THE NEW YEAR.

The year which opens toutlay should be a notable one in the long history of ringing. A Coronation is one of the great events in the life of a nation, and in this land of ours the bells for centuries have been used to express the feelings of the people. Next May the ringers will be called upon to play their part in the national celebrations. The 'pealing of the bells' will be expected in every town and village where possible, and it will be the bellringer's great opportunity, not only to share in the rejoicings in his own peculiar way, but to demonstrate the recognised part which the bells play in events of real importance. The more ringers can show that they are ready to discharge these duties on public occasions the more ready will the public be to accept the activities of the ringers on other occasions.

There are two things in this connection to which ringers should forthwith devote their attention. One is that they should see that their bells are in reasomable ringing order. It is not always a question of calling in a bell hanger; a spanner put round the frame and on the nuts on the headstocks will often work wonders, if applied with intelligence. Many a bad-going bell is the result of negligence. The importance of keeping the bolts of the frame and the bells tight is often overlooked. They should be regularly overhauled at all times, but we drop the hint that they should reccive special attention now, with the Coronation in view, because good ringing can hardly be expected on bells that go badly.
That leads us to the second point-good ringing. Do not let us imagine that because the belis are to be rung for an occasion of public rejoicing that any kind of ringing will do. Let every band try to put up really good ringing-not only for their own pleasure and satisfaction, but because the public appreciates good ringing. Because the pubfic does not understand our art, let us not run away with the idea that they do not know the difference between good and bad ringing. They do know the difference. It should always be the aim of ringers to improve their striking, and it is as important that the ringing for the Coronation festivities should be good as it is that Sunday service ringing should reach a high level. Let ringers see to it, therefore, that they perfect themselves as far as possible between this and the great event next May. Practise with the definite idea of being able to ring at least one method well for the King's Coronation and thus make the ringing worthy of the occasion.
So, at the outset of what will doubtless prove a memorable year, let the ringers lay their plans in order that in their particular department they may do themselves justice. Let them also lend a helping hand to their weaker neighbours who may be struggling to get some sort of efficiency into new and raw material. It may not be an interesting task, but it may be of immense value to some other band. Indeed, if there is one thing we would urge as a 'good resolution' for this new year it is that ringers should not only strive to make themselves more proficient, but should seek out those less able than themselves and help them with practical assistance and morai encouragement. And so we wish our readers a happy and prosperous new year, success in their undertakings and plenty of good ringing.

EDGBASTON'S CHRISTMAS 'SURPRISE.'

GRAMOPHONE BJLLS.
We quots the following from the Birmingham Post " of Monday. 'Gramophone bells ' may be a change for St. Augustime's parishioners, but the development is not one which ringers or bellfounders-will appreciate.
PThe greater part of Edgbaston had a pleasant surprise this Christmas, when peals of bells were heard from the tower of St. Augustine's Ghurch, whick Jas only one bell.
'No appeal fund for bells had been launched; no wealthy benefactor had announced such a gift; no workmen lad been seen hauling tons of metal to the tower. The secret had lyeen well kept, and it prowided the main topic of conversation for people over the breakfast table.
'Tew guessed the reason why, insteasi of the monotone call to eight o'clock service, everybody hed heard a peal of Stedman Caters, with all the dignity and liveliness of the bells of St. Margaretre, Westminster.

When, before Matins, there was another beautiful peal-Bow Bells this time-curiosity increased. People went early to church to find vut what was happening.
"The secreb was soon out. The Ven. J. H. Richards, Arolideacon of Aston and Vicar of the parish, had caused recordings of famous peals of belle to be "broadcast," and their music was heard up to helf a mile away in ench direction.

On all sides there were enthusiastic comments about the quality of tone, and Archdeacon Fichards said last night, after further peals kad been ruug, that no complaint had been made.
"He added that so far it has been possible to give peals of Stedman Caters and Grandsire Caters from St. Margaret's, Westminster, and of Bow Bells. By the aid of twin records on an apparatug operated in the vestry, the clergy can caise the bells to ring as long as they desire. At tha ead a clack may be made to chime the hour. In the tower are four amplifiers of modem debign.

Tery few installations of the kind hawe get been made anywhere in the country. The firm producing the apparatus is Birmogham Sound Reproducers, Ldd., of Old Hill.
"The installation is experimental, and the period of "probation " will end with the ringing in of the New Year.

One reason for the experiment, the Archdeacon said, was that he always regretted it was impossible to have bells for weddings at St. Angustine's. Everybody who was married there wanted bells. When he heard of the new apparators he resolved to try it, and to do it as a Christmas surprise for Edgbaston people."

To the list of twelve-bell towers which we published last week should have been added Buckfast Abbey, Devon, where there is a new riug by 'raylor and Co., with tenor 41 ewt.
Willonhall, Stafts, is to have a rimy of ten bells. Messrs. Gillett and dohnston, Led, Groydon, bave received the contract for the reatoration and amgmentation. The work includes jess frame and fittings, recasting the existing ring of eight and adding two trebles.
Following a peal of Keni Treble Bob at Marden, Kent, ou Boxing Duy, the same band had two and a half hours' good ringiag for a peal of Double Norwich at Linton, when a splice in one of the ropes pulled out,
At Marden the conductor (Mr. T. E. Sone) rang his 250th peal for the Fent Association and completed the calling of a peal from each bell in the tower. Had the peal at Linton been successful, Mr. Sope would have called a peal from avery bell in that tower alse. After the Marden peal the band enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. G. H, Sone, whom they have onec again to thank far their kindness.

Tho new bells of Croydon Parish Churel are to be bromicast on Suaday morning at 9.25 ou the National (lowg) wavelength. The method will be Grandsire Caters.
The hon, secretary of the Central Council thanks the Ladies' Guild for the liquid refreshment received in a can, and wishes all the members a lappy new year
A peal of Minor in 14 wethods has been rung on haudbells at Burtoll-an-Stather, Lines. Is this the greatest number of methods in seven 720's rug in hand? If there have been more, we should like to knew.

WELL-KNOWN WEST RIDING RINGER.

DEATH OF MR. G. R. RARDT

The death of ML. G. H. Eardy on December 5th takes from the Exercise another of the famous band of Dewsbury and, later, Earlsheaton ringers. Mr. Eardy was a woll-known local and Heavy Woollen District composer and conductor of Treble Bob. He was olle of the famous Dewsbury band, who were noted for their consistent striking abilities, and winners of contests when a guarterpeal of Major whs the contegt length. For the last 35 years of his ringing carcer he had been with his native village team at Earlgheatou. That team wou the Hatifax and District Cup no fewer than a score fimes. He was also an member of the Dewshay band of tule ringers and helped to win sontestes at Belle Tue, Manchester. He was always a willing helper in feaching reoruitg and brought out many at hig local tower. He was yery keen on good striking. Striking, with him, was the lirst ining to consider bolit for the team and the public. Be was 76 yeats of age and had been a vinger for 60 years. He was a life member of the Yorkshive Association.

Fe was interred at Earlsheaton on December 9tin and many lacal cingers attended. A touch of Graudsire Triples was yung at the Graveside by Hy. Dransfield 1-2, G. Bennett $3-4$, Herluert Dransfald $5-6$ I. Thickett $7-8$. An attempt for a half-mufled peal of Troble Bob on Boxing Day morniug unfortunately came to grief after two hours' good ringing, when the 3rd rope broke. The peal was one of M1. Hardy's compositions and called from his favourite bell, the sixth. The band consisted of two with whom he learned to ting and the remainder were all lis pupils, the band being: W. Idle $1, P$. Byram 2, H. Lumb 3, Hy. Dranslield 4 , M. Hodgson 5, w. H. Senior 6 , Herbert Dransfield 7, Noman Ling 8.

RECORD PEAL COMMEMORATED.

ST. MARTIN'S GOLD AND TFE 11,111 STEDMAN CTNQTES.
Boxing Day was the anniversary of the record peal of 11,111 Stedman Cincwes rumg at St. Martin's, Kirminglam, on December 26th, 1901. in 8 hours 2 minutes. Of the band there still survive seven : Messre. W. Short, H. Midileton, A. E. Pegler, G. R. Pye, W. H. Barber, \{. Lindoff and John Barber.
It was decided to attempi a commemorative peal last Suturday and the seven survivors were invited to take part. Only three, however, were able to stand in, Messrs. Shorb Middleion and Pegler. Mr. W. H. Barber, who was to have condncted the penl, was prevented at the last monent. Mr. John Barloer met the band before the peal and wished them success. As will be seen from the repolt elsewhere, the peal duly 'came home.' the camposition incuading the stating and turning coltrses of the wiginal peal.
The performance of 1901 is recorded in St. Mathin's betfry on a hantsome basud.

HOBART'S NEW PEAL OF BELLS.

DEDICATION BY BISHOP OF TASMANIA. Completion of the Cathedral.

With impressive ceremony the new tower and beils of St. David's Cathedral, Hobart, Tasmania, were dedicated on Sunday, December 6th, in the presence of an immense gathering of the public, which filled the Cathedral and all the space surrounding the building.

The blessing of the tower and bells was performed by the Bishop of Tasmania (the Rt. Rev. Dr. R. S. Hay), the ceremony being attended by the Archbishops of Sydney and Melbourne, Bishop Reginald Stephen (former Bishop of Tasmania), and the Australian Bishops of Newcastle, Gippsland, Riverina, St. Arnaud, Bendigo and Goulbura. The Governor of the Island (Sir Ernest Clark), the Lord Mayor of Hobart (Mr. J. J. Wignall), prayer, and preached a striking sermon from words in Parm 48, Great is the Lort, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of His holiness.
After the germon, the hymm, "The Church of God a Kingdon is, was şung, and, following a special prayer of thanalsgiving and exlortation, the choir rendered Handel's Hallelujah Chorus.'

Then followed the 'Clipping of che Cathedral,' culminating in the blessing of the bells, In this cermony there were five processtons. Escorted by the surpliced choir, the first, comprising members of the congregation, praceeded through the cloisters round the building, and when the circuit had been completed, they joined hauds, thus enemeling the Cathedral Church. This was done to the acconpaniment of the hymn, 'Onward, Christian Soldiers,' symbolising or further notable achievament by the Church in Tasmania.
The second procession of leading lay offecals of Tasmania followed, and was lreaded by the Governor and the Lord Mayor, followed by the visiting bishops' wives and their hostesses, licaded by Lady Clark (wife of the Governor), Mrs. Hay (wife of the Bishop of Tasmania), Mrs. Wignall (Lady Mayoress) ade Miss Rivers (sister of the Deam). The third procession was of afogesan lay oflicials, members of Synod, the Diocesau Conncil, the church frustees, liended by the Catliedral Bonrd and the Clurch Adrocate. Then followed the visiting Arch-representatives of the Navy, the Army and civic Iife shared in the proceedings which formed a memorable occasion in Church history in Tasmania. Incidentally, it was the first time for more than forty years that a ringing peal of bells had been opened in Australia. The new ring forms part of a chime of thirteen, cast by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the erection of the tower completes the Cathedral building.

THE BLESSING OF THE NEW TOWER AND BELLS. FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

By Air Mail.
The great doy has come and gone and will live long in oul memories. then the bells of St. David's Cathedral were lieard for the first time a crowd estimated at 15,000 was waitiong in the vicinily to heat them man were thrilled with the beanty of their music.

All day we had talan part in services looth apmropriate and siguifieant, which reminded us of the culminutiou ol the years of sncrifice and loyal ondeavour which lave gone to the completion of our Cathedral.
Sixty-eimht years ago the fommdrtion stone of the Cablhedral was laid; an this day, Sundat, December 6th, 1936, wo met within its walls-vice-royalty, prelates and clergy, representatives of the Army and Naw and of all sections of the community-to thank Gor for the compileler huilding.

The service began with the processional hymm, 'Rejoice to-day with our accom.' Then the Archbishon of Sydney recited o "hinding bishops, wearing their colourfu' robes, and their claplains. The last procession was that of the clergy of the diacese of Thasmania. hended by the Bishop.
When all those taring part had taken uj their respective stations, tine Bishop, who was survounded by the visilisy prelates, blessed the tower and the belis, dedicating their service to God, nud houding them into the care of the Dean. It was a slort and simple cercmony, but nons the less impressive, and its deep symbalical import was not lost on the huge thronte of spectatars.
The cerenouy concluded with the National Anthen and the Blessind. And then for the firgt tinle the bells weve heard. They were lirst rang by boys of St. David's, the Dean's servers, who are forming a band. Ther rang six bells in rounds and a few call changes. Arterwavds tho ringers of Eoly Trinity Chumels took charge and rang pinin courses of Grandsire Doubles on 1.2.3.5.7., with 4.6.8 behind. The striking wras good nad the performance very creditable, as the liells had previonsly only heen hatided with the clappers tied.

We got a tremendous thrill when the sonnds broke out overhad. The bells are a truly magnificent peal, worthy of tha famons bellfounders who have supplied them. The 'go' is excellent.
The Holy Trinity Association's ringing was done by A. RR. Wilson I, A. Taylon 2, S. Smith 3, T. Le Rossimnol 4, S. Thylor 5, J. Lucas 6, J. Quarmby 7. J. Newell 8.

On the following day we finished up with a gaven party at Government Honse with an attendance of 1,100 visifors. Amongst all the Arelsbishops, Bishops and obher celebrities $I$ falt more than prourd to be a bellynger, nud, most of alt, that I represented my dear English friends. The afternoan, heing showery, was spent mostly indoors. Sir Ernes Clarle will never forget the lanaholl ringing in the lath-

So far the St. David's boys have broken three stays at their practices, but ons other jncident might have ended in serious catastrophe. about a month before the opening, a boy went up into the vower unauthorised and held down the rope conmected with the chiming hammer of the tenor. The bell was being lung down by one of our members, and the chiming hammer was snapped off. The bell was slightly chipped at the lip. It was fortunate thet no further damage wes done.

ARCHBISHOP OF SYDNEY'S ADDRESS.

Clergy were presenf, at the ceremony from all parts of the State of Tasmania, among them, in addition to the Dean (the Very Rev. i. R. Rivers), being the Ven. Archdeacon D. B. Blackwood, of Hobart, who played so large a part in arranging for the entertamment of the English visitors in 1934, and the Ven. Archdeacon H. B. Atkinson (Launceston).
In the conrse of his address the Archbishop of Sydney said the erection of the tower had completed a beautiful building situated in the heart of a beatiful environment. In the symbolism of religion, a tower stood primarily for the presence of God in the midst of Eis people, and a!! that that presence could mean to them. While it was frue that a clurch tower was not intended to meet a material need or serve material needs, yet, hecause of the spinitual significance atiriched to it, it was most fittingly incorporated in the scheme of have entrusted confidently to us the duty and responsibibity of going forward from the point where they had been called away, and so one generation depends upou the faithfulness of another, and this shonld bring lome to us, in special way, a sense of the responsibility which rests on us here and now with regard to the future. We love need to ask aurselves, in a spiritual sense, if we are allowillo what others have built to fall into ruin and decsy; and if we are leaving in a state of incompleteness some work nobly begun; if we are building, and if we are buildiug nafaithfully work that will stand neither time nor etemity? We are living in a day of superficiality, and wo must continualiy ask ourgelves wath what materials are we building the spiritual house of God? Is Jesus Christ himself reatly our foundation stone? Are we building indeed on Him? We must build with the materials Gor has provided, and we must luild in accordance with Fis plans.'

Tho Archbishop said there was a semiuder, ton, that the tower, through the ministry of its bells, would speak with ho uncertait sound to the community, arresting the thoughts, sometimes carcless and forgedful, of all who heard it, into the homes on tile mountain side, over the waters of the beantiful bay, and along the reaches of the wide river their sacred music would extend itself, and through it, in Fet another way, the church would speak. The bells were the voice of the church, and their meaning was manifold. The tower and bells would provide not only a memory, but the infuence for good of those whose gifts and benefactions made possible their erection and installabion.

MEMRERS OF HOLY TRINITY BELLRINGERS' ASSOCIATION,

- If the citizens of Fobart will look upon this stately tower in that way, continued Dr. Mowll, "and if the Church aud those associated with it will regard it as a witness for God, then all the wealth that has been spent on it will be repaid a thousandfold, and alt the labour put into the elfort to upraise it will not be in vain in the Lowt.

Pointing upwards, fti will ever be a rominder that God is for all rising from its foundintions, so close to the touch of the band, it will ever proclaim that Goa is in our midst. How beautifully sanctified and how greatly strengthened and certain life would be if that great religious trath were hetter realised and more seriously taken to heart!

MESSMGE IN THE HISTORY OF THE BUILDING.
Tho history of this pile," continued Dr. Mowli, "is another message for us-a mossage concerning man's labour's for the expansion of God's kingdom. Like many cathedrals, it was begun by one generation and completed by another. The work of those who laid the foundations has been caterod into by other faithful servants of God, until to-day we see the completed strueture, a moniment of past faithfulness aud present. zeal, and athallenge also to the generations of the future calling on them to assert themselves vigorously for the building of that spiritual church which the Great Architect himself has planned, and the extension and completion of which still awaits the devoted labours of master builders under His supreme supervision. How great the privilege is ours to-day that we are permitted not only to be fellow-citizens with the great and goon men of the past, but also to share in carrying out enterprises which they began. The magnitude of their undertaking begur in faith, lope ancl conrage left much which they could not perform, but they did labour, and, laving laid the good foundations and having done their work, they

THE TOWER AND BELLS.

The fine tower, which now completes St. David's Cathedral, Las cost about $£ 15,000$ to huik. As will be seen from the illustration, it stands a little away from the main building, to which it is connected by a broad comvidor, the entrance to which is through the base of the tower. A happr link with Tnglish cathedralg is to be found in stones from some dozen or more of them set in the walls of the corridor and each jdentified by a small bress plate.
The tower is 116 ft , high to the top of the turret and a further 18 ft . ©in. to the tip of the small spire, making 134 y it. in all. The main walls are 3 tht thick and tho overall width at the base $32 \frac{\mathrm{ft}}{}$, The interior wieith is $20 f$ t. and the circular staireage is 5 ft . in diameter The tower had previously been anried to a heicht of $22 \frac{1 f t}{}$., at which point the foor of the ringing room is laid. The bell chamber floor is bfit. from the gronnd, with an intervening floor at the 43 ft . level.
The thirteen bells in the tuwer range in weight and diameter from $1 \frac{1}{2}$ covt. and $1 f t$. Bin. respectively to 15 cwt. and 3 ft. 7 in . Five of the bells are hung vigid and the remainder form the ringing peal, They are, of course, equipped with modern fittings, and will, we hope, provide an encouragement for the development of ringing in Hobart.

PRESENTATION TO TEE DEAN OF ST. DAVID'S.
On the evening preceding tho dedication a conversazione to welcome the Archbishops and Biscops who were visiting Hobart for the ceremony to mark the completion of the Gathedral was beld in the City IAall and attended by a large and representative gathering of citizens. The distimguished visitors were welcomed by the Bishop of Tasmania, who spoke of the bequests which had made the completion of the Cathedral possible, and the enthusiasne shown throupb the years by the Dean (applause). The Dean not only had shown keen interest, hat had inspired others, and the result hed been the formation of the Friends of St. David's, who had raised in tle wicinity of S2,000 in the past seren years. The Cathedral stood in the heart of the city, not only as an arehifectural adomment, but as a witness to God and of the Clristian spirit of the people of Tasmanir. They were gratelnal that the Australian Ghurch was represented by so many high dignitaries of the Church on the mainland.

The Archbishops of Sydney and Melbourme replied, the formen recalling the fact that Dean Rivers was tha first Precentor of the Cathedral at Sydney.

During the ewening the Bishop of Tasmania, on belalf of the clergy and laity of the diocese, presented a silver tea service and tury to Dean Rivers in recognition of what he had done for the Church nad iu the buildiug of the eathedral.

The day's rejoicing was completed when, at the Imporial Fotel, whe Dean eatertanaen at dimer the worknenassocialed willa the building of the tower and afterwards was their host at a theatre party.

HOBART BETLRINGERS' ASSORIATION.
The other peal of bells in the city is at Holy Trinity Church, where the teuor is 9 ewt. These bells were erected fin 1847. There has been a Bellriugers' Association at this chumeh for 50 yars, and a new stimulus las been given to it by the arrival of Mr, S. Smith, a ringer fuom Stafiordshire, England, who is now 引uputy Ringug Master.
Here is an interesting extract from "The Merenry. Thamania's principal newspaper, of November 141/1, 1886-fifly yexis ago, recording the founding of the Hobart Bellringels' Assotiatiol :-

- A mocting of those interested was held on friday evening lasi, when it was resolver that an association for the purpose of eriltisiting the art of bellringing, and for ringing and chiming the bells of Trinity Church be formed, the same to be called "The Bellitigers' Associn-

COPING STONE CEREMONY.

A group photographed it the top of the tower when the coping stone was set in position. From leit to right: 正r: G. Sorel1, Archdencon Blackwood, Mr. A. Joknston (architect), Dean Bivers, Mrs. Hay, Lady Clarlk, the builders representative, Canon Wilson, Mr, A. R. Wilson (representing the bellingers), Dr. Hay (Bishop of Tasmania), Mrs. May, the Fev. M.J. May (Precentor of the Cathedral). On the way down, Lady Clark, accompanied by the Biahop and Mr. A. R. Wilson, went into the belfry, and a bell, chimed by her hand, sounded over the city.
 Rivers, Dean of Habart:-
On the occasion of the dedication and opening of your new tower and bells, I am asked by the Fuglish ringers who wisited Anstralia two years ago to express onr sincere congratulations upan the completion of the project. We are deltghted to know that in some small way, perhaps, we were instrumental in securing that an octave of the bells should be hung for ringinw. We hope that the bells will prove an added glory to your beautifinl Cathedral and a joy to all who hear them. We trust also that men may be found who will learn to ring them and that they may be heard over jour city rung at lenst for the Sunday eervices.
We shal: follow with the closest inferest the progress made is the great and ancient art of change ringing hy those who bave the privilege of handling your bells, and lope that in time to come they may emnlate the performances of their brethren in England.
We shall be with fou in spirit on December 6th; we trust the day will be a very happy one and, in conclusion, gend our warnest greetings and good wishes to the people of Hobart, aud particularly to the many friends wa made during our hever-to-be-forgotten stay in your lovely Island.

GONGRATOLATIONS FROM MELBOTRNT
Conveying congratulations from the St. Panl's Cathedral Society, Melbourne, to their ringing bretheen in Tasmania, Mr. A. A. Savage, the hon. हecretary, wrote:-
' You are to be conrratulated on hawing amother peal of bells. Hobart will be very rich with ringable church bells; really much better of than po in Melbourine, as those at St. Patrick's Cathedral are a poor lot. I feel a little envious of youl What a thrill you will got when the bells of St. David's ring out for the fret time."
tion." Tho pules were adopted, and the following officers appointed : President, the Rev. G. W. Shaohriege, vice-presidents, Messrs. A. Dobson, A. Grisp, M.H.A, C. H. Grant, W. Lovett and Bryant Webb; master ringer, Mr. E. J. Rogerg; asgistant master ringer, Mr. H. L. D'Fmden; searetary and theasurer, Mr. A. E. Lovebt; conmittee, the president, naster 1 imger, assistant master ringer, secretary nnd treasurer, with Mr. W. F. Tumper,'
It is interesting to note that Mr. Rogers and Mr. D'Emden, original members of the soctety, were among those who welcoms the Enclish ringers to Hobatt on their visit in 1934. They were also anoong the 'lasmaniau rimgers who wither Melbonrue for the opening of St. Paul's Cathedral bells in 1889.

NEW RING OF EIGHT AT BALCOMBE, SUSSEX

ARCHDEAGON'S QUESTION 'JO RINGERE.

'Ilse Ardideucon of Lewes performed tle ceremolly of delication of the ring of eight bells at Z3ilcombe, sissex, on Saturday, Decemher 51t. Five bells of the original ring of sir have been recast, and two new trables added by the parislioners of Balcombe to celebrate the Silver Jubilec of his late Majesty King George $\mathbf{V}$. and Queen Mary.
There was a lave congregation present for the service, which was conducteri by the Rev. D. J. Secretrin (Rector of Balcombe), who was ucconpanied by the Archdeacon of Lewes (the Vell. Tr. H. D. Smythe), the Rev. WT. A. Dengate (Vicar of Staplefreld) and the Rev. Harold J Scolt (Ardingly). Dr. R. T. H. Newhon (churchwarden) whe present, the ather watell (Mr. H. Faure Walker, J.P.) being uuable to attend.

A lavge number of ringers were present from Balcombe, Crawley, Cuckfield, Lewes, slaugham, Lindfchi, Worth, Turner's Hill, Uckfeld, Godstone, and From Sti. Micholas', Sl. Peter's and the Church of the liood Slicplesd, Brighton. The mumber included Mr. F. Meads (Cramity Down), who rang at Balcombe Church on the ocengion of Queen Victoria's Jubilee in June, 1887.

Duriag the course of his address the Archdeacon said: 'the sound of your bell w will go over the lund, and I do think we ought to cealise what it shonda mean to us in these days when at least $23,600,000$ people in this land are out of touch with organised religion."
Later ley said that the bells were a watchman continualy reminding hem of the praise and worship int whide they should join at the chureh. They were a witness, sounding a telling plea to the people to cone to worship. Let them hope that the ringers would never be ashamed to witness that they, iny their worship, followed the call 1 hey gave to others. There were 14,000 paid and 33,000 voluntary lingerg in this land, and it was quite a serious thing to ask how many did that which they ealled others to do?
Special hymus wete sung, and the service concluded with 'Gos gave the King.

REOAST BELLS IN REINFORCED TPAME

Toushes were then rung on the bells by visiting ringers, and at 8.15 p.ra, the bells were lowered in peal, whe visitors being subsequently Anternaned to supper in the Parish Roam by the Rector and churchwardens
The Rector, in welcoming the ringers to Balcombe, told the compriny how the scheme lrad uredually taken shape. He roferred to a Jifotime's friendship with MT. Cyrij $\Gamma$. Fohnston. and expressed the appreciation of the Balcombe people for the excellent work that the helffounders lad dome
The Tentor was followed by Dr. Newton, who made an amusing speech and recounted tales of Conncil meetings and deliberations that might, he said, be almost conforential
Ifr. tolnston thanked the Rector for all that he had sata, and he knew that the enthusiasm of the local band wonld recelve the auppart and tasistome of the many expert vingers in the district, so that the tacession of the trebles woukd quickly lead to the practice in the tower of the higher methods in elght-bell ringing
The proceedings ended with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and wavdens for their welcome to Balcombe and their hospitality ably put by Mr. A. D. Stone, formerly lion. secretary of the Sussex Coninty Association.

The ald hell frame las been reinforced in many parts and anchoted to steel girderg, o. new metal frame having been erected to carry the twe new twelles. No. 7 bell of the new peal is the only bell of the olkI ring of six which thas not becu recost; this bell bears date 1628 . No. 5 bell now has inscribed upon it the rames of the present Rector and churolwardens. All the bolls are fited with modern inprovements, mond the new peal is hithly praised by the ringers. Messre, Gillett and Johnston are again to be congratisiated on producing a fine preal of bells.

FOR BEGINNERS-

AND A WORD TO OLDER EANDS.

GIVING THE 'YOUNGSTERS' A START

'This is New Year's Day, so to all Beginners, whether they are beginning Grandsire Dunbles or Spliced Surprise, or anything that comes in between, we would fitst of all extend our good wishes for health, happiness and prosperity. For our art may it be a year of uneximpled progress, and may it wrins a large influx of new ingerg, and adpance to every one of us already engaged in its pursuit.

New Yeal resolutions will be pleutiful to-day-most of them to be quickly forgottel. But we hope that in every belfry the riagers will make a determination to go ahead; to fill up the gaps, to push oll with the art; and, if they thengelves are without opportunitjes of going further, then do their best ta raje others less sdvanced to at least thei own standard

And what about giving some of those youngsters whe as jet know mothing about change ringing a little more encouragement and help? They, or others like them, liave got to take youv places some day, 50 they ought to bo helped along. Besides the quicker- they move forward, the somer you will ges their assiskance ju things which you wonld like to do, but cannot for want of others to help your. If you find teaching difment, encourage these youngsters to follow up the articles in this column. The lenmers can, we thiolt, help themseives a great deal from what appenrs, and, with Four assistance, the stumbling-blooks to change ringing onght to be overcome fairly easily.
With a complete novice, we alwrys think it is easential that he should first understand something of what change ringing is, before he is made to do something in the tower which lie doesn'te really grasp. We have heard ringers say to the variest tyso, 'Now, come on, see if you can hunt the treble.
Except that he knows he has got to do something difterent to striking over the same bell all the bime-whicla is all lie las done up to this stage he has only the fogqiest notion of what is required of him. So the instructor stands belind him and every pull tells him to follow this, that, or the other bell, or to lead, and at the end the beginner is often more bewildered than wheu he started.
A little preliminary explanations with pencil nad paper, or by some other means of illustration, is well worth while. It is not a bad idea to start with a few playing cards. The 'object' of changes can be explained with three; the 'movement ' of the bells ju changes can quite well be illustrated with the ace, two, three, four and five. The ace, as the treble, can indicate how that bell lunts up and down, and with carcful mnoipulation the work of the other bells can be made plam. If you have an objection to lie use of playing cavds, get five postcards and write large on them the figures I to 5.
It will give your beginuer an interesting exercise to manipulate the cards accurately enough to prodice romads at the end of a given number of changes.

Malce it plain to him that bwo pairs of cards must ho chenged cach time, and that each pair that is changed must be two adjoining cards. Start him first of all charging the two frowt and the two batk poils alternately and let him sec how the "bells" come round after ter changes.
Next show him that he can extend this teu to thinty, if aftor No. I has appetred lwice at the beginning of the line, le etranges the front and the baok pair, instead of the two front paiss. Don't enrget to remind him that he must' do this immediafely he starts, for No. 1 has ahready been in the appropriate posilion.
An exercise like this an the table will go a long way to slowing the beginner what he has to do in the tower, and it is Felpful if, when lie can manipulate the eards successfully, he will copy down in a columan on paper the rows as he produces them. The manipulation of the cards will show him the movement of the bells in changes, the record on paper will enable him to examine the detriled effect of that movement. A process that will give a beginner something that he can see and monderstand from the first will give lim an interest in applying it. in the belfy and enable fin all the auickar to grasp abat le is required to do when he is at the rope end.

RECORD MINOR PEAL NOT ATTEMPTED.

ILLNESS KEPT BAND FRON MEETLVG.
It was aot found possible to attempt the record meal of Minor at Felkiri, Yoriss, as had been intended on Hoxing Dity. Through Iness the band, as armared, could not ge pat tormer
However, a company was made up and two $5,040^{\prime}$ 's of Minar rung, one at Felsisk in the morainy auk the other* at Barmsley Inter in the day. After the peal at Barnsicy the company were entertained to 'a good square meal' by their old friend Mr. ©. D. Potter, and an enjoyable social evening was spent.

UNCLES AND COUSINS RING FOR WEDDJNG

At St. Mardin' Patislt Church, Ruislip, on Boxity Day, the Rev. K. Jocelyn. Ruislip's ritging parson, offiated at the weddins w Miss Mary Ive, formerly a ringer at Ruislip, to Mr. Reginald Peckinna, of Wembley.
After the ceremony a touch of Dob Minor, with tenor covering was rung by G. Bunce, C. Pouller, Wr. Bunce, jun., J. Bunce, w Bunce, sen., Iom Collins and H. The, the tingers being limo ancles Bunce, sen.,

REGISTER OF METHODS.

The suggestion that there should be a 'register' of methods kept by the Central Council is, we admit, an old idea. We ourselves have put it forward on more than one occasion in the past, but nothing has ever been done about it, except to some extent to put it into the same category as a register of compositions, which is now admitted to provide a task that it is practically impossible to carry out effectively. A register of methods, however, is nothing like so lormidabie a proposition as a register of compositions. The object of the latter, if it were possible to work it, would be to establish authorship, but there are two weighty arguments against it. One is the difficulty in having to decide what is an original composition and-as is revealed in present correspondence in our columns - whether two apparently similar compositions are actually the same or different. The other, and less generally accepted, is the question of whether anyone has the 'right' to a composition, it being asserted by those who throw doubt on this right that the production of peals is only the application of mathematical formulæ.
Be that as it may we still think there is ground to ask the Central Council to establish a register of methodsnot so much for the purpose of recognising authorship as to save the confusion which arises from a method being rung under different names. There have been many such instances in the past and there was the recent ber, but when an author has obtained something of which he is proud we can understand he feels slighted if his name is not associated with it. It is a little courtesy to which he may well think himself entitled. It may be, however, that in this case Mr. Tipler's association with the method was entirely unknown either to the Methods Committee or to the ringers. Such a thing is quite possible. The Council's Collection was the product of mathematics, and although the figures of this method had been previously published, it is quite easy to see that the two sets of figures may never have been brought together for comparison. If a register existed, the author of a method could send it for registration, and, if it was already in existence, he could be so informed. If a band practises a fresh and, to them, unnamed method, they would have a means of ascertaining whether or not it had already been given a title, and whether it had previously been rung. We suggest that a scheme for a register of methods might well be further considered by the Council.

DEATH OF MR．C．J．PARTRIDGE．

A NOTTINGHAMSHERE FINGER

We regret to record the deatiz of en well－known \＄1uttor－ix－Aslifield ringer，Mr．Cornelius John Paxtridge，who passed away at the age of 55．He was a man of genial disposition and courteous manner，and a popular figure in the towers of Notts and Derbyshire．Mr．Part－ ridge had resided at Sutton for over 20 years，and when the ring of bells at the Parish Church was augmented to six in 1920 he became a useful change ringer and ⿲e丨orular attendant at Sunday services．
His peal record is not available，but ke had taken part in a num－ ber of peals of Major and Minor in the standard methods．Ho was a momber of the executive committee of the East Derbyshire and Nolts Association，and also of the North Notts Associabion and the Midland Counties Association．
His fatal illuess commeneed with influenza，which developed into proumonia，and，following an operation for the removal of fluid，the passed away in Mansfield Hospital on Monday，December＇28th， The interment took place in the wemetery ou Thursday，December 3lst．A service was previously held in the Parish Churdh，and the nutiled bells were rung by lis friends from Sutton，Mansfield Wood－ house，Tibshelf and South Normanton．In addition to the family monners，feveral mombers of the Parodial Churcin Council and rail－ waymen svere present Rud the East Derbyshire and Notts Association was represented by Mr．W．Allin（vice－president），Mr，T．Clarke，Mr C．M．Heathcote and Mr．L．Rawson．
The sympathy of his fellow－ringers is extended to the widow aud family of two sons aud two daughters．

THE BELLS OF BIRCH

TO BE REOPENED BY PHE BISEOP OF MANCEESTER
While a Parish Church has an intimate uppeal to its parishioners and congrogation，the belfyy and ring of bells has an appeal which extends throughont a very wide area，due to the personal interest which ringers display wherever there is enthusiasm for the art．This is very true as regards the Church of St．James，Birch－im－Rusholme． We publish in another column an advertisement in connection with the opaning of the betls＇ceremony，after rehanging，etc．，by Messrs． Taylor and Co．，of Loughborough，
t＇he bells of this church，which are well known and thought of in the North of Bugland，have been in use for 72 years，and it is 32 years since they were completely overbauled．This time a full set of self－ aligning ball bearings have been fitted，aud the trial＇touches＇have shown the ringers that the physical elfort necensary is greatly reduced and the control of the bells greatly facilitated．

We understand that the Birch band of ringers is one of the youngest in the Manchester Diocese，and it speaks volumes for the interest shown in their welfare that tha help and advice of the older and experienced members of the art are on all oceasions given unstint－ ingly．Whem the Bishop of Manchester zeopens the bells of Birch， any ringers，if they happen to be in the Manchester neighbourhood， will be very welcone．

THE IMPORTANCE OF BELL CONTROL

We hope the＂fve－card trick＇which we endeavoured io explain to begimners last week may have iuterested those who are just starting change ringing．It was designed to show how changes are formed， and the＇movement＇of the bells amolg each other－that is the wary－ ing positions they take in redetion to gach other in the succession of chanrses．
To do this in the tower with real bells，the rimger has to learn ta ＇place＇his bell in the required position，by pulling his rope at the exact moment which，allowing for the longer or shorter perioa of the revolution of the bell，according to its size，will restlt in its stiking at the proper interval after the one immedintely in front of it．The beginner，therefore，will realise that to pull just＇stmewhere＇after the other man is not suficient，if there is to le good ringing－and good ringing，by which we mean keepity time and rlytum，is the first essential．
The larger the bell，the longer it takes to revolve and consequenty the longer it takes for the clapper to strilse．If two bolls of approxi－ mately the same size are pulled off togedher they will，assuming thes are properly liung and in good order，strike simultaneousiy．You can hear the effect of this if you will pull off together the lreble and second in your tower．Having dnue so－and get them agan as quickly as possible，for the sake of the public，if nothing else－pull off the treble and tenor together．Unless the bells belong to a very small peal，you will find there is a very perceptible interval between the striking of the two bells．
In actual ringing this differeuce in the period of revolution must be allowed for and it is necessary to allow move space in striking over a big bell than over a little bell．Two things are essential to per－ fecting your striking．First you must have complete control of your bell，and，secondly，Fou must＇use yonn ears．＇
To begin with，you cannot control your bell unless you hold your rapa properly and pull correctly．Keep your hands close together， whether at zope end or on the sally，and grasp botio with all four fingers of botly hands．Let your hands go well above your hend every time，and don＇t sumbeh．$A$ steady pull and a long one is the effective way of ringing a bell．Ring with your arms and not witl？ your waist，and if yon want a little extra weight occasionally，get it by bending the lenees．
Before you begin change ringing，which，to be well struck，meeds perfect bell entrol，get some practice with eall changes so that you will learn how much＇space＇to give each bell as you pull over it． Use your ears．Listen for the sound of your own bell among the rest．It may nok be easy to pick it out，at first，but if yon will count the bells round as they strike，beginning when they are in ＇rounds．＇you will soon knom which is yours；then make gure that it is striking at the right interval－that is with the same internal as between the other bells．Nothjng is more irritating than to have the bells going round with a＇jazz＇effect；some＇close，＂otherg＇wicle．＇．
The only point at which there should be a break in the＇periods＂ between the blows is at the＇hand－stroke＇lead．Then there shonld be the space of an extira bell befween the last bell at hadstroke aud the first at the next handstroke．On six bells you shonld have twelve even blows，and then a ong bell interval．On eight there should he 16 even blows and a one bell interval，ane so on．

We fo not renommend any hegimer to attempt clatage ringiog， much as he may be anxions to do so，until he has obtained completn mastery of his bell in rounds and call changes．It is uscless to think he can concentrate on clanges nntil he can，praclically without con－ scious effort．＂pult＇his belf where he wants to，without＇dropping．＂ or＇over－pulling＇it．Apart from creating bad ringing；the beginner who cannot＂place＇his bell where it onght to go has little chance of finding his way among the others in changes．Better tako a little longer in mastering the fundamentals than pashing on eveninally to become a＇poor striker，＇There is 10 greater compliment thui can be paid to a ringer than to have it said of him that he is a＂perfect striker．${ }^{\prime}$
Do not be anxious，then，to rum before you can walk．If you first learn to strike your fuell properly that essontial part of your ringing equipment is never likely to desert you，bul yon will find it dimcult to become a＇gcod＇ringer，if．tou atcemple chatre ringing before you can completely control your hell．Muny＂bad＂ringers liave jeen made in that way．

WALTHAMSTOW RINGING MASTER＇S DEATEH

Tt is with deep regret that we have to anmonnce the deatl of Mr． Ernest D．Lillywhite，who passed away on December $18 t \mathrm{th}$ at the age of 61 years．Deceased had been Ringing Master for 30 years at St． Saviour＇s Church．Walthamstow，and will be sadly missed for the congenial atmosphere he ereated in tite belfry：Altiough he had rang several peats，he concentarted mostly on teaching linging to the young recruits．

Tho funeral took plape at Walthamstow Cemetery on Denemher 23rd．the Ficar officiating．The ringers were represented hy Mr． G．B．Lucas，the former Ringing Master of St，Saviour＇s．Wrenths were sent from St．Saviour＇s and Southwark Cathedral ringers nat many other friends．Sympathy goes out to the widow and family in their bereavement．

HOBART BELLS

DEAN'S LETTEIt TO ENGLISH RINGERS.
The Very Rev. the Dean of Fobart (Dr. A. R. Rivers) has seat the following latter to Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, under date November e8thl:-

I am asked by the St. Devid's Ringers to express their gratification at receiving the frindly conyratulations forwarded by you from the Englisil Ringers who visited Hobart. Your presence in Hobarto was an inspiration to our boys, which came to them as we were attempting to enrol volutbeers. We have a goodly number who have been practising on the Holy Trinity bells, and we hope that they will give a good account of themselves on Sunday week, when the first peal will bo rung. With many thanks and kind regards.

BELERY GOSSIP

The honour accoved in death to Harry Pasmore, one of Lodion'e most brilliant ringers, of lying on the niglat before his burial in Westminster Abbey, is one which, by ar recent decision of the Dean and Chapter, is extended to all who serve the Abbey in whatever capacity. Mr. Pasmore was a member of the Abbey band. The coffin was placed in the Warriors' Chapel and was covered by the pall that was used for the Unknowa Warrior:
Three geacrations of olle family took part in a peal at Staveley, Derbyshire, on New Year's Day. It was conducted from the tenor by Mr. Alfred E. Parsons, whose father, Frederick G Pargous, rang the 4th, and son, Dennis, rang the treble. It was the lntter's firsti peal. He is only 16 years of age, and great credit is due to him for the way in which he landled bis bell.
Mr. Joln Flint, of Bolsover, who three months ago statained severe injuries in a conl mining accident, has now recovered, and on Sunday rang again for the first time since the occurrence, After leaving hospital he had an attack of phenmonia. Mr. Flint desires to thank all those who have written to him and his family convering expressions of sympatiny mad good wishes.
The many friends of Mr. Willian Keeble will be interested in his own footmote to the handbell peal rung at Colchester on the Irst day of the year. The peal is the surest proof that Mr. Keeble is well on the road to the recovery of normal health, Fis many friends will regret to Iearn that Mr. Ravmond Phipott, of Portsmonth, and formerly of Guildford, is seriousiv ill from tozic poisoning. The latest report is that lis condition is showing a slight improvement.
The ringer of the treble to the peal of Stodman Triples at St. Mary's, Walthanstow, on Boxing Day, was Francis W. Corney
The heary ring of eight at Wellingborongh Parish Church is to be tuned and relung in a new frame by Dessrs. Giliett and Johnston, Lud., Croydon.
Congramlations will be extended to the Trowbridge ringers who, on the last day of the ald year, rang the first peal of Ginques on their own bells and, incidentally, in the country of Wilts.
Not only is credit due to them for ringing the peal at the first athempt, and the fact that there were eight first peals of Cingues, but nlso for overconing an unexpected obstacle.

After ringing liad been in progress about $2 \frac{1}{3}$ bours the electric lighte was switched off at the majn for soveral seconds, came on aud was switcherl off agein. At the conductor's ungeat call they kepl, going in the hope that tho light would come on again, which it did, and the bells were soon righted. If transpired afterwards that some mischievous choirboys were having a game with the main switeh.
A handbell peal rung on Werlnesday evening of last week at St, Albans is the result of constant practice during the last nine monthe. Previous to that time ringers of 1-2 and 5-6 hed done no handbell zinging, and have now rung a peal' in hand ' of Major and Minor.
A peal rung at Haworth, Forkshire, was the first on the hells for 33 Poars. It was rung as a compliment to Mr. James Riloy, of Faworth, who has completed 60 yeays as a ringer. It is helieved that, prior to the peal of 1903. only one other peal had been rung on the bells, mamely, in the yerr 1853
Mr. James George exterds his hearty greetings and good wishes for the coming year to all his friends. Unfortunately he is not making the progress he wonld like a[ter his illness. The effects of the whooping cough, from which the suffered after lis fall, are still painful, but he lopes for greater improvement when the weather gets warmer.
The ringer of the 4th in the peal at Borehan (Kent Treble Bob Major') on Monday, December 21st, was Emest J. Runter, not Rutter as printed.

METHODS AND AUTHORS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, May I be allowed a lithe space in which to point out that the fygures of a metiod appearing in 'The Ringing World,' dated December I8tl, 1936 , namely, 'Cornwall Surprise,' also appeared in your columans, together with three others, in the issue of September 7th, 1928, and inder my 刀ame. As this was well in advance of the formation of 'The Methods Supply Stares,' I have every right to believe that the name of the author should have been added in the Central Council's MSS., and not a number, as though it was nnfit to be owned by anyone.
In view of the fact that many errors have lately occurred, may I suggest that when a method is rung it should be pablished wibh as litile delay as possible? This would enable a mistake (if any) to be reatified.

Many methods have never appeared at all. Some have been published more than once. Some have appeared without the name of the author, as was 'Enith,' Others have been wrongly claimed. What a state of aftairs! To get full sapport for "The Ringing World ' all tastes must be catered for. There should be no 'secret society," &nd, above all, interest for all. May I ask, just as a special new Year's favour, if you would kindly let us have the figures'Leeds'? There are many athers outstanding, but for the time being the above method will satisfy.

DEATH OF MR. HARRY R. PASMORE.

WTESTMINSTER ABBEY HONOURS.

We with uncovered head

Salute the sacred dead,
Who went and who return not."
In the early bour's of Clristmas Day, when the world was as yet matwake, at the Charing Cross Hospital, Baryy Pasmore breathed Jis last, and the ringing world and wo, his friends, are sad at his pasaing in his 56th year.

After a severe operation several years pyo he had not elijoyed obust health, but at the ssme tiug he was able to continue his duties

THE LATE MR. HARRY PASMORE. at the G.P.O. and also partake of his great hobby, boih on tower and handballs, although in a very minor degrec, but in enrly November he was adyised to take a long rest from duty and finally entered the hospital on November 27th.
Friends risited him, and Dr. Perkins, of Westminster Abbey, was with him just before the enti.

At the special request of the Dean of Westminster Abbey, his mortal remains were taken to rest ane night in the majesty and beauty of our national Valhalla, a tribute of love and affection by Dr. Perkins (who is in clagrge of the belfry), which will ever be remembered by this farnily and friends.
The funeral was at 4 o'clock 011 Thursday, the last day of 1936: at Wandsworth, and the services, botle in the church and at the graveside, were conducted by Dr. J. Perkins, Canon of Westrainster Abber. Officials of the Aucient Society of Callege Youths present: Master Lewis, Secretary Cockerill, Treasurev Hughes, 'trustees Challia Winney and Bob Newton, and the following members paid their last respects to their friend: Messrs. Young, Femn, Gray, Rumpley, Bntler, Green, Forton, G. Debenlam, Oxborrow, Nacdonald, Mites anel also Miss Geckerill, Miss Deer, Miss Gray and Mrs. H. Langdon. The Royal Cumberland Youths were represented by Mrs. O. Mattlews.
A coarse of Stedman Triples was rung on handbells by W. Roughton, C. F. Wincey, F. Langdon and A. B. Peck.

A BRILTTANT CONDUCTOR

During his membership of the Ancient Society of College Foulhsabont 40 Jears-Hant Pasmore was prominent throughout, being a brilliant conductor on tower bells or handbells, Be was a member of the bands at both St. Panl's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey, acting as secretary to the former, where he had a reputation far strict imparbiality as regards fines. Not all the wiles of his friends could ever lare hifu to remit olle whioh was justly due.
It is by no means an exaggeration to say that "Harry" liad a great gift for ringing ; int fact, he was quite exceptional and attracted notice from his wert earliest days.

Apparently he foind ringing, both on the tower and handbells, so easy he cand never quite undersemin ofhers having the slightest difficulty in aequiring various methods.

When the Rochester Row hand were at their best they rang on two occasions three peals of Surprise Major in one day, in three different counties, Farry being one of the band both days. He conducted the first peal of Cambridge Maximus rung in London and the first peal of Spliced Strperse Mator called from an 'inside' bell.

But it was on hanrluelis that he was seen at his hest, and he can have han few sllperiors. Possibly his greatest performance was to canduct from 34 the first peal of Surprise Major, viz., Superlative, aver rumg double-haurled. Besides conducting preals of Stedman Cinques from erch pair of bells, lie conducted on handbelle peals of Stedman and Grandsive, Triples, Caters and Cinques and Trebly Hob and Elain Bob Major, Royal and Maximus.
He was n member of the band that rang Garter's 'Ode Boh' onepart meal of Sterman Trimles donlije-banded non-conducted. Another notahle peal in which he took part was the non-condncted peal of Stedman Cinques, lumg at St. Michael's, Cornhill.
The actual total of lis peals is not available, hut without a donht it would be a dificilt matiter to find another record to compare with his for merit anfl quality. The number conld have been much greater were it not for the fact that ouly the best was receptable to him.
of vorv wruth a great- vinger, g greater conductor and a warmhearted companion and friend. We shall miss him more than words can express.

CORONATION DAY BROADCAST.

SUGGESTION TO MAKE BRLLS TEATURE IN PROGRAMMPS. Anl effort is being made to get the bells of old England put into a leading place in the broadcast programmes on Coronation Day. The B.B.C. already recogwise the claracteribtic English asture of church bells well rung. They recognise it in the interval sigual, which intiroduces Bow Bells; in the Suaday programmes of chutch gervices; and last Suaday they used church bells as the characteristic feature of English life, when it came to Great Britain's turn iv the exchange of greetings among 24 European nations. The bells of a cinurel in Northerg Treland and the bells of Westminster were the B.B.C. contribution to the programme.
The proposal that bells from well-known belfries should bo heard over the air from time to time throughout Coronation Day, as a preface to each of the many items which will make up tile programme, wonld add to the "hational' character of the B.B.C.'s output, and we hope it will materialise. Tlio sitggestion is sponsared by tho Rer. Walter Pitchford, the well-known Midiand brondeastor, whose talks on 'Bell Chimes,' 'Cathedrals,' etc, have been so widely appreciated. Backing of the proposal by mombers of the public might be an added inducement to the B.B.C. to carry out the scheme.

BROADCASTING FROM CROYDON,

To the Editor

Dear Sir, -The first service brondeast of the yerr deserves frvourable comment. Listening this morning to the Croydon bells was a great pleasure-a fine peal, excellently struck; it shond stimulate others to do as well when opportunity arises. There have recently been too many indifferent service broadeasts. We expect the best music, ete. over the air; why not the best riuging? Congratulations to Croydon.

WONDERFUL RECORDING.

B.B.C. AND ST. MARY REDOLIFPE BEITL.

An electrical recording of the bells of St, Mary Redeliffe, Bristol, was made on Decenlor 20th. The engincers visited the tower ami had a look at the bells, the tenor being raised singly for close observation, The bells were then raised, and the wan with the recording ingtraments moved jato a favourable position on Redcliffe Kill. Afler the ringing had concluded the record was 'run over' for sonntr, und proved 'O.K.,' the sound af the bells heing plainly lieard by some of the ringers who looked art of the belfy window some 80ft. up.

The record witl form part of a talk an 'Bells of the TVest,' some of which have already been recorded, and others ate to follow.

When the conductor was told about what was to be done, he liad to put on his thinking cap, to consider what would be best. Ee decided an 'Oripinal' Cinques. This met with oppasition from many. One said, "Here we have a good Stedman Cinques land, and wo are going to ring this stuff.' However, the conductor had his way, and ifterwards everyone agreed it was best. One ringer put it very well when he sxid, 'It showed the beataty of the bells aud not the skill of the ringers, and that is what was wnoted.'

AMERICAN APPRECIATION OF BROADCAST BELIS.

 MALDON LTNK WJPF WASHTNGTON.By the kind invitation of Mr. and Mws. II. J. Mnssfield, the ringerg of All Saints', Maldon, wero again entertained to snpper on New Year's Eve, 14 ringers acceptimg the invitntion.
It is a time-honoured cushom at All Srinks to xing diling the evening and again at midmight on the last day of the Fenr.
After supper some of the letters were rend which blie Rentor of Purleigh had received from Americkis people expressitg their apareciation of the broadeast of a service, tncluding 120 changes of Minor on the bells, rung ly six ringers from All Sxints", Maidon.
This breadengt on Jnly 5th was in connention with the tetcenteanary of four of the bells which were put into the tower in the wear 1636. during the bime that the Rey. Lawrence Washingtors was Rector, he being the great-great-rrandrather of George Washington, the first president of the United States.
When the Rev. Lawrence Washington left Purleigh he come to live ati Maldon, and was buried in All Saints' chatichyard on Febramy $27 \mathrm{th}, 1652$, and in the pear 1928 the American people gave a beautifus stained glass window to his menory. This is fixed in the soutif aisle of All Saints' Church.
Amonr the letters received some were from New York, Montreal. Florida, California, Victoria, ete, and in evely onse the broadcast. was said to have been very clear: It made same of the writers fecl that they were in Purleigh Church listening to the service.

STAFFORDSHIRE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sis,-Having had tho honour of naming 'Staffordshire Surprise Mnjor' through the kindness of Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, I wish to congratulate the members of the Stafforl Society who were recently sitccessful in rinting the first peal of this beantifno method in its home coundy.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

HILMINGHAM SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEEPING.
The annual meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birsinghan wis leld on Saturday. Owing ta the Saturday market in the Bull Ring ringing at St, Marin's Church was restricted to one hour. During this time the bells were lept going and several methods were rung.
The business meeting took place in the Tamworth Arms, Moor Street, it which the Vice-president, Comeillor A. Paddon Smith, presided in the alssence of the Master, Alderman J. S. Pritelhett, M. A An apology for noli-attendance was read from Vice-President George.

All tha oflicers of the Guild were re-elected as follows: Master Aderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A.: Ringing Master, Mr. F. E. Haynes, MiA. : trustees, Messrs. T. Rissmm and Councillor A. P. Smith; תuditiors, Messrs. J. Preston and E. T. Allaway; librarian, Mr. G. F. Swant: hort. secretary and treasimer, Mr. T. H. Reeves.

The treasurer presented the halance sheet and reported an increased thanace in liand of f5, which he thought was very satisfactory. Ithe avditors laving given their report, the accounts were unanimously adopted.
'Hue tower bection of Mr. T. W. Lewis, of Worcester, as a life member was duly ratified.

An inpitation to hold the next quarterly mecting at Aston Parish Church on Saturday, April 3rd, was unanimonsly aceepted. It was also agreed to hold the bi-quarterly meeting at Shivley Parish Clarch. HEARY JOHNSON COMMEMORATFON DINNER.
The sectetary reported that in accordauce with the resolution passed at. the previous quarteriy meeting he had booked the Connaught Ronm at the Jmperial Hotel for Saturday, Februany grth.
Or. the proposition of Mr. W. Davies, seconded by Mr. F. Price, it was innamimotasly decided to invite the vicar of Aston the Rev. H. Mchowan, M.A. to preside on thim occasion. Several members compluined of the inconvenience cainsed by rivgers applying for tickets as late as the diuner day, and suggested that a time limit should be fixed. After somo discurfon jt was decided to leave the matter in fixed. After somp discusfion the liands of the secrefary.

Trder 'ruy otimer business' tho Ringing Master called attention to the Tucsday night practice ab St. Martin's. He complained that for several months these lad been rather poorly atteuded, and asked for better support this year.
Mr. Albert Waiker spif it woild be a pity to stop the practises. The hells ind been ruag regularly ou truesday arghts since 1755 , and il was teromised by the people who held open-air meetings in the Bnll Ring that they colld not be held on Tuescavs, as that was 'thr Fiellringerg' niglty.' Ee promised to give the Ringing Master all the support he conld and irged athers to do likewise.
This connludet the business gnil the vemainder of the evening was given up to socin! interconsse. Several good tonches were brourght romnd and tumes rums on the handbells, whilst others were not so succmacful. Wjin MIr Alhert Walker nt the piano, Mr. Harry Whthers in mood form and voice, and Mr. Paddon Smith and others in teminiscent mood, many inferesting incidents which had tahen place in tlont houge ' $10,20,30,40.50$ years ago' were recalled. Tlans onded another very pleasant evening.

BOXING DAY RINGING TOUR.

CYCLING THROUGH BEDFORDSEIRE.

Heeling at. Silsoe Chureh ous Boxing Day morning, a number of Bediordsline ringers were joined by Mr. W. Stote, of Coventry, and is start nade by ringiug the five bells at this pretfy liutile church, a handy ring with tenor somewhere in the region of 8 ewt. The next tower was Upper Grawcuhurst, which was duly discovered after a long ride through a private park, aud past the front of a magulificent mansion, shich, fortunately, was unocupled. The Church of St. Giles contains a ring of five, with an 11 cot. tenor; bells 1,2 and 4 were cast by Miles Graye. Ou to Shillimgton by fog-bound lanes and by-ways plontifully supplied with wud. Shillingtor Church is a fite structure, with a tower of brifk which replaced the old steeple when it criasind down in 1704. Tho splice is not a happy one, but the towar contains a fine ring of five bells with tenor 1 ton (approx.), rung from the ground floor. After a good pull liere the loeal inn proviled the campany with welcome refreshment. The bells were described by the numerous immates as the best in the county, but the Fisitars decided that Christmas was the best time of all to be in harmolly with all ment and so disputed it not.
Sinor afler, they passed over the bonndary to visit Pirton which is in Hertfordshire, and enjoyed ring on another fipe, with tenor 11 ewt., restored by Mears and Stambank in 1899. These go very well and the ringers staycd for some time, making thenselves a muisance at tre local shop and Post Office in search of posteards in spite of these being closed. But the paople were very kind and the ringers got what they wanted. Next came Meppershall, with a rentral town. Here the ringers have to stand in the choir stalls to ring. The seats are hinged and are moved back to allow room. Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, the party were mtertained to tea, after which the towers of Campton and Maulden (Continued in nost column.)

FOUR YORKSHIRE RINGS RESTORED

BELLS REOFENED AT WATH, FIRHY MOORSIDE, NEW MLL AND MDLIHAMC.
Within six weeks no fewer that four restoren ritgs of six bells have been reopened in Yorkshise, and in all four cases the work has been carried out by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co, of Loughborough,
The light ring at Wath, near Ripon, funed and yelinng with new fittings in a new metal frame, whs seopened on Saturdey, November 21st, while on the followisg Thursday the Bishop of Whitby rededicated the six belfs at Kirby Moorside, zear York.
This restoration bas been made possible through the generosity of Capt. Holt, of Ravenswick, Kirby Moorside, and the bells have been recast and hung with new fittings in the old frame, which has been strengthaned.
Owing to the fog and tha remoteness of the village ouly a fevs ringers were present, including Mr. $\mathcal{F}$. P. Fidler, representing the founders, and wisitors from Feadinglay, Pickering and Soarborough, but all were agreed that Kirlor Moorside now possesses a ring of bells Which is both a delitht to landle and to hear, the oulv regret being that the octave had not been completed-ay amission which it is hoped may be zemedied before long.
On Monday in Cliristmas week the Lord Bishop of Walcefick dedicated the restored bells at Now Mill, wear Huddersfield.
These bells, cast by Taylors in 1864, bave a 12 cwt. tenor', and a marked improvement las resuited by cleanimg and tining, while iron headstocks and ball bearings and all other modern fittings contributed to the easy "go" of the bells.
Ringers wero present fram Triezland. Kirkbutton, JLolmfirth, Shelley, Almondbury and Fuddergfield, and after the opening course of Oxford Treble Bob by the local company, all were given ari opportraity to try the bells, good use of which was made until a late hour. Meltham, pear Ituddersfield, hat had a ring of six bells since 1836, when Messis. Taylor, ihen of Orford, instalied a ring with a 13 cwt , tenor, aud until these hells celebrated their centenary uothing in the way of repairs had been carried out. A few months amo, however, the old oak frame was fonnd to be decayed, and, on the advice of the founders, the hells lave been relung with new fittings in gn ' $H$, type cast iron fame, on steel girders. Four treble hells, fixed stationary witi a carillon machine capable of playing 14 tunes on all ten bells, was iustalled by Messrs. Giliett in 1874. These four bells havg now bem recast, and the carillon is being remonditioned hy Messrs. Potts, of Leeds.
Tho Bishop of Wakefield rededicated the hells on New Year's Eve, in the presence of n large congregation, which included ringers from Iifrabinton, Almondhury. Huddersfield, etc. At the dedication three well-strizk leads of Oxford were mung hy the local company.
Great pleasure was expressed by residents at hearing the soumd of the bells once more, after an absence of over three moutlos, ant the prrishioners now lnok forward to hearing fhe a]most forgotiten tunes of the caytlon, whith has not been in use since the frrat year of the war.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION,

A TOWER TOR STIRPRISE METHODS PRACICES

A meeting was held ad Longton on Saturday, Hanumry Zud. Thistyfive members and friends wore present trom Bursicm, Burton-onTrent, Gheadle, Draycott, Kinggley, Longton, Leek, Norton, Nowcastle, Uttoxeter and Stoke-on-Trent.
After tea, held in the Dorathy Cafe, the Rector of Longton (the Rev. Samuels) extended a welcome to all present, and expressed pleasure at meeting Mr. J. H. Swinfield once more.
The Rector also stated he was pleased to lave a band of ringers Who were interested in ringing and regtularly attended the services. A vote of thanks to the Rector and ringers was proposed by Mr. R. G. Lewis of Dttoxeter, aud seconded by Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, of Norton.
Three peal certificates were preselited, viz, to Willian Blaor, Edward Cheadle and William Wade, jun, all of Longton. The preseutation was made by Mr. Willian Wate, sen, former leader of Longton tower, who will complete bis 50 th year as a ringer next Easter.
The following new members were elected: E. Atrinson, of Newcastie, and W. Carter, H. Carter, T. Reeves and N. Holland, of Lrongton.
The chamman of the committee annomeed that he had got permisgion to use Tunstall belle on Wedneshay niglatg for practising Surprise methods. The hon, secretary appeals to all ringers wha have renched this stage of ringing to writio to Mr. T. Hurd, Bethel House, Regent Strcet, Burglew, for further particulare.

were visited. Mr. A Linfield met the company at the last place, Where touches of Cambridge Minor and Spliced Oxford and Kent were rung. Mr. Linfield later provided refreshments to a tired but contented party befone they broke up to go their different ways.
The company wisl to say "Thank you" to the jnoumbents of the varions tewers wisited, and to Messrs. Jeffries, Lawrence, Eilliard and Linfield for help and hospitality.

ANOTHER PEAL AT QUEEN CAMEL.

MISFORTUNES ON TPHE ROAD-SUCOESS IN THE TOWER.
Saturday, January 2ud, 1937, will not easily be forgatten by those who lad the pleasure and privilege of ringing a peal on the finestu and heaviest peal of six bells in the combry. Apart from the actual performance itself, the incidents and misfortunes accasioned in getting to the village of Queen Camel and how they were surmounted are nol uninteresting. The attempt came about thus: After three of the band had rung a peal at Hoar Crose, Staftordshire (tellor 30 cwt .), last September, the idea of attempting an eight-method peal at - Queen Camel was suggestect.

QUEEN CAMEL CHURCH, SOMERSET.
The tower contains the heaviest ring of six in the country.
The first step was a visit to the Lower one Sunday in Deamber hy Messrs, R. G. Gross and A. P. Oannon, who travelied by motor-bike from Basingstoke. They were made very welcome by Mr. F. J. Reeves, the local capain, and permission for a peal was readily given. A date was suggested and the band got togetlier. Saturday arrived at the end of toctio week of last minute telegrams, postcards and telenhone calls, most] y br A. P. C.
The Rov. C. E. Wigg kindly took two of the band in his cat, and Mr. Gordon Cross took Messrs. Gannon and Richards. A start was made from Reading at 10.30 for a jouraey of 95 miles or so. The two cars kept together as far as Andover. Jusb after that Mr. Wigg passed Gorton's car and was soon out of sight. Then our trouble began! Just ontside Amesbury our car, which incidentally Gordon had laired for the day, refused to go another inch! Serious and expensive engine tronble had arisen, and the only thing to do was to "phone" A. घarage and request a 'tow. After a wait of some 30 minutes, the brealdown car arrived and the 'casnaliyy' was tower into Ancebury. Time: 12.35 p.m. An inspection of the car revenled that it would take week to repaly the damage. There were no trains and no buses, and at 1 p.m. we were still 35 miles from our destination, at which we were due at 2 p.m.
The only thing to do was to hire a taxi at bd. a mile. The taxi's return fare to be paid as well! The cost was 35s. The taxi was excellent and we arrived at Queen Canel at 2.25 r.m. Mr. Reeves mot us at the church and the others of the band were waiting up iry the tower.
A wedding was in progress, and when this was over the belts were pulled up and ropes adjusted, the 5th ank tenor ropes having been takell up, hefors starting, on the wheel. Owing to the writer exprting too much strength on the 4th, when pulling it, up, he froke the stay. and this ngam delayed us 30 mintes or so while Mr. Reeves kindly mended it with screws very efficiently.

METHODS AND COMPOSITIONS

PALLACY IN MR. G. BAKLR'S REASONING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -Ln 'The Ringing World' dated November 27 th lasle there appeared a letter from Mr. Geprge Baker, of Brighton, asking tha Methods Conmitteo for a mathematical proof whether or not bwu given compositions were the same. The commitae failed to rise to the bait, and four weeks later another letter from Mr. Baker abtempts to explain why these two compositions are different. It would seem, therefore, that he did not really require the information, but merely wished to contradict the statement he expeoked the committee to make.
We, the nadersigned, being two members, of the Methods Connittee, wonld like to give our ows persenal opinions on the subject and la point out to Mr. Baker the fallacy in his reasoning. Firstly, we wish to state as a fack that of the two compesitions, one is the reverse of the other.
(1) and (2) below are the two compositions reterred to, whilst (3) is (2) adapted for a method with an $\bar{H}$ lead end. It will bo seen that in FI and J methods the bobbing positions ocent in the sanse order, but the course-end appears betwecn $O$ and $F^{2}$ in the former and be bween I and $O$ in the latter.

| (1) H Method i.e. 573 en264 (8tlis) |  |  |  | (2) J Method  i.e. 7856342 ( 8 ths) |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 23456 | F | 1 | 0 | 23456 | O | F | I |
| 35426 |  | - |  | 63254 |  | - |  |
| 23564 | - | - | - | 25346 | - | - | - |
| 32465 | - |  | - | 34256 | - |  | - |
| 63254 | - | - | - | 25463 | - | - | - |
| 35864 |  | - |  | 35264 |  | - |  |

(3) H Method i.e. 5738264 ( 8 t 11s 23456 F I 0
$\qquad$

Now, a comparison of the bol intervals shows that (3) is the reverse of (1), and nothing Mr. Balser may say can dispute it; and, since (2) and (3) are the same it follows that (2) atso is the reverse of (1),
In conclusion, we would point outi to MEr. Beker that in comparing two compositions for methods wilh 8th's place made ali the lear end, it is best to take as the course-end the nadural course-mad after tho Out' position in exch course. ERNEST C. S. TURNER. STEPFEN E. WOOD.

THE SEVENTY-METHOD'MINOR PEAL.
Tho 'correction' made in oun last issure to the 720 in 12 Altiance. Little methods was 'incorvect.' The fourth lead end should be 63524 (ingtead of 62534) and the bols ghould be retatned.

(Cantmued from previous coliman

It was not until 3.55 p.m. that the peal was commencoci. Ineidentally the weights of these fime belles are not uminteresting : Treble: 8 cwtr 2 qu .27 ld.
2nd: 10 cwl 9 lb .
3rd: $15 \mathrm{owt}^{3} 3 \mathrm{qr}^{\mathrm{r}} 9 \mathrm{lb}$.
4th: 20 ewt. 11 lb .
5thl: 26 owt. 3 cr. 6
5th: 26 owt. 3 gr. 61 b.
Tener: 36 cwt. 3 qr .7 lb
None of the band had rung at the tower before, oxcept Merser. Gross and Cannon, who had only ring Doulses with the beal company. The shiking throughout the peal was most croditalile and Hiere was scarcely a mistake. Doublo Oxford coming No. 4 was ruther hard work, and the writer was glat! when that melhod wis finished, with threc-pull dodging and spapping fon' tiuss is eath course.
To single out any ringer as being especially competend would $1 x$ most unfair. Everybody pulled their weitht, whd the conductius whs most eflicient. But special mention must be made of the membet of the fair sex who rang the 2nd. She kiudly took the place of the Rev. A. G. G. Phurlow laid up with flu, rifit ab the last moment. She rang leer bell faultlessly, with no mistakes and seamingly no effort. It is a splendid thing to say for the "go' of the bell that ghe did not complain of any fatigue, and anuld easily lave rung another 720 . Not once did she * clip ${ }^{\text {s }}$ any of the bells, and never once did the bell 'drop.
The bells cane round af 7.28 p.m. and everyone was delighted. A pleasant hour in the Mildnay Atms was spent with the company of Mr'. Reeves, and at 9 a'clock Messrs. Wigg, Golden and Richards and Ifliss Cross departed for home, nrriwing at Rending at 1.45 a.m. on Sunday. On the way they ran out of petrol whioh delayed them half an lious.
The only whting for Gordon and the writer to do was to stay the night at the Mildmay Arms aud then antch the 10.54 a.m. tran ous Sandry back to Rearling ath an additional cost of 17 s .! So for a few weeks they will he 'on shor't commons'! But it was well worth all the trouble and cxpense.
Before closing, the band wigla to thank Mr. F'. J. Reeves for his unfailing help and courtesy to then, for giving them permission and meeting them at the tower and getting everything ready. The writor would algo like to thank all the band for their valuathle assisannce in helping him to wchieve his greatest six-bell ambition at the age of 23 . Theidentally all the band were 'ander' 29 ' theis average aga being just 25 yeazs.

CONTRASTS.

What contrasts we find in connection with ringing! The same post brought us a record of the doings dtring 1936 in the tower of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, where over 118,000 changes were rung in successtul peals and touches, and the almost pathetic story of the heartbreaking task confronting the leader of the band at St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, London, to maintain Sunday ringing and practice. One tower still on a flood tide, which has carried the company on its crest for years; the other struggling, almost submerged, in despair to keep the bells ringing at all. Ipswich is one of the outstandings examples of a tower blessed for more than a generation with the possession of a competent band, whose enthusiasm and enterprise seem to grow with the years. The ceremony which took place there only a few weeks ago is evidence of that. Ipswich has made twelve-bell history and the society, with many grey heads among: its members, is showing it is still possessed of the spirit of youth by electing one of its youngest menbers and a lady member at that-as 'Master' for the year. It is a pleasing compliment to pay to an accomplished young ringer, but it is a proof that the society has confidence in youth, when supported by the experience of age, and is not afraid to entrust its offices to the rising generation.

The difficulties confronting the band at St. Ciles'-in-the-Fields are those which have come in the past to many London towers. There are very few in the inner radius of the Metropolis where ringing can be regularly maintained. Where service ringing is done, it is by bands who, for the most part, have to come in from the outer suburbs for the purpose. Indeed, in all the large lowns and cities it is increasingly dificult to keep ringers at the churches. The migration to the outskirts has made service in this direction not only more costly in money, but also in time, and it is not easy to see what remedy can be applied. Ringers who are able to lend a hand at St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, and at other churches where similar difficulties are to be found, will, needless to say, be cordially welcomed, but it seems to us the only real hope is to strengthen the band from anong those who are worshippers at the clurch. Those who already have an interest in the services are more likely to respond to a call for help than those who have no present association with the church. This line of action has already proved itself in the City of London, and we befieve is the ouly course that can be pursued with any hope of lasting success. We trust, however, that an appeai for help in building up a band may not fall upon deaf ears among the many ringers in and around London. Temporary (Continued on page 34.)

help is often possible，where a promise of permanent assistance may be out of the question．Perhaps some form of pooling of resources might be a way of strengthening ringing in some of the London churches． The difficulties are numerous，but，we hope，not insuper－ able．The many ringing organisations which cover the greater London area might well discuss this subject，for St．Giles＇－in－the－Fields is not the only church at which assistance would be valued，and if only the societies would draw closer together instead of seeming，officially，to keep as wide apart as possible，something useful might be done．

LADIES' GUILD.

To the Eaitor
Dear Sir,-It is a plensure to read in your leader of Decomber 25th that the general secretary of the Ladies' Guild is alsle to report "increaso in memborship and renewed interest.' I think most ringers will hope that the secretary will ggain yext year be able to make a like repart.

Tha ladies have had to fight for this result and thomughy deserve whatever success they have achieved. But there-where plisels and sticking to it "is concerned, the ladies beat us hollow.
With reference, sin', to your remarks, Despite the scollers who think the Guild redundant,' and again, "thore are still some ringers who think the belfry should bo the exclusive preserve of the mane sex, may I say that, from experience ganed in the early duys of ladies ringing I beljeve that such men were always in a very small minority indeed.

I baglat my wife to landlo a bell in the years 1908-9, and between that tine and 1918 we had cycled to, and rang in, just aver 400 belfies, from Neweastle-on-Tyne to Penzance. Perhaps we were hoky, but, we have nothing but the most pleasurable recollections of every onts of the towers we visiled, and in a very great number of those towers my wife was informed that she was the first larly ever to lirve ladidied a bell.

It surely goes without saying that the presence of a goorl woutan in the belfy (as any and overywhere else) cannot bub have an upwaid trend.

To chase the plouds of life's tempestnous hours,
To strew its short but werry way with flow'rs,
New hopes to raise, new feelings to impart,
And porr celestial balsam on the leestris
For this to man was lavely woman giv'l, The last, best work, the noblest gift of Heav.
Why bar the belfry from all such advantages? God bless the ludies and their Guild, say I.

OENTRAL DISTRICT IN HERTS.
A very enjoyable meeting of the Central District of the Jadies Guild was held at St. Augustine's, Broxbourne, Herts, ou Suturday, January 2ud, and, in spite of the 'flu" epidemic, was fanty welt attended
The ecrvice was comtucted by the Rector, the Rev. Murray Walton, who welcomed the Guild to his church, Wiss lBradford (assigiant Eecrebary) offenated it the harmonimu.
Teit was held at the Welcome Cafe and was thoroughly chjoyed by all. The Rector was present. Dufortmately Mr. Tadlcy, who had been making all the necessary nrungements for the meeting and was present to welcome the visitors at the church during the afternoon, became a victim of the 'flu" and lad to leave the party before tea mich to his great regret,

After tea a very short business meeting was held
Beckenliam was proposed as the place of the next meetind to he held on Saturday, March 6th, with bedington as an alternative.
The next Wednesday meeting will be held on February 1st at Laytonstene.

This is an average of 2,281 changes per week. Tlie methods of Ropal and Mrajor included Cambridge, Rochester, IEent and Oxford Tretble Bob, Double Norwich, Plain, Bristol, Superlative, London and Forward. Caters and Triples, Stedman and Grandsice.

Tliese figures do not inchude failures in peals and touches. The total for 1935 was $117,035$.

FOR BEGINNERS.

PLAEN HONTING.

If the begimer bas learned thorouglity to control his bell, the soolior he caul get on to change ringing the better. He may not find it very easy at first, and wo want to wazn him not to be dispirited if te does not grasp it as quickly ass he thinks he ougitit to do.
Change ringing is a curious thing to learu. Some people car gee it al.most atreight eway; others seem to grope about in darkness for tuite al lour time, until all st onee the light of uuderstanding breaks ypon them-and they think low stupid they must have been wot to hive 'sear ' it beioza,
The point we want to make is, if you do not grasp the idea of riuging elunges str'sight nway, don't give up. Stick to it and eventuslly you wilt master it and fiyd what, a fascinating thing it is. If you studied the little practice 'gramo' wo gave you a fortuyght amo, you will lizve observed from the manipulation of the cards how clinnges are made. Wheu you come to apply this to your actull fillsing you lave got to acguive the facility of 'seeing ' where your bell is among the rest as the cluyses are produced at every puil on Whe ropes. This facility is called 'rope sigit,' that is you have got to be able to distingulsh, as you rimg, which rope yoiz are pulliug after, and which rope is being pulled aiter yours. Ail your observations in the ringing chamizer have to be made by the ropes as they rise and fall- if the ropes follow encl othor in the right order, of course the beils are in the right order in the changes.
Changes are produced by what are known as 'methols,' that is hy systems whiclh, automatically carry on the sequence of changes from the 'rounds' from which you start, untilil 'rounds' again cowes Hil', and youly ' touelh' or 'peal' is completed.
To ring changes succesffuly you must memorise your method and friow exactly what to do at every charge from beginning to eud. That does not mean that you liave to learn beforehand the order in, which you will strike over the bells; but you must know the path or track which you have to follow-it may be a saraight path up and llown, likn tho tricble in Grandsire, or it may be an intricate one, such as is followed by a working bell in the more complicated methods. A straight path is calied 'plain hunting' and the beginuer will to well to conteat himeself for his first losson in doing this plain lunnting. If the lund to which he leloloys are change ringers thcy will probably put him to ring the treble to Granddire as a matiter of course. If all the band are hergimning change ringing together, thein first step should be to learn to kunt their bells, and they cal do this by a method called 'Original,' which in its plain course produces twice as many clanges as there are bells engaged.
It will help things also if at the start ellangese are ruug with the tenor ' 'coverigg,' so that you not only have a bell to keep the 'beat,' but you know exactly whiclh to lead from, which is a great help in keeping good striking.
A littlo thought wifl show you that in hunting up, after you have lei. your' pree will be just a little slower than when you strike contimully in the same place in rounds, becatise onte more bell has to strike bofore you than in the last cliange. If you are ringing on six heels aud are leading, between your two blows at handstroke and backstroke five other bellis have struck, but when you move into 2ard's pluce six bells strike betwean your own two blows, and so on all the while you are moving up.
Whenever your remain a whicle pull iu one place, as you do at lead, or in lying belhind, there ere only five bells between your pulls, as in rounds, and when you hunt down, from , back to front, there are oully fours bolls belore you pull again. This means that in coming down towards the lead, you pull in more quickly. Indeed, it is esential that in this humting down yon should ao it smartly, not only to secure good striking, buit to keep yourt place. You get lost more quickly by being Elow in huntitug down than in any other way.
Remember this, once yaut have pulled rour hell off. nothing you cali do can alter the place where it will strike at that change it may be a good blow, it mav be a bul one, but you can't alter it: Thierefore, once you have pulled off, you cau concentrate your attention entirely upon the next bell you have got to follow.
you are hunting up it is fiairiy simpse. It will be the bell that Writh owns you this time. Lrook for lum immediately your pull off. spat him fuict other helis to trouble nbont, you will soon learn to spphi him quickily. And, as you go. reniember to count jour places; ITers is and ther IIers is a nother point to remember. As your hunt up (or dow, for that mattez), once you have strnccl over a bell, you can dismiss it from your attention until yon tarn round and hunt in the opposite direction. Thus, as you Inunt, you gradually reduce the number of bells from which to pick out tine next you require, so that if you liare already passed in tirn over 2 and 4 youl know the next nust be rither 3 or 5 , and, if it is 5 , then next time there is onty the 3 rd left. This knowledge simplifieg your task wery mucl, especiilly when hunting down, which is, perhaps, just a little more difficult in its rope-sight than is hunting up.
It is for that reason that it is important to know the place in which your bell stizikes. If yous are ringing changes on five bells with the tenor covering a fter you have led and, in hunting up, have struck in turn orer the other four, yon are in fifth's place. Befora yoll actunlly start hunting down you have to have one more blow (Continued in next column.)

DEATH OF MR. PERCY W. H CAME

BRISTOL RINGER'S LONG ASSOCIAIION WITE SI' MARY REDOCLIFFE.
The death took place last week at Bromley, Kent, at the residence of his sou, of Mr. Percy W. H. Came, who had been an outstanding persogality at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, for over 70 years, As a boy he wont to the selool on Redclife Parade, a stone's throw from the church, and also sang in the choir of the Parish Chureh as a hoy. He leame to ring a bell there, and when at one time things were not exactly as they slould bs in the tower, the Vicar sent for him and asked him to trake ower control of the tower and bells. This he did, with beneficial results to the Exevise in Bristol, for, soon after, nvited practices were beld which resulted in peals of Sledman and Grandsire Ginques and Bob Maximus being wus under the conductorship of tho late Mr. H. Poreh, and the powerful backing of the late Mr. James Hintou.
After the bells had been restored and the weight of the teuor increased from 39 to 50 cwt., Mr. Came was the first to ping it to a peal. He rang many other peals, the most noteworthy being the peal of Stedman Triples at the Ohurch of St. Helena, Lundy Island, in the yeal 1905.
He was senior sidesman at St, Mary Redeliffe, where the funeral took pluce on Saturday last, when a goodly gathering of old friends and representativo people attended the choral funcral service, with Mr. Ralph T. Morgan at the organ. The $23 r d$ Psalm and the hymn, 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' were sung by the conqregation, and the choir gang ' I hear es voice from heaven, and the Russian Contakion for the Departed, 'Give rest, O Christ.
The ringers taking part in the mufled ringing before and after the service were Messre. E. J. Brown, H. H. Tucker, G. T. Daltry, G. H. Grordon, MI. Ormond, F. G. Leaker, A. Pearce, G. Pearce, R. Clark, F. Poruh, H. Pring and W.A. Cave, and Mrs. E. Wilkins. Canon Coleridge, who was also in the peal at Lmady Island, travelled from Crowthorne to pay his respuets to his old friend, and the family of the deceased oxpressed their deep appreciation of this act. Whatever faults the deceasen ringer may have had, his cuthusiasm and encouragement did their part in the advance of change ringing which took place in Bristol during 1897 and onwards.

A MIDNIGHT BELL TRIAL

INTERESTING RESTORATION AT SAHAM TONTY, NORTOIK,
On Now Year's Eve the uewly-rehung bells at Salam Toney, Norfolk, were given a first frial by the local and district ringers for the "watchnight, service. 'The bells, it may be remembered, were dedicated on October 18th, but owing to the great amomet of conerete used in restoring the tower, it wag not deemed advisable to have them ruyg for thyee months. The old frambwork, one of the oldest in England, has lueen lifted bodily some 10it. higlier in the tower by tho builders, who have tied the tower together with a concrete grili floor. On this has bem erected a new teak frame, and the six bella (temor i3y cwt.) relung on teak headstocks with all new modern plain bearings and fittings.

The work of restoring the town was carried out under the supervision of Mr. Weir, the architect, by Measrs. Peek Fout, of Wation, Norfolk, and the restoration of the bells was carried out uader the supervision of Mr. J. E. Burbon, of Nouwich, himself a ringer, by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich.
Gront setisaction was expressed by all present with the 'go" of the bells. A representative party from the nelghbouring towers attended, in spite of the very late hour of $11.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , for the trial. The old treble and fifth bells lave been recast and all were tuned.

WEDDING BELLS

On Wednesday, December 23rd, at St. Peler's Church, Pentre Rhondda, immediately after the wedding of Miss D. M. Spenser Jones, danghter of the Vicar of the parish, a quarber-peal of Stedman Triples: W. Irge 1, G. Wires 2, &. Page 3, I, W. Jones 4, I. J. Hamlin 5, A. W. Heath 6, T. Page (conductor) 7, H. Grahls 8.
(making a whole pull in 5 th's). This gives you time to observe the four bells in front of you.

You have, at the next pull, to quicken your pace, so as to strike fourth instead of fifth. You must look for three ropes to go and pull emartly over the third one. Next time there will be only two to go before it is your tum and then only one. After which it will be your turn to lead. Do this steadily, leaving space for one bell hetween the backstroke of the tenor and your own handstroke, Don't forget, jn humting down, as you pull over each bell, yon car ignore it until you have led.
It is a help also if yon can remember the order in which you strike over the bells as you hunt up (with the treble in Grandsire). Fou will take the bells in the same order on your way domm.
If you are all beginners, try a plain lumting course of Original. Tho oda bells (in and 3) start by hunting itp, and the aven bells (2 and 4) start by hanting down. No. 5 will hunt down after lying one blow bebind. This can be your first step, and if you are in an cight-bell tower you can try it ont on seven bels with the tevor covering.

TITLES IN PEALS

To the Editar

Dear Sir,-May I enter a plea for the retention of titles in the records of peals? It seems to me that the record not only sulfers from a degree of inaccuracy, but that in years to come it will lose some of its inistorical interest. The omission of 'Mr.' can lead to no misundershanding and in no way lessens the position of man as 'Master,' non is it likely to belittle him in the eyce of the opposite sex! But, in the interestis of accuracy, I much regret the occasional absence of 'Mrs.' and "Miss," and of citles denoting office or rank.

DUNCHURCH BELLS

CONGRAJUJATIONG ON NEW YEAR'S EVE RINGING.

 To the Editor.Dear Sir,-I should like to give a word of praise to the ringels at Duschurch for the way they rang the new year in. The Moulton Radio Handbeil Ringers were returning from the Birmingham B.B.C. Shudio to Northampton, and about midnight reached Dunchurch, and, heaving the sound of villege bells, stopped the car to listen. The music of those bells was most deliglitfin and the tapping was perfect. I do not suppose the ringers realised that a party of change ringers were listening to them and enjoying the way they handed the rapes. We passed on resolving to imitate them.

BROADCASTING,

Ta the Editor.

Dear Sir,-I would like to supplement what my friend, Mr. Coles, wrote last week re the broadcast of Croytion bells. I was fortuante to henr the lagt four leads of the Caters and they came over perfectip and striking was 'O.K.' T had the pleasure of bearing them in Myland Lodge, Colchester, where I expect to remain for a short period. Will Croydon please give us some more in the near future? W. KEEBLE.
P.S.-It is also to be hoped that we shall get bells on the air during the Coronation proceedings.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING OE GENTRAL BRANGH AG ELY.
By kind permission of the Ficar, the Res, Elliott Simpon, Lha annual meating of the Gentral Branch of the lity Diocesan Assoctation was held at St. Mary's, 巴ly, on Saturday. Mr, H. Cole, of the local company, whs there to receive the ringers about 3 p.m., and good paratice ringing took place.
A short Guidi service was conducted by the Vicar of St, Mary's, his address being much apprecinted. Basing his address on the words, "We have seen His star in the east and lhave come to worship Fim, the moral conld be summed up in these words, "Tho ringers by ringing the bells, reminded people of the call to preyer, also that their own presence was required at worship.'

After the service tea was partaken of at Bonnotis, and the business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding. The balance slieet of the branch was presented and passed, and several new members were elected.

Tho election of offeers resulted as follows: President, the Rev. Elliott Simpson, M.A.; secretary, Mr. F. Warringtou (Over); Brazch Ringing Master, Mr. Th. Thulboy (Wilhurton); the committee to covsist of oaptaing of belfries attached to the branch.
Votes of thanss were accowded the Vicar for allowing the use of the bells, taking the Guild service and presiding. The Fical suitably replied.
Tho ringers refnmed to the church, where further linging taok place, the bells being lowered just before 9 p.m.

It was proposed that the next annual mecting take place at over.

ROYAL CUMBERLANDS AND THE DUKE OF KENT

ROYAL REPLY TO MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATION,
A peal of Stedmen Tripleg was rung by the Royal Cumberland Youths rt St. Martin's-in-the-Tields on Boxing Day, in honour of the birth of a daughter to the Duke and Duchess of Kent. The Master (Mr-G. H. Gross) senb an intimation of this celebration, with the congratulations of the society, to E.R.H. the Duke of Kent, and has leceived the following reply from the Puivate Seeretaw:

"Messrg. John Taylor & Co.,
" Loughborough.

"GENTLEMEN,

" I have pleasure in enclosing cheque in settlement of accompanying account.
"The work you have done gives more than satisfaction. It has called forth many expressions of " admiration, not only from our own ringers but from many others from neighbouring parishes who have " visited our tower since the ring was installed again. The old bells have, by your treatment, greatly "improved in tone, while that of the two new bells is particularly sweet. We are being told that we have "now one of the most melodious rings in the county. The chiming apparatus is found to be most effective, " as well as easy to manipulate and control.
"We thank you very much for the care and attention you have given to the work, and for what " you have done for us.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) F. H. W. TAYL.OR."
Note-Bitton Church bells have recently been increased from six to eight, the six bells having been tuned, and the peal rehung by John Taylor & Co., Loughborough. Tenor 14 cwts .2 qrs. 11 lbs.

BELERY GOSSIP

A brocen ciapper pult an cud to an attempt for a peal of Treble Twelve at St．Mary－le－Bow，Cheapside，on Saturday．

Members of the Royal Cumberland Youths shonld note that the anmual meoting，at St．Martin＇s－in－the－Fields，is to be held on the 30 幼 inst．，and not the 23 rd as wavertised last week．
A nice compliment has been paid to that brilliant young lady ringer，Miss Plyylis Tillett，who，at the age of 18 ，has been elected Master of St．Mary－le－Tower Society，Ipswich－an office never before filled by a lady．Mies Tillett comes of a long liue of ringers，covering at least five generations，aud slie will now have the privilege of ＇ordering＇her father and grandfather，who are active members of the society．

Five members of the Aldershot band rang in a peal of Superlative Surprise Major last week without having previonsly made a bob in the method．Things like this happen，of courge，among those expert bands who make a labit of ringing peals in new methods without previous practice，but that does not in any way detract from of fine performance by these young ringers，three at least of whom can count their peals on the fingers of one hand．
When Mr．Albert Relfe，of Lamberhurst，Keut，rang his 2006h peal last Saturday（ 92 of which he has conducted），the rest of his band consisted of his own pupils．
There are few rings of bells which remain in a tower for a hondred and sixty years before a peal is ring on them，but such has been the case of the bells of Methwold，Sulfolk．They were convented to six by Osborn and Arnold in 1778 ，and the first peal was rung on them last Saturdar．

In connection with the deaths of Messrs．H Rann and R．J．Dawe recorded in this issue，it is a molancholy fact to recowd that four of the band who took part in the first peal rung by the Editor of ＇The Ringing World，on April 8th， 1893 ，have passed away in little over a Fear，tho others being Messrs．G．B．Bleach aud J．C．Merritt． There is only one other survipor of the hand，Mr．A．F．Nye，who has long since given up ringing．

FALSE PEALS．

To the 宥ditor．

Dear Sir，－I very mach regret to find two peals of Treble Bob Major varietions of F．Robinson＇s 5,184 which I have calied are felse， viz．5，024 Fung at Tenterclen，April 2nd，1923，and 5，056 at Famham， May 21st， 2923 ．I used the alternate calling in last course of two parts．I tender my sincere apologies to those who trook part in these performances．

FALSE PEAL OF BOB ROYAL．
Dear Sir，－it has been pointed out that the peal of Bols Royal （5，040 changes）by H．Dains，rung for the Salisbury Guild at Wim－ borne on Octolver 22nd，1921，is Faise．As the conductor，I offer my sincere apologies to the members who took part in same．

PRESENTATION TO MR．MAURICE E．WILSON．

 WEDDING GIF్T OF OHTMING OLOOK．A very pleasing ceremony took place in the Sheffield Cathedral belfry on Sunday last，when Mr．Mianice E．Wilson was presented with a clock，with westminster chimes，by the members of the Cetheciral company，on the occasion of his marriage to Misg Epa Chafer，which took placo on December 12th last．

The presentation was made by the Master，Mr．Harold Naylor， who spoke of the loyal support to the company given by Mr．Wilson during the past 15 years，in the course of which he lad been a con－ sisten member．He hoped Mr．Wilsor would accept the gift as a mark of appreciation and esteem from the whole of the members， together with their best wishes for a long and happy union in the future．
Mr．S．F．Palmer，secretary，supported the Master＇s remarks．
Mr．Wilson feelingly thanked the members for their gellerous gift and hoped the grod feeling that already existed amongst the memberg of the company would long continue．

NEW SURPRISE METHODS．

To the Editor．

Dear Sir，－There is not the slightest wish to lessen the credit due to those men who have suppliad the Exercise with so many good methods，but to put minthors＇pames to the methods in the Central Council MS．collection is simply impossible．Corinwall Surprise， which Mr．Tipler claims，is one of those obvions methods which any－ one who is interested in method construction is pretty sure to write ollt sooner or later．It has been nomposed by several pacple．Who was the first I do not know，but Henry Dains forestalled Mr．Tipler hy many years．

TWO SUSSEX RINGERS DEAD.

 HERBERT RANN AND ROBERT J. DAWE.Sussex has lost two well known ringers by the deaths of Herbert Rann, of the St. Nicholas' Society, Brighton, who died on Dec. 29 th, at the age of 67 years, and Robert James Dawe, of Southover, Lewes, who passed away at the same age, on Jan. 4th.
By the death of Robert James Dawe, who died suddenly at his home at Southover, Lewes, on Monday afterncon, Jamary 4th, Sussex ringing has lost a familiar figure, the Connty Association a stillwart, supporter, and many ringers a valued friend. For 48 years 'Bob' Dawe was active in Sussex ringing, and the association owes a great deal to him for the quict but excellent work which he did on its behalf while secretary of the Central Division from 1905 to 1912.

When Mr. Daryo begen his rimging in 1889 at Lewes, there were not many places in Sussex where change ringjug had been fitmly estathlished. The Conuty Association was in its infancy and at his own tower only "stoney' ringing prevailed. Purchasing SHowdon's "Rope-sight," Bob Dawe begau to study change rimging aud persuader some of his friends to join linm in the tower. About this time the lato Rev. O. D. P. Devies was curate at Ringmer, a village three miles away, and regularly for the weekly practice Bolv Dawe did this journey on foot, with such others of his band as wonld join him, to learn something more of the mysteries of change ringing.

He was an apt pupil, and in May, 1891, he rang a peal of Grandsire Triples, fol lower little more than six weeks later with Stedman Trjples, with which peal began a long and intimate association witl Mr. George Wilinas, who called the peal, aud afterwards close

 peal, and afterwards close took part. Bob Major and Sop Stplember of the sume yeaz, and in the meantime lie was comeling the band in his own tower in the Plain Bob method. In October, with four of his pupils standing in, he called a peal of Bob Triples. Before the year was out he hail rung the freble ta a peal of Double Norwich, and the way wha paved to an interesting career in peal ringius.

FIRST SURPRTSE PEALS.

After spending a couple of years at Eastbourne, where he assisted Christ Church Society, he moved to Brighton, where s'eater oppor tumisies were opemed up by membership of the St. Peter's Society, at that time reaching the peak of its fame in Surprise ringing, under Mr. George Willinms' conductorship. In the years that followed Mr. Dawe tork part in the first peals of Norfolk, Weatmiuster, Oxford and Bristol Surprise ever rumg, and in the first peals of London in the City of London and in Hampshire.
In gauging the value of these performances one has to remember how fitile Surprise linging was practised in those days. A Surprise peal was really a performance of cansiderahle merit, and it was largely the activities and success of the Brighton company of that perion that popularised this form of ringing.

Among other peals in which Mr. Dawe toolk part were 6,720 of London Surprise ir 1901, Rt St. Peter's, Brightor, the only peal of Domble Norwich Royal ever rung in Sussex (1902), and (in 19il) the frat peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal in the county.
With a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Olement's, Hastings, in 1912, Mr. Drwo was the first ringer to ring a peal on every ring of eight and ten bells then in the country, Fe afternamis racg penls on most of tho new rings that were installed, bat at the time of lis death there remained one or two on which his ambition had not been fulfilied.

The tatal of the peals in his carefully kept peal book number 484 , and it is strange that in this issue of "The Ringing World' one of these peals, rung at Pamham in 1923, is withdrawn as false. Mr. Dave never counted himself as a 'conductor', preferring to loavo Ilial: Aepartment to other's, and lie mad ealled, in all, only 23 peals. The was, however, a very safe and goorl ringar. His peals for the Sissex Association numbered over 400 , and others were rung for the Kent County Association, the Winchestar Diogesan Guitd, the Oxford Guild, the Midland Gounties Association, the Landitf alld Mommonlh Diocesan Association and the Royal Cumberland Youths.

One of his elosest ringing friends for something like 40 years was Mr. Fhank Renneft, and it is intereating to note thet he cumneted no fewer than 180 of the peals in which Mr. Dawe fook part.

Mr. Dawe's agqociation with St. Poter's, Brighon, lasted from 1894 to 1906, when he removed to Seaford, before reburning to roside again in Lewes. Throughout all his ringing carear he has bever ceased to be a nember of the Sauthover, Lewes, Guild, In addition to serving the association for seven jears as it divisionnl gecretary he also represented the association on the Central Council Erom 1999 to 1911.

Mr. Dawe had not enjoyed very goon health for some two or three years past, but his death came quito unexpectedly. Fe attended the funeral of his old ringing Friend, Mre. Horkert Rann, at Brighton, on Saturday, Jamuary zad. On Sunday, he raug as nsual for service, and went to wark on Monday moraing. He was taken ili in the afternoon and died within a few hours.

Widespread sympathy with the widow and fumily in their hereavement showed itself in the attendance nt the fumoral on Triday afteenoon. A large number of parishioners nttemded the service at Southover Church, which was conducbed by the Rector (the Rev. D. G. Mathews). The ringers present were Mesgra. A. J. Turner, G. 1 . Elphick, F. J. Grees, T. W. Woolston, W. J. Copppaw, 取, Wark, W. A. Boyes, G. Wiggins, C. J. Rugg and H. S. Janes, of the local hand, F. Benuett (Brighton), J. S. Goldemith (Woking), $A$. Simmonds, O. Wood, P: G. Piper and E. Garbutt (Seaford). The chopr led the singige of the hymns, the 231 cd Psalm and the Nune Dimittis, and the interment tools place in the chmrchyard, not far from the tower where he had given loyal service to the church and spent so meny happs hours.
In addition to the widow, a son and two deughters are left in bereavement. Mr. R. W. Z. Dawe is now the conductor of the hand at Southover.

LIST OF PEATS.
The following is the list of Mr. R. J. ## HERBERT RANN

Herbert Ramn, who died at Brighton on December $29 t h$ at the age of 67 yerrs, was associated for most of his ringing career with st. Nicholas' Church. Ha began his ringing at the litile Sussex willago of Waldron, where a joung band striggled surcessfully lo learn Grandsire Triples. It was not may yonis, however, before Mr, Tann romoved to Bitghton, where like Messrs. Merritt, Dawe aud liennetthe was employed at the Railway Works, and became a carriage examiner.
For a shor't time be rang at St. Pau's in West Street, where now the bells are ontirely unused for tinging, and then Mr, Ram transferred his energies to St. Nicholns' Church, where he was a member of the band far congiderably over 40 yenrs. As a ringer he never aspired to anything above the standard methods but he was a safe conductor of Grandsire Triples and Caters, of which ha called many peals for the Sussex Association.
The funcral took place on Saturday, Jonuary 2nd, and was attended by several old ringing friends.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.  ANNUAL DINNER  \section*{Cenitral Councli President on Coronation Ringing.}

A ver'y enjoyable cyeuing was spent on Saturiay by members and frieuds of the Guildford Docessn Guild on the occasion of the seventh zunual diner, which was held at the Lion Hotel. About 80 were prescut, the chair being taken by the Master (Major J. H. B. Hesse), who was suppurted by the Ven. E. J. Newill (Archeeacon of Dorking), Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council) and Mrs. Levis, the Rev. Canon Coleridge (Master of tha Oxford Diocesan Guild, Mr. W. Harrison (vice-president of the Guidford Guild), Mr. J. Corbeti (hon. treasurer) and Mrs. Corbett, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hou. secretary). Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes (London), Mr. F. E. Dawe (Woking), Mr. Newsom (Croyion), etc. Members were present from Aldershot, Bagshot, Trarnham, Guildford (Cathedral and S. Nicolas'), Godalaning, Haslemere, Leatherlead, Nerstlam, Pirbright, Sealo, Thames Dittou aud West Clandon
After an excellent dinner, the loyal toast was honoured on the call of the chairman.

BROKEN LINK.

Mr. J. S. Goldsimith, having mentioned that apolagies for absemce hakd beess received from, among others, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, Bishop Golding-Bird (Archdeacon of Surrey) and the Mayor of Guildford, wroposed the toast of the President, Viee-President aud Honorary Members. While they regretted the Bishop's absence from Lhat yallering, he said, they appreciated the fact that the Bishopp occupied the oftice of president of the Guild. It showed his ixterest in their worls and gave them a status in the diocese which they could not otherwise loppe to occupy. They had met that evening, the speaker centimued, under the shadow of a great loss. The death of the Provost of Guildford had removed one of their whe-presidents and it wals diffeult to say what they all wust feel on sucin an occasion. They, as an suild, would miss the Provost very much indced. He not only took all active interest in the Guild, attending their meetings and being present at their dinuers, but they looked upon him as a liaisons ollicer with the diocessu authorities. He was the strongest if not the only link with the ecelesiastical organisation of the diocese.
That link had leen broken and it would be diffeult to replace. Thai it should be replaced, he was sure, would be the Provost's own wish. He hoped it might, be possible to find in the diesesgu hierarchy someone who would associate himself with the Guild sufficiently closely tint they might feel that the Guild was still iutimately allied, as they wished it to loe allied, with other bravehes of church work in the dineese. It might be that they had with them that night a repreplace in the Guild formerly occupied by the Provost. Mre Goldsmith added that he wished to take that opportunity of associating the Guild with the muny expressions of deep regret at Provost Kirwan's death that had been voiced throughout the diocese.
They were left, he continued, with anly one vice-president at the moment, and they were very happy to have Mr. Harrison with them. He was no mere figurehead. Ouly those who had worked belind the scenes knew what the Guild owed to Mr. Harrison. From the Ginid's formation he had thown hinself into the work with an enthussamm which, had he (the speaker) not seez it, he wond not have believed possible for one who was not actually a ringer. Mr. Harrison had gerved them wilhout stint in everything they had asked him to do (applause). Mr: Coldsnith expressed appreciation of the support Given to the Ghid by the hon. Huembers, but accipd that, while the to see mare of the hon. members among them on suly occasions as that. He could assure them, however, that their money was well spent. But for their help the Guild would not be able to make the grants they did to bell yestorations in the diocese, grants which, though of modest dimensions, showed that they were at least preparel to give as well as to take (applause).

