PEAL RINGING IN 1953

AN indication was given at Newcastle last Whitsun that peal ringing in 1953 was not equal to 1952 despite the inspiration provided by the Coronation, which produced some of those 'once in a lifetime' peals. The total for the year was 2,566 , compared with 2,619 in 1952 and 2,915 in 1951. The drop is entirely due to the lack of popularity of handbell peals. The total of these was 154, compared with successive years of $223,293,362$ and 382. Unless there is a revival, handbell peal ringing will soon be a forgotten art.

The following table gives the general trend of peals on tower bells:-

| :--- | :--- | :--- | ---: | ---: | ---: | ---: | ---: |
| Maximus | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 27 | 36 | 39 | 31 | 47 |
| Cinques | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 55 | 43 | 48 | 50 | 43 |
| Royal | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 96 | 82 | 121 | 86 | 109 |
| Caters | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 97 | 86 | 104 | 89 | 99 |
| Major | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 887 | 906 | 997 | 938 | 1,052 |
| Triples | $\ldots$ | $\ldots$ | 331 | 339 | 315 | 297 | 335 |
| Minor & Doubles | 919 | 904 | 1,008 | 870 | 839 |  |  |

Twelve-bell ringing maintained its own. Nineteen Guilds or Associations scored peals in higher numbers, St. Martin's Guild leading with 24 , followed by Leicester Diocesan Guild with 13. Leicester's experiment in Spliced Surprise Maximus, which culminated in a peal in 12 methods, was one of the highlights of the year. There was a drop of Surprise Maximus peals from 31 to 23.

It was a better year for ten-bell peals, as these totalled 193 against 168 in 1952. These were spread among 36 Guilds and Associations. There were 60 peals of Surprise Royal against 49 and 67 in the two preceding years. Cambridge with 27 and Yorkshire with 17 were both an advance on the previous year. Leading associations for tenbell ringing were Stafford Archdeaconry 15, Lancashire Association 14, Leicester Guild 12.

The year saw more peals of Major in Surprise methods than Plain, the respective totals being 455 and 432 . There were five more Surprise peals rung than in 1952. These were in 48 different methods. Cambridge held its popularity with 115 (last year 106), followed by Yorkshire 90 (81), London 51 (41), Superlative $35^{\circ}$ (48), Bristol 31 (14) and Rutland 14 (19). Splired Surprise totalled 35 peals (in 1951 there were 43). Being Coronation year probably accounted for Plain Bob showing an increase from 196 to 209. Double Norwich Court Bob Major dropped from 101 to 83 and Kent Treble Bob from 85 to 72.

Included in the record there are those debatable 12 peals of Plain Bob Triples. Grandsire Triples totalled 183 compared with 209, of which the Oxford Diocesan Guild rang 14, and Stedman Triples had 108 peals, one less than last year, with the Leicester Guild scoring 21.

Five and six-bell ringing showed an increase, 919 against 904 (Minor 647, Doubles 272). Outstanding performances were 42 methods. Doubles peal by the Archdeaconry of Stafford and a 35 method Minor peal by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. The four leading Associations for these lesser number of bells were: Essex 71 peals, Lincoln 65, Suffolk 56 and Kent 54. There were 276 one method peals of Minor and 129 of Doubles. Some of the Minor were Surprise, but the great majority were Plain Bob. We regard this as an encouraging sign, especially the one method Doubles peals. If a ringer can maintain concentration in a simple method for $2 \frac{1}{2}$ hours he has the ability to go forward. The village bells of England and Wales are one of the gems in the diadem of the nation's ringing.

For the fifth successive year the Leicester Diocesan Guild had most peals to their credit with 196 (206 in 1952). The order of the other leading Associations is as follows: 2 Lancashire 135 (147), 3 Essex 131 (108), 4 Kent 130 (155), 5 Oxford Diocesan 126 (115), 6 Lincoln 116 (118), 7 Suffolk 111 (90), 8 Chester 103 (108), 9 St. Martin's 102 (105), 10 Yorkshire 86 (86), 11 Norwich 84 (97), 12 Worcester 73 (81), 13 Stafford Archdeaconry 72 (94), 14 Winchester and Portsmouth 66 (81).

A glance at the handbell record for the year indicates that there are few centres where consistent ringing takes place. The Irish Association head the list with 20 peals, and it will be noted that all these peals are either in Minor or Doubles methods. Leicester Association followed with 17 peals, and to them came one of the highlights of handbell ringing during the year with a peal of Stedman Sextuples. Another was a great performance of 21 Spliced Plain Major methods by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, who rang in all 11 peals. The Bournemouth enthusiasts had a quiet year, but scored a peal of eight spliced plain methods. The total for the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild was 14. Oxford University did some good work during the year, mostly on six bells. They had a peal in 23 methods and another of 17 in Minor. In all 29 Guilds or Associations rang handbell peals.

The tables are the work of Messrs. Walter Ayre, Harry Miles and G. L. Grover, who deserve a vote of thanks for their arduous labours.

BALDOCK GUILD'S DINNER

Baldock Guild of Ringers will celebrate their 75th anniversary next May and this fact was mentioned to the members and their friends when they assembled for their annual dinner at the Rose and Crown, Baldock, on December 18th. A peal attempt during the afternoon was unsuccessful.
The menu was of Christmas fare, with turkey and plum pudding, with Canon Smith in the chair.
The toast of 'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr. E. R. Harriss, who suggested that a short prayer should precede ringing, and that an annual ringers' Communion be held to remind the Guild of its true motive.
In the absence of the Rev. G. Kenyon (Norton), Canon Edwards replied and agreed with Mr. Harriss' observations. He regarded the war-time ban on ringing as pathetic; what was needed was the proclamation of a living Church.
The achievements of the past year were recalled by Mr. R. T. Newman in submitting the toast of 'St. Mary's Guild.' He said the Guild was stronger now than ever before, in spite of gaps caused by National Service.

Mr. E. G. Buck, whose name was coupled with the toast, said that the Baldock ringers could not sit back, but must go forward as a band. He emphasised the necessity for good striking and gave a few details of two of the proposed outings-on April 16th to Watford and May 14 th into Cambridgeshire. May 21 st would be the 75th anniversary of the Guild.

Mr. H. S. Bonnett welcomed the ladies and visitors and said it was the first time the ladies had been invited to the dinner, although in the tower they had been found even upon the tenor box. Mr. G. W. Critchley acknowledged the warm welcome that is always extended to visitors.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Extract from 'The Ringing World, January 8th, 1915

LADIES' FIRST QUARTER PEAL

It has fallen to the ladies' band at Portishead, Somerset, to ring the first quarter peal for the Ladies' Guild. That there should be associated with one tower eight members of the fair sex capable of such a performance speaks volumes for the progress which ladies are making in regard to church bell ringing, and we can only believe this quarter peal to be a stepping stone to the first complete 5,000 by a company of ladies all belonging to one church. At any rate, the band seems to be exceptionally well placed to achieve this record.
The quarter peal, which was Grandsire Triples ... occupied 48 minutes, the band being: Misses Mabel Jukes (first quarter) 1, Blanche Mitchell 2, Adelaide Stokes 3, Dorothy Sage (first quarter) 4, Doris Coles 5, Edith Hole (conductor) 6, Nellie Gillingham 7, Mary Jukes 8 . All are residents of Portishead.
[The peal was rung only a few weeks later. The writer cannot recall one being rung at any other tower by a local all-ladies' band.]

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Ernest Morris addressed the City of Leicester Y.M.C.A. on December 22 nd on ${ }^{\prime}$ The History and Romance of the Bells.' He brought with him specimens of cow, sheep, camel, sleigh, horse and other bells.

Mr. F. Farrant, who has been secretary of the Ilchester Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association for 42 years, has just retired from office. During this long period he only missed two meetings. A fireside chair was one of the gifts he received from members. May he have many happy memories.

MR. SAM QUINTRELL'S  99th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Sam Quintrell, the celebrated ringer of St. Columb Major, Cornwall, was 99 on December 13 th, and on this actual day his own ringers rang specially in his honour. The occasion never passes now without this being done. The local ringers were Messrs. W. Crapp, J. Knight, F. Minnear, P. Thorpe, H. Caddy, J. Minnear, A. Minnear, F. Salmon, G. Key and R. Nelson.

Although Sam was born and bred in call change and competitive ringing he has now many good wonds to say for a well struck method, and a peal attempt has become an annual event also. This year the peal was successfully rung two days prior to his birthday, and by special request the tenor was not turned in. A peal which was a treat for Sam to listen to from his little house close by was the result.
After the peal the band paid him a visit and made him a little presentation. Sam expressed his appreciation for this and for the compliment of yet another peal. He was in reminiscent mood and talked of the past. He referred to the days when ringing was really hard work. He told us, too, that his mother had often told him that she witnessed, in 1827, the casting of the tenor bell in St. Columb tower, which was carried out in the old school yard. As we left, Sam waved us goodbye and said 'Come again next year.' Let us hope that we can truly celebrate Sam's centenary. It may well be a great ringing day at St . Columb.

The composition of 5,152 Spliced Surprise Major for the peal at Willesden on December 16 th was published in 'The Ringing World ' for 1943 on page 210 . It is the belief of the comductor, Mr. R. F. B. Speed, that this was the first time the composition was rung.

LATE NEWS

Bells will be heard before the broadcast of the evening service in the Welsh Home Service on January 16 th from St. Nicholas' Parish Church, Montgomery.

Mr. F. V. Sinkins, formerly of Slough, who will be 90 next month, ascended the 35 steps at St. Leonard's, Streatham, on Christmas morning and took part in the ringing for servioe. He rang the treble faultlessly in touches, including a 350 Grandsire Triples; he also rang for Sunday morning service. Mr. Sinkins claims to have rung on Christmas day for 78 years, excepting, of course, the 'ban' during the last war. He learned to ring at Slough at the age of 11. Is this a record?
A seasonable article on 'Christmas BellsArt and Method of Change Ringing ' appeared in the Christmas Eve publication of the "Harpenden Free Press.' It was written by J. D. P.
There was a gathering of veterans at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on December 18th, when eight ringing associates of the late Mr. William Pye rang a peal of Stedman Triples.

A loss to Shrewsbury ringing is the impending departure of Mr. W. A. Farmer for Cheltenham. From his pen have come many delightful articles on Salop bells and ringers.

All the ringers who took part in the first peal at Ashbocking, Suffolk, have now 'passed on.' They were remembered when a commemoration peal in the same method was rung on December 22nd.

With the peal at Gresford, Denbighshire, on December 18th, Messrs. Basil Jones, Leslie W. G. Morris, C. Kenneth Lewis, Edward Jenkins and John Worth have rung Mr. A. J. Pitman's composition of four Spliced Surprise Major methods in four countries during 1954.

North Weald ringers were honoured to have Mr. Stedman Symonds to conduct the first peal for Miss Wendy Bowak on December 31st. There was a previous attempt on December 18th which was lost halfway through due to that unwelcome individual 'Mr. Bob.'

GOSSIP

 the New Year our list of peal 40 or more peals during 1954. Details required by the hand 'separately, with the number in brackets after each of those peals conducted. It is not necessary to send a list of the peals.The peal at Whitwick, Leics, is the first peal by a Sunday service band at this tower for over 50 years.

Mr. Harold Haynes, of Harpole, Northampton, prefers circular diagrams to the orthodox upright style. He maintains that the methods are easier to learn.

The band which rang an 89th birthday compliment peal to Mr. John W. Jones, of. Newport, at Llangattock-Vibon-Avel, wish to express their thanks to Mrs. Wilson for her hospitality after the peal.

The ringers who took part in the peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary's, Redeliffe, Bristol, extend their hearty congratulations to Mr. Albert E. Reeves, who celebrated his 76th birthday the next day.

Mr. W. J. Robinson, who conducted his farewell quarter peal at Holy Trinity Cathedral, Guildford, on December 26th, had rung 141 peals and conducted eight in this tower since he joined the band in 1926. During these years he had rung 314 peals with Mr. A. H. Pulling.

Miss M. M. Butler, formerly of Shalford Surrey, writes from Durban of the great welcome that was accorded her by the captain (Mr. Wood) and ringers of St. Mary's Church, Woodstock, Cape Town. It was the first time she had rung since she left England for Northern Rhodesia two years ago. The late arrival of the ship at Durban prevented ringing there, but Miss Butler was hospitably entertained by Mr. Chambers, the Durban captain.

PEAL RINGING IN HAMPSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

THE effect that a single person can have on ringing is well illustrated in my own county of Hampshire, for the tower where the late Mr. George Williams rang at for the last 40 years of his life, North Stoneham, has recorded nearly three times as many peals as any other in the county. It was hoped that during the Patronal Festival in December, the 250 th peal on the bells would be rung. At the moment it is two short of this total. At the beginning of our story there were only six bells there and the first peal was only rung in 1905. Ten had been rung by the time the bells were augmented to eight in 1909. It was during this period that Mr. Williams came to live mearby, and from then onwards peals came with great regularity. Even the first war did not stop them, and as far as I am aware, North Stoneham is the only tower in the country where one or more peals were rung in each of the four years of the first world war. Between the wars 159 of the peals were rung, an average of almost eight a year. The highest number in any year was ten, so this shows how consistent the ringing was. The bells were augmented to ten in 1932 and became the lightest ring of ten in any church in the country (Grundisburgh is now). I think it would be true to say that they have never been very popular as a ring of ten, for less than half of the peals rung at Stoneham since 1932 have been on the ten-more have been on the original eight. The records of this tower will ever remain a memorial to the prowess of Mr. George Williams-one of the most prolific peal ringers of all times, despite the fact that he didn't score his first peal until he was in his thirties.

No other tower in the county has reached the century mark, the nearest being Portsea (Portsmouth, St. Mary's) (8) with 94 . These have come fairly consistently during the period under review, after the first peal was rung in 1892, but the average has been slightly higher since the last war, for 31 peals have been rung since then. The other Portsmouth tower, St. Thomas' Cathedral (8), comes next with 82 peals. Only 23 of these had been rung prior to 1939, so its 59 since the war makes it the highest scorer since then. One reason why peal attempts are now so frequent is that the Cathedral is in the middle of a 'blitzed ' area and the bells do not interfere now as much as they did with the life around. When it is built up again it is probable that the number of peals will diminish. Two towers which were far more popular before 1914 than since come next on the list-Fareham and Hawley (both 8). At the former, 76 peals have been rung, 63 prior to the first war ( 43 last century) and only 13 since 1914. Hawley has had only six of its total of 72 rung since 1914. so this tower appears less frequently still in the peal lists at the moment.
In mentioning St. Michael's. Southampton, which comes ncxt with 60 peals, we can turn to look at the towers according to the numbers of bells. This tower is one of the three 10 -bell towers in the county. It was an 8-bell tower at the beginning of the period, and the Rev. F . E. Robinson rang in the first peal there in 1894. Just before the first war 12 peals were rung and there were eight between the wars, so that 39 of the total have come since 1945. The bells were augmented in 1948 and it has proved to be a popular 10 -bell tower since then. The third 10 -bell tower in the courty is also in Southampton-St. Mary's. The bells (8) were put in during the first war and the first peal was rung in 1916. Thirty peals were rung from 1920 to 1939 , the bells being augmented in 1934 .

They were destroyed with the church in 1940 but were put back in 1948, being the first war-destroyed church in the country to have its bells back (and that before the church was rebuilt). Ten peals have been rung since then.

TWO 12-BELL TOWERS

There are two 12 -bell towers, Christchurch and Winchester Cathedral. Neither of them had 12 bells in 1881, so that all the 12-and 10-bell towers have become such in the last 40 years -quite a good record for a county in itself. Christchurch has had 54 peals rung there since 1888-31 before 1913, six from 1920 to 1927, eight from 1933 to 1939 and nine since the war. The Cathedral has had only 18-ten before 1914, six between the wars and two since. It is very difficult to obtain permission for a peal attempt here, I fear.

Before coming to the remaining 8 -bell towers. and at risk of causing further controversy, the only 9 -bell tower in the country should be men-tioned-Basingstoke, All Saints'. It seems that the idea was to have an cight for ordinary ringing with a treble added to them so that the front eight (giving a sort of minor key) could be rung on solemn occasions. The result is the back nine of a ring of ten. Only six peals have been rung there (the church is about 40 years old), the first two in 1920. The only two peals rung since the war were in 1946 and were the famous(!) two on the nine bells - Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Major with a cover.

Apart from the 8 -bell towers already mentioned, the other Basingstoke tower, St. Michael's, has the most peals- 60 . This tower was very prominent before the first war, 42 of the peals coming from 1885 to 1909. Only three were rung between the wars, but there has been a revival of interest in recent years and 14 have been rung since 1945. Only one other tower has passed the 50 mark-Soberton, with 58 . This tower has had its ups and downs. It was very popular early in the period and 26 peals were rung between 1884 and 1898 (on several occasions two in a day). Then only three more were scored before 1914. Fifteen more came between 1920 and 1940 and 14 from 1944 to 1950, but at the moment it is suffering from a depression again for various reasons. It was here that Mr. George Williams rang his first peal and (by a coincidence) his last in 1940 . Towers that have reached 40 are Privett and Romsey Abbey (42) and East Tytherleigh (40).
As for 6 -bell towers, only three have reached double figures-Wonston (14), most in recent years; Damerham (11), all tut one in the years 1948 to 1952; and Godshill, Isle of Wight (10), eight since the war. All the 8 -bell towers have been conquered, but there are still 126 -bell towers which have never recorded a peal out of the 67 in the county. Very little has been done at the 325 -bell towers. Only five have ever appeared in the peal lists-Bentworth, Bishop's Sutton, Hinton Admiral, Monk Sherborne and Sopley, and only the latter has appeared twice.
So much for my own county of Hampshire.

The Master-Ringer and members of St . David's Cathedral bellringers, Hobart, Tasmania, send their New Year greetings to all ringers.
The peal at North Bradley on December 18th was rung to mark the Vicar's 25 th year-with the parish. He is a great friend of ringers and was responsible for the rehanging of the bells in 1935, and also for the augmentation to eight in 1950.

42 Years as Branch Secretary

The annual meeting of the Ilchester Deanery

 Branch at Yeovil on December 18th was of more than passing significance. It marked the conclusion of 42 years' service as hon. secretary of Mr, F. Farrant, and there were present about 50 ringers, including many from outside the Deanery, to pay tribute to one who had served with great faithfulness.The company included the Master of the Association, the Rev. M. Hurst-Bannister (Vicar of Pilton), the general secretary, Mr. Roger Fry, Canon Saunders, of Bridport, a past chairman of the Branch, the Rev. L. E. Walsh, of Martock, present chairman, and Mr. A. E. Dawe, churchwarden.
Ringing took place during the afternoon, followed by a service in the church, conducted by the Vicar, Preb. H. Mortlock-Treen, the Rev. E. P. Foote acting as the organist.

The service was followed by a meeting in the Sunday School Rooms, presided over by the Rev. L. E. Walsh, who was elected chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. F. Farrant, hon. secretary, and Mr. W. H. Poole, Ringing Master, having intimated that they wished to relinquish office, Mr. T. J. Setter was elected as hon. secretary, and Mr. W. E. Turner as the Ringing Master. Two new members were elected.
Following the usual business of the meeting Canon Saunders, who previous to his retirement had been for 32 years chairman of the Branch, made a presentation to Mr. F. Farrant, the retiring hon. secretary, who during his long tenure of office for 42 years had only missed two meetings. The gift was a fireside chair and framed testimonial subscribed for by members of the Branch.

Canon Saunders paid tribute to Mr. Farrant's services to the Branch, and appreciation of his services was also expressed by the Master of the Association and general secretary. Mr. Farrant thanked all who had subscribed to the gift and assured the assembled company of his appreciation.

Mr. W. Turk, who organised the collection from the various towers, was thanked for his services.
Thanks were accorded to Mr. W. H. Poole for his services as Ringing Master over the last ten years. The Vicar of Yeovil was thanked for conducting the service and for the use of the bells and schoolroom, and Mr. Foote for playing the organ. Tea was partaken at the Cottage Cafe, after which further ringing took place.
T. J. S.

THE NEW YEAR

Throughout the land from many a tower,
We twelve, or ten, or six or eight, Poised ready on our stays, await The passing of the midnight hour. In those faint moments of the night, Half-muffled clappers tell our pain, And sobbing echoes float again Across the fields where snow lies white.
From far beneath a cry comes 'Stand! The task is done that wrung our souls. Our ties are loosed-the tenor tollsAnd tensely waits the ringing band.
We feel the ropes take strain: we rise
Each on the balance, till ' Look to ! The treble's gone '-and blow on blow We shout our message to the skies.

- Gloty and gladness, joy and peace

To men of kindly heart and will,
So angels sang, so sing we still, A gospel that shall never cease.'
A. D. H. ALLAN.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Exeter Branch Discuss Teaching Learners

The Exeter Branch received a cordial welcome from the Rev. F. G. Rice, Vicar, when they met at St. David's Church, Exeter, for their annual meeting on December 9th. At the service he gave an excellent address.
The resignation was received with regret of the Branch chairman, the Rev. J. G. M. Scott, on moving from the district. The Rev. C. G. Poulton was unanimously elected as his successor for 1955.
The secretary presented a summary of the financial position which showed a slight increase of $£ 3$ on the General Account. The lnstruction ACcount stood at $£ 38$, and the Bell Preservation Fund had benefited by $£ 210 \mathrm{~s}$. 6 d . collected at meetings
The Branch annual report showed an increase in membership which now stood at 115. During 1954 peals had been rung in honour of the 80th birthdays of Mr. C. G. Glass and Mr. E. J. Ryall, also as wedding compliments to the president and Branch chairman.

With regard to the future the following suggestion was submitted by the secretary for serious consideration. The Branch now has the recruits and the material to build a strong element of change ringers. Instruction is urgently needed at some of the local towers and assistance would be appreciated at other Branch towers. Could members visit at least one other practice weekly, as well as their own?

ELECTIONS

The following officers were re-elected: Hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. Wreford; assistant hon. secretary and Kreasurer, Mr. F. Wills; Ringing Master, Mr. E. W. Biffin; General Committee. Messrs. H. Butt, J. Corry and E. W. Biffin.

The president (Prebendary E. V. Cox) presented certificates to the following members of Newiton St. Cyres tower: the Misses P. Vicary, J. Williams, A. Williams, Mrs. J. Williams and Mr. D. Sharland. Congratulations were extended both to the instructors and leamers at Newton St. Cyres. This was believed to be the first time in the history of the Guild that a mother and two daughters received their certificates together.

New members elected were: G. Tribe (Bratton Flemming); C. Smale (St. Mark's); T. Smith, B. Brokenbrow, Miss P. Gilbert, N. Beckett, S. Flynn, M. Grayer, V. Parcker, V. Seymoor (St. David's); Miss M. Wills, P. Prouse (St. Thomas'); G. H. Williams (Heavi tree): G. Hooper, W. Street (Brampford Speke); C. H. Drewett (Unattached). Non-resident life members: Messrs. R. E. Price, T. Price and G. W. Pipe.

Mr. E. J. Ryall tested the feelings of the meeting by suggesting that the Branch, as a whole, should start teaching learners to ring bellringers?

Cranleigh Family of Ringers for 100 Years.-Three generations of the Charman family of Cranleigh are pictured here with the newly-cast bells of Cranleigh Parish Church. The Charmans have been a ringing family since 1855, commencing with Mr. James Charman, who had a family of six sons, three of whom-William, Harry and Alwyn-became ringers
Of Mr. Willuam Charman's six children, two daughters and three sonsEvelyn, Ida, Cecil, Horace and Gilbert-also became ringers (Evelyn, now in Canada, married a ringer). Mr. Cecil Charman, of the third generation, had two sons, one of whom, Raymond, now rings. Will Keith, pictured here with bis father (Raymond) and grandfather, represent the fifth generation of family

Plain Bob instead of Grandsire, as had been the custom in the past.

Prebendary E. B. Cox agreed that while Bob Doubles and Plain Bob was a good foundation stone for learners, it must be kept in mind that Grandsire was very deeply rooted in the county. It was also agreed that many instructors felt more competent of teaching Grandsire than other methods to a beginner. After much discussion the Rev. C. J. Poulton concluded by saying it must surely depend entirely on the Ringing Master and the band concerned and the matter should be left for their decision.

B.B.C. SUBSTTTUTED OTHER BELLS

Disappointment For Newark Ringers

Recently in the B.B.C. Television Children's Newsreel a film of Newark Parish Church was shown, but the bells that accompanied the film were from another tower.

When the film was made a 40 -second recording was taken of Newark bells ringing Grandsire Caters, and in the opinion of Mr. J. W. Raithby, Master of the Newark ringers, - it was particularly good ringing.'
Substituted by the B.B.C. were eight bells ringing rounds. Said Mr. Raithby, to the - Newark Advertiser': 'In any case it was not very good ringing. The bells were not as rich as ours-they had not enough tone. That is what makes us a bit sore.'
The explanatron given by the B.B.C. to the "Newark Advertiser ' is that when the film was edited, it was arranged that the organ music should be faded out and overlapped by the sound of the bells, which provided the climax. But when Newark bells were faded in they clashed so horribly with the organ that they had to be abandoned, and one of the B.B.C.'s 'slock' recordings of bells was 'dubbed in' instead.
It is only, however, in the much shortened home consumption' version of the film that alien bells are heard. In the full-length programme for overseas the 'fade in' is not used and the bells heard are Newark's own.

Bedfordshire Young Ringers

A pleasant week-end was spent recently in London by Bedfordshire Young Ringers.

Towers visited were St.

 Mary's, Holloway; St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green; St. Mary's, Bow-in-the-Road; All Saints', Poplar; St. Olave's, Hart Street; The Priory Church of St. Bartholomew; St. Anne's, Highgate ; St. Mar-tin-in-the-Fields and 'St. Giles-in-the-Fields. At the lastnamed church, writes R. A. W., 'an immaculate touch of Stedman Triples and fall in peal' was rung.
Boxing Day in Mid-Cornwall

On December 27th eight ringers toured midCornwall, ringing at St. Austell, Lanlivery, Fowey, St. Ewe and Probus. In addition to the standard methods a 'peal' of call changes was rung at St. Austell with local ringers, and courses of Grandsire and Stedman were rung on the handbells of the local band at Lanlivery. The thanks of the party are due to Douglas Burnett, of St. Ewe, for organising the outing so satisfactorily.

Watford District's Social

The third annual social of the Watford District held at the Wheatsheaf, Watford, on December 18th, was a great sucoess and was attended by a company numbering 26 . An excellent dinner was followed by Messrs. C. and A. Wenban playing a wide selection of tunes on handbells, and touches of Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples were rung. Several members contributed to the general entertainment. 'That's all ' came all too soon. Thanks ero accorded to Mr. R. G. Bell for again organising this event.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE EDITOR WAS HOAXED:
Dear Sir,-In case Mr. Critchley has contem. plated accepting Billy Bunter's offer to stand in the next long peal attempt, perhaps he should be warned that there scems to be something not quite genuine about the letter over his name. As every pre-1939 schoolboy knows, Tom Merry's school is not Greyfriars, but St. Jim's. Greyfriars indeed! Harry Wharton and Co. will have something to say about that!Yours faithfully,
E. A. B.

THE BEAST AND THE BELL(E)
Dear Sir,-May I say how much I enjoyed and appreciated the libretto of The Beast and the Beli(e). The plot is most 'Gilbertian' and the words fit in perfectly to Sullivan's music. S. A. Hill is undoubtedly a producer of Gilbert and Sullivan operas and, were it not for D'Oyly Carte, copyrights and infringements of. I would say 'Do it well-perform it at the next Central Council meeting.' But as a member of the chorus I would say ' Wot, no chorus'!
J. B. S.

FLOWER NAMES FOR METHODS

Dear Sir,-Mr. D. Mottershead's suggestion that a method be named 'Daffodil Delight''thus adding a little variety to the present system of nomenclature -recalls the controversy over floral names which dragged on through most of the 1920 's. The Analysis Committee of the day gave such names to various previously unnamed Treble Bob Minor methods-'Bluebell,' 'Fuchsia,' 'Hyacinth ' and similar horrors -and these were eventually changed, thank goodness. Old-established names like ' Primrose ' were left, but I trust the others will never be resurrected. 'What,' asked the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' 'will be the comment of an already mystified public when they read that their local ringers have distinguished themselves by ringing their first extent of Geranium Treble Bob? And later he wondered whether, after flowers, ringers would turn to vegetables and give methods names like Onion Delight or Beetroot Surprise. He summed up one article on the subject with words with which most ringers vill agree: 'Such titles are not dignified.'Yours faithfully, Crayford, Kent.

DUPLICATED NAMES

Dear Sir,-With reference to the figures of Netherton Surprise Major published in your issue of December 24th, 1954, if the method was rung with a 4ths place bob and with 2nds at the lead end, then it is identical with Oxfordshire Surprise Major, first rung at Kidlington on January 17th, 1953 . The error is all the more surprising in that the conductor of the (so-called) first peal of 'Netherton' rang in the Kidlington peal of 'Oxfordshire,' which peal is, I believe, still the only one recorded in the method. If this is so, 'Netherton' becomes the second peal of 'Oxfordshire.' Yours sincerely, Oxford.
Dear Sir,-May I be allowed a little space, as I would like to point out to those concerned that 'Moorside' Surprise Major was first rung at Birmingham on June 10th, 1954, under the name of 'Quinton,' conducted by G. E. Fearn.

Also, assuming that the method 'Netherton' Surprise Major has a $1-2$ lead-end, I would say that it was first rung at Kidlington, Oxfordshire, on January 17th, 1953, as 'Oxfordshire, conducted by Alan R. Pink.
Both methods were published under my name.-Sincerely yours,
E. W. TIPLER.

AUTOMATIC ART (?)
Dear Sir,-Some strange and scarcely factual statements, liable to create false impressions, have recently been made in these columns by correspondents on the subject of Method Making. It may be useful to consider a few examples.
'. . . To have composed a cortain method.' Methods, of course, are NOT 'composed.' This misuse of words, especially in ringing matters, has frequently led to discussion almost entirely futile. 'Composing,' in ringing, strictly relates solely to modifying and buildingup courses of a method into touches and peals. The composer can thus begin composing only when the method designer has completed his job-a job by no means confined to a half-lead of figures ! Methods are 'constructed ' or 'designed,' and from 'principles.' (Vide Central Council publications, also the last-quoted example, below.)
'Surprise methods can be written down at a higher rate than one a minute.' Phew! So your correspondent, apparently thinks that 'marking the places' in the rows (which, by the way, can be done faster than he says-in fact at the rate of about one row per second, or the whole grid for a Surprise Major method in about a quarter of a minute)-apparently he thinks this constitutes designing a method, and that the art is, therefore, almost automatic ! There is, of course, more, far more, to it.
For example, in what time can he extract the false course-heads? Indeed, of what use is a method so churned out if it is found to have six or seven f.c.h.'s, as many designs have? And is, consequently, probably unpealable. Other desirable, and intended, qualities, for example musical and textural, make the business of method designing, for general ringing acceptance, highly selective; otherwise far more of the methods hitherto published would have been rung: that is to say, other than those rung simply as "firsts ever."
But apart from this vetting of each design as it is unfolded, there remains the question of stage variation; it being a particular advantage to derive a design that will apply 'naturally' to all stages for ringing.
Thus the whole process for any one design may take the investigator anything from a couple of hours to a couple of months or more (depending on what time he can devote to the job and what particular features he is endeavouring to incorporate). But enough on this point has been said to show that the mere writing down of a large number of (or all in some groups) forms of 'method' all based on one "principle,' e.g., the plain-hunt even-hell group of methods--this does not constitute the serious business of selective method design.

"The same number • .. (of clammants) ... to so-called extensions., This example shows the need for a lot of clear thinking. There can be no such thing as designing (or even claiming to design) a true or natural extension, once the basic stage is evolved. Since 1950-51 some of us have known that stage-variation of a hasic method (though this has not yet been officially recognised) results in either-(a) Unique forms of contraction and/or extension for each stage, such forms being inherent in the basic; or (b) None at all. There can be designed, of course, 'versions ' of the extension or contraction, and to these compromised forms the designer's own (or some other distinguishing) name may well have been given. But as to the unique and natural forms, springing inherently from the basic design, they can assume only the basic name, since their 'designing' ended with the basic stage.
'Tradition of claiming . . . a method.' While it is not, wished to make out any case for 'claiming, designs, yet your correspondent should revise his ideas about the degree of in dividual effort attached to the design of a specific form of method. In the first place he seems to have forgotten the technical distinction between a method and a principle; which, as the Central Council's dictum tells us, is that the latter is a design in which all bells trace out the method pattern; while the former, based on the latter, has one or more bells plain hunting (i.e., the method is what we know as "hunt-controlled ') with only the remainder tracing out the specific pattern of the design. Once the principle has been established, the methods, based on it, may fairly easily be 'written out,' if no selectivity be exercised.
Your correspondents, on this point, seem to have ignored entirely the class of principles, used as methods, such as Stedman and Duffield. In this large and almost enitrely unexplored field (there are, I think, only about a dozen principles so far designed), the construction of method patterns is not easy; but once the new design of principle is established, it may well lend itself to adaptations of method design.
In the second place your correspondents seem to neglect the art of procedure. It is said that a mathematician once calculated the 'probability" that a number of baboons, continuously chattering throughout a given agelong lapse of time, might utter sounds is sequence that might be recognised as the entire works of Shakespeare. Similarly, a number of babes, scribbling with pencils on pads might conceivably, in time, produce all the designs of Wren. Even so, is the art of these great masters to be denied, And on the wholly illogical basis that "it needed only to be written down'? Far more methods than the ' 200,000 " he mentions may be capable of being produced, but how many of them would qualify for per formance?
It is agreed that very few designers have 'claimed ' their designs, though their names have sometimes become attached to their worls usually by those afterwards ringing and publishing the method. (A fact perhaps scarcely known except by those of us who have experienced it!)-Yours very truly,
A. YORK-BRAMBLE

ANALYSIS OF MINOR AND DOUBLES RUNG DURING 1953

BOXING DAY IN NORTH DEVON

On Boxing Day, despite 'much hill fog and fairly persistent drizzle.' an outing in the South Molton area was much enjoyed by about a dozen ringers and friends from Devon and Somerset. The trip was organised by Wilf Panter with his usual efficiency, and although the anticipated 'Irials section' was omitted this time, the district provided good practice for the navigation experts.

During the morning about half-an-hour's ringing took place at each of the following towers: Meshaw (6), Romansleigh (6), Mariansleigh (6) and Bishop's Nympton (6). A short drive brought the party to the Anchor, South Molton, where Mine Host is himself a ringer. and a welcome repast of hot pasties and liquid refreshment according to individual taste.

The first tower after tea was Rose Ash, where there is a lovely little six and a tablet recording the fact that the living was held by the same family consecutively from 1675 to 1948. Then on to the rather rough six at Knowstone and the lumpy five at Molland. The last tower (and incidentally the writer's 1,100th), East Anstey (6), provided the comedy act of the day Whilst ringing up, the rope of the third broke below the sally and became entangled in the guides. As no ladder was available, a wellknown stalwart from the Exeter area was prevailed upon to act in this capacity, and the organiser scaled his sturdy back to retrieve the rope. After a temporary repair to the rope half-an-hour's ringing was enjoyed to complete the programme. After 'Goodbye' and 'Happy New Year' the party dispersed, grateful to Wilf and the various incumbents and locals who had contributed to a very happy day.

Methods rung were Bob Minimus, Doubles and Minor, Grandsire, Stedman and Reverse Canterbury Doubles and Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor as wcll as a few call changes at Molland.

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK TIMBRELL
Mr. Frederick Timbrell, of Chipping, Lancs, died on December 26th at the home of his son whilst on Christmas holiday. He would have been 88 on December 29th, and was the eldest of three ringing brothers who rang handbell peals together in 1898.

His activities were numerous, such as 59 years secretary to the Queen Adelaide Lodge of Oddfellows, clerk to the Parish Council, churchwarden and village postman. Mr. Timbrell had not rung for a number of years but maintained his interest by scanning the peal columns of 'The Ringing World,' looking for any of his brothers' peals being rung. These he carefully cut out and pasted in books which he compiled about local happenings.

He joined the Lancashire Association in 1892 and was the oldest member at the time of his death. He leaves a married son, his wife having died about two years ago.

The funeral took place at Chipping on December 30th and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. A. Nye, who described Fred Timbrell as the grand old man of Chipping and a Christian gentleman. The Lancashire Association was represented by the vice-president, and Oddfellow brethren acted as bearers. It is regretted that owing to short notice it was not possible to arrange a handbell band to make the journey to Chipping.
E. R. M.

MR. J. J. TAYLOR

We regret to report the death on December 17th, at Wellingborough, of Mr . J. J. Taylor, who had a long association with St. Mary's Church, Stafford, and was well known as a ringer in the Midlands.

He was taught to ring at Brewood at the end of the last century and joined St. Mary's, Stafford, early in the present century. Later he was appointed head ringer, which position he held until leaving Stafford for Northampton in 1928. He was devoted to the ringing of church bells and taught many to become ringers. He returned to Stafford a few years ago and again rang at St. Mary's Church. On the death of his wife he went to live with his son at Wellingborough and it was there he passed peacefully away.

The funeral service was held at St. Mary's, Stafford, on December 21 st , and to his memory a quarter peal of Plain Bob Maior was rung on the bells of St. Mary's. So to his rest passed one who had given of his best to ringing and to the service of his church.

MR. G. NOWELL

We regret to record the passing of Mr. G. Nowell, of Radcliffe-on-Trent, Notts, on December 14th at the great age of 87 years.

George, as he was known to his friends, had been a ringer at Radcliffe Parish Church for 65 years and had been captain for most of the time since 1892. Never an enthusiast for peal ringing he was a regular attender for service ringing, and at Evensong a constant and familiar figure in the pew he regarded as his place in the church. George was a tower of strength.' His services to ringing were marked when the Southwell Diocesan Guild made him a life honorary member in 1946.

The funeral, which took place on December 17th at his own church, was attended by the chairman, secretary and ireasurer of the Southwell Guild, as well as members of the Radcliffe band.

During the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled by the following band: S. Loach 1, A. C. Lygo 2, C. Glenn (conductor) 3, J. Hoodless 4, C. Burrill 5, W. Nichols 6, C. Knapp 7, J. AnBurril cliffe 8.

THE MESSAGE OF THE BELLS

By A Lady Captain

IT is half past eleven on New Year's Eve and the village seems almost deserted. It is a very scattered village, a village of winding roads and lanes, with the church, the parish room and the school forming a focal point of interest in the centre.

The flood-lighting, installed to illuminate the clock in the belfry, shows up the grey walls of the church with its arched doorway. It shines on the dark evergreens in the churchyard, and on the trees beyond. It is very peaceful.

Down one of the lanes come the headlights of a car and motor-cycle and the flicker of torches. The ringers are on their way from the vicarage to ring out the old year and ring in the new.

There is the clatter of feet as they climb the wooden staircase that leads to the belfry, and the hum of conversation and laughter as the bell-ropes are swung down from the ceiling - for this is a special annual occasion. Six ringers take hold of the ropes. There is a momentary hush as the treble ringer glances round- All ready, treble's going, gone.' The ringing has begun. In the bell chamber overhead the wheels turn as one by one the bells give tongue. To and fro swing the heavy bells guided and controlled by wheel and rope. Round and back the wheels turn with crash of metal on metal as the clappers strike on the sides of the bells. Out through the open louvres sweeps the wild tumultuous message of the bells. Out over the quiet evergreens and the trees, over the silent houses and the twisting lanes, swept by the wind into the darkness.

- Remember the year that is passing,

Remember its joys and its sorrows,
Remember its celebrations and its disappointments,
Remember the past for the year is ending.'
In the belfry below the ropes rise and fall following a curious complicated sequence understood only by ringers themselves. The shadows cast by the moving ropes, dance and flicker on the rough bare walls, until one by one the bells come to rest, and as the year passes, the tenor bell is tolled-twelve times. There is silence in the belfry while the vicar conducts a brief service. Then, 'I wish you all a very happy New Year.'

The atmosphere is gay and lighthearted as the ringers prepare to pull the bells off, for the first time in the new year. Again the ropes rise and fall. Again the wheels turn, and again the message sweeps out into the night :
'A new year has begun. Have hope, have courage, have faith. This is the beginning of another year.'

For the last time the bells come to rest. The ropes are swung up to the ceiling out of harm's way. The empty church echoes as the trap door is let down and the ringers prepare to leave. The lights of the cycles disappear, and the sound of the car fades in the distance. The church remains, dark, silent and alone.

High in the belfry the bells rest in their heavy frames, each leaning against its stay-waiting.

It is the beginning of a new year.
A. S.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of January 15th, 1915

RINGING IN 1914

In any review of the year $1914 \ldots$ the effect of the war is necessarily the outstanding feature. . . . The effect on the total for the year was that only 1,411 peals were rung as against 2,359 in the preceding twelve months and this when the record for the first seven months of 1914 was well in advance of the corresponding period of the preceding year. . . .

Of the total peals rung, 162 were on handbells. . . . Mr. A. H. Pulling headed the list of conductors with 41 . the next in order being Messrs. W. Pye with 37, C. F. Bailey 24, Clement Glenn 21, Frank Bennett 18, E. M. Atkins and F. W. Naunton 17 each, E. Barnett, sen., and Keith Hart 15 each, A. C. Wright 14, J. T. Dyke and W. Steele 13 each, B. Prewett, T. H. Taffender and S. H. Symonds 12 each, D. J. Nichols 11, C. R. Lilley, F. G. May, W. Short, B. Thorp, G. Williams and Samuel Wood 10 each.

Filty years ago on January 7th Mr. T. Male, of Warwick, rang his first peal at All Saints', Emscote. The ringers were John Pinfold 1, W. Collett 2, T. Male 3, Q.M.S. Pye 4, William Male 5, E. H. Adams 6. George Eilis 7, J. Castle tenor. John pinfold, who rang the treble, was father of W. J. Pinfold. The latter rang his first peal at the age of $13 \frac{1}{2}$ years on the same bells. Very few of the original band survive.

Mr. J. W. Hartley, of St . Thomas' Church, Norbury, Hazel Grove, struck the tenor bell for the 50 th year on New Year's eve at midnight. His health has not been too good lately and he was brought to church by car and then afterwards taken home again. He was congratulated by the Vicar, the bellringers and many friends who witnessed the completion of this record.
The ringer of the sixth in the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Edenham, Lincs (page 835) on December 18th was-Horace Bennett.
Mr. W. Thornley writes thanking Mr. R. F. B. Speed for pointing out the correct ownership of the composition of Superlative (see page 811).
A story of youngster keenness comes from Barrow-in-Furness. Two youngsters keen to learn the art attended the watchnight service and ticked off the bob lead ends.

By ringing the tenor to a peal at Hughenden, Bucks, on Christmas Eve, Mr. Arthur Newton has now 'circled the tower' since the bells have been recast. He is the second member of the tower to do so.
Owing to one of the band, Mr. A. Smith, falling into a dyke early in the afternoon, the bells of Brampton Bierlow, Yorks, were not rung before the tower's first annual dinner. We could understand the accident after the happy event but not before!

The 1,260 of Bob Minor rung at Springfield, Essex, on December 26th, was to commemorate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. Myhill. The band wish them many more years added to their happy married life. Messrs. E. Kemp and Myhill are the only two surviving members of the band formed at Springfield in 1920.

BELFRY GOSSIP

 Sir Roger Makins, British States, has sent a cheque for 500 dollars towards the restoration of the steeple of the Old North Church, Boston, which is a gift from British diplomats all over the United States. The story of this church built by English engineers in 1723 appeared in 'The Ringing World' of November 5th, 1954.The title of the peal rung at Hemel Hempstead on December 2nd, 1954 (see page 803, issue December 17 th), should read Beretun and not Brereton. Will those responsible for records kindly note.

Mr. W. W. Wolstencroft, of Stoke Poges, returns his sincere thanks for the good wishes of the friends who honoured him with peals on his 80th birthday, and also to those who remembered his late wife.

Further ill-luck befell the Leicester ringers when attempting a peal of Stedman Cinques on New Year's Eve, owing to the treble rope breaking after 20 minutes' ringing. As there was no time to start again eight of the company rang a peal of Cambridge on the Stelfor eight.
Mary's party the night before was blamed for the failure of the nine-method peal attempt at Fryerning during the Christmas holidays. - There were some very pale faces and bleary eyes when they assembled,' reports our correspondent, who adds: "Early morning pealringers need early night befores ' 1

Miss Edna Longden, daughter of Mr. R. Longden, of Manchester Cathedral hand, was married at Holy Trinity Church, Rusholme, on Boxing Day. A quarter peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at the Cathedral the following Sunday to mark the happy occasion. A recording was made of the wedding scrvicc and the first 20 minutes of the quarter peal.

UNIVERSITIES ASSOCIATION WINTER MEETING

Bethnal Green Reminiscences
COMPANY of 54 sat down at the annual dinner of the Universities Association held at the Victoria, London, S.W., on January 7th. Mr. E. H. Lewis, the president, was in the chair, and guests included the Masters of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the Society of Royal Cumberland, Youths, the Rev. A. A. Gorbold and Mr. A. A. Hughes.

Ringing took place during the day at St. Alfege's, Greenwich; St. Giles', Camberwell; St. Mary's, Rotherhithe ; and St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green. The Association attended Evensong at St. Matthew's, which was conducted by the Rector and Rural Dean, the Rev. A. A. Gorbold.

The president, after wishing the company a very happy New Year with plenty of ringing, said it was about 44 or 45 years ago since he rang a peal at Bethnal Green, the last tower they rang in that day. After the peal he was met by Mr. Mat Wood, who was then an old man. Mat mentioned that when a young man he rang with a ringer who had taken part in a long length peal in 1774.

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Mr. Paul L. Taylor, who said without the Church there would be no bells and they would not be there. It had fallen to his lot to have many dealings with the Church authorities and he hoped that such a happy arrangement would go on for many years.

THE BIGGEST CLASH

The Rev. A. A. Gorbold, who replied, said it was a great privilege for him to welcome the Association to his church, which was one of the great towers of London until it was blitzed in 1940. A great many peals had been rung at Bethnal Green and he had never had a complaint. The biggest 'clash' was made by the ladies. It was a tremendous effort and they went the full length they said they would.
The Church had often been described as the mother of them all, but the Anglican Church was, he believed, the only one that was the mother of change ringing, and it redounded to the credit of that Church that she had given a great interest to many of her children. 'Long may it continue.'
Mr. C. G. J. Watts, the new Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, proposed the toast of 'The Universities' Association.' Although their Association had been a member of the Central Council a relatively short time, he said, it had left its mark on the pattern of the Exercise. The main object of their Association was to form ringing societies in the different Universities and he understood when they started there were Guilds only in Oxford and Cambridge. He congratulated the Society on its progress and expressed the hope that it would eventually form societies in the Universities of Scotland and Ireland. Individual members of the Society had already distinguished themselves as composers, conductors and critics, and it was a great satisfaction to him as Master that many of their members were also members of the Ancient Society.
Their service to the Church should be their first consideration and unfortunately there were many towers that were silent due largely to the fact that the territorial Associations had not enough members. In this connection he noted with pleasure the arrangement that had been made for the London University Society to be responsible for ringing the bells of St. Olave's. No one was more grateful for that decision than Mr. Hughes, because it was only after considerable persuasion that the Rector agreed to hang swinging bells, and then on the understanding that they would be rung.

PURPOSES FOR PEAL RINGING

Their secretary had given him a list of the first hundred peals rung by the Association. Before any of them rang a peal they should ask these questions: Is the peal in the interest of the Church and will it advance the art of ringing? Except when peals were rung on national occasions of joy or sorrow such a standard was desirable.

Replying to the toast, Mr. Brian D. Threlfall (hon. secretary and treasurer) said they did not confine their membership to English Universities. They had representatives there of both Scottish and Irish Universities and they had several members in Australia. As to peals it had always been the object of the Association to give people an opportunity to ring either a 'first peal ' or a 'first in the method.'

On behalf of the Association he welcomed Mr. Gorbold and thanked him for permitting them to join in Evensong at his church. He also welcomed the other visitors-the Master of the Ancient Society, the Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, Mr.

Frank Hawthorne, who was also the captain of his own tower, Mr. A. A. Hughes, and the Editor of 'The Ringing World.' He extended the congratulations of the Association to their vice-president (the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow) and his fiancée, Miss Hooke, on their engagement, and to Mr. Paul Taylor on the birth of a son and heir.
Reviewing the year, he said the Association had a successful week at Hereford during which six peals were rung. Their thanks were due to Mr. Wilfrid Moreton for organising the week. During the year the Association rang 12 peals-six on tower bells and six 'in hand.'

THE ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting followed with the president in the chair. The election of the following new members was ratified:-

Bristol University: Miss P. M. Bourn, D. R. P. Heighton, C. Blundell and A. Wright.

Cambridge University: K. D. Painter and B. J. Stafford.

Durham University: Miss T. M. Hook.
London University: G. McKay.
Manchester University: A. Twyman.
Oxford University: Miss G. R. Lamont.
Southampton University: D. C. Jackson.
After discussion it was agreed to hold the 1955 Ringing Week at Rugby from August 6th to the 13th.
In accordance with notice previously circulated three additional rules were added to the constitution of the Association. These provided for the presentation of audited accounts at the annual meeting to follow the dinner; the keeping of a peal book and that the record of a peal be submitted to the secretary within one month of it being rung together with details including the composition; and that one month's notice be given to the secretary of any alteration or additions to rules.
Mr. R. F. B. Speed was appointed auditor.
The accounts for the past year were submitted, the secretary reporting that both the week and the dinner made a profit. The balance in hand was $£ 198 \mathrm{~s}$. 5 d . compared with $£ 1315 \mathrm{~s}$. 4 d . at the beginning of the previous financial year.

The date of the next annual dinner was fixed for Friday, January 6th, 1956.

TWO WELL-KNOWN LEICESTER RINGERS MARRIED

Mr. Brian G. Warwick-Miss Winifred M. Burton

Contrary to the weather prophet's forecast, Boxing Day, 1954, proved to be a most beautiful day for the wedding of Miss Winifred M. Burton and Mr. Brian G. Warwick at the Church of St. Thomas, South Wigston, Leicestershire.
A large congregation of ringers, relatives and friends gathered to witness a most inspiring service.

On arrival at the church the bride and her two sisters, as bridesmaids in attendance, followed in procession the choir to the steps of the chancel, where the ceremony was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Mr Lockley. After the marriage ceremony the bride and bridegroom received Holy Communion.

On leaving the church the happy couple passed through an archway of handbells held by ringing friends. The bells, however, much to the surprise of the bridal pair, were filled with rice; this was used to the fullest advantage.

The reception was held at the Church Hall, adjoining the church. After a very substantial repast and the toasts had been delivered, Brian joined Mrs. P. J. Staniforth and Messrs. H. Poole, W. Moreton, H. Poyner and P. Staniforth in a course of Stedman Cinques.
As always, time went far too quickly, and the moment came when we had to say farewell to Brian and Winifred as they left to spend their honeymoon at an unknown destination. Shortly afterwards a band met to attempt a peal in their honour, but it is sad to relate it came to grief after ringing for one hour and twenty minutes owing to a gudgeon on the second bell breaking. Luckily no serious damage was caused to the bell. The peal attempt was conducted by Wilfrid F. Moreton, a close friend of the bridegroom.
Altogether it was truly a ringer's wedding: the bridegroom is the organist at the church and also the Ringing Master; the bride is a ringer at Leicester Cathedral, where her husband was until his appointment as organist at St. Thomas' Church; the bride's father (Mr. Shirley Burton) and the best man (Mr. Harry Poyner) are also members of the Cathedral band; the bride's sister (Miss Eileen Burton) is also a ringer at Aylestone Church.

LONDON UNIVERSITY RINGERS WED

Members of the London University Society rang the bells of St. Peter's Church, Chertsey, Surrey, on January 1st. prior to the wedding of Miss Ann M. Field, of Chertsey, to Mr. David J. Little, of Wivenhoe, Essex. The choral service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. S. Archibald, and the bride was given away by her father, Mr. F. Field. The bridesmaid was Miss Avril Ratcliff, a cousin of the bride, and the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Seley E. Little, was best man. At the close of the service further ringing took place by a band from St. Mary's, Walton-on-Thames.
A reception was held at the Bridge Hotel, Chertsey, when telegrams of best wishes from many friends were read. Amongst these was a greeting from the ringers of Wivenhoe Parish Church.
Later the couple took their departure, with the traditional abundant adornment of "newlyweds,' for a honeymoon in London. Afterwards they will return to West Cumberland, where they both work and where they first met.

Analysis of Handbell Peals rung during 1953

The last time Brent Knoll, Somerset, appeared in our peal columns was in July, 1912.

The peal of 5,184 Watford Surprise Major at Bushey on December 27th was Mr. C. W. Woolley's 600th peal.

The peal of Plain Bob Minor rung on November 30th at Trumpington was in honour of the 80th birthday of Sir Winston Churchill.

Miss Kathleen Softley's performance in ringing her first peal of Royal-Yorkshire Surprise -without previous practice was greatly admired by her ringing friends in the Newcastle area.

Miss Jean M. Powell will go down in ringing history as the girl who persevered. After 30 unsuccessful attempts she has scored another peal at Cowbridge. Glam., on December 29th.
The date of the Northampton Great Fire was 1675 and not 1666 as inadvertently appeared in our issue of December 31st (page 845). Henry Bayley III. had his foundry at Ecton and not Exton. Both these villages are in the Peterborough Diocese and both towers have six bells.

The Danbury, Essex, band had a very busy Christmas. In the two weeks preceding the Festival they toured the village ringing handbells and collected over $£ 30$ for the St. Giles' Leper Home, Bicknacre, and for handbell maintenance. Invited to call a Boxing Day peal. young Ivan (10) said he would have a go, and proceeded to call seven different extents with procesitation at all.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Andrew C. Sinfield and Mr. Ronald J. Sharp have now rung a peal on all the rings of eight in Bedfordshire.

The ringers of Keymer (Sussex) held an evening social on New Year's Day, and over 60 ringers and friends from various Sussex towers started the year with a very enjoyable evening.

Mr. F. J. Blagrove informs us that his figure of 343 Treble Bob Major is incorrect and should be 1,046 . The number of distinct methods is 343, as opposed to slight variations. (See letter, page 843 , December 31 st , 1954.)

Miss J. Armstrong, in sending her New Year greetings to her many new friends she met when the Central Council came to Newcastle, informs us that at 7 o'clock on Christmas morning the us that at 7 o clock on Christmas morning Me peth Watch Tower.

Norbury. Cheshire, handbell ringers have a set of 166 bells and 10 or 11 ringers are needed for some of the pieces they play. At the carol service at St. Thomas' Church they rendered Mozart's 'Minuet and Trio ' arranged for eight ringers, and a selection from 'William Tell' arranged for nine ringers. During the service Messrs. J. Worth, C. K. Lewis, J. Wittaker, G. Hedley and J. Ferniey rang a plain course of Grandsire Caters. The church was full to capacity and everyone enjoyed the service.

Congratulations to Peter Langton (15) on his first peal, at Billingshurst, Sussex, where his father, the Rev. M. C. Langton, is Vicar.
It has been suggested to Mr. Patrick 1. Chapman, who celebrated his 23rd birthday on December 30th last, that he is the youngest ringer to have turned in Sherborne tenor to a peal. Mr. Gordon Gaylard stood in at short notice in the peal through Mr. G. E. Watson becoming a victim to influenza.
The party from the South Midlands who rang the peal at Sherborne on Boxing Day rang the previous day at Cheltenham, Wells Cathedral and Yeovil. They are grateful to Mr. Pope for arranging accommodation at Sherborne and to Mr. J. T. Dyke for helping with ringers at Wells.
It is officially learned that Abington, a suburb of Northampton, a tower with three bells of 1809-1810, in a minor key by John Briant, of Hertford, is, at last, to undergo a restoration. Visitors to the popular park in which the church is situated have often been heard to remark, What do they call those, bells os cracked pancheons?

The peal at St. Kea was specially arranged to welcome James Phillips, home for Christmas, at the tower where he learned to ring. He now rings regularly with the College Youths in London, but Cornwall provided him with his first peal of Triples. Another young Kea ringer rang his first peal. He was Paul Harding, and in order to do so he has stood in Kea tower for approximately nine hours. Mr. Clement Jose should be congratulated that he encourages his youngsters like this.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IDENTITY OF SURPRISE METHODS

Dear Sir,-Until I read Mr. Brett's letter on the above I had completely forgotten it. In it he mentions seconds place methods and doubts their inclusion. I was always taught that, whoever published one version of a method claimed the other. So if one is published, so also is the other. It is the link seconds or eights which determine the, issue.
Mention is also made about all the methods being pealable. I have doubts about No. 6 , which has nine false course ends, viz., 24365, $46532,52643,65243,36524,34562,54263$, 62345,46325 . So, for what it is worth, here are the identified methods:-

(1).-By G. Lindoff.

(3).-Ramsey, 8ths for 2 nds .
(4).-Princess Marina.
(5).-Beaconsfield, 8 ths for 2 nds .
(12). Essex.
(17).-Guildford, 8ths for 2 nds.
(18).-Deva.
(19).-By G. Lindoff
(22)-Clacton.
(30).-'Ringing World,' January 14th, 1938
(32).-Eastbury.

Sincerely yours,

> E. W. TYPLER.

Lutterworth.

Dear Sir,-Some of the methods given by Mr. Blagrove appear in Corrigan's 'Collections of Surprise Methods.' No. 25 is better known as Bristol; (1) is Lindoff's 299; (4) Marina or Princess; (19) Lindofi's 59; and 32 the 8 ths place variation of Eastbury; No. 18 has been published in "The Ringing World, (January 27th. 1950) as Deva; and No, 3 is the 8 ths place variation of Ramsey ('Ringing World,' March 1lth, 1949).
The methods mentioned by Mr Brett are also given in Corrigan's Collection, but Guildford is shown as having an 8 ths place lead ond, and is, therefore, No. 17.
Incidentally, I should like to point out two mistakes in Corrigan's : 370 Surprise Major Methods ': Cudham is, in fact, Derwent, and Stamford Hill is Norfolk.-Yours sincerely,

JOHN L. MORRIS.

MR. E. TIMBRELL'S PEAL OF

 SUPERLATIVEDear Sir, In reference to the peal of Superlative by E. Timbrell and mentioned by Mr R.F.B. Speed in your issue of December 17 th, I am asked by Mr. Timbrell to state that the peal was composed and rung in 1901 at Gosforth, conducted by the late Tom Gofton. Yours faithfully,

BANSTEAD'S BELLS

Dear Sir,-In Mr. J. Clark's interesting article on ancient bells in Surrey mention is made of three bells at Banstead. The details refer to three of the old six bells before augmentation to eight in 1892 (Stablschmidt's book was published eight years before). The ancient inscriptions were repeated when the whole ring was recast in 1921.

Reference is also made to a bell at Woodmansterne. There were originally two bells here. which, incidentally, my mother often chimed when deputising for my father, who was verger here some 50 years ago, but these old bells were converted into a light chime of six some years ago.-Yours faithfully,
A. J. ADAMS.

OLD AGE PENSIONER'S STRUGGLE
Dear Sir ,-As a small boy about 65 years ago I had various ways of amusing myself. No. 1: When I was confirmed my grandfather gave me a Bible, which became an important part of my reading. No 2 was those penny horribles '- 'Deadwood Dick' and George Read's submarine adventures. Next came 'The Bell News,' then a penny paper. That made 3d. a week out of the shilling a week I received. And what a struggle it was to pay for my weekly papers !
Now I am at the other end of the scale with only my old age pension and I have to find sixpence a week for my ringing paper. Oh ! What a struggle once more, but it is worth it for my ringing paper is the most interesting of all my, reading. The loss of our paper would be the end of ringing as we know it. so please do all you can to keep it going.-Yours faithfully,

> LOUIS A. WILSON,

Wootton Bassett, Oxon.

ANCIENT BELLS OF SURREY

Dear Sir,-Mr. Clark's article, which was mainly compiled from Stahlschmidt's book published 70 years ago, contains much information which is now out of date chiefly on account of recasting, increases in the number of rings and the discovery of fresh material in the way of research. Mention is made of pre-Reformation bells at Burstow, Seale and Walton-on-Thames, but these were recast in 1901, 1873 and 1883 . The 1585 bell at Banstead no longer exists and the same applies to the 1583 bell at Dunsfold. Other examples in this direction are Weybridge and (quite recently) Cranleigh. The A. W. on the old 1599 bell at Cranleigh denoted Anthony Wakefield.
The bell at Pyrford weighs about five cwt. but the jumble of letters is still unsolved and no matter how much you try for the solution you have to give it up on account of letters in reverse and upside down. Probably the itinerant founder lettered the casting to the best of his ability.
In recent years many articles on various Surrey bells have appeared in your columns and I would suggest that Mr. Clark compare them with the 1884 book in order to see the changes that have taken place since its pub-lication.-Yours sincerely,

Addlestone.

CANNED RINGING?

Dear Sir,-In view of the correspondence that periodically condemns the use of any medium other than church bells themselves, it is with some reluctance that I write admitting that I instigated an example of this "crime ' here at Longmoor Camp in connection with the Garrison carol service.
The Garrison Church of St. Martin possesses one bell of doubtful origin, and in view of the event and also of the fact that thene were four ringers in the camp, I brought eight handbells from home, and on the day of the service the ringers (two sappers, a Major's wife and myself) rang call changes round a microphone erected on the chancel steps. The ringing was relayed through a loudspeaker from the porch of the church.
As a ringer I felt no conscience about 'canned ' handbells, and I am satisfied that they gave a more traditional introduction to the service than the single bell would have given.

BRIAN AUSTIN,
2nd Lt., R.E., Churchwarden. Longmoor, Hants.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District at New Romney

A biting wind was blowing across the strip of land which now occupies New Romney's ancient harbour, when the Ashford District met at the lovely Norman Church of St. Nicholas-whose cosy warmth provided a strong and welcome contrast to the weather outside.

In spite of the midnight activities of a few hours earlier, about 30 members and friends gathered at the tower, where the bells were a vailable from 2.30 .
The Vicar, the Rev. J. F. Stuart Martin, who has not yet completed his first year at New Romney, conducted the service. He took the opportunity of welcoming the ringers to his church-not only on this occasion, but always. John Cooper, a District representative, was at the organ, and C. T. Hillis, another member, read the lesson. A collection amounting to $£ 13 \mathrm{~s}$. was given to the Association's Belfry Repair Fund.

A good tea was served at the Victoria Cafe, followed by a short business meeting, at which three new members were elected. A happy note was struck when a New Year greetings telegram was read from the Woodchurch band, who were unable to be present. The Vicar was thanked by Mr. Willis, and Mr. H. S. Humphrey (local captain and secretary) was thanked for having made all the arrangements.
Now here we have a tower with eight perfectly good bells; a Vicar who is very much a ringer's friend and whose small daughter is learning to ring; and a grand captain whoat an age when many are thinking of retiringis still full of enthusiasm to teach recruits. He has recruits but would like more of a leavening of experienced ringers on practice nights to bring them along. Who will lend a hand?
W. P. G.

FIFTY YEARS AGO AT EXETER CATHEDRAL

January 14th, 1955, is the 50th anniversary of a peal of Grandsire Caters rung at Exeter Cathedral in 4 hours and 13 minutes, conducted by the late Edwin Shepherd. This peal was arranged by the late Rev. Maitland Kelly, at that time president of the Devonshire Guild, to give an opportunity to resident members of the Guild to attempt a peal on the Cathedral bells (then ten). Five were invited from Excter, five from Plymouth and one from Ottery St. Mary. This was the second peal on the bells. There are three survivors of that band: G. Harry Myers, of Plymouth; Arthur W. Searle, Exeter: and W. G. Hiscott, now of Liskeard, Cornwall. The Rev. Maitland Kelly placed a peal board in the belfry recording the peal.

NEWARK PARISH CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Newark Paristr Church Society of Ringers was held in the ringing chamber on December 23rd, 1954, the president, the Rev. J. G. Nicholls, taking the chair. The Master and the hon. treasurer piesented their reports and the following officers. were elected:-Master, Mr. J. W. Raithby; Deputy Master, Mr. W. L. Exton; hon, secretary, Mr. F. W. Midwinter; hon. treasurer, ${ }_{\mathbf{M r}} \mathbf{~ M r}$. F. Mr. W. $\dot{\text { Vernon }}$; committee, Messrs. H. Stevenson and D. N. Sellors.
It was decided that the annual outing should. take the form of a ringing tour on June 25th, the venue being either Lincolnshire or Derbyshıre.

In view of the success of the second Gopher Dinner the meeting favoured another being held on November 18th, when it is hoped to extend invitations to visitors from the whole of the Newark District.

DEDICATIONS

BLUNHAM'S NEW TREBLE

On December 19th the Rector of Blunham, the Rev. G. L. F. Edwards, dedicated the new treble bell to augment the old ring of five in the presence of a large congregation. The bells were opened on Thursday, December 23 rd , and the first touch of Grandsire Doubles was rung by the local band. The fine tone of the new bell and the reiuvenated 'go' of the old five were much admired.

- I ring to all the country round, God Bless Elizabeth new Crowned ' is the inscription on the treble, which weighs $7 \frac{c}{} 12$., and the ring is in the key of $E$ flat. In the place of the former clumsy ring of five, which had only once been rung to a peal, Blunham ringers may well be proud of their delightfully manageable six, the heaviest in Bedfordshire. That genial giant, Harry Parkes, represented Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and is to be complimented on the long hours he put in to have the bells ready to welcome Christmas.
S. J. I.

CRANLEIGH, SURREY

As a memorial to Captain Michael Alan Berdoe Wilkinson, $1 / 5$ th Queen's Royal Regiment, who gave his life while serving with the Eighth Army in the Western Desert in September, 1942, the bells of Cranleigh Parish Church have been recast and rehung with modernised fittings by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The framework has also been rebuilt and strengthened.

The bells were dedicated by the Rector (the Rev. H. L. Johnston) just previous to the midnight celebration of Holy Communion on Christmas Eve. A memorial tablet to Captain Berdoe Wilkinson was also dedicated. The inscriptions and weights of the recast bells are as follows :-
Treble.-Note F. Mears and Stainbank, Founders, London. D. D. Richard Everard, Baro de Alverstone. 1908. Recast 1954 by Gillett and Johnston, Croydon.' Weight 5 cwt. 1 qr. 10 lb .

ALFORD BELLS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Mr. Ernest Birkett, who left Alford, Lincs, 60 years ago for Brazil, Indiana, U.S.A., expressed a wish to hear Alford bells again, so Mr. Jack Bedford, a local radio enthusiast, arranged with the local ringers early in November to make a tape recording.

The recording commenced with a short introduction spoken by Mr. E. D. Chandler, who named the ringers as follows:-L. Slack treble, Mrs. J. I. Smith 2, J. I. Smith (conductor) 3, S. H. Sutton 4, E. D. Chandler 5, H. Pike tenor.
The ringing came over very well indeed and the ringers were pleased to have the opportunity of hearing their own ringing.

For those interested, details of Alford bells are as follows:-
Treble. Cast by J. Taylor and Co. 1934. Diameter $25 \frac{1}{2}$ inches.
Second.-Tobeas Norris. 1676. Diameter 28 inches.
Third-Tobie Norris. Diameter $29 \frac{1}{2}$ inches.
Fourth.-Tobie Norris. 1676. Diameter 31 inches.

Fifth.-Tobieas Norris. 1676. Diameter 36 inches.
Tenor.-Toby Norris. 1695. Diameter 391 inches. Weight 12 cwt . 1 qr . 24 lb . in F sharp.
The old five were recast by Taylors in 1934 and a new frame installed.

Ten peals have been rung on the new bells.
Early last year the ringers had the pleasure of ringing for the wedding of two of their col-leagues-Ken Ketteringham and Hazel Broomhead.

A few months ago a memorial in the belfry was dedicated to the memory of Harry Scoffin, who was a ringer at Alford for 55 years.
Visitors to the Mablethorpe and Skegness areas are always welcome at Alford, ringing on Sundays being at $10.15 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and $5.15 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$., and at least one practice is held per week., The Ringing Master is J. Ivor Smith, 15 , Commercial Road, Alford, Lincolnshire. J. R. K.

Police Invalids

Sergeant Stanley Thorneycroft, of Manchester City Police. who was recently involved in a motor accident, sustaining serious leg injuries. is in the Coventry and Warwickshire General Hospital. Police Woman Betty Lee is recovering from an operation in a Bolton hospital. Both are reborted to be making satisfactory progress. P.C. Richard Benson has completely recovered from the injury to his foot which occurred on Remembrance Day.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Eastern District Start 1955 Well
A very successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Goole on New Year's Day, when 45 members were present representing 18 towers, including two in Lincolnshire.
A short service was conducted by the curate (the Rev. D. B. Greathead). An excellent tea was provided by Mr. J. J. Taylor, who made an iced New Year cake, which was cut by the vice-president and the secretary.
The vice-president (Mr. A. E. Sellers) presided over the business meeting. Three new members were elected-Mr. J. Potts (Sherburno in-Elmet), Mr. C. Bigland (Bramham) and Mr. M. W. Crowder (Barrow-on-Humber)-the lastnamed being an out-county member from Lincolnshire.
Kirk Ella was selected for the next meeting. A collection for the Association's Bell Repair Fund realised $£ 1$. Regret was expressed at the absence of Mr. L. Rodmell owing to a serious stack fire on his farm at Patrington. All who had contributed to the success of the meeting were sincerely thanked.

BRAMPTON BIERLOW RINGERS HAVE FIRST DINNER

The ringers of Christ Church, Brampton Bierlow, near Barnsley, Yorks, held a successful first annual dinner on December 28th, when an excellent meal was provided by Mrs. F. Hoyle, the mother of one of the ringers. She was thanked by Mr. J. M. Tesh, captain and secretary.

The entertainers during the evening were the Misses J. Hoyle and C. M. Tesh (piano), Mr. A. Smith (humour), the Misses J. Hoyle, P. Tesh, C. Tesh, Messrs. J. M. Tesh, A. Smith and M . Caddick (carols). Touches of Boh Minor and Major were rung on handbells kindly loaned by Wath ringers.

The ringers of Christ Church are grateful to Mr. E. E. Rayner, of Barnsley, for providing materials for the new pulley rollers for the bells.

ROTHWELL, NORTHANTS

Rothwell, Northants, does not figure in the ringing headlines. True, its fine eight bells are always admired by visitors and many peals have been rung on them during the past 50 years, but a fact that the local ringers can always be pleased about is that their bells are never silent on Sundays. This point was stressed at the annual meeting of the ringers on January 3rd by the Vicar (Canon G. F. Turner), when he presented Messrs. A. J. and A. E. York with two Swedish glass tankards for 60 and 40 years' service respectively.
Arthur and Albert York have been prominent figures in Rothwell belfry during those years and it is mainly by their example that this record of unbroken Sunday service ringing remains unbroken. The Vicar, in making the presentation, wished them many more years of happy ringing and connection with the church to which they have both given loyal service.

FIRST PEAL AT ELTON, DERBYSHIRE

Dear Sir,-While offering congratulations to the young band of ringers who rang the peal of Doubles at Elton, Derbyshire, on December 4 th, I must point out that their claim to the first on the bells is not correct.

At Elton on Saturday, April 19th, 1913, the Darley Dale Branch of the Midland Counties Association rang a peal of 5.040 Grandsire Doubles in 2 hours and 41 minutes. (Midland Counties Association Report, 1913. Peal No. 2,258.)

OBITUARY  MR. GHARLES CLARKE

Mr. Charles Clarke, of Higher Walton, Lancs, died on December 26th, 1954, after a long illmess. He was a service ringer at All Saints' Church for over 55 years, and joined the Lancashire Association in 1901. He was 78 and in his younger days rang a few peals of Minor, but his greatest service was rendered by constant and punctual attendance Sunday by Sunday through the years, but latterly he had not rung owing to inability to climb the steps. He leaves a widow and two sons, one of whom is following in his father's footsteps.

The funeral was at All Saints' on December 29th and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Canon Hughes. In addition to the family mourners the Lancashire Association was represented by six members, who included the vice-president, one Central Council representative and the local Branch Ringing Master. Handbells were rung over the open grave by Messrs. E. R. Martin, F. Stead, C. Crossthwaite and A. Tomlinson. A muffled 720 of Treble Bob Minor was rung on the tower bells after the service.
E. R. M.

MR. J. EDWARD CLOUGH

With regret we record the sudden death of Mr. J. E. Clough, of Burhage. Leicestershire, aged 5i. While waiting in Burbage Church for other members of the band to arrive on New Year's Eve. Mr. Clough collapsed and died. He leaves a wife, son and daughter.
Mr . Clough commenced his ringing career on the old five at Burbage in 1921, but did not aspire to great heights in the world of method ringing. He was a regular and punctual service ringer and also served the church faithfully as a sidesman. He joined the Midland Counties Association in 1922 and always took a keen interest in its affairs, and later those of the Leicester Guild. Altogether he rang 21 peals.
The funeral service took place at St. Catherine's Church on January 5th. The service, which was choral, was conducted by the Rev. L. S. Collis, of Holy Trinity, Hinckley, in the absence of the Rector, the Rev. R. D. H. Pugh, through illness. Mr. R. Mayne, one of his fellow ringers, was the organist. Several ringers were present at the service, including Mr. E. C. Turner, vice-president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild.
At the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Miss N. Marklew 1-2, F. K. Measures 3-4, A. Ballard 5-6, R. Mayne 78. During the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with bells halfmuffled by Miss P. Smith 1, W. J. Clough 2, Mrs. D. Vernon 3, F. K. Measures (conductor) 4, H. Parker 5, R. Mayne 6, E. L. Campton 7, J. Veasey 8.

'WHITE' CHRISTMAS

THE North Berkshire village of Appleton was one of the few villages that this year was able to boast of a 'White' Christmas. For when the church's ten bells rang out on the Eve and the Day eight of the ringers were Whites and six members of this ringing family shared in the charming custom of touring the houses ringing carols on handbells on Christmas Eve. Their foreman was 77 -year-old Mr. Richard White, who has rung Appleton bells from the age of eleven.

Appleton is famed throughout the Exercise for two long record peals. In 1922 a peal of Stedman Caters of 21,363 changes was rung in this church in 12 hours 25 minutes, and in 1932 a peal of Grandsire Caters of 16,271 changes in 9 hours and 20 minutes. Mr. Richard White took part in both. He was born at The Greyhound at Besselsleigh and came to Appleton as a child. His grandfather, founder of the bell-hanging firm, was a ringer, so was Richard's father.

Mr. Richard White left Appleton School at eleven to enter the bell-hanging business. Now, only he and his son, Francis (35), remain in it. He has hung bells in almost every English county. Many Oxford colleges and churches have received his skilled attention-and the job means much more than putting bells into position!

Of St. Lawrence's Church, Appleton, it dates from the 12th century, the nave, north aisle and font being original; the chancel has a 13 th century priest's door. The oak rafters of the nave are 15 th century, as are three stained glass armorial shields in a window. There is a gruesomefigured brass to a man who died in 1518, his widow seeking solace in a nunnery. Far more beautiful is the finely carved canopied altar tomb of Sir John Fettiplace (died 1593), whom Elizabeth knighted at Woodstock. The Fettiplaces held Appleton Manor from 1564 until 1634. On one of the church pillars is painted a tribute to Sir Richard Fettiplace for 'his good gift.' This refers to the provision made by Sir Richard and Bessels Fettiplace for the teaching of Appleton and Besselslsigh children 'in good manners and learning.'

Many ringers who have visited Appleton for the Ringing Days and on other occasions know of the three interesting inns in the village. The Plough is dated 1683, but its main chimney with a big oven below is probably Elizabethan. The Post Office is in a cottage bearing the date 1690 and over the porch is coloured parget-work. The sub-postmaster is Mr. George Holifield, a name familiar to readers of this journal, who has shared with the White family many of their peals.

There was a time when Appleton was famed for its brass band, which among its functions was to play to church the members of the Appleton Club every Whit Thursday, prior to their Feast in and about The Three Horseshoes Inn. Mr. Richard White was a member of this band and he tells the story that he had almost mastered the cornet when, about 1911, the instrumentalists broke association - no fault, however, of Mr. White and his cornet playing!

Of the famed sons of Appleton was Edmund Dickinson, alchemist and court physician to Charles II. and James II.; he was the son of the Rev. William Dickinson. King Charles had a laboratory built for Dickinson below the royal bedchamber, with a private staircase thereto so that the King could watch experiments. Dickinson firmly believed the philosopher's elixir (of life) to be attainable; he also published among other books a work illustrating the connection between heathen mythologies and Scripture history.

For this picture of Appleton, one of the villages of Britain revered by all ringers, we are indebted largely to 'The Reading Mercury.' Their article concludes: 'A true village still, Appleton, one of the comparative few remaining in Berkshire; small wonder that the bells sound out so gladly from St. Laurence's tower.'

DEATH OF MISS MARGERY SAMPSON

First Lady Ringer in Scotland
It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Miss Margery Fletcher, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sampson, of Edinburgh . . . at the early age of 24 years.

She could claim an exceedingly good peat record for a lady. . . . Her peals ranged from Grandsire Triples to Stedman Cinques, and in July, 1913, she achieved the noteworthy performance of three peals on successive days, Stedman Cinques, Grandsire Triples and Stedman Triples.

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

Mr. Thomas H. Francis was elected Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths last Saturday. He succeeds Mr. Frank J. Hawthorne. A report of the proceedings will appear in our next issue.

Mrs. E. J. Davis, mother of Miss Stella Davis, a viospresident of the Oxford Diocesan Guild has just celebrated birthday. She lives with her daughter at Bucklebury, Berks. Mrs. Davis is the widow of Mr. George Davis, a bellringer. She was organist and choirmistress at St. Mary's, Bucklebury, for about 50 years and was also a teacher, the same profession as her parents.
Employes of Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., Luton, rang a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor at Maulden, Beds, on January 1st.

Miss Priscilla Oakeshott and Miss Janet Godfrey are the first ladies to have rung in a quarter peal at Silsoe, Beds.
The Right Rev, Gerald Alexander Ellison, the Bishop of Willesden, who has been appointed Bishop of Chester, has rung at least one peal. The bells of the Chester Diocese, we are sure, will give him a cordial welcome at his enthronement.
The band which Mr. James E. Burles gathered together for the peal at Dalton-in-Furness on New Year's Day comprised four Cumberlands, five from Lancashire and one from Westmorland. They were honoured at the festive board afterwards by Mr. Thomas Metcalf, the leader at Dalton, Miss E. Suart and Mr. Albert Crawley, as well as the secretary, Mr. Nicholas Newby.

