinsFord, Cathampton, Wootton Courtenay, Timluerscomhe, Exton, and Cutcombe.

\section*{INSTRUCTORS TO BE APPOINTED.}

In diseussion on the next place of meeting, as invitation to Woatlon Courlenty was submitted, but it was decided to visit Stogumber next and Wootion Courtenay suhsequentiy.
Tlieve was some discussion as to arranging for instructors to wisit various towers for the benefit of bands of young ringers, and it was decided that instructors, to be chosea lator, should first visit WinsFard and Exton.
The Chairman moved a liearty voto of thanks to the ratiring clane man and officers far their services, which was seconded by Mr. T. Wewbery (Dulverton), and carried with acclamation.-Mr. Hawkias thers proposed a comprehensive vote of thanks to the Rector for the uses of the bells, and for conducting the serwice and giving an adriress: to those who had prowided the tea, to Miss Williams, the arganist, ant all the ladies for helping will the tea, and to Mr. S. Wyate for having the bells in readiness, Mr. Hawkins said it was ir Foad thing that they shauld have such rocetings as this. Fe was plad to say that parsons generally were taking more interest in the ringers than they usced to do when lue first joined the assomation. "Whe parsors can go into the palpit," lee added, "and fell us what 1o Ro without question, but at these meetings we can get, our own Hack (latghtere, amb tell 'she parsons what they are expected to do with regard to the belfries und ringers.' Mr. Hawkins said lie considered the ringers were just as important as tho mhoir. and that the belfry was part and parcel of the church.

The Claimman, in Reknowledgment, said he was pleased to give the associalion a learty welcome to Exton. Ha felt proud that they hat conce there for their ammal meeting, and, it was real joy to have so large a body of mon at the service.

After the meeting a number of the singers rel urned to tho tower, and kept the bells going matil Iate in the evening.

The success of the gallering was due in large mensume to the arrangentents made by the lion. secretary for a service of Blue motorcars to Tixton from Minoliead, Porlock ani Woaton Courtenty, and Williton and intermediate places, picking up as fat as Cutcombe.

\section*{INCUMBENTS IN THE BELFRY}

\section*{T'o the Eaitor.}

Luar Sir, With refereac to yan recent paramrayhs, se incumbents bethe belfry, it may interest your readers to know that the Rector of Briduont (Chmon J. W. Coulter), althongh nos a ringer, makes it a promige to come up into the tower every Sunday evening lo preaches in the parish church, which is three Sundays out of four. He also visits us an practice evenings, and attends all the meetings of the hanil, of which he is chatiman
Cnnon Coulter firmly belteves in making lis ringers a real live section of his churels workers, and his presence anongit as las done more in this direction than all the sermons he could preach. I can assure youz that ing pronches the doctrine he practices in lis own fower ihronemoul his Rural Deanery.-Tours faithfully.

Sir,-Therc is a type of controversy which is mole common than agreealile af the present day. Its essence lies in the assumption that difference of opinion and personal emmity are synonymous. When such a line is adopted it is usually evidence of igmorance of the matler in debate, and in any case to attacks of that nature I propose to make no reply.
It oniy needs to add in the interests of truth that in the "Bell News ' of June 14th, 1913. Mr. J. A. Trollope wrote:-

Scores of useless methods have been published (including Leek Major the lalest), being mongrels.'
On August 9th, 1913, lie wrote in the same paper:-
' I am not sure that Leek Major mat not lurn out to be legitimate a Rer all. It is not a principle, but a very complicated thiag, witl furo hunts altered in every direction. - Fons, etc.
March 4th, 1925.
F. S. POWELL

Dear Sir, May I reply to the Rev. H. Drake? When a rewerend gentleman begins lecturing other people ahout departing from the pabls of rectitude he should be very careful to practice what he preaches.

I have written of Single and Double Shuals, bat "Treble Shmats," so far as I atm concerned, is ridiculous nonsense, and a figment of the reverend gentleman's own brain.
From correspondence that I have recently received, there are at least three gentlemen in the Uniten Kingdom and ane in far Naw Zealant who ann understand my meaning (three of the four geatlemen I have never seen) ; therefore, the only concltisfow that I car come to is that those who do not understatad me are deficient in their powers of understanding, whicla is no fate of mine. 1 can supply argaments, bul I cannot give any opponents brains to understand them. Yours faitlifully,

GEORGE BAKER.
Sir,Although generalls in agreement with a certain amount of Mi. Drake's writings in The Riuging World, I camot take that vew of his letter im your last issue. His comments on Mr. G. Baker's srticles are quito beside the mark, and are without the least justifieation. If Mr. Drake finds Mr. Baker's writings and fgures so impossible for lim to understand, he should ark for more information, then we should all get the advantage of further enlightenment on this very interesting question of mathod construction.
Personally, I should have thought s ringer with the meanest intelligence coudd have understood, as I copsider Mr. Baker has given 115 in plain English the very A B C of method construction, from plaiti hunt to infinity

With regard to Mr. Drake's remarks, re Mr. Trollope, he commences with an appreciation, but almost in the same breath commences to criticise and offer amendments, This, to my mind, shows a want of knowledge of the subjeef under diseussion.-Yours faithfully,

GEORGE WILEIAMS.

\section*{THE LATE REV. F, E. ROBINSON} AND ' AMONG THEE BELLS.'
Some timu ago I was asked to contribute a preface to a proposed reissue of Mr. Robinson's book, "Among the Bells.' But ats this was to be a reprint of the letterpress only, withont the illustrations of durch towers in which, fand of cminent ringers with whom, Mr. labonson lad rung the origital sopperplates having beon commandeered for their metal during the whr', it would. I fear, have heen rather a dry record of facts and figures, however interesting for stutisties of the hisfory, weight, ete., of bells, which are permanenty Hachil for earrecting loose ad inaceulate local tradition on sticli matters.
The original edition, I see, is still on sale; mad I turt that, even in this age of rapid change and forgetfulmess, the memory of Mr. Rabinson's wort for the chuse of change ringing and belfry reform nay be preserved in as many belfries and elumed tibreries as possible. lt wis indeed a remarkable work. To quote the words of a preachar an the Sunday ufter his funemal: 'In the art of bell ringing he used all bis powers for the glory af God. Only those who kuew the condition of beliries fifty vears ago eould realise the influence of Mr . Robinsoln, rmong oblecrs. In former fays, the parson's presence in has bedfy was often rogarded as an intrusion; and tho ringers seldom attended church, or consitered it a necessary part of their work. Now, the belfry has been consecrated to the worship of Gon; the ragers are regarded as clureh workers; the clergy are welcomed in the belfry, aud profitency las been maised to a higher level.'
'Among ofleps "-Mr. Robinson would lave been the last man to midermafe the share of many otlers, elergy and laity, in that helfry reform of which hat was a distinguished pioncer' younger mea upon whom his mantie has fallen, and who honour his memory by carrying on lis work and lolding up to their own generation the liglat of his SEVTRA—PER SE: VERA.
T. L. PAPILLON.
P.S.-IL mny not be amass, in these tays of money-naking mediocity in literature, and thonglitiess or libellous gossip, to say that I lave mot, aud newor have liad, ans personal interest in pushing dhe sule of 'tmong the Bells.'

\section*{THE EXPERTS AND THE EXERCISE.}

From time to time one bears complaints that space in - The Ringing World \({ }^{\text {r }}\) is given up to the arguments of 'experts' which might be better devoted to other use. Such a suggestion was publicly made at the recent Birmingham dinner, and, looked at from the point of view solely of those who bave no interest in the theoretical side of ringing, and no immediate concern in its evolution, we can fully appreciate that there are many ringers to whom discussions on method building or method extension, for instance, make no appeal, and that they would prefer to see other matter than this in our columns. The reason, we believe, is mainly two-fold. First they do not really understand the subject, and therefore cannot get interested; and the second there seems to be very few among the fundamertal principles upon which the experts themselves agree, and consequently the a verage ringer imagines that it is waste of time to try and follow their arguments.

On the first point there is little to be said. Withont understanding there cannot be interest-and we say this without the slightest disrespect to anyone. There are a great many ringers who are satisfied with the pleasure they can get out of the practical side and they have neglected their 'education,' so to speak, of the other phase of the art; hence they cannot get any interest in the discussion of what are to them abstruse problems. For the second point, it must be admitted, there is some justification. We have the experience, year after year, of seeing men who have made a lifelong stady of the subject disagreeing on the most essential prisciples. Who, then, can be blamed for the fog in which many find themselves when, with little or no actual knowleage, they try to disentangle the facts, and then arrive at the conclusion that the subject is not worth pursuing?

There is, bowever, another side to the matter which 'The Ringing World 'does not overlook. While those who concera themselves only with the practical phase of ringing are content with the knowledge which they already possess, it is not sufficient for the future of the art rhat endeavours further to elucidate its mysteries should be smothered, merely because the experts themselves do not agree, or because the subject does not make a general appeal. Upon the research of to-day will be fousded the facts of to-morrow, and even out of a spirited disagreement some student may gain a crumb of knowledge which will lead to a wider and more intimate acquaintance with all that underlies the science of change ringing. The material of these discussions may not, indeed cannot, interest everyone; the temper of them may not always be all that could be

\section*{DARTFORD LITTLE BOB MAJOR. \\ To the Edilor.}

Dear Sir, -The point that Mr. Ridgeway makes agaikst me in this week"s "Ringing World' is quite a good one, and quite faixly put. 1 knew I was laying myself open to the clarge of zaying one thing and doing another. But it must not be taken that I approve of Dartford Little Bob. I do net, and I told the band so before and after the peal. Why, then, did I take part? Well, partly because, being then engaged on the Contral Council Collection of Major Methods, I wanted to lieve as much practical experience of all sorts of methorls as possibie, and chiefly because Mr. Baimett mas very wishful to ring a peal of it, and asked me to trike a rope. I would sirctch point to the utmost to fall in with lis wishes.

\section*{LEEK MAJOR.}

Dear Gif,-Aliow me to thank Mr. George Williams for his sup port and apprecintion of my efforts in the matiter of method cont siruction.
How simple the whole matter is, when one knows, can be illustrated by my giving the complete set of Round Blocks in Leek Hajor, together with the transpositions which prove tho theory to we sound and true, aut also flat Leck Major, as well as being unigue in its qualities, is next 10 the primary pringiples the most simple Irinciple ever discovered:
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{4}{|c|}{LEEK MAJOR.} \\
\hline 12345678 & I & 68472515 Round Blocks. & Trauspositions. \\
\hline 21436587 & x & \(86745231=75836142\) &  \\
\hline 12463578 & र & \(68754213=48763215\) & 32418576 \\
\hline 21645387 & x & \(88572431=73581462\) & 74863152 \\
\hline 26154837 & x & \(85627341=64218753\) & 26472538 \\
\hline 62518473 & x & \(58263714=35218746\) & 42618375 \\
\hline 26581437 & N & \(85235741=43172065\) & 16472538 \\
\hline 62854173 & x & \(58327614=43827165\) & 74863152 \\
\hline 68245713 & x & \(53872164=58263714\) & 32418576 \\
\hline 86427531 & د & \(35781246=76518432\) & 75836142 \\
\hline 68472513 & r & \(53718264=68472513\) & 12345678 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

If will be noticed that from the halfway trausposition row, underEned, the transposition rows raverse, aud rounds is the last row; this is a fenture of all symmetrical methots, in asymmetrical methods rounds will not turn up
The haffay fransposition row ilself is in coursing order a further proof of the beatiiful simplicity of Leck Major which aren Boh Major does not possess, the halfwny transposition row in the lather method being 24567183 from which by adding extra pairs of lyells a mathematical progression can be obtained to infinity
Nothing further need he said of Leck Major, the method will, I an sure, commend itself to any band who onres to practice it
Maj I, however, in the interest of truth, add a few words le repip to Mr. Powell's letter is your last issue?
The quotntion from 'Bell News' of August \(9 t h, 1913\), given by the Rev. E. S. Powell is no refraction, and was never meant to be one \(b_{5}\) Mr. Trellope, this can be proved by quoting from a letter which I received from him on 22nd December, 1913

You seem to think and net as if (1) I had deliberately nod of get purpose attacked Mr. Ridgway and his method; (2) that you land proved that my attack was wrong and wnjust; and (3) thet, therefore, I ought to publiels recant in the "Bell News." It does not strike me like that at all, and \(I\) see no reason why I should don a white shoch, eren if you han proved that I was mistaken.

And further on in the sarue letter :-
"It is true thes I sajd, "Leek might turn ont to he legitimate after all."' That did \(n\) ot, mean that. I had recanted anytbing. It mant that ] recognised that in the future we might have to recast our ideas of what is legitimate \(I_{n}\) Principles I am certain that the only legitimate division heads and ends are those of Original in that order:-

\section*{\(\begin{array}{ll}\text { i.e. (1) } 12345678 & \text { (2) } 12355678\end{array}\) \\ 13254768 \\ 21436587}

Here we tave proof from Mr. Trallopes own writing that his ideas were \(t^{\prime \prime}\) : same in December as in the June precious, so it is not much use thing to make the Fxevcise believe hat le retracted in tIre month of Augusi which came between Juve and December, 1813. It was after the receipt of the letter from which I have queted that I putalished in the "Bell News" nnd ' Tinging World' the method which conld he produced witl ans one of the four possible rows as the first dixision head, and it is still my contention that as Mr. Trollope had condemned Leek Major as a mongrel method publiely in the "Bell News, it wns up to firm, when proved to be wrong as m man. as a member of the Legitimata Methods Committer, and as a ringer, to acknowledge his mistake and to retract as publicly as He lian condemmed and also to apologise to the nuthor of Leck Mnion [or all the anoyance thom he had been caused. Yours fait]-

\section*{THE CRITICISMS OF 'CRITICUS.} SOLVING A PROBLIM-SHALL THE 'STANDARD' GO? -TREEMASONTY-LONDON RINGTNG.
May one ask, just once again, if our experts are ever going to agrees over nuything ' Porsonally it anuses me to see them abtiempling to 'shyy' ono anothor, but it, does not seam ba lemi us anywhere nenrer a solution of the problems which they seem anable to unruvel to erach ahler's satisfaction. Insteded of being the jury which should decide these questions for us, they ate comsel whose avowod object is to pull one another's case to pieces. This is probably a congenial task, but what we, as, ringers, want is to know the trubly about these things. Can we not do what, I believe, the law provides for when juries are obstinato. slut them up together until they agree? - if it coulf tho lone without food, or fire or bed, so much the quicker in effectiveness. Then wa should get a verdiet. It might bo only an accommorlation dic, and it might we no more satis factory than the bistoric decision of "not grifity, but don't do it tion where wo rually are in some of lihese matiters: if it told us, for finstance, whether weare really bark the the duys of Praian Stedman or Annable, or whether we nue in the 20th century, it would be something gained.
If, howerer, the slutting up-in the bodily nud not in the corre spondence sense-is impracicahle, I shall feel it ought to be possibie for tha Central Counct to sati up some trincl of court of referees, who could hear the arguments of looth sides, and come to a decision which would be anceptable to the nverage man. One can no mord expect men witls a divergence of viows, such as we linve recenty read, to agree, than litiganis in a law action, and the onily common sonse way out of the impnsse seems to ma to be an independent body to arrive at a judgment after considening the arguments. The loser would not, of course, be salisfied, but he could be deberred from inticting his views again on the Exercise until he had some new evidence to suppori his contention. Now fow is that for a workable plan to sette these disputes, and what will the Central Council do about it?

Rending, lest week, the listi of Mr. Trollope's peals made me wonder who can claim the biggest varinuy of methods rung in his poal collection? Probably the banour gaes to one of those Clseshire men whe have put three dogen or so into one peal, but everyone will agrec that, considering he has only rung two peals on five nad six bells Mr. Trollape's is a goodly collection. Those "three-dozen-a-time" men, howerer, put loops romal the majority of us, who stick in the siodgy rut of the "Standard" methods. Whinh leads one to ask. what really are the "Standar?" methonts? We know that in the old days, when Surprise ringing was looked upon as a 'crazk' job Itre 'standaud ' Was Grandsire, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Stedman. Efen poor old Double Norkich was outsite the pale. That 'standard' was all right fifty years ago, but when the word, as applied in this cose, mans that whal is authoritatively established as a rule: that which is established ky public opinion or custorn, then we ollght to bring our group of methods more in ling with modern pracfice. Donble Norwich tund tho four commenly rung Surprise methods ought certainly to ln included when the tern "Standard methods' is used. but probably the best solution of all is to drop entirety the word 'stardard' in this connection. Can we have a reommendation from tlio Council, plesse?
What are we going to do about this sumgested Freemason's Lodge for ringers? I hope illis prophsal is thot going to be allowed to ent in words. The suggestion of the Rocorder of Linaoln ought to develop into something really good. There are mant ringers in the craft, and a lat more would no doubt come in undel such congenial conditions: indeed. methinks Aderman Pritelnett, whose services to the craft lave brought him sienal honours, wonld probably do an eved greater service to Freemasonry than any he has erer done (if the introduction of new members counts in the scale of service) by putting this lodge on its feet-or, onght I to sity: laying the foandntions and building the superstructure. I nom not suffeiently versed in the 'rules and regutations' of the Order to express an opinion as whelner sucla a thing is possible, lum \(I\) nuke the suggesfion that the lodge, althouglt it may be founded in London, or Birmingham, or some other big cenfere, sloult have itincranf. powers, so that it might meet in varions parks of the counfry and so be within reach of many who could not oflerwise attent its meetings, but who would, nevertlicless, like to be in actual associntion witll ib: Go ahcad, Alderman Pritchett; you will have a big luacking in this scheme-and there is nice time now between this nad the next banqueting season. J have noticed iately, in one or two cases, that searetarims are complaining of umpaid subseriptions. The litite depression of these daye is, no doubt, to be blamed for a yood many of fhese arrears, for ancmployment is, unlappily, as rampant anong ringers as any other class. At the same time 7 arm rute sure there is a good deal of unnecossary delay in paying their contributions on the pert of some who ought to know better. Subseriptions to ringing sacieties are not a lieavy exaclion, and there onght not to be the difficulty in collecting them that I am aftaid is only too ofien the ease. Associrbions canot carry on willout funds－I slall be told that all ringers know khas．My reply is：Then why do they not sce that tue funds are provided prompliy，not wait for the poor secretary to drag形 out of then．IIe pays twioe who pays quickly，they say，and it would be well if same of the sluggards took this proverls to hearl．
Chere is greal competifion for the use of the only two twalve－beld tnwerg in London where peals may be rung with any frequency，and the rivalry does not ereate any too friendly it spirit． 1 onIy hope that the aumerous peal attempts on the firous bells of Bow will not ullimately result in the same thing happening there as appears to hare lapyened ati Cornhill．This latter chinrel was at one time con－ stanlly accessible for peals，but the prosent position there is just the reverse－the almost inevitable result of＂overdoings it in the leart of a great city．I suppose I shall lue tolt that，so long as the church euthorilies are willing to give permission，there is no need to decline the opportunity aforited．Tliat is frue，but what if presencly there comes a reaction－as it has come in regard to other towers If anything of thaf kind happens at Bow and South－ wark it will be a sorry day for the twelve－bell pealers of London． london has enough twelve－hell ringers to uso uli the eight towers in moderation，but the present position of affaits drives all the peal ringing into about three of them，and my fear is that sooner or later even these wil！be rlebarred for this purpose．Mhat incleed would lye n eatastrophe．
And，winle touching upou London ringing，ame camot help notic－ ing how the London Coonty Association is losing the characteristic which brought it，as the St．James＇s Society，into existence．Some of tus are old enough to rememker when it was really the common meeting ground of Jie two old Lonton Societies．Now，while it is true that its membership embraces members of both the Colifge and Camberland Youtis，it is becoming，if it lass not already become，an enlirely separate society，with no specially distinctive character．I holieve that originally peals rung ly the St．Jawes＇s．Sociely jad to be low bands of half from the College Youtles and half from the Cumberlands，but I dayesay there are peals rung for the society tonday br men who are members of neither．But be that as it may． those who like to see the old traditions upheld regret to see how the Tastion Countw Association，vigorous as it now is，has departed，in spiril，if mot in letter，from the intentions of the original founders．

An attempt for a peal of 7,392 Cambidge Surprise Haximus is to be made at Bow Church, Cheapside, London, on Satarday, by metrubers of the Middlesex County Associndian nad Landon Diocesan ciuid.
Apart from their weight (the tenor is 53 ewt.), Bow bells any a difficult peal to xing, and die lask hefore the Mindesex mentomorrow is at very big one.
The Parish Church, Kingston-on-Chames, where a penl was rung last Saturday-the first for something like seven years-overiooks thi spot where, in the courso of the tenth century, seven Saxon king were crowned. The stone upos which the ceremony took place in preserved on the site.
The bells are a mised lot, the earliest dating from 1748, but thern were eight there before that time, for the inscriplion on the presumb eight records, 'The 8 old bells recasf, and 2 new trebles nedded to make X Ey subscriphions.- S . London, S. Belchier, collectors, 1748.
There were' Fywo great belles in the steple a sauns hell and at chyme for the belles' in Wdwrrd VI's roign, and records of paymeats in connection wilh the bolls are to be found in the Kingston Town sccourts as far back at 1503.
In 1535 and 36 there is ne catry that one of the bolls fell. There are clanges for mending the bell, and the 2 ad and 3 urd belis were reonst at Reading.

This was 5.160 at St. Bride's, Fleet Sireet, and two days later they went to Southwark and rang a 6,048 , "being the most ever yet rung in that method.'
From the information lianded down to 1 is by the 'Clevis,' the courpositions lad two bobs in one lead, and included courses "which come by the great bells making bobs.'
The ringer of the treble in the peal of Supenative at Mayfichi (published last week) was Arilur n . Miles, and not William Miles, us printed. A correction fiom the couductor reachea us ton lale for the original report.

\section*{PRINCIPLES & METHOD CONSTRUCTION.}

\section*{BY THE REV. E. §. POWELL.}

A pronciple is a collection of rows whin form a round block in which-
a) Each bell does the same work;

No bell moves up or down more than ono place at a lime;
No bell lies more than two conseculive blows in any one place. This defritiou appents to be perfectly clenr and simple, but no oue who has followed at all closely the recent controversies on the fegitratacy and character of various new methods which have been pur before the Exercise can fail to linve noticed how frequently there fins arisen at discussion, and only too often an acrimonious one, on the moaning of this term 'principle.' It must lave been equally avident fo your readors that the number of those who can be said to understand the definition, i.e., the meaning attached to it by its sputsors-lhe Methods Committec-is small indeed. The writer of the prescht article freely confesses that he has no knowledge of the history of the term, nor does lie claim to have an exact understanding of ifs bearing as used today in thie official publientions of the Central Council. He must nol, therefore, be regarded as criticising adversely the Legitimate Methods Committee for bringing fortard the delinifion origrinally. Still less minst he be charged with suggesting that the existence of this defintion did not serve in its day a good and useful purpose in discouraging the publication of rabbisla in the form of what were known in those days as mongrel methods. 'Twenty-five years ago all the leaders of thought in the Exereise were confined to experimental means in their search for new thethods to ring. A method was observed to contain so many places, so nueh douging, and such and such hunting forward and (or) hackward. That was all there was to it. But in the last quarter of in century attempts lave been mede to go deeper inta the problem. Sucir quastious as the following have bech asked: What is that brings it about that, if certain operations take place, bells after leaving rounds will-return to trands again? No one would be so foolish as to claim that the shibboleth Places' aflords ant answer to a guestion of that kind. Of course we koow that if phaces \(A, B\) aud made the bells retura to rounds, but why don'o they if places \(A, B\) and \(D\) are mede?
will probably be granted that fhe employment of the term Principle in Pules and Decisions arises out of the experimeata] stage of mothot construction. It may even indicate a groping after more scientific aneans than were then available. Allowing all this it anay he thete that its day of usefulness has passed.
Jo will hardly he forgotten that a l'ather unchitying controversy covered lys the Hate Mr. J. W. Wrshhrook, Even at that time it lonked to some olsempers that the real merits of the problem, viz. the value or otherwise of the method, were obscured by the guarrel as to whether fial method could rightly he called a principie.
Probmbly again, this term had an intimate connection with the instinctive feeling of the leading minds in the Exercise of the innpartauce of the so-callent Bob Major lead ends. That they were right, in their instinct is not to he denjed, though it must be confesed that while the rights, lay with the believers in thase lead ends, the soundesi arguments were then generally found on the other side, owing to the lack of kuowledge hy all parties of the fuodanentals of mexhad construction.
the beginaige of this year a plain, straightforward, simply Worded artiole by Mr. Trollope whs putblished in "The Ringing genesis of ructhods is proceeding. Is modern investigation into ilue preservation of ihe term Principle? Would it not perlaps atear the air if a proposal were, brought before the Central Council to put the definition into (say) cold storage? But before this could be wisely done, the opinions of those competent to express a considered judgroent should be sought as to the value of the term at the sfage of knowledge whici has now been reached. In particular it would he usciul to learn what the remaining members of the first Legitiznate Methods Commitice have to say about il.
So frir as the present writer can see, for all practical purposes the tarm "Principle" is now usedi as synonymous with ' Original, except wiven some or other misguided person puts forth a method wheh lve calls a principle, though it would equally have suited his purpose to deseribe it simply as a mothod. When this happens, it is oor is thouglat to be) necesssry to correct the statemens on the prith of the Methods Commitites. And theroupon follows the inevitable jovial dog tight. It cortainly looks futile to the outsider, to say nothing of the undoukted fact thast sympathy for the supposed underlog arouses in a good many minds an undeserved interest in a prekimably worthless production. If it he true that the employment of this greatly debated term arises from tho day of experimental athe artifual regulation, the time has probably aryived when a ireal reparfure can be ruade in the generni interest.

A new peal of six bells, to replace those cesbroyed by a fire in 1918 were dedicated at Coombe, near Woodstock, on Sunday last, by the Bishop of Dxford. The peal heve been put up by Messrs. Trylor and Co., of Loughborough, and have been liang an ball bearings. They 'go' so well that the local men, we are informed, found them difficut to landle, theiv previous experience of their bells being of a wasly different kind. Had it not been for some lew keen menbers of the Oxford Guild, wlo cycled or walked miles to be present, and were blus alle to give their assistance, one wonders what the rosult might have been, especially on an important occasion of this kink, there being no one present from the foundry to see that the bells were properly handled.
Atter the dedication eetvice, the bells ware mong by visitors from Oxford, Eynshan, Witney, Gharlbury and Wootton, and the ringing included 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor, in 25 minates. by W. Henagolph 1, 'T'. Payne 2, 17. Beckett 3, H. Tolley 4, T. Paylor (conductor) 5, F. Clineard 6. Aiter evensong, Grandsire Doubles were runga conducked by J. Keyte and J. Monk.

\section*{By W. TAYEOR, PENWORTHAB.}

Some time ago, Mr. Geo. Hakev brouthi to my notice ble connec tion luctweeu 'Dublin Court Majov' auxi 'Byistol Surpuise, bui it was not until I read a subsentent article by Mr. J. A. I'rollope that. the solution of certain difficulties 1 have hat beeame apparent tu me. Fou inseance, I have loug helx bhe opinion that Mr. Cuaven's Bristot Royal is a true extensiou of the Major, now I see hat at very slight alteration of the work when the treble is in 5-6, which 1 will show later, amotming only to a varintion, gives a more cotrecteriension. Also, I have a Maximus onethod whith I thought was 1scistol, and now see my crror atad the reason. It bears exatly whe same relation to Real Sristol Maximus as Double Norwich Court Major does to Dublin Court Mujor; therefore. I suggest it be called Double Hristol Surptise Saximus, Norvich Court Variation. Figures appeal later.
In all 'Ireble Bob methods, on any even number of bells, whilst the freble is dodging in finy one position, it is mecessary that an even umaber of bells be phan bunting; this causes as many bells as take prot in tho phain hunting to alter then coursing order relative in thu dodging bells, whilst retainiug theil coursing order relative to themselves. The effect is not quite the same as a bob, because an ever number of bells sue moved, aut it takes fout rows to comphete the movemeat, whereas, in a bob an urd number, not less than three belfs aro moved, aud tire movenent is complete in two rows; iu ofher words, bobsana only be mate at cross sections, anditho boly bell makes a whole pull right thand atd backl.
The plain hunting may be of two kinds, annlagous to the guick ant slow sixes in the Stadman three-boll work. In oue finci, the whole pulls are made liandstrole and backstroke, sand may be teraneni "quick hanting." In the other kind, the whole pulls are anade backstroke arat landstroke, Bud nay be termed "slow hunting. Fixmples of quick lunting are to be Found in Oxford Theble Boh, where never more than two bells take part in it, and in Superlative Surprise, where there are always four hells quick hunting; also in Combrige Surprise, where sometimes two, sometimes four, ol six on mote bells are quick Iunting. Examples of slow lunuting are to le lourd in Kent Treble Boh, where two belfs take part in it, whea treble is in 1-2 only, and in Atbion Treble Eob: also in London Surprise, where as many belts as possible an one side of treble only are slow lnunting, with the exception that when Ule treble is in \(3-4\) the two bells under the treble quick hant.
If we add two rows of slow hunting to three rows of quick lunting, a very curions result is prodnced, namely, thai the plaja lunting bells are returned to the original coursing ortien relative to the dodging bells; in other words, the final Fow is the same its if the hells had conlimued dodging; also, it does not make the slightess (ifference to the fimal result, whatever eren number of hells take part in the movemont; and, finther, the terors always come up the right was at backstroke. Of eaurse, when only two bells take part, it is necessary to lave at, least lwo bells dodginy abose them, Fsamples follow. I algo show the bells siyply dodging fou couparison, anci fo each case we commence with whole pull right.

\section*{SOUTHERN BRANGE AT SWANSEA.}

A very successful quarterly meeting was held at St. Mary's Church, Swansea, on Saturday, March 7h. The hehs are a fine ring of eight, and, in apite of the "go" being a bit stiff, they wexe kept foing from 3 p.m. unili 5.30 to touches of Grandsire and Boh Doukses, Grandsire and Eiedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. Tlre wingers then adjourned to a sumpthous tea, kindy provided by the Rer, Canorl Wilsan (Vicar of Swansea).

After tea, the business mecting was lveld, witll the Rev. C. F. Thomes (hanstcphan) in the clasir. It wes decided not to hold a quaricerly meeting in Junte, owing to the ringing contest taking place at Brecon on May 23 rd , and the Guild general annazal meeting at Sketty in Junc.
Thinteen new ringing members joined the Guild.
On the request of the chairman, the members all stood for a few moments as a token of respect to a very old ringing friend. in the person of Mr. H. Perry, of Aberavon, who passed away on Sunday, March lst, at the ripe age of 75 years. Mr. Perry had been a very faithful ringer at St. Mary's Ghureh, Aberavon, fov upwards of 50 petis and was highly respected by all who know him,
The Chairman proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rev: Canon Wilson for his kind permission to use the bells, and For providjug sueh a splendid tea. This was seconded by Mr. D. J. Lewis (Cadoxton), and carried with acclamation, Mr. J. A. Hoare being asked to convey the thanks of the mecting to the Ganon.
The helfry was then revisited, and the bells kept going witil well after 8 oclock. The towers repiesented were Swnnsea, SketGy, Gorseinon, Llanstephan, Aberavon, Morriston, Cadaxton and Neath. afout 40 members being present. Thej wisll to thank Mr. J. A. Honre for so kindly having evergthing in order for the meeting.

\section*{ANOTHER GREAT BELL. \\ A GERMAN ' MASTITRIECE.'}

Cologne is now in possession of a huge bell, already consecrated, the cost of which has been met by the State Grand Municipal Lery and private subsaription to replace the "Kaiserglocke," which towards the end of the war was lowered froms its place in the south tower and cut up to he converted into munitions of war to be used agrinat the French, even as it ilself lad been mainly cast from French cannon eaptured in 1870. In height, \(10 f t\). Sin., and 10 fl . 6 n . in diazeter, it weighs 25,000 kilos, or just under 25 toms, thus ranking in point of size about fith in Europe. It is richly ornamented with Egures of S. Peter and the two patron sanis of Cologrie, St. Ursule-a Britisl martyr-and St. Gerean, and on it are recorded the names of the cathedral dignitaries of 1922, when the bell was cast by Heinrich Ulrich, of Apolda, whose name is also recorded.
It is anid that it is for jts musical qualities that the 'Petrusglocke' at Cologne wil! become famous, for tests have proved it to be almost perfect. Indeed, Domkapellmeister Hartmem, of Erankfort, one of the experis, who made mosb exhaustive tesis, declares that the bell is unique, a masterpicee of the bell-faunding art, which it would be difficult to equal throughout the warld. The tragedy of the " Petrusglocke' lies in the fact that Heinrich Ulrich, its maker, only lived to know that the bell ho designed and made was tested and foumd true, and then le died before fulfiling his chief desire-to aece his life's maslarpiece in the Dom Tower, and to lear it ring out from its lofty position.

THE GREAT BELL AT MOSCOW.
The Irrgest bell in the world is, of course, the famous bell of Moscow. In 1651 a bell weighing \(320,000 \mathrm{lbs}\), was cast, by order of the reigning Czar, which was destroyed by firc. In 1733 the present great hell was cast by order of the Empress Iranovna by adding \(80,000 \mathrm{lbs}\). to the metal of the old belf. In 1737 a great fire took pluce and communicated with the woodwork covering the great bell of 1733 , and, the water coming in coutact with the heated metal, a large triangula piece, about seven feel bv two foet in size, was broken out. The bell remained in tho pit till 1836, when, by order of Emperor Nicholas I., it was ruised from the casting pit and placed on a stone pedestal near the Kremlin, in the presence of the great offeers of state and the inhabitants of Moscont, to their great joy. The bells weigh 192 tons 3 qus. 2 cwi .14 lbs ; it stards 21 feet higb; its tiameter is 21 feet 6 jnches, and the somnd bow is 24 inches thick. The inscriplion it hears is in very long one, relating also to the original bell of 1651 as follows

Cust for the chief catherirs in the year 7162 from the Creation of the World and from the Birth by the Flegh of God the Word, 1654 . This bell was cast from the 8,000 poods of copper (and tiu) of the former bell that was destroyed fy fire, with the addition of 2,000 poods of copper (aud tin) in the rear 7242 from the Creation of the Horld, and in the year of our Lord, 1734.'

\section*{BELL FUNDS.}

The spirit which prompts the effort to raise funds to add two new bells to the peal at Isleworth is highly to be commended, and shows a faith in the generosity of ringers which, we hope, will not be found misplaced. The object behind the scheme, which we published last week, is to provide a peal of ten bells in a part of West Middlesex where facilities for ten-bell ringing are now very meagre, and is solely to promote the art. The church authorities are sympathetic, but they have no funds to assist the project; hence, if it is to he carried out, it must be financed by ringers. For this reason it is likely to prove a big undertaking. Ringers, as a whole, are far from being a monied class, and those who have endeavoured to raise funds for special objects have realised the difficulties.
The proposed memorial to Mr. J. IV. Washbrook is stil] far from complete, yet here is a sebeme which appeals to a wide circle from the fact that the object is to perpetuate the memory of one of the greatest ringers of all time; who was known throughout the country, and who had done, in his day, a tremendous amount of work amony beginners which had a lasting effect upon the fortunes of the Oxford Guild, and later of those other societies with which he happened to be connected. The memorial is to consist of two bells to increase a peal of six to a ring of eight, and in that respect is very similar to the Isleworth proposal. At present, however, a considerable sum is required to complete this memorial, and we trust that no time will be lost by ringers throughout the Exercise in bringing this scheme to successful fruition. There must still be many associations who have not yet sent any collective contribution, and it is from this source that the bulk of the fund must come if the project is to be completed within a reasonable time.
At Isleworth the position is different to that at Oxford, in that there is nothing to make a countrywide appeal, and for this reason the promoters will have to make up with zeal what they lack in the way of a special cause. There have been cases where an association has made itself responsible for adding bells to a peal, notably recent instances of bells given in memory of ringers who fell in the war, so that a scheme of this description is by no means beyond the possibility of achievenment. Unfortunately the Middlesex Association is itself not too well endowed with funds, and a big donation from this source is not to be expected. The venture, therefore, is likely to depend almost entirely on the individual members, and if they can successfuily shoulder this scheme they will deserve every credit. Enthusiasns and work will do wonders, and we may expect botll from the officials of (Continued on page 194.)