Mr. Harison, who responded, also paid tribute to the late Provost, his co-vice-president, whom he had known, he said, probably longer than auyone elsc in the room. He had lind the closest friendship with hint for 42 years. It had heen a privileqe to know lim aud be favoured with lis friendship and his approval-or disaipproval, if, ns sometimes happened, he disagreed. Mr. Harrison asked the company to stand a few moments in silent tribute to the memory of the Provost. Resuming, Mr. Harrisom said their success as a Guild was tempered with one or two things whioh one wonld like to improve upon. There was no donlt athout the harmony of the Guild and the gond fellowreceive a littile more attention with the hope that they wonld take a fuller share in the corporate work of the Guild. Thea there was the more or less vexed question of the attendance and interest of the clerical side of the diocese in matters relating to the Guild. He thought they onght to make a special effart during the mext twelve months to see if they could not get the clergy to take an interest in their towers and particularly in the men in the tawers. It was a pity that, eveu allowing for 'Mr. Jufluenza,' they only had with them that nighl their old friend Canon Coleridge, and Mr. Arclldeacon Newill, whom they cordinily welcomed to that gathering. He hoped more clergy would be induced to take a keener interest in the Guild and help them in the various projects and questions which they had to face (applause).

PEAL RINGLNG FOR SPECLAL OCCASIONS.

Mr. E. H. Lewis proposed 'Ihe Guildford Diocesan Cuild,' and expressed his pleasure at being again asked to join the Guild at their annual dinner. They were very lucky in their Guild in having out of the best Masters and one of the best passible secretaries (applause). They alone should ensure the Guild a successful future. He congratulated the Guild upon the bell restoratious which had taker place last year in the diocese. Several important works had been carried out during the past year. It was, perbaps, fortuante that the bells were ready, because this year should be a bumper year for ringigg, owing to the fact that in ft few months they were going to celebrate the Coronation of their beloved King and Queen. He hoped tho members of the Guild were already practising for that event, so that, whatever ringing was done-and he hoped there would bo ringing in every church in the diocese-would be of the best possible quality, not necessarily in method, but in the excellence of the striking anid rhythm maintained (hear, heary). Another thing they might try and do was to ring the bells at some of the towers which had been ciosed for peal ringing in receat years.
A suggestion had recently been made that tho length of a peal should bo shortened. He personally was very mich against anything of the sort (bear, hear). Theye was an historical and a mathematical reason for thin standand leagth of a peal. If sinortening the lengilt of a peal would cause more peals to be rung, he did not think it would be an advantiage. He thought that already too many peals were 'got.' If only peals that were rung correctly, were counted, there would not be so many published week by week in "The Ringing World, and that would be a great adventage. He thought peal ringing should be tept for special occasions, or for occasions where bands can really ring perfectly. On other occasions they should be content with shorter lengtlas.
Mr. Lewis made an appeal for more honour to be given to quarterpeals. A quarter-peal was a very suitable length for practices. It was long enough to enable ringers to settle down and not cuougl to annoy the publio, except a small minoity who could not stand bells at all. If they lad more quarter-peals and kept peals for special oecasions, he thought it would be a good thing.
Returning to the subject of towers where peal ringing is bannerl, Mr. Lewis said it was probably dite to the fact that the hells were noisy outside the tower. That was quite unnecessary, for the sound could be modified. They had an excellent oxample in the diocese at Haslemere, where great pains had been taken fo modify tho sound so that the bells were no nuisance to the public. That could be done, given sufficient pains, in practically all towers, aud as a rule it was not a very expensive business.
Mr. Lewis added that quito recently a small leafiet had beeu issmed ou the subject by the Anti-Noise League. It was very well dome, and wheu he saw it he wondered where the information had been obtained because he did not know of any ringer laving laeen cousulted. But when he got the pamplet le found that most of it was taken from Sir Arthur Heywood's book, 'Bell 'Towers and Bell Manging.' A description of what had been done at Lincoln Cathedral was given, together with a plan of a cross section of the sonth-west tower. It would be a grood thiug, said Mr. Lewis, if that leaflet was circulated to all Archdeacons, so that they might loe ahle to adwise on this subject of the sonnd of hells, and he hat alroedy suggested to the secretary of the Central Couril that they slould take sfeps to lave this done.

BELL RESTORATIONE.

The Master, in responding, said it was quite trise that sereral of the towers in tise diocese were closed for peals. Last year the Guild rang 21 penls, three of then on handells. The others wele romg in only eleven towers, which left a good many towers patouched. He would like to draw atiteution to one of the peais in patticular, a peal of Grandsire Triples at Aldershot, rung fully nuffled for our fate King. In that peal, rung by an entively local land, there were five first peals, and lie would like to congrathate Mr. Charles Denyer on his success (applanse). Witli regard to restorations, le mas pleased to say several important resioxations had taken place, including Slalford, Chiddingfola and Youktown, which were done under his own supervision. He was allowed to do exactly as be liked (applauge), but it was sometimes after a big struggle (laughter). At Witicy there was not as mach done as he wauld lave liked, batt the bells had been rehulg on ball bearimgs.
Proceeding, Major Fesse baill the Benewont Find established a year or two ago was, on the whole, going on well. The more they gave to it the better for the future, because they never knew when a member might need its help. He hoped every member would ro liis best for the fund. The Masler anded his tribute to the late Provost and said what a friend they had always found him. With reydrd to the future of the Guild, he agreed with what Mr. Harrison had sail and they must try to get further help fram the clargy and see if they could not get some ot the towers opened for the Coronation that wero now closed. Fe snmported Mr. Lewis in what he had snif about the desirability of maderating the noise of belis ontside the towers whevever this whs necessary. They had an excellant example of what could be done in the ease of the Cathedral in Guildforr, and luad already been done. The openings were being sluthered so that they could be closed for paeats aud opened for service yinging, and the cost would be not more tharn f10. He hoped those in charge of towers whele this sort of thing could be done would bring the mater to the notice of chated authorities,

ARCHDEACON'S INTEREST

Mr. J. Corbent proposet the hoast of "The Fisicors," to all of whom he extended a hearty welcome. Their presence, he said, showert that they were interested in the work of the Guild. Archdeacon Newill had heard what had becn said about the late Provost, and he must feel how much the suild appreciated all the Provost did for them. He (the speaker) loped, after hearing that, the Archdeacon would extend to Jrom the same sympathy ind interest that Provost Kirwan did (hear, hear'). They wanced someoue to step into the breach nud help them forward in their work. Nhy offered bim a very hearty welcome indeud (upplause). Thcir Guild, continued Mr. Gorbett, was one of the youngest in the conntry and they were trying to emulate all the best there was in the uld guider and associations. Thej aimed at the very fundamentals of chatere ringiyg that was, service ringing, and he was glad to say that in their towers service ringing wes the primary object of the Guild (applause), He bad to couple with the foast the adme of Archileacois Newill, and also that of Canon Coleringe. Alithough the latwer was nol strictly a visitor, he came from over the horker and they conld not let him go away without having few words from him (appause).
Arcladeacon Newill, in reply, spoke of an association and friendship with the late Provost extending oven 32 years, and said that if in any way he conld till in some small part the breach caused by the Provost's deadia, he wonld be only too lidppy to do so aud to know that he was floing something to help on the work the Guild was eioing (applause). As a very young Archideacon, he had abtained a useful tip" that evenitus. He would be holdjug his 'wsitation' shortly after Faster, and, fike oiher Arclldeacons, he was at the present moment drawing in a list of questions to be answered by the charchwardens. He had really got a uew idea with regerid to the shitering of bells, and he had learued quite a lot from Major Hesse, which he hoped would prove very uscful. He suggested that no time should be iost in distributing the pamphlets to Aycheleacons, as Mr Lewis hat suggested.

Canon Colepidge, who was very eurdially received as an old friend, said he had that day athended $x$ funcral at Bristal of a ringer who was a momber of the hand who 32 years ago rang the one and only peal evar ruitg on Lundy laland. Only three survivots of that peal were present. He had come shaight back from Bristol to keep his engrgement with them that nipht. He brought them greetings from the Oxfove Diocesiat Guild, which, as they knew, wht a very much bigger concern. The diocese coveled three comuties aud was wery dificult to worl. The Bishop fonnd the diocese almost impossible to work, and, as Master of the Oxiond Guild, he also found it impossible, To attend a meeting in North Bucks would break into two drys muless one had available a fusb motol-car. He attended what meetings le could, but by eruliast with the Guildford Guild the wrea of his own fiuild was too big to be convenient. He was very happy to be able to do what he could, for, after his accident three years ago, his doctor lold lrim he would not be able to get about ggain except in a bath chair. He was defermined, however, that he would The only thing be coald not trinst himself to do was to mount belfiry stairs, and he had to confine his ninging to towers where the ringing was done on tho gromd flocr. Canon Coleridge concladed by wishing the Guillford Guild every prosperitig
The musioti programme consister of handbell solos delightfulfy played by Mrs. A. A. Iushes, solngs splendidly sumg by Mr. H. Plitt, and community sillging. In aldition a touch of Stedman Triples was rung on handhells by Messus. C. Enzelden, E. H. Lewis, A. H. Pulling and W. Melvile, aud a 'raming commentary" was given on a bellringing performance ak 'Scareham.' A very enjoyable evening terminded with a rote of thanks to the artistes (proposed by the Masticr') and Auld Lang Syne.

ROUND BLOCKS AND 7 RANSPOSITIONS IN PEAL COMPOSITIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir-Two of the Mefhods Committee have at hast replied They calmly ignore the new discovery of rond blocks and transposition in peal compositions, and lhcy give an asymmetrical peal for comparison with two symmetrical peal compositions.
Following is their as ofmotrienl peal with its round blocise and transpositions, eo that fhey or ayyone who cares to tate the trouble, may conpare with tho forge symmetrical peal compositions publisher in "The Ringing World' un December 25th last.

BELLS IN TELEVISION PROGRAMME

COLLEGE YOUTHS AT THE ALEXANDRA PALACE

On Christmas Day four College Youths met at Baker Street and drovo up to the Alexandra Palace, where they were dhe at 2.30, to prepare for their turn in the 'Picture Page' of the B.B.O. 'Ielevision Programme. Thiee of them were woulering what the conductar would say when he realised that he would have to be "mude up." They were disappointed to find that their peculiarities required no emphasis, and after a very brief wait in a dressing room they were shown inte the studio, where most of the other 'turma' were waiting
One end of the studio, which formed the stage, was lighted with a battery of very powerful lamps. The background was formed of fcreens of nential grey colour, and facing the stage were two or three "cameras' on movable stands, with microphones suspended above The other end of the room seemed to be littered with properties and a mumber of chais, which could be arranged in front of receiving set, so thet the waiting performers could sae those who were acting both in tho flesh and 'as receivod.

After watching a group of Chelsea Pensioners relearse their bit, tho College Youths lad to face the 'camera' for a trial. This was mamly for focussing purposes. Challe marks were made on the foor when the positions were satisfactory so that later theve gloould be no delay in toeing the line. Just before three o'clock a roast turkey was wheoled in ou a trolley by a chef. This quite upset the handbell conductor, who had had nothing to eat since an early breakfast. Herb again there was disappointment. The bird was for demongeration only.
Pructually at three o'clock the programme was announced by Miss Joan Baxler at the telophone, and then the picture page started with 'How to carve a turkey' by the chef. While the next ilem was being "shot," apparently in another studio, the College Youths lined up, and, after a short wait, which, however, was Jong enough to mate the heat of the lamps almost mbearable, ble sigal was given to "go Stecinan" on tive hambells. After about lialf a contso the second emmera was tumed on to the nexb item and the ordeal was over.
There followed an anusing thee-quarters of an honr wateling the other ilhustrutions on the puge, whieln included, hesides the Clielsea Pensioners, Pop-ege the Sailor Mar, a Sahnan Princess, Father Christmas and a Policemau, Shackletou the Arelic Explorer, his mate. and Miss Jana Baxter impersanating an American teleplane girt. It was lucky that no ringers' wives were listening to the ticking off she gave her boy, when she found he was trying to fele phone to anolher dame in the hotel. They might have learne a hitt too much.

Mrg. Hughes very kindly lent a brand new set of liandbells fox tha occasion. Just in case the B.B.G. thought the reflections from the bright hell metal might spoil good reception, an old set weve trken also, and the aulhorities at once chose the latter
After a brief visit to Whitechapel for a chip of iea, itre periomers tetarned to their family circles, feeling mond that they had been able to give the first visible demonetration of change ringing by wireless.
There cannot be very many receiving sets in priwnte nse. The owner of ante has been traced and he said that the College Youths mede one of the best turs that have come throurg so far.

OUR YOUNG RINGERS.'

It is seldom a new subject is introduced into the toast Iist of a ringers' dinner. Usually the toasts follow a somewhat hackneyed, if time-honoured form, and it is refreshing, therefore, to find that, at the annwal dinner of Bristol United Ringing Guilds, a new toast appeared'Our Young Ringers.' We congratulate, whoever it was, who had this inspiration. All sorts of institutions and people are honoured on these occasions, but surely there is no section of the ringing community which deserves recognition on such occasions more that the youngsters who, later on, will have to carry on the good work now being done by their elders, and to whom we look not only to maintain present standards, but to go on raising the level of ringing and the status of ringers.

The speech in which the toast was commended to the company was one which every ringer would do well to read, and which everyone responsible for the teaching of young ringers would do well to ponder. Although it was made by a non-ringer, it was full of understanding, common sense and good advice. The Rev. M. Paterson's wide experience of youth in a great city like Bristol fitted him admirably for the task. He pleaded for encouragement and sympathy on the part of tutors, and he put into words exactly what we might expect a youngster to think when he first tries his hand at the end of a bellrope, but which, of course, the has not the courage, or shall we say the audacity, to put into words.

There are often regrets expressed that young ringers cannot be got, or, if obtained, cannot be kept. Very frequently the cause is attributed to lack of interest, but we think there must be many cases where pupils, having: entered the belfry, have left it again because they do not feel themselves in a sympathetic atmosphere. It may not be entirely the fault of the older ringers, but there is sometimes that lack of encouragement which is sufficient to keep a beginner plodding along a rather difficult path in which he has largely to make his own interest. Patience with beginners may sometimes be sorely tried, but both master and pupil must possess this virtue if the best is to be made of raw material. We need youngsters in the belfry everywhere. The band that goes on year after year without recruiting new blood are doing a disservice to the cause which they believe they have at heart, for sooner or later there must come a time when the old hands will drop out. But youngsters will only be kept if they are encouraged and their interest fed. We would like to see the Rev. M. Paterson's words hung in every belfry where there are beginners - and that ought to be in every belfry in the land.

The actal work of the bells at $a$ bob varies with the method. In Grandsire it is effected by an additional 3rd's place made at the handstroke lead of the treble, and causes all the bells above that place to alter the order of their work, although the actual transposition of coursing order only affects three bells.

SIMPLE METEOD CONSTRUCTION

Last week we endeavoured to explain what is meant by 'hunting, which enables a beginner to grasp the first principles of change inging. Hunting will kelp him to acquire rope-sight, but is is not advisable to continue a plain hunting courge for too long a time, bedause, after a while, one gets to know it by heart, and its usefulaess, at any rate for the purpose of teaching rope-sight, is lost.
As soon as the beginmer can pick ont the bell he has next to follow, by using his eyes, he should go on to learn a 'method.' If he is in it fiye or eix boll tower, Grandsire Doubles is the method lie will probably wurn to first.

There afe a number of methots of "Doubles,' but only is few of them are 'pure Doubles, that is to say, changes produced entirely by movin two pairs of belis overy time. There are some methods which are constructed by tho use, once or oftener in a lead-a lead for this purpose meaning the changes from one lead of the treble to the next lead of that bell-of a change made by moving only one pair of bells.
If, for instance, you have one row of figures 13254 , you, can produce either 31524 , or 31245 , or 12345 by means of c Doubles -that is by changing two paire of hells. But in some methods, in ovder to produce the extent of the changes on five bells, it is necessary periodically to move only one pair of bells, such as, after 13254, having 13524. This change is really a single change, and in some of the very old ringing books methods in which a mumbor of such changes oceurred were known as "Singles and Doubles."

If you are going to produce a melhod which does not collgist alely of a plain lunting course, there must be, within each lead, one or more places ${ }^{2}$ made.
A 'place' is made by a bell remaining two blows (a whole pall, either at handstroke and backstroke, or backstroke and handstroke) in the same position in the interior of the change.
Thus on five bells a "placa' can be made in 2nd's, 3id's or 4th's, but only 3 rd's place enables the anccession of pure Doubles to be maintainod. If you write out a few changes and introduce $2 n d$ 's of 4th's, yout will soon discover why,
In the construction of Doubles the mumber of available 3 ra's places is very limited, bence the limited number of possible methods. If we conline ourselves for the moment to methods in which the treble keeps to plain hunting, then there are only four possible 3 rd's places in any one lead. The different methods depand upou the different positions in which these 3rd's places oceur
The formation of the Grandsire method is cansed by making 3rd's place at the first available opportuntity, that is at the very firgt. change.
Now, no method of pure Doubles based upon a treble with a plain hunt will produce the extent of the clanges in a plain course.

The use of "bobss' and 'singles' is necessary. A bob is the introduction of an atditional 3rd's place, and has to be signified by the conductor, who at the stated intervals calls out 'Bob.'
For a reason which we need not go into now, plain leads and bobs alone in a pure Doubles method will produce only half the possible changes; it Heeds a "single' to moduce the other half and a second 'single ' before the bells can be brought round.
Wo lave already indicated what a Single is-it is, in Doubles, the movement of only ome pair of bells in the change.
Before we go on to the actanal axplanation of how to ring Grandsire, wo wonld like our begimert to try and work out for thenselves some of the methods which can tho produced. Remember there are four places in which 3rd's ean be nsed, let ns call them $\mathfrak{f}, \mathrm{b}, \mathrm{c}, \mathrm{d}$. These can be used singly, as 'a' in Grandsire, or in any combination as 'a. and "c' in what is known as Double Grandsire. In 'skeleton ' this is where the places can occur, the letters representing the places, 1 the treble and the dots the other bells:-

| 18 |
| . 1 |
| , bI |
| . b. 1 |
| C . I |
| - 1 |
| 1 d |
| 1.1 |

While on this question we would like to answer an ingtiiry which we received the other day, "What is a. "bos" and "single" "
A bob causes certain bells to alter the path of their regular workthat is, it transposes their coursing order. Usually only three bells are affected, but the work of any odid number of bells may be affected. The bob is "called" by the conductor.

A 'single' effects the transposition of the work of two bells instre of some even sumber of bells. It, too, is called by the conductor.
(Contimued in previous column.)

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

 SOUTHAMPTON DISTRICT PROGRESS.Satisfactory progress was reported at a meeting of the Southampton District of the Winchester and Porkmouth Diocesan Guild, held at Southampton on Saturday, January 9th. During the afternoon and evening there was rimging on the ten bells of SE. Mary's (whicla were hatf-muffled on account of the death of Col. Sir Edwin Perkins), St. Michael's and Holy Rood, and a variety of methods up to Cambridge Royal was rung.
The Guild service in St. Mary's Clumeh was conducted by the Vicar, the Rey. Canoz IR. H. Jolly, who also gave an address.
Mr, George Williams, Master of the Guild, presided at the business meebing, supported by the Rev. Evan Jones (hon. treasurer of the (Guild), Mr. D. Ceeil Williams, Mus.Bac. (University College, Sauthampton), Mr. J. W. Faithfull (secretary, Stu. Mary's Guild), Mr. George Pallinger (district secretary) and Mr. Wilfrid Andrews (captain of Winchester Cathedral band).
The towers represented were Southampton, Eastleigh, Norbh Stoneliam, Bishopstake, Romsey, Dibden, Eling, Frwley, Netley, Lockerley, Mattisfont and Uplam, and members were also present from Portsmouth Cathedral, Portsea, Wickham, Titchfield, Soberton, Fareham, Fournemouth, Poole and Winchester.
Mr. Wilfred Andrews announced that Winchester Cathedral bells, taken down for Fecasting, would be dedicated on March 20 th, some weeks earlier than was expected.

The Master will celchrate his $80 \mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{h}}$ birthday on May 7 fb , and the fiope was expreged that attempts will be made for peals in a number of towers in celebration of the event.
Ihe audited acounts showed a balance, and it was agreed to make the collection up to El ls . for the St. Mary's festoration Fund.
'lhe secretary reported on a successfu] year, and urced greater effort in ringing for the ordinary Sunday services, oven at some persoual sacrifice. A tatal of 16 homorary and 88 ringing memhers had paik subsciptions. The bells of Mottisfont were in a bad state, bus in the other churches of the district they were in good order.

Several new members were elected, and the election of Messrs.
ㅍ. King (of Breaston, Derby) and G. Parsons (of glackifiars, London) prior to peals was confirmed.
General regret was expressed at Mr. Pullinger's request to be relieved of his ofice, and his valued services not only to the district, but also to the Central Committee were mentioned. He was warmly thanked for his work, and eventually was persuaded to carry on with Mr. A. T. Corrigan (North Stoneham) as joint hon. gecretary.

The Rev. G. T. Tritton, who was unable to attend owing to illness, was re-olected chairman, and Messts. J. W. Faithfull and W. T. Tucker, North Stoneham, were chosen as representatives on the committee. The re-election of Mr. G. Willians as Ringing Master was greeted with applause.
District meetings agreed to were: Febriary 27th, Mattisfont and Ronsey; Mry 8 th, Dibden; July 17th, Isockerley and Tytheriey; October 2ni, Netley.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT EASTERN DISTRTCT MEETING.
A special meeting of the Eastem District was held at West Hartlepool on Saturday, January Gth, the oceasion being the unveiling of a pal board conmenorafing a peal of Grandsire Caters rung by Miss Stephenson, one of the local ringers, who was the first laty to ring a peal on ten bells in the County of Durham.
Ringers were present from Middeshrough, Saltburn, Darlington Sunderland, Feaham, Ghester-le-Street and the local ringers.

A show service was held, the Rev. T. H. Lilburn officiating, after which the ringers weut to the belfry, where the Vicar dedicated the peal boaxd, Miss Stephenson unveiling it.

Tea was held in the Mission Eall, after which there was a short meeting, Mr. R. L. Patterson presiding.
After the loyal toast the Chairman said it was a great pleasure to him to see each district of the association represented at the meeting, and heartily welcomed the visitors. He was pleased to see so many ringers present and specially. mentioned the members of the Cleveland and North Forlishire Association. Fe hoped bath associations woulet meet on other occarions.
Mr. T. Metonlf thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells and also Miss Shepherd for her services at the orgay. The Vicar suitably replied, and said he was delighted aqain to nave the ringers at West Hartlepnol. They were always welcome.

Mr. Titt pronnsed a vote of thanks to the ladies for the splendid tea, and Mrs. Robson replien.
The Rev. J. P. Pelloe, of St. Columbia's, Sunderland, was elected a. member.

It was proposed that the next meeting be held at Hourhton-leSpring, notice of which will he mblished in 'The Ringing World.'

The hells were kept going mntil 8.30 p.m.. the methods rung being Grandsirs Trinles and Caters, Stedman Triples and Caters, Kent Treble Bob Major anti Roral and Double Norwich Major. It was a most successiul meefing and all had a very happy time.

DEATH OF MR. B. JARMAN.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOOLATION.

The death look place in the London Hospital on Thursday of last week of Mr. Ben Jarman, of Harpenden, Herts. He was 62 years of age.
All his life Mr. Jarman was ascociated with Farpanden Parish Church, joining the choir as a boy and remaining a chorister during the incumbency of six Rectors.

He had been a zinger for over 37 years and was captein of the company. In 1986 le served in the office of president of tha Herfom County Association. His death is keenly felt by a host of Harpenden friends, by whom the was much esteamed.

AN APPREGIATION.

Ben Jarman was a very capable change ringer, and lad yung many peals in a variety of methods for the Eertford County Association, who in 1926 honoured him by electing him as their president. Possessed quite naturally of a genial and friendly disposition, he was greatly lifed, for he was one to whom the ringers could niways appeol, either to "make one' to complete a team for a peal, or y'ender any helpful service in connection with the Connty Association. Tee had the secret of living an umperturbed and wnselfish life.
The earthly career of our friend has ended, and, whilst we deeply mount his depardure, we refoice that the trumpets of welcome have sounded for him on the other side; but we shall evot clerish whe memory of "Ben' with trete affection. "Then I heard in my dream that all the bells in the city rang again for joy, and that it was said unto them, "Finter ye into the joy of the Iord."
His body was laid to rest in the Parish Churchyard on Monday. amid many tokens of respect from a large congregation, the gerwice being taken at the Parish Clurch in the absence of the Viear by assistant clergy of the parish. The service was choral and included the 23 rd Psalm and the hymas, 'Lead, kindly light' and 'Abide with me.' Besides the local company of ringers there were also present, representing the Conntr Associntion, Mr. (F. E. Debenlana (treasurer), Mr. G. W. Debenliam (assistant hon secretany), Mr. Walter Ayre (district secretayy, Western Division), Mr. A. King (Luton, Beds Association) and others.
A course of Grandsire Triples was vinu upoun the hamabells during the service in church by Messrs. H. Jarman 1-2, R. Newson 3-4, A. Day 5-5, W. Hill 7 -8. Previons to the sorvice a half-mumled toneh was rung mpon the tower bells. There were many wreaths, including one from the president, officers and memlores of the Eertford Cotnty Associaltion.
On Monday evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung half-miffed by the following: *Walter Eill 1, C. Sladbolt 2, A. Dockerill 3, G. W. Debenham (conductor) 4, *R. Eley 5, R. Nemson 6, Arthur Day 7, G. Cull 8. First quarter-peal.
G. W. C.

FIRST PEALS ON OLD BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Siry, I note with interest that a peal has been rung at Metat wold 160 years after the ring was converted to six. At Rediuth, Dornwall, the tower was built during the reign of Heury VII. (14851509), and a ring of six lung by Thomas Lester in 1744. These bells. however, were rolung when the church was restored in 1878, and again in the game frame and on the same leadstocks in August, 1935. Fhe first peal was then runt in September, 1935 -ane lundred and ninety-one years after the bells were placed in the tower. Two trebles weve added in Noventber, 1935.
I surppose the bells at Methwold have been rehung or reconditioned since 1778.
A. S. ROBERTE.

Trure.

PINNER RINGING SOCIETY.

The anmual meeting of the Pinner Society, Middlesex, held on Weducsdey, January 13 th. was preceded by some excellent touches on the tower balls, cenducted by Messis. A. J. Harding and T. Collins. The meeting was held at the Conservative Club, the chair being occupied by the Vicar (the Rev. Eric Barnea), supported by the Rev. ©. T. Clapman, the Fiear's wanden (Mr. J. S. Hogg, J.P.) ant the captain (Mr. A. J. Harding). The people's warden, Mr. A. Townsend, was unavoidably absent owing to a prior engrgement.

The balance sheet was acceptod, and the chairman distributed the annual grant of $£ 1 \mathrm{ls}$. to ehoh of the members. Fe also nominated the parish ringers for 1937.
On the proposition of Mr. F. S. Hogg, supported by the chairman, Mr. A. J. Harding was elected captain, hon. secretary and treagurer. Mr. Harding thanked the members for their support during the time be had been captain.

Mr. C. A. Kirn wrs elected vice-captrin.
The Ghairman thanked file socioty for the wark they had done daring the past year and also gaid what pleasure it was to be with them that evening, it being his first meeting as Vicar. He looked forward to n happy time with them.

Mr. Harding thanked the Vicar for presiding and also Mr. J. S. Hogr for having engaged the toom and provided refreshmente.

DEATH OF MR. FRED WILFORD.

FORMER SEGRETARY AND MASTER OF PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GDHDD.
Wo much regret to record the death of Mr. Fred Wilford, formerly secratary and later Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, who passeal away at the age of 65 pears on January 11th at Clapel Brampton, Northants, where he liad been living since retiring from the sarvico of the Northampton Corpration Wacer Department. For some time paet Mr. Wilford liad been in indifferent health. He leaves in bereavement a widow, with whom much sympatliy will be felt.

Born at Ringstead, Northants, Mr. Wiliford went to Northampion in 1887 and was appointed a water inspector under the Northampton Corporation in 1903. He ivegan his ringing career at St. Gilles', Northampton, in 1897, at the time when the bells, having been rehung, and increased from eight to ten, a new bind was being formed. He was then slready a member of the choir and superintendent of the Sunday School.

His firmt peal was ruzg in 1898, the first peal on the bells at St. Giles'. This peal, Grandsire Cater he rang on the tenor, and his firgt peal on an "jaside' bell was also Grandsire Caters in the same tower in 1900. His first peal of Major was Treble Bob, nung in 1901, and in the same year ha scored hig first of Stedman. This and his first pral of Double Norwich in 1903 he rang in London. His first peal of Superiativo was at Irthlingborough in 1904.

In 1901 he was made forman of St , Giles' belfry and held the office until 1909. When, in 1905, the Central Northamptonshire Association was eplit up into districts, Mr. Wilford was appointed secretary of the Nothampton District, and in the following year was elented general secretary of the association.

He was largoly instrumental in the tranaformation of the Central Northants Associafion into the Peterborough Diocesan Guild in 1924, and was elected Master. He hold the office until 1935. On bis resignation he was succecded by the Rer. E. S. Powell. In October of that yent Mr. Wilford's services to the Guild were recognised at a special meeting at Northampton, when he was presented with a roll of notes and an album suitalbly inscribed, which contained the names of 438 subseribers.
Mr. Wilford's services to Northamptonshire were, indeed, great. He lahnured ungruderingly in the esuse of the art. and his personal example was a great miourayement to all who liad ringing at heart, For many pears Mr. Wilford made a point of attending all the quarterly meetinge thronglout the district and often assisted, as a licensed lay reater, in collducting the services.
In 1904 lie was elected a member of the Central Conncil, and remained a representntive of his fuild up to the time of lis deatla

He had rung about two lumdred peals, of which he had conducted a consinfurie ummber, and was a member of the following assaciationr: Bedforíshive, Midland Counties, Forkshire, Oxford, Kent, Middleser and Jeandon Countr
The funeral took place on Tharscay of last week.

BARNSEEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY. RETIREMENT OF HON. SECRETARY.

The annual general meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was leld at St. Mary's, Barnsley, on January 9th, the following towers being represented: Aclrworth, Adwick-lestreet, Darfield, Enstwood, Felhirk, Foylandswaine, Pontefract, Rotherham, Sandal, Shelly, South Kirkby, stieffield (Cathedral and St. Marie's), Wath, Wragby and the loral compray. Ringing commevced at three o'clock, and at $$$ p.m. a short service was condncted by Canon Hone. Tea was served in the Stration Restalirant, 40 sitting down.
The hosinpss meeting frilowed, the honorary president (Canon Honel presiding. The balance sheet for 1936 was presented and carried unanimousiy. Four new members were elected.

The Fresilent and tiessurer were re-elected. It was with deep regret. that the resignation of the secretary had to be accepted, as he las not enjoyed good health for some months past. He had gent an apolnoty for not being able to attend throngh illness.
There were two nominntions for the post of secretary, namely, Mr. E. Brookes, of Hoylandswaine, and Mr. D. Smith, of Felkirk, and, Ir reconnition of the arvices rendered lected. been in office either as treasurer or secretary Panther, who has unanimonsly elected honornry wiee-president, and evervore be was wished him a speedy recovery so that he may long be able to fill his new office.

Canon Hone said, as he was leaving the district very soon, it would no donht be the last time he would preside at the annual meeting, but he loped the sociely would cantinae to prosper as it had done in the past.
Mr. C. D. Potter expressed the feelings of all when he said how sorry he wns to lose Canon Hone, as he had always fomn him a real frieud to ringers. He wished him success in lis new home, which is at Godalming, Surrey.

Cawtlatne was chosen for the next meeting on February 13 th.
Further ringing followed nntil 8.45 p.m. in Major, Triples and Minor, including both Jondon Major and Minor. The bells were then lowered and a most enjoyable meting conolnded.

LEICESTER CATHEDRAL NEW BELES.

TO BE RUNG ON GORONATION DAY.
The new ring of 13 bells ( 12 and semi-tone) for Leicester Cathedral are now cast and the frame erected. They will bo first dedicated ull the Hoor of the church, and then erected and rung for the first time on Coronation Day.
Although the cost of the bells has been assured by the gemerosily of individual donors, theve is a great expenditure on the wower and belfry, and an appeal was issucd to all vingers and fricods-especially in the Leicester Diocese-to defray this cost. Will all those who have the special appeal forms please return same as soon as convenient to Mr. Erucst Morris, 24, Coventiy Street, Leicester

LOST PEALS IN CORNWALL

THE LADY WHO WROTE A POEM.

Peals are difficult to get in Cornwall at the best of times, hat lately they have been particularly elusive. Three atlempts have failed in the last two months, one through the light failing a quarter of an hour from the end, and one through sickness undor the tower. The third attempt was made on Boxing Day for Holt's Original at Camborne, by W. J. Sanklers 1, C. J. Lamion (conductor) 2, Miss E.J. C. Answin 3, Tr. Hruis 4, E. Sanlers 5, W. H. Sleemau 6, A. S. Roherts 7, P. R. C. Williams 8. The ringing was good for an hour and in luaf, when the sudden entrance of a woman behiad the conductor caused a slight trip. This was put right, lowever, and ine woman left the belfry only to retirn a fittle later when slie sbarted to whisper to one of the ringers. She was politely but firmly aslied to leave the belfry. This slle did, but returned a quarter of an bour later with a note which alne tried to lix so that ane of the rinpers could read it, It flnttered to the gronnd and her efforts to retrieve it took the attention of the riagers olf the method so litat the bells set up after two hours 10 minutes.
The woman conld not then be fonnd. The note read: ' I wanted to tell Cambarne Chirch bellingers that I wrote a poem for then in this week's "Cornish Poble" 411 Crmborme Jas read it, I knew if I spoke it would upset the ringers. Tell them to read the Chrishmas Garol I wrote for them.

A quarter-peal from the 'Original' was ring at "heuro Gathedral for the last practice of the Year on Tuesday, December 29th: Miss 11. Penrose 1, W. H. Southearè 2. Miss T. J. C. Angwin $, W. E. Minors 4, A.S. Roberts 5, W. F. Sleman 6, ©. F. Lankon (conductar) 7, J. Tose (first quarter-peal) 8. Another attempt was to have been made for a peal on Satordny, January gilh, at Mawran, the lightest, peal in Cornwall. Unfortunately, two of the ringers wote lost an the rond and when they arived at the church a peal was jmpossible. However, half of Parker's twelve-part was rung in 1 hour 26 minutes. The ringers were $W$. J. Sanders (longest leagth of Triples) 1, C. E. Lanxon (conductor) 2, Miss E. J. C. Anstia 3, E. Sinders 4. A. S Roberts 5, T. Harris 6. W. H. Steman 7, P. R. C. Williams 8. it is hoped that a peal will be safoly brought round in the near futinu

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT DISOUSSES STRLKING.
A very eujoyable meeting of the Maidstone District of the Kent County Association was held al Wrotham on January 9th. The fine weather and the fine peal of bells brought many visitors of the useful kind, who can ring auything, so that the district experts were given a clance to clear the cobwebs from the attic."

The essociation service was conducted by the Rector, Canon A. P. Pascoe, who is change ringer. He illustrated his address in an interesting way by pointing out the lessons which were to be learned from the art.

After teu the business meeting was conducted. West Malling was chosen for the next quarterly meetimg on April 10th, and Falding for a by-meeting in February.
Mr. F. Leeson, district representative, gave a full account of the Noveraber committee meetilag, and the position with regard to the amended rules.
A sharp discussion on the subject of "striking ' ansued, the secretary being criticised for being too outspoken in his remarks to the committee.
However, whether benefiting from the discugsion or not, some good striking was obtained afterwards, courses of Cambridge and Super lative being rung. A feature of the meeting was the number of handbell enthusiasts prasent, the four standari methods being aftempted and brought home.
Towers represented at, the meting were Wrotham, Egerton, Staplehurst, Maidstone, Ightham, West Malling, Linton, Sevenoaks, Bromley Common, East Peokham, Elayes, Crayford and $t. Martin-in-the-Fietds.

CORNWALL SURPRISE,

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-As I was the conductor of the peal of Cornwall Surprise, and sent the figures to 'The Ringing Worlch' without the name of an author, I think that I owe Mr. Tipler just a word. I did not know that he had produced thes method, nol dial any of the bend. Mr. Trollopa sent the method to 18 and stated that it lad been publislisd by several people pears ago, H. Dains being one of them, so it would be difficult to put anyone's name to it as the author. However, I congratulate Mr. Tipler upon producing it, as it is one of the most musieal Surprise methoris that I have had tho pleasure of ringing.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Messus. Gillett aud Jolunston, Ltd., Croydou, have been entrusted with the contract for the restoration of the bells at Bickleigh Church, Roborough, South Devon.

The subject of 'Combined Pructices' came in for serions discussion at the annual meeting of the Sonaing Deanery Bramch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Wokingham on Saturday. A report of the meeting will appear in our next issue.

Mr. W. E. Jelley, who bas been a member of the Holy Trinity Society, Guildford, since 1900 , has reagred. In recognition of his loug and faithful service to the tower, his fellow-members have elected him a life honorary member. In recent years Mr. Jelley has been hon. secretary to the tower, and his successor in this ofsce is Mr. T. W. White, Bingham, Stoke Road, Guildford.

Rumours from Bristol after the Bristol United Ringing Guilds' annual dinner on Saturday [ead us to ask: Who locked one of the visitors in his bedroom at the Groswenor Hotel and then lost the key?

Wha purloined the trousers of two well-known King's Norton ringers?

Who found the establishment where they could get their 'shoes mended' on Sunday morning ?

What business was transacted at the committee meeting that detained an important speaker so long that he 'missed the boat,' when it came to his turn to respond to a toast?
The restored peal of six bells at Lanchester Parish Church is to be rededicated to-morrow afternoon. This is short notice for ringers, but doubtless the members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association will gee to it that they are well represented. Further particulars will be found in our notice columis.

The number of $720^{\prime}$ s rung at Little Mundeu, Herts, during 1936 was 110 in 20 methods. The bells were ang for both services every Sunday throughout the year.

That is an excellent record of consistent service, but Little Munden has for long been conspicuous for the loyalty of its ringers, in spite of the fact that it is a small parish with less than 400 inhabitants.

For 34 years a band has beew kept together and they have missed ringing for only one Sunday service during the whole of that time, except in the evenings during the war and whilst the bells went to the foundry.

In that period they have lost quite a number of ringers-two last year, and once in their career they lost in one year fivo who conld ring Surprise Minor.
The Oxford Diocesan Guild has lost an old member by the death of Mr. Frank Boreham, who passed away after a brief illness on January 1Ith. He had been a member of the Guild for upwards of 40 years and formerly was asspeiated with the Hughenden Society. In later years he was a member of the Hiph Wycombe company. On Sunday a mufled peal of Stredman Caters.was ring at Eigh Wycombe as a last maik of respect.

A peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with half-muffied bels at Southover, Lewes, on Wedaesday week, ja memory of Mir. R. J. Duwe, whose death wo recorded in onr last jesue. At the first jull after the bells came into rounds the sixth rope broke

We referred last weels to the fact that all the band who rang with the Editor of 'The Ringing Work' in his first peal, in 1893 , bad now 'crossed the bourn,' except one, Mr. A. E. Nye, who 'had long Eince given up ringing. This paragraph has brought us the nows that Mr. Nye, after an absence from the Exercise of over 20, Jearz, has recently returned again to the 'fold, and now rings with the Oxhey band. We are delighted to lyear it.

LADIES GUILD.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-Mr. Whitington quotes woman 'as the last best work, the noblest gift of Feay'n.'

Woman was one of God's good gifts. but she was tempted and brought man into the temptation aud fall. Not that man is to be excused for yielding to the temptation, but God gave to man and to woman a greater gift than either. He provided the Sabbath, a spiritual gift, a day tast IIe specially blessed, a day prepared by Him for communion with Eimself. Man is of "the earth, earthy;" and this includes women. The Sablath has for jts special content Ged Himgelf. St. Jobn, spenking of himself on the Cliristian Sabbath, saith, 'I was in the spirit on the Lord's Day.' Hence the Sabbath is a greater gift than either woman to man or man to woman.

PARENTS RING FOR SON'S BAPTISM

At St. Laurence's Church, Reading, on Suaday, January 10th, Cyril Emest, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewington, was baptised by the Rev. N. R. Raper. A 516 of Stedman Cingues was rung in honour of the event, the parente talting part: Mrs. (Pat) Lewington I, Miss N. Belcher 2, R. T. Eibbert (conductor) 3, S. Lodge 4, S. Davis 5, W. Lewington 6, W. Hibbert 7, H. G. Foxall 8, H. Smith 9, O. Pullen 10, O. J. Watts 11, E. G. Foster 12. The band afterwards drank to the liealth of the young ringer, with tho hope that he will become a better ringer than sny of the above band.

BRISTOL UNITED RINGING GUILDS.  LARGE GATHERING AT ANNUAL DINNER.

A New Toast

Enthusiasm and success marked the sixteenth annual dinner of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds, held ut the Cadena Cafe, on Saturday. Therg was a representative company of over 200 present, and an interesting innovation was the introduction of a toast to ${ }^{1}$ Our Young Ringers.
The arrangexnents made by the committee, of which Mr. Edgar Guise is the energetic hon. secretary, were much appreciated by the many visitory. Not only wore the bells ati many. Bristal churches available on Saturuay aftoriooy, buta special coach trip to Bitton was an atfractive feature. Some 30 rimgers took advantage of the excursion and enjoyed ringing on the recently restored eight belle. The old six were wned and two trebles added, making a perfect otbwo. The belle in Bristol which were open to ringers included St. Mary Redcliffe (12), St. Stephen's (10), St. Philip's, Temple, and St. Thomas' (8). Tea was served in St. Thomas' Schoolroom.
Mr. John Austin, of Gloucester, presided at the dianer, and the vice-chairman was Mr. D. Marsh. Among those piresent were the Rev. E. C. Pritchard (Rechor of St. Michaal's, (iloucoster'), the Rov. M. Paterson (St. Thomas', Bristol), tho Rev. E. Beddoe (St. Werlimrgh's, Bristol), the Rev. E. Bankes James (Fareham, Hinta), Mr. S Romans (Master of the Glouesster and Bristol Diocesan Association and Mrs. Romans, Mr. A. A. Fughes (London), Mrs. E. Wjlkins, Mrs. Y. Marsl, Mr. and Mrs. J. Willians (Newent), ter), Mr. J. S. (roldsmilh (Waking), Mr and Mrs. W. S. End M . Rery, Mr. and Mrs. Ford (St. (homas'). MT. W. II. Shuker (long. secrefary, Lancashire Association) and Mrs. Shnker, Mr. J. W, Jones (hon. secre-

Nailor and party (Chippennam), J. White (Weston-super-Mare). E. Griffths (Grestord, North Wales), ete. Other towers represented were Mells, Churchill, Portishead and Clapton-in-Gordano, Somerset; Westhury-on-Trym, Henbury, Coalpit Heath, Mangotefield and the following Bristol churches: St. Stephen's, St. James', St. Thomas', St. Ambrose's, St. Matthew's, St. Werburgh's, St. Pbilip's, Fmmanuel and St. Mary-Ie-Port.
Among the regretterl absences were those of Mr. E. J. Brown (the pro-vice-chairman) and Mr. S. Palmer (Sheffeld) throllgh bereavements. Mary ethers were umable to attend throngh indisposition.
The Chairman, in proposing the toast of "The Church,' spolse of what ringers owed to the Church for the facilities to practise their art. He compared the general condition of belfries, when he began ringing, 40 or 50 years ago, when they formed the receptacle for all tha rubbish which could not be accommodated elsewhere in the Ohurch, with the conditions of to-day, when most of the belfties were well cared far. lingers, howepcr, would like to see more of the clorgy in the towers when ringimg was going on, he said. Thinge in his direction were improving, but he wished more of the clergy were like the Rev. M. Paterson, of St. Thomas', Brista?, who showed a constant interest in the ringars. The clergy wonld be welcomed in the belfry, fand ringers, especially the younger members, would liko to have more of their encouragoment.
The Rev. E. C. Prithard, who responded, referred to the respect in which he and all the ringers in the West of England held Mr. Tohn Austin. Ee was specially Happy to be associated with him on that ocoasion in Bristol, as he was on other occasions in Gloucester.

He referrea to his own association with Bristal, where he was born, and said be contratulated himself upou being a Bristolian, because his father used to say that Buistol boys always slept with owe eyo opeu (taughter).
Continuing, he said he was doeply sensible of the debt the Church owed to ringers. Altbough he did not yot understand the art of ringing, he loped one day to find time to learu to rimg and take his purt with the ringers of St. Michasl'g, Gloucester (applause). The Rev. E. B. James had often spoken to him of tile great value of the clergy joining in with the ringers, and it would be his on deavour, during the next few years, to associate himself move closely with the ringers at his church. He thought the clergy of to-day were much more saciable people than they had tho reputation of being in the pest, and he hoped the wigh expressed by Mr. Austin that they would mix more with the ringers would be realiged. If any of them felt that the churches were not filled to-dny as well ats they might be, ha asked the laymen to remember that they were as much a part of "the church' es the elergy, eud it was up to them, as much as to the clergy, to qee that tho churehes wero fiked (applause)

BUILT ON FINE TRADTIIONS AND HARD WORK.
Mr. A. A. Eughes, in proposimg the toast of "The Gloucestar and Bristol Diocesan Association aud Bristol Uusted Ringing Guilds* said t, was always a pleasure to come to Bristol. Personally, he got a thrill' every time he came to Brimol, for lhe could picture those great men of the past, the macrelnent velturers and the sailors, who went out from that city and had a big share in laying the fommations of the British Empire. Bristol was famons for its sailors and beautiful women; perhaps some of their desceadants were present that night.

The Gloncester and Bristol Association, continued Mir. Hughos, was founded 59 years ago, and was one of the first three diocesan or county associations formed. In that diocese they had seen a marvellous improvement in the belfries and status of tha ringers in that time. The association had been bafit up very strongly on fime trailitions and the hard work of its fonndation members; he referred particularly to the late Rev. C. D. P. Devies, Mr. G. H. Phillott, the Rev. A. F. Cockey, the wonderful performances put up by the Cheltenliam band undor Mr. Patos, and the work of the brotliers Jankes James and Law Jamos in Gloucestor, It was up to the present members of the association to keep that great work going and to foster the social side of ringing. He remembered the passing of their old friend Tacls Wilkins. He load a foeling them that the sncial sicle of ringing in Bristol might go out, but the intronsetion of the Inited Ringing Guilds' organjsation had maintainen the sacia] aspaet of the work. In conclusiou, Mr. Hughes stressed the advice so often given by the president of the Central Council, that ringers sfonld more and more atrive for accurate striking, which was for more important than intricate method ringing, because, after all, the ringers in the tower were very few, while the people outside, who had to put up with bad ringing when it occurred, conld be numbered by hundredis and sometimes by thousands. Their first consideration, therefore, should nlways be for good striking (applause)
Mr. S. Romans, who replied to the tonst, mentioned the names of the stalwarts of the past, who built up the early forturnes of the Gloncester anf Bristol Associmion. These men, he stid. ware the pioneers, and ringers of to-day were enioving the hemeft of theit abours. It was for them, now, to uphold the tradition rad do all they could for the furtherance af the assomition. They liad in Mr. Guise $a$ vely able and hard warking secretary (applanse). Ife took a great interest botla in the Gloucester and Bristol Dincesnn Association and, in the social side of the work, in the Bristal Twited Ringing Guilds.

FNCOURAGTNG PRONRESS

It ligd been his privilege, continuted Mr. Romnna, to visit many of bie ristricts diring the past year, and he could not speak tor highly of the work of the amgistant genretaries. The meetings had been most pencorraging. He had found that where im some places in the previous vear they were struggling to ring Grandsire, to-day they could ring all the standard methods (applnese). That was progress in the right direction, but they needed more youmg members. He hod anpealed to the alergy from time to dime to help them in this rnspent. If they conld get yonne men from the chumh. the chois and the Bible class they were likely to keep them. Fip was very nloacm to kav that that anpeal had not heen in win. ## WHAT THE YOUNG RINGER NEEDS.

the methods they were most acquainted with, so as to get the best striciag possible. He also made the suggestions that where there were towers with a surplus of ringers, they should try to transfer some of the men for the day to those towers were there was a shortage, so that all the rings of bells could be set going. At the Silver Jubilee of the late King George they adopted that principle at Gloucester and found that it worked very well. They rang at their own churches and aflerwards split up into two parties and visiled the parishes nearby. The festivitics were at full swing, but they would have been incompletc without the pealing of the bells. The incumbents were very grateful to them and so were the villagers, because, in some places, the hells had not been rung for a considerabie time (rpplause).
Thle Rev. M. Paterson next proposed 'Our Young Ringors.' He said he fel highly honoured that he was the first person to propese that toast, which appeared on their programme for the first time. A Friend of his, a clergyman, who nttended a rinsers' dinner, came away with the confused motion that the world was created in order that towers might be built and bells rung (laughter). He felt surprised, on consulting the first chapter of the Book of Genesis, to find no mention of towers or bells (inughter). That, said the speaker, was olviously a rather exaggeratod view, but they were all very mucla interested in bellringing. What he wanted to suggest was that it was the duty of the Guild not ouly to maintain a high standard of ringing, hat it was equally their duty to gain recrnits. A little while aga he saw in a paper a picture of a group of old men, he believed all over 70, who had rug together for over 50 years. Now thoge old geatlemen, he las no doubt, had won many disciples and had taught many young men to ring, but on the face of it, all that picture told them was that seven or eight old gentlemen had thoroughly eujoycd themselves for over 50 vears (laughter), and the letterpress not only did mat add to their information, it only told them that tho enroer of those oid men in the tower had been diversified by one torrific row with the Vicar about the mastication of a helfpenny bur (laughter)

THOUGETS' OT A YOUNG RINGER

He (tho speaker) wished to suggest another picture; one that had never been publiched; one that, perhaps, never would he publishad, of six or scyen young fellows, all under 21, who all belonged to the anme tower. That picture would speale for itself. It would show the Guild was doing at least one half, and a very important half, of its duty; that it was not only maintaning a high standard of ringing, perhaps, but was most certainly doing what should be the duty of bellringers-gnining recruits (applause)

There was, conlinued Mr. Paterson, to be a response to that tanst, and he did not know what the responder would say, but sometimes they older men could enter into the minds of the hoys perhape even hetifer than their friends and companions conld. He wanted to put into words what he thouglat a young recruit would want to find in a tower.

I think, said Mr. Patersom, if he is of the right sort, the sort
I have lenown for A good many years, he would say: I should like somntimes a little praise, for it excournges we. but I don't want to be flattered, it only makes me feel awkward. I should like to have an instructor who is patient, who remembers that he was a heginner once limself: who knows that boys nre not always as they would wish to be, but they are as fiod made them, some are slow and some are quick. I think I would like to find gona fellowship. Y, to not want to be admitted or sufferance, but to be welcome.
1 would underlive ¿his: My boy world eny: 'I want yous to make me feel that, in spite of my blunders and mistakes, I amz of some real help to yout. my notl not If, concluded the speaker, you will not give them that you will not get them, or ff you get them you will not keep them (applavee). Master A. Tyler, aged 13. the poungest ringer present, lud to reply to the toast. He said: 'Mr. Paterson, I thank you for toasting the young ringers. Lardies and gentlemen, I thank you for the way in whicll your received the toast. Mr. Paterson, I have been asked bv the rommittee of the United Guilds to preseat to you these pipes end tobacco to remind yon how much we appreciate your active intereat in ellurch bellyinging at St. Thomas' ' (applause).

The Rev. M. Paterson expressed his thams for the gift.
Mr. D. Marsh proposed 'Kindred Guilds and Visitors,' and ex tended a hearty welcome to the visitors present. He referred to the Hood work done by the associstions throughout the conntry, and, to fhe nou-ringers present, he suggested they should take up ringing in this Coronntion year. They would find it a nice hobby and one in which, on the social side, they would meet people of more diversified professions llan in any other type of Guide the conlel find.
Mr. G. E. Feam, who responded, congratulated the committee on the excellent arrangements they had made for the entertainment the wisitors und also for the womperful hospitality extended to them. Oi sII the ringers' dinners held in this conntry, those of the Bristol Initmat curilds were second to none when it came to the arrangements for the entertninment of the visitors

OHANGE OF SECRETARY IN SOUTHERN DISTRICT

The anuual meeting of the Southern District of the Lowdon Couzly Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Satur'day, Jan. 16th, at St. Gabriel's, Warwick Square, and St. Stephon's, Rochester Row, Westminster, and was attended by some 35 members and friends. Finging commenced at St. Gabriel's, Pimlico, at 3 p.m., and Grandsire, Stedman, Cambridge and London Suprise wera rung until 4.10 p.m., when, to everybody's regret, iliness nearby prevented further ringing. Members made their own arrangements for tea, and reassembled for the business meeting, which was held in the Vestry Hall at Sit. Stephen's, Rochester Row.

The District Master, Mr. F. Mance, took the clair, and was uhanimously re-elected Master. Mr. R. Mackrili was re-elected treasurer, and Mr. W. Jssery steward. The only change was in the oflice of hon. secretary, Mr. C. M. Meyer, the retiring secretary, intinated that be wished to resign, and fortwith proposed Mr. A. P. Ganmon. This was seconded by Mr. E. J. King and carcied.
St. Mary's, Lambeth, was chosen for the place of next meeting, and the date fixed for March 20 L , subject to permission being granted.
Mr. T. H. Taffender proposed a vote of thanks to the distriet oficers for their services in the past year, especially to the retiring secretary, ML: C. M, Meyer.
Mr. Taffender also proposed and Mr. R. Mackrill seconded that the respective incumbents at the two churches be thanked for the use of the bells, and Messrs. P. Carter and C. Meyer, of Rochester Row, fow their valuable help with the arrangements. Further ringing afterwatds took place at, St. Stephen's, the ringing including Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and Loudon, and a well-strick touch of Spliced Surprise in four methons. A broken rope at 8.15 p.m. put an enk to at very successful meeting.

BOURNEMOUTH LADY RINGER WEDS.  MARRTAGE OF MISS MARCTA WHITE.

On Saturday, January 16ill, at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Boumenouth, the marriage was solemnised between Mr. Fredk John Marshallsay and Miss Marcia White. The bride is a woll-known ringer in the Bournemonth district and member of the Ladies' Guild. Attired in a whito broche satin gown with veil and headdress of orange blossom and carrying a bouquet of red and white carnations, the bride was accompanied by two bridesmaids (her sisters), who were diessed in red ring velvet and carried bouquets of white carnations.
The bride was given away by her mother, and the best man was Mr. Frank Manshalisay (brother of the bridegroom). Organ music was rendered by Mr. E. Pilcher.
The reception was held at the hame of the bride and was attender by 50 guests, including her fellow-ringers of St. John's. who rang the bells as Mr. nnd Mrg. Marshillsay left the churcil after the ceremeny
The ringers of St. John's presented the bride with a canteen of entiery, and the staff of Messrs. Hendy Bros., with whom the bridegrome has been connected for several years, gape an onk electric clock.
The happy couple left by nar for a honeymoon, which is being spent in touring Devon.
The future residence of Mr, aud Mrs, Marshallsay will be 11, Exton Road, Boscombe Tast, Bourncmouth.

Mr. W. B. Kynaslou gave the toast of 'The Ringing World, to which the Editor (Mr. J. &. Goldsmith) responded.
Mr. W. Rose thanked the artistes, aud Mr. Is. Notb replied on their behat
As usual. the entertainment was of a very diversifed nature. Miss Marjorie Hall and Mr. Leonard Nott sang songs, Miss Ambe Kelly eave amusing monologues, Mr. George Cooper and Mr. Cliford Fensley gave individual comedy turns. Jandhell selections were Eiven by 'St. Thomas' Guild and a course of Sterman Caters was rung on handbells by Messre. J. Thomas, J. D. Tohnson, A. T. Swamn. R. C. Ingram and ©. Fearn. Much appreciation was shown for all the items, but nothing raised greator enthusinsm thnn a 'turn" by Mr. Tohn Austin (aged 74) and Mr. J. Williams (aged 84), who. seated back to back and with 'four in hand.' struck off a course of Grandsire Triples, which they followed with some tunes.
Many of the visitors stayed overnight and had the opportunity of ringing at Bristol and nearby churches during Sunday.

A Mid-devon practice meeting

A number of Devon Guiki members living in tie Newton Ahbot district visited Biolingion, mear Newton Abbot, on Thursday evening, Jannary 14 th. The bells are a ring of six with a 9 ewt. tenor, and are in good going order. Some excellent practice was obtained, and, in addition to a 360 of Double Gourt Minor, a couple of courses of Cambridga Surprise Minor were successfully brought round. Some plain courses of Grandsire Doubles were also rung to give the local ringers present some idea of half-pull ringing, and the evening was wound up with 468 of Minor in the following methods: Cambridge Surprise, Dowble Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Grandsire. All the methods were well struck, and it was generally agreed that the practice had been in every way successful. The rise and fall too, werc worthy of mention.

GOOD METHODS NEED POPULARISING

There are just a few bands up and down the country who make a hobby of ringing peals in new methods and some of them, notably the Helmingham men and some of the Berkshire ringers, have recently done quite a lot in this direction. It is the result of a commendable spirit of enterprise, and one which might add to the interest of other companies if they would apply themselves to the subject and do likewise. The scope is wide for the 'Surprise' ringers, and there is an almost equally open door for those who consider 'Surprise ' methodis too lar advanced. Most of the methods in the Central Council's Collection of Plain Major Methods are still unrang, and these should commend themselves to ringers who imagine that Double Norwich is their limit. It is a great pity that more of the musical methods in both categories are not generally practised, and that is the point to which we want to direct attention in this article.

In the great majority of cases, when fresh methods are once rung, one never hears of them again. Arnong them are methods good, bad and indifferent from the ringing point of view. The bad and indifferent can, of course; well be discarded, but we could wish that the "good" methods would come into more general use. Ringers, for the most part, are very conservative in their practice. It was, for example, years before Bristol Surprise, musical though the method is, began to be treated as anything more than the freak which an earlier generation thought London, Cambridge or Superlative to be. Other Surprise methods equally as interesting as or more musical than the three historic ones have now been rung; but, from lack of knowledge on the part of ringers, or through the conservatism to which we have refersed, have been cast aside and left untouched by the general body of the Exercise, when they are well worthy of general practice.

The same thing applies to the Plain methods. There are many as "good ' from the ringing point of viewthat is interest and ' music '-as Double Norwich that deserve to be widely rung, but they remain unpractised. Along with the ' exploitation' of new methods, we would much like to see a movement to save the best from the limbo of Corgotten things and an effort made to bring these best into general use. Hundreds of ringers in these days are able to ring Cambridge Surprise, yet great are the limitations of the method! Other methods there are, on the same principle, equally interesting to ring and lending themselves to far more enusical compositions, which on their merits ought to oust Cambridge from its pride of place-and would do so if it were not that Cambridge has become just a "habit " with the majority of Surprise ringers. Cambriclge served its purpose well when there was nothing else, but there are better, if less hoary, methods to-chay. We would like to see leading ringers turning their attention to sonse few of these very excellent methods, both Plain and Surprise, and popularising them among their fellows. It would be a sign of real progress.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH AND WEST DISCRICT SUPPER AND SOOLAL.
The fifth amual supper and social of the South aud West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diomesna Guild, hedd at Heston on Jauuary 16 th , was attonded by ahout 70 mambers and friende and was an unqualified success. After ringiug duting the afternoon at Heston (8) and Norwood Greeu (6), the company assembled in the Village Hall at 6 p.m., under the chairmunshp of the Rev. G. Craggs, Vicar of Heston, supprorted by iha vice-president of the association (Mr. J. A. Trollope), all the district afficers, and mombers from most of the towers in the district and some from tho North and Eist District.
An excellent supper was quickly and officiontly served and disposod of as elliciently, if not quite so quickly.

After the fonst of 'Tho King' had beon bovoured. the Clairman proposed the tonst of 'Thle Association, ancl assured the membera of his pleasure in welcoming them to Heston. He evidenced the activity of the local band in a storg of a men who went to Heston on Christmas Eve for a rest after a etrentous week's work. When he errived the bells were ringing. When he woke up on Cheistmas moming the bells were still ringing, On Boxing Day he woko to find them gtill ringing and they went on for about three hours. On the following morning (Sunday) they were phiging arain, so that the visitor wis glad when Monday came and he was able to go back fo woik and get some peace and quietness.
Arter a touch of Erandsire Triples on hantibells by Messis. G. Filby, D. O. S. Tumer, J. Herbert and W. G. Wilson, the vice-presidont replied to the tonst. He thanked the Vicar for his welcome and drew abtention to the difference in the status of ringers at the present time compared to the early days of tie essociation.
Mr. H. W. Lidbetter proposed a vote of thanks to the Supper Committee (Messrs. Chandler, Gladmen and Goodfellow), aud this wrs carried witl! acclamation.
By this time the tables had been cleared and removed in readiness for the social programme, for which Mr. Fidbetter was M.C. Commumity singing, led by Mr. Herbert, witll Miss Bradford at the piana, gave a good start to a programme, consisting of games of the Christmes party type, violin solos by Mr. Jeanard Townsend and daviag. Tho Rugby international held at Twickenliam was quite overshedowed by what was calted in the programme 'balloon hathithalt.' Teams of seven were made up from foul towers, and goals were scored lay knocking a balloon orer strings suspended abont loft. high at each end of the hall. The Fiflingdou term beat Featon by 2-0 after ant exciting game. in which My. Onrke's aoge wes mistaken for the balloon-at least it is loped it wns a mistake. Faling heat Tsleworth by $4-0$, althougli the latter tenm, which inchaded four ladios, putn up is strong resistance.
After nul interval for refreshments and move games, the final between Hillingdon and Heston was keenly contested. and Hillingdon gained the victary hy 3 , 2 after extra time and a little blaodsled.
More community singing round a camp fire, a dance sud Auld Lang Syne ended a happy evening ahout 11.30 p.m., and the menbera who worked so hard to make the event a suceses are nssured that they did so.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

SOUTHERN DIVISION MEETING AT BURGESS HlLL.
On Saturday, Ianary 2 Jrd, ia quarterly mectiug of the Southern Division was held at Burgess Fiil, about 30 members beiny preant from towers in the district.

The peal of eight bells wes kept going from 2.30 to 8.30 , except for an hom and a half break for tea and service, a varioty of nethods, rauging from rounds to Loudon and Bristal Surptise, being rung.
Owing to the illness of the Vicar, the service was taken by the Rev. H. Biraingham, who gave a brief and interesting address on the subject of churchworkers as a great and united family.
At the business meeting, Mr. T. Holman, people's warden, presided. and, afler the minntes of thr last meeting hed been signed, the ringers present stood for a moment in silence as a mark of respect to tho memory of four menbers who had passed eway aince tho last time the division met-Mr. R. J. Dawe, Lewes; Mr. H. Rann, St. Nicholas', Brightat; 3ूr. J. Welch, honorary member, Hevfielif; and Mr. G. W. Stokes, trustee and hon, treasurer of the association.
Three new nembers were elected, viz., Canon D. C. Dunlop, Hen field. Mr. H. S. Jamees, Lewes; nnd Mr. H. Fackham, Twineliam. The meeting closed with a liequty vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the day a success, iveluding Mr, T. Holman, who wary kindly eqtertained the ringers to ter.

FOR BEGINNERS.

FROM PAPER TO BELLS.
The 'pencil and paper' work, which we suggester last week beginners should do, will, we hope, have shown something of the construction of methods of pure Doubles in which the treble retains a plain bunting course. Those who worked out these courses will Gave found that wherever a 3rd's place is made, two bells (on the opposite side of the 'place' to the position of the treble) had to make ${ }^{2}$ 'dodge ' that is each had ta retrace its steps one place before going on again.

In Grandsire, which, as wo explained, is the method with one 3rd's place in each ' lead,' made immediately the treble has led, the dodge takes place between the bells in 45. The bell that makes the 3rd's place bas its consse reversed, and, instead of continuing hunting up it has to turn round and hunt down to lead gqain. The bell that does this is often said fo 'make 3rd's, and lead, and you should remember this in case, at some time, you go astray and are suddenly given this injunction. Remember, too, that the 3rd's place is always made at backstroke and handstroke, which is sometimes called 'the Frong way,' or "wrong,' as opposed to places made 'right," which is at handstroke and backstroke.
The "dodge" occurs immediately after one bell has laid its whole pull behind. This bell is said to dodge 'down' beeause actually it as in its hunting caurge on its way down. The other bell is said to dodge 'up,' because it is in its upward hunting eourse, and does not lay its whole pull behind until after the dodge is completed. It ja useful to know that the whole pails behind in Grandsire are always at backstroke and bandstroke.

The bells that have been dodging bebind come down to lead in the uame order that they hunted up, but the bell that made 3rd's place bunts down in front of them, instead of being behind them. It is by this transposition of work that the thres leads forming the plain course are produced.
The 3rd's place puts the last one first. Suppose they are running in the order $a, b, c$; makes 3rd's place; then the order is $c, a, b$ Next b makes 3 rd 's, and the order becomes $b$, $c$, a. In turii makes 3rd's and the order is once more $a, b, c$

Of the other two bells the treble, as you already know, is plain hunting. The other bell also leeps to plain hunting until a bob or aingle is called, and in simple Grandsire this bell continues to "course' the treble; that is, it takes it of at lead, aud turns it from bebind, and there is never more than one other bell (a bell going in the opposite airection) botween them at any time
The three dodging and place-making bells follow a regular cycle af work-indeed, in all methods the 'working bells," as they are called, follow a regular cycle, until a bob (or single) shunts then of intr another part of the same cycle.
The cycle of worl in Grandsire Doubles is:-

Make 3rd's, and lead.

Dodge 5-4 dowt.
Dedge 4-5 up.
In the plain caurse the bell in the hunt with the trebie is the 2nd. In previous articles we have attempted to explain how to hunt, so all that it should bo necessary now to elahorete is the differences in the work.

Yon will know when it is Jour turn to make 3rd's place by the fact that immediately before the treble will have taken you off the lead; in other words, you will have 'passed the treble' in 1-2. At your backstroke lead the treble strikes over you, at your first blow in 2nd's you strike over the treble. That is "passing the treble" in 1-2. Tour next blow fill be over the bell in the hunt, and that is your first blow in Jrd's. In these two blowe you are hunting upthey require a little 'holding up' on jour part, to keep the rhythm. Your next blow in 3 rd's reçuires an interwal in your pull equivalent to the space in rounds, and then you hunt down ta lead by "pulling in' just a little each time. The two bells you strike over in turn aro the treble and the bell in the hunt-the same two in the came order that you met after leading.

Whichever way you are dodging you must "pull in' a Iittle to strike into 4th's and "hold up ' a Yittle to go back into 5th's.

After making 3rd's and leading, you 'pass the treble' in $3-4$ before dodging in $5-4$ down, and in 23 before dodging in 45 up. This passing of the treble should be one of your main gaides to your pext work, and if yon are to rely upon it you must count your places as Fond pass througli them.

Here is a simple table which gives you the complete work in a plain murse of Grandsire Doubles. Learin it :-

| Lead. Pass treble 1-2. | 3rd's. |  |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Lead. | Pass treble 3-4. | Lie. Dodge $5-4$ down, |
| Lead. | Pass treble $2-3$. | Dodge $4-5$ up. Lib. |
| Lead. |  |  |

Write out your course of Grandsire Doubles, check over with the figures the work of the different bells as explained here and then endervour to put it into practice in your tow $\mathrm{Br}_{\text {, }}$ or, if your tawer bells are not arnilalile, then on handbells, ringing the bells upward For the handetrokes and downward for the backstrokes.

LONDON RINGING SOCIETIES.

F'o the Editor
Sir,-Your reference to the relationship between the ringing societies in the Loddon area, in your issue of Janaary I5th, will, I hope, encourage some action to be talken. Too long have they gone on 'olficially trying to ignore each other's existence. As one who has mixed a good deal with those who ring in London, I have generally found them quite amiable and sociable individually, yet in theil organised relatiouship they adopt towards cach other a curiously, and altogether unnecessary, frigid attitude.
There is really 10 reason for this aloofness, or any need for airs of superiority. A cordial spirit of co-operation among the onganiations covering Londen might, at this time, do much good in the interests of ringing. This Coronation year offers a great opportunity. Cannot the ringing socievies bury their petty differences-if that is what is keeping them apart-and show the real spirit of brotherhood towards each other?
'SUBURBAN: RINGER.'

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SHREWSBURY BELLE.

The anmual mecting of the Shropshive Association was held in Shrewsbury on Saturday, Jamany 16th. After ringiog at St. Chad's Church, the members attended a service, conducted by the Rev. R. B. M. Close, Vicar of St. Chad's. Tea was served in the Parish Room. The attendance was reprosentative of the towers with which the association is in contact, and 47 mentbers were present.
The Rev. E. O. Pigott presided at the business meeting which. followed, there being an apolog.v for absence, owing to illness, from Major E. R. T. Corbett, the Ringing Master.
The balance sheet was adopted, there being a slight increasa in the balance carried forward.
The report of the committee was also received with approval, and recommendations that an anmual report shond be jssued, and that threo adidional summer medings should be arranged, were accepted,

The report of the committee algo contaimed an announcement that the Vican of St. Mary's, Shrewsbury, had been interviewed, and that he had agreed to provide new ropes for his bells, and expressed his wish that the bells should be rung oecasioually. The committee is aleo to inspeet St. Alsmund's bells and are in touch with St. Julian's authorities with a view to getting the bells in order for ringing.
Canfidence in the officerg was expressed by their re-election, together with the committee, Mr. J. Griffiths only receiring a new office, in connection with the peal books, for Ereater convenience.
The following meetings ard to be arranged, if possible, during the year: Pontesbury, Clive, Oswestry, Wroreter, Wem, Great Ness, Moreton Corbet, Chureh Stretton and Much Wienlock.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. R. B. M. Close and the Rev. E. C. Pigatt.
During the day touches of Grandsire Caters, Triples and Cinques, stedman Triples and Caters, Plain and Troble Bob Major qud Royal were rung. and also an excellent course of Cambridge Surprise Major.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

GAINSBORODGH DISTRIGT RINGRNG MASTER APPEALS FOR MORE BEGINNERS.
The annual mecting of the Gainsborough District of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Gainsborough on Saturday, January l6th, and was attended by a good company of ringers from Brigg, Lea, Upton, Willingham, Surfleet, Lincoln, Ulceby, Retfond, Wareop, North Wheatly, Treeton and the Iocal tover. The excellent ring of eight (tenor $19 \frac{1}{4}$ cwt.) at the Parish Church was made good use of in a large number of methods during the aftertion and evenimg.

Service was conducted by Canon Witworth. Before his address Joe extended a very bearty welcome to all to Gainsborough and said how pleased he was to meet the members of the Guild, it being the first opportunity ho had had of deimg so since he came to the town. In his interesting address be said that unforturately the proverb, "Out of sight out of mind, was too often applicable to bands of riggers, but he assured them that the majority of people appreciated their services. Bellinging was one of those works of which po man could estimate the value.
After tea the business meeting was held. Owing to offcers having left the district, three vacancies had occurred during the past year. Canon Witworth was elected presideat, Mr, George L. A. Lum Ringing Master and Mr. C. Hooton representative on the committec. Miss $\bar{K}$. M. Smith, of Lef, was elected dinging member.
Four meetings were agreed upon for the year, viz., at Lea, Birgy, Willingham and Hazey in April, June, Augast and Ocfober respectively, subject to the necessary arrangements being made.
In thanking members for the honour they had conferied upon him. the new Ringing Master drew attention to the declining number of ringers in the district and pointed out that several towers had barely, as many ringers as bells. 'Let us make a special effort during 1937, he said, to swell our ranks.' As a solution, lie suggested tiret each member should try und intraduce one new ringer to his tower.

This concluded the business mneting. and ringing was tesumed until 8.30 p.m., bringing to a close a very enjoyable meeting.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

HUNTINGDON B Z 4 NGH

The annual meeting of the Huntingion Branch of the Ely Diocesan Absociation was held at Godmanchester on Saturday. Visitors were present from Coveltry, Newmarket, Exuiug, Fulboura, Sixston, Gambridge, Dersingliam, Wisbech, Terrington St. John's, Chatteris and Trumpington.

Ringing commenced ati 3 p.m., and the Fions (the Rev. L. Douglas) conducted the usual service at 4.30 p.m. He also gave the ringers a warm welcome to Godmanchester and said how he loved to hear the belle rung each week, althouth he had a feeling of home sickness each time he heard them, for it reminded bim of the hospital work he had just left near St. Paul's Gathedral, and how he used to love to listen to the bells of St. Paul's being rung whilo carrying out his duties at the hospital nearby.

Tea and business meeting were held at the Dorothy Cafe, arranged by Mr. Matson.

Mr. Harry Chapman presided over the business meeting, the Vicar being unable to attend,

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Dishrict secretary, Mr. H. Parker; Ringing Master, Mr. H. Fields; committee, Messrs. F. Laek, S. Peck, S. Coleman and E. Wakeling.

One new ringing member was elected and the usual vote of thanks was accorded to tho Vicar and all who had helped to make the meeting such a success.

THONAS OSBORN'S FIPST RING OF EIGHT.

The annual meeting of the Wisbech Branch was held at Hilgay on Saturday, Jannary I6th, and, considering the weather, was well attended. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the excellent strikiag of the more advanced methods. The methods rung included Donble Oxford Major, Double Norwich and Gambridge Surprise Major. The service was taken by the curate, the Rector (the Ven. Archdeacon Ward) being ill with influenza.

Archdeacon Ward was re-elected president of the branch, the Ringing Master (Mr. R. W. Crofts) anti secretary (Mr. W. W. Cousins) being also re-elected. The committee was re-elected en bloc.
The members were findly entertained to tea by the presideut, to whorn a hearty vote of thanks was accerced

It is interesting to note that the ring of eight at Hilgry were the first complete peal to be cast by Thomas Oshorn after he had commenced business on his own account at Downham Market (only three miles distant) in 1779 . The tenor was recast hy him in 1798, since when, apart from vehanging, the peal lins mot heen touched, and their condition is still quite good.

DONCASTER AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

BENTLEY WIN THE WALAER GOP.

The amulal meeting of the Doncaster and Distriot Socioty was held ats Sit. George's, Doncaster, on Saturday, and, in spite of the wot weather, was attended by upwards of 40 members and friends. Ringing commenced at 3.30 , and at 4.30 a short service was held in the Forman Chapel, conducted by the president, Caron A. Lul. Davies, Vicar of Doacaster, who gave an jnspiring address on unity and fellowship. One of the ringers officiated as organist.

Tea was provided in the Memorial Hall, to which 31 sat down. At the general meeting held afterwards, the Vicar presided, supported by the Ringing Master and the Vice-president,

The report was accepted, as was also the balance sbeet, which was considered very setisfactory, a gain of $£ 115 \mathrm{~s}$. being shown on tho year's work.

Mr. G. Halksworth was again re-elected vice-president for further period of three years. The auditors were re-elected and the committee re-elected en blac to serve anothor year.
Adwick-le-Street was selected for the next neeting, to be held on Saturday, February 27th.

Seven new members were electad, viz., the Rev. P. Chappell, A. K. Traylen, Tony Traylen and P. Jeffries, of Doncaster, J. Em and F. Dimon, of Burghwalis, and H. S. Morley, of Selby.

Mr. G. Halksworth proposed a vote of thanks to the lacies for providing the tea and to the Vicar for presiding at the committee and general meetings, also for the service and for his kindness and help generally.
The Vicar, in reply, thanked the members for their welcome to him, which he apprectated very much, and also for the help he had received from the secretary in arranging things.
The Walker Cup for the best average attendance at Sunday service ringing has leit Dencaster for the second time iu its history, Arksey having won it once several years ago, The president now presented it to Mr. J. E. Stephenson, the captain of St. Peter's, Bentley, company, who showed a return of practically 100 per cent. for 1936, only one service having been missed. Doncaster came second with 74 points out of 78.

The President congratulated Mr. Steplenson, and said althourh he was sorry Doncaster had lost the cup, it had been worthily won, nned he hoped they would repeat their win many times in the future.

Mr. Steplienson thanked the Vicar and also the society for the help that liad been Eiven to St. Poter's, Rentley. When the bells had been stopped, several members travelled it long distance to ring for Sinadry service.-This conclnded the husiness and the tower hells and handbells wero brought into use.

"GEntlemen,

"I am very happy to forward ${ }_{2}$ enclosed cheque for the repair of the Coseley Church Bells.
"I have had a talk with my Ringing Master, who tells me that he and the other ringers are more "than satisfied with the job. As far as I am concerned, and my people, we are delighted to have so "musical and so perfectly balanced a peal of bells. We have met with the utmost courtesy from you and "your employees. We think your bellhanger the most efficient, good-natured and hard-working employee "that we have ever had to do with. But he only represented the willingness and ispirit of "co-operation which we encountered from all connected with Messrs. John Taylor's.s!
"I am sorry to close the Appeal for the bells. It has been received solenthusiastically, and "responded to so generously, that it has been a real pleasure to launch it"and to see it through.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The ring of eight bells at Rishton, near Blackburn, Lancushire, is to be recast and bung in a new frame by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Lttd, Groydon.
Congratalations to Mr. Edwurd Clepshaw, Farnham's veteram miager, who was 92 on Tuesdey.

It is hoped that the bells of Willenhall, Staffs, whioh are to bet recast and angmented to ter, will be completed in time for the Coronation. There is still $£ 300$ to be raised and another appeal is being made the townspeople.

According to the 'Daily Sketch,' the Tarl of Crambrook, soldier, politician and explorer, has become a bellinger at Great Glenham Church, which is on his estate uear Sammundam, Suffolk. Therg are five bells at Great Gleuham, but the ringers lad dwindled to three in number. The Earl of Crambrook and, it is lioped, the new Vicer will make up the baud

The death accurred on Friciay Iast of Mrs. R. Bevan, widow of the late Mr. Dick Bevan, a former well-known meniber of the Royal Guruberland Youths, and mother of Mr. Thomas Bevan. Mrs. Bevan was 78 years of age.
Somerget ringers are getting morb "musical." According to the 'Somerset County Gazette,' a band at Britan St. David, to celebrate the retmm of Mr. and Mrs. Withers from their honeymoon, 'rang a quarter-peal in four movements.' The ringers ware E. V. Barringion (eaptain), T. Marks and S. Rickett (Yeovil), G. W. Randell (Fardington) and P. Fainey; (Somerton),
Mr. T. W. Last, of Helminghmm, Sultolk, has rung 100 peals in his home tower. What adds to ine interest of this performanes is that these peals have been rung in no fewer than 46 methods.

At least three fresti towers were added to his regord list by the president of the 'Tower Snatehers' Union' when he spent the weekend in the Bletchley district in order to be present at the dedication of a new treble at Cosgrove, Northants, which increased the ring to siz.

If all's well, it will nof be long before Mr. J. H. Shepherd has visited and rang in 3,000 towers 1 A truly amazing uumber. Ringers are sometinees inclined ta joke about Mr. Shepherd's special hobby, but it is one full of interest.

Owiug to the clashing of dates, the meeting of the Eastern Division of the Hertford County Association, which was to have been held at Chesliunt to-morrow, has been postponed for a fortnight.
The engagement is annouticed between Mr. E. T. Paul Field, of Stoke Wake, Dorset, Ringing Master of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesen Guild, and Miss Joan P. S. Davidson, of Thornford, Dorset, a member of the local company of rimgers.

Littleton Church, near. Winchester, is to have a peal of six bells. This is the generous gift of Mrs. Arthur Deane, of Littieton House, in memory of the late Mr. Arthur Deare, for many yeare churchwarden and treasurer to the city of Winchester. It is hoped the bells will be dedicated soon after Easter. Mrs. Deane is an honorary member of the Winchester and Portsmonth Diocesan Guild.

THE E DTES

MR. WHITTINGTON'S REPLY.
We do not wish to appear fivalous on such a subject, but in admitting Mr. R. Whittington's letter in preise of ladieg in the belfry in a recent issue we appear to have opened the door to a "spot of bother' in our columons. With Mr. Whittington's letter below both sides will have expressed their views on the point et issue, and we musb ask them to leave it at that.

To the Editor
Dear Sir,-I &m afraid I cangot agree at all with Mr Lucas' expressed opinion, them the Sabtoth is a greater gift from God to man than is woman; nor can I see what good any other gift whatever would have been to man if he had not had the gift of woman. God "provided" the Sabbath certainly, but mankind conld, if he had so desired, and of his own freewill. linve made the seventh day (already "provided' ' holy, in exactly the same way as many people now make Wednestay or Saturday recreative.

Man could not, however rauch he may have desired, have areated woman. To cibserve the seventl day as the Sabbath was a commandment of how to use a dey already 'provided, wherens the gift of a woman to man, aceording to Genesis In., 21-22, was a creation. Mr. Lucas seems also to wish to belittle the woman's worth as the 'moblest gift of Heav'n,' 'because she was tcmpted and brought man into the temptatian and tail "-but I read in Gexeris I., 31, that "God saw everyifing that he had made, and behold it was very good 'and, as I seem compelled to look at things, in that "everything that Gad had mede must be included the agency which was used to tempt the women, and, to my, perlizaps ignorant, mind, it looks like God's scheme of things generally, and that the 'fall" had to bappen.
However that may be, I shall atill quote woman as the last best work, the noblest gift of Heav'n,' and I am, perlaps wiokedly, int clined to look upon the 'fall' in the same way as' the soldier laoked upon his seven days' 'G.B.' for overstaying his leave. He said, 'Oh' well, it was worth it, anyway.

AN OLD BIRMINGHAM RINGER.

DEATH OF MR. TFOMAS RUSSAM

Threo weeks before reaching his 80th birthday, Thomas Rugsam died at Birminghum on Satarday. He passed away at his home, 267, Stretiord Road, Sparkbrook, after having been in failing health for some yeas. He suffered chiefy from asthma, and bis end was mot unexpected.

For well over 60 fears he had been a bellringer; one who had zade his matk in Birmingham ringing circles, had been assuciated with several of the churches, notably Bishop Ryder's, Aston and St. Martin's, and had held an bonoured place in the ranks of Midland ringers.

His death breaks another link with a receding generation of Birmingham ringing ' giants.' When he began to ring, men like Johnson, Chattell, Perks, Hallsworth, Biddestone and others were at the peak of their careers, and as a youmg ringer Tom Russam taserl, as it were, to sit at the feet of the mighly and glean knowledge from their convergation.

THE LATE MR. T. RUSSAM,
As luis old friends will best rentember him.
Mr. Russan was borm in Bishop Ryder's parjsl;, wis braught up almost under the shadow of the church tower, and became a member of the choir. As a lad, with oflers of his age, lie used to climb to the belfry and watch with wondering eyes the old sexton, called - Puffer 'Malin, because lie was also organ blower, pulling the singTe bell for service. The boss eventualiy almost used to fight to see who should have a pull.

When the peal of bells was put in in 1869, Tom Russam, then only 12 years ofit, begame a remular ringer. J. Banister, of Woolwich, hecame tho towerkeeper, and under him tho boy became an apt pupil. He was also one of the privileged few who were allowed to ga to Bifty Clattell's bakery, where this worthy used to demoustrate the 'slow work' in Stedman by a novel method of his own.
Even in those early days handbell ringing commanded a lot of attention in Birmingham, and Mr. Russam had st great flair for this form of change ringing. Practices, it is said, used to commence on Monday and finish the following Sunday evening, usually at a place known as 'Old Joe Nixon's.' Certainly Mr. Rhssam became a very accomplished ringer on handbells, He hact an exceptionally gracefni style, and was very safe in a peal. He had rung everything from Triples to Cinques in Grandsire and Stecman, gnd put the coping stone to his performances when he yanf it pair (1-2) to the one and onty peal of Stedman Sextuples in 192.
In his younger diays Mr. Rugenms spent a bof of time teaching ringing and taneplaying. For same time'he was towerkeeper at Bishop Rvder's, and afterwards for many years at Aston, when that tower Ryder's, Mad afterwade for many years at Ast

DEATH OF MR. G. W. STOKES.

WORK IN MANY CAPACITIES FOR THE SUSSEX ASSQCIATION.
Sussex ringing has suffered another severe loss by the death on Thursday of last week at Eastbourne of Mr. George W. Stokes. Mr. Stokes, who was 66 years of age and formerly held a responsibice position in the P.O. Telephone Service, had recently underganc zwo operations, from which he never fully recovered.
He began his ringing anreer in Wiltsinire and was atterwards al Crawley, Sussex, before going to Fastbourne; where ho was assaciaterl with the braid at St. Saviour's Chureh.
Tor some years he was the Easterm Divisiohal Hon. Secretary, served on the Association Committee and later became bon. treasurer and a trustee of the Sussex County Association. At the last anmarl mecting of tlie association, when it was decided that the association should be fuily represeated on the Gentral Council, he was elected one of the representatives, but, of course, had had no opportusity of attending a meeting.
In hiss various capacities he hacl done much excellent work for the Sussex Association, the members of which will greatly regrat jus denth.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

BOUTH NORFOLK BRANCH ANWUAL MEETTNG.

That there is no waning of interest in the Norwich Diocesan Associntion was gpparent by the support which was given to the annatl meeting of the South Norfolk Branch, which toot place at Saxlingham on Saburday last, when memhers from Acle, Alburgh, Dickleburgh, Diss, Garbolislam. Halvergrate, Norwich, Palham, Reedham. Shelfhanger, Staraton, Winfarthing, Wymondliam ankl Yarmouth turned ap in force and took part in touches from Grandsire Triples to Double Coslany Court, Gumbridge, Saperlative and London Surprise Major.

At the bisiness meeting, which followed a short service conductert by the Rector (the Rev. &. S. Deuchar), all the officers of the brasuchr were re-elected.
Herbert Howleft and Ceeil Poyntz, a promising lad, both of Saxlingham, were elected members.
It was deciderl to hold the next meeting on Aprit 24 th at Redeunnill. and to practiae Bristol Surprise Major, which has been ring at firfrequent intervals in Norfols for many years.
The branch secretnry (Mr. N. Golden) thanked the Rev. J. S. Denclur for conducting the scrvice; Mrg. Denchar, the Mieses Duffelai and Mr. Wr. E. Dufficla for so kindy providing fea for lhe enmpany of lilty which sat dowa; Mr. C. D. Thornton. of Tone stanton, fur officiating at the organ; and the contingent from Acle, Halvergate ant Farmouth.

This eoncluded the business of the meeting, when the members dispersed for handhell ringing and further whelses on the tower belle.

NOTABLE PERFORMANCES  (Continuod from previous calumn.)

Mr. Ruesam was a member of the old Birminglam and District Asseciation and the Birmingham Amaigamatied Saciety from their formation until they were disbanded. Ho was also a nember of the Holt Society until it was absurbed by St. Martin's Guild. Previous to the amalgamation the Grild was known as St. Martin's Somety. Ho conducted the first peat rung under the auspices of the Giild.

Although ha kept no accurate record of his peals, Mr. Russim had rung something over a humdreal and fifty. This is not a largo number on the part of so competent a ringer for such a long period, but. Mr. Rusem was never anzions to ting a lotiof pails. He preferrent one good one now and agrin.' Aud they had to be good to pleaso him, for, excellent striker himself, he had litthe patience for those who were careless over their ringisg.
Amone the notable perfornances in which ho took part, fin addition to the Stedman Sextuples, were the first peal of Grandsire Cinques on handbells and the first dosble-handed peal of Stedmar Gingues out of London, this being the second ever rung. His handbell peala also included a 10,000 of Grandsire Major. On tower bells he took part in the first. peal of Duffield Maximus.
Tom Russam's early ringing brought lim into touch with some interesting characters, and when he was in reminiscent vain many were the grood tales lie could tell. Those who heard him propose the tonst of 'The Memory of Henry Tolnisoy' at the Johnson-Conmemoration Dimer a few years sgo will remember the wealth of anedota with which ine adorned the toast. He was of a retiring disposition, but was held in high esteem in Birmingham ringing circles.

In-bealth had prevented him from much active participation in recent yors in the art he loved so well, and of which he was so able an exponent, but he never lost his interest in ringing. From time to tive a little note of comment, criticism or congratilation on a passing event would come into tho oflice of 'The Ringing Work, in his nent and perfectly formed writing, fov he had been a jeweller's engraver by trade. Ho was a delightful and well-informed correspondent, and in all his commanications as in all his contacts witls others he proved himself sver one of Natnre's gentlemen.
The fuzecal service took place at Faviley Wood Clurich on Wednes. day, when geveral members attended to represent st Maxtin's finis and handbetls were rang over the graye.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SONNING DEANERY DISCOSSES COMBINED PRACTICES.
The annual meeting of the Sonniug Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Wokingham on Saturday, Jawuary 16th, Ringing took place at the towere of St, Paul's and All Saints' Churches. Service was held in St. Paul's Church, Onnon G. F. Coleridge, Muster of the Guild and chairman of the brancil, being the preacher. A collection for the Brancla Restoration Fuld was taken and realised $£ 1$ 10s.
The Master took for his text Ezekiel, 40, v. 3, and, in the course of an inspiring adedress, brought out the following points, from the superman with a line of flax in his hand and a measuring reed. In the courso of the preparation for rebuilding the temple seen in the vision, the line of fax and the reox were used and the smallest details were carefully taken. Tho hine of flax would appeal to bellingers as their bell-rope. The narrative faught the need of preparation- Dot to leave all till they reached the beliry. The Master impressed the need for careful attention to punctuality and the full use of time, which should nat bo wasted. Theirs was an art which required earnest application if the full value of it were to be realised in their work.
The ringers then adjourned to St. Paul's Parish Room, where a sumpluous tea was providen, and includcd the famed meat pies, also mince pies, and a fine Christras cake, kindly presented by Mrs. P. O. Watson, of Cantley, Wokingham.

The Master, who presided, thanked the great number of good people for ' making this excellent provision for us.' He named Mr. ©hurchwardea Newhery znd his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Eamer, and Mrs. Watson for her kind gift (applause)--Mr. Newbery briefly responded for all the leslpers.
Canon Auderson (Rural Dean) thanked the churchwardens and authorities of St. Paul's for the use of their chureh mad tower; the orgrnist, Mr. F. A. Burgess; and last, but not least, Canon Coleriáge for the sermon. No one, he said, was better qualifed than Canon Coleridge to spente on such an occasion as that from the pulpit (applause)

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Master, as chairman of the branch, presided at the annual meeting and there were also present the Rirral Dean, the Rer. O. E. Wigg (Deputy Master), the Rev. A. P. Carr, the Rev. L. R. Majendie, the Row. A. G. G. Thirlow, Mr. A. D. Barker, of slough (Guild trassurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Guild secretary), Mr. W. J. Paice (deanery secretary), Mr. F. Dentry, Mr. J. Moth), other foremen and ringers, inchuding several ladies.
Tho secretary, by permiseion, stated that he had reseived a letter from Tilehust (not in their deanery) inviting assistance in reconditioning their ring of cight bells before the Coranation. The cost would be 2300 .
The response to this appeal was immediate-the plate was passed round and $& 1$ 5s. subscribed at once.
Arising from the minutes, the hon, secretary said that Easthampatead Rector and chnrchwardens, as their appeal had been generously reaponded to, had returned the five guineas voted by the Sonning Deanery last year, with deep expressions of gratitude, feeling that by so doing they might help some other tower move in need than themsclves (applause).
Apologies were annonnced from the Rev. R. W. Tuesday (eurate in charge of St. Pauls), who was away ou a short holiday, after a time of Etrenuous walk: Canon F.. J. aud Miss Norris. Mr. R, Bagley (Easthampstend). Mr. J. White. Mr. E. Foster (St. Laurence's, Readinfl, and Mr. W. J. Fuller (Wargrave), who. although not now an antive ringer, enelosed subscriptions for himself and wife. The searetary mentioned two deaths. not at the moment connected by menbership with the lranoh. viz, Canon Pargons, who for 41 years was Rector of Sandhurst, and Viscount Mountmorres, Iate Rector of St. Paul'e, Wokingham.

FINANCIAL

Mr. Paice then. as treasurer, renorted a credit balance on the general fund of $£ 97 \mathrm{~s}$. 7 d ., some $£ 2$ below that of last year, and £9 15s. 6d. in hand in the Branch Restoration Fund.-Mr. Ower Goddard, hon. auditor, was thanked for his services and the report was adopted. As secretary, Mr. Paice next reported a membership oi 28 hon. members and 141 ringers. total 169. Three members-the Rev. J. C. F. Wimberley, of Hurst. Mr. G. Green (All Saints', Wokingliam) and Mr. W. Penton (Binfield)-had died during the yenr. Tho branch had a rond number of yourg ringers-keen to got on in learaing methods to ring their first pral. The Sunday service ringing had been well maintained. The half-yearly meeting at Wurgrave was quile a aliccess. A sordinl welcome was given by the Vicar and the local hund. Peals. in which branch members took part, had been rung at Binfield. Easthampstead. Finchampstead, Wallham St, Lawvrence and Sandhurst (half-mufled in memory of Canon Parsens). The repart also noted the rehanging of Easthampstead bells by Messrs. White. Fitted with ball hearings, they were now in excellent ringing order. The report closed with thanks to Rectors, officials and foremen of towers for their heip and ready co-operation.-The report was adopted on the proposition of Mr. Dentry, seconded hy Mr. Houlton.

Elections then took place. The chairnan (Canon G. F. Coleridge) was proposed for re-election by the Rural Dean, and seconded hy Mr. W. Honlton. The pronoser. amid applansc, happily remarked of Ganon Colaridge that though prevented from getting up the towers, Le is still a tower of strength to the Guild, his work being appreciated by all ia the deauery. If anybody has the right to preach about what rimgers should do, surely he has (applanse). Fe bas practised what ho preached.' The resolution was endorsed by acclamation.

Canon Coleridge thanked the branch and said he was always glad to serve to the utmost. This year he hoped to reach 80; it was not his mability to get up the towerg, but to got down, that was the trouble. He promised to do his best for the brauch in any way.
llike hon. treasurer and secretary (Mr. W. J. Paice) was re-elected, with cordial expressions of appreciation. Expressing thanks, he recalled that it was ten years ago that night, in that very room, they flrst elected him as secretary.

The Brauch Commitiee, congisting of the foremen of tho towers, was then re-elected, Mr. H. Goodey succeeding Mr. R. Bagley (retired) as foremar at Easthampstead. Branch representatives to the Guild Committee were next re-elected, viz., Messrs. F. Dentry, J. Moti, J. Rance and J. Whitc.
The half-yearly meeting was fixed for oarly in June at Binfeld ancl combined practices as before, botli at the suggestion of the commitee. COMBINED PRAGTICES.
The commiltce further invited suggestions for making combined practices more useful, stating that the matter liad been brought up by a young ringer to the Branch Committee. The suggestion was that sanle of the combined practices be given up to learning a new methad. Some objections, which might now be voiced, were raised at the committee.
Mr. R. G. Cross, the young member in question, then referred to late attendance, which impeired the usefulness of the practices by losing valuable time; also to time lost between touches, which themselves weru sometimes too long. He advocated shorter touckes and more of them, so as to avoid long pauses between the ringing

The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow supported Wr. Cross, who, he said, practices what he preaches.
Mr. Moth spoke of the local bands not attending these practices, and remarked that six-bell towers were not so good for the purpoge as eight-bell towers.

The secretary stressed the mecessity of looking up the method at home before goilg to combined practice, and agreed with the disadvanlige of arriving late. So wany ringers, too, were not able to ving their bell and ring rounds properly. That marred combined practices. He wranted to sce joung ringers, at these practices. His advice was, 'Learn to ring in rounds in your own tower.
The Guild Secretary (Mr. R. T. Fibbert) satid the art of laadling the bell should come first, and referred to the valuable articles for begianers now rumning in *The Ringing World,' which he advised Foung ringers to study. He referred humorously to the fine in some towers for late attendance. He hoped the virtue of punctuality would be seen amony them in the coming year on all oceasions. It was very nice to see young members in the branch who had the conrage of their convictions. He was glad to see the young ringers and advised them to spend a couple of hours now and then at home with paper and pencil, learning the diagram of a bell so as to bs able to put the bells just where it ought to be put (applause).
Mr. A. D. Barker, the Guid treasurer, congratulated the officers ou their balance sheet. Fe did not know about combined practices, but suggegted that to toke away from the gecretary the lardships of looking after the ringing would help him in carrying ont his other duties. He suggested one or two who could relieve him in that respect.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUIED.

TOWCESTER BRANOH AND DEATH OF LATE MASEER.

The ancual meeting of the Toweester Bratsch of the Feterborough Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday at Paulerspury, where there is a peal of fue belis, lately rahung by Megers. Taplor and Co., which require careful handling on account of long draught without gaides.
The service was conducted by the Rev. E. Kenworthy-Browne (Rural Dean), who also gave an excellent address. Tea was partaken of in the Tnstitute, amongst those present heing Capt. and Miss Grant-Ires, the Rev. and Mrs. Kenwortby-Browne, the Rev. E. V. Fena (hon. secretary), etc.
At the business meeting which followed regret was expressed at the death of Mr. F. Wilford, late Master of the Guild, and a rote of gympathy was passed with Mrs. Wilford. The late Master attended many meetings of the brazch, and his prosence and advice will bo cadly missed.
All the officers were re-elected, anà Mr. B. Smart, of Pauierspury, was added to the Brancl Committee.
The usual votes of thanks were accorded.

THE LATE MR. F. WILFORD

At Woadford, Northants, on Wednesday, January 20th, murled quarter-peal was rung as a token of respect to the oldest ringer of the village, Mr. John Bunning, and to Mr. Fred Wilford, who for some years was Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Gnild, The quarter-peal consisted of 720 Oxford Boh and 540 Plain Bob: G. H. Roberts 1, J. M. Nickerson 2, O. Thacy 3, C. Allen 4, T. Jervis 5, O. Wilson (conductor) 6.
Mr. Wilford was born within two miles of this tower, altuongh most of his life was spent at Northampton.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

PROGRESS OF THE BENEVOLENT FUND

Tho Rochester District of the Kent County Agsociation held a quarterly meeting at Milton-next-Gravesend on Saturday last and over 70 members atteuded.
The tower was open from 3 o'clock till 9, and, throughout, the finging was of the higlest quality, both from the netirods rung and the striking, which was a credit to all coneerned.
Sorvice was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. H. H. Powell, an howorary member of the association, and Mr. H. E. Champian, L.R.A.M., the orgnnist, accompanied tho singing, which was up to the usual Kent standard. The Rector gave a shorl and inspiring uddress, which was greatly appreciated.
A collection at tho close for the Association Benewoleat Fund realised 145. 6d.

The conmany wore afterwards entertained to tea in the Johrston Institate by tho gencral hon, secretary and Mrs. F. M. Mitchell, the Tector and Mr. Powell being among thoso to partake of the nospitality provided.
The business mecting followed, the Reator presiding. The district secretary (hir. S. J. T. Shelock) was undvodably absento owing to a Panily bereavement, and tha gencral han, secretary deputised on his behalf. It was unamimously resolved that the sympathy of the memhers bo extended ta Mr. Shollock
The busiaess was couducted in a completely harmonjous spinit, 'lhree ucw members were clected, and Queenborough was whosen withIt opposition as the place of the next meeting.
Mr. Allen, tho district representative, gavo afull and comprehensive pport of the committac meeting deld at Maidstole in November. Fe stated that the commitec decied, among otlier things: That the nnmual meeting should be huld at Aghfora on Easter Monday, when he association would entertain the menbers to lunch; another subommittes had been appointed to discuss the varions amendments to lo new rules, and submit the new draft to the sumbal general meetIIg: at tho Central Council mecting, which this year was being held Canterbary, he County Assocation would ofer hospitality to the isitars; anf fere had been paid to deserving members from the henevolent Fund.
Mr. Allen was thanked for his report.
Mr. Allen proposed that hearty thanks be extenged to the Rector or his many efforts on their behalf, and said how much they appreiated his helplul address.
The Rector responded and said they were always plensed to welcome 1te asociation to Milton. He was sure they would wish him to extend heir best thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Miteleell for providing them with cuch an excellent tea.-Mr. W. Spite (Tunstali) associnted himself itte these remarks.
Needless to say the thanks were accorded in real Kentish style.
Mr. Mitchell said Mrs. Miteluell and he were very pleased to see uch a large number present. He was doubtful if nt their next meetarg at Milton their hall would be large enougli to halia the 100 he xpocted try attend. They contemplated buiding a new Parislo Hall, and he wondered if the ringers would liko to leave at memento of lieir visit in the form of a whip round.'
This met with a gemerons response, as $£ 158$. was contributed to he fund.
Mr. Mitehell also gave some interesting figures of the association's Benevolont Fund. When he became the general secretary, he said, the balance stood at $£ 14213 \mathrm{~s}$. 81 l . It liac now reached giges 5s, 1d. During the past year $£ 22$ had been paid to aged and deserving memhers, and $£ 17$ IOs. 40 , had heen collected nt meetings in the connty.
Mra. Mitchell also responded and said the gathering gave her the opportunity of repaying the many kindnesses that had been extended to ber by the menbers of the association.
The handibells were bronglte into use, and the company were delighted to hear a course of Grandsire Cinques rang by three of the wisitors ringing four hells ench: Messte. C. Hopper 1-2-3-4, D. Sharp 5-6-7-8, A. Hopper 9-10-11-12.
The tower wis egain risited and the bells kept 'on the go' until 9 o'clock, whon a very enjoyable meeting terminnted.

YOUNG RINGERS' OPPORTUNITIES.

It is not a bad thing when we find youth critieising youth for failing to take its fair share in the concerns of ringing. One of the characteristic, and interesting, features of 'reports ' presented to members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild has been the frank comments of those responsible. There is never any attempt to make things look better than they are in the affairs of the Guild ; on the contrary it is apparently felt that a little frank speaking is likely to shake into thought those who prefer to let others do the work while they sit back and grumble; or, if they are of the easy going type, imagine that all is for the best in best of all possible worlds. At different times the clergy and the lethargic or dissatisfied members have come under the lash. We are not sure that it has much effect, but it is better than leading the members either into further somnolence or to believe that all the grievances of those who have any are justified while they make no effort to remedy them. There are folks of this type in all associations-some who are content to let things drift ; others who complain ; but none of them apparently prepared to do anything by way of helping to improve matters. Probably if they did they would find that the task is not so easy as they imagine.
The criticism which was offered at the Guildford Guild meeting to which we refer was made by the Farnham District Secretary. He is himself among the 'youth' of the Guild, and as one who ungrudgingly puts more time and energy into ringing for the benefit of others than perhaps any other member of the Guild, is fully justified in offering criticism. He complains that some young ringers do not take advantage of the opportunities that are offered them, and points out that it is their duty to do everything they can to maintain the high standard reached by many older ringers and not to leave the latter to do all the irksome tasks necessary in running a belfry. If they have faults to find they should help to improve matters; not absent themselves from the belfry and grumble outside about what should be done.