Familiarity with a notice seems to breed contempt! Although we state in black type - Notices of meetings must be received on the Monday preceding publication,' an increasing number, some regular offenders, regard Tuesday as the last time. The cost of disorganisation far outweighs the charge for these notices. Some we realise are unavoidable but others could be prevented by running a deposit account with 'The Ringing World.'

\section*{BELFRY \\ GOSSIP}

The first girl bellringer at Terling, Essex, Miss Jennifer Bird, has married Mr. J. F. Copsey, of Romford. After the ceremony at Terling by the Rev. F. J. McBride, the bride handed her bouquet of red roses to one of the three bridesmaids, and in her gown of white lace and tulle and wearing a pearl tiara, she went to the belfry to ring a touch.
Miss Eileen Bracey had never called a touch of Major until she conducted a peal of Plain Bob at Hethersett on December 18 th . We congratulate her on her engagement.

Mr. E. Roger Martin and Mr. John Jackson have now 'circled' 'Higher Walton tower. The occasion was the first peal of Treble Bob conducted by Mr. Frank Stead, which took place on January 1st.
Before ringing the peal at Binsted, Hants, the band spent two hours greasing the bells, tightening up nuts and adjusting ropes, etc. This made a big difference to the "go' of the bells, as they have only been rung on a few occasions since the war.
Golden wedding congratulations to Mr. Johrı Henry Myhill, of Chelmsford, who is one of the only two surviving members of the band formed at All Saints' Church, Springfield, in 1920. There was a golden wedding quarter of Plain Bob Minor in his honour.

When the ringers of the peal of Union Triples at Farnham Royal, Bucks, on New Year's Day descended the belfry they were met by the verger with the following remarks: 'Thank you for that lovely music. How nice to hear some really good ringing. And what lovely music it was! What was it? 'Isn't that sufficient justification for ringing a peal of Union Triples?' asks the conductor.

PEAL RINGING IN HEREFORDSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

Iwe leave out Rutland on account of its small size and few rings of bells (only 22), Hereford ranks with Northampton as having the smallest number of rings of eight and ten compared with its total number. There are only two tens and eleven eights out of a grand total of 91, i.e., just over 14 per cent. Northamptonshire's two tens and 26 eights out of 198 give it likewise a percentage of just over 14. Another very noticeable fact about the peals is that more than a third of the 6 -bell towers recorded their first peal in the years 1908 and 1909-21 out of the 61, in fact ; whilst if we include the years from 1907 to 1914, the total is nearly two-thirds -38 out of the 61 . It looks as if somebody was out to "capture; a whole host of 'firsts on the bells' ! It certainly shows that ringing was very flourishing in the county at that time-probably more so than at any other time up to the last ten years. Recently, only seven out of the 596 -bell towers where peals have been rung have not appeared in the lists since the war. The two 6 -bell towers which are still virgin territory are Much Cowarne and Frome Bishop, by the way.

And now for details. Bridstow is easily the leader as far as numbers of peals are concerned. It was a 6 -bell tower when the first peal was rung in 1909, and very popular, too, for 33 peals were rung there before the bells were augmented in 1923 (there was a gap between 1914 and 1919). It became just as popular with eight bells and 62 peals were rung from 1924 to 1938. There have been 11 since the war, making, a grand total of 106 -the only centenarian, in the county. There are only three other towers which have passed the 50 mark-all with eight bells. Clifford has a total of 64 peals: six were rung between 1897 and 1909, 49 from 1919 to 1939, and there have been nine in the past ten years. At the moment, therefore, the tower is not appearing quite as often in the peal lists as it did between the wars. Ross has 54, commencing in 1882. Actually there was an earlier peal here on February 11 th, 1851 , which is probably the first peal rung in the county. Between 1882 and 1914, 19 peals were rung: between 1920 and 1938, 28 ; and since the war, seven (the last in 1951). The third tower, Colwall, has just reached the 50 mark. Here, again, the tower was an early visitor to the peal list, for the name appeared first in 1884 . Twenty-three were rung up to 1911; 18 from 1919 to 1937, eight from 1945 to 1950, and one in 1953. So there appears to be a waning of interest here at the moment as far as peal ringing is concerned.

\section*{THE TWO TEN-BELL TOWERS}

The two 10-bell towers are Hereford Cathedral and Leominster. The former has only recorded 12 peals, spread out fairly evenly over the years from 1898. There have been two since the war. The latter has 25 peals, commencing in 1894. Since nine of these have been rung since 1946, the average is rather higher at the moment than at any previous time. There were three before the first war and 13 between the wars.

The remaining 8 -bell towers are all between 31 and 15. Since they are so few, they can be individually mentioned. Practically all are enjoying as much peal ringing at the moment as at any time in their history. Burghill has 31 (the first in 1895-11 since the war); Eardisland (very recently augmented) has 30 ( 24 on the original six between 1908 and 1949 , and six on the eight the last two years-there have been 18 in all since 1943); Hereford. All Saints', has 26 (first in 1914, 10 since 1946); Holm Lacy has 27 (first in 1895, six since the war); Ledbury has 17 (commencing 1897 with a gap from 1932 to 1950, but three since then); Lugwardine has 26 (six on the original six bells from 1904 to 1922, nine on the eight from 1927 to 1939, and there have been 11 since 1945) ; finally Presteign has 15 (two in 1908 to begin with, and seven since the war).

As may be expected in this largely 6-bell county, some of the 6 -bell towers have records as good as their more fortunate(!) brethren. None have reached the 50 mark, but Mathon is very close, having had 48 peals. There was a gap after the first peal in 1896 until 1909, but ringing has been very consistent since then, with a higher average before the first war than since ( 15 in five years as compared with one a year since). Actually, this tower is well ahead of all the others, for Lyonshall comes next with 28. 15 in the years 1925 to 1939 and 13 since 1943. Four other towers are in the 20sMarden (23), mostly in the years 1920 to 1939 (only two since the war, both in 1949); Kimbolton (24), spread evenly since 1922 (although the first peal was in 1909); Almeley (22), 12 since the war: and Holmer (21), most in the 1930's and only one, in 1948 , since the war. The majority of the 6 -bell towers have peal totals between 10 and \(20-28\) of the remaining 52 towers. As I have already said, only seven have not appeared in the lists since the war, and of these six recorded their last peals between 1936 and 1939. The seventh, King's Capel, has been silent since 1929.

As for the 5-bell towers, 14 out of the 18 have had peals rung on them, which means that only six out of the 91 towers in the cuunty are peal-less. These four are Hereford, St. Peter, Kentchurch, Linton and Winforton. One of the 5 -bell towers has recorded 17 peals, which is a very respectable total for such towers and amongst the highest in the land (see the article on Essex). This tower is Whitney, and all were rung between 1927 and 1940, but there have been none since the war. Norton Canon has eight-the first in 1912 (which was the first peal to be rung in any of the 5 -bell towers in the county) and the remainder between 1924 and 1940. Actually, only five peals have been rung since the war on the bells of this group of towers, three of them this year.
So much for Herefordshire.

For five or more copies to one address, the charge for all copies will be f 1 ls . per annum or 10s. 6 d . for the half-year.

\section*{THEBERTON, SUFFOLK, WANT TO HEAR THEIR BELLS AGAIN}

The small village of Theberton, Suffolk, want to hear their bells again, and the first step was taken on New Year's Eve, when the Bell Fund was inaugurated by a social and dance. The Leiston ringers attended and rang touches on handbells.

Theberton has five bells. A new frame and fittings are required and also a treble bell to make a six. The cost will be \(£ 900\).
Outside help would be much appreciated and donations, large or small, may be sent to "The Theberton Bell Fund,' c/o A. R. Bridges, Post Office, Theberton, Leiston, Suffoik.

Recordings werc taken of the ringing at Stroud, Glos, at the annual meeting of the Stroud District, and also interviews with several ringers. It was not the B.B.C. but a local recording enthusiast, Mr. Watkins, of Paganhill.
Friends of his met at Macclesfield on December 20 th intending to honour the 60 th birthday of Mr. E. Jenkins, of Oldham. with a peal of Stedman Caters. Unfortunately the company met three short. Three of the local band were enlisted and 'a happy birthday ' was announced by a quarter of Cambridge Surprise Royal.
When Mr. E. K. Walton, a master at Oundle School and a ringer at the Parish Church attends Oundle Branch meetings he is invariably accompanied by 'Sister'-a real huskie who is a great friend of all ringers. Members of the Guild are expecting to hear something more about 'Sister' and her companions when Mr; Walton's book, "Iwo Years in the Antarctic, is published on February 1st by the Lutterworth Press. Mr. Walton's father is Vicar of Bromley and preached to the Kent County Association at their mecting last Easter Monday.

Mr. Harold J. Poole heads the list of peal ringers for 1954 with 125 peals. Mr. G. E Fearn is second with 122 . List next week
With the peal of Plain Bob Maximus at Sheffield on December 27th, Mr. Norman Chaddock has conducted peals of Plain Boh in Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus. Peals in this family were accomplished by this peal by Messrs. Wilfred L. Robinson, John E. Turley, Dennis Holland, Barry Holland, the Rev. G. G. Graham and Herbert O. Chaddock.
' Happy birthday and Happy New Year.'This dual congratulation came to Mary Garland, of Woodchester, Glos. Mary was 13 years old when shortly before midnight she was one of the band that rang out 1954. She was 14 when, a few minutes after midnight, the bells came round. Woodchester have a number of young ringers, and parents and friends were among the interested spectators.

Mr. F. W. Goodfellow has retired as hon. secretary of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association, a post he has held for ten years. His reports and letters will be much missed in this office.
It was intended to ring a peal at Madeley. Staffs. on December 27th, for the wedding of Mr. F. W. Grocott and Miss J. Kinkman. The late arrival of one of the band necessitated ringing being limited to a quarter of Cambridge Surprise Minor. The company was F. E. Wilshaw (conductor) 1. Junc M. Henshaw 2, C. H. Page 3, A. Lambert 4. E. H. Edge 5, O. M Slaney 6. First of Surprise Minor for 4 and 6
Mrs. Chaddock made her first attempt for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Rotherham Parish Church on New Year's Eve, when due to a fault on the 7 th clapper balance weight, after \(1 \frac{3}{3}\) hours' ringing. 'Stand' was regretfully called. Though Mrs. Chaddock has not rung many peals. she has been a pillar of strength to Mr. Norman Chaddock, particularly in the encouragement and training of young ringers in the Rotherham area.

\section*{ST. MARTIN'S GUILD}

New Badge of Office for Master
The annual meeting of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held on January lst at the Tamworth Arms Hotel, Moor Street, the Master, Mr. Albert Walker, presiding.

Before commencing the ordinary business of the mecting the chairman referred to the passing of George Garrison, an original member of the Erdington Parish Church band. He was an excellent ringer and a painstaking striker. A high-class joiner by trade, the table in Erdington belfry would remain for many years as an example of his work The members stood in silence as a last token of respect.

The president and the vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc. The whole of the existing officers were also re-elected, as follows:-Master, Mr. Albert Walker; Ringing Master, Mr. John Pinfold; trustees, Alderman A. Paddon Smith, J.P. and Mr. Ernest T. Allaway; auditors, Mr. Henry H. Fearn and Mr. Sidney O'C. Holloway; Central Council representatives, Mr. Frank E. Haynes and Mr. George E. Fearn; librarian, Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. George E. Fearn.

Mr. Frank E. Haynes was chosen to occupy the chair at the Henry Johnson Dinner and Bicentenary Celebration, which will be held on March 5th. The secretary reported that the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress have promised to attend.

The following new members were elected:Messrs. Paul J. Rigby, William J. V. Conduct, Leonard W. Conduct and William Shelton (all of Erdington) and Brian Downic (Aston).

Formal notice of motion was given that new rules would be presented for consideration at the next meeting, and it was decided to distribute draft copies of the proposed rules to the towers in the Diocese.
The next meeting will take place at Aston Parish Church on April 2nd.
The new Master's badge of office was shown and greatly admired. The design, which is the work of Miss Muriel Reay, depicts St. Martin's Church. and also incorporates the Arms of the Diocese.

\section*{New Secretary for South and West District}

Over 40 ringers and friends attended the annual meeting of the Soath and West District held at Uxbridge on January 8th. The Rev. Harold Dunning, Vicar of St. Margaret's, conducted the Guild service.

The Vicar took the chair at the annual business meeting, supported by Miss Townsend, churchwarden, and Mr. Liversidge, organist. For the first time since the Guild annual meeting the general secretary of the Guild, Mr. E. C. S. Turner, was able to attend a meeting, and he and Mrs. Turner were most welcome. Mr. Turner was discharged from hospital recently and was warmly congratulated on his recovery.

The accounts were accepted and showed a halance of over \(£ 18\) going to the Central Fund. The secretary, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, reported a fall in the number of peals and quarter peals rung in this District compared with the previous year. The methods rung in peals ranged from London Surprise Royal to Spliced Doubles in 45 methods. Only one first peal (by G. Thrush, of Cranford) was recorded. The leading conductor was R.F.B. Speed, who conducted five peals. Ten meetings had been held. Twenty-one ringing and three honorary members had ioined the Association in 1954. The report concluded with thanks to the incumbents who had extended to the Association the hospitality of their towers. to the local bands and to the ladies who had brightened the meetings and made them so much more enjoyable by providing and serving tea.
Several offices changed hands. The newcomers were: F. C. Price, Deputy Ringing Master; J. D. Rock, hon. secretary (address: 346, Staines Road, Bedfont) ; F. A. Finch, assistant secretary; and J. B. Sansom and Dr. D. J. Neal Smith, Central Committee.

The retiring officers-R. F. B. Speed, F. W. Goodfellow. D. R. Judd and T. Collins-were thanked for their past services. Mr. Goodfellow, who had served as hon. secretary for ten years altogether, said one of the things he had cnjoyed most during his term of office was the friendliness of ringers. It was a precious thing, this friendliness, and they must cherish it and guard it carefully and do nothing to spoil or damage it. He thought one way they could advance the feeling of brotherhood in ringing circles was for Associations and Guilds to meet together occasionally. Hc himself had arranged many joint meetings, several of which were now firmly established as annual events.
A brief but lively discussion on recent correspondence in 'The Ringing World ' commenced by Mr. Tony Price's reference to the Central Council's ban on Minor, Bob Triples and Doubles. He and Mr. E. C. S. Turner supported Mr. Blagrove. There seemed to be a desire in certain quarters to ban anything! Mr . C. C. Mayne referred to the glorious peal of Triples rang at Exeter Cathedral but banned because ringers exchanged ropes.

Thanks were accorded to all who had helped to make the meeting a bappy and successful one, and a welcome extended to the visitors. The Vicar replied to the thanks, and Mr. W. Hibbert, general secretary of the Oxford Guild, for the visitors. The latter drew attention to the 100 th birthday of one of their honorary members, Mrs. Davis.

Some very good ringing (at times!) took place at St. Margaret's in the afternoon, and after tea the ten at St. John's, Hillingdon, were put to good use.

\section*{LEICESTER DIOCESAN GULLD To-morrow's District Meeting at Melton Mowbray}

A special effort is heing made by the Melton District of the Leicester Diocesan Guild to attract the interest of local clergy and churchpeople in the affairs of the Guild.

The incumbents of all the churches in the district with bells have been circularised and invited to attend the meeting themselves and to bring with them if possible their churchwardens, members of their parochial church councils, and any others interested.

It is hoped that the service in Melton's lovely parish church at 4 p.m. will be an occasion of great praise and thankspiving to Almighty God. The Vicar of Melton, Canon C. M. S. Clarke, has shown great interest in the arrangements and has invited all visiting clergy to robe for the service.
The Melton District ringers would very much appreciate the support of as many ringers as possible, both in and outside the district.

On New Year's Eve the resuscitated Ancient Society of Biddenden Youths held their annual dinner and meeting. After a short ring members and guests ( 29 in all) met at the Chequers for a very fine dinner prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Wren.
The main points of interest in the afterdinner speeches were: A very hearty welcome by the Youths to their new president and Rector (the Rev. A. B. Richardson) ; the necessity of simplicity and sincerity in church work and worship; the New Year message of Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher, hon. secretary K.C.A.C.R., who unfortunately was unable to attend the support and interest of the layman in bellringing affairs and a warning to ringers not to become absorbed only in belliringing but to keep an open mind in relationship with the church.
The following officers were elected :-Ringing Master. Mr. S. G. Waters: Vice-Ringing Master, Mr. H. Deacon : hon. secretary, Mr. H. G. Payne.
At 11.15 p.m. the company returned to the belfry, where the New Year was rung in by Harry Baker and ringers in traditionat style.

\section*{BRISTOL DIOCESE AND ELECTRONIC BELLS}

The following announcement appears in the Bristol Diocesan Gazette ':-
Electric Bells: Within the last three years faculties have been granted for the introduction of electronic bells into churches in this diocese, and one for the retention of electronic bells illegally introduced many years ago. Lest it should be thought that this indicates that a favourable view is taken of such applications, the Chancellor desires it to be stated that there were exceptional circumstances in each case which are unlikely to recur, and that further faculties to introduce electronic bells are unlikely to be granted.

\section*{WHY NOT A REUNION?}

Dear Sir,-How interesting was the peal with eight old friends of the late W. Pye, but how much more so if Albert Coles could fix a reunion of the old peals band-Grimwood, Nudds, Hewitt and others and invite the Editor. What a page we should get of 'off the record tales! The late Mr. Goldsmith often said if he could have had a day or two with the Rev. F. E. Rooinson how interesting he could have made his book.-Yours sincercly,

\section*{MR. FRED G. MAY}

Dear Sir,-I was most interested to read the letter from your South African correspondent regarding Mr. Fred G. May. A few years ago, when browsing in the well-known second-hand bookshops in the Steep Hill at Lincoln, I bought an excellent copy of 'The Clavis' reprint. clearly inscribed on the flyleaf, 'F. G. May.' I at once connected it with Bristol, and many times have wondered how the book came to be in Lincoln. There is a cutting from the old 'Bell News' inside, a poem, by A. P. H. (I presume Sir Arthur Heywood), entitled 'In Memoriam, Heary Johnson,' and dated Jan. 7th, 1890. I wonder if Mr. May is one of those who remember Henry Johnson in the flesh? If Mr. May would like to have his book I should be delighted to restore it to him if he would get in touch with me.

On New Year's Eve in Gloucester I was privileged to have half an hour's. chat with Mr. Sydney Romans, first Master of St. Michael's Juniors, who told me of the early days of the brothers James. Perhaps he too has met and rung with Mr. May.-Yours sincerely,
K. S: B. CROFT.

\section*{A PEAL FOR BIRMINGHAM}

Dear Sir,-After reading the article on 'Knowing What is Going On' from 'The Ringing World,' November 19th, 1954, from the brilliant pen of Mr. E. C. Shepherd, Mr. C. K. Lewis and myself discussed the question of the very rigid mould of form and limited musical plan of Surprise Royal and Maximus, the outcome of which Mr. C. K. Lewis produced the following. which was duly rung at St. Michael's, Macclesfield, on December 27th, 1954.

If E. C. S. will get his Birmingham friends to try out the same I am sure he will agree that the musical field for Royal and Maximus has not yet been fully developed.--Yours faithfully, Macclesfield.

Dear Sir,-I should like to thank your correspondents. Messis. Pink and Tipler, for their remarks concerning the methods recently published as Netherton and Moorside Surprise Major. They are indeed identical with the methods previously published as Oxfordshire and Quinton Surprise Major respectively.
I make no apology for this oversight. To keep track of all these methods one requires either a prodigious memory or else an equally prodigious filing system, neither of which, unfortunately, I possess.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{THANK YOU, DURBAN}

Dear Si ,-I should like to express through your journal my thanks for the kindness of the Durban (S.A.) ringers in ensuring that I had a ring on both their rings during my recent visit to that country. As you will doubtless be aware, Durban has two rings of bells, the ten bells at St. Mary's and an eight-bell ring at St. Paul's, both of which go very well and which, if I remember rightly, are supplied by Taylor's.

I should like to express my thanks to Mr. Chambers for the trouble he went to in meeting me and taking me to both these towers. Mr . Chambers is extremely enthusiastic and is building up a band of young ringers who. with a little more practice, should do well, and it is to be hoped we'll see some quarter peals rung by them appearing in "The Ringing World.' 1 am sure that Mr. Chambers will be more than pleased to welcome any ringers who are vising Durban from this country.Yours faithfully,
j. R. COTTERILL, M.I.E.E.

West Bromwich.

\section*{REGULAR AND IRREGULAR}

Dear Sir,-Mr. Felstead seems to have taken up a lot of paper in replying to Mr. Blagrove and myself. The part of his letter which interested me most was his reason for changing his opinion about irregular methods, "casier composition, easier conducting, symmetry, music, etc.
Personally, I do not think that these are reasons. I think that they are just excuses. Mr. Felstead and a small number of other people believe that they are right in thinking that methods with Plain Bob lead ends are superior to those without them, and so, when asked why they are superior, they fall back on the old excuses.

I will quote only one example. Taking Boh Minor, if we have fifths made at the half lead instead of firsts we get Double Bob Minor, a regular, musical method. If, however, we make thirds instead of fifths we get Wakefield College Bob, an irregular method. A 720 of this can be easily obtained, and is just as musical as a 720 of Bob Minor. The plain course is quite symmetrical, and, in any case, should asymmetry be classed as a great fault?

Mr. Felstead states that members of the committee must abide by the Rules and Decisions, but what happens if an occasion arises where they want a rule changed. It is just brought up as a recommendation from the committee that such and such a rule should be changed, and it is carried.

I'm afraid that the views of the Methods Committec are the views of a minority, and I advise ringers for their ullimate own good that they should advise their Central Council representatives accordingly.-Yours sincerely.

Clewer, Windsor. WILLIAM BUTLER.

OPPOSITION TO METHODS COMMITTEE ASKED TO COMBINE
Dear Sir,-I must congratulate Mr. Blagrove on his excellent, well-reasoned reply to Mr. Felstead's defence of his change of attitude over the last ten years. Mr. Blagrove earnestly appeals to ringers to get their Council delegates to vote against the Methods Committee's. motion that peals containing methods not in their Collection be excluded from the analysis, or whatever similar form the motion may take. I heartily endorse this appeal, but it is not easy to persuade representatives who are the die-hards of orthodoxy to vote according to their consciences, or the known wishes of the great majority of the ringers they represent. Another difficulty is that most Associations only hold a general meeting once a year, and if that happens to fall after Whitsun this year, it is impossible to get one's representatives 'briefed' before the Council meets without calling a special meeting.
I urge all ringers who resent the present restrictive practices of the Council, in conformity with the dictates of the Methods Committee, to take the practical step of requesting an extraordinary meeting of their Association, so that these questions can be given proper consideration and their delegates instructed how to vote, instead of passively saying 'Yes,' as has happened with Major, Minor, Triples, etc., in the past, or voting according to their own personal views. If some of the ringers who consistently criticise the Methods Committee would pull together in this way and turn up in sufficient strength to get their wishes carried out, then all this animosity would cease, as they would have no grievance. What a grand example of democracy it would be if, say, the Winchester Guild instructed Mr. Felstead (as their representative) to vote against the Doubles Collection he had helped to prepare !
I have re-read Mr. Felstead's reply to Mr. Butler and I can see no sound reason whatever for his acceptancc of the 'Council's' views. His sole argument seems to be that Plain Bob lead heads make for 'easier composition, casier conducting, symmetry of the method, music, etc.' (whatever etc. means !).
(i).-Easier composition. Why does he stand up for casier composition at a time when composers anc competing with each other to produce peals under the most difficult conditions? With so many methods 'worked out' surely something which will allow opportunities to composers of the future should be encouraged.
(ii).-Easier conducting.-Conductors are of varying abilities, and some revel in tackling extremely difficult compositions. There is plenty for the average conductor. Why not permit the wizards to continue to advance their artistry if they wish?
(iii).-Symmetry of the method. Is there any sound reason why a method must be symmetrical? Mr. Felstead doesn't suggest one.
(iv).-Music. As far as Triples is concerned all 5.040 rows have to appear, so it cannot apply here. In Major there are numerous methods regarded as kegitimate whose music is ahominable. whereas irregular methods can often produce much better music. He cannot generalise truthfully on this issue, either.
No, sir, I consider Mr. Felstead's attempted vindication wholly unconvincing. I wonder whether he has honestly changed his opinions, or merely meekly accepted certain orthodox rules !-Yours faithfully,
W. BIRMINGHAM.

\section*{NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA}

Miss Joan Hills, who is now living in Grays, Essex, after sojourning in Australia, informs us that the first quarter peal of Stedman Triples in New South Wales has been rung at St. in New South Wales has been rung at St. of John Sheehy 1, Lawrence Curran 2, Joan Gray 3, John Cummins 4, Edmund Fowell 5, Phillip Gray (conductor) 6 , Thomas Goodyer 7, Charles Dennehy 8. This was the first of Stedman Triples for all except Mr. and Mrs.
Gray and was rung while they were up from Gray and was rung while they we Melboume to see the Test Match.
There have been two notable deaths recently in New South Wales. One was Jack Mc-Namara, a very old member of St. Mary's of Namara, a very old member of St. Mary's of about the time of "Grandfather MacDonald. Jack died at the home run by the Little Sisters of the Poor, at Randwick, having been almost blind for some time. Ho did manage to take the treble for a few rounds on the day the Queen landed in Sydney and to the best of Miss Hills' knowledge that was the last time he put hand to rope. The other death was Jim Arkell, captain of St. Paul's, West Maitland. The Arkells had been connected with Maitland tower for many years, and Jim had a son and daughter who were ringers. Jim died in Sydney after having been seriously ill for six months. May they both rest in peace.
Christchurch St. Lawrence, Sydney, must be rather unique in that four out of their five members are ladies. The fifth is tower cap-tain-Justin Buckley! Mr. A. R. (' Bob') Botting, of All Saints', Parramatta, has retired from active ringing now, but Harry Short of that tower is gradually returning to good health and raking his place in ringing circles once more.

\section*{SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY}

A very encouraging start to the year's activities was made at Dore Parish Church, Sheffield on New Year's Day. when one of the most pleasant of recent meetings was held.
Although this musical ring of eight had not been rung for some time previously, the bells handled very easily, thanks to some special attention by the Society's president, Mr. H. o. Chaddock, on the previous Saturday and Wednesday
Some 30 ringers attended and a good variety of Plain and Surprise Major methods was rung, also Minor Triples rounds and Treble Bob Major, the Ringing Master, Mr. John J. L. Gilbert, officiating in his usual courteous and efficient manner.
Cups of tea were prepared and served in the comfortable Church Hall by Mrs. N. and Mrs. H. O. Chaddock. At the very short business meeting a special welcome was extended to friends from Derby, and to Mr. G. W. Mas sey, from Frome, Somerset. It was announced that the next meeting would be at Shefficld (St. Marie's in the afternoon and Cathedral at night) on February 5th.

\section*{ST. MARTINS, DORKING}

Every New Year's Eve the St. Martin's, Dorking, bellingers are entertained to supper by the Church Council. The catering arrangements are always in the capable hands of Miss B. Dowling, assisted by other lady ringers, and this year's feast was enjoyed by a company of 17 ringers and relations and including a churchwarden, Mr. F. S. Píckford.
The Vicar, the Rev. K. D. Evans, thanked the ringers for their very regular Sunday ringing and confirmed that the rehanging of the ing of the faculty.
Mr. Albert Harman was again elected capthin, Miss E. Clear sccretary, and Mrs. Clark treasurer. Good progress has been made with method ringing during the year and several quarter peals rung by a local company. It is hoped that after the bells are rehung some more recruits will be attracted to the art.

\section*{Twenty-One Years a Secretary}

For the 21st year in succession Mr. S. T. Price was elected secretary and treasurer of the Stroud Branch on December 18th at Stroud, and in acknowledging his re-election, he mentioned that during that period he had missed only one local ringers' meeting-when he was in hospital in 1946.
The past year has been a memorable one for him as a few months ago he was married. The members' friendship and appreciation was expressed by Mr. Leslie Barry, the Master of the Association, when he presented Mr. Price with a fountain pen, and a purse for his wife.
About 50 ringers attended during the day and there was ringing at the Stroud tower both in the afternoon and evening. Clergy who officiated at a ringers' service were the Vicar (the Rev. A. F. Maltin), the curate (the Rev. E. Hoskini and the Rev. P. A. Hippisley-Smith.
After tea in the Church Institute the Master presided over the annual meeting at which satisfactory repors were presented.
The secretary stated that during the year there had been nine meetings in the Branch with an average attendance of 18 . Membership had kept at a steady level. He spoke of the progress of the Eastington band, who were ringing a more advanced method.

Members stood in silence in memory of the late Mrs. A. Sheppard, of Chalford, and during the meeting mention was made of three ringers who have died during the year-Messrs. R. Sharpe, G. E. Risbey and W. Banyard.

Mr. T. Borcham, of Cheltenham, gave a report on the Central Council meeting at Newcastle and there was a short discussion on several points.
Branch officers elected were: Miss D. Sheppard, chairman ; Mr. S. T. Price, secretary; Mr. F. Ponting, management committee; Mr. S. T. Price, Ringing Master: with tower representatives en bloc
It was agreed to hold the next throe meetings at Painswick, Haresfield and Stonehouse. Mr. F. Ponting thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells. Mr. T. Pritchard for local arrangements, and the ladies who had served tea.

\section*{ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD}

Members attending the Guild's annual meeting at Halifax Parish Church on January 1st were the guests of the Archdeacon, the Ven. E. Treacy, at the House of the Good Shepherd. A hearty vote of thanks to him was proposed by Mr. Roberts and seconded by Mr. P. Birkett, and to the Sister-in-Charge for the excellent tea provided.
Acknowledging the vote, the Archdeacon said he was very pleased to entertain the Guild. The ringers,' he added. 'are the faithful few in a busy world, doing their work in the call to worship.'
The Archdcacon presided at the business meeting. during which the secretary reviewed the year. Six successful meetings had been held and also a summer trip. The gencral standard of ringing continued to improve, expenditure had increased and income was lower but a good working balance remained in hand. The Guild had lost a good friend by the departure of the chairman; they wished him well in his new surroundings. Unfortunately therr parent tower had made little headway in securing a team to man the bells.
The officers were re-elected. A collection taken for the Fabric Fund, in return for the hospitality, amounted to \(£ 115 \mathrm{~s}\).
Methods rung during the day included Bristol and Cambridge Surprise Major, Grandsire and Stedman Caters. A good lower in peal on the back cight concluded the meeting.

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS}

Aylesbeare Branch Score Three Peals in a Day
Arrangements were originally suggested for four peals on Boxing Day but this was immediately floored by the two conductors, who intimated that holiday for most meant work for them, and to get three peals necessitated starting work before \(5 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\)., so three it was.

The company collected at East Budleigh and together with excessive rations for the day left for Aylesbeare at \(8.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\)., where freshness was most necessary for the 21 Doubles methods arranged. After a very short break, on they went to Cadelcigh for Minor, where a 'first as conductor' was scored by the 'tenor specialist.' The last 15 minutes were difficult because the ropes were almost invisible by darkness approaching, but fortunately the ringers' white shirts saved the situation. After consuming food by the light of torches the journey to Calverleigh was undertaken, where another "first' for all was successful.

\section*{TWO DEVON OUTINGS}

A number of ringers, drawn mainly from Teignmouth, Devon, held a successful half-day excursion on Boxing Day. Leaving soon after lunch, the first call was at Powderham, where the ringing was much enjoyed on the handy light six. Two other six-bell towers were later visited, Kenn and Kenton, some difficulty being experienced at the latter tower in finding the key. The weather was all that could be desired and the afternoon was thoroughly enioyed.
On New Year's Day another very pleasant afternoon was spent at Dean Prior, where the ringing was confined to Plain Bob Doubles, and where the less experienced ringers did very creditably. From here a move was made to the adjoining parish of Nattery and its ring of five bells and long draught. The ringing here was limited to half an hour, this concluding with a good six-score of Grandsire Doubles. After an excellent tea at Buckfastleigh a pleasant hour was later spent with handbells. Mr. E. M. Atkins and Mrs. D. E. Hood were responsible for the Boxing Day arrangements whilst Mr. A. L. Bennett (who acted as host) was responsible for the New Year's Day programme. Both events were thoroughly enjoyed.

\section*{Sevenoaks Had Larger Meeting Than} Anticipated
The Tonbridge District started the year well with a good meeting at Sevenoaks on January 1st, thanks to the co-operation of the Whitechapel Foundry, who repaired the clapper which broke on Christmas Day and returned it in good time for the meeting.
Ringing continued in various methods from 3 p.m. until 4.30 p.m., when the Rector, the Rev. E. M. T. McLelian, conducted the service, basing his brief address on the words 'In sincerity and in truth.'
As 32 people had notified for tea, the local secretary catered for 50 and was not too happy when 62 turned up. but as most of the defaulters were not members of the District the matter was not dwelt upon at the meeting which followed tea
Sevenoaks is faced with the task of raising £24,000 for repairs to the Parish Church and the provision of a new roof. A collection was taken at tea and that, together with the is. charged for tea. enabled the ringers to hand the sum of \(£ 5\) to the Rector as a donation to the Repair Fund.
After tea ringing was resumed and catered for all tastes until 8.30 p.m., when a broken rope brought the meeting to a rather abrupt conclusion.

\section*{THE BELLS OF CHERTSEY, SURREY}

The western tower with its faced rubble and undressed flints is patched with red brick, but probably contains some of its original material. Ringing is done from the ground floor, which is open to the church and quite near the font.

Brief details of the bells are:-
Treble. G. Mears. 1859.
2. G. Mears. 1859.
3. R. Phelps. 1730.
4. Lester & Pack. 1756.
5. The 'Abbey' bells. i4th century.
6. W. Eldridge. 1712.
7. Robert Mot. 1588.

Tenor. W. Eldridge. 1670. Recast 1859.

In 1552 it was recorded ' V belles in the steple,' but four of these have probably been recast. The 'Abbey' bell (5th) was fully dealt with in No. 2,174 of this journal. The 7th is known as the 'Armada, bell and is a fine product from the first Whitechapel founder, Robert Mot. The 6th was recast at the Eldridge foundry, not far from the church, in the last few years of its existence. When the bells were made up to cight in 1859 the tenor was found to be cracked, and it was recast by the generosity of Baroness Angela Burdett Coutts, who named it 'Shoshannim.'

Baroness Burdett Coutts was a great lover of church bells and, besides bearing the cost of recasting the tenor, she also helped with the new trebles the same year.

Chertsey is known as the 'Curfew' town of Surrey, not only because of the story 'Curfew shall not ring to-night,' but on account of the fact that curfew is still observed here between Michaelmas and Lady Day. Some years ago, a former resident. Mr. William Kempson, gave \(£ 100\), the interest on which is to meet the cost of having the bell rung for all time.

In 1898 a chime carillon was given to the church, and this plays four times a day after the clock has ceased striking the hour.

The average age of the back six is 283 years, and the whole octave 236 years.

WM. SHEPHERD.
WEST STOW, SUFFOLK.-On Dec. 192h, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: E. V. Ballam 1, A. G. Ballam 2, W. P. Rickwood 3, K. G. Brown 4, E. A. Murrell 5, A. F. Ballam (cond.) 6. Rung half-muflied as a token of respect to Mr. William Leach, a Church worker over twenty years.

\section*{RINGING GIANTS OF 1954}

THIS week we publish the records presented to date to this office of those peal ringers who during 1954 rang 40 or more peals. To the modest performer these feats are outstanding. There are many who enjoy their ringing and cheerfully stand in a peal attempt, but there is no measure of reasonable certainty about their chances of success. With the great men, failures are relatively few. What is the secret? First and foremost, the answer is the conductor, and whatever view one may take of the giants of the past, we have to-day conductors of outstanding merit who would rival any who have gone before. And their ability is in no sense confined to standard methods or the popular Surprise methods. It is the ability to see a mistake before it is committed that has gained for these men their reputation. This may sound Irish to some, but this sense of anticipation of the frailty of the novice or the weak member of the band enables peals not only to be scored but also a high standard of striking to be maintained. Behind these front rank conductors there is that glint of determination in their eyes and failure will not be countenanced. The story is told of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, who so specialised in Stedman Triples that he would leave nothing to chance and, to the annoyance of experienced peal ringers, would mechanically chant towards the end of the peal 'Quick' or 'Slow' as they came down to thirds place. We can understand the sense of irritation among the hardened peal ringers constituting the band. But Mr. Robinson reached his goal of a thousand peals in an age when the material in many of his bands was not first rate. We do not suggest that our modern masters go to the extent of the reverend gentleman, but they are men who have completely mastered their method and failures are very rarely due to 'Mr. Bob.' Such failures they would possibly regard as a sign of senility!

Another thing is the composition of these peal bands, who week after week adorn our columns with their performances. Of the first ten names of leading ringers of 1954, only one, and he is tenth on the list, is not ringing regularly either at Leicester or Birmingham. In both these centres the list of peals in 1954 reveals an indication to be venturesome-to try something that has never been accomplished before. This is not ringing for the novice. Each centre without much trouble can place in the field a 12-bell team of men of experience. While these bands are proficient to the last man or woman, they are in no sense closed shops. Most months the name of a visiting ringer from another part of the country is included, to gain the experience and fellowship that is offered.

Now it would be wrong to assume that the talent of the country is focused in these two areas, and even a glance at the names of those who have rung 40 peals or over must not in any sense be interpreted that they are the cream of English ringing to-day. They would be the last even to hint at any suggestion. Neither, for example, do the names of all the great conductors appear in the list. Hardly one of the brilliant band of ringers that has been associated with Mr. C. K. Lewis has this year reached the 40 mark. Another one of our outstanding conductors, Mr. R. F. B. Speed, has for two years reached the 39 peal mark, and the contribution of his band to our columns is invariably peals of quality. We have a number of other men of genius among our conductors who do not essay to accumulate peals in quantity, but reveal their ability by once a month or even less attempts.

The amazing thing is the consistency of our two leading peal ringers. Since 1948 Mr . G. E. Fearn, of Birmingham, has rung 758 peals, an average of 108.28 peals a year. Mr. Harold J. Poole, of Leicester, has in six years rung 638 peals, giving an average of 106.3 peals a year. In one year he reached the prodigious total of 143. Mrs. Poole had also an exceptional year with 119 peals, thus beating the record of Mrs. F. J. Marshallsay, who in 1949 rang 113 peals and was the first woman to ring more than 100 peals. Mrs. Poole also rang 100 peals during the year with her husband. It is interesting to note that she has since the beginning of 1951 rung 300 peals, a great performance in four years. Miss Muriel Reay is another outstanding peal ringer with a total of 245 collected in the last three years. She did not appear in the list in 1951.

Among the others with substantial totals for the last four years are Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton with 278, Mr. Peter J. Staniforth with 257, Mr. Brian G. Warwick with 250, and Mr. John Pinfold with 212. Mr. Peter Border has earned a place among the giants with 207 peals in the last three years. As a conductor his total last year was 44, being exceeded only by Mr. Harold J. Poole.

Congratulations to Mr. F. Oakshott, of Christ Church, Epsom, who was appointed an M.B.E. in the New Year's Honours List.

Mr. Ernest J. Gale (79), of St. Albans, a well-known Herts and Peterborough ringer, died last week.

Former Master of the Bristol University Society, BELFRY GOSSIP Miss Enid Lloyd Roberts sailed for Australia last Saturday to accept a teaching post at Adelaide. Taught to ring at Christ Church, Swindon, she rang her first peal at the age of 16 on November 19th, 1948, at Stratton-St. Margaret. A good heavy-bell ringer, her best performance was to ring the 35 cwt . tenor at Westbury to a peal of Stedman Triples. Good wishes and Godspeed were expressed to her at the Swindon Branch meeting at Rodbourne Cheney on January 8th, by Mr. W. H. Trueman.

Young Essex ringers rang a peal in 21 Minor methods at Purleigh on January 15th. It was the 60 th peal for Mr. Peter J. Came, who has now been ringing for five years.

Christmas, 1954, was the 50th, as a ringer, for Mr. Leonard Fidler, tower captain at Hitchin. The only festivals he missed ringing were two during the first world war.
Mr. Edwin C. Birkett stood in at the last moment for the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at Liverpool on January 15th. The thanks of the band are expressed to him for his sporting gesture.
Mr. Thomas Wyatt, of Leamington Spa, and Mr. George E. Symonds, of Ipswich, are the only two survivors of a peal at St. Peter's, Walworth, rung by the Waterloo Society, London, on October 14th, 1899. It is gratifying to note that both are still actively ringing.
The quarter of Little Bob Major rung at Henfield, Sussex. on January 16th, was finished by candlelight. The high wind caused a failure of the ordinary luminant. Fortunately a candle was lit before the attempt was started. A gloomy but successful finish. planning a great welcome ard when she Orontes' from Australia on February the Arrangements include a quarter peal in her honour. As our readers know, Valerie did not neglect her ringing during her tour of duty in Australia. The local band hope she will be able to stay with them for some time to make up for the loss of William Morris, now on National Service.
Two Reading ringers scored their 50th peal at Overton-Mrs. Pat Lewington and Mr. Ronald F. Diserens.

The six young ringers who rang in Christmas and the New Year at St. Mary's Church, Shareshill (Staffs), are the youngest band ever to be trained to ring at this tower, their average age being 13 years. They have been learning for 11 months and are now practising Grandsire each Monday night.

Throughout his 76 years Mr. Percy H Derbyshire, the well-known Lancashire ringer, has never had a birthday compliment by peal or quarter peal paid him on the actual day until this year, when a quarter of Stedman Triples was rung at Worsley, his own tower, on January 2nd.

Veteran Cumberland, Mr. Tom Bevan, did not enjoy his chops at the Society's dinner last October, and he told the annual meeting in forthright terms what he thought of them. Culinary experts among the ladies had no complaints and in the discussion that ensued endeavoured to explain to Tom the special way the chops were treated. However, the Society decided to revert to a chicken dinner this year and no boiling fowls!

\section*{PEAL RINGERS OF 1954}

Another Close Race for Leadership
Mr. Harold J. Poole repeated his success of 1953 by leading the list of peal ringers for 1954 with the magnificent total of 125 peals. The previous year he scored 103. Mr. George E. Fearn was close behind with 122 . He has, however, the distinction of ringing most towerbell peals, as none of his peals this year were - in hand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Poole had the distinction of peing the first man and wife to ring over 100 peals in a year. Mrs. Poole had the high total of 119. Scoring for the first time more than 100 peals in a year was Mr. John A. Acres, of Leicester, with 106; last year he had a modest 55 .

Miss Muriel Reay had another good year with 77 peals. In the last three years she has rung 255 peals, compared with 259 by Mrs. Poole.

One of the most successful of our conductors to-day is Mr. Peter Border. Of his 95 peals in 1954 he conducted 44, being second to Mr. H. J. Poole, who scored 92. Mr. Nolan Golden conducted 43 .

Leading peal ringer in the South of England was Mr. A. Patrick Cannon with 63. These were rung in 58 different towers. Newcomers to our list this year are Mr. Roland W. Morant, of East Horsley, Surrey, with 50 Mr. Derek P. Jones, now of Derby, with 43, and Mr. John R. Cooper, of Ashford, with 41.

\section*{ANOTHER COLUMN OF BELFRY GOSSIP}

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung at Grantham, Lincs, on January 8th, for the Derbyshire Association. It was the 25th together by C. Michael Orme and Derek J. Jones and also Philip Mehew and Derek P. Jones.

By ringing the tenor to a peal at St. Wystan's, Repton, on January 8th, Mr. J. W. Cotton has "completed the circle' at this tower. This is the eighth tower in the district at which he has performed this feat.
The 83rd birthday of Mr. John Wheadon was celebrated by a peal at his tower, Wilmslow, Cheshire, on January 5th. He kindly stood down from the peal to enable a visitor to ring. John, his friends will be pleased to know, is feeling fitter than he did 12 months ago.

Mrs. Skyrme, a friend of Talgarth ringers, who accompanied them on many of their outings until recent years, celebrated her 90th birthday on January 11 th. An extra 30 changes were added to the quarter peal of Grandsire \((1,290)\) to represent her age. Afterwards the ringers were entertained at Mrs. Skyrme's house, and her health was proposed by Mr. S. V. Edwards.

\section*{Postal Subscription Rates}

Owing to trade objections, it will unfortunately not be possible to maintain the postal subscription rates for 'The Ringing World ' at the present figure.

It has therefore been decided, with regret, that from February 1st, 1955, the following new rates will apply:-
\begin{array}{llr}
\text { One year .. } & . . & £ 1 / 6 /- \text { post free } \\
\text { Six months } & . . & 13 / 6 \text { post free } \\
\text { Three months } & . . & 7 /- \text { post free }

When orders are given for more than one copy to one address, the charge for each additional copy will be \(\mathrm{f1} 1 \mathrm{ls}\). per annum or 10 s . 6 d . for the half-year. For five or more copies to one address, the charge for all copies will be \(£ 11 \mathrm{~s}\). per annum or 10 s . 6 d . for the half-year.

The peal at Colne, Lancs, recorded this week, is the first since November, 1936. An attempt last year was lost through a broken rope. Illness this time caused a late withdrawal and the band had to be content with Minor. Colne ringers received the visitors most cordially and their wives provided a splendid tea after the peal.
For the second year in succession Mr. George E. Symonds and three members of his family have rung carols and Christmas hymn tunes on two octaves of handbells at St. Mary's Church, Over Stoke, Ipswich. The church was lit by 500 candles, which was the only lighting for the evening scrvice. In addition to socials they have performed at gatherings of old age pensioners, blind persons and at hospitals. The applause amply repaid their endeavours.
During the presentation of a cheque for \(£ 110\) to Canon D. M. M. Bartlett and Mrs. Bartlett, of Ripon, in honour of their golden wedding on January 10th, the bells of the Cathedral were rung and 'fired,' an unexpected and much appreciated compliment from the ringers. Canon Bartlett learned to ring when a curate at Leeds Parish Church over 50 years ago. A gifted all-rounder, Canon Bartett is a skilful artist, a good all-round musician, a student of many languages, a former player of several games and an expert on gipsy lore.

\section*{CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD} Crewe Branch Plan to Reach Every Tower
More than 50 ringers and friends sat down to tea at the annual meeting of the Crewe Branch, held at Crewe on January 15th, the atrocious weather, however, reducing the attendance. Despite the breaking of the treble stay, everyone present enjoyed the ringing, which was directed by Mr. Ivor Nichols (Branch Ringing Master). The Guild Office was sung by the Vicar (the Rev. F. C. Gentry) and the address was given by the Rev. Mr. Christopher, Vicar of Bradfield Green and Church Minshull.

The business meeting provided lively discussion on two propositions. The Branch hon. secretary (Mr. Wilf. Kerr). in a report of the year's activities, said Sunday service ringingthe Guild's first essential-had been well maintained, with very few exceptions, which he hoped, with the adoption of one of the propositions, would soon be rectified.

The hon, treasurer (Mr. F. Stenson) reported a slight increase on the year's working and a substantial balance of £6 12s., sufficient for any ordinary needs.

All the Branch officials were re-elected, and a new post, 'The Ringing World ' representative, to boost the ringers' paper, went to Mr. Stenson, who made a strong appeal for its support.

The first controversial proposition, from St. Mary's. Wistaston. was submitted by Mr. Derek Smith and Mr. Ivor Nichols, which read: - To ensure that all towers in the Crewe Branch are visited regularly they should be divided into two groups; each group of towers to be visited alternative years.' This was adopted in principle, as also was a further proposition by Mr. Ken Mackintosh for better distribution and use of Branch instructors and Ringing Master, that a panel be formed who will work out and share their instruction to its best advantage.
An omnibus vote of thanks was passed to all officers for their services during the past year, and to everyone who in any way had contributed to the success and pleasure of the meeting.

\section*{ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD}

\section*{First Visit to Bushbury}

For the first time in its history the Society visited St. Mary's, Bushbury, on January 8th, the occasion being the winter meeting. There was a time when this beautiful ancient church was in a rural setting, a reminder of which was the nearby buildings of a once large farm. Today extensive housing estates spread out where previously were rolling meadows.
The tower of Bushbury Church contains a pleasing ring of six bells (tenor 10 cwt .). which have recently been rehung. The enthusiastic local band had gone to great pains to ensure the success of the meeting, including the provision of a bountiful tea.
The well-attended service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. T. Crathorne), and the two churchwardens (Messrs. Slater and Stoker) were also present. In his address Mr. Crathorne spoke from the words of St. Paul: "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as unto the Lord.' Every church service, he said. actually started in the belfry with the service ringing.
Ringing during the afternoon and evening was under the direction of Mr. Dennis Holden, Ringing Master and it was particularly gratifying to see the large numbers of young ringers present.
The thanks of those attending the meeting are due to the Vicar, Messrs. Harrison and Dean and members of the local band, Mr. Elton, the organist, Mr. Bates and the lady helpers for their part in making the occasion so enjoyable. The attendance was 70. F.B.

\section*{CUMBERLANDS ELECT A NEW MASTER}

The wintry weather on January 15th reduced the attendance at the annual meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths held in the Vestry Hall of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. Mr. Frank E. Hawthorne, the retiring Master, presided at the outset, supported by Mr. Peter N. Bond (hon. secretary) and Mrs. Deal (hon. auditor). Apologies included those of Mr . George Cross and Mr. W. R. Winterton, the latter being an influenza victim.
The secretary, in his report, stated it had, in general, been quite a successful year. The number of new members, 26 , showed a decrease from last year and there was obvious room for action in this direction. He appealed to younger members, in particular, to invite their ringing friends to become members. Eight peals had been rung.

Quarterly meetings had been held at Sevenoaks, Windsor and Croydon. The first two were quite successful but the Croydon meeting was a dismal failure. For the last-named, excellent local arrangements were made by Miss Pat Steere. Two very successful joint meetings had been held with the Middlesex County Association.

Scrvice ringing at St. Martin's and Shoreditch had been well maintained. although so far the hope of ringing for Sunday service at both towers had not been realised. Regular handbell practices by the St. Martin's band under Mr. Francis had resulted in a peal of Bob Major,

During the year the Society had lost by death the following members: Messrs. W. J. Bunce (Ruislip), F. J. Russell (Bray), J. F. Priest (Wanstead), W. C. Parker (Staines) and F. Blondell (late of Guildford). The meeting stood in silent remembrance of these former members.
The treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Deal, which showed that the year started with £125 in hand and concluded with \(£ 120\). A profit of \(£ 14 \mathrm{~s}\). 11d. was made on the annual dinner. A donation of \(£ 2\) had been paid to St. Ann's, Highgate.
The report and accounts were adopted.

\section*{NEW MEMBERS}

The following new members were elected :Miss J. Besant (St. Martin's, Epsom), Robin Turner and Gordon Whewell (Accrington), A. Ward (Manchester). A. W. Stone (Ashton-under-Lyme), G. E. Verrall, F. W. Burnett, R. Baldwin and R. H. Smith (Portsmouth) and Miss A. Rawson (Horsham).

\section*{TRIPLE EVENT CELEBRATED AT NORTHILL}

To mark the completion of 46 years in the ministry by the Rev. A. J. Nixseaman, a peal was rung at the Parish Church on his birthday. This was also the first peal on the bells since the new treble was added, the last peal having been rung 22 years previously.

Afterwards the peal band, together with the local ringers, were entertained to tea at the Crown Inn by the Rector and Mrs. Nixseaman, the highlight being the novel birthday cake complete with ring of bells. This was followed by a social hour where handbell ringing took place in between tales of ringing and ringers of years ago.
The Rector, being an authority on ancient tower clocks, has established beyond doubt that Northill Church clock was made by Thomas Tompson, the father of English clockmakers, who was born at Northill. The band tender their sincere thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Nixseaman for their hospitality and to the local ringers, who had everything in readiness.

Before vacating the chair the Master thanked the members for rallying round him during the past year. He had not been able to do all he anticipated doing for various reasons beyond his control, but he had had a very happy year.
A ballot was taken for the two nominees for the Mastership-Mr. T. H. Francis and Mr. F. E. Hawthorne. Mr. Francis was elected and he promised to do what he could to mairtain the tradition of the Society.
Other officers elected were:-Hon. secretary, Mr. P. N. Bond; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. R. Winterton, senior steward, Mr. F.J. Matthews, junior steward, Mr. R. Ling: trustees, Mr. C. J. Matthews and Mr. F. E. Hawthorne; hon. auditors, Mrs. Deal and Mr. H. E. Audsley.
Meetings suggested were:-March 26th, Richmond and Kingston; June 4th, Wrotham and Mcopham: September 10th, Dunstable or Leighton Buzzard. There were also two joint meetings with the Middlesex County Association on the programme.
The meeting favoured a dinner being held at the Old Bell on the first Saturday in October. Both the seating arrangements and the menu at the last dinner were criticised and the committee of officers responsible for the arrangements promised to consider the points raised.

Mr. G. Carter said some years aga a new rule book was mooted. He asked what progress had been made.
The Master said the book was almost completed in manuscript form. Mr. Ling had done most of the research but had experienoud some difficulty in the years between 1800 and 1900.

Mr. F. E. Hawthorne submitted a brief report on the Central Council meeting at Newcastle. The motion on synthetic bells submitted by the Society was received very favourably and was slightly amended.

Mrs. Francis asked if any members were interested in a quarter peal at Shoreditch on the second and fourth Sundays at 5.15 p.m. to communicate with her or the officers.
The Master called attention to the monthly practices of the Society at St. Martin's on the first Wednesday in each month at 6.30 p.m. These practices, he said, were held for the promotion of 10 - and 12 -bell ringing.
The Master proposed a vote of thanks to the incumbents of St. Martin-in-the-Fields and St. Giles', Cripplegate, for the use of the bells that afternoon, and to the ladies of St. Martin's canteen for preparing tea.

\section*{BIRTHDAY GREETINGS TO LEICESTER VETERAN}

To mark the 90th birthday of that fine old English gentleman - John O. Lancashire - a handhell peal of Cinques was arranged, but owing to the inclement weather one of the band could not 'make it,' so it was decided to ring Stedman Triples, a method much loved by 'John O.' (as he was always affectionately called by his many ringing friends of a decade ago). John \(\mathbf{O}\). delved deeply into the intricacies of this method and produced some very 'classic' peals which only an expert could hope to call. John \(\mathbf{O}\). with his companions, the late J. Buttery, G. Cleal, S. Cotton, A. Millis and \(\mathbb{W}\). Willson, made ringing history by taking part in the 'silent' handbell peals of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, a record still holding supreme place in this sphere. An architect of no mean ability, he has won several awards for his designs of various churches, inns and houses.

Advancing years have kept him away from the belfry of late years, but his interest in the art remains. and all-old and young-will join in this birthday greeting to him.

\section*{Frome and Midsomer Norton Branch}

At the annual meeting held at Chewton Mendip on January 8 th the secretary, Mr. E. J. Chivers, was enabled to report good progress in the Branch. Membership had increased to 158, including a Surprise Major band, and Ashwick tower had been gained, though Clutton had transferred to the Chew Branch.
Midsomer Norton eight (tenor 22 cwt .), silent for six years, have been rehung in a steel frame by Messis. J. Taylor and Co., and were rededicated on November 27th. A new band, mainly of beginners, is being trained by Mr. T. J. Dyke, who arranges a volunteer band in the meanwhile for service ringing.
Kilmersdon six are shortly to be tackled by the same firm, and the band is to be congratulated on having kept up fortnightly practices at other towers. Tower captains and incumbents who kindly permitted ringing by visiting bands were thanked both by the secretary and by Mr. G. Pomeroy on behalf of the Kilmersdon ringers.
Mr. R. Beck proposed that in the interests of cconomy the sending out of meeting-reminder cards should be discontinued-the notice in The Ringing World' should be enough. After some discussion in which it was pointed out that some of the less active towers might not see 'The Ringing World' and so be missed altogether, the motion was lost on the vote.
Eleven new members and five probationers were elected, and the chairman (Mr. J. T. Dyke), secretary (Mr. E. J. Chivers), Ringing Master (Mr. R. Beck) and Press representative (Miss E. D. Overend) were all re-elected. In proposing Mr. Beck from the chair, Mr. Dyke stressed how much the Branch owed to him for the present high standard of ringing and striking.

The coming year's meetings were arranged for April 23rd, Leigh-on-Mendip; July 9th, East Harptrec: October 8th, Chilcompton; January 14th, 1956, Midsomer Norton, subject to the necessary permission. Votes of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. K. Latter), tower captain (Mr. H. Baber), organist, and ladies who prepared tea were passed with enthusiasm. Some good ringing was enjoyed on the famous Chewton Mendip eight.

\section*{Favourable View of Service Ringing in Bath District}

Reporting on the general activities of the Bath Branch at the annual meeting on January 8 th. at St. Michael's, Bath, Mr. S. S. Woodburn (hon. secretary and treasurer) stated one must take a fairly favourable view, especially of the service ringing. The pride of place must go this year to St. Michael's, Twerton, where Mr. R. Fry had done a tremendous job in starting from scratch and getting to the stage of ringing quarter peals with local talent; also ringing twice on Sunday and establishing a regular weekly practice.
Mr. G. Hawkins and Mr. H. Newman, of St. Michael's with St. Paul's, Broad Street, and St. Matthew's, Widcombe, respectively, were both doing a grand job of work.
Reporting on the three quarterly meetings, Mr. Woodburn mentioned the success of the meeting at Weston, the first since the addition of two new bells. This was attended by between 140 and 150 members, and the newlyappointed Master, the Rev. Hurst Bannister, gave the address.

Officers re-clected at the meeting were:the Rev. E. J. Rowe, chairman ; Mr. S. S. Woodburn, secretary, Ringing Master and representative on the general committee; Mr. T. J. Hayward, treasurer.

The meeting was preceded by a service held at St. Michael's with St. Paul's, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. E. H. G. Sargent.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{MR. BLAGROVE'S REPLY TO MR.
FELSTEAD}

Dear Sir,-Some portions of the letter on page 843 should never have been written, for it is purely destructive criticism. To say that the rules of the Central Council are harmful to the majority and good only for the minority is sheer nonsense. What good has it done to bar Bob Triples, etc., from the analysis? If it stops ringers from ringing a 5,040 which contains 360 double changes, then a lot of good. Minor is highly debatable, but is it not better to have a rule which covers all from 6 to 12 as nobody quarrels with this rule for 8 upwards? Now the sheep, this is intended to be a nasty one, but Mr. Blagrove ought to attend the next Central Council meeting as an observer. He will soon realise that the officers and delegates are men with minds of their own. Were it not for the Central Council The Ringing World' would not exist. Does F. T. B. want this, or what does he wish the Central Council to do? May I say I am not a member of this body and never likely to be. If one is fair then it must be admitted that the Central Council has done good. People used to ring \(21 / 240\) 's and call it a peal of Minor. Would anyone do it to-day?
The Editorial of December 31st points out what some of these officials do, viz., spend a lot of their time and money on doing the work of the Central Council. So for a change let us give them a pat on the back and make them feel that their work is appreciated. You cannot get the best out of a body by using destructive criticism; then let us be fair and this will be welcomed. Best wishes, Mr. Blagrove, for 1955.-Yours faithfully,

Preston.

\section*{SORRY, PAT !}

Dear Sir,-May I point out that the footnote to the peal of Minor rung at Seal Chart, Kent, an Deoember 28th, 1954, as being the quickest peal on the bells, is incorrect.
A band, of which I was a member, rang a seven-method peal of Minor there on January 17th, 1948, in 2 hours 30 minutes, conducted by Robert Collins, of Sevenoaks, Kent. This was one minute quicker than the report of the peal in 'The Ringing World' of January 14th. May I dare to say, 'Sorry, Pat,' but we beat you by one minute.-Yours faithfully,

ERNEST J. LADD.
Tunbridge Wells.

\section*{FORTY YEARS AGO}

From 'The Ringing World ' of Jan. 29th, 1915 MEMORABLE GATHERING AT KELLY, DEVON
An interesting and memorable gathering took place at Kelly House, Devon, on Thursday of last week, when the Rev. Maitland Kelly, president of the Devonshire Guild, entertained to supper the past and present ringers of the parish. The occasion was the 50th anniversary of the first six-score of Grandsire Doubles rung on the bells of the Parish Church, and also in Devon by men of the county. Two of the Meriginal band, besides Mr. Kelly, were present, Messrs. John and Edwin Yole. Among the guests was Mr. John Trelawny, son of the late Col. H. R. Trelawny, who 50 years ago trained a band of scientific change ringers, one of whom, Mr. William Johns, was present.
After supper...a six-score of Grandsire Doubles was rung by a band composed as follows: John Yole 1, Rev. Maitland Kelly (conductor) 2, Abel Johns 3, William Johns 4, John Johns 5, Edwin Yole 6. The performance was a creditable one, especially when it is remembered that some of those who took part in it had not handled a rope for many years.

\section*{RANG HIS GREAT-GRANDFATHER'S BELL}

Dear \(\mathrm{Sir},-\mathrm{It}\) seems to me that everybody is going in for records and I thought I would have a go.
I went to ring a peal at Halifax Parish Church in 1907 and when we finished one of the ringers said that he had seen that my greatgrandfather had rung a peal at Keighley. He wanted me to get a band together and ring another this year and to have the privilege of standing in the attempt. This was done and I rang the same bell as my great-grandfather. Can anyone beat this?-Yours truly,

JOE HARDCASTLE.
Bradford, Yorks.
DOCTORS AND PEAL RINGING
The following appeared in 'The Lancet ' after the recent ' Doctors' Peal.'
Bells are proverbially sound, those other inhabitants of belfries, bats, are, by the same authority, cracked. To embark on the three hours of rope-pulling, which makes up a peal, called for the former quality in the ringers; but at moments our aching backs and increasingly beblistered hands made it seem likely that we had a lot in common with the bats.
Misgivings were banished, however, by the joy of achievement, the bells in their courses, an intricate eight-fold chain, came into their last lead, and the first peal \(\begin{aligned} & \text { of Bob Major by doctors was down in } \\ & \text { the records. The beer which flled such }\end{aligned}\) the records. The beer which filled such a long-felt want-and how pleasant is the \(\begin{aligned} & \text { feel of glass in the fingers after so much } \\ & \text { hemp-set the seal to our satisfaction. }\end{aligned}\)
And, after all, as someone remarked, dissecting our victory. 'Change-ringing is very like my out-patients, same old faces in a slightly different order, with a new one making the occasional bob.'

\section*{THEIR SUNDAY RINGING WOULD EQUAL NINE PEALS}

Dear Sir,-During 1954 a record has been kept of the changes rung for Sunday services and special services at the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Dallington. Northampton. The total was 46,662 , and has been performed mainly by the local band and only on odd occasions have visitors been present. Changes have been rung for every Sunday morning and evening service except on one occasion, when rounds and call changes were rung in the evening. These, and also those rung for weddings and practice, have not been recorded.
The ringing has been restricted owing to the poor condition of the bells. The longest touch has been 1,080 Plain Bob Minor in the carly part of the year.-Yours sincerely,
E. NOBLES (Tower Captain).

Dallington.

\section*{CLAIM WITHDRAWN}

Dear Sir,-Re peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major rung at Leigh. Lancs, on December 13th, 1954, and published in The Ringing World' on December 31st, I wish to withdraw the footnote claiming it to be the first peal in the method on the bells. Mr. J. Leatherbarrow, of Newchurch, has informed me that a peal in that method was rung there in 1924 . I did take the precaution of asking one of the local band, who said he had no knowledge of one being rung in that method.-Yours faithfully, Bolton.

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS}

\section*{North-East Branch Annual Meeting}

Representatives of seven Branch towers and visitors from Exeter attended the annual meeting of the North-East Branch at Silverton on January 8th. The Rev. J. H. Jones, Branch chairman, presided, supported by Prebendary E. V. Cox (president), Mr. E. J. Taylor (general secretary) and the Rector of Silverton (the Rev. W. V. Sanderson).

In his report, Mr. W. Ware (secretary and treasurer) stated that there was a balance in hand of \(£ 4113 \mathrm{~s}\). 1 d . in the general fund. There were now 78 performing members, many of whom were very young and needed every encouragement from the more experienced to learn the art of change ringing.
The Branch officers were elected as follows: Chairman, the Rev. J. H. Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. H. Ware; Ringing Master, Mr. A. G. Selley; general committee, Messrs. A. G. Selley, W. Richards and D. Bellamy. New members elected were: Mrs. W. Richards, Messrs. E. Hart, Jeremy Furbew, Terence Furbew. Michael Bunce (Silverton), R. Bend (Bradninch) and A. T. Muttey (Huntsham).
Prebendary E. V. Cox presented certificates to K. Snell, J. and T. Furbew, M. O. Bunce and E . Hart. The president spoke of the loss sustained by the Branch on the passing of Rev. F. W. Carter, and the meeting stood in silence.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector of Silverton for conducting the service and giving an address, the local ringers, and the ladies (Mesdames A. G. Selley, W. E. Richards, E. Hart, W. J. Richards and Miss E. K. Hutchings) who supplied the tea.

Ringing in the standard methods was under the guidance of the Ringing Master, Mr. A. G. Selley.

\section*{Tiverton Ringers' Supper}

After a lapse of many years, St. Peter's Society of Change Ringers, Tiverton, have revived their annual New Year's supper. A company of 25 included the Rector (Canon R. C. Worsley) and Mr. R. K. Giles (people's warden).
Responding to the health of the ringers, proposed by Mr. Giles, Mr. A. W. Payne (hon. secretary) mentioned the progress made by the Society through the untiring efforts of the captain, Mr. J. Upton, in maintaining a feeling of good fellowship, Mr. E. W. Richards (vioecaptain) and Mr. P. Mayne (steeplekeeper).
Mr. E. J. Taylor. general secretary of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, proposed the health of the guests, and the Rector, in acknowledging the compliment, thanked the ringers for the way they discharged their duties and also for the warm welcome they extended to visiting ringers at all times.

\section*{NORWICH ASSOCIATION}

A biting wind, frost and snow greeted the 3 I members and friends who attended the annual meeting of the North Norfolk Branch at Wymondham. The Vicar (the Rev. J. G. Tansley Thomas), who was not able to be present, sent a message of welcome by the curate, who conducted the scrvice. Miss Sinclair was at the organ.
The business meeting followed a good tea. Two honorary members and five ringing members were elected, including Miss Mary Clover, the first lady ringer of the Wymondham company.

Reference was made to the great loss the Branch and the Wroxham company have sustained in the death of Mr. G. Bailey last October and the members present stood in silenco to his memory. The sum of \(£ 1\) 1s. was collected for the Association Belfry Repair Fund. The next meeting will be held at Mulbarton on April 30th, and the Association's outing will be to Oxford on June 25 th.

\section*{EXPLORING THE UNKNOWN}

\section*{By P. AMOS}

THE area around Kettering is generally considered a hive of ringing activity, but it is not without its 'dead wood.' Within some six miles of Kettering are two 6 -bell towers where, to those who have taken up ringing durWhere, to those who have the 25 years, very little is known owing to the need of a bellhanger; both have comparatively light sixes.

The first of these is Cransley, with its village inn, the Three Cranes, some three miles to the west of Kettering. Some with long memories may recall the famous choir of this village giving several broadcasts before the war. On one occasion a band of district ringers managed to raise the six bells prior to one of the broadcasts to put them over the air. But alas ! How many listeners realised the state of these bells? The treble and fourth are both cracked in the crown (the treble having been plated both sides of the crack) and to ring them is next to impossible. I did manage at the end of the war to get 120 on them after a fashion, not knowing which bell was going to cast-wheel next, or rope land round someone's neck. All six bells were cast in 1683 by the Bagleys, of Chacombe-founders of many bells in the Midlands. The tenor is \(8+\) cwt. They are hung in an oak frame (which is still good for many years) set cornerways. The steeple looks strong enough for a ring of eight bells (tenor a ton).

With a church so well known to radio listeners and a Vicar who is a Diocesan adviser on music, it seems inconsistent and incredible that six bells could hang unrung for so many years. A peal was rung on them in 1910. Since the close of the 1914-18 war, almost silence has reigned in the steeple of this stately church. The oak frame was installed by Taylors, of Loughborough, in 1870.

A little further to the north-west is Harrington, where the tower is practically detached (except for a small corridor) from the rest of the church. The last peal was rung on these six bells (with a tenor of eight cwt.) in 1926 .
All the bells were cast by Thomas Mears, of All the bells were cast by Thomas Mears, of London, in 1817. They have been unrung since 1933. What the present Vicar intends to do about them I have no information, but two very stubborn predecessors (as well as one or two laity) would not hear of a restoration-- a chiming apparatus was good enough for them,' and 'bells were only a luxury.'

All the bells' headstocks are worm-eatenthat of treble being cracked right acrass the centre from bearing to bearing. In 1929 (the only time I rang at Harrington) it was apparent that a bellhanger would soon have to be called in.
Orton, close by, has one bell by Edward Amold, 1775, in its fairly large tower. Un-co-operative incumbents have been the cause of ringing inactivity (or only lukewarm activity) in yet another 6 -bell steeple on Kettering's door-step-that of Thorpe Malsor, where bells and bellringers to some of these incumbents have been frowned upon over a long period. only remember two occasions when it was possible to try out these bells, and I must say I was not very impressed by their tone. The treble and fifth were recast by Barwells, of Birmingham, 56 years ago. The tenor is seven cwt. The steeple is one of a chain of steeples on a ridge of hills which form landmarks for several miles around.
Loddington steeple, not far away, is a fine structure, but with only three very light bellsall by Robert Taylor, of St. Neots, 1803. The present firm of John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. rehung them in their old oak frame in 1933. Owing to their exposure-no louvres to keep out birds or rain-the oak frame and fittings look as if they have not seen a bell-hanger since about 1833. The tenor is not more than \(6-6 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt. ; there is easily room to hang three more trebles here! Even two would be a great improvement and make a handy little five.

Broughton, close by, will soon be claimed among the list of unknown belfries (to the rising generation, at least) if something is not soon done in the way of restoration. No ringing meetings have been held in this 5 -bell steeple for some few years now. The oak frame dates from 1709. The tenor is around 10 cwt ., 38 inches diameter across the lip.
A similar case nearby was Walgrave, whose five bells hung derelict from 1900 to 1937. Unknown to many is Old-on all road signposts, maps, buses, Post Office Guides, as well as official electoral and other directories, OLD it is! But to generations past this village was always known as Wold--some still insist on calling it Wold, which, they say, sounds better. Actually, it is on a wold! The Rev. A. G. Thurlow (so well known to ringers of East Anglia) was related to the last resident incum-bent-the late Rev. J. Goddard. To-day, Old is ioined with the parishes of Walgrave and Hannington.

> SOMEBODY THOUGHT OF US! 'As we sit in our comfortable armchairs before the blazing fire this Christmas Day, while the church bells ring merrily through the clean, frosty air across the snow (or, as the case may be, in a torrential downopur through the "smog "), let us remember the bellringers, straining at the ropes, sweating and breathing hard all of them. from tinkling treble to deep-throated tenor, skilfully striving with "round ". and "change," "double," "triple" "cater and "cinque." thrugh Grandsire. Treble Bob and Stedman, to sound the traditional melody of Christmastide and to ring the changes of the ding year. G Justice of the Peace and Local Government Review."

There are five bells in its tower, hung in an oak frame set cornerways-part of which requires replacing on which the treble is hung. A few years ago I tried patching them up to at least make them chimable for a time. The third, having the best headstock, was able to be made ringable. At harvest festival, 1950, a team, including myself, did, in fact, ring them up, and with hard work managed to ring a few 120 's. Others have tried twice since but, alas! they forgot the oil can or to take a spanner. The bells certainly need rehanging on completely new fittings-it may be possible to repair the frame where the treble bangs.
The fourth is an old bell by Henry Jordon, of London (1442-1470), unfortunately not very good toned, but capable of tuning and quarterturning. The next oldest is the third, dated 1631, showing all the familiar markings of Hugh Watts, the renowned Leicester founder. This is the best toned bell as well as the only good going one-if all five went the same-I say cast the tenor in 1639 . This bell of 40 inches diameter across the lip is about 11 cwt . Thomas Russell, of Wootton, Bedfordshire, cast the second in 1723, and Thomas Mears cast the treble in 1825 . Apparently the late Rev. Mr. Goddard did not know the full history of the tenor when he penned his notes on these bells, which hang framed on the belfry wall.
The tiny tower of Hannington has two bells -one about \(5 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\). by Hugh Watts, dated 1615, and the other by one of the Newcombes, of Leicester-possibly Edward, who in 1590 cast one of the four in the neighbouring tower of Holcot. Both bells were, before 1868, hung with wheels and rope, but to day only the lighter one is; the other hangs 'dead.' Hannington Church possesses some very interesting architectural features.

A few miles south a sad picture presents itself at Little Harrowden, whose tower not only leans, but is very weak at one corner, due to many years of neglect. A stitch in time. may have prevented such a state of affairs. Filth adorns the tower from top to bottom. Under the four bells is a carpet of twigs and dead pigeons, and the frame and fittings are just withered worm-eaten old oak. All four bells were originally 1624, cast by Hugh Watts, but the second had to be recast in 1732. They are a tuneful little four and would, in a new frame after repairs to the tower, with a treble added, make a handy light five; tenor is \(7 \frac{1}{2}\) to 8 cwt .

Great Harrowden. which actually is the smaller of the two villages, has three bells in a tower which was evidently rebuilt in 1861 . They are a minor three (tenor \(9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).). This bell is the only one in Northamptonshire cast by Thomas Clay. a Leicester bellfounder, who had only a short existence-from 1711 to 1715. It is dated 1715. The treble is 16 th century, and the second is by Watts, 1629 Wellingborough, only two miles away, is gradually extending nearer towards the Harrowdens, which may one day become suburbs.
A very old bell exists at Hardwick (spelt Hardwycke in some instances). This church is subsiding on one side but happily the tower is not affected. The old bell became cracked about 40 years ago and was scientifically welded by Barimer, of London, in 1926. William Dawe. a Hounslow founder from 1385 to 1418, is said to have cast it about 1395 . It has rather tall cannons. To disgrace it are eight tubular bells in this stately little tower in this picturesque small village-a hive for pienickers with its woods close by.
Cranford St. Andrew has four bells with a tenor of approximately 7 cwt . by Watts and inscribed: 'Cum cano busta mori: cum pulpita vivere disce 1624.' (' When I sing of tombs I learm to die: when I sing of pulpits I learn to live.')

\section*{35 Years as District Ringing Master}

Due to the wintry weather and other causes there was a smaller attendance than usual at the annual meeting of the Ross-on-Wye District held at Ross on January 8th. The Rector (Prebendary G. S. Stockley) conducted the service in Ross Church. Mr. F. C. Rowles acted as organist.
At the business meeting the Rector presided. The District secretary, Mr. W. T. Poston, of Ross, was re-elected. Mr. W. Poston (Bridstow) retired from the office of Ringing Master after 35 years of strenuous service. Prebendary Stockley and Prebendary Potter (Weston) spoke in appreciation of Mr. Poston's work over such a long period. Mr. J. J. Webb. captain of Ross-on-Wye tower, and Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, was elected Ringing Master in his place.

Prebendary Potter thanked the ringers for their generous donation to the work of restor ing the bells of Weston-under-Penyard.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Upton Bishop. The secretary read the statement of accounts for 1954, which were adopted. Several new members were elected.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to Prebendary Stockley for the use of the bells, the service and for presiding at the meeting.

\section*{MR. RICHARD DUFFIELD}

Mr. ' Dick' Duffield learnt to ring at Sharow West Yorks, in the year 1911. After the first World War, in which he served with the Royal Engineers, he joined the Ripon Cathedral company of ringers and remained with the band as a most loyal and faithful member until about three years ago, when ill-health compelled him to give up the art which he loved so well. He was a very good fellow, a capable ringer in the simpler methods and a good striker.
He was always punctual, as a steeplekeeper he was efficient, tidy and thorough, as a teacher he was patient and capable, and as an associa. tion member was most loyal and faithful.

Dick always underestimated his own capabilities, his modesty kept him in the background, but at the same time it made him a man much respected and well loved.

For some years a very skilful bootmaker, Dick entered the varnish making industry when the demand for hand-made footwear declined. and the writer of this appreciation knew him as a fellow-employee whose devotion to duty and painstaking thoroughness won the respect and admiration of every member of the firm

He died suddenly on Sunday, January 9th, at the age of 66 . With his passing the Church on earth has lost a man whose goodness and integrity made him a fine example to all who knew him. The sympathies of many will be extended to his widow.

The funeral service at Ripon Cathedral was conducted by the Rev. C. D'Aguiar, Minor Canon, assisted by the Dean and the Rev. Canon W. E. Wilkinson, Canon-in-Residence.

The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service by a band of the Cathedral ringers. Amongst the many floral tributes was one in the form of a bell, the tribute of his fellow-ringers to a well-loved friend. R.I.P.

\section*{MR. ARTHUR KIDYARD}

The ringers of Manchester Cathedral regret to announce the sudden death of Mr. Arthur Ridyard, their Ringing Master, who died at his home on Wednesday January 19th, aged 67 years. Mr. Ridyard had been a ringer at the Cathedral for the past 30 years and Ringing Master for about 10 years.

\section*{FIFTY YEARS AGO}

\section*{Record Peal Remembered}

On Boxing Day, December 27th, 1904, at St. Thomas Church, South Wigston, Leies, there was rung the then world record length of 17,104 changes of Double Norwich Court Bob Major in 10 hours and 35 minutes, composed and conducted by the late William Wilson. Of the band only two are still with us: the ringers of the treble and second, Josiah Morris, of Leicester, and Thomas \(\mathbf{H}\). Taffender, of London, respectively. Neither was able to take part in a commemoration peal on that date, and it was most unfortunate that, owing to a broken gudgeon on the second bell at South Wigston, the peal arranged for could not take place. It is hoped, however, that as soon as repairs can be completed such a commemoration peal will be rung.

A peal in the same method was rung on the date nearest possible at Oakham, Rutland, and it was fitting that although neither of the survivors of the original band could he in it, one of their sons-Emest Morris-was invited to conduct it. He chose to call Mr. William Willson's very fine composition of 5,024 , as recorded in the peal columns.

\section*{TOPIC FOR THE MONTH}

\section*{Peals, Public Opinion and Progress}

THE recent gallant attempt to ring the extent in the Major stage has focused widespread attention on peal ringing, both throughout the Exercise and among the public at large. The effect is something that any ringer, genuinely concerned in the welfare of our art, can hardly afford to disregard.