The other four variations are not symmetrienl, and shoult be called Bristol Surprise Major (?; Variation, subsituting any suitable mane for the ( P ) mark. For the sake of cormpleteness I give them here :Farintion (a) Viriation (b) Variation (e) Variation (d)

Th Lancashire Simprise, the construction is just the sume, the Stedman blocks commeveing with a whole pull the opposite way fo Rrisial, the 5 th makes a peculiar variety of \(P\). Coure Shunt, taking up the Whole half lead to complete it. This is because it gets involved in the Stedran block. Futher, we may inake the Stedman blocks, Bristol fashion on one side of the treble and Lancashite Eashion on the other, either way about, and the lalf lead end is always 23456781,3
In Roysl it is possible to make ase of two Stedman blocks above the troble and two helow in each half lean. There is, however, overlapping of the middle pair, giving rise to a triple change when tho trebla is in 5-6: also the p. Count. Shunts are cut ont, leaving anly R. Court Slants in each position. From this circumstance, the method should be called "Bristol Surprise Royal, Norwich Fariation." The bells at the half led end ave, of course, in proper coursing order, inut, at a different stage to Mnjor, consequent on the cutting out of the F. Court Shunts, the order is 4263850791 at landstroke If no extremes are made when treble is leading and lying, we get the peculiar lead head 1860492735 , from which, although it is a regular Boh, Royal lead head, the fells ron round after three leads only. Thic other lead head having this property is 1795038264 . which results when extremes are used at the leading and lying of the treble, with a half lead end of 3597496081 . These two lead leade, together wilt rounds, form a round block. Herc follaws the method. Extremes shaula be used.

According to the difierent numbers of bells whieh may take pert in the Stedman blocks the Method may le rung in 180 variations, of which 10 are symmetrical or double.

I now give Bristol Surprise Royal along with Mr. Cravon's variation for comparison. It will be seen that in the correct form the (a) tpye of P. Court Shunt is used, wheteas Mr. Craven uses are each of types (c) and (d), Major uses the (a) type.

The order in which the Courl Shnats ocear shows conclusively that Bristol Supprise Royal is the correct form. In dajor they are in the order, R, \(P\), R: in Royal this becomes \(R, P, T, P_{1} R\). [n each of these the numbert of wariations possible is 30 , of which 5 tre symmetrical, and quintuple nod quadruple elanares ouly-
Finally, in Maximus we can have a Norwich variation withote overlapping of the Stedman blocks, and so having only sextuplo and cquis-without extremes 186042203957 , aud with both extremes \(142638507 T \mathrm{~F}_{1}\). In Bristol Surprise Maximus, the fwo central Stedman block over-duplicated and a Steriman bloek for each series \(\mathbf{R}, \mathrm{P}, \mathbf{R}\) on each bido of the treble. The half lead elld is \(52749608 T 01\), and lead head witlout extremes 13527496 e T0I, and wilh both extremes 1795 c 3 T20486.

On Marth 24th, 1856, Hyue ringers rang at Hyde 9,600 changes of Grandsire Major. After tho peal was rung, Mr. William Harrison, of Mottram, was presented with a walunble silver lever watels, fand appendages, the fift of the Hydo ringers, as a token of regard tor his attention during two yems in leaching them the art of change ringing.

The aitempt for a peal of 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximue nit Bow Chuwh, Cheapsiule, an Saturdiy, was unsuccessinal the rimging conung to an end in the eighth caurse, after marly three lonts.
There seem to have been no peals af record length rang at Bow, prineipally, we presume, on account of the weight of metal, although several long lengits were rung in the distnut pasi at Southwats, where the bells are very littlo lighter.

But Southwark lins long had twelve bells, while Bow was only made into twelve in 1881. T'leg had been a zing of ten from 1762, but even sa \(n\) Caters or Royn! records were made an this big peal, the fask being considered too great. But altheugh no records liave bean made there, there have boon some memorable performnaces.

Both the steeple and the bells of St. Mary-le-Bow perished in the Great Fire of 1666. They were rabuilt by Sir Christopher Wren, and an order for a peal of eiglat bells was then given to Jolin and Claris. topler Hodson, the finds to pay for same being derived from tha sale of the site of All Hallows', Soper Laue, which was not rebuit after the fire.

When a certain looal historian wished to give a lacture on All Saints' Church, Leicester, receatly, Tie desired to bring in the lyulls and their mseriptions. Onn of the ringers obligingly pulled the hells up, and left them so, to enable himz to get the foscriptions morn easily!

A remarkable peal was junt by the eight persous as under, caled the Quarter-peal of Oxfari Treble Bobs, all aght ins or the Uninh Bob, consisting of 20,080 changes which they rung in 6 houris 28 minutes on the ist clay of April, anno 1727. Theve was no chamge alike or bell out of course.' This is the recort of a peal at st. Michat's Cosiany, Norwheh, but in wiew of ithe limited knowlerlge at that tate concerning the composition of such peals, it is consideted highly probable that it was false.

The first peal of Gramlsive I'riples by Keut men ouly* was rung at Wye on Marelı 29 Wh \(_{1}, 1736\).

A 6,000 of Treble Bob Maxinus was rung at Southwayk on April lst, 1777, by the College Youtlis.

The peai of Gerandsire Triples rung at Walloon, Suscos, and recorded last week, was rung on the 35 tha annimersary of the first peal rung by the waldron band, viz., on March \(15 \mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{h}}\), 1890. Sis of ilve band are still alive, sud one, Mr. Albert Reid, passed isway an Teri, 13th this year, decply regretted and sexily missed.
7he Winchenter Guid bove a promising young ringer in John A Cole, of Goblaning, Surrey. Full of enthisiasm, he has shown perseverance and remarkable nluility, anki, secking practice with the band at Foly Trinity, Guildfors, lie lias within the space of three montlos rong lais first peals of Superlative, Cambridge nad London Surprisa Major.

\section*{ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL, DUBLIN}

TO BE MADE A UNIQUE PEAL.

By the addition of anether treble, tho bells at St . Patrich's Calthedral, Dublin, aro to be made unigue among ringing petals. There is ulteady an additional boh in the tower giving a choice of rings, and anotber bell above the present treble has now been offered, which will give a second peal of twelve, in D Minor, tenor 30 cwt ., and a thinti peal of ten in \(F_{3}\) tenor 19 cwrit.
Tho bell is to be the gift of Latiy Leeds Kay in mensory of her hasbanci, and the offer is only awaiting the fornal acceptance of the Cathedral Board, which meets on the 31st inst.

Of the bells at present lyung in the Catbedral, the back ten, with a tenor of 45 cwt, in \(\mathrm{C}_{\text {, }}\) were given hy Lord Iveagh in 1897. and with them is an additional B fat hell. The late Lord Jusfice Cherry gave two trelbles to make a peal of twelve in 1909.

Originalls there was a ring of cight, and two of then, the 3rd (cast in 1670) and the tenor (cast in 1670 and recast in 1809), are still used for occasional services, and the rest of the old peal stand in a room in the tower.

\section*{BISHOP ATTENDS MEETNG OF SOETHERN DIYISION}

The annusl meeting of the Southern Bivision was held at All Saints' Church, Sheffeld, on Saturday, by the kind pernission of ihe Fiear, the Rev. W. G. Largie, an honorary member of the assooiation. With the exception of four, all the towers in the division were represented, andi. wilh risilors from Chesterficlel. Killamarilh, Norton and Worksop, the number was krought up 1060 , an uttendance very gratifying to the officials, and, it is hoped, a good omen for future maerings, and the good of clange ringing in the division. Yarious nethods were practised during the afternoon, and a shart meeting was held, at which the Viear offeiated. Fis very interesting address was rery much enjoyed, as was also tha splentidid singing of the ehair bogs.
\(A_{n}\) excellent ten was served in the Institute, and the members were honoured ly the presence of the Lord Bishop of Sheffield, and the president mid hon. secretary of the association, the Rev. C. C. Marsthall and Mr. P. J. Johnson.
Immediately after teat, the Bislaop addressed the meeting, apologised for not being able to take the service. Ho rave and interesling aildress on the status of zingors in the scrvice of the elingly, anti the importance of that servicu.
His Jordship was accordeci a very hearty vote of thanks, on the proposition of the president, seconded by the getheral seerstary.
At the husiness neerting which followed, the Rev. C. C. Marshall Whet voted to the chair, and was supnorted hy the Virar. Mr, P. J. Johasan, Mr, Tr, Willey (vice-president), and Mr, (t. Halksworth (Ringing Master), -Nine new members were elected. vig. : Miss Nopl Cawthorne (Handisworth), fun Messrs. A. Wian (Tick hiln), T. Sarsby (Consborongh), R. Macfarlane (Sprothorougla, J. Ituke and T. G. Sarel (St. Maries), A. Marshal! (Darficld), J. Greaves (Fcclesfield) and J. Parker (Rammoor).

Mr. (i. Kalksworth (Doncaster) was rewlocted Ringing Masier for Wree years, and the retiring committee, #essrs. Cockey (Ranmoor), Wooler (Wortley) and Panther (Wath, were also re-elected.
Fotes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and for lite arduess: to the orgatist and choir hoys; aud to the local company for the escellent arrangenenis made, were passef, and were replied tin hy the Vient. This brought a most successful and enjoyabla menting ta s close.

\section*{ROTHERHAM PARISH CHURCH BELIS.}

\section*{A MAGNHFICEN' ADUIGION TO YORKSEIRT PEALS.}

In Saxon times, Rotherharn seems to lnve been a place of some importance. It had a Saxan chareh, it also had a markel, and It frir hefore the Norman Conquest. If there be uny trulls in the old Iraclition that its big neighbour, Sheffick, wias at one period of its history' A Will, Ne日r Rotherham, one his now the efrontery io say it applies with mate fore toway (when we speak of bells!) thata ever it did in tygone days, when Rotherlan lam its market aud fair, and Shuffeld had no such privileges. Strange, how history toneatedit T To visitors the I arish Chamelt of Rotherham is the chief object of attraction, its rare heauty is so great insomuch that it gives intereston the rery irregular fownship. The chureh is a most spacious and handsome fabric, huilt the the reign of bibward IV. no the site of a Saxon edifige, it is dediented to 'All Enints, and is indisputably one of the jnest parochial places of worship in Yorkshire.
On Wedmesiay, March 18th, "all ronds led thithew.' On entering the sacyed porral we foumd it packed to dhe utmost of its spating capacity, a revereut congregation awaiting-what? "The ceremony of the declication of the recast ring of ten bellis, recast and erected in memory of a true son of the church, a beloved and revered fellow-townsman-Rabert Dyson.
The impressive serviee commeneed with the sfiging of the liymm "Pleasant are Thy Courts,' a shortoned form of evensong followend infoned by the Vicar (Cyman Allen). Pathi 222 was chanted, and a former Vicar, Camon Goodmall, read the special lesson from Numbers x. followed hy the 'Nunc Dimitfis,' whinh was also chanted

At 3.35 , the sonl-stirting moment had arrived, hemeath the tracerimp roof of that spire stood the Eord Bishop of the Diocese of Sheffeld (Dr. Burrows), who delicaled lime bells in the faith of our Lerli Tesas Clurist, to the Eogour aud Glory of Gorl, and His Clureh, and ir memory of Robert Dysom, smul seting thent apart. from all profane and unlallowerl uses. Anou, a sweef welvoty note falls ipan the ear as the treble is raticd into tho inverted position, reminding one of the pure, elear and poetic heauty of a silvery voiced choir-hoy, whose poice rings out in solo as a praliminary to some grent anthem. Pieture the scenc. A congregation stading in mate reverance. the stilness broken only by the odious hoot of some passing motor, dispelled the next moment lin the lammonions song which burst forlh from the brazen throals of the recast peal: throngh the olf ehurel on theresl soundware their cadences ripple with soothing influence, ant in majestic grandeur nver the ameiont fowoship rolls the con fardant larmony of these magnificent bells.

Nover hefore in the chequered bell history of Rotherlam had such a stately half-minfled reguiem sobbed from lips of bronze, a lament finif sorrow, half exultation, in altermate permutation. Never beform had such chatming purity of tone, such lemperament poured over the heads of a congregation in that clarch. Never fiefore had at concourse of lumanity assembled outside and listened to suth a delightful nud well-balaneed Liturgy, to such a mutting rittial of the sotul.

Dr. Baker Dr. Knight, Mr: E. Knight, Mr. R. Fawcett (er-wardens) and Mr. Tyron.
During the contse of the evening, Mr. Deson referred to a thing that weighed most fnpart fron his own opinfon of the musical funlities of the old peal), when it came to question of recasting. There whas within recent rears a peal of iwelve (not many miles from lome), which had liad quite a eonsiflevable sum of monev spent upon them with very little improvement, and it was not his (Mr. Dyson"s) intention to have the jobs 'latf dono' al Rotherham with regard to the rehovalion and recasting which have been so generously undertaken its a memoriol to the inte Mr. Rohert Dpson The cost being defrayed by the widow. Mr. W. Dyson and Mrs Knight (son and daughter) 'itoves itn lo the lillt 'that the Dyenn family lave blways taken a ripep and sincere interest in Rothorliam Church, and difficult it would be evon to try and estimate the oxtent F their minificence

\section*{THE CRITICISMS OF 'CRITICUS.' \\ PA[O RTNGERG-THE GLOSSARY.}

Wo sometines diacuss abiong ourselves the pronriely or otherwise of the payment of riugers in these days. 1 am with those who say that wo ought to be a purely voluntary body; giving our servies orecpt in spegial cases) for the pleasure which we get out of ont ath. I hays usually Cound on my travels that the boliries where the risitor is least welcomed are those where the ringers receive some raserable pittance for ringing the bells ofl sundays; and it is ceranaly tho genoral rule that paid ringers are less concerned atrout follow the anxiety of some men that I know, who bango on to the 'loaves and fishes,' nud set themsefves ugainst the utroduction of roug blood, because they ure atraid it may affectir their pocket to the extent of a few shillings a year. There are very fow, if any, cases shore the riagers are paid a sum at all commensurale with the fime they give, and if bie practice of paying riagers is to be contimued urgt there not to be a trade urion to secure a proper recognftion of the services remdered?
Tho extracts irom ancient accomnts which were given in * Belfry liussip " Inst, week induced me to return to a perusal of some old reroxds, reproduced in Mr . Cheethan's 'Clurch Bells of Luncashire.' Whey usorl to pay the ringers pretty well for their job at St, Nieholas', Livorpool, a hundred and more years ago. Eighteen shillings seems to have been ille price of the services of six men for special occasions, with a lump sum of \(£ 1617 \mathrm{~s}\). 6d. for their Sunday ringing for one yoar. In the year 1799 they paid six men for ringing on the King's birthday, on Jine 4th, 18s.; and a similar amount on each of the following oceasions in the same year; July 12 l h for the news of General Suwarrow's fictory; August 12th, for the Prince of Wales' Hirthday; August 19tl, for the news of the taking of the Duteln deet ; September 5th, for news of taking of Alexanifia and MLantua; Soptember 22nel, for the King's Goronation: Octuber 25u, for the King's Astension to the Ehrone; Noveruber Sth, for Gimpowder Plot Decmber 25th, for rimging on Clatimat Day and New Year"s Day In nddition, they latd 53 Js , for 'ringing 3 days for Bishop." They do not pay for as many ' extra' days in these times, ovell in the best remunerated hetfries.
These ancient recorta from parish documets thake interesting read iwe. At Liverpool the men were encouraged to attend church, for in 1746 it was Ordered that a peal shall be rung at the ohe elumeh enery Sumalay, both moruing and afternoon, at the time of going into dureh, and chat the ringers slakl have liberty to sit in the seat next o tho bell house doon, and that the Sexton take care to secure the ame for them.' Appareaty about this time they used to infiet the passing belf ; upon the parishioners for so long at a sireteld that a special order had to be issued to limit it. Irobably the sexton was paid by the hour; anyhow, to curb his endhusiasm in this department, on Sept. 21st, 1752 , "if is ordered that no passing bell be tothed at any Parish Chureh in this town longer than an lour upon no donsideration; and if the sexton sufter it, that be pay for the use of the Parish five shillingg for every offence, to be received by the Clurch Wardeas for the time being.
Paid ringing fas been with us as long as ringing in the form we know it has existed. The Chureh book of Childwail records that in 1635 a meeting of parfohioners ordered that 'he that keopeth the doch and ringeth curfews shall have xid. per annun for his paynes; unl also the ringers vis. viiid, per annum to ing evefy Sunday in this manner following, to witt, the sexton one peale att seaven of the clock, the clark and sexten another peate at eiglnt of the elooe, and the clark, sexton and the other ringers another peale att nyne of he clock. There aro mant other qurotations which I should like to give, ulach! I dm sure rould interest my readers, bui I hare quoted sultient history to show that the paid ringer is a relic of the "good ofl days \({ }^{\text {3 }}\) and any athempt to rob him of his (raditional emolument , hound to be fresisted. Personally, as I have said, I look forward lo the day when all ringiag for services will be evtirels voluntary lut if that is not possifie, why should there not be an agitation to make the punishment fit the crime or the paymeut fit the job?
Looking through these old records, I cane across several ancient, and, to me, strange, expressions in regard to bells. In seeking information, I naburally went to the 'Glossary,' published by the Central Council, and, in turning over ithe pages I could not help feeling that it. is nearty time this vary usefinl litite book was brought uplodate. It was published ia 1901, and there are terms which we now use which ouglit to find a place there, and some, which are already there, thon reçuire amending: When the 'Glassary' was pabisher is supplied all that was required by way of definitions, but we have progressed since then, and there is substantinl revision mesesaey. For instance, the classification of methods wants dealing pith. The rarious giades such ns ' Ploasures,' 'Delights,' ete., up to that jaw-breaking word ' Passalatessera' (or whatever it is) are not includted, and even + Surprise ' is given the entirely obsolete definiton of " a name attached to certain Treble Bols methods, in which Lhe work of the course is highly elaborated and more or less difficult of execution." 'That, of course, satisfactorily filled the bill a quazter of a century ago, but it is quite out of the running iu these more scienlific days.

But the part which to my mind requires most overhating is the appendix, in which it lavge number of methods are ' described.' The deseription may be accurake, so far ag it goes, bat I defy amyone who does not know any of these melbods to bing them from a mere study of the explanation given. Samething much mave readily understandahe by the ordinary inielligence is necessary, and the Council might well set to work to revise this part of the book, if-and I suy "if' udviscaly-it is renlly worlit while to include this appendix, Wost of the methods given are already included in oflier Lext books, and more explicitly dealt with. But jf they must be given, let them be se set onst that they can be understoon by anyoze approaching then from the standpaint of a learner. The 'Glossary" is a lithe volume that ouglit to be in every ringer's possession; it is one of the most walluable of the Conncil's publications, and I hope it will not be long before they set ahoul its rerision. These jobs take time. It wond probably be two years from now bafore auy vevised copy would be teady for printers, and it would lue anwise to wait until the presont edition is exhausted before taking the matter in land.

\section*{To the Edilor}

Sir,-It is undortmate that Mr. Baker and MIr. Williams should have taken my little joke so seriously. I thougint I had exaggerated so obviously that no one could be luitt. I can only say, I am very sotry.
I \(\quad\) m \(\quad\) however, glad to avail myself of this apportauity of saying that I have all nlong felt sure that Mr. Gcorge Baker has the liruth of the matier in him, but that lie doess not seem, so fint, to lave made it clear to the Exercise in general. If I conld luep bim to do so, I shomal he only too glad, I lave in the past adonted Mr. George Willians' suggestion, aud asked him for information (if not in your coltums at any rafo ins Bell News ' in the past), but I regret to say it was not fortifeming.
Those from whom I lave learat to preach or speak or write, have impressed on me the importance of always directing my arguments to the gerson with the least intelligence among those whom I am addressing. In whut I have written lately, I have adopted this role, that of the least intelligent of those whom Mr. Baker, for fastance, is addressing. So when lie says (so kindly) that he cabnot give me frains to undersiand or when Mr. Williams says I show a want of knowledge of the subject, it proves that I have succeeded in what I gel ont to do: lut I ana sadly afraid that it also proves that they lave not succeeded. For if I do not understand, or do not know, and yet am sufficiently interested to discuss these mattere, surely I am quite tine sort of persan for whom they ale writing. Mr. Baker cannot really mean that lie gets you to priut his articles just for the "three persons in the United Kingdom, ant ane in Fa* New Zealnond," of whom lie speaks.
Your article in defence of these technical cliselsssions is rery much to the point, and I am sure you will agree that if such dismosions are to be profitable to as large a number as they slatald be, everyone must always be careful to "rlefine their terms": and egpecinlly to avoid mislending new readers by using confusing bames, of which the word "Shunt" is a glaring example,
In conclusion, may I give an instance of the geedless dificultios which Mr. Baker supplies, by asking hinm when he has adopted the term 'Shunt ' (or Step), why he goes on to speak of Double. Two-Bell and Four-Bell Shunts ; (ove Steps), without explaining the exact differenco these opithets imply?

And why, when he lass been told repeatedly, that the words 'proof of consfruction,' convey no meaning lo us, roes he go on using them? Ringing may be in some ways an abstrase art; but the Eagisin languake is easy enouglt if we only use it properly

\section*{THE REVIVAL IN THE FYLDE}

It is gratifying to read that at length there seem to be signs of real revival in the Fylde district of the Lancashire Association, where, for a long time past, apparently unavailing efforts had been made to create interest and enthusiasm in tinging. For years the officials, and particularly the secretary, have had an uphill and disheartening task, and less stouthearted men would long since have thrown up a thankless and discouraging struggle. Patience and preseverance appear now to be reaping their reward, and support such as that which was forthcoming at last Saturday's meeting must have been a matter of great satisfaction. Only those who have tried to build up an organisation in the face not merely of apathy, but of discouragement, if not of actual hostility, have any notion of the difficulties which have to be confronted, and only enthusiasm for the cause, coupled with great tenacity of purpose, can overcome the trials that confront the organiser. The report of last Saturday's meeting shows that at last Mr. Sharples is meeting with the success for which he has so long laboured.
Now that the district is really awaking to its own interests, there is hope that steady proyress in the Fylde may be assured. Among the large associations, the Lancashire is one of the most virile, but in parts the county presents no small difficulties of organisation, difficulties which patient labour is sure to overcone, and the lesson of the Fyide ought not to be lost. The one thing that astonished us is that ringers, professing even a limited interest in the art, should ever be so apathetic over the activities of their association. This apathy is to be found in many places, and is by no means limited to any one society. All associations suffer from it in some area or at some time, and strong and persistent efforts are re quired to overcome it. Unless the officials are themselves keen, bands will lapse and eventually break away from the parent organisation.
It is not easy to find a quick solution of the problem. Can the associations make themselves more altractive than they are? It is not enough to ask a man to join an association merely for the moral support which he thus gives to it, for, while we always argue that a ringer should seek what he can put into the art rather than what he can get out of it, we hold that the big organisations should make membership as attractive as possible. In many cases they do not do all that is within their power for backward companies-backward not only in the ringing sense, but also in their sense of duty to their association. As we have so often pointed out, the aims and (Continuad on page 270.)

duties of an association are not completely met by the mere hoiding of quarterly meetings. Wherever there is a backward band, or one where progress is slow, the parent society ought to get right into that bellry, and not leave it until the company is well on the high road to success. There are a lew cases, perimps, where such help would not only be unweleome, but probably resented. Instances of this kind require tactful handing, but they can be oyercome, and discouragement need not come with rebuffs. But in the vast majority of cases sfeady and consistent help such as we have suggested would be glady acceptec, and in the long run the association would profit from the loyalty and support which it would gain.

\section*{RBOPENING OF RECASD IRNG}

After an interval of two years the bells of l'qesthute Churel were rumg toy the turs tirme on Saturday, March 14th, when, luvitg been recast alad rebung, they were dedacated, in the presence of it large congregation, by Uamon R. ©. Abhote, a former housemasier al Preshute House, and now suitugan Bishop-designafe of sherborne.

Uanon Absott, previous to the dedication, dolivered a very forceful address on the uses of the church's musjeal instruments, partjcularly bells. He said that in the early history of the chureb the belld wore considened so holy that only the priests, by virtue of their holy office, were allowed lo ring them. He spoke of this because he wanted the present-day ringers to realise the sacredness of their otfice as ringers.
\(H_{e}\) then fledicated the beds, lazading them over to the care of the Vicar and wardens. Whi'n the Camon and clergy returned to the chancel, rounds were rumg by the local ringels.

After the service, touches were ramg by various bands, including ringers from St . Mary's, Marliborough; "St. Peter's, Marlborougla; Ogbourne; Ogbourme St. George; St. Catherituc, Collingboume; Hedwyn, East Grafton and other fawers.
The mombers of the Salisbury Diocesan Gujk were afterwards entertained to tea by the Vicar and Mrs. Barlett.
The five present bells have been cast from the old metal made up to the weight of the former ones, with shape, moulding, dates and inscriptions carefully reproduced. The recasting and fitting of the holls liave been ably carvied out by Messis. Gillett and Jolinston, of Croytlon.
Replying to a vole of thanks proposed hy the Rev. F. S. Arrowsrnith, the hon. secretary of the Marlborougti Branch of the Diocesan Gulld, the Vicar saicl how pleased he and Mrs. Bartlett were do welcome so many tingers and friends. He hoped to meat them agnin before long, whed a Guild meeting could he arranged at his chureh. On behalf of mil the subscribers and parishioners, lie wished to say low plensed they ald were with the bells-his ringerg liad told hims the "go' was perfoct-and he wished Mr. S. Roper, who was representing Messirs. (itlletit and Jolnstan, to ronvey their best thanes to Mr. Jolmston for nll the trouble his firm had faken.
The tone of the yegtoren tuelts is particulsrly goorl, the mellaw richness of the tone of the old bells having heen retained and improverl lay their having beun tuned on modern lines.
As a conlimuation of the dedicalion festival, " sperial service was hecld on the Sunday morning. at which the Mayor, aldermen, courcillars, aremeta and Corporation emplayes of Marlborongh wert present. Thr Marlhorough town hanri, taking their stand in the belfry, accompanied the hymis. Mathorough Boy Scouts were also preseni. Before and after this service the helis were rung by the local ringers.

\section*{APPLETON'S 'FOURTH OF MARCH.' ANNIVERSARF OF FAMOUS BELLS GELEBRATED.}

The time-honoured 'Warel the fontlit ky, being the day which saw Hhe commencenment of the Eamous riug of lem at Appleton 107 years ago, was celebrated this year on Saturday, March 7th, it being generally agread by those most concernen that it is worth movithg from the actual fourth in order to secure a day in the week which is convenient to mast prople. No peal was attempted, but the tower was open for riging to all-comers: an arvangement much appreciated, if one may judge from the way the hells were kept going in Stedman and firandsire until op-m. That being the hour of dinner, it then becamu apparent that a goorly number of wisitors laat heen in and aloout the villege during the day sufficient anyhow to test the campass of the Thatelied Tavern to the utmost. Many cane who had heen ofter before-notibly Mr. G. Philloth, who is on the way to leceping bis jubilee 'Fourth.' These renewed old friendships: otlers came for the frish time, and made new friends and rowed to come again.
The Master, treasirer ast seetelary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild -mparted the Rector (the Rev. F. C. R. Jourdani and the heads of thing Appleton Ringing Society. Messrs, G. Holifield and R. White. Dimer was well served by Host and Hostess Brown, the 'sperrit. ang nsual heing on the menu then followed "the afterwards, when dimerg from two rooms managed to insert the greater part of themselves, their pipes and glasses into one, and movernents had to be carefully flanght out beforehnmd: indeed, one was yersinded of the tale, 'Father says furn and we all turns. Many songs were sung and speoties made, but the most iopular item as asual was tume ringing on handbells by the Brothers White. Bcantiful hells! Cast in the village; and they were ably handled.
Sorme time hefore the end of the evening tho writer had to leave, but he was fissured that the remsinaler consisted of muchi more of what was good.

\section*{RESTORATION OF SKELTON-IN-CLEVELAND BELLS.} REOPENING OF A FINE PEAL OF EIGHT.
The bells at Skelton-in-Cleveland have been reopened after restoration. They have been rehung on bull bearings, and put into proper working condition by Bessrs. Ments and stambank, of the Whilechapel Foundry, and Fingers from Widdlesbowongh, Sultburm, Dayligg ton and Stockion (totalling some 30 in all) gathered in the lible vilInge to join the local hand when onee again this graml peal of eight werd rung. The 23 cwt. tenor was teclared to run "liket a top," and the various bands were delfghted with the 'go' in their ringing of Superlative, Double Norwich, Stedman, Kent, Bob Major amb Grandsire Triples.
A sliort serviee took place in the chareh, and the ringers were welcomed by the Vicar in an eloguent discourse. His remarks on the bells were listened to with great interest, and the information he expounded camo as a revelation to many gresent.
A bountiful tea was provided by the local band and the Ficar; indeed, so bountifinl was the supply that the appetites of the ringers (large though they were) proved incapable of making any noticeable impression on the ropast, and the hosts were compelled to ask their guests to return to the altack at a supprer. Evell then there most lave been enough cakes left over to feed the village of skelton for a week.

Mr. Metealfe (secretary of the Gleveland and North rorkshire Ringers' Association), in proposing a vote of thanks to the tionors of The feast, spoke of the pleasure it lud given him in acting as *ovarscer ' of the job, which hath been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainhank's representative in a most thorough and workmanlike manner.Mr. Newton (of Stocktonl. in seconting, suggested that tho church should ondeavour to have the numerous handbells which were in the tower renorated.

The Yicar respanden, and thanked Mr. Metcalfe for his vers great assistance on the job, and also promised to see that the matter of the hantibolls had the vely earnest attention of the church. He also invited the ringers to attend his wedring, whieh Je assured them wonld be taking place within the next 50 or 100 years! (latugter).

Tho guests were highly amused by the conversation of two of the oldest inhabitants, overlaeard on the return to the belfry.
First Septimgenarian: 'My word, but, the old bells do sound nico to-day, Jake.'
Second dito: 'Yes, lhoy do, but hearen help us to-morror when our own leds start kicking up a row?"
It is stated that the local capiain has wot yet recovered from the shock.

\section*{To the Zatior.}

Sir,Could you possibly find room for the followng in connection witl the peal of Stedman rung at Atderslot, and recorded in your peal columins last week?

On Wednesday, Mareh \(18 \mathrm{th}_{\text {2- }}\) the Aldershot War Memorial was unveiled br His Royal Highness Prince Henry, and it was hoped that a half-maffled peal would be attempted by the local band. Owing to the Isenten service at 7.30 p.m., an evening attempt was impossible, ant the occupation of the very few members of the Aldershot company prevented an afternoon attempt boing made.

This was not realised until noon on Monday, tle 16 th, when a telephone message was passed to a certain gentleman in Guildford, asking lim what the possibilities were of producing a band and commencing ringing at the unveiling hour. From this time onward thinge 'buzzed '-telephone, telegraph, train, the conductor's motor-cycle and sidecar (and the usual thoronghness with which he does things) were brought into use, and the rosult was a beantifui peal of Steriman, half-muffled, at Aldershot Parish Clurch. Our art could not pay a finer tribute to the "Glorious Dcal."

One may ask, why the heading? The answer is this. The band dit not consist of a lady and gentlentar of feisure, and some members (at a great inconvenience to themselves), when approached, at once snid, 'It is our duty.' Tlis duts meunt loss of time. and loss of time meane a short week, apard from monns of travel from such places as Guidiord, Londou, Woking and Walton-on-Thames, The thanks of Aldersliot (particularly the docal ringers) are due, and are conveyed by this means, to those members who, at such short notice, came over and grae their best possible in ringing.
Trusting I am forgiven for so far trespassing ou your valuable space,

ONE OT THE LOCAL BAND.

\section*{OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.}

An excellent ringing meeting of the Fask Berks and South Buck branel was held at. Oil Windsor on Saturdny. The methods rung induded Grandsire and Sterlman Triples, Plain Boh, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Rof and Cambrifge Surprise Major.

\section*{LANCASHIKE ASSOCIATION. \\ MORE ENTHUSIASM IN FYLDE BRANCH}
'It is the dawn of a new era in the district.' This is the question prompted by the successful meeting of the Fylde Branch held at futham Parislı Clarelı on Saturday last, when there were aearly 30 mentrets present. Finging commenced at 2.45 , and a bright litlle service took place in church at 4.30 . Througla bise kind generosity of Mr, Smitl Roberts (churchwarden) tea was provided in the Parish Hall.
The busjaess menting followerl immediately after, and was presided over by the Vipar (the Req. H. G. Rosher, M.A.), who said how pleased he was to see so many present, instead of the usual seven or eight. Perliaps, in the near future, there would be as large numbers as lie fand seen at Tarnworth when Vicar there. He enplasised the need for mueting and mixing one with another. It helpcht to broarien one's mind, and enabled them to escape from the narrow rat of prejudice and conceit. The Vicar expresed a diesire to hecome an honoraty member of the association, along witls Mr. Roberts, the churchwarden. He thso hoped in future that the association mombership fees for encla ringer of the Parish Church wault be paid out of the clanch funds.

The Vicer and churchwarden, with cight ringers, were made members en loloe.
T'lle Vicar said he would suggest at the next Ruri-ctncanal Chapter, to be hold early in May, that each clurch in the Fylde district, which possesses a prait of luells, should pay the association membership fees annually for each ringer.
It was decided, on the Vicar's suggestion, that the anmuad brancla meding be held in Tune instead of Oetoler. He offered the Ficarage prounds for bowlg and clock golf, if they would hold the anmual raceting there in June. Noedless lo say, the meeting decided to ncept the invitation, and holif the anmul meefing there on Iune bih A touch of Grandsire Triples on lamithells foltowed: C. Slarples 1-2, A. Hague (conductor) 3-4, B, Barraclough 5-6, W. Rateliffe 7-8; also a course of Grandsire Catern, which were enthasiaslically received.
A learty wote of thanks was passed to the Ficar for presiding; to Mr. Roberts for providing tea and tefreshments; and to the organist mad Tadies who served tea. A little more ringing on the tower belis bronthit to melose the most successfal meeting helrl by the Fryde Franch since 1914.

\section*{ESSEX ASSOCIATIUN.}

A weeting of the members of the South-Western Division was helri at Stanford-le-Hope on Saturday, March 21st. The bulls were availa Jile from 2.30 p.m., and were kept going till 4.30 , when a serview was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. Russell\}. Tea, kind!y provided by Mr. and Mrs. Welcher, was aflerwards partaken of.
At the meeting whin followed, five new memhers were elecled, Lhree from Stanfort-le-Hope and two tron West Tilbury.-A hearty wote of thanks was accorded the Rector for permission to hold the meeting; to Mr. and Mus. Belcher for providing tea; and to Mr. W. Wade for having every "ing in readiness.
The Rector and Mr. Belcher responded, and bolli said they hoped it would not be long bofore another visit was paid to Stanford-leHope by the members of the association.