This is very sound advice. A fortnight ago we pleaded the cause of the young ringers with the older members of the Exercise. The report to which we now refer provides the opportunity of pleading the cause of young ringers with themselves. Associations, by their frequent meetings, provide many opportunities for 'young' ringers of all ages, and if the latter do not take advantage of the facilities they then have little cause for complaint. They should recollect that those ringers whose skill they see exercised in the belfry were once beginners like themselves and very few men have reached the top of the tree who have waited for the opportunities (Continued on page 82.)

SURREY ASSOCIATION

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT REIGATE.
Thir annual mecting of tho Soulhern District, Survey Association, was held at: Reigate on Saturday, January 23rd. In spite of the very inclement weather, a gativering of 44 assembled, much to the delight of the secretary. Most of the district towers were represented, together with the motoring section of the Northern District and others from such far-fung outposts (campanalogically spenking) as Uckfield (Sussex) and Oxthey (Herts). The fine peal of 10 bells, said to be one of the finest 10 in Southern England, were set, going to Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Caters. Sirvice was conducted by the Rev. 14. Talbot, who heartily welemed the ringers to Reigate, and preached an interesting sermon, the theme of whicls was 'Youth.' Fo was glad, he said, to see a few of the younger members present, and hoped they would continue and persuade ather younger ones to take un ringing. He hoped they would also try nat come to the service gifter calling others to clumech. When a small boy in tike North of England be heard of a may who, cvery Sunday morning, went for a long walk so as to be abie to be beyond the sound of chureh bells? as he lated them so mucll. He (ithe vicar) felt very sorry for that mana, and it left a lasting impression upon him. Only the other day, lowever, e parishioner stopped him in Reigate and said how he loved in herat their hells rung, end wished they could be rung oftenar. On the other hand, some people complained very insisiently and wanted to lave the bells stopped allogether. The eingers, therefore, could see hon diffeult it was for him to steer a neutral course.
Alderman Temple-Newell sprang a delightful and pleasant surprise un the members by paying for the tea, which was served in the Church Hall. It was followed by the business meeting, at which the officers were electen for the eusuing year, viz.: Master, Mr. R. Fuller; treasnier, Mr. M. Northover; secretary, Mr. W. Claydon; auditor, Mr. A. Gear; committee, Messrs. H. Wallis, A. Weller and A. Bull.

The aext amulal meeting is to be held at Horlcy, and meetings aro also to be held at Merstham, Kingswood and Betchworth. A hearty vate of thankg was accorded to Mr. Temple-Nowell and the ladies who served tea.
During ten-time a fine touch of Stedman Triples was rung on handbells by the Northern District motoring section. Ali adjournment was again made to the tower for further ringing.

FOR BEGINNERS.

HOW TO RJNG 120 GRANDSIRE DOUBLEF.

Last week we endeavoured to explain how the Grandsire method on five bells is rung. We slowed that the 'work' of the method produced three leads, which is thirty clanges, but that of course, does not exhaust all the possible changes on live bells. As readers रell hnow, the extent of clanges on five hells is 120 , or a 'bix-score, us old riagers were wont to call it.
To produce a 120 in any method of pure Doubles, as we explained a week or two ago, requires certain departures from the 'method, and these departures are known as 'bobs' and 'singles.' The proper insertion of these 'calls.'-because they are called by the conductormakes it possible to extend our 30 chariges to the full 120.
The 'bob' in Grandsire cousists of the introduction of another 3rd's piace. In the construction of tho method itself, as we have seen, 3ri's place is mado on every oconsion immediately after the treble lias led. The 3ri's place, to make a bob, is made when the treble leads its first blow-that is the two Jrd's places, when a bob is called, aro consecutive, and they are made by the two belis hunting immediately in front of the treble.
The effect on the actual work of the bells is this: The bob (that is tha 3rd's place before the treble completes its lead) is made by the bell that passed the treble in 2-3. Faving made 3 rd's, it strikes oyer the treble and then leads. It is then 'in the hunt,' where the and is in the plain course, and all it has to do is to continue plain hunting until the next call is made.
The bell that makes the ordinary 3 rd's place does not have its cycle of work disturbed, but the two other bells are cetained in the 4-5 dodging place. One of them is the beli which has been 'in the hunt. The call comes when he is completing his whole pull behind and he makes e double dodge in $5-4$ (down).
A single dodge, which occurs in the plain lead, is just one step back in the fiunting-into sth's (rrow 4th's) if you dodgo down; into 4th's (from 5th's) if you dodge up. When you 'double dodge' you step, up, or down, twice, so that when you have to 'double dodge dawn' in Grandsire Doubles you first lay your whole pull behind, step domn into 4th's, up into 5th's, down into 4th's, back fulo 5th's, and then go on down to lead.
Double dodging up is the reverse of this, and is done before lying the whole puli hehind. This is done at a bob by the bell that passed the treble in $3-4$; and the bell ho follows to lead is the bell that dodges with him.
The dodging belind is the same at a single as at a bob, but the other two wells are reverser in their coursing order, Both 3rd's places are made by ane and the same bell, the bell that passed the treble in 2-3. The other bell-that passed the treble in 1-2-lies a whole pull in 2nd's place over the treble, then leads again, and is "in the luant.' Now examine the difference in the working of the bolls under these three sets of conditions. Tliese figures show the essential work at the freble lead:-

| Plain Lead. | Bob Lead. | Single Lead. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 45312 | 45312 | 45312 |
| 54132 | 54132 | 54132 |
| 51423 | 51423 | 51423 |
| 15243 | 1432 | 15432 |
| 12534 | 14523 | 15423 |
| 21543 | 41532 | 51432 |
| 25134 | 45123 | 54123 |
| 52314 | 54213 | 45213 |

The proper place for the conductor to call the bob or single is when the treble strikes in 3ri"s place on its way down. The dodging bells are then in the place where they luve to dodge, the bell in frant ha* sufficiant notice to change its course. When you lyegill calling, however, you may not be able to "see" the treble, although you want to cultivate the facility to do so es much as possible. It may, therefore, be necessary just at tho start to "call" your 120 's by a fired rule. If you ring the 3rd or sth you make a call when your bell will have to stop and double dodge in $4-5$ up.
In doing this, your oaly ofleer work will be making 3rd's place at the alternate lead. As you hunt up and pass the treble in 3-4, raake your call is you strike over the treble. Thus you have alternately one piain lead and one lead at which a call is made-Chat gives you in the 12 leads six calls in all. Two of these calis must be singles, You can put yaur first sirgle at any one of the first three calling places, but the second single must come at the corresponding place in the next thres.
If you call the first half P.B.P.B.P.S. (P standing for plain lead, $B$ for bob lead and $S$ for single lead), then the second half must be called in exactly the same way.
The 'calls' come at tho 2nd, the and 6ih leads in you use the sth as the "observation" bell, and at the Ist, 3rd and 5th leads if you use the Jrd as the observation? bell, and will theso two forms of calling you can oblain six different 120 's different, that is, in the seguance of the changes.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

SLOW PROGRESS OF CHANGE RINGING IN DORGHESTER.

BRANCH.
In his report to the Dovehester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesna Guild, at the annual meeting ats Dorchester on Saturday week, the Hon. Secretary. (Mr. C. H. Jennings) expressed regrat that no restoration or augmentations had taken place among the bells in the district during the jear, although it was greatly geaded in some of the towers.
Prior to the meeting ringing took place at St. Peters Church and the Guild servico was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. Wilkinsan Markby), who also gave an appropriate address on the inscription, 'Te Doim Laudrmus,' on the sixih bell at Poresmouth.

After tea, the business meeting, held in St. Peter's Institute, was presided over by the Rector, who was supported by the Rev. R. P. Farrow (vice-clanman) and Mr. C. H. Jennings (hon. secretary). Thero was a large and representative attendance from the towers in the branch.
The Fron. Seoretary (Mr. C. H. Jennings), in his anoual report, stated that a steady year of good work lad been necomplished, In addition to the quarterly and annual meetings, an excelleat meeting for practice was held at Whitchurch Ganonicorum and Bridport, with the co-operation of tile West Dorgot Branch, and there had been united practicos att Ablotsbury and Wylee Regis, A great feature of tho meetings bad been the warm weicome extended by the incumbouts and frientis.
The membership remained about the anme in regard to ringing members and associates, but there was a slight decrease in bonorary mombers. Regret was expressed that no restoration or augmentation of existing perls had taken plece, although it was greatly meeded iu some of the towers.
Six peals had been rung in the branch during the year. Change ringing was making on the whale rather slow progress, and it was hoped, with the assistance of the vice-chairman and Ringing Master, to hold still more practices for the instruction of merabors. An appeal was mado for more members to Gill the places of those who liad neal was made

On ilne death of King Gearge V. every tower in the branch rang wilth halif-muffled bells.

The teath was recorded with regret of tho Rev. E. S. Ficid: Mr. Herbert Runyard (captain of the Wool Branch silice its formation) ; Mr. William Bedford (who gave the treble bell and restored the present nea! of six at Bere Regis) ; Mrs. Hunt, wife of Mr. J. Funt 3 nukland Nowlon; Mr. Alfred Rose (captain of the Wyke Regis band (i) about 25 years) ; Mrs. Moule, wife of the Ven. Archdeacon W. S. Moule, Vient of Abbotsbury.
The Fon. Sneretary conclucled with an expression of thanke to many who hat contributed to the success of tho branch.
The financial gtatemant showed a balance of $£ 159 \mathrm{~s}$. 1 d ., as compared with ell 18s. ld. at the berinning of the year.
It was clecicled to hold quarterly wectings at Buckland Newton, Wyke Regis, and Frampton, and the annual meeting at Dorchester St. Peter's.

APPEAL FOR MORE ADVANCED METHODS

The following new members were oleched: Ringing members, Mr. H. Emery (Braclford Peverell), Miss J. Chick and WIr. T. W. Chick (Stration), Messrs. E. B. Randrll and R. F. Cheeseman (Preston), Cornick and Swaflield (Wyke Regis), W. Mayo and C. E. New (Frampton), and Miss Barbara Baker (Upwey); associate member, Rev. 1. G. Ferring (Bere Regis); life members, Mr. Philip Henry Toneck, R.T.C., Bovington.

The Chairman extended a covdial welcome to the Rev. R. C. Herring, Mr. Martin Stewart (Wimborne), and ringers from Poole, Thornfort and Stratton.
The officers were re-electecl: Chairman, the Rev. A. W. Warkby; vice-bhairman, Rev. R. P. Fhrow; Ringing Master, Mr. E. T. P. Fiuld; Deputy Ringivg Master, Mr'. C. Smart; hon. secretary and Hedasurer, Mr. C. H. Jennings.
'The Kov, R. P. Farrow proposed a vote of thanks to the chaiman for granting the use of St. Peter's bells. He also made an appeal for more advanced methods of clange ringing to be learnt. Ringers represonted a strong body and a strong force in the church. As the Archbishop of Canterbury wished for a renewal of spiritual life, he thought that ringers could loop a lot in this respect. Their position was very much higler and more honourable than it was many years ggo.
Tine Fev. A. F. Godley seconded the vote of thanks.
Thanks were also accorded to Mr. Perbam (St. Peter's organist), to tho ladies for providing the tea, to the Revs. D. F. Slemed (Clarminster), A. S. Bryant (Upwey), and Gilbert Jessop (Fordington St, George) for permitting the use of the bells in their parishes, and to Mr. J. W. Smitls for making the local arrangements.

GRANTS FOR RESTORATIONS.
The Chairman said that as the result of an inspection of St. Peter's tower and belfry the bells would have to be put on ball bearings during the jear as the gudigeons were wearing. It was an expenditure that would have to be faced and would be something in the nuture of 8150 . Like the Macedonians, he would say, "Come over and help us," and if they at St. Peter's could lave anything more than mere words of sympatly they would be delighted to reacive it. He wanter the work to be proceeded with so that it might be completed before the Coranation. He did not think it was too mucla to ask the Dorchester rural deanery and Dovehester town to help them to foot the bill.

After discussion it was resolved thet a donation of 85 be given from the branch funds, and ith an expression of thanks the Ohairman said that it wond be an encouragement to the members of St. Peter's Church Council and congregation to do their bit.
Mr. Jennings mentioned that at Wyke Regis they had got to withia S400 of the $\mathrm{E} 1,500$ appealed for on belaalf of the church and tower, and it was unamimously resolved to make a grant of 5225 . from the branch funds.

SALISBURY BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

PRACTICES FOR THEOLOGFOAL COLLEGE STUDENTS.

In spite of the wintry weather, there was a very good attenthance at tho anmal meeting of the Salisbury Branch, held at St. Paul's, Salisbury, on Saturday last. Ringers present represented the towers at Berwick St. Tohn, Britford, Wylye, Wilton, the cily clurelves of St. Paul, St. Thomas and St. Martin, the Diocesan Theological Oollege, Anesbury, Dinton, Martin, Damerkam, etc, and there were visitors from the Devizes and the Norlh Dorset Bramches.
The Guild service was conduoted by the Rev. S. B. WingliwidDigby, assistant curafe at Si. Paul's, the address haing given by the Rev. F. I. Howen, priest-in-chayge of St. Miclacl's, Bemerton, while the Rector, Reve N. E. W. Bratiyll-Jolinson, was at the organ.
Ter followed in St. Paul's Pruish Rooms, after whoth the general meeting mas presided over by the branch chairman (Mr. E. G. Caple). who was supported by Mr. F. W. Romaine (branoh seoretary and breasurer) and Rev. liadyli-Johnson (hos. memher).
Mr. Caple and Mr. Romaine were re-elected as chairman and sectelary and treasurer respectively. Messts. L. Farris, F. C. Smitly abd W . Roberts were re-elected Ringing Masters. The commitiee was roelected with the uddition of Mr. C. Faines (Wilton).
In thanking the members for re-electing him, Mr. Romaine remarked that he was now in his fourtenth year as secretary, and furing that time the branch had more than doubled its membership. He loped that in time the bramels would be as strong as that al Devizes.
New members were admitted as follows: R. Fawker (Wilton), B. Sufe (Sarum St. Thomas), Rev. S. B. Winglield-Dighy (St. Panl's), J. Beverstock, H. Scammeli ind J. Haines (St. Martin's), R. S. Jones and Tr. Gould (Salisbury Thealagical College) ; also the new band of ingers recently formed at Compton Chambcilain.
Mr. R. S. Jones (Theological College) stated that the college siudents were interesting themealves iu change ringing, and were practising with the St. Marin's band, but in view of the difficulty they had in attending ovening practices thoy would be glad to loal of any opportunities of ringing during afternoons of any day ar Saturday eveninge.
Mr. Roberts (Berwick) and Rew. R. S. Smith (St. Martin's) botlı stated that they could arvange afternoan or Saturday evening praclices, and would welcome the theological students at any time.
It was resolved that the next three moetings of the braneli be hele at Berwick St. John, Amesbury and Compton Chamberlain, and the secretary was asked to inguiro whelior Barford St. Martin liclls would be available $u$ ben the Compton Ohamberlain meeting took plate.
Tha Chairmay proposed a vote of thanks, seconded by the secretary, o the Rev. Bradylifolinson, for receiving the branch, and to the Rer. Wingfield Digby and Rev. Bowen for the part they had taken in the Eorvice.
In replying, tho Rector roitrated his delight at again having the Guild with them at St. Paul's, where thoy knew they were always welcome. 开e was anxious that his bellringers should become efficient clange ringers, and to this end he was contemplating making application for the appointment of an official instructor.
There was some confusion in the Rectar's mind oyer Ringime Masters and ringing iastructors, and M". E. F. Whito (clamirman of The Devizes Brancla and a ringing instructor) explained the position, stating that, subject to the Fector making application through the official channels and the general gecretary's consent, he, Mr. White, would be willing to undertake the instruction of St. Paul's band under the rules of the Guild.

The Rector thanken Mr. White for his explanation, and stated he would go into the matter fully. He reminded the ringers of the opportunities the fortheoming Coronation would give to bellinging. The Secretary announced that the date of the Guild Festival hind been provisionally fixed for May Ist at Salisbury Cathedral, but Hiere would be more information on this matter later.
Ringing was then resumed at St. Paul's, also at St. Edmund's aul St. Martim's.

MR. JOHN AUSTIN'S BEREAVEMENT.

Wr. John Austin, of Gloucester, has snstained n gevere alld unexpected bereavement by the death of his wife, who passed awry after only a few days' illness on January 21st.

On the previous Saturday Mr. Austin presided at the annual dimner of Bristol United Ringing Guilds, and Mrs. Austin was to bave nccampaniad him. An apparently slight ivdisposition, however, preveltied her from being present, but her illness later took on a serious turn
The deepest sympathy will go out to Mr. Austin and his family in their great loss.
The funeral took piace at St. Micheel's Church, Gloucester, on January 25th, and was gonducted by the Rev. E. O. Priobard (Rector). The principal mounhers were Mr. J. Austin (widower), Mr. Harold Austim (son), the daughters and son-in-law, ex-Sergeant J. Williams and Mrs. Tyndal, Among those present were Mr. S. J. Romans (representing the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), Mr. H. Falford (the Gheltenham Branch of the association), and many old friends.
The service was of simple character. The 23rd Penlm was chanted and the hymms, 'Tesu, Lover of my soul," and "The King of Love my Shepherd is ${ }^{1}$, were sung.
Tha interment took place at the cemetery, and there were many flornl tributes, among them rao from the Gloucester ringers. A mufted touch was rung on the bells after the service by T. Baldwin, H. Case, J. Whitingr J. Gillot, W. H. Harris, S. E. Romans, G. Condiek (conductar), andil A. Martin.

LINK WITH THE ' QUEEN MARY.'

OUNARD GHAIRMAN GIVES BELL TO DEFON FILLAGE OHUROH.
Sir Percy Elly Bates, Bt., director of the Cunard Steamship Company, has given a tenor bell to the Parish Church of Charles, in Nortli Devou, as a thankoffering for the lataching of the world's greatest and fastest ship afloak and for the winning of the Atlantic Blue Riband by the 'Quem Mary.'
The Rector and churchwardens of Charies hnme obtained a faculty for this reconstruction of the peal of bells, and it is hoped that the new bell will be dedicated, and started by Sir Percy in person, in time to be used for the Coronation in May
The wark is being carried out by Jolon Taylor and Co., who cast the ship hells of the 'Queen Mary." The inseription on the aew bell mentions this latter fact.
The little village of Charles has been long distinguished for its Blackmore traditions of 'Lorna Doone" fame.

PETERBOROUGH DEOCESAN GUILD.

WELLINGBOROUGH DISTRICT ANNDAL MEETING.
About fifty ringers attended the annual mocting of the Welling borough District of the Meterborough Diocesau Guild, held at Eigham Ferters on January 2zrd.

A service was beld in the beautiful old church during the afternoon, conducted by the branch president (the Rev. A. G. Bagbinw), whilst the Vicar read the lesson and took from it the subject for his very able and interesting address, "Noise and sound.' Ho boped that the ringers would realise their reaponsibility and gee to it that the angel voices of the bolle were nover silent.
Ringers were present from a wide area, including Finedion, Wellingborough, Irt́blingborough, Irchester, Ecton, Stanwick, Earls Barton, and a number of the local band. The Kettering district and the Thrapstion branch were also well represented. Three enthusiaste of Lhe Bedford Association were present, and also Mr. W. A. Siote, of Goventry, aud the Rev, E. S. Powell (the Guild Master) and Mrs. Powell, together with the Guild general secretary, Mr. R. (i. Ihnck.
After tea, the menting opened with references to the deatlis of Mr. W. F. Ette (Wellingborough) and the late Master, Mr. F. Wilford, the members standing in silent tribute. The Kev. E. S. Powell spoke very highly of Mr. Wilford's life.

The branch officers were re-elected as follows: President, tha Rev. A. G. Bagshaw, M.A., $\mathrm{ED} . \mathrm{D}$.; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. Bigley; Central Committee, Messrs. G. ## BELERY GOSSIP.

Owing to pressure on our space we regret we have been compelled to hold over reports of the meetings of tho Middlesex Associatior: (North and East District), Surrey Association (North-Western District), and Warcestershire Association (Western District) and other contributions.
Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., Croydon, have been entrusted with the contract for the resloration of the bells at Shepperton Church, Middlesex.
Chief Inspector William Bottrill, of the Metropolitan Police, retires this week after 29 years' service. Mr. Bottrill is president of the Metropolitan Police Guild of Ringers and rice-president of the National Police Guild. It was through his efforts that the Metropolitan Guild was establistred and becume a recreative organisation recognised by the nuthorities.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Major is being arranged at Edgbaston Parish Church, Birmingham, starting at 2 p.m. on Tebruary 27th, on the accasion of the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dimmer. Any visitors who would like to stand in should write as early as possible to the Ringing Master, Mr. F. E. Faynes, Northdene, 102, Vicarage Rond, Smethwiak.

Following in father's-and grandfather's-footsteps! Geoffrey Harrison, son of Mr. Colin Harrison, of Loughborough Foundry, has rung lis first pal-the treble to Grandsire Triples on the baok eight of the Toundry bells. His father called the peal. What a pity his grandpa, a well-lmown Sheffed ringer, was not also in the band,

Another of Mr. Arthue Knights' 'old' compositions has now been rung for the first time. A peal of Treble Bob, which he put on paper in 1883-lifty-fauy years ago-was called at Brownedge, Lancs, on Saturday. It isn't as if he is an unknown composer, eillher.
The death accurred on January 28th of Mr. Joseph Hands, who had been a member of St, Peter's Society, Caversham, for 53 years. He was 79 years of age. The funeral took place on Monday.

Will any person who may have found or taken a silk scarf in mistake at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, on Saturday last, please return it to R. Fenn, 118, St. 自udrey's Rond, Barking, Essex.

A REGISTER OF METHODS.  To the Editar.

Dear Sir, - In vies of the leading article in your issue of January 8th yau may be interested to know that a register of Surprise Major mothods, on much the same lines as those suggested therein, is already in course of preparation.

Obviously it is ersy enough to make out a list of methods rung and to add each new one as it is published. The difficulty is to arrange them in such an order thal any given method can be turned up from the figures in the shortest possible time.

I liave baen doing some work on this problem recently, and havenow got out a method of indexing which overcomes this difficulty. I am as the moment npplying it to the Surprise Major methods, and I hope by the time of the next Central Council meeting to have completed the indexing of all the methods of this class that have been rung.

They are arranged in such a way that if the figures of a half-lead of any given methorl are produced its correct position in the register can be found in a few moments; if it has already been rung it will be found there; fogether with its name and details of first performance, etc., and if it is not there then it las not prewiously been rung and can be inserted.

Althongh, so far, I have only applied it to the Surprise Major methods, the same system of indexing can be used for any ciass of method in any number of bells.

LANCHESTER BELLS RESTORED

OPTNING BY DURHAM AND NEWCASTI, ASSOCLATION.
The renovated peal of bells at Lanchester P'arish Church was rededicatod on Saturday, Jantary 23 rd . In the absence of the Archdeacon of Auckland, who was unable to be present through family illness, the ceremony was performed by the 耳ev. Fenkin Jones, Vicar of Blackhill.

The bells were origiually installed in the year 1810, and were very meary going, but Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have now made them: into a fine ring of six, the tenor being $8 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. Three bells have been recast, the otber thres retuned, and all hung on ball bearings.

After the dedicatory prayers, the Rev. L. Heatherington, Vicar of Lanchester, tolled the fifth bell. At the close of the service the bells were raised in peal, and the first touch rung on them by L. Richardsom 1, ©. L. Routledge (conductor) 2, H. Tyson 3, W. Brown 4, J. A. Brown 5, S. Thompsen 6.

The President of the association (Councillor A. Pryno) afterwards proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for inviting the assaciation to reopen the bells, and referrad to the fine 'go' of the peal and the excollent way they had been rebung.
Ringers werc present from Newcastle Cathedral, Chester-le-Street, Beafieldside, Tanfield, Blackhill, Whickham, Consett and the local tower, tea the belfry was agan open, and touches in various Minor methods were rimg.

PEALS IN 1936.

OVER ONE HUNDRED LESS THAN IN 1935
The total number of peals rung in 1936 was $\mathrm{I}, 750$, of which 1,675 were on tower bells and 75 on handbells. This is more than one hundred less than in the preceding year, when 1,863 were rung. In 1934 the total was $1,7^{8} 4$; in $1933,1,833$; and in $193^{2}, 2,202$.

A CONTRAST IN BELE BROADCASTS

To the Editor

Sit, - T wonder if any of your readers listened to both Romsey and Sherbouse belly on Sunday evening, January 24th? I tuned in first to Slierborne and was at once struck lyy the extraordinary roar. The dominant notes of the hells were anything but clear, so that I was unable to spot the methed being rung, except that it was Triples. I thea cut across the dial to Romsey and was astonished at the difterence, Here the bells sounded clear and musical, and one could follow the method easily. Back I went to Sherborne, and again that most unpleasant, ron--so back to Romsey. I did this continuously as long as the brandcast lasted.
Sherborne bells are of recent casting, or was it only the tenor that was reeast? Query: Are these loblls Simpson tuned, and how are the Romsey hells tuned?

If the Sherborne are Simpson tuned and Rowsey not, then I would constider the Simpson method a ' wash-out.'
We are getting increasing complaints about the ringing of bells, and this may account for it.
I shall be interested to hear if any other readers switched ovar from the one to tho other, and, if so, what they thought about the comprison.
D. G. TAYLOR.

Ilminster.

THE EXPLANATION

This contrast in the two broadcasts which, taking place simultancously, enabled comparison to be made, is extremely interesting. Both Slierborne and Romsey have not so long since been through the same foundry, both restorations having been carried out by Messes. Mears and Stainbank.
Sherborne tenor only was recast: at Romsey three of the bells were recast. In cach case the whole peal was subjected to modificd 'harmonje tuning, and not Simpson tuned. Botly rings of bells are thes on approximately the same harmonic scale.

The explanation of the difference in the way the bells came over the ether is, therefore, due, not to the bells themselves, but to the relative positions of the microplowes. We understand tinat at Sherborne the 'mike' was on the roaf of the Abbey, not very far from the belfry windows, and apparently much too close for such a leavy peal of hells.

POPULARISE GOOD METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Your leading article of January 29th Jas my fullesi sympatliz. May I say in the first place that there is not a method that I lave rung with worse music than Cambridgel

In Ipswich we have a good ringer, who never goes inside a belfry now, but delights in listening to all ringing with a keer ear. He says, 'Why do yous ring that method?' referring to Cambridge.

What is wanted is a composer to broadeast a few methods which extenf from six or eight bells to 12 as well as Cambridge does, for this, in my opinion, is the only reason Carabridge is sa popular. Superlative, London and Bristol all fail in this respect.
You are quite right to advise all bands to practise something now to keep their interest alive. The idea of Mr. Nolan Golden in his notice of the North Norfolk Braneh of the Norwich Diocesan Association to practise something off the beaten traek is to be higlaly commentiont.

GEORGE E. SYMONDS.

YOUNG RINGERS CRITICISED.  COMMENTS AT A GUILDFORD GUIED MEETING

rksome Jobs Left to the 'DId 'Uns

A striking call to the younger ringars was made in the report presented by tile hon, secretary (Mr. ©. W. Denyer) to the annual meeting of the Farmliam District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on Satirday week. He said:-
'It has been noticed that the younger ringers in some towers do not attend meetings, although every opportunity is offered for their advancoment. It is eltircly the duty of we younger ringers to to everything possible to maintain the high standard yeached by many of the older ringers. Surely it is unfair to leave the "old "uns" ta do all the irksome duties gecessary for the ruming of a belfry. The modern generation is criticised in most things; let it not be so with our yonnger ringers. Too often we find fatilt wilh otliers who are doing their best to improve matters, and then, when asked to help, refuse to hold office or even make suggestions. If you are dissatigfied with your captain, vote for someone else ou try taking the office yourself. Don't absent yourself from the belfry and grumble outside about what should be done or what you would do if you were in charge.'
The report further stated lhat, althouph 1936 did not slow any outslanding improverment in the nffairs of the district, neithes could it be sad that there had been any serious batksliding. Ringing members had increased by four and honorary members decreased by one. They had 125 ringing and 29 honorary members. The passiag of the Hon. Mrs. Randal Parsons (Horley), Canon M. C. H. Collet (Frensham), aud Mr. Walter Cleaves (Fnrnham) was recorded witl regret. Altogether the district liad subscribed this year lowards the benevolent fund the sum of 2518 s. 8d. 'lower collecting boxes brought in fic 1s. 2d., collections at meetings 77 s ., and subseriptions $£ 110 \mathrm{~s}$. 6 d.
Only two peals were successful in the district in 1936. On January 25 h a local peal of Grandsire 'Triples, rung with fully mufled bella, was rung at Aldershot in memory of his late Majesty King George $V$. In this peal five ringers rang their first peal in the method, one his first peal in the method awny from the treble, and the conductor his first of T'riples as onnductar'. The other was a peal of Bol, Major, rung at Farnham on November 21st, the conductor being the Kinging Master, Mr. Hastad. Several ringerg from the district loat amg peals oulside the district. This yen. they hoped for many more successful peals. A goot oppontunity will bo in May, when the Coromation celebrations are taking place. It yas most important that the bells in every tower should be rung on Corouation Day
Tlie work of retuning and rehanging the hells ai st. Michael's, Forktown, had been completed, and the ring of eight wos mow in oxcellent order. Great satisfaction had been expressed at the way in which the bell hangers carried otut the job. Crondall bells were at the founders', and it was expected that they would be back in the tower by Coronation Day. Funds were still needed. Restoration work m ns mecessary at St. Peter's, Aslz, but mothing lad heen done. It wis hoped that something would materinlise in 1937.

SUNDAY SERVIGE RINGTNG
Tha repart added: It is thonght that the majarity of towers showed no marked progress, although service ringing bas been maintained generally. The greafest disappointment is et Seale, a belfry which has received more assistance than any otlier in the district, where, although subseriptions were received from 12 members, it has been practically impossible to ring the six bells on Suwdays. At Farnham, tro, eight ropes have not always been mamed for service ringing. Any suggestions for improving these colditions will be welcomed by the officials.

The Rector of Farnham (Canon J. M, Girling) presided over the meeting, supported by the Ringing Mastov (My, Fusted), Mr. A. J. Stedman (hoa. member), Capt. 프. J. Cann (Brookwood), Mr. I. Cobbett (general treasurer) and Mr. C. W. Denyer (district hon. secretary). Towers тepresented were Addershot, Ash, Tarnlam, Bagshot, Bentley, Crondall, Eeale, Forktown, Guiliford (Galhedral), Frensham and Clandon. Visitors were present frum Wokingham, fichmanisworth and Watford.
Apologies were recaived from several hon, members and from Mr. I. S. Goldsmith (Guild eecretary, who was indisposed)

No other nominations lawing been received, the following were declared elected: Ringing Master, Mr. R. Hasted; hon. secretary, Mr. G. W. Denyer; hon, auditor, Mr. P. L. Eldridge; executive committee rapresentatives, ringing, Messrs. F. Nye and T'. Upshall; honorary, Mr. W. A. Dollimore.
Nomjations for Guild officers were mado as follows: Major Hesse (Master), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hon. secretary), Mr. J. Corbett (hon. treasurer), Mr. Hasted (hon. auditor)
Towers selected for 1937 meetings were: Aldershot (eight bells), Bagshol (eight), Crondall (six), Frensbam (six).
The balance sheat for 1935 showed receipts totaling 23395.54. and an expenditure of 917 19s. 5d., lenving a balance im hand of E15 10s. The statement, was adopted.
Thee new hon. members elected were Mr. F. Cole (Aldershot), the Rev. W. M. Blaikie (Ash), and the Rev. W. Towney (Yorktown).
Mr. Nye proposed a vote of thatks in Gapt Cann (Brookrood) for his donation of E1 to the districti, and Mr. Ewens thanked the (Continued on next prge.)

districh for a donation of sl to the Forktown belf restoration fund. The lion. secretary was instructed to writo to Mr. E. Clapshaw corgratulating him an his $98 n$ birthday on January 26th. It was directed that a spectal vote of thanks to the hon. secretary for his work in the past should bo recorded in the minutes.
Mr. W. Melville (Guildford) congratulated the five Aldershot fingers who rang their fast peal of Superlative Surprise at Yorktingers who rang their hast, pacal fine performanee.
Mr. J. Carbett (13asshot) proposed a vote of thanks to Canon Girling for the use of the bells, for his fine address and for taking the clinir at the meeting; to Mr. G. C. Macklin, organist of the Parish Church, and mombers of the cloir; to Mr. Hasted for arranging the mecting ; and to the werger and caterers.
Prior to the meeting, ringing had taken place at the Parish Church unde the direction of Mr. R. Hasted, Riugiug Master, and the service was conducted by Canon Girling, whose striking address is reported below. Tea and the meeting took place at Rogers' Gafe, after whith there was further ringing, the methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge and Superiative Surprise Major.

RINGERS' GREAT OPPORTUNETY.

In town and in village our chureh bells to-day
Cry Come, you goad people, and put care away,'
For He who made blossow and sunlight and May,
Be certain rejoices in hearts that are gay.
The theme of the joy of ringing church bells in praise of God, running through the hymu, a verse of which is quoted above, was taken by Canon E. M. Girling as the subject of his address.

Canon Girling saiki it had been vemarked about English people that they took their pleasures sadjy. No doubt it was suid by a foreigner when he had been Jooking at the crowds on Waterloo Station before a holidny. If that same foreigner had gone into a ringing chanaber during a peal, and had watebed people concentrated for all they were worlh on the ringing of bells; if he hand seen them at the end of three and a quarter hours ${ }^{2}$ ringing, wot with their labour, quite unpaid, that same foreigner might have said, "These English men, and prossituly English women, do take their pleasures sadly.
And yet, said Canon Girling, bolltinging is infended to express the joy of life and the joy of religion. There are other people who express their joy in rabler a similar way. The baby with his drum, the boy who whistles as he goes to school or cames back from school, the girl singing "Miriam" with her fimbral daneing in front of the poople after a great deliverance, the violinist or the cornet piayerthey all belong to the same fellowship of those who try to express liteir joy in the most natural way of all by uttering songs of happiness and glee. Even tint foreiguer, when be had left the belfry and perhaps when he had come some way by the Castle, listening to the sound of our bells lonting across the fields, could not lielp feeling clated or coutil not help thimking there was joy in these English after all. Perhaps he had made a mistake.
It. is so natural, is it not, on all occasious of national rejoicings and so on, almost the first thing people say $\mathrm{is}_{3}$ ' $O h_{1}$, we must have the cfurel bells. Why? To express their joy. That surely is the main thing. It is true there is anather side. I do not forget that life is nots all joy all the time. Thare is the mufled bell that we ring ors proper ocengions; there are those mine tellers, as they call them, for the passing af the haman soun. Bellringing reffects the whole of life.

Put to-day there is a very great meed to emplasise the joy of true religion, because so many peopla have got tho iden that religinn is a dull, gloomy bing, something that prevents you from enjoying life, smd all that sort of nonsense. That is an entirely wrong conception of it. I know there have been times when perlaps the Puritan was in the ascendant, and Surday was a day of gloom, when no bells were allowed hecanse they were regarded as being evil in some way. Bot, speaking generally, bellringing is most typical of what religion should be, and that is a thing of joy

SOUND OF BELLS TOVOFES PEOPEE'S CONSCIENCES.

And when the bells before a gervice are ringing it is not to remind people that they ought to perform a rather unpleasant dutyThat is the fidea some people seem to have; perhaps it is one of the reasons why some people object to bellringing altogether. I don't think it is altogether lhat they have got a headache and cannot stand a naise; perhaps sometimes it is because it touches their consciencesthe bells remind them of it and they object very strongly to bellringing. Bellringing is not meant to call us to an unpleasaut duty, hut to remind us of one of the most spleadia privileges wo lave, the privilege of worship in God's honse. If one could only get joung prople to realise that it is not simply a daty but a very glad and higl privilege
If that be so, ringers can play a very important part in religion. I dere say you have all heerd on the wireless the Archbishop's "Reali to Religion.' Its is something that I hope will be no mere stunt but that it will have a very great effect upon this nation.
There gau ringars have your part. Naturaily you must not only the skilful in the ringing of the bells-f know you are that and in(Continned in next column.)

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED.
At a business meeting of the Cambridge Uaiversity Guild, held on January 18th, the Rev. A. C. Blyth, M.A., fellow and tutor of Selwyn College, was unanimously eleeted president of the Guild in succession the late Rev. A. H. F. Boughey
Mr. Blyth was nominated by the Master (Mr. R. D. St. J. Bmith, Sclwyn), and seconded by the hon. secretary (Mr. M. B. Shaw, Peterhouse), and the Rev. B. F. Slieppard (Irinity) also spoke strongly in favour of the nomization.
As nn undergraduate, Mr. Blyth filled the office of secretary in 1912 , during the Mastership of Mr. E. M. Atkins, and for the past few ycars has, as vice-president, deputised for the late president when failing health prevented him from taking his former part in the activities of the Guile
Mr. Blyth has rung a number of handbell peals for the Guild, inoluding Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Gracdsire Triples.

BIG CLOCK FOR EGYPT

FIVE AND A EAEF TONS HOUR BELL.

Messrs. Gillett and Jolnston, of Croydon, are carrying out an inportant clock and bell contract for Egypt. In consists of an allelectric clock and five bells, which are to be creeted el the Uaiversity of Gize, near Cairo.
The clock has loft. dials, and is provided with an auxiliary equi;mont which will ensure that the mechanism will continue to operate for 24 hours in case of failure of tho olectric current.
The hour bell weighs $5 \frac{1}{2}$ tons, and the Westminster quarter chimes will be struck on the other four bells.
On Tuesday afternoon the clock and bells were inspected by the Egyptian Charge d'Affaires, Eis Excellency A. B. Raliman Bey.

WEDDING BELLS

At St. Giles' Church, Willenhall, Staffs, on Saturday, January 16 th , the bells were 'fired' and touches of Rob Minor (with $7-8$ covering) nnd Grandsire Triples were rung immediately after the wedding of Miss Mary & Wendolina Wallater (eldest daughter of the conductor of the local balad) to M1. Norman G. Ravenscroft, of Short Heath, Wolverhampton). The ringerg were W. Edge, A. E. Reed, A. Evang, B. Munday, J. Luck, J. Pickon, R. Sidebotham, E. Hortin, S. H. Galey, F. Magness and J. Pritchard.

DEATH OF A BOWDON RINGER.

MR. JOSEPH HOLT'S 47 YEARS' SERYICE.
A ringer at Bowdon Parish Church, Clieshive, for more than 47 yeare, Mr. Josepli Holt passed away recently after only a short illness.
Mr. Holt, who was a native of Bowdon, had been for 22 years licensee of the Railway Inn, Ashley Road, Fiale, and was wall known in the district. In addition to havirg been a bellringer at Bowdon Parish Church, he mas also at one time a chorister at the church, and was the first telegraph boy at Bowdon Post Office. The bells of the Parish Church were rung fully muffed on the day of Mr. Elol's dearh.
The funeral took place ab Altrimeham Cemetery, the Rev. W. H. Brind (curate at Bowdon Clurch) officiating.
Iu addition to the family mourners many ftiends gathored at the Fraveside, amung thom being Messrs. D. Vincent, S. Mottershead, G. Ohier and $P$. Gross (represeuting the ringers).
As a last token of respect the bells of Bowdon Parish Church were rung half-muffed in the evening. The touches included 360 of Minor, with 7-8 belhind, by G. Ollier 1, D. Vincent (couductor) 8, H. McKinnell 3, A. Brown 4, J. Hassel! 5, A. Etims 6, F. Cross 7. S. Mottershead 8. This was followed by a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples by J. Hassell (first quarter-peal of Triples) 1, B. Mckinnell 2, J. Saunders (first quarter-peal) 3, C. Tomlinson 4, D. Viucent (conductor) $\mathrm{E}_{\text {, }}$ A. Brown 6, A. Elkins 7, B. Mottershead (first quas'terpeal) 8.
This was the first quarter-peal rung on the bells by au eatively local company since the bells were augmented to eight in 1923.
After the ' whole pull awd stand ' had been rung a few times the bells were stopped one at a time, commencing from the treble.
Mr. Holt's age was then wolled on the tenor bell by S. Motterghead, who now lus the longest service at this church as ringer.

A two miuutes' silence was observed before the company dispersed.
creasingly so-yon must aot only take an interest in the belfry, you must also find your place and fill this place in the chureh. You must have in you the spizit of true religion and the joy of religion. If you experience that for yourselves I am perfectly certain it will have an effact even upon the bellringing itself. There will be no nore complaints about people getting slack, no diffalty in getting together the necessary eight or ten. On the contrary, all the members of the company will be there because they know that that is their piace, because they are going to tale part in the worship of God and because they know tha true joy of religion. And if that can happer, if all of tis are sincerely converted Christians, think what your bellringing can be. It can be a sacrament.

REVIVING ACTIVITIES IN LONDON

REVIVING ACTIVITIES IN LONDON

The revivnl of the annual dimer and u decision to arrange for Sindiny service ringing at additional churches in London were matters of special interest hofore the ammal meeting of the Royal Cumberland Youlhs at St. Martin's-in-the-F'edds on Saturday. Despite a very dismal day, over fifty mambers attended, many of them coming from far aftel. In tho afternoon there was ringing both at St. Bride's, Flect Slreet, and St. Martin's, and tea was served in the crypt at the lattor church, where for the entertainment of the ladies who served the raeal a touch of Sterman Caters was rung on handbells belonging to Mr. C. E. Waters, of Watford.
The business meeting was held in St. Martin's Vestry Hall, the Fiear (Rev. Pat MeCormacs) presiding, supported by the Master (Mr. G. H. Cross), the hon. secretary (Mr. G. A. Card), and the hon. treasurer (Mr. G. W. S'teere),
The lastmamed presented the balance slieet, which showed receipts, including the subscriptions of thirty new members, of $£ 1316 \mathrm{~s}$. Gil. The experdilure amounterl to $£ 19$ 8s. 50., and included 8616 s . for the menarial to the late Master (Mr. J. D. Matthews), £1 Js. to the Wm . Pye memorial, El Central Council subscription, and f2 2s. to the funds of the Central Council Entertainment Committce. The balance in hand ats the end of the year was 99 75s. 1ta.-The accounts were adopted.

Tho Hon. Secretary, in his report, said the year 1936 had been one of steady progress in the ennals of ringing. During the year the snciety rang 12 peals, consisting of Stedman Cinques 2 , Caters 1 , Mrisfol Surprise 1, Cambridge Surprise 1, Superlative Surprise 1,
Stedman Triples 1 Grandsive Triples 1, Minor in geven Stednan Triples $1_{1}$ Grandsive Triples 1, Minor in geven Surprise metheds 1, Bob Minor 2, and one peal of Stedman Triples on laadhells. One lady ringor yang her first peal of Stedman Cinquos, and an behalf of the socioty lie extended to her hearty congratulatious. The peal of Sterlman Triples ou Boxing Day at St. Martin's was rung in honour of the birth of a daughter to the Duke and Duchess of Kent. Information of the peal was forwarded to Zel crave Square, and a suitable reply was veceived. One enconragjng feature last year was the stealy increase in new members, 30 having benn electerl. The society owed a debt of gratitude to the Ticar and Chureln Council of 8 . Martin's for allowing them to place their safe and hoxes in the choir veshry, thus bringing to an end a cantroversy as to the eustorly of the safe. Three quarterly mectings hat been held, the most supcessful being at Gravesend. That at Beddington was held jointly widh two other gocieties, but the one which should have been held at Waldhamslow had to be transforred to Romfort owing to a misunderslanding. As a resuld of this experience he advised more thought boing given to the places selected for the quarterly meetings.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.
Mr-George Cross was re-elected Mnster, and in acknowledging the comrliment, said there was no need for pessimism with regard to the position of the saciety. In addition to the twelve peals ruag, thoy attempted Cambridge Maximus, which was lost after two hours, two peais of Cambridge Royal, a peal of Spliced Surprise Major, and a preal of tondon. The influx of young members was very encouraging.
Mr. G. A. Card was re-elected hon. secretary, with Mr. N. Summerhayes iss assistant secretary.
Mr. G. W. Stece wins re-elect
Mr. G. W. Steere wis re-elected hon, treasurer, and Miessrs. F. G. Symonds and A. Hardy trustees. Mr. T. Bevan was elected senior stemard, and Mr. J. E. Bailey junior stewnrd.
The elaction of four members prior to poal attempts was confurmed, and the following new menbers were elected: Mr. W. Stote, Coventryi Mr. E. Rowmar, Feltham; Miss D. T. Colegate, Sevenoaks; Mr. H. S. T. Willson and Mr. H. M. Mears, St. Olave's, Hart Sireet, London; Mr. B. W. Mny, Bobbing, Kent; Messers. J. T. O'Dell, R. H. Harman, D. IT. Harman and D. H. A. Pestall (Hampstead) and Mr. T. Collins (Rutislip)
It was decided to hold quarterly meetinge at Hampstead, with Higlagte and Gospel Onle, on March mifi ; Pimer on July 10th; and Si. George's, Southmark, in October

In conformity with a motion passed at a quartery meeting, it was announced that the amnual dinner was to be revived and arrangements had been made to hold it at the Bedford Hend Hotel, Majden Lame, on March 13til. The lope was expressed that members and their frients (including ladies) would supnort the funetion.
The Master referred to the society's service held in December at St. Olave's, Hart Street. Some of the ringers from that church had jomed the society, and the Ficar would like it very much if the sonicty would ring there for services on Sunday evenings occasionally. St. Bride's tower lad also been opencd to them agnin, which they very much appreciated, and ho guggested that the society should arrange to ring on Suaday evenings at oach of the churches once overy six weels. They already rang at Shoreditch twice a month.
After some discussion the Master's suggestion was adopted, and it was reciden to set up a voluntary rota of members for the purpose. All membern of the society within reach of London were invited to put. Their names on the list, in order to liake their turn as required. They should send their names and addresses to the assistant secretary (Mi. N. Summerhayes), 26, Wilmot Road, Dartford, Kent.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

STOCKPORT AND BOWDON JBRANCH ANNUAL MEETLNL
On Saturday last the annual meeting of the Stockport and Bowdon Bramch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at St. Peter's Church, Ashton-under-Lyne, when, in spite of exceedingly cold and winty weather, some 45 members and fricuds were present at the servico in church, couducted by the Vicar, ble Rev. R. L. Owen, who alsu gave a vory intoresting address. He took as the basis of his remarks the text, 'Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say rejojee.' He stressed the oecessiby of attenclance at practice if ringers were lo make any real scrwice of their ringing, and urged them not to look upon it as sacrifice but as a pleasant duty. Ho deplored the inslutlation of 'canmed" bells, and said that, while he agroed that tho machine was the friend of man, Ite thought we might at least leave the arts free from this mechanisation. He reminded those present that they sent out Sunday efter Sundry mud at other times the eall of the Giristian faith. They should therefore see to it that this fajth was shown in their daily lives and that they regarded their religion as a living thing and not merely a sort of insurance policy for the life to come.
After service, a botmetiful tea was served in the schools. The business meeting followed under tho chaipmanship of Mr. W. W. Wolstencroft (branch elainman), who apelogised far the absence of the Vient, who was just recovering from a woul of the fashionable complaint, influenga, and did not thinte it wise to stay out too long. He han, therefore, refurned home after condueling lie service. He extended it cordial welcome to the Guild, and hoped the members would approve of the rostoration work done.
The sudden death of Mr. Adam T. Marshand, of Disley, was announcod, and came as a shock to many present, as also did tho deaths of Messus. Holt and Dean, two of the older ringers at Bowdon. The meeting stond for a moment in silence, and then instructed the sechelary to canvey the sympathy of the branch to the relatives.

Tho annual report and statement of accounts were read and adoptorl, and the election of the offcers for the ensuing year then took place.
Votes of thanks were sccorded to the Vicar and wardens, the lonal ringers and their ladies, the organist and to all who had in any way contributed to the subcess of the mecting.
A roturn was matle to the tower, where good use was made of the bells, and there weve many bighly complimentary ramarks made on the fine way in which Messrs. Taylor and Co. have restored this poul of eight tlyough the generosity of the Barron Bell Trust.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION SMALL MEERTNG BUT PIENTY OF RINGING.

Tho January meeting of the Cloveland and Narth Yorkshire Assoeiation was held at Skelton-in-Cleveland on Saturdiay, Janumry 23 rat five atirable weather and the influenza epidemic probably kept some away. An excellent tea was provided iu the Churel Room, presided ver by the president of the association, Mr. J. O. Pollard.
There was no business to be discusserl, and, after giving a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the hells and electing a new member (Mr. J. W. Maorhouse, of Saltburn), a return was made to the tower for more ringing. With the exception of the break for tea, the bells were going from 3 p.an. until 8 p.m., the following methods being rung: Grandsive and Stedmna Triples, Boh Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major. Mernbers atvended from Ripon, Ormesby, Darlington (Holy Trinity) Guisborough, Salthurn, Middeshrongh eud the local company.
The next meeting will be held at Whitby on April 24th.

LINCOLNSHIRE VICAR LEAVES MONEY FOR BELLS.

At Burton-on-Stather, Lines, on Mondny, January 25th, after failure of penl attempt, 720 ehranges of St. Clement's Minor: B. Gillatt 1, A, Thornton 2, A. Tomlinsan 3, J. Bray (conductor) 4. E. Brittain 5, B. Gillatt, jun., 6. Rung wilh bells half-mufled as a lust. token of esteem for Ganon F. A. Jarvis, 39 years Vicar of the parish. Canon Jarvis was responsible for the three old bells being made inta gix In 1920, giving nae of them himself. He has loft, in his will, a sum toward the cosit of adding two trobles.

(Gontinued fram previous column.)

A vate of thanks to the Rev. Pat MeCormack was proposed by Chief Inspector Bottrill, seconded by Mr. A. Pye, ncknowledgmeni being made of the Ficar's interest in the society, of the use of the bells, of the tea in the crypt, and of his prosidiag at the meeting.
The vicar said le was delighted to welcome the society, and wislied them q successful year.
Thanirs were ncoorded to the ofticers for their services during the past year, and to Mr. T. Bevan and Mrs. Gross for their activiticm in obtaining many new members. Mr. Fevar was also tianked for getting the bells of St. Rride's ready that day,
Mr. Bailey expressed appreciation of the attendance of the members who had come long distances to be present, and the Master appealed for a better attemance at the montlily meetings at Shorcditch.
Tribute was paid to the memory of mombers who lad passed nway during the yenr, and the meeling then terminated.

THE LATE MR. H. R. PASMORE'S PEALS.

DISTINGUISHED PERFORMANCES.
Some reference las aliready bcen made in 'The Ringing World ' to the peal performances of the tate Mr. Harry R. Pasmoze, who was a mernber of both St. Patl's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey bands. He was a ringer and cenfuctor of exceptional ability. In his first 12 monthe as a peal ringer he rang eight peals, which inchuded Superlative and London Surprise, at the age of 17. Before he was 20 he had rung in the first three Surprise pale rence in one diny, and also non-conducted peals of Loudon and Cambridge Surprise. Later in the sane year he conducted the first handbell peals of Superlative ever rung, and afterwards took part in that wonderful performance, Carter's Odd Bob One-Part peal of Stedmau Triples non-conducted on handibells.
The following is the list of his peals:-

FUNERAL OF MR. G. W. STOKES.

"Hhe funeral of the late Mr. George W. Stokes, of Tastbourne, who filled many offees in the Sussex County assnciation, including that of secretary of the Eastern Division from 1920 to 1922, took place on Mondiy, January 25th. The first part of tho ecrvice was held in St. Plinip's Church, and the intermenl took place at Langney Cemetery.
The association was represented by Mr. A. C. Pankhurst (lion. secretary of the Fastern Division), Mr. F. Dallaway and Mr. H. Hobden (St. Saviour's) and Mr. G. Piper. The Vicar of St. Saviour's, where Mr. Stokes had been a member of the company for 16 years, was also present.

Among the many wreaths was one from the Sussex Association, one from St. Saviour's hand and one from St. Mary's company.
Al St. Saviour's Church on the previous day a half-muffied quartarpeal of Grandsire Triples was rung by G. Fobbs 1, H. G. Reytolds 2, H. S. Hoblen (condtuctor) 3, IE. Pray 4, F. F. Dallaway 5, E. Gower fi. A. C. Panklurst 7, L. Faulkner B.
Mr. Stokes, who was 61 years of age, will be particularly missed at East hourne, wlile the associstion also has sustained a great loss. In guntition to his service as divisional secretary, he had serven on the Committen of Advice, was a trustee for five years and hon. treasurer for two years. He liad rung about a hundred peals.

ATTENDANCE AT DISTRICT MEETINGS

If the trouble were taken by all District Secretaries to analyse the attendances of individuals at association meetings, we wonder what proportion of the actual membership would be found showing their active interest and support in this direction? We are prompted to ask this question as the result of certain statistics presented to a ringers' meeting on Saturday, when it was revealed that in a district with over 160 members, the main support had come from seventeen only. The district in question is not geographically large and presents no unusual difticulties in regard to communications, yet the figures showed that, all told, less than a quarter of the members took the trouble to attend any meeting. We have no doubt there are many areas where, if an analysis were made, similar facts would come to light. In every association there are ringers who loyally support the meetings arranged for their interest and benefit, and every secretary knows his 'regulars' who are the backbone of whatever success may attend a gathering. We are far from suggesting that meetings miss their object when the presence of the stalwarts has to be solely relied upon, but they would serve an even more useful purpose if ' new faces' were constantly appearing.
The wider the attendance at meetings, the more are officials encouraged, and let it not be forgotten that officials need and deserve encouragement. They carry the burden of the day; they have to do the work; they are the people who are grumbled at if things go wrong, but members seldom think how disheartening it is when, after all the labour expended, those for whose benefit everything has been done fail to respond. The very idea behind district meetings is to bring these gatherings close home to the members; to give them facilities for meeting and ringing such as centralised management could not be expected to provide, particularly in hig associations. There never was a time when ringers of all classes were given so many opportunities to get together for mutual practice and social intercourse, and yet many fail to grasp these occasions to expand their knowledge and make a growing circle of ringing friends. Those who miss the social side of ringing do not know the full pleasure of being a member of the Exercise, but even though they are content to miss this phase of it, they should at least feel it a duty to support their association's meetings. Sometimes ringers complain that they get nothing out of membership of a Guild; that is because they put nothing into it, except, perhaps, an annual subscription. They would get interest and pleasure in abundance if they would make the most of the facilities provided and join their fellows in district and

TRY TREBLE BOB

There are alwayg a number of six－bell ringers who，cither by lack of opportunity or want of initiative，seem to stick at Bob Minor． They seldom go to other towers，and if they do are not propared to try anything beyond what they already know；indeed，it is often because their knowledge is so restricted that thoy will not go to other towers for fear of clowing up their limitations．
Welt，this inferiority complex is all wrong．It discourages elforb to make progress．There are lots of things that Bob Minor ringare couk ring，with very little dificulty，if thoy would put their minds to it but steps in ringing seem to l站 standardised to some extent，and the next stage to Bob Minor，in six－bell riuging，is ngally Trable Boh，
The man who can ring an inside ball to Phin Minor abould be able with very little study to rins Treble Bob．When ringing the piain method he knows how to dodge in 3－4 or 5－6 when be comes to the proper positions；he knows，also，how ta lead and make 2na＇s place． If he wants to ring Treble Bob－and no one should stagnate on Bely Minor－this knowledge can be usefully applied，and can form the basis of the new work．
In Plain Bob the dodging comes once in every lead；in Treble Bols there is a continuous succession of dodges．In a sense，therefore，the dodging is casier，because jastend of baving to find the right position once every lead，in Treble Bob you just dodge in every dodfins placo as you come to it－what jou really have to learn io when not to dodge．

A dodge in Troble Bob is exactly the same as a douge in Plain Boh， that is you go back one stap，when you reach 4th＇s or 6th＇s going up， and 5ti＇s and 3rd＇s coming down．In certain circumstances，also，you dodge in $1-2$ ，or＇＇on the front＇＇as it is sometimes called．
If you are practising Treble Bobly a band of beginners it is not a bad thing to grasp the general idea by ringing a donging lead． You mey，perlaps，have got wour frst ideas of Plain Bob by ringing a plain honting course＇；apply this to the Treble Bob principle．AII the bells（treble included）dodge in every dodsing pince as they come to it．The treble，for example，beging by dodging in 1－2 up，then in $3-4$ up，then in 56 up，before Iyirg a whole pull behind；then in $6-5$ down，4－3 down and $2-1$ down before leading a whole pull．The other bells do the same from their respective positions，the＂odd bells （ 3 and 5）going up and＇even＇belis（2， 4 and 6）down．This ＇dodging＇lead will give a repettion of changes，but for the purpose of practice it will not matter；it will teach you how to find your why from one dodge to the next
The oasiest of the Treble Bob mothons to ring is Kent．It is produced by two deviations from the continueus dodging which you had in the ＂dodging lead＂；ane is that a bell stays on the front，＂alternately loading th whole pull and lying a whole pull in 2nd＇s place，from the tiroe the treble goes away from its clodge in $1-2$ until it retinns to dodge in 2－1．The other deviation is that，while the treble is＂on the front（dodging down in 2－1 and then，after leading，up in 1－2），the two pairs of bells which come together in $3-4$ noke places insterd of dodging；the bells going up making 3ud＇s ind 4th＇s，nnal the bells goikg down making comrespending places in 4th＇s and 3世d＇s．
To begin with it may be as well to remember that the places dow are made after dodjing 5－6 up with the trelule，or passing the lreble in 4－5．The places up are made after passing the treble in $2-3$ ser dodging with the treble in 1－2 up－this latter you do after you come out of the sblow work，as the ritentate leading and End＇s ylaco－ making is called．
And one oblier thing．The slow worle prevents any lodeing on thas front axcent with the treble，so that after dodging in 4－3 each bell goes straight to lead and straight out to 3－4
Al］this mayseem rather a lof to romember，hat we line gone inio some detail with the explanation becange we want pon to undrrstand how the metton is made up．Try and wrile out a lead or two to see how it goes．Here is half a lead to sive you a slart：－

& 123456 \\
& 213465 \\
& 124356 \\
& 214365 \\
& 241535 \\

& 246153 \\
& 264513 \\
& 625431 \\
& 624513 \\

\end{aligned}

Briefly put，the rules for cinging the method are：When you dodge in 2－I with the treble，sfay in the＇slow＇until the trelile returns io you．Then，having dodged witls the treble in 1－2，nake 3rd＇s and 4 th＇s going oll
In the next lead，pass the treble in 2－3．and again make 3 od＇s and 4th＇s．Except for this always dodge in 3－4 and 5－6 both up and down until fou pass the treble in 4－5，then make 4th＇s and 3rd＇s coming in： and again in the next lead，hnving ciodged in 5－6 up with the trehle． make $4 \mathrm{hh}^{\prime}$ s and 3ra＇s，which brings you to dodge on the front with the treble and so into the＂slow．＂
There is so dodgizg 1 in $1-2$ excopt with the tryble，The places in 3－4 are made the＇wrang way，that is backstroke and handstroke．

A DISTRICT SECRETARY'S STRAIGHT TALK  GUILDIFORD GUILD MEMBERS ${ }^{\text {E ENJOX }}$ ' A CASTPGATION.

 Suggesfed Cathedral Bell Fund ScherneAnather of the district secretaries of the Guildford Diocesan Guild has 'unburdened his sotrl' in his anmual report. 'Ehis time it is the secretary of the Guildiord District. Every Jear the members of the district attend their annual meeting with the seuse of lively anticipation of "things to come, and they are never disappointed. Mr. G. L. Grover's habit of 'calling a spade a spade' leads to outspolsen criticism. Last Saturday whe members again enjoyed their' 'castigation,' and at the clase passicd a genuinely sincere vote of thanks to their sceretary for his labours awd his report.

Fere are some points from the report, and they will probably interest others than the members of the Guildford Guild, because there must be many other associations who sufer, more or less, from the same kind of apathy, which is the burden of this report.

Judged from the balance shect and the number of members who paid subscriptious for last year, a castal observer would say that the district has jogged along satisfactorily during the last year. No spocial paymont laving been made in the past year, the balance in hand has increased to $£ 25$ 6s. The number of rinuing members paying for 1938 was 163 , as against, 171 who paid for 1935 , not a greut loss considering one tower fell ont altogether. Onr list of honorary memhers contimues to shrink; only 11 paid fot 1936, as against 17 in 1935. I do remind you all, and tower secretaries in particular, that local effort is almost the only possible means of obtaining and retaining hothorary mombers.

Five district meetings were held and only on one occasion (batat, unfortumately, the very occasion when we regtired an exceptionally good ettendance) was the attendance of distriet members startlingly poor. Although, as I say, the position judged from the balance sheel, the list of members and the fact that no district meeting wis an absolute " wash out " does not look too bad, but beauty, effer all, is often only ekin deep, andi a closer analysis of the situation reveals a state of fffairs not too encouraging to district officers.

Wo lately appenr to have lost, at any rate for the time being, two towers from which in provious years we have always had a fair number of subscriptions. It is a great pity to lose towers like this and we really ought to make a great effort to avoid such things.

To me miad the district is not held together very securely. We are a long way as yet from having achieved that first object of the Guild, namely, "To unite in ane organisation the separate companies of church belingingers within the district for the purpose of mutual support and encouragement."

There are now five towars in ont district from which we have no members at all, and there dre four further towers with less members members at than they havo hells.

SUPPORT OF DTSTRICT MEETTNGS ANALYSED.
The report then went on to give an analysis of the mamer in which the district towers supported their district meetings. By a process of atwarding marks for attendances at metings awry from their osm towerg, the secretary had arvived at a schedule which musi have surprised the members.
"r'he best tower' had 15 mariss. whicli meant, 15 attendunces at meet ings during the year, hut the comment here was that four membets from that tower earued all the maths. In practically every case the attendancos were made ly just is very few of the members, and in the case of ten towels whe made no attencances the report saja it was 'all a waste of postage, stamps and the sectetary's time so firt as concerns district mectings. The report proceeded: 'Five members mado Eour ationdances each, eight members three each and fony two each, so that 17 members actnally formed the backbone of district meetings- 17 out of 163! Does it look as if the majority of our memhers are doing anjthing towards laphing" to write in one organisation the separate companies in the disiriot "? How can you contribute to minity if you stant isolated? It seems that. most of our members look mpon the payment of a subscription as boing their only duty to the as an isolated selfenntained centre.

I truat, continted the fecretary, 'that you will not go away toनielat convincex that everything is going on smathly without yomr help and that you can leave the dinistet officers and those 17 members who saved our alistrict meetings last, yean to kcep things going during this coming yeat. T trust that all the diftrict members will this year make a genuine and very determined effort towards attaining real unity and being a real source of enconrasement and suppott to their fellow-Finger's. I do not ask you even to hope flat you will make every ringer in the district into faultless producer of changee, hus T do ask pon to do quite a lot moro towards making the district man ouganisation and not just a collection of towers, each filled with ringers who think that they, by their onn maided efforts, are better than their reighbours.
Referring to the puestion of peal ringing, the secretary said: '] will give yon a Eew defails and leave you to form pour own apinion as to whether onveforts in heal ringine are gny sign of progress as pegards thn ristrict fs a whole. Eighteen district members took part ith peals diring the Joar, and of that mumber onty tituee rang in four or more peals. Only four fowtrs are rembernted in the list of peal ringers. There was ope first peal. The rlicle of towers for peal ring ing was limited to five.

The report referred lo a scheme for the interchange of visits on practice niglits by neighouring towers which had been initiated, and the hope expressed that the scherve was being carried olt, althouglt no reports had been received as to its mrogress

NEW CATHEDRAL BELJS FUND.
The secretary, in conchusion, drew attevtion to the New Calhedral Bell Fund, which the Guild maugurated threa Fears ago. That the Cathedral when completed sliall have a peal of bells hung for ringing is, said the report, a matter which merits the oarnest attention and efforts of the Guild, and I amn not really sure that our New Cathedral Bell Fhad is given enolgh promivence. For your very serious consideration I suggest that we rocommend to the Guild that each tower in the Guild be invited to subseribe an annual minimum sum to the fund. The minimum could be the very modests stim of Is, per tower. My proposition is, therefore, that the Guild be asked through its Executive Committee to consider the possibility of obtanling anntial contributions to the Cathedral Bell Fund from towers in the diocese, and, if thought practical, to arrange nccordingly.
The Ringing Masler, in his report, stated that in the bowers which he had been able to visit Suaday serwice ringing appeared ta be maintained, even if practices were not so zegular. The custom of some towers in dropping smmmer practiees might ho the cause, as he harl found it was often diffieult to revive them when astumn arrived. If practices were maintained during the summer even only to a limited oxtent, say once a fortnight or ouce a month, it would do much to help keep interest alive, especially among the younger memhers. A good deal had been mentioned lately ahout keeping the interest of learners. It appeared that sone inlerest beades riuging was needer? to keep then in the belfries. Several boys or young men who were 'pals' were more likely to attend frequently than oue who liad tho special "chum" learning at the same time. The thonght that if a learner was really inferested in ringing he would do his best to become proficient by attemang all the serviee ringing and practices is his own tower, and, what was move importand, by gning out to other towers on practiee mights as often as possible. Hu wonld zeceite a hearty welcome wherever he went.
The report added that tower caphains always emphasised that thay were pleased to see visitors at all times, and sometimes they bemoaned the fact that no ouside ringers went uent them. Perhaps if they took the initimbe and went ont themselvea, more interelange of visits world result. A large number of ringers never visited any otlyer tower
The report went on to refer to the five district meetings which were held, to the reopening of the recast bells at Chichdingfold and Shatford, and to the eleven tower-bell and bwo handloell peals tung during the year.

The meeting. which followed ringing and service at $\mathbb{S}$. Nicolast Church, was attended by about 50 ringers.
"1hirty-thres districh memhers were present from eleven towers. Oramleirh, Ewhurst, Guildford (Cathedral and §. Niwolas'), Haslemere, Firbright, Slinford, West Clandon, Woking, Wonorsh and Werplesdon. Other towers represented were Aldershot, Bagshot and Chertsey, and visitors inclufled Miss Oakshett and Mr. F. Oakshett (Hayes) and Mv. T. Bennett (Catford).

Major J. Fi B. Hesse \{Mnster of the Guild presided over the meeting, at which the loss of members by death was first referred to, and regret marked by those present standing in silence.
 tions and $£ 17 \mathrm{~s}$, fa. from hom, members, revealed an fucreased halane of $\mathrm{S4} 14 \mathrm{~s}$.
In the discussion which followed the lion. secretary's reporl, members reported on the result of the interchange of visits between towers on modetiec nights, gnd in several cases this semen to have worked satisfactorily, but in others lack of local interest had led to failure to establish successful working.

It was decided to adopt the hon. semetary's suggestion to extend the appeal for the New Cathedra] Bell Fund. and also (sulject to the approval of tise general meeting of the Guild) to wote fs from the district funds fow the purpose.

The Seeretary's and Ringing Master's reports wore formally received. All the district officers were re-elected, and the ringing members chosen for the Fxemtive Commitee were Messre. W. Melville (Oatheral) and $R$. Cheirwman (IPirloright).
Tlie eight-boll fowers of Clidiningfold, Gonalming. Shalford and West Claydon. and the six-hell tower of Albury, were chosen for meetings during the forthcoming year. The gecretury cansed amusement after the selection of Albury (19 votes) over Pirbright by asking those who voterl for this tower for their names, so that he could check up their atherdanee whem the meeting took olace.
Messrs. T. and J. Denver (Teswhurst, W. Cone. T. Wehb, J. Weat. members of the Guild.
The Guik oflicers were remominated an bloe, and the meeting terminted with a vole of thans to whe distrite offreys for than service.
The Rectar of S. Nicalas" was thanked for the use of the bells and conducting the servicr, and the preachew, the Rector of West Clandon (the Rev. M. O. Bowd) for his address. Tharks wree also necorded th the anthorities at the Gathedral for the use of the hella ahorine the ortimnna. After the menting there was furblher riaging at $S$. Nicolas' Chureh.

WILLIAM PYE MEMORIAL.

DISPOSAL OF THE BALANCE.
The receipts and expenditure account of the William Pye Memorial Fund is given below. It has been audited by Mr. G. W. Fhetcher, hon. secretary to the Central Conncil.
The disposal of the balance of the fund, amounting to $£ 8$, was considered by the Memorial Committee at a recent meeting, and, after severa! suggestions had been discussed, it was unanimously agreed to record one of the late William Pye's greatest performances, viz., the 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, to which le rang tho tenor, at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, on December 19th, 1925. It is hoped that the authorities at that church will agree to this, end permit, an appropriate footnote to be placea on the tablet as a memorial to William Pye, from the Ringing Exercise.
The Memorial Conmittee take this opportunity of thanking all stuscribers to the fund. The generons response made by the Exercise enabled them to cariy out, without stiat, all that they desired, and the results have given the utmost satisfaction. It is hoped to place a record of the work, a list of the subscribers and a copy of the eccounts amongst the church records at St. Joln's, Leytongtone.

Peals in two fresh Surprise methods aro recorded this week, Lutterworth, by Mr. E. W. 'ripier, at Old Windsor, and Knebworth, by Mr. H. G. Cashmore, at Aldenliam.

Mr. Alfred E. Pitstow, one of Saffron Walden's veterans, took part in a peal at Shorediteln on Seturday. It was his first peal with the Royal Cumberlauds for 45 yeara.
The handbells used at the meeting of the Royal Chmberland Youthe were brought by Mr. C. W. Thylor, of Watford, an hon. member of the Eerts County Association. Aithough not a ringer himself, Mr. Traylar is keenly interested.
Congratulations to the Oxford Diocesan Guild band, which included one lady, who rang an unconducted peal of Stedman Triples at Goring-ou-Thames on Safurday. We would like to seo moxe such performances in other guilds and associations.
The North Stafis Association has already taken steps to organige peals in celebration of the King's Coronation. At a meeting last Suturday plans were laid, and it was suggested that any peals rung during May should be recognised as 'Coronation peals.'

A CONTRAST IN BELL BROADCASTS.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir -On reading the correspondence and explanalion re the nhove in last weck's issue, it strusk me that, while you gave a brief explanation of the case in point, you did not go to the root of the mattor raised by your correspondent, Mr. D. G. Taylor.
Bells are not ftted with dampers like a piano, and, tharefore, will always be liable to produce the tour complained of, just the same as a piano would if forced to enit the 1812 Overture with the loud pedal lastened down.
Bells are apparently at the mercy of the engineer in charge of the broadcast. If he is resourceful enough or lucky enough to find a spot for the 'mike' where it can pick up just the necessary amount, and no more of the disturbance than is lequired, well and good; if otherwise, well, the roar will be there, Simpson or no tuning at all, and I would suggest to any liskener seeking a fresh stick to beat, Simpson toning with, that he postponse any further correspondence until after March 7th next, when I belicwe there will be a good answer to this query if he will tane in to Droitwich at 9.25 a.m.
T. GROOMBRIDGE.

A MODEJ, PERTORMANCTE.

Dear Sir, Survey, Lancashire and the B.B.C. all played their part nobly on Sunday. The Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples were beautifully struck and came over the air to perfection. Also in the evening we were permitted to hear Bolton bells go of from rounds into changes and finish up with a few rounds at the end. Altogether is model performance.

POPULARISE GOOD METHODS

To the Editor
Sir,-May I associate myself with your excellent leading article of January 29th, with which I am furly in arreement? The nomber of Surprise methods worth ringing, ming and still to be rung is legion. In this comer of the country many Surprise Major methorts have been rung, some 12 of them for the firse time. Practically all of these are worth popularising. In ordey to become popular it seems to me that a method must fulfil the following condibions: (1) It mast be ensy to learn; (2) it must be musical, given the right composition; and (3) it musti lend itself to the production of plenty of gaod compositions. Now Ashtead Surpriso Majol stands out in the Surprise class, for it has e clean proof scale and nll the before-mentioned attributes. Will sill the 'Cambridge' ringers bry it and see if they don't agrea with me?

Mr. G. E. Symonds asks for few methods which extend from six or oight th twelve as well as Camloridge does. May I refer him to the Rev. E. Bankes Janaes" "Painswick, a most musical Surprise Major method. The extensions to ten and twelve have not yet been rung, and I am sure are well within the capabilities of the Ipswich band.
Let us now hear some recommendations from somabody for the Plain methods.

ALAN R. PINK

VICAR SPOILS HIS 'FAREWELL PEAL'

On Sunday week, as a farewell to the Yicar, the local band at Christ Church. Eastbourne, attempted a peal of Grandsire Triples. The band consisted of all youmesters, and womld have included three 'first pealers.'
All went well until atter 3 hours 5 minutes, with only five calls to go, when the Ficar (who had olitained another key) walked into the centre of the tower and commenced a speech of thanks to the ringers. This was ton much for the 'first pealers,' and 'stand' had to be called.

Apologies followed, of course, luts it was a very disappointed banc that cane down from the tower.

BIRMINGHAM CATHEDRAL BELLS.  SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN AT RECASTING CEREMONY.  Distinguished Visitors at Croydon Foundry

The first of the new bells for Birmingham Gatredral were cast a Croydon Bell Foundry on Thesday morning in the presence of a dislinguished company, including no fewer than six of Hirmingham's Members of Parliament, headed by Sir Austen Chamberlain. The othors were the RI. Hon. L. S. Amery, Comdr. J. A. C. Wright, Sir Patrick Fannon, Mr. E. W. Sall and Mr. J. Smedley Crookc. They were received at the Foundry by Mr. Cyril Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, and the other guests included Mr. H. G. Williams, M.P. for Croydon, and Mrs. Willianas, the Mayor and Mayoless of Croydon, Dr. Newnhan (town clet of Croydon) and Mrs. Newnham, Mr. H. Berney, D.L., J. P.: Mis. Berney, and others.

The visitors were first escorted on a tour of the warks, where they saw the warious processes of bell-making in operation. The massive frame for the Cathedral bells was under construction, and it is obvious that the founders are providing a structure which is going to 'do its job' perfectly. Another frame which was of great interest was thit destined for Darlington. It is "the bell frame of the future, all the mombers being welded instead of bolted together. This is a comparalively new departure in bell-frame construction, but it luas geeat possibilities.

Many bells and frames in process of preparation were on view, but the visitors found the new $5 \frac{1}{2}$ ton bourdon bell and the four quarter bells for the great clock at Giza, near Cairo, an 'exhibit' of great interest.

The visitors assembled in the foundry for the casting, and a considerable gathering watched the operations, silver coins being tossed inte the molten metal, as it was poured, by Sir Austen Chamberlain and others. The bells east were the 4 th, 5 th, 6 in and $9 t h$ of the peal, and the soins had bean specially provided by the principal donor of the belis, Sir Charles Hyde, those selected being of a 'purer vintage' than those in common use to day.

> MESSAGE TO PROVOST

After the ceremony the interesting clock factory was inspectect, and afterwards the M.P.s with Mr. Cyitl Johnston were entertained to lunch at Groydon Constitutional Club by Mr. Herbert Willians and Mr. Henry Berney
The following telerram was sent to Bishop Hamilton Baynes, Provost of the Cathedral, before the compary dispersed:

BELILS TO BE LOWER IN TPFE TOWER.
The bells are to be completed in time for the Goronation rejoicings, and the new tenor will be slightly heavier fhan the old one-ahout 31 ewt. They will be brought eight feet lower in the tower, thus adding fircugth to bhe building by the scientifically construeted frume and the reduced strain on the walls. There will we the further ndvantage, that the noise immediately outside the tower-an important faetor jn a busy city-will be substantially reduced.
The old inseriptions are to be reproduced, with the addition of Recast by Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, 1937.'

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

DISPOSAL OF COLLTETIONS AT DTSTRIOT MTEPTNGS
The quartarly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at St. Ficholas', Deptiord, on Saturday, Janurry 30 th, when some 50 mam hers braved the inclement weather and pit in in appearance. Good practies was obtained in various methods during the afternoon ant ovening by ringers from Beekenhan, Bromley, Chislehurst, Craford, Dartford, St. John's (Deptford), Deptford, Darlford, Eltham, Erith, Lec, Lewisham, London and West Wickhann.

Service wes conducted by the Tev. V. S. Dodson, Tli.L. (munte) and the ortganist and a sumbl choir were jan attendamee. A collection for the Association's Benevoleut Fund realised 12s.

Arter service the members were the guesis at tea of the Ficar and churchwardens. The curate presided, and regretter the absence of tho Vicar (the Rev. T. W. Pitman) throngly indisposition.

The business meoting was opened by the chairman (ihe Rev. V. S Dodson) with prayer. Later he gave a short and much upprecialed address (time not being allowed him to slo so during the servico) before proceeding with the ordinary business.
Six uew ringing members were elected, and the election bf two nembers previous to peal attempts was confirmed.
Mr . F. J. Cullum read in report of puoceedipgs at the committee meeting held at Madstone in November, and Mr. J. Wheadon oxpressed his antire agreement with the report, which was adopted with a vote of than\}s to the representatives for preparing it.

Ohelsfield wns chosen as place for next meeting, to be held, if possible, on Saturday, April 17th.

The matter of the disposal of the proceeds of the collection at the meetings was discussed. Some members felt that such occasions put the chureh vigitesl to quite considerable expenditure, and suggeated that all or part of such offorings be allocated to the church expenses fund, to meet, in part, the expense so incurren
The Chaimma explained the legal standing of the chutchwardens in tho matter of church collections, nnel gave very usoful advice as to method of procedure when it was desired by the subscribors that cestain collections should be earmarked for specinal purposes.
It was agreed that the subject bo placed before the Management Committeo in order to ret some standard practice in nll tho districts ins the assaciation.
The meeting congratulated Mr. E. Barnett on the completion, that day, of his forticth year as a member of the associaion.
Votes of thanks to the Vicar, curate, churchwavdens and the laalies who had anrarged the tea, for their generous hospitality; to the Ficar for the use of the bells; to the curate, organist and choil for the enjoyable service; to the enrate for presiding at tean and meting; and to Mr. I. Forwood, the local secretary, for the armagemont he had mede, wern carried with enthusiasm.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.  PRESDENT'S 'SLVEN JUBLLEE.'

Presentation to Canon and Mrs. Marshall.

The sixty-first annual meeting of the Yorkshire Association, held at Far Feadingley on Saturday, January $30 t h$, was made memorablo as marking the Rer. Canon Marslall's 'siver jubilee' as president. The bells of St. Chad's, Far Headingley, St. Michael's, Headingley, and St. Matthing', Burloy, were available for the use of the visitors, and ringers packed the ringing chambers until, at St. Chad's, they rivalled timued sardines.
The annual service was held in St. Chad's Church at 4.15 p.m. whon the aspociation was honoured by the presence of the Lord Bishop of Ripon. The service was conductev by the president of the association (Canon C . C. Mar'slall), and members of the choir were also present.
The sermon was delivered by the Bishop of Ripon, who brought witli him greetings from the ringers of St. Mary's, Portsea, his formex parish, who had written to him seying that they would be thinking of him and the wathering at Far Headingley chat afternoon. This kindly thonght of the Portsea ringers was much appreciated. His Lordship spoke of the special stguificance of that gatherimg, at which Canon Marshal! completed 25 years as prosident of the Yorkshire Association, and of the immmerable ways in which God throughout the ages had twied to speak to nan.
Tea was generously provided in the schools by Canon and Mrs, Marmhall, a real ringers' tea, and, desmite the weather snow gar slash, well over 200 ringers and friends sat down. Among those present were the president (Canen C. C. Marshall) aud Mrs. Marshall, the Bishop of ${ }^{2} \mathrm{ipon}, \mathrm{Mr}, \mathrm{S}$. F: Palmer (hou. treasurer), Mr. W' Barton (peal secrotary), Mr, G. Lewis (vice-president, Southorn Divi(ion), Mr. F. Gryer (vios-presideat, Eastem Division), Mr. P. J Jolnen (rice-president, Western Division), Mr. G. Barraclough, of Leeds, who was present at the fountation meeting of the association In 1875, and at welcome visito: in Mr. W. C. Bond, formerly of Cirencester and now of Hull.
As tho Bishop had to leave soon nfter tea, it had been aryanged thal the presentation to the president in apprecialion of his 25 yenrs of untiring work for the association should be made immediately after ter instead of at the business meeting.

PRESIDENT'S SERTTCES TO THE ASSOCIATION

Mr. P. T. Tohnson said it was his privilege to voice the appreciation and gratilude of the thembers that day for the 25 yonis' devated fervice which Canon Marshall Harl given to the association. It was his priviloge to have known some of the earliest officers of the assaciation, and at the last presemtation of that lind, in 1912, they had prosent some of the officers who had been original ofticers of the assonation. Fe was pieased to say that day they had at least one member present who was present at the foundeition meeting of the association in 1875, Mr, G. Barraclough (applanse). They of the Yorkshire Assomition tools pride in the fact that with the exception of tho Devon Guild theirs was the senion connty association in England. "Pheir first president, T. W. Snowdon, in his short 11 years as president, was remembered for the principles of change ringing laid down in his hooks, whiel to-day were still recognised as the standard texh liooks in the Exolcise. To follow men like him and his brother, Willinm Snowdon, was no oasy task.
He lind knowir Canon Marshajl to be invited to all parts of the county to advise on bell restomation, and it was anything but a profitable $\begin{gathered}\text { fronulation when the became president. Much of the worle he did }\end{gathered}$ Wra mascen, and the good feeling botween the association and the diatrint societies was mainly due to the president (applanse). Special commondation was fue to lijm for his efforts to come to an understanding with the Clevelamd and North Yorkshire Associrtion.
They would like him to know, proceeded Mr. Johnson, that the interest in this presentation was very widespread, not for the intrinsic value of the presents, lut es an expression of roodwill and thanks for all Canon Marshall had done during his presidency-
Tho only person who knew how long a finger was away from home pas tho ringer's wifo (langhter). They had bought a sinall present for Mrs. Mnralafl for pending out the Canon on so mants occasions in the past and in anticipation of further favones to come (latighter and applatuse

CANON MARSHALL THANKS THE MEMBERS.

Turning to the Lord Bishop of Ripon, Ms. Johnsen suid, 'May I ask you, my lord, to present these to Canor Marshall from the members, and we do hope whenever he sees them they will remind him of his many happy associations witly us and ott apprecietion of his many kindnesses to us.

The Bishop then handed a dock and a pair of binoculars to Camou Marshall and a leather bay to Mrs. Marslall, of the same time ex pressing his own appreciation of what Canon Marshall liad done.
Amiưst applanse Canon Maraball accepted the gifts, and expressed his grateful thanks for them, saying they would always remind him of the many happy times he had spent with the bellringers of York shive. When he accepted offee be did so in fear, but he had received such uniform kindress from the officars and members that he was proud of the extraordinary goodwill which existed amontia them. He would over be grateful to those ringers at Birstall who first persuaded him to take up ringing.

Three things stool aut with regard to his ringing career. First, he was brought into contact with a wonderful number of people whom he was proud to call his friends: second, his office as pyesident of the association which had taken him all over the county? thively, it had enabled him to do a piece of church work whin someone liad to do and which it seemed he was called upon to do. There were many personal memories of which he would like to speak, but he would conclude by saying, "Thank you very, very much." He was prout of tlat day and of all that it meant (applause).

THE BUSINTES MEETENG
At the business meeting which followed, a vote of thanles to the respective incumbents and churchwardens for the use of the bells that day was carried, as was also the hearty thanks of the company to Cenon and Mrs, Marshall for the gencrons tea proviled that day, and to tho ladies who lad so kindly helped at the tea tables.
In presenting tho amnual report, Canon Marslall alluded to the debi of gratitide they owed to Mi. W. Barton, the peal secretary, for the vast amount of work he did in compiling lis report. A pleasing feature of the report was the mumber of peals rurg by entirely local bands and also the peals rubg in towers and districts which bad been 'dead' to the association for many years. There had been a net gain of 31 members during the jear.
The report was accepted, as was also the auditors' report, and the auditors (Mrs. Cotterill wan Mr. F. G. Sherwood) thenked for the work they had so kindly and thorourily done.

Mr. S. F. Palmer was :e-elected hon. treasurer for a furbier ferm of three vears
Eleven new ringing members mad one henorary life member were elected.
After digeussion, it was decided to hold the next meeting on May 1st jointly with the Sheffield and Distriet Society
It was agreed that a copy of the proposed alterations of rules should be sent to each tower, and any unattnched member who regtiled a copy could have one by applying to the gene"al secretary
Mr. Sherwood suggested that an attempt shonld be made to visit towers where at present the association had to members.

Apologies for alsence lad been recaived from Messrs. T. Latiarer and J. Ewhank
A vote of thanks to the chairman lyrought to a close a memorahle and happy gathering

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION．

FINANGLAL ARRANGEMENTS TO BE RECONSIDERED．
The North and Fast District members of the Middlesex County Association and Loudon Diocesan gaild held thetr ammal meeting on Saturday week at St．Augrstine＇s Church，Kilburn，and the first touch of winter did not encoumgo the＂fino weather＂ringers to turn out． Consequeatly the attendance was below the average．However，nearly 50 braved tho elements and enjoyed some good ringiug on the light peal of eight bolls．
The usual moeting of the District Commitcee was held in the after noon，and was followed by a short service，at which the flev．B．F． Shepherd preached on the text＇Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do； do it with all bly might，＇which he applied to our religion，our daily work，and our ringing．The leasons which the preacher drew from his text might，so far as rimeers are concemod，be thought of seriously by many who take their ringing in a lackadaisical way．
After tea，the lusiness meeting was held，with Mr，G．W．Fleteher （viee－president）in the chair．He was supported by several offeevs of the association，iachuding tive Master（Mr．A．W．Coles），his fellow－ vioe－president（Mr．J．A．Trollape），Mr．I＇，J，Lock（District Master＇）， Mr． G ．T Coles（han．secretary），Mr．W．H．Oram（hon，truasurer＇） and Mr．G．R．Goodship（assistant secretary）．
The hon．treasurer subnitted a satisfactory balance sheet，showing excess of receipts over expenditure amounting to 55 12s．10d．，and assots to the walue of E108 16s．1d．－This was adopted．
Two honorary atud fourteen ringing menbers were elected，the latter including the nembers of a newly－fonned band at St，Ann＇s，Stanford Hill，who were receiving taition．I＇wo alections made pricr to ringing a peni wers coulimed，making a total of eighteen，
To show reapect for members deceased simce the last meeting of the disliciet，all present stood in silence for a few monents．
The whole of the district officers were re－elected，as well as the three reprusentatives to serve on the Central Committee，the auditor and the trusteas of stack．
The Chairman moved a resolution requesting the Ceatral Commithee to examing the existing rules of tha ussociation，particularly those governing finnuce，with a view to revision，the commitite to report at the ammat general meeting．In doing so，he asked members to colnsider whether the finances of the association could not be used to better advantage．At present one district of the association and the Central Futu were hard pressed，whilst another district was fairly well off．
Tliis point of view was supported by the hon．secretary and Mr
G．R．Goodslip，and the proposal was antied． G．R．Goodship，and the proposal was carried．

APPEALS TOR VOFUNTEER HGLPERS．

In connection with Coronntion singing，the hon，secretary said he thought it dificult to arrange much special riuging，ns local lands would no doubt be anxious ta ring at their own towers．He nrged that the members of each hand should do their utanost to get their bells tung on that occasion；atr the snme time it was possible that many unaltached wingers wonld be glad to know where they might uing．To these he appealed，asking them to let him krow，and he would do his bost to see that they helped to make tip a band for that great oceasion．

Wr．Coles also asked ringers who were free on Sumdays to assist the band at St．Giles－in－the－Tields for morning ringing at 10.20 ，and to help at their practices on Mondays at 7.30 ．
Mr．W．E．Thaire supported this．
Mr．E．M．Altins aslred for similar help at St．Angustine＇s，Kilburn， on Sundays at 10.15 a．m．，and on Thursdays at 8 p．m．
It was deciden to hold the noxt annual meeting of the district at St．Gilesin－the－Fields．The armugenents for the next meeling were Anecial method for the occrsion to he Donble Stodman slow Conrse．
The Clanirnaag proposed votes of bianks to Father Atkinsona（Vicar） for the use of the bells；to Father Moncrieft for assistance at the crirn ；to the Rey．B．F．Shepherd for preaching；and to Mr．E．M． Atkins for arranging the meeting，Mrs．Atkins and Friends were also cortially thanked for arranging an exellent ten．Tho votes were married in the hsmal way，and were renlied to in turn by Tather Monerieft，on hohalf of the Fiont ly the Res．B．F．Slepherd，who， Mr ${ }^{2}$ ringer，expressed his proat pleasure at being plesent；and hy ．E．Ahtias，on behal．of the kilburn tingers．
The hon．secretary appealed to bowor secretaries to send him，as early as possible，particmlars of yinging times，and of quarter－peals rung during 1936 for the anmual report．
During the meeting Mr．Fetcher nsked that members shonld volunteer for 1 insturction warti，and appealedi to uny willing to do this to send in their riames to the hon．secretary．
$A$ fler the meeting several members taok part in some landhell ring－ ing，whitst the hells at Kilhurn and Willesden wore used for some excellent practice，the special method for the day，St．Clement＇s Bol Triples，heing in great demand．

SURREY ASSOCLATION

GENERAL SECRETARY AND ABSISTANT SECRETARY＂ 1 G CHANGE LLHCES．
The North－Western District of the Surrey Association had a suc－ cossful day on Saturday，fanuary 30th，when they held tineir ananal moeting at sticathom．The attendauce totalled 65 memliers，repre－ senting most of the towers in the district，with visitors from we Southern Disurict and from Hilligedou，Middlesus and Uckfield，Suspex． This attendance rather overdaxed the awailable accommodadion，both ill the belfry of St．Leanard＇s Clurch（a chamber about 10ft．sguarm） and at tho Manor Arms，where tea whs served，and mhere the mem－ bers，having once snt down，had to＂stay put＇until the meal was over，it being impossible to move or pasg betwan the tables．Huw－ ever，these were Hegarder as just tempornry inconveniences which ringers know best how to get over，and were made the subject for much jolivig and＇leg－pulling．＇
The asscemtion was welcomed to St．Leonard＇s by the Rev．f．R． Winsay，M．A．，himself a ringar，who，in the abseace of the Vicar， conducted the service．In the courte of a short address he said that bellringing was not only a grent art，but also a great roljgious service in itself．As ringers they could never thow the extent of that service， for lie liked to believe thati，in addition to calling faitifial Clurstans to worghip Sunday by Sunday，the ringing of the bells served to revive in tho brasts of those who now geldom attend a place of worsin tha remembrance of former Chrisimu teaching，and，perhaps，in some mysterions way，rekindle a desire to return to tite old clameli． Religion was a hamovising thing，Rells，when they were properly ring，were also harmonious，for all the bells worked together in at ordered purpose，and what we wanted more than anything olse todny was religion and hanmouy amongst wen．He wished the associntion good luck＇in its work． NOMINAN OT OFTIOLRS．
The bnsiness macting was held famedintely after ten at ilan Mranu Arws，presicied over by Mr．D．Cooper，the District Ringing Master．
Eirght aew members wero elected．

RETIREMENT OF MR. W. T. PATES

RELINQUISHES LEADERSHIP OF CHELTENHAM BAND AFTLER 36 YEARS.
3fr. William T. Pates, the Cheltenham veteran, has retired from the leadership of the Parisla Church bellringers, of whom he has been enptain aince 1861.
Ho will be 84 years of age on the 28th of his month, and has liseen a ringer for over 60 years. Thronghout his long cureer Mr. Pates has been onse of the great enthusizsts for ringing, and among his big performances bave been the 13,054 of Stedman Caters at Cheitenham in 1898, and the 15,287 Grandsiro Caters in the same tower in 9 hours 43 minutes on April 22nd, 1889, which lie conducted. At that time it was the longest peal of Caters ever rung. There was a friendly rivalry between Appleton and Cheltenham, and in the previous December the Oxford men, with J. W. Washbrook as conductor, had rang 15,041 Stedmanl Caters.
Mr. Pates was one of the band who set up the 'old age' record at St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, in October, 1933, when a company, all College Youths, rang a peal of Stedman Triples at the avcrage age of over 76 years.
Mr. W. Dyer, of 69, Gloucester Road, Cheltenham, has been appointed to succed Mr. Pates as captain of the Cheltenhana company.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

LRINGING MASTER'S FTYCLETH ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION.
Tho Northerm Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Associntion held their january neeting at. St. James' Church, Wollastom, near Stourbridgc. There were aboult 45 members present, including visitors from tho Western Branch of the association. A short service was beld with an address by the Vicar (the Rev. J. R. Bamber), whose renarks made clear the fact that he had more than a passing knowledge of ringers nad ringing. Tea was partaken of in the schools nearby, after which the usnal business meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Yical
It was decided to hold the next brancil meeting at Netherton, or at Kinver should Ketherton not be available.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

NEW RECORDS IN NORTHERN DIVISION.
The annusl meeting of the Northern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held in the City of London and proved yery successful, with some very good ringing achieved during the day.
Tho ringing took phace during the afternoon at the twelve-bell tower of St. Giles' Cuipplegate. Rounds on ten, Grandaire and Stedman Gaters, Stedman Cmpues and Kent Treble Bob Maximus were rumg, Several memberg rang their first touches on twolve bells.

At tho business meeting the district officinls were able to report on the most successful year's work in the liswory of the district. Five Satmrday meetinss were held, with an average attendance of 32 a record fot the distriet, the previous best being &n average of 27 in 1933.

Tle Stcprey meeting created a record For the district, some 50 members ag well as several visitors being preseni. Fivo mid-week practices were held, with an average attendance of 26.
For the fonrth year in shecession the cash statement showed a record balance.

The semetary, in presenting the report, said he thought it coult be said that the district was now in a strong position, and that the mprovement which started four years ago, alter a long period of semi-stamation, lag steadily increased. It was boped that this improvement would continue.
In his report, tha Master said the strilking at blue meetings, allhougly far from the desired perfection has greatly improved. A district. outing, arranged ag an experiment, was held in september. Soveral Essex towers meve risited, and the venture proved a great success. Frienclly relations with neighbouring assocjatians had been maintained and it was hoped to arrange some joint meetings in the near future. Reqular motithly ringing for Sunday evening services had taken place at Cripplegate and St. Mary-le-Bow on the second and fourth Sindays respectively.
The Master thanked all tlose who had rssisted to make the year's work so successful.
Tho election of the dishict officials resulted as follows: Master, Mr. I. A. Wanglo; lool. gecretary, Mr. J. G. A. Prior : treasirer', Mr, R. G. Consins steward, Mr. E. Holman; tommittee, Messrs. C. A. Hugles

An invitation from the secretary of the Holloway hand to hold the April meeting at that tower was accepted.
Tlic meebing elosed with a vate of thanks to the incumbents ana steeplelcepers at Gripplegate nud Holborm for permission to rimg ank for the arrangements made.

The members then went to St. Andrews, Holhorn, where trey wane met by the poputar and genial steeplekeeper, Mr. J. S. Hawkins. Tnrious methorls froni Trondsire rluples to Itondon Siuprige Major were rung on the fine-toned vimg wntil 8 p.m., when the meeting concluded.

During tite day favourable comments were macle about the broadcast from St. Dunstan"s, Stepney, on a recent, Suratay, by memlicrs of tha agsociation, jnclinding eight of the district members, six of whom wele members of the yonng lomal band.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTEE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.  COMETNED PTACTICES AND DISTRTGT PEALS.

In order to encourage combined practices in the Northern District of the Durlam and Newcastle Diocesan Association the vice-president, and secretary are to draw ap a list of towers and submit a scheme to the mernbers.
District peals are also to be attempted, the first of filhesg being Grandsire Triples at Gateshead on February 13th,

These steps were decided upon at a district meeting, attended by nearly 30 members, at Benfield, when nmong the neethods practised were Domble Oxford Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.
The next meeting of the district is to be held at $A 11$ Saints', Newcrstle, when Erin Triples is to ba the method for special practice.

LOSS TO THE DISLEY BELFRY

The death took place suddenly on Wednesday, January 27th, of Mr: A. T. Marslanc, secretnry of the Disley (Clieghire) ringers. Fhe had been a vinger at the nhove tower for over 30 years, and was also a member of the Chester Diocesan Guild.

DEATH OF MR. JOSEPH HANDS.

AN OLD MEMBER OF GAVERSHAM BAND.
As we briefly recarded last week, St. Peter's Society, Caversharn, have sulfered a great loss by the deatly of Mr. Josepl Hands, who passed away on Jaunay 28th, at the age of 79 years.
Ha had been a nember of the bnad for 53 years, and rang in mosiof the penls in any of the standard methods with the old Caversham sociaty. He rang his last peal three yeare ago to commemorate his ringing for fifty years with his old friend, George lissex,

Mr. Hands was a most vegular athandant, und was riugiug up till Cliristmas week, when he was taken ill and never rocovered, duspito every care.

A fine striker, circumstancos never allowed him to travel far in pursuit of ringing, but he geve of his best to his own towor. He attended the last annual dinney of the College Fouths and was full of delight at meetilag so many old friends. He was a most lovable mun and respected by ell with whom he was bronght iuto contact.

He leaves a widow and cight children to mourn theit loss,
The funeral took place on Monday week, the first parl of the sorvice being lseld in the I'arish Churdr, the Rector the Rev. W. A. Wood) officiating. The lesson was read by Mr. Hands old ringing friend, Canon Coleridge, who also took the commetal.

Tho 'wholo pull and stand' was rung 79 times by deconsed's friends immediately after the service. Many and beatiful were the floml tributes. 'Joe,' as he was affectionately known, has pessed, and will always he remembered by his lyiends as one of nuture's gentlamen.'

PEALS OF DOUBLES.

We have been asked the question whether the Central Council recognises as a peal 5040's of Grandsire Doubles, in which Pitnian and Morris' 'arrangements ' and Lindoff's 'spliced' extents are rung? The simple answer is 'Yes,' inasmuch as hitherto such peals have been inclucled in the yearly analysis and the analysis has been accepted. But, strictly speaking, the two former are against the spirit of the rule whicly the Council laid down at Hereford in 1928, and, in the opinion of many ringers, Lindoff's spliced extents are also ruled out by the Coutcil's definition. There has since been a fight (or should it be fights?) over the similarly worded rule regarding Minor, and while in this the Council's ruling is accepted, the definition of a peal of Doubles is honoured in the breach as well as in the observance. If we were aslied why it is that ringers choose their own course in regard to Doubles, we would say, frankly, it is because the large majority of the Exercise have little or no interest in peals of Doubles, and therefore do not care what happens. If the rules regarding peals on higher numbers were broken as frequently and claim laid to the performances as peals there would be a great outcry. Because these peals are rung on only five bells no one bothers about what is done.

The Council's rule, laid down at Hereford, provides that 'Peals of Doubles shall consist of at least 42 true and complete izo's rung without interval and without rounds or any other rows being included or rung more than once in any 120. A peal may be lengthened by the addition of any number of 120 's fulfilling the same conditions, with or without one touch of less than 120. That wording is very definite, and conforms to the views of those ringers who think that peals rung on less than seven bells should be made up of true 'extents,' whether on six or five bells. There is a school of thought, however, that takes another view--that as long as no chanke is rung more than 42 times in a 5040 of Doubles, no matter in what order the changes occur, so long as they conform to a recognised method, that performance should rank as a peal. But without going here into the argument as to what should constitute a peal of Doubles, we feel that the ruling of the Council should be accepted and acted upon, as much by ringers of Doubles as by those who ring peals of Minor. If the rules are wrong they should be altered, but they cannot with justice be altered to suit one section of the Exercise alone. Whatever latitude is given in Doubles must be given in Minor. The plea that one is more limited in its scope than the other really carries little weight now that the possibilities (Continued on page 114.)

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The pre-Lent meeting of the Durlam and Newcastle Diocegan Association was held at Chester-le Street on Saturday, February 6th, $I^{1} \mathrm{~h} 日$ bellg of the ancient Collogiate Church of SS. Mary and Cuthbert were kept going during the afternoon and ovening to Grand aire snd Stedman Triples, Flair Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Canibridge Surprise Major and on the whole the ringing was good.
A short service was conducted by tho Rector (the Rev. H. J. Wilkingon), who gaye an interesting address-not about belle and ringers. He was assisted by the Rev. J. P. Pelloe, a ringer, who was recently ordained.
At toa, provided by the local Iadies, the Rector welcomed the acsociation to Chester-le Street, in a humorous reply to the vote of thanks, proprosed by Mr. John Anderson, of Newcastle.

A vote of thanks to the lady helpers at tea, proposed by Mr. W. N. Park, of Darlington, concluded the proceedings, and an adjournment was made to the tower for more ringing.

FOR BEGINNERS.

BOBS IN KENT TREBLE BOB.