Although the Exercise and the public take rather different views of peal ringing, yet the two aspects should be considered jointly as well as independently, if any balanced conclusion is to be reached. Firstly, then, the independent views:-

To the public ear, church bell ringing is, of course, no novelty And to the majority of people who regard its sounds as being forced upon their attention, it is (let us face it) 'just an unwelcome jangle of noise.' Indeed, this seems to have been so since the earliest days of ringing, though to a less degree then. Yet, of course, there have been and still are many who say they enjoy nothing more than 'the sound of the bells,' particularly under such conditions they describe as 'across the fields at eventide,' and so on. Nevertheless, very few of the uninitiated listening public appreciate that change ringing is an orderly process, and that it produces, for example, a fresh order of bell-sounds at every complete 'round.' Even musicians may be found who will confess that, until their attention had been drawn to the fact. they had not realised that the bells were being rung in sequence of varying orders. In general, the public is ear-conscious only of a rather (to them) 'monotonous, disturbing and unnecessary noise.

The more built-up the area where the ringing is, the more prevalent may be this viewpoint. The important question is whether the degree of prevalence is rising within more recent years. Some observers will say that it is, and among their reasons is that of the absorption of leisure by the ever-increasing number of 'other interests,' such as listening, in the home, to' gramophone, radio and television; when the sounds of prolonged bell-ringing could well prove an unwelcome distraction.

So far, reference has been intended only as to ringing such as on practice nights; and to those who love their art it may be incredible (unless they know of actual cases) that hostility should exist even to this shorter-than-peals ringing. But how much more does this 'feeling arise when the 'nuisance' continues incessantly for three hours or more? This section of public opinion came out in protest, as we know, when the recent record length attempt was made. (The fact that every precaution was there taken to eliminate 'nuisance' to those in the vicinity did not weigh with them in their argument against peal ringing.) The eragic aspect of this is that the propaganda value of the attempt' towards recruiting for the Exercise was somewhat offset by this public outcry against peal ringing in general.

On the other hand, it is an undoubted fact that as the public is oecoming more ringing-conscious, so the interest of a minority is being iostered in this, their national art, through more frequent and betterinformed references in the Press, and through the medium of radio and television. This tender plant of public interest needs to be cultivated if the Exercise is to make unhampered progress. Consideration of the second independent viewpoint, that of the Exercise itself, may telp to indicate a means of such cultivation.

What is the view of the Exercise generally of peal ringing as now practised? Although there are many of us who have only an occasional opportunity to enjoy ringing a peal, yet we appreciate its value, tot only as to practice, but also as an accomplishment. Those, however, who are prolific peal ringers are, of course, entitled to respect or their opinions, which include views that peal ringing:-
1. Introduces an element of true sportsmanship (in the best sense), i.e, calls for a genuine team-effort to achieve what is not always a foregone conclusion!
2. Develops the powers of concentration which are so essential in good ringing.
3. 'Fixes' the method for the inexpert, by reason of the lengthier repetitive work-out entailed.
4. Induces a quasi-automatic condition of that part of the mind working away at the method itself, thus enabling greater attention to be fixed on the quality of the striking. In other words, playing the ' music as written.'
Promotes healthy rivalry between tower bands and ringing associations in raising the standard of ringing.
6. In improving the standard of ringing it thus enhances the performance of the service rendered in ringing for divine worship.

But is there not another side to this picture? Consider these points : 一
7. Has too frequent peal ringing in some towers led to its being banned therein?
8. Has the consequent disappointment among the band led to a falling off in their interest and their attendance?
9. Has this, in turn, adversely affected service ringing, the prime objective?
10. In how many districts is it a fact that while there is little or no objection to the \(1+\) to 2 hours' ringing on practice nights, there persists a strong objection to the 3 hours' or more ringing of a peal at other times, except on very special occasions?
11. Is it not the case that, in some towers where, in order to secure local toleration of protracted ringing that is 'soft-pedalled,' the bells have been 'boxed-in,' sometimes by a local amateur, and thus often have their tonal and resonant qualities spoilt?
12. Are full-length peals always rung from the proper' motives, for example, for some religious or national or Exercise cause?
The reader may perhaps be best able to answer these questions: but it is not without significance that at a recent Association annual dinner in London the Master of the Ancient Society observed that before a peal is to be attempted the question should be asked as to whether the peal would be in the interest of the Church and the advancement of the art of ringing.'

The final consideration of these two aspects, jointly, may yield a practical issue. Those of us whose ringing experiences stretch to the pre-Kaiser-war years, and who have enjoyed meeting ringers in many parts of the British Isles since those times, will have gathered various views and impressions on this question of peal ringing, a few of which have occasionally been expressed in these columns. Some of these views bear directly upon the factor of length, and upon the issues listed above; for example :-

2, \(3 & 4\) above. The view is that desirable objectives such as these are reached well within the space of even a quarter peal.

1, \(5 & 6\) above. Attainable, as are 2,3 and 4 above, in performances of less than three hours' duration.

7,8 & 9 above. Unfortunately-Yes, Yes, and Yes.
10 above. Quite a few. In some towers the practice night occasionally includes a quarter peal, as does also the service ringing. The result is of vital importance. Especially where this idea is introduced into peal banned towers, the lost advantages of 1 to 6 inclusive, above, are largely recovered.

11 ahove. Where this is achieved by proper means and because the sound otherwise beats down upon a nearby hospital or something of that sort, well and good; otherwise the practice is to be deprecated. Shorter periods of ringing suggest themselves as the real remedy.

12 above. Normally such occasions are not ill-served by performances that do not extend to periods of at least three hours!

Remedies. The general impression derived from these considerations is that the time has come to consider a compromise measure, for the ordinary run' of peal attempts. Briefly, the suggestion is that the official length of the standard peal should be set at approximately, but not less than, 3,000 changes. The average time would then be short of two hours by about 10 minutes. The present length of a quarter peal approximately would become the new "half-peal,' about 1,500 , and occupying a period short of one hour by about 5 minutes. The present 720 , or extent in the Minor stage, would become the new 'quarter peal,' occupying an average of about 25 minutes. The 5.000 length would still be accorded an official place, as a 'long peal,' which category would include all lengths above 5,000 . Long peals would be reserved for very special occasions or for objection free and, of course, for record performances. The proposals may be more readily appreciated, perhaps in tabular form :-
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|}
\hline Category & \[
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Length } \\
& \text { (minimum) }
\end{aligned}
\] & Average duration & Notes \\
\hline Peal & 3,000 & 1 hr .50 mins . & The new 'standard ' \\
\hline Half peal & 1,500 & 55 mins. & Replacing present quarter peal \\
\hline Quarter peal & \begin{tabular}{l}
720 minor \\
750 above
\end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l}
25 mins. \\
27 mins.
\end{tabular} & Mainly in Minor only \\
\hline Long peal & 5,000 upwards (Extent of 5,040 in Triples) & Depending on length -3 hours plus & Only for special occasions or objection free areas \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

The proposals appear not only to eliminate the named drawbacks, but also to retain the acknowledged advantages of peal ringing as hitherto practised. In addition they appear to open up new vistas for the composer!

The essential objective is the cultivation of the sympathy and not the hostility of the general public towards ringing, in their increasing awareness of its nature and of its importance to the Church and the Exercise.

But what are your views? If the proposals are considered to be favourable for advancing the art and its service to the Church, the matter calls for consideration at Central Council level. It's up to you!
A. Y.-B.

IEditorial Note: Your views are welcomed, on a postcard addressed to the Editor, and headed 'Peals.' Name and address must be given. A selection of comments and opinions will be published during the ensuing month.]

\section*{St. Mary's, Beddington}

There are enterprising ringers at St. Mary-the-Virgin, Beddington. To enable local folk and others to know the story of their bells and something about ringing generally, an interesting and illustrated booklet has been published (price 1s., from. Mr. F. Jennings, 28, Cedars Road, Beddington).

We strongly commend to those contemplating writing and publishing a booklet about their bells, the incorporation of notes on bells and ringing. These simple explanations answer many of the layman's questions and stimulate interest in our art. A glossary of some of the terms used in ringing adds to the attractiveness of the booklet. To budding composers we call attention to the definition of a composer, 'One who understands the science of permutation and proof in order to obtain on paper the required number of changes.'

Mr. Charles Kippin, sen., of Beddington, Surrey, sends us the following epitaph on a ringer:-
Here lies an old ringer beneath the cold clay
Who rang many peals, both serious and gay.
Through Grandsire and Stedman
With ease he could range,
Till Death called a "Bob"
Which brought round the last change.
The following lines were written on a belfry door by an irate professor whose studies were disturbed by the local bellringers:-
Disturbers of the human peace
Whose chimes are always ringing,
I wish the ropes were round your necks,
And you were from them swinging.

\section*{Ladies' Guild at Canterbury}

Despite the wet afternoon ef January 22nd the meeting at Canterbury Cathedral was well attended-about 50 people sitting down to tea.
The ringers attended Evensong in the choir, and Canon Standen welcomed them to the Cathedral before reading the second lesson.
After tea Mrs. Mitchell expressed thanks to the Dean and Chapter, and to Mr. Bert Luck for making the arrangements. When the gentlemen had returned to the belfry the president of the Branch, Mrs. Mitchell, took the chair for the meeting. New members were elected, a number of whom were present. It was decided that the present officers should stand for 1955, Miss Ruth Stafford being added to the committee. It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Wratham on March 19th.
Returning to the tower to join the men, methods up to Cambridge Surprise Major and Stedman Cinques were attempted, and during rounds on the 12 some of the ladies tried their strength on the back end.

\section*{A Christmas Grab}

Eight young ringers from St. Luke's, Wolverhampton, Little Aston and Lichfield Cathedral had a ringing outing on December 28th. Their correspondent writes:-

Just off the main Watling Street, on the opposite side of Hinckley, lies the small village of Burton Hastings. Here we enjoyed ringing on the excellent five of St. Botolph's Church (tenor \(6 \frac{3}{2} \mathrm{CWt}\). in B).

We found the six at Brinklow somewhat difficult to handle as they do not 'run' any too well, and there is a longish draught, with a tenor of \(8 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\). in A flat.

In the garden-like churchyard of Church Lawford stands the Church of St. Peter. Its excellent ground-floor six are a pleasure to 'top round' with a tenor of \(7 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}\). in B flat.
On arrival at Dunchurch the head ringer informed us that a few weeks ago Messrs. Mears and Stainbank had completed rehanging these six bells on ball bearings. We were the first band of visitors to try them. We found them a little difficult at first, but the tower is tall and sways somewhat, not to mention that the tenor is 19 cwt . in F , being the second heaviest ringable six in the county.
After a sandwich lunch and a search for petrol we eventually arrived at St. Mary-theVirgin's, Clifton-on-Dunsmore. Here there is a low, squat tower with a bear caryed in the stonework; inside there is quite a good ring of five (tenor \(9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\). in F sharp).

After a disappointment at Hillmorton, where the Vicar informed us that the bells could only be raised 'frame high,' we rang at our last tower for the day, St. Nicholas', Willoughby, a fairly good six (tenor \(14 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.). Perhaps to some, more interesting was the outside view of the 14th century church with its noble tower.

\section*{LATE NEWS}

The 500th peal on the bells of St. John-theBaptist, Erith, is being attempted to-day. May good luck attend the band!
We regret to announce the death on January 27th of the Rev. Percival Gough, M.A., Rector of Acton, who was president of the Middlesex County Association.

We regret to learn that Mr. Reginald W. Rex, of 12, Green Lane, Thatcham, a prominent peal ringer in the Oxford Diocesan Guild, met with an unfortunate accident while at work on January 25 th, which necessitated the amputation of his left arm in Newbury Hospital. Apart from ringing, Mr. Rex is a keen musician and a member of the Newbury British Legion Band. He has the good wishes and sympathy of a large circle of ringing friends, who wish him a speedy recovery in his general health.

Mr. W. Sharpe, of Hose, Leicestershire, rang in a quarter peal in honour of his 78th birthday.

Dr. John E. Spice, who for the past three weeks has been seriously ill in the David Lewis Northern Hospital, Liverpool, is now happily on the road to recovery.

Mr. B. J. Stafford and Mr. J. D. Painter, who took part in the peal of Yorkshire Surprise at Knebworth on January 8 th (see page 36), had never struck a blow in the method before.

The bells of St. Paul's Church, Sketty, Swansea, will be heard before the broadcast of the British Legion special service at 7.45 p.m. in the Welsh Home Service on Sunday, February 13th.

We are sorry to learn from a Cheltenham correspondent that Mr. Sidney Romans is suffering from failing sight. Through the good services of his wife, who reads 'The Ringing World 'to him, he is able to keep in touch with ringing news.

Young ringers from St. Luke's, Wolverhampton, Little Aston and Lichfield had an outing into Leicestershire, which coincided with the Melton Mowbray meeting. They arrived at Melton in time for the Press photographs. Towers in the itinerary were Kirby BelJars, Asfordby, Melton, Marborough, Croft, Broughton-Astley, Cosby and Countesthorpe.

\section*{GOSSIP} prise Major rung at Lyme the 50th anniversary of Canon C. Carew Cox's first peal. The ringers who took part with Canon Cox in the anniversary peal wish to offer him their sincere congratulations on reaching this landmark, a sentiment which will, no doubt, be echoed by his ringing friends throughout the Exercise in general and the Salisbury Diocesan Guild in particular.

Mr . and Mrs. C. Ernest Turner are leaving next week by air for a short holiday in Majorca. Upon his return Mr. Turner hopes to resume his normal activities.

Fourteen-year-old John Ewer, of St. Albans, who started ringing two years ago, introduced seven teen-age recruits last year. He is learning on the Abbey bells.

Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. have recently installed a chime of bells in St. Mary's Grotto, Belfast. The Lourdes hymn is played on them hourly.-' Irish Bell News.'

The engagement of Mr. John Moore and Miss Eileen Bracey has brought forth a congraulatory quarter from St. Mary's, Stafford. John's profession has brought him to work in Stafford, and he now rings regularly at St. Mary's. Eileen made the acquaintance of Stafford bells when she rang in this tower during her summer holiday.

Eileen Joyce, the pianist, claims that the colour of her gown must suit the particular composer whose work she is playing. Where, then, are our Plain Bob purples and our Grandsire greens? asks 'Nutmeg' in an article on dress reform in "The Ringing Towers.' She states that in Australia for peal attempts singlets and shorts are the favourite garb for men, and blouse and shorts for ladies.

PEAL RINGING IN HERTFORDSHIRE

\author{

N anticipation of the article on Hertfordshire, Mr. H. V. Frost and Mr. D. P. Jones both sent me very useful information about the county-the former giving a list of peals that he had collected, and the latter the latest information about the towers and their condition. I am extremely grateful to both for their interest and help, which came quite unexpectedly.
Actually, of course, this county gets off to an excellent start in any case with the admirable little booklet which Mr. Frost published last year (and which appeared in The Ringing World ' on 'Ringing in Hertfordsire '). So what I say will only amplify his work and give. perhaps, certain details which were not available to him.
Mr. Frost indicates how flourishing changeringing was in the county at the beginning of our period in 1881 with Squire Proctor's famous band to help things along. My records support this in many ways. For instance, more than 90 per cent, of the then 8 -bell towers had had peals rung at them by the turn of the century, which is a very high proportion indeed. In several cases more peals were rung at towers then than since, e.g., St. Albans (St. Peter's and the Cathedral). Bishop's Stortford, Aldenham. Benington, Hertford St. Andrew's. etc. In fact, on the whole, there was as much peal ringing in the early part of the period as there has been since. The main difference has been in the variety of methods rung now as compared with then-but that is true over the whole country. But now to turn to the towers individually.

\section*{BUSHEY'S RECORD}

By far the most popular, as far as peals have been concerned, is Bushry, (8), where 264 peals have been rung. Although this tower appeared very frequently in the peal reports just before the last war ( 33 times in- 1938 and 1939 !), the average was greater per year before the first war than since. The first peal came in 1890 and 134 peals were rung before the first war put an end to peals for four years-an average of over five and a half per year. In the 21 years from 1918 to 1939, 95 were rung-average of nearly four and a half per year. Since 1943, 34 have been rung, so the average now is three per year. The recent illness of Mr. Cashmore no doubt accounts to some extent for the drop. Still, 264 peals in 64 years is very good going and few towers can equal it.

Two other towers have passed the 100 mark -Aldenham (8) with 144 and Oxhey (8) with 107. At the former, 104 of the peals came from 1890 to 1913, showing that the tower was almost as popular as Bushey at that period; then there were 33 between the wars, and seven from 1948 to 1953. So, as mentioned above, there was much greater activity here in the early days than now. Oxhey shows a similar tendency. Sixty-nine peals came from the years 1888 to 1913, there were 28 from 1919 to 1938, and there have been ten since 1943.

\section*{APSLEY END'S POPULARITY}

No tower is nearing the century, but there are seven between 63 and 76 , covering all types of towers from twelve to six bells, Barnet (8) has the 76 -exactly half before the first war (beginning 1892) and with a peal last year, the first since 1949. St. Albans, St. Peter's (10), has \(75-36\) from 1887 to 1913,27 from 1921 to 1938, and 12 since 1944; Little Munden (a 6 6ell tower) has the very respectable total of 69. largely due to pre-1914 activities, when 41 of them were rung between 1897 and 1914. There were 20 between the wars and there have been eight since. So this 6 -bell tower also supports the signs of greater activity in the county 50 years ago than since.

St. Albans Cathedral (12) has 67. Thirty-six were rung from 1883 to 1906 and five more in the next eight years. There were 18 between the wars and eight in the years 1946 to 1951 (none since as I write). Both Bishop's Stortford (10) and Apsley End (6) have 65. The former was particularly active early on, for 52 of the 64 were rung from 1881 to 1914. There were 11 between the wars and the only one since the last war was rung earlier this year. Of all the towers with totals of more than 60, Apsley End is the only one which has grown in popularity and not decreased. After a first peal in 1902, 21 years elapsed before the next was rung, and then came five peals from 1923 to 1928. After a further brief lapse, things really got going and 21 peals were rung between 1933 and 1940. Ringing was soon under way again when the war was over, and we find 36 peals from 1944 to 1953 . But there were only two in 1954, which suggests a decline again. The last of the seven is Knebworth (8), where 63 peals have been rung. In the 15 years from 1897 to 1912, 31 of the peals were rung, then from 1919 to 1938 another 23 (showing a lower average once again) and finally nine since 1945
To mention towers (apart from those already discussed) according to number of bells, we find four more with ten bells. Hatfield has had 56 peals, 32 before the first war and eight since the last one. Hertford All Saints' has 46. Seven of these were rung before the church was destroyed by fire in 1891. The next peal on the new bells was in 1907 and there has been an average of about a peal each ringing year since, although the last one was rung in 1950. Watford was an 8 -bell tower at the commencement of the period, but only two peals had been rung before 1930 (in 1907 and 1921 -but peals were rung here in the 18 th and 19th centuries). In the 1930 's, however, 13 peals were rung in very advanced Surprise

Major methods for the most part. Since augmentation, the tower has been more popular and there have been 17 peals on the ten in the past seven years. Finally. Rickmansworth, which was also an 8 -bell tower up to 20 years ago, has 23. Again we find peals in the 18th and 19th centuries here, but only few before the first war (five, in fact). There were 13 between the wars, including three on the ten in the late 1930's, and there have been five since 1945.

Little more remains to be said about the 8 -bell towers. Broxbourne, Hoddesdon and Sawbridgeworth have not been heard of for 20 years, whilst Welwyn still remains to be conquered as an eight-bell tower (one peal was rung there when it had six bells in 1939). Six-bell towers which deserve mention (apart from the two above) are Barley, where 48 peals have been rung-seven from 1910 to 1913, and no less than 4 L from 1921 to 1936 (I wonder why the sudden silence since); Great Wymondley (35-15 since 1947, so this tower is doing well at the moment), and Great Munden (31-12 from 1907 to 1913 after the first peal in 1902, and 18 from 1919 to 1934 -again silence since!). Six-bell towers which have never appeared in the peal lists are Great Amwell. Ayot St Peter's, Buckland. Pelham Furneaux, Therfield, Thorley and Willian. Of these, Mr. Jones informs me that Ayot, Buckland, Therfield and Willian are only hung for chiming now and so cannot be 'pealed,' whilst Pelham Furneaux are unringable so that only Great Amwell and Thorley remain to be conquered, and both are likely to be so before long. As for the relatively few 5 -bell towers, only Pirton remains virgin territory when Kelshall (a chime) and Cottered, Ickleford and Layston (unringable) are excluded. So I don't suppose this last of the possible 5 -bell towers will remain out of the peal lists for long.* No 5-bell tower has had more than two peals on them, however.
The small county of Huntingdonshire, which comes next, will prove to be rather a contrast to the large number of peals rung in Hertfordshire.

> A peal has now been rung.

Mr. W. F. Oatway, of 233,
Thornton Road, West Croy- BELFRY GOSSIP don, is still the secretary of the Surrey Association, and not Mr. W. Parrott, whose name is given in 'The Ringer's Diary.

England's oldest ringer, Mr. S. Quintrell, of St. Columb, Cornwall, died on January 9th, aged 99. He had been a ringer for 83 years.

The peal at Kintbury recorded this week is claimed to be the first peal on the bells since they were originally hung in the 17th century.
Handbells were rung at the graveside of Mr. E. J. Gale by St. Albans ringers. This is the first time such a tribute has been paid at St. Albans since 1940.
The great improvement in the ringing chamber at St. George's, Camberwell, was commented upon by members of the London County Association when they visited the tower on Jan. 22 nd. The ancient peal boards, writes our correspondent, look like new.

Prittlewell ringers are losing a stalwart by the departure of Mr. F. B. Lufkin for Braintree. Born and bred there he has rung in the Parish Church for 27 years and been Master of the tower for 20 years, succeeding Mr. W. Judd.

All the band, with the exception of the conductor, who rang in the complimentary quarter peal at Christ Church, Epsom, on January 23 rd , to Mr. G. F. Oakshott, in recognition of the B.E.M. being awarded him, were his pupils and all are regular members of the Sunday band at this church.

Mr. Alfred Willis (69), who has been captain of Cockington, Devon. ringers, for nine years, has resigned. His successor is Mr . Roy Stickling, who was one of his pupils. This tower is much favoured by visiting ringers and others. Mr. Willis tells the story of a lady who climbed up to the bell chamber and was found by the verger still locked in the tower whose history had so interested her.

Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Guild had an average aftendance at its four meetings last year of 76 .

Fashion note.- Bell ear-rings peal on invitation to playtime when worn with gay, bowed headwear topping a two-piece play suit.''Evening Mail.'
In an interview Enid Blyton states that one of her two daughters has a craze for ringing bells and goes all over the country doing it. We must watch our peal and quarter peal columns.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead informs us that the peal at Brent Knoll. Somerset (see page 38), was the first on the bells for 42 years, and that at Shipham, Somerset (page 39) the first for 22 ycars
Mr. F. T. Waite, of Cheltenham, who as a boy rang with Mr. Fred May at Painswick, sends us a snap of four bells mounted on a length of wood, fastened to a tree in the grounds of St. Peter's Church, Pietermaritzburg. Although not used for years they were rung by a native climbing a ladder, and pulling the ropes attached to each clapper. Two of the bells aro inscribed: 'C. and G. Mears, 1855.'

\section*{THE SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD}

\author{
Dorchester Branch's A.G.M.

The Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Dio cesan Guild of Ringers held their annual meeting at St. Peter's Church, Dorchester, on Saturday, January 22nd.
Ringing on the eight bells commenced at about 2.50 p.m.. and the Guild service at 4 o'clock was conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon J. C. Chute.

Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, the Rector and Branch chairman, read the lesson and gave the address, taking for his subject the story contained in the lesson, the conversion of St. Paul.
Tea was served at the Wessex Restaurant, the arrangements being made by Mr. R. H. Duke, assistant hon. secretary of the branch, and immediately after tea the business meeting was conducted by the chairman, Canon Markby.
Arising from the minutes the secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne, read letters from the Bishop of Salisbury and the Diocesan Advisory Committee in reply to a resolution from last year's meeting regarding recorded bell music, which had been submitted to the Bishop and the committee. This brought a comment from the Rev. R. P. Farrow, Vicar of East Lulworth, calling attention to an extract from the Bristol Diocesan Gazette, reprinted in 'The Ringing World,' to the effect that although during recent years faculties had been granted for the installation of electronic bells in some churches it was unlikely that further faculties would be granted.
The minutes being accepted and signed, the hon. secretary read his report for the past year.
Membership was now 186, comprising 168 ringing members, 7 honorary and 11 associate members, an increase from last year of 23. Sixteen quarter peals had been rung, four at Preston, three at Wyke Regis, three at Abbotsbury, two at Wool and one each at Martinstown, Frampton, Buckland Newton and Sydling, the methods rung being six quarters of Grandsire Doubles, three of two Doubles methods, three of Grandsire Triples, three of Plain Bob Minor, and one of Kent Treble Bob Minor.
Mention was also made of the death of one member during the year, Mr. C. H. Butter, who passed away in November.
The financial statement showed a credit balance of just over \(£ 5\), and both the report and the balance sheet were accepted on the proposition of Mr. Precey, seconded by Mr. H. Ford.
It was agreed that Mr. F. Precey and Mr. R. H. Duke should represent the Branch at the Guild committee meeting at Salisbury on January 29th.
Officers were elected as follows:-Chairman, Canon A. Wilkinson Markby; vice-chairman, Ven. J. C. Chute ; hon. secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne; assistant hon. secretary, Mr. R. H. Duke; Ringing Master. Mr. F. Precey; Deputy Ford.
New members were accepted as follows:-
Miss J. Langford, Miss D. Ausden, Miss J. GilMiss J. Langford, Miss D. Ausden, Miss J. Gilbert, Miss R. Webb and Mr. D. Wood, from Abbotsbury; Messrs. A. Banks, R. Banks, D. Rossiter, K. Hunt and V. Nosthern, of Si. Peter's, Dorchester; Messrs. A. Graham, G. Vincent and B. House (aged nine), from St. George's, Fordington; Miss D. Nice and Mr. G. Forrester, from Wyke Regis; Miss J. Cann, Miss W. Galpin-Attwood and Miss B. Laws, of Upwey ; and Mr. D. Hewitt, unattached. Two old members rejoined the Guild, Messrs. L. V. Davis and E. Carpenter, of Upwey, and Mrs.
Markby, of Dorchester, was elected an honorary member.
Meetings for 1955 were suggested for Puddletown in April. Abbotsbury in June, Preston in August, and Wyke Regis in October, subject, of course, to the consent of the incumbents.

On the question of joint meetings with neighbouring branches a long discussion took place, and it was eventually decided that, subject to confirmation, Cattistock would be most acceptable for a joint meeting.
Mr. Duke raised the question of making contact with those towers within the Branch area whose members seldom or never attended meetings or practices, and Mr. M. Brown, of Frampton, and Mr. H. House, of Fordington, also spoke on the subject. It was finally agreed that a list of all towers, together with practice nights, should be compiled and sent to every tower correspondent.
Thanks were accorded to Mr. Duke for the tea arrangements, and to the lady organist.
Ringing was resumed until, 9 p.m. at St. Peter's and also at St. George's, Fordington.

The increased rates do not apply to subscribers who paid before February 1st.

\section*{COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{An Offer From Birmingham}

The 22 who braved the inclement weather had a thoroughly enjoyable time at Allesley on January 15th. A variety of methods, including Spliced Surprise, kept the octave going for about two hours in the afternoon and an hour in the evening. A sumptuous tea was provided at the Rainbow.
The business meeting was presided over by the Master, Mr. R. J. Edden. Members were reminded of the annual meeting on April 16th at Chilvers Coton.

Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward, the Northern District secretary, announced that the Guild had been invited to hold a meeting outside its territory in order to have an opportunity of 12 -bell ringing. Therefore on the invitation of the officers of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, the next meeting would be held there on February 19th, the Cathedral bells being available during the afternoon and St. Martin's in the evening.
Before the meeting closed members stood in silence in memory of Mr. Sam Carter, a Bulkington ringer since 1924, whose devoted service to the tower had been most marked. Mr. H. F. Ashley, also of Bulkington, who had been ill for some weeks at his home, was sent the good wishes of the members present for his speedy return to health. His daughter, Miss Rosemary Ashley, promised to convey the message.

\section*{'BELLS IN ENGLAND'}

This book by Tom Ingram (Frederick Muller, Ltd., price 18s.) is a fascinating survey of the many uses, both ecclesiastical and secular. to which bells have been and still are put in England. In addition to church bells; bicycle bells and those used with trains, clocks and fireengines, as well as handbells of all kinds, are dealt with at length, and the bibliography shows the wide range of the author's reading of the subject. The chapters which ringers will find especially interesting include one on 'The Bell Foundry,' which describes in considerable detail the work involved in casting a bell. Another chapter gives an account of a prizeringing contest in Devonshire, while this journal and its predecessor, 'The Bell News,' receive mention (there is an amusing account taken from the latter of an outing to Quex Park and the Isle of Thanet by the Cumberlands about 1890), along with various ringing books and the Central Council's publications, in a chapter which also tells of an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Cambridge Minor in the West Country. The improvement in the standard of ringers brought about largely by the beneficial influence of ringing Associations is dealt with, and 'Ringing for Special Occasions' relates many curious and traditional usages.
Not unnaturally, the author at times expresses opinions which will probably not find general acceptance among ringers. Thus he suggests that the. Church might for example allow bells to be rung for such occasions of public rejoicing as the return of a victorious F.A. Cup team-though it must be admitted that this would be no worse an excuse for peal ringing than some which are put forward. Again, he suggests that the Central Council has discouraged muffled ringing in whole-pulls; certainly a peal so rung would not be recognised but it is doubtful if the average ringer would even want to ring that way (it wouldn't be easy): the writer has never heard any such There are also one or two misstatements of fact. Thus the first tower-bell peal by a lady (Miss, not Mrs., Alice White) was in 1896 and not 1912; and few of the many thousands of peals which are rung find their way on to boards or tablets. Further, one feels that items such as a lengthy description of the 'pancake race' at Olney could well have been omitted in favour of something more relevant to the subject. However, these are small matters. The book itself is very readable and is well illustrated by Miss Barbara Jones, and those who appreciate more than just technical literature on the subject of bells should not fail to add it to their collections.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Northern District at Streatham}

It was foggy and wet on January 22nd when a large number of ringers attended the annual meeting of the Northern District at Streatham. Ringing commenced at Immanuel under the guidance of the District Master, Mr. F. E. Collins until 4.30, when the curate, the Rev. W. L. White conducted a short service.

A company of 56 sat down to an excellent tea which was arranged by the ladies of the ringers.
At the business meeting the following officers were re-elected:-Master, Mr. F. E. Collins; hon. secretary, Mr. W. Parrott; hon. treasurer, Mr. H. N. Pitstow ; auditor, Mr. R. F. Layton; committee members, Messrs. A. J. Adams, R. Lathbury and G. Petters.
During the year 12 resident and five nonresident ringers (prior to a peal) became members of the Association. Collections for the Bell Fund amounted to \(£ 19\) s. 1d.
Ringing from rounds to Bristol Surprise followed the meeting at St. Leonard's Church.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCLL MEMBERS AND INSTRUCTIONS}

Dear Sir, - I write to question Mr. W. Birmingham's contention that Associations should instruct their representatives how to vote at Central Council meetings. Surely the fundamental principle of democratic control is that, having elected someone to represent you, you then stand by his or her actions on your behalf -and if you don't like those actions, then at the next election you try another representative!

I may add that I hold no brief for the opinions of the Methods Committee, and it is my intention, should the question arise, to both speak and vote for the recognition of, for example, peals of Plain Bob Triples. Nevertheless, I appreciate that the position of members of the Methods Committee would be impossible if they were not permitted to think for themselves, but had to voice, parrot-fashion, the views passed by a majority of those who happened to be present at a particular meeting of their Association.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{' PUERILE ARGUMENTS '}

Dear Sir,-Almost two years ago, through the medium of "The Ringing World,' I asked the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead for, and he promised to give, his reasons for the ostracism of socalled irregular methods.

Since then much water has flowed under the bridge and much ink from, Mr. Felstead's pen, but at long last these reasons have appeared.

On perusing the somewhat naïve statements, one is hardly surprised at his reluctance to disclose them! However, seeing that these reasons have been effectively demolished (not a difficult task) by other correspondents in these columns, it only remains for me to add that if Minor ringers allow themselves to be deceived by such puerile arguments, they deserve to be condemned to ring Plain Bob Minor for the remainder of their existence. - Yours sincerely,

\section*{Ryhill, Wakefield.}

\section*{MR. F. G. MAY}

Dear Sir,-I have been interested in recent correspondence regarding Mr. F. G. May, having met and rung with him quite a bit during a summer spent in Gloucestershire 51 years ago.

If memory serves, he called the last peal on the bells of St. Bride's, Fleet Street, about the same time. Two peals were rung on them on two successive Saturdays-one by the late \(W\). Pye and the other by the Bristol men, and that was the end of peal ringing at St. Bride's.Yours, etc.,
E. BARNETT.

Dear Sir,-I have been much interested in correspondence giving news of my old friend, Mr. Fred May. It recalls a day in 1898 , when I met him on the Gloucester cricket ground and he invited me to take part in a peal at Cirencester. Luckily, I happened to have a holiday just on the date named and we rang a splendid peal of Grandsire Caters, conducted (if I remember rightly) by John Austin. One detail of that occasion may be of interest to some of your readers: we watched the great Dr. W. G. Grace go in to bat on his own county sound and come out with a score of 13.Yours faithfully, Kington Magna, Dorset.

\section*{BISHOP ELLISON'S PEAL}

Dear Sir.-Evidently the peal referred to by Bishop Gerald A. Ellison ('Ringing World,' January 21st, page 40), was that which he rang at St. Michael's, Cheriton, Hants, on July 27th, 1938. During the time he was chaplain to the Bishop of Winchester he occasionally visited New Alresford in connection with a Youth movement and when preaching here on Sundays always joined the ringers for a touch on the bells before the service. He came here on a practice night just before the peal for the purpose of completing his knowledge of Grandsire Doubles and we devoted the whole practice to this object.
On July 27th, 1938, he called here to pick up the tenor ringer and myself and conveyed us to Cheriton, meeting the rest of the band there. It was touch and go that we completed the peal, as towards its end the treble rope came into contact with something as it passed through the guides, and commenced disintegrating. Luckily, exercising great care, the treble man, in spite of a shower of fluff over him, managed to carry on and the peal was finished with only a strand of rope remaining.
The Rev. Mr. Ellison rang remarkably well and the Vicar of Cheriton (Rev. Mr. Brownlow) was delighted with the result and regaled the band with coffee and cakes after its conclusion. The record of the peal is: Grandsire Doubles, 5,040 changes, 2 hours and 48 minutes ( 40 120's and one Morris' 240); Harold H. Shaw 1, Harry Newnham 2, Leslie Tremeer (conductor) 3, Allen Tremeer 4, Rev. Gerald A. Ellison 5, W. Wearing 6. believe the Bishop was taught to handle a bell at Sherborne, and I hope these details may bo of interest to you.-Yours truly,

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN HEREFORDSHIRE}

Dear Sir,-The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead has certainly raised a storm of protest over the rejection of certain methods. I would, however, like to point out something far worse. According to his article on 'Peal Ringing in Herefordshire; he has transferred Presteigne, the county town of Radnorshire, to Herefordshire! As Radnorshire had only two eight-bell towers, this giving away of half of them is a big loss to that county!

This reminds . me of another Radnorshire tower where, on an illuminated list of details of the bells supplied by the firm who restored them in 1938, we read: "New Radnor, Herefordshire'!
Mr. Felstead mentions six towers where peals have not yet been rung. All these are unringable and the majority also have cracked bells.
Since the installation of the new octave at Eardisland, just two years ago, nine peals have been rung up to December 31st, 1954, not six as stated.
No mention is made of Leintwardine bells, which were augmented to eight soon after Eardisland, but no peal has been rung there since this was done.
It is interesting to note that of the first 100 peals rung at Bridstow, Mr. W. Poston, the local captain, took part in 99 -the exception being a peal rung by the late William Pye's band when visiting Herefordshire.

Mr. Poston has done great work for the Hereford Guild and it is much regretted that ill-health has made it impossible for him to continue as Ringing Master of the Ross District, a post he has held for many years.Yours sincerely,

LESLIE EVANS.

\section*{MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD}

Annual Meeting at Burton
The ninth annual meeting of the Midland Counties Guild was held at Burton on January 15 th when despite the 'arctic' weather conditions some 40 members and friends from a wide area met at the Church of All Saints.

Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and the re-cently-installed and good-toned ring of six bells were put to good use until \(4.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). in methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge and London Surprise Minor. Following tea the Vicar of All Saints' (the Rev. F. Pickering) extended a warm welcome to the members before the annual meeting commenced with Mr . W. H. Curson presiding in the unavoidable absence of the president (the Ven. H. E. FitzHerbert).

\section*{YEARLY REPORT}

The secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton, in his report, referred to the loss by death of Mr. E. W. Beadsmoore (Ashby) and Mr. D. Glover (Burton). The company stood in silence to their memory. In paying tribute to the service given to the Guild by Mr. E. W. Beadsmoore, Mr. Cotton said: A great and noble gentleman has passed from our midst, one who strove so hard-following the division of the M.C.A.to see this Guild formed and who, in spite of advancing years and failing health, had served on its committee since 1946.'
Seven meetings had been held during 1954 with attendances a little below the average of previous years. Seven resident ringing members had been elected with six non-resident life members, and the Guild membership was now 26 honorary members and 107 ringing members.
During the year 25 peals had been rung in 15 towers in four counties with 14 conductors. Four members scored their first peal, whilst 11 members rang their first peal in one particular method. Mr. Roland Beniston headed the list of conductors with a total of six followed by Messrs. D. R. Carlisle (three), Ernest Morris, S. H. Jones, C. Glenn and J. W. Cotton two each, B. G. Key, F. W. Grocott, Jack Bailey, J. R. Mayne, W. P. Whitehead, A. Cattell, A. E. Rowley and G. H. Lane one each.

The hon. secretary was again the Guild's leading peal ringer with 23 peals, followed by Mrs. S. H. Jones with 16 peals and Mr. S. H. Jones with 15 peals.
On May 15 th the message of the bells sounded throughout the area in a remarkable manner as an expression of gratitude for the safe homecoming of our beloved Queen from her Commonwealth tour, and as the Guild's tribute a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Repton.
The balance sheet read by the treasurer (Mr. J. H. Brittan) showed that receipts just balanced the payments.

\section*{ELECTION OF OFFICERS}

Officers elected for 1955 were:-President, The Ven. H. E. FitzHerbert ; chairman, Mr. W. H. Curson ; Ringing Master, Mr. W. G. Soar: treasurer, Mr. J. H. Brittan; secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton; auditor. Mr. T. Pryce; committee, Messrs. B. G. K ey, W. F. Woodward, W. G. Soar and T. J. Marriott.

The chairman expressed the Guild's thanks to the Vicar of All Saints' for the use of the bells, and to the local ladies who had prepared the tea.
Meeting cards for 1955 were distributed and it is hoped that the necessary arrangements will be made to carry out the list as follows:February 12th. Measham; March 26th, Appleby; April 30th, Ticknall; May 21st, Packington; June 11 th, Netherseale; July 23rd, Swepstone: August 21st, joint meeting; October 8th, Burton St. Paul's or Rolleston; and November 19th, Lullington.
After the meeting ringing was continued at Burton Parish Church, where the ringers were welcomed by the recently-appointed Vicar, the Ven. E. Aldington Hunt.

\section*{OBITUARY}

\section*{MR. WILLIAM JAMES BATEMAN}

One morn I missed him on the custom'd hill, Along the heath, and near his favourite tree; Another came; nor yet beside the rill, Nor up the lawn, nor at the wood was he.
The next with dirges due in sad array
Slow through the church-way path we saw him borne.
The death occurred on January 19th of Mr. W. J. Bateman, in his 84 th year, at his home at Stoke Green, within a few yards of Stoke Place, where he was born on September 30th, 1871, and had worked most of his life for the family of Maior-Gen. Sir Richard HowardVyse, following his father who had been ten times champion ploughman of South Bucks and five times winner of the Queen's prize.
William became a ringer at an early age and was soon made tower foreman, which post he held for over 50 years. During the 1914-18 war he took over the job of organ blowing as well until the new organ was installed in 1938. He also joined the Volunteer Defence Corps. Not a prolific peal ringer, he was essentially a Sunday service man and. when over 60 years of age, attained to standard methods and learned to ring Cambridge Surprise Minor
With the addition of two trebles, he enjoyed ringing the tenor to a touch of Stedman Triples and could lower his bell in peal with the best.
The care and cultivation of flowers had been his life's work, so tenderly we laid the flowers over him on January 21st in the shadow of the church that he loved. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung round the grave by Mrs. A. D. Barker 1-2, A. D. Barker 3-4, W. Welling 5-6, R. Shepherd 7-8.

The tower bells were rung half-muffled, and again on Sunday, Mrs. C. Bowerman, Miss I. Holland, Miss N. Thompson, H. C. Albrow, L. Albrow, W. L. Gutteridge, E. C. Hartley, T. G. Hawkins. W. Henley, C. Maskrey, D. Wight and W. W. Wolstencroft also taking part.

\section*{MR. NORMAN R. BAILEY}

In sending a report of a peal at Blythburgh, rung to the memory of Mr. Norman R. Bailey, Mr. John W. Blythe writes:-

Norman was a tower of strength to us in this part of Suffolk and never minded what he rang just as long as the striking was good. He came from the famous Leiston family who made ringing history during the early years of this century. He was, I believe, the fourth of the brothers.

\section*{MR. B. C. ELLIS}

Ipswich ringers have lost a mast regular service and practice member by the death of Mr. Bertie Charles Ellis, aged 67. He had been a ringer since boyhood days.

A man of many interests, he was for many years choirmaster at Earl Soham and recently joined St. Nicholas' Church choir, Ipswich. He had been District Chief Ranger of the A.O.F. and for more than 40 years was a correspondent for "The East Anglian Daily Times.

Among the wreaths at the funeral were tributes from St. Matthew's bellringers, Ipswich and Cotton and Mendlesham ringers.

\section*{MR. E. J. GALE}

Although he retired from active ringing in 1940, many will remember Mr. Ernest Joseph Gale, of St. Albans. who died recently, aged 79.
Born at Oakham, he had a long record of railway service at Bedford, Peterborough and Kentish Town, retiring in 1935 as a permanent way inspector. He joined St. Peter's Church company, St. Albans, in 1936. He had a number of peals and compositions to his credit.
The funeral service was conducted by Canon F. G. Brenchley in St. Paul's Church and interment was at St. Albans Cemetery. At the graveside a handbell touch was rung by Messrs. R. W. Darvill. T. J. Southam, H. V. Frost and W. J. Southam.

\section*{THE DEAN OF CHICHESTER}

The Very Rev. Arthur Stewart Duncan-Jones passed to his rest on January 19th shortly after completing 25 years as Dean of Chichester Cathedral. He was 75. For the last few years of his life he was a vice-president of the Sussex County Association of Change Ringers.
He was a powerful and outspoken champion of religious and political freedom. As such he was a prominent figure in Convocation and the Church Assembly, and a valued friend of persecuted Christians in many lands.
These wide interests, however, never displaced his ordinary duties in the Cathedral itself. That the Cathedral should be what it was meant to be, primarily, a church where the worship of Almighty God should be ordered continually with the utmost reverence and splendour, was the Dean's constant concern. To this end he encouraged all the members of the Cathedral to play their parts. He fully recognised the contribution of the Cathedral bell-ringers and thus he saw that the aim of the Sussex County Association, 'the recognition of the true position of ringers as church officials,' was truly achieved in the mother church of the diocese.
During the war the Dean founded 'The Friends of Chichester Cathedral,' and it was this society which in its first large post-war grant in 1946 provided \(£ 250\) for the bells to be rehung.
The bells were rung half muffled on the evening of the Dean's death and again after the funeral service as the cortege moved slowly from the west door and passed the campanile.
Among the many magnificent floral tributes were wreaths from the Sussex County Association of Change Ringers and from the Guild of Chichester Cathedral Bell Ringers. P. R. B.

\section*{MR. GEORGE F. GARRISON}

\section*{AN APPRECIATION}

Many ringers must have been saddened by the news that Mr. George Garrison was called to a higher service on November 19th.
A member of an old Erdington family, Mr. Garrison was a specialist in working old oak, and through association with the building firm of J. Holyoak and Son, his expert handiwork can be seen in several Midland churches. The beautiful table referred to by Mr. Albert Walker at St. Martin's Guild annual meeting is not Erdington's but Aston's treasure, and it was the writer's privilege to act as 'labourer to Mr . Garrison during its making. It is superbly made from the old oak bell frame, and from the same timbers Mr. Garrison had cut out, ready to make up. sufficient for six chairs to match, but the war intervened. and now the master-hand will not fashion them, for illhealth had for some years kept him from his bench and the work he loved.
There may be many of his older Birmingham friends better qualified than the writer to pen this tribute, but I am certain I speak for all who knew him when I say that he was truly one of Nature's gentlemen.
F. P. (Southbourne).

\section*{ESSEX ASSOCIATION}

\section*{S.W. District Has 287 Members}

Brentwood well maintained its reputation for being one of the cornerstones of the Essex Association when the South-Western District held their annual general meeting there on January 8th. Messrs. A. Pryke and J. Sitch, assisted by the local members and their ladies, had made detailed arrangements for the comfort of all. The electric fire burning brightly in the belfry offered a cheery welcome to those who had braved the chilly conditions outside.
About 90 members and their friends attended and good use was made of the bells. Methods varied considerably from call changes to Surprise Major.
The service was conducted by Canon Stokes, who welcomed the Association and spoke of the close association which has always existed at Brentwood between the ringers and the Church, and how much he appreciated their efforts. A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to \(£ 26 \mathrm{~s}\). 9 d . An excellent tea had been provided to which all were the guests of the Brentwood members.
At the meeting the Master, Mr. J. Crampion, was in the chair, supported by Mr. R. Heazel, the Association's Master. He welcomed the visitors and extended sympathy and good wishes for his quick recovery to Mr. Caleb Fenn, of Barking, who had recently undergone an operation. He spoke of the loss to the Association by the death of Mr. Len Simmonds, a trustee. Silent tribute was paid.
In presenting his report the secretary recalled the activities of the past year and expressed his appreciation of the welcome and help he had received at all towers where meetings had bcen held. He reminded tower secretaries that it is they who make or mar the work of District secretaries and called for their continued support. Ringing membership stood at 287. Thirty-one new members were elected during the year; eight members had left the District. Mr. J. Grove had gone to live in Hoylake and his services as a ringer, auditor and committee member would be greatly missed. Mr. F. Lufkin is shortly moving to Halstead. He was warmly thanked for the good work he has done for the Association in the Southend area and asked to be sure to initiate someone to carry on bis good work at Prittlewell. £47 13s. \(10 \frac{1}{2}\). had been forwarded to the Central Fund and \(£ 7\) 3s. 11d. to the Bell Restoration Fund.
The Master and secretary, Mr. C. Willmington, were re-elected. with Mr. J. Sitch (Brentwood) and Mr. L. Woods (Dagenham) as committee members. Mr. A. Chaplin (Dagenham) was nominated for life membership.
Eight new members. including four young ladies from Hornchurch, were elected.
Mr. G. Cecil was very sincere when he expressed the thanks of all members to those at Brentwood who had done so much to ensure the success of the meeting Ringing continued until 9 p.m., ending with good course of London.

\section*{THE LADIES' GUILD \\ North-Eastern District}

The second annual mecting of the NorthEastern District was held at Darlington on January 8th. During the afternoon there was ringing at St. Cuthbert's and St. John's, and during the evening at St. Cuthbert's and Holy Trinity. The Guild service, conducted by Canon Holderness, was held at St. Cuthbert's at \(4,30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and was followed by an excellent tea enjoyed by 50 members and friends.
At the business meeting Mrs. H. McGuiness was re-elected vice-president. and Miss N. I. Lea hon. secretary. Miss J. Hall resigned from the District Committee. and Mrs. Bayles was elected to take her place. Four new members were elected.

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS} Annual Branch Meeting at Teignmouth The annual mecting of the Mid-Devon Branch at St. Michael's, Teignmouth, on January 15th was well attended. The bells were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major during the afternoon. A short service in church followed, conducted by the Rev. D. E. Hood (Vicar), who gave an eloquent address.

After an excellent tea in the Church Hall the usual business meeting followed with Mr. J. E. Lilley in the chair. Eight new members were elected.

The secretary's report placed on record the Branch's appreciation of the kindness of Mr. G. A. Harvey in presenting a peal board at Totnes Parish Church commemorating a Coronation peal of Grandsire Triples rung there.

A balance in hand in the General and Instruction Funds was shown in the treasurer's report. Both reports were adopted.

Officers elected were:-Chairman and Ringing Master, Mr. J. E. Lilley; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. L. Bennett; general committee, Mr. E. M. Atkins, the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge and the Rev. J. G. M. Scott.

Saturday, October 29th. was chosen for the next meeting to be held at Townstal, Dartmouth. Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service and for his excellent address, to the organist for his assistance, and to the ladies for the tea arrangements.
A. L. B.

\section*{South-West Branch}

Full use was made of the grand ring of eight (tenor 21 cwt .) at Lifton on January 22 nd, when the annual meeting of the South-West Branch was held in this tower.

The Vicar (the Rev. R. N. de B. Welchman) conducted the Guild form of service and gave a very fine address, in the course of which he extended a cordial welcome to the 40 members and friends assembled. He complimented the ringers on their singing during the service.

Tea was served by the ringers' wives in the Schoolroom. The business meeting followed.

Mr. H. H. Thomas, Branch chairman, presided at the business meeting, supported by the Vicar, Mr. G. H. Myers and Mr. F. C. Smale, vice-presidents of the Guild. The retiring officers were all thanked for their past services and (each nomination taken separately) reelected to serve for another year.

Dates only were chosen for the programme for 1955-56. They were April 23rd, June 25 th, October 1 st and January 21 st , 1956, it being left to the hon, secretary to find somewhere to go. The treasurer's report and statement of accounts, showing a balance of \(£ 218 \mathrm{~s} .8 \mathrm{~d}\). Were unanimously adopted. The secretary's report was also adopted, and seven new members were elected.
T. G. M.

\section*{East Devon Branch}

The East Devon Branch's January meeting at Harpford on Jan. 22nd was the most successful the Branch has had for some time, as just on 40 sat down to tea, which was provided by Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. Chectham.

The service was taken by the Rev. D. R. Price Vicar of Ottery St. Mary, who gave an inspiring address.
For the business, the vice-chairman, Mr. G. C. Woodley, took the chair. One new band (Cotleigh) was elected to the Branch, and also eight new members. Preb. E. V. Cox proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. Cheetham for providing the tea. Gen. Cheetham, in his reply, mentioned how much he appreciated the music of the bells and the work ringers did for the church.
The Vicar of Ottery St. Mary was thanked by 'Mr. G. C. Woodley for faking the service.

After business all returned to the tower and enjoyed the ringing.

\section*{'TOWERS AND BELLS OF BRITAIN'}

0NE of the biggest tower 'grabs' on record is Ernest Morris' ' Towers and Bells of Britain ' (Robert Hale, Ltd., 21s. net). More than 900 towers are mentioned in this almost monumental work, and to the young ringer anxious to know the characteristics of English churches this book is a fascinating guide. For general convenience Mr. Morris has divided his book into sections, the main one being Central Towers. Others are West Towers, Twin Towers, Triple Towers, Spires, Truncated Spires, Round Towers, Octagonal Towers, Towers and Spires, Wooden Towers, Towers as Landmarks or Beacons, Leaning Towers, Detached Towers, Bell Turrets and Cotes, and Curious Towers and Belfries.

Charles Dickens, in his 'All the Year Round ' for Feb. 27th, 1869, tells of his visit to the College Youths' meeting at Southwark Cathedral, which Mr. Morris quotes in detail. The ringing is described:-
'The tower rocks, the bells clash, tenor booms at appointed intervals. After some little time, one gets used to the noise, which is not so great as might be expected, and begins to pick out the rhythm of the chime. The ringers all have an earnest, fixed expression; attention is written on every face. Occasionally a slight wandering look betokens that a ringer is a little vague as to his place in the change, but he soon seems to pick it up and come right again.'
Afterwards came the meeting at the King's Head, and Dickens observes: 'It soon becomes pleasantly apparent that change ringing is by no means merely an excuse for beer. There is an excellent rule, strictly enforced, that no refreshments are allowed in the belfry, and moderation is clearly the custom in the club room.'

In dealing with the Abbey Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Bath, Mr. Morris recalls the association with Shipway, who was a native of this city and before leaving for London had mastered Treble Bob Royal. It was to this city came Mr. James Albion at the dissolution of the Union Scholars and he brought with him the original book of manuscripts, being a copy of the peals of the Society. These he left to Mr. William Fry, a plumber and glazier of Bath, and also a change ringer at the Abbey, to preserve. It would be interesting to know whether the said William Fry is a forbear of the present secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association.

St. Mary's, Melton Mowbray, is in the news this week on account of the interest it is endeavouring to stimulate among church people in bells and ringers. The churchwardens in bygone days did not forget the ringers, as 3d. was paid for a gallon of ale for the ringers when the Bishop visited the church. It was here as a youth of 18 that Mr. Morris conducted his first peal, in 1908-Holt's ten-part of Grandsire Triples.

Associated with St. Mary's, Nottingham, is William Doubleday Crofts, a solicitor and a pioneer of change ringing. In 1778 he rang the ninth single-handed in a long peal of 10,260 Grandsire Caters at Nottingham, through the 7 hours and 22 minutes. A College Youth, he rang in the first peal at York Minster in 1787. Two of his compositions of Treble Bob Major and Treble Bob Royal find a place in Jasper Snowdon's book. Crofts had a remarkable insight into composition and proof, and in his papers which were examined by J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, his proof of Treble Bob methods by the lead ends.

Of all the inscriptions on church bells, perhaps one of the happiest is that on the tenor of All Saints', Bakewell, Derbyshire, when a new ring of eight was provided by Thomas Mears in 1796. (The bells were recast by Mears and Stainbank in 1895 and were rehung by J. Taylor and Co. in 1938.) It reads:-

> ' Possess'd of deep sonorous tone,
> This belfry king sits on his throne; And when the merry bells go round Adds to and follows ev'ry sound; So in a just and well pois'd state Where all degrees possess due weight, One greater power, one greater tone Is ceded to improve their own.'

The book contains stories known to the older generation but which the youth of to-day will enjoy. One of these relates to St. Mary's, Harting, Sussex, and the story told by the then Vicar, the Rev. A. J. Roberts, of a visit of a mothers' meeting to see the bells. The ascent was through a trap door, and one old lady of rather alarming proportions could not be forced through the trap door to the descending ladder. The Vicar solved the problem in this way. To quote his own words: 'I dismissed everyone from the bell chamber, had a talk with the old lady, told her what I intended to do, and that she was to divest herself of every bit of clothing she could spare. Then I took off a couple of bell ropes - they must be 40 ft . long - and wound one round her body, like the string on a cricket bat handle. Then, having one rope for safety and another attached to her body and which was under my command, I quietly shifted her to the top of the descending ladder, and, with some care and constant adjustments, I got her to the floor of the clock chamber, she murmuring from time to time, " If ever I gets out of this-never no morenever no more."

Whether such conditions prevail to-day we are inclined to doubt, but among the difficult circles, Sulley, Glam, certainly is unusual. Mr. Morris states the ringing floor was described to him as the 'most awkward range of ropes I ever saw. The tower door is the church door also, then a door out of that into the church. The treble rope comes down in the centre of this latter door; the second in the centre of the main door; therefore, the second man wants a neck like a duck because he has to look behind him for the treble. Then behind the door for the third and under a big ladder for the fourth. The bells are, however, a good ring.'

Another unusual 'circle' is at Beckley, Oxon, where Mr. Alan Pink conducted a peal in 21 methods on Feb. \(16 \mathrm{th}, 1948\). On the east side of the tower are the \(4 \mathrm{th}, 2 \mathrm{nd}\), treble and third, and on the west side the tenor, but between them a central ladder interferes with vision.

The many illustrations selected for this book are well chosen as indicating not only the different types of towers, but also some of great architectural merit and they are a joy to ponder over. The 'jacket' is splendidly drawn in pen and ink by W. Cecil Dunford, lay Canon of Leicester Cathedral and late art master of Wyggeston School. It depicts the Bell Harry Tower of Canterbury Cathedral, the spire of Boston Stump and York Minster.

In his introduction Mr. Morris has an important note that since the book was written restorations have been carried out to many towers and bells. This may, in some cases, cause a slight variation to the text. The author also regrets that many well-known towers have been omitted. Copies of the book can be obtained direct from the author, the Verger's Lodge, St. Margaret's Vicarage, Leicester.

\section*{SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD}

The Salisbury Branch held their annual meeton January 22nd in Salisbury, when the service was held at St. Thomas'. The Vicar (the Rev. P. J. Hayes) conducted the service and spoke of the ringers' share in church work and worship, putting out the suggestion that ringing for the services should always start with a short prayer.

Some 38 members and 10 visitors-from as far afield as Bath, Nailsea, Exeter and South-ampton-were present at the meeting which followed tea in the Assembly Rooms. A quiet year was reported ; seven quarterly or practice meetings had been .held during 1954, and in addition the annual festival of the Guild had been held in Salisbury. Two peals were recorded for the Branch, both for the return of H.M. The Queen and H.R.H. The Duke of Edinburgh from their tour. The membership had slightly dropped to 113,17 towers being affiliated.
The chairman, vice-chairman and secretary were re-elected (H. A. Roles, W. Chalk and Miss Y. L. Eloie) and the Ringing Masters for 1955 are H. H. Abrahams, A. Haines and J. Maidment. A number of new members were elected: Geoffrey Lewis (Britford), Miss D. Bletsoe and Jane Skelton (Sarum, St. Martin's), J. Drew and K. Hibberd (Wilton), Michael Gilbert and A. Hookham (Sarum, St. Paul's), H. Stone (Codford), Miss F. Raybould (Sarum, St. Thomas') and Miss J. M. Powell as nonresident life member.
Ringing was enjoyed at St. Martin's and St. Paul's during the afternoon and again during the evening, when St. Thomas' bells were also open, and ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge and London.

\section*{SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{Newark District A.G.M.}

A good year's work, 19 new members and seven first peals were reported at the annual meeting of the Newark District on January 15th, when the inclement weather reduced the attendance. Visitors from Braunston, Duffield and Hough-on-the-Hill braved the ice and snow.

Mr. P. White, former secretary, took the chair for the election of officers, which resulted as follows:-Chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter; secretary, Mr. S. L. Barley; Ringing Master, Mr. W. L. Exton ; committee, Mr. C. Copp and Mr. A. Wilson. Three new ringing members from Sutton-on-Trent were elected. Bingham, with Ossington as an alternative, was selected for the next meeting.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman, the secretary and Rev. J. G. Nicholls (priest-in-charge) for conducting the service and for the use of the bells. Ringing continued until 8 p.m.

\section*{Ringers Contribute to Pudsey's Missionary Effort}

The first touch of the day for the meeting at Pudsey on January 29th was for a happy couple leaving the church after their wedding. From then until tea time touches in various methods were brought round and enjoyed. Tea in the schoolroom coincided with a missionary 'bring and buy ' sale and the ladies served a wonderful tea.
The president (Mr. T. W. Strangeway) presided at the business meeting during which Mr . L. M. Woodhead, of Goole, and Mr. W. Thorpe, of Calverley, were elected members.
Mr. H. Lofthouse proposed, and Mr. L. Drake seconded, a comprehensive vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens, the local company and the ladies, and mentioned how pleased the Society was to have Mr. W. Barton again with them and that he would soon be fully recovered. Endorsing the tribute, the president said Pudsey had once again come into its own and the meeting was one of the best for many years.
Acknowledging the vote of thanks, the Vicar said he hoped the Society would come again on the same day as their missionary effort, as they had certainly swelled the amount raised. Mr. Barton replied on behalf of the local company and thanked the members for their good wishes to himself.
The next meeting will be at Birstall on February 26 th.
Two well-struck touches on handbells provided an enjoyable interlude before a return to the tower. Plain Bob Major was rung by P. B. Cooke, A. E. Marsh, W. Barton and G. Benfield, and Kent Treble Bob by T. W. Strangeway, L. W. G. Morris, W. Barton and J. Ambler.

\section*{LATE NEWS}

We regret to learn of the death on January 24th of Mr. Sidney Finn, who was secretary of St. Mary's, Brabourne, Kent. To his memory a peal was rung at Brabourne on January 29th.

Hereford Cathedral bells will not be available for the meeting to-morrow. Ringing has been cancelled until further notice.

By ringing 64 peals last year with bands 36 and 40 miles away in opposite directions, his. J. F. Milner recalls that among them was is 500 th and 550 th peals, also partaking in a succession of records of 36,42 and 48 Spliced Surprise Major, and the quickest peal of Major yet rung on tower bells in 1 hour and 57 min utes. On the debit side his bitterest disappointment was losing 10 Spliced Surprise Major and Grandsire Cinques, both in the last five minutes, on account of one of the band having to set up through illness. Was it worth it? Of course it was.

Mr. Joe Hardcastle, of Bradford, states that the peal he rang at Keighley in 1907 (see letter, page 59) was 100 years after the peal his greatgrandfather had rung on the same bell.

1 wo courses from the end of the peal at Hungerford on January 29th the ringing chamber was plunged into complete darkness. The lights came on again equally suddenly about four whole pulls later, just in time to avert disaster.

The peal at Clitheroe, Lancs, on December 18th, was rung to commemorate the fourth centenary of the local Grammar School. It replaced an attempt which was lost during the week of festivities. Owing to the church being in the centre of the town, peal attempts are infrequent.

It is 17 years since a peal has been rung at Caversham, a tower where there was once a band ringing Surprise peals when Surprise was talked of with bated breath. Moreover, there has always been a change ringing band at this church, and indeed ringing is very flourishing in Reading just now. The Rector, in congratulating the band, said he hoped they would come again soon. There is reason to think that it will not be another 17 years before the next peal is recorded at Caversham.

\section*{GOSSIP}

Two years ago the ringers at Ruddington, Notts, earned the nickname of 'Ruddington Rounders. They are now beginning to advance and ring four simple methods. Interest is keen and the tower has six postal subscribers.

Mr. James Bennett has now 'circled ' Walthamstow tower to peals.

Mr. H. Plowman, who rang in a quarter peal at Wilby, Northants, has only one arm.

There were five first peals in the peal at Wolverton, Hants, on January 28th, a fine achieve. ment for the conductor, Mr. Douglas Cane.

Miss J. Sanderson is the new 'Ringing World, representative for the Northern District of the Herts County Association. She has made a good start with two newsy contributions to this issue.

The bells heard before the broadcast of the morning service last Sunday in the London, North, Northern Ireland and Welsh Home services were from Doncaster Parish Church. The same bells will be heard for similar services on February 13th and February 20th.

Fellow Freemasons, mainly from the Lancashire Province, rang a peal at Worsley on January 29th in honour of the conferring of provincial rank on the president of the Lancashire Association, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, P.A.G.C.

Ringers from Thames Ditton travelled to Farnham Parish Church on January 26th to take part in the ringing for the induction servioe of their former Vicar, the Rev. Hedley R. Wilds, as the new Rector of Farnham. The bells were rung for an hour before the service to a variety of touches. Then ringers proceeded to the reserved seats in the church to join in the impressive service conducted by the Bishop of Guildford.

\section*{70th Anniversary Celebrations}

Bells were ringing from many Brighton and Hove church towers on January 29th, when 200 members of the Association were in Brighton to celebrate the Association's 70th anniversary.

The Bishop of Chichester (Dr. G. K. A. Bell), president, preached at a special service at Brighton Parish Church and afterwards attended a celebration dinner at the Savoy Cinema Restaurant.

The Bishop of Lewes (the Rt. Rev. Geoffrey H. Warde) was also present, with the Archdeacon of Chichester (the Ven. Lancelot Mason), the Vicar of Aldrington (the Preb. H. T' Mogridge) vice-presidents, and the Mayor and Mayoress of Brighton (Ald. and Mrs. W. G. Dudeney). Other invited guests were Mr. E. J. Ladd and Mr. C. A. Bassett, chairman and secretary of the East Grinstead and District Guild; Mr. A. Harman and Mr. G. L. Grover, Master and secretary of the Guildford Guild; Mr. R. Davics and Mr. W. F. Oatway, Master and secretary of the Surrey Association; Mr. G. Pullinger, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

The Archdeacon of Hastings, the Vicar of Brighton, Mr. F. W. Rogers (secretary of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild) and Mr. T. W. White (Editor of "The Ringing Worid') were unable to attend.

The Master of the Association (Mr. S. E. Armstrong, of Brighton) proposing the toast of 'The Church,' congratulated Dr. Bell on completing 25 years as Bishop of Chichester and president of the Association.
Mr. Armstrong pointed out that if it were not for the goodwill of the clergy there would he no ringing at all. Happily there was no incumbent in the diocese who had bells and said they must not be rung; and on no single occasion had he known an incumbent refuse or delay to attend a gathering of ringers, take their service and preach a sermon-and often take an interest in their domestic squabbles.

Mr . Armstrong suggested that ringers were the best insurance against the decay of a church tower's fabric. 'So long as you have bells in the tower, and they are rung regularly, nothing serious can happen to the tower,' he said. 'You have only to walk a few yards from here to see what has happened to a tower since the bells were last rung 40 years ago.

Mr. Armstrong also paid special tribute to the work of lady bellringers.

The Bishop of Lewes, replying, said he was delighted to hear what Mr. Armstrong had said about the relationship between clergy and bellringers.

The clergy had had a very difficult time because of late people had not been so much attracted to the worship of God as their forefathers would have wished. But, added the Bishop, there were signs of improvement.

He welcomed the large number of really young ringers he found all over Sussex nowa-days- some of them almost babes in arms, he added.
The toast of 'The Sussex County Association' was proposed by Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher, hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, who congratulated his colleagues on their - magnificent celebration. He also congratulated Sussex on playing a part in the Oecumenical Council, through Dr. Bell, ' which will have repercussions in the centuries to come.'

\section*{THREE VETERANS}

Referring to the formation of the Association in Brighton 70 years ago, Dr. Hatcher paid tribute to three of its. Brighton veterans of 60 years or more-William Hart, Frank Bennett and Harry Stalham-all of whom were present-to whom were later added the names of two absent colleagues, William Pelling, of Offham, and George Baker, of Brighton.
Dr. Hatcher concluded: 'First we are Christians; then Anglicans; and only after that are we ringers.'

In his reply, the hon. general secretary, Mr. R. W. R. Percy, of Willingdon, Eastbourne, told of the great strides the Association was making. At the 50th anniversary in 1935 there were 696 ringing members and 123 towers, of which 66 were affiliated. To-day there were 708 ringing members and 124 towers, of which 80 were affiliated.
The Mayor of Brighton responded to the toast of 'The Visitors,' proposed by the hon. treasurer (Mr. R. G. Blackman, of Chichester).
Mr. S. W. Brown, of Aldrington, was the toastmaster.
An informal social followed in the ballroom, arranged by the Western Division, with Mr. P. Blackman as M.C. Special mention must be made of the tune ringing on handbells, especially the rendering of Bach's Chorale 'Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring.'
A very memorable and enjoyable day was brought to a close at 11 p.m.

Towers available for ringing during the afternoon were :-St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and The Good Shepherd, Brighton, Aldrington, Hurstpierpoint and Keymer. Cars were made available by the Southern Division.

\section*{BATH AND WELLS ASSOCLATION}

\section*{Axbridge Branch Has 204 Members}

There were severai youthful ringers amongst the 50 members at the annual meeting of the Axbridge Branch held at Brent Knoll on January 22nd. Ringing commenced at 3.15 p.m. and consisted of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Cambridge. The service was conducted by the Rev. Colin Marr, Vicar of Brent Knoll, the lessons being read by the chairman of the Branch, Preb. C. L. S. Alford.

The tea and meeting were held in the Anchorage, Brent Knoll. Officers elected were: Chairman. Preb. C. L. S. Alford; Branch secretary, Mr. E. C. Wickham; Ringing Master, Mr. G. Prescott.
The secretary, in his report, stated that the Branch was still making progress. To date there were 165 fully-paid members, with several towers still unpaid for 1954.
Income amounted to \(£ 2112 \mathrm{~s}\) Meetings had been held at Burnham-on-Sea, Compton Bishop, Lympsham, Cheddar, Westbury-sub-Mendip, Loxton, Congresbury, Shipham, Bleadon, Kewstoke and Burrington.
The Association welcomed Bleadon back to membership, and hoped that Loxton, Weare, Worle and Brent Knoll would be included in 1955.

Since the meeting the returns for membership total 204.

\section*{BARNSLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY}
'On the whole a successful year,' was a summary of the secretary's report presented at the annual meeting of the Society at Barnsley on January 15 th. The report showed that the annual outing, both contests and the annual dinner had all been successful. Looking to the future the meeting agreed to an annual outing on July 2nd, and annual dinner on October 8th.
The hon. president, Canon A. P. Morley, not only conducted the service but presided at the meeting, at which nine towers were represented. New members elected were J. Hoyle, A. Smith, M. Caddick, B. Rothery (Brampton), G. Cooper, J. Coxon and R. Coxon (Felkirk). The officers were all re-elected. The next meeting will be held at Monk Bretton.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP - Continued}

While listening on January 31st to Crawford White's broadcast at 12.15 describing the play in the Test match at Adelaide, a reader thought she heard some bells ringing. As Adelaide Cathedral overlooks the cricket ground, it is not impossible that this was practice night.
The peal at Sandhurst, Berks, recorded this week, is the first by the Sunday service band since 1922. Mr. C. W. Barlow rang in both peals, it being over 18 years since he last scored a peal. Mr. W. J. Paice's father rang in the first peal by the Sonning Branch at this tower in 1899. Mr. W. J. Parker has now 'circled ' the tower to peals.
The best wishes of the Anstey ringers go with Mr. David S. Harris, who has recently joined the Royal Air Force. Not only will they miss a loyal and enthusiastic member of the band, but also the tower electrician and carpenter! Mr. Harris was also the instigator in getting Newtown Linford bells ringing again by giving a talk to the Scouts on Campanology, and he has helped to teach a band there.

St. Andrew's, Cheddar, is fortunate in having a ringing vicar in the Rev. J. T. George. At the second annual supper of the tower on January 17th attended by a company of 40 , he said the future of belringing very largely depended on regular attendance by young members. He specially welcomed A. Pavey (9), C. Richardson and M. Collins, who had joined within the past 12 months. Other speakers included E. C. Wickham (captain), E. J. Small (tower secretary) and the churchwardens.

\section*{THE LADIES GUILD}

\section*{South Wales District Elected 29 Members Last Year}

Some 80 ringers attended the annual meeting of the South Wales District held on January 29th at St. Woolos' Cathedral, Newport. The service was conducted by the Rev. Granville Edgar, who, on behalf of the Dean, welcomed the Guild to St. Woolos'. An excellent tea was provided by the churchwardens and prepared by Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Trowbridge and their helpers.
At the business meeting it was reported that 29 new members had been elected during the year and that meetings had been well attended. Miss Lily Temlett, of Abergavenny, was elected vice-president. Committee members were: Mrs. Coles, Miss D. Hulbert. Mrs. Roderick and Miss J. Powell. Central Committee: Miss D. Hulbert and Mrs. Price. New members were elected from Bedwellty, Cefn-Coed, St. Woolos, Usk, Ebbw Vale and Porthkerry. it was decided to accept an invitation from St. Mellons to hold the next meeting there.

\section*{MAIDSTONE GRAMMAR SCHOOL}

\section*{SOCIETY HAS A MEMBERSHIP OF 40}

Maidstone Grammar School Change Ringing Society held their quarterly meeting at Bearsted on January 29th. An hour's ringing preceded the service, conducted by the Rev. J. Long.
Tea, in the Memorial Hall, was provided by Bearsted ringers and their wives, and the short business meeting followed, with the Rev. J. Long in the chair. Eight girls and six boys were elected members, bringing the total membership to about forty. The Society was congratulated by the chairman on the progress made since it was formed last year.
Ringers returned to the church. where they were helped by \(\mathrm{Mr}_{\text {. }}\) Cantrell, captain of Bearsted ringers, Mr. W. Manser, of Barming, and Mr. L. Holness, of Hadlow. The bells were kept ringing to rounds and methods. including Plain Bob, Single Oxford and Grandsire, untu 8 o'clock.

\title{
RINGING IN A YORKSHIRE VILLAGE

\author{
By N. F. MOXON

President of the Barnsley and District Society of Change Ringers

IN the village of Cawthorne, situated in the West Riding of Yorkshire with a population of under 1,000 inhabitants, bell-ringing is an inseparable part of church life and indeed village life. Change ringing has been possible for nearly a century and during that period the bells have scarcely been silent. for a steady influx of ringers has always filled the gaps caused by retirement and death.
Until 1859 we possessed but three bells, although the Survey of 1552 gives ' Four belles and one Sacryn belle, which probably would include our two pre-Reformation bells, the 5th by Godfrey Heathcote and the 4th a 15 th century bell bearing the inscription 'Michaelis ' in Lombardic capitals. The church, now All Saints, was dedicated to St. Michael in the 16 th century.
In 1859 Mrs. Spencer Stanhope, the wife of the squire, presented to the church three smaller bells cast by Messrs. John Taylor and, together with the old bells, which in cluded the tenor cast in 1620 by William Oldfield, of York, made a fine ring of six Cawthorne was now on equal terms with her neighbours High Hoyland. Silkstone and Darton, all within a twomile radius, which later included the new church of Hoylandswaine, also with six bells.
October 16th, 1859, was a great day at Cawthorne when the new bells were opened by ringers from Barnsley and the surrounding villages, and the village bard, Richard Stayton, was inspired to write a sonnet in this vein: Silkstone men that day took the lead, true hearts within them dwell and cleverly they played their part in opening Cawthorne bells.' About 400 people sat down to tea after the opening ceremony.
Two months later, a local history record states:

Ringers of the Church of St. Mary, Barnsley, visited Cawthorne and tested the new peal of bells, being later entertained at the Golden Cross. Afterwards they performed a selection of polkas, quadrilles and walizes, concluding with "" God save the Queen :, on their handbells.' The ringers apparently stayed the night at the inn, for the next entry is dated for the following day: - Early this morning the Barnsley ringers roused the villagers of Cawthorne from their slumbers by giving a true and complete peal in a very masterly style, consisting of 5,040 changes. which was brought round in 3 hours and 4 minutes. The ringing was conducted by Thomas Dawn.'

\section*{EARLY PROGRESS}

The young ringers of Cawthorne during the ensuing months were practising diligently under the tuition of their neighbours, and their efforts were rewarded, for on November 16th, 1861 . they rang a peal on the bells in seven different methods-quite an achievement by a local band within two years of learning to ring. Apparently it was considered essential to have seven different methods in a minor peal. The band also entered the local contests without scoring much success.

From old parish magazines there are occasional references to the ringers, and in 1874 the Vicar writes: "We still look forward to the time when our ringing will be punctual enough for us all to set our watches by.' In 1878 he makes another sly dig: "The following lines which have been hung up in the belfry very well express the proper way and the work of church bell-ringing:-
- Church Bells are rung glad worshippers to cheer,
To call them to God's House for Service true, None may ring others to God's worship here Who do not mean themselves to worship too.'
It is not recorded that this verse brought about an increase in the church-going of the

\section*{CAWTHORNE PARISH CHURCH}
ringers, although part of a restoration scheme at this time caused the belfry door to be moved from the outside of the church to the inside.

\section*{OBTAINING A NEW CLOCK}

At this period the old turret clock, which had been in service since 1715 , was removed and a new clock by Gillott and Bland installed bearing the date 1877. An interesting story is related by the Vicar of that time of how the church got the new clock. 'One evening I was dining at Cannon Hall and when I arrived I found the family had already gone in to dinner and General Stanhope spoke of my being late. I said I was not late by the church clock. "My dear fellow, who goes by that clock? It's always getting wrong !": "I'm very glad you say so, General. I've long been wanting you to give us a new one." The General made no reply, but he afterwards gave a clock with three dials and it keeps perfect time.' During the latter part of the century the bells were rung consistently for services, and the parish magazines record special ringing for national occasions, but no records of peal ringing during that period exist.

In 1902 the Vicar reports at the Vestry meeting of the resignation of the old bell-ringers and appeals for names of 'anyone willing to learn the art of ringing and to make one of a new set of churchgoing bell-ringers." "It would be a good plan in the future if the bells always began punctually at 10 and 2.30 and rested for five minutes after being rung a quarter of an hour, then five minutes more ringing and a single bell only for the last five minutes.' This plan gives rest to the ringers and makes their ringing tell the time. One wonders how such advice would be received to-day. New recruits were not hard to find, for during the following year seven young men all rang extents and gave good service for many years. The first 720 of this new band was rung by Edgar Crossland 1, Aaron Fish 2, Harry Crossland 3, Clifford Robinson 4, William Midgley 5, Charles Shirt 6. Later in the weck, Jack Fish also rang his first 720 .

In 1906 the bells were quarter turned by Messrs. Mallaby and Co., of Barnby Don, at a cost of \(£ 65\), and the magazine states: "We desire to place it on record that our bells have been thoroughly overhauled and rehung at the sole expense of Sir W. S. Stanhope, K.C.B. The work was ar= ranged for before we were ourselves aware of his generous intention.

Two years later two of the pinnacles on the tower were rebuilt at a cost of \(£ 40\), paid again by the squire. Alas! these days have now passed.

