LIMCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

ENTHESTASM AT GEDMSBY DISTRICT MEETTNG
A very pleasant meeting of the Grimsly District of the Lincoln Diocesmu Guild was held at Aiford un Saturday, May 8th. The good Weather brought fogether many ringers. Menibers attended from Bigby, Burton-onsilathey, Uleeby, Guiusby, Killiughulme, Mablethorpe and the local members. Tho mambers wore ghad to welome ithe Guild Ringing Master (Mr. R. Richardsoni), who brought with lijm Mr, and Mrs. A. Walker, of Birminglam, athl Mr, and Mrs. F. E. Pervin, of Coventry. Ringing friends from Lincoln wore also present. The lovely peal of six were ning to a large variely of methods.
Scrvice was conducted by the Vicar (itie Rev. W. Whitehead), who gave a hearty welonge to the members and also an excellent address. Wr. Graves Pesided ab the organ. Tea was served in the Church Hail , kindly arranged by churchworkers, and a party of 34 sat down.
The busimess meeting was presided over by the president darchdeacon Parry), supported by the Ficar and churehwirdens ( $\mathrm{Mr} \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{a}} \mathrm{G}$. Muston aud Mr. \$V. J. Humplneys). Mr. G. Muston wos elected an honoray member. The Vicas and both churchwardens of Altord are now honorary members.

The callection for the District Bell Fund amomented to 9s. 8d
The Presideat informed the members of the sad deall of Mr, W, Fisber, who was accidentally killod in a motor-cycle accirlent on Satarday, May lst. He wos ath one time at ringel' ali St. Andrew's Glurch, Grimsby. Members stood in silence to his memory.
Mi, J. Bray welcomed tine visitors and said he hoped they would sce then again if possible,-MIr. A. Waker replied and axpressed tho pleasure of the visilors in aftending the meeting if they lnd larger gatherings at fheir meetings in the Midlands, he was sure there was more enthusiasm ab that neeting. Menbers were attending fron as far as 65 miles and he boped that interest would continue.
Mr. Bray proposed a comprehensive vote of thanke the Vicar for condacting the service and for the hells, to the caterers and to thase who hediamde arrangementos.-Mr. M. Walleer seconded and the president supported the voto of Linnks, to which bla Wicar suitably respanded.
A bearty vote of thanles to the president for presiding brought a very happy ruecting to a close. After some good ringitg on handbells the to 中rer was agrin wisited.

DEDICATED ON CORONATION DAY.  \section*{NORTHEREPS BELLS REHONG}

The peal of five bells at Northtepps bas for some years beon in an almost nuringable condilion, hut in spite of this several riugers beve been taught on them, and attempts have been made to ring the bells for services inp to a few moathe aro. 'lhen the Rector (the Rev. Charles F. Winter) organised nal appeal, and the worls of rehanging the bells in a new steal frame, with uow fittings, fueluding canmonretainiug lieadstocks, and retuning thee peal, was entrusted to Messes. John Taylor and Co., who have carried out the work satisfactorily.
The rededication service was condncted by the Rector, following a Coronation service, on May 12 th. Yisitors motuded Mr, N. Golden, general secretary and treasurer of the Norwich Diocesan Ascociation, and Mr. W. R. Wast, of Wiveton. After the new ropes had been roplaced by used ones, cxtents of Grindsire were rung, and, following the crowning of the King, further ringing took place.
The Rector hopes to have a sixth bell insfalied by July 6th next

LEICESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS OPENED

TRANSFORMATION OF RLNGING CHAMBER.
Tho new ring of 12 bells at Leicester Cathedral were opened on Coronation Day, together with the new electrically driven cjack and chimes. At 8 a.m., Colonel Sir Frederick Oliver performed the opening ceremony by striking the first few blows on the tener, which, by permission of H.M. the King, is insoribed 'The Coronation bell of His Majesty King George VI.'
A few rounds were rung upon the ring of 12 followed immediately by rounds upon the light eight, utilising the figt sixth bell. Afterwayds Stedman Cinques alad other melinods wero rung until 10.45. In the afleracon a peal of Stedman Cinques was suceessfully necamplishied.

LEICESTER CATHEDRAL

The hells, which are of exceptionally fine tone, are ty the famous Loughboreugh Foundry. Hing nal ball bearings in an iron frame witll all up-to-date fittings, the "go' is excellont. The clock and chimes are by Messts. Gent nad Co., clectrical engineers, of Leicester, whose тeputation for this kind of clock is world-wide.
1r addition to new bells, clock, etc., the tali spirc of the Cathedral has heen restored and the rirging chamber transiomed from the former bam-like structure into a very pleasaut apartment. Alf the old encurnbauces have been renoved; the upper walls clenned down and colour-washed, the lower portions panelled in oak. Oak doors hinge been fitted in the north and south doorways, a new oak floor laid and oals furnitnre installed. With a rearranged lighting system the whole combine to make what, must be one of the finest ringing chambers in the combiry.
A wery regrettable feature of the opening ceremonp was the absence, through a gerions illuess, of the Provost of the Catheciral (the Very Rey. F. B. Macuutt), who was responsible for the work being done. Ho raised the necessary funds in an ineredibly short period of time. Granophove yecords of thic proceedings were taken to cmable the Prowost to hear the c:pening cevenony in his nwt home. The ringers wish him a speedy recovery.
It is hoped to arrange an 'open day' for wisiting ringers in the near future, of which notice will ibe givell in ' The Ringing World.' After having been in charge of ringing affairs at St. Marlin's Catheirrsl, Leicester, siuce the Coronation of Kiug George V., Mr. Fred Dexter has thought it time that. हomeone else should take over (Continued in next columa.)

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

AMENDED RULES ADOPTED.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held jointly with the Sheffield and District Society at Ramoor, Sheffeld, on Saturday, May lst, when the light peal of ten bells was made good use of by the nembers.
A meeting of the General Committee was held in the Chureln Fall during the afternoon, and a short serviee, conducted by the Rev. Adams. About 80 zat down to tea in the Church Hall-mazy moro than had sent in their names, but fortunately the Ranmoor compauy were equal to the occasion.
The general meeting was held immediately after in the same room, the president of the association (Canon C. C. Marshall) being in the clair.

The thanks of the company to the Vicar and chucehwardens for the use of the bells, to the Rev. - Adams For conducting the setwice, and to the organist for his services was voiced by the chairman and acknowledged by the Rev. - Adams in the absence of tho Vicar. Thanks to the local company for the arrangements they had made for the success of the meeting and to the ladies for waiting at tho tea tables was also masset, Mr. P. J. Johnson at the same time making some pointed remarks to those who had failed to send in their names for tea. - Mr. C. Haymes acknowledged the vote of thanks on behalf of the Ranmeor company.
It was decided to hold ilie next, general meeting at Kirleburton, near Huddersfield, on Septesnber 18th, or, failing that, at some other tower in that district.
The proposed alteratious to the rules were explained at length by Canon Marshatl, and on lis proposition, secondeci by Mr. P. J. Johnson, the alterations were carried, after discussion on two or three points.
Some animated exchanges took place during discussion on Rule $\overline{3}$, paragraph $I_{\text {, in }}$ relation to Rule 10. After it had heen proposed, seconded and carried that the meeting proceed with the next business. the following motion was tabled for the September meeting, proposed by Mr. G. Robinson and seconded by Mr. R. H. Vigor :

In view of the fact that the veveaue (yearly) account of the association continues to show a substantial credit balance, the cost of providing the teas at the anntal general meeting be met annually ont of the aforesaid focount, lo all those members who give due notice of their intention to be present, provided that the liability thereby involved cloes not exceod the sum, of 27 in any one yenr, in which case a small charge per head be made to cover the cost over and above the said amount.'
Messrs. Geofirey Kibjlewhite and Harry Barnes were elected members, and Mr. C. Metealfe, of Manstield, was elected a non-resident life nember of the association.
Mr. ©. Haylies informed the meeting that the new peal of cight at Harthill would be open to the Sheffield and District Society on May 29 th .
This concluded the busipess and further ringing took place.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH GUILD.  CONGRATULATIONS TO THE MASTER

A quarterly meeting of the Southampton District of the Winctester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held at Dibden on Saturday, May 8th, when there was a fair attendance representing the following towers: Dibden, Jiling, Fawley, Bikhopstoke, North Stoueham, Ringwood, Southamplon (St, Mary's), Upham, Winchester and Wimborne, The service was conducted by the Rector of Dibden, tho Rev. G. T. Tritton, who is chairman of the district. At the business meeting after tea he congratulatod the Master of the Guild and of the Sonthampton Distrjet, Mr. George Williams, on attaining his 80th hirthday on the previous day, and, in referring to the wouderful ringing record set 12 p by Mr. Williams, recalled the fact that last August the Master's one thousandth conducted peal on tower bells was rumg at Dibden, though mforfunately the honour had since been transferred to mother tower in the Guild (Curdrige) by the elimination of a false peal.
Mr. Williams, in replying, said he hoped that he might be spared for many years to continue bis active ringing, and also the work of helping to teach others the art.

The towers of Fawley and Elling, as well as Dibden, were available during the afternoon and evening, and were made use of by the members. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire to London and Camuridge Surprise Major.

At the business meeting a cordial invitation from the new Rector of Eling ta the Guitd was conveyed by Mr. W. Pearce, the captain of Fing tewer. It was decided to accept the invitation for the summor of 1938.

the duties In future, therefore, all correspondence in connection with the bells there should be addressed to Inspector H. J. Poole, The Wayside, Narborough Road, Leicester, or to Mr. Harry Brougheon, The Gien, Cooden Avente, Leicester, who have been appointed Ringing Master and hon, secretary respectively.

QUEEN MARY＇S GIFT TO BELE PUND．

KING＇S BROMMEY BELLS RECAST．
The bells of King＇s Bromaley，or，to give it its older title，Bromley Regis，were first hung in the tower the year before the union of England and Scotland，an event which wels，no coubt，the first of national importance which they were called upon to celebrate．History does not record the many and varied occasions for which they have been rung，and it was deeply regretted by the inhabitants that their bells were in no fit order to be used for celabrating the Jubilee of King George $V$ ，and to be sounden in mufled ringing at lis passing． But they were jestored for the Goronation of King George and Queen Elizabetio，and made ready to take part in the national celabrations．
The sir bells have beon recast at Loughborough and now form a very handy ring，telnor weighing approximately 11 cwt ．It is interest－ ing to noto that tha onthusiasm of the people of the village was atimu－ lated by a personal gift to the bell fund from H．M．Queen Mary．
The completed work was solemnly dedicated by the Bishop of Stafford on Tuesday evening，May 4th，in the presence of a large congregation．An interesting feature to the villagers was the number of visiting riugers who were present in spite of the lateness of the hour，amongst them being Mr．W．A．Stote，of Coventry，Mr．L．Oliver， of Bridgnorth，Mr．J．H．Swinfield，of Burton，Mr．J．P．Fidler，of Loughborough，and members of the hand from Overseale，under Mr． J．W．Cotton．Ereryone expressed their pleasure at the beauky of tone and inproved＇go＇of the bells，the worl havills been carried ont in the usual thorough mamer of Messrs．Taylor and Co．

FORMER GRIMSBY RINGER KILLED．

FATAL RESULT OF AN AGCIDENT．
It was with deep regrel that the members of the Grimsby District of the Lincoln Guid and others heard of a fatal motor－cycle accident to Mr．W．Fisher，＇Liltle Billy＇as he was affectionately known in Grimsly．Undil four years ago he was mamber of the band of Sb． Andrew＇s Churcht，where he rang his frst peal．Previous to caming to Grimsby he resided at Bigby．His father was killed in the Great War and le was bronght up undor the kindly guidance of Archdeacon and Mrs．Parry．Fe removed to Londion，where lie was doing well in his trade as a cabinet maker and had a promising career before him． On Saturday，May 1st，whilst motor－cyoling with a young lady com－ panion，he met with an accident whioh caused his death in a few hours aud injuries to his companion．
The funeral took place at Belchford on Thursday，May 6th．The last sad rites mere conductad lyy the Ven．Auchdencon Parry，presi－ dent of the Grimsby District．Mr．R．Sutton represeated the Grimsby ringers，who seut a wreatil in the form of a beli．

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD．

DORCHESTER BRANCH ENTERTAINEO AY BDCKLAND NEWION．

In delightful spring weather tho quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guitd was held at Buckland Newton on April 24 th，A party of ringers were there on the stroke of 3 o＇clock to raise tho bells in peal，assisted by Mr．J．H．Shopherd，of Swiadon， who had already taken particulars of the venor bell．He thus added another tower to lis long list，and followed with anothor later．
The Guild service was conducted by the Vicav（the Rep．F．Bitz－ patrick），and the chairman of the brinch（inte Rev．A．W．Markhy） read the lesson．
Tea was served in the Schoolroum，followed by a ahort business meeting presided over by the branch chairman，supported by tho vice－chailman（the Rov．R．R．Fhirow）．
The secretary reported that the uext quarterly meeting would tako place at Wyke Regis in July．It was Fegolved，among the practice mestiegs during the summer，to hold olle at Hilton，and thus thep forward the ringing at that tower．It was also decided to hold onc or two Thursday efternoon practice meetings．

The chairman made sympathetic reference to the sudden passing of one of their promising young chanje ringers，the late Arthur Groves，emptain of the St．Peter＇s，Dorchester，baud，and the mem－ bers stood in silence as a nark of respeotful sympathy．

One associate member was alected．
The Chairman，in proposint a compreliensive vote of thanks． thanked the Branch Ringing Mastor，Mr．P．Field，for the kind lospitality that alternoon in providing，in co－oparation with his mother，tho excellent tea they had enjoyed．This was received with： acclamation．Thunks were aiso accorded to the Vicar for falcing the service and uso of the bells，and to Mr．M．E．Blessley，to whom great credit was due for all the local arrangemonts．
The following towers were represented at the meeting：Bradford Peverell，Buckiand Newton，St．Peter＇s，Dorchester，Fast Lulworth， Preston，Stratton，Upwey，Wyke Regis，Warelam，Lytehett Matrovers， Shooton，Iwerne Courtney，Thornford，Sherborne Abbey，Longburton and Lydlinch．There ware welcome visitors from Swindon and Cook－ ham，Berks，making e total of over 50 members and friends present during the afternoon and evening．The methods rung were Grandsire， Plain Boh and St．Dunstan＇s Donbles，Plain Bob，Double Oxford and Oxford Bob Minor．

MERE，WILTS．－On Sunday evening，May 2ne，a quatter－peal of Grandsire Triples：V．Hill 1，G．Goward 2，J．Paul 3，I．Gray（con－ ductor）4，G．Bunce 5，W．Keats 6，E．Coward 7，H．Jordan 8．First quarter－peal for ringers of 1,2 and 8 ，also as conductor．

BELERY GOSSIP.

Foundry Established A.D. 1570 (12th year of reign of Elizabeth).

Mr. T. H. Taffender (Masler of the London County Association) has been decorated with the King's Coronation Medal for his services in the Post Olfice.
We regret to record the death of an old Sussex ringer, Mr. George Walder, of Buluey, who died on May 7h at the advanced age of 81 Fears.
The death occurred on Coronation Duy of the Rev. John Freeman Russell, Dean of Oricl College, Oxford. He was 39 years of age.

When a student at Pembroke College he learned to rimg, and since his veturu to the distriet he has frequently rung both with the University and Oxford City ringeys, by whom his early death is much regretted.
It musi be rather unusual for a ringer to ring a peal of Suparlative Surprise Royal before ringing a peal of Superlative Surprise Major, but, beving rung the Royal some tima ago, Mr. F. F. Darby, of Beddington, has just rung his first in the mathod on eight bells.
Tha golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Kerley was celebrated at Aberdare by a peal of Grandsire Triples. Mr. Kerley was a ringer for 22 years before the war. The peal in honour of the golden wedding was conducted by his son.
The peal rung at Cockingtan, Devon, ou April 23 rd, should be credited to the Devon Guild.
The Coramation peal of Stedman Triples at Marlow, Bucks, Iast Saturday was the first peal on the bells for a periot of 33 yetrs. Now that the ice has been broken it is to be hoped that such a lang period will not be allowed to lapse before tho next peal is recorded.
The first peai of Rochester Surprise Roval was rung at St. Mary-leTower, Ipswich, on Saturdny. F. J. Swith, who was a member of the baud, has ruug the method on 8,10 and 12 bells, being the first to gain such a distinction.
Mr. J. H. Oheesman, the noted North Kent ringer, added another link to his record on May 13 th when he rang his 100th peal of Cambridge Su:prise Major at St: Joln the Baptist Church, Erith.

IN RURAL MIDDLFSEX.

MDDEESEX ASEOCIATION'S UNUSDAL TRIP.
The recont notice of a meeting of the Middlesex County Association at Bodfont, Stawell and Harmondsworth, optimistically referred to 'buses from Founslow.' The completo absence of such apparentily kept the freybcards at lome, and we now report the May run of "the South aud West District Oycle Club." "Tis true there were two hikers, but the rest were all oyelists. There were big, little, heavy, light, old and new cycles of overy description with handlebars of wonderful design! Thete were also two pairs of braw knees on view.

Rev. G. H. Bradley, Vicar of Bedfont, welcomed members to his tower, and expressed his pleasure at their visit. And so ta the bells, a tuneful riag of six (when heavd at a distance!). There is the story of the village tdiot who, when asked why lic was clouting his own head, replicd that it mas go niee when he left of. Such is the din in the ringing chamber nt. Fedfont that one has a somewhat similar foelize when the bells are sed up:
At Starwell, Rev. E. F. Gastar grected the party, and remained with them throughout their visit. It was refreshing to meet a clerie so genuinely interested in ringing and ringers. He presided ower the tea, and later, in his stutly, presented the secretary with a guinea towards the associstion funds. The [ive bells proved more dificult than many expected. The boginner is tald to hold his bell up more when hunting up and the veverse when coming to lead. The lower the number of bells, the more marked the difference. If eight-bell ringers would bear this elementary rule in mind, their attempts at five and six-bell ringing woald be mare successfull Stanwell teaor was cast in 1766 . On the belfry wall are details of a record peal of two hours,' in which two men rang the tenor! No doubt a notable achievement in local history.
The last town, Harmondsworth, presented no diffeulties. A nice handy ring of six, they were rung to various methods, inclnding Cambridge Surprise.
From the top of the tower, a vast mound of gigantic stones conld be seen set in $\Omega$ feld. It wns tlie remains of FWaterloo Bridge, and not a pyramid in course of erection, as first suspected! Certainly an odd sight in a district chiefy agricultural.

And so to a final impression, the 'club' spinaing along the homeward round in orderly formation. An enjoyable meeting, notable for its friendly atmosphere.

The nexi meeting will be held at Sunbury on June 12th.

MR. F. WHITE'S 200 PEALS.

Mr. F. White, of Cranbrook, Kent, frag his 200th peal on Saturday, April 24th. His total is made up of: Grandsire Triples 5, Caters 5 , Stedman Triples 41 ( 2 in hand on 7-8), Gaters 7, Giuques 1, Plain Fob Major 4, Rogal 2, Maximus 1, Kent. Treble Bob Major 8, Royal 10, Maximus 1, Oxford Treble Bob Royal I, Spliced Treble Bob Major 1, Royal 1, Double Norwich Major 22, Cambridge Surprise Major 18 (ono New Cambridge), Royal 2, Superlative 47 (conducted 2), Londion 9, Bristol 6 (including 12,160), Norfolk 3 , Forkshire 3 , Jititle Bob Maximus 1, Canterbury Pleanme Maximus 1, total 200. Fung in 80 towers, in 17 counties, with 360 different ringers.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

TUESDAY'S MEETING AT CANTERBURY.

President Electad an Honorary Member.

The second session of the sixteenth Council, the 45 thannaal meeting as held in the Chapter House at Ganterbury Catbedral on Tuesday There were prosent 83 representiative members and 12 honorary members, 51 representative and four honorary members being absent. Of the 50 affiliated societies, 19 associations were fully represented, 20 partially represented and 11 were urcepresented.

The chair was occupied by the president (Mr. E. H. Lewis), who is a representative member of the Cambrituge University Guild, but the aliliation fee of the Guild not having been paid, under the rules Mr. Lowis was debarred from speaking on roting. The situation was met by olecting him an hononary momber.
Before the meotiug opened, however, the President said that, had his engagements permitted, the Archbishop of Canterbury would have been present to welconse then, but he lagd had to return to London Fortunately, they hed someone else to welcome them to the county of Kent and the city of Canterbury in the person of an old member of the Council, who was for many years secretary of the Kent County Associatian-Canon Helmore (applause).
Oanon Helmore, who is now considerably over 80 year's of age, was received with renewed applatuse. He welcomed the Geuncil to the Cathedral, the city wad tho county. He wished the Council success in their deliberations and hoped the result of their meeting would be the progress of the Council and the cause they had at heart. He added that he used to be a member of the Council, but that was a thing of the pest.
The hon. secretary (Mr. G. W. Fletcher) reported as to the constitution of the Comel, which eonsisted of 50 affliated associations, ontitled to 138 nembers, of whom 135 had heen elected, and 15 hon. members. He added that the subscyptions of the Durliam and Newcastle, the Norll Notts, the North Wales and the Cambridge University Guild had not been paid.
The dificult situation in which the president was thus placed wrs filmounted by Mr. A. Paddon Smith immediately proposing the clection of the president as an honorary member

A METHODS REGTSTER

The Methods Committee, in their report, pointed ont that they had in working order a scheme hy which all methods can be tabulated and indexed, and any information regarding them can be obtained in a very fow minutes, The assistance of the Conncil was asked in making it operative. Several thousands of Surprise methods are urailable, and any information respoctiny them will readily bo given to nay ringer or band asking for it.

The report went on to deal with the question of claims to methods by those who work them out. These men, the commitice said, had a right to claim diat they had composed the mothods but the ciaim to ownerslip and exclusive rights had fajled. That, howevel; did not diminish the eredit which rightly luelongs to those nmen who have mado so many pood methods available for the Exercise

The following recammendation of tho commititee, as well as the report, was adopled.
"That In order to assist the Council in Keeping up to dater a Registor of Methods which have been rung the secrevaries of affiated associations be assed to forward to the Council the Figutes of ary method rung for the first time, and the composition, together with particularg of the first performame.

ANTI-NOLSE LEAGUE LEAFLETS

The Towars and Belfies Committee in their report said that tho committer had riven adviee in some dozen cases. In several af the towers advice was asked about mudification of sound near the churul. Since the last meeting of the Council the Auti-Noise Leagute had priated a pamphlet on the subject. The commitee thought, it desirable to co-operate with the Anti-Noise Leagus as far as possible, and, after reviewing the pamphlet, decided to send copies to all Archdeacons with a covering leitor recommenditg it to flicir seriouts consideration.

WELDING USELESS TOR ORAGKED SOUND BOWE.
In moving the adoption of the report, the President gave an inderesting dissertation upon the welding of bells. As the resulb of what ho had seen in the case of a boll welded, which had uracked again, he expressed tile opinion that it was useless to wehd a bell evacked at the sound bow. Mr. Lewis explained the scientific difficulties iu the way of successful, welding.
Fee also gave some important details as to the effect upon weak towers of the lowering of bells in peal, and, reforring to the receat case of the refusal of a faculty at thetford, reminded the Council of the importance of the various associations liaving someone on the Dioecsan Advisery Committees wherever possible.
Discussion took place, and on the president's suggestion a resolution was passed to obtain from the affiliated associations information as to what was happening in the dioceses, so that they miglat Inow which associntions liad representatives on the cliocesan advisory bonrds and which hod wot. When they had that information, the President snid, they could consider what further action could be taken.

A diselssion next followed as to the insurance of pingers, which elicited the information that the Ecclesiastical Jnsumane Company was prepared to insure against accidents to ringers (whetlier paid or voluntary) in the belfy and in going to and from ringing, at the rate of one slilling per zinger per annum, with it miniontim of ter sliilijugs.
It was resolved to make a donation of one guiner to the Anti-Noise League in recognition of the gift to the Council of the leaflets gent ont to the Arclidencons, and to keep the Council in touch with the League's activities.
The report of the hiterature, Press and Broadeasting Committee reviewed the treatment of ribging lyy the Press, innd referred to tho principal events in broadcasting in which bells lad figured. -The report was añopled.

COI LECTING INEORMATION.

In the report of the Peal Boards Commilteo if was stated that many intmasting records had been received, including a complete list of 48 peras rung by the Sociely of Sherwoot Youths, whicl was established in 1672. Many records had been sent without tile names of the performers. The committee asked the Council's opinion whether the mames of the performers should be obtained and recorded, and it was decided that the fullest information should be obtained and recorded.
The Biograplies Committee reported that only slightly over half the number of forms sent out liad been refurmed, and asked those who had the remainder in their hands to send them in at an early date. Permission was asked to spend up to three guincas for the necessary albums, and also to incur expenditure in having certain plotograplis copied that were at preseat only ou losn.
The report was adopted, together with a suggestion by the Stand int Commilite that the Biographies Commitiee be empowered to lave all the necessary photographs copiod to bring them to $a$ uniforra size. The committee wers also authorised to olntain biographical details and photograplis from present nembers of the Council, for future use, the committea having expressed the opinion that this course would save much trouble in the future.
A report, arising out of last year's discussion on the stibject of increasing the circulation of 'The Ringing World,' said tlat the request to members of the Gouncil and secretaries of affliated sacieties for suggestions had an extrensely disappointing result, and it was resolved to give a further opport tinity for suggestions to be sent in,
The president presented a report upon the question of muffled ringing, which was approved in general outline, and when further information as to local customs has been obtaned it will be submitted to the authorities of the church for their approval.

CORONATION JOY BELLS.

HOW RINGERS CELEBRATED THE GREAT EVENT.

News from All Parts of the Country.

Everywhere throughout the country, from the tower of Westminster Abbey itself to the tiniest viliage church, the bells celebrated the Coronation of King George VI. and his Queen. A large number of peals were rung, many were attempted but lost, but in the vast majority of places the ringers were content wilh shorter lengths. We print to-day many interesting details with regard to Coronation Day ringing
The peal records, elsewhere, begin with the achievement al Westminster Abbey, where, after the King and Queen had left, a peal of Stedinan Triples was rung-

Listeners throughout the world heard over the ether the ribging of the befls at St. Margaree's, Westminster, as their Majesties approached the Abbey, and at the climax of the wonderful service, when the King was crowied, the "firing' of the bells of the Abbey. Then, after the coremony and before the peai began, the bells were 'fred' 42 tinestha King's nge separaterl by the Queen's change, as a salute for Her Majesty
A peal was lueran immediately after the Abbey service at st Clement Dancs in the Strand and succesfully completed, as recorded elsewher
It had been hoped to attempt a peal at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, but a stand erected on the roof of the church made continuous ringing for this leugth of time impossible. However, the Cumberland Youths tang touches of Stedman Cinques and a course of Cambridge Surprise Maximus during the aftemon, in which the following members tuok part : ML's. G. II. Cross, Miss J. phompson, G. Radlev, J. H. Cheesman, H. Hovard, F. E. Audsley, H. Parkes, F. J. Cullum, न. Bailey, T. Nemman, N. Summerhayes, G. W. Steere, W. J. Nudds and G. H: Cross.

Ringing took plate also at many of the Londou chturches. The peal athempl. at St. Itan's Cabhedral had to be postponcd wntil Saturday, when, however, it was unfortunately lost after two and a guarter hours' excellent ribsing-

MR. JAMES GEORGE COMES BACK.

It scems very fitting that on Coronation Day Mr. James George, Who, by the way, is in his 84th year, should renew his peal rivging activities after an absence of 13 months. On Wednesday lie rang the 7th at Thurcaston to 8 yeal of Stedman Triples. Ho has lost none of the knack of putting is bell in its place, and to ring a five thousancl " of Stedman without a single mistake is truly a remarkable performance, even for such an octogenarian.
A flrst quarter by all the band, who are Sunday service cingers, wns seored at Tieknall, Derbyshire, on Coronation Day, 1,260 changes of Grandsire Dorbles was rung by W. Soav I, J. Huse 2, G. Ino twelwe-year-ole ringers achieved their longest lengths on Coronation Dey. Enid Richardson, of Surfeet, daughter of tha Master of Limcoln Dianesan Guild, rang her first quarter-peal, and to fald to the distinction it wes conducted by her mother-Mrs, Richardson's first quarter-pen] as conductor. Unfortunately, his recent accident provented 'daddy" taking part as well.

An outstanding performance was that at Wigston Magra, Leicestershinc, where a peal of Spliced Surpriso Majol in seven methods, with a chnage of method af every lend, cxcept three, when a Beforo was called, was rung. dud its merit was enlanced by the fact that all the band are Gunday servica vingors at the church, and that it was the lirst 'spliced "peal by all the band.
The Sunday service bnad at St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, Tid well in scoring the first peal of Grandsirg Caters for the Scottish Association. Only two of the ringers, tho conductor (Mr. Wi. I. Piekedt) and Mr. R. O. Stred (of Cambridge Univewily Guild) Had previously tunt a peal of Grandsire Gaters.

Five of tho lells at St. Edburgha's Church, Fardey, Birminglna, havo rung for ho fewer than twolvo Coromations, for they date back to the early part of the 17 th century. The present peal of six was completed by the addilion of a treble to commemorate the Coronation of King Edward VII. in 1902. SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.
SIGNE OT ADVANGE IN THE ART.
Hon. Sacretary's Cheerfal Outlook.
The Earl of Sljaftesbury (president) presided over the luncheou and meting of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild at their annual festival at Salisbury on May lst. He was supported by the Bishop of Sulisbuyg, the Dean of salisbury, the Master (the Rev. R. H. Gundry, Ringwoad), and the hon, becretary (the Rev, F . Ll. Edwards, Gillingham). A company includiug many olergy, and uimbering 162, sat down.
The loyal tonste and that of the Bishop of the Diocese were honoured.
The nunual meating followed, and the hon. secretary, in his report, Etated the number of peals rung was naturally below the outstanding record of 1935. The list included one notable yehievement in the first peal of Cinques on the twelve bells of Trowbridge. Il was ruug by the local bayd, to whom cordial congratulations were offered. 'Considerable progress in change ringing is being made in diferent parts sociely at the Theological College is a slep of great practical value; some of our younger enthusiasts are showing praiseworthy nctivity im training bands of beginners in the art, while more expericnced bands aro making steady advance under skilled direction. Plactical proor of methods rung at some of the brunch meetings.

SA'ISFACTORY FEATURE OF PEALS
A mosli satisfattory feature of the whole histion peals was that in fop less than 31 out of the 37 rung one or more of the band scored a frist peal, or else first in the nethed or the number of mothods. The prodressive company at Lymo Regis lost no time in inaugurating the new reigh. Within a week of Sing George VI.'s aceession to the Throne they rang the first peal of Bob Major ever accomplished by a local baud in West Dorset, with the Yicar, the Rev. C. C. Cox, as conductor. The firsl peat of Cireques in the county of Wilts, in the diocese nnd by the Guild brought the record for 1936 to a memorable conclusion, on the last day of the year.

In the coming ycar,' stated tite Master's report, 'I rejoice to see signs of an advance in the art of change binging; there are more taking advantage of the services of the instructors and interest in ducouriplighed.' A great deht of gratitude was owed to instrictors. The statement of acounts showed the income for the year to be 5674 ss . 9 d . and the expenditure 6018 s . 11 d ., the credit balauce heing E66 IJs. 4 d ., as ugrinst 460 2s. 6el. the previous year.

The report, and acounts were adopted.
Officers for the ensuing year weye elected as fullows: Master, the Rev. R. H. Gundry; hur, secretary and treasurer, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards; hon. assistant secretary, Mr. TP Gveen, Devizes i hon. Houkins, Kington Magna; committee, the officers of the Guild and of the branches, the Rev. Canon R. E. P. Gorringe and Mr. E. P. Field.
Messrs. W. J. Mees, Hilperton, aud Willian Williams, Wost Lalworth, wero elected life members, and Mr. H. D. W. Bishop, of Tivershot, was appointed an instruetor:

ADDRESS TO THE KING.
On the mation of the Earl of Shaftesbury, it was afreed to send the following layal address to H. M. the Kings on the occasion of his Coromation: 'Members of the $alisbury Diocesan Guid of Ringers, assemtheal at their anmul mectivy in this year of the Royal Coronation, humbly desire to assure your Majesty of their loyal devotion to your throne and persou, and pray that for many years to come it will he the privilege of the ringers of this ancient diocese of Salisbury to gelehrate your Majesty's birthday with the masic of the chureh bells. ${ }^{2}$

The sirn of 19s. was voted te the Bishop Domaleson Memorial Find. Mr. Jennings proposed that grants be made to the following towers: St. Peter's, Dorchesler', Raupishan, Wyke Regis and Poole.

The Rev. A. Wilkinson Markly, whilst thanking the Guild for their findness, aijl St. Peter's conld now see their way to meet their needs and would like to stand down for some other tower in greater need (applause)
The other grants were passed,
MUSIC OF BELLS.
The Guild service was beld in the Cuthedral, when the Bishop, in his address, saia the great sipnificance of a bellingers' festival was that brethren of the crant, and which they made to the ennited religious Fife of the conntry. There is in this country, declared the Bishop, 10 music so aneient as that to which we have listened in its miniature form in the course of thie service (a peal was ring on hand hells during the service). There is no music so widely diffused over the country, axcent, of course, in Gire miracle of brondcasting, there is none so widely spread atd coming from so many points as the music of the church bells. There is no musie in the land which engnges so many morning Suliday evening or Goronation Dry. 'God speaks through your bels and you do well to make yonr dinging as scientific, as shilful and as beatutiful as you can.
Ahout 400 attended the service, and the collection, f4 6s. 1d., was onl helialf of the Gathedral Spire Fund.
The methods ming at the varians clurches through the day were Frandsire, Stedman, Plain Lob, Cambridge, London and Superlatipe Surprise.

MANCHESTER TOWN HALL BELLS.
FINE RING OF IWELYE POR THE CITY.
An Eight-Ton Hour Bell.
Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. have just completed a magninicent set of bells for Manchester Town Ilall, and they are crowned with an cightbon bourdon on which the clock will surike. During the past few weeks drays with heary hoisting tuckle, followed by others with stieel girders and thea, later, others with bells, have created interest iu front of the atin entrance at Manclusater Town Hall. Crowds of girders of the new boll frame and the 'landing' of the largen bells up the steps and khrough the main doorway. Al this was peat of the work of rehanging the recast bells in the tower of the 'Town Hall, which is one of the few eivie buildings to possess a ringiog peal of bells.
There are now 24 bells all told, the great hour bell, weighing 8 tons, being humg in the slome of the lower, with the remaining 23 bells below. Thlirten of the bells are lung for ringing, there being a ring of 12, with tenor 43 cwt ., note B , and, in addition, in sharp 2nd, so ns to produce an that diatonic octave with the 8thas the tenor bell. whicls will be found to be very usefin for practice parposes.
The other ten beils are lang rigid, nud they, togetber with the 13 bells of the ringing pal, will he conuected up to an electro-phenmatic player, whereby well-known lunes will be phayed at specified times of the dny. When the Town Hall anthorities placed tire contract with Messrs. Taylor ant Co., Loughborangh, the wish was expressed that: everything possible slould be done so that the ringing peal woutd be at ther disposal for a great worle of this nathre the bell foundery are to be congratulated on what they have accomplished.
The pal was formally opered at noon on Saturday, May 8th, tho Lord Mayor of Manchester, Alderman J. Toole, giving the sigual to commenco the ringing. The ringers (members of the Police Forec) then broke into rounds, and then was heard for the first time tho the larger bells. Grandsire Cinques and lreble Twelve followed.
Mry. J. Wilson, whe is in eharge of the bells, regrets that notice of the formal opening of the peal wits boo short to allow of any announcenient in. Thie Rinming World, and he hopes that no one will feel aggrieved because they ware not informed of the eveat. A few outsiders, however, either got to know of the ceremony or by chanco heard the belle being huts and upon aseending the tower were mate welcome and took part is the ringing. Amangst the ringers present Were Supt, $F$. Williams (president of the National Guild of Folice Ringers), Mr. W. F. Slunker (seeretary of the Lancashire Association), and visitors from Didsburp, Ashiton, Reddish, Marple and Bolton, whilst Mr. J. F. Fider represented Messrs. Taylor and Co, of LonglaWorough, We contractors for the whole of the liell restoratian scheme. The work hes incleded the reeasting of 20 bells and adding three new smafler ontes, the peal being equipped with modern fittings throughout, and hing in a massive cast-iron and steel framework upon a grillage of steel girders. The bells are inscribed as follows, each bearing a line from Tennyon's immortal poem, 'In Memoriant =-

3. Peals of Doubles may be rung with or without a covering beil.

It. was moved by Mr. Wilfred Wilson, in a 'maiden' speech. He raviewed the course of the controversy on Minor and Doubles peals, commencing with the Hereford meeting in 1928, and urged the Council to edopt bis proposal as placing Doubles on the same basis as Minor, since the admission of the Bankes Janes arrangement.
T'lie mokion was seconded by Mr. E. C. S. Turner, and opposed by Mr. S. II. Wood and Mr, J. S. Goldsmith.
Mr. J. Funt, Mr. C. T. Coles aud Mr. P. J. Johnson spoke in support, the last-named on the ground that the Council should be consistont iu jts inconsistency.
An amendment, moved by Mr. Trollope and seconded by the Rey. H. Drake, to omit clanse 2, was carried, but another amendment, moved by Mr. W. B. Kyuaston and seconded by Mr. S. H. Hillier, to delete sub-clatuses (b), (c) and (d), was defeated by a considerable majority, and the resolution, as proposed, was then adopted.
The Commai by a large toajority decided to meet next year at Leods. OLher places proposed were Leicestrer and Dublin.

CONGRATULATIONS.
On the motion of Mrs. Fletrher, seconded by Mr. Trollope, it was resolved to send a lelter to the Ancient Society of Gollege Youths congratulating them upon attaining their tercentenary.
On the suggestion of Mr, F. W. Rogers it was also decided to send a letter of congratulation to the Ladies' Guild on reaching their silver jubilee.
The subject of "radio" bells was ventilated, but no action taken.
Mr. A. J. Harris bronohed the subject of the publication of notices of matiers of major importance at least six months before the Counvil meeting, so that assoctations might have the opportunity of considerimg them at their own annual meetings,
It was pointea out that, to enable all associations to have this opportunity, zootions would have to be handed in a jear ahead.
The President ruled that no action could be taken thet day as an alteration of the rules was involved, and due notice must be given. PROPOSED MEMORTAES TO PAST MEMBERS.
It was resolved, sulject to the scheme being carried out to provide a memorial to the Into Danon E. J. Elsee, to subscribe a sum of threo guineas. The scheras at present before the committee of the Lancasidire Association consigts of improvements in the tower of St. George's Church, Bolton, estimeted to cost about $£ 450$.

A sum of threo guineas was also provisionally voted to a scheme, if one were set on foot, for a memorial to the late Rev. B. H. Tyrwhith Drake, who was Iibrariau of the Council.

RAISING AND FALLING BELLS

Tho Presideat made reference to the practice in some places of jangling the bells up and down, and called attention to a previous resolution of the Council that bells sluould preferably be raised in peal, but where it was necessary to raise them otherwise it was desirable to raise them singly and in order. Fe boped that ringers would adhere to this practice where they could not raise or lower the bells in peal.
Au omnibus voto of thanks to all concerned in the arrangements for tho meeting was passed, and hearty thanks were also accorded to the hon. Geeretary and Mrs. Fletcher, and to the president.
This brought the mecting to a close soon after 5 p.m.
Members and friends afterwards took tea nt the County Hotel as the guests of the Kent County Association, and later there was a social evening.
Throughout the week-and there was much ringing done on the bells of the Cathedral and other churches in Ganterbury and neighbouring places. There was also a tour of the grand old Cathedral conducted by Mr. Morton Pierce.

A fuller report of the meeting will be commenced in our next issue.

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extrentely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

Those who attended the Central Council meeting at Canterbury last week must have been quite satisfied with a day well spent. It was not an occasion when the agenda produced much diversity of opinion, except on the definition of what should constitute a peal of Doubles, but there was some very solid work done, which revealed once more the continued and useful activities of the committees of the Council and its officers. The proceedings of the Council have been reduced to a very businesslike basis, but despite this, the meeting lasted, in all, nearly five hours, and interest was thoroughly maintained throughout.

Canterbury is the only place which the Council has visited more than once, if we except Birmingham, where the preliminary meeting, to pass resolutions forming the Council was held, followed by a routine meeting two years later. The first annual meeting of the Council was held in London in 1891; it was not unfil 1905 that a visit was paid to Canterbury, and it is instructive to contrast the interest displayed in the meetings of the Council in those days with the present time, judged by the attendance. At the first Canterbury meeting, when the total membership of the Council was exactly a hundred, the attendance was 41. There have never been fewer at a meeting, but it was not much below the then averagre provincial gathering; for the ten meetings nutside London up to that time had had an average attendance of only 45 . Last week the attendance was 95 , out of a total membership of 150 . Only five members present in 1905 were at Canterbury in 1937. They were Canon Coleridge, the only person who has attended every meeting of the Council since its formation, and Messrs. J. H . Cheesman, C. Dean, R. Richardson and J. A. Trollope. Indeed, there are not many members left who were assnciated with the Council thirty-two years ago. Tine, even so comparatively short a time, works wondrous changes, and one of the most noticeable differences is in the atmosphere of the gatherings. In these days the social distinctions have entirely disappeared.

This year's meeting was marked by an unprecedented incident. The rules debar any representative member of the Council from voting at a meeting if the affiliation fee of his society is unpaid. The President found himself in this rather unfortunate position, for the Cambridge University Guild, of which he is a representative member, had failed to pay the necessary fee before the meeting. The Council, therefore, took the step of electing the President an honorary member as a solution of the difficulty. It seems strange that so important a person as the President should be dependent for the discharge of his office upon the payment or otherwise of the current subscription of the society which he has been elected far three years to represent, but it was a position that was not foreseen when the rules were drafted. It might be well in future if steps were taken to place the three chief officers of the Council above this risk, because there may not always be vacancies among the hon. members of which advantage can be taken.

CORONATION JOY BELLS.

MORTB RECORDS OT THE OELEBRATION.

Another attempt for the Goronation peal at St. Paul's Cathedral is to lue made to-morrow. On Saturday week, the peal of Stedman Cingues came to grief after two aud a half hours ringilg.

By in printer's error the peal on Coronation Day at St. Martin's, Birminglan, was described last week as Grandsire Cinques. The peal was Stedonan Cingtes. As a matter of fact, it is over 40 years ago-to be Jrecise, on Dccember 28th, 1896 -chat the last peal of Grindsire Cinques was ring there.
Among those who took part in the Coronation peal were Mossrs. Walker, Munsell and Paden Smith, who also rang ha peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's for the Caronation of King George V. and Queen Mary, ou June 22nd, 1911 -the only twelve-bell peal rung on that date.
For a noitter service held on Colonation Dry at Stt. Mary's Church, Fairford, a quarter-peal of dinor in different methods was rung after meeting show frm Triples, wiz, Double Court, Oxford Bob, Kent and Oxford Trelpe Bul, and Paim Boly: B. Guy i, Miss F. M. Hone 2, W. A. Law 3, E. Coopel 4, E. Acoek 5, J. Hope (conductor) 6.
$i$ quarter-perl of Grandsire Doubles was rurg at the Old Church, Smethwick, himmingham: $\mathbb{T}$. Johnson 1, C. Hastings 2, R. Willetts 3 , D. T. Matkin 4, S. O'C. Holloway (conductor) 5, F. Masters 6. A1] except the ringer of the the are nembers of the lacal lagud, and it was their second attempt for a quarter-peal.
A qurter-peal of Grandsire Triples was begth at Si. James' Church, Taunton, af 6 a.m. : B. T. Holt first quarter-peal) 1, J. Hunt 2, W. 7. Jeanes (frst quarter-peal with a bob bell) 3, A. A. Walker 4, A. F. Reed 5, H. Bumgay 6, W. G. Gigg (conductor) 7, T. Jarman 8. At $g$ a,m, a start was made [or a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, but a ghift occurred in the last course of the 3rd part. J. Hunt has now rung for three Corouations.

SUFTOLK RJNGING.

Ringing commenced at Ealesworth, Suffolk, at 7 a.m. A royal salute was 'fired ' o? tho bells, and tonches of Kent treble Bob Major, Bob Major and 'l'iples were lung. The ringing was continued at intervals throughont the day
At Wissett, too, the six bells were Ered at 7 a.m. and touches of Grandsire Doubles mog lay the local band at intervals until 3 p.m.

Ringing, which began at 9 a.me, carcied on motil 6 p.m. at Chediston, Suffolk, while fit Wenhaston the bells rang hefore and after the united service at the Parish Church.
The newly-formed young band ab Ramburgh rang the five bells in call changes and fired" z rayal snlate. May touches were zung ou the eight bells cinring the day at Southwold.
A Coronation touch was rung at Highclere, Fants, after evening service on Sumday, May $16 t h$. It was 720 Bob Minor after meeting short for Triples: Miss Yuene Kuapp 1. A. Ghalice 2. Miss Doris Honeywell 3, T. Batelell 4, F. Knapp (conductor) 5, G. Chesterman 6.

KING'S EMPLOYES RING PEAL.

The anly peal of bells on the King's Sandringham estate is af Dersinghim (a mile From Sandringham), zind it was fitting that a peal slould be rung liere ort Coronation Day. The peal was rung by the regutar Sunday service kingers, most of whom werk on the estate. The Viear took part in the peal.
The Caronatien peal on the new bells at Croydon Parish Church was rung lyy twelve nemberg of the regular Sunday sexvice band, of whom siv rang their first peal an twelve bells and one other his first ever. This is a good 'send-off' for the peal riuging history of this fine ring, the product of the local foundry.
$\Delta$ penl at Kidsgrove, Stafts, was in honour of the centenary of the church as well as of tho Coronation.
At Foorside, Oldlans, the Coronation peal, rung on. May 10th, was also in honour of the diamond weddiag of Mr. and Mrs. F. Crossiand, of New Earth Street, Oldham Tlla virgers of the Priory Church of St. Mary, Lancaster, must be a proud band. Their penl of Grandsire Tuiples on Coronation Day was tho first peal by ath the band.
At Willesden ou May 11th, 1,40 Spliced Bristol, London, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise wafor: F. B. Fartley 1, J. A. Tuollope 2 , J. F. Riding 3, T. J. Loch 4, Miss K. M. Bradiord 5, Q. C. Mayne 6, H. Killy 7, E. C. S. Turner (conductor) 8. Rung after an unsuccessful peal attempt for the same methods.
At Kilmersdon, Somerset, $f$ quarter-peal of Doubles, consisting of three six-scores of Plam Bob, three of Old Doubles and 41 Grandsire: E. Counock (first guarter-preal) 1, F. K, Rhymer 2, R. W. Rhymer (eonductor) 3, W. Johmsan 4, E. F. Nash 5, F. Dredge (first quarterpeal) 6.

EARLY BELLS.

Ringinz began at 5.10 mm . it St. James Clurch, Taunton, with a Thater-peal of Grapdsire Triples: B. T. Holl 1, J. Hunt 2, T. Jeanes 3. A. Walker 4, A. H. Read ह, H. Bungay 6, W. G. Gigy (conductor) 7,

At Selby Abbey ringing began at 5.45 a.m. wleen an attempt was mado for a peal of Kent Tieble Bub Major. This, however, cawe to grief owing to a "change course "arter la hours' ringing, but afterwards a quarter-peal of Grandsire Iriples was rung, with F. Cryer taking the place of W. Terry, of Hemingbrough: F. Cryer (Selby) 1 . Mrs. E. Bradligy 2, Miss M. D. Hawley 3, F. Terry (Heminglarough) 4 R. H. Vigor 5, H. S. Morley, conductor (Selby) 6, E, Bradley 7, T. H. Foster (Selby) 8. Ringers of 2, 3, 5 and 7 frow Sherbuin-in-[1]met-

The peal at Hetherseti, Norfolk, was begun at 6.17 a.m. It was rumg by the local company, with the inchasion of the hon. socretary of the Norwich Diocesan Asseciation as conductor.

Messis. Cotton, Dexter aud Taylor, who toolt part in a peal of Stedman Cinques on the new riug of twelve bells at Leicester Catintdral, rang in paals in the same tower for the Coronations uf King Edward VII. and King George V.
The belts at Apsicy End, Herts, went into changes at six minules to six a.m. and came romd at 8.38. That was an early seart. Al the conclusion of the peal the hells wete fired.

Ons of the earliest peals in the area of the North Stafordshir Assaciation was rung at Norton, where seven Surprise methods were begun at $6.40 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.

A HAPPY COINCIDENCE

Mr. Johu Fint, of Boisover, rang his 500th peal an Coronation Daya very luppy coincidence. It was also the 150 th peal which he and Mr: Jesse Moss luad rung together.
The first peal of Stedman Triples in West Dorset ever rung by a local hand was scored at Lyme Regis, under the conducterstrip of the Vicar (the Rev. O. C. Cox). The band are all Sunday service ringerg and three of them rang their first peal of Stedunn.
The treble to a peal of Kent Treble Bob at Lindley, Hudderslied, Was rung by Geoftrey Gee, a 16 -year-old youth, who flus rang i, is first peal after only six montis' training. He had never rumg the method bofore, and his striking roused the admiration of the whole band.
The local hand at Eqershot, Dorset, rang a peat of Doubles in seven methods, and special credit is dure to Maurice Batten, who scored l.js first peal at the first attempt. He was 15 years 14 days old 1. Coronation Day and only learned to hnndle a bell 16 months ago.

The band who rang the peal at Monk Bretton, Yorks, afterwards welt on to Barnsley and were hospitably entertained by Mr. ©, D. Potter.

Mr. Maurice Atkins was a sutierer from the failure of the Cambridge University Guild to pay the affiliation fee for its representatives on tho Gentral Council. He broke his holiday in Devonshire and travelled all the way to Canterbury-for nothing.
We repret to record the sudden death of one of the band of ringers at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melboume, Australin. Mr. J. Birlies, who was a native of Great Budworth, Cheslure, expired suddenly while attending a dog show on Rester Monday.
If anyone should ask Messis. John Worth and Wilfrod Stevenson, of Macclesfield, what they think of the view of the Manchester Ship Canal from Warrington Swing Bridge, they will be surprised at the lack of these ringers' appreciation of a wonderful piece of engineering.
They had been invited to take part in the Coronation peal at St, Nicholas', Liverpool, and were held up en route at the bridge for 20 solid minutes. They arrived finally at the tower just in time to hear the bells break iato rounds.

Albert Tyler, a son of the late Mr. Jesse Tyler, whe rang the treble to a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary Redclife, is only 14 years of age and has just left Redcliffe School, His oaly two previous peals havo also been Stedman Cinques.
Among the visitols to this country for the Coronation are the Ven. Archdeacon Blackwood and Mrs. Blackwood, of Holart, Tasmania. The Archdeacon is Vicar of Holy Trinity, where two peals were rung on the Australian tour in 1934, and the towists are looking forward to moeting these visitors before they return to the other side of the world. This week they have been spending a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson at Surfleet.
Tho King has been pleased to noknowledge through his privato secretary i letter of loyal assurances on the occasion of their Majesties' Coronation sent by the St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, Society.

Mr. Tom Fowler, of Cookham, a well-known member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, won the 75 yards race for grandiathers, starting from seratch, at the local Corountion festivities. His prize was a bread knife. A few years ago he won two pairs of hair brushes in oue dayand he was as bald then as he is now!

LOST PEALS.

HOW MANY TATLURTS?
In duo course roports of all the peals rung in celebration of the Caronatior will bo published in these columas. Up to the present we have received records of ovar 200 .
It would add interest in the activities of ringers on this historic occasion if it were possible to ascertain how many Coronation peals wers lost. Will our readers help us to do this by sending in posteard in all cases where a peal was lost, stating

Date of attempt
Pance
Method
Time rung
Cause of fsilure?

CAMBRIDGE U.G OFFICIALS' APOLOGY.

To the Editor,

Dear Sir,-May we, through the medium of your paper, express our regret that, owing to an oversight, the Cambridge University Guild was blacklisted at the recent Gentral Council meeting for non-payment of subscription.
We tender our apologies to all concerned, and especially to tho Guild's representatives.

ROGER D. St. J. SMITH, Master.
MICHAEL B. SHAW, Hon, Secrefary.

THE PEAL AT ST. MARY'S, WALTHAMSTOW

 To the Editor.Dear Sir, - I find that I made an erroneous claim in connection with the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal rung at Walthamstow on April 24th, as about six years ago a similar peal was rung on the bells. I should, of course, have known better, but I was "aided and abetted in this error by some ringers in the carlier peal. I rathey fancy they imagined the date to be April 1st ingtead of the 24th. With apologies to all concerned.
O. T. COLES.

SCHOOLBOYS' QUARTER-PEAL.

At East Buekiand, Devon, on May 3rd, the West Buckland School Guild of Ringers rang a quarter-peal of Doubles, being 660 of Steduman and 600 of Grandsire rung in altornate six-scores: J. A. Turner 1, P. R. Dale 2, H. L. Morgan 3, E. V. Westcott 4, the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews (conductor) 5, F. P. W. Bray 6.
First-quarter-peal by ringers of 1 and 6 , and first quarter-peal "inside' by ringer of 4th. It was the first quarter-peal in two methods, or in either Grandsire or Stedman, by any of the band.

The boys hava been ringing Stedman since February, but they rang their first 120 of Grandsire only last week.

MEMBERSHIP OF MHE COUNOIL.

After the Conncil had been welcomed by Canon Felmore, the hon. secretary (Mr. Gr. W. Tielcher) reported that the Council han zow 50 atfiliated societies, entitled to elect 138 members. The total elected Was 135. There were 15 honorary members. All subscriptions had been paid except those of the Durham and Newcastle, North Wales and North Notts Associations aud Gambridge University Guild (of Which the president is ane of the representatives).
Mr. A. Paddon Smith said it was unfortunate that the Gambridge Unversity Guild subscription bad not been paid. It made it impessible under the rules for the president to speak or vote at that meeting, hecanse he was a representative of the Guild. That was an impossible position for the Council to be in, and in order to regularise the situation he had great pleasure in proposing that the president be elected an honovary member of the Council.
Mr. S. H. Wood, in seconding, sxid, as a member of the Cambuidge University Guild, he would the to express regret that the omission of the Guild had placed the president in that rather unfortunatio situation.
The motion was carried with applause.
The President proposed that a message of loyalty and comgratulation be sent to the King upon his Coronation the text of the hessage (which was oarried by acciamation), together with the King's reply, was published in our last issue.

On the motion of Mr. J. A. Trollope, seconded by Mr. D. Ir Jolinston, the following retiring hon. members were re-elected: The Rev. F. SS. T. Richardson, Nesses. A. A. Huglies, E. O. S. Turnor and S. E. Wood.
'I'wo members attending a Colucil meeting for the first time wore presented to the president.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. Canon C. O. Marshall (Torkshire Association), the Rev. E. V. Gox (Devon Guild), the Rev. W. M. In. Wirren (Bath and Wells Associabian), Messirs. R. G. Biack (Peferbotorgh Dfacesan Guild), H. Barton (Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, G. Chester (Lincoln Diocesan Guikl), G. Lindoff (Irislı Assaciation), W. H. J. Hooton, hows. Jihrarian (Midland Colinties Association), S. T. Armshrong (Sussex County Association), G. R. Newton (Lancashire Association), E. P. Duflield (Essex Association), G. J. Sedgeley (Suffolk Guild), A. E. Sharman (Bedfordshire Associntion), K. Thacker (North Staffs inncl District Association), W. Saunclers (Shropshire Association), G. E. Borrett (Norwich: Dowesan Association), S. H. Spmonds (Sufolle Guild), W. T. Cockerill (Ancient Society of College Yonths), F. Colelousl (Norib Staffe Association), C. H. Woodlyerry (Worcestershine Assouiadion), W. J. Davidson and W. H. Barber (Durlam and Newenstle Association), E. E. C. Goodenoumh and C. W. Woolley (Hertford County Association), Alderman J. S. Plitchett, the Rev. H. S. I', Richardson and Mr. O. W. Roberts (hon. members).

LOSSES BY DEATH.
The President referved to the loss of members and past members by death. They included the Rev. A. F. B. Boughey, an liou, member of the Gouncil from 1892 to 1928, and president from 1918 to 1920. The President said thoy all knew Mr, Boughey so well hat he need say tittlo about him at that mament, oxcept, possibly, to refer to his extraordinary capacity for beaching young ringers both on handbella and in the tower. A rreat many of his pupils had occupied positions of importance in the Exercise, particularly armong the clergy.
Obhers who had passed on were the Rev. E. W. Cazpenter, representative of the Kent Coundy Association and afterwurds an hon. member, a member of the Conucil 1891-1932; Mr. F. Wilfond, Centra] Northonts and Peterborouglt Associations, a member of the Council 1904-1936; Mr. A. Coppoel, Midland Connties Association and Sleerwood Youths, a member of tho Council 1924-1935; Mr. T. Jhillips, Lineoln Guild, a member of the Council 1932-1935: Mr. H. S. Ellis, St. James' Society, a member of the, Council 1912-1914: Mr. IR. I. Dawe, Sussex Associatiou, is momber of the Council 1909-1911: Mr. A. E. Wreaks, Lancashire Association, a momber of the Council 18951896 ; and Mr. G. W. Stokes, Sussex Association, who wos elected last year but nover liad the opportuntity of attending in meting.
Referring to the late Rev. E. W. Carpenter, the Rev. F. Drake mentioned that he was ame of two famous brolhers who nerved on the Conncil. Only a year or two before he died he gave a new treble bell to Stoke-by-Clare tower, had the bells rehung and taught a band of ringers.
The members stood for a few moments in silence as a marle of respect.
The miauteg of the last meeting, lield in London, lyavily hen printed, were taken as read, and-adopted.

GLOSSARY' STOCK TO BE GIVEN AWAF
The report of the hon. Tihrarian was presented by the hon. secretary. It was as follows: The thanks of the Council are dan to the following persous for gifts to the library: Canon Fisee (throngh Mr. Peter Grook) : Cavillons of Belginm and Hollnma ' (Gorlinm Rine, 1915), "Guriosities of the Belfry" Briscoe, 1883), Ghurch Bells of Lnicestershire (North), Suffolk (North), Warwickshire (Tillev and Walters). Mr. Th. A. Danfell: Note book, photo of Stedman's will. Mr. .J. A. Trollape : ©hurch Belle ' ("Arts of the Ohurch, Eeries).
The only purchase has been a oopy of the "Tintinnalogia' reprint. The lih'ry tist is being revised.
As fat as publications are concerned, I should ho glad to inave instructions for the disposal of 962 copies of the 'Glossary.' These might be sold at a reduced price if the Conncil thinks it antrisnlite to circulate a book containing nyuch out-of-dite matter.
Stacks of the following books are exlausted : "Rules and Decisions, "Model Rules for a Lacal Company," Preservation of Bells.' The two latter are in demend and should he reprinted, while the stock of the Plain Major and Cater Methods' hook is getting low.
The new hook af 'Doubles and Minor Methods' ant the book on the 'Law Affecting Church Relle' are in the press.
Two orders for books came from Anstralia, and a letter from Sydney asking for information about patent clappers for practice.
More than one inguiry for a hook on domitle-lameded handoell ringing had been received.
The secretary reported tifat tho Standing Committee lan considered the various recommendations in the librarian's reporth As to the disprsal of the 962 copies of the 'Glossary,' the committee recommended that they be offered to associations free of charge, on payment of carriage, as it was thoumht they might he given away by the associatious to people who would benefit from their use.

BOOKS TO BE REPRINTED.
With regard to "Model Rules for a Local Company" and 'The Preservation of Bells,' the committeo recommended that the reprinting be undertaken, arrd asked the Courcil to allow the committee to decide what number shall be printed, as bhey first wanted to make (Continued on next page.)

an estimate of the likely demand. As to a book on double-handed haudbell ringing, the committee recommended that it be left to the officers to consider'. The committee also recommended that a further supply The Rey. Ins. Drators and begingers be printed.
The Rev. F. Drake sufggested that the cemainimg eopies of the 'Glossary' be destroyed. It did not seem to be right, he said, that they, as a Council, should continue to publish a book which the librarian said contained much that was out of date. Far too many were printed to start with, and be thought the best thing to do was to destroy the old copies and start making a new Glossary
Mr. E. Alex. Young seconded the proposal, pro forma.
Mr. A. Paddon Smith said although the 'Glossary 'was not entirely acurate, it contained very much useful information. The committee's proposal was that they should make use of it hy distributing it free, on payment of postage, and that, he thought, the Council should do. Mr. J. A. 'Trollope said the 'Glossary,' as far as it was a glossary, was one of the best books erer published by the Council. It was the work of Earle Bulwer, who devoted an enormous amount of resoarch work to the compilation of the book. What was out of date about it was the final chapter, which consisted of alout a quarter' of the book; that was writter helore sufficient was known about the subject. The Gtossary ' itself was one of lhe best lyooks the Council had ever' jssued.
Ouly the proposer voted for the motion io destroy the copies and all the recommondations of the committes were adopted, together with the sugrestion of Mr. . S. H. Wood that the final chapter of the "Glossary "should be stamped 'out of date.'

THE PRTESIDENTM'S SHOP.

The librarian's accounts showed that £18 18s. 2d, had been received from the sale of pullications, and in atidition 18s. from the Durham and Newcastle Association and 18s. 5d. From the president of the Council-making a total of e20 14s. 7d. After paying expenses there was a balance on the year of $£ 143 \mathrm{~s}$. 5d.
The President said in the itccomts lye was down as an agent, having sold 18s. Sd. worth of books It might interest members to know that he look a bagful of books with him to the annual meeting of the Kent Connty Association and opened a 'shop.' In about ten mimutes he had 18s. 5d. in his pocket. He recommended that course of action to other nicmbers. There were still a numbor of copies of pulljications out on sale or relurn, aud in these cases the libivarian did not know what sales had been made, as there had been no return.
The Lom, secretary said ME. A. E. Sharmam, of the Bedfordshive Associrtion, had presented to the litrary a book written by Mr. Charles Herbert, of Woburn, containing all the 40,320 changes of Bois Major
A vote of thanks was passed to alf donors of books to the library. FINANCIAL.
The statement of the Council's accounts was suhmilted by Mr. G. W. Thetcher, who is hon treasurer. The receipts were as follow: Talance, Whitsun, 7936 , £68 166. 3d.; a finliation fees, $1935-36$ arrears, 105.; 1936-37. 23015 s . ${ }^{2}$, subscriptions, honn. members, 51 10s.; interest

The accounts were adopted on the motion of Mr . A. A. Hughes, se:onderl by Mr. C. T'. Coles (auditors).

CARTER RINGING MACHINE

Mr. E. A. Young, as a trustec, reported on the Carter Ringing Machine. The macling hat heen cxamined, and rlthongh it showed signs of wear, they detested no particular fault. Ont qecount of alterations heing carried out at the Musenm, it conld not be rum on power, but the demonstrator revolved it by hand and it ran over a power, but the demonstrat
Mr. Hughes, the other trustee, seconded the report, whinch was adopted.
The President said hie had had a letter from Mr. G. F. Woothouse, of Sedhergh, Youks, who regretted that, owing to the distance, he could not lring his machine to Canterbury for demonstration. A's he could not travel more than 20 wiles an hour when convering the machine, it would take lim three clays to do the journey. He hoped, however, to be alle to demonstrate the machine to the Council at gome time when they came north.
The Standing Dommittee reporten that they had considered the agends and recommendations thercon had been or would be placed before the Council. This was adopted on the motion of the secretary, sceonded by Mrs. Fifetoher.

PEAL COLLECTION DELAYED.

The hon. secyetary said he had received a letter from Mr. Gabriel Linioff, talied May 12th, in which he snid that owing to several members of the Peuls Commiltec not having yet returned their selection of peals, he was still umahle to hand in the completed collection.
This lefter was adopted as the geport of the committee, on the motion of Mr. A. ATrollope, seconded by Mr. W. H Hollier.

AN AUTHOR'S RIGHT TO A METHOD.

The report of the Melhods Committee was as follows: At the last spssion of the Council we reporter that the MSS. of the hook on Surprise Major Methods nme the third edition of the Minor Methods

Gollection had been handed over. The Conmeil has already approved publication of these and its owaits favourable finamenal conditions.
During the past yeur the question has again been raised of forming a Register of Methods. We wish to point out that the committeo has in working order a scheme by which all methods call be tabulated and indexed, and atry information remathg them can be obtaneed in a very few minutes. This scheme will be explained in detail ut Cantorbury and the assislance of the Council asked in maling it operative.
The MS. collection givar by the committee to the Council's library at Shrewsbury contains 817 of the best of the Surprise methods, complete with a full iead, diagram, false course-ends and a comprehensive collection of suitable peal compositions. These are arranged on a plan by which any method cau readily be tumed up once the places in it are known.

In addition the commitbee has a manuseript collection coutaiuiner several thousands of Surprise methods and ather members of the Exercise (notably Mr. Driver and Mr. Lindoff) have large and more or less exinustive collections.
There is, therefore, no lack of methods, and any information te specting them will rendily be given to any rivers or baud asking for if Bub perhaps that is not what is asked for. It seems that what some people wat is a scheme by which, when a man has worked out a method which he has reason to believe has not previously been runs or published, ho can register a claim to it as his composition ant property. If that is what is wanted we fear it cannot be done. It might have been possible years age when every mehod was con sideren to be aseparate thing, each with its own composer aud ownm, sidered to be a separate thine, each with its own composer ava ownem but a study of the mathematical law independent, but that the exist foll has shown that methods ance of many more. We canlot separat methods and say that this oue is the composition of $A$ and that of $B$ minis one belongs to C and that to $D$.
Given the existence of Stedman's Imperial Bob, such methorls Norfolk and Peterborougly and Cornwall and many others auta matically follow. Cambrigge and Yorkshire were nudouhtedly posed quite indepeudently of ench otirer, yet a man who knows the coustruction of Cambridge knows that Yorishlire must exist and that its lead ends and rows must be thus and not otherwise. It would in absurd to give to the man who first composed a method the eredi for" all those which spring from it about which he knew wotling, anc it is impossible to consider any math as the author of a method whe rould have bean got from an older one by merely mechancal means, do matter how it actually was got. Purther, durung the last 30 year many clever men have been working at methods, some on comprehem sive and exlanstive lines. Their work overlaps fund tite same methon may and probably has been composed by several persons. Betwent them it is not possible to distingnisl?. The ofd test of priority publication altogether lreaks down, for the vast numbers have nev. been pullished, yet 10 one can say they have not been conposer. If $A$ writes ant a method on Monday and $B$ works out the same on Snturday, guite independently, it is difficult to see why A should be considered the exclusive owncr, especially as he may merely have mord or less blatily wrtithen ont some figures while $B$ had worked on some definite plan. Therefore, even if a man could prove that lie was the first to write out the lead of any method, we cannot see that he bes acquired any ownership or proprietary right
We must, howeyer, emphasise the fact that this does not diminishi the credit which rightly belongs to those men who have made go namy good methods availahle for the Exercise. These men have the right to clain that they lave composed methods. It is the clain to owner ship and exelusive rights that fails.
Mr. T. A. Trollope formally moved the adoption of the repport ant Mr. W. C. S. Purner seconded. The latter remarked that the com mithe bad the proofs of the new edition of the Danbles and Minor book in hand, and they hoped it wanld be on the market very soon They noted that the librarian had reported that the PTain Major methods was nemyly sold ont. The commitiee would take the ve printily of it in hand
The raport was adopted.

AN INDEX FOR METHODE.

M2. S. II. Wood moved the following recommendation on bebalf of the committee: That in order to assist the Conncil in keeping up to dato a Register of Methode which have been rimg, the secretarios of affimated assaciations bo rsked to farwand to the Council the forures of any method rung for the first tive and the composition, together withe particulars of first performance Mr. Wood said that practically as long as he conld remember, speaking campanologically, the Exercise had been calling, about every six montha, for two things. The first was a register of conpositions and the second a legister of methods. So fat a register of compositions had been ruled out as impracticable, and, as far as lio could see, it would be impracticable for many years to come, for these two reasons: As far as lhe kuew there was no method of working out all the possible compositions of even one method, say Bob Majer, and if it was possible to work them all ont, was there anyhody in that Council who wanld he prepared to say whether any particular two of them were the same compositions, or wariations, or different compositions?
In regand to methons, hawever, they were on very different gronnd. There was nothing to prevent somelody writing ant atl the possible (Continued on next page.)

Surprise Major methods, except that it would probably take lolger thot one wars lifetirae; but it was a perfectly straightforward job. Alhough, perhaps, no oue in that roon was prepared to say how many there were, there was a definite mumber. Unlike compositions, there wns no question of any two methods being the snme; therefore, it was nossille to have a register of methods. It seemed to him, however, thal what was really required was a system of indexing, so that any methor coulti be placed in its proper entegory and thas avoid two methods being rung under the same name, or two names given to the same method.
There were in existence a number of registers of methods-there wns nothing now about that. ?lo Records Committes liad a very excellently kept register, which was indexed by uames, bui if somebody rang a new method and gave it a unme there was mo simple wny of findiag out whether those fignves had been previonsly rabg under a different name, which was what, il seemed bo him, the Exor cise really wanterl. He had beer working on a system lately which would fulfil the raquirements. He meed not describe the system, but it would lye sufficient for the Council to know that if he were given ladf a lead of a Surprise Major method, he rould tell then ial less than one winute whether it had been rum before, and, if so, give them delails. It was based upon the half-lead end, which was the first of the two rows in whicht treble lay lebind. Fe had worked out all the possible lalf lead ends wheh would give regular methods. There were 1,116 of them, and they ware written out in the index.
Mr. Wood proceeded to show by the example of Cambridge how the system worked, and went on to say that the recommendation asted that the Conncil should be furashed with the details of methods rlaimed to be rimg for the first time, and as soon as they got the figures they would be able lo say if they had been rung before thonght it was clear that if a hand wanted to make certain hefore ringing a tucw method, that had not, been previonsly rung, they slonld write to the Council or to him and he would be glad to reply by rethem of pest.
Mí'. E. C. S. Turner seconded the motion, which was carried

THE PEALS ANALYSTS.

The Comeil next hand before them the report of the Peals Analysis nol Recoris Committee, published in our issue of April 23rd last. Hrs. Fletelner, in moving its adoption, said that siwce the publica-hished as a non-associstion peal, fad been credited to the Ely ociation and this alteration had been made in the records. A pent soven Surprise Major methotls was omitted from the list of new methods and this had now been zncludeti-Mr. G. R. Pye seconded the reports.

Mr. A. D. Burker asked for information abont the peals of Donlwes Hich lard includerl a methad described as Oxford Singles
Tho President said they had found out that Oxford Singles was a method with ene bell lying eight consecutive blows belind. The Standing Commiltee lasd passed a recommendation that the Conncil regret that such a method should be rung, considering the number of methads there ate. He added that with regard to the peal of Minor, in which ary ald coutse of Woodbine Treble Bob had heen rumg the Standing Coumittee recommended that further inquiry be made to ascertain at what stage of the peal this addition was included.
W. Ayre said the peals which included Oxford Stigles were futg for his own associntion, the Fertiord. He iatended to ining the matter upy before the association and suggest that these peals be deleted from the records

ADVANTAGES OF HANDBELL PEALS,
The Rev. T. L. Dedwards referred to the decrease in the number of 1andhell peals, The ringing of handhell peals should be eycouraged as mach as pessible. He thought there were three advantages in nondell rimge. First it required a larger amonat of skill and that was all to the good of the Exercise nund progress. Second, it could loe done without muy anmorance to the meighlowrinood, and, third, it was much easier for four people to meet for reperted attempts than was for a larger number.
Theve was also, said Mr. Edwards, a serions decrease in the number of ringers ringing their first peal. So far as the Salisbury Guild, Which te represented, was concerned, he was glad to say it was a conspicuons exception. In a fathe proportion of the peals rung luy the Guild tiere was a ringer who rang his first peal or lis first in the methad. One other point he had notited in the report was that seren peals were rung on royal occasions or birthdays and over 200 birthday peals ats compliments to ote or anotier of the bend. It was very nice and very friendly to have these birthdey peals rung, but he thought ringers mould do well to consider the atbitutule of the weneral public fowards it. The public could maderstand a peal fung for a royal hirthatay, but a peal for the birthdat of an nadivinul ruger appealed to ho one ontside the hand of ringers, Riuters wond co well to make the occasion for perls in these days more occasions of publie interest (hear, hear)
Mr. T. S. Goldsmith. Jefering to the commitice's statement that Sheir inguiries as to Oxford Singles had not, at the time of the report, brought forth any finformation, moved that it be an instruction to the commitee that, when meessary information is mat forthcoming, when the statisties are made wp, the peals shonld be iguoved

WIRKSWORTH BELLS RESTORED

SPECLAL ATTENTION TO SOUND.

The rededication of the ring of eight bells at Wirksworth Parish Chmel, near Derby, was carried out on Friday evening, May 7ih, by the Very Rev. Herbert Ham, M.A., F.R.C.O., Provest of Derhy Cathedral. Oiher clergy taking part in the service were the Vicat, the Rev. S. J. Caiger, B.A., B.D., Canon G. A. Hazlehnrat, Rumi Dean of Wirlsworth, and the Revs. W. *. L. W'illiancs, R. F]. S. Currey, M.A., H. Pickles and F. Kelly.
In 1934 the old bell frame and supports were found to be rothen, owing to the ravates of beetle grib, and it was, therefore, decided to discontinne ringing of the bells, except fov very special occusions, until such time as the peal was thoroughly restored. This worle has now been completed, the bells lnving been equipped with modent fitlings and hung in an entively new frame by Mlesars. tohn Thy lon guestion of the sound of the bells both from the ringers' point of riew and aiso to those residents in the imnediato vicinity of the chimeh. In the ringing clanber the some of the bolls is nieply subdued so that: they can be tapped in the way which all good strikerg delightin, whilst in the charehyard there is 110 'shouting down at yon' to inter'fere wilis the quietest of conversation.
During the rededication the bells were mong by memhers of the lowa] band-G. H. Bowmer, L. Hanson, T. H. Greatovex, Brinu Hilditeh, J. Flint, K. Fanson, F. Johmson, B. Greatotex (eaptain). The l-unson fanily have heen ringers for four generadoms. ## EDINBURGH RINGERS VISI'T NEWCASTIIE

St. Mary's Cathedral Sociely, Edinburgh, held thefz anman onting on Abril 291, 1, when they visited Noweastic-on-Ty
In the whming they rang touches of Grondsire Caters and Stedman Triples at All Saints' Charch, Gosforth, and in the afternown visitel St. George's, Jemmond. The most interesting and erijoyabile part af the flay was : wisit to the Cathedral, when they had ans opportamity to ming Cinques
The Newcastle Cathedral ringers gave the Edinhnsh visitars a wann weleome and mate their visit mosi enjoyable. It was interesting to meet neaith Mr . C. Is. Roulledge, wha is ath honomary member of st Mary's Society, and Mr. W. H. Barber, who was conductor at s Liary's, Ediuburgh, for a mumer of years. The trip was an interest ing departure for Scottish tingers

FOR BEGINNERS

COURT AND DOUBLE COURT BOR

In these notes a fortnight ago we lad somethiug to say about donble methads and the grouplus of methods. Let us jook now at thother woll-know? method which produces a perfect double. It is Court Boh, and it belongs to the group of which Oxford Bob is a nember.

If you studied Oxford Bob yon will remember that, the main feature of its construction wiss the tin's place made at each end of the lead is the treblo passed up through $2-3$ and down through $3-2$.

123456 & 653142 \\
214365 & 561324 \\
241356 & 515342 \\
423165 & 153624
\end{array}

Ille lends themselves are joined by 2nd's place made when the treble lends its whole pull, causing the two pairs in $3-4$ and $5-6$ to dodge.

Now Court Boh is exactly like Oxford Bob, without the 2nd's place when the treble leads. Row for row the leads of a plails course wios alike in the two methodx except that they are joined by 2nd's in Oxford Bob and 6th's in Const Bob. Tlase who wisls to stand the method should be able to write ont the course withont further inaluction and make theic own diagram.
When they come to ring it, they will find that the change in the link ' between the leads cuts out centain dodges and connectig thp the aliher work into a different sequence-but the construction of the method is the same.

The double method lins the same relationship to Wingle version as Douhle Oxford las to Oxford Bob Pluces are made in corresponding places with the treble athove 3rd's as when it, is belou 4 th's. Thus the 4 th's when the treble passes throngh $2-3$ anf $3-2$ is drplicated in 3ud's when the treble passes through 45 Had 54.
But while in Double Oxford there were places in 5ih's and 2nd's with the treble behind and leading, respectively, in Double Court (following the example of the single method) there is neither 5th's nor 2ad's. Rere again you should, with this information before you, he able $t$, construct your own course and make your cliagram. Just try it; the ellow to do these thinge for yourself will enable yous to lanrn much more than having the figures given to your.
This is how the places are wade 'across the treble' in Double Court:

214365 & 645213 \\
241356 & 465123 \\
42365 & 641532 \\
243615 & 614523

Tha second lead lead of Court Bob (rounds being the first) is 135264 The second lead lead of Double Court is, thereFore, 135264 trausposed ty 135264, which produces 156342.
Breause of the absence of 2nd's place when the treble leads, the talling of these two methods is not the same ns Oxford 3ob, viz., Wrong, Rigitiond Wrong. As we pointed ont vecently, methods with Gth's made when the treble leads have as theip 'staudard' calling -In, Onk and In'-that is, bobs called when the observation hell runs Tiv to fake the trehle off, and when it rums OUT from the trolble. In the case of Court Bob, if the tenor is the olservation bell, the plain 'Out," that is the 'Out, where there is no bob, contes first (at the 2nd lead) and the first bob 'In" the following lead. In the double method the plain Out comes at the first lead and the first boh ' In ; int: the fourthl leat.

DEATH OF THE DEAN OF ORIEL COLEEGE.

HIS SERVICES TO RINGING IN OXTORD.
On Wednesday, May 12th, after an illness of some manths' duration the Rev. Jolm Freeman Russell, Lecturer; Fellow and Dean of Oriel College, Oxford, passed to his rest. A contributor has sent us the collowing appreciation of a most valned personality :-
Mr. Russell's name is one which will be unfamiliar to the majority of the readers of this journal, but he was typical of the best type of clerical ringer, He learnt to ring when he was an undergraduate at Pembroke College, Oxford, und though never an advauced riager himself, he was a steady striker, and could be relied ou in the stiandard methods.

But those who knew him will remember chicely his unfailing readiness to help with the leaching and practice of beginners. In this direction there will be many members of the Oxford University Society and of the ringers at Cuddeston College, who will remember him with gratitude and affection-gratitude for the many lours of unselfish labour which he put in on their belalf, and affection for one Who was Lever impationt, whu was always ready to give of his best to those who neaded his help, and who was a real friend to all those with whom he came in contact,

Mr. Russell's distinguished academic and clerical careor-lie was only 39 whan he died-would have been considered by a lesser man to have eutitled him to a more prominent position in the ringing frabenity: he was, however, one of the most hamble of people, ant it would have beon abhorrent to ham to have pushed himself forward in any way. Fe remained in tile background, ready to be of service when wated.
The present, writer desires to acknowledge the debt that he owes to Mr. Russell, from whom he learnt sometiong of how a riuger slould hehave in the belfiy. Mr. Russell never shouted, and never forgot that the belfiy is part of the church. When askied to do so, he would condnct a touch, but when not conducting he never interfered: he sought no honour for hinself, but was always ready when wanted.
He will be greatly nissed by the ringers at Cuddesdon, nod by the Oxford Society and the OxCord University Society. For the past two years be had been a vice-prasident of thr latter society.

Those who knew him will feel that they have lost a friend, and the Exercise will be the pooror by the death of one who always puthimself last.

BELLS UNUSED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

RESTORED FOR CORONATION

Uunsed for a quarter of a century, the bells of St. Michael's Church Llanfilangel Rlyydithon, Radnorshire, liave been restored and monted and were ready in time to ling for the Coronation.
The preseut Vicar, the Rev. IS. W. Fowler, was inducted twelv montlis ago. A keen bellringer, he found on his arrival in the parisl that the peal of five bells were out of order and had not been for 25 years. He launched an nppeal for funds to restore the exist ine five bells and put in a new treble to augraent them to six, and on Wednesday, April 28 th last, his ambition was realised mhen the bell were cledicated by the Lord Bishop of Swausca and Brecon (Dr. John Morgan, D.D.) hefore a largo congregation,
The lessons were read by Canou Grifith Thomas, R.D. (Llandriuden? and Canon T. S. P. Grifiliss (Knighton). The Bishop took for hip text I. Chrancles xxix., 6. He spoke of the beautifying of the House God and appealed to all churchworkers to carry on the good wo in which they were engaged.
The work of velauging the existing five bells and adding a mew treble was entrusted to Messes. Gillett and Jomston, Croydon, anc everybody present axpressed their pleasure at the 'go' and tone the resloted peal. The new treble weighs 3 cwt 2 cf . 20 lb .
The opening toucli was an six-score of Grandsire Doubles by $C$. A Davies 1, B. H. Davies 2, W. D. Grifliths 3, D. F. Bennetb ductorl ${ }^{\text {a }}$, S. C. Powell 5, S. L. Speake 6. The ringers were the ners of the Swansea and Buecon Guild 1936 bellringing contest. Oulv ringers were present from Brecon, Talgarth, Kington, New Ratmo and Mr. J. H. Sheppard (Swindon) and Mr. J. P. Hyett, Worcested shire Association Northern Branch secretary, were also present Messrs. Gillett and Jolmston were represented by Mr. S. R. Roper

DEATH OF AN OLD LEICESTERSHIRE RINGER

We deeply regret to announce the death of John Hutchin Wildnan, of Croxton Kerrial, Leicesterghire, who passod away on Aprit 22nd after: a very short illness.

Mr. Wildman, who was 74 vears of aga, had been a ringer for 62 years. He was a mamber of the Framland Deaneries Grild and also a member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.
Ho was a good and well-known ringer in the Grantham and Melton Mowbras districts, and as a last token of respect fome of his fellowringers rang a course of Graudsire Triples on handluells at the graveside on Motiday, April 26 th.

After the fnneral service the tower bells were half-mufled, aud 720 of boll Keut and Oxford Treble Boh Minor were rung : H. Thorpe (Grantham) 1, Sidney Proctor (Granthan) (conductor) 2, R. Bartram (Melton Mowhray) 3, A. Ward (Bothisford) 4, W. Thorpo (Granthan) 5, P.C. H. R. Wnods (Grantlani) 6.

BELLS FOR NEW CHURCHES.  BISHOP OF SHFENELD'S HOPE.

The ring of six bells at Harthill, Yorks, has been recast and augnerted by Lws trebles by Messis. Gillett aud Johnston, Ltd, of croydon old bells varied in dates and were hume in an oals frame which had becomo unsafe, and the bells thangelves formed no kind of muclens for a satisfactory diatouic scale. They had lueen silent for some years, and eventually it was decided to make atr effort to mise subseriptions n arder that the work of recasting and also Telangint in an mon frame could be put in land and completed in cime for the Coronation. As the parish is not a large one aud is mostly agricultural the selfsacrifice of tho parishioners is to be highly commended, whilst special mention shorfa be made of the splendid example set bJ. Mr. H. Garbetit, a local gentiteman, who has been responsible for rasing some handreds of pounds towards the total expenditure by the production of village payeants, etc.
1 lase congrteration attended the eeremony of dedicatioll, periomed by the Bishop of Sheffield (Dr. E. I. Gurrows), the seating capaciby beibg taxed to the atmost. The sermiee was conducted by the Rector of Harthil (the Rev. H. R. Lverson), Amongst the elergy present were Cinion S. T. G. Smith (Attorelife), the Rev. R. Hodgson (Anston), the Rew. A. D. Alderson (Todwick), the Rev. A. E. Lewis (Thorpe Salvin), the Rev. W. A. Surtees (Malliby) and the Rev. A. M. Selle (Wales), who acted as Bishopss chaplain.
The Bishop gave an excellent address on the origin and uses of belle. He laid parlicular stress upon their connection between the church aud the people, inasmuch as although serwing their mission in sumunoning the parishoners to worship, they also, amongst other things, conveyed a message of comfort to those nmablo to attend though sickness and other causes. He also spoke of the present-day xpansion of elty town and city parishes, and staited that he hoped that every cffort would be made by those responsible to instal a peal bells wherever a new church was erected. Finally he teldered aise to the parishoners for theil woble self-sacrifice, to the former Rector (the Rev. I'. E. Boswell), who started the scheme, and to the presont, Rector, who took over the completion of the scheme on his mduction to the parish sone four months aro.

NEW 13AND OF RINGERS TO BE FORMED.
the Soutl Anston Sunday service ringers rang rounds at the actuaI dedication, and immediately after the servico the same bend rang a ell-struck touch of Boh Major, when the beauty and full tome of The nem peal was heard to geod effect by a large nimber of visiting fingers from Tekincton, Handsworth, Killamarsh, Rotherham, Retford, Sheffeld, Woutcsop and Wortley. Touches were aftermards rung the various risitors present, the belfaunders being repressuted by Gyzil F. Johuston, of Groydon.
The Forkslire Assceiation was represented by Mr. Sidney F. Palmer (hon, treasurer), Mr. George Lewis (vice-presidont, Southerm Divjeion), Had the Shefleld and District Society by Mr. M. E. Wilson, hou. cretary.
It present they is no baud of ringers at Harthill, but a mumber young men heve shown interest and offered to take up the mystic and there was every izdication of active encauragement and sistance from leading ringers of the district in the creation and derelopment of a band mortliy of the tower and the new peal.
at the invitation of the Rector, anl open rimgers gathering will e place on Saturday, when all ringers will be welcomed.
The former bells were six in mumber, with a tenor of 18 cwt . "They ave been recast irto a magnificent ring of eight, with an $18 \frac{1}{2}$ owt. enor in $F$. They lave been hung with the latest type of modern fittings in an all-steel frame, which looks and is an first-class engineering job.
The work las been camied out in a most satisfactory mamaer by ressis. Gillett and Johnston, who are to be collgratulated on supply$g$ Sonth Forksline with ret anotluer excellent peal, the 'go' of whith is everything that could be desired.

OPEN BELLS FOR RINGER'S FUNERAL.

SDASEX PTETERAN'S WISH

Owing to failing health, Mr. George Walder, fhe Sussex veterna, whose death at the nge of 81 ycars, on May 7 th, we hrisfly recorded in our last jssue, had not been able to ring for the last few years. He had expressed a wish that the bells of Bolney Church, where he thad been at ringer for so many years, bhould be rimg with open clappers immediately after his interment, and this was accordingly done, touches of Grandsire Triples being rung loy past and present members of the Bolney Church Ringers' Sonjety.

One of the original members of the gbove society, Mr, Walder was is secrebary until the year 1930, and has left many interesting notes the minute book ou the Bolney belis and the early struggles of the society.
$H_{e}$ conducted its first peal (Grandsire Triples) on November 9th,

WELLINGBOROUGH BELLS REDEDICATED

TUNED AND REEUNG IN TWO TIERS
Scarcely two hours clapsed between tho finishing touches being put to the newly-rehung bells of All Hallows' Church, Wellinglorouth, aud their aedicalioa on Monday, May 10th, by the Archdeacon of Northampton. The pral of eight bells lave been tuned and relung with wow fithings in a sleel frume, 1, 3, 5 and 7 being hung above the 2nd, 4 lih, the wark lus been cirried out very successfully by Messrs. Gillett ant Johnston, Ciroydon.

Following the words of redediention, the bolls were rung agan for the first time since October last to a course of Stedman I'riples by A . H. Martin (Higham Ferters) 1, A. Bigley (secretary of the Wellingborough Brauch of the Peterlorough Diocesau Guild) (Irthlingborought 2, H. E. Plowman (Wellinghorongit) 3, T. Hensher (Finedon) 4, J. I. Main (Finedon) 5, F. Barber (Mablethorpe) 6, W. Perkins (Irthtinghorough) 7, E. Inettitt (Wellingbarough) 8.

A large congregation, representative of the town, waited in lansheti silence to hear the familiar peal onse-more,
After the dedication the cuergy passed back to the choir stalls fur the remainder of the service, which was couducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. C. Ohambers).
A colleotion was taken for fhe 'lower and Bell Fund, $£ 150$ still being requined tr meet the cost.
Besides the Archdeacon and Vicar, other clergy present were the Revs. A. G. Bagshaw, president of the Wetingboroush Branch of biae Peterborougla Diocesan Guild (Finedon), E. J. Atkins, R.D. (Islana), G. S. J. Downes (Wellingborongh All Saints'), IR. I. Robinson, D.D. (Wilhy), and W. C. Knight (curate at All Hallows').
After the bells had been lowered in peal, the local bumd, together Aith the visitore who tools part in the oponing cour were entertained at the Vicarage to light refreshments.
Mr. F. Barber, of Mablethorpe, at ohe time belongiry to the Wellinghorough hand, and fozmer brancls secretary of the Pelerborongg Diocesan Guild, congratulated the Vicay on his very successful accomplishment. He slso wished the local team happiness in their fuhtre cluurch work.
The Vicar repliad and suid that soon after he came to Wellingborough Mr. Barber lad told hin of the condition of the bells and he had promised to get them in ovder eventually. Thad evening ha was delighted to entertain the riagers and to prove that ho had kepi his word. He also spoke of the way Mesers. Gillett and Johnston's men had worked overtime, willingly to get the fob dons for the Coronation and ine tound that bellhungers as well as vinmers wern very entlusiastic int their work
Mr. J. C. W. Stevenson, who represented Messis. Gilleltit and Jolnston, thanked the Vicar lor lis revarts and satd how eomy Mr. Cyril Joheston was at being prevented from attending the service.
Visiting ringers, mumbering about thinty, were present from 14 different towers, and as the tuma allowed for mingrg, after tho service, was only half an bour, wery short courses were the order, the bots ground floo eriginally used, making a landy and majestic peat of aight belle.

ANOTHER OCTAVE IN BUCKS.  GENFROCYS GIMY TO STEWKLEY

Tlle new treble bells at Stowkley, Bucks, were dedicated on April 29 H by the Bishoy of Juchingham. The service was condueted by the Ficar (the Rev. D. R. A. Williams), and numerous local elargy were also present.
The bells are the gift of ML", T. A. Bliss, a former resident of the village, in menory of his parents. The donor also defrayed the expense of rehauging and returing the ofd six, and erected a tabled in the charch giving the details of what lad been done to the bells.
In the collse of the service, eight members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild rang a cousse of Grandsire Triples, and at the conclusion of the servico the same band rang a well-struck 504 of Stedman Triples: R. White 1, Rev. C, Wi. Wig 2, G. Holifield 3, J. Puplett 4, F. Mears 5, 'T. C. White 6, F. T. Hibbert (conductor) 7, A. White 8.
Afterwords a sumptuons tea was provided in the Sehoolroom for all, at the expense of Mr- Filiss, and the inhabitants were pleased to have Mr. Bliss with them.
The work of rehanging the new bells was in the hands of Mr. R White, of Appleton, the now hells having been cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, to whom credit is due for the excellent 'splice.
On Saturday, Mav 8th, eight members of the Oxford Diocesam Gutd rang a pasl of Grandsirf Triples, the firat peal ever vine oun the bells.

DON'T SERUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

A USEFUL COMMITTEE.

Of all the reports presented to the Central Council by the numerous committees, that of the Towers and Belfries Committee provided the most interesting discussion -a discussion which ranged over a wide field, from the welding of bells to questions of insurance against accidents to the person. There had been, the President revealed, some criticism of the committee outside the Council, the allegation being that it serves no useful purpose. Only a prejudiced individual could take up that attitude, for the Towers and Belfries Committee does some of the most practical work which goes on behind the scenes throughout the year. There have been numerous cases where the advice tendered by members of the committec have saved peals of bells from a type of 'restoration' which would have left them largely unfitted for ringing, and rhe outstanding achievement of the committee was its success in convincing the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings that some of the ideas which they formerly pursued were fallacious. But for this, ringers would to-day have had, in many cases, 10 sacrifice their craft to the whims of the 'die-hard' antiquarians.

The committee has constant opportunities of proving its usefulness. When architects and bellfounders disagree, the committee has often been able to influence Advisory Committees on the points at issue and the advice is tine more readily accepted bectuse it is realised that it has no axe to grind. The committee has, among its members, a large store of scientific and lechnical knowledge, which is always at the disposal of those who are responsible for restorations and the committee is more and more, through the Council, beconing a recognised authority on the subject. The bell founclers, as the critics apparently have said, may be able to fight their own battles, but when they have to meet Advisory Committees, weighted with antiquarian prejudice, their proposals are not infrequently treated as "suspect," commercially, and in such cases the unbiassed opinion of a member of the Towers and Belfries Committee may often be the deciding factor.

There is no committee of the Council which has more fully justified its existence, and, in view of the many activities of bodies outside which bring pressure to bear on church authorities, the need of such an expert committee will be more than ever necessary in the future. What we feel is important is that something should be done to train-if that is the right word-a few of the younger men in the Exercise so that they may later take up this work, when present members of the committee quit their task. Questions relating to strains and (Continued on page 366.)

stresses on towers are scientific, and need study and exploration. Bell restorations require experience, and in both these things we would like to see some of the younger men of real ability taking an interest. There is more in this kind of work than visiting a belfry and condemning an old frame or recommending the recasting of a bell. There is sometimes the question of saving a towe $r_{r}$ from damaye, often the necessity of proving an architect mistaken-neither of them always an easy matter. Both are quite beyond the capacity of the inexperienced individual, but if the work of the Towers and Belfries Conmittee is to go on successfully young men must be brought on to take over the work.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEEIING AT OHELMSTORD.
Following loug established custom, the numual meeting of the lissex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whitsun Mouduy and there was a large and representative gathering.
The service jut the Cathedral was canducted by the Pravost, the Very Rev. W. E. R. Morrow. The lesson was read by the MasLer of the association (Dr. P. T. Spencer Phillips), and the Rer. A. G. G. Thurlow, of Wokingham, Berks, Eave the address, in the conuse of which he zeferred to the importance of doiug the small things firgt in order to understand the greater things later on. It applied to everything through life. Everyous, said the preacher, was stived by the wonderful service and ceremonial of the Coronation, but it was anly those people who love retralar Cominunion and prayer who were most truly stirred end helped by that service. Continuing, ilie preacher said:-
" It is the same with the attitade of the general public to ringing; an attitude which 1 am afraid oftren propes annoying to us, as ringers. Nearly all people want and expect ringing on great occasions, and it is quite right that they should expect il. On great aceasions, we, ha ringers, are often tola by members of the general public just luw and when we cught to ring und if we do not do all that is coxpected of us we are told we ought to lave done better. But this same general public is often too ready to criticise us when we ring a peal, or when we hold our ordinary practices. They never realise, miness they try and take up ringiag themselves, the immense amount of hard practice tlat is necessary before we aro good enougla to ring on gread occasions. They never roalise that if thoy want to hear us ring really well on occasions such as the Coronation they must eudure onr frequent Sunday ringing and our week-night practices.
-What of the atitude of ringers themselwes to our att? Everyong who is worth caling it ringer at ithl is keen to come to is wonderfo tower, like this one at Chelmsford, and to have tho privilege of riasing fine bells. But if we are to produce expert ringers for ous grenter churches, we must holp forward the ringing at our parish churr great or small. And to those who are begingers-and who is not one -I wouk sty you may find it havd, and perhaps even dull at first but da not mind that, keep it up. Accept willingly all the erdicisu and advice that bether ringerg give you, and never take offence. Good ringers aiways give their advice in a kindly spiril. Yon cannot become a good rinuer without vonstant practice of mina sind enm If it were easy to heccme a good ringer it would net be worth wile If yout do get rather boled with practising, think over what a woul derful and romantic exercise ringing is. Think of the age-loug part that bells have piayed in our country's history. Think of all 1 i: romance and legend that clings to so many of our old bells. Thiul how, when yon help to ring, you are lelping to lift up the hearts of all those within hearing, helping to tell people of the gead am righteous things of life, the things that really matter, the et joy of the knowledge and love of God.
The business meeting follawed in the Cathedral Chapter Humse Dr. Speacer Phillips was enthusiastically re-elected Master, Mr. L.
J. Clark hon. secretary and treasurer, and Mr. I. W. Wiffen peal J. Clark h secretary.

The 58 th anmual report, presented by the Master, stated that year had been one of steady work and some progress. The restistar of towers in affilistion had been revised, and now numbered 107 , decrease of seven, due to some towers having no ringcrs. The namp bership was: Honorary members 83, ringing mem13ers 774, aud non resident members 249, a decrease of two. The district meetings had been, on the whole, well attended. Onea again there had heen a sharp decline in the number of peals rung muler the anspices of the association, but it was to be noted that more vang their firsi peals, still more their first in the method, which was more inuportant 1 that a larger number of peals should be recorded by a few old stuger The standard of ringing had been well maintained, and Belgrave Surprise was rung for the first time for the association. Thirty-thre members rang their first peal, and 76 their first in the mothon Satisfactory restorations had been carried out at both North Wealit and Great Waltham, and it was hoperd in the near future to talise hand the ring at Telchamp Walter. Regret wns expressed at the loss by death of an lon. member in Canon Macdonald; also of $E$. W Lillywhite, St. Shaviour's, Walthamstow: W. J. Schofield, St. Pater's Golchester: H. W. Richardson, Great Bawfield; aud A. Tarbun, snn Widford. Each year they lost some waluble members by the Great Reaper, and $i$ was satisfactory to note that their numbers were made up aguin by new members. The accomts were satisfactory, suhscriptions being slightly greater than lasi year, so that, in spite of the subscription to the William Wye Menorial Fund of fl5, their hanane was only t 13 less than last year, and they hat becr ithle th help substantially both the restorations at Great Waltham and Nerth Weald, and also Fobhing. Tho Rell Restoration Fund showed a halnmee of 55812 s . 10 the. An effori had heen made durina the yoar to help start a young hand of ringers at Purleigh, but had not yet met with much snccess, owing to lack of keenmess on the part of the learmers. Hope was still entertained of achieving the desired result. Dr Spencer Phillips affered hest thanks to the general serretary nal distrint officers for the hard work they had put in during the pent, and to whose efforts their success was due.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION,

MEETING AT STREATHAM.

An emjoyable meeting of the Southern District was held at Streatham an Saturday, May 29th. Owigg to a wedding, ringing at St. Leonard's did not commence until 3.45 p.m., but was continaed until 5.30 p.m. Tea at the Manor Ams, to which 21 sat down, was followed lyy the business mecting, presided over by Mr. H. Mallee (Disbrict Master.).

Messirs. E. L. Miles and G. W. Fogden, of Streabhan nod Beckeninam respectively, ware elected members, and Isleworth chosen for the next meeting on July 17th, subject to permission being granted.

A hearty vote of thank was accorded the Vienrs of St. Leonard's and Immanuel Ghurches for their kindaess in granting the use of the bells, and especially to Mr. J. W. Chapman, who very kindly ellowed members to come after four previous applications to other towers had been unsuecessful.

After the meeting members went to Immannel Clurch until 8.30 p.m. The methods rung at befh towers inchided Grandsire, Btedman, Phin Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwioh, Camaridge and Superlative, but the striking was not up to the usual standard. But for the presence of sis friends from Kent, the attendauce wouk have been very poor.