Having had explained to him how Kent 'reble Bob is rung, the next thing the berinner will want to know is, how to make a bob,
In Minor, when a bob is called, only three bells are alfected, Thu bell that comes out of tho 'slow,' and makes placer ia 3 rd's and 4th's, ant the bell that makes 4th's and 3rd's and goes into the 'slow' (that is, the bell that dodged in 5-6 up with the treble) are not concerned in the bob making. They pursue their wark as if no call lad been made.
The bell that passes the treble in 23 and then makes 3rd's and 4 th' $\mathrm{g}_{3}$ when a bob is called makes an additional 4th's and 3rd's and goes down to lead. Actually he lies two consecutive whole pulls in 4th's place, each made at backstroke and handstroke. (For those who know how to ring Grandsire Doubles it is like the 'long 3rd's' made at a single in that method.) The bell that "makes the bob' at one lead in Eent Treble Bob will go into the 'slow' at the following treble lead.
The beils "behind," that is the pair that are dodging logether if 5-6, have an additional dowble dodge; that is, having stepped back in their path once, they have to step back twice more before they fimally continue their course.
If the bob is called at the right moment they will find they have already hegun dodging tagether, and they must be careful that they complete three dodges in all before the bell going down passeg on to dodge in $4-3$ with the freble and the bell dodging up lies its whole pull behind.
You can make a check on the number of dodges. Eanh bell in the course of fts operations strikes four timas in 5th's. Suppose the other bells were known by letters instead of numbers, the bells behind strike over them like this: $a, b, b, c$ so that as soon as they have struck over the third bell (thero huving been two blows, with a backward step between over the second of the belle) they know that the dodge is completed. The bell klodging ap has then to lie its whale pull beaind, and the one dodging down to pess on immediately to the 43 dodge.
If is suffient, of course, to count the dodges, if they are counted correctly. but everyone is liable to make a slip, and these additional aids to memory always come in useful-as the young ringer will find if he gres on to more complicated methode.
In case thero are any bands of ringers who are trying Treble Boh without outside help, perhaps a word or two about the boh calling may be useful. The achual call shoutd be made in the change when the treble las its 'saapping' blow at lead-that is its blow at lead in ite dodge in $2-1$ down. Some conduchore leave it just a fraction later-to the beginning of the following change-buf it malres very little difference.
Tlie effect of a bob is that the bells ahove 4th's place are thrown back a lead in the course and after their dodging do exactly the same work as in the previous lead-they meet the treto in the sane places. The bobs are thus said to cause 'repeating leads, and the effect is that only the three front belle-whichever are in Zud's, 3 rd'e and 4th's at the lead end-are really affected in conrsiny order, and bobs at three consecutive leads bring the bells back to where they were before the first bob was called.
Beginaers can, therefore, if they wish, begin their bob practice with a short touch of 72 changes produced by bobs at each of the three leads.
When they go on to ring extents of the method, they will probabiy want at first to use one of the 'standard ' callinge. The best known of thers is that which corresponds to the 'Wrong' 'Riglat ' and 'Wrong' in Bob Minor. But as in Treble Bob, the bob is made on the three back bells instead of the three front ones, the calling is 'In, 'Out' and 'In.' The 'In' is when the observation bell is going into the "slow' and the bob in thus called when it strikes its second blow in 4th's on the way down (after dodging in 5-6 with the treble).
'Out' comes at the following lead, and, as is fairly obvious, is when the observation bell is coming out of the "slew." The call is made when it begins its dodge with the treble after completing the slow work.
A touch of two coursea, or 240 changes, can be rung by enlling any bell 'In ' and 'Out' in each course, ercept that if the 'observation" is the End bell, it must be ' Out ' and ' In,' because the and is already in the slow at the beginning.
The full 720 is obtained by calling the first course ' In ' and ' Ont ' and the second course 'In," and then repeatiog this calling twive.
Beginacrs shonld examine closely the work at a plain lead and bob lead thown in the accompanying figures. They each relate to the furgt 'lead end':-

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DIVISION AT SIBLE HEDINGHAM
Eighteen towers were represented at the meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Ascaciation, held at Sible Hocingham on Saturday week. The 37 members present attended from Halstead, Greeustiend Green, Earls Colne, Dummow, Great Bardgeld, Great Yeldham, Sawbridgeworth, Long Melford, Sudbury, Fulbourne, Sible Heding-引am, Great Tey, Little Waldingfeld, Braintree, Exning, Bocking, Gastle Hediugham and Great Connerd.

Service in the Parish Church was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. F. IH. Moore), who gave & warm welcome to the ringers and thenked them for their services, which meant so much to the church.

After the service, tea was partaken of at tho white Lion, the Rector presiding. At the busimess weeting which followed he was elected an honorazy rasmber of the association. One ringing member was also elected. It was decided that the next meeting should be at Feering on April 17 th .
The District Matter (Mr. A. Saunders) moved a hearty rote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the hells, for his ingpiring addreas and for presiding at the ton. He said they were very pleased he had been elected an honoray member. Mr. Saunders also thanked the organist, the organ blower and the visitors for their attendance.

The Rector, in reply, said he was glad of the opportunity to attend the meeting. He could ouly repent what he had said in church in exteading a cordial welcome to all. He was pleased to see so many ringers in the delightiful parisla of Sible Hedingham and hoped they wrouk pay another visit. He would 敌ce an early opportunity to visit the ringers in the tower. They had wice bells at Sible Hedingham and good ringers, and he hoped shortly to liear them twice on a Sunday. That would be a true answer to the Bishop's appeal. Before be left Leeds the bells of his cluured were augmented to eight and rehung. They had several ohstacles to overcome, but there was now a steady company who were builditg up ringing.

Handbell ringing was afterwards resorted to and others returned to the tower where ringing went on until about 9 p.m.

LONDON RINGING SOCIETIES

To the Editor

Dear Sir,-I have had no experience of London ringing circles, but can visualise the conditions outlined by 'Suburban Ringer.' Where similar organisations operate in the seme area there is bound to be some disagreement.
Great as the fradibinns of the London societies are, let them make new history uow by merging into one United Assoeiation.
I nm sure by faking this step more real progress in London ringing would vesult than by al] "friendly co-operation." C. RHODES.

WELFORD RINGER'S RETIREMENT.

TAREWELL GADHERTNG.
On Mouday evening, February 8th, the ringers of St. Mary the Firgin, Welford, gathered for a dimer and sacial evening at the Village Hall. Eleven members attended, together with the Ficar (the Rev. F. C. Woodhouse), and partook of an excellent meal, which was prepared and sarved by Mrs. E, and Miss A. Buswell, wife and sister, respectively, of one of the ringere.
The occasion marked the retirement of Mr. E. Bott as captain of tho band, the completion by him of 44 years as an active member of the company, and also his 73rd birthday, which ocearred on Fehruary 7th.
The Vicar paid tribute to the work Mr. Bott had done duriug his time as a ringer, and said that althongh he was retiring from the captaincy and from regalar service, this need not necessarily mean that he was giving up ringing allogether. Ee hoped that ho wotld still turn up and have a rimg at any time lie felt disposer.
The viour then went on to say low pleased he was to be presenl at the dinner, as he thought it was only by co-operation that anything could be accomplished. He looked for the united support of the ringers in the future and hoped that this oceasion was the forerunner of many such gatherings. He also thanked the ladies for the spleadid way they lad catered for the party.

Mr. G. A. Hollick was unanimonsly elected caplain to succeed Mr. Bott, and Mr. T. Mitler was elected vice-captain to succeed Mr, Holhick. With various games, in which the Vicar joined with real entinuiasn, an enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

WEDDING BELLS.

At the Parish Church of St. Mary, Barnes, Surrey, on Saturday, February 6th, the wedding took place of Mr. John Strickland, elder son of Mr. G. J. Strickiand, of St. Mary Abbot's Guild and the Lonw don County Association, with Miss Elfrida Newall, of Barnes. Touches of Stedman Triples were rung, and the bolls were 'fired" as the newly-married pair left the church by the following Sunday service ringers: W. H. Wood 1, E. R. Mackereli 2, H. Q. Miles 3, W. E. Jude 4, F. Stevington 5, A. Harding 6, C. Huat 7, C. Warmer 8.

MEMORIAL DEDICATED AT LOUGHBOROUGH.  GERTMONY ATTENDED BY NEARLY 300 RINGIRS.   Mr. Denisan Taylar's Gift.

   Mr. Denisan Taylar's Gift.}'l'he quarcerly meeting of the Midland Counties Association, held at Longhloorough on Satimday, Felnumy 6th, will be long remembered, for it provided a record atterdance for any quarterly meeting ever bakd since the association's Coundation. After a spell of very inclement weather, the accasion was favoured witll a glorious duy and inis-added to the generosity of the president, Mr. E. Denison Taylor the dedication aud unveiling of a memoriai to past Loughborough ringers-and the turther attrackion of the famous bellfoundry being open to visitors, without doubt brought many who otherwise might not hive abtended. The giand ring of ten bells at the Parish Church, and the light ten at the Belfotndry Campanile, were kept going to a ariety of methods to suit all comers, aud good use was made of the opportunity offered.
The committee of the association met in the aftermoon, and as a result of their deliberations grants were 1uade from the Bell Repair Frud to Leicester Cathedral, where the old ten bells have been recast and augmented to twelve, witl a gemitone; and to Nethergeale, where Lhe tower is being restared and the bells recast and rehung. It was decided to print tixe annual report as usual, aud this will be in circulation as quickly as possible.
At 4 p.m. an interesting ceremony was performed in the Parish Ghurch during a special serwice condnated by the Rector, the Rev. (ianon W. J. Lyon, assisted by the Rev. G. B. G. Watson (curate) and the Rev. Canon G. W. Briggs, now Canon Residentiary at Worcestar, former Rector of Lroughborough.
During the service the Loughborough ringers, headed by the youngest (G. Harxison) and oldest ( E . Reader), proceeded to the tower, followed by Mr. E, Denison Taylor (president), Mr. William E. White (hom. treasurer'), Mr. Ernest Morris, F.R.Hist.S. (secretary), nad the clergy. Arrived at the tower, Canon Brigus performed the act of dedication of the momorial tablet bearing the mames of 29 former ringers of Loughborough. This was then unveiled by the oldest Loughborongh ringer, Mr. Edward Reader.

THE MEMORTAL.

The handsome memorial, which measures 3 ft . Sin. by 2 ft . Sin., is of bell metal aud was cast in the Longhborough Foundry. It was presented to the church by Mr. Denison Taylor. The tablet is surmonated by the old foundry crest, a shield clarged with a coronet bebween three bells. The 'past ringerg of this town' whose names re recorded are :-

In the ase of the first twelve the years of birth and acath could not be ascertained.
The tablet is fixed on the north wall of the ground chamber of the tower, bebween the tablets recording the long peal of Stedman Caters ( 18,027 changes, rung on Easter Monday, 1909) and the peal Fung on the signing of Peace in 1919. The gift is one of a series which Mr. Tenison Taylor las made during the last few years with a view to beautifying the Ringers' Chapel.

THE HOME OE OEDRCH BELLS.

Service was conducted by Canon W. J. Lyon (Rector), who in his address said that Louglibovough Parish Ghurch was one of the aldest in the Midands and one of the most beantiful. Loughborough itself, ho said, was in a real sense the home of church bells, for bells from Loughbortugh were ringing in every part of the world.

In the Pawisl: Church they ?ad a notable peal, which he knew was a pleasure to ring ind a pleasure to hear. They were especially glad that ringers from for and near liad joined will then in the dedication of the iballet to the former ringers.
In the followship of ringers there was a real quality, and, indeed, as they hnew, clange ringing demanded it. Fellowship, he said, monat consideration one for another, and lae samposed it was more mecessarg than tho techuical ability-it. was the ringers' ebnsideration necessarg than tho technical abilidy-id was the ringers rbins

There was, said Canon Lyon, one thing he workt like to remind them of-that was the Archbishop of Canterbury's recent broadeast appeal for the people of this country to lie recalled to God and religion. He would suggest to them that they as bellringers were doing titat same thing by luondeasting Sunday by Sunday an appeal to the people to return to God, and so as members of a grad fellow-ship-as fellow-workers of Jesus Christ-they were bearers of a gruat messidg which the Archbishop had made-a great messarg which the times domanded.
Following tho service the company, numbering hebween 280 and 300 , adjourned to the Tearon Hail to enjoy a 'fine spread, kindy provided through the generosity of Mr. Taylor. All the soven districts of the association were represented, viz., Burton, Cliesterfield, Derby, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughboruugh and Nottingham, as well as friends from Erdington, Sutton Coldfield, Norton (SLaffs), Warwickshire, Yorkshire and elsewhere.
After tea a course of Grandsive Caters was rung on handbells by C. Harrison 1-2, A. H. Ward 3-4, G. F. Swann 5-6, E. Mowris 7-8, A Braines 9-10.

PRESIDENT TALKS OF RESIGNATION.

Tha meetilg was presided over by Mr. E. Denison Taylol:, stipported by Canon Lyon, Canon Briges aud Mrs. Brigss, the Rov. A. IB.
 The President in his own breezy way, said how delighted all werc to seo such a goodly assembly-a record for a quatrerty meeling. The past quarter showed an improvement over provious quartars in the number of peals rung (23), which iucludod sin different Surprise methods. One peal called for special attention-a humble peal of Bob Minor at Woodhouse Taves-this being the general secretary's 750 th peal, and by this visit bo (the secretary) had introdteced the whole local company to the association, and sevon new members were mado. They welcomed them that day and brusteri their enthusiamm might long continue. They regretted the passing of Mr. Alfred Cufilin, of Anstey, whom they had so recently clected a hon. Iifo menber. II $\begin{gathered}\text { was for many years towerkeoper and bad jubl seen the }\end{gathered}$ restoration of the bells of lis native place. Anotiner reyret they all felt was in the death of Mir. Fred Wilford, of the Peterborough Diacesan Guild, a valued lifo member of the aseociation.
M1. T'aylor then caused some consternation aud regret among the whole ussembly by intimatime that he felt he was growing ton old adequately to fill the office of president, and hoped they would elect a successon. Ite would coutinue his interesti in the progress of the gasociation and would watch its development with great interest.
Rir. Taylor then gave a hearly greeting to Ganon and Mrb. Briggs, who had mude a ly no means short journey in order to grace the gathering. It had been chiefly Camon Briggs who was lesponsible for the placing in the tower of the tablet recording the nemes of past ringers, and afier very careful research be trusted it was complete and no one had been omitted. They were also indebted to the Rector (Canon Lyon) for the very beautiful service, which was appreciated by the large congregation present.
Ganon Brifgs then veplied and sad how grateful he was to Mr. Taylor and everyone for such a hearty welcome. Le and Mrs. linges retained many happy memories of Loughborough, and especially of the gatherings, such as this, of the beliringers, but he thought this was the best ever. It was a great privilage to him to come to dedinte the beatifful tablet now crected to past ringers, which had been somewhat delayed, not througla any fandt of those responsione, but because they were anxious to pet all names complete and the list as accurate as possible. He thought Loughoorouglt lower mast be umique in England for its memolials, tablets and other fittings, all due to the thanglitfulness and generosily of the T'aylor [amily
The Rector (Canon Lyon) then thanked Mr. 'Iaylot for his gracions act in providin the splandid tablet, for his rellerosity in giving such a grand yeception to the gathering now assembled, and safd how plensed he was to co-operate in the service.
Mr. William L. White suid how deeply all present would regret the remarks of Mr. Taylor, when he talked of resiguing as president of the Midland Caunties Association. He sincerely loped Mr. Taylar would reconsider his decision aud carly or, as most cerbainly they could fiad no one who could take the office and uptolel it so worthily as Nr. Taylor did (applause). He uryed all those present to do all they could to dissuade Mr. Taylor from resiguing.
THe secretary then read over the names of new members proposed since the last meeting, who were duly elected, viz,, 4 homorary, 25 ringing and 7 rejoinng. Two auditors were re-elected, Messre. C. Harvison and J. F. Dean.
The secreltry next made an appeal to all presont for tihe restoration of Leicester Catledral bells, urging all those who bad not done so to send in to itim the speeinl forms with any donatians as quinky as possible. The service of dedication would take place on Saturday, 4pril 10th.
This concluded the business, and further ringing on handbells and hower bells was enjoyed. Visitors focked to Messrs. Taylor's foundry, where they saw in warious stages of completion Lefcestor Cathedral belle, Manchester Town Hall recast bells, fle large chime of cirlit (tenor 2 Lons) for Vancouver, bells for Australia, Canada, India, Africa and many old bells undergoing restoration.
If can safely be said that this wes one of the best meetings the Midland Connties Association has ever held.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

PRESSING NEED FOR RECRUITS.

Committer to Examine Financial Arrangements

'The amiunl meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex Country Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at All Saints', 1sloworth, on Pebruary 6th. After ringine on the ten bells during the afternoan, a sfoort service was held, and the Rev, C. A. De Jong gave a brief but interegting talk, based on the lesson read by the vicepresident (Mr. J. A. Trollope) relating the story of the Prodigal San. About 50 membars and friends then enjayed an excellent tea in the Churel Fall.

The vice-president presided over the business meeting which foltowed, and he was supported by all the district officers and by the aesociation treasurer (afr. W. H. Hollier) A cordial vote of thanks was given to the Vicar (the Rev. P. W. Shepherd Smith) for his welcome to Jsleworth, to the Rev. De Jong for conducting the service, to tho organist, to Mr. Lidbetter, of the local bagd, and to all who had prowided and served the teal. The Ficar and curafe each replied and gave a hearty invitation to wisit Islewroth at any time.
The vice-president then referred in humorous vein to the 'balloon handball: at the supper held in January, reported in a previous issue, and called on the captain of the Eillingdon team to receive a troplyy which had been presented to mark the prowess of the victors. The Fislingdon band are now responsible for the safety, for welve months, of an old china cup-without a handle.

The secretary's report for 1936 was then read and adopted. Interesting points were: The average attendance at the eight meetings held was 38 , a marked improvement on 1935, when it was 31. Two joint meetings with neighbouring Guilds weve also held, and three of the towers in the district (Heston, St. Jolin's, Fillingdon, and Christ Clurch, Ealing) were represented at ail ten meetings. Service ringing had not been maintaized at last year's level, chiefly through a decrease in the strength of geveral bands. Certain towers were exceptions to this, and at each of these places there was definitely tho co-operation of the church authorities, which indicated a very necossery factor in majnininitg a band.

MEMETERS TOST TEROUGR UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS
Seventeen tower-bell peals and one handbell peal were runt in the district, compared to 12 tower-luell peals in 1935. The outstranding periormance was the peal of Spliced Surprise Major in seven methods, compesed and conduoted by Mr. E. C. S. Tumier, which was the first Surprise peal is seven methods by Miss Bradford and Messrs. Turner, Locke, Fiding and Corke. Only ten members were elected in the district in 1936. Against this, 37 members lapsed owing to unpaid suluseriptions, and the need for new recruits was pressing. In October Mr'. C. T. Coles completed 25 years as a joint secretary of the association. To las been largely responsible for the association's annual reports, and few realise the amount of time, energy and thoupht he has fiven to the association. Tlue report concluded with thanks to all the district offers, who have an excellent undorstanding and have supported each other's efforts to the full.

The meeting was manimous in its pratse of the secretary for the thornughness of his report.

The treasurar's report, showing a slight deovease in the lralance during the year, was read and adopted. Mr. Chandler presented the report of the Supper Committee showing that the supper Jad been a sucess finameially as well as socially. The committee (Messrs. Olancller, Gladman and Goadfellow) were re-elected with thanks for their serwices.
The next business formea a direct response to the secretary's appea] for recruits: 22 new members were elected, and the belfry election of one nemaber was ratified. This is probably a district record.
It is the eustom of the district to elect a new Finging Master each year, ant Mr. Thrner was elected in the place of Mr. W. H. Coles. Vr. J. Herbert was clected Deputy Master. With the exception of the substitution of Mr. Coles for Mr. Turaer as one of the auditars, the other officens were re-elected, namely: Treasurer, Mr. T. Collins; secretary, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow; assistant secretary, Mr. W. G. Wilson; ; District Committee, Messrs. Chandler, Corke and G. Kilby: and the other auditor, Mr. Lidbetter
On the wroposition of Mr. O. S. Bird, it was resolved that the Central Committee be requested to examine the exjsting rules of the nssociation, particularly those governing finance, with a view to rewigion, and that the committee consider an addition to the rnles providing that resident members shall be exempt from payment of subscriptions on reaching 65 yoars of age if 15 s . has been paid in subscriptions.
It was decirfed, on the proposition of Mr . Wilson, seconded hy Mr. Turner, that the district business be transacted at the Merch, June, September and December meetings (instead of one month earlier in each cose, to avoid the annual meeting held in February), it being understood that members may be elected at any monthly meeting.

Three places were nominated for the 1938 anmual meeting, and on $\pi$ vote Freston was chosen. It war apred to hold the March meefing at Chiswick and to invite Guildford Diocesan Guild and the East Berks and Sonth Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild to a jnint meeting at Staines in Serotember nat the Ladies' Guild ard the Orford Guild to Filting-ton in Oetaber. A successful meeting was ended by tonches on Jandbelfs and more tower-bell ringing. W. G . W.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE HUGHES.

A OELEBRATED ONE-ARM RINGER.

We regret to record the death of Mr. George Hughes, of Wednesbury, wh: died on Pehruary 9 th, aged 74 years. He was celebrated in the "Black Country" as a onearm ringer.
The fuperal service on Saturday was beld at St. Bartholomew's Church, Wednesbury, conducted by the Rev. Preb, H. W. ITones, TR.D., Ficar of Wednesbury, and assisted by the Rev. G. H. Barker, L.Jlz, (clerical secretary of the Saciety for the Archdeaconry of Staford) Six of his old ringing friende acted as bearers, viz., Messrs. W. E. Brittan, H. Smith, O. Wallater, W. Fisher, B. Horton and H. Knight The chief mourners were Mr. T. Hughes (son) and Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Pilgrim (sister) and others, also Messirs. J. Barber, B. Gough and A. J. Hubble (ringing friends). The interment took place in St. Mark's Churchyard, Ocker Fill, Tipton. There were meny floral tributes.

THE LATE MR, GEORGE HUGHES.
The deeased was boru at Hanbury, Worcestershire, and at the age of mine years went to worls on a farm. Turongh getting entangled in some machincry his right anm had to lue amputated at the shoulder. In later years he migrated to Wedneshury, in Stafordshire, and for many years was employea by Messrs. Chance and Hunt, chemical manufacturers. His work consisted of showelling aud loading a wheelbarrow witla raw material used in the chemical industry and wheeling it a distance of some 50 or 60 yards. He thus mored about 30 tons per day-and with only one arm! He also had a well-cultivated allotment, on which he did the worls limself.
George Hughes, despile his lindicap, was a fine ringer. Unfortunately, he was of too retiring a nature, otherwise he would have been one of the 'bright lights' of the Exercise. He was fond of dabblitg in figures and composed parls in Plain Bob, Canterbury Pleasure and Forwand Major, also Dauble Norwich Major and Caters. He was a careful striker and good condtuctor. As a pastime he once wrote out a peal of Carter's Scientific Triples, blarge by change.
He had rung 159 peals, of which the following is the list: Boh Minor 1, fivo Minor methouls 1 , sevel Minor methods 1 , Grandsire Triples 16 (conducted 6), Darlaston Bob Triples 1 (1); Oxford Boh Triples 1 (1), Stedman Triples 23 (7), Bob Major 18 (10), Oanterbury Pleasure Major 1, Double Oxford Major 2, Double Norwich Court Bob Major 13 (2), Superlative Surpriso 3 (1), Cambridge Surprise 4, New Gambridge 1, Norfolk 1, Brislol 3, London 3, Gratadsire Gaters 11 (7), Stedman Caters 21 (9), Stedman Cinques 3, Erin Cinques 1, Bob Royal 3 (2), Bob Maximus 2, Dauble Oxfard Bob Royal 1, Kent Treble Bah Major 3, Oxford Trebla Bob Major 2, Bob Triples 2, Forward Major 1: Kent Treble Bob Royal 2, Omford Treble Rob Royal 2, Double Norwiclı Caters 1, Tris Caters 1 (1), total 159 (47).

GUILDFORD GUILD & CATHEDRAL BELLS

PROPOSED EFFOR'T TO INCREASE FUND

The Leatheriead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, at the anatual meeting, decided to support the proposal made the previous week ut the Guildford Distriet meeting, that the towers in the Guild should be invited to pledge themselves to contribute a definite annual -sum to the New Cathedral Bells Jiund, established by the Guild mbout throe years ago, and also voted a sum of fe from the district balane for the propose.
The meeling was one of the begt held in the Leatheriead District. Every afliliated tower except one (from the members of whith ant apology was recuived) was represented, and, with visitors from the Surrey Association and other districts af the Guifd, an attendance of about 50 was made up. The district towers were Leatherhead, Banstead, Ockley, Ashtead, Ewell, Cobham, Dorking and Epsom (St, Martin's and Clirist Church). Visitars were present from St. John's and St. Petor's, Groydou, Bagshot, Guildford (Cathedral and S. Nicolas'). Goduluing, Haslemere and West Clandon. A short service whs conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge), who after wavds presided at the tea and meeting, held at tie Duke's Heed.

A NEEDED BELL RESTORATION HELD UP.
In his report the how. secretary (Mr. A. H. Snith) said that fuancially the year had been much better than 1935, 65 subscriptions having been received, as against 58 in the previous year, while the expenses lad been lighticr. The balavee, therefore, showed an increase of nearly 22 . The average atbendance at meetings lad been well maintained, but there were still many members who did not attend even ono meeting a year. Efforts had been made to get into touch with the Vicar of Capel in the hope of getting the bells of that church restored. He had been interviewed by the Rev. H. C. Martin, of Ockley, who had reported that there had been many expersive and important tasks at Capel and these were not yet over. The Vicar had said that in bis opinion the belfy, which would need very considerable strengthening before the bells could be used, must still wait for a bit, and mentioned a sum of f300 as tine likely cost of restoration, In addition he was somewhat disturbed by the labit of bels ringers coming to practige and not on Sundays, or of coming on Sumdays to ring and not sfinying to service.
On this point the Rev. H. C. Martin added, in his letter: ${ }^{\text {E }}$ So am I and many others at times, and 1 wish we could do something about it whero that custom is prevalent. I liave such a great admiration for the splendid body of tingers in the country that it hurts all the more to hear criticisms.'
The District Secretary said in thanking the Rev. H. G. Martin for his eftarts, he had said tlat as the bells at Capel lad been unringable since ho first came into the district th 1929 , he could not say haw much cause the Vicar of Capel had for his complaint, but he did not think his methous would do much good; rather, he thought, Mr . Martin's method of becoming a fellow-ringer and so making friends with his band was much more likely to prove successful (applanse).
In reply to a question, it was stated that there had been no band of ringers at Capel for yeare.
In coucluding his report, the hon. seoretary stated that a new system of working combined practices had been in operation, by which in each case two neighbouring towers exchanged visits on practice niglits. The resuits seemed fairly satisfactory, but the committies felt that if only more members would get thate spirit of friendly cooperation with the surrounding towers, a greas deal more good would result. It wes only by helping one another that they helped themselves, and in ringing that was specially true. He asked tho members, in the words of a well-known petrol advertisement, to put into the epirit
The secretary was thanked for his report, which was adopted, as was also the balance sheet, showing an increased balance of El 18 s . 11d., which was considered very satisfactory
All the officers of the district were re-elected, and, on a ballot, Messrs. G. Marriner and F. ${ }^{G}$. Woodiss were re-elected on the Executive Conmittee of the Guild.

CATHEDRAI BELLS FOND.

The hon. general secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmitit) introduced the Subject of Lurther support for the Guild'a New Cathedral Bells Fund. He painted out what the Guildford District had done, and said in vicw of the intensive effort beiug made throughast tho djoceso to bring the Cathedral into being, and the Bishop's appeal for the Million Shifingg Fund, he thought the Guidd should make a special effort. Whon the Bells Fund was established some time ago in a modest way it was felt that it night be, porbaps, 50 years before the addition of a peal of bells was contemplated, but there now seemed a prohability of much faster progress and the opportunity of liaving a peal of bells might come much sooner than they had anticipated.
Mr. G. L. Grower (hon. secretary of Guildford District) also spoke in support, of the proposal, and said the Guildford District voted sh from ite funds.
The meeting voted the sum of f2 from its balance and passed a resolution asking the Executive Committee to formulate a scheme for annual aubscriptions from towers.
The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar and to Mr. G. Marriner for the arrangements made for the meeting.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRES LOSS

DEATH OF A RINGING MASTER.

Members of the North Staffordslite Assaciation and tha Mirland Counties Association attended tho fuveral on Saturday of M2. Rolsert George Lewis, of 36, Heatlz Cross, Uttoxeter, on Saturday.

Mr. Lewis, who was 6l years of age, commenced ringing in Cheshirc, and he was also for a few yen's rineing in Iroland, before gaing ty Uttoxeter about 1911, where he liad boon attached to St. Mary's Society. He was elected Ringing Master in 1933, and he will be particularly missed in North Staffordglire and District Assomition, which lie had been Ringing Master for eifht-bell towers since 1926. The interment was preceded by a sorvice at St. Mary's Parisls Ghurch, conducted by the Vicar of Utoxeter (the Rey. W. F. Cherlton), who also officiated at the cemeters. The service wis a simple one, which jncluded two lymis, "Jesit, Lover of my sonl' ami Abide with me.'
The hearers were deceased's fellow-ringers: Messrs. $G$. Butrows, $G$, Ward, E. Roberts, F. Richardson, E. Elliot and G. Tomlinsol, and the four latter rang liandbells at the graveside.
In adaition to the family moumers the following ringers abtenked Mesars. Andrew Thompson (Neweastle), hon. secreliaty ; Thomas Hinrl (Burslem), chajrman of committee; John E. Wheeldon (Norton), Ring
 C. H. Page (Stoke), W. Carmwell and A. W. Hall (Kingsloy), J.
Cartledge (Cheadle), J. W. Bullock, G. L. Birton, J. Walker, E. Burton, G. Cottrell, A. Coxen and E. Whitehouse, of Rovester, num J. H. Swinfield, representing St. Paul's, Burton, and the Midand Connties Association.

Among the many wreaths one was from the North Stafortshime Association, one from St. Mary's Socicty, Uttoxeter, and onc [rom the ringers of Rocester.
The bells were fully muffled afterwards, and the ringing included the 'whole pull and stand' 61 times, Kent Treble Bob Major and Stedman Triples.

The ringing during the aftemoon and eveuing ranged from roinds to Cambridge Surprise Roval.
The following new members were elected: Messrs. F. Johnsous (Aslıtead) H. J. Parker and H, Cheesman (Ranstead), amd A. Hatiley (Ewell). Mr. Hadley was formerly at Aulslow, Treland.

It was decided to hold distriet meetings at Christ Church, Epmom, Newdigate, Ranmore (joint meeting with Surrey Association), Coblnm and Dorking, and next year's annual meeting at Leatherheud.
The Guild officers were all renominated.
CHERTSEY DISTRIGT ANNOAL MEETING.
The anmaral meeting of the Chertsey Distict was held at. Cherlsoy on Snturday, Jamary 30th. The weather was not very good, bit about 30 turned up during the aftermoon and evening, 26 siting duwn to tea. After tea Capt. H. I. Cania was elecled to the chair, the curale, who took the service in the absence of the Fienr, having to leave. Tho question of Walton bells was rased again, tho secrefary reporting on what had taker place aud the steps he proposed to take in the future.
The following officers were elected for 1937 , Ringing Master, Mr. W. Simmonds; hon. secretavy, Mr. F. E. Hawthome; hon. member on committee, the Rev. ©. L. Wanstall; ringing members on committec, Messis. H. T. Chaffey and D. Slect.
The balance sheet, slowing an incronsed balance of 4s. §d. on the year's working. was passed as satisfactory,
The ratiring Ringing Master (Mr. H. J. Chaffey) gava a short report on the year's work, showing that progress was still being maintained.
Tho hon. secretary reported that thero had been a slight increase in the numbers attending the meetings, but they wore usually the same members. It would be more gratifying if others would athend. Sometimes ane wondered whether the members at some tawers wore pulling their weirght, or whether they thonght the officers existed for the purpose. In these times of extremist views about church bells they wonld do well to think whether they could stand alone if someone complained about the ringing, or whether by belonging to the Guild they would be able to recelve such advice and assigtance as would smooth things over. He would like the clergy to know that the Guidd was always ready to assist in any way with regard to belle.
The secretary added that the first outing was a great success, and appeald for move support at district moctings. One peal lavel been ring during the year', in whiel four members of the district took part. The reports were acceptred, the Chairman remarking that he thoughi it was the pergonal interest in each tower taken by the offieers that seemed to mprove the working and interest taken by the nenhers as at whole.
Mectings for 1927 were proposed as follows: Thames Ditton, Oatlands Parlt, Staines and Eglram (joint meeting with Middlesex Associntion), Forsell, and Chertseg for the ammal meeting.

The generd offeers of the Guild were renominated en bloc.
A hearty vote of thanks was accarded to the preacher, the focal ringers for their hospitality, and to the lady orknist, who nlso joinent the company at tea. Thanks were also accorded to the officers for their work during the year. The tower was then again wisited. Tha mothode rung were mostly Tripies, viz., Grandsire, Stedmat und Brin, with some short touches of Bob Major, but the going of the hack holls eompelled heeping the touches short.

another great handbell performance.

GXHEY MEN PGT FTVF SURPRISE METHODS IN A PEAI

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUTLD

NEWBURY BRANCH SUCGESSFUL MTWTING.

A very successful mectixty of the Newlyuy Branch of the Oxford Diocesall Guild was held at Brightwaltion on Saturday, Felorury Gih, when 35 memhers attended from Beenlam, Buchlebnry, Brightwalton, Compton, Cinieveley, Farnborongh, Newhury, Peasemove and Thatcham, A short, service was conducted by the Rector of Brightwhilon (the Rev. H. N. Bates), who also gave the address.
Tea was served in the Village Jall by Mrs. W. J. Sayers, 32 sitting down, inchuding Miss Caldicott (an honorary member of the Gnild).

The Rev, 录. N. Bates mresicled at the business mecting in the ahsence of the chairman of the branch (the Rev. W. Kingsley Kefford), Who was unable to be present.

The spring meeting was fixed for Aldermaston in April.
Votes of thanks to the Rev. F. N. Bates for bis address and welcome, to Miss Wells for playing the organ, and to Mrs. Sayers and her helpers for provisling the tea, were accorded with acclamation ou the motion of Mr. F. W. Curtis (hranch secretary).

The tower was again visited fand the foltowing meblods rung: Grandsire and Stedman Dobbles, Plan Bob, Kent and Oxford Trehte Bols Minor

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

CANTERBURY DISTRICI MEMBERS ENTERTAINED AT BODGHTON.
The spring meeting of the Canterluay District of blae Kent County Association was beld at Bonghton on Saturday, and one result was the rejoining of the local band. Fourteen towers in bise district were represented, et her members of the association coming from Tunstall, Queenborough, Sithingourme and Braboume. The local towar was sirongly represented, and the 'gentleman with the rule' was also present.
The association's form of sorvice was held in the church, conducterl by the Vicar (the Rev, W. A. Leach), the lesson being read by Mr. E. Trendell.

About 50 members sat down in the Ghuroh Room to an excellent Lea, provided through the generosity of the Vicar, who presided, and later took the chair at the business meatung.
The reelection of Bourlitoy tower, with 13 members, was unanimoualy accepted.

Tepylian was chosen as the place for the next by-meeting.
A report of the Gentral Committee mecting held in November was given by the districh secretary.

At the close of the business Mr. Treudell proposed a very hearty vole of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, his service, for presiding over the meeting and for his generosity in entertaining the members to tea.

The Vienr said that he was very frad to have the mombers at Boughton. He was sorry they had to walk such a long way to and from the church to tea, but their numbers were too great to entertain them in the Vicarage as he had intended to do.
It wrs suggested fhat as the Ficar had entertained the members to tea, there should be a 'whip round' for the Benevolent Fund. This was rendily agreed te, the amount raised heing 15 s .7 d .
It was stated that the rededication of Hernhill bells was provisionally fixed for Sunday, March 7th, but full notice would be given in "Fhe Ringing World.'

After several tonches lad been rung on the handbells, a return was mide to the towel, where further ringing was enjoyed until nine o'clock. The bells, reltumg last vear, were lept going busily.
The finar decided, after the meeting was over, to join the association as an honorary member.

VICAR RAISES QUESTION OF QUALIFICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The Toubridge District held its first meeting of the year at Sevenoaks on Saturday, February 6th, when 43 members were present. Ringing duriug the aftermoon and evening, for some obscure reason, was of rather a low standard in regard to striking, although methods up to Londoa Surprise were attempted. The customary servioe was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. L. Langgton), who, Tater, also previded at the busimess meeting.

Tlie District Semetary informed the members of the loss of another honorary member. This time the loss croated a precedent, for the hon. member lad left the fissociation out of sympathy with a band of ringers who had ceased to belong to the association for some little time.

Aftier sone cliscussion, the Rector proposed that some futare effort be made to try and prevail on the band to rejoin.
A rather spinited report upon the Genernl Committee meeting, held in November last, was given jointly by the secretary and the two representatives, Merses. A. Richardson, E. Everest and A. J. Battin.
In wiew of certain matitery braught before the General Comniltee, Mr. A. J. Fattin baid le thaught that any district business should be conducted throngh the district secretary and not direct with the general secietary.

The members present agreed with this recommendation.
the Rev. F. L. Schreiber, Vicat of Shiphourne, spoke with regard to the qualifications necessary before a ringer could join the association. Were memberg accepted indiscriminately. he asked, or were there some qualifications in regard to the church itself which members had to lave before being able to join the association?

After come discussion, Mr. E. H. Lawis (vice-president) said he thought that the new wules which were boing submitted to the members would have some provision in regard to this matter. Mr. Lewis also siggrested that, it would be usefur for ringers to obtain 'The Manual for Ringers,' published by the S.P.C.K.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector for his vely helpful addrese nnd for the use of the bells, etc., to the organist, and to Mr. H. J. Ford and Dr. J. L. Taylor for kindly halping to provide lea.

BONDAGE OF STANDARD METHODS.

A few of the enterprising bands about the country have, within the last few weeks, adkled to the number of new methods rung. Alt the peals have been in the 'Surprise' class, and it is gratifying to find these companies still intent on showing that ringing need not be pegged down to what we know as the 'standard' methods. But these performances only serve to indicate to what extent ringers, in the mass, limit their practice. 'Standard methods' is an elastic term, which in the course of years has taken on a little wicler meaning than the old idea of merely 'Grandsirt, Stedman, Plain Bob and Treble Bob,' but its scope is still restricted, and yet, despite the vast opportunities and choice offered to the ringers of to-day, the great majority in the Exercise are quite content to plod afong in these well-worn paths. As a training ground, "stanclard methods," which means what everybody else rings or ought to ring, may be an excellent foundation, but to be satisfied with the limitations which the term imposes, marks a lack of enterprise that is little short of stagnation. "Stanclard methods" has become almost a bondlage.

One of the reasons why ringers seem to be tied to this small group of methods is that the older text books contemplated nothing beyond them, and at meetings, where ringers 'most do congregate, effort is seldom made to introduce anything new. Just recently, in one or two cases, there has been a conmendable endeavour to introsluce something fresh, and we lope this practice will be greatly extended. After our recent appeal, a cartespondent this week makes a suggestion for popularising good but little known methods. The Central Council some time ago published their book of Plain Major methods and contemplate another on Surprise methods in the near future-the work being already in manuscript. But the Plain Major book has not popularised any of the many grood methods it includes, and we doubt if a comparatively expensive volume of Surprise methods will do anything much to get the best of them rung, except perhaps just once by those bands who make a holbby of ringing new methods. We need these pioncers to 'blaze the trail,' but to raise the general practice of ringing other than standard methods, something which will make a different appeal to the ordinary ringer is needed. The man who makes music a hobby does not content himself with playing just half a dozen tuncs; he is constantly enlarging his repertory. The singer is not satisfied to go through life singing only two or three songs. He moves with the times, and out of the manifold material before him chooses constantly a new selection. of ringers is almost, if not quite, analogous. They have heaps of material; yet there are many who limit their practice throughout their ringing career to a mere handful of methods. Is it not time that they took a different view of their art and began to enlarge the field of methods with which they are familiar?

READING BRANCH OTFICIERS RE-JLECTED.
The anmual meeting of the Readiug Branch of the Oxford Drocesan Guild, held at Reading on Saturday, liebruary 15th, was well aticnded. In addition to members of the braveh, visitors came from Somersoli, Steaford, Norwich, Newbury, Hirh Wyconbe, Abingdon, Slough, Cookhan, Farmban Royal and Twyford. were utiliged from 3 p.m. Lo 5 p.m., all the nenal standard methods being rumis from Stedman Hnd Grandsire Doubles to Ginques, Double Norwich and Gambridge Major. A service was held in St. Laumence's Clurch, ab which the address was given hy the Rev. Sherwood, Rector' of I'jlelurst. This was followed by tea ati St. Mrivy's Clumeth House, to which 66 sat down.

The lunsiness meeting was presided ovar by Canon G. F. Coleridge, the Master of the Guild, in the alhsence of Dr. Joyce, the chairman of the branch, through illness. All the oflicers of the branch were ve-elecked, viz.: Chairman, Dr. Joyce; senvetary and treasurer, Mr. E. G. Foster; muditors, Messrs. Cullum and Wiggins; reprosentatives to the General Committee of the Guitd, Messre. Humfrey, Swatn nnd Runham.
The secretary reported an increasen halance of 27 ls. 9 l. , with meabership about the shume.
Tho meeting agreed to admit the Burghineld lower to the branch, and alsu voted a grant of 855 . to the funcl for the restoration of Tilehurst bells.
Quartorly meetings wers fixed for Burglifield, Chockendon and Tilehargt.

The meeting expressed its regret it the albsence of the chairman, and the secretary was instructed to wrile at letiler of sympathy, wilh wishes for a speedy recovery.

Reference was made to the death of Mr. J. Hunds. who had been a ringer at Caverslam fower for 53 years.
The meating wns addressed by the Guild officials present, Gavan Coleridge (Master'), the Rev. C. E. Wigy (Drpity Master), Mr. A. D. Barker (hon. treasiren) and Mr. R. T. Hiblver (hon, secretary).

The meating closed with a vote of thanks to the Rev. Sherwood for the address, to Cmnon Coleridge for presidinar, to the Vicars of St. Laureace's. St. Giles' and St. Mary's for the ure of the bells, and to Mr. P. Dyke for so ably serving the ten.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD

EXCLLLENT SUPPORI FOR MONTHLY MEETING.
Once again, ringers from all parts of the county flocked to Bulkiag ton for a monthly meeting of the Waswickshire Guild on Saturday lust. The fact that Buikington is well situated, coupled with the excellent welcome always exteuded to visitors, makes the meetings at this village among the most enjoyable held by the Guild.

Members were delighted to see the Rov. J. I. Wigran, from Leamington Hastings, together with three of his ringere. They lave just had their bells restored, and the newly-formed band is making excellent leadway. The Guild are looking forward to enrolling them all as members before very loug.
The bells were raised soon after three oclock, and from then until tea-time were kept going in az variety of methods. Rounds and touches in the simpler methods were rung for the most part for the suke of the less proficient.
The usual higla standard was maintained by Mrs. Histe and other ladies, who had prepared the tea, and in spite of a rather layger number turning up than had been expected, no one was allowed to go hungry. Close on 40 ringers and their friends were present, repregenting the following towers: Allesley, Exhail, Coventry, Numeaton, Ohilvers Coton, Bulkington, Arley, Stoke, Bedworth, Wolvey, Leam-

The secretary mentioned the death, at the age of 83 , of Mr. George Over', of Rugby. He lad been an honorary life member of the Guild siuce 1908 equd was a kegn supporter of all church organisations. As a mark of respect, the company stood in silence for a few moments. Further ringing toak place on the tower bells in the evening until a lata hour.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

big ATTENDANCE AT BASINGSTOKE DISTRICT MEETING.
The annual meeting of the Easingstoke District, held at Basitgstoke, was attended by 75 members, the following towers being represented: Basingstoke, Oakley, Fateley, Silchester, Overton, Sherfeld on-Lodden, Baughurst, Eotherwick, Wootton, Bramley, Odihmm and Upton Grey. Visioors were present from North Stoneham, Bishopstoke, Highclere and St. Mary Bourne, and Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Guild, was a very welcome greest.
Service was held in St. Michnel's Church, the Vienr (the Rev. A. W Chute, M.A.) conducting the service and preaching an interesting germon. He extended a welcome to all the ringers aud rentarked that he thought hellringing was one of the arts connected with the Church that was most precious and was a great force in the country.
Tea was served in Church Cotnage, and the Rev. G. H. Jendwiue, IT.D., presided at the meeting whicl followed.
Major J. D. Stillwell (hon. district secretary), of Yateley, extended a hearty welcome to the Rev. A. W. Chute, and, in presenting lis report, revealed a very satisfactory state of affairs.
The officers elected were: The Rev. G. H. Jeudwine, chairman; Hajor J. D. Stiliwell, hon. secretary and treasurer: Mr. C. Ostler Ringing Master; Messrs. J. Chesterman and H. Balman, representativos on the Executive Committee of the Guild; Mr. Q. Ives, anditor.
Quarterly meetings were fixed for Sherborne St. Johm on April 17th, Yateley ou July 10th, and Upton Grey on Septenther 25 th.
Ringing continued until a o'clock, and ranged $\overline{\text { Thom }}$ rounds to Cambridga Surprisa.

A FAKENHAM CEREMONY.

DEDIGATTON OF MEMORIAL PEAL BOARD

A large number of vingers visited Fakenham to attend the dedicafion of a peal board to commemorate and record a peal of St. Clement's Major rune half-runfled on the church bells as a tribute of respect to the lnte Mr. F. Tr. Cooke, formerly for over 39 Fears a ringer at this tower and latterly of Peterhorough.
The beantifully designerl loare was of sclected oak panelled with letters, left raised in sumk panels, decorated ayd ornamented in style, with neatly carvel? rassed traming and surmounted with the symbol shiold of SS. Peter and Paul, and carved large and small bells. The board was the work of Mr. Flint, of Dersingham, who rang the trehle bell in the peal.
Ar approprinte serwice was arrauged and many other friends attended. Mrs. F. Cooke (widow), with Mr. and $\begin{gathered}\text { Wrs. Jorder (son-in- }\end{gathered}$ Law and daughtar), came specially from Peterborough to attend the coremany and, in addition. Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Dersingham, and other relatives were present. Tho Rector (Dr. E. F. Morison), who conduated the service, made appreciative refercuce in accepting the board on hehalf of the church, and pairl trihate to the woik of the lato Mr. Cooke and his interest, love and time given in the science of change ringing.
After the scrvice the board was hung on the walls in the beffiy and the bells were rung diring the day
An oxcellent tea, to which albont 40 sat down, by kind invitation, was provided in the Rectory basement room, and at the close complimentary speeches were made. Praise was accorded to Mr. Fint for his work, and he suitably ruplied. Hearty thanks were necorded to the ladies and helpers with the tea
Ringers were present from the following towers: Walsoken. King's Lynn, Dersingham, Gressenhall, North Timbam, Gaywood, Wiveton, Tertington, Bipuingham, Podham, Foulslam and the local company'

FOR BEGINNERS.

FRON KENT TO OXEORD TREBLE BOB.
One of the firgt Trebls Bob mefhods was Oxford. It came jnto being long before Kcut, which, when it was first introduced, was known as 'Nem ' Treble Bob.
Oxford, especialy on the higher numberg, is not, in these days, rung anything like as frequently as is Kent, but in six-lesl ringing it forms a vory useful contribution to the saven-method peal, wheh is the leagt that six-bell ringers should am at.
To those who can riug Kent Treble Bob, the Oxford method is connparatively easy to learu. Actually it is mevely a reversal of the bells in 3-4. Here are ligures (at the first lead of the treble) which will show this:-- Kent

| kent |
| :--- |
| 231546 |

| 146235 |
| 421563 |

The reversal of the bells in 3-4, however, leads to sone essential differences in the work, lyut first of all let us look at the similatities of the two metjods. All the dodging is precisely the same (though not always, in corresponding places, with the same hells). There is also a. 'slow' work common to both methods-the whole pull at lead and Zud's place altemately from the time the treble leaves the front uatil it retians-and this slow work is done by the belis in the same order.
Another imporkant point in the relationship of the two methoris from the conductor's point of view is that the compositions of onte methot zun true to whe other.
And now thas differences in the work of the methoid.
In Kent we had this
Pass the ireble in 2-3, make 3rel's aud 4th's and go up.
Dodge wibl the treble iu $1-2$, coming out of 'slow, make 3urd's and 4th's and go up.
In Oxford, each of these beils makes 4 th's only aud goes back ta leari. Pass the treble in $2-3$, make 4 bin's and, go down ilito the 'slow
Dodge with the treble in I-2, make 4th's and go down to lead.
In Kent, after passing the treble in $4-5$ or dodging in 5-6 np with the treble, make 4th's and $3 \mathrm{rd}{ }^{2} \mathrm{~s}$ on the way down.
In Oxford botls these bells make 3rd's only aud go back utp to dodge in 5-6.
Briefy, the two bells going up make 4th's and go back the two bells going chown after the treble make 3rd's and go up.
A bob in Oxford Treble Boh eruses both the 3rd's places to be made by the same bell, but with a 4th's place (the actalal bob) hetween. Thus the luell that has to make the bob dodges in 5-6 wip with treble, follows it down, makes 3rd's, 4th's and 3rd's (a whole pull in eath place) and goes up in front of the treble. It comes into the 'slow' place) and goes upl
The conductur should note that, while in Kent the bell that is going into the "slow' comes kown belind the treble, in oxford the next bell to go into the 'slow' is the bell that comes down in frome of the treble. 'Jlat is important to remember when he is calling from a non-observation bell.
Touches of Oxford can be called like touches of Eent, and here is another 720 which will go to either method, without bringing the 'tenors ' (5 and 6j up the wrontry way at a lead end; in other words, whenever they are together when the treble leads thes strike in their natural older, 5-6, at backstroke.
Lrst week's 720 was: Call the 6 th $I_{n}$ Out, and In three tines. The other 720 is : Call the 5tla Ont. In and Out three times. If, for this latter, 7013 want to make the 6th the observation bell, vou man do so by calling it to mako the Bob in the first course, and then catl it twice Wrens (successive leads) in the Znd course; and repeat twice.
The bell that makes the boly in Oxford is the one that dodged in $5-6 \mathrm{up}$ with the treble and the call can be made as it striker its first blow in 3rd's place. Contrary to Kent, in which the places ale made tha 'weng ' way (backstroke and liandstroke), the places in Onford nie made tho 'right' way (handstroke nud backstroke)
T'o call n bell 'Wrong' in Oxford or Kent Treble Bob causes it to lave an extrs rlouble dodge in $5-5$ up, and the call comes in the lead when tha luell has dadged in $3-4$ up with the treble

A HALF-PEAL AT BISHOP'S STORTFORD

At St. Michael's Parish Ohurch. Bishop's Stortford, on 'Ilursalay, February 4th, the first five-parts of Hald's Ten-Part peal of Granisire Triples ( 2,520 changes) were rung in 1 hour 41 minutes: Miss $D$. Wacey 1, H. Bird 2, $$$. ## NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION. CORONATION PEAES.

A mecting of the North Staffordsoire Association was held at Fenton on Saturamy, February bth. Thirty-four ringers were present trom Bucknall, Clieadle, Draycote, Fentom, Hanley, Kidsgrove, Kingsley, Leek, Lontion, Norton, Newcastle, Stone, Stoke, Tunstall and Wistanton. Tea, saryed in the Church Hail, was kindly given by tha Fenton ringers.
The Rev. J. Howse (Vicar of Tenton) extended a. pery hearty welcome to all prosent, and want ou to say that he learnt to ring a bell a number of years age, but had lose touch of ringing. North staffordshire would welcome if few norg ringing parsons, as there was only one, the Rev. J. B. Frith (Rector of Swynnerton).
Two new members wele elected, J. Lawson, of Tungtall, and w. Fradley, of Buckrall.

A committee mecting was held after tea, with Mr. Thomas Hurd in the chair, supported by Mr. Androw Thampson (hon. secretary) and Mr. Kentieth Thacker (assistant hon. secretary). The secretary presented a zeport, stating that the meeting had been called to arrange peals for the Coxanation of King George VI. He wonld like all towers who can ring a peal on Wedresday, May 12 th , to do so, and he thought the following should be able to do so: Leek, Stoke, Biddulph, Bucknall, Kirgeley, Nortom and Stone, and most probably Fenton Uttoxeter, Burslem and Kidsgrove. He hoped arrangements would be made at that meeting for peals to be rung on Saturday, May 15th, or Mondey, May 17th, which was a holiday, at Hanley, Tunstall, Brown Rage, Swynmerton, Langton, Silvewale, WaIstanton, Rocester fand Drapcoti. Arrangements had been made for a peal to be rung at Neweasts later in May. The following towers had promised to attempt peals on Wednesday, May 12th: Kingsley, Stome, Kidsgrove, Norton and Fanley.

Mr. G. H. Page promised to Arrange two peals, and Mr. I. E. Wheeldou proposed that all peals rung in May should be recognised as Ooronation peals, and that further arrangements be Ieft to the discretion of the ringers.

A proposal to hold an anmual dinner was discussed. It was pointed ont by the secretary that only two dinners had taken place, one in 1911, and the other, the jubilee dinner, leld in 1933. He thought it was most essential for an association to hold a social evening once a year.
Mr. A. Wh. Hall thonght a dinuer would probably help to get younger ingers to take a more active part in the association's work.
It was proposed by Mr. J. F. Wheeldon, seconded by Mr. C. H. Page, that representatives shonld inquire at their towers to see if the proposal inet witi approval.

CORNISH BELLS RECAST.

POUGHLLL PLEASED WITH NEW PEAL.
The delifhtful and unspoiled vilkge of Poughill, situate midway between Bude and Stratton, North Cornwall, celebrated in true slyle the dedication of its recast ring of six bells on Saturday, Februiry 20th. Th* Lord Bishop of Barkitg (Dr. J. T. Inskip) Errtormed the caremody.
The bells have been silent since May, 1935, when it was ionnd that the old frame was unequal to the shain placed upon it, and that the bells themselveg were in a poor condition. On Saturday the new bells made up for lost fime and they were thind 'true and propex.' The ringing was of a very mixed chayacter; fising and falling in peal predominating. Ono or two "scientific' hands managed to gut uatelo up and were allowed to have a pull.

All who were conversant with the old peal commented upon the vast improvement in the tone "thel "go," but such impravement is expected when Messrs. Johus Taylor and Co., of Lolaghlumangh, are entrusted with a job of this soit.
The 2ad and tenor are the oldest bells in the peal. They bear the inscription: ' IP x CP 1790. Digory Jose, Vicar. John Bray and Thomes Taylor, Churchwardens."

The 3rd and 4th were recast in 1861 by John Warner aud song.
The treble was cast in 1907 by Lilewellyn and James aud inscribod, - T. W. Lemon, D.D., Oxon. Vicar. S. Prouse, Ohtrehwatlen. Marin Somes, of Annery Hotse, N. Devon, Lady Patron." Thare was a similar inscription on the 5th, also decatis in 1907 , but dal butry ruginally from the 18 th century.
Euch of the bells now also contains a veference to fla whint work done by the firm of John Taylor and Co.
An entirely new all-metal bell frame has been erected to "arry the bells, which have been provided with the latest type of bell fittings. Ringing is still carried on from the ground hoor, but as the draught of rope is not axceptionally lany it is a comfortable place to ring at.
The weight of the old tenor at Pourgill was $9 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. : the weight of the new tenor is 12 cwt .3 cj . 26 lb . in F slarpp.

Following the dedication service, fer was provided its the Village Hall at a very moderate cost of sixpence, but the meal did not interfere with the ringing, as bands cantid go in and out accrivjug to tho ringing programme,
A number of visiting ringers also tools the opporturity of visiting Stratton, where permission to fing laat been obtained.

Owing to a masunderstanding in conmection witl a serviee, ringing at Porghill was curkailed, but it onabled the wisitors to find out that Stratton bells have lost nothing by ueage.

The Rector of Maresfielk, shussex, the Rev. A. C. Dudley Ryder, has just celebrated his goth birthday, and on Salurday a peal in Honour of the event was rung at the Parish Church. The Rector met the ringers after the peal and entertained thena to tea. It had been inteuded to attempt Cumbridge Surprise, but, meoting short, Bobsinot liad to be substituled, Mr. G. Avis standing in at a moment's notice.
The augmenting of the ring of six at thaufrechfa is being done, bub the dedication will not take place until after Easter.
The tenor ball of Ighthan Church (Zent) has beon repaired by welding specialists three times, and an ench occasion it has again hecorne cracked. The bell has 110 w to be recast. This bell is dated 1620 sind was east by Joln Wituar.

There will be no more ringing at St. John's, Cardiff, for a time, The tower is undergoing repaira.
The two back hells of the ring of eight al St. Peter's, Camarthen, have been put on ball bearings.

A SECRETARY'S 25 YEARS' SERVICE.

PROPOSED TESTJMONLAB TO MR. C. T. COLГS.
In October, $1935, \mathrm{Mr}$. C. T. Coles contpleted 25 Years' service as a secretary of the Middlesex County Associalion and London Diocesan Guild, and it is proposed to murk this by giving him ateslimonial at the annual meethig of the essociation, to be hela on April 17 th.
There nust be hundreds of ringers throughout the country who will be glad of this opportunity of shawing their respect and affection for Mr. Coles, who has not only done a vast amounf of work for his association, but has devoted himself to furthering the art in mally dircctions, includizg long service on the Central Council. All who would liko to contribute to the testimouial shonld send their donations to Mr. W. H. Hollier, hon. treasurer, 29, Duse Rond, Chiswick, W.4, or Mr. E. G. S. Tumer, hou, secretary, 65, Kingsley Avelue, West Faling, W.13. The offer memberg of the cammittee are Messrs. I. A. Troltope and G. W. Fletcher (vice-presidents of the association), G. R. Goodsuip G. ## TO POPULARISE NEW METHODS.

A SUGGESTION.
To the Editor.
Dear Sir, May I suggest that we most practical way to popularise new methods is for the Metliods Commitiee to pick out a number of methods of special value, closen for musical and other suitable rensons, anat recommend these for adoption as 'standard methods; as edditions to, or in place of, the existing standard methods.

These should then be universally rung by the assuciations at meetings, and bins give riagers a chance to learn and ring bhen. At present, with the exception of a few fsolated instances, the opporGnintios of ringing these methods are practically nil for both old or young ringers. I believe this would also add to tho attractiveness of mectings to many who are just a dithe tired of ringing the same old methods meeting after meeting with nothing of fresh interest.
I quite realise, of course, that it is not an easy task, but as thore seems to be a new tppe of ringer coming into cxistence who is willing at least bo try sometting hesides the old, if he gets the opportunity, it is worlh while endeavoning to give it hin, and at the same time show appreciation of the immense amount of work dane by the prodincers of these new methods.

SUGGESTED MEMORIAL TO LATE REV, B H. T. DRAKE.

ELY ASSOCIATION MEMBERS OFFER SUPPORT.
A meeting of the Cenfral Braneh of the Ely Diocesan Association, held at. Chatteris, offered to support a seheme for a memorial to the Rov. R. H. Tyrmbitt-Drake. There was only a modorate attendance aarly, but iJr. A. J. Ahram, on helalf of tlie local company, gave the menbers a warm welcome. Some good practice took place. Tea was partaken of in Sty. Peter's Mall, after whith a gloot business meeting was hold, Mr. F. W. Thnlbon, Ringing Master, presiding.
The question of a proposed memorial to the late general secretary, the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, was discussed, and the meeting decided that 'should the Gentral Council prefer to do anylining of this kiad (the rev. gentleman was their librarien), members of this tranch would support such a suggestion at the anuual general meeting of this ossucintion.'

' GRAN'FERS CELEBRATE.

On Fraday, Febrancy 5ill, Lwo members of bic Oxford Diogesay Guild became grandfathers, and to celebrate the event the omit, 504 Stedman Triples was rung ou the back eight of St. Lanrence's, Reading : E. Frumfrey 1, R. T. Hibbert (conductor') 2, C. Pullen 3, G. Fosiler 4, H. Smitil 5, L. Sadler 6, W. Hithbert 7, Grandad E. J. Foster 8. This should have been a good tauch of Stedman Cingies, but owing to the jnclement weather the tower was far from full. The other 'Grazier' (ex-sergt.-Major W, Hibliert, R.II.A.) nelebrated at Easb Ilsley. However, al hobli places the two daughters were 'toasted ' and wished a long and liappy life.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION

SHALWARTS AND FOUNGSTERS AT WRSTHRN BRANCF MEETING.
The Western Branch of the Worcestorshive Rud Districts Association leld its first meebing of the year af Wychbold, near Droitwich, last Saturday, in cold bat fain weather: The elmoch is sitnated upon a som of salt, which is cansing some concern abont the safety of the church in the fiblure, owing to the tremendous amount of brine pumped onl of the caith by the sall worlis at Stolie. The gronnd in soveral places las sunk, ad Judge Amphlelt's home, bot far distanb, has been condemned for this reason, but up to the present no serions cracks have appeared in the church's fobric.
The bells, recently relung by 'Taylon's, mee banily and lighi, and were made good use of by about fifty members juesent, including very welcome visitors from Clent, Bronserore, Kidderminster, Smethwick and Coventry. A gratifying foature was the presence of many of the new recruits gained last yenr, and these were given ample opporturities by the Branch Ringing Mastier. To sce treblo and tenor fingers on an "iuside" bell certainly jusibified the fime given to these new members, and, as many of them are now taking The Ringing World,' they will doubtless read this repoll and may be assured of similar trepionent at, futine meetings, The more adyanced members, besides gettiog a "Kick' out of their offorts in frelping the leamers, relieted the tedinm of Doubles by touches of Cambridge, Double Oxford and St. Clement's.
A short service, futly chmol, was held, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. Giblos), who gave n very interesting aditress on the lines familinr at these meetings. It was pleasing to note the presence in church of the Rev. A. H. Lewis, Ficar of St. Peter's, Droitwich, and an honorary member, who was aceompanied by Mys. Lewis. The Parochial Church Conncil very goneronsly provided the tea, which was served at, The Croft at the kind invitation of Miss G. E. Male, ihe Fitarage Room being too small to accommodate both ringers and the choir.
At the husiness meeting which followed, the Vicar presided and was supportor by Mr. W. Sliont (Master of the association), Messra. C. Camm (Brazeh Ringing Master), G. E. Large (bramel secretary) nnd TV. Ranford (Central Committel. Apotngies were tendered for Mr. F. P. Thomas (vice-president) and MI. E. Barher (andilor)
One life, one fonorny life member, four honorny and twelve perkomin言 members were elected.
Mr: Short proposed that the arartary peal be rung at Wychboli, and to inchde as many of the local ringers as were capable, empasisimg the need of encanmaging local bands. Mr. W. H. Raxter was applointed conductor.
It whs agreed to hoid tire next meeling al. Lougdon, where, Mr. Camm said, there wolld bo an opportunity to get a newly-formed band to join the association.
The reat of the busines was of a joithe character mul soon disposed of, after which Mr. Short thanked the Vicar, choir, organist, Indies and the local bnnd for the part they harl all played in natzing tho meeting so enjoyable. The secretary, in seconding this, said it had bean a pleasure to arrange this meving, and he land had his task made easy by the witlinguess and co-ojneration of all the kind friends at wychiold.
The close of the meeting bronght an old mamber, Mr. F. F. Spadding, to pay his 37 th subseription, and watation uny he made of some other "old-timers" present-Tow "Glcos, of Areley Kinge, Charlie Smith, of Dodrlerlill, and Tom Drvies, of Droibwinf, the list of whom, wibly Geore Groen, having avercome many difficulties and setbacks, has now a promising band of oight younesters. On the homewaw jonney ane was set pondering over the rectivities of these stalwarts through the years, remembering with plexsure that thes, along with otherg Whose ummes are meve familiay, are still with us to iuspire, by their loyal service to the rssoutation, those who lave sinilar paths to tread.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

LARGE ATTENDANCE Al' ANNUAL MEPTING.

The annuul gemeral meeting of the I andon Cunnly Association unt North Southwark Diocesan Ginild was leeld ons Silurday, Fehruasy 13th. Ringing took place in the a'lernoon at-Si. Leonard's, shore ditch, St, Lawience Jewry, St, Mary-le-Bow and SL. Clement Danes. A splendid servico followed at St. Clement Danes, the preather hoing the Rt. Rev. Lord Bishop of Stepney, who had a congregation of ringers numbering about 100 persons. He louk for his text lst Cor.
 Ringing, like all othet arte, lad ifs fonmdation in and was dependent on tho Christinn relifion. In the earliest days artists were inspired by a religions motive, as shown by the fact that they invariably depicted Biblical subjects. Hc enphasised that ringers likewjse slould dedicate their endeavours to the glory of Cod. In his experience of bellirigers one of the greatest joys they possessed was that wonderful gift of friendship. The trouhle to-day aboad was due to sugpioion cansed by lack of comradeslip, and in times of alistrust betwem nations the world is sorely in need of the human tonch and the drawing together in yeal live friendstip. ITe hegred abl ringrers to spread abroad the spirit of goodwill and camradeship.
Tea was taken al a nearay restrurant, at whinh 72 members ant down. Aflerwards some adjonmed to St. Clementes lol mote ringing others stayed hehind to hen handbell ringilg by various parties.
The business meeting in the Parish Room followed. Four new members Were elected and the election of six otlyers ratilied. The presentalion of sucounts by mene of the atudilars pevanted satisfaclory posilion, the year flrishing with a small balmee of income over expenditure. The necoumbs were adopted. The records of 16 peals rung last yenr were acceptod and will be sent to peal writar.
The report an the year's progress and position was givell by the Master (Mu", I'. H. Thffender), who referred to the satisfactory practices both at Sl. Clement's and Lambeth. There was, howeves', still room for futher advancoment. The peals ring during the year showed that 49 persons had taken part.
Respect was paid to those nembers who had passed away during to year by fhe meeting standing in silence.
The secretary (ML. T. W. Taffonder) said he was disappointed not to have the aumal report, [ow sale that ovening, as the printer condd not geb them ready in tims. After explaining the contens of anal the worl involved in conapiling the report, he said lio wonld be glad if members conld encourage the sale of then at the small charree of sixpence, which would only cover cost of production on this the original production-The election of affers, which usually cuuses some anrusement and waste of time, was on this nceasion soon disposerl of, as the officials were all re-elected as follows: Master, T. E. Taffender; secretary. T. W. Thftender; assistant secrebaries, F. L, Hawhioma and N. F. Mamaing; treasurer, E. A. Foung : stewards, T. Wyate and P. Carter ; thastecs, A. H. Keighiey and F. E. Dawe. Dissalisfacion was expressed concerming the demolition of AII Hallows ${ }^{3}$ Charch, Lombaid Street, E.C., and the removal of the bolls. The secretary pointed ond blats the anthorities lad been witlen to, but 110 reply had bean receiveri. It was hoped that tho bells would be humg in a tower sufficiently strong to enable them to be fung for service.
Votes of thanks were reworted for the arrangements of the riay, especially at St. Clement's and tho other towers where ziuging liad taken place.

As there was only one band prepared to enter the handbell contest for the Dawe Cup, another band wos summoned frou a local tower in order th make a contest. The bands they completed their methods, and the resalt frona the three judges was soon lortheoming. They decided that the contest was a draw. The evening concludod with some Graudsire Cingues by the brigede from Dartourl ringing four bells each.

POLICE RINGERS VISIT LIVERPOOL  national guild hold their annual meeting.  Reception by Lord Mayor.

The annual mecting of the Natioual Police Guild was held in Liver pool on Saiurday, Februaty 13th, the following forces being represented: Metropolitan, Manchester City, Leicester City, Birnumgham City, Cardiff City, Liverpool City, Reigate Borough, Bolton Borough, Northampion County, Lancashire Connty and Leicester County.
Visitors commenced to arrive about 10 a.m., with the exception of the Metropolitan 'carly birds,' who, having travelled throughout the night, were already on the scene of aution. The bells of St. Francis Xuyier's Roman Calholic Clurch, Salishury Strect, were rung to various meihods unfil about noon, zud then a move was made to the Bear's Paw Restizurant, in lord Street, for luncheon. The Guild wero honourad by the preseuce of Mr. A. K. Wilson, Chief Constable of Liverpol; the Rer. D. Railton, Rector of Liverpool; the Rev. A. Scatt, of Bolton, the gresident of the Laucashive Association; Mr. W. H. sluker, lone. secretany of the association ; and M:. G. It. Nowton. Apolugies for absonce were received from Mr. O. J. B. Cole (Chief Coustable of Lucester), Supt. W. Green (Deputy Chief Constable of Oxfordshire), Supt. A. Wigging (Deputy Chief Constable of Berkshire), Supt. C. P. Hilton (Surrey County), and other members of the Guild.
After luncheon, the president of the Guild, Supt. F. R. Willians, Mauchester City, cxtended a welcome to the guests. Suitable replies were made by the Rev, D. Railton and Mr, A. K. Wilsour. The latter suid he knew rothing about bellinging, but ho was very interested in a course of Graudsire Triples ring on the handbells shortly afterwards.
An oflicial reception was given by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool, Alderman Denton, and the Lady Mayoress at the Town Fall at 3 p.ra. In welcoming the Guild, Aldermen Deaton referred to the important part to be phayed by bellrinyers in the forthcoming celebrations for the Coronation, and appealed to all ringers to do ell thcy could to make the celebratious successful.
The president of the Guild replied on behalf of the Guild memberr Rnd the Rev. D. Railton for whe ringers of Liverpool. A course of Grundire Catcrs was then ruag on the handbells by members of the Manchester City and Leicesicr. City Forces, followed by ilhe tunes Blue Bells of Scolland' and 'Drink fo me only.' The Lord Mayor and Iady Mayoress were very intercsted in tho ringing.

VISIT TO NEW OATHEDRAL.

A wisit then followed to the new Cathedral. Canon Soulsby very kindly conducted the party through the Gathedral and explained in detail the various parts of it. Truly a magnificent buindiug now, but what a pleasure in store for those who may be able to sce it campleted.
T'ea wes partaken of at the Benrs $\mathrm{P}_{\mathrm{a}}$ w Restaurant, after which the business meeting of the Guild was held.
The following officers were re-elected: Supt. F. IR. Williams, Matchester City, president; ex-Chief Inspector W. Botrill, Metropolitan Police, vice-president; Inspector H. J. Poole, Leicester City, fon. sccrelary and trensurer; Scrgt. H. G. Jenney, Leicester City, nuditar. The followng members coustitute the commiftee: Sergt. H. G. Seumey, Leicester Gity; P.C. N. Bagworlh, Metropolitan; P.C. D. Brown, Manchester City; P.C. E.C. Birkett, Liverpool City; exsergt. W. Dowing, Birmingham City ; ex-Sergt. A. Lawrence Herts County; ex-P.C. F. Page, Manchester City; and ex-P.O. W. Olnydon, Reigate Borough.
Congratulations of the Guild were extended to Supt. F. R. Wiliams on the recent honour conferred upon him in receiring the King's Police Medal.
It was decided io hold the next amual meeting of the Guild in February, 1938, at Nowtingham.
Ringing afterwards took place on tho peal of twelve bells at St. Nicholas Clurch until about 8 p.m., and then a return was made to the Bear's Paw Restauraut for the social evening. Entertaimument was provided by 1'.C.s Frauklaud and Hugles (Liverpool Oity), P.O. Wh. Pye (Manchester City), ex-Sergt. W. Dowding (Bimminglitam), Mr. Sinnes, Mr. B. Lloyd and Mr. Frost (Liverpool). Solections on the handbells were remdered very effectively by Mr. I. Booth and Miss Pooth, of Stundish, near Wigan, Miss F. A. Poole, the Guild gecrefary's sister, atcompanying on the piano.
The thanks of the Guild are due to Chief Inspector J. Meldrum and P.C.s L. C. Birkett and T. R. Butler, of the Liverpool City Force, for tha excellent arraugements which were made. Also to Mr. G. R. Newlon and other nuembers of the Laneashire Association who assisted in aly way to the making of such a successful meeting and enjoyable day.

'CHE LELCESTER PARTY'S EXPERIENCES

The Leicester contingent. writes a correspondent, met at 7 a.m. and uil reported pronptly, with the exception of one 'Raw-son of a Gum,' enownal, appureutly, for punctuality. The party mumbered 24 and included 'he 'ever-present, ' clare we say 'evergreen,' $\operatorname{F}$. H. D.' The journey conmeuced in grod style in a specially reserved saloon, and soon the handbells were tinckling (tinckling's right) with tunes and ehanges. After a time, it was obvious that more than one member of the handbelt hand was interested in scenery, and on reaching Derbyshire it was a case of 'all eyes on deck', for 'Abraham's

Heights.' Either something was amiss with our look-out or the heights lad been lowered, because nothing was seen of them. Someone suggested that there was a famous mill in the district, but wo ueither saw the 'Mil(1)uer the gtream.'

On reaching Anbergate we were officially received by a representative of the L.M. and S. Railway Co, a porter agerl 14 jears, who rulshect his ear againge the saloou window in an eftort to haar more of the bells. Judging by the wagnilg of his ears and the astoniched look upon his face, he had mever heard anything so weird before. Has hended his cap through the window to receive a collertion made for him and his face failly 'lit up' as we left him ou the plationn.
Please note that this 'lit-un' has no connection with the " lit-up' in the 'Dexter Code.'
During this time a member of the 'solo' school hat been making steady progress, and it was a question whether or not he would require a 'Carter' to carry of the bumee. "The Tylucky Old Soldier' was in the school asain.
We arrived at Livernool in srod time and made our way to dit. Fraucis Xavicr's Church, Solishury Street. The mext spectacle we observed was a Guild member and another ninger, yrite tall enouyt for a policeman ("no names, no packdrill '), Erying all the doors of a licensed house, Their efforts were in vain, Cries of 'Shame ' Irom the crowd. 'Opea doors' was not until 11.30 a.m. and il was How only 11.28 a.m.! This time they certainly were not ' Lit-up,' but very much ' Blacked-ont.'
Our next concern was the luncheon deliny. A complete parl was missing and the only naws of them was that they had gone to rug at a church a few miles out of Liverpool. When they did aypive no ous would wear the blame, and the only reasonable excuse fortheoning was that the church in question had been moved further ritom Liverpool.

SEVEN IN A TAXI FOR FODR.

If there was one thing more than another we all wauted to see it was the famous Nersey Tumel. The following is sin account of one of the parties: During our visit to the new Cathedral oue fenale excrisionist mentioned to a policeman on duty outside the Cathedral that we wantert to go through the tunnel. He made no more to do than order at once it taxi. Maybe The was on commission. Auyhow a great stringle followed; half the party in the Cathedral aud wanting to see more of that and the other half outside marking time on the tasi driver. Poor Fred (not Dexter this time) was the zunuer between the parties, pleading to each for a mutual settoment. Eventually we all assombled nt the taxi. Now for another calurrity taxi to hold four pergons and sovell in the party. After some aryb ment the taxi driver exclaimed, really as a last hope, Well if you Poor Fred could neither stand up nor sit down. When he did eventually get down he appeared to make room for three more. Wo could bear the springs playing a tune on the back axle es we went bouncing through the sireets. The next trouble was a scarcity of frash air, but fortunately we were able to get a wiadow open belore the tuanel eatrance was reached. Someone said, "What in pity dhe Roes are not here. ${ }^{\text {E }}$ Surely a misunderstandiug ; we were going under the Mersey, not over it-no rowing needed. For the benefit of ihose who have not visited the tunnel, it may be well to explain that there is a lane for slow trafic and one for fast traffic in each divection through the tungel. What a screan went up as the driver carutionsly onlered the lane for 'slow trame.' Never a better cxample of 'safety first.
After the wondcrful experience of the tunuel we wanted to returu to the cafe for ter. Thien came a guessing competition for the nanle of the cafe. We knew it was somelhing to do with an animal's foot, 'Cow-heel ' was one suggestion. 'Sheep's trotter' another, aud in despair someons shouted 'The Boar's Head.' It's something to do with f pror bear. Ah! 'Bears Paw,' that's it. The tax driver landed us bacle safely and ne ome enjoyed the trip more than he did. We fully enjoyed the evening's entertainment, but had to leave before the finisil. Another 'lold-up.' Ono of our Freds put on is coat-not his own. Unfortumately, it was not neartly so good as lis own-lience the delay for the change.
The journey home was enjoyed in various ways. Solo selool, lantibell band and the shut-eye party. Leeicester was reached ahout 3 a.m. all well satisfied with the splendid day.
One inportant item missed. F. H. D. did not risg on the peal of twolve, but this line it was not our fandt, but his. If he admite if, it must be ao

THREE GENERATIONS.

FHE HARRISON FAMILY AR LOUGBBOROUGF

In outr last issue we recorded a peal of Bob Major in which three geverations of yet another family took part together. Geofirey Harrison, aged 13, tang with his father and grandfather, This photograph of them was takes in the ringing room at the Bell Foundry tower.

Mr. Robert Fanison began fis ringing career at the Parish Church, now the Cathedral, Slueffield; this was whilst still in bis teens, in 1888,

It was matural for Geoffrey to accompany his tuther into the Houndry Campanile on practice nights, and at nine yoars of age be could handlu any of the tex bells ibere. Fo was deternined to ring a peal betora he was thirteen, aud fato nearly intervened to prevent this-a weale before he was thirteen Geoffrey was laid up with the "Ilh, and then his father started with tho same symptoms, whieh seemed to put 'paid' to uny iden of eetting the peal. Fowever, they pulled round in tinus to malre the attempt and score on Jamary 2711 , as has been previously recorded.
There had leen the thought of inchading 'Grand d, but thele wus a [itule doubt as to whether Geofirey would have the stamina to stand

DEARTH OF YOUNG RINGERS.

SUSSEX FINDS DIFFICULTE TN FTLLING GAPS.

Thu dearth of young ringers in Sussex was referred to ot the anmual dinner of the Southover (Lewes) Guild, Ineld on T'uesdey, Feb. Gth, at the King's Head lan, when the Rector fthe Rev. D. G. Mothews) presided and was supported by Mr. H. E. White aund Nr. R. Curtis (vice-presidents).

After the loyal toast had been honoured, Mr. FF. Bemmett (Brighton) proposed ' 'lhe Southover Bellingers' Guild,' and reforred to the loss they lad sustaised in the recent death of Mr. R. J. Dawe. Proceeding, ho said the fromble nowndays was thab the old enthusiasis weve pascing on ami fow yomngar mer carao forward to tako the vacnnt places.
Mr. G. P. Elphick (hon. seerefary of the Guild), respondingr, said althongh ihe Guild was ruming very well dry warted more young men to take an interest in hellringing.
Mr. A. J. Turner (captain of the Guild) proposed 'The Sussex Comity Association,' and refermed to the times when belfries were not kept in as goon a condition as they were to-day. Hin those days the belfries ware often a sourco of dinger to the fingers and there was no aulhority to inspect them.
Responding, Mr. S. E. Amustrovg (hon. secvetary) Eaid the Sussex Conuty Association were finding a keartl of young ringers. There Were so many other attuactions for the young men of to-day that it Was very lard to get then interested.
Mr. W. Ward proposed "The Presidend and Vice-Presidents," and said that the Rector of Southower had been with them aver six yoars. He had interested himself to a great extont in all the aclivities of the churels, especially the bellringers. Ho joined heartily in everything which thoy did and they loped that Mr. Mattlows would have many More years with them. With the tonst he couplert the name of Mrs Matthews, and musical lionnors were accorded.
The Jew. D. G. Matthews remarked on the excellant senvetary and twensurer the Guikl hat and on the businesslike why in which the Gifild was managed.
Mr. F. Crees proposed 'The Host and Hostess, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Miszell replied.

The ninsiwal progranume was sustained by Messts. A. J. Turner, . Crees, T, Woolston, T. Taylor, W. Ward, G. Elphick and others.

A CORONATION YEAR 'PUSH.'

Those who have at heart the future of the Exercise will give their approval to the suggestion, made by Mr. Frank Perrens on Saturday at the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner at Birmingham, that in this Coronation year a great 'push' should be nade to increase the number of bell ringers. It is not only that ringers will require to be at full strength to do justice to the great national celebrations in May, but the maintenance of the art demands that a united effort should be made to increase the ranks of those responsible for ringing in the future. In some places, it is true, there are fortunate bands of ringers who regulatly ring all their bells for the Sunday services, but there is a large number of towers where the personnel is definitely short of the number of bells or where the circumstances are such that a full band cannot always be depended upon. These bands need suppiementing. Further, there are other towers where the bells are silent for want of ringers, and efforts are needed to re-create an interest in the belfry.
Bells are going to play an important part in the Coronation celebrations in thousands of towns and villages, and the coming event provides one of the best opportunities that have occurred for more than a quarter of a century, for advocating the claims which church bells should liave upon the interests of the public and the need there is for recruils. Except where the payment of the ringers keeps their little coterie a ' closed 'society, recruits are always welcome, but this is an exceptional opportunity for interesting suitable recruits. Ringers, however, must he prepared to shoulder the task themselves and use every means at their disposal to make the matter known in every likely quarter. The church organisations should be able to provide much suitable material, but acceplable recruits might well be found outside, if the ringers themselves make it their special business. It may mean real endeavour, but much would be accomplished if every ringer set himself to bring in a recruit during this year and teach him to ring a bell. What is needed is definite and determined effort. Any source that may be useful should be tapped and the aid of the clergy and even the public press might be enlisted, but the real brunt of the task must fall upon the ringers. The reviving of interest in those places where there are now no ringers will be a more difficult business, perhaps, and it is the associations and guilds that can take a hand in such cases, by first enlisting the sympathy and help of the clergy and Church Council to collect likely recruits and then supplying instructors. Our belfries, nearly all of them, need recruits and, as Mr. Perrens pointed out in his speech, there never was a more favoured time than that provided by Coronation year for a great effort to obtain them.

FOR BEGINNERS.

PROVING BOB MINOR.

There arc uany beginners, and many more adyanced ringerz, too, who like to dabble a little im eomposing if only to while away odd moments. They love to try their hand, for instance, at putting together touches of Grandsire 'I'riples, or eren finding a new method. It may not always be a proficable occapation, but it is very fascinating. Ard yet, we think, there is something to he gained from it, even if the material results are very small. By 'experimenting' with fgures, the student may tearn quite a lat
Composing, without provins, is, of course, a waste of time. The ringer who 'composes 'touches or peals leaves his work incomplete if he does not ' prove' that what he has composed is true. A composition is worthless unless it is true.

A reader, who has been working on Bob Minor, asks us to deal with the proof of it in this colnma. He says, 'It does not always follow, I find, that ovell if the lead onds do not repeat, the touch need necessarily be true. In Bob Major, I helieve I am right in saying, provided the tenors are kept together, then a tonoh or pea: is true if the lead ends are true. Of course, I appreciate that in Minor the tenors cannot be kept together throughout the whole of a 780.

First with regard to Bob Majar, it is the fact of keeping two bells (the tenors) constantly in the same relationship that ensures the truth of a composilion, if the lead-ends are true. If the tenors aro parted, then there is a risk of repetition unless certain safeguards are taken. Thist as an example, taken at haphazard, the change 61725846 can occur, when the treble is coming down, before the lead-head 16725846 and after the lad-head 16278504 with the treble going up. Just take paprer and pencil and work it out for yourselves.
In Bab Minor the same risk occurs when the 'tenors" are parted, and, as they must necessarily be parted to ohtain the full extent of changes, the mere checking of the backstroke treble leads is nol sufficient.

Our correspondent asks us to use the following example, which he specially compiled, to illustraie ous explanation:-

| 23456 | 45326 | 42356 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 23564 | S 54263 | - 42563 |
| 36245 | 40532 | -42635 |
| S 6.3452 | 63425 | 23456 |
| S 36524 | -63254 |  |
| S 63245 | - 63542 |  |
| 34652 | 34625 |  |
| 45386 | 42356 |  |

In Bob Minor the two bells behind are not affected by a bob, and by the use of bolus and singles they can come together six times, but they may sometimes be coursing in a reverse order, and when you check your composition you must make sure that the reverse order does not give you the same change at handstroke that you have already had elsewhere at backstroke; if you do, you have repeated, in the reverse ovder, the preceding eleven changes.
Wherever, therefore, you find you lave bells in $5-6$ rewersed, you must check the landstrokes as well as the backstrokes, and if you are using singles, yau must check botly hand and backstrokes, whichever way the bells turn up behind. As the proof of Bob Minor, in any case. is not a very lengtly business, it may be quicker and safer in the long run for the beginner to write down every handstroke and beckstroke of his composibion. The liandstrokes of the ghove touch are:-

| ---: | ---: | ---: |
| S 2654 | 45623 | 24653 |
| S 36425 | 64352 | 24365 |
| S 63254 | -36245 |  |
| 36425 | -36524 |  |
| 43562 | 36452 |  |

Now comparo these rows against the previous set of backstrokes and 7ou find repetition between Lead 2, Column 1, and Lead 4, Column 2; Lead 4, Golumn 1, and Lead 5, Coltmn 2; Lead 3, Column 2, and Lead 3, Column 1.
In this particular touch there is one other thing which will be obvious to the student. You cannot lave more than six rows with the same prir of bells in 2-3, when the treble is leading. When a single is made thet pair of bells is in $2-3$ both at handstroke and backstroke, and the single, therefore, accounts for two of the six changes. A glance at the figures of the above touch, therefore, reveals falseness at once, for $6-3$ gre in front twice at eingles (which acconnts for four changes) and tinree times elsewhere, so that even if all the six yows had been used (actually only five are) the touch must he false.
Perhaps our readers would like to try their hand at the following tronch of 240 and see whether or not it is true :-

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOClATION.

BURTON DISTRIC干 APPOINTS A RINGING MASTER.
A meeting of tho Burtur-on-Trent District was held at Rollestun-onDove on Saturdny last, and, considering the unsettled stato of the weather, there was a good atitendauce. The followirg towers ware represented: St. Paul's, Burton, Overseale, Netharseale, Newhall, Ticknall, Tubbary, Lullington, Gastle Donnington, Melbourwe and Norton-in-the-Moors, together with the local company.

Members were delighted to have present with themt the chairman of the distriet, Mr. W. W. Worthington, J.P., of Maple Hayes, Lichfield, and at the suggestion of Mr. Worthington tho first wuch was Stedrasu Triples. Tonches in the simpler methods were then rumg for the sake of the less proficieut. The company were entertained to tra by the Reutor of Rolleston (the Rev. William Barnall).

Ab the opening of the subsequent business meeting Mr. J. H. Swinfield referred to the loss the district had sustained in the cleatl। of Mr. R . G. Lewis, of Utdexeter, and as a mark of respect the company staod in silence for a few moments.

One new honorary member and three ringing members were elected. It was decided to elect a Ringing Master for the district, and, on the proposition of Mr. W. H. Curson, seconded by Mr. J. W. Cottotr, Mr. J. H. Swinfield was unanimonsly choseu to this mew appointment.

Ticknall having been chosen for the place of the next menting on April 20th. id was decided that the special Ninor mebhod for practice shonla be Donble Court.

The metting closed with a liearty vote of thamks to the Rector of Rolleston for his kind hospitality and for use of the bells.
Ringing coutinued unlil 7.30 and ranged from Grazdsire Doubles to Kent Treble Bol Major:

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

RNNGILS' COMMUNJON SERVIGE TO BE HLLD
At this time of year attendances at meetings depend very mueh on the state of the weather, and as the Leeds area had had a very drenching time lately, ending with a very heavy fall of snow, the athendance at Liversedge on Saturday last was not a record.

The bells were ung up at 3 p.m., and, except for the usual breaks, continued until o o'clock. The business meeting was held in the tower, when the chair was taken by the president. Three new members were elected, Mr. F. Popplewell, of Brighouse, and Messrs. F. Gibbard ane A. Wright, of Burley.
The pote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local contpany was proposed by the president and seconded by Mr. J. Drake. Mr. F. Hodgson replied for the lacal company
Menbers wero present from Armley, Batley, Burley, Drighlinglon, IdIe, Birstall, Elland, Sherburn, Shipley, Lindley and the local company, also Mr. Deal, of London.
The next meeting will be held at Armley on Saturday, March 20th. This is one week earlier then the usual date owing to Easter falling on the last week-end in March.
It las been decided to hold a ringers' Commumion service at this mesting, whicl is also the nomination meeting of the Leeds Societ.y for the coming year

FIRST 720 OF MINOR AT WING, BUCKS

BUT BELLS " UNPEALABLE

The village church of Wing, near Leighton Buszard, is noted for possessing some fine architectural features, including an early Normin nave a Norman apse and a perfect Saxon window. Ringers, however, will be more interested in the bells, which are an ancient peal of six. with a tenor of 291 cwt.z the fourth beaviest six in the courtry. Thep are dated $1654,1640,1635$, 1835 , 1842 and 1863 respectively, from treble to tenor. The nsual ringing chamber is on the ground flool with a draught of 70ft! Previaus visits by bands have all brought the same romarks, 'Neatly unringable!' Once, however, a party decided to take some ropes and ring from the floor under the bells. And on that occasion there was a great improvement.

Another band of enthusiasts decided to follow their example, and after spending $2 \frac{1}{2}$ lours fithing on copes, viling the bells and doing other adjustmends, started for a 720 of Cambridge Surprise. To the pleasant surpyise of everyone, this was duly completed, and at the finish it was unaninuonsly decided that the bells, especially the tenor, are definitely nopealuble (a point which our correspondent asks other enthusiasts fo note). The bind who rang the 720 were Miss N. R. Cross I, A. S. Richirvds 2, A. P. Cannon 3, H. F. Alexander 4, F. D. Boreham 5, Rev. G. E. Wigg (conductor) 6.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

DIVISIONAL MEETING AT TRYERNING.
The South-Eastern Division of tho Essex Association visited Fryerning for their meeting on February 13 th, there being 29 memberg and friends present from Great Baddow, Boreliam, Broomifid, Chelnsford, Ford End, Fryerning, Maldon, Spriugfield, Little Waltham, Sudbury, Leytonstone and Wanstead.

The association form of service was conducted by the Rector, the Rov. C. S. Trimble, who gave the ringers a very warm welcome. The lesson was reed by the Divisional Master, Mr. A. Mansfiela, and the singing led by the organist, Mr. Ir. A. Bradley, who very kindly leff his work to do 80 , and had to return to his duties immediately afterwards.

Tes, which was kindy provided by the local ringers and their friends, was served in the Perish Room and was followed by the business meating, at which one new ringing member, Mr. N. F. Grinham, of Boreham, was elected.

It was decided, subject to the necessary permission bemg granted, to hold the next meeting at Widford on April 24 th.

Mr. S. Taylor, on behalf of all present, thanked the Rector for the use of the bells and for taking the service, the local band and their friends far providing and serving the tea, and Mr. A. Bradley for making the arrangements, also the organist and organ blower. He was especially grateful to the organist for transposing the hymns into a lower key so that all could sing the higher notes.

The Rector, in reply, repeated his welcome and said that when they came to Fryerning again he hoped they would come in the Eummer, when he would be very pleased to throw open the Rectory garien.

Handbell ringing followed and a retum made to the tower. Severat ringers called at Ingatestone on the way home, the bells there being available during the evening.

SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATED.

BELERY GOSSIP

There is special interest in the hambell peal rung at Canbridge on February 21st, for one of the two undergraduates who then rang their first peal was B. P. Tyrwhitt-Drake, of Pembroke College, whose fatlier, the late Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, was a prominent momber of Cambridge University Guild, and librarian of the Central Council, in succession to the late Rev, C. W. O. Jenkyn. The Rer. B. H. Tyrwhiti-Drake, it will be remembered, was accidentally killed by a falling tree about a jear ago.
The first peal of Lessness Sirprise Major, a method by E. W. Ripler, was rumg at Erith on Fchruary 26th. A previous attempt by the same band, on February 13th, came to grief after 2 hours 34 minutes, through the breaking of the tenor clapper.
By the way, what does the title mean? Has it anything to dowith thought, ov care, or hope? Will the next in the serjes be Fullness '?
It is strange that on the same diny that a peal of "Lessmess" was rung, a poal of another new Surprise methorl was also recordedDroitwich rung it Helmingham.
To record a ringer's 900th peal is a rare occurrence, yet this week we publish the fact that two ringers have reached this large totalMr. James Bonnett, at Crayford last Friday, aud Mr. William Short, at Cheltenham on Saturday.
Many friends of P.C. Perkins will regret to hear of a serious accident which happened to him winle on duty on Wednesday week. He slipped on the pavament and fractured his thigh. Mr. Perking has just been appointed Leicester Branch secretary of the Midland Counties Association, and was most enthusiastic. Everyone will wish him a speedy recovery.
At Gruudisburgh, Suffolk, on Saturday, a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung. Changes commenced at 3.25 p.m. at a brisk pace without a single thought as to the need for switching on the electric light until dusk began to fall, when whispers went aromd. However, as no one could reach the switch, the peal progressed, although at retarded pace, and oventually came round at 6.20 p.m. in total darkness. Well doue!
Mr. George S. Soames, a ringar for many yearg at Marslana and Aylshani, Norfolk, died sudderly on Febuary Zlst while a peal attempt was in progress ab Marshaw. The same baud on Saturday rang a half-muffled poal in his menory.
The dedication of the new ring of twelve bells at Winchester Cathedral, which have been provided by the generosity of the Friends of the Cathedral Society and the Barron Bell Trust, will take place jn the aftermoon of March 20th. Particulars will be found in our notice columas.
Through a misunderstanding, the dedication of the new treble bell at Yetminster was inadvertently advertised to take place on February 87th.

BELL RINGING WITHOUT BELLS.

' OHANGE RENGIFG WITHODT PREVIOUS KNOWLEDGE
The doom of churcls bellringing appears to be sealed. There will no longer be need for bells or ringers, for a new invention may take their place- Last week's issue of 'The Church of England Newspaper ' contained the following:-
'A large party of bellringers and friends from St. Paul's Church, Egham, visited the works of the John Compton Organ Co., Ltd., at North Acton, N.W., on Fridny evening last to witness a demonstration of a now kind of carillon, which is entirely without bells. This new invertion, which is electronic in charucter, bad nevor before been publicly demonstrated. It produces (not reproduces) bell musie by new scientific means, and such famons carillons as those at Bruges and Malines, and the peals at Canterbury and Wimehester Cathedrais, can be given with the utmost fidelity.
'The apparatus is controlled from a small keyboard or desk, which can be placed in any convenient position, such as porch, vestry, or organ-loft, and a single operator can achiove the most elaborato change ringing without previous knowledge of campanology. By the same method, clocks can be provided with chimes. Ally depth of weight of tone can be provided, and even automatic change ringing can be fitited.
'This oew (fully patented) apparatus employs zo gramophone records or oscillating valoss. It is purely electrical and requires but a fow cubic feot of space. It imposes no strain whatever on the fabric, and its cost is only a furction of the expense entailed by a set of bells."
We have not heard this 'carillon without belle,' but we can jmagive that the instrument must be of a very ingenious nature. We are, however, surprised ta hear that a large party of bellringers should go anywhere to listen to and possibly approve of a piece of machinery that is going to deprive them of thoir art.
But possibly the 'bellingers present ' bave no art. for St. Paul's Church, Esham, does not happen to have a ringing peal of bells.

For those who find quito as much as they oan manage to ring even a pair of handbells to changes, the prospect of a single operator being able to 'achieve the most elaborate clange ringing withont previous knowledge of campanology' is really staggering. A new kind of man, as well as a new type of machine, must have been invented.

THE HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION.

ANNUAL GATHERING AT BIRMINGHAM.  Appeal for a Coronation Year ' Push.'

Heary Johnson, greatest of all Birmingham's ringers, who died at Aston in 1890 at the age of 80 years, has a niche in ringing history all his own. In his day he was not only one of the most knowledgable men in the Tixercise, but in his own partiular circle created an 'atmosphers' that had an elevating intasence. He was homoured in life: he is commemorated in death. Every year ringers from all parts of the country continue to gather to keep green his memory, and last Saturday a parly numbering nearly a bundred and fifty assembled for the annual dinner arranged by St. Martin's Guild, which marks the anniversary of his birth, which took place on February 28th, 1809. The number of those living to-day who actually knew Henry Johnson is rapidly diminishing, but there are still a few who had the privilege f the old man's acquantance, and eight of them were present on Saturday Ringing took piace in the afteruoon at various churches in Birmingham, and the dinner was served at the Imperial Hovel, under the senial chairmanship of the Vicar of Astom, Canon H. McGowen, who was accompanied by Mrs. MeGowan. Among those present were Alderman J. S. Priteheti (Master of St, Martin's Guild), Canon S. Blofeld (Vicar of Edgbaston), the Rev. R. S. O. Stevens (curate at Aston), Messys. F. W. Stevens (churchwarden of St. Martin's), W. R. Heaton (Solihuli, W A. Clark (hon. member), Fr. E. Haynes (Ringing Master', Councillon A. Paddon Smith, Messrs. A. Walker, J. George and J, H. Slieppard (vice-presidentrs), Mr. T. H. Reeves (hon, secreEary), Mrs, Reeves, Mrs. A. Walker, Mr. WT. Griffin and Miss Griffn (Walsall), Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon, secretary, Central Council), Mrs. Pletcher (hon aecretary, Ladies' Guild), Mr. R. Richardson (Master, Eincoln Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Perrens, Mr. and Mrs. T. Pervin (Covelatiy), Messrs. S. Paimer (lreasurer. Yorkshire Association), A. H. Ward (Derby), J. T. Smallwood (Bath), F. Li. Dawe (London), Mr. G. H. Cross (Master, Royal Cumberland Youths) and Mrs. Crose, Mr. H. Knight (hon. secretary, Staff Archreaconry Society), Mr. E. Guise (hon. secretary, Gloucester and Bristol Association) and Mrs. Guise, Mossre. W. H. Thonns, W. Koight, P. C. Williams and H. Birt (Bristol), J. P. Fidler (LougliTorouthl). S. R. Roper (Croydon), E. H. Nash (Molls, Som.), H. SoswelI (Wolverhamplon), T. T. Elton (Walsall), J. Pagett (Derby), P. I. Johnson (Leeds). G. Hoinel (Tork), G. L. Hewitt (WeFIrgton), W. Tarley and $F$. Nicholls (Stourbridge), G. J. Lewis (Powick), S. Briggs and F. Chaddock (Rotherham) and veprescntatives from the various hatds in the diocese.

Among those who sent apoloties were the Rector of Birmingham (Canon Guy Rogers), who las plesided on many occasions, and who was on his way to America, the Lovd Mayor and Lady Mayoress of 1sirminglam, the Bishop of Birmingham, Mr, E. H. Lewis (president the Cendral Comeil), Mr. A. A. Hughes and Mus. Fughes (Whiteehapel), Mr. C. F. Johnston (Croydon), Mr. F. B. Yates (King's Norton), etc.
The eveling was a very successful one, thanks largely to the excellent rangements made by the hon. secrotary.

GOOD FELLOWKHIP AND MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING.

Mr. TF. W. Perrens, in proposing the toast of "Church and State," efered to the many problems which confrobted the world to day as the result of the fast changing times in which they lived, problems which, he said, conlrl be faced successfully if they had the backing of the community in genern. With regand to the problems which ringers had to face, they had to ask themgelves what they could do both to lielp. themsclves and at the same time to help the Chureh and State. There were two paints which he would put befare them. Fingt let thom foster good fellowslip and mutual understanding, already so evidert among ringers (hear, hear). He put that first because it was most important, and what applied to any body of ringers applied oqually well in the Chnrch and in the State. Let them put aside all proity jealousies and grievances and substitute goodwill and Eellowship (hear, hear). His second point was more or less in the liature of an appeal; it was an appeal to each and every one to do what they could to help gel recruits for the Exercise; for by so doing lie thought they would do their little bit for the Church and State. Of recent years a largo number of bell restorations had been taking place up and down the country, and this year there were move bells than ever in this conntry to ring. Were they doing anything like sufficient to get ringers to ring those bells? The bells were put in the towers to be ritng, and it was their duty, as far as they poesibly could, to provide ringers for then. He appealed to all ringers and associations to make, in this Coronation vear, when they would be doing a great deal of ringing, a great push "for ringing recruits (hear, hear). They heard from time to time suggestions that they shonld go to the ehoir and other church organisations for their recruits for ringing. Let them cover these fields as far as they conld, but there were so many more outside who would be interested and male good ringers if they could get hold of them. If they gat Hold of 'outsiders' they wond be serving the doulsle purpose of enlarging their own ranks and the ranks of ven chumelmen. He nipenled to everyone in the Exercise to do their level best to get ab least one recmil during this Coronation year. Even if they only kept, 20 per cent. of the rectuits they would go a long way towards securing the regulau ringing of bells that wert at present silent (hear, hear)

Mr. Perrens went on to refer to the happy feeling existing in lais country between Church and SLate, and renarbed that in hoth they had men who would be able to overcome the difficuities that wond have to be faced in the futnie. l'hey had had remartalile proof of that during the last twelve mantlis, especially in the State.
The Chaiman, who replied to tire toast, said ringers as a body were stamply supporters of the Churela, and be was glad to bay his experience had not beet the experience oveasionally put to himi by sone of lis brother cleries that hellingers called the people to churcth, but could not hear the sound of theip own bells. That had not bern true of the ringers at the two churches where he had had the opportunity of wovkiug most larmoniously with his own rimgers; and he did not think it was true of the many towers representied there that night. Such associaticus as that Guild fostered the happy relations luetween the ringers and the clergy and chumeh where they did thei
The Church, continned the Chaikman, was a queer sort of insifution. It was spread all aver the land, but in spite of ald the difienltics which were bonnd to occnr, whereper human beings were trying to do something about which they felt very deeply, they all knew that the existence of the Church in this land, spread abont in erary parish, was sonething that this country could not do without (apolanse). The Chairman went onl to refer to the relations between Churchand Stiate and to compare tite conditions in this conntry with other oountries in Europe. Churels and State in this country liad a muely ighter relationship than formerly. That, perhaps, was ar goon thing, but there was stili a desire that the Church should keep in touch with the important tings affecting the lives of the people, a deare felt not only by the comparatively smal] body of people who meds for worship and eupported the Cliurch's institutions, bist among the great mass of citizens of the coming, who, thengh they mighil 1 fot aceept the fegular ministrations of the Chirch, still loolsed to it for a leat, were still willirg to co-operabe with it on ogeasion, and slitl called upon it in emorgency to comfort or leelp them.

ONE OF ISTON'S GREAT WORTHITS.