It was not until 1912 that the first peal was rung on the bells for the Yorkshire Association, being in seven different methods and conducted by George Hill, of Hoylandswaine. A link with the beginning of change ringing at Cawthorne was broken in 1916 by the death of George Hindle at the age of 76, he having been a ringer for over 50 years. In the cemetery is a headstone to his memory on which is a representation of the 4 th bell which he rang. After the war there was a dispute with the Vicar over ringing for a wedding and the bells were silent for a time. However, the parson persuaded one of the ringers to form a new set from the youths of the village and ringing of a sort recommenced. As I was one of the learners I can speak of the difficulties encountered, but we managed to ring a lead of Oxford fairly well, and in March. 1920, we were given an important task of ringing for the funeral of Mrs. Stanhope. Our conductor and trainer seemed loath to raise the bells to fit the mufiles, and to avoid making an unseemly noise we raised the bells by turning the wheels by hand. Those who have not attempted this task have missed a treat! Needless to say, we have since raised the bells in the orthodox way!
The following year a new Vicar came to Cawthorne who quickly brought back the skilled ringers, with a result that the young set were pushed out, and it is regrettable that only two maintained an interest and made the grade. However, the ringers could ring really well, and in 1925 succeeded in winning the Hoylandswaine Cup in a contest organised by a neighbouring parish. This success was followed by winning the cup the following year and again in 1928. The treble ringer of this team was Henry Crossland, and on July 4th, 1925, the eve of his 80 th birthday, he rang in a peal at Cawthorne together with the Wath ringers. He had been. ringing here for 62 years and continued for another five years, and finally passed away on April 24th, 1939, at the age of 94. He rang in two peals of 6,000 and eight peals of 5,000 changes.

Another stalwart, Edmund Dearnely, died in 1935 at the age of 84 , after 57 years of ringing service. He took part in one 6,000 and two 5,000 peals. He had worked on the Cannon Hall Estate as a dry wall builder for 70 years, and a headstone representing dry wall construction was erected to his memory.
Retirement of the old set naturally made things difficult in the ' 30 's, but when war broke out in 1939 new ringers were settling down and joining in the local contests, but with little success.

\section*{POST-WAR ENTHUSIASM}

When the ban was lifted, ringing recommenced with great enthusiasm and the team in 1944 entered the Barnsley Shield contest. As there were teams with great reputations competing, the chances of Cawthorne were considered very poor, but to everyone's surprise we were declared the winners and the shield came to Cawthorne for the first time. Our joy at this success was greatly dampened by the death on July 14th of Clifford Robinson, who had taught most of the band to ring. We were successful again in 1950 and 1954, also runnersup on three occasions. The Hoylandswaine Cup was loaned to the Barnsley Society of Change Ringers for competition and was brought to Cawthorne in 1948, 1950, 1952 and 1953. These successes are very sweet, for we have tasted the bitterness of defeat on 20 occasions since the war in various competitions. Peal ringing at Cawthorne is not very popular amongst the ringers-about one per year. An exception was 1951 when we were anxious to score a Festival peal, but as the ropes were bad we decided to wait until the new ones arrived. After a long delay the ropes arrived at Christmas and we attempted the peal on the following Saturday, but lost it and the opportunity was gone.

The first peal after the war was rung on VE-Day by our team and consisted of seven extents of Oxford Treble Bob, which we fondly imagined was the first peal on the bells by a local band. It was not until later we learnt about the peal in seven methods rung at Cawthorne in 1861. Up to date 22 quarter peals have been rung at our tower since the war, including yearly date touches, which it was customary to ring on New Year's Eve, but it was found that festivities and long touches do not go well together, so an extent proved quite long enough.

In 1950 we won both the Barnsley Shield and Cup and decided to have a supper at the Golden Cross to celebrate our successes. Various ringers from neighbouring towers were invited to the meal, but as the accommodation was limited, wives and lady friends were not invited, to their great indignation. On the appointed day a thick fog spread over the district, and during the afternoon telephone messages were being received that buses had ceased to run, and it was apparent that the festive board would have many vacant places. The ladies were quickly notified and they joined the company, but not without expressing their opinions of the organisers.

The following year an attempt was made to ring as many different extents as possible, and the target achieved was 32 , practically all for Sunday service ringing.

\section*{RINGING CUSTOMS}

Regarding ringing customs it is usual to ring for the 8 a.m. service on Christmas Day and Easter Day, also on All Saints' Day, the Patronal Festival and New Year's Eve, it being imperative that the bells begin before midnight and continue through until the New Year is well in.

We also make a practice of acknowledging golden weddings, of which there were no less than five last year, and in 1949 we had the distinction of ringing for a diamond wedding.

As to older customs, we have the usual entries in the churchwardens' accounts:1684 Given to Ringers on Crownation 1688 For Ringing for the Prince of Wales 10 1691 For Ringing for the reduction of Ireland

1692 For Ringing for victory at sea .. 1.0
During the ensuing years are items recurring Bell wheel repairs.
In the early part of the last century, when there were but three bells, the item, 3 new bell ropes \(£ 1\) is. Od., occurs very frequently often in successive years, and gives credence to the story which is told in this district: At a local Church Vestry Meeting the retiring churchwarden, on presenting his accounts, stated he had been able to show a credit balance due to the fact that no new bell ropes had been purchased during the past year, for he had examined the ropes and found them quite good. After the meeting he was approached by a previous churchwarden, who angrily exclaimed. 'Tha's spoilt it for all un us now, for we allus took t'owd ropes for cart ropes !'
Other items in the accounts state that Ben Taylor, the sexton, received \(£ 110\) s. per annum for ringing a bell daily at 5 a.m. and 8 p.m., and \(£ 1 \mathrm{~s}\). for ringing at 12 noon, but Ben apparently had defaulted on occasions, for in 1864 the vestry book reads: 'It was proposed that the Churchwardens be instructed to inform the sexton that unless he keeps to his contract to ring the morning bell at 5 in the summer and 6 in the winter, \(9 / 9\) per quarter will be deducted from his salary." This strong measure was definitely hitting Ben where it hurt! He certainly was a wily old bird, for a few years afterwards the churchyard was enlarged, and when the Vicar asked for a grave to be dug in the new part, Ben stated that there was still room in the old part. The truth was of course, that the new ground was virgin soil and hard going. Ben continued to inter in the old part until one Sunday morning the Vicar was passing through the churchyard to officiate at Early Celebration and was horrified to see some whitened bones protruding from a mound of earth. Ben had disturbed some remains from a grave to make way for a newcomer, but his deceitfulness had been exposed by a thunderstorm during the night which had uncovered the remains he had carefully hidden.

\section*{METHODS RUNG}

Of the methods rung at Cawthorne, Oxford Treble Bob easily holds primary place, Kent and Bob Minor finding little favour, but Duke of York. Violet and New London with their allied methods have been and are still very popular, due largely to the fact that the hunting down gives ease to the heavier bells. Being situated in a 'close lead' area, 'cartwheeling is the custom at Cawthorne, and visitors from eight-bell towers find great difficulty in avoiding the 'open lead.

Bell ropes with 'Yorkshire ends, which have, a foot of tufting at the end known as a "billy,' are to be found in our tower and these also prove awkward to some of our visitors.

Keen interest in bell-ringing is shown in the village and a "rough' touch or extent receives strong criticism, but it is satisfying to relate that an appeal to rehang the bells raised over £500 in a short time and the work was entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor, of Loughborough. The rededication took place on October 17th, 1954.

\section*{LONDON COUNTY ASSOCLATEN}

Great admiration was expressed at the beautiful restorations recently carried out at St. George's, Camberwell, and St. George-theMartyr, Southwark, when the London County Association held its meeting on January 22nd attended by over 40 members. Particularly was the ringing chamber at Camberwell praiscd, where, in additon to the usual type of decoration, the ancient peal boards now look like new -due, it is understood, to the efforts of Mr . Blower and company. The service at this church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. Ollyott) and a splendid tea was provided in the Church Hall.

The Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender, presided at the business meeting, when the retiring officers were renominated for re-election.

The election of the following members was ratified: E. Edmondson (Codicote), J. A. Ainsworth (Fenham), W. J. Holmes (Putney), S. Nelsort and M. Rowe (Ilford) and J. McPhail (Stratford), Mr. Robin Bruce Lindon, of St. John's Cathedral, Winnipeg, Canada, was elected a member.

The votes of thanks included one to Mr . L. Brewer for his efficient arrangements, and to the ladies for the tea. Ringing under the direction of the Master reached London Surprise.

\section*{GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD}

With four towers available for ringing including Stoke-next-Guildford, about 60 ringers at tended the annual meeting of the Guildford District on January 29th. The service was held at St. Mary's Church, where the Rev. C. G. Pearson officiated, and ample provision was made by the ladies of S. Nicolas' for the larger company than expected to tea.

The business was expeditiously dealt with, Mr. T. W. White being in the chair. In place of Mr W. J. Robinson, who had left Guildford for Bedfordshire, Mr. F. J. Munday was elected Dis trict Ringing Master, and Mr. R. Kenward hon Secretary. To the committee were elected Messrs. A. Hunter and W. Enticknap.

For meetings in 1955 the following towers were proposed: Puttenham, Shalford, Cranleigh, Wonersh and Bramley, Shere and Guildford.

New members elected were: Mr. H. Poyner (compounding), Ann Easton, Ann Bowler, Jeremy Bowler (Haslemere). The meeting recommended the Guild Executive to confer an honorary life membership on Mr. W. J. Robinson in recognition of his services.
Welcomed visitors to the meeting were Mr . and Mrs. E. C. S. Turner and Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, of the Middlesex Association.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

Probably on account of the weather, only 21 members attended the annual meeting of the Southern District held at Dorking, which is also in the Guildford Diocesan Guild area However, the meeting resulted in Mrs. Clarke, the Misses Clear and Dowling, of Dorking, being elected members with Mr. S. Smith (Nutfield) and Mr. M. J. Tait (Merstham).

The District secretary (Mr. C. J. Champion) stated that 1954 had been an encouraging year with the development of combined practices as an outstanding feature. Nine peals had been rung and three members had rung their first. Officers elected for 1955 were: Ringing Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon; hon. secretary, Mr. C. J. Champion; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. Gear: hon. auditor, Mr. M. A. Northover ; committee, Messis. T. H. Bird, G. Olliver and D. J. Parr. Mr. Cannon was nominated as liaison officer with the Guildford Guild.

The Vicar (the Rev. K. D. Evans) presided and also conducted the service, for which the District secretary was privileged to act as organist. The highlight of the ringing was a well-struck course of London Surprise Major.

"TOO MUCH PASSIVE ACCEPTANCE"
Dear \(\mathrm{Sir}, \mathrm{I}\), too, must congratulate Mr . Frank Blagrove on his extremely well-reasoned reply to Mr. Felstead. Like Mr. Birmingham, I am afraid that I am still quite unconvinced as to the reasons for rejecting from the analysis peals of (a) Plain Bob Triples and (b) irregular Minor methods. I, personally, was taught to ring in a tower and by an instructor who made it clear to us that in his opinion the Plain Bob method was the essential basis for progress in change ringing, that such methods as Grandsire were more or less "dead end" methods, and as such of only minor importance. If peals in any method were to be rejected, I would vote for the non-inclusion of Grandsire Triples; I say if-but it is quite beyond my comprehension to see why peals in any method which has good qualities should be rejected merely on the grounds which Mr. Felstead suggests.

Mr. Butler, in the last two paragraphs of his letter in the issue of January 21st, has found the crux of the matter; we are urged to abide by the Rules and Decisions of the Council, yet if the Methods Committee want a rule changed to suit themselves, it is brought forward as a 'recommendation' which the Council is expected to pass without question. Again the views expressed by Mr. Felstead and the Methods Committee are most certainly those of a very small percentage of ringers in this country, and I see no reason why the views of this small number should be imposed on the Exercise at large.

I would advise members of affiliated Societies to inform their Central Council representatives how to vote at the next meeting: and would also advise Council representatives who are given no definite instructions to vote according to their own consciences or according to the known views of members of their Society or Guild. There is, in my view, far 100 much passive acceptance of the so-called recommendations put forward by the Standing and other committees of the Council. Unquestionably in this matter of so-called 'irregular' methods, it is up to those who oppose the proposals of the Methods Committee to pull together and make known to the members of that committee the views of a very large number of ringers in this country. Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND.

\section*{CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAXIMUS}

Dear Sir,-The composition of Cambridge Surprise Maximus by Mr. C. K. Lewis, in your issue of January 21st, is somewhat interesting, and in my opinion should be more often used so as to get the beauty of music out of the smaller bells. I called both peals of Plain Bob Caters and Cinques on the same plan; although they may be more or less illegitimate according to the Central Council Committee, they contained superior music to many Surprise methods.

Below is a 5,016 Stedman Cinques on a similar principle:-

\section*{PEAL RECORDS}

Dear Sir,-As far as my records are concerned, I confirm that the peals at Newborough, Staffs, and Kintbury, Berks, are the first on the bells. The recent peal at Colne, Lancs, was the first for 20 years. The peal of 'Stedman Triples at Evesham, although the first on the recast and augmented bells, was not the first of that method in the tower. Actually, the very first peal there on December 27th, 1889, was of Stedman Triples, but such was the state of the bells that it took three men to ring the tenorJames W. Washbrook, Henry L. James and Francis Jelf. Well-known ringers taking part included Francis E. Dawe (conductor), Henry R. Newton and the Rev. F. E. Robinson. A second peal of Stedman Triples was rung on January 8th, 1916.

I apologise to Mr. Evans for the mistake about Presteigne. I don't like the idea of throwing the blame elsewhere (even though I seem to be getting blamed for all sorts of things which are not always my fault, these days!), but the mistake is due to my following the lists in Mr. Dove's book, as I have previously explained. I trust that the pointing out of these errors will be helpful to him sometimes in preparing a second edition, for which I, for one, am waiting eagerly, having ruined my original copy in putting together my peal records. Mr. Evans is correct about nine peals at Eardisland since the new octave was in-stalled-but this is again a question of timelag, my article having been written some weeks before publication (after all, there is no hurry about them and the Editor inserts them when he has the space and this sometimes means a gap of several weeks even though he has the copy). For Mr. Evans' information, 15 peals have been rung at Leintwardine, the first in 1907 and 9 from 1907 to 1911 ; then comes a gap until 1928, and then three peals in the 1930's. Two in 1948 and 1952 complete the 15 , but there have been none on the eight yet. as he says. I am grateful to him for the information about the unringable towers-this will be noted, of course.

Re Blockley, Glos, I find that the last peal I have recorded there was one of Cambridge Major on May 7th, 1932, so the footnote to the recent peal is quite correct. This is true also of the peal at All Saints', Eastbourne, where, I see, there have only been four peals previously-Grandsire Triples in 1901. 1902 and 1919. and Stedman Triples in 1919 (no Major yet !) The peal at Brailsford, Derbys, was the first for 40 years, the only previous peal having been rung in April, 1914. - Yours sincerely,

\section*{RULES AND REASONS WANTED}

Dear Sir,-In recent issues of "The Ringing World, there has been much correspondence regarding both methods and the Methods Committee. From the feelings expressed in "The Ringing World ' and the impressions one gets at ringing meetings, the majority of ringers seem to be against the Methods Committee regarding such methods as Bob Triples, etc.

If this is the case, why is it that the Central Council appears to be going against the members' wishes and has submitted no real season for its action?

Why is it that no booklet of rules can be purchased, written in a language we can all understand? At the present it appears rather like a child's game; the rules being altered to suit the players.-Yours faithfully,

ALAN R. ELLIOTT.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUIUD
Melton Mowbray Carried On Despite Old-Fashioned Winter
In most parts of the country Saturday, January 22 nd, followed a week of snow and ice and all the usual hardships of an oldfashioned ' winter. In short, it was not a day for long journeys if they could be avoided, and it was therefore most gratifying that the meeting at Melton Mowbray was attended by some who no doubt regarded it as a duty to make the journey and one hopes they were able to go away regarding it as a pleasure. Certainly the Vicar of Melton (Canon C. M. S. Clarke) had done all in his power to make the occasion a success.

A really beautiful service commenced at 4 p.m. with a full choir under the direction of Mr. H. L. Barnes, the organist. The choir sang an anthem, a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells, and the second lesson was read by Mr. Harold J. Poole, the president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, wearing his robes as a lay canon of Leicester Cathedral. Canon Clarke prefaced his address with an apology from the Rev. W. E. Pilling, Rector of Market Bosworth, who was to have been the special preacher but was unable to do so due to indisposition. From the surrounding villages the Vicars of Eaton, Old Dalby and Great Dalby were present, the two last-named being robed for the service, together with the Rev. E. W. K. Bailey, one of the Melton curates.

Tea was served in the Colles Hall and was followed by the annual District meeting, with Mr. Fred Williams, the District chairman, presiding. Mr. Poole addressed a few appropriate remarks of encouragement to the District and of welcome to the non-ringers, including the visiting clergy. Regret was expressed that Mr. Paul L. Taylor, a vice-president, who had been present at the service, was unable to stay for tea and meeting as he was not feeling too well. The presence of Mr. P. J. Staniforth, chairman of the Leicester District, was noted with pleasure. Also in the company were Mrs. Arthur S. Richards, of West Wickham, Kent, and several visitors from the Coventry Guild.

The election of officers resulted in the reelection of Mr. Fred Williams as chairman, and Mr. J. H. Cook as secretary, with Messrs. \(T\). Templeton (Melton) and \(A\). E. Hinman (Kirby Bellars) as the District committee. Mr. Cook wished to be relieved of the duties of 'Ringing World, correspondent and Mr. P. A. Corby was elected to take over.

In his report Mr. Cook referred to the activities of a very successful year with a high average attendance. The District dinner at Scalford on December 4th had been the usual success and members had on that occasion been greatly honoured by the presence of the secretary of the Central Council, Mr. E. A. Barnett, and Mrs. Barnett, as well as the president of the Guild and Mrs. Poole. There had been a most successful outing to Oxford on Whit Monday.
Later in the meeting it was announced that the collection at the service amounted to \(£ 3\) 12s. 1d. in aid of the Church Organ Fund, Which now stands at \(£ 4,300\), just over half the \(£ 8,000\) required. The ringers were very happy to be associated with such a worthy cause.

There was more ringing in a variety of methods until a late hour.

\section*{OBITUARY \\ Mr. HENRY HOLLANDS FLOWER}

The death took place suddenly on Saturday, January 8th, at Sandown, I. of W., of an old College Youth in the person of Mr. Henry Hollands Flower, who for many years had lived in retirement. He was once a member of St. Giles', Camberwell. A reliable treble man, his last two quarter peals were rung at Niton in the latter part of the summer.
He was buried on January 12th at Sandown. Around the grave a course of Grandsire Triples was rung by R. Reed (Ringwood) 1-2, L. Bailey (Godshill) 3-4, W. Upton (Newport) 5-6, C. A. Drake (Carisbrooke) 7-8.

\section*{MR. E. J. GALE}

Mr. Ernest Bartram, of Melton Mowbray, writes:-
It may interest a number of ringers in the St. Albans, Bedford and Peterborough Districts to know that the late Mr. E. J. Gale apparently commenced his ringing career at Melton Mowbray. He rang 12 peals-one Doubles, four Minor, two Bob Triples and five Grandsine Triples-in this district. His first peal, also my late father's first peal, was rung at St. Mark's Church, Leicester, on November 26th, 1898, Grandsire Triples, conducted by the late William Willson, and that grand Leicester veteran, Josiah Morris, rang the sixth. Mr. Gale's last peal in this district was at Ashby Folville on September 6th, 1902. He returned to this district in 1919, after being at Kentish Town for a long time, but he did not ring in any more peals, although he used to attend for practice and Sunday ringing.

\section*{MR. S. QUINTRELL}

Mr. S. Quintrell, of St. Columb, Cornwall's oldest bell-ringer, died on January 9th at the age of 99 years.
He had been a ringer since 1872 at St. Columb, and had been captain of the tower since 1874, thus giving 83 years' service. Mr. Quintrell rang regularly up to about 18 months of his death, when inability to climb the steps stopped him, but he still retained his captaincy. When the eight bells were rehung in 1950 the treble bell was recast and his name inscribed on it.

Although he was brought up in competitive and call change ringing, he liked to hear wellstruck method ringing, and a peal became an annual event on the occasion of his birthday, December 13th, by the Truro Diocesan Guild. Last year the Guild rang a peal of Grandsire Triples.

The funeral took place on the following Wednesday at St. Columb Cemetery. The Rector, the Rev. A. G. Cooke, officiated and paid tribute to Mr. Quintrell's record and his endeavour through his many ycars as captain of the ringers to promote harmony among them.
The bearers were fellow-ringers-Messrs. J. Knight, F. Minnear, F. Tucker, H. Webber, H. Caddy and P. Thorpe. Amongst those attending were the Rev. J. A. Chesterton, Rector of St. Mawgan, A. H. Eplett (Truro Diocesan Guild). W. E. Henwood (St. Columb Minor ringers). R. F. Harris (Perranzabuloe ringers), and J. Rowe (Withiel and Roche ringers).

The bells were rung muffled by St. Columb ringers in the evening. Those taking part were Messrs. W. Crapp, R. Roberts (grandson), F. Minnear, \(\mathbf{F}\). Tucker, J. Knight, H. Webber, G. Key, H. Caddy, J. Knight, P. Thorpe. A. Minnear, J. Mínnear, R. Nelson, H. Abbott and J. Rowe.

FORTY YEARS AGO Extract from 'The Ringing World , February 12th, 1915
LADY RINGER INJURED IN AIR RAID Miss Adcock, a member of the Ladies' Guild and the Norwich Association, who resides at King's Lynn, had a narrow escape during the recent air raid. She was just retiring to bed when one of the German bombs fell in at recreation ground about 60 yards distant. All the windows of the house were smashed and Miss Adcock was severcly cut by flying glass. We are glad to be able to say that she has made good progress, although for the first week she suffered severely from shock.
[The first time, one imagines, that such an unpleasant experience befell a ringer.]

\section*{PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{Wellinghorough Branch Annual}

Wellingborough's ring of eight with a tenor of 28 cwt . proved a bit too heavy for some of the young members and ladies who attended the branch's annual meeting on January 22 nd . The branch president, the Rev. W. C. Knight, conducted the service and gave an address, and a company of 72 sat down to an excellent tea provided by Mrs. J. King and helpers.
During the business proceedings the secretary presented his annual report and balance sheet. Receipls exceeded expenditure by \(£ 62 \mathrm{~s}\). 8 d . The average attendance for the four meetings during the year was 76 . Two honorary and 20 ringing members were elected during the year, but the secretary had crossed off 26 names for various reasons.
All the officers were re-elected en bloc. Nine new ringing members were elected (three from Wellingborough, two from Finedon and four from Rushden, including the curate, the Rev. A. B. Martin). It was decided to visit Great Doddington, a five-bell tower, for the next quarterly meeting. A discussion took place to try to find a way of helping the Guild's general account financial position, and most of those present were in favour of paying some part of the cost of reports.
Courses of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples were rung after the meeting on a set of handbells size 22 by Messrs. M. King, J. King (Ringing Master), A. Bigiey (hon. secretary and treasurer) and J. Skerritt.

\section*{'LONDON SURPRISE': SECOND LEAD}

A very successful invasion of London by the Ladies' Guild and some friends took place on January 29th. The rendezvous was St. Gabriel's, Warwick Square. Westminster, where there are officially eight bells. The state of this tower reflected credit on nobody; the Vicar, who had had no idea that the bells' were not in good working order, was appalled. He is going to do several things about it at the next Parochial Church Council meeting. After a short prayer we began. It was impossible to fix the tenor rope, and extremely difficult to ring rounds on the seven.
We went on to St. Mary's, Lambeth, where the contrast was marvellous, for this must be one of the best cared for towers in London, and probably the country.
St. George's, 'up the Borough,' was entered through the crypt. After ringing a little while the tenor rope slipped the wheel, and when replaced the neatly-tied tail-end was only reached by the two tallest, wielding a broom !
After lunch we went to St. Giles-in-the-Fields. We would like to record that the old rhyme : Brickbats and tiles ... should be revised to - Welcoming Smiles.

Finally we went to the Ladies' Guild annual District meeting at St. Matthew's, Clapton, having thoroughly enioyed 'London Surprise.' 'What a way to spend one's birthday!' sighed the organiser.

\section*{FRESH POSSIBILITIES}

'THERE is nothing new under the sun. It has all been done before,' said Sherlock Holmes to Inspector Gregson, and the inspector's complete ignorance of the history of poisoning debarred him from debating the question with the famous specialist. There is a belief in many quarters of the ringing exercise that little or nothing new can be discovered in the realms of method construction and composition. The Minor and Major methods (and their extensions) are reputed to be reducible to certain formulæ and their total number capable of computation, while all that is of value from Doubles to Cinques is said to be known. Of compositions in the standard methods it is often stated that there is much repetition, and that peal compositions worked out long ago by industrious composers are frequently put forward by modern investigators as their own discoveries.
Whether the view that nothing new is obtainable is correct to any degree is not easy to determine, and indeed it would need, as Mr. Peter Border said recently, either a prodigious memory or a phenomenal filing system in order to maintain a dogmatic opinion on the matter.

Certainly a contemplation of the vast flood of creative work, good, bad and indifferent, that swept through the columns of ' The Bell News ' fifty and sixty years ago might lead one to conclude that virtually every acre of ground had been explored. One might have said that Dains had drained the well of Double Norwich, that Trollope's huge collection of Bob Major figures had brought enterprise in this method to an end, that the mass production of Stedman Caters and Cinques by Carter and Lindoff had supplied not only all demands but also the final formula for the composition of any further peal. Grandsire Caters seemed worked out; Stedman Triples was said to present scarcely a problem, apart, of course, from what was deemed impossible. Heywood's brilliant exposition of Stedman Triples opened the gate of entry to twin-bob composition, but at the same time seemed by the finality of its conclusions to render useless certain avenues of exploration. Dr. Carpenter's valuable collection of opening and turning courses set the seal on Davies' fine book on Stedman, impressing us with a sense of completeness, as though here the last word had been said on the question of getting Stedman Caters into the Tittums and back to rounds.

Time has shown that the last word in these matters has not been said. This century has been marked by an everincreasing intensity of the study of methods and method construction. There has been an almost incredible manifestation of new methods and variations, so that even today, when some say that the supply is exhausted, fresh arrangements of the familiar material of hunting, dodging and place-making are set before us for our diversion.

Composition, too, seems limitless. Despite Dains, fresh peals of Double Norwich may be found; despite Trollope, Bob Major may yet be found to provide some new small entertainment. Stedman Caters, as Mr. Roberts clearly shows us, can yet bring some novelty; Grandsire Caters still holds possibilities for the unconventional explorer. And now, to add weight to these considerations, we have the new peal of Cambridge Maximus in the Tittums, produced by Mr. C. K. Lewis and called by John Worth at Macclesfield.

The reason for this ever opening field for creative enterprise would seem to be found in the essential vitality of change ringing, a characteristic that gives delightful scope for getting away from convention. Convention has been an important factor in the life of change ringing, a power, indeed, that could have crushed experiment and enterprise and possibly have destroyed change ringing itself. But throughout the three hundred years of the art there has been the same cycle: experiment ending in convention, then revolt against convention with an attendant enterprise and experiment, and the establishment of fresh conventions.

In Annable's day Tittum ringing was the correct form of Cater composition, and the single was a rather disreputable device, to be used only when unavoidable. In Thurstans' day more than two singles in a 5,040 Stedman Triples seemed unnecessary. Sixty years ago a peal of Bob Major, Double Norwich or Grandsire was judged by reference to the 6th or 5th so many times right or wrong. Ringers of those days thought along certain lines, and there is ample evidence that the inventor and experimenter were regarded with suspicion and often treated with critical intolerance and unreasonable prejudice. The permutation of the back bells in Maximus course ends did not enter into the schemes of the late 19th century composer, and it is probable that such an innovation would have shocked the. purists of the time.

To-day most ringers will experience pleasure in the contemplation of experiments to extend what has been until now the rather limited musical field of Maximus. And some of the joy in breaking away from the conventional roll-ups must, in the peal at Macclesfield, surely have found its complement and consummation in the pleasure of returning in the last three courses to the familiar 7890ET.
E. C. S.

\section*{278 SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS}

Dear Sir,-From a variety of conflicting reports it would seem that the following are the names of the methods I submitted: (1) By G. Lindoff; (3) 8ths place Ramscy; (4) Princess Marina; (5) 8ths place Beaconsfield; (12) Essex; (17) Guildford; (18) Deva; (19) by G. Lindoff ; (22) Clacton; (25) Bristol; (30) 'Ringing World,' January 14th, 1938; (32) 8ths place Eastbury.

I trust that the remaining 21 will satisfy Mr. Roe.
I feel that the only answer to Mr. York-Bramble's idolising of method 'desjigners' is to show the Exercise that method designing is an automatic art and that good methods with little or no falsencss can be churned out. I therefore submit for publication a complete list of 278 clean proof scale Surprise Major with P.B. coursing order in 7-8 and triple or quadruple changes only, which I churned out and proved in under 10 hours. I trust that they will prove useful to the Exercise-Yours sincerely,
F. T. BLAGROVE.
W. Bedfont, Stanwell.

\section*{CLEWER RINGERS' DINNER}

The Clewer St. Andrew's Society of Change Ringers beld their annual dinner at the Thames Hotel. Windsor, on January 29th. Forty-nine people enjoyed an excellent dinner, among those present being the Rector, the Rev. Dymoke-Marr. his wife and Mr. J. W. Reavell, the people's warden.

The health of the Queen and the Church was proposed by the Rev. Dymoke-Marr. Then followed a speech by Mr. J. Fowler, of Cookham. proposing the health of the Clewer ringers. Mr. W. Butler replied. Mr. J. W. Reavell gave an entertaining speech, in which he proposed the health of the visitors. This was suitably acknowledged by Mr. Cook, manager of the local Trustec Savings Bank.

A social evening followed during which various novel games and dances pere introduced to the enjoyment of the company.

\section*{HILLINGDON GUILD SUPPER}

A record attendance of 45 ringers and friends enjoyed the annual supper of the St. John's. Hillingdon, Guild. held at the Golden Lion, Hillingdon, on Feb. 4th. With the Vicar, the Rev. F. C. Tyler, in the chair, supported by all the local band. the numerous guests included the Master, the general secretary and assistant secretary of the Middlesex Association.

The toasts of the evening were interspersed with social items, among the latter being songs by \(M\). Colwell, accompanied by J. C. Ferguson. choirman and organist respectively, violin solos by Mr. Pidwell, a ringer from Pinner, and tunes and changes on handbells.
Tribute was paid by the chairman to the memory of the Rector of Acton, friend of ringers and president of the Association, who was cremated the previous Tuesdays

\section*{SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY}

\section*{Presentation to Mr. S. F. Palmer}

Some sixty to seventy ringers attended the meeting of the Society, held at Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's, on February 5th, over 20 towers being represented. Ringing started promptly at 3 p.m. and continued until 9 p.m., methods ranging from Bab Minor 10 London Major, Cinques and Maximus.
An encouraging feature of the meeting was the large number of young ringers present, and a good proportion of the time was devoted to rounds and Plain Bob for their benefit, though it was pleasing to see some youngsters attempting the more difficult methods and also tackling the heavy bells in a very capable manner. Visitors from Derby, Burton-on-Trent, Lichfield, Wakefield and Liverpool attended.

After an excellent tea in the Cathedral Hall, which, due to the generosity of the Cathedral company, was free to juniors, those present were entertained to a selection of tunes on handbells by ringers from Rotherham and Thrybergh, followed by a course of Grandsire Caters by Messrs. N. Chaddock, J. J. L. Gilbert, Rev. G. G. Graham, Messrs. W. L. Robinson and S. F. Palmer.

Twenty new members were clected, and it was announced that the next meeting (the annual general) would be at Ranmoor (10) on March 5th, when there would be a committee meeting at \(2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). prior to ringing at 3 p.m.

The secretary suggested it would be advisable to revert to the system of a two-year rota of lowers for meetings in order that all towers be included, and asked for a specially sood representation at the annual mecting and committec meeting in order that the question of fixtures for 1955 and 1956 could be satisfaccorily dealt with.

After suitable votes of thanks, the last item on the agenda was a very happy one, viz, the presentation of a fountain pen to Mr. S. F. Palmer to mark his recent 80 th birthday

In making this presentation on behalf of the Society. the president, Mr. H. O. Chaddock, referred 10 Mr. Palmer's good work as a Sunday service ringer at Sheffield Cathedral. as a former officer of the Sheffield and District Society and as an officer of the Yorkshire Association.

Expressing his appreciation, Mr. Palmer recalled that he first joined the Cathedral company in 1903 and acted as Sheffield Society secretary for some 10 years soon after. His recipe for reaching 80 was: (1) Moderation in all things; (2) contentment in doing those things which were within one's limitations, and (3) regular exercise, of which ringing was one of the finest examples

\section*{CALGARY PLANS A RING OF EIGHT}

We have received from Canada recently particulars of the ring of eight bells proposed for Calgary Parish Church, Alberta. The tenor, seventh and sixth bells have been ordered from Messrs. Gillett and Johnston and delivery is expected in the late spring.

The tenor will be a gift of the Parish in commemoration of the visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury to the church when he laid the foundation stone on September 4th, 1954.

The seventh is in memory of Florence Odele Lowes, and the sixth to the memory of Edward F. L. Tavenden.

The weights of the bells are:-Treble, 3 cwt . 1 qr .2 lb .; second, 3 cwt 14 lb .; third, 3 cwt . 2 qr. 14 lb .; fourth, 4 cwt .27 lb .; fifth, 4 cwt . 3 qr. 18 lb .; sixth, 5 cwt .1 qr. 2 lb. ; seventh, 6 cwt .1 qr .8 lb .; and tenor, 8 cwt .2 qr.

\section*{ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Hunts Annual Meeting}

The Hunts annual meeting was held in Huntingdon on January 15th; despite the arctic weather the attendance was good. Ringing commenced at \(2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). at Godmanchester, and at 4 o'clock All Saints' was available, where at 4.30 the ringers' service was conducted by the Rev. J. M. E. Bagley. Tea was taken in All Saints' Hall, followed by the business meeting with the Rector in the chair. All the officers of the District were re-elected with hearty thanks for their efforts during the past year. Ringing then took place again at St. Mary's and All Saints' towers.

\section*{FORTY YEARS AGO \\ Extract from 'The Ringing World, February 19th, 1915 \\ DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION \\ PRESENTATION TO A VALUED MEMBER}

The President . . . . said . . . . Some time ago Mr. Hillier had the misfortune to lose, by accident, his horse, and as the possession of another animal was absolutely indispensable for the carrying on of his business, a meeting was held in Newcastle, when it was decided to raise sufficient funds to purchase another one. There was not the least difficulty in the matter, and the required sum was soon forthcoming. A horse was obtained and handed over to Mr. Hillier on December 1st.
[Surely a unique presentation to a ringer?]

\section*{PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{Rutland Branch Report Progress}

An increase of from 44 to 53 members was reported by the hon. secretary (Mr. E. E. Gibson) at the annual meeting of the Rutland Branch, held at Uppingham on January 29th. There are also 11 N.R. life members. The meeting was attended by about 30 ringers and they were welcomed by the Rector (the Rev. S. C. Woodward).

Officers elected at the meeting were: President, Mr. R. Scott; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. E. Gibson; Guild Committee, Messrs. F. Stevens, H. Tibbert and C. Green; branch committee, Messrs. A. E. Stevens, H. Wand and W. Clarke.
Touches in the following methods were rung during the meeting: Grandsire Triples and Doubles, Bob Major and Minor.

\section*{WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTY GULD \\ Winchester District}

The annual meeting of the above District was held in Winchester on February 5th. St. Maurice's bells were first available, where nothing could seem to go wrong-London, Cambridge, Spliced Kent and Oxford all came round.

A business meeting was held in St. Maurice's Hall under the chairmanship of the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth. The officers were re-elected and a rota of monthly meetings was introduced by the secretary, which ensured that all affiliated towers in the District were visited at least once every two years. Being a bellringers' rota, it also had the advantage that the order of towers for any particular year would not repeat for 60 years. Four new ringing members were elected-the Rev. Mr. Tupholme, Messrs. G. Dixon, G. Foncey and D. Verity, and also four honorary members. It was also resolved to send a letter of sympathy to Mr. R. W. Rex in his recent accident.
Members later took part in Evensong in the Cathedral, at which the Rev. K. C. Davis, Vicar of Hawley, gave an address. He mentioned the motto of the Linlithgow family'Hope remaineth '-and urged ringers to be constant in their ringing out the message of the love of God, and that even if everything goes wrong and the effort does not seem worth while, then there still remains hope.
The Cathedral bells were put to good use for two hours after Evensong. Granasire and Stedman Cinques, Plain Bob and Kent Maximus were attempted, with several rounds for those not so well acquainted with 12-bell ringing.

EDITOR: T. W. White.

The Master of the Bristol University Society, Mr. D. J. Marshall, comes of age on February 22nd. A happy birthday from all ringers, especially those in the Derbyshire and Bristol Districts

The cancellation of ringing Hereford Cathedral bells for the time being arises from the expert's opinion that movement caused by the bells is weakening the walls of the south transept. Structural alterations are to be carried out at once to reinforce the walls.

All the band who rang a golden wedding quarter peal at Mereworth, Kent, on February Sth to Mr. and Mrs. J. Saunders were over 70 years of age except the conductor, Mr. H. H. Usborne.

Sapcote (Leics) ringers rang a quarter peal in honour of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Abbott. Mrs. Abbott (née Jean Taylor) is the first lady ringer of Sapcote to become a mother.
Six times the band assembled at Mountsorrel to enable the local captain, Mr. Royston Welmore, to ring his first peal of Major. The last time, on February 5th, was successful. After the peal the band, with the Vicar, were entertained to tea.

Sible Hedingham ringers and other friends send their best wishes for a speedy recovery to good health to Mr. Olave E. Broyd, who is in hospital at Colchester. He would certainly have been in the peal attempt on February 5th, which was lost, and the subsequent quarter had he been well.

The enterprising young team of ringers at Kenwyn, Cornwall, are noted locally for their good-natured leg-pulling, and when their popular vice-captain, Mr. Alan Carveth, missed a call in a recent peal attempt after 2 hours and 25 minutes' ringing, the opportunity to 'have a dig' at him was too good to miss. Incidentally, the suggestion that Alan is now giving up ringing and taking up tree-felling on his future brother-in-law's estate is entirely unfounded.

\section*{GOSSIP}

The 232 peals rung by the 25 minutes. He rang in Masonic peals of Triples, Major, Caters, Royal, Cinques and Maximus.

For the encouragement of young ringers and conductors the Western District of the Herts County Association have a programme of 30 quarter peal attempts for 1955.

Mr. S. A. Chambers, of Lincoln, has rung Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques. The 'family' was completed on February 5th by a peal of Caters at St. Mary's, Nottingham.

A small amount of money was found in the belfry after the Watford meeting on February 5th. Will claimants communicate with Mr. S. H. Hoare, 56, Acme Road, Watford.

After a birthday peal rung at Brenchley, Kent, on February 5th, the ringers were entertained to tea at the home of Colin and Betty Tester. It was Colin's coming-of-age, and Betty is now a 'sweet seventeen.'

Erin Cinques was rung on the bells of St. Martin-in-the-Fields by the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths for the Queen's Accession, on February 5th. It was the first peal in the method for ten of the band.
Those taking part in the peal of Minor at Packington were members of both the Leicester Diocesan Guild and the Midland Counties Guild, the peal being rung for the Leicester Guild. The band were entertained by the Rev. and Mrs. Rigg after the peal.

Mr. Philip Gray informs us that the peal of Stedman Triples at Melbourne Cathedral on November 28th was not the warmest peal ever. It is on record, he writes, that a peal of seven Minor methods was rung at St. Peter's, Ballarat, Victoria, about 1900 with the temperature at over 100 degrees.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN 1954}

\section*{Lowest Since 1947}

According to records to hand, the total of peals rung in 1954 was 2,412 , which is the lowest number since 1947. Compared with 1953, there was a drop of 155 peals. The main decrease was in handbell peal ringing, in which department only 123 peals have been recorded. This is a decrease of 31 peals.
Total peals in recent years have been as follows: 1953, 2,567; 1952, 2,915; 1951, 2,925; 1950, 2,723; 1949, 2,906; 1948, 2,639.

\section*{ESSEX ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Northern District}

Over 60 members attended the annual meeting of the Northern District held at Halstead on January 22nd. Tea was provided by Mrs. Snowden and helpers and the members showed their appreciation by taking a collection for the fund for rehanging St. Andrew's bells. This amounted to \(£ 55 \mathrm{~S}\). The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Swallow) and the address given by Canon R. Jack.
Miss H. G. Snowden, the District Master, was in the chair for the business meeting, supported by Mr. R. C. Heazel. Master of the Association. It was reported that steady progress had been made during the year and Sunday service ringing had been maintained. Tower captains were asked to rope in more learners. Appeals forl rehanging work are being made at Stebbing and Halstead. Great Easton was chosen for the next meeting in March.
All the officers were re-elected, viz: Miss H. G. Snowden. Master; Mr. H. A. Pratit, secretary; and Mr. J. Ellioll and Mr. J. Warner committee members. Thanks were expressed to all who had worked to make the meeting so successful.

\section*{PORTISHEAD BELLS}

Portishead bells, on which the first all-ladies' peal to be rung by a local band took place in 1915, have had major repairs costing \(£ 229\). These bells are heard every Sunday morning and evening, and are popular with visiting bands. Mr. A. J. Gould, the tower secretary of St. Ives, West Hill, Portishead. Bristol, feels that many ringers who have had connections with this tower would like to be associated with this appeal and he would gladly acknowledge any contributions sent.

\section*{SHOULD PEALS BE SHORTER?}

The first postcards received indicate a majority in favour of a change in the length of peals as outlined in "The Topic for the Month' article in the issue of February 4th. Here are some:-
Mr. Cecil W. Pipe, Grundisburgh:-
For many years and for many reasons 1 have advocated peals of about 3,000 changes and shall be glad to support any proposal in this direction.
Mr. Stafford H. Green, Sampford Peverell, Devon :-
In view of public opinion and increase in built-up areas, am very strongly in favour of reduction to 2,500 minimum for peals, half and quarter peals in proportion. Long overdue reform.
Mr. John Cooper, West Bromwich:-
I beg to support suggestion for shorter peals. Reason: Many churches are now in built-up areas, and unless some of the ringing is curtailed we shall have the public declare war on us.
Mr. J. Arthur Hoare, Swansea :-
I agree wholeheartedly with the proposal made in 'The Ringing World.' The sympathy of the public to the ringing of bells should be cultivated. True sportsmanship and team effort could very well be introduced on handbells, which would produce 100 per cent. competitive spirit and put the art on a higher level.
The new proposals wouid help to divorce the sportsmanship policy from the primary use of church bells, which, in the general public's point of view, is correct. If the art is to survive, the proposals made should be given a fair trial.
Mr. W. Parrott. Cheam, Sutton:-
The essence of A. Y.-B.'s article is the introduction of a new standard length between 1,260 and 5,000 changes. This is more likely to be accepted by ringers if it does not upset existing customs and traditions. A new short peal of 2,880 changes ( \(4 \times 720\) ) would give all the advantages claimed for the changes suggested without the disadvantage of a major change. If it proved unwanted no harm would be done, but the choice of what to ring would be in ringers' hands. Short peals could be printed in "The Ringing World \({ }^{\text { }}\) in the present quarter peal style, reserving the longer layout for ordinary peals. The recognition of a length between 1,260 and 5,000 is long overdue.

Mr. B. M. Barker, King's Langley :-
The suggestion that the standard peal should be reduced to 3,000 changes is an excellent one.

I believe that if it were adopted we should witness a considerable revival of interest in peal ringing, and the field would be open for the less accomplished ringers to take part in peals. It would also help the mid-week peal ringer who finds the inevitable 6.15 start rather too near his knocking-off time for comfort. In West Herts there are a considerable number of younger ringers who are arriving at the stage when a peal should be attempted, but some parents are not at all convinced that three hours' non-stop ringing is within the physical capabilities of young folk; no doubt similar anxicty exists all over the country.
The accomplishment value of a peal, surely, lies in the methods attempted bearing in mind the degree of skill of the ringers taking part; the band of Surprise ringers which completes a peal of Bob Major has merely proved that the eight men can stand up for three hours. As for the hardened peal ringers, think of the fun they can have altering all of their achievements to date into long peals.
Mr. E. V. Rodenhurst, Whitchurch, Salop:-
I think the Council would be ill-advised to reduce the length of a peal to 3,000 changes. The 'old men' set us the 5,000 as a standard; may we hope we are as good men as they.
When a person can ring 100 peals in a year, it would appear that peals are already cheap enough in some quarters. Cheapen it still further and you will have more peal reports sent in than you can possibly cope with.
For my part 1 would not care to start for a 3,000 . It wouldn't be worth calling a peal.
At towers where the bells are noisy and complaints occur. ring the very occasional peal with a set of 'Davis Silencers' fitted, and see how that answers. In any case do not cut the length of a peal as it would detract very greatly from its value as a performance.
I always think that the last hour or so is the trial.' especially if the bells are on the heavy side or rough going.
Mrs. P. M. Mayne, Harrow :-
My criticisms of the new suggestions are as follows:-
(1) If a peal were 3,000 changes taking about 1 hour and 50 minutes, we could easily go out and ring three or more in a day, and "The Ringing World ' could not cope with the numbers requiring publication.
(2) If a quarter peal were 1.500 , it would be too long to ring prior to services, which some of us like to do.

\section*{MR. FARMER AND THE SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

On January 29 h about 80 ringers gathered at Wellington for the annual general meeting of the Shropshire Association, a meeting which has hitherto always been held at Shrewsbury.
From rounds. a large variety of methods. including four Surprise, were rung, and all tastes were satisfied.
During the service a very warm welcome was extended by the Vicar (the Rev. R. H. Makcpeace) before an adjournment to the Parish Hall for tea.

An unusual interlude before the business meeting took the form of extracts from tape recordings. First the bells of St. Peters, Brighton, at Christmas, with their ringers sending greetings to Shrewsbury. Then St. Chad's ringing in the New Year and reciprocating their good wishes to Brighton

After the adoption of the minutes, the Ringing Master (in the chair) reported on the healthy state of the Association as reflected in the number and variety of peals rung, which included several new methods. All the mectings had been enthusiastically attended and there had been a steady influx of new members.

The departure of Mr. W. A. Farmer, the popular hon. secretary and treasurer, was then mentioned and glowing tributes paid to his work for ringing generally, by his excellent articles which have been published fairly regularly, and to his faithful service to this body in recent years. This appreciation then took more tangible form by the presentation of all electric kettle and a cheque.

In a stirring reply. Bill told of how his new venture at Cheltenham, his great sorrow at leaving Shropshire, particularly St. Chad's, and all that ringing had meant to him.
Mr. Arthur Pritchard was re-clected Ringing Master, and Mr. F. H. Bennet! his deputy as a semi-conditional clause to Miss E. V. Jones becoming hon. secretary. After some discussion the treasurer's post was also relegated to Mr. Bennett. A vote of thanks was expressed to Mr. W. H. Hughes, the auditor, who was re-elected. Mr. A. S. Bayley took Mr. Farmer's position as a trustec. F. H. B.

\section*{500 PEALS AT ST. JOHN'S, ERITH}

Wcomplishment of the sooth peal at St. John-the-Baptist, Erith, this total has now been reached for the second time in a church tower, the other having been Erith's neighbour and associate in the new Parliamentary constituency of Erith and Crayford. Two of the band. Messis. F. J. Cullum and E. Barnett, took part in the 500th at each tower.

Formerly a ring of six, St. John's, Erith, bells were augmented to eight in 1882, and the first peal on them, Grandsire Triples, was by an invited band of Cumberlands conducted by George Newson, on November 18 th of that year. A peal in the same method on April \(16 \mathrm{th}, 1888\), was the first by Frederick J. Cullum, sen., whose father, though not a peal ringer, was associated with the tower for more than 60 years. His son, the present leader of the band, is, of course, a well-known ringer and conductor, whose enthusiasm has been responsible for most of the peal ringing at the tower since the war, which perhaps reached its zenith in 1947 when, in six months, ten peals were rung, all in different Surprise Major methods.

The tower first became popular as a pialringing centre in the \(1890^{\prime}\) s, and about that time the key to the tower was kept under a tombstone in the churchyard, so that it was not unknown (since the Vicarage is quite a long way from the church) for bands to take advantage of the fact if they had been disappointed or unsuccessful elsewhere! Among the peals rung during that decade were 6,048 and 10,080 of Canterbury Major in 1891, 6,000 Bob Major in 1897, 10,464 Kent Treble Bob in 1898, and the then record length of Major, 15,072 Double Norwich, in 1899. This was conducted by William Pye, who only six days later called on the bells the first peal of London by the Kent County Association (altogether 20 'firsts' for the Association have been recorded at St.

\section*{ARMY EXERCISE}

In an attempt to emulate the Royal Air Force peal certain serving members of the Army in the Aldershot district decided to meet and attempt a peal of Minor at Bentley, Hants.
The parade was on orders for 1800 hours on February 2nd, but at that time there were two absentees. Sgt. Harry Poyner. R.A.E.C., was detained on a Physical Efficiency Test (campanology is not listed in the Army Manual of Physical Training as a test of efficiency) and Craftsman Eric Johnstone was listed on the posting order as Craftsman Johnstone A. and so was not informed.

So with a third of the resources not available, and bearing in mind the Central Council's view on peals of Bob Minimus, the ' \(O\), Group that was called decided to enlist two local ringers. who were not alarmed by the sight of khaki but gave their services willingly, and thus saved the day.

A very goiod quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung, the ringers being as fol-lows:-Second-Lieutenant B. Austin. R.E., 1, Spr. P. Minchin 2. A. Raggett (local band) 3, Drr. A. Hartley. R.A.S.C., 4, Pte. A. Ainsworth, R.A.S.C. (conductor) 5, A. S. Sherfield (local band) 6 .
It was natural to feel disappointed that the original intention had not been fulfilled, but it was felt that a start had been made, and with the constant flow of National Service men and Regulars through this district, it should be possible for a peal to be rung in the near future.
B. A.

John's). Since this time the only long peal has been 11,008 Double Norwich, in 1927.

There has naturally been a close association between Erith and Crayford towers, and in fact the four leading peal ringers at Erith all rang or have rung more than 100 at each place, while four others have been recorded over 100 in one and more than 50 in the other. Leading totals at Erith, with dates of first and last peals (number conducted shown in parentheses) are :-

\section*{NO RECORDED BELES AT HOLTON}

At a Consistory Court held at the Parish Church of Holton by the Chancellor of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, an application for a faculty to install equipment in the vestry and tower for the electrical reproduction of recorded church bells was refused. Mr. W. A. Osborn gave evidence for the Advisory Committee, of which he is a member, and was cross-examined by the petitioners.

In summing up, the Chancellor said it was clearly the duty of parishioners to put the existing three bells, which had been calling the parishioners of Holkon to worship for evor 500 years, in good and safe order. He congratulated the petitioners in putting their case so clearly before the Court, and thanked Mr. Osborn for giving evidence, and for the history of the bells.

\section*{HANDBELL RINGING IN A WALTHAMSTOW SCHOOL}

Handbell ringing was first introduced into the William, Elliott Whittingham Secondary Modern Boys' School, Walthamstow, when Mr. Maurice Baker decided to provide a further entertainment at the School's Christmas concert in 1947.

Mr. Baker, an enthusiastic ringer, borrowed the handbells from his local church, All Saints' in Hutton, Essex. He trained the boys, and the venture proved so successful that in June, 1949, the school purchased its own bells from Mears and Stainbank. The set was composed of 25 bells, two octaves, chromatic, in 17 A .

The training went on after school hours week after week, but up to November, 1950, few had ever heard the boys ring or even knew of their existence. Early in November, 1950, the team received an invitation to ring before an audience of about 300 people at the Patronal Festival of All Saints \({ }^{\circ}\) Church, Hutton.

The occasion proved so successful that it was not long before other invitations were given. This activity obviously lent itself to providing pleasure and helping deserving causes, and it was agreed that the bellringers should perform as many 'good deeds' as possible. Over 50 recitals have now been given up to date, and the team has given entertainment at many church socials, schools, clubs and institutes, a hospital and at functions for the aged and the blind.

Following an invitation to ring at a local Anglor-German Musid Festival, the German party were so pleased that they asked for a recording of the bells. In consequence, the B.B.C. Visited the school and took recordings with the intention of using them in a future broadcast from Hamburg.

The activity has become so popular with the boys that another master, Mr. Eric Harrison, has himself learned the art, and now three teams are being trained.

With only two octaves of bells, harmony is out of the question, although a little two-part harmony has been successfully tried. The main concentration has been on tune-playing with good time and rhythm. This has enabled the boys to master a fair number of carols and popular and national airs which, with some change ringing, appear to give the greatest pleasure to the listeners. A few boys have been attending St. Mary's Church, Walthamstow, and have recently been accepted as Sunday service ringers. Two boys, John Bonner (school caplain) and Robert Chapman, have already rung at several towers in Essex, and on November 14th. 1954. they completed their first quarter peal of Grandsire Triples at the Church of St. Mary, Walthamstow, which fact was duly recorded in "The Ringing World.'
Very often the hard work involved in training boys to a good standard of ringing is eventually lost when they leave school. However, it is hoped that more boys will follow the example of John and Robert and continue this worth-while activity in the local churches.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

THE RECORD LENGTH ATTEMPT
Dear Sir,-I have just been reading the editorial comments and correspondence on the Loughborough record attempt in the issue of December 17th. and at the risk of saying something that may already have been said in the issues between then and now, which have not yet reached me, I would like to add a few comments and suggestions.
This attempt gained for ringers probably more publicity than we have ever had before. Almost everyone in Britain must have heard something about it. Even Australian papers reported it (incorrectly) but refrained from comment. In the U.S.A. 'Time' devoted a column to it which brought forth some rather scornful correspondence. Apparently much of the comment in Britain was scornful or, at best, tolerant tinged with sarcasm. As Mr. Rowe said, this sort of comment is unwelcome.
Now the general public are not used to hearing anything about bellringers, and when they do get a little bit of information they naturally tend to base all their idcas upon it. We are all zuilty of this sort of thing with subiects we know little about.
As ringers, I don't believe we can afford to let wrong impressions about, us get around. We have a job to do: Firstly it is to see that the bells in our churches are rung Sunday by Sunday, and secondly to see that they are rung as well as they possibly can be. We are not entitled to do anything that may hinder us from performing our duty, for doing that duty is a hard enough job as it is. Peal ringing (or eren long-peal ringing for that matter) is justifiod as a means to that end, but it is not an end in itself. Possibly a very small proportion of peal ringing is a creative art and is justfied as long as it does not hinder us in doing our real duties.
That is why there are bellringers. Was that the impression people got from the publicity on the Loughborough attempt? No, they will now have less sympathy with us and consider us as a lot of crackpots who are worthy successors to the old-fogey-with-a-beard-who-is-always-drunk type of ringer, which some people even now believe we are. If that sort of idea is fostered in people's minds we will lose a lot of sympathy and our job will become harder than ever to carry out. Complaints about bells will increase (no one has any conscience in complaining about a crackpot) and, worst of all, it will be harder than ever to recruit those many new ringers we need to ring the innumerable bells that are silent Sunday by Sunday the kngth and breadth of Britain (and Australia, too). This recent blaze of publicity may have cost us something we can ill afford.
But what an opportunity was lost for turning the publicity to good account! If only we could have used the occasion to get something really vital over about ourselves. Why didn't we? Well, it was not the fault of the Press. Journalists are naturally rather aggressive fel-lows-they have to be since little news drops on to their desk. They are used to going out and ferreting out what they can find and make their story from it. However, it is rare that they are not glad to accept information given to them by someone who really docs know the story. In my own experience here in Melbourne I have found most journalists genuinely anxious to give an accurate account wnich conveys the right impression if only some of the ringers for their part will co-operate. A few journalists I have met are only out for sensation and I will not have anything to do with them.

The blame for this poor publicity must, 1 am sure, lie with us. On future big ringing occasions (such as the proposed recent performance at Loughborough) could we not make a real effort for dynamic Press relations?

Would it not be possible to appoint an honorary Press relations officer for the event? There must be a ringer somewhere, possibly with journalistic experience, who would be preparcd to do this. I believe the Central Council has a Press and Radio Committee whose yearly habit it is to conduct a post mortem on what the public have been told about us. Could not they for once be a bit dynamic and influence the Press? This would, I believe, be quite a novel experiment for ringers but one I feel it would be well worth making. It would help people to understand why we go for record lengths amongst other things, and perbaps some of us ringers might also begin to understand why, too:
I noticed the 'Manchester Guardian' with characteristic perspicacity called the Loughborough attempt a 'monumental act of introversion.' Surely to ring bells, of all things, so they cannot be heard is an act of introversion with few equals. If you believe you are doing something worth doing you cannot keep all but the final result to yourself. If no one is interested in listening to you doing what you believe is worth doing, well, is it worth doing after all? Whether bells are rung for 20 seconds or 20 hours, whether they are in a secular or nonsecular tower, they must be heard.- Yours, etc.,

PHILIP GRAY.

FALSE PEAL AT KING'S LYNN
Dear Sir,-The peal of Plain Bob Royal rung at St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, Norfolk, on June 26th, 1954, and published in "The Ringing World' of July 9th, on page 434, is false. The fact that I copied down the composition wrongly has only just come to light. 1 very much regret this unfortunate mistake and tender my sincere apologies to the rest of the band.-Yours sincerely, King's Lymn.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN HEREFORDSHIRE}

Dear Sir,-As Rector of Presteigne, I purposely made no protest against Mr. Felstead's inclusion of Presteigne tower in his interesting article on Pcal Ringing in Herefordshire.
Presteigne civil parish (it is true) is the capital town of Radnorshire, but the ancient ecclesiastical parish which is served by Presteigne Church extends far becond the bounds of the civil parish of Presteigne and includes no less than four civil parishes of Herefordshire, and it has always been in the Diocese of Hereford and, therefore, in the Hereford Diocesan Guild.
As it is unlikely that Mr. Felstead will write an article on Peal Ringing in Radnorshire (which has only six rings of bells) I was glad he had slipped us into Herefordshire-we are half in it.
(REV.) E. G. BENSON.
Presteignc,
In the counties of Radnor and Hereford.

\section*{LESS PEALS IN HERTS?}

Dear Sir,-The excellent article by Mr. Felstead was more than interesting to those of us who know the answers to his many queries as to why certain towers have become less active as far as peals are concerned. Changes in the 'go' of the bells, in the leadership of the tower. in the incumbency of the church or in the surrounding population all have a marked effect on the number of peals permitted, but 1 find from a summary of our records that 29 peals per ycar were rung between 1885 and 1913, 44 between 1920 and 1939 and 49 between 1945 and 1954 on the average.-Yours, etc.,

St. Albans.

MR. ROE REPLIES TO HIS CRITIOS
Dear Sir,-May I reply to my critics, Messrs. Speed, Border and Blagrove?
Four places in one pair of rows: Cambridge is cited as a good method to justify this defect yet ringing text books with Central Counct backing state 'Cambridge is an inferior method.' However ancient this example, it is not hallowed by time; its defects remain. It is not a matter of terminology to say that a Doubles change is the result. Could one claim to have rung Major after having rung, say, Bob Doubles with three covering bells?
I am indebted to Mr. E. W. Tipler and others for the identification of Mr. Blagrove's methode Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5, 12, 17, 18, 19, 22, 25, 30, 32. No. 6 was recently given in 'The Ringing World ' by S. Ivin. For the remaining methods give the f.c.h's using Maurice Hodgson' grouping and the number of truc courses available for each. Mr. Blagrove will be able to judge how many of these methods offer poscibilities for 5,000 changes or more :-
\begin{tabular}{cccccc}

Despite any criticism that has been made, am unrepentant about my three-fold plea, viz:-
(1) For revision of the definitions.
(2) For a return to purity in construction.
(3) For an acceptance of responsibility for methods published, circulated or rung.

To assume the cloak of anonymity on the grounds that probably others have already produced the same figures is merely an excuse to avoid any personal responsibility.
This might be regarded as one degree better than having methods attributed to some other composer, alive or dead, however inadvertently this may happen. Mr. Speed has graciously acknowledged two methods of his which had been so attributed.

Mr. Border says I desire to abolish 'Surprise' but this is not so. My suggestion was for two classes of methods with Treble bob hunt, the simple and the difficult, i.e., 'Treble Bob' and 'Surprise.' My apologies if I did not make this clear. The effect of this would be to abolish or rather absorb the other classes or terms that are neglected, redundant or simply ignored. At present, according to reliable authority, we have Treble Bob, Exercise, Delight, Surprise, and on the higher numbers Passallatria, Passallatessara. I remember also a peal report of London 'Marvel' appearing in The Ringing World.'
None of the methods published by Mr. Blagrove conform strictly to the definition of Surprise though they are accepted as such. Should the definitions be revised to meet present day requirements, or should we not make some effort to conform to them?-Yours sincerely, K. C. R. ROE.

THE REV. PERCIVAL GOUGH, M.A.
The Rev. P. Gough, M.A., Rector of St. Mary's, Acton, and president of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, died on January 27th at the age of 73, in Central Middlesex Hospital, to which he had been taken a few days previously, suffering from bronchitis and pncumonia. Ordained in 1902, he held curacies at Christ Church, Southport, Holy Trinity, Tulse Hill, and at Normanton and Halifax Parish Churches. From 1912 to 1921 he was Vicar of Heptonstall and after a year at St. Thomas', Halifax, came to London as Vicar of St. Mark's, St. John's Wood. In 1928 he exchanged livings with the Rector of Acton.
He was elected president of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild in 1949 and did not once fail to take the chair at the annual general meetings. He always gave members of the Diocesan Guild a warm welcome to his church, and a meeting during the summer with tea on the Rectory lawn has been one of the most popular of each year's meetings.
Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and a funeral service at mid-day were held at St. Mary's, Acton, on February 1st, and the Diocesan Guild was represented at one or the other of these by F. A. Finch (assistant secretary, S. and W. District, and tower secretary at Acton), H. G. Hart and W. H. Coles (vicepresidents), T. J. Lock (secretary, N. and E. District), E. C. S. Turner (general secretary) and W. N. Genna (assistant general secretary), His body was subsequently taken to Golders Green for cremation, his ashes to be buried in the churchyard of St. Mary's, Acton.
That evening 1,280 Plain Bob Major was rung half-muffled by: F. W. Goodfellow 1, F A. Finch (conductor) 2, A. H. Fulwell 3, A. J Blair 4, A. Harding 5, W. H. Coles 6, T. J Lock 7, F. C. Price 8.

\section*{MR. B. MERCHANT}

The death occurred on February 5th of Mr B. Merchant, aged 62, at Church House, Wembdon, Bridgwater, close to the tower where he had been a ringer since 1904. Until fairly recently he carricd on the business of a carpenter and undertaker started by his grandfather and handed on by his father. He was also onetime sexton at St. George's Church, an office previously held by his grandfather and father before him.
After the interment the bells were rung halfmuffled by members of the local band. This included Bob Doubles, deceased's favourite method.

\section*{MR. ARTHUR CRANE}

St. Mary's, Bletchley, Bucks, ringers have tost a member of their tower of over 50 years standing by the death of Mr. Arthur Crane, aged 75 years. He was a founder member of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and his cheerful disposition will be missed by many friends. His peals numbered ten and included the first on St. Mary's bells by local bands of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major

On the day of his funeral, February 5th, the bells were rung half-muffled to 1.260 Plain Bob Minor to his memory. The band consisted of A. E. Daniells (first quarter) 1, J. F. Brooks 2, H. Sear 3. W. Daniells 4, F. Stonton 5, R. Cadamy (conductor) 6.

\section*{MR. ARTHUR CRAWFORD}

The death occurred at his home at Rampton, Notts, on January 23rd, of Mr. Arthur Crawford at the age of 70 . He was interred at Rampton on January 27th.
Mr. Crawford, a well-known and highlyrespected ringer, was the son of Mr. Charles Crawford (one of the founder member sof the North Notts Association), of East Markham. His ringing career commenced at an early age, for when only 12 years old he was presented with a set of handbells by his father for ringing his first 720 at Ordsall.
In 1928 he donated the 'Crawford' Cup in memory of his father, and this is still competed for each year
Not a prolific peal ringer (he rang his first peal of Plain Bob at East Markham in 1899), Mr. Crawford is better remembered for his work among learners and his help in restoration of bells. He had taught young people to ring at Rampton, Laneham. Dunham and East Drayton.

When Rampton bells were increased from four to six the parishioners gave one in memory of those fallen in the war, and Mr. Crawford donated the sixth.
East Drayton and Dunham also received enthusiastic behind the scenes assistance with their restoration
Mr. Crawford will be missed by all, especially the locals and peal ringers who used to retire to his house for sumptuous teas and to hear his criticism or praise of their efforts.
The bells were rung before and after the funeral and an in memoriam peal in seven Treble Bob methods was rung at Rampton on Saturday, February 5 th. The bells were left open, which was his wish.
E. P.

\section*{MR. WILLIAM VINCENT}

Sussex ringers regret the passing of Mr. William Vincent, of Bolney, at the age of 73. For 50 years he had rung at Bolney and for over 20 years was captain of the local band. retired from ringing last summer.
Friends from Bolney, Cuckfield and Burgess Hill assembled at Bolney on the evening of January 24th, the day of his funeral, and rang 1,260 Grandsire Triples with the bells halfmuffled. The band was T. Walder 1 , J. Gasson 2. T. Gasson 3, R. Simpson 4, J. Ashdown \(5 . J\). Jeffrey 6. F. Godsmark (conductor) 7, J. Hyde 8.

\section*{MR. B. F. TUBB}

After a long illness. Mr. B. F. Tubb, of Finchley. passed away on January 29th at the age of 73. The funeral took place on February 4th at St. Mary's. and as the cortege left the church for the crematorium, the ringers-with bells half-muffled-paid their last respects with some well-struck rounds.
A member of the Finchley band since 1914, Mr. Tubb was secretary from 1939 to 1949. and was instrumental in the move to augment the bells from six to cight. Towards this end he spent much time and effort. Strangely enough, while he was a reliable Minor ringer. he was never 'at home' on eight bells and at times became depressed at not making headway.

Prior to his failing health he was always excellent company on the many trips and outings. especially the "four quarter" trips. A really great feat of his was to teach a blind ringer to handle a bell-and he had the satisfaction of providing the band with a very capable ringer.

\section*{RUDDINGTON RINGERS' SUPPER}

For the third year in succession Ruddington ringers enjoyed their annual supper on January 18 th . More than thirty ringers and their wives, including six visitors from neighbouring towers, wish to express their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Horspool, who so kindly provided a most generous meal consisting of iraditional Christmas fare.

Mr. S. Adams (captain), in welcoming the visitors, said that real progress had been achieved during the last year, the highlights of which were a quarter peal last March as a compliment to Mr. Horspool on the occasion of his birthday, the after service ringing at harvest festival which was much appreciated by the village, and a quarter peal last November.

Mr. W. Nicholls, of St. Mary's, Nottingham, on behalf of the visitors, returned thanks and said that he and his fellow-guests would always be pleased to give any help that lay in their power.

The Vicar, the Rev. A. C. Shrimpton, in thanking the ringers for their services, said that he had hoped when he first came to Ruddington that he would eventually hear the bells for both morning and evening service. That hope had been realised and it was seldom now that less than six bells were raised.

The Youth Fellowship gave an entertainment, and several touches on the handbells were also given.

\section*{THE HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

Northern District Review Past Year
On January 2Ind the annual meeting of the Northern District was held at Hitchin. Ringing began at 3 p.m. and continued until a local Press photographer wished to take a photograph just before the service. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. N. O. Walsh) and Miss A. Scott played the organ.
The Vicar presided at the business meeting. The secretary, Mr. E. Buck, read a letter from the Vicar of Norton about the Thomas Werrett Memorial Fund. This now stood at £17, and an application had been made for a faculty to put a plaque in the ringing chamber, and devoting any remaining money to a bell fund for the planned new church in the parish.
Mr. Buck's report was encouraging: 11 new ringing members and three non-resident life members had been elected. and Pirton had joined the Association. Eighteen peal; had been rung in the District and one by the Association at Stotfold (Beds). There was an increased balance, which now stood at \(£ 30\) 10s. \(6 d\).

Mr. Buck was re-elected secretary, and Miss J. Sanderson elected 'Ringing World' representative. The general committee will be: Messrs. J. Dear, B. Marks. D. Gullick. F. Croft, H. Werrett and E. Winters. The Ringing Master at the meetings will be decided each month.

Ringing continued until the bells were rung down in peal at 9 p.m. The methods rung ranged from rounds to Pudsey and Bristol Surprise.

\section*{St. Albans District}

Ringing on the Abbey bells and also those of St. Peter's preceded the annual meeting of St. Albans District on January 15th.
At the business meeting held at St. Peter's Institute the secretary (Mr. S. Huckle) reported that six new members had been clected during the year, plus four non-resident life-members.

Sunday service ringing had been maintained throughout the year and although there seemed to have been less night practice the standard seemed to be as high as ever. Cash in hand amounted to \(£ 2417 \mathrm{~s}\). 3d.
The following new members were elected:Abbey, Gerald Penny, Michael D. Frost and Mr. J. L. Cox (ringing members) ; St. Peter's, Marion Waldron, Georgina Goodey (probationary members) and Christine Pullen (ringing member) : North Mymms. Mr. A. J. Scull (ringing member); Monken Hadley, Mr. J. Soper (ringing member); Wheathampstead, Mr. F. Ellis (ringing member).
Mr. Huckle was re-elected secretary, Mr. Eric Edmondson Ringing Master. The committee comprises Messrs. A. Day, G. Spencer, F. Bamford, J. Page, D. Price and G. Dodds. Messrs. Page and Dodds were elected District representatives to the county committee. The president (Mr. J. Hobbs) was in the chair.

\section*{Canterbury District Elect 23 New Members}

The quarterly meeting of the Canterbury District was held recently at Wickhambreaux. Once again this little village, pretty even in the winter, attracted a large gathering, there being 57 present, these representing 18 towers in the District, with visiting ringers from the Ashford and Maidstone Districts. Ringing during the afternoon was followed by the usual service. As there is, at the present time, no rector of the parish, the Vicar of the neighbouring village of Littlebourne officiated. One of the local ringers, Miss W. Miles, was at the organ.
The business meeting followed tea in the Village Hall. Twenty-three new practising members were elected, these including the band from St. Peter's-in-Thanet. who were welcomed back into union with the Association. One new honorary member was also elected. A report was given by Mr. S. Walter of the business carried out by the Central Committec at their meeting at Maidstone. Deal was chosen as the place for the next quarterly meeting, with Chilham as the place for a by-meeting. Thanks were expressed to all who had made the local arrangements for ringing, tea and the service, especially to the Rev. S. B.-R. Poole, who had sandwiched the service in with other engagements.

\section*{A KENT GOLDEN WEDDING}

Quarter peals were rung at East Peckham on February 4th, and Mereworth on February 5th, as a golden wedding compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. Saunders, of Mereworth. Mr. Saunders has been a bellringer for 55 years. He started his ringing career at East Peckham, But he has been a member of the Mereworth band for 30 years.
Taking, part in the quarter peal at Mereworth with Mr. Saunders were ringers with whom he has been associated for most of his ringing life, namely, Lewis Newman, Tom Saunders, Joe Bishop and Luther Holness. All these ringers are past 70 years of age and made the ringer of the fifth bell feel quite a youngster, although he is over 40, and has been ringing with Mr. Saunders for about 20 years.
Besides his ringing activitics Mr. Saunders is verger and steeplekeeper at Mereworth, an office he has held for 15 years. He is also a member of the Church Council.

After ringing the quarter peal, the band were joined by other bellringers, who helped to ring touches of Plain Bob until tea time. when everybody was entertained to a wonderful rea by Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and their family. After tea ringers returned to the belfry for further ringing until 7.30 .

\section*{WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD}

\section*{Basingstoke District}

The annual meeting of the Basingstoke District was held at All Saints', Basingstoke, on January 29 th and was attended by over 70 ringers and friends. The Guild service was taken by the Archdeacon of Basingstoke (the Ven. A. W. Chutc) and the Rev. D. L. Board, of Wolverton, who gave an excellent address. Tea was provided by the Ladies' Committee at All Saints' Church Room under Mrs. E. P. Austin and was very much enjoyed.

Officers elected were:-Chairman, the Archdeacon of Basingstoke; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. Chesterman; Ringing Master, Mr. C. Osley; representatives, Mr. H. Balaam and Mr. B. Garrett.

Meetings were arranged at Rotherwick on April 23rd. Wolverton on June 25th, and Sherborne St. John on September 24th.

It was also decided to arrange a combined practice for six-bell ringing throughout the year under the direction of the Ringing Master. Seventeen new members were elected and one compounding member.

Votes of thanks were warmly passed to the Archdeacon, the Rev D. L. Board, the organist and the ladies. Good use was made of the bells at both All Saints' and St. Michael's.

\section*{COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD}

A good company gathered for the meeting and social at Harbury on February 5th. The five bells were kept going to a number of methods, and call changes were rung for the less experienced ringers. The service was taken by the newly-inducted Rector, the Rev. W. F. E. Smith. The ladies who put on the very good tea had a good idea of ringers' requirements. We thank them very much.
At a short business meeting Hatton was selected for the March meeting and Butlers Marston for April.
There was further ringing until 7.30 when a few friends joined us at the social. Miss Purkiss was M.C. for the 'fun and games, and the music was supplied by radiogram, lent by the hon. secretary, Mr. H. Windsor. Records were also loaned by Miss Middlemiss, who is shortly leaving for Canada. Good luck. Mary! A very jolly and friendly evening was wound up with Auld Lang Syne.

\section*{A POET IN NEW ZEALAND}

READERS of 'The Ringing World ' are familiar with the name of Albert J. Lancefield. As a keen ringer who shared in the joy of a peal, he was regarded as one of the coming young men of Kentish ringing. And then, to the surprise of his friends, in December, 1948, at the age of 28 , he sailed as an immigrant to New Zealand. The daily round at his former engineering workshop after his foreign service with the Royal Air Force became dull and uneventful. He responded to the wanderlust in his blood. His journeying and ringing experiences have been recorded from time to time in our pages, and while in New Zealand and also in Australia he made a valuable contribution to local ringing, acting as a conductor and instructor.
Another side of his character has been revealed-that of a poet, and in 'By Wandering Tempest' (The Mitre Press. 7s. 6d.) he has modestly enabled others to share in his thoughts and aspirations. These would not have appeared in print but for the exhortations of a very respected friend, for in their initial form they were written with no thought of publication in mind.

Following a meeting of the Ashford District of the Kent County Association at Smarden on November 27th, 1948 , came this tribute to its six bells with a tenor of \(18 \frac{1}{4}\) cwt.:-

To the fine bells of Smarden must I sing
One song of praise and love,
Before I say goodbye to their domain
To wander and to rove.
Last night we heard them on the frosty air
As from the church we strolled;
November mists and murky darkness hung
Around us damp and cold.
As down the wealden village street they pealed In rhythm clear and slow,
We lingered to enjoy their harmony,
Rich, resonant and low.
Three more verses were added a week later off Cape Finisterre, which read:-

\footnotetext{
The mists are lifted now and I am gone
Across the ocean foam,
But sometimes in the quietness of the night
They call me back to home.
Some day I'll answer, some day I'll return
To hear their haunting strain ;
And I shall take my place there in the tower
And feel the ropes again.

Loved bells of Smarden, from your tongues I hear, Soft, retrospectively,
The music of past years, around whose theme Revolves Life's Symphony.
Mr. Lancefield was present at the ceremony of blessing the new ring of eight bells at the Cathedral Church of St. Peter, Hamilton, and the inspiration of that service is contained in 'Their New Te Deum ': -

\footnotetext{
' We praise Thee, O God; we acknowledge Thee to be the Lord,' The Very Reverend from the psalter read, And clear and sweet the bells from overhead Upon the congregation their new Te Deum poured.

From tower to city young, beyond its precincts flung,
Their proclamation sounded; far and wide,
O'er gully bare, o'er paddock newly sprung,
Wild, pristine forest bush, green, fruiful countryside.
'The glorious company of the Apostles praise Thee,' The congregation in full concourse sang;
The bells with swinging tongues the echo rang, And to the hearts of thousands conveyed their psalmody.
Another memorable occasion for Mr. Lancefield was when the bells of All Saints' Cathedral, Christchurch, were rung on December 16th, 1950, to mark the centenary of the landing of the Canterbury Pilgrims from the first four ships- 'The Charlotte Jane,' 'Cressy,' 'Randolph' and 'Sir George Seymour' - at Lyttelton Bay, now part of Christchurch. The following day the Archbishop, Dr. G. F. Fisher, conducted a service attended by over 20,000 people held in the Cathedral Square, Christchurch. 'The Centennial Message ' tells the story of that great occasion:-

> ' We are the pioneers,' they said,
> - We came to make our future here,
> And by the grace of God prove true
> To the far land we love so dear.'
> ' God of our fathers, pledged to us,
> God of our children yet to be.
> In faith were England's churches built,
> In faith we raise this fane to Thee.'
> Then Rhodes supplied a ring of bells
> To hang in the Cathedral tower
> That every Sunday, year by year,
> 'Twould prove them seed of Britain's flower.
> True symbol of the pilgrims' creed,
> Of everything they fashioned here;
> The bells now bear to everyone
> The gist of the Centennial year.

Provoked by articles in the daily papers on the Atomic Age, Mr. Lancefield gave this answer in a poem, 'Why should we fear?':-

How prone we are to pride ourselves as free Self-governed units, learned and supreme. And yet our latest thought is but a gleam, A moment's portion of eternity! Can we design ought never meant to be In the ascending Universal Scheme? Or has our skilful scientific team Made one more step towards maturity?
Why should we fear? The natural order rolls,
And man and everything that he controls
Responsive moves to the Creative Will,
Though Death and Hell and Judgment's Final bill-
Terms we have pilfered from archaic scrolls,
Like worms eat out our understanding still.
There are some 55 poems in the collection. The odd verses we have quoted give an indication of the author's style, and all who read the book will say a special thank you to 'a very respected friend' who induced their publication to a wider field. There are many of our readers who enjoy verse, and we feel certain they will not be disappointed in Mr. Lancefield's first essay in this direction.

SURPRISE RINGING AT SOUTHGATE
Later on, when the conclusion of peace enables peal ringing to resume its normal course, we look forward to a peal of London Surprise Major being rung at Southgate by a band who have not only learned their ringing in the tower, but who were all born within the sound of the bells. We do not say that this will be absolutely unique, but certainly there are very few towers where a peal of London has been rung by a local band who can claim this distinction. That the Southgate men have the opportunity before them is proved by the fact that on Febreary 10th they rang 1,344 in the method \(\therefore\). in 55 minutes: G. Bester 1, G. W Fletcher (age 18) 2, E. G. Tomlinson 3, J. Armstrong (conductor) 4, N. A. Tomlinson 5, H. Miller 6, J. E. Miller 7, F. G. Tegg 8. It was the first quarter of London by the ringers of the 2 nd and 3 rd.