Buring the afternoon bive recouits rang their first 120 , and the loope was expressed that they would perscfere unti] they became proficient.
Thirtw-tlaree members were present, representivg the following towers: Hornchurcł, West Tilhurg, Leyionstone, Slıenfeld, Orsett and Romford, logether with the local band, and touches of Mah and Grandsire Doubles, Flain Bob, Treble Bob, Doutle Court, Cambridge and York Surprise, were brought round during the tay.

\section*{SUCCESSFUL GATHERING AT HARISWW.}

A meeling of the North-Western Division was held on Safneday, March 21st, al Harlow, at the Churely of St. Mary-the-Virgin. The spleadid gathering that assombled was fur beyond expectations, ant the felfry was practicnlly packed out during the whole of the affernoan and evening. Fepresentativos arrived from Satron Walden, Bishop's Stortford, Stansted, Harlow Common, Roykion and Epping Epland, and the members were pleasen to welcome visitors from other associations. The bells were rung until 5 o'clock, when flae companv retired to St. Mary's Institute to partake of an exeellent fea.

The businexs meetrag followed, when Mr. F. J. Pitstow was elected to the chanr.

It was decided that the next mecting be helri at Shwhridgeworth. Two bew ringing memhers, hoth from Harlow Common, were electod. It was agreed ibat a hearty vote of thanks be sent to the Rev. Wilkinson for the use of the bells. ete. This concluded the busiress macting, and the company again wisited the belfry. During the day tonclues of Stuperlative, Boh Major. Stedman Triples, Cambridge Surprise, Double Norwient and Grandsire Triples were indulged in. In closing. it is desired to thank all those who attended and helped to make this such a pleasant and successfits meeting.

\section*{BIRMINGHAM RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING}

\section*{MR. AND MES. THOMAS RUSSAM'S JUBILFE.}

Ringers throughout the country will join in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russam, of Birmingham, upon celebrating their golden wedding, and wist them still many years of life and happiness together. Thay were married at St. John's Church, Birmingham, on Marel 29th, 1875, and they nuw reside at 114, Walford Road, Gparkbrook. Unfortunately, Mr. Russam is at present confnerl to hed. He was trken ill with influenza and bronchitis a few days after the recent Jolnson Dinner, and is not yet sufficieatly recovered to get up, aithough he is, we are pleased to say, slowly improving.
What ringer that has visited Birmingham does not know Tom Russum. He is onc of the links willy a past generation of famous men. and ono of the pilters of St. iturtin's Guild, of which le is one of tho vice-presidents. His ringing career has been even longer than his long marvied life, for it began as far brack as 1869 at Bishop Ryder's Clurch, whetre lio was also in the choir. He liad become interested in bells even earlier than the rate montioned, for as a lnd he used to elimb, with others of his age, to the belfry and wateh with wondoring eyes the old man (callen? Puffer ' Malin, because ho was also organ blower) pulling the rope for servies. They soon hail a desire to ring the hell themselves, and al hast it was almost a fighe as to who shathla have a pull. Whem the peal was put in in 1968, Thom Russam became a regular ringer.

MR THOMAS RUSEAM.
He soon met the gizants of that thay, Jolunson, Chattell, lerks, Fallswortly, Bidhliestone, etc., and used to sil, so to spenk, ae the fect of the miglty, pieking up knowledge fion their conversation. There ware few instublian boaks on riaginy in those days, so tho learner had no easy job. In this connection Mr. Russanz is one of the few Birningham ringers who had the priwilege of going to 'Billy' Chattell's takery, where this wortliy used to dernonstrate the slow mork' in Stedman by a movel method of his own,
At that fime J. Banister (af Woolwich) was towerkecper at Bistop Ryder's, and it is to him bir. Rusam owes it that. log lad such a ouble fuition in the art. He always maintains that of all the ringers 'te has ever mel, he has never secn Banister's equal in the graceful handing esther of tower of lundbells. It was always his ambition fo bry ind imitate him, nut we may sny here that Mr. Russam has theen very sumesafut, for he is an oxcedingly praceful ringer, partiularly on hambluells. In those drys the Birminghan nen were very seeu on lrandmells, and the practices uged to conmence on the Monray and finish the fohowing Sunday evening, usually at a place town as 'Old Jom Nixan's.' The sninfithas thescented to the ringers A-Hay, for there is no bnat morecapable in ringing Stedman Cinques is still among the nust veliable. He was one of those who rang in the handbell peal of Stedman Sextuples.
Mr. Russam bas spent a lot of time teaching both tume playing and tower-hell linging, the last of tlae lunc playing bauds to gu througlt lis lands being Cadbury's Moseley Institute. He was experi ardviser in connection wilh the purchase of 80 handhells from Barwell's for this band, and was instructor to them for fwo years. Thu: last tower-bell band he instructed was at Erdingtion Parishl Church.
Mr. Russam was tower-kecper at Bishop Rycler's for a Lime, aucl afterwards for many years al, Aston.
A jeweller's engraver by treate, Mr. Russam is nol blest witla very Fobust health, and therefore confines his ringing to the lighter cod but he is a remarkably 'safe" ringer, and a splendid etriker.

The performance to which he gives pride of place was not a peal at all, hut a touch of Stedman Cinques rung double-handed at. dinner givell at the Colonnade Hotel, Birminglam, Jy Sir Arthur Heywoor (then plaia Mr.) to celebrate Henry Johnson"s 80th birtluday. in 1889. The guesto were representative of all the ringers in Englant, and, as he says, to the हlory of St. Martin's company, the touch came off withouf a hitch, the striking being absolutely fautless.' It Whs unique innsmucl as scores of excellent rimgers in the room had never heard twelwe-bell ringing on haudbells before. Indeed, it was supposed to be the frst touch of Stedman Cinques ever rung pubicly. Mr. Russam was a member of the Birminghame and District Assnciation, and the Birmingham Amalgamated Society from their formation antil their decease. He was also a Holt Society man until ihat society was absorbed by the St. Hartin's Guild, and for the latter he liad the honour of calling tho first peal. (Previous to the amalgamation it was the St. Martin's Soctety.) He is now a member of tho St. Martin's Guild and the Stafortisire and Midlam? Countios Asa ciations, and a regular Sunday service ringer at St. Martin's. H, took pair in the first peal of Grandsire Cinques on liandbells, and the first double-handed peal of Sterman Cinques out of Jondon, this heing also the second ever rung. His handbell peals also inciude : 10,000 Grandsire Major. He rang in rhe ouly peal of Duffied Maximus ever rumg, and was one of the band chosen lo represent Dirminghan ati the opening of the ring of ten at Leominster in 1894.
He rang in the first peal of Stedman Cinques in which a lady took part (conducted छy Miss Patket. at St. Marlin's), and has himself coniucted a fow peals of Grandsire Triples, Boh Mnjor and Royd. Mr. Russam has not kept a record of all his peals, but as near as he enn gather luis peals on tower hells inclune Grandsire, Stedman, Plain gnd Trehle Bob, Douhle Norwich, Cambridge. Duffield. Formard and Frin; everything from Triples to Maximus. On landbells, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob, the first named from Triples to Cingues, and Stedman from Triples to Sextuples, including everything from Triples to Cinques in the two former methods. His first peal in a Surprise methot was at Solihull, when he rang a working bell to Cambridge Royal at the first attempt. Reing lylessed with a good memory, Mr. Russam can fell many good yarns of the Birmingham ringers he lias known Abring the pasi 50 years and mare. and their little peculiarities, and when he is in remimiseent mood, his listeners will be kept in a roaring laughter. We lope Mr. Russam will soon be seen again in his place in St. Martin's helfry.

\section*{MR. C. F. BAILYY'S RECORD AT LETSTON}

Mr. Charles F. Bailey, of Leiston, rang on Saturder his one humdredils Surprise peal on the bells of his own tower, all of which he has conducted. This is another most interesting record in this monderful family, and has been accomplished in thirteen vears ringing, if the four war vears are elininated. The first peal was rung on January 25th, 1908 , and in calling a peal of Bristol from the treble on Saturday. Mr. Bailey has now conducted a peal in this method from every hell. Hetween 1908 and 1913 the methods rung were Superlatipe, Cunbridge and New Cambridge anty, there being 15 of Superlative, 11 of Cambridge and four of New Cambridge. In 1914 theve werc two peals of Bristol and one of Guildfarti Surpise. Then came the war, and nothing more was done antil 1919. The total number of methods included in the eentury has, howerer. risen to 13. as follows: Stuperlative 22. Cambridge 23, New Cambridge 5, Rri22. Guildford 4. Lankion 15. Suffolk 2, Dublin 1, Norfolk I. Forkshire 1. Lancashire I, Ediuburgh 1. Ronhester 2. The numbers rung in the respective yeare lave heen: 1908. 4: 1909. \section*{DEATE OF MR. F. W. RICE. \\ A WELL-KNOWN SUSSTK AND SORREY RLNGER.}

We regret to anoounce the death of Mi. Frederick W. Rice, of liedtill, Surrey, who passed to his rest on Mawh 19ils. Tlie deceased, who was in his 64th year, succumbed to su attack of protiuronit, fullowing at brief illness.

For some years he liad been a membor of the luan at Reigeto Parish Chureb. He had always been most rugular ju his attendance at both service tud practice rouging, and his deall, which has come thus unexpectedly, will cause a great loss to the company.

Mr. Rice was an accomplished tinger, and will be best remembered athong the older generatian of the Exerase tor the part lye wook in the successes of the Crawley (Sussex) hand in the heyday of their prosperity, thirty years aga. A native of Warth (a parish adjoining Urawley), Mr. Rice began lais ringing with the ald hand at his own chnreh, hat he soon found they were mot masters of the art of change ringing. He, therefore, sought lis practice in heighbouring toxers, and, after a few years, lie was ainle to get a young band to replace the old oute in his uative parish. Hr, Rice rang lis tivst two peals At Warulant, wiz., Oxford Bob Triples, on November 20th, 1886, and Grandsire Triples on the following day. He had belonged to the old Crawley band for severul years, fand when a now hamd was formed, under the leadership of Mr. James Parker, he was glat to get back to a peal of eight. The Cratilet band made wonderful progress, and in most of their peals Fred Rice was to be found on the tenor, which bell he rang lo the long peal of Superlative, the then recoril of 9,312 in 5 hours 20 shinutes, on December 26ith, 1894. Only two or thice of this band now survire, the ringers laving ben Edward Jomlan, John Rice, Alferd Mids. William Ward, Frederick Dench, Robert Jordau, dames Parker and Frederick W. Rice. Allogether Mrr. Rice had rung 230 peals iu mathods ranging from Bob Minor so London Surprise Major, and amoug this long lengths, addition to the superlative, were 8.780 Cauterhury Pleastre Major and 10, 176 Kent Treble Boh at, Warilam.
Mr. Rice, who among thase who knew himz best. was romething of a character, spent a long and aetive career it the Excrcise. and lis enchey wes mainlained to the end, as, only a few days before lis death, ho conducted a 720 Boh Minor af Merstham.

From lime to time we liave read criticisms of the ratser loose terguinology miployod it oun art, ant sometimes anc lias wondered how it las been brought about, bul recent corresponlence enlightens us ou tho point, and wo need poader the subject no longer. If in these colightencl days our experts grope round for words to express heil mennings and use terms which, when exumined, are really misapplied, there is great cxeuse for our forefathers who had not the adsantages of twantioth century educakion. The iatest illustration of our laxity of method in funding suitalile terms, lums on our old friead 'shuat.' We nuwer have stuck entirely to dictionary definitions of the words we use, amy more than the dietionary gives a slriatly accurate defintion of out use of terms, For ibstance, in standard' work lying ou my desk gives me many meanings of the word 'Job, adding, dunag lell ringers, a peal af several courses, or sets of changes.' lhut I and not, concernerk just now with what the dichionary says about pur curious 'lingro.' What I atu concerbod with is the manaer in which we select words and apply them to special uses, when a little consideration would cause fis to reject the term as inappropriate. Horeover, what makes our vocahulary all the worse is that in some as in the case of 'course.
Now we are getting, or, I ouglt to say, have got, the same thing in regard to "shumt." Formerly the use of this word in ringing indicated merely the insertion or omisgion of a call or calls to divert a copposition from one point to another. Now we use it for some eanstructional detail of a thethod, and it is given varying signifonance accoming to whether you prefix \(P\) or \(R\), or, may bo, \(X, Y\) or \(Z\). But Whether "slumt. or "step," or aby other old tiorm is the right one, what we watl is some fetinite sretem by which these words should cons into our vocabulars and not liave it left, laphazard, to every I'ont. Diek and Hary, to make confasion worse coufounded by sefecting any word which he just faucres answers his purpose at the moment. We shall havo to lame a Defnitions Roard to settle these Hfings, to tell us whether the terms wo select are appropriate to the nse we watt 10 make of them; whether they overlap or fall short; whether they are sease or nonsense. In all seriousness, however, I would appeal to the Central Council to do something to disentangle our focalalaty, and they miglat very well do it when they put in hand the terision of the "Glossary." to which I refrered last week.
We all like to be informed which man rings his first or his one Innelredth peal, which peat is the first in the method on the bells or nark a performance; but, without particularising and thus offending anyone's susceptibilities, there are only too often in the peal columns eritences of peals tung, apparently for the mosi inadequatc reasons, and we are burdened with details which can be of no interest to anyone but the writer of the report. It would be a goorl rule, I would put on a poal loan limit their footnotes strictly to what they matters it if the loirthday of they wele laving one erected. What bappens to fall on the clay before, or in the week after? It does not justif the infiction of three hours of ringing on the parishioners, nad hells would not be obtained for peals on that ground afone. A peal mports Thore wiso find an intmere the Toditor will back me up in this.
Thome wio find an interest, as I do, in searching among the rausty plienis to us by past, or reading the history of ancient hells, as supwith the quaintly worled agreements county hishories, are familiar ween elnatela officials and bell founders, enors a legal instrument dratm nithetwent the vicar and wardens in 1745 , ringers. I don't know whelber 'any four of the sait body' exercised their right of turning our any other, hat in the following year, when another ngrement was axecuted, thore were two fresil names among the ringers. 'I ne foticles show llat the ringers' appointments were considered a serions matter in those days.

Incidentally, Cheetlam'ss "Clareh Bells of Lancashire,' from whioh I have taken the above extract, tells an interesting story of the Oldan ringers and their rivalry with their neighbours of ashton-under-Lync more thati a century ago; indeed, the 'feeling ' between the two seems to have sprung up about the year 1783. Round about this timet tlae Oldham Fingers are creclited, so the story poos, with repeatenly, arrogantly and improvokedly saying that the Anton ringers were not able to ring them anywhere, and whon a deputhiont from Ashkon waited upon Oldham they were trested with something like contogpt. 'Instead of entering into a proper obligation to prove the superiol ability of the disputants, nothing was hearia on their fart but banter, scurrility and defamarion.' After this al claflenge was issued on behalf of the Astuton ringers 'to ring upon eiglit bells any set of ringers belonging to Oldam for any sum of moner mot lesa than eight and more flan twenty guineas.' The contest took place at Leeds on September 22nd. 1786. and was decined in farour of Oldham.
The Ashiton and the Oldhan ringers met again at the openiag of the new bells at Flixton more than 20 years after, wis. in danuary, 1808, but at the close of the ringing the judges were unable to come to a decision, and the prize money was divided. The verclict satisfed noborly, and a match for f40 wian arrauged at. Flixton, and came off on June 24 th, 1808 . When Oldhams were declated the winners. The conductos of the Ashtou ringers, Jonathan Wijd, was clarged with selling the mateh to the Olfliam men, ani so higlt was the sfafe of feeling at the time that Wild left Asfiton and went to live at Stockport, where lie remained 26 Fears. The accusation seens to have been unjitst, and Wild was allowed to come back to Ashton before hia death. After the Flixton match there was continned strife between Ashton and Oldiam ringers for more than twenty years, and it is said to have heen carried to such a pitch that if one of the Oldham ringers slrayed to Ashton and was recagnised, "they ran him out whe vilago
What would be said by the 'couscientious olbjector" in these days if the had a rate levied upon him for the upkeep of the church hells? Yet here are extracts showing that guch things wete done: On June 17in, 1659, it was 'Resolved yi ye great Bell which is now burst shall be maid nex this yeat with all the speede may be. That thirtysixe pounds be assessed vppon the parishoners of Bolton accordirg to the antient p'portiong for the wew eastiag of the said bell and the repairs of the walls and gate of the churchyard and levelling the flags of the ehurch.' In 1665, "resolved that fiftes six pounds he assessed rppon the inlabitants of the parisll of Bolton for the making of a nest frame for the bells, and ofler necessaries abous the church,' and again, in 1699 , "resolsed that an assessment of an lunrred and forty pounds bee assessed and raised for the casting of the Rells at the parisl into five bells, reduced to \(£ 110\)
Another good (?) ofd 'custom' has fisappeared with the acivance of civilisation, and there may stiti be some who will heave s sigh Hhat they lived not at. Flixton when the bells were brouglat lome. A record of the arrital of a new peal in 1808 informs us that the bells. whicl wera brouglit to Mancloster by water, were taken on eigat decorateri carts to Fliston. 'A large concourse of peonle followed in an irrcgular procession,' and on arrival at Flixlan 'tlie tonor bell was taken inlo a field belonging to Ralpli Wright. Esq., and deposited in a small liole made for that purpose ant turned moutlo upwaris when Ten frineas worta of Douthle Strong ale was put in for the populace to Regale themselves with, and in fittle more than one hour The whole of the "Goorl old Stingo" dishppeared, and the whole of the hells were rleposited in the clurch. The anmonacement of the opening of the peal inviten "smatemrs of the art " to repair to Flixton' to fry their skill and pass their judgment upon the tone and fime of the bellas.'

\section*{GREAT BELLS.}

Dear Sir - In connection witt your article in the 'Ringing World ' of Warch 20th, respecting the great hell at Moseow, it may be of interest to mention the approximate weights of other very large bells in the world, viz. :-
The great bell at Mingoon (Burmath) is 125 tons, said by some nuthorities to rival the giant of Moscow in point of size, in which case it must naturally be a thinner bell. Another Moscow bell is I25 tons. This is the largest bell in use in the world. Other giant bells are (Leningrad), 22 tons (like the bell of Moscow, this firse specimen is adorned with imperial portraits); Olmutz (Austria), 18 tons; Notre Dame \{Paris\}, 18 tons ; Vienna, 18 tons: Lens \{France\}, 15 tons: Erfurt Catheriral (Prussinn Saxony), 13 tons (this bell was rast at the end of the 15th century): Mor.treal (R.C. Cathedral), 13 tons; Gorlitz (Silesia), 10 tons; Bruges, 10 tous.
We are, of course, acquainted with the very large bells in England, riz., St. Paul's, and ' Big Ben, 'London; York, andl 'Great Tom: lyiond.
It is quite probahle that some of the German or Austrian bells mentioned, shareal tive fate of the 'Kaigerglocke' during ihe Great War, hut of this 1 have no information-- Fours faithtuly. wildiam E. bason.

\section*{THE EASTER MEETINGS.}

Next Monday will be, as usual, a busy day among tinging associations, for the Easter holiday is a Cavoutite time for general meetings. Our notice columos show the considerable number of important gatherings that are to be held. Among those which are holding their annual meeting are the Bedfordshire Association, Chester Diocesan Guild, Ely Diocesan Association, Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, Hertford County Association, Kent County Association, Midland Counties Association, Suffolk Guild and Worcestershire Association. In addition several other important societies are having meetings which are certan to attract considerable numbers of ringers. The holiday meetings form a valuable part of the work which the ringing associations do, for, apart from the annual business which is transacted, they provide opportunities for wider intercourse than is often possible with Saturday meetings.

With some ringers the business part of the proceedings at these meetings is looked upon as something of a bore -a necessary evil sandwiched into a day's pleasureand they are better pleased when they find that the affairs to be transacted are 'cut and dried," and they can get away again quickly to the belfries. This is a mistaken attitude, for the success of an association depends largely upon the interest taken in its concerns by members. An organisation may be carried on satisfactorily for a time by the efforts of a few enthusiasts; but, sooner or later, lack of interest by the rank and file and a tendency to leave everything to the officials is bound to show itself in a falling off of activity. Those associations best maintain their vitality which have a critical membership-critical, that is, in seeking to maintain the organisation in an effective condition.

Important financial matters will occupy the attention of the Midland Counties Association at Derby, and at Nantwich the Chester Guild will not only be concerned with ringing alfairs in their own diocese, but they have on the agenda a resolution from the Bowden and Stockport Branch' that it is the opinion of this Guild that the existing names of Minor methods should stand." This, of course, refers to the appointment last year of a committee of the Central Council to overhaul the nomenclature of methods, and it is significant that it comes from the branch in which several of the methods, so unsuitably named, were first rung, and in which resides one of the gentlemen originally responsible for many of the titles which have been so adversely criticised. It is a happy sign to find Central Council affairs figuring on an association agenda, and it is a pity, as we have often pointed

\section*{official mintes of the 1924 meetlive.}

The first session of the twelfth Council (thirty-second meeting) was held in the historic Jerusalem Chanber at Wesinuster Abbey an Whitsun Tuesdey, June 10tb.
Where were present at the genersl mecting 83 members, represenking 32 Guilds (this being tho greatest attendance of monbers in the Council's history).
After the meeting had been opened with prayer, the Council proceeded to the olection of ofticers; aud prior to the president's election, the honorary secretary temporarily took the char. He stated that ouly one momination lad been received, and that on behall of Catron Coleridge, who had been proposad by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by the Rev. H. Law James. He (Mr. E. Alexr. Young) therefore declared Canon Coleridge duty alected far the ensuing three years. The president then took the chair.

After expressing his thambs to the Council, the President sad that for honorary secretary and treasurer there was only one nomination, that of Mr. E. Alexr. Tonng, the proposer and seconder being as betore, and he, therefore, dectared him clected for three years. Canon Brker proposed, aud the Rov. C. E. Matthews seconded, the re-election of the honorary lilurarian, which was carried, together wath a wote of tharigs to the Council's ofticers for their servives.
The minutes of the last meeting having been published, were taken as read, and duly confirmed and sigued.
Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey aud the Rew. H. T. S. Richardson, Messirs. G. Bolland, C, E. Borrets, R. B. Clambers, G. Clester, E. Edwarts. E. H. Lewis, D. J. Nicluolis, E. W. Wilde, G. Williams and Mis. A. Fidwards.
Before passing to the genemal busimess, the President heve preseuted to the late honorary sectetary aud treasurer, the Rev. C. D. I. Davies, a silver cup, askitg him to aceept it al their hands as a slight token of their appreciation of all he had done in serving the Council aluring nearly 20 years.-The Req. C. D. P. Davies, in receiving the cup, expressed in fitting tertns his great pleasure and his bearty thanks.

The Fonorary Secetary and Theasurer (Mr. E. Alexr. Yonng) presented the fimancial statement, which showed that the year began with a balance at the hank of E 76 18 s . 7 d ., and that the balance, after the receipts and expenditure of the year Fad been deadt with, was 562 17. lal. The nccounts were adopted, on the molion of the Rev. C. D. I'. Davies, seconded by the Rev. It. Law James.

The Honorary Librarian then read his statement upon the year's sales, ete. which land dropped to 265 , as argainst 315 the previous year. He also veferred to some of the Council's publications being now cither out of print or likely to be so shortly. In regard to gublishing the Corrigends of Peals, this han been partly done, and the remainder would follow. The honorary librarian then presented the itluminatert roll of honour, now completed. The work was by 3r Cousins, of Cambridge. The cost was 83155 , above the e20 voted. (This amount was contributed by those present at the meeting.
The President voicen for the Council how deeply they were in dehted to the honorary litrorian for all lye fad done in compiling the roll. It was undonbtedly one of itve most heautiful modern cxamples of its kind of work. The Honorary Librarian then moved that the Memorid Book be placed in the Library at St. Paul's Cathenral, London (the Dean having kindly nonsented. This having heen secoruled by Canon Baker, it was unanimousij agreed that it be aleposited for imspection and on permanent loan, and to be produced to the Conncil upon demand of the officers: with this, a proposition of Mr. W'. A. Care's, seronded ly the Rer. C. R. Mathews, was also agreed, that it be placed on the table at the annual meetings.
The Fonorary Librarian then completed his report by referring to the alistribution of the corrigenda slips, and suggestert that applicants slould forwarl 1d. stamp. The report was then, upon his motion, soconcied by the Rev. C. J. Mathews, agreed io, as was also the statement that the Council was unable + to pay for advertising in Aspociation Reports.

Science Museam Ththitit Committec.-The Honorary Sceretary mb portarl at some length as to the present positions, stating that framed dinernthe had been given to the Muscuan, illustrating "Standard Methods," ineluding those printed at lis own expense ly Mr. W. A. Crve. In reference to the Carter Ringing Mantine, lie suggesled that Mr. Cniter mes prepared to make the Conneil Trumbes, and he (Mr. Young) proposed that if possible the Council allould arrange to meet the offer, and formally moved his reporl-The Rev. C. T). P. Thetes. in secronding, referrerl to tinn stesirability of maintrining some control and \(\mathrm{us}_{\mathrm{n}}\) of the Ringing Machind.
Adderman J. S. Pritebett, having been asked ly the Preaident for his views, kindly stated his opinion to bo tiant the Council mot liniag a corporicie body, could not act legally as a trustee, but there could bo no objection to Mr. Carter, appointing as trustecs, say, the President of the Council and such two other nembers of the Council as it migit from tinue to time select. The report was arlopted, and thr committee, consisting of the Revs. C. D. P. Davies, E. Banks Names, Messrs. E. H. Luewis, A. A. Hughes, C. F. Johnston, Pryce Taylor and Li, Aloxr. Young, were, on the motion of the President, re-appointed nem. con.

\section*{The Council then adjoumed for bumels.}

Card of Instruction,-The Hon. Sceretary outlinod the diffietities Which had arisen sinco the card was proposed, and 25 promised ty the Rev. H. Drake, though somewhat conditionally, it would appear. Tho later laving expressed some of his objections, riseussion was adjourned natil liater.
The President pointei out, that owing to the overlapping in the scope of the next three motions, it was felt by the Staading Conmiltee that it was desirable thoy be eonjoined as far as possible. This finding gencral ncceptance, he ealled upon Mr. G. P. Burton to move his motion, which he did no follows: 'To call attention to the Nomenclature of Methods, and to move the appointrient of a NomenclaLure Commiltee: (1) To review the whole existing method nomenclature, and to make recommendations for rovision to flae Gonneil.' It. being agreen? to 1 ake it seriatim, the first part of the motion was then seconded by the Rev. H. Drake, hotl speakers strongly urged the need of such a committee, and poinled out that goon riagers were not necessarify masters of good wording. The mover insianced as objectionahle old examples, 'Grandsire 'and 'Joliy Diek.' Aad in regard to the new names, supported and proposed a motion from Legtonstone, which desired to see ' Geranium' and other fower names omitied, as being equally absurd. The Rer. E. W. Carpenter, for the Analysis Committee, then justified their selection of names, feeling that the proposed committee would prope of little use. Messis - B. Pritchett, J. A. Trollope and the Rev. F. Law James also spoke generally against the motion. They were followed by Messres. :T. Coles, H. Hunt and A. D. Barker, who spoke for the motion, Clatuse 1 , of which was eventuaby narried lyy 34 to 29 rotes.

Clause (2), viz. : * To prepare a selection of suilable topographical mames, to which method nonenclature is to be limited for the future," was then mowed hy Mr. G. P. Burton, and seconded by Mr. T, Herrery Beams: Following some discussion, an amendment, propased thy the Rev. 1 Li. Edwarks, and seconded by the Rev. H. Law James, met wicli general approral, and was agreed to as a substantive motion as follows, siz, that the rest of the motion should read:
To suggesia a suitsble sysem of Nomenclature for the future "- 'lins whe carried mem. con.-A motion that the election of the committee Fe leferret for g year heing ufeated by 35 rote; to 34 , the Coumpl itea elected the following as members of the commithe, viz. 31\%. G. P. Burton, the Fev. H. Drake, Messrs. A. D. Barker, T. Fiervey Beaws, and A. L. Colman

The Presidemig then called raon Mr. T. H. Taffender to move his resolulton that . The Council only recognise as peals npon handhells, those that have been umpired, and that the latter qualification shall be that of heing ahle to ring the metiod and check cach call as made. "The proposer called attention to the loose rature of the present genemal practice and the mecessity of stiffening the Council's present rulc.-Tlie motion was seconted hy Mr. J. George, but on being put lo the meeting was lost by a large majority.
The President then called upon Mr, T. Hervey Bearns to move his resolntion: "To aller Rule 6 ' by omithing " ibut that the mectiag following the Triennial Election be always in London.' Mr. Eeams ealled attention to ilne changes of the past 33 years and the need for revion. He suggested a London meeling erery five Jears.-The Rev. F. Li. Edwards liaving seconded; the motion, on heing put to the meeting, was lost by a large majoritw,
The Presiclent then called upon Mr. J. Hunt to more his resolution: "That the Council consider the atwisability of publishing tinetructions showing how bols are made in warions Jinow Methods os published. Mr. Hunt having done so, the motion was secondert ty Mr. A. H. Pulling, and. with the provisa that the samo be an fastruction to the Methods Committee to denl with in their revision of Minor Methods, was carried.
The Next Ammal Meeting.-On the recommendation of the standing Conmiftee, and by general consent, it was agreed to aecept the invilation to Chester for 1925.
Gart of Tnstruction.-Upon rethrning to the consideration of the card, as prosented by the honorary secreinag, it was, on the motion of the President, agred nem. con. that it be left for the Standing Conmiteco to ngree to publish it, regarv heing paid if possible to ane or twn of the points referred to by the Rev. F. Drake.
On the motion of Canon Flsee, the Council commended to the support of the ringing associations, the propossl to erect in a suitable place in Oxford a memorial to the late Mr. James W. Washbrook.

Notice of a revision of the defipition relating to peals an eight bells and upwards, so as to include peals in spliced methods, was given by Mr. W. A. Cave, and in connection with the ringing of a peal comprising fourteen 360 's of Minor, to which attention was called by the Rov. H. Law James, the President mentioned that the Standing Committee proposed to fake in hand the general revision of the inules and Decisions of the Council.
A vote of thanks was passed to the Dean, which Canon Perkins (who was now present to describe the Jerusalem Clamber) promised to convey, and the business procoedings terminated at about 5 p.m., with a vote of thanks to the President, who brjefly responded.

\section*{'BRISTOL' SURPRISE EXTENSION.}

Dear Sir,-I trust you will pardou me tor again wishing to speak on this subject, but Mr. Taylor's article calls for some correction, He publishes two sets of figures of - Bristn!' Royal and terms the Eecond of the two Mr. Craven's variation. Mr. Taylor has got mised up somehow, as it is the figures he clams as Royal which I publiswed. (See issues of 'Ringing World, Mrwh 3rd, 1922, and January 12th, 1923.) I an sorn' to zote that Mr. Taylor's version of Maximus is away from the correct tine of extension. The reason I say so is that the two chief characteristics are violated: 1st, the coursing order of the bells; and. 2nd. the correct pivat bell and its correct work.
Taking the first essential, will be noticed in the Major the coursing order reverses every dodging block of tie treble's path. When in 1-2 even bells are luntiag ciowt and ode bells up; as the treble passes through \(2-3\) a 4th's place is made, whicls reveraes the coursing order; i.e., odd bells are coursing rlown and even bells up. The quarter section line is reached where the pivot bell meets the tretale, as per example.

Any extension which las not got the course bells in these relative positions is not Bristol, 1.e., pirot bell crossing with the treble and pivol bells fore and aft, coursing bells making the places. The pivat bell must also make a run through from thack to front, divided witls the necessary work entalced it pasing the middle.
I might say that there is no exaggeration in the number of rariations possible on the whole turn block system. I have a large number, and all without the use of 'adjoining ' places, a feature whinh, in my opinion, ought not to be lolerated an toa bolls and upwards. 1 must congratulate Mr. Tavlar an the able and descriptive analysis he has made of the method. but beg to differ from him regaming Bristol Maximus.-Tours trily,

ARTHUR CRAVEN.

\section*{MR. FRED R. BORRETT'S 500 PEALS.}

By a peal of Superlative Surprise recentiv, Mr. F. R. Borrelt, of Palham Market, brought his total up to 500 , of which he has conducted 215. The following is the list:-

\section*{By GRORGE BAKER.}

Althongl2 I pointeci ont in the 'Bell News' as long age as June, 1900, that the Bob lead of the Grandsire Method is symmetrical within the lead and tho Plain lead is not (a fact which cun be demonstrated by anyone who nuderstands :eciprocal proof) it was only ns recently as last October that 1 was flatly coutracicted by one of - the powers that be' when I made a declaration that lirundsire is NOT Plain Bob with a bell in the bumb.

When other experts reatise that proof can now be given by the Round Elocks and Tramsposilions as to the relationship of methods, perlaps they will drop their arbitrary definitions, anil try to moderstand the natural laws of methot construction.
Here it will be well to romark that, if a metined is the same on all numbers, the round blocks and transpositions will prove the fact. Below I give the rounil hlacks, ete., of Bob Singles and Hob Minor, alsa of Grandsire Doubles and Grandsire Triples, the fgures will speak for themselves, and I lope we slanle never hear repeated the false statement that Grandsire is Plain Bob with a bell in the humt.

Very important additions to our recorls are Cambridge Surprise Maximus, Leicester Surprise Royal, and Pudsey Surprise Major, the latiter metbod serving as a gentle reminder that all our go-ahearl rimgers are not in one corner of the districh. The ringers who are breaking new ground in such splendid manner are congratuTated. and it is hopen their example will be an incentive to other districts.

One peal whidz rleserves special mention is the 9,120 Spliced T.B Major, the extent in this pariation.
The peals rung have been conducted by the following 38 members: H. T. Poole, 22 ( 10 H.B.) : W. P. Whitohead, 14 ( 5 H.B.) ; 玉. Morria, 13 ( 1 F.B.) ; F. H. Dexter, 10: T. Flint, 10; 15. The composition of one peal (Superlative) rung for the association during the jear, lias been found to be false; therefore, this peal has not been accepted nor recorded.
Our memhership roll at the 31 s! December, 1924, is as fbllows: Patrons and honorary members, 277 ; ringing members, 778 : total, 1,015 ,

The namber of peals rung during 1924 is smaller than the total for hoth 1922 and 1923 , and for tower bells alone is less than for the last three years, but the varicty of the methods rung is more extensire, the 130 peals appearing under 31 Aivisjons. Stedman, both on tower and landbells, appears to be the most popular method, for, on tower and landbells, appears to be the most popular method, for, with the exception of Grandsire Triples (15) the other peals are well with the ex .

No one will be able to say that the mathematical progressions of Thin Bob and Grandsire are the same, therefore the methods are not the same.

\section*{IMPORTANT NOTICE.}

Correspondents are particularly requested to send in reports of Easter Day and Bank Holiday ringing and meetings to reach us on Tuesday, the I4th. Reports of peals rung on Easter Monday should be posted the same night to ensure insertion in the next week's issue.

BELL ROPES. MUFFLES, &o,

Appleton, the place of not a fow long peals, inciuding the longest of alt, claimed a record lenath of Grandsiso Gaters, made on April 11th, 1888, when the Oxford Guild rang 13,265 in 8 hourg 5 miuvieg, College tixercise Major, a little practised method, took its nanas from the College Youths who rang the first peal in the method in 1760. A peal of 5,600 was rung at Bletehingly ou April 11th, 1789.