In calling upou Mr. W. Griffin to propose the toast of "IThe Memory of the late Hetry Jolnson, the Chairman said Johnson whe one of the greati worthies at AEtan. Fis niture appeared in the belfry on many records, and his momument, erected by the ringers of all England, stood in the churchyan. They al Aston were very pronil of thit conuection.
Mr. Griflin, who as a very young ringer remembered Fenty Johnson, told dumerons antedotes of ringers and riuging in those now distant days, and referved to some of the early celebration dimers.
He said he frot met Johnson when he the speaker) came from Sniday School to help William Hallsworth, another famons ringer, to chime the bells in Walsall tower. Tri those tiays Jolmson used to be spoken of almast with awe, and he, as a boy, began to thin:t Johnson was something to be afraid of. But when lie divil meet hin lie found he was the most kindly old geutleman he had ever met. Fo thoughl of lim as like "Tather Christmas.' Johmson had a cheery word for him, congratulated him and hoped he would make a good ainger. In after years when the (Mr. Grifin) came to St. Martin's he found out what a really rreat man Johnson was. The abmosphere at St. Martin's was all Johnson; everybody seemed imbued with what he did or thonght abont riuging. Henry Jolinson was one of whon they could truly say that all the elements were so mixed in him that everyone could stand up and say le was a bypical English gentlenan.
The tonst was druak in silence, and a count was takent of those who knew Henry Johnson in the flesh. The number had dwinded to fight. Afterwards a well-nigh perfect course of Stedman Gibques was mug on mandaels lyy Messis. A. E. Noman, F. Pervin, A. Walker, G. T. Swann, F. E. Haynes and M. J. Morris.

Alderman Pritehebt submitted 'Continued Prosperivy to Sl. Martin's Guild. Fo said it was a gieat pleasure to find himself once more able to be with thez after hig gevions illuess last year. Fir thonked the Guild for again electing him Master, despite the fact that he was 82 years old. He had also been re-elected an Alderinan of the Oity of Birmingham for six years. He hoped they would be able to elect him as Master for six yearg as well (applanse). It was very gralifying to have such kind friende among the ringers. Aldermans Pritchett went on to mention whe names of the members lost by death diming the year. First and foremost was thoir dear old friend Thomas Russam. Fo was a great ringer. He had nearly attained his goth birthday, and daring the whole of that period he had epent his ringrige career in1 convection with st. Mastin's Guild. Fe (the speaker') had beon with Mr. Russim on many oecasions, especially at Aston, whern lo wrs in charge for many yerrs, and where he (Alderman Pritehett) lo was in charge for many yearg, nul where lee (Alderman Pritchett, got his frit practice on ten bells. They also very mach regretted the loss of Mr . Leader of Sutton Coldfeli, and Mr George Hurbes of Wedneabury. Mr. Hughes was ane-armed ringer who was n perfect marvel. Fe always chose a heavy bell and the way he managed it made him one of the most remarknble ringers who ever lived. Con(Contimued on next page.)

Cathedral Bells Restoration Welcomed.

timing, Alderman Pritchett said they lad with them some ' old Elaygers, anoong them Tom Niller, who was one of a band of ringers, headed by Henry Johnson, who visited lim at Oxford in his under graduate days. They were also pleased to see Mr. Jamees George, who, unfortunately, fell downstairs and seriously hurt himself. Mr George had had an unexampled carear as a ringer. He had been incapacitated for nearly a year, but had just begun to ring again They hoped he would continue to improve and resume that remark able activity as a ringer that had made him so well known all over the British Ysles,
With regard to the progress of the Guild, they had held eiglat meetings during the year. At the quarterly meetings they had had an average atteudance of 40, and at tine bi-quarterly meetings an average attendanco of 80 . He thought, therefore, that their meetings might be regarded as successful. Thirteen penls had been rung, with seven conductars, inchading line first peni rung on the angmented bells at Astom. They had a hund there of young ringers who were making very good progiess (applause). The Vicar of Aston must be very gratilied with the suceess of his young ringers. The Guild continued to progress under very good auspices. The clergy of the city were taining a deep interest in zinging and giving the Guild every encouthoment. The Guikl welcomed the restoration of the Cathedra luellis. In his early ringing days they were a horror to him. The tried to ring on them on several occasions with very indifferent success, hut he doubted whetlaer the way they were hung was quite as bad as the sound of the belle themselves (laughter). He was very glad the old laells hat disappeared and were to be replaced with bells with all moders improvements
Alderman Pritchett made sympathetic reference to the absence from the gatheriag, which she had atteuded many times, of Mrs. J. S. Golusmith thitugh illiness, and went on to say that Mr'. George Swam had completed 500 peals, 400 of then having been rung in comection with that Guild. He did not, of course, anything like approach the record of Mr. James George, but he lad mane a good start (langhter and applause). In conclusion, Alderman Pritchett said the Guild was greally indehted to the indefatigable hon. secretary (Mr. Reeves) and to the Ringing Minstor (Mr. Haymes) for all the work they put in He added that his own first penl was rung in 1874, conducted by Hayry Bastable, a name that ought not to be forgolten on accasions like that (hear, lear). He was very proud of it and was stil] proud of it. A very cherished memory was his gssociation with that deat old gentleman (applause).

GUILD

GOTNG ON NTCELF

The Fon, Sectetary, in cond ributed to the musical royramme, and then went on to thank his wife, who was heside him. The organisation of that gathering and the work of the Guile gencrally, he said, entailed a good deal of wood. He, as most of those present knew, was away from home a good part of the week, and af week-ends he had to give up f lot of family-in brde that he cold otherwise spend wita his wife and family-in brder to carry on his duties as hon. secretary- On behalf had shown hims (applanse). Continuing, Mr. Reeves said St. Martin's Gnidel lowourd the men of the past. They were the men who built up What old Guild, matid was ap to the ringers of to-day to sustain the honour' and dignily of the Guild. Those dimners were inaugurated ahout the time that there was a great awakening in the recognition of the duties of ringers ag churchworkers. In the old days ringers Were known as buttresses of the Ohurch rather than pillars ${ }^{1}$ of the Churcin (laughter). To-day that had heen altered, and he trusted they were pillars of the Church. They had choirmen among them, rhurch comneillors and churehwardens, and so he thought they could sav trathenlly that the status of the ringer had greatly improved What he was particularly anxious about was that they should do nothing to break their tradition. He had in mind that some time ago a writer in "The Ringing World said thet it ought mot to matter nhout a peal being false as long as it was well struck. Such a view woulat mot have leald for a moment in the past, and he did not think it onglit to hold in the future (hear, hear). That was one of the things they must guard against.
Continuing, Mr. Reeves sald this year they wonld be celebrating the Coronation in every tower in the country. They in Birmingham wern going to make almost a week of ringing in the various belfries, and in due rourse the local secretarieg would hear from bin regarding Thith they conld do in the mather. When the occasion arrived lef then see to it that when they rang they put their best into it (applanse). Let their striking be perfection-that was what they wanted t: nital at.
Their Guild, added Mr. Reeves, wns going on very nicely at present they were making new members, and he was sure there was still a hip futur hefore the Guild. As their secretary he appreciated the belp and sumport the members always sare him at their meetings and at that ammanl ofathering (applause)
The Ringing fraster, in proposing ' The Visitors,' extended to them all a hearty wejcome. They had seldom had, he said, a gathering so representative. There was, however, ans face missing. Although he conld not be incheled as at visitor, they weve all sorry their old friend

Harry Withers was not prescat. Fad he been there it would have been his thirty-ninth consecutive appearance at that gathering, but owing to ill-health he was now in a convalescent lome and they wished him & apeedy recovery.

They frequently, said Mr. Faynes, heard staries of the lack of young ringets, but he felt that as long as ringers' gatherings continued to ationct the mumerous attendance they ohviously did atwect, they had no cause to despond. The shortage, he thought, was only a temporery phase, and in jears to come ringers would be produced in the numbers they had always been produced. It was true that more yeals of hells were being put in and peals of eight augmented to ten and twelve. That was bound ta cause a diffenlt situation for the time being, but he felt that in, say, ten years' time their reason for anxlety would have disappeared, becauso, at bottom, the same spirit that inspired the master's of old was still with them.

In coupling with the toast the name of the secretary of the Central Conncil, Mr. Haynes paid a warm tribute to the work done by Mr. Fletcher, which was a model of efficiency and enthusiasm (applause).
Mr. Fietcher, in reply, said te was one of the favomed people given a job to do, but ho would not be able to do it were it not tiat he received great assistance from his wife and a great amount of help from the secretaries of the affiliated sociaties. If there were any bouquets to be givan they should go to the secretaries of the affilated societies. So far as his part of the work for the Council was concemed, he got a great ' kick' out of it, and he appealed to yonng ringers to find some job in their own societieg, for they would discaver that it gave an added interest to their own ringing activities. They should nat ring merely for the sake of their own performances; it was far better to do something for the good of ringing.

ETPECTS OF THE WAR.

At the present time, said Mr. Metcher, they were suffering from the effects of the war. In the war they lost ringers who would now he in their widdle age, raund about the 40 's, and who would be the connecting link between the old zingers and the young. They had gone, and it was for the young ringers who came after to go forward quicker than they mitht atherwise bave done and for the old ringers to be more tolerant fowards the youns ringers.
Mr. Fhetcher went on to Lhank the Pirmingham ringers for all they did for the entertaiument of the visitors. They knew Birmingham ringers at one time as Radio 'stars,' but they had been on vacotion. He hoped the vacation would not last much longer, because they wanted to hear them on the wireless again (applause)
Mr. Albert Walker proposed the toast of "The Ringing World ' and first paid a tribute to the manner in which the Press as a whole was now giving proninence to the subject of bells and ringing. A sympathetic press was very helpful. Mr. Walker went on to spenk in terms of warm appreciation of the worls of Mr. Goldsmith as Fitar of 'The Ringing World,' and urged in greater measure of support for the paper, especially among woung ringers, who would benefit greatily by the study of the articles for beginners. In conaection with young ringers, he congratulated the young members of the Aston hand on their progress.

The toast was acknowledged by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith.
Conneillor A. P. Smith gave the torst of "The Chairman' and thanked him an belalf of all present for the able and officient manner in which he had presided over the proceedings. Astoul, for the most. part, said Mr. Smith, had been forthate in its Vicars, and it was forbunate still. Mr. Smith referred to the Arohbishod of Canterthrys hrondeast of his 'recall to veligion." He caid he strongly disagreed with the Archbishop's sligesstion that there was a falling away from religion. Fe (the speaker) was just ann ordinary busimess man, mixing vith business men, and he could assure the Archbiglop, if he malght. be so presumptuous, that his experience led him to esy there was no falling avay from reltion. Fe believed, indeed, that people were move religions than they had ever heen in his memory. That there was a falling away in attendarce at charch was true. Tlate was easily to be seen and many of them were aware of many of the reasons for it. But falling away in cluwch attendance was a very different. thing from a falling away from religion. Aston was forthnate in its Vicar. and the fine old elhurch frequently degeribed as the 'gem of the Midlands, was one of the busiest centres of religion in the city af the moment and one of the most important.
The Clairman, in responding, said it was a great privilege fo mreside over the gathering. He was proud of his elumoh, prond of his bells and just as proud of his band of ringel's. He expressed his grationde to the ringers and particularly to Mr. Davies. the leader, for the work they were doing.

The noost enjoyable proyramme was contributed to hy the tyric Mrale Qurtette, Mrs. D. Smith, Mr. A. S. Downes rind Mr. M Mackenzie, who samg songs. and Mr. A. Deeley, who contributed a monologue. Mr. E. J. Woodhall was the accompanist. In adelition to tho course of Stedman Cinqtes mentioned above. a course of Grandsiro Caters was rung an handbells tw Mescrs. Fatarm, r. Price. F Pertens, R. Thgram and T. Miller. The long programene, in which interest was sustained to the end, concluded at II p.m. with "Anld Lanc Sype.' and the party broke up to find a storm had been raging oufside and the street were deep fnl snow.

On the following day many visitors who stayed overnight wore entertained to a sandwich hnch' at the Tamworth Arms, a wellknown Birmingham 'ringers' house.

'SNOWED UP !

RINGERS' EXPERIENCES ATTER JOHNSON DINNER.
The 'Johason' dinner is seldom blessed with good weather. More often than not the climatic coaditions that week-end have been unkind to visilors to Birmingham, but never, perlaps, more unkind than on Sunduy. The gueste left the hotel of Saturday night with heavy snow falling, and miniature blizzards swept the city at intervals on Sunday.
I.ı the thick of it on Saturday night one party had a motor drive to Coventry. Before they siarted out, the screen-wiper of their car was accidentally brokell It is not true that the cecretary of the Central Conncil offered to staud on the rumning board and keep the screen clean during the journey. Nor is it true that the langaage of the driver melted the snow.
Quite early on Sunday-early, that is, for" 'the morning after the niglat before?-two well-known Guild secretaries put in their good doed for the day by doing a spot of snow shoveling and sweeping before breakfast.
On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson left for Surfleet. Soon after passing Market Harborough they were caught in a severe sturm, and when it abated it took them an hour and a half to dig their car out of the snow.

They decided to return to Market Harborough, and, driving into tho yard of an hotel, the wheels on one side sank into a pipe-trench and another hour was spent in extricating the car. They stayed the night at Market Harborough and reached home about moon on Monday.

It would appear to be the duty of St. Martin's Guild to ensure more congenial weather for the occasion of the annual dinner in futare.

THE ELLACOMBE CHIMES.

To the Editor.

Sir-The Rev. H. T. Ellacombe, Rector of Clygt St. George from 1850 to 1885, was a piolleer in the restoration of parish chuches. He was also the greatest authority of his time on church bells, having an nurivalled pergonal knowledge of belfries, both in England and abroad. Standard looks on the subject. e.g., "The Bells of e Church," "The Church Bells of Devon, etc., and ou change ringing were written by him, and bis practical genuts was displayed in various mechanical inventions for bell furniture and fitlings. The system of chiming bells, how in common use and bearing his names, was introduced by him, and his original model is to be seen in our churcl. He was a prominent member of the Ancient Socicty of College Youths, and to his energy and enthusiasm, more or less direetly, many guilds and associations of ringers throughout the country owe their birth,

Unfortunately, through long wear and the depredetions of the death-watch heetle, the framework and fittings of our six bells (one of them of pre-Reformation date and beatiful tone, and three of them inserted by Henry Ellacombe himself) urgently need to be renewad. In this tiny agricultural paribh, population 210, we are endeavouring to raise 2540 to cover the cost.
I helieve that far beyond the limits of Devon there must be many lovers of our ancient churches and their bells willing to help us to do honour to a great benefactor of the church at large by maintaining the leelfry which was so dear to him,

Donations for the "Church Bells Restoration Fund "will be gratefully welcomed by W. M. MITOHELL, Rector.

BLIND RINGERS AT OXFORD.

TWO SIGHTLESS UNDERGRADUATES LEARY TO RING.
Oxford Uuiversity Society has two members who deserve hearty congratulations upon the courage and ability they beve shown in trimphing over severe handicap. They are both blind, yet they lave leamed to ring.
The two members concerned are Mr. Shepheard-Welvyu, of Orick, and Mr. G. Bromley, of $$ t_{\text {. Catharine's. Mr, Shepheard-Welwyn has }}$ been learping for about three months and can already hande a bell iu rounds quite well. Mr. Bromley has been riging for rather less than twelve months and has been ucluded in round finging for some time, and on Sunday last at St. Martin's and All Saints', Oxford, Fo rang tiae tenor without assistance of any kind to two courses of Grandsire Doubles, and kept a good beat, in spite of the fact tiali. owing to one or two learaets being included, the ringing was not tou even
They have to rely entirely on a sense of touch and of rbythm, but somehow they manage to landle their bells well, and follow the bells in front as well or better than most learners of their limited experience.
This achievement speaks volumes for the grit aud perseverauce of these two young men in learning a difficalt art under such adverse circumstances. Also a good denl of credit is due to their fellownombers of the Oxford University Society, and to Mr. Watter F. Judge, of St. Martin and All Saints', Oxford, who have so patiently and catcfully instructed thens.
Men who have been rimgers and have lost their sight. linve contincel their practice of the art, but this is the first time, as fur as we are aware, that blind men lave learned to ring.

MEN OF MERIT.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, -I saw in 'The Ringing Worid' some time ago that thu Central Council was going to make a aational biography of patit members. May I ask if the Council is going to extend the biogrnphy and include other 'gen of merit' who, in their lifetime, did su nuch for chango ringing. Some of these have come and gone. I think they ought to lave a place in the biograply, just as much tis blose that have had a seat on the Council. Not every 'man of merit' has had a seat on the Comel for various reasons, aud 1 for not think it right that these men should be forgotien or ignored. I slatl look for it reply to this query.

COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS.

Central Council affairs will soon begin to occupy attention, and those members who have matters which they wish discussed must send in their notices forthwith, if these are to be included in the printed agenda. At the moment there seems to be no question of outstanding interest or division among ringers, as there have been in some recent years, but there is still opportunity for someone to start a 'heresy hunt' or find a committee to

On the other hand, there is much useful material, which they and the Council have been at great pains to provide, which has not produced the results hoped for. Their book of Plain Major Methods, which met with a fair sale, has not led to any noticeable extension of the methods rung, and to this extent the outcome must be considered disappointing. There ought to be a more practical use made of this book than leaving it unopened on the ringers' bookshelves. Not even the Council can be satisfied with merely selling a book. These volumes are produced to expand the art of change ringing, and it is a great pity that some of the fine methods which this volume contains are not in much more general use. We are beginning to wonder whether the explanation is not partly to be found in the fact that ringers will not take the trouble to see what kind of things these methods are. We believe that if someone would undertake to provide diagrams instead of just blocks of figures, from which the ringer has to work out his own clue to ringing methods, they would be rapidly taken up. Srowdon popularised the 'Standard' methods because he printed the figures with a blue line superimposed. It is an expensive process, but the majority of progressive ringers in these days ring by diagram, and it needs some such aid to induce them to take up new methods.
Half a dozen bands are showing their enterprise by ringing new Surprise methods, and these might be glad to see the appearance of the book which the committee (Continned on page 162 has prepared on this section of the art．But when it does make its appearance we doulat if it will do very much to extend Surprise ringing in new quarters．As a treatise on Surprise methods the book surpasses any－ thing that has ever been produced，but we are more and more coming to the conclusion that this is not the form in which ringers want their methods presented to them， although，of course，we fully recognise that where hun－ dreds of methods are to be published in one volume，con－ siderations of space and cost，to say nothing of the mathe－ matical side of the question，demand that the methods be represented by figures．

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING GRANDSIRE TRIPLES.
A beginner has asked us for a little help in calling Grandsire Triples. Like many others, he can ring the method fainly well, but he cannot make much headway in callitg touches.

The Grisi wing to know is, when to call the bobs; by which we mopan the place in the lead where ine actand word of command lus to be given. If you examine the figures of Grandsira Triples you will bee that the effect of the bob takes place before the treble completes its wholo pull at lead. If no bob is called, mothing interferes with the plain hunting of the bells until the treble has finished leading. In practically ald even-bell methods, such as Bols Minor and Major, the bob is effected by vaizing the position of three (or more) of the bells at the backstroke lead of the treble. In Grandsire the effective novement has taken place before that.

| Plain Lead | Bob Lead |
| :---: | ---: |
| 7561423 | 7561423 |
| 5716243 | Call Bob 5716243 |
| 5172634 | 5172634 |
| 1527364 | 1576243 |
| 1253746 | 1752634 |
| 2513746 | 7512634 |

The bob, therefore, must be 'called' in good time, and the confect moment is at the beginning of the change in which the treblo strikes in 3rd's place on the way flown. Now, while it may not be easy to see, while riuging another bell, exactly when the treble is in Jrd'g place, there happens to lue a particularly good gude to the place where the bob should he called. It is atithe moment that the hell, which is going to make the ordinary $3^{\prime} d$ 's place, pulis off at lead. The bell to go into the hunt gets sufficient notice, and the dorlginy bells are in their dodging places. The bell that is coming to lead when the bob has to be calfed is the one hunting down inmediately in front of the treble, so you ought not to mistrke it.

Every place into which a bell ean fall at a bob has a distinctive name:-

\begin{array}{ll}
\text { Middle, or MI., } & \text { 4-5 (up). } \\
\text { Before, or B., } & \text { 3rd's place. } \\
\text { In, or I., } & \text { Into thre hunt. } \\
\text { Out, or O., } & \text { Ont of the lunt. } \\
\text { Wrong, or W., } & 7-6 \text { (down). } \\
\text { Home, or H.; } & 6-7 \text { (up). }
\end{array}

One of the impartant things to remember in calling Grandsire $1 s$ that, compared with a plain lead, a boh culs out one dodging position. that is to say winle the dodge in 6-7 (up) Follows that in $7-6$ (down) at a plain lead, a boly would cause the bell to double dorige is $4-5 \mathrm{nj}$ (or Middle). If jou want to call a bell into the Home position, ywu must do it the lead after it has dorged in 54 (down). If you wint to call it into the hunt, you do it the lead after it has dadged in $6-7$ up. The only posilion that is not diaturbed by a bob is thet Before, whicls follows the dodge in 4-5 up. It is tha eutting out of a dofging place that sometimes fogs those who aye beginning to call tonches. Here is a litile table thint shows the differences made hotween Plain and Bob leads:-

| After | Plain Lead | Bob |
| 3nd's | $r^{1}$ odge 5-4 down | dodge 76 down |
| 5-4 dowl | dodge 7-6 down | dodge 6-7 up |
| 7 -6 down | dodge 6-7 up. | dodge 45 Lu |
| $6-7$ up | dotite 4-5 up | Inte H14! |
| 4.5 up | make 3 rd's | make 3rd's |

Just maslev this first, locfore you berin to call. It is also a great help to know you should call the bob when striking your first blow in your dodging place (whether 4.5 or 6-7, up or down). When Eoing futo the hunt call the bob wherr you are in 2nd's, going up, and the treble is striking over you. A bol when you are yourself coming Before is called when you hegin to lead.
When you first begin calling, it may be just rs well to ring the olseervation bell and learn your touch by the places into wheli it will be actually called, thus a 336 called from the 7 th: Before, Wrong, In, Out at 1 (it is necessary to know how many leads the abserwation bell is to remain in the hunt). This calling twice repeated brings the belis beck into the plain course.
If you get a touch which is all in one part, don't forget that you can treat any bell as the observation bell. For instance, this tittle tonch of 266 has no special bell for observation. It is as easy to learn it from one bell as from another. Bobs are called at the following intervals, $1,1,2,3,4,2,1,3,1$, these figures representing the number of feads between the calls.
The conduclor shonld know how to write out his own touches, and readers should figure out this one, as an example. The transpositions, if you do not happen to linow, are 253746 for a plain lead and 752634 for 2 bob lead.
Thus fo bob at I from rounds produces 758634, and at bob at the following lead (752634 transpssed by 752634) 467352. Follow this with a plain lead, 467352 transposed by 253746, which gives 436275, and so on; the treble, being recurvent in front of the whole of the rows of firures, is omitted.
We will return to the subject of enlling Grandsire Triples noxt wask.

FAMOUS BIRMINGHAM RINGERS OF THE PAST.

AN INTERESTING GROUP

This picture, taken seventy years ago, forms an extremely interesting link with a past generation of Birmingham ringers, whose memory is recalled by the recent commemoration dinner.

The group is from a photograph of members of St . Martin's Guild taken when Henry Johnson was secretary.

In front are: Thomas Day, Henry Johnson, William Haywood, John Perks and Job Joynes.

Some of these men helped to make history. Johnson's services to the art are well known. Thomas Diy was a composer of repute and was the athor of the famous record lengths of 15,840 and 16,608 Treble Boh. With Johnson, William Haywood and John James took part in the record length of Stedman Cinques $(7,392)$ rung at Birmingham in 1868.

SURPRISE METHODS THAT EXTEND TO 10 AND 12 BELLS.

A NEW SERIES FOR ADVANCED RINGERS.
Very few Surprise Major methods make perfect extensions both to ten and twelve bells. There are some, like Cambridge and Yorksime, and we hope to bring others to the notice of the Exercise.

There is really very little varioty practised in the methods rung on the higher numbers, and we think ringers will welcome the opportunity of trying something different, which gives the same scope as the two mentoned. There is something more attractive in ringing a methad on eight bells which, it is known, can be rung, if desired, on ten and twelve by retaining the same 'work.'
With a view to stimalating interest in this mater, Mr. Gabriel Lindof has furnished us with a short sevies of methods which deserve uttention and whith those who have the opporturity may care to pructice.
In placing those metlods lefiove the Exercise Mr. Lindoff has selceted only those that ernform to the eommonsense rule, that 'Places make the method.' In these methorls, therefore, it must be tho places that are extendetl ; the other work takes sare of itself.
Two methots that have heen ancoptrd ly the Exercise as correct "xtunsions are Treble Boh and Camhridge.
1u Treble Bok the places (2nd's) are extended downwards. In Cumhridge the places are extended across. No fixed rile can the obanrved, iherefore. They may be downwards, across, or holh, whicherner the method demands.
York Susprist, here givpls ns the first, of the serics. is at methori that extends from six. Thaugh simple, its music will, when practised, be highly appreciated.

A DEVON BAND'S SUCCESS

DOERLE NORWIGH AND OXFORD TREBLE BOB BY

 RESEDENTLSOn Wednesdiy craning, Marth Jrsl, ciglit menhers of the Devon Guild rang a peal of Oxford Tyoble Bob Mujor at Highweek Parish Church, Newton Abbot. Thas peal was He lirat in the method for six of the band, and it was alse the first peal in the method for the Guild by a band resident in the connty of Devon. It was the first peal of Major on the bells, and the striking was excellent thoughout

Iricirentially the sume loand met at Buakfastleigh quout six weaks ago and rayg a peal of Double Nowwhe, this also being the fret peal in the mothod for the Guild by a band resident in the eomaty. The peal of Oxford is recolded in the appropriate coltams.

BROADCASTING

ST．MARTIN＇S－IN－THE－THELDS BELLSS．  fo the Editor．

Dear Sir，－Gannot something be done to end the broadcasts fif wrotehed＇still＇bellis from St．Martin＇s－in－the－Fields？If I remember right，an effort whs made a few years ago to get the bells of this church rung，but this does nob seem to have been successful．
I am convincer that the mesent methor of chiming them mast be regretted by all ringers，and not leasi by the Society of Royal Cum－ berland Youths，whose chief tower I believe St．Markin＇s to be． Would it not bs possible for this sociely，nud perlapes also the Central Council，to approant the powers that be with a request that the bells be rang on the oceasion of a broadeast？As the bells are radiated through the principal British stations，if，seoms such of pity that so rast a listening audience should fet a false impression of the tradi－ tional British style of chuzeh beilrioginge possibly confusing this chiming with the true change ringing．

Certainly the noise produced by the present methon is deplorable． An organ volunlary is much to be preferred every time．

BELFRY GOSSIP

The baud at Crayforl, Kent, has accomplished two highly creuitable performances within the past week-on Saturday, the firgt Surprise peal by a local company at this tower, sud a peal of Bob Maximus on bandbells on Sunday, with three of the bend ringing their first peal on twelve bells.
It is many years, apparently, since a lacal band in Kent rang a Surprise peal-which is strange in view of tho taient which has always existed if the county, and that at one time one tower possessed a lacal band thst could ring London. There seems to be no trace of any local Surprise peal since Gabriel Lindoff called the first peals of Cambridge and Superlative in the county in 1893.
Yesterday was the fiftieth auniversary of a performance which still ranks among the most notewortliy peals in history. On March 11th, 1887, at the Goose and Gridiron, St. Paul's Churchyart, four members of the Ancient Society of College Youths rang Holt's Original on bandbella, non-conducted. "The striking was faultless," and the peal was pronounced by the competent witnesses present, representing both the Colloge Youths and Cumberlands, to be 'a masterpiece of intellectaal ringing.
Three of the band are happily atill alive. They are Messrs. J. C. Mitchell, F. F. L. Buckingham and C. F. Winney. The fourth riager was Mr. G. T. McLairghlin. Jast night Mr. Mitchell entertained a amall private party to celebrate the jubilee, and thus fulfilled a hope that was expressed at a similar gathering exactir ten years ago.
The peal of Grandsire was the second ever rung silcnt on handbells, and, strangely enough, it was rung on the anniversary of the first non-conducted peal, whioh John Cox, William Cooter, Henry Haley and Matt. Wood rang for the St. James' Society on March 11th, 1854. That was Stedman triples.

One hundred years ago next Monday a peal of 10,133 Grandsire Caters was rung in Bristol in 5 hours 54 minutes.

The ringer of the 7th in the peal at Southwark Cathedra! on February 20th was Henry G. Miles. In the peal of Spliced Surpise at Acton on February 27 th the ringer of the 5 th was Ernest C. S. Turner.

The peal at Cheitenlam on February 27tli was the first of Stedman Cinques by R. Woodyati.
Among those who hope to attend the dinner of the Royal Cumberland Fouths in London to-mcrrow are at least fwo with over 50 years of mumbership-Mu. George Williams and Mr. W. H. Fussell.

LONDON TOWERS

A HTNT TO SECRETARIES.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,-Appreciation would, I thints, be felt on the part of many ringerg, particularly those resident in and near London, if the aecretaries of the various rinming associations would endeavour, when they are able, to give some indication in their notices in "The Ringing World ' of the whereabouts of towors where ringing meetings are to be held.

When there are several churches in one district or meizhbourhood it is often difficult to get directed to the right one. The price are usually at a loss when one asks the way to a church, whereas they are able to direct one to any particular street without hesitation.
I would suggest, therefore, that when there is any likelihoorl of difficulty in finding elnech, secretaries should give the name of the streat in which it is situated
My reason for writint this is that I recently had the bitter experience of not finding a cortain charch at all, in spite of inquising of every other passer-by and walking some three or four miles.

WING BELLS.

A BOLD SPATEMENT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir . - In mpopinion it is rather a bold statement to make to bay the belis of Wing are not pealable. Did the band that tried them consist of the 'champion hervy bell ringers' of Englant? On Fobruary 15th, 1913, I toak fo band to St. Dunstan's-im-the-East, Jrandon, for a peal of Triples. The tenor was not going any too welt. so m mall who claimed to be a great heavy hell ringer tackled her. After about 50 minutes he gave ap and said no one could ring it to a peal. The following Saturday the Middesex Associatiou rang a peal of Bristol Sunprise Major on them. The late Mr. W. Pyo rage the tenor and conducted the peal. I heard a good deal of it and it was well rung-
I venture to suggest that had the Rev. C. E. Wigg and friends rung a peal on Queen Camel bells before Messrs. Taylor rehung them, they would have had eomething to write home ahout. As it was, the tenorman had enough in the fourth 720 . I know the bells very well and had a touch or two on the tenor before they were rehung. I am of ths belief that rery few ringers in England would have rung her to a peal. The flory, and any gold medias, due for a heavy job on aix and eipht bells bolong to Mr. J. T, Dyke. He it was who rang this tenor to a peal when they wanted a good deal of skill and pulling to get a peal out of them.

Question of Introducing New Blood.

A very satisfactory state was reremad in the nffoirs of the Surrey Asconiation at the annual meeting, held at Leatherhead on Saturday, nad members showed their interest by attonding to the number of nearly eighty, representing 13 out of the 18 towers in the NorthWentern Division and foll ont of the nine towers in the Southern Division. The towers represented were Ashtead, Banstead, Bedding ton, Berhiltom, Oarslultor, Oroychon (St. John's and St. Peter's) Fposen (Ohrist Church), Wwe!l, Kingston, Leatherhead, Lingfeld, Merstiam, Mitchan (Clirist Church), Redbill, Reigate and winble alon. In addition visitors were present from Beckenham, Brockley, GierLsey, London, Shuremam, Tunbridge Wells, Windsor and Uckfeld
The spacious belfy was well filled dining the afternoon and again in the evening, when the ten bells were kept fully utilised under the competenti direction of Mr. Dan Cooper, Ringing Master of the NorthWest Division, in which Leatherhead is situated.

In the absence of ing Vicar (the Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge), the carate (the Rey. P. W. H. Isdell-Carpenter) offiated at the aerwice, and in a bricf aduress welcomed the association to Leatherhead on belull of the Vicar, and spoke of the fellowship and service of ringers.
Tea at the Insbitute was followed by the business meeting. In the errelited absence of the Master (Mr. D. K. C. Birt) througly ihness Mr. J. S. Goldsunith was made chairman, and was supported by the Rey. $P$. W. H. Isdell-Garpenter, the bon. secretary (Mi. C. H. Kimana), the assistant hon. secretary (Mr. E. G. Talbat) and other ollicers of the association.
The hon. treasurer's statement: of accounts showed receipts amounting to fobit 18 s . 3d. from members' subseriptions and an increased hrlance in the general accomt of 21505 g. g., due in some measure to the increase from 50 per cent. to 75 per cent. in the allocation frome the distriets.
member expressed dislike to the charge of a guinea for the bells at Southwark Cathedral out the occasion of tho last annual meeting.
The hon. secrefary explained that this elarge had been made by the authorities since 1921, when the bells were put in order, and was paid for the use of the bells for peals and mectings. Since the clarge was instituted the bells had been well looked after.-The halance oheet was adopteci.

THE YEAR'S RECORD

The committee in their annual report said one of the outstanding events of the year was the recasting of the eipht bells of Croydon Parish Church and their augmenation to twelve. The association is fortunate, said the report, in having for the first time in an affileted tower a Ewelva-hell peal, and it is hoped that members will take the apportunity of increasing their knowledge on the higher numbers on this icled ring.
Anothor ovent was the scoring of the first peal of Spliced Snrprise Royal in four methods in the country, rung by members of the NorthWestern District at Reddington, conducted by Mr. C. E. Kippin.
Ar unformate incident was the discovery that a compasition of Trebile Bob Major (an abridged version of F. Robiuson's 5.184) was false. 'Ihis composition bas been rung on 12 occasions by the assaciation, including a peal on the back eight at the Chureh of st. Mary-le-Bow, Gheapside. The peal records have been amended aceordingly. Twenty-six peals were rung during the year, an inerease of five over 1935. Methods: Spliced London, Bristol, Gimbridge and Superlative Surprise Royal 2; London-Royal 1, Major 2, Minor 1; Cam-bridye-Royal 3, Major 5; Fent Treble Bob-Royal 1, Major 1, Minor : Oxford Treble Bob Major I; Plain Bob-Royal 1, Major 1; Dotbble Norwich Major 1: Steduan-Gaters 1, Triples 2; Grandsure Triples 2; Minor (3 methods) 1. Eighty-four members took pert, six ringing their frys peal and 55 theil first peal in the method.
District meetings had been well atienden. In the North-Western District $\begin{gathered}\text { ne } \\ \text { averuge attendance was 38, and the Southerr District } 27 .\end{gathered}$ An interesting feature was the number of joint meelings. Six were held, one jointly with the Guildford Guild and Society of Royal Cumberland Kouths, three mid-week meetings with the Ladies' Guild. one ench with the Sussex Association and East Grinstead Guild, ali of which were well attended. The committee were of opinion that these joint meetings were excellent for promoting good feeling between neighbonring associations, which han always been the aim of the society, and shond be encouraged as much as possible.
Ringing had still been carried on montlaly by tice association al Southwark Cathedral, but diring recent months the attendance had not been up to the usual standard. Further volunteers were necessary if this ringing was to be carried on snccessfully.
The committee regretod to report the death of Mr . John Lee, of Streatham. an old acd reepected member of this association, and the Rev. H. T. Levis, late Vich of Horley, who was an honorary member for soveral years.
The membership of the association had slightly deoreased during the year, the botal of annual subseribing members being 287, as ggainst 297 at the ead of 1935. In the North-Western District there is on teduction of 14, but the Sicuthern Districl had an increase of four members.
Finanec was still satisfactory. the balance in hand in the Central Fuud and the districts having increxsed $\mathrm{FH}_{\mathrm{y}} \mathrm{EG}$ 10s. 10d. daring 1936 from E 398 s . 1 d . to 845 IBs . 11 m .

- In concluding then report, the commitiee congratulated the Master, Mr. Bint, upon the great improvement in his health after such long illness, and expressed the hope tiat the wond have a speedy and complete recovery.

Mr. H. V. Young called attention to the falling of in the attoncance for ringing once a month at Southwark Catherlral, and appeated for more ringers who would be prepared to attend there once every three months.
The report was adopted.
MIr. J. Corbett (home treasurer of the Guild[ord Diogesan Guild and Mr. A. Watson (Benhilton) were elected metnbers of the associntion.

Thare places, Reigate, Kingston and Croydon, wele propered for the next anutal meeting, Regate being selceted by a large mejorily REASON FOR CHANGE.
The clection of officers provided some changes, but these were all af a volntary mature. Tho Bistop of Croydm remails president and Wir, D. K. C. Birt, Master. Mr, D. Cooper had also been mominatm for the latter oflice, but withdrew, saying that he rllowed his nomma tion to go forward under an misapprehension. At the time it was thought piry. Birt intended to retire on nccoln! of the condition n his health but now that he was recovering and was willing to continno he (Mr. Cooper) would not think of contesting fine oflica (applause).
In declaring tlie election of Mr. E. G. Talbot as hon. secrelary anc Mr. C. H. Kippin as assiglant hon, secretary, the Chairman said he conld not let it pass without a reforence to the change lihat was takiad place and ta Mr. Kippin's services. Mr. Kippin and Mr. Talbot hat changed offices, becanse the former was of opinion that a chany would be beneficial. Mr. Kippin had served as hon. secrebary fon ten pears with great ability and efficiency, and the association owed him a great debt of grafitude (applase)

Mr. ©. H. Reading endorsed tho chairman's yemarke, and said the members were very conscious of and appreciated the worts which Mr Kippin had dowe
Mr. Kippin said he had resigned the secretaryship not through nuy lack of irterest or differences with the committee. The reason was that he beliored now blood shoutd be introdnced. He fand been secretary for ten years, and if a man went on too long it made him nppear indispensable. He would continue to hava just as mush intorest in the association, and he wished his successor every suecess in the offce. The hoped the members wonld give him every support.
The new hon, secretary aclanowleiged his clection. He said he feit very diffident in takiog ou the work after Mfr. Kippin, but he woutcl do his best, with tha help of the members, to carry on efficiently. The remaining afice, thet of auditar, was filled by the re-election of Mr. G. W. Steore.
It was amnonced that the comnittee had considerod the question of holding the ammal dinner this jear, and, in view of the close proximity of the College Fouths' Tercentenay dimmer, recanmonden that the dinner be not held. Mr. Fippin explained that the feeling of the committee was that a good many ringers would want to atten the College Youtlis' commemoration, and as they conld mot als eflord to go to both, The attendane at a Surrey dinmer whs bomad to be affected, and they dir mot wand to risk a loss

CORONATION RTMGING
The conmiltee's sugrestion was confirned-as was also the following recommendation of the comtuttere: "That ringity taties place as far as possible at every affilited tower on the day of tine Corbuation, May 12th, next; record of performances to be ascertained by the secrotary.

Mr. Talbot explained thet an the occasion of the silver Jubilec only one peal wrs rung by the association, and, on the face of it, it seemed a very poor recognition of the event.' Actually there were sevoral attempts and many touphes were rung. The object on this oceasion was to obtain a record of whet was done.
Later Mr. Willett said he hat read in 'The Ringing World' of the suggestion by one associntion that any peals rung by its members in the month of May should be recognised as Coronation peals. He asked whether that should be done in the Surrey association, and if t was to be generally adopted.
The Chairmax, asked to give his wiew on the matiter, grid ho considered that any peal definitely arranged as a Coronation celebration if rung within a reasonable time of the event, should ho recognised as a Coronation peal. Peals casually arranged which happened to be rung soon after the Goromation oughat not to be treated as Caromation peals, but those specially arranged for the purpose should be recognised, even if they were not rung in Coronation wheek.
A suggestion by Mr. W. H. Hewitt that a joint meeting with the Guildiord Guild and Middlosex Association should be held at a tower near the Thames in the antumn was referred to the North-Western District Committee, it being painted out tilat a joink meeting was to be held at Staines for the Middlesex, Gutdford and Oxford Guids The Ghairman said he had no donbt the other societies would welcome the Surrey Association on that occasion.
Mr. Randal! (Benhilton) suggested that in future no officer shoukl holf his position for more than three jears in succession,

Considerable ciscnssion followed upon this, when the sdpatages and disedvnntares were pointed out by varions speakers.
Mr. Rendall and others argued that it would give the opportunity of introducing new blood. At present if a man was willing to con of introducing new blood. At present if a man was willing to con(Continued on next page.)

RINGS OF EIGHT IN CORNWALL.

HOW THEY HAVE INCREASED.

The first church in Cornwall to possess a ring of eight bells seems to have been Bodmin, a complete octave for this tower having been cast in 1767 by Thomas Rudhall. The tenor weighed 16 cwt . 2 qr . In 1808 the sixth was recast by John Rudhall. By 1877, a period of 110 years, the number of octaves had increased to seven. Of these seven octaves three have been completely recast and are among the finest rings in the county, namoly, St. Austell (1902), Kenwyn (1905) and Penzance (1928). All are from the loughborough Foundry. The renaining four rings have been partially recast and all have been rehmer. rehang.

From 1877 to 1900 , a period of twenty-three years, six more octaves appeared. All the bells of this period remein intact except those of Stratton, which were made eight in 1878 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank with a 20 cwt. tenor, but in 1911 were rehung by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., and the weight of the tenor increased to approximately 22 cwt .

This shows how slow the process was of hanging rings of eight in Cornwall. It took one hundred and thirty-three years for the first thirteen rings to appear.

This century, however, has scen an incrcase of twenty, bringing the number up to thirty-three complete octaves. The period can be divided into two, for there were no augmentations [rom 1914 to 1919 inclusive.

In the periorl 1901 to 1913, augmentations started in the eastern end of the county when, in 1901, trebles were (Continued in next column.)

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCLATION.

THE VAGANT RINGING MASTERSEIP.

A mecting of the North Staffordsine Association was held at Newcastle on Saturday. Thiriy-six members were piesent from biown Edge, Burslem, Chende, Chawe, Kettoring, Kingsley, Longton, Non'ton, Newnasile, Stoke and Uitioxeter.
A shor secyice, lasting only twenty minutes, was conducled by :/w Rector of Newcastle (the Rev. C. d. Wathins). The choir wore alsia in attendence, and were entertainod to bea by the rimgers. The orrlu" of service was writien by Mr. Kouneth Thacker, assistant hon. geretary. After an exhortation, the following special prayer was offerer Grant, 0 Lord, that Thy blessings may be with us Thy sorvants whos are gathered here now. May we in our uppointed ministry and in our daily lives serve Thee failifully. May ous service in the belfry ever be a means of drawing us neaver to one another and to ThemMay our membership in this sactety tend in some measure to build up Thy Kingdom, and may we, who by the bells geud forth Thy loving invitation to a simful world, ourselves hear Thy voire of love tnay we obey Thy voice and de Thy biddine by keeping ourselves putre In will and dead. For these and all our other heeds we pray to 'illen for the lelp of Thy Holy Suirit, Lhrough Jesus Christi ofy only Lord and Savioni'.'

Then followed the Lord's Prayer the Gollect for the Day and a ghort lesson. After a hymm came the address, aud the service conchated widh another hymm and the Blessing.
Tea was held in the Parisin Hall, and the Rector extended a very hearty welcome to all preseni. A vote of thandes was proposed to inie Rector fo- lis very interesting adduess, and to the ringers for lawing everything ready for the use of the visitors, by Mr. A. D. Steel (Stolel. seconded by Mr. T. Hurd (Burslom). Mr. J. E. Wheeldon also thanken tho ladies for serving the rea so well and the chorboys for moning along to make the servica so much brighter.
The company then stood in sileuce for $\pi$ minute as a lasl, mum ni' respect to $M r$. R. G. Lewis, of Uttoxeter, late Ringing Masler 「or eight-bell towers of the association.
A letter was read by the secretary from Mrs. Lewis thanking tho ringers of Cheshire and of the North Stafordshire Associalion for thele sympathy and also for the heantiful fowers sent.
All eight and fen-bell towers were asked to send in honimalims fur the election of a new Ringing Master.
Three ntew memhers were elected, viz., MEr, H. Thelwell, af Wintastrm (1ife member), the Rev. C. J. Watkins (Rector of Noweasile) and Mr亡. A. Madew (Rector's wamlen) as honorary members.

Members ane reminded bhat Minor', Major, Doubles and Triples ean be rumg at the ten-bell towers besides Caters ana Roysl, and tan officials would like to see morn members present at ben-bill mectugs.

added to the sixes at St . Mary, Latuceston and Liskeard; in both cases by Messrs. Mcars and Slainbank. The work went on steadily with an octave being installed in the new tower at Kea in 1904, the church having been shifted to a more central part of the parish. Two old bells from the old square tower which still stands on the banks of the river Fal were included in this ring.

In 1907 a beautiful ring with an 18 cwt. tenor was installed at Se. Keverne, there being only three bells previously. Both rings are from Loughborough. This prewar period ended in 1913, when Messrs. Warner added two trebles at Gulval in the extreme west, makin! ten additional octaves.

Since 1920 there have been a further ten additions. Al Tuckingmill the bells have been increased from one to eight, and in three cases from three to eight. In the remaining six cases trebles have been added eilher in additional framework or at complete restorations.

There are now only four octaves on which peals have not been rung. These are Tuckingmill, St. Mawgan-inPyder, Altarnan and St. Mabyn. The encourtyring feature of a general interest in the bells of Comwall is that all the thirty-three octaves are in ringing order.

LADIES GUILD

NORTHERN DISTRICT'S VISLAGE MEETING

Thur furrbh inarterly meeting of the Northeru District of the Ladies" Guild was held at Gamston, neur Retford, on February 27th. Members sathered eanly in the afternoon and were joined by the local bend and mombers of the Notts Association, including their sectetary and the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Rector of Ordsall.
Owing to the long distruces having to be travelled by the ladies, a serrice was uat arranged, as time was too limited.
An excellent. tea was provided for the ringers at the onty shop in the viliage. One new member from St. Mary's, Handsworth, shefleld, was elecred to the Guild. This makes a total of five ringing and two hon. members from this tower, with 33 years of active rmging between four of them.
It was arranged to hold the Seplember meeting in Manchester:
The secretary personally thanked those who hind belped to make the meeting a success.
After tho meeting more ringers joined the company and a gooti qatiety of methods was rung, with two courses each of Bol Minor for tho forr learners.

AN OLD LONDON SOCIETY.

The revival of the annual dinner of the Society of RoyaI Cumberland Youths was a well merited success, with an attendance beyond expectations. The event had been allowed to lapse for many years, but a rew spirit of enterprise, introduced by younger members, is leading to greater activities and the interest shown in last Satur:day's venture promises a rejuvenation of this oid London Society whose history goes back over two hundred years. Like other similar organisations, the Cumberlands have had their up and downs, but their long, unbroken existence gives them a proud position in the Exercise.

The history of ringing in London was, for nearly two centuries at any rate, written round the Cumberlands and their still older 'rivals,' the College Youths, with, through part of the time, a link between them in the old St. James's Society, since expanded into the London County Association. But with the College Youths and Cumberlands in the 'good old days' rested the maintenance and expansion of change ringing in the Metropolis. Their rivalries led to many great peal performances, and personal jealousies resulted in quite a number of leading ringers at different times groing from one society to the other, and sometimes, as we know, back again. To this day no man can be a member of both societies at the same time, and there is no sign of this traditional mutual bar being broken down. The 'feeling' between the two societies has sometimes been strong, but the founding of the St. James's Society in the early part of last century brought the members into closer ringing contact, for in those distant days, of course, there were no territorial associations to provide a common meeting ground. Nevertheless, there have often been signs of ill-feeling, which, we hope, with the coming of a new generation, will entirely disappear. On Saturday expressions of goodwill and friendliness were made on both sides, and there could be no more fitting occasion than this tercentenary year of the College Youths for a complete rapprochement.

In these days of a changed outlook on the whole purpose of church bellringing there should be no room for partisan strife. Opportunities for practising the art are now so much enlarged that there is ample room for all, and these two old societies especially can find plenty of scope for their energies without any treading on corns on either side. We believe that the younger men who are now taking up the reins, or will soon do so, will have a wider outlook than some of their predecessors, from the mere fact that they approach their ringing from a different angle. The time has gone by for natrow pre(Contimued on page 178.)

SPLICED SURPRISE RINGING RECORDED.  WATTORD MEN'S HANDBELL PEEFORMANGE  To the Editor.

Dear Sir,-Your readers will, I am sure, be pleased to know that a record hus now been mate of the 'Spliced' Surprise handbell ringing lyy the Watford band The recording is of as touch of 352 changes in five Surnmise methods, cuntained on two sides of a 12 imch record, and, I indorstand, except fur two small trips on the second side, ilhe record is perfect. The conduclor is also heard calling the bobs and the change of methods.
The yecord has becn mude privately, but, provided sufficient orders are recoived, a liniled supply, at an approximate cost of 4 s . 6 d . eacls, will be made nvaitable for those who require them. The cost wilf include carriage.
If any of your readers wish to fake udvantage of this offer and will active me at once. I will panss the information to the right quarter. G. W. FIETCHER.

> 45, Walsirgham Rond, Enfield, Mididlesex.
(Contimued from next colyma.)
The Wrong in the secoud imuch need not give any trouble, as it is ealled in the leat nuter the lust Before. When bou have a spries of calls in one position, like the three successive Befores in the secoud touch, it is as well to make some other 'olservation'so that- you will hnow when the last of these calls has licen made. Tu this case quite a good one world be to note that when the third Before is called the bell that comes out of the luwt is the one coning Before at the next part end. The good conductor, of course, kwoys knows what his part ends are going to beIn this touch the last Before puts this particular bell in coursing order behind tha secourd.

FOR BEGINNERS.

MORE ABGUT CALLING GRANDSIRE TRIPLLS.
In addition to calling Grandsire Triples by tha position of the observation' bell; that is, the bell that returns to the same position at each part end, it is often possible and even more convenient to enll touches wid peals by the bells 'Before.' This means that you have to memorise the bells that will make the ordinary Jrd's place nit the loobs.
An easy example of this kind of thing is the touch of 350 which can be got by calling any of the bells (except the 2nd) five times Before. The place to make the actual call, as we pointed out last week, is when the bell hunting down in front of the treble begios its whole pull at lead. What the bol caller bas to watcy for, therefore, is the lead in which the bell he lias selected to call Before is hunting in front of the treble, and call the boi when that bell reaches the front.
This, in turn, implies that be must be able to watch the coursing order of the bells. At first perhaps he will be able to do this only as he passes them with his own bell, but he will see a lot more than that as ho progresses. He must learn to malce a mental note of the order in which lie meets the bells. In this way he will soon have such a command of the ringing that if two bells try to do the same work he will be able unerringly to put them into their right coursing order.
Only practice will male a conductor efficient in this, but there are certain things which he can learn that facilitata his meatal transpositions. Thu first and simplest is that when he meets the treble, the next bell must be the bell in the hurnt. Another is that the bell that is hunting in front of tile treble in one lead will be after the bell in the hunt in the next. And that leads to the 'cycle' which all the bells follow. This is how the bells come to lead in the plain course after the hunt bell (the 2nd) lias led the first time:-

\begin{array}{lllll}
3467512 & 5346712 & 7534612 & 6753412 & 4675312

Notice how the order remains unchanged except that the liell in front of the treble takes its place next time immediately after the 2nd. It is hardly necessary, perhaps, to explain that the last 2 in the seties is really outside this plain course.
Wher a bob is called the transpositions affect three bells instead of one. The bell in the lowet is changed and a new oycle is sot up. Suppose we call a bob et the first lead, then the order becomes $3467517 \quad 5234617 \quad 6523417 \quad 4652317$ etc.
The last two bells in front of the treble take their places immediately after the treble and in front of the bell leaving the hunt. Then the cycle plan proceeds as for a plain lead with the changed hunt laeil.
When the touch is being called by the bells 'Before, the conductor must follow this cycle of hunting, and, if he is observant, he wili notice how in encli learl the bell he is waiting to call Before will gradually close up to the treble. After he has called it Before once. he will find that the next tine he meets it he will have four bells between it aud the treble; the next lead three beils; the next lead two nnd the next oue bell. In tho following lead it will be immediatoly in front of the treble and then the next bob has to be called.
Sometimes it is useful to be able to base your observations upont the bells going into the hunt as woll as those Before. In that case you call the bob in the leat when yon have one bell belween the bell going In and ihe treble. If you watel the coursing order carefully to note tile wanted belf closing up to the treble, you shonld not have much tronble in observing it. but rember the actual "call' has still to be made when the 3rd's place bell leads.
Now here are two quarter-peals of Grandsire Triples that have been sont us by Mr. H. न. Trim, which will give the young conductor good practice. Ther lend themselves to calling either from the 'observiltion ' boll, which is the 2nd, or by the bells Before and In. They nro aach in five parts and the part ends are the lead ends of the plain course, in vatying order. In the first, the leads of the plain course are in reverse order. At the side we have put the calling positions of the observation bell.

AND THE PEAL AT QUEEN CAMEL

To the Editor.

Deat Sir, As I was the one responsible for seuding you the account of the dinging at Wing Bucks, I fael I must write it repiy to Mr. J. Funt. My statement that the bells are unpealable would, I am sure, be corroborafed by other bands who have rutar them. If we had ruug them from tho ground foor (the usual ringing room), we should not have been able to riag even a 720. By ringing ju a room right nuder 1he bells we made things a bit behter, but had the disndvantage of oscessive uoise, and also therdency on the part of some of the ropes to ship wheel, due to the smallness of the boles in the floor through which the sallies had to pase (thongh this hekily did not oceur durivg (he 720). Still, the bells are there for any who would like to try their luek, but those who do so will lave to be prepared to pute 11 nearly the hee hours gelting them ready before startiug, and that might danp their enthusiesme a bit?
Now to the second paragraph in his letter re the peal at Queen Camel. I don't quite see what that performance has to do with ringing it. Wing. However, I should like to correct one misapprehension ill his lefter, viz., 'the lenorman had enough in the fourth 720.' This is entirely misconstrued. What I said in "The Ringing World" for Jamary 8th was ' Double Oxfowl coming No. 4 wes railher hard work, and the writer was glad when that was finished.' That statement cextainly does not imply I liad 'had enough'! It meant that I fas glad to change to a method which did not require so auch dodging and smpping. As a matter of fact, having now rume a peal there, I and the rest of the band do not consider it such a mard task as we had expected.
The excellent 'go' of the bells helped ns considerably, and I can filly appreciator what they were like before they were rehang, and also Mr, J. T. Dyles's fino achievement jn ringing the tenor to a peal of Minon in 1925 . As they are now, the Rev. C. E. Wigg of myself wonkl be quite prepared to ring the tenol again to a peal in an incteased manber of methods. But we dow't want to be gready, so what almod another band, entirely strangere to the bells, luaving aus htempt? Now then, you heavy bells aspirants, yoll your gleeves app!

118, Sausfeld Rond, Batham, Loudon, S.w. 12.

TENOR RTMGERS' QUAEIFICATTONS.

Dear Sir:-In veference to the lettor in your last issue from an old iend, J. Hunt, of Taumion, may I be allowed space to add a few conments? In my varied experience thore are two dinds of tenormen. One, the tenor rmger, the other a fenor 'slogger,' and I will go Further and say without fear of contradiction What to become a tenor ringer" requires three important things: patieuce, endurance and skill, which can only be acquired by conslant practice.
In some cases there are other factors which liave to be taken into recount. I quote one only for illustuation. Some years ago 1 got ogether a band to attempt a peal of Cambridge ab Great Whaltham, Essex, ant we were shecessful, notwithstanding these noble bells had had gheh a bad reputation for years, but we were jucky in that we went justs after a long period of wet weather. The tenor was rung by the popular District Master of the Northern Division, Mr. A. Sanders, I myself calling Middleton's 5,056 from the 6th. J may add that six of the lind are still alive and car verify my statement. Gome time after this peal the late Mr. W. Pye took a band there to attempt another Surpaise peal, but, although stripping to the skin, ther had, aftel several fruitless starts to adnit defeat, the simple cason being tine weather.

Ihery these roble bells are to be rehung in au entirely new fraupe and fittings, and, if so, they will be a valualale addition to the ringable hells of Esser.
Colehester.

'MEDATs, BUT NOT OF GOLD.

Sir,-Illig letter from the pen of Mr. J. Ennt guestioning as it does tive opinion of the Rev. O. E. Wigg re the condition of the heavy siz at Wing is nothing short of colossal inpuclence. I was one of a party (including the Rev. C. W. Wigg) who rang at Wing on August 4th Iast. We rang from the gruund foor and I was invited to ring the tenor to 120 Bob Minot and call it. Fhe tenor humued itself to lead, but it required the proverbial 'gas engine ${ }^{3}$ to hunt it back to 6th's place again, and 1 was glad to give in at the end of a course. The Rev. C. E. Wigg afterwards rang it to a course of Cambridge Minor, but not withont great plyysical effort. We all respect Mr. J. T. Dple as one of the finest heary bell men the Exercise has ever linown. Shauld he, howerer, go to Wing with the ides of attenupting a peal and see for himself, $I$, for one, cannot believe he wonld be so foolish as to sfant. Tle bells at Wing are not unpealable? Oh, no! So roll mp the men wha put diffeulties in the way of had-going bells being rehmeg by attempting perls on therr, and men who must ving a peal at any price. What price will they have to pay at Wing? TITey will go home minus u peal and any glow whatsoever. Of medals they will collect plenty, but not of gold. The sort I refer to are sore, blistered hands, aching shomlders and strained stomach muscles, and that will not be half of what they will descrve.

SERVICES AT RINGERS' MEETINGS

MIDDEESEX ASSOCLATION DISCUSS THE QUESTEON,
One of those now rare phenomena, a fine day, colpcider with the meeting of tho South and West District of the Middlesex County Association at Chispick. This brought some old friends from fong hibernation, as wehl as the "reyblars, the atteadance reaching 40. A very good assembly at the appointed hour proved too unusual and procedings were quickly juterrupted with a broken rope. The doughty Joe then taok the visitors in hand, and by the riverside they were trated to a discourse on towing. "1'lie appearazce of the Oxford crew at practice set the crities' tongues wagging, and it was agreed that the Dark Blues looked eafe for a place! The raising of the delinquent bell announced the resumption of ringing activities and the 'watermen' were soon back at the ropes.
A short serrice, with a very reasoned discourse oll the difficulties of the Ohurch to-day, was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. C. Rich. Tea, ably served by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Thurlep and friends, foljawed in tio Schoolroom. The Vicar came along and gave a greeting and hadshake to everyone. Before leaving he was thanked for his hospitality by the vice-president, Mr. J. A. Trollope.
It is said an Englishman takes his pleasures sadly. If we said slowly and will great deliberabion we should aptly describe how ten minutes' business took an hour to transact!

Avising out of the minutem, the question was raised on the amount of notice required to move a motion with the object of omitting the usual service at monthly meetings. After much cross talk, it was ruled from the chair that the matter was solely one for the annual general mesting of the association.
Returming to the subject later, an effort was made to direct the secretary to apploach the clergy on the point when meeting arrangements were made, but this was rejected by the meeting. Mhe tone of the meeting certainly appared against any change in the usual prac tice of holding a service. Some speakers appeared convinced that at lieart the clergy would rather have their Saturdays free from duties of this description, hut no evidence from preseat incumbents was produced. Indeed, the secretary said his experience indicated that the elergy ware delighted with the idea of the monthy service. The quastion, therefore, appears to be not whether the clergy want the service, but whether the ringers do not. And that question was not slecided.

It was agreed to apply for Telthm bells for a meating on May 8th, and Sumbury and Fampton on June 5th. The avnual meeting of the association is to bo held on April 17th at Cripplegate, and no district meeting was arranged for that month.
On the motion of the secretary, it was agreed to fnvite the Surrey Association to the three Guilds (Guildford, Oxford and Middlesex) meetiag at Staines and Eglanm, provisionally fixed for Angost 28th.
The question of Corontion ringing was discussed, and the secretary agreed to make what arrangements ine could with regard to oinging at towerg with depleted band, or no ringers at all. Any rolnnteers for this work on May 12 th shauld get jnto touch with Mr. Goodfellow at once.

Nows of an accident to Mr. C. S. Birc, of Heston, on the Great West Road, was received with mich regrat, and the best wishes of the meeting were sent to him, congratulating him on his escape from more gerious injury.

And so the meeting closed with hearty thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Thurley for their labours in providing for the comforts of their visitors. Further ringing was curtailea ta an hour. Ronnds and methods intuding Surprise Major were rung under the able direction of the Ringing Master, Mr. E. C. S. Turner.

MARRIAGE OF MR, E. P. DUFFIELD.  CEREMONX AT COLCHESTER.

DEATH OF THE REV. E. W CARPENTER

SECRETTARY OF TWO ASSOCIATIONS.
We much regret to record the death of the Rev. Fdward westall Carpenter, who passed away at his home at Stoke-by-Clare, Suffolk. at the advanced age of 81 years, on February $9 t h$.
In a quiet way, the Rev. E. W. Carpenter did a great dual to further the art of change ringing and ralse the statas of the ringer. He was not among those who made a name by penl ringing, but it was in organising that lis scrvices to the Exercise will be best remembered.

THE LATE REV. E. W. CARPENTER.

For a considerable time he shared the rather arduous dutjes of the Analysis Commitue.Mr, Carpenter was a scholar of Gonville and Cains College, Canbridge, and took lis B.A. degree in 1878 , proceeding to his M.A. In 1881. He was ordained deacon in 1881 nt Canterbury and priest in the following year. He was cirate at Milbou-pext-Sittingbonme 188183, and Ficar of Bobbing 1883-1891. After a curacy at Margate he returned to Miltan as Vicur in 1895 and remained there muli] 1900. when he became Ficar of 'Thorpe, This living he beld uail 1907. when he twas preferved to the Rectory of Boothby Pagnell, mear Grantbam, Lincs, and remained infil 1917. He continued to veside in the diocese of Lincoln until 1933 when he retired to Stoke-by-Clare, Suffolk. Even in liss advaneing year's he tinglat a band to Ling in this parish, and our plotograpli shows him in the belfry.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A SUCGESSFUL MEEIMNG AT BARNBY-IN-THE-WILJOWS. Last Saturday, the Norlh Noits Association paid its first visit to Bamby, where 28 ringers met to tuy the light six (fenor $6 \%$ owt.). The following towers were represented: Balderton, Easlwoud. Farmdon, Hough-on-the-Fill, Lincolu Cathedral, Newark Parish Clinich, Nottingham (St. Marys), Ordsall, Sutton-on-Trent ancl the home tower. Ringing commencer at 2.15 and went on until 9 a'cluct excent, for the interval for tea.
The Vicnr of Barnby, in apening the business meeting, welcomed the association to bis tower, and paid a warm tribute to the local band who did so much for the church in that small village.

The hon. secretary (Mr. R. Towler) announced that arrangemerts were being, made for the joint meeting of the Doncaster District of the Yorkshire Association and the North Notts Association af Blyth on April 3rid. The annusl meeting had been altered to April 10th.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Rector of Ordsall, in replying to the Vicar's welcome, also complimented the Barnby ringers. They were, he said, pery enthnsiastic and had done great good in the district.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the ladies for providing an excelleat ten were passed.
The Rev. R. F. Willivson raised the question of reports of the association's mectings being sent to 'The Ringing Would ' for publication, and proposed that the secretary be asleed to farward a shorti account to the Fdtor, IN. T. Vessey seconded, and the semretary replied that he would attead to the matter for this and future meetings.

A set of havelbells was produced, and the company was delighted to hear courses of Bob Minor, Stedman Triples and Grandsire Thfoles and Caters. On returning to the tower, further mothods were rullg. and a very successfil nueewing brought to a clase towards 9 p.in.

ASBPRITTLE, SOMTERSET.-At SL. John the Baptist's Chutch, a quarter-peal of Grandsize Toubles, with ten callings, was man for morning service on January 3Ist: S. Bristow I, J. Munamg 2, F. Alderman (conductor) 3. T. Atderman 4, H. Bristow 5, I. Atcloman 6.

"MARCH 4th'AT APPLETON, BERKS.

On Saturday, Karch 6th, the $119 t h$ anniversary of Appleton bells was celebrated in the ustal way. Visitors from many parts assembled and some good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Gaters were brought round. Many joung zingers from far away rang their first rounds on ten bells and were delighted with that experience. Between forty and fifty sat down to dinner at The Thatched Tavern, and no one 'weut cmpty away.'

After the tables had been cleared and 'The King' toasted, tune tinging and song singing were bise order of the evening, durmg which, for the beneft of many whose firgt visit it was, the veterau, Mr. G. Holifield, rave his usual interesting history of Appleton bells and the things that have been done there. One thing they have to be proud of is that from a population of only 400 there is once more a local Stedman Catere band, which is really a remarkable thing.
The evening was too short for most of those preseat; fin fact, more than one was heard to say, 'Well, I shall come agsin, but next time I shall stay the night.'

BLIND RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-Having read with interest the letters publizined in your journal re 'blind ringers,' I should like to mention one, John Kittle, who, hawing been bind from the age of four years, lenrned to ring here at St. Peter's Church, Colchester, in the year 1890, and rang several 360 's of Bob Mivor on an "inside" bell. He was a very capable ringer on hancibells, ringing two 'inside 'bells and conducting 720's of Grandsire, Bob, Kont and Oxford Minur. He also rang double-handed several quarter-peals of Bob and Graudsire Triples. and just before he died j'ang lialf-way in an attempt for a 5.040 Bob Major.

BLIND ORGANIST-RINGER.

Dear Sir,-I have read with interest the correspondence in "The Ringing World ' with reference to blind ringers.
At Chiseldon, Wilts, tho organist, Mr. H. Whittaker. who is bind, is also a regular tinger, having learnt to ring long after he lost his sight.
He rings and conducts severel methods of Doubles from any bell in the tower (five bells, tonor 14 古 cwt.), aud has rung in at least one guarter-peal.

MR, J. J. PARKER, 84

GOMPOSER OF THE FAMOUS 12-IART.
On Mouday, March 8th, on the oceasion of the 84th birthday of Mr. J. J. Parker, of Faruham Royal, the bells of Hitcham Parish Church were rung to a 720 of Oxford Bob Minor and touches ol Kent and Liftie Bob, Farnham Royal hells not being available. It was also a birthday compliment to the father of the captain of the Hitcham company, Mr. Berry, who has reached the age of 82 years. The ringers were Martin A. Blaney treble, Peter A. Blamey 2, George J. Barry 3, Bryan O'Neil1 4, Jom E. Taylor 5, George Gilhert tellor. With the exception of Mr. Berry. all are members of the St. Peler's Society, Burulan. This was the Blamey brother's first 720 of Oxford.

Oxford Beb was rung as it is a favourite method of Mr. Parker. A message of greeting was sent to the old gentieman by the young bloods of Buruham.
The bells at Stoke Poges were also zung in honour of Mr. Parker's birthday.

Mr. Parker, as most of our readers know, is the composer of he famous 12 -part peal of Grandare Triples and scores of other peals.

PEOPLE'S MEMORIAL TO CANON ELSEE.

RINGIERS' PROPOSALAS FOR FURTHER COMMTMORATION,
On Sunday, March 7th, moblher memorial was dedicated to the memory of the lato Ganon H. J. Elsee, who had been president of the Lancashire Association for 45 years. 'The Ohnrch Lads' Brigade gubscribed for a tent and altar rail, bhe looal clergy have also a scheme in hand, so lave the local Hospital Committee.

On Sunday the memorial was that provided by the congregation of St. George's, Bolton, where Canou Elsee had been Viear For the past forty years.

The memorial is in three parts, comprising panelling to the baptistry, four per frontals to the east end of tho nave, and two choir screens iu the chameel, all in oak.
The panelling to the baptistry is constructed as a bachground to tho font, and it harmontges with the adjoining panelling to the main calumas. Rising above the centre of this part of the memorin, at the angle of the north-east eorner of the cliureh, are two oak panels to which are secured bell-metal tablets referring to the late Canon and mbertioning that he was Hon. Canon of Manchester CathedraI, Hon. Chaplain of the Forces, Rural Dean of Bolton, Proctor in Cenvoention and president of the Laneashire Association of Change Ringers. Surmonnting these tablets is a carred oak quadrant of n bell, sud inside the bell is a light to illuminate the tablets with a floodlight effect.
The details for the pew froutals are in accove with the adjacent choir and ciergy stalls. The late Canon frequently expressed a debire that the seating accompodation to the centre and wings of the rave ghould be completed in this manner. The choir sercens are also designed to match the choir stalls and are required to shield the choristers from draughts. They are fitted with leaded lights, glazed with two shades of amber glass to correspond with the new clerestory windows in the chatheel. The latter, the gift of Mr. Thomas Booth in memory of Iis wife, were also dedicated.
Tho gilts mere dedicated by the Bishop of Manchester (Dr. Warman) in the presence of a large congregation, The bells were rung from 2 p.n?. to 3 p.m. and also after the service, in touches of Double Norwieh, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, by ringers frons many parts of Lancashire, includine the hon. secretary (Mr. W. H. Slluker) and hon. treasurer (Mr. O. D. Davies).
A ringers' memorial has been occupying the attention of a committee for some time. The late Canon had often expresged a wish to see s peal of ten in Bolton Parish Ohurch, and the fact that he was the Rural Dean eansed efforts to be made towards that object, but it proved too big an undertaking for ringers ouly. It had been hoped to get the co-operation of obher sections. Steps are, however, being taken to put St. Gearpe's bells into first-class order. It has been suggested that they ahould be put into a new frame at a lower level in the tower, and, if the responge is good enotgh, add two trebler, If the chureh aththorities grant permission for thig, all appeal will be made for subscriptions.

HISTORIC PERFORMANCE RECALLED.

HOW HOLT'S ORIGINAL WAS FIRGI' RUNG 'SILENT.' A Jubitee Celebration
A unique celebration took place iz week ago, when, on Thursday evening, Mr. dolut Olyistoplier Mitchell entertained a small party of ringing frieuds at his charming home in West Norwood. It was the fitticth anniversary of a wonderfis handbell performance. On March 11d1, 1887, four College Youths, of whom Mr. Mitchell, then 19 years of age, was the youngest, rang Folt's Original "silent' for the firct tine. 'Ihe ather members of the hand were W. H. $L$. Buckingham, C. F. Wimey aud G. ग. McLanghlin, and the peal was rung at the old lreadquatters. the Goose and Gridicon, in Si. Paul's Churchyard, fo hostelry which has sinee disappeased.

Of thos's who took part, Mr. Buckingham and Mr. Winney survive with Mr. Mitchell, but Mr. MoLanghlin slien some years ago, and the two umpires, Messre. J. W. Rowbetlam, of the Callege Youths, and W. Baron, of tho Cumberlands, are also no longer with us.

Standing: Mr. J. C. Miter FIFTY YEARS.

ham. Seated: Mr. C. F. Winney

The litute gathering that met last weck as the guests of Mr Mitelell inctuded, in addition to Messrs. Buckingham and Winney, Messrs. 7. F. Lewis (Master of the College Youthe), A. A. Hughes (treasurer), F. F. Dawe (who was ona of the unofficial witnesses of the peal) and J. S. Goldsmith, while other members of Mr. Mitcliell's family present were Miss F. Mitchell and Mr. B. Mitchell. Unfortunately the weather prevented Mr. W, T. Gookerill (hon. secretary of the College Youths) from joining the party, but during the evening lie was greeted on the teleplione with good wishes and returned his congratulations.

After a happy meal togetler, during which tongues waged and reminiscences of past days were retold, the proceedings were contimued in the lounge, where handbell riaging took place and the three heroes of the great event of half a century ago showed they had lost little of their ability. When they sat, down for the first touch, with F. E. Dawe at the tenors, Winney was asked to call a bit of Grnndsire hut, prosimably from force of habit, raid 'Go Stecman, and these youllas, whose ages totalled 293 yar's, mate no 'hones ' about it (Gontimmed in next eolmran.)

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S PUBLICATIONS.

PHE VALUE OF THE SURPRTSE MAJOR COLLECROUN

 To the Editor.Dear Sir,-May I malie one ny two short comments on your interesting article in last week's issue?
Personall $y_{3}$ i an quite satishied with the effect that the Major Methods Collection has had. I never expected that there wohly be an immediate increase of peals in Phan Major meblacis, for it tatacs a long time before the Exeverse is ready for any great advallec in such matters. The mumber of wesc methods that have lyeen ruat is greater then perhaps some people suppose and the [ull ellicet will not be seen for many years.
At present most ringers think that a Surprise method must he a better lhing than a Plain method and so rather aeglect the latter. Achally the average Plain methon is hetber than the average Surprise methox, and especially so on tey ant fwelve bells. Onr kinor Meblhods book revolutionised siz-bell ringing, hut, it, was lutile to imagino that a similar thins would happen on eight bells, at any rate for maly years. But it is instructive to cempare a list of the new methods rung in (a) the 18th eentinty, (h) the 19th eentity; (c) the pregent century before the war; (d) the present ecatiry since the war. You have there a conclusive reply to those peaple who think that the Central Courcit books have not dome an enormous mount to extend method ringing.

The new Surprise book is intended not only to make a largo solection of methods available for ringers, but also to give information which is interesting to the great mass of ringers who linve not the opportumity of actually practising new methods-information which will Firther tha development of the arts indirectly in muny ways. When I wrs prepring it I considered the quegtion of giving diagrams, and my then aomection with "The Ringing World " (Irom which I havo benefted more than I should keve thought possible) erabled me to get some information, from which I reluctantly eame to the eanelusion that the cost was prohbitive. Yon know much moie about that than I do, but I fancy you will agree.

Of the ralte of diagrams there can be no questiou. When dealing with the Surprise methods I woyked them all ouf and the selection was mades from the diagrams in the first fastance and not from the figures. If we could be sure of a sale of five thousand copies of the book spread over twenty or twenty-five yoars, it would be good hasimess to have the blocks made. But where is the necessary capita) to come from? I feel that a gowd deal can be done to improve the bonks Which the Council publishes, and I ams sure that the new Surprise book is on the right lines. For one thing, it is a luoole to be rean and studied, and not merely is collection of figures whiah am of interest only when a band wanta something new to ring.
J. ATkMIGER TROLTOPF.

SUCCESS FOLLOWS MANY FAILURES.

Afterwards other touches of Stednan, Grandsire nur Boly Mnjor wero rung in which all present shared, and old times discussed until the little party broke up, with thenks to Mr. Mitchell for his hospitality and tire hope that, despite the advance of "Anno Domimi," these veternms might be spared to meet again.

BROADCASTS FROM ST. MARTIN'S-IN-THE-FIELDS

 bells to be rung in FutureIn future, when the bells of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields are broadcast they will be rung instead of chimed.

This announcement was made by the Vicar of St. Martin's (the Rev. Pat McCormick) on Saturday, at the annual dinner of the Royal Cumberland Youths, the society which is responsible for the service ringing at the celebrated church in Trafalgar Square. The announcement will be receivec with great pleasure by ringers everywhere, for the chiming that has been heard for years has been a miserable travesty of church bell music, and in no sense befitting the dignity of the services which have followed.

The Rev. Pai MeCormick was responding to the toust of "The Ghuroh,' and, in reference to the incueasing difficulty of getting ringers to ring for service in Lontion, said it was a matter which rather perturbed him, becalise he was haping very unach that the Cumberiand Youtlis wete going to do unother bit of work for St. Martin's.
I am sure all of you here, he said, will be glad to hear that arvangements are nearing complebion and $I$ Lopa will eventuate by the next Groedcast gervice from St. Martin's (lond applause).
Flhere are one or two reasens why I would like to have the bells pealed properly. One is because it will save me a great deal of correspondence (Itughter). Not puly do I get letfers from beilringerg protesting against this ciniming, but also crowds of letters frobl other peaple suying that our bells mue out of tune. As You know, tt is nothing to do with the bells, bute with the bammers. If the lammer is the elightest bit ont of place where it strikes the bell, the bell sounds ont of tumc. I have to write back to all these people and explain su oftan that I gell 'fed up' with it (laughter).
The other reason is, I think it is rather a seandal, having such a magnificent peal of bells as we bave got, that they should not be rung properly so that people all over the world are able to hear them (spplanse).
We shall, of course, get a great many criticisms. We shall get criticism from the old ladies who love to lear the hymm tunes played on the bells. It is quite extroordinary what a momber of people do like that. I suappese it brings back old tures to thera, or something of that sort, hat we alt know that is not the method of ringing bells.
had lroped it would he possible to bagin the new arrangement to-morrow. When I shoke to the Relirious Director of the B.B.C.
the other day he said, "When are you going to bave your bells properly days? is said, 'When are you going to bave you bella of this sort liave to pass through so many chanmels that they had mot then been able to trate the correspondence, but the Director himself is also 'fed up. with the chiming of the bells of St. Martin's, so I am glad to be able to announce that wa hope in future to have them rung (applause).
I am sure you will agree, continned the Vicar, that not only in the interests of bellinging, lunt also in the interests of what I may cail tho ' pride ' of St. Martin's-in-the-Rields, it is right that the bells should be pealed (applause). It means, however, that you will only be on the air a short lime. None of your ruming oper time (laughter'), hecanse even if tha bells are faded out I do not want to Lave fo compete with the bells when I am taking the service. We you probnbly know, we have a 'preparation service' before the brondenst service, and it would menn that that preparation wonld have to be cut down and would not be of the value that it, is and anght to he. I believe that little prepartion service, wher we practise the liymins and say a prayer, is one of the chief factors which enables St: Martin's services to get over tine air and be of such infmite value to listeners all over the world (applange). I hope yor will all cnter into the spirit of it and that by next time a broadcast takes place we shall have the bells properly praled (applause).
We thall do away witly the sewices of Mr. Blewitt, aud for that J am sorry. He las played the bells ever since the first broadcast and has mever missed onee (applause). I shatl be sorry for him, because I know hy loves it, hut he has retired actually from $S t$. Martin's and has been coming ip for this ouly bit of lis duty left to him. I shall be sorry for him, but I am quite comvinced, for everybody's sake, that the beils ought to he properly rumg (hear, hear)
Speaking later, Mr. E. J. Lewis, president of the Gentral Council. said he was very pleased to heni what Mr, MoCormick had said about the Jinging of St. Martin's bells for the broddcasts. He hoped the Society of Cumberland Youths, when ringing for these services, would show some other paits of the country what broadcast ringing should be like. He got into tronble a while aro for some rimg pointed remarks about certain broadosists, but he was not in the least repentant. They had had some better ones since. The last he herd was Croydon and it was really a treat to listen to. At Stepney, in view of the fact that a number of the band were comparative beginners, the hroadcast was quite successful. They hat a delightfus] course of Superlative from Pudser, except for one trip, whinh was far hetter than certain hroadeasts from another comer in the North.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

WESTERN DIVISION MEGI AT SNOWBOUND LONGWOOD.

The Weat Riding of Yorkghire had been practically stowboud for over a fortnight, and the winter was showing its very worst side on Saturday, yet it was in such conditions that the Western Jivision held their anmul meeting at St. Mark's, Longwood. Only a few days befors the meeting there had been another exceptionally heary fall of snow and many of the roads on the Yorkshize Moors were impassable. The stalwarts of the Western Division made light of these diCliculties, however, and one peity at lenst trevelled ovar 40 miles by road, through show and fog-such was their enthusiasm. When the first of the wisitors atrived, Nr. Rothery and the local company were busily engaged in excavating their church from the show. Over 40 uembers Were present from 20 towers and all lielped to make a very successful meeting.
St. Mark's, Lonqwood, has a fairly moderı tower, which was edded to the church in 1914, and the peal of eight which it contains is one of the finest in the connty. The bells were raised aboul 2.30 , and, excepting for the tea interva, were kept moving ankil after 9 o clock, when they were finally bowered in peal. Tlee striking throughout the day was of a particularly ligh standard for meelings, and another pleasing feature was the number of young ringers who aro being trained in the district
The Rev. W. A. Griffiths, M.A., conduted a short Litny service in the church prior to the tea, nud gave an inspining address which was greatly appreciated. An excellent fea was served in the schools by the local ringers, to which over 30 nembers sat down. This wus followed by the bnsiness meetimg, presided over by Mr. W. II. Soniot in the absence of the vice-presideut, who was called away imuediately after the selvice.
A telegram was read from the association's president, Canom Marshall, expressing his regret at his unavoidable absence, and wishing the meebing every success. A letter was also read from Mr. Knight, of Stanwick, enclosing a short history of St. Mark's, and this was greatly appreciafed by all present.
The three retiring members of the committee, Messre. F. W. Dixon, J. Fardcastle and R. Bottomley, weve elected for a further period of three yenrs.

MTR. JOE BLKADLEY RESIGNE RTNGING MASTERSHIP
A letter had been received from Mr. Josepin Broadley, ihe retiritg of his age. Mr. Broadey, who is uow 78 years old, yecently rathg his $400 t h$ peal for the assaciation.
It was decided to defer the appointment of a successor until the next quarterly meetimg in Juas, when due aotice would he given Coll nominations for the ofice.
The Chairman voiced the tianks of the assoclation to the Vicar and wardens for kindly granting the use of the bells and for the welcome which had been recefved. IIe particularly thanked the Vicar for his inspiring address, which they hat all evjoyed.-Chis was supponted by Mr. Knisht.

The Rev. W. ML. Griffitis, M.A., in replying, said how sorry he was that the weather had been so bad, but assured the members, amin laughter, that he really was trot responsible for it. He delightod his hearers by recounting his carliest experiebees with ringel's, and showed how. fram his boythood, he had always appreciated the comradeship which their calling implied.
Mr. Leslie Morris proposed a learty vote of thanks to the lacal company fow their splendid arrangements ond for providing such an excellent tea, also to the organist for officiating at the selvice. This was supported by Mr. Huterinsog, and Mr. Ralply Willians replied for the local comenativ
The association's thanks are also due to Mr. Mellor for kindly placing Lindley bells at the disposal of the meeting, and had thit Weatine been normal there is no doubt that both towers would have been fully occupied all day. The secretary reported that ins advertisements in "The Ringing. World, he ha-d eroneously deseribed the Lindley bells as having been recast. This was an error, as thie bells had only been retuned, and whilst perlages little difference would be noticerl betweers the two, he wished to correct the matter so that no wrong impressions would be gainei Tho new members were elected-Mr. T. Lancaster, of Mitdlesbrough, and Mr. Andrew Blachburk, of Longwood.
The Chairman mentioned that as there had been some disenssion on the suliject of forming a district society found Huddersfield, he felt that there was plenty of scope, atrd if carried an in harmony with the Yorkshire Association he was sure that unthing lust good would result. The Wentern Division covered a very wide area embracing aver 80 towers, and as they ouly bad four meetings twery yeur, it was obvious that same considerable period must clapse betwera their visits to individua] places.
An invitation lad been received to hale the Jnne meeting at Giggleswick, but owing to the great distance it was felt that it would be more advisable to try a place a litile nearer, and so wover the whole of that erea egrally as well. It is. therefore, hoped that a meeting can be arrauged in the Kildwick district aboit the second saturday in Jnne, hut an fnnouncement will be made later.
The following towers were represented at the meeting: Ahmandmury, Armley, Batley, Filand, Huddersfield Parish Church, Td̃le. Kirkhurton, Lindy, Lobgwood, Helthani, Holbeck, Quebnebury. Rothwell. Fraciingley (St. Chat's and St. Michat's). Ripponden, Sherbum-in- Fimet, Fincrey sul, Chats and st. Minhatsid.

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

ANNUAT DINNER REYIVED

The Society of Royal Oumberland Youths held a very successful dimner in Loudon on Saturday. It was a revival after a great many Fears, aud members from many distant places rallied to the committee's effort. After ringing at geveral churches in the aftermoon the company, rumbering aitogether 92 , including 22 ladies, assembled at the Bedford Head, Maiden Lane, Strand, under the chairmanship of the Master (Mr. Geovge F. Cross). Among those present were the Rev. Pat McCormick (Vicar, St Martin's-im-the-Fields), the Rev. F. Li. Edwards (hon, secretary, Salisbury Diocesal Guild), the Rev. A. G. G. Thurluw (Wokingham), Mr. E. H. Lewis (president, Central Council, and Master of the College Youths), Mrs. G. H. Cross, Mr. T Beran (senior steward) and Mrs. Bepan, Mr. J. Bailey (junior steward), Mr. G. W. Steere (hou. tweasurer), Mr. N. Summerhayes (assistajit hon, secretayy), My. F. Sinith (trustiee), Mlessrs. J. Parizer (Eumonton) and G. Gilbert (Maidenhead), Centra] Council representatives: Mr. T H. Taffender (Master, London Country Association), Mr. T. W. Taffender (lion. secretary, Louklons County Association), Mr. J. Waugh (Master Northern District of London County Association), Mr. W. Bottri] (vice-president, Nutional Police Guild), Mr. G. Wilhams (Master, Win cliester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild), Mr. W. H. Fussell (SIough) Mr. F. E. Dowe (Woking), Mr. A. F. Mantin Stewart (Dorset), Mr. G. Pulliuger (Bishopstoke). There were also members and visitars from Maidenhead, Northfleet, Graresend, Guilciford, Brentwood, Romford, North Storelam, Hampslead, Sevenoaks, Bishopagete, Dartfard Smanscombe, Chiselhurst, Str. Olape's, Hart Street, Shoreditch, Woodford, Broxbourae, Burmham, Ghristchurch, Oxford, etc. Apologies for inavoidahle absence were received from the Rev. A. Taylor (St Bride's), the Rev. Wellard (St. Olave's, Hart Street), Messrs. A. Hardy (trustee), G. Card (lown secretary), J. Huin (Taunton), H. Hopkins (Whitstable), A, H. Pulling (Guidford) and many others.

The Master, SER the conclusion of tho LONDON.

 toast, and afterwards, in thanking the company for making ine gathering such an excellent one, expressed the hope that fit would prove the foremmer of many more and that the next would be even better attended than this. There wore, he said, two old friends who would specially be thinking of them, Mr. George Card, the secretary, who was in hospital, Ent Mr. Arthur Herdy, one of the trustees, who was rasent through a lamily bereavament. He (the Masfer) thought they should write and tell these old members what a good gathering they had hud.Proceeding, the Naster proposed the toast of 'The Chureh.' This was Coronntion year, and the Church, he said, bad a very important task to perform, namely, that of blessing the new reign. In that connection ringers would be expected to do their part in ringing at all the churches where ringing was possible. Sunday service ringing in London, said Mr. Cross, was very difficult, aud lie appealed to members of the society to give their fullest support to the service ripging for which the society was responsible. In conclusion, the Master said this was inn inferesting yeav for ringing in London, for the College Youths wonld celebrate their tercentenary. The Cumberlands all wished them the best of stecoss (applause).
The Rev. Pat McCormick, in responding to the toast, sain they in the Church krew they could not do withont the bellringers. The close frientship between the two must always exist. the churches depended on the yingers, but the ringers also depuded on the Church, because there were very few bells they could cimg that were not in churches. He was glad to hear what the Master lad said about riuging for serrices. He aryreed that it was a very differlt thirg for the London chirelies. Tt was all right in the country, because ringers lived, generally, faily close to the church, but the position was rathey perturbing lim, as he was yery much loping the Cumberland Yonths Were going to do another bit of work for St. Martin's-in-the-Fielde. The viar then went on to speak of the proposed ringing of $s t$ Martin's bells before the brodacast services, which is reported under a separata heading. Then, returning to the subject of the toast, he said that this was in rery mportant year for the Cluroh, not merely on account of the Coronation, but in the whole life of England. If only taken properly he believed this year might be a year of real advance for the Chinch.

HISTORICAI REVIEW

Mr. W. Fr. Fussell, one of the oldest members of the society, proposed the tonst of "The Socjety of Royal Cumberland Youths.' The Cumberiands, he said, had two legs to stand on, and they went back before 1745. He thontrint he might put the toast by arsking them to drink to the Ancient Society of Loudon Scholars and the Society of Royal Cumberland Yauths. The thought one or two historicul facts might be interesting to the younger members and encourage them to think that this old society was worth supporting and worth working for. In 1702 a work upon change ringing was pullished by two members of the Landon Schulars. Those members, with other members of the old society, mugt lage known a good deal about camb panology even at that carly day. A few years later, in I716, a peal of Caters was rung out the bells of St. Bride's. This was recorded on $\Omega$ tablet in the belfiry and it was the first performance ever known in the way of a full peal. He saw no reason for refusing to accept Mr . Osborne's stalements contained in the MSS in the British Museum. Just as the great fire of London in 1666 destroyed the early documents belouging to the Ancient Soctety of College Youths, founded in 1637, so tha early records of the London Scholarg were Lost and their foundation was unknown. What frommeuts of history of thesu ancient societies had survived showed that both had manned the gells of the churches of London with never failing efliciency on all im pertant occasions. The two old societies were promoting the art and science of ringing three hundred years nga.
A turning point in the history of their awn society was in 1745 when thoy lost touch with the London Scholars, after blie reloclian in the Nartb, when there was a battle royal between Bonuie Princa Charlie, grandson of James 11 ., aud William Augustus, second son of George II. The latter proved the victor and received the title of Dikno of Cumberland and a pension of 525,000 a year. The use of the name "Cumberland" became fashionable. Streets and inns were named Cumberland, and the ringen's who practised at Shoreditch either had that title bestowed upon them or acquired it by some unknown means. When the Duke returaed to Loudon by the road which entered the city by the old chutch at Shorediteh there was great rejoicing and no coilbt the bells were fully employed.

In the year 1747 a now corde of aules was drawu np by the society under its new title, and in 1748 a peal of Bob Major was mong at Shoreditch, which was the beginning of the long list of ringing records to bs found to-day in their Volume I., which contamed a portrait of the patron Duke on the front page.
Mr. Fussell went on to recall the Cumberlands' soug of 1802. which said:- "For Cumberlands we are, And Cumberlands we will loe To perform with any ringers n
He regretted to find there were f few old faces missing-nren who had been members for over 50 years. They remembered Ben Foskett and Edwin Barmett, but they ware pleased to have with thenn Mr. George Williams in his 80th year (applanse). He (Mr: Tusselly was elected a member of the socjety in the belfry of St. Giles in 1881, Mr. Fussell concluded by remarkiug that the present Ruyal Fimily, through Queen Mary, were in direct line of succession from the fimons Duke of Cumberland, and if they wanted to compliment the yangent member of that royal house, they could ring a peal on bilie hirkhury of Princess Margaref Rose (applanse)

WELL worth surporting

Mr. Norman Summerhayes expressed great vegret at the alsence of Mr. Geurge Card, the hon. sectetary, wlo was ill jm hospital at Fulhm. Mr. Summerhayes gave a long list of apologies fron ment bers and frieads and went on to refer to the fact that simese the last time they had held a dinner they had lost Mr. J. D. Mathews, who was their Master for 21 years. During the time he was Master he built up the society into a strong organisation and had a great den! of suppore from the members. It was Mr. Matthews great clesire that the society should long continue to flourish and grow, but with his passing there was a falling off in the vigour that was showit. Members who lad been very entlusiastic supporters failed to maintain their enthusiasm as they might have done. The society was well worth supporting and deserved the support of all the members. Last vear they made 45 new members, and he thouglt they would agren that that was a very good year's wark (applause). If thoy could do would continue to support them, they conld progress and huild up a position which would be the envy of all othar societies (applatse). He hoped this year would be one of renewed activity and that they would have the support of all the mombers. They had made a vary good have the suppord of afl the mam start with that dimer (applause).
Mr. George Gilbert proposed 'Kindred Societies.' He sairl they, unfortumately, often found that ihe spirit, of "]eindred' was left ond of relations between inger's and societies. He las found that there was a little too much of the 'pent at any price' in some guarters Gud ruch of not wanting to ring with 'so and so.' That was not "kindred' and it was not "society." He would like to see a litile closer association at the root of the societies. In the past there had been petty bickeriugs, even to the extent of "hammer and thriss arguments, instead of it friendly rivalry to advance the science. They were told, said Mr. Gilhert, that ringers could noi be got. He chal lenged lhat statement in any village. They wonld not come, hat they conld be got if the ringers would go out. and fetch them. He hat often wondered how many ringers rang to the honour and glory of God? If they did not ring to the honour and glory of God, ilens, he said, they land never lieard bells rung as they should he mund On behalf of the Cumberlands present and mamy who could not pet there, ineluding Mr . Farry Fopkins, of Whitstable, who joined the society on January 14th, 1872 , he wished success to kindred socioties. CORONATION OPPORTUNITIES
Mr. F. H. Lewis, in replying to the toast, said he had been mucl interested in what Mr. Gibert had said, and he agreed with a great deal of it, particularly about the quality of ringing. Fe felt very strongly there was a great apportunity for ringers in this Coronation yenr, when a large part of the public will be expecting a great dana of ringing to show what they can do in the way of quality. Fie hoped all the bands who rang during the Coronation ceremonine would only attempt what they could ring perfeclly and not go in for new or complicated methods with which they were not quite friniliur. They shonld ring so well that prople will say how nice it is. In that way they could recover some of the sympatly for ringing which he was afraid they had lost in previous years, owing to the prewalence in many purts of the country of striking that was not good.

Friendship Between London Societies.

Contiming, Mr. Lewis sajd that in years gone by there was e good denl of bittermess between their society and lis society, but he hoped that was a thing of the past (qpplause), "Although we are mutually exelusiuc," said Mr, Lewis, we oan, I hope, be very soad friends (applnase). We, at any ratie, wish to be friendly with yoit, and I feel certain jon wish to be friendly with us (Leaw, hear). Befare I recenved the invitation to this dinner, my Dianer Committee had already kecided to send ar invitation to your Mastev to our tercentenary dinner on November 6th this year (applause).

Referring to the subject of getting ringerg, Mr. Lewis said he asreed it was quite possibla to get them in a village, but he was convinced the first thing to do wag to piek their reerubs from the congregation, who wern already churchpeople. He knew that occasionally they rould get someone outside who was not a chinchman and eventually perfaps, i刀terest him in the church, but it was far better, to his mind, to begin at, the other end and pick their recruits from members of the congreagtion. Then, he thauglit, they would not find at dificutty ill keeping them at rangers, provided they gave them plenty of interest in their ringing. Mr. Lewis illustrated his point by quoting his own experience at Brasted, and spoke of the advantages of teacling absolute novices, by being able to traiu thom to landle thejr bells properly.

VISITORS WELCOMED.

Mr', (1, W. Steere proposed "The Visitors, whom he welcomed There were some, he said, who were not riugers, but he hoped their presence would increase their interest atd that they would come again. With regard to the feeling between their own and other societjes, their society was nnly too willing to be friendly with any other society in Londm or the provinces \{applause).
Mr. F. E. Dawe replied to the toast. Fe remarked that he joined the College Youtlis fifty years ago, and while he had many ald and good friends in that society, he also had a remarkable number of frients in the Cumborland Sobiely, for whom he had the greatest possitile respect. He was one of those who regretted that the project, put, forward about 50 years ago to permit suyone residing more than 25 miles from London to belong to both societies, was rejected. Mr. Dowe mentioned many of his friends ameng the Cumberlands of a bygale day whom he knew well, and particularly John Cox. He had, he said, manty letters from lim, as he also had from men like Jasper Suowdon and Henry Johnsou, and when he liad time he intended to collect them aud hand them aver to the Masters of the various societies. Through his friendship with old Cumberlands he was able to eall live peals of Cinques, divided between St. Martin's and St. Buidets. There whs ona tower left in London whexe le would like to call a peal and that was at shoreditch. He did not know whether it would be possible to make arrangenents for him to do this by ringing it for the old St. James' Society, which was now the London Connty Association. He would very much like to do it. In conclusion, he wished hatli his old and lis young friends iu the Cumberland Socicty, good health and long life to cariy on the ever pleasant and inferenting science in which they were engaged (applause).

> Mone puticiry Niper

Hr. J. B. Pniley proposed the toast of 'The Press.' He sfid they often leard of the difficulty of getting young lingers because of the namber attractions that were offered. Other forms of entertainmemt attracted young people by publicity, and he thought it was up to them as ringers to meet their opponenfs on their own pround and to nse greater publicity through the local and national Press. Mr. Bailey paid a warm tribute to the sertices rendered to ringine by "The Ringing Woxtd and jts Editor, whose mame was coupled with the toast.

Mir. J. E. Goldsmith, in responding, suid it gave him special pleasure to do so 2 s an old Cumberland. Ringing to-day, he said, was well treated by the Press in general and this year offered a great opportunity to ringers everywhere to show the Press that ringing was a groal art and worthy of consideration and sympathetic treatment,
This conchaded the toast list, in the course of which an course of Stedman Cingles, and songs by Miss Dawson had been interspersed. Miss Damson greatly delighted the company with ' Ring, bells, rimg; and "Rells across the meadows." Mr'. F. Farkington was the accompanist. Later an entertainment of a varied kind, which was thoroughly enjoved, was given by the Conoptimists Concert Party, and furber handbell ringing took place. The sncecss of the evening was latgely due to the efforts of the Dinner Gommittee and particularly of the energetic ilinner secretary, Mr. J. E. Bailey.

WEDDING BELLS

RINGING FAMILIDS UNITED.
On Saturday, February $27 \mathrm{tl}_{3}$, at the Church of St . Lenrence in Reading, the marriage of Mr. W. Hibbert, to Delia, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Henry White, of Basingstoke, was solemnised. The Rev. Canon G. T. Coleridge (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild) ofliciated. The riugers assembled to give 'Young Bill' and his bride in send-off. The belis were 'fired' and two courses of Stedman Cinques rung in good style. An interestigg fact was that listening to the ringing were two of the bride's sisters, once penl ringers of note when they were the Misses Alice and Dora White. The ringers wish the couple a long and bappy life.

WINGHESTER CATHEDRAL'S NEW BELLS

The opening of the new ring of twelve bells at Winchester Cathedral is a reminder of two things; one the vast improvement that has been effected in the hast three decades in the art of the bell founder; the other the great and crowning dignity which a noble peal of bells gives to a church of the grandeur of Winchester Cathedral, internally one of the finest ecclesiastical buildings of this country, and hallowed by centuries of Christian worship. There are few churches in England that can claim with positive documentary evidence the possession of bells in the eleventh century, before the coming of the Conqueror, but the authentic history of the bells at Winchester goes back at least as far as a gift of two by King Canute. Nine hundred years of bell history! And at intervals since that time generous benefactors have added to the number and dignity of the bells in the Cathedral of the ancient city which was the seat of government of King Alfred. These bells must have rung for the Coronation of most of the Sovereigns through these ages, and now, for the crowning of king George VI, a new peal of twelve bells of glorious quality will be heard over ancient Winchester. They take the place of a ring of twelve which had come at different times through the last two centuries from several different founders, and, for the first time for two hundred years, Winchester has a peal of bells all of one 'family.'

Those who remember the old ring, of mixed age and quality, will find in the new peal a revelation of the modern founder's art, something entirely satisfying in its tonal qualities and robustness. Founders to-day are able to produce bells of deeper note and finer qualities with less metal than their predecessors, thanks, of course, to the tuning methods which they now apply, by which the whote bell contributes to the purity and perfection of the tone. In these days, indeed, there is no need for peals of excessive weights to produce all that the critical ringer can desire. There are, perhaps, a few ringers, who like to think of tenors in tons of metal, who will disagree with us when we say that in these days peals up to forty hundredweight are sufficiently heavy for all practical purposes. We know that modern hanging can make much heavier bells pealable singlehanded, by a handful of men of exceptional strength and sfill, but with the present high state of craftsmanship in turning out perfect bells, peals of the size and weight of Winchester or thereabouts are amply satisfying both from the average ringer's and the public standpoint. Do not let it be thought that under any circumstances we deprecate the installation of heavier bells, but the circumstances need to be very exceptional to justify it; and when it comes to putting in a peal with a four ton tenor, as is contemplated in Liverpool Cathedral, we confess we can see little practical purpose if general use is to be made of the bells as a ringing peal. Bells considerably more that twice the weight of Winchester, tuned under modern conditions, will, we feel, prove something of a 'white elephant' from a ringers' point of view.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A WELCOME TO BISHOP'S CLEEVE.

A mecting of the Chelteniman Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held at Bighop's Cleeve on Saturday, March 13th. Ringing took place from 3 o'clock onwatds on this fine peal of six bells. The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. T. Jesson), who also gave a very interesting address. By the kind invitation of the Rector aud Mrs. Jesson, the xingers were their guests at tea in the aprciots hall of the Rectory.
A ghort meeting afterwards took piace, the Archdeacon of Cheltenham being in the clair, supported by the Req. T. Jesson, Mr. J. K. Armstrong and upwards of 40 members from most of the towers in the digtrict.

Reference was made to the sad loss of Cauon Edgar Male, who for long had been a valued member of the association, and those present stood in silence fas a mark of respect.
Severnl new members were elected nad it was decided to hold the annual outing on Jume 19th, the route chosen being Warwick, Banhury, ete
The place and date of the nexl meeting were left in the hands of the secretary to arrange.
Mr. Walter Rose proposed a rote of thanies to the Rev. Jesson, Mr. G. Folley (tower captain) and all at Cleeve who had helped to make The mecting so successfit], also to Archdeacon Sear for taking the chair.-The Rector, responding said how pleaseal he was to see so many present, fud added binl lie would be pleased to welcome the vingers at any time.

PETTRBOROUGK DIOCESAN GUILD.

A mecting of tile Towcester Granch was held at Cold Figham on Saturdnt. March 13 tha, when abont 30 members attended, The service was conducten by the Rentor (the Tier. - Carpenter), who gave an interesting ardrras. Having travelled a great deal. he has geen the Great Ball of Moscour, $n$ monnment of tho founderts wort, but as a bell of no nse at all. He also referred to the bell on the Monnt of Olives. which capid he heard for miles.
At thie tea which followen, the Master (the Rev. E. S. Powell) and Mrs. Pawell were present, and the Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector and all who belpod to make the meeting so enjoyable.

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING STEDMAN TRIPLESS.

There are many ringers who are fond of ringing Stedman Tuiples, but never trouble themsclves uhout the calling of it, yet Stedman Triples is a very interesting method to conduct. It is a method that keeps the conductor specially alert by reasou of the constantly changing conrsing order of the bells.
In this methon, as in any other, the young conductor should aim at a certain amount of proficiency in kecping the bells light, and he can obtain it by study and practice. Tnere are some ringers who can follow the working of the bells 'in the slow,' wherever they may be themselves, and while that is the ideal standard to which every Stedman conductor should try to attain, there is no reason for a ringer to be disconraged if he finds his abilities do not reach as far as that, He can contenv limself with much less and still have a good working knowledge of his job, if he will really study the subject on paper as well as in the tower.

It is hardly necessny, perhnps, to tell the budding Stedman conductor that in bob in the wethod can be made at any 'six.' T'he bob change is the first change of the 'six,' and, therefore, has actually to be called before the end of the proviors 'sir'-usually at the handstroke change before the "six-end."