\section*{LATE NEWS}

The Collegc Youths were successful in their peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary Redcliffe. Bristol, on Saturday. The same day an attempt for Stedman Cinques at Trowbridge came to grief after three hours ringing, through the conductor missing a bob.

Mr. Frank T. Blagrove and his band at Stanwell have given another exposition of greatest number yet rung to a peal.
Mr. J. W. Cotton has now 'completed the circle' at the ninth tower in the area by ringing the seventh at Cole-Orton to the peal of Double Norwich on February 14th.

The last peal rung by the late Mr. E. J. Gale was a 5,003 of Grandsire Caters on December 3rd, 1938, at St. Peter's, St. Albans. It was his first peal on ten bells.

Mr. C. W. Woolley has been nominated to serve as president of the Hertford County Association. The annual meeting will be held at Watford this year.

There is many a history lesson in our quarter peal columns. Ringing took place at St. Mary-de-Lode, Gloucester, to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the burning of Bishop Hooper.

The 90th birthday of Mr. Harry Brown, of Hayes, Kent, was commemorated by a peal of Oxford Bob Triples at Hawkhurst, Kent, rung by a local band except the conductor, Mr. M. Cloke. who was a former resident. Many ringers in the Hayes and Bromley district owe their proficiency in the art to Mr. Brown.
Hawkhurst bells were rehung in a new oak frame by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in 1904 and have not had the attention of a bellfounder since. The 'go' of the bells is still good, although the gudgeons and bearings have worn through constant use Sunday by Sunday.

At the East Berks and South Bucks Branch meeting at Boyne Hill to-morrow the Vicar will dedicate at 4 p.m. a stone memorial tablet to George Martin and William Walker, which is erected in the ringing chamber, where they both rang for more than 60 years.

GOSSIP
In regard to the leading peal ringers at Erith (see page 106) the name of Mr. J. Bennett should be included. He has rung 53 and conducted three there. The author expresses his regret at the omission.

Wales has its veterans Mr. W. Pike rang in a quarter peal in honour of his 80th birthday at St. Martin's, Caerphilly.

Mr. George Brown has completed a half century as a ringer at Christ Church, Bacup, Lancs. He rang in a congratulatory peal.
Writes a Cheshire correspondent: 'I must say that after all the opinions expressed about "The Ringing World "I read it from cover to cover and find it very good.'

The Hertford County Association are hoping to revive the Benington Great Ringing Day on Whit Saturday. In Squire Proctor's time it was always held on May 29th.

Any members of the R.A.O.B. who may be interested in a peal attempt are asked to contact Mr. Ernest J. Rowe, 3, Avenue Road. Tottenham, N. 15.

The peal at St. Andrew's, Chippenham, reported in our issue of February 11th, was the first there for 20 years. The next peal at Cadoxton, near Neath, will be the 50 th on the bells, writes the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead.

The bells of Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, rang merrily on February 12th. There were two golden wedding anniversaries in the village on the same day. Those who rang the peal want to know if any other village has had a similar coincidence.
Mr. H. Cox, of Wimbledon, and formerly of Boyne Hill, has entered Wimbledon Hospital for a serious operation, and the best wishes of the band were extended to him on the completion of a quarter peal. which appears in our columns, and in which he took part.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN HUNTINGDONSHIRE}

Huntingdonshire, being such a small county, and having, therefore, few towers, it will be possible to mention them all in a review of peal ringing since 1881 . The first peal recorded in the county was at Keyston (5) in 1888. I can't remember that a 5 -bell tower has been able to claim first pcal in the county anywhere else, but it is probably so in this case. It is the only peal ever rung on the bells, too, so the tower holds a pretty good record for silence as well! The footnote to the peal says: and it is a great many years since, if ever, a peal has been rung in this county.' I certainly haven't come across an earlier one yet and it would be very interesting to know if anyone has. Whether there was anything wrong with the peal. I don't know, but the next peal in the county, at Huntingdon, St. Mary's (8), in 1890 has a footnote: "This is considered to be the first true peal rung in the county. Perhaps we shall never know. But it seems that this time it is possible to give a complete record this time it is possible to give a complete record of peals since none had been rung before 1881 apparently.
There are no 12 - or 10 -bell lowers in Huntingdonshire, only five cights, 17 sixes and 15 fives. No group has had all the towers rung to a peal. Bluntisham among the cights, Conington among the sixes, and Abbotsley, Buckworth, Elton, Great Gidding, Kimbolton, Leighton Bromswold, Great Paxton and Winwick among the fives remain virgin torritory. Although there aren't a great number of peals to talk about (only 264 in all), it is clear that more are being rung now than at any time in the county's history, for 148 of them have been rung since the last war. This is a very encouraging sign.
A 6 -bell tower, Holywell, leads the list of number of peals with 41. The first peal here was in 1925 and the remaining 40 have come in the last seven years, which is very good going. St. Ives (8) comes second with \(33-22\) of these have been rung since 1944 (but none since 1953) and the remainder were heard in the years 1931 to 1938. Another 6 -bell tower is thirdSpaldwick, with 32 . Eleven were rung from 1922 to 1931, then there was a gap until 1948, since when the remaining 21 have been rung. In the 20 's are three more 6-bell towers-Hunlingdon, All Saints' (24-first peal in 1904 ,

\section*{LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Monmouth Branch Report Progress}

The annual mecting of the Monmouth Branch was successfully held at Chepstow on February 12th. Despite the very cold weather a large number of ringers attended, including visitors from Bristol and Rugby.
The choral service was conducted by the vicar, the Rev. Ernest Evans, who gave a warm welcome to the Branch. The Rev. David Jones assisted.
A plentiful tea in the Church Hall followed. prepared by the wives, mothers and friends of the Chepstow ringers. These ladies were most sincerely thanked by Mr. R. E. Coles..
At the business meeting the secretary reported steady progress in Branch affairs. 22 new members having been elected during the past year and meetings well attended.
New members were then clected from Caldicot, St. Woolos, Peterstone. Chepstow. Usk and Rumney. Mr. J. Alsop (Ebbw Vale) was elected Dranch Ringing Master. The secretary, Miss dacqueline Evans, was re-elected.
Progress was reported from Penhow. Peterstone. St. Woolos. Caldicot and from the monthly Surprise practice. Wash was finally choien is the place for the next mecting.
then three peals in 1928 and 1929 , and the remaining 20 in the last seven years). Hemingford Abbots ( 22 -first peal in 1903, 10 peals from 1926 to 1938 , and 11 since 1946), and Woodstone (21-first peal during the first war, in 1916, 16 more up to 1927, three in 1933 and 1935, and an odd one in 1948 to complete the count).

Only two other towers have reached double figures-both have cight bells, They are Huntingdon St. Mary's with 15 and St. Neots with 10. The former is one of the exceptions to the general trend in this county of more peals in recent years, for 10 of them were rung before 1914. There were three between 1927 and 1930 and the remaining two in 1948 and 1949 St. Neots' peals are spread evenly over the years since 1920. when the first peal was rung. There have been four since the war. The only other 8-bell tower is Godmanchester, which has scored nine peals. The first was in 1895 and then came a gap of 30 years, when four more were rung during the next seven years. There have been four more in the past three years, so things are looking up a little here.

As for the six-bell towers, the following is a complete list of those not alrcady mentioned :Alconbury (one peal in 1927) ; Alwalton (three, in 1905, 1937, 1950): Eynesbury (six-two before 1914, two between the wars and two since); Great Gransden (three, in 1938, 1930, 1932); Hartford (two. in 1930 and 1932): Hemingford Grey (five, in 1896. 1903. 1924, 1927, 1948): Ramscy (two, in 1904 and 1906); Somersham (six, in 1933, 1935, and four since 1944): Stanground (two. in 1947 and 1948): Great Staunton (eight, four from 1921 to 1935, and four since the war) ; and Yaxlev (eight. in 1913, 1926, 1933, and five from 1948 to 1954).

Warboys, with four peals in the past two years, has most in the 5 -bell towers. All the rest [Buckden (1935), Fenstanton (1923), Fletton. Houghton and Tetworth (1953) and Keyston (1888-sce above)] have only one, with the exception of Brampton, where two peals were rung. one in 1908. and the other 40 years afterwards, in 1948.

I think every tower in the county has been mentioned. May the recent signs of activity in the county long continue.

\section*{SHORTER PEALS}
W. T., Consett.-

It seems we've got to curb our zeal For ringing out the "lengthy ' peal, Thus defer, with dubious grace,
To the ever-encroaching populace.
Those noble souls, so gently nurtured,
Must never have their senses tortured
With sound of bells;
Who yet approve of howling scenes
On noisy, nasal picture screens.
Will these the Exercise placate,
And shortened peals appreciate?
Mr. K. G. Ornbo, Hull.-A rose by any other name would smell as sweet. A half-peal by any other name would give as much annoyance to those who don't like it, and as much pleasure to those who do, so why bother to change the name? In any case a 'peal' is only an endurance test. Beauty lies in good striking, even if it is only rounds.

Mr. E. T. Paul Field. Long Sutton, Somer-set.-In my opinion no peal attempt should be made in any 'objection' area (factual or likely) unless for some very special occasion, ecclesiastical, national or parochial. When, however, such attempt is to be made, the incumbent should be asked to announce in church at each service on the previous Sunday, the date, lime and probable duration of the ringing, together with an explanation of the reason, and with such other points of interest which he might consider beneficial. The parishioners would then know why the bells would be ringing and the objectors have a chance to be absent.
H. A. Price, Yatton, Somerset.-Surely in church life there is no short cut to glory. There seems no legitimate cause to cut the length of a peal for the ringer who 'rings to the glory of God,' and, therefore, it is unreasonable to "cut" the peal short for the "peal grabber." Again, towers where ringing genuincly annoys are in the minority and should be avoided. Long peals are the exception rather than the rule. Stick to the 5,040 changes for a peal.

Mr. L. G. Brett. Framsden. - 5.040 is the maximum in Triples. Peal ringers, please keep 5.000 the minimum on other numbers.

\section*{THE LADIES' GUILD'S ACTIVITIES}

\section*{Midland District}

The annual meeting of the Midland District was held at St. Mary-de-Castro. Leicester, on January 29 th. when approximately 50 ringers and friends were present. The standard of ringing was good, ranging from rounds to Surprise Major. A short service was conducted hy Father Pickering, prior to tea at the nearby Castle Inn.

Before the gentlemen returned to the tower Miss I. B. Thompson (vice-president) expressed thanks to all concerned.

At the business meeting the following officials were elected: Vice-president. Miss I. B. Thompson; secretary, Miss J. M. Simpson: two general committee members. Mrs. H. J. Poole and Mrs. B. G. Warwick: four District committee members. Mrs. H. J. Poole. Mrs. I. Hitch'born. Miss L. Ffoulke and Mrs. J. Lewis.

The vice-president thanked the members for their good attendance at meetings during the past year and said that she hoped they would keep it up.

One new member was elected. It is hoped to arrange a joint meeting with West Midland District at Tamworth sometime in June.

The next meeting will be held at Burton-onTient on March 26 th.

\section*{Central District's High Standard}

Thirty-six ringers, half of them members, attended the annual meeting of the Central District held at Upper Clapton on January 29th. The standard of ringing was good with a predominance of Surprise methods. The Vicar, the Rev. Shaw Kew, conducted the service, and welcomed the ringers. Short work was made of an excellent tca, after which 14 members sat down to the business meeting.

The 1954 annual report and financial statement were satisfactory, showing an increase in attendance at meetings. Mrs. Lock, North Mvmims, was re-elected vice-president, and the following members were clected to the committee: Nirs. Savory. Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Bullock. Miss Sanderson and Miss Lawrence (secretary). Four new members were clected. Members were reminded about the next District meeting at Stanford-le-Hope, Essex, on April 30th.

The business meeting ended with votes of thanks to the Vicar. the organist, and the ladies who prepared tea. Ringing of the former high standard continued until late in the evening.

\section*{BRISTOL UNIVERSITY SOCIETY REUNION}

IHE annual dinner and reunion of the Society was held on January 29th in the Senior Common Room of the Refectory by invitation of the president. Professor R. J. Brocklehurst. After preliminaries at the bar, about 50 members and guests sat down to a three-course dinner. The formal toasts of "The Queen and 'The Church' preceded the following specches.

Mr. J. R. Worrall proposed a toast to the 'Exercise.' He hoped that when the Central Council visited Bristol at Whitsun a very warm welcome would be afforded by local ringers and that the University Society would take its place with them. He also reminded those present that non-members of the Central Council were able to attend in a voteless capacity, and this would be an excellent opportunity to see the Council at work. Next Mr. Worrall drew attention to the most important link between ringers- 'The Ringing World '-more important even than the Central Council, to which it belonged. Mr. Worrall had noted a decline in handbell ringing and suggested that Bristol handbell experts should make an effort to remedy the situation.

Replying to this toast, Mr. J. T. Duke spoke about the way in which the Universities' Association of Change Ringers was brought into being as a link between the so-called" intelligentsia.' It scemed to Mr. Dyke that conditions in his younger days were far more diffcult for anybody trying to learn an art such as riding a bicycle or change ringing. It was sometimes quite evident that theory was in advance of practice twenty or thirty years ago, and he instanced students at Wells.

The secretary, Mr. M. Sprackling, proposed the toast to 'The Visitors' and mentioned some of the notable persons present, commencing with Mr. J. T. Dyke, a stalwart of the Bath and Wells Association. The Master of the Cambridge University Guild was representative of the other University Societies linked by U.A.C.R. and this one. He was very pleased to see the Society's former president. Professor Piper, and the Rector of St. Michael's, the Rev. Vyvyan Jones. In welcoming Mr. L. Barry (Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association) and other friends of the Bristol Branch, he made allusions to the privilege which had been bestowed upon various members of the Society -that of visiting the headquarters of Bristol ringing at the Naval Voluntcer.

Mr. George Briggs, in his reply, said he was glad that this University Society could provide a means of drawing together ringers in an activity to lighten the burden of scholastic work for a while
UNIVERSITIES AND CENTRAL COUNCIL
The toast to 'The Society' was proposed by Mr. C. M. P. Johnson, the Master of the Cambridge University Guild, who was grateful for the informal but pleasant welcome afforded him. He referred to the special function of University Societies in allowing young ringers to associate in and out of the tower and then to return to their own localities having made considerable advances into the higher spheres of ringing. It was interesting to know that no less than 28 University men and women had places on the Central Council. Although the Bristol University Society was comparatively juvenile (being only 11 years old) it had already made an export to Australia, and by applying aerodynamic principles to change ringing, wonderful flights into the theory had been made by another member.

Replying, the Master (Mr. D. Marshall) outlinod some achievements the Society had made during the year. A number of learners had been taught and continued to make progress.

About 60 towers had been visited by the Society and could thus be termed tower grabbers.' Eleven peals had been rung. five "in hand (Bob Major. Bob Minor, and four, five and six methods of Minor), and six on tower bells (Grandsire Caters, Grandsire Triples, seven methods of Doubles and three of Grandsire Doubles). One peal had been for the Chancellor of the University, Sir Winston Churchill, as an 80 th birthday compliment, and this was also the president's first peal. Of the members, certain specialists were notahle: for conducting from belfry rafters, handbell ringing, in theory and in unaccepted methods, especially in Grandsire Minor and Royal. Mr. Marshall ended by thanking the president for the invitation to the Senior Common Room. the various tower representatives locally and everybody connected with helping the Society to function.

In conclusion the president expressed his pleasure to see the old members back again and hoped that they would not forget to revisit Bristol on future occasions.

On retiring to the lounge the old members present gathered together to discuss a method of retaining connections with past and present members of the Society. It was decided with the nomination of Mr. I. H. Trueman as a Bristol secretary, that a magazine would be circulated each December giving notice of old members' addresses, and any items of general interest to them.

During the day ringing had taken place at St. John's-on-the-Wall, St. Matthew's, Kingsdown (the first time for over two years), St. Mary Redcliffe and St. James Horsefair, with many visitors at these towers.

The Society's 32 nd peal was rung at Long Ashton in the morning, this being on the heaviest bells yet for the Society.

The home tower of St. Michael's-on-the-Mount-Without was open before the service at 6 p.m. The Rev. Vyvyan Jones officiated, and Mr. Kenneth Pinney played the organ, In the short address the Rector referred to the present members' activities in his choir, for which he did not mind the few minutes' wait whilst they came down from the belfry.

\section*{Scoring Their First Quarter Plans}

When the Western District held its annual meeting at Hemel Hempstead on January 22nd the secretary, Mr. R. Shutter, was able to report some success in recruiting new members during 1954. It was evident, he said, from the high proportion of younger ringers present, that interest in the art of change ringing was increasing in the District.

Mr. A. V. Good was unanimously re-elected to the office of Ringing Master, a position which he has held for over 20 years.

The retiring committee put forward a comprehensive scheme designed to improve the standard of ringing in the nine towers which form the Western District. At least 30 attempts are to be made this year to ring quarter peals. The attempts will be organised so that new recruits have every opportunity of ringing with experienced ringers, and, in many cases, new conductors will be encouraged to take charge of the proceedings.

From the proceeds of the Christmas function the meeting voted eight guincas each to Flamstead and St. Mary's. Apsley, to help their restoration funds: £5 to the County Association; and one guinea each to the Benevolent and Voluntary Bell Funds.

The service in St. Mary's Church was conducted by the Rev. A. Malley.

\section*{WALSALL'S 'CARILLON' \\ Young Ringers' Invasion}

On January 29th the so-called 'carillon of Walsall Town Hall was invaded by a number of young ringers from St. Matthew's, Walsall, and nearby Rushall. We were whisked to the first floor of the Town Hall in a lift of palatial dimensions-then we had to climb the 124 steps of the cast iron spiral staircase leading up to the top of the tower. At last we reached the chamber (if such it can be called) which houses the bells-it is open to the wind and rain on all sides and looks from the outside like a gigantic wedding cakc. The bells are operated electrically by what is, in effect, a small pianola. The noise in the tower is deafening, although in the street below they can hardly be heard.

After we had admired the Parish Churches of Rushall and Walsall and had climbed over and under the bells, caught our heads on the wires, been poked in the middle by the devices used to counterbalance the chimes, and taken photographs (none of which turned out much good), we reluctantly descended the tower. On the way down one of our members gave a de monstration, with the aid of a penny, of how bells are tuned (the rest of us were not very impressed as, according to his method, they were hopelessly out of tune !).

Back in the Town Hall we inspected the manual which operates the bells. Several of us played rounds, Qucens and Whittingtons, then one, becoming very bold, played an "extent of original Minimus.

We are considering having a quarter peal in hand ' on them one day.

\section*{Bridgnorth Branch}

The resignation was received with great regret at the annual meeting of the Branch at Bridg. north on February 4th of Mr. H. G. Thomas, who has been secretary of the Branch for 20 years. His sterling work for the Branch is much appreciated. Mr. H. Edge, of Much Wenlock, was elected his successor. Both the Ringing Master (Mr, B. H. Heath) and the Deputy Master (Mr. J. E. Fox) were re-elected,

The passing of the Rev. C. S. Jackson, of Broseley, a great friend of the ringers, was re membered, the members standing in silence.

Meetings were arranged for Worfield, April 2nd; Broseley, June 25th; Madeley, September 10th; joint mecting with Shropshire Association in November.

The service in the afternoon was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kemp, and the address given by the Rev. Mr. Hickling, of Coalbrookdale.

\section*{ESSEX ASSOCIATION}
N.W. District at Harlow

A membership of 154 ( 110 ringing members, 37 honorary members and seven non-resident members) was reported at the annual meeting of the North-Western District at Harlow on January 22nd. The Vicar (the Rev. E. G Bevan, R.D.), who had previously conducted the service, presided.

The financial statement showed a credit balance of \(£ 24\) 1s. \(11 \mathrm{~d} . . £ 4 \mathrm{l}\) s. 11 d . of which was from collections allocated to the Bell Restoration Fund.

Officers elected were: Master, Mr. B. G. Burton; secretary and treasurer, Mr. G. E. C Blake: committee members, Messrs. R. Hayden and K. C. S. Wood.

The Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for conducting the service and for the use of the bells, and to the organist.

Ringing was then resumed in the tower until 8.30 p.m. Methods rung included Bob Major Kent, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples, Cambridge and Superlative.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

MR. FELSTEAD REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS
Dear Sir,-I know that it would probably be best to be like Brer Rabbit and "lic low and say nuffin, but I think I ought to remind various critics of the following facts:-
(a) The present Methods Committee has never been asked for an opinion on Plain Bob Triples and, so far, has had nothing to do with this.
(b) We did not make the rule about irregular lead heads, we merely examined the position, is requested by the Council, and gave our opinion, which was accepted, that, on the whole, we felt that the existing rule be endorsed. It was pointed out that this result was arrived at by taking into account several factors (as I said in my last letter on the subject) and that there was no one firm reason for it. After all, judgments are usually made by weighing the pros and cons of a matter, for it isn't always that a clear cut decision can be made because of one predominant fact. (May I also stress, in connection with this, that two of the five on the committee have had more experience of Minor ringing than most of the critics.)
(c) This business of the Methods Committee wanting 'a rule changed to suit itself' and similar statements are quite ridiculous on examination. The only rules we have asked to be changed, I think, were some in connection with the preparation of a collection of Doubles methods, and these were of relaxation of rules to widen the possible field. But have we been thanked for this? No, we are still out to impose our will on Doubles ringers (I notice there has been complete silence about my mentioning about ten methods which have a plain course the same as Plain Bob?.
(d) As for imposing our views on the Council, there are five members of the Methods Committee. There are 150 members of the Council, of which about 120 are usually present at the Council meeting. It is not a very good compliment to about 115 other persons to suggest that they act as stooges to we five. I cem to remember that for several years the Council would not accept parts of our report on Extension, which hardly suggests it is in our pocket.
(e) Frankly I do not belicve these sweeping statements that our views are those of a very small percentage of ringers. I should be interested to know on what grounds they are made. On the contrary, since our reports and recommendations have been accepted by the Council (which represents a far better crosssection of ringers than any with which our critics come into contact) I would say that they (the critics) were in the minority without any doubt whatever.
(f) It is rather typical of some people's wishful thinking when it is suggested that there is too much passive acceptance of the socalled recommendations put forward by the Standing and other committees of the Council." As, I think, a member of the Council then, Mr. Bond will surely remember that of recent years business has been noteworthy for the quite frequent refusal of the Council to accept the Standing Committee's suggestions.
(g) In asking for specific reasons why the Methods Committce supported the retention of Plain Boh lead heads, critics should ask themselves why we follow any rules in ringing. I think it would be found that it is not possible to give a single good reason in support of anything we accept (e.g., why 5,000 changes for a peal?). On the ather hand. if one of the present rules is thrown out, the process would not stop there and we should soon have chaos.
(h) Finally. since our organisation is a voluntary one, I should be rather interested to know what our critics think our motives are in all this if they are not, as they would seem to suggest, the good of the Exercise in general. After all, as Mr. Martin kindly points out (and how nice to reccive a pat on the back for once), many members of the Council are giving a lot of their spare time to its work, and it can hardly be suggested that they are deliberately trying to be dictators. What would be the point of it?-Yours sincerely,

\section*{INSPIRED BY OTHER ONE-ARM RINGERS}

Dear Sir.-I would liko to thank the many ringing friends who have written to me and made inquiries about me, also visited me in hospital since my recent unfortunate accident resulting in the loss of my left arm. I have been greatly cheered by them and am pleased to say I made a quick recovery. I am now out of hospital and feel quite fit and well in mysclf.

I even attended the annual mecting at Reading recently to try my luck at ringing with one arm, and successfully rang Stedman Cinques and Spliced Surprise Major. I have been greatly inspired by letters from one-armed ringing friends and I shall follow their example and continue my ringing in a moderate way.

Again thanking everyone for their kind thoughts for me.

\section*{THE POPULARITY OF GRANDSIRE}

Dear Sir,-Re Mr. Bond's letter in the issue of 'The Ringing World' dated February 11 th about his statement of Grandsire Triples, I am open to gamble that if he took half the country he would find that Grandsire was and is still the most popular method rung by our Sunday Service ringers. Also, if he will read his 'Ringing World' and notice the quarter peals, 50 per cent. are in the Grandsire method. I am wondering if Mr. Bond has ever conducted a peal of Grandsire Triples. I can tell him it takes more to conduct than Plain Bob. What about Holt's Original? When I was a boy the local band (Milverton, Somerset), which was at that time one of the leading bands in Somerset in peal ringing, used Holt's Bob and Plain Leads Singles.

I have been ringing 50 years and I still enjoy ringing Grandsire Triples; it is a real odd-bell method. I still hope the Central Council will delete Plain Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques from their lists.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{R.A.F. RINGERS-AN APPEAL}

Dear Sir, - I have been stationed here at Wallop for about ten months, and, up to now, I have not found another ringer in the camp, or. in fact, in any other camp where 1 have been stationed. I am sure that there must be many other National Service ringers stationed around Salisbury. If they are interested I should like to hear from them, so that we could arrange some practices together.

I am sure that local ringers and incumbents would co-operate, as I have always been made welcome at all the towers that I have visited for practices and Sunday ringing. May I say 'Thank you' to all of the ringers at those towers, especially to Mr. and Mrs. Joyner, of Rugeley, who were very kind to me whilst I was stationed at Hednesford, in Staffordshire, last year.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{LET THE INCUMBENT KNOW}

Dear Sir,-The article on page 94 of your issue dated February 11 th concerning a visit to St. Gabricl's, Westminster, refers to the Vicar being appalled at the condition of the bells. It also says that he had no idea of the poor state of affairs, but in this respect he is not unlike many other incumbents, who merely accept the fact that their church bells are rung on Sundays and on practice nights and take no interest in the bellringers whatever.

It is high time an effort was made by all ringers to see that their local incumbent is kept fully informed of their activities, or, better still, to invite him to be present whenever the bells are rung. Possibly in this way only can the gap be bridged, which undoubtedly exists between many ringers and their local incumbent, thus furthering the cause of change ringing for its true purpose- 10 remind parishioners that a service is soon to take place at their parish church - and to improve relations between the ringers, the church and, in particular, its congregation.
If our local incumbents are not kept in touch in this way, it is not really surprising that they are loath to spend any money on repairs or maintenance, even less so if they hardly ever see their ringers at any church services or functions. This dissociation between the clergy and ringers has often led to the stoppage of ringing, and hence the bells have fallen into disrepair, as is the case at the above-mentioned tower; then. when an attempt is made to form a new band, newcomers to the Exercise find it very difficult to handle the bells, and so they quickly lose interest. One can think of many-far too many-illustrations of such a situation, one of which it was the misfortune of the Ladies' Guild to come across.

Therefore, for the sake of the future of our noble Exercise, let us make a start now to interest all our clergy in our activities.-Yours sincerely,

Lee, S.E. 12.

\section*{MUFFLED PEALS}

Dear Sir,-Congratulations on the first of what looks to be a promising new series, "Topic for the Month.' My first reaction to A. Y.-B.'s ideas was "For the love of Mike don't make peal ringing casier - The Ringing World " is already overloaded with peal records." Dare one suggest smaller type?

I am quite sure that something should be done to prevent ringing from being a nuisance to anyone. From my own experience as a very mediocre ringer, and from what 1 have noticed of others, I think we can do with more practice rather than less and so I think that the only satisfactory answer to our problem is to have an arrangement whereby we can muffle the sound of the bells when we want to.

As a practical man, a carpenter, I am suro that this could be done in most cases by local labour, but we do need expert technical Bdvice. There are many soundproofing materials on the market to-day, ranging from two-inch thick wood-wool boards for shutters to glass-wool or seaweed quilts which could be used as roller blinds. I am sure many of these materials have been tried, and advice could be obtained on the others from the manufacturers.

Hene is where 'The Ringing World' can help by giving details of what has been done, what could be done and where advice can be sought, and promoting a general discussion on the technical side of the problem.-Yours faithfully,
E. F. FOSBERRY.

\section*{DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATION}

Dear Sir,-1 hasten to assure the Rev. R. D. St. J. Smith that I am as earnest a supporter of democratic principles as he is. That is why I desire to see Central Council representatives expressing the views of their members and not their own as individuals.
My contention is that our 'representatives are delegates, though not so termed. Those elected by my own and many other Guilds and Associations receive payment for their services, and many ringers with whom I have recently discussed this matter agree with me that, should our representatives receive any reimbursement of expenses out of Guild funds, they are, strictly speaking, delegates and can, therefore, be instructed how to vote.

Mr. Smith points out that if we don't approve of our representatives' actions they can be replaced at the next election. Quite so, but that might permit them to do three years untold harm in the meanwhile. Nevertheless I should be most reluctant to support any disciplinary action, such as withholding, payment against a representative who, having been given a mandate, voted contrary to instructions.
One of our greatest difficulties is in knowing what guidance to give our representatives, as we are never furnished with the subjects and motions to be discussed at the Council meetings. Other national bodies take a referendum on important issues or send the resolutions to be discussed to their constituent organisations for their consideration. This is true democracy, and it is high time the Central Council reviewed its constitution so that its members do not find themselves suddenly confronted with important issues they have neither had time to consider, nor to place before the Association they represent. Until the present system is radically overhauled the ordinary ringer will not have proper representation, and I hope some Central Council representative will have the courage to raise this matter at Whitsun (or before).
Let me instance the new Doubles collection. We don't know whether it is to be presented this year, or when. If it is presented, will there be a proposal to delete all peals containing methods not in the collection? If it is merely presented to give the Exercise some methods worth ringing, then no harm will be done - a few may be sorry to see some of their favourite methods omitted-but it would be quite a different matter if only these were accepted by the Peals Analysis Committee! With the position so vague, what advice can any Association give its representatives? There should be no 'ifs': they should know exactly what they are going to discus; and have been briefed by their Association beforchand. Yours faithfully,
W. BIRMINGHAM

Slough.

\section*{BOLQUET, NOT BRICKBAT}

Dear Sir.-For many months now there have been many letters directed against the rulings of the Methods Committee of the Central Council, and especially against Mr. Felstead.
I do not agree with many of the decisions. but I should like to congratulate Mr. Felstead on the work being put in by recording the peals rung in the last 74 years. Most of the criticism is directed straight at Mr. Felstead, and I think this is quite unfair, as he is not the only member of the committee. If anyone is to be told it is the Council representatives who pass the rules.-Yours, etc..
D. K. WALKLATE.

\section*{FURTHER OUTLOOK}

Dear Sir,-Whilst the point raised by Mr. Barnett in his letter 'Flower Names for Methods ' is trivial (see page 11, January 7th, 1955), it leads to questions which concern the Exercise in general
The method for which I proposed the name ' Daffodil Delight' has not even been rung yet. If and when it is rung, the band which rings the first peal should, by an unwritten law of the Exercise, be entitled to attach the label they choose. 'Daffodil' was recommended for the reasons given in my last letter; and in giving a name to any method before it is rung, my object is clearness of possible reference in future issues.
It seems that when following the 1920's controversy over flower names, Mr. Barnett has not realised that the Editor whom he quotes was exaggerating to emphasise his point. To use Onion,' 'Beefsteak ' and 'Geranium' is obviously going a little too far; but there is no justification for rejecting the simpler names, such as 'Bluebell ' and 'Daffodil.'
The important point I wish to raise, however, is, 'Why should the present age be subjected to rules made by the last and last-butone generations, when revision of several of these rules could lead to real progress?' Certain aspects of ringing at present seem inclined towards a combination of out-dated and cumbersome ideas with a modern, slightly frustrated, slightly materialistic outlook.
Consider, for example, the rut of glamour into which peals of Surprise seem to have fallen. The air of shallowness associated with many of these peals is a reminder that there is a difference between stardom and greatness. Would it not be better to attempt a binding of some more ideas from the present age with the older, more human outlook? This appears to be part of the sced sown by Billy Graham and by those who made the films 'Lease of Life. '1 Confess' and 'High Noon.' Perhaps the less-important rules of the Central Council would then be made a little more flexible. Some of them are at present as rigid and categorical as the conventions brought out by various conferences on scientific affairs. It we hecome any more pedantic we shall be tightening a noose around our own neck

These, then, are some thoughts ovel which I have pondered during quite a period of time. Certain mistakes which 1 have referred to (directly or indirectly) are overdue for rectification. Others, such as the adoption of the Method; Committee's report on extension, are of more recent origin. But let us remember that 10 err is human, and those who never make mistakes never make anything. Moreover, let us have remedies in the not-too-distant future. Some bad wood will then be removed from the activities of the Central Council, and its mechanism will become less unwieldy in oderation. More attention would then be devoted to the really important matters, whilst those who put in a good deal of work for the Council (and quite a number of members do) could become masters of their responsibilities instead of slaves to them.-Yours sincerely,

\section*{Chertsey District at Chobham}

Ringing during the afternoon at the annual meeting of the Chertsey District, held at Chobham on February 5th, varied from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Major, with plenty of Grandsire for plenty of learners. The Guild's order of service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. O. R. Acworth, assisted by the curate, the Rev. P. A. Campbell. Tea was provided in the new Church Hall, which has only recently been constructed voluntarily by parishioners.
The Vicar regretted that he was unable to stay for the meeting, but left it in the capable hands of his curate.
Mr . R. Collins, of Chobham, became the new hon. District secretary, and Mr. J. King the new Executive Committee representative.

The District Ringing Master and auditor remain as last year, i.e., Mr. J. F. Dodson and Mr. W. Shepherd respectively.
Owing to the District secretary's absence the District Ringing Master presented the report and balance sheet, the latter showing a slight profit on the year's working.

In his report the Ringing Master stated that several towers in the District had many ringers who were not members of the Guild, and he also gave figures of attendances at six meetings that implicd a serious state of apathy actually existed.
A vote of thanks to the ladies who provided the excellent tea, to the Vicar and curate and also the organist concluded the meeting.
Further ringing until approximately \(8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). included methods up to Double Norwich Major.

Before tea in the Village Hall Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher, secretary of the Kent County Association, presented the Vicar with a \(£ 20\) grant from the Kent County Association towards the cost of rehanging the bells.
After tea ringers returned to the belfry: where ringing continued in rounds and various methods from Plain Boh to Primrose Surprise until 9 p.m.

\section*{CAWTHORNE'S PEALS}

Dear Sir,-I was very interested in the article on ringing at Cawthorne, Yorks, especially in the mention of the early peals on the bells. I wonder if Mr. Moxon knows the exact date of the first peal on the bells. rung by the Barnsley ringers? I should be grateful for the information if he does. I don't know whether the tower has kept a record of the peals rung; Nineteen have appeared in 'Bell News, and 'The Ringing World.' The first was a peal in 14 methods in 1883. All except two of the subsequent peals have been in seven methods and these two were the ones which ' broke the ice after the last war-Oxford Minor in 1945 and Minor (three methods) in 1946. The next peal after 1883 was not until 1912. The third was in 1916. There were two in the 1920's and eight in the 1930 's. The remaining six have come since 1945.-Yours sincerely.

RANG IN 28 PEALS WITH SIR ARTHUR HEYWOOD
The peal at Barnby-in-theWillows recorded this week was rung in honour of the 85th birthday of Mr. William Clarke, of 41, Gainsborough Drive, Newark
Mr. Clarke must be one of the very few surviving ringers who rang with Sir Arthur Heywood in his heyday. Learning to ring at Dufficld, his first peal was Bob Triples on September 13th, 1888.
In the next ten years he rang 35 peals, 34 were at Duffield, and 28 of which were conducted by Sir Arthur Heywood. These included 15 peals of Double Norwich Court Bob Major along with Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Double Oxford, Duffield, London and Superlative Surprise Major.
From Duffield he moved to Lincoln, where he rang peals at all the towers in the city. He was in the band which rang the first peal on the Cathedral bells after their restoration, and also on St. Botolph's when they were five and the first on the six.
Among other places of interest where he has rung peals include All Saints', Nottingham, St. Mary's. Nottingham, St. John's, Beeston, and the first peal (Stedman) on the bells at Harmston.

Last year along with two car loads of friends from the Newark district Mr. Clarke revisited the tower where he first learnt to ring, and he soon showed them that he had not lost any of his former style. His friends were amazed to see a photograph, including Mr. Clarke, of the band that rang a peal of London Surprise Major in 1891. His name also appeared on several peal boards around the ringing chamber.
On his birthday he attempted a quarter peal at his local tower, Winthorpe, where he still rings on Sundays, but owing to a very heavy cold, was unable to complete it: but he is still determined to ring one during this year. We all wish Mr. Clarke many happy returns, and the best of luck in his attempt to ring at least one more quarter peal.

It was a sunny afternoon when the Eastern District held their annual meeting at Hertford on Feb. 5th. The eight bells at St. Andrew's Church were set going just after 3 p.m. and ringing continued until 4.30. There was then a short service conducted by the Rector. About 35 ringers sat down to a delicious tea provided by the ladies and a business meeting followed.
The party then moved to the ten at All Saints' Church to find all the lights out of action. Ringing took place throughout the evening with the aid of six candles. Methods rung ranged from rounds to Grandsire Caters.

\section*{MR. ARTHUR RIDYARD}

With deep regret we record the sudden death of Mr. Arthur Ridyard, of Manchester Cathedral, who passed away on Wednesday, January 19th, aged 67.

It was a request by Mr. Ridyard that his body be carried by the Cathedral ringers beneath the Cathedral bells whilst they were being rung half-muffled, and that the handbells be rung at the graveside.

The funeral was on January 24th. At the service in the Cathedral there were about 75 people present. The bearers were Messrs. B. Walshaw, H. Hollingsworth, H. Reynolds, R. Longden, W. Pye and G. Pye. The bells were rung in the traditional way of tittums and whole pull and stand by N. Lees, 1, A. Bennion 2, J. Simpkins 3, H. Lees 4, E. Reeves 5, D. Sanderson 6, W. Moss 7, P. Derbyshire 8, H. Longden 9, A. Ward 10 . Other ringers at the service were: Mr. Arthur Tomlinson (vice-president of the Lancashire Association), Ex-Supt. R. Williams (Manchester City Police), R. Ravenscroft, Miss Mary Walshaw, F. Barraclough, G. Longden, Mr. Joseph Ridyard and Miss Margaret Ridyard (cousin and niece of Mr. Arthur Ridyard). The service was conducted by the Precentor (the Rev. Mr. Meggicks).

The interment took place at St. Peter's Church, Blackley, where homage was paid by Mr. Herbert Barlow, of Oldham (a very old friend of Mr. Ridyard) and Mr. John Mulliner. A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the handbells by G. Pye 1-2, A. Ward 3-4, W. Pye \(5-6\), Miss M. Walshaw 7-8.

Mr. Ridyard learned to ring in the year 1904, at the Church of St. Mark, Worsley. When he was married, in 1917, he went to ring at Manchester Cathedral. He joined the Lancashire Association in 1905 and rang 67 peals. Apart from these 67 he rang other peals for other Associations and Guilds. He had been Ringing Master at the Cathedral for the past ten years. During the 1914-18 war he was an R.S.M. in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

Mr. Ridyard was a well-known person at Messrs. Mather and Platt, Ltd., where he had worked for the past 42 years. He was a foreman over the crane drivers, slingers and maintenance department. Fifteen people represented the company at the funeral apart from two of the ringers who are also employed there.

\section*{MR. REGINALD P. CRUMP}

In the sudden death of Mr . Reginald P . Crump on February 1st, the Hornsey, Middlesex, band has lost a keen and valuable ringer. He died at the age of 28 after a short illness. He started ringing in 1943 but it was only in the last six years that he did much ringing outside his own tower. He rang in several peals and it was through his efforts that the only two peals rung at Hornsey since the first warld war were attempted.
Several of his colleagues attended the funeral on February 7th, and in the evening the bells were rung half-muffled.
W.. G. K.

\section*{MR. NORMAN R. BAILEY}

By the sudden passing of Mr. Norman \(\mathbf{R}\). Bailey on January 11 th the Suffolk Guild lost one of its best-known and most respected ringers. A life member of the Norwich Association, for which he rang nearly 250 peals, he joined the Suffolk Guild of Ringers on its formation in 1923 and remained a keen and worthy supporter up till the time of his death.
Norman was the fourth in order of age in that wonderful family of eleven brothers, born and brought up in Leiston, Suffolk, where they all learned the noble art of change ringing. He commenced his peal ringing at the age of 17 with a peal of Bob Major, conducted by the late A. J. Lincoln, and rung on the tower bells of his native town on November 5th, 1904. His dearest wish was fulfilled by commemorating the 50th anniversary of this with a peal of Surprise Minor at Blythburgh on November 6th, 1954, thus bringing his total number of peals, from Minor to Maximus, on tower and handbells, to nearly 400 .

Among these were many of outstanding interest, but perhaps the peal of Bob Major rung at St. Margaret's, Leiston, on October 21st, 1911, with seven of his brothers, has received the greatest publicity. Another of worthy note was the longest length on these same bells, 11,040 of Double Norwich, rung on Whit Monday, 1909. He was also very proud of an excellent peal of Kent Maximus in which he struck the tenor superbly to that grand old twelve of Great Yarmouth.

For the last 35 years he had been ringing Master at SS. Peter and Paul's, Aldeburgh, where he taught many to acquire the art he loved so well. Although an expert in ringing and conducting the most intricate and difficult methods, he was ever ready to help a beginner through a peal, however simple the method. He was an excellent striker, insisting at all times on the 'open lead.'
Mr. Bailey was an engineer by trade and at the time of his death was a charge hand at the Richard Garrett engineering works, where he had been employed all his working life. He was a craftsman of the highest skill, greatly respected by the management and staff and admired by all his fellow workers. He was an acknowledged expert in first aid work, and in his younger days a keen and enthusiastic footballer.

Widely known over a very large area of East Anglia, his cheery smile and happy greetings will be greatly missed at ringing meetings in this part of the country, and his passing mourned by a very large circle of friends, whose sympathies are extended to his widow and family.

The funeral service at Ipswich on January 14th was attended by a representative gathering of ringers, including Charles J. Sedgley, the Ringing Master of the Suffolk Guild.

The church has lost an ardent worker and a very dear friend.
J. P.

\section*{MR. J. M. BAILEY'S 450 PEALS}

When Mr. J. M. Bailey rang his 450th peal as a 65 th birthday compliment to himself, he completed a list which was in many ways remarkable, not least from the fact that so many of his performances were rung entirely by himself and his brothers. By ringing the tenor for his 450 th peal he had 'circled' Leiston tower 14 times. He also rang 50 consecutive Surprise peals on these bells.

\section*{JOSHUA SHORT}

AN observer on the tower of the Parish Church of Aston, Birmingham, gazing northwards over the wilderness of houses, factories and railways, intersected by power lines and set about with monstrous chimneys, may find it difficult to visualise the rural Witton of two centuries ago, or may even doubt that such a Witton ever existed. To-day the great industrial agglomeration stretches away in all its dreariness to where the rising mass of Kingstanding surges up the slopes of Barr Beacon, and old Perry Hall, Perry Church and even the River Tame itself are engulfed in these masses of brick, concrete and steel. Two hundred years ago the water meadows of the broad valley were dotted with trees and the roofs of cottages and farms, and lines of alders marked the leisurely course of the river dipping from Hampstead and turning north again to Witton on its sinuous course to Tyburn and Castle Bromwich.

In this quiet countryside, a mile to the north of Aston spire, was Short's Farm, close to the Yew Tree Inn and the ancient ford in Brookvale Road, and here Joshua Short and his family farmed and prospered for four generations. Joshua was born in 1765, and grew up to succeed to the business founded by his grandfather. Both his grandfather and his father were ringers and rang on the old five at Aston, and the boy had early acquaintance with this church. He was entered in the choir and later, together with William Hassell, he played in the church orchestra. Hassell played the flute and Short the oboe, and it was not unusual for them to practise together in the belfry. This early friendship was to continue for many years.

In 1775 the bells at Aston were made into eight, and the band practised Bob Major with great assiduity. Thirteen years later began a succession of four remarkable peals. The first, in 1788 , was 10,080 Bob Major, conducted by William Bennett, in which Joshua and his father, John, both rang. This was followed by 14,224 in 1789 and 10,192 in 1792, both in the same method. Then came the crowning achievement, 15,360 Bob Major in 1793, conducted by Joshua himself. It is said that the composition was arranged so that it could be brought round at different numbers up to 20,160 , and that it was allowed to come home at 15,360 because Hassell's hands were sore.

Together with Job Perrins, the Aston blacksmith, Joshua Short and Hassell were associated with the ancient parish church for the remainder of their lives. Largely through the efforts of this trio the bells were increased to 10 in 1814. Each gave generously to the fund, and the new treble bell bore the inscription: 'The Treble Bell was presented to the Parish of Aston by the Interest of Job Perrins, Joshua Short and William Hassell, 1814. T. Mears of London Fecit.'

It is often for his social qualities and innate character that a ringer is remembered, even when his technical skill has been forgotten and his achievements blotted out by the performances of later prodigies. It was so with Joshua Short. He was highly respected by the ringers of his day, but he had a convivial turn that made him very popular, and the young men flocked to his office to enjoy his company and his hospitality. He was a stout-built man of great muscular strength, and he had a high-pitched efferminate volce of the quality not unknown among men of his build. Thomas Day knew him well and told many stories of him and his band. He was fond of 'lapping' changes, the mode of passing the bells from hand to hand, and he would say, ' Now, lads, I'll call you a touch of Bob Major all in the tittums.' This would usually come to grief owing to the old man missing a bob. He was fond of tapping changes and tunes on his handbells, and he would often end an evening by saying, 'Now, lads, I'll give you " God save the King " with all the thorough bass." "How he managed to do all this on only sixteen bells,' comments John Day, 'was, I suppose, only known to himself.'

Joshua's son, John Short, was of a somewhat different type. He disapproved of his father's conviviality and familiarity with the ringers and, while not an unkindly man, his natural austerity led him to look askance at what he thought his father's frivolity. John appears to have been busy restoring and increasing the family fortune, and he seems to have succeeded tolerably well. He was, however, a good churchman, and his granddaughter, Mrs. Parish, stated that he gave a bell for Aston Church. This latter fact cannot here be verified, but it is certain that John was not unmindful of the ringers, for at his father's death he presented them with the handbells in a box with Joshua's name on the lid.

John Day states that the family has died out. But recently it has come to light that Mr. E. A. Butcher, late of Bromsgrove, and now resident at Arthog, is great-greatgreat grandson to Joshua Short, and it has been the good fortune of St. Martin's Guild to acquire from Mr. Butcher, on permanent loan, a fine oil painting of the old worthy of Witton, together with a vellum giving particulars of the 10,080 Bob Major at Aston in 1788. This document reveals itself as an original print from the elaborately designed plate said to have been made by the Veiseys, the copper engravers of Moor Street, and used by the Society for the invitations to the annual feast. Steps are being taken to preserve this old document, and it is hoped that the portrait will find a natural home in the ringing chamber at Aston.

\section*{Lewisham District at Greenwich}

After enjoying ringing of the reconstructed ring of ten bells at St. Alfege's Church, Greenwich, the congregation of 80 present at the service of the Lewisham District quarterly meeting admired the magnificently restored interior of the church. The pleasant service, conducted by the Vicar, will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present. The lesson was read by Mr. E. Barnett. The Vicar's address was short, apt and interesting and included a warm welcome to Greenwich.
High tea for a company of 71 was served in St. Alfege's Parish Hall. The culinary art of Mrs. Bullard and the efficient service by her assistants were very much appreciated.
The Vicar (the Rev. C. S. Nason) presided at the business mecting. Welcoming members to Greenwich, he thanked the Association for its aid to the Bell Restoration Fund and for assistance in training a band of ringers, especially, in this last connection, Messrs. J. Dafters, G. H. Daynes and the ringers of St. Mary's, Lewisham.
Fourteen ringers were elected members of the Association and one election was ratified.
Mr. A. J. Richards, District representative, read a repert of proceedings at a general committee meeting held at Maidstone on November 27th, and moved its adoption. The report was adopted with a vote of thanks to Mr. Richards for his able composition. Cudham was chosen as the place of the next meeting, to be held on Saturday, April 30th. Cordial votes of thanks to the Vicar, Mrs. Bullard, her willing assistants and to local officials concluded the business.

Further ringing was ably superintended by Mr. J. Cannell.

\section*{AN AMBITION ACHIEVED}

Ernest Morris, of St. Margaret's, Leicester, has-after 40 years' endeavour-achieved his ambition to ring a full peal in every possible tower with five bells and over in his native county. In Leicestershire there are 137 towers that fall into this category, and of these four are impossible for peal ringing in their present condition. At Church Langton (8) the folly of allowing a clock-making firm to hang a good ring is evident, for although the frame is strong, it is so constructed that it is impossible to ring the bells in full swing. Stapleford (6) bells hang 'dead.' Shawell and Skeffington ( 5 each) are quite impossible as they are at present. Therefore, Ernest Morris has -with the peal at Wanlip-rung a full 5,000 in 133 towers in his home county. The 137 rings are composed of 2 of \(13 ; 4\) of \(10 ; 41\) of 8 ; 56 of \(6 ; 34\) of 5 . No one else has yet accomplished this number in one county, although practically all (save Rutland) must have many more towers available.

\section*{N.W. Branch at Ashwater}

In spite of deep snow and icy roads, enthusiastic ringers from Bridgrule, Merton, Okehampton, Petrockstowe Plymouth, Pyworthy, Stratton and those of the local tower attended the annual meeting of the branch on February 19th. We were all pleased to meet our old friend, Mr. R. H. Moon, who did so much for us.
The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. J. D. Newhouse, who in a very helpful address stressed that ringers are a part of the body of the Church and have a ministry. He gave the branch a hearty welcome. Mr. A. E. Moon (lay reader) read the lesson.

After an excellent tea, provided by the local ladies, including Mrs. Newhouse, Mrs. Moon and Mrs. Gubb, Mr. F. C. Smale took the chair. Mr. J. W. Sangwin reported that the balance in hand was over \(£ 7\) and there were 38 members in the branch. The summer meeting at Holsworthy was a success. One new member was elected.
The Rev. W. H. Ravenhill was re-elected as chairman with Mr. J. W. Sangwin as secretary and treasurer (for the 25 th time). Mr. C. Sangwin was made Ringing Master in place of Mr. Fred Sangwin, now living at Combe Martin. Messrs. R. Collacot, R. G. Pearce and W. H. R. Smale became representatives to the General Committee of the Guild. It was agreed that the summer meeting be held at Holsworthy in July and the annual in November at Petrockstowe. The Rector and the organist, Mr. Moon and the ladies were thanked for all they had done to make the meeting so successful.

In 1805 Richard Sharp, sen., rang the treble in the first pcal on the bells at Borden, Kent. n the beal of Grandire Triples on Februa 19th, the same bell was rung by his great-greatgranddaughter, Miss Emily B. P. Walker, daughter of Mr. W. J. Walker, the well-known Kent ringer.
Mr. Walter Ayre's peal at Apsley was his 350 th as conductor.
Miss G. Newcombe, of Edmonton, has been elected 'Ringing World' representative for the North and East District of the Middlesex Association.
Golden wedding congratulations to Mr . and Mrs. A. Harding, of South Ealing. Mr. Harding rang the tenor to a quarter peal in honour of the occasion.
Despite the heavy snow, Miss J. Armstrong rang the 'Pancake Bell" at Morpeth Watch Tower on Shrove Tuesday and so preserved an ancient custom.

We are informed that an order has been placed for the ring of five at Napton-on-theHill, Warwickshire (tenor 11 cwt .), to be overhauled. An order is shortly to be placed for another Warwickshire five, Honiley, to be rehung.

Mr. C. A. Hughes, Master of the Northern District of the London County Association, and Mrs. Hughes entertained the band who rang the peal at Woodford on February 19th, to tea. Their kindness was much appreciated.
The old brigade are carrying on with the London Counties Association. At the annual meeting on February 13th Mr. T. H. Taffender was re-elected Master, Mr. H. W. Rogers secretary, with Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson and Mrs. Rogers as assistant secretaries. A report will appear in our next issue. has been offered anonymously the two belle necessary to make the octave.
The tenor ringer of the peal of Grandsure Caters at Nottingham on February 5 th (page 98 ) was Mr. A. E. Hoodless, and not Mr. A. W. Hoodless.

Mr. A. Pat Cannon has had a bad start in his peal ringing attempts this year. In nine weeks he has only scored two peals-two cancellations and three failures have been his lot.

Mr. Gordon K. Chaddock, aged 17, has now rung Plain Bob Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus to peals all conducted by his godfather, Uncle Norman Chaddock.

The recast ring of eight bells at St. Mary's, Deane, Bolton, was dedicated on February 12 th . The contract was carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co.
Twelve College Youths met at Southwark Cathedral last Saturday to attempt a peal of Stedman Cinques in honour of the bi-centenary of the St. Martin's Guild. All were members of both Societies, and a composition of Hepry Johnson had been chosen. Just before the half-way was reached it was noticed that the tenor rope was giving out below the sally. As the conductor called 'Stand,' the last strand parted, and so what promised to be a peal worthy of both Societies came to an untimely end. Those taking part were: J. Phillips 1, J. T. Smallwood 2, W. Williams 3, J. Chilcott (conductor) 4, F. E. Darby 5, G. W. Cecil 6, J. S. Mason 7, A. B. Peck 8, P. Chalk 9 J. Crampion 10, M. Chilcott 11, J. A. Prior 12.

\author{
'Blue Book' and 'Register'

You
OU couldn't be blamed if you failed to spot the topical subject implied in this title, for the phrase relates to the solution rather than to its related problem. \(1 t\) is closcly allied, however, to last month's topic, which dealt with the relation between length and toleration of peals. It is, in fact, the much debated question of whether certain methods should find official favour for peal attempts, and what degree of recognition shouid be accorded to peals rung in such methods. The article seeks to provoke thought towards crystallising opinion on these matters.

As in most fields of interest and activity today, so in ringing, any realistic change or reform calls for fundamental rather than superficial consideration and treatment. It is all in keeping with the modern outlook-the trend of streamlining our work and our play. The Exercise will derive little satisfaction in these specific problems so long as we continue merely to argue about the merits and demerits of any particular method, or group of methods, in relation to peal-ringing. There is here a big and highly important job to be done, radically and comprehensively; so that, in reaching decisions, allowance must be made, as far as possible, for future trend and development. Far from the concept of finality having been reached in method design (and therefore also in composition), research in this field since the war has shown wide possibilities of novelty in structure. Of this, perhaps, more may be said in a subscquent article.

It may come as a shock to us, when we think about it, to realise that though the Exercise has an elected advisory body-the Central Coun-cil-to whom it looks for official pronouncements on guidance on ringing matters, yet:(a) There exists no comprehensive "cataogue, of officially recognised methods, and logue ' of officially recognised methods, and of stage forms of each of those methods, duty classified and indexed; so as to be readily identifiable by say, an 'official' index numher.
(b) While performances have to be "acceptable ' to the Central Council for inclusion in the Peals Analysis, the lack, as in (a) foregoing, persists and there remains no authenticated tally of all such peals rung. As to (a) above, there are, of course, Central Council and other publications of "Collections" of methods; but the logical issue seems to be Central Council annual Peals Analysis is to be generally acceptable as "legal and binding" and without equivocation, then, beyond the present rather arguable dicta about certain present rather arguable dicta about certain more authoritative, and in some respects inIormative, kind of "statute book " of methods; a Methods "Blue Book,' if you like.

As to (b) above, it is true, of course, that teal performances are published in this paper and that peal records exist in the ringing Guilds and Associations; and it is right and necessary that they should be so recorded. But it seems a natural corollary that if there is a recognised authority for the approval of methods, in which may be rung peals that are to qualify for official record in summarised Tatistics, then there should be an official record (in main data only, perhaps) of all peals duly rung in such methods; a Peals 'Register, y you like.

The more thought we give to these ideas the more certain will the majority of us realise that the longer the deferment of these compilations, the greater will grow the two main difficulties 4rising, namely:-
(1) The question of qualification of extant methods. and any extant or potential stage variations of each, for inclusion in the "Blue Book.' (New methods can be added as approved.)
(2) The initiation of, and the manner of maintaining, the "Register.'
Still, the difficulties are by no means insuperable; and the advantages (one might almost say the essential uses) may be shown to be beyond question.

It is important, at this stage, to realise that the 'Blue Book' and 'Register' in their proposed formats (which are visualised as being mainly of the form of one-line entries), would not and could not supplant or replace the existing forms of publication and record. Rather would the latter be complementary to the former-the Central Council Collections of Methods to the Blue Book, and "The Ringing World 'and Association reports to the Register. The utility of each would enhance that of the other. Consider first, however, the question of compilation.

\section*{THE BLUE BOOK}

Earlier, it was stressed that this important job calls for "radical and comprehensive treatment: Before the Blue Book could be compiled there would necessarily be preliminary work (arising from the controversial issues recently discussed by correspondents in these pages), and resulting in a review and restatement of the presently agreed principles of method structure. This would devolve upon the Methods Committee of the time, of course; but their proposals would have to be drawn in well defined terms, and logically and simply stated and published well in advance of the ultimate Central Council consideration; so that representatives could vote informedly and with complete satisfaction to themselves and their constituents. These decisions could then be set out in the preamble of the Book. A revision of method classification is necessary, too, preferably in the direction of simplicity, It is unnecessary and indeed impractical at this stage to attempt a detailed exposition of all this; although a satisfactory lay-out has been worked out on the "loop-hole-proof' and intelligible lines.

The cataloguing of the methods, however, would be based on the revised classification, and the numbering of the methods would follow, accordingly.

Only such methods, and such stages of each, as comply with the accepted principles would qualify for inclusion; and each would receive its specific "Blue Book" official code number. The one-line entry for each method would indicate also the stage of its basic form and its other accepted stages. (The actual design or figures of the basic and other stages would not appear, these being given in the Central Council 'Collections,' as now.) A method, or any of its stages, not included, would not have any peal performance in it recognised as qualifying for entry in the Register; though such performances might still be published in "The Ringing World and in Association reports. In this way freedom of choice would remain to the individual band, to 'peal' whatever it pleased and publish it; but the collective decision of the whole Exercise in technical preferences as to methods would be exclusively maintained, and indeed endorsed, by the quallfied entries in the Register.

All published methods would find an entry in the Index of the Blue Book, either by name or collection number ; and those not qualifying would be marked (say with an "X') as "excluded,' and would not appear in the one-line eneries positions. Thus the intending conductor would have a sure guide as to the 'status' of his method. New methods and/or stages would be notified in 'The Ringing World' as acceptable or otherwise, and if the former, with the next serial number (according to class) allotted.

Correction leaflets, giving addenda, and doletions if 'Decisions' so varied things, would be published annually, bringing held copies up to date, A reprint, to cover all amendments, might be published, say, every five or seven years. All District secretaries of Associations would be urged to hold a copy, and no doubt most conductors would require one for personal reference.

\section*{THE REGISTER}

Here a number of concomitant new ideas should make for easier and more efficient work. ing of the machinery of recording peals. First it is suggested that a new office should be created within the Central Council-that of Registrar of Peals. He would hold and maintain the Register, which would be compiled in volumes, each covering, say, three- or five-year periods. The current volume would be started at the ensuing January, and those for the past made up gradually. Each volume would be identified by the numbers of the years to which it related. Entries would be made by the Registrar in order of receipt, receiving the next serial number. Each series starts afresh for each year, and each number in the series is prefixed by the year. Thus, towards the close of next year, for example, a typical registration number might be '1956/908.' This number then positively identifies this one peal among all other officially recorded peals ever rung. The next entry on the line would be, the month, then the date; then, following across the double page, and possibly in this order-Parish, County, Tower, Association, Method Code Number (from Blue Book), Number of Changes, Composition, Conductor, and Notes. (The Code Number gives the stage also.)

The tie-up, in recording, from Conductor, through Association. to Registrar, and on to 'The Ringing World' publication, could be effected quite simply and surely in some such way as the following:-
Peal Report forms.- These should help everybody concerned. First the Central Council would have printed a number (say 5,000 ) in quite simple yet standard form, ensuring uniformity and completeness, with two entry-spaces that are new; one for the Blue Book number of the (acceptable) method, and the other for the Register entry number. The stock of forms would be held by the Registrar and obtained from him at, say, 3d. a dozen post free. The Conductor now simply fills up the spaces, and with a bit of carbon paper he does two copies at once. These he passes immediately to his Association Peals Secretary. The latter retains onc for Association records. Each week, say, on Mondays, he sends off the other copy (or copies if more than one pcal has come in) to the Registrar. The latter, if the method be in the Blue Book enters its number in the form, together with the next serial Register number. He then copies the essential particulars into the Register. Once a week, say on Thursdays, he sends on to "The Ringing World all forms he has received, whether he has transcribed them or not. and thus they get to the journal in standard form and marked as to whether they are registered peals or not. Thus all performances get published, even "numbered versions' of extensions for instance; but only ' accepted' methods and their natural extensions are registered. The Registrar will thus have helped, 100 , the peals analysis officers in their task, since "The Ringing World' publication will indicate the "regular' peals at a glance.

Provious records.-As to the opening of the Register volumes for all time prior to the current volume, this large task would take considerable time, of course, and would be undertaken by others than the Registrar. It would no doubt be brought within reasonably easy grasp by access that might be kindly granted by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, to the results of his multitudinous labours of love, in checking all extant published records of peals to

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

\section*{Matters Discussed by Southern} \section*{Division}

The annual meeting of the Southern Divisiorn took place at St. Mary's, Shoreham, on February 19th with an attendance of over 50 , representing 17 towers. The scrvice was conpresenting 17 towers. The scrvice was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. S. W Simpson).
Tea was taken in the Church Hall, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Pike, Miss J. Pike and other helpers were thanked for preparing such a delightful meal. Prior to the business meeting, at which the Vicar presided, the secretary stated he had received a letter from the Master (Mr. S. E. Armstrong) apologising for his unavoidable absence. He also expressed thanks to the Vicar for conducting the service, and to the organist for giving his services.
The balance sheet and secretary's report were adooted and the following officers were elected: Ringing Master, Mr. J. Dearlove; secretary Mr . C. W. Linington; committee, Mr. S. W. Brown, Miss J. Pike; hon. auditor, Mr. H. Stalham. Seven new members and one nonresident member were elected to the Association.
Under 'Any other business' the questiou arose as to when the proposed badges for the Association would be ready. Mr. R. W. Percy (hon. general secretary) said he was awaiting the approximate numbers required by the Divisions, as the cost of making the badges depended entirely upon the number ordered.
'The Ringing World ' was also discussed at length. It was reported that some members had withdrawn their subscription following the increase in price. The raising of the price from 4 d . to 6 d . was deprecated, and considered not to be the remedy to make the publication pay. It was suggested that peals should be a secondary feature. To a learner it was rathei frightening on opening his newly-acquired copy to be confronted with a formidable list of peals. It was agreed that more articles appertaining to towers and bells would be welcomed and, when possible, illustrated: also articles should appear on ringing which would be within the scope of the younger and less advanced ringer.
Mention was made of the recent operatic contribution to 'The Ringing World ' by a young ringer of the Keymer band. He was heartily congratulated by all present.

\section*{Northern Division at Horsham}

The Northern Division held its annual meeting at Horsham on February 5th with 40 members present. The Vicar (the Rev. R. C. 0 . Goodchild) conducted the Association form of service. Mrs. Rapley was re-elected secretary, and the Ringing Master for the coming year will be Mr. George Jennings. The committee and auditor were re-elected.
Under the heading of any other business a lengthy discussion took place on a motion made by Mr. Fosberry and seconded by Mr. Stilwell that the meeting deprecated the attitude of "The Ringing World' towards articles of instruction for learners, as stated on the front page of the issue dated October 22 nd last.
Also another lengthy discussion took place on the ringing of the bells at Danehill.
The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist, secretary and Ringing Master.

\section*{MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION \\ North and East District Report Progress}

Members and friends attending the annual meeting of the North and East District at Bishopsgate on February 12th became more enlightened in the history of London and of St. Botolph's Church as the result of an address by Prebendary Treacher. It was a successful occasion from all aspects, and thanks are due to all concerned who contributed to this factor. Ringing took place at Clerkenwell in the afternoon and at Bishopsgate in the afternoon and evening. Among the welcomed visitors were Miss \(F_{\text {. Brown from Melbourne, Australia, and }}\) Miss \(\dot{\mathbf{V}}\). Willard, who has recently returned from that country.
At the business meeting the chair was occupied by Mr. H. G. Hart, vice-president, who reminded the 44 members present of the recent death of the Rev. P. Gough, Rector of Acton and president in office. In addition, the deaths of the Rev. C. S. Durham, Vicar of Harrow Weald, B. F. Tubb, Finchley, and R. P. Crump, Hornsey, were referred to, and the meeting stood in silent tribute to the memory of these past members.

All the retiring officers received the confidence of the meeting in being re-elected, but owing to the departure of R. H. Begrie and P. J. Coward, Miss R. Foreman and J. R. Mayne were elected to the District Committee.

The hon. secretary, in his annual report, stated that twelve meetings had been arranged and ringing in various other towers had been organised. Attendance at meetings, however, had been greatly increased by ringers who reside outside the area of the Association, and greater support from resident members was called for. Five members had been lost through death. New members elected comprised one honorary life, seven non-resident life and 28 ringing members. A total of 94 quarter peals had been rung in the several towers. Harrow Weald leading easily-in quality and quantity -with 27. The report concluded by recording with pleasure that the new young band at Edgware, having received instruction from Mr. and Mrs. and John Mayne, had become members of the Association, and several new members at Edmonton, Harrow-on-the-Hill and Stepney had recently been elected.
The statement of accounts, which showed an improved balance, provided for a sum of \(£ 33\) 4 s . 9 d . to be carried to the Central Fund.
The election of the following 30 new members then took place: J. D. Duggan and R. Wood. St. Andrew's, Enfield; J. M. Bailey, W. Dorrell and the Misses C. Borst, S. H. Dorey, J. Gossling, J. Ransley and B. Woodward, Harrow-on-the-Hill; N. K. Solomon and Miss J. Baggott, Hendon; M. Chamberlain, G. Ellis, P. Flint, J. G. Morgan, D. Saunders, J. C. Taylor, J. Voss, Miss E. Little and Miss J. Hill; Miss W. Brindley and Miss D. Ward, Stanmore; H. A. A. C. and Mrs. H. A. Martin, A. P. Pearson. Willesden; W. Jarvis, Harringay, unattached, all as ringing members; and Miss B. Marks, Knebworth, and P. L. Baycock, North Mymms, as non-resident life members.
A programme of proposed ringing meetings as recommended by the District Committee was agreed to. and this included joint meetings with the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths and the Essex Association.
Miss G. Newcombe, Edmonton, was elected to be a representative of "The Ringing World" in the northern part of the district, to replace
P. J. Coward. Other business dealt with included three recommendations to the Central Committee, with proposals for consideration at the annual general meeting of the Association. A vote of thanks to Preb. Treacher, the Rev. --. Browne, Mrs. E. Davis, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Prockson and all who had assisted in the arrangements was passed with acclamation.

\section*{DEDICATION}

\section*{ARDLEIGH, ESSEX}

After being silent since last September, the bells of St. Mary the Virgin's, Ardleigh, were heard once again on Saturday, February 5th, when they were rededicated by the Bishop of Colchester (Rt. Rev. F. D. V. Narborough) in the presence of a large congregation of parishioners and ringers from Essex and Suffolk.
No major work had been done on the bells since 1892, when the present wooden frame was put in by H. Bowell, of Ipswich, who also had the fifth recast and added two trebles to complete the octave, and last winter it was decided that it was time Ardleigh had a more musical and better going ring after all those years.
The work was entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who decided that the fine-toned pre-Reformation tenor by Robert Burford, circa 1415, should be retained as the basis of a new octave; all the other bells with the exception of the third by John Darbie, 1676, were to be recast.
Thanks largely to the enthusiasm and energy of the tower captain, Mr. Felix Erith, the work of raising the large sum of nearly 1,200 required for the work proceeded steadily last year, and a very generous grant was obtained from the Trustees of the Barron Bell Trust. which removed any doubts that the work could be put in hand at an carly date.
The eight bells have been rehung on new iron headstocks and ball bearings, the original frame was found to be in excellent condition and retained, but all other fittings have been renewed and the bell chamber thoroughly cleaned out.
All the old inscriptions on the bells have been reproduced; in addition, the seventh bears the names of the founder of the Barron Trust and of the three trustees, while the sixth has the names of the Vicar, churchwardens and the names of the Vicar, churchwardens and captain of the ringers. The weight of the tenor is 134 cwt .

The representative gathering at the service included Messrs. H. W. Eldred and J. R. Pennell (Barron Fund Trustees), Mr. R. C Heazel (Master, Essex Association), Miss H. G. Snowden (Master, North Division), Mr. H. J. Millatt (Master, North Division), Mr. C. W. Pipe (general secretary, Suffolk Guild), Mr. J. Gould (secretary, North-East Division), and many others, while Mr. John Fidler represented the bell founders.
The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. D. Leonard), the Rev. Mr. Biddlecombe (Rector of Polstead) acted as Bishop's chaplain, and the lesson was read by Mr. R. C. Heazel. During the singing of the hymn, "Unchanging God, Who livest,' the Bishop, clergy and choir proceeded to the tower, where the Bishop was handed the ropes and blessed the bells in the following words: "In the faith of Jesus Christ following words: "In the faith of Jesus Christ and to the Glory of God, we bless and dedicate these bells. In the Name of the Father, an of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.'

After the dedication prayers the bells were rung to rounds by members of the local company, while immediately after the service the opening touch of 216 Stedman Triples was rung by a representative band, followed by a course of Plain Bob Major by the local ringers.
A splendid buffet tea had been arranged is the Vicar's room by Mrs. F. Erith, assisted by other ladies of the parish, while during the evening coffee and cakes were served to all who required them. The bells were kept going until \(9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\)., under the direction of the Master ( Mr . H. J. Millatt), who arranged a wide variety of ringing to suit all tastes, ranging from callchanges to London and Bristol Surprise Major.
The unanimous opinion of all who tried the bells was that Messrs. Taylor's had done an excellent job in blending the old tenor with the new bells, and Ardleigh now possesses an octave which for tone and 'go' are equal to any in North-East Essex.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

CATERING FOR BEGINNERS
Dear Sir,-Following the annual meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association on February 12th, 1955, I have to convey to you and your Editorial Committee de following resolution which was passed unanimously at that meeting:-
- That this meeting, while it appreciates the ood work carried out by the Editor of "The Ringing World" and his committee, cannot agree with his attitude towards articles of inatruction for learners as stated in "The Ringing World " dated October 22nd, 1954, and earnestly requests him to consider such articles to be a very necessary part of "The Ringing World " if it is to fulfil its function of being a magazine for all ringers.'- Yours faithfully,

\section*{W. LESLIE WELLER.}

Hon. Div. Sec., Western Division.
[Note.-In 1952 and 1953 we published a eries of 36 articles for beginners. A reasonable hapse of time must take place before the series an be repeated. We always welcome short ints that experience has proved to be helpful, and have hopes that a reader would provide us with a weekly hint. The editorial referred to a treatise in the form of a text book.-Ed.]

\section*{BOB TRIPLES}

Dear Sir,-Paragraph (a) of Mr. Felstead's letter in 'The Ringing World' of February 25 th reminds me that no one responded to the invitation contained in my letter (published in your issue of October 15th last) and claimed that he was the brains behind the suggestion that the Analysis Committee should cut out Bob Triples.
I now note with interest that the Methods Committee (as a committee apparently) disclaims any hand in the matter. This disclaimer and the silence of the individual concerned strengthen my suspicion that his motives were not entirely altruistic.-Yours faithfully,
G. L. GROVER.

East Clandon, Surrey.
[Note.-A peal in this method is recorded on page 131, in which a member of the Central Council participated.-Ed.]

\section*{NEW SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS}

Dear Sir,-In view of the recent spate of new Surprise Major methods, would it not be possible for conductors to include the figures of the method (in Carter's notation) in the footnotes of the peal? This would be of great assistance to those who, like myself, keep records of Surprise Major methods.

Incidentally, can anyone supply the figures of Evington and Imberhorne Surprise Major, aeither of which have I seen published in "The Ringing World '?-Yours faithfully,

DENNIS KNOX.

\section*{Dunstable, Beds.}
[Note.-We cannot entertain extending our footnotes unless the number of peals rung drops considerably. We would be able to find room for new methods in Carter's notation in the ame issue.-Ed.]

\section*{WHOSE COMPOSITION?}

Dear Sir,-In 'The Ringing World, pubished February 4th, 1955, on page 68 is a composition of 5,040 Spliced Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Royal by C. Kenneth Lewis. Now I have in my records a composition by F. E. Darby which is identical and which I am in the near future going to call to Oakham Royal. Please would either Mr. Lewis or Mr. Darby let me know who claims this composi-tion?-Yours sincerely, Rotherfield, Sussex.

\section*{BELLS OF RADNORSHIRE}

Dear Sir,-I sincerely hope that in due course Mr. Felstead will write an article on Peeal Ringing in Radnorshire and that Presteigne will be included. If the towers are few, they are worth recognition.

May I remind Mr. Benson that there used to be NINE rings of bells of five and upwards in his county - viz., two eights, Knighton and Presteigne; four sixes, Old Radnor, New Radnor, Nantmel and Llanfihangel Rhydithon (sometimes spelt Rhyd leithon); and three fives, Clyro, Llanbadarn Fawr and Gladestry-the last mentioned are unringable.-Yours sincerely, > Eardisland, Herefords.

\section*{ST. ANDREW'S, RUGBY}

Dear Sir,-I feel the readers of 'The Ringing World may be interested to learn that the ring of eight at St. Andrew's Church are soon to be available again for ringing.
In 1948 the ringing of the eight in the new tower was discontinued owing to the very poor 'go' of the bells, and since that date regular ringing has been continued on the five bells in the old tower at the west end of the churchRugby Parish Church is unique in having two separate rings of bells.
The work in the new tower comprises the fitting of the 2nd, 5th and tenor on ball bearings and the lowering of the whole frame 20 ft . in the tower. This will considerably decrease the sway of the tower and also reduce the volume of sound in the main street below.
It is hoped that this work, which is to be carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, will be completed by Whitsun.-Yours faithfully,
D. J. PITSTOW.

\section*{JOSHUA SHORT}

Dear Sir,--Early last year I had a communication from Mr. E. A. Butcher, of Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, referring to an article of mine in 'The Birmingham Post.' He informed me that he had in his possession a vellum setting out the account of a long peal of Bob Major at Aston in 1788, and that he also possessed a portrait in oils of Joshua Short, the old Aston ringer. You may imagine that I was greatly interested, especially in the picture, and after some correspondence and negotiation. during which time Mr. Butcher moved to North Wales, I secured the portrait and the vellum on permanent loan to St. Martin's Guild. I also found out that Mr. Butcher was great-great-great-grandson of Joshua.
The portrait is a fine one, and shows a largefaced, genial but shrewd old gentleman, one whose appearance well confirms his reputation for great physical strength and conviviality.

The velum is an interesting survival. It is a print from the elaborately designed plate used by the Society for printing its invitations to the annual feast. It is inscribed as follows:-
- On the 29th day of September, 1788, was rung at Saint Peter and Paul's Church, Aston, a peal of Bob Major consisting of 10,080 changes in 6 hours and 31 minutes by the undermentioned persons:-

Benjn. Baylifs Treble. Willm. Gibson Second. John Black Third. Joshua Short Fourth. John Short Fifth, Job Perrins Sixth. Joseph Rogers Seventh. Willm. Bennett Tenor. Colled by William Bennett. Weight of Tenor 20 cwt .' We know, of course, of this performance, but I do not think we have any previous record of the band. We are taking steps to preserve the vellum, and we hope to present the portrait to Aston belfry.-Yours sincerely, Solihult.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL BELLS
Dear Sir,-Our ringing may be a bit rough at times, but not bad enough to cause movement in the transept walls of our Cathedral as your unknown contributor to 'Belfry Gossip' states.
The facts are that the south wall of the south transept has for some time shown a tendency to move outwards at the top. Underpinning was decided upon, with the addition of a steel foundation grillage, and this work, which has bcen in progress for some time with a minimum interruption of ringing, is now completed.
Reinforced concrete bracing is now being put in above the vaulting, and the walls are weakened because a lot of the stonework has been taken out to get an effective bond between the old work and the new. While the concrete is being poured and stonework replaced, the architect and contractors consider it prudent not to ring.
Those with knowledge of the massive construction of the Cathedral will not take the statement seriously, and 1 only write because a published statement to the effect that the bells are a danger to the stability of the building ought not to go uncontradicted.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{ST. DUNSTAN'S DOUBLES}

Dear Sir,-I have noticed in 'The Ringing World ' published February 11th and 18th peals of Doubles rung on handbells at Sherburn-inElmet, Yorkshire, containing what is, I believe, if my memory serves me correctly, the illegitimate method of St. Dunstan's Doubles. This was condemned a few years ago by the Central Council for the reason that there was not the same number of leads in the plain course as there are working bells in the method. I am all for Mr. Alan Sheppard's peals on handbells, but I don't suppose he wants them 'thrown back' from the Peal Analysis Committee through what 1 presume is an accidental oversight. Can anyone else throw any light on this?
I should also like to take this opportunity of congratulating Mr. William Butler and his band on their peal of 18 Spliced Doubles, especially as all the methods ARE different and it was rung at a five-bell tower. - Yours sincerely,

CLIVE M. SMITH.
Lichfield, Staffs.

\section*{ANOTHER TASK FOR MR. BLAGROVE}

Dear Sir,-Congratulations to Mr. Blagrove on the splendid catalogue of c.p.s. methods you published last week.
As he seems willing to devote his time to the advancement of the Exercise, dare I suggest that he should give us a list of Surprise Major methods with no backward places and Plain Bob coursing order in 7-8?

When I examined 'Nechells,' as it proved, about six months ago, I was surprised to find that it had not been rung before. It seemed such an advantageous variation of 'Hitchin,' reducing the liability to falseness, simply by substituting Painswick for the Superlative front of the former method.

May I, too, plead for the use of place notation in publishing new methods: perhaps then the methods could appear in the same issue as the peal report. It would also be helpful to know the false course ends, so often omitted.
Thank you, Mr. Roe, for your cry for reforms in method construction. - Yours sincerely.

STEPHEN IVIN.

\section*{SOCIETY OF ROVING RINGERS}

\section*{Annual Reunion at Leicester}

The seventh annual reunion of the S.R.R. was held in Leicester on February 5th and was attended by 39 members and friends.