Cyril E. Lanzon, of Truro Cathedral, is the first mative of Cornwall to sing a Surprise peal.

Bro. G. R. Newton, of Liverpool, was preveated from taking part in the Masonic peal at Shoreditch owing to his sister being dangerously ill. His place was taken atishott zotice by Bro. R. Brough, to whom the thanks of the band are due. The composition was Joln Reoves' 19 courses with the Gth at Jome, erranged by Bro. G. R. Newton. It was the first peal of Bob Maximus lung by a band of Freemasons.

The Ohesterfield veteran, Mr. Arthur Knights, rang the treble in a peal of Superlative at St, Marie's, Norfolk Row, Sheffeld, on Whit Monday, 1937. On Whit Mondag, 1884, he rang the treble at the same clsuroh to his Grst peal of Stedman Triples. It was conducted by the late Mi: C. H. Eattersley, and rung by eight membors of the College Youlbs. Mr. James Dison, who also rang in the peal, is still a service ringer at St. Maria's.
A peal rung at Eckington on May 18th wes the 5sth anniversary of Mr. Knight's first peal, rung at Diss, Norfolk, in 1879 , conductod by the late William Ireland.

We regrot that many reports of peals and other metters are wa woidably held over.

VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER PASSES

The many friends of Mr. Fred Sclolefield, of Intake Lane, Osgett Yorks, will regret to learn of his death on Saturday, May 22nd, at the age of 75 pears. Althously ho luad bcel in falling health for some years aud had not done any active ringing for a long time, he had always teken a keen inlerest in the Yorksline Association, of which he was one of the earlier life members. His passing severs another link with the old Ossett company.
Tho funeral took place at Eoly Trinify Church, Ossett, on Tuesday, May 25th Deceased leaves a widow, but no children.

COURT BOB.

To the Editor.
Sir, At least once I have asked in your columns why the name Court Bob was first employed. In your column "For Eeginners' last week you supply the answer. At the time this neme was first used a bob was a dodge, and 'court' was a fuller form of 'curt' or 'cut.' Now you say that Court Bob 'cuts out cer'tain dodges" of the sister methed, Oxford Bob. What could be a plainer meaning for the name? The reason for it is as simple as Treble Bob for a method in whitch the treble dodges all the time.

IPSWICH MENS JOURNEY TO LONDON.

On Saturday, May 22nd, St. Mary-le-Towar Society, Ipswich, chaptered a motor-coach aud journeyed to London to attempt a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus aif St. Giles', Cxipplegate. The band was as follows: W. Tillett, C. J. Sadgley, W. J. G. Brown, E. H. Smith, H. R. Roper, L. W. Wifen, G. A. Fleming, F. J. Smith, C. A. Catchpole, F. J. Tillett, G. E. Symonds, E. P. Dufteld. After I# hours' ringing the 6th rope broke.
This attempt was made passible on tha very nice suggestion of Mr. E. H. Lewis, Master of the Ancient Society of Cotlege Youths, conveyed to the ringers by Mr. WT. T. Cockerill, the hon. secretary.

The College Youths aftemptad peal in the same methed on the same day at Bow, Cheapside, and broke down at the same time.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

(Gontinued from page 357.

CO.OPERATION WITH ANTI-NOLSE LEAGUE.
Tlie report of the Towers and Belfries Committee was as follows: Dnring the year the members of the committee have given advice in sonte dozen cases, applying the principles with which the Council are tamiliar. In several of the towers adivice was asked about modification of sound near the churob. Since the last meeting of the Council the Anti-Noise League have printerd a pampliet on this subject, being mainly the reprint of an article which appeared in the 'R.I.B.A. Journal.
Your committee think it desirable to co-operate with the Anti-Noise Leazue as far as possible, and, after reviewing this pamphlet, decided to send copies to all Archdeacons, with the following covering letter:

For some years past the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Oentral Council of Churcl Bell Ringers has been advocating appropriate treatment of church towers in cases where the sound of bells is likely to be a source of annoyance to peoplo living in the neighbourhood of a church.

Recently the Anti-Noise League have had the same suluject under consideration, and have issued a pamphlet of which we enclose a copy for your consideration, in case it has not already been brought to your notice.

The book by Six Arthur Heywood, to which reference is made, was witten while he was president of the Central Conncil of Church Bell Ringers, and with its support, and three of the present members of ge Towers and Belfries Committee contributed clapters to that book.

The commibice is, therefore, whally in agreement with the pamphnow enolosed, and recommend it to yon seribus consideration.
Tho members feel strongly that it is better that, where bells are nduly loud in tie vioinity of a church, action should be taken before complaints are made, rather than as a result of representations from persons who have come to live in the vicinity.

The mombers of the committee are always ready to, give further Information and technical adwice In any particular case."
As an addendum to the report for 1935-36, the committee said: At the Council meeting of 1935 , a request was made that the commithee should inquire about the so-called 'silencers' and make a recommendation as to their use.

The 'Davis silencers ' have now been used over a considerable period in several towers with suncess, and your committee think that they are well worth a trial in towers where it, is desired to reduce the volume of sound during practices nund peals without taking any permanent steps such as blecking up louvres.

The silencers consist of a leather pad resembling a muffle, wilh a thin steel plate attached to the face. The result of their inse is to give alr effect rather like muffler ringing, while retaining a certain amount of metallic tap of the clapper. To get the best effect in each individual case, it is evident that experiments should be made with different thicknesses of leather: For this purpose the committee are ohtaining samples of diferent thicknesses which can be lent to towers for this purpose at no cast other than postage both ways. These for this purpose at no cast other than postage both ways. These silencers are not expeasive and have shown litte wear after twelve months' use.

A REPLY TO CRITICS.

The President, in moving the adoption of the report, said he bad heard, since he came to Canterłury, that there had been some slight criticism of the commitbee that they did not do very much good; that the bellfonnders could get on very well without them and that it would be better to leave these matters to the founders. Fie thought half the cases he had dealt with had been dealt with at the request of bellfounders, who had asked for his help in getting over snags with diocesan bodies on with architects. Ho hoped that answered the criticism.
A few of the jolbs where they had helped were Boston Stump, Croydon, North Weald, Ghiddingfold, Orondall, Shalford and others. In several cases they were of amsistance in getind over the clifficulty of the antiguarian archivect. That brought lim to the question of Thetford, Where a yestoration scheme was beld up by the Chnircellor of the Diocese. If on the Diocesan Committee, Which doalt vith these matters, there had been a representative of the ringing fraternity, this difficulty would probably not have srisen fhe ringing fraternity, this difficulty would probably not have srisen (hear, hear). He proposed to ask the Gouncil later to take steps empowering them to obtain the names of Diocesan Committees where they liad a representative who knew something abont bells and of those who had not, so that the Gonmell could take some sfeps to get a representative of ringers on every Diocesan Advisory Committee.
Recently, said the Presidert, there was a letter in tha Press reforring to Saham Toney. He was colled in with the late Mr. Powys, secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, end lie was entirely in favour of keeping that old bell frame. It was unfit to carry the bells, but was an extraordinarily interesting old reme. They arranged that it should be offered to a museum, but neither South Kensington nor Norwich could take it. If it, was to be hept elsewhere than in the tower it would lave meant that the parish liad to provide some sort of shed to house it, but they laad it lifted hither in tho tower aud those interested could now seo $i t$. The bells han beon reinug in a perfectly good terk frame, lower down in the tower, where they shonli be hung. He thonght they were right in preservingere that old frame (hear, hear).

Mr. A. L. Coleman (late secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Assuciation, said they had tried hard to get a reprosentutive on the Norwich Diocesan Committeo. Tbey land pointed ont that there was nobody on the ccumattee who knew anything about whe techuique of balls and bellhangigg. Tuforbinately, the reply was that they had quito sufficient members on the commitbes atready and did not watt any more, and they ignored the suggestion that they should lave a represeutative of the associntion on the committee. With regard to Thotford, ho thought, if only tiog had hat a repuesentative, the point raised there might have beon pup right. Their president, Areludeacon McDermott, agreed with hin with regard to their representatiou, hat the Bishop thouglit otherwise.

EFFECX OF LOWE2ING BELLS IN PEAL.

Mr. J. A. Trollope remarked that it han been said in several cases that if they had a weak tower and dropped the bells in peal, it was liable to endanger the safety of the structure. He asked the president: the committee could give auy definite information on that point.
The gresidens said that, as memherg probably knew, every lower had a natural period of oscillatiou of its own, which conld not be altered, unless they altered the structure of the tower, or added or subtracted a large weight to some portion of the tower. Normally speaking, each tower had a natural period of oscillation, and it was a curious fact that the natumal period of the forces set up in linging a normal peal of bells nearly coineided with the avemge perrod of oscillation of the average tower: "'lerefore, they wonld find in mearly every case there was one particular speed of ringing which did gef the two sets of oscillations in tune one with blse oblier. He could quote a good example of that. If strangers went to ring the beils at St. Andrews, Hoborn, they nearly always fonnd they hnd got a ban's job, or even more than a man's joh, because they rang the bells at what thay considered the normal speed of bells of that weight. The lncal hand rang the bells without any difficulty whatever, becanse they rang biliem a litite bu quicker. St. Andrew's tower was rather tall for itt widtin; there was a fairly ligg tower arch. One might call it a' whippy " tower and its periad was rather slow; therefore, ff the bells were rung at mormal speal for bells of that weirht, ther got tihe two forces in slep. If they rang a litile quieker all was well and there was no drouble ahout ringing. Fe could quite understand there were certain towers which had a rather quicker period, gither short towors, ol towers which were thick in comparison to their heigbt. Ee conid coneoive that bells wheu part of the way down would get in step with the fower, and if they were to continuc to ring the bolls at flat height it was possible it woutd do some damage to the tower, but bhey would lave to do so for some cousiderable time, unless the tower was so weak that they ought not to ring at all.
M1. Trollape said the bower he had specially in mind was Guildford Gathedral
Mor. F. A. Yong said they were progressing so rapidly thaf the thought had ocenved to him that it mgith the possible in time for experts ta find out the exact speed af, which every individunl peal of bells should be rung so that accentuation of oscillation coukd be prevenfed. One of these times they would, perlaps, have issued by every firm of bellfounders a statement showing in every instance what the speed of ringing should be, whether bells must not be loweren in neal, or, if lowered, not maintained in a certain position. The hnowledge they were gaining emplasiged the great value of tho Towels and Belfries Committee.
Mr. A. TH. Puling said, with rearand to Guildford Cathedra] tower. after ringing on Coronztion Day the bells were lowered in peal, and there was a bigger vibration when the bells were half-way down than he had ever known before. They were always warned nost to lowel them in peal ly the late Mr. John Taylor. After theit experiment the other nifint, he did not think they would try it segnis.

The President said Guildford Cathedral tower was of a distinctig ' whippy' type. Not only was it umbutiressed, but it was built of brick, with many conrses of mortar and linble to more movement than a tewer built of stone with fewer joints. Wlat lapppened at Guildford was, probally, thati when the balls were half-way down they got, not in tune with the tower, hat in tunc will the octave of the tower:

THE BELLS OP ATA HALLOWS', LOMPARD STREFT.
Replying to Mr. ㄹ. G. S. Tumer, who asled if the Council proposed to tako any action with regard to the bells of All सullows' Church Lombard Street, which is to be demolished, the president said two sogieties, the College Youths and the Middlesex Association, had writiten to the Bighop of London requesting that when the belle were taken down they should be removed to some other church as a whole peal and not split up. He thought thase represendations would have some effect, in view of what lappened in tlie case of Sli. Andrew's, Wells Street, but it might be a good thing if the Council also paspot a resoliftion
Mr. S. F. Palmer asked if anytinny further hat been done on heard will reference to Chesterfield.
The President said the noxt move with regary to Chesterfield was with the Vichr. The Conneil could not wery well butt in any more. They did as mucla is they conld the the first instance, and the Fias: promised to write aud report further, lut he had never' done so nuy nufivo interest in it af all. 'They were wainng for the anthorities to move.
Mi'. Palmer said lie was sorry to sap tlie ringens were not taking (Coutinued on next para.)

DIOCESAN ADVISORY COMMITTEES

The President said the committee suggested the Council migint buy a get of Davis Silencers, which could be put on loan to people who wanted to toy them, an payment of postage. The Standing Consmitiee veconmended that such purchase be authorised, and he proposed that the silencers be purchased and be lomed to any responsible person who asked for the loan of them, is order that they might be tried out.
This was agreed to.
With regned to the airculation to Archdencons of the pamplilets irsued by the Anti-Noise League, the Presideat said these pamphlets were given to the Comeil by the League, although they normally made a charge. The Standing Commitee thourht it very desirable khat the Council should keep closely in tonch with the anti-Noise League and to have the Leagug on their side wathar than against them. In order to show their soodwill in a practical form, he proposed that the Council send the League a donation of a guinea, party in gratitnde for the pamphlets they had had and partly in untigipation of favours to counc (harghter).
The proposal was agreed to
The President then moved that the Comen send an appropriato letter to the Church authorities with regard to All Hallows', Lombard Sireet, asking that when tho bells were moved, they be noved as a whole peal and net split up.
The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards: And hung for ringing
The President: Yes, wo will put that in, and add "in a proper tower.'
The notion was carried.
DIOCESAN AUVISORY COMMITTEES.
The President next moved wat the Council take steps through the local secrataries to find out whieh of the Diocesan Advisory Com miltess liad got member who fuew anything about bells and bell hanging, and which of them had not. They might then take steps he said, to bring a little preasure to bear, so that on each Advisory Committeo there was at least one member with a krowledge of bells even if lw were only elected an ad hoc member for cases in which bells were imvolved.
The prosident added that in his own diacese they had not got anyone directly on the commitee, but he mentioned a ase in which he hax been consulted by the Archdeacon of Tonbridge. The Archdeacon wanted tro kinow what be should do about a certain bell that had been wolded three times and had once more eracked. The diocesan sutholilies were inclined to recommend that the bell be welded ispain. He (My. Leqwis) piomised to look into the matter and lie went to set the bell. It was quite true lhat it had been welded three, if not more, times. About a year hefore he had heard a clock strike on it. onnd if it had slruck on two or threa feet of rusty inon girder it would lave been much more musical than the welded bell (laughter). The bell wis quite hopeless, and entirely ievoid of tone. He doubted if it was ever a good bell. He told the Archdeacon it would be foolish to attempt ta retaina the bell. He printed out that at the time of Stalschmidt ${ }^{\dagger}$ s smrvey there were at least 70 other bells by the same fonnder in the coumty, so it was mot a unique example, and the mulhorities ati Rochester lian, fow years before, destroyed at leas ann if not two bells by the same fonnder in their own Crthearal The Arehdencon suw sense in the matter and was williug to lave the bell recast. That showed what could be done if there was someone in tound with the diocesan aulhorities who could adwise them. That was why he wanted to see someone in bvery diocese who could be sent Cor, even if lee was not a member of the $\Lambda d$ visory Commitiee, when questians comerning bells arose the President continued that ho did at one time think that welding might be worth it trial in cases where the Church autlorities were prepared to risk welding, rather than have a bell recast, if il were definitely pointed ouf to them that welding was an experiment and might succeed, and if it did succoed the first time it might cost then legs than yecasting: but that thay always had to face the possibility of several me-wolds, and if it hid to bo done mare than once the result would cost them more than recasting in the first place.

If authoritins were propared to face these risks and the cosb of taking tha bell down and replncing it more than once, the was at one time propared to recommend it, but he was inclined now to say that welding at the sound bow was quite hopeless. The reason was this He lud seen a piece of a bell which was welded and where the weld had hooken the netal had not grippen at, afl, except in odd spota. It was uot a praner weld and he believed that was probably the eage in most weids of old bells. Although they mighe look all right on the surface. Ihe metal had not got a proper grip inside. To unite an alloy of copper amd tin musi; be extruordinarily diflicult, beeause tin rapid! oxidised and burmel out. In welding they had to build un the ineta, afler having first opened the crack. Allowance would be mude for a eprtain amonnt of burning out but it must be very diffalt to lif. off the right amount of tin for the process and fo get the new metal lutult up to resemble the alt in its exact compasition. Fhe had eome to the conchusion, therefore, after laving seen the result of a hroken welding, that only in very exceptional cases should weld ing be tried

KENT'S CENTENARIAN RINGER.

MR. CHARLES SLINGSBY'S ONE EUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY.

The oldest ringer, Mr. Charles Slingsby, of Adington, Kent, celn brated his 100th birthday on May 26th, and on Saturday a meeting in his honour was held by the $A$ sliford District of Keut Gounty Associit tion and the Romney Marsh Guild. There was a recond attendunce of over a bundred members, nnd Mr. Slingsby was the recipient of host of coustratulations. All the village joined in the celebrations.

Despite his years, Mr. Slingesby was able to mix. with the many visitors and thorcughly enjoyed the procedings. Ringers were prescat frour over a wide ares, extending to Tunbridge Wels, Gravesend, Canterbury and Dover, New Romney and Tenterdeu.
Witl the parishioners the church was lilled to its capacity for the short gervice, ceuducted by life Rector, and at which the address was given by the Bishop of Dovel

Tea was served at the Rectory, over 200 being catered for. Mrs Loug, on behale of the parishioners, presented to Mr. Sliugsby in wallet containing Treasury motes, and Mr. Slingsby, in aeknowedging the gift, said how much their kindness was appreciated,

Mr. F. M. Mitchell, genoral eecretary, had with him the Kat County Association peal book, which rovealed that Mr. Slingelby must in the second peal entered in the book, and his sigature is now lonenth the entry written by himself and without the aid of spechacles, as somenne present remarked. All present were grouped on the lhwn for the thsual photographs,

Mr. Slingsby has been a ringer for nearly 90 years, for he started at an very early age and has been connected with the churcil tull his life. On his 90th birtbday he was presented with a small nodra of Aldington treble bell in recognition of his long service to the ehaweh. He has always taken the keenest interest in ringing and was a fommintion member of the Kent Cunnty Ascociation. He was also one of the ringess who formed the Ronney Marsh and District Guild.

At the business meeting of the Guild it was decided to place a fallet in the tower to commemorate the centenarian's birthay.

RINGING FOR THE CORONATION.

PEJFORMANGES AND PERSONALIIDS Abbey Ringars Roceive Coronation Madals.

Amongst those who have received the King's Coronation Medal are momenbers of the Westminster Abbey company of rimeres.
They were received in the Jemsalem Chamber by the Dean, and aich member was presented with the medal and a letter from Buckjnelnum Palace Expressing the King's Command.
The College Fonths brought round two peals of Stedman Eingues in London last Saturday in honour of the Coronation-one at St. Paul's Guthedral and the other at Southwark Cathedral.
i peal of Bob Major attiempted at SL. Michael's, Flacklarn, ou Coronation Dary, urded in 2 zours 55 minutes lwo and a lalf conrses ron home througla a broken rope.
Ringing' gave a send-off' to the official programme of the Coronaion festivities at Boumemonth, ic well-struck quarter-peal of Grandine Iriples starting at 9 a.m.: F. Frankland Rigby 1, R. Dear 2, W. Farrett 3, H. Roberts (first quarter-peal inside 4, C . R. Forfitt 5, P. W. Withann 6, A. V. Davis (conductor) 7, H. Osborme 8.

Mr. C. R. Fopfti, the 74 -year-old veteran of St. Peter's baud, has now rung for he accession of four Kings of England and faree Goronations as well as for Queen's Victorna's Diamund Jubilee.
A Coromation peal was atlempted at Wimborne St. Giles' Church on Wednesday, May 19th. Tinfortunately, the ringing came to srief within four minutes of completion owimg to three successive trips uccurring in the last two courses which ended in the treble hosing itsolf. The excelleuce of the striking of Grandsire Triples, the method selected, probably contributed to the failure, the errors coming about when success seemed assured.

OORONATION DAY IN VANCOUVER

In Vancouver, Britisl Columbia, there was a gathering of ringers who celebrated the Coronation by ringing the bells of the Cathedral of the Holy Tosary in short touches for nearly three hours. Many of them come from a considerable ristanice.
Among the tonches were 336 Grandsire Thiples: $A$. B. Lomas 1, A. C. Limpus 2, R. Pitman 3, F. M. Bressey 4, G. W. Foster 5, Frank Dunaway 6, W. Sampson 7, $R$. ## CRFN COLD'S PERFEC1" HERTORMANCE IN ANAUAL

 COMPETITION.Ilse anmal competition was laeld this yenr at St. Elli's Church, dumely, Breconshre, on May 2ud. Owing to the Coronation and Whitsur halidays, many riugers found it impossible to lose another clay, with the result that only four teams entered via., Talgarth, Cefn Coed, St. Kary's Brecon, and Llanely, [3reconslire. Tho comfetutars completed their basks during the atternoon and then sat clown to : 12 excellent tea, kindly provided by the Rev. Perry Jones (Viche of Lenely) and a band of his parishtoners, after tea the Yicar called upan Mr. W. TH. Hesedl, slough, for his adjudication. Mr. Fussell said his task had been a simple one, due to the fact that the entries were small. Cein Coed were outstanding; in fact, he roald not panaliso them at alt, his onlf criticism being that their ring$11 \mathrm{~F}^{2}$ Was on the slow side.
I[rs. Palry Jones presented the shield to $\mathbf{M r}$. Bert 耳unt (captain) alm also harided a silvor mednal to each member of the winning team. T'ulyarth, the runners-up, with 12 failits, weceivod a certificate. Brecon, 32 faults, and the home team were thims and fourth respectively.
Mr. S. 'L'. Racham (Master of the Gmild) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Fussell, and the Rer, Gurnos Davies, in seconding, anationat blat it was the 13ila occasion upon which Mr. Fussell had ubliged tive Guild. THe vote was cartied manaimously with three hearty cheers.
Mr. Fussell, vesponcing, said it was a real pleasure for him to come (n) Wales to judge the Guild's competition, as it gave him au opportumity of meeting ofd friends as well as making new ones. He deplared the fact that we were passing through a period when Sunday suort and amusement seemed to have more adherents than the services of the Churel. He made a strong appat to the ringers to play their part in clurch life lyy leeping the bellg going and by each ringer bringing alane one new member to the tower
The proceedings elosed with at vote of thanks to the Rey. Parry Innes, Mrs. Parry Joncs and her lady lelpers for the excellent meal which hat been provided.

3 Fr . A. Whiker saitl that white the welling of jron or steel was a success, he agreed with the president that it must be very diffent to re-weld old bells, cousidering the constitution of the melal and the different fising points. He agread it should not be enconraged

Mr. 13. A. Foung asked the president if his remarks referred only welding in the sound bow sund not necessarily in the orown of a betl= The President said he did not know of any case where a bell welded In the sound bow had been finally successfin without cracking again. Ho knew some bells had apparently been welded in the crowa, and as fic as onf coudd say up to date had been more of less snceesefin, but in. still rather mistrusted it. If it were not for the expense he would like to see a bell carefully broken up to see what ackally had happened.

ADVISORY COMMITTEES.

The absence of any member on many Diocesan Advisory Committees capable of giving practical advice on questions relating to bells and bell hanging from the bellringers' angle has long been a sore point, and the Central Council has once more determined to investigate the question. Some years ago the natter was discussed and an effort made through the various affiliated societies, to remedy what is felt to be an omission in the constitution of Diocesan Comrmittees. No substantial progress was, however, made on that occasion, partly, we think, because the Bishops concerned failed to realise the importance of the subject from the ringers' standpoint, and partly because of indifference, and, perhaps, obstinacy. Let it be at once admitted that bells and bell restoration schemes form only a small part of the cases that come before the committee, but that, in our opinion, is no reason for the exclusion of the advice which a competent person could offer in these matters. Other members of the committee hold their position because of their special knowledge of particular subjects-artistic, antiguarian, ecclesiastical among them. In those cases where Diocesan Committees include a member with sound knowledge of bells and the requirements of ringing, the advice at their disposal has been of really great value, and equally useful results would follow similar appointments to other committees.

What ringing associations feel is that where the practical ringer's views are not available, either through a member of the committee or a consultant, to whom bell cases are submitted as a matter of routine, the dice are loaded in favour of the antiquarians, whose opinions are accepted without question. The prejudices of some ecclesiastical architects also weights the scales against common sense restoration in frequent instances, and one of the things which seems to us most important is that Advisory Committees should be 'educated' in regard to bell matters. They are amply circularised and 'spoon fed ' on the antiquarian diet and, never hearing' the other side of the case, naturally conclude that there is only one view worth consideration. At the moment all the Central Council proposes to do is to collect information as 10 the position in each diocese, and it will be at least another year before any further step can be taken. In the meantime, however, we suggest that the Towers and Belfries Committee should prepare a propaganda programme on the practical side of bell restoration, so that, when the information as to the constitution of Advisory Committees is available, a further year will not elapse berore anything can be done. We think, too, that they should give serious consideration to the suggestion of approaching the Central Council for the Care of Churches．All the Advisory Committees are represented on this body，and their views have，naturally，great in－ thuence in the dioceses．We fear that the stumbling block at present is that Advisory Committees，or，per－ haps，the Bishops who have the appointment of them， think of ringers as of fittle importance in matters of this kind，and think of them，also，as having＇an axe to grimd．＂＂Hhis is an entirely mistaken view．Even where there are no principles to be argued，the advice of a practical ringer could often avert mistakes or omissions， whicti，though small，may prove a constant source of irritation and annoyance to those who are responsible for ringing the bells and who have to use the tower week by week．

Speaking on the report of the Towers and Belfrics Committee with regard to Diocesan Advisory Committees, Mr. George Pulinger said that about soven or eight yesrs ago the Winchester Diocesan Guild approached the Bishop in an irdirect way-if approach were made in a direct way they often got refused-through a member of the committee. The result was that in matiers relating to bella Mi. Wilfred Audrews or Mr. George Willizms was askea to give advice.

Walter Ayre said in Hertfordshire they had great dificulty in getting any voice in bell mafters when they came before the Adwisory Committee. Ho approached the chairman, who told him they had onough to do witli the bellfouuders. Thes had an axe to grind and did not seem to know anything about the other part of the job at all. Later in regard to another matter two representatives of the Bedfordshire Association and Hertfordshire Association, which made $1 p$ the diocese of St. Albans, mot the Bishop, and he seemed greatly in favour of laving someone who knew about bells and belluanging an the committee, So they lived in lopes.
Mr. J. Huat pninfed out that Advisory Committees met on church matfers a dozen times a year, but might only liave to deal with a question relating to bells once in a year. It was unnecessary to have ta attend a committee twelve times to discuss bell matters only once. Miv. C. F. Johuston said Thetford had been referred to. Unfortmately, he knew a little about Thetford. If anybody could be found who could get the Advisory Committee to give imstructions how to chang the bells on the old headstocks, four of which are entirely derelict, the belifounders would be very grateful.
The Rev. H. Drake said there were two difficulties about having a representative on the Diocesan Committee. Ons had been referred to. If they had a member of an association on the Diocesan Committee, he had got a great deal of work to do that had nothing to do with bells. Bells did not come up very ofton, perhaps only two or most of them had. They had approached the committee and had had a nice answer, but nothins seemed to have been done. What they really wanted was not to liave a member on the Advisory Committee as a ringer, but someone who should be elected ad hoc, or as an assessor for bells, and that the Advisory Committee should not pass any work on bells until the assessor had been consulted and probably called to advise the committee at a particular mecting. The other lificully was one of their own. All associations were not coterminous with dioceses. Those which were diocesan associations could readily "et into touch with the Diocesan Advisory Committee or the diocesan arthorities, but all associntions could not do that, because sone were connty associations and in some cases two associations covered one liocese, or two dioceses were covered by ono association. Could they not do something througl the Central Council for the Care of Churches nstead of through the separate Diocesan Committees? If they could get the Central Council for the Care of Churches to agree that every Diocesan Committee should have an assessor to deal with questions relating to bells, he thought it would be better step than each assofiation approaching its own Diocesan Committee. If neeessary he ronld meve a resolution to that effect.
The President said the resolution before the Conncil was that in the first place they should get information as to what was happening in The dioceses. Aftor that they could take further action Thes carried.

INSURANCE AGAINST ACCIDENTS
The Rev. H. Drake reforved to a recent letter in 'The Ringing World ' and asked tho committee to consider the question of the legal liability of charch authorities in the case of acodent to a menetier of the public after a tower had been declaved to be meafe for inging. He thonght when a tower had been declared unsafe, authorilies 'rape themselves away' if an accident happaned or a nulingered pretender to have sustained some injury from the tower. He thought the Towers and Relfries Committee should consider, as soon as they cond, the guestion of insurancu in such circumstances, and, if pessible, get semetting printed about it which could be published in the 'Law of Church Bells.' It was inportant it should be done, beanse even where church autionities had insured their church generally alout rridents of this kind, it was quite certain if they were to forbis inging beanse of the condition of the tower and were not to inform their insurance company, the company would refuse to pay. It was most important that church anthoribies shonld know that, and that, if they were going to forbid ringing, it might juvolve them in the cuent of an mecident.
Tho Fon. Secretrry said the proofs of the revised bookfet on "Lavs " was in hif hands and would shortly be printed. There was a paragraph with regarid to the insurance of yingers. The view whs expressed that there was no obligation to insure voluntery ringers or ather volinntary churchworkers gatinet accident. The Ecelesiastical Thsitrance Company, lowever, had e specinl scheme of insurance based upon a premium of Is. per ringer, with a minimum premium of 10s. That provided, he thought, for e 250 in the event of a fatal necdent, 5125 for partinl disability or disablement and 30 s . a weels during temporaty diealility for any ringer injured in any tower where he had gone for practiee, or while travelling to or from lis own or

The Rev. II. Drake said that did not cover his point. Supmose a nember of the mublic was going past a tower where change ringiug had been forbidden and pretended that lo ladi been injured by some thing fallity from the tower, the church authorities would luve considerable diftheulty in proving they were not liable
Mr. L. J. Willianas suid that was a matter for tho charch authorities and not for the Council.
The Presidert said Mr. Drake had raised the question of a tower said to be unsafe for ringiug. He had never yet found a lo because of ringing; it might be unsafe for other reasons.
Mer. J. W. Jones said his Yicar had told him that since the case in which damages were awarded for an injury in chureh, through n defect in hell fitings, he had paid for insurance of the bellringers, the ohoir and even the congreration against auy nocident happenag in church.
Mr. F. W'. Rogers asked what the Cauncil recognised as the dufinition of a paid ringer and a voluntary ringer. This was rather important when they talked about insurance claims, becanse in some churches, althougl they might not pay thein ringers, they made there a gratuity which was shown in the church accounts as paynemt to ringers.' Were the riagers bound to sigu some form to say bluy were paid ringers?
The How. Secretary said it had never been decided what was a 'paid' ringer, and the Insurauce Company would not decide it. Their scheme was devised to get over the difliculty, so that in the event of a claim arising, which might be a Workmen's Coupensatiun Ant claim, no question would arise.
Mr: Trollope said be thought the company took the position that they insured the ringers and did not bother whether they were paid
The President said the only condition was that the church authorities paid ten slillings a year to insure them.

NOISY TOWERS

The Rev. H. Drake said with regard to the question of noise ouside a tower, he lad advised several towers to have their wiadows hricked ap. Now it had come to a question of his own tower, what he had had done had not been successinl. He would like to ask tho connmittee to go further into the question of lessenilig the sonnd outside lowers.
The Presicient said if Mr. Drake would send him the particuln's of the tower, with full dimensions and details of what he had done anti what substance he lad used, he would go into the maltel
The committee's report was adopted

HE PRESS AND BELLS

Tho Literature, Press and Broadeasting Committee presented the fllowing report:
Numerous references to bells and ringing in the Landon and provincial Press have manifosted a sympadiefic and friendly atibude, with increasing appreciation of change winging as a national art anc of the part played by bells in our mational life. The tercentenary of the Collero Fouths Ias attracted attention. In the Midinuls the bells of Birmingham Cathedmal have been very much in evidence. Several articles oft tine subject, with pictorial illustrations, luwe been published in the local Press, white Sir Charles Hyde, owner of the Birmingham Daily Post,' himself guaranteed the cost of the wew peal. Thn record set ap in Dorset by the band of ringers at Marnhull in completiay 40 years of continuous sarvice figured prominently the 'Daily Express.' The 'Moming Post phalighed an article In Praise of Campanology' over the signature santmel, Which eliciach "It is a happy thonght," lie wrote, 'that bell ausic is the only medium of expression that has never come to base ages. . . The organ is too often degrindee

The pianoforte has lost its character. But the bells are still left to send out their uplifting message free from jazz.' (This last sentence suggests an apt moral; never to let change ringing 'lose its character' by the admission' of any jazz rhythml) Agents of the distriot Press were diligent in their abtention to the party of clerical yingerg recently witing Hvosham, and Press photogrophers assaited them at Stratford-on-Avon
The official organ of Imperial Steel Works, Ltd., would secrn one of the most unlikely of publications to invite vile attention of its readers to the bistory and traditions of clurch bells. That jourmal, however, which has for its titie 'The Expar Allen News,' published of few years ago, "in fear" and trepidation, ${ }^{\prime}$ as the editors tell us, an article oul bells. 'The tesult was surprising. From all quarters of the world letters and comments came in, showing how greatiy the subjecti of bells interested readers.' Further articles on bells have accordingly appanced from time to time, and last Tane three pages wero devotot to a review of Mr. J. Morzis' recentily published work, 'Legends the Bells, ${ }^{\text {' }}$ reproducing a number of the illustrations and recommenaling 'all inter'ested in bells to make a point of buying

The 'Church Assembly News' in two successive numbers contaned admirabls articles, with good illustrations, on 'Bells, their' eat'e and their use, by a ringer. An article on the Guild of Ringers appenrea in the current issue of the "Salisbury Diocesan Gazette.' The 'Radio Times of last December contained an intorestiog paragrapli on bells, with reference to a talk on that subject arranged in the Northern Tretand programme. 'The Bells of England,' by Hugh M. Blendel, appearing in 'Tho Sign' for March, was written in the right spirit and well itlustrated, but contained not a few inaccuracies. One sentence, whicli follows up a reference to bells installed in celehration of (Contisued on next page.)

BELLS 'ON THE AIR.'

(Contipued from previous page.)

Qneen Victoria's Jubileb with the strange statement that ' the decline wif the ant will find few such idditions to mark ifte Coronation this Year,' is conspienously wide of the matr in riew of the fact the the bell foundries have all been working at high pressure and that just Iately of whole columa in 'The Ringitg World' was taker up wilh motices of opening of bells.
The conimitiee are glad to lue able to issue an exceptionally gatisfactory report on broadcasting. Mury of the services tiansmitted havo been introduced by the churely bells, and, with one or two unfollumate exceptions, the ringing has been worthy of its purpose, while the vaice of the ganomincer no longer intarupts for ala undue length of time. Well-struck touches of Caters on the fine peal of bells lately, installed at Croydon have been a great feature of the Sunday morning programmes. Amongst the evening broadcasts the bells of St. Mary's, Notingham, and thosa of Stephoy have been heard with especially berutiful effect.

On New Year's Eve rud in ofher Christmas programmes the bells of Sth. Mary's, Reddife, and of village churelies were a deliohtinl ferture. On one notable oceasion especially the English arb of ringing came into its own. New Year's greetings were broadeast from the parions countries of burope, with musio or song in the chazaoteristic idiom of each nation. The contribution of England took the form of records of tho bells of Westminster Abbey and of a country cburch. The series 'Charches and Ghimes' was well conceived, but the time allotted the bells in each case was disproportionately short. Thalks on clack climses have been interestifne, and handbells have been introduced with grod effect. Our ancient art was put to its most modern use on Christmas Day, when Four' College Youths feafured with handbells in a teltwision programme at the Alexandra Palace, and proved one of the most successful 'tums.

Wilh the greatesf satisfaction of all we record the fact that the parody of bell intisic prodined by the chiming apparatas, which for the list ten years las been employed as a prelude to the montaly service broadcast frool St, Martin's-in-tho-Tields, has given way to gemume riuping on this well-known peal of bells, well and worthily enrried ont by the Roynl Cumberland Youths.
On May lst the B.B.C. devotied a quarter of an bour of their Saturday evening programme on the Midand Regional to the new bells of Birmingharn Cathedral. Tlie bells hat been dedioated at a service ahout an hour before, and they were 'on the ain' in somo excellemily rung Stedman Caters. Counoillor A. Paddon Smith, a member of this committee, broadcast a description of the jejuvenated peal nnd something of their mistory. It was a very successful and interesting brondcast and another evidence of the increasing publicity which is heing given to bells.
Ith moving tha adontion of the report, the Rov. F. IA. Edwards apologised for one umission. There should the been included, he saikl, in lation of an interesting work recently published by Canon Perkins an the bells of Westminster Abbey. In the report was a refemmed to a tean of rimgers at Marnlanli, Dorset, who had completed 40 years' sorvice together as ringers. Since that appeared, the ress lad referred to some oblior old ringers in Wiltshire who had uny topethel for 48 yeas.
Tlie report was seconded

In moving the adoplion of the report, Mr. Hollier called attention to the committee's wisli for iustructions as to obtaining fuptley details of the records, where the usmes of the ringers had nat been supplied. There were many cases in which they could not obtain the names of the conductors as they were not recorled on the boards. M). Hollier specially directed abteution to the peal at Wath-on-Deame referred to in the report as ane of special interest. This recond was as follows: All Saints' Church, Wath-ou-Dearne. On Slirove Tuesday, February 27th, 1816, the following 21 methods were rung, lyeing 720 ench of Evaning Delight, Cambridge, Morning Exercise, Primrose, Callege Pleasure, Saint Amme's Delight, Duke of York, Evening Star, Symphony, Monning Star. Tulip, Laedon Scholars', Nevigation Bob, City Delight, Cheapside, Bob Royal, Moming Pleasnme, College Treble, Oxford Treble, Violef, Rodney's Victory, making 15,120 changes, which were brought round in a grand and masterly style in eight hours and liwenty-seven minutes withont a man guithing his rope, while the whole was performed by the following persons: Treble, Christopher Taylor' second, Joseph Blackbustr; third, Joseph Myers: fonrth, Edward Myers; ifth, Mathew Blackburn; sixth, Wilinm Blackburn. The whole was conducted by William Blackbum
Mr. Hollior said they hat ouly received two records of peals of Minor rung up to the year 1826. The committee thought thore nust have been more rumg than that, and he appealed to members to assist the committee in tracing the records.
Mr. W. Ayre seconded the adoption of the report, which was agreed to.
Mr. A. D. Barker moved that the committee be insirueted to gret as ranay dotails as possible from the old records.-Mr. R. Richardson seconded.
Mr. P. J. Jolmson said on some of the old peal boavds the calling of the peal was given. Such an instance was at Wakefield, where there was the record of a peal of Gambridre Royal rung nearly a hundren years before the one at Chettenliam.
The President said all possible details ongitt to be rocorded.- the motion was adopted, ankl Mic. Wilfred Wilson's name was added to the committee, the President remarking that he would be of great assistamce in preparing the records in a suitable form for retention in a book.

BIOGRAPHIES OTT PAST MEMBERS

The Biographies Committee summilted the following report: Since tho last report of the committee, 54 further forms, giving biograplical details of past members of the Couneil, have been received, bringing the total up to 168 . This, huwever, is only slighty over half the number of forms sent ont, and the committee hope that the remainder may be received at an early date from the secretaries of associations or ollhers in whose hands the forms now are.
It is proposed to collate the biographies in a loose-leaf book. 50 that it may be conveniently ndidod to from time to time, but owing to the great wariety in the style and size of such photographs as have Heen received, the coumittee consider it will be necessary to hare a separafe photographic albure, with cross-references to the subjects in the biographical volume. The committee ask the permission of the Council to incur an initial experse, up to three guineas, for the purchase of these books.
In a few cases the photographs which have been sent in are ouly on loan. The commiltee recommend that the Council should give them permission to lavo these pictures sulitably copied, at a cost not ex ceeding is Ed. each.
In view of the diffentity that has been experienced in obtaining details of many past mernhers, with whom contact has been lost or who are largely unknown to the present generation, the commidice think it would be a good plan if, during the coming year, they ate allowerl to collect hiographical details of the members of the present Council. Particulars of futare members dan be obtained as they come to the Council. These details could loe kept for future reference and added to the albums when the suhjects cease to be members of the Council. This plan, the committee feel, would have the advanlage of securing the necessary information from the members themselver, which afterwards need only be brought up to date, and would also enahle photographs to be ohtained of the members during their term of office.

The adoption of the report having been formally moved by Mr. 7. S. Goldsmith aud seconded by Mrs. Flotelier, the hon, secretary said the Standing Committee had considered the recommendations conbained in the report and wanted to nmend them. They thought it would ba best if the photographs conld he kept wjth tho biographes, and in order that a satisfactory job might be made of it the Standing Committee recommended that all tho photographs should he reproduced in one uniform size. The committee fad suggested that biograplical details of present memhers should be collected, and the Standing Committee recommended this should be done.
Mr. Goldsmitl said the Biographies Committee were fad to accept the recommendations of the Standing Committee, Their original recommendation was made as heing the cheaper metlod. He appeated to those who had in hand forms which had already been sent out to return them as soon as possible to facilitate the commitice's work. The committee's object in suggesting the collecting of hiographies of present members was to make it easier to colleet the information. Particulars of some past members were unknown to (Continued on next page.)

CORONATION BELLS.

HIS MAJESTY'S INTEREST IN MASONS' PEAL

Oldest and Xoungest Coronation Peal Ringers.

A report of the Masonic peal of Bob Maximus, rung at Shorediteh, was sert with expressions of loyalty to their Majesties and graciously acknowledged by them in the following letter from Buckinglan Palace, dated May $25 t h:$ 'Sir,-I have laid before the King and the Queen your letter of Mry 24th. Their Majesties were much interested to hone of the fine performance given by the welve Master Masons at the Church of St. Leonard, Shorediteh, and greatly appreciated the loyal assurances contained in your letter.- Yours truly, (Signed) A. Lascelles.

The reports of peals whig on Coronation Day reveal that the oldest ringer was Mr. James George, who rang the 7th at Thurcastan, Leicestershire, to a peal of Siedman Triples at the age of 83 years, and the youngest Peggy Marsh, who, only elewen years of age, war ibe treble to a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Lytchett Matravers, Dor'set.

PEGGY MARSH,

oungest Corouation Peal Ringer.

If is interesting to recall that Mr. Gearge lung in a penl of Stedman Cinc̨ues at Birmingham for the deati of Queen Vietaria in February, 1901. He also took part in peals at Cipplegate (Stedman Cinques) and Ashton-under-Tjne (Kent Trelale Bob Maximas) for the deatly of King Edward VII. in May, 1910.
Jin Junce, 1911, he finished a peal of Stedman Triples at North Stomelam, Hants, ait balf-past seven in the morning for the Colonation of King George V. and Queen Mary and later in the day scorod a peal of Stelman Caters at. Wimborne Minster.
At the age of 72 he ralle the 53 cwh, tenor at Bow, Cheapside, to a lalf-muffed peal of Treble Twelve for the inde Queen Alexandra, and since then he has liaken part in peals for the Silves Tubilec, in May, 1935, and for the death of King George $\mathrm{V}_{\mathrm{o}}$ in February, 1936. Fe was the oldest person to lisg r peal for the silver Jubilee as well as for the Coronation.

Of all the young ringers who will have reason to renember the Coronation of King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth, by the part they took in ringing for this auspicious event, none is likely to have a happiel recollection of it than Fegey Marslz, of Lytchett Matravers, Dorset.

She rang her first peal on Coromation Day, baving rung her first quarfor-peu! two days earlier. We are told she reng the treble adminably for one of her years. We hope she will live long to ring peals on many future royal occasions. She has been ringing for just over a year and iulso eings bin the choir.

Tho lirst peal of Major on the redast bells of Lade Parish Chureh was fung in celebration of the Coronntion on Hay 2and. It was rung on the liglty eight. It is approximately 40 years since a peat of Major was rung at this church, which, as is well known, possesses a ring of twelve. This early peal of Major was the first rung in the city of Leeds.

Tho Corenation peal at Queenborough, Isle of Slreppey, rung on Satneday, May 29th, was also a birthbay complimoni to Miss ]. Naplor, Mr. W. J. Wuod and Kent's centevarian, Mr. G. slimgiby. At Frant, Sussex, the Coronation penl was also a birtladiny compliment, to Mrs. L. W. Jarris, wife of the ringer of the treble.
Kenneth Sholley, of Draycott, stiffs, has to be added to the young folk who have scored their lirst peal iu celebration of the Goronation. He is only 13 yoars of age, and on May 27 th rang the treble ath his homo bower to a peal of Grandsire Donbles. I'wo other Draycoti ringers sook part, and it was the lirst perl in which inuea members of this tower have rung together.
Mombers of the local company at Thornford, Dorset, took part for the first time in a peal on the bells on May 2and. One rang the treble and the other the temor to 5,040 of Doubles in three melnods. atter the peal the band were hospitably entertained at Bembury House by Nrs. and Miss Davidson.
Coronation and Empire Dny were jointly celebrated by the peals rung at St. Betolph's, Bislopsgate, Jondon; Twerton-on-Avon, Bath; and Ioly Trinity Bolton.
After losing their peal in Coronation week, through the treble rope slipping wheel, after clever six-scores had been rumg, is hand at Publow, Somer'set, were successful on May $23 r d$.

MANCHESTER CATHEDRAL RINGERS' CELEBRATION.

LEADEJRSHIP AND LOYALTY

Meetiag at 10 a.m. on Coronation Day, the Cathedral xingers at Manchester wera unable to commence ringing before 1 p.m., owing To the relay of the Abbey service. This gave the ringers an opporLisnity to listen to the proceedings until 12 noon. At the invitation of their leader, Mr, W. C. Bridpeford, they then celebrated the accasion with a luncheon at the Victoria Hotel, Manchester, at which pust and present mombers of the band were present.
fameheon over, Mr. R, Longden proposed a vote of thanks to the host and spoke of the lons bervice Mr. Bridgeford, Mr, Morris and Nr. Fairley, who had rung the Gathedral bells on royal occasions for the past 50 years, and of other members who could show a good record, especially in their aftendance for service zinging. He hoped they would be spared to receive the reward of their labours for mang yearg to come.
Mr. Bridgeford, replying. spoke of leadership and loyalty. It was cesential in all enmpanies that hoped for progress and fame to have a leader with tact and personality to make the team work of enthusiasm and sitccess. It was not necessary that the leader be an expert, but I he greater the knowledge the easier the ideal, The leader's views, which he used for the general berefit, nust be consistently followed. As soon as conficting arguments or undercurrents were introduced, it meant disaster. Much had been written of how to form a company, burt very litile of how to keep one torether. Tlle gathering, he added, gave him the greatest pleasure, and be felt rewarded for any effort hic had made to creato fellowship and goodwill.
Mr. Charles MoLauchlin then proposed the toast to the King, who hat just been crowned. The ceremony had been heard orer the wireless in the adjoining roon, the whole company rising for the occasion.
Reluraing to the tower, a geveral "salute" was accorded to the newly-crowned King ana Queen. After eveusong the band attempted a quarter-peal of Grandsire Cabers, but, unfortunately, with only two leads to go the rope of the second bell broke, robbing the band of what they would lape been proud to record, an excellent quarter-peal, well struck, with a right royal spirit.

Among the disappointments on Coronation Day was a lost peal of Oxi'ord Beb Triples at Margate. After nearly three hours' ringing, -Stand was called ouring iu a shift course. If successful it would have been the first pral in the method for seven out of the eipht ringels, who were: R. Dadds 1, F. Gadsden (conductor) 2, J. Waghorn 3, A. Dadds 4, E. Speckett 5, J. ## KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

DISTRICT MEETING AT QUEENBOROUGF.
On Saturday, May 1sti, in sjite of the aitractions of a broadeast the cup final, in addition to the diffenlties of local trevel now vailing through the busmen's strike in Kent, a good meeling of Rochester Districh of the Kent Association was hed at Queen borongl: This was probably due largely to very happy memories of at forme meeting held thure five years previously Touches in Doubles and Minor were arranged to suit the tastes and capailities of mombers, and the association's form of service was can attended fo lead the singing, and a collection, in ad of the Benevolent Fund of tho association, was taken during the closins hymm.
After the service the ringers with their wives and friends, गumber ing abouv fifty, were very generonsly ontertained to tea by tile loca ringers and frinnds, and, in addition to the Vicar, the district officers Fere supported by Mr. Weekes, an honorary member of the association, and also Mr. Mason. A very yallant attempt was made to clear the tables. but the Queenborough folk had evidently been determined that robody should leave feeling 'just comfortalile.' A course of Grandsire Caters on the haudbells was rung after tea.
The business ruceting was conducted under the able chainmanship of Mr. Mason, and it was unanimously decided to hold the mext meeting at Tunstall, about mid-July
The dishict secretary pointed out that the next issue of the repost would contain tho mew rules of the association, and asked that every member should make himself acequainted with them.
Very hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for permiesion to hold the mecting, to the organist for his practical help, and also to all who had been associated with providing such a sumptuous meal, not forgetting tho ladies who waited upon the party with such grace. -Mr. W. J. Wood replied on behalf of the local ringers and sajd his ouly regret was that the company was nat much larger.
The districd secretary would like to take this opportunity of sunlogiging to the Exercise for the rmission of not conpleting the notice of meeting in "The Ringing World.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

Divisional Committees to be Reduced in Size

Favoured with one of the most brilliant days of the year, the aunual general meeting of the Sussex County Association took place at Chichester on Saturday, May $29 t h$.
Although the numbers were not up to the nsual staudard, as Ghichester is situated at the very end of the connty, the encouraging number of 55 members and visitors were present. The eiglt bells of the Cabledral, hutg in a campavile separate from the main buibdiog, were kept going from 3 p.m. in methods wanging from Grandsire to Splived Surprise, with rounds for those not so far adranced. Although some found that the size of the tower and the long draught proved somewhat of a handicap, a fuir amount of good ringing was beard. The service took place in the sub-deanery church, adjoining the Cathedral, and the new form of association service was tried out in its final form for the first time. Cunon Mortlow, Precentor of Chichester, preached from the text, "Their voice is gone out to all people, drawing a simile between the voices of the bells in spreading the Gospel and those of the missioners in distant lands. A particularly interesting association was called up by the preacher when speaking of the voices of the bells and their tuning, when loe recalled his friendship with the late Canon Simpson during the time the latter was experimenting with his new system of tumng, which has so exercised the minds of vingers since that time. After speaking of the cised the minds of yingers since that time. Atter speaking of the beauty of sound produced by bells, the preacher referved in an andible aside to the one which was even then calling hin to his next duties in the Gathedral as that wretched bell'!
At the busimess meeting Hit Master, Mr. H. R. Butcher, took the Arair, supported by Mr. F. B. Tompkins (some time secretary of the ssociation), Nr. S. E. Anmstrong (hon. general gecretary) and the divional secretaries. Three дew members were elected, Messrs, $F$. Otaway, J. Butcher and S. Russell.

STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION

The balance sheet was accepted, as was the report of the Master and hon, secretary and peal secretary's reporto.
The general nccount showed receipts of $£ 65 \mathrm{Js}_{\mathrm{s}}$. from affilited towers, E1 5s. from non-resident members, 22 10s. from hon. members, 21 12 unafiliated members, 6 s . 3 d . from sale of reports, AI 15 s . from Iivisional expenses had been $2276 \mathrm{~s}_{\mathrm{s}}$, E 1 l 0 s . lad been spent on intruction, 53 on a presentation to Mr. A. W. Groves, £9 18s. 3d, on ail fures and part cost of teas, and f36 6 s .1 d . on pinnting aud other expensbs. The balance, which staod at s133 165 . 9d. at the beginning of the year, was 8129 12s. Bd. at the conch. The reserve fund stands at 550 , the Benevolent Fund at 077 19s., and the Gertificate Fund it $£ 313$. 9 d . The total balances amount to $5261.55 .3 d$.
The Benevolent Fund received $£ 116 \mathrm{~s}$, 10d. from interest and $£ 3 \mathrm{I} 7 \mathrm{~s}$. d. from collections. The grants totalled 88 os.

The report presented by the Master and how, secretary said the past year might well be considered as the first of a Jlew period in the iistory of the association, which celebrated its jubilee in 1935.

Athough no cutstanding feature has marked the year in our own rgauisation, wo are sure that all members will have watched with yupathy the great national events which have made 1936 notable. Tho death of His Majesty King George $V$., following so soon after iir Jubilee, cast a shadow over the whole nation, and the bells of the Sussex churches played their part in the conntry's mourning- The accessian of King Edward VIII, his abdication and the accession of King George VI. are eveuts which will male tho year long rememed in history. God save the King?
We arz giad to report ateady progress in the attendance at mectings, and that the affliated towers have continued their valued support and encourggement. To those towerg, and to the honorary nemberg, we shonld like to crpress our thanks, as also to the clergy, whom we are indebted for the use of the bells and their work at meetings. Yet we must remind ringers that if the benefits given members at the meetings are to be continued, a prompt payment of the affiliation fees is an essential, for it is from them that pracically the whole of onr income is derived.

Grants from tha Benevolent Fund have this year exceeded the ncome, and, although this is a good indication of the usefulness of the fund. a falling balance in any brancis is to be deplored, and wo sppeal to the members to give generously to the benevolent collections. 'As the years pass, death takes its toll of our companions, and we ould like to mention in partieular six members who lave rendered shonld like to mention in particular six members wha have rendered aplendid service for many years: Mr. F. Arthur, of Chichester: Mr. R. J. Dawe, of Lewes; Mr. H. Rann, St. Nicholas', Brirghton; Mr. L. Payrie and MIr. J. Welch, of Henfield, and Mr. G. W. Stokes, who passed away while holding the office of hon. treasurer and trustee. Their deaths will leave gaps which it will be diffeult, to fill, and we enrnestly appeal to those remaining to give every assistance to those younger" ringers who, in the future, will have to step into the positions of tower leaders and association officers. It should be remembered that the divisional meetings are the training grounds for the inexpert, and we wish to see more becoming regular attenders.

In conclusion, we must record our expression of thanks to Mr. A. D. Stone, for many yenrs secretary of the Central Division, who retired from the general secretaryship at the snnual meefing in 1936.
The Master, as delegate to the Central Council, gave a brief sum. mary of the business that was transacted at Ganterbury.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCYATION

PLEASANT JVFIING AT HARROW WEAED.
The meeting of the North and Fast Distrjet, held at Harrow Weald on May $29 t h$, was hot too well athetdex, but was muelt ebjoyed by the 30 or so members whe paid a visil to that delightitul spot. As usual, the beanifin garden of Mr. Fint, father of one of the ringers, was open for the use of members, who were able to resh between ticit ringing exertions, or display their prowess (?) on the lowling grener. To say the least oif this natier, there weyo no ringers present maneri after Fraucis Druke!
The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. S, Durlam), who gave an address on the reasons for, and lessons of, the Coronation ceremony.
An excellent tea was followed by the business meeting. The Viear had to leave early, so Mr. G. W. Fleteher (vice-president) asked him to accept the simecte thank of the mewbers for a pleasant afternoon's ringing-This was duly acknowledged.
The death of Mr. F. Edwards, of Bushey, who died on Miy llib, was referred to. He had been a member of the association from 1897 to 1912 , and from 1918 onwards, und had been of great assistance to the Stammore ringers. As a mark of respect, all present stood in silence for a lew moments.
The hon secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) roported on Coronation ringivy which had been quite satisfactory. Most of their bells had been lung at some time or other on the great day, and during the days following some seven peals were rung.
A brief account of the proceedings at the Contrinl Council weoting was also given by the secretary, and Mr. Fleteher followed this nip by congratulating Mr. W. G. Wison on the succers of his maiden ctrort at i Council meeting Arising out of the report, it was decided to ask for a supply of Council publications, an sale or return.
Kendon was chosen far the next meeting on July 10th, with Double Stedman Slow Gourse as the special method.
The recipients of votes of chanks included Miss Fleteher, Mr. Holnes and friecds, for tea, flowers, etc., and Mr. Goodship atud the local ringers fow a cordial welcome, not forgetting Mr. and Mrs. Hart for the use of thefr garden and for jefrestimentis.
The District Master, Mr. T. J. Lock, looked after 1he titging, and it was noticed that whilst the special zuthod for the diay, Sl, Lawrence Little Bob Major, was in great demand, it was mot allowed to interfere with the wants of those menlrers who had not cone prepared to ving it.

FILLING VACANT PLACES.

At the election of officerg, the president, flie Bishop of Chichuster, and all the wice-presidents weye leelected, and Mr. F. It, Butcher was re-elected to the post of Haster Eor a further year. The office of hon. treasurer, wactut througla the deatio of Mr. G. W. Stokes, was filled by 1 Ir . A. D. Stone, whe had retivel from the general secretaryship in 1936. The lion. Egenemal secretary, Mr. S. E. Armstrong, aceepted election for a further year, and Mr. F. I. Hairs undertook caused by the resignation of Nr. N. Edliolt, was lilled hy Mr. J. T.
Toms, whas thus occupies the office fointly wibh Mr. W. C. Hart. Messrs. F. TB. Tompkins and H. R. Butcher contimed as hot. tutustes of the funds, together with Mr. F. Dallaway in the mace of Mr Stokes. Mr. Dallaway also plled the vacant place as representative on the Central Comell
Two places were voted on far the next numal general meeting, aud Horsham was carried by a majority
Mr. A. C. Pamkhurst proposed that the divisional committees be reduced in order to saye expense to a maximum of two menthers oach instead of the previons thee as opportunity permitted. The Executive Committer, stated Mr. Pankhurst, numbered abont 20 and was nunecessarily large. A reductions woukd reduce the cost of will fares to the meetings and would render the committee more workable. On the other hand, old members might feel that compulsory reduction was a poor reward for services rendered, so the plurise 'as opportinity permits; was inserted. -Tbe motion was carried unamimously.
Mr. Elphick's proposal, that in the opinion of the meeting the association should be represeated on the Diacesan Advisory Committee on Faculties, received strong support, aad Mr. Tomplins spoke of it as an excellent suggestion. The exact procedure as to its membership, howover, was not known, and Mr. Tompkins offered to make inquiries and put the suggestion before the proper authorities.
The meeting closed witl a very pleasant piece of business in the form of a presentation of a golk watch to Mr. A. D. Stone, as a memento of the many years' service he lad rendered as secrelary of the old Central Division, and latterly as hon. general sectetary.
Mr. Butcher and Mr. Tompkins hoth spoke in oppreciation of Mr. Stone's abilities in these onerons posts, nat mentioned that they welcomed him back to an official position its treasuver
In reply. Mr. Stone thanket the members for their gift and assimed them of his hest services in their interests for the future.

The presentation was endorsed with enthusiasim by all present.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.
Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

1T RESTS WITH RINGERS

Anong the subjects discussed on report by the Central Council was that of "The Ringing World.' The question of securing the future of a ringing journal by proviting a satisfactory circulation has been before the Council at two or three previous meetings, but very little of a practical nature has ever come out of the discussions, and it was so on this occasion. We know, as well as most people, how the circulation of "The Ringing World' miglt be increased, but we have not yet found anyone who is able to tell us how the compensating financial support is to be assured. We also know, probably as well as most people, how 'The Ringing World ' coulk be made to cater for even wider interests than it is able at the moment to do. Many folks are ready to advise us on this score, but what they always fail to do is to give us any practical suggestions to ensure that the increased cost would be met by a corresponding increased sale among the ninety per cent, of ringers who do not at present buy the paper, although there are large numbers who do not hesitate to read a copy which someone else has purchased. The example quoted by Mr. Percy Johnson, who said he knew of one tivelve bell tower where the ringers shared one copy between them, is a typical instance of what happens in many places, but 'The Ringing World ' is not alone in suffering from this attitude of ringers towards ringing. The associations themselves suffer badly from the type of inctividual who refuses to join because he looks at everything from the attitude of what he is going to get out of it, instead of what he can put into it. If ringers would think more of what they could contribute to the advancement of the art by supporting ' The Ringing World ' and enabling us to make it more worthy of the Exercise, the difficulties would rapidly disappear and the future of the ringers' journal would be secured.

We appreciate very much the goodwill of the Council in the interest they have shown, but it is really not surprising that so few practical proposals have been forthcoming from the opportunities which have been offered. Business men know that business developments are impossible without an expansion of capital, unless profits have provided an ample reserve. If the Exercise wishes for an expansion of its paper either by way of a larger journal or a reduced price it must provide either capital or profits to enable it to be done. That, when it comes to rock bottom, is the position, and until some practicable steps in this direction are possible the Exercise-we say it with regret-cannot be given what it does not pay for. Criticism of details in a matter of this kind are worthless in solving the larger problem. The Council has not yet (Contimned on page 582. )

 6, PARK ST, MINEHEAD, SOMERSETbeen able to find a solution-neither have we. We doubt if the associations can do so. Their help is invaluable, but the crux of the whole matter rests with the ringers themselves. If, as a body, they will take the larger view and give "The Ringing World ' their support, not only for their own personal interest, but in furtherance of the art and the interests of all the other members of the Exercise, something could and would quickly be done.

DEATH CURTAILS RINGING.

The Shbropshire Association met at Oswestry on May 29th, but owjag to the very recent death of the Rector (the Rev. A. R. Laggford Brown), only a sliort half-muffled touch was rung and a short service beld.

After tea some members and visitors went to Whittington, where permission to use the bells was very kindly given at a moment's notice by the Rev. Thursly Pelhim.
The half-mufled toueh was 420 of Grandsire Triples. At Whittington methods up to Cambridge Minor were rung. There were 19 members preseut for tea.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

OPEN-AIR MEEIING.
Batley tower is of the convenient type for a meeting in warm weather, such as prevailed on a recent Salurday, when Leeds and District Society held its May gathering. The tower door is on a level with the churchyard, and, with only two steps down, ringers are in the rimging chamber. The fact that there were no steps to climb was greatly sppreciated by those who chose Batley from the thnee meetings held adjacent to Leeds. During the afternoon and evening, ringers waiting for a touch were able to sit on forms outside the belfry door, and, while Ifstening to the ringing, to see into the belfry.

The business meeting was held just outside the tower. The president was chairman, and members were present from Arniley, Burley, Birgtall, Bradford Cathedral, Caiverley, Drighlington, Eiland, Earlsheaton, Holbeok, Idla, Rothwell, Shipley and the local company, also Mr. Brothwell, of Rotherham, and Mr. Dove, of Headingley.

Mr. F. Burton, of Batley, was electerl a member of the society.
Mr. F. Payment, in proposing note of thanks to the Vicar churchwardeas and the local company, said that while thanking the church authorities for allowing the use of the bells, he would like to thank the president for his kiadly thought in providing the forms to emable the meeting to be held in the open air on that lovely day.

At the express wish of the ringers at Idle, it was agreed to hold the gext mecting there on Satnrday. June 19th. Will members pleade note this will be one week earlier than the usual meeting day.

NORTH STAFFS AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

- DINNER TO BE ORGANISED.

A meeting of the North Stuffordshire ead District Association was held at Kintssley on Saturday, June 5th. Forty members and friands were present from Burslem, Bucknall, Buddulph, Gheadle, Draycolit, Kingsley, Leek, Longton, Norton, Newcastie and Stokeon-Trent, A servec was beld, which was couducted by the Rev, W. Willinms (Rector of Kingsley), who also exleuded a warm welcome to all prescnt.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector and ringers for the use of the bells and for the splendid way the risitors had been catered for.
Two new members weye elected, viz, Mr. Fi. Box, of Busslom, und Mr. J. Ryles, of Norton.
A committee meeting was held afler tea, with Mr. H'homas Hurd in the chair, supported by Mr. Audrew Thompsou (hon. secrevary) mad Mr. Kenneth Thacker (assistant hon. secrotary).
After a short discussion it was proposed by Mr. E. Stecle, of Lomstan, seconded by Mr. W. Fradley, of Buckuall, that the association should hold a dinner, ana it was pointed out by the secretary hinet it would most probably take place in February, 1938. The following committee was set up to make the arrangements: Messrs. F. Steele, C. H. Pago, T. Hurd, K. Thacker and A. Thompsou.

A report of the Central Conncil meeting was presented by the lon. secretary.
After moving the adoption of the report, a vote of thanles was proposed to the secretary by Mr. E. A. Ridgway, of Leck, seconded by Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, of Norton, the latter remarling that it was the first time they had had m veport of a Council meeting from a representative.
A suggestion was made by the semretacy regarding the advertising of meetings of the association in "The Ringing Worly ' fhat meetings should be advertised for two weeks, tho association to pay for one and the fower where tho meeting was ta be held to pay for the other.
Eventually was decided that this be left to the discretion of the ringers where the meeting is to be lield.
Mr. Alan D. Steel, of Stoke-on-Trent, whs unantmonsly elected Ringing Master for eight-bell towers on the motion of Mr. H. Garnwell, seconded by Mr. O. H. Page. Nominations had been sent to the secretary from four towers, all of which nominated Mr. A. D. Steel for the position.
Under the leading of 'any other business' it was strongly suggested that the association should have its name changed to "The North Staffordshire Association of Change Ringers, and the mater was left to be decided at the next commitilee meeting-

Foundry Established A.D. 1570 (12th year of reign of Elizabeth).

The Chester Guild beud which has been helping to break records in the number of methods rung in a peal of Minor, have carried the total atep further, by scoring on Safurdiuy a peal in 73 methods. Five of the extents have been rong previously, but the peal included two new ones, one in six methots arrauged from Mr. A. G. Driver's tables, and one which Mr. Driver has compiled, with 13 methods changed at every lead. In all, the peal contaimed 142 changes of method.
'Tho ringing tour' season starts next week, when some of the old stagers will ramble throury Hampshive seeking what they may devour' in the way of peals. Other tours in contemplation are in Devon, Liveolushire, Oxtordshire and Somerset.
Here is an opportunity which all the youlcy lady cydist-ringets should jump at: Walited, girl, apo $17-25$, to join a band of yours people on a eycling-ringing holiday in Somerset, August 21st to 28 th . Must be a good cyclist and preferably a ringer. Apply to Edna Bedford, 52, The Greenway, Uxhridge, Middlesex.

Congratulations will be extended to Mr. W. H. J. Hooton (hon. librarian of the Central Council) and Mrs. Footon upan the birth of a daughter, and to the president of the Central Council aud Mrs. Lewis upon the arrival of their first graudchild.

Mrs. F. M. Mitchell, wife of tho general hon, secretary of the Kent County Association, gave a talk to the nembers of the $\begin{gathered}\text { filton Branch }\end{gathered}$ of the Gravesend Constitutional Association on Tuesday week on 'Church Bellringing," with demonstrations by a working model of a bell. "the listeners were greatly intercsted, and Mrs. Mitchell was asked to give a longer talk on the subject in the autumo.

Mr. O. H. Howard, of Braintree, Formerly Master of the Essex Association, lins recently presented to St. Michael's belfyy his most interesting collection of ringing books, chief among which are "Churcls Bells of England," "Clavis," Among the Bells," "The History and Art of Change Ringing,' Stedman's "Tinlinnalogia,' 'Church Bells,' Slipway's 'Campanologie,' 'Stealman ' and a collection of books on various methode, etc.

At one of the Leeds tawers, it is the practice of the members to take turns in lolling for the 8 a.ms. Communion service on Sundey monnings. Last week the Ficar and the verger, also the neighbouring rosidents, were roused from their slmmbers at a quartor to seven by the wigorous tolling of one of the bells.
The Vicar upon investigating was anazed to discover the lady member (whose tura it lappened to be) of the local band performing her duties in the usual mamer, heing under the impression that it was a quarter to eiglit. Arter the Ficar had assured her as to the correct time, she spent the remaining honr improving her knowledge of the art of rinting by reading old copies of 'The lhell News ' wich were available.

Slrange to say, the tower in quethion has a very good elock with four faces, all of which have recently been gilded, but as there have been numerons questions in recont weeks from her colleagues regarding the dato of the wedding peal, the reason for this remarkable oversight on the part of the lady is, perhaps, not far to seek.
The peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at fll Saints', Westod, Bath, should have been credited to the Bath and Wells Association
The ringer of the 5th in the peal at Eckington on May 18th was John W. Sykes, not John W. Knights as printed.

HALF A CENTURY OF RINGING.

THE LATE MR. F. W. THORNTON.
The funcral took place an Friday last, Jume lith, of Mr. F. W. Thomwon, whose death on the previous Monday we briefly renorded in our last issue. There was a service at the Parish Church, Greenwich, and the interment took place at Slooters Hill Cemetery.

For many years Mr. Thornton was a momber of the Greenwich Parish Oharch bellringers, and bis name appears on numerous tablets now in the belfry recordibg notable pals. The last time he rang was as recently as May 31st, an the occasion of the annual Pepys commemaration service at St. Olave's, Hart Street, E.C.

Mr. Thornton's interest in ringing had extended over 50 years, and as a member of the now defunct Trinity Youths, represented the society in the first Central Conncil (1891-1893). Afterwards, from 1897 to 1902, he ropresented the Kent County Association.
Mr. Thomton, who was 73 yeams of fuse, was a member of one of the oldest families in Greenwich, and macebenrer to 18 mayors of the borough. He lived at Crooms Hill, Greenwich. Se retired from the office of macebearer in 1929, when the then Mayor and elepen former Mayors of the barough joined in presenting him with a gold hunter watch. On the same occasion he received a luminous traveling clack, the pift of Mr. F. J. Simpson, town clerk at the time, and au oak clock from the Town Hall staff.
Ho leaves a daughter and three sous, the eldest of whom, an Engineer-Lienterant in the Royal Navy, was made a Member of tha Order of the British Fmpire in the Coronation Fononrs List.

GRAMOPHONE RECORD OF 'SPLICED' RINGING.

The order list will close on Wednesday next, after which no furbhor applications will be considered. To cover actual costs of record, packing and postage it has been fomm necessary to chavg 5s. 6d. per record. All remittances should now be sent to G. W. Fleteher, 45, Walsingham Road, Fufield, Niddlesex.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE RINGLNG WORLD.
At the last meeling of the Council the following resolution was carred : That this Gouncil requests all members and secretaries of affliated sociefies to send in suggestions with a view to increasing the circulation of "The Ringing World," that the suggestions be considered by the officers of the Council and Mr. Goldsmith, and that a report be circulated to all memberg.
Thue repert has not been circulated because the response to the request coutained iv the resolution was extremely disappointing. Guly thee letters were receiped-one from an affiliated society contaning in resolution passed at an ammal meeting, one from a ringer's and one [rom a District Master of an associntiou.
Among the shiggestions were a reduction in price, if necessary, by means of subsidies or guarantees from the associations; payment for the publieation of peal reperts; also that all reports should be reduced to not more than talf a colume in length to make room for more items of news.
With regard to the financial suggestions, the report said that perhaps the following figures would assist members in their considerafion of the preseut position: Talsing tho present circulation as a basis for anch 1d. in the reduction of price, the numual sum of $£ 86613 \mathrm{~s} .4 \mathrm{~d}$. has bo gnaranteed or subscribed, which, if apportioned between cocieties on the basis of their membership of the Uouncil, is equal to 5555.7 d . por member of the Conncil amiually. This does not seem to bo a solution, for there are many societies who already liave difticulty in payiug current expenses.
The otile: main suggestions are that the contents need rerision so hat instead of long articles about one particular event a series of horter articles covering a wider field would create more interest. In this, unless the Fditor is to rewrite all reports, the remedy seems to be in the hands of those who send in the repores, ete., for publicalion ly cusuring that the matter has the widest possible interest, and that hose local detnils which are so oflen inserted are eliminated.
As regards puymeut for the insertion of peal reports, we beliese his would to some extent result in non-publication unloss members of socielies were hound by the rules of their societies to do so, and this also applies to the payment suggested for the publication of reports of meetings.

INADEQTATE SUPPORT

In considering this matter the following points must be borne in mind: (1) 'The Ringing World' is a privately owned venture, and the Gouncil lias no control oper it. (2) The Editor, anxions for the continuance of the paper if he is compelfex to give up, has called ableation to the fact tlat wilh the present circulation it is improbable that anyone wauld undertake the finuncial responsibility. (3) The Fditor regrets that he is compelled to charge 3 d . per copy, but has generously agread to give the Exercise the first benefits which arise from increased circuntion, either by increasing the size of the paper or yeducing the cost. (4) The Edilo is willing to consider all practical suggestions, but cannot shoulder further financial burdens
With regavd to this last point, the oflicers of the Council feel that as the present support is so inadequate (uuder one-fifth of the anmual thboribing members of societies represented by the Council), 'The Rinping World' cannot be expected to shoulder further financial bufdens.
The offcers think that a further opportunity should be given to members and secretaries to send in their susgoslions, and propose hat the fiual report in this matter be deferred. In the meantime, luey would like to point ont that adverse criticism if unacompanied constructive proposals temds to decrease rather than increase the MI. T. th this Clark asked if it was the business of the Council to deal it did the Ringing World did not do the Council as mutheh good it did the individual ringer, nad he thought they should try and rease the sale throurh the associations. He brought the subject up the meethags he attended, ana he had sold a good number of copies that way. They would do better by gelitig back to the associations. Mr. P. J. Tomson said in Yorkshine ringers took ar good deal of tisfying. When bhey talked to & Yorkshireman about spending 3d. b looked at what was on the other side. He know of at least one welre-bell tower that took one copy of the paper for the twelve ingers ( Shame'). He sincerely sympathised with 'The Ringing Forld. When they realised that tha Exereise numbered somewhere ahout 40,000 it was hopeless to expect that they wore going to geta arge proportion of then sufficiently interested to buy the paper. Another thing lie was convinced of was thet it was quite hopeless Fa expect they were going to get another enthusiast Euch as the present coilor to shonlader the responsibility and to pay for other people's luxury of getting their reports on the cheap. He thought, sooner or later, the Conneil would have to consider a scheme for the futire of Tho Ringing world, Those who were or had been secretaries of insocrations bad been epeaking on this matter for a good many years, bat in looking ronad and seeing what they had dono it seemed to him thet were nearly as badly off as they wero at the start. He had fourght many batiles for 'The Ringing World, and would he interested 0. kilow the experience of other representativen. He felt they would not get anolher man in all Fingland with the cuthusiasm of the present

Editor, add ho shuddered to thiult what would huppen when he logt his enthusiasm or the health to cary on

The Hou. Secretary said on the bisis of Mr. Johnson's estimnte of 40,000 ringers he could aniend his note and say, not thab wot one-fifth, but not one-tenth of the ringers supported tine paper.

The report was adopted.

MUFTLED RLNGLNG

The President submitted the report of tho offieers as to mulfed ringing. Ho said he hoped the Council world adopt it as far as its main suggestions were concerned, and he then wanted than to leave it to the officers to add further details and allow them to eirculate it and get it finally passed by the eodestastical authorities without delaying it to next year's meeting.

The report was as follows: The practice of mufled riuging for Royalty, or indeed for any person, is comparabively recent. As far as wo can trace, ringing witil belle half-mufled or iully muffied was first practised by ringers as marls of respect to depeased ringers about the beginning of the 18th century, and was later introduced for persons otleer than ringers.

Various eustons have grown up in different parts of tho country, and we think it undesirable that these customs should be changed. Where there is no fixed custom whatronld recommend the following practice:-

That us a mark of respect bells shonad be rung half-mufled dopen at bandstroke).
2. That bells should not be runt mufled for a serriee on a Sunday or feast day, unless the service is a funeral or of the nature of a memarial service.
3. That if the death of Royalty oceure, or a deaila in a parish whece a meeting has beer arranged, elther the bells should not be jung or be rung muffled iu a few touches with carefully chosen bands. We deprecate the holding of au ondinary practice naeeting with the bells. mutled.
4. That all muffed ringing slould be in as slow lime as possible.
5. That certain local customs are worthy of more gemeral adoption,

For example, the Cambridge custom of setting up one bell atia time, gradually reducing the number aud then tolling the ago on the beure, is very elfective.
Tor this last, reason we should like association sceretaries to gend us particulars of looal customs in onder that a selection inight bo added in our final report.
We suggest that this fual report should be circulated to the Strading Conmittoe, and, if approved of by thom, circulated to all members, and fimaly sent to the ecclesiastical anthontiles. If they also approve it could be published witlout furthel delay.
The President added that he would be glad to lear any criticismo or sugaestions on the five main points which were recommended for ase in places where they had no established local custom.
Mr. J. Hunt said oue vital thing was onrithed from the report. Muftled ringing should always bo done witll the tenor behind.

The President: No, I don't agree.
Mr. Humb: As a ribger for over 40 years $I$ lave never heard ringing that sounded as selemn as when it is well sfruck with the teror behind. I think that point ought to be added.
Mr. S. H. Wood: I disagree entivoly. I think the most benutiful ringing is in Major when yon getu tio minor clanges, that is 6567 followed by 5678 coming up asuffed.
Mr. L. J. Willians: Whae is the point of puting in Mr. Hunt's suggestion when a band oan only ring ane melhod ${ }^{\text {F }}$
Mr. $\mathcal{P}^{3}$. ${ }^{J}$. Johnson said in the district in which he liven (Leeds) they generally muffed the bells at handstroke, the idea being that, in ringing Major, the tenors struck in thelr nifht, order with an open beckstroke. Anather advantage was that is Jiad any bed leads at handstroke (laughter').
Mr. O. Mee said in Suffolk they alwnys had the luthdelrode oper. THE OLDDST CUSTOM
Mr. J. A. Trollope said the oldest cuslom in connection with rimgiag for funcrals was the custom of ringing 'three times thin'es' for a man, aud 'tlaree times two' for a wonam. TJait was not only Fogisl, but European, aud went fack certainly to the early midale ages. What they did at his church was to ring thuce whole pulls slowly, before nad after the other ringing, not only because it was zather effective with the bells lalf-muifled, but nlso hecange it belped to continut to some extent a custom which, like so maliy others, was dying ond rapidly, especially since tha war.
Mr. F. W. Rogers asked if tho committee conld givo them any information as to the occasions on which to ving bells fully muitled.
The President said the committee and bhe Standing Committee did not recommend fully muffled ringing. Fully mufled zinging had, to a large extent the same ffect as shuttering up the windows-ib rednced the carrying power of tife bells, but liad not the same appea! to the public as half-mufted ringing. They fifd not gre tho striking contrast between the two blows, whiel was so effective,
Mr. Crawley said that at his church they had rumg two peals fully muffled and the belig were heard at a greater distance than when they were open (laukhter).

Tho President: Fery often, when windows are blocked up, the bells e heard better at a distance.
The Rev. F. Drake supporter what Mr. Trollope Ind geid, and added that "three times one" was used for a chite. Be suggested that that be added to the report,

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

SUCCESSFUL MEETING A'K KLDWICK.

Mr. Joe Broadley's Retirement Fram Dffica.

Although most of the country liad been under the spell of thunder, which was alreudy on its way to Yorkshire, the 'Clerk of the Weather'? was able to postpone the downpour uintil the Westerm Division bad concluded a nost satisfactory meeting ab Kildwick on Saburday, Jume 12h. Gonsiderably over 80 nembers were present, representing more ihan 30 towers, and it was pleasing to notice the number of lingers who dad broughi their wives and friends to enjoy the benuties of this part of Yorkshire. Almost everyone took the opportunity uf looking through the grounds and gardens of Kildwick Hall-one of the noted places in the district.
The bells of Kildwick are rung from the ground floor, and very full ase was made of them from 2 o'clock until well after 9 p.m. A large varicty of methods was rungs zanging from Bob Major to Cambridge and Stuperlative Surprise, and for a meeting the striking throughout the day was paticularly good. Not a drop of rain fell during the day, and we have heard of at least two young ringers who wore so thorotighly euraptured with Kildwick that it was ouly with great dificulty that they were able to tear themselves away after a little gentle persuasion by their bus driver.

A splendid tea was served in the Parish Room by the local company, Tha business meeting, which was held in tho schools, was presided over by the nssociation's president, Canon Marshall M.A., in the absence of the vice-president, $\mathbf{M r}, \mathrm{P}$. J. Johnson, who was unable to he present.

The Chaimen intimated that the main basiness of the meeting was the appointment of a Ringing Master in succession to Mr. Joe Broadley, who had recently resigued. Mr. Broadley had been a namber of the General Committeo over 44 years, and had been Ringing Master of the Westerm Division over 20 years. Te felt that a great debt of gratitude was due to Mr. Broadley for the enormous service which he had given to the association. He was indeed sorry that the time had come when Mr. Brondley had to lay down the rems of office, but lee knew that ikis jnterest would always be with the association and that his lielp and advice would always be available.
Mr. W. Barton algo spoke of the work which Mr, Broadley had done for the association and expressed his reqret af the parting.
Mr. Brordley, in replying, said that he had only been too pleased to do what he could for the association. Aluough he was not in at the start, ha had krown Mr. Jasper Snowdon personally and had rung five peals with him. He would still continue to attend meetings wherever possible and would gladly give any advice whenever zecessary.

MR. W. ANLLLER PROPOSED AS RLVGING MASTER

The Chairnan intimated that one nomination had been received for the Ringing Mastership, but that the nominee on being appraached frad felt unable ta undertake the work. Mr. Barton thereupon proposed and Mr. Hardeastio seconded that Mr William Ambler, of Queensbury, he approached. Mr. Ambler said that it was rather sudden and lie would like a few days to consider the matter more fully, but he would make up Jis mind as soon as possible.
The seoretary prnuosed a hearty vote of thanks to tho Vicar and wardens for kindly granting the iase of the bells, and expressed pleasure at the splendid response of the members in being present und making the meeting such at success.-This was seconded by Mr. Jolm Cooper and also supported by the chairnan, who expressed regret rit the absenco of tho Vicar, who was unavoidably detained at a garden party
Mr. J. W. T. Holgate propesed a hearty vote of thanks to the lacal company for their splendid arrangements, also to the ladies who so kindly waited at the tea tables.-Mr. A. West, of Sutton, also supported this resolution, which was carried in the usual manner, Mr. Charles Law, in replyingy sard it had been a real pleasuro to entertain the associntion at Kildwick.

Roplying to Mr. F. Warriagton, the President said the committee was not concerned with customs of chiming; their reference was with regard to muflled riaging.
Mr. W. A. Gave pointed cut that there was nothing in the report eferring to the "whole pull and stand."
The Presillent gajd that was we of the customs which they proposed to add at the end.
Mr. Cave said there was nothing more effective than this for a memorial service or when the coffin was being taken from the church to the grave.
Replying to Mr. Mee, the President said le did not think they should attempt to colleet all the chiming customs. They were already recorded, as far as many counties were concerned, in the county bistories.
Mr. G. Cross seconded the adoption of the report, which was agreed to, together with the recommendation that it should be completed and circulated before the next meeting.
This completed the committee's reports, and Ganon Coleridge proposed a vote of thanks to all committees for their laborious work and for an they lad done.-Mr. T. Groombridge seconded and the motion was carried.

RINGERS' DAY AT BIRMINGHAM CATHEDRAL

A SURVIFOR OF THE 'FORTY IHILVES.'
A ringers' openiug was held at Birminglam Cathedral on June 5th. Approximately 60 ringers and friends attended, and from 3 p.m. until 6 p.m tite bells were rung in various methods, including London Surprise Major and Cambridge Suprise Royal.

At the conclusion of the ringing, tea was taken at Kunzle's Cafe, Uuion Strect, during which Mr. A. Paddon Swith, Mr. Abert Walken and Mr. T. H. Reeves all congratuhated Messrs. Gillett and Jobnston Ltd., upon the excellency of their wark, and also the Oathedra authorities on the cletightiful rinm of belis which they now possessed. Reference was also made to the old bells, which both from the point of view of 'go' and tone were among the worst jn the country, and also to the now non-existent Hizmingham Amalgamuted Society whose members were known as the "Forty Thieves." This society was formed by the ringers of the Cathedral in opposition to the St, Martin's Youtlis.

Uufortuuately, the Provosb of the Birmingham Cathedral (Bishop Hamilton Baynes) was unable to be present; and Sir Charles Fyde whose generosity made the restoration possible, was prevented froms atteuding by a previous ellgagement.

Mr. W. P. Waller, people's warden, represented the Cathedral and Mr. G. E. Fearn, Ringing Master, said that Mr. Waller had taken a great interest in the scheme. It was due to lis efforts that the rimging chamber laad been redcorated.
Mr. C. F. Johnston, who represented the founders of the bells, mentioned that illnass prevented him from beiug at tho dedication service, but that he listenei to the bells when they were broadcast, and he congratulated the ringers who took parb upon the excellent striking durng the touch.
After tea an informal social evouing was held at the Trumorth Arms, Moor Strect. Mr. Harry Withers tapped a course of Doubin Norwich on the piano and also sang lis very popular song, Bob Major.' Several tonches in various methods were rang on landbella and fumes were played by Messrs. A. Walker, $H$. Withers and $T$ Miller. The last named was one of the "Forty Thieves," and he entertrined the compary with his quaintly-told stories of old Birmingham ringers.
Altogether the evening was typical of the sociability of rimgers in general, and Birmiagham ringers in paxticular.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

CORONATION BELLS．

IATERS，AND NOT CINQUFS

The peai ju celebration of the Coronation at Haslemere was Major J．H．B．Hesse＇s 600 th peal．
It was ouly watural that the Editorjal＇leg＇should be pulled for the error that erept into the report of this peal．We have seddom received su many postcards and letters over an ernor in our columas as over the slip which was allowed to creep in．But，then，we alo not often make mistakes of this kind．
The pal was，of course，Stedman Caters and not Stedman Cinques； the two treble ringers did not also ring one handbell apiece；no con－ yeatilations are due to the first band to rimy a peal of Cinques on ten bells，and the Editor has not taken part in the most unique per－ formance of all time．
The Peals Analysis Committee will，doubtless，take note of all this and there is nothing wrong with that wonderful little peal of bells upon which Major Hesse experds so much care
The Coronation peal at Hugheuden，Bucks，on Sunday，May 16 tb, lso coincided witli the christening of the dauchter of Mr．E．Olitrs， a member of the choir，and the 74th birthday of Mr．J．W．Wilkins who rang the troble to the peal．These two eveats are，therefore， coupled with the performance．
At St．Helens，Lancs，the Coronation peal was also in honour of the birth of a son to Mr．and Mrs．N．Heaps ffer meeting short for a peal of Major at Headeorn，Kent，on May I5th，a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung，Mr．W．H．Dartinell com ing in to fill the gap at tho lasiv minute and ringing the tenor to his first peal on eight belis．Mr．J．W．Jones，of Newport，Mon．，took part． At St．Ardrew＇s Ohurch，Wiveliscombe，Somerset，on Coronation Day，a quarter－peal of Grandsive Triples was berun at 6.30 a．m．and

 S．Smith 1，J．Summerhaves 2，E．Purchase 3，C．Tarr 4，A．Turner 5， Quick（conductor） 6 ．This touch was rung after an atitempt for a peal of Stedman Doubles had heen called round at the seventh 120. On ringing the 120 agrain it turned out that the bells bad been in order The hells at St．Joln＇s，Silverdale，L，$⿴ 囗 十$ nes，were fired at $6.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$ on Coronation Day and touches of Oxiord，Kent，Duke of York and Woodbina Treble Bob and a 720 of Cambridge Surprise were after－ wards rung：J．Holme 1，1．Holden 2，T．Dobson 3，G．Fall 4，C． Lock wood 5，W．Bolton（conductor）6．It was the first 720 of Can－ bridge Surprise by all but the treble ringer．The ringing also com－ memorated the birth of a great－grandson to the treble rimger and a son to C．Lock wood．

At St．Martin＇s Church，Fynsford，Kent，on Saturday，May 2and， a peal of Grandsire Triples in honour of the Coronation was lost after an hour＇s goed ringing，owing to a shift course．Not to be outione， the band rang a quarter－peal of Bob Major：F．$V$ ．Grosskey（firsi quarter－peal）I，G．W．Fogden 2，H．Mackinder 3，J．Fs．Lyddiard 4 A．J． H Ho

COMMEMORATIVE QUARTER－PEAL

At Redrath，on Corouation Day，a quarter－peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung，after meeting short for eight：Vivian Williams 1 ，Stephen Jeffery（fist quarter）2，Harold Seymour 3，William Reed 4，Frederic Harris（conductor）5，Percy Williams 6.

A 720 of Kent Treblo Bob Minor was rung at Treeton，Yorkshire： James \＃I Haywood 1，John J．L，Gilberb 2，Frederick Cardwell 3 John E．Turley 4，Fred Watkinsou 5，Leslie Faywood（conductor） 6. At Barrow－iu－Furness，for Coronation service evensong，on Sunday， May 9th，a quarter－peal of Grandsire Triples：G．Slack 1，J．Baguall 2，
M．G．Wheat 3，F．H．Crawley 4，A．Steadman 5，J．E．Burles 6， C．J．A．Cushing（conductor）7，S．Hyder 8.
The Rev．R．ㄱ．R．Reuth，who has recently been inducted Rector of Beaconsfield，rang in the Coronation peal at his own church on Mas 15th．It was his first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major．

A quarter－peal of Minor was rung at Folmer on Monday，May 10th， honour of the Corovation．It comprised 720 of Oxford Bob， 360 Canterbury Pleasure and 180 Plain Bob：Chayles H．Tomkins 1， Gearge T．Cousins 2，Walter S．Evans 3，Josenh W．Downes 4，William Duggan 5，Ennest F．Salmons（conductor）6．First quarter－peal of Winor in three methods for all the band．
At Little Slelford，Cambs，a quarter－peal of Grandsira Doubles Was rung for service on Coronation Day ：C．Furst 1，A．Thorogood 2 ， T．Shergan 3，B．Dean 4，A．Furst 5．All are members of the local bind．Longest lengtl by ringers of treble and 3 rd．
Ringiug eommenced at Stowmarket，Suffolk，at 7 n．m．Touches of Grandsire Triples were rung and the bells were＇fired．＇Ringing was conlinued at intervals during the day in toteles of Bob Major，Kent and Oxford Treble Bob，Double Norwich aud Cambridge Surprise， I2 ringers in all taking part．
As a prelude to the day＇s festivities，at Rickmansworth，Ferts，tho holls were rung by the St．Mary＇s Gnitd from 10 a＇clock for one hour previous to the Abbey service broadeast in the church．Several touches of Grandsire Triples，including one of about 400 changes， 9－8－10 covering，by W．Crowsley 1 ，F．W．Elliott 2，D．Hookham 3， A．E．Millett（condmetor）4，A．W．Howlett 5，J．E．Jones 6，T Long 7，T．Reeves 8．A．Walker 9，T．Gander 10.

A LANCASHIRE RESTORATION．

RECAST OCTAVE AT RLSHTON．

The peal of eight bells which has recently been recasi and rahung in Rishton Parish Church tower，Juancashire was dedicated ata well． atteuded service on Suturday afteruoon，May 22nd，the ceremony being performed by Canon G．S．Perry，Rural Dean of Blackburn， assisted by the Vicar（the Ruv．W．I．Brown）and the Rev．A．Scott， of Bolton，president of the Lameashire Association．Amonty those present were Intr．IR．Parkinson，of Blackpool，formenly of Oswakl twistle，who had the privilege of conducting the flrst peal ou the old bells at Rishton Church；Mr．A．Tomanson，Blackbun，a joiab secre－ tary of the Lancashire Association；Mr．A．Blogg，secrelary of the Preston Brauch．Representaines also attended from tha Todmarden， Rochdale and Fylde branches of the association．ML．Gyril $F$ ． Jolunstou was present to represent the bellfoulders．
In the ceremony the IRural Dean was requested by the church－ wawdens（Mr．F．Piclnp，J．P．，and Mr＇G．H．Asliworth）to＇dedicate to the glory of God and the use of this chureh，this peal of bells and the Rural Dean，having received from the wardens the ropes of the bells，delivered them to the Vicar＇as a sacred brust，commited to thee as the appointed minister of Christ in this ohurch and parish．＇
The Vioar then called upon the rimers to ring a shord peul，solemmy charging them＂to be gool men and true，to uphold the honour＂ our belfry，and loyally to observe and keep all our rules and laudable castoms．＇Tle bells were then rung by $A$ ．Yates 1，P．Read 2， 1 ． Williams 3，R．Atherton 4，13．Crabtyec 5，R．Balderstone（capt：）E， W．E．Wilson 7，L．J．Winiams 8 ．
In his short adress，Ganon Perry emphasised that the highest of all purposes associated with the function of bells was that expresser hy their use in the churel．Ho congratulatad the parishoners of Pishor upon their enterprise in carrying ont this improvement of their belfry， which zepresented，he said，an undertaking of no incensiterablo difficulty，and one which had ivvolved them in rather heavy cost．In these modern times，the sound of bells often fell on deaf cars．The answer to that criticism was that they always had done，yet the message of chureh bells，sounded through the nges，would continue．
Following the service the bells were rung to short tonches in tho following methods：Grandsire and Stedmen Triples，Bob Major＇，＇J＇reble Bob Major，Cambridge Surprise Major and Double Norwich Court Rol Major，by ringers from Blackbura，Blackpool，Chorley，Church，Bolton， Oswaldtwistlo，Loudon，Whittle－le－Woods，Todmorden and Helnasloye．
The new bells，which have been tuned on the latest principle，aro lung in a massive cast iron frame，supported by steel girders，The tenor－note $F$ sharp－now weighs $15 \frac{\text { cowt．The bells are inurg ous hal }}{}$ clappers and ave a fine example of moveru bell foanding and installa tion，reflecting great credit，on 㱏essrs．Gillebt anal Johnsion，who carried out the work．
All present at tha dedication service expressed delight at the＇go and tolle of the bells，and residents generally have voiced their ciation of the musical qualities of the new peal．

（Contimued from previous column．）

TWO CONDUCTORS FOR A PEAL．

The band at Longparisl，Hanis，all mang their first peal in honour of the Coronation．Ilseir first attempt failed afber 1 lour 25 minutes， but the second was sticcessful．They had two conductors，who each called 21 six－seores．It was rung on the birtiday of F．Tonge，ringet of the Qnd bell．
Leatherhead＇s Cowonation peal was rung on May 29th and was also a compliment to Mr．W．Messnm，who ettained the ege of 80 years or May 13th．He has been al servico vinger at Leatherhead for 57 years and is still on the active list，

Mr．A．F．Dayis，of Bonsuemonth，writes：By responding ta yonw request for reports of lost＇Coronation＇peals，I am afraid I have been guilty of sending a hadly framed report of the masuctessinl attempt at Wimborue S．Giles on May 19th．May $I_{\text {，with all possihIe }}$ speed，explain that I did not wish to blame the treble ringer or ncy otler ringer for the collapse of the peal．If any have read the report in this way I ask them to acceptimy sincerest apologies．I was in the mofortunale position of a conductor caught＇mapping＇by the unexpected in some very excellent ringing，and am preparcd to take the blame，if any there be，for not rising to the occasion．I sincerely scove the peal at some future date．
The peal at Dodderhill，on Whit Monday，was lung for the Worcestershire and Disbricts Assoniation
In the peal of Donbles at Northmoor，the ringer of the trable was F．Trinder，not Frinder as printerl．It whs ring as a Coronation peal On Coronation morning eight of the service land turned up at St Marts Church，Holmingham，at $\%$ n．m．and rang three courses of Gambridge Surprise Majoe and 504 Stedmen Triples．Then，after ＇fring＇the royal salnte，they went ou to Framsden and rang a course each of Superlative，Bristol and London，again firisg the royal salute，Those taking part were J．H．Arbon，W．J．Rutton， L．G．Brett，T．W．Last，G．Prwke，L．©．Wightman，A．T．Whiting and G．Whiting．The remaining three of the band，J．Bemett，$G$ ． Bemmett and W．G．Whining，went to make up a band for the six at Otiey．

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

240's had been rung and accepted in the Analysis. That standard was rejected by the new definition, but no action was taken on the performances already recorded. Obviously you cannot legislate in ringing for the past, but if the standard is ever to be raised, the Council must have no compunction in declining to accept for the fature things which men have practised in the past merely because they have been practised. If they do, ringers will just ignore the rulings of the Council because they know they have only to go on doing a thing long enough and the Council will give it official acknowledgment, whether it is worth it or not. We cast no slur whatever on the performances that have been rung, but we ask our readers who seriously consider these things to think of the already open door which there is for 'wangling' in Grandsire Doubles and of the much wider breach that is made for the unscrupulous conductor if he is to be encouraged to provide himself with opportunities to juggle with these modern "arrangements." We think thoughtful conductors, on contemplation, will leave these 'scrambled' compositions alone.

PEAL NOTES.

Two ladies (Mrs. Jack Bray and Miss Dorothy Vessey) took part ins a peal in 20 Minor methods at Barnby-in-the-Willows, Notts, on Juns 5 th. It was the first peal in 20 methods by all the band.
The peal of Bob Major at Chard, Somerset, on Sune 12th was arranged by Mr. P. Marson to enable Mr. Pat Cemnon to ring a peal at the church in which le was confirmed and which be attended when at school at Chard.
Sunday service ringers at Netherseale, Derbyshire, rang, on &unt 8th, the first peal in the tower since the bells were reluing prior to 8the Coronation.
A composition by Mr. Nolan Golden, hon. secretary of the Norwielt Diocesan Association, the first of its kind to be rung to Double Norwich, was called by the composer at Kenninghall, Norfolk, on Sunday, Jume 6th. The only calls are singles, and the sixth is never away from either 5th's or 6th's at a course-end. It is a 48 -course peal and at Kenninghall was reduced to 5.120 , the 2nd thus never being in $61 h^{\prime} w$ at course-ends. Here are the figures:-

A hand 'met short' for a peal of Treble Ten at Stonliam Aspall, Suffolk, on June 12th, and consoled themselves by ringing a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major.
The peal of Kent Treble Bob at Milton-next-Gravesend, Kent, ols Tume 1Ith, was mung 'true and complete' to replace one, rung at §t, George's, Gravesend, on June 12th, 1920, and conducted by the late Mr. W. H. Judd, of Prittlowell, which has lad to be numbered among the slain since the discovery was made that the abbreviated version of $F$. Robinson's peal was false. This time the full 5,184 was rmur-
On Jumb 12th a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung at North Stonelam, Hants, to welcome home from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith, the former being organist of the church.

LEICESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS.

RINGERS' OPENDNG BRTNGS LARGE GATHERTNG.  By A Correspondent.

On Saturday, June 12th, the new ring of 12 bells at Lecester Cathedral was 'open' to visitors, and the event brought together a "crowded house, over 80 ringers arrivine from all points of the compass. The first arrival was the 'globe trotter' from Swindon complete with loft. rule. Fes, the teror bell was well and iruly measured. Can any bells be said to be 'open' until Mr. Shepherd has performed this ceremony? He regretted his inebility to stay long, as he was due at another measuring party in Somerset the next day.
Among other old timers present were Jack Holman, of Sheffield Harry Chapman, Iate of Manchestev and now of realms unknown, Ferry Bartram, of Melton, and Jack Swinfield, S.O.F., that old stalwart of Midland Gounties ringing, who hails from the town on the Trept where the river water is put into casks and botties and retailed to thirsty and long suffering ringers under the name of beer! Birmingham, Walsall, Rugby, Nuneaton, Nottingliam, Derby, Northampton and Kettering were all represented and quite possibly other places too.

Ringing in various methods took place on the 12,10 and both eights, courses and short touches being the order of the day to enabla everyone present to have a pull.

At 4.30 a service was lield in the Cathedral, the Midland Counties Association form being used. The service was conducted by the Precenter of the Cathedral, who, in a short and appropriate addves, mentioned that the Provost of the Cathedral, who has ljeell jll for some time, was now somewhat better, and sent a learty greebing to the ringers.