Usually touches and peals are composed with the 7thas the observit tion' bell, and, except sometimes at siugles, it is not usually disturbed. In order to do this, hobs have to be mado when the 7th is below Sth's place, which means that they must come when the 7th is in 54 down, in the slow, or when it is a quick bell.
There are six sixes whel a bob may be called while the 7th is a 'slow ' bell and two in which a call may be made while it is 'quick,' without disturbing its course. Tlie bob places are known, by the number of the ' six' in the course.
A boh at 3 is called when the 7th is completing its dodging in $5-4$ (down) before going in 'Slow.'
A bob att 4 at the first handstroke of the first whole-tum
A bob at 5 at the landstroke of the 3rd's place before the first halfturn.
A bob at 6 at the haudstroke before the last half-turn.
$A$ bob at 7 at the first handstroke of the last whole-turn.
A bob at 8 at the handstroke in 3rd's place bafore going out of the slow.
A bob at, 12 is called when the 7 the is completing its dodging in 5-4 (down) before going in 'Quick.

A boh at 13 at the handstroke in 2nd's on the way out.
Usually bobs come in pairs in Stedman; that is, a bob at 3 is followed by one at 4 ; a bob at 5 by one at 6 ; a bob at 7 by one at 8; and a bob t 12 by one at 13 .
A prir of bobs at 3.4 is somelimes indicated by the letter $S$ (meaning 'Slow '); at $5-6 \mathrm{by} \mathrm{Ft}$ (meaning half-4am); at $7-8 \mathrm{bv} \mathrm{I}_{\mathrm{c}}$ (weaning Last whole-tum) ; and at 12-13 b\% $Q$ (meaning 'Quick'). The calling of your touch or peal may be written either way. For instance, here is a touch of 252:-

| 2314567 | $5-6$ | $12-15$ | $\frac{2314567}{}$ | H | Q |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 3452617 | - | - | 3459617 | - | - |
| 2314567 | - | - | 2314567 | - | - |

At any time youl want two conrses, or 168 , you call get it by calling any one of the pairs of bobs in each conrse: thats 3.4 twice, or $5-6$ twice, atc. Thres courses are produced by calling any one pair twice Followed by another later pair twice as 34, 3-4, 12-13, 12-13: but, remember, the two middle pairs are in the same course.

This is how you can work out tallehes for yourself :-
For 2 courses, call either S.L.. S.Q., or L.Q. and repeat.
For 3 conrses, in addition to diose mentioned above, you can eall cither S.H.L. or F.Q. three times.
For 5 courses either S.H., S.H.Q., H.L. or H.L.Q. five times
You can join some of the louches together to lengthen fluem, as long as in doing sa you do not ring more than a plain course withont a bob. Fou may rim the risk, in some instances, of ringing a false touch (by a repetition of changes), but that is not a serions matter when you are practising calling. For instance, if you lisve rung two courses produced by calling S.L. twice, you cannot get a true touch by tacking on Q. twice, becansa S.L.Q. is a touch which produces rounds, nad would, therefore, bring you back to changes which you have already sung

Evitence that composition is not as simple as it looks is provided by the figures of the quarter-peals of Grandsive Triples by T. I. Trim, which we published in the Beginners' articIe last week. Examination slows them ta be false. In the first the leads of the plain contse are repeated; in the second two leads in each part repeat with two leads in a previous part.

BIRTHDAYS.

Beck: F. J. Hunt 1, F. Tary (first qurater-peal "inside') 2. P. Marchant (conductor) 3. S. Beck 4, F. Noakes 5, Edwin Hunt 6.

The hon. secretary called attention to the new inles, and reported on those governing affilation as follows:-
The operation of the rule governing affliation divides the associafions into two groups: (1) Territorial associntions and (2) nonterritorial nssociations.
In Gromp 1 there are three gections: (a) Associations with annnal suhanibing members; (b) associations whose members pay one life subscription only; (c) essocintions made up of affinated towers with no individual subscriptions.
In this Council we have 43 associatious in Group 1, of which 41 are in section (a). Tho aggregate memberghip of this section is returned as 81,860 , made up of 19,445 annual subscribing ringing mernbers, 1,674 annual snbscribing honorary members, 438 resident life ringing members and 503 resident life hohorary members.
Two associations previously asseciated with the Council ure no longer included. The Sherwood Youths linve advised me that Hey could no longer show a minimum menbership of 75, and tha Sussex County Association are considering the matter at their meeting on June 20th. The North Wales Association hawe rejoined,
The representation of this section is 116 , but only 111 nembers have been elected-vacancies being left in Bath nind Wells, Lancashire, North Notts, Northl Whas, Swangea and Brecon, and Worcester end Districts Associations.
The Londou Geunty Association falls into section (b). No particulars as to numbers of its members are arailable, but effots are being made to obtain them. The secretary has estimated that the uumbers justify three representatives.
The Truro Diocesan Guild has 66 towers affiated with a fee of 5s. per tower. They have elected one representative only.
In Group 2 are the followily associations: Ancient Society of College Youtiss, Society of Roysl Cumberland Xouths, Cambridge Univergity Guild, Oxford University Saciety, Oxford Society and the Ladies' Guild TIm Oxford Saciety and the Ladies Guild are the only two assoniations in this group to fumish actan figures of membership. Approximate figures have heen supplicd by the Soctety of Royn Cumberfand Youths. The grour is represeutar by 14 represcntatives. An affiliation fee of $5 s$. las been received from the St. Clement Youthe, but mo particulats of membership are apailable, and mo member" las been elected.
Excluding the St. Clement Youths, the total menbership of the Coumcil is as follows:

> Associations mfiliated
> Tohal members to which mulieled
> $\begin{array}{r}49 \\ 134 \\ 127\end{array}$
> Total metrabers elected
> 127

All these associations have fiven an undertaking to loyally abide by the rutes and decisions of the Commeil.
The total number of honornry members
With the exception of two associations, the Norlin Notts and the Swansen and Brecon, who, whilst entitlad in eleef two reprosentatiwe ench, have only paid the fer for one menhor, all affilintion fees due to the Courcil lave been paid.

Moulton Radio bandtell ringers have becur requested to so 'on the air' again on Good Friday, 4 p.m. to 4.30 , iv connection with the Fev. Walter Hitchford's talk on church bell chime music. All are members of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild.
The ringers gave such satisfaction to the officials at Birmingham on New Year's Eve that they wero urgently requested to come again. This time they are playing in conjunction witit the B.B.G. Choir and Orchestra, the jems being transmitted to all stations, and an Empire brondeast.
Messrs. Gillett and Johbston, Ltd., Croydon, have received the contract for the restration of the bells at Great Toller Clureh, Dorchestor, Dorset. The woxk includes rew frame and fittings and the addition of en Ellacombe chiming apparatus.
Heartiest congratulations are extended to Mr. George Honry Coombes, of 25, 5 wammore Road, Isle of Wight, who (D.V.) celebrates bis 94th birthday on 玉aster Day. This grand old veteray las been a ringer at All Saints' Clureh, Ryde, since 1886 (when the bella were installed in the tower), and he contiuues to ring regularly for divine services and seldom misses the weekly ringing practice on Tuesday evetiags. He is the oldest ringing member of the Winchester and Fortsmouth Diocesan Guild, and is believed to be the oldest 'active' service ringer in the 象ribish Isles.
The Rev. C. E. Wigg, Deputy Master of tie Oxford Diocesan Guild, has been preferred to the living of Chearsley-cum-Nelher Winchendan, near Thame, Oron, and will be inducted about the end of April. At present he is filling a curacy at High Wycombe.
Everyone will wish success to the band of the Oxford Guild who on Monday will attempt to break the Major record by ringing a peal of 19,040 Double Norwich at Kingham, Oxfowishire, where the tenor is about 12 cw .
The band comprises W. T. Judge (conductor), the Rev. C. E. Wigg, F. E. Taylor, F. E. May, H. Alexasder, A. D. Barker, IT. D. Boteham and R. A. Post. A start will be made at 8 a.m.
Attention is directed to the notice of the Tly Association's anman meeting on Jaster Monday, with clanged tine of yinging at Fyresbury.

HIS 75th BlRTHDAY.

MR. F. E. DAWE GELJBRATES IN HIS NATIVE VILLAGE.
Mr. Francis E. Dawe, a well-known College Youth, who has made one of his hobbies in life the ringing of peals at as many cathedrals as possible-there are now only two or three left at which he has not been successfu!-reached $\mathrm{h}_{1}$ is 75 th birthday on March 16 th .
To colebrate the event, a peal, specially arranger for the occasion, Whs rung at West Meon, Hamplire, his birthplace. The large, picturesque thatched house, wherein he first saw the light, still stands in the middle of the street-always greatiy admired by wisitors to this delightful spot in the Meon Valley. The church leells mearby were ringing for service on the Sunday morning in 1862 when he was born. His eldest brother was oue of the ringers, and three other brothers were sitting in the belfry as woll.
Tho peal Iasf week was Kent Treble Bob, Mr. Dawe conducting his own composition. After coming into rounds, the bells were "fired" eight times.
The band and other frlends were entertained to dimer at the Red Lion Hotel. When this was over Mr. E. A. Young (who always attends as an honoured gucst) in a neat littie speech affectionately expressed the congratulations and good wishes of the assembled company. This was acknowledged by hir. Dawe, who, unfortunately, was suftering from a severe chill and had been in pain all through the peal. He endeavoured heartily to thank those present for coming so far to oblige him at much inconvenience to themselves on a day in mid-week, anđ particularly Mr. T. H. Taffender for undertaking the arrargements, there being many difticulties in the way of raising a band of the right quality.
Double-handed Steaman Triples and Treble Bob Major on Mr. Young's handbells by the London contingent was greatly enjoyed by other visitors in various parts of the building.

It is interesting to recall that peals had been rung at West Meon previously for Mr. Dawe's 50th, soth and 7oth birthdays, but on this occasion, in consequence of the heavy downpour of raiu, the usual photograply of the party liad to be abandoned.

THE NEW PEAL AT WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL.

RING OF TWELVE DEDICATED.  Bishop and English People's Love of Bells.

Amid civic pornp and with inspiring religious ceremony the new ring of twelve bells at Winchester Cathedral was dedicated and opened on Saturday. The Mayor and Corporation of the City attended the service in State, and the Lord Bishop, supparted by the Dean and Chapter, the Honorary Canons and a large number of other clergy, performed the dedication. Many hundreds of ringers, Friends of the Cathedral and citizens of Winchester were present, and the impressive event will long leave pleasant memories with all who were privileged to share in it.

The great scheroe for the recasting of the bells was carried out by the generosity of the Friends of the Cathodral and the liberality of the Fmba Barron Bell Trust. At first it was intended only to rehang tia old peal, but the larger scheme was eventually decided mpon and it has been carried through to a highly successful conclupion. It was found possible to retain thic old frame, part of it put in with eight bells cast in 1734 by Richard Phelps. The bells, howover, have been incrensed in weight and the tenor now weishs 35 cwt. 2 gr. 6 lb . The present work lias been carried out by Messrg. John Paylor and Co., and they bave given the Cathedral a truly magnificent peal: worthy of the grand old buildinf which for so many contaries has ibeen a great centre of religious life in this country. KING CANUTL'S GIFT'
Winchester Cathedral had bells in Saxon times, and from some historieal notes by Canon Goodman compiled in connection with the decication, we find that King Cannte is recorded in the 'Antaig of Winchester,' 'undey the year 1035 , to bave given two bells to the ehurch.
Bells are mentioned on various occasions throngh the centuries. In 1248 ' a vane fell from the tower of St. Swithun's at the time when the ovening peal was ringine." In 1334 Prior Alexander in London ordered the monks of St. Swithun's to assemble in churel, ring the bells and sing a To Deum, praising God and their patron sainis for the happy reconciliation of Bishop Adam, of Orlton, with King Edward IIII
In the winter of $1630-31$ a new frame for the bells was made, in view of tha alterations in the tower carred out in 1634. Ereviously the tower had been an open lantera, now it was arched and the preseut ringing chamber constutacted oven the new ceiling.

Before the Restoration there were geven bells, but in 1734 the Denn and Chaptor dolivered 'all the Bell motall belonging to the said Cathedral Churcl: to My. Riehawd Phelps, of Whitechapel, who undertook to make 'eight new musien Bulls of the weight of Five Thens or thereabouts, the Tune of the lenore to in D sol re ngrecable to the tone of the Organ in Saint Michaells Cornhil! in London.
At varjous times between 1734 and 1936 all but two of Phelps' bellg were recast, the tenor in 1891.
In 1892 two additional beils, incroasing the number to ten, were givell respectively by the city end the Diocesan Guild, and two ather to completg the jing of twelwe were given as a ringers' memorial of these comrades who fell in the Great War.

IMPRESSIVE DEDICATION SERVTCE

The scrvice in the Cathedral was a most inpressive one, and tho geat nave was well filled with a congregation that began to assemble an hour before the ceremony. Ringers cnme from all parts of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight, and others were present from the neighbouring dioceses of Salisbury, Oxford and Gaildford, aud even fartber awhy still. The ringers and their friends had regerved seats on one side of the aisle rud the Friends of the Cathedral on the other. Shortly before 3.30 a civic procession entered the west door. Bendes, with their maces, preceded by a burly police oficer, led members of the Corporation, wearing their rolses, up the centre aisle, with the town clerk and the city macgbearer, followed hy the Mayor, bringing up the rear. Al the same time the choir prssed along the soulh aisle to meet a procession of invited represontatives. Headed by the crossberrer and the choir, this procassion passed slowly up tha Cathedral. It included the officers of the Diocesan Guild of Ringers, the representatives of the bellfounders, tine Friends of the Cathedral and the Managing Tristee of the Barron Bell Trust, the clairman of the Frmpshire Connty Conncil and the clergy of the Rural Deanery, the Honorary Canons of the Cathedral and the Dean and Chapter.

The procession moved solomaly on its way to the strains of the ringers' hymn, 'Unehangily God.' At first its notes came from the choir at the west end, but soon it swelled in great rolume to the high vaulted roof as the congregation joined in cinging the words, so familiar at ringers' gathorings.
While the procescion wne slowly making ite way, the #ishop, attended by his chaplain, passed almost unnoticed to his throne.
The Precentor offered the prescribed prayers, and the lesson from Isriah LV. was read by the Mayor of Winchester. Then came the hyman, sung to a special setting, made up of three stanzas from wellknown lines in Tennyson's "In Mamoriam," prefaced by an appropriate verse, specially written for the occasion and sung by the Lay Cierks onlr:-

BISHOP AND BELLS.

Rirer fortl, 0 bells, across the vale, Ring forth the Gaspel's glorious word, Let good St. Swilhun's peal be heard, Far throlght the land o'er bill and dale.
While this by nut was being sulg the Bishop was escorted to a place in the choir umderneath the central tower, accompanied by represenhatives of the donors, the Mayor of Winchester and other clergy.

Tho Dean having requested the Bishop to dedicate the bells, his lordship offered special prayers and then pronquaced the dedication. A prayer involing the hlessing of Godupon all those 'by whose labours and gifts this work lias been done and these belis restored to thy serviee, concluded the ceremony, and as the Bishop proceeded to the pulpit the hells rang ont from the tower overhead with the Cathedral ringers at the fopes. In the Cathedral it was difficult to hear them fully, but the booming notes of tho largor bells came down with a satisfying offect to the enger listeners below.

FWQLISE PFOPLE FOND OT THETR BELLS.

In his andress the Bishop of Winchester said: After an jnterval of many mondhs, the Catheciral bells linve once again rung out. For cenluries past the hells have been rung from this great Ghurch of God, callint people to praise and thankspiving and prayer, and in commemerntion of great events which have taken place boilh in Clumeln and State. As lows tro as the Jear 1035 there is a record that, two bells were given 10 this Catliedral by King Gnimio. Since then, as various times, lic belis java been changed ana mew bells lave beem siven. Continuously bells lazte beon runs from the Cathedyel, but of late yeare fram various causes bellringing became difficult here. Su it was decided lhat the whole peal should be recast and rohnings and thoongl the linerality of the Frieuds of the Cathedral and tlo Tinme Barron Trust, which has already done so much for the bolls of this county, it was possible to fo tind. Fille bells were taken down, semt on their hone jonmey, and now they have retnmed lome antionce ggain we lave lueard them sending forth their message to the people.
We Farglish meople are, indeed, fond of aur bells. Thronghout Christermom hells are a characteristic feafure. There are conntries in which bells are rarely, if ever, heard; these ave lands in which tho worghippers nte summoned wn their places of prayer either by the lienting of a mong ot: by tha call from the minaret. There are evec lands in whicla unti] quitite recently bells were heard; now they are silent, Ta Russia and in Tumbey no longev are bells jeard. Tliey have been silouced by the ememies of Christianity. Bnt in Giristian lands, where worstips is freely sllowed, the hells ring forth their message to jicls nad poor.

PFOPLE &R活 FEOUD OE THEPR BELTA.
Ib is true Lhere ale sone who from time to time complam of the ringing of liells. Thle Besliop, I suppese, is the firsf to hear such complaints, hul; those who make those complaints are not speaking Far the orreat masg of the preple. The majoisty of the people of our combty are prond of lheir bells.

As long as they, are rung well as lang as they are well tuned; as long as they are not rung at all hours and at unseasonable timos, the poople are proud and thankfol for thoir bells.

Cerlains this is the caso in onir own county. In pillage after village there ale to ho heard good sets of balls wall and faithfuliy Fumg. Jarismioners take a real pride in their bells, ant when sometimes helds have to be siletnced for relaanging or recagting, I have heare parishioners sny that duting lho fime of silenee it seemed as if their mamely was gotic.
Our bells are associndod in our minds with many iecolleations and many memories. I thinls the ieal reason whiv people sie so fond of then bells and regand them as so diatheteristic of Euglish life is that they lave so many associntions. There are, of collse, the historient agsaciations, and hells lad at, one tinas an sotive part in the soctal and political life of the nonmmity, wliether that comaninity was to hie fottrd in town or in constay: There are many people, too, who luwe their own indisidnal resction and agsociations comected with thate to moments in the past which are erosed again by the sound of the hells.
Eut firsi and foremost our bells are assoniatad with God. They Liturselves there are inscriptions, as there ate on these hells, the bells of the praine they offer to God. Ji'om the bells there goes up to Almicity God praise, thankssivivig, intercesion and poetition, and 18 the hells :ing forth thay, give a cill from coo, to come together to worshity foid in His heman

BELLS ANT THE RECATI, TO RELTGION

We liear today about, the recall to religion, and one aspect of this recal] shoula be a summons to those who hate become careless about af arayer As wou liston to the halle, calling you to come with your fellaws mari to worshif God, calling Foti to conle. with Sliristians nli कrey the world, to foin in prajse of the Most Hirln, tluaz is one of tho massarges which fihey are seeking to mive ais sill. TThey are ealling fleo to the indivinurl in his everyany fife. Tlie rush of life is so greal that God is often forgotten in tha clamour and noige aramad us. Amid th, distractions of daily life the bells ving ont with bleme message to 115 , whether in the ficlds, or whether in places of business, in shops or in the streets, calling us for just a moment to think of God and his elaims on ont life.
When yout hear these bells ar the bells of your own parish church ringing out, sometimes ou a weekday as well as on Surday, if you are not able to respond by going to church, at any rate for a moment think of God; think of Evernity.
I think tire bells, especially in these days, give us another message. Bells are ofter associated with peace; I suppose it is becallse so often they have been rung at the declaration of peace. The bells which have been rimging this afternoon are wrought of the metal which mast have rumg on variaus occasions in the pasti when peace ato last has come to an anmious nation. Bells axe nssociated with the call tra peace. The world teeds peace; but the world seems to be drifting towards wat, statesmen and people seen almost powerless in the face of a doom tlat seems to ba hanging orer mankind. Man is failing; but where mau fails God can succeed. The world is shuddering and allaking and trembilug ta-day because it has so largely forgotter God. Without God we cunnot have permanent and righteons peace; with Gori in the hearts of individuals and ruling over the dostinies of hations peace can come. So, somelimes, when the bells ring, aftor $n p$ a prayer for peace; pray that the statesmen of tire world may be guided so wisely that the perill of war will fade; pray that people of the world may bo fillod with the passion for peace for righteonsmess and peace i pray that God may give us all that peace which Ho alone can give, the peace that fasseth nill understanding.
The service ended with the hymm. "Now thank we all our God, nad the Blessing, pronoumeer by the Bishoy. The collection was on behalf of Winchester Guild aud the funds of the Friends of the Cetheerral. As the eongreyation disperserl the Cathedral company rang the bells in a touch of Grandsice Cinques, which yave visitors the opportunity of wandering into the Catinedral Cloge and listenng to the new peal. The orly criticism which was offere was that the shat terimg up of the belfry windows had been rather overdone, lout we maderstand they remain as they were with the old peal. Certainly the residents ronnd mbout the Cathedral will have no canse to complain of excessive noise. In the city strects the hells can hardly be herivd. ln the ringing room the bells ara a little boisy, but that will fee lemedien when the '奴ap" in the ceiligg has been sealed down again.
Visiting ringers rud their friends were enterfaned to ton in the City Fall, and in the eyening when the bells were open for ringing scores of ringers fooked to the great ringing chember-nearly 40 ft square-and tried Eleir liand ati the bells. Many rang on twelve for the first time, and, is is often the case on such occasions, some of the ringing was indifferent. However, many courses and touches of Stedman Cinques and coluses of Grandsire Cinques were hrourht round, and an excellent course of Double Norwich showed up the back eipht to great advantage. Rreryone was deliglited with the bells, which are an well-balauced aud really noble pent.

At the business mecting, the president occupied the chair, supported by the charchwardens (Messrs. J. McD. Tait and W. E. Barry), the ERev. B, H. Green, the Rev. W. H. Waring, Messrs. Herhert Shepherd (hon, secrebary) and John Goodman, jun. (hon. trensurer).
The Clamiman heartily welcomed the Guid again to Dudley mad said how pleased he was to meet them once more. The large attendance that afternoon showed their real fnlerest in belringing, The Jon. treasurer then presented the balance sheet, which compared very favourably with lhose of the lass few years. I'he statement showed that for the year ended February 25 th, inchiding a balance from the previous year of $£ 14155$. 10 dal., there was a credit balance of $£ 117 \mathrm{~s}$. 0ht. The Charman congrafulated the treasurer ank members on the satisfactory financial position of the Guild.
The Ver. Dr. A. P. Shepherd was re-elected president, and, for thanking the members for the honour they had conferred on lum, he said he would do all he conld to further the interests of the Guild.

The vice-presidents were re-elected as follows: The Rev. Th, I Warten (Vicar of Netherton), the Rev. Prebendary H. W. Tones, M.A. R.D. (Vicar of Wednesbury), Dr' P. S. Blaker, Messrs. J. McD. Tait W. E. Barr'y, W. Sinutleworth, I. W. Nayler, C. E. Eloyd, A. E. Meredith, Arthur Spittle and A. Finbow.

Afr. Alfred Daries (Netherton) was umanimously elected as Rimgimg Master to succeed Mr. Clifford Skidmare, who wished to retire. Mr. Herbert Sheppard was again elected as hon, secretary, Mr. John Goodmans as hom treasurer, and Messrs. G. T. Guest and T. H Jinstice as auditars. All were thanked for their services.

Sovoral new members were elected, and it was left, with the secretary to luy ald grrange the next meeting bither at Juville or Coseley if possible. T'he antual peal was proposed to be oltempted at Dudley, the vicar rendily giving his consent.
Mr. Tail and Mr. Barry spoke in terms of appreciation of the ringers' services nt their several thurohes and especially at Dudley, and said they were glad to see the spirit of goodwill and brotiterly feeling that existed anong them.
Mr. Foh. Goodman, jun, referred to the poor attendances at the quarterly meetings. He urged upon the members to see if they could mat attend these meetings in little stronger force, as it was discounaging to thos? Vionrs who gave permission to hold the meetings at their cinurelies and to the local members who made the necessury arrangements to see such a small number present.
Mr. S. J. Fughes said that since he came into the room he had heard that hat was the completion of 25 years' service to the Guild of Mr. FF. Sheppred as hon, secretary. He thouglit that a slight recogaition of Mr. Shepherd's valuable services should be shown to him, and be proposed tilat a presentation be made.

The proposal was received with approbation, and the President sumgested that a suall conmittee shonld be formed to carry it tirough Messis. Johu Goodment, jum., S. J. Hughes, C. Skidmore and J. F. Cox were elected to form the committee, and any ringing friends wina would like to contribute to the presentation fund should remit their contrihutions to Mr. Jahn Goodman, jun., 45, Holeroft Street, Burnt Tree, Tipion, Staffs, who will acknowledge all amounts received.
On the motion of Mr. S. J. Hughes, seconded by Mr. J. Goodnan, jun. the best thanks of the neeting were given to the Vicar of Dudley, to the Rov. W. H. Waring the Rev. B. II. Green and to the organist, and also special thanks to the donors to the tea fund, and to the ladies who presided at the tables and prepared and served the tea.- The Vicar replied to the vote and then closed the meeting with prayer.

Afterwards several members again kept the church bells merrily yoing in various methods mutil nearly 9 o'cloek, when another happy and successfil meeting was brought to a close.

CORONATION RINGING.

AN EXAMPLE FROB TEE GUHLDTORD DISTRICT

Guidford District of the Guildiond Diocesme Guild is not leaving the question of charch bellumping on Coronation Daty to clanue questiongaire has beer sent to e.li towers in tho disbines ly the hom, district secretary (Mr. G. Grover) inquing as to their arrangements and whether they required assistance from the Guild to ensure that their bells shanld be rung.
A reporb on the questionarice was presentod by Mr . G. Grovor at a meetiag of the Guildford District at Chiddingfold on Saturday, ${ }^{\text {w }}$ hen the Ringing Master (Mv. C. Emest Smith) presided. From the reblies received it wats elicited that in two bowers - Bramley $2 t a t$ Dinsfold-the ringers would be uabble to ring. Bramley, in then reply, stated that they would have no objection to any bard going to their tower and ringing what thoy liked, as all their ringers would be otherwise engaged. Dunsfold stated that they had not cnongli ringers, and if anybody liked to go there for a peal they would be welcome. There was also a. conditional promise on behalf of Alhury that visitors could attempt a peal by arrangement

Among ather towers the following is an extract of the replies Chiddingfold propose to attempt a local peal; Oranlegh will be abio to ring for the Caronation, but will not attempa a peal; Holy Thinity aud S. Nicolas', Guildfard, wore muking tjeir own arragements Grayshott will ring for the Corountion, but they did uot wane aus help; Huslemere proposed to altempt a peal; Pirbright and Warples don wero making arangements for ringing, and if there was any peal ringing they would make their own arringoments; $l^{3}$ nitenhan would be able to ring, but they did not propose to aticmplo ar peal Shere proposed to attempt a peal; West Clandon will ring for the Coromation and will perineps attempt a peal; Wonersh will ring lol the Coronation and will attempl a locai peal: Lwhurst were ringing on Cononstion Day aud during the yent would attempt a poal; Shal ford were ringing and probably a penl would bo attempted,
Mr. Grover also stated thati he understoon that Otilian bells wnuld be available on Corouation Day. Their captain, unfortunately, wat in the Royal Survey County Hospital.
Mr. J. Bartlett said he would try nad arrange for a party from Chiddingiold to ring at Dunsfoid, aud Mr. Leslie Funter promiasl that he would see if Shalford could make arrangements for the ring ing of Bramley luells.

A pertinent guestion was'asked the chairman as to what congtituter a Coronation peal. The chanman repalied that he assamed that, a peal fung during the week berare the Coronation and the week aftor could lia classified as a Corouation perd.

The election of Mr. John O. Weller as a componadirg member previous to the ringing of a peal at Godalminy was conlirmed, Mr. Gaild menluers.

The medting, which was held in conjunction with the Jarlies' Guild, whs highly successful, and was alitended by over 40 ringers. 'The Rector (the Rev. C. F. Fr. Raldwin) conducted the Guild service and was thanked at the tea which followed at lite Swan Hotel for placing the bells ar the Guild's disposal and for his helpful address.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish ail grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

Sold in Gd. and 1/- Tubes

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' HISTORY.

Ringers throughout the country, whether they are members or not, are greatly interested in this year's celebration of the Tercentenary of the Ancient Society of College Youths. The long history of the society, with the traditions surrounding it, have given it a place high in the esteem of the Exercise, and anything that is done to mark this auspicious year will be followed with the closest interest both inside and outside the ranks of the A.S.C.Y. The culmination of the celebration will, of course, be the annual dimer on November 6th, but we understand that there is a prospect of further marking the year by the erection of a suitable memorial, as suggested in this column, to the first Master of the Society, Lord Brereton, who was buried at Brereton Church, Cheshire, but whose association with the society remains uncommemorated. Lord Brereton was the leader of the little band of aristocrats who took up bell ringing as a sport, and who on November 5th, 4637 , laid the foundations of an organisation which, despite inevitable vicissitudes, has come down to us through three centuries and provides us with an unbroken link with the earliest days of change ringing.
Hitherto only the scrappiest of information has been available to the Exercise concerning the history of the old society. Those who have been fortunately placed have had the opportunity of examining the ancient records of the Youths, but even to the general body of members there has been nothing available in the shape of history except the sketchy outline, published in the rule book revised in 1928. For the ringer outside the membership, there has been up to the present no authentic history available, for at no time has there been published for all to read any account of the society, let alone one which did justice to its long existence and the important role which it has played in the art. That omission it is now hoped to make good. For many years Mr. J. Armiger Trollope worked upon a history of London Ringers and Ringing in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries, in which the activities of the College Youths and the personalities which made up its membership occupied a prominent place. Mr. Trollope's exacting researches led to the discovery of many hitherto buried facts, which have thrown an extensive light upon the art in those distant days. The portion relating to College Youths has been drafted into a separate volume, and, although it was completed without any idea of associating it with the society's tercentenary, there could be no more opportune time than this year to issue it to the world. It will prove one of the most deeply interesting,

A QUARTER PEAL OF STEDMAN TRIPLES.

The bell that 'makes' the first bob of either of these pairs-that is tha bell thati makes 5th's and turns round in 4.5 -is atways a guick bell, and, if four bobs are called, makes the last as well as the first boh, but being then (as the second of a pair) always slow.

Pairs of bobs called at $Q$. have precisely the opposite effect both on the bells in 6-7 aud the bells making the bobs.

These are some of the simpler things which we advise young conductors to nssimilate and then to make a further study of touches for themselves to see how the calling of bobs transposes the relationwhip of the bells.
Here is the caling of a fanous quarter-peal which you may like to try yonr hand on:-

2314567

We would ask those who are interested in calling Stedman to make a careful study of this quarter-peal, because we shall return to jt latar oll.

SUSSEX WEDDING BELLS

On Saturday, March 27th, et St. Deny's Church, Rotlierfield, the wedding was solemnised between Miss Dolly Hammond, of Rotherfield. and Mr. Ernest Holt, of Mayfield. The bride is the eldest danghter of Mr. and Mrs, Prank Hammond, of Rotherfield. The hride's father. Who is a loeal ringer, has been a member of the St. Denj's Guild of Ringers for over 25 years and is the steeptelseeper. As the bride and bridegraom left the church a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung : C. Brasior (conductor) 1, J. Hack 2, R. Mitchell 3, A. F. Lewry 4, F: Bishop, sen. S, F. IL. Ficks G, M. Hiason temor (covering).

On Sunday. March 28th, for evening service is honont of the accarion and with the bride's father taking part, a quartel-peal of Boh Triples was rung: J. Lovell (first quarter in the method) $\mathrm{I}, \mathrm{R}$. Mitchell 2. A. F. Lewry 3, S. Russell 4, F. Hammond 5, E. Bishop, вen. 6, C.

FOR BEGINNERS.

ALDS 'TO CALLING STEDMAN T2PTPLES
If the young conductor of Steuman will carefully study the methot, he will find many things that will assisi hin in " keeping the bells together,' He nust not expect to see overything pt ouce - only practice will enable him to become a master of his job-bud there is mo need to wait for thinge to become apparont by vonsland occurronce. Study of the figutes will enable the "hol) caller' to pick up mathy useful hints to make laimself a "conductor.'
For cxample, you probably know that the bell imunediately in frout of you and the one innyediutely behind you in the dodging ire going into the work in front, iu the opposite way to you. If you are a 'slow' bell, they are 'quiek' if you are 'quick' bhey are 'slow.' The mere knowledge of the fact will often anable you to prevent a trip when you see a hesitating blow on the part of either of these ringers.
Again, when you are dodging up, the bell you are dodging with will go in, the same way that you have come out. This applies on all numbers, but we are more particularly concerved here with Triples.

Another very useful thing to bear in miud is the relationship between tw: bells, not rectually coursing in the dodging, but separaderl by a six. When you have trainced yourgelf to know, subconsciously as it were, what the bells lins separated are doing, you have a very helpful knowledge of what the majority of the bells are doing.

You already know that the bell in front of you and the ane behind go out into the 'slow' (for that is a general way of describing tine work of the frout three bells, even if the six happens to be a 'quick' six) the opposite way to yourself. If you are 'slow, they are quick and they are soon out of the waty if you are quick you leave them both in the slow, and, as they are separated in their work by a six, if you know what one is doing, you automatically know what the other should be doing. Tuat, with gour own bell, gives you a gratij of five of the seven bells.
The relationship between these 'separated ' hells is not difficult tu follow. In between the quick sixes-when one has fiuished and before the other begins the quick work-they dodge together in $4-5$, and while onc is in 'quick' the other is in 5-7. This dodge in $4-5$ is the only tine they dodge together while in this relationship. At other times when they are dodging one is in $4-5$ (11p) when the other is 3n $7-6$ (cown): when the latter is in 5-4 (down) the former is in 6-7 (up). When they get into the slow together the first one in does its last half-turn when the secoud one does its first whole turn; and when the first one does its last whole turn the lust one does its first half-turn
Now, when your own bell is in the 'slow, you can, with the above in mind, keep your eye on both the slow bell ahead of you and thr slow bell behind you. And in the spaces between you have a pair of ' quick ${ }^{\text {B }}$ bells, in similar relation to eacle other.
Suppose you are ringing the 7 th in the plain course, when you go into the slow you fud the 4 th there; as the $4 t h$ leaves the troble comes to its slow werk. Here you will see it in figures :-

| :--- | :--- |
| 4376521 | 147 |
| 347 | 174 |
| 374 | 7142563 |
| 734 | 1724653 |
| 743 | 187 |
| 4735612 | 217 |
| 7453162 | 721 |
| 754 | 7126435 |
| 574 | 1762345 |
| 547 | 716 |
| 457 | 761 |
| 4751326 | 617 |
| 471 |  |

Examine the relationship between the 4 and 7 and then between 7 and 1. You cannot expect to get all the detail into your head in one 'go,' but study and practice will teach jou gnite a lot, which presently, will become as much a part of your ringing as is the actual method itself.

The real difficulty in following Stedman, of course, is the rapid changes causod by the bobs but here again fou can go on picking up 'tips' if you use peacil and paper at home and use your eyes in the belfry.
The orthodox tonches and peals of Stedman Triples have bobs only in pairs, and, althougly odd bobs can be used, we are not troubling about that now.
You remember what we said last week thout the calling places for nairs of bols being designated 5 . $H$. and $L$. for the three pairs 3-4, $5-6$ and $7-8$ respectively, and $Q$. for the $12-13$. One useful thing to remember is that the bell dodging $7-6$ (down) at either S . $\mathcal{H}$. or L . is always a quick bell afterwards; and consequently the bell dodging 6-7 (up) is always a slow bell afterwards.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

CORPORATE COMMUNION SFRVICE AND MEETING AT ARMLEY.

The Leeds Society invaded Armiey for their biennial visit on Satimday week, and at this mecting the nominations for ollicers for the forthcoming year were received. The beils ware rung up at 3 p.m. and ringing contimued until 4.15 p.m., when in place of the usual evensong, a ringers' corporate commumion service was heid. Twentytwo ringers attended. Iustead of a sermon the Vicay of Uppor Armley (the Rev. Dr. J. S. Holliugworth, A. A., D.LL.) gave the eociety a warm welcome to the church and the ringing chamber. He referred to the service, which the understood to be an inmowation, and said he was piensed tu be assaciaterl with it, Although not held in the early morning, is some desired it, nor yet as a supper as when firad iustituted, the time was immatorial if the spirit of appronch was right. He was glad that the ringers gathered that day were showing peoplc that they mot, only invited others to church, but themaelves attended.
After the service the Vicar showed same of tho ringers the man points of interest of the ehurch, which is of early Engligh design with wonderful Gothic arches. The reredos is of Caen stome, the chancel aud baptistry floors are laid with Italian marblo.
Owing to insufficient numbors having sent in requests for tea, the manberg present wire divided into sumall parties and invited to tean al the homes of the local company.
The buginess meeting was held is the tower, tho president (Mr. Seniory being in the elanir, Mamberg were present from Battey, Birstall, Bramicy, Burley, Bradford, Drighlington, Guiselew, Headingly Str. Chad's, Holbeeh, Idle, Leeds Parish Chircl, Rothwell, Shipley, Sherbum, Sutton and the lacal company. Two now membere wero elected, viz., Messrs. James Hodgson: and Arthur Barlow, of Liversedge.
The usual vote of thauls to the Vicer of Upper Armaley and the local company was proposed by the president and seconded by Mr. A. E. West - Mr. Lofthouse replied for the lacal company.

Mr. R H. Figos proposed that specinl mothods be mamed for practice at the monthly metings, and after discussion (duriug which it was pointer out that claiming one meeting for one method did not help the society in ringing or attendance) 16 was decided that indjvidual attention should be given to new methods with a viow to trying them out at meetings.
Tho following nominetions were received: President, Mr. W. H. Senior; three vice-presidents, Messra. H. Davidson, T. W. Strangeway sand S. Barron: Ringing Master, Mr. L. Drake; seoretary and treasurer, Mr. H. Lofthouse; trustecs Mossre. F. Raymens and L. W. G. Marris; auditors, Messre. F. Rayment and F. Hutchinson.

The geueral meeting is to be lield on April 24 til at Leeds Pariab Church.

LINK WITH FOUNDATION OF BAGSHOT CHURCH.

RINGER FOR OVER ITMTY YEARS.

A link with the early histery of St. Aume's Church, Pagahot, Surrey, has been severed by the passing of Mr. Thomas Gousld, at tho age of 79 years. He was a member of the band of ringers formod when the bells were dedicated in 1885 , and previously lad been a chorister fram the foundation of the chureh, having been present at tho laying of the foundation stome.
Althotigh e cripple, Mr. Gould attained considerable akill in the art of change riuging. At the time when there were only six bells, Bagshot boasted an exceedingly efficient company of rityers, whose achievements are commemorated by recorde now hanging in the ringing chamber', and the name of ' $\Gamma$. Gould occupies a very prominent position.
Although in more recent years his heallh did not permit him to attend service ringing as regularly as was bis custom for ramy yoan his heart was always in the belfry, where his valued assigtance and ready wit were nlways welconed and appreciated
His loss will be keenly felt by St. Anne's band of ringers, in which a gap is left that will be exceedingly difficult to fith.
Mr. Gonld died suddenly in lis clidr on Sunday, Mareh 14th, whila the bells were ringing for evening service.

SHAFTESBURY BELL RESTORATION.

On Sunday evering, March 7th, the bells of St. Jnmes' Church Slaftusbury, were dedicaterl aftel reetoration by Gillett and Johneton, of Groydon.
The Archdeacon of Dorset performed the ceremony and slso presched to a large eongregation. The collection for the bell find amonnted to $\pm 14$.
After tha service visiting ringers lang Grandzive and Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor.
The tenor is 6 cwt., gnd the inscriptions on the bells erce:

OKEHAMPTON'S NEW OCTAVE

DEVON'S LEAD TN BELLS
The Bishop of Excter (Dr, C. Cirzon), on Wedinesday, March 24tis, dedicated two new bells and rededicated the six old bells in a ceremony which he stated to be the first he lad performed.

Of the siv old bells. four have been reanst, the tenor being adned to, to make its weight 16 cwt .2 qr .17 lb ., and the octave rehung in a metal frame with modern fitinus.

The old peal af six was cest in the chumbyard by T. Wroth in 1750. Tho old inscriptions have heen added to by reference to the Coronation year of Gearge VI. The additional trebles weigh 4 ewt . 1 gr .17 lh . and 4 cost .1 qr .23 lb . The total cost of the scheme has been 5553 , of which only 550 is left to be raised.
The Rev. F. R. Burnaby. Vicar of Samnford Courtenay, acted as the Bishop's chaplain, and the Revs. R. Y. Holmes (Monkokehampton) C. Lister (Belstone) and the curates at the Parish Church of Okehampton were in the promession. The service was conducted by the Fienr (the Rev. R. B. Weichman)
In a short adiress the Rishon refaryed to the fact that the Freter Diocese load more than 1.000 bolls in excess of any other dincese in the conntry, athd, therefore, he supposed, 1,000 more ringers. He rhoiced in the tengnes of the bells becanse they seemed to woice the deeper things in life which cannot be spoken.
At the dedication rite in the tower the patron of the "iving, Mr Charies Calmady-Hamlyn attended with the Bishop and robed clergy Mr. Gyril Johnston was also present.
The local band rane the opening rounds, atter which teams from North Tawton and Winkleigh, as well as a band of 'Guild' chareqe ringers, who z'ang towches of Stedman and Bob Major, confinned tho ringing. Mfessrs. Gillett mnd Johnston did the work in their usual axcellent style and are to be congrntulated on adding another fine and handy octave to the 53 or so octeves in Devon. The 'go' and 'tone were appreciatod by 'old hands.

QUARTER PEAL AT QUEEN CAMEL

On March poth, a onarter-peal of Grandsire Donbles was rune at Oneen Camel by Dr. C. N. Faisey 1, G. T. #awkins 2. F. C. Mogford 3, G. H. Gress 4, S. Woodburf (conductor) 5, H. Ellis 6. Dr. Vaisey is from Freshforl and it was his first quarter-peal.

BTVERLEX.At the Minster for evening service on March 27st. a quarter-peal of Grandsire Gatera (1.259 changes): B. Weaver (first marter af Cafers) 1, G. P. Bradley 2, R. Owen 3, J. W. Braithwaite 4. F. W. Comey 5. G. J. Constahle 6, L. Damoit (conductor) 7 ris Osgerby 8, W. Middleton 9, T. Witson (first gumeter of Caters) 10. This quarter-peal was arranged for ringers of 1 and 5 , who were on an excnrsion to Beverley from Woodford, Essex, and who wish to thank Mr. nad Mrs. Midaleton for their hospitality before and after the ringing.

POYNTON BELLS REOPENED.

SUCGISSFUL OUTCONE OF RINGJRS' EFFORLS.

After months of untiring effort by the local fingers, the belis if Poynton Parish Chureh, Cheshire, were rcopened on Sundiay wech, after having been rehung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Special services were held and the preachers were, in the morning, the Vienr. and iv the evening the Rev. A. J. Fumphreys, Rural Dean, who delivored an appropriate address, taking as his text verses from the sth Chapter of Proverbs, berinning from ' Doth not wisdom cry out understanding put forth ber voice, etc.'

The preacher referred to the great number of clurch towers and steeples which are dotted all over our Finglish combtryside, and said he imagined that the bells from each tower catled out to the otlw towers, like deep calling unto deep. Bells had also a peculiar interesi in our literature, as, for example; in "The Cbimes " by Dickens, Tennyson's immortal poetry, and in more recent years in the plar 'St. Jonn' He said he thoutht, perlaps, the loason why somm people disliked the saund of charch bells could be traced to the fan that they recognised the invitation given to atiend worship, and throngh neglect by getting out of the nathit of thanking God for His mercies, they came to resent being reminded by the bells of theis slackness Then, in times of rejoicing, such as jubilees and coronations, where shonid we be without our bells? Thraughout the ensuing Holy Weak he thought the bells would remind ns, and partionlarly on Good Fidiay, of the significance of the message of Easter, amily boped they would say to the many pcople who were intent on getting abroad at this time, is it nothing to all ye who pass by?
There was a good aftendance at both services, but, owing to it being Sunday: very few outside ringers were able to be present Those who managed to attend, however, fomm that a decided iut provement bas been effecter in the going of the bells, and the ringers of Poynton have good canse to be proud of their efforts so that thei bells might be pit in good order once more.
The first 720 on the bells since their rehanging was mung poior in evening service, being 720 Plain Bob: G. Tumer (Poynton) 1, T Downes (Poynton) 2, A. Brames (Reddish) 3. S. Smitl (Poynton) 4. K. Lewis (Marple), conductor, 5, H. Jackson (Poynton) 6. The methor was Plain Bob.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

SOUTHERN JOTSTRTCT'S SUCGTSSFUL MEFTJNG AT LAMPFTH A very successful meeting of the Southern District was held at Si Mary's, Lambeth, on Saturday, March 20th. There was all attentiance of nearly 40 members and friends, and 28 sat domn to sin excellent meat tea at the Prrish Institute.

At the binsiness meeting, presided over by Mr. F. Mance, the District Master, two new members were elected. viz.; Mr. P. A. Corby of Beckerham, and Mr. W. A. Stote of Coventry.

The hon. district secretary (Mr. A. P. Cannon) mentioned that hi had a large mumber of the new reports for sale at bd. a copy, and urged everyone present to lny one.
Ho was supported in this bv Mr. F. F. Hawthorne, and their remark. apparently had the desired effect, as 25 wero sold in a vory short time
The business meeting over, members retarned to the tower and continned zinging intil 8.45 p.m., will a break at 7.30 p .m. to nttent the usual evensong.
During the proceedings touches and conrses in the following methonle were sticcessfully accomplished: Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bols Treble Bob, Double Norwich. Canbridge, Superlative and London

DURHAM AND NEWCASTIF DIOCFSAN ASGOCIATION,

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT TOR MEFTINGS
A meeting of the Easterm District of fite Dirliam and Neweastle Diocesan Association was held at Honghton-leSpring on Saturday March 20th, ringers being present from Sinderland, South Shields West Hartlepciol, Chester-le-Street, Whickham, Neweastle and the local rincers.

A short meeting was Ield, with Mv. R. I. Pattergon in thf chair.
After the loyal toast, the Ghairman sald it was gratifying to see so mauy young ringers present, and it was up to the older members to help thems ald sive them an interest to come to these mectings. Fr deplored the fact that, some members did not support the meotings as they should dro. and hoped they would come aud see for themselves what hanpy meetings they were

Mr. W. Tolison nraposed a vote of thanks to the Rentor for the use of the bells, this heing calried with acclanation.
The next mepting will he hold at Gateshend on April $24 t h$, and dise notice wilf be given in 'The Ringing World
The hells were kept gaing from $2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. to $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , the methots runc loing Boh Major. Kent Treble Bals and Deable Norwieh Major, Grandsira and Sterman Triples.
Although there was only a frir attendance, it was an excellent meeting and all ngreed it was a success.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICP ANNUAL MEETING AT WATH. Protest Against Peal Ringing on Meeting Days.
The annual meeting of the Southera Division of the Fockshire Association was held at Wath on Saturday, March 20th, when the towers represented were Shoffeld (Cathedral and St. Marie's), Eastwood, Wortley, Doocaster, Rawmarsh, Arksey, Adwick-le-Street, Fellirk, Penistone, Cawthorne and Wath. Previous to ansort serwice at party was conducted over this fine old church by the Vicar (the Rev. Russell), who pointed out the various interesting feafures and gave a shor't history of the building. This inspection of the church was a real pleasure to all those who were present.
Tea was provided in the Church Hall and wes followed by the business meeting. Owing to a previous engagement the Vicar was compelled to leave before the meating and was heartily thanked for the use of the bells and Charch Fall and for his very interesting addrees at the service. in reply, he said how pleased he was to welcome tho associntion, and while he was Vicar they need never be short of a meeting place. He would always be glad to see them at Wath.
Mr. G. Lewis (vice-president) took tho chair at the business meeting, at which the following were elected members of the association: Messrs. R. Hill and J. T. Whito (Felkirk), B. Birketi (Arksey) and T. It. Fadon (Banmaley).

The Rector of Rawmarsh and the local company sent an invitation to the aspociation to hold the annual joint meeting at their tower, and this was accepted, the date fixed being June 19 th.
Owing to having been appointed hon. treasurar of the Yorkshire Ascocintion, the retiring Finging Master (Mr. S. F. Palmer) was desirous of giving up the office, but no volunteer betrg forthcoming, he was persuaded to undertake another term of three years, with the best ihavies of the members for his past semices.
The retiring members of the local committee, Messrs. G. Halksworth (Doncaster), A. Panther (Wath) and T. C. Rydor (Rotherham), were also re-olected for a period of three years, Mr. Hatksworth was also clected t? the General Committee and all were heartily thankef for past services.
Some discussion took place on the subject of peal ringing by memhers on quarterly meeting days, and opinion was expressed very forcibly that it, was not 'playing the game 'for members to arrange peals on meeting days. It was decided to ask towers not to allow peal attempts on these days and to rocord this decrsion in the minutes rif the district.
Votes of llanles to the local compang for the armanemants made were moved, and roniced to by Mr. Pauther on their behatf.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION AND THE LADIES' GUILD.

JOLNT MEETING AT EDMONTON
Gpwards of 40 ringers and friends attended nu enjoyizble meeting of the above societies, held at Edmonton on Saturday, Marcli 20th. A short service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. C. Evill, at which Miss G. Church, a member of both societies, playod tile organ. The Vicar afterwards pointed out objects of great interest in this ancient and historic clurch.
To the repret of the company, the Vicar was unable to bo present at tea, but Messrs. Edmunds and Barrett, clurchwardens, aitended. Befors the business meetings, the vica-president of the Middlesex Association (Mr. G. W. Fletcher) thazked the churchwardens for their attendance and asked them to convey thanks to the Viear for his kindness in allowing the meeting to be held at short notice, and for conducting the service.
A brief interlude or handbells consisted of two courges of Stedman Caters, couducted by Mr. O. W. Roberts.
At the business meeting of the Middlesex Associabion, with Mr. Fleteher presiding, one new member was elected and four provigional clections confirmed.

Pinner was chosen for the mext meeting on 3 fay 1 st, and St. Laurence Little Bob Major as the special methorl. Mr. T. J. Lock, District Master, urged members to leam theso special methods prior to the meetings. It should he noted that any, or all, of the usurl standard methods may be rung at meetings; the special method is an attempt to widen the scope of ringing.
The hon. eecretary made another appeal for volunteers for Coronation ringins frem those members not evgaged on that day. He would boglad to place such ringers with ar otherwise shorthanded baud. A question was askgl about the bells at All Hallows', Lombard Street, and the hon. sacretary stated that a letter sent to the Bishop of London had been forwarded to the Feclesiastieel Commissioners and acknowledged by thew as being under consideration.
At the close of the Middlesex Association meeting the mere men withdrew, leaving the Ladies ${ }^{1}$ Guild in possession.
Tha chai= for this meeting was taken by Mrs. F. F. Deal, vicepresidenc. The place selected for the noxt meeting wus Berkenham on Saturday, May 8th, whilst a mid-weok meeting was announced for Wednesday, April 7th, at St, George the Mertyr, Borough.

Ringing during the day included rounds and methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise and Spliced Sulprise, and included Cambridge Court Bob Major and St Clement's Bob Tripleg. These latter methods caused somo little trouble, pessibly due to lack of study outside the tower, a matter which may easily be remediod.

BELERY GOSSIP

The band who rang tite peal at Trowbridge on Monday would like to associste with it the name of Mr. W. J. Prescott, who was one of those who received an invitation to take part. Mr. Prescott, however, was engaged on more important business, for that afternoon be gava his daughter, Miss Kathleen Frescott, in marriage to Mr. Harold Hatherill. The ceremony took place at Bath Abbey.
In view of the attempt for the Major record on Monday, it is interesting to recall that on April 3 rd, 1899 , a 15,072 Double Norwich was rung at Erith, Kent, in 9 hours 24 minutes, conducted by the late William Pye.

One of the very earliest 'long' peals was rung 210 years ago yesterday, This was 10,080 Oxford Treble Bob Major, rung by Norwich men at the Churel of St. Michael Coslany, it 6 hours 28 minutes.
Next Wednesdey and Thursday are the anniversary of the 40,390 Bob Major rung at Leeds, Kont, in which James Barham and 13 others took part, in the year 1761. It occupied 27 hours.

Much sympathy will toe extended to Mr. James Hunt and his family. of Taunton, in their bereavement by the death of Mrs. Hunt. The deceased lady had been a great sufferer for many years.
The ringer of the tenor in the pask of Bob Major at Euderby, reported in last weęk's issue, was Arthur Debenham, of St. John's, Leicester. and not Alired as reported.

DEATH OF MR. ALBERT COPPOCK:  LOSS TO NOTTINGEAM RINGING.

Wo much regret to rccord the death of Mr. Albert Coppock, of 33. Hazelwood Road, Nottingham, leader of the St. Mary's Society, who passed away on Easter Day, after only three days' illuesa, from pneumonis.
Mr. Coppock game of a yinging family, and had been a leading personality in Nottingham ringing for many years.
He was a great-grandson of James Coppock, one of tho band who used to ring with Wiliam Doubleday Crofts and who were known as the Sherwood Youths. They made quite extensive journeys in the latter part of the eighteenth century to ring at alstant churches. On one occasion in 1775 they opened the new ring of tea bells at Grantham with a peal of Ggandsire Caters. It took two men to Fing the 9th. one of whom was Crofts, and three to ring the tenor, one of whom was James Coppock, who, being mentioned first in the record, was presumably 'on the box,' the other two being strappers.
Mr. Albert Coppock after the war resuscitated the Sherwood Youths and became Master. For some few yeare an anual dinuer was held, and the society continues to hold frequent meetings at the towers round Nottingham.
It was largely owing to Mr. Coppock's continued pressure that the authorities eventually took in hand the racastiug end rahanging of the bells of St. Mary's, Nottingham, and he effected ai vast improvement in the belfry arrangements there,
Mr. Coppock's keenness and leadership will be much missed at St. Mary's, and the sympathy of a large orcle of friends will go out to the widow and two daughters thus suddenly left in bereavement.

SILENT BELLS.

SMALL HAMPSHIRE PARISH'S GREAT NEED.

An appeat has been issued for funds to restore the tower and bolls of Soberton Clurch, Hampshire.
This peal has now been silent for about 12 months, and it is beyond the resources of the parish to zaise tho s500 required for reatoration unaided.
Thare are eight bells. The tenor (14 cwt.) was cast in 1623. Niumbers 6 and 7 bells date from 1527. The present ork frame is too slight to carry the peal, and ils movement, when ringing, has waskened the tower, thus greatly increasing the cost of restoration. It is proposed to put in a steel frame ard new fittings at a cost of e 332 .
There may be ringers interested in Soberton who can holp in this work of restoration. Any donation will be gratefully received by the hon. treasurer, Major E. P. Bickford, Corner Cottage, Soberton.

BELL BROADCASTS HEARD IN INDIA.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir, -Having read from previous jssues of 'The Ringing Worid ' much comment on the 'striking' during broadeasts of Engith church hells, I should like to know if many home liptenerg tet Sti. Paul's on the air? I do, at the time of their Empire service relays. Congratulations to the College Youths on their well-struck Stedman Cinques. What a pity this band ennnot 'ring the changes" with the interval signal. Some ringers haye condemned 'stony' broadcasts; those wa get very rarely, but the 'interval signal ' dally.
On Sunday, March 7th, I much enjoyed the 'Grandsire' from Croydon Parisla Church. The ringers did credit to a very musical peal.
To one who only has the pleasure of hearing daily the clenging of temple bells, the ringing from 'home' is a welcome change. I ofttimes wonder what many of our ringers would prefer. 'A mix up in change ringing' or 'a mix up of temple music '? With best wishes,
L. H. BAYBUT.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.  MR. G. RADLTY ELECTED PRESIDENT

Plea for Wirler Support for Bencvolent Fund.
"'he anuual meeting of the Hertford County Association was held At. Albans on Easter Mouday, and the members had the opporlunity of ringing on tho Abbey twelve, the ten at Si. Peter's and at Hit. Michael's and Sandridge. The customary service in the Abbey. was conducted by the Dear (the Very Rov. O. C. Thicknesse), who also gave au address.
bollowing tea in the Abbey Institute, the amual meoting was presided over by the retiring president (the Rev. R. I. R. Routh, Vicar of Fitchiz).
'Ehe hon. secretary in his numual report had a very satisfretory state of affairs to reveal. The assaciation, he said, in common with wher ringing organisations, stresses the importance of Sunday service ringing as an essential duty of evory member, and it is gratifying to

MR. G. W. CARTMEL,
Feeted Foy. Secretary of the Hertford Gounty Assaciation for the 34th time.
yrcord that they lave again done then best to observe this rule of honour. The advance made in charre ringing of recent years, botil on tower bels and latadbells, by aur members, in the ringing of Surprise peals in Spliced and other complicated methods, has brought oir essociation prominently before the whole Exercise. Peal ringing suggests, in my opinion, better service ringing, and the incumbents of our churches, agreeing, many of them, with this assertion, have generously given our membera permission to attempt, it least, the ringing of a peal, and have accepted the aftermath sometimes supplied ay a disgruntled parishioner. Let me assure any of the clergy who may have had to eadure complaints that they have the ringers' gratitude and sympathy, and tha nssurance of their desica always to minimise even the possibility of complaint from the outside public.
The peals rung on tower bells, during 1936, number 45, and 11 on handbells, in a variety of methods. The outatanöjug performances of the year, both for our association and in the listory of change ringing, lave been the ringing upon handbells of four 'Spliced' Major peals in four Surprise methods, by Messrs. Hodgette, Woolley, Cashmore and Brinklow.
On tower bells, first peals of Uxbridge Surprise and Cassiobury Surprise Major have been rung, both peala without any previous practice whatever, a most exacting and praiseworthy performance. First peals for the nssociation of Darlaston Bot Triples and Litte Rol Royal have also been rung. The Apsley band, under the skilled guidance of Mr. Walter Ayre, liave also created recordes in ringing a peat in nine surprise methats, and anothor in 14 Spliced mathorle, both on six bells. Iacidentally, the latter brought Mr. Ayre's tot:il number ef peals rung to 400.

The Aldenham company lave also scored their first local penl, a peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by Mr. C. E. Horton, and Lord Alienbam has generously given a tablet to commemorate the peal. Ten members have rung their first penl, and the nuwber of mombers who have rung their lingt in a now method is too bewiddoring for me to analyse. The conductors of peals number 18 on tower bells and three on handbells.

REPORTS FLOM THE DISTRICIS.
At the last anmual meeting alterations made in the rules grve powers to each district to elect its own district secretary rnd committes, and, as far as I am aware, the scheme has worked successfully and giver impetus in mauy directions.
Firom the Northern District, the scorctary (Ms. D. Mears) veported that they had exceeded the usual balanee in hand by approximately £4, partly owing to a number of members paying up arrcare and party owing to an increase in membership-some 24 now monbers linving been added to the list-a good sign. The District Committee is also a new featare and has cone good work. Eleven meetinge were held and the average attendance had been good. The combined practices were something new for which the district deserved credit. It was a big venture, but, assisbed by a president who takes such ant retive part, and the support which was received from the members, proved worth while. Some excellent work was done and ver'y much appreciated by a great number.
These practices incurred so exponses upon tive association, as at collection was taken at exch meeting, which resulted in a balance in hand of 18 s . $1 \frac{1}{2}$ d. It was hoped these practices pould be continued, as they are the only means of the aasociation assisting membera whir do not attend the meetings. Next year it is hoped to see more of these meetings held in towers where ringers ave really striving under dificulties or are at a standatill with regard to methods, A word of praise was added to Mr. R. T. Newmen, of Batelock, who has beught a band of ringers at Baldeck-and kept them interested.
From the Western District. Mr. W. Ayre reported a very successfil year of ringing, although mainly alone by the Apsley band.
Mr. C. FI. Horton reported from the Western District that during the year seven meetings had been held, at which 140 ringers attended. Peal ringing lias been exceptionally good aud the greatest praise shauld be accorded to the handbull band. Ten new members have been enrolled.
The secretary of the Ensterl District (Mr. W. H. Eamrence) reported a successfui year with good attendances at meetings.
From St. Albans District Mr. W. Nash reported that six mootinga had been held with an average attendance of about 80 . The joint meeting was a very happy affair, about 60 ringers atlending. The general impression one got from these meetings was that the ofder ringers were attending and the proportion of young members pery small.
Mr. Cartmel reported satisfactory progress of the Benovolents and Bell Restoration Fands, and said the library continued to flourish, and, after thanking Mr. George Debenham for his assistance, added words of appreciation of the services of the district secretaries. Bebween them, 30 to 40 district meetings had been arranged, which had meant a great deal of labaur. Mr. Cartmel conclnded. 'I am gure the members are grateful for all that is done for them, but in oome districts greater support would bring cheer to tho organisere. It is your $\operatorname{society}$, and upon you resbs its success, or otherwise. I would add my appreciation of the liappy fellowship which I have enjoyed in common with you all, for so many years, and may I also express the hope that the truest and highest spirit of fellowship, whinh finds expression at Eastertide, may ever continue with the membars of this association, for that is the inly forndation upon which we can buita and successfully maintain, the objects for which this ascociation was formed.
The financial statement, submitted by the treasurer (Mr. G. E. Debenham), showed that the lalance in band amounted to 87 Ss. 11d., but acturlly on the year's work the association was 10d. down. Members* subscriptions amounted to $221135_{1}$, while subsexptions from honorary and life asembers totalled 875 s . 6d.
Mr. Debenham pointed out that the Benevolent Fund, which had a balance of $£ 20 \mathrm{Os}$. 8त, was now getting to a position in which it coulit 'stand on its own lege' far betuer tnan in previous yenrs, atthough there was still meed for general support througlkut the connty. The Voluntary Bell Fund, which was now in its second year, bad a balance of $£ 216 \mathrm{~s}$.
Three new honorary members were admitted to the associntion, they being the Dean of St. Albans, the Suh-Dern (he Rev. G. W. Clarkson) and the Rev. A. M. Furguson (Vicar of St. Pcter*s, St. Albans).
The following officers, nominated by the ommititee, were electer President, Mr. G. Radlay (Broxbourne) ; treasurer, Mr. G. F. Dehenham: hon secretary. Mr. G. W. Cartmel; assistant secretary, Mr. G. W. Debenlam; librarian, Mr. H. V. Fiost: representafive to the Central Comeil, Mr. A. Lawrence (Hatfield) : anditor, Mr. W. Metcer.
The meeting concluded with thanks to the Dean for his address, expressm by Mr. G. T. Dehenhant. and a vote of thanks to the Vichm of St. Peter's, St. Michael's and Sandridge and churchwardene of St. Stephen's for use of the bells, and the stemplekepurs for thoir servirns, proposed by Mr. W, H. Lawience and roplicd la by the Rev. Furguson.

A DERBYSHIRE BELL RESTORATION

IMPROVEMENT OF THE PEAL AT EOKINGTON.
On Sunday afternoon, March 14th, in the presence of a large conMeration, the Archdeacon of Chesterfield (the Very Rev. Difworth Earrinon) rededicated the bells und Wextminster chimes of Eckington Church, Derbysbire.
'The bells before the restonation were cast by Jolan Warner and Sons, hed., lumdon, in 1897, end, as on wany other things in this workl, fime had lukeln its toll. Restoration becama necessary. A meeting of the church authorities decided to make an appeal to the parisinimers, who were asked to take a collecting box into their homes, and it was also decided to ssk those interested in the bells of Eckington Church, round about the district, to support them in their effort.
The appeal was talten up with a spirit of enthusiasm by all, and left no burden for the church authorities to carry now the work has been finished.
As is usual when bells are dedicated, they were mung in rounds durimg the service by the Sunday service band: E. T. Tomlinson 1, A. Tonlinsot 2, A. West 3. P. Jervis 4, H. Nelson 5, G. Graham 6, S. R. Morton 7, T. Howes Smith 8.
The company of ringers at lickington ate to lue congratulated on the strides they have made towards the state of efficiency which all ringers like to hear when bolls are rung.
The work done to the hells has been to reasst 1 and 2 , retune the rest, overimul all the clappers and rehang the hells on ball bearings. The work was carried out in a Highly efficient manuer by Mess's. Gillete and Johnston.
Ati open meeting was held on Saturday, March 20th, when the bells were avmilable for all who cared bery their hand on the newlyrestored ring. Aboal 60 riugers were present. Tea was provided in the Parish Fioom, the Rector and churchwardens joining the party.

After ten the Rector gave a haxty welcome to all who were present and hoper? they would he safisfed with the manner in which the work hat been curvied out by Messrs. Gillett nud Johuston. He also lanaked the hellhangers and asiked Mr. S. Roper to convey to the firm he represented his appreciation.
Mr. S. Roper thanked the Rector For his kind appreciation of the work doue.
Mr. O. Faynes, prosident of the Sholfeld and Distriet Society, thanked the Rector and all concemed for the manner in which the ringers lana been entertained.
Several teuches on the handbells were rung, and then a move to the tower, where ringing until about 9 p.m. brought a most enjojable dny to a close.

THE RECORD MAJOR ATTEMPT

SHIFT CODRSE' PUTS END TO PEAL.

The attempt on the Major record at Kingham, Oxfordshire, on Monday, was lost after' $3 \frac{1}{2}$ hours' ringing, owing to a 'shift course after about 5,600 changes had been rung.
It is hoped to make another attempt on this record in the 1ear future.
The present Major record is 18,144 Bob Major, rumg at Benuingion, Hortis, in 1933. 'the attengh at Kingham was for 19,040 Double Norwich.

WING AND QUEEN CAMEL BELLS.

To the Editor

Dear' Sir,-Had the band that visited Wing said 'in their opinion ' the bells were not pealable, no exception could have been taken. The definiteness of their statement makes them out to be au authority. In uy first lotter I gave an example of a definte statement made concerning a temor bull as being muringable: then somente else rang it without any difficulty.
Here is another case of working hard at a peal of bells to make them pealable. In 1905 a party visiled Lundy Isle on the off chance of ringing a peal. On arrival they fonnd the bells in such a stale it was no use thinking of ringing them, leaving out the question of a peal, without finst putting in a lot of hard work. Then a sturt was made for Stedman Triples. But after half an hour's ringhy it was fourd impossible, and the party, beaten and dispirited, prepared for their return voyage. Fortanately for them as it turned out, a gale had sprung up. The stoamer cauld not risk the journey, and this gave the party another day on tha island. Noxt morning, eifer an enolmons amount of hard work, they made another start, and to their delight it was strcessful in 2 hours and 53 minutes. No one should, therefore, say delinitely that any bells are umpealable.

With regard to Queen Camel, I am of the opinion that had the party gone there befcre the bells were rehung their verdict wotld liavo been the same as at Wing.

PEALS TEAT DO NO GOOD

Dear Sir,-Perlaps Mr. Hunt will agree there are peals rung where the bells are almost unpealable, but I would like to state that these peals do no good and linwper locad authoriby from gefting bells relung.
There is much difference in ringing a heavy bell with the late Mr Pye's band than with novices. I, for onc, kuow. I have tried hotla

FIGURES AND DIAGRAMS,

To the Editor.

Dear Sir, - Was interested in your recent leader and Mr. Irrollope's letter on the prohibitive cost of producing diagrams instead of the figures of methods. Perlaps I may be allowed to trespass upon yoir valuable space to show how any yinger, keen enough, can possess a diagram book of methods at practically no expense whatsoever, except his own time.
All the would-be ' diagrammalist' need do is to purchase a suitahtet book to fit the pocket, whinh can be obtained from a pemny or so up, to $z$ tew shillings for a super-book, then produce perl and ink and transfer his methods from figures into diagrams. He can write oul as many methods as he wants, or as few; thase he regularly rings, those he is learning and, if he lifes, those he would like to ring. It is quite easy to write these out, and after a little practice one gels quite expert at the job.
Many years ago, when I commenced ringing, I purchased stich a look and wrote ont all the methods I could lay my hands upat, including standard methods and the Central Council's Collection of Minor Methods; and, as methorls have appeared from time to time in "The Ringing Word,' these have been added to the bools. I still have this book, and not only has it been a source of pleasure to me in writing it, but it has been seen hy quite a lot of ringers and commeatied upon, and has, on numberless occasions, been the meana of onathling a zinger at an outing or meeting to 'polish up' an obscure method which le had not rum for some years and had half forgoticen.
The excellent series of meihod books published by the C.C. shouk be in every ringer's hands, but it is an infortmate fact (in my experience, at any ratej thal ringers witl not buy these books, whether on account of price or apathy I do not know.

HIGH TIDES AND FLOODS IN FENLAND.

To the Bditor.

Dear $\operatorname{Sir}_{3}$-I am sure that meny of us, dusing the flooding of the l'ens, must have recalled those chapters of 'Tlhe Niae Tailow, desoribing the bursting of the waters over the fenfands and the warming hoom of the tenor bell.
Not oniy Miss Sayers, but another lady, Jean Ingelow, has also dealt with this theme, viz., in her ' High lide on the Coast of Lincolnskire ${ }^{\text {a }}$ -one of our most beautiful poems. If it were not that it runs to 22 verses, we might have had a reprint in your columns, for bere again the bells play an importand part. May I, however, give the in'st werse?
' The old Mayor climbed the belfry tower,
The ringers ran by two by three;
Puly if you never pulled before;
Good ringers, pull your best,"' quoth he
"Play uppe, play uppe, O Boston bells!
Ply all your changes, all your swells,
Play uppe "The Brides of Enderby
In no less than sover of the verses is there a reterence to the bells ff waraing, they form a haunting curbain to the progress of the tragic sory. Thus:-

And all the aire, it secmeth mee,
Bin full of floating bells (sayth sliee)
That ring the tune of Enderby."
Till, floating o'er the grassy sen
Oame down that hindly message free,
The " Brides of Mavis Euderby.
And, lastly, whilst clinging to the roof amidst the swivl of waters:-
'And awesome bells they were to mec.
That in the dark raug "Enderby." "
I have asked several of my ringing friends if they could throw a light on this curious reference to our art, but to 10 purpose. (The lite Mr. Law James was duubtful abont it.) Miss Inglelow has been dead nearly 40 year's, and we may never know the genesis of 'Enderby.' It is an beantiful poem. Try reading it (as I have done) to a Linoolnshire man and watch his face.

PEAL RINGING ON MEETING DAYS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-It seems to be a sol'e point among many riugers that a local momany ox any band of ringers should attempt a peal on a day when the association or sociely of which they are members is holding ite fuarterly or annual meeting. Not ouly is it a sore point, but it shows had taske and lack of interest in the association. It is also disappoint11 g to the secretavies, who have more work to do than many ringers think and deserve all the praise they get; and to the local company where tho meetings are held. It is a prictice that, it seems to me, will be carried on for ever, umess these bands are penalised by all associations making a rule to have nothing whatever to do with or acknowledge any peal rung on a meeting day, unless, of course, they can show proof that it was for a very special occasion.

ST. MARY ABBOT'S GULLD.

KENSINGTON RINGERS' DINNER.
The annual dimner of St. Mary Abbot's Guild, Kensington, was held at Slater's Restaurant, Kuightsbridge, on Saturday, March Gth, when over 30 members and friends were present, some of them having taken part that afterwoon in a peal of Stedman Caters, which was rung to celebrate the induction of the Rev. Prebendary A. E. Smith, M.A., as Ficar of St. Mary Abbot's in succession to the late Rev. E. Broolts Tackson. Prebendary Smiti presided, aud was supported by Mr. H. V. Kenyon, J.P., and Major N. L. Garratt, the churchwardens of St. Mary &bbot's, and tho Rev. Kennetly Wood, the cheplain to the Guild. After an excellent dimer, the toast of 'The Guild, was proposed by Mr. Kenyon, and Mr. W. E. Judd, the Ringing Master, replied, giving a brief summary of the activities of the Guild duriug the past year and expressing gratification at the attendances for the Sunday service ringing.
The tanst of "The Church" was proposed by Mr. G. J. Strickland, who paid thibute to the constant and valuable work of the miuisters of the Churel.
An adjournment was afterwards made to an upper room, where, with Mr. J. A. Dart and Mr. Roberts Thanas successively preaiding at the piano, ans enjoyable musical evening followed, which also in cluded tonches on the handhells and tune ringing by Mr. J. Ir. Mackman and Mr. Howard Mackman.
The assistance at the piano of Mr. Roberts Thomas, who was a visitor for the second year, was much appreciated hy those present.

CORONATION DAY RINGING.

Numerous inquiries have come to us on the subject of Coronation Day ringing. There are many towers, apparently, where ringers are desirous of knowing if there is to be any general plan for celebrating this great event, so far as the church bells are concemed. There can, we think, be no general rule laid down. Obviously there must'be widely varying local circumstances into which the ringing of the church bells must be made to fit and one of the first things, we suggest, ringers should do is to ascertain what the local programme of festivities is to be and come to some arrangement to fit the ringing in with the town or village scheme.

On this occasion there is another extremely important point to bear in mind-one which has never arisen in connection with previous Coronations. The ceremony in Westminster Abbey is to be broadcast. . Nearly everyone who can do so will be listening, at their wireless receivers, to the service, and that makes it essential that nowhere should ringers, however loyal and enthusiastic, ply their art to the disturbance of those who are listening to the proccedings in the Abbey. To do so would be not only an annoyance, but a breach of good manners, and would recoil on the ringers' heads. No doubt the desire of the majority of ringers themselves to listen to the historic ceremony will be sufficient to ensure the silence of the towers during the service, and the bells will come with all the more dignity and effect if they are heard at a more apt time.

It has been suggested in high quarters that ringers might take their cue from the bells of the Abbey itself, which will be heard as their Majesties leave the building. That seems to us very useful guidance, and ringers who are anxious to get to work as soon as possible alter the ceremony can lay their plans accordingly. Apart from this, however, we feel that ringers, wherever they can, should herald the great and auspicious day by ringing as early as convenient in the moraing. It would give an appropriate and cheerful start to the local celebrations, it would distinctively mark the festival and would not interfere in any way with broadcast reception.

Whatever ringing is done, however, it should be the aim of every responsible ringer, to see that it is the hest that the band can produce. Ringing for the Coronation should not be made the opportunity of a practice, or even of a peal for ringers who are not capable of putting up a good performance. The ringing of the bells on that day will be expected by the public; they will be listening more critically than is usual with them, and it is a mistake to run away with the idea that the public do not know the 6, PARK 8T., MIMEHEAD, BOMERSETdifference between good ringing and bad. There may be some who, having heard nothing but bad ringing, say little about it, but the public do appreciate good ringing, and if a band is not capable of ringing bells well in changes, they should, for this occasion, be content to do something less ambitious. If every ringer will go into the belfry on Coronation Day realising that his reputation is at stake, the public will appreciate the bells, and a good turn will be done for the art, by helping to remove opposition, where there is any, to ringing on other occasions.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.  ANNUAL MEETING AT NOTTINGEAME.

Ceniral Council to be Invited to Leicester.

The weallier proved to he kinder on Easter Mondey than of late, and this 10 doubt helped to attract a good number of members and friends to Nottingharn for the anmual meeting of the Nidand Counties Assobiation. A gloam fell aver the proceedings, however, for visitors learnerl, an arrival, of the sudden and lamented death of the twlented leader of St. Mary's, Nottinglam, band, Mr. Albert Coppocis. Consequently St. Mary's bells were rung half-mafled as a token of respect. At St. Peter's, too, ith accident to the tenor bell prevented the ten from being rumg, and only the fronts six bells were arrilable. Daybrook bells (8) were open throughout the day, and food prachice bade by a large number of visitors.
The commitice met it St. Mary's Institute at 3 p.ma, nud as a resull of their deliberations, franfs from the Bell Repaiy Fund were mude to Jont Eaton, Notts, where the eight bells are to be recast, and Kirkby hallory, Leicesterstrire, where a new treble is to be added to the existing five bells, It was suggested that the general hon. sectelary write to the secretary of the Central Conmeil requesting that, if pussible, their agenda be pulyislied before Easter, to enable those guilds and assaciations which-like the Midkand Counties-hold thoir umual muetings on Easter Monday, to discuss the various points raised and instruct their representatives accordingly. It was also turgrasted that the representatives propose that the next meeting (1938) the held in Leicester, as by that date thore would be two pings of twelve belle, che of tel, and several eights avuilable.
Following the committee meoling, a special service was held at St. Mary's Ohurch, conducted by the Right Rev. Lord Bishop Neville S. Tulhot, D.D. The Bishop opened by saying that the association form of servica would he slightly attered on account of the death of Mr. Alhert Coppock, which ereated not only a great loss to St. Mary's Charch, but to the ringing community as a whale. A sad fenture, too, was the fact that while on what proved to be bis death-bed, Mr. Coppoek lidd written to ask Mr. Walter White, of Cotgrave, to play the organ for that service
As a volantary Mr. White played *O rest in the Lord,' and special liymos included "Fow sweet the uame of Jesus sounds" and "Abide with me
The Bishop, in his brief hut inspiring address, made touching eference to the passing of Mr. Coppock, and in view of the Easter message of hope and in the Resurrection, left the sorrowing family with theses words of comfort.
After the service, ten was sorved in St. Anry's Institute, and between 90 and 100 sat down. The general meeting which followed was prosidm over by Mr. 玉. Denisn Taylor, supported by the Right Rev. Lord Bishop Talbot, D.D., the Rev, R. F. Wilkinson, of Ordsall, Notts, Mr. Wilkinci E. White (treasurer) and Mr. Ennest Morris (general hon. eecretary). Members were present from each of the associatiou's bratubes, viz.: Burton, Chesterfield, Derby, Finckley, Leicester, Loughhorough and Nottingham, and many friends from long distances, jaghading Mr. and Mrs. Beamish, of Warwickshire Guid, Mr. T. G. Black and Mr. W. Rogers, of the Peterborough Guild, Mr. Johm Austin, of Gloncester, and of hers from Slieflield, Birmiugham (St. Martin's), Byomsrrove, Smethwick, Mneclesfield, Stoke-on-Treut and Cheshire
In opening the meeting, the president first made touching reference to the passing of Mr. Albert Coppock, who was, he said, a withed and respeated member of the associalion. To asked the genema secretary on behalf of all present to send a letter of condelence and sympathy to the sorrowing family, and as a token of respect all the company stoont in sileane for a few moments.

INTERPSTING PEALS

Mr. Taylor then gave a review of the past quarter's peuls rung, Which, althouph very few, were nevertheless interesting. There were the Leicester company. Among the towel-bell peals were three whels Mr. Taylor termed - triprogenitory "-a word he himself coined foa describe threc generations ringing together in peals at staveley (Parsons), Loughherongh (Harrianos) and Matlock (Paulsons). "Quite $\pi$ lot of sons!' Wr. Taylor then thanked the Lord Bighop for honouriny them with his presence at foa, and also for arrayging the beauliful and toueling service in St. Mary's Cluych.
Bishop Talbat, in reply, said, like Boy Sconts, Bishops lad to ${ }^{\text {ch}}$ be prepared, usualy, however, in theit case, to 'say a fef words.' Hast timo he met the association some four years ago lue ard only just ariver from the Pranswan, where everything was very different from Englnid. Very rarely they saw a complete church, still more rarely ona with bells, and it was a great joy to come hack to the Motherland with iks beauliful churches and their wonderful bells. It was his nrivilege and pleasure to have lad the job of seenirg St. Mary's tower atud bells thoreughly restored and everything therein put in good andew, and ha knew the late Mr. Coppock had rejoiced with him aqually in this great work. He was very pleased to welcome any ringers to St. Mary's, sud trusted that their own ringers would soon be ndding many peals to the credit of the association.
The anmual report and balanee sheet, which las now been printed and is in circulation, was daly passed on the proposition of Mr. Colin Hartison, one of the anditors,

STEDMAN CATERS

It was not our intemtion in these articles to go beyond the serpe of eightubll ringing, because we felt that when a beginner had mastered ringing up to elght bells he could go on to the higher numbers by other means than help from this column. However, as we have had in past months several requests for an article on Stedman Caters to assist young cunductors, this may bo a fitting point, following on the last two articles on Stedman Triples, to devolia a Iittle atteation to Caters.

We must suppose, however, thut our readers know the metliod and also know that the only differences bebween Triples and Unters are the two additional dodging places in $8-9$ (sandwiched betweeu the dodging in $6-7$ up and $7-5$ down), and the moving of the liob plave from 5th's to 7th's.
In Stedman, therefore, whether in Iriples or Caters, only the last three bells are affected by a hoh or siturle, In some respects Stedman Caters is easier to conduct than Stedman Triples, becanse, apard from a "soing off" and "thrming' or "honing' course, the bobs tho not cut up the coursiug order of the bellas to anything like tho sume extent; and the bells are coursing two sixes longer in the doulging places. Moreover, in the body of a lony touch or peal only one or two bobs in a course are necessary, and this, agath, simpliffes tile conduction's task.

As in Triples, the cnling is done by the sixes, which are mamberet from 1 to 18. Conposition in Caters is facilitatod by Keeping 7, 8 and 9 undisturbed in certain relative positions and retaning the same bell in 2nd's and also in 5til's place. Thus five of the nine bells are 'fixed,' which is another great help, for in Triples you lave only

The result of fixing all these bells is that once you get these ' fixed holls' into position, you are limited, if you do not want to disturh them, to bobs viade in the 5tb and 16 th sixes and called, of conrse, a whole pull before those sises berin. These, as will be inferved, are known as bobs at. 5 aud I6. If the 5th's place bell is changed it is done by a bob at 4. The 2nd's place bell, if it is changed ather than in the turming course, is moved by a bob at 15
The 'tiftums' position, in whieh at the course end the bells belind strike 9-7-8, and tome away in the coursing order 7, 8, 9 is generally preferred in peals and long touches, with, often, a change of music by tuming over to what is known as the 'bandstroke, that is bringing the back bells into the 'rounde' position at handstroke when they are behind together, so thrit, if the 66h is the 5th's place bell, the handstrokes, in the six' after the course-end, come up 6-7-8-9 and the bells are in the coursing order $7,9,8,6$.
We would guggest that those who wish to go further into this shonld write out full courseg of Caters beginuing both from 213465978 and 214365879, drawing a line between each six and numbering the sixes, 1 being the first change of the first six. Study the courges well and examine the order in which the bells come up behind
Next week we hope to say something further about this suloject.

FOUR HUNDRED PEALS.

Ai Trowhridge, Wilts, on Enster Mouday, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith reug his 4001 h peal. He raikg his first, when he was 15 years of age, and it has taken 43 years to compile this (for these days) modest lotal.
In this number nre three pats of Minor, gis of Triples (in six methods), 183 of Major (in 20 metlods, including 15 of Surpriste), 50 of Caters, 28 of Ropal, 26 of Cinqtes and 12 of Miximes. Or the lotal 3 have been conducted.
Twenty peals have been on handbells and the rest have been rumg in 136 towers. The peals lame been rung in five commiries (Fingland, Ireland, Wales, Belgiam and Australia) and on fire seas (the Mediterthe Red Sea).

MIDLAND ASSOCLATION MEETING.  (Continued from previous column.)

As there were mo other vominations, Mr. W. H. Curson proposed and Mr. J. W. Cotton seconded that the general officers be elected on hac, which was carried with agelamation. The officers are Mr. E. Denison Taylor, president; Mr. Waliani Willson, vice-president; Mr. Wiliam E. White, hon, treasurer, Mr. Wrnest Morris, hon, secretary,
Each of the ofticers, except Mr. Willson, who was mafortunately absent, replied thanking the members for the honour and assuzing all of their contimued eforts on hehalf of the association's walfare. The hon. secretary apologised for Mr. Willson's absence, he being unfit to travel owing to illness. Mr. Morris also asked menbers io let him know at once of any errors they might notice in the amual report and not leave it till tom late. Seveval corrections were needed and it was up to the members to notify them.
New members proposed since the last meeting werre 14 new, 2 rejoining, 2 homorars, 1 life, who were duly elected. Three places for next quarteriy meetings were then proposed and carried, viz.: Bolsover, Juve ; Burbage, September; Repton, January, 1938.
This concluded the business, and Mr. J. Harris proposed and the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson seconded a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Thompsors and the local committce for their arrangements which made the mecting a successful one, also to the incmmbents and ringets of the fhree towers open for ringing.

BELERY GOSSIP.

Foundry Established A.D, 1570 (12th year of reign of Elizabeth).

Mr. Edgar Guise was elected hon. secretary of the Glowcester and Bristol Diocesall Association for the twentieth time at the annual meeting at 'Jewkegbury on Easter Mondey.
The Rov. H. Drake, hon. secretary of the Suffolk Guild for the first 15 years of its existence, gave up offioe at the ganual meting last Saturday. He is succeeded by Mr. Harold Herbert, of Sudbury.

The revised rules of the Kent County Association were adopted at tho aunual meeting held on Easter Mouday at Ashford, when there was an attendsuce of over 250 mombers and friends.
Mr. Charles Slingsby, of Alington, England's oldest bellringer, who will be 100 years old next month, was unable to attend, as he was recovering from infuenza. Riugers will celebrate his 100th birthday by a gathering at Aldington on the last Saturday in May.
The Kent Association has 32 life ruembers, 73 hon, members, 968 practising members and 98 juniors, 120 towers in union, and total funds of f971 185. 5d.
The reports of these meetings will appear in our noxt issue
An original copy of Stedman's first 'Campanologia' (1677) recentily came to light at Eastbourne. Unfortunately it has a good many pages missing, but through the efforts of Mr. Harold S. Holiden it has been secured and will buve a pormanent home in the ringing chamber at Clurist Church.
It is interesting that the name of an early, if not the original, owner of the book is preserved. On the fy leaf is inscribed the name of John Bassett, of Dordworth, ind the date 1698.
The recast bells of the Cathedral of St. Philip, Birmingham, are to be dedicated by the Bishop of Birmingham on Salurdny, May ist. Messrs. Gillett and Johuston are carrying out the work. At the amual vestry meeting on Fviday Mr. George E. Fearn was apponted tower warden and Ringing Master, This is good gews, Mr. Fearn's enthusiasm for ringing ensures that the new bells will be made use of Our reports include one of a peal of Minor rung at South Perrott, Dorset, by members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild! It was a misunderstanding that it was not a Salisbury Guild peal. All the band came from Aldershot, and because some of them were only compounding members they thought they could not elect the others.
If that rule prevailed the peal of Cinques at Trowlidge the same day could not have been ruag for the Silisbury Guild, as there were only compounding members present to do the electing.
The enthusiasm of the Aldershot 'brigade' is well known to their friends. Here is a fact that will intcrest others, besides. Some of this band made fowr joumeys ta South Perrott for this pasal, and South Perrott is 110 miles from Alacrshot! Motor bikes have been enployed, but what is the attraction at South Perrott?
We regret to record the death of Mr. George A. Card, hom. secretary for many years of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. Ho passed away on Monday iu Fullam Fospital. Mr. Card had been in indifferent bealth for some fime past, and only at the last anmual meeting in Sanuary an assistanl secretary was appointed to relievo him of some of the duties.
The inauguration of the recast peal of eight bells at St. Cuthbert's, Darlington, which Messrs. Gilleft und Johmeton have hung ins a welded steol frame, took place on Saturday. The work was made possible through the legacy of a Darlington lady. A further report of the opening will appear rext week.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN WOOD, OF GULVAL.

A WELL-KNOWN GORNLSH RINGER.

By the passing of Mr. Jolan Wood, who died suddenly at his home at Gulval, Penzance, on Priday, March 26th, Cornish ringing has lost a familiar figure and many ringers a valued friend. Mr. Woori, with his brother, Mr. William Wood, the late Penzance district, secretary, started ringing nearly 50 years ago, and ou his movisg to Penzance in 1913 joined the Gulval band. where for several jears he had been vice-captain and steeplekeeper.

Mrr. Wood rang only nine peals, all of Grandsire Triples, hut le was alwaps considered to be one of the safest ringers in Cormwall. He zang his first peal at Kenwyn in April, 1927, where be also rang lis last in June of last year.
Several ringers from West Cornwall were present at his funeral an Tuesday, when the bells were rung half-mufted.
Ou Wednesday a peal of Grandsire Triples was runs half-mufied to his momory at Gulval Churelh,

PROPOSED RING OF TEN FOR POOLE

TWO TREPLES WANTED

An appeal is being made to raise a fund to augment fo ton the present peal of belis at Poole, Dorset, in conmemoration of the Coronation.
The approximate cost of the addition of the two bells will be about E200, of which 550 has already been promisen. The remainder of the task is tos great for the paribh to undertake unaided, and an appea] to all members of the borough, to ald parisinoners and to all bell lovers, wherever they may be, is made.
Donations will be gratefully received by the Rector (the Rep. E. C. Harris) and by Mr. I. Davis, 35 , Tatnam Road, Poole.
Mr. F. W. Townsend is the enthusiastic Ringing Master at Poofe, and his many ringing friends will no doubt be glafe to support him in the project.

Mr. A. L. Ccleman presented the 59th anmal report, which stated that the work of the association had been well maintained in all its branches. The balauce shect showed a balance of 8755 . Gi., a elected, making the total membership 873. The riums at Scotow mud Srham Toney had been restorech. Phe Reserve Fund amounted to 8150 12s.
Mr. $\mathrm{B}^{2}$. S. Thompson, referring to the shastantial reserve fund, surgested that some of it might be used in future to pay a part of the expenses of the members attending the Laster Monday festival al Norwich.

The secretary pointed out that the reserve fund land been drawn on for a munber of purposes, and if members' expenses were paid, in three years' lime there would be no teserve fund at all.

The question was referred to the Standing Committeo.
The Archdeacon annonnced lis resigaation of the presidency, which he lad lield for nine zears. He proposed that the Rev. I. McMulam, Ticar of St. Peter Mancrofl, Norwicil, bo the new president.-Mr. Coleman, seconding, said that they all regretted that their old president had wesigned, but 起. McMullan would be a worthy successor.Mr. MeMullan was aecordilagly unanimotsly elected president,
Mr. W. C. Duffeld paid a tribule to the amiability and tact of the Atchdeacon.
The President gad they accepted with wery great regrot the resiswation of Mr. Arthur L. Coleman frow the post of tencral secretary and treasurer. It had been the wish of the members to present hiv with a mementa of his long years of service to the association.
The Archdeacon of Norwich then presented Mr. Coleman with a geld half-hunter wateh, inscribed "Presented by menbers of the Norwieh Diocesan Association of Ringers to Arthur L. Goleman, Esq., General Secretary and Treasurer 1918-1957.
Mr Coleman, returning thanks, said it had been a work of love for hini for nenrly 20 years. After paying a warm tribute to the hranch semotaries, Mr. Golenan suid he liad shared with the lafe (Continued in next column.)

FUNERAL OF MR. ALBERT COPPOCK.

RINGERS AND BRIEISE LEGION REPYESUNTED.
The funcral of the late Mr. Albert Coppock, Riveing Master at St. Marg's, Nottingham, and Mastev of the Sherwood Youths, who, us recorded in our [ast issur, passed away ou Easter Suuday, ffer om] a few days illness, took place ou Thursday of last week at Beeston Cometery, Nottinginam.
The nows of his death came as a great shock to his many ringing friends and lo tine members of tire Midland Counties Associntion who neel in Noutingluan on Easter Moneay for thein annual meeting. Mr. Coppock was a member of the M.C.A. For about 40 yenrs and had rung 113 peals for the assochation. He was lowking forwavd to fin meeting aud keenly anxious it should be at success.
His abilities as a ringer and conductor aro well known throtghath the Exercise. He conducted the fust Surprise peal 2 wilg in tho county of Notingham. For 14 years be was a member of the band of si. John's, Beeston, during which period the band reached a very high standard.
In 1924 he took over tho tower of St. Maxy's, which at that hime was in a very poor state. The tower was dark and dingy and there was only $a$ "stoney" band. Under his guikince a wonderfal change has taken place. There is a change ringing band in regular attondance for Sunday service ringing and the tower is second to none in the country. Mr. Coppock was a man of deads, not words, aud only those who knew the tower of St. Mary's before his tenure and after can realise the amount of work ho accomplished for the church he loved so well. It is a greatijoy to his fellow-riugers that lo lived to see the restoration of the bells and tower of St. Mary's.
Tho [uneral service was conducted by the Vicar, the light Rev. Bishap Neville S. Talbot, D.B., M.C., and in uddition to the fagily monriers there were pregent Mr. W. A. Johnson und Dr. Blandy (charchwnicus), St. Mary s ringers, Mr. W. E. Whito thon. treasurer, Midland Counties Association), Miss I. B. Thompson (hon. secretary, Sherwood Yonths and Ladies' Guild), Miss T'. Collings (Ladies' Guild), Mr. F. R. Cobhin (Ringing Master, St. Peter's), Nr. F. S. Price (Ringing Master, Holy 'Trinity. Lenton), aud many locat ringers
During the war Mr. Coppock served with the D.L.I. in Framea, Belgium mad Germany Atter the committal, Mr. J. Hobus, of line Britisin Legion, recited the soldiers' farewell, then a courge of Grandsire Triples was rang on handbells by F. S. Price 1-2, T. O. Gobey 34, F. Gobey 5-6, H. R. Cobbin 7-8.

So was lajd to rest a much loved and respeeted 品inging Master, who leaves behind him an example of thoroughness and duty well done. In the evening a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells haff-mufled by a band of local ringers. This was the flrstion peal on the bells since their restoration in 1935.
At Beeston, affer the Euneral, Thurstans' quarter-peal of stedran Triples, with the bells halt-mufiled, was ring by $\mathrm{F}^{2}$. S. Prite 1, H. Rogers 2, J. C. Diclens 3, 4. B. Mosa 4, M. Kirk 5, A, Lowe 6, ]. Price (conduclor) 7, A. Wation 8.

SECRETARY OF TWO ASSOCIATIONS.

Rev. E. W. Carpenter the distiaction of holding the office of gencrat secretary in two associations. He (Mr. Coloman) was one of the founderg of the Warwickshire Gaild in 1907 and also its first secretary. He had always been proud of the Norwich Dincesan Association, Hs he also was of their peal recores, whici contained many fine performances.

Mr. Coleana went on to suy that during his term of office he last registered 956 members, and he expressed his gratitude and thanks to the leaders of companies and all members for their assistance and loyal support. He had speut many happy years in the interest of the nasoctation, aud he would continue to lielp il all he could (applause). He liad grown up with the association, and as a boy of 15 well remembered its foundetion in 1877 . His father was ono of the founderg, nud his godiather, the Rev. George II. Harris, tho lirst general secretary of the associntion.
The President informed Mr. Coleran that later he wolld receive an albim with the names of the subscribers.
Mr. W. L. Duffield, remarking that they were sorry to lose an admirable servant like Mr. Coleman, proposed Mr. Nolan Golden as the new general secrefary and thensurer.-Mr. Caleman seconded, and tho motion was varried manimously.
Mr. Golden thanked the members for the expressions of appreeintion of his work in the pasti, and sad he hoped he would mainlain their corfideuce in him in the futuro.
The following new members were registered : The Misses Edith Duve and Gweodoline Walker, of Takenlan, Messrs. Cliarles A. Farrow and Eruest J. Bessey, of Fappisburgh, Mr. Reginald Stone, of Aylshan, performing members, and the Rev, Chistopher Chitty an honorary marmber.
Reference was maie to the denth of Mr. William Ireland, a foundation member of the association, and the company stood in silence as a mark of respect.

Mr. Golden applied for a grant for the Northiepps Bell Fund, ant it was agrech to formard the sum of E 2 .
A voto of thanks to the incumbents for the use of the bells and in the Rev. G. F. Flack for his address terminated the business of fine meeting.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Resteration of Ripple Tower.

'rhe anmual meeting of the Worcestershire and Districts Association was held, as usual, on Haster Monday at Worcester. Unfavon'able week-cand weather probably decided a mumber of members living at a distance not to make the journey, and numbers were a little below average. Despite this, however, there was keen discussion at thu business meeting, especially witt repard to a grant from the general find towards tower repairs at Rpple.
The meeting was held in the College Fiall, by kind permission of Lhe beadmaster of the King's School, and was presided over loy the Dean of Worcester, the Very Rev. Arthur Davies, D.Litt, supported by Mr. Willimm Short (Mastor'), the Rev. G. W. Webb (vice-president), the Rev. J. F. Jiastings, of Martley (clerical secretary), and Mr. J. D. Juhnson (lay seuretary). Also present were Mfessrs- R. Mathews (vieepresident), $\mathbf{J}$. $\mathbb{R}$. Newman (ribe-president), Charles Camm (Master of Hre Western Branchy, S. I', Folt, G. W. Cooper (librarian) and a srod number of mambers.

The Chairman extended a hearty welcome to the association.
The secretary read letters of thanks on behalf of Norton, Wordsley and Upton-on-Stevern Churches, to each of which the sum of e5 liad teen granted for bell iepairs.
Acknowledgments of donationg of one guinea each to the William Pye and Dean Moore Ede Memorial Funds were also recelved, and the Chairman said that the latter fund now stood at about $£ 800$. It would be used to provide a memarial window in the cloisters oppasite Dr. Fde's grave, and uny residue would go to endow a choil scholarship.

Mr. S. I' Folt (Crowle) referved to the pasition with regard to the bells of St. Helen's, Worcester. He said that since last year's meeting thare hat been big developments, and the committee should keep an ege on what was goinm to happen at the clusch. It was proposed to inite the benelices of St. Frelen's alati St. Alban's with St. Andrew's and All Saints'. He had it on the authority of the Rector of All Saints' that it mirht mean the closing down of St. Helen's for services in the near fubure and probably the church would be removed to the suburbs. They must bear ju mind the historic penl of bells at St. Helen's. The Rev. W. R. Buchanan-Dualop had told him that he thought it woild not be of mueh use fo send a motion from that meeting but added that he wond motify them if the bells were likely meting, but added that he would notify them if the bells were likely ta be romoved from the tower. गhey would then be able to approach the anthorifios with regatd to preserving the peal. There were also several peal boards in the lualfy recordinur rotable peals. These onght not to be lost. The set of haudbells presented by the jate Mr . Harvey Recves would probably be removed to All Saints', where they would le in safo kreping. He (Mr. Holf) was keepins an eye on the posilion and would see that the committee had fifll linowledge of uny decisions on the whole matter.
Mr. Toll also reported that he lad conducterd a peal of Erin Cinques at. Kitiderminster on Mareli 6th, this being the anmual peal for the association.
It was decided to hold the annual dimer again at Worcester on the latat Saturday in Septeraber.

BELFLY REPAIR INND.
Discussion followed on a recommendation of the committee to grant the sum of from the general fund wownds the restoration of the trawer of St. Mary's, Ripple, this being a special case. It was ex-plaiact that althongh tho matier was not directly tho aftair of the asseciation, indirectly it aflected ant ringers, as the bells, which were in perfect order, could not be rung unless certain repairs were made to the tower.
Mr. Charles Camm said that the estimated cost of the work was £704, and that it had already been beant. Meanwhile the bells were silent,

Mr. Robert Mathews nsked why the money conld not be granted out of the belfry repair fund, hut it was pointed out that this fund was only nvailable for work directly on bells. Mr. Matthews then propposed that the minute affecting the allocation of money from the repair fund be altered to include towers, although in opposition to this it was held that in the event of such an alteration calls would probably be made on the fund in eases where ringing was not at wake.
The Chairman, however, ruled Mr. Muthews' proposal out of order, atslthe miles provide that notices of motion to be brought up at the smmal meeting must be given to the secretary at least one month before the meeting

Mr. Newmais explained that the belfry repair fund was formed solely for work on bells. This was a special case and should be treated as such. It was decided to pay the money out of the general fund, and provision was made that, if the composition of the minute governing the ropair fund were altered to include tower repair, the money could be repaid from the repair find to the general fund.

The ndwisability of consultation with regard to bell restorations was emphasised and the secretary drew attentiou to a paragraph in the anninal report, which read: 'Activity in bell restoration continues. Tofortunately, one or wwo tadifforent jobs have come to our notice, in cach case the warle having lean completod withont refercyee either to tho Diocesan Adwisory Beald or to this association, the result being unsatisfactory from the ringers ${ }^{3}$ point of view. We in this diocese are fortnnate in boing represented on the former body by a praeticat?
ringer'. We have men appointed who are ready to give adpree on all matters in councetion with rings of bells, and we regret that moro use is mot made of their services. We earnestly appeal to all incumbents and parochial church councils having the care of peals of bells, and where restoration schemes are contrmplated, to make full use of the practical advice which is available anti so ensure that nothing but the best is doue for our bells.
The fifty-second annual report, after speaking of the pant it was hoped ringers would play in the Coronation, the changes among the officers of the association and the success of last year's annual dimer, which was attended by 74 members, alluded to the substantial inorease in the membership of the Western Branch this year of 19. This increase was, unfortunately, offset by a decrease in the ather two branches. The statement of ncconts showed a loss on the year's working of 53 &s. 10 d. , due, in the main, to small extres of a nonremurring type. 'This loss, the report states, 'should be counterbalanced nexi year.' Income, together with a favourable halance in leaving a balauce in hand of EI 10s. 9d. The repart and accomats wove both considered very satigfactory and were adopted.

Mr. C. W. Cooper reported briefly on the library

GHANGE IN GEFRICAL SEGRETARY.
The following were elected officers for 1937 and thanked for past services: President, the Very Rev. Arthur Davies; Master, Mr. William Short; lay secretary, Mr. J. D. Tohnson; auditors, Messus. S. T. Holt and E. E. Barber; treasurer, Mr. W. H. Johmson; the clerical and lay wion-presidents were elected, with the substitution of the Rev, Webb (who was taking up that post).
Mr. Short was congratnated on ringing his g00th pral. Mr. Sid Holt said, 'It is a big thing to do; more than fury other memtaer of the association has clone.' He went on to say that not all the peals had been rung for their association, but a number of them had been notable and others had helped younger ringers though their fitst peal. All would join in wishing Mr. Short good health to accomplish the feat of ringing at thousand peals (applause). The number who had rung a housand was a very small and select company-hot moro than a dozen in the country (applause).
Mr. J. S. Mason (Northern Branch gecretarg) called attention to Mr. Short's commencement of his 50th year of membership of the association, and said this was a record of service equalied by fow.
With regard to the election of a clevical secrebary, the Rev. J. F. Hastings said he had held the post for 25 years, but cireumstances had arigen which prevented him from continuing. He propased as lis successor the Rev. G. W. Weblo, and this was agreed.
Appreciation of the services rendered to the association by Mr. Hastings was voiced by Mr. T. R. Newman. He said that in his early days Mr. Hastings had been an active ringer. In Martley he was always trying to encourage young ringers, and in this had been successful with many of them. Ho proposed that the hughest thanks of the meeting bs given to Mr. Hastings.