The party assembled at St. John-the-Divine's and, after ringing on this fine ten, went to St. Margaret's, where, with numbers almost complete, ringing ranged from rounds to Cinques. Iea drinkers and tower grabbers then went their various ways; the latter to All Saints' to enjoy ringing on the new eight, whilst the former, greatly fortified by refreshments, raised the Cathedral bells. The afternoon's ringing concluded with a well-struck bob course of Stedman Cinques for service, and the party then proceeded to the Royal Hotel for dinner.

Mark White took the chair at the meeting which followed. He extended a warm welcome to all present and particularly to Mr. and Mrs. Poole. Apologies for absence were received from several members, including two serving abroad with H.M.F., but happily four other National Service members were able to attend.

The secretaries reported a christening, a wedding and two engagements which had taken place in the Society during the year. Tony and Iris Oliver had received a coffee table as a wedding gift from the Society. Several members took part in the three peals rung for the christening and engagements.
The 1954 tour had been very successful and free from accidents, apart from the usual punctures. Seventeen members, including three new members, supported the tour, and 13 others were present at Sherborne, where a most enjoyable Bank Holiday week-end was spent. The secretaries apologised for the non-publication of the report of the tour, explaining that it had only been received from the author on the previous evening.
Letters were read from the Earl of Shaftesbury, who had met the Society during the summer, and from Mr. A. Macdonald. These acknowledged Christmas greetings, and it was decided to place the Earl of Shaftesbury's letter in the records of the Society.
The following new members were elected: Monica Fray, Farmborough, near Bath; Jean Powell, Blackwood, Mon, ; Christine Ford, Loughton, Essex; and Richard Harbour, Banstead, Surrey. Honorary membership was conferred upon Mr. T. Setter, Yeovil, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Poole, Leicester.

In accordance with the tradition of the Society, a new Ringing Master is elected annually, and Mr. N. J. Diserens was elected to hold this office for 1955. Other officers were re-elected as follows: Joint secretaries, Miss J. M. Winchester, Miss K. E. Weller; treasurer, Mr. R. Parsons; and recorder, Miss A. Bailey. A vote of thanks was given to the Retiring Master and all other officers for their hard work during the past year.

The rest of the evening passed all too quickly, interspersed with handbell ringing and the usual social activitics.

Members took part in service ringing on Sunday morning at St. John-the-Divine's, the Cathedral and St. Mary-de-Castro's. Most of the party left for home after lunch, but several remained in Leicester until the evening, ringing on the back six at St. Saviour's in the afternoon and at the Cathedral and St. Margaret's in the evening.
Thanks are accorded Mr. H. J. Poole, Mr. S. A. Jesson and all friends in Leioester who helped to make this week-end so enjoyable.

\section*{LATE NEWS}

We regret to record the death of Mr. Joseph B. Fenton, aged 84, a founder member of the Warwickshire Guild. He died at Rugby on February 20th.

We regret to announce the death at Marlow on Sunday of Mr. James F. Smith, aged 74, a well-known Minor ringer.

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCLATION}

Watford District
The A.G.M. of the Watford District was held at the Parish Church of St. Mary on February 5 th and was well supported by District members and visiting ringers. Tea was taken in the nearby Old Free School and enjoyed by a company numbering 47. The two ladies who assisted in providing this excellent tea are to be congratulated.
The business meeting was presided over by the Vicar (Canon A. St. John Thorpe). The secretary (Mr. R. G. Bell) gave a very satisfactory report on the past year's work in the District, and the outlook was very encouraging with so many young members in evidence.
Officers elected were :-Secretary, Mr. K. R. Dunstan (in succession to Mr. R. G. Bell, who was thanked for his work during the past three years); Ringing Master, Mr. S. H. Hoare; representatives on County Committec, Mr. S. H. Hoare and Mr. G. W. Seaman. District Committee, en bloc with one exception. 'Ringing World' representative, Mr. K. R. Dunston, Brinklow.

The meeting carried unanimously the nomination of Mr. C. W. Woolley as president of the Association for this year, as recommended by the District Committee. Eight new ringing members were elected.
During the afternoon and evening a good standard of ringing was maintained, which ranged from rounds to Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Royal.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Great Chart Bells To Be Inspected}

On February 19th some 40 members of the Kent County Association attended a meeting at High Halden. Despite the very cold weather 18 towers were represented.
Canon. Swan took the service, assisted by Mrs. Knight at the organ. A very homely tea was kindly arranged by Mr. and Mrs. J. Burden in the Village Hall. At the business meeting which followed, the main points mentioned were :-The arrangement for a representative of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank to inspect the bells of Great Chart, which were reported by Mr. P. Jarvis to be in a very bad condition; the next meeting to be at Hythe on March 26th.
S. G. W.

\section*{GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD \\ Leatherhead District}

Despite the foggy conditions and other meeting attractions the attendance at the annual District meeting was up to standard. The Guild's service was taken by the Vicar, Canion F. Page.

Since the temporary church has been available the wives and friends of the ringers have helped Mrs. Harman in providing teas for meetings there, and this has proved a very satisfactory arrangement. This year their optimism was justified, 48 sitting down for tea.
Mr. H. N. Pitstow took the chair for the business meeting. The accounts showed a balance in hand ( \(£ 40\) ) for the first time. The report mentioned that the local captain, Mr. G. Marriner, had just completed 50 years as a ringer at Leatherhead and that the captain of Christ Church, Epsom, Mr. G. F. Oakshott, had been awarded the B.E.M. in the New Year's Honours, and, later, someone discovered that this was the secretary's 25 th annual District meeting as secretary. There was no change in the District officers elected for 1955 .
In proposing the votes of thanks for all who had made a successful meeting possible, Mr. Pitstow said a special one was due to Mrs. Harman and helpers for the grand tea provided.
Ringing was resumed until about \(80^{\prime}\) clock with a quiet interlude when the lights in the belfry fused.

\section*{GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION \\ Bristol Rural Branch Now 216 Strong}

\section*{The annual meeting of the Bristol Rural} Branch was held at the Parish Church of St. Ambrose, Bristol East, on January 29th, with over sixty members attending.
Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and the eight bells were kept going to Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Bob Major until 4.30 p.m. when the branch service was held, which this year was in the form of Holy Communion, and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. M. Hocking. Some of the local ringers' wives prepared tea in the Parish Hall, and this was followed by the annual business meeting, with Mr. C. R. Harding in the chair.
The secretary and treasurer, in his report, stated that the branch had another successful year, and that its membership had now reached 216 , of which only two members were in arrears with their subscriptions, and that only one tower out of the branch's 22 'live' towers was unaffiliated. During the year 11 meetings had been heid, with an average attendance of 45, and there was evidence at these meetings that the younger members are taking an active interest in the branch's activities. The towers of Doynton and Iron Acton had rejoined the branch after an absence of many years, and it is hoped to see new members come from these towers in the coming year.
The balance sheet showed an income of \(£ 43\) 3s. \(0 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}\)., of which \(£ 37\) had been paid to the general treasurer. Both report and financial statement were accepted.
The following branch officers were re-elected: Chairman, Mr. C. R. Harding; secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. F. Scudamore; representative on Management Committee, Mr. C. Baker; Ringing Master, Mr. R. G. Hooper.

It was proposed that the next annual meeting be again held at St. Ambrose, with quarterly meetings at St. Werburgh's, St. George's and Henbury, with the first monthly meeting at Stapleton.
One of the items on the agenda was the visit of the Central Council to Bristol in May and three members of the branch were elected to join a committee formed for the reception of the Central Council.
When the meeting closed the bells of St . Ambrose and St. George were available for ringing.
W. F. S.

\section*{BARNSLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY}

Although wintry conditions prevailed, a very happy and successful meeting was held at Penistone, near the Pennines, on February 12th. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until 4.30 . when tea was served by the ringers' wives in the nearby schools, and a good square meal was enjoyed by all.
The Vicar (the Rev. R. H. Peace) acted as chairman for the business mecting, at which the following were elected new members:-Sheila Brooker, Tony Brown, Keith Darwin and Bruce Jones, all of Ecclesfield.
It was agreed to hold the next meeting at Ossett on March 19th. On the motion of Mr. N. F. Moxon, the Vicar was thanked for his services.
The Vicar, in reply, said that was the first time he had met the ringers. He had enjoyed it very much and assured all of a hearty welcome at any time. The best thanks were also given to the ladies for their splendid tea.

Good use was made of the bells, a splendid octave, during the afternoon and evening. It was very pleasing to see the curate taking part in rounds.

\section*{OBITUARY}

MR. GEORGE JEFFS
The funeral took place at Tichmarsh, Northants, on February 12th, of Mr. George Jeffs, who died in the previous week in his 90th year. He has left behind a remarkable record of faithful service to the church, which included chorister and bellringer for about 70 years, sexton for 40 years and parish clerk for 30 years. In 1946, in recognition of his work for the church he was presented with an inscribed walking stick and a pipe.

He retired about ten years after being for 60 years a woodman on the Lilford Estate, and went to live in Peterborough with his younger daughter, Mrs. E. W. French. He leaves a son, Mr. G. W. Jeffs, of Thrapston, and another daughter, Mrs. H. W. French, of Kidderminster.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rector (Canon A. M. Luckock). Members of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild present intcluded the Master (Mr. E. E. Whitmore), the secretary (Mr. L. Witten) and Mr. L. Groom (Master of the Thrapston Branch). At the graveside Mr. Jeffs' handbells were rung to a course of Grandsire Triples by L. Groom, E. E. Whitmore, P. I. Chapman and J. King. The bells of the Parish Church were also rung halfmuffled to a course of Cambridge Surprist Major, a touch of Stedman Triples and a 720 Plain Bob Minor.

A memorial service was held the following day. In a tribute the Rector said: Deeply devoted to the church. the bells, the choir, the churchyard, he did indeed serve in all ways right well. Skilled as a ringer, he taught many with infinite patience. As sexton, parish clerk and choirman he never failed in his duties. Last Easter Day he was able to take his accustomed place in the choir, so it was literally true that in every one of the four score years since he joined the choir as a small boy he sang in it.'

\section*{THE REV. E. J. SIMPSON}

The death took place with tragic suddenness in church on February 9 th at the early age of 44, of the Rev. Edward James Simpson. M.A., Vicar of Holy Trinity, Darlington, for the past eight years, after a period of indifferent health. Mr. Simpson, who also had two brothers in the ministry, was born at Kidderminster, Worcestershire, the son of the late Canon Allan Simpson. He was educated at Rugby, Corpus Christi, Cambridge, and Cuddesdon Theological College, and was ordained in 1932 in the Diocese of Southwark, his first appointment being assistant priest of St. Andrew's. Catford. London. In 1938 he was appointed Principal of Queen's College. St. John's, Newfoundland, where he remained until his appointment to Darlington.

On going to Holy Trinity he immediately sought out the ringers and expressed his pleasure at being appointed to a church with pleasure at being appointed to a church with and Newcastle Diocesan Association and attended meetings, whenever the duties of working a large parish single handed permitted. He was frequently with his ringers in the belfry, however, and was able to ring plain methods. Of a shy and retiring nature, he never sought the limelight, but those who had his friendship valued it as a privilege. The parish misses him greatly and will long remember the beautiful sermons he preached, the lucidity and brevity of their presentation being an art he had mastered.

The funeral service (which was followed by private cremation) was conducted at Holy Trinity Church, Darlington, by the Bishop of Durham, assisted by the Archdeacon of Durham and the Rural Dean of Darlington. A large number of robed clergy from Durham =and the North Riding of Yorkshire were present. The bells were rung half-muffled by his service ringers before and after the service; they also rang a memorial peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor on February 18th.

MR. FRANK YOULES
The passing of Mr. Frank Youles, of St. Anne s-on-Sca, on February 19th, at the age of 70, is a great loss to Lancashire, ringing. For 53 years he had rung at St. Anne's Church and for 30 years he had been captain of the band. Four of his grandsons took part in the fullymuffled ringing by the local band following the funeral service. The Lancashire Association was represented by Mr. J. Foster (Branch secretary) and Mr. E. Baldwin, both of St. John's, Blackpool.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

\section*{THE QUESTION}

0N May 31st, 1955, the Central Council will have to make a decision on the Bob Triples and Irregular Minor Methods question. This was referred back for one year at the Newcastle meeting, so it cannot be delayed any longer. It is well that ringers should discuss this matter between now and Whitsuntide, but they should do so without rancour or bitterness as this will get us nowhere. Also the subject should be approached with an open mind. The attitude that 'We have always rung Churchyard Bob at Little Slopton for the past fifty years, and will continue to do so whatever the C.C. may decide, is all wrong. A well-known ringer said recently to the writer, 'If you don't progress you go backwards.' We may not agree wholly with this, but certainly you stagnate if you don't progress.

There have been some curious views put forward recently, such as that 'Grandsire is a dead end' and only Plain Bob can lead you on. The writer considers Grandsire is Plain Bob with two hunt bells and leads on to Oxford Bob Triples and Court Bob Triples. Can anyone say that these are dead end methods, for they are much superior to Bob Triples? The late John Goldsmith once wrote an article on musical methods, and he placed Grandsire Caters at the top of the list. Nobody ever contradicted him on this point. Bob Triples may have been all right in Benjamin Annable's time when tenors were not as easy to turn in as they are to-day; also a lot more is known about methods than formerly. When we say that we ring Triples let us be honest and not put a lot of Doubles in; also we are compelled to have one cover bell, but we don't need two.

Now let us admit that there are Irregular Minor Methods which will produce an extent and keep 5.6 the right way. Still, if Plain Bob is the foundation of all our methods, why not keep the connection by using its lead heads? In some cases very little adjustment of these Irregular Methods is necessary to put matters right. Take Woodbine Treble Bob and put 5 ths place in when the treble is behind with adjustments in 1.2 and 3.4. The result is a good Delight method which retains all the Woodbine features. It can now rightly be assumed that the writer is in favour of the Methods Committee's recommendations, but it cannot be assumed that he is afraid to criticise the Central Council. The recent letters on this subject should be answered by someone who is competent to speak for the Council. To just ignore them is wrong, as some of the views put forward can do harm if not refuted. One last word: the views of the Methods Committee as expressed by its convener have been described as puerile. Very well, let us see some reasons put forward for the retention of Bob Triples and Irregular Minor Methods.
M. R. P.

\section*{ESSENTIAL TO EVERY TOWER}

0NE of the first tasks the Central Council set itself was the preparation in 1891 of a handbook on the installation, preservation and repair of bells, bellframes and fittings. Nearly 40 years later the book was thoroughly revised and since then two more editions have been published, each accompanied by a thorough revision. The fourth edition is now available for the modest sum of 2 s . This is a handbook of which each church should have two copies-one for the ringers and a second in possession of the secretary of the Parochial Church Council.

A practical knowledge of bells and frames and all the other ancillaries of the ringing chamber should be possessed by each ringer, and a few hours of quiet study of the handbook would well repay time spent. Too frequently these matters are left to the steeplekeeper, and in cases of illness neglect arises. Almost every problem that confronts the belfry is dealt with, even draughty stairways, and many of us have suffered from such discomforts in the recent cold spell.

One chapter is devoted to the responsibility of church authorities in regard to ringers. It is only by the study of every detail of the belfry and the comfort of those who discharge their duties Sunday by Sunday that a proper relationship will exist, as, for example, between clergy and choir. Girls and young women form a substantial percentage of the ringers to-day and the ringing chamber should be maintained at a reasonable standard of comfort.

Another chapter deals with that complicated matter of sound control. Examples are given as to methods employed to solve various problems. If the answer to a particular difficulty is not provided, individual members of the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Council are available for advice and consultations. This is one of the great services the Central Council places at the disposal of Church authorities. Criticism of the Council flows easily from many pens, but we feel that this solid, practical work would never have been available to the Church and ringers if the Council was not in existence. Of all the many publications of the Council this handbook is pre-eminent and it is written in straightforward, understandable language.

GILLETT \\ AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett & Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{5,056 LINCOLNSHIRE SURPRISE MAJOR}

\section*{CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD \\ Wirral Branch Make Merry}

The seventh annual dinner, entertainment and dance held at the Coach and Horses Inn, Moreton, on February 12th, proved to be as enjoyable as previous functions. The company of over 120 was welcomed by the chairman, Mr. W. R. Stanley, supported by the Ringing Master (Mr. T. Rogers), the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. A. J. Martin) and Assistant Ringing Master (Mr. C. B. Pemberton). Ringers were present from Birkenhead, Bebington, Bromborough, Bidston, Moreton, Oxton, Upton, Wallasey (St. Hilary's and St. Nicholas') and West Kirby. Guest of honour was the Rev. T. A. Rockley (Vicar of Oxion), who was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers for his wife, who was prevented by ill-health from attending.
The dinner was thoroughly enjoyed and the toastmaster ensured that speechmakers kept to time allocated to expedite the programme. The able manner in which Miss Wendy Jones, Upton tower secretary, responded (in a maiden speech) to the toast of 'The Ladies' was warmly commended.
During the speeches token presentations were made to the hon. secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Martin and the Ringing Master for services rendered to the Branch.
The entertainment was provided by Jack Nolan (comedian) and Tommy James, with his performance on concertinas of all shapes and sizes. The Wirral Handbell Ringers rendered a selection of tunes, old and new, and met with popular acclamation.

Dancing continued until midnight with only a short break for light refreshments. Sunday morning came all too quickly, and the departing company was glad of door-to-door transport.

\section*{TADCASTER LONG SERVICE RECORD}

The completion of 50 years as a bellringer by Mr. H. Clayton, of Tadcaster, Yorks, was recognised by the presentation to him of two pipes and some tobacco by his fellow ringers at St. Mary's Church, when they assembled for their annual dinner. The presentation was made by Mr. Ernest Lindley, the tower captain, who has 45 years' ringing to his credit. Other ringers of the tower and periods of service are: Mr. R. Lancaster (40), Mr. A. Barker (36), Mr. J. Harrison (41), Mr. Walter Hick (30), Mr. A. Hick (20), Mr. C. Sollett (14), Mr. E. W. Tiplady and Mr. P. Harrison (12). Four young learners who attended were Keith Marshall, Geoffrey Hawkins, Peter Bailey and Raymond Booth.
The Vicar, the Rev. R. J. Hall, congratulated Mr. Clayton on reaching 50 years as a ringer and said it showed a wonderful spirit, loyalty and perseverance which was an example to the younger ringers. Many churches were finding it difficult to maintain a team of ringers, but he hoped that the bells would long continue to ring at Tadcaster.
Mr. Lindley urged the youthful learners to persevere and tackle the job and assured them that it was not all hard work as the ringers had some enjoyable outings and visits to other belfries.

Mr. Clayton, acknowledging the gifts, said he had two life ambitions. One he had realised in that celebration. The other was to ring a peal on his 80th birthday, which meant that he had two years to go. During the first world war he felt it his duty to keep the bells ringing and he managed this by teaching several ladies the art of change ringing.

\section*{LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY}

Snow. That one word sums up the reasons for a very poor attendance at the February meeting of the Leeds Society at Birstall on February 26th. The faithful few had a very enjoyable time on this grand ring of eight, which was kept going to a good variety of methods from 3 till 5 p.m. and again after tea.
At the business meeting the president took the chair. The following new members were elected on the proposition of H . Lofthouse, seconded by L. Drake: Misses Barbara Morton, Shirley Marshall, Barbara Chappel, Dorothy Wood and Mr. Keith Davies (all of Batley) and Misses Sylvia Holt and June Jefferson (of Leeds Parish Church).
The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwar dens and local company was proposed by Mr. H. Lofthouse. Mr. D. North replied for the local company.
The annual notnination meeting will be at Armley on March 26th; a good attendance would be greatly appreciated.

During a peal at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on March 1 st , the movements of Mr . R. J. W. Housden, who was listening two hours, were trailed by a detective, who suggested there was something suspicious about Dick's actions! In the belfry a lady artist sketched the scene for three hours, when she was asked to leave owing to an embarrassing situation that appeared likely to develop.

The Ladies' Guild, we are sure, will make a note of the performance of Miss Stella Hughes. For her 15 th birthday she conducted at Walsall a peal of Stedman Caters.

Mr. John Dearlove, the popular peal secretary to the Sussex County Association, has made his first essay into Doubles ringing with a quarter at Twineham.

In a touch of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on Sunday, two onearmed ringers rang side by side. They were Mr. George Pullinger, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, and Mr. Basil Jones, of Macclesfield. In Mr. Albert Walker's long experience of ringing this is unique.
It gave great pleasure to the Bicester ringers to ring a quarter for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Skelton. While still at school Marjorie joined the tower with her friend and they have both become very good ringers. Her marriage takes her from Bicester and it is only when she visits her parents that the band will have the pleasure of her company.
With the peal at Harlow, congratulations were accorded 10 ' Ted ' Rochester, tower captain at Sawbridgeworth, on the occasion of his silver wedding anniversary. The band would like to associate with this peal Miss Audrey Bailey and Messrs. David Collins and Edward Elliott, who stood in an unsuccessful attempt the week previous. Incidentally, the peal was the first on the bells for 20 years.

St. Nicholas' Guild, Itching-
GOSSIP field, has a novel library. Each member makes all his books on ringing, churches, etc., available for others to borrow. A list of all books and owners is kept in the ringing chamber. Books are borrowed direct from the owner and each transaction is recorded. It is the duty of the librarian to see that the book is returned within a month or a fine is imposed.

The peal at Hardwicke reported in our last issue was rung for the Gloucester Guild of United Bell Ringers.

Mr. P. Amos has brought up to date 'The Church Bells of Rutland,' which is about to go into the hands of publishers.

After the meeting at Chepstow on February 12th a very nice green Tootal scarf was left behind. Will the owner kindly communicate with Miss Jacqueline S. Evans, 1, Hughes Crescent, Hardwick, Chepstow, Mon.

We welcome to our peal columns a handbell peal from Trincomalee, Ceylon, conducted by that ardent peal ringer, Mr. John H. Hunt. Until accepting an overseas appointment, Mr. Hunt rang many peals for the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

A great friend of North Staffs ringers is the Rev. William Garner, Vicar of Madeley. As a 75 th birthday compliment to him a peal of Minor in seven methods was rung. Afterwards the band were kindly entertained to tea at the Vicarage.

As a token of respect to the late Mr. Frederick White, for many years a well-known ringer in Kent, a half-mulfled peal was attempted at Marden, Kent, on February 12th, which unfortunately broke down after an hour and a half's ringing. The band stood: Miss J. Grenham 1, G. Fry 2, R. E. Lambert 3, C. A. Tester 4, L. J. Honess 5, I. A. C. Butcher 6, J. W. Meade 7, R. T. Lambert (conductor) 8 .

\section*{MASTER'S BADGE PRESENTED AT 67th HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER}

THE bicentenary celebration of the St. ham at the 67 th annual Henry Johnson Conimemoration Dinner at the Imperial Hotcl, Birmingham, on Saturday, was honoured by the presence of the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayorcss of Birmingham and representatives of the diocese and city churches. The day will go down in the annals of the Guild, as it marked the investing for the first time of a Master's badge to the Guild. It is of an exquisite design embodying the arms of the diocese and St. Martin, the work of Miss Muriel Reay. That 'grand little man of Birmingham,' Mr. Albert Walker, the present Master, was invested with this badge of office by Ald. Paddon Smith. It was indeed a great moment in the history of the Guild and in the life of Mr. Albert Walker, the occasion being marked by much enthusiasm.
Mr. Frank E. Haynes was the chairman for this year's dinner. With a membership of a quarter of a century of St. Martin's Guild, a wide knowledge of its history and as a ringer who has added lustre with others to its standards of ringing and fellowship, he was a happy choice for the evening. A company of 143 attended.
The chairman, in a welcome to the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress,, said it was the seventh occasion on which the Lord Mayor had been present at that dinner. Two of those Lord Mayors-Ald. Sir Theodore Pritchett and Ald. Paddon Smith-had been associated with their dinner in another direction. He also welcomed the Archdeacon of Birmingham, Mrs. Bryan Green, Canon Warman, the Rev. G. C. Potts (lecturer of St. Martin's) and Mrs. Potts. Apologies had been received from the Lord Bishop, the Provost and the Bishop of Aston.
Ald. H. Paddon Smith proposed the toast of 'The City of Birmingham,' and referred to its problems-traffic, housing with a waiting list of over 6,000, the colour bar and smokeless zones.
The Lord Mayor, Ald. J. R. Balmer, in his reply, said it was very gratifying to him that their Guild had been in existence for 200 years and was still flourishing. He wondered what would happen if he called a 'Bob' or what would happen if he was told to catch hold of Sally.' Would it mean clearing the tables for

\section*{GOODWILL OF THE CLERGY}

Ald. Sir Theodore Pritchett, proposed the toast of 'The Church and State.' This was, he said, the bicentenary dinner and they were looking back that day 200 years. It was an occasion when they should express their gratitude to the Church, for without the goodwill of the clergy it would not have been possible for 200 years to ring the bells of the country in expressing public sentiment. They all looked forward to another 100 years or more in which the same goodwill would be preserved, and they would be able to call on the clergy to hand over the keys of the belfry. If they were to earn that goodwill they must see that their behaviour was worthy of it and their ringing was of the best possible standard and nothing was done to upset that harmony.
The Archdeacon of Birmingham (the Ven. S. Harvie Clark) said it might surprise some of them that he had been a bell-ringer for a quarter of a century-of door bells. At his first church, Gateshead, there was a fine team of singers, and while there he learnt what they were doing for the Church. Afterwards he was at Portsea-and he was pleased that one of the company present remembered him there as a curate. Then came Jarrow-with the church of the Venerable Bede dating back to 685 A.D. Although it had only two bells, they rang out morning and evening and one was almost as old as the church itself. As to Harborne, he was told it was the only ring of bells in Birmingham which had not been recast since the first world war. Whatever the condition of the bells, they had the best band of ringers, who rang each Sunday morning and evening.

The Church appreciated very deeply what ringers did for the life of the Church. They realised that many peoole did not come to church, but the bells ringing Sunday by Sunday reminded them that it was God's day and that people were being called to worship. II assure you that the keys of the belfry will always be in your hands as long as you ring to the glory of God.'

\section*{A NAME THAT MEANT SOMETHING}
'The Memory of the late Henry Johnson was submitted by the chairman. Henry Johnson, he said, was a famous Birmingham ringer well known all over the country, and it was to him that they owed the existence of that annual gathering. It started as a birthday party in his honour, and the first occasion was 67 years ago when guests were invited from every part of the country. Before that it had been very much a parochial affair. In recent years it had grown and they were honoured by the presence of bell-ringers from all over the country. It was natural so many years after a man's death that his memory tended to fade. There were few people remaining who were actually associated with him, and to many of the younger members of the Guild Henry Johnson was merely a name, but they wanted it to be a name that meant somethino-it should stand for all that was best in their ringing exercise.
He had heard it suggested that at some future date they might consider altering the title of the dinner and even their association-to the Birmingham Diocesan Association. But the names of Henry Johnson and St. Martin stood for something that was very dear to them.
As is customary, the toast was drunk in silence.

Unfortunately, there was no one present who rang with Henry Johnson - Mr. George Mitchison, who is believed to be the only man alive who rang with him, was unfortunately in hospital. At the suggestion of Ald. Paddon Smith, the company drank to Mr. Mitchison's speedy recovery.

THE FINISHING SCHOOL
Mr. Frank Smallwood submitted the toast of - Continued Prosperity of the St. Martin's Guild.' He said he could only speak personally of the prosperity of the Guild for the past 52 years. The Guild had been well served by its officers and he would mention Henry Johnson, John Day, Henry Bastable, Ald. Pritchett, Ald. Paddon Smith. Tom Reeves and now George E. Fearn. As he moved up and down the country he met people who valued their membership of St. Martin's Guild. 'I always regard Birmingham as the finishing school. Many promising young men have come into this city with a small knowledge of ringing, but in a short time they have become efficient exponents of the art. I remember one such young man who came from a six-bell tower and before very long he was calling. Stedman Cinques. That young man is now sitting in the chair as our chairman.

And what of the prosperity of the future? Do we wish them more wealth? No, I don't think they are hard up. Do we want them to ring more peals? No. I think they have rung enough. Our wish is that young men will still come forward and under the influence of this Guild become as able exponents as those who have gone before and maintain the wonderfully high tradition it has enioyed.'
In coupling the name of Mr. Albert Walker with the toast, Mr. Smallwood emphasised that it was to him that they owed much of their prosperity.

The chairman announced that to mark the bicentenary the Guild had purchased a badge of office for the Master. He asked Ald. Paddon Smith, as the senior vice-president, to invest their well-loved Master with his badge.
In performing the ceremony Ald. Paddon Smith said: I assure you everybody in the Guild appreciates the way you have conducted its affairs. We are very proud of you, and you have the honour of being the first Ringing Master who will have an official badge.'
- A proud and historical moment in the annals of the Guild.' was how Mr. Albert Walker acknowledged this bicentenary gift. The badge, he said, had been designed by Miss Muriel Reay, and he was very grateful to be the first Master to wear the official badge.

The Society, said Mr. Walker, was established in 1755 and their-first peal book dated from 1822 although peals had been rung by the Society before that date. They had had a glorious past and had had an excellent year. Service ringing was regarded as a pre-eminent duty; they kept the bells of the City going and also those in the outside towers.

\section*{A LONDON TRIBUTE}

He mentioned how much the Society appreciated the attempt of a peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark Cathedral by the College Youths and how sorry they were that the peal was lost through the breaking of the tenor rope. At St. Martin's they had a bell rope fund and it was a great pity that other cathedrals and churches had not such a fund. If they heard of a peal a* St. Niartin's breaking down through a rope they must blame the tower warden himself.
He was pleased to announce that in honour of the bicentenary a peal of Stedman Cinques was successful at St. Martin's the previous Tuesday in 3 hours and 38 minutes (applause).
As regarded the activities of the year their total of peals had been kept going and at thetr practices at St. Martin's on a Tuesday there were never less than 14 or 16 , including many young men. The bells at Handsworth had been recast and there was now only one more to be recast -at Harborne. They had an excellent Ringing Master in Mr. John Pinfold, and their librarian (Mr. Edgar Shepherd) had written some splendid articles. His latest was in regard to Mr. Joshua Short, who was a famous ringer born in 1764. A well-preserved oil painting of him had been secured and, with the co-operation of the Vicar, that portrait now hung in Aston belfry beside that of Henry Johnson.
The chairman announced that greetings and good wishes on reaching the bicentenary had been received from the Ancient Socicty of College Youths, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths and from Mr. John Freeman on behalf of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.
A warm welcome to the visitors present was extended by Mr. Frank W. Perrens when be proposed their health. There had been suggestions, he said, in 'The Ringing World ' for reducing the number of changes in a peal. He could not help thinking why the advocates of this change did not ring half-peals if they wished to. There was nothing to stop them. It was like when butter was scaroe during the war for the Government to sell half a pound and call it a pound. Such an action would not persuade people they had a pound of butter (hear, hear).

Their visitors that day came from as far north as Newcastle and from the South Coast. He gave a special weicome to Mr. W. T. Elson, who in a fortnight's time would reach the age of 88 .

Mr. Cyril J. Watts, Master of the College Youths, in reply on behalf of the London members of the Socicty, congratulated St. Martin's Guild on their bicentenary and said he was sure that many county members would desire to join him in those good wishes. They all had a great affection for St. Martin's.
Mr. R. S. Anderson, North Staffordshire As sociation, also replied, and spoke of how much St. Martin's owed to their present secretary, Mr. G. E. Fearn.

Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward proposed the toast of 'The Ringing World ' and mentioned what pleasure it gave them to have the convener of that committee and his shop stewards with them. Ringers, he said, were very fortunate in having a paper like 'The Ringing World.' An extra 2d. a week would not break anybody and if that would bring the paper financial success no one would object.
The Editor, in his reply, mentioned that the effect of increasing the price had resulted in a drop of three and a half per cent. in circulation since December 31st, but he was very happy to state that they were still selling more "Ringing Worlds' than when he spoke at Birming. ham a year ago. He expressed, on behalf of the Editorial Committee, their deep appreciation of those who contributed to the 'Gratefully Acknowledged column. It was essential for the Central Council that 'The Ringing World' should not only be solvent but make a substantial contribution to the general expenses of the Council. The affiliation fees paid by Guilds and Associations had not in the past few years met the expenses of the Council. It was time the Council looked into its own affairs and paid the travelling and out-of-pocket expenses of the hon. secretary and treasurer in attending its meetings.
The concluding toast was that of 'The Chairman' submitted by Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd. This year, said Mr. Shepherd, Mr. Haynes had completed 25 years as a member of their Guild, and his daughter came of age.
The chairman acknowledged the compliment.
The musical programme included delightful selections on handbells by Mrs. A. A. Hughes, the usual course of Stedman Cinques rung 'in hand ' and songs by Mr. Albert E. Barley, with Mr . Raymond Pearson as a very efficient accompanst. The arrangements for the dinner were admirably carried out by Mr. G. E. Fearn.

\section*{MEMORIAL TO MR. BERT CHALLEN}

An inscription engraved in stone above the belfry door was dedicated at the Church of St . Mary ad Haura, Shoreham-by-Sea, to the memory of Mr. Bert Challen, who died on Sep tember 8th, after 70 years' service as a ringer at this church. The service was conducted by the Vicar and was attended by members of the family and ringers from Shoreham and nearby towers. During the service a plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung by members of the Sussex County Association, and the Vicar, in an address, spoke of the great service Mr. Challen had rendered, not only as a ringer, but as a devout and loyal parishoner throughout his long life.
After the service 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled by the following: 1. Challen 1, J. V. Lonsbrough 2, Miss J. Pike 3, A. W. Bond 4 A. W. Gravett 5, R. Challen \(6, \mathbf{H}\). Stalham (conductor) 7, G. North 8.

The peal of Minor in seven methods rung at Dilhorne on January 1st appeared in "The Ringing World ' on January 28th and was duplicated in the issue of February 11 hh . Will the Peal Analysis Committee and other kecpers of records please note?

\section*{THE LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

Some Reminiscences from Mr. E. Alexander Young
On' the night of Saturday, December 8th, 1940, St. John's, Waterloo Road, was struck by a high explosive bomb, which ripped off the roof and destroyed the interior-the bells being also badly damaged, but not destroyed.
- This Waterloo church, stoutly built by fine builders, took the shock and shuddered to her depths. In these depths, 150 people, including the Parish Priest, were assembled. The old church, the Mother of Souls in the Parish, true to her maternal instinct, gathered the full fury of the blow into her heart, and gave her life for her children. No one was hurt. Give God the praise.'
These moving words form part of an inscription at the west end of the interior of this now beautifully restored church.
The inscription relates that the church was built by a grateful nation in 1824, to commemoraic the victory of Waterloo-and was consecrated by the then Bishop of Winchester.
The story continues: ' 1951-Give God the Praise. On April 26th, this building, finely reconstructed, was rededicated as a Parish Church, and a Christian Centre for the Festival of Britain, by the Bishop of Southwark, in the presence of the Princess Elizabeth and the Archbishop of Canterbury.'

When the London County Association visited the church on February 12th many members and friends took pleasure in inspecting this beautiful restoration, ringing on the restored bells and admiring the neatly appointed ringing chamber-much of this being due to the efforts of Mr. Grainger. Ringing was from 2.45 to 4.45 p.m. and ranged from rounds to Surprise Major.
Shortly after 3.45 p.m. ringing commenced at Southwark Cathedral, where the ringing chamber is being redecorated, and the magnificent ring of 12 was put to full use, under the direction of the Master-rounds to Cambridge being rung, and a number of ringers had their first pull on 12 bells.
At 5 p.m. Choral Evensong was conducted by the Rev. J. Biwers in the absence of the Provost. The choral portion was beautifully rendered by the choir of St. Matthew's, Surbiton, who gave a fine effect to the anthem 'Before the Ending of the Day.' The prayers also included special reference to the ringers.

Tea at 6 p.m. for over 50 was provided in the Chapter House. the old Church of St, Thomas, which still retains its gallery and a beautiful oak reredos and makes a fine setting for such gatherings.
The annual business mecting commenced about 7 p.m., presided over by the Master (Mr. T. H. Taffender), supported by the secretaries and treasurer. The Master gave a resumé of the ycar's work and particularly referred to the pcal book, which has now been satisfactorily brought up to date. He also thanked those ringers who had helped him with the Sunday service ringing all through the year, a service greatly appreciated by the various incumbents. Twelve peals had been rung, including the first peals at Isleworth of Belgrave Surprise Major, Lincolnshire Surprise Royal, and Prittlewell, Rutland and Southwell Surprise Major and Royal. The Master further referred to the new publication "The History and Rules of the Association,' a beautifully produced booklet. This will cost the Association a considerable sum, but is well worth the money. It is issued free to new members, and at a cost of Is. 6d. to others. The Master appealed to everyone to obtain copies to help meet the cost.
All the officers wore unanimously re-elected as follows:-Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender; hon. secretary, Capt. H. W. Rogers; assistant secretary No. 1, Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson; assistant secretary No. 2, Mrs. O. L. Rogers; hon. treasurer, Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey; stewards, senior Mr. C. M. Meyer, junior Mr. T. F Victor Neil; trustces, Messrs. Frank Blewer and J. A. Hales. The two auditors elected were Messrs A. D. Barker and F. Bishop.

\section*{Several new members were elected.}

MR. E. A. YOUNG AND PEALS
A letter from a good friend of the Association, Mr. E. Alèxander Young, was read, sending his greetings and good wishes, adding: How I wish I could be present, but I am 90 in May, if I attain it-my doctor hopes so, but is keeping me indoors meanwhile.' Mr. Young then referred to the current discussion in "The Ringing World , relating to the proposed standard half-peals and mentioned that he was strongly in favour of this, and strangely enough had held this opinion since 1893, when he decided never to ring a peal unless on handbells. Incidentally, the above presumably relates to notes made by Mr. Young relating to his experience as a learner in the carly 1890's. He first learned to handle a bell in 1890, being taught by the late Mr. E. Albone, then steeplekecper at St. Clement Danes'. In January. 1891, Mr. Young was elected a member of the St. James' Society, and in the same year steward, and secretary in 1892, and his notes relate to many vicissitudes, both to himself and others, some amusing, some otherwise. In 1893 Mr . Young suggested a bicentenary peal on St. Clement's bells. The idea was taken up with enthusiasm by the Rector, and the churchwardens promised both a supper and a peal tablet if successful. To Mr. Young's chagrin, however, when the list was made up his name was omitted. However, he states, he was adamant, and at length the others agreed that he should stand in, though there was evidently some illfeeling in he matter.

Before the attempt, however, Mr. Young states that some spiteful individual inserted grit in the tenor bearings, the bell that he was to ring, in order to make it a trying job for him. The job was overdone though, and after 40 minutes' ringing the tenor set vertically, and so remained. The attempt, therefore, was postponed for three months while Mr. Albone tinkered with the bearings, not very successfully, and eventually she had to be rehung. In the meantime she had to be rung with a second rope, and when, in the October following, the peal was rung, the tablet recording it relates that it was with two men on the tenor. This tablet was placed in the porch and remained there until destroyed in the blitz.

Bitterly disappointed, Mr. Young swore that peals were the curse of the Excrcise, and that never, no never, would he ring one; but he did later relent somewhat. He adds that at that time the friction in the bearings found a counterpart in the friction between the "scroof" and other members, leading eventually to an interview with the churchwardens, after which, apparently, things settled down for a while.

Following the usual votes of thanks the meeting closcd and the annual handbell competition followed. Three teams entered-two from St. Luke's, Chelsca, and one from Isleworth. After some good ringing St. Luke's No. 1 were declared the winners by Mr. A. D. Barker on behalf of the umpires.

Some good tune-playing on handbells by members of St. Luke's, Chelsea, band closed the proceedings.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{A DISPUTED PEAL}

Dear Sir, - Would you be kind enough, through the columns of "The Ringing World,' to help settle a dispute which has arisen between some of my friends and which affects or will affect the whole of the Association to which I belong?
The dispute is over the matter of publishing a peal(?) in our annual report which has already been printed in 'The Ringing World.'
Since then, however, our peal secretary has received a letter from the conductor in which he states that 'it cannot be denied that the ropes fell in the order 12345678 two courses from the end of the peal,' and yet apparently the bells were put back in the order in which they should have been (it was a bob lead and the bob was called) and the peal(?) finished. Now, sir, is this a true peal?
1 should like to add that this is not a case of washing dirty linen in public, as the two sides in the dispute are willing to accept the ruling of the Central Council and the Exercise at large.-Yours truly,

JOHN E. FOX.
[Note-Decisions of the Council are: On all numbers of bells a true peal shall in all cases start from and end with rounds, and any shift occurring among the bells shall invalidate the performance, unless it is perceived at the time, and immediately corrected. ... That peals of Minor consist of at least seven true and complete 720 's, the bells striking round only once at the end of each and immediately going into the next. We ask the convener of the Peals Analysis Committee to give a ruling.-Ed.]

\section*{DOUBLE CHANGES}

Dear Sir,-Perhaps Mr. Martin could explain what is wrong with 360 double changes in a peal of 5,040 . If double changes in Triples are wrong, surely they are worse if Major. Or would he perhaps like to see banned all peals of Cambridge and Somerset ( 316 double changes), or even Diss and Stanton Surprise Major ( 632 double changes).

Neither I nor my fellow-critics have ever denied that the Central Council, its officers and 'The Ringing World ' have done, and will no doubt continue to do, a great deal of good. But what we are kicking against are the few officers who take advantage of their office to impose their own puritanical ideas.

There are many reasons why there should be a different set of rules governing 5,6 or 7 bell ringing. There are no reasons why irregular Minor, Doubles variations and Plain Bob Triples should be banned from the analysis.Yours sincercly.
F. T. BLAGROVE.

Stanwell, Middlesex.

\section*{HYMN TUNES}

Dear Sir, -From time to time requests have been read for tunes on various numbers of bells.

The range on five is very limited, but at this season of Lent it may be very appropriate to those who have a chiming apparatus in a tower with five tuned to the major key (it is not possible on a minor five) to quote the Lenten vesper: 'God the Father, God the Son,' each verse but one finishing up, 'Hear us, Holy Jesu', \(1,-\) 1.1,3; \(2,1,1,3 ; 1.1,3 ; 2,1,1,3 ; 3.3,3,4,3,1,2\); 3,3,4,5,4,5.
Another five-bell tune fitting to Passiontide runs: \(5 ; 5,4,3,1,3 ; 5,5,5,4.3,3,4,5 ; 5 ; 5,4,3,1,3\); \(5,5,5,4,3,3,4,5 ; 1: 3,4,3,1.3 ; 4 ; 4,5,4,4,3,1 ; 1\); \(3,4,3,1,3 ; 5,5,5,4, \mathbf{3}, 3,4,5\). The tune is that set to the hymn played by the Salvation Army quite Grequently: "Nothing but the Blood of Jesus.'
Numbers in heavy type indicate those to be played at half value to others.

Weston Favell. Northants.
P. AMOS.

\section*{A REPLY TO MR. FELSTEAD}

Dear Sir,-1 read with great interest Mr Felstead's reply to his critics. In spite of the criticism which I have during the past and (D.V.) shall in the future continue to direct against him and the Methods Committee, I can but be grateful for the amount of voluntary work that he and his confederates do. It is good that we have such people who are prepared to give so freely of their time and talents.
So much for the bouquets - now for the brickbats!

As I see it, the crux of the matter seems to lie in Mr. Felstead's belief in his statement that the Central Council 'represent a far better cross-section of ringers than any with which our critics come into contact.'
This is, of course, fallacious. A cross-section of the upper stratum no doubt, but a truer cross-section can be seen at any local gathering.
Let Mr. Felstead, who is fond of statistics anyway, compile a percentage analysis of sixbell ringers who have been members of the Central Council over, say, the last three years. By six-bell ringers I mean those who ring regularly Sunday by Sunday at their own local six-bell tower, not those who ring Minor 'on meeting short for Major,' or those who ring Minor in order to impress poor six-bell ringers how simple they are compared with men who can produce a cacophonous howl from Twelve bells!
Of course, the Council accepted the committee's recommendations on irregular methods. Nobody wanted irregular lead-ends (or heads) in Major and above and very few were interested below. If the committee had recommended that Doubles and Minor be excepted the Council would have agreed with apathy and indifference.

But with Method Extension-that was a different kettle of fish-that concerned them!
No wonder you had trouble there, Mr. Felstead.
The statement that the critics are in the minority may or may not be true; probably it is for the whole country, but it is irrelevant nevertheless.

If there is only one Minor team in one sixbell tower who want to ring one irregular method and the committee and the Council cannot produce (as Mr. Felstead admits twice in his letter) ONE good reason why they should not do so, then the Council should be prepared to accept the fact and recognise the method.

Contrary to the committee and the Council, the critics can advance many good reasons in support of irregular Minor methods any of which are worthy of consideration. Here are a few.
1. Because ringers want to ring them. Yeswe have all heard the old argument that there is nothing to stop them from doing so if they wish, but many ringers (in spite of much evidence to the contrary) are still human and, if they ring a peal, like to see their names in print in, say, the associations' reports, etc.
2. They extend the 'vocabulary.' In anticipation of the usual remark that there are plenty of methods without them, may 1 point out that on the Treble Bob system only two methods have a complete slowwork. whereas by the use of irregular methods these are extended to seven; an increase of 250 per cent. where it is most urgently required.
3. Interest. It has been admitted that, in this respect, many of the irregular methods are supcrior to many so-called regular ones, e.g., compare Oxford Treble Bob and New London, Kent and Woodbine, Old Oxford andpractically any irregular method!
4. Range of method splicing increased. On the Treble Bob system alone the range is increased from a maximum of 15 to a maximum of 23 methods in a 720; an increase of over 50 per cent.
What harm would be done in relaxing the rules in favour of Doubles and Minor ringers?

What would it cost the Council or the committee apart from admission of error or misunderstanding?

What should we think of any other sect or society that passed a rule which in effect stated: - Here we have a rule formulated without a reason, which benefits nobody but injures not a few; but, by golly, we made it and we are going to stick to it'?
I sometimes wonder which side of the fence is aping Canute!-Yours sincerely,
H. CHANT.

\section*{NEW PEALABLE METHODS}

Dear Sir,-Regarding Mr. Roe's letter. In his challenge he asked for oNe 'new' pealable method with no double changes, no adjacent places and P.B. coursing order in 7-8. He did not say ' pealable with \(7-8\) together.' Of the 'new' methods I submitted, all of which are probably pealable somehow, at least FOUR are pcalable with \(7-8\) together. Surely that is sufficient answer to his challenge.
As for his definition, I would suggest that he himself gets up to date. A band of ringers rang a method which they called Bristol Surprise. They were informed that it was not a Surprise method since it did not have internal places at the link or junction. So the definition of Surprise was changed by the C.C., and nowadays the definition of Surprise or Treble Bob depends only on the presence or absence of internal places at all cross sections, other methods being Delight, the half lead and lead end places being irrelevant in classification. So the methods that I submitted ARe strictly Surprise. London Marvel is only London Surprise.

As for his classification of simple or difficult, are we to have a Difficulty Index? If so, how will he evaluate it? Will he find the average ringer' and count the number of mistakes that he makes in a peal in the method? Or will he take it to be proportional to, say, the number of right places per course, the square of the number of spot blows per course and the cube of the number of wrong places per course?
Regarding ' Fresh Possibilities,' E. C. S. says, - All that is of value in Doubles is known. Bunk! We have as yet not even started to explore this field scriously. There are thousands of extents (legitimate at that) that have yet to be put down on paper, even in the simple case of plain methods.- Yours sincerely, F. T. BLAGROVE.

West Bedfont, Middlesex.

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION Northern District}

The Northern District held its meeting in Baldock on February 26th. Ringing began at 3 p.m. and continued until 4.30 , when the service was conducted by Canon Smith, with Miss Bate at the organ.
Mr. Butler was chairman for the business meeting, at which Mr. R. Agg, of Stevenage, was elected a member. The next meeting wilh be at Great Wymondley on March 26th, when the special method will be Norwich Surprise. The ringing festival at Benington is being revived and will take place on May 28th, so the monthly meeting will be brought forward to May 21st, and the July meeting will be on July 16 th .

It is hoped that the Association badges will be ready in time for the annual general mecting at Watford. to which a coach will be going from this District.

After the meeting the bells were rung to a variet of methods, including Ealing Surpriso.

Melton Mowbray District
Not many readers of ' The Ringing World ' will have heard of Hose. The road to Hose is one of the pleasant byways for which rural England is so justly famous, and the village stands well back from the road, quietly minding its own business. This is not to say that Hose is a place to be forgotten, as it has a small but lovely church and, as far as ringers are con cerned, a pretty little ring of five, rung from the ground floor the bells of which go very well. ground floor, the bells of which go very well. Hose has been for many months without a Vicar, but the Rev. C. and Mrs. StewartRobinson have now been installed about six weeks, and the ringers who attended the meeting on February 26 th were delighted to meet them. Apparently Mr. Stewart-Robinson served his ppprenticeship to the church at Keighlcy, Yorkshire, famous for its ring of cight. where his father was Vicar some years ago. On one occasion the special preacher at Keighley was the Bishop of Sodor and Man and one member of the congregation was heard telling her neighbour that the visitor was the Bishop of Sodom and Gomorrah I Only 23 turned up for the service and tea, but this was not surprising as the main road had been completely blocked with snowdrifts earlier in the week and travelling was still an adventure. The service was delightful and included such old favourites as the old love the place, o God.' At least one member of the congregation was reminded of a great occasion of state-the official opening of the Royal Festival Hall in London-when the ' Old Hundredth' was sung by a mighty choir and orchestra. The singing at Hose was less accomplished but no less fervent.
Tea was in the very best tradition of ringers' teas. The business meeting was conducted with the usual high spirits under the firm hand of Mr. Fred Williams. District chairman, and with secretary, Harry Cook to dot the 'i's', and cross the 't's.'
The next District meeting is to take place at Somerby on April 2nd. The District outing on Whit Monday is to Lincolnshire the route and timetable to be decided by the committee. A bus is being arranged for the general meeting of the Guild at Lutterworth on March 19th.

\section*{FIRST PEAL IN HUNTINGDONSHIRE}

Dear Sir, - Mr. Felstead and many other ringers will be interested to know that the conductor of the first peal rung in Huntingdonshire in 1888 at Keyston is still with us. He is Mr. Richard Dunkley, who is now 91 years of age and lives at the Crispin Arms, Wollaston, Northants.

As to whether there was anything wrong with the peal I can't say. I never heard Mr. Dunkley say there was. Nor have 1 heard the late Harry Chapman say there was. He knew of the peal and was a great friend of Mr .
Dunkley's before going to Manchester in 1888 . Dunkley's before going to Manchester in 1888.
He retired to Keyston in 1928, lived there 20 years and is buried at the foot of the tower.
As to the record for silence at Keyston tower which Mr. Felstead mentions, that was because the bells were never really pealable. 1 first went there about 30 years ago. and it was 'donkey's work' to ring there. They are now unringable altogether. The band who rang that one and only peal on those bells, hung right down, with cannons below the gudgeon line, huse wheels, thick sallies and four-strand ropes with a long ground floor pull, ought to have had a medal.
Mr. Dunkley, by the way, called his first peal-Minor in seven methods-at Raunds on December 11th, 1886, and it would be interesting to know if there are any other conductors of peals prior to that date still with us. The Keyston peal was in seven methods; time taken, 3 hours and 30 minutes. WHITMORE.
Raunds, Northants. W. J. WHITM

\section*{DEDICATION}

\section*{DEANE, BOLTON, LANCASHIRE}

On February 12th the recast bells of the Church of St. Mary, Deane, Bolton, were dedicated by the Archdeacon of Manchester, the Venerable A. Selwyn Bean, Chaplain to the Queen. This is an old church which last year celebrated its quincentenary, and has much of historical interest. The old bells were poor in quality, having been augmented at different times from three to eight by different founders. Although faced with renovation schemes which will cost in the region of \(£ 10,000\), the authorities realised that the bells were in need of a first-class job. The work was placed in the hands of Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. The bells are now a beautiful ring of eight with a tenor of \(1 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt. in \(F\) sharp.
All the bells were gifts and as memorials to individuals who have passed to higher service. The second was the gift of the Ringing Master and churchwarden, Major Crook, and his wife. An old stalwart, not only to Deanc, but to Lancashire ringing, Titus Barlow was commemorated by the tenor, the gift of his son Titus. Fellow ringers provided the sixth to the memory of Thomas B. Worsley and Titus Barlow, and the seventh is the gift of Titus Barlow's daughter to the memory of her mother. Another ringer, Thomas Cort, gave the fourth in memory of his parents. A former ringer's daughter gave a generous donation towards the cost of the installation in memory of Henry and Ellen Bentley. The tower clock, renewed by Messrs. William Potts and Sons, Ltd. of by Messrs. William Potts and Sons, Ltd., of Leeds, was the gift of Elizabeth Settle in memory of her son.
In spite of the bad weather there was a large attendance at the service; it was the largest gathering of ringers ever scen in Bolton except at annual meetings. A splendid tea was provided free for all ringers.
The Vicar, the Rev. K. M. Bishop, himself a ringer, the president and secretary of the Lancashire Association the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith and Mr. Fred Dunkerley, were present, and ringers from as far north as Barrow-inFurness, south, Stoke-on-Trent, west, Liverpool, and east. Leeds and Huddersficld. Every tower in the district was represented.

\section*{BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

The very successful annual meeting of the Bedford District was held at St. Peter's, Bedford, on February 5th. Ringing wàs started promptly at 3 and continued until 4.30, when the curate, the Rev. R. Spencer, conducted a short Evensong. Tea was taken in the Church Hall, after which the business meeting began, with the president, Miss E. Steel, in the chair,
The retiring secretary, Mr. B. Pattison, read his report for 1954. It was most encouraging and a tribute to his hard work. Membership had increased by ten to 116 . Five non-resident life members were elected during 1954. Sixteen peals had been rung (an increase of seven), which was very promising. The General Account and the Belfry Repair Fund both rose substantially.
The retiring secretary was heartily thanked for his hard work, and Mr. P. Shipton was elected to the vacated position. Mesirs. J. Hillson and H. Gayton were elected to the General Committee, and Messrs. G. Hutchings and L. Duffield were elected to the District Committee.
The next meetings for the following months were agreed upon and six new members were elected. It may be noted that the meeting generally deplored peals of Plain Bob on the higher odd numbers, but welcomed the method for Sunday service ringing if it brought good striking.
Ringing was resumed on the light eight of St. Peter's.

\section*{NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Eastern Branch at Loddon}

Despite almost arctic weather conditions, 27 members and friends converged on Loddon on February 19th, where ringing was soon under way to suit all capabilities. In the unavoidable absence of the incumbent (the Rev. C. Ninham) the service was conducted by the Rector of Chcdgrave (the Rev. Wynter Blathwayt), who, in the course of an interesting address, re vealed humself to have been a ringer in his undergraduate days at Oxford. He aptly illustrated how ringing and that other great Varsity physical activity, rowing, depended on rhythm and team work. This, he impressed, was necessary in all forms of church work.
The meeting. following a sumptuous tea, was presided over by the Branch chairman (Mr. E. R. Goate), supported by the Association Ringing Master (Mr. N. Golden), the Branch Ringing Master (Mr. H. W. Barrett), who is also Master of the local band, and Mr. R. E. Browne, bell-loving member of the Parochial Church Council and a veteran honorary member of the Association.
The Branch officers and committee nembers were all re-elected for a further year.
Mr. J. G. W. Harwood, who was for 21 years secretary of the Branch and was recently made a vice-president of the Association, becomes an ex-officio member of the Standing Committee. Miss D. Lidbetter, of Acle, was appointed to fill the vacancy on the Standing Committee. S. Satterley, J. Fisher, B. Hammond and V. Hills (all of Blofield) were elected as new members of the Association.
The next meeting is to be held at Pakefield on May 21st, subject to arrangements being satisfactory.
Under 'any other business' Mr. Nolan Golden held the floor and spoke entertainingly on such diverse subjects as obstacles which arise in designing and producing economically a new Association badge, the pros and cons of the Central Council attitude towards Plain Bob on odd bells, and the work generally of the Methods Committee concerning which he considered much ill-formed criticism was too often heard. He concluded with an able exposition of certain of the more controversial of the Central Council's rulings.

Votes of thanks were accorded to all who helped towards a very successful meeting and especially to Mr. H. W. Barrett, who, together with Mrs. Barrett and other local ladies, served such an excellent tea.
In conclusion reference was also made amidst applause to the presence of Mr. R. Browne's 'young' brother, Neville, who last year, at the age of 70 , rang his first quarter peal!

\section*{LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION}

In spite of the cold and unfavourable weather conditions, 60 ringers and friends attended the annual meeting of the Llandaff Branch at Pontypridd on February 19th. This musical ring of eight was soon going in the afternoon, with Mr. Fred Bailey in charge.
Following the service, conducted by the Rev. Stanley Mogford, the visitors were entertained to tea in the Church Hall. This was provided hy the Mothers' Union and the St. Catherine's Guild of Ringers, and they were sincerely thanked by Mr. Fred Bailey.
With the Vicar in the chair, the business meeting was proceeded with. Mr. R. E. Coles was re-elected secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Fred Bailey continues as Branch Master and was also nominated for the office of General Master at the annual general meeting on Easter Monday. New members included seven from Pontypridd and five from Porthkerry.
Further ringing followed and a most delighful meeting eventually came to a close.

\section*{ROVING RINGERS' TOUR - 1954}

AWIT amongst ringers was once heard to remark that the most attractive fealure of the report on the Socicty of Roving Ringers summer tour was that it made interesting reading in the winter months. To explode this theory once and for all an account is now given of the Society's eighth annual tour.
It started on the penultimate Saturday of July, and after a rather ragged assembly in Winchester, the proceedings began in carnest at Twyford; a few 'warming-up' touches in the tower were followed by the ringing of handbells in the churchyard. which brought forth the Vicar and a brief historical survey of the parish. The first night, disturbed only by the sound of many waters, was spent at the picturesque City Mill in Winchester, the country's first youth hostel, incidentally On Sunday the party, by now at full strength, derived much pleasure from joining the Cathedral band in ringing for morning service: as a result of this liaison, Grandsire and Stedman Cinques were produced on these fine bells.
The memory of the rest of that day will doubtless linger in the minds of all those members who travelled 20 miles from Winchcsicr in the pouring rain-first to Curdridge (a Taylor eight which generate a peculiar howl in the ringing chamber) and from thence to Southampton. It was a particularly bedraggled collection of specimens which presented itself to ring for Evensong at St. Michael's in that city, and it is quite lifely that the Rev. K. W. H. . .
Feltend was under the impresion that the Felstead was under the impression that the party represented a counly where no peals had been rung since 1881 . BC that as it may, we enioyed some well-struck touches and a accurse of Cambridge Royal that was exceedingly pleasant to the. ear.
The drying facilities at the Southampton youth hostel were a trifie inadequate to cope with the vast amount of sodden clothing festooned about the building, and therefore it was zitill to some accompaniment of squelching shoes that on Monday we visitied Norrth Sloncham (a yery pleasant ring), Romsey Abhey (possessing a sonorous eieith by Mears. 1797 , and an outstandingly good organ by Walker, 1855 and later, both of which were put to good use) on the way to Fordingbridpe and
and Fordingridge was even more arduous than that of the previous day due to a head-on galle in unmercifully exposed terrain:: the resculi of this was that several peoole were unable io dispor themselves on the Warner octave at the latter tower. At Cranborne, as at the first two towers on Tuesday. we were pleased to have the company of Mr. A. R. Macdonald, of Poole, who was not unduly impressed by our Spliced Surprise, rung with rather more enthusiasm than success.

\section*{MEETING WITH THE EARL OF \\ SHAFTESBURY}

At Wimborne St. Gilcs, the first tower on Tuesday, he Socicity was privileged to he met by the Farl. of Shaflesbury. who reccived members individually and ageced to he present in bers individually and ag-ecd to he present in a group photoreaph; gestures which wcre much appreciated. We understand that his Lordship commented favourably yooon our performances on these olcasant but oddstruck bells. Some found the ten at Ponle to be rather inaudible inside the tower, but Swarage. reached by traversing a chain-ferry and hatling against a sandstorm, was a great improveme.nt in this respect As we were staying in the town overnimht and as it was the local oractice night, through the generosity of the Swanage ringers two sessions were held on this melliferous Taylor cight.

The following morning, in ideal weather. we arrived, after a cood deal of slogeing (unhill all the way) at Kingston, 10 be rewarded with a magnificent view and a heavy octave (by Taylor). Good use was made of these bells before we departed for Wareham (downhill all the way), where we were confronted with a rather different type of eight; tenor of uncertain weight, and tuning slightly at variance with Simpsonian principles. Two towers remained to be attacked on Wednesday and both entailed prolonged bouts of cycling. The bells of Blandford Forum were found to be very rewarding, and the organ (a superb specimen by George Pike, England, 1794) particularly so. But by the time members severally reached Marnhulf a lack of energy was evident, consequently our performance on this typically village six (if the Marnhull ringers will permit this description) lacked that precision which is the hall-mark of the expert. The evening's entertainment did not finish when we left the tower, however; fortified in no uncertain manner by the chef of a Marnhull youth hostel, we were engaged in a skirmish in the hostel dormitory with some charming fellows, to wit, the West Ruislip Razor Slashers (motto: 'Slash yer from car to ear'). who doubiless were enjoying a few days' slashing in the provinces.
Three towers were invaded on Thursday: Mere, the writer's 300 th tower (not a prime number! ); Westbury, a tribute to the bell founders' and hangers' arts (a lady member rang the \(35-\mathrm{cwt}\). tenor with ease and grace); and Beckington-pleasant enough, but one or two had a little difficulty on account of the long draught. As the night was being spent at Bath, we were able to enjoy the company of a number of the Bath ringers in a suitahle hostelry for an hour or so (the steep hill up th the hostel was alone resnonsible for the hiring of taxis at the end of this pleasant evening !): moreover, it meant that little exertion was required to reach Friday's first tower, Twerton. We then made a brief return 10 Wiltshire to further the cause at Holy Trinity, Bradford-on-Avon (a rather oldcworlde heavy eight with rather olde-worlde hanging. it seemer), and Trowbridge, where some delightful Stedman Cinques was sent floating over the town.
After the lact scheduled ringing of the day at Molls (bells which met with general approval) a spot of tower snatching was indulged in (insult to the admirable arrangements of our competent secrctarics!). The tower in question was Croscombe, and this necessitated interrupting the local tower captain in the course of his nocturnal pint.

\section*{WEEK-END AT SHERBORNE}

It is a custom of the Society to stop itinerating from one youth \(h\) estel to another at the end of the week and to confine activitics 10 a much smaller area: to this end. accommedation is secured at an hotel in some suitahle town This year the week-end was snert at Sherhorne and our forces became progressively angmented as we travelled thither from Shepton Mallet. The first tower on Siturdav via Fverercech la delightful course of Yorkshire Royal was rung on these now famous bells). D teheat Cavlor again), where a broken rope hrought matters again), where a broken rope hrought matters to an untimely conclusion, and Queen Camel. Dinner, at the Malt Mnon was followed by - the usual social activities.' to use a phras which apocars frequently in these columns; also (as the general feeling of well-heing thecame more pronounced) by one or two rather anti-social activities-iudging from some memorable observations of a gentleman who hanpened to be standing in the wily of a curantity of water (or something) which was intended. incidentally, for a party who thought fit to sererade us from without. (Apulogies to satd gent.)

Ringing an Sunday thok place first of all at the Abbey Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, where the tenor seemed to hold no terrors for the heavy-bell merchants. Then, after lunch, while the rest travelled in a time-honoured manner, some were bold and affluent enough to charter a couple of cars to reach St. Bartholomew's, Crewkerne, with its ring of eightnot particularly egregious, but a ladies' band had obvious pleasure in ringing them to Triples -and by the same means ventured forth to East Coker to sample the products of Mr. Bilbie in an extremely well-kept tower (there were even curtains at the ringing room windowa!!
The tour ended on Monday, August 2nd. Two towers were visited on that day: Martock, famed for its nave roof, with its interesting mixture of bells by both obscure and famous (almost infamous !) founders, and, after a picnic lunch in the local (hats off to Mr, and Mrs. W. Kingcott for this), Yeovil, whose heavy ten were a fitting conclusion to a most enjoyable and profitable holiday.

\section*{A WINTER'S ADVENTURE IN TROWBRIDGE AREA}

Three cars bearing ringers from Bridgwater and N.S.T.G. with 'supporters,' converged upon the village of Steeple Ashton on February 12 th. just as snow began to fall. When we emerged from the tower after ringing on this very fine six ( 19 cwt .) it was to find the cars turned into three white statues. Not until the windscreens had been cleared could the party move off to the next tower, the good-going six at Seend ( \(14 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).).
Before going on to the third tower, Bratton ( 6.7 cwt .1 qr .13 lb ), we returned to Steeple Ashton, where the local captain and his wife had kindly boiled a kettle of water for our tea. To Bratton was a perilous journey up an icy lane, at the end of which each car was manually assisted in turning round. These bells went well and the sallies almost touched the top of the low-ceilinged ringing chamber. Farleigh Hungerford bells (4) have a long draught. An inhahitant was heard to say that he had not heard any ringing there for 20 years, but there is reason to believe that this is an exaggeration! We were joined by E. T. P. F. and two ringing associates here and at the last tower of the day, Norton St. Philip (6, 10 cwt.). This villaze is better known for its famous inn, the George, than for its hells. Thanks are due to the organiser, Michael Horseman. M. E. F.

\section*{SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION}

There was a smaller attendance than usual at the mecting of the Scottish Association held at St. John's. Alloa, on February 19th.
In the unforeseen absence of the Ringing Master his duties were ably performed by Mr. H. Sargent, of Glasgow, a past Master of the Association, and hy Mr. Donald Marshall, of Si. Andrew's University Society.
The bells, the lightest ring of eight in Scotand. were rung to rounds. Grandsire. Siedman, Erin. Plain Bob. Little Beb. Kent and Oxford Treble Bob. Towers represented at the meeting were St. Marv's Cathedrals. Glasgnw and Edinburgh. Dunblane Cathedral. St Paul's Cathedral. Dundee. St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, and the local tower.

Members of the Social Committee of the parish very kindly ente-tained the members to tca in the Church Mall. The Rector. Canon Sturreck Clarke. ioined the party at tea and told those present that it was always a pleasure for him to welcome the Association 10 Alloa.

\section*{An Average of 67.5 Peals a Year}

In our issue of January 28th we referred to ringers who achieved big totals of peals in the past four or five vears. To these shnuld be added the name of Mr. Arthur V. Pearson, of Wolve-hamoton. who in the last four vears has rung 270 peals, giving an average of 67.5 peals per year.

\section*{OBITUARY}

MR. JOSEPH B. FENTON
Mr. Joseph B. Fenton, who passed away on February 20th, aged 84, learned to ring at Sleaford, Lincs. At the age of 18 he went to work at Lincoln and joined the St. Peter-at-Arches band, which then included such well-known ringers as Lindoff and Craven. A Surprise band in the 1890's was rare, and the Lincoln band accomplished many fine feats of Surprise Major.
In 1900 Mr . Fenton went to Rugby, where James George was trying to get a band for his new octave. By 1908 Surprise peals were being rung, conducted by Mr. Fenton, the peal of London Surprise Major at Rugby by the local band at the first attempt being considered a great performance in those days. He was a founder member of the Warwickshire Guild, now the Coventry Diocesan Guild, and rang over 100 peals for the Guild. Mr. W. Vann represented the Rugby ringers at the funeral.

\section*{MR. B. RIDGEWAY}

It is with deep regret we report the death of Mr. Bartin Ridgeway, of Hinckley, who passed away in hospital at Nuneaton on February 18th, after a short illness.
Not a great peal ringer, he was always punctual for service ringing and ever ready to help with teaching youngsters. He was a trustee of the Hinckley and Atherstone districts of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows, and a Past Provincial Grand Master.

The funeral service was attended by a large congregation including St. Mary's ringers and Mr. C. E. Turner (vice-president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild) and representatives of organisations with which he was connected.

At the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by N. Marklow 1-2, E. Vallance 3-4, A. Ballard 5-6, C. E. Turner 7-8.

Later in the evening a peal of Stedman Triples was rung half-muffled as a last respect to a truly Christian gentleman.
A. B.

\section*{MR. JAMES F. SMITH}

By the passing of Mr. James Floyd Smith on Sunday, February 27th, the Oxford Diocesan Guild lost one of the best instructors it ever had. He was in his heyday on either side of the 1914-18 war, when resident in the Pangbourne area of the Thames Valley, where are numerous six-bell towers. His prowess as a six-bell ringer was generally acknowledged, and the late Tom Hibbert (secretary) and the late Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master) each said that he was the best instructor in six-bell ringing the Guild possessed, and always advised any tower needing help with a new method to get his assistance.

Born in 1880, he served with distinction in the South African War, but could never be persuaded to speak of his exploits. His medals are adorned with a host of battle honours. Serving in the 18th Hussars, he twice survived having his horse shot beneath him, and was in Ladysmith with Sir Winston Churchill.

On his return home to Chalgrove he learned to ring with his brother Sydney under the tuition of the late Fred Woodward. An engineer by trade, his work took him to the middle Thames Valley, where he soon became a most able ringer and conductor. As a teacher, he insisted on good striking and on the proper study of a method at home, and would cycle miles to any tower to help a band.
In 1926 he moved to Nettlebed. near Henley, and taught a complete band, converting a call change tower into one with an enthusiastic Treble Bob band with no help from outside. An isolated village offers little scone for employment and one by one the band left for other areas, but the six-bell grounding they had received had been thorough, and progress on higher numbers was certain. 'Jim ' persevered, however, and Nettlebed stili has ringers taught by him before he left to go to Hungerford soon after the 1939-45 war.

To his bitter disappointment he found himself in a 'stoney' area and could get none of the local ringers to make any effort to change. Here he stagnated till ill-health forced him to go in retirement, to live with his daughter in Marlow. Heart trouble prevented his ringing and his only consolations were to listen with his window open to the Marlow band performing and to hear bells broadcast by the B.B.C.
His body was brought to church on Thursday, March 3rd, to the sound of his beloved bells, and as the cortege moved to the local cemetery (still within earshot) a beautiful halfmuffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung, conducted by one of his former pupils, who learned to ring at Nettlebed under his instruction 25 years ago. He is survived by his widow and daughter. Those taking part in the funeral quarter were G. Gilbert (a very old friend) 1. R. I. Shepherd 2, W. W. Wolstencroft 3, W. Welling 4, E. D. Poole 5, R. E. Dean 6, W. Birmingham (conductor) 7, L. J. Young 8 .

He kept no record of his peals, but his brother estimates that he must have rung at least 50 , mainly of Minor. His last peal was at Hungerford in September, 1947, when the writer arranged a peal of Bob Major to enable him to enjoy at least one peal with some old friends.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN KENT}

\title{
OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS

The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor untll hls death in 1942.
No. 2294 Vol. LI.
FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1955
Regintered at the G.P.O. for transmimion as a newspaper

\section*{A RINGER AND HIS OBLIGATIONS}

RINGERS, generally, are very fond of reminiscing, to the obvious delight of their fellows and of the younger element, who thereby learn much of the celebrities of one and two generations before theirs. How often, one wonders, do they return to the time of their very earliest struggles and experiences in acquiring some degree of proficiency as bell-ringers? A few minutes' serious reflection will certainly underline théir debt to many individual ringers and towers.
The writer well remembers the circumstances that led to his introduction to the belfry, and the unflagging zeal and patience of his instructor, who was creating almost an entirely new band of teenagers. To have become one of the drifters would have been a personal affront and the height of ingratitude. Instead the writer has experienced over twenty years of immeasurable pleasure and owes an eternal debt to one man's enthusiasm. Can that debt ever be repaid?

Just as parents have a duty to provide for their children as their own parents made sacrifices for them. so a ringer owes it to his pursuit to sacrifice his time, money and effort to the generation of ringers which must succeed him if the art is to survive. In this way he can meet his obligations: but the recruitment and encouragement of young ringers is not his only obligation. He has a duty to his Church, to his belfry, to the public, to his Guild or Association, and to the Exercise at large.

His own progress was probably by way of an instructor who insisted on the best and, in doing so, no doubt spoke severely to him and all whose bell was not in its exact place. He had to learn that only the best will be accepted, and to take correction in the right spirit. There exist to-day far too many ringers, old enough to know better, who bitterly resent being spoken to, even by people whom they have themselves set in authority over them, and display the most obvious signs of bad temper and bad taste. Unless a ringer can curb such a habit, no hope of eliminating it is possible, as a young ringer witnesses it, tries it on eventually and a bad tradition is continued instead of being eradicated. One of our obligations to our belfry is to accept its discipline gracefully.

Peal ringing is a very controversial issue, but there is little doubt that the polished ringers acquired their finesse by participating in peals with other skilled performers. It is, therefore, clearly their duty to lend their skills to enable other promising beginners to reach the same standard of proficiency. One doubts whether the prolific peal ringers are in this respect really pulling their weight. The methods rung are beyond the capabilities of the keenest learner, and the colossal annual total of peals rung suggests personal self-satisfaction and kudos are of more importance than the future well-being of the Exercise. The conductor who rings ten or a dozen peals a year mainly of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major or a few simple Minor methods, with numerous 'firsts' always included, is making a worthy contribution to the future and humbly accepting his responsibilities - and his pride is of the proper kind, in witnessing the success of others! He would also be a ringer who is always in his belfry on practice night.

Ringing, like everything else, will not stagnate. Either it progresses or retrogresses, and the only means of ensuring its advancement is by regular and assiduous practice. A ringer's duty is to be in his tower every practice night, and to be there punctually. The beginner has the obligation to learn and the old hand to teach, and he who despises participating in elementary methods or in bad ringing to help a struggling band should be reminded that he had to learn once when others rang humble methods for his benefit, and asked whether he has come only to get and not to give! These may be strong words, but there is no place for selfishness in the belfry on practice night-or at ringing meetings.

The ringer also has a duty to his public. We recognise that to an outsider a peal is a quite unreasonable performance. Let us not further alienate the public by ringing at unreasonable hours, by permitting more than a minimum of jangled bells, and by our conduct when we fraternise outside the tower. If we keep people properly informed of our reasons for ringing, particularly on special occasions, they will then be more understanding and, therefore, more tolerant.

We have a duty to our Guild or Association: to attend its meetings (again to help novices as well as to advance our own standards), to help its prestige by taking part in peals under its auspices, and by not embarrassing the officials by presenting ourselves for tea without having ordered it! In all the Association rules the writer has seen there is the object of 'promoting the art of change ringing," but peal ringing is never mentioned as an object: which suggests it is not of supreme importance but only incidental.
A ringer has a duty to the Exercise at large. He should buy 'The Ringing World ' to keep abreast of opinion and developments all over the world, and to be in touch with the work of his national body, the Central Council. It is also his duty to frustrate all attempts to destroy his art by the installation of electronic and mechanical devices, and to deal diplomatically with non-ringing contacts who may be critical, or genuinely curious, regarding bells and ringers.

Finally, there is the obligation of a ringer to his Church. His first duty is to worship God. He should be regular in his public worship and encourage his colleagues to be likewise. He should consider very seriously how much he spends on his ringing for pleasure (travelling, postage, refreshment, literature, etc.) compared with what he contributes to his Church during the year. Perhaps he might make a Lenten resolution about this. Too many ringers complain that they are the ' backroom boys,' that the clergy and churchpeople have little or no interest in them. Is the fault all on one side? The writer knows of one old ringer (now deceased) who, when challenged by his Rector on his non-churchgoing, retorted, 'How long have you been Rector?' 'Oh, nine years.' 'And how many times have you been up to the belfry in those nine years?' 'Um . . . I don't know.' 'Well,' rejoined the ringer, 'you've been twice! But I've been into church more than twice in nine years! And when the east end of the church takes more interest in the west end, then the west end will take more interest in the east end '-an able reply.

But might not that old man have been wrong? Perhaps, had the west end taken more interest in the east end, the east end might have taken more interest in the west end. Ringers should not be content to remain the 'back-room boys.' They should come out into the open and identify themselves with the life of their Church, and they would soon discover that they would be better understood and more appreciated and given every encouragement.
W. BIRMINGHAM.

\section*{GILLETT} AND JOHNSTON

LMMIED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett & Johnston belis or tower clocks. Gillett & Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{Durham and Newcastle Association \\ The 12th century Church of St. Michael,} Heighington, with its three pre-Reformation bells, a tenor of 16 cwt . and a very long draught of ropes, was visited by 20 ringers from a wide area at the meeting of the Southern District held on March 5th. Methods rung ranged from Doubles to Surprise Major.

After tea in a local inn, at the business meeting, Mr. Kenneth Arthur thanked the Vicar (the Rev. A. J. Meek) for the use of the bells and for conducting the service. Coupled with the thanks, he also mentioned the Vicar's warden, who played the organ and also joined in the ringing.

\section*{Tributes to Late President at South Norfolk Meeting}

The 21st annual meeting of the South Norfolk Branch was held at Diss on February 26th. Despite the very cold weather 40 ringers and friends attended. Before the service commenced the congregation stood while the orsanist, Mrs. W. Woods, played ' O Rest in the Lord' in memoriam to the late president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, who died the previous day, and also to Frederick Roope, of Pulham Market, 60 years a ringer of the Association. The service was conducted by the Rector, Bishop Belcher, assisted by Canon Nock and the Rev. F. E. Vokes. The Bishop, in his sermon, paid tribute to the late president and Mr. Roope in their great work for the church and the Association.

The Rev. F. E. Vokes presided at the business meeting. Mr. H. J. Watts, B.Comm., lay reader of Diss, was elected an honorary member, and Messrs. G. Herbert, M. Green and H. Chastney, of Quidenham, and H. Hines, of Brockdish, elected ringing members. The Branch secretary, Mr. A. G. Harrison, gave a review of the work of the Branch during 1954. The officers were re-elected, and the new committee elected were: Miss Betty Syrett. Messrs. H. Moss, F. C. Roper, C. F. W. Phillippo, W. A. Lock, W. G. Saunders and W. Flatt.

The chairman spoke of the sterling character of their late president and the great loss to the Association, also of Mr. F. Roope's services as a faithful member and church worker.
The usual votes of thanks were accorded, also to the members of the Suffolk Guild who attended.

\section*{CHERTSEY DISTRICT WEDDING}

A wedding of special interest to the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held on March 5th at St. Peter's Church, Hersham, when Judith Ann Dodson became Mrs. Allen Harry Kingston. Both the bride and her father are ringers at Hersham, and both the bridegroom and his father ringers at Ottershaw.