Mr. Harold Dexter, son of Mr. F. H. Dexter, officiated at the organ
In the avering the bells were again set going, but as time crepi on the mumber in the ringing chamber gradually diminished. It is believed that tlio missing ringers had gone to study articles on elbew bending 'and 'throat massage 'in an adjacent free library!
During the afternoon many expyessions of appreciation of the bolls were offered-ilhey really are a very fine lot. The finc appearance of the newly refitted bell chamber aiso brought much favourable consment. Who was the oldest ringer present is cloubtful, but the youngest conductor was aged exactly 12 weeks 1 His parents-both ringer: are evidently bringing lim win in the correct manner.

THE LATE MR. R. W. HYNER.

FORMER SEGRETARY OF GLOUOESTER AND BRISTOL

 ASSOCIATION.The funeral took place on Monday, June 7th, of Mr. R. W. Hyner, whose suddeu death has already been brietly recorded in our columns.
Deceased was 62 years of age and a antive of Ledbury, where he learned to ring, and, despite the handicap of a delormed hand, was an excellent ringer and striker. He was a member of several associations, including the College Youths, Hereford Association and Salisbury and Oxford Guilds.
Ho joined the Swindon Parish Church Guild in 1902 and was a member up to the time of his death, acting as tower secretary for many years, while from 1915 to 1918 he was hon. secvetary of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. Fe also served the association as branch searetary for some years. Not a great peal ringer, his peals numbered 63, consisting of Grandsire Dotthles, Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples and Caters, Plain Bob, Keut Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Major and Plain Bob and Kent Royal, while los liad conducted peals of Grandsire Dotibles, Iriples and Caters and Double Norwich Major.

The funeral service at the Parish Church was coudueted by the Rev. L. Golledge, and, in addition to the family moumers, there were representatives of the Swindon Press, Ltd., by whom deceased lad been employed for 40 years The Gloucester and Bristol Association was represented by Messrs. W. H. Trueman and W. B. Kynaston (chairman and secretary, swindon Branch). St. Mark's ringers were represented by Mr. N. Allnatt, whilst among his old colleagues who attended to pay their last respects to a faithful momber of the tower were Messrs. Berry, Bishop, Gardier, Lawrence, Palmer, R. G. Townsend, G. W. Towosend, Smith and H.' W. Wells.

The bells were rung half-mufled before and after the service, and wreaths were sent from the Parish Church ringers, St, Mark's ringers and the Swindon branch of the association.

THE LATE MR. F. W, THORNTON.

Witl the bells half-muffled as a last token of respect for the late Mr. Trederick W. Thornton, 672 Stedman Triples was rung on Sunday, June 13th, for evening service at St. Olave's, Harl Street, City: $\mathbf{H}$. Feazel 1, 5i. J. Beer 2, Mrs. J. E. Davis 3, Mrs. G. H. Cross 4, G. H. Gross 5, W. J. Beer 6, G. W. Steere 7, 耳. Willson, jum. 8. The bells were also rung half-muffled for the morning service by the local company. St. Olave's was the last church at which the late Mr. Thornton rang.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION.

THE NEW PEAL FOR EBBW VALE.
A guarterly meeting of the Llandaft and Monmouth Diocesnn Absociation Aesociabion wes held at Llanifrechfa on saturday, June 12tlu. Jovely weather prevaited, and at 3 o'elock the bolls, a dight ring of eight, recently augmented from six, were raised and rung in various methods, The Vicar officiated at the service and gave an interesting address pertaining to church bellyingers.

Tea was served in the Charch Hall aud was followed by the business meeting, Mr. C. Addams-Williams, the donor of one of the new bellis, being prasent, and, at the colaclusion of the meetivg, becoming an honorary life member.

Instructors', rastoration and augunentation reports wero read, mention being made that the proposed new peal of bells for Ebbw Vale wera to be installed and dedicated about the middle of September.
A report of the Central Council meeting held at Canterbury was given by one of the representatives who atteuded.

New members were elected from Cagrleon and Magor towers.
The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar for his kindness and hospitality closed the meeting.

The bells were alterwards kept going antil late in the evening, bringing to a close a pleasant and succescful meeting.

THE LATE DEAN OF ORIEL

On Wednesdey, May 2bth, at the Parish Chnreh, Redruth, Cortwall, a half-peal of Grandisire Doubles, with 4-6-8 covering, was rung in 1 hour 45 mimutes: Stagiey Seymour 1, William Sanders 2, Vivisu Wiliang 3, Edward Sinders 4, Havold Seymotir 5, Harry Mitchell 6. Frederic Harris (conductor) 7, William Simmons 8. This half-peal Was rung half-mufted as a tribute of respact to the late Rev. John Freeman Finssell, Dean of Oricl Callege, Oxford, whose death on Goronation Day was announced in a previons iscue of this paper, but contrary to the report which says be learned to ring whilst to student at Pembroke College, lie, as a watter of fact, learned to tiug at Redrath, and, together with his brother, Fore two of the flrst of the local band to be awarded the Guild medal for proficiency in change ringing, and it is interestitg to note that two of lris sometime fellowringers, E . and S. Seymour, stood in this balf-peal.

BELERY GOSSIP．

Realistic sounds of ehurch bells played a part in the Adershot Tattoo，which concluded on Saburday．Part of the scenery repre－ sented old London，with church tower，complete，firom this tower the pealing af bells in a course of Triples（provided by gramophone and amplitiers）heralded the opening item of the programme and was heard again in snother part of the wonderful pagennt．
Members of the Archdeaconry of Stafs Socioty will hold their ammal meeting in Sichfield on July 10th，but，although they meet as usual in their own Cuthedral city，they will not have the use of the Cathedral bells－because this is not the year for them．It is stragge that a diocesan organisation may only wing the bells of their Gathedral once in two years．
Special interest attaches to the meeting of the Salisbury Guild at Wybe Regis on July 10th，and members should make a point of being present．
The ringer of the eleventh in the peal at Liverpool on May 15th was Edward，and not Eraest Caupee as published．

SPLICED PEALS．  \section*{To 能e Editor．}

Dear Sir，The Gentral Gouncil，at its meeting Iast year，made cer－ tain decisions in respect of spliced peals．In view of these decisions， is the peal rung at Wymondham an May 12 th correctly described？ I ask in the interests of accuracy，and for no other reason．

Dear Sir，－As，as staunch supporter of on exceltent paper，＂Tho Ringing World，and as one wha has read with great interest the debate which fook place at the Central Comncil meeting，I feel I canuat allow the opportunity to pass，without endorsing entirely the remarks that were made and the soathing，but nolta the lass true， references to towars which take only one copy of the paper amongt their total strongth．
Mr．Percy Johnson cites an instance of a twelve－hell tower where this pesition obtaims．Assuredly this is despicable．I may suy that at Leeds Parish Church we have eleven members，six of whom toke the paper regularly，and in addition we also take ona copy for the tower，Of the remainimg five who do not take the paper it is only fair to say that their ages range from 65 to 78 years of age．Then again the problem of momployinent las beer acute．

However，I feel that if all towers supported the paper in this propor－ bion，the troubles of＂The Ringing world＂would，to $⿴ 囗 十 ⺝ 丶$ be greatly reduced．In conclusion，I trust your article will be read， marked，lenrut and inwardly digested by all who have tile interests of ringing ot heart．I may say I have taken the paper since its innovation and am now 76 years of age．HARRY SMITH，

CHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS．

THE NLW TREBLES．
In order to commemorate the jubilee of the Chester Diocesan Guild two bells havo been added to tho Gathedral peal in order to bring it to ten．The occasion has also been used to recognise the great work which has been carried out by the Dean end also the Covonation of Eing George VI．
The bells bear the following inscriptions：－
1．－Tbink aud thank．F．S．M．Bennett，Dean，Cast to celebrate the jubilee of the Chester Diocesan Guird of Bellringers，1887－ 1937.

2．－Benedictus Bemedicat．Cast in the yevar of the Coronation of H．M．King George VI．，1937．God Save the King．
The Diocesan Festival is to be held on Saturday，July 17th，when the Lord Bishop will declare the full peal open．
The service will commence at 3.30 ，followed by tea at 4.30 and the antual meeting at 5.15 ．
Several towers in the city will bo open for ringers who wish to＂bave a pull＇and in this way celebrate the accasion．

BIRMINGHAM CHURCH TO BE DEMOLISHED．

LAST PEAL ON THE BELIS．
On Wednesday．June Gth，was rung what will probably be the last peal upon the bells of Deritend Church．The church，a plain red－brick structire，is scheduled for demolition in the near future，to make way for th road－ppidening scheme．The bells，a tumeless peal of eight，were installed in 1777 by Robert Wells，of Aldbourae．Wilts．They had been silent for some five years，chiefy because，with so many modern peals in the vicinity，they were not considered to be worth ringing． However，with a borrowed set of ropes，and after seperal afternoons lad been spent by one or two of the band in greasing the bells and timhtening bolts，the bells were made pealable．
Pecnliarly enough，the sixth bell，which is the only bell in the tower to be linny on ball bearings，las the worst reputation for＇go．The following inscriptions may be of jaterest：－

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

   PEALS OF DOUBLES.}The following motion was on the agenda:-
That so much of all previous resolutions of the Council as defines or attempts to define what shall be recornised as a peal of Doubles be recinded and that the following be sulistituted therefor :-
. Peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in :-
(a) True and conplete Six-Scores, withaut interval between any two Six-Scores aud withoue rounds or any other row boing struck more than once before the next change is made.
(b) Round blocks consisting of two or more Six-Scores, provided Ind each of the Six Scores which comprise the round blocks shall be itself a trite and complete round block.

Twelve-Scores known as Morris' and Pitman's
(d) Combinations of (a), (b) and (c) above or any two of then. 2. At the conclusion of 5,040 or more changes, rung in accordance witia (1) above, one true touch of any length less than 120 changes nay be added.
3. Peals of Doubles may be dilng with or without a coveriag bell
th proposing the motion, Mr. W. G. Wilson said he made po apology or bringing the matter before the Counci, beanse the position which uroso on lije Peals Analysis Committee's report last year made it mevitable that sometring slould be done to clear the question up, 'rlse definition in the motion meant that peals should be recognised spliced " 1201 's were included in the secoud cdition of the Douphes sh Minor Collection. They consisted of round blocks, in which a x-score was commenced aud before it was firished, ane or more otber cix-scores were rung, and then the fust was finished. With regard to ho Morris and Pituruu arrangements, the latter was equivalent to the Bumes James arrangement ous six hells and the Council had already pproved of that. In the Morris arrangement the 120 changes were rugg nt hundstroke and also att backstroke, so that they had two 120 's intermingled more than they bad with an ordinary round hlock.

WHEN TEE TROUBLE SRARTED.

Mr. Wilson went on to yeview the attempts which the Conncil had unde to deal with the natter. Doubles had never heen dealt with hefore the Fereford meeting in 1928 and that wag when the trouble hefore the Hereford meeting in 1928 and that was when the toonble luat peals on five or six bells were. The one relating to Doubles was: That peale of Donbles consist of 42 true and complete 120 's rund ithout intorval and without rounds or ayy other row being included, - rung more than once in aus 100. A peal may be lengthened by ary number of 120 's fulfilling the same conditions, with or withont one tonel of less than 120.' That definition said, ' 42 true and complete 120 's." Thu Minor defnition was exuctly the same, except that :T, referted to seven $720^{\prime} s_{s}$ althongh Mr. Goldsmith claimed that it would allow Pitman's, but excluded Morris'. The Rev. F. Law James secouded that motion. Several people felt doubtril, if a peal was to -onsist of $42120^{\circ} \mathrm{s}$, whether Pitnan's and Morris' could be pung, and whether round blocks of 240 's would be excluded, and Mr. Tanes said infinitely "No." Although that dofinition exclucled epery thanges except $120^{\prime} s_{\text {, }}$ the proposer and seconder said the only thing it did exclude was Morris'. The Comeil passed the resolution. The zext lot of trouble Whe in 1929 nt Chelmsford, when the Methods Gemmittee reported that they wanted to include certain compositions in the new edition their book, it being shid that if the Exercise found they were aluable they would get nsed; if they found they were of no wse they mould distppert, but, said Mr. Wilson, they had not disarpeared yet. Hnrinte the delata Mr. Goldsmith said he was in fatour of including the Garkes James Camluridge, but hoped the Council would decide fhat the oliner aomposifions in disputa sinould be excluded, althongh, gaid Nry. Wifson, he had assmed the Conncil in the previous year that they wete inchtded in the resolution. Tlat 1929 meeting was the year when they liad an amendrant to exclude the compositions fram the linole passed by one vote, 30 to 29 , but conld not carry it as a zubstantive mation, which showed there was a good deal of donbt. When it was suggested it should be included as an appendix with an indication that tine insertion did not commit anyong to the opinjor that tion that the insertion did nat commit anylund to the opinion that volos to three, which seement to him to hring out the fact that ay lat meribers thought they were valuable enough to put, in the book, an if they were doubtful nbout ringin宫 a peal containing them.

NNGLTDED TN THE ANALTSES TABJTES

After thet debate Mr. Whittington hat a motion which was ceferred matil a later date, but lie dfd ask ane gutestion : Would the inclusion of these compositions in the book commit the Peals Analysis Commatitec lo accepting thern in thein reporth, rad he was definitely told "No." Rut every year sinco then they lad been included in the report, and the Conncil had approved of the tninles without debate, and had even the Comin bad approved of the tatiles withont debate, and had even done so again that mormin芦. In 1929 there was an marticle in 'The Ringing World" which satil the position with regard ta peals of Donbles was in a most unsatisfactory state, that things conld not remain as they were and sooner or later the question would have to be settled. That was eight years aso and still the question was not settled. They had a resi foi a yeni or two and the question was next brounght in in 1934 when the Conncil decided that, notwitinstanding any definition to the entrar", peals in any recognised Minor method contuiuing compositions on the Brakes James plan werc, iu the opinton of the Council, permissible. That settled the ahinor question and was a commousense way of dealing willh it, allhugh they were warned on that oucusion hat it wonld bring other things in its truin. As far as Minor was concerned they had had no more of it. What he was asking the Council to do that day was the same as they had already done for the Minar. The immediate thiug that caused that motion ta be put on the mgenda was the decision of the Comail last year, when, they would remmber, the Councit considered a report of the Peals Analysis Commiltee and a peal of Minor was mentioned which had been rung ia 1935 and dia not coniom to the decision of Whe Conncil, because it contained three 480's of Little Bob. The Analysis Committee was then definikely instructed to exclude it from the report, but 110 one suggosted that they shourd exclude peals in which Pitman's and Morris arrangements had been nung. Tho Councli also instrueted the committee to exclude from their tables may peals which were contrary to the decisions of the Council and to draw the Council's aftention to them [or discussion. That made the guesfiom bound to be considered that day. Even if his motion had not been on the paper, safd Mr. Wilson, the Council wotld have had to tonsider it that maraing on the report of the Analysis Committec.
There were three things which the Conneil cotld do. They conld carry ous as they were now doing, disapproving of these peals on paper and allowing then in the report. He did not think the Council wund agree that that was sutisfnctory. They could decide to enforee the original motion on Doubles and exchinde everything except 120 .s.
they did that they would bo treating Doubles ringers diferent to the way in which they treated Minar riugets, with less reason, hecanse Doubles tingerg were more restricted. The othor connse, and the one he wanted them to choose, was to pass his resolution and face up to the sifuation that progress had been made in composition; that fivebell ringing conk do with something extra, and should loe dealt with in the same way as six-bel Linging. Ho was asking then to do 1928 they were tasured by the proposer and seconder that Pitomn's nid Bankes James" arrangements were included.

Mr. Wilsou was wrimly epplauded on tha cunclusion of his "maiden speech in the Council.
Mr. E. C. S. Turnoy, in seconding, said that from the Anvlysis rung mo less than 13 peals durita 1936 . thourgh that was a good reason for passing the resolution.

NOT $A$ IEG TO SIAND ON.
Mr, S. I. Wcod congratulated Mr. Wison an tho wny he han stated his case in his first speech to the Courail, especielly benving in mind the tasl: he lad got, for he lad not got a lag to siand an or Minor at all. The grounds on which ho (M1. Wood) apposed tho motion were, firgt, tha length and complicated nadure of the rale. The existiug ruld semed to him to be quite simple aud concise, it was understood hy everybody. It mitht not have been at first, bul he thought they all now underston what 120 of Doubles was nud what 720 of Winer was, He felt the Council was going to be al laughing stock if it could not say what it would accepil as a peal of Donblea without taking up lalf a page of the printed agenda papar and havist three clauses and four sub-chascs to explain it. As reands Morris and Pitman's arrangement ho did not feel very much either way. He did mot do huoh Doubles ringing hinsole ond ho would like ta hear the views of Doubles ringers as to whelinor they wanted to contimon ringing these compositions. He conld nat gee that they wanter ho alter the whole principle of a poal. Recently ho weat through the whold listory of the controversy. It scemed to him that one matin thing came out of tha loug and bitter years of strugrle and that wass that after a certain amount of dithering and wavering on the part of the Council they did, in the end, renffrm the provious primoiple that peals on six and five bells shonld consist of the requisite number of extents The Bankes Janes Minor was not recomisod by the Council untit it was proposed thet, notwithstanding that it was not in conformity with the existing delinition of a peal, it should be accepted. He could not see why they could not de the snme with the Doubles and sny that the Mortis and Pitman arramgements conld he let in as exceptions. Mr. Wilson himself sald that when they passed the resolution on the Bankes James arrangement it ended the controversy and mathint more had been heard of it, Exerybody was satisfied and everyboay would still be satisfed witlo regard to the Doubles
Mr. J, A. Trgllope congratilated Mr. Waod on the mose persuasiva way he had talked the largest amount of tosh and tripe that he had heard for' a long time (langhter). When he talked shat the Bankes James composition having been lat in an an exception, he was not spenking the truth. That was brought in ' notwithstanding anythinge to the contrary.' As to Mr. Wood's objection to this definition of a peal of Danbles on the score of its langeh, he the speaker) had been a member of the Canmil for 40 years and he had seen $n$ mumber of attempts fo formulate defintions. Most of them had shown low extracrdinarily difficult it was. There was one criticisn of the present motion has whild offer, and he wonld move as an emendment the omission of the second clanse about ringing an odd tonch. Fe did not know where that came from. A peal of Doubles should be in muitiples of six-scores and a peal of Minor shonld be in multiples of 720 . (A Foice: Herv, hear

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN MINOR AND DOUBLES Continued from previous pespe.)

Mr. Trollope: I know exactly what I an saying, you won't get me on that (laughter). It was extraordinarily diffeult, conbinued Mr. Trallope, to say in a definition exactiy what they meant by truth and corapleteness except on seven bells. They all agreed that on seven bells a peal should consist of 5,040 changes 'without repetition of a change or a bell out of conerse.' If they were ta ring Fold's tenpart peal and at the cud ring a touch of, suy, a thousand in the same method without interval, could they claim they bud rung a peal of 6,000 of Grandsire Triples? He thoutht not. They would have rung a peal aud a touch; the fact that they had been rutg without interval would not alter the fact. The same principle ought to be made to apply to Doubles. The ringing of odd bita was not only contraty to the principle on which peal ringing should be done, but he did not think it was wauted. Fe moved the deletion of clause 2.
Mr. J. S. Goldsmith opposed the motion on the ground that what shonld constitute a peal of Doubles was already edequately defined. It was quite true that when le moved tha definition at Hereford he said le considered it included tho Pilman Doubles, and he now frankly confersed that he changed his opiaion on this poizt very soon afterwards, and that was the reason he opposed its inclusion in the Donbles and Minor Colleotion' at Ohelmsford. The Morris and Pitman arrngements were riot on the bame footing as the Bankes James arraygement of Cambridge Minor, aud in proof of this the speaker quoted the Council's own rules on 'Regular Hethods.' In thege rules it was laid down that 'in methods with one hunt, which included Minor, the division between the leads was between the first and second blows of the whole pull of the hunt, before or behind.' Therefore, Minor methods hnd rowds as the firet row of the metlod, and, that being so, the Bankes James arrangement consisted of true extents. But when they came to Doubles the Council's rules laid it down that "in methods with two hunts (the treble and another) the division between the leads was midway befween the whole pull of the first bunt and the whole pull of tha second hunt, before or belind. ${ }^{1}$ Thus rounds was not the first row of Grandsire Doubles, and consequently Pitman's arrangement did not consist of true extents. There was, therefore, a definite distinction between the Minor and Doubles, and he asked the Council not to accept the motion on the ground that the Doubles should be admitted because they liad accepted the Minor.

NO REAL DEMAND

As to whellier there was any real demand among ringels to ring ${ }^{3}$ hese compositions, as was surgested by Mr. Turmer when he said that last year one association lad rung peals including these arrangements 13 times, Mr. Goldsmith said an entirely different complexion was put upon this fact when they realised that 12 of these peals were called by the fame conductor and the other by one of his baud. Ouly an three other occasions hed this arrangement been used by other conductors, and even then in one case only 240 was used and in another only a 720 . He sugtested that these facts showed there was no real demand for the admission of these compositions as peals, and in any case if conductors and ringers wanted greater variety in their peals they could get it by tha far more interestin口 way of substituting other bells than the trebto as the hunt bell, and by doing go they could continue to rint, true extents, which should be the basis of all peals of Doubles and Minor. He wamed the Council that this motion was only the thin ead of the wedge on the pert of those who leld that any sort of arrangemeut of Doubles or Mizor should be accepted as a peal as long ats recognised method was used and every low of Doubles appeared 42 times and evers tow of Minor seven times, He contended that this was against the fradition of peal ringing and asked the Council to vote against the motion
The President asked if the 15 peals rung by one association liad Mr rung in five-bell towers.
Mr. Goldsmith said in only fwo or three instances was that the case.
The President said ho asked in case the baud was limited to ringing Doubles.

CONSISTENT TNOONSISTENCY

Mr. P. J. Johnson said it seemed to him that the Council, having accepted certain things, must accept certain ather things, and he could not see how they were going to get out of it, Once having accepted the Bankes James anrangement they must, to be consistant in their incousistency, accept this motion. It was wrong to havo accepted the Bankes James arraugements, but, having done so, they must accept this other. One or two of the speakers, continued Mr. Jolinson, had put wp the argument that these compositions were something that ringers wished to ring. He thought that was one of the things that settled the Bankes James joh. What they had to decide, however, was nat what ringers cared to ring-that had nothing to do with the matter at all-but a mathematical problem. What they had to decide was whether they wero going to ring sepctitions, but, having decided to accept the Bankes James composition, to be consistently inconsistent they must accept this motion.
The Rev. I-. Drake supported the amendmert to leave out paragraph 2 and was prepared also to lenve out paragraph 3 .
Mr. C. T. Coles, in congratulating the mover and seconder on giving the Council the cnly subject for discussion that day, apart from the committee reports, said, from his own experience, be was astonished at bineir temerity in reintroducing the subject. With regard to the number of peals rung, said Mr. Coles, Pitman's composition was puhiished in December, 1923, and Morris ir December, 1926. Up to the end of 1830 Pitman's composition lad been rung in peals, wholly or in part, some 139 times by 15 associations. About that time the controversy began and people began to look upon them suspiciously as lreing false. Since then there lad been a considerable falling off. This year, up to date, they liad beer fung three times, by three associations and three different conductors. The compositiong had never been rung by the association which Mr. Wilson and he represented, so they did not attempt to regalarise them for their own sake, but for the sake of the Exeroise at large. A composition of Triples or Major if known to be false was ignored; ringers would have nothing to do with it; but there were a considerable number of people who did not consider that the Morrjs ne Pitnan arrangements could be revarded as false. If they had had any doubt on the subject they would have ignored them. He reminded the members that theso compositions bad been published by the Council ; were they, then, to be told that they encouraged the ringing of them but refused to recognise them in peals? If they did they would certainly, as Mr. Wood said, make a laghing stook of themselves. If these compositions were to be barred, wero the Gouncil going to clelate the peals from all previous analyses or only trom last year's; or would it be only from this year's or only from that day? If they wero false why should they not all be cut out? Another dificulty the committee would be faced with was that pols were not always fully described. Occasionally a reprort merely stated "5,040 Grandsire Doubles.' Were the committee to write and ask for further details or were the committee to be allowed to put these particular peals in the analysis and so encourage a certain amount of dishonesty among conductors, who could ring Pitman's and Morris' compositions tho their heart's content and not describe them? It was said that the Bankes James peal consisted of true 720 's because rounds was the first row of the method. If it consisted of true 720's there was no need to bring up the resolu tion three years ago admitting it as ank oxception. In conclusion, Mr Coles asked members of the Conncil who were not six and five-bel ringers, and who had fundfmental objections to six and five-bell peals, not to euter the controversy, but to let it be settled by those wio were in sympatly with the siy and five-bell ringers. The Council published thess compositions in one of their publications and hard inclucled the peals in the analysis iables for the past 14 years: if they were to be consistent, therefore, they must admit them at this stage

NO MORE ADDED TOUOHTS.

Mr. J. Hum said lae did int agree with accepting the Minor, and ho still did not agree to-day, but he felt, in justite to the five-hell' ringers, that, liavitg accepted the Bankes James Minor, they must accept this resolution. He, however, supported the deletion of Clauses 2 and 3. They did not want to fuish a peal with a tanch of two bats regand to the covering bell, they had been ringing peals with that for the last 40 or 50 years or move.
Mr. Wilson accepted the amendment to delete Clause 2 relativg to the additional touch at the and of a peal, although, le saich, he did not know there was anything fundamentally wrong about it.
Mr. Kynasfon then moved as an amendment to delete all the motion fter $1(a)$ - Mr. Hollier seconded, but the amendment was lost.
Mr. S. H. Wood moved that sub-clause (b) be deleted. He said this provided for starting a 120 , and then splicing into it another 120. would be possible, he said, to go on splicing the six-scores one into the other, until they got a one-part 5,040 , the only thing about whinh was that they had each clange 42 fimes MI'. Goldsmith said to delete this would be more inoonsitent than ever, and Mr. Coles said if it were taken out it, would be one of the most fonlish thinss the Council had ever done.
Mr. A. D. Barker said the Tankes James aud the Mortis and Pitman arrangements were mot rung as much as they uset to be, and he thought the use of them would die out in time.

Mr. Wood's amendment was negatived, and the original motinn (omitting (lause 2), on being put. was carried, the President remart ing that ft was by about a three to one majority.
(Ta be contimued.)

BELLS OF ST. PETER'S, BOURNEMOUTH.

A RESTORATION TUND.

A fund has been opened to provide the mecessary money to completely xestore the befls of St. Peter's, the Parish Church of Bourisemeuth, in commemoration of Coronation year.
It is proposed to reeast und relang the peal in modern fittinge at a cosf of f500, and in connection with the recasting wark a very generous offer has been mace to the Yicar.
The raising of the required balagce would not be formidable lant for the presence of a large deficit on parochial funds, a deficit which has accunnlated since St. Peter's has become bereft of its residential congregation and las become something of a ${ }^{2}$ city chureh ' surroumted by business establishments. There is 110 donbt as to the urgency of attention to the peal of eight bells, and it is hoped to maise the money da allow for the completion of the work during Coronation year.
It may be that some of the visitins ringers who lave been welcomed at St. Peter's midht like to help. Contributions may be sent. to the Vicar, Canon Feriley Burrows, St. Teter's Hall, Hinton Road, Bommemotht, and will be gratefully aclinowledged.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION

IHE IMPORTANCE OF QUARTERLY PEALS.
Thirtotures members put in an appearance at the summer urebling of the Western Hranch, fiehd on Saturday, Juae 12tl, at Longdou, 13 miles from Worcester, and lying between Upton-on-Seven and Towkesbury. Considering the traveling distence and diffenties of gocess (for Longdon js it village situated on a secondary road, and hases loneling the place are few and far beween, this number was satisfactory. phe old church possesses a ring of six bells supplied by T. Meurs in 1835, wemor abont 12 cwt., which were rehung by Mears and Stainbank in the eatly part of this yerw, and althang the toue leaves something to be desired, the "go' is excelient.

The Rev. W. Griffiths, curate of Uptou-on-Severn, kindly took the service in place of the Vidan of Longdon, the Rev. G. W. Webb (clerical secretary), who, unfortumately, lies ill in a Malvern mursing home. Cousequently arrangements for tea were re-made at slart uotice, and it was held at the Plough Iun, no member beiog out of canlise.
In the Vicnr's absenge, Mr. R. G. Knowles (vipe-presicent) was voted to the chair, JIlse first matter exising out of the minulies was the last gatarterly peal, but no one knew whether it lad been successfully ruag. The condincor was not present and no notification of its having been rumy laad reached the meeting, whereunon Mr'. S. T. Eolt observed that the guarterly peal had been instituted primarily for the benefit of local binds and to encourage budding conductors, and, whelieq sucecssful or otherwise, the result ought to be made known to the meeting. Fe expressed fhe hope that conductors would treat the quanterly peal serionsly, and look mpou it more as an homour at being elected to call the peal.
"He hon. secretary (Mr. G. E. Large) told the meeting that in spite of their proposing and accepting tho Bushley ringers, he had spent quite a lot of poslage in Lrying to obtain that band's subscription hut without result, so that he feared it was now a hopeless case.
The quarterly peal, to be rung at Lonyrdon, was left in the hands of the Branch Ringing Master, MIr. C. Camm, while it was decided to hold the hranch annual meating at St. John's, Worcester.

LOOAI RINGERS ABSENT.

Thu Clainman expressed his pleasure at seeing so many young ingers present. They were very mecessary, he said, if the place of older ones was to be taken, to say nothing of keeping bellfounders in lasiness!
The secretary asked members if they would point ont to him any errors in his 'Meport' so that they could be rectiffed.
Mr. Holt proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. G. W. Webb for llowinet the use of Longdon Church and bells, to the curate of Uptor for laking the service at short notice, and to Mrs. Welob for playing the orgas He also proposed that the secretary write to the Vicar expressing the meeting's wishes for his speedy recavery.-These proposals were carricd manimously and ended the business meeting
Thore followed a fnrther hour or so's rimginm, ranging from rounds to two successfin tonches of Spliced London and Cambridge Surprise, thongh it mast he admitted that the splice '-Cambridge to London -nearly elyded in a 'clean break' on several oceasions.
Olf stalwarts in the persons of Mr. Tom Elcoz, who came from Areley Kings, it distance of about 27 miles cach way, and Mrs. Bill "Evergreen') Renford, who came from Suckley, 24 miles, were an exanple to many of the younger members of the franch, who live only hialf the disfance away and yot who failed to turn up.
This mecting, arranged at Iongdon especially to encourage the new local hand just forming there, did not have the desired effect, as all were taking part in a ericket match at Worcester!

AN IMPORTANT SUBJECT.

Among the general items which came before the Central Council, under the heading of 'Other business,' was one which was mentioned by the President and passed over without further comment. And yet, in regard to the practical side of ringing, it is by no means the least important subject which should concern us. We refer to the method by which bells are raised and lowered before and after ringing. At all too few towers is this matter given the attention it deserves. The correct way to begin and end ringing is by raising and falling the bells in peal and there is no other effective substitute. There are expedients which minimise the unpleasant eftect of bellis raised or lowered incliscriminately, such as pulling them up or dropping them singly and in order (which is probably the best method if it is not done in peal), or by doing it in chords. Too frequently, however, no attention is paid to these preliminaries, or finalities, often be cause ringers will not take trouble to practise.
In the old days, before the use of stays and sliders, raising and falling was necessary in connection with every bout of ringing, and was an essential preliminary of every ringer's training. To-day it seems to be one of the last things the majority of ringers learn. Yet raising and falling in peal, well done, not only, as the President pointed out, puts a polish to a performance, but is actually one of the best methods of teaching a beginner bell control. There are, of course, quite a number of bands who make it a practice to do his thing properly, and it is often the least accomplished change ringers who are most assiduous in their attention to it, indeed, the 'round' ringers of the West Country would not dream of doing anything but pull their bells up and down in peal.

We hope the President's remarks will receive the attention they deserve, and that, particularly for service ringing, ringers everywhere will improve their efforts in this direction. Raising and falling cannot be accomplished properly without practice, but for the sake of the general effect on the ears of the public it would be all to the good if the 'jangling' of bells indiscriminately before and after ringing were entirely avoided. If, because of the weight or for other reasons, all the bells in a tower cannot be raised or lowered in peal, the President's suggestions are those which cause the least offence to the ear; and particularly should it be made a practice, where raising and falling cannot be carried out, to get the bells up and down, one at a time and in order from treble to tenor. The effect of many a good touch has been spoiled by clashing bells in discord afterwards, but (Continued on page -434.)

there are ringers who seem not to realise this. If they do, but fail to mend their ways, their action is all the more to be regretted. But the ideal aim should be raising and falling in peal, and that well done.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS

THE MASTER'S GARDEN PARTY AT BRASTED

On Saturday last, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis entertained a number of the officers (past atid prosent) and stich other members of the sociaty as were able to accept the general in witatiou extended to them. This being the festival year, it was hoped that many ladies would come with their menfolk. They formed about a fourth of the party, which mustered about 45 in all

Tho Landon contingent mostly availed themselves of the private bus placed at their disposal by. Mr. Lewis, and which left St. Panils Charchyare at 1.30 . Others arrived by car, and at 3 oclock Mr. Lewis and family were welcoming quite a big assembly on the lawn and forecourt of Moorcocks (formerly the old Rectory) at Brasted. To those who do not know the lovely Westerham valley in which Brasted lies, it may sufice to say that it is Kent at its best and that the Pilarims chose it in forming the "Way" to Centerbury.
Reassembling, the party drove away over wooded hills and by winding lanes to Penslurst, a village known for its beauty even amongst Kentish villatses. The bells had been kindly placed at the party's clisposml and were rung to aereal "touches.' Time did mot allow of a visit to Penslimst Place adjoinilg. On memories are, however, anakened los seefor this famous Elizabethan bouse, and we think of 1he Virgin Queen, of Leicoster, Sir Philip. Sydney (poet and lero of Zatphen) and others associated with Penshurst.
The return journey was by the main road thruugh Sevenoaks, affording a glimpse of Knowle, another famous mansion (they seem to cluster in these parts), and so again to Brasted. We are late and there is Mrs. Lewis waiting for her riuests to do justice to the temptingly fpread tables. These old rectories! How easily tley ahsorb a crowd and exhale hospitality.
Skirtimg the flower beds, the great cedar and the elaestnuts, for Moorcocks is embowered on three sides by stately trees, we fiad two meadows, a hrook, and there is Brasted Church. Tlee massive old lower has six bells, and, the day being their anniversary, they are cloubtiess well satisfied at the way in which it was celebrated.

The ringers being thus employed, the ladies explore the gardens, now at their best, aud which also supply two dozen beautiful bonquets for thenz and those others who were unable to be there. The last of these pleasant hours soou passes in refreshment and elintting on the lawns, with the cinkling handbells for musical backgrounci. Nine p.m. and all join in heartily thanking Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, with cheers for lhem and all their family. And so home.
Amongst the past ant present officers of the society who attended were Messrs. Ttighes, Dawe, Pnssmore, Groombridge, Young, Fenn, Porter and Waugh.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION  OANTERBURY DISTRTCT'S BXE-MEETING

A pleasant bye-meoting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association was held at Throwley on Saturday, Jume 12th.
Fifty members and friends attended, representing 13 towers and four districts of the association. There was also present a visitor from Joundon.
Ringing took place on the night bells, and the association's form of service was conductea by the Vicar (the Rev. C. D. B. Somerville), who also gave a short address.
Tes, kindly provided by loenl friends, was partaken of on the Vicarage lawn and was thoronglaly enjoyed by all present.
One new member was elected, and the election of a member previous (o a penl attempt was confirmed Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the जicar for the use of the luells, thie Eervice and address, and also to the local people for providing tho tea.
After 'snaps, had been taken by one of the younger members, a return was made to the tower and further ringing enjoyed until lake in the evening, rounds, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent and Oxford Trehle Bob, Double Norwicls and Cambridge being practised,

FOR BEGINNERS.

We regreb the internption af this series of articles, owing to the pressure on our space by the large number of peals rung 3 celebration of the Coronation. This week we take up tho broken threw of Minor methods which are related in their construction The last article appeared in our issue of May 28th.$$

In preceding articles we dealt with double methods and method grouping-the real object of which has been to show that ringere, with the exercise of average intelligence, will find it porfectily easy to extend their practice from one to a number of methods-let us look at some other methods which come into the group of which Donble Oxford and Double Court form part.
It has previonsly been pointed out thas certain blocks of changes, forming plain courses, may have their constituent "leads" unted sither by 2nd's place or 6th's, when the treble lcads, thus forming two different methods. In addition, the same clianges can be used to make other methods by the use or omission of 5 th's place when the treble lies its whole pull behind. Thus the clianves of a plain coutse can be kait togetber in one or other of the following ways:-

By 2nd's only, when treble leads.
By 6th's only, when treble leads.
By 5 thi's, when treble is vehind, and 2nd'a,
By 5th's, when treble is behind, and oth's.
Strictly speaking, 6 th 's, in Minor, is not a 'place' ' within the meaning of the Act,' or, shall we say, within the meaning of the application of the word 'place.' It is only a necessary whole pull in ane position to enable a bell, which las been lunting ap, to reverse its course alld hunt down. But as $4 \mathrm{lh}^{\prime}$ s place at the lead head of a regular method is a bob, it follows that if 2nd's place is not made when the treble leads, the bell behind must of necessity lay a whole pull, and so we have our methods divided into 2nd's place and 6th's place metliods.

Double Oxford, as we heve explained, is, constructionally, Double Court, with the addition of Sth's place when the treble is beland and 2nd's place when the treble leads.
There are twe other mathods in this group which are obtained by the employment, in one case, of Zud's only and, in the ather, by the use of Sth's only. The former is Hereward Bob and Whe latter London Bob.

When you come to write oul the methods you will find that London Bob is the same as Double Oxford, row for row, until the treble leads, and then Znd's is omitted, and 6th's place is necessarily made by the bell behind.
Fercward Boh follows Double Court, row for row, matil the treble feads, when Znd's has to be ingerted. In earla half-lead of all these four methods places are made across the treble, 4 th's and 3 rd's as it passes up through $3-4$; and 3 rd's and 41 h 's as it comes down through -3. The difference in them all is the link that joins the half-leads.
Fere is an interesting thing to vo: Write out a full course of one of the methods, cat it into ten pieces by dividing it between the rows when the treble is behind and when it is leading. With these ten pieces you can reconstruct any one of the four methods.
The 'standaud callings as applied to Double Oxford and Double Court apply to these two other methods. Ifereward. having 2nd's place, is called Wrong, Right, Wrong; and London Boh, heving Eth's when the treble leads, In, Out, In.

This is when the 6th is observation bell and the tenors are brought up always the right way behind. If the 5 th is to be used as the obsorvation bell and you keop the tenors the right way -as yout should -the calling to be used is, Right, Wrong, Right in the Znd's place methods: and Out. In. Ont in methods wilhout 2nd's place. This applies to all resular Minor mothods.
In plain methods two singles aro necessary to complete the extent, and they aro called at what. would otherwise be a "plain" Right or n plain 'Out,' according to whether it is a 2nd or 6th's place method, if the 6th is the observation hell and at a plain Wrong or plain In if the 5 th is the observation bell. The first single raay be called in ejthel the first, second or third prart of the first half, as lover as the second single is called in the corresponding part of the second half.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DIVISION MEETING AT WASHINGTON

A meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Wasingiton on Saturday, June 12th, when 40 members attended from Arundel, Angmering, Heene, Lyminster, Rudgwiok. Shoreham, Twineham, West Turring. West Grinstead and the local band. There were also two visitors from Hayes, Kent.
Ringing during the afternoon was followed by a short service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. $F$. O. Houserana). After tee the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar: Four $11 e$ w members were elected, viz., Messis. R. Burch, A. Blackman, J. Bentinck ani H. Parsons.

A vote of thanks was accorided to the Vien for the use of the bells, and Mr. Houscman, in replying, gave the ringers a cordial welcome, also remayking on tho big nttendance. Further ringing until 8 pm . brought in very successfind and cnjoyable mecting to a close.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCEETY.

NOT IDEE AT IDLE.

On Saturday, June 19th, the Leeds and District Society visited Idie, near Bradford, for their June meeting. The weather was far from the 'Flaming June' of the poet's phrase, as it was raiming most of the aftemoon and evening, but this did not deter ringers atitendius from Armley, Batioy, Bradford Cathedral, Burley, Calverley, Drighlington, Holbeck, Lindley, Leed Parish Ohurch, Headingley (St. Chnd's), Rothwell, Shipley and tire local company.
The business meeting was held in the tower, with the president in the chair.
One new member was elected, viz., Mies Edith Mansbridge, of Drighlington.
The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was propased by Brr. Lofthouse, and seconded by Mr. Rayment. - Mr. Thomas Hill, who is churchwardee as well as riager, raplied.
The next meeting is to be held at Drighlington on Saturday, July 2th.
Diecussion was inviled on the question as to how the ciroulation of The Ringing World ' could be increased.-Mr. Simpson (Shipley) suggested all new or young ringers should be advised to take a copy. Anothar suggestion was that all towers be asked to inquire the number of copies talres, with & view to an increase in each tower.

LADIES' GUILD.

CENTRAL DISTRICT AT BEDDIRGTON.

An enjognble meeting of the Central District of the Ladies Guild was held at Beddington and was very well attended, about 40 people beint present. Tea was partaken of in the Church Fall, and Mrs. Deal presided at the business meeting which followed.
Two new menbers were eleated, i.e. Mrs. F. E. Collijs, of Thoveton Hrath, and Miss M. Proxliam.
St. Giles-in-the-Fields was closen for the annual reeting on July 3rd. Braintrec was selected for the September meeting. The next Wednesday meeting has been arranged for June 23 rd at sevenonks, Mrs. G. W. Fletcher requested all those who require tickets for the Jubilee dinuer of the Guide to send their names to her or their district secretary os soon as possible, as the number is limited.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector, the organist and Mrs. D. Rippin, who lind to make such hasty arrangements for this mecting. The ringing in the tower included a course of Grandsire Catere, Stedman Catiers and a touch of Double Norwich by members of the Guid. London and Cambridge Major and Cambridge Royal was also rung, three parts of the band in each case being composed of members. Tho ringing, on the whole, was of a very high sitandert.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

MBEIING AT COSELEY.
The quarterly mecting of the Dudley and District Guild wns hold at Christ Church, Coseley, SLaffs, on Sraturday, June 5th, in ideel summer weather. The attendance of members was bolow the average. The bells wore kept going in various methods, and service wns couducted by the Vicar (the Rev. N. W. Watson), who gave a very interesting and homely address. After service the members adjourned to tho schools, where a bountitul ten was in readiuess, kindly providen by the Vicar, and it was verretted that there were not more present to partake of the good things provided. It. is hoped that thosc who sent in their names and did not turn up will kindly make a note of this for future occasions.

The usual business meating was held under the chairmanship of the Vicar, who welcamed the members to Coseley and said he hoped that they would enjoy their visil.
The secretary mentioned that since their last meeting they had lost by death ane of their aldest and most respected membors, a poneer in the formation of this Guild-he referred to the late N1. John Goodman, sen., "father" of the Dudley Guild.-Mr. Isarc Eyans, of Wilienhall, was clected a member of the Guild. It was decided that the next quarterly peal be attempted at Coseley, and the next quarterly meeting beld at Taville, Stalts, subject to the nsual permission being obtained failing whicin the secretary make afler arrangements. Tho arrapgements for the quarterly peal race left in tho hands of Mr. W. Fisher.-Mr. C. Wallater proposed and Mr. S. J. Ifuglos seconded the best thanks of the meeting to the Vicar of Coseley for his kindness in regard to the mecting and gervice; to the organist, Mr. F. Flavell, and especial! to the Yicar and Mrs. Watson for the splendid tea that they provided, and to the ladies who prepared and gervod the meal; also to Mr. Dennis Folden for making the necessary arrangements and to all who had in any way assisted in making the mecting an enjoyable and happy one.-Mr. Fisher, on belanlf of the Vicar and Mrs. Watson and all concerned, thanked the members for heir appreciation and thanks.
There was further singive afterwards in various methods.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The claim of a band of the Essex Association to have rung the first peal on the bells of Stoke-by-Clare, Suffolk, is not sorrect. Aecording to a Sulfolk correspoudent, the first peal was ruug on February 18th, 1903, when a band of the Ely Association rang a peal of Bob Minor, called by Mr', R. Gawers. 'IU'hese bells,' our correspondent adds, 'ay'e a maiden peal and are just as they camo out of the foundry, Osboin's, Downham, in 1786. Tliey run the wrong way round.'
A successful week's rilging tour in Humpslife concluded on Mriday June 25th. Six of the cight pails rung were conducted by Mr. Frank Hennett, the others being called by Mr. George Williams and Mr. George R. Pye.
Twice the Rev. C. T. Wigg started to call a peal of Cambridge. At Hursley the rope of the hith slipped after an hour's good ringing, and at Lymington somebody in the church below pulleat the hammer that was used for service chiming right into the path of the tenor which took it squarely with the jnevitable result of stopping the peal. Fortunatsly tho bell ascaped injury, but the hammer was krocked clean out of its bolts.
We uaderstaud that the wwo historians of the party made their usual collection of aotes on the backs of an apparently unlinated supply of envelopes. When these are deciphered, 'Ringing World readers are promised a choice story!
The ringer of the fourth in the peal of Grandsire Triples rung ato Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs, reported in our last issue, was Frederick A. Forster.

The clain made for the first peal on the bells, at Marksbury, Somerset, on May 18th last, does not hold good. A peal of Minor had previously been rung there.
Three of the ringers who took part in the Corouation peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor, at Wollaston on May 29tl-Messrs. J. Bass, R. Mathews and W. Short-have now wung peals of Oxford and Kent Treblo Bob, Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise from Minor to Maximus, and Grandsine and Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.
The conductor of the peal of Treble Bob Royal at Isleworth on Tune 12th was Thomas H. Taflender and not as stated in our last issuc.
A diary correction to hand. The joint meeting and social at Fillinydon between the Oxford Guild, Ladies' Guild and Middlesex Association will be held on Octrober 16th and not Ockober 9th.

VALUABLE BOOKS AT POPULAR PRICES.
CHEAPER EDITIONS OF 'BELLS THRO' THE AGES' AND "HISTORY AND ART OF CHANGT RINGING.'
Ringers will welcome the announcement that Messrs. Chapman and Fall bave published cheap editions of the two books, 'Bells Thra' the Ages,' by J. R. Nichols, and 'Fistory and Art of Charge Ringing,' by Eruest Morris, F.R. Hist.S. The new edition of each is now priced at 75. 6d. and can be obtained through any bookseller.
The books, ench in their particular sphere, when first published filled a place in bell bibliograply which bad long wanted filing. Neither subject had been realiy adequately covered in auy one volume, and the student had, perforce, to glean his knowledge of bells and bellringing from many sources.
Mr. Niuhols did a great service in bringing together witzin one volume the story of bells down the centuries, and, in the same way, Mr. Morris compiled an invalnable book of reference when he brought together the mass of information and records crowded into the neariy 700 proges of his history of ringing.
Equalty Messrs. Chapman and Hall have now rendered a great service to ringers and the art of ringing by placing these volumes on the market at a price within tie reach of a far larger circle of interested readers, both inside and outside the Exercise.
The wolumes are complete reproductions, as far as contents are concerned, of the originals, and ringers who were unable to purclane the first editions will welcome the opportunity now presented of cecuring these books for their own sheives, for they are nat only full of passing interest, but invaluable for reference.

BASINGSTOKE BELLRINGERS' FEAT:

STRANGE HAPPENINGS AT EAST HAGBOURN#
We krow that ringers do strange things at times, but until now we have never hesiv of them Morris daneing while they rang the church betls. But here is what a Berkshire newspaper printed the other day (the italics ate ours): -
Members of the Basingstoke Bellingers' Society visited Easf Eagboume on Saturday on their anuual outing. At the tower of St. Andrew's they rang touehes of Grandsire Triples and Cambridge Supprise. They were welcamed by the foreman of the tower (Mr. A. H. Webb). During the ringing and after the wisitars gawe diapiays of coundry daneing and Morrig danoes round the Upper Cross. The party danced under the direction of a special instructor, accompanied by their own music of violing and drums.

THE PEAL OF TREBLE BOB AT WYMONDHAM To the Editor.

Dear Sir, With referance to Mr. Goles' inquiry, the peal rung at Wymondham on May 12th was erroncously described as a spliced peal. Th the records of this association the peal is written down as "a peal of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Worcester Variation, and will appear in our report for the current year as such.

LEEDS FOR THE NEXT MEETING.

When the Coumeil was called upon to decide the place of the next meeting, the President said the Standiug Committee recommended that the Council should visit Forkshire.

MT. P. J. Johnson (Leeds) said the matter had been diseussed in the past by the Yorkshire Association, who would rather the Council wisited Leeds. Lreeds was in the centre of some of the finest scenery in the finest county of England (laugliter nud applause), with some of the finest bells in Englaud and some of the finest-looking ringers (laughter). He proposed that the nert meeting of the Council be held at Leods.
Mir. S. F. Palmer (Sheffietd) seconded. He did not agree with all Mr. Johnson had said (laughter), because they had some of the best secnery in Eogland round Sheffeld and they had some fane bells.
The Hon Secretary said that at their meeting on the previous evening the Standing Committee received an invitation for the Council to visit Leicester.
Mr. J. Harris, who proposed that the meeting be held at Leicester, aid that although there were good bells in Leeds, they claimed to arve befter bells in Leicester (langhter). They opened, on Coronation Day, what they considered the finest peal of twelve they had ever beard, and they were the only city in the world, atside London, that had two rings of twelve. Iu Leicester also they claimed to have three hown lalls-a Raman formm, a thirteenth or fourteenth century town hell and the present town hall. If the Council would go to Leicester hey would be sure of a good welcome.
Mr. J. H. Swinfleld seconded.
The Hon. Secretary said the last meeting in Forkshire was in 1904 and the previous meeting to that in 1895. There were only two oceasions since the formation of the Council when they had beer north of a line from Liverpool to Shellield-Fork in 1904 and Newcastle in 1913. The last meeting at Leicester was in 1911.
Mr. O. Mee asked if they lad not promised the Irish Association that they would go to Dublin. He thought it was time they considered that, and proposed that, the Council visit Dublin next year.Mr. Grawley seconded.
The President pointed out finat next year it was, according to the neral rota followed, the turn of the North to have a meeting.
The places were put to the vote and Leeds tras carried by a large majority.
Mr. S. H. Wood suggested that the Council thould consider visiting Nanburgh in the not too distant futura-possibly the next time they went North. Althongh Edinburgh was a rather long way, it would be the first time the Gounci liad gone over the border. While he could no longer speak for the Scotish Association, he was sure the Council would get a warm welcome from that association.

CONGRATELATIONS TO THE COLLEGE YOUTHS. Several minor matters were discrissed under the beading of ' Other usiness.
Mrs. G. W. Fletcher proposed that the Council send a letter to the nelent Society of College Fouths congratulating them upon attaining heir fercentenary (applause).
Mr. J. A. Trollope, in seconding, said his qualification for doing so dis because he was not a College Youth and because to some extent e represented the only other society which could, in antiquity and istorical interest, equal the College Youths-he meant the Norwich cholars. It was not the fact that the society was 300 years old that anttered, but the Exercise was indebted to the society because during s 300 years of existence it had preserved the continuity of the art nd science of change ringing. Without it, or something of the sort, ange ainging would undoubtedly have tapsed, even if it lad been rented. He did not suppose that anyone inside or outside a lunatic Flum would invent it to-day, but, liaving been invented as it was, only way in which it was possible to continue it and hand it on ts by means of such a society as the Collese Youthe. The society nod at its ups and downs, but it had, until modera times, elwnys d at the top of the Exercise and had been, so to speak, the tocracy of the art, taking the position which, in much the same that Council filled at the present time. The whole Exercise was Thdebted to the society, to the men who were dead and gone, or the science and art whin they had to-day, and it was only right hat that Council should offer its congratulafions.
The motion was carcied with applause, and the president (who is hist Master of the socieby) said be would convay the good wishes to the College Youths. He was sure they would be much appremiated.
Mr. F. W. Fogers said he thonght they might also congratulate the dales' Guili on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee this year.
Th putting this to the meeting, the President gaid he felt, in doing fhe motion was a litile of his awn back on Mrs. Fletcher (laughter). The motion was agreed to.

RADTO' BELTA.

The Fon. Secretary said that during the year be had received a oiter asking for the opinion and crificism of the Gauncil on the subject 'radio" bells, which were to be installed in certain churches. He ished to give the members the opportunity of expressing their views this subject, which was becoming very important.

Mr. S. F. Wood said that there lad recently been an article in the 'Guardian' on a new kind of 'earillon,' electrothic in characterThe first public demonstration liad been given, and it was described as a new departure in the art of campanology (laughter), Mr. Woud said he thought they had got to be carcful about these things. It was 710 good 'going of the deep end abont it.' Parsonally, if he henm of a church being built which was not going to have a tuwer, or any chance of ever laving a tower which would carry a peal of hells, be would much rathor it had something of this sort, or "rudia" bells, so that it could provide some good bell music on a Sunduy morning, rather than use one single bell, or no bell at all. There was, of course, the danger about such remarks printed in the Press as to it being the beginning of a new era in the art of campanology. For one thing, that statement was not true. Such an instrument could nob hava anytling to do with campanology because it had no bells. He thougtht, however; that they ought to work iu conjunction with the builders of this new iugtrument rather than against them.
Mr. Trollope said this development was probably done for organ work in cinemas, although, no doubt, the makers would like to self th elsewhere if they could.
Mr. Gave said that at St. Christopher's in Bristol they used records and an amplifier and they heard the bells quite clearly where he lived. Many people had been taken in and thought a peal of bells was ringingMr. Wood said there were actually three such cuses in Bristol.
Mr. L. J. Willizms said there were ulready four or five installed in the Blackbura district.
No action was taken by the Council.

A QUESTMON OT PROGEDURE.

The Hon. Seeretary said a surgestion had heen remived regarding motions of major importance, particularly those relating to what should constitute a peal. It had been suggested that such nolices should be in the lands of the sectetary of the Council six manths hefore the Council meetinot. The iden was that they sloould lee circulated to associations some time before the Council meeting to give am opportunity to associations to disciss them and give their representan tives some idea of what the members wanted.

Mr. J. Harris, wha was responsible for the suggestion, eaid there was only one object in view and that was to enable associations to discuss matters of importauce at their annuml dieetings. If they looked through the issue of "The kinging warld " which whs putished the week before Easter they would find that eirgt of the big associations had their anmual meetings on Easter Monday. Unfortunately, the secretary could not get the Conncil's ngendr through to the representatives in tirue for those meetings. He thought it would relieve the eecrelary of a good deal of stress at the last moment if nolines were in his hands some time before, and it would be hefter for all cancerned. It could not be said theve was anything so urgeate that it could not be got in six montlis before, and if it whs not important enough for that it was not worth considering. If longer notico were giver every member of the Council coutd learn the wiews of his own members and everyone would henclit. Fo suggested that the last date for notice be December 3lst.

The President said the Council would sympathiso with what Mr. Farris had said, but he did not think they contd pass it us nesolution, becarse it iuvolved the alteration of rules.
Mr. Harris said perhaps it could be kept in view Eol future action if nothing could be done that day.
Mrs. Fletcher pointed out that many of the associntions held their anmual meeting just after the meeting of the Council. Hor own Guild was an exumple. Their anuual meeting was in Tuly, and if they wore to have a clance of cousidering motions, these would have to be in the hands of the secretary of the Council within a fortnight aftar the last meeting

DONATIONS TO MEMORIAL FENDS.
The President sald Mr, Geurge Nowton, had he been present; at the meeting, wauted to mention the project of rasing il memorial to the late Canon Eleve. It was to talee the form of an alteration to the tower af St. George's, Bolton, and he (Mr. Newton) added that he thotight the Council would be glad to sulaseribe to the memerial.
Mr. T. B. Worsley said the Lameashire Association hat had an estimate for the work. It amonnted to about f450, and he was iftrad that wrould be rather too much to entise.

Replying to a question, Mr. Worsley said the matter would come to a head bafore the next meeting of the Council and the scheme accepted or rejocten.
On the motion of the Rev. H. Drake, seconded by Mr. E. A. Young, it was decided to vote the sum of three guineas to the schome, if carried out
The President said the Ely Diocesnu Associntion had asked whether the Council contemplated providing any memonial to the late Rev. B. H. IYrwhitt-Drake (the Council's honorary librarian), nutl whether, if they were doing so, the co-operation of the cruild wonld be aceoptable. The President said the Council could not undertale inything, but if the Ely Association were prepared to do sa he had no doubt the Coumorl would be ready to subscribe. If the Fly Association went on with the scheme he thought the Council might contribute three guineat.

This was agreed to.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

RAISIMG AND LOWERENG OF BELLS.

The President caid come time ago the Council passed a zesolution that bells should preferably be rased in peal, butif not it was desirable they should be zaised singly and in order. He was afraid, in spite of that, in parts of the country bells were stijl jangled up anyhow. Not wery long ago tho weat fo the opening of a new peal of bells, and, geting there early, gat in the ohuroh: The ringers beyan to pull the bells up, aud the lady who was with him remarked, 'What dreadful bells.' The bells were all right, said the Tresident, but the local yingers started by puiling up the second und seventh togetler. It din not give the bells the best chance. Fe suggested thet members of the Council, where possible, should get the Conncil recommendation followed. These little things did count with the public. Another thing which might be done in many places where there were ten or twalve bells and they were nut all lowered in peal, but were let down anyhow. It would be better if the back four were dropped singly and the front six in case of ten and the middle six in case of twelve let down in peal, finisling witl chiming the bells round. It would pus a litule polish to it.

MEMBERSHIP LJST TO BE LSSUED.

Whe Fon. Secretary pointed out that in the case of sone societies changes were made in representation and the alteration was mot notified to him iecorving to the rules. He was gelting out a little booklet which he proposed to issue to every menber of tho Council. It wonld contain the names and addresses of all representative memluers of tho Ooumeil, and if allerations were made without notifeabion the look would be out of date belote it was issued. He appealed to all members to get the secretaries of their societies to send him full information as fay as representation was concerned.
The Hon. Secretary then reported that at that meeting mere were 83 representative aud 12 honorary members present, z total atteudance of 95 . Pifty-one representative members and four honorary members Fere absent. Nineteen sociefics were fully represented, 20 partially represented and 11 wete untepresented,

VOTES OT THANES.

The Tresident proposed an omnibns wote of thanks expressing gratituda to the Deag ant Chatber for the use of the Chapter House, to tho Kent County Association for the kea which tley were going to provide for Mn mewhers and their friends, to Mr. Mitchell, hon secretary of the Fent, Grunty $A$ ssociation, and Mr: Latek and the summitter of the associntion appointed to nate the arrangements for the meuting; also to Mr. T. E. Sone for undertaking the peal arravgements at the various towers, to the various church authorities who had given them the use of the bells, and to the towerkeepers: also to Mr Martin Pearce, who hacl conducted wembers round the Cathedral.

The motion was carried with acclamation.
Mr. W. Ayre proposed n. vote of tlanks to the hon. secvetary for tho tremendous ampunt of work he had done in connection with the meeting.-Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, who secouded, Teferred to the work which Mrs. Fletches also liad clone, particularly in typing all the reports of tha committees, which liad heen of great assistance to the members.- The ingtion wis carried with applause.
Canon Coleridge proposed a voto of thanks to the president. They were deeply grateful to Mr . Levpis, be said, for the admirable manner in which he had conducted their proceedings (applause).

The President, in eclenowierlging the motion, which was carried by acclamation, said lis task was freatly lightened by all that Mr. Metcher did for them.

This concluded the business and the Council then rose
Aftermards alarge party were the guests at tea of the Kent County Association it the County Hotel, where, later, a social evening was spent. Tn the meantime there was ringing on bells at various Canterbury churches.

DEVON GUILD.

JOINT MERTING AT TEIGNMOUTH.
The Treter and Mid-Dewon Branches of the Devon Guild held a joint meeting at Teignmouth an Saturday, June 12th, when ringers were presont from Exeter, Brampford Speke, Thorverton, Milverton, Ide, Konu, Newton Abbott, Torguny, Buckiastleigh, Christow nind Gockington, efc. Rinfing commenced at St. Michael's Ghurch soon after 3 o'elock, and a service was later held it St. Michael's, couducted by the Rev. F. S. Wyatt (Vienr), whe based his address on the words, "O that men wauld praise the Lord for his goodness."
Tea aflerwards followed at the London Hotel, and the Ereter Branch sabsequently held a short business meeting.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Ficar of St. Michael's for the usz of his bells and for conducting the service, to the organist for his assistance, and to Mr. A. L. Bennett, of Buckfastleigh, for making all tho errangements.
It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Dunsford and district on Saturday, Scptember 4th.

The visitors afterwards returned to the tower for further ringing, some of the mewbers also visiting the neighbouring parish of Bishopsbaignton. The methods vung during the afternoon included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Triples, Plan Bob Minor and Double Norwieh Court Bob Major.

THE MINOR RECORD.

OHESHIRE MEN RING 73 METHODS.
As we briefly mentioned last week, the Chester Guid band, whu are such experts at ringing Spliced Minor, have now increased the record to 73 methods in seven extents, and finality bes, it is helispod, been reached in one direction at lemst. This peal, rung at Fairfield, Buxton, on June 12th, contains the maximam number of Trehle Bols methods which carz be spliced info seven extents. Altogether there were 142 changes of method.
One of the two new extents introduced was arranged by Mr. A. G. Driver and contains 13 methods (Trehle Bob and 3rd'g Place Delight), with a change of methor every lead. The other new 720 consists entirely of Surprise methods and was arranged from Mr. Driver's fables. The other 720's comprisiur the peal have been rung and published previously.

Canon E. T. Campbell-Ward (Rector) officiated and Mr. N. Snmmerhayes acted as best man
After the siguing of the register, a bob-course of Stedman Triples Was rung on the bells, in which the bride and bridegroom took pert together with their respective fathers, the best mans and ceptains of Dartford, Swanscombe and Northflcet towers. The tauch was conducted by the bridegroom.

Mr. J. E. Briley, who is junior stewafi of the Society af Roya Oumberland Youths, is member of the Dartford Parish Ghurch and St. Martin-in-the-Fields companien of ringers, bis father, Mr. James M. Bailey being one of the famous 'Bailey brothers' of Leiston. Suffolk. The bride has been a member of the Swanccambe band for several years, and her father, Mr. A. J. Thompson, is also a member. Tine best man is the acting han. secretary of the Royal Cumberland Youths.

The reception was held in the Parish Room, about 30 guests being present.
In the ovening, some of the guests took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Northieet, Kent, in honour of the occasion, and on the following Monday a peal of Double Norwich was rung at Dartford.

Mr. nud Mrs. J. E. Bailey have taken up residence at 20, Swaisland Road, Dartford.

PEAL NOTES.

The present year is a notewortly one in the church history of St. Mary's, slough, where a peal was rung on Jume 12th in connection with the centenary of the churcl, which was dedicated in 1837. Not only is it thus 100 years since the church was opened, but it is also just 1,000 years since the original mother charch of slough, St. Lawrence, Upton, was built.
Ofher interesting amiversaries; Fifty years since the present Bishop of Buckingham, onco Pector of Slongh, was ordained; sixty jears since Mr. W. H. Fhssell, who took part in the peal on July 12th, rang his first peal at St. Mary's.
He has ruag at this church for every royal event since-the accession of four sovercigus, the funmals of three, three jubilees, and three coronations. You must be getting old, Master William!

A wedding penl was rung at Maidwell, Northants, on June 19th, as a compliment to one of the local ringers, Mr. Charles Dixon, who was married on June 12tls to Miss Dorothy Noble. Afterwards the rigers enjoyek Mr. and Mrs. Diron's hospitality.
A mumber of birthdays were celebrated by a peal rung at Sittingboume, Kent, on Jume goth, those thus lonoured including three of llue ringers and two of their daughters. One of the latter, Miss Doris G. Dobbie, was umable to take pati in the peal through indisposition, and Mr. W. Spice took the vacant rope at short notice. Four members of the Dobbie fanily, lowever, rang the four back bells.
The peal of Bristol Surprise Major rums at Diss, Norfolk, on Sunday, June 206h, whs the frst peal in the method in the diocese of Norwich simee May 16th, 1914, when a 5,024 was rung at Quidenham, conducted by the late Mr. Edivin Whiting.
The golden jubilee of the Church of St. Mary-Wiblout-the-Walls, Chester, was celebrated on June 19th by a peal. N\%. Gilbert Gerrard, who took part, rang for the opening of the bells in 1887.
The half-peri and of Mr. Nolan Golden's composition of Double Norwich, published last week, should read 24356.
The peal of Bols Major at Eastwood, Rotherhay, on June 15th, was ming as a welcomo to the new Ficar of St. Stephea's (the Rev. P. Kennedy), who was inducted the previous week, and also to celelarate the cngagement of Wiss Trey Shimmin to Mr. Devid Cedric Switson, both of Mellbonrne, Australia, which was announced just over a montli earlier. Miss Shimmits is the ouly Australian lady ever to ring a peal. She took part in the peal of Grandsile Oluques at St. Paul's Gathedrai, Malbonme, on Arnistice Day, 1934, which was zung by six Australian and six Enaryish ringers.
The composition of the peal of Bob Major, whicls is believod to be fomg for the first time, contains twelve $4-6-8$ and twelve $6-4-8$ courseonds, the rest being 4-7-8 or 6-7-8. It is by the late Mr. Arthur Crayen, Mr. R. H. Holding, of Crewe, rang in a preal of Grandsire Donbles at Acton, Cheshire, on June 12th, and thus completed peals of Doubles, Tuipies, Caters and Ginanes in the method.
The first peal on the bells at Rinegar, Somerset, was rung on June 14th. These bells, originally three, were increased to six, with a tenor g唃 cwitr by Mesers. Taylor and Co.
The first peal of Major on the hells at Bridgerule, Devon, was rung mexpectedly on Jume 16th. Originally tlie peal was arringed for Stratton, in Cornwall, where there is a Thylar elght, with 22 cwe tenor,
When the band reached Stratton Ghurch, however, they fonnd workmen in possession, treating the roof for the death-watch beetle. Ringing is fone from the gromd floor of the tower, open to the chureli. To atiempt a peal was out of the guestion. The fumes were overpowering and the workmen were using gas masks!
Straightway it was decided to try Bridgerule. The distance of abont fen miles wns covered in record fime, permission was readily givelt, and a well nigh perfect peal was scored on this musical little product the Croydon Foundiy.
A peal of Double Norwich Major on Snturday, June 19th, at Oxhers Terts, celcbrnted the 50 th annversary of the opening of the bells. The late Mr. E. P. Debenham, so long hon. tieasurer of the Hertford County Association, rang in the first peal on the bells; his son, Mr. G. W. Debenham, took part in the jubilec penl.

Mr. Ardarew Powell, of Eardisland, Herefordshire, rang his first peal for 27 years on June 19bh, when le rang the tenor to a 5,040 Grandsire Doibles, which commemorated the EOth anniversary of the institrution of the Vicar, the Rev. P. A. H. Birley.
Tack Dear rang his first peal at the first attempt at the age of 14 an Jume 19tla at Rushden, Herts. There are five bells in the tower, ala cast by Jolm Briant, of Hertford, about the year 1786, and this is believed to be the first peal ever rung on them.

ANOTHER INCONSISTENCY.

One of the things which the Central Council did at their meeting was to accept without demur, and probalbly with little thought, the proposal to delete from the motion defining a peal of Doubles, the permission to add at the end of any peal a shorter length than 120 as long as it was a true touch. As so much stress was laid upon the fact that the introduction of the motion was to remove an injustice to Doubles ringers by putting them on the same footing as Minor ringers in regard to certain compositions (although actually the motion has done something totally different), it scems strange that the sane people should rob the Doubles ringers of one of the things it was proposed to give them in common with the six-bell fraternity. Ever since there has been a definition of as peal of Minor, introduced in 19ri to secure the use of true extents only, Minor ringers have had the privilege of extending their peals by the addition, at the end, of any true touch-a concession obviously granted so that they coutd, if they desired, ring some special length for a special occasion.
Only on seven bells has the number of changes constituting a peal ever been settled by hard and East rule. On all numbers above, ringers have had the undoubted right to ring any length they choose, as long as it conforms to the method and does not fall below 5000 changes. Where a smaller number of bells permits similar treatment there seems no logical reason for refusing the same concession. Custom has laid it down that Doubles and Minor should not fall below 5040, and we thinke it would have been a good thing if our forefathers had always accepted that standard and never rung as a peal any number of changes below it, however many beils they employed, but the fashion of counting anything not less than 5000 on eight bells and upwards sprang up at a very early stage of peal ringing. There is nothing, however, to prevent any desired number of changes above that number being rung, and if a band wants to ring 5400 of Minor, or 5100 of Doubles there seems. ' nothing fundamentally wrong with it,' as the proposer of the original motion remarked.
But the Council have said that the Doubles ringers are not to have that concession, which hitherto they have enjoyed without question-whether they have exercised it or not is another matter-from the beginning of five-belf peal ringing. Minor ringers, however, may continue to do the same thing and their peals will be recognised by the Councii. And the members talk about justice to the Doubles ringers! Truly Mr. Percy Johnson was right when he said the Council were only consistent in their inconsistency. This particular deletion was done quite casually, without apparently any real thought as to the logical result or the reason whicl lay behind its original introduction. Short of restoring the clause, the only sensible thing whicl the Council can now do is to rob Minor ringers of a privilege which, whether they have used it or not, has always been theirs. The wise thing for the Council to have done would have been to have kept the clause in this new defnition and at some future time discussed the principle of these lengthening touches and dealt with the Minor and Doubles together and on the same footing. Actually the matter is not one of vital importance, but these slipshod methods of doing things do the Council no good in the eyes of lookers-on.

VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER.

PRESDES AT CLEYEEAND ANNUAL MEETING

Glorious weather favoured the Cleveland aud North Yopkshire Association when they visited Ripon on Jume 26th for their annual meating. The fime day madie the visit to this ancient city, with its lovely cathedral and splerdid peal of bells, a great pleasure.
The Dean of Eipon, a remarkably achive man considerimy his 82 yars of age, mot the ringers stt the Cathedral and gave them a hearty welcome to Ripon.

Tea was held at the Black Bull .Hotel, when over 50 ringers and triends were present. In the unavoidable nosence of the president, who sent a letter of apology, Mr. T. Mctealie was voted to che chair. IIr. Metealfe expressed lis great appreciation of the honour confrred upon lin. 'I'he secretary (Mr, J. Reed) voiced the congratulalions of the company to the chairman on completing 60 years' service is at ringer and delebratiag his 72nd birthday a fortnight ago by onducting a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples from the 7 th.
Roplying, the Chairmm recalled some of his early expericuces and lio miles lse used to cyche going to different places to ring. He loped that others would get the same amonnt of pleasure out of ringing, as lie had spent the happiest time of his life ringing.
The secretary's report and balance sheet were accepted unanimously. The balane shect showed a credit balance of $£ 28$ 10s. On the proposal of the chairman and scconded by Mr. W. N. Park, the sceretin'y was thanked for his work during bis first year of office. $\mathrm{K}_{1}:$ J. C. Pollind, of Middeshrough, was re-elected presideat, and Mr: J. Reer, of Gnisborough, secretary nud treasner. One new honorary member and threa new purformug nembers were olected. Certifirailes for the Sunday service ringing were presented to the winners, Tadeaster, and lipon second, and it was hoped that more towers would compete this year. Meetings were arranged to be held throughcont the year, Scptember meeting at Ormesby, Janatary at Northallerlon, April at Riclmond, and the anmual meeting at Saltburn

A vote of thanks was given to the Dean aud Chapter for the use of the bells. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. Metealfe for presiding.
Rivging at the Catitedral continued until 9 p.m., the methods rung heing Stedman Cators and 7'riples, Grandsire Caters and Tuples, Kent Poyel and Major, Double Norwich Major and Rob Major. Tlingers attended from Whitby, Skelton, Salthurn, Guisborough, Ormesby, Middlesbrougl, Darlirgion, Thirsk, Ripon, Tadcaster and Liceds.

A meeting of the Stockpor Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was heln at St. Slisabeth's Church, Reddish, when some 35 membera and friends were present. The eight bells were requisitioned early in the aftermcon and a variety of methods rung. Service was conducted liy the Rector (the Rev. R. W. Watson), who also gave a short nildress. The singing of the hyuns was greatly assisted by the preEriace of the choir, and the accompaniment to the singimg was upon the magnifleent organ, an instrament which is quite in kceping with what may be considered one of the most beantiful churches in that part of tha mintry.
After service, ten, partaken of in the adjagent schools, was followed hy tha business moetiug. Mr. W. W. Wolstencroft, the branch chairrann, who presided, apologised for the Rector's inability to be present owing to other disties. The Rector had assured him that he was preeedingly pleased to weelcome the Guitd.
Reference was mate to the passing to higher sorvice of Mrs. W. Wilde, and those present shod for a moment in silence as a tribute o fier memory
There was very little busimess ta be disposed of-a shart report of flue committee meeting, a slrong recommendation to all to read the pecellent article on Coronation ringing in the curvent issue of "The Ringing World 'and apply it to their individual cases, comprised the main points
The meeting terminated with a hearty rote of thanks to the Reator for permission to hold the meeting, to the local ringers for having overything in readiness, to the choir und the organist for their services, and to the ladies who so admirably attended to the needs of the company at the tables
Purther riuging tham took place matil a late hour and ranged from rounds to Cambridge Miajor

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

 ASHPORO DISTRICTHho quartoyly meeting of the Asifford District held at New Romney in Saturday, Jume 19th, was atkonded by 30 mombers representing ight towers. The betls were mnde good use of during the afternoom mad evening, two young members ringing their first touches on eight bells.
A short service was conducted by the Yicar (the Rev. W. F. Scott). Tea was served in the Church $\mathrm{F}[\mathrm{nll}$, followed by a business meeting, th which the Yiear presided.
Thanks were accorded to the Vicar for taking the service, for the ase of the hells and for his kindness in prowiding the excellent tea. The Vicar was elected an honorary member.

FOR BEGINNERS.

FOW TO SET ABOUT GALLING GRANLSLRE ITRIPLES.
Many beginners in couducting make a start witis Grandsire Triples and we have been asked to aevobe one of thase articles to telling the novice how to set about it.
Let us say, first of all, that, the man who aims at being a ' conductor" ' must endeavour to make himself something move than a mere bobcaller.' The real conductor shoulders more tham tho responsibility of putting in the bobs and singles at the right place. He musf know whether the bells ale right or wrong, so tilnt lie does mot lave neecssarily to go to the end of the toncli or peal bofore he knows if the bells will come round.
At first, perhaps, he will only be dead sure of his ground at certain intervals, whey some definite change, whicli he has previously memorised, turns up. To do this he niust be abie to read the ropes, but it is befter to be able to watch the bells working up to the required positious than to roly upon the eye at same particulan fall of the ropes. One ean be so easily deceived.
In cultivatiug the ability to watch the graunal development of the various positions of the bells, the condictor also accinres the fnowledge and ability to correct mistakes if they should occur. It is easy, of course, to tell a man to dodge wills hint if the other ringer has shown that he is going to miss the dodge, lint without a more extorsive knowledge of the relative positions of all the bells jt is not so ensy give prompt and definite instructious when, say, the couduetor fo on the front and the two bells behind are clashing in obvious uncertainty as to which should be the first to hunt down.

From this it will be seen that the younge conduclor must extend his studies beyond mere bob-calling. In plain methods, for instance, lue should be able to observe the coursing order of the bells, that is the arder in which the bells follow one another through ithe sequence of the work of the method and cume to lead.
For example, in Grandsire Triples, with two bells plain huntingthe treble and another-therc are five bolls 'working.' The conductor should first know the owder in which they are coursing, next he should bo able to anticipate any chande in this orter which a bob or singic will canse, so that when the call has been made he is eertain that the bells have come correctly into their new positions, or, if not, is able to direct them into their right slace without hesitation.
A ringer with good 'rope-sighis' can easily "pick-tp, the coursing order of the bells, but the anticipation, whielt is so Hecessary to real conducting, is more difficult, because it involves an nedilional mentul process. Tt means that the contuctor must hunt his own hell cuwrectly, at the same time remember the exsting coursing order of the bells, and also be able to transmose them into the next secuence in bells, and also be able to transpose them int anticipation of the call he is going to make.
The novice must not expect that he car do all this at once; tho ability comes only by stady and practice. Sone of it ean be required when other people are calling by a slose observation of what is going Fir
First of all, note the bell in the hmot, then look for the order of the bells following the treble and the bell in the lusit. In the plain coures they are $3,4,6,7,5$, and this cycle will be mainiained until a call is made, the only variation leing thati the last bell in one leat becomes first in the wext. Thas the first lead of 3.7.6.7.5 hecomes 5.3.4.6.7 in the second and 7.5.3.4.6 in the 3nd and so on. Tllis is brought about by tita last bell in the series (laving eome to lead immediately in front of the treblo) making 3rils place and coming back in front of the rest.
When a bah is called, the transposibion is different. The hell that has heen in the lumt has then to be talsen into consideration.
The hells as they course after the treble in the first lead are 2.3.4.6.7.5 If a bob is called the transposition moves the two last belle into position in front of the bell tinat lass heen in the lunt, ana the first of these twa becomes the new hunt bell, and cant then be left out of consideration in the mental operations mutil the next eall comes along. Thus a bob at the first lead changes the 2.3.4.6.7.5 ouder into 7.5.2.3.4.6: another boh at the following lead would make the coursing order 4.6.7.5.2.3; but a plain lead would make it 6.5.2.3.4 (that is, always remembering that the 7th continues ta course afler the treble).
As a first step to conducting, then, we recommend the beginuer th study the coursing order of bells in touches which other peopla are calling, afterwards he can ga on to the boh alling limself. We know that very often the process is reversed; that all the heginner troubjes about is to call the bobs in the right place ard leave the rest to luela, or somebody else. We, however, think that the most efficieut way Bartram, of Misterton, Notis. Methads that were rung during the evening were Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and the whole pull and stand.

DARLEY DALE TOWER BEREAVED

By the tragric and sudden death of Mr. W. E. Blagslaw, aged 34 years, the Darloy Dale belfry has lost one of its most valued members. He was of a cheerfal and pleasant disposition, regular in his Sunday service ringing and worship, a useful and willing member in all chnch ectivities.

Mr. Blagshaw was nat a great peal ringer owing to his employment as a nurseryman and the distance he lived from the belfry. He had taken part in seven peals for the Midland Counties Association, but he was alvays ready to help in progressing the art of change rinsing, being a good ringer in a number of plain metrods; in fact, be was a good example of what a ringer should be. He will be long missed and remembered at Darley Dale.
Fis findral took place on Sunday afternoon. JuIy 4th, in the churchyarl he loved so well. The Rector of Darley Dale conducted the service. Tour of his fellow-ringers ralag a plain course of Grandsire Triples on handbells at the graveside. For evening service on the day of his burial the tower bells were rung hali-mufted to a quarterneal of Grandsire Triples, the striking being very good, by R . Bentan (first quarter-peal) 1, B. Allsop 2 V. E. Taylor 3, $\mathbf{F}$. W. Gregory 4, II. E. Taylor 5, R. Allsop 6, G. F. Pattson 7, E. Paulson 8. G. H. P.

DEATH OF MR, WILLIAM MAUND.

Mr. William Maund, one of Warwickshire's oldest bellyingers pissed away suddenly on June 29tin. A man with a high sense of devotian to duty will be wreatly missed by all, but by hove more than lyy the members of St. John's Church, Coventry, where he had Leld the office of verger for the last eleven years.
Fe was bom eve Whitbourne, Hucefordshire, and his encly ringing was doue fa that connty. Later lie want to Bridgnorbly, where he rang three peals-two of Grandsire and one of Darlaston Bob Triphes tor the Hereford Diocesar Guild. Fe came to Coventicy about 35 years argo, and was one of the pioneer members of the Warwickslire Guild when it was formed in 1907. Whenever duties allowed, he was to be found ringing the bells he loved, these of Stoke Parish Glusch, and it was at this church where he rang his seven peals for the Guild, three of Grandsire and four of Stedman.
The interment at the Coventry Cemetery was preceded by the funeral service at St. John's Chtreh. Widh the litile company of mourners, seven members of the Guidd followed his body to its fnst resbing place, and as a last fribute to his memory it eanrse of Triples was ring over tho open grave. $\qquad$ M. The Willian Pye memorial peal tablet will be unveiled and dedicated on July 20th at Sit, Mary-le-How Cburch, Claspside, at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. Mr. Jolin G. Ames, Riaging Master of the Lilloe Deaneries Brauch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, was married on July Brd to Miss E. IB. Stacks, of Pinchbeck. Yhe accasion was honoured by a peal of Boh Major:

As good as ever is the report sent of the handint of Mr. Alficed Lawrence, the 84-year-old mamber of the Christ Church, Swindon, band. On July 4th le participated in a birthday comptiment quarterpeal of Stedman Tciples: Another member of the band, Mr. W. W. T. Daniell, also received birthday felivitations, and the occusion was the first quarter of Sledman away from the tenor of A. $G$. Wells.

Connected with the bells of St. Deny's, Ibstock, for over 60 years, Mr. J. W. Hopkins celebrated his $84 t h_{h}$ birthday on June 24th. Fol 30 years he has been churchwarden. A touch of Graudsive Doubles, consisting of 840 changes-the 84 lead-cuds being appropriate for his age-was rung by A. Overton 1, C. Verey 2, A, R. Tonks (conductor) 3, H. Tonks 4, J. W. Atkius 5, W. H. Ball 6.

More about veterans. Midsummer Day was the 78th birthday of Mr. J. A. Dixon, who has runs at st, Marie's, Sleffield, for over 60 years. Mr. Dixon tools part in a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Marie's on June 27th in honour of the event, the company consisting of J. Osgathorpe 1, F. Gates 2, A. Chaddock 3, G. C. Kibblewhite 4, J. A. Dixon 5, R. Farrison, jun. 6, R. Earrison (eonductor) 7, H. Hurst 8 .

There is a possibility that the hells of Prittiewell, Essex, where Mr. William Dudley has completed 50 years of change ringing, will be augmented to iwelve. A firm of bellfounders have estimated for the work.
In honour of Mr. Dudley's golden jubilece as a ringer, a peal of Stedman Caters was attempted on Jume 13th, but unfortunately broke down after l $1 \frac{1}{2}$ lours' good ringing. Another abtempt, it is lioped, will be made later.

THE HAMPSHIRE TOUR,

The above lines may be read it the trspective churehes. Onr visit concided with the first day of summer, in glorions weather, amidst peaceful and picturesque Hampshire scenery, recaling a well-known poet's verse, "Oh! to be in England, when the village bells ape ringing."

BELLS SHOULD SOUND THEIR LOUDEST.
In his address to members of the Southern District of the Surrey Association at Bletchingley on June 26th, the Rector said that fingers should always ring their bells in such a good manner that the bells would always sound their loudest-the best praise to God. This praise should also be shown by ringers in their lives. The heart as well as the head should be in bellringing and then the message of the bells would sound all the clearer to people not thinking of God.
The 60 odd feet of draqght and new ropes did not deter the ringers from makins good use of the bells. Of the company of 25 , members came from Lingfield, Buckland, Reigate, Redhill (St. John's), Merstbam. Banstead and Uckfield, sud the mobile section of the Northern District, heuded by 'the hroadensting bellringermen Nos. 1 , 2 and $3 .{ }^{\prime}$
At the meeting sympathy was expressed with three members who were ill-Mr. Batten (Merstitam), Mr. Fitler (Reigate) and Mr. Whitmore (Horley).

THE ADMIRATION OF THE EXERCISE.  \section*{To the Editor}

Sir,-On page 422 in pour issue of June 25 th is recorded a peal of Minor, the ringers of which have surely earmed the admiration of the whote of the Exercise. I refor to the peal at Fairfield, Buxton, in the maxinum number (73) of Treble Bob methods it is possible to ring in seven extents.
As readers of "The Ringing Warld' will have observed, this band of Spliced Minor experts have been steadily increasing the number of methods in their peals, and their efforts have now culminated in this truly splendid achievament.
It reflects not only the exceptional ringing ability of the performers, but also their co-operation and loyalty as a band over a long period, qualities which are, in far too many cases, lacking at the present time.
It is the more remarkable that the band should have such widely differing ages, as to range from the youngest in his early twenties to the eldest in his sixties. Teartiest congratulations to them all!

WOODFORD RINGERS' OUTING

Ideal weather favoured the Woodford riugers and their friends on une $27 t h$, when a party of 32 visited some interesting churches of Suffolk and Essex. An early start was made to enable them to xing or the moming service at St. Mary's, Woodbridge.
True to time the bells were set going, and touches of Grandsire Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Bob Major, nob forgetting some 'call changes ' for the learners, were rung on a wery tuneful eight, tenor 25 cwt, all cast by Thomas Osborne, of Downham Market, in 1799. Well may Mr. C. J. Trotman, who welcomed the party, and his local band be proud of their bells which grace a lofty fint tower!
The next halt was made at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, where Mr. Chinnery welcomed the visitors, and touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob were rung on an excellent ring of eight, tenor 28 cwt., also cast by Thomas Osbome. The church, one of the largest in England, is full of interest, Tanking with the Cathedral Church of St. Janes close by as outstanding Perpendicular edifices.
After the long fast had been broken at the White Lion, a short fun brought the party to Lavenham, where Mr: A. Symonds, who igured in the Lavenham broadcast of a year aro, extended a genial welcome. This was indeed the "climax" of the outing. The picthresqueness of the medimval eloth-exporting town is only excelled by the magnificent Church of 95 . Peter and Panl with its ricly sounding peal of bells, tenor 23 cwt . The tenor, cast by Miles Gray in 1685 , must bo the envy of all bellfounders! Touches of Kent Treble Bob, (irandsire and Stedman Triples were rung and well struck. The tower, built about 1483 and rising to 141 ft ., is worthy of such a peal. No pains were spared to use the best of materials, and Barnac stone and Brandon flint are both in evidence. Strong buttresses give strength and beanty to this crowning. glory of an outstanding edifice. St. Mary's, Bures, was reached in time for touches of Oxford, Kent and Cawhridge Minor to be rung prior to the evening service on a good going thuefuI six, tenor 22 cwt., Mr. Bower and Mr. Ives joining in. The church, with its I4th century embattled and pinnacled tower, stands near the Stonr and adds charm to a typical Suffolk scene. Tea was well served at the One Bell, and at the conclusion of the refreshing meal Messrs. S. Webb, $\dot{F}$. Corney and C. Morss were specially thanked for arranging most enjoyable outing.
The final lalt was made at St. John's, Finchingfteld, where touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Treble Thob were rung on a good eight, tenor 18 cwt., Messrs. H. Samms and D. Jepnings, of the Bardfied band. joining irk. The 12 th century west cloor and the I5th century rood screen with its elaborate tracery are outstanding features of na historical chureh.
By 11.20 Woodford was reached and all quickly disperged, having seen the conntry gaily bedecked with flowers and foliage, wiewed from winding roads and clarming hillacks, and having heard tunefal bells which peal from some of the nost interesting ehurohes of East Anglia.

HELMINGHAM RINGERS VISIT KENT.

On June 26th, the Felninglam band, with a few frionds, making a party of 20. held their annual outing. A few minutes past 6 a.ma. a start was made by motor-coach for Waolwich, St. Mary's Chureh being reashed just after 10 a.m. A few good courses of Surprise weve rung, then on to St. Johu's, Erith, where Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cross met them, and acted as guides for the rest of the day. Lumeh at Dartford was followed by a visit to the tower just in time to ring a happr bridal pair out of church. The next call was Northfleet, and then to Gravesend for tea and the final ringing for the day. The methods rung during the day were London, Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich and Stedman Tiriples.
At $7.40 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$ we hid farewell to our guides at the Ferry and the drive Fome in the beatiful summer's evening was delightful. Home was reached about 11.45 , everyone happy although tirea, but St. Mary's bells were tapping off Cambridge and Superlative at the usual time on Sunday morning. The party thank, through 'The Riuging World,' imumbents for inse of bells and towerkeepers for having bells ready, and lastlo Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cross for making the arrangements.

FIVE TOWERS VISITED BY BOLSOVER RINGERS.

Bolsover ringers hela their annual outing on Tune 26th and had a very enjoyable day in the Derby district. Ringing took place at Rohlestone-on-Dove, Burton-on-Trent, Overseale, Abhbr-ie-la-Zoueln and Melbourne. The methods rung were Plain Bob Major and Melbourne, The methods rung Were Plain Bob Major. Kent lative Surprise Major. Cambridge Sirprise Major, Little Bob Major, Little Boh Roynl and Kent. Treble Bob Royal

A pleasant event took place at ten at Ashby-de-la-Zanch, when the mgers presented Mr. Jolm Elint with a walking stick, suitably inseribed. to mark the ringing of his 500 hin peal which he conducted on Coronation Day at Balsover. Glowing tributes were paid to Mr . ## YORK MINSTER RINGERS AMID THE DALES

York Minster tingers repeated last year's outing to Derbyghite for their 'ennual' on June 19th, when a bitity of 18 had a mosb enjoyable day. The arrangencuts were in the hands of Mr. S. IP, Palmer, who mel the company on arrival at Sheffeld with a luxnrions coach. fitted with kuee rugs and wireless, and reted as guide, philosoplicr anil friend througlout the jouraey.
Eope was our first stopping place, whicla was reached vis lrox JTousc. The Surprise and Bamford. The Surprise View, met unexpectedly. was a lovely sight right across the valley, with wall-wooded country beyond. It was well worth the two or three minutes wo stopped to take 甜all in. At Hope we were met by Mr. B. Tadfield, and soon the bells were roing to Stedman Triples and Bob Majar. They are a nics lishlt peal of eight, and we thoroughly enjoyed our ring more especially as we were given to understand that proviously permission for visitors to ring on these bells was unobtainable.
From Hope to Tideawell, where dinme was provided at the Gearge Eotel (proprietor, Mr. James Buckley), and an excellent dinner it was. Duritur the 'courses " Inesh saluon ("surprise') came on and we went to the extent (of the salnon). Afber ㅍrace a course on handbells was rung for the benefio of the local customers. It was a really beantiful drive to Ashover, travelling through Tradington, Dale, Jsaliewell, via Gallia Dale, Crowford and Matlock. Hewe ringng wis arrangen b. Mr. A. W. H. Bowler. Tho tenor is approximatoly ewt, and tine difference bebween the 7 th and tenor is about 8 owt. Nevertheless. they are a niae musical peal. Ths third hell dates baok to 1625 and the 7th to 1630, guite the most ancient bells thet wny of our paty had been privileged to landle.

At both Eope and Ashovel a wedding had just taken pance previons to our ringing. At Ashover we stood on one side until the mine with the camera had taker the weddiug party. Jhen we dic our bit on the bells-mo, it didn't lead to anything! and we hope neither of the respective brides or buidegrooms inealth will suffer in consequence. Back to Matlock, where a substantial ment tea was provided (b,y W. F. Moore and Sons). After tea most of the party made theit way up to the church there, whero Messus. Wictor and E. Taylor kindly met us and had all ready. The very steep hill to the church was accomplished by our 84-year-old colleague (Mr. A. Haigiz) in good style. Some good touches in various meblods weve rung the bells rumning very well. Four of our party decided on a gatre of howls instead of the climb up to the church, but, minformatiely, it was a 'Gromn " green instead of their accustomed 'flat.' Wo accepted witz some resolve the 'fne ends' they played. ospecially as one of them would persisd in playing wrong "bias." Nothing trauspired on the journey to Sheffeld except we ran past The Peacock at approxinately 20 miles per hour. There wasn't time?
The train journey was enlivened by soum counsos on line hanthells and we arrived back to York at 10.50 aftor a most enjoyablo day. I take this opportunty of saying "Thank you" to the imetmberts of the churches Fisited for permissian to use their belis, and also to thr gentlemen previously mentioned for meeting us and making arrangements which contributed largely to the success of our outing.

WESTON-SUPER-MARE RINGERS' OUTING.
Ideal weather conditions, ringing in fout towers and a jollw party made the outing of the Weston-strper-Mare belivingers monorable on June 19th.

After aalling at Bristol to pick up Mr. W. H. Thomas, the party of 30 was welcomed by Mrs. Oakhili, wife of the local ceptain at Wotton under-Edge, where ringing was enjoyed at the Churcin of St. Mary the Virgis.

Lunch at the Tralcon Hotel, Painswicle, was followed by riuging in this famous church and a cordial welcome by Mr. Goulding, the loca] captain, At Great Malverm, the party were greeted lyy Mr, J. C.
Lavprence, lacal captan of tive rincers at the Priory Church, and the Lawreuce, local captain of the ringers at the Priory Church, and the ringinac was most pleasurable. A saunter rond the town followed tea. On the homeward trip o halt was cilled ad Deerhurst, where Mr W. Bartlett, the captain of the ringers of the quaint old Church o St. Mary, received the party, and mare ringing enjoyod. Supper wis served at the Montague Eotel, Bristol, and Wethont was reached it 12.45 a.m. 'J'lanks are due to Messrs, Poplinm fald Minifie for makiug the arrangements.

FAKENHAM COMPANY IN FENLAND.

Accompanied by the Rector (the Rev. Dr. E. F. Morison) and menbers from Dersiusham, Sculthorpe and Gressenhall, the Fukenham company held their ammal outing on June 18.
Their tour took them through Swaflam, Brandon, Mfldenhall and Soham to Ely in the morning, where lunch was served at the Bell Hotel and the Cathedral whe risited. In the afternoon the party continued on throngh Littleport, Hilgay and Denver to King's Lyan, Tea was very kindly provided by Archdeacon Ward at Filgav. The members enjoyed touches in varions methods on the bells of ench clureh visited.

LONDON RINGERS' EXPERIENCES

Nine kindred spirits of the Loudlon County Association--Messis. Waugh, Cousins, Brightey, Cockey, Start, Shorter, Murvell, Richards and Cannon-telt this story of their auting to Somerset and Wiltshire ol Jime 27th Headed by the famons red sports model, the party left London at 6.45 a.m., and $3 \frac{1}{2}$ hours later had accomplished the jouruey to Wells Cathedral.
'I'lis famons peal of ten, temor' 56, ewt, was soon aung to Grandsire, Stedmur Caters ard Bob Roynl. The party were joined by Messrs. Melvillo and Stote from Coventry, always welcome visitors. The funny incident of the day occhrred here. Au electrical engineer from Essex and a tower-grabber from South-West London were deputed to ring the tenor to some Stedman. By some anistake the 'man on the box 'hat hold of the strapping rope and the "strapper' had hold of the tail end. Tho result on pulling of was that the nppermost ringer had about 5 ft . of slack, and the poar strapper was just glble to hold the extreme end of the tail end! Amid langater, the ropes were changed over and tho damage done. No nantes ure mentioned, but suffice it to sny that they both ware ' plus-iours'!
After saying farewell to the local ringers and taking lunch, a move was made to Wermore, and this fine peal of eight, tenor 30 cwt , were mueli enjoyed to Cumbridgc, Double Norwich, Trebin Bob, Stedmar and Grandsire. These bells are similar to St. Lawrence Jewry, both relung by Mears and Stainbank. Mr, William Fibbert was in the district and rang Cambridge with the party.
Leaving the village at 2.15 p.m., the journey was continued throust the beatiful Chedfar Gorge. Wending their way over the Mendip hills, through Chewton Mendip, Wells and Trome, the next tower Westbury, Wilts, was reauhed at 4.15 p.m. Mr. R. H. Newton met us, and we heard these fine bells to adwantage in Cambridge, Plain Bob, Trelje Bols and Stedman. The tenor is 35 cw ., the second heaviest, eight in the commery.
Tlise last tower of the day, Trowbridge, was reached at 5.30 p.wn and Mr. Sa muel f. Hector and his merry men gave us a hearty welcome. This lhady little ring of 12 , temor 24 .cwt., were soon tripping out Stedman Cingues, Grandsire Cinques aud Gaters, and even the veriest tyro shoulk be able to ring 12 hells here with' litife difficulty, Thanks and farewells were exchniged and supper taken at the King's Head. The lomeward journey started at 7.45 p.ma., and singing and exchinging pleasantries wilh village 'helles' hiclpee' to pass the time away. A stop was made at Thatcham to setile expenses and chanks accorded M . Waugh for his excellent arrangements.

UNIVERSITY OUTING FOR CAMBERWELL RINGERS.

The St. Giles', Camberwell, Society held their ouling on Sundsy, Tume 27th, ati Oxford, leaviti Paddington in the morning by train, and were met at the station by MIr. R. A. Post, who was responsible with the help of Mr. Rennett, secretary of the Oxford Soniety, in a liechic but thorouglily enjoyable day being spent.
The party were shown round many interesting colleges aud a brief history told of them. Paticularly delighted were we when we visited Chirist College to be shown the Bellingers' Comer, where the memorials to the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyu and the Rev. F. E. Robinson are to be scen. In the afternoon permission to ring on the bells of Merton College was obtained, in which we were successful in hringing round touches of Stedman Triples and Keat Treble Bob Najor. By clanging the exercise we rowed to lfley for a brief ring on the peat of six at St. Mary, Ifley, and, returning to Oxford, rany for evening service at-St. Giles' Church toucles of Sterman Triples, Kent Treble Bob nid Cumbridge Wajor. Between this and 7.15 p.m. the next tower inranged for our bonelit, we managed to secure a little tea and light refreshment, theu we mado our way to the tower of St. Mary the Virgin, Oxford, a beantiful ring of six, which were set going to Kent mud Canbridge Minor. Ou leaving the tower we had but three-quarters of an hour left to ourselves ont of the whole day in which to make onr way back to the station for train to London. We wish to thank most gratefully hoth Mr. TBennett and Mr. Post for the arrangements tmade on our behalf, which we think conld yot be improved upon, and to the clergy concerned in allowing us to ring on their bells att the various times aud to our brother ringers for making us at home.

IPSWICH RINGERS VISIT ESSEX.

St, Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich, decided for their annual outing on June 26th to ring on some of the well-tuned hells of Essex, viz Great Baddow, Mayleigh, Prittlewell, Hornchurel, Brentwood, Chelms ford Cathedral.
At Rayleigh there was the pleasure of mecting an old Ipswich friend in the person of Mr. G. F. Margetsou, who is in his 88th year, and rang at courso of Kout Trelile Bol Major with Mr. Bob Bruadle, in his 8fith year, and three generations of Tilletts. All the usual plain methods and four Surprise reethods were anlig duning the day, finishing up with (as a splendid finale) a course of Superiative Surprise Maximus on the 12 good hells at Chelmsford. Home was safely eached at midnight after an 18 hours' journey.
'Chis society wish, through the medium of this paper, to thank all steeplekeeners and others for their co-operation in making the outing steephereepers and others so successful and enjorable.

HESTON RINGERS IN HAMPSHIRE.