Secondmg, Wir. Short shid they were all sorry to lose Mr. Hastings, but lee thought they had a good man in bis place.
On the propesitian of Mr. Holt, it was agreed to add Mr. Hastinrss" wame to the list of freemen of the association, and this decision was applanded.
Mr. Hastings, acknowledging the compliment, said lue lad had ringing in his heart all his life and had never spent a happier time than when ringing. He learned to rine at Areley Kings Church by getting tup on Shmay morning to xint the 'eight o'clock' boll. He was very proud when be got the fifth bell up-it weighed about 6 cwt. When lie went ta Oxford he got, under Washbrook, Robrisons and atleer frmous men, and used to gro abouf with them on 'ringing weeks.
One life member and three performing membors were elected.
After discussion it was agreed that the annual peal be attempted on the Worcester Cathedral bells, and Mr. Sid Holt was asked to conduct The meetmg closed with a vote of thanks to tho Dean and Clapter to the headmaster of the King's School, and to the incumbents of the varions churches for the use of the bells during the day
Following the meeting, the members attended service in the Catleedral, at which the special preacher was the Rev. J. F. Fastings. He took as his text St. Paul's words,' Whatsoever ys do, do it heartily. St. Paul, he said, might be regarded as a saint peculiarly connected with our own land. There was a tradition that he had wisited it ame our greatest cathedral was namerl after him. The largest bell in thas land was known as Great Paul. St. Paul's Christianity was keen and practical, and ringers would do well to imitate him in thefr work. It was God's worls and ought to be well done. Theory was Hecessary to their art, but it was useless without a greab deal of practice and enthusiasm. The preacher concluded by telling a story of the patienre and enthusiasm of a schoolmaster in North Germany. A new bell was needed for the church and he carefully teaded a blade of corn and sowed the increase until he was the owner of such a large cropr that he was able to sell it and buy the bell-a fine lesson of perseverance.
During the serfice a nollechion was taken for the repair fund of Ripple, and the Dean closed with special prayers and Benediction.
The annual meeting is inseparable from actial tinging, and bells were going in the city until quite late. Besides the fine peal of 12 at the Cathedral, which was only avatable for a short time, the lells of Al] Saints" (10), St. Soln's (8), St. Swithun's (6) and St. Nicholas (6) were used to good effect.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremety difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation cailed DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

ARCHITECTS & BELL RESTORATIONS

Thetford, in Norfolk, wanted its church bells restored and made ready for ringing at the Coronation. The people knew what they wanted, apparently they were prepared to put up the money, but the Bishop's Advisory Committee, backed by the opinion of Mr. William Weir, the architect, successfully appealed to the Chancellor of the Diocese to curtail the plans that had been contemplated. The bells are not to be cut about, the cannons are not to be removed and the old headstocks are to be retained. And Thetford will not have its bells for the Coronation. It will be small comfort that the Chancellor of the Diocese says he is prepared to take the blame for it.

The representative of the Bishop's Advisory Committee had to admit that in Thetford the committee's intervention was regarded as ' unnecessary fuss by a body of faddists,' and, in a letter to the Chancelior, one of the churchwardens wrote that 'the damage already caused to the religious work of the church is such that it will not recover for a generation.' Obviously Thetford deeply feels the snub that the interference of the Advisory Committee has given it, and well it may do so; It doesn't, for instance, help the 'recall to religion ' when, in their enthusiasm to improve the possessions of their church, the parishioners find themselves thwarted by the whims of a lew outside antiquarians. We can understand resentment at interference of this kind, and especially when the delay involved will also affect the display of loyalty which the people were anxious to give-even if the Chancellor does personally take the blame because, as he said, ' applications to do things in a hurry in order to be in time for particular seasons or occasions harden my heart and make me very suspicious and slow.'
The root trouble with applications for faculties for bell restorations is the prejudice of antiquarians. There are many cases throughout the country where bell restorations have been absolutely spoiled - except as examples of antiquarian preservation by the imposition, through the Diocesan Advisory Committees, of the will of an architect who in these undertakings is infuenced by the desire to preserve ancient things which have outlived their usefulness. When it is a case of saving some old building from collapse these efforts may be praiseworthy enough, but in the case of bells it is a totally different matter. Bells have to be rung by man-power, and if they are to be properly rung, with precision and dignity, they demand modern treatment. It is a pity that ecclesiastica! architects are not also bell ringers. If they were, we feel sure that many of the 'botched up ' jobs which (Contiruled on page 242.)

churches are compelled to be content with，would never be recommended．Some day，perhaps，diocesan archi－ tects may have a little more sympathy with those who have to ring the bells，but while antiquarians dominate the Advisory Committees and Chancellors＇harden their hearts and become suspicious＇before they have heard the cases，there is little hope either that the public will be given the most musical bells，or ringers receive the con－ sideration they deserve．

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

PROPOSAL TO FORM BRANCHES.

The annual meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association oi Easter Mondey at Llandafi was splendidly aftended by members from both the dioceses. The bells were available in the afternoon and were made full use of until the eervice at 4 o'clock. The Dean gave the address, which dealt mosthy with the argin and use of church towers and Lells and was most interesting. At the conclusion of his address he condially welcomed the ringers to Llandaff and desired that all should take tea with him in the Prebendal House.
The Dean and his wife had very generously provided the meal aud it was with diffeulty that all were able to gef sitting room,
The business meeting followed, the Dean taking the chair.
Restoration and angmentation reports were received and also instruotors' reparts.
The sum of 23 was voted to the Jlanfreghfa augmentation of two trebles, which have been iostalled.
It was decided to hold the next Monmouthshire quarterly meeting at Linnfecha end the Glamorganshine mecting at Penarth.
The next annual meeting will be held at St. Woolos', Newport.
The Rev. Ivor Richards was elected Master for the ensuing year. The hon. seerctary and hon. auditors were re-elected and a large number of new members were efected.
Notice of mation was given that at the next annal meating a proposition will be made to divide the association into two branelies.
A hearty vote of thanks, which was received with great acclamation, was accorded the Dean, special mention being made of the fact that he most readily agreed to have the meeting at Llandaff. It lad prepiously been arranged to hold the meeting at Cardif, but owing to tower repairs the bells were not available. It was, therefore, considered best not to visit Cardiff. The Dean was thanked for the use of tha bells, for his address and for the hospitality extended by himself and his wife.
The Dean, in reply, said that it was always & pleasure to them both to do whatever they could for the lingers, who, he congidered, Fere doing such useful church work.

The meeting was a huge success.

PASSING OF A VETERAN CO. DURHAM RINGER.

The Ohester-lestreet Guild have logt a faithful member by the passing of Mr. William Brown at the age of 75 years. He joined the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association in 1884 and has bebn a regular ringer at Chester-le-Street for the past, 55 years.
The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the funeral service on March 31st by his fellow-ringers as a token of respect.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIVISION ANNUAL MEEIING.
On Saturday, April 10th, the annual meeting of the Sonthern Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Southover; Lewes, $\overline{5}$ members and friends being present from Brighton (ist. Peter's, St: Nicholas' and the Good Shepherd), Henfeld, Rothenfeld, Lamberhurst, Chiddingly, Lindfield, Shoreham, Furstpierpoint, Burgess Hill, Eastbourne, Hastinge, Uckfield and members of the laca] tower.
The Rector (tho Rev. D. G. Mathews) presided at the business mecting, and officera for the year were elected as follows: Hondivisional secretary, Mr. S. E. Armstrong; committee, Mesers. J. Dearlove, G. P. Flphick and K. Hard; Gommittee of Adyice, Messts. Derlove, Page and Elphick.

One new life member was elected, Mr. E. H. Preston, temporarily resident at Seaford.
The Master. Mr. H. R. Buicher, proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, for the service and fox presiding at the meeting.

Ringing ranged from rounds on the tea bells to Stedman Gaters and Canbridge and Superlative Surprise, and the tower was made good use of from 2.30 to 9 p.m.

RINGER'S WEDDING AT STEPNEY

The Archdencon of Middlesex (Rev. Hon. S. II. Phillimore), assiated by the Rev. R. French, M.A., M.C., Rector of Stepner, oflicinted ati the wedding of Mr. George Fox to Miss Margaret Stincey on Saturday, April Jrd, at Stepney Parish Church phe bridegroom is well known in the district, not ouly as a ringer, but as a churchwarden and sacristan. The bride has been closely connected with the work of the chureh, being a Suuday Scliool tgacher, seeretary of the Social Clu\}, and holding obther ofices connected with parochiul organisations. The best man was Mr. II. Thompson, the secretary of the Guild of Stepney Scholars.
The local company rang the bells in honour of the event, which was favonred with glorious sumshipe. It was a scarlet and whife wedding, the five bridesmajds being dressed in red velvet, and, judging by the crowded church, the most popular wedding there for a long time.
The reception was held at Red Coat Hail. After the ceremony fellow-members of the London Connty Associntion successfully accomplished a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal, the ringers later attending the reception fur refreshment and to express their congratulations. The bridal couple left for an unknown destination for their lioneymeon.

THETFORD BELL RESTORATION.

HISHOP'S ADVLSORY COMMITTEE INTERVLNE.

An interesting case, in which a Bishop's Advisory Committee inter vened to prevent a bell restoration being carried out on the lines desired by the local chureh authorities, came before the Chancellor of the Diocess of Norwich (Mr. F. K. North) at the Consistory Court on Siaturday weck. It concerned the bells of St. Peter's Church, Thetford. The Rector and churchwardens had applied for a faculty giving them permission to take down the bells, recondition, tune and restore them. I'lo application lad been adjommed from a provious Court.

On behalf of the Advisory Committee, Mr. H. R. Nevill said he had been to the church, and the committee's fatervention was regarded, as usual, as unnecessary fuss by a body of faddists. He had the advice of Mr. Willian Weir, one of the greatest living muthorities on the hanging of bells. Mr.'Weir made a detailed inspection of the bells and lad said that their condilion had been greatly exaggerated. He (Mr. Nevill) and Mr. Weir found that neither the Rector nor the churchWarden who was conducting the business had been in the belfry. Mr. Weir spent 40 minutes examining the bells and found their frame was good but loose. It wanted stressing laterally and vertically.
The peal was put up by Lord Rivers in 1790, when the ancient bells were recast and made into a peal of eight, Mr. Nevill stated. The peal was rellung about 1870. Mr: Weir found that the wear and tear on the bells had not been great. The proposal to quarter-turn them was mot necessary, but it was inobjectionnble.

COMMIT'IEE'S OBJECTIONS

What Mr. Weir and the committee did object to very shrongly was a proposal loy the firm the Rector and clurchwardens liad employed to cut of the cannons of the bells and substitute their patent iron headstocks. This would weaken the crowus of the bells. As it was, the elm headstocks put on them in 1870 were in very good condition. They were of seasoned elm and should not be destroyerd. Mr. Weir said it would be troublesome, but not impossible, to ring the bells in their present condition, the reason for the dificulty being that the bearings were worn. Mr. Weir suggested that if the Kector and churchwardens wanted any work to be done they should put in modem ball bearings, which would cose f180, as compared with the $£ 300$ in the ball bearings, which would cose f180, as compared with the $£ 300$ in the present estinates. The fivm had put in an alternative proposal which would retain the wooden headstocks, and the Advisory Committee said of they did that there would be no objection to dnything else they did to the bells. Thiey could do anybling so long as they did not cut the bells about. That was a highly dingerous and objectionable practice. He could point to one peal that had been ruined by that treatment. The Chancellor: Where is that?
Mr. Novill: It is at Scarning. They cannot ring the bells at all now.
The Clinncollor said le had had a letter from Mr. T. E. Rudting, one of tlie churchwardens.
Scanning the letter, he said: 'I am sorry to read this-" Whe damare already caused to the religious work of the chnirch is such that it will not recover in a generation." I am very sorry for that, though I don't quite follow why it should be. The custing off of the cannons of the hells seems to me to be a piece of wandalism to be avoided if possible. The fact that it is pnece ofsary is enough to condemn it as far as $I$ am concerned.'
Mr. Nevill : The reason Cor the trouble was that they wanted to have the work done in a hurry, and to have the bells ringing for the Coromation. They have given out that the Advisory Committee stepped in and prevented jt. $A_{s}$ a matter of fact, the committce did bothing of the kind, because tho worls advised by Mr. Weir is adequate and could have been dons in half the time. It might have been done
The Chancellor: At the Iast Court I said applications to do things hurry in order to be in time for particnlar seasous or occasions rden my heart and make me very suspicious and very slow. If here is any blame to be taken for these bells not being ready to be ung for the Coronation, I am quite ready to take it.
Mr. Nevill: If they had applied to the Advisory Committee first, insiead of getting estimates from arm, as is so frequently done, there wonld have been no troable at all.
The Chancellor issued a facklty for the work to be done, subject to the retention of the wooden headstocks on the bells. He said he thonght Mr. Weir should superintend the work, and he reserved to the Advierory Committee leave to gmply to him again if any difficulty arose. 'I am sorry' he added, 'that the bells won't be ready for the Coronation, and I am willing to take the blame.' VICAR PiOTESTS AT DELAY.
An interesting commentary on the delays which occur in regard to the granting of faculties oceurred at the same Court.
The Revistrar (Mr. C. B. Bolingbroke) said: The Vicar of Docking which he said: 'As it is five montilis since I applied for a faculty for a which he said: ${ }^{6} A s$ it is fye months since I applied for a faculty for a tablet to be erected by Mrs. F. Hare and the citation has been on the church door for four months, I am giving her leave to proceed, as I can get no further by application. You may yecall that this is the third letter I have written abont this, and two descriptions sent. I am no nearer getting word from you. I have also applied for a faculty for electric light, and as I nust lave this in time for the Coranation, which I explained in my communication three months ago, I intend to go forward with the matter at once.'
The Chancellor: I will degree the faculty for the tablet, and as for the letter, you liad better send it to the Bishop.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

NEW SECRETARY APPOINTED.
A well-athonded meeting of ringerg was held on Saturday, April 3rd. As the bells of All Saints are not yet back from the foundiers, only the towers of St. Petor's and $$$ t. Gregory's were quailable. Ringing began at 2.30 , and there was a service in §t. Grerory's at 4.30 , al which the body of the chuych was filled. A serman was preached by the Rev. Canon Round-Purner, Rector of Bealings, which was appreciated by every one of his hearerg. JIe gave instances of the wuy in which people bad been inlluenced for goad by the solind of church bells, aud mentianed cases that he had known of people being brouglit back to the practice of their religion, He spoke of the way in which lo had.been trught to ring, the importance of delails being inpressed on him, and most of all that of "good gtxilcing.' He theu showed how these lessons applied to our daly life and to oul practice of religion.
A large company sat down to tea in the Parish Hall, atticr which tie business meetug was held, with the Bishop of Dthwich in the chair.
The report showed a balance of ext, and spoke of good progress both with new ringers aud with new riugs of bells.
The Rev. J. T. Hughes proposed the re-election of the Rev. H, Drake as searetary, but Mr. Drake said that he barl quito made up his mind to resign. Fige had been seopetary during the 15 years that the Guild had existed, and had wavched it grow until ib was in the front rank, with about a thousand members and ringing about a hundred peals a year. He hed now entered on his 7oth year, and it was only fair that he should give way to someone younger. Then, if he be spared for a few more years, he could watch be Guild being safely guided by someone else in its future destinies,
After some discussion, Mr. Harold Herbert, of Sudbury, was eleeted as secretary.
To fil the two vacanoies on the committee, the Rev. . . Drake and Mr. David Elliott were chosen.

The ring at Horhan was then discussed. These bells have long been ver, dilapidated. They are believed to be the oldest is fite country to have been cast as now existing, and probably the first rizg of an odiave to be made, dating as they clo from the 17 th century. They are also the lightest, tho tenor being only 7 ewt. A collection amounting to $£ 28$ s. 3d. was made for these belle.
It was decided to hold the nexd meeting at Sproughton and a later olle at Assington.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

SUGGESTED FOXMATION OF DEST?RICTS.

The aunual meeting of the North Nottg Association was held, as usual, at Refrord on Saturday, April 10th. The weather was not too good, but this did not prevent 40 ringers from being present. East Ordsall (6, tenor 7 少ewt.) were all open for ringing. At the firstinamed tower various Triples ta Royal methods were rung in the afternoon and evening, but auly a little yinging took place ut Ordsall and that before tea, while Wost Retford bells did nod u'cally get going until after tea, when the lower was almosl crowded out. The striking was fairly good; as good, at any rate, as call be expected from mixed companies.
The service was held in East Refford Churel, the Rev. Redunund officiating. Mr. FI. Blagg played the organ, and the Rev. A. J. Linsell, of West Ret ford, gave the address. He stressed the point that ringers should be the first to hear the message of the bells. There would then, he said, be more conviotion belind that message ns jt went out over the countryside to other people.
Tes fallowed in the libsworth Hall, the Rev. Redmand welcoming the assaciation to East Retford.
At the business maetiug which followed, the election of officers and adoption of the report and balance sheet were carried tirough.
The question of the division of the association into a Retford and a Neprark District was discussed, but no conclusions ware reacherd, The subject will be brought forward again at the next meeliug in the subject will b Newark area.
It was decided that a memorial to the late secretary, Mr. R. W. Stockdale, consisting of a bronze tablet, should be erected in the nave of Ordsall Church.
The committee's recommendation Lliat Blyth or Harthill shoutd he the tower for the next Crawford Cup contest nid not meet. with the approval of the memhers, udd it was resolver to visit Sutlon-onTrent, as it was the turn of that tower, which is easily accessibie. Towler') asfed the captain of every tower to make early arrangements for their bells to be rung some time during the day. If they found this impossible, owing to lack of numbers, they were to write to the secretary, who would try to get outside vingers to assist.
Mr. H. Stenton informed the meeting of the loss of a good dinger by the death of Mr. S. Smith, of Anston, who alied on Easter Day. Fo hed been a rinter for many years and was for some time on the committee of the associstion, Votes of thanks were passerl to all who made arrangements for tho day. Some ringers afterwards rang their first touch of Royal, athers tried the more intricato Minor methods, at East and West Retford respectively. The lowering in peal of the bells it hoth tawers at 8.30 brought an enjoyable day to a close.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION,

OvER 1,000 Practising Members.

Revised Rules Adopzed

More than 250 ringers and friends assembled at $A$ shford on Easter Monday for the annual meoting of the Keat County Association the alitendanca was a record, except for the jubilee meeting at Canterbury, After ringing during the morning, service was held in the Parish Church at noon, the Wicar (the Rev. Ronald Sinclair) officiating. At the opening of the zervice he welcomed the association, fud the Archdeacon of Maidstone (the Ver. T. K. Sopwith), in his address, said how deeply and constantly he appreciated the work ringers were doing for the flory and honour of the Church

T have many opportsinities of appreciating that work,' he said, 'as on most Suudays in the jear I travel tirrougli that part of Eent in which I exorcise whatever jusisdiction an Archdeacon may have and I find bells ringing in the Romuey Marsh, the Weald, or it the beatiful village churches aroubd Mandstone, and I hear the bells of the grent churches of Asbford and Maidstane to speed me on my way. advisedly, because whatever you may think about clergy-and people express their opivions rather freely-you and we are united jo the yeoman task of calling people of the country and this county to God and the worship in His bouse.

Do regard your wowk as a real vocation and real calling, continued the Archdeacon. You make a great contribution to English lifo aud one I hops will never be broken, but you do something more-you are daing $\pi$ work whith God has given you to do.
Mr. F. H. Lewis, vice-president of the association and president of the Ceutral Council, presided at the luncheon and juginess meeting that followed. He was supported by the Archdeacon of Maidstone, the Rev. R. Sinclair, and the principal officers of the association. Mr. F. White mroposed the toast of "The Archbishop and Clergy" and said the Archdeacon's address had praised them for the past att given encouragement for the future. He also thanked tife vicar of Ashford for the fine service and the use of the rooms, and the organist, Mi. P. Steinitz.

The Archdeacon replied, aud, an his suggestion, a message was taken by him to Canon Helmore, who was formerly secretary of the association for 38 years.

HIGHEST MCMBTESEIP FOR FIFTEEN YEARS.
In tho annual report, presented by the hon, secretary, regret was expressed at, the death of the second hon. secretary of the association (the Rev. E. W. Carpenter). He took over the secretaryship when the Rev. $R$ Kuatchbull Hugessen resigned in I889, and it was during his term of office that the county was divided into five distiocts. He resigned in 1891 and was succeeded by the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore.
Tho report went on to record that the association had aver one thousand practisivg members last year-the first time for 15 years. "Having ohtamed these additional members," continued the report, we must all do our best to kecp them interested in the and of chango ringing and association affairs, and thus, perhaps, be the means of flling the gaps that must necessarily occur as time goes on.'
There were 120 towers in union, an incresse of fonr aver the previous year. There were now affliated to the association one 18-belf tower, five 10-bell, 65 eight-bell, 46 six-bell and five five-bell towers. The life members tetalled 32 , hon, menbers 73 , adilt practising members 960 juniors 98 , naking is total of 1,058 . Ten non-residerts bave been added to the membership and the total now exceeds 1,560 .
An appeal was made to all bands to proclaim the message of the forthcoming Coronation in a fit and proper manner and to see that the ringitis is fitting for the occasion. "Recently," said the report, "we have heard caustic remarks concerning the "striking" of hells; let us see it to it that our bells are well struck and the ringing worthy of such an aseciciation as ours
Hhanks were expressed to fincumbents at the 31 places where district quarterly or by-meetints had heen held and to those who on various occasions had extended hospitality to the members. Thanks were also extended to the members of the committee who lad retired.
Tha peals rumg numbered 128, which was 27 less than in the precading year. The 124 tower-bell peals were inng in 79 towers: 39 members rang their first peal and 137 their first in a method. Nine conductent thelr first peal and six their first in a method.

In analysing the peals rung, the report said that the Surpise peals wero 16 fess than in 1935. The association could not boast of sur edvancement in the quality of the methods rung, but it was hoped that what had been lost in peals had been made up for in extra ringing and good ringing for Sunday setvicos.

SUBSTANTIAL MUNDS
The general acconst showed $a$ reduced halance, and stood at f28 14s. 5d. The Benevolent Find liad an increased balence and stoor at $£ 2685 s .10$. Six appeals for help wele recaved and grants were made to the cxtent of eza. The fund had been helped to the extent of 813 Ss .4 d . as n result of collections at meetings.

From the Belfy Repair Fund six mineas had been paid and the balance in hand had increased to $£ 1285$. 9d. The total funds from all somrees was $£ 971$ 18s. 5 d ., an increase over last year of 854 s .2 d . In moving the adoption of the report, the Chairman referred to the record gathering (excluding the jubilee meeting), and said it showed contmuen interest in the associntion. They had reached a thousand members; but they had 1,450 bells to ring, so were still a good deal short of what they should be. There were 216 towers and only 120 in union witly the ussociation.

I do not thiuk we should be satisfied,' he said. 'A little of the cnergy of the last two years put into the question of rules should be pat into missionary work so that we can get 100 per cent. of the towerg in uaion and nembership up to the number of bells there are to ring.

The report and accounts Fere adopted.
In moving the adoption of the revised rules, the hon. secretary said he hoped that the work of the committee, that luad been appointen to consider the various ameadments, would be approved. Fach district had boen rooresented on the commitien and he considered they had done their work well, and their reconmendation was unaaimous.
Mr. H. Eroskins secouded the adoption.
A livel $y$ discossion followed, partieularly on the provisions affecting the election of representatives to the committee. Thie proposed revision included the clause: 'That the district secredaries and two represeutatives from each district. .. . be elected at the annual district meeting

1 districts may, if so desired, elect them by tower representation,
Mr. E. Barnett (Grayford) asked what exactly was meant by 'tower cpresentation.
ML: A. J. Battin (Tunbridge Wells, St. Peter's) : It means the goodwill of the ringers (cheers)
Mr. Barmett said unless they maintained the right to exercise an individual vote they wera losing a great English privilege. 'We must guard arainst a diatatorship,' he said, 'and I propose that the clause be ruthlessly struck out.'
Other speakers pointed out that the proposed revisions had been fully considered by the committee, and it was unfair to question the votes of elected roprosentatives.
Put to the vote Mr. Barnett's proposal was defeated, onIy four voting in favour, and the revised rules were adopted.
All the offeers were unanimously re-elected, which showed that the mon:bors were satisfied with the management of their affairs.
In meriug the re-election of the how. secretary, the Chairman said he had opportunities of seeing the work that was dane bohind the sconeg, and he was pleased to say the secretary had been provided with a typewriter, which was a great asset to the association. Fo felt sure they could not have a better man than Mr. Mitchell.
In weturning thanks, Mr. Mitchell congratulated tite members their co-operation in that eay's arangemente. He liad asked for applications for tickets to be made by the last posk on wednesday and the members had excelled thomselves, as all had applied at the stated time, which was quite unusual for ringers. He thanked bint district secretaries for their work during the year, as without thei: valued help his duty would be fin more difinomit.

ENGLAND'S OLDEST BELLRINGER
The Chaiman read a letter from the Rey. Page, Vicar of Alding ton, who apologised for the absence of Mr. C. Slingrby, who would b 100 years old in May. Fe had hoped to bring him along, but he wa now recovering from an attack of influenza. 耳 ringers to a meetirg on the last Saturday in May, et Aldington, celebrat $\Rightarrow$ Mr. Slingsby's 100 th birthday.
A collection for this 'grand old man' was made to enable hime talre a little extra nourislment, which realised 520 s .6 d ., and was aken to him the same afternoon
Thanks wero voiced to the Vicar and Archdencon and the clergy arions parishes where clurch towers lad been opened for the ringer Ilie collection for the Benevolent Tund was £5 Is. 91

FOR BEGINNERS.

USETUL HINTS IN CALLING STEDNAN CATERS.
last week we showed that the calling of the "ordinary courses of Steduan Caters is a fairly simple matter, because the bobs usualiy occur at 5 and 16, with occasional bobs at 4 (to move the 5th's place bell) and, very ravely, at 15 (when it is desired to change the 2ad's place bell). This last is seldon done, because it complicates the composer's task ly adding to the risk of falseness.
The bob at 5 chauges the 'treble's place' bell, that is, the hell which, at the course end itself, strikes first. Acturally this bell is then doing its last whole turn. When the bob at 5 is called this bell is dodging i & 8 -9 (up) and consequently remaims there for arother 'six,' and the bell it dodges with (1.e., the bell in 9-8, down) becomes the treble's place bell insticad.
The importance of this bell to the conductor is this: If he is a wise man he will memorise the order in which the working bells (tusually there are only four' become treble's place bell throughout the touch or peal-just as ic calling a peal of Major he will, or should, know the 5 th's and 6th's place bells. The bobs at 16 are like calling so many "Homes" in Major, and it is necessary to know when the last of a set of two or three lias been called, for memory is not always reliabla.
The treble's place bell is the key to the position. After the last 16, there must loe cither a bob at 4 or 5 . Let us deal with the hob at 5 first, as that is Elie one that most frequently occurs. You should know beforehand, as we have said, which is to be your next trable's place bell. When you call the last hob at 16 , this bell will make the bob and will then be the 'quick" well at the course end; that is the quick bell in the last six of the courge, and will hunt up through the dodgiug places immediately in front of the existing trebie's place bell until it renches $9-8$ (down), when the bob is called to change over the treble's place bell. Thus the condnctor has plenty of opportunity to make sure of his position.
If the bab happens to be at 4 , the same bell becomes treble's place bell, hut dodges up at the bol (which is one 'six ${ }^{2}$ earlier) instead of down. The bell that is leavino treble's place makes the bob.

These are just a few points to belp you check up on your calling of otdinary' courses, which form the main body of most peals and touches.
The calling of 'starting,' or 'turning,' or "homing " courses is not quite so smaple. A 'starting' course is the one which brings the *fxed ' bells, referred to last week, into their proper positions. A "turning" course is one which transposes these bells into alternative fixed positions, and a 'lhoming' course is one cmployed to bring tho bolls romnd. Usually it is unnecessary to employ both a 'turning' and as homing course, because the former is so arranged that the bells will run round antomatically after a given number of courses.
There is no really royal road to calling these starting and twining courses. It is safest to learn them thoroughly, and in doing this to know which bells are going to "make the bobs' and which pajrs will be dodging behind at the bobs. Witl practice you will get to know quite a lot about the construction of these caurses, but to go into elaborate details is not necessary in this article.

Conductore should prich out these courses for themselves. They will get all th: information they want from the six-ends, hut there are certuin things lo remember. First, the usual 'start' is from 231456789 . which is the ncturl six-end, rounds being really the fourth change of tho six. Next, there are two different transpositions of rows which have to be 118ed alternately, one for the 'slow' six and the other for the 'quick' six. The transpositions ga thiss in pairs:-

| :--- |
| 342618597 |
| 346829175 |

If there are bobs the transpositions are:- 231456789
Bob at 1342617589 followed by Bob at 2346725189
One other thing to rememher is that if you want to eall a bob at 1 , you must do so mmediately the bells go of into changes, because it is made in the change ofter 231456789.

As an experiment, write out a starting comrse by the six-ends, with bohs at 2, 4, 6, 7, 10, 12, 13, 16. If you do it correctly your conrseend shoulr be 412365978 . From this go on and write out a homing course with bobs at $2,6,7,8,9,12,13$. Your course end will not be 231456789 ; but see what you can make of it for yourself and then go into the tower and call the tauch if yous have the opportunity.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE PEALS OF 1936.

The report of the Analysis Committee of the Central Council reveals, as we indicated some few weeks ago that it would, a considerable fatling off in the number of peals rung in 1936, compared with the preceding year. The actual difference was 114. Compared with 1934 it was thirty-five less, and compared with 1932. the decline is no fewer than 450 . On the face of it it would appear that peal ringing is less in favour than it used to lox, but there are many circumstances which may account for a falling total, apart from lack of interest or enthusiasm. Peal ringing has always been a variable quantity, and we do not propose now to analyse the causes. Probably this year, with the impetus of the Coronation, there may be an upward jump. It is satisfactory, however, to note that, on the whole, the standard of the methods rung has been maintained, as a careful study of the committee's report will show. Despite the fact that there seems to have been a 'slump ' in Surprise peals of Major, in the old methods there has been more variety introduced inte, this class of ringing, which is reatly all to the grood. There is little more credit to a first class Surprise hand in ringing a succession of peals in ally one of these methods, than to a team of "rabbits ' who only ring peals of Grandsire or Bob Major: The real proof of advance in method ringing is the enterprise that is shown in doing something different and doing it as well as or better than anytling that has been done before.
In the peals on six hells contrasting facts emerge, Minor has increased by 31, but Doubles decreased by 33, and while, in the latter, peals in only one mothod have decreased by 19 and peals in more than four methods have increased by 17 ; in Minor the peals in one method increased by $25^{\circ}$. It is true that peals in over seven methods have risen by 14 , hut it does not say much for the enterprise of some ringers that 138 peals were run on six bells in which only one method was employed. We know that a few of these have been peals in the higher methools, such as Cambridye, but it is much to be hoped that those who are, and some have lonk been, content with Bob Minor will get away from this rut as soon as possible. In the old days rineers used to make it almost a point of honour never to ring less than seven metkods in a peal, and we could wish that more would follow that example.

One other point in the report needs emphasising, and that is the falling off again in the number of ringers who rang their first peal. This, to nur mind, is much the most serious indication revealed in the report. As we have said on many occasions, peal ringing should not be the 'be all! and end all' of a ringer's aspirations, but (Coutimed on page 259.)

peal ringing does raise a man's enthusiasm, increase his keenness and, generally, does a lot towards improving his ringing. Every encouragement ought to be given to young ringers to ring their first peal-it is one of the surest ways of keeping their interest. A man who has rung his first peal usually feels that he has done something worth while and that it gives him a fresh footing among his colleagues. It is in the best interests of the art that youngsters should be induced to take up peal ringing.

CHRISTCHURCH BELERINGERS' LEADER.

MR. GEORGE PRUSTON'S JUBILEE,
On Wednesday, April 7 th, at the Priory Church, Christehurel, Hants, an attempt was made by the Priory Churcl ringers to ring a peal of 5,280 changes of Bob Maximus to celebrate the 50th amiversary of Mr. G. Prestou us a dinger at this church, but they failed after oringing 3,009 changes.
The ringers adjounted to tlie King's Arus Hotel for light refreshments and a presentation was then made, on behalf of tho ringers, by the Vicar (Canon W. H. Gay) to Mr. Preston. It consisted of ail itluminated address and a Davenpont writing bureau. In making this presentation, Canon: Gay said what a great pleasure it gave him to lye there on such an oceasion. He had always fonnd Mr. Preston a man of few words, but what he said he would do he always carried out. The services given by hinn for the past 50 years had not only been for the chuicl, but for the whole of the deancry.
Mr. W. Tucker, churchwarden, suppurted the Vioar's remarks and added that he always admired, at the annual meetings of the Guild the umanimous way in which the members of the district re-electad Mr. Preston as their secretary.
Mr. Preston thanked Lis fellow-ringers for their gifts, and said what pleasure it gave him to do all in his power for the advancement of change ringing. From the time of commencement as a ringer ho had been able to have a band capable of ringing changes for Sunday services, and he hoped to continue his duties as captain nud conductor for many years to come.
Mr. F. Sparshott, on boisalf of the ringers, conjratulated Mr. Preston on his 50 yoars' service, and said how proud they all were to have such a capable captain and conductor in their tower, as ho was far above the average bob caller. He thisted Mr. Preston would be with them for many years to come.
Mr. Finton supported these remarks, and said that he was the first pupil of Mr. Preston's to learn the art of bellriuging 49 years ngo.
The address expressed appreciation of Mr. Preston's valuable services and zealous efforts on behalf of all bellwingers who had passed through his most talented training, and heartily congratulated him on conpleting 50 years' service on March 8th, 1937, as a bellringor, conductor and captain of the Cluisteltutch Priory bellringers. 1 concluded by praving that the blessing of God mightt rest upon his contiuned labours and that he might be spared to serve in such capacity for many years to eeme. It was signed ly the Vicar, churchwardens and fifteen ringers.
A further attempt for the commemorative peal was successful on Weduesday, April 14th.

MR. J. GEORGE RETIRING FROM RINGING MASTERSHIP.

FOR BEGINNERS.

CALLING STEDMAN CATELS FROM A WOREING RIELL.

If you want ta call Stedman Cators from is 'workines' bell there are plenty of good guides to help you. There me, of course, the regular positions into which the 'fixed' bells fall, but even witbont observing these too elosely you can have thumerous checks upon your calling.

Once yon have got over your starting course, in touch or peal of ordiuary type there are only four belfo which ara afiected by the bobs at 5 and 16. They are the bells whicls fall into treble's place, 3ra's, 4th's aud 6th's at the course ends, and three of then are concomed at the bobs.
If the bob be at 5 , the bells affected itre the 3 ya, tretule's place and 6lh's place bells. If tine bob be at 16 , the Krd's, 4th's and 6th's place hells are concerned.
Many of our readers will romember whit has been said in this column about the positiuns of the bob-making bells in methoris like Plain Toh. Three successive bobs, with an interval of a coutse hetween, canse the bells concerned to work in a cycle of lin, Ont, th's When lhe oflls are made.
So in Stedran Caters there is a cyele which follows the order of $9-8$ down, $8-9$ up and 7th's (which. of conrso, is making the buint. Thus you know, if you are called into any one of these places, what your next, calling position must be if you have to run a full course. We explained lastr week how the bolr at 5 changes the ireble's placo bell, by sulsstituting the quick bell (3ud's place) at the course pasl. The bell that makes the bols is the 6fh. You can watch these bells comiug into position from the course end, and, even if you have 1:0 other check, you cant ulways sec which is the 6th place bell, hecnuse when your prospective treble's place bell gets into $4-5$ on his way up, the bell he dodges with is the bell that is going to make clie bok.
Further, the bells concerned in the bob are the three which course up after the 5th's place bell, which is one of those that are 'fixed.' The first dodges down at the bolb, the eccond dodges up and the third, having dociged wilh 5 th itself in E-7, makes the bob.
Sinilarly with a hoh at 16, the place to make the call is ensy to observe. The three bells concorned couse up from the froat hehind the treble itself (that is if the treble, as is usially tilee cane, is the 2nd's place hell). The bob comes when the tueble is in $7-6$ down, and if you aye the first of the three bells after the treble your call the bob when you are dodging down. If you are the second bell yous call the bols when you are endgiug up, and if you are the last of the three you find yourself dodging in 6-7 up with the treble and the bab is crilled nt that six-end.
There are ouly two other calling positions with which you need concern yourself if yon are ringing one of the working bells, If you are tha's place bell at a course eud and have to call a boh at 5 ; remember the call is made as yon approach the last hali-tin'n. If you are treble's place bell anti have to call a holb at 16, mato the call as yous hegin your first whole turn.

Now the best thing the ringer chu do who wants to call Stedman Caters is to write aut oue or two courses by the six-ends, in the wny we expliniued last week, insert hobs at 5 and/or 16 , and exanine the way in which the working bells arrange themselves at these boibs.
If you want to construct a few touches for yourself your enn do so effect of an hols at 5 tramspose hr 326451 ; for bolss at 5 and 16, trnaspose by 381654 ; for a hob at 16 transpose by 126354.
Yous ran turn the hells into the linatistrake position by a bob at 2 , followed by a single at 9 , which prodnee the prewions conrse-mid with 8.9 reversed. The bells will conce ronnd in the change following the course end 214365879 but do nat overlook the fact fint yon cannot get this with that turbing course umless somewhere you have nsed ainother single. A single at 5 reverses 3 and 1 , o single at 16 reverses 3 and 4, when compared with the transpositions for a bob.
Those of our readers who are interested may like to construct some touches on paper. It will help then, when they have had some experience in the tower, to huild ap touches as they go. Here is the sort of thing we mean.
The starting conrse given prodinees-

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AS SECRETARY. MR. C. T. COLES' SERVICES TO MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION Prasentations From Members.
The members of the Midllesex Counly Association and London Diocesan Guild gave tangible expression to their appreciation of the lobry scrvice given as one of the joint honowary secretaries by Mr. C. T. Coles, at the annual meeting at Cripplegate, London, on Saturday. Mr. Coles has held office for more than a quarter of a century and was mado the recipient of a suitably inscribed gold watch, while Mrs. Coles was presented with a very nice leather liandbag.

The prescatation toole place in the presence of a large number of members, ovar whom the president of the association, the Rev. W. P. Colesheane, presiged.

The proceediugs were introduced by Mr. J. A. Trollope (vicepresident), who said that last ycar he called attention to the fact that Mr. Coles had completed twenty-five years as a secretary of the association. They then showad their appreciation of his services by passing a vote of thanks. Me was not going to sey that words were cheap, because wlien they passed that resolution they did mean what they said and he was anre Mr, Coles realised it. Some of them, however, thought that, the occasion called for something a little more Eargible thau words, but, as the members would recull, the death of the late Master, Mr. Willizam Pye, had led to their having launched a national mentorial to him, and the commitice felt they could not make two appeals for subbcriplions at the same time. Therefore, they postponed any idea of a testimonial to Mr. Coles to this year. They had now got togedjer a few strillings and he was going to wask the president to present Mr. Coles with: it gold watch from the association is a mark of their appreciation (applause). He (Mr. Trollope) need not say that that gift hatl been eaved. Only those who had worked with Mr. Coles intimately for many years kaew his real worth, but all of them knew, in rreater or less degree, somelhing of what he rad done. Mr. Coles was not one who had sought the linelight. Fe had been coutent to worle and lef other people slare tha credit, and the results. For-

MR. C. T. COLES auately in the ringing Exarcise a man of Mr. Fom Coles' standing and value was nob overlooked, and to-day thoughout the country among ringers there was no one more homoured and more respected than he was (applause). Like of good maug others, life was not as young as he was, but he was still in the prime of life and he was sure they would all mite in wishing Mr. Coles many more years of liappiness in ringing and many more jears of service to the association and to the ringing Exercise (epplause).

The President, in handing the gift to Mr. Coles, who received it amid applause, said lie knew it had been the experience of the association alwnys to find him ready, always in the right place and always going strong. He (the president) hopen that the watch would also be always roady, always in the right, place and always going strong (laughter and applause).

MR. COTHS AND HIS COLLEAGUES.

Mr. Coles, in acknowledging tho gift, said he must ask the members to take most of his thanke fur granted, for he felt that the occasion was too auch for him. It was almost 27 years ago that he first hecnme a secretary of the association-on June 7th of this yenr to be exact-when the first secretary and founder of the association, Mr. Arthur T. King, yetired. The associntion was founded alnost 40 years ago and they jad had only two secretaries in the North and East District in the whole of that time, Mr. King for the first 13 years and he (MI'. Coles) for the last E7, with the exception of "a periad between 1916 and 1919, when he was away on war service, and wher the duties were carried on by Mr. W. F. Oram. The association, as they kuew, had no general scurctary; the two district secretaries were joint secretaries. In the Soutl and West District his colleagues had been four -Mr. H. C. Chander', who was still a nember of the association, Mi'. W. F. Oram (who for a time carrind on as secretary for both districhs and contimued in the South amd West District afterwards), Mr. W. H. Hollier and, latterty, Mr. Goodfellow. Tlus there had not been many officers during the perion, and it was due, he thonght, not because secretaries were stickers to office, but because they found it was not so easy to slip out as to elip in (laughter and applause) In the aear future they nuight Lave to make a chauge. Although lie was not an old man and le did not like even to think he was getting old, one did feel one could not do as much at his age as 20 years ago. It had occurred to bin during the tast few years that it was too much for a man to be district secretary and joint secretary of the associa tion at the same tine. Perhaps when they weat into the question of the revision of the rules they might find it way out of the difficulty.

Continuing, Mr. Coles paid a tribute to the support which he had always received from the ofher officers of the association. The late Mr. William Pye, as Master, was a tower of strength, and any success ho (Mr. Coles) attained in ringing was entirely due to him. He was a great help in everything they did; in fact, the association would never have attained the position it did in the ringing world but for Mr. Pyc. They had recoived excellent support from the District Masters, and the preseni Master was doing a great work in helping ringing at different towers. To all of them he offered his most sincere thanks for their help. The great majority of the members continued Mr. Coles, had given loyal support to the assochation, and he would like to urge them to continue to support the officers at tite district meetings, which were the means, and the best meank, of enabling members to get practice which they could not possibly , tat in their own towers. In conchusion, Mr. Coles thanlsed the members for their handsome gift, aud udded that while lae was unlikely to bo able to bs their segretary for another 65 years, he woult, ha hoped, lave a few mare happy years with them yet (applause).

GIFT FOR MRS. COLES.

Mr. G. W. Fletcher (vice-president) said it was only right and proper that they should express their appreciation and thanks to Mrs. Coles for what she had done to keep $\mathbf{M r}$. Coles 'up to scratich' for the last 27 years (laughter and applause). She had been the power behind the scenes, and no doubt Mr. Coles himself would tell them that without her sympathy and help Le would not have been able to devote so much of his time to the association. He asked the president to hand Mrs. Coles a handhag as a token of esteem and with many thanles for her help to the association (applause).
The president made the presentation amid applause, and Mrs. Goles briefly expressed her thanks.
Mr. Coles said his wife could really tell them quite a lot, and rigger, with wives would know vely well what that would be without his going into detail (laushtor). It was true that without his wife's sympathy and help he condd not have carried on all those years. It was undoubtedy ane to the gympathies of a wife that a mat was able to carry on anything. Mrs. Coles greatly appreciated their kinduess, and on her belanf be thanked the members wery much for their hanc. some present.
The Prepident said there remained a substantial baiance from the presentation, and it was hoped when the fund was closed to present it to Mr . Coles as a purse.

Mr. W. H. Hollier (the lon treasurer) said, later, that the fund wonld be ciosed on May 22ud. He whlhed Mr. Coles mary years still of lampy service to the associntion.
The watel was jnseribed: 'Presentad to C. T. Coles after 25 years' service as honorary secretary of the Middlesex County Assechation and London Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers. 1937.'

The report of the annual meetigg of the association will appat in our next issue.

DEATH OF MR. J. S HUTCHBY.

MEMBER OR' M.G.A. 'WTEDTSDAY BAND.

Mr. James S. Futeliby, a bellringer at Loughborough Parish Church for 40 yenrs, passed awny on Thesday, March 30th. Althotgin he had beon in indifereat health for the past 18 months, the end came very suddenly, and was due to a scizure whilst in his garden.

Mr. Hutchby was a member of the famous "Wednesday band which a few years ago, under the leadership of Mr. Maurice Swinfield used to meet ou the "half-day off "(Wednesday) for peal ringing, and their efforts zesulted in a large number of peals, principally Stedman Triples, being rung on behalf of the Midland Counties Association. Whenever he met for a peal it was always with the intention of scoring, and there was no mare disuppointed man than 'Jim ' Ifutelhby if the attempt proved unsuccessful. Ho had rung oyer 220 peals, including the Midland Counties Association's record leugth of Bols Major ( 13,440 changes), rung on April 8th, 1928.

Mr. Hutcliby was, up to 18 months ago, most punctual in his attendance for Sunday service ringing, and although at the age of 75 it wha not to be expected that be would be with us weup mote years, his passing is greatly regretted, not only by the Loukhlotough ringers, but also by the wide circle of friende which his kindly disposition wor for him in the urea of the Midland Counties Association.

At the interment, which took place on Saturday, April 3rd, four members of the Loughboraugh Tarish Church company acted as hearers, handbells were rung at the graveside and the bells of the Parish Church were rumg half-muffled, whilst on Tuesday evening April 6th, ${ }^{2}$ peal of Boh Major was rumg half-wuffed on the bella in the Bell Foundry Campanile, where Mr. Hutchby had rung so mant of his peals. He leaves a widow, but no children.

Two trebles are being added to make eight at Gorleston-on-Sea, Suffolk, and they are to be dedicated in time for the Coronation. The work is being carried out by the whitechapel Foundry;
The Chester Diocesan Guild nipeting, which was to have been held at Markel Drayton to-morrow, has been postponed owing to illuess near the church.
Mr. T. E. Sone, who has now rung penls with 275 different ringers, has called compositions by 40 composers. Sixty-five peals have becn diferent compositions by Mr. Arthur Knights.
Mr. Alfred Lawrence, who rang in a peal of Grandisire Catera at Swindon on Saturday, is in his ${ }_{3}$ rd yenr. His last peal was rung ten years ago, when he gave up peal ringing as he was getting too old for peals!
The dinner which is to be held on October 23wa by the Ladies' Guild to celebrate their silvar jubilee will take place at Anderton's Hotel, Fleet Strect. Accommodalfon is limited, and it will, illerefore, be necessary to apply early for tickets.

RINGING AT BELL OPENINGS

COUNCLL PRESIDENT ON NETE FOR GOOD STRIKING. Fo the Editar.
Sir-I see from the notices in your last issue that there are to be a number of bell dedications in the next few weeks. May I point ont that the greatest possible ceve should be taken over the arrangements for uinging on the opening day.
On such occasions the public naturally listen with greater attention than at any other time. Any bad shriking doos incalculable harm to the art of ringing, as far as public sympathy is concerned.
An even more important point is the irseveronce of imperfect ringing as part of the of ering which is beng made. EDWIN H. LEWIS.

CLERICAL RINGERS' GUILD FORMED.

CANON GOLERIDGE THE FIRST PRESDDENT
On a recent clerical ringing tour some priests founded "The Guild of Clerical Ringers, with the object of drawing together ali elergy who talse any part in scientife ringing.
The Rev. Canoll G. T. Coleridge bas consented to be the first president.
A fee of 5 s , is payable for life membership, and farther particulars can be obtained from the hon. secrotary, the Rev. E. ₹. Cox, The Vicarage, Brampford Spcke, Exeter.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DIVISION ELECTS OFTICERS.
The annual mecting of the Northerz Division of the Sussex County Ascociation was held at Warnlian on Saturday, April 10ill. Thirtyfive members were present from adjoining towers and ringing was commenced at 2.45 p.m. At the service the proposed new form for the association was used. A capital address was given by the Ficar, who also gave a brief history of Wamham Church.
Tea was partaken of at the Sussex Oak, and at the business meeting which followed the following officers were elected: Mr. O. Sippetts, Johnson, combittee; Messrs. O. Sippetts W. Charman and G. Apps, Committee of Advice.
Six new resident members mere elected, and the Tev. F. S. Farebrother, Vicar of Warnham, was elected an honorary member.
The Warnham baud gave nu exhibition of handbells lapped to Treble Ten and Grandsire Caters and received much applause,
The tower was ther again wisited and the bells kept going to 8.45. Round to London Surpilse were rung during the day.

Included in the tables as peals of Doubles are 13 peals for the Hereford Diocesan, one for the Swansea and Brecon, ove for the Devon fruld, and one for the Ely Diocesan Guild, all containing either Fitman's, Morris' or Liudoff's 240 's or 'spliced 240 's 'of Graudsire. We are a little doublful if the Council has made any decision whict explessly recognises these compositions

We have lad in mind the instructions given to us last year by the Conncil, but in wien of the fact that peals containing the compositions referred to have heen accepted by the Council in previous years, we hesitate to decide that these peals are contraty to any decision of the Conncil, and have, therefore, included them.

Two peals of Doubles rimg for the Hertford County Aesociation and included in the tables are stated to contain "Oxford Singles.' Inquiries have been made, bint nu information has been obtained on which we could defititely decitie that these peals should be omitted from the tables.
A peal of Minor in seven methods included in the tathes and rung for the Forkshive Association contained talain course of Woodbine Treble Boh in addition to an extent in tliat mothod. We are not clear as to whether the plain course concluded the peal or was sandwiched behreen extentits.
The committeo recommend the appaintment of Mr. Walter Ayre to serve on this conmittee.

KINGSTON-ON-THAMES BELLS RESTORED.

FOYR TREBJES REOAST.

Reopaning By Bishop of Southwark

Kingston-upon-Thames is rich in history. Seven Saxon kings were crowned there, and the stome on whiel the ceremonics look jlaco is still there to be seen. Through the ages the bells of its Parish Chureh have proclaimed the loyalty of the royal borough, and now, in timo for the Coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth, they have been set in order to play their part again. There are records of Kingston's bells ringing for the first Queen Elizabeth. In 1570 the 'Ryngal's', were paid xjj pence 'the ferst tyme the quene whent in to bare felld, and again in the following yoar they yeceived i] shillings at 'the quens comyng' and xix pence at her 'ferst goyng in to bare feld.'
And the firm of bellfounders, whose history goes back to those distant days, was enfrusted with the work of restaring the peal in time for the forthcoming Goronation. For years the bells lata beew 'a lumpy old lotr, and gradually the necessity of overhaul fotcod itself npon the antivorities. The bell frame has been strengthened, a new belfyy flow and deadening ceiling has been provided, the front fowr belts havg been recast, the rest sandblasted and retulaed, aud the whole peat hung, with new fittings of modern type, on ball hearinge, A grent inprovement has bem effected in the tone and the bells now "go' admirably, but as the old frame was utilised, the ring still run 'the wrong way' round.
Tho bells were reopened on Saturday nfternoon, wher they were rededicated, at a largely atfended service, by the Eord Bishop of Southwark, who, in his address, relerred to the place which hells in this country had taken in our national life and of the purpose they served as a reminder to all who hear them of the higher things in our own lives.

The service was conducted by the Vical (the Rev. T. B. Sccutton), and at the ecmpletion of the formal delicalion the bells wore rumg by a tand eousisting chiefly of locrl ringers. Afterwards an oponiug touch ' of Stedman Caters was rung moder the conductorship of Mr. T. W. Tnffender, who will in future be in charge of the ringing at the church, and, later, other touches were rung, in which mimerous visiturs took pat. Mr. A. A. Hurhes represeuted the Whitechapel Foundry.

THE BELLS.

The tenor, whicl is now 27 ewt. 2 qr. 24 lb . in D ffat, is inseribed round the shondel', 'T. Mears of London fecit 1830,' and in the waist, "Recnst 1830 . Revd, S. W. Gandy, Vicar. George Wadbrook, Tohn Reed. Churchwardens. Sammel Redford, Churchwarden elect." The other bells bear the following inseriptions:-

The last fonr bells bear the additional inscrintion: Recmat 1936. Alfen Drfland, Mayor. T. B. Scrutton, Vicar. R. T. Hesketh, G. J. Dymott, Chierchwardens.
It will be seen from the firscription on the 8th that in 1748 the complete ring of ten was cast by Robert Catlin, successor to Samuel Knight, of Holborn.

AN OLD BRISTOL RINGER.

DEATH OF CHARLES $H$ TOWKINS.

After an illuess only lasting a week, Mr. Clarles H. Tomking, of Bristol, passed peacefully uwry on Saturday, April 10th, in his 79th year. He was for many years a prominenli fagure in pinging eireles in Bristol. Fe rang his first peal at St. Mathew's, Bristol, in 1891, at a period when peals rung in the city were few and far hetwen. Only three were rung by local men in four years, aud he rang in each one, aTl being Grandsire Triples.
Mr. Tomkins was one of those present at the formation of the St. Stephen's Guild townrds the ead of 1894, and was an enthusiastic member of the band who made such progress in the art during the years that followed

He jonr altogether ahout 130 peals, the most notable heing the firgt - Charles ' peal; the 7,023 Stelman Calers at St. Steplen's, the longest peal rung in the city for over 100 years; and the one and onty peal rants on the bells of St. Felena, Lundy Ssland.

The interment took place on Wedresday, April 14tly, at Foly Trinity, Kingswerod, and was attended by the following: Mesgrs. C. H. Gordon, W. Kuight, G. T. Daltry, F. Tueker, W. H. Thomas, J. Gould and WT. A. Cave.
The bells of st. Stephen's werg rung muffled at the usuni practice on the previous evening.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.  PRESENTATIONS TO ASTON AND ST. MARTIN'S

A very successful quarterly meeting of Si. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at the Parish Church, Aston, It was here that such old Birmingham worthies as Henry Johnson, Tona Russam, John Carter and many others used to sing and where many record peals have been rung, It is a fine old church witl tower and spire, and in fact, is clained by meny as "the gem of the Midlatids," The lower contained a peal of eight bells as far back as 1776 , and in 1814 these were augnented into peal of ten. For some years they were silcut, but in June, 1935 , they were recast and augmented into a peal of 12 , largely though the efforts of the present Vicar, the Rev. H. McGowan,
The Guild's form of service was conducted by the curate, the Rev. R. S. O. Stevens, the Vicar acting as organist aud glso giving a very helpful address, dwelling on the dignity of the office of bellringer, and nuging them, whilst ringing the bells fo the best of their ability, not to omit attencing tho services.
Between 40 and 50 sat down to an excellent tea, provided by the local ringers and well served by their wives and other lady friends. In the ansence of the Master, Akerman J. S. Pritcheit, M.A., the Vicar, who is a vice-president, presided at the business meeting.
Reference was made to the death of Mr. Tom Russam, who died in fanuary last; and in doing so Mr. Vice-Prosident Paddon Smith eaid it was very differlt to be sad when talking of Tom Russam, who was really a very happy man. His passing, howewer, was a great loss to the Exercise and particularly to the St. Martin's Guild. For many years lie was in charge of the bells mid tower at Aston, and during that time ringers were always made welcome there. He asked all to stand for a moment as a last tribute of respect.

PETESENTATION TO ASTON TOWER.

The hon. secretay (Mr. Ti. F. Reeves) yeported that some time before Mry. Rusam's denth he expressed the wisla that his peal of 12 landbeils (which were preseuted to him many years ago by membors of the St'. Martiu's Guild should be given to a tower where there Tans a young and progressive band of ringers. He suggested to Mrs. Russam that Aston fulfilled this condition, and that it would be a suitable piace for the balls on account of his long association with the tower. To this Mrs. Russam agreed, and so on her belalf he fad mach pleasure in landing the bells to the Vicar for the use of the ringerg of Aston Parish Church.
The Vicar accepted the gift, and, in handing them over to Mr. W. Davies, the Ringing Master, lemarked it was another token of the goodwill which existed bewween St. Martiu's Guild and Aston, and would stways remind them of a nata who for many years lati been connected with the church and tower.
Mr. Reeves alsa stated tiat he lad received from Mr. J. Frank Smaliwood, now of Bath, who for many years was a praminent membor of the Guild and still takes a lively interest in its well-being, a framed photograph of Fenry Jolnson. In his letter accompanying tho gift Mr. Smallwood remarked that be thought there should be a photograph of the 'old gentleman' in St. Martin's tower; and so lie had murla pleacure in presenting one.
The Chairman expressed the thanks of the meeting, and the secrotary was reguested to send Mr. Smallwood a letter of thanks for his gift.

DONATION TO OJDBURT BELLS

It was unanimously agreed to hold the next quarterly meeting on the cirst Saturday in July at Solihull. The Ringing Master (M1. F. E. Eaynes) pointed c.ut that the date of the bi-quarterly meeting would clasly with the Goronation celebrations, and so he suggested that instead of the meeting several peals slould be attempted.
The secretary read a letter from the Vicar of oldburw appealing for subscriptions towards the recasting of the bells of Oldbury Parjsh Church. It was proposed by Mr. Hayues and unanimously agreed that a douation of $£ 2$ 2s. be sent from the Gujld's funds. " $A$ subsequent collection resulted in $\AA$ further 5138 . being added.
The secretary also announced the arrangements made for ringing at the various chwrehes in the city during Coronation Week. These would be included in the official programme, aud he urged all those taking part to do their utmost to make the striking as goad as possible. $\Lambda$ lienty wote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Haynes to the Ficnir and curate for conducting the service, to the ringere of Aston for providing such an excellent tea, and to the ladies for having prepared nud served it, was enthusimstically accorded by all. The Yicar aud Mr. W. Davies ou belalf of the iston riugers, responded.

Mr. Russam's bels were then tried out, aud, althourgh the clappers in some of them were rather stifif, a good touch of Stedman Cinques was brought round.
A returin was afterwards made to the tower, where the bolls were kept going in varions methods motil 9 o'clock, when a social hour spent in another place brought a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

DARLINGTON'S NEW PEAL

BELLS RECAST BY JADY'S LEGAOY.

The inauguration of the recast peal of St. Cuthbert's, Derlington, took placo on Saturday, April 3rd. The chureh, which is one of the Collegiate Chimelies in the County of Durham, originally possessed a peal of sic, which were augmented to eight by the gift of two trebles in 1866 by Joseph Pease, a prominent Quaker of the time, and son of Edward Pease, who fomded the first railway company in the world. Of late years the bells had shown signs of wear, and the authorities of St. Guthtiert's, after investiantion, decided to the delight of the ringers in tine district ta lave the whole peal recast and Fohung in ball bearings and a new steel frame. The coutract was awarded to Messrs. Gillett and Johmston, Led., of Croydon, who haw carvied out their duties admirably, the welded steel frame being a noteworthy feature. April 3 ra saw the cumination of wheir eftorts when the peal sounded once more over Darlington. Between 30 and 40 ringers from Newonstle Cathedral, Shildor, Staindrop, West Hartlepool, Ormesby, Salvburn and Leeds, togethar with merabors of the three Daclington towers, took part in keeping the luels going, nud afterwawd the company were entertamed to tea at the invitation of the Fical and churchwardeus.

Councillor Arthur Payne, O.B.E., J.P., president of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, was in tive cirair, supporied by Mr. Roland Park, the hor, secretary, and, in moving a vote of thanks to the Yicar and wavdens for their hospitality and invitation to ring on the bells, expressed lis ploasure af being able to visit Darlington. Mr. Pagne went on to emphasise the work for the Church done by ringers, and how thonghts of religion were caried into many unerpected places by the sound of tho bells.
Mr. W. N. Parls, of Darlington, secondent the motiou, which was carried with acclamation, St, Cuthbert's being assured of the good wishes of the association for success with their dew peal.
The Vicar, the Rev. W. C. Jordan, M.A., gracefulty responded and mentioned that this was the first occrisiou upon which he liad attended a gathering of ringers. He went oll to say how pleased the St, Cuthinert's people were to have the bells in use agrin, and referred to the 62 jears' service to the belfry of St. Cuthbert's of Mr. A. Hodgson.
Mr. W. E. Watson (churchwarden in 1936) explained that the worlk done had been made possible throury the legacy of a Darljogton lady. His remezks reflected the heen interest ha had faken m the scheme throughont.

After M1. E. Minors (churchwarden) had endorsed these remarks, and added that, as borough surveyor, he was confident that the job was a sonnd engineering one.-Ir. Cyril F. Johnstan was called upor to eulighten the compary as to what had been done. This lee did in his usual capable manner.
During the proceedings courges of Grandsire Triples and Caters were rurg on handbells by Messrs. C. F. Johnston, J. W, Moarhouse, G. W. Park, W. N. Park aud R. Park, and an adjoumment, was made to the tower for further ringing, which was continued throughout the evening.

Leicester's New peal of twelve.

FREEMASONS GIVE CORONATION TENOR.

Hallowing Serviees at the Cathedral:

Two fuplessire ceremonies Lave taken place at Lecester Cathedral in connection with the coming of the new bells, whish are to form a ring of lwelve, with an additional half-tone.
On Saturday week the front twelve, together with the clack and chimes, were hallowed, and on the following day a similar service was held in comection with the Lenor bell, given by the Freemasons of the Province of Leicestershire and hutland in commemorabion of the Coronation of His Majesty King George VI. At both services the Cathedral was Full, that on Siturday being aftended by the Lowl Mayor of Lobester and Lady Mayoress, while on Sunday a large gathering of Freemasons witnessed blse ceremony. Ringers wero present from all parts of the diocese and beyoud.
The bells were arranged in a semi-circle on the floor of the unve, the tenor bell being placed bolow the chancel steps. The Bishop of the diocese and the Provost of the Cathedral, with their attendants, were seated opposite the contre of the semi-circle facing eastward, and on the south side were the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress; in a semi-circla facing eastward were the donors, while ath the foot of the chancel steps, behind the bells, were the Cathedral bellringers.
The service opened will the hymn, 'Unehansing God,' and following jntereessions, thanksivings and the 1501 h Psalm onme tho carcmony of the naming of the bells, begiming with the eleventh. The donons were led by the I'rovost and his verger, ono by one, to the bells, and cacls formally named their gift.
Tho anthem, Purcell's 'Rejoice in the Lord alway, was followed by the ceremony of hallowing, performed by Bishop Bardsley, who afterwards charged the ringers in these ferms: 'See that you ring these bells with reverence aud devotion to your sacred trust, and as you slall summon the people to worship in this holy house, so be yourselves faitliful worshippers of Him who hath called you to this gervice.'

A short touch was then Fung on handbells, and the clock and chimes were next hallowed. After the hym, 'Ring out, ye bells, to heaven on high,' adapted from the well-known stauzas in Tennyson's immortal poem, the Provost, the Very Rev. F. B. Macnutt, who is also Archdeacon of Lcicester, gave the address.
Ele dealt with the history of the old peal and made mention of the long connection of the firm of Taylor and Co. witit the bells of the diocese. He also referced to the patience of his own vingers, during the 18 years of his awn connection with St. Martin's, in waiting for the restomation of the bells.
Afterwards the bymn, 'Ring forth, holy bells, was sumg, and a collection taken for the Cathedral Tower and Spire Find. The service closed with a prayer for the people and the King and Queer, the Blessing, and the Nabional Anthem.

> FREEMASONS' SERVICE.

The service on Sunday afternoon followed somewhat similar lines, hut with prayers suitable to the special oceasion, the Masanic form of 'So mote it be' beine used instead of the customary ' Amens.
The prayers were offered by the Rev. R. C. Johnson, Promincial Grand Claplain, and the Rev. Henny Lewis, Provincial Grand Chaplain. The anthem was Selubert's 'Where Thou roignest."
The lesson, from Denteronnmy xax., 9-14. was read by Elie Rirint Worshipfnl Bro. Sir Frederick Oliver, T.D., D.L., who afterwards, standin口 by the tenor bell with Bishop Bardsley, was invited by the Provost : to mame this bell, recast at the cost of tho Freemasons of the Prorince.
The 1 Provincial Grand Master answered: Reverend sir, in loyalty to our sovereign Towd the King, who has granted us his gracious pherwission, I will name it.

He then unveiled the bell, and, laying his lund upon it, said: "T, Oharles Frederick Oliver, give to this bell the name of The Coronation Bell of Fis Majesty King George the Sixth. God save the King."
And all the corgregation ansmered, 'So mote it be.
The Bishop, at the recnost of the Provincial Grand Master, then hallowed the bell and pronounced the Ascription.

Again the hyma, 'Ring ont, ye bells, to heaven gil high,' was heard, and, following it, came a sermon by the Lord Bishop of Salisbury, The Fery Worshipful Ennest Nevilio Lovett, Past Grend Chaplain of Enclavd.
The hymn, 'Ring fortl, holy bells,' followed, and after the Blessing a memorable service was bronult to a close with the National Anthem. THE BETIS.
Tha belle, which hawe been increased froin ten to twelve, with adied woitht, thn tenor having been increased from 20 cmt . 3 g g. 28 ll .; to 24 cwt. 0 ar. 20 lb ., have heen cast hy Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughhorongh. They will lee rung for the first time on Cornation

RINGERS' ENTHUSIASM.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Meclanics, Printers-everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

To attend a moeting of the Glonester end Wistol Diocesan Association (Bristol Rurad Brancli), held at Henbury, Bristol, an April 3rd, a ringer cyeled on a 'pull-hike' frou Furthamptor, Tewkesiury, Glos., 46 miles, to have a ring. This meant a donble journoy of 92 miles. There was also prescnit a ringer well kuown in the Weat Coumbiry for his cyeling teats, who on Easter Monday cycled from the Somersel side of Bristol to Tewheshury to attend the annual meeting of the association. Surely this shows keemuess.

Owing ta the poor attendance at the Henhary meeting, the visitor from Tewkesbury was able to take natt in some very useful practica in the usual standard uvethods, aud when he had to leave on his jountiey home bo tharked those present and added that he bed been well repaid for his journey.
If this example weye followed (even in a lesser degree) by begimpert, there would not he nuch fear. &or the future of change ringizg.

FALSE PEALS.

The number of false peals withdrawn during last year, revealed in the Analysis Committee's report, was rather alarming, although it was due largely to one composition, but it leads a correspondent to suggest measures for helping to ensure that in future there should be increased opportunities for examination of compositions. Such a proposal, if it proved practicable, would andoubtedly be a very desirable thing, although it would not necessarily mean that false peals would always come to light. Mere publication of figures does not ensure their checking by competent investigators, because, for one thing, it does not follow that the compositions, even if printed in association reports, as suggested, would come under the notice of those capable of putting them to the test. Then, too, there is a difficulty in insisting upon associations publishing the figures of new compositions which their members may see fit to ring. Some do not publish reports, others could not afford to print the figures. These objections, howeyer, do not in any way lessen the desirability of exploring means of providing against repetition of some of the unfortunate happenings of the past.

The possibility of human error cannot in any event be entirely averted. Nearly every one of our greatest composers - men in whom the whole Exercise has the greatest confidence have at some time or other fallen into a mistake, and it is quite possible that many peals by lesser lights have been rung, which, could the compositions be scrutinised, would turn out to be false. Even a double check is not always infallible. There is a very recent instance of a peal composed by an experienced ringer and examined before being rung by an expert composer of long experience; which proved eventually to be false. That unfortunate abbreviation of Robinson's peal of Treble Bob passed through the hands of many ringers and yet its falseness remained undiscovered for years. The figures of the Southwark record peal of Stedman Cinques had been printed ten years or more before its error was brought to light. Some of the false compositions which appeared in the earlier Central Council Collections were not discovered until long after their appear-ance-not because of any practical difficuity in ascertaining their falseness, but because no one had bothered to apply a check. Compulsory publication, therefore, while offering a better safeguard, will not entirely do away with the risks, and in any case will not prevent false peals being rung, because the figures would not appear until afterwards. On the other hand, it might encourage incompetent composers to put out figures, knowing that someone else may take on the onus of prov(Continued on prge 278.)

ing them. It seems to us that if associations are to safeguard themselves from recording false peals they must take their own steps of requiring ' certified ' figures; certified, that is, not only by the actual author, but also by some other qualified composer. But even this, as we have pointed out, might not prevent an occasional false peal creeping into records, although it would distinctly diminish the risk, and show that the association had taken all reasonable precautions. Eventually, perhaps, we shall have professional peal provers-as there are professional accountants-to undertake this kind of work.

DEATH OF A BRIDGEND RINGER

Mr．Joln Evans，a member of St．Tlltyd＇s band，Bridgend，passed away on Friday，April 16th．Fie had been ill for a long time，but the end canne rather suddeuly．Owing，of course，to his illuess he had not rung for some time．
A rerular Suvdiy service ringer for over 30 years，he was not keen on peal ringiug，but lad，nevertheless，rung several peals for the Llandaft and Monmouth Diocesan Association．He was only $5 I$ years of age and leaves a widow in bereavement．
A quarter－peal was rung half－muffled to his memory by the follow－ ing：V．Brown I，W．M．Evans 2，E．T．Bailey 3，C．H．Perry（con－ ductor）4，E．M．Smith 5，A．W．Wright 6，D．R．James 7，H．Pitman 8．First quarter－peal for treble and tenor ringers，

OXFORD BOB MINOR．
Emphasis was given in the editovial articie in the last issue of＇The Ringing Word ，to the fact that the peals analysis revealed that last year peals of Minor ring in one method only had jucrensed by 25 although the total number of peals of Minor increased by only 31 Wo need not here go nuto the argnments wheh have often been put forward showing the advantages of practising a variety of methods， particularly on the lower numbers of bells，but we would like to point out to those who at present ring only Bob Minor that it is not alb all diffeult to gret on to new methods，and that it makes riaging vastly more interesting．
For instance，there is the method Oxford Bob．Put simply，it is Bob Siugles（the Plain Bob wethod on four bells），with the other Ewo bells continuovely dodging behind from the time the treble leaves the back，until it gets up there again，when the bells behind hunt straight down to lead aud two others（who led in turn after the treble）huat straight up and take their places．
Many ringers will probably be able to step straight into the belfry and riag the melhod with that explanation，but for the salse of others，let us go into it a little more in detail．
This is a table of rules by which you learn Bob Singles：－
Pass treble in $3-4$ ，lie a whole pull in 4 th＇s，dodge $4-3$ ，and luat dowt to lead．
Pass treble in 2－3，dodge $3-4 \mathrm{up}$ ，lie a whole pull in 4 th＇s，and Thut down
Pass treble in 1－2，make Zud＇s and lead again．
In Oxford Bob you do exactly the same thing，except that there is sandwiched on eact side of the end＇s place the dodging in $5-6$ referred to．This dodging is actually a three－pull dodige．That is to sny，in whichever direction you are going，you have to stap back three times You camnot very woll makr a mistake in it，however，for the two bells doage until the treble separates them．
Now let us amplify our Bob Singles＇table and make it fit our Oxford Bol Minor．
Pass treble in 34，Life a whole pull in 4th＇s，dadge $4-3$ ，and hunt down to lead．
Pass treble in $4-5$ ，a three pull dodge in $5-6 \mathrm{up}$ ，lie a whole pul behind，aud hunt down to lead．
Pass treble in 1－2，make 2nd＇s and lead again．
Pass treble in 5－6，lie whole pull behind，a three－pull dodge in 6 dowa，and hint down ta lead．
Pass treble in 2－3，dodge 34 up，lie a whole pull in 4th＇s，and hunt down．
Here are the figures of the first part of the course，showing the fufl dodging behind．Write out a complete course，draw a continuous line over one of the working bells and yon lave a diagran of the method．From it you can visislise the whole of the work

The bobs are made exactly as in Plain Bob，but，just a word of warming，a bob＂Wrong＂in Oxford comes at the third lead aud not at the first lead as it docs in Plain Bob．For a 720 you can caft the Sth，Wrong，Right，Frong，or the Sth，Richt，Wrong，Right．

ANOTHER MONMOUTHSHIRE OCTAVE．

NEW TREBLES AT LLANFRECHFA．

The dedication of the two new bells at Llmofrechfa，neat Caerleos Monmouthahire，toale place during morning service on a recent Snlidry．
The ceremony wan performed by tho Bishop of Monmouth，who recaived the ropes from the donor and the churchwardens．
The new troble has been presented by Mr．C．Addans Williams and Mrs．Williams to commemarate the coming of \＆⿱口⿰口口⿺辶 of of their son， Hopton，and the new second bell by the churchpeople to commemorate the Goronation of H．M．Kivg George TI．
Immediately following the dedication the bells were rung in rounds by six of the lweal ringers，with the assistance of Mr．Pratt，of New－ port，and the Diocesan Asociation hon．secretary，Ma．I．W．Joneg， and again at the conclusion of the service a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung．

The work has been carried out by Mestrz．John Taylor and Co． Lollehborough．

GREAT WALTHAM'S CREAT EFFORT.

BLLL RESIORATION SGHEME PAID FOR.
The bells of SS. Mary and Lawrence, Great Waltham, near Chelmsford, after being overbauled and rohung in ball beariags in a steel frame by Messrs, John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, were rededicated on T'uesday, April 20th, by the Bishop of Barking.
The bells are now hung at a lower level in the tower, thus making them quieter in the vichity of the church, and are rung from the floor of the tower instead of the former ringing chamber.

About 30 ringers, including the members of the local band, were present from various towers, including Grent Baddow, Broomfield, Boreham, Chelmsford, Harlow Common, Springlied and Little Waltham. Armong them were tho Master of the Essex Association (Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips), the hon. gen. secretary of the association (Mr. L. M. Clark) and the hon. secretary of the South-Easterm Division,
During the singing of the hymn, "Hark the bells with joyous sound, the Bishop, preceded by the choir, churelwardens aud Vienr (the Rev. R. F. Buraet't) proceeded to the tower, where Mr. W. E. Davis, the captain of the local ringers, handed the ropes to the churcluwardens, who handed them on to the Bishop, requestiog him to rededicate the bells.
After the rededication prayers the Bishop handed the ropes to the Ficar with the usual exhortation. The local captain received the ropes from the Vicar and the bells were rung in roulds by W. E. Davis (Great Waltham) 1, G. Green (Great Baddow) 2, L. Day (Great Waltham) 3, H. Edwards (Boreham) 4, H. Bradley (Broomfrelds) 5, J. Wood (Chemsford) 6, B. Kemp (Sprimgfield) 7, L. J. Attention fis directed to tho preliminary notice of the Tercentenary Dinmer of the Ancient Society of College Fantlus. The number of tickets is strictiy limited and early application should be mede.
The venue of the Middlesex Association (South and West District) meeting on May 8th has been changed. It was to have been held at Feltham, but it has been transferred to Stanwell, with Bedfont and Farmondsworth towers for afternoor and eveniug respectively. A special invitation is extended to hikars, oyclists and motorists.
Mr. Rupert Richardson wishes to thauk the mauy friends who have sent letters of sympathy since lis recent accident. He assures them lie is improving rapidly and hopes to be at the end of a bell-rope again before many weeks are over. Owing to the injury being to his right, hand he is uabble to answer them individually, and his 'secretary" is working at full pressure to keep the business and household duties going. He also notes the remarks of a sympathiser with yegard to "the scarcity of water,' and will certainly follow the axdice.
Tho bus strike in Kent intorfered with peal arrangements at Tunstall on Saturday. A band met two short for a peal of Stedman Triples and bad to be content with ringing a penl of Minor.

In the usual monthly service broadeast from Croydon Parish Church on Sunday moming ad 9.25 on the National Iong-wave length, it is hoped to ring the twelve bells. This will be the first tinte the new twelve have been on the air.'
Lust Saturday at Chester father and son rang a peal of Stedmun Triples together: It was Mr. Thomas Butier's 50th peal and his son, Mr. T. R. Butler's, 100th peal. Al interesting coincidence. Has it lappened bofore?
The name of the ringer of the 5th in the peal at Campsall on Apsi 13 th was Harry C. Walters and not Walker as printed.

We regret tiat maly reports are umvoidably held over

WESTMINSTER ABBEY BELLS.

NEW VOLUME ON THEIR FISTORY.

Fery appropriately, on the eve of the Coropation, there has been publisked a wolume on the urgans and bells of Westminster Abbey. The anthor is Canou Jocelyn Perkins, M.A., D.C.L., F.S.A., Sanist of the Abbey, than whom, of course, there can be no greater authority on that venerable pile which ensimines so much of England's history. This book follows others deaking with the Abbcy by the same author, 'Westminster Abbey, the Empire's Crown,' 'The Chapel of Henry, VII. and its High Altar,' The Ornaments of Westmiaster Abbey, etc., and is, naturally, of special interest to ringers.

Mosb ringers, we imagine, have hazily associated bells with Westminster Abbey down the ages, but few realiso that for hundreds of yearestach bells as there were were housed in a detached campanile which stood, until less than two hundred years ago, on the site on the north side of the Abbey now occupied ly the Middesex County Hall.

This camparile, erected simultaneously with the thirteenth century choir, was of ususual proportions. It is said to have been no less than 75 ft . square, but only to have reached a height of eoft. The massive structure was crowned, according to the historian Stow, with a tall spirg covered with lead.
It was not until the early forties of the eighteenth century that the presenc twis western towers of the Abbey were completed. In those days, of course, the Abhey had ouly six bells, but their history is extremely interesting to bell lovers, who will now be able, in Dr. Perkins' book, to read all their known story from the days in 1855 , when, according to the patent roll, a grant was made by the King of one luudred shillings per amuum to be paid every half-year to the Brethren of the Guild of Westminster "who are appointed to ring the great bells,' and it was laid dowh that the Brethren were 'to eajoy all privileges and free customs they have enjoyed from the time ogjoy all privisges and ciee customs they have enjoyed from whe the of Cand
Canon Perkins points ont the high significance of these words. Canon Perkins points ont the high significance of these words. They indicate, lie says, that the ringers of Westminster Abbey occuall intents aud purposes a Royal Fonndation.

The author traces the jistory of the bells through the centuries, gives a short chapter on ancient end modern ringing custome at the Abbey and another with the details of the reconsturtion and enlargement of the peal to eftht in 1919 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbanle, whose foundry ancestor, Robert Mott, put a bell into the old campranile as fav back as Queen Elizabeth's rejga.
The whole story of the bells will prove a fascinating one for ringers. Equally interesting is the section relabing to the organs of the Abbey. Dr. Perkins has traced their listory bach to 1304, and with a masterly hand presents the story of their vicissitudes from that distant date down to the coming of the new and magnificent instriment that is to be used for the approaching Coronation, He deals, too, with the many celebrated organists of the Abbey, among the great naumes being Orlando Gibbons and Henry Purceli.

The volume is splendidly illustrated and will appeal to all music lovers as well as ringers: It is published by Messrs. Novello and Co., Ltd., 160 , Wardour Street, Landon, W.I.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DIVISION VISIT TO FEERTNG.

Dospite unfavourable weather, 15 towers were represented by 38 ringers at a meebing of the Northern Division of the Essex Association it Feering on Saturday, April 17th. Ringers were present from Witham. Halstead, Larls Cohic, Great Bardfield, Kelvedon, Springfield, Sihlo Hedingham, Greanstend Green, Teering, Bocking, Durnmow, Coggeshall, Borelam, Sudburg and Turvey (Beds), Service at the Parish Church was condueted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. B. Howard Knight), and Mr. Fairbrass, of Kelvedon, was at the organ. The Vicar extended a hearty welcome to the ningers.
An exoellent ter was partaken of at the Bell Imm, the Vicar pregiding. At the business meeting which fallowed both Witham and Great Bardfield were proposed as the next place of meeting, and on a votis being taken the majoriby favoured Great Bardfield, and a meeting is being arranged for Jume 12th.
The Disfrict Master Mr. A. Saunders) proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and his inspiring address, to the organist for his services, and to tine visitors.
In reply, the Vicar said he was sure that the meeting was a joy to the local ringers at Feering. He hoped that the wsit would do some good and that the young men would take up the art of ringing which was so peculiar to England and helped to keep them fit. The Yicnu also thanked the organist and said lie was sorry that their old friend, Mr. W. Keeble, was absent througlt iliness, but he would convey to him the best wishes of that meeting.

Regret was also expressed at the absence of Mr. Willian Elliot, of Kelvedon, who had been indisposed for somo time, and the secretary (Mr. F. Ridswell) was asked to send to him the best wishes of the members.
It was pleasing to soe one or two youngsters amongst tle company and they appeared to emjoy a few rounds.
Others took part in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kont and Oxford Treble Bob. Double Norwich Court, Superlative and Cambriăge Surprise.

FALSE PEALS.

To the Editor.

Sir,-One noticed with much interest the fact mentioned in the report of the Peals Anaysis Committee that no less than 27 peals had been withdrawn dhring the year.
The question has often been asked by ringers-How many false compositions are runc? At present, I believe, there is nothing which requires the publication of the fighres of any composition, and if the conductor and the peal secretary of the association elaiming the peal are satisfied, the peal is acecpted and published as true-and yet the tigures of tlo peal may uot have beer proved except in the most cursory manner. Quite recentily a peal was withdrawn, nud the conductor hovestly admitted in your paper that he had only givan the mafter the most super licial scan over. Yt would appear that, provided familiar part ends oceur at the correct intervals, in many cases falscness elsewhere is not looked for.

A good extmple of accepted composition without even the mosh simple cxamination was furaished in your issue of March 19th, where the first quarter-peal, given in the beginuers' camer, produces 246375 as the firgt part end, and the next lead is plain! The writer, who, of coursa, must be an expert or he wond never have been asked to write these articles, evidently accepted the figures on the composer's reputation, and the part ends. Fad be even thought for a moment he must have realised that rounds were not far awny. I wouder how of ten the second quarter-peal has beon rulg as a truo touch?

How often are peals aceepled on reputation and not thoroughly proved?
It had been hoped to bring forwarl a resolution at this yenr's Contral Council meeting to make it compulsory on all associations to problish their figures in their ammal report, and to eirculate fhat report, but, unfortunately, the conditions of Rule 10 were overlooked and Lhis was not possible.
If, However, it is in order and any support is forthoming, this may be moved when the report of the Peals Committee is being considered. Anather matter whel might well be considered by the Council is the pulalication of a booktet on the proof of compositions

Chelteuham.

SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION

GREATLY TMFROVED RINGING REPORTED.
The ammal general meeting of tho Scottish Association was held at St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, on Saburday, Apwil 24th, about 40 members being present. Ranging commenced at $2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and the bells were kept going until 4 o'clock, Grandsire and Stedman Gaters being rung.
The service was conducted by the Very Rev. K. C. ET. Warner, D.S.O., Provost of the Cothedral.

The business meeting followed tea. Mr. Pickett, the Master, in his repori, said that tho skandard of ringing had greatly inproved.
The secretary having tendered his resignation owing to pressure of business, Mr. Charles R. Raine, of St. Mary's Cakhedral, Fdinburgh, was minnimously elected to act as secretary and treasurer.
The Provost, who was in tho chair, reforred to the loss that the association lad sustained through the recent death of Mr. A. E. Wreaks, of Paisley, and the death of Mr. Mann, of St. Cuthberb's, Edinburgh
After the meeting the bells were leend going till 7.30 p.sin, when those who remained finished up with some lualloell ringing.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN GOODMAN, SEN

FATHER' OF THE DUDTEY PARTSH CHURCH BAND.
We regret to armounce the death of Mr. John Goodman, sen., of Dudley, Worcestershire, which took place at his residence on April 15th at the ripe age of 83 years. Ho leaves in bercavement a widow, three sons and four daughters, with whom the greatest syopathy is felt.
Mr. Goodman commenced his minging career ahout the year 1871 at Selgley, Stafis, 昭d after a fow years he identified himself with St. Thomas' Church, Dudley, where for upwards of 50 years he had been a regular Sunday service ringer, and the band recognised him as the father' of the company because of his interest in berinners.
He rany his first peal in 1872 and had rung allogether 130 peals. He was one of the ploneers in the formation of the Dudley and District Guild in 1899, and remained a member until his deafl.
The funeral took place on Wednesday, April 2lst, the first part of the service being held in Dudley Parish Church, conducted by the Ven. Dr. A. P. Shepherd, Archdeacon and Vicar of Dudley, who is president of tike Guild. The interment took place at Sit. John's Churchyard, Kateg Hill, Dudley, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. B. H. Green, Vicar of St. Johr's and Rural Dean of Dudiley.
The Dudley band and Dudley Guild weve represented by their secretary, Mr. Herbert Sheppard, aud Mr. S. J. Hughes. In the eveniag n quarter-peal of Grandsirc Gaters ( 1,277 changes) was rung at the Parish Chuwch with the bells half-muffled as a last tribute of respect: T. Whortan I, J. ## MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION TO REVISE RULES.

NNUAL MEHIING AT CRIPPLEGATE

Loyal Message to the King and Queen.

The prospect of a certain amount of veorganisation in the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, whose affairs are now conducted by the district secretaries acting as joint secrotaries, foreshadowed at the anmual mecting at Cripplegate, London, on Saturday week. The mules mee to be revised, and it wos iudicated, in at speech by Mr: C. T. Coles, who was the recipient of a token of the members appreciation of his long services, that this may be one of the points to be specially considerefl.
There was a lauge congreation in St. Qiles' Church for the service, conductent by the Vicar the Rev. E. G. Turnery. The lesson was read by Mr. J. A. Trellope (vice-president of tha association), and the Vicar in his address said it was most appropriate, at that time, to take his text from I. St. Peter, chap. 2-17: 'Honour all men; love the brotherhood; [car God; honons the King. ${ }^{4}$ He was, he said, pleased to welcome the association that afternoon. The connection between the assoriation and St. Gilos' had beome much closer during the last few years. There had been two peals rutg by their member of which the churel was very proud, the first, on Monday, May 6 Eh 1935, in honour of the Rayal Jubilee, 5,025 Stedman Cinques, and the second, on June 1st last year, a peal of 5,005 Stedman Cinques appropriately rung on a great day in English history, the anniver'sary of Lord Howe's great victory in 1794

There was one matter', said the Ficar, that he regrelted, that the tower was not mentionce in the interesting Jist of towers in the association's reportt

The Vicar wenl. on to give some interesting listorical details of the famons peal at Cripplegate, and of the occasions on which they were rung. He also quoted the iuscriptions on some of the bells. One of these, closely conaected with his text, len lim to emplasise the connection between bells and our public and private life. Fonour all men, love your awn brotherhood, live in peace and good meighbourhood with all men. And again, fear God; bo filled with the spirit of God's holy fear. This did not mean that they should bo afraid of a just God, hut that they slould have a reverence for Him. And to honour the King was a most appropriate thing to do in this Coronation year

Members attended from all parts of the county and from adjacent counties to the number altogether of well over a hundreal-one of the taryest matherings in the history of tite association. Ringing commenced quite early at St. James, Clerkenwell, where the Master, Mr A. W. Coles, was iu charge. Several methods, theluding Surprise were rung. At St. Giles, Cripplegate, Mr. I. J. Lock, District Master, was in charge of the proceedings. Here Grandsire Ciuques Stedman Cinques, Kent Maximus, with sumdry ' touches of rounds, were the order.

The business meeting followed tea af the Zita Cafe, nud was presided over by the Rev. W. ${ }^{3}$. ColeSheane (president), supported by the vice-presidents (Messrs. J. A. Trollope aud G. W. Fletcher), the oint hon. secretaries (Messrs. C. T. Goles and $F$. W. Goodfellow), the hon. treasırer (Mr. W. H. Hollier), the Mester (Mr. A. W. Coles) and the district officers.

Before the business commenced the following loyal message of congratulation to their Majesties was passed by the members standing The Middlesex County Association and London Diacesan Guild o Change Ringers uffer their sincere congratulations to His Majesty King George the Sixth and to Fer Majesty Queen Elizabeth upon His Majesty's accessiou to the rhrone, and tender a dutiful expression of their loyalty to your Majesties, and they pray that your reign may be blessed hy peace for your people and by happiness for your Majesties' own selves. rising out of the minntes, Mr. Coles said a letter had been sent o the Bishap of London with regard to keeping intact the peal of bells at All Fallows'. Lombard Street, when the chureh was de molished, and a reply had been received from the Eeclesiastical Commissioners stating that the matter would receive attention in due course.

MEMEERSHTP LAPSES

The annual report recalled the part which had been played by belfs during last year on national ocasions, and to the completion of the memorial to the late Mr. William Pye by the provision of two bells at St. John's Church, Leytonstone

Denling with the membership of the associalion, the report stated that althongly three honoray and 90 ringing members were elected, the total at the end of the year chowed only a slight imerease, it, now being 888. Eight mombers were lost by death and a vety large number lapsed through removals, noth-payment of subscriptions, etc

The lapses through avoinahle causes,' said the report, 'is a matter for serions concorn, and we do urتe local secretaries, not only to see that subscriptions axe pramptly paid, but to keep the strength of their bands up to a number sufficient to man the bells regularly Fach band, besides being af full strength, shonld endeavour to teach at least one new ringer every vear; and not wat for the time when recruits are so urgently needed that the bells cease, or almost cease, to be rung at all. The future of ringing generally, atud of the association in particular, depends upon the efforts of local leaders. See to Whilst was satisfactory to nute that a new band had been formed at sit

Matthew's, Belhual Green, and was making good protress muder the tuition of tho Ringing Mastor, At St. Am's, Stamford Hill, a fresh start had been made, and ringing was in progress, and some recruits who had been given elementary instruction were looking fonward soon to start Iearning clange ringing. Relp would be appreciated at both these tawers. It was hoped next yenr to record that the towers which had ceased to show any membership at all would once agriu have come into the fold.

The peal list showed an increase on jast year, 55 having been rung. The increase, however, was almost entirely in handbell peals, and it was hoped that in this, the Coronation year, there wonld be a real revival in peal ringing. Of the 55 peals rung, 10 were on handbells, and tho tower-bell peals waro rung at 26 churches. Tho members taking part in the peals numbered 159, a few in excess of last yenr, and four members rang their first penls. There were 23 condnewers, an increase of four. Some 85 members rang their first peals in something new, inchoding several 'firsts' on lantbetls, five of Spliced Surprise Major in seven methods, two of Gambridge Royal, 21 of various Surprise Major methods, and seven of Stedman Caters.

The report was adopted, as was also the balance sheet, which showed receipts from members in the form of so per cent, of contributions from the districts of $£ 2217 \mathrm{~s}$. 6d., and excess of receipts over payments of $£ 1$ 6s. 2d. The cash in liands of the treasurer is $£ 24$ 18s. 9d.
Messrs. F. Conley (Chiswick) and W. $\mathcal{G}$. Turmer (Willesden) were elected members of the association.
The officers were re-elected as follows: Prosident; the Rev. W. P. Colo Sheane, who remominated his vice-presidents, Messrs. G. W. Fletcher (North and East District) and J. A. Trollope (Sontl ank West District) ; Master, Mr. A. W. Coles; hon. treasurer, Mr, W. IH Hollier ; joint hon. secretaries, Messrs. C. T. Coles aud F. W, Goodfellow ; auditor, Mr. E. C. S. Turner, A.S.A.A.
It was resolved that the peal hooks and rolumes of 'Bell News belonging to the association should remain at the Ghurch of St. Gilca in-the-Fields.

Mr. Fletcher sfated that a sub-committee had been formed to consider the revision of the association's rules, and loped at the next anumal meeting to be in a position to present a report on the fules The sub-cemmittoe would like to have the opportunity of presentiag the drafts to the annual district meetings in the first place, in ordet to save time at the annual general meeting, and they would also be glad if any members who had suggestions to make or criticisms to offer would send them to the sub-commiltee for early consideration

OONGRATLEATIONS TO COLLEGE YOUTHS

Mr. C. T. Coles reminted the members that this year the Ancient Sociaty of College Youths would celebrate their tercentenary. The society was foulded 300 years ago and had been in the forefrond ringing nearly all that time. Theiv records were of the lighest class. and no member of the Ancient Society who lad taken part fu any of their performances had any reason to be ashamed of their achieve ments. The Collere Youths had always shown the way in which bells should br rung. He moved that the following resolution should be sent to the seriety: 'The members of the Middlesex County. Association and Loudon Diocesau Guluild, assembled in annnal meeting, send to the members of the Ancient Society of College Youtla sincere congrabulations in this, the terceabenary year of that society. Further they cordially wish success to the members of that society, end a con they cordially wish success of the high etandard of ringing for which they have, for so many years, been famous.
Mr. Trollope, who seconced, pointed out that the College Youths stood for something more than merely a society. They, in theis history, were an epitome of the whole history of the ringing Jxercisn Not only the present members, but all ringers were more or less the heirs of that society, and they did well to recognise the great serpices that the society in the past had rendered to the continuity of the art and science of change riuging.

The motion was unanimously carried.
On the motion of Mr. Coles, seconded by Mr. Goodiellow, a resolution of condolence with the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths on the deats of their lon. secretary, Mr. G. A. Card, was passed. Mir Coles said that Mr. Card, who was 63 years of age, died on April 5th. He was at ane time a member of the Edmontan band and of that association. Latterly he did a great worle for the Gimberland Youths and was one of those foremost in the recent advance of the society in London ringill ts was resolved to hold the next annual meeting at Hillingdon,
Mr. Cales urged the members to see that the beils in their own and neighbouring churches were rung for thie Coronetion. It might be difficult in Loudou to ring all the bells, but those who were responsibie For ringlig would, he hoped, do their utmost to get the bells pung on that day Fe directed attention to the point mate in "The Ringing Wortd that in places where bells are near hauses they shoald avoic ringing diring the time the Coronation service was being broadeast from the Abhey-especially in places where people were apt quickly to get exasperated by the ringing of bells.
Fotes of thanks were passed to the Rector of Cripplegate aud his assistant priest, to the curate in clintge of St. Janes', Camberwell, and the Rev. A. Lombardini, Sl. Lawrence Jewry, to Mr. King, the verger, and to the organist of St. Giles ${ }^{2}$, end to the various towerkeepers and others.

RFSTORED PEAL AT WALGRAVE, NORTHANTS BELLS RUNG FOR FIRSI TIME SINCE 1900.

For the first time since they were inang to announce the relief of Mafekiug in May, 1900, the bells of Walgraye Papish Church were heard on April 11th on the occasion of the dedication by the Bishop? of Peterborongh of the restured peal. Fcr nearly 40 years tho bells, which were badly out of tune, have beent 'tapperl' only, as ringing was impossible owing to the unsafe condition of the carrying beams. The bells, a ring of five, with tenor of $13 \frac{3}{2}$ cwt., have been tuned and cleaned and now lang in a new motal frame, complete with modern fittings, tho work haviag been caried out admirably by Messrs, Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon.
The Rector (the Rev, A. S. Segger') conducted the dedication service, which was of a bright and simple character, and in the course of it a procession, formed at the altar and consisting of tye churchwardens (Messrs. A. Yorke and W. A. Kuight), the Rector, the Lord Bishop of Peterborough and the Rector of Isham (the Rev. E. J. Atkins, R.D.), proceeded to the bell chamber, where the ringers were waiting. After the declicatory prayers five rimgers, Messrs. 7' Tehbutt, R. Jones, T. Law, G. Valentine and J. C. Deane, members of the Northanpton branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, rang a touch of Grandsire Doubles, announcing to the neighbourhood that the bells were again n use.
The Bishop, iu the course of his addyess, said that they were all rejoicing that the bells were no longer dumb, and that the restored peal was now able to fulfil its accustomed task. He had no doubt that atll the people in Walgrave had taken a personal concern in the act of restoration, which was first promoted by the Rector abont six years ago. They could always appeal for the tower or bells with certainty an any parish, because they were something in which everyone could take a pride. A chureh buitding made a special appeal to people, because it was associated with their home. If the church were pulted down and the bells were silent they wonld feel that something precious had lieen taken out of their lives.
The Bishop went on to refer to the art of change ringing as wery beautiful, and said that its artistic value could not be denied. But the ringing of bells was first and foremost an act of worslip, and so t should be regarded. Bellringers were churchworkers in the highest degree, and ho wanted them to be recognised as on a level with all other elfurchworkers.
Other elergy present were the Rew. J. Hotine (Holcol), the Rev. J. M. Turner (Moulton) and the Rev. F. B. Clarke (Loddingten). At the close of the service many members of the Diocesan Guild rang on the bells.
Following the service a tea for the ringers was held in the Church Schoul, and the Bishop, the Rector and Mr. Gyrid Johoston, of Messrs. Gillett aud Johnston, were present.
Recertly the Walgrave 'Pavish Magazine' found its way to Soutl Africa, and came into the hands of Mr. Nathan Kimbell, who left Walgrave for that country 5 ? years ago. He at once sent a substantial donation to the Rector and decided to retmon to his native village for the dedication service. A leaffel with 25 verses of poetry paying twibute to Walgrave bells was hauded to each member of the congregation at the service, the poem being entitled 'Walgrave Bellscerses written in 1912 by N.P.K." "N.P.K.' proved to be Mr. Natlan Kimbell, who had the satisfaction of assiating in the day's rejoicings this ok "home town' after' an absence of over half a century.
As the bells have been only 'tapped' since 1900 to announce the services, none of the Walgrave ringers has ever pulled a rope. This means that a nhew hand will have to be trained. A start will be made with 13 men, and if possible 15 , so that there will be three teamsthe nain team, a relief and a young one each team having five members. Change ringing will be out of the question for some time, but the Rector hopes that the ringers will make good progress and introduce this as soon as possible.

On evory liand gratification was expressed at the great inptowement effected by the tuning of the bells, and the visitiug ringers voiced their complete sabisfaction with the ' go' of the peal, both of which facts reflect credit on the bellfounders, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The President also thanked the officers, who, ho said, had the complete confidence of the members to conduct the aftairs of the association. They shonld, be said, feel very proud, as a body of ringers, of the most honourable and important place which the bells mothd have on the occasion of the Coronntion. rehere was nothing more peculinily national than the winging of the hells, and many of them woukd recall the great occasions on which bells had rung out for national events in the past. No other country in the worfd lad such a wealtl? of bells or such opportmity of celebratiug in the most dignified and beautiful way, and one established by such age-long tradition, great netional occasions, and ringers felt fine reflected honour at the part which fell to them in connection with the Coronation.
The meeting concluded wit $]_{1}$ a vote of thanks to the president.
After tha mieeting the bells at St. Lawrence Jowit, with the Master in charge, were available, and a large mumber of ringers took arlvantage of the opportunity of ringing on this fine peal, in most methods np to London Surprise. At Cripplegate Mr. E. O. S. Tumer looked after the vinging. and more Cinques and Maximus, as well as rounds, were rung until 9 o'clock, when ended one of the most memorable meetings in the amals of the association.

WAR WICKSHIRE GUILD.

SUGGLSTED BELL RESTORATION FUND.
Members of the Warwickshire Guild visited Rugby for the manaal meeting on Saturday, April 17th, and one of the most important and interesting maiters touched upon at the business meeting in tise evening was tho formation of a bell restoration fund. Mr. Emest Stone, of Nuaeaton, suggested thaf either u certinin percentege of tho Guild's income should be set aside anmally for building up a bell restombion fund, or that a collection should be taken at eaci of thein qualterly services for the purpose. In view of the levge number of restorations Which were now going on or baing contemplated in whrwickaline, there was a real need for such a fund, and he moved bhat the gacstion e considered by the committee at their mext quarterly meelfng.
Other members iudicated their support, and Mw. Stone's suggestion was defermed for discussion ut a futhre date.
Ringing during the afternoon tonk place on the two rings of bells at St. Andrew's Church. As a matter of interest attention was lirst: giveu to the old ring of five early in the afternoons. The reason for this first clroiee by the dozen or so ringers who were tlaen presont was soon appareut when it was discevereri that Mr. J. H. Shoplrerd was among the early birds and that it was a freeb tower for hinn. Was among the early birds and that it was a freeh tower for hims. Sharbened evensont was held in the charch at $4.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and was conducted by the Rer. R. S. Wingfield Dirby, who aliso gruve the address.
Afticr tea, the busiuess meeting was held in the Churh Fouse, and was presided over by the Rev. Whagfield Digby. He was supported by Mr. Joseph F. W. White, Ringing Master, and Mr. Malcolm C. C. Melville, general secretary. Among bhose present were Messis. T. W. Chapman and James George (past Ringing Masters), F. W. IPerens, Mis. Argyle, the Rev. J. E. Wigram and ningers from the following towers: Allesley, Nuneaton, Chilvers Caton, Bulkington, Fidinglan, Lillington, Arley, Monk's Kirby, Stoke, Bedworth, Leamington, Hastings and members of the local band. Weleome wisitors inchaded Messrs. E. Pearson, H. F. Alexander and W. Watson, of Banbury, and F. H. Dexter aud R. F. Roe, of Leicester.
Apologies were received from the Archdeacon of Coventiry, the president of the Guild, and also from the Rev. and Mrs. Moyle, of Chilvers Coton, and Mossis. J. H. Beale, E. Adams and T. Mahe.
The aninual report stated that the total resident memberslip slood at 137 , an increase of seven cver the previons year. Twenty-five bew members had joined during the year. The peals slowed an increaso over last year, 16 peals haviny been rung, making the largest number since 1928. A balance in hand of 22555.6 d . was yedorded in the fitmincial statement.-Both reports were adopted.

The officers wore all re-elected, with the addition of Mr. 5. 1. S. Moreton as assistant hon. sectelary. Mrs. A. Beamish, Mrs. L. J. Hinde and Mr. T. W. Chapman were also elected honorary menaers of the collmittee.
Amolug the 17 new riaging members to be elected were two only 1I years of age, namely, Frank Moreton and Frederick Stone, both of Ghivers Coton. The Rev. J. I. Wigram, the Rev. R. S. Wiugfield Digby and Mrs. D. H. Avgyte were elected honorary menhers.
Thanks were expressed on behalf of the Guild by Mr. C. H. Webly to the Archdeacon for the use of the bells and tho Church Hause; to the Rev. Wiugfeld Digby for presidiug at the meeting and taking the service; and also to Mr. E. W. Groocock for presiding at the organ.
Everyone was plensed to see Mr. Janses George present, ind evinlence of his recovery from his fllaess was apparent when lie took part in several of the touches. Expressions of appreciation of the worle Mr. George had done for ringers at Rugby were given Ty Mr. J. B. Thenton.