Ringing by the Ottershaw band preceded a full choral service, and the Hersham ringers in their turn took over the ropes after the service. After the 'newlyweds' had left the church for the reception, other ringing friends from various parts of the Diocesan Guild rang a successful peal of Plain Bob Major in their honour.

\section*{MR. F. W. ROGERS' 600 PEALS}

With the peal of London Surprise Royal rung at St. Michael's, Southampton, on March 5th, Mr. F. W. Rogers, of Portsmouth, completed his 600 th peal. He has conducted 250.

\section*{Southern District}

Those who turned up early for the quarterly meeting of the Southern District at Sketty on March 5th were able to ring for a wedding which took place at the church. The number which arrived later was the average, and represented Porthcawl, Aberavon, Neath, Cadoxton, Gorseinon, Llandilo, with visitors from Carmarthen, Bedwellty, Cardiff and St. Athans. It is hoped that the visitor from St. Athans, who motored 30 miles out of his way, was fully compensated by his first visit to Sketty. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. H. Williams), who gave a very warm welcome to the ringers to St. Paul's, Sketty.

Tea was served in the Manor Hall, and afterwards, at the business meeting, with the Vicar in the chair, the secretary said that membership was being maintained but more members were wanted. Several new members were elected.

Mr. Meredith, of Sketty, who is leaving for Shrewsbury very shortly, was elected a life member. Good wishes were expressed by all. The next meeting will be held at Gorscinon in September.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar, and also to the ringers' wives and their mothers in arranging and helping at the tea. J. A. N..

\section*{QUERY CORNER}

Mr. Ernest J. Rowe: The Rev. F. E. Robinson, in his book, gives his last peal as rung at St. James', Devizes, Wilts. I feel, however, that in the belfry of St. Andrew's, Uxbridge, there is a board stating that the Rev. F. E. Robinson's last peal was rung in this tower. Did he commence peal ringing again after his illness, and, if so, how many more peals did he ring?

A lady is now the pacemaker in Spliced Surprise Minor ringing. Miss Rhoda Brown conducted a peal of 38 Surprise Minor methods at Frampton, Lincs, on March 5th. We feel sure that the congratulations of the Exercise will be extended to her and the band on this fine performance.

The ringer of the fifth bell in the peal at Great Wymondley on February 19th was Mr. Frank W. Croft, and not Alfred W. as printed.
Miss Denise J. Shaw, of Deer Park Farm, Thrybergh, near Rotherham, is 'The Ringing World representative for the Sheffield and District Society.
Work has started on quarter turning and rehanging the six bells at Wellesbourn Hastings, Warwicks, by Messrs. John Taylor and Co These bells have been silent for many years.
Miss Judith Holder, the first girl ringer at St. Andrew's, Ampthill, is now nursing at St. George's Hospital, London. She would like to continue her ringing in London.

The peal at Maids Moreton on February 19th was the first in more than seven methods on the bells and was not the first peal, as stated on page 133.
Eight of the 15 service ringers of All Saints', Runcorn, took part in a quarter peal of Bob Major on February 27th in honour on the birth of Elizabeth Ann Levin, on board S.S. 'Arcadia ' on February 18th, bound for Melbourne, Australia. She is the granddaughter of Mr . E. H. Hughes, secretary of the tower. The ringers were all parents, two were grandparents, two were brothers and two father and son. The band was Walter Allman (conductor), William Allman. Harold Hayes, Harold Hayes, jun., Robert Hulse, Charles Ward, Fred Newport and Ernest Hughes.

\section*{GOSSIP}

We have received an interesting photograph taken by Miss Margaret C. Kelly, of Ottery St. Mary, on October 10th, 1901, showing a band of ringers who were the guests of the Rev. Maitland Kelly on their point of departure on a farm wagon from Kelly to Launceston. The party consists of the Revs. G. F. Coleridge, Saltern, Willett and F. E. Robinson, Messrs. W. W. Gifford, E. J. Munday, G. Williams, A. T. Beeston and P. R. Lilley.

Mr. W. Meredith is leaving Swansea for Shrewsbury very shortly. The good wishes from many ringing friends will go with him.
The custom is still preserved at Stafford of ringing the bells of St. Mary's Church for the commissioning of the Assize-the day the judge arrives and also for the Assize service.

Several of the 11 eight-bell towers in Devon which have not had peals rung in them are in the northern part of the county. One of them, Georgeham, was conquered on March 5th with a peal of Grandsire Triples. The Rudhall six were augmented to eight in 1926. The majority of the band were from Coombe Martin, the only scientific tower in North Devon.
The venue for the South of England Ringers' Rally and Dinner has this year been changed from Christchurch to the Gaumont Restaurant, Bournemouth, situated only one minute from buses and railway station. As announced last week the function is being held on May 7th at 6 p.m.
At the annual meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild it was found that there were 158 paid-up ringing members for 1954. The District comprises 14 towers with a total of 98 bells, so this figure of 158 gives an average of 1.612 ringing members per bell. Is this a record? inquires Mr. W. H. Viggers.

\title{
PEAL RINGING IN KENT

\author{

FTER Huntingdonshire we come to a group of counties where thousands of peals have been rung and about which it will be difficult, in a short space, to include all the items of interest. The first of them is Kent, in which county probably more peals have been rung than in any other (that is rather in the nature of a guess at the moment, but when I have written about all the counties, I shall be in a position to say definitely). One good reason for making this guess is that the county gets off to such a good start with two towers where more peals have been rung than in any other church in the world. They are, of course, Crayford, with a present total of 509 (since 1881-there were four or five before this date), and Erith, St. John's, with 500. Thus these two alone can claim over 1,000 peals between them.
Then there are eight other towers which have passed the century mark and they account for another 1,000 peals between them. I think the only possible rival for most peals will be Suffolk, which I haven't examined properly yet except to know that six towers have passed the 200 peals mark, and six more the 100 peals mark, which suggests a 2,000 peal total from them alone, also. Be that as it may, Crayford and Erith, St. John's, are far ahead of any other church tower in the land (Loughborough Bell Foundry, which is getting on for 600 , is most of all, of course, but it is a secular ring). I am not going to say very much about these two towers, for long articles appeared in this paper about them.
Just a little comparison of the way the peals have come from the two towers will, I hope, be sufficient here. Crayford started a few years earlier than Erith, but it was the latter tower which was the most popular before the first war (not that you could call Crayford unpopular when 116 peals were rung there in that period!). No less than 241 peals were rung at Erith in those 32 years from 1882 to 1914, 237 of them from 1888 onwards. The greatest number of peals rung in any year in its history was in 1892, when 21 successful attempts were made. This average of about eight a year has been kept up very consistently since, for a further 162 were rung in the 20 ycars from 1919 to 1939, and there have been 95 in the past ten years.

Crayford has seen rather more fluctuations. Its 116 before 1914 means only about four a year, but between the wars no less than 280 were rung, an average of about 12 a year. The most prolific year was in 1934, which produced 25 of them, but other years about that time reached 24. Erith was still ahead in numbers, however, by the beginning of the last war, despite the large number of peals coming from Crayford in the 1930's, and it was only the better start which the latter got off to after the war which enabled it to pass Erith's total in 1944. One hundred and thirteen have been rung at Crayford since 1943, but during the last two or three years Erith has begun to catch up again. It remains to be seen whether it will do so in the next few years. Bat we must leave it at that as far as these two prolific 8-bell towers are concerned.

It is the 8 -bell towers which have been most popular in Kent, for all the eight centenarians are in this group. They are Dartford (181, 43 from 1882 to 1909,99 between the wars and 39 since the war); Woolwich (166, 112 before 1914, 43 from 1917 to 1939 and 11 from 1944 to 1951); Lewisham (162, 114 from 1881 to 1914, 39 between the wars and nine in the past six years); Gravesend (134, 34 pre-1914, 85 from 1923 to 1939 and 15 from 1945 to 1954); Speldhurst ( 125,98 from 1886 to 1911, 17 from 1921 to 1938,10 since 1945) ; Tunstall (120, 56 from 1900 to 1914 , and five from 1920 to 1923, when there were six bells in the tower, 37 on the eight bells between 1923 and 1939 and 22 since 1943); Tunbridge Wells (113, 49 pre-1914, 44 between the wars, 20 from 1945); and Bromley (109, 55 from 1884 to 1912 and 54 from 1918 to 1939 -this tower was destroyed in the war). It will be seen from these figures how consistent has been the peal ringing in the county over the past 70 years.

\section*{CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL}

There are two 12-bell towers in Kent-Cauterbury Cathedral and Quex Park. The former was a 10 -bell tower at the beginning of the period, and 28 peals were rung there from 1884 to 1923 (with the usual gap of the war years) on the ten. After augmentation, 15 peals were rung up to 1937 and there have been eight since the war, giving a grand total of 51 . Quex Park (a secular tower) was more popular early on, for 66 of the 96 peals were rung before 1911. There were 21 from 1920 to 1939 and nine since 1951.

The most that the seven 10 -bell towers can muster is 70 (and there are actually two 6 -bell towers with a bigger total than this, as will be seen later). Greenwich has this number, and 60 of them are prior to 1913. Eight were rung in the early 1920's and one each in the years 1930 and 1937. Thus it is nearly 20 yeats since a peal was rung here. Leeds (a famous tower of old) has 69 in the period. It has done better in the latter half of the 70 years than in the former, for only 15 peals were rung before 1913, and there have been 19 since 1945. Maidstone has 61 -one a year from 1883 onwards with gaps from 1910 to 1922 and during the last war. Beckenham was an 8-bell tower up to 1933 , and 22 peals had been rung from 1905 up to the augmentation. Five were rung on the ten before the last war, and there have been 19 since then. Rochester Cathedral was also an eight up to the early 1920's. Twelve peals were rung on the eight bells from 1905. Nineteen more came before 1939 on the ten from 1924. and the tower has appeared eight times in the lists since 1945. St. Lawrence, Thanet, likewise became a 10 -bell tower in 1924, and only seven peals had been rung there prior to that, the earliest in 1891. It was more popular with ten bells and there followed 12 peals up to 1939, and ten in the last ten years, giving a total of 29 . The last of the 10 -beli towers is Cudham, where only 17 peals have been rung. These have all come since 1930-at about one each ringing year.

A few more of the 8 -bell towers are worthy of mentioning, especially those which are nearing the century mark Canterbury, St. Stephen's, is nearest with 98. The majority (67) were rung between 1901 and 1914, but there were 21 from 1920 to 1935. Only five have come since then, three since the war. Milton (Gravesend) has \(95-\) the first in 1891 and most between the wars (63). Fifteen have come from 1946 to 1953, so the 100 should soon go up. Sittingbourne has scored 94 . The post second war period is the best here for 28 have been rung since 1944. There were 32 before 1914 and 34 from 1919 to 1939. Rolvenden and Gillingham have both 92 . In each case they are spread evenly over the whole period and both have produced just under 20 since 1944. Three towers in the 80's are Deptford (St. John's) and Swanscombe (both 84) and Northfleet (83).

\section*{SIX-BELL TOWERS}

Several 6-bell towers have good totals for their group, and one in particular-Lamber-hurst- deserves special mention, for it is nearing the century ( 91 peals). As I have previously said, only one 6 -bell tower in the whole country has passed the 100 mark (Thornton Magna with 136) and actually Lamberhurst comes third in the whole country, for only Wickham Skeith (apart from Thornham) can beat its total and that only by one. Since this tower has not been heard for many years and Lamberhurst has (but not so frequently as before the war) it should soon move up into second place. Lamberhurst's peals are spread fairly evenly over the years from 1906, but we find a bigger proportion from 1928 to 1939 (40) than elsewhere. Six have been rung since 1948 Horsmonden (72) can also beat the 10 -beli towers for number of peals. The earliest here was as far back as 1888 , but the best period was again between the wars when 49 were rung Eleven have come since 1945. The only other 6 -bell tower to pass the 50 mark is Bobbing with 52. Only two of these came between the wars (in 1936 and 1937). Twenty-nine were rung from 1896 to 1914, and there have been 21 in the past six years, so the tower is going great guns at the moment. Other 6 -bell towers worthy of note are Upchurch ( 43 peals), Willesborough (39), Teynham (36), East Peckham (34), Seal Chart (33) and Rodmersham (31). With the exception of Teynham all are doing very well at the moment.
There is little to be said about the 5-bell towers. Only 11 out of the 26 have had peals rung at them-Stockbury having the most (six in the past three years).
As for virgin towers, Sandwich alone of the 868 -bell towers has not appeared in the peal lists during the past 70 years (but peals were rung here over 100 years ago). Several of the 6 -bell towers need attention as far as ringing a peal on them is concerned. They are Chislet, Eastling, Elmsted, Kennington, Maidstone (St. Michael's), Pluckley, Sheldwich, Southborough and Southfleet. But nine out of 100 is not many Thus only ten out of the 1956 - to 12 -bell towers have not had a peal rung at them since 1881. No doubt some of these will be conquered soon. Only four of the 868 -bell towers have not had a peal since the war, the longest silence being at Lee (last peal 1931). Several 6 -bell towers have been silent longer than this, with Boughton Monchelsea holding the record, since its only peal was rung in 1904.
So much for the prolific peal ringing county of Kent.

\section*{MORE BELFRY GOSSIP}

Leicester friends will join with us in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. John R. Smith on the gift of a son. The happy father conducted a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Bunwell in honour of the event on March 5th.
The bells of Diss Parish Church were rung half-muffled on March 5th to the memory of the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, president of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and for Mr. F. Roope, for 60 years a member of the Association.
A centenary peal was rung at Loddon, Norfolk, on March 5th, 100 years after the first peal of Major at this tower. The same composition, one of Charles Middleton's, was used The band that rang the original peal was Edward Goose, Robert Burrell, Charles Middleton, William Freeman, Robert Palgrave, Walter Cole, James Truman and George Smith. Are there any ringers living who rang with any of them?

\section*{Members of the Universities Association} will note with pleasure that Southampton Uni versity Ringing Society, which was founded last November, has rung its first quarter. The Society use North Stoncham tower for instruction and regular practices. With the assistance of ringing members of Peter Symonds' School Winchester, the Society is attempting to introduce some of the Minor and Doubles methods less frequently rung in the district. Already two joint peals of Minor have been rung. The Society has at present a membership of nine.

SHIEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

\section*{A Gain of 50 Members in 1954}

Over 40 members from 15 towers journeyed amidst wintry conditions to Ranmoor Church for the annual meeting of the Sheffield and District Society. Ringing in a variety of methods from Grandsire Doubles to London and Bristol Surprise continued from 3 p.m. 10 9 p.m.

With his usual efficiency the Rev. John H. Pain presided over the business meeting, at which members were confronted with a long agenda. This, however, duc to excellent preparation at the committee meeting held earlier in the afternoon, was dealt with in record time.

The secretary, Mr. N. Chaddock, reported a most successful year's activities, saying that over 50 new members had been elected, and that both the income and the worth of the Society had increased considerably. Meetings had been well attended. In thanking various bodies for their support in making the year such a successful one, he said that the Society was indebted to 'The Ringing World' for publishing, promptly and in full, all the reports he had sent in.

The Ringing Master, Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert, remarked how promising it was that there were so many towers in the area with large numbers of young recruits coming forward, and emphasised the value of ringing meetings to these ingers of the future.
Mr. N. Chaddock expressed his wish to bc relieved of his dutics as secretary as he had in exceptionally busy ycar before him. Mr.
John Seager was elected to take his place. John Seager was elected to take his place.
Other new officers elected were: Vice presidents, Mr. F. Brunt and Mr. W. L. Robinson; Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. W. L. Robinson;
'Ringing World' representative, Miss D. J.' Shaw. All other officers were re-elected.
A fixture list for the next two years was agreed upon, covering 24 towers.
The meeting concluded with the president, Mr. H. O. Chaddock, expressing satisfaction on the progress made during the year and prospects for the future. He thanked friends at Ranmoor for the excellent arrangements provided for this meeting.

\section*{SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

The annual meeting of the Eastern Division held'at St. Mary's, Eastbourne, on February 26th, was attended by about 42 members, a little helow the average for the annual meeting, but no doubt the very cold weather had some effect on attendance.
Ringing during the afternoon and evening was varied and included rounds, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich. There was a short service conducted by the Vicar (Canon L. E. Meredith) assisted by the Rev. Mr. Tibbs.

An excellent tea, served in the Old Parsonage, was followed by the business meeting. Mr. S. E. Armstrong, Master of the Association, was in the chair, and members expressed pleasure that he was able to attend. The secretary's report and the balance sheet were read and adopted. The secretary was able to report a good increase in membership, including the tower affiliations of Northiam, St. Saviour's, Eastbourne, Waldron and Willingdon. The bells in the Division were reported to be in good condition.

All the officers of the Division were re-elected:-Mr. R. W. Pankhurst, secretary; Mr. L. W. Giles, Ringing Master; Mr. T. A. Hunnisett, auditor: Mrs. B. Percy and Mr. H. G. nisett, auditor: Mrs. B. Percy Reynolds, committee members.
Thanks were expressed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, the organist who kindly offered his services at very short notice, and the ladies for an excellent tea.

\section*{EXPLORING IN WARWICKSHIRE}

Friends from Wolverhampton and Little Aston, near Lichfield, were exploring five- and six-bell towers in Warwickshire on Saturday, February 12th.

At Barston, near Solihull, the Vicar informed the party that the bells had not been rung for seven years and, as far as he knew, were unringable. An inspection revealed that all that was wrong was that a little of the treble wheel was missing. The Vicar, who is a ringer, gave permission for a trial. The bells are the second lightest five in the county, the tenor (a bell of 1683 by Matthew Bagley) weighing 5 cwt. in C. Matthew Bagley also cast the second six years later. The treble is by William Bagley, cast in 1691, while the fourth is 1728 , by Joseph Smith, of Edgbaston. The third is the most interesting, being a 14 th century bell. Although they are all in tune, they need rehanging before a peal could be attempted.

Honiley, near Warwick, has a somewhat peculiar looking tower containing a poor-going five of fair tone (tenor 8 cwt . in A). An order for rehanging is shortly to be placed-not before time. The front four are hung on one level with the tenor above in the centre, at the bottom of the spire.

On arrival at New Milyerton the band discovered that the reputed ring of five there consisted in fact of four clock bells hung dead, and an hour bell ( \(14 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.) hung for ringing. Fellow 'tower snatchers ' interested please note.
In contrast, the band received permission from the Archdeacon of Coventry to try the excellent six bells at Bilton, near Rugby, on condition that ringing was kept to a minimum. The bells (tenor 7 cwt . in A flat) were retuned and augmented from five by Taylor in 1948 . The church is fortunate in possessing a good, keen, local band, who practise every Monday.

Although disappointed they could not ring there, the band are pleased to report that an order has been placed to have Napton-on-theHill bells overhauled, and they received an invitation to try them out when the job is completed.

St. Leonard's, Priors Marston, was the last tower visited-a finc-toned ring of six (tenor 14 t cwt. in F). Originally a six, by H. Bagley. in 1721, they were retuned and the tenor recast by John Taylor and Co.

\section*{LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD}

The annual meeting of the Elloe Deaneries Branch took place at Spalding on February 19th. Ringing commenced at 2.30 p.m. The service, at 4 p.m. Was conducted by the Rev. D. Jenkins, and the address given by the Rev. G. N. Heath.

Tea was taken at the Greyhound Hotel, an excellent meal which was enjoyed by the 47 members present. The business meeting followed, and in the absence of the president (the Rev. M. H. R. Synge) the Rev. G. N. Heath took the chair. All officers were re-elected with the exception of the vicc-president, the Rev. Mr. Wright, of Deeping St. Nicholas, who is leaving the district; the Rev. Mr. Davies, of Fulney, was elected to fill this vacancy. Membership was still on the increase with plenty of young members coming along. The Branch funds were also in a healihy state. A sum ot two guineas was granted to the St. Paul's Cathedral appeal, and the sum of five guineas was granted to Thetford. Norfolk, to help towards the cost of a new headstock for the sixth bell; this unfortunately broke on the Spalding outing last year.
The best wishes of the members were expressed to the Rev. G. N. Heath, who is shortly leaving to take over a new parish in Hertfordshire.
The meeting closed with some handbell ringing. All then returned to the tower for more ringing. Methods ranged from rounds and Plain Hunt to Surprise Major. \(\quad\) R. C. N.

\section*{MR. JAMIES F. SMITH An Appreciation}

The Oxford Diocesan Guild has lost a faithful servant in the death of Jim Smith, and those whom he taught to ring a true ringing 'father. As one who learned the rudiments of ringing from him, the writer can testify to his born leadership and gift for instructing. Almost all his life he had been in charge of men and he brought that discipline into the belfry. He was no martinet but he would not tolerate indifferent striking. The older hands at Nettlebed (Oxon) didn't take kindly to criticism, but the youngsters nurtured in the tradition of 'only the best will do ' revered a leader who established standards that would make them unashamed in any tower they visited.
His enthusiasm was conveyed to his pupils, and it was quite common for the bells to be rung three and four times on a Sunday. Jim devoted hours to his trainces outside the belfry. The village club was the ringers' rendezvous and, to the obvious amuscment of the uninitiated, the mysteries of change ringing were explained orally and on paper, and 'homework: set to bc figured out before the next visit to the belfry. Every recruit was well in advance theoretically of what was being practised. Thus beginners were eager to advance to what they had already studied.
Enthusiasm was maintained by cycle outings about twice a year, when two towers would be visited on a Sunday afternoon and evening. Mr. Smith made a point of introducing his foungsters to his old ringing friends and personalities in the Guild, so they felt part of the greater brotherhood of ringers and not ringing outcasts from a remote country village. Once Grandsire Doubles, Bob Minor and Oxford Bob were mastered he switched to Stedman because, as he often said, 'If you can ring Stedman you will always get a pull when you visit another tower. Although a beginner finds the mastery of Stedman more difficult than methods, Jim's skill as a teacher was such that one new recruit who joined the band when they were attacking Stedman was soon ringing it perfectly before he could ring Grandsire or Plain Bob.

His favourite methods were Double Oxford and Woodbine, and the writer, brought up to love Woodbine, feels a natural opposition to thase who would forbid it. Mr. Smith was never at home on eight bells, though he rang the standard service methods, but as a ringer and conductor of Minor he was brilliant.

When he found himself since the last war among ringers with no wish to learn, or to change from their 'stoney' ringing he was almost heartbroken, and often spoke to the writer about his misfortune. For the past two or three years he did no ringing on doctor's orders, but when the writer visited him a week or two before his death he was conversant with every topic from 'The Ringing World,' and mentioned all the peals in which the writer had participated in recent years, inquiring about therr standard and the bells. He pleaded for some action to be taken on behalf of those incapacitated like himself, on the shabby treatment meted out to ringing by the B.B.C., when a few minutes" uninterrupted ringing would bring so much pleasure and satisfaction.

Many a ringer has enjoyed the hospitality of his home, and seen him tapping changes on his handbells or enjoycd his anecdotes of ringers and ringing incidents. always clean and kindly. After ringing he regularly attended the service, and as a singer joined in the hymns, singing lustily in harmony. His life was an example of what a good ringer can be. May he find rest and joy in his new life beyond the grave. W. B.

The peal of Doubles recently rung at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Hambleden, Bucks, was the first since the rehanging of the bells last year. It is also believed to be the first ever rung on the bells, which were augmented to five in 1634 .

\section*{A DISPUTED PEAL}

Dear Sir,-In his letter on the above subject Mr. Fox does not put the position at all clearly. As chairman of the committee at the time the matter was discussed, may I give the facts as they were presented to us?

Fordham Surprise Major was being rung, a bob was called, the fourth bell should have run in but did not do so at once, thus causing a little confusion in the striking. I questioned several of the band who were present at the meeting and was quite satisfied that the trip had been corrected at once and that no 'fiddling' had been done. The committee decided by a large majority to accept the peal for inclusion in the annual report. It must be assumed, therefore, that Mr. Fox has written to you for his own satisfaction; he certainly was not asked to do so by the committee.-Yours faithfully,

FRANK W. LACK

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE'S

\section*{RULING}

Dear Sir,-If the facts are as stated, the Analysis Committee would not accept it as a 'true peal.'
I can personally quote several instances where this has happened-bells, accidentally running into rounds-but 'Stand, was called and the 'peal' was not even sent in.
The conductor should, in my opinion, natify 'The Ringing World' that the peal has been withdrawn

\section*{' THE CRAIFTY BRER FOX}

Dear Sir,-I would like to point out to Mr. K. W. H. Felstead that, had he intended emulating the antics of Brer Rabbit, he would not, as he implies, "lie low and say nuffin,' for it will be remembered that it was the crafty Brer Fox who lay low while Brer Rabbit got himself all stuck up on the Tar Baby. Perhaps one of Mr. Felstead's critics could tell us whether the Tar Baby's name could possibly have been Robert Triples.

\section*{ST. DUNSTAN'S DOUBLES}

Dear Sir -In your issue of March 4th I notice that Mr. Smith, of Lichfield, makes some remarks about St. Dunstan's Doubles being included in our handbell peals at Sherburn-inElmet, and I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my opinion of the method. Mr . Smith states that it was condemned by the Central Council as an illegitimate method a few years ago, but if he cares to examine a copy of the Council's book on 'Doubles and Minor Methods' he will find that St. Dunstan's is included, without any comment on its illegitimacy.
After all, it is practically Grandsire Doubles with an extreme in place of a plain lead. If, as he says, its illegitimacy is due to the fact that it has not the same number of leads in a plain course as there are working bells, I think he will find there are other methods with the same ' fault.'
Personally speaking, this is the first time 1 have heard anything querying the legality of St. Dunstan's.
In conclusion, may I say that I am hoping to ring a good many more handbell peals with Mr. Sheppard and Co. and hope that (unless it is quoted as illegal by the Council) we shall complete our Doubles peals with an extent of St. Dunstan's.-Yours sincerely,
E. M. BRADLEY.

\section*{BLUE BOOK AND REGISTER}

Dear Sir,-I consider the suggestion of 'Blue Book' and 'Register' a very good one. It is a pity it has not been put forward before.
The difficulty with the 'Blue Book' will be, I think, a workable system of classifying methods and fitting index letters and numbers to avoid a cumbersome group of letters and figures for each method. Also a really competent keeper of the 'Blue Book' must be found. A retired records clerk would be the right person, if such a person willing to do it could be found in the Exercise.

I hope that if and when the work of classifying is undertaken, room will be found in the method notation for a symbol indicating its musical qualities, say, Stedman, Double Norwich and Superlative as the yardstick in their different classes for a definition of quality. We ringers claim that we ring for the glory of God, so let us find out what is the best ringing, for only the best is good enough for God.-Yours sincerely,
A. H. KEMP.

\section*{'THE RINGING WORLD'}

Dear Sir,-Not long ago we understood if more postal subscribers could be found there would be no need to increase the price. Now it has been increased it will be interesting to note the effect. My view is that a peal advertisement charge of 3 d . per bell should have been tried first; on the average this would realise \(£ 200\) to \(£ 250\) per year, and with voluntary donations there might be a surplus. Each year the Central Council could vote such surplus to a worthy bell restoration fund and the ringers could partly justify their use of bells for peals. If the price is continued at 6 d . we may find some will cancel, many will sharc, and the prospects of new subscribers are lessened. May we hope this matter will be debated at all annual meetings and the Central Council representatives will be instructed to vote as the majority desire, and the price will once more encourage more subscribers.

\section*{LENGTH OF PEALS}

Dear Sir ,-If a full peal is too long in some circumstances, why not recognise half-peals of 2,500 or over ( 2,520 for Triples, and four extents of Minor 2,880 ) and leave us our quarters for Sunday service ringing?
Why this craze for speed in peal ringing? I so often hear 'What has been the quickest peal rung on these bells?' 1 would much sooner hear "Which was the best-struck peal on these bells? '-Yours sincerely,
C. TOM DREW.

\section*{278 SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS}

Dear Sir,-I regret to say that the list of c.p.s. Surprise Major on page 102 contains the following mistakes:-
(54) For \(14,-, 14\) read \(14,-, 34\).
(58) For \(12,38,14\) read \(12,36,14\).
(86) For 14-14 read \(14-12\).
(91) For \(14,-, 34\) read \(14,-, 12\).

The following are not c.p.s. : Nos. 41, 43, 44, 45. \(48,222,223,270,271\).

I apologise for these slips.-Yours sincerely,

\section*{MAINLY ABOUT TRIPLES}

Dear Sir,-With reference to the letter from Mr. W. A. J. Knight, published in your issue of February 25 th, I think Mr. Knight will find that, if he takes the trouble to read my letter properly, I was certainly not advocating the rejection of peals of Grandsire Triples from the Analysis. 1 expressed the opinion that if peals in any method had to be rejected, I would vote for the rejection of peals of Grandsire Triples; however, I went on to say that I fail entirely to see why peals in any method, whichcontain 5,040 true changes, should be so rejected. I can assure Mr. Knight that I make no claims whatever to be a conductor in any method, and anyone who can call such a peal as Holt's Original, and correct any trips which may occur, has my wholehearted admiration. I am fully aware of the difficulties involved in conducting a peal of Grandsire (a duty which 1 am not likely ever to undertake), but this fact does not make Grandsire in itself a better method. In previous letters published in these columns I have stated at Iength my reasons for believing that Grandsire is a 'dead end ' method as far as progress in ringing is concerned; the popularity of the method is perfectly obvious to all, and the preference is purely one of personal opinion.

However, leaving aside this vexed question, I have not yet read in these columns of a satisfactory answer to my question as to why peals of Bob Triples should be rejected from the Analysis-the reason is probably that there is no satisfactory answer. However, even if the Council, at the Bristol meeting, does take the step of refusing for the future to accept for its records a peal in a perfectly true and complete method, the mere thought of making such a decision retrospective is wholly ludicrous: to declare that a peal of Bob Triples rung in, say, 1910, is not now to be recognised is rather reminiscent of the trial of the bones of Thomas a Becket for treason, some 500 years after his martyrdom !
One or two final points. I would like to thank Mr. Felstead for his lettel, and assure him that I am well aware of the proceedings at most of the recent Council meetings; I wished merely to emphasise the need for delegates to remember that they are there to put forward the views of their Associations and Societies, however much these may conflict with the recommendations of the various Council committees. This, of course, leads to a consideration of the main point raised by Mr. Birmingham in the fourth paragraph of his letter, also published in the issue of February 25th. All delegates must at some time or another have been confronted with the necessity of voting on an important matter, which they have had no opportunity whatever of bringing before a representative gathering of the members of the Society which they represent. There is certainly plenty of room for action over this matter, and 1. too, hope very much that the question will be raised at the Bristol meeting.
One last word-personally I take part in peals for my own pleasure and not solely for the satisfaction of knowing that these peals will be included in the Analysis (how many ringers can seriously say that the ever examine the Analysis in detail?). It is the principle that concerns me; why should peals of Grandsire and Kent Treble Bob be included in the Analysis and those of Plain Bob Triples reiected when all three methods have the defect (if defect it can be termed) of one bell striking four times consecutively in one place? I had the pleasure of taking part very recently in a good peal of Bob Triples, and I care not in the least whether this peal will be included in the 1955 Analysis or not. I enjoyed taking part, as did all the band, I am certain. NO, sir, tho whole affair is a matter of principle, and an important principle.-Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND
Hildenborough, Kent.

\section*{' CHURNING OUT v. DESIGNING'}

Dear Sir,-Mr. Blagrove's list of Surprise forms in the Major stage will be useful to those scoring 'first in the method' peals, but there are second thoughts on this matter.

This is no disparagement of his effort. On page 812 of issue 2,280 , he himself makes light of it, saying that he turns out Surprise methods - at a higher rate than one a minute.' Again, though he says that 'there are over 200,000 of them,' even with limitations he imposes, yet on page 102 of issue 2,290 , he claims that his list of 278 methods he "churned out and proved in under ten hours.' So how many of the 200,000 he made out and examined we may guess. But to inspect even one three-hundredth part of that total would be to make out, and test completely, at least one every minute of that 'under ten hours.' Even employing a digital computer would take longer than that to set it up !

But seriously, he confuses this 'churning out' process, with that of obtaining a method "by design.' The former process, routine, mechanical, repetitive, may be undertaken (as we indicated on page 11 of issue 2,284 ) by anyone shown the routine of place-marking-in. Severai, if not all, of these major forms he listed will have been previously noted by some or others of us in working over many years in the field of method structure. In fact a very rough check indicates that at least about 40 have been previously published. That a potentially exhaustive list of these particular forms of method has not been previously compiled only serves to illustrate the point that it has been considered preferable to make particular note only of what has been 'designed' for some, specific object 'Churning out' yields skeletons, exhibiting (superficially) little of the characteristics and qualities of the method until examined; whereas the alternative approach is to decide on certain requirements of design-effectively, what you will get in the blue line, in musical qualities and so on-and to draw up the specification for the method accordingly, having regard especially to its 'family' capacity. This last qualification (modern designs should be fully extensile) will demand, Mr. Blagrove will find, something more in time and ability than the 'churning out' process. It is a factor his list ignores, nor does it indicate whether the forms are basic or otherwise. (Even so, the list is limited to even-bell methods, to hunt-controlled forms, to the Major stage only and to "Surprise, only.) Unfortunately for his cause he does it further disservice by declaring that we - idolise' method designing.

On the contrary, one's true objective is to explode the myth that it is some sort of secret process of 'discovery,' and to show that it consists in building up a framework from given particulars, i.e, formulating a SPECIFICATION, which shall define the method pattern for all tenable stages. The act of designing a method resides in drafting the specification and not in filling in the place-positions of one stage only. For example, when I wished for an en tircly new method for the Coronation, 1 designed it to embody 'stepped 'places in symmetry, forming a pyramidal shape in the grid pattern, suggesting the position of the Sovereign at the head of the State. That it might have a more general appeal I decided that it should be a plain-hunt-controlled even-bell method. Mr . Blagrove tells us, on page 812 of issue 2,280 , that all Plain Major methods are in the Driver collection. But the fact is that my specification provided a quite new method in that class, fully extensile; the design being deliberate-not hit upon by routine pegging of place-positions until sundry 'skeletons' showed something we were after. The basic was found to be in the Major stage. It was named 'REGINA' and a peal was later rung at Witney, in Oxfordshire, conducted by Alan Pink.

But Mr. Blagrove would appreciate far more of our main contention by trying his hand at 'designing.' If he would care to have a shot, here is an outline specification which will give him greater latitude than normally. He may be satisfied to tackle one stage only:

Type.-Omni-working. (No hunt-bell.)
Form.-In Triples, 'Double.' (Basic stage.) Characteristics.-Variable position of grouphunting with paired dodging.

The clues to the design are implied. (It will not be satisfied, of course, by such as 'Double Stedman.'-Yours very truly, A . YORK-BRAMBLE.

\section*{PRESTON CANDOVER-WITH-NUTLEY}

Dear Sir,-A couple of years ago I wrote about the cacophony of our ring of five at Preston Candover, Hants.

Friends in the Exercise and in the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild may like to know that those bells are out and on their way 'to the pot,' where, with the Laverstoke bell (1624) they will be converted into a ring of six with the Laverstoke bell as tenor. We are hoping that they will be back and rededicated by the autumn.
We have been blessed with a substantial grant from the Barron Bell Trust, and during the last six months, since the appeal was launched, we have received a total of \(£ 450\) towards a total of \(£ 900\).

Maybe there are some who would like to share in our aspirations by sending a small contribution. Every little helps.-Yours sincerely,

\section*{TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{A New President and Ringing Master}

It is the custom in this Guild to hold the annual business meeting alternately in the west and cast of the county. This year it was the turn of the east and it was held on February 26th amid snowy conditions in the beautifully warmed Church Hall at Liskeard. Among those who attended were representatives from the little parish or Zennor, near St. Ives, which, according to the newspapers, had recently been cut off from the rest of the world by snow.
Two important changes were made among the officials. Miss E. Symons, the retiring president, having stated in a letter that she would be quite ready to give place to a younger member should the meeting desire it, Mr. A. Carveth, of Kenwyn, was elected president. Mr. Southeard, who has for many years given magnificent service as Ringing Master, has for some time wished to see someone else in his place, and Mr. D. Burnett was elected Ringing Master. The other officials were re-elected. A recommendation was made that the President and Ringing Master should be changed every two years.
The treasurer reported a balance of over \(£ 54\), and a letter was read from the peal secretary stating that 14 peals had been rung for the Guild during 1954. It was resolved that peals rung which do not conform to the rulings of the Central Council should not be inserted in the Guild peal book or published in the Guild report.
The Diocesan Festival is to be held at Launceston on the second or third Saturday in July. Launceston is a perfect paradise for bells, there being three good rings in the town in walking distance of each other, and another good ring of eight just over a mile outside.
The retiring president and Ringing Master were thanked for their good services to the Guild, also the Vicar of Liskeard for the use of the Church Hall and Liskeard bells.

\section*{THE BELLS OF TWO SURREY 'FOLDS'}

Among the group of 'fold ' villages to be found in Surrey only two are known to possess a ring of bells, the octave at Chiddingfold and the light six at Dunsfold. These villages are not many miles apart, and in both are found interesting churches with bells of good quality which have known recasting within the last twenty years.
Chiddingfold was made a market town by Royal Charter in 1300, but at the present time there is very little to show of such a status, even though the population is over 2,000 . The church tower, stunted and unimposing, was probably built in the 15 th century, but its height was increased by 14 feet in 1870 . To reach the ringing room you ascend a stairway in the church and pass through a trap door, an unusual and awkward contrivance. The bells were four in number when the 'Inventory ' was taken in 1552, and one of them can still be found in the tower, though not included in the present ring of eight.
Bells by three members of the Eldridge family had dates of 1622,1656 and 1665, and Samuel Knight dated one in 1699 which, like the others, were recasts. In 1870 Mears and Stainbank cast a treble, for the back five and Warners added two trebles in 1894. In 1936 seven of the bells were recast at Whitechapel, and a new Sth was cast to take the place of the preReformation 5 th which was taken out of the ring after several centuries of service. This bell, now hung dead and used as a minute bell, has the 'lion's head ' foundry stamp of the Wokingham foundry, also the R.L. bell W shield which denotes the period when Roger Landen had the foundry from 1448 to 1487: It is inscribed 'Sancta Trinitas Ora Pro Nobis.' The present octave is a pleasing ring with a tenor 12 cwt .2 qr .26 lb . in F sharp.
Dunsfold nestles at the foot of the southern slopes of the North Downs, with a church well away from the village overlooking a tributary of the River Arun. The first church fell down in 1275, and the present building was probably built by the Augustinian Canons, who had a house on the river bank nearby. Dating from the middle of the 13 th century visitors will find it a perfect gem of a village church. The list of Rectors goes back to 1294, and the key of the church dates back to the first Rector. It is a massive piece of ironwork, probably made from iron mined near at hand.
It would seem that the builders intended to complete the church by a central tower, but the part of the plan was never carried out. Instead, there is a small spire carried up over the roof at the west end, and in this is housed a ring of six bells, the tenor of which is 10 cwt .3 qr .21 lb . in A flat.
In 1552 there were three bells and these appear to have been recast, one by W. Knight in 1583, another by R. Eldridge in 1621 and the heaviest by B. Eldridge in 1649. By adding three lighter bells in 1892 the Croydon foundry formed a ring of six which did duty until 1946, when they were all recast at Croydon.
Ringing is done at the west end of the church, and for the inexperienced there is a long draught of rope, but the acoustics are good, which is a great help towards good striking.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR}

\author{
By H. CHANT

Random thoughts on the composition of Bob Major, although designed for the benefit of young composers, may be perused with impunity by older ones.

Bob Major, as you already no doubt know, has a clean proof scale. This means that so long as the tenors (i.e., 7 and 8 ) are 'kept together,' there will be no internal falseness so long as the lead ends (or heads) do not repeat. 'Keeping the tenors together' means that they pursue throughout the composition the same relative position as they occupy in the plain course. Calling the tenor 5ths and 4ths is still regarded as keeping the tenors together, but I am ignoring the 5 ths and 4 ths altogether in this edifice of campanological clarity!
A bob 'before' merely repeats the previous lead with regard to the respective positions of the tenors and therefore in no way impairs the truth of our previous statement.
Internal falseness is the liability of a method to repeat certain rows even if the tenors are kept together and the lead ends are different, e.g., Treble Bob.

If the young composer-or would-be com-poser-has followed me so far he will now realise that all he has to do is to write out the lead-ends (or heads) of his composition, check them over to see that he does not get the same one twice, and his composition will be 'true.'
This, however, is tedious, except in short 'touches,' and, furthermore, life is short. (I might also have added that time is money, but I abhor clichés.)
It is not surprising, therefore, that efforts were made to curtail the flow of ink and the spoiling of paper, until eventually a system of proof was devised by Sir Arthur Heywood (and first presented in his book 'Duffield') whereby - lead-ends were stated in the form of courseends.'
This was further clarified by Snowdon in his ' Ropesight,' to which work the student can refer if he doesn't want to read what I have to say about it later on.
Leaving this system for the moment let us view the matter from another angle.
As 1, 7 and 8 are at 'Home' (i.e., in 'rounds ' position) at the 'head ' of every course when the tenors are kept together, it follows the number of courses available will be equal to the number of changes that can be obtained by the other five bells.
Now any Doubles ringer (and a few Minor ringers) will tell you that this number is 120 . (I once knew a Major ringer who knew, toobut he had been educated in a Minor tower.) Furthermore, owing to the peculiarities of 'in-course" and "out-of-course' changes, only half of these ( \(120 \div 2=60\) ) can be used unless a 'single' is called.
For a full explanation of 'in ' and 'out ' changes the student is referred to Snowdon's 'Treble Bob' or 'The Campanologia Encyclopredia Chantonica,' Vol. VIII., Ch. 16 (page 1212).

These 60 courses then will contain all the changes possible with the tenors together unless a 'single' is called, and the 120 courses altogether the maximum changes with the tenors together.

But if we don't ring any part of any course twice over, then our composition must be true. So simple, isn't it?
How is it done? Like this:-
Start with a round block, i.e., a plain course, and insert into that round block two complete courses.

Examine the following :-
23456 W
52436 —
35426 —
23456

Before the first bob and after the last bob the plain course is rung. Between the first and second bob a complete course is rung. (Starting in the 'Wrong ' position and returning via the beginning of the course to the 'Wrong ' position.)

Between the second and third bob a complete course has been rung. (For in parentheses see above.)

In fact we have rung three complete courses, i.e., 23456,52436 and 35426 , although we have prised one open at the 'Wrong' position (23456) in order to insert two more, which in each case have been rung back before front.

What is more, no proof is needed beyond looking at the course-heads to see that they are different.
This sort of thing can soon become a habitand nothing to be proud of.

Look at these four stages of decline:-

And as a final lesson of the horrors of this revelation, this monstrosity I concocted in a weak moment:-

6608 Bob Major. The extent direct with the tenors together.
Notice that by erasing consecutive blocks of three (W, M or H), the whole ungainly fabric is reduced to a plain course. No further proof is needed beyond seeing that the course-heads do not repeat.
It may be as well for the student to realise why the 'extent direct ' (i.e., without bobs ' Before') is 59 courses, as we start from one course, and as we add two courses each time, the total must always be odd. This may be clearer than delving into Bob-sets and Q -sets, whatever they are !

Later I hope to introduce you to a method of producing such peals by an easier method; meanwhile let us return to the system of proof I mentioned earlier.

Here is a 'touch ' with proof:-
\begin{tabular}{cccccccc}
23456 & \(\mathbf{W}\) & \(\mathbf{M}\) & \(\mathbf{H}\) & \(\mathbf{W}\) & \(\mathbf{M}\) & \(\mathbf{H}\) \\
\hline \(\mathbf{4 2 6 3 5}\) & - & - & & 52436 & 42635 & 42635 \\
62534 & & - & & 42635 & 62534 & 62534 \\
45236 & & - & - & 62534 & 52436 & 45326 \\
24536 & & & - & 45236 & 45236 & 24536 \\
52436 & & & 24536 & 24536 & 52346 \\
35426 & - & & & 35426 & 35426 & 35426 \\
23456 & - & & & 23456 & 23456 & 23456
\end{tabular}

In the proving columns, the three on the right, the seven courses used are neatly sliced up and prepared for our digestion. It could, therefore, be called a seven-course luncheon !
If your digestion (as a student) seems unequal to the task, then the following diagram (original) may help you to swallow:-

The plain course (23456) is rung to the \(W\) position. That is the first lead of the plain course. A bob 'Wrong' moves us into the second lead of the course 52436, which is rung as far as the "Middle" position. Notice that we have rung neither the first nor last lead of the course 52436. The first lead is rung in the 6th course and the last lead in the 3rd course of this particular touch.
If you still don't understand it (not you professor, sit down!), then you can see me at the next Henry Johnson Dinner (provided you buy me a ticket).

For final checking see that there are no repetitions in the respective columns, i.e., the \(W\) column is true in itself, the \(M\) column itself is true and the H column is itself true.

If a bob 'Before' is called, enter this in the W column thus:-
\begin{tabular}{cccccccc}
23456 & W & B & \(\mathbf{M}\) & H & W & M & H \\
\hline 52364 & - & 1 & & - & 52436 & 23564 & 23564 \\
\hline 35264 & & & & - & 52364 & 52364 & 55264 \\
23456 & - & & - & & 63254 & 23456 & 23456
\end{tabular}

\section*{OBITUARY}

\section*{MR. WALTER S. BEAUMONT}

It is with great regret we report the death of Mr. Walter Samuel Beaumont, who passed away peacefully at his home on March 7 th at the age of 80 . He first rang at Oxhey, near Watford. Afterwards he rang for many years at Frindsbury and Rochester. Mr. Beaumont came to Ruislip in 1933, and ioined the St. Martin's Guild at the Parish Church. He retired from ringing about two years ago. He was not a great peal ringer but loved a quarter peal. He was a most lovable man and most reliable. He was never known to be late for the service ringing and was only absent when he paid his annual visit to his friends at Oxhey. He was laid to rest in Ruislip Churchyard on March 12 th by the side of his old friend, Mr, George M. Kilby. The bells of St. Martin's were rung half-muffled before and after the service by the Ruislip ringers. He was an old member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, aiso the Middesex and other Associations. A much respected member of the Ancient Order of Foresters, he was deeply loved by all who knew him. May he rest in peace. by all who knew him. May he rest in peace.

\section*{MR. W. M. BROOKE}

One of the oidest ringers in the country, Mr. William Maurice Brooke died on March 4th at St. James' Hospital, King's Lynn. aged 90 . He was a bellringer at St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, for over 65 years, and sang in the choir for 78 years. In recent months he had been bedridden. For a great number of years he was captain at St. Margaret's.
His first wife was a cousin of Sir Arthur Sullivan. His son became musical director of the Lyceum Theatre, London, and his daughter, Miss May Brooke, appeared in musical companies and eventually settled in Australia.

A peal to his memory was rung at St. Margaret's on March 9th.

\section*{THE REV. A. ST. J. HEARD}

The passing of the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, president of the Norwich Diocesan Association since 1942, on February 25th, is deeply regretted not only, by ringers of his own Association but by the Exercise at large. His death at the age of 69 took place while visiting bis wife in a Norwich nursing home. She has been an invalid for several years.
He had held the living of Mulbarton since 1942. At the funeral service, conducted by the Rural Dean (Canon H. Llewellyn), the Bishop of Norwich paid a tribute to his life and work.

The Bishop said: ' We are gathered together, parishioners, friends of his from all walks of parishioners, companions and brethren associated with him in many activities, to say farewell in the church he loved so much. In our hearts there is just a simple thought- \({ }^{-}\)Thank God we knew him." Nothing would have pleased him more than to have known how many loved and respected him for he never knew how deeply he touch the lives of so many. He loved the work of a parish priest and always carried it out with a devotion and a sense of duty.'
Freemasonry, in which Mr. Heard had held important offices, was represented by members of the Norfolk Installed Masters, Bowers Chapter and Union, Social, Francis and Lorraine, Cabbell, Mancroft, Sincerity, Knight Templars and St. Giles' Lodges.
Other organisations represented included the Modern Churches Union, Mulbarton County Primary School, school managers and Church Council, Mulbarton and District British Legion, Norfoik' County Nursing Association and the Norfolk Branch of the Red Cross Society.
Cremation at St. Faith's followod the service.
The bells of Mulbarton Parish Church were tung half-muffled for the service.

\section*{MR. GEORGE WIGHTMAN}

The funeral took place at Cretingham, Suffolk, on February 19th, of Mr. George Wightman at the age of 88 years.
Learning to ring at an early age, he rang his first peal, Doubles in eight methods, at Easton (non-Association). In 1887 he joined the Norwich Association, when he rang Bob Major at Debenham. His last peal was in 1949, which was rung in his own home, conducted by Mr . F. L. Fisher. During the years he had rung 328 and conducted 160 . He was a fine ringer and a superb conductor in his day.
A true churchman, he was sexton at his own church for 44 years, and in recognition he was presented with an easy chair. Following their father's footsteps are his fine family-Edgar, whose compositions are so well known ; David, a fine Treble Bob conductor; Stephen, who for over 30 years owing to rheumatism was unable to ring; Alfred, father of Leslie C and George A., was a super-strong man, his ringing includAng a 10,000 Kent at Helmingham (brother George conducted), also 10,000 at Coddenham; to both these he rang the tenors.
From all who have had that kind and welcome hospitality at the shoemaker's shop, we extend our heartfelt sympathy to William, who within wreks has lost a sister and brother. L. G. B.

\section*{FEERING SURPRISE}

Feering Surprise was rung for the first time on March 5th at Earls Colne, Essex, by an allNorthern Division band. This method was composed several years ago by the late William Keeble, of Feering, one of the greatest exponents of the art that ever lived. He intended to call this method Chelmsford Surprise, at the time when a motion to change the name of Essex Association to that of Chelmsford Diocesan Guild was put forward at an annual meeting. The motion was defeated and he lost interest in his method. For several years prior to his death he was confined to hospital, so the method was not pursued. Interest was aroused recently by Miss Hilda G. Snowden, and after getting the method checked by a member of the Essex Association's Peal Committee, it was decided to call it Feering Surprise, thereby linking William Keeble's name with that of his method, on account of his long association with Feering tower. It has also been decided to call the eighth place variation Foxearth Surprise. Miss Hilda G. Snowden has been assured that the method is original and is not to be found in Corrigan's collection.

Burnaby Delight Minor, the first peal of which method was rung at Hoar Cross, is a good method to bring out the magnificent qualities of these bells (tenor 28 cwt .). Michael Orme and Philip Mehew travelled from Hitchin to stand in the peal with Derby ringers. The conductor, Mr. D. P. Jones, suggests that these might be the heaviest ring of bells rung to a peal of Delight.

\section*{AN EXTRA ORDINARY MEETING}

THE Hon. Secretary had read the minutes and sat down with some thankfulness. There had been a lot to read and, recalling what had occurred at the last meeting, he anticipated another rough session. The Chairman, having signed the minutes, put forward the usual 'Anything arising out of the minutes?' There seemed to be plenty, for several members rose to their feet immediately. The Chairman caught the eye of one. 'You, Mister Bob, I think you were the first.' Up spoke Bob, 'What's this yere idea of shortening the lengths of peals? Never yerd anything so daft in my life; doan't know what's come over some ringers. You can't go interfering wi' nature; it ain't natural. For more years than I can tell, a 5,040 has been a natural peal, and what was good enough for those gone on and the likes of we, is good enough for others. A 5,000 is 5,000 , whether they like it or not, and if anyone wants to ring less number of changes there is nothing to stop 'em, but doan't call it a peal-some of those unenlightened press chaps no doubt would call it a peal like those chaps down Devon way calls what they rings peals, but no one disagrees wi' 'em. They can call 'em what they like, but we doan't call 'em peals.
'When I was a lad and you scored a peal, you felt as you had done something, and there were some roughgoing bells, I can tell ee. To-day peals are two a penny, and wot's more a lot of folk to-day want everything on a plate; easy-going bells and easy methods of getting there. Now they want easier peals. Dang my eyes; what's come over 'em?
- They talk of clanging and banging. If they had learned to strike properly there would be no clanging and banging, for when bells are rung well the din ain't too bad. True, some bells are noisy, but that can be cured, and anyway no one is forced to ring peals in noisy towers. And talking of row, what about the traffic noise that drowns the sound of the bells very frequently, and then these yer jet planes. No, when it comes to bells, they are not in the same class for noise.
'Of course 'tis likely this Yorkshire Blackberry chap was talking with his tongue in his cheek and just started this rocket off to create a rumpus. Be that as it may, I move that the question of reducing the lengths of peals be squashed flat, aye squashed flatter than that if possible.'

With that Bob sat down amid a lot of clapping. Then up jumps a youngster. 'Mr. Chairman, I am not yet a peal ringer. I have had one attempt, which was lost, and as I had a lot of blisters I am led to suggest that no further peals be rung, and that we ask the Central Council to frown on peals of any description.' (Voices from the back, 'Hear, hear,' 'Let's go back to call-changes.') In the ensuing uproar I lost my pencil, and regret that I am unable to report on the rest of the meeting.
J. P. F.

\section*{SOUTHWARK STORY}

0NE of the most popular towers in London is the Cathedral and Collegiate Church of St. Saviour, Southwark. The Provost, the Very Rev. H. E. Ashdown, is a close friend of ringers, and both with the Ancient Society of College Youths and the London County Association he has taken a personal interest in the welfare of these two bodies, who frequently enjoy the hospitality of his tower. A peal on Southwark Cathedral bells is well and truly earned.

The "Southwark Story," by Florence Higham (Hodder and Stoughton, 20s. net), has just been published to coincide with the golden jubilee of the foundation of the Diocese of Southwark. This is not a book about bells and ringers of a bygone age, but a history of the Cathedral and the parish of Southwark from when a Saxon Priory stood on the site. Few of London's parishes are so steeped in history, and Mrs. Higham has introduced to us a host of characters famed to the outside world who regarded St. Saviour's, Southwark, as their spiritual home. One of the windows, for example, is dedicated to Alexander Cruden, whose Concordance is still a household book. His eccentric genius once resulted in six weeks in chains and a strait waistcoat for ten weeks. Mrs. Thrale, the brewer's widow, with whom the great Samuel Johnson had great hopes of a tranquil old age, had also associations with St. Saviour's.

Another character was Abraham Newland, born in 1730, who rose to be chief cashier of the Bank of England. He died in 1817, leaving his own epitaph:-

Beneath this stone old Abraham lies,
Where he has gone and how he fares,
Nobody laughs and nobody cries;
No one knows and nobody cares.

He left \(£ 60,000\) to his housekeeper, who put up a simple stone to his memory, but did not make use of his verse.

Few ringers to-day realise that St. Saviour's, Southwark, was, until August, 1877, part of the Winchester Diocese, and had it remained so a few years longer there would have been peals rung for the Winchester Diocesan Guild on Southwark's famous bells. From 1877 to 1905 it was part of the Rochester Diocese, and on June 29th, 1905, Edward Talbot was enthroned as first Bishop of Southwark. In 1911 he became Bishop of Winchester, and at Farnham Castle and in other parts of the Diocese he became a friend of ringers and of all his people.

Amid all the crowded streets, St. Saviour's, Southwark, stands as a sentinel for higher things. "Within its quiet walls people pause to pray and go out to help their fellows; still the ancient bells are sounded, and the Gospel of Christ is preached, the same yesterday, to-day and for ever."

This is a most readable book, and we can strongly recommend it to those who have an historical vein in their make-up and love this part of London that saw Shakespeare acting at the Globe, Goldsmith as a young doctor tending the Southwark poor, and Dickens writing 'Little Dorrit' and describing for all time the infamous Marshalsea.

\section*{DOUBLE CHANGES}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. F. Blagrove, these Double changes are unnecessary and, added to the four blows behind, are a blot on Bob Triples. Two hundred years ago John Holt tried to get at 5,040 of pure Triples and nearly succeeded. I agree with Mr. Blagrove about the Major methods. We tolerate Cambridge because it is usually the first Surprise method that all ringers learn, but it is very much condemned in C. D. P. Davies' Surprise Methods. If we have majority rule in the C.C., I fail to see how officers can impose their will on the whole Council. Finally, Mr. Blagrove's recent brilliant performances (both theoretical and practical) make one think that here is a man who should be on the Council and not criticising it.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{Preston.}
E. R. MARTIN.

\section*{COMING INTO ROUNDS DURING A PEAL}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. Fox's question, there is no rule except an unwritten one. It has always been accepted that if rounds come up that is the finish. Personally, it happened once quite unexpectedly. Then without a word being spoken the band set up.

The best story I have heard concerned the late Mr. Challis Winney. The Original was rung on handbells to the finish, and the ringer on \(1-2\) was so excited that instead of coming down \(2-1\) he brought them down \(1-2\). He was very pleased until Mr. Winney said, 'No peal. You were two changes short.' There is no doubt some of the older College Youths will remember having heard the story years ago.Yours, etc.,
A. H. PULLING.

\section*{LETTERS}

\section*{FORDHAM SURPRISE MAJOR}

Dear Sir,-In view of recent correspondence in your columns concerning doubts which have arisen over a peal of Fordham Surprise Major, I should like, as the conductor concerned, to make my own views clear.

In the first instance, only by the greatest stretch of the imagination can the bells have been said to run round. In my letter to the peal secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association, I said that the ropes fell in the order 12345678 , 234 striking very closely together, so as to be barely distinguishable. I also said that this was due to the failure of the 4 th to run in at a bob (a mistake that could have occurred at many other points in the peal), and the fact that a badly struck 'round' was produced was purely fortuitous.

I can assure all those who may be interested that the mistake was instantly corrected and. if necessary, I must also point out that I can hardly be expected to know in advance when a mistake is going to occur.

In view of this, I fail to see either
(a) how I could have prevented the error, or
(b) why it should be incumbent upon me to stop the peal after a very rough 'round' had been rung.

At the sime I was satisfied that the peal had been well and truly rung in accordance with all the rules of the Central Council: moreover, this is still my opinion. - Yours faithfully,

PETER BORDER.

Coventry.

\section*{RESIST THE TEMPTATION}

Dear \(\operatorname{Sir}\), -A conductor should aim at a high standard in peals. More than once I have called 'Stand' when rounds have been struck before the end, although the bells had been in their correct coursing order. In a recent attempt rounds were struck' at a bob at home instead of 324. I also recollect a case when rounds were struck at the first single in Holt's Original; result, no peal. There is, I know, a temptation to carry on in such cases. It should be resisted.-Yours sincerely,
C. GLENN.

Sherwood, Nottingham.
THE REV. F. E. ROBINSON'S LAST PEAL
Dear Sir,-My memories of the Rev. F. E. Robinson are that, after leaving Drayton, he recovered sufficiently to ring two-perhaps three -more peals, one of which was at Wokingham.

If this is so it may well be that the peal at Uxbridge, which Mr. Rowe mentions, was really his last.-Yours,
E. BARNETT.

\section*{Crayford}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. E. J. Rowe's query re the late Rev. F. E. Robinson's peals after his illness, I was a member of bands which rang the following peals in 1909:-

Stedman Triples, Easter Monday, at Slough.
Stedman Triples, Whit Monday, at Farnham Royal.

Stedman Triples, August Monday, at Wraysbury.

Stedman Triples, Boxing Day, at Old Windsor.

His last peal was rung at St. Andrew's, West Hillingdon, Uxbridge, on January 15th, 1910 , for which a board is in the belfry. -.Youis, etc.,

We regret to learn that the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, a member of the Central Council and one time hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, is in St. Luke's Hospital, Fitzroy Square, London, and unfortunately is likely to be there for some weeks.
With the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at St. Mary's, Nottingham, Mr.. John Bramley makes a return to peal ringing after the interference of National Service.
Ringing will be curtailed at Grantham for a short time as the tenor clapper has again broken. "This is the fifth time of "blasting," " writes our correspondent.

Miss Joan Hall has been elected 'Ringing World' representative of the Northern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association.

Miss Jean Powell, of Bedwellty, writes thanking the ringers of Stanmore and Edgware for the welcome accorded her on her recent visit. The quarter peal at Stanmore arranged for her benefit was much appreciated.

Mr. J. Burgess, of Greenfield, near Oldham, was installed as president of the Manchester and District Secretaries Association of the Manchester Unity, Independent Order of Oddfellows, on March 12th, at Marple, Cheshire. The day coincided with his 65th birthday. His ringers from Friezland came to Marple Church and rang a quarter of Oxford Treble Bob Minor in honour of the event. This is Mr. Burgess's 50th year of ringing.

We advise those readers who follow the proceedings of the Central Council and also ring peals to file this copy of 'The Ringing World.' The concise summary of recommendations and decisions of the Council is invaluable. They will, of course, be incorporated in the Council's handbook when it is published.

Perivale Alliance Bob Major, rung for the first time at Accrington, has the treble dodging in 5-6 and 7-8. A peal of Alliance was rung at Crawley in 1898 in which the treble dodged \(1-2\) and 7-8 and plainhunted for the other places.
The Northern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association are holding their annual outing on August 1st.

At Badsey, near Evesham, Mr. R. R. Savory has shepherded four of the band through their first quarter and-another in his first of Bob Minor.
In connection with the South of England Ringers' Rally, a Bournemouth reader writes to say that the Gaumont Cinema is in Westover Road (opposite the Pavilion) and the restaurant outlook is into the gardens adjoining Bournemouth Square.

Mrs. Margaret H. Shurcliff, of Boston, U.S.A., informs us that an American Guild of English Handbell Ringers has been formed and has already a membership of about 60 groups. The Guild , publishes a little magazine called 'Overtones.' A ringing festival is being held at Ipswich, Mass., the last week-end in August, and an invitation has been extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes to attend. The Guild is anxious that Mrs. Hughes will bring her handbells and ring at the concert.

There is good news for County Durham ringers. The bells of Houghton-le-Spring, which have been silent since last October because of movement of the tower and the leaning parapet, are likely to be ringing again by Houghton Feast, next October. Architects have examined the tower and they estimate that \(£ 1,000\) will be necessary for tower restoration. A further \(£ 2,000\) is required to restore the fabric of this 800 -year old church.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL REVIEW: OPERATIVE DECISIONS}
(Excluding those rescinded, superseded or on which the action required has been completed.)
1892.-That a committee be appointed to receive and classify all compositions of 5,000 changes and upwards, and to issue an annual report in which all peals composed in the previous 12 months shall be published.
1893. -That, in recording the performance of peals not previously rung, it is desirable to record at the same time the figures of such peals, unless they are already accessible in printed form, in which case the reference should be given.

That it is desirable when a band of ringers belonging to more than one Association meet to ring a peal, they shall decide beforehand to which Association such peal shall be credited, and that for the future no peal shall be published under the name of more than one Association.
1896.-That it is desirable, whenever convenient, at all important ringing meetings of church bellringers that arrangements should be made for holding a short service in church.
1897.-That the variation of Cambridge Surprise (hitherto known as the Burton Variation) be known as 'New Cambridge Surprise.'

That the Council see no valid objection against commencing a Treble Bob composition with \(1 R\) or \(2 R\).
1898.-That it is desirable that Thurstans' well-known composition in Stedman Triples be designated his 'four-part'; and his other compositions his 'five-part' and 'one-part' respectively.
1903.-That in the opinion of the Council, the publication of palpably false compositions and worthless methods refiects discredit on their composers.
1904.-That in view of the continuance of the practice of publishing peals under the title of more than one Association, it is desirable to impress upon ringers the necessity of loyally carrying out the Resolution passed by the Council in 1893.

That in the opinion of the Council it is desirable that promising ringers should be given the opportunity of learning how to conduct.
1905.--That Bo's Triples and Grandsire Major, not being legitimate methods, are not worthy of being practised.
1908.-That the Council declines to recognise any method hitherto rung or published as being entitled to the designation of 'London Surprise Royal.'

That it is desirable that the attention of Associations be called to the desirability of accurate 'striking.'
1910. -That the Council do not consider that the Peals Analysis Committee can be held responsible for any peals not appearing in print before the end of February.
1912.-That the primary aim of all Associations should be the encouragement of ringing for Sunday services and on the Festivals and their Eves.
1915.-That reports of peals, in order to obtain recognition by the Analysis Committee, must be published ... within a period of eight weeks after performance.
1920.-That the Literature and Press Committee be instructed to prepare a copy of the Bibliography to be deposited in the Council's library and publish it in 'The Ringing World,' or in a pamphlet, as funds would permit.
That the Council compile and keep up-to-date an official list of the first peal and the longest peal rung in each method on each number of bells.
1921. - That the Records Committee deal, for the time being, with peals of Triples, Major, Caters, Royal, Cinques and Maximus only.

Opportunity for Study before Central Council Meeting
Dear Sir,-At the last Central Council meeting we were appointed a sub-committee to complete the preparation of the Council's Handbook. The book will incorporate the Council's decisions, and complaints have quite legitimately been made that it is not at present possible to discover what these are. We have accordingly extracted from the Minute books all resolutions of and reports adopted by the Council since its inception, and we give below a chronological list of those which, in our opinion, are still current.

We would stress that our object in doing this is solely to give ringers an opportunity of studying these matters before the Council meeting. We make no comment at this stage on them; our recommendations will, of course, be incorporated in our report to the Standing Committee and the Council.
It should perhaps also be mentioned that any motions on the subject which it is desired to place on the Agenda for the Bristol meeting must, in accordance with Rule 13, be received by the Hon. Secretary not later than six weeks previous to the meeting, i.e., by April 19th. A formal notice to this effect will appear shortly.-Yours faithfully.
E. A. BARNETT.
C. K. LEWIS.

That in every Diocese there should be a recognised authority to give advice on matters concerning Church Bells, and that it is hoped that each Guild and Association will take steps to provide such authority.
(Note.-Resolutions of a similar nature were passed in 1924, 1926 and 1929, and are not reproduced.)
1922.-That the County and Diocesan Associations be asked to consider the possibility of establishing in their respective areas a Bell Restoration Fund, from which grants may Je made for the restoration of any rings of bells within the area, when local funds are insufficient to meet the cost.
1923.-That the Collection of first and progressive lengths be typed and kept by the Hon. Librarian for circulation amongst ringers.
1924.-That the Memorial Book be placed in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and deposited for inspection and on permanent loani and produced to the Council on demand.
That the Roll of Honour be placed on the table at the Annual Meeting.
1926.-That this Council, while urging on the Exercise the extreme importance of choosing suitable names for methods, declines to interfere with such rights as bands and individual ringers at present enjoy of giving names to new methods, and further is of the opinion that no alteration should be made in the names of old and historical methods except where urgently necessary.
1931.-That when any peal, practice of ringers' meeting previously arranged happens to coincide with an occasion of public mourning, whether national or local, it should be the normal procedurs 10 make emergency arrangements with the proper authorities for the muffling of sells before use, care being taken, un-ness otherwise directed, to have the muffles removed at the conclusion of the ringing.
1932.-That this Council strongly deprecates the recording as a peal on a commemorative tablet any performance which does not conform to the accepted standard of a true and complete peal, and calls upon all affiliated Societies to support the Council in this matter. 1933.-That this Council deprecates the breaking-up of church bells of proved good tone and real historic interest, urges the church authorities not to assent to their recasting except for the gravest reasons structurally or musically, and, furthermore, recommends that independent advice, qualified to advise on historic, engineering and musical grounds, be obtained in all such cases before action is taken.
1934.-That this Council views with concern the comparatively small number of ringers ringing their first peal, and suggests that all ringers, mindful of their high calling, should do all in their power to encourage their less proficient brethren.
1935.-That to ensure the accuracy of the Council's Peal Analysis, and as a matter of general interest, those responsible for sending the reports of peals for publication in the ringing Press be urged to denote all 'first peals. and 'first peals in the method, both by any of the band and 'as conductor.'
1939.-That (1) while there may be exceptional cases in which the case of gramophone records of church bells is justified, any general adoption of such a practice is emphatically to be deprecated, not only on the grounds that a substitute for the real thing is unworthy of the Church of God, but also because it eliminates the living service of hand, and heart, and mind. which is of the very essence of bellringing and is of true spiritual value as contributory to an act of worship. (2) The installation of such a mechanical device should be severely prohibited in any tower containing or capable of containing a peal of bells, except as a temporary expedient, as, for example, when tower or bells are under repair. (3) In the case of building new churches it is obvious that the erection of a tower and bells must be often left to a future generation, or even omitted altogether, but it is a vital point of principle that no sanction should ever be given to the building or designing of a tower inadequate to its legitimate purpose, with a view to the installation of a gramophone record instead of real bells. The one practical object served by a church tower is to make provision for bells and to erect a tower to hold a gramophone record cannot be regarded otherwise than an architectural fraud, entirely unworthy of a building designed for sacred purposes.
1950.-That the method called 'Steadfast ' is no different from Shipway's principle of 150 years ago.

That unanimous decisions of the Methods Committee shall at once be published in "The Ringing World, and shall be submitted to the next meeting of the Council for confirmation.
1951.- Practical Rineing (conditions required for peals). See page 187.
1953.-That a photostat copy of the Roll of Honour be made, to be taken to Council meetings.

That the Roll be housed in St. Paul's Cathedral.
1954.-That, in future, all peals not conforming to the Council's decisions will not be included in the Analysis; they will, however, if sent, be published in 'The Ringing World.'

That this Council deprecates the increasing number of installations of synthetic and recorded bells which it considers to be unworthy of use in the house of God, and wishes to support the responsible authorities in the steps they are taking to prevent their installation.

\section*{Reports Adopted by the Council Which Are Still Current} 1898.-Report on Variation and Authorship. The conditions controlling compositions vary so greatly, according to the method treated, taat it is impossible to devise a comprehensive set of rules which shall be equally applicable to all methods alike, and yet free from the imperfection of being too lax when applied to some methods, and too stringent in the case of others. Each method requires separate consideration and rules determining the limits of originality in composition, applicable to itself ; and though it would, no doubt, be possible to form groups of methods, to each of which one set of rules might be applicable, the result would be both cumbrous and confusing. The following propositions are, therefore, limited to a general statement of the features distinguishing "Originality, which are more or less applicable to all methods:-
(1) The earliest ascertainable true composition on any definite plan in any method, which is not a reproduction or obvious variation of the same composition in another method, is entitled to be termed the "original " composition on that plan.
(2) Subsequent compositions on the same plan which are not demonstrably reversals or transpositions (as hereinafter described) or obvious variations of a previous composition in the same method, may be considered as 'distinct' compositions on the plan, and allowed the claim of "originality.'
(3) Reversals, in which the calls in one position are exchanged for those in another, including direct inversions of callings: Transpositions, by which one bell is substituted for another as 'the observation.' or re-arrangements of the same calling: Artificial Alterations, such as the employment of alternative calls, the multiplication or subtracting or shifting of singles, or the redistribution of "shunting calls," by which the general result is not affected, but only the form of the composition-if applied to any previous composition possessed of the distinction of 'originality,' are to be considered as 'Variations.'

In the foregoing statement, the word "plan " is used in a comprehensive sense, as embracing not only the divisions of a composition into a given number of parts, but also the assignment of 'qualities' with reference to length, the ireatment of "fixed" or "observation' bells, or any other Distinctive Feature in Construction.
1903.-Report of the Committee on Legitimate Methods.
(A) All methods are founded on principles.
(B) A principle is a collection of rows which form a perfect round block, in which:-
(a) Every bell does the same work;
(b) No bell moves up or down more than one place at a time;
(c) No bell lies more than two consecutive blows in any one place.
(C) Methods are formed from principles in two ways:-
(1) A principle may be used as a method when it conforms to the following rules:-
(a) It must be true within itself
(b) It must be divisible into as many divisions as there are bells, each division, together with the hunting and placemaking that connect it with the next division, to contain the whole working of the method;
(c) In the case of those methods in which the course order of the bells is altered by an alternate work (as the quick and slow in Stedman), these divisions are sub-divided;
(d) Each division, or, in (c), each subdivision, must reverse true to itself.
(2) One or more bells in any principle (called 'hunts') may be allowed to retain their original paths, while the places of the others the hunt (or hunts), subject to the following conditions:-
(a) No bell shall move up or down more than one place at a time;
(b) No bell shall strike more than two consecutive blows in any one place;
(c) There shall be as many plain leads in the plain coursc as there are working bells, each lead containing as many rows as the principle on which it is founded; (d) The working bells shall be in the same coursing order at each lead head and end in the plain course;
(e) Each lead shall reverse true to itself, and, together with the hunting and placemaking that connect it with the next lead, shall contain the whole working of the method.
Note.-In 1950, (2) (b) and (d), above, were modified in respect of Doubles methods only, as follows:-
(b) No bell shall strike more than four consecutive blows in any one place, usually in 5ths place when the treble leads in 2 nds place method, or at the lead in a reverse of such a method, or, if found to be necessary, at other times also.
(d) The working bells need not be in the same coursing order at each lead head and end in the plain course.

\section*{DEFINITIONS}
(A) A Plain Lead is a succession of rows so arranged that when the hunt (or hunts) has completed its work, it is in a different relative position among the working bells. but the working bells are in the samc coursing order
(B) A Bob Lead is a succession of rows so arranged that when the hunt (or hunts) has completed its work, it is in a different relative position among the working bells, and the working bells have three of their number in a different coursing order.
(C) A Single Lead is as a Bob Lead except that the working bells finally have two of thelr number in a different coursing order.

\section*{NOTES}

Principle.-This word is used in a purcly technical sense.
Division.-All methods in class (C) (1) are divisible into as many divisions as there are bells. The division of Stedman comprises a quick six and a slow six; for neither by itself contains the whole method.
Reversion.-If lines be drawn at the top and bottom of any division (or sub-division), all places counted from the top line downwards must correspond with places counted from the bottom line upwards.

Methods founded on two Principles.-In some cases it is possible to found a method on two Principles, as in the case of Alliance, which is founded partly on the Plain Principle and partly on the Treble Bob Principle. (Added in 1933: An illustration of this statement is to be found in the Little and Alliance Methods, which have come into prominence in recent years. In appearance, their form places them outside the definition of Plain and Bob leads, but, properly speaking, they are in logical succession of such methods as Bob Major. Thus a Little Method is one which follows the rule except in so far as this is qualified by the restriction of the hunt to fewer places than the number of bells employed; an Alliance Method is one in which the hunt has a composite path comprising portions of more than one Principle.)

The bells to be in the smme comrsing order at cach lead head and end.'-This means that all methods must have what are known as 'Plain Bob lead-ends.'

Division between leads.-This is:-
(a) In methods with one hunt (treble)between the first and second blows of the whole-pull of the hunt, before or behind;
(b) In methods with two hunts (treble and bell in the hunt)-midway between the whole-pull of the first hunt and the wholepull of the second hunt, before or behind.

\section*{Methods:-}
(a) A Single Method has all its places made on one side of the hunt (or hunts) only, e.g., Single Oxford Bob Major, all places above the hunt, and College Minor. all places below the hunt.
(b) A Reverse Method is in all respects reverse to its single variation, e.g., Reverse Grandsire Triples.
(c) A Double Method has places made above the hunt and places made to corre. spond with them below the hunt, c.g. Double Norwich Court Bob Major.
(d) A Compound Method has places made on both sides of the hunt (or hunts), which are not related to cach other, e.g. Cambridge Surprise. Some Compound Methods can be reversed.
(Note.-The above is a slightly abridged and edited version of the original Report, but the alterations made are of layout and detail only.)
1906. - Report on Method Classification.
(Note. - The following tahular classification is taken from the 1907 . Edition of 'Collection of Legitimate Methods,' Section 1):-

Plain Mcthods, whether having one or two
(a) Bob Methods, having the Grandsire Bob place, either before, or behind, or both. the place being the extreme working bell place nearest the hunt or hunts.
(b) Imperial Methods, having Imperial places, as, for instance, those made in Kent Treble Bob.
(c) Court Methods, having Court Places, i.e., places other than those in (a) and (b).

Treble Bob Methods.
(a) Treble Bob Methods proper, having no places made at a cross-section
(b) Pas-alla-tessera Methods, having places made at all cross-sections but four
(c) Pas-alla-tria methods, having places made at all cross-sections but three.
(d) Exercise Methods, having places made at all cross-sections but two.
(e) Delight Methods, having places made at all but one cross-section.
(f) Surprise Methods, having places made at all cross-sections,

1933. -Standing Committee Report of the Constitution of Committees.
(a) Standing Committec.

To consist of (i) the President, Honorary Secretary and Treasurer, Honorary Librarian and conveners of committees ex-officio, (ii) twelve elected members (chosen by ballot if more than twelve names are proposed). The twelve retiring members to be the first names to be proposed. The committee to have power in the event of any other member of the Council being considered by them desirable, to co-opt not more than two members.
(b) Other Committees.

The Council should appoint the convener in the first instance, but changes may be made at any time by the committees.
Note. - In 1936 it was agreed that the two auditors and former officers of the Council should be ex-officio members of the Standing Commitee.

\section*{PRACTICAL RINGING}
(1) CONDITIONS REQUIRED FOR PEALS

On all numbers of bells a true peal shall in all cases start from and end with rounds.
The use of visible aids to memory in conducting or ringing peals is not permissible.
Each bell or bells shall be rung throughout by the same person or persons.
Any objection which may be taken to a peal shall be raised at the earliest date and in any case within three months after publication, unless in respect of the truth of the composition.

With the object of emphasising the foregoing rules, and at the same time of giving a complete exposition of its views on the subject of peals in general. the Council in 1902 issued the following code, applying both to ordinary peals and also to peals rung to surpass previous achievements :-
(a) That any shift or error in ringing be immediately corrected.
(b) That no call be made, or having been made, be altered or withdrawn later than during the change at which a call would properly take effect.
(c) That no person other than those ringing in the peal shall take part in the calling or in rectifying an error.
(d) That if more than one person shall ring any bell, the fact be stated in publishing and booking the peal.
(e) That every bell must, during the peal, sound at every change.
(f) That in the case of a peal rung to surpass previous peals of 6,720 changes and upwards compliance with these further conditions is necessary :-
(i) That not less than seven days' notice shall be given in the columns of 'The Ringing World stating the tower, day and hour at which the attempt is to be made, and the number of changes proposed to be rung.
(ii) That similar notice shall be sent to the secretary of the Guild or Association under whose title the peal (which it is proposed to surpass) was rung.
(iii) That the composition of the proposed peal shall be submitted to at least one competent person, other than the composer, for proof, and the figures shall be published in The Ringing World.' These figures shall be strictly adhered to unless it becomes necessary for the conductor to call the bells round before the full length is completed, owing to an unforeseen contingency. Any alteration made in the published figures for this purpose shall be published with the report of the performance and also submitted to those who proved the composition, previous to publication.
(iv) That all the ringing shall be heard by a competent, unbiased person who may give, if he thinks fit. and the performers so desire, a written certificate that the peal has been correctly rung. Any objections to the performance must be made in writing to the conductor and umpire immediately the ringing has finished. and any controversy arising shall be referred to the Central Council, whose decision on the matter shall be final.