Eettering, which lus long been a centre of Northamptonshire rimg. ing, was among the entlest provincial towers where peals were rumg. A peal of Grandsire Triples rung there on April 12th, 1731, was the outcome of a challenge made, when a peal was recorded as having been rung in 3 hours 18 minutes, on Feb. \(20 t h, 1729\), that a peal conld not be rung in less than \(3 \frac{1}{2}\) hours.

To prove the 'wiseacres' in the wrong, another peal was rung in 2 lom's 48 minutes, and the record states: "Since it was assorted our first performance could nol be rung in less than 3 hours and a half, for an experiment and hefore skilful. jurges, on ye \(12 t h\) of April, 1731, ye whole peal of 5,040 was completed at 30 clanges each minate, in 2 hours and 48 minutes by the persons underwritten: Tho. Howard 1, Tho. Woodford 2, John Law 3, G. Enyre 4, Hen. Parker 5, Rob. Booth 6, Jno. Garley 7, Jona. Barlow 8.'
The anniversary of the great performance at Loughborough falls on Sunday next. It was on April 12th, 1909, that the 18,027 Stedman Caters was rung in 12 hours 18 minutes, at All Saints' Church-one of the most wonderful achievenients on record.

Easter has been a favourite tiage for rocord hreaking, and it was on Easter Monday, April 13th, 1914, that the Asliton-under-Lyne men rang the 14,000 Troble Bob Royal, and thus heat the provious longesp lenglh in the method which had stoon for 130 years.
The first peal of Cumberland Exercise Major was rung on April 166h, 1838, at Birstall, Yorks.
Mr Connor O'Rrien, of Dublin, who is sailing round the world in a 20ft. boat, receatly reached Fornambuco, in South America.

\section*{THE FIRST PEAL OF TREBLE BOB ROYAL}

Tho 184th anniversary of the first peal of I'reble Bob Roysi which accurred on Tuesday, recalls the fact that St. Sepulchre's, Snow Eill, landon, where the peal was rung, was one of the earliest towers in London to lave ten beils. A chronicler in 1706 wrate that at this church there are 10 Tuneable Fells, which make a pleasant harmony when rung in peal.' At this time there wns no peal of twelve in London, and, inded, only York and Cirencester in the provinces had the unximum number. Eiglaty years later thate were only nine peals of ten in Middlesex, viz., St. Mary-le-Jow; Christ Clarch, Spitadfedds, St. Giles', Cripplegate; St. Sepulebre's, Holborn; SL. Margarel's, Westminster; St. Leonard's, Shoreditel; St. Magnus-the-Martyr; SE. Dionus Backchureh, aud All Saines', F'ulham.
By this time there were four peals of twelve, viz.: St. Bride's, SL, Martin's-in-the-Fields, St. Michacl's, Cormhill, and St. Saviour's, soutliwark.

RE-OPENING OF SHILTON BEELS AFTER RESTORATLON.
The re-apening of the bells at Shitom after augmentation and restorntion Look place on Saturday last, in the presence of a large concourse of parishioners and visitors fron the moighbouring tawns and willages. The church was hiled to overfowing long before the lime of the service. Prayers were read by the Vicar (Req. C. T. Prenonty, and the special lesson by Canou F. R. Evans, of Dedworlh.
The Lord Bishop af Coventry performed the dedieation cercmony, and also gave ab inswring addrees, basce on the words "Sursum Corta' ("Litt \(u\) p yout frearts'). He cutgratulated the people of Shilton on having their belds pat in ouder in their time, an opporlunity that din nol come in eremy generstion.

TWo thew trebles have been added, and the old four bells recast, making a londy little fing of 6 , with the 1 enor about 7 ewt. The wort of rehamging and recasting was entrusted to Messrs. Gillett and Jolunston. of Croydon, and the way the work has been carrien out reflects great ecedit on the firm, the tone and ga' of the bells hesing excellent.
Opwards of 60 ringers were present during the aflemoon and meming, and included 解r. S. H. Roper, the frm's representative, aud ML. J. H. Shepherd, of Swiughon. Others wore presult from Alesfey, Birningham, Bulkington, Clilvers Coton. Coveniry. Crofi, Eshall, Monks Kirby, Numeaton. Tughy, Stoke, Southam, Wolvey and other places.
Beforg the service commeneed the beils were raiset in peal by the following rembere of the Guild: T. W. Chapman (Ringing Master. Numeaton) 1. E. H. Johmson (a nalive of Shitlon. Coventry) 2. Miss G. MF Dodds (Chilvens Colon) 3, J. B. Fenton (distriet secrelary, Rugby) 4. A. Wilkerson (hon. geneml sectefary) 5, A. Roberts (ex-Rimging Master, Stoke) G. Some well siruck Grandsire Doubles were rung by the same band immediately after the cledice1ion. They also rang the first loweh of Minor at the conelusion of the service. Thefeafler the bells were kept going in various methodz until about 8 p.m.
A sumptuous tea was provider for the ringers, who, owing to the inrge number present, hat to be accommodated in relays. Nevertheless, math and all passed a very pleasant fime. The methods successfully broughi rotmel included Grandsirc. Stedman and loob Doables, Plails Boh Minor, Double Dxford. Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and Londou Surprise.
At the conclusion of the tower bell ringing, handbells were in erirence. The Rughy Quartete gave a wonderfal exhilution of tume ringing, under the able conductorship of Mr, A. t. Fosmian, who, creryone was plensed to see, had come ouk of his redirenent again. The Whbh famis, too. from Croft, flolighted dly company as usum wibl their tum ringing. \section*{COLERNE CHURCH AND ITS BELLS.}

AN ISOLAEED TOWYER IN AN ISOLATED PARISH.
Colerne in the north-west corner of Wiltshire, a village of considerable antiquity and of past glorics, lies on high tableland midway between Bath and Chippenham. It overlooks the Box valley, anal the traveller by the Great Western Rallway, before entering or emerging fram the Box tumel may, if he is on the look out, cateln n Elimpse of the noble tower of the chutch, perched half-way up the sly-line, and fominating the laudscape.
From this elevated posilion, the highest in Wiltshive, the sweet sound of the bells is wafted far and wide over the hillsito, recalling Io the listener Faber's hymn, 'Like bells at evening pealing.
Gatil the year 1897 there were only sis bells, aud an old writer Hurs explains their excellence: ' Lawson Huddleston, of Shaftesbury, with many and extraordinary accomplisliments, land a kind of passion for bells. To oblige any elerical friend who harl six belis in lis church, he would pass rlays and wecks in ihe beliry, chipping and moriulatiag the somad of every bell till they ruswered exactly the intervals of the monothord. I lat often hearel of the music of Colerte bells. No one could tell why their sounds were so pleasing. There is a note that the belis were new tuned when Aubrey visited the place in 1659.

A close relationship, centuries old, Jas existed between Coleme ind New College, Oxford. In 1388 , Jlizalneth, wife of Ellward the Dispenser, sold the mamo for 700 marks fo Willian of Wykelinm, who conveyed it to New College.
In 1447, King Henry VI. granted the warden and selopars of Now College a marhet at Coleme every Friclay, and n yearly fair for Lineo days, on the vigil, day and norrow of the decollation of St. John-theBaptist, 28th, 29:I and 301h Aurast.
It 1600. George Rivers, D.D., warden of Sow College in Oxform, gave a "gooflie oak that grim tupon their manor of Colerne, whin gielded well neeve 5 tunne of timber hesicles the tops and arms, to the present Abbey at Rath for its rehuilding.
Juse outside the soutla porch, which was quile bey William of Malmestury, circa 1280, was the plintiof an ancient cross, fragments of which ate preserved in the church, and from wheh Mr. Harolal Brekespear, of Corshant, was emahled to produce, as nearly as possible, a replica of the original. Bishop Browne holds that it was one of the several crosses erecterd to mark the stages of the jourucy, when the bodyy of St. Alduelen was herne from Glastonbury to Malmesbury for burizi.

Colerne has had ils share in out Island storv. It is rich in historical associations. On its westerin horder is Banmerdown, or the ' holy hilh, where traclitionally St. Augtustine met, the British' Bishops, and on the side of the main road ont this boveler stands an ancient cromlech eallexi the "shive Stomes, the bases standing in the different conntics of Wilts, Glouceater, and Somerset. On \(\mathrm{it}_{\mathrm{s}}\) eastern side is Slanglaterford, whete King Alfred defeated the Danes.

In the year 1877, the church whs restored at a cost of 84,000 , chiefly through the instramentality of Richard Walmesley, of Ludenana, Colerne, and W. H. Poynter, of Horliam Lodge, Corsham.

At, the same time, two trobles were added to the peal of hells, and the whole rolung in an onk frame by Messrs. Warner and Sons, London, and a honart in the tower records the first course of Grand-

\section*{ST, PETER:AT•ARCHES, LINCOLN AN APPEAL}

The bells of St. Peter-at-Arches Chirch, Lineoln, were founded by Abrahm Rudhall, of Gloucester, in the year 1728. They were lasi rebung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. in tho year 1880, at which fine Mr. Taylor roported that the finme might be patelsed up so as to ase some years. This was done.
Recently it was found itesirable to consult Messrs. Taylor again ts to the contition of the bell frame. They now report 'the time

The congregation is not a wealtuy oue, so we lave to appeal to others to help us.
St. Peter-at-Arches hells are well known, and the belfry has for long pask been a nursery for clange ringers. Many a weil-known ringer has had sone part of his early traning in change ringing at St. Peter's.
We appeal to all friends of the Fxercise to helo us to get this work going again, and let these finc ofd bells ring out once more to the greater glory of God:

\section*{PAYING UP.}

Although the question forces itself very strongly upon association officials, we doubt whether the average ringer gives more than a passing thought, if that, to the financial affairs of his society. Certain it is that many ringers do not realise the importance of promptly paying their annual contributions. Several associations have recently drawn attention to the arrears of subscriptions due from members, and it ought to be appreciated that association work cannot be efficiently carried on unless members realise their financial responsibilities and discharge them -not, as appears to be the habit of some, a year or more after the due date, but when the time arrives for the liability to be met. The committee of the Chester Guild has had to bring this matter with some emphasis before its members in its annual report, and not for the first time, but its experience is by no means uncommon. A balance sheet of the East Berks and South Bucks branch of the Oxford Citild indicates that there is the same kind of failing in this area. and other societies find themselves similarly placed.

What is the remedy Probable none, except to appeal to the instincts of fair play among those who seem to make an unfortunate habit of getting into arrears. The Secretary of the Hertford County Association, which is another society where dilatory contributors make the official work difficult, suggests that the members' contributions should be deducted when the belfry funds are distributed. This would be quite a good arrangement in towers where there is anything due to ringers in the nature of a share out; indeed it should be a first charge upon the funds; but in many cases there is no such distribution. Leaving the collection of the subscriptions to the local secretaries is not dways an effective nethod, although the man on the spot ought to be able to do better than the secretary who lives at a distance.

The Chester Guild, we notice, has taken the step of indirating in the ceport those who have not paid their subscriptions for the past year, and this means of drawing attention to the 'oversight' ought not to be without effect. We think, however, that associations might deal a little more firmly with those in arrears. Their finances could not suffer-because they are already without the contributions-but it might save expense if the peals in which these ringers take part were excluded from the reports, for it is the printing of the peal records which runs up the cost. Then, too, if ringers realised they were to be excluded from the 'benefits ' which are extended to paid-up members, it might aiso be an inducement not to get into arrears. But this line of action pos. sibly might not be altogether acceptable to some associations, as it would affect the nominal ' membership,' and, maybe, reduce the peal records to smaller proportions; but, after all, statistics are not everything, and a 'live' roll is a far more valuable asset. Perhaps, however, the importance of the prompt patyment of subscriptions misht figure with advantage in the forefront of the "educational ' work of our various ringing organisations.

\section*{PENNIES AS PACKING}

HOW COLERNF BELLS WERE MADE PEALABLE
To the Editor
Dear Sir.-In the history of Colernc Cluarch and its hells, in list week's 'Ringing World.' mention is made of packing the 5th gudgeon with pennies. On Sunday, June 10th, 1886,1 was one of the band with tho Iate Mr. J. W. Hinton, who rang the first peal on Colerne bells-a peal of Crandsire Triples in 3 hour's 6 mizutes. Mr. Hintor and myself went up and put five pennies down at the end of the gudgeon to keep it fron knocking on the frame. Some months afler we went again for another peat, and thought we should have to clo some more packing, but instead of finting pernies at the gudgeon entl we foum? itsern gone, and a pisce of iron plate inserted. We did not scorf on that trip. The frit packing thus took place 37 years ifro next Jume. I was living in Bath from 1886 to 1890.-Yours, ete, Sheffied.
J. HOLMAN.

\section*{NORWICH RECTOR'S VIEWS.}

Recontly wo commented on an artiele which appeared in the public Press from Canols Meyrick, Rector of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwicli. with regard to the bellis. It is, therefore, a pleasure, especially in yiew of the reopeuing of the fawous ring of bells at Maycrof Cinteh on Sunday, to guote the following from the "St. Peter Mancroft Parish Misgazine' for Appil: 'The Churela,' Canon Meyrick says, 'is immensely indeited to her fatthitil sons and daughtars, who, while happy to ring perls, primarily love the belfry for that service they are able to ofter to Gad and His peoplo on Sunday. Church ringers, like other church workers, must be elear about their motives. The elroiman does not join a clareh choir beeause he wishes to sing in a concert. From time to time he and his comrades delight us with a concert, but the main motivo is to lead God's worship in the church. So with the ringer-if his one airn is to ring innumerable peals of London Surprise, Dambridge Maximus, Superlative Surprise, Stedman Cingues, Trehle Bob Muximus, Double Norwich Cours Bob Roynl, and the rest, he will be of little use to his church. He will be merely getting his chief anusement in life very cheuply. But sloould he join the Ringers' Guild, in the sano spirit that a singer joins the choir or a Sunday School teacher joins the teacbers' association, then ho (or shee) can be of untold walue to his chturels and to the life of ringing. Because I am very anxious to see the art of belt ringing. whioh has been woll nigh kitled in Narwich, revive, I would see beil ringing lreated as a definite piece of Church work. I want to see all ringers take an honoured place among the voluntary workers of the parishes, whose beatiful helfries are now silent. There are peal ringers who have made ringing live. There are other peal ringers who lase strangled the grent art:; men who cold-shoulder young aspivants while they are as yet useless for peal ringing; men who cave nothing for their church and who have no desire to worship with those whom they have shmmoned; men who use some of out helfries simply to gratify a lust for peal ringing. We at St. Peter Mancroft are vory fortumate. We have as aur master Mr. G. Raton, as lis assistant Mr, C. Borreit, as our secretary, Mr. T. F. Duftield, and as our treasuver Mr. D. O. Folme-ali tary, Mr. T. F. Duftield, and as our treasurer Mr. D. O. Foame-all enthusiastic riugers, but who nre Churchmen filst and ringers aflerwards. We have women. too. faithiful communicants and fine ringers. We have a fery good friend, Mr. Mayers, who is at present. angaged in teaching romufits the rudiments of change ringing on handbells. Our verger. Mr, Poltel, is ever rearly to tencla rectuitto handle a bell. We have \(n\) band of voluniary ringers very wortly of our heautiful reluang hells, and wo have the right officers.
look to them to maintain our high slandard.

\section*{BATLEY WIN THE COMPETITION.}

The Hilifax and District Association held their guarterly meating aud mix-bell contest at Ripponden Church on Saturday, April this It had previously been decided to ring 720 changes any methot: but, owing to che large entry, if was lesolved at the commitee meeting to curtail it. The committce decided that 360 changes be rung any mehod, with the usual allowance of thrce lends or one plain course for practice. The draw for order of ringing took place 3. follows:-No. 1, Stainland (Kent Treble Bob); 2, Shelley (Violet); 3. Liversedge (Bob Minori: 4, Ratley (Oxford) ; 5 , Halifax Parish 8. Holmirth (Oxford); 9, Lindley (Kenl TrobJe Bob); 10, Lightalife (Kent Treble Bob).
A tea was proviled in the seloolroom. whiel close on 100 enjoned. Ringing ceased thout eight o'clock, rand the meeting was then fold Mr. J. FFardcastle (president) occupying the ehair. The Chairman proposed hearty thanks to the Vicar and churchwarkens, also all the Ripponden friends who had helpad to make the contest such a great suresss. The Vicar replied, snying that they would be glad to welwome the astaciation al smme future date. The julges, Mr. T, Broarlley (Bralford), and Mr. F. Schofield (Lincleq), Hien rave theif docision as follows :-No. I. 175 faults: 2, 10 penalty, 181 faults-
 7. rung out; 8, 135 faults; 9.20 penalty, 103 faults-iotal 123 $Buls: 10. rung out.

No. 4 Conpaur, Batley, were then presented with the cup by thie Vicat'. Mr. Gijhsou, ans receiving the cup, said it was in plensing frature to see so many yonng ringers, anti he hoped they would stick logether, for that in his opinion, was the only way to logother, for that, in his opinion, was the maly way to get goard striking.-A vale of thanks to the juuges closed a suceessfíl conlicst.

\section*{ELY DLOCESAN ASSOCIATION. \\ ANNUAL MEETING AT CAMBRDGE.}

The amaual meeting was Jeld at Cambridge on Easter Monday. T'le tuorning was hoe, but about noon rain fell, and there were heavy storms durnmg the uiturnoon, which warred the pleasure of the muwbers.
memers, usual service was lutd in Great St. Mary's Church at noon, wher Bishop Priee, the Archdencon of Lily, who takes great urterest in the assoctation, gave a stirring adrress, based on 1 Cor. xv., 58.
Luncheon followed at the Dorothy Cafe, when 40 members and fricnds, and some visitors from londou, sat down. Bishop Price was in the chair, supported by the 解evs. A. H. F. lfoughey and H. \(B\). Woolley.

Hloe business meeting was held at the elose, when the auditor made a statement as to the accounts, which showed a balance in hand.

The atficers were reappointed : Hoa. fecretary aud treasurer, the Rev. R. Copeman; anditor, Mr. 'L. R. Demmis; dishrich secretaries, Mr, FI. W. Giddings (March) for Wisbech Arehdeaconry; the Rev. H. B. Woolley (Long Slanton) for Hunts; Mr. A. E. Austin (Great Shelford) for Ely Arelndeatony; nnd Mr. W. G. Cross (King's Lynn) for Marshland
The Secretary reported that 29 penls had been rung during 1924 in various methods, all but one on tower bells.
The Res. II. B. Woolley gave notice of a district meeting at St, Neots on May 2ud.
The Rev. A. H. F. Boughey proposed a vate of thanks to the Bishop for hig qullress; to the Ficar of Great St. Mary's for allowing the service to be held there; and to the incumbents who hat granted the use of their bells.-This was carried with acclarnalion, and the membere dispersed, and the bells of Great St. Mary's were most in favour, the showers aud breaking ropes proving a hindrance to ringing at more distant towers.

\section*{RESTORATION OF CHARLWOOD BELLS.}
"lice beils of Charlwood. Surrey, have just been restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The treble, second and fourth have been recast, the ather thres bured, and the frame stienghened. The bells now lang on the latest type of bearings, and the 'go' is excellent. The work has cost \(£ 375\), towards which ex230 has been subseribed.
The dedication took place on Saturday, April 4th, and was performed by the Bishop of Woolwich, who gave au address on the subject of 'Worship and Work,' to whicl, \(\mathrm{J}_{13}\) urged, the ringing of chured bells was a clear and pressing call.
The hymus sung during the service were dill people that on earth do dwell' and sclected rerses from 'When morning gilds the sky," the onc luadredth Pealm being also included.
At the conclusion of the service the bells were rung by a represeniative company of ringers from the village and surrounding district, and before latitig the Bishop ascented the betfry and pronounced the Blessing.
Riagers wore present from Gapel, Cumbey, Horley, Newdigate, Reigate, and the local band, ant ihe touches ineluded Bob Minor, Keat Treble Bob Linor, Canterbury Pleasure, Woorlbine, Callege Erercise and Siedman Doubles.

\section*{MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.}

A most sucecgsful meeting of the Leicester bunchi was held on saturday, April Atla, at Belgrave. The bells were set going from three aclock to tonches of Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Superlative, Canbridge and London (?), the last named of the syncopated "style of juzs ringing, owing, as the secrefary blandiy put it, to some not knowing ihe method, and those who did, not trying.
Tor was scrved in the Clumelt Rooms, and later a well-attended metting took place in the Tralhot. It was good to see some of the old boys ' turn up to encourage the youngsters, and to have them joining in handbell touches of Stedmun Cinques and Caters, Kent Royal, and last, but not least, 'Scolding Witch,' the latter drawing the remark from f non-ringer, "that ou't to sound good.'
Business consisted ehinfly in niring the members' piews on the proposed new rules, and altogethew this meeting can be put down as a furlher success for the new loral sectetary, althongh one would like to see a bit more entlusiasm froms some of the frmous \(1920-3\) "first eleren, ollarwise Lefeester will he losing lier position. (See Association 1924 Report just out.)

The 'go' of the bells is all that can be desired, and the greatest praise is due te Mr. Alfed Bowely, of lpswich, for the way lie las carried out the work.

\section*{TERMINOLOGY.}

Sir, May I thank Mr. George Baker for luis kind words, and zay 1 an glad l am no longer in his black books; and I hope he will now destroy them.
As to whether 'slift, or "move' be used instoad of 'slunts' does not seem to greatly matter. A strift-couxse" seems to be so petre the meaning required, that the use of the word in both connotations would hardly cauge confusion. It is for those who write these words to choose them. We who only read them, have merely a veto.
am heartily in agrement with the revision of the Glossary, which Criticus " advacates so tellingly. Will any other member of the Coumcil who would suppert this, please write to me or to you? April 13th, 1925.

FESTIVAL AT ST. ALBANS.

The annual festival of the Hertford County Association took place at Sit. Alhans on Monday. Member's assenbied from a largu number of towers, and during the day touchet in various methods were rang at the Abbey ind St, Poter"s Clutreh,
A special service was huld al the Abbey in the afternoon, when \(n\) short andress was given by the Rev. B. H. Tywhitt-Drake, of Thandridge. In his address, be remarked that the hess ringers were paid the letter was their work. The man who rang only for whal ho cauld get was uever so good a ringer as the man who rang bebe cadd get was uever so good a ringer as the man who rang bework of any recrention in the world.
Foliowing the service, tea and the amual mecting were held at fhe Abdey lnstitute, the retiring president (Mr. H. E. C. Goodenougls) presicing Ahout 80 members were prisent.
Canon Maythew, of St, Albans, spenking at Carion Maythew, of St. Albans, speaking at the meetmg, saidi the clergy nud bell ringers were fellow workers; the bell ringers summoned the peopte to church for the clorgy to lead them in worship. In a very special way the elergy shauld he grabeful to wingers. Bell ringing was thorotughly Christinn, and one of the good things we owed to Christinmity, To listen to the bells was a mosf delightfu] timng. \(H_{e}\) considered that if hell ringing clied out in England it would be an irretrievable loss, and he appealed to youmg mea to take up bell ringing.

\section*{OFPICIALS' LONG SERVICE.}

In his amual report the Hon. Steretary (Mr. G. W. Cartmel) said: This is our fortieth report, and we are, to borrow the phruse of a well-known adyertisencat - still going wirong. The tirst report was issued in 1885, the secretary and treasurey bring the Rev. Canon Wigram. Thu asoudation then consisted of seven bands, three of which belonged to St. Albans, and wo still have with us soveral original members whose ringmg activites ure still keen. It is sombthree secretaries. Mifo E. P. Debrnlam bas been treasurer for 37 Mr. W. H. Lawrence izas ben fistrict segvetary for the Eastern Division for 24 ycars. He las given us his best in painstaking-service, and we appreciate his servees move than wards can express For the Western Division Mr. Eden gave us ths services for 19 yeats (inelading war tervice), only yesigning last year, and one jegrets to hear that he has left us for the aljoining county of Essex. We shall always gratefully rememher lise efforts
For 21 years jour choice has fallen upon me as your secretary, An epitome of 40 years' history would be juteresting, but that wil be more spprapriate for our jubilee, so 1 refrain from comment. \(\Delta\) s an assaciution we have never looked back, the officers ever keping to the forefront the trite position af a ringer as a church workor. have occuryed in our mombership, but it has been a unique experience of what lappy fellowship really is when expressed in terms of Christian action, and that is the atmospbere I am assured you wish to conlinue. A true fellowship begun aud enjoyed down here, Resurrection we commemorated yesterday by the ringing of the charch bels.
But what of the past year's efforts? The peals numbered 24, yia.: Cambridge Surprise Royal 1, Cambridge Surprise Major 1, Bristol Suprise Major 1, Bob Royn 1, Double Norvich 1 Iajor 2 , Kent Troble Bob Major 3, Bob Major 1. Stedman Triples 3, Grandsire Triples 2, Bob Triples 1. Treble Bob Minor 1, Minoz 7 .
Thliere have been 16 conductors for the 24 peals, and 16 members linve rung their first peal. Quite a now departure was the ringing of a Frecmason's peal nt Bushey by our members, conducted by the Worslipful Master. W. H. L. Buckingham. It was the first peal rung by a band of Freemasons in the proviace or county of Herts. It is mooted that a Freemasons Lotge for England, comprised of bellringers, is to be formed.
The removal of Desa Blenkin, by death, from our midst, is an irreparable loss. Conning to us in 1915, he bas nevor missed an annual mecting, like his predecessar, Dinan Lawrance. His proseace was an inspiration to us all, his godly counsel, reverently hiended with Guaint inmitahe humour. ftways sent as away happier and helter, no elernent of persuasion from your secretary to induce lim to le present. He werjo offen came to us lived in lais work. but never tired of it. A motto for riagers: Ho loved also the bells, and the Cathedral Soebetw. when attempting a meal. always koew that they liad one intent and appreciativo listener, for when suceesg enme their way he whuld, candle in land, find his way into the belfry to conpratulate the momberg upon their sucees. His first sermon to us Was preached from the words, "That I might finish my course with for. Gad laeard and answered that praver. for bis life was a jayous life, and we shatl ever renember il with cleep thankfulness. He has rung his course, his hell is set, and be now rejoiess in the presence of the Master whom, having not seen. he loved. May God give us

The Washbrook appeal was also consudered, and the commiater recommended that the sum of one gainea be stabscribed.

1 commend to your hearty support our weekly paper, "Lhe Fiuging World." The editor deserves all the stupport we ean give him, for lie provides us with a capitul puper, full of interesting reading. His weekly article covers a wide ficld, and sloes much to fonance not only the cause of changeringing, but the pducation of ringera themselves in matiers pertaining to their craft.

\section*{WORK IN THE DISTRICHS.}

In the districts Mr. F. K. Bavon has heen very busy, laving artanged sever meetings daring the yerr, via, at Khebworth, Great Wymondley, Hitchin, Royslon, latdock, Stevenage and King's Walden, wal good results. Due gratitying feature ts that in evary ringing members and three honorary members were anather vesult. King's Wahten was also visited for the first time, the Vicas, the Rev. Fr. H. Proctors, giving the memhers a very hearty welcome, and, with his conscot, is being nominated for clection as an honorary member to-day. The Royston bund huve lost through ifl-bealth vae at its best workers in the perzon of Mr. W. L. Darlow, who has been advised to wigrate to Souh Africa, where we sincerely hope the change of elimato will buretit his health. Although pual ringing has not been very successful in the district, Sunday service ringing has been well matntained, nind soveral guarter-peals brought round. We congratulate Mr. J. J. Cawdell, of Baldock, on ringing his first peal of Sicdman Triples at his Parish Church, after muely patient perseverance. Several young monbers of his batd hate also yung their tirst quarter-peal of Grandsire Iriples. Barley and Great Wymondloy gress, and are now tackling lifistol perseveringly. I undersisud that illness mear the churcil las lampereut their sucecss in peal riaging, but their service ringing las been weil maintained. Congratulations also to Mr. J. R. Foster, now somewhat of a veterav, upon being elected as captain of the Hiteling band.
Mr. W. H. Lawrence has arranged in his distriet soven meetingo, at three of which an adelress was given. He reports progress in many banks. Braughing have scored their first peal, Bab Triples, witi seven firsts, all local men. The widford band, whom we welcomed into affiation last ycar, hare also rung their flrst peal, the first upon the bells by a local band. Litile Munden, a hand capable of ringing ls methods, have got back to their previous staius, having scored a peal, the first for tive years. Sawbridgoworth, onco a stronghold of change ringing, has grown week, but I trust that tho advent of the Rev. A and Mrs. Rust may cause a revival. Our sccretary hopes to arrange meeting at an carly date.
Mr. W. Ayre, for the Western District, has arranged meetings at Nothchureh, Apsley, Tring, King's Langley, Hemel Hempstead and Great Gaddesden. Al medings have beon fairly well atended, and good work has been done, I amp flad to notice & meeting has been hedd at Great Gaddesden. Also that the 7th and tenor have been relung at Berkhamsted : but why the cracked sjxth should have bean Ieft untomelied I camuot undersfand.
Mr. C. H. Horton, our new Waliord secretary, has arranged gine meetings, the aggregate attendance being 158 . One result has been The election of eight menbers, and interest aroused in the district. Yarious touches that are reported from time to time in "The RingIne World shows that the Watford and Ricknansworth towers ard keeping well fo the fore. The Stanmore company have made good progress, and it was most unforthnate that the peal arranged for their eaptain's 50th hirtladay should have falled within 35 changes from home, owing. I undergtand, to the vinging of an alarm fill. I trust Mr. Edwards will soon have the plensture of piloling the band through their tirgt neal.
Mr. Wr Naslater
Mr. W. Nash, for the Si. Altuans Ditrision, has provided meebings at Norfl Mrmms, Flamstead anrl Rethourn, Harpenden. Si., Abans and Watford, with an average abmendane of 15 . Although the atfentances have not been great, chiefly owing in some fasionces to tha towers heing off railway rontes, useful work has been done. The Kimpton band lias made excellent progress under the tuition of Mr. Gillings, and have rung their first 720 of Rob Minor, probably the first arer rung upon the bells by a local band. Now they are tackling Oxford Bob and Stedman Daubles. I am sure Mr. Nash will endeavour to arrange a meeting at Kimpton this stmmer, and thus encourage the band to furlher achicvements. The Laton band stidl keep up their reputation, and before the year jover I fully expect to hear they have rung their first of Bristol. St. Albans is normal, one gralifing foature, however, being the repular Sunday service ringing. It is no uncommon thing to lioar the four peals ringing for serwice at the same lime, interspersed with the larig-tang from other chardies.

| mush again refer to the delay which exists with some bands in the payment of their subseriptions, and wauld ask members to assist heire oflicers by paying more promply. Some pay al the eleventh hour, olhers promise, with the best intentions, but generally manage to send just too fate for the current years account. The consequence is the treasurer is unable to draw oul a balance sheet to represent the sctual linances of the year: besides, the secretarial work is considerably hampered. I would suggest that each year, when the bifli'y fund is distributed, memburs should agree to the deduetion of thoir subscription. It would bo a great lielp if this plari was adopted.
I would ask the district seeretaries to aceept not only the thanks of the mombers, hut my personal appreciation of all that they luve done during dhe past year. The arrangement of meetings in fleir respective distriefs entails lime and palimes and they deserve all the gucess that has come their way. May these meeting ever conduce to lorodicrly fellowship and the advancemenf of our ringing ideals.
Otie sometimes hears, even in our association of friction amongst ringers, and one optimistic seevelary generally informs me that matterts will come all right in due course. But they very often ton'l until much harm lats beea done in the meakening of the band and the loss to the ringing Exereise of good ringers. There may be faalts on both sides, but eren if it is not the casc, \(T\) do appeal to unembers 10 come together at thu onrlicst opportunity and disenss in a bratherly way their nifficulties. instod of absenting themselves frout ringing, with the consoquence that the loal band and the association lose prestige. Tlie vocitions of a ringer is that of a church worker, and as such ho slould recognise that his work is for the giory of God. and linat each Sabibath day he praises fot with the lourl cymbals ly the ringing of the hells. If we look at our work as serFice for Him we shall brush aside things that may not be pleasant, and willingly nothure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ. Lat us nlways pit into our ringing the virtues of practical Christianity, nnd the rontil may never be feared.
I must now bing my report to a close, once gatin appealing to you to loyally support your clomgy by the ringing of the bells regularly for the services of the churith, and endearouring at the same lime to make pourselves proficient in your art. Tt behoves us alsg to make as nucha as possibla of our anuas meeting by making alsg to make an anuch as possibla of our anmua meeting by making your officert, and also for utilising it as a thanksgiving day for God's mercies during the year that has passed. Our meeting is held at the fime of the Church's greategt festival, the keynote of which is wietory. The same message is expressed in our fields and woodlaeds. Let us lay hold of the inspiration that Easter affords, and go back to our towers wilh the determination that we will preserve at all costs the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace.
It was agieed to contribute the £l 1 s . to the James W. Washbrook Memorial at Griord.
The statement of accounts, which was adopted, slowed a balance in hand of \(£ 813\). 30 ., as compared with \(£ 917 \mathrm{~s}\). Lha. at the beginning of the year.
解r. F. R. Bacon of Hitchin, was unanimously elected presintent; Mr . G. W. Cartmel, luon. secretary; and the other offuers were reelected.

Other eleclions were: Hon, members, the Rev. F. Fi. Proclor (Vicar of King's Walden), the Rev. H, Edwarcls (Vicar of Watford). Messrs. L. Hambling (South Mimans), and H, I. Slaadbolt (North Mymms). Ringing memhers: Messers. W. T. Licas, C. Jeffs. A. Jaton A. B. Halsey and L. A. Turner, all of St. Albans: A. J. Smith (Luton), G. A. Fughes, juhf., A. Hughes, H. Maxton, G. Cheshire, H. Scholield and I. Spencer, all of Stammore: T. Cannon, I. Chalkley and J. Alrivitge, all of Bennington; F. Hopper (Northampton) and W. Rogess (Nortlampton).

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING AT BRAUGFING.
A very successful mecting of the Enstern District was hold at, Braughing, and a very helpful and enjoyable time was spent. Tho bells, a very musical ring (tenor \(19 \mathrm{cwt)}\). were open for ringing, and twenty-five members attended from Ware, Royston, Rarkway, Simston, Cambs; Great and Little Manden, besides the members of the Brabgling hand, whe are making good progress, and show great promise of equalling their prealecessors of the 18 th eentury. A short service was conducted by the Ticar (the Rev. E. J. Bakeri, who deliverad an approprinte address upon workers. He extended a warm and bratherly welcome to all those present, and expressed the pleasure it gave him to lave the privilege of addressing what was the frst ringers service in Braugling Chureh. He hat great sympathy with ringers, having in lis earlior life heen a ringer.
Miss Paker presided at the organ, and the I50th Psalm and two hymns, "We love the place," and" O Goul, oul help,' wero sung.
Tea anil business were held afterwards, Mr. S. Roberts presidis Ringing was kept up tili 9 o'clock. anci all expressed pleasure bot* at the service, and ringing.