Further ringing took place on the two peals of bells after the metring until a late hour. Allogether about 50 members aud friends were present.

DEATH OF MR. JOSEPH DAVIES.

FORNER RINGER AT DERBY, LOUGHBOROUGF AND KIDDERMTNSTER.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Joseph Davies, of 13 , Stonirport Road, Kidderminster, who passed awry at his home on hpril Bili last at the age of 64 years.
Mr. Davies, whose peals totalled 49 (fons of which lyo had couducted), started his ringing carcer at Crewe and rang his first peal (Grandsire Triples, on the tenor) on July 31st, 1894.
He had wesided at Derby and Loughborongh, and many of his peals, mostly Grandsire and Stedman Triples, were rung in these districts.

He went to reside at Kidferminster and joized the St. Mary's Church band in 1919. A safe riviser of slamdand methods, his enthusiasm ensbled him to become quite proficiont in Surprise methods and later he scored three peals of Gambridge and threa of Landon Surprise Major.

Until two years ago, when he became no longer able to climb the steps, Mr. Davies was a regular Snmday service ringer

The interment took place on April 12th at Coppenhall, near Crewe, where in his youth he was a chorister for many qears. The bells of St. Mary's Chureh, Kidderminater, were Mung half-muffled in the ovening.
The sympathy of all who knew him will go out to his widow in ber bereavement.

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magicaily-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

and unless the considered advice of the architect is to be ignored, Oakham's bells will not share in the Coronation rejoicing.

By happy contrast many places throughout the country have for long past been "putting their house in order,' in anticipation of the auspicious occasion, among them such important centres as Winchester, Leicester and Birmingham, where the Cathedral bells have in each case been recast. Humbler towns and villages have also done their part in getting their bells ready to acclaim our new King and Queen and to join in the nation's heartfelt expression of love, loyalty and goodwill. Next Wednesday will be one of the greatest days in ringing history. Ringers, however humble, will be proud to take their part, to put their best into the task which lies before them, and to join in the prayer,

GOD SAVE THE KING.

FOR BEGINNERS.  METHOD GROUPS.

There are many methods which run in groups. They are internally of eiraiar construction, but the yarious portions are linked together in difterent ways, it may be by 2nd's or 6th's place when the treble leads, or (in Minar) 5th's place when lie treble lies its whole pull belinind (7th's in Major when the treble is belsind), or it may bo by both 5th's and 2nd's or 6th's. In such groups the changes in a conres art the same, but the blocks into which they are formed come in a different order, so that in actual ringing the various pieces of work are in a different sequence snd a different 'method' is the resilt. But a knowledge of one method is often a great help in ringigg another.
The insertion of a place in the type of methods we are now dealing with causes other bells to dudge; for the same reason the omission of a place eliminates a dodge and the bells, instead, hunt straight off to another position.

In Oxiond Bob, which was the subject of an article last week, 4th's pluce is made twice in encir load and each place compels the bells whind to make a dodge. Botwenn the 4 thl's places, while the treble leads, zad's place is made, whicin imposes a dodge in 3.4 and $5-6$ as well. It is becanse of these three successive 'places,' 4 thr's, 2 and's and 4ilits, that the bwo bells belind have at three-pull dodge.
The 4 th's places are part of the integral construction of the method, but the 2nd's place is only a link between the leads. In combination with the 4th's places it makes 'Oxford Bob,' but this 2nd's place is not necessary to the construction of a symmetrical method, and when it is omitter it is given the meme of Court Bob. But, as was pointed out above, the elimination of a place cuts out a dodge (in this case bothe in 3-4 aud 5-6), and consecpenlly the work occurs in a different ordor and is linked together in leads, not by a place (2nd's) and two dodges ( 34 and 56 ), but by plain hunting.
Here is a tiable by which you can ring Court Bob, if you prefer too ring it by that means:-
Pass the treble in $5-6$, dodge- 65 down
Pass thre treble in 4-5, dodge 5-6 up, lie a whole pull belind and dodge 6 -5 down (this is sometimes catled dodging each way beluad).
Pass the treble in $2-3$, dodge in 5.6 up .
Atter the dodging, lund straight down to lead cach time, then:Pass the treble in 1-2, make 4th's and lead Pass the treble in $3-4$, malce 4 th's and lead.
Ohservo there is ua dodging anywhere but in 5-6.
The antural result of omitting the 2ad's place when the treble leads is to make a 6th's phace essential, and in itinor methods, which have Gth's place nt the lead end, the bols is made by the bells behind. Whether you have a method with 2nd's place at the lend end or 6th's place, the bob must be made by a bell 'lying still,' that is, making a place, in 4th's. Here are the two forms of bob:-

2nd's Place at Plains lead
Bob
516342
153624
135642
316524
6th's Place at Plain Head
516342
153624
135264
312546
Bob
516342
If you want to ring a 720 of Court Bob your observation bell is callet Iu, Out and In, instend of, as in Oxford Bob, Wrong, Right and Wrong; 'In' being, of conrse, when it runs in to take the treble of the lead, and the 'Out' when the treble takes the observation bell from lead.
Now if you wrote out the full course of Oxford Bah last week, hs we suggested, and drew it diagram over it, try au experiment. Out your strip into five pieces hotween the changes when the treble is ieading; where, in fact, the line appears in the figures above. Then see if yot can joim these pieces together as Court Bob. Or, if you haven't got your Oxford Bob diagran, write out a course of Court Bob, gut it up in the same was, and transpose the five leads into Oxford Bob. The figures of a lead of Court Bob are the same as those given ahove the line in the article on page 282 last week. To continue the course, make 6th's place instead of Rnd's in the firsi row below the line.

THE CORONATION.

PEALS AND OTHER PERFORMANCES.

Important Notice.

It is certain that a large number of peals will be rung on Wednesday and other days next week in celebration of the Coronation.

We urgently request those responsible to forward us the reports immediately after the peals have been rung, and not to wait for several days before posting the details to us.

We are making special arrangements to print as many as possible in the succeeding week's issue, but the intervention of the Whitsuntide holiday will prevent our dealing with them adequately unless those rung on Wednesday are received in this office by Friday.

We shall also do our best to publish Coronation Day touches of not less than '720's on six bells and quarter peals on the higher numbers. We shall also be glad to receive any interesting items relating to ringers or ringing on that day-but all this information must reach us promptly

Next week, owing to the Coronation, 'The Ringing World ' will go to press a day earlier than usual. All matter for insertion must reach the Editorial Ofice, Lower Pyrford Road, Woking, not later than Monday. The paper will be published on Friday.

HEAVIEST RING OF FIVE IN SOMERSET

REDEDICATION OF KINGSDON BELLS.

The heavy ring of five bells at Kingston Parislı Churclt, Somersed, has been rededicated by the Lond Bishop of Bath and Wells (tita Re Rev. St. J. B. Wynue Willson). At tlie smme time the Bishop also dodiented an oak tablet bearng the inscription: "This tablet was placed, and the electric liglat installed, in this churel in memory of Jolin Franklin Neal, died November 29th, 1919 , by his widow and children.' In addition to the Rector, the Rev. A. D. Millen, the elerg. present at the service were the IRev. C. Lange (Dehester), who acted as Bishop's chaplain, the Rural Dean, the Rev. L. J. Jackson (Vicar of Somerton), the Rev. A. H. Bell (Yeovilton) and the Rev. S. A. Bruce (Pitney), the Iesson being read by the Rural Dean.

In his address the Bishop congratulated the parish, the Rector and his helpers on the completion of a ' great tesk for a small conntry parish. The glory of Somerset is itg towers, and these towers ave built for bells. In no diocese is there such a fine collection of towers and bells as here in Somerset. I hope for all time interest will he taken in that fine old English art of bellinging, and that there will always be meil and boys coming forward to learn the skill of ringing. Among the many ringers present were Messes. Hi Pring (Kingsdon) J. Merritt (Samerton), F. G. Sparls (Cherltot Mackerei), W. A. Oshorn (Nortli Cadbury), E. T. P. Field and Miss Davis (Thornford́) and representatives from Martock, Hewish Episcopi, Yeovil, Tintinnuil and Drayton.
Touches of Bob Singles were rung before the service, and Grandsiro and Stedman Doubles, in which Mr. Cyril Jobnaton, of Messrs. Gillett and Jobsston, took part, leept the bells going to a late hour.
The bells are repited to be the heaviest peal of five in Somerset the tenor weighing 24 curt. They have been rehung in as new metai Frame, which replaces the previous 500 -year-old oals frame, which had been severely damaged by tlie death-watch beetle. No. 4 bell has been recnst and now weighs 20 cwt. 3 qr .13 lb . The other four bells have been carefully tuned and Kingsdon now has a majestic ring of five.

The 'go' and 'tone' reffect the greatest credit on the bellfonnders' art, and Messrs. Gillett and Jolunston reccived many congratuhations on the excellence of their work.

NEW HYMN FOR RINGERS

A new hrmil for use at ringers' serviges has been published. Tho words are by James Benson and the music by A. W. Owen, organist and choirmaster of St. Martin's Priory and Parish Church, Ruislip, Middesex. The four six-line slanzas ave sef to a pleasing air. Copies with musie can be obtained at. the rata of 3 s . 6d. for 50 and Es. per hundred (post free) from Mr' Owen, 17, Lime Grove, Ruiglip. The profits will go to the Tuislip Church tower restoration fund. Although the title is 'Tuislip Bells.' the words have no special teforence to this Middlesex church, and the hymn adds welcome variety to the limited number of ringers' hymns.

DEATH OF MR. HENRY STAPLETON.

WELL-KNOWN BEDFORDSHIRE RINGER.
The death of Henry Stapleton, of Turvey, Beds, took place at his home on Monday, April 26ti, He was the esteemed leader of the Patish Church ringers and was only 49 years of age. Born af Keysoe, Beds, he went to Turvey in bis early days and had been employed tor many years by the L.M.S. Railway Co.
Deceased was taken ill on Christmas Day wilh heart trouble and was confined to his bed until his death. Of a cheerful nature, he was a man whose company ons enjoyed and who could always be relied on. He had marvellous patience with begmaers, and during the whole of lis connection with the tower lue has been continually teaching recruits to mantain the hand, for generally as scon as they became a bit proficient his pupils had to leave the village in search of work.
He had kept no record of the peals he had rung, but no doubt they reached a total of one hundred or more, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Major. He was found mostly on the heavy end, as he was a fine heavy bell ringer. Fe was a member of the Bedfordshire Assoviation, the Peterborough Diocesan Guild ard the Oxford Diocesan Guild. He leaves a widow and grown-wp family to mourn their loss.
He was laid to rest in Turvey Cemetery on April $29 t h$ amid many tokens of the love and esteem he so much merited, Miss E. Steel and Mr. H. L. Harfow representing the Bedfordshire Association.
Touches of Grandsive Triples with the bells half-mutled were rung on Turvey bells during Thursday morning by his old friends and colleagnes, and on Priday evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung with the bells half-muftled at St. Mary's, Keysoe, where his last peal was ruag in August last yoar. It was the first peal on the bells. The quarter-peal was rung by S. Stapleton 1, E. Asque 2, G. Setir 3, A. Stapleton 4, D. Cockings (conduckor) 5.

EDINBURGH CATHEDRAL BAND'S SUCCESS.

The first quarter-peal rung by St. Mary's Cathedral band, Tdinburgh, without outside help since before the war was achieved on Sunday, April 18 th. The ringers are all drawn from the Cathedral congregation, and six of those who taok part lave been ringing for less than two years. The same band hope to make their first attempt for a peal of Oators on Coronation Day. The method was Grandsire G. Duncan $1_{1}^{} J$. Irwin 2, J. Middlemas 3, M. A. K. Simpson 4, Ki White 5, B. ## BELFRY GOSSIP.

Congratulations wit be extended to the Guild of Stepney Scholars, who fing the bells of St. Dunstan's Church, upon successtully eccomplishing their first peal. Last Saturday they rang Vicars' peal of Grandsire Triples, the first by all the band and at the first attempt. The Guild was only formed in 1935 and they would like to express their thanks to those ringers from outside who have giveu them so much help and encouragement.
I'he Windsor district will miss Mr. Alan Pints, who has removed to Ealing, on transfer fiom the Eton to the West Ealing branch of the Westmiustar Bank. During his stay in the Windsor area Mr. Pink put a great deal of anthusinm into ringing, and, as our readers are aware, piuneered the ringing of many new Surprise methods.
A new composition of 6,176 Bristol Surpuise Major, with the 5 th and 6th their extent in 5-6, has been mung at St. Peter's, Ashton-underLyue. It is the compositiou of that old ringer, Mr. J. S. Wikle, whe for so maly years now has been residing in Dunedin, New Zealand. It shows that his interest is still as deep as ever, and that ho has lost none of his skill as at composer.
Mr. G. R. Browing, who has just rung his first peal-a poal of Grandsire Doublos at Cockingtoy, Devon-is 75 years of age. He must be nearly if not quite the oldest "first pealer." on record.
In our report of the hallawing of the bells of Leicester Cathedral the tenol was givel as 24 cwt. 0 q. 20 ib ; it should have beell 25 cwt. 0 qr. 20 lb.
Here is another instance of enthusiasm for ringing. Some members of the Yorkshire Association have made at point for some years of travelling to Loudon by a oup final excursion and ringing somewhere outside London. This year four weat to Old Windsor for an attempt for Yorkshire Major (and got it) Previous peals have beon rung it Ashtead aud Ewell, and meetings have been attended at Pulhan, Mitcham, Leatherhead, Guiliford, Lambeth, etc. How's that?

The Exercisf will join in offerivg collgratulations to Mr, George Williams, Master of the Wimelsester atd Portsmouth Diocesan Guid, who is 80 years old to-day, end, like a celebrated advertisement. character, ' still going stroug.'

THE COLLEGF YOUTHS' TERCENTENARY FESTIVAL.  A LORD HAYOR WHO WAS MASTER OF THE SOCIETY

 To the Editor.Deat Sir,-In reference to your recent sentarks upon the above, we shall all welconse the worle of Mr. J. A. Trollope, to whose researches we are much indebted.
I do not know what his reference will be in respect to our Master for 1684, Sir Heury Talse, who served during his Lard Mayoralty, But I have discovered a few interesting fachs as to his life and death. It may suffice, however, for the present if I say that he was held in the greatest respect by bolh King and citizens, and that he was remarkable for his straight dealing and his attachment to the Church. In entarging on the latter, I would refer to the now demolished Church of St. Dionis, Backchurch.

On the desta uclion of the clurch in the Great Fire, Sir Henry was active in its rebuilcling (anong lis gifts was the font, now at St. Dionis', Parsons Green, S.M.). It was natural, therefore, that he should havo been interred in the chureh. At its demolition, some 60 years mgo, his and same other slabs were reset in the small, and still existing, churchyard. It is now indecipherable, but I find that it, read thus:-

> this Stunes Lyes Buried the Body > of Sr. Heary Tulse who Departed > this Iffe the 51 st Day of > Sugust, I669.

May I suggest that this year (say in Aug(tht) some suitable natice be taken of this neglected gravestone? I, for one, should be happy to contribute to its recuting as an honour to a fanous Master and Lord Mayor of London.

Bromley, Kent.

NO BELLS FOR CORONATION DAY.

OAKHAM TOWER UNSAFE FOR RINGING.

The Coronation Gommittee of Oakham, Rutland, woining the feeling of their townsmen, desired to have the bolls of the Parish Church rung for the Coronation festivities. But Oakham tower in 1935 was deciared to be unbafe for the ringing of the lyells. At the request of the Coronation Committee, the Vicur (the Rev. C. O. R. Wormald) recently conmunicated again with the architect, Mr. Leslie T. Moore, F.R.I.B.A., asking his adwice coveerning the ringing of the bells fur the Coronation
In his reply, Mr. Moore wroto: 'As I presume that the tower is in the same state as when I saw it in 1935, and the balance of the forces produced by bellringing is the same, T must point out that the effect of ringing even for a short period undoubtedly shortevs the life of this medixval tower and the whole structure of the nave.
I I am personally very fond of bella, and much regref that those at Oakham should be silent, bit, as an arclitect, I am certain that the whole structure has suftered, and will do so from the mechanical forces set ap if the belle, as now hung, are rung.'

BIRMINGHAM CATHEDRAL'S NEW BELLS.

A FINE RING OF TEN.

Braadcast on Bpening Night.

A Farge congregation gathered nt St. Philip's Uathedral, Birming hnm, on Saturday evening ( $$ \mathrm{St}$. Philip's Day), whea the Lord Bishop of Birminglam dedicated the new peal of ten bells, recast to cansmemorute tha Cotonation of King George VI. The scheme was made possible largely through the tyenemosity of one of Birminghan's leading citisens, Sil Charles Hyde, Dart., a newspaper proprietor, and the Cathedral now possesses one of the best peals of ten bells at their weight in the country. The worts was cartied out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who are to be consratulated upon producing such and excellent ring of hells; a peal well worthy of the great city over which they witl be heard.
As many of our readers know, the old ten bells, most of them deting from 1750, besides being of very inferior quality, had got into a dilamidated condibion. Indeed, no band had tackled a peal on them since the year 1003 -and no oue wanted to. It was no pleasure to riug there. Ai! this, However, has been changed, and with a ring increased in weight and of the very lighest tomal quality-the tenor is now 31 cwt, 21 1b. in D-Messis. Gillett and Johnston bave worthily upheld their high repustion. The resistance of the tower has been substantially increased by lowering the bell frame level some loft., conpled wilh the insertion of massive steel girders to eary tha new jron l'rame.
The service at 6 a'clock was enonducted by the Provost (Bishop Hamilion Baynes), and among the congregation was the Lou'd Mayol of Birminghain. Many ringers were prosent from a distance, Bath, Swindon, Covertry, Derlyy, even Scotland being represented, as well as the numerous fowers in the Birminghum district. Unfortunately,

Cyril Johnston was prevented by illness fron being present The service legan with the ringers' hyman, 'Unchanging God,' and ufter the versicles, 1 salm exxii. was sung- The Bishop, preceded by the choir, charehwardens and clergy, then proceeded to the west end of the church during the singing of the hymn, 'O God, our help.' After the dedication, the bells were heard for the first time and created a very stifsfying impression. They were rung in rounds, as chergy and choir returned to the chancel, by members of St. Martin's Gnid, undar the direction of Mr. George Fearn, who has recently been appointed Tower Warden.
After the hymn, 'Rejoice with one accord,' the Bishop offered the special prayers customary to these accasions, inclading those for the worshippers, the newly-maried, the sick, the absent, the departed and the rimgers. The antrem, "Rejoice in the Lovd," was beautifully sung by the choir, and after further prayers the impressive service concluded with Lhe hymn, We love the place, O God.'
Subsequently an opening touch of Stedman Caters was rung by the band who had catier rung the rounds: G. 3F. Fearn $1_{1}$ F. E. Haynes 2, D. T. Matkin ${ }^{3}$, A. Walker 4, J. T. Ahaway 5, H. H. ## THE BROADOAST.

Subseguertly ollher touches were 2 ming, and then, at $7.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. , the bells went 'on the atir' throllgh the Midand Regional wavelength for quarter of nu homr, aud thousands far beyond the confines of Birwingham heard thema

The broadeast included a talk given by a vice-president and fovaner ancetary of St. Martin's Guild, Councillor Paddon Smith, and he gave the public much interesting information, with the sounds of the bells as a background. When be had finished the bells were tumed in at all volume, and the broadcast of Stedman Caters, "Queon's' and Tounds. went on matil eight o'elock.
The microphone for the bells was on the roof of the Cathernal; the talk was dolivered into another placed near the lectern. The control pane was in the vestry. Sone points from Mr. Smilh's broadcast will be of interest to those not forfunate enough to lave heard or themselves.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEW CATFIRDRAL BELLS FUND

Gishop Unveils Aingors' Memorial to late Prevost

The anmal meeting ai Guildford Diocesan Guild was held on Saturduy week, when, during the customary serfice, held in the Cathedral, the Bislop of Guithford dedicated a memorial tablet fa the ringing chamber to the late Provost E. O. Kirwall. The lablet records a linlfmuffled peal rung on the cecession of the Provost's cleath, and has heen erected by the Cathedral Society. The umveling took place in tho presence of the rembers of the socicty, those who took part in the peal and the principal officers of the Guild l'reaching afterwards, the Bishop, basing his remarks on the text, [ was gad when they said unto me we will ge into the house of the hord, paid a tribute to the late Provost. In him, he said, the outghanding characteristics of kindliness, lumour, love of the youngs devotion to duty, public-spirited interest in the town in which he lived and serwed all came quite nataral and simply out of the renewal of his mind, beart and spirit as ho came day by dny, as a vital part of his Jife, to lead and share in thet warship. He found in prayer, praise and sacrament the vital essentials of life and the ceatre of all was worship.

You have done the right thing in placing your record of him in the bell chamber, remembering what manner of man he was, the Hishop continued. "I nom sure he would have appreciated this gift of affection, friondsinp and loyal semombrance. He was, very deeply interested in pour work; ha otten spoke to me about it,
Expressiug his appreciation of the work the Guild was doing for the service of Christi in the diocese, the Bishop said: 'I think fill of us who have in one capacity or another to serve outwardly the religion of the Chusch of Christ, whether a Bishop or a bellyinger, have to soy wo have our special need, and quite bumbly and sinceraly to think about the deepening of our own faith and life. Don't you feel that one necds to gay to one's $\begin{gathered}\text { belf sometimes, "God help me to keep in- }\end{gathered}$ wardly loyal to the cause I serve outwardly"? If this Guild of Betlringers helps us in our membership and by our gathering for prayer and praise to be more loyal and sincere, thon thank God for it-it is giving the greatest thing For God, and may God prosper its worl, counsel and endeavours.
The business meeting of the Guild was held ate the Roynl Grammar School. Mr. Walter Harrison (vice-president) was in the chair and was anported by Minjor. J. H. B. Hesse (Master), Mr. J. Corbett (hou. Ereasurer) tud Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hous. secretary). Theve was an atteadeuce of 80 members.

MESSAGE TO THE KING AND QUETN

At the outset the following resolution of loyal congratulation to stлlaciog

The members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers, in inmial meeting assembled, lumbly beg to offer to your Majesty nud to Queen Elizabeth their loyal congratulations upan your accession to the Throne and your approaching Coronation. They pray that your Majesty may lave a long and peacefal reign over this country and the Empire.
The annual report stated that there are stili a number of churches in the cliacese which are not affiliated to the Guita and whare the ringers arc not members. In these cases the committee appeal to the church anthorities to encourage their ringers to join, and to the ringets to take wider view of their office than the four walls of their own tower
The year 1936 was marked by a steady pursuit of the objects of the Guild, but the membership opain showed a slight decline. The number who paid their subscriptions for 1936 was 71 honorary and 392 ringing members. This conzured with 81 hanorary and 396 ringing member; in 1935. The falling off in the honorary members was a matter of rather serious concern, for without the help of the honorary members the Guild's wark must suffer severely. The committee felt that the ringers at their lecpective towers should themselves make an effort to oring in more honorary members. The hon. treasurer's statement of acconnts showed that the general balance lias been increased from 223 12s. 9 d . to 52258 s . 3 d .
The deficit on the anmual dinner continued to grow. This year it wns 84 16s. This was due to the diminishing attendance, and, if the function was to be maintained, the committee felt thet members must give it bettel support.
The New Cathedral Bells Fhna stood at f5 1s. Gi., but it was hoped to increaso this more rapidy from now onward. This fund was one way in which zinters could take their special share in helping forward tie completion of the new Cathedral.
The Benevolent Fund bad greatil benefied from the collecting boxes placed in the towers. This source producea an addition of £11 5s. 5d. to the fund, whicl now stood at $2292 s .9 \mathrm{~d}$. Happily there uad been no demands upon it up to the present.
The districts were in a healthy financial condition. The aggregate cash balanees had increased from 542 Hz . 8 d . to E 46 19 . 11 d .
Twenty-three district meetings were held, including two joint meetjngs with neiglibouring gaths and nssociations. Admirable work was heing doue in all the districts by the officinls, but there was still need for a more general support from the members.
There had again been considerable activity in bell restoration in the diovese, and once more the services of the Master of the Guila (Major J. H. B. Hesse) had been invalmable to the Church authorities in these matfers.
During the year 21 peals were rung, of whicll three were on handbells. This was the lowest jumber in the bistory of the Guild, and only once before have peals been rung in so few towers. There werc 58 churches with rings of bells in the diocese; in only 11 of them were peals rung in 1956. While aervice ringing should play the most important part in a ringer's activities, peals could be a valuable training in making an efficest ringer; and the committee would like to see much greater interest shown in this dineotion by all members cuable of peal ringing. Four members rang their first peal during the year.

NEED OF MOKE HONORARF MEMBERS.
Submitting the anmual deport, the Chaiman called attention to the alecline of honarary members owing to deaths and removals, the numbers having dropped from 81 to 71. He thought it would add to the strength of the Guild, and the Guide's linances, if the towers would endeavonr to obtain more honorniy members and try to raise the number to 100 . He congrabulated the Guild on the poritiou of its Benevolent F'und, which now stood at exa 12s. 3d. Fortunately they had had no calls on the fuad. For the presence of that fund they were indebted to their Master (Minjor Hesse), who bed dane such very good work. Mr. Harrison asked the meeting to remember the faithiu] departed, particularly mentioning the Provost,
The report was secondod by Mr. R. Whitington (Cranleigh) and adopted.
The balance slieet, submitted by Mry. J. Corbett, recorded a balance of $£ 258 \mathrm{~s} .3 \mathrm{~d}$, as compared with $£ 23$ 12s. 9d. at the beginning of the year.
The following officers were elected: Vice-president, Mr. W. Harrison; Master, Majar J. H. B. Fesse; hon. treasurer, Mr. J. Corbett ; hon. secretary, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith; and hon. anditos, Mr. Th. Hasted.
The hon. secrebary gave nutice that he proposed to retire nt tho end of the present year, when he would have hed the office for 10 Fears. Upon the suggestion of the hon. secretary, Archdeacon Newill and Bislop O. H. Golding-Bird weve added to the list of vice-presidents. The Libury Gommittee, consisting of Messrs. C. Hazelden, W Frorison, S. Radford and S. Petter, was re-elected. The libratian (Mr. C. Hazelden) said they had somo interesting and exceedingly valuable books in their librarf, but there was not a yery big demand for them. Tho libury is open every Tharsday eveniug aud at other times by arrangement.
It was decided to hold tho shmmer festival at St, Martin's, Epsom, ou Jtly 10th.

OATHEDRAI, BELL TUND.

Mr. G. Grover said the Cathedral Bell Fund was lannched in a lumble way with & contribution of one gunea a year. Now that progress was being aceelerated on the Cathedral, he proposed that all towers in the Guild shonid be invited to contribute amnmally to the fund a minimum of as. a year.
Mr. J. S. Goldemitla seconded, and appealed to the Guild, as clurchmen and churchworkers, to coutribute their quota towards tho fund. They would have to put ju a lot of work if they were going to provide one or two bells. The resolution did not make it compulsory on any tower to contribute,

Major Hesse supported the shheme, and asked if they could find out whether the architedt and bellfounders were going to confer. Was the tower going to be right for sound or ventilation? He could not find anyone who had seen the plans.
Mr. Goldsmitin : We have committed ourselves to the principle. The architect is a gentleman who is amenable to reason.
Major Hesse: Can we put it on the minutes that we confer when the time comes
Mr. Goldsmith: It is on the minutes that the sum is a wailabie for the disposal of the Guild for this purpose if they are satisfied with the solkme

The resolution was then carried.

The Chairmal proposed vote of thanks to the Bishop for coming to preach and dedicate the memorial ; to the Rev. H. D. Pilelier for arranging the service; to Mr. A. J. B. Green for the use of the Grammar School; to the incumbents of S. Nicolas' and Shalford for the use of the belis, and to Mr. A. H. Pulling for preparing the rooni. CONTINUANGE OF ANNUAL DINNER.
Discussion followed on the question of the continuance of the anata dinaer in view of the fact that there was a deficit of fit 169 on the dinner account last year. Tho meeting decided to continue tho dinner.
Majou Hease announced that Mr. W. R. Melville was sloortly leaving the district. Ee felt certain that every one of them would regret his departure. He had been a hard worker for the Guild and a regular attencant at its meetings. They wished lim and his family well wherever they went (applare).
The Chamman endorsed the sentiments of Major Hesse, alad recalled his long association with Mr. Melville dating back to the time when the mestings of ringers were leld at the Star Hotel

Mr. Melvilte thanked the company. He said that ringing had always bean his greatest pleasure, and he always put his heart into it to do his best for his own tower. He wouli endeavour to come up for the annual meeting.
Tea was afterwards served at Abbob's Kitchen. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening at the Cathedral and S. Nicolas and Shalford Churches.

WILLENHALL'S NEW BELLS.

STAFFORDSHIRE TOWN GETS GORONATION PEAL OF TEN.
The little Stafiovdshire town of willeuhall, tucked away in the Black Country a few miles from Birmingham, has risen to a great cceasion by providing a ring of ten bells at the old Parish Church of St. Giles in time for the Coronation. Formerly its slooke-grimed tower contained a peal of cight with a tenor of just over 12 cwt . These bells have been recast by Messrs, Gillett and Johnston with extirn metal, the new tenor being just over 16 cwt ., and they are an extremely musical ring in F slarp. T'wo of the bells have been hung aver the other eight, and, as the old clock cuse, which previously formed a serious obstruction in the ringing room, has been transferred to the floor above, an excellent circle has been made possible.
The dedication of the bells took place on Sunday in the conree of the monning sorvice, the Lowd Bishop of Stafford performing the cerenouy. There was a large congregation, including many ringers. The Vicar (the Rev. C. A. Turner) conducted the service, and after the dedication choral Eucharist was celebrated.
The local baud rang the opening ronnds on the new bells when the dediokion had been completed, those taking part being O. Wallater 1, 1. Evans 2, E. Hortin 3, A. Evans 4, J. Luck 5, B. Munday G, S. H. Coley 7, R. Sidebottom 8, W. Edge 9, A. E. Reed 10. At the conclusion of the service an opening touch of Stedman Caters was rung by H. Enifht (hon. seeretary of the Socicty for the Arehdeaconry

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUHLD

RECORD YEAR OF PEAIS.
The annual meeting of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Lineoln on April 24th. Ringing connuenced on the twelve bells at the Cathedral, and at the sir-bell towers of St. Peter-at-Gowt's and Sit. Botolph's at two o'clock, and at 3.15 n special service was hold in the Moraing Chapel of the Cathedral, when the address was given by the Very Rev. the Deau of Lincoln, president of the Guild. Ninety-four members and filiends afterwards sat down to toan at the Co-oporative Hell in Silver Street, and ilie business mecting immedialely followed, presided over by the Dena of Lincoln.
Tho oflicers were all re-elected, namely, the Dean of Lincoln, president; Mrr. Rupert Richardson, Master ; aud Mr. F. W. Stokes, hon. secretary and treasurer.
The meeting unanimously confinmed the election of 14 noл-resident life members. The report and balance sheet were also adopted. The report shows that the Guild has established apother record, 116 peals having been rung during the year 1936, as against the previous record of 108 in 1935 . The record for the number of mothods rung in a peal of Minor is now agatin leld by the Guild, due to the achievement of members of the Eastern Branch in vinging a peal in 70 methods. Another noteworthy performance was the ringing of a peal of Bob Major at Bartou-on-Humber by eight churcliwardens from the Diocese of Lincoln. The number of 'first pealer's' has incrensed from 15 in 1935 to 26 in 1936, which is a sigu of good progress. There were 31 conductors.
Ringing was continued at the several towers during the evening. The Master took charge of tho ringing at the Cathedral, nlthought hy reason of a broken wrist, sustained in an accident in Eandon recenty, he conld not himself take an active part in the proceedings.

THE DEATH OF MR. A. E. WREAKS

OONG SERVICE TO JANCASHLRE ASSOCLATION

Ats already brieff recorded the death took place on April ithl of Mi. Albert E. Wreaks, of Paisley, who was formerly, from 1886 to 1911, nssistant and general secretnry of the Lancashire Association. Mr. Wreaks was on his way to ritt tor service when he was suddenly taken ill in a tratncar and prassed away almost immediately.
Mr. Wreaks was borme at Pendletan, Manchester, and began his ringing at Penaleton Chursh in 1879. Subsequently, from 1880 to 1869, he was a momber of the band at Manchester Cathedimal, then for a short time he was at St. Alban's, Rochdale, followed lyy some 14 years at The Sayiour's Charch, Bolton. In 1904 he returned to Pendleton, aud in 1911 his business took him to Paisley, Scoliand, where he had ever since been alitached to SL. James' Church.
He rang lis first peal nt Manchester Cathedral (the first in the present tower) on June 19th, 1880, and had rumg in all 215 peals, many of which he liad conducted. His G0th peal as conductor was rung for the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria.
In addition to his long meunhership of the Lancallive Association, Which ie vepresented on the Central Conncil in the yenrs 1895 and 1896, Mr- Wrealis joined the Ancient Society of College Youths ins 1883 and had thus beens member for 54 years. पe was niso a member of the Yorkslike Association, the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association and the Scottish Association. When he retired from the secretaryship of the Lancashire Association he wns presented with a clock as a mark of appreciation of his long services.

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

FAREWELL MEEILNG TO FICAR OT TELIGIRK

The Barmsley and District Secioty held their monthiy meeting at Felkirk, near Harnsley, on Saturday, $A$ pril 10h, when about 30 nembers afteuded from Adwick-le Street, Barnsley, Budsworth, Cawthone, Darfeld, Earlsheaton, Foylundswaine, Sandal, Soutls Kirkly, Wath, Wragby and the local company.
The bells were rung in the ufternoon, and a short service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev, II. R. H. Coney, whose address was most enccureging and very appropriate to the occasion.
At the buginess meeting, which followed tea in the adjoining schoolroom, the Vicar presided.
The usual business was disposed of aud Mr. C. D. Potter moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar for tine kindness he had always shown towards the society. As everyone present was aware, it would be the last meeting at Telicirk with the Rev. H. R. F. Goney as Vicar, and the members were more than sorys to lose him. It was, however, nice to think he was not going out of the diocese altogether nud that they should be able to keep in touch with him. They wished him muelt happiness in his new pust as Canon Commissioner to Walefield Cathedral
The Vicar suitably replied. He said he appreciated very much that the meeting was specially arrauged before his departure. He was proud to be present at such a gathering, and in hie new work, which would take him far and wide, ha hoped to meet many ringera and relp them all he could.
Darton was closen as the next place of meeting, to be held on May 8 th. Further ringing continued until 9 p.m. in a great variety of metbods.
At a cormitcee meeting leld after the ustual meeting it was decided to hold the annual shield sontest on Saturday, July 10th, at Cawthorne, entries for the contest to close on June Beth.

A 'QUEEN MARY' BELL

SLR PERCY BATES GHENEROSITY

A new tenor bell has been added to the ring at Charles, North Devon. It is the gift of Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the Guntid White Star Company and patron of the living of Charles, as a thankoffering for the sticcessful hanching of the great liner, 'Qucen Mary.' The bells of Charles were formerly a ring of five, efst by Willian livants of Chepstow, in 1733, Lhe ceuor weighing approximately 61 cwi. The new bel, weighing approximately 9 cwt , sounds a whole note below the old tenor, and une old 3 rd has been tumed down half a note to suit the key of the allgmented peal. The old bells have been rehung with new gudgeons and hall bearings, whilst the new tenor is equipped with nodern fitings throughout,
The work has been carried out by John Taylor and Co., of the Lourhborough Bellfondry, and everyoue present at the dedication on April $28 t h$ expressed their satiafaction as to the 'splice' and at the much improved ringing order of the fuve original bells.
Fhe dedication was performed ky the Bishop of Exeler (Dr. C. 7 . Curzon), who, in his address, spoke of the beatiful peals of bells ins Devon. He said he had discovered there were more bellringers, nnd therefore, he supposed. more bells, in that diocese than in any other diacese in Ensland. He was very proud of that.
The Rev. W. W. Juyce, the Rector, at a typical Devonian social fanction which followed the dadication, said their patron had been very munificest. When he (the Rector) came into the parisll their pation had paid f500 for dilapidations and other sums ranging fron f100 to fi2s for other purposes, in all totalling over four figures. He wished publicly to thayk Sir Lercy Bates for his sreat benefactions.

The Bishop of Exeter also referred appreciatively to the geverosity of Sir Porcy Bates, and said he mirght guggent to other patrons they tonld equally care for the parishes which were in their cliarge.
After the service the West Buckiand School Guikd reng tonehes of Stedman und Grandsire Doubles. The boys were complimented on their standard of striking. The only other ringers present were fron the local and neighbouring bands, who all rang call changes.

GUILDEORD RINGER'S DEPARTURE.

RETIREMENT OF MR. W. R. MELVILLE.

Guildford Cathedral and Guildford Diocesan Guild are losing one of Wheir slalwarts by the departare of Mr. W. R. Melville fram the town. Recently Mr'. Melville retired from employment with Messrs, Dennis Bros.; Ld.., the celebrated makers of motor fite engines and tommercinl vehicles, where he has been engaged in the coachbuilding department for 21 years.

Mr. Melville came tc Guildford from Thing Herts, where he wes employed hy the late Loval Rotuschild for 15 years. Since he lias been in Guildfore he has been closely identified with the Foly Trinity (now the Catliedral) band of ringers, campanology being his alnost lifo-long hobby. He was for many years steeplekeeper at the tower, and lately was Master of the Guildford Distriet of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, a position he resigued about three years ago. Prior to the formation of the Guild lie was actively identified with the Guildford District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild.

He has rong in many parts of the country, and on the occasion of the visil of H.M. Queen Mary to Fuildiord on April Ist he rang his hundreduh peal at Holy Trinity Chureh.
Mrs. Melvills is also a ringer, having taken up ringing during the wat ycars. She is one of the few women to lave rung a peal in the Catherlral Churcl.
For about 15 years Mt. Melville has been a sidenman at Holy Trinity, fald was att ane timo member of the Parochial Gmurch Commerl. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Guildford Diocesan Gnifd. Mr. and Mrs. Melville have two daughters. Tho elder, Miss Melville, is assistant superimtendent of the Queen's Nurses at Birmingham, and the younger, Mrs. C. H. Kippir, is well known for لher riuging nbility.
On April 20th, his 65th birthday, Mr. Melville attended a social at. the Stoke Hotel, Guildford, to recive parting gifts from colleagues in the coach buidding department of Messrs, Dennis Bros. On belalf of the staff, Mrs. A. Whittitt, wife of the manager of the department, presented him with a chiming clock inscribed as follows: 'Presented to W. Melville on bis refirement by the coach department of Demis Brothers, Guildford, 1937.' Mr. Whittitt gave Mrs. Melville a handbag, nnd the staff also sent luro oak fireside cluairs.
On Sunday week in the belfry, tho Cathedral Society presented Mr. Melville with a case of pipes and Mrs. Melville with a "Pyrex dish on silver stand. On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Melville, with the Rev. H. D. Pilcher, priest in charge of the Cathedral, and memibers of the Gathedral band, were entertained to supper by Mr. T. W. White (tower hon. secretary) and Mrs. White. The loyal toast was Clpulk and good wishes expressed by Mr. White to Mr. and Mrs. Melville, to whom the Rev. H. D. Pilcher prescuted a pair of candlesticks made from the old oak frame removed from Holy Trinjty tower at tha bell restoration in 1913, and which since that time had been in possession af the late Provost. These candlesticks will be one of Mr . and Mrs. Melvilie's most prized possessions in their new home.
Mr. and Mrs. Melville left Guildford on Wednesday week for their new home at Kingsworthy, near Winchester.

RINGERS' MEMORIAL.

TRIEUTE TO LATE MASTER OF BATH AND WELLS

A memorial ta the late Rev. E.S.C. Eock, who was for ten years Master of the Bath and Weils Diocestin Association, has been erected at the entrance to the fower at West Pennard Chincols, and was dedicated on April 17th by the present Master, the Rev. W. M. K. Warren.

The inscription on the memorial is as follows : This tablet was erected by the Bath and Wells Association of Change Ringers in gateful memory of Erinest Seppings Cardew Lock, M.A., Prjest, Master of the association 1925-1935.' Mr. Lock was Vicar of West Pennard and Rumal Dean. He died on July 15612, 1935 . Upon his gravestone in the ohumblard weye placed a cross and wrentl composed of gorge blooms.
Amongst the towers represented at the gathering were those of Weat Pemard, Glastonbuyy, Street, Evercreech, Castle Cary, Dinder, Oroscombe, Kilmersdon, Racistock, Frome, Chilcompton, Chowton Mendip, Jath, North Cadbury, Bruton, Ilminster and Tauncon. The clergy present, in addition to the Rev. W. M. K. Warren, we the Revs. L. S. Leqvis, chairman of the Glastonlury Branch, C. L. Buekinghnu, W, Bromalian, Street, C. C. Angell, of Everercech, with the Ficar of West Pennard (the Rev. T. H. Richards). Members of the tamily of the late Rev. E. S. G. Look who attended were Brig.Gen. Loek and Mrs. Lock (brotiner and siater-in-law), Mrs. Codncr (sister), Mr. E. Lock (nepliew), and Miss C. E. Lock (niece). Jliere was a large congregation of parishianers and frionds.
Before and after the rincers' service touches in parions methods werc wung on the peal of six bellg in the tower.
thine lesson duvilu the service was read by the Rer. W. N. K. Warren, taken from Revelation vii., 9 . This was preceded by art appropriate psalm and followed by the Nunc Dimittis. Wirious collects and prayers followed, ank after the hynan, Q heavenly Jernsalem. the choir and the robed clergy, the Revs. T. F. Richards, W. M. K. the tablet wero also the ofticial representatives of the association. Messrs. D. G. Thylor (hom, secretary, Ilminster), E. H. Nash (Fiome Deanery), W. A. Osborn (Castle Cary Deanery), F. D. Rickarcls (Jurisaiction of Glaston), 1. Merson (Taunton Deanery), J. Hum (committee member) and J. T. Dyke (hon, general secretary). The dedication was performed by the Rev. L. S. Lewis with approprialo special prayers. The procession then retmon to the chancel, where the service proceded.
An address was given by the Rev. W. M. K. Warren, who said they hand dedicated that tablet to the late Master of the association as an offering of their affection for linh, that his mame might be rememhered there, as they would all do though he jad gone from anong them. He Fras a man whom they had liollourea for his good works. Ho was a clergyman who bad worked in that parish and with theny. There were few clergynen who took the interest that he did in their work as yingers. When last week it was necessary to select a elergyman for ar affee amongst the ringerg of one of their deaneries, and they looked through the Tist of the dergy, it was surpusing lrow few there were who were ningers themselves. Mr. Lock was a tingel as well as a clergyman, and he was valued by their members for his brotherly attitude towards them. That brotherly attitude was characteristic of ringers. Thef were ready wo welcome a stranger who visited tha towers, and any clergyman who did so, or a ringer rrom another place, might be sure of being heartily welcomed, as be hat found recently. Those who lived in that parish could tell of his faithfuI labour among them as a prish priest, and how much wouk he did for lis Master in that place. Through all he was a humble ninded mau. The last thing that would ever have enfered his mind was to think of his mame being recorded on such a talalet as they Had just dediated. But they desired to recognise his work as is fellow-labourer with them, as their Master and for his brotherly love to them.
Following the service, toa was served in the Parisly Sclioolroon, and af its conclusion, whilst other ringers rethrned to the tower, a meeting of the Glastonbury Branch was held, presided over by the Rev. L. S. Lewis, supported by the secretary, Mr. F. D. Riclenrds. About, in score of members were present. It was decided to hoil the next meeting at Strect on Satirday, July 17th.
Thanks ware accorded to the Vicar, choir snd churchwardens, to Mi. Warrell for this address, to those who catered for the tea, and other helpers, on the motion of the Rey. L. S. Lewis, secanded ly Mv. W. Marsh, of Street. The Rer. W. M. K. Warren briefly Mresponded.

TILEHURST BELLS RESTORED

Messrs Mears and Stainhand have yestored the bells at Tilehirst+ Berks. The frame has been taken to pieces and re-erected in a quartier-tumned position on a double fommdation of steel girders. The bells have been relung on ball berrings.
They were renwened on Satarday, April 77th, and the first quarterneal since the relancing was rung on them by the local band on April 19th as a compliment to their foreman, Mr. Haris Goodyear, on the fortieth anniversary of his wedding. The method was Granrlsire Triples, and the rimgers were: A. Bowers 1, J. Barmes 2, F Funt 3, 玉. H. Langlev 4, H. Bames 5, R. W. Runham (conductor) 6, H. Goodjenr 7, D. Sellar 8.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

NEXT TUESDAY'S COUNCIL MEETING

The Central Council's meeting at Canterbury next Tuesday seems likely to be one of the 'quietest' of recent years. Unless the committee reports give rise to unexpected debatable matter, there is only one subject likely to produce diversity of opinion. There are an unusually large number of reports to be clealt with, but except for the Analysis and Records Committee's report, none of them has yet been published. The work of the Council is carried on very largely through its committecs, most of whom find work to do throughout the year. Sometimes the early publication of their reports has aroused interest in the Exercise generally, for ringers, Jike other folk, dearly love an argument. At one time, too, it was the only way in which the members of the Council gained any fore-knowledge of what they were to be asked to discuss. Often, however, a report was only verbally presented at the Council meeting. The adoption of more businesslike methods has now resulted in the circulation of all reports to the members prior to the meeting, which has the advantage of giving the representatives time to make a study of them beforehand.

The only motion on the agenda is likely to arouse discussion, for it brings up again, on the subject of peals of Doubles, a similar question to that raised on peals of Minor. There is most tikely to be sharply divided opinion on the motion as it stands, for the admission of anything but true six-scores of Doubles in peals is a matter on whict most ringers take a firm stand. As with Minor, there are some people who are prepared to admit that in Doubles anything is permissible so long as the changes are produced by a recognised method and do not occur more or less than 42 times each in a 5,040 . They put forward their arguments in the case of peals of Minor, and will doubtless do so again, with equal cogency, in the case of the Doubles.

On the other hand, the majority of ringers, we think, are old fashioned enough to hold that if Doubles are to be allowed to rank as peals-and it is too late now to go back upon that subject-the six-scores, which are the foundation, must be individually, true. Some, and probably a large part of the Exercise who give it a thought, hold that rounds must come at the end of each six-score. Between this and the licence which would be given by the movers of the resolution which is to come before the Council, there is a gap, into which the 'splicing' of one six-score into another finds a place. Where exactly between the various degrees of liberty the Council will land remains to be seen, but it must not be overlooked that in this question more is at stake than peals of Doubles. There is a question of principle; and the Council must be prepared, if they accept the motion in its entirety, to be asked to go back on their previous decisions and allow, in the ringing of peals of Minor, compositions which do not produce true extents.

FOR BEGINNERS.

DOUJBLE METHODS:

When the worle of a method with the treble in front (that is, in Minor when it is below 4th's, and in Major below 5th's) i⿴ reproduced, relatively, with the treble behind (above 3rd's in Mnor and above 4th's in Major), that method is at doutble' nethod. A simple example is Double Bols.
In Plain Bob, the Rad's place made when the treblo is leading canses tho bells aboye to dodge ins pairs. If a place is made immediately below the treble when that bells lies its whole pull behind (5th's place in Minor, 7 th 's in Major), whe bells below dodge in pairs. 'Double' Bob is the method in which both 2nd's and 5iti's are made and doulging takes place on each (iccasion.

It is interesting to notice the effect of this on the ' Iead head, (that is the position of the bells at the backstroke lead of the treble). Rounds is the first lead head. The second lead head in Bob Minor is 135264 ; the thind lead head is 156342 . You get this by transposing 135264 by 135264 . Naw if you introduce 5 th's when the treble is hehind as well as and's when the treble is in front, then your second lead head is 135264 transposed by 135264 , giving you 156342 , and your third lead head is 156312 transposed hy 156342 , viz., 142635.
Without going into a detaiked explanation of the reason, it may be atated that all "Yegular 'Minor methods produce the same lead heads, although, as we have seen above, they may come in a different order. There are five lead leads in a course, and, bethining, as we always must, with rounds, they can come up in four different orders:-

Pirst lead head: $123456 \quad 123456 \quad 123456 \quad 123456$
Second lead liead: 135264 156342 164523 142635
If you worle out the courges under each of theso heads, by using the iranspositions shown in eacl case, jou will find that, as we said above, they produce exactly the same lead heads, but in a different order.
All this may seem to lave lithe to do with "double " methods, but it. is one of the establizhed facts about 'regulur' ' mothods which beginners should krow and remembor, because it will help in an minderstanding of certain groupings of methods, which whe hope to deal with later.
But, now, about these double methods. In examining their consiruction, and, at the manent, we will deal only with Minor, you Want to write ont, a course, draw your diagram over it, and then divide it from top to bottom with a line drawn betwen the 3rd and 4th fgures. When you have done this you will see that the 'work; on each side of the line is exactly balanced, that you can, in fact, कurn it upside down, read yonn method from bottom to top, and find it is the same either way.

When we explained Oxford Boly we said it cousisted of 4thr place made twice inside each lead, and 2nd ${ }^{1}$ s place when the treble leads. Now Doubla Oxford Bob contains all these places, mado when the treble is below 4th's, and corresponding places, two of them in 3ud's rud 5th's place when the treble is abovo 3rd's. Here is a lead, but we recommend you to write out the full course and study it. Compare its construction with Oxford Bob:-

| Onfrord Bois | Double Oxforki |
| :---: | :---: |
| 123456 | 123456 |
| 214365 | 214365 |
| 241356 | 241356 |
| 423165 | 243165 |
| 432615 | 426351 |
| 346251 | 243651 |
| 364521 | 426315 |
| 635412 | 426135 |
| 653142 | 412635 |
| 561324 | 146253 |
| 516342 | 142635 |
| 153624 |  |
| 156342 |  |

The two methods are tofally different to ring; and in some ways Double Oxford should prove easier than the single variety. There is really very little to remember. There is a threepuli dodge each way (that is, down and up, with 2nd's place botween) ou the front; and a three-pul] dodge each way (that is, up and down, with Sth's place between) behind. In between, whether, going up or down, there is a dodre in 3-4, places acrose the treble, (that is 4th's and 3rd's whon going up or 3rd' and 4th's when going down), and another doige ia 34 .
If you look at the fipures above you will see the lead head of the double metlod, 149635, is a double transposition of the $15 \times 342$ of the single method.
If you wani a 720 , you can call Double Oxford, as yon call the single method (becnuse, in both methods, 2nd's is made when the treble leads) Wrong, qught and Wrong, with an additional single called at the otherwise plain Riglit, at lialf-way, and end. Remember, however, that while in Oxford Bob the Wrong is the third lead of the course, in Double Oxford the Wrong is the fourth lead.
There is the same alternative extent, with tho fiftla called Right, Wrong and Right, as there is in Plain Bob.

MR. J. BENNETT IN U.S.A.

RINGING AT KENT SCEOOL.

When the 'Quecu Mary' docked at Southamplon on Monday, ung of her passengers was Mr.' Jim ' Bemmelt, of Lewisham. He lard justi finished "a quick one "-no, not the kind usually associated with that phrase, but a swift wisit to the United States. Mr, Bennctit travelled out on the 'Berengaria , and spent about fon and a half hectic days in America, during which he visited Niagara Falls ( 463 miles from New York), went to Kent School, Connecticut, and did some riuging, saw the famous carillon of 72 bells with $18 \frac{1}{2}$ ton bass $2 t$ Riversicle Church, New York, and had a breathless ride to the top of the Empire State Building, 1,250 feet from the ground.
His vigit to Kent School took place on Monday, May 3 ricl, and there he met the students who arg endeavouring to carry on the ringing introduced when the nuw ring of bella was instatied at the Scheot Chapel. Prior to the usual short 6.15 p. m. service, various touches of Grandsire Doubles and Triples and rounds on the excellent poal of ten bells were rung.
Atter service and supper, by the kiud permrission of the Rev. Father F. F. Sill, O.H.C., further vinging was carried oll

Among the seforal touches brought round were 120 Gmandsire Doubles by Theodore Sterling, jun, 1, James Girdwood 2, James Bennett (condactor) 3, Georga Mallory 4, Josepli Bodell, jun. 5, William Taylor 6.

Alss 168 Grandsire Triples by Theodore Sterting, jun. 1, Frankliu Seeley 2, J. Beuneut (conductor) 3, Harry Van Temmselaer 4, Joseph Bodell, jun. 5, James Girdwood 6, Georye Mallory 7, Julian Simmons 8. Two probationers, Dudley Amos and George Whittlesey, also took part in some rounds, ete.

Great credit is due to Fatizer sill and the students for maintaining & change ringing band at Kent School under very diffeult circumstances. No instructor has been arailable since the return to En5land of Mr. I. J. Atwater, who first initiated this band ints clazrge ringing.
Any visiting ringers to the United States may be assured of a very warm and hearty welcome from Futher Sill and the students.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

AN FARMONIOUS BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at All Saints', Boyne Hill, Maidenbead, menbers from Beaconsfield, Boync Hifl, Bray, Burnbam, Chewer, Cookliam, Faruliam Royal, Fulmer, Hughenden, Maxlow, Slough, Stoke Pogres, Wemdover, Old Windsor, Wooburn, High Wycombe and West Wycombe being jresent. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. S. Mahony, and an interestiug sermon was preached by the Rev. Ganon C. E. 垂. Fry, R.D.

Tea was enjoyed by some 60 persons in the Parish Hall, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Fidridge having provided au oxcellent repast. Owing to illness; the chairman, Sir Charles $A$. Beanett, was unable to be present, and the Master of the Guild (the Rev. Cazon G. F. Coleridge) was, therefore, asked to preside at the business meeting. The vicechairman (Mr. W. H. Fussell), Deputy Master (tho Rev. C. Elliot Wigg) and general secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) were also present.
Screal new members wern elected and the stabement of accounts was accepted. The district inas or balance of e27 14s. 3d. The secretury, having read his repart, said that as it seemed to be one lond grouse, he would tell them how nearly they had lost it. Fe caused much laughter with the stoxy.
The Branch Ringivg Draster's report was unanimously accepted, and a recommendation from the commiltee that five guineas be given to the Stoke Poges Bell Fund was also passed.
Tha officers were re-elected on bloc, also the seven representatives for the General Committec.
It was decided to take prurt as usual in the joint meetings with teighbouring associalions and ruild on dugate 28th and October 9tli. Mr, W. H. Fussell proposed a vote of thanks to all those who had lielped to wake the meeting a success, the Vicar, the preacher, the organist, Mr. W. F. Walker (forcman) and the tadies who had served the tea.
Mrs. A. D. Barker proposed a vote of Lhanks to the Master for conducting the meeting, and to the Deputy Master and general secrelury for their presence.
Canon Colerídge expressed his very great pleasure at being able to come to this brameh annual meeting and see how harmonionsly the liranch was conducted, whing lightened the work of the general officers. He also reminded the members that good striking the fomdation of all good ringing, was the thing all rimgers should aim at. The Deputy Master (the Rev. C. Eliut Wigg) thanked the memJos for their welcome, uevbunal that ne had uten meeting a nortain individual at other brauch annualg, and said that, in lis opiniou, this was the most efficiontly tum of all branches.
Mr. R. T. Hibbert gave bis usmal contribution to the proceedings. He snid he had been mecking men with whom for over 50 years he lad had real fribudinip. There was no lack of young faces in that hranch. He hoped to meet them all for several more years, and if other branches wauld meet more often, it would help to keep the Oxford Guild at the top of the tree.
A shorv silence was observed in memory of Mr. Frank Boreham, of High Wycombe.
After the meeting in ungwer to a letter from the branch, the following commurication was received from Buckingham Palace:-

Tlie Private Secretary is commanded to convey to the members of the East Berlss and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Beflringers the King's thanks for their kind message of gook wishes in connection with the forthcoming Coronation of ther Majesties.'

MANCHESTER TOWN HALL BELLS.

The new bells at Manchester Town Hall installed by Messis. J. Taylor and Co. were formally opeued on Saturday by the Lord Mayor of Mancliester. The bells are now 24 in number. The great hour bell, weighing 8 tons, is hung in the dome of the bower with the remaining 23 bells below. Thirteen of the bells are Jung for ringing, these being a ring of 12 with tenor 43 cwt., notee B , and au additional sharp second to prodace an octave with the 8 as tenor bell.

DEDICATION OF BURTON HASTINGS BELLS.

A GIEN FROM THE BARRON BELL TRUST.
The bells of Sit. Botalph's, Burton Hastings, were dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Coventry on Saturday, May 1st. Tha finy churel proved quite incapable of holding all the parjshioners and visiling ringers who desired to attend the service, aud the congregation overflowed into the church walk and the village street.
The church had fhree bells, and two trebles have been adiled to make them into a ring of five. The cracked tenor hell has been recust and the peal hung lower dewn in the tower, with new dittings and new framework. The inscriptions are as follows:-
Troble. 3 cwt. 1 qr . 18 fb . Note F sharp. J. Taylol and Co., Louglsborough, 1937. This peal was uagmeuted to five bells by the Barron Bell Trust, 1937. Emua Barron, Founder; F. Hopkins, C. M. Wralroud, W. IV. Eidred, Trustees.

Second-3 cwt. 3 gr .1 lb . Note E. J. Taylor and Co., Loughhorough, 1937. 'Io commemorate the Crowning of King Gcorge VI.

Third. $-\frac{4}{1659}$ cwt. 1 qr. 6 lb . Note D sharp. Bryanus Etcridge me fact, Fourth. 5 cwt. 1 tb. Note $C$ sharp. Henry Barley made mee, 1687. Tenor- 6 ewh. 3 q1. 9 lb . Note $B$. Praise God onli.
This bell was badly erwacked and has been recnst; its date is probably about 1600. The original iuscription has been perpetuated.
The service was conducted by the Rer. Mostigu Robinson (Vicar of Wolvey with Burton Eastinge). Special prayedr were said, and the scryice took the form of shortened evensong.
During the singing of a liymn, a procession was formed and made its way to the west end of the churcu, where the Bighop, whilst holding a aell rope, dedicated the bells, and asked the Fivar aud churehwardens to receive them for the service and glory of God.
Immediately after this a few rounds were rung by the Burlon Hastings aud Wolvey ringers.
In the course of a striking addres the Bishop spoke of the church, which had come down througlt the ages and yelb still stood at thm centre of their village life. It was his privilege to thank all who had helped in bringing about that day, so that a dream conld be realised, that of Burton's bolls ringing for the Coronation. With regard to the bells, they could not have them sending out their message without the ringers. Change ringing was a true English eustom. There was hardly any other country where the bells were rung like they werb in Fingland. Pcoplo dide all sorts of queer thiags with bells. When the hells of Jerusalem were broadcast le knew it was baid that people wished bellingers from England had been there to ring them. Fe hoped there would always be the bellumgers aud that their rolationships will the Vicar and congregation would always be of the best
It was no grod, the Bishop continued, dedicating bells to the glory of God unless there were people who were going to answer the anmmons and call. The bells spoke of the hatmony which marked a Ohristian congregation; expressed sympatlyy at tirnes of sorrow and joy; whilst they ialso bore wilness to the love of Christ. There weyo many who never said a word in season about what Christianity lad done for them. They might talk ahout the English reserve in making excuses for that, but he thonght, it was evergane's aluty to tell it out, like the bells, into the streets, the workshops alld everywhere.
Immediately after the service a representative band rang the first touch on the bells, and then they were thrown open to wisiting ringers. The ringers were also entertuined to tea in the Parish Schoals by the kinduess of the Vicar.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION  \section*{CORONATION PEALS}

A meeting of the North Staftardshire Association was lacld at Leck an Saturday, May 1st. Forby-seven memlers and friends were present from Brown Edge, Burslem, Burton-on-Trent, Cheadle, Draycoti. Derby, Kingsley, Kidsgrove, Leek, Longton, Norton, Newcastle, State, Stoke-on-Trent, Tunstall and Uttoxeter.
A learty welcome was extended to all present by the Rev. I. F. S. Martin (curate), and a vote of thanks was proposed to tlie Viear and the ringerg of Leek for the use of the bells by Mr. T. Hurd, seconted by Mr. A. D. Steel.

Congratnlations were extended by Mr. W. P. Deane, on belalf of the association, to Mr. T. Hurd, on completing his 100th peal.
Reference was made to the proposals regerding ©Coronation' peals. Mr. J. T. Wheeldon wilhdrew his proposition that all peals Enns dming May should be recognised as Coronation peals, and proposer that should a band fail to ring the peal arranged for forontion peal in May, it may attempt it until the end of June-Tlis view was strongly supported by the meeting.

One hotoraiy monher, the Rev. Brookes (Rector of Langton), was elected.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

SOUTE NORFOLK BRANCH'S NEW GECRETARY.

The South Norfolk Bmach of the Norwich Diocesan Association spent an onjoyable aftermoon at Pullam Market on Saturday, April $24 t h$, when 30 members supported the meeting, at which a new sccretary of the brasch had to be elected on account of Mr. Nolan Golden's appointment as general searetary of the association.
The Rev. R. Hugh Stacey, Rector of Pulham St. Mary, conducted the service and delivered an address. Tea was partaken of in the lRectory Room.
At the buriness meeting which followed, Mr. William L. Duffeld presided, supported by the Rev. R. Fugh Stacey, the Rev. Canou I'. J. Perowne, Mr. N. Golden (general secretary and treasurec) Messrs. E. G. Benaett, A. G. Harrison, O. J. More, R. Riches nud E. Whiting (inembers of the commitiee), and representatives from Alburgh, Diss, Redenhall, Saxlinghem and the local band, while other branches were represented by members from Halvergate, Narwich, Swaftham and Wymondham.
The Chairman referred to Mr. Golden's appointment to the secretaryship creating a vacancy in the branch officers.

Mr. Golden spoke of the happiness the work lad given him, and proposed that Mr. Albert G. Harrinon, of Diss, be the new secretary. This was seconded and carricd nuanimously. Mir, Harrison expressed his thanks and lis willinguess to undertake the work.
Mr. Charles Loome, of Redenhall, was elected a member of the committes in place of Mr. Harrison.

The following elections took place: Capt. Andrew Jolntstone, R.N., of Alburgh (performing member), Mr. Robert $D_{\text {. }}$. Gunton, of Abburgly (rabification of belfry election) and Mr. Frederich W. Munciugs, of Hendham (re-election).

It was decided to wisit Kenniughall on July 3rd and to include a sit, if possible, to Quidenham.
Fotes of thanlss to the Rev. R. Hugh Stacey for his hospitality and for conducting whe service, lo the helpers at tea and to the arganist conclữed the business of the meeting.

A variety of methods wore rung during the afternoon aud ovening, including attempts at Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Dousle Nouwich, Cambridge, Superlative, Lonton and Bristol Surprise.

BURNHAM, BUOKS.-On Saturday, March 2Oth, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Kent Treble Bob by the local band, a quarter-peal (1,264) Bob Majar: B. O'Neill 1, M. A. Blamey 2, P. A. Plamey 3, C. 4 Burgess &, J. E. Taylor 5, G. W. İmmer S, G. H. fimmer 7, G. Gilbert iconductor) 8 . Firev quarter of Majar by ringers of $1,2,3$ and 4 .

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SPECLAL' MEYHODS FOR MEETINGS.
A glorions summer's afternoon should havo aftracted a crowd to a North and East District meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild ai Pinner on Saturday, May 1st, but there was only a moderate attendance. Perhaps it was the cup fiant; possibly the bus strike; or a combination of both. Howevar that may be, the 30 or so ringers who did attend were given a real royal welcome. In fact, there were so many flags and banners that it was difficult to ses the church when looking up the main street in this fise old village.
Ringing conmenced some little time after that advortised, and at 4.30 a ghort service was held. The Vicar (the Rev. Eric Barnes) gave a cordial welcomo, and some interestiag and useful thoughts on the Coronation, to the ringers present. After tea the usual business was held, and this very necessary, but sometimes horing parl of the day's proceedings was quickly disposed of, nume, the able clatimuanslup of Mr. G. W. Fetcher.

Harrow Weald was chosen for the next meeting on May 290 h , and it was decided to give a further trial to St. Lawrevee Little Bob Major as the special methot. The hon. sectetary reminded memhers that if they axperienced any difficulby in obtnining the fignures of the methods adyerfised for special practice, these could be found in the CentraI Council publications, on sale at a cheap rate, as advertised in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. G. W. Fietcher proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for his address at the service and for the use of the bells, to the organist and choir, and to Mr. A. I. Harding for making arrangements for the meeting. This was earried with acelamation, aud the Rev. Eric Barnes, in reply, said lie was very glad iadeed to see the members of the assciation, who were always welcome at Pimet.

A brief interlude on the handbells followed, after which more ring ing took place on the fine peal in the tower, under the able guidance of Mr. T. J. Lock, who gave opportunity to all to ring the yiethoũs of their choice. Included in the ringing were an exoellent totuch of St. Lawrence Little Bob, the special method for the day; another of Cambridge Court Bob, to show that a previous special method hue not been forgotten; and a touch of Spliced Surprise Major in five methods, as a grand finale!
In connection with the special methods chosen for practice, the han. secretary would like it to be known that these are circulated, with the notice of meeting, to all affiliated towers. He will be preparad to make arrangements with any umatachad members to supply them with copies at the time the tower notices are sent out.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Foundry Established A.D, 1570 (12th year of reign of Elizabetb).

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, for may years hon, secretary of the Kent County Association, is about to retire from the position of Minor Canon of Ganterbury Cathedral, which le has held for 58 years.
A band of grandfathers rang a peal in seven Minor methods at Kempston Beds, on Saturday, and it is bolieved to be the first rung for the Bedfordshire Assaciation by a band consisting entirely of 'granfers.' Mr. H. L. Harlow, who taok part, is also a greatgrandfather. The peal was called by the youngest member of the band.
A peal of 'Real' Double Norwich has been rung at Cragiord. Other similar peals have been rung before, and we wonder who first ceized upon the rather stupid way of describing this form of ringing the method. Double Norwich is just as 'real' whether bobs are made when the treble is behind or not.
Bohs made in 3 rdas place when the treble is in 8 th's do not make tho method any more real; in fact, we should think the only thing they really do is to break away from Double Norwfeh pure and simple. We don't blame the Crayford men; they have only called it by the namo others have used before them. It is another instance of tho loose spplication of terms in ringing.

UNSAFE TOWERS.

To the Editor.
Sir,-Your articlo du a certain tower in which ringing has been forbidden because the tower is considered unsafe raises the question as to the position in which the Parochial Church Council aro thereby placed.
Juries are very inclined nowadays to give leavy damages for injuries; and if ringing has been stopped, evidence of an incontravertjble nature has been gratritously provided for anyoue who may imatine he has been injured by the state of the fatrie.
Is there no insurance expert anong us who would explain the exact position?

ANOTHER BELFRY ROMANCE.

MARRIAGE OF MR. N. S. BAGYYORTH AND MISS M. GREENALL.
At St. Andrew's Parish Church, Enfield, on April 24th, another belfry romance culminated in the marriage of Miss Elsie M. Greenall, a member of the Edmonton band and the Ladies' Guild, and Mr. Norman S. Bagworth, honorary secretary of the Metropolitan Police Guild.
The Rev. E. Cooke, Rector of St, George-the-Martyn, Southwarf, the tower at which the Metropolitan Police Guild meet, officiated, and the hymns were The Foice that breathed o'er Eden and 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaver.'
The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a dress of oyster satin, an embroidered veil and halo of orange blossom, and carried a sheaf of arum lilies. She was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister and a friend, who wore ground length frocks of eau-de-nil gatin, and carried sheaves of iris.
After ths ceremony, the bride's mother beld a reception in the Church Room, which was attended by a considerable number of ringing friends of the bride and bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Bagworth left later for Abingdon for their homeymoon.

A peal of Stedman Triples was attempted at Edmonton in honour of the occasion, but, unfortunately, came to grief after 55 minutes. It has been surgested since that the sole cause of the breakdown was 'weddingitis.'

ST. MARY'S, NOTTINGHAM

MR. RALPF NARBOROUGF ELECTED RINGTNG MASTER.
A meeting was held in the belfry of the above church on April 26th to appoint e Ringing Master in the place of the late Mr. Albert Coppock.
The Right Rev. Neville S. Talbot, D.D., M.C. Vicar of St. Mary's, presided, and on lis special recommendation the ringers (with the exception of Miss Thompson, who expressed 8 wish not to wote) unalimously elected Mr. Raiph Narborough as their Ringing Master.
Mr. Narborough has been a member of this band sinee 1929 , and he has the good wishes of tha band now under his leadership. He was formerly Ringing Master at St. Peter's, Wisbech, and formerly represented tha old Central Northants Association on the Central Council.

THE FALSE PEAL OF CAMBRIDGE.

To the Editior.

Dear Sir,-It was very generous of Mr. O. F. Kippin to take the entire blame for the false peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung ot Edenbridge.

My proving of the peal, as I thought, was entirely separate from the plan used by Mr. Kippin, but in both cases the course head 25346 was the stumbling-block, and I wish to offer my sincere apologies to the band who rang the peal for the oversiglit (ffyst foumd by Mr. Kippin), which was as much, or more, my fault than it was Mr. Kippin's.

A guarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devonshire Guild was held at Bickington, near Newton Abbot, on Saturday, when ringers were present from Kenn, Newton Abbot, Buckfastleigh, Gollaton, Paignton and Cockingtou. Ringing commenced on the hindy peal of six bells after three o'clock, and a service was later held in church, conducted by the Rep. W. ER. D. Mills, chairman of the branch, in the absence of the Vicar of Bickington, who was away roon home. The collection for tho Guild Bells Restoration Fund monumted to 4 s . 9 d .

Aiter ten the usual business meeting was held, the Rev. R. D. Millg presiding.
The Chairman reported that he had interviewed Mr. Pope regarding his resigation, but without eucceas.

It was also reported that the General Committee had made a grantr to the branch towards instruction purposes, but that it had not yet been received.
The secretary reported that he had the arrangements in hand regarding the proposed joint meeting with the Exeter Branch at Teignmouth on June 12th, and after a discngsion it was resalved to apply for the bells of Bishopstoignton only, in addition to St. Michael's, Teignmoutl].
Apologief for absence were received from the president of the Guild, the genoral secretary and Mr. O. R. Lilley.
The following were unanimonsly elected non-resident members of the Guikd, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kippin and Mr. D. Oooper, of Croydon, and Mr, and Mrs. F. W. Housden, of Tunbridge Wells. of certificate was presented by tho chairman to Mr. Richard Cann, of Crakington band.
Il was regolved to hold the next meeting at Kingskerswel] on Saturday, October 16th, subject to the mecessary permission being abtained. Hearty votes of thanks, accorded the Vicar of Bickington for the $11 s c$ of his church and bells, Mr. Christopler for presiding at the mrgan, ank the secwetary for the arrangements, coneluded the business, and the party retaraed to the tower for further ringing-

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

THFRTTTN MEMBERS ELECTED AT BARKSTON MEETING. A quarterly meeting of the Gouthern Dibtrict was beld at Barkston recently and was well attended, some 25 vingers being present from Peterborough, Granthan, Rotherlam, Market Deeping, Bilhinfborough, Donuington, Hough-on-the-Hill, Blankney, Folkingharn, and Barlston. The musical aud good going peal of six was dwaileble for rimging during the aftemoon and evenmg, and was kept going to a veriety of methods, meluding Plais, Treble Bob and Surpriac. Service was conducted by the Recter, the Rev, F. A. Thorold Eiler, Who gavo a helpful and interesting address and extended a jearty welcome to the visiting ringers. He explained that lie retumed to England in 1931, after being in Canada for 25 years, and one of the greatest joys to him on his return to this land wis the sound of church belfs coming across the green felds. He hoped ringers from the various parishes represented at the meeting would endeavour to ring their own bells Sunday by Sunday and to roalise the duty anil privilege that was entrusted to them. He was sure the average Englishman appreciated the soumd of churel balls twice on a Sunday, even if they did not aften attend a place of worship. Tea was served in one of the large and spacious reome at the Rectory, with a beautifin viow ecross Syston Park, looking jts bast in the follage of spring.
At the business meeting Mr. F. W. Stokes (genaral Eecretary of the Guild) presided, and 13 nevw performing members of the branch werc elected, wiz., T, T. Allen, A. E. Chilton, A. Chilton, G. S. Collishaw, G. Greasey, F. Carford, S. Wilson, all of Billingborough; J. Whitmore, A. Wilson, Mrs. Coupland, Miss Muriel Wilson, Miss Maud Faulkner, Miss Violet Talmer, aII of Rippingale.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at. Billingborongh in July. The meeting concluded with a henrty vote of thanks to the Rector for lis hospitality and for the use of tho bells and the service, and also to the organist.
The tower was again visited nad it was grafifying to gee a good master of young ringers, some ringing their first touch in a method. The bollis were lowared in pal at 8.30 , aud this coucluden a very successful mooting.

400 YEARS OF BELL HISTORY.

ANCIENT IRING RGSTORED IN FAMPSHIRE VILAGE.

One of the most interesting churches in the diocese of Guildford has just had its six bells restored. The village of Crondall, just inside the Haupshire border, goes hack to Roman times; in Saxon days the manor was held by King Alfred. It passed through Jis successors to king ldgar, who left it in his will, dated A.D. 976 , ' to the Church of the fenerated Trinity, lovingly dedicated to Peter and his co-Apostle Paul, in the city of Winchester, as a perpetual pension for the support of the monks dwelling thercin, for the propitiation of my eins, and those of my sons, and of the people of the entire kingdom.' The nature and extent of the gift is described as " a certain portion of land, forty-five cassates, in the famots plase, which is called by tle well-known name, Crundel.
The Donesday $1300 k$, 1086, records that ' the Bishop holds Crundele; it has always belonged to the Church." It goes on to state "There is a church there, worth twenty shilinges, This churels, of course, was Saxon, the sole relic of which is the font.
During the latter half of the $12 t$ h century the present Norman charcl, dedicated to All Saints, was built. This consisted of a nave, with two lemn-to aisles and chancel, and a central tower over the whancel arches. To the north of the ehancel, a stair turret still exists, which gave access to the rood loft, and also to the great central tower
The bosses in the chancel roof bear the stamp of having been carved by one of the carvers who were engaged at Canterbury, under Wiliam de Sens, c.1176. There are two styles at Canterbury, the second being derived from the first, but diferent from it in many respects. The second style epread to various places in Sussex, Hampshire, Surrey and elsewhere. But the first stylo of Canterbiry has not been met with anywhere but in the Cathedral itself and at Orondall
The stability of the ancient Norman tower hecame a matter of serious urgency in the year 1642. In that year a new bell frame was placed in the old tower. and the bells relung. In 1653 the old tower was re-leaded, after which it was evident that the last straw had been added to the camel's back, and steps had to be taken to remove the old tower and brild a uew one. This was cartied out in 1657 , and the mresent tower built in 1659; the bell frame, which had been made in 1642, being transferred from the old tower to the new. It still bears the date of its making, and the names of the churchonarcleus and carpenter.

BERT FRAME 300 YEARS OLD

$D_{\text {clls }}$ in the ald Norman tower can so traced in the chutchwardens ${ }^{3}$ nccounts as far hiek as 1543, when repairs were charged for 'the third bell,' ' the great bell,' 'the second bell ' and "the foremost hell." In 154b one 'Olyver of Froyle' mended 'nll tive iiii bell clappers.'
The bell france of 1642 was obvionsly made to carty six bells, but it is not known exactly when the rins was inereased.
The troble bell hears the inseription: Fienry Knight made this hell 1616. W.B.' This helt was recast in 1556. and again in 1616. A hell, not specifiad, was recast in 1586. probably the treble bett.
No. 2 bell has the inseription : William Baker and George Burt, churchwardens, 1619. H.E.' There is no specific reference to this in the nocounts
No. 3 hinll
hell is inserihed thus:
Robert Wells, Aldbourn, Wilts, fecit, 1788.' This was a recasting.

No. 4 bell has a curious inseription : 'This gell gayued by william Baker, and his naplorg W.C., E.F., G.B., B.H., 1616: and new cast by H. Knight, 1619. This, again, is not mentioned in the accounts.
No. 5 bell lias $^{2}$ Lntin liexameter line for its inseription: Me resonarg jubet pietas, mors, atque veluptas, 1650. William Baker and William Reaves, Clurchwardens.

The tewor bell records that it was made by Robert Wells, of Aldliourne, Wilts, in 1788. This bell was reenst in 1616, and, before that, was ruentioned in the earliest accounts of 1543
The tenon was baclly out of tune and lias now been recast by Messrs. Marrs and Stainhauk, who have retured and rebung the rest of the hells. The old frame, which proved to be in excellent condition, has heen retained and strengthened, and given the additional support of three beams of fustraling jarriah wood.
There is a chrious entry to the ringing room. The ringers use the old stairway that formerly led to the roed toft, then pass across an extermal wooden bidge, to the doorway leading into the riaging chamber in the now tower.
The tenor bell has again been recast as a memorial to Capt. Cecil Mnxwell-Lefroy. C.M.G., R.N., and now bears three inscriptions: Recast 1616," its 1788 inscription, and a new one, viz. ' 'Recast, 1937 C. R. Ansor, T. W. Taylor, Churchwazdens. R. P. Butterfeld, Vicar.' A memorial tahlet or plate will also hear the inscription: 'To the menoly of Caplatin Cecii Maxwell-Tefrop, C.M.G. RI.N. The tenor bell restored by his wifo, Bentrice W. Maxwell-Lefroy 1937 .'
The greater part of the cost has been raised withoy the parish, but anoug the gifts from ortside wrs a domation of 30 guineas fromi $S$ t. Grass Hospital. Winchester.
The resiored bells were fledicated by the Bishop of Gnilkford on Sundry week in the presence of a large congregation, whicin included Mrs. Maxwell-Lefroy amd her Eon, Mr. J. R. Maxwell-Lefroy, who took part in the procession to the tower.

ARCHITECTS AND BELI RESTORATIONS.

 To the Editor.Sir,-I know nothing of the circumatances at Thelford, other than as roported in your issite of April 16th, but, putting personal mattere aside, there is, I think, a good deal to be said for the Advisory Committrees' work. All bell founders or hangers are not equally competent, nor are all ringers even, zud certainly not churchwardens. There is a tendency sometimes to examgerate the antigne side at the expense of the practical, bat there is rertainly an equal tendency to do the opposite. This is where the Advisory Committee is, or slould be, able to guide both sides into the right clannels. To do this they must havo on the committee some competent architect and some corrpetent ringer witl a knowledge of winat is good art as well as what is practical. The obvious person for this latter duty is the president or Master of the local Diocesan Guild. And it is certainly time that the Guilds got tagether, perhaps through the medium of the Central Counci, and pressed for a represeatative on the Adrisory Committecs. In my diocese this has alremly been done without pressure, the Bishop invitiag me, as Ringing Master, to be a nember.
Some trouble is uydoubterly caused by antiquaries ignovant of the axt of ringing, but, in my experience, there is far more danger frum the desire to have something new and perfect at the expense of axt. All pre-Reformation bells and a good many cast simee should be treated primarily from the art side. To cut the cannons off a good old bell unnecessnrily is a crime.
Prior to my appointment, within tho last few years in one towar alone three medizval bells, uncracked, were put into the melting pot, and the other had fts camnons removed when a ring of six was installed. This is merely one instance of many. As an instance of gooll work, take the following. A tower with one medimal bell requiring a complete ring. It was decided locally, with the aivice of the founder, to cast a complele ring and leep the mediryal as an art founder, to cast a complete ring and keep he medisval as an art treasure. Bat supposing the contract had appeared before the Advisory Board with the molusion of this ancient bell to be reenst, they to be considered 'silly old fossils' heanise they refuse to recommend the faculty? If sa, T am a silly old fossil.
Due conld 80 on indefinitely, but $I$ hawe already writen enomgh show that, in my riew, it is not the existence of the Advisory Buart which is Wrong, but the fact that probably in some cases they not go wide erlough in their membership. It is, of course, alsurd boteh up an old wood frame if the parish is prepared to go to in expense of a new ove ; hut is it so equally absurd to refuse a grant alter entirely the character of an old bell lyy cutting off its cannor tuless there is some defect which makes this desirable? "NEMO.

WORM-EATEN TRAME 'TOO OLD TO BE DTSTROYFD.

Dear Sir,-In reference to your recent leader, with which quite agree, the Bishop's Advisory Committee certainly use very lit commonsense in some of their decisions, as, for instance, when they decided that the old worm-eaten frame in which the siz bells at Soliam Toney, Norfolk, had swang for so many years was too old to be stroyed, and lad it fixed over tha new frame, an excellent teat stroved, and liad it fixed over the new frame an excellent teak one intend making a ohnrge for wiowint heritance and an inspiration, and the efforts of Croncall chnichpeople in restoring their sucient peals of belis showed that they were not forgotten.

The collection, which was for the New Cathedral Fund, amounted to £7 16s. 10d
After the service tho local ringers first rang, and then ringers from vaxions parts of the diocese took part in touclies of Minor and Doubles on the restored bells. Mr. A. A. Hughes, representing the firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, took pert in the riuging.
There was a large gathering of vingers aud friends at Crondall last Saturday, when a joint meeting of the Farmham District of the Guild ford Diocesan Guild and the Southern District of the Ladies' Guilt was held. Some good ringing was enjoyed in spite of the bells being hung anti-eloekwise. The Rer, R. P. Butterficld (Vicar of Crondall) conducted the Guild service and interested the ringers with an address on the history of the Crondall Church and bells.
Tea was served at The Cricketers, a compary of nearly 50 sitting down. The Tarnhana District business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, and three ringing members and one honotary member were elected.

Mr. J. W. Carter (Seale) congratulated the Vicar, ringers ama all concernecl uyon the carrying oni of the work of restoration in the tower. The bellis were now a pleasure to ring, he said.
The Vicar responded aud a yote of thanks was accorded to the Wicar, the organist and local ringers with acclamation.
The Ladies' Guild business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Bruce. It was decided to hold the annual districh meeting at Frewsham in June, and tlie next quarterly meetivg at Aldershot on Octohur 30 th.
Ringing in the evening was directed by Mr. R. Hasted (District Ringing Master) and Kiss FI Mills (hon. secretary, Ladies' Guild). Representatives were present from Ash, Aldershot, Seale, Worplesdon, Fleet, Farnham, Bramley (Hants). Bentley, Haslemere, Yorktown, Frensham, Long Sutton, Pirhright, Porlsmonth and the local company:

EIGHTY-NOT OUT.

MR. GEORGE WIELTAMS, OCTOGENARIAN

Last Friday, Mr. George Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portswouth Diocesan Gnidid, reached the age of 80 years, and received the congratulations of many friends. Unfortunately a peal of Stedman Caters on the bells of North Stonchum Chureh in honour of the event was cost after about an hour alld q quarter's ringing, much to the disappointment of all the band, not least to the conductor, one of George Williams' many pupils. In the comb-out of a rather bad mix up, after some excellent ringing on this almost toy-like ring of ten, therg was a charge course, and, despite the occasion-well, that was that.
Of course, it was not the first peal George Williams had lost, nor even the first on a great ocension, and le took it widh the philosophical calm that has beer a characteristic of his loug ringing life. Has anyone ever seen George Willams excited, or Fuffed temper? I never have and I have known him for gearly 45 years. He still smiles his way ihrougls life, with that merry winkle in his eye, that is so well known to his friends.

Last Fridey I found him at lis home at Eastleigh, where he lias lived since he gave up work, sutronnded by many reminders of his long career in rinting, and which recalled to me events of 40 yeats ot so ago. Fon instance, there was a framed record of the first peal rumg by a lady, whest Mrs. Witliatms zevg 1-2 to a peal of Gravdsire which her husbend sonducted. Then there was the photoreapla of a group taken outsido Wiachester Cathedral 1899 after the first peal of Stiedman Caters in Hampshire and by

MR. GEORGE WILLIAMS. the Winchester Guild.

- We thenglt we had done something to falk about when we rang 13yb peal, George.' I said to lime.

Tes, and so we had,' he reptied. "Peals were peals in those days and yon bad to enom them.

And so we did. Those whose parals in these rays come almosfor for the asking hardy realise the difficulties that had to be overcome. When Georre Wiliams rang his first peal, Jung at Soberton, Fants, which incidentally wits the itst peal in the counly by the then newlyformen Wiuchester Guild, two comaties hat to be scoured to hind ringers capable of ringing a peal of Grandsire Triples.
Since those days Mr. Williams has readered yeoman service the the canse of ringing not only in Sussex and Hampsinire in particular, but in the Txercise in general. It lias been the encouragement be has gipen to roungsters throughont his long life that is Elie outstanding merit of his carery. Scores and scores he has tauglit to ring; scores and scores of olherg owe their advancement to him. I ams among the latter, and gratefully I acknowledge the encouragement I received from hinu when, as a lad, $I$ was privileged to join in the practices at St. Petier's, Buiglitan, when that society were making histoly in adiranced method ringing, but were never too concerned wibl their aftairs to give opportunities to one mach below their awn ringing stature. George Willians was the rumspring heland the progress nade at St. Peter's. His chcouragement of the lesser fry, however, helpet to make viggers of the tuture; and lie was as ready to ring a peal of Grandsira Tuples for a beginner as la was to ring a peal of London Surprise or in some new method with his awn accomplished bald.
And thus he has gone on though the years, giving his service to helping others and gaining his own rewatd therehy. He was for years a district seeretary of the Sissex Connty Association when he lived at Brighton, and when he left was wade an honorary life member. After returning to his mative Hampahire lie filled the office of hon. secrelary of the Winchester Diocesan Ginild, of whinh he was afterwards mads a vice-president and Master-offices which, under the enlarged title, he still holds.

At North Stoneham, the tower with which he hecame associated when living at West End, near Southampton, ho built up a new hand and quickly got the bells nugmented to eight. T'o celebrate their golden wedding Mr. and Mrs. Williams gave tavo new treble bells, and recantly, in mennery of his wife, who diet abont two years ago, Mr. Williams presented to the church a handsome oali belfry sereen, to which, on his sotl\} birkhay, was attached a bell netal tablet r'ecording the purpose of the rift. It has effected a great jmprovement in the conditions for ringing, which is done on the ground floor and was formerly open to the church.
George Williams is 80 years yonng, and the wish of all his many friends will be that he may long be spared to enjoy the art of which he has been such a brilijant exponent. Ho has now rung 1,422 peals, of which hu has conducted oper a thousand.

NEW BELLS IN SUFFOLK VILLAGE

SCOKE ASH RING AUGMENTED TO FIVE.

A ring of live bells las been ingtalled in the Parish Church of the lititle vilage of Btoke Asls, in Suffolk, and they were dediented ons Sunday week by the Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich. Tius tower Iormerly contained four bells of considombla age, but they had got into at very dilapidated and dauserous condition.
Some time ago the Iate Mrg. Brance Bower1, widow of tho lato Rev, E.J. O. Bowen, bequeathed the sum of $£ 100$ to tho Church Conncil to spend and use on the bells in memory of her husband, who was Rector [rom 1898 to 1920. This amoutt was insumient to neet tho cost of procuring at peal of five bells, and an appenl for further help, in conjunction with mappeal for a new organ, was made, anci ns it result the sum of £112 was collected.
The Churel Council decided to have some of the bells recast, ruil the work was entrusted to Mr. Alfred Bowell, of ipswich. Nos, 1 and 2 were cast from a part of tho old tenor bel, which was of the pteReformation period. The part bearing the inscription is now in the charch. The two new bells bear the iuscription, "Alfred Bowoll, Founder, Ipswich. Cast from old Tenor Bell, 1937.' No. 3 is athother ancieat bel beariug the inscription, 'William Dobson, Fouader, Downham, Norfolk, and was in good condition. Na. 4 was recast, heing an old Bury bell, and bears the inseription, 'Reanst by Bowell, w Ipswich. Coronation of George VI., May, 1937. F. H. R. Perkins, Rector. G. H. Lammis, E. F. Poppy, Churchwardens.' No. 5, 爪] 3 wy bell of the period 1527-1587 and bearing the inseription, "Saneta Anm Ore. Pro Noblis,' wes iu good order
The weights of the bells are: Treble, 2 cwb, 3 qr. 17 1b.; 2not, teror, 6 cwt .2 gr .24 lb ; ; f totial weight of $20 \mathrm{cwt}$.2 qr .8 lb .

Tlive churule could not hold all who sought to be present at whe dedication, and over a hundred were mable to oblain arimissions, The congregation inchded ringers from far and nent, including the Master of Lise Suffolk Guild of Ringers, Mr. C. J. Sedgley, and fol lowers of canpanology from Bentley, Boxford, Braiseworth, Cotilun, Cretinglam. Debondam, Eye, Goldianger, Helwingham, Ipswich, Genton, Mendesham, Norwich, North Walsham, Saxliugham, Sprough ton, Wetheringsett, Wickhan Skeith, Woodbridge, Wymondlams Thorndon, Thomban, Stouham, Diss, Newmarkel, Wrentham, Eal grave and Garlictdislian.
The service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev, T. H. Th, Perkins, commenced with the singiag of the lijmm, "Unclanning God, followed by the 84th Psalm. The first lesson was read by tho Rev. P. T. E. Wravehan, and the choiv rendered the anthem, Mrake a joyful noise.
The second lesson was read by the lev. W. E. Mattinson, nud the Bishop and the clarey then procecded to the ringing chanber, where the churchwartens, Mr. Lumtnis and Mr. Poppy, were awnitigy then. After the dediuatory prayers the bels were rung in rounds whilo the procession relured to the chatree. The Biehop, in his address, reforred to the bainistry of the late Rev. E. C. J. Bowen, and spokt of the place of the bells in the lives of the people and history of the mation. The call to prayer and worship, he sata, ought to he answered more regururly than it was at present. To attend chureh for worship was the heiglat of good living.

At the conclusion of the service 120 Bob Dathles was ? Poppy 1. Miss Plirllis Tillett 2, Miss Eleanor Reeve 3, Miss Berthi Recve 4, Miss stylvia Bower 5. The ladies me ringerg at [pswich. Afterwarls visiting ringers in turn maly on the bells and later wert entertained to tua in the Purisin Room, where the Rector dhandeal them for their interest.

CLERICAL RINGING WEEK

VISLTS TO MANY CFURCHES ROUND EVESHAM

The clerical ringing week was held this year with headquarters at Evesham, ngain under the efficient lendership of the Rev. E. V. Cox (Brampford Speke, Devon). The rest of the pariy were as follows: The Revs. E. G. Beason (Burghill), F. G. Benson (Nyasalani), ©. Carew Cox (Lyme Regis), F. L! Edwards (Kington Magna), E. B. Gumes (Fareham), F. H. S. Marle (Deane), the Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Powell (Staverton), the Revs. B. T. Sheppard (Canabrigge), A. G. G. Phurlow (Wukingham), w. M. K. Warren (Binegar), C. Elliot Wigg Tiigh Wyeonibe) and R. F. Wilkinson (Ordsall) and Mr. Chris. W. Woolley, who had somehow forgotten to bring his clerical collar with him ( 0 , these forgetful clergy!), and althongh he is sometimes known its a wizard, he couldn't manafe to produce one! Some of us were, unforturately, only able to appear for part of the week.
The programme opener of April 5th, punctually at 230, at Ashdurch, near Tewkesbuy, where the six bells were raised and lowered in peal (this was always done when possilue), and rang Bob Minor, Cambrilge and Stedman. Mr. Harris kindly met and rang with us. After tauches of Kent and Oxford at Overbury ( 6 , tenor $9 \% \mathrm{cwt}$.), we were kindly invited to tea by the Vicar: whence we went on to Bredon's Norton ( 6 , teyor 6 cwt.). where Mr. Attwood met us. Here the back five are by Rudhall. After spliced Kent and Oxford (when some wit remarked that the clergy had oftea spliced people, but not mathods before), etc., we went to our headquarters, the Hamptom House Hotel, Evesham, a very nice place, where they do not mind if yor ring handbells till midnight.

SALLY NEARLY SEVEN FFET LONG.

On Tresday we arrived first at Timley Castle ( 6 , temor 18 awt.), where the two trebles want thaing badly. Here wa rang Cambridge, and, after 'a little someting' at the Vicarage, wento on to Little Comberton ( 6 ), and Great Comberton ( 6, tenor 8 cwt .), where the Rev. J. F. Hastings (who was, turfortmately, only able to be with us for a few henrsi nearly got stuck in the narrow staircase. After Stedmnu nul Double Court, we found a delightful spot near the River Avon (don't ask me which Avon! for picnic luneb. Then on to Croome D'Abitot. Fere the key, whiel ought to have been in the funt, or under the harmonium, or somewhere, liad to be fetched some तistance. After a long delay, which E. V. stood with amazing patience, we eventually got up to the bells, which hadn't been rung for two years. However, E. Y's castor oil worked wonders, and the heils were soon going. The tenor sally is nearly 7 ft . long. It was rather cusious, while raising her, to have the top of the sally rising at landstroke, while the bottom was still coiled up in one's hand! How did the pigeons, hatcling in the bell charaber, like ont Grandsire, I monder?

Then to Pershore Alhey $\{8$, tenor 31 ewt. $\}$, where we rall Stedman amd Bob Major, suspended 'twixt heaven and amrth-heaven seemed terrifyingly near, and earth an tucomfortable distance away! Affer n hasty look round the glorious church and the nearhy Church of St. Andrew, where the siz are to be restored, we had tea at the Vicarage ; then to Norton (St. Egwin, 6 bells, tenor 15 cwt .). After Grandsire and Cambuidge here and dinner at Evesham, the day finished with London, etc., at Hampton ( 6 , tenor 912 cwi.), where we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Hemming and other friends.
We started at Offenham (5) on Tuesdar, and there ranc Queens and 'fired ' the bells for the Vicar and Mrs. Combs' wedding anmiversary. Then to Badsey, a nice ring of 8 , tenor 15 cwt. After Double Norwich we went to Child's Wiekham (6, tenor 11 cwt .), where tho ringers of 4 and 5 can see their bells swinging. Unconducted touches are the most sutecessful the this plece. Mary Lane is buried here; she died, aged 133, in 1741. Thon to Willersey, a nice 6 by Rudisil, tenor 11 , cwt. Here Mr. Featli rang with us, and later we liad a 720 of Cambridge. At Snintbury, very near by, we rang Stedman, etc., on a nice ring of 6 , temor $11 \frac{1}{2}$ ewt., and also liad the pleasure of ringing with Miss Mavis Brighton. Next, at Mickleton 18 , tenor 18 owt.), we rallg Treble Boh (both variations) and Double Norwich and Stedman. Messrs. L. Kinclin and $F$. Tufley ranc with us, while Cyril Tumfley, eged 8t, showed us how to ring a bell solo. At Bretforten ( 6 , tenar 8 ewt.), Mr. Perkins met us, and we rang Kent, etc. After a touch of London, off to dinner at Evesham. After this the Cambridgo Guild members rang Grandsire Cingnes and Bob Major and Rognl, Double Norwich, etc., on latidbells, other members joining in too.

An interesting church.

Thursday hegan with Stedman ard Canbridge at Biaford-on-Avon (6, tenor 13 wow ). At Alcester (6), tho 5th slipped wheel and set during the first touch. After profuring enough keys to unlock all the doors in Alcester, the Vicar's danghter kindly found the bell c:lamber key, and we cifhted things and had time for a short touch lefore leaving for Stratford-on-Avon. Here we pang Cambridge and Double Norwich on a beautiful Ting of eight (tenor $17 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.), and uttor lunch, r photograph and a look at Eliakespeare's tomb. went ou to Snitterfield, where the Rev. Thonas met us, and we much enjoged Bob Minor. etc., on g fine six (tenor reputed 20 cwt.). At Quinton (6. tenor i9 cwt.) the Vicar. who afterwards kindly gave us ten, seemed rather perturbed at Feing told that his tenor would eventually rome off the headstuck if not tightened mp. At Chipping Camden ( 8 , tencr 25 cwt.) we were delighted to find one of the most beautiful (Contirued fan next columo.)

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
DISAPPOINITNG ATTENDANCE AT TENHAM MEETING.
The 'luxury meeting,' as it was termed by Mr. C. L. Toutiledge, held at Fenham, proved unsuccessful from the point of view of the attendance, only 15 members sitting down to tea when nearer 50 werc expected. The feelings af those present, however, werc not damper and good use was made of the bells, Cambridge Sunprise Major Dufficid and Douhle Bub Major, the special methed, being the, most noteworthy methods hrought round.
In the alisence of the vice-president, Mr. M. D. Onbridge, Mr Routledge presided over the meeting and thanked the Vicar, Canon S. Redman, for the usc of the bells. The Vicar, in replying, referter to the fine effect produced by the use of the new silencers. Thic bells were almost irandible at the foot of the tower, but at a distanoe they re sweetly and clearly heard.
Mr. John Anderson thanked the ladies for the splendid tea.
It was decided that no meeting should be held on Whit Monday, but St. Paul's, Whitley 酸ay, was proposed for the Satireday following i.e., May 26th, and Loudon Surprise Major was adopted as the special method for practice.

A district practice was also proposed for May 6th at St. George's, Jesmond where the bells have been recently reluug. Botil proposals were agreed to.
The secretary informed the meeting that the report of the suhcommititee on Coronation ringing was not jet ready.
Following the adjoumment, the handbells were rung to Grandsire Caters, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, and further ringing took place in the tower.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

PRESWNTATION TO FORMER CARY DEANERY SGORETARY
A gathering of about 30 ringers attended the meeting of the Cary Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association at Erutor on Saturday, April 24th. Tourteen towers were represented and visitors were welcomed from Melkshm, Pensford, Zeals and Stourton Tinging in verious methods of Donbles and Minor took place in the afternoon and evening.
At the business meeting fullawing the ter the president (Rev. F. H Lang presented Mr. E. F. Creed with an inscribed iulaid barometer a a token of appreciation of his work as hon. secretary of the brancl since 1919. Mr. Crecd taught first lessons in change ringing at many that day many of his pupils of peats ago.
The secretary (Mr. W. A. Osborne), speaking on the subject Cororation ringing, said that he hoped ail tower leaders would mat careful arramgements for ringing, and suggested that if a full pea was not possible a half or quarter-peal should be attempted, bu whatever ringing was done nothing should be attempted that cond not be perfectly dane. The times for ringing should be arranged to fit in with the local celebrations, but no ringing should take piac during the Abbey service broadcast or other important broadoasts.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the clergy, organist and chon and to the ladies who provided the tea of the little Cotswold towns, with a grand church, similar in man ways to Northleadh, with some fine ald brasses, and the oldest cope and altar frontal, etc., still remaining in its own church in England The cope dates from 1380 , and the altar frontal (1480) was copied by command of Queen Mary for the high altar of Westminster Abbey for the Concnation in 1911. Here we rang Double Norwich, Stednan etc.

After dinner we visited the Bell Tower at Evesham, built by Clement Liehfeld, the last shhot of Evesham but one, mbout 1525. Here wo enjoyed Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Kent and Bob Royal on the fine ring of 10 (tenor 31 cwt.), and were very pleased to meet Mr. Hemmirg atud other friends again.
An important discussion took place at the hotel in the evening. On Friday the only peal attempt of the weck (Double Norwich) 'went west 'after a little over an hour. This was at Hinton-on-the-Greer After rivging Cambridge, otc, during which Miss Johnsod reng with us, we went on to lunch at Broadway, another delightful Cotswoid village. After Douhle Gourt, etc, on the fine six at Broadway Old Church. or to Stanton, perhaps the least spoilt of all the villages we saw. Camhridge, etc., on the six here was followed by tea at Stow-on-the-Wold. We had meant to ring handluells in the foul counties round the Pour Shire Stone nearby, but as no one thought of bringing hamdbells, we contented ourselves with an manalical course of Bob Minor on some of the table bells in the cafe at Slow At Stow Church, our last tower, the Rev. Fare met us, and we had a pleasant finish to the week with Stedman and Bob Major on a fine eight (tenor 30 cwt.).
In conchusion, we should like to thank the clergy for the use of their towers, those clargy and their wives who gave us tea and other refreshment, the steeplekeepers and other ringers who rang with ut, and most of all the Rev. E. $V$. Gox, to whose wonderfully efficient organisation the success of a most kelightful week was so largely tue

Cleanse and preserve your skin this simple way

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM, a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too-when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically-working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers - everyone - witl welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

RINGERS 'DID THEIR BIT.'

Well and truly did the bells of old England, and of Wales and Scotland, too, celebrate the Coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth. There was, of course, never any doubt that they would play their traditional part, hut if the information, which has ever since been pouring in to us, is any criterion, never before has so much ringing been done on one day. Peals there were in plenty-our peal columns will testify to that-and hall peals, and quarter peals innumerable, to say nothing of the infinite number of shorter touches which were rung. The little villages have contributed their share as well as the towns and cities; indeed the villages, just as they have more than held their own with their greater neighbours in their decorations and celebrations, have vied with the more populous places in the enthusiasm of their ringing.
Early and late the bells were singing. In several cases a $6 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. start heralded the day, and in one instance at least-at Guildford-ringing at If p.m. was part of the ordered programme of the day. And the bells were only a part of the expressed love and loyalty of this country to the throne, which is deep rooted in the hearts of the peopie. It was not only London, the centre of the solemn ceremonies, and the setting of the great pageant, that rejoiced. Everywhere the public, in their masses, and in every walk of life, joined in the celebrations, and those who imagine that a monarchy in this country is but a decaying institution must have realised last week that they are woefully out of touch with the real spirit of the nation. The sounds of the bells, if they heard them, must have jarred upon them as they often do upon those who, on other occasions, neglect the things to which the bells direct attention Sunday after Sunday.

Ringers themselves will be able to look back with satisfaction to the part they played on May 12th, 1937. Many old hands, while taking their share in the events of the day, were able to recall their exploits of previous Coronations, for quite a number must have counted this as the third in which they have liclped in the celelorations at the end of a bell rope. Younger ringers, as they get on, will have happy recollections. Many of them rang their first peal or their first quarter peal. In a few cases whole bands have scored their first peal and there could have been no more auspicious occasion for so doing. To record the activities of ringers on Coronation day we have this week enlarged 'The Ringing World,' but so great has been the demand upon our space that even four extra pages will not accommodate all the reports sent to us and there are many other peals and interesting items of news to appear in our later issues.