SURPRISE TWUICE

So popular has the Feston ringers ${ }^{2}$ Whit Monday annual outiug become that the usual 32 -seater coach was found to be totally indequate. Two members (Messis. Bird and Cattermaul), therefore, very lindly drove their own cars to convey the overlow. A start was made at 9 a.m., the coach being suitably decorated for the Coronation. The peals of eight rung on during the day were at Shalford, Grayshott, Privett, New Alresford and Trarmham. Lhuch was trken at the Fox and Pelican, Grayshoti-some preferred it al fresco' on the village green.
Six of the ringers shared the bob-calling and five towers were numbered among the guesis. Rosson-Wye can certainly call humble Grandsire Triples, Chiswick (who have made rapid progress in thei ringing) suggested Cambridge Major, at which surprise was expressed, but they can sing and sleep well. Islewortz tried to tach Twickee ham Oxford Bob Friples, but the lady's blackboard was missing, and he who was being tanglit always learns by diagram. Putuey has a long last rung a course of Oxford Treble Bob Major. Much Stedman Bob Major (with vocal accompaniment) and Double Norwich wore also rung.
Heston produced an insisteut carillon player and an outing secretary with a hustle but without whip. The wives (bless 'em all) caused him a spot of bother at Privett when they asserted their women's sighits by ordering cups of tea at a cottage just when the party were due to leave this mure than delightifl spot.
The Vicar of Eeston, who always enjoys the company of bellriagers motored down to New Alresford to be one of the 49 who sat down to at meat tea at the Bell Hotel, bint where was the bread? Unfor tunately, the Rector of Alresford could 1hot stay to the tea, but in looked in to say 'a quick one' by giviug tite invaders a warm welcome to his parish and licped they had had a good day at their ringing. The Vicar of Heston, on behalf of the ringers, thauked the Rector for the use of such a heautiful peal of bells over and above the allotted time.
Before the coach left on its return journey 'surprise ' was sung a the call of Mr. H. C. Chandler, and the onting secretary learned, for the first time in his life, that he was a jolly good fellow
The home tower was reached at 11.30 p.2n., wlien the company fel into the arms of the law, the only person to be seen being a member of the Police Guild, who, perforce, had to be on duty during the day and consequently was unable to participate in the 'best ever ' Heston onting.

All tho peals rung on were perfect going eights, especialiy Slalitord

 and Privett, and the best thanks are due to all towerkecpers who met the visitors, also the iucumbents who eo readily gave permissionring.

AMONG SUSSEX VILLAGE TOWERS.

SURREY RINGGRS' VARIED EXPERIENGE

A number of Sussex rurai towers was visited by a party of Surrey ringers from Merstham, Chariwood and Buckland, who joined forces for an outing. As a result they gained a varied experience and sperit a very eujoyable day, the pleasurc of which was crntanced by glorious weather and a drive throngh some very beautiful country. Anticipated clificulties ai Hartfield were quickly dispelled and the ringins on the handy little peal of six greatly plensed the visitors. At Wad hurst, however, they found it rather disconcerting to ring on bells with the circle anfi-clockwise, and as a restit the ringing was not all that coald be desired. Burwash, once the home of Rudyarci Kipling, provided bells even more diffent to bandle. A wery short drangin and thick sallies which bounced off the benms of the ceiling overiead did not help matters, but the handicaps wore more than discounter by the warm welcome offered by the caplain of the local ringers, Mr Douch.
After lunch at the Bear Hotel, the journey was continued to Warbleton, where some excellent ringing was done on soure lovely bells, and then to Hellingly, where tea was partaken of after rimging, Laughton with another good six and Ringmer with iis fine eight brought the ringing programme to 2. close. At the latter place the Vicar is the Rep. A. H. Robinson, formerly Rector of Merstigam, and naturally the ringers received a very warm welcome from him. Ample light refreshments werc awaiting the party on the Vicarege lawn, and the lospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Robinsoal was merti appreciated.

MALDON RINGERS' EXCURSION

The ringer's of All Saints' Church, Maldon, Tissex, together with their wives and friends, went for their amual onting on Satinday, June 191h. Starting from Matdon at 7.30, they first visited Fiuchingfield, where the first stop was made and the bells were soon going merrily in Stedman, Kent and Bob Major, while the fair gex had a look round the village, which is one of the beauty spots of Esser. At Saffrou Walden the party were mos by Mr. Pitstow and afterwards by the Vicay (the Rev. Hugles), formerly Vicar of Maldon, who gave them a hearty welcome to his churell. After ant enfoyable ring on the bells, a move was made to Cambridge, where luuch was partaken of at the Dorotiy Cafe. This was followed by a ring on the heavy peal of bells at the Roman Catholic Church. After tea at Roystor, the party went on to Sawbridgeworth, where they were met ly some of the lacal ringers and some good ringing was much enjoyed. Home was reached at. 11 p.m.

PEAL NOTES.

It was appropriabe thet the frrst penl on the newly-augmented ring at Lanfreenfa, Moumouthshire, shuuld be rung as a 21 st birthday compliment to Lieut. Hopton Addans-Williams, of Spencer's Horse, who is now serving in India.
One of the wo new bells to make the octawe was given by his father and mother, itr, and ML's. Ohristopher Addams-Willisms, to mark his coming of age. Jhe other new bell commeroorates the Coronation of King Georgo VI. Tive local singers took part in the peal and it was their irst peal of Triples.

DON＇T SCRUB YOUR HANDS！

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people，the problem of getting the hands really clean with－ out harming the skin is a serious one． Grease and grime，which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin，are extremely difficult to remove， and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely．Housewives，par－ ticularly，who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work，will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM，a real ＂godsend．＂DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease with－ out effort．It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime，leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy．

Men，too－when you＇ve finished that disty job on the car，DERMA－ FOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands．It acts almost magically－working under and around the nails and into every minute crease，removing all trace of dirt in a flash．

Engineers，Painters，Car Me－ chanics，Printers－everyone－will welcome DERMAFOAM，the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands．

THE NEW MINOR RECORD.

The congratulations oflered to the band who recently rang the spliced peal of Minor in seventy-three methods are well deserved. The rapid manner in which they have added to the record in this type of ringing marks them as exponents of exceptional ability and enterprise. When, some few years ago, the Norbury men packed thirty-five methods into seven extents it was felt that the human factor in ringing had almost reached its zenith, but this other Cheshire band have gone on to achieve a peal with more than twice as many methods and they have now accomplished a performance which presumably will stand as a record in its class for all time, for the peal is believed to be the limit in the number of Treble Bob methods that can be included in seven true extents. That, in itself, marks a new stage in ringing. A peal with more methods within the bounds of seven 720 's is possible, but the extents have to include plain and alliance methods, and some day, perthaps, we shall be able to chronicle such a performance, but the Cheshire men will hold the indisputable laurels of being the first to ring a peal that goes to the Treble Bob limit.

Once more we feel we must point the moral. This latest achievement again visualises the vast field which lies before the six-bell ringers. Time was when a peal in seven different Minor methods was the limit of aspiration, and also it was seldom that anything less than this was recorded as a peal-or even attempted. Then came the stage when the standard drifted backward and seven 720's, all in one method, became a common practice and still remains the maximum performance of many ringers. As we have ofter pointed out, such a peal may be justified in exceptional circumstances, but we cannot believe that all the one-method peals that are rung are compelled by the exigencies of the case. In recent years there has been a compensating set off to this lower standard, by the introduction of spliced ringing; and it is the one gratifying feature in what has become a gradual 'cheapening, of Minor peal standards. Performances such as this latest achievement of the Cheshire men come as a welcome refresher. Not every band can hope to attain the heights which they have reached, but the whole field is open to others as it was to then. There is an old saying that if you am at the sky you may reach the top of the trees. With the example before them of this peal in seventy-three methods, few six-bell ringers ought to be content with stagnating in one method. Recent articles in our "Beginners " column have shown how an advance from method to mettood may be achieved with just a little study and application, and we hope those bands who have been content to stand still will (Gontinued on page 466.)

PEAL NOTES.

PERSONALITIES AND PERFORMANCES.

The first peal of Major rung at Leicester Cathedral for more than a century took place on June 26th. The occasion was the wedding of Mr. W. E. Rawson, one of the Cathedral banid, and Miss H. Hat The peal of Minor at Nutheld on Saturday was the first on the bells for 13 years.
Hearty congratulations to Mr. G. Fisher, who lhas been a ringer at St. Helen's Churcls, Slapleford, Notts, [or neariy 53 years and at the age of 67 has ruag tuis first peal. Three other members of the conpany were also first pealers, aud the occasion was the first peal of Doubles by the band.
Mr. G. W. Limmer, Burnham's popular captain, participated amid nembers of his own compary, with oue exception, at Hitcham in a birthday peal on July 3rd.
Youthful memories were recalled by Mr. J. Bennett when he rang peals at Otley and Ashbocking (Suffoik) the other week-end. At Ash bocking bo received his introduction to the rudiments of the art of change ringing, and the two peals were arrauged specially for hits converience

Among the last uributes to rirgers recorded this week is the mufiled peal of Minor at Bootle, Lancs, to the memory of the late Mr. 13 Lea, who died about a year ago. This was the first peal on the bells since they were rehung on bail bearings by Messrs. Burnand and Doy who are to be complimented on their worlsmanship.
There were quite a number of 'firsts' connected with the peal a London Surprise Major at Harmstou, Lincolnshire, on July 3rd. The couductor', Mr. John Freemant, rang his first peal of Major and first peal as conductor on eight bells. He is tire 17 -year-old sou of leader of Lincoln Cathedral baud and has already called Stedman Cinques.
Will Madeley, Staffordishire, be the last of the Coronation peals? Their peal was scored ou June $29 t h$.
Owing to the bad 'mo' of the two tenors, a peal of Minor wa abandoned at Tenbury Wells, Worcestershire, and a fresh start made with a peal of Doubles, which proved successful.
Beddington riugers were husting on July 3rd, when a peal of Stedmau Caters was brought round in 2 hours and 55 minutes. This is tho quickest peal of Caters on the bells, the tenor of which weighs $18 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cw}$
Meeting short for Cinques; a penl of Stedman Caters was rung a the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Wolverhampton, on July 3 J. Mr. H. Knight geuerousiy stood down
Mr. William J. Platit by a pead on July 3rd completed his circle the tower of Redenhall, NorDoik.
Mr. Joseph Tailes, the well-known Midand Counties ringer, compleced his 250 peals on $\overline{\text { une }} 30$ th witin a peal of Grandsire Triples at Netherseale, Derbyshire.
The peal of Cambridge Major at St. Andrew's, Rugby, on Jume 2811 was the first in the method on the bells.
The interestiug records of the Hertford County Association Lav been added to by a peal of Spliced Plain Bob and Double Norwiul Major zung at Busleg on July 8th.
The consistent efforts and success of the handbell band at Stoch port, Cheshise, is well marked by the fact that on July 7th a peal o Keut Treble Bob Major was called by Mr. Allen F. Bailey and was his one hundredth peal 'in hand 'hs conductor.
The statement that the peal of Superlative at Highclere on June 22 na was the first on the bells is mot courect. On November 22 nd, 1930 , a peal of Superlative was rung at Higholere for the Royal Cumberlaud Yonths conducted Dy Mr. G. Williams. Several correspondents have pointed this out.
Similarly a peal of Superlative had been previously rung at Milford-on-Sea, curiously enough on the Saturday following the first a Highclere.
Tlise first peal on the new bells at Manchester Town Hall was rung by the National Police Guild on July Jra.
Members of the Manchester Police Force are responsible for the official ringing at the Town Fall, and it was only fitting that a band of poliecmen slopuld score the first peal ob the new fwelve. The ringers included a superintendent, an inspector, a sergeant, six P.C.'s, an ex-sergeant and an ex-constable, and Leicester, Birningham and Boltons were represented in the band, as well as Manchester.
Three first peals and two first peals 'inside ' was the splendid achievement in a peal of Grandsire Douhles at Trysall, Staffs. Congratulations to Conductor B. G. Key! The peal was also a birthday compliment to Mr. A. Clarke.
The fivg oidest Wolvey ringers rang the first peal on the bells of Burton Hastings, Warwickshive, on June 26th. The peal was a compliment to Mr. J, P. Toone, of High Cross, grandfather of the canductor (Mr. Joseph H. Beale), aud Eather of Mr. P. Toone, churchwarden of Wolvey.

A HALE:PEAL

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

ANNUAL MEETING AT BATH.

Some seventy memberg and visitors atteuded the annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association at Bath on July 3rd. The Guld service was held at St. Mark's Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Dann), who gave a helpful address. Tea and business meeting followed in the St. Marle's Church House, where the Master, the Rev. W. M. K. Warrea, supported by the Rev. Preb. D. M. Ross, took the chair.
After the routine business had been disposed of, Mr. Jantes Hunt grve an recount of the Central Council meeting, and wade some trenchant remarks in regard to the civenation of "Tho Ringing World ' and to the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Gentral Council.
Arising out of the former matter, various suggestions were brought forward, but, as was aptly remarked at one of those informal discussions which take place near churches after ringing it was a case of preaching to the converted. If only those who do not attend meetings could be persuaded to take the paper, there would be no complaint.
Mr. Prescott (Bath) and Mr. Farley (Stourbridge) contributed to the discussion during the meeting.
In regard to the Towers and Belfries Committee, Mr. Starr (Swainswick) instanced the case of a badly designed frame which had long outlived its usefulness and which had been condemued by four anthorities, being preserved by patchwork. The original estimate liad been [ar exceeded and they still had the badly arranged frame of doublinl timbers.
It was proposed by Mr. Huat that the association print an anuual obituary list, but the motion failed to find suffieient support.
New members, in the persons of Mr. A. P. Caunon, Mr. R. G. Cross日nd Mr. M. Clark, were elected.
The recommendation of the committee that quarterly meetings be lield at Bridgwater, Long Ashton and Crewkerne was adopted.
Elections of officers caused no change, and the Rev. W. M. K. Warrer as Master, Mr. J. T. Dyke as lon, treasurer, and Mr. D. G. Tayloz as hon. anditor were re-electod.
All omnibus vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. A. Osborn (Nortin Cadbury) to all who had made the meeting a suceess, viz., the Rev. A. Dann, the Ven. the Archdeacon of Bath, the Rov. G. G. Zickman, Messus. Th. Grant, Selley, T. F. King and W. G. Brown, the organist and the ladies who provided tea. This was carried with tedamation.
Ringing, ranging up to Treble Bob Royal, London Surprise Major and tarious Minor methods, toak place at Bath Abbey, Twerton and St. Mark's.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

VISIT TO THE 'VHLAGE" OT SOLIHULL.
The summer quarterly mecting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at Solihull on Satuiday, July Jrd. This delightful Warwickshire 'village' (with a population of some 19,000), situated about seven miles from Birmingham, although rapidly becoming modernised, still retains many of its old mural aspects. Its fino Norman clurch, now ahmost completely restored, is well worth a visit, while the peal of ten bells aro a pleazure to ring. The bells were raised at 3.30 , but at 4 o'clock a break was made whilst a village couple were married. The ringers entered into the spirit of the event and gave the happy couple a wedding peal as they left the churcil.
Ten was partaken of in the gardeus of Dascombo's Cafe, fund a short business meeting followed, Mr. Conncillor Paddon Smith being in the chair. Apolories for absence were read from the Master, Alderment J. S. Pritchett, who was away in Edinburgh, and Mr. W. O. Dowding-

A letter of apprecistion aud thaulks was read by the secretary from tlie Fioar of Oldbury, acknowledging the donation of f3 5 s . towards the restoration fund of Oldbury Parish Olurch bells. Attention was also called to the cheap editions of Mr. Ernest Morris' works.
The tower elections of Mr. Percy G. Rainey, of $\Delta$ ston, and Mr. O. H Webl, of Coventry, were duly ratified, the former being congratulated on ringing his firsb peal of Grandsire Cinques for the Coronations.
It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Coleshill, on the first Satarday in October. Arranyements for the bi-quarterly meeting were left in the liands of the Ringing Master.

Tho Chairman geve an interesting resume of the procecdings at the Oentral Council meeting at Canterbury, and recommended all ringers to read the full report appearing in "rthe Ringing World.
Mr. W. Griffin, of Walgall, referring to the dedivation of the new peal of bells at the Cathedral and the broadeasting in connection with it, said he would like to congratulate the Guild and the ringers who took part on the excellence of the striking. It was a real pleasure to listen to.
A vote of thanks to Mr. Roland Bragg for making the lacal arrangements concluded the business, and a returm was made to the tower, where further riuging was onjoyed.

BELTRY GOSSIP

A Bristol paper last week recorded what it truly describei as a fine feat of ringing at Burrington'-if it had been correct. 'Burrington risgers," it said, 'gave a special quarter-peal Grandshire Donbles at Burriugton Parish Church on Sunday, The peal, conprising 95,040 changes, was rung in 40 minutes.' The black is ours.
Latest to the renks of octogenarian ringers is Mr. Thomas Wiek, of Shildon, Durham, who was admitted to this sclect circle on June 28th. A complimentary peal to him was rung five days later.
Mr. William Dudley has just completed 50 jears' service as a riuger at Pititlewell, Esses, and a peal of Cambridge Surprise in his honour was rung on Saturday. The vele'an took part and lang the treble.
Mr. Kenneth Lewis, who conducted the peal of Minor in 73 methods, rang liss first peal of Grandsire Triples on Saturday. This wilf seem upside down to ringers of the old school.
There is to be a two days' ringing tour by motor in Herts and Essea on July 24 th and 25 th. There are a few racant seats. See notiee columps.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' TERCENTENARY

To the Editor.
Sir,-May I, blurough your columns, bring to the attention of couvtry members of the Ancient Society of College Youths the suggestion that they should in their several districts arrange for bands to ring at least ons pent for the society durng the current year? The mosi appropriate days for such peals would naturally be November 5ith or 6 th. thongh these dates may not be convenient for such menbers as intend to come to London for the ambual feast.
It would be desirable that notice should be given beforeland of tire reason for peals so arranged through the focal press, the Parish Magazine of otherwise.

MR. EDWARD WHITBREAD

DEATH OF FORMER RINGER AT ST. ALBANS ABBEY.
We regret th amounce the death of Mr. Edward Whitbread, who passed away at the age of 69 on June 26th at the Royal Bucks Hospital, Ayleslury. Mr. Whitbread will perlaps be best remenbered R8, a prominent figure in Hertfordshire riuging circles in the years pricr to the war.
Ho commenced lis ringing career as a young man at his bixthplace, Hanslope, Bucks, and in 1899 he became & member of the St. Atbans Cathedral Sociely, of which he was conductor for many years. A member of the Ancient Saciety of Callege Youths since 1900, lis name is to be seen on peal boards in many counties.
Since 1924 Mr . Whitbread lived at Stoke Mandeville, near Aylesbury, where for a time he took an active part in local ringing affairs. In recent yoars lie was contert to keep in touch with things through the modium of "The Ringiug Work, ${ }^{\text {' }}$ but his keen interest remained until the end.
The bells of St. Mary's Church, Stoke Mandeville, were rung halfmuffled by lis friends in the locel band.

50 YEARS A RINGER.

PRESENTATION TO VETERAN PRITETHWETL RINGER.
A gold medallion fashioned in the shape of a circlet, enclosing, bell inseribed "The Tissex Association of Change Ringers-The Paris\}t Churels of prittlewell-Presented to Winliam Dudley after 50 years' service, June 28th, 1937,' has been presented to Mr. William Dudley, who has completed 50 years as a change ringer. The presentation was made by the Yicar (Canon E. N. Gowing) in the presence of the ringers and members of the Parochisl Council. After the presentation the bells were fired and Queen's and Tittums were rung
Mr. Dudley was for some years secretary of the tower. He hiss rang 100 perls, 52 of which were rung in his own tower. His list of peals is of interest: Cambridge Royal 1, Oxiord Trcble Bob Royal 1, Kent Treble Bob Royal 7, Granta Royal 1, Oxford ant Kent Royal 1, Stedman Catars 2, Graudsire Caters 5, Bob Royal 4, Cambridge Major 2, Superlative Major 2, Oxford Treble Boh Major 6, Kent Treble Bob Major 21, Bob Major 20, Bob Triples 1, Stedman Triples 3, Grendsire Triples 8, Double Norwich 13, Mmor peals 2, total 100.

ADMIRATION OF THE EXERCISE.

To the Eaitor.
Sir,-I would very much like to be allowed to entorse all the remarks of your correspondent under the above heading which appeared in your last issue concerning the band who rang the spliced peal of Minor at Fairfield, Buxton. Having had the privilege of ringins in several peals (not spliced) with this wonderfal band. I would edd that their acfivilies are not confined to six-bell ringiug. Thoy are equally as capable on eight, ten or twelve bells; their versatility is really amazing.
It is not my intention here to laud any particular momber of this band, but to extend my hearty appreciation to the lot of them. That they may have 'more power to their elbows' is the wish of Milton, Staffs.

'BUSMAN'S HOLIDAYS.

SHEFFIELD DATHEDRAL COMPANY'S OUTTNG

On Saturay, June 26 hh , the Shefield Cathedral company, with a few invited friends, had their annual outing when they visited Selby Abbey, Eowdeu and Goole. Travelling by motor-bus, Sclby Abbey was reached at 3 p.m., where the party were met by their old friend, Mr. F. Cryer, and Mr. H. S. Morley, the geainl secretary for the Eastern Division of the Forkshire Association. The bells were raised in peal nud some good touches of Forward Royal and Stedman Caters duly brought round. $A$ s time did net permit of a lengthy stay, the bells were lowered and thanks tendered to Messrs. Cryer and Morley.
On reaching Howden, some ten miles away, the wisitors were met by the secrefary, ML' J. W. Thompson, and several of the local ringerg,

GOOLE PAHISH CHURCH
Who kindly had everything ready. More tonches of Forward aud Stedman were the order ou this lovely peal of eight (tenor 23 cwt.), नud it was with reluctance that the vishtors were compelled to leave them in arder to comply with the prograname. The bells are a beautiful peal and coptainly rank as one of the finest foned and best going in the North. They are a real delight to the ringer with n musical ear. A shart ran of four miles via Boothferry Bridge bronght the party to Goole, whare tea wns enjoyed at Messis. Hociforth's Cafe. Steps were then imnedintely turned to the tower, where an old friend in Mr. Joe Drake aud others ware waitins to receive the wisitors. Here again Forward aud Stedman were iudulged in on the hight peal of aglat for about an hour, when the bella were lowered in peal, everyore lyeing satisfied.
By the kinduess of Mr. Drake, who acted as guide, an eujoyable houl' was spent in looking round the docks nnd shipping before making the rebura journey, whiel was campleted by 11 p.m.
Thus ended a most enjoyable and jacal half-day's outine, nad Warmest thanks are tendered to all the Ficars for the use of their bells and to the ringers concerned for having everything in readiness.
Readers will probably notice that only two methods were rung throughont the trip. These wera not the full repertoire of the company, but specially chosen as the best to hear thic tenors in and ont in short towches for the zingers' own entisfaction, also with a wiew to frood striking, and thus ayoiding that tendency to bat rlothm when a number of more complicated methods are attempted on strauge beils.

BURTON-ON-TRENT DISTRICT'S 'OVERFLOW.

Sa popular has the Burton District anmal ouling hecome that the usual 20 -senter conch was found to be tolally inadequato for the excursion on Saturday, July 10th, and two cars had to be used to convey the overflow.
The first call was Hoar Cross, and hero tho hemy peal was soon ringing ont to a tonch of Boh Minor, Collowed by Kent Treble Bob and some Grandsire Doubles for the learnery, while the rest of the panty looked yound this beantilul chureh.
The joumey was continued via Sudbury and Cubley to Ashbourne, where 40 sat down to tea ab the Comer Gale.
This was followed by an hour's ringing on the Parish Chureln bells. The long dinught of rope (70it.) made them dificult to hanule, nud as a result the ringing was hot aki that could be desimed
The fiual halt wrs made at Rocester, where touches of Grandsire Triples, Doubles and Bob Major were rung on a hand peul of eight. The homeward journey was made via Sudbury and Thutbury, Burfon being reached after a most enjoynble afternoons.
The party wish to thank all incumbents for the use of the bolls, and Mr. Bull (Ashbonrne) and Mr. Bullock (Rocester) for pther arrangements made on their behalf.

SUNDERLAND RINGERS VISIT NORTH YORKSHIRE,

The quaint uld seaside resort of Whitby, and the beatiful moorlund viltage of Pickering were selected for the ammal outing this year of the lingers of St. Ignatins', Sunderland, and the eltoiee proved to be a very happy olie, resulting in one of the most enjoyable of the sociaty's many outings. So many friends wished to acoompany the parfy titat the Vion's motor-eak hatd to be requisitioned in adilion to the fue 32 -seater saloon bus.
Leaying Sunderland shortly after 8.30, a siop was made at the beatiful village of Ormesby, where MJ. Thomas Metealfe, presidend of the Cleveland Association, joined the excurgionists, and touches of Stedman and Gatubridge were runs an the very fine bells.

A Furtlier stop was made at Gushorough, and then a lovely run over the Forkshue Moors led to Whitby. Dinuer awaited the party, and the romaipder of the afternoan was spent hy the non-riugers in examining both the wacimat and the modern parls of this intiereasing thatle town, while the ringers and a few gtalwatis climbed the 199 steps of the tower of the ancient Parish Clurreh of St. Mary, which has a good peal of ten bells. Stedman Caters was attempted, hut as tho majority had little experience in ten-hell ringing, the reault, at any raie from the ringers' point of view, was not vary satisfactory. A move was next made towards theleming through Ruswarp and Slaights, and up the famous Blue Bank amid lovely moorland scencry.

Arriving at the destination, it was fourd lint the caterers liad had to srange for the use of the Weslevan Schoolroom for tea for tha large party. Fult justice was done to the meal, and a wery happy hour was spent in listening to a message from the late Vicar of St. Ighatius', How Bishop of New Guinea; a checry speech fron Gamon E. Sykes, nnother fmmer Vicat now in retirement at Ripon, and also from Mr'. Harry Blakey, & member of the Guild who emigrated to Canada with his fanily 25 yenrs ago and is now on a short visit to the old conntry. A cablergam was afterwards scat to the Bishop of New Guiner conveying greetings to hum.

The visitors would have Ihed to spend a much longer time in this lovely village, lut they mad to lenve.for home, win Helmeley and Stokesley, at 7 p.m. and a tired but rery lapppy party arcived in Sumderland shortig after 10.30 p.m.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUIED.

DAVENT'RY BRANCF OUTING.

Memhers of the Dawentry Branch and lheir friends, together with several ringers from the Guilsborough Branch, enjoyed a pleasant aftermoon's outing on Tume 12th. The first stop was at West Haddon, with a peal of five hells, where they were met and welcomed by the Wicar, the Rev, A. C. Hooper. From there to Welford, where they were joined by the local sectebary, Mr. G. Hollich, nud ofhers, Here Grandsire Triples were ming on a nice peal of eifht with a tenor of $12 \frac{1}{2}$ ewt. The Ficar (the Rev. F. G. Woodhonse) looked in for a shrent time.

At Kibworth Beanchaup a number of the paroclial ringers awaited the wisitors, and joined in touches in whrions methods on fine jing of eight, wilila a tenor apparently far more than ftos recotded weight of $10 \frac{3}{3}$ cwt. At tiea the thanks of the party wera offered to $\mathbf{M r}$. Marlin, who had Fone to much trouble in making the arrankenvents.

After tean hasty return was made to the tower by a few enthusiastic Muiol ringers, but half-way throngh the first tonch the trehle rope broke-possibly a juclgment far hawing overstepped tha time limit, A stop was next made at the old church of Foxton, where the Vicar (the Rev. W. E. Cary) explained some of the interesting features of lis chnuch. The six bells scemed rather overdone with the woight of their ropes. At Maidwell was found an very nice ring of six, and some good tonches of Minor, including Gambridge, nad Danbles were brouglit round. The last call was nt Hazelliench, a tiny willage with a ring of eight bells and ra beantifullv kept eluurchyard. A tized but happy bus load parted company at Dnventry just before 10 p.mp, full of enthusiasm for another outing next Ferr.
(Reports of other Outings will appear in due cubrse) son, in a short address, welconaed the ringers to his ohirch nud spoke highly of the worl they do in others and in that church. He recalles the faithfulness of the ringers of the charch he bad recently left Fast Retford, and also, at Newark, the sight on November 11th, 1918 The proclamation of peace was read and immediately afterwards th rinfers commenced to ring tho bells; before they had been ringing half az hour this church was packed with 3,000 people, although no notice of any service liad been given. He felt that those riugers wert resporsible for that great service, and wished those present succes in their very real part in the church's work.

Afterwarcis ringing continued, as did the aryival of wisitors, ant finally came to a conclusion at 8 o'clock with a well-struck touch of Stedman Triples. This was the frst time for some years that meet ing had been held at Newark, and it proved to loe wery enjoyable It is hoped to pay more frequent risits to this tower in the future.

BEENHAM BELLS REHUNG

SOME INTERESTING REMLNISCENGES.
Akout 55 ringers attended the public opening of the newly-hung bells at Beenhay, the occasion also being the summer mecting of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Docesan Guild. The work was carried out by Mesgrs. Gillett and Johnston, and MF. G. F. Johnston was awong those present. Tha towers represeated were Beenham, Wubklebury, Beedou, Chieveley, Hampstead Norris, Newbury, I'matemana, East Ilsley and Compton. In addition, many visitore attented from Croydon, Hillingdon and Willesden, I'wyford, Reading, Oxford, Chearsley, Overton, Abingdon and Bradfield. Short touches in varions methods were rung, including Granksire, Plain Bob, StedIntan, I'reble Bob and Surprise methods.
At the sevvice the address was given by the Deputy Master, the Rev. C. E. Wias, who spoke of Beenham's long association with the Oxiord Guikd, mentioning the aames of Hatlo, the first foreman, and Richardson, whose families have carried on the good work hrough tha years since the tower's afliation to the Oxford Guild in 1886. Though no ringoxs of the name of Hatito remain in the village, the Richardsons are still repregented in the tower by Mr. Ted Richardsom, a regular ringer for Sundey services. Montion was also made of the history of the bells, which in 1800 were destroyed by fire. They were recast by the velebrated Whitechapel firn aud bave been reung once since that diate till the present occasion.
Following the service an inspection of the new bell frame was viked, the bells havirg been lowered for that purpose. Many ringers, uluding several ladies, undertook the long climb up the ladders, and ith Mr. Johnston in charge spent on interesting time among the

On Saturday the Ficar, the Rev. P. G. Ward, gave a hearty welome to the visiting ringers. He conducted the service, at which quitc unmber of parishoners were present, and afterwards entertained rie ringers to tea.
The bells were first heard on Sunday, July 4 th, the first 720 , Bols Hinor, being rumg for eveling sarvice by C. W. Cook 1, A. E. Austin F. G. Gleaves 3 , W. Winter 4, F. Warrington (eonduotor) 5 , J. W. Waxd 6. For moming service on Sunday, July 11 th, 720 London Surprise was rung by L. Iathbury 1, F. G. Gleaves 2, B. Wayman 3, C. W. Cook 4, F. Warrington (conductor) 5, E. H. Fineli 6.

A local company of ringers is being formed and many recrnits are showing great enthusiasm. It is to be hoped that one result of some years of labour by the Vicar and parishoners may be the establishneent of a good local band.

FOR BEGINNERS.

TOUCEES OF GRANDSIRE TRLPLES.
Having got an iusight into the working of the bells in their couraing, the begimer can go on to the bob enlling. He witt prohably have observed that a bob euts out one plain dodging place so that, for exampla, inslead of dodging in 54 (down) in the lead aftor making 3ed's place, a bob causes hin to stop in 7-6 (down) and have a double instend of a single dodge.
If he is celling the bolss by the fixed positions of Wrong ( $7-6$ down), Home ( $6-7 \mathrm{up}$ ), Middle ( 45 up ), Jn (into the lume), Out (ont of the bunt) or 乃efore (3rd's place), he must he prepared for this omission. Wrong will come in the lead after 3rd's; Home in the lead after 54 (down) : Middle in the lead after 7-6 dawn; In, the lead after 6-7 up; but Before comes in the lead after 45 up , because it is the one position that a bob does not affect. The Out cones at auy given number of leads from the time the bell is called In: and obviously no other calt cant bo inserted between an In and an Out,

The time to call the bob is when the breble is 113 3d's place on the way dowir. That may not be ensy to observe, but, if you thave mastered the ropesight of coursing, you will readily see tho bell hanting down immediately in front of the treble. The call is made when that bell begins to lead. As a help you can remember, also, that the catl comes as you arrive in your dodging place, or, if you are goiag into the luut yourself, imanediately you leave the lead.
As a simple beginning yout can bry auy of the following touches:3,5 , 5 or 4 called Middle three times.
3, 5, 7 or 6 called Wrong three times
3, 5, 7 or 4 called Home three times.
7, 6 or 4 called In and Out (acet lead) three times.
2 called Out and In three times.
Here ard 16 different ways of calling a touch of 168.
Tou cnn extend these by calling a single for the tast bob, and then repeating the whole, except in the case of the 2nd Out and In, when the Single should be called at the last Out. This use of singles doubles the lengtis of the touch.

Other touches of 336 can be got by using the calling of the 7th In and Out and the Bth In and Oul in any combination of three courses repented. rthus:-

7thi In and Ont twice, 6th In and Out once, repented.
6th In and Out twice, 7th In and Out once, repeated
For brevity these might be indicated by the fugures 7.7.6 repeated und 6.6 .7 repeated. Other combinations which beginuers cen work ont for thenaselves nre $7.6 .7 ; 6.7 .7 ; 6.7 .6$ and 6.6 .7

Many longer touches ann le made up by the same process, but ringers who work ont their own mush not overlook the risk of repetitiou. It would be good practice to wite olat the lead-ends of the tonches, and these can be produced by the following transposibions: 253746 for a plain lead; 752634 for a bols lead. If no singles are 11sed, the touch is true if none of the lead-ends repent.

SUCCESSFUL PEAK MEETING.

The Ashover meeting of the Peak District Society, held on June 26th, was extremely successfinl. A very fine afternoan brought alout 30 nembers and friends together, and some good ringing was enjoyed by all on this recently relung peal of eiglit. Everyone voted the 'go' as excallent, and gave Messrs. Taylor, of Loughharangl, credit for another splendid piece work. Towers represented were Derby, Dove, Ashover, Matiock, Darley Dale, Sheffield, with friends from Stoke-on-Trent. Tonches weve rumg in the usual standard metlods and a good contse of Cambridge brouglit round.

WEDDING BELLS

MARRIAGE OF MR. A. H. HTFGHES, OF BRADFORD.
At Holy Trinity Church, Low Moor, Bradford, on June 19th, the marringe took place of Miss Phyllis l3oyes, younger daughter of Mre. Boyes, of Wresley Place, Low Moor, nud the late Mr. George Boyes, ta Mr. Albert Henry Hughes, son of Mr. bud Mrs. Albert J. Huglies, of Green Larle, Wyike, Bradfowl.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serjous one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

CHESTER GUILD'S JUBILEE.

The Chester Diocesan Guild now joins the list of ringiag organisations which have attained the honourable distinction of celebrating their jubilee, and they have marked it in a highly commendable way. The fiuild have presented two new treble bells to the mother clurch of the diocese and no more filting commemoration of the auspicious event could have been adopted. Moreover, the jubilee happily coincides with the year of the Coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth and the gift to the Cathedral has enabled this royal occasion also to be commenorated.
The enlargement of a ring of bells is always interesting, but it cannot always be said that an increase to ten or twelve bells adds to the satisfying qualities of a peal. In the case of Chester, however, the heavy bells, which have been in the Cathedral for just 70 years, have metal more than sufficient to justify the step that has been taken.
The Exercise will extend its congratulations to the Chester Guild upon reaching its jubilee and upon its nethod of comnemorating it. When it was founded it filled a gap in a corner of the country bordered by the Midland Counties and the Lancashire Associations where no organisation existed, and took up the good work which, by that time, had spread nearly throughout the country. The advantages of this form of organisation among ringers was rapidiy becoming realised among those who recognised the need for belfy reform, not altogether from the point of view of the conduct of ringers, but in order to link bell ringing with service to the Church. In the mikldle of last century very little of the ringing that was done was practised with the higher motives which it is the aim of the associations to foster-a point which to-day is sometimes lost sight of, because the ringer's part as a menber of the church organisation is now largely taken for granted.
Ringing in those days was usually regarded as a pastime, or from a mercenary standpoint albeit the "loaves and fishes' were small. It was the growing desire of those who felt that church bell ringing should stand on a higher plane, that led to the formation of the county and diocesan associations. The movement began from within the ranks of the ringers themselves, and it is to the credit of the 'reformers' of those days that the network of societies, which now covers the country, was establishod. The service which these associations and guilds have rendered to the Church and to the cause of ringing cannot be over-estimated. Much of what they set out to achieve has been accomplished,

PEAL NOTES.

PERFORMANOES AND PERSONALITIES.
There wers great rajoicines in Wales on the occasion of their Majesties' tour of the Princtpality last week. Two peals were ruug in connection with tha visit, One was Grandsire Caters at Cardiff, whicla nob only cefebrabed the Royal visit, but also the King aud Queen's Coronation, in lovour of whicil lather eventa a previous attempt pailed.

The Rev. G. J. Richaraje, Master of the Llandaft and Moumouth Association, was one of the band who took part in a peal of Minor at Llarifrechfa, Mon., on July 14th, when the Kjug and Queen visited Newport, Fony of the ringers had helped earlier to ing the bells at All. सaintas Chureh, Newport, at the coming of their Majesties to the Lurough.

Members of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham liave sung the firsh peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal in the county of Shropshire, at Coulbrookdale. The Guild has made quite an interesting collection' of 'frsts' jn the past. Some that we can recall are hio first Surprise peal rung out of Eugland (at Bray Ireland), the first Surprise peal in Wales, tho first trus peal of Treble Ten in Ireland, the frst twelve-bell peal in Devon (at Exeter), und the first peal on the sea (crossing from Dublin to Holyhead).

A lialf-muffed memorial peal to the miners who lost theis lives in the pit disaster at Brymbo Colliery, Chesterton, Stafis, has been rung a.t Longton.
ific. James T. Stevens, a member of the band abl St. Jolun the Brptist's Ghurch, Erith, was married on Satnrday to Miss Irene Eva Medhurst and a peal of Stedman Thiples was rung in hanour of the event. The bride and bridegroom kindly entertained the band to tea after the peal, and toast to their future health and happiness, conpled with gool wishes, was drunk.

Mr. Jolin $W$. Carter, no relation, by the way, to the inventor of the ringing machine, but an enthusiastic member of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guila, is leaviug the district. much to the regret of his many fuiends. A farewell peal of Minor (Mr. Carter" first of Treble Bab) was tung at Seaje, to which clarch be has been attached. Mr. Oarter is going to Coleman's Hatch, Sussex. Sussex will gain another riuger by the removal to Horslaam of Mr. Sydney Taylor, who is shortly leaving Chelnaford. On July 7th a Earewell peal of Steriman Triples was rumg at Boreliam, Essex.

At Crayford, Kent, the first peal of Puinswick College Bob Major (No. 44 in the C.C. Collection) was rung on July 16th. There are many interesting plain methods in this collection and we would like to gee moro of tiem rung. By the way, Grayford bas often been the tower for 'first peals, and E. A. Barmett is following in Grandpa's fontstepa in enlling new things.
Whan is beliored to be the first peal in seven Surprise methods in the Enstern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild rung by branch members was scored at Benington on July 10th. Two laclies took part and it was the first peal in seven Suprise methods by all the brad.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Great Baddow, Essex, on July $17 \mathrm{H} \mathrm{l}_{\text {, Was }}$ wpecially arranged for Miss Sylwia R. E. Bowyer, one of the brilliant yonng lady ringers of St. Mary-le-Tower company, Ipswich.
Messis. Gilleth and Johnston recently overhauled the bells at Lanfihangel Rhydithon, Radnorslite, and added a new treble to make a ring of six. Tlie first peal was rung on them on Sunday, July 11th. The method was Grandsire Dothbles.
The peal of Grandsire Triples yury at $\Delta$ beravon on July 16. Whas arranged for Mr, Howard Howell, who was on tisit to South Wales from Welsall, Staffs. It was also a birthday compliment to Mr. F. F. Stone.

The Norwich Diocesan Assaciation has peals in a great variety of meithorls in its records, but it was mot unfil last week that a peal of Oxford Bol Major was added. It was rumg at Wymondham and was the first peal in the method by all the band.
The peal of Bob Major at Mayfield, Sussex, on July 10th, was rung afler an attempt, lasting 20 minutes, for a peal of Oxford Treble Brib.

REDEDICATION OF CRICKLADE BELLS.

ROPRS AMONG THE OEORR STALSS.

Tio bells of St. Sampsols's Chureh, Crieklade, Wilts, have heen recently restored hy Messrs. Taylor and Ca. and were rededicaled by tho Bishop of Bristol on July 5th. The bells, a ' left-handed ${ }^{1}$ ring of five, witl a tenor of ahout 15 cwt, have been rehmg on ball hesrings with all new fittings, and the 4 th, which was badly cracked, has been recast and tine other hells tuned,
The service wus eonducterl by the Vicar (the Rev. S. W. L. Finhards), the lessans being vead by Sir Percy Lamrie. Immediately mfter the Bishop's prayer 'f vededication, the bells were chimed in rounds for a few nimutes, it being impossible to ring owing to the ropes falling anong the choir stalls. After the service the hells were raised in peal, and the opening loum, three courses of Bob Singles ant 120 of Grandsire Donbles, was mung iy C. 5 . Gardner 1, J. J. Berry 2, W. H. Trueman 3, H. W. Bishop 4, W. B. Kynaston (conduetor) 5. Other ringers from Girencester and district afterwards hat a pull, and the general opinion was that the bellhangors had done theis: work in an excellent manner, the hells being rung very casily despite the rery long dranglat of over goft. of rope. Cricklade now possesses an emsy going, ploasing little ving, which were feopened practically free frons debt, only $£ 6$ being requined.

FOR BEGINNERS.

GRANDSERE IN THREE-LEAD COURSES

Some of the earliest peals of Grandsire Triples were composed un what is known as the threc-lead course plan, that is a plan by which the observation bell comes back to its plain course position cyery third load. Such peals are not uow much in favour, principally ou the ground, we believe, that the observation bell never does the whole of the work included in a plain course.
There are only three positions iu which it can fall, and these are Wrong ( 76 down), Midde ( $4-5 \mathrm{up}$ ) and Before (3rd's place). The observation bell never goes into tha hunt or dodges in 5-4 down or $6-7$ up, and many people, therefore, loak upan such peals as lacking in interest.
Novertheless, his short-course plan provides excellcnt music fol tollehes, for it is possible for instance by this means to get the finll extent of 6-7 together at course-cuds in a touch of ouly 1,008 changes.

Peals on these hines have usually the 6 ih as the observation heli, but the 5th or 3 rd is sometimes used. If you want to keep the 6-7 together throughout your touch you must keep both these bells fixed and you do it by calling a Simgle at the first lead (bringing the 6ils into 4-5 mp and the 7 th to make the long $\left.\mathrm{Jrd}^{\prime} \mathrm{s}\right)$. A three-lead caurse also necespitates a call to bring 6-7 together' belnind-it is that, indeed, which nakes the three-lead course.

It is easy to call from any ball. Note the course-end, call a Single the next lead; have a plain lead wheu the 6th comes Befora (unless your composition, as it may, provides for a Bob), aud call a Boh or Single next lead as required.

When written out the calls may be noted as M. B. W., or $1,2,3$, the figures denotitig the lead of the course. Thus at tanch of 168 can be written in either of the

| 234567 | M | B | W | 234567 | 1 | 2 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
|  | 3 | 3 |  |  |  |  |
| 345267 | S | - | 345267 | S |  | - |
| 452367 | S | - | 452367 | S | - |  |
| 523467 | S | - | 52347 | S | - |  |
| 234367 | S | - | 234567 | S |  | - |

This touch can be doubled in length by ealling a Single for either of the Bobs, and lengethened again by calling a Single for one of the other Bobs in altermato parts.
You can make up a great variety of touches for yourself, and you can get the 1,008 to which we have referred by using the following :-

| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 435267 | 5 | 5 |
| 352467 | S | - |
| 524367 | $\approx$ | - |
| 423567 | $S$ | $S$ |

Repeat this five times with a Bob for Simgle at the end of the thind and sixth parts.
If you want a 504 witil twelve $6-7$ 's, call the four course three times exretly as sef out.
A very symmetrical five-part peal on this plan was composed hy Thomas Phurstans, of Birminglam, for ever famous for his Four-Part peal of Stedman Triples. It is based on these four-course blocks.
In the first block a Bob at, 2 (the 6 th Before) is oalled. The rest is like the tonoh of 1,008 . It brings up the part-end 723465 , and that is one-fifth of the neal.

TROWBRIDGE RINGERS' LONG DAY'S TRIP

Tha ringers of the Trowbridge Parish Church, accompanied by a few frionds from Bath, had their annual outing on Jume 20hh. Starling at 7.30 a.m., they proceeded by road to Winchester, where ifhey were mot by the Cathedral ringers, who pointed out many interesting and historical features in the ancient pile. The Trowhridge men lad been grated permission to ring for the morning service, and Stedman Cinques was rung on the very fine peal of twelpe recently installeri. These bells are a revelation of what can bo achieved by the hellfounker with 8 modest weight. They can hest be described in one ward, 'Graild.
The party afterwards proceeded to Portsmouth, staying at Coshan to take lunch. Aul enjoyable hour or two was spent on the sea frout, and then, after tea, they arrived at St. Mary' 9 , Portsea, where Messrs. Greenwood and Rogers were waiting to recoive them. Here touches in various methodis were rung for evening service on an excellent peal of eight. The splenctid ${ }^{2}$ go $^{\circ}$ of the bells and the well-kept belfy were greatly admired by the visitors. The return journey was made via Southampion and Salisbury, Trowbridge being reached at 11.15 p.m. Fiveryone voted the long day a great success, thanks to ilie efficient orgenisation of Sam Hector and his able assistants. Thanks aro also hereby accorded to all who contributed to the comfort of tho party.

ROYAL VISIT TO EDINBURGH.

In honour of tho State Entn' $\%$ of ther Majesties the King and Queen into the Scoltish capital on Monday, July 5th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at St. Mary's Gathedral by J. Middlemass 1, M. A. K. Simpson 2, H. Chandler (Royal Navy) 3, A. G. Collinson (first grarter-peal of Caters) 4, W. C. S. Heathcote 5, 13. F. Verbon 6, J. $\frac{\text { M }}{}$
9. J. F. B. Pirte 10.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A USERUL l'RACTICE MEETING AT HEDON.
A meeting of the Eastern Disfrict of the Yoqkshire Association was held at Hedon on Saturday, July 17th. The fine peal of eight and the large, cool helfry were much appreciated by evaryone, and some well-struck touches were brought round. The warm and close weather made the fea at the Queen's Head Hotel doubly welcome.
Mr. R. H. Vigor informed the nembers that the next meeting had been arranged for Bridlington on August 14th, and hoped that they would do their best to attend, as it was some time since a meeting was held there. JHe mentioned that though there was a very fiae peak of eight at Bridlington, the bells had been neglected and there would be a good chance of doing some 'missionary' work by endeavouring to get them overlanled and put in order.
The meeting at Hedon was held especially for the practice of methods whid members are muable to obtain locally owing to the great size of the district and the sparsity of towers, and besides the standard methods for the less advanced, many rang their first tonches of Donble Norwich, Little Bols and Oxford Treble Rob. Fingers were present from Hall, Setby, Sutton-on-Hall, Sherbura-in-Elmet, Hemingurougl, Headingley, Hobleck and Barton-upon-Humber.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCEATION

A SIX-BELL MEETING.
The Nortls and East District of the Middesex County Association nud London Diocesan Guild met at Fendon on Saturday, July 10th, and for a six-hell meeting there was quite a good attendance, some 32 aingers putting in all appearance.
At the business megting Mr. A. W. Coles (Master of the association) took the clair in the absence of Mr. G. W. Fletcher (vice-president), who was attending a meeting of the Tadies' Guild at Sheflield!
Five new members were elected, and the arrangements for the next meeting left to the hon. secretary.
The usual votes of thanks were accouded to the Ficar (the Rev. N. R. Boyd) and to Messis. Barmard und Martim and the local ringers or arrangements made.
A mumber of Contral Conncil publications weve on sale, and quite ood business was done.
Members attended divine service at 6 pmo. immediately after the usiness meeting.
Finging, under the guidance of Mr. IT. J. Lock, contimued until thout 8.30 p.m., with Graudsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Boh, Cambudue and London Suprise, and the special method for the day, Double Stedman flow Course!

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

gUCOESK[UL MERYING AT NETHERTON
The summer meeting of the Northern Bratheh of the Worcestershire Association was held at Netierton, when ahout 50 menthers were uresent, inchuding Mr. Wibliam short, Master of the assouthole Ranging, which took place in the afternoon and evening, ramged trom rounds to London Surprise Major. The Surprise methorls, however, did not go too well. The bells are a peal of eight. with tenor about 13 owt., recently recast by John Taylor and Co. inon an eanlier peal. They are of excellent tone and "go, which, combined with a wellappointed ringing room, provide ideal ringiner conditions.
The Vicar (the Rev, H. L. Warren) was away on holiday, but the Rev, Frank Carr, curate of Netherlon and a member of tho local band, taok the service and made arrangements [ar an excellent dea in the adjoining schoolnooms.
A collection at tea, for the Belfry Repairs Fund, realised 12s., which result justified the departure from the msual practices of takiug it in charch during the service.

The Rov. Frank Carr presided over the business mecting which followed. The annual meeting of the bratheh will he at Iromegrove in September, subject to permission being granted and the nrrangements for the quarterly peal, to be rung at Nethertom, wera loft in the hands of the Branch Ringing Master (Mr. T. Hemming), the chairnan riving permission on behalf of the Vicar.
Two performing members, Mr. Ton Parsons and M\%. Willian Parsons, of Cradley, were elected ringing members, ath a churchwarden, of Netherton, Mr. Jordan, an honorary member.

The brancls secretary (Mr. J. S. Mason) drew attention to the mannal dinner, which would be held at Worcester on the last Saturday in Scptember. Although it was looking ahead for several months, he wigal mombers to book the date and give their support.
Discussion arose over the question of trevelling, and the branch secretary intimated that he was quite willing to arrange facilities if a sufficient number would guarantee to give their support. He pointred out that arrangements could be made if anll names wore Landed in not later than the September meeting.
The meeting closed with a vote of lhanks to the charman and to all who hat contributed to the success of the occasion. To this the chairman suitably replied and the mambers left to revisit the tower for further ringing.
His many ringing friends will be pleased to hear that Mr. Albert Prestidge, bhe leader of the Netherton ringers, is able to be about once more after his recent illness, and abluongly he is not sufficiondy well to take a really active patt in change dinging, his anteresi has in no way diminishef.

BELERY GOSSIP

Will all who inteud visititig the Middesex and Hertfordstive joint meeting on Saturday next kindly note that, owing to illaess at Hadley, tho meeting will be held at Barnet. Perticulars are given in the usual columne.

Canon G. F. Coleridge, in his 80th year, has again accepted office, at the unanimous request of the members, as Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

Recently Canon Coleridge Ind anotion accident nud hurt his already dameged knec. Happily it resporded to treabment and his leg is now better than it bas been at any time since fus first misliap. Getting downstairs is his greatesl trouble.
Now trebles are being added to the ring of eight at Poole to ceiebrate the Goronation, and it has beeu announced that they will be dedicated on September 25th Reference was made at the Central Council meeting to Leicester belleg the only city outside London with two sings of twelve bells. But Birmingham also has two-St. Martin's and Aston-to say nothing of others in the immedjate vichity of this Midland "Fillage.
We are glad to say that Mr. Oliver Sippetts, of Crawlej, who recently underweat a slight operation in hospital, is home again and making excellent progress towards recovery.
The attention of members of the Ancient Order of Foresters attending the High Court at Ipswich is directed to a notice in another column with regard to ringing at St. Mary-le-Towor Church.

Once a year a bellringers' festival is held at Coalinookdale, Shropshire, when special sermous are pretuched and the offertorios during the day are given to the bellringers' fund. This year's festival is fixed for Sunday next.
A party who wisited Devor last week all a ringing holiday attempted one peal only each day. They rang five peals and lost one.
After ringing three hou's and with only eight courses to go, an attempt on Saturday for the first peal of Stedman Oinques on the new bells at Mancliester Town Hall was stopped in a peremptory manner by Lord Mayor OPDoole in person. We understand that the reason given was that a priest in a neighbouriag Foman Catholie Church was mable to hear confessions, owing to the bells.

'CHANGE RINGING WITHOUT BELLS.'

Fo the Aditor.
Denr $ir,-I enclose an advertisement from the 'Chureli Times which may well put ringerg on thoir guard.
I doubt the veracity of the siatement: 'A single operator can achieve elaborato change ringing without previous knowledge of campanology.' Nevertheless, many of the clergy reading this and not understanding rimging may think-
(a) The instrument a cheap way out;
(b) The instrunsent a thing of superior musical charm io bady lung beils;
(c) The instrument capahin of nchiering change vinging in a perfect way.

It, thorefore, behoves all compunolurists to "pull up theip socks. Melton Mowbray VETENON TAYLOR.
The advertisement referred to describes the instrument as "a caril lon without bells.' It claime as its nerits that it requives hift a few cubic feet of space, it imposes no strain on the fabric and its cost is only a fraction of the expenge entailed by a set of bells.
Tha statement that "a single operabor can achieve elaborate change ringitg without previolls linowledge of campanology' is, howover, obviously absurd.

LADIES' GUILD.

MEMBERSHIP 'NOW THREE HUNDEED.
The annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at Handsworth, Sheffield, on Saturdny. Jnly 10: h. There were 27 menabers present, ropresenting all the diatricts with one axception, Ringing took place in the afternoon and evening at the Pariah Chureh, and a short service was conducted by the Rectar, Canon Baker. Mrs. Baker presided at the organ.
Tea and the business meeting followed, at which the president, Miss E. Steel, fook the chair. The accounts were presented and showed an excess of income over expenditure of 2dd., and the hon. treasurer pointed out that if subscriptions had all been paid up to date the excess would have been considarably larger.
Miss Steel was re-blected president and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher hon. secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Deal was appointed auditor.

As the membership of the Guild had now reached 300 , it was decided to send a third representative to the Central Conncil, and Miss Steel was unamimously elected.
A lengthy discussion then took pace on the working of the districts with a view to a possible rearmangenent of the areas covered, to ensure that the whole country was adequately served. A scheme was suggested by the hon. searelnry, and it was agroed that details of this schemo be sent to all district gecretaries for further consideration under working conditions. If found salisfactory, the Elight altelation necessary to the rules will he considered at the next annoal meeting, which it was decided should bo lield in London.
The usial votes of thanks were passed to all who had Inelped to make the meeting such it Euceess.

NEW BELLS AT CHESTER CATHEDRAL.

DIOCESAN GUILD'S JUBILEE GIFT.  Dedication at Festival Service.

Tho jubilee festival of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held in the ancient Cathedral on Saturday, July 17h. The festival gervice took place in the nave, and a large collgregation of ringers, citizens and visitors was present to witness a ceremony which was unique in the lons history of this beautiful House of God.
The office hymn, 'Swing them gently in our towers,' was followed by the 148 th and $150 t h$ Psalms, and the lessons were read by the Dean (the Very Rev. F. S. M. Benneft, D.D.) and Canou A. E. Simpson, B.D. Purcell's delightful anthem, 'Rejoice in the Lord alway;' was sung preyious to an inspiring sermon by the Lord Bishop.
Foliowing the concluding prayers, the hymn, When morning gilds the skies, was begun, and after the fourth verse a pause was made witile the Master of the Guild (Mr. J. W. Miner) presented to the ringers.' They were Messrs. H. A. Heywood, J. Moryau, A. Shiull, E. Breeze, S. Morton and I. Wood.

Mr. W. Wilcox, another original member, much regretlod his isa bility to be present.
The business meeting followed, with the Master in the chnir. The accounts were adopted. The hon, secretary's repart showed that the membership of the Guild remained practiontly the sumo ats in the provious year, 40 honarary members and 637 ringing members, but pointed out that several towers were still not in union. Peals munbered 77, with 163 members taking part, 18 ringing a peal for the first time. Congratulations were offered to the malti-method Minar band on their outstanding periormances, and tide same band was later congratulated by the meeting on their recent success, in which 73 methods were rung in a peal.
It was resolved liat the first peal on the ten bells at the Cuthedral should be attempted by a bund representing ali butiches of the Guild.

CHESTEA'S ANCIENT CATHEDRAL
Iu the Tower of which two additional bells have lhen placed to celebrate the Diocesnn Guild's jubitec.

Dean ropes attached to the two new trebles. Holding the ropes in he hard, the Dean said that it gave bim great pleasure on behalf of the Gathedral to accept the new bells us a gift from the Diocesan Guild. In monastic times a Dean was a person who had charge of ton men, and is a moderu Dean le was glad to feel that he was now in charge of ten bells.
It was an impressive monent when, as the Denn and the Master walked back from beneath the tower to their seats, the ten bells rang out from abowe. Rounds were rumg for two minutes, beautifully elfective in the stillness of the Cathedral, and as the ringing ceased ihe notes of the great organ taok the place of the bells and the lymn was concluded. The Bishop pronounced the Blessing before tive knee]ing congregation, and the Sevenfold Araen brought to a close a eervice which will remain long in the memory of those who were privileged to be present.
A cheerful gathering 130 strong, sat down to ted im the Refectory, the Lovd Bishop presiding, and a happy diversion was createn whey the Dean was ngked to accept a silver inkstand, suitably inseribed, with the good wishes of the Chester Branch of the Guild and as a taken of deep affention.
The Dean, who retires in a few weeks' tirae, has been chairman of the Chester Bimuch for 17 years, during which time his unfailing cheerfulnegs, sympathy and interest in the worlh of the branch mas endeared him to the Hearts of all fts members. He takes with him to Taunton, in bis native county of Somorset, the good wishes not only of the Chester Branch, but of the whole Guild.
In a charming reply, the Dean said that he could not promise to write to everyone present, but the inkstand, which, would have a place on his study table, would serve to remind him-if any reminder ware needed-of his associations with ringers in Chester.
It is interesting to record that six of the members present were also present at the Refectory on Novenber 12th, 1887, when the Guild was formed following a recolution of the Diocesan Conferenne, 'That it is desirable in form a Diocesan Guild or Association of Comeln Bell-

It was decided to hold a jubilee dinner in Noveratior as hur the foundation date (November 12th) as possible.
Soveral lowers were open for ringing during the evening, but the main attraction nafnrally was the augmented ring at the Calhedral. An excellent splice has been made by Messrs. Menrs and Stainbask, and Mr. A. A. Hughes, representing the firne, was congratuluted or all sikles. The Gathedral, without doubt, now posessses a fine ring of ten bells, and the Guild feels that il has celebrated its jubilee in a manner wortly of the occasion.
The inseriptions of the new bells are:-
Treblo. Think and Thank, Tr. S. M. Bennelt, Dean. Oast to calebrate the jubilee of the Chester Diocesan Guik of Church Beliningers. 1887-1937.
2nd.-Benedictus Benedicat. Gast in the year of the Coromation of H.M. King Gearge VI, 1937. God save the King.

Or Tuesday evening there was a special broadeast of the "bells in the Northerm Tegional programme, wifh at brief and well-planned lalk hy Mr. J. W. Clarke on ringing and bells in gemeral, and Chegter Cafledral bells in particular. The hells formed a badkgronnd to the lalk and were them opened up so that listemens heard tile last lead of a course of Grandsire Caters and rounds and the $Q u e d$ 's change.

DEATH OF A BEENHAM RINGER

The death oecurred on Monday, Tuly Sth, of Mr. Andrew James Churehill, who for ahout 40 years had been a menber of the old Beenham band of bellingers and un ardent chareluger. He was one who could always be relied mpon to be in attendanae at ail Sunday services, matil about eight years lago, whon his hoalth preventod lim from attending.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

PRESENTATION TO CLERICAL EON, SECRETARY
The anmaal meeting of the Society for the Aychdeaconry of Staford was held ab Lichtield on Saturday, July 10th, when upwards of 70 members and friends put in an appearance. The bells of St. Mary's (8) and St. Michael's (6) were availatole duriug the afternoon and evening, bit the members were not permitted to ring at the Cathedral this year. A sumptuous tea was prepared in the Wawe Street Hall und was followed by the general meeting, at which the Venerable R . L Judson, Archdeacon of Stafford, presided. Apologies for absence were read from Mr. H. Boswell (retiring Ringing Master), Messrs. T. J Eiton and H. Butler

The committee's report and the accounts were adopted, the latter showing a credit balance of 126135 . 9 d .
The joint hum. secretaries, auditor and committee (under Rule B) were re-elected.
The uames of two members were put upfor Ringing Mastcr-Mcssis. B. Forton and B. G. Key-and ou a show of hauds Mr. Key was lectared elecied.
The following places were selected for mestings to be held during the coming year: Aldridge, Septenther; Coseley, January; Wednesbury, April; and the anmual meeting at, Liclufield fur June. Also bi

A siggestion that a memorial to the late Mr. George Fughes, of Wednesbury, in this form of a brass or bell-metal tablet, to be placed in the belfry at Wedneshury, was favourably received, and a commiltee of three (Messrs. A. J. Fubble, A. Hingley and H. Staith, of the Wednesbury band) were olected to proeeed with the project.
To mark the completion of 21 yearg' service as honortry clerical secretary and treasurer to the sobiely, the Rev. C. H. Barker, L.'I'Il., was the recipient of a foun$\mathrm{Minl}_{\mathrm{Mr}}^{\mathrm{p}}, \mathrm{H}$.
Mr, H. Kuight (lay secrovary), fokiag the presentation, spoke of the taluable service Mr. Barker nad sendered to the society during that long period, and asleed him to actept the small gift as a token of esteem in which he was held by the members.
Mr. Barker, in thanking the nembers for their kind thought atud uction, said the work liad heen a labour of love.
Tho President said he, too, would like to thank Mr. Barker for the good work he was doing amongst ringers in the Alchdeaconry. Continuing, lie said he was pleased to see present so many youngsterg, to whom they had to look for the future welfare of the society. He added that ho lad read the book, "The Nine Tailors,' and was very muels struck with it. He suggested that a copy should be added to the kibrsy in every tower

PRESIDENT OBJEGTS 'I'O 'GRAMOPHONE' BELLS

The President, in conclusion, said he had a strong objection to the use of the loud speaker for gramophone records of bells, aud advised all ringers to take every opportiuniby to check it.
A rote of thanks to the chaimman concluderl the tursiness.
The committee, in their report, said meetings were held during the past year at Lichfeld, Codsall, Tipton and Scolgley. All were moderately attended except the one at Tiptan, where, owing to severe winlyy weather, the attendance was rot as good as might otherwise have been expected. In addition, two bi-quarterly meetings, for practice, were held at Shareshill and Wednesbury, the latter being well attended.
Since the last ammal meeting, four bell restorations had been completed, vix., Coseley, King'白 Bromley, Longdon and Willenlall, with very satisfactory results.
The number of peals rung duriug the year was 27 , as against 37 for the previous year. There was mot much variety in the methods mang, but one peal was worth mentioning, viz., the peal of Stafiovishire Su'prise Major-the first in the method for the society und first in the county of Staford-which gave a lead which the younger members might enulate. A peal of Doubles ring in five methods, at Patslull, was also moteworthy, Only one Coronation poal was accomplished, and thit was one of Stedman Cingues at Walsall ; other attempts were nuade, but were not successful. A peal of Stedman Oaters at Wolverhampion was rung as farewell to Bishop Kempthorne, who had (Coutirued in next column.)

PAULERSPURY BELLS

YOUNG RLNGERS' APPEAL FOR ADDITIONAL TREBLE.

 Tro the EditorSin,-In the repori, published some weeks ago, in 'The Ringin! World' of a quarter-peal rang by the Paulerspury band you incorrectly stated, 'E. Smart, conductor, 5, P. Fosier 6.' it sluondd have read, 'E. Smart 5, and P. Poster conducted.' We are all learners in our belfry and it is beyond our scope to ring and conduct mere than one or two 120 's yet.
We have been congratulated by friends on the quarter-peal and also upou tho 6th bell, which, however, we have not yet got. But it luas awakened a desire to byy for a $6 \mathrm{~h} h$, or, rather, a new treble bell, for which a space is prepared in the new steel frame, which was pat in last year at a cost of about fxob.
On' Rector (Rev. F. Kcnworthy- Browne) hes given us permission to starli a fund for this purpose, on condition flal we do mothing to baku money away from other urgent church repairs, such as a new heafing appacatus, renewing beams and lead in the roof of the clapel and also repails to the top of the tower-all very expensive items. Wo have alrendy been promised 88 , and, of course, shonld welcome eny ontside help which wonld ease the burden an the willage people, have done so well in the past and of whom so aluch is expected in the future.

ANOTHER EIGHT FOR DEVON

NEW TREBEES AT SILVERTON.

St. Mary's Church, Silverton, Devon, now possesses r ling of eight bells, two new trebles laving been dedicated by the Bishop of Eweter on July 9tl.
For many years the church has had a ring of six, anat the ootuve has now been secured throuth the addition of bells commemorafing the late Rev. G. E. F. Molineux and Commander K. E. Poynt Stewart, former parishioners. Tlie bells have been laug in a new frame, and repairs have been carried ont to the tower, the whole scheme costing about $£ 500$.
The clurch was erowded for the blessing ceremony, many forme parishioners being among the congregation. The Bishop was accompanied by the Rev. 1. G. Ketichley (Rector of Fenyock and Rura Dean) as his chaplain, and among the robed clergy present, in addi tion to the Rector (Preb. 7. O. Walters), were the Revs. Ti. V. (Brampford Speke, president of the Guild of Devoushire Ringers), read the lesson, zud F. Carter (Withleigh, chairman of lie Nor Eastern Branch of the Devon Guild). The Bishop nod clergy were accompanied to the ringing chamber by the churehwardens, Messes W. Ackland aud C. Medland, aud the ejght bells were ruug tollowing the blessing.
In his sermon the Bishop said he had been in the diocese long enowry to realise that Devon had the largest mamber of bells and the largest number of bellhingers, and he was sure that Devou people loved theit bells and were ready to give most generously when bliey needed atten tion. Althongh he had not a great knowledge of hells as yet, he judget that at Silverton they had a very beautiful peal.
Going on to remark that bells often uttered messages which conld not be expressed in words, the Bishop said that on Sundays they annomiced tho invitation, 'Come, for all things are now ready, One of the truths which this generation needed lo remember most of all was thal men missed the very good things of life not because they were wicked, but because they were too busy thinking about other things.

This is not a wicked genoration,' said the Bishop. 'Far from it Bub it is a very busy one. There are somany wouderfal things to do, so many wonderful gifts of science-he wireless, motor-cars and cinemas-and the world has become surly an interesting place that there are fewer to-day responding to the appeal of the bells.' Fe hopod the bells would say to those who were always intending to zo to clurch, "Do it now; time is passing.'

After the service the bells were rung by visitors from Exeter, Ply mouth, Sidmouth, Broadclyst, Thorverton, Brampford Speke, Bampton, Brakninch, Rewe, Washfield and Culloupton.
The restoration of the peal, which las futheded the proviston of modern fittings throughout and the supplying of the two new bells, has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Lourghorongh. The tenor of the augmented peal weighs 16 cwt .11 lb .

retired from the See of Lichfeld. Whe conducting of the several peals was shared hy ten members. The peals were : Doubles (two methods) 4, Doubles (five methods) 1, Grandsire Doulbes 2, Grandsire Triples 5, Stedman Triples 1, Stedman Caters 4, Stedman Ginmes 4, Bob Minor 1 Bob Major 1, Kent Treble Boh Minor 2, Keat 'r'veble Rob Royal 1, Staftordshire Surprise Major 1, total 27.
Tudging by the report of the Peals Analysis Committee, there were more twelve-bell peals rang during 1936 by his sociely than for any other in the countiry.

Regret was expressed at the loss, through denth, of the following mempers: The Rev. E. H. Rogers, Vicar of Tamworth; the Rev. A. F. F. Ronghey, of Cambridge; Mr. Alfred Butler, of Tubtenhall: Mri. F Williams, of Tipton; and Mr. George Hughes, of tiodneshary.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL.

ALTERATIONS OF RULES.

Oxford still favoured as Meeting Place.

Once again the members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild have in no uncertain way decened that they desire to hold their amual festival in Oxtord itself. Ncarly every year this practice is challenged, but it is an ong time since fhe meeting has been hend elsewhere. At the nittee that next year Reading should be chosen was defeated, nud unce agaill Oxford carried the day.
The moeting was attended by members from most parts of the diocese, which covers the tbree counties of Oxford, Berks and Bucks, and they tirsb met in Christ Church Cathedral for their festival service, it which the preacher 'was Bishop G. B. Allea, the Archdeacon of Oxford, whose text was . Make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob, (1'salm 81, y. 1). The text, said the Bishop, described exactly what the bells did, and they did it in accordance with the natural human instinct, consecrated to the service of ciol. Having referred to the e of bells in distant ages, the wreacher reviewed the subject of ringny ns part of divine service. What a difference, he said, bells zaade, not unly to our worship, but to the very life of town and country, and how painful and poiguant was the contrast in countries where and hew pere no bells. Bells were a true and integral part of English Although the bells of Christ Church were at present out of use, owiug to ropairs, no one in that city could ever forget the solemn and joyful funclions of these ministers of (iod. Wolsey's great bell still lolled nighlily over that Honse and city. Oxford was at city of bells, but not only the city, but the towns and villages of the diocese wore gladdened and, he hefieved, inspired by this gracious ministry. Pells were something between the silent and the articulate spokesman. They conveyed their message through the ear and their sound was heard where the living voice of the preacher canld not penetrate.
The work of the ringers was an honomable ministry, and in so far as were ninislers of God, consocrated to Him, bellingers should be rumuicants and al! yingers should attend the services for which they rang. As he went about to the country churches he could not noticing where rimgers went when the bells were rung down. He glad to be able to say, as far as his observation went, during his me montils' happy work in the diocese, that as a rule the ringer's the right way, showing that they highly valued their office. time the bells sounded from tower or steeple.throughout the they bore their far-reaching message to the truth of the eternal d and the trulla that the thingrs which are seen are temporal, lut 1 llings which are unseen fre atemal.

STER DEPLORES WEAKTNNG OF BRADITELD BRANCH.
Tlie lmsiness meeting was held in the Clapter House, the Master anou G. P. Coleridge) presiding over ar gathering of about a hundred, upported by the Deputy Master (the 2 Cev . C. W. Wigg), the हecretary R. T. Hiblert) ank tac hon. treasurer (Mr. A. D. Barker).

The reports of the officers were first adopted. That of the Master fieved to the meeting at Theale, in the Bradfield Deanery Branch, ue outcome of which was the transfer of three lowers to neighbouring lyanches. 'I deeply fleplore this, as it results in the weakering of a branch, small already in towers and membership. The old proerb, "Unity is strength," holds twe, everywhere and at every time Ghild, strong helping the weak should he the rule throughout the Guild. '
The report contimuil : I am glad to how that advice I have given varhous incumbents on bell restoration has in each case been followed witis very satisfactory results. It is a great satisfaction to me that our goneral secretary, Mr. R. T. Hibbert, stin holds office zuld that our fillances are in the very capable hands of Mr. A. D. Barker, elected ut the annual meeting in place of Mr. A. J. Wright, whose long term of offce was ended by failing energies. Judging by the keenness of the General Committee, there is strong hope that the Guitd will continue to prosper.
The Deputy Master, in his repart, said : The year 1936 has been oue stcady progress, both in new methods practiseel and in the conseientious carrying out of routine work; service ringing and the training of beginners. I am convinced that it is noon this latter. part of its work list the Guild must concentrate incereasingly. In an age when the attention of young men and women is so easily distranted from religions duties, any effort made to interest them in a specific piece of work for tho Church is of great value. I have been present at meetings of all the branches during the past jear, including one held at Thame by the South Oxon and Mid-Pueks Branch, which whs of especial interest, as being the first public meeting held by this irnnch for several years. It has been a source of encouragoment to me to notice the good attenuances including a large proportion of the Younger members at these meetings
In the course of his report, the semretary said the Guild made steady Trogress during the year, the number of towers affiliated isereasing by eight. The number of hon. members stood the same, 219. Ringing Members, including non-resident life members, showeti an increase of

The secretary said ho hat made inspeetions and given adtice at Tilehurst, Ufion Nervet and Stoke Poges, and had passed work us well done nt Newton Longueville, Streathey, Tetaworth nud Jasihampstead. At the arnounl nucetings of all the brancles he contad the spirit of brotherthood very much alive, sud atthough the branch secretaries lad their difficulties, they taekled then with an indomitalile spirit and kept things going in a very finc mamer. If nll did their best during 1937 he saw no reasou to be downhearted aboul flae futhre of the Guild.
The hon. treasurer reported that the general funds of the Guild anounted to E 275 2s. 2d., of which $£ 84$ 1s. 7d. was in the Restnration Fund. As no percentage of hon. members' sulscriptions had been Lransterred to the Restoration Fmad since 1929, is recommendation from the General Committee was desirable. Branches failing to sond thair contributions to the hon. treasurer by December 28th would be too late Cor indusion in the entrent year's accounts in fatur

CANON COLETRTDGE RE-ELECTED MASTERE

C. The Master हaid when he undertook effice, at the lime the hev capable of undertaking the Mastership, he felt he was rettinne else and he was older still now. The services of tha Depuly Master had heen invaluallo and of enormeus help to lim it every possible way When he (the Deputy Moster) was appointed, he was what was called nn "assistant curate' and not lis own master, so he could not very well undertake the duties of Master of the Guild. Now thoy could congratulata Mr. Wigg on having become Vicar of a Buckinghamshire parish and lie was gble to get about as ho wished. If uhe Guilit desired to elect Mr. Wigg as Master he (Canon Coleridge) would he perfectly ready to make way for him.
Mr. T. Troilope proposed that Canon Coleridge should remain as Master for augther year. If, he added, he then wishes to get out, perlaps we will listen to lim (laughter),-Mr. A. D. Barker Eeconded the motion, which was carried with applause.

Canon Coleridga, in acknowledging his clection, said he was wilhing to sever the Guild to the best of his ability, but, as he had told them before, lis paroclial duties often prevented him from attending meetings on a Saturday. He was always at their disprosal if thay wanted his advice or help (applause).
The Rev. O. E. Wigg was unaminonsly re-elected Depnly Master, Mr. A. D. Barker was reappointed hon. treasurer, and Mr. R. T" Fibluert secretary, both of them unamimously
The twelve elected menhers of the committee were re-elented an bloe, vig. Miss $\bar{V}$. Rohinsom, Miss $S$. Davik, Messts. J. Emals, G. Candwell, G. Holifeld, w. Hihbert, sen., G. Martin, R. White, A. D . Cullum, H. Sear, Z. W. Wilkins and W. F. Judge.

On belalf of a commited appointed to ravise the Guild service book, the Master said it was diceded to await the appearanse of the Hereford Diocesma Cuild's new service bnok. That book had recently come into his bands and harl been considered by the conmitrec, who at onee realised hat it did not meet the needs of the Oxford Guild. althongh it contained certain features well worthy of their consideration. The committee, therefove, decided to praceed with a new servise hook on liturgieal lines, embotying parts of the old form nsed lyy the Guili, with thio addition of new prayers, hymms and so forlth. They decided to include a dozen hynus, but the selection gave them ronsiderable difficulty for what ron suitalle hymus of thers disliked.
After a slorl discussion, in the course of which the suggestion that: a draft of the service shonld be submited to the twanches for cousideration was rejected, the commitiee were enpowered to proceed with the preparition and printing of the service books, Canon Coleridge remarking that any suggestions sent to bim world be collsidered hy the committee.

ALTERATIONS TO RULIES.

Threa alterations of rules came np for consideration. Fund 3 for Local Branches was altered to rean as follows: "The secretary of the hranch shall collect and forward to the hon, trensurer on or before Denember 2lst, in each year, the subscriptions of the memhers of the branch, vetaining not more than one half for local weeds. He shall also send a statement of tine branch accounts to the lom. hreasurer, and a correct list of members to the general sectetnry, will the proyisional diato of tive anmual meeting of the branch, to enable datos to be arranged to prevent two branch aumual meetings coincirling. The list of dates to be printed in anmal yeport.
The most jmportant effect of this is to ensure that the subscriptions shali be forwarded to He houn. treasirer on or hefore Dermbiner 21st, instexd of on or before the amunal fextival, and the Mnster asked for the co-nperation of the members in this, to assist the officials.
Tine following alteration to Rule 10 stood in the name of Mr. T. Trallope : -
The ammal festival and general menting shall he hold in Inly af Oxford.

COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATION DEFEATED.
-An additional ringing meeting shall be held in the eutumn, at sunte othar place to be seleated by the members at the annal festival. Arrargoments for hoth meetings to be left in the hands of the committee. ${ }^{1}$

At the suggestion of the Masfer, Mr. Trollope divided the motion into two parts and moved the first paragraph, which the Rev. St. George Fidwards seconded. Thete was no discussion, sud, on being put to the meeting, tho Master declared it carricd.
When Mr. Trollope moved the second part of the motion, several members raised objection to freating the motion as two independent resolntions, as, it was argucd, one was dependent on the other. Mr.
D. Boreham remarked that it, robbed them of their fight evary year to charge the place of meeling fram Oxford.

The Master agreed to the motion heing treated as a whole, and an manamed discussian turned on whether fhere shonld be an antum meeting.
The Secrelary said if the majority of the members attended as many brand annual meetings as he did, they would realise another Guild meeting was not necessary. If the idea was carried ont, the hard-warted secretary would ndvertise the meeting in "The Ringing Word ' and loave the offecens of the branch in whief it was to be heltil to do the work (langhter)
The vicw was expressed Lhat a Guild meeting was of diferent standing lo a district meeting, and Mr. W. I. Paice (Sonning brancl sceretary suggested they might twy joint branch mectings. What they wailed to do, he ssid, was to get rid of the feeling, which he thonght some members had, that they were nol welcome at the meetings of ather branches.
The Rev. St. Gearge Edwaids shid every year there was apposition to hotdiug the annual meeting always in Oxford; this motion would mieel lithis ulhection, by proriting Guild meetings in other parts of the Aidcest.
Thero was some conlusion when the voting took place, lut the Master declared the motion lost.
The committec (by a majority of four votes) had recommended thai the mext anmial meeting lie held at Reading, and this was proposed by Mr. A. D. Berker and seconded hy Mr. D. Boreham.
Mr. A. D. Culkm propored Oxford as an anendment, and Mr. W. Hohosert, jun, seoonded. On being put to the meeting Oxford was chosm ly a large majority.

THE RTSTORATION PUND.
The hon treassurer moved that Rule 17 be altered as follows:-
The Restorafion Fund shati be allgmented by (1) a collection taken duribg the service at the numal festival. (2) 25 per cent. of sub-
 (3) Tinterpst on War Loan or such other imvestments as may be beld Mr. Barker' in the moijou was what wha actually dome in practice. The motion was carrier unetumously.
The following grants, duplicating the amonts voted from the hanches, were made for bell restoration funds: Tilehurst, f5 $5 s$, Sloke Poges, 555 s ; Wroxton, 22 2s, or, if a more comprehensive selimme is nndertaken, f5 5s. ; and Beenluam, 8335 .
Mr. R. Post presented a report on the Central Ooumcil meting, at which he was one of the representatives of the Oxford Guild.
Mr. W. Fibbert, jun, said a detaiked report had already been puthished in 'Tho Ringing Workn,' and lie thought these reports by a manher were a waste of time, At. the suggestion of the Depuly Masfer, Mr. Post's report was talen as read, and he wes thanked for its premaration.
Mr, Trollope asked if copies of 'The Ringing World ' were availabla if thare weve any members who liad not read the report.
The Mastor said, as he had often remarked, he considered it the hounden duty of every ringer to be a weekly subscriber to "The Ringing World.
Tlie meating confirmed the election of 174 members elected since the hase anmal meeting, and Bishop Allen, Archdeacan of Oxford, who was ${ }^{\text {an }}$ ex-elicio viee-president undor the rules, was also eleoted a member. to atrdit, it was agreed tint if the present anditor resigned the Master and hon, treasurer be amthoriger to appoint an auditor.
Tlu. Master read $n$ letter from the editor of the 'Oxford Times ' offering, with view to inoreasing local interest in the work of the Guild to publish photographs of ringing teams, eitler present or past. The Master said ho was very much gratifieü at receving the letter anrl asked ringess who wished photographs of their teams published to commenicate with the "Oxford Times."

LUNCH IN CHRIST CEURCH HATL.
This tominated the husiness meeting and a large company then look lunch in the magnificenf dining lials of Cluist Clutch. Canon Cnloridge presided, and after the loast of "Clurch and King' had been hnnoured, proposed a compreliensive vote of thanke to all concerned Chime riny's arrangments. He specinlly thanked the Dean and Chapter, the geverning hody of Christ Chureh, the organist and Bistop

Allen. He sain it was a very liberal thing indeed for the goveruing body of Clutist Church to give them the use of that hall. There was not a guild or society in ihe country that would not rather come historic interest. They thanked Bishop Allen most warmely for preaching to them and for the interest he was taking in the Guild. It was with great thankfulness they found Bishop Allen taking the place of Bishop Slyaw. Ganon Coleridge adided linat when he was an umder graduate in 1876 and they used to practise on Christ Church belle, the helfiry door was ovened for them by a man whom he, even then belfiy door was opened for them by man whom he, even then, looked upon as old. before the Doan in the canhedral (laughter). He referved to Mr. Francis, who always took the grentest interest in the Guild. MrFrancis was 97 that dny (appleuse). He (the Master) suggested that the secretary should send him a line of congratulation and good wishes (applause).
Bishop Allen responded to the vote of thanks and exteuded a welcome to the Guild on behalf of all his colleagues. Mr. Trancis, said the Bishop, had told him that morning that he was very well inside, but not so good abont the legs ' (augitev), Mr. Prancis still went to charch more often than most people, said the Bishap, and went to the "flicks ${ }^{\text { }}$ three times a wrek (langhter and applause).
Canon Parham proposed 'Suecess to the Oxford Biocesan Guild.'
The Gnita, lee said, showed whate could be done by fellowship ii churels work. What the Guild owed to their chairman only ringers knew; There was not a heliry iu Fagland where the name of Canon Coleriage was not known, and there was no gathering of ringers wher: he woild not be sa honoured gnest (applause). In honouring the Guild they were honouring thcir Master, and they wished him long years of contimanco in his office (applanse).
Canon Coleridge, in reply, seid as long as he could be of help to the Guild he was at. their gervice. He recalled an early festival at Ahingburned up and the Gnild nearly went bankrupt. He hoped the Guid would contiane to flondish and that the healthful state of their fumds would enable them to reduce the price of the dimmer from 2 s .10 ls . $6 d$, (laughter). They had had a happy year in the past and he hoped they wonld all try to do their best in the future both in the interesis of change riuging and of the Clurch. He commensed to the notice of the younger members the recent performance of a peal in 73 3 Iinor methods rung int Cheshive. This was an example to them ail. and to remain coutent merely with ringing Boh Minar.
Mr. W. Coflett taok ihe opportunity of urging an mempers the importance to the Exercise of supporting "The Rimging Worlcl.' they did not do so there mishlt be trave danger of wheir being lel' without a paper He hoped the day was far distant when the prescut
Editor would relinguigh his work, but if he did so the Imercise mighi Editor would relinguigh his work, buth if he did so the lixercise mighal hurying ithe paper, and in considering the cost he asked then to realise that it was equiralent lio only one packet of cigarettes a month. They must agree, lie thought, that riuging, which taok such a giveat blace in their hife and interest, was certainly worth that smonnt of sacrifice,
The way to pay for it was to place a weekly standiug order with their newsagent. They would not then notice the amount whan they paid their weekly bill. He asked them to act before it whs too late.

The Rev. C. E. Wigg satid he had anothe!' suggestion to make. H, did not believe there was a single person in that room who did nat take a copy of the paper weelly, and Mr. Collet.t was "prenchint to the converted. He suggested. therefure, that, each of them, dul.
ing the vear, should see tro it, that someone else boulght a copy oi 'The Ringing world and that when they met in that hall next year lihey shonld have a show of hands to see how many had succeeded (applate).
At the elose of the proceadings in the dining hall, the members dispersed to the many towers in the city, where ringing was enjoyed during the afternoon and evening.

MOONRAKERS VISIT DEVONSHIRE
The Swindon Parigh Church Guild held their anuital outing on Jume 19th. On renelaing Torquay luy excursion train, the company were goon howling alang for Buckfastleigh, where Mr. A. L. Fennett met the party and two short touches were enjoyed on this handy fittle ring. An excellent hunch was served at the Kine's Arms Fotel, and in vote of tharks was passer to Mr . Bennett for his assistance in arranging the outing.

Permission hatd been secured to ring at Buekfast Abbey, and all were lond in their prases of this excellent peal, and sone Stedman Caters wrs rung on the back ten, but only rounds was attempted on the twelve. Messis. Charles and James Lilley joined the party here, also Mr. J. P. Fialler, of Loughimorong. The next call was Ashimrton: reneral disappointment being expressed both as to the tone and 'go' bells and no hard worle for sore lands. After saying good-hye to onr Devonshire friends, a retirs was made to Torguay. The retirtu journer was started at 9.15 p.m. anti wis helped along hy a little handloell linging, Swiudon being reached at 12.50 д.m., after a most enjoyable outing. Thanks are exfended to all who hèped towards such a successful day.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become decply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifuily supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - evaryone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

PIONEERS OF SURPRISE RINGING.
A note concerning a peal of London Surprise rung at Royston, Herts, is a reminder of how modern is the general practice of Surprise ringing. In these times the methods of London, Cambridge and Superlative are is everyday use and are rung by lundreds of ringers. Last year the peals in these methods exceeded those of Stedman Triples and were nearly as many as Grandsire Triples-which shows, quite apart from the rest of the Surprise peals, over a hundred in number in more than thirty other methods, how far and how rapidly method ringing has advanced. Our note recalls that Mr. Frederick Dench, whose name was more prominently before the Exercise a generation ago both as a ringer and composer than it is to-day, rang his first "peal of London Surprise in 1895 , as a member of a celebrated band at Crawley, Sussex. Up to that time only twenty-six peals of London Surprise had ever been rung ! And, apart from three early peals, rung up to the year 1870, and regarded almost as freak performances, the bands concerned could be numbered on the fingers of one hand, while even in the whole twenty-five years, to the end of the nineteenth century, during which period Surprise ringing,was being popularised, the conductors of London Surprise peals numbered a bare twenty, while, perhaps, only five of those could really be regarded as frequent conductors of these methods.

Surprise ringing in those days was practically limited to London, Cambridge and Superlative, and the men who rang them not unjustifiably regarded their performances as the 'top of the tree.' It was the band at Burton-mo Trent, of which William Wakley was the leader, that really showed Surprise ringing to be something more than the 'crank' stuff it was often previously, and even afterwards, termed. They laid the foundations of its popularity and demonstrated that competent bands could practise it with success. Oxford Guild ringers, with J. W. Washbrook and the Rev. F. E. Robinson, followed the lead of the Burton men, and soon the society at St. Peter's, Brighton, took up the example set, unti], in the early nineties the interest which Surprise ringing provided over what were known as ' standard ' methods, was beginning to be widely recognised. Nevertheless, peals were by no means 'cheap.' The men who rang them earned their success, and they deserve all the credit which is theirs for raising ringing from the rut of the previous century, and laying the foundation of the aspirations of the majority of ringers to-day. A peal of London, Cambridge or Superlative raises little comment now; but fifty years ago it was a thing to stir the interest of every change ringer with an outlook not con(Oontinued on pase 488.)

PEAL NOTES.

PERFORMANGES AND PERSONALITJES
Mr. Fred Dench, of Saffron Walden, who began his yinging careen with the Crawley, Sussex, luand in the dhys whon Mr. James Parker was the leading spirit in that towar, conducted a peal of Loodar Surprise at Reyston, Herts, on July 22ni, It is 42 years since ho jang his first peal in the method, ati a time when London Surprise was a limit which very few ringers had reached.

When Mr. Dench rang his first peal of London, fewer thin 30 peals bad been rung in the method, and, of thoge wholad conducted them. only Messre. Joseph Grifiu, George Williams, John Evans and James Parker are among us to-day
A peal of Donble Norwich Major, rung at Redenhall, Norfolk, on July 24th, was arranged to enable Messre. E. F. Poppy and F. W. Munnings to ring a peal togetier. The last time they yus togethey was when they lost a peal of Treble Bob a few changes from the end on the game bells as long ago as the year 1899!

Completing the circle,' which is ringing each bell in a tower to a poal, is a frinly frequent occurence in these days, Mr. Gharles Jooure has now done this at St. Mary Magealenc's Chnrel, Pulham, by ringing the treble to a peal of Kent Treble Bots Mujor on July 2ist, The peal Was iu honour of the 70th birladay of the Rector of Pultinm Market (the Rev. R. H. Stacey).
The first peal on the bells at Garvestono, Nortals, since October 7th. 1909, was rung on July 24th. It was seven 720's of Cambridge Sinretise Minor.

The first peal on the bells at East Buckland, Devon, which were rehung last September, was rung on July 17th. The Rev. J. H. B. Andrews (chaplain) and three of the boys of West Buckind School took part. and it was the first peal by all ascopt the conductor.

After the bells had been restored, a Suheot Guild of ringers was formed at Wesl Buckland, and the bays hiave made excellenf ptogress, as this peal testifies. They ring regularly for Sumblay service at East Buckland
The other two ringers in the peal belong to Combe Martin. Mr. Armbrose Hayward was the condietor, and Mr. Yeo, who also scored his first, learned to ring at Enst Ruckland when there wero but four bells there. Two trebles were added in 1908.
A "Coronation " peal at Wissett, Suffolk, was rung oul july 22nd, When 5,040 in four methods of Doulhes was rung. An atumpt for the peal was made sone weeks ago, but was lost after two and a quartar hours through one of the ringens missing the sally.

Harry Cheesman, of Bunstrad, Survey, tang his first peal of Major on July 17th. He is only 13 years of age and lie rang the troblo to a peal of Double Norwietr-not the easiest thing fra change ringing by any means.
The enterprise of some of the young singerg in Nottinghamsire is a promising feature in the north of the connty. Clifford Vessey and his band lage now scored their frst peal of Gansborough Little Boh, and another compauy, with the same conductor, lave ring their first peal in seven plan Minor nethods

They have rumg other peals of Minor, hut Lhis was the first in which extents of Treble Boh were not rung. Four members of the Vessey fanily took parti in this.

The Gainsborough Little Boh was irnng at Worksop Priory Church and was Frank Vernou's 25th peal. All of them have been rung with Clifiord Vessey.

The first peal by the Norwich Diocesan Assoriation in 14 Minor methodis in seven true extents was rumg at Wroxhmu on Fuly z2nd.
The furst peal of Trehle Boly entirely by members of the Eastern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was rumg at Surfleat on July 24th. Sidney Appleby, aged 16, rang lis first peal, five others (irclading the canductory rany their firgt peal of Treble Rob and one his first peal of Treble Bob 'iuside. Rupert was not on the remaning bell. Pizzle: Where was he?

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GYTLD

LEATHERHEAD DTSTRIGT AT NFWDIGATE
Over 30 ringers from Gapel, Cobham, Dorkins. Epsom, Leatherhead, Ockley nud the local band, with, wisitors from Bilingshurst, Cranleigh. Haslemere, Kingston nnd the secretary of the Chertsey Distriet, attended the Lentherhead district meeling at Newdigate. A good variety was introduced into the ringing and tho service was canducted by the Rev. A. Stone.

Toa was served in the Six Bells. At the business meeting the elections previous to preals of J. J. Good, of Ewoll. nnd E. W. Bugden, of Leatherhead, were ratified, and a. sub-semmitree was formed to make arrangements for the summer festival.

The secetary (Mr. A. H. Smitli) moutioned that tho kwo books, 'Bells Thro the Ages 'and 'The History and Art of Change Ringing, were now nvailable in in 7 s . 6d. edition. The nuecting closed with bearty thanks to all who hat helped in making sucle a successful and pleasant. meeting.
Mr. James nad his band gave a few of their lanalhell selections hefore gaing haak to the tawer, whate everwona's requiremeats were sucressfull that an ol'त edition of Standard Methods was available whens "Violet' Treble Bob was asked for, as some of the 'experts, lad to swat that and College Exercise up. Tho bells were finally lowered in pesl at 9 o'clock.

WINCHEST\&R $\mathbb{Z}$ PORTSMOUTH GUILD.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AT PETERSFIELD.

Satisfactory Financial Position.

A fro summer day favoured the annual gathering of the Whinchester and Pottsmath Diocesan Guild at Petersfueld, and some 70 members and friends attended from Alton, Basiugstoke (All Saints" and St. MichuePb; Bishopstoke, Blackmoor, Buxitou, Deane, Froyle, Gosport, Hawlolop. Kimuswortiy, Narth Stonelam, Newport (T.O.W.), Portsmoulin (Crathertral and st. Hary's), Privett, Petersfield, Steep, Sober ton, Uphan, Wielkan, Winchester and West Meon, There were many wisiting luyers from Brighton, Guildford, London, Sandhurst, Shoreham-by-Sea and Leatherhead.

The Guld service was held in $$$ $. Peter's Chureh, conducted by the Vivar (the Rev. E. O. A. Kent), who also geve a very interesting and helpful address. 'f'ea and business meeting followed in the Church Hall, the Fich explessing his pleasure in weleoming the Guild and apologising for not being able to remain during the meeting. The latter was presideal over by the Master (Mr. G. Williams), who gave a warm weltome, on belalf of the Guild, to the matry visitore present.
The anaual report was presented to the members.

YOLUNTARY SPADEWORK.

The report of the Master and han. general secretary said that a very useful and suceessful year had been emjoyed. From subseripLions painl into the districts, however, there appeared to be a glight decrease in membership- 175 honorary and 698 full, as compared with 180 and 723 rexpectively in 1935 . This suall difference might be due to the fact linat somemembers might not have paid their subseriplions rather than lapsed membership. I definite inerease in the next report was hoped for. The fimancial position of the Guild remained sound, uppon which district secreturies and all contributars were sincerely congratulated.
Whilst no large sums appear ta lave been spent in instruction, continued the report, we should like to point out that this very inporiant sundework is still being undertalsel by quite a number of our mombers 11 a voluntary spirit. We should like to thank them especially for their eflorts to leach beginuers the and of charge ringMg, and trusil they will hear fruit.
Perhaps fool since the Armistice and patace celebrations of 1918 and 1919 have an bells heen used to mark the occasion of atitonal feelings as in 1936. To our ceepest sorrows aur bells rans ont thear muffed notes to mark the passing of our belaved King George V. Then the joyous pealing to hevald the Accession of the new King, aud hefore the close of the year to aculam his successor, our present King, George VI
We hope that more condnotors and members will be found in the columns of the coming year's peals records. We should likd to draw atitention to the fact that still an number of members fail to send in their guatiet-peals aud 720 's to the recorder of peals for publication in the report. Generally spoaking, this shows a truer indication of the standard of ringing amongst the towers, as very often, far mumorous reasohs, peals are sometimes out of the questron.
We regret tic say that a few towers have for various rensons withHawl fron the Guild. Whilst dep-oring these losses and trusting Hat in the near future we may welcome them one move in our ranks, we have on tio other hand to record that new towns have hecome nofliated during the year:
We hex the opporthnity to mangrabulate one of our presidents, Cormerly first Bishop of Portsmouth, on his preferment to our neighbours in the diocese of Salistury, to which Jie sent a very comrteous wknowledrment. We should like to express our warmest welcome and thauks to the piesent Bishop of Portsimonth (Dr. Frank Partridge), who so rearlily consented to fill the wacancy thus cansed.

CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT IN BELL RESTORATION
Numerous reports of hell restorations in the diocese show that our towers are nathing real efforts to restote their bells where necessary. Perlaps the crownivg achievement of all is the complete restoration of the ring of 12 at Winchester Cathedral. A niagnificeut peal now replaces thluti was generally regarded as an indifferent lot, and our sincere thanks and apprecintion ate due to on generous benefactors, shncere thans and hppecmuon aye ane to onf gencrous benefactors, Wo hope that. where appeals are nude for yestoration work our members will not ho lacking in their support.

The hon, treasurer's balance sheet showed receipts of $2505 \mathrm{~s}, 20 \mathrm{~d}$. from tho districts. The expenses were 5384 s . 11d. . leaving a balance in hand of $£ 10318 \mathrm{~s}$. 61 2 d . compared with 89117 s . 7 td. in the previons year. In addition there is a balance of 84714 s . Gd, in the general burposes find, from whioh a graul of 522 2s. was made to Longparish Beil Trind
The districts have an nggrerate balanee in hand of $\mathbf{E 8 7} 16 \mathrm{~s}$. 7ed., compared with $£ 71$ 12s. 7d. in the previous year
The Recorder of Peals (Mr. R. C. H. Connolly), in hes report, said : One cnmol belie the fact that 1936 did not prove so satisfactory a year from the point of view of peal ringing as its predecessor. The inumbers are down in all departments except the number of conductors. Only 32 (45) peals were $2 u n g$ in which 112 (122) ringers participated, and of these 11 (23) scoved their first peal and in addition 24 (21) ascended higher ilse ladder of rehievenent by doing something in advance of their previous best. 'Mlie figures in brackets derote the corresponding numbers for 1935. The upper Lalf of the table showiny the methods ruag in 1936 daes uot show much change except far peal of Cinques, and the falling in numbers is chiefly at the moro elementary end of the Jist. "Lhis is probably due to the younger ringers (in the sense of years of ringing) attentpting hiblier methods without quite the success they aftained in simpler ones. There is no cloubt that many atempts have failed in more advanced methods but excellent practice may be obtained though the actual peal be lost and, as one great object of peal riuging is improvenent in striking, i is hoped that Sumay service ringing has benefited in quality. There are, however, some bright spots in the glom. The peals at Black moor and Hawkley must have given great satisfaction to both bands H. P. Reed called his first peal before ho was 15 years of age, and the band included one ringer of 13 (first peal) and one "first inside." W hope others will follow suit, and that this is oxly the heginning brilliant careers. At the other and of the scale Mr. Woodley slow that it is never too late to start. Onv Ringing Master has crowne his remarkable career by calling 1,000 peals on tower bells, beins forestalled only by that ringiug mavel, the late Wiliaus Pye. H also collected a star at Chisiclurch where Mr. Preston conducted peal of Grandsire Cingues with mine 'stars ' in the band. The beal were rung in 24 towers and there were 16 conductors.

OTFICFRS RE-ELTCTED.

The Master, in the absence of the hon, treasurer, congretulated the Guild on its finances and renarked that it was the first time thol the balances in the hands of the districts Find reached over 2300 thanks to the hard work put in by the distriet secretaries
The officers, except for a change of peals recorder, necessitated by the departure of Mr. A. O. H. Connolly to Wadford, were re-electen viz., Mr. G. Willinms, Master; Mr. F. W. Rosers, hoo. sectetary; Re Evar Jones, hon. treasirer. Mr. It. A. Reed was appohted peal Tecorder.
It was unanimously agreed to elect as an additional vice-presiden the Rev. N. C. Woods (Winchester) as an appreciation of his valuable services to the Guild.
New members elected were Messis. J, Forder A. Swatton, E, Barrel (Privett), C. A. Snell (Plashmear), T: Glaspoal, H. Nash (Froyle) an Mr. W. J. Parker, of Sandhurst, a compounding member July 2nd, 1938.
After the routine business trad heen disposed of, Mr. G. Pullinge gave a crmprehensive report of the recent Central Council meeting emphasising many of the points under discussion which were of pa ticular interest to the Guild. Pho other representatives present con firmed what had been reported to the members.