\section*{NOISY BELLS \\ To the Editor.}

Sir, Most peopla will, I am sure, advise Mr. Upton io keep gab ranted iron, or indeed metal sheets of any kiad, as far awhy as possible frow the beltry. They would certanly make noisy bells much worse, rather thas better. Nohning less that 2-ineln wood is of any use, find then only for small beds nnd windows. Fer lavge bells and large windows I have found a wall, a single brick thick, built against the inner side of the louvios, has an excellent fesult.
But whatever is done, care must bo taken that all openings are covered evenly up to a foot or so above the lighest point any bell reaches in its swing, and that all the apenings are covercd up to the same height, Whaf makes the sound of bells trying is when somme bells sound louder flann others, lueing nearer the openings, and so spoll the proper blending of the riusie.

large gathering at cewkesbury
The amual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristal Diacesan Association was leld at Towkestury on Easter Montay, and was attended by 95 members. By the kind arrangements of the Rev. E. F. Smith, Mr. Dyssfi, and others, the bells were available from 10.30 p.m., and were soon ringang out in touches in various methods. As the morning passed, the mumber of ringers increased, snd just before noon the wisitars were joined by the Bristol members, who arrived in two charabancs chartered for the day by the Bristol United Ringing Guilds, under the stewaydship of Mr. W. A. Cave. Members of the maragement committee then proceeded to the Tolsey Hall, where they held their meeting, under the chairmanship of the Master (MrY. 预. Lewis), who was supported by the Rer. E. \section*{IMPROVED FINANC1AL lיOSITLON.}

The ammal meeting of the Chester JJiocesan Guild whs held at Nith wich on Monday.
In bheir report far the year 1924 the wommittee stated: A jear mgo the Guild was in an nomviable linancial position. The high cost of priniing, and, indeed, of everything else, had made it impossible for it to pay ils way, and in orter to make ends neet expenditure had to be ruiblessly reduced. For this reason only a skeleton report was published foi 1922, but last yene we were able to include both the prosls rung in 1922 and in 1823 . In the hopes of raising fresh funds an append was nade to parochial churel councils of the parishes in Which there are taells, asking them to give the diuild liala a gainer each. The appeal was only moderately successful, but those who helped hafe made it possible to turn a mesty cornes. The Gujal thanks them. The decision, also, to include advertisements on its covers thas considerably lightened the cost of the report. In consequence, du'ing the year under review, we lave managed to pay our way and to earry forward a eredit halanee of over \(£ S_{0}\) which may be yegardud as Eatisfactory. Meanwhile, the outlook for the future seems to be jmproved.

The fecline in membership which has been so noticeable during the preceding thee years apperars now to have slowed up. As the figtures given show, our numbers have practically remained constant during tine last year. The list of non-resident members has not hoen rewised since the war, end it. is now in rather no unreliable state. The Rev. A. Tr Beeston has undertaken to revise it during the prosent yeat; and any non-resident nembers who read this can greatly help him by sending bin a postcand will their nane and present addiess on it. This clase of menther bow numhers alsout 150 ; but. for purposes of more acenrate comparison, it is omitted from the subjoincei figutes:-Fonotary life members: 1923 5, 1924 3: Jonorary members 192358,192467 ; ringing and probalionary members: 1923 587 . 1924577 ; total: 1923 650, 1924647 . Towers in union: 72. Out of union: 29.
One point of which mention must again be masle is the numher of subseriptions which are in arrear, slowing, as they do at 115, an increase of 37 . It is to he hoped that during 1925 a special effort may be marle fo retuce iliese outstanding tiems.
The Guild has again thoken its record for the mumber of poats ramg. The high total of 86 peals was reached. in which 166 memhers hots part: the highost number of menbers who have ever performed in peal ringing in any jeaf. This in itself is a most phoasraging sigh. And indicates a higher geactal standard of vinging floraughmit the diocese. Amongst these there are 21 first pealers, again an increase, and five lave for ibr first time acted as confluctor. Mr. Sprring lieads the list with 42 peals rung. of which hes has conidunted 39: if lie beals his own recort noxt year lie will be a clever man.
there has been little work of restoration during the year. The recasting of Norbury bells is to take place shortly, and the finild is asked to make the usual grant in aid. The four bells at Tilston, near Malpas, havo bern untingable for many years, but they are now being recast hy Messis. J. Taylor and Co, of Loughborough. Next year the Central Council, for the first time in its annats, in to meet at Chester. Thus it is our daty to act as their hosts aud to do our luest to welcome them among as. The committee has voted a special grant of elo towerds their antertainment, and detailed armagements will be circulated to towers in union later.
The Master has again been present at many meefings rhuring fice past vear, nud the sncretary has visited all the branches.
The thanks of the Guild ate due to the brancli secretaries, who have again worked wisparingly (thougly in one ov two hranches we would like to sen a little more antivify among the orfinary monhers), amt also to Messes. J. P. Fidler and \(\{\). Cooke for conupiling the peal recards.

A CELEBRATED STAFFORDSHIRE RINGER.
As bricty amounced in our last issue, Mr. William Rock Snzall, of tiptor, Staffs, died on Saturday, the 4th April, at his residence, at Whe ripe age of 85 years. Mr. Sinall Iad beon ailing for some time, and for in considerable period lad been umbla to take any part in ruging, althongh his koen interest in it was manfested right up to tho eut. A blati, but genial chameter, Mr. Small was well known furonglout the Mjetands, and had a host of ringing friends. Nothify gave him greater delight than to mix with members of the Exercife and one of the greatest plensures of his declinigra clays, when lin couki no louger mount the belfy steps, was to receive an visit loon some ringing friend or other.
Born at Wednesbury, Stailis, on Nor. I2tii, 1839, Mr. Small received Ditte selooving at hite Parish Chanch Schools, but he started wowk at the catly age of nine years, and led an active and industrious life un to a few years ago, when Nature, at length, insisted upon a balt luing called. Mr. Small's working life, we beljeve, exteuded to anothisy like 70 years, and for more than 60 years lie was a church boll viuger, In the year 1855 le went to work in the jron tas tube Irade ab Wednesbury, and, after being turner, fitter, madime tund teol maker, rose to the position of Coreman of the works. He remained for 17 years with this firm, athe, after spending five thers wilh another, weat to the Fictofia Tinle Works, Great Bridge, where he remained for the rest of his working years, and gained the nypect of his foHow employes, and the esteen of his employers.
Mr Small eckebrated his goldex wedeling on Feb. 8th, 1913, but his wife did not long survive this event.
Iv lis young deys, Mr. Small was in Wednesbury Church chair, and whild there becane interested in the bella, then a peal of eigit. They wore recast and made into a peal of tels in 1855 , and Me. Small wad gormetimes to chisue the bells for service, and occasionally pull pone of them up. In the year 1863 he joined the lan and on April䖲h, \(1866_{1}\) rang his first peal, one of Kent Treble Bob, the campany ledng all hatives of heduesbury. Mr. Small was the last survivor of thot company, but of the many jeals he rang afterwards there was osne of Which he was prouder. His first peal of Bob Major was also nuge at Wednesbury, in 1867, and his first of Stedman Caters in the shme tower in 1870 . Curiously, to was not until 1880 that he rang \({ }^{3}\) pual of Stetiman Triples, which he scored at Willentrall, and in the sue yenr rang his fret peal of Stednan Cinques at St. Martin's, Bimingham. At this tower also he rang his lirsi. of Grandsure "ingues, in 1805, and liis first of Kent preble Bob Maximus, in 1890. Some of the 330 prals which Mr. Small rang were noteworthy for their leugtls. Fe took part in 9,020 Grandsire Cingues, in 6 lirs. 17 mins. at St. Matein's, on March 23 rd, 1887, on the occasion of Queen Vintoria's visit to that city; 8,064 Grandsire Caters, in 4 lurs. 59 2ills, on Wecmber 29th, 1988 , to commemorate the centenary of the 2,000 IBol, Major rueg at that church in 1789 ; 6,354 Grandsire Caters, u 4 hra. 4 thits. at West Eromwich on December 21st, 1889; and 8,009 1.randste Gaters, in 5 lisg. 11 mins. at Wolverhampton on April 3rd, Ye9s. In conmection with this last-2named peal there were sad circumThe nceasion had been fised for a record langth of 17,015, lut the \(\mathrm{m}^{\prime} \mathrm{n}\) who was to have ruag the tonor died, and was buried 10. Whe way arranged for the peal. The reduced lenglin was, therelore, rung mufited instead. Mr. Small has also ween concerned in ther long peal mttempts, including 13,104 Grandsire Caters at Aston Janutry 29th. 1884, which was lost after 11,000 changes, in 7 hes. Hanch hlirougli at change course : 17,000 Grandsire Caters, on yanch 26th, 1894 , when, after ringing 7,362 changes, in 4 hrs, 38 ming, the tenor clapper broke. To finisin ofi the day on this ocmasion the hand rang a ponl of Stedman Triples at Wombourn. In ISH Mr. Smali houth paris in a reterans' peal, the average nge of the hat beine 65 years 4 months, the oldest member of the party being $he daie Mr. S. Spittle, who had turned 77 years, and the youngest, Mr. Jemos George, who liad just passed his 60th birthday. His last peal was a peal of Sterman Triples ni St. Martin's, Tipton, on Nov. ist 1920, in honour of the veteran's 80ih birtinday. It was aiso his Why peal of Stedman Triples.
Mr. Small, besides daking part in more than three lundred peais, Wis gigreat rmount of spade work in the plack Country. Fe luegan hero werg at a time whinn the art was not held in ligh repute, and are were many places in that part of the country where change rong was never practised. Mr. Small look his parl with others in trieriong his state of aftairs, and his active and painstaking intheman was the menns of making many change ringers, and io thrafing the tone of the belfry. He was, indeed, one of the pioneers 0. Whan the Excreise of to-day owes a great rleal.
4. Hartin's Gutd nember of several ringing socielies. He joined Collegerting Guild, Birminpham, in 1880: the Ancient Society of Colege Youthe, 1885; the Midland Counties Association, 1891: tho Dunley and District Guild. 1899: the Worcestershire Associntion, 1887; the Ramely for the Archacaconry of Stafford, of which he was one of the founders, 1883; the Fereford Guild, 1893; the Yorkshire Association, 1888; and the Wrarwisklire Guild, 1817. He was a vicepresident of the Worcestershire Association, and for many yeats treasuter of the Dudley Guild.
Fis peals, which include one of Stedman Triples rung in the Isle of Man, were made up as follows:-

\section*{THE FLNERSL}

The fumeral took place on Wednesday weck, amid ranty manifestations of the respect and esteem in which the decersed genticman whs held. The first pari of the service was at Tipton Charch, where the coffin (heavily laden with formers) wis receired by the Viear (the Rev. Gco. Mortimore) and the enrate (ilie Rev. (!. Jaraes), with Mr. Dunn (churchwarden) and Br. F. Harris, acting for Mr. Jinks (Vicar's warden). The bearers were Messrs. A. Rowley, J. Evans, A. Clarke and \(G\). Hughes (Tipion), A. Greenfield (Netherton) and Hall (Great Bringe). As the coltin, which was placed an a bier in front of the chanecl, was carried in, Mr. G. A. Ranner (organist) played Spohr's +Blest are the Departed ' and the well-known hyma tome, 'Ring the bells of Heaven.' The service was taken by the Ficar, and the lesson was read by the curate. The lyman, "Rock of Ages," was sung, and the congregation revercotly stood mhile the Dead March from' Saul' was being played. At the coffin was taken out of the chwrels, tlie organist played ' 0 lest in the Lord.' In the course of a brief address, the Viear touched on Mr. Small's long aequamtance with the Parish Churcl, his devotion to its service, and bis great foudness for claturh bell ringing, from which be removed many of the objectiogable belfry practices common among ringers lalf a century ago. He alse touched upon the lowing family life of the decensed, and said lis long life was an inspiration to all who knew him and to those he had left bohiad.

Fallowing tise service at St. Martin's Church, Tipton, the remains were taken to the Parish Churchyald at Wedneshury, where they were laid to rest in a family vandilt, the Rev. C. E. Mortjmore pronouncing the comnittal sentences. A course of Grandsire Triples on the hathbells were rung over the grave after the coffin had been placed in its last resting-place hy Albert Walker (Birmingham) 1-2, John Jagge! (Oldhuty) 3-4. Alfred Fowley (Tipton) 5-6, A. Paddon Smith (Birmingham) 7-8.

The family mourners were: Messrs. Willian Small, John Small, Thomrs Sinall, Charles Small and James Small (sons), Walter Henry Sniall and Eraest Price (grandsons), James Small, Wedresbury (brother), and Isaiala Round (hrother-in-Inw').
Ringiag Societies were represented by Messrs. Ahert Walker (Deputy Tinging Master) and A. Paddon Smith (secretary), St. Martin's Guld; Ben Gough, Aredideaconry of Stafis Society; A. Rowley, Worcestershire Association; James George, Warwicksltire Guild; A. Greenfield, Dudley Guild: J. Jagger, Oldhury: Reaben Hall. West Bromwich; G. Hughes, St. Bawholomew's, Wednesbury.
Among the many foral tributes were wreaths from St. Martin's Guild, Bimainglam; SL. Martin's Ringels, Tipton: St. Peter's Society, Wolverhampion: St. Andrew's Gompany, Netherton; and one, which was lowered with the coffor to its last resting-place, from one of Mar. Small's oldest ringing friends, Aldevmen J. S. Pritchett.
It lad been inteuded to athempt a lialf-mufled peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's. Birmingham, on Good Friclay, but a serwice rendered his impossible. A touch of seven courses was therefore rung instead by J. D. Groves I, J. Neal 2, T. H. Reeves (conduc(or') 3, A. T. Serivens 4, E. Allawny 5, J. H. Shepherd 6, A. Walker 7, M. J. Morris 8, E. \section*{RINGERS AND PRACTICES.}

A question of interest and importance to ringers is raised in the annual report of the Middlesex County Association, laid before the members on Saturday. It is that of securing to ringers at every church a regular practice night. It is pointed out that at some towers a regular practice night is almost out of the question, or if there is a practice night, it has frequently to be given up on account of other parochal events- The suggestion is not that the ringers are not considered, but that they are for the time being forgotten. That, we think, puts very fairly the conditions which exist at many towers, not only in Middlesex, but in nearly every other county. in almost every instance it is the ringers who must put off their ringing when anything else is in the wind. Even an organ practice or a special choir practice have been made sufficient reason to interrupt operations in the belfry, and it has been because the ringers' practice or peal has not been rightly valued.

On the other hand, ringers themselves are sometimes prone to think that their practices are of small moment, otherwise fewer of them would be among the absentees on practice nights, and there would be less anxiety to abandon practice during the summer months. This is a thoroughly bad habit. Except abandoning practice altogether, there is nothing calculated to throw a band back than this closing of the tower for all except Sunday ringing through the summer. Indeed, it often affects the regularity of the Sunday ringing. One realises that in the country there are times when the claims of, say, harvest, may keep men away from the belfry on a weekevening; but even harvest does not last from April to October. Gardening, cricket and other outdoor occupations are often advanced as an argument against summer evening ringing, but the ringer who cannot so arrange bis work or play to spare once a week an hour after eight o'clock at night to maintain his efficiency in the belfry is but a lukewarm individual so far as ringing is concerned.

What ringers need to produce the best results in ringing is a regular weekly practice night throughout the vear. When it rests entirely with themselves it ought never to be in question; when the church authorities place obstacles in the way, through forgetfulness or otherwise, it ought to be possible to put the matter tactfully before them, with a polite insistence that at least an hour a week should be set aside and left clear for them to practise their art. There are some places where the ringers' practice night is so well established as to become almost a tradition. At Birmingham, for instance, it is recognised not only by the church authorities but by the public, and tmore than one orator in the Bull Ring has had to restratin his eloquence on a Tuesday evening until the bells have finished, for nothing outside the church, short ol ilhess, puts a stop on the bells. And in any well ordered parish the same thing might prevail. We do not suggest there should never be give and take, but we believe if ringers tactfully insisted upon their right to a regular practice, much might be done to improve the position of which the Middlesex Association complains.

TOWER & BELL RESTORATION AT WEST HANNEY.
It lins been decided to thorouglily restore the tower and bells at Went Hanmey, Berks. This is an ancient church, and its tower is in 50 sud \(\pi\) blate of dilapidation that it tas been found it will be necessary to spend a sum of over two thousand pounds an it and the bells.
The latiter will have to be relang, and it is quito impossible for Hen to lie rung at present owiug to the state of the tower. They are a fine ring of six, with a tenor of aboul 16 cwl ., and are considured one of the best in Berkshire.
The parish has, aince the war, raised considerable money for two कौㄴ memorials, including a fine west window.
southing over \(\mathbf{E} 300\) has been raised in the parish for the present resturation, so secing that the village is only a small one, the greater part of the remainder will have to be obtained from other sources. Anyone interested should canmunteate with the Rector, the Rew. W. Noon, West Hanucy Rectory. Wantage, Berks.

\section*{GRANDSIRE: \\ To the Editor.}

Sir, -Having read the proceedings of the Central Council in your number faf the 10 th inst., it was with very great surprise I noticed that in a certain motion brought forward, re "Nomenclature of Wethods, it was staled that 'Grandsire' as a title was "objectionable.'
Why, may I ask? Surely "Grardsire,' landed down from preStedmar dnys, and mentioned, by the way, by this Master and his 'Campanologia,' has been good enough as an expression for this particular method for a period of more than 250 years; therefore, mhy not let it stand? To my mind, on account of its hoary age, the asme carries with it a quaintly dignified and thoroughly English atmosphere. Like our ecclesiastical English, it is "understanded of the people.' Why, even the " man in the streot ' koows that 'Grandgire" lias something to do with bell ringing.
I think it is sometimes forgotten that all these queer of terms had their origin in seme reason, lost, no doubt, in the mists of antiquity ; is there any reason, therefore, why wo should not keep them? Fimal my reginent allow the term 'bombardier' to be abolished berasse that engine known as 'The Bombard' went out of Exathon aftor the Duke of Bedford's sieges against 'The Maid'? I think not, although it is nowaduys an 'absurd" teru. No, if there is esprit de corps in other walks of life, why not in the Exercise?

If, Etucefore, the Council bas cauglat the itch of morlernily, then let it restrain science from crushing all sentiment. It will, indeed, lave a herculean task in eradicaling 'Grandsire" as a name'from our minds.
So tu, ye Youllus, Associations and Ringers generally, und stue - old gran'fer down along 'from an ignominious deatl, seeing to it that this noble old palriarch is once more seated in hig sillage inn with a clean smock and two stout sticks for the assistance of his gait, nad as weapons of offence against his debractors l-Yours truly, F. A. FORKE, Gapt., R.A.

\section*{BELERY GOSSIP.}

The alion. secretary of the Kent County Association, whomade a serious 'gesture' as to resigning on account of advancing years, has held office, we believe, longer than any other ringing associntion secretary. For over thirty years he has guined the affairs of the Kent Association.
Soma of the ringers who ettended tho annual meeting of the \(1 / \mathrm{y}\) Diecesen Asseciation on Easter Monday were disappointed by being unable to ring at St. Andrew-the-Grest. It was the result of a migunderstanding. Peraission lad been given for ringing at this church, but by an oversight the verger had not been jaformed, and the belfry was not opened. Had the general secretary been lold at the meeting, some ringing waulu have been possible. The Vicar of St. Andraw's, and the secrotary, much regret the disappointimet that was ceresed.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at Canterbury Cathedeal, on Eastur Monday, by members of St. Morlin's Guida, Birminghem, shows that the Geild can rely upon its non-resident members as well as those who practise regularly at St. Martin's, and that they are equally keen in upholding the reputation of the Guild.
Some of thg Birmingtham contingent had what might ba termed a hectic time. Leaving the Midiadd city at 8.15 a.m., a late mrival in Loadon caused them to miss the train to Canterbury. They did not reach the Cathedral, therefore, until 4.20 , the start having been arranged for 4 a'clock. The bells ran round at the end of an excollent peal at 8.3 p.ni, and then there was another rusb to catch the 8.22 train to London, and Bivmingham was reacled at 3.30 on Ityerday morning. Some day!
Will the ringer whose home is in Dover, and who lias recently beth visiting Watford and Chorleywood, communicate wath Box M. C., "The Ringing World" Office, Woking, enclosing testimonials, when he may hear of a situation?
Among the wreatles sent for the funeral of Mr. Rock Small was one from the members of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Siefford. This was described last week ns being from St. Peter's Society.
The peal of Grandsive Gaters rung at Trowbrigge on Easter Monday was compased lyy G. Holifield.
Members of the Midnad Counlies Association, who propose to attend the mocting of the Nottingham District at Bingham should pay special attention to the request that they should give notice of their intention to be present, The reason for this ougtt to be obsious, and this parograph should emphasise the matter.

To-day is the anniversary of a peal of 10,400 Kent Treble Bob Major at Shipley, in 1896.

On April 26th, 1894, 11,300 Bob Major was rung in 5 hours, on linadbels, at Norwich. The game day is also the anniversary of anotler ' long " handbell peal, 8,896 Kent Treble Bob Major haying been rung 'in hand by Gollege Youtls at Barking.

A similar length in the same metlod was rung by the Cumberland Youths on tower bells at Highgate on April 27th, 3876 . In connestion rith this peal it is inleresting ta recall that the composition was the frmous one by william Harrison, the longest fength obtained witl the tenors together.

It was composed in March, 1876 , ant at the inslance of Mr, Tasper Snowdon it whes first publisleed in an appendix to a now edition of Hubbard's work. The books were sent out on April \(\mathrm{Sth}^{\mathrm{S}}\), ons was received by the secretary to the Cumberlands on the g6th, the ringerg were chosen the same evening, and the peal rung the nort day. The peal was called by Gcorge Newson, and the band included Henry Dains, John Cox and E. Gibus.

The College Youtiss set up a Trehle Bob Major record on April 27th, 1868, when they rang 15,840 in 9 hours 12 vinutes at Bethanal Green. Mr. Ted Harrex. now the 'father " of the society, is the sole surviror of that band.

Another annivereary on April 27th is that of the 8,580 Stedman Cingues, at Combill in 1861. It, was rung in 6 lours 41 minutes, nud at that time was the longest lengili in the method on fwelve bells.
Three interesting nnnivergaries fall on April 28th. In 180t, the Cumberland Youtlis rang 10,112 Oxfori Treble Bob Major at Edmonton; in 1890, the Cambridge Umiversity Guild rang their first pmal : in 1923, the Midland Counties Association rang 12,896 Camhridge Surprise Major, at Stoney Stanton.
The 210th anniversary of the firgt recorded peal falls an May 2nd-s peal of Triples at St. Peter Maneroit, Norwicd. As this lappens to be a Saturday, at will be a convenient day to commomorate the event.

\section*{THE HON. SECRETARY AND DILATORY BANDS}

The manal gentral mecting of the Kent County Association was held on Finster Monday, at Folkestone. Members attended from all parts of the county, though nok by any means to the number that might have been expected as a favourite seasido resort, and on a glorious morning, whiel, howevet, innlappily turned to rain in the afternoon. Twenty years ago. from a hundred and fifty to two bundred attended the atnual gathering; now, though the membership bes considerably increased, less tham one hundred atteld.
the committee met at 11.15 anh., atul after the business, usual on these occasions, muthe grants from the Belfry Repairs Fund of fis to St, Jolm-ilne-Baptist, Erith, and ed 2s. to Bythome.
The service was at noon, in the theatiful old Chuteli of SS. Mary and Lanswgth. The association's - form was used, the lonk secretary intoning the prayets, Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., being at the argan. The opening hymm was the liaster lyann ; before the address, the ringers' special hyum, ' Unchanging God,' nad 'O praise aur God Lo-day' (A. aud M. 380) for the collection, which was for the benevolent fund, and amounted to 5148 . 7a. The address was given by the Rev. (1. A. Lewis, Remlor of C'heriton, from the iext, P5, oxix. 45, I will walk at liberty : for I seek Thy commanslments.' This, he said, was an apparent contrediction fo ignowant and ill bislanced minds, obedience to commandments, suggesting a curfailment of ifberty. But properly understood, liberty was only to be seured by reasonable discipline and orderen obodicace. This was a lesson much needed at the present time, and the preadher gave a brgps illustration of this truth, by painting but low, after the intial difficulties of learniag to ving, the change ringer 'was free to orjoy bis skill only in oheyng. with others, the rutes of the particular method they chose to ring. ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT NANTWICH.

\section*{SUGGESTED ALTERATION OF RULES TO ADMIT} NONCONFORMIST TOWER
The Ghester biocesan Guild helrd its thitty-tiglth anmual festival at, Nentwreh on faster Monday, when many members of the Guild were present, suxty-four menhers simning thes attentanea book. At 11.45 a.cha, the Guild service was said in the Parish Chureh, the Vicaj of Nantwich (the Rev. C. S. Bromley) officiating. The sermon wes preached by the Rev. C. A. Qlements Ficar of Grappenhall, ncar Warrington.
4 cold Junch was girved ta members at 18.45, but this meal turned into a forctble raminder that it wha Bank Holiday. However, despitc difficulties, those present managed to keep cleerful, and eventually everyone obtained something to eat azad drink.
The business meeting was a long one, and conmenced at 2 p.trl. After slight alteration the minutes of last year's meeting were confirmed, and the anmal report was passed, with a vote of thanks to tho secretary for compiling it.
The meoting then proceeded to the election of officers for the ursuiug year. The Master (Mr. F. Fairclough) signified his wisly to Jetire from office, and proposed the Rev. C. A. Blements to take his rilace.-This was sesonded by the Rev. W. R. Inglann, anm Mu. R. T. Holding also spoke to the motion, which was carricd. It is much to be regretted that Mr. Fairclough felt he should give up the work. During his three years of office lue hes constantly visited the branches, nud has worked whole-lieartedly for the Guild. Fe still, however, remains on the comnittee.-The Rev. ©, A. Clements acknowledged his clection. and promised to do lis utmosis to help the Guild.
On the proposition of the new Master, seconded by the Rew. A. T. Beeston, Mr. J. W. Elwell was reelected hou. secretary-M.. Elwell thauked the neeting for the renewal of their confidence, and drew athention to the number of subscriptions which are outstanding. Fe hegged that evory cffort should be made to collect these arvears during the present year.
Mr, Elwell, seconded by the Rev. C. A. Clements, ther proposed the re-election of the Rev. A. T. Beeston as ireasurer.-This was eathasiastically carricd.-Mr. Beestan spoke of the finance of the Guill! during the past year, showing that it was vary satisfactory, nnd that it seamed to liave met its difficulties in a mamly way. Fi. nlso drew attention to the dark spot-outstamding sabscriptions.
Nosstra, F. and J. Jackson were ve-eleated auditors, and the Ruv A. T. Eepston trusiee for investments. With the exception of the ndelition of the Rev. H. W. Haworlh acd Mr. T. Motterslead, in the place of Mr. A. Burgese, the committee remains unchanged by the meetiug. report was given to the naeting by Mr. H. W. Wirde of that progress made in arrangements by the Central Council Entertainment Sub-Committee, which has been appointed to look after the neeting at Cliester next June.

Several menlars spoke keenly on the next resolution: "That it is the opinion of this Guth that the existing names of Minor methods already rung slould stand.' Tlie result was that it was carwied unanimousls, and the representatives of the Gulded on the central Council were asked to briag it to their notice.
The action of the committee in recommending a grant towards the rehanging of Norbury bells was confirmed, and the sann of 55 go to the ringers' bell voted accorditaly.

\section*{PORT SUNLIGHT TOWER}

A proposal to refer the question of admission of the Nonconformist lower of Port Sunlighe to the Diocesan Couference was tlien discussed. Mr. S. F. Bames urged that the tower be adrmitted at ance, withont ant further delay, and slowed the anomalous position the Uaild was in over the whole matter-Mr. S. Jones seconded the proposal, but a doubt arose as to whother it could be doce without transgressing €he Guild rules. The whole motion was then withdrawn, and notice mas given to revige the rules. For this purpose a snall sub-committee was appoinfed to consider the ghestion, draw 11] H revision, and report.
On ihe proposition of Mr. H. Brocklehank, seconded by Mr. T. Mottershead, it was decided that a collection should take phace in all towers for the Wasluhrook Memorial.
If was decided that the nexi, anmanl meeting should take place al. Chester.
The following resoluion was then proposed by Mr. Fidier. num sdeonder 7y Mr. T. Wille: "That consideriner the future possibilities of radio, the attention of ihe Press and Literature Committee of the Central Council he drawn to the performances of a bell chiming" ocessionally broakeast, as sucl performanees are likely to create a wrong impression of the towe mature of hell ringing; arid, further, to draw the attention of the Britisin Rroadeasting Compnny to all unsuitable imitationg of hedl ringing wlich may be broadeast." Sevaral members contmasted the indifforent performance reconly fiven from a London Church with that of Birminglam Cabherlara, rand the motion was carried.
"the secretary was asked to send it to the secreiary of the Ceutral Council and to the British Broadcasting Company. It was also suggested that it wauld bo advantageous if notice of intended broadensting could in future bo given in "The Ringing World,' so that ringors could have warning, and liston in on such occasions.
This terminated tho proceedings, and ringing afterwards took place at Nantwich, Crewe, and other neighbouring towers.

\section*{APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO COMPLETE THE PEAL OF TWELTE.}

The following appeal from the Dean of Libcoln (president of the Lineoln Diocesan Guild), the Rev. H. Law James (Master) and Mr. F. W. Stokes (Secretary) has been issued for the balance of the funds necessary to increase the ring at Lincola Catlsedral to a peal of twelve

Whe make an appeal to all members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers to complete the fund for hanging four additional bells in the Cathedral Sonth-West Tower, as soon as it is repsired.

These bells, fou wild remember, are to selve as a memorial of our fellow-members who fell is the Great Wiat
- Once the Cathedral repairs are completed a Service of Thanksgiving wilt be leld; and it would seem highly appropriate that the full peal shentid that diny he rung.

It will take time to cast and hant the belle, and, thereform, we are very ansious to complate the fund as soon as possible, of it may be too late. The amount still required is \(£ 112\), which, Rdded to the E137 11s. 10c., will make up feso."

Br. Wright being pressed, consented to take the peal section, if someone else would take on the routine and general work. The name of Mr. Frmest Morris, of Leicester, was then put forward, nod he was duly elected. N1". Wim. Wilhon was ngain elected as hon. trensurer. and duly thanked the members for their contidence.
The matter of the new rules was discussed, but as time did not allow the malter to be fully delvated. Mr. W. E. White withdrem his selseme, and the matter was allowed to stand orer to the next an nual meeting

After the usual votes of thanks, the meeting closed, and members adjourned to St. John's Churcly where the association form of service was given chorally, and the Ficar (the Rev. E. S. White, M.A.)? who officiated, gave a very inspiring iddress, which was apprecialed by all present.
Ringing was again indialget in unlil 7.30. when a most enjoynble smoking enncert was given at the Yictoria Foiel. The star turn of the evening was the Paradise Hission Fanmbell Ringers, under thg conductorship of the loena secretary (Mr. Harah Poolo), whose performances on about 50 hells were something to he remembered. Their rendering of "The Ash Grove," THe Legend of the Bells," Spanist Chani.' and other items, well merited the great applause given.

Other items included songe by Messrs. Howe, Branson, Williams, Stevons, of Ehe Lelecster Amateurs, and Ermest Morris. \section*{EASTER KEETING AT HLYTK.}

Apart from their great antigutrian inberestis, tire village and the charell at Blyth, dedicated to SE. Mary and St. Martin, have many attriction for riugers. The chturely is a spacious, elegant Gothic structure, with an ancieat tower, in which are six bells erected in 1842, wery much out of tuhe with each other, a tenor bell repated to bo 16 ewb., but requiring the attention of a bell langer. Despite the lack of train service and the bosiserous morning that made eycling anylhing but a pleasure, there was a fairly good attendanee at the medting on Easter Wonday. The towers of Tickbill and Haworth were alsc at the disposal of ringers in the morning and afternoon, nud a uumber of ringers put in an appearence from all parts of the country, viz., Langliborough, Halifnx, Leeds, Anston, Shireoaks, Tickdill, Herworth, Gainsbotollgh, Worlsop and Doneaster, together with the full company of Blyth ringers, and the Rev. S. B. Bleau, Vicar of Laxton, who motored over with three of his ringers. The methous ruag at all Lhree churches were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Oxford, Keul, Violet, Cambridge Surprise, Oxford Bob, Double Court and St. Clemeats.

A splendid tea at the Sheffield House, Blytl, wits eatored for by Mrs. Anteliffe, to which a large number sat down. The Rev. S. B. Bleau presided ab the tea and busiaess meeting, and also offered an apology fur the Rev. A. L. Phillips, Vicat of Blyth, who had a very aressirg engagement.
The next meeting, the annual, will be held at Last Retford by armangement of the commitee, in May or early June, and will be advertised in 'The Ringing Work' as usual.-Votes of thangs were accorded to the Ficar's of Tiekhill, Farworth and Blyth, the Rev. H. Th, Booty, Rev, F. D'Arbley Burney and the Rev. A. L. Plillips for the use of the bells; and MIr. T. H. Hind, of Blyth, offered, in the absence of the Vicar, a corrlial innitation to all present.-A vote of llanks was also accorded to the Rev. S. B. Blcau for presiding over the ted and meeting.-In reply, Mr. Bleau said it was always a pleasure to meet a band of church workers, and as this was his first appearamee at an association meting since his election as vice-presidont, he was very delighted to preside over so many new people, and claim them as his friends. What little time lie liad been in Blyth that afternoon he had inglened to some beautiful ringing, and he would be pleased to welcome the associntion at Laxton in July of this year (applause)
Afterwards, further use was made of the Blyth and Harworth hells, aud more interesting methods were rung.
During the afternoon, at Harworth, two very pretty weddings took pace, and the ringers present had the pleasure of ringing, by special request, a touch of 'Orange Blossom,' in which a lady took part. A gentloman afterwards appeared on the scene, and asked if the ringers had any objection to drinkiag the health of the bride and bridegroom Readers are left to guess the answer.

\section*{ST. PETEK MANCROFT BELLS.}

The rededication of the bells of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, after extensive restoration, which has been carried out hy :Messrs. Tnylor and Co., look place on Sunday.

A history of the bells of St. Peler Mancroft is almost a history of ringing in miniatare. It was on these bells that the first recorded peal was rung, two hundred and ten years ago. The first peal of Stedrana Triples also was rung lere, and afterwards, on the enarged ring of tell and subsequently on the lwelve, some of the most lamous performanees of past generations havo been put up.

The original peal at St. Peter Mancroft, existing as early as the fifteentli century, consisted of five belis, wrote Mr. J. R. Jerram in "The Ringing World" of September 14th, 1914. In 1602, a treble, cast by Willinm Brend, of Norwich, was added, making a peal of six. In \(1675-6\), two more bells were added to make eight. These were cast by Edward Tooke.

A board in the belfry records that in 1736 the ring was made a peal of ten by an addition of two bells "subscrib'd for by geutlemen in ye Parish.' The first peal on them was rung on Mareh 8th, 1737, I2,600 Grandsire Caters in 8 hours 15 minufes, and was *perfectly compleated, to the entire satisfaction, surprise, add amazement of thousands of learers."

Nearly 40 years later it was decided to replace tle old peal by a new peal of twelve, ant at a vestry held on January 31st, 1775 , it was agreed to accept the tender of Messrs. Pack and Chapman. In 1814 the tenor was cracked, and was recast in the samb year.

\section*{TRERO BRANCF REVIVAL.}

The fixst meeting of the Truro Branch of the Truro Diacesan Guild, arranged by the new secretary, Mr. A. S. Roberts, with the help of Mr. R. Dibbs (St. Agues), was lield at St. Agres ou Saturdsy last, and was attended uy about 50 ringers, representing the following Lowers: Truro Cathedral, Kenwyn, Kea, Redruth, St. Budock, St. Newlyn East, Gulval, and the local liand. There were also present Dr. Symons (Diocesan Ringing Master), the Rev, Canon Jemnings (Diocesan secretary), and the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella. Vicar of Zennor (ouce carato of St. Agnes, and captain of the St. Agnes and Cathedral bande).
Ringing commenced at 2 p.mn and the serwice, held at 4 o'clock, was conducted by the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella. The address was given by the Rev. C. W. Furguand, who is in clarge of the parish during the absence of the Rew. Father Browne, through illness

After tea, which was provided in the Sunday Sclool, a short meeting was held, at which the Ringing Master conglatulated the members on the grod attendance.
It was decided to hold these meeliags quarterly, and to hold the next one at St. Budock on June 27th.
The ringers then returmed to the tower, and einging continued until 8.30 p.m.
The majority of the bands were able to ring Grandsire Doubles.

\section*{THE CUMBERLAND ASSOCIATION. COCKERMOUTH WIS RAWNSLEY SHIELD.}

The annual ringing contest for the "Rawnsiey' shield was held at Crostliwaite Church, Reswick, on Easter Monday. Six teams competed, as against, fre last year, representing BridekirE, Egremont, Cleator Moor, Cockermouth and Eeswick (2). The judge was Mr. W. Robinson, of Ambleside, and the result as follows: Bridekirk rang 720 Woorlbine in \(27 \frac{t}{2}\) minutes, with 153 Caults; Egremont rang 720 Woodbine in \(31 \frac{1}{2}\) minutes, with 99 faults; Cockermouth rang 720 Kent Minor, in \(28 \frac{1}{2}\) mioutes, witl 75 faults. Keswick No. 1 rang 720 Oxford Treble Bob in 34 minuies, with 119 faults, and, being the home team, were penalised another 20 faults, naking 139. Cleator Moor rang Bob Winor for eight minates, when they broke down. and Keswick No. 2 rang Boh Minor for \(20 \frac{1}{2}\) minutes, when they had the misfortune to break a rope, but did not wish for another attempt. A meeting was afterwards held in the belfry, presided over by the Rev. W. Elliott-Bradley, Vicar of Crosthwaite, and supported by the hon. ecrelary, Mr. Wm. T. Holmes (Cockermouth).
Tho judge read his report as above, and Mr. Bradley presented the shield to Mr. Casson, the conductor of Cockermouth team. The winaers will hold the troply for the next twalve months.
A very interesting discussion follomed, and it was decided that the winners should ring Woodbine for the hext contest.
St. Bee's was chosen for the mext ruarterly mecting, to be held on he 27tli June
A hearty vale of thanks was given to Mr. Robinson for adjudicating, and to the Ficar for the use of the bells and presiding. These gentlemen having responded, further ringing brought is very successful mecting to a close.

\section*{ANOTHER 'FAILING.'}

In one or two recent articles we have commented upon some of the shortcomings to be found among ringers, of the laxity of some in paying their subscriptions, of the indifference of others in regard to practices, especially in the summer months. There is yet another matter in which ringers are apt to be neglectful, and so add not merely to the troubles of the officials, but to the difficulties of others outside their own ranks. This is with regard to notifying their intention to be present at teas, etc., in connection with meetings. This has long been a source of complaint by secretaries, but appeals of this kind seem to go unheeded. In the majority of cases caterers require to know beforehand how many they have to provide for. Particularly in the comntry districts is this essential if the catering is to be efficiently done, yet it is no unusual thing for twice as many ringers to turn up as have indicated their intention to do so. This is a bad practice in any case, it is extremely discourteous in those instances where the visitors are to be the guests of the incumbent or the local ringers. Naturally those responsible for the catering desire to do the best they can, and not only is it unfair to them for greater numbers to turn up than have beer notified, but it is equally unfair to those ringers who bave complied with the courtesies of the occasion, inasmuch as it may result-hand many times has done so-in everyone having to go short.

It may be said the associations have the remedy in their own hands, and that those who fail to do as they have been asked in the matter of saying that they will be present, should be excluded from the meal. This salutary method of dealing with the neglectful ones would no doubt have its effect, but ringers being the curious folk that they are, this way of dealing with the situation is not altogether a practical remedy. Officials have to be very chary of giving offence, and when a number of visitors turn up unexpectedly at a meeting, there is, of course, a desire to do the best under the circumstances so that they cannot feel aggrieved. But if these ringers find they cannot be catered for, they only have themselves to blame, yet time after time, given a fine afternoon, secretaries find they have been hopelessly 'let down.' Short of the policy of exclusion, it would seem that the only course open is that of continually hammering at the negligent to induce them to alter their ways. If they can only be brought to realise that it is not only the secretary who is concerned in knowing how many to expect, but that others outside the association have an interest in the matter, and that they are creating a bad impression, perhaps they will in time mend their ways in this and in the other directions in which we have recently urged that there is room for improvement.

\section*{THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL.}

The annual meating was leld at Worcester on Easter Monday, as usual. Rnin fell persistently until noon, after which the sum got through ocensionally, somewhat tempering the clilly air. Most of the eity leells were ringing fairly early, and the Cathedral bells werc aunilable from 1 to 2 p.nn. The rehanging of this ring is contemplated, after which, perhaps, betier ringing will bo enjoged by those whose opportunities are so few on twelve bells.
At 2.15, the Dean again welcomed a moderate attendance, and at the termination of the meeting interested those present with a briaf historical rewiew of the architecture of the Chapter House, where the meeting wns held. Even to a casual listener ift is obvious what a great study the Dean must have made of the hisiory of the Cathedral, as, when exnounding details, all else is oblivion.
As always, he presided, and was supporied by the Rev. .5. F. Hastings and Mr. J. R. Nemman, clerical and lay secretaries, Mr. R. Matthews and Mr. T. J. Salter.
The report and balance sheet wero readily adopted, the latter prowing satisfactory in face of the reduced sutscription.
Mr. Newrasn reminded members of the irregularity of not advising him of their intendef atterdance to enable hier to make ample pros visian for ter.
Apologies were read from the Vicars of Powick and Cradey, and Mr. H. Meson.
From the Belfry Repair Fund grants were voted of 55 to Selly Oak and Hanley Castle restorations. Two guineas were alsa voted from the general fund to the Washbrook Memorial.
New memhers were elected from Droitwich, Fitierminster, Wolverley, Wordsley, Martler and Oldswinford.
Arrangements for the annual peal were left in the hands of the Ringing Master (Mr. R. Matthews).
Mr. A. E. Parsons Jeferred to the death of Mr. W. Roek Small, whose work and logalty to the association from jts inception had been Inelpful. A vote of condolence was passed in silence to the bercaved family.
Mr. W. Short referred also to the rieath of Mr. John Bradney, of Shifnal, an old, unattached member. Here, too, a silent vote of sympatily was passed.
Trasident, vice-presidents (all clerical), lay vice-presidents, Master, *ecretaries, tressurer and nuditors were all again unanimously reelected. The Contral Committee was re-clecled with one exception.
Mr. J. R. Newman reminded members that he was getting older, and that day completed his 20 years' service as secretary, and linted at retiring in favour of young blood. The Dear very aptly and properly asked him to get on to the next business, much to the liking of all present.
The usual potes of thanke were passed.
The Gatleedral service followed, all members taking privileged seats in the cloir.
To the intense pleasure of at1, the organ, which has been silent for extensive reprirs and overhauling at a cost of over £6,000, was reopencd on Easter Sunday. Sir Ivor Atkima, the orgnaist, thrillid the listenors with a short recital, nond the choir gave a leantiful rendermg, too, of Sir Ivor's anthrm, 'Christ is Risen.' An address was given by the Rev. Canon Blake. Rector, of St. Helen's, from Psalm xevi. 10 , "Tell it out among the heathen,' eic.
A collection was taken for the organ fund.
Ton was sorved at tho Central Cafe, High Street. Thus another opportunity wns afforded many memliers io exehange. greetings and handuhakes, who rarely meet frame year to yert. It was also good to see young blood well represented, and one, at any rate, expressed an intard hope that their aspirations and deeds would in time exceed TELLLS OF TERRINGTON S'I. CLEMENT RESTORED.

The bells of Terringion St. Clement, Narfalk, have just been restored. There were, ptior to the festoration, six bells which werc cast at various periods by different firms, and were badly out of tunc. Of the original six bells two heve been recast and two new trebles have been added, making a good peal of eight bells, the tenor weighiny Ilve cwit. The casting, recasting nad tuming has been done by Messrs. Mears and Stainbunk, of the Whitechapel Foundry, and the rehanging has been earried out by Messrs. Day and Sob, of Eyc, Sufolk. The bells are hung with the latest type of self-aligning ball races in an entirely new oak frame. The bells go splendidly, and no doubt will be much sougltt after by bell ringers in the vicinity.
The dedication took place on Sunday, April 19th, and was performed by the Lord Bishop of Ely. The service was a most inspiring one, and was attended by a large number of people. The bells were opened by a band of ringers from St. Margaret's Clurch, King's Lynn, who, with same members of the home company, rang several short touches during the afternoon.

\section*{To the Edifor.}

Dear Sir ,-After acting for two years as hon. treasurer to the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, I can must cordially endorse, your leading article of April 17th, under the heading of 'Paying Up.'
It may interest you to know that I found the process of collecting subscriptions a most tedious one, and one in which considerable patience is required.
On taking over my cluties, Ifound a formidable list of slackers, regarding subscriptions, awaiting me. I entered into my task with a fair nmount of zeal, and was fortuate in being able to reduce the unpaid su5seriptions by some tew pouads.
It is only with great diffeulty that husiness mothods can be infused in church work of this nizture in these parts. Bell ringers as a whole are drawn from all classes of society, and many need tactful persuasion, otherwise ofence is taken where not intended.
The prevailing idea among ringers seems to be: 'Appoint your officials, and thereafter away with all cares and worries, and leave us to our ringing, the secretary and treasurer have broad shoulders." To give a case in point, an idea to improve the financial side of our association was suggested by me. A comprehensive circular, which took hours to elaborate, was drawn up, and circular letters were sent out to 50 towers asking the support of the local secretaries, and their Guilcls, and an carly reply.
After waiting patiently for six monihs, only fwelve were reccived, consequently I did not proceed iurther with the scleme. and left it to my successor to earry on, when time and occasion again arise.

(1) As an partial ellesiation of the troubles of assoejation officials 1 would suggest that the treasurer's duties should be entirely separate from the secretarial work, the secretary having quite sufficient to do in arranging meethegs, writing mp reports, and other incidentals.
(2) That cach tower should establish \(n\) scherne, whereby every memher will pay the small sum of Id. a week towards the outlays for repairs to bell ropes, and their suhseriptions to the association. This lias been achopted by more than one tower to my awn knowledge, with the lanppy result that their subscriptions have been prompty paid, and no arrenrs outstanding.
(3) Much younger men should be given the posts of secretary and treasurer, providing that they are not unwilling to face the music with a good heart, and also have the time and leisure at their dig-posal.-Yours faitlifully,
A. W. HALL,

Iate Hon. Treasures, Durham nnel Newcastle Diocesan Association.

ANNUAL GENERAT HEETING AT SOUTHGATE.
Southate having been chosen as the venue for thits year's nmual meting of the Middlesex County. Association and Louton Diocesan Guid, members made their way to that place in large numbers on Saturday, April 18 th, some 75 attending. The very fine peal of ten belts wos made muci use of, several excellent touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Cambringe Surprise Majar am lRoyal, beng ruag; whilst al Wood Green the methorls practised included Stedman Doubles, Bob Minot, Kent, Oxiord, Double Courl and Cambridge Surprise Minor. Quite e namber of the fair sex were present, and it was noticed that several of them were verg keen on the higher methods rung.

Divine service was held at 5 p.m., conducted by the Rev. G, W. Stainsby. The preacher was the Rev. S.F. L. Bernoys (Rector of Finchley), who gave a very inspiring ardiress, basing his remarks ou the dangerg confonting ail workers in the church, fom the clergy down to the choir, bell ringers, and other lay workers. viz., that of forgetfing the real nature of their calling. It was quite easy for tham all to torget their work was lhat of praising Godi. Even the clergy, in repeating the same services weck after week, found it easy to forget that, and the preacher mrged his hearers to endeavour to bear in mind, during the ringing of the bells, that they were just as much praising Goil as were the clergy and congregation.
Tea was provided in the schoolroom, served by tho wives and claughters of several of the local ringers, who had prepared an excellent raeal. The Rew. S. F. L. Bernays presided, and was supporter by the Rev. G. W. Stainsby, of Southgate.

At the business meeting, the chair was taken by Mr. F. A. Milne, president, supported by Messrs. W. Pye (Mrster), T. Beadle and K., Pickworth (vice-presidents) N. A. Tomlinson and R. Holloway (District Maslers), C. 'F. Coles and W. H. Hollier (hon. secs), ete.

The passiog of time, says the report, bids us once more to take stock of our position as a ringing organisntion. We find much cucouragenent in doing so; our numbers are incrensing; the subscriptions are being paid with regularity; and in most cases the Sunday ringing reaches a fairly ingh standard of axcellence, But, for all this, there are towers where there is still plenty of room for improvement and where better work could be done. In some cases, possibly, this is due to lack of effort on the part of the ringers, but there are other cases in which we are sure the ringers are not altogether to binme. We hear of towers where a regular practice night is almast oul of the question; or if there is a practice night, interruptions often take place owing to the prosimity of a hall where a public meeting as some other function is being beld. We do not suggest that the ringers are not considered, but what actually fappens is tinat they are for the time beging forgothen. Ringers must, have practice; first, to keep up and improve their own standaris of ringing; and, secondly, to teacl yamg ringers how to handle a beti. Otherwise Sunday ringing will in time cease nt any chureh where practices are continually interrupted. TFe would, therefore, wrge our vergs to set aside a definite ulight which the ringers may constier heir own, and to do their best to lave the practices kopt free from interruption, At the same time, we would urge on our members the necessity of taking fuld advantage of the weekly apportunity to practise, especially in those towers in which their practice has heen sulject to interruption, with the special intention of improving their Sunday Service ringing. For we must always bear in mind that this is the main olyject of our existence, the Sundar ringiug that is giver to God, and to it we should devote our best effotts.
Apart from the Annual Meeting: no less than 23 meetings wete lield during the year. In the North and East District ten took place, ibree of which were at six-bell kowers, whilst two were lodd in midimoek. The excellent average attendnace of 32 was reached. The ringing generality attained a bigh standard, and it was noticeable that a larger proportion of our younger members aspired to Surprise methods, goon practice in which can tusually be obtained at these meetings. Thie meetings hold In the Sonth and West District מumbered 13, all but two of which were helit on a Satunday The attendance at these meetings aweraged 35, which slows no lack of interest on the part of our members. In this district, too, tae ringing usually included geveral Surprise melhods, a sure sign of progregs. In addition to the above, a joint meeting of the North ent East District and the South-Whestern Division of the Essex Association was held at Waltham Abbey on August 23rd. This meeting which was atlended by upwards of 50 members of one or other of the Associations concerned, enabled many to obtain some excelfent practice on fen and twelve bolls, besiden furnishing an opportunity for fraternal ereeimgs between ringers who seldom meet each other. It is hoped hat more meetings of the same nature may be arranged in the

\section*{THE YFAR'S PEALS.}

Thraing to tive peals rung during 1924, we are able to record an incrase of one over the previous year, the total heing 77 , the highbells, whilst the peals on church bells were zung in 39 difinant towers. The members tnkiug part in these peals numbered 292, of whona eleven rang thatr tirst peals, whilst there were 117 "firsts' in new mothots or on diffingnt numbers of bells. Amongst these latter were four of Loudon Surprise, fipe of Bristol, one of Cambridge Royal, and three of Cambridge Maxinus. Two members rang their Cirst peals of Stedman Cinques, twelve their first peals of Grandshe Caters, and eight their fist peals of Oxford Trebie Bob Royal. series of peals in new plain methods were rung at Willesden, yamely, Ednonton, Marlborough and Winchester Bob Major. At Willesden, too, the first peals of Little Bob Major and Little Albion Treble Bob Major by this association were rung. Other peals worthy of notice are the first peal of London Surprise Major ruag by the Christ Church, Southgate, banci, on February 9th; the first peal ruag on the bells at Stanmore since their augmentation to eight, in which several of the local ringers took part, on Novernber Ist; and a peal in seven Surprise Minor nethats rung on the same day at Hendon, this being the first peal on tive bells since their restoration.
Our lady members thave igair done well. Misg G. Baker rang her fryt peal, and Miss P. Moss lier first peal on ten bells, at Hillingdota, on February 23rd. On April 21sL, at Acton, Miss Moss especially distinguished herself by calling Holts Original peal of Grandsira Triples, boing the first laty to call this difacalt componitions at the annal general moeting of fow days later, the president of the association took the opportunily of congratulating Miss Moss on her brilliant achievement, which wo locartily endorse, especially as it wes also her first peal as; conductor.

This peal was also the first rung bit Miss R. Hawksworth, who followed it up lyy ringing peals of Kont Treble Bob Major and Stedman Triples at Willesten on Augus 9th and Novemher \(25 \mathrm{~S}_{\mathrm{l}}\) respectively. Hrs. F. I. Hairs added nnother lo leer natny records by being the first lady to ring a peal of Cambridge Maximus, whick she accomplishef at Waltham Abbey on June 7th; whilst Mis. R. F. Deal rang her first peal of Stedman Cinques al, Soulhwark Cathedral on Jume 14th, and lier first of Caminidge Royal at St. Maruis-theMartyr on Jt]y Sth, both very fime jerformances. Dthers of out Jady mentbers who ralig pealeg ciurince the yent were the Misses Fs. K. Parker, N. Shorter, N. G. Williams and P. Upsher, all of whom we congratulate on continuing their earlier promise.
The number of members who conducted peals was 28 , and of these Mr. R. A. Fardon is to be commencied an calling his first peal on Tuily 85. at Acton; the composition being Holt's Original!

The peal of Double Narwich Court Bob Major, rung at Chiswick on December 27th, was the 1,000th Dy the conduetor, Mr. F. Bennati, Whom we congratulate on achieving a lour-figure total of peale.
The bands at Acton (31) atd St. Mary's, Ealing (29), ngain head the quarter-pual list. There is still room for more quarter-peals, especially in the North and East District. We should like to see the Sunday quarter-peal altempt a permanent institution at all those towers where time permits.

Other business included the election of five now members, an altern-

> BELI RESTORATION

The list of bell restoration work done during the year includes the following : Messre. Gillett and Johnston liave relung the whole peal at St. Andrew's Churrls, Wells Streel, W., on ball bearings, and we undersiand that they go excellently. Mesers. Mears and Stainbank have completed the rehanging of the eight bells at St. Matitrew's, Bethnal breen, whilst the bells themselves have been cleaned and tuned. At Fendon the same firm lave recast the treble, 2nd and 4lis bells, and have tueed and cleaned the other bells, rehanging the whole peal with new fittinfs and framework. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have also done slight repairs at Hampton and at Homsey.

We understand that a movement is on foot to raise sufficient funds to augment the existing eight bell at Isleworth to ten. This addition will make an excellent ring of these fine bells, and we hope that a ready response will be made to the appeal, to cnable tho work to be carried to a speedy conclusion.

An improved association cerlificate was handed round for inspecfion, and several orders obtained. Copies of this cortiticato may be had of cither of the hon, seeretaries, 6d. post free.
A discussion arose as to the place of next year's anmal general meeting, and eventually Fulham was chosen.

Hearty voles of thanks were passed to the Rep. C. F. Peploe and the Rev. C. G. A. Midwinter for the use of the bells at Southgate and Wood Green; to the Rev. S. F. L. Bernays for his address at the service; to the Rev. G. W. Stainsby (Southatc) for conducting the service; to the several ladies who had given such invaluable helg in providing tea; and to Messrs. Pickworth, Miller, Crane, Armetrong, and others, for the great assistance given.

\section*{LLANDAFF & MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.}

A quarterly meeting was held at Trevethin, Fontypool, on Saturday lasi, and, by the large number that put in an appearance frop bath dioceses, proved that Thevethin is a favoured spot. A welcome was given to the visitors by Mr. Lede, the local leader, who, by the way, las during the past year or two worked up a splendid and eathusiastic band, and no pains have been spared in the way the belfs have been looked after since he became leater.
A comarittee meeting was held prior to the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. E. Roberts, M.A.), who gave a very encauraging address.
Following the service, a bountiful tea, which had been generously provided by the Yicar's warden, Mr. T. B. Pearson, was enjoyed.
The business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, and the baiance sheet for the past year was read and adopted. This showed a very substantial sum in hand.
Instructors' reports were accepted, which showed really good progress af Machen, under the insiructarsbip of Mr. A. E. Slatter.

Augmentations and restorations were reported on, and a couple of very interesting items referred to.

It was decided to lood the next quarterly Monmouthshire meeting at Bedwellty, and new members were elected.

Afterwards the bells were rung in the standard methods, and this, brought to a close a splendid meeting. The best thanks are necorderi' to the Vicar, churchpardens, local ringers, and the local ladies.

\section*{SERVICES AT RINGING MEETINGS.} To the Zditor.
Dear Sir,-The practice of having a more or less elaborate setrice at annual and quarterly association mectings seens to be growing.
Whilst nat desiring to suem irrevorent, angy I suggest that ilicse services are somewhat of a superfluity, as ringer's who deaire to attend services can do so at any lime ad their own particular chateles.
Ringers who attend annuni or quarterly metings will admif, if they are loonest, about it, that they atlend, primarily for ringing aus the transaction of the business of their particular ussociation.
Take the case of the annual meeting of the Miclanal Counties alssociation held recently, and, say, that a member arrived in Leicestur about 11 to \(11.30 \mathrm{n} . \mathrm{m}\). By the time he liad located himself, and fif he was lucky) had a puld at one church, it was lamolh time. After fite lunch, the annual meeting, followed by the service (much of the mose impartant business was crowded out, hecause a survice liad beun arthaged). After the service, tea, and wery soon nfter a concert. so that ringing seemed to be crowderl out, too.

I suggest that association committees hesitate before they put on a service, and that they allow sufficient time for the proper discussion of imporiant iterns of business, such as the Midland Counties Association shelved the ather riay.
I quite expect to be well "strafell for daring to suggest that services at meetings are a superflutity, but anyhow, that is nyy opinion.Yours faithfully,
J. FRANK SMALLwOO#.

\section*{THL DEDJCATION.}

The restoration of St. Peter Mancroft bells is now complete, and, ns briefly mentionel in our last issue, they were re-dedicated on Sunday week. For somo time before the restaration was taken in land, the condition of the frame and fittings was far from satisfactory, and wine the bells were removed it was tound that the beams which carried the weiglit were in very bad order, and some of them badly rotted. The lower beams, forming the ceiling visible from the clatrch rotted not been removed, but have been repaired and made perfectly safe. Tile bells are now carriex on steel girders quite independert of the oid ank beams, which will henceforth the relicued of any duty excent that of earrying themselves and the wood flooring lairl on then. New fittings havo been stpplied to the hells throughout, and the bells have been gusrter turned and re-tappered. The work has needed considerable time, hut now it is done there is the stisfaction of knowing that everything in the tower is sound, and in good order, and What the strain of the bulls is more evenly distributed on the tower closely connected with the church. Tlat of Atcxander Robert Chathberlin would long be remembered. When, in 1878, the Rev. Sidney Pelham came to Mancroft, lte gat to work with the entiusiasza of faith and youth, and he found in \(\mathrm{Mr}^{\text {r }}\), Ghamberlin a quiet, retiring churchwarden amd a friend. The two men walked together in the House of God, and they saw the marks of the neglect of centuriesfour of the great windaws partially bricked up, the tower, the roof, the walls all falling into ruin. From the outside six feet of accumulated soil lay against the north and south walls. At the east end of the church the conditiong were indegcribible. Twa out of three pubiic-inouses were practically built on to the sancturiy and other honses less reputable. "I tell you these repulsive defails," said the Vicar, "because we should not forget those like Alexander Chamberlin, who pledged thenselves to purify this most glorious temple of God." Mr. Chamberlin continued his lahours with Archdeacon Neviti from 1881 to 1884, with Canon Baggaiay from 1884 to 1890 , and with Auchdeacon l'ellam Burn from 1890 to 1901 until in his (the speaker's) own Walls, which henceforward will he much lass likely to be injured by the ringing of tho heavy poal of twelve.

A crowded congregation attended the dediention service whiels was conducted by the Vitar (Canon Meyrick). The actual ceremony Look place in the belfry, where the Vicar was accompanied by the donor (Mrs, Fi. Clark), the choristers and ringets. There Canon Meyrick said prayers, the elatir sang an anthem, nad rafterwaris the bells rang out ever the city after a silence of a year, while the lymm, Now thank we all our God, was afterwards sung by the congregation.

\section*{A GREAT WORK OF RESTORATION.}

Many of us,' said Camon Meyrick in his sermon, 'have heen looking forward for months for this great moment ity the atory of Mancroft. I only wish that the figure of Archdeacon Pelham could he standing in this pulpit in my place. This great and splendici gift is made in memory of one who worked for some years wit] Sinney Pelham.' The name of Chemberlin had been for two getarafions very Vicariate the great work was completed in 1908 at a iotal cost of some \(£ 22,000\). No wonder Mr. Chamberlin loved the botils he relung forty years ago. Their bells made their appeal to many instincts. They Hand praised God for many centurjes. A humdred years before the church was buitt there almost certainly luncra a peal of five bells in the Norman tower of ald St. Peter's. They rang for the victory over the Spaniards. Again the steeple socked in 1665, when, off Lowestoft, British seamanship conguered the Dutch aggressar. At the victory of Waterloa, and, but, the other day, on November 11th, 1918, it was frou the lips of their Mancroft bells that a great hymn of thankfulmess leape to the skies while man and women wept and tried to pray.' Proceeding. Canon Meyrick referred to the ringers, who, like those in the choir stalls, were commissioned to land Gae's worship on earth. Theirs was an honoured place among the workers for God. "The music of our bells is like that of the Gospel. Thore is power-power not of this world. Hark the grent twotion tenor? There is joy and lauglater, a lauglater that leaps to the skies and blessed by God Himself, echoes back to carth to cheer the tired watcher.' There was the tender mote of sartow llat ever must bo while mea were heartess. Ab times the bells told of goodwill belween man and man. +This morning, concluded Canoa Meyrick, as we knelt at our altar', two thouglits, it may be, came to sone of us. We thought of the Norfolk men who at that very hour on that very day were marching to certain death on the battleficld of Gaza, and we thoughi of those who mourned for them. We remembered, too, that to-day, after lang silence, our bells would ring out the note of resmrection, of jife triamphing over death, and we thanked liod for the bells, for aur Norfolk heroes, and most of all for the assuramee of Easter.

The actual ringing during the interval in the service consisted of a few rounds and fring anly, in which members of the $t. Poler Mancirfl Guild alowe could take part, the occasion not allowing of anything else in the few minutes available.

Immediately after the service, howerer, and again during the afternoon, from 4 o'clock to 6.30 p.rinc, the hells were kept going, anol various touches were rung, in which ummerous visitors also joined. Among Those present were the secretary of fle Norfolk Guild ( \($ \mathrm{I}\). A. Coler man), and ringers from Lpswich (St. Mary-le-Tower). Cambridge, Diss, Wymondham, Fakentam, Thoralam Magan (Suffolk), while representatives atteaded from mamy other local belfries. The mothods rung included Stodman and Grandsire Cinques, Treble Bab Maximus, Bob Royal, Grandsire Caters, Cumbritge Sarprise Major. Tho 'go of the bells appears to toe all that can be desited, mat the improvement in the sound of the bells outside was much remaried upon. Nocdless tosay, the bell hangers (Messrs. Taylar and Co., of Longhhorough) have made an excellent job.

\section*{TO-MORROW'S ANNIVERSARY}

Two lundred and ten years ego to-morrow, viz., on Mny 2nd, 1715, the first peal ou record was rung. This was a peal of Bob Triples performed by the Norwich Scholars, on the famous bells at St. Peter Mancroft. Although the compasition of this peal has zol been preserved, there is no reason to doubt its accuracy, for John Garthon, the composer, was also the conposer of the first peal of Grandsire Triples rung three years later, the truth of which was established by the late Mr. Jesper Suowdon.

The peal of 1715 is recorded ou e very eleborate board in Mancroft tawer, and the insaription is interesting:-
May the 2ad, 1715 . Here was Rung by the Ringers calld Norwich Solvolars, that most Tncomparable Peal call'd Grandsire Bob Triples, it being the 3 d whole peal they have rung, but the firs whole Peal Llat ever was Rung to the truth by any Ringem whatsoever. It has been studjed by the most Acute Ringers in England (but to no effect) ever since Triple Changes were first Rung, but now ht last it's found out to the truth by Iolin Garthon, one of the said Society, and Rung by him and the rest of the Soriets in 3 hours 18 minutes, which is aboat 1,550 changes in an hour, the whole Peal being 5.040 Changes, and not one Fell misplac'd or out of Course. The Names of which Ringers are underwritten against their Respective Bells as they Rung :
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline Iohn Garthon & Ist \\
\hline Isaac Pearce & 2nd \\
\hline Iohn Briges & 3 rd \\
\hline Tames Brooke & 4th \\
\hline Davd. Sannevill & 5 h \\
\hline Tho. Gardner & 6th \\
\hline Williarn Dizon & 7th \\
\hline Robert Woodcoct & 817 \\

\end{tabular}

Taubtless Jolm Garthon called the peal, and these nen may well the beer proud of their performance.

\section*{DEATH OF A LADY RINGER}

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Frances Kate Jackson, eldev doughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gobey, of Ilkeston. The decensed lads rendered very valuable services as a ringer in the entry part of the war, at the Parish Church, Ilmeston, and slue whs very highly respented by all the ringers.
The interment took place on Monday, April 6th. The first portion of the service was lield at St. Jolin's Church, at which tho Rev. W. F. Rutterton (Dicar) officiated. The service was fully chocal, four ringere acted as bearers, and after the committal service rang a course of Grabdsire Tr fīles oper the open grave. Mr. A. Coppoct, rice-presifrent of the M.C.A. was amongst the mourners, representing tho Notfingham district of the Midland Connities Association.
As a last tribute of respect, the bells of the Parishi Church rang out half-muffled touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples during the fvening, the followint taking parf in the ringing: C. J. Baker, J. T. Geolge, H. Harrison (conductor), EZ. Beardsley, I. Hafton, F. Tarlton, L. King, E. Fletcher and $is, Mary Spencer.

Olver, the "ringing Vicar,' of Monk's Kiby, whatso gave the address. It wis an idhal addruss, from the ringers point of giew, atul quite out of the ordinary rum of addresses usually given at these gatherings.
Ter was provided tht the Camplell Cafe, at which about 40 members were present, after which the business meeting was held. In the mavoidatale absence of the president (the Rev. J. L. White), through indisposition, Canon M. A. Dodds, Yicar of Chilvers Cotan, was voted to the chair.

The IIon. General Secretary \{Mv. A. Wilkerson) read a report, and presented a balaume shect for tha year ending December 3ist, 1924, whicls showed a balance in ham of ell 16s. 5ra, both of which wera adopteal. whe Rev. J. L. White was unanimonsly ye-etected president, as mas flso the Whinging Master, Mr. T. W. Chapman.

The hon. general sectetary hawing expressed a wish to retire, Mr, J. A. Fenton (Rugloy) was elected ta fill the vacancy. The hon. district secretaries were reelected en bloc, and Mr. T. Male, of Warwick, elected to fill the place of Mr. F. G. Astabourne for the Warwick district. The three gentlemen appointed to serve on tho committee under Rule 6 were Canon M. A. Dodds, Rev. R. L. B. Ohiwer and Mr. J. F. W. White. Mr. Oswalk J. Hunt was reappointed auditor.
Bulkington, Shilton, Castle Bromwich and Fillongley were proposed for the May and Jume montliy meetings, Fillongley being selected for May, and Slilton for Jume.

The Rev. सh. L. F. Oliwer bronght forward the need for instractors in scweral towers, and hoperi sormething would be done towards this emal. A long discussion followed, and eventually a resolution was carried, asking the committee to go into the mistcy with a view lo somer thing heing done.
Mr. H. Atgyle moved a licarty pote of thanks to the retiring sectetary for his serwices during the past 4h years.-Mr. O. J. Hunt seconcled, and the motian was carrict.-Mr. A. Wilkerson suitahty replied.

Ten new mernhers were duly elected.
A conviwial gathering look place in the ovening, arrangen by the St. Andrew's Society, aud wrs much enjoyed, the thanks of the members heing expressed to the Rughy men fos their kinsl lospitality.

Included in the ringing on SL. Andrew's bells was a course of Bristol Surprise, this being the flrst in tha method on the bells.

\section*{THE SUFFOLK GUILD.}

The ancual Laster meeting was held at Jpswich, and tisere was a crowted attendance, besides many who kept to the towers for ringing only. Archdeacon Farmilee was in the chair, as well as preaching at the service at St. Mary-le-Tower, to a good congregation.

The statement of accounts, and the report of the committee, showed that the Giuld is doing well, both in finances, and in spreading the arl of change ringing.

The Ringing Master Mr. Chas. Sedgeley, reported that he had started a book of compositions, to record then as rung cach year. At his suggestion it was decided to give up attemating to givn the figures in the Report of the peals rung by memhers for other associations, as suth figures conld not be kept carrectly.
It was decided to publish a list of instructors in the repart: tiso to fix the subscription for honorary subscribers at 2! 6 a year only. Owing to the unfortumate udviec given by the Arvisory Conamitee of this Diocese, \(i_{t}\) was decited to asle them not to advise about bells or towers without first consulting an expert ringer.
Mr. Sedgeley reported that the new ecrtificates were about to be printed, and the Chairman said lee was loping they would be a great success from what her had seen of the proofs.
number of new members were elected, and several fresh placas for future meetings deciled upon.
A company of ringers from Leytonstone were present, and many methods were rung in the dificrent towers during the day. Owing to the proximity of the two principal towers in Ipswich (St. Bney-ieTower and St. Margroet), a time-table of alternate half-hours was arranged, so that they should not be ringing together. This sema to Iave been apprecinted by listmans, especially those who were in life elosely inhabited part lying noar to the two towers.

\section*{BEDEOEDSHIRE ASOOCIATION.}
this ustal, the ammal meeting of the Bedfordslare Ansociation was held at Bedford on Easter Montiay, and proved a very pleasant and successlu] gathering. Members and [riends made good use of the beils of St. Paul's and St. Peter's Clurches from an early hour, and visitors from London, Cambridge and Nortiants being presen during tho day. One of the most pleasing features was the number of the younger members of the association who were preseat, which was very encouraging to the offiecrs.

The luncheon was held at the Silver Grill, and was follawed by the business meeting, presided over by Canon W. W. C. Baker (president), supported by Mr. E. Ransome (who, in spite of his 83 years, still calses a keen interesi in the affairs of the association, and who has been absent from very few meetings duriag the whole of the assoctation's existence), Miss E. Steel and Mr. Cyril Herbert, Ficepresidents, and Mr. E. P. Duffield, a former secretary.
The annual report and acconnts wore passed, a balance in hand of £27 4s. 1ld. being shown.
The Rev. Camon Raker was re-elected president, on the proposition of Mr. E. Ransame. The vice-presidents the hon, secretary and auditor were also re-elected.

A liearly invitation from the president to hold the summer meeting at Southill was accepted, Canon Baker remarking that, although he had only six hells, he liark a nice shady garden, where the members could enjoy themselwes with handbells, etc.
Bedford was again selected for the annual meeting in 1926.
A vote of condolence was passed to the Rer. G. Buok, Rector of Turver, who, owing to a family bereavement, was unable to be present, and to the relatives of Mr. Cooper, a ringing member, who had recently passed away, members showing their sympatliy by silently standing.

The following new members were elected: Mestrs. W. G. Church (St. Paul's, Bedford), L. Brown, J. Faulkner, A. Hatton, G. Dilley, H. Slater, H. Sherman (Southill), and C. Mathews and L. Tring, of Dunstable.
The meeting closen witls liearty votes of thanks to the incumbents of Ft. Paul's and St. Peter's Churches for the use of the bells, and to the ehairann fot presiding.