Grants of five guinens each weve mane towards the restoration a the bells af St. Peter's, Bonrnemouth, Soberton and Bishop's Waltham Votes of thanks were accorded the incumbents of the variou churohes whose bells were placed at the disposal of the members, also to the organist and catererts.

During the aftemoon and evening ringins took place at Peter feld. Privet, East Meon, Buriton and Steep, the methods ranging from Dorbles to S'pliced surptise Major:

MIDDLESEX AND HFRTFORD ASSOCIATIONS

JOINT MEETING AT BARNET.
Originally arranged to be Jeld on Sabitiay last at Monken Tiadley a joint meeting of the Middlesex and Hertord Associations took placo at Barnet, by the kindiess af the Rector (the Rev. P. C Dean), is serious illness at the former place prevented ringing for auy lengtl of time.

The attendance was by mo means naything to boast about, albei some 30 ringers attended, including some welcome visitors in Mr . C Raine (Edinburgh), and Messrs. G. Fearn (Birmingham) and M Wiflville (Coventry), who, with a ringing friend, werc on their way to a London twelve-bell tower for a peal attempt.

The two associatious participating were officially represented by Mis G. W. Fletcher (wice-puesident), Mr. A. W. Coles (Master) and M O. T. Coles (han. secretary), Middlesex Association; and Mr. W. Nas (district secretary), Hertford Association.
Tea, served at 5 oclack, was quite an 'easy going' meal. There Fras no official business to transact, lath there was, of course, the very necessary vote of thanks. This was duly proposed nna seconded by the two secretarics, Mr. Coles expressing the gratitude of the company to the Rev. P. C. Dean, Rector of Barnet, for coming to the rescue at short notice when it whs found that ringing could not tako place at Monken Hadley. Mr. Goles also thanked Messrs. Arbin and EIdred for taking the mathor in hand during the previous week-end when the change was found to he necessary.
Congratulations aud good wislues were sent to Mr. J. Sumpter in anticipation of his 86th birthdey (July 26th).

The ringing during the afternoon and evening was under the ahle putiance of Mr. A. W. Golen, qnal included Granतsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob. Double Norwich, Srperlative, Cambridge, London and Spliced Surprise Major (Fonr methods). A feature of the after noon was a touch of Stedman Triples by eight 'Gcorges," conducter hy George Pye. There was mearly a tourh of 'rounds' for MTr George Fletcher, but ouly nearly. Perhaps she will try next timel

CTMBERLAND YOUTHS AT PINNER.

SMA $L /$ ATTENDANEE AT SUMMER MEETING.
The summer meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youtlis was Held at su. John the Baptist, Pianer, on Saturday, July 17th. Very few 'Touths, atteuded, chiefly, it is supposed, owing to holidays nuf oblie aituractions. The excellent peal of eight (tenor 19 cwt .) were got going somewhere in the region of 4.15 p.m., and Plain Bol, Grandsire and Treble Bob were rung with varyigg success.
The service, unforturately, lad to be cancelled, owing to the fact Hat tha Vicas had to be present at a local ohildren's fete. A halt, for tea was calledi at 5 o'clock, and the small gathering sat down to an excellent repast in the hall of the adjacent Conservative Club. After teal tonches were rung on the beautiful peal of handbells kindly brought along by Mr, O. W. Taylor, of Watford.
A short busiuess meeting was held, Mr. W. Bottrill presiding in the nhseaco of the Master, Mr. George Cross, who was away on holidays. Reference was made to the passing of Mr, G. A. Card, late Lon. sectetary of the society. Letters of sympethy from tho Middlesex Association and the Ancient Society of College Youths were sead, and those present stood in silence for a few moments as a tributo of t'espect.
It was anmonnced that the autumir meeting would be held at st. Gcorgo the Mandyr's Church, Southwark, on a date to be fixed anter. The business concluded with vates of thanks to the Vicar for the nee of the bells, and to Mr. Farding for having made such exeellent arrangements.
After further handbell ringing a return was made to the tower, Where ringing inchaded Trebie Bols, Stedman, Grandsire and Camlyidge Surpise, The meetiug was brought io a close at 8.15 by lowering the bells in peal, the hope being expressed that the aranmn meeting would be atteuded by a. record number of "Youths."

FIRST QUARTER PEAL ON BITTON BELLS

The first quarter-peal on the bells at Bicton, Glos., since their angmeatation from sis to cight by Messrs. John Taylor at the heginning of the yreal was rung on July IsE. The founders are to be conmended on their excellent wark. The 'splice' is a⿴ nearly perfect as possible and the 'go' all that can be desired. The method rung was Grandaire Triples, and it was specially arranged for Mr. F. Beer, tho leader of the Bitton riugers. It was his frst quarter-panal in the metiod fud on eight bells: Miss Nornh G. Williams I, Miss Nesta Gurdiner 2, Frank Beer 3, Frank Skidmore (conductor) 4. Alfred Magrs 5, Joseph T. Dyke 6, Berfram C. Worsdell 7, John G. Jefferies 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Tho distance covered on the South Devon tour was close on a thousand miles, counting the outward and the return journey.
Only one peal of Cambridge Surprise Major hus ever been rung by eight brothers and that was by tie famons Bailey family of Leiston, Suffolk. That paal was rung 15 years ago last Saturday-
The name of Mr. S. Moston was madvertently given as Morton ju the report of the annual meethy of the Chester Diocessn Guild. Mr. Mostan is one of the few survivors who attended the first meeting of the Guild in 1887.
Longton, Staffs, has lost trle youngest member of the tower-Eriu Holland, eraed 13. A half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was rumg in his memory on July 2end.

BROADCASTING.

FALLING OFF IN QUALIIY OF RINGJNG.
To the Editor.
Sir, After the plain and salutary remaris of the president und the strong comments made by others at last year's meeting of the Centra] Council there was a disinct improvemant in the qualily of the ringiug broadcast from warious clurches, but the effect seams most remretifably to have since worn off. Ringing, breadcast an two or three recent Sundays, has been anything but a credit to the Exercise.
Where a local band cannot madertake to ring half-pull changes with faultless accuracy, it is incomparably better to be content with wellstruck rounds-and in some cases further practice is moeded even to do that.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

PROPOSED RESTORATION FUND.
Tho proposed launching of a restoration fund came up for disoussion again at the quarterly meeting of the Wanwiekslife Guild ato Sonthan on July 17th. The Ghairman itho Rev. Oanon O. M. Jones, Rector of Southam) said such a fund would be an excellent idea. Authorities at many churches where the lells were in a bad state, hig continucd, would receive encouragement to proceed with their repair if they were to gat a grant from a body liko the Guild. Ho mentioned instance of rings of bells in his rural deanery which mingt soon be pulin ordes if the Guild were to set the ball rollitg by giving the first gubscription
Several methods of building up such a fund were put forward at the mecting, among them being that a collection be made at tha. quarterly services, or at the lea table; that a certain percentage of the Guild's income should be set aside annually and credited to the fund.
The latter idea was thought to be prefarable, as it gave overyon in the Guild an opportunity of subscribing, whereas collections at the mestings would always come upon the same faithful few who regularl? attended the meetings

A resolution was passed, proposed by Mr. Stone and seconded by Mr. Burt, that the annual meeting be asked to consider tho setting aside of a certain proportion of the Guild's income mnually in onder to build up a restoration fund.
Earlier in the afternoon ringing had taken place on the fine ring of eight bells until 4.45 p.m., and a short service held, conducted by the Rev. Canon O. M. Jones, the Rural Dean.
At the business meeting the following towers were representef Allesiey, Exhall, Bulkington, Nuneaton, Chilvers Coton, Lillingtol Rugby, stratford, Leamington Hastings and members of the laenl band.
Mecting places for the next three months were arranged as followe Augtist, Arley; September, Church Lawford; October, Stratiori-oul Avon.
The following new memhers from Leamington Hastings were elected Mesgrs. F. J. Briscoe, K. Gardener, F. Gurmey, C. Goode and E. Hopkins. The election previous to peal attempts of Messrs. Wjlieni Thorpe and James Upton, of Wolvey, and Mr. ED. H. Johnson, of Stoke, was also ratified.

The bells were again pul to good use, and a welluthended and thoroughly successful meeting came to an end at 8.30 p .ant

ROUND THE EMPIRE.

CELEBRATING THE CORONATION DOMINIONS

Ringing Nexs from Cenada, Australia and Tasmania.

News of ringing in distant parts of the Empire las reached us, ancl will be read with interest by ringers of the homeland.
The Coronation was celebrated with ringing in Vanconver, and Victoria in Canada, in Australia and Tasmania.

On the new ring of bells, with tenor of 34 cwt., recently jnstalled it Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, minging began on Coronation Day at 7.30 am . Pacific Standard time, and was broadcast over the British Broadeasting Corporation, Canadian Brondensting Corporation Network and the American stations, coming on the air immediately : fter the Empire Coromation broadcast. Dlie bells were beard in England for three minutes. The ringiug for the broadcast consisted of rounds, Queen's and the Plain Hunt well struck. The original proramme of terminutes was cut alort on account of the additional time taken by the procession.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, MELBOURNE.

The Bells ( 13 in number) hang in the right-hand tower.
After the pinging the ringers lad breakfast with the Rt. Rev. Bishop Sexton and Mrs. Sexton.
The bells were rung again, starting at 11.45 a.m., and at midday were fired 21 times for the 'Royal Salute,' the ringing fnishing with Grandsire Triples.
In Hobart, 'Tnsmania, the new bolls at St. David's Cathedral were raty prior to a special service at 8 p.m. on Coronetion Dey (corresponding with 10 a.m. in Enagland). Same of Che newly-formed band augmented by ringers front Holy Trinity Churel, and the Rev. A. A. Bemmett (Vicar of St. George's, formarly of Gloucester), took part,
On the previous evening Holy Triaity bells were rung to Doubles und Minor and the bells were also 'fired.' The tower was very fficetively floodlit, with electric light totaling 5,000 candie power. The interiar of the beliny was decorated, the fag presented by Mr : iW. H. Eussell, on the occasion of the Enylish ringers' wisit in 1934, being anchuded. At the close of the ringing Lhe Nafional Anthem was sung.

On Coronation morning the Uniou Jnek wat Hyiug from the tower nnd the bells were broadcast over the Australian inational network from 9.20 to $10.35 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Tho ringing included six-scares of Grandsire Doubles aud courses of Bol Mincr. The striking was goord and the Hobari ringers are justly proud of their perlormavce.
Holy Trinity ringers also helped to celebrate the birtluduy of the Governor of Tasmania (Sir Ewest Clank), who has shown his interest in the society by various kindly acts. The hells were Fung ont April 13 th in honour of the occasion, nud aftorwards the hoth, secletary (Mr. A. R. Wilson) received a lelter frow the Governor, in which he suid, ' Please convey my wery sincerc thanks to the Holy Trinity bellringers for their most kindly thought in riagiag it penl on my binthday. Our mutual goodwill and regard has been a greab pleasure ta me during my stay in Hobarl.
Special ringing took place at Holy Triuity in connection with the patroual festival of the chareh, which was observed by a week of celebratious from May 23 rd to 30 th.
Some slight overhaul has been given to Holy Trinity beils, and the 7ths has been placed on ball bearings.
In May the Rer. A. A. Bemett visited Melbourne, where he farmer'y resided for a time aud used to ring at St. Paul's Cathedral. The Cathedral Society gava him a specially wirm welcome; and a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters ( 1,260 changes) was runtg in 56 minutes: Miss Frey Shinmin 1, F. Broughton 2, J. Murway 3, WWaghora 4, Rev. A. A. Bannett 5, J. P. Trotter 6, F. J. Ross 7, A. A. Savage 8, J. W. Spencer (conductor' 9, E. B. Nott 10 . It is interesting to note that this hand included all the six Australian ringers who took part in the peal of Grandsire Cinques on Armistice Day, 1934, and that Mr. Bennett was the only Tasmanian resident to take pats in at peal during the English wisit to Hobart.
The King's birtliday was celebraied on Jume ghls in Victoria, Britislu Columbia, by a 'royal salute ' of 21 'shots, fired on the bolls of the Cathedral, followed by Grandsire Triples. The ringing was luroadcast, those taking part being E. W. Tzartl, A. C. Melrish, R. Tane. W. P. Jenme, Com. G. H. Brown T. Guest, R. Carrier, E. Lalte, H Linglam, E. J. Merrett, O. A. Gill sud T. The visitors left Vanconver by the midnight bont, and, seeninglylittlo more than drifting alyross the intervening 83 miles of wator, arrived at 7 a.m.

One conrse of Stedman Triphes, two touches of 168 Girandsive, oulv touch of 476 Grandsire, one of 252 aud amether 266 Grandsire Friplos , conducted by A. Lomas, were rung for morning service. SEveral plair courses of Grandsire Triples were aceomplished by the Victoria kingers, some of whom also took part with the Fancoiver ringery on insid. hells in two of the aboye tonclises.
The visitoss spent part of the morning explorisg the benutiful surroumlings of the citp, and in the afteruon, with several of the Victorin Guila, had tea in Mr. and Mrs. Izard's garden owerlooking the water at Portage Tulet. After tea they rang several tonches on tho hand. bells. It was a fino clear afternoon, and the bells sommerl very beautiful over the water, being henrd nearly a mile awny. They ulso rang for evening service at line Catherral, seoving a course of Stedman Triples and 476 of Grandsiro, amd later thoy rang the congregatiou out of churcha with further touches.

PETWRBOROUGH DEOCESAN GUTLD.

WFLLINGBOROTGG BRANOF VISITS ISOLATED TOWER.
A quarterly mecting of the Wellingborough Branel of the Poterborough Diocesan Guifa was liekl on Sinturday, July 17!11, at Whistou, quite a smail village and rather dificult to get to, unless by one's own means. The charch is situated on the top of a hill overlooking the Nene Valley and is well worth a visit, $A$ short service was held durine the afternoon, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. I. J. Smale), and the organ was played by his sister. Ringars were present from Higham Ferrers, Irthlingborongh, Wellinghorough, Brayfield, Xardley Hastings, Stanwick, Ecion, Cogenhoe, Eirls Bartoth, Grendon nnd Whiston, and 25 sat down to an excellent tea.
The Rector presided over the busincess meeting which followad. The brameh president (the Rev. A. G. Burghtw) and Lord Northampton werg among those who sent apologies for absence.
Willy was cloosen for the October meeting, and M". A. E. Johnson, of Ecton, was elected a new ringing nacmber.
The brench secretary reminded the members of the Guild's decision to hoki the next, general aunkal meeting at Welling ioorough and hoped ther would do their best to make it a success.
He alsa read the telegram sent to H.M. King Gearge from the last annual mectivg and the reply since received.
Thanks were offered to the Rector for the nee of the Jelle, for conducting the service and arrangiag for the tea, also to the organist and thie ladies who served the ten.-The Rector suritably replied,
The meeting closed with selections of thues and change tiaging on handiuelis by the Iithingborough party aud Mr. Martin, of Higham Ferrers.
There are five bells in the iower of finc tone, and these were kept going dutring the afternoon and evening. Althongh it was the smallest mecting af the branch for some yenrs, nevertheless it wns a wery pleastut one.

TABLET ERECIET AT FAMOUS CTTY CHURCF

As announced in "The Ringing World' of Febrinary 12th last, when the balance shaet of the WLLiam Pyo Memorial was published, the committee had decided to use the surplis of 88 in the fund to record ong of the late Mr. Pye's greatest yinging performances, the 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow, with an appropriate footmote, $n$ a furthor memorial to that great ringer
This decision has been given cffect to, und on Tluesday, July 20th, the peal tablet was dedicated in tho preserce of a representative gathering of risgers and friends ${ }_{3}$ moluding three brothers and the son of Willium Pye, dearly all the surviving members of the hand that rang the peal, mid Messrs. Tr. W. Fletclier and J. $A$. Oram (trentsurer) of tile Middlesex Association

Atter the peal board luad been tnveiled by Mr. C. T. Coles, the Reclor (the Rev. S. Gordon Ponsonby) dedicated the recard witl the following prayer: "To the ylory of God, we dedicate this Lablet recondiug the peal of Oumbridge Surprise Maximus rung in the steeple of this chureli, in nemory of William Pye and as an example to those that come after him. In the yame of the Futher and of the Son and of the Joly Ghust. Amel!?
Then followed appropriate prayers aznd collects, and an ferred to the work of Mr Pyo and ringers generally, for which they of the Church were grateful. Mr. J. A. Twollope referred to the Memorial Committee's decision to crect this tablet as ane which, he felt sure, wouldi commend itself to ull subscribers to the fund raised last year. He went on to speak of the late Mr. Pye's great abilities as a ringer and conductor, and of his long ringing career, during which his determination enabled him Lo perform many great things, including the ringing of this long peal

Mr. G. W. Fletcher thanked the Rev. S. G. Ponsonby for giving his pormission for the erection of the tablet, and for his services that vening; and Mr. E. S. Underwood, surveyor, for his great assistance.
The Rector, in reply, expressed his own thanks to the Exercise for thie boatd.
The peal board, which is made of oak, in flated frame with gilded bosses, is written in gold an black enamel backgromid. It records the peal of 7,392 Gambridge Surprise Maximus rung on December 19th, 1925, in 5 hours and 38 minutes, with the following footnote:-

This tablet is erected by the Ringing Exercise to the memory of the condreler, William Pye, who died on March 86h, 1935
After the service the hets were rung to Grandsire and Stedman Cinques, the ringing ending wibl six leads of Canibridge Surprise Maximas by the eleven survining membors of the peal band, assisted by Mr. F. Rarnett.
The cost, of the tablet was wholly met by the balauce of the memorial furd, which je now entirely disposed of and alosed.
The main memorial to the late Mr. Pye is at St. John the Baptist's Church, Leytonstone, where two treble bells were installed to increase the ring to eight, and a recording tablet placed in the clurch porch.

DFATH OF MR JAMES BATTERS

VICTE-CAPTATN AND CONDUCTOR AT MERSYHAM
The rillgers of St. Katherine's, Merstlanu, lave sustained a very deep loss in the death of Mr. James Batters at the eariy age of 31 years. The deceased first leartt to haodie a bell on lenving school and the choir, at about 14 yoars of age, and throughout the whole of the intervening 17 years of his life remaned a regular and punctual member of the Merstham band. He had held for a time the office of secretary, but, owing to business reasons, he relinquished this office. He was, however, persuaded to hecome vicecaplain, atl office he well and truly fulfiled until lis untimely death.
Business claims gave him but little opportunity for peal ringing, and he had in fact, only rung a few, but ho was a good ringer and able to ring mactically any method. He early took to conducting and inecrme the 'genial conductor' at his own tower. Very popular with his fellow-1ingers, his smile and kindly nature will be greatly missed by sis follow-ringers.
The interment took place at Merstham on Wednesday, July 7th, when a larta number of villagers as well as ringers were present. Among those who attended were Mr. D. K. C. Birt (Master of the Surrey Asvocintion), Mr. Walter Claydon (secretary, Southern District), Messis. Sanders and Robinson (Rickland), Mr. R. Fuller (Master, Southern District) and all the Mersthrm ringers.
Ameng the many heautiful wreaths was a white floral bell from his fellow-ringes and a wreath from the Surtey Association.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

WEDDING GIIT TO DORCHESIER DISTRICT RINGJNG MASTER

The summer quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was leld at Wyke Regis on Jily 10th and was attended by over 100 ringers and friouds. A short but beautiful service was couducted by the Rector, the Rev. E. de B. Thurstou.
The Rector, in his address, spake of the bells of Wyke Regis Church and their particular associations with the parish, Originally, he sait, there were only tour bells, which were la ber removed, supposedy lyy order of the King (but of that there was no proof), and later a peal of seven bells was lung and these in their turn were restovef in 1891. They were not new bells in the strict senge of the word, buts the old metal had been melted down and new matcrial added, and so they had now bells, but made from the old netal.
An excellent tea, served in the Memorial Hall, was provided by the wives and friends of the Wylse Regis ringars and was greatly enjoyerl In the alusence of the chaiman (the Req. A. W. Markby) the Rev R. P. Farrow presided over the business meetivg aud was supported by Mr. ©. K. Jennings (Eecretary), the Rev. E. ©e B. Thurston, the Rev, K. E. Alexander, Capt. G. Wheeler (churchwarden) and tho Re F. Lleweltyn Edwards, general secretary of the Guild. There were also present representatives of the following towers: Abbotsbury Bere Regis, Bradford Peverell, Theleland Newton, Dorehester, Frampton, Proston, Sydling, Upwey, West and East Eulworth, Wool, Wyk Regis, Bournemouth, Lytelett Matravers, Lytahet Minster, Poole Swanage, Wareham, Wimborne, Ferndown, Andover, Bovington Camp Swindon and Thornford. Other distinguisled visitars included Mr C. H. Kippin, of Beddington, assistant secretary of the Surrey Association, Mr, and Mrs. W. R. Melville, Cormerly of Guildford and now of ringers from Surrey.
When it was announced that the next, meeting would not be held at Trampton as previously decided on, the Chairman said, "Frampton is one of those places where they want a Vicar, but cannot afford pay him, alld, of course, even tho clergy lave to live. If there anybody here who knows of a persoll who would be willing to take on the job, Bishop Joscelyne would be very pleased to hear of him It was decided unanimously to hold the meeting instead at Maiden Newton, on the first Saturday in September.
The Ohairman thea extended a warm welcome to the visitors an new members, especially the visitors, remacking that he never attonde more sociable and jolly meetings than in Dorset. Fe mumonneed tha the dedication of the two new loells to make a pral of ten at Poole hung to commemorate the Goronation, would take place on Sxiurdas September 25th
A vate of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and the Memerial Hall, and the Chairman further thanked the organist (Mrs. Howard), the organ blower (Mr, J. Rose) and the lacal ringers for preparing the meeting.
In responding the Rector expressed his pleasure at the meeting, an ađded: "There is one regret this afternoon, namely, that Mr. Alfred Rose, a nember of Wyke Regis Guild for 40 years and lately ou captain, is no longer w[t] us.' He asked the company to stagd for a few seconds in silent tribute.
The Chairman further expressed thanks to Mr. O. H. Jennings, who was directly responsible for the organisation of the whole maeeting The Evev. F. Ll. Edwards said ne would Iike to associate himself witi this vote of thanks and he paid a high tribute to the work Mr Jennings did on behalf of the Guilg. In reply, Mr, Jenmings said h was always ready and willing to do anything for the dear old Church and in these days when people were so indifferent it was up to every hody to 'do their bit (applause). Mr. Jennings, continuing, saila the meefing was a unique one, for there was to be a presentation in recognition of his work for bellringing in Dorset to their Ringiner Master, Mr. E. T. Paul Field, who was to loe married in a fortnight' time. The pift was a peal of bandhells in the key of O . He hoper every time this peal was bronght out for practice, or ringing a peal $t$ would bring back happy memories of times spent among hellringer in Dorset, and particularly the Dorchester Branch, hy Mr, Fiehd and his bride.
Tha Rev. Llewellyn Edwards, in making the presentation, said Mr Field had always been a very valuable officer to the Guild. He was marrying a Dorset woman who whs herself a ringer, and was to settic down and live in Dorset. Mr. Field was a pupil of Mr. William Shut: -who he was glad to see present-and had aften given help and instrmction to other members and to other guilds (applanse).
The Chairman foined in the congratulations to Mr. Pifeld aud wished him and his bride every bappiness.
Mr. Fiold, whose fiancee was atso present, in reply, said thet he was very grateful to the Guild for giving him such a beantiful present. and nssured them that it would always remain one of his most treasured possessions.
Afterwards a trio of Poole-ringers, conducted by the chairman. demonstrated the beantiful tone of the handbells, and a course of Grandsire Triples was also rung on them.
The meeting concluded with a resolution to hold a by-meting at Filton. Fverybody ngreed they had spent a very pleasnnt afternoon. In the evening the wpke hells worked overtime and could bs heard imbil a late hour. Methods rimg ranged from rounds to Cambridge Major.

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING THE BELL ROUND TN GRANDSRE TRIPLES
While on the subject of caling touches of Grandsire Triples, jt will not be out of place to give the beginer a few hints on the way to call the bells round. Perhaps, when ringing, something gaes wroug; there may be a 'change course,' or it may be that some error is mede is the calling of the pre-selected touch. If it is meroly something rang for prectice, there is no harm int the conductor going on and bringing the bells yound, even if it turns out afterwards that the truch was false.
It is of no use to go on calling bobs or singles haphazard ta do this, the bells might never come home, but with a. little knowledge of low to proceed it can always be done withiu a reasonable leugth. A first, essentiul qualification for the boh caller is to be nble to read "the conrsing order of the bells. In a recent article we dwelt upon this part of the conductar's training, und we wilh nesume that the necessary powers of observation have been acquired.
The simplest way to call the bells ronnd in Grandsire Triples is first o got $6-7$ into their proper coursing order, if they ave not already there.
Get one or oilaer into the lunt as quickly as possible, and then, if it is the 7 th, call the 6th Before; if it is the 6 th, malse the call the lead after the 7 th comes Before. This will put them together in the right order.
If it lavpuens that there is ouly one bell conrsing betwien 6 and 7 ou can bring them together, and sometimes more quickly, by simply alling the 7 th Before, thus sending the intervening Gell into the liunt. The next bell to concern yourself with is the 5th. It 6 and 7 are oursing, there are only four positions which the 5th can occupy; one its right place-coursing the 7th. Another is in the linnt. If the Sth is is in the hunt you put it in proper coursing ovier hehind 6 nd 7 by calling the 7th 'Before with a donble'-a term which means alling the 7 th Before and a hob at the next lead
A thired position in which the 5 th may be found is immediately in ront of the 6th: that is, 5,6 nud 7 are coursing in that order. The can be phated behina the 7th by ealling the 6th Before and then保 7 Refore, the 5 th being in the hunt veetween the two bols.
The only other position is when there is one other bell coursing ween 7 and 5. You zet rid of the intervening bell (into the humt calling the sth Before
When your havo got 5-6-7 into position, the bells may be in the uin course. If they are not, make a call to bring 5-6-7 Home, that be the lend after the 6th comes Before. Use either a Bob or le ns reqnired. If this call brings the 4th out of the hunt (in words, if the 4th went into the hunt at the previous call), use $\qquad$ or Single. whichever will bring the 2nd into the Hunt. If 3 ormes ont of the Funt 4 must be brought in; if 2 oomes out, 3 must e braught in. If 2 goes in ronnds are produced; if 4 goos in rolluds got by anolher boh Home; if 3 goes in call the sth Before with Sometimes it is quicker to bring the bells round at the handstroke cad of the treble, particularly if $7-6-4$ are coursing in that prder, or vea, merely, if 6 is after 7. Yon then treat the 4 th as if it were the 5 th, nnd $3-2-5$ to correspond wilh 2-3-4 respectively. Do not, howver, overlook the fact that if you hring the hells romed with a Siggle your touch is inevitably false, for you have reversed the first lead.
In this matter of calling the bells round, a little preliminary study ilih pencil mand paper is well worth while. Put down a few leadonds at ranlom and apply the rules which are set ont nhove. It will not only enable yon to see how they work, but will also probably reveat how from certain combinations there may be quicker cuts to ounds.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

BISHOP OF TLE WITH THE RINGERS

The summer festival of Ely Diocestu Association was held at Solinm on Saturday. The Vicar, the Rev. P. F. Boughey, conducted service and the Rev. J. Cook read the lesson. An inspiring address was giveu the Bishop of Ely, who spoke of the importance of corporate worip. He sonnded a note of encouragement in saying we need not mel dismayed by times of anhappiness in our own lives, for God is sure answer in some way our prayers for help. The evil in the world ound shonk not discourage, beoause it will be finally overcome, and Tesns shall reigu.
A generous tea was provided lyy Mrs. Bongley and helpers in the Church Hall. A short business meeting followed, and it whas a very great honour to have the president, the Rt. Itev. Bishop Heywood, in the chair:
It is hoped to hold the 1938 summer festival nt Wishect.
$X$ hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. R. Copeman for his handsome gift of the hook, 'Legends o' the bells,' by Ernest Morris. The Rev. P. T. Boughey was elected an honorary nuember of the ussociation. The Rev. J. Cook and Messre. B. E. Cavey, C. F. Cavey, 5. Edwards, V. Jolinson, L. Long, R. Falmer and F. Plick were lected rirging members, and Mr. Wright, of Mildemanl, a nonesident lifo nuember.
Proccedings concluded with votes of thauks to the Lard Bishop, the $\overline{\text { verar }}$ and to the ladies who prepared tea.
The Vicarnge gardens were thrown open to the wisitors by the kinduess of the Rev, and Mrs. Boughey.

SHEFFIELD SOCIETY'S SIX-BELL CONTEST.

BOTSOVER WIT FOR THIRD SUCCESSIYE YEAR.
The six-bell ringing contest for the Sheflield aud Districh Seciely's silver cup took place at Dronlicld Chureh on Saturday, July 17th. The bells, a splendid ring, recently relung, are nil that can be desired for such an event.
The cup was won by the Bolsover Parish Ghurelt company, this being their third successive sthievemerr in holding the culp, which is competed for ammally.
The judges (Messys, George Lewis and S. F. Palmer) presented a most interesting and instructive report on thic wontesti. Tho errors of each baud were pointed out. with an explanation why and how the fixults mounted up against the competitors.
The Vicar of Dronfeld arrived just fas tea was over and gave the society a very herrity welcome. Ho also conducted a short service in the choir stalls.
Ringing was cuntinued until 9 p.rn., the tower being open to sll Iter the contest. Lvery one departed with the satisfachion of having spent the day well.

TYNEMOUTH BELLS.

SOHEME FOR RESTORATION

The parishoners of Chist Chmolh, North Shiclde, the Parish Chumeh of Tynemouth, are making an eflort to gat their bells tumed and rehnag. Saturday, July 10th, was observed as a 'gift dny,' when the elergy sat at the church door to reveivo contribulions. Collecting envelopes had heen previously distributed. The bells were rung at varions times, in which the Whiticy Tay ringers assisted, and also at few touches on liandbells.
The result of the appeal was that 237 envelopes were retarned containing an aggrepate of $£ 73$, which brought the fund up to $n$ total of $£ 103$. The appeal is for £40d. This is a large sum for the purish to raise, buta great effort is being made to get it, and assistance from any ringer friends would he gratefully appreciated. Contributions may be sent either to the Vicar (Canon ( Mimer) or the captatin of the ringers, Mr. T. E. Scott, 74, Hollywell Road, North Shields.
The condition of the bells, whicls are a peal of ten, lins been a cansa of trouble rikd anxicty for some years. Six ai Hom were cast at the Whiteclapel Fombry in 1769 . In 1874 two were added to completo the octave, and in 1879 two obhers were humg lo make the ten. Mavily been cast in three instalments they are not accurately me thme, and now they are heavily corroded, which redutes their resonance. To make the rimg perfectly satisfactory it is necesary to dismantio the ten bells and seud them to a foumdry to be clented ly sand-blast process and correct their motes and harmoric tones; it new clapper staples and elappers; provide yew headstocks for the ten bells; and rehang the bells with new steel gudgeons and self-nligning ball bearings fitted in dust-pront housiugs. The timbers of the hell frame sppeat' to bo sound and no work in respect of the frame or its supports is necessary.
In their sppeal for the sum of $£ 400$ the Fiear and clurchwardens say: 'Clirist Church bells have been rinting for' 166 years. We feel it is our duty to ensure their continuanco and at the same time improve their tone. We have a band of ringers who ure devoted to the old English art of change ringing, and we believg that the music of the bells is appreciated by ereryone who hears it.'

INVTRATION FROM BARNSLTEY SOCYETY

The July meeting of the Leeds and District Society was braught forward a week in order in allow those ringers to atteud who will be affected by the Jeeds holidnys, which start to-morrow.
Ringing, slishitly delayed at the outset owiug to a fumeral, contimued from ${ }^{3} .30$ until 9 p.m., except for the breaks when tea sind the meeting intervened. The latter was held in the tower. Mr. H. Davison (vice-president) whs in the chair, and members were prosent from Armley, Batley, Burley, Birstal, Bradford Cothedral, Brighonse, Felkirk, Eeadingley (St. Michrel's and St. Chad's), Tdle, Holbeck, Leeds Parish Church, Rothwell and the local company, also friends from Aston-under-Lync, Rotherhatan nud Ulvorston,
One new member was elected, Mr. V. Bairstow, of Denliome.
The nsual vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company was proposed by Mr. I. W. G. Morris nund seconded by Mr. A. Arminge. -Miss Mary Stitson replied for the Drighlington ringers.

The next meeting is due to be held at Shipley on Satirtay, Augusf 28th, bat an invitation to hold a joint meeting with the Barnsley and District Society at Forbury ons August 14th was received. After disenssion it was decifod that ming to the holidass and elort notice ti would not be possible to hold $\pi$ joint meeting of that date, but hope was expressed that as many of the Leeds meralers who could get to Horbury on that date world do so.
Mothods rung during the day were Plnin Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Court Bol Major, Superlative, Stedman Triples, College Exercise, Cambridge aud Oxford Minor.

A VILLAGE CALAMITY

ATPRLBUEED TO ST. MARGARET'S, WESTMINSTIER, RINGERE. St. Margaret's Society, Westminster, visited Kent and Sussex for their ahmal obting. Leaviug Keunington Glurch just after 8 o'clock, at conple of hours of beantiful trayel through Kentish lanes at their thest brought them to St. Mary's Church, Lenham. Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise wore sucessfully accomplished, and it would lave beel beatar for the Donble Norwicly if ' non-intervention' had mevailed. In the middic of it a faryier in the village burst into the belfry in a freczied state and shouted to the vingers, in an almost incolicrent voice, to stop 'pulling the bells, becanse his horse had stumbled and refused to get up. The Double Norwich was, however, finished in spite of such a village calamity.
Afterwards tho jonrney was contimued to Wye. Here upon a very nice peal tha first touch of Spliced Surprise Major of the day was attempled, but at the uinth and last lead it weat whero so many more have gone before. A touch of Grandsire Triples was mung for the representative of the local company, who afterwards joined the party at dimuer and welcomed the visitors to Wye ou behalf of the Vary

At Ashford the ringing was curtailed owing to a funeral, and a ourse each of Treble Bob and Superlative were all that conld be managed git this very heautifind church. Over the bowler, in Sussex, the ringers reachea Salehurst in time to sing before tea. London Surprise and Gtandsire friples were rung on this lovely peal. After a very excellent tea thoroughly enjoyed, the journey was contimued to Feirwarp. Fero upar a new and wery handy little peal a course of Bristol was rung as the opening touch, followed by Stedman Triples. Two yonths oif the local company who came to welcome the party said Chey conld not lomt tho trebie to Grandsire, so the day's ringing conchuted with some call chnnges widil whith the Fairwarp vingers wero very pleased. This wrs a rather umusual method for the Westminster band. $A$ couple of stops on the way hone and Kennington was reached about $10.30 \mathrm{pm} . \mathrm{m}$. with repeated thanks to Mr. W. .F. Hewitt for all his excellent arrangements

LYME REGIS RINGERS' TRIP.

A LONG DAY JN WIETS AND SOMEESET.

Lymo Redis ringers made Trowbidge lineir objective for their anmal niting on Sntarday, July 10th. A $7.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. statt bronght them to Blandford by 9.15, where they found a well-lighted ringing elamber athd a grand rilg of eight, all recenthy relang and taned, Some wellst ruck Gratasimennd Stedman Triples and Kent Major were thoroughly enjoyen, ringing fimisling with a rood fall in peal. The organst boepr in litile tea parlour licre, and showed the visitors a mnigue apple tree in his anrdeu, the trink heing quite hollow, while the branches aro laden with fruit. From Mandfard the rand took the exenrionists wis maty alarming corners into Shaftesbury, eventually broardening out over fine Wiltshire Down conntry, which provided some splendid panornmic wiews. Nearing Wostbury linee magpies took flght from a fence-poetic precursors of a wediling-and, sure enough, the wedding was met on the appraach to Westbury Church! Here the visitors wero welcomed by the Vicar, the Rev. R. C. Turner, and some of the leal band. Henvy metal lind in he encountered, but grood going bells, nnd a tonch of Boh Mrajor w"is somemhat indiferently struck. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, however, went along quite respectably Trowhridge was reached a little late, but luncheon was none the leas nceephable. After a leisurely meal. Messus. S. Hector and C. Rajson weltomed the party nt the tower, with its graceful, lofty spire. It is recorded that handbells have been ring liere by ringers sitting all the weathercock! Ringing was limited owing to illuess near the clurch. While it is true to say that Grandsire and Stedmar Caters were attempted, it, would be better to speak of the Kent Major and Stedman Triples. An hour or so was felt for shopping and nfter of the road wrs taten agrin to Berkington. Here a Joug dranght of ropus interfererl sadly with the 'rise, but, once h1p, the hells responded well to Grandsive and Shedman Triples, though wandering sallies poovided ocmsional acrobatics. From there, through Frome, a very, pleasant rum hroight tios ringers to Stourtion, one of the show, places of Wiltshire. Sonse hours conld well have been spent here exploriug the lovely park and gardens of which the visitors had to be content with onls a corner, but thal of real beanty. The Iittle ehurch nestling under a hill had a nice ring of six, which by some mistake had been left half-muftled. $A$ s in parish party from Weymonth was waiting to hold a service ringing was cut down to a short tonch each of Kent Minor and Stedman Donbles.
Fhe final tawer of the day was Templeconibe, reached panctually to programme. Here Mr. Stuckey and another member of the Iocal hamd welcomed the ringers, the Rector, Preb. Windsor, arriving fikto later. The good going ring of six were kept on the move for some time in Boh Minor, Kent, Cambridge and London. Thence, after some delay for such refreslment as conld be found at that hour of the evening. the car made stcadily homewards, landing the perty in Lymy at 10.40 n.m.

The thanks of all are given to the incumpente who granted, in every case, most willing permission lo ring : also to all wio either left everything in readiness for the partpy or met them in the towers. With hoppy and intevesting day wats spent.

AMONG EAST SUFFOLK TOWERS

 A SIX-BELL EXCURSION.The rimgers attached to St. Mathew's Church, Ipswich, Had their Grst outing on Saturday, July 10th. It took the form of an afternoon and evening tour by coach to some East Suffolk fowers. They were joined by the five lady members. Travelling via Bronswell and Iyke and over several miles of heathlands, the first stop was at Tunstall (6), where they were met by the Rectar and his wife, who were interested, as they had not met lady ringers before. Leaving here a short run broughit the party to Blaxhalf (6). The bells here hang left-landed and cansed some tronble at first to the less experienced. The next stop was at the fine old church at Aldeburwh (6). Here the ladies took part in some Cambridge Sturprise and other Treble Boh methods. Tea was well gerved at the Last Sufolk Hotel. After looking ronnd the town and a walk on the sea frout, a move was made to Lille Glemham (5), a clureh difficutt to find. It stands in a fine park and is only reached after same rough riding. However, after a ring and a group photo had been taken by one of the party, the homeward jonriney was begna, On the way a stop for a short ring was mad at Wickham Market (6), and the last stop was at Pettistree (6), where owing to late arrival, it was necessary to search the church for lamp. Here a good course of Cambridge Surprise bronghi the ringing for the day to a close. A run of 12 miles brought the band home by 10.30 after a most suceessful trip. Durilg the day the band, assisted by the ladies, rang Oxford, Fent, Plain Bab, Cambridge and Ipswied Surprise. They wish to thank all whomet them or had the bells ready for them.

TOLD IN VERSE.

5T. ANDREW'S, HOLBORN, RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, July the 3 ra-a warm and sumny day-
To Readint Town from Paddington we made our early way Some thirty in the party-and all of us were males-
We very soon had started, and were speeding o'er the rails. Some members of the Guild we missed, no Norton and no Hughe But they had reasons good, the invitation to refuse.
Our leader was J. Hawkins, who his father bronglt along, And many more too many to he named in this my sont. But our photographer was there, his young son by his side, And cancora, which, throngh the kiay, le diligently plied. Arrived at Reading, there we found our coach and took our place And drove along the county roads ab quite a gente pace. To Londoners it was a treat to note each conntry scenc:
The trim and flowery gardens, had the fields and ledgerows gree At times the trees which bordered the roads down which we passed Their spreading brauches, [ul] of leaf, a welcome sladow cast: Haymakers, Jare, were seen at work; there, fuit pickers as well, But it would take too long of all the pleasunt sights to tell. Cows many-mostity black nud white-and chickens by the score Beehives in cottage gardens, or a chidd beside the door.
At last we stoj-Great Milton-we get down and leave tofe conch, And to the Parist Clurch, close hy, we one and all approach. While some go up to ring the bells, the others saunter round, And view the church and vilage, while the chimes melodions soumb Then on again to Woodstook, a most pleasant conntry town, Where Blemhein Park and palace tell of Marjborougla's renown. 'Twas here we lunched at the hotel-the sign before the door Showed "Benr" and dog at deadly grips-sucls sights were seen of yore The sun was hot, the wind was fresh, nod clouds of dust did greel. Those of has who, to see the place, lud wandered down the street. Thete was a "ring" here, too, and then, with all aboard, The coach drove on to Gloucestershire, and dropped 119 at Fairford Here, as before, the ringers rang, lut not in helfry hid,
Rut, standing on the chnith's floor thefr skilful bask they did! And many stood to watch them, while the others walked about To see tha famous windows, English work without an roubt. There, drawn and higlily colenred, one traced the fall of man, Onr Saviour's birth and death, and how Redemption it began, There was the Resmmection, the stone just rolled nway,
The Lord's refirm to beaven, and the fature judgment day 1 The time passed all too quickly, for there was so much to see, And we were due at Wantage, where we planned to have our tea. But, first, to work, some climbed the tower, and rang round after rounci,
And passers-by stayed on their wry to hear that cheerful sound. The Red and White Refreshment Room neanwhile set ont its best, And those who mang required more cupe of tea than sill the rest! But 'ere the meal was ended, and the jommey back begun, A pleasant littie ceremony waited to be done.
shorb address was read aloud, expressing their regret That they nust lose their Rector soan, thangh he was with them yet Their feelings there they showed in song familiar, and meanwinie Their president had hid his face-but looked up with a smile, To take their gift-a case of pipes-and, as if not enough, A tin of chaice tobacco, too, was given him to puff!
The compnny applatded as, his thanks the Rector monke,
But one thing more remained before their homeward why they talse A cordial vote of thanks to him who lad arranged the treat. (Our secretary's organising powers there's yery few ean beat.) Now wasn't that a hirthday to be stored in memory? A happy day for all who went-bust most fre

Ringing in the afternoon was followed by the association's form of viee. The Rector of Goldhanger (the Rev, R. Gordon Roe) welained the ringers and grve a very interesting and helpful address.
"he simging of the hymins and psalms was led by the organist nud hir, the lesson being read by the hon. secretary.
very welcome and enjoyable tea was partaken of at the Chequers, rd this was followed by a slarit and pleasant business meetiog.
The Iector was elected an honorary member with the hope that he onld soon be eligible as a ringing member, and Mr. J. South, of haldeshumt D'Arcy, was elected a ringing member. One ollaer ringiug nember was elected, F. Alan Sharirack, of Springfield. who on the Sudat week previous had rung his first 720 of Boh Minor for his welfth birthing. A remark was made that if he continued as lae was foing he would make a better ringer that his father, who is divisional (an. secretary.
It was proposed to hold the rext meeting at Great Waltham (where the peal of eight bells have recently been relung by Messrs. I'aylor mud Co.) on the last Saturday in August, if Dlais date shotal be onvenient.
A vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist and choir and Irr. D. D. Brekinghem was propased by the Divisional Master, Mr. F. anasfield, and, iu reply, the Rector reiterated his welcome and said they were prod to have the associntion at Gofdinnuer. He greatly appreciated them electing hin an hon. memher. He apolonised for the ahsence of the Vicar of Tolleslumet D'Arey the Rex. W J. Sullivan who was unable to be present owing to a church fete being held in his rareuen. Mr. Buckingham also replied.

After handball inging mid ringing at the tower, a general move was mbde to Tolleshant D'Atov and Thollesbury, where the bells were avalable for the overing, ringing at the latter place continuing until ahout $9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., when another enjayable mathering came to a close.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation calied DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

SUBSTITUTES FOR BELLS.

In these days we are constantly hearing of sulsstitutu:s for church beils and the latest instrument to come on the market is a very ingenius apparatus. It is claimed that the effect of a peal of bells of any weight or note can be produced, and, in extolling the virtues of the new invention, an assertion has been made-utterly absurcl, of course - that a single operator can achieve claborate change ringing without previous knowledge of cannpanology. More than sixty ycars ago another substitute for bells was seriously advocated, and it was suggesters that their manufacture would form a new branch of industry. The substitute in that case was stcel bars, which ' produce a very pure, distinct and particularly melodious sound, with many other advantages over church bells of moderate size. ${ }^{5}$ The clams of steel bars were put forward by a serious journal, 'The Choir,' but we know of no case where the experiment was tried. As instruments of tone and tune, however, the steel bells produced from a factory in Shefield about that time were dismal failures, as the few examples now felt to us prove.

Threats to the bell industry are thus no new thing, but modern methods and propaganda often have far reachinge results. There is a growing tendency to use mechanical aids, and there are a number of churches where gramophone bell rccords and amplifiers are already in use. The electronic instrument, which has now been introduced, is not a mere contrivance for reproduction of records, but can be operated in the same way that a carillon call be played. We do not think, however, that there is any real danger of church bells being ousted from their place, either in the purpose which they serve, or in the position they occupy in the sentinents of the majority of the English public. There may be, indeed, something to be said for the contention, put forward at the mecting of the Central Council, that amplified records, which reprocluct: good change ringing on well-known peals of bells, are to be preferred to the monotonous clang of a single bell. Operated with skill, also, the pulsic woukd probably rather hear the new musical instrument than the tingtang of some of those unmelodious things which pass for bells, but the drawlack to artificial devices is that they are a temptation to church builders to be content with something cheap, and to put permanently out of consideration any ifica of completing their work with a noble tower and a peal of bells, with which it was the delight of our forcfathers to crown their efforts in church building. As ringers it should be our duty to infuence, as far as possible, the provision of proper rings of bells in news churches and to prevent the spread of the idea, that modern inventions are any real substitute for bells and (Continued on page 514.)

still less a substitute for the fine old art of change ringing. 'Canned' bells may have their uses, but there is, we hope, little real danger of them taking the place of the products of our Englishl fountries as long as the love of bells continues in this country and ringers can be found to man the ropes and ply their centuries' old cratt.

PEAL NOTES.

MEN AND EVENTS.

The first peal on the bells at the village of Stecp, Hampshire, in which local ringers have tuken part, was rung on July 22ud. It was a peal of Dorbles rung as a hirthday compliment to My. James Kuight in reaching the age of 70 years. Nr. Knight has heen a Sunday service risger at Steep for 50 years.
At the age of 82 years, Mr. Abber Tanton still rings for Sunday service at Lyminge, Keat. hanour of his hnving completed 60 years us sexton at the Parish Church, n peal of Grandivire Triples was rung
1 Snndyy, July 25 th. It was alse a birthday peal for Mr. Walter J. Prebble, who reached the uge of 70, and rang the treble. The ringers wish to thank Mrs. Webl) for her hospitality after the peal.
The Suffolk Guild have added nuther new Sumprise method to their oug list of first performances. Mr. Gabriel lindoft's No. 70 has been amed Missmere.
To oblain a Hew peal of Cambridse Surprise Major is a distinction for any composer, and Mr. O. H. Kippin has conducted a peal confosed by limself to replace one lung four wonths ago which arterwards tirned out to be false. It is believed to lao the first poal of Cambridge Major with the sixth six courges at home.
A peal of Grandsire Triples was rumr at Wrotham. Kent, ons Sintirdayt in honour of the wedding of Mr. R. G. Rayfield and Miss V. L. Fond. The bridegroom is one of the local ringers and after the peal he citertained the baud to a meat tea.
The 7ist birthday of Mr. George Ladd, of Pinchbeck, the genial hon. sectetary of the Eilloe Deaneries Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, was suitably celebrated by a peal of Stedman Triples at Spalding on Saturday.
In the reighbouring parish of Sinflect another peal of celebration ons being tutig at the same time on the lightest ring of twelve in the conntry. There was a 'gathering of the cluns, and 5,005 Stedman Chaptes came round in honour of the binth of the conductor's third sumddaughter.
It was John Hotman's 30 Hth peal and his first for exactly a year. Fhe Sheffeld veteran has rung his peals in 99 towers in 23 counties. Falf the band who rang at Sinfleet on Saturday mang in another ueal of Stedman Cingues on Monday at Saffron Walden, Essex, this ine in honour of one of the oldest singers, the 77 h birthday of Mr . Trmest Pitstow, ane of the celebrated family, of which the late Mr. Nathan Fitstow was such a distirguished member'.
The peal of Kenl: Thelalo Boh MLajor rung at Surfeet on duly 24 hr was not the first by all Eastern Branch members of the Lincoln Guiki, as. one was Jung at Sibsey on November 28th, 1929.
Old-fashoned Bob Triples is a forture among the peats of Inst week. Lung as a farewell to the Vicar of Grumdigburgh, Suffolic, on his retifement, it was the first peal of Bob Triples by all the baud and by the Sufollt Guild. It will probably be the last for a goonl long time.
The Trothers Enest and Stanley Dobbie rang their looth peal together on Monday when they took par't in Folkestone's Coronations peal. The band received a hearty welcome from the Rector aud local ringers.

HAPPY MEMORIES FROM OUTINGS.

To the Bditor.

Ihew Sir, -It has been my pleasure for the past eight or niue jears arrange for our lyaud the auntal and other outings, and visiting be comties of Herts, Beds, Bucks, Berlis and Essex.
I am very plensed to say that everywhero the lacal ringens and ector's too have given me help in making arrangements and at great welcome to ant band, with a cheery "Come aud see us again" when अe have left theil towex.
If our country fricuds knew how much we onjoyed these excursions no the wide oper spaces they would know how mueh we have appreiated their efforts to make our tour's a success.
To them all we say "Thank you' and hope wo shall sce them again some time. In the meantime, if anyone wondd like to sisit me when prossing this way I am sure they wilf be welcome, alikough Jm sory we canhot offer the wide open spages.

FOR BEGINNERS.

" ARE :BLJE BOB IS NOT RUALLY DIPFICULT'

It is not really a very dificuld step from Plain to Treble Bulu, hut, when mastered, it opeus up a mucds wider suone for the ringer's talents. When plain hambug, the ringer takes his boll regularly from place to place, os step at a time. Alter leading he motes iuto and's, ham into 3rd's, next into 4th's, and so on, whell lae gets behind all the rest of the bells. He turns about by laving a whole pull behind, and then comes dowa step by step, just as he went up, until he reaches the lead, where le has $x$ whole pull, which really is only tho means of turning round to lunt in the opposite directiou, jush ns was his whole pull helind.
If the ringer has gone any step beyond ringing the treble in a plain hont, he will know what dodging is. It is one stop huck it some place, which breaks up the regularity of the forward march.
Treble Bob cunsists of a series of backward steps fhroughout the lead. It is, in fact, a dodging hunti. It is based on a dodge iu every dodgiag position; that is $1-2,3-4,5-6$, ele., and the treble keeps to this dodging path. The other bells cannot keep shictly to $\pi$, or ho progress could be made in the production of changes, but in the simpler Treble Bob methods they lieep fairly closely fo it
The work of the treble in !lreble Boli consists of thres steps forwarl and one back, allowing, of course. for the turning round in front and behind. The treble starts by mating one blow in 2ud's place, and steppiag back at the next blow to lead a half-pull, at backstroke. Then it hunts forware three places, buinging it into th's, and giteps back one juto Srd's (at bnelestroke). Then forward again thiee phaces and back one inta 5th's (at backstroke). It you are ringing Minor the whole pull behind comes next, and lhan, corrasponding with tile blow in 2nd's on ble fromt, one blow in 5un's and a step back into 6th's (at backstroke) ; forward three places to 3ra's, and a step back into 4 th's (ab buckstroke), forward three places to lead, and as step back into 2nd's (at backstroke) alld then the whole pull at lead.
You will lave noticed tlatithe step back is always at backstroke. Tt may lelp you. If you are not quite sure of your position, yon know for certain that the next prill, if it is a landstroles, cannot he a backward step.
For a young band whe nre alt just tackling Treble Bobs for the first time it is not bad prediminary practice for all tho betls to carry ont a dodging hunt on these lines. There will be repetilion of clanger, but it will help the ringers to gedz used to it cantinuols dodsing linat and also to piek outt the dodyring planes.
Kent Treble Bob is probally the easiest of aff Treble Bolb methods to ping. In each lead one bell yemains in fromt, alterwately leading and making 2nd's place (a whole pill in each) except when dodring with the treble. This is called the 'Slow' morli and results in there being $n o$ dodging in 1-2, except with the trelne; while, when the treble is in $1-2$ place-mating is substituted for dodying in $3-4$, the bells going up making 3 rd's (a whole pull) and 4th's (a whole pull) and those coming down 4 in's and 3rd's. These places hogin at backstroke.
There are some simple rules to gutide you to this place-nakine. When you leave the Slow work, by dodging in $1-2$ with the treble, make 3rd's and 4th's phaces going ont: make similar places the next lead, immediately arter passing the treble in $2-3$.
When you pass the treble in $4-5$ make 4 th's and 3 rd's places on the way down: make smilar places the mex lead, after you lave dodged in $5-6$ with the treble.
When the places are completed and you go down to lead, you pill find yourself with the treble on the front. Dodge with the treble and begin the Slow work, which, as mentioned abowe, consists of a whole pull at lead and a whole pull in 2nd's alternately, undil the treble comes back again.
There is no other dadging on the fromb, hul; with the exceplions in 3.4, while the treble is in $1-2$, every bell dodges in evory dodgyng place, whatever the number of bella employed, he it 6, 8, 10 or 12.
We sugsest that begiuners slould endeavout to comstrut a lead on two of the method.

SOUTH DEVON TOUR

A WEEK FULL OF INTETEST AND ENTOYMEN'I.

On Saturday, July loth, at party of 16 ritugers and wives left home $y$ rad for a week's ringiag tour in Soutli Devon. These included, fipurt from tha peal rimgers, Mr. and Mrs, O. Parks and Mr. C. Dean, Croydon, Mre. R. Collins (Sevehonks) and itrs. W. Melville (Winchester)

The main ohject being to see as mitest ur the country ate possible in the short time arailable, peal attenpis wore restricted to one each day, commencing on Monday 豆cadquarters were at ₹ewton Abbott, and ringing for Sunazy morning service took place at St. Leonard's tower, where the visitors were warmly welcomed hy Mr. Ctris. Walker and others. The church was demolished in 1836, leaving only the tower, from which until recently curfew was lung every evening. Stedman and Cambridge were sucuessfully lirought round on the interesting light jing of eight. A gtroll up the road brought the party to Wolbororgh, where they listered to rounds and call changes rumer iu the perfect Devonshire stole by the local conpany. Sunday evening eaw ithe tourists at Paignton, where they rant Louches of Cambridge, Stedman and Grandsire for service at the Parjish Church. A visit to the picturesque fishing village of Brixhann concluded the day, which, althongh showery, had proved very enjoyable.
On Monday murning the first peal atlempt was successfully coninded. This was Cambridge Major on the fine riog of eight at Totnes, one of the hand being Mr. I., Myers, of Plymouth. The church is interesting for its unusual stone sereen, thought to be the finest in Devon. A damp morming gnve place to a fine afternoon, when the party drave to the charming village of Berry Pomeroy, and rang there a course of Superlative aud touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples. The remainder of the day was spent on Goodrington sands.
On Tuesday the company set out for the stately Church of Plympton Sit. Mary, where a courge of Gambridge and touches of London, Stedman and Grandsire were rung on the noble peal of eight. Plymouth was the next slop, and at Charles Cturch, which has an excellent light ring of ten, Grandsire Caters and Canloridge Royal were rung, Wr. Myors ringing his first course in the latter method preparatory to struting for a peal of it in the evening. A delightful afternoon in beautiful weather was spent on the Hoe, where the party watched with great interest the movemenls of seaplanes and other craft in the Sound. After a false slart, the peal of Cambridge Royal at St. Andrew's was successful, and Mr. Nryers is to be congratulated on his splendid performance.

THE ONLY PEAL FALURE
The next flay an early start was made for a peal of London Surprise Major af Tigliweek, a mile from headquarters, but this unfortunately anme to grief and the bells were then set going to a course of Bristol and touches of Steduan and Grandsire. This atitempt proved to be tho only failure amons the peals. In the ffteryoon a visit was paid to Eingsteignton, which stands al the heginning of the beatiful Teiga valley, and here the party rany courses of Cambridge and London and touches of Stednan and Bob Major on the musical octave. A strenuous game of football on the sands at Dawlish followed, and the day ended with a drive round same of the surrounding country before turning in to headquarters.
On Thursday the tourists journeyed to Buck[astleigls, home of Mr. Anbrey Bennett, who rang in the successful peal of Stedman Triples in lis home tower and to whom they wore indebted for the privilege f ringing at Buckfast Abbey. Here the ladjes were at first refused admision to the belfry, but after some clelny consent was given. lkinging on these grand bells eonsisted of Grandsire Gingues, Stedman Caters (in which wo ringers on holiday from Basingstore took part) and Bristol Major on the back eight. After admiring the $A$ bbey, with ils wonderful golden altar, and purchasing souvenirs from the monks, the party lumbled and then drove to Widecombe-in-the-Moor, scene uf the famous fair. Nothing could be more beautiful than this little village, with its lofty church rising from a cluster of tiry cottages and the wide sweep of Dartmoor beyond. The nice peal of six werc set going to Cambridge and Kent Minor and Grandsire Doubles. Then umo a drive through the jocomparable beauty of the moor to Princetown, so called in honour of the Prince of Wales, afterwards George TV.; because jit forms part of the estates of the Duehy of Cornmall. Tea at Princefown was followed by the loag drive bome to Newton Abbott.
On Fridny morming a peal of Cambridge Major (in which Mr. O . Walleer rang the treble) was scored at Moretonlampstead, and after lunch the party went on to Bovey Tracey, where they met Dr-. Taylor, of Sevenoaks, who, although the real instigator of the tour, was urable to join in it. He lad just returned from Sweden and was then on his way tu Coruwall. After stepping to call a touch of Stedmen, he siid "Au revoir" to the party, who concluded the ringiug with a course of London and a tanch of frandsire on this well-going peal of cight. The church screen, a very fine and arante piece of worlmanhip, was duly admired by the wisitors. The next stop was Teignmonth, where the time was occupied cilher hy bathing or enjoying a motor bont trip along the coast. Later in the evening came a drive to the old-world village of Stoke-in-Teignhead, en route for Newton abbett
The last ray of the tour startied well by a peal of Londou Major being scored at Kingsteignton. Mr. Walker, who was to have rung (Continued in next colimn.)

DEATH OF A RAUNDS RINGER

FOTGMER STEEPLEKEEPER AT ST. PETJR'S GHUROH
The death occurred an Monday, July 191 h , of Mr. Horde Copperwheat, who, for about 40 years, had been a member of $\ddagger$ li St. Peter's Society, Raunds. Deceased had been towerkecper considerable number of years, and under his care the bells and bejf were always in sood condition. Ho was not a great peal ringer, buit had rung about 20 peals in most of the standard methods from Plan Bob to Superlative Surprise Major.
A man of very quiet disposition, he regularly attended brannh meetings up to about two years ago, when he ceased ringing altogether. He also gave up the position of towerkeepel at the same time, son, Mr. W. Copperwheat, taking over the duties. Deceased hat Hever told auycne why ha had reshoned, but when it was leamed, an few weeks before his death, bliat he was suffering from cancer, was realised that it musb have beeu though ill-health.
The funeral took phace on Thursday, July 22nd, aftor which touches were rung half-mufled by the local band and G. H. Roberts, Ringstead. Deceased, who was 57 years of age, leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters in bercavement.

SUMMER MEETING IN DEVON.

 ENTHUSIASTIC SGHOOLBOYS.A summer meetivg (the first of its kind) of the North Devon Brancli of tho Guild of Devonshire Ringers was beld at East Buckland and proved very successful, ITwelve of the probationers of the West Buckiand School Guild, who ring at East- Buckland, were preseut, and the two other towers in the bramel, Combe Martin and Ilfracombe, were well represented. Visitors, includiag the president of the Guild (the Rev. E. V. Cox) and the wreasurer (Mr. T. G. Bartlett.), cam from Milverton, Calverleigh, Bampton, Brampford Speke, Upton Pyne Exeter and Ide, making a total attendanco of 42.
Ringing began at 2.30 and contirued in the four standard methots until evensong at 4.30. After tea mauy of the company triod the now ring of six in the neigthouring chnrel at Charles.
One most notable feature of the mceting was the eagerness of the nore experienced ringers to helps the hoys of the School Guild, took pert in Grandsire, Stexlman and Kent Treble Bob, Ringing both towers ceased at 7.30 , for the boys had to be back in selnool, a many of the visitors lad 30 ol' 40 miles to go home.

STEEL BARS FOR BELLS.

A ミUBSTATUTE SUGGTSTTED STXTY YEATRS AQO
At a tima when efforts are being made in different paris of the conntry to raise peals of chareh bells, a suggestion on the subject in "The Ghoir' is opportme. Dr. Ferdinand Ralsles, of Malvern Honse, South Gacknoy, writes surgesting the use of steel bars as an substilute far cast bells. They are, he says intronlaced in the United States and Germany with great success, and would form a now bianch of iudustry shond the manufachare of them be taken up in this country. There je not only a large area for them ju England, but a great demaud may be expected from the flourishing colonies of Onnadn Austrajia, Mew Zealand and India as soon ns they are known in those regions. The following ontlines will explain their partinular merite, combined with cheapness of production: Steel hars produce a very pure, distinet and particularly melodious sonnd, with many other great advantages over churla belly of moderate size. The powey of a elear and sonorans sound can tse obtained equally well, if nob saperior, to that cast fron bell-metal or steel. Their weight will ba light in comparison to the present ponderous productions. They will not burden the steeple so much, and cansequentiy, will give move scope for architectural design, and have the merit of far sounding. Their wiuding and lianging up will not le so difficult, dangerous and expensive. filiey ale not liable to crack, as is often the oecurrence with belts, and, therefore, adapted for use in any climato. By $&$ simpla and mechanical contrivance they are more oasily seb in motion. Tha cost, compared with manufactured cast bells, is so trivial that small churches and chapels, and especially mission stations abroad, will lie curbled to secture a peal, Three or four steel bars, forming a peal whose weight would not exceed Ioolh., could be manufactured for sll or s18, whereas only three cast bells of the same power would at least amount to 850 or EBO .
This paragraph appearen in 'Churcle Bells' of July 12th, 1873, and to it was attached the following comment: We inserd the above. which has been hindly sent ta us as a cutting from some nowspaper, for the amusement and instruction of our readers. If the only object be to make a neise for calling people to church, or for occasions of rejoicing, no dioubt steel bars would Answer well enougl; so would a lot of old frying pans but neither one nor the other would be bell-; therefore it is ranity to talk of such substitutes.

A MEETING AT SCARBOROUGH.

To the Editor

Sir,-I had a most interesting experience recently whilet on my lrolidays at Scarloorongh. At the barding house where I was sfaying the visitors are accommodated at various small tables in the diang room, and atioy first meal on Saturday evening, my wife aud y were introdnced lo cur table companious, a lady and gentleman from Bletulley aud two other yoning people from the North. We talked, as people do, of everything uniter the sin, and so ended Saturday.
Sumday morning came, with breakfast at 9 o'elock. I kept my eye on the time, as I intended to be in the Parisfl Churcla belfry at 9.45 A.m.

I noticed that the gentleman from Bletchley also seemed to rush breakfast and that he left the house before me, presumably for a sharp walk along the front.

Imagive nyy supprise whell, on entering the belfry, the first man I sow was my table companion, just about to take off his coat for a. ring-Mr. Sears, of Bletchley, well known in ringing circles, hut until thon known to me by name only. I don't know which of ws was the more surprised when we faced each other in the belfy.
Needless to say, we had many interesting talks during the holiday, and they were not all about the weather.

The business meeting was quile formal, tho only inprovian itens being tive venus of the ammal district meeting, which it was deciled to hold at Rochester
Fery hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Rector for taking the service and for his kimd gelverosity, ta Mr. Wills for his support, Mrs. Spica for her help at ilhe organ, nad all the ladies wha so gracionsly waitex upon the ringers.

RINGERS TOUR THE COUNTRYSIDE MANY EXCLRSIONS DESCRIBED.

Excursions in these clays lake ringers farther and farlher aficht, and on these 'busmen's holidays' the countryside is scoured for likely and unlikely places to ring. A large number of outings have taken place in recent weeks and here are a few reports sent in to us by correspontents who have participated in the trips.

CONTRASTS IN ESSEX.

After ringing fhis heary peal will soze success, the company adjourned to the local Conmable country to Higlinm and stratford Sit. Mary. A sitccessful day'y singing was brought to a close at the picturesque little churels at langliam.
Thonehes wore rung on all the peals mentioned, and the thathes of the company are extender to the incumbents of the chntenes conrerned, and to those gentlemen who were kind cnongls to meet whe isitars at the chareles and whe helped to make the trip so sitceesflul.
The onting was in no way mared by the ulta modern young housuwife, who burst into one of the churelies, hatless and stockingless, atrd informed the connpany that they had iswkeued her baby, that she couldn't hear the wireless for the bells and she was really very tired of bellringers. Rather was the ontiug made more enjoyalile by the lady who met the company as they emerged from the same church, and who was really delighted that the bells had been rung ly it visiting company- there certainly are extremes numang the wonenfolk, even in rural Esses, but luckily for bellingers the later type prevails.

DISS RINGERS IN THE 'SHIRES' AGIAN.

A 221 MLES' 'TRIP

Leaving Diss at 6.30 n.m. on Saturdar, July 174 , in ideal weather, the St. Mary the Virgin Sociely set ont for their' anmual outiog. It Cambridge Mr. Tam Chenery (well kaown in the Diss Distriet) joined the party and was of great assistance as guide for the rest of the day, Fensler was wniting to welcome the party, whoo after ringing on the dells of the Parish Clurch, went to 'Tom's' hotel, the Prince of Wales, anfl partook of an excellent, lunch. The uext call was at the Church of the Foly Sepulchre, Northampton. On the homeward jonzthey the ren-hell tower of St. Peul's Church, Bedford, was visited, aud tonches of Stedman ana Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royel wero rinig. After tea in Bedferd, the party made for Cambridge and rang tanmies of Stedmma Caters on the hack ten at Great St. Mary's Clurch. A sotial hour wus then spont at the Ringers' College, where good-bye was said to Tom Chenery. At Bury St. Kamunds, at 11 p.m., 'Sam' smett fish and chips and demanded that the bus slould be stopped. After a good supper 'Sam' returned to his back seat, whers he had been guarding certain 'luggage' during the day. Diss was reached at midnight after a journey of 221 miles in $17 \frac{1}{2}$ hours. The ringers would the, through The Ringing Worla,' is thank ill incimbents ror the use of the bells and the rimgers who aesisted them, especially

NORTH WEALD RINGERS GROW AMBITIOUS.

AND GO ON A RINGING TOUR.

The St Andrew's North Weald, Guild had their first ringing tour on Thly 10uh. Hitherto they lave hasl a seaside onting with littile or in ringing. It should be explainerd that the Guild is young as yet and only struggling with method ringing, but, having mastered Gruudsire Doubles, Boh Doubles and Bob Minor, they grew nabitious. The towers of Belford, Damluridge and Euntingdon were chosen for the excursion, and the selection of suitable six-bell towers and other Fletnils of the toul were sellled after consultation with Miss Kitty Wilters. The Guild are very gratefin for her advice. As a conveqilence a yery enjoyable and interesting tour was arranged, i.e., Si. Bonedict's, Cambridge, ind Trumpington, Elston, reached at 10.30 am ., has ansy nice old ohurch and tower. The bells went well, and John Bunyan himself did not matuage his hell better than those whu zarg it. Eyneslury came next, huit of this place a sad tale is to be told. Tluere is a fine church aud tower, hut the bells are very awkwnd. Three rupes are elose together in the doorway, anil they run tho wrong way round! This caught the bops guessing and only Grandsire Doubles was rung successfully, Very little time was spent here. The ringers retreated in haste and made 1 heir way to Hemmingford Grey, where everytining went well. Swavesey was reached just an hour behind schedule. but here the Guild woult have liked to stay the rest of the day. A lovely church with lovely thells. The three 120's Grandsire Doubles and Dioh Doubles and 360 Tabs, Minor were perfect. At Histon a fete in the gromads adjoining The church curtailed the ringing, but the two handbeil ringers of the party weat into the gromads and gave a few tunes. Then came Camhuidge and St. Benedict's. All were anxions to visit Stedman's churci, but whetier' it was nerves, because the church was half full with sightseers, or becalse it lad been impressed upon them that heret must be goad ringing, no one knows, hat, alas! the only 720 (Bot. Minor) arrenged for the day failed, A touch of 120 was, however, brought round.
A stay of 3 . hours was made in Cambridge, where a splendid meat ten was erjoyed. The lust tuwer, at 7.40 p.m., was Trumpiugton, where Miss Willews was presuat to meet the visitors, but the riugers did not show to advantage. By this time they were tired. The party reached home at 11 p.m., having thoronghly erjoyed themselves.

ANOTHER BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY.  AN ADVENTURE AT PERSHORE.

On Satirday aftermoon, July 17th, thie ringers of St. Ambrose's Bristol, and Mangotsfield combined for their anmual outiag, when thes made an excursion into Worceatershire. They journeyed by train to Cheltenham, where two luxurious motor-conelnes were waiting to convey them to Eveglam (via Clceve Eitl, Winchcomb and Broadway). The view from the Cotswold Hills en route was geaty anmiren.
On arrival at Evesham the party were met by Mr. Jack Thomas and his wife, and all thoronghly enjoyed ten at the Avon Hotel. Ring ing was indulged in at the leil tower, Grandsire and Stedman Gatribeing thoronghly enjoyed, aud there was also round ringing for tin leamers.
Saying 'good-bye' to Evesham at 7.15 p.m. the party went anl to Pershore, where at the Abbey they climbed up to the ringing chamh whicl is a square cage, supported on arghed timbers and surrounded by iron railings and wire notting, about 100\%t. above the west end of the nave. It is approacined by an ordinary stairway at the ent of the souti transept, thence over the top of the transept into galleries which surround the inside of the tower. These are connecled by short stairweys, and one has to confine oneself into as small a space as possible to get round the gallezies. From here tile ringi eage is reached by a small spiral metal stairway, and you say "thin yout ' when you set thare. Ringing here is a 'a man's job, ${ }^{\text {T }}$, but Lidies were not to lye deternewl.
One of the party on coming down lost hifmelf in one of the gal leries, which lie kept going round, failitug to find we exit door eauscd much amusement to the remainder of the party to lear calling out repeatedy, 'Mather', where are you p' menning, of course his wife, who was in the other gallery.
The retnru to Cheltenian was made in time to rateln $a$ train an 10.20 p.m. Supper was served on the train aud Mangotsfield reached about 11.30 p.m. A motor-coach awaited the St. Anbluost party at Mangotsfield to complete the jontuey, and everyone was pul down at their own lomes by midnigint after a very cujoyable liulf day's outing. said to be "the best yet.' Thasks ave accorded to iocumbents. for the use of their bells and the local ringers for lavy everything in readiness. Special thanks are due to the L. M. nind everytling in radiness. Special thanks are due to the L.M. And

IN NORTH NORTHUMBERLAND.

लENHAM TRNGERS TREK

Holiday induences were latgely respousibe for the ringers of Ss Wanes and Basil, Fenham, Norbhumbertand, deserting thet own rhareh and nccezting the inxitation of the Vicar of Embleton to ring For services at his church on Sumday, Iuly llth. Reaching this smafl ненside vilage shortly after 9.30 an.m., the five vingers, who travelled lyy c:ar, were met by Mr. D. Reay, who was camping nearby.
Soon the light, ? peal of six (il cwt.) were re-echoing through the vilhore, and several visitors were templed into the beffry to investigate the nursteries of change ringing and the ringers themselves tinting into grease spots. In this way a touch of 960 changes of Minor, consisting of 240 Cambridge Siliprise: 360 Kent Treble Bols and 360 IPain Boib was bronght round.
The afternoon saw a further trek nortb to Bamhnigh, where permission to ring the fine peal of eight (14 cot.) was given. Double Court, Kent Treble Bols and Platy Bob were the methods ruyg iu this lucautifutis kept belfig.
Tu the evening a retirn was nuade to Rmberton, and courges of Double Courb, Dunble Boh, Kent Trehle Bob and Plain Bob were fomy for evening service.
Then tlie long drive back was taken, but, only, with mucli regret, after such a perfect day. The Vicar of Embiteton's most enthonsiastic invitation to wetmu is not likely to go begging. Those taking part in fir duy's ringing were ' ${ }^{\prime}$. W. Crowe, N. Pairman, C. E. Lawson, d. Fenachi. D. Reay and K. Arthitr.

BOYNE HILL RINGERS' OUTING.

BABY GARS ROAD DIAGRAMS.

Tho Boyne Hill fingers, accompanied by a few furends, held their annal outing in Ferlfordshire, Ricknansworth was the first enll, where good use was nade of the spleudin ring of ten bells by Taylors, af Loughborough, Next they made for Fertford, stopping en route for a wayside picuic lunch. At Hertford they were met h one of the local baad, gad after a look round the beautiful chureh the bells were set going to Stedman Caters Double Norwich, Stedmau and Grandsire Triples. The bells are a lovely rimes of ten by Mears and Stainbank, and havo needed no adjustment siuce they were placed in the tower about 35 years ago-a year or so after the elurch. was rebuilt followiug a digastrons fire. Sone of the hell metal which was recovered from the debris was used in making these lovely bells, the tellor of which is about 25 cwt .

The return journey, was made via Watford, whero ant excelfent hea was aerved at the King's Head Hotel. The party lheu visited the tower, where there is a very musical jing of eight iy Gillett and Joluston. of Croydon. Here the visitars were joined by some of the 'locals,' and methods from Grandsire Triplas to Cambidge surpríe Major were spletdidy struck. Tho tenor bell in this lower is about 24 cut. in the key of E flut.
The al fresco supper, the songs and the handbells enjoyed at a half way house, opposite a villige smiliby which really does stand under spreading elhestut tree, was a good finish to a very enjoyable kay Maidenhead was reacheu at 10,30 after a rather axcitiug rum from Slongl: belind a cheeky 'baby' ear, whose front 'legs ' were eitise bandy or crossed. Probably the occupiers had been (or were going) to the 'dogs.' The angram made by that oar world make some our standard methorls laok like straight lines.
The ringing and the avrangements throughout the day were of the highest standard, and those who made up the party will look for ward to next year's outing with all the leenness they possess. T. J. F.

ST. MARY ABBOT'S GUILD IN SUSSEX.

St Maty Abbot's Guild (Keusington) held their anmual outing an Saturday, July 24th. The party of 30 included Messrs. A. B. Bennet and W. H. Hollier. Tisits wero made to East Grinstead, Coleman Hatch and Turler's Hill, Sussex. The Vicar of St. Mary Ablrot's, Preb. A. E. Smith, met the part-g at East Grinstead and look tea with the Guid. After the tea a short touch of Stedman Gaters was rumg the handbells. The bells of the three churches visited were rung a rariety of methods, inclnding Steclman, Double Norwich, Cambridy and Londou Surprise. At Turner's Hill the party were med by Kr 0 . Sippetis, to whom the Guild is indebted for: making the arrangements, for what was unanimonsly ngreed to have been a very enjoy able outing.

OXFORD DEDCESAN GULLD

SERVICE RENGING IN BANBTRY BRANOH.
The anlual meeting of the Banbury Brauch of the Oxford Guitd was held at Adderbury, about 50 being prescat. Riuging commenced at 2.30 1. II., after which service was held, conducted by the president, of the lirmeln, the Rev. A. L. E. Wisliams, Vicar of Banbury and Raral Dean. Tho sermon was preached by the Rev, C. E. Wigg, Depity Master of the Guild.

The business mesting followed the tea. In his report, the hath. sectetary (Mr. E. Pearson) referred to the faet that several homorary mombers had not paid their subscriptions, and what he had, therefore, only been able to forward 5518 . to the general Ereasurer. The sintement of acconnts showed a balance of E 25 in hand. The secretazy also regretted that service ribging and practice was not so well majutained in same towers and sppealed for support.
Mr. L. J. Malings, commenting on this, said he was glad Mr. perrson had not shirked the guestion. One way suggested to cunteract this falliug off mas to have plenty of recruits bat he belin wed this was only partly true. It was not altogether quantity but quality biat was wanted. He urged ringers to hold out the higlx idenis of fellowship and service in the tower, bravels or guild, to young ringers, since he beljeved youth was ready to follow ideals if they wete high enough.
The officers were all re-clected for the coming year, with the chairman as trustee (a new post). There were bwo honorary members and two ringing members elected.

Swaleliffe was chosen as the place of the next meeting, the date ing left to the secretary.
Mr. R. T. Hibbert, general secretary of the Guild, and He Rev. E. Wigg cantributed 'the usual few words' expected of them at hese annual meetings, and held out encouragement towards contimed 10 gress.
Following a comprehensive vote of thanks, ringing was resumed at Adderbury, while others went on to King's Sutton and Deddington. Eleven branch towers were represented, and there were a large mun1. of visitors, including one who arrived on a cycle from Tewkesbury 6.30 p.m., Left King's Suthon tower at haff-past eight to mend a heture and commence the jontrey back hona! One felt this was object lesson in keenness which might be iaken to heart by all - feel their inability to attend whea a meeting is helal at the ofther c of their brauch's distriet. Other visitors were present from Gventry, Exhall, Twyford, Oxford, Abingdon, Leicester and Cimmor.

DON'T SERUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and bealthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

IMPROVE THE STANDARD OF RINGING

There are in these days all too many bands of ringers who are content with indifferent striking. Even in broadcasting, as a recent letter in The Ringing World reminded us, the standard is frequently far below what it should be. When bells are 'on the air ${ }^{2}$ it is most impor tant that the ringing should be as near perfection as possible, by reason of the vastuess of the circle of listeners. But whether the bells are being broadcast or not, ringers should have a care over their striking. There is no justification for inflicting the noise of bad ringing even upon those only within earshot of the tower, but unfortunately there are many places where the public have to suffer, albeit they may suffer in silence. All this, of course, has been said many times before, but perhaps it cannot be said too often. There is no real excuse for a band of poor strikers if they never improve their ringing, but it may sometimes be an explanation that they do not actually know how bad their ringing is. Such bands really require the help of a thoroughly competent instructor, and we are convinced that in the hands of the right man great inprovement could generally be effected. The difficulty that lies in this matter is the delicacy of suggesting to a company that they need an instructor for such a purpose, but in view of the growing sensitiveness of the public this is a problem which ringing associations ought to face.

We know that many ringers are averse to anything in the nature of competition in ringing. Their opposition has grown out of the abuses of prize ringing in the bad old days,' but we are not certain that contests between bands for the credit of doing the best ringing migit not be one of the ways by which the general standard of ringing could be raised. The spirit in which ringing is carried out nowadays is totally different to that prevailing when prize ringing was a 'sporting' event, and we cannot but think that properly organised ringing competitions could be run without any lack of reverence for the buildings in which they much necessarily take place and with every prospect of improving the standard of the ringing of those who take part. Such contests are already run in a few centres and the interest whicli they engender among the competitors and the practice which they involve lead to some fine performances, which are, of course, reflected in the service ringing. To be of general use, however, the competitions would have to be graded, and some classes might have to consist purely of round ringing. For the more expert there would be method ringing, but, whatever the class, the inducement to improve would be stimulated. In Yorkshire, Brecon, Devon and elsewhere where such competitions now

PEAL NOTES.

LNTHRHSTMG POINTS CONORRNING MANF FFRFORMANCES. A hand of College Yontlis on July 3lat rang a peal of Cambriage Surprise Royal al St, Clement Dnues, London, in honour of the wedding of $31 \mathrm{r}^{*}$. John w. V. Husse (son of Major J. H. B. Resse, of Haslemerc, it Surrey, a populiur member of the socicty and Master of tho Guidford Diocesan (Guild) and Miss Doris Winifred James, which took place at St. Clement's earlier in the day
Several of those who took pari in this peal had further successes on lie two following days. On Sunday, Angust 1st, they rang a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in Four thethods at Crawley, Sussex, and on Mandiny a zeal of Gambriklge Surprise Royal at Newbry, Berks.

An interesting family liandbell peal was ruyg at Lincoln on August 4th, when Mr, John A. Freeman and his two sous rang seven different 720 's of Boh Ninar. One som, John, ealled the peal from 34, and iuncther, Michaol, who whs at week inder 12 yearg old, raug his first penl. It was the first peal 'in liand for the other two Atter meeting shost for a peal of Double Norwich Major at Ola Baffort, Notts, a peal in seven Minor methods was rung by members of the North Notts Association. It was Farold Benman's fiftieth preal with the Djeses K. and G. Burchall, twin sisters, who have never rung a peal Hpart
Mr. Phomes E. Sohe has called peals on all numbers from Doubles to Maximus, cbmpletiug this achievement with a peal of Treble Twelve at Cnuterbury Catiedral on Augrast, Bank Holiday. Arthur Kniflits' compositiou No. 80 was rung for the first time.

A peal of Bob Minor rung at Holmer, Herefordshire, on July 266 b , was in honour of the visit of Queen Mary to Hereford. It was also the quarterty peal far the Hereford District of the Gurild and rung by at band of Suntay service ringers it Folmer Chturch. In addition, it was an farewell tu Arthur J. Gaugh, a member of the band, who is taking up residence at Goodrich.
Mr. J. A. Burford's round 5,000 of Canbridge Surprise Royal was rung at Beddington on Saturday, the first time this mamber has been runts in the method in Surrey
For 49 jeara Mr. George 'Thompson las beev a ringer at St. Mary's Chrrel, Hinckley, Jeicesterslin'e, find in honour of his 70th birthday a peal of Grandtire Triples, in which he took part, was rumg on Satur day.

The ten bells at Christ Church, Crewe, hrve come into the peal nows agait. It seems a long time simee the previous peal was rung there. TONY'S ' DOUBLE,'
Mr. Tony wrice (one of the fightweights) tmoned in St. Peter Mancroft tenor, nearly a 3 cwt. bell, to Kent Treble Bob Major on August Tank IIoliday
The bels at Siahan Toney, Norfolk, lave recently been rehung by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswicls, and last Triday the first peal was rung on them, coluducted, appropriately enough, by Mr. "Tony' Price.
By retuming, the bells of St. Wentreda's Church, March, Cambs. have been turred juto a glorious six by Messris. Jolm Taylor and Co The benor is $16 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. in E and the whole ring has been rehung. The first peal on the restored bells was rung on Saturday in seven methods The pievious peal on them was Binb Minor, yung in 1819
He peal of Sterlman Caters (the first on the bells) at St. Mary's, Somehamptort on August 4 ik, and the peal of Double Norwich Major at Ronsey Abbey on Saturday, were arranged for Mr, R. W. Rex, who was on holiday in tlie district:
The Wicken (Notthants) ringers and their friends, who rang a peal of Donble Norwich at King's Sutton on Angust Bank Foliday, will be glad if any of onr resders will inform them of any peals which may lave been rumg at this charch. A peal board in the tower records two peals runs in 1799 and 1802.
The Worcestershire mea are not wasting their opportunities with ilse twelve bells at Kidderminster. They are introducing variety into the peals there, fund have now rung the first of Boh Maximus on the hells. Incidentrly it, was the first peal of "Plain Twelve" by tell of the band, ou!y those old 'way' horses, Bill Short and Joln Bass, Having rung a veal of Boh Maximus before, althougly most of them Tave rung Cambriage Maximas. Rob Maximus provides hetter music than some of the methods that liave been runt on twelve bells.
A bnof meetins short for a peal in seven Minar methods at Copdock, Suffolk, ou Fiday, "roped in" Mr. C. A. Andrews at short notice and rung a ponl in three methods instead. They projosed Mr. Andrews as on member of the Sulfolk Guild before starting.
As n birthany compliment to feorge and Alan Andrews and Urban Wildney, a peal in seven mothod , the first in this mumber loy five of tive hand, was rung at Thorington, Jeseex, on Saturday
The peal of Owford Treble Boh at Marsham. Norfolk, on Angust 3rd, was arranged for Mr. Fonry W. Gayton, of Harrold. Beds
The first peri on the bells since 1928 and the first in three methodr was rung at shipdham, Norfols, on August 4fh. It was conducted 1wy Mr. A. J. E. Smalls, who was on holiday in his Dative parish. He wishes to thank the Rev. $\mathbb{C}$. H. V. Evr for the use of tle bells, and the band. especially Mr. J. A. Godfrey, for making the arrangements.
Our comment last weck on the peal of Bob Triples at Grumdisburgh, fince first it the method an Etre bells and by the Suffolk Guild. that ${ }^{\text {it }}$ would probably he the last for a goon long time;' lins led Mr. Cecil Tipe to ask what we really mean by the remark.

A HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.'

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

To be published in September by : The Ringing World

This new contribution to the literature of bell ringing will be found to be a volume of engrossing intercst. It is baseci on new mnterial brought ta tight by the author's own researches, and it is by fur the most exhaustive history of the Sociaty yet presented to the public.
As the Society goes back almost to the beginnings of change ringing, the development of the art has been zoincidental wish the life of the College Youths. The author's story, therefore, contains much of the history of the first two centuries of ringing, as welf as of the Society itself. Distant events are reconstructed from a skilful analysis of oid documents; men who, until now, have existed for later generations only in name, become once agaio personalities of interest.
This volume, coming in the tercentenary year of the Ancient Society, stould be doubly weloome to the members, and will prove full of interest to every ringer,
It is to be illustrated by reproductions of old prints, and drawings of numerous London ehurches. Bound in cloth covers, the book will be published at 5/- (postage and packing 6d. extra). Obtainable only by direct application to 'The Ringing World,' Lower Pyrford Road, Woking.

SPECIAL OFFER

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCLATION'S 'GARDEN PARTY

The Shropshire Association meeting at Moveton Corbet on July 24 th rescubled a garden party as much as a ringing niecting. Orer 60 vingers, together willa a nunber of ladies, enjoyed the haspinality of the association treasurer, the Rey. $\overline{\text { Fb}}$. C. Pigott. In the intervals of taking a turn in the diminutive belfiry tlie 'guests ' played hawls, deck tennis, otc., in the benutiful vicmage gardens which adjoin the church. Anoulg those present were ringers from Chester, Wem, Wellington, Bervington, Clive, Shrewsbury, Coalbrookdale, Malins Lee Hodnet, Montford, Great' Ness and Staudon, Milston and Norton (Staffs)
The searetary found it impossihle to hold a business meeting, but all united in the service, conducted by the Reetor, at which the Rev. T. N. Orowther-Green (Mulins Lee) addressed the congregation.

A touch of Grandsire Triples and a course of Caters on Mr. William Saunders' laandbells were much appreciated, especielly by the ledies. The mathods rung included London, Tpswich, Wells and Cambxidge Surprise Minor, as well as the standard six-bell methods.

3t means just what it says, that it will probably he a good long time before another peal of Bob Triytes is rung for the Buffols Guild. Bob Triples is not the best or the most popular of methods, nud, except as a curiosity, no one erel rings it now. All of which ringers well know. It was just these facts that made us surmise lhat it will, perhaps, be some lime before nnother peal of it is rung for the Guild, but, after this, some band will probrbly ring another fir Suffolk on purpose to prove that we are wrong.

MARRIAGE OF MISS DOROTHY SAUNDERS

MUCH RINGING IN HONOUR OF COAEBROORDALE BRIDE The weddiug took place at St. Chad's Roman Catholic Cathedra], Hiruingiam, on Saturday, July 31st, of Miss Dorathy Sannders, only clild of Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders, of Coalbrookdale, and Mr. James loseph Salley, yonngest sons of the late Comailor and Mrs. Robert Salley, of Newcastle-on-Tyue. The ceremosy was performed lyy the Rev. Father Joseph Boland.
the bride is well known to many riuging frieuds. 'Doss ' has always been a good critic when bands of 'rlythm wreckerss' have visitea Conlbrookdale, where her [ather is the popular leader of the ringers.
A great compliment was paid to her on the occasion of her wedding Ly ringers of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham. Special permission had been granted by the Rev. Father Cazon Ataskell (priest in charge of the Cathedral) for the bells to be rung, and it is interesting to note that among those who took part were Mr. James George (aged 83), Mr. John Jagger (aned 76), also Walter Latgo and Alfred S. Bayley, Conlbrookdale, with Mu. Goorge E. Tearn and severul other members of St. Martin's.
Afterwards the ringers gathered at the Beelive Hotel. It was here that the bride and bridegroom and the bride's parents and several other friends looked in to thank them, ouly to fine that 'William' had dared to come without his famous handbells. Good wishes were cxpressed to the happy couple.
In the afternoon the bride and bridegroom left Snow Hill Station an route to SE. Aune's-on-Sea, where the houeymoon is being speut. Their new home will be at Sheldolk, near Birmingham.
On Monday, August 2nd, a few Birmingham and distriet and Shropshive friends met at Coalbrookdale, where a peal of Grandsire Caters had been turanged as a further weddiug compliment. The holiday made it very difficult to get a band together, with the result that a peal of Bob Major was surgested, but after an hour's goad ringing something Jhappened which made tho conductor call 'Stand.' It was at pity, for it would have beent his 3506 bh peal.
After refreshments and handbells at headquarters a move was made in St. Michael's, Madeley. The party arrived just in time for a wedAing. Grandsire and Stedmau Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor were very well rang. The whitors then went on to Shifnal for tea, after which Mr. Percy Baker (local captain) arrived and gave the party a very hearty welcome. The grand old eight by Pack nid Chapman were rung to Grandsire and Stedman Griples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. A fine than down wilh the isual $1,2,3$ and Conlbrookdele Queen's made a g:od finish. The usurl social lour, 'spent at Shifual with Billy's handbells. completed a very happy day.

BELERY GOSSIP

A party of holiday tingers, several of Uem actively connected will the Central Conncil, spent last week in Somerset. $A$ rumonr bas reached us that they were 'pinched 'fol exceeding the speed linit in a built-up arce, or some equally serious offence. That may be tho explanation of the fact that, at the time of writing, we have hata nothing officially of the ringing resultis of their tour.
One peal they rang, however, was at Wedmore, where the bells were recently lestored by Messis. Mears and Stainbank. Mrs. G. W Ficteher rang the 30 ewt. tenor, which, we believe, is the featiest bell yet qung to a peal by a lady.
A bachelors' partu, with a limited number of benedicts to chapervio them, begin a week's peal ringing in Gluncestershire, Wiltshire, Oxtordshire and Worcestershre on September 4th. They travel together Ly motor-coach. Is this to preqeat any slipping away when other attrat tious call?
In the following week another party are to tour Cheshire and North Wales.
There were 152 changes of method in the peal of Minor in 20 melhous Inlig at Jamby-in-the-Willows, Noils, for the North Notts Association, on June 5wh.
The number of clanges in the peal of Cambridge Surprise (cum posed by Mr. C. H. Kippin), murg at Colenan's Hatch ou July 281n, was 5,088 aud not 5,056 as published.
At Bounn, Cambs, on Thursday, Angust 5th, an attempt for a peal of London Surprise Major came to grief in the Sth course, but good practice resulted. If the peal had been successful it would have been the firgt ever by all residents in lily diocese. The band whs Miss Shorter, Miss K. Willers, A. E. Austin, G. W. Gook, E. G. Hihbins. F. G. Gleaves, Tr. T. Denilis and F. Warrington.

A halfpenny stamp only meed be aflixed to the andressed envelopu sent to Mr. W. A. Cave, 29, Victoria Street, Bristol, 1, by applicals for his booklet of Lougres of Stedman Caters and Ginques.
There were twa errors in the names given beneath the picture of the Friezeland yingers in our last issue. The fourth from the left was Alfred and not Wilfred Bennetit, and on the extreme right was Josent Burgess and not Bennett.
Frederick G. Cole rang the $4 t 1$ in the peal of Superlative at Sherfinh Fnglisb, Hants, on July 31et.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' TERCENTENARY
FARLY MASTER'S TOMB TO BE RESTORED.
One Lord Mayol of London was also Master of the College Yonths duritg his year of office. This was Sir Heury Tulse, who died in 1689 aud was buried at Bt . Dyonis-Backelsurch, in the City of London. He was Master in 1684.
The stone which garked lis vault is one which, with others, was preserved when the Church of St. Dyonis-Bachehnrch whs demolished in 1878. It lies on the north side of the old burial gronme, which is off Lime Street in the City, and it reads as uader:-

In a Tault Under-neath
this Stone Lyyes Turied the Bady of Sir HENRY IUULSE, who Departed this life the 3lst day of August, 1699.
It. is proposed to touch up the inscriphion where visilye and recut it where losi. Below this inscriplion is a considerable space; in the lower portion it is proposed to add :-

SIR HENRY TULSE was a Benefactor of the Ghurels of St. DYONIS BACKCHURCH, formerly adjoining. He was alsa
Grocer, Alderman and Lord Mayou of This City.
This Slone was restored by
THE ANCTIN'I SOCJETY OF COLLFGE YOUTHS, Angusi 31st, 1937, during the 300th yeal of the Society's Foumdation, as a Memorial to the above who was Master during the year of hivs Mayoralty in I684.
The unveiling is provisionally fixed for the afternoon of Augnst 31st (the anuiversary of his death) ahout 4 p.ma, and it is hoped there will be a good muster of members of tho society. Any members who may he visiting London on that day will be specially welcome.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

SIXTFEN TOWERS REPRESENTED AT DISTRICT MEETING
A very pleasant meeting of tho Wisbech Branch was held at Opwell on Saturday, no fewer than 16 towers being represented. The ringing included Double Normich, Cambridge and London Surprise. Among the visitors were Mr. G. Mayers, of Norwich, Mr. A. F. Anstin, of Newmarket, and Mr, Tony Price, of Feltham, Middesex
The general secretary (Miss K. Willerst presided at the business menting, which Mr. G. Mayers was elected a notr-resident life member of the association.
The secrelary (Mr. W. W. Cousins) extended a welcome to the risitors, and Mr. Tony Price (who is a native of the district), in reply, said how pleased he was to be present and to find the braneh in sum a flonrishing coudition.
The next meeting is to he held at Denver.

LONDON RINGER HONOURED

MIPERIAL SFRVICE MEDAL FOR MR. TI. H. JAFFENDER
Recipient of the King's Coronation Medal last May, Mr. Thomas Taffender, ane of London's best kuown ringers, has jusl beon decorated with the medal of the Imperial Siervice Order, on his retirenent from Ule Postal Service. Reaching the age of 00 on July 25th. M1. 'Inffender tolinquislzed his dulies on the previous day, when it peal in lonour of the occasion was inng at Streatham.
H: 'Caffender entered the Postal Service neatly 47 years ago ane for 41 years has heen an established Civil Servant. Since 1isilig to the superwsing grades, his promotion in recent years lus been very tapid. Ha enjoyed the complete confidence of Ho Deportment and has hold appointments as officer in chatue of some of tha largest poanal areas in Lontions.
Many specches lave ben made and much regret expuessed at his deparinue and the loss of his sarvices to the departmenti. Reference has also been made as to Mr. Taffender"s youlinfint appeurance, and even to enst suspicion on the vallaily of his birth certilicate. His reply has hem that the yanthfuhess is due to his actirity in campanology
At the recent Cororation uf King George, Mr. Taftouder was hongmred by the King by Leiry docorated wills the anomation Medal. At his reirn:ment, [or his mevitorions

MR. T. H. TAFFENDER services in the Post Office, he aceived further recoguition, and Fis Majesty has deconated him with We medal of the Imperina Service Order. The Postmaster- Cientral algo has sont him a personally sigued emblem expressing his appreciaion of his faithful scrvice to the State for mearly 67 years.
On Suuday, Jily 25ih, at St. Giles, Gamberweil, for erening serwice, quarter-peal of Stednan Caters was rung to celebrate the 60th anm ersary of Mr. T. F. Tafenders birth. It was rumb br W. D. Trainger 1 , Miss 13 . N. Mills 2, B. R. Harris 3, 1 , H. T"aftonder (con(luctor') 4, A. S. Bichards 5, T. W. Traffender 6, F. D. Bishop 7, N. W. Hanuing 8, L. J. King 9, F. Hopgood (hutst quarter-peal on Len Lells) 10.
Mr. Talfonder has long been one of tha most active ringers in Lonlon, and throughont a mreer extending over 45 years his interest in he art has never flagged. He began his ringing towarts the end of 1892 at the Church of St. George the Martyl, Southwarts, aud corsinaed al little lnter at Holy Trinity. Newington. Hu joined the Lutient Saciety of College Fouths in Decentier, J893, and zang lis irst peal with them the same month. He was olented Master in the ear 1911. Prior to that he was appointed an oflicial member of the St. Pral's Cathedrat Compray, and is still one of the band.
As a member of the old St. James' Society, Mr. Taffender took a pading part in widening its sphere of activity and in thanging its anme lo the London Connty Associntion. This was carried out dung his sceretaryship and for many yenes now M1. "Taffender las filled he office of Master. Under his guidance the assoniation has achieved much suecess. His sun, Mr. T. Wilfred Taftender, is now the houn. ecretary.
It is umecessary lere to refer to ML. Taffender's achiewements in the belfry He is ameng the foremost conductors and lsas taken part in many notable peals, atmong them the forst Surprise peal (Superlative) in the city of London in 1901, the lirst peal on the hells of the Imperial Institule, ruug for the Coronation of King Edward Vix., the 7,104 Double Norwich Majov at. Sonth Wigston, Leicestershire, 11 go4, ind in the fathers' and sous' pea] of Sledman Cingues al. Shoveitch in 1928.
But Mr. 'Taffender's rintimg activities have by no mestis nember in panls. He has always shared energetieally in Sumday serviee ringing. and, in addition to his duties at. St. Panl's Cathedrat, has orginised had leeped to matintain Sunduy ringing in a number of churches. Tn the feisute which, we hope, long lies hefore birn, lie will doubtless outinue to devote his ellergies to this useful end.

RINGING EXCURSIONS

WELSH RINGERS TRIP THROUGH FOUR COUNTIES

'The Tatgarth Church bellringery held their' seventh annual outing on Angnst Bank Foliday, August Znd, the venue being Worcester. Leav ing home at 8 a.m, and travelling down the Wye valley via Leominster, the first stop was made atstoke Prior, Herefordshire, where is a very handy ring of five bells, which hang in a steel frame. Some of the youmger ringers found them a little diflicult to handle, but some sixseores of Grandsire were rang and the bells lowered in peal. Whitbumrue, just over the Worcestershire border, was next visited, and here the parly wers met by the Yicar (the Rev. Stinmer), who gave them a vory hearty wrolcome. The bells are a good ring of six with a very nice tone and "go.' Aiber same six-scobes and a vote of thanks, passed to tho Vicar for the use of the bells and for his welcome, the party moved of through beautiful countary to Clifton-on-''eme, which was reached at 12.30 . They anrived while a wedding was in progress and were able to ring a "wedding peal." A vole of thanks mas accorded to the Vicar aud a move made to Martley, where ulhe parly were met by the Thev. J. M. Hastings, who is a well-known Worcestershire ringer: A heardy welcome was extended to the visitors, who were rery pleased to be able to ring on the oldest origiual peal of six bells in Sholand. The Vicar explainect that all the bells were cast clese to the clurch in 1673, each bell bearing linat date. The exculsionists finally reached Worcester at 3.15 p.m. where the parly broke up to look romd the city, bul most made for the Cathedral, where a long time was spent inspecting tho benutiful editice. Some made the long climil up the tower. Leming Worcester at 9.15 p.m., home was-anfely reached about midnighto after a long buts pleasani day. D. Fi. B.

HALF DAY IN EAST KENT

YOUTHS WITH NO OOMPLAINMS.
Willeshorongh and District Youths ged off on their seventh amual half-day run on July 17th. At Eythome the locals were there to ment the party, hut the Yoaths were lookiug for the oiher one. After ringing on the lible peal of five bells, they went on to Northboume, with its beantiful charch and good bells. Fhe way up to the ringing chamber, lowever, caused ane of the ringers to do some pretty hard thinking before making the attempt. He was mot to be beaten, however', and, althongh tha last one up, lad his veward for the strugglefor struggle it was and no doubt about it

Great Mongelam, the next call, provided a better ascent with something to 'plant 'en on.' Another nice little six was sel going. One rope looked a bit queer, but this was soon pirt right and an eujoyable hour was spent. Then away to the Parish Hall, Upper Deal, for tea, This proved a lovoly 'touch.' No matter whether tull work front, or back places, in or out, it was bequtifully styuck. Nexb. across the road to St, Leonard's Chureh, up the roundabont, amother honr of yood ringing and away to Wingham. All too soon came the time for departure, and howe was reached fifter another enjoyable run round of 70 miles, in beantiful weather through lovely country. With five towers, I2 noeliods attempted and nine coming home, there were no complaints.

The Youkhs, throurgh He medium of 'The Ringing Worled, wish to thank the incumbentis for the use of the bells, the towerkeepers and local ringers for meeting thom, to Mr, and Mrs. Verrier and lady fricnds for their splendid arrangements for tea, not forgetting the lititle maid with dustipan and brush.

TWO DAYS IN HERTS AND ESSEX

PUTINEY JINGERS EXCURSION.
st, Mary's, Putrey, ringers spent a couple of days on thein amual onting. They startied at 8.15 a.m. on Saturday, July 24 th, travelling in a small coach. The wecord of the excursion is told in the following story : Bowling through Middlesex, we picked up twa 'cads' on the way. 'Hullo, cads,' said we, nice worle to be punctual. Without mishap and only one error we resched Broxbourne at 9.30 , the first call. A welcome from the Yiear and a local ringer, and a pice peal, of about a ton, was soou giving tongue to Stednan and Bob Major, I'hese bells were nurg appreciated, and some were lowh to leave, bnt the new 'O.S.,' like the 'old 'm,' must pusis us on to the next tower, soon reached, to wit Hoddesdon, where hang a Warner eight of about 12 cwt. Justice was done here for a while, the young lady in oharge finding opportunity to ring her first tonches of Grandsure vriples. Speaking of 'firsts,' Mis. 'I'wickenham here enjoyed her first pull (on tho stars). There beles now time in hand before hanch, Mr. E., well known at Feston, took ans on a mystert tonn, objective Hullsdon, but there was 'noting doing.' We'd passed the Vicarage wo miles baek, ser at 'place' was found where the unwise 'chaps ${ }^{\text {P }}$ cleared Mr. and Mrs. Boniface out of all catables. Sowe others had brouslit "Pie.' Branghing was the next stop, a bit late on account of the mystery tour, and here was foumd a good eight of very old slyle, about 19 cwt . and going well. Passing through Little Hadham, we soon reached Bishop's Stortford, where we were met by the Vicar with a hearty welcome. Tho wxiter noticed a preat cirange here since his last visit (breathe it nott\} 37 years ago. There is a very nice ring of ten, aboit $16 \frac{1}{2}$ cwh., which some years ago were xeconditioned by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and on which Stedman and Graudsire Oaters were accomplished of our own bat.
"Twas now nearing late aftemoon, so Felstead was aimed at. Here another Wariker peal in a church dating from 1149 A.D. was much appreciated, as was the tea which followed nearby. Witham was the next objective, and here we were met by several of the local band and with their loelp were able to 'knock off a couple of conrses of Double Norwich in elnking style; also sone novel Bola Minor on handbells at the instigation of the late $0 . S$.

Headquarters at Chelmsford was reached in good time for a look round, and then supper' and bed. The usual 'late bird' arrived about midnight, and was duly consoled witiz supper and bottle complete.
Aiter breakfast next noming, we made our way to Great Baddow. where there was a weleome by the Vicar and Dr. Speucer Phillips Splendid sew wice ringing was done on a fine peal of eight, inelndity Double Norwich with local help. The O.S. gave leave of absence fil tealime (bar dimuer), and we feld we were free men once again. After tea we were 'on the dat' at Writtle for service ringing. we werg meb and welcomed, Found good bells aud satisfactinn. Lator grool byes wert said, and we were definitely on the homeward trek. Bur 'ah! we stop at Loughtou to ring out,' says Mir. O.S., and so we" clid right merrily, being welcomed by the Vicar and a looal lady and gentleman ringer. Sliadows were falline on Epping Forest ms we lefl. and reached Puiney safely qti abiont 10.30 p .un., laving dropped the "cads" en route.
We should like to thank all who met and welcomed us and the clergy who kindly gave permission to ving, also Mr. Elson, who so wel organised the trip. During the tour condncting was shated by Messe
Fllinghan, Elson, Malins, Cassell, Wicks and

A JAUNT IN BUCKS AND HERTS. TOO MANY " DIGTATORS.

The Heston, Middlesex, ringers had thein second outing tilis yery August 7th, when they had a shart Saturday afternoon jaunt motor-coach.
The first call was at $toke Mandeville (Bucks) and 6ft. ringers blistered hands in rimging the seand on account of a very low ga However, four methods were rang, induding Oxford Bob Irriples wi oul the diagram.
A move was then made to the Woolpach, where an 'al fresco' ter enjoyed and group photograplis taken
Out of Bucks into Herts, the ringers arrived at Northelurch, there is a recent Taylor augmentation to eiglat. Faur melhods wer rung, pleasing featare being a touch of Oxford Treble Bob Majo Then on to Hemel Hempstead, where the party was med by the veteran Mr. Golding and heavier belis fonnd. Oxford Treble Bob also went very well here as the last touch.
The methods rung were frandsire, Stedman, Oxford Bols Triples Plain Bob, Donble Norwich and Oxfard Treble Bobs but some of touches of Stedman were failures, owing to the bob-ealler not being it conductor in the strict sense, and when "dictators' disagree tranhle enstes. Perlaps it: was due to the excessive heat of the afteruoon?
The president of the Tower Grabbers Union was an honoured (ank roisy) guest, and he was able to announce to all and sumdry that Hemel Hempstead was his 600th tower. He drauk to his awn health in 'grape fruit." Arrangements for the afternom and evening wert in the capable hands of Ne. E. R. Gludman.

A SUSSEX EXCURSION.

On Saturday, July 17th, the Twineham (Sussex) conpany with their wives and friends had their ammal outing. Travelling by motor-conch in lovely weather, the party went through Burgess Hirl, Ditchling and Lewes to Alfriston, where an hour was enjoyed riuging on the bella of Sb. Andrew's Churdi. After wea at the Tudor bley went on to Pevensey, where more ringing was done on the laels of the Parish Church. A long drive home ended a most enjoyable aud ideal halfday's outing to the strains of 'Old Tather Bowles' bus keeps rolling rolling on. Warmest thanks are tendered to the respective Ficar for the ase of their bells and to the ringers concerned for lavilug everything in readiness.

CYCLING TRIP TO SUFFOLK.

As a result of an overnight cycling expedition to Suffolk from Wroodforch, Essex, two quarter-peals were pung. The firstat St. Mary's. Woodbridge, for 10 a.m. service on Sundey. August lst, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples : B. Weavel 1. A. S. Woodard 2, F. G. Woodrufte 3. William A. Woode 4, W. W. Corney 5, F. L. Fisher (oonduchor') 6, C. J. Trotman 7, R. Malster 8. For evensong qt St. Mrargavet's, Leiston, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1, 264 changes): B. Weaver 1 , Mrs. J. E. Bailey 2, F. S. Failey $3_{1}$ C. Whiting &, T. G. Rumsey 5: Weaver and Corney wish to thath the ringers in hoth towers for making this a memorable Sunday for them. The former returned hone the same niglit.

FOR BEGINNERS.

OBSERVINGG COURSING ORDER.

Every young zinger is a potential conductor, but not all reach the stage of competency in his direetion, nor even try to do so. Mavy ringers are content to go on just 'ringing' and leaving 'calling' to others. Whether or not bley desire to assume cesponsibilities he conductors, however, we think every ringer should kuow something about coulucting even if only becanse it helps to give him a closer insight into method ringing.
'Lo slick to one's own job and mind one's business is as meritorious in ringing as in other walks of life, but there are times when some knowledge and a little interest in the olher matn's job comes in very useful. It helps a ringer to keep himself right when trouble occurs uad may help him to help others.
The man who lanows how to conduch a toūcls or peal must of necessily know more about the method than the mazi who just does his ringing by rule of thumb. For instance, the man who only knows where fo dodge in Bob Minor by the place lie passes the troble or ly recollecting where he dodged last time is not as safe a ringer ns the man who, in addition, knows the coursinf order of the bells and how a bob is going to affect them, but these are thinge which every conductor studies if he is wortliy of the name.
Even if a young vinger has tho immediate prospect of beconiog the bols caller in his tawer, he should lose no opportanity of watching what is happening among the other bells while he is rineing, as soon as he can begin to think of something else besides finding lis way through the method. Abovo all, there is no renson why be should not stridy these things on paper, at home, for this is the one road to success in the tower.

In the simpler methods the crux of successful conducting is in the alility to watoh the coursing order of the bells and to bo wble to anticipate the changes of coursimg order which will be mado by the bobs.

Despite dodging aud place-making, the bells in these simple nuethods keep to a fixed cycle until they ar'e disturloed by a bols (or siogle). Coursing order is, generally speaking, the order in which the belis come to lead, or follow each other out behind. It also keeps them to a regular succession in the 'work' of the metlod, and if the conductor knows the consing order, he not only can tell the bells when to lead, or the ovder in which they should come away from behind, lub by the position of one or more he can tell a ringer who has grone iray exactly what piece of work lie has to do next, and thus set him fairly quickly on lis feet again-unless the delinquent happens to be one of those unfortunate ringers who, when they get out, have not the capaciby to get right again without infinite trouble.
A knowledge of coursing order is, therefore, a first estential Cor those Who wish to study anything more than the merest elementary phase of ringing. Indeed, the power to observe and memorise the order in which bella are coursing is the greatest aid to huatilg. If jou know the coursing order, there is no need to look about to find the nexd bell to strike over', with the possibility of missim it altogether; the ritger knows exactly which betl to look for.
fluphose it is Plain Bols we are ringing. Let us look at the coursing onder first from the troble, when all the working bells come up without, interruption. As you hunt out Jon have them in the order 2.4.6.5.3, aid you take them back in precisely the same order. Then, when Fon lead, the last bell the treble struck over makes 2nd's place and tukes the treble from lead. In hunting out and back mext time, therefore, you put the last first and keep the others in the same order 3.2.4.6.5. In the next lead this order becomes 5.3.2.4.6 nud so on until the end of the course or a bob is called.

A bols in Bob Minor causes 4 th's place instead of End's to be made, and consequentiy the bell coursing in front of the treble and the one belind it continue in that order and a different bell is displeced.
As we have seen, the coursing order in the first lead is 2.4.6.5.3, and, in the second without a bob, 3.2.4.6.5. If, however, a hob is called, it is not the last bell that you meet first but the same bell ans in the prepious lead. The bell met next to lask tarris round in 4bh's place and comes in and jou have a coursing order of 2.5.4.6.3 instead of 3.2.4.6.5.
It secms a litblo more complicated in explanation than it really is in practice, and with careful application the youns ringer will know as quickly which bells to look for after a bob has been called as he will after a plain lead.
If he is ringing an insido bell, he has to take tho treble into accoumb in the conising order, and he will find that what happens is that the five working bells retain their order and that the treble moves throngh them one place each lead. Thus (suppose he is ringing the Znd) he first leads aud then he meets the bells 4.6.5.3.1, find after I comes his own bell in the cycle, glving an actual coursing order of 4.6.5.3.1.2.
The 2nd's place made by 3 transposes the hells in the mext lead to 4.6.5.1.3.2, and in the next to 4.6.1.5.3.2, and so on, the treble moving one place at a time, the others keoping their coursing arder except for this disturbence. If a bob is called, there is a wider transposition and instend of 4.6.5.3.1.2 yroul get 4.6.3.1.2.5
It is worth while gring to a little pains lo ninderstand this. Get a pencil and paper and write out two or three leads of Bols Minor and note the order in which the bells come up behind and come to lead. Then write ont thee leads in whinh hobs are made and observe in nheae how the comsing order is changed. It will emable you fograsp much more clearly when yous go into the betfry.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

A bank hotiday meeting

Bank Holiday meectings of the Durlani and Newcastle Diocesan Association had not been hehf for some years until the practice was reyived last week at sunderland, when it seemed to be the unanimous opinion of those present that this should be ata gunual finction.
The meeting place was. St. Michael's, Bighopwearmouth, where several tonches of Grandsirc and Stedman Triples and Kent and Double Norwich Major were rung. Unfortunately, the ringers were anly 15 in number, so were unaile to make up a band for Holy Trimity Church.
Tho Vicar (the Rev. G. F. Marslail) and also the president of the association (Councillor Authur Payle, of Gateshend) joined the sathering at tea at St. Igmatins' Iustilute. The Rectors of St. Michacl's and Holy Trinily and the Yicar of St. Ignatius' Churcis were thanked for the use of their bells, and thanks were accorded also to the ladies who hat provided the wea.
An invitation had bcen received from the Rector of South Church, Bishon Aucklad, to bold a meeting there, on the occusion of the unveiling of a Corountion peal boarl, and it was slecided to accept this offer, the arrangements being left in the hands of the secretary.
further tinging on the bells of St. Ignatins' brought a very pleasant aud helpfit meeting to a close.

JOINT MEETING IN SURREY.

In spite of the storny-looking clouds, the weather behaved itself and kept fine for the allumal joint mecting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Grild and the North-Westeru Branch of the Surrey Association at Ranmore Connnon on Saturlay, July 24th. The threatening skies, however; had an effect on the attendance. Among the first arrivals were those who had been touring the mides of Devon, alkt the inolls were kept, going nutil 5 ocelock, when the ringers' short service was conducted by the Rector (the Rey. W. R. Crichton). Aiter welcoming the ringers to Ranmore once again, he gave a short applicable adiliess on "Humble ye yourselves to serve olle another.'
In spite of only 27 sitting down to tea when nearly 40 were cxpected. there was not much left on the tables when everyone had finished.
$\Delta s$ usual there was no real business to transact, fuat it was fitting that those present should observe a few momeuts' silpence on the death of Col. TT. F. Parkiuson, of Bansiend, a member of both societies and of the College Youthis. He was donor of the bells at Holy Trinity, Wandsworth, aud was also responsibio for several improvements at Banstead since his association with that tower.
Mr. F. G. Woodiss (Survey district, secretary) mentioned that the srext meeting was at Fgham and Staines on August 28th, and, as it was a joint meeting of four essociations, he hoped to see lis district well represented there.
After a hearty vote of thanks had been passed to the Rector, the organist and Mr. Dobinson for their part in making the mesting possible, and to Mr. A. E. Supith (Leatherhead districti secretary) for making the nccessary arrangements, the lolls were once again made full use of under the mastership of Mr. Dan Cooper in a variety of methods until they were finally lowered in peal at 9 o'clock.

DON'T SGRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really ciean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, 100 -when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE PLAIN METHODS.

It is strange how sometimes a fippant remark may lead to a serious argument. A fortnight ago we published the report of the first peal of Bob Triples rung by the Suffolk Guild and, in pointing this out among 'Peal Notes,' casually and rather lightly suggested that it would probably be the last for a long time. We were promptly challenged to explain and, having, in response, suggested that Bob Triples is not the best or the most popular of methods, now find that there is still left at least one champion of this somewhat despised member of the Plain Bob family. Let it be at once admitted that if a band can put it to any useful purpose-and even if they can't-there is nothing to prevent them ringing a peal of it if they so desire. And the Central Council will recognise it, although deprecating its performance. The metiod may be all that our correspondent clams for it-a helpful step from Minor to Major-but that does not make our statement that it is not the best or the most popular of methods, any less true. None of the backstroke leads of the treble is a Triples change; there are four blows behind every time the treble leads. These are blemishes sufficient to justify discouragement of the use of the method, and they are so well recognised that few people ever desire to ring it. As well ring Grandsire Minor-it serves an equally good purpose to take the beginner from Doubles to Triples; but nobody does from the point of view of progress.

If, as our correspondent says, the step from Grandsire to Stedman is too much, there are other and more interesting things which can be rung instead of Bob Triples. Indeed, we could wish that many bands, who practise Grandsire entirely, would turn thejr attention to some of those methods published by the Central Council in their 'Collection of Triples Methods.' This book has been prepared specially for such ringers and provides them with material which should add to their interest in ringing as well as their competency in the art. There are several good methods which would be found quite easy for a Grandsire band of average ability and one of the most surprising things is that there is not more variety introduced into Triples ringing. Last year there were i63 peals of Grandsire Triples rung, but only 16 in other plain methods. Oxford Bob seems to be gaining a little ground, for nine of the sixteen were in that method-but out of the total there were only two peals of Plain Bob. Variety in pure Triples methods is, of course, much more limited than in Major or even Minor, but the best use is certainly not made of such scope as there is. The same complaint can be made of the practice of plain Major (Continued on page 546.)

methods. Double Norwich and Plain Bob last year accounted for 213 peals, but only 22 were rung in other plain methods, mostly Little Bob and St. Clement's, when there are scores, opening up a wide field, which might be practised.

A SOMERSET WEEK.

TWENTY TOWERS VISITED.
The following peals were rung duving a week's holiday at Wrington. Four other attempts were made which proved unsuccesflul. In all, 20 towers, mostly with six bells, were visited, and as a great many were rung from the ground floor, Gunon Coleridge was able to join in a good den of the ringilg. At Worle he rang the treble to 720 Bob Mivor. At Binerar the party were entertained to tea by the Rev. W. M. K Warven, Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, and Mrs. Warren, and to them, and the varions incumbents who gave permission for the use of their bells, the party tender their grateful thanks,

PEAL NOTES.

INTERESTIVG DETAILS

A Freemasons" peal of Stedman Caters was rung at Wimborne Minster, on Saturday week, as a welcome to the vew Bishop of Salisbung, Dr. Neville Lovett, who was recently transferred from the See of Portsmouth. A previous aitempt far the peal came to grief.
The report of a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Weaton, Bath, has been sent without the date.
While on holiday in Lancaslire, the Rev. C. C. Cox, Vicar of Lyme Tegis, Dorset, rang two peals. The first, which was arranged for him, was Cambridge Surprise rung at Whalley, and the second Double Norwith at Chuxchkirk, which was his one lundredth peal.

The weight of the tenor at March, Cambs, on which the first peal since their restoration in 1929 was rung on August 7th, is 15 cwt 2 qr . 18 lh , in E . In the peal report sent us it was given at $16 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt., but tio correction arrived too late to be made last week.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, rung at Bovey Tracey on August 11th, was arrauged for Miss T. Wyman and Mr. Oliver Sippetts, who were spendine a holiday in 'glorious Devon.'
All odd 240 changes in four spliced methods was added at the end of seven 720's rung at Sandal, Yorkshire, on Sunday, August 8th. It, of course, connts as a peal of 5,280 , but if a band ringing Doubles added nn odd touch in the same way, the oddment would not countunder the receat moling of the Central Council.
Pour riugers taking part in a peat for the Northin Notts Association on Anerst 12th at Barnby-in-tne-Willows rang theif first peal in 14 methods.
A peal in six methods of Minor was rung with tise bells helf-muffed at Willeshoreugh, Kent, on Saturday, as a token of respect to a much esteemed parishioner, Mrs. Garner, headmistress of the infant school of the viliage for 32 years and a member of the Parochial Church Conncil. It was the first peal in six methods by all the band and believed to be the first in the district by an entirely local company.
Mr. Leslie Thrift, of Chadwell Heath, rang his first peal of Stecman on Saturday. It was Cinques! Not often does a ringer begin his peals of Stedman on this number'. The peat was rung by the Cumberland Youthe at Shoreditch, facl afterwards congratulations were ex tended to Mr. Tom Bevan, senior steward of the society, upon his silver wedding, which he celebrated on Alugist 11 th.
In March two trebles were added by Messrs. Gillett and Jolnston to complete the octave at All Suints' Church, Okehampton, Devor The first peal on the bells was rung on Saturday.
Wheatley Surprise, of which the first peal was rung at Erith on Saturday, is another methorl by Mr. E. W. Tipler and the composition is by Mr. A. G. Driver. The band wish to couple with the peal the name of Mr. F. A. BarDett, who was in the two previous attempts. Mr. D. M. Sharp filled his place.
This is the third Surprise method rung to a peal for the firgt time at St. John the Baptist's Church, viz., Erith, Lessness and Wheatleg. The peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung at Ipswich on August 14 th was a birthday complincnt to the mother of the ringer of the 11th. As Mr. Symonds lias beer ringing nearly 51 years, one car almost guess the age of his mother, although she is younger than the veberan Robert H. Brundle.
It was Mr. Symonds one hundredth peal in the tower. These peals include some notible first performances.
The first handbell peal by the North Wales Association was zung on Sumflay, seven 720's of Bob Minor heing rung at Mold, Flintshive. Wait also the first landbell peal in Wales?
Mr. E. W. Tipler, of Lutterworth, who has produced many new Sincprise methode, in ringing his first peal of Stedman Triples as con ductor, "completed the circla' at Gilmorton Church, Letcestershire on Sunday.
Mr: Robert Matthews, who took part in the peal of Bob Maximus at Kidderminster, recorded last week, had prevously rung a peal in the melhod. His name should lave been included in our note with those of Messis. Shorf and Bass as the only ones in tho band who had previously rung a peal of 'Plain Pwelve,'

Five towers were represented in the buad who rang a peal of Sted man Triples at Monks Kirby, Warwickshire, on August 11th. The ringers of treble and 2 were from Leicester, of 3,4 and tenor from Lutherworth, 5 from Croft, 6 from Hinckley, 7 from Burbage.

WORCESTERSHIRE RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING.

The rolden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Knowles has been cele brated by a peal at Madresficla, at the church where they wele married ort August 11tli, 1887, and whers Mr. Knowles bas been is ringer since 1881.

Mr. Knowles was for several veavs hon, secretary of the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Association and, later, Master. He has also been a representative of the associstion on the Central Council.

Mr. Koawles liss spent much time in instructing beginners and holp ing striggling bands, and has done much towards raising the standard of ringing in the district.
Congratulations and good wislies have been extended by many friends to Mr. and Mrs. Knowles, who lost two sons in the Great War, and have four daughters and two grandehildren tiving.

5,000 TREBLE BOB ROYAL

A COMPOSITION WITH SPEOLAL FEATURES FROM OVERSEAS. Remarkable Coincidence.
Mr. Carnelius Charge, formerly of the Metropalitan Police, who has for some years been residing in Auckland, New Zealand, has sent the following composition of 5,000 of Treble Bob Royal. In forwarding it, Le asked if a peal with the same qualities has been published bofore, viz., the 6th its extent at home, all combinations of $4-5-6$ in 5-6, the $2 n d$ and 3 rd never in 6th's, the 2nd only one collse-eud in 5th's, and an even 5,000 , without a bob affecting the position of the foul back bells.

These figures reached us a fortnight amo. Last Monday identically tire same composition was sent to is by Mr. Nolan Goiden, who had salso produced it and called it at Wisbech on August 12th. Fe, of courge, innew notibing about the existence of the figures by Mi. Charge. It is interesting to compare his description with that given above.
*The first peal of Treble Ten rung in the minimum number of changes containing all combinations of 4-5-6 in 5-6 and the 6 th the extent home, with the end one course only in fifh's and calls only at MI. W. and E., is the way Mr. Golden describes it.

CLOCK HAMMER STOPS PEAL.

An attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples at SS. Mary and Cuthlett's Church, Chester-le Sitrcet, on August 11 th, came to an end after an hour and a half's ringing through the clock hammer coming in contact with the tenor. The ringers were J. E. Scott 1, T. F. Preston 2, Kiss M. A. P. Bertie 3, S. Patterson 4, A. Cook 5, W. Sheraton 6, K. Arthur (condrector) 7, J. Scott 8.

NEW BAND'S PROGRESS.

Poar members of the recenily-formed band at All Saints' Guurch, Jivehington, rang their first 518 Grandsire 'riples on August 11th:
 5. F. Reoves 6, #. #incksley 7, F. Fimis 8. * Longest touch.

THME TABLE GETS OUT OF HAND.

On a recent Saturday, the rimgers of Leatherhead Parish Church, Surrey, with friends from Aghtead, Ewell and Cohham, to the number of 15 , made an enjoyable motor-coach tour into Hampshise. Av early start ennbled the first place of call, East Mean, to be veathed seon after 9.30. Fera touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major and a course of Gambridge Surprise were rung. Then on to North Stoneham, where they met their old friund Mr. George Williams, who was waiting to welcome them. At a second attempt tonch of Grandsire Caters was brought round on this merry little riug of teu. Although the front bells are of little weight, it was found they were no playthings, but had to be rung. Next a short tonch of Grandsire Triples and, to finish, a caurse of London Surprise, with George and one of his "bays " standing in. St. Mary's, Southampton, was next visited, atd Graudsire Triples and Caters and three leads of Treble Ton worn rung on this grand peal. Binner, the next item, was, as msual, brought round without any false starts, but after this the time table got aut of haud a bit. Some of the party went on a wild goose chase and fonnd an "Aviary"; at least that was their explanation when they left for Hursley nearly half an hour late. On arrival they found a uice xing of bells already up. A touch exch of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples and a half-consse of Cambridge were enjoyed before going on to Twyford still belind echedula time. Hers they wero met by a one time Ashtead ringer, Mu. Efarry Wilkinson, After a touch each of Oxford Bab Triples and Double Norwich, it was decided to move on and try and make np lerway. However, on reaching Alresford they were still 30 minutes adrift. Mr. Newnham, an old Leatherhead ringer of 40 jears ago, was waiting patiently for the visitors. This was the first tower of the day where the bells were down, and it gave an opportunity of raising the back six in peal. A touch each of Grandgire and Stedman I'riples, Plain Bob, Kent and Double Norwich Mnjor Fere brought round and the back six lowered in peal. A meat tea and a chat with Mr. Newnlam ocoupied the next haur, after which the party left for their last port of call the Jolly Farmer at Pultenham. Here legs were stretched (and pulled) and elbows exercised in the usual ringers' manner for 40 mimutes or so while the engine cooled. Theu as tho shades of aight were falliug fast (yes, wery fast), the last 16 miles were safely accomplished and Leatherhead was reached soon after 10 p.m. after a happy and successful day. Ihough the medium of "Tlie Thinging Warld' the ringers wish to express their thanles to the parious elergy and ringing friouds who lielped to make this possible.

A BADGE FOR IDENTIFICATION.

To the Editor.

Sir, -Witll regard to, the 'mecting at Scarborough,' I have often thought it would be an advantage to ringers in their travels if the Central Council issued a small oficial badge, preferably in the shape of a bell, to be worn in the buttonhole, and, therefore, easily recognisable by a brother ringer, although I was greatly surprised to read that two ringers were in each other's company for a whole evening and during the courge of their conversation the subject of bells antil ringitg did not crop up.

THE SOMERSET TOUR

A DISCLAIMER.

'Twas not that we were speeding within a built-up part,
'Twas wrong to say our brakes were weak, for wo tried them at the start.
Our number plates were also clean, and cars quite spick and spau, For, being most particular, we clean whene'er we can
"Tis true our names were taken, and what nanes they weve, by jove! 'Twas Jack, and Frank, and, let mo see-who was the other cove? Methinks it was a Pilni Star, her uame may not be guessed,
But you can see her on the films, if you take a jaunt up West. "Twas early in the morming, so we reanly felt quite fine,
But having halted at the "Halt, we failed to toe the 'line."
Tho policeman said: Your guide was good, ho stopped where all good divivers should.
'Tis true we argued with the "Cops, but whatever good wos that,
Their minds were definitely made up to have us on the mat.
'And so to Court,' they said, 'you go,' whicl brought a smile from leader Joe.
For Court was fixed to be in Wells-a chance for peal upon those bells. We passed the luat to raise the fine for jumping o'er that nice(?) white fire.
But e'er we'd raised the thirty bob, the 'beak' refused to take the job. Our copy books were sent sti'aight back, 'You're warned!' they said, So thet is that.

DEATH OF A HILLINGDON RINGER.

The death occured on Monday, August 2nd, of Mr. J. H. Lucas, who had been a member of St. Andrew's tower, Hillingdon West, Middlesex, for nearly 14 years. He regularly attended Sunday service ringing and brancin meetings until about two years ago, when he gave up through illuess. He was not a great peal ringer, buk lad rung 38 in the standard methods.
The funcral took place on Friday, August 6 th, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled: A. Bray 1, P. Jones 2, E. Haucox 3, S. Childs 4, F. Bolton 5, F. Corke (couductor) 6, R. Carter 7, G. Nicholls 8.
Deceased, who was 57 years of age, leaves a widow and two sons in bereavement. Mr. Lucas' peals were: Minor in 3 methods 2, in 2 methods 1, Grandsire Donbles 1 , Grandsire Triples 8, Grandsire Caters 2, Bob Minor 3, Bob Major 2, Kent Treble Bob Minor 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Stedman Triples 15, Oxford Bob Triples 2, total 38.

COMPLIMENT TO BELL DONORS

In honour of Mr. J. and Mrs. A. Hatt, donors of the bells at Tetsworth Church, on the occasion of their visit to the parish on August 13th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles by the Sunday service ringers: J. Stone $1_{3}$ R. Lindars 2, A. Peasley 3, J. Hedges 4, W. Gibbard (couductor) 5, F. Smiti 6. First quarter-peal by all except the conductor and his first quarter-peal as conductor.

LONDON BELLS BEFORE THE GREAT FIRE

HOW THEIR NUNBERS INCREASED

By J. Armiger 'Trollope.
One of my tasks in writing my 'History ' was to find out, if I could, how many ringing peals there were in London before the Great Fire of 1666, and especially how many bells there were at St . Michael, Paternoster Royal, and St. Martin-in-the-Vintry, where, we are told, the College Youths first practised.
It is usually assumed that the only sources of information are Stow's 'Survey of London' 'and its various continuations, and such of the parish accounts as have survived, none of which tells us very much. But Mr. C. T. Flower, the secretary of the Public Record Office, very kincly made some investigations for me among State papers and afterwards put me in the way of making others myself. As a result I have found out that there were in London in olden times very many more bells than 5 usually supposed.
In 1552 and 1553 inventories were made of the goods, ornaments and bells of all the parish churches throughout England and Wales. Many of these inventories still exist, those for some countics (Norfolk and Surrey, for example) being practically complete. In London at the time there were 105 parish churches and there are inventories for 95 . But nine of them are mutilated and tell us nothing about the bells.
In the remaining 86 churches there were two rings of six, 34 of five, 25 of four and 21 of three. All of them lad, in addition, a saunce or sanctus bell. St. Margaret, Pattens, is the only one that possessed a single bell, and that was because the steeple was being rebuilt when it was stopped by a dreadful fire which destroyed many of the houses in the parish and caused the death of nine persons. All Hallows, Lombard Street, had but two (one of them a saunce bell). A parishioner had bought the bells of the dissolved priory of St. John-at-Clerkenwell for the steeple, but he died and his son and heir refused to complete the gift. St. Pancras, Soper Lane, also had but two. but that was a tiny church.
In addition, there were rings of five at St. Paul's Cathedral and the Conventual Church of St. Martin-leGrand. Soon after ${ }^{5} 553$, however, both these rings were destroyed. St. Martin's was broken up and sold, and St. Paul's perished by fire in 156 I. The five at St. Anne and St. Agnes were also clestroyed by fire. But all the rest were not only preserved and well looked after between ${ }^{1552}$ and 1666 , but in many instances were augmented. All Hallows, Staining, four in $155^{2}$, were made five: St. Andrew, Holborn, were increased in ${ }_{1} 578$ from four to eight: St. Alohage, London Wall, from three to six; St. Andrew, Undersliaft, from four to six; St. Botolph, Aldersgate, from three to five; St. Botolph, Bishopsgate, from three to six; St. Christopher, Stocks, from five to six; St. Giles, Cripplegate, from five to six; St. Mary-le-Bow, from five to ten; St. Michael, Cornhill, from six to eight; St. Olave, Hart Street. from four to six; and All Hallows, London Wall, from four to six.

Probably there were other rings which were augmented, for a man left money for the thells of All Hallows, Bread Street, to be rung on certain occasions, and they were only four in $155^{2}$. All Hallows, Barking, too, for which there is no invertory, were made six in 1659 , and

St. Bartholomew by the Exchange, of which the inventory is defective, were five at the end of the $16 \mathrm{th}_{3}$ century.

At St. Martin-in-the-Vintry there were ' V bells of on accord and a lesser bell.' Neither the inventory nor any parish accounts of St. Michael, Paternoster Royal, survive, and we shall never know what bells were there before the fire, but judging by comparison with other churches of a like importance, we may say that probably it had a ring of five.
The inventories for the Westminster churches have not survived, but we know from other sources that in the early 17 th century St. Martin-in-the-Fields had five bells, the Abbey six, and St. Margaret's six. At St. Saviour's, Southwark, there was a beavy ring of six in ${ }^{1552}$, increased to eight in the $\mathrm{r}_{j}^{\text {th }}$ century; St. Olave's hat five ; and Lambeth had five. St. Giles-in-the-Fields had three in 1552 and six in 1635 .
All these bells were hung for ringing and were rung regularly, even the little threes in what were scarcely more than turrets.
The old societies rang on three and four bells as well as on fives and sixes, and we know from extant rules that it was their custon to go about from belfry to belfry, as fancy or convenience dictated; so that they had pretty nearly a hundred towers within walking distance to chose from.
The College Youths, in this respect, were not different from other societies. They were not specially connected with any one City church, and there is not a scrap of evidence to show that they hacl anything to do with any church on College Hill, even if there was a ringing peal there. In any case, the oft-quoted statement of Shipway that they rang Stedman's Principle at a church on College Hill cannot be true. The Principle was not composed until shortly before $167 \%$ and all the bells at St. Nichael, Paternoster Royal, and St. Martin-in-thc-Vintry perished in the fire of 1666.

BOB TRIPLES.

Ta the Edifot.

Dear Sir, - Thaxe read your reply to my letter re flie peal of Bofy Triples at Gimulisbutrgh, and I am sery to note your remarks are again very yagıe.

Apparentily Yon do not consider Boln Triples serves a part in "the advancement of the art of change ringing, and that is where we disagree.
I am well nware that Boh Triples is greatly alespined, experinily in this part of the conntry, and it is manly due ta this fact that I frol inclined to give an opinion in frvonr of the methot. Bob Triples is rarely, if aver, practised in this nistrict, which may explain to $a$ eermin extent the difficulty one exneriences in finding of tower where a luand can ring anything of her than Grandsive.

Do not misumdersfand me. Grandsize is a pood old-fnshioned and simple method, and ountains greater musical qualities than Bols Triples. But what a great percentage of our ringing friends who never advance further than Grandsire. the method they were first tallght! Pou, yonrealf. have deplored thet fact only recently, and lane more or jess considerod the problem innsolved. A puzale is macie to he solved hy the application of a little thonght and rearranging, and that is wheres Bob Triples comes in.

I strongly anaintain that if hegimers are fisst of all tamplatio Plain Boh method on fons or five bells, they will in a surprisingly short time master Boh Major. The point I arm endeavonring to make understandahse is that Bob Triples is a valunble stepping stame in tho elementary comse of a Foung ringer and should be encouraged. In other words, the stages from Plain Bob four on five bells to Boh Major and then to Treble Bob is much more simple than placing a beginner, with only rounds experience, to an 'inside' bell in Firandsire Triples, ultimately expecting him to conquer Stedman Triples as the next method.
The stepping stage is too great and oniv a fow reanh it, and the tower is left with a band of a few insiders to Grindsire and the remninder tenormen, neither of whom has a further desire for advancement.
Staines, Middeger.

COMPETITIVE RINGING

ITS DRAWBaCKS AND A POSSIBle Way OUT

To the Editor

Dear Sir, With regard to your leader of August 13th, putting on one side the Church as distinct from the secular side of campetitive ringing, there is a good deal in what you say, but there are some points which never are considered except amongst those who live in a competitive country and sce them daily,
'Ille first result of competitive riugiug is undoubtedly to improve the standard of the method rung, be it rounds or anyting else. It is a questian as to whether this improvement (very temporary as will be seen) is worth the expenge.
The second result, simultaneous with the first, is, in my experience, a complete selfishness on the part of a few riugers, resilting in loss of all progress aud a fimal break up of the bana. It stands to reason that, if you are going co bave a competition, you must practise for that competition and that alone, if you are to do any good. The result is thats six or eight ringers, accordiug to the number of bells, constituts themselves 'the ringers, par excelince,' take up the whole of the practice time and discourage others Erom joining. If there are any obher ringers they soon get disgruntled and leave and no one takes their place. One of the regulars dies or leapes the district, and the remainder, being used to pertect ringing, will not readily ring with a new man, who bas to be tauglit from whe beginning, or evers with ons of the band not in the elique, and the band brenks up.
I can show jou dozens of such cases in a Round Riuging Country, and it appears at least possible that the same would happen in change ringing.
As to progress, the same applies. If fou are to hare any chance of a first place in the emmpetition, yon liave no time for the practice of new methode. The prize ringing towers, which realy count, in a Round Ringing Country do not ever practise call changes.

Finally, such competitions discournge conductors and encourge the one conductor tower. It is possible that a very thorough orgamisation, by giving points for the uumber of conductors, number of ringers, and ehanging ringers around on different bells (most important of all), may get rid of these disadvantages. But they must be considered before any action is taken.
Crmek ringers may be inclined not to theat the ahove very seriously; but it is not the cracks who will he takitg part. For the rest I would wanl them that the path of the competitive ringer is far from being a smooth one.
Now one word as to the church side. Competition will never and should never receive any encourngement from the Ghuroh. If soma such scheme as you outhine should, therefore, ever materialise, I wonld most strongly urge something which would have the same effeet without the stigma of competition
Such a scheme has been devised by a ringing association which is now atfiliatorl to its diocesan guild. The finging is jueged as is 'prize rincing, but no marks are issued. First, second and tiritrd elass certificates aro jssued according to a standard in the bants of the judges, and as ringing improves so these standends become higher. The whole of the entries or none maj, therefore, receive a first class.
It has provel very successful and it 15 hoped that advance in method ringing may ho obtained later by having difecent classes. If this comes about jk will have achieved a great object in combining all ingerg into one brotherlood. But two thangs remain to be seen:-
(1) Whether it conld survire an ultimate change of leadership,
(2) Whelher the good of the show will trinmph over the natural selfishess of the average ringer (I class myself in this, so no one zeed be hurtly
The ahove scheme is, I think, a good one when the proposal is to combine, in one associntion, the competilive and non-competitive inger, but $I$ an firmly convinced that where it is merely a case of improving striking within an associntion (inoportant as this is), any form of test shonid be avoided liks the devit.

TENDER HANDS

WHAT IS TEE BEST REMIEDY?

The jnquiry of a correspondent whose tender hands suffer when he indulges in ringtur has brought the following suggestions, which may be usefyl to other of our readers who "blister.
Mr. W. B. Kynaston (Bwindon) says he finds surgical spirit (bought from the chemist's) a good preventive; also a reeredial agent,
A wasl leather 'end for the rope is advacated by Mr. F. D. Hartis (Wobura). He says : I think your correspondent will find that by far the most effective way to prevent blistering of the fingers is to obtain a phece of wasli leafher', about 10 to 12 inches long avd 2 inches or so wide, and make it inta a tulae by meaty stitehing the sides tagether the whole leagth so that it will slip over the tail end, which then forms a miniature sally. Two small holes should be made at either end, sufficient to pass a piece of biread throngh, so that it can be tied to the rope to prevent slipping. Ho can, of course, carry it about with him in his pocket wherever he goes to riag, as it only takes a few minutes to adjust.
Mrs. E. (a ringer writes: Re the courespondent who akk what is the best fhing to use on tender hanis to keep buem from blistering when ringing, I suggest that lie (or she) tries doing a few months of honsework, at the end of which his lands will probably be nicely hardened.

'A HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.'

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

To be published in September by 'The Ringing World'

This new contribution to the literature of bell ringing will be found to be volume of engrossing interest. It is based on new material brought to light by the author's own researches, and it is by fir the most exhaustive higtory of the Sooiety yet presented to the public.

As the Sooiety goes back almost to the beginnings of change ringing, the development of the art has been coincidental with the life of the College Youths. The guthor's story, therefore, contrins much of the history of the first two centuries of ringing, os well as of the Society itself. Distant events are reconstructed from a skilful analy is of old documents; men who, until now, have existeã for later generatipns onfy in name, beoome once again personalities of interest.

This volume, coming in the tercentenary year of the Ancient Society, should he doubly welcome to the members, and will prove full of interest to every ringer.

It is to be illustrated by reproductions of old prints, and drawings of numerous London churches. Bound in clotin coverg, the book will he publishad at 5/- (postage and packing 6d. extra). Obtainable only by direct application to 'The Ringing World," Lower Pyrford Road, Woking.

SPECIAL OFFER

TO SUBSCRIBERS, whose orders, with remittanoe, are sent direct to 'The Ringing Worid.' BEFORE SEPTEMBER 18th, the volume is offered at the REDUCED PRICE OF 4/- (plus 6d. for postage and packing).

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Eastern Division of the Sussex County Association was leld at Batile on Saturduy, August Tht over 30 members attending from Brighton (Sb. Nicholas'), Eastbourne (St. Mary's, St. Saviour's and Christ Chemely, Mayfield, Uckfiela, Heathfield, Brede, Hawhhurst (Kent), Sutton (Surrey), as well as Mr. Haig of Etchinglam, and members of the Battle company. A slort service was held, atnd Mr. W. D. Smith presided at the tea and business meting which followed.
The election of the following life members wrs confirmed: Negsrs. Emest Bishop and Stanley Litheridge, of Hawkhurgt, and A. P. Ganron, of Londonr. Messis. Jahin Downing and Jack Pennells, of Hastings, were elected members.
A Tote of thanks was proposed by the divisional secretary (Mr. A. O. Panklurst) to the Dean far the use of the bells, and to Mr. Sinden for making arrangemonts for the meeting.
The members then returned to the tower, and, in spite of the hot weather, the bells were liept going until 8 o'clock.

GLORIOUS DEVON.

Hartland's wowdrous ohurch

On Saturday, August 7th, the ringers of the Thorverton band held their annual outing. The party made its first hatt at Okehampton, where the new peal by Gillett and Jolnnston responded to tonches of Triples. The only 'grouse' was the ascent of the loug path to the chureb.
Tha rin to Great Torringtou was parbiciarly admired by the Indies of the party, and the views of Dxmoor away north and the receding mospect of the Tors of Dartmoor provided something to think about. Who could not admire the deep vale of the Torridge as it half encircles Groat Torrington?
The little market town, midst its commons on the hill, has a fine chureh (deslioyed by gunpowder in 1545 and rebuilt in 1653) and spira, while its bells gave plensure in every way. After singing the party had luncleon in the 17th century inu in the square. of course, ho baskets were mell packed. The journey was continned by way of Torridge valley to Biderond and Haviland. Hastland Point, where the grey seas glitter and the sharp tides shift,' was the limit of tha tour. Time, however, prevented bue party fromr reaching the Puint

ST. NEGTAN'S CHURCH, HARTLAND, With the tallest tower in Devon.

Hartland has a wondrous churcht, much as it was in the late 14th ontury, wheo its builders set up a glorious rood screen and erected tailest tower in the county of Devon. They preserved a beatifully ed Norman font, and in the parvice over the north doorway may cen many relics of histome Harton. The tower is 126ft. high and Fandmark for ships entering the Bideford Bay. But Haxtoli bells, dist by the firm of Taylor. when located at Buckland Brewer in 1826, riouited a man's job. They rum 'trather way, the tenor is a ton and they go hard. Their tones reminded the ringers of the waves noming by the Bar. But the fresh breezes direct from the Atiautic, Whe panorama of the Bay even to Baggy Point, and tho distant prospect Dartmoor, gave something to be remembered.
The road runs high from Harton to Bideford, and the Leigls and rreurilles of the past went that way to Stowe down in Cornwall. A diversion throngh Abbotsham gave the ringers a near view of Westvard Ho. They glimpsed the Pebble Ridge and the white flecks of the erested waves lapping the boulders; they thonght of Kipling and Stalky and Co., nor did they forget 'Ayacauora' aud 'Amyas cirgh' in Kingsley's "Westward Ho!'
Bideford was reached by $5 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and when it is stated that the tide Wis up, there is convincing evideuce of the glory of 'the little white own on the Torvidge.' And Biclefond bells (a Taylor peal, 1929) were fplendid in every way and led to expressious such as ' I'd like to ring (Continued in next column.)

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION WELCOME TO CELEBRATED COMPOSER

The storm mirght have completely washed out a meeting of the North and East District of the Midelesex Caunty Association aud London Diogesin Guild, held ab Witlesden on Sathixhay last. That it did not do so was to the eredit of the ringera who attended, who were repaid for their enthusiasm by enjoying some good ringing in good company, and participating in a good ten

It was regretted that the absence on holiday of the Vicar (Rev. G. H. Perry) prevented the usual servico being held, although this gave a littile more time for a chat after tea and come handbell ringing
At the business meeting 3ill. G. W, Fletcher (vice-president) took the chair. The prowisional elections to membership of three ringers werg confimed, monst these being Mr. Abert J. Pitnan, of Port Talbot, who was present at the meetins. Mr. C. T. Coles (hon, secretary) said that Mr. Pitmen was provisionally elected in that tower on the previaus Tuesday. It was fiting that he should become a member of this association at Willesden, which was the tower at which the first of his many woncerful peals of Spliced Surprise Major was rung, one in ten meilods, and which was followed by seperal others it different numbers of methods. Mr. Coles added that although Mr Pitman was disappointed at losing his peal at Willesden, he was gha to say that one attempted at St. Gcorge's, Soublhwark, on Thursdry was successful, and Mr. Pitman rang his first Surprige peal
Mr. Pimman acknowledged bis election by thanking Mr, F. C. Turner nud Mr. Coles for arranging ringing for him, end expressed his pleasure at spending such an enjoyable holiday amongst Middlescx ringers.

Finchley was chosen for the next meoting on September 18th, if available, the special method to be London Bob, No. 6 in the O.C collection of Plain Minor mefthods.
Mr. J. A. Trollope called attention to the notice in "The Ringing World ' advertising the book to be issued next month, 'A History of the College Youths.' This, he said, was being pubtished by Mr. Goldsmith, who was undertaking all financial risk in comnection with it. Of course, he, Mr. Trollope, was hoping that the book would sell well, he did not deny that, but he was aso very anxious that Mr. Goldsmith should not incur financial loss, and he, therefore, asked everybody presont to send in their orders early, and to push the sales of the book to their numost. It was not necessary to be a member of t.1e College Youths to be interested - the book was mole that a sonvenir-it was a serioug ablempt to write up a history of change ringing, of people who were just as much the atcestors of all of us as they were of the members of one society.
Mr. Fleteher urged early purchase, saying 'Do it now!'
The hon. secretary reminded members that 'to-day, August 14th, the birthday of that great ringer, William Pye, and he asked all present to show respect to his memory by standing in silence for a few moments.-This was accordingly done.

The Chairmala proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing the meeting to be held, and added that Mr. Perry had expressed his regrets at lis absence on holiday.

Thanks ware also accorded to Mr. H. Kilby, also on holiday. and Mr 'I. T. Leek for arrangmg the meeting, and to Miss K. M. Bradiord Miss Wright and members of the Guild of St. Satherine for preparing an onjoyable tea.
Centual Coumej publieations went very well, and the holl. secretary almost sald ont his stock.

An attempt for Edmonton But on handbells was *only mearly successful, and Donble Norwich was rumg insteac.

In the tower most of the staudard methods from Grandsire to Lundon Surprise were rung, and two or thee touches of Edmonton Bob the special method for the meeting, were suecessfully braught ronnd.

FIRST QUARTER-PEALS.

T.ONDON, - On Suhde, Aumst 8th, for cromg service at the Church of the Immanuel, Streatham, S.W , a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: Miss O. L. $\Delta$ shisook 1, T. H. Taffender 2, E. J. Kiry (condhetor 3, E. L. Miles $4, P, A$. Corby (first quarter-peal in the nethod) 5, A. P. Cannon 6, F. E. Darby 7, F. Hopgood 8.

WILLESDEN.-At the Church of St. Mary on Mondey, August 9th a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major: Miss 1र. M Bradford 1, C. E. Lankester 2, G. M. Kilby 3, W. G. Turner (arst quarter-peal in the method) 4, J. F. Riding 5, E. B. Fartiey 6, H Kilby 7, T. J. Lock (conductor) 8 .
Apeal here. Rhaging done, Friendships provided an excellent ten soa sony (qrancson) Rinler appeared rather collcerned shont his half-ewown. But he cof it all right and thorourhly enjoped himself amongst the boats, white the party found diversion in the shipping achivities near the ancient long bridge.
The relurn journey through Banstaple and the Taw Valley will be remembered even in duil November. The waters above the Bideford Bar were as peaceful an a lake as the great red sum dipped aver the ocean beyond. All were indebted to Mr. Ridler and his fientenants, Messrs. Cory, Miliond, treasurer, and Pook, timekeeper. He calls him self 'Marshal,' perhaps it's his joke. Mr: Ricller has, for something Eitre lalf a century, trained young hands in the art of abange ringing Fe is over eighty and it seems wonderful to say that he took part in most of the touches rung during the day. Fut his moto is 'Doing what we onglit, we desire $n o$ praise.

FOR BEGINNERS.

COURSLNG ORDFR IN KENT TREBLE BOB.
The coursing order of the hells in Treble Bols can be followed with as much ease as that of Plain Bob. The essential difference is that tha bell in the 'Slow' work (described a fortnight ago) is taken out of the coursing for the timo being. In Kent Treble Bob the treble meets the hells in the order 2.4.6.5.3, as it does at the beginning of Plain Bob, but instead of hutting back through them in the sime order, 2, hayime to remain in the slow, is missing, and in zetracing its steps the treble meets the bolls in tho order 4.6.5.3 and then picks up 2 on the front. Next time, 4 goes in Slow and the order out is 4.6.5.3.2 and back 6.5.3.2.4
if you are ringing one of the working belle you maiutain the same cycle of coursing, but substitute the ireble for whicherer bell is in the Slow. Thus in the first lead of the plain course the cycle js 1.4.5.5.3 (2 heing in the Slow), in the next lead 2.1.6.5.3 (4 being in the Slow), in the next 2.4.I.5.3 ( 6 being in the Slow), and so ous. Or, beginning always with the treble, 1.4.6.5.3: 1.6.5.3.2; 1.5.3.2.4, ete.
When a boh is called, tho hell immediately in front of the treble makes the boh' and is turned in its coursing order so that it follows immediately ufter the treble. Thms if the bells are coursing 1.4.6.5.3 (l, etc.) in the first lead and a bols is called, the coursing order hecomes 1.3.6.5.2 in the mext lead, anal then 1.6.5.2.4 if a plain lead follows, or 1.2.6.5. 4 if there is another bob
If wou are ringing on more bells than six, the coursing order follows the same riles. When yon ring the method on eight you merely put 8.7 every time between 6 and 5 ; and if you go to ten you put 8.0.9.7 in that owler hetween 6 and 5.
A knowledge of coursing is, of course, essential to the suecessiul conductor. 甜e must not only, be able to 'rend' it from the bells themsclues, as lue goes alour, hut fre must he able to anticipate it; that is to say he should know before he calls a bob exactly what clange will take place in the sequence of the bells.
Suppose he is calling Treble Boh Minor. He knows that the hob will hnve no effect on the bells yoing fnto and coming out of the 'Slow' work, that one bell is going to make 4th's and return to lead; while the others stop for the extra double dodging.
The three beils round the treble transpose their places thus: The one belind the treble gees inta the Slow; the one from the Slow takes its place in front of the treble; while the one that lad preFionsly heen immediately in front of the treble, having mede the bob, hecomes the one immediately behind it. While this was goirg on, the rost of the lsells had been delayed and they fall into position belind the bell that made the hoh in the same order as before the cafl, whether it be two bells in Minor, the four in Major, and so on to the higher numbers
The ahility to see this con'sing order enahles the foung conductor tes call his tonches or peals from bells other than the ohservation bells; Fe can. for instance, tell wher to call the bobs at 'In' or ' Out ; when the tellou is the obserwation, althongh he way be minging any of the others. He can. in fact, call the observation bell into any postion required, by noting its position in the coursing order, and he will be able, with experience, to know where every bell should be each lead
We do not pretend that what we have said will onable the beginner to 'reaf, the bells riflit off at once. We have only endeavonred to show him what to look for when he is ringing, to help lim develop his powers of ohservation. Fe must, apply it when he is in the tower and make a study of it on paper at home

COMING-OF-AGE CELEBRATED.

For morning service on Sunday, August 8th, the local band at East Ilsley, Berks, met early and rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples to celebrate the coming-of-age of Miss Flsie Risien: W, Hibbert, sen, 1, Elsie Risien 2, Marjorie Pielत̈ 3, R. Warwick 4, Mrs. E. Sneller 5, E. Sneller 6, C. J. Hibbert (conductor') 7, F. Carter 8.
It was intended to ring another quarter-peal in the erening, but the Rector was called away on urgent husimess and evensong cancelled, so three of the 31sley people visited Reading and rang 503 Grandsire Caters for service at St. Lanrence's: Marjorie Field $1_{1}$ Mrs. O. J. Watts 2, $\mathrm{R}_{\text {. }}$ T. Hibbert (condnctor) 3 , W. Hibbert, sen. 4, C. J. Hibbert 5. H. Swith 6, E. Humfrey 7, C. Pallen 8, C, J. Whtts g, G. White 10. The ringers of both towers wish Miss Risien many more happy and prosperous years and more good peals. The tonch at Reading was Miss M. Ficld's first experience an ten belle.

DEATH OF MR. HERBERT W. NEEDHAM.  AN ORIGINAL MEMBER OF THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

It is with deepest regret we report the deabh of Herbert Whit Needham, formerly of Leicestev, which oceurred on Weduesda August 4th, at his son's residence at Coalville. Deceased, who was years of age, had a stroke some years ago, since when he had reti from actual ringing, and, leaving Leicester, lived with his other sou at Lulterworth. Nr. Neediam was horn at Barwell, but at an early agn went to Leicester, where he took up ringing before the adyent of tho Midland Connlies Association.
He was present at the first meeting held in St. Margaret's Sehools on January 13 th, 1883 , when the witle of the association was olanged from the Derby and District Association to the Midland Connties Association, and his name as a peal ringer appears under No, 17 the societies' performances at St. Saviour's, Leicester, Jume 5ih, 1883
Later Mr. Needham migrated to Full, rand rang lrequently will members of the Yorkshire Association in many towers of the distriet. Ther he returned to the Midiands and was in Nottingham for anmben of years. Eventually rethrning to Leicester, he attached himself St. Martin's company, and although nover a prolifie j?ea! rinқer, comld always be relied on at practices and for Sumday service ringing. When St. Martin's (now the Cathedral) campany essayed and rang many different Surprise Royal peals, 'old Herbert' was a source nf great help when any vacancies acourred at practices-and he filled thoso vacant places well and truly!

He was laid to rest in Litterworth Charchyard on Saturday August 7th. Besides the family mourners, mostr of Leicester Gathedral Foniety followed the cortege, as well as Mr. Ernest Morris (general hon. secretary, M.C.A.), Messrs. A. J. Haris and H. Perkims (elairman and local secretary, M.C.A.), Mr. J. H. Swinfeld (Burton), MI. J. B. Fenton (Rugby). Mr. R. Barrow (Belgrave) and othels. A wreath from the Catherlral Society bore the inscription:-

No more the distant temor sounds,
His life's full peal goes into rounds."
A course of Grandsire Caters was rumg over the grave by P. L Harrison 1-2, S. Cotton 3-4, F. J. Poole 5-6. E. Molyis 7-8. F. E. Wilson 9-10. Immediately afterwards a miffled neal of Stedman Triples was attempted at Lutterworth Parish Clurch, but unfortumately lost after ringing 2 bours.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

A NEW HISTORICAL WORK.

Announcements in 'The Ringing Worid' have informed readers of the forthcoming publication of an entirely new historical work, written by Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, whose contributions to the literature of ringing during the last forty years have stamped him as one of the ablest and most versatile writers in the Exercise. This book is on entirely fresh lines so far as our art and those connected with it are concerned, for it deals at length with the story of the College Youths, particularly in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, during is period when the foundations of change ringing were b-ing laid. Although the work was lirst undertaken a good many years ago, without any anticipation of the event which will be celebrated next November, it is certainly appropriate that the book should appear in this tercentenary year of the society.

Peal boards and peal books have handed down to us for over two hundred years details of many of the notable performances which have marked the evolution and progress of the art of change ringing, and from time to time much of this material has been presented to the pullic in various forms. We know a considerable amount about what laas been done, but what we have not known, or known only to a very limited degree, is anything about the men of bygone tines who took part in these performances. Their names have been left to us but little else that could help us to know something: of the manner of these ringers, of one, two or three centuries ago. Only deep research, and a careful analytical examination of such material thus made available could hope to provide this generation with any knowledge of the personalities which dominated the Exercise in those distant times; and by a combination of the gifts. of patience and an 'infinite capacity for taking pains,' Mr. Troilope has succeeded in giving us, in this ? History of the College Youths,' a peep at the characters of the men to whom the art of ringing owed so much in it:s early days. We believe the thing which will strike the: reader of this book more than anything else is its revelation of the personalities, as shown by their recorderi actions, of the men who played a leading part in London ringing circles, particularly in the eighteenth century. Their achievements and their disagreements are brough into focus and the history is written in a manner that will mainain the reader's interest from begiming to end. It is not in any way a rehash of previously accepted beliefs, but an entirely new review of ail the known facts -many of them recently brought to light by Mr. Trollope from the recesses of the British Museum and the Public Records Office. It is true that some traditions are unseated in the light of newly revealed evidence, but that only makes the history the more valuable. It is a book, indeed, that would be welcomed by ringers at any time; it should prove doubly acceptable at the moment when the Ancient Society has reached the present interesting stage in its long carcer.

Sir, I musl disagree with you over Job Triples, and sumport my friend, Mr, C. W, Pipe, His phraso about so manj lowers ringing nothing but Grandsive lias the matiter in n nutsleell. Guandsire 'Iriples may be a "good old-fashioned meilood," but it is an absolutely ' blind alley' method, and leads nowhere in its extension. liver'y Major mothod las dodging in even places, Grandsire atud Stedunt oded places (as everyoue knows), and therefore to a comparative beginet of only average ability tho different dorlging place in Plair Boli wil semm a sirange stepping stone from hrandsire. Long before your lioh Triples comment I was of the opinion that if ringers were truglti on Hob Triples or (better still) Bob Major they would pwogress mueth quicker in methot ringing as Plain Bob is the basis of all even-bell ringing.
It is only a well-worn camention that Grandsire is the standard thro of erergone, and presumed to be the easjest. Eersonally, at the risk of appearing revolutionary, I shonld like to see Grandsire the a timely fleath as a begimerts method. The attorntive is Boh Triples or Bob 3ajor or Minor, but not Oxford Bob. ## COMPETITIVE RINGING

Ta the Editar.

Sir, - My atfention has boen called to a point in my letter last week which might be misunderstood. I referred to the difficulties of eny change of policy in a guild or association and, to jilustrate, remarked that I knew of a most successful case, but. 'it remains to bo seen whether it would survive a change of leadership.
In this I was speaking generally, with little thought of the association I had in mind, and certainly no thought that any change would be advantageous. I most sincerely hope that the leaders of That association may live for ever and continue to run it. My intention was a final warning that, in any chamge of policy, after the enthusiasts lad worked it all out and got it going, until it had time to set, it might quite easily be entirely wrecked by a change of leadership cansed by death, removal from the district or resignation.
C. I. J.

A YORKSHIRE CHALLENGE.

Dear Sir,-Your correspondent C. Ir. J., in his letter in your Iast issue, gives some hard knocks and bitter pills for some of our association ringers to swallow. His exposition on the failure of good hunds to hold together is common to all bands. The poet says there is no flock, however well teaded, but one dead lamb is there. This pity 'tis true. As president of the Barnsley and Dislriet Associnion, let me say we own a shicld which cost fi3. This is competed for annually. Prizes for domentic use are given, in addition, to the winners. The church does not give these prizes, yot there has never been closer association with the church and clergy of to-day. Tha path of the competitive ringer may not be easy, but it is worth tho gallant attempts duly made and often rewerded.
Our members demanded these rewards, and never is there dissatisfaction. Fair play is a British 'jewel, and ringers are straightforward, even to bluntriess.

I would suggest that G. F. J. bring a band into Yorkshire and enter a contest without roward, and a band worthy of their steel would meet them. It would denr some of the cobwebs out of the eyes of C. F. J.

THE BELLS OF ST. MICHAEL'S, CORNHILL HOW A REJECTED TENOR GOT TO THE ABBEY.

By $j$. Armiger Trollope.

The bells of St. Michael's, Cornhill, are one of the famous rings of London. In this article Mr. J. Armiger Trollope tells us of their early history, and explains how a bell, cast for St. Michael's, came to be the tenor of the peal at Westminster Abbey.
[n 142 I a new steeple was erected and in it was hung a 'fair ring of five bells,' which, according to custom, were dedicated to various saints. The tenor was called St. Michael; the fourth, the Lady bell; the third, the

THE FINE TOWER OF ST. MICHAEL'S, CORNHILL, as it appears to-day from the top of an adjacent building.
[Plioto by Mr. F. ©. Dewe.
Trinity bell. This ring evidently was tuned (as were many medieval rings) to the minor scale and about $143^{\circ}$ John Whitewell, Isabel, his wife, and William $\mathbb{R} u$ s added a tenor to make a ring of six in the major scale. Who cast the tenor we do not know, but she weighed somewhat over 30 cwt . and was a noble bell, the pride and treasure of the parish. She was named Rus, after her donor, who was an alderman and a great benefactor to the church.

In the inventory of 1552 , among the 'goodes remaynyug' in the church were 'vj greate belles and ij litle belles.' In the churchwardens' accounts there are references to these latter. In 1457 two shillings and fourpence was paid for 'two bawdricks for the two little bells,' and in 1460 'elevenpence for two ropes for the small finall bells.' One was the Sacring bell or, as it is termed in one place, the houseling beil, housel being an old English name for the Eucharist. It is also referred to as 'the little bell that ringeth alore the Sacrament.' This bell was hung inside the church. The other was the Saunce or Sanctus bell.

In nearly all London churches the Sanctus bell was in the steeple with the ringing peal, bul at St. Michael's it is probable that it hung in a cot above the chancel. 'l'lie Sacring bell disappeared during the spoliation at the time of the Reformation; the Sanclus bell remained, but it got broken, and in $15^{8} 5$ the vestry decided that 'ye broken Sauncebell shalbe solde and that anewe rome shalbe byllded ftor ye flagotts in ye churcheyarde.

Whoever made the frame and hung the sio bells did his work well and for nearly one hundred and sixty years Rus was rung single-handed, not only for curfew and knells but also in peal. At the time it was usual to put threc or four or even more ment to a bell of that weight.

In 1567 one of the bells was broken and Kobert Doddes was employed to recast it. Mr. H. B. Walters has suggested that Doddes was the predecessor of Robert Mot and the first in the long line of Whitechapel belfounders.

In 1585 the treble was broken and recast and two years later the parish suffered a disaster, for Rus, the noble tenor bell, was cracked. A founder named Laurence Wright was employed; but, whether through misfortune or incompetence, his work was badly done, and when the bell was hung it gave great dissatisfaction and generally ' was not liked of ' in the parish.

The churchwardens secm to have been undecided as to whether they should accept the bell and pay for it, and the matter was referred to the vestry. In the end it was agreed to pay Wright 8.317 s . for new metal supplied, and 6965 . 9 d . for the recasting. 'That was as much as 'his due is to be accounted justly '; but the parish nade the sum up to the round f.I " Dut of benevolence,' and promised 'to consider of him better if the bell hold and be better liked of than it is now.' Wright had a simitar trouble at Hillingdon, and there the parisha refused to pay at all.

As time went on the bell was not ' better liked of.' The parish was proud of its bells and the new tenor spoilt the ring, and so in the following yeat, "uppon further advice of the parishioners,' the vesiry agreed that 'our bell Rus shall be new cast.' The work was entrusted to Robert Mot, who was making a name as the leading London bellfounder and establishing the reputation of the famous Whitechapel foundry.

On the 8 th of November the bell was taken to Mot's house and there weighed and two days later an agreement was signed for the recasting. When the new boll was ready the churchwardens and other leading men of the parish went to Whitechapel to view it and they took with them a musician to sound the boll. Everything seems to have been done this time to ensure that the new bell should be in tune. The 'waites of the City" "took pains to take the note of our bells and to go to Mr. Motts to take the note of the new bell then cast,' for which they received cighteenpence, and a shilling was paid to a company of other musicians to take a further note of the same bell.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

It rather looks as if the parish refused to accept the lirst leell cast by Mot, for it was inspected on the first of December, 1588 , and it was not until the twenty-sccond of the following Junc that "Mr. Mott was paid §i7 $^{17}$ s. Jor the new tenor bell called Rus which was last cast weighing 33 cwt. 42 lbs. ' and not until the twenty-fith of July that the trial was made in the steeple, when the ringers received three shillings and fourpence.

Neanwhile, the frame and fittings of the bells had become decayed and worn out. Grone were the days when six men coukl ring the bells in peal. It now required four or five at a time to 'overhaul ' Rus and the ringing shook the tower so much that it was found it might endanger the steeple.

So a John Brissendon was employed to rehang the bells andi he unclertook to do it so that eight, hine, or ten men at the most could ting them. 'It was well liked that such amendment should be ' and a committee was appointed to deal with the matter.

In 1598 Rus was again broken. The vestry had lately spent a lot of money on the bells and when a motion was macie lor the new casting it was elecided ' to rest awhife ancl use it as it is until we see forther occasion.' Hut a broken Rus was a disgrace to the parish and so at a vestry holden and of February, 5599 , it was agreed that Mr. Mott should have for the casting of the bell £i8, hangst and set up and taken down all at his charges.'
When the new bell was hung in the tower with the others it proved a failure and on the first of November if was agreed that "it shall be notified by the churchwardens to Mr: Mote that the bell is not according to his agreement meither in weight nor goodness and therefore they will have a bell in the place thereof or else have lise bond.' Mot had to submit and undertook to supply a new bell, and on the $2 g t h$ of August the vestry decided that he should hang it up in the tower, but if it elid not agree with the rest of the bells to the liking of the parish then he should have forty shillings to cover the cost of taking it down, and should go on casting until he dicl produce a bell that satisfied the parish. His bill came to Euz 1s. ad.,' and we are content to make it up $\mathcal{E} 13$ by reason he casted it so often.

But that is not the end of the story. Mot, at the time, was doing work for Westminster Abbey. He cast the present fifth in 5998 and the next year he took the rejected Rus and made her the tenor of the Abbey ring. No doulst the Dean and Chapter were less critical and more easily satisfied than St. Michael's parish. But she was a bad bell. Latghton heard her in 1734 and says she was 'dull and melancholy,' and four vears later Iester and Phelps were cmployed to recast her. The original inscription copied more or less from that on the first Rus was reproduced on the new bell.
It is usually said that when and why a bell cast for St. Michael's grot into the Abbey tower ' is an tansolved nysstery '; but the matter is quite clear. 'The inscription on the present bell says that it was new cast in July, ${ }^{1599}$, and in April, $573^{8}$. The St. Michael's vestry agreed to give Wat the order for the bell in February, 1599 , and on the following November he was notified that they refused to accept the bell.

The present tenor at Westminster was never at St. Michacl's. As stated above, it was cast in 7738.

Some of the ringers occupied themselves witly the handbells, whils: the obliels went to Oszett and some returned to the tower to ensure ringing at both places. Ringing continned until about 9 p.m., when the halls arere lowered, and a very good meeling was brougiat t close.

COMPOSITIONS OF ROYAL.

To the Edicor.

Sit,-Referving to the 5,000 R'reble [Job lioya] composed by Messirs. C. Cluarge and N. Golden, ptublished in your issue of August eoth it is stated that the second is never in sixth's place and only one in fifth's." What bas the sccond done to he subjected to such humilistions?

Dining the last eentury tive writer was discussing witls a wellknown linger the thafavour in which fle foor second lad fallen wilh composers. The said, 'Why don't conposers compile peals leaving the second out?
The second in ten bells is the same notie as the gtlo, but an oetave lightier, so 2-10 dodging behist would be a musical combination, mad a chmuge from 9-10.
In Bungay stecple there is a footnote on a board recording a peal of Boh Major to the effect that the sixth was kept from home tili the last course. TIndoubledly that peal was bettar struck than those which are rung (?) jast for the sake of getting them.

FOR BEGINNERS.

APPLYING COUTRSING ORDER TO CALLING.

There are two advantages in a thorough, knowledge of coursing order. One is that it enables the conductor, with more certainty, to kiow if the bells are right and, if there is an ervor, to correct it. Tho oller is, it helps him materially if he wishes to call a tauch or peal from one of the "working' bells, and that is a thing which trary conductor should try to do. To ring an 'obsonvation, or lixed, bell, is uselut, particulawly in the carly stages of conducting, because it simplifies the lask, but it is a mistake never to atfempt to call from anolber bell, and, in our opinion, the sooner the young conductor thies to do this the botiter. He may make mistakes at the outset, bat we lerrin by and mistakes, and if his tower companions ere enger for his prorress they will encourage him and not complain whea tonelies go wrong.

Conrsing erder, if elosely followed, helps the begimer to call his holbs in the right place. We saw, in a previous axticle, how, in Bob Majol', one luct in eachs Iead moves from in front of the troble, to a pusition inmediately helina it; that is, from coursiay before the reble to conasing after it. Thus the hels in front of the treble get one place nenrer to it, and those behind get one place further away ach lead.
As you watch the tenor in its relation to the treble in Bols Major ou cin call your bols wibh certainty where they are required.
Tho beli that courses after the treble is going lo dodge in $4-\overline{3}$ (down) it no bob is called, the bell hehind that will dodge in 6-5 (fiown), whethor there is abob or not; the next bell will dodge in $8-7$ (down), whl the nexi iu $7-8$ (up), and so on.
hols 'Middle is cniled when the tenor dodiges in $6-5$ (down), a 'Hame' when it dodges $\mathfrak{I t}$ 8-7 (down), a bob 'Wrong' when it dorlges in 7-8 (wn).

Therefore, if you want to call a bols Middle you do so in the lead which the fenor is coursing next but one after the treble; a bob Homo comes in the next lead when the tenor lias two bells between it and the treljle; and a bob Wrong when there are three bells be-- There shouk be no difficulty atout seeing this, because the bob caller will have watched the gradually widening gap in the othsing onder bebwoen the treble and tenor, but even if he has had ( mental lapse lee should be able quickly to pick up the position rgitn to the exact noment when the both should he called, that again be fotermined by watching the eoursing. The proper place is at Ho hauthtroke lond of the bell coursing in front of the treble sand tha is the posilios of the tenor when you have to call a bob 'Before.',马here aro, of convse, other guides to calling from a 'working' ol. It is often easy to know where the next bob comes from youn wa position. As atimple example, if you are the 6th's place bell, know perfectly weli that if a Home is to be called you will he in Middle, $n$ 6-5 (down, or, if a Wrong, yotl will he iu the Home posilion, of 8-7 (down). If you are fiftists place hell, and thas coursfle 7 th, a midrlle brings you to $7-8$ (up) (tionging behind with, the It, a Home to $5-6$ (up), and a Wrong causes you to make the bob. Then, too, if you are one of the hells concemed in the bob, either haning in or out. or making 4 th"s you can easily fix your position at hae next boh. There is a cycle, which we will call it (In), 0 (Oub), R (make tise Bob). If you liave bols exactly a course apart and the It brings you to either of the places, the second will be ealled hen you are at the next of these positions in the eycle; thas $I$ and $\mathrm{O}_{3}$ 0 and $B$, or $B$ and $I$.
it when you have calls at Iess than a course apart that you have lie eareful, und it is here that a close watch on coursing order helps. Hero, however, are one or two hints. Remember that at a Wrong e 5th's place beil makes the bob. If the Wrang is followed by a didic, the same bell makes the boh $n$ t, ench of the two calls, and his hell, hefore the bob, is coursing next but one in front of the hlye.
I'loe bells concerned at a Wrong at 5.3.2, and at a Middle 2.4.6. The "rong gives you a new 5th's place bell and Middle a hew 6th's place cll, but a Home affects neither of them.
The oondazetor shrould know the 5th and 6th's place bells of his weh or peal, and be can then mako cerfain of calling Jis Wrongs nd Mindiles in the right courses.
When lie lias to clange the 5 lhis place holl he watches the new bell ntil it rins But at it Fome. A bob Wrong (at the next lead) will sen putt lhis hell into Eth's place.
When he has to change the 6th's place bell he waits tutil the new ell he wants rung In at a Home, and calls the Middle in the suceoedHy course, when this bell will make the Job.
Then he has to change both the 5th and the 6th's place bells, he calls the Wrong as already mentioned, and the bell he thus takes way from 5 th's will come into 6th's place by making the bob Middle. Very good practice is to write ont tie lead-ends of a touch and xamime the positions of the bells at the hobs. Ary one with bobs en ell of the three positions will do. Fop example, w M $\mathrm{F}_{1}$ and $\boldsymbol{F}$, twice repeated. Not very musical, perltaps, but if will serve the purrose and not prove too laborious, because in the conrses with only the Ithe course end will be sufficient, as it is the only lead with a bob

WHAT OTHERS THINK.

COMMENTS OF A CHESTTR NEWSPAPER.

Complatints of the autivities of ringers often appear in tho public Press. Here is what the "Observol", achester paper, liad to say with regard to chureli hells last Satutchy iu some editorial notes. Our readers wfll agreo that it admirably sumas up the feelings of ringers, allhough, as fav as we know, it is from the pen of a writer unconnected wilt the Exercise.

In these days of radio tine-signals and chenp watches, church bells may be regarted by those whose standards are murely utilitarian as muite unecossary. Occasionelly lettere appear in the Press from irate corresponclents, who complain that they have been wakened too soon from their Sunday menning sleep by the too-insistent clanour of church bells summoning the faithful to an early service. Sometimes such camplaints may he justifiod, for admittedy there are cturch bells and church bells. Few people wotld deny that the single, ant often far from tumefrl, beils of some moderis clurches are, if rung too frequently and at imseasonable hours, more likaly fo induce ill lemper I lan devotion on the part of residents in the immediate vicinity. It is not, however, of suth inhamonious "tinklers: that most of his think when church bells are mentioned, but rather of those peals of hells whinch still sound lron the towars of so many of our conntry and eily elnurehes. Even such peals, if not properly Fong and property zung, can remind us all too forcibly of Shakespeare's pluase about "sweet bellis jangled, out of tumo aud harsh," but such enses are tare in these days when churehes pride themsetves on the possession of a good peal, and a band of anthasiastic ringers, who hato really mastered the art of change ringing.

Even if they themselves alisreward the summons to worship broalcast from the chanch bowar, to many pouplo there would be something laoking in that indefinabte "atnosphere" which, in these rays of harry nite noise, sfill chatracterises Sunday in the Einglish countryside, were otur church balls to be silenced and "liquitated" as mere luxuries. But "t the musie of those willage bells ${ }^{\text {s }}$ is, indeed, one of those concomitnats of the English scene which we home-staying folk lake for granted.'

DEATH OF OLD MARKET DEEPING RINGER

It is with much regred, we record the 'passing on' of $\mathbf{3} \mathrm{H}$ ". Wallaw Day, of Market Depping. The decened was nover a prominent, pea! ringer, but for over 25 years was conneded with St. Guthlac's belfry. where he was a regalur Shuduy service ringer: Fo was also a member of the ehoir. He lad heen in faling health for some years, and his death took place on August 18th, at the age of 58 yenrs.
The funcral look place on Satarlay ufternoun at Market Depeping, and was conducted fyy the Rector, the Tiev. F. L. Pigotb. The decensed leaves it widow and broller' (Mr. Forace M. Day) to mouru his deatly.

In the evening the bells were rung half-muffled as a Inst token of respel, and 720 of Splicm Candoa mad Wells was rumg by W. Oldnaty I, 3. Treoman 2, F. M. Day 3, C. T, H. Bradley 4, A. E, Scott 5, J. O. Latudon 6.

EYNESBURY BELLS

To the Filitor.

Dear Sir-Wiilh regard to the recent wur of the North Weald ringers, whilst we have the greatest respect for this band of begimere, and hope they will not be discouraged, we camot help expressing the hopo that an altogetlier wrong impression of the state of Eynesbury huils will not be given to readers of the report in "The Ringing World.' Although the 'go' may leave much to bo desired, we ring tour or five methorls regularly on Sundays. It is felt by us wlat it is a poor retura for hospitality to make an offensive noise by raising the bells two at in time, give an exhibition of poor ringing, and then go itway blaming tho 'go' of the bells. The anti-clockwisc arrangement of the ropes will give this band no trouble when they have had more practico. There are many worse towers to ring in than Eynesbury, unfortunately.
S. J. PECK

LEEDS RINGERS MARRIED MLMBERS OF BRAMLEY BAND

r"he bells were rung at St. Peter's Chutch, Bramley, Leeds, on Suturday, August 2lst, for the wedding of Mr. John Marsin and Miss Gonstance M. Wade, both of whom are ringers at this church.

T'lie bride, who was given iu marriage by her fathar, wora a pale pink satin gown, with a hale headdress and veil to matcln, and carried a houpuet of pink and yellow roses. The bridesnaids were MEsses Kathleen and Brenda Marsh (sistars of the bridegroom). The former wore a pink and green flowered chiffon gown, and the latter pule pink taffeta. Both carried bouquets of sweet peas. The best mus was Mr. Lawrie Wade (brother of the Dride).
Rounds and "Queen's' were rung on the bells for Half an hour hefore the wedding, and as the happy couple left the church the hells were fized," and then rounds and touches of Oxford Treblo Bob wore rung.
Before morning service on Sumday, Augusł 22nd, 720 Oxford Treble loh was rung: N. Greaves 1, T. Greaves (conductor) 2, D. Margaret Roby 3, F. Jackson 4, E. Redslaw 5, S. Helliwell 6.

SUFFOLK RINGERS' DAY IN LONDON.

When Stowmarket ringers held &heir anual outing, ihey apent the alay in London. At Livernool Street they were met by Mr. J. Euston and Mrs, Davies, who accompanied them flnoughout the day to the sarious churches. At $S t$. Dunstan's, Stepney, ringing was indulged in till 11.45. The party had luneh at the London Tavern and went on to St. Olave's, Hurt Street, and afterwards to St. Margaret's, Weslminster, where they were met by Mr. T. Sparrow, a former Stowmarket ringer, and Mr. R. Sanders, who joined tho company for the rest of the day. Ringing at St. Andrew's, Hoborm, was fol lowed by tea, at whicls they were joinet by Mr. J. E. Davies. Then 1.hey risited St. Botolph's Church, and finally St. Leonard's, Shorelitath. Jुhanks are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Davies, Messrs. Euston, R. Sanders nad T. Sparyow, nud to all churcha authoritics and steeplekeepers for the use of the ratious peals of bells.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without efiort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

WHAT WE RING.

There is a good deal in the contention that ringers' natural instinct for good methods decides what they ring. In the very early days of the art, when practice was confined largely, if not exclusively, to five and six bells, the men of those days produced quite a number of primitive methods, but it was only a few that survived the test of: time. In the same way the eighteenth century saw many methods, particularly on six and eight bells, brought to light, but the Exercise accepted for general use only a very few of them. Whatever its other merits may le, Bob Triples for example, is not a sood method, and although it is one of the oldest and best known, it hats only seldom been rung, not simply because it has, in a sense, been discredited by the pundits, but because ringers themselves realise its imperfections. Grandsire and Stedman have survived the test of centuries and still command the attention of ringers everywhere, not merely by long usage, but on their merits as true Triples.

On the other hand, one cannot ignore the fact that use and tradition do count for a good deal in what we ring. Particularly is this so in regard to Major and ringing in the higher numbers. It takes a long time for a new method to gain anything in the shape of popularity, Bobs Major, Doulsle Norwich Major, Kent and Oxford 'Treble Bob have had their popularity hardly touched by the many more interesting methods of their respective classes. Similarly in the Surprise category, with all the vast and varied selection that is now avalable, the old methods Superlative Cambridge and London are still easily a first choice, despite the fact that Surprise ringing las come into vogue only comparatively recontly, and that there are many better methods. Bristol and Yorkshire, which are two among them, are slowly gaining' a place in the sun,' but of the athers some are rung once or twice and afterwards neglected; the rest remain undisturloed and largely unwanted. Individual bands have clone something to bring new methots to light, but they do so only for the novelty of it and seldom with the idea of popularising anything, however grood it may be. Indeed, it is noticeable that the bands who make a practice of ringing a variety of fresh methods seem to avoid everything which another company may lave rung. It is, in fact, the idea of ringing ' the first in the method ' that appeals to them, rather than ringing something that should be really worth while, especially if it may previously have been rung by others. What is desirable is that more good methods of every varicty should be more widely rung. [t is, of course, as well that we have certain ' standard' methods which are in use everywhere. It simplifies the thing for those who visit other towers, but there does seem good reason for urging that the general "repertory" of the ordinary ringer should extend beyond it's present limited bouncs.

PEAL, NOTES.

SIDELIGER'S ON PTRFORMANCFS.
The first peal on the new bells at Bimmarinm Cathedral was run! on Saturday. A pail had zot lyen ring there since diggust 22 not, 1903, a perfod of 34 years.
It is remarkable that in suchs s long interval only one oithat batul Thomas Reynolis, has passed away. Linee of them, Messys. Allwwy, Paddon Smith ard Altjert Walker, took part in the first peal on tha new bells on Sirturday.
The first peal rung at Petersfield. Hants, by an entirely local bani for 32 years was acconplished on Aughst 26ih. None of the ringers, with the exception of the conduetor, had ever stood in a peal in the: is own tower previously. The peal was rung as a farewell to Mr. C. S. West (tower secretary), who is to be married sloutly and will then live at Midhurst, Sussex.
Mr. Harold F. Frost, who, at the age of 20, rang Cambridge Maximus as his first Smprise peul, rang his first peal of Cambridg, Major, and conducted it, on Saturduy at North Minums. Mr. Frost is ane of the secretaries of the St. Albans District of the Herts Association.
A peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at Gravesend, Kens on Saturday, as a compliment to Mr . H. Hadlow, the veteren steopl keeper, on reaching his 78th birtuday.

No fewer than eight Whites took part in a peal of Grandsice Calevs at Appleton (which produced most of the "family') on August 20th. One of the geveral Fredericks in the peal was of Cranbrook, Kent, whe rest were Appleton ringers. Althongh pather late in the day, the patal was rang as a Coronation peal for Appleton.
Mr. Fred White rang the tenor to the peal. It was his one hundredth peal in the tower and on the same bell! Fe rang it to the 21,363 Stedman Caters on April 22nd, 1922-the record length by any onk set of men-in 12 hours 25 minutes. He and the lenor must know each other well.
A peal of 5,056 Rob Major was rung at Swalfham, Noriolk, on August $66 \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{t}}$ in 2 hours 51 minutes. 1t was the slmottest time in which a true peal has been comploted on the bells, the tenor of which is just under 16 cup. The composition by the conductor, Mr. Nolan Golden, was rung for the first time. It, contains the $746{ }^{\circ}{ }^{\prime} \mathrm{s}_{\text {, }}$ the bil the course-end extent home and all the 6-5's and 6-4's.
Four first peals of Kent Treble Bob Major was the fine achievenvens in the peal at Repton, Derbyshire, and credic is due to the batd Which hails from seven towers. The aingers were: Treblo from Span don, 2 and 3 from Overseale, 4 from Hugglescote, 5 from Nortan-ia the-Moors, 6 from Wolverlianpton, 7 from Walsall and 8 from Anstey
The bells at Gorlestan, Sufolk, have recently been angmented io eight fand the first peal on the octave was ring on August 2lst. Mi J. A. Godfrey, who toak part, also rang in the first peal on the ring of six, in the : ar 1901.
Two ringers at Burton-on-Stather, Lincs, Philip Barnes and Fies Jeffery, rang their first peal on August 231 . It was Minor in three metbods-and a good perfornance, considering it was their firs attempt for a peal.
The Yorkshire Association's first, peal of Surprise Minor was tump at New Mill on Saturday in honomr of the golden wedding of Mr. atal Mrs. O. D. Potter, of Brinsley. The peal was also a Barnsley Society peal, for Mr: Potter is president of this organisation.
The birth of a graudsou to Mr. Li. F. Poppy, of Stolse Ash, Suffolk, was celebrated on Saturday with a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal al Stonham Aspel, in which Grandya took part. The composition, Arthur Knights, was rung for the first time.
Miss Sylwia Bowyer, of Tpswich, who, as recorded last week, rany her first peal as condnctor (Minor in three methods) has now talleil a peal of Kent Treble Boh Major at the first attempt and from a working bell. Sle is the only ludy, up to the present, to call a peal far the Suffolk Guild.

ESSEX RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING.  PRESENTATION AT MALDEN.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Futson, of Malden, Essex, have just celebrated theit golden wedding. They wert married at Heybridge Church on Angust 20th, 1887, and in honour of their jubilee a quarter-peal of Grandire Friples was rung at All Saints' Chureh, Malden, on E'riday week, Mr. Hutson ringing the treble. ## FOR BEGINNERS．

FROM GRANDSIRE TO PLATN BOJ
Whe eutroversy which las arisen in＇IJe Ringing World over Bol Priples has centred ronnd the question of the＂tility of this method us in＇stepping stome＇from Minor to Major．Me are not among those 4．Hu thimk that Triples of any kiud is necessary as a stepping stone hutwern the two even－bell groups，any more than Grandsice ol Sted una Major is necessny to tie practice of those who want to go from Grandsire on Stedman tripies to Gaters．This，lowever，is not the plite for as to air our views on tho eonhoversy，but wo wht to make it an oppartmaty to fry and show begimers who are ringing Cimadsiro how they can stey easity to $\mathrm{H}_{\text {fain }}$ Sob as a means of going inn to those＂illimitable realms ${ }^{5}$ that lie before those who practise even－ luchl meibods．

It mat be helpful，perlaps，if wo look for a monent at the dif ferences in construction between the twa methods；it may simplify things a hit．
The principle in Plain Boh is one lunt bell（the breble）with a bell nuking 2nd＇s when this bell leads，and the others dodging in pairs hehind them ；that is in 3－4，5－6，efc．
Grandsire has two hunt bells（the treble and another）witla a bel making 3rd＇s，when these two nre leading，and the others dodging if prairs bolime them；that is in 4－5，6－7，efe．

Whether you leam to ring Bob Doubles or Grandsire Doubles in a tiwe－bell tower you are tayght to Iead off the last bell of the preceding elange；so that in going on to Minor leading from the last bell presents no difficulties．
If yon hare learned to rins Doubles in a gix－bell tower，where the tenor has always been covoring，you have got to acquire the skill to lund of the lasil hell when your ritg Minor－whether your efforts have previonsly been devoted to Bob or Gl＇andsire Doubles．

A little careful ipnetice will enathlo you to da his．Fou probably lanow alrendy that there should be a slight extra pause，or space between the last bell in the backstrolie change and the bell leading in fle next handstroke change．That is particularls necessary in even－ leell ringing；olherwise there is nothing whatever to marls the＂beat， Hthl he rizging goes on like a batrel orgat
You have fius of all to uso your eyes to piek out the last of the ropes fulling at backstroke，and then hold your bell for a bift longet hofore pulling oft at hand．The exact period，of conse，depends upon ，he size of the bell you are ringing，and to judge this yoll must use ons retars．
The difficulty which sonte ringers geen to find in gotig from an en－bell to all odd－bell melhad is in the dodging places．If they have always rung Grapdsive and desire to turn over ta Plain Bob they find that the habit of dodgiug in $4-5$ makes it difficult to change ver to dodging in $3-4$ or $5-6$ ，lint there is no reat alsiacle to quickly oquaring the मew contition．
A dodge，as we have often explained in these arlicles，is a step bachward．Count yourself an to the farthest point of the dodging position，5th＇s or 7th＇s，for 4－5，or 6－7 11p in Grandsine；4th＇s or 6in＇s ini 8th＇s for 3－4， $5-6$ or $7-8$ in Elain Bub，then take one strep back belore gaing on 刀口ain，Whether it is Graudsire or Plain Bols，every hlow in an ewen place，2ad，4th，bil or 8 th ，going up is at haud－ slake，fud every blow in an adid．place，3rd， 51 l or 7 h ，is at back－ Conversely，coming down，ovory cemp place is backstroke al every afd place is handstroke．
If yon have been ringiag Grandsime，you have probably learned by this time tlate the step back in your dodge is afoceys at hondstrolte． ［II llain Bob the step badk is always at haekatroke．A kaowledte of this is helpful in fixing your dodging place． both methods the dodges follow in sequence， $5-4,7-6,6-7,4-5$ in tirnorsire： $43,6-5,8-7,7-8,5-6,3-4$ in Bob Majar，but Plain Boh is simpler in the bob making tiran Giandsire，inasmuch as a call only affects three of the working bells，instead of all but one．Whereas in Cinndsire a bob involves donble dodging above 3 ra＇s place，the bells above 4th＇s in Plain Bob contimue an unbroken course of single dotming．
The real secret of going from one metlod to the other is ro coumt your places and remember that the dodging step back in Grandsire is at handstroke and the dodging step back in Plain Bob is at back－ sti＇rake．

WHY FRANCIS IS GIVING UP

To the Editor

Dear Sir，－Two of three yarri ago，wien I was ath sulhoul，I was persuaded by a friend of mine to leart tinging，theatas les suid that ringens were all intellectual men with brans．I did so，and tuw I find Llat most of then helieve
（a）That the more a bell is＇tucked up＇the quicker it swings
（b）That if you stand on a hox to ring a then，you get a hatter pull than if you stand on the floos
（c）That a tenor quick at Lathertroke is easier lu ring than atenor slow at backstroke．
（d）That a boll wilf a big wheel and a lat of tope swingè slower that one with a small whech．
（e）That Cambridge Sitrprise Royal is more masical Wan Treble Bob Royal
（f）That if yous cust the slow work out of＇lreble Boh Major yats will improve the music．
（g）That it matders a－．．，when you mate a cup of tea，whethes you put the milk and sugar nato the enp hefore the then or not． 1 like to associate with intelligent people，and so I am giving ringing．

PRACTICE MEETING IN THE HEART OF DORSET

SALISBURY GUILD＇S SUCCISSFUL GAPHERIN

In ideal sammer weather the Dorchester Branch of the Snlisbury Dincesan Guild held a very sucecssful meeting for practice ab Filton on Saturday，Angust 2lst．The bells were kept going in valions metiods from 3 oflack uadil 5 ，when nembers and friends adjon＇ned to the Vicarage lawns，where an alfresco tea was awating thena，the beantiful cacroundings，ineludiug Milton Abbey Park，adding to the enjoyment of the gatioring．Atter a chat aver the tea cups，a henrty rote of thanks was passed to the Viear（the Rer．H．A．Caty）for permitting the use of the bells，his garvens and lawns，and to Mrs． Fiander for preparing the tea．Tniortunatoly，tho Vicar was absent as he was taking the chombys for all outhrg．
Those members of the fuild who required at change from the rimging chamber indulged in handbell ringmg（the Vicar supplying lwo actaves），croquet，swings，ete．Buth lise more ardent ones yefurmed to the tower and continned some good practice matil late in the even－ ing，the Ringing Master（Mr．P．Field），assisted by the North Dorset Branch Ringing Master（Mr．W．Shute），doing some excollent spade－ work．

THE LINCOLNSHIRE TOUR.

SOME NOTES ON CHURCHES AND BELLS The Story of an Interesting Weak.

On a plot of rising ground I hear the far of Curfew sound Ovor some wide watered shote, swinging slow with sulten roar. Muxwell.
By tho time this account of the Bennelt toul of 1937 eppears in print most of my readers will have 'weighed up' the peal callmas and summed up the week's work as reported in the last issue of "The Ringing Wond.' To begin, the organiser in his letter of invitation nodegtly referred to his 'pretty stiff programme,' adding that he had confidences in the band, which eventually scored 14 peals in their list of 16 towets and completed them without mishap to man, bell or fittings.
A capable Master of the Guild had knowingly planned the daily route, encouraged by the respective clergy and foremen of belfries, who heartily welcomed the tourists ut the various parishes. The team of 12 men were the eame as un the Newcastle tour of last year. With three motor-cars at their disposal, they were able to travel in comfert and with punctuality

The Cross Keys, Spalding, was headquarters-an historic old property, helonging to the Duke of Buckinglam and cating from 1460 . Here the tourists were received by Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson on their arrival-six by train and six by car-in time to take tea and get ready for their first peal attompt ou Friday, August 13th.

The Parish Church of Spalding, dedicated to SS. Mary aud Nicolas, is well portrayed in a small guide look by J. P. Hostins, B.A., of Lomulon. One's first impression on entering the nor'th coor is 'she's as long as she's broad ' with live aisles, it was buift by the Benedictine Priory, which exisied at Spalding from its foundation in 1051 to its surrender to the Commissioners of Henry VIII. in 1540. Forthanately many of the Priory records are extant and from them something of the history of the church is leamet.

Prur simon de Hauteharge (1228 to 1251) is recorded to lave begun to lnild the patishoners anew chnreh within the precincts of the monastery. This buildiug was finished by his successor (Prior 1251 to 1274) and seems to have been known as St, Mary Stock. Prior Wiliam de Littleport (1274-1293) decided to transfer and rebuild the charch, and the dimeusions of this building are almost exactly those of the present strteture: The Cole MSS. in the British DFuseum give particulars of agreements about buiding, etc., aud amougst them, Land was to loe givell by the Priory for the enlargement of the cemetery aud twa bells of the price of $£ 20$ sterling, whine were not to be rung when the monks were in their dormilary, except for fire, foad or other great fisaster.

EEARING TOWERS.
The tower and spire, over 150ft. high, leaning distinctly towards ille north-east, began to subside very seriously in the midele of the seventecuth century. The ceuse of this was probably the digging of vaults inside the church by the morth wall of the tower. Extensive crachs appeared in the enst and nortly faces of the tower, the latter going up right into the spire and being large enoughi for a boy to squeeze throngli in many parts. To support the tower the western arch of the arcade was walled up in 1664, and the eastern arch of the tower in 1683, wat nothing was cone to ble vaults that had undermincd it and the lower grew more and more unsafe with the passing of the Jears, so tlat the erchitect who examined it in 1865 exclaimed, Whiy ic does not fall 5 don't know.'
Al. the west end of the church is a small sanctus boll of great interest, bearing the letters I.N.R.I. and the date 1501. This is mohably the only pre-Reformation bell not recast in existence for many miles around. It was bought in 1840 by a former Vicar from the Fown Crier of the nearby village of Whaplode.
T'he bells were more than once the cause of digputes between the Priory of Spalding and the parishioners. The Priory agreed to provide two belis at the buitding of the church about 1284. The Prior ap poated to the King (Eenry IV.), the parishianers cubmitited an address in French, then the dispute was referred to the Bishop of Lincaln A.3. 1401, but his decision unfortunately does not seem to be known. North tells us the old ring of six bells were made up by a new treble fadded aud the tenor recast by Dobson, of Dowaliam, in 1801. Also Wjllian Carter, bellrimger, was paid for his year's stipend in 1519 VIIIs. IIIJd, nud, for ringing when the tempest was, IId.
7t. will interest members of the Ladies' Guild to hear of the widow of the sextor of Spalding, who cartied on his dutieg in the early part of the 19th century. She was also a washerwoman engaged ai a clergynan's house with others. She used to leave her tub to ring the bell. On one occasion one of her companions wrapped a white sheet around her and followed the sexton to the soulth porch standing up on the bench there. As the olid woman was locking the door the ghost started moaning, thinking to frighten her, but the ald lady quickly drew the huge key franz the lock and rushed at the figure with the exclamation. "Be ye live or dead, here's a go at yer," and nearly sicw the wotld-he ghost.

The parish registers of Spalding begiu in 1538. They are complete and in excelleat condition. The present Vicat is the Rev. Canon
B. G. Nicholas, R.D., one of the 17 Spalding hon. members of the Elloe Deanery Branch of the Lincoln Guild. On the conchusion of the peal he sent a kind message of congratulation saying how mueh lo had enjoyed listening to the risging.

The visitors were met at the church by Messrs. Kuight, Ladd, Firr Ames and others, and took a brief glance at the tablets on the belfiry walls, which record among other things that Churchwarden Jarwis celebrated his 100tb birtheday on May 29th last year and that Richned Mackman was verger 1876 to 1923, had clurge of the tower and for 50 years was a member of the association.
The present ring of eight bells was cast from old bells in 1926 and rehung by Taylors in new irou frame and fittings; each bell is deali-cated to a different saint, the 7th being known as Gabriel. I'se following was written by the Ficar, Jenuary, 1936, and gives sonu idea of the district to those who have not ' done' the county. 'South Lincolnshire las been disparagingly written of as a land of " fens and fogs and flats"; since it las been my privilege to live and labout there I laave found it to be the land of the prosaic potato: of the golden corn; of the daffodil and the tulip in countless varieties and colours; the lund of splendid sungets and glorious churches unsurpassed by any in the Kingdom.' Fe might have added also the first to possess in ring of bells in all Engtand, namely, at Croytand a tow miles away.

EWERBY'S GRAORTUL RINGING *ROOM.

Ewerby, visited on Salurday, was the home of the late pred Holden, whose first peal I conducted at Staines before he jeined the Royal Navy. Alas! he now rests beside the chancel, but has left a fine family of boys to 'carly ons.

Onr team arrived at the Chum of St. Andyew at 9.30 , and some time was spent in putting things right 'up above.' The Revtur kindly gave us a welcone in the singing room, which is convenienaly on the ground floor level and a vely handsome feature at the west end of the nave with graceful arehes on three sides open to the charch and a groined eeiling. The carved lexagonal font formed a centrcpiece as the temm surronnded it for Cambridge Royal.