Members then dispersed to the towers for further ringing, which ranger from rounds up to Cambridge surpuige Royal on the ten, and from Bob Major up to London ant Bristol Surprise at St. Paul's, while a number of six helf metrods were practised at St. Peter's.

\section*{CLEVELAND & NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.}

The Easter meeting was lield at Richmond (Yorks) on Bank Holiday, when members attended from Mindestrough, Tadeaster, Darlington, Saltburn, Ripon. Whitby, West Hartlepool, Newcastle, Ormesby, and the local company. A meet of foxhounds in the market place was a picturesque event, which took the atteution of the riagers until horses and loounds mored off to the coverts. The ringers then found their way to the belfy, and took part in some very good ring ing until 1 p.m., when a halt was called for dinner, served at the hatel known as Bishop's Blaze. The tables were beautifully laid out, and a company of 43 sat down to a good old Forkshire fare. The dinzer was presided over by Mr. Morton (Richmand), in the absence of the president (the Rev. A. Simpson). The toast of the King and Royal Family was honoured, ant a vole of thanks was passed to the Rector ant churchwardens for the use of the bells, also to Mr. Morton for presiding, and to the Rector for his address to the ringers later in the afternoon.
Several new members were elected, and this concluded the business. Afterwards some wended their way beck to the church to take part in more ringing; ofhers went to see the bentics of Richmond urtii 4 p.on., when a short serwice was lield, at which the Rector, the Rev. Canon Leigln, gave the address.
Later, further ringing tonk place, the methods rung being Grandsite and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Doutble Norwill Major.

\section*{A GREAT CARILLON.}

The completion of the world's greatest carillon this week at the Croydon works of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston is a triumpls of British bellfounding. The firm obtained the contract in competition, not only with other firms in this country, but with founders on two continents. The fact that they were able to compete thus successfully against all comers was naturally a matter of gratification to the firm, but the fact that they have produced such a magnificent set of bells as the fifty-three which are shortly to be dispatched to New York is a matter of which Messrs. Gillett and Johnston may be justiffably proud, for in this undertaking they have fully upheld the reputation which the leading firnis of English founders have maintained over a long series of years.

The carillon is continental in its origin, and, except: that the bells are the medium of making music, has nothing in common with our English method of bell ringing. In this respect, therffore, it may be said to have little claim upon our attention, as the interest of ringers in this country turns to bells rung in changes. And yet the carillon should make an appeal to all those who love bells. The music of the carillon is a delight to the ear, and it is bell music-bells used in a way to which we are not yet accustomed in this country, nevertheless producing very beautiful music which must appeal to the artistic sense of us all. In the hands of such a master as M. Denyn, who performed at Croydon this week, the carillon has an appealing, thrilling grip, and one no longer wonders at the hold which this form of belfry music has upon the people of those old Flemish cities which is the natural home of the carillon.

But from the ringers' point of view there is another side to the question. While our founders are casting these carillons-and they are doing so in increasing numbers, for it is recognised abroad as well as at home, that they have, through Canon Simpson's researches, regained the art of tuning which was the secret of the old Flemish founders of three centuries ago-they are increasing their experience in an important branch of their craft and adding to their knowledge. Moreover, it enables them to maintain the efficiency of their factories, and is an inducement to install the most modern plant. In all these directions, therefore, they are benefiting ringers, because they can produce church bells of improved quality. Incidentally, too. it adds to the employment available for men in a craft that is all too limited in its scope, and the future development of the carillon may serve to keep together men and (Contixued on page 290.)

plant in any time of temporary slump that might come in the demand for church bells. Happily the outlook at present shows no likelihood of a falling off in the demand for church bells, but carillon making will in the [tuture undoubtedly be an important adjunct to the business of out English bell founders.

\section*{ST．MARTIN＇S GUILD，BIRMINGHAM．}

\section*{KING＇S NORTON－PAST AND PRESENT．}

The spring meeting of the Si．Martin＇s Guild for the Diocess of Birminglaro was held on Saturday week ait King＇s Nozton，whon full use was made of the grost excellent new ring of eight put in by Messrs．Taylor and Ca．about 12 months ago．
For many years King＇s Norton has been a centre of good ringing， and it was here that the zecord peal of London Surprise Major （ 14,112 changes）was rung in 8 hrs． 40 mins．on May M1th， 1803.
On this oceasion the reloubtable Farry Withers distinguished lim－ self by remaining in the vicinily of the church throughout the peal taking down every course end as it was rung，and recording the cell， as they were made．
Here，also，the Pritelatett family was much to the fore for many years，filling the positions of churchwardens，sidebmen and ringers， but，alas！the only one now actively iuterested in the art is Aider－ quan J．S．Pritehet，the Presiding Ringiog Master of the St．Mar－ tin＇s Guild．

Change and decny in all around I see，sang H．F．Lyte in his well－ knowe hymn，but although there have been many changes，there is certainly ne sign of decty，so far as ringing is coucerned at King＇s Norton．
Indeed，quite the contrary．The old belts were not by any means a bad peal，but the idea of recasting them and putting in a new peal which should be as near perfection as possible whs seized upon with enthusiasm，and mashed to a successful conclusion without delay．
The King＇s Norton men have formed a local Guikd，called ．？？he St． Nicholas Guikl，＇and are to be congralulated on the fact that they enjoy the sympatly and practical holp of such men as Mr．Fravk Yntes，a company director，and kem Churchman，who is Presidiug Ringing Master，and Mr．W．T．Moore，schoomaster，who acts as secretary．Both these gentlonen aro determined to master the intri－ cacies of the art，and the former has already scored his first peal－ Bob Mrjor－this being also the first peal on the new bells．The conductieg is in the capable hands of Mr．P．O．Laffin，and it may be that，in the not rery distant future，lwo trebles will be adderl，unak－ ing what would then be a magnificent light penl of tea．
Tea was provided in the graint old half－timbered building known as the＇Old Gramoar School，＇and it is to be regretted that only twenty－seven members turned up，whereas provision had been made for forty．
Those present，bowever，realiseil their responsibilities，and as the result of a bold fromtal attack the weight superimposed on the tables was quickly and more or less silendy reduced．
The Ficar was present nt toa，but rpologised for not being able to stay to the meeting whith followed，and at which the chair was taken by Mr．Alderman Pritchett．
The Chairman referred in feeling terms to the loss the Exercise as a whole had sustained by the death of Mr．Wm．Rack Small．which took place on April 4th，as already recorded in the＇Ringing World，＇ and all present stood for a few moments in silence as a last tribute of respect to his memory．
Mr．Pritchett then said thes would all wish to be associated with congratulations to Mr．and Mrs．Tom Russam on the occasion of their golden welding，which happy event was celebrated a fow chass previously．Dnfortunately，owing to indisposifion，Mr．Fussam was not able to be present，but thes wished hima a speedy recoverry nad long life and good henitly to limself and Mrs．Russam for many yoars to come．
Totes of thanks were accorcled to the Vicar for the use of his bells and the ancient room in whicti the mesting was held；to Mr． Fates，Mr．Moore，and the other local men for the sulstanianl ten they had verr generonsly provided，and to the farlies most of them ringers＇wives－who so kindly and ably waited at table．

WINCHESTER AND SALISBURY GUILDS COMBINE.
* well-aitendet combined practice was held by members of the Wimbester and Salisbury Guilds at Kingwood !?amish Church, on Saturday, April 25 L, when the peal of eight bells were kept going to frmdsire, Stedmen, Plain Bob, Kat and Double Norwich, in which anthods some good touches were rung. Cambridge was also attemptal and lost in the last lead, this being the first attempt in the method an eiflit bells by the or four of the members, but further practice in this method was stopped, as the bells lad to cease, first for a serpiet, while illness close to the church prevented any resumption. At 5 padlock, the nemluers retired for tea, to when 25 members sal down. It was very pleasing to lave the presence of Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Winchester Guild, its of Mr. G. Pulligger (General secretary), and Mr. F. W. Rogers, secretary of the Portsmouth branch. Other menthers present came from Poole, Bournemouth (St. Peter's), West kontac (St. John's), Wimborne, Lythett, and one enthusiast (Mr. Chute) cycled 35 miles from Buck lorn Weston. Ilo Rev. C. Cox, of What Moors, aud Mr. Marlin Stewart, of Feradowit, Dorset, were ale present, together with a few numbers of the low al band.
A coarse or two of Grandsire Triples, on handluelle, double-landed, brought the ringing to a close.

\section*{ISOLATED WELSH TOWERS.}

Un Faster Monday, eight members of the St. John's Guild, Portiadoc, went on a ringing tour, full tones of Kent and Oxford Treble Pho, Jain Prob, Grandsire Triples and Stednan were rung on the bolls of Dolgeiley, M nelaynlleth, and Landadarn (Aberystryyth Churlocs during the day. The bells at the last named church have meetly been rehung on roller bearings, the * go' lowing excellent. The bottom six are by Rudiall, tenor 17! cwt.
Mo change ringing is being practised at these towers at the present time, but the local ringers, who were present, showed a keen interest. in the ringing, and could no doubt be induced to tasse up change aging if instructors were available. These towers are, however, shunted an appreciable fistanee from towers afflialert to the North What' Assorintion, so that anything in the mature of regular procfiefs ar tout g are impossible af the present; time.

F BFRKS AND S. BUCKS BRANCH RECOVERY.
The annual meeting held at Harlow, on Saturday weak, will remain fresh in the monory of the large number of members present from more than a score of different towers for many years. The wondertuI recovery of the branch speak: well for the loyalty of those memGers who bent their backs to the strait, and with one strong effort have practically placed it back in its former premier position.
At the service the choir was augmented by members from Stole Pages and Cookham, and an interesting, instructive and most approprate address was giver by Du. Bachelor, of Cooklam, on the text, "Whatsoever thy hand findelh to do, do it with all thy might." The preacher's enjoyment of the ringing had previously led nm to the belfry, where he expressed his appreciation to all present. The kindness of the Master (the Rec. C. W. O. Jerky) was evident in his bringing a large number of service books for use.

The arrangements for tea were left in the hands of Miss Spearing sister of the Vicar, Mr. I. Collins, and the wires of the local ringers, the local caterers having refused to undertake the task. An excellent peal, in comfort, was the result, to which some fourscore persons did justice.
The business meeting fallow nd, and, after clearing ut some arrears of minutes, the election of 45 new members was confirmed.
The statement of accounts was accepted, the balance of 555 s .4 . 4 . in hand at December 315t, 1924, being noted with approval.
The Secretary then gave a few inturatiny details of 16 lowers visited in fie months. The total number of members in the branch is now 399. He also gave the amount of subscriptions received to date. The sum of E 2 Z s. Was voted to the Whstibrook Memorial, and it was also decided to pay for the tea at this meeting ont of the funds.
The following offeers were elected: President. Bishop of BuckinglIam: rice-presideat. Dr. Bachelor: chairman, Rev. W. S. Riddelsdoll; secretary and treasurer. Mr. A. D. Bather: branch representsfives, Mrs. A. D. Barker, Messrs. F. Borelam, T. J. Fowler, G. F. Gutteridge, G. Martin, J. L. Kirk. C. C. Marie and J. Truss.
The meeting closed with votes of thanks to those persons direelle connected with the arrangements, and the bells were kep e going in various methods until 9 pam.

The death occurred it Beddington, Surrey, on Monday, of Mr. Charles W. Gordon. The deceasod ringer, who was 73 yearis of age, had been suffering for tha last six years from heart troublo and asthma. He was tie sole survivor of the band that opened Beddington bells in 1869.
The footnote to the peal of Now Cambridge Major, Eecleston, publislaed last week, is withdrawn, hs the first in the method in tho county wis rung at Pulfard in 1907, condueted by the late Bertrand Prewits.
At the Ladies Guild meeling, at Hilingtion on Satarday, in touch of Stedman Tripleg was rung for the first time by four husbands and wives. These were Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson, Mr, and $rs. Frank Hairs, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Clark -a band good enough for a good peal.

On May 104h, 1777, 10,200 Treble Bob Royal wrs rung at Shorediteh in 7 hours 40 minutes by the Royal Cumberland Youtios.

Exactly two years later a peal of 12,240 Bob Major was ratag at Braughing, Herts, in 7 hourg 34 minutes by the Braughing Yustha, There is a baard recording the peal which says: "It was long each mar did stand, with zeal and rrdant union performed the peal, Twenty-two years ago next, Monday the record peal of London Surprise Major was rung at King's Norton, and a reference to this performance will be found in the report of the St, Martin's Guild meele ing at this place.
Mr. Richard Newion, of Boston, U.S.A., is on a visit to this country, and on Suntay norning rang the 1lth to one totols of Stedmau Cinques, and the fenor to another at St. Martin's, Birminglam.
A 'ringing week' in the North of Eugland is suggested for Junt \(20 t h\) to 27th (inclusive), and a welcome fof ofered by members of the Northern Pritish Associakion. The date coincides with the nunual holidays and raciug week up North, when special cheap railway telurn tickets are available from Birminglamand London to Durlan and Newenstle. London and district ringers who are at liberty liat week हllould get into touch with Mr. W. H. Fugsell, of Slough, if tley wish to take part in the tour.
Another recorl gonel Owing to her mother being too shy to re spond to a rote of thanks for providing a tea at the recent meeting at Mjlton-next-Gravesend, a litito girl, not jet two years old, teprtised, by standing on a table, and responding with 'Ta!' She must be the youngest speaker of any ringers' meeting.
The annual meeting of the Sussex County Association is to he held on Shiurday. Will there be a representative to the Central Comer elected, or will the association continue to be the only large lardy of ringers unaffiated to the central organisation?
An alurming necident occurred at Banskeat, Sarrey, on Palm Sunday, when ringing for evening service was in progress. On inspec tion it wus foume that the 5 th bell hat brosen from the cromi, and the bell was lying in tho pil, the crown still heing bulted to the atock.
The hells are only four years old, and are tuned on Canon Simpson's priciple. In order to put flings rigist, it is estimated it will cost the churel authoritios over f8o.
The first peal of Minor on the lahls at Quern Camel, Sunerser, was rung on Saturday. The tenor is approxinantely 37 cwt ., and the pal took more than hiree and a lialt hours. Although used to some fairly hefty' jobs, the conductor is in no hurry to ring the tenor to another pen of Minor.
Warwickshire ringers in particular and the Exercise in general, will deeply sympathise with Mr. Alraham Wilkerson in tho death of lig wife Mr. Wilkerson las just given up the hon. secrelaryship of tix Warwicksaine Guild after discharging the duties with abilify and enthusiasm for severnl years.
'The ringers of St. Mary's Church, Strfford, are anaious to compile for theit belfry a recoul of the peats rung on the hells before the year 1900 , other than those rung by the Society for the Arehdencomr of Staflort, the records of which are readily accessible. Will ringers Who are atble to supply information kindy send it to Mr . F. W. Haggis, 124, Corporation Street, Slaffard?

\section*{WONDERFUL CARJLLON FOR NEW YORK.}

The magnificent new carillon which has been cast by Messis. Gillutt and Johnston at their Groydon Foundry, for the Park Avenue Baps list Church, New Iork, is now complete, and is to be shipped about the end of the month. A large number of visitors have this week lad the privilege of inspecting the carilon in the foundry, and of heartig something of its wonderful masical qualities.
This carilion is the largest, both in point of number and size, ja the world. There are fifty-three bells covering four and a half chromatic octaves and the bass bell, which corresponds with low \(E\), weighs approximately \(9 \neq\) lons. The bellg run up the scale to high 4, a tiny casting of only 15 lbs . Of the lower beths. the battom twelve bange from one ton upwards, and the total nuetal in the eaillon is about fifty tons. The diamefer of the smallest belt is inches, and of the largest 98 inches, the hammer used on this bell hoing twice the diameter of the smallest bell itself, viz., 14 inehes. some didea of the aize of the other large hells may be gauged by the fact that the diameters of those next the bass are 87 inches (welgliing soumathing aver six tons), 81, 76 and 72 inches respectively. Each bell bears the founders" names aud date, but only the bass bell has any other inscription. Raund the shoulder are groups of ligures, and beneath them the text, " ye Angels of the Lord, bless ye fhe Lorot, praise Him and magnify Him for ever.' On the waist is inseribed:-
on lovig memory of my mother, Laura Spelman Rockefeller, 1839-1915. Whose gentle and kindly spirit and stedfast devotion to Christ and His cause will ever be an abiding inspiration, this carillon is given. John D. Rockefeller, junior, Anno Domini 1925.
of the belle themselves we camot speak too highly. Thes are, of course, tuned on the five-tone principle, which is a rediscovered art. Three hunired years ago this method of funing was known to the foundors of the Netherlands, and among the best examples were the helle of Hemony. In the course of the centuries the att was lost, but Ganon Simpson, after years of investigation, once more introdueed the primciple which all British founders lave now adopted in ware or less modified form. In the case of this gremt new carillon, Messrs. (Aillett and Johnston have tuned these bells strictly to th: fre-tone Simpson principle, and to the International Piteln. They are also tumed aumirately to the tempered scalc, so as to enable the cariloneur to madulate from one key to another at will, without any danger of consequent eiscords. As far as it is humanly possible, Yessrs. lillett and Johnston have produced a perfect carillon. The greatest technical difficulties presented to the founder are to he round in tho small hells, hut under the hands of an experienced carilloneur the beantios of the fitto bells in this wonderful sel are really siriking. At the other end of the senle, the magnificent hourdon bells are like the deep diapason of a great organ, and the middle bells fully maintain n motathle consiatency in the whole carillon.
When the bells rearh New York, they, will be erocted in the tower of the Park Avenne Baptist Chureh, which is about 150ft. high. The interior of the tower is only 12 feet square, and 45 of the bells are to be fluct in three tiers, while the eight largest hells are to he hung in a meparate massive finme in a campanile built specially for the parextension of tha colnrans now supporting the roof of the cluach. The tower is a beautiful Gothic structure, desigued by one of Ameriea' most 「amons architects. Mr. H. C. Pelton. Indeed, the placing of the carilan in this tower lins necessitated concerted action between archithts, ongineers and fommers, and no pains have been spared by ilue best brains ai America in the worlil of auchitecture, engineering and musie, in collaboration with the hell foumbers, to make the whole projeet the most magnificent of its lind in the world. The belle will be operaterd hy a keyboard-hhere will he no mechanical appliances-and this clavier las been crolved after careful study of ali the principal ones on the Contineut. and has many novel fealures-the ontcome of jdeas arigimated by Mr. Maver and M. Brees, in conjunction witi Mestrs, fillett and Jehnston. Ii is possible thet, it may be gimed of as a stmplarel in America, therehy facilitating the work of carilloneurs risiting a stange tower to give a special recilal.
The hells lave been erected in their frames in the foundry, and man Mondny ther were plaved for the first time to a company representing the press of these islands and America and numerons ofher visi. tors. Evervano admired the gracefal lines of the bells, and to those with a crilical eye it was obvious that the frame (designed by the foundera) was a wery fine engineering joh. The construction is of steel girderz and weirlts abort 50 tong, so fhat bells and trame togetlie: weich one hindred tons.
To immonstrato the hills M . In Chevalier fof. Denyn, cariblonener of Malines, and Principal of the Belgian National Sehond of Carilloneurs, crme someninly from \}elgium to porform. Foremost among the worlids emmilloneurs. M. Denyn eave two programmes, to the intense delfht of the msny listeners. His first niece was an improvisation. in whid he gave his andience the opportanity of at once apmeciatine the gatity of the bells, a rippling, spnikling piay upan the higior-notes, witl a soft background provided by the middie bells, ad punctuated by the majestic tones of tho bass. Played by a master hand, the music was entrancing, and when he conctuded with a gentle touch upon the nine-Lon bollom tell, it seemed almost minutes before the last decp hum of the musieal chord in thas one bell died away-
Following this came 'Le Barbier de Seville Cavaline' (Rossini), a beatiful composition, entitled "Ave Maria," written by M. Denyı himseff, and a spirited vendering of 'Tule Britanaia.' Needless 10 shy, in these pieces, the artist brought out the full glories of the carillon, and at the close was lhanked by Mr. Cyril Johnston, un behalf of the company.

Through the medium of M. Denyn's courceous secretary, our representatire had a few minuteg intervicw with the great but genial carilloneur.

Asked how this carillon compared with the greatest in his own country, M. Denyn said the best in the Notherlands were undoubtedly those by Hemony, but his work did not excel this new earillon, which he considered the finest in the world. Hemony's carillons did not include such small bells as the smallest of those that are going to New York, and that great founder liad ackrowledged, in letters sill extant, that it was the small hells which were the most diffeult to perfect.
M. Denyn has heard or played on practically all the great carillons of France and Flanders, and thene is na better judge in the worlh. Messes. Gillett nad Johnston may, therefore, be proud of this latest snd greatest product of their foundry, and New York will doubthoss be equally proud of its new possestion, which lass been marle possible hy the munificent donation to the Pazle Avenue Baptist Clurch from Mr. J. D. Rockefeller, junr., in memory of his mother,
M. Anton Brees, carilloneur of Antwerp Cathedral has been nppainted carilloneur at New York.
In adrition to this carillon, Messys. Gillett and Johnston have in hand, also, an exactly similar one for the new Parliament House, ai Ottawa, for the Canadian Government, and they lave other carillons in land for Canada and Holland.

Recit-als at the Foundry have been given eacla day this week by well-known Continontal carilloneurs, there liaving been a special one on Wedmestay for the Worshipfnl Company of Clockmakers, ant ant other is arranged on Sunday aftermoon for the Worshipful Company of Musicians.

\section*{NORBURY, CHESHIRE, TO HAVE EIGHT BELLS. \\ PART OF A GREAT RBSTORATION SCHEME.}

The Norbury (Cheshire) Church Coungjl, after careful thought, iteve decided to accept Messrs. Taylor and Co.'s tender of 8784 for the restoration of the church bells. The schene comprises recasting the present 1st, 2nd, 5th and 6th, with the addition of four new bells to complete the artave, the approximate weight of the new tenor ta be 13 cow. Those of an antiquarjan turn of mind will be pleased ta know that the old 3:d and thl, which were cast in 1617 by Oldfeld, are lo be preserved, and will be placed in the church to form the nueleus of a lidl matuetm.
The recast riag will be ling in a cast-jron frame, built on stont steel supporting givders.
The church authorities are artying oul a lange gencral scheme of restoration, of which the beils form a part, and which will cost over ©5,000. They feserve no small praise for their enthusiasm and determination, atd sel an exsmple whicl might well be copied by other minuches. Only somerhigg like \(£ 600\) needs now to be raised, and it is hoped to have this by the time the bells are completcd. The ringers are giving one bell.
The entire scheme, work on which was commenced in Decenher. compuises new chancel. new roof, electric lighting, reseatiog galleries, rethilefing organ, tecorations, pointing whale of fabric, ineluding insitle af tower, drainage of clinctiyntd, the bells, and 14 new windows. 4 great undortaking for a worling-class parish.

Best of all the secretary whe uble on that occasion to present thalance sheet with almost every suloscription paid up, and before the end of Decenber tho Hreach Roport, wilis all subseriptions complete, was in the hands of the General Secretary. O si sic ommes!
steady progress has been made in the various Branches. A good ramber of new towers have joincd the Guidd, and several youthe bands have reedived instuction in change ringing. In connection with the lasit anmal meeting, it is recorded that ink Guild, greatly to the regret of all, had to encept Major Hughes DrAeth's tesignation of the Mastership owing to his removal from the Diocese. His return trom active scrpice just at the time when the offee was last vacaut, proved a veritable godsend to the Guild. Mis keen Churchmanship and practical experience in change ringing combined with his mobility as a motor-cyelist to make hirn the ideal Master for reviving the activitios of the Guild after the War and extending its work nud influmen. Diring his five gears tenure of oftice lie lias rendered sighal service to the cause of the Guild. and his Masterghip will leave ils mark far a long time to come. During that period great progress has been made in the standard of tinging, two new bramelues have been formeti, and the atheient use of the Peace Bell has been reviver in a number of parishes.
At the same meeling it was resolved to respond to the invitation of the Dean and Chapter and enclearour to raise a suffeient sum to provide the oak pruclling required for the Memorial Clapel in the Cathertral as a tribute to the momory of all those ringers

During tho pact year, deatla has ramoven from onr list of life mimbers the homoured name of James W. Washbrook, n weriinlıle prince of ringers, whose fance will endure for ever in the aunals of the Fxercise. Br the doath of Lord Long of Wraxall, the Guild has lost one of its oldest supporters, whose association with it as an hon. life member exteuded over a period of thirtw-seven fears, and the nation one of the mosi eminent statesmen, a frue patriof atal the perfech type of an English gentleman. Just as we are publishing outw report, we learn with regret lhat Sir Everatd Hambre, another of out virespesidents, hns passed away in his eighls-fifth fear. Manv of us will clierith a. clelightful menioly of the grand old veterats of seale to a gathering of some two hondred ringers and friends ot the reopening of the glovions chureh on \(\mathrm{lig}_{\mathrm{s}}\) Dorset estate.
The following are points from the clistrict socretaries" reports:-
Salishurs Bramela: There las been an improvempnt in the hranch, but there is still ronm for a greater amount of individund interest gin the part of membrys. St. Erimund's. Sialishuty, las again joined the Gnili] with a strong band of ringers, and it is lopent that more fompers will join in the coning year.

Nevizes Branch: The aftemanere at llam twelwe branch meefinge has hem very goot. an average of over 40 per meding being recotdret. Two towers linve joined ip during the year (Christ Chureln, Bratforit on-Avon, Rnd Üpavon). There lins heen a skonde ineronse in menshershin during the yenr, and the tofals are wow 20 lon. memhers and 226 tinging niembers.

Dorehesiev Zranch: Much goot work lans hem dome and mrogress mance, and the founger men are soming fowsavd to learn the "anrient art."

Fimborme Brameh: Tlan year's work has prown comelusively flan kepmess of the branch and its abmanant competence to earis an. Than branch is one of tho smallest in the diocose (membership 97), but has the satisfabiou as well as the responsibiluy of being well to the frant in metheds reyplaty practised ar athemped. A teature of whe year, in its last guarter, hus been a seheme of combined atwanmen prachiees in varions lowers on lheir ordinary practice aights. These were only purtially successfal awing to wedther, distance and shoriness of lime on an evening only. It has now heen decirled to holu them on the dirst siturulyy afternoon mad evenigg of each month, hot already occupied lyy a quarterly mecting, and to adaph the prachice to the ragurements of the monjonay present.
West Dorsel Brancli: Nine meetings were hold (against five leat year', and these have been better attended than those of lasti yons. There is, however, still a tonlency for some ringers never to feav their own lower. An experiment of holding evening meetiogs wns tried, and proved suecossiul, and thoit coninnanee is recommenden There is still much russionary work ta accomplisls.
North Dorset Branch: The hranch was started on Fels. 16וh. 192d All the meetings luve been well attended, and the firsi yem is comchuded with 167 ringing members, and 11 honorary memhors, representing 23 towers.

\section*{SERVICES AT RINGERS' MEETINGS To the Editor.}

Bir, -While agreeing with Mr. Snallwood, ve slulving business at an annual moeting, i do not think he is right in blaming the servio. The faet that it is theis service appoals to wome ringers, and probathly it is the first limy liave athended for many mboms. Instend of tho elaborata service, i thirik the elaborate luncheon could be cut-your way, is wasted. 1 think the majonity of members would rather huve a meal. As to ringing favilitirs, there were available forty-six bells for a period of severt thots.s. So puthing the attendance ai 150. theve were, rouginly, 145 minutes per menber, and the parson omiz lad fifty. "Che mistake is made in trying lo compross a cetrain anmman of business into any stateri time. Why not have the mecting bater in the day, then we can delibernte ull night? Yours truly,
T. F. VALLANOE.

\section*{INTERESTING PRESENTATION AT EARL SHILTON \\ MR. FRED COTTON'G gTRVICES ACKNOWLEDGED.}

A most enjoyable evening was spent at larl Shilton on April 18th, on the occasion of a preseatation to Mr. Fred Cotton, to mark his 14 years' service as secretary to the Hinckloy district of the M.C.A. The Vicar of Earl Shilton (tho Rev. H. V. Williams) performed the pleasant duty of "delivering the goods" (a ringor's gold pendatu suitably inscribed, and a wallet containing a few of the 'best '). The Vicar remarked that it gave him great pleasure to spring this surprise of Mr. Cotton whom he lasd known for a long while at Hinciley. One thing he would like to say nbout Mr. Cotota, as everyone present must know, was that he had necomplished much towards bringing the ringers into closer rolationship one with the olher, and with he charch (kent, hear). The only regrettuble thing he had to mentian was the unavoidable absence (though illuess) of the vice-presidant (Mr. C. H. Wehb), who would otherwise have assuredly been present.
Mr. Cotton, on receiving the gifts, said le was quite unable to express his thanks as lie would wish, as it was absalately bogond him.

Tlme Rev. R. P. Farrow (Stoney Stanton) hari a few niee worls to say about Mr. Cotton, also Mr. J. Clarke, who, with M1r. Coc anl the committee, wes largaly responsible for the arrangements.

After the presentation, Mr, Coiton was voted ta the chair, where be succeded in getting the bost of the talent put of thu ussembled company, in the way of singing, handibell ringing, and piano playing. Those who luelped to fulfil the various duties must feul their cfinets were nuth appreciated.

\section*{THE HEREFORD GUILD}

The Hereford Diocesan Guild is by no means so well off as many associations, either for the facilities which its members have for tinging advanced methods, or for intercommunication between its towers, yet it is one of the most go-ahead of the provincial societies in the way in which it endeavours to help its ringers in the art. Its districts are small and well organised, being limited to practically a seven-mile radias around what may be called the parent towers, and the association has gone further than any other that we know of by providing the Ringing Master with a motor-cycle to enable him to reach and help the members in outlying towers. Enthusiast that the was, and is, Mr. Charles Edwards used to pedal hundreds of miles a year on a push-bicycte in his eflorts to forwatd the art, athd the provision of a power machine has now enabled him to expand his work at much saving of time and physical exertion. Is there not in this example a suggestion to many another association with scattered or inaccessible towers, where ringers are backward because they are out of reach of regular help? We could mention two or three associations, where, given the right man and a motor-cycle, great things might be accomplished.
ln the annual report of the Hereford Guild, another point of interest is mentioned, it is the enophasis laid on peal ringing as an cducation in the art, and in touchintr on the question the report states: "When a man hats rung a certain number (of peals) it is doubtful whether he learns much by ringing more unless they are fin new methods. " The statement is a guarded one, but there is a lot of truth lying at the root of it. There is no doubt that the best ringer, nearly always, is the peal ringer. The man who can concentrate his mind upon a method and the striking of his bell for three hours, is likely to be a better ringer than the one who seldom rings for more than twenty minutes at a stretch.

It is equally true that after a mumber of peals ith a method a ringer will learin but little more about ringing unless he goes on to other methods. Moreover, unless he progresses in his rioging he goes backward, for stagnation leads to loss of interest. The Hereford Guild report expresses a desire to see as many ringers as possible in the Guild ringing a peal--in view of its educational value, and promises to distinguish these ringers in the report. It might go much further and empinsise among its menbers the need for ringing more methods. For instance, Stedman and Double Norwich are two methods little practised in the Guild, to say nothing of the Surprise group. It is, of course, difficult work to "get a move on ' with the majority of bands, and yet the spirit

PROSPECT OE TWO MORE BELLS AT POULTON.
The utonthly meeting of the Fylde Brauch was held at Poulton on Snturday, May 2nd. As usual, when a ringers' meeting is held here the weather was gloriously fine. The village of Poulton, with its ancient stocks and whipping post in the square, and its 701 h cendury olututi, presented its usual casy-boing, comfortable uppearance to tho tingers who attended the meeting. Poulton's oid residents are not a litte proud of reminding the prosent generation of the 'good old times" when lua railway did not run to Blackpool, so that intending risitors to tho latter fown were obleged to hire any conveyance prompable, very often engating such incongruities as bay carte, ble, to ardive at thoir destination. The six balls of the ancient church were cast by Rudhall, and relung n few years ago by Waraer and Co. 'Hey nre a light, easy-goirg ring, bug are lacking a littie in tone. Owing to some misunderstanding, the first arribals found the belfy door locked. Arter wailing a while, one of the local ringers turned up enimus the key, but gave instructions where it could be found. Thentually the bells were sel going to Grandsire Doubles, followed by Bob Minor, Kent, Oxford, Woodbine, and two piain courses of Stedman Doubles, a ringel from Bisplam being piloted ilrotela his furst loucld of Stedman and 'T'leble Bob, Thic following towers were fepresented, Lyblam. St. Jolm and St. C'ulliberl, St. Anno's Parish Chutch, Bisplam, Btackpool St, John, along with Mr. W. Taylor, Peuwortlam, find Me. Heckingbottom, of Soulh Elore. The Viear, who presided ab the meeting, said how plensed lie was to hear the bells Jung so spleadidly in changes, and thought that at some future time they would have two more bells put in, and so lave a rmg of cight bells, similar to Bispham. At presend they had a scheme in riew for orecting a parish liall to cost negrly 84,000 , lowards which 21,000 Inal been mised, Last year. \(£ 1,500\) was spent in renovations to the chutch. After the parish hall scheme Whs finisled he promised to go forward with the two bells. He glso approwed of his ringers becoming members of the association, and the fers heing paicl ont of church funds. He suggested to Mr. Lawrenson, the churcluwarden, that he bring this natier forward at the next Churels Council meeling.
After a little more Freble Bob, the hells were lowered in peal, thus hringing to a slose one of the best meetings lald at Poulton for a long lime.

The anuual meting of the Nortls Devon Brancls was held in the belfry at Ilfracombe Parish Church on Wednesday ovening, April 29th. -The Ref. H. L. Pigot, who accupied the clain, was unanimousiy re-electedi as chairmar, and Mr. A. H, Hayward was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Two new members wore elected, one from Ilifacombe and one from Combe Martin, both being qualified to reecive the Guild certificate.
The next annual mecting will be Jeld at Combe Marlin on the last Wednesday in Apuil, 1926.

A hearty vate of thanks was accorded the Rev. H. L. Pigot for presiding after which some of the younger members were given a goad practice in Grandsire Triples.

\section*{MUFELED BELLS.}

Deane \(5_{7} J\) J. Waller \(B\). The bells were rung loaif-mufied at both these services, in memory of the late Mr, E. B. Wain, who for many years was elarchwarden and sidesman at Sit. Barbliolomew Churcth. He was tho managing director of a large collicry in the dislrict, and was a great benciactor to the church, aud whenever the helfry needed "spring cleaning," the necessary paints, staius and varnish were always supplied free of charge by Mr. Wain. Fis death took place very suddenls. He had been to a coalomners' conference in Latelon, amd when about 500 yards from liis home suddenly expirerl. The news gave quite a shock to all who knew him- Certain it is that the ringers of Norton Churchi have lost a wery good fricmd.
Al Numerton, on Thestay, May 5th, at the Parisl Church, four courses of Deuble Norwich, four coutses of Stedman Triples, and 224 of Grandsitre Triples. There touches were rung, with the bells halfmuffied, by members of the Nuncaton Society, as a last marle of respeet to Mrs. Wilkerson, wife of Mr. Ahralam Wilkerson, a respected member of the Nuncaton Society. The funeral iook place at Chilvers Coton Churehyard during the aftennon.