The chareh is built entirely of stone, of handsome proportions, especially the tower and spire, and the cunning way in which tho roony spiral stairs up to the bells are constructed, in the sonth-west anagle, is an object lesson to modern arelitects. The north aisle las a paving stone which serves to remind us of the disastrous period in the history of the Church of Eugland, and here is the inscription 'Fore lyeth interved the lody of pious and learned Mr. Siwester, gent, who faithfinly and diligently seryed the Vicarage of this pariali (Coutiauad on mext pare.)

STONE ROPE STRETCHER

for above 50 years, djed March, 1730 , aged 81 years. He gave the sum of 55 a year to the said Vicaz fol evel supposing lue do reside upor the same Vicarage.
Another interesting tombstone is that of George Wiliam, Eacl of Winchelsex, at the esst of the chancel. who died in 1858. He was alsu a practical bellrimger and gave the front six bells to make up the peral of ten with the fous old ones. The Earl left a fund to give the tingere an annual Christmas supper and El per man as a Christmas bas, and be penarally, while in residence, took part in such festivities. The old tenor js dater 1616, nud is 47 jnches in diameter. In 1566 the shumbiwardans reported that two liandbels, wincir balouged to this church in Queen Mary's time, lad been sold to onc Cuthbert, a pewterer of Lincala.
Fhwerby men lave scored a peal of Caters on the bells condacted by Fred Holden, but of recent gears if has been impogsible to fud and train ten men to man the bels resularly. Work and popination are declining here, as in many other agricultaral eentres throughout Encland.
f large mack of stone, with two stont inon ring linnales, stinds nery the font. It is now used to stretch the beliropes, but I believe jt formad, at one time, part of the market eross in front of the chuychyard, and was used to tether cattle and the horses of the farmers abtending sinday service. "Cwo o'clack lumef at the Fiatom Arms was served by liostess Mildred Porter, and twelve siguatures were wded to ler petition for permission for Simday opeaing.
fachington, which was visited in the afternoon, las a ring of six bells thati were increased to eight iu 1880 by two new bells-treble and tonor-atst by Mears and Stainbank. The old tenor, supplied by Warner azd Son, 1859, is now the 7th. Matsy a dispute and wagel lavo taken place in the villuge with regard to the ligure on fhe Gth; in reference to Wiliam Taylor's gift of metal to this bell becauge 'he loved ringimg so well.' They mre a flae ring of bells, with a good bulfur, the lightr circle of ropes, araurath and sommal all being sujbable for practising advanced methods. The walls of the belfry are carved ir mash places witlo the mames and initials of old riogers dating from 1977. We were met by di. 'T. F. Clark, wlo did dity for'us as kwer warden. His connection witi $5 t$. Andrew's belfry las Iasted bearly half a century. Oux cars were parked opposite the palice gration, near the tower, where the officer in eharge oxpressed gladmess 1 rum departure, as the offae books werg in arrear. I referred him to Inspector Poale, of Leicester, nnd mentioned we had added a mew nonflrod ta the county lisit and colebrated the birthay of a famoug Louden riugor, the late Willian PYe.

ROUND BERKSHIRE TOWERS

A 'IIME THB7E THA'L' WORLED.
Whe rimgets of Si. Mary's, Rodhourne Cheney, together with a few collearues fram other Swindan bowers, held their antual outing ou Saturday, Aurust 2lsb, accompaniod by the Vicay (the Rev. S. J. Allisont. A time table had been worked out, which, contrary to bln general custom, was strictly adlicred to duriug the coutse of fho lour. Permission had been granted to risit bilf a dozon Berkshing towers. After ino "galhering of the clans' from various points, ful early start was made aud the party wete soon spebdig away over we open dowas into the Lambourin Vnlley, where the first enll was made at Great Shefiord. This is a "kefthanded" penl af six, and trouble was encoantered by sevelal of the novices before tije 'Hang' of blings came " liglit." To the old "uns it l held no terrorg, and good touches of Stednan, Grandsire and Minor were quag. Incidentally the wrjter was initiafed into the art in this tower many years ago.

Fromi here the excursionists passed on throngls the whole length of the deljghtiut Lambourn Valley until Chieveley was reached. f'here guother peal of six was enuountered, furd, althougis hurg in an ofd wood frame, wis found to he in ercelleat going order. This soon put the visitors juto a luappy mood and several well-struck touchus were called. Apart from ringing, this tower is worthy of note, possessing same rory intiquated steps lo ascend into tho bell chamber. Tha dive wrs rontinued througu the pinc woods of Hermitage to Hampstead Narris, where the bells wate tound already raised for antiou, and proved to be almost perfect both fou landing ard for sonnd. Some good rimging resulted,
Thea was partaken of at Compton, where the risitors were mot liy representatives of the local Inand. Ringing at the shurch followed. The towel appealed very much to some of tho party. Others, however, developeri "dart-brgatelleitis" and fated to turn up at the belfy until the departure time. East Ilsley was next visited and the party wexe accompanied by some of tint Compton bind. The ring of eighe was found to be a lovely going light perl, which, espeoially in the ald 'wns, were a treat to ring. A中 no time welo ropes gollg a-hegring. Sorne of the begh winging of the day was carried otht herc. At Wantage, the last tower, the metnl of this peal of eightit proved a bit too cumbersome for the mujarity of the party, but tonclies of Stodman and Grandsire were nus. Durint a short spell for fight refreshments, fonches of Stedman, Grandsise, etc., logether with a few tumes by the 'musical stars' of the party, Wel'e zung on the landbells and broeghte a delightfil dry to a close. The ringets wish to tluank the various incmubents amm towerkeepers fow the Hag of thm bells and arrangements thal were made, the whale cumbinitg into $n$ very pleasant and interesting onting

AUSTRALIAN LADY RINGERS.

NEARLY FOR'Y SCFOOLGIRJS LEARNING ON HANDBELLE
Miss Joan H. Kynastoan, who went out from England abont two years ago to a teaching appointment at Frengham School, Mitfagong, New Sorth Wales, has been doing eome splendid work among the pupils, which, we may hope, will lenefit, the art of rixgiug in Australis in the fisture.

Alchough there are no chureh bells available, change ringing is targht on handbells, and Miss Kynaston has now got nearly 40 keen ringers in the school, ranging from seven years ofd to the senior girls, There is also one learner amoug the staff who, it is hoped, will he able to carry on when Miss Kymaston returus to England at the ead of the year.
This month one of her ringing pupils, Miss Joyce Layton, arives in England, and will be in residence at the Physical Training College. Bedford. She hopes to get a practical acquainlinee with clarelh hed ringing during her stay, and wa are sure slie will be heartily welcumed by Bedford riwgers.

BOB TRIPLES.

To the Editor

Sir,-May I reply to the advocate of Bols Triples, Mr. A. P. Cannon What methods are rums in peals conceros me not at all, but when ho"talks of teaching beginners Bob Triples instead of Grandsire he enmoaches on Sunday service ringing, of which I am afraid he knows very little. There are ringers, I am afraid, who never pass bevond covering and others who get as far as plain hunting and then stop, hut they are of much more use to a tower with their regular attend ance than the expert change ringers whose attendances on Surdat arc few and far bebween. With two treble ringers and one tenommin, the Rlain Bob band wonld be tied to Bob Minor with two covers, instead of courses of Grandsire Triples. With six inside, one treble and one tenor they would ring Bab Triples. To ring Boh Major requires seven inside and one treble, and unless this number were in the tower no masio would ever be heard from their bells.

May I also point out that Grandsire is not a 'blind alley nuethou? leading nowhere." There is a book of Triples methods published hy the Central Council leading from Grandsire. I also fail to follow Mr Gannon's zeasaning that a ringer who finds a diffentwy in grasping Bob Major after ringing Grandsire Triples could very easily learn the higher major methods if first tanghb Bob Triples, Be could, at least ring Grandsire Major and discourse the same sweet music as the Bob Triple ringer. I think Mr. Cannon will find that the 'blind alley" Grandsire, with its 'defects, will long continue as the standard fare.

FOUR ASSOCIATIONS MEET ON THAMES-SIDE

HARGE GATHERING AI' SIALNES.

The Value of Co-operation

Tonn societies joined forces in a meeting on Thames-side na Satirday. At the invitation of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association, the Kast Fecks and south Hucks Brameh of the Oxford Gnild, the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and Ghe Farth-West Dishint of the Surrey Aesociabon wisited Staines, and a wathering of between 80 and 100 ringers and linends was the result, 'The monning had not been too promising but the sum broke though the plonds in the afternoon and the visitors found Sl. Peter's Church, the centre of nctivities, in a charming setting ou the river bauk.
In addition to St. Peter's, the bells of St. Mary's, Stainet, were open, were also those of Felam, on the Surrey side, and Wrassbury, just oper the Bucks border. All these are eight-bell towers and full ise was rade of dhems, Sc. Peter's, as was, perlaps, not to be wondered aty being specially crowded. service was held here, conducted by the Vicar, Dr. Flecker, and at mew ringers' hymu, 'Ruislip Bells, was used for the list time. Mr. I. A. Drellope (vice-president of the Middesex Association) read the lesson.

The Rev. A. G. Tranter, Ficar of Egham, gave a forceful address, in the course of which he spoke of the conflieting voices in the world if la-day. The invention of radio had, hee said, filied the itir with poices to which uen could listen if they would. But there were other pices. The woice of the bells was calfing men to God, if they woukd hat listen, and lie asked ringers to remember when viney were ringing, ${ }^{5}$ hether for Sunday service or practice, that they were sending out a message - a suessage of compol't in the everlasting love of God, a message to men to prepare for the coming King.

Commenting on the uncerlainty of life the preacher incidentally remurked that one of the most important things a man should do s to make lis will. 'Why;' he sadd, 'I have got the bymus pieked for my fumeral, buf, hie added, that does not meaty that I an oing to die yed.

After service, tea was served into St. Peter's Hall, but there were unny mare present than had notified that ihey were coming, with the result that the caterers wero liard put to it to provide for the nts of the larie gathering. Mr. J. A. Trellope presided and three Guerdit sechetaries wele present (Midalesex, Oxford and Guildford) in indition to the four districh secretaries ath ringers from nearly 40 ifferent towns. Specially weleome visitars were Mr. C. J. Sedgeley, [ St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, and the fev. R. H. Gilding (eurate at t. Peter's).

Tle Chairman extended a cordial weleome to the visiting nssociaThat, he sajd, was somelling more than mercly a pleasant gathoring; it was the outwerd and wisible sign of the anity and good fllowshig that existed amoug ringers, which was no of the finest hnnmeteristics of the Exercise to-day. Towers and aesociatons alike mantited fron the spivit of co-operation, but this spirit of co-operation had not always existed among riugers. In days gone by old societie ine the College Youtis and Cumberleuds not only did not funteraise, a member of one could not be a member of the other. In the case these two societies this latiter rule existed to-day, and it came lont, as explainet in the Cumberlands rule book, in order to promole frieudly rivalry. It was a survival of old traditions which sised two centuries age, when every society kopt itself to itself. Whs only since the territoriat associations came into existence that hati, spirit was really broken down, and it was largely because it ad henn invenen down that the Exercise had progressed in the last half-century as much as it lad done. He was castiug tro aspersions fhose old socicies, whioh looked back with pride on their past. incming owed a debt to them for what they had preserved. They had erved this bradition, but in these days it was au anachronism ind. he thought, might well be honoured in the breach. Wherever sev went throughout the country a arall who was a dinger was welmed in any lueffyy, and that was a thing which riagers had a right he proud of. That was the spirit which bronght about aneetings that kind, and for that reason ho was flad to see such a large and presentative gathoring present that day
Mr. J. S. Gidsmith (Guildford Guild), Mr. A. D. Barker (Oxford Guild and Mr. D. Cooper (Surrey Association) acknowledged the elcome given 10 the visilors fand spoke of the streeess of the gathering. A vote of thanks to ble Vicar of St. Poler's was proposed by the mairman and achaowledreathy the Rev. R. H. Giading, and Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (Middtesex district secretary) moved a vofe of thanks to the preacher, the organist and the caterers.

GREAT STAUGHTON'S OLDEST RINGER

DEATH OF MR, G. JTRANIKLIN.

Grat Stanghton band las lost jts oldest member with the passing of Mr. Gearge Firanklin, who died in hospital on August 24tl after an operations, at the age of 67 years. Mr. Franklin haad rung only one peal, but he was a regular sarvice ringer and Sunday after Sunday would be as lis post botls morring and evening.
The funcral, which was choral, look place on Saturday, and immediately aftetwards & quarter-peal of Grandsite Donhles was rung with hells half-muffled by R. Slyatton 1, N. Smith 2, J. Swith 3, F. J. アitker 4, F. W. Lrack 5, F. Reeve 6.

- WELCOME TO SHIPLEY

The monbhly meeting of tho Leads and Distrith Society was lula at the Shipley Parish Church on Saturday. Owing to the holiday sonsou beint in full swing, aud the fact thet ithe opening grame of the foot ball season were taking place in such ghorious weaher, the atitendanco Was below expectations. About bwe dazen members were presm from hronley, Furley, Headingley (Sl. Chad's and St. Nichinel's), Holbeck, Idie, Rothwell, Sherburn, Drighlington and the focai com pany, as well as a visitor from Kirkby Stephen. The bells were keqd ringing from 3 o'clock until finally they were lowered about $9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.
'I'lie bisiuess meeting was beld in the tower, and in the rbsence of the president and vice-presidents, Mr. Г. J. Jolmson (a former wesident) occupicd the chair. A vote of thanks to the Fionr, wastons and the local company for their welcome was proposed by Mr. W. Jaukson, and supported by ML. F. Rayment, who cougratulated ble Shpley company on the splendid progress which they were making. Atter a number of very lean years, and yarre of hard work, they were it last reaping the benefits of their labours, and he hoped tho progress would eot tinue.
The Glaiman, in putting this vote to the meeting, dwell reminiscently upon several of the early Shipley ringers.
Tho Rev. T. Perrett, in meplying, said trow pleased he was to welenme the sociels to Shipley and hoped they wonld conve again in the vean future, when he bimgelf anticipatod being able to take a more ahife part in the proecedings. He always felt that ringers lat swof a grip on one anotior, a grip of carmadeship-just like the grip one had an one's 'sally,"
Mr. Einesl Simpson also spoke for the local company and expressed is pleasure at the meting.
A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Johnson for presiding.
erenc Charman said he could not ciose the mecting wilnout a he first secretary of the Leeds and District Suciefy "rhe hato Neediam moved away frobi Leeds about 40 yenrs ago, but he dirl at great deal of pioneor work for the sociaty in its early dajs.
The next meeting is due to be held at Holbeck on September 2511 but au announcement will bo made in the Press in dae courso.
After the meeting, the Vicar took part in the ringing bofore leaving to coufinue his obher duties. The meihods rung dmyng tho day ranged from Grandsire Triples to Gantoridge and Superlative Surprise

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. CHATTERIS RINGERS' EXAMPLE.

A meeting of the Cenlmal Dranelt was held ab Clateteris on Saturday August 28th. There was a good athendance of visitors and bramul members. The general semetary of the nssocinlion (Miss K. Wjllers) was also present. Ringing commenced at mboul 2.30 p.m., Mr. A. . . Abrams leing in charge, the Ringing Master arriviug after tea.

It is worthy of note that nearly all the Chatiteris ringers, atteuded this meeting, which gives one food for thonght, ss, when going to ofher towers, the leader of the company is often the only lacal ringet present. If bands would fotlow Clatteris ringors' oxample, more Sin day service ringing would be donc.
The Guild service was held in charch at 6 p.in., coltducted by ithe Vicar

It is hoped to hold the mext meeting at Haddonham if permission is obtained.

IN PLEASANT SURREY BY-WAYS

Some 16 nembers of the Somning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesna Guild, with wives and fricuds, chjoyed m afterneors's ontug on Saturday in the neighbounhood of Woking, Surmoy. Choblam was the first tower visited, and MEr. A. Coleman had everything in reaviness. A delightful surprise was the visit to the belfry of Mess's Goldsmith, Hazelden, Corbett and Grover (of the Guildford Diocesan Guild), who were en route for Eglan to attend $n$ joinl meeting: journey of two miles brought the party to Horsell, with its perpendicular ladider leading to the curious ringing chamber, but very handy ring of six. Tleen inte Woking for ten at the Sinmay Restaturant and a look round the busy litite town hefore ringing on the good going eight at old Woking, li,he belfry hallowed by the memory of that friend of ringers, the late Admiral T. P. Wolker. A pleasant run as the daylight faded bronght the party to Pirbright, with its interesting dhurch in a peaceful spot, whero lie the remains of the great African explerev, F. M. Stanley. The nioo going musical ring of six bells in the tower were well used until $9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.
After crossing tha Berksline border on the homeward journey, passenger's were gradually set down and 'good nights' slonted matil the last reached home about 11 p.m.a ell tired but well content. Thanks are accoraded to the four iummbelsts, their steeplekeepers and all who assisted to bring success and anjogment, including Mr. J. S. Goldsmith. whose help wha invatuable. Tho standard methods werc rang in all the churches, and, in addition, at the six-bell towers, London nud Cambridge Surprise.

ALL HALLOWS', LOMBARD STREET.

S.P.A.B. AND DEMOLITION OF FAMOUS LONDON OHURCH. The G0th annual report of the Society for the Protection of Ancient suildings again forms an interesting record of the work carried out by the society in many directions during the year. Numerous ehureh restorations have beeu exceuted wilh the collaboration of the society, but the matter, reported on at some length, which will interest ringers unest, is Ihat relating to the deanolition of All Hallows' Chureh, London.
At Hallows ${ }^{3}$ has a ring of ten bells, and London ringing arganisations have directed the attention of the authorities to preservisg the peal intact and ereating it in some other church where there is a tower which will enable the bells to be rung
The S.P.A.B. report, as will be seen below, touches upon important malters relating to Docesan Advisory Baurds, who, given the additional powers proposed, may exercise still greater restraint in matters relating to bell restorations, although their jurisdiction, of course touches practically overything connected with the fabric and the fur uishing of the church.

The report on All Hollows' Church says:-
'l'he decision to remove this church is a great disappointment to the society and to all those who linve worked for its retention. That sech a decision could be taken without reference to the Jondon Diocesan Advisory Commitioe or to the Central Council for the Preservation of Churches, reveals an extruordinary state of afiairs

When the late Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Davidson, secured the exemption of elurches from the Ancient Monuments Acti in 1913 he eriainly gave 10 pledge that every singie church, early or late in date, should be preserved. No bniding-owning zuthority could do Ihat, not even the Offee of Works. But he did promise that the Churel would set up efficienb machinery to deal with questions of this kind. What Jias lappened is not that the particular machinery has moken clown in this case, luat that All Hallows' bas managed to escape it.
It is an amazing thing, but it is actually the fact, that, while it is and fras [ar long been practically impossible to pull down a piece of ans ancient alareh to add a vestry or an organ chamber in the Victorish mamuer, or cemen to carry out an old-fashioned 'restaration, it renlly is possible to destroy a whole church! Such appareatly is the state of the law.

FO CONTROL BETORE CONSECRATION

We understand that there is a strangely parallel situation in regard to new clurches. It is not possible to place filtings or monuments in existing churches without the closest serntiny, hut prior ta consecration there is no conirol over what nay be placed in a new church. There is urgent ued for some alteration in the la
Ifal there is no doubt that very real dificuthes are arising in consequence of the shifting of the population and the traffic problems of urbon areas. Certain recent schemes show that the municipalities ate likely at any time to wish to destroy valuable buildings in central arcas. How fnr State Control could protect some of them nowadeys is a diffeult problem. A Government department would certainly have to halance various interests against one another, and it might well be that without greal expenditure of maney and elaborate protective town plamming, some loss would be inevitable in overcrowded areas. The Society for the Prolection of Ancient Buildings may congratrate itself that in the case of All Fallows' it has dome all that could be done, and that the agitation has shown the public that buidd ings of a certain degree of importance cannot be fouched without an utict
It is also satisfactory to mote the cbange of opinion that has come over the country in regard to renaissance art. Notwithstanding the destruction of All Fallows', the balnnce of opinion in favour of the mportanee of preserwing renaissance work is more with the Church futhoritias than with the State. Phe Royal Commission on Histarionl Monumends in their reports ignare everything from a few years after the date of All Hallows. One may seaveh most of their reports in vain for notice of anything of the later years of Wren or the work of Inis followers, while most of the Diacesan Advisory Committees are slow to tolerale interference with min eighteenth-century work of real ristinction. The irony of the situation is that while a church like All Hallows' is to be pulled rown, the London diocesan authorities liave heen encouraging the expenditure of vast sums of money in repairing the other eity churches, and on this lines approved by this society.
What sems to be requirea is some new lepislation by the Churel Assembly to secure that cases like that of All Hallows should come hefore the Alvisory Committee at the very begiming of any scheme The serious thing is that there may be other cases in the future. We must ndrait that according to the most reliable information, none of the other city chumelies in Londou are in any danger. New uses are lheing foutud for some of them: most are now well used on weak-days. The scheme for puling down mineteen is certainly in tining of the phst. It is rather in some of the provincial towns that the danger lies, e.E., Sheftield, York, Norwicli and Worcester. In none of these cases, as far as we know, has the Advisory Committee been consulted, though the destruction of walnable churclies is contemplated as a consequence of urben depopulation
There is another mather which requives ventilation. In London, notwithstanding the $A$ II Mnllows scandaI, the Advisory Committee is a (Continned in next column.)

CULPABLE NEGLECT ALLEGED

vory weighty borly, doing excellent work. But in some parts of thu country it does seem possible to say that there has bean culpable neglect in fulfilling the pledge that the Archbishop gave the nation in 1913. For the Advisory Committee system is either not working a all or else working very badly. Take the diocese of Hereford fa example, or that of Derby, or of Durham. We do not know who their secretaries are, or what they are doing. And it still seems pos sible for an ignorant incumbent or parochial church council to hold up their wark by sheer defiance. In the city of London the Church o St. Olave, Have Street, lias the unenviable distinction of possessin the dirtiest monuments. In the same church the advice of the emanen architects responsible for recent repairs was ignored by the parish on points of grent importance. We could quote other simila cases. Though less spectacular, these are matters of grave concern, because, unlike All Hallows', they are within the sphere of responsibility of the new protective system.
It is only fair to say that legislation is now pending before the Churels Assembly in whieh it is intended to stiffen up procedure before the Consistory Courts, and to strengthen the lhands of the Advisory Committees and the Central Faculties Council. But the un happy experience of All Hallows', Lombard Strebt, shows that thet is not. everything, as it is difficult to see how it will affect those unwanted churches in depopulated urban areas.

The All Hallows' ease hes shown the value that is attached to the city churches and to the wark of the English renaissance. It is poor compensation for the loss af the churels, but it is something to be able to recall the fact that, whereas in Victorian cases of destruction of eiby churches little care was taken of their contents, in this oase the greatest care will be exercised even to reproducing in the new sub urban church which will succeed All Hallows" the conditions of the east and west euds, so as to contain the woodwork in surroundings suth as it was intended to fill.
It is clear that there are elements in the Church which still do not take titeir responsibilities seriously enough where arbistic and architeotural considerations are concerned. Unless new legislation is carried through and made to apply more widely, and unless local dis loyalty to their own syrtem can be stopped, the Church authorities are quite likely to encounter a renewal of the agitation for tho takin ovor of buildings by the Stata. The Advisory Committee system has certainly made far-reaching changes in the last tmenty years, not lenst by its insistance on the value of remaissance work, but events are showing that it las not gone far enough, ned that its net must ho rade closer and stronger.

QUEX PARK

A RECORD PICNIC MEETTNG

I by-meeting of the Canterbury District of the Keat County Association, held et Quex Park on Saturday, August 28ih, broke all yecords for attendance at ang similar meeting of the district. Memhers and friends, numbering 80 , were present, and 16 towers were represented.
The afternoon's ringing was broken off at 4.30 , for those present to be shown over the Natural History Museum of Cal. Powell-Cotton alvached to the Mausion. They were tuken raund by the Curator, Mr. Peufold, who explained the many exbibits to them. The exhibition is innique in the fact that all the specimens, with the exception of three, were shot by one man. The posing of the animals in their natural surroundings gave rise to many expressions of delight by those who were fortunate to be present.

A picnic tea in the park followed. This was provided through the generosity of Mr. Harrison Smith and Mr. Jack Walter, and, needless to say, was enjoyed to the full , by all. Thanks to these gentlemen and to Miss H. Smitl? for her 'home mades' were expressed in no moan measure. The weather proved fine, and members were able to choose which 'chair' they liked, the most comfortable posture proving to be the 'back to back' position.
Birchinglon tower, with seven members, was re-elected, and notice was given that the annual district meeting would be held in Canterbury on October 9th,
A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Powell-Cotton for the use of the bells, for allowing the members to pichic, aud for the opportunity of being able to look over the museum.
During the ringing the back ten of the ring of twelve were rung a hand composed entirely of ladies, the Wiekhanibreaur 'belles ' ving their first pull on ten.
Darts proved to be very popular during the afternoon and evening, iree forming a good substitute for the more usual background.
The bells at Birchington Church were open during the evening, any liaring a pull there before leaving for home.
Thie gathering proved one of the loppiest meetings at which the has been present.

THE 'OLD 'UNS' HAVE AN OUTING. AGE TELLS ITS TALE.

Loughton fingers, most of whom are getting on in years, withs iends and three other old ringers from Woodford and West Hant hat their ammal outing on Saturday, August 21st, when they visited lissex and Suffolk towers. Finchingneld, first on the list, was reached sout 9 a.m. The bells were set goins to Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major, and call changes for the grobationers. A nice rim through wriading roads then brought the party to Woodbridge, where further inuches were brought round. The steps up to this ringing room were more tlan one old aud respected ringer of Loughton conld manage. e had to be content with listening to the bells and expressizug lis cat disappointment at not being able to have a pull. Dinner was erved at the White Forse Hotel, Leiston, and ringing afterwards ok place at the Parish Church, mare famous among ringers by the formances of the Bailey brothers. This tower pleased the old wattiors in the party, for they were able to ascend with ease. Touches -re brought round in various methods, iwo of the local ringers joinig in. The jouracy was theu continued to Halstead, where Miss H. nowden and her brother met the party. Tea was awaiting the party the Lads' Drill Hall, and after the meal thanks were accorded to the ganisers and a move was then made to the tower, where touches of randsire, Stedman, Kent and Bob Major were brought round. Lolggton was eventually reached about 9.30 after another most enjoyole day. The jingers wish to thank all incumbents and tower masters - Cheir kind help and permission for use of bells, and especially Miss Suowilen for ler willing assistauce.

COMPOSITIONS OF ROYAL

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-1 read wititinterest, in the current issue of 'The Ringing Worlc,' Mr. G. E. Symonds' letter under the above heading. He therein declares that the second las been 'subjected to suels humiliations.'
Some time ago, I worked cut a 5,080 of Treble Bob Royal, in which the second comes into its own, by being at home at every course-end. Surcly in a peal of this sort ihe second plays an important part.

RINGING ON CARD INDEX SYSTEM.

HOW IT FAILED.
Salehrst, Sedlescombe, Brede, Rye, Winclelsea, Hagtings, BexLill, Brighting and Burwasli were visited by members and friends of St. Peter's Society, Tuubridge Wolls, on August lank Holidny. It is rather a funuy business going out with the St. Peter's ringers, Live ringing being done on a kind of card index system. Eacli ringer has his or her card (provided with a smell hole in which to place a piece of string to hang round the neck), on which is printed the number of the bell the performer will take in a certain band. It is it fing idea; you don't have ringers rushing to ring bells they wouldn'ti dare touch at home; in fact, there is no rush at all until the ond of tine day, when everybody begias to find out how to read the cards and looks at, instead of sititisg on, them. Everything started in a very orderly way. The fine schedule was worked out to tho mimute hanat on time stiarting, bang on time at Salehurst; Stedman, Bob Mijor, Oxford Bols Triples, Double Norwich and Kent, 14 ringers taking pric, and the card index puthing the party 15 minutes late in getting avoy.
Six masical bells at Setlescombe were rung to Grandsire Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent aud Cambridge. Then to Brede, where is a heaubient church, contaiving many objects of interest, among them being ans culs eradle, said to have beon that of Dean Swift, suthor of ' Culiver's Travels, "A Tale of a Tub,' otc. Guite a nice six at Brede, which were got going after juggling with the cavds, to the above mentioned methods. After a little light refreshment, the party set off for Ryc, No ringing at Rye, but luncheon. The orderliness began to vauish, some of the lighter-minded no donbt had visions of preqions outings. Of course, the captain of the band was tho last to got his first course, and quite a young Ladd was first to geb all the courses. And whers it was discovered that it was possible to get something to urink besides water, there was no end of a row, because the captain had filled the glasses with wator. However, the young Ladd sitting close to one uf the windows speedily disposed of the water, and everything gettlexi down again, witli littile outbreaks of mirbi oceasionally, no donlat dite. to something a Man said who used to live at Tenterden.
After luweh, a course of Triples on the handbeils, and of to visit the historical old chuteh, with its profusion of different periods of building, stained windows and the peonliar pendulum of tile clork, which swings over the heads of the visitors as they enter through the doorway an the base of the tower. Mermaid Street, with its cobbles and quaint old timbered houses, provided the way to tho "elarn," which some of the less edncated of the party would eall the motorcoach. The joumep to Eastings was made in rather a quieter mood; whether this was the effect of the lunch or the fact that the perfect time schedule had side-slipped to the frome of about three-quartors of an hour, it would be hard to say. A stop was mode ad Winchelsen to renew acquaintance with the wonderful old chmeh. Here again the time of departure got "hooked up." Yau see, the man whe used to live at Tenterden is something like the sailor who had wives in every port. He has friende in every port. However, the party didn't hare to wait more than half an hour for him, and arrived at $A 11$ Saints' Hastings, just in time to stop Mr. Levett from going loome lo liea. A fine peal here, but a little noisy. Off went the card inder to Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples, Kent and Superative Surprise, The mon-ringers, who had been consuming great quatities of inccream and crossing the Atlantic on the boating pool, were picked up on the front, and the party set off to Bexlill. Owing to the fact that geveral of thon linew Bexinit very well, the 'shara' went quite a long way past the chnroh and the place for tea, aind they liad to nsk a policeman where it was.
it is alwars a job to get postoards of the varions churches on Brak Holiday, but the captrin (he's a hit of a "smarl: Alec' sort of fellow" found a shop where they seld quite rood photoraphs of the dumb for one penny each. Fe bought about a dozen, got late for ten. had to lhury throaghe the first part to be in time for a cream bum or two. He then collected for the waitressef, collected pemmies for the posteards, got it uixed up and, well, the waitresses didn't do so bad[y. Bub that isn't the end of the story. Owing to their 'pmetuality: ' the verger at Bexhill thonglit they had heen tipped into the sea or hlown up, and, having something else to do besides wait abouk all niglat for at band of rinsers who seemed to think time was nolhing, went off with the koy, and the party didn"t ying at the place they had posterrds of aftor nll. So they wemb on to Brightling, ennd indexes came oult, everybody knew just which hell to grab, including the lady who mude a mistake in the number and rant the tenor at Hastings (Brightling tenor is quite light, fool. But disappointiment awaited them, 'They were met by Mr, G. Pong and informed that owing to a death nearby there conld be no ringing. Burwash was on the route, and off they went in the hopes of obtaining the use of the bells there. However, it being rather late in the day, other diversions were tried by variats high lirlits af the party, and found to be very successful. Sn home to Tunbridge Welis after a very enjoyable day.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

OUTLIVED USEFULNESS.

Very little of the spirit of rivalry exists between ringing associations nowadays, and it is all to the good that it should be so. All associations are working for the same objects and while there is, in some cases, an overlapping of areas, a spirit of mutual understanding and forbearance makes it possible for the societies to promote their own welfare without friction with their neighbours. Among the larger organisations which ruib shoulders where diocesan and county status happen to spread partly over the same areas there is, almost everywhere, a noticeably, friendly feeling prevailing, while even the existence of district socicties within the sphere of operations of larger territorial organisations provides evidence, not merely of toleration, but of a genuine spirit of goodwill. The explanation, of course, is to be found in the good sense of the ringers themselves, exhibited often in the fact that they enjoy a dual membership, and thus have a personal interest in both the major and the minor associations.
There is, however, an interesting exception to the interchange of membership in the rules which forbid a ringer to be a member of both the two old London societies-the College Youths and the Cumberlands-at the same time. This is a relic of the days when the two organisations were jealous rivals and when bell ringing was practised for a totally different reason to that which characterises it to-day. The changed order of things makes this now a totally unnecessary prohibition, but those who set higl store on tradition, even when tradition restricts adaptation to modern conceptions of usefulness, would not, we believe, lightly alter the established custom. There is, however, no place in the Exercise for prejudices of past centuries, and those who maintain them are only standing in the light of progress. As a matter of fact there are comparatively few ringers whe see any advantage in the mutual barrier between these two old London sacieties, which in the early days of ringing did so much for the advancement of the art. It is not merely in the matter of peal ringing that one sees the futility of the arrangement ; it has its influence in other directions, and there are many members of both, especially in the provinces, where, after all, lie the greatest numerical strength of the societies in these days, who would like to see an end put to this survival of an age when ringing was purely a sport and bands were in as keen rivalry as clubs in many brauches of sport now are. It may be that fingers who actually live in London have no desire for dual membership, but often visitors from the provinces would be prepared and, indect, would esteem it a privilege, to join both socicties, if only for the opportunity of (Continyed on, page 594.)

PEAL NOTES.

A NTE PEAL OF BRISTOL SURPRISE MAJOR,
The firgt peal of Bristol Sirprise in Bolton, Lanes, was mang on August 28th at St. Peter's Church. The composition, by Mr. T. B.
Worsley, was rung for the first time Here ale the Cisur Worsley, was rung for the first time. Reve are the figures:-

In this form it is a 5,056 , but ith can be reduced to 5,024 by using the alterate calling in the tenth course.
There were some veterus in the peal of Boh Major at Netherton on September 1st, conducted by Mr. D. 'I'. Matkin, James George, whin is nearly 84, was, we are told, in great form both on the tenor and afterwards. Mr. Samuel Hughes, who is over 70, stepped into $n$ z ad the last moment, and made bis first peal attempt for three years
It is a pleasure, too, to notice the rehum to peal ringing of Mt Mathin. It is over & year since he made a peal attempt, owing to an attack of sciatica. We hope his recovery is permanent.
A farewell peal to the Rev. R. G. and Mrs. Bradshaw, who going to Mertion, was rung at Woolwich on Alugast 28th.
Fdmonton Bob, a plain Major method in the C.C. Collection, not often rung, and, if recollection serves us, the peal atr ' Twick ham on Saturday was only the second in the method, the first having been rung at Willesden in 1924.

The tenor at Rolvenden, Kent, was rung to a peal of Grandsir Triples on Saturday by Mr. Alfred Blackmans, who is over 70 year of age.
A Sussex Association peai was rung at Lamberhurst Kent, on Satur day, and in it five of the six ringers scored their finst peal in five Minor methods. The anly one of the band who had rung five methods in a peal before was Mr. Albert Relfe, the conductor.
After 37 yeats as verger and sexton at Manden, Beds, Mr. Charles Sharp retired on August 31st. The next day a peal of Minor was rumg by members of the Badfordshire Association as a complimont to him,
A peal in the Islo of Wight is not a very frequent ocaurrence, but one was rung on Satuday at Brading as a birthday compliment to Mis. Abert R. Ward.

A peal of Camabridge Surprise Royal was rulg at St. Mary Redelife, Bristol, on Satarday. The terior is 503 cmt .
By rimging the seventh to a peal of stedmau Tiples at Crayford, Derck M. Sharp has now 'circled' the tower. This is always an interesting performance, but not a diffeul one at Crayford, where, we should imagine, more peals are now being ring than at any other church.
Two first peals, a first of Major 'inside' and a first as conductor, all at the first attempt; marked the peal of Boh Major at Halewroch, rung as a 64 th birthdry compliment to Mr. Edward Caunce, one of Lancashire's stalwarts.
The first peal of Kent Treble Boly Maximus on the bells at Walsall was rung on Saturday, when no fewer than ten distinctions wera enrmed. There were six first peals of Maximus, three first peals of Treble Twelve aud the frrst peal of Maximus by Mr. T. J. Flton as conductor.
Mr. G. E. Large, Having been instrumental in getting the Ombersley Uand to join the Worcestershire Association and having sunce taken & personal jaterest in their progress, has been rewarded by getting five af tho band through a peal of Grandsire Doubles. Three rang their first peal and one his first peal of Doubles (his only other peal boing a peal of Minor on the trehle). Useful spadework this.
The peal of Kent rung at Bunbury an Saturday was Mr E. V. Rodenhurrobs 350 h peal. It was aleo his 50th peal of Kent Trehle Bol, Major. His performances in this method include peals of $7,488,9,344$. 10,400 (the longest peal rung in Wales) and 17,280 (the Kent record).
The peal of Gamhridge Royal rung nt Ewerby diving the Tincalnshire tour contained 5,000 nlianges, and not 5,040 as reporled.

FOR BEGINNERS.

NXTPNTS OF TREBLE BOB.
correspondent, who snys he las just, learut to call Treble Bob Hinor and would like to attempt a peal, nsks us to give lim seven 720 's, as le is ithable to obtain a copy of tho 'Collection of Minor Netdiods' published by the Central Council.
This 'Collection' is at present out of print, but a revised edition will, it is hoped, be on the market ere long.
There are a number of extents of Oxford and Kent Treble Bots Whot, tha calling of which keeps the "tenors the right way when-er they come behind together, and these are always to be preferred do those which bring them up the wrong way, that is 6-5 at backstruke instead of 5-6.
'fhere are two useful 'standard' callings which keep the tenors right, and those who begin to call Treble Bob on six beils should make those part of their 'slock-in-trade.' One extent is got by calling the temor In and Out, in one course, and In, in the next, allernately for the six courses. You can bo sure of the course in whicit ouly one hob has to be called, because the 5 thl will make the holy and thus come back to its normal position after the Gth.

Fte olher 'standard' extent is obtained by calling the 5th, Out, in whe course, and In and Out, in the next, alternately for the six courses. A zuide to the course in which only one boh is called-in this chate the omission is the lun and not the Out-is when the 5 th has lwen coursing the 6 th before the bob is called.

If may seem innecessary even to suggest that guides are necessary hin such a thing as this, but the wise conductor always keeps his eye open for "lamcimarks" when studying his composition. It saves many a slip wher memory-as it las a babit of sometimes doing-lapses it moment. 'Therefore, get into the habit of 'tabbing ' your hides from the start,
Other extents cannot be memorised quite so simply as these "standard ' 720 's, They are 'one part' extents and really necessitate lealing ath the positions into which either or other bell is cailed. But if seven ' different' 720 's are desired there is no need to memorise other' extents beyond the bwo standard' callings. In each of ese the frats ends 42356 and 34256 crop up at regular intervals of vourses, with, of conrse, 23456 at the end.
ww 42356 and 34256 must oceur somewhere in the one part 720 s, that if you take an extent of this lind, you can make it serve the purpose of three by begiming the calling of the two additional ones froms the 42356 and the 34256 .
In the followiug these leads intn up plain. We give the bobbed lends and show the other two between lines:-

Fon can start the calling of either of these from 23456, 42356, or 3256 -they are equally true, and, as tho changes come up in a diferent order, they aro different extents.
Thus by learning the calling of two 720 's, and marking your 'part ands, when 5-6 are together behind, yon provide yourself with six different extents. Any other one-part can be treated in the same way.

A 4 CWT. TENOR.

lZingers from Newlury, Thatcham, Beedon, Chieveley, Compton, Kingselere, East Msley, Peasenore and Woolton Hill, with Mr. D. Cooper, of Groydon, aard Mr. T. Lock, of Willesden, had a lalf-day tripp on Saturtay, August 21st, and the first place at which they called whs Telsworth, where, having been greeted by the Vicer and Mr. Giblund, they ramg on a new light peal of six, the tevor of whioh is unly 4 cow Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung before poing on to Haddenliam to tea. Mr. D. Chapman welcomed the party, and the bells, a peal of eight (tenor 193 cwt.), were soon nEterwards going to Grandsire and Stedman lriples and Bob Major. Thame was reached at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{mm}$., and the aight bells (tenor 13 cwtb.) were runt for ay hour in: Grandsire and Steniman Triples and Bob Major. Nowbury was reached via Oxford at 10.45 after a pleasant ruti over the Downs and a very enjoyable trip.

RINGERS IMPROVISE SERVICE

Mr. R. Whitington (Ctanleisth) suressed the faportance of ringers murchasint 'The Ringing World' each weck, and said it would be a serious thing for the Exerase if for sny reason tho papar should cease being published. He thought it was a matter for the Comtral Gouncil to discuss.-Mr. Nye and the sectelary also spolto on (llis matiter.

MID-WEEK MEETINGS SUGGDSTED.

Another matter brought forward hy Nir. Whittingtou was the loolding of Iínging meetings on Wedhesday afternoons. It was thought that a cumber of ringers were unable to nttend on Saturdays, lint could do so if meetius were arranged for Wednesdays. It was sug gested waf the Farulam and Guildford Distucts should combine some convenient tower for a Wednesday uneeting.
A lively discussion followed, and it was flamily decided that the seeretary write to all district towers enquiring the number of ringers able to attend on Wednesdays; to write to the Gnildford District hon. secretary ou the matter, and also put the mather on the agenda for the next Execntive Committee meeling, with a view to a recolntion being made to the ammal general meeting.

Votes of thanks were atcorded the organist, local ringers midd caterers, and appreciative reparks paid Mrs. Welton and others woncermed with the conducting of the service.
Towers represented at the mecting inchded Aldershot, Ash, Seale Westminster, Uckfield, Yorktown, FLaslemere and Guildford.
Ringing took place during the afteraoon and eveuing in the stantard methorls, and thoge presents spent a very pleasant time.

RINGER DIES FROM WASP STINGS

ATTACKED WHILE ATYEMETHNG DO DFSITROX NEST.
Whilst attemptiug to destroy a wasps nest on bhe furn at whicht he was owployed at High Falstow, Kent, on 「nemtit, August Ky, Mr. Lawrence Hales was altacked ly the swanm and severbly stumg behind the ear. He was, at the time, close to lris home, which he managed to reach, but within about 20 minutes had succumbed to heart failure.

Mr. Hales had been a member of and instructor to the Hoo, Sit Werberg, band of tingers gor about three years and applicd himsell with grear difigence, conpled with distinct cretid, to this very uphtll task of teaching a completely mew band. #le was also a very enthusiastic member of the Rochester Distried of the Kent Association, very seldom missing any of the periodical meelings and alao brinering along other members of his bnind
The interment took place at High Halstow on Saturday, August 7 th , 'I'he Rectar (the Rev. T. W. Longfidy , officiated ant those presenl included Lhe Fiem of Hoo (the Rev. L. J. Walters), his warkmatus from the finm, members of the Hog band of ringers, anrl Meesrs. Alten and Belsey, representing the Kent Gounty Ascocintion. Ampugst the floral thibutes was a wreatli from the Hoo riugels and also one from the Rochester District.
After the funemal, Hoo bells were rung half-inufled and a 720 of Boh Minor was successfully accomplished by the following members of the association: F. Booman, A. Bloxhem, W. Easter, F. Belsey, I. Springate, E. A. G. Allen (cunductor).

The sympathy of the whole of the Excreise will be cxtended to the bercaved family. The association can jll afford to lose men of Mr. Hales' calibue.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, PINCHBECK, a friend of the poor aud died asped 83 years. There is a Eradition that on the marriame of Wilfim Bird and Ana Rose in October, 1801, a wedfling reat was Tung here by a team of females. North tells us the third bell of the old ring of live was cracked. All was in a very dirty state and the liells seldom used. They were variously dated frow 1607 to 1694 . From five to ten these bells were augnented by the Rev. Law James-incumacub for 34 years-and other important worls carried ont in tha church, near which he now rests from his labours. Incidentally abont 50 years ago $I$ helped him to ring his first peal at Stroud. The Diocesan Guild anded the trebles in 1933 in fnemoriam " from ringing friends and members, and they are now clamel tu be the lightest twelve-bell peal in the Kingdom. Some of our men found they wanted expert 'tickling.'
At Gly Ginth hot luncheon was served ut 12.20, fourteen siting vound the jorial hoard to test the eftoiency of the spraiued wrist of the carrer: Ee got throngh his duly as lsost, wilh Mrs. Rtchardson's hiclp, hat some of the givests-if they stajed in Surfleet-would soon emmate his 'Slim Girth."
Jondon Surprise at 1.30 p.m. at St. Mary's, Pimelibeck, was aferfed by some of the Surflect "triffe, and a third' go,' or helping, was calted hefore settling down to the real method. Duritg the rimping the duld mad rough wenther secmed to be leaving us; for the vemander of the wreko it was ofy enjoyalnt.

An altar tomb near the chancel, with richly earved pavels, to Sir Thomas de Pinchbeck, 1500, a fine roof with shields and carved oak angels ste features of the church. On the porch wall is a panel in memory of John Healey, who died 1850, and 27 children buried uear, with seven children surviving him. Mr. George Ladd, captain and churchwarden, in the absence of the Vicar, who was on holiday, wel comed us, and was as pleased as myself with the success of the peal.
Thers is a fine ringing foom similar to Hechingtou but far moro up to it. This tower leans to the south-west, but not so much as Surfeet The belfry walls disclose that Mathew Laxton Inng a peal of Doubles on the old five bells in 1816. He and his lamily wele vergers here fo 124 years. The old bells had no cannons. They were cast by Tobie Norris at various dates from 1624. Trine tenor was 48 inches dianeter. Now there is a good going octave, upon which some 14 peals havo been achieved since their restoration. Here is a local smith's belfry candlestick of four arms, similar to that at Surfleet, preserved with the old weather cock and rane when the tower was stiwck by light ning in 1893. Amongst the church records is the willage crapenter's account, in verse, dated 1769 :-

To Wisbech. We left the Cross Keys on Moaday morming at 9 o'clock upon a bright and promising day, ruming our cers on les roads that have $1 t 0$ bounday, hedgerow or fence, only the deep fon land dykes, which afford extensive views of the broad acres for miles and lie open to the North. Sea breezes. Along Whese roads I saw hes and there quite half a dozen gleeples each peeping up above a chump old trees surrounding the church. The whole landscape is bute places, only a farmhouse now and then, with a few coltages for th labourers. These steeples, in the mornjng distance, seemed to offer u an invitation; to ask if we were about to pay them a visit $\rho$ Amorsa our list of $16^{\circ}$ there was found the 'Eincolnshire steeple' at 11 of '! churches we paid our respects to, and the week's tour could not h extended. At tell of our towers the belfry was on a level with the church, and with a small car one could dive straght into the ringins room, easy soing for men who have passed the allotted 'span.' Thl above verse was selected because I had never visited my nother native town, so it was a double pleasare to me to ring mpan the oi church bells she had often listened to ahout a century ago.

A NOTABLE CHURCH

SS. Peter and Panl's Ohurch holds a prominent place amongit the notable churches of East Anglia by reason of its large dimensions ann: extraordinary plan. Begmning with a Norman buildiny of smadl aud obscnre origin (some say in the year of 'four ones,' 1Ill), it has twioe been onlarged. Increasing wealth of East Coast woollon tradc and a flourishing port on the River Nene created a prosperona market noted for its numerous rich religious gitilds.

Controversy arose as to how the various periods of arohitecture luw ceme confused in the construction of the church, which were elucidated by Sir G. Scott I., and the Vicar, Howson, who afterwards becama Dean of Chester. The plan of Wisbech Chureln comprises the follow ing elements: Nortl gave with norild afsle, and long nolth chancr, 6ft. wider than the nave; gouth gave with south aisle, and a shord south chancel with a large sacristy beyand it on the east; south porchi west turret and north-west tower
During Fenry VII.'s reign further important alterations inci additions were made, the former beng necessitated by a partial collapse of the west tower. In 1406 thers were ten chantry chaplains sorving at Wisbech. There is a large brass, 1401, to the memory of Thomat Brankstone, Constable of Wislech Castle.

Muel of wy informmetion is taken fron a booklet of the chureh by P. T. Jones, B.A., in which he also tells us that the present clock was erected is 1866 at a cost of $£ 400$ by James Danim as a gift to the towt of Wisbech. The belfry of the tower contains a peal of ten fire toned bells cast in 1823 by Dobson, of Downham Market, tenor 2I cwt. 2 gr'. 15 lb . The most ancient of the old bells was founded in 1566 1thl a nothor gave its uses in Lalin, translatied

I praise the true God. I smmmon the people to pryyer.
I gather the clergy together. I maurn over the dead.
I drive fway pestilence. I add grace to festivitios.'
My readers will probably agree that such a valuable insbument. ouglit to have been proserverl after centuries of six-fold derotion without the "Jingen" (it. maty as well have heen a lump of leat.

LONG SUTTON'S WONDERFUL SPIRE.

Our party survey'ed the church and admited ia very fine ringing gomm, easy of access, over the north porch with a useful trap door ventilator in the floor between the two tenor boxes. It has four large windows and old beans across the ceiling which give an impressive air of the l7th century rpartrents. The tower louvres are fitted with slutters, that save complaints from the professional and business people crowding in the nerrow strests around the church. A rare ikon is to be seen, brought from Russta and presented by Mr. Bray.

Mr. Freeman, with the keys, did yeoman service to secure our tean a good start, but only one hour of Yorkshire Royal could be accomplished. If I ask the popular paestion, "Wbere's Greorgep" I tell mo tales out of school-there weve four of them in the attempt. We were pleased to learn that Golden Nolan lad paid a successful visit here far a peal the week before, and we found the bells going well, having been rchung by Mears and Stainbank in 1934. The present Wicar, the Rev. H. K. Stallard, is mastering bellringing.
Rather more than two years aso these belis were rededicated by the Rural Dean, wheu an address was given by the late Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, Rector of Walsoken. The restoration was practically the last undertaking he promoted before mecting with that tragic accident in the gronnds of lis home that robbed the Exercise of a valuable minister, ringer and librarian.
We rested at the ringers' house, The Griffin, and left at low tide after Iunch without seeing the museum, with its valaable collection, lately increased by the generosity of Mr. J. J. Kirk, of Maidenhead, who is a native of Wisbech.

Auriving at St. Mary's, Long Sutton, soon after 3, it was nearly 4 o'clock before the Bristol Major began. We were kindly received by the Rector (the Rev. H. Gorse, late of Warringtorl), the captain (Mr. T. Smitli) aud Messrs. Hammond and Barrate. The old six bells here were founded by Henricus Penn, of Peterborough, in 1716 . The tenor, $39 \mathrm{~d} i \mathrm{ta}$. in diameter, was cracked when ringing for the funeral of the Rev. R. Leigh Bennett in November, 1885, the last of three Vicars of that name who covered the century 1784-1886. It was recast as a jubileo bell for Queen Victoria in 1887.
In the belfry is a small mintature model of the old bell (made with metal from it) and presented to the chtucl by Mr. James, of Lewellyn and James, Bristol, and lias the original inscription reproduced. Wessis. Taylor and Co. mode a good job of the two additional trebles, recasting the old six (tenor 15 cwt .) and rehanging the peal in 1935.
Like many of the stecples in Lincolnshire, this spire bas suffered from stoms and was struck by lightuing in 1934. The old weather cock now rests in the belfry. The church is buit of stone containing some good work of all the slyles of ecclesiastical architecture-Norman, Early English, Decorated, Early and Late Perpenclicaliaz, and consists of a chancel, clerestoried nave of seven bays and ajsles, north and south porches, a south-west tower, with angle buttresses, rising in the thimd storey jnto octagonal turrets, crowned with tall pinnaeles and a lofty octagonal timber spire, sleathed in lead, 162it. high, was added to the church about the time of King John. This trower and spire constitute one of the most remarkable desigus of the larly English or Lancet period in the kingdom. From it Boston 'Stump,' 15 miles away, can be seen, and it is tho only one which has survived fire and decay. There are but three similar spires in England, and of these St. Mary's is the best example. As recently as 1820 it was proposed to pull down the spire and replace jt, willh a stone one; fortuately tho scheme never came into action. Many years previous to this the four arches of the tower were opel. Ithey were built up to strengthen the steaple.
From the Register of Castle Acre Priory, it appary that about 1120 Robert de Haye grave a piece of land to the Prioly for the purpose of erecting a cluuch at Sutton. The eecond step in its history occurs about 1180, when Wiliam, san of Erneis, caused anew chureh to be erected.
Three generations of the Winter family lave been organists ansl choirmasters at the church, serving for 125 years. A large fat slome near the chancel has only three words upon it, "Alas! Poor Bailey." He was the doctar of the towa, who, while visiting a country patient, was foully murdered on a lonely road ab night througle an error of identiffcation.
Our party 'baited, at the White Horse, although no wind, no water or petrol was required, and we left for Spalding at 7.40. Quefy, what was the bait?

SPALDING BELLS

OUTCOME OF THE FOURIPENTH CENTURY DISPUPL

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-Mr. Fussell, in tris article on the Lincolnshire tour, retery to the dispute between the Priony of Spalding and the parishioners, and sajs the conclusion is not known. I think I can tell him.

The matter was referred to Rame, and in the Papal archives is u copy of a licence, issued by Pope Boniface IX., by which the parishioners are permitted to ring, whenever they please, the bells iu the Chapel of SL. Thomes, which the Prior and Convent had converted, st no small expense, into a parish church, notwithatamding the ascrement made at the time of its building that the parishioner ghould not ring tho bells while the Convent was in donmitory, excen for certain solemm feasts and at divers occasions.
But the mouks strongly objected to laving their sleep at night disturbed by hellringing. They uppeated agaiust this licence and got it revoked (July 2ud, 1401). The Pope ordered that in future, at might, after the ringing of tire Priory bell wont to be rung pro ignitegio (i.e., the curfew) until in the monning it is rumg for prime the bells camot and shall not without evident necessity be rung in the sarue clureh.

The Prior and Convent were directed to build a new elurch for tha parish ato $z^{2}$ distance from the Priory and across the water (i,e., tha River Welland'). The parish had to erect its own bell tower, but "the Priery shall five the parishioners two bells price 820 . (This was 1401, not about 1284 as statod by Mr. Thssell). The parishionerg shall not ring in their church at such fimes as the Convent is reposing in dormitory, except on Christmas Day and aight, or for fre, flood or other grave misfortune.'
I lave notes of one or two othor similar disputes.
I do not quite know what to make of this all night ringing. I was strougly objected to by the monastevies as a nuisance, and lateby the Reformers, and was forbidden by royal injunction in 1547 al superstitious. It was done by laymer. Martin Bucer, a fampus German and theologian living at Cambridge, wrote about * A. custom still kept up by superstitious men and fookisla boys that carry the ringers beer and ale to drink, and that it is against reason to ring all the day time and all the night, too, whan they plense.'
I think we bave here the barinnings of our ringing Exercise
J. ARMIGTR TROLLOPE
P.S.-Mr. Fussell should not attribnte Millon's well-known lines from 'Il Penseroso' to Minwell.

THE LATE CANON E C. CORFE.

FOUNDER OF TRURO GATHEDRAL GOMPANY.
Hie milly friends in Trura leard with deep regret of the denth ot August 28th at Pulborough, Suseex, of Canon E. C. Corfe, M. A. Ha was 85 years of age.
Canon Corfe was Precentor of Truro Cathedral from 1904 to 1930 and was mainly instrumeutal in tho [ormation of the Truro Cathedral company of ringers in 1910. During the 20 years prior to his retirement he was the representative of the company on the Dean and Chaptier and matched the progress of the company with keen interest. In 1929, after his completion of 25 years as Precentor, a peal of Gravisire Caters was rung at Truro Cathedral in his homour. He was well linown and belored by many Truronians, and his death will be greatly felt by all.
On Tuesday evening, Augusb 31st, quarter-peal of Grandsice Triples was ruag balf-mufleci at the Cathedral as a tribute of respecl. The ringers were A. Treganowan (first quarter-peal) i, W. H. Southeard 2, C. E. Lanxon (conductor) 3 , W, E. Minors 4, H. Willims 5, Ref. W. E. R. Trewhelh 6, W. T. sleeman 7, t. Treloar 8.

A CHANGE OVER.

A 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor was raug at Waltham St. Lawrence for evensong on Sunday. Half-way through the ringer of the third was changed, to give all present the opporbinity of a pull : W. Peatkon (first 720) 1, A. Pearson (first 720 "inside ') 2 , J. Cooper, sen., and $W^{\prime}$. Mortimer 3, Y. Darrill 4. J. Darvill 5, T. Tilley (first 780 as conEuctor) 6.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DIYISION RINGING MASI'ER ELEETED.

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association hela a very uccergfth meeting at Drightirgton on Saturday, September 4th, when about 60 memhers attendel from a wide area. This fine old church has contritaited more peals for the Yorkshire Association than any other tower. The ringing on Saturday was intermpled for a shor't timo by fo wedding which was taking place in the church, and as the happy pair left the ringer's suitnbly honouted tho event by a nicely arrneged tonch of Queen's and Stedmen Triples, jubermixed with fining.
splendid tea was served in the schoals, at which about 45 menners sat down, and this was followed by the business meeting, presided over lyg the vice-president (Mr. P. J. Johnson) and supported by the sseciation"s president, Canou Marshall.
The Chairman intimated that the main business of tho meeting was He npmointment of a Ringing Master, as this ofliec was still vacant. On the proposition of Mr. T. Kendal, seconded by Mr. W. J. H. Ash, Mr. T. W. Strangeway of Rotiwelf, was nominated. Mr. Stranemay ronsented to accept office, and the Chairmarr, in welcoming him to Lhe position, seid his patience would no doubt be sordy tried, but as he was a manried man be mas sure that it wonld be equal to the task (lazughter).
Canon Marslaall proposed a hearby vote of wanks to the Vicar and wardens for kindly granding the use of the bells and for the welcome which they had accorded to the association. This was seconded by Mr. Sherwood and carried sul the usual cordial manner.
rote of thanks to the local company for providing tea, and also the ladies and belpers for so ably assigting, was proposed by Mr ofthouse. who said the arrangements were admirable and well derving of the lighest praise. Ithis was seconded by Mr. Gill and apporlied by Mr: J. W. T. Holgate.
Lr. Jack Stiteon replied for the local company end expressed his alcasme at welcoming the association to Drighington. As it was years siace the last yisit, he hoped they would not lave to wait loug before the nssociation eane again to the tower.
Five new members were elected, viz.; Louis Hollas, Philip Murdoch
Edward Íanson, of Elland ; Roy Mann, of Halifax, and Jach earer, of Rippouden.
The Clairman rominded the membere of the annual Snowdon Dincer, which is to be held at Leeds on October gth, and hoped that many as possible world attend. He assured them that a good ogranme had been arramged, and he was able to say that adequate afresments would be available at reasonable prices. He also reminded the members that the association's financial year closes thjes month aud that all outstandinq subscriptions should be paid before hell.
After the meeting winging continued in a large variety of methods om Plain Bob to Cambiidge and Superlative Surpise until after o'clock.
The following towers were represented : Armiley, Batley, Bramey Braforí Cathedral, Boiton (Bradford), Birstaß, Burley, Drighlington, Denlolvie, Elland, Guiseley, HoIbeck, Huaslet, Hendingley iSt. Clad's ald St. Wichael's', Idle, Keighlej, Licdley, Leeds Parish Church Pudsey, Rothwell, Ripponden, Shipley and Newcastle.
It is hoped to acrange the next meating at Earlsheaton on Decem er lith, bit an amouncement will be made in due course.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN TUKE, SHEFFIELD.

A NARROW ESCAPE RECALLED.

The St. Harie's Compary, Norfolk Row, Sheffeld, regret to announce toss of one of their members in the persen of Mr. John Tuke, who asged awny on September Ist at the age of 86 Jears. Mri. Tuke asged awny on Spptember ist at the fage of g6 Jears. mis Tuke nout 45 yearg ago, being one of the first company.
He lafer became a member of the Police Force and had to give up 8 ringing ambilions for some time.
n the course of his duties he was shabbed in the meck, Ђut forarately secovered, #is assailant was sentenced to a long term of mpisonment and was lucky to escaps a more serious charge, for Mr
'uke's jugular vein was missed by only half an inch.
After serwing some years in the force he returned to his emplayAent as a bricklayer, during which he had a fall from a scaffold hiels resilted in serious spinal injuries. From thes he mever reovered and had gradually got more infirm with edvanoing years. became a member of the belfiy at St. Marie's when the comwas re-formed after the Armistice, and was m member of the orksinire Asseciation and the Shefield and District Socicty. Mr. Fulke had two peals to bis eredit, but his greatest contribution to ingiag was his most punctual and regrar attendanee as a service inge was interred on Snturcay at Wralkley Cemetery in the presence a large gathering of relatives, iriends and ringers. A course of riandsine Tiples was zung at the graveside by four of his colleagues, ne the muffled bells of St Marie's werg rung during the evening. The large number of beauliful wreaths sent was a proof of the mpect, in which the deoeased was held.
Fe leaves a widow, son and two datughters to mourn his passing.

COMPETITIVE RINGING.

EXPERIENCES IN DEVON

To the Editor.
Dear Sild, I have just aome tack from my holiday to liud tistee copies of "The Ringing World" waiting for me, and, much its I had looked forward to resding them, I had no iden that 1 shonld lind anything so welcame as your leading article, "Improve the shaudard of Ringing, As my friends know, I am a keen advocate of competibious as a means to this end, and your arficle sets out nul minnswerable case ju their favour.
In far too many towers a poor striker is ravely reproved, unless he makes a serics of really vicious blows, and scores of ringers have never been tratned to listen to their own bell (l have often wondered what possible enjoyntent a poor striker can derive fromt ringing). The contrast between this state of affairs and that in distriets where competitions are held is remarkable
I may, perlaps, here mention that this summer I had the pleasure of introducing to call-change ringing in North Devon it welt-known College Youth, who has helped to make history for tha Ancient Soolety, and whose dislike of poor striking is as keen as yont own. Apart trom the lack of open leads, which sounded strangely to his ears, he was delighted with what he found: the almost mechanical accuracy of the shriking, the instant yeproof by the captaius of tha band of line slightest irregularity, and the gemeral aif of kemness which filled the belfry. Fe hinself rang the fenor to a "poal, and he tells me that be will always be proud of the complimond. paid him aftervards by tho Iocal captain, who was guite unawate ol his vigitor's reputation. On liss way home from his holiday he fell in with a touring band and rang a conrse of Surprise Najor will them. He could not help comparing the guality of the strikiug with that which he had experienced in the depths of 'Stongy' Devon. There is no need for we to say which way the verciet went.
That competitions are largely respansible for the keenmess with which Devon ctill-change ringers listen la their striking eanmot be doubted. I wish that youk corrospondent, C. F. T., liad lien wilh mot at the Barnstaple Deanery Peskisal, held at Abheringlou a Cow wecks ago. Several of the competing bauds brought their incumhents wilh them, sad tha value of competilions was stressed lyy the Vicat of the parish in his address. The vory friendiest atmosphere preventen throughout the day, and no one was heard to cauestion the judges' verdit. When this had been delivered, the local band, who were debarred by rule from competing, entered the belfry sund gave int exhibilion of their skill, which a few weeks proviously had won for them the six-bell shield in a competition open to tho whole wume C. F. J. will be interested to learu that they have atianned this eminence, not by discouraging the youtl of the village-a very small one from learniug to ring. There are no less than 17 members of tha band, every one of whom is givers lis turn on pantice night. Nor is Atherington unique in this respeet. Two and sometimes thren hands from one tower frequently enter for these compelitions.

I sincerely hope that your article will stimulate the iaterest it deserves. I am convinced that if once the idea took practical sliape it would spread with rapid popularity and lesult iu a great, improvement in striking generally.

A HOPELESS CASE.
Dear Sir,- 'C. F. J.' does not say what competitive connlyy he ives in, but he makes me sigh, for his is a hopeless case. I fund more stigma in his articlo than I have lound in or rround any competition I have taken part in and I am sure that any oller conpetitor will think the same. Fis letter makes me wonder if he has heard a really good and inspired ring. I would tho lim, bofore he writes another article condemning competition uinging and its effects nfterwards (and not temprary), to come within the area of Huddersfield Association guld visit a few towers. I ams sure he will he given tho feeling that we do really care for each other and that mo selfishness is created.
I nepeat to 'O. F. J.' and all ringers for a befter anderstanding with each other and of the bells.

NORFOLK AND SUFFOLK RINGERS MEET.

A joint meating of the Tiastern Branch of the Norwicll Dincesan Association and the Suffolk Guild was held at IHungay and Ditohingham, adjoining parishes on the border line of the two associafions' Lervitory, on Saturday. Early in the afternoon the recently restored peal of six at Ditchingham and the eight at Bumgay were fet goinf, and ringiog continued at both towers in most of the standard mellods until late in the evening, except for an interval for tea.

A gathering of about 30 members sal down to an enjoyablo mend at Bungay, where the Vicar (the Rev. W. F. Harper) paid a slort Fisit and welcomed the ringers.
The thanks of the ringers are tendered to both incmonents for their permission to ring at their respective towers, to Mr. H. Barrell, of Gungay, for having the bells in readiness and for arramging flie tea, and to Mr. C. Woods for having everybling rendy at Difchingham.

BOB TRIPLES

PLALN BOB AND GRANDSIRE THE SAME METHOD  To the Editor

Sir, When one lugins to teach change ringing, the first step is the six 'tho changes on three bells. First on paper, then on handbeils fud then on tower bells-by themselves, and then with at covering bell or bells.
'The 'eight' on four bells follows, and the "picture,' seen by the begianer, is compared, row by row, with that seen on the "six.
The 'four and twenty' on four bells follows, and until the hegioner as mastered this thorougly-hunting, place-making and doolginghe should not be allowed to go further Moreover, he will aleo learn o strike his bell well. Ite shanld be tauglt striking while laming the 'six,' but lie probably will not lee able to strike well till lie has onastered the ' follr and fwenty.
His next step will be the plain conrse of Grandsire Donbles, and he hould motice that this is exactly the same piece of ringing as the four and twenty, excepl that there are two bells in the linnt insteat of ane. The conrsing orter and the order of 'duty ${ }^{1}$ of correaponding liells, will be the same: the "pieture" (or 'ropesight') of correspondIng rows in each will the the same; and if he can 'strike' the one wall he will be able to 'strike' the ather equally. Alt througll Grandsive Doubles be will look on the treble and the bell in the lant as one indivisible entity, which cannol be separated till a call is made.
The step from thes to Plain (nstally called Plain Bub) Minor wil now be seen to be the same as from tho Six to the Four and Twenty.
 bants, and the mothot is mow callen Grandsire Triples; because the name is changed it aloes not wow menn that the metlood is changed.
It ouflat not to be necassary to have any intemediate mothod hetween this and Plain Major. If Plain Triples be ring, it should only be a course or so, for the sake of practice, and never for a peat. It should be made clear to hegimars that this is only a variation, not a new meftod, and not a variation to he enconraged.

What is to be emphasised is that all these are one and the game method.

PLAIN HOB MORE BENEFICIAL TO BEGINRERS

Sir, Ny thanks to the boyn who rang the course of Bols Triples at St. Marg's, Staines, on Angusi 28th. I was amused when I read of the performance, and regret I was not present to hear blose wicked four blows coming up nt every leadend. I hope they anjoyed it.
In any case, it was somothing fresh to those who had mever heard it hefore, and, ats my friends were 'experts,' theil' strilting must have been perfecti, and it is likely the listeners may have thought; the music not so very awful as it has been made out to be.
Buts I dicl rot intend the saldject to go so fur as il already lus. I have never' said Tob 'triples is superbor in Grandsive. Nor have I stated it shauld be sulatituled for Grandsire in service ringing.
There are always those who will drhbarkthy miseonstrue a fellow's meabing and callse monecessary argument aud waste of space in columms that conld be used to better advautage.
my lumble way I said 1 thought it more beareficial to a learner to hegin change finming by being tiaght Plain Bob first.
Let it not bo thought I wish to 'ram. Bob Triples down anyone's flroat. 1 merely support the method on account of its construction eing on the Plain Bob principle.
To be quite candid. I (like a few more) prefer to hear the tenor ' in That's all.

CRANDSTRE A ' CONVENTION.

Dear Sir,-I was intereslecl to read Mr. C. A. Levett's reply to my letter. He will donbtless agree with me when I say that the purpose of church bolls is principally a Sunday one, but if he will agree with me when I say that Sunday serrice ringing should also be made as interesting as possible, theu I will explain why I advocate Plain Bob tather than Grandsire.
If wo are groing to make ringing as interesting as possible, the sooner a ringer is staread on oven Lell methods the soover will he become interested. Once a beginner has mastered Plain Bob, it is not a very big step to Trehle Bob, Double Norwich and the Surpuise methods. but I think I should be cobvect in saying bant to jurup from Grandsire to Treble Bob would be rather difticult. What, then, is the intermediate step? Olymonsly onr old friend Plain Bob on six, seven or cight bells. Why, therefore, should a hearner waste a consitlerable time learning Grandsire nud Stedman when he can go straight to plain Bob, the patl to those "illimitable realms, to use your words in tho last issute of "The Ringing World.
I think I catl prove Lhat, generally speaking, those who commence on an even-bell method the bettor strikevs mat quicker to pick ur advanced mothods than thoso who stant with the conventional Grandsire. I have visited orer 30 counties for ziaging, and the three best counties for striking, in wy opinion, are Youkshire, Norfolk and Suftolk, and in Urese connties even-bell ringing is usually the standard fare.

I said previously fint I thonght Grandsire a blind alley medtod. I still do, thongh Mr. Levett mertions the Central Council hook on Triple methods. The majority of these are merely Minor methods (Continued in next column.)

with a bell in the hant added and are mach better rung as methods. When one is zuvg it is msually simply to claim 'firsf the welhod'-Lhey hever lecome popular.
Anyway, my whole argument can he pul in a simgle sentencewasto time learning odd bell methods, whon, hefore any adva even bell method can be rung, Plain Boh must be learat? Why start witl Plain Bob right away? The exisfing convention takigg a turning off a main road and regaining the road two mi latel. In ringing language it is generally wo yerrs liater that beginner finds himself on the path to suceess. Balham.

SMEPPING STONE TO CHAOS.

Dear Sir-Enving had a few colts thongla my hands at varion times, may I be permitted one little barls in the "odd-cum-even tree I think mast instructors will support me when $I$ say that the co cluef trouble is not himbing up, but getting down to leat again after the whola pul' behind. This being so, I lave had a fair measure success in this problem by emphasising the work from belzind eating the buden of cotnting by waking the bells in pairs (cuite arthodox as counting in whole pulls). Tlus-Grandsire Triples down, dodge with your first bell ; $4-5$ down, pass one pair and do with the next: Bob Major, $7-8$ down, as 6-7 in Grandsire, $5-6$ dowu 45 in Grandsire, $3-4$ down pass two pairs, ete. So perhaps Grand does lead us somewhere after ath, whereas to try and instil inta mind of $x$ calt the anorthodox action of siriking one bell for luel before lae siarls on his himt proper is going to Tead him "1p the garden '- 5 - 6 down after 7 th's place is about as helpful as tenching him to dodge $2-3 \mathrm{np}$, and, besides, it 'isn't doare.' Ting Bob Thiptes by all means, for a chnnge, for" a few" stars, or evon for a lark. bit for heaven's sake keep the colt (ab least undil he las found his fent of the stepping stone-to chaos.

FRANCIS 'COMES A CROPPER.

HATHEMATIGIAN DISPOSES OF SOME OF HIS ARGUNENTS. To the Editor.
Dear Sil, -In the last issice of "The Riugiug World ' is a letter' by one liancis Becon, in which a number of points are raised yelative to the knowledge or lack of same on the phitt of certain menhers of ilhe Exercise with whom your correspondent is acquainted. It is, however, nuforthate that the writer ot the letter does not fhllow in ilio footsteps of his more famuus decensed nameanke and searell 1 rore iiligenatly after trath, as not all the points which he treats are the fallacies which lee apparently believes them to be. Thus if we take ulien in order
I quite agree with him when he says that most ringers monld say hat tho move a thell is tucked up the faster it will swing, but most would, mentally at any rate, qualify the statement so as not to inelude the case when the bell is so far tucked up as to be balanced in nuy position, when its molion will obviously be sluggish in the extreme. lo go further and say when this slowing down will begin to occur is, grant, leyond the powers of the majozity of tha Exercise, not, however. on the grounds of lack of brains or of intelligence, but calely as a resitt of a lack of a sufficiency of mathematical trainiug which can occur from ot veriety of canses, few of which reflect on the person affected. The fact that the majority would say that a bell does swing wore rapidly when tucked up is, indeed, a proof that the werage ringer is not without intellectual powers, as the effect of tucking a bell up is that slated in the majority of cases aud the sorrelation of observations iu this manner is trae science Withoul going into the matier deeply jt will be sufficient to say that the time taken for a bell to swing cau be represented by an eguation of the form-

T=C \sqrt{\frac{h^{2}+k^{2}}{h}}

Where $C$ is a constant for any given set of couditions; including size of wheel, stremgth of pull, atugle thoough which pull is effected (i.e., lengtin of pull), and antle through which the bell is swinging.
It is the distance of the centre of gravity from a lime joining the centres of the gudgeons.
$k$ is the radius of cyration of the lyell about a liue through its ceutre of gravity parallel with the line joining tlie gudgeons.
hit time will have a mivimum value whell $\left(k^{2}+1 \iota^{2} / / h\right.$ is a minimunt whel forming the differentiation, we get

1-k^{5} h^{3}=0

- that thove is a minimum value of the timo when $k=h$. Now the lang so that $k$ is less than $h_{1}$, any decrease in $\mathrm{l}_{1}$ leads to a decrease in the time of swing. Therefore, Francis seems to havo been ofjecting to triutit.
:1 the second case with regard to the purpose of using a bos for ringing a tenor ol obler heavy bell, I have nevar heard anyone suggest h hat binero is any difference with regard to the pulling of the bell, utit there is a reason why one should be nsed, which I think is quite cherally recoginsed, and it might pay Mr. Bacon to ascertain it.
With rearard to the third point, it seems to be merely commonsense which he is altacking, muless he is oue of those talented ringers who an set his bell at both strokes when finging and still strike his bell properly.
When lag atacks the Exerciso with respect to the time a bell takes 10 swing when equipped with different suzed wheels he again 'comes cropper as the following aygument will show.
As before, the time of swing is given by equation (1), so that, if we investigale the varjous points of diference which occur in the two eases, wa can sny with certainty what will happen on clanging the ize of the wheel.
Assume first of all that no difference oceurs with regard to the pull ul the bell, eithen as to weight or distribution over the sugle through whels the bell has swoung, then, as increasing the diameter of the wheel canmot alter tho value of h owing to the minuor sjometry of the whedg, we have

$T=A k$

Inere $A$ is a new constand involving $C$ and h.
Hence the time will be divectly proportional to $k$, and as tho momont of inertia of a lavge wheel is greater than that of as small wheel, then $k$, for the system bell tlarge wheel, is greater than that of the system bell + small wheel, and the times of swmg are, therefore, whe stlme ratio.
With regard to the assumption that has been made with regard to the distribution of pull, it can readily be demonstrated that the effect of any flifference is in the same direction. Thus a man ringing his bell properly makes a steady pull from the extent of his easy yeanil 10 somewhere in the neighboninood of his waist. Let this pull be $\bar{X}$ pounds weight and the distance throngh which the pull is made Ge $y$ fect, then the work done is $X_{y}$ foot pomis. In the case of a bell witf a wheel s feet in diameter this work is impressed on the system while the bell moves through aus angle of yls radians, whereas if the wheel is as feet in dinmeter the aligle will be only $y$ fas radinus, so that in this case the bell will be accelorated to si greater extent iu the early part of its swing with a conresponding decrease in the tione of this perth of its swimg Points (e) and ( $f$ ) of his letter are malters of opimion, and, as Mt. Bacon does not indicate the mothod of cutting out the slow in Troble Bob Major to which ha refers, it is impossible to discuss it.
With "egard to the last point of his lebter, Fradcis again has mude an unfortunate choice of an example, as there is a difierence in the two ways of making tea as may be fhown expeximentally. 'Hu purpose of puttirg milk in tea is ustally said to be to remove the 'trannin,' but, whafever the truth of this statemont, the fact remains that prior to the addition of the milk the lea is clear, but innmediately on the addition of the milk it goes cloudy, owing to the presence of smatl globules of fat and small partictes of solid matter derived from the "tannin' and the various constituents of the milk. Now, if the ten was the same if prepared by the two methods we should expect to have equal mumbers of these sumpended partich in a given volume of the tea; whereas it is an experimental fact that the numbers ave not the same, so it is possible that some people an detect tho difference by means of taste, which, after all, is only enother experimental method. Again F. B. aflet having left echool a few more years, might find linnself linked to another for life whe would probably insise on him putting in the wilk first, merely for the gake of prescrving her 马est china, and he woult fond then that he coutd not give np matrimony to nssociate with the intelligentsia, which might oass lim to say the word ho does not appear to linve the moral conrage to write-

G. WILERED SLACK, B.SG., Ph.ll.

The University, Leeds.
P.S.-I wouder if it woudd be nonsidered impertinent if out malied how fast F. B. prorressed with his ringing and suggest that hefore he casts the mrintle of a ringer from him that le does sometlaing recujing a little intelligence, it littlo work and a listle originality and wowd sumgest that ho tried compositng a peal of Stenman Triples, say, all cxact two part with only two singles.

TOO DEFASTATLNG TO PASS UNCHALLTNGED.

Dear Sir, -Wribigg in this week's Ringing Word, Mr. Fronets Bacon states filab he is giving up ringing because ho likes to assoumbe with intelligent people, and gives a mumber of reasons, from whith, I presume, he draws his conelasion - that ringars are not intelincuts people. This is rather a devastating eribicism far as ringers to alow to pass umehallenged. Looking through tive reasous givel lyy Mr. Bacon, I fail to see in them-such, no doubt, is my luok of jubinlim gence-any indication of ringers' allegex shorbage of brains!
Take one instance only-reason (b), "J'lut if yout sinnd an a hox io ring at tanor, you get a better pill than if you stand on the Hor." Perheps Mr. Bacon will enlighten me in what way this disploys a lack of julelligence on the part of the ringer. The reason, I have always thonght, that one stands on a box to ring a tenor is becanse the laryar wheel employed necessarily takes up the rope higher as the hell swings and consequently the average singer wonld not be nble to reach the rope it backstrake if lae stood on the foor. What that has got to do withl a lack of intolligence, I atterly fail to understand!
I will not analyse any of the other reatsons given by Mk'. Bacon, ns none of them will "hold water.'

The real rensou Mr. Bacon is giving hip ringing is most putathy becanse he arigimally approadied the art in the wrong frame of mind, and has now ceased to find any interost in it. Ot is it, perbaps, ilint his intelligence is suol that he is able lo grasp 'Spliced Surptise' at a glance, fand, therefore, finds ringing too ensy to ongare his attanr tion to ite full enprecity?

LIVERPOOL RINGERS EXCURSION.

WREXHAM AND CHESTMR CATHEDRA

A most enjoyable trip was nudertaken by the Sl: Nicholas", Liverpool, ringers ou their anmal outing. The party of 12 left Birkendend suan aifter noon for Wrexhana. where ther were net by Mexars. Catherall and Jones. Tonehos of Stemman nud Girndmiro Catera :und a course of Cambrige Major were enjoyed on this lime peal of licils, which hang in a magnificent tower, Jiglatly described as one of law thories of Wales. From there has was haleet to Holl, where was found a nice peal of six. Several mothods were mag bere prior ta walking ta Faydon on the Finglish side of the River Dee. Messts. Richards avd Wee had made arrangemerts for the witit to this tower, and the tomelyes on tinis yery pleasant peal of eighb were much enjoyed. It was a mntter for regret that the party had to leara for Chester immediately after tea owing to the infrequent bus services, for farndon is a partienarly atractire viliate, the riverside ndding to its fasoination. Nr. T. Swindley met the wisitors on their gilival in Chester, where hney were priviloged to ring on the Gabliedral helle recently angmented to ten. Several tonches were Fung, in which Messus, Swiadley aud Harris took part, The visitors wero plensed to meet Mr. J. Elint, of Bolsover, who thoy were glad to see lind recovered from a reccut injury. They wore plased also to lave flac company of Mr. J. C. J. Simpson to the station, and regretted he har been wable to accompany them to the varjous towers The Liverpool men are much ittdehted to the chngy and local ringers at ench place visited for meeting them and making the half-day sa very pleasuruthe.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation calied DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE ART OVERSEAS.

The art of change ringing in places overseas has never had other than a precarious footing, and, much as ringers in this country would like to see it lostered and flourish, there seem to be such innumerable diffoulties that, up to the present, it has done little more than raise its head in a place or two and droop again. In Melbourne alone has it had any long continued survival, for, while there may be a few other places about the world outside these islands where the bells have been more or less trequentily rung, only in this Australian city has the practice of change ringing been maintained through the years. In other parts of the Commonwealth, in America and the far West of Canada, in South Africa and New Zealand the plant, carried from the old country by ringers who have gone out to seek their fortune in the distant places, has blossomed after much labour, only to fade almost, and in some cases entirely, away.

The reasons, of course, are not far to seek, In those great lands the men are widely scattered; the towers are; for the most part, still more widely separated, and nowhere, except perhaps in and around Sydney, N.S.W., and Boston, U.S.A., is there any group of towers within practicable reach of each other. What isolated bands there are have to be dependent entirely upon their own unaided efforts, and it is not surprising that their interest and enthusiasm evaporates in time, and an effort, courageously made, flickers out, for want of help and encouragement.

In a letter elsewhere in this issue the question of what can be done to stimulate and assist these lone companics is discussed by one who has had real experience of the adverse conditions under which they carry on. Mr. A. E. F. Trotman has seen the difficulties which conlront those who are seeking to establish change ringing in Western Canadia, and he asks what can be done by ringers in this country to help. Visits such as that paid to Australia three yeats ago serve to raise local enthusiasm, but the effect lacks real permanency. Moreover, such organised visits cannot be made with the frequency necessary to keep the interest alive; distance, time and expense are all too great. And jet it ought to be possible to devise some means of keeping in touch and carrying on instructional work greater than exists at present. The pioncer work, such as was done by Mr. [. J. Attwater at Kent School, Connecticut, and is now being put in in a ladies' school in New South Wales by Miss Kynaston, cannot be overrated. It is the most practical means of spreading knowledge and interest and, although these pupils may eventualty settle in places (Contimed on page 610.)

A HOLBEACH PUZZLE.

Holbeacl athd Fulney towers, not fir away, were our venue for 'Thesday. The two steeplekecpers were faillifully waiting io receive the party at the respectjve whurches. Holbeach has a very handsome church, dedicated to AlI Saints, with an exceedingly line battlemented tower with inset tall spire. A framed pancel tells us the electric lighting was in memoriam George Lamb, 48 years organist at this chureh. Another frame gives the list of approximate dates of aie several parts of the bijking: Nave and aisles 1340 , clancel 1355 , ulerestory 1380 , tower and spire 1380 , tumet of north porch 1526. The tower and spire was yestored in 1932 .
Looking frum the chancel down tho nave to the west, the general view of the interior is equal to that of the reverse direction, A hold, lofty arch open to the nawe; is ground floor rinying room; three immense windows (that to the west thed with stained ghass); a bold stone groined ceiling with the ropes falling in a circle m the centre of the roon with their colaured sablies, altogetlier form a unigue picture.
Whilst we were ringiug people came to look round the charcla, for getting the spring latoh on the norlh door, which closed wich a land hang as each wisitur left. "Go, Lincoln,' was called at 9.57 a.m. by The boid belfry clock. Al one o'clock the conductor had the misforLune to call oul 'Set 'em up!' Ilow he bells wenty into a 'heap' uiter safe ringing for so long is in Holbeach puzzle.
The bells, musical and in excellent onder, wre a pleasure to tamdle and listen to. North describes them as a fime ring of balls in perfect lime. In his day the inscriptions tald of a rimg of eirght, cast in 1770 by Joseph Envre (wilh two of the cid bells of 1648 retuined). The ynor is in E flat and 451 in. diameter. In 1776 the clock atud chimes fere installed, and amangst nine items played on ilie bells, "Ladies of London' anal "Lady Chatham's dig "are meationed.

Owing to the Vicar being on holiday, the local captain, Mr. F. Lightning, and Mr. F. W. Benmett, met us, and offerod condolence at ons* sad loss, hat did not remind ins that' sweet ate the uses of adversity. INTLIRESTING BELLS AT FULNEY.
St. Paul's, Pulney, the church of the flowers, was fcund to be a modem building, the foundation stone laid in 1877, with vicarage, gchools and entowment similer to All Saints', Maidenhead. It stands prominent beside the main road, upon a sector of the connty somewhat above the usual level of the fen areas, and it is noted for the fertility of its soil. In season many acres of brightly coloured blooms fram bulb cultivation are atriking feature of the landscape. In this lelfry J. G. Ames learme to ring, and it was the favonmite of the late Law James. Here we were met by the Ren. J. E. Callister (Vioar) and Mr. A. Firr, and the peal of Crabridge duly ecored. These bells aro interestiner from the fact that they were cast at Shephand Eane, Irixton, London, hy the firm of T. C. Lewis and Co. and hung in substantial cest-irou cradles. They were presented by Miss Charlotte Charinton, the fonndress of the dunch, who gave the site, hurlt the chureh and sclools and endowed it.

All reperted at headquaters at an earlier hour than usual and compared notes-Rupert Riclarklson with 260 miles added to his 'taxi after driving his daughter to ber oirl gnide camp in Forkshire.

The visit to Lincoln on Wednestay provided a big day, with 50 miles to travel via Sleaford and Walesby. On this route we had an agreeable change of scenery, with hedgerows and big cimber at the roadside, and, as we climbed the hills, beatitul wiews of the district with the distant Cathednal crowning its falleys.
All Saints', Walesby, is a bime-worn mellow old chareh, upon an eminence, which necessitated empty cars for the last quarter-mile. The whole place is reminiscent of West Wycombe, or the Welsit charches by Brecon. The buildiag consists of a western towel, Have and chancel in line, north and south aisles and a south porch. During repairg in 1931 examination revealed the amcient stairs to the rood loft, which were replaced in 1933 , in lien of the remmants of the original of 1566 , that liad been buint, portions being useत to repair the church benches. The solated prosition of All Saints probably saved its destruction, as proposed when erecting a new church in the rapidly growing under part of the parish.

 Firet peal of Major on the bells

The three aucient bells of 1553 did duty at the new church for about 20 years. Phey form a useful little octuve to-day, after additions, and restored filtings, by Mcars and Stainhank in 1935.
In the absence of Rector Arnold, we were met by the Rev. A. S Farding, the promoter of the bell yestoration, who also took a rope with us, and Mr. J. Freeman, of Lincoln. After a good peal of sinperlative juajor, during which the conductor must lave renallec North Stonefam we left AII Saints' erouching ryon ite mount as if to defy the Northz Sea storms and the unkind eftorts of time and nembind.

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL.
And when evening sliadows soften Churchyard-cross, and tower, and aisle; These shal! blend their vesper summons With the dry's departing smile.'

At Ashlton-under-Lyhe, 1871.
We pulled up at 3 o'elock on the worih side of whe Cathednat, scarcely realising the gradient of the winding roads up throngl, the older parts of the city surrounding the venerable pile. A nearer view of this maguifieent building impressed one with its lugge proportions: its monster central tower, its wonderfil westhfronb and the rentarkably good material preservation of the whole structure. This Cathedral stands pre-eminent among the many cathedral churclaes of Great Britain, besides being one of the most ancient. Ruskin said that ib was worth two of any others and flat it was ant and out lite most precious piece of architocture in the British Isles.
We went "down' to lameheon at Boots' establishment wia ike Exchequer Gafe, down Steephill, which cars never use, past tho hatse of Aaron the Jew, gaid to be the richest man in England in the reigu: of Henry JI., and another belonging to a Jewess, Balasel of Wallingford, who was hanged in 1200 for abosing the King's coin. Dowit, down until my knees went over a bit, into the High Sureet that connects with Ermine Way, a Roman thoronglifare. The Newport Gata, and part of the town wall, is the oldest Thomat arch in Britain, built some time before A.D. 45 , the walls of the city enclosing some 40 acres an the crown of the hill.
Under the guidance of brother Lindoff (a resident here 40 years ago) the half-dozen tourfsts not ringing in the moring were able to explore many nole historical feratures.

At 4 p.m. we werc all united egain at the wost front, listening to two deep-toned bells tolling for evensong, joined by Mr. Breeman (tower warlen) and others, and kindly shown the way in, througl the Ringers' Clapel, up the south-west 'Hugh ' tower to the handsome linging room.

His friends will regret to hear that Mr. W. D. Smith was suddenly taken ill while in Eastbouma on Saturday. He was removed to his bome in Polegate, where latest reports indicate, we are pleased to say, satisfactory progress.

Mr. Smith is one of the oidest menbers of the College Fouths. Ho was Master first in 1891 and again in 1903 and 1904, He was for years connected with the ringing at #ackney.

Congratulations will be extended by the Exercise to Aldermula J. S. Pritehett, Master of St. Martin's Guild, and Mrs. Pritchett, of Hill Top, King's Norton, on the celebration of their goldeu weacing day on Tuesday.

There is to be a meeting of tho Warwickshire Guild ato Lawford, near Rugby, to-morrow, and a quarterly meeting at Stratford-onAydn on Oetober 16th.
The Durham and Nawcastle Diocesall Association celebrates its diamond jubilee this year, and particulars of the antangements for the annual meeting and dinner on 太Goptember 25th will be found is our notice columis.
Mr. E. Barnett, of Crayfard, writes: Your remarks in 'Peal Notes about 'circling a tower' has reminded me of Mr. J. IR. Sharman of Cogenhoe, Northants, whose record in this, I should imngine, is uniguc. At Easter, in the years 1901-2-4-5, he visited Quex Park, Birchingtor, rang 12 peals in 12 attempts, and each on a diferent bell.

MELAOURNE CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

CHANGE OF HON. SECRETARY.
Mr. A. A. Savage has resigned the Jon. secretaryship of the St. Paul's Cathedral Society, Melbourme, Aastralia, which he has filled sinee 1925. Mr. Savaure, who leamed to ring at Tnrvey, Beds, first migratad to Australia in 1912, served in the Great War, and returned to Australia in 1919, but it was not until 1924 that he joined the Cathedral Society. He has done splendid work as secretary and his resignotiou is much segretted.

He is succeeded in the ofice by Mr. J. Roper, one of the younger members of the society.

Recently the suciety has received an jnflux of 'reccuits,' Lour young men and one young lady laving joined. It is hoped that this acquisition of strength will ensure the maintenance of ringing at the Cathedral

OLD BELL METHODS HELP BEGINNERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -Mr. Cannon may have visited over 30 counties for ringing, but it is evident, from the conclusions be draws, he has never been to Birminghana. Whell fe does came to "grab" a few towers round that district, he will be able to hear striking equalled by very few bands. And, sir, may I point out to him that in that home of Stedman, most of the ringing is done int odd bell methods.
In my humble opinton, good striking can only be obtained when the bells lead correctly, and low can the beginger do this when the bell he has to lead off is constaztly changing?

Exhall, Coventry.

BOB TRIPLES.

'IHE BIGGEST WORTY.

7o the ELitar

Sir,-It is mat my intention, nor do I wish to waste valuable space in -The Tinging World ' by entering into a lengtiyy correspondence witl Mr. A. P. Cannaa. The letters by Messrs. H. Dirake, O. W. Pipe and T. Groombridge ghould effectively sileace him (if that is pogsible). Ho has failed to grasp the meaning of my letter. I will asy again that if a band is not strong enough for Major, stick to Triples. The Triples methods, he gays, are merely Minor with a bell in the hant added. That may be, but the fact remains they are Treples. By taking Bob Minor and adding a hunt bell we"get Grandsire Triples. The so-called Bob Triples are not Tripies at all. I call it Plain Bols spoilt.
If ever Mr. A. P. Cannon takes up Sumday ringing he will find his biggest worry is not how best to get a learner on to Surprise, but hov to keop his bells ringing at all. G. A. LEVETT.

Hastings.

FRANCIS BACON REPLIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, My thanks to Dr. Slack. His equations are better than crossword puzzles. But why should he recommend me to try to compose a peal of Stedman Triplos in two oxact parts with only two singlesp Surely any person of average intelligence can see at a glance that that is impossible. It cannot be that Dr. Slack does not see it.
Mr. Daniel's reason for using a box when ringing a tenor is delightful. Personally. I lave usially foum that the hest thing to do when one cannot react on bell at hackstroke is to lengthen the rope.

FRANCIS BACON.

RINGING IN DISTANT LANDS.

AN APPLEL FOR HELT TOR THE ART OVERSEAS

To the Editor

sir,-Your article in 'The Riuging World' of September 3ud on Australian Lady Ringers' and the excellent work being done among them by Miss Joan H. Kynaston is a timely one, nnd rases important questions for the ringer whis is irterested nz "Empire ringing.' Quite recently, also, we have read of the dedications of new peals at Victoria, British Columbia, and at Hobart, Trasmania, and of the traming of hoys at botil places to ring them.
What is to happen to these new and isolated companies of singers? Are they to be left to their own fate in their struggle for existence, ate they going to receive active encouragement nud support from their' richly cuduwed brothers in the 'old country'? The task of kneping the bells rung in this conntry is hard enough, especially in some country districts. Bat it is infinitely harder in a dominion lower. It usually depeards an the goodwill of the few 'immogrant' rimgers who bappen to be in the neighbourhood. The training of untwe sons aud daughters usually ends in complete failure, partly herause of the Iack of tradition and the 'pull ' of counter-aftractions, hut ehifefly because of a dearth of fresh towers and ringers with whom the keen youngster can assuciata. His early enthusiasm soon fags, nid there is no peal ringing to act as an incentive to highor effort. 14. would seem that the least we can do is to ensure visiting ringers on the Dominions a hearty welcome and pleaty of instructive pracThe impression made by her visit on Miss Joyce Lhyton, for instance-the lucky girl from Mittagong-will do much to encourage discourage her less fortuante friends in Australia.
But cannot something more be done in the course of time? Gould regular visits be organised on the lives of that excellent 1934 tour ringers to Australia. The British Columbia ringers are eagerly king forward to sucla a visit. And could not the visits le in both ections, because a visit to thes country by Dominion ringers would of more real value to those ringers than vice versa? Or are hanges of visits the sole prerogative of test mateh cricketers and rroy footballers?
Another suggestion one could make is that disused peals like that the Charch of St. Peter-in-the-Fiagt at Oxford might be sent to a or town in the Empire. I could name many such in Ganada which uld be only too glad to have them. There must be numbers of er ways, too, by which we can lead of helping hand to these nggling bands of yingers. But the purpose of this letter is merely point to the need for lrelp.
his year, at the time of the Coronation, we witnessed Dominion ops taking over the 'guard, at Buckingham Palace, each conrent for a week. Is it too much to hope that at the next Coronathe bells of Westminster Abbey will be rung by representatives Dominion ringers?
A. E. F. TROTMAN.

BARTON CAPTAIN'S LONG SERVICE.

meeting of tho Grimsby District was held at Barton-on-Humber Saturday, September llth. The lovely peal of eight at St. Peter's urch was kept going during the afternoon and eveaing by ringers om Uleeby, Grimsby, Burton-on-Stather, Scunthorpe, Barrow-onumber and the local members. Mr. and Mrs. J. Brothwell, of eeton, and Mr . Chamberlain, of Kull, were also among those present. the service was conducted by the Rev. Goulding (curate). The dress was a very homely talk.
After service the members adjourned to the Assembly Rooms, where excellent tea was awaiting them. Twentry-five sat down, ineluding he Vicar, Ganon W. E. Farah, R.D., the Rev. and Mrs. Goulding nd Dr. F. P. IS. Birtwhistle (an honorary member). The Vicar in absence of the president of the district, presided over the meating. Mr. E. Britfain proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for e 1350 of the bells, to the curate for conducting the service and for addiess, to the caterers for an excellent tea, and to all those who made the arrangements.-This was secouded by Mr. J. Bray and ried.
In reply, the Vicar said it, was always a pleasure to welcome ringers Barton. Bells were made to be rung, he said, and they were rung Barton, He was greatly indebted tor the Barton band and to Mr. W. Hoodless for his untiring interest in the bells, as captain of band during his (the Vicar's) 28 years in the parish. Canon Farah welcomed the Vicar of Ulceby (the Rev. R. Marsden).

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

VALUABLE SLRYICES RECOGNISED.

The long senvice rendered to the famsley and Distriet society by its president (Mr, C. D. lºliter) aud a former secretary (Mr. A. Panther) have been marked by presentabions to these two gentlenen in recoguition of their ungrudging work for the society for many years.
Each has been the recipient of a walnut-cased chock wilh Westmiuster chimes and suitably inseribed, and the presentation took flate at a happy gathering at Barnsley an Soptember dth, when about 40 members were prosent, and the following towers were represented Adwick, Arksey, Almondbury, Bolsterstone, Cawithome, Wastwood, Earlsheaton, Frelkirk, Friealand, Horbury, Hoylandswaine, Handsworth, Metham, Rotherhan, Sthada, Shelly, Wath, Worlley and the local company
Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., and laler a service was hold, conducted by the Vicar, Catun Wilkmson.

The presentations were made after to in the new Parisl Room. The Vicar (Canou Wilkinson), who presided, said it was the lirat tine he had had the opportunity of mecting the ringers, aud lie was very pleased to be preseat on such a menorable occasion. He gave the society a cordial welcome and hoped it would not be long bofore they came again

Mr. Ricketts spoke of the early days of the Barisley Socioty and uf the good work that had been done both by ML. Potter sthal Mr. Panther. Mr. Potter was one of the founders of the society, and Mr Panther was secretary and treasurer for a long period.

Mr. Brearley supported these remarks and praised the good work done by the society in improving the ringing in the district, hot $\mathrm{l}_{1}$ in methods and striking. He had done a lot of judging in the society's shield contests, and it was very worthy of note liow this complition lad improved the ringing.
Mrs. Wilkinson, with & few happy words, then presented tho elocks, first to Mr. Potter and then to Mr. Panther; both of whom suitably acknowledged the gifts and the honour thus done them. Mr. Hoxon moved the usual vote of thanks to all who dad mado this mecting such a lappy gathering, and this was endorsed by all.
A social evening followed al the Royal Hotel, with handuells and other items, while some returned to the tower to ring various touches of Minor and Major
The meeting was one of tho happiest events in the history of the Barmsley and District Society.
A peal in 14 methods of Treble Bob Minor was rung at Felkimiz on September 7thin honour of Mr. Potter's 79th birthday, which oucurved on September End.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.
ENTERI'AINED AT SYDLING
The Doichester Brancls was again favoured with glorions weativer for the quarterly meeting at Syding-a village nestling between the hills and still unspoilt-on Saturday, Scpternuer 4 bh. Coming as it did within a fortaight of the practice meeting at Lition, the athend ance of members and friends was very gratitying
The bells, 8 fine mellow peal of five, tenor approximately 191 cut. were wailable from 3 p.m. The party in the touriog coach were there on time and round the local band in the tower with everythily in readiness. Practice with mixed bands was continued until the service, conducted by the Rev. A. S. Brymat (Rector of [fpwey). The Vicar (the Rev. J. Wynu Wernick) srave an sxcelicut and helpful address The gervice was cheral and very bright. Afterwards all adjourned to the Vicarage lewns, where, as a fortnight previously, du alfresco 'Dorset tea was awniting them. The members aud friends, numbering 47, were the guests of the Vicar and local ringers. Necdless to say, out in the lovely sunshine and amid such surtotndings, this was greatly enjoyed.
The busiuess was cut to an minmum. In the absence of the charman (tho Rev. A. W. Markby), the vice-olatirman (the Rev. R. P. Frryow) took the chair. Two now menbers woro elected
The usual vote of thanks was proposed by the chairman and seconded by tho Rew. A. F. Godley (Vicar of Bradford Peverell). The Ficar was particularly thanked for his great kindness in allowing tho members the use of his gardeas and lawns dining the whole afternoon and evening.
In supporting the vote of thanks, the Rev. A. S. Bryant paid a greate tribute to tho excellent work the Vicar had done, and said at the end of this montl he would complete 60 yenss in the ministry of the Church. A thankegiving would be beld at Sydling to commomoreto this.
The lady ringers of Sydling, who had done their part so well, were not forgotter in the speeches.-The Vicar, replying, thanked them alt. Fe said it was always a pleasure to welcome tho Guild.

The members ngain returned to tho tower, whene minder the guidance of the Ringing Master one or two wero piloted through their first 120. Some went on to Cattistock and had a short touch on the eight bells hung for ringing, after which the visitors heard the carillon, which consists of 35 bells, play two well-known tupes. A short balt was also made to ring on the handy peal of six at Maiten Newton,
Thus onded another happy gathering, at which the following towers were represented: Bradioril Peverell, East Lulworth, Hazelbury Bryan, Preston, Straton, Stoke Wake, Sydling, Wyke Regj- and a welcome visitor from North Cadbury.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

 TROLOSED WEDN゙ESDAY MEETINGS.The meeting of the Guildford Distrite of the Gaildford Diocesurn fitila ut West Clandon on Suturday athracted gearly thilty yugers, and some grood pratime was pul in in the "standard' methods on the evening. The hon. secrelary had received manes of 16 who had said they would be preseut ab tea; comrageously he ordered lea for 30 and, as things turmed oit, made a very good guess, clespite the fact that sume of the 16 diti not put in an appearance.

In the absence of the Ficar, the Guild service was taken by the Rev. L. Slatey, Fitar of the atjoining parish ol Merrow, who has himself begum ringing and trok part in sone rounds lefore service.

He also presirled at dile husimess meeting when two new nembers were clepted, including Mr, A. I. Carrigan, until retently of Narth Sitoneham, who hite now eome to reside at Wokine
The mombere distugsed the auestion of holding ormational mectings on Wednesdays. The mater had been before the Fandan District the previons week, ant was introdnced to the Guildford District by Mr. R. Whittington.
Mr. R. Gordon Cross, who was present, said iu ane of the branches of the Oxford Guild in which he was interested, Wednesday meetings wero instituted and proveil successful the first year, but afterwurds hhey were attended chielly by those who were also presett at Saturday meetings.
It was pointed ont that the object of the meetinge would le specialy to encourage tio attendance of those who were gt present unable to altend Saturday meetings, and it, was thought that stems might be taken to ascertain how many members there were in the distriet who were tilms situated and who wonld attend Wodnestay meetings if they ware arrallged.
The subject is to come before the weat mecting of the Executive Conmmilted
A vote of hanaks 10 the liector of West Clandon, to Whe Rev. Is starey and to the organist was passed on the motion of the general hom, secreliary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith), and ackrowledged by the Rector of Merrow.
THe bells of West Clandon are a good ring of eirht, wery moisy in the ringing chamber' and several of them "ond slizuck," but they go well. Tho trebles were added about five years ugo, almash minely by the efforts of the West Ciandon ringers, but lihere has been no neal rung on the octave yot-Lhe first ' Lecal' peal being still awaited. la 1913 the old ring of six perished in a fire that destroyed the contents of the tower. Thomas Eester liad vast the peal in 1714, but 3, 4 and 5 hid been recast in 1875 by Mears and Stambank.
in tho secoud inventory of the reign of King Edwnul YI. there were liree bells in the steeple, of $r$, $i i i j$, $i \mathrm{ij}$ owt., with a eannce bell.
This second inventory was baken liecanse of the disappearanco from many elsurches of the goods enumerated in the earlier catalogue, some lasving been sold for legitimate purpuses, others purloined.
There doos not seem to be any record, in Surroy at eny rate, of bulls being stolen, but in West Surry the clurches seem to have sulfered from an epidenic of thefls of mara porbable goads. At West Clandon the second inventory records, "The rest of the fiomer inventerye stollen and robbyd by theves, ${ }^{\text {a }}$ and there is a simitar endorsement in the case of a dozen or nore adjacent parishes.

LANCASHIRE INTEREST IN LADIES' GUILD GROWING MEMRERSHIP.

The jolly sound of Ashton's lovely peal of eight at St. Peter's Clanelh greeted members of the Ladies cuid on their artival for their quatterly meeting. After an all-round istroduclion in the belfry a good hour's mized ringing was enjoyed before service, at which Canon A. Foolt, of Bolton (president of the lancashire Association), and the Rer. F. Bonner', of SE. Mary's Ghurch, Stockport, officiated.
After the service a lunried departhre was made to the tearooms, biting cold winci minking speed a nevessity, Mrs. Wolstencroft re ceived the company, having prepared, with helpers, a delightfully rigizal tea, to which a large gathering sat down.
Later Canon A. Seott put into words what the ladies and visitors had already fell-a very warm weleome to Ashtom. The Cunou thavked Mrs. Wolstencroft and helpers, also Mr. Ridyurel and nill those who had worked so hard to make such u good meeting. -The smerelary of the Ladies' Guild thanked Canon Seatt and his seconder for their welcome.
th the meeting six new members were elected to the Guild, fonr rom Bolton and one each ftom Stockport ank Ashton.
Owing to the gently increasing interest in this distrist, an invita(ion to hold the ammial meeting at Bolton was necepted and provisionally fixed for June 18tls, 1938.
fter returang to the tower, the ladies 'mamed 'the hells for while. Then Mr. Hulne, who stated that he had been a ringer for the last ex yeare and had seen a lew changes since he first learned to hunde a bell, tolid of things that had happened in the old days nuxl Ihnilled his listeners elso with the seconnt of the introduction of lafies to the Ashiton belfry to lill the gaps left hy nen during the war. Ius his own words, when the hells beeded ringitug the Laneashire ginls cre the " loays "to do it.
He went on to tell how they had rdvameed since then and hoped that they wonld keen ons striding aliead. He wan pleased to see in the helli'y the oldest lady ringer 311 Eaglanit, fo jolly grood ringer at 65, also Mr. Harrison, the ofdest ringer of Asliton, who is now 85 .
Time sped all too quickly and those with lorg jourmeys had to make ilhir departures, the writer to make $\Omega$ lorg rine over the wilk, windarpt Deringlite moors lys Kinder Scout, nctompanied by a his lond of folly Yorkslire foll and the plensant, menory of wet another succeastul meeting.

MEETING AJT LEICESTER.

Saturday was a busy diay lor Loticester. All trains mall luses lor that cily were packed and visitors seemed to pour in from all parts. We may as well admit ab once that the chief attruction was the football match between Leicester and Arsemal.
Conapared with their gate, the meoling af the Ladies' Guild, Nurthern Branelh, was a very smnll affir, but the memhers were nobe the less enthusiastic. The venue was the Clureh of St. Jolan the Divine, and visitore were pleased to meet there sivch old ringing frionds as Mr. William Willson, Mr. W. E. Whito, Mr, George Ladd nud members and fricinds from Anstey, Collingllam, Duffietd, Lincolu, Tuadon, Nottingham and tho local riugers.
The hells are a very nice peal, wery suitable for ladies to handle. Tuforiutuately, owing to illuess near the church, they were only a wailhlise unlil 4.30 , but good use was mate of them until that time, when adjournment for tea was made.
After this the ringers betrok themselves 10 St Margareb's, these cils being placed at thair disposal for the evening thronght the finutess of the Vicar and Mr. Ennest Morris, F.R.Hist.S., who met them t the ellurch and gave thean a very hearty welcome.
Here some nuaibed themselves of the rilve opportunity of ringing 12 bells, and a good course of Graudsire Cinques was ruig with wo fallins taking payt. Tlis wns followed hy warions tonches of Citers, Major and romel ringivg for learners. to finish up, an contso Grandsive Triples was rung un the heaviest peal of laadbells in xistenre, a lady ringing $1-2$.
Sincere thatiks are tenderad to the Vichrs for the use of the belle,
Mr. Clark. Mr. E. Marris and wspeciuly Mrs. Harey, who lnd coniderable difienly in finding a spot for lea, owing to the large unmber if visitors to the city.

CENTRAL DTSTRICT EEECTS SEVFN NEW MEMBERS

 A very onjoyabie nud pleasant meting of the Central District of he Tadieg' Guitik was held at Great, Badfow, Tssex, on Septenber 4th, when ringing commenced soon after 3 p.m. A service was conducted Y Lha Vicar (ihe Rev. Holmes), assisterl ly Mr. Gray at the organ. ionomiful ten was providerf in the Chareh Hall by members of the locnl Tradies' Institute and thovonglily enjoyen by all present.After tra, the Viear snid how glad he wns that the Guilil lind visited his charch for their mieeting. anil he was pleased to know that Mr. H. Lewis, the president of the Central Council, hatl also hanoured them with his presence.
Mr. Lewis thanked the Vicar for his wolcome ande said that was the first indies' meetiug he had luecu ablo to attend.
Tho company were deliglted with the handlell ringing, provided ly Mrs. Tleteher, Mr. G. W. Fiekher. Mr. Lewis and Mr. G. Gross. A short business meeting followed, Mrs. T. Davis presiding.
Seven new members were elected, viz. : Miss Linn and Miss Frnch i' Great Daddow, Miss Wraldock, of Maldon, Essex, and Miss M.

HOW MEIHODN AIRE YARIED

The peal of Fimonton Boll Major recorded lasti week is anom hur reminder that there are sumerans easy methods which riugers pluin Bol ought to make a practice of ringing, by way of variety. In these days there is no need for mannation, for quite a muntier of plain mellods (all of which can be fonnd in the Ceatral Connel's Collection' published at Is. Gd.) cnat be learned with conplatatively little effort.
For instance, this Edmonton Boh has ho fewer than seven relutives, the whole family being deseended irons the same method, and if you cun master one member of it , it needs only a litulo shudy and anplication to ring the rest.
If you ring Eob Mujor, you know that, when the treble leads and a bell makes 2nd's plnce over it, will the ollane bells alove dodge in pairs. ln Reverse Bob, instead of making Znd's over the ireble when it leads, you make 7th's mater the treable when it lies a whole zull belinat; and the dodring which yon get in Rols Major when the trehir leads, yuaz have, instear, in Reverse Bol when the treble is belinht. When yon reverse a methed you just sulstituta work fron behind for work from the front, and vice versa. And that is what halpehs in the production of mathy mothods.
Numerons plaita melthods have an the basis of their construstion phaces "made acroas lile irelale.' that is to say the bell hating (up or down) in frond of the treble stops to mate a whole pull in some phace, steps back andes the treble, and, matking mother whole fan on that side of the "prace: farthest from the treble. Thius, if the plances mutde arc 41 h's and 5 rd's as the treble goes un, the bells in $5-6$ and 7-8 dodge when 4th's is mede, and the bells in 1-2 dodge when perhap y .
Perhaps you will see it hetter from this:
 if there are places in 3-4 when lhe Lreble goes aph there wre pheds in $3-4$ alsor when it comes down. And thut is just what Shinway" Court consists of (ll is Va. 4 in the Collection.)
lls warintions can he extonded hy adding 2adts at the treble leat, or 7th's when it is belhind, or boilh. In actual rinuring yon ged al different. method, hecanse those places in 2nd's ou 7th's afd extra dodging t. ihe work. But you ean jealise the relationship butwean fhem all
Now if you reverse Shipway's Coutb, that is, move the places iroun 3-4 io 5-6, or, in afler wordis, do from the hack what was done in Shipway froni the front and vice versa, you have a method linown botio, so that you neltially linve eightumethods of this type ju thait simplest form.
Then, at couse, you can join them logether and have doulilo wethods, by making places both in 3-4 whe 5-6 and you met anot hev rroup of Four, of which Donble Norwich corresponds to Shipway, sud is varied by the acidition of 2nd's or 7th's or both.
Shipway's Coust would make at simple methme for a Roly Mujor mon-ont whe figires lead by lead. In the first lead mako 41 his anul 3rd

 4-3. This will produce 15738264 as $\pi$ lead head. Mitle surte of this first and the other sis leads should follow withoud traullo, if tho construmbiou is closely followed.

The platemating thels in the semmi lead will bo 7 and 8: is lher thind lend 6 and 4 , in the formith lead 2 num 3 , int tho 5 lh leati 5 and 7 , in the sixith lend 8 nald 6 atrd in the last leard 4 ind 2.
When you have writhen oul your seven leads, draw a montinnusus line froni lop to bottom aver ondo of the fignes, say 2 or 8 , and ynu will have a diamati which your call use, nob only to ring Shinwiy with the nller methods. By the way, keen your figures in renthay colmmas and yot too dobe togel leat. The itwantage of this yout wall find wherly yon wanl to use them again presentily.

DON'T SCRUB

 YOUR HANDS!
Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Саг Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

HANDICAPS OF BEGINNERS.

The subject of the best way to instruct beginners must always be an important one, and the recent discussion on the advantages of Plain Bob over Grandsire, as the first method to teach, has led Mr. Stephen Wood to traverse the ground fairly exhaustively in an article, in this issue, which may well be read with close attention. Many of the points which he makes have been urged previously in our columns, especially in the articles for beginners (which have often been equally useful as hints to instructors), but they cannot be too frequently stated. With all of Mr. Wood's deductions there is unlikely to be universal agreement, but experienced ringers will admit the truth of many of his statements.

There is no question that indifterent ringers are often made by the reluctance of instructors to correct early faults, either through fear of offending the sensitive beginner or, as sometimes, happens, through his own incompetence as a teacher. Too frequently, also, in the anxiety to encourage the pupil and maintain his interest the beginner is pushed much too soon into an attempt to ring changes. There is no exaggeration in the statement that some men lave learned to ring Surprise Methods before they have learned to handle a bell properly. These are the two main causes of bad striking and should be guarded against by those who are responsible for training young ringers. The hand, the ear and the eye all need to be instructed, and of these probably the ear is the most neglected. In good ringing it is the rhythm that counts, and one indifferent striker can mar the efforts of all the rest of the band. Good handling comes first and, before the young ringer goes on to the stage when rope sight becomes imperative, the ear should be trained so that he may be able to distinguish his own bell among the rest. While admitting that there are some ringers who, from various causes, are never likely to be good strikers, much bad ringing could be avoided if there were less anxiety to push beginners so quickly into change ringing.
Another serious handicap to beginners is that instructors are themselves sometimes indifferent ringers. They very willingly give up their time to teaching others, and are to be commended for the spirit which they thus display, but it is not infrequently the case that they themselves do not handle their ropes properly and are poor strikers. They probably are not aware of it, but they pass on their own defects to their pupils and the young ringer is trained in a school of bad striking without knowing that there is anything better. The ringing chamber is not a barrack square, but there are many places where the advent of a 'sergeant-major' is badly needed. Unfortunately, for (Continued on page 626.)

improved ringing, cardid criticism is not always taken very lindly by the not-too-average ringer, and, as there are no visible honours to be gained by submitting to the kind of treatment which, for instance, rowing men quite well understand, there is a tendency to resentment which frequently leads to resignation when plain speaking is inclulged in. This brings us back to our earlier statement that many indifferent ringers are made by the reluctance of instractors to correct early faults, but, if, assuming they are competent enough to recognise these errors, they would be firmer in the beginning, the way would be open for a more effective training throughout the tuition of the pupil, who, when he reached even a fairly advanced stage, would take instruction in the spirit in which it is intended.

THE COTSWOLD TOUR.

A HAPPY AND SUCOTSSTUU NEEK

Tho 'Bachelors' sixth annual riuging tour began on Saturday, Soptember $4 t^{\prime}$, the district selectefi being amongst the Catswold hills, mainly in the countics of Oxford and Gloucesser. A full programme of 14 peal attempts had been arranged by Mr. Wiffed Wiliams. There were 12 in the party, of whon eight are bachelore, and the lieadquarters for the week was at the Old New Im, Bourton-on-tho Water, Glos.

THE FINE TOWER OF MAGDALEN COLLEGE, OXFORD

A conch, complete with driver, was hired for the week, and, starting from Brifhton, collected various members of the party on the route, at Crawley, Guildford and Reading.

A run though very pleasant scenery in the Thames Vailey brought the party to Oxforel in good time for the first peal attempt, scheduled to start at 3 p.m. Magdalen Collage has a fune square, lofty tower and is the first tower seen on entering the city, on the right of the rond immedintely after crossing the River Charwood. Messis. W. F. Judge and F. E. Taylor, of Oxford, who ware in the band, were waiting and had the bells up in readiuess. Erentually a start was made for Cambridge Royal and an excellent peal was rung in 3 hours and 21 minutes. It was the first Surprise peal on the belis, a pleasant, tuneful peal with tenor 20 cwt. in $E$, but very seldom rung. The tourists greatly appreciated the privilege of beng allowed to ring a peal there.

After a linte tea and a wait to pick up the two remaining members of the party, who rrived at Oxford by train, a move was made nu the 30 -mile run to headquarters at Bourton-on-the-Water, where our host for the weck, Mr. Horris, extended a bearty welcome.
Some interest was aroused as to our misaion in conuing to Bourton, as the organiser', Mr. J. M. Cripps, had only mentioned thal "a purty of $12^{\prime}$ would requite accommodation for a week. It was surmised that we were cricketers, until someone " let the cat out of the bag,' then all sorts of questions liad to bo answered. They could not inigime a party going around the countryside ringing bells for a week's holiday,
Before ringing for service on Sunday moluing we had a walk avound the lovely liulle village, certainly very peacefial in the moruing sunshine, until numbers of couches arrived to disturb the quiet of the place. Bourton is well known locally as a "beauty spot'; we were told quite coufdently that it is the most beautiful rillage in the country.
The River Wiudrush ambles alongside the main street and is crosset iII Lualf a dozen places by vory low pointed stone bridges, giving the place quite a Fenetian aspect. With the numorous stone cottages with their stone roofs, the effeut was very pleasing aud we were quite ready to endorse what we had been told.

VIELAGE BLACKSMITH JONNS IN,
Mr. Bermard Phatips, the local blacksmith, is the captain of the Bourton ringers, and, when we finally ran him to earth in his allotment, he was only too eager to unlock the belfry door and let us have an hour's service ringing. The Church of St. Lawrence hus a peal of eight, with tenor 14 cw , in 5 , fais in tove and quality. The original six were casto by Rudhalls, of Gloucester, and in 1913 the two brebles were added by Mears and Slaivbank.

Mr. Phillips took part, to his yreat pleasure as expressed by him, in the first touch, Stedman Triples, then, with another local man, Mr. O. Pratley, in a touch of Bob Major. A course of Superlative and a touch of Spliced Surprise, well struck, completed the ringing.
The second peal of the tour was diue to begin at Banbury, oxon, at 2.30. We arrived ingood time, to be welcomed by Mr. H. Impey (captain) and other local ringers. Banbury Church is of tinusnal design, giving one the impression of being a museum rather than in church. It is built of the local yellow Forton stone and has a circulay domo and tower over the entrance porch. In 1930 the old peal of eight were recast and augmented to ten by Taylors, and there is now a splendid peal, with tenor 17 cwt . 1.19 ch . In E. The bells were set soing to Cambridge Royal, and a well-siruck peal was successful in 3 hours 32 minutes. It was W. T. Beeson's 300 th peal. With thte help of the lacal ringors the hells werc lowered in peal prior to tho service, and later the tonishs returned to Bourton well pleased with having rung ilie first two peals.

On Mouday morning an carly start from headquarters was necessary to cover the 25 miles to Great Tew Oxon, but the coach covered the ground caickly via Stow-on-the-Wold and Chipping Norton, sad we arrived according to schadule. The Church of St, Michael i situated in glorious surroundings in a park, formerly the property of Lord Falmouth, hat now owned by the Misses Bolton. The bells are a really beantifur peal of eiphlit, witli tenor 22 cwt . 10 lb . in D , the gifi of Anthony Keck in 1709. They were relnugg in a steel frame by Mears and Stainbank in 1925 . A veally well-struck peal of Bristol Surprise was brourlit round in 3 hours and 31 minutes, and, on these fine bells. the mothod was ideal. Being their tercentenary year, it was deoided to credit the peal to the College Youths.

A MAGNJITCENT ORURGE.

After lunch at the Falkland Aums and an eutertaining hour with the landord, Mr. Davies, the six-mile mu was made to Adderbury, Oxon, to be met, by Mr. Parrott, the sexton, who was very ansious that we should rien his wonderful church before commencing to ring. Dedjeated to St. Mary, the building is magnificent, of almost cathedral like proportions, sumounted by a tall spire. Auriving at 3 p.m., we were greeted by a thue on the carillon, Hard tines come again mo more.' A different air is played each day, at intervals of thres hours.

We were shown a brass tablet in the floor of the church, bearing the date Feloruary $30 t h 1508$, and a wonderful stone chancel built by William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester, in the 14 th century and restored in the 19th century. Trausepta, nave and tower are all $131 /$ century, and the vestry las a fine bay window, reputed to be the only one of its kind in the country. The origimal peal of six bells were recast in 1789 into a peal of cight by Jobn Briant, of Hertford, and the whole peal were rehung by Taylors in 1928, tle present tenor being 24 cwt. 14 lb , in D. We liad heen told that we should have our work cut out to ring a peal, and certainly the task was not an casy ane However, the bells were set geing to London Susprise, and an excellen peal was completed in 3 bours and 20 miuntes, the first peal of London on the bells.

On Cuesdny morning the organiser luad the party up early for the 30 -mile run dne eouth, via Burford and Lechtade, to our only tower in Wiltshire, Swindon. Arriving at 9.30 , we were greeted by Mr C. J. Gardiner, who hnd everytling in readiness. The church is a local landmark and is gituated in the older part of Swindon on high ground to the sonth-east of the town. Christ Church has a fine ensygoing peal, reast and augmented from eight to ter by Taylors in 1924. Coming into a new diacese it was necessary to olect quite a number of tiee baud to membership of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

FIRST FAILURE OF THE TOUR.
Eronturally a start was made Hor Spliced Cambridge and Yorkinire Surprise Royal, the methods beigy changed at the wrong and Home and a really well-structs peal was brought round in 3 bours and 25 minutes, the first Spliced Surprise peal to be rung for the association After the peal Messrs. Gardiner, Palmer and Kynasion, of the lacal bund, werc watting to couduct us to an excellent. lunch at a place which, wo undersfand, is much frequented by riagers.

Bamptorl, Oxor, 18 miles away was on the programme for the afteraons. The Chureth of St. Mary the Virgin is very old and of large dinensions. It las a tall, pointed spire, the belfry, being ceutina and enclosed, las artificial light. There are eight bells, with tenor 26 owt. in D, rathor a heavy turaing peal. Severnl ropes had first to to takell up on the wheela, but eventually a start was made for Cambridge Surprise Major, After ringing well for half an hour, however, "gtand" had to be called in the fourth course owing to inposition of one of the band, and our sixth ettempt of the week beceme the first failure, it being too late to start again.
After tea at Witney, famous for its blankets, the coach was directed Oxford, where the party joined with the thousands who were morrymaking at St. Giles Fair. This is held annually on two days in Septamber and occupies the wholo of one of Oxford's main streets for lealf a mile-a sight weli worth seeing.
Herring the six bells being rung up in peal at the Carfax fower, by the crons-rosds at Oxford's centre, some of the party proceeded there, to be greeted by Mr. F. E. Tayloy and etluer local ringers, and we had at few touches with then. The bells are rung only oceasionally, one of the occasions being for this anmual fair. It was, indeed, very hate when our coach was headed on the 30 -mile run to Bourton. Let it not be told at what time we arrived, but our organiser managed to gat us in all right, without (we hope) disturbing any of the other ruests at the Old New Inn.

A TOWER BUT NO CHURCH

A quatiterly meeting of the Swindon Brathech of the Gloucester ank Bristol Diocesan Ascocia tion was held at Melmesbury on Sept. 11th. The towar and spire, which contain five belle, are all that remain of the Church of St. Paul, which was demolished many years ago, the lells boing rung for services in Malmesbury Abbey,
A fair humber of visitors and members attended and some of the lacal men were put through their first 120.
At the business meeting the places for the next three meetings were provisiounly arranged as St. Mark's, Swindon, Stratton St. Margaret and Chist Glurch, Swiddon.

CORNWALL GAINS ANOTHER OCTAVE

A NEW RING OT ETGHT AT LANSALLOS

The disurict of Looe, south-west of Liskeard, Cornwall, has had ite rings of bells enriched by the provision of at complete new ring of eight a Lansallos, mbout two miles from Polperro pin the south coast.
'Lan Salus' means the place of deliverance. The ancient Purisil Church is dedicated to Sti. Ildjerna aud has an embattled western tower of three stages, built in tho 15 th century. Until recently there was only one ancient bell. This has now been placed inside the south door of the church. It is inseribed 'Smneta Margareta ara pro mohis' in Gothic lattering. There are also three shislds, two with coats of aruts, while the third is considered to be the stop used by John Bird. The bell fa, therefore, thought to be of 15 Lb cantury date.
In May, 1936, the Rector (the Rev. N. A. Rivers-Tippett) issued ala appeal for funds for as ring of bells. The task at first seemed too rreat, but the money came. A generous gift from the Barron Bell Trust gave great encouragement to the whole sclieme, which, now completed, has cost approximately $£ 800$. The tenor of the new ring is 101 crst., and the casting and hanging has been done hy Messers. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. Two mew floors have beem erected in the tower.
The whole of the work was dedicated on Saturday last by the Bishop of Travo (the Rov. J. W. Kankin, D.D.). Unfortuately the Rector was unable to be present at the service through illuess.

The Bishop, in, his address, seid he liad just had a few words with the Rector, who was indeed disappointed at not being able to he present, but, he added, he will be distening to the bells from his bedroom, and 1 am surs they will put new life and joy into his hoart.

The service was conducted by fhe Rep. R. de C. Marley (Rector of Laareath). Canon W. H. Rigy (Vicar of Launceston) was also presant, and his band of ringers from St. Mary's, Launceston, opened the bells. Many other Cornish ringers were present alsa.

FOUR-SCORE YEARS

PENDEEBURY YETERAN'S BIRTHDAY
Wr. Thomas Lingard has been a ringer at Christ Church, Pendjelnuy, Lancs, for 64 years. On Saturday he celebrated his $801 . \mathrm{h}$ birthday, and the event was suitably honoured. A loug toncl of Grandsire Triples ( 3,220 changas) was conducted Ly Mr. Eingard, and when the bells came round they were fired' 80 times, ilt. Lingard was the recipient of congratulations and good wishes from the band: Frank Sliarples 1, Thomas Lintard 2, Fred Green 3, Norman Tomplins 4 Albert Wallwork 5, Jmones Kershaw 6, Alfred Thomas 7, Rernard Smith 8 .

We are glad to be able to report that Mr. W. D. Smith, of East bourne, one of the oldest College Youths, has made excellent recovery from the ilness which sudidenly overtook hirm a fortnight ago. Mr. Smith is in his 80 th year.

RINGING FROM A BOX.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir -It may intorest Mr. Bacou to know that it is not quito as silly as he seems to think to stand on a box whelr ringing a heavy bell, because a heavy bell menus a large wheel; a large wheel means long length of rope below the sally; a long length of rope below the sally means (umless the ringer gtands on a box) a lot of slack rope round the feet when the bell is set at handstroke. Furdher, it the rope should be af all stiff, the sally fends to jump when the rope hits the floor; and this is also largely overcome by using a box.
I think ang heavy-bell ringer (which I certainly do not profess to be) will agree that it is more comfortable to ring a big bell from a box than from the floor. R. D. St. JOHN SMITH.

BOB TRIPLES.  To the Edtor.

Dear Sir,-I suppose I ought to feel properly squashed and remain silenb after reading Mir. C. A. Levelt's reply to my lettor. Unfor tunately, his uncalled for remarks have no effect on me! I merely foel soity for him, because he, like so many otherwise very pleassnit ringers, is unable to argue withont entering iato personalities. That line of argument nsutilly shows that the writer does not understand his subject properly.
Mr. Lerett is so full of his Sunday service gospel that it is he who cannot grasp the meaning of our argument. The question I raised, supporting Mr. Pipe's first letter, was-Which is it best to leara first Grandsire or Plain Bob? And, if the latter, then Bob Triples is n useful member of the melinod. I have already enumerated my reasons in support of Plain Bob, but Mr. Levett is so eager for the channe to attack me personally that he simply camot follow them. It is, thorefore, no use continuing the argument.
Before finatly closing, however, I must answer his reference to my Sunday service ringing. Tho remark in his last paragraph is deliberately misleading, and should be withdrawn. I have been a Sunday service ringer siace I left school in 1930. Wherever I have been living I have always attended the nearest tower at least once a Sundiry, when I bavo been at lome. And for the other Sunday service, when at home, I have always assisted somewhere. On many occasions I have made up the number for the cight bells at Mr. Leveti's church at Fastinge, when staying there. I would add that I have always had a pleasant welcome and enjoyed myself. I expect. I shall be in the neighbourhood again soon, and shall look forward to pinging somo well-struck Bob-no, Graxdsirc Triples, of course!
A. PATRICE GANNON.

Balham
P.S.-Mr. Mclvilie is quite correct! I have not yet been to Bimmiug ham, but I am looking forward to a visit soon.

THE SECOND IN TREBLE BOB.

To the Editor
Dear Sir,-I note with pleasure Mr. T. Je. Darby's figures of a peal of Treble Bob Royal in your issue of the 3ed inst, with the 2 nd at home every course-end.
I constructed a similar 5,040. Treble Bob Maximus, as below. Like Mr. Darby, I do not claim originality.

THE INSTRUCTION OF BEGINNERS.

 METHODS
By Sumpiza H. Wood

I do not wish to join in any controversy as to whethey or not Bob Triples is worth rimging, but I an intarested in the recent correspondence in "The Ringing World' beause it has touched the fringes of a subject of wider interest and far greater importance, nancly, which is the best method an which to start beginners?
Mr. Pipe may or may not be right in saying that Bob Triples is a useful stepping-stone fram Grandsite Triples to Bob Major; and Mr. Grunon may or may not be correct in bis aseertion that the averuge ringer, brought up on Grandsire, finds difficulty in mastolinu the difierent dodging places of Bob Major (thougli personally I should have thought that a man brought up on Bob Major wonld find an exactly similar difficulty when ite first tackles Grandsure).
But the matter goes far deeper than that; and if we can find a convincing answer to tize question of which is the best nethod for a herinner to learn first, we shail, in the process, have answered the subsidiary question of why it is that so many riugers who start on Grandsire never master anything else.
I think it will be miversally admitted that, at the present time as in the past, the majority of rimgers start their change ringing career on Grandsire Thiples; jet I have no hesitation in eaying that the wisest instructors aro those-still unfortunately the few-who start tineir pupils ou even-bell ringing. I will go further and say that a great deal of the thoroughy Jas change ringing which is still heard up and down the countiry, and accepted with tolerance if not compilecence, is directly traceable to the traditional practice of learning Whe odd-bell methods first.

MISTAKEN RELUCTANCE TO POINT OUT FAUJTS.

Now I do not expect this statement to meet at once with universal agreement, and I should not be so bold as to make it if I were not prepared to substanlinte itt in the chapter and verse. Before doing so, however, I mirdit add that next to this the nost imporlant contributory factor is a well-mennt but mistaken reluctance on the part of the good cingers to point ont the bad ones' faults and endeavour to contect them. It would be a thousand times better for the commuaity and kinder in the long run to the individual, to tell him fraight that he is a thandering bad ringer, provided, of course, that this oaturally not very welcome information feaccompanied by useful dvice which will lelp him to eradiente his fanlts and improve his tandard of rimging. For I am convinced inat tho majorily of bad ringers-and there are plenty of them-have no idea how bad they

It is not their fauft; the blame must be laid at the door of the structors who allow them to ring badly without criticism ar comment. We will gestme that a beriminer lias reached the staga when he is ready for his first lesson in change ringing ithis should usean (though an afrail that in many cases it does not) that he has complete control ower his bell and can ring it perfectly in Rounds. The first thing that his instructor las to teach him is to Plain Hunt-first in theory and then in practice: It is a good idea before actually puttintr hius into clanges to lel hing get some experience of how much he has got to hold up or cut down in order to clange his position by the pace; this can best be done by means of a few call-changes and by making him dodge with the bell next him (first one way and then lis other) Nearly all instructors tasch the sume method of Eunting Tp-namely, by striking after whe bell that strikes after you in the evieus change until you get up behind, thus introducing him to 'lopesight,' i.e., the ability to pick out the various bells with his cyes, On no acconit allow him to learn oft a string of pumbers and strike the hells in this erder through thick and thin (even at the beginning). This kind of begimer (the parrot type) is easily recognised, because the first time the bell he expects to find in a certain position is not there be tends to set his bell in and wait for him-and nething so completely destroys the 'beat, as this. Teach him, rather', to hold up a little bit at each stroke and gradually learn to piek out the arder in which the other bells pass him on their way down, theus instilling him with a sense of rhythm and the determination to stick his place no matter who else goes wrong.
Difierent instructors favoulv different methods of teaching bunting own; my own preference is for making time follow his course-bell, not hothering too much at first about the actual bells ho is strilifing over (though this must come later), beanuse in this way the begiuner himbeduced as early as possibie to the absolute necessity of trainiug listen to his own bell aurl the one he is coursing and leam to judge correctly the interwal between them.
When lie call Plain Hint reasontbly well the next step has to be decided upon; and this is, perhaps, the most important moment in a man's whole ringing career, because on the selection of the next step kepends to a great extent what kind of a ringer he is likely to make. So many instructors at this stage immediately rush their pupil on to an inside hell and teach htm a method-probahly Grandsire Triplesand by this one action put him well on the way to hecoming nt thoroughly bad ringer, beause there are two points of the greatest importance which it is absolstely necessary for him to Iearn and thoroughly master as early as possible, and if he does not learn them at this stage it quite often happens that he never does so at atl.

These two points are GOOD STRIKING aud PROPER LEADING, and it is in thege two points that the essential difference between starting on odd and even-bell ringing lies. By good striking is memnt putting your bell exactly into, say, 4th's place, as opposed to being satisfied with rourghy half-way between 3rd's and Gth's. And by proper leading is meant striking your bell exasetly in 1st's place, wide at handstroke and close at backstroke-the correct ' widts' at hand strok being obtained by leaving suftieient interval after the ond of the last change for one exira (imaginary) bell-as opposed to striking ronghly at the berinning of the change and learing the others to follow as best they may.
Now it is uot possible to lay down hard and fast rules for teaching good striking. Some ringers luve an inherent gense of rlyythm which caabies them to nuderstand exactly what is required; these will know at once whether they are striking correctly or wot, and with them it is just a matter of practice. Others, howover, are not so forbanate and have to be tald whether they are striking too wide or too close, Nearly always it is becmuse they camot pick onl the sound of their own bell amongst the rest; this is a common differstry in the early stages, but in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it can be overeome with a little patience and determination, provided the pupil las two reusonably good ear's.

STAR'L ON A SMALL NUMBER OF BELLS.

Various useful ways of helpiug hims will oceur to any instructor with a dittle imagination, perthaps tho most olvious being to start him on a very small number of bells, say fous, and gradualiy work up to the higher numbers. But it is Ele bounden duty of every instructoy to tell his pupil when he is striking bady-and to go on telling him. know that the reason why so muny ringers will not do this is tho well-meant one of not wishing to discourage a beginmer or hurt his feclings; but what are one man's feclings against the nerves of the rest of the band and all the listeners (willing aud unwilling) autsids? And how often does the well-menaning inglructor pause to jealise that by refraining from teling his pupil his faults (and he need not he told unkindly) ho is depriviug hin of tall the future eajoymenti which he would otherwise obtain from lis ringing and aiding and abetting him to become a thorough nuisance both to his fellow-ringers and the general public
There is, however, one defnite rule about striking whicl overy beginner can and should be faught; if ho lias is sense of rhythm and good ears ho may soon find it out for himself, but if not it should be explained to hime at the earliest possible opportunity. This is that heavier bells have a longer period of swiug tian lighter bells; conscquently when following a heavy bell it is necessary to shrike widn over him than when following in light ane, and vice versa. This fact, self-evident though it may seem to those who know, is one whin not so very obvious to a complete beymane '; remember that he cant never discover it in ringing rounds, and when be first starts clinnge ringing lag will find plenty of other things to oceupy his mind to the fuli; and sa, if it is not explained to him, it may be years before he discovers it-iarticularly if he is started on Qrandstre Friples.

ESSENTIAL DIFTPRENCES.

This is the first of the two essential differates between Triphes and Major that I am leading up to. True it is only & difference of degrec; if you aru ringing the trebie to Iniples you have got to strike wider over tho 7th man over the 2nd, but not so very much; and if you do not mako the necessary allownace it may not be very noticoalute on a light peal. But when you como to Majol and the tenor is furned into wie changes the differeree in weight is probably half as much again, and even on a light peal the gap that must be allowed when striking over the tenor becomes definitely noticeablo. This, mueh mole than the different dodging placos, is one of the main difficulties which a man brought up on Tiples has to contend with when he first tries to ring Majot. If, on the otler hand, he is struted ou Major, and las this point properly explained to him, he will have un immediate opportunity of observing how ${ }^{2} t$ works out im pructice and learning to allow for it. And when The has nastered this he has leannt something of real valne, somnthing, moreover, wlitich he could not have learut so thoroughly on Triples; the Triples may may have been told about it and understand it in theory, but be daes not get the same opporturity to put it into practice.
Tho other main point of differchco between odd and even-bell ringing is in the Leadiag. If a man starts an Triples he will probably be taught to 'lead off the tener'; this may answer reasonably well as long as le sticks to Triples, but when ho gets on to Major he will him to lead from; he will, in Enct, have to start all over again nud learm to lead property-i.e., with his ears. It is better, therefore, to start him on Major and let hin learn to lead properly from the first
Now it may be argned that, even admitting the points I have hried to make (indeed, because of them), it is better to start a man on Major. On the face of it, this argnment is reasonable enough, but my experieuce laas been that in acturl fact it is uneound, far this reason; most beginners think that, when they have learnt to ring one method reasomably well, all they have to do to ring other methods is to learn the different "works. If the one method they can ring is Bob Kajor this may be true, but it is not neegserily true; it depends on how well they have mastered the ren elementary principes of their art-f.e., good striking and proper Ieading, on which depend the thythm or 'beat,' which is the first essential of al poon cloange ringing. And I have shown above that if yout start on Triples you do not get the same opportunities of learming these thitgs thoroughly, which in my opinion is the reason wiy so many Grandsire Triple ringers never master them at all.

BAD HABITS IN RINGING

(Gontinned from previous page

It is a truism that iu every walk of life it is easier to fall into bad habits than to get out of tham when once actuived. This is, perlaps, especially truc in rimging; once let a man get info bad habits such as wrong handing of his rope or lazy leadigg or slipshod striking, and it may take years to cure Jim of them. Therefore, it is worth while going to a little extra trouble to ensure his cetting a thorough grounding in these essential points while lio is learming his first method; and in my opinion even-bell ringing affords the best opportunities for this, for the reasobs given above.
It will be appreciated that, allhough I have referred almost excluatvely to Triples and Major, exretly the same arguments apply to Doubles and Minor. In fact, the average berinuer will do better to make his first attempt at change rinking oll six bels-with Bob Minor as the method. Wilh only six bells to worly about he will find it easier to pick them ont individually with his eyes and his ears, and furthermore the wider gap between each bell-in addition to belping still further with this picking out process-will recessitnto his maving the position of his bell a greater amount between each change, thus teachivg him beftor bell control. But when he lias mastered Bob Minor, get him on as soon as possible to Bob Major, and let him come back to Triples later
To sum up, therefore, if you are an instructor with a prospoctive pupil and you are wondering whether to start him on odd or even-bell ringing, gou have got to look ahead and decide what is your ultimate ohject. If you aro only concermed with getting him up to the stage of ruging one method reasonably well in the shortest possible time, then by all means start him on Grundsire Triples (or Doubles). But do not be upset if in 20 years' time he can still ming nothing else ! If, on the other hand, you take the wider wiew and are really interested in your pupit's futuro career; if you are anxions to give him the best nossilule grounding in the essential principle of change ringing, so that lyy the time le ann ring one method he is properly equpped to so nhead and conquer fresh fields in the mote complieated ones, then start him on Bob Major (or Minory). It may take a little longer in the early stages, but it will be wortly it in the long jun; for if be is worth teauhing at all, the fime will come when he will be grateful to jou for your wisdom and foresinht. And when, in later jears, you call "That's all' to a peal of Dauble Norwich or Cambridge Royal, in which he has struck his ball perfectly thvoughout and set a perfect beat at the lead, you will liave your reward.

HANDBELLS OVER BARHAM'S GRAVE

FVENOAKS RIMGERS' TRTBUTR

On $aturday, September 18th, the loand of the Parish Church, Sevenoaks, had theiv ammual ringing day. The party, made up to 25 by friends from neishbonring towers, left at 9 a.m. for the Weald of Kent. At Lecols several members liad their first pull on ten bells, courses of Stedman and Grandsire Caters being brought round, tut Treble Ten came to grief. Hefore leaving, a course of Boh Major was ring on handluels over the grave of that wouderful old ringer, James Barham, who, with the Leeds Yonths, scored the first peal on the bells of Severioaks (1770). And so to Headcorn, where some good touches in various methods were biouglat round, the party being joined by Mr. E. H. Lewis, who, unfottumately, could not be with them earlier. Several of the local band met them at High Halden, a most interestint church with shingle spire. Fere the six-bell ringers came into their own. successfully splicing st. Clement's, Oxford, Plain and Little Bob. Another short lum brought them to Tenterden, where the grand peal (tenor 30 cut, was made good use of, although some menbers fonnd the majestic pace and 'left-handed' circle a little disconcerting. Just across tile road a true ringers' tea awaited the party and delayed their arrival at Benenden by half an hour. The bells were set goisp to Double Norwich, etc., and all too soon a move was made for Goudhurst, the last tower of the day, where 'heavy going expected, but the bells had been recently relung and were kept going from rounds to Cambridee. Fome was safely reached at 10.30 p.m. after a very eujoyable day. Thanks are due to the steeplekeepers who had evergthing in readiness, to the incumbents for the uso of their bells, and to Mr. F. W. Houzden, who acted as Ringing Master for the day.

INTERESTING PERFORMANCE AT PENGE

On Mouday evening at St. John's Ohurch, Pelrge, as a farewell to the Rev. A. M. and Mrs. Stibbs, a quarter-peal, consisting of ten and a hale differently called six-scores of Grandsire Douthles, was unng E. J. Barrett 1, P. A. Corby (conduetor) 2, D. G. Brown 3, N. T. Hext 4, J. E. Pullin 5, R. W. Darvill 6. Longest length by ringers of $1,3,4$ and 5 and first quarter-peal of Doubles by ringers of 2 and 6. All but the tenorman, who is from Hillingrdon, Eing regularly at St. John's. This is the fongest iength on the hells since they were put in ringing order about four years ago, and probably the first quarter'peal since 1913.
Mr. and Mrs. Stibbs are to take up residence at Southeate, where Mr. Stibbs is to become a tutor at Oakhill Theological College.

PEAL NOTES.

MR. G. R, PYE'S 1, gOOh PEAL.

The peals which were rung on the tour in Cheshive and North Wales last wek are recorded elsewhere. Eleven were scored in thirtean atfempts.
The last of the series, Superlative Surprise, rung at Llandudno was Mr. Bob Pye's 1,800tla peal. Only lis brother, the late Mr. Williani Pye, a'ang more than this number.
Honour was paid to Alderman J. S. Pritehett, Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birminglbam, un trinesday, September 14th, ou which day lie and Mrs. Prithett celebrated their 'golden wedding.' A peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at St. Martin's Ghurch by members of the Guild the first line snch a complment has been paid to a Birmingham citizen.
It is interesting to noto that the peal was called by an old member of the society, Mr. William H. Barber, of Newcastle, who used to ring in Bitminglam-well, we hardly like to say how many yearg tgo. Mr. W. H. Fussell, young as ever, reached his 76th birthday on September 15th and celebrated it with a peal of Oxford Bob Triples at Wrayshay

The district round Gaingborough is losing an enthnsiastic ringer by the removal elsewhere of Mr. Clifford Vessey, who has put in some excellent wark in North Lines and Nolts. A farewel] peal was ruus on September 14th.

Bedainton and wallingten have received a clarter of incorporation, and Beddington bells played their part in celebrating the anspicious event. A peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal was ruug ou the mornintry of September 15th.
Mr. Jim Bennett, now rapidy reaching his one thousandth peal, rang his first peal of Bob Royal as conductor last Saturday Prittlewel
It is not often that two peals of Oxford Bob Triples are rung in a week, but, in addition to the one at Wraysbury on Thursday, mother was runte at Claines, Worcestershire, on Saturday.
In honotur of the wedding of Mr. G. Biddulph, of Lawton, Gheshine on Saturday, a peal of Bristol Surprise Majol was yung later in the da By ringing in the peel of Bristol Surprise Mrajor on Saturda September Ilth, Mr. R. H. Bartwam, of Melton Mowbray, has taker part in 'the first in the meliod' of all peals zung or the cight bells at Ashoy Folville. This was his 1506h peal.
Two Suffolk Gearges, George Pryke and George Beunett, have מow rumg 200 peals together. 'they campleted the double century as Woodbridge on September 11th.

Dining the Cambridge Universiby Guikl's recent week in Somerset, the Rev. E. Bankes James reached his jubilee as a ringer, September 6th, 1887, being the foundation date of the St. Michael's Jnniors, Gloucester, of which he and his brother were distinguished memhers. The Rev. Bankes James had the satisfaction of celebrating the occasion with four peals on succossive days, one with the Bath and Wells Association and three with the Cambridge Guild.

Three members of the Cambridge University & Guild, who had just finished their "week " in Somerset, fud five Bath and Wells Assaciation ringers, met on a recent Saturday morning for Stedrann Triple at a church not fin from Bristol. After half an hour's excelleat riaging e loud kooking on the door started, and as this persisted the hand camo to the conclusion that the Vicar wished to stop the ringing on account of illness or other reasonable cause, and the condireto therefore reluctantily called 'Stand.'

The unlocking of the door reveated the Vicar, who explained that he had "just come up to see how the ringers were gebting on," and added that " when they went an with their peal he would like to came in and watch for a few minutes. "The situation was explained to himi ns tactfully as prossible, and ho left his belfry richer by the cmowledge that, althongh ringers are always pleased to see the dergy in their belfries, the middle of a peal of Stedmau Triples is not the most appropriats tine for sucli visits!

RINGERS' PROGRESS AT SHERBURN-IN-ELMET'

THREE THRST QUARTER-REALS ON THE BELLS.

The hand at Sherburn-in-Etinet are to be congratulated on the excellent progress they have made during the last $2 \frac{1}{2}$ years, largely through the enthusiasm of Mr. R. H. Vigor, late of Bromfey, Kent, who has been living in the village. With the assistance of Mr. A. P. Camnon, who was on holiday with Mr. Vigor, the followillg quarterpeals were rung recently, each being the first in the method on the bells: On Sinday, August 29th, 1,264 Bob Major: *W. Haspley 1, \#H. Bradley 2, A. P . Canmou (conductor) 3, Miss D. M. Fiwley 4, +Mrs. Fe. Bradley, 5, Mrs. S. Render 6, tE. Bradley 7, R. H. Yigov 8 $\dagger$ Mrs. S. Remder 1, †Miss D. M. Hawley 2, $\dagger$ E. Bradley 3, R. E. Vigor 4, +Mrs. E. Bradley 5, †T. Terry 6, †W. Terry 7, A, P. Cannon (conductor) 8. * First guarter-peal. + First quarter-peal in the method. On Sunday, September 5th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: *H Bradley 1, Miss D. M. Hawley 2, Mrs. E. Bradley 3, R. H. Tigor 4. A. P. Cannon 5, *Mrs. S. Render 6, E. Bradley (first quarter-peal as conductor and frst attempt) 7 , 天W. Hawley 8. * First quarter-peal of Triples.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

HOW A TRINGERS' HYMN CAME TO BE WRITTEN
The South and West District of the Middlesex County Association aud London Diocesan Guild held a very enjoyable meeting at Ruislip an Saturciay, September 1lth. A fine sunny day, although tempered by a keen wind, helped to attract an attendance of 35 . The ringing was of a very good standard for a meatiug, and Mr. George Kilby had a buey time in his cepacieg as actiug Ringing Master. Rounds and various methods, including Surprise Major, vere rums.
The usual service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon E. Cornwall Jones, assisted by the Rev. K. H. Jocelyn. The district vicepresident (Mr. J. A. Trollope) read the lesson. The new hymu for pringers, 'Ruislip Bells,' was sung, the music of which was composed by the local organist, Mr. A. W. Owen, who was at the organ.
A visit to the George Hotel, opposite to the charch, was made for tea, with the Vicar, curate aud organist all present. At the subsequent meeting the lion. secretary anmounced details of the forthcoming joint meeting with the Lachies and Oxford Diocesan Guilds at Sti. St. John's, Hillingdon, on Saturday, Octoler 15th. A feature of the social would be a handball (balloon) contest. Teams of seven aside from any tower were iavited to enter forthwith. Fe trusted there wonld be less bloodshed thun on previous occasious!
It was provisionally arranged to visit Twickenlann on November 13th and Feltham on December 1it th. The ammal supper was fixed to be held nt Eeston on Saturday, Jannary 22nd, while the district annual meeting would be at the same place, probably on February 5th.
Mr. Prollope, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar, stressed the proint that ripgers weyo rather apt to talse for granted the lospitality offered ta them on visits to towers for peals, meetings, etc. He ibought that, on the whole, the clergy were very generous their treatment of ringers. Continuing, Mr. Trollope said le wond ke to talee the opportunity of congratulating Mr. Owen on the new hymn, which Jiad heen apuly entitited : Ruislip Bells. The speaker had studied Englishl literature Iairly extensively and he thought the ords a good deal above the usual. The tune was also attractive and yood.

Mr. Owen replied on behalf of the Yicar and himself, and said he had moticed that two hymns containing references to bells pealing were sung frequently at ringers' meewings, although not writien specinily for that purpose. They were "Wheu morning gilds the skies" 'Hark hark, my soul.' He mentioned the matier to a business colleague (Mr. James Beuson), who was also a very fine poet, aud engested they might collaborate in producing something for ringers. So dny he produced the four verses and in each was included a bellingers' prayer. Fe, MIr. Owen, was strack by the beauky of them, of when he had produced the mnsic for them, obtained the Vicar's rmission to call the hymn 'Ruislip Bells.' Ho added that all oceeds of sales of the hymn sleets ( 1 d . each) went towards the sintenauce of the Parish Clurch.
Defore and after business some change ringing on Mr. C. W. Taylor's ne handluells took place. The welcome extended by the clergy, laymen and ringers (especially Mr. Tom Colinis) was unch approciated.

DEATH OF MR. R. T CLARK

A POPUEATR DOVER RTNGPR

His many friends will hear with sorrow of the death of Mr. R. Thos. lark, of Dover, at the age of 47 years. After undergoing two operaons at the Royal Victoria Hospital. Dover, decensed rallied for a ime, but his strenglly gradually ebled and he passed away on Triday, eptember 10th. 'Tom,' as he wns popularly kuown, was ever ready discuss ringing with a smile. Fo was always foremost to assist in nging for any service nt the church, his advice to learners was ooked upon as a most valuable help coming from one who had made bkudy of ringing for many years. He was a member of the Kent ssociation and also the Bnth and Wells Association.
He was laid to rest on Wednesday, Scptember 15th, when among hose present at the cliurch were the Mayor and Mayoress of Dover. The numerous beautiful floral tributes spoke of the esteem in which lie was held. The following were sent from the ringing societies with which deceased bad heen conneeted: The ringers of St. Mary's Church, Tipsbbury; Fome Brancl, Bath and Wells Diocesan Association of Clange Ringers; St. James' belfry, Dover: St. Mary's, bellíngers, Dover. Following the service at the graveside, a course of Grandsire Triples was wing on handbells by Messis. HI. Whiteliead, H. J. Sannders, C . Turner and L. Lcach, concluding with the riugers' final salute
In the evening a quarter-penl of Graudsire Triples was rung halfmuffed at St. Mary's Church by a band representing the Kent Association: G. Eagles 1, S. A. Wells 2, W. Terry (Deal) 3, F. A. Rye (Walner) 4. W. Kitchen (Folkestone) 5, IF. J. Saunders 6, C. Tumer (conductor) 7, $\dot{H}$. Whithelead 8 .

Are you a College Youth?

If you are, you will want to read the new history of the Society, which this year celebrates its Tercentenary.

Mr. J. Armiger Troilope has written a volume of great interest, which brings to light many hitherto unpublished details of the first two centuries of the Society. Facts have been revealed for the first time by the investigation of old manuscripts in the British Museum and Public Record Office.

The early history of the College Youths is largely the story of the development of the art of ringing in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and members will gain a new knowledge of the foundation of their Society, as well as much information about early nembers hitherto unknown except by name.

The progress of the Society through the years, with its vicissitudes and succeesses, is accurately traced and admirably told. Every ringer should read this book, which will be published shortly.

It is deny 8 vo . in size, bound in cloth covers, and the 12 pages are illustrated by numerous reproductions of old prints in the British Museum, photographs and drawings of famous London churches.

A ZOOLOGICAL-CAMPANOLOGICAL OUTING. WILTSHIRE RINGERS' EXCURSION.

The ringers of Lydiard Millicent, Wiltshire, accompanied by a. few Fricuds, held their aumual outing on Saturday, September 18th, the clert of the westher looked with favour upon them. A start made at 7 n.m., the first call being Wheatley, where the Vicar mes the party and some Grandsire Doubles was ring, despite the very bud arrangements in the ringing loom, where the clock case, etc., is an inpediment. $\Delta$ ston Clinton was then visited and some ringing entjoyed on this good going ring of six. Here again the Vicar was attendance. A lialt was made at Ivinghoe Beacon to emable the more energetio members of the party to do a litlle monntaineering and the view obtained was ample compensation for the energy expenderd. The real oljeetive, Whipsinde Zoo, was reached at 12.30 , and the afternoon was spent in making acquaintancesh ip with animals and birds of all sorts ard sizes. The journoy home was begun soon after tea and a call was made at Dinton, where more Doubles were rung. A halt was made at Thame, where the autumn fair was in progress and it is reported that three well-known Swiudon ringers were seeu riding on the hobby-horses. After the fearsome beasts of Whipsinde they wanted a change, something nice alrd tame! Home was reached safely at midnight after an enjoyable day, and thanks are extended to all who helpea make it enjoyable.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple wayTo many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. lt acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

Founders of the heaviest bells cast in England.

BELLS OUSTED BY GRAMOPHONE.

Recently we have been hearing of churches being equipped with amplifiers to 'broadcast' bells from a gramophone record when their towers have not been equipped with the genuine article. In place of the often discordant note of a single bell, with its irritating monotony, there is something to be said for such an installation, at any rate temporarily. There can, however, be little excuse for using mechanical substitutes in churches where a ring of bells is already in existence. Yet this is what appears to be happening at the celebrated Church of All Hallows, Tower Hill. The Vicar is the respected founder of Toc H, the Rev. 'Tubby ' Clayton, and it is reported that a gramophone has been introduced to take the place of the bells, because the latter are unsafe. Such an action will be deeply deplored by all ringers. All Hallows' has a peal of eight, and if they have been allowed to get into a dilapidated condition, as so many other London bells have been, the fault lies first with the church authorities, whose responsibility it is to see that they are maintained in good order. The provision of a gramophine, which the authorities no doubt regard as a cheap way out, is, in our view, a deplorable means of escaping a liability to the church and a trust which lias come down to them to be handed on to the future. We shall probably be fold that there are no funds to carry out the necessary work to the bells. This is so often the excuse, yet time and again we hear of the bright example of poor parishes shouldering successfully the task of restoring or renewing their bells. Ebbw Vale, in the distressed area of South Wales, is an instance which we record this very week. We wonder if any real effort has been made to obtain the money for the work at All Hallows'. We can hardly imagine failure for such an appeal in connection with a church so justly famous as the home of Toc H .

But, having said this much, let us not be blind to the fact that one of the reasons why the bells have got into an unsafe condition is from lack of any interest in them by a regular band of ringers. Where there is a company of ringers the bells are naturally better cared for, and the defects brought to the notice of the authorities. It may be that long neglect has resulted in the present dilapidations. There are other London churches where the belis are similarly falling into decrepitude. Quite a number of peals of bells have dropped out of use from absence of interest on the part of ringers, even for occasional visits. London has far more bells than there are ringers to ring them, but it is a great pity that something cannot be done by the societies which cover the area to act jointly in getting a review of the whole position, with a view to a comprehensive reorganisation. It might save other bells (Continued on page 642.)

from becoming so derelict that gramophones will be substituted and our fine old art still further ousted from the capital of the Empire. It could be done if there were a better spirit of co-operation among ringers in the Metropolis.

PEAL NOTES.

MANY CEEEBRATIGNS.

At larton-on-Humber the looal ringers gave up their practive on September 22nd to enable a band to ring a peal on the evo of tho havest lestival. Their kinduess was much appreciated.

In this peal, which was Bob Major, Mr. Harry Eastoe scored his first as conductor, aud he and Mr. Jach Bray "completed the circle" in the tower.
The first peal on the bells of Great 'Corwington, Devon, since their yestoration by Messrs. Taylor and Co., in 1931, was rung on Sepiember 22 ud .

Mr. Edgai* Rivers conducted a peal in sevell Minor methods nt Hiatlesham, Suffolk, on Scptember 20H. It was here that he raug bis first penl nearly 40 years ago, namely, in 1898.

A peal of Minor was ruug at Biddegham, Beds, on September 18th, in honour of the anniversary of the Vicar's induction to the prash,
In honou' of the wedding of Miss Norah Kathleen Dumper to Mr. Gordor Leslic Green at North Stoneham, Hunds, on Saturday, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Foyal was rung on the light ring at St, Nicholas' Clrureh. Tlae bride is the youngest daugiter of Mr'. E. Dumper, one of the local band at North stonelam.

A peal in another method from the Central Council's CollectionPulford Bob Major-lias been rung for tho first time, at Orayford on September 24th, aud was conducted by Diwin A. Barmett, who, at 18 yeurs of age, has scored his 250 th preal.

Mise Filda slnowden rang hor Giftieth peal aud her fivst of Bristol Surprise Major on Saturday, when at Halshead, Essex, the bolls were Fung lalf-nuffled for the death of Mr. Wall, a prominent churelhworker.
Miss Hilda Wintie, who rang the treble to a peal of Minor at Mitston Cheshire, on September 20th, is deserving of congratulations upon a faultess performance, althougly she had not rumg Minor until fow days before the peal.

Artanged for Mrs. T. Fenner (tee Miss C. Hoverd), of Matfield, the peal of Grandeire Triples at Breachley, Kent, on September 22 nd , was lung in hononr of the birth of a daughter to Mrand Mrs. I. (i. Powell, of Hawliurst, and as a 7lst birthday compliment io Mre. Dartneli, mother of the ringer of the tevor.

The pend of Ealing Surprise, tine first in the method by all the bund and the Herts Association, rung at Aldentham on Saturday, was the 25tll peal ticgether by Nessus. J. J. Rootes and M. F. R. Hubluert,
Two men wore required to ding the Lean to the peal of Stomman Triples at Blowbury, Berks, on September 18th. It was the first in that method on the bells siace 1906 , when the late Rev. F. F. Robinsan conducted one after the dedication of the two trebles. The band then comprised the Rer. G. F. Coleridge, W. H. Mussell, F. W. Hopgood, E. Humfrey, Rev. C. W. O. Jenky, W. Newell, Rev. F. E. Robinson and R . White.
Three generations of the Paulson family were represented in the band that rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Darley Dale, Derloyshire, on September ooth. It was rumnged as $u$ farewell to Eprest Paulson, who has entered Chester College as a student jn the tenching profession, and for Mr. John Austin, of gloncester, who was visiting tine diatrict. It also celebrated the birth of a son to Mr, pred Mrs, G. H. Prulson.

The first peal of London Surprise Minor by the Chester Diocesin Guild was rumg on September 18th ali Capenlurst. It was alse flio lirst by all the band, and ane of tho ringers, Fred Enrtman, had thever rung a tonch in the method before.
Mr. William Buckenham has now ring each bell at Hilgay, Norfolk, to a peal, completing the circle last Fuday by finging the 3ud to his first peal of Double Norwich.
The first peal on the bells at Harston, Canabs, rund on Sopt. 18th, was a birthday compliment to MLi. Percy Webb, of Ickleton.

A peal of Double Norwich with 4,5 ond 6 only in 6th's whs rung at Ealing on Sept. 18th, conducted by Alan f. Pink. The sperinl interest in tho couposition is that it was prodnced loy a young Contrishman, Gyri] Lamani, who is probably the first ringer of Cornwall to compose a peal.
Cyril Jauxan, who is a representative of the Truro Diocesnu Guild on the Central Council, has producet scveral compositions and is ar Foung ringer of great promise, who is handicapped by the jsolation of Carnish ehange ringing.
Mr. Willian Wclling, of Old Winisor, rang his four hundredtl? peal on Sepl. 18th, when he called a peal of Supertative nt Beaconsfield.

The first tower on Wednesdey was Norlhleach, Glos., only six miles from headquarters and situated on the main Oxford to Cheltenham road. Tho Church of SS. Peter and Paul is very large and has a square lower 100 ft , high. As itt was necessary to wait, owing to a slort service, some of the party made the long climb to the top of the tower, where a wonderfal view was olatained. it is recorded in the church that the sinuinces were left ou as a spire was intended, but, it was never iuilt. Six of the bells bear the date 1700 and the name of the founder, Corr, of Aldbouthe. The peal were rehung in Hew fittings and frame and two trebles udded by Kears and Stainbank ill 1897. The tenor is 18 d cwt. in LE. Ms. R. W. Daniclls, of Cheltenham, cams over to hate in short pull with the non-pealers before the peal commenced.

The bells are rather quiet in the ringing chamber, in fact it was quite difficult to hear one or two of then, and the draught of rope is long. A fine peal of Splited London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Najor was rung in 3 hours and 13 minutes, the first of 'Spliced' on the bells and of Spliced Surprise Major by the association. The Vicar met the ringers after the peal and expressed great pleasure with the ringing
After lumel, an eirhicmile journey took the party to Burford in Oxfordshire. The aseistant puiest, the Rev. Lancelot Audrewes, welcomed us on behalf of Canon Emeries, who has leeld the living for 30 years and is shortly rebiriag. The Church of St. Joha the Baptist has associations with Gromwell, nind it is vecorded that quite a number of delinquents were locked in the church for refusing to fight. The church dates from alout 1170 and shows traces of many alterations and different styles throngh the centuries. Three or four different roof levels can be seen and the tall spire is a landmark for miles.

The bells are rather a mired lot. The tenor is 19 cwt. in E and pre-Reformation, but we thonglit them very musical and appropriately Superlative was the method chosen. Tho ropes hans anti-clockwise. Some excellent pinging was heard, but the peal 'went west' after lat hours. Outside the tower the band were met by Kris. Thomas Bond, a local bellfounder, who has recasi nud rehung quite n mumber of bells in the weighbourhood.

Applaton, in Berkshire, was visited ou Thurgday morning. Our arrival was a little aften schedule, but Mr. Richard White was waiting and had everything in readiness. Most of the hand had not previously visitod this vilage, and there were many exclamations of stiprise at the smalliness of the tower. It did not seem possible that there could be room for a peal of ten bells. Hawever, Appleton is very fawous for peal ringing, and on the walls of the ringing chamber peal tablets record almost every concelvable length of Caters, from a mere 5,000 to the record length of 21,363 Stedman Caters anng on April 22nd, 1922, conducted by Herbert Latgion, aud in which Mr. R. White mag the 9th.
However, we had not come to brenk any records as to lengtl, and a start was made for Yorkshire Royal, which was suceesshully completed in 3 hours and 11 minutes, the first peal of Surprise Roynal on the bells and of Yorkshire Royal by the Oxford Guita. The belfry is only about 8 ft , squave, but everg bell is heard perfectly in the ringing chamber and the striking was excellent. There was one hiteh about a course fram home, when the 8th rape slipped, but fortunately rogained the wheel at the mext stroke. Mr. White was aistside to ofter congratulations, as also were the Holifields, senior and junior: A welcome wisitor was Mr. George Williams, of ふouthampton, who called in on his way to friends in the district, and be heard the Jast hour of the peal.
All the week up to this point perfect weather, with glorions sunshine, fad been cxperiencen, but it raiced hard on the short six-mile journey into Oxford. The Chureh of St. Mnrtin add All Saints which we visiled is situsted in the High street, but, being early closing day, no annoyance wns cansed by ringing. The elurch and tower were designed by Wreu and are wery like so many seen in London. ralis is peal of London Surprise, conpleted in 2 hours 51 minutes, whioh brought our total of successes $11 p$ to eight. It was the first peal of London on the bells and F. S. Bayley's 300th peal. The bells are a liglit, handy peal, easy to ring, with tenor 7 cwt .3 qr .10 lb . in A flat. The old six were relring amd augmented to eight by Mears and Stainbank in 1927. It was a long run home to Bourton, but good time was made.

On Friday morning we had ind LoNG DRAGGHT 31t miles run, practically all uphill, to Stow-on-the-Wold, Glos., situnted over Booft. above sea Ievel and the highest point on the Cotswolds, with wonderful panoramic wiews. The Lower captain, Mr. F. Davis, was waiting to weleome us. The bolls are a heavy peal with long draught of zope. The thixd and sixth hear the date 1606, and the peal were augnented fron six to eight and rehune by Taylor and Co. in 1897, the tenor being 30 cwt . in D . It was decided to attempt Bristol and this method certaniy sounded wooderful on these grand bells. The peal was successful in 3 hours 34 minutes and excellent ringing was hent. This was the first peal of Surprise in the tower, the only previous penl of Major being one of Bob Major rung in 1930. After lunch we had an eight-mike run on high ground to Chipping Norton, in Oxon, where the Church of St. Mary the Firgin is siturted in the lower part of this ancient town and has a square tower wilh a very nice peal of eight bells, tenor 14 cwt . in $F$, all cast originally by Rudhall, of Gloncester, in 1826. In 1907 they were recast by Mear and Stainbank aud rehung by Webb and Benneti, of Kidlington, Oxon. The ropes are a good circle and the bells of pleasant tone. Yorkshire Majou weut well and a fins peal was brought round in 3 hours 10 minutes, the first in the method on the bells.
Saturday morning's attompli was at Bourton-on-the-Watar, less than a quarter of a mile from headquarters, 50 , for the frest time in the week, it was not necessary to get the coach out, and Peter had a rest. Same diffoulty was experienced with the go of the 6th, but a little extm grease somewhat remedied matters und a start was mude for Gambriege Major. This was a false start, however, but ou testarting at excellent peal was rung in 3 hours 3 minutes. Those wore not in the peal spent part of the morning in flre villege smithiy wabhing Wr. Bernard Phillips demonstate his art. However, I an afraid that very little work was done, listening to ringing eertainly does interferg with work, but Mr. Phillips was glad to hear lis bolls rung so well.
On Saturday aftemion we were due at Kinglam, Oxom, about eisht miles from Bourton, reached via Stow-on-the-Wold. Fere we fount a very pleasant and handy ring of eight, widh tenor 12 cwt 1 qix. 14 ll in G. We were told that a local genteman, Mr. C. B. Yonag (since deceased), bore the cosk of rehanging the bolls about 15 years ago A forture of the church is the stone pews. Spliged Surprise Major in four methods was attempted and went like clockwork for lat hows when it weut 'up in the air,' and the subsequent inquest failed solve the reason satisfactorily. However, this was only the third pea lost during the week, and we were all mote than satisfied with 11 peals rume out of 14 attempts.

It still being early, a move was made to Cheltenham, 20 miles away a lovely run, mostiy on very high ground, over the Cotswolds. party spent the evening in various ways, and before leaving for quarters arrangements were made to ring at the Parish Chutch the next mornms.

VISIT TO CHELTENHAM.
Punctually at 10 a.m. on Sunday we arrived at. St. Mary's to find the local band ringing the bells up in peal, and it was a very go handle and with a good civele. Stedman Cinques met with fair suceess but a course of Cambridge Rryal and a tonch of Stedman Caterg w perfectly struck. The local captain, Mr. W. Dyer, had extendent hearty welcome, which was greally appreciated.
Back ta Bouton for laneh, packine and settling bip, and the par regretfully departed from this ielightiful little wilage, where the had recsived the best attention and been very comfortable. Dur the week we had covered lumdreds of miles on and aromid Cotswold hills, and the conyenience of having our own coach driver canmot be too well emplasised, for it enabled us to get aboub very quichly, with no waiting for buses or trains, and no long wetks from stations.
Permission had been obtained to have a putl on the eiglt bells he Merton Callege, Oxford, on Sunday aftemoon, and the party greatl appreciated the privilege, for these bells are seldom allowed to b rung inessis, W, F.dudge, H. Miles,
Post and other members of the Oxford Society were awaiting us we quickly made the long elimb to the peculiar ringing chamber, 28ft. square, the ringing floor comprising a balcolly around the wall of the tower mind open in the centre to the church below-it is quite long drap. 'The ropes hang twa on each side of the tower' and the circle seems enomous. The belle are heavy golly, temor about 31 cwi iu D. Howover, Stedman Triples and Cambridge Major wero ruy until it became time to lower in peal.
Ringing for evening service was performed at the Church of St Laurence, Reading, which has a fine peal of 12 with tenor 23 cwt .20 Jb in D. They wave relung and augmented to 12 by Mears and Stainbaul in 1929. Mr. R. T. Hibbert and other local ringers extended a hearty weleome, and Cambridge Royal and Stedman Cinquas were well struck,
After an carly departure from Reading, the parby began to break up, as the coach arrived at various home towns, after a very pleasant and happy week spent together, good ringing, many social hours and many new ringing friends made.

The whole party expressed their appreciation to Mr. W. Willians, who arranged the tour, and a special vote of thanks was given to Mr W. F. Judge of Oxford, who rendered great help. His local knowledge and assistance in secnuing towers was invaluable. Thanks were also accorded to the official organiser, Mr. J. M. Cripps, who fixed up the accommodation and had charge of the conch and carried out his duties right well. Special thanks aro also due to the various incumbents and local ringers at all the churches at which we raug, for we had a cordial welcome at all places wisited.

A NEW PEAL IN SOUTH WALES.

How EBBW VALE GAVE THANKS TOR RETURNING PROSPERITY.
A new peal of bells at Ebbw Vale, South Wales, has been given in thanks for returning prosperity, brouglit about by the pending restart of the blast furnaces and, later, the resumption of the steel works.
The dedication of the bells was performed by the Bishop of Monmoutl on Sunday afternoon, September 191h, and so great was the congregation that the church was fuil half an hour before the service, which vas relayed to another large gathering in the adjoining church hall.
In the course of the specially arranged service the Bishop and clergy, with the churchwardens, proceeded to the space beneath the fower and thore the dedication trok place, a course of Stedman triples beng ting immediately the ceremoly had been performed by $a$ band representing the Liandaff and Monmonth Diocesnn Ascociation. The ringers were J. W. Jones 1 , $F$. Atwell 2, Q. H. Perry 3, G. Popnell 4, G. Talbot 5, W. Page E, J. Phillips 7, W. Eeath é.
The Bishop, in his addleas, recalled the periad of sadness and distress, caused by memployment, through which the district had passed, and spole of the happy change that had now como about. Once again, lie said, the pulse of industrial and commercial life was beating steadily, and for these great benefits they offered thanks and praise.

The bells hung in this tower,' he continued, 'will be to yon a perpetual reminder of the passing away of adversity. To the hearts and consciences of those to come they will be a reminder of God in all the facts and clances of this mortal life.

In times of great joy and grest soriow these bells will not be silent. Sunday by Sunday they will make themselves heard fin and wide, calling men to come together. "Remember God "-that is what the bells will say. Aud this shall be the message of the bells to Ebluw Vale.'
After the address the Halleluia Chorns was sung, and the insptring service terminated with the Benedietion.

MILL WORKERS GIVE A BELL.
After the service touches of Stedman and Grandsive Triples were ung by visiting ringers.
One of the new bells was installed in houour of the Bishop. The icar's warden, Mr. A. S. Huxley, who alone raised $£ 750$ of the $£ 1,400$ collected by public and private subseription to pay for the peal, prorided one bell in memory of his family. A third is in memory of a former chureliwarden, Mr. J. Llewellyn Prole.

TREBLE BOB MAJOR IN B FLAT

VICAR'S STORY AT LONDON COUNTY AS&OCIAIION MEETDNG
A very eujoyable and pleasant meeting of the Southern District of the Lolldon County Association was held on Sabutday wook at Sit. Paul'e, Honnslow. A fine duy brought an early good attendance, and proceedings commenced with a touch of Stedman Triples. Sswaral ather methods followed. Tea was server in the Parish Hill, 'llae District Master (MAr. A. Mance) took the chair at the business meeting which followed. Mr. F. Miller, of Laling, was elected a momber. The place of next meeting brought a suggestion for [uthey and Fuliam, if permission can be obtained, the date being November 20th.

Towards the end of the meeting, the Vicar, the Rev. J. M. BytonJones, paid e surprise visit, aud extended a hearty welcome to the association. Ho inquired if it was possible to ring 'a Treble Bob Major in B flat, and then told an amusing talo of a talk with at visiting Archdeacon, who inquired of the Vicar whether his bells were rung on Sundays. The Ficar, with a wink of his eye, Lold the Archdeacon that when they were all present he thought the ringers could manage the above method! And the Archdeacon was rery well ploasea!
Before leaving, the Vicar was tbanked by Mr. Mance far his kinduess in granting permission for the use of the bells. Grateful thanks wero also extended to Mr. Gssh, the local towerkeeper, for his hearty welcome and excellent preparations for tea, in conjunction with his wife and helpers.

The members afterwards went over to Feston, where the bells wore available through the kindness of the Vicar and local ringers, to whom many thanks were given.

Methods rung during the day included Grandsire, Stedman and Oxford Bob Triples, Plain Bob, 'I'reble Bob, Double Norwich and two courses of Gambridge. Twenty-five members and friends attendet from Bishopsgate, Chelsea, Chiswick, Ealing, Hillivgdon, Feston, Hounslow, Isleworth, Kensington, Beckenham, Barnes, Pinner, Ruislip, Slough, Sb. Lawrence Jewry, Sumbury, Twickenham, Westrainster, and a welcome visitor was the Rev. A, G. G. Thurlow, of Wokingham.

The name of Sir William Firth, chairman of Riehard Thomas and Co., Ltd., is appropriately identified with another bell, for he gave the fund a send-off with a handsome contribution.

The sheet mill workers paid for one bell, the Motiers' Whion for another and the general public completed the peal. Tlie betls ave a grand ring of eight, with tenor of 25 cwi., the product of the Loughborongl Foundry. They ate hung, of course, in a metal frame with all the latest fittings.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A gathering of 75 members attenfed the Diamond Jubilee Festival of the Durliam and Newchstle Diocesan Absaciation at Durham on Saturday, when, according to vule, Mr. Arthur Pavne, O.B.E., reliaquished the office of president. Mr. Murray D. Oubridge, of Gosforth, was eleated to the office. A report of the proceedings will appear in our next jasue.

The association's Sunday service ringing scheme was topped atain Jast year by Whitley Bay in the 810 and 12 bell section, North Shields being a close secoud. Holy Trinity, Darlington, headed the six-bell section.
Tha Dust Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was founded in October, 1887. The jubilee is to be celebrated on Saturday, October 23 ra , at Alfreton, Derbyshire, and it is inleresting to note that the preachar at the service is to be the Rev. J. D. Nodder; one of the founder members.

The hon. secretary of the Ceutral Branch of the Ely Diocesan Association appals to members to make every effort to support the meebing at Haddenham on Oetsiuer 96in. The Vicar, like his pirdecessor, is ready to help forward tite ringers' cause, and it is the duty of the members to try and strengthen lias ready assistame. Particulars of the meeting are in our notice columms.

A bayd who visited Islewirth, Middlesex, on SaEurday, for a peal of Stedman Gaters mot two short. After wafting ihree-guarters of an hour in vain for the absentees, they started for Cambridge Major, rang 2 bours 35 minates-and then the tenor rope broke!
The now peal of eight bells at libbw Vale will be avalable for all ringevs from 2 p.m. on Saturday, Octaber $9 t h$.
A cormespondent asks to be allowed through ' The Ringing Worlu to thank ' Dr.' J. P. Fidler for the tonie, and dizections. The patienti is now progressing favourably, but a further supply of the touic is required to complete the eure. We understend tho tonic is 'canned, and sit would the patient be if he took it in too large quantities.
Readers who contemplate restocking their gardens should write 13 Messrs. D. Stewart and Son, Lutd, Ferndown Nurseries, near Winsborme, Dorset, for the firm's catalogue. See advertisement.
We regret that piessure on our epace compels us to hold over number of interesting reports, but these will appear in due course.

TWO-PART PEALS OF STEDMAN TRIPLES

 'ASTRONOMIGAL' NUMBER POSSIBLE.Mr. G. Wilfred Slavk, B.Se., Ph.D., gends us the fgures of a peal of Stedman Triples in two equal parts, with one single only in each part. We regret that space will not permit us to publish the peal is detail. It is made up mostly of hobs in sels of two and six, hut therre are occasional sets of four, and in ten places in each half one boly only. The single is in the first six in each half and the pali-pent end is 2314765 . There are 598 bobs and two singles, witli 240 plais sixes.

Mr. Slack says itt is ono of a type of peal which Francis Becan says is impossible of attaimment. I offer no apology for the large number of calls which are an the peal, but I would like to point oui that they can be reduced to some extent.

- The peal would probably be a delight to Mr. Trollope and the other variation lovers, as it is easy to show that there are at lease 278,942,752,079 other two-part peals with the same properties as that enclesed and which are simple variations of $i t$, whilst, if the symmetry of the peal is not a vital factor, then we find that the total number of peals which are mere vaviations of the above is not less than the almost atronomical number of 194,525,048,269,007,814,559.'

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

STANDING CODMMTTEE'S RESOLOTIONS.
A well-attended meeting of the North Norfoll Branch was held at Marsham on Septeraber 18th, when the four branches were repreeented, members supportiug the gathering from Aylsham, Buxton, Dersinghan, Fakenham, Garboldisham, Halvergate, Hethersetú, North Walslam, Norwich, Reedham, Saxlingham, Scothow, Wroxham, Wymondiam and Yarmouti, while Miss K. Willers, secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association, was a welcome visitor.
THe Rev. H. S. Sharpe, Rector of Marsham, conducted the service and joined the assembly at tea at 'Ringers' Cafe.

At the business meetirg which followed it was decided to hold the next meeting at Hethersett on November 27th.
A number of belfry electious were ratifen, viz., Miss S. R. E. Bowyer and Messrs. H. W. Gayton, B. G. Key, R. M. Harvey anti C. A. Vessey, while Mr. H. J. Boyce, formerly of Lowestoft, twas made a life member on his removal to London.

Mr. H. Tooke (hon. secretary) said the Rov. Mr. Boorman would bo glad to meet any ringer on October Gth, when an informal meeting would take place at Garveston.
The Rev. H. S. Sitarpe was thanked for his cordia] welcome and participation in the meeting.
The Standing Committee of the association then met and a number of regolutions were discusged. It wat resolved to adopt a badge; to meet in the varions branches instead of in Norwinh as formerly, and to reimburse in certain cases half the rail or bus fares of tho members attending the meetings of the Standing Committee.
A varied selection of methods was rung during the afternoon and evening to satisfy the tastes of novice and 'expert' alike.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION  THE ELSEE MEMORIAL SCHEME.  Stained Glass Window to be Provided,

The aumual mecting of the Lancasinire Association was held at Bolton on Saturday. The bells in seven towers were placed at the disposnl of the members and made good use of. Service was lield in The Suviour's Church at 4.30, the Jate start being due to the Lord Bishop of Hulme, who was the preacler, being unable to arrive sooner. Even so, he had left a church full of girl guides to someone else's care. He gave an encouraging address on 'Help.' Tea was served in tho schools to 68 members and friends-now large for a railway cenvie like Bolton, but each branch sent a contingent. The busiucss uleeting was presided over by the Rev. A. Scott, supported by the Rev. of Baxendrle (Vicar) and the fficials and most of the ommittee.
The committee's report was read by Mr. W. H. Shuker (hon. secretary).

TEACHING BEGINNERS.  WHAT IS THE BEST METHOD?  Lettars to the Editor.

Sir,-Mr. Wood scems to huve an aversion to Grandsive Triples, very much iko Mr. Trollope has to Stedman. Wise instructors do not need to be told by Mr. Wood or anyone else how to teacls beginners, for their experience often dates back long before Mr. Wood handled a bell, It is beyoud quegtion that Grandsire is tho best method to teacl? beginners, and it is far in advance of any, both for pupil and teacher. Thero is far better ringing done throughouth the country with Grandsile than any method ono cares to name. Even if it und cau only ring Grandsire well it is far better than much of the thixd rate banging about in other methods one hears in many places.

Mr. Wood says jou learn to lead with your ears. Is that all? Wise instructors can tell him something more is required to obtain the perfed lead. Probably Mr. Wood's theory in this direction is the cause of much indifferent striking, more of ien in Major methods than in Triples, owing to not having learat the true art of correct leading in all its stages. If you canot obtain good lend from the tenor, how can yon expect to get is from moving bells in $7-8$.

Wuch of Mr. Wood's article is like his peal of Bob Major, composed many years aggo. Noboty now thinks of composing in such a method, for ell the best has been attained in this direction. Mr. Wood is in w minority over this question, and when lis experience is greater he will realise that Grandsire is a method that has interested; and will continue to interest, far more ringers than he imagines.
W. SHEPHERD.

OLD AND SUCOESSFUL INSTRUCTORS FAVOURED

 GRANDSIRE.Dear Sir,-During my 59 yearg' close expericnce of change ringing all over the Britibli Isles, tine old question as to the most suitable method ta infroduce to a Dew ringer has constantly cropped up, and I would like to guote the united opinions of three of the most success. ful instructors I over remember-Jasmes Petbit, Mathinew $A$. Wood and John M. Hayes. It was simply this: 'Speaking of methods, Gandsire is the mother of them all, and takes the rust off atl the others '!
I also know that one of the best known instructors in the North of England sharef this opinion wholeheartedly, and that was none other Whan tha late Thomas Hattersley, of Sheffeld. Other sucecssftil men were George Wanklin, of Gloncester, Josiah Wathen, of Tewkesbury, Freeman Ball, of Chester, and James R. Haworth, of Lordon, all of whons started beginners with the Grandsire method. One great feature of this teaching was the fach that every pupil nust first of all be blorongh master of his bell aud strike call changes perfcotly before being allowed to take part in any method ringing.
If also, have tanght a good many beginners in my younger days, and, if my opinion counts for anything at all, it certainly goes in the same direction, inasmmeh as it, is most essential that a good " lead' must he abserved, and that is best learnt from the 'tenor behind 'preferably Grandsire, althongh my favourite method of all is Stedman.
It would also be well if more people were to ring properly at firs and follow the golden rule of "Audi. Vide, Tace' (eyes and ears open and mouth closed) before trying to thrust their tew idens down other people's throads! Eeaven forbid that others in the 'risiug generation' will advooate starting learners in the discoudant jangling of the unamsical 'Surprise' methods! I have zaticed whb much regret that the staudard of ringing in some towers that were fromous for striking examples of good ringing in days gone by are now hopolessly inforior, compared with what formerly obtained. F. J. DAWE.

OTHER WAYS OF TEACHING

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. S. H. Wood's article in last week's Ringing World,' I would Jike to malze the following comments:1. Wearly oll instructors teach the same mothod of hunting up; namely, by striking after the boll that strikes after jou in the previous change.' This I do mot adtempe to teach, it being, in my opinion a time-wasting practice. Take the Triple methods recently under tiscussion, I would first teach the pupil how to make second's place, as in Bob Triples, and third's place, as in Grandsire Triplos, and how to return to lead. Then how many bells are to be passed before striking the treble and hunt bell and the onder to strike thase same bells to returu to lead, and when and how to make the dodge, sund so each leach. The same principle applics to Bob Major. The pupil to record it on paper and learar it before attempting to ring jt 2. Learning to strike evenly ovar other bells which cannot be done in ringing rounds: I Fecommend the beginners to ring Rounds, Queen's, Tittums and Whitcington and not to let any oue begimer ring the same belf more than once during each practice.
3. 'Learning to lead.' This cau be done while No. 2 is in progress, by the more advanced pupil taking the treble and teaching him to lead, first by rope-sight, then by ear, in the latter case by his turning away from the tenor, and before any change ringing is attempted. 4. I consider the best method to begim a band with is Stedman Triples, as every position known in ringing is therein contained. It is a different matter when a hand is one short where they ring Grandsire or Bob Triples.

AN OPPORTUNITY IN LONDON

Donr Sir, May 1, int this linal reply to Mr. A. P. Cannon, hank him for his iuformation as to his Sunduy activities. I was well aware that ine dit appear at varians limes in divers places as the spirit moved him, but even this I do not think places bim in a position to criticise or lightily condemar the methods employed by a goad umber if not the majority, of those who instruct beginners. His remark atbout nyy "Sunday service mospel. he answers himself in his letter published in 'The Ringing World ' of September 10th.

If he would cease his wanderings, get fogether a band of youngster and set going oue of the peals in London at present silent, 1 , for one, woald listen to his advice on teaching with due respect, and, who knows, wa might even think him worthy of st touch of Bob Triples as a welcome on lis next visil to Fastings.
He might eyen try to emulatio the feat of that old 'war horse, of Batlie, Mr. W. Franks, who has thmed, in evident disgust, from the present-day youth and flled his tower with young ladies

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION  ORDSALL WIN CUP CONTEST

The North Notts Association met at Sation-on-Thent on Saturday, Seplember 18th, to compete fur the teath time for the Crawlord Siver Cup. Althongh many ingers were present, only three teams entered the contest, Braby-in-the-Willows, Warsop and Ordsall. Ordsall, being drawn to ring first, rang 360 Kent Treble Bob Minor at a moderato speed and with closed leads. Next came Barnby. Bob Minor and open leads at a rathor quicker pace secmed to have won the cup for them. Warsop, compoting for the first time, also wang Bob Minor with open leads. There was no further ringing before tea, which was served in tho Parish Hall; the excitement as to the result of the competition spoileri mo one's appetite.
flle meetiur afterwards was cut down as much as possible, so that an early daturn could be made to the tower. The Rev. R. F. Wilkinsorn, acting as chairman, mentioved the regreb he felt at the death of the Ticar of Edwinstowe (the Rev. F. C. Day Lewis), who had kindly eutertained the ringers to tea when the bells were recently rectedicated. Those present stood in silence for a few moments as a token of respect.

Mr. Wilkinson welcomed Mrs. Rowsell once again to the competition mecting. Her father, Mr. Crawford, had long been interested in the association, and interest was still majataincd oy Mrs. Rowsell

The result of the contest was then announced as follows:-

\begin{array}{ll}
1 \text { Ordsall. } & 197 \text { faults } \\
2 \text { Barnby, } & 202 \text { faults } \\
3 \text { Warsop, } & 307 \text { faults }
\end{array}

Mrs. Rowsel] presented the cup to Mr. J. Furst, captain and conductor of the Ordsall band, and said that slo was pleased to be present once arain to liand the tropliy to the best team of the day. Ninging in North Nots alwayg hexi and always would interest her.
The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, replying on behalf of the Ordsall team, said that while he was pleased the cup had gone again to his tower be and Ordsall ringers would always be pleased to see it go to another tean. Interest was still aliwe in this competition, but it would be better if the cutp was won by difiereat teams each year. He was pleased to see a team from Warsop, where there were only four bolls and he hoped this young band would be enconraged to compete again.

Tho judges, Mi. J. Moss, of Bolsover, and Mr. W. Allwood, of Chesterlield, gave no criticism of the ringing. 'We are all friends and want to remain friends ' was their only remark
Three new members were elected, Messrs. K. Mayer, P. Holmes and C. W. Metcalfc, all non-resident members

After this menting the enlire company went up for a pull, those wha had competed laving first preference. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Littla Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise and Original Major wece all rung during the evening, with rounds on cight for the learners. At 8.30 the bells werc rung down, everyone having thoronghly enjoyed the meeting.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

MR. LESLIE MORRTS ELECTED SECRETARY

The Septomber general meeting of the Yorkshive Association wns hed at Kirkburlon, near Huddersfeld, on Saturday, September 18th, when members werc present from Sheffield, Ecclesfield, Far Fead ingloy, Cawthorne, Wath-on-Dearne, Rotherhan, Armley, Leeds, Longwood, Lindley, Ripponden, Shipley, York, Selby, Rothwell, Brad Ford, Pudsey, Sherburu-in-Elmet, Almondbury, Batley, Sution-un-Hull, Headingley and the local coinpany.
The bells, a nice peal of eight, tenot ISt $\frac{1}{2}$ cwt., by J. Taylor and Co. were raised soon alter 2 p.w. and kept gring in short totthes until 5 owlock, when, in the Schoolroom, an axcelleai tea was thorowghly enjoyed by the 60 members and iriends present. The presideat (Canon C. C. Marshall) took the chair at the busimess meeting which followed. He was suppoited by Mr, George Lewis (vice-president) and Mr. S. F. Palmer (ion. irensarer). An apology was received from the general secretary, MI. J. E. Citwer, yerretting his inability to attend,
The presidenc proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vical of Kirkburton (the Rev. A. Sephton) for allowing the use of the bells and his consent to hold the meeting there. He (the president) explained that owing to the vast territory of the association it hed not been possible to pay a wisit to that part of the county for sonas considerable time, but it gave him and the officers great pleasure to be again amongst Lheir Kirkburton and district friends.

The Rev. A. Sephton suitably replied and geve the association a very warm welcome.
A vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. T. Rapment aud seconded by Mr. R. H. Vigor, to the loenl company for their help in saaking the meeting so successfiul, was pleasantiy acknowledged by Mr. H. Arnitage.

Six new memberg were elected.
A notice of motion having lueen previonsly given, 起r, George Rabinson, Leeds, proposed that a free tea le provided by the associn tion at the annual meeting at a cost of not more than 87 .-After disnussion it was defeated on a whov of hauds.
A further motion by Mr. Rabinson authorising certain expenditure in comection with the vext Ceurral Council meeting, to be held at Leeds next year, was recomucuded to be dealf with at the naunul meeting in Jannary.
Great regret was expressed at the resignetion of the general secre tary, Mr. J. E. Cawser, who did not seek re-election at the close of his term of office. As his increalsed business engrgements prevented him from regularly attonding the variows meetings, lie considered that someone else slbould be appointed who could do so

One momination for the rachncy was received, Mr. Leslio W. © Morris, of Hobbeck, Leeds, being duly proposed and elected to thin position.

The President drew attention to the associntion's fortheoming dinner to be held at Leeds on October 9th, when lie hoped to eee as many nembers present as possible.
Further riuging was indulged in until 9 p.m., which brought most enjoyable gathering to a cloge.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

HOLBECK RJNGELS OVERCOME DIFTICULTIES

The September meeting was lyeld on Saturday last at St. Mathew's Holbeck. The ettendance in the afternoon was small, but this ceuse no surprise, as the Holbeck meetiug was the fourth ringing meeting in this area in five successive Saturdays. A wedding prevented fingi from commencing at the ustral time, and the bells were zaised peal aboul 3.30 p.m. Some good practice was put in before tre Afterwards the aftendance was all that could be desired and mom than the fower could hold all at ouce. Ringers were present from Armley, Batley, Birstwith, Burley, Bradford Cathedral, Drighlington. Headingley (St. Miohtel's and St. Chades), Elland, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell, Sherbury and the local company
Tlee business meeting was held in the tower, the prestent being in the chair.
Four new members ware clected, viz., Messrs. W. H. Johnson, of Sir. Michael's, Headingley, A. Cryer and H. Jones, of Holbeck, and A. Cole, of Hunslet.
The vote of thanks to the Vical', chutchwardens aud the local company was proposed hy Mr. F. Rayment, who remarked that he wis pleased the local ringers were "sticking to it," as he knew they had had a very rongl time.

The Rev. G. R. Norton, is reply, said that the tower had had a bad time and the company lad been in danger of cracking up, but ho hoped they had now got over hae difficulties. They had promise of expert help and would be gratefinl for any other assistance but thoil practice night.
It was then pointed out that the Beginnerg' colum in "The Ringirg World " would prove helpful if the lacal ringers would take a copy or two of the paper.

The next meeting is due to be ineld at Fast Ardsley on Saturday Ociober 30th.

GUILDFORD.-At S. Nicolas' Church for evensong on September 26th for the harvest festival, ${ }^{\text {a }}$ quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: S. Radford $1_{1}$ E. Etheridge 2, W. Breeze $3, W$. Cope 4, G. Tomsett 5, F. Radford 6, S. Elton (conductor) 7, R. Radford 8 .

THE LINCOLNSHIRE TOUR.

On Thursday we were Iavoured for the day by the company of Mr Einry Chapman, of Keystone. Ehe came early and left late, and revived Manchester memories at intervals. Those of the team not ringing at Swineshead in the morning spent a half-day at Sulleet for lamoh and a look over the Glyn Garth establishment, where modern mnchinery sterilised bulbs and graded tomatoes. The frailty of nankind was exhibited by Bill Henley, who bipped aver a burrow lond of the fruit at ' handstroke.
Our better half team were successful with London Surprise Major at St. Mary's, Swinesbead, but as I did not go to this tower' I have no notes to give except that the old ring of eight, 1794, wibh tenor $46 i n$. diameter, were cast by T. Osborne, of Downham, and remanned intact for just on a century, the 4 th being recast in 1883 by Taylor and Co. Previous to 1794 there were four bells, as mentioned in the Harleian MSS.

BOSTON'S FAMOUS TOWER

The clans assembled at Bostan Stump at 4 o'clock and were met by Mi. F. Dewey, who led us to the stair aloov and told us to 'take it gentiy' ; blate were culy 365 steps to backle. Fortunately, a beavy ship's cable winds round the newel, afording some assistance to wind and linb. Up, up, hp you go, and when you reach the ringing room, down you sit. "The old builders wisely put wo staircases, one in each of the piers adjoining the nave, to facilitate building. To-day the anceus tourjsta who wish to view the Fen Country bave to go up ue aud down the oher. We got of into Cambridge Royal about o'clock, but soon gave up the mehod. Such a wide circle of ropes cquired eyes of many facets; the higrl dome in the centre of the ringing room hid the lower part of several ringers (especially the conductor), end the ringing became slow enough for Sextuples. This tiempt made guod practice for the Kent Royal that followed in roper ter-bell compass.
Here is another expert restoration by Taylon's, a new fron frame, uree old lells recast, two new brebles added, all of which was duly ported in 'The Ringing Warld' at the time.
We rested for inl hour al the Peacock Hotel which faces the Square, 'so markel place of Boston, and from its wiudows Nathaniel Fawhorve (the American writer), Duke of Edinburgh and the Tichborne laimaut and others have in the pasi gazed out won the busy centare this ancient towa.

HOW THE 'STGMP' WAS REPAIRED.

There are one or bwo matters of interest to bellringers, relating to Botolpli's Church aud tho county, which I ought to mention.
Shate the year 1415 Dr. Fleming, a famous Rector of Boston, afterturds Bishop of Lincoln, enlarged the chancel and began the erection the lower. This great pile was not part of the original buildinge, lich is considered to be the finest in England and the highest in Enrope. The stone vaulting (floor to apex) is la7ft. high and there Te many clurch towers that could ba stowed inside it. The consulting hitect, Sir Gilhert Scott, was afraid the weight would be too muh h the swaring of the bells in their massive oak fanme in 1853 , hoh led to the carillou beimg installed.
In 1927 Camon Hutchinson (Vicar) Found the cracks in the roof aud "war so obvionsly needed attention that aghin a scheme of restora-on was nudertaken, when Sir Charles Nicholson was called in. It is reorded that Jolm Cotton, a noted Puritan Vicav, sailed, with many f lis friends, for Boston, Massachusetts, in 1633; and how the resients there in the year 1930 came to the rescue of ofd Boston by ollecting upwards of 55,000 dollars within three weeks, for the repair of this lower and rehanging the bells, as a wercentenary gesture, is well known. On the base of the tower are registered the levels of reat floods of the past. Counts history records the lavoe caused by mudation, all suficient to give Jcan Ingelow a theme for her long poem, "High tide on the Lincolnshire const." Mr. Alex. Young raised the gitestion of the 'Brides of Enderby' in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World, which has been cleared up years ago in North's Bells of the County' (page 328)
The Boston Bell Comnittee of 1867 sclected as oue of the 28 tunes to be played upon the 44 bells of Van Aerschodt's carilion an air of that title, but it stevor existed and the authoress of the words refused to compose one for the committee. I rabler believe the lady had some association wibl Enderby Mavis (one of three parishes of Enderthy), where there are three belis. It is up to the Boston men to discover more about this writer.
During our tour my thoughts frequently turued on the ' Nine Tailors, ${ }^{\circ}$ the fascinating ringing nove by Dorotby L. Sayers. I expected to see Mr. Redhead's beauliful tower looming up at one of our villages and our team knocking off a touch on her octave! The pea! of 'reble boh Major in her book is called incorvectly; it will bo foumd in Showdon's, pp. 22 and 121 , as composed loy James Wilde, of Hyde, Gheshire, the fathor of our Dunedin frieud, J. S. Wilde. Fenchurch St. Fibul, by Mr. Redhead, has several featires resenbling Boston tower if the lantern on top were onitted and the wiudows of the two upper storeys were trausposed. Of course, Ind Wimsey would not be an abbreviation of Winclielsea, a noble ringer of the county

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will weicome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

GREAT CONTRIBUTION TO RINGING LITERATURE

One of the most important contributions to the historical side of ringing literature has made its appearance this week. Mr. J. Armiger Trollope's book on "The College Youths' has been published, and will, we are sure, be of intense interest to all who read it. That: 'all' should include every member of the Exercise. This book has not been written specially for the members of the Ancient Society, and its appearance in this tercentenary year, although appropriate, is largely coincidence. The volume, while traciog the formation and life of the College Youths, round whose activities through the years the survey is, of course, written, deals also with the very beginnings of our art and with the way in which, in other days, the birth and growth and, in some instances, the decay of rival organisations aftected the existence of the fine old society which, in a few short weeks, will celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of its foundation. As is not inaptly said by the author, the history of the Society of College Youths is an epitome of the history of the ringing Exercise, and if ringers have any interest in the art they practise beyond that of the moment, they will want to read this book.