Their Majesties arrived at the Foundry just aiter 3 p.in., and were received by the primeipal of the tirin (Mr. C. F. Jolanston). Miss Jolmaton, the Muyor of Croydon, and otiners, were present. An inspection of the carillon followed, and the royal wisitors then witnessed the casting of a bell in the Foundry.
Subseguently they heard a recilal ou the carillon hy M. Lefevre, of Nafines, in which the carillonneur brought out all the beaties of tonu and effeet of these magnificht boils. The King and Queen then inspected the big tuning machine, also some old leils from Hoiland whin have been brought over for retuning, and the St. James's Walace old clock. Their stay extonded over more tham an hour, and thoy were tuuch interested in all they had seen and zeard on their visit.
Mhlousands of peoplo lined the shreets of Croyndon and gave their Majesties a rousing welcome. \section*{SERVICES AT RINGERS' MEETINGS. To the Editor}

Dear Sir, -I see that the question of elunch scrvices at ringers mpetings is again coming up in your columns. The instance cited by Mr. Sinalwood is eertainly an exireme case, bulb of all the functions that interfered with ringing ai Leicester, why should the service alone ringing just as well by eutting dub luncls or ten. No one ever suggests that as a remedy!
matter of fact, \(J\) angree to some uxtent with the tenor of Mr. Smullwood's complaint. Serwice, tea and meeting do take out a rey substantial amoust tron the whole time avalable for ringing. Yet onc lios reason to beliew that anomg thioge ringers, who take their duties most scriously, the service is really appreciated. Whenever a Guild neeting is helt, rimgers gather together as a hody of chureh workers, and it is obvionsly most fitting that they shoult consecrate their anited activities with a cotporate act of worthip in the church aftically visited.
Hri we cther hand, there is somelhing to be said for ocempying less of the time available in such religious devotions. Ath ammanl meeting is an ocension on which in 'mare ar less elazhorate service' is in Keeping will the general character of whe promentings, but it seenis to me that ab the fuarterly or monthly branch meetings a simple service lasting abont 20 mintes mat serve the murpose betier. There is really wo meded to prolong it by introducing an addresa; in fact, the ahseme of an aldress may tend to entplasise the primary object of tha church offecrs desiring to consecrate their talents nad energies to the ghory of Got and the goon of the church. I brici office, with onc pandm, lesson aud canticle, crood, prayens, and a concluding liymn, and is cuite complete in itself, without atiding a cermen and an-

THE ANNUAL REPORI.
The annual lestival of the Hercford Diocesan Guild is to be helal, as ustal, at Hereford on Wlit Monday. The annual report states that the total membership, ineluding hon. members, life members, ant unallached, is 854 . Jhore are now 82 lowers in union with the Guild, whelt taking into account ithe loss of four lowers in the Brecon alisfrict, is thas same as in 1923. The number of riugers for 1924 wats 662, compared with 690 in 1923. "But we have to remember,' ailds Ele report, "that the Brecon district has now left the Guild and forns patt of Lhe Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild. This district tontained tour towers wilh 42 ringers, so that our membership would have been 704, Iad Brecon remained in the Guild. We wish the new Guild every success, and we are proud of the fact that Mr.
Rachhaw, who was Ringing Master and lon, secretary of the Brecon disteict is the Master of the now Guild. There fure now -I56 probationets, compared with 146 in 1923. That new nambers are contimally flawing into the Guild is a sign of life and good health. But thess probationers are not all new members, and that there are a large number of ringers who bave not yet succeaded in ohtaining certificates is a sign of weakness. Ringing Mastors will do well to pay attention to this. There is a falling of of seven in the number of lon. nembers, ritis is partly accounter for by the loss op four hon. members from the Brecan aistriel. The number now stmuds ak 107, compared wilf 114 in 1923. Their subseriptions come to \(£ 32\) lis., compared will \(£ 361 \mathrm{~s}\), in 1923. There have been 34 peals rung in 1924, coupared with 52 in 1923. We do not attach overmuch importance to the uumber of peals rung. When a man has rung a certaiu number, it is houbtful wheiner he learns much by ringiag more, unless they are in new methots. What we want to work for is that there are as many ringers as possible in the Guild who bape rung a peal. There is no doulut that the ringing of a peal is a red-lettor day in tite life of a ringer.

The Guild eontinues to loe in a sound financial position. It is true That the balance of the Central Pund has fallen by \(£ 17 \mathrm{ls}\). 10d. But gas has been spent, and well spent, ons the purcluase of a moiothicycle for the Master, by means of which le has been able to cover a nuch gicater area thant formerly. The Central hatance is now sis 11s 11 wompar with 12 in \(190 \pi\). tricts, it is gratifying to find that eight oth of the ten districts hawe increased their halances, and thab the total balances amoum to s55 18s. 10k, compared with \(£ 4511 \mathrm{~s}\). (not including the Brecon district) in 1923 , an increase of \(£ 10 \mathrm{Ls}\). 9 d .

\section*{NO SUND.AY DISTRICT MEFTTMGS.}

We would emplasise the inportance of the zames of districts. The mame is chosen not because the place is a strong finging centro, thit hecanse the district contains all the towers within a ralius of seven miles of the tower after which the district is called, and consenuently, the name of a district cannot be aliered without aftering the area of the district. The Guild has been and still is a hefoful agent in the Diocese in that it supplies sound advico free of expense to towers in maion, aud with snall expense to othar tomers. The Master lias had great experience, and is fully qualified to give an unbiassed. disinterested repart on the state of both bells, and the cages in which they lang.

At the meeting of tho committee held on 14 th March, it was decided that clisurict meetings, either annual or quarterly, must not he heled on a Sunday. The chief reason for this decision is that it is not fail that ringers. and in many wases singers, slauld be drawn awny Erans all the chareles in the district.

We are much impressed with the value of peal ringing as an edtrcation, and, therefore, of the importance of as many ringers as possible having rung a peal. We believe that there are some 400 men in the Guili who have rung at any rate one peal, and we propose that in ihe next report, an asterisk (*) be placed in front of every ringer who has rung a peal

One or two towers have applied for grants towards the restomathon of thair hells. The committee wish it to be known that this roes not Fall within the objects of the Guild. They take the groatinterast in the good condition of the bells, and willingly give expert adrice, that the granling of money must the left to the tritiding sonioties.
- We beg you to notice that the districts of Lemainster anl 1'resteign wliclt for some years have been worked together, nre now heing worked an soparate mits, and that the tower of Botlenlann, heing worked an soparate mints, and that the tower of Bodenham, which iz within the seven-mile radius of hollo Hereford and Leominstert, has been iransferted to Leominster.

Mr. D. T. POTTER, VERCLER AND RINGHR.
Hhere has beon an extremely sad sequel to the reopeniog of the bells al Sit. Peler Mancroft Church, Nowwich. Mr. Douro Thomas Potter, the verger, whose family throngb fons geurrations hato held this oftice, was a member of the Naneroft Ringers' Guild. On Sunday week, while takiug part in the ringing for the morning service, he was seized with illness, becamo uncotascious, atud, before medical help could reach him, had passed away. 'I'lo tragic oceurence, naturally created a painful inpression, both in the belfury aud among the congregation, who lad assembled. Mra. Patter and her two clindren reached the chureh for the service just at the time, and Mas. Potter was summoned lastily fa the belfry, but tie hnsband was uneonscious hefore she renclied him, and died in her anms.
Few vergers in Eangland conld compare is their hnowledge and love of the church in which le served with Mr. Doaro Thontas Potier. Ge dad a rematkable knowledge of its hisiory, and he foved the Maneroft belfry and tio bells. He lad taken the keenest interest in the recent restoration, ana underkaing on which he had set his heart, and to which he lind looked torward, for years past. He lived to see the completion of practically the last detail af the work, and only iu the week preceding his deatly, was superintending the fiting of the uew lighting arratgements in the luelfry-the very last couch.
His change ringing carcer began in 1907, wher he came forward as ar roluntear, on the formation of the present Ringers' Guida, nuh hu liad taken part in a number of peals by tire Guild. Although staring somewhaf late in life, he bad long since mastered all the standard methods, and had become a "Surprise' rioger. It was always a dehght to him to take part in on touch of Cambidge, but perhaps he found an even greater pleasure in watching lis litule son handle a hell. Ho was indeed a comrade in the thelfry in the truest sense, and los is mourned by erery single member of the Cuild. Mr. Potter was a man at wide reading, of a plilosomhical wppe of mind, and considerable literaty gifts. Hio kuey the works of Shakesperre and Sil: Thumas Browne bs few people rid, and was looken upon as one of lie greatest living authorities on the writings of the latter.
[nstead of the soumon he had propared for the service, wheh had Luguts so trigically, Canot Meyrick spoke of the greal sorrow which had fallem upon them all at mancrofl. Up to a few aidutes beince the hour of this morning's service, hos said, obl verger was earying aut his many-sided duties as usual, apparently in the best of fealth. He went up, shorily before clewen, to he belfry to help ring the hells ats an act of voluntafy service, atd in that belfre he now lies dean. Deatly took place before a sloctor conhar arive. \section*{THE ANALYSIS.}

In our pages this week atppears the Analysis of the peals rung during last year, and once again the Exercise is indebted to the Central Council's Committee for compiling, in a now well accustomed form, the mass of interesting statistics which the twelve months' peal ringing produces. The Analysis is probably the most interesting piece of reyular work which is done under the auspices of the Council. Originally it was compiled privately, by the late Mr . G. F. Attree, of Brighton, and later by Mr. Attree and Mr. George Baker in collaboration. Thens came the time when the Analysis grew in importance, and eventually it was handed over to the Council, and has since been carried on by them in the interests of the Exercise. For many years it has been recognised as a guide to the activities of our associations, and furnishes the only means which ringers have of studying in concrete form the records which run through our pages for the whole fifty-two weeks of the year. As has been so often remarked, the compilation of the Analysis is a stupendous business, calling for the expenditure of much time, care and effort on the part of those who are responsible, and to then the Exercise, as a whole, owes a debt of gratitude.

There are one or two features in the report to which we may direct attention. There was a slight reduction in the total number of peals rung in 1924, for while tower bell peals increased by fifteen, compared with 1923 , handbell peals dropped by no lewer than forts. There is, we think, no special significance in this falling off in the number of peals rung' in thand,' for this is a class of ringing which, much more than tower bell ringing, fequires that a band should keep together. Handbell ringers are not as easily made as tower bell ringers-it needs a special apti-tude-and the number of companies capable of peals is therefore much restricted, with the result that a falling off on the part of one or two bands makes a considerable difference to the sum total of the year.

The question of the allotment of points for the peals is a controversial question which is ever with us, and it would be interesting to know upon what basis the committee compute the values of new methods and new ways of method tinging. Probably the question will be raised when the report of the Analysis Committee comes formally before the Council at Chester. We do not raise the matter in any querulous spirit, but it does strike us that a ' spliced' method peal deserves more points than a peal in one method. The spliced Cambridge and Superlative is a case in point. To change two or three times in a course from one method to another (which is far different to going off into a method from rounds) surely makes the peal more difficult to ring, and it is upon the complexity of the peal and complexity alone, that puints are allotted. The same argument applies to spliced methods in peals of Minor. It adds greatly to the value of the performance, and it would not seriously complicate the calculation of points if this matter were taken into account. Then, again, one is tempted to ask why Leicester Surprise Royal is allotted more points than Middlesex? Surely, as a method, it is not of greater if of equal, complexity? It is little matters suct as this that defract from the value of the point system of reckioning peals, but as to the interest and importance of the Analysis as a whole there can be, in our opinion, no question.

\section*{THE LATE M&. CHANLES GOKDON}

\section*{A SURREY VETERAN.}

As already briedy recorded, the death took place on Monday mornjug, the \(4 t l_{1}\) instant, of Mr. Charles W. Gordon. Deceased, who was 74 yeats of age, hist learmt to pall a bell at Carshalton, when abont wwelve yeats ald, and rang his tirst peul there in 1875.
Whar Heddinglon bells weve installed in 1869 , he took part in the first ringing of then, an Whit Sumday, and during lis latst illness, proich oxtencled aver a proriod of six years, Je made a supreme effort to ring on that festival. He was the last houdation mentury of the sociely which was formed when the bells were installed.
Decoased was also one of the founders of the Surrey Assonation sud hud been a member ever since. Jor twenty years lie was a hell hanger al Messrs. Warther and Son's, and afterwards at Messrs. Gillett and lohnston's for a slott period. He kept Beddington bells in repair, which is mo doubt the reason they are in such goon order today. He always said that the bells had never cost the ehurch authoritits 5100 since they were put in, alihougl they never suffered from lack of exercisc. Orer 130 peals have been rung on them.

Gordan kept no proper record of his own peals, but he said the hiad rung between 60 and 70 , thoso previous to the formation of the Surry Association laving been rung for the College Youths, of whicla he was a memher. His last peal was on his 60 h birtinflay, when he rapg Beddington tenor to a peal of Trehle Bob Major.
During his last illness he was always eheery, and ane condit spend many ith hour in listening to some of his experiences. He lifid a wonderfully retentive memory, especially in remembering the number and weights af peals of bells, ele., no nutiver what county they weje ins. Thedhington has now lost the most entlusiastic member which the tower las lad for many a long day.
The funcral Laok place on Friday, May 8th. Before the selvice, ins Betdington Church, the bells were rung fully muffed to tonches of Grandsire Triples and Caters. The hurial took place al Bandon Hill Cemetery thetween the graves of the late Dr. A. B. Carpenter and Mr. Edgar Rennett), and after the coffin lind been lowered to its lasl resting-place a course of Granisire Triples was ring on handbells by F. F. Diarby 1-2, A. W. Clark 3-4, C. F. Kippen 5-6. Mrs. A. W. Glark i-B. Many heautiful wreaths inclurked one from the Surrey Asorintion, and another from the St. Mary's Sociely, Beddington. to Erief, after 3 hours 10 minutes' beantifal ringing, with only tont courses from the end. Filie following tonk pari in the attempt: A. J. Trappit 1, S. W. Eoldaway 2, E. G. Talhot 3, F. G. Wnodiss 4. W. Hi. Jomev 5. C. H. Chapman 6, F. E. Darly 7, C. H. Kippin (won ducfov! 8 . W. S. Despite the inclement weatier and the faed that Warburton is sititated on the edge of the large aren, coveved by the Stockport. branch, come 38 memuers and iriends, including the Master (fle Rer, C. A.
(lements) liraved the elments to atteod the quarterly meeting liela nn Saturday, May 9tls, and were amply rewayded for their tromble.
Binging commenced on the poble peal of cight (by Trylor, tenor 26 mas held, condunted by the Vicar (the Rer. G. D. Lewis), fit wheth a refy striking aflitress was given by the Visar of Oughtringtont (the Rev. D. E. (ittins). It is worthy of note that the preacher was only asked to give it as the choir was ready to leave tle vestry, and it is sincotely hoped that the Guild will again have the pleasure of listening to bim.
Then was served in the Parish foom, after which the ustal business meeting was laed. In the unatodable absence of the hranch chairmen, Bud owing to the early departure of the Master. Mr. T. Ashmorth, M.r.E., of Bowdon, presided. The business transacted was thety of a routine charmeter. In order to assist the Guild Committee appointed lo entertain the Central Council, it was decided to give 81 towards the cost.
The election of Mr. George Pownall, as a non-resident member prerious to commencing a peal on May znd, was conlimmed.
During the courge of according the usual votes of thanks, a wish was ampessed that the lomal viugers would consider joining the Guild, Fhe Piear replied that he would place this matter before his ringers. He expreasad his pleasure at having hat the memhers at Warburton, and temimed them of their duty of semding word af their intention to the present in sufficient time, particularly in a country place.
Af, the juwitution of the Viegr, advantage was taken of risiting the old thurch, which stands about half a mile from the present one. On Saturduy weet, for the fisst time, a joint meeting of tho Lancashire and Yorkshire Associations was held, and about 80 memhers, from towers spread from cosst to cosst, wero present. The tlareo rings of bells in the diatrict were used freely all the afternoon and evening the usual methods being zung by mixed bands. Tea was provided by the local ringers, and afterwards Canon Elsee (President of the Lancaslife Association) clamed the right to speak first as the parigh ehurch is in the Manchester Dimeese, although the schonls are in buth counties. Fe welenmed their neighbours in a happy speech, which the Rev. C. C. Marshall (President of the Yorkshire Association) acknowledged in a siailar strain.
Mir. P. S. Johnson (Yorks, secretary) proposed a vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells, and the local ringers for meeting the visitors and providing tor.- This was secouded by Mr. W. H. Shuker (Lancs, secretary), and acknowledged by Mr. W\%. Horatu (Rechdale, branch secretary, and a local linger).
The Rev. A. Aspin, Rector of Todmorden, lad previously given the wistors a kindly welcome. The hells were kept going until al lates hour. The local ringers had retained or room at the White Hart Hotel, and liere handball ringing was indulged in, as it nlso had been in the schaols beforc and after tea.

\section*{STEBBING'S RINGING FESTIVAL,}

The anatal ringing fostival was held at Stebbing zecently, whes ringers were present from Gront Bardfidd, Raync, Braintree, Dunmow, Chadwell Heath, Springfield, and the local company. A shork service was held in the Parish Clurch, at which the Rev. C. E. Livesey, B.A. (Vicar), officiated, snd gave the address. Hr. C. H. Foward (Master of the Easex Assaciation) yenn the lesson. The ringers then adjanmed to the Parish Room, there to shod a compary of ladies and gentlemen, numbering nearly 100, to giva the visitors a welconu, nit tertain them to a boustiful tea, and provide a musical enterianment.

During the eveaing a presentation was made to Mr. J. ?', Barker, nho has fust resigned the position of secretary to the local land, by Mr. F. Cfaydon, the gift consisting of thandsome hrass Jamp, suitably inseribod, and a silver ringer's batge. In n neat little speed, Mr.-Claydon eulogised the serwines Mr. Farker land remacted for a very long period, and recalled the experiences of the ringers in the seventies in learning the art of change ringing. It was the custom of some of the ringors in those clays to walk to Braintree every week, a distance of seven miles earh way, wet or fine, to learn the art, and then hand on their knowledge to the remainder of the compary, Eventunlly they formen a clange ringing band, which has continum to ring regularly for the servicos • Funday by Sunday evel since. Mr. Barker, who was taken quite by surprise, thanked the fatio scribere for their landsome presents and goond wishes.

The Mister, on behalf of the visitors, expressed thanks for tho arcellent arrangements and toa. The anmal festival at slebbing has, he sait, become quite an institation in the district, and it would he well if other parisleg would arrange similar gatherings for soot intercourse and appreciafion of their ringers' servicos.
During the aftertoon, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor was rtug: H. Emery 1, C. H. Howard (conductor') 2, W. H. Dyson 3, W. Pumter 4, 丞. T. Barker 5, E. Cltykion 6. Other towches were rung in pariout methods, and the bells were kopt going antil a late hour.

CADOXTON, NEATA.-On April Sth, for evening servico, a quer ter-peal of Grandsire Doubleg was rung: H. Mathows 1, G. Kewis 2, C. Lake 3, W. Thomas 4, D. J. La*wis (couductor) 5, G. Bendle 6. First quarter for the 1si, Zuil, Jrit and \(6 \mathrm{t} \%\).

\section*{A SUSSEX VETERAN. \\ IDEATH OF MTE JOEN SMART.}

We much regeet to record the death of Nr. Johis Smart, of Steynitug, sussex, one of the oldest and most respected ringers in the wonty. Ar. Smart lad reached the advanced age of 83 years, and died on May 12th last.
Ho. soart learned to ring at Lubborgh, Sussex, and removed to Steyning in the year 1872. He broughit up his sons ag ringers, and when the eldest learned change ringing in 1884 , the father followed suit, and quickly acquired a knowledge of methods on six bells. Then, whon steyuing got its peal of eiglt, he quickly progressed, and durנnk has career took part in no fewer than 119 peals.
Rinuing provicied him with one of the gratesi pleasmes in life, and hums among the most regular af the band, both on Sundays and al practice.
Iolin Smart was one of thoge cheery, self-cffacing men whom it was d-drliglit to know. He was keen or ringing, but was ever-ready to stand down if occasion arose, allhough nothing gave him greater delight than to score a peal. He will be muth missed among the ringur who widit Steyning, but his personality will remain an enduring memory with thase who, like the writer, were privileged to know lim inimately. His lasi visit to the bower was to ring for the lintwest festival on September 28th Iast yoal. Since then his health lind faidec, but right up to the time of luis death be lalked witly interest atoot his peal ringing days, ant thre different ringers he had mat.
He was laiki to rest near the old helfy tower on Friday last, when, as mu Sunday, touches were rung on moufited bells.
Thr following is the list of his penls: On & bells 1, Gramisire Triples 13. Fedman Triples 60, Stedman Caters 2, Kent Treble Rob Major 16, Oxford Treble Bob Major I, Donble Norwich Major 15. Bob Majov 10 , Cmalnohury Pleasute Major 1 ; Lotal 119.

\section*{PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.}

A guarterty meeting of the Peterborough Branch was lielit af GlinIon ou Saturday, when memhers attended from Peterboro', Woodstan. isham, Market Deeping, Alwalton, Yoxley, and some of the local haml. A sloort service whs conducted by the Roctor, after which a parcy of 17 sat down to tea. The bells were kept going to various pritlouts during the afternoon and evening.

\section*{DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION. DELAYED ANNUAL REPORTH.}

A district meeting was held at Thaticld ou Saturday, May 161 h , when representatives from Chester-le-Street, Consett, Winlaton and Sowcastle Cathedral, wete present. A most enjoyable day was spent, nond the bells were kept going till dusk, with touches of Grandsire, Beth Major, Ben Minor, and Keat Treble Eob.
As it happened to be the annual churds tea the ringers were prevailed upon by the focal secretary to buy tiekets, which cowered the cost of the tea and concert, witl atacing fo follow. The idea was gladly accepter. The tea was a great success, and there was a bountiful supply of the usual good things, which did credii to the ladies.Messrs. H. Lowes, Farry TYson and James Anderson added ta the gaiety of the proceedings.
The Ficar, who has been in the parish only a few months, joined the ringers in the bell tower, and extended them a very hearty welcome, and was delighted to see such a goodly vumber.
Il was unfortunate that a similar meeting was being held at Cramlingion (Northerg Division), on the same day, otherwise several of the Newcesile Cathedral Guild intended being present. However, Tanfield's less was Cramlington's gain, inasmuch as that a very neglected part of the nssociation's ground, which has been sadily overlooked in tha past, has now been rebrganised. The local secretary, Mr. Wio Story, is to be commended for bis initiative, and it is loped that other meetings will be lyeld in this division in the future.
There will he a meeting of the Western Division at Chester-le-Street on Anturday, June 131h, particulars of which will be advertised faler in "The Ringing World." Also one al Cansett in the near future.
The absence of thie Rev. W. Listev, Rector of St. Stephen's, South Shields, was much felt. When curate of Taufield he was a tower of strength to the looal ringers, and his place will be difficult ta fill. He, however, sent one of his churelurardens regreting lis unavaidable ahsence.
Menthers were glan to hear thal Mr. Wm. Sinclair, of St. Aidan'r, Blacklill, was in larness again, and lope to see him at the Conseth. menting.
There were one or two inquiries made as to when the anmual reports of the assonialian ate mong to appear. Ti was felt that, as the annual meeting for \(1924-25\) is getting nem, the reports for 1923-24 (to speak mildly are very much overalue.
The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Ticar of Tanfield \($\) the use of the hells before the happy gathering finally broke up.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP.}

Owing to the denands upoil our space this week by the jeals Analysis, several raports, as well as a number of peals, are unavoidably held aver.
At the Salishury Diocesan Guild Fostival, at Dorchesier last week, Major Hughes D'deth was prosonted with an album of over 800 names, acknowledging lis valamble services as Master for five ycars. A full report will appear in our neat issue.

The peal of Superlatire Surprise el Sheffeld Cathedral on Tinnday, Muy 14 th, was the first peal of Surprise at the Cathedral since Nov. 19th, 1892, when a peal of Superlative was rung. It is also worlly af note that four of the ringers who took part in that putal are still members of the Cathedral company.
Leicoster Highway Holdap! A graphie account of this appeared recently in at local paper, when in correspondent was held up well after midnight in a dowupour of rain. It was eventually discovered that his was clue to young 'Tielh,' a budding ringer, having gone to the opruing of Hinckitey bulls and failed to return. No word being fortheming, his elder brother. "led ' was despatehert to find him. He didl lats lyy holding up notorists and other night prowlers, and eventually ran the erring one to 'earth' at Burwel], safely tucked up in 'hed 'l!!
Dr, and Mrs. Joseph T. Parker, of Favaham Royal, celeforated the jubilee of their wedding on April \(25 t h\), when a quarter-peal on the hells of St. Mary's Church was rung by the lacal band. Men who laty trken prot in the famous 'Parker's Twelve-part peal of Grantirn Triples (ant its oncless variations) will wish the veteran composer and his wife " many of "em."

For the first time in the history of the Analysis of Pents, the mame of the Sussex County Association does not appear. Tlis is mot he cause no peals were rung, but because last year the associations war not affiliated to the Central Commeil. Consequently, the Sinssux puals are incluted among the 'also rans,' that is, the Independent Socieljes.
It is mather Jamentable, especially ras Sussex, in years gone by, oftem held pride of place al the head of the table. What is thone canmat he undone, but theze is consolation for the future in the knowlefge What Sussox has this year deeded to retirn to the fold.
To-clay is the ammersary of the 17.024 Double Norwich Major rung by the Oxford Diocesan Cuitd at Kidlington on Mry 22nd, 1898.
Tine Society of Sherwood Youths rang 'Mr. Holt's true peal of Grandsire 'Triphles,' on the new hells at Gainsborougle on May 2th, 1768.

The first tuce peal of Tweble Ten in ireland was rung at St. Patrick'â Cathedral on May 24th, 1901, ansl on the zethr of the same nonth the first Surprise pead out of Eingland was rung at Bray, Ireland.
On May 28th, the first peal of Stedman Caters (proved long alferwards to lave been false) was rung. This was at St. Johne, Hordydown, London, in the little steeple where the bells, now uningathe, are humg in three tiers.

The Bristol Surprise record wins made by the Middesex Association at Horneluzch on May 28t1, 1912, when a peal of 15,264 changes was rang in 9 hours 49 minutes.

The opening of the British Earpire Exhibition at Wembley was cele brated by two attenpts for peals of Maximus, via., Kent Treble Bols at Bow Chureh, Cheapside, by the London Contaty Association, the fttempt lasting 2 hours; anal Duffeld Maximus at St. Saviour's, Southing of Wembley was eelehrated, it will he remembered, by a peal on the bolls ath. the Imperial lustitute by Cumberland Youthe.

Empire Day fatls on Sunday this year. It will be celebrated at Brecon by a clange ringing competition (among members of the Swinnes and Brecon Diocesam Guili) at St. David's Church on Saturday, 23al inst., conmencing at \(10.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\).
Mr. Comelins Clutge, Iate of London, and now of Anckland, New Zealand, writes that the figures of the peal of Bob Toyal by Mr. dames George, which appearnd in ollt issue of December 26th last, were lirsh 1895.

The pral of Kent Treble Rols at Mountsorrel, Leicester, recordes int our lasi issue, was 1 he frst in ilie method on the holls.
At the Chureh of All Saints, Hoole, Cheshire, on Surday, May 31si, the Bishop of Chester will dedicate the memorinl bell and unweil a tablet. All rimgers are inviled lo be present.

REPORT OF THE ANALYSIS COMMITTEE FOR THE YEAR 1924.
We canuot present litis report without an allusion to the fact flat it is the first for many years which has not been signed by the leer． E．W．Garpenter．His colleagues，while lie was a memher of lie committee，know the painstaking nature of his work，and the care which he exercised to make the Analysis an exact and inlerasting re－ wotd．We desire to acknowledge in this report，not only the value of his work to the lexcrise generally，but the example of thorough－ ness in all things which he has given to us．We bope he magy have many useful and happy years thefore him．

Athough the peals rung in 1924 are fewer than last year，the difer－ ence is small，and it can he said that the activities of the peal riogers have been well maintained．Also taking the points value as a gruids the rquaty of the peals tuag is rully equal to 1923．the average beiug 16.740 points this year against 16.736 ．

The total number of peals rang is 1,860 ，being 25 less than last vear．The tomer tuell peals show an incrense of 15 ．the totnl heing 1,743 ，whiln the handhell peals have dropped to 117 ，being a nonsider－ able decterse of 40 peals．
The tolals for the year ate shown by the following Table： Tower Bulls．Handibells．

This shows，when comparen witlithe preceling year，a decreaso of 4 in the 12 hels peats，and increase of 3 on 10 hells，also 5 in Majot， Tripleg gare 7 less，and Mingr and Dorthes 20 less． gredit with 156 lower ledt，and 3 handibell prats，a total of 2,406 points，heines 1 pual less han last year．The Miriland Caunties As－ sociation fate also sept their position as leaders on points，having scored 2.766 for 131 poals，a drop of 361 nad 13 peals．The han a latal of 106 peals and 1,722 poinls，a decrease on Inst yean＇of 14 peals and 257 poinds．
This wear the Sociely of Royal Cumberiand Youtlis has the higheath arerage of points per peal．witli 30.6 for 10 penis，the Durlinm and Neweratle Dipeasan Associstion being second with 29.812 for 32 peals． There is again catuse for satisfaction in the rontinted incrense of Surprise peals．which slows an all－round advance．Maximus ig in－ erased from 4 to 5 peals，Rayal from 14 to 20 ，nul Major from 241 to 245．The Maximuse nd Royal are all Cambridge with the oxcem－ tion of one penl encla of Leicester，and Middlesex Surprise Royal，

Leicester Surprise Royal being rumg for the firgt time．The Sunprise Hitjou peals include 89 of Cambridge and New Cambridge，and 63 of Suporfative，the first method showing a decrease of 6 peals，and the latter of 9 peals．London is one up with 41 peals，while Bristol has invonsed from 25 to 32．Other Surprise methodx show an increase of 11 peals，aud inelude 2 of Guidiford， 6 of Norliolk， 5 of Yorkshire， 1 of Ruthand， 2 af Rochester， 3 of 1＇udsey，and the spliced peal of Super－ lutive und Cambridge，the three last named beirg rung for the first time．
Treble Bob in its variations has greaty increased in favour， 38 more peais laving been rumg than in 1923．the total being 243，which is made up as follows： 9 of Keut＇Treble Bob Maximus， 18 of Kent and 6 of Oxford Royal， 163 ol Kent and 41 of Oxford Major， 5 Spliced Major peais，and 1 in the Cam qariation．
Double Norwich has decreased from 150 to 189 peals，and Plain Rob Irorn 187 to 171 peals．Little reethods have increused by one to 6 peals， Jifthe Canterbury Major having been rung for the first tinac．
＇Lhree new plain Major methods late been rung，all hy the Midde－ wex Assomation，being Edrnonton．Martborongly and Winchester Bob Major．
Peals on odd mumbers rgain are almost entirely in the two methods lirandsire and Siedman．it is most fintoresting fo notice that while Gramisire filmels most favour witl ringers of Triples，it falls off con－ sidurally on the higher numbers．This is shown in the following anble of empurativo numivets in each method：－
Gramdira Stedman Erin Union Plain Bob Cinpues Chterts

Meals of Grmalsire hawo dacteased by 20，while Stedman has in－ ereased ly one，and other methods are seven more．
Compared witit the past two teats，six belf ringers are on the dawn grale，having seored 20 peads less flan in 1923．Again，as was the ense lat jrar，the decrease is all in Minor peatio，which are 35 less oll tower thells and one more on handbells，the average points value also heing lower．To compensate in some degree for this，peals of Doubies are 6 mote on tower bells，and 8 on landbells． liengths of over 7,000 are comparatively few，heing five in number

\section*{VISIT TO HUNTSEAM.}

By kind invitation of Lieut.-Cel. Troyte, M.P, and Mrs. Troyte, who ave 'hon. members of the Exeter and District Ladies' Guide, the latter recently paid a visit to Hundshan Court. The trip was made by charabane through the Exe Valley. At Hunisham, while some of thic party inspected the beautiful gardens, the others afjourned to the guaint belfry, where some Grandsire was pung. Col. Troyte took part, Later about 40 or 50 sat down to tea. The party included Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas (Mrs, Tlonars being chairman of the Ladies Guild) and ladies from Exeler (St. Petrock's), Tiverton, Washfield, Whimple, and Clyst St. George.
On behale of all present. Mir', W. J. Sonthwood thanked Col. and Mrs. Troyte for thesr kind hospitality.-Col. Troyte said his wife and himself were pleased to welcome the Ladies \({ }^{7}\) Guild to Huntsham, particufarly as it was the first belfry in Devon to atopt change ringing, and invited all present to "come again.
Tiverton was visifed on the refurn journey, and on the fine peal at St. Peteris wero rung Grandsire and Stedman Triples, the local band taking part. The aflernoon's outing was thoroughly enjoyed by the whole party.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.
A meetiug of the above was hed at Brenclley on Saturday, May 91 h . It is a pity that more members did not avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting this lovely old-world village with its ancient churel and benutiful hells, recently augmented to eight, and rehung in a new fron frame. As it was, less than 20 members turned up. but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, and the bells were kept going in various methods, including Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major. The tusual service was held, conducted by the Vicar (the Req. P. S. Whelan), who also gave a short adidress. Mr. F. W. R. Baker, of Tunbritge Wells, presided at the organ. Tea was parthken of at the Bull Hotel, followed by the business mecting, the vicar presiding
Eight new mombers were elected, ineluding fise of the local band, the tower hecoming a filitated to the association.
Mr. F. White (Tunbridge Wells) u'ged members to tharoughly wers. themselves up in higher methods, and como to these meetings, when ample opportunity would be given therr to practise any particular method they wished.
Fotes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, and for presiding at the meeting, to the organist and Mr\(P\). Hodges, and the rest of the local band for their services, were carried, and replied to, and the members adjourned again to the tower. Altogether it was a very enjoyable aftemoon and evening.

\section*{THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.}

The visit which the Central Council is to pay to Chester at the beginning of next week promises to be an interesting and enjoyable one. The Chester Diocesan Guild have for some few years past been very pressing in their invitation to the Council to lold its annual meeting in their ancient city, and, now that their turn has come, the Guild is rising splendidly to the occasion, and offering to the Council not only a cordial welcome, but a programme of entertainment which will provide their visitors with a thoroughly pleasant time.
As to the business before the Council, the agenda is not a formidable looking one, but it does not follow that it will not provide the members with a pretty good day's work on Tuesday. There are no fewer than eight committees' reports to be dealt with, of which only one-the Analysis-has yet been published. The other seven may yield much or little in the way of discussion, though the last, that of the committee appointed a year ago to deal with method nomenclature, is a more than possible source of lively debate.

The resolution, presumably emanating from the Chester Guild, regarding the question of 'broadcasting ' bell ringing, is a timely one, but it is a subject which will require delicate handing with the B.B.C. The Broadcasting Company are out to provide what their listeners most desire, and, perhaps from want of 'education,' the public for the most part prefer at present tune playing to change ringing. It it is possible to develop a wider appreciation of real change ringing by means of 'wireless,' so much the better, and the resolution may be the means of inducing the B.B.C. to give more attention to, shall we call it, the 'legitimate ' art, instead of providing the spurious type which so often precedes the broadcasting of a religious service.

The resolution on the agenda which intrigues us most, is that which asks the Council to disapprove, as a general rule, of the augmentation of peals of eight into peals of ten. It will be interesting to learn the arguments agains1 the practice of adding trebles to a ring of eight-whether on grounds musical, mechanical or campanological. Hitherto the general idea has been to look upon an increase in the number of bells as a step in advance; are we now to learn that an octave of bells is best left an octave; and that ten-bell ringing, is to be discouraged? To some ringers, Caters is the most musical of all ringing, and it will be difficult to convince these members of the Exercise that augmentations to ten should be discouraged. At any rate, whatever views are held, the arguments for the motion will be followed with interest.