In the case of record peals on handbells, every facility should be given to those interested to hear the ringing and a notice requesting 'Silence' could be displayed to protect performers from distraction.

\section*{(2) PEALS OF DOUBLES}
(a) Peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:-
(i) True and complete six-scores without interval between any two six-scores and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.
(ii) Round blocks consisting of two or more six-scores, provided that each of the six-scores which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.
(iii) Twelve-scores known as Morris's and Pitman's.
(iv) Combinations of (a), (b), (c) or any two of them.
(b) Peals of Doubles may be rung with or without a covering bell.
(3) PEALS OF MINOR
(a) Peals of Minor shall consist of 5.040 or more changes rung in:-
(i) True and complete 720 's without interval between any two \(720^{\circ}\) s and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.
(ii) Round blocks consisting of two or more \(720^{\prime}\) 's, provided that each of the \(720^{\prime}\) 's which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.
(iii) Any combination of (a) or (b).
(b) No covering bells are allowed.

\section*{(4) PEALS OF TRIPLES}

A peal of Triples shall consist of not fewer than 5,040 changes rung without interval and shall be always rung with one covering bell only, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.
(5) PEALS OF CATERS AND CINQUES

Peals of Caters and Cinques shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and with one covering bell, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.

\section*{(6) PEALS OF MAJOR, ROYAL AND MAXIMUS}

Peals of Major, Royal and Maximus shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and without a covering bell.

\section*{(7) HANDBELL PEALS}

Where practicable there should be an umpire to every handbell peal.
A handbell peal rung single-handed, though technically a peal, should be discountenanced.
(8) SPLICED PEALS

Peals which contain more than one method shall be called 'Spliced,' provided that methods are so joined that the fundamental units of which they are constructed (i.e., the 'leads' in treble-dominated methods, the 'divisions' in the rease of Stedman, Duffield and similar methods) remain intact. Reports of all Spliced peals shall state the number of methods rung and the number of changes from one method to another during the peal. Variations of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, where the method is changed when the treble passes through 3-4 down, cannot be described as Spliced peals.
1953.-Three-lead course Royal methods may not be included in Spliced peals.

\section*{(9) CALLS}

Calls are not part of any method, but are only means of passing from one course to another, and their form and placing can be capable of considerable variation.
A bob can affect any number of working bells, and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of three of them. A single can also affect any number of working bells, and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of two of them.

Calls may be made at any place within the lead, but the traditional practice of making them at the lead end should be adhered to, and is recommended.
Only one type of bob and single may be used in any one composition.
Singles in Treble Bob methods may be used only when a desired result cannot be obtained by bobs.
Under no circumstances may bells lie still on going off into changes or returning to rounds, unless it is a part of the method.

\section*{THE LADIES GUILD Western District}

The annual meeting of the Western District was held at Yatton on March 12th, when members and friends were delighted by the very warm welcome they received from the Vicar, Prebendary G. A. Becchey, and the tower Master. Mr. Price. In his address, the Vicar pointed out that in these days of compulsory National Service, lady ringers were often the mainstay of the local band.
About 50 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea ably prepared by Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Norton. At the business mecting which followed the following officers were re-elected:-Vice-president, Mrs. H. Knight; sccretary and representative to Central Committee, Mrs. M. de Jong; committee, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Parfrey and Miss Williams.
It was arranged that the usual coach would run from the Bath-Bristol district to the June meeting, which it is hoped to hold in Minehead, and it was decided that the September meeting should be held at St. Ambrose, subject to the necessary permission being obtained.

\section*{West Midland District}

Several members, with the assistance of the gentlemen, made the meeting at St. Andrew's, Netherton, on March 12th, a great success. The Vicar, the Rev. R. C. Stevens, conducted the service and gave an interesting address. After tea the vice-president thanked the Vicar and his ringers for making the visitors so welcome. and also the organist and ladies who provided tea.

At the business meeting twelve new members were elected, these being from Cradley, Dudley, Edgbaston, Stourbridge, West Bromwich, Wolverhampton and Walsail. It is hoped that the next mecting will be held jointly with the Midland District at Tanworth on June 4th.
Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung as well as the usual rounds, Grandsire and Stedman. A band of ladies rang courses of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples (the youngest taking pay being aged 12), and, with the help of ing pa gentlemen, a well-struck course of Lincolnshire Surprise Major.

\section*{SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

A meeting held at Stanton-on-Hine Heath on March 12 th was attended by some 40 members who enjoyed the spring sunshine in the churchyard between turns of ringing from \(30^{\prime}\) clock.

The service was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Edwards. who welcomed the Association and gave an interesting precis of the history of this church since the year 800 .

A substantial tea was provided in the Parish Hall and ten new members were elected before the company returned to the tower.

Methods rung ranged from Plain Bob and Meturned to the Grandsire to Cambridge and London Surprise, A gallant attempt at single Oxford failed in spite of someone's assertion that it was 'the easiest method in the world.? Members from High Ercall and Cheswardine gave demonstrations of call changes.

\section*{BEDFORD DELIGHT}

Tis my delight on a Tuesday night To ring the changes true,
And if you think I'm crazy,
That's entirely up to you.
1 pull and bow and bob away,
And ring the tenor bell,
And if they cut my tail off
I can play that game as well.
I frown and shout and stamp my foot
And call the bobs ' ad lib.'
And if I said I'd lost myself
It would not be a fib.
I tell them all to 'Strike it now,'
Just to give them pep,
And though 1 won't admit it,
I'm the only one in step.
I call them wrong and out and in Right and wrong and right,
I don't know who I'm coursing
But, 1 know the end's in sight.
- We're in the last course now,' I shout,

And with my heart uplifted,
I tell them 'This is all.' and then,
'Two, thrce and five have shifted.'
We argue and 1 tell them all
Just who I wanted where,
And though they don't believe me
I really do not care.
We set 'em up at back you know
And let the tenor down,
Then toddle to the nearest pub
In drink our woes to drown.
I get there first and hastily
The door I grab and hold,
Announcing, as I walk in last
That 'Mine's a pint of old.'
We toast the Central Council,
Then I sing a little ditty,
- Up with ringers and down with beer,'
'Out with the Methods Committee.'
My turn comes to stand a round
I shout, 'Is that clock right?'
'Got to catch a bus, you know,',
And wish them all 'Good night.'

\section*{Peal Tablet Dedicated at Brighouse}

A service for, the dedication of the peal tablet in the ringing chamber of the Church of St. Martin, Brighouse, on Sunday, March 6th, was attended by about a dozen members of the Guild. The Vicar (the Rev. J. F. Lister), who is a ringer, conducted the service and said the dedicatory prayers. Afterwards the bells were rung until tea time
The tablet records a Coronation peal of Stedman Triples rung on June 6th, 1953. It was the first peal in the method on the bells and the first in the method for six of the ringers, two of whom are now serving in H.M. Forces. The band consisted of E. H. Barron 1, C. F. Sutcliffe 2, A. Rogers 3, F. Linfoot 4. D. Sharples 5,

\section*{Meeting at Lindley}

Members of the Guild met at Lindley on March 12th. Owing to a rearrangement of towers, the meeting was held a week late at short notice. No service had been arranged and members adjourned at 5 p.m. to warm surroundings to enjoy cups of tea and sandwiches.
The business meeting took longer than usual and the evening ringing was curtailed. However, everyone enjoyed some good ringing. About 18 members attended during the day, methods rung including Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Court Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major.

\section*{CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD DINNER}

\section*{A Quarterly Attempt in Term Time}

The Guild's annual dinner was held in Cambridge on March 5th this year. The more customary date early in the Lent term had to be abandoned as it was said to be associated with bleak wintry weather. However, following one of the laws well known to scientists, the weather was in fact more closely correlated with the dinner than with the date, and as usual we emerged from our repast into a veritable blizzard.

Activities commenced at Saffron Walden early in the morning, when ten members started for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal. After an hour and a half they decided to return to the precincts of the University and leave more space in 'The Ringing World's' peal columns for others of the Exercise. In the afternoon the first tower for ringing was the Guild's 'home tower,' Great St. Andrew's; some members were disappointed with this arrangement as in the past they have been able to miss this great prize by taking a long time over tea. We then went on to Great St. Mary's and to the Roman Catholic Church.

Eating took place in the Dorothy Cafe in spite of valiant attempts by the secretary to accommodate us in a College Hall. After the loyal toast, the president (the Rev. A. C. Blythe) called upon David Marshall, Master of the Bristol University Society, to propose the toast of 'The Guild.' Mr. Marshall reminded us that he was the first member of the Bristol Society ever to attend our annual dinner (not, of course, because of any lack of hospitality on our part, but because the Bristol dinner and ours had previously been held on the same day). He saw thrce purposes for a Guild of University Ringers : Firstly, it provided a pleasant form of mental and physical exercise so necessary to University undergraduates; secondly, it formed a training ground for ringers who, on going down, would assist in fostering and improving the noble art in many parts of the country; and, thirdly, it gave members a closer link with the Church. He emphasised that this last aspect should never be overlooked and that University Societies were unlikely to prosper unless service ringing formed an integral part of their activities.

\section*{21 PEALS DURING THE YEAR}

The Master, Mr. C. M. P. Johnson, replied and outlined the Guild's activities during the year. A large number of beginners had joined early in the Michaelmas term and, most strange to relate, they were nearly all still with us. The number of peals rung reached the very respectable total of 21 and had included a fair number of handbell peals, an art rather neglected by the Guild for some years past, but recently revived by the secretary. The tower bell peals had included a fair range of Surprise methods. Outstanding among these was the Guild's first peal of London, which had been rung at our headquarters, Great St. Andrew's, for the patronal festival by members in residence. Another notable peal was the Guild's 400th, being appropriately a peal of Cambridge Major rung at Caerphilly during the annual week."

\section*{A quarter peal had been arranged for almost} every Sunday evening during full term and many had been successful. The Master thought that this weekly quarter peal was an excellent means of allowing members to consolidate methods that they had karned at the weekly practice. Saturday afternoon outings to towers around Cambridge provided another opportunity for progress but attendance was often low due to the unfortunate association of ringing with rowing (they appear next to one another in the 'Students' Handbook ').

Referring to more social matters, the Master expressed the Guild's congratulations to two members who have recently announced their raspective engagements, Alison Blythe, the president's daughter, for whom a congratulatory peal of Grandsire Triples had been unsuccessful the previous Saturday, and Gilbert Thurlow, for whom a peal was rung of Cambridge, Norwich and Durham Minor. (The writer hopes that Gilbert will soon be in circulation again to assume his normal task of writing the Guild's reports.)

The toast of 'The Guests' was proposed by the secretary, Mr. W. T. Cook, in true classical style. He welcomed the Master of the Bristol University Society, the Master and secretary of the Oxford Society (Dr. Gullick and Mrs. Threlfall). Also he gave a very hearty welcome to three of the Guild's neighbours-Mr. T. R. Dennis and Mr. H. L. Martin, representing the Society of Cambridge Youths (a Society with which the Guild has always had cordial relations and which welcomes us at our practices and gives us our only opportunity of 12 -bell ringing in Cambridge) and Canon Woodard, the Vicar of St. Andrew-the-Great, who has always given very great support to the Guild.
Canon Woodard replied for the guests and gave an insight into the restoration work being carried out by his Parochial Church Council. A complete restoration of the bells is included towards the end of the present programme of work costing some \(£ 7,000\), but Canon Woodard suggested that he would welcome an attempt by the ringers themselves to start a separate fund so that this might take place earlier. He felt sure that it would not interfere with the other church work and suggested that heads of business houses (of which there are over 100 in the parish) could supply the necessary money if approached.
After dinner members drove through the snow to Roger Morris' luxutious rooms in Clare, where a bar and handbells were kept going until 11.30 .

St. Mary-atte-Bow was visited by the Northern District for their quarterly meeting on March 12th.
Ringing under the direction of the District Master commenced rather late owing to the keys not being available. Methods ranged from rounds to Cambridge Major.
A visit was afterwards paid to St. Dunstan's, Stepney, where this grand ring of ten was set going to Stedman Caters, Grandsire, Plain Bob Royal and also Cambridge Royal, which, however, was not successful. Six o'clock came all too soon and an adjournment was made for tea.
After Evensong at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green. full use was made of the bells until 8.45 . A cordial welcome was extended to Mr. H. Millatt (Colchester) and Mr. S. T. and Miss C. M. Ford (Loughton).

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

It was surprisingly fine when the Eastern District visited Broxbourne on March 12th. The eight bells were rung during the afternoon to a variety of methods including Plain and Double Norwich Bob Major. The Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Glenn, conducted the service and gave a very interesting address.
A delicious tea in a nearby hall preceded the business meeting. The Vicar presided, and the District received Mr. T. J. Southam as secretary for the first time. Subjects discussed included the County Association peal book, badges and certificates.
After the meeting the party returned to the tower and ringing continued until 8.10 p.m.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR}

It should be understood by the student that we enter the course at a bob 'Before' at the fourth lead-halfway between 'Wrong' and ' Middle' so that it is impossible, without repetition, to ring this again. In fact a bob ' Before' leaves off one course at the end of the 4th lead and enters another at the beginning of the 4th lead; the two courses, as it were. overlap.

Any repetition will, therefore, be shown in the 'Wrong' column, as this column shows the sections of those courses which have been used between the 'Wrong' and 'Middle ' position, i.e., the \(2 \mathrm{nd}, 3 \mathrm{rd}\), 4 th, 5 th and 6 th lead of a course.

Now pardon me a digression. I mentioned earlier that I was ignoring 5ths and 4ths but now he comes glowering up at me refusing repression, so I may as well smother him while I'm at it.

The first bob in a 5 ths and 4ths occurs at the end of the 2 nd lead and scatters the tenors (and sometimes the ringers). A bob at the following lead brings them 'together' again when everybody breathes a sigh of relief. But to everybody's amazement, particularly the conductor, who was just congratulating himself on his escapes in the previous lead, the "Middle' position appears.

So that in 5ths and 4ths, a lead during which the tenors are parted is sandwiched between the first two leads of one course and the last two of another.

Now let us examine the following 'touch' from which, if we study diligently, we may learn all we wish to know about proving 5ths and 4ths:-
\begin{tabular}{ccccccc}
23456 & \(5-4\) & B & W & M & H \\
\cline { 1 - 1 } & & & 23456 & & \\
\hline 35264 & & - & 35264 & 35264 & 35264 \\
42635 & \(\times\) & & 35264 & 42635 & 42635 \\
23456 & & & & 42635 & 23456 & 23456 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

We have previously learnt that if all the rows in the same column are different the "touch" is true. Here we have an example which shows the truth of this statement and an exception.

Let us set it down as per my previous diagram (original).

\section*{GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION}

Despite the icy blast which swept over North Wiltshire on March 12 th, over fifty ringers assembled at St. Mark's, Swindon, for the quarterly meeting of the Swindon Branch. Visitors were welcomed from places as far away as Bradford (Yorks), Cambridge, London, Southend and Worcester.

At the business meeting the branch chairman (Dr. H. Craig) expressed the good wishes of the members to Francis Wilton and Pauline Manning, who were married earlier in the day, also to Peter Minchin, who has been posted to Korea. The secretary reported that the general secretary hoved to call a meeting at Chippenham in April, and it was proposed that the next two meetings be at Malmesbury and Bishopstone. A good number of beginners were present, some of them having their first pull on eight bells, and methods up to Cambridge were rung.

2nds place lead-end, 4ths place bob.
Tipler's E 3/1.
Rung at Birmingham Cathedral, March 9th, 1955.

Let us take the exception first.
It can be seen from the diagram that in the first course the last four leads are taken from the course 35264, while in the second course the first two leads are :Iso taken from the course 35264. Then, like a knight in chess, it - o'erleaps with much vaunted pride' the intervening obstacles and lands safely in the last two leads of 42635.

Both the rows 35264 appear, however, in the 'Wrong' column of our figure proof. This, then, is the only time when two rows may appear in the same column without falseness.
But, alas, our touch is still false; not because of our 5 ths and 4 ths, but because of our ' Befores.'

Referring again to our diagram (original), it can be seen that the first course employs the first four leads of the plain course (23456), while the third course uses the last four. As thero are (still) only seven leads in a course it should be clear that one has been repeated. The lead is, in fact, the middle one (the 4th) due to the bob 'Before.'
The falseness, is shown in the figure proof in the 'Wrong' column where the row 23456 appears twice.
So much for our mortal enemy ' 5 ths and 4ths.' The professors and students can now relax while I explain my original diagram (No. ii.).

I first introduced this diagram (Original No. II.) to a startled and admiring Exercise in 1942, when it was published in "The Ringing World ' on (I believe) July 31st. Since then I have devised one or two improvements, not on the chart itself, but in its use.

As very few ringers retain their old 'Ringing Worlds' other than those which contain their own name, e.g., peals, letters, outings, meetings, quarter peals, compositions, etc., and as most of the people to whom this article is likely to be of value or interest will have ' ioined the ranks ' since that time, I will describe the chart and explain its use.
- It (the chart) consists of the 120 courses that are possible with the tenors together, 60 (in course) on the left-hand side, and 60 (out-of-course) on the right-hand side, arranged systematically, thus: \(23456,42356,34256\), 32546, 53246, 25346, etc., etc.
- As each course is divided into seven leads I have allotted a space to each of these seven leads, together with an insertion in the appropriate place of the course end to which the transference is made if a call is made at that lead. As this may sound more complicated than it actually is I append a facsimile of the course 23456.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline \multicolumn{2}{|r|}{23456} \\
\hline W & 52436 \\
\hline 5ths & \\
\hline & 35264 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

4ths 64523
M 43652
- Each course is treated in a similar manner and the chart is complete.'
Originally when I used the chart I used strips of cardboard to cover the rows, but later, following a suggestion by C. W. Forces, and who used to visit me, as he was stationed nearby, to be beaten at chess-we also did some handbell ringing) I changed the procedure.

So that having completed the chart, the next thing required by the student is a piece of perspex and a Chinagraph pencil, or, indeed, anything that will make a mark on the perspex that can be easily erased. The perspex can simply be laid over the magic figures, or the chart (mine is on stiff cardboard) secured to it.
You will notice that the courses are arranged in groups of three, as though they were a block of three 'Homes.' In fact when writing (or typing) the chart it is a good idea to group them in threes in this manner.

Now we have got this elaborate affair constructed what are we going to do with it? (Yes, professor, I know !). Ignoring caustic comments from the back row, may I point out that its use is twofold.

\section*{PROVING}

In proving a touch or peal it is necessary to surround with a rectangle any lead or leads that have been used. Providing that there is no overlapping of rectangles then the composition is true. In this connection I have formulated several rules.
Rale No. 1.-If there is no bob at 'Home,' return to the beginning of the course.

This rule may sound rather obvious, even to the student, but remember it is possible to enter a course even at the last lead, return to the beginning and move back to the point of entry thereby taking a flying leap into the next course.
Rule No. 2. "If there is a bob at "Home" move to the next course on the right in the same group.'
Two observations here :-
(i.) Always regard moving from the third to the first course in a group, e.g., from 34256 to 23456, as 'the next course on the right.'
(ii.) Make some distinguishing mark (e.g., a little squiggle on the line) to denote that a bob "Home" has been used. This will avoid confusion later.
Rule No. 3. "In the case of a bob "Before" include the 4th lead of, the old and the 4th lead of the new course.'
Rule No. 4. -In the case of 5th and 4th leave off at the 2 nd lead of the old, enter the 6 th lead of the new course.
Always remember that a lead during which the tenors have been separated, and which does not appear on the chart, has been used.
One or two examples will soon accustom us to the use of the chart for proving.
Take the following well-known 'touch ': 23456 W fraw a rectangle around the 52436 - \(\quad \begin{aligned} & \text { been used. Notice that the ' } W \text {, } \\ & \text { transposition on the chat shows }\end{aligned}\) 35426 - us into which course we move 33456 - after the bob . Wrong.' (52436.) Starting from the 2nd lead in this course we observe that there are no further bobs in the course and so surround the remainder by a rectangle. As there is no bob at 'Home, we return to the beginning of the course ( 52436 ) and complete the enclosure by surrounding the first lead.

\section*{THE COTSWOLDS IN THE WINTER}

Although a very cold east wind was blowing and a persistent layer of snow existed, it in no way 'blued 'an enjoyable ringing trip into the fringe of the Cotswolds which took place on March 5th.
Ringing for the day commenced at Tysoe, a ground floor six, excellent in every way (tenor 15 cwt . in E). Just over the border in Oxfordshire we then tricd the lightish five at Holy Trinity, Shenington (tenor 8 cwt.), which we found to our liking.
By kind permission of Mr. C. Jarvice, at short notice, we were allowed to try our luck on his private ring of six at Home Farm, Balscote. This is the lightest ring of bells at present hung for ringing, having a tenor of 1 cwt .22 lb . in C. For those in the party who had not had the pleasure of ringing here before it was a very novel and interesting experience.

Back once more into Warwickshire to try the six at Long Compton, where both the churchwarden and the head ringer welcomed us. These are a good ring, tenor 12 cwt. in \(F\) sharp, with an anti-clockwise circle.
At the twin village of Little Compton there is a saddleback tower, dating from the 14th century. Inside there is a poor five (not six), tenor approx. \(8 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\). in B flat. Ringing them is by no means easy as there is only about 2 ft . of rope below the tenor sally, no stay on the third and they have oval bearings, as they are only chimed on Sunday. The tenor difficulty was overcome by means of standing on several blocks of wood placed in turn on a bench. Rounds were more than enough here.
In Oxfordshire again we found a 'right,' good 'rolling' six at Great Rollwright (tenor 9 cwt. in G). An enjoyable half-hour was spent, together with the head ringer, at St. Michael and All Angels', Wolford, where there is a good six (tenor \(12 \downarrow \mathrm{cwt}\).).
Visitors to St. Paul's, Broadwell, must only expect to find five bells; the sixth is a sanctus bell not hung for ringing. However, we enjoyed our ring here even if we did start 43215 through not having realised they were another anticlockwise ring.

The band was drawn from St. Luke's, Wolverhampton, Little Aston and Walsall. Methods rung were Reverse Canterbury, Clifford Pleasure, Southrepps. Plain Bob, April Day, Stedman and Grandsire. A. N

\section*{SQUIRE LEONARD PROCTOR, J.P. (1816-1895)}

THE Squire was a unique figure in the annals of change ringingonly Squire Powell, of Quex Park, Birchington, can be compared with him. The latter's claim to fame, as far as we are concerned, lies almost entirely in the fact that he had a tower specially built on his private estate to contain a light ring of twelve bells, and although he secured the services of the noted William Shipway as instructor to his own men, they did not progress much further than, a few peals of Grandsire Triples.

Squire Proctor, who was also a member of the Society of Cumberland Youths, added to the bells in the tower of his parish church, secured the services of another noted Cumberland Youth, Jeremiah Miller, who was afterwards succeeded by J. R. Haworth, a College Youth, and the Benington men became famous for many years as the leading band in England for their proficiency in ringing peals of Double Norwich Court Bob, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise.

These feats seem to be all the more remarkable when it is remembered that they were all achieved by ringers resident in one and the same small country parish. As may easily be imagined, Benington was a favourite spot with ringers. Nowhere did a ringer meet with a more cordial, hearty welcome, or with more generous hospitality, than at the Squire's house. 'The Lordship.'

It is now exactly sixty years since the death at the age of 79 of Squire Proctor, so there can only be a few men still with us who can have rung with him and his band or have seen and heard their ringing.

\section*{LEARNT AT CAMBRIDGE}

Mr. Proctor, the head of a family which had been seated at Benington for nearly three centuries, was born in January, 1816. From a very early age he took an interest in bells, as he could ring a bell in 1829 when he went to Eton, where he rang the bell at the death of George IV. After spending his schooldays at Eton College, he went in 1834 to Trinity College. Cambridge, where he graduated in January, 1838. It was at Cambridge that he first entered on the study of the science and art of change ringing, practising chiefly on the fine ring of twelve at Great St. Mary's, the University Church.

Here was laid the foundation of that proficiency that later was to enable him to make himself master of all the best known and most admired 'crank' methods and to make his name so deservedly famous for nearly sixty years in ringing circles.

He joined the Society of Cumberland Youths in 1836 and after taking up his abode in the home of his father at Benington, he had the bells at'grrented to eight in 1838. They were opened by the Society on Janvary 29th and next day a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung (conducted by E. Giles), to which he rang the tenor.

The Squire was not an infrequent visitor to his London friends and often rang at St. Martin-in-the-Fields. He would often commission J. Miller to take a band of Londoners to meet him for a day's ringing in the country.

> THE FIRST PEAL

The first peal by the Benington band was rung in 1849 and is recorded on a tablet in this manner :-

Ye Benington bells, ye Benington bells,
How many a tale your music tells
Of youth and home and that glad time
When last we heard your merry chime.
Now time will come when we are gone,
Your tuneful peal will still ring on,
While other hands your tender ropes shall pull And strive our peal to ring which here we write in full.

On Tuesday, November 20th, 1849, a complete peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major ( 5,040 changes) was rung in this steeple, in three hours and one minute. This peal, one of the most difficult in the science of change ringing, and the only peal in this intricate method ever rung in the County of Hertford, was accomplished in a masterly style by the undermentioned persons all resident in this parish. James Flott, Treble; Thomas Page, 2; Leonard Proctor, 3; William Collins, 4; John Aylott, 5; Charles Hollingsworth, 6; Joseph Kitchener, 7; George Warner, Tenor. The peal was most ably conducted by Mr. J. Kitchener, and is the production of Mr. J. Miller, of the Cumberland Youths, London, and contains sixty bobs.'

A peal of 5,280 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in 1851 and this appears to have been the first of Kent in the county. In 1855 two peals of Superlative were rung within ten days of each other. Only four peals in this method had been previously recorded-1821 at Huddersfield, 1835 at Norwich, 1849 at Woolwich and 1850 at Bethnal Green-and the next Superlative peal was not rung until 1877 at Redenhall.

\section*{RINGING DAYS}

The first of the Benington Superlative peals was rung on May 29th, 1855, and contained 5,376 changes. A Ringing Day was always held on this date in after years while the Squire was active, and indeed until 1940 it was the custom of the Eastern District of the Hertford County Association under the late Mr . W. H. Lawrence to hold a meeting on or near to this date, and in this, the centenary ycar, it would be very fitting to revive Benington's Great Ringing Day. The second of the 1855 Superlative peals was rung on June 9th and was a 6,048 by J. Cox; this stood as the longest peal in the method for thirty years when it was beaten by a 6,720 at Burton-on-Trent. Squire Proctor did not stand in the 6,048 peal, his bell was taken by J. Miller, but the rest of the band was similar to that in the other Benington peals. Joseph Kitchener called all the peals, also one of Stedman Triples in 1865 , another 'first in the county.'

Perhaps the greatest achievement of the Benington band was the peal of London Surprise Major, containing 6,048 changes, which was rung in 1870. This was the third and longest peal to be rung in the method, the two previous London Surprise peals being rung at Norwich in 1835 and Woolwich in 1849. The next peal of London was not rung until 1877 at Burton-on-Trent, where the 6,048 was beaten in 1888 by a 6.720. Another great performance at Benington was the first true peal of Cambridge Surprise Major ( 5,600 changes) in 1873 , rung over fifty years after the fifth and last of the false peals already recorded in the method. and once again the next Cambridge peal to be rung was at Burton in 1887.

The Benington peals of London and Cambridge are both recorded on the same tablet and the name of J. Miller is given as the composer of both peals, but the peal of Cambridge was actually the composition of \(C\). Middleton rung in its transposed form. Tom Page conducted both from the tenor, Nathan Warner rang the treblc, John Kitchener the second, Squire Proctor the third, Sam Page the fifth, Charles Hollingsworth the sixth and Charles Shambrook the seventh in both peals. L. Chapman rang the fourth in the Cambridge in the place of Joseph Kitchener.

\section*{A FAMOUS BAND}

This famous band opened or reopened the bells at St. Peter's, St. Albans (1868). St. Albans Abbey (1871), Galleywood, Essex (1873), Sawbridgeworth (1871), Baldock (1882) and many other places with a long length containing touches in the various standard and Surprise methods they practised. At Galleywood they rang 5,060 changes in ten methods, ranging from 336 Grandsire Triples to 448 London Surprise.

In 1876, the Squire and three of his men took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at All Saints', Hertford, composed and conducted by John Cox.

The last two peals by the Benington band were both rung in January, 1887, for the Hertford County Association. They were 6,000 Double Norwich and 6,720 Superlative, conducted by Sam Page. The Squire did not take part in either and the former peal was rung in honour of his 71st birthday.

Squire Proctor was one of the founders of the County Association in 1884 and was elected to serve as a vice-president at the first meeting under the presidency of the Bishop of St. Albans. In 1888 he was elected as president, and in 1893 at the annual meeting he was presented with a handsome marble clock and a framed illuminated address by Canon W. Wigram on behalf of the members. These gifts were left by him to posterity as a mark of the great kindness by his fellowringers. The clock and the framed address may still be seen in the Parish Hall at Benington, while a photograph of the Squire and his band hangs in the tower.

The Squire and his men grew old together. After he discontinued ringing, little was done in that way by them. The band were almost entirely his own servants and dependants. Benington was Mr. Proctor's world. He had few pursuits outside, and left it very seldom. Latterly he lived almost alone: he became more and more feeble, although adhering pretty much to the old routine of life, and was out of doors within two days of his death. He passed away in 1895 so quietly that even initmate friends and neighbours never heard of his being ill until they were told of his funeral.

The Society of Cumberland Youths, however ' amid the solemnity befitting the occasion,' muffied the bells of St. Martin-in-the-Fields at the practice on Friday, March 29th, and performed the usual whole-pull-and-stand, which was followed by touches of Stedman Cinques.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL'S APPRECIATION}

The Central Council, of which he was an original member, unanimously passed the following resolution at Sheffield on Easter Tuesday, 1895: "That this meeting desires to place on record its high appreciation of the services rendered to the Exercise by the late Leonard Proctor, Esq., of Benington, than whom no one has done more to encourage practical ringing in its highest branches.'

The late Mr. W. H. Lawrence, of Little Munden, writing in 'The Ringing World ' in March, 1928, and June, 1933, referred to Benington as the Mecca of many famous men-Cox, Haley, Miller, Lobb and, in later days, Washbrook, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, W. H. Fussell, Nathan and Frederick Pitstow (not to mention J. R. Haworth) and many others were visitors, and at The Lordship the old Squire kept ever open doors to ringers. It was nothing strange years ago to hear the bells of Benington ringing upon any day of the week, for if a peal was wanted, the Squire had only to call up his men, and visitors could be accommodated with any method they required. There must have been many peals rung that are not recorded, for the ringing was kept up to a very high standard right up to the time of Mr. Proctor's death.

It was nothing out of the common for London Surprise to be rung for services, and the bells were always raised in peal before the service touch and lowered again before the service. It was done perfectly and was a treat to listen to. Benington in Squire Prector's days had a truly wonderful band and their striking was perfect. The band visited Braughing on the anniversary of the 12,240 Bob Major peal rung there on May 10th, 1779, for fifty years without a break, and it was seldom that all the standard methods were not rung during the day, and on one or more occasions took their own bell-ropes with them.

The old Squire would often take Sam Page to various parts of England for ringing and Sam was never tired of telling of his visits to Birmingham, Warwick, Ipswich, London, Lavenham, Saffron Walden and many other places as well as of the places visited by the whole band together to open rings, etc.

Mr. Lawrence could well remember in his childhood days hearing Benington bells across the fields, striking with the regularity of machinery. The ringers had been trained in a strict school. Thomas Page had the training of his son and Sam often repeated the words of his father to him, viz., 'If I was going to be a ringer. l'd BE one,' and the words were carried out to the full by both. Sam Page died in 1928 , and about two years later C. Shambrook, the Squire's coachman, passed on, the last of the old band.

\section*{ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GULLD}

Members from all parts of the Diocese congregated at Llanelly on March 12th for a quarterly meeting of the Guild.
At the service in the Parish Church the Rev. E. A. B. Hughes officiated, assisted by the Rev. T. L. Bowen, with Mr. Vivian Thomas at the organ. Tea at the Parish Hall was enjoyed by 45 members.
The Rev. E. A. B. Hughes, at the business meeting, extended a hearty welcome to the members of the Guild to Llanelly. Owing to another appointment he had to leave the meeting early, and Mr. Ed. J, Thomas, of Carmarthen, the grand old stalwart, consented to take the chair. His ability and jovial humour enabled the agenda to be quickly disposed of. The usual touch on the handbells was given by members from Llandilo and Mr. A. Hoare. The next quarterly meeting will be held at Llanbadarn Fawr on September 10th. Ten new members were initiated into the Guild. A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised the sum of \(£ 15 \mathrm{~s}\). Apologies for inability to attend the meeting through illness were received from the Master, Mr. H. Jenkins, of Tenby, and Mr. W. J. Harris, of Llanbadarn Fawr.

The secretary reminded the members of the annual meeting on June 25 th. A bus would be chartered to take the members from St. Peter's Church to the Palace and back.
The secretary also reminded the members of the competition at Haverfordwest.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies who waited at the tea by Mr. A. Hoare, and also to Mr. Ed. J. Thomas for presiding at the meeting in a very able way.

\section*{A RESIDENT PEAL AT BUCKFAST ABBEY}

The peal of Bob Major rung at Buckfast Abbey on March 19th was of special interest to those who took part, as it was the first peal to be rung there by a band entirely resident in Devon.
In view of the time allotted to the band it was decided to ring the front octave, and it was fortunate that this was done as the bells did not come into rounds until after 5.45 p.m. and all ringing had to be finished at 6 p.m.

It was appropriate, too, that Messrs. Harvey, Uglow and Mallett were in the band, as they only took up change ringing since the war and had received their early instruction mainly in the Mid-Devon Branch.
A word of praise is due to Miss Mundy for the excellent way she rang. She is the first resident lady to ring, a peal at the Abbey. The distinction of being the first lady, however, to ring a peal there belongs to Mrs. J. Thomas, of Evesham, Worcestershire. A. L. B

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

The St. Albans District held its March meeting at Harpenden on the 19th in bright, sunny weather, if a little cold. It was a pity that only a couple of dozen ringers turned up, as the pleasantly situated church has a good octave and the welcome given is always worthy of strong support by visitors. Ringing ranged from rounds to Bristol, with plenty in between for keen beginners.

Tea was in the Church Hall, adjoining the churchyard, and was very well provided by the local ringers and their wives. At the business meeting, presided over by Mr. H. V. Frost, details of the A.G.M. at Watford, in April, were announced, and Knebworth for May 21st and Barnet and Hadley for June 18th were suggested as forthcoming meetings.

\section*{DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION}

Although the bells at St. George's Church, Jesmond, are seldom rung, they were in good shape for the Northern District meeting.

Mr . McGuiness prepared an admirable tea, and afterwards a business meeting was held. Miss Joan Hall was elected as "The Ringing World' representative for the District, and Mr. R. Worsdall was elected a member. The date of the annual outing was fixed as August 1st.

The younger members came to the fore after tea and, following some first-class tuition, rang a perfect touch for the service.

Mr. Jack Thomas planned a peal attempt of Holt's Original, rung silent, for a band of veterans, each over 70. On the day fixed for the meeting half the band were ill in bed. Perhaps when spring really arrives the band will be fit.
\(\mathrm{Mr} . \mathrm{C}\). Crossthwaite 'completed the circle ' of St. Mary's, Penwortham, on March 19th, when he called a peal of Plain Bob Major from the second.

Mr. Arthur York, tower captain of Alsager, received a very cordial welcome when he attended the meeting of the Crewe Branch at Church Lawton on his wonderful recovery from a broken neck.

The A.M.C. of the Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows will be held at Hastings this year. Bro. W. Frank Stenson hopes that ringing delegates will take advantage of the many eights in the neighbourhood.

After the last Hailsham peal the ringers gathered at the home of Miss K. Yeo (whose 17th birthday was celebrated by her first peal on eight) and were royally entertained. The centre piece of a delicious spread was an iced cake in the form of a bell emblazoned with the Sussex martlets.
It was a very happy and lucky wedding that coincided with a meeting of the Crewe Branch of the Chester Guild at All Saints', Church Lawton, on March 19th. After the service the bride and bridegroom were greeted by the bells, including 'firing.' In welcoming the ringers to Church Lawton, the new Rector, the Rev. 1. T. Wilson, said how pleased he was that the meeting coincided with the wedding, as no two young people were more deserving of the honour and compliment of the bells. It was a very happy meeting, 50 sitting down to tea.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP}

Durban, arrives in Englond address will on April 6th, and his home 2, Hall Street, Kidderminster. returns to South Africa on June 23 rd on the Arundel Castle. We hope his engagements will permit him to attend the Central Council meeting at Bristol. Ringers will be pleased to meet one who has kept the flag of change ringing flying at Durban for so many years.
Congratulations to Mr. Roland W. Morant, of Guildford, on ringing his 100 th peal.

The bells of Peterchurch, Herefordshire, are to be restored. The last peal on the bells in their present position was rung on March 19th.

The fact that there were no Sunday newspapers this week has enabled quite a number of ringers to put in a little quiet study on Central Council's resolutions and decisions.
Trull, Somerset, has lost a ringer of 50 years' standing by the death of Mr. A. S. Pyke. A quarter peal to his memory was rung on March 21st.

Re footnote to peal at Bournemouth on March 4th (page 182, 'Ringing World'), this should read 'First attempt on handbells,' as Valerie and three other Burnham girls took part in a four-method peal of Minor at Hitcham, Bucks, on May 3rd, 1946. Come on, Valerie, have you forgotten?-and sorry, Daniel.-G. G.

\section*{TOPIC FOR THE MONTH - III.}

\section*{Instructional Manual}

\(\mathbf{I}^{\mathrm{F}}\)F you are an expert ringer and/or instructor you won't find much that's new in what follows. but in that case it may enlist your valuable help. If you are less expert the proposals may evoke at least your sympathy.
It is axiomatic that the clever exponent of an art is not necessarily a good teacher of it. The converse also is true. Teaching employs specialised techniques, however, in combination with both knowledge and experience; but chiefly it requires the 'know-how' of entering into the pupil's mind and influencing it. Teachers who get the results that present-day standards demand are trained in the business.
So what? Is this a plaint that the Exercise has no real teachers of ringing-no instructors, in fact? Far from it! There have always been good ringing instructors and many fine pupils they have turned out; and to-day there is a goodly number of instructors, active and pocential. Also it is probable that there are now in the Exercise more professional teachers who are good ringers than there have ever been. The Universities' Association of Change Ringers, in which there are many members of this profession, looks particularly to such members to use their professional skill and knowledge in the spreading of our Art; and they, together with others, first class instructors, are rendering a valuable service in this field.
But (and it's no good beating about the bush!), there are too many towers without an instructor, and too many more in which the instruction has obviously been faully. In short, the average standard of ringing (and this doesn't mean the ringing of advanced methods), is not at a level with which the Exercise could conscientiously rest content.
Apart from an insufficiency of capable instructors there is the lack of just that type of written material that would help to fill the gaps. Now, of course, this is no reflection on the available publications. including, for example, the introductory chapters in Snowdon's 'Ropesight: and the Central Council's excellent pamphlet on rope-handling entitled ; Hints for Instructors and Beginners,' compiled by Mr. Joe Dyke and others. But there are other aspects of the full course of training that. in the absence of experienced instructors. ought to be covered by written advice and guidance. In ringing. as in any advancing art, accumulating experience evolves new ways of approach and treatment: the general use of which is not merely advisable but essential, if optimum results from instruction are to be got. Does not such consideration indicate the need for a comprehensive and standardised work-a Manual of Instruction?

The need is most obvious, perhaps, in some rural areas; but in some urban towers, too, it is evident. How many of us, happy visitors in those friendly towers we have been privilcged to enter. have not (now and again) been disappointed to find, amongst keenness and patience personified, those obvious signs of misguided effort and uninformed tuition? Poor, awkward styles of bell-handling; apparent ignorance of ' negative pull' or braking action; faulty control; beginners put into rounds even before they can 'balance' the bell after each stroke; indifferent striking; inability to get beyond a certain stage-even tenor-behind; abnormal ' wastage' of learners through lack of interest-maintenance, or sympathetic instructorship, or both; badly graduated training, or lack of any realistic scheme; little or no corrective instruction; improvers allowed to attempt tricky methods before they've learned to strike properly-these are some of the unfortunate brakes on the wheel of progress, contributing to the failure of numbers of beginners to 'stay the course,' and of others ever to become good ringers, even in the simpler methods. And the Exercise can't afford to lose one traince, or leave one half-trained, even; we need them all. In some areas, if the bells are to serve the Church at all, the need is desperate.
But even where they 'only just manage Grandsire' (or whatever simple ringing they achieve for 'service') there is no reason why this should not be of the best possible performance, so long as they know what to aim for, and how to work for it. Any learner tends to acquire faults. The good insiructor spots them immediately, and is able to take corrective action before they develop. If the learner's mind is sufficiently impressed by the correction he eliminates the error; but the degree of impression, and therefore of elimination, depends entirely on how forcefully the correction is introduced. A crisp, perhaps even startling, admonition is often better than a lecture. Good examples of this precept in practice are to be found here and there: they need to be collected and 'broadcast.'

\section*{THE CENTRAL COUNCIL \\ Preliminary Notice}

The second session of the 22nd Council (58th annual meeting) will be held at Bristol on Whitsun Tuesday, May 31st, 1955 .
In accordance with Rule 13 , notices of motion, signed by two members of the Council, must be received by the secretary not later than six weeks prior to the meeting.

Details of other arrangements will be given later.

\section*{E. A. BARNETT, \\ Hon. Secretary.}

Here, for instance, are some snappy injunctions more recently introduced against age-old faults:-
"Little finger on fore-finger!' (To get upper hand against lower hand in gripping rope.) 'Lost rope!' (When upper hand fails instantly and almost imperceptibly to change grip between strokes.)
Elbows to ear-tops!' (To correct too low a grip on the rope, at either stroke.)
Pull down to thighs! ' (For getting lower part of a full stroke.)
Stroke down the buttons! (For correcting rope throw-out.)
Handcuffs!' (A good test of upper-hand action at the grip-change is to imagine the wrists linked by handcuffs, thus preventing the upper hand 'waving in mid-air.')
And as to the 'Stance '- how many beginners are taught the 'three points of approach ' to be observed before even untying the rope?
It seems almost exceptive to quote the very few foregoing items from what could be a considerable collection of tips and useful experiences in instructing; not merely for the section related, but for all the others of a full course of instruction. One has been able to collect and test a good many such, and has, in the past, published a large part of them and other details of tuition. But throughout the Exercise, among the many magnificent ringers and wonderfully successful instructors, there must be a wealth of brilliant ideas and firstclass practical advice, awaiting collection and dissemination. A capable instructor, knowing and using this distillation of experience, will do for his pupils what no book ever could do: show them exactly how it is to be done.

There are, of course, mone ways than one of setting about the job; but let us assume the compilation of a work that could serve both as a Manual for Instructors and as a Guide to Self-teaching; i.e., for the leader of a newly formed band where no instructor is available. It might then be planned on some such scheme as the following, wherein the suggested ten sections show the chapter headings and the topics in each:-
I. Introductory. Familiarisation: The mechanics of ringing: Observing, in bell-chamber, a bell actually rung, and in the ringing chamber a proficient ringer on the rope: The production of "changes': Use of handbells for demonstration and for training the ear.
II. Bell Handling and Control. Stance: Grips: Arm motions: The (upper) quick-hand change: The strokes-independent and conjoint: Solo handling: Bell-balancing (between strokes): Raising and lowering, solo.
III. Striking. Ringing in rounds (on 3rd): Covering ( 1 and 2 dodging): Dodging (with 2 nd ): The use of the ear, always: Leading off the Tenor: The art of striking-timing by ear: Raising and lowering in peal.
IV. Elements of Method Ringing. (Still on 3rd bell) Place-making, as a whole-pull-only form of 'covering' (already learnt): Hunting down (from 3 rds place), Leading, Hunting up (to 3rds again): The three different rhythms in the striking: Dodging (with 4th): Perfection of hunting, dodging, place-making.
V. First Method Ringing. Welding of the elements just learnt into Stedman Doubles: Proceeding to a hunt-controlled method, say, Plain Bob: etc.
VI. The Learning of Methods. Elementary Principles of Method Structure: Types of Methods: 'Signposts' and checks for the ringing of methods: Importance of 'home-work': Inter-relationship of 'Blue Line' elements : Division-end positions: The habit of close concentration VII. Practical Method Ringing. Paramount importance of the car: Hearing the hunt-bell, and the striking: Timing the strokes: Rhythmic pulls: Visualising the path ahead: Looking for the signposts and the lead-ends or divisionends: Checking position: Cyclics: The team spirit: Etiquette of speaking.
VIII. Elementary Compasition. The Bob as a course-builder and the Single as a phasereverser: Round blocks and Q -sets: Composition of simple touches: Study of peal compositions: Proof: Transposition: Varying and Reversing.
\(I X\). Elements of Conducting. Picking up the coursing orders and noting the positions of the Conductor's calls, and their effects: (Continued practice before attempting calling.) Learning the composition: Precision of the call-out: Watching and listening for trips: Checking 'key-changes' by eye, by ear and by both: Calling Round
\(X\). Training for Leadership. Sizing up the pupil and getting to know the ringers: Precept and example: Tact and discipline: Self-criticism: Tower etiquette: Public relations: etc.

Assuming the work to be sponsored by the Central Council, it might be placed in the hands of the Literature and Press Committee or of an Editorial Panel responsible to them. Then an invitation to the Exercise at large for contributions would no doubt produce a large quantity of very valuable material-some for a plan for the whole work; some for perhaps a complete chapter: some for a varied or fuller synopsis of the chapters; some for a lopic or topics within one or more chapters; and some perhaps for only a few hints and tips. But all would be of some value, no doubt. What do you feel about the whole idea? And what about short refresher courses for Instructors?

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN LANCASHIRE}

\author{
By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

\(\mathbf{A}^{\mathbf{1}}\)FTER Kent, we come to another county where lots of peals have been rungLa,ncashire. This county also has the most rings of 12 bells of all the counties (five), and this is also the fourth in the list for 10 -bell towers (Middlesex, Surrey and Yorkshire have more than Lancashire's nine). When tabulating the peals I was rather mystified by two towers which did not appear in Dove's book, and it was also difficult at times to differentiate between Newchurch and Newchurch in Rossendale. The mystery of the two towers was later resolved-they no longer exist and the bells have been removed elsewhere, but I wouldn't like to be certain of having credited the Newchurch peals to their proper towers! The county is also noteworthy for the number of rings in Roman Catholic churches. There are only 25 (I think) in all the British Isles, and ten of them are in Lancashire.

But now for figures. Worsley (10) is the tower with the greatest number of peals, having just passed the 200 mark since 1881. Its total is 206 . It is one of four 10-bell towers which were eights at the beginning of the period and was quite popular as such, 65 peals coming from 1883 to 1916 . Thirty-three more were rung before augmentation in the early 1930 's, but it certainly blossomed forth after the trebles were added for 32 peals were rung in the four years just before the last war and there have been 76 since 1944.
No less than ten other towers have reached the century mark, and only Suffolk can beat this total of 11 towers with more than 100 peals rung at them, with 12 . All the ten are under the 150 mark with Deanc (eight) leading the list with 147. This tower shows a general feature of the county in having more peals before the 1914-18 war than since. Many of the towers which will be mentioned will indicate that peal ringing was more popular at them 50 years ago than until very recent times. Some are, however, maintaining a better average again nowadays. At Deane, 84 peals were rung from 1896 to 1916 and there were 58 from 1917 to 1934. (I said in my article on Hampshire that I thought North Stoneham was the only church to score peals every year of the first war, but I find I am wrong, for Deane also did.) There have been only five peals since then, in 1948 and 1949.

\section*{MANCHESTER CATHEDRAL}

Manchester Cathedral (10) has 145. No less than 52 were rung in the \(1880^{\prime}\) s, and a further 39 from 1891 to 1911 . Thirty-three were rung between the wars and there have been 21 since 1945, so the average is better again now. Ashton-under-Lync, St. Peter's (8), has 142. Eighty-five of these were rung in the last century, including a 10,000 of Kent Treble Bob Major. Of the 57 rung this century, 28 have come since 1944, so things are looking up here, too. This tower is very closely followed by its next door neighbour, Ashton, St. Michael's (12), with 138 . Ninety-seven were rung between 1881 and 1915, 27 seven were rung between, 1881 and 1915, 27 more from 1917 to 1934 , and 14 from 1949 to 1953 (none in 1954). Several record lengths have been rung here including 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 14,000 Kent Treble Bob Royal, 12,240 Kent Treble Bob Maximus and \(10,075^{\prime}\) Grandsire Cinques.

Apart from Liverpool, St. Nicholas (12), all the remaining centenarians are 8 -bell towers. At St. Nicholas' the 100 has just been reached with the last peal there. The best period was from 1919 to 1939, when 81 of the peals were rung. There have been 11 in the last two years since the bells were restored. The remaining 8 -bell centenarians in order of number of peals are Pendleton ( \(132-75\) from 1885 to 1915, 50 from 1918 to 1932, and seven in the last three years) ; Oswaldtwistle (126-11 when it was a 6 -bell tower before 1913, including a \(10,000,77\) from 1913 to 1938 (none in 1918), and 38 since 1944); Oldham, Moorside ( \(129-45\) before 1914, 44 from 1914 to 1940, and 40 since 1944); Walkden (103-54 from 1898 to 1915, 41 between the wars and eight since 1948). The 10th tower is Eccles; 108 were rung here up to the mid 1920's ( 76 last century and 27 from 1900 to 1914) but thes, I believe, the bells from St. John's, Deansgate, Manchester (which is one of the two mystery towers mentioned above), were placed in the tower, since when 27 peals have been rung- 24 from 1929 to 1934 and eight since the war. I will leave readers to argue whether peals should be credited to the tower or the bells, as far as my articles are concerned, at any rate.
Two towers are nearing the 100 mark. Halewood has 96 , spread evenly over the whole period, and Bolton, Holy Trinity, has 94. Only seven had been rung before 1914 in the 30 years from the first peal recorded there, but it has been doing well since the last war, for 36 peals have come since then.

\section*{MANCHESTER TOWN HALL}

The two 12 -bell towers not already mentioned have been having their best times since 1945. At Manchester Town Hall 23 of the 47 peals have been rung since then (it was a 10-bell tower until the middle 1930's), whilst at Oldham 11 of the 37 peals come from the last eight years, tht remaining 26 being spread out from 1890 to 1938 . Only very brief mention can be made of the remaining seven 10 bell towers, of which only Blackburn Cathedral has passed the half-century, with 65 peals. Half of these were rung before 1914 and 10 from 1947 to 1952. Three of the seven were 8 -bell towers at first-Preston, St. John's (32 peals in all, 11 since the war), Wigan 25 peals, nine last century, seven from 1948 to 1952), and Leyland, St. Andrew's (13, six on the eight from 1901 to 1925, four on the ten in the 1930's, and four more in 1946, 1947 and 1955). The remaining three are St. Helens, whose bells came from St. Peter's, Liverpool (the second ' mystery' tower), where 25 peals were rung on them from 1881 to 1894, and one more in 1905 (at St. Helens, 33 peals have come since 1929, 20 since the war); Dalton-in-Furness ( 27 peals - all since 1928, and 13 since 1947) and Lancaster R.C. Cathedral (13-two in 1883 and 1884, then a gap to 1935. and ten since 1945).

\section*{MOST 8-BELL TOWERS}

Ten 8 -bell towers have already been mentioned, but it is difficult to pick out others to talk about since there are so many of them. Actually, Lancashire has more 8-bell towers than any other county and easily the highest proportion of them to the total number of towers of any county with large numbers of bells (Cumberland has 15 eights out of 20 towers, which is a higher proportion in the counties with few bells). Without mentioning how they are distributed through the years, here are the numbers of peals in towers which come next to those already discussed :-Bolton, St. Peter's (86) ; Oldham, Glodwick (78); Manchester. St. John's, Miles Platting (77), Aughton, Christ Church, and Blackburn, St. Michael's (76); Bacup, St. Saviour's, and Ormskirk (75); Milnrow (74); Southport, Christ Church (72); and Middleton (71). At Newchurch in Rossendale an interesting point is that of the 46 peals rung between 1887 and 1914 all were Grandsire Triples except the last. All the nine peals at Halliwell (commencing 1897) have also been in this method.

As for 6-bell towers, Accrington and Halsall easily lead the way. The former has 61 and the latter 60 peals-nearly double any of the others. In both cases 80 per cent. of the peals have been rung since 1944, so they are both doing very well at the moment. As I write I see that a peal of Bob Major has been rung at Accrington, so it seems that this tower has now joined the ranks of the 8 -bell towers Only ten other 6 -bell towers have reached double figures, so it is clear that the emphasis in this county is on the higher number of bells. These ten are Brindle ( 36 peals), Brathay (25), Hawkshead (22), Grassendale (17), Coppull (16), Kirkby Ireleth (13), Bootle (12), and Aughton, St. Michael's, East Crompton and Leyland (( 11 each). All except two of these towers have appeared in the peal lists since the war. They are Brathay, where the last peal was rung in 1933 (there were two 10,000's here before 1914) and Grassendale (last peal 1927). As a point of interest, it is a 6-bell tower that has been silent for the longest time-Chipping, which has not had a peal this century yet. The last of its seven peals was rung in 1898 . Roughtown's only peal was in 1904 and, by the time this article appears, an 8 -bell tower will also have been silent for 50 years-Rochdale, St. Alban's.

\section*{VIRGIN TOWERS}

On the subject of silent towers, there are eight which are still virgin territory. I need hardly mention the 12 bells of Liverpool Cathedral as being one of them! The others are two eights Hurst and Lytham R.C. Church; three sixes-Kearsley Moor, Kirkham R.C. Church and Preston, St. Mark's; and two of the three fives-Leck and Thurnham R.C. Church. Downham is the one and only 5-bell tower which has recorded peals (two). Just as the county has the largest number of 8 -bell towers for its size, so it has the smallest number of 5 -bell towers.
This article concerns peals up to and including those appearing in :The Ringing World of February 25th, 1955.

\section*{ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY}

\section*{Trying the New Eight at West Bromwich}

The March meeting of the Society took place at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on the 19th ult. When the Society last met at Christ Church, in January, 1947, the imposing tower contained a ring of 12 bells, but these were melted down in 1954 and recast into a pleasant toned ring of eight (tenor 25 cwt.).
Ringing during the afternoon and evening was under the direction of Mr. Dennis Holden, Ringing Master. The service was conducted by the Rev. F. W. Jones (Vicar), who, in his address, stated that ringers were stewards who had charge of the old English art of change ringing. It was up to ringers to be worthy of such stewardship especially with regard to the bringing in of new recruits.
Tea was served in the Parish Room, after which the Rev. C. H. Barker, clerical secretary, thanked the Rev. F. W. Jones for taking the service and giving the address, Mr . S . Rogers for playing the organ, and Messrs. \(D\). C. Jinks and F. Barraclough and the lady helpers for arranging the tea.

The attendance of 54 included a pleasing number of young ringers. The next meeting of the Society will be at Rugeley on May 21 st .

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{THE QUESTION}

Dear Sir,-Since Mr. Lack has seen fit to suggest that I do not tell the truth, will you please allow me a little more of your space to reply?
Firstly, let me say that I did not, nor did I suggest, that I had been asked to write to you on behalf of our committee.
I wrote after a discussion over tea (which Mr. Lack did not attend), in which my friends suggested that somebody should write to "The Ringing World,' state the case and ask for a decision.
Nor did I suggest any 'fiddling.' I only quoted the letter which was read to us from the conductor.
It was obvious that the fourth and maybe some of the other bells did not do as they should have, but it does not alter the Fact that rounds were rung as the conductor tells us.

And that, sir, is all I asked: Is a 'peal' a peal, if rounds accidentally or otherwise come up before the end? I should like to thank Mr. Ayre for his ruling, and should like to refer Mr. Lack, who is a Central Council member, to it.-Yours sincerely, Wisbech.

JOHN E. FOX.

\section*{'A RINGER AND HIS OBLIGATIONS'}

Dear Sir,-I must say how very much I appreciated your leading article recently, headed 'A Ringer and his Obligations.' It came as a welcome change to the continued assertion of ringers as to 'their rights'-a very prevalent attitude, especially in this atomic age. It seemed to sum up ringers' obligations and to remind us that we have responsibilities as well as privileges. Thank you, Mr. Birmingham, for your article and understanding. - Yours sincercly,

JOHN B. LONG.
Cardington, Beds.

\section*{CONGRATULATIONS AND}

Dear Sir,-May I offer congratulations to the Frampton band and their young lady conductor on a very fine achievement, and belatedly but not less warmly to \(\mathbf{M r}\). Blagrove and his band in the Doubles field? These last performances will, I feel, do a lot to clear up the Doubles troubles.

Mr . Blagrove has also done a fine job in his extraction of the c.p.s. Surprise Major methods, despite opinions to the contrary. A quote from the Rev. C. D. P. Davies would not be inapt. "Bristol ... its appearance was quite casual an example of certain principles, as one among others of the same class.'

Also, re Doubles methods and Bob Triples, have the Methods Committce really considered these points:-
(1) By in effect putting a ban on certain methods, will they help the growth and establishment of any Sunday service ringing, or the reverse?
(2) Do they not realise that when a Doubles text book is issued, then the variations and admixtures will be all but forgotten in \(5-7\) years? There are more ways than one of silencing cats, strange as it may seem.

Finally, have I any support yet for my opposition to the practice of having the 6th in 5ths in Major compositions? I contend that, there being little interval between 6 and 7, the rows with that pair behind sound very flat and take away much of the sparkle and life from the ringing.-Yours sincerely,
D. A. FRITH.

\section*{Grantham.}

Note.-There is no ban on what a band cares to ring. The only restriction is when they desire to call their performance a peal recogaised by the Central Council.-Ed.]

REV. F. E. ROBINSON'S LAST PEALS
Dear Sir,-Replying to Mr. E. J. Rowe about the late Rev. F. E. Robinson's last peals, it is true that in his book, 'Among the Bells,' his last peal is given as being rung at Devizes, and after that he resigned the living of Drayton and came to live at Wokingham.

He used to come regularly to practise with us at All Saints'. and he told me himself that he hoped to be able to ring a few more peals of Stedman Triples in towers with a light octave. I am not sure how many he did complete (I believe one was rung at Cranleigh in Surrey), but his last was definitely at St. Andrew's, Uxbridge, in January, 1910.

I myself went with him on two occasions to Aldermaston when his memory failed with the calling and he set his bell somewhere near the half-way. It may not be generally known that a few days after the Uxbridge peal he was taking Sunday duty in bitter weather at a church near Reading, where he caught a chill and developed pneumonia, from which he did not recover.

These are a few facts I am able to remember after 45 years.-Yours, etc.,
W. J. PAICE.

\section*{THREE SURVIVORS OF LAST PEAL}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. E. J. Rowe's query in 'The Ringing World' of March 18th, the Rev. F. E. Robinson rang at least 12 peals, all Stedman Triples, after his serious illness.

After the peal at Devizes on May 16 th, 1908 , there was a period of some months during which he rang no peals. A note in 'The Bell News,' February 13 th, 1909, announced his return to peal ringing after his restoration to health, and following is a list of peals rung by him, on light octaves, mostly in the Oxford diocese:-

Clanfield, Oxon, February 9th, 1909.
Slough, Bucks, April 12th, 1909.
Old Windsor, Berks, May 22nd, 1909.
Farnham Royal, Bucks, May 31st, 1909.
Wraysbury, Bucks, August 2nd, 1909.
Clanfield, Oxon, October 13th, 1909.
Southleigh, Oxon, October 29th, 1909.
Shipton-under-Wychwood, Oxon, November 5th, 1909.
Old Windsor, Berks, December 27th, 1909.
Hughenden, Bucks, January Ist, 1910.
Southleigh, Oxon, January 5th, 1910.
Hillingdon West, Middlesex, January 15th, 1910.

This last was his 1,250 th and last peal. It was an excellent one, which he appreciated and thanked the band for their careful ringing.

The Rev. 'F. E.' did not ring peals in Lent, which season soon followed his last peal, but Mr. R. Buckland, of Beaconsfield, who had arranged several of these peals, was arranging for more attempts to be made after Easter. This was not to be, for Mr. Robinson died suddenly, his funeral taking place at Wokingham, Berks, of February 19th, 1911.
The tablet at Hillingdon, mentioned by Mr. Rowe, was made by Mr. Buckland, and was written by Mr. W. Lawrence, who also rang in the peal. Three members of the band are still active ringers-R. Buckland (Beaconsfield), R. H. Young (Harlow Common) and W. Welling (Old Windsor).

The new Master of the Oxford Guild, the late Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, performed the dedication and proceeded to call a peal of Stedman Triples, the band, with one exception, being those who rang in the previous peal.Yours sincerely,
W. WELLING.

Old Windsor.

\section*{R.A.F. RINGERS}

Dear Sir,-With reference to the letter of L.A.C. Fox in your issue of February 25th, it is of interest to note that during my National Service I met only three ringers stationed at camps were I was stationed. However, I did meet other R.A.F. ringers by arrangement.

Mr . Fox may like to know that there is a R.A.F. Guild of Ringers in existence, but it is nearly dead. Briefiy, its history is as follows. In 1548 some ringers found themselves stationed together at Yatesbury, and they formed a band in order to visit local churches. I am not sure, but I believe a peal was rung in the district by this band. When these ringers were posted to Cranwell they formed the R.A.F., Cranwell, Society. and on October 12th, 1948, a handbell peal was rung for this Society and the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

The Cranwell ringers had the idea of forming the R.A.F. Society (later Guild) of Ringers and the first meeting was held at Edmonton, Middlesex, on June 4th, 1949. The late Eric Dench was elected Ringing Master, Alan Rogers elected secretary and Mr. R. E. Manton elected treasurer. As the secretary encountered so many initial difficulties, this is as far as the Guild has progressed, and it is now more or less asleep.

I saw Mr. Rogers in January and discussed the situation with him. We decided that whilst such a Guild would be a fine thing to have, it seemed impracticable to run it. Only twelve people joined it in 1949, and we realise that so much secretarial work would have to be done for so little a result if the Guild was re-formed. We felt that it could do little to help R.A.F. ringers get together because of expense of travel and of restricted and ever uncertain off duty times, and that if a R.A.F. ringer wanted ringing he could find it through the territorial societies. I believe Mr . Rogers is considering disbanding the R.A.F. Guild, but should your correspondent care to write to him, his address is 5, Lawrie Park Road, Sydenham, London, S.E.26.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN KENT}

Dear Sir,-The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead's article may be interesting, but it leaves a falso impression of Kent peal ringing. For instance, the 10 -bell tower of Cudham is credited with 17 peals. They were not all on 10 bells, neither was anyone from Cudham in any one of them. (I believe it is correct to say that there has never been anything more than desultory call changes from any band that has been formed there.)

I suspect it would need no great mental effort to add up the towers in the county that have rung even a small proportion of their totals with their own bands.-Yours faithfully,
C. CULLEN.

Farnborough, Kent.

\section*{A SPLENDID FIRST TWO YEARS}

Dear Sir,-Just over two years ago you were good enough to publish a report of the dedication of our new ring of six bells at Wanlip, Leicestershire, followed a year ago with details of the formation of the Wanlip Parish Church Guild of Bellringers at their first annual meeting.

Some of your readers may remember these items and perhaps wonder what progress has been made by a band 'starting from scratch,' so I take the liberty of sending to you a brief survey of the progress and policy of this Guild, which may be of some help to other towers.

Wanlip has a population of about 100 folk, and the church plays an active part in the affairs of the villagers. It was not difficult to recruit volunteers for the belfry, and all have so far made the grade. When the writer was appointed the tower's first captain he had at his disposal seven or eight keen members, whose ages ranged from 16 to 36 .

A steady progress was made, both in striking and in the variety of methods rung, and the attendance for the first year averaged over 80 per cent. Grandsire and Bob Doubles were left behind in the search for new methods, and Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor with occasional Double Court have been firm favourites during recent months. But the great day arrived only several weeks ago, when after weeks of patient practice, we added Cambridge Surprise Minor to our list of Sunday service methods.

All this has been accomplished by the original band, but the question of recruits has not been neglected, Apart from the Friday practice, one night each week is set aside for the teaching of learners, with the bells lashed, and supervised on a rota basis by senior members of the band. Four choirboys have so far been started, and if this scheme is given the attention in future years which it must have, then the future of the Guild will never be in doubt. One of these boys has passed his probationary period in handling, rising and falling and in theory and attendance. He has been made a member of the Guild and can now ring 'inside' to Bob Minor.

Practices are for 14 hours and always close with prayers led by the captain. Service ringing is for 45 minutes, and for the monthly morning Communion service a quarter peal is attempted, again on a rota basis as far as possible.

The ringers' own bell fund has been started and all moneys received for ringing at weddings is deposited in this fund together with each member's weekly voluntary contribution.

Officers, i.e., captain, vice-captain, secretary, treasurer tnd tower keeper, are elected at each annual meeting under the chairmanship of the Rector, together with new members. The duties of each officer are defined in the minute book, and a report is made by each, annually. The captain also reports on progress to the annual meeting of the Parochial Church Council. A half-yearly meeting is held in the summer, and any ideas, outings, etc. are discussed. A Guild service is held annually.

Two outings around the county were arranged last year and the enjoyment of both was shared by ringers from other towers.
One peal of Treble Bob has been rung on the bells by the local band with the addition of Mr. Ernest Morris, who 'completed his circle \({ }^{\text {. }}\) of towers in Leicestershire with this peal.

The two years have not been without their setbacks. National Service has claimed one member and will take more in the near future. Our only lady member has entered a teachers' training college in London, and vital examinations claim some part of certain younger members' evenings. But with God's blessing and

\section*{OUR 'RINGING WORLD'}

Within the last month my daily paperand it is a reputable one-has told the country that the miner's pay will be increased by \(£ 13\) million (good luck to them, they deserve every penny); building trade workers by \(£ 20\) million; farmers' guarantees by \(£ 28\) million; and the engineers by \(£ 70\) million.

I know of very few, if any, these days who do not have either a smoke or a drink, and the Government receives annually \(£ 30\) million to \(£ 40\) million from betting-so someone has a shilling or two on.

National Savings reported last week totalled \(£ 28,206,000\); whilst last year shareholders' and depositors' funds in British Building Societies had increased by \(£ 219\) million.

Well, what's the inference?
Well, then, someone quibbles about the price of 'OUR' 'Ringing World' at \(6 d\). , the price of three cigarettes; he says, 'if it continues at \(6 d\). we may find some will cancel-many will share': threepence each way, what a thought, perhaps the wish is father to it.

Then he advocates penalising the peal ringers, the backbone of the Exercise, and many of them do pay for their peals.
I am not a Central Council representative but am a 'Ringing World' representative-hence these few observations - and I am sure those who appointed me to that office did not desire me to agitate for a reduction in the price of our paper. Practically all papers and periodicals have increased their price-they have had to do to keep pace with increased cost of production.
1 wonder what few there are dissatisfied with the price of 'The Ringing World' do not suggest petitioning the Government for a subsidy.

Well-well-well, what a mate to go on a ringers' outing with.

Time people-especially Church people-had progressed beyond the sixpenny, let alone the fourpenny and threepenny stage; which might have been all right when I came out of my time when \(I\) received as a journeyman the princely sum of 24 s . a week.

Moral: there is only one alternative to paying for your own sport-or pleasure \(\rightarrow\) that is leaving it alone.-F.S.
the continued loyalty of all members of the Guild, Wanlip must remain what it has become in such a short period-one of Leicestershire's most active and progressive six-bell towers.
Perhaps the success so far has been due to the policy of recruiting members from inside the church, for all the members perform some other duty either as lay readers, choristers, servers or members of the Parochial Church Council, and thereby helping to promote a spirit of fellowship within the Guild to the glory of God and not to the glory of individual stardom.-Yours faithfully,

THOMAS C. BELTON, Captain,
Wanlip Parish Church Guild of Bellringers.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

The annual meeting was held at Reigate on March 19th at which approximately 50 members and visitors attended. A service was conducted by the curate in which he gave the Association a very warm welcome and an interesting address.
At the business meeting all the retiring officers were re-elected. The secretary, in presenting the committee's report, drew attention to the difficulty experienced in collecting subscriptions and asked for co-operation. Although only 20 peals had been rung during 1954 the range was fairly wide, extending from Doubles to Maximus.

The Master, Mr. R. Davies, spoke on the dinner to be held on May 21st, and asked everyone to attend and help make it a success.
Mr. J. Euston spoke on his letter which appeared in the previous day's 'Ringing World, concerning the finances of 'our paper,' and his suggestion of a peal fee of 3 d . per rope. This produced a fairly lively discussion which appeared to be strongly against the suggestion, but when he moved the proposal that our Central Council representatives should bring this forward at Bristol,' voting gave only a small balance against it, with some abstentions.

The meeting was advised of the illness of three of its members-Mr. W. H. Passmore, Mr. F. J. Sanders and Mr. F. W. Wicks. (Mr. Sanders has since passed away.)

After hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar, the organist. Miss B. Saggers (for arranging the tea) and Mr. G. Hood for having everything in order at the tower, the meeting closed.

Ringing continued until 8.30 p.m. at Reigate under the direction of the Master, and ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal and London Major. Some members also visited nearby Redhill, where the bells were also available in the evening.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL REVIEW}

Mr. E. A. Barnett, hon. secretary and treasurer of the Council, desires to make. with apologies, the following correction to 'Reports adopted by the Council which are still current.' On page 186, column 2, Note should read as follows:-

In 1952 (2) (b), (c) and (d) above were modified in respect of Doubles methods only, as follows:-
(b) No bell shall strike more than four consecutive blows in any one place, such four consecutive blows to occur only when the treble is at the front or at the back.
(c) As far as possible there shall be as many leads in the plain course as there are working bells, but this requirement to be relaxed to include single-hunt methods which have three leads in the plain course.
(d) The working bells need not be in the same coursing order at each lead head and end in the plain course.

\section*{LADIES' GUILD AT WROTHAM}

A meeting of the Kent Branch was held at St. George's, Wrotham, on March 19th. There were few ringers present in spite of the stunny afternoon, but at least there were visitors from as far apart as Folkestone and Coventry.

The Rector conducted the service in the Lady Chapel, followed by tea and a business meeting at the Pilgrims' Rest.

Mcthods rung were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent, the fine tone of the eight being much appreciated. N. T.

\title{
RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR

By H. CHANT

A glance at the "Wrong' transposition (35426) informs the wavering student of his next step and saves him having to do any transposition either mental or otherwise.
The course 35426 is treated in exactly the The way as its predecessor, The 'Wrong, transposition returns us to the plain course (23456) and we complete the proof by surrounding the last six leads by a rectangle.
I would again draw the student's attention to the fact already mentioned, that three complete courses have been used, so that if you know your onions (like the professor and me) a mere glance at the course ends would have been sufficient proof.
Now try your hand in proving - both by figures and the chart - (say) Before and 3 Homes. Follow this by another Before and 3 Homes and notice in the figure proof where the falseness occurs. Check this from the chart.
Next try \(\mathbf{W}, 3\) Befores, \(M\) and \(\mathbf{H}\) on the chart and notice how single leads are picked in the centre of certain courses when the 'Befores' are taking place.
Finally try a 'Bob Course,' i.e., W. Sths and 4 ths, M. and H. and notice how the 1st, 2nd, 6 th and 7 ths leads are taken from different courses. Remember that a lead has been rung that doesn't appear on the chart.

The student need not lose any sleep about this lead, because providing the rest of the proof is correct and the tenors have been ' kept together 'there is no fear of falseness occurring.

\section*{COMPOSITION}

The method of using the chart for this purpose is identical with that given on previous pages by using figures (see 'the four stages of decline '). The chart, however, accomplishes the task much simpler and, of course, no proof is needed as repetition of rows is impossible.
Start by drawing a rectangle round the plain course. This is the round block that we are going to extend, and we extend it by interpolating two courses at once. If we decide to interpolate two courses at (say) the "Wrong" position we draw a line across the plain course between the 1st and 2nd lead. Here is the Plain Course treated thus on the chart:-

23456 A glance at the ' \(W\) ' transposiW \(\overline{52436}\) and treat it in exactly the same Sths 52436
B 35264 way, i.e., surround it by a rectangle and draw a line across at the ' \(W\) ' position at the same time noting the ' W ' transposi4th 64523 tion in this course, which is 35426. M 43652 Again the same silly business. Treat this in exactly the same way. An inspection of the ' \(W\) ' transposition of the last course ( 35426 ) shows us that our insertion is complete as it shows the transposition 23456, which is the course from which we started to push in the two extra courses.

An insertion can be made at student's choice at the 'Middle' position in either of these three courses. Take (say) the course 52436 and draw a line between the 6th and 7th leads noting the M transposition 42635. Surround this course (42635) with a rectangle and with a line drawn across it at the M oosition. Directed by the transposition treat 62534 in the same silly manner. (Note hat th's directs a return to 52436 , so that our insertion is complete.)

Bobs 'Home' are even more simple.
If any single course of a group of three has been used and the other two have not been used. mark the bottom line with a little squiggle (or write the word ' Bob '-personally I prefer the squiggle), surround the two compatriots with a rectangle and put a squiggle at the bottom of each.
e.g. Select (say) 52436 and squiggle the bottom. Surround (I nearly wrote encircle; but can one encircle with a rectangle?) courses 45236 and 24536 , not forgetting to squiggle the bottom lines, and two more courses are - composed '!

Transferring the 'composition' to paper usually takes longer, and is more tedious, than composing the touch or peal. Start from rounds and proceed until you arrive at a call which will be denoted by a line across the course. The line, in this case, proves to be the Bob W, therefore mark down a ' W ' and continue, as directed, down the course 52436 from the W position. A line across the \(\mathbf{M}\) shows that a Bob has been used; therefore, mark an M on your paper and continue down the course 42635 from the M position.

The reason for the squiggle will now be clear (even to the professor who is by this time consumed with envy), for without it we should not know whether or not to move to the next course on the right (see Rule II.). In this case there is no squiggle, therefore there is no Bob and we start (on paper) our second course from the top of 42635 .

After working through the exercise we find that our touch is W. 3 M .3 H .2 W . the 4 th stage of decline mentioned earlier.
In 'composing' extended peals direct, with the tenors together, some difficulty may be experienced on the chart when it comes to fitting in the last few groups of courses. However, with a little experience and practice, erasing and altering the end may be accomplished. In any case it is far easier on the chart than by figures and once fitted in there is no need to prove the peal as its proof is self-evident. An ordinary length peal ( 5.000 odd) takes only a few minutes (with practice) and the extent direct with the tenors together between 15 and 30 minutes. (Quicker if you are lucky-like me-longer if unlucky (like the professor).

After getting used to the chart, concentrate on producing musical peals. Few peals are published nowadays without some qualifying footnote such as "6th extent in 6th' or 'full combination of 4-5-6 in 5-6.'

That simple extensions have possibilities may be seen from the two following-both produced from the chart:-

Although I suppose many 2-part peals have been composed as pure extensions (and rung), yet I cannot find one in the C.C. Collection. So you see, dear student, much still remains to be done, new fields to conquer, new paths to tread, etc., etc., etc.! Notice large chunks of extension such as :-

Peal 190 from the 10 th course to the end of the part.
Peal 177 from the 9 th course to the end of the part.
Peal 178 from the 1 st course to the 25 th
Peal 80 (1st) with the exception of the last Bob H.
Peal 80 (2nd) with the exception of the Bob \(\mathbf{H}\) in the 6th course.
If these two ( 80 No. 1 and 80 No. 2) were written out in full it would be found that the whole peal could be regarded as an extension.
This leads our thoughts into another channel so put on your waders and let us consider means whereby we can extend an extension from a simple round block into a complete peal by means of:-

\section*{SHUNT BOBS}

As one can see from \(123456 \mathrm{~W} \quad \mathrm{H}\) the brackets this touch
 serted into one of these 9 courses would mean that the two bells unaffected by the call would be at "Home" at the end of the ninth course. The other three bells would. however, be away from 'Home.' (On holiday, if you like.)
e.g. If a Bob ' M ' is called in the first course, the two bells unaffected by the Bob ( \(2-3\) in this case) will be at Home at the end of the 9th course. This course end will now be 23645 instead of 23456 . The whole nine courses could therefore be twioe repeated before the round block was completed.

Imagine three complete round blocks (or write them out if your imagination is unequal to the task), each called exactly as above, i.e., W \(3 \mathrm{H}, W 3 \mathrm{H}\), W 3 H , the first beginning and ending 23456, the second 23645 and the third 23564.

The effect of the Bob 'Middle, is to shunt the composition from a point in one round block to a corresponding point in another. That is why (I suppose) it is called a shunt Bob and not because you 'shunt ' ring it !
(I couldn't resist that in order to annoy the professor, who is by now becoming slightly bored.)

There is no need to write out the whole composition in order to prove it, but the procedure is as follows:-
Concentrate on the 'fixed' bells, i.e., those unaffected by the Shunt Bob which are at Home at the part-end (as it now called), 2-3 if the Bob is called in the first course. Observe that they do not fall twice in the same relative positions in any of the course-ends (heads) employed in the original round block.

This is the way I usually do it, so (of course) the student may be assured it is infallible.

Take the second.
In course 1 it is in 2 nds place while the other fixed bell (the 3rd) is in 3rds place. Check down the remaining courses to see if there is another course-end (head) with it (the 2nd) in 2 nds place. Yes, the 3rd. Now check the position of the 3rd; this is now in 5ths. (Breathe again.) You can. if you like, tick off these two courses to show that they are clear.

\section*{OBITUARY \\ MR. E. J. HARDING}

Fulmer, Bucks, has lost a devoted servant of God and a keen bellringer for over 60 years by the death of Mr. Edward James Harding, at the age of 87 years.

A large congregation paid their last tribute at the funeral service on March 23 rd. The Rector (the Rev. Rex E. Lloyd) spoke in affectionate terms of Mr. Harding's character and services to the church-he was verger and sexton for 15 years, retiring only three years ago. At the organ was Mr. Selly, who for 50 years was organist of St. James' Church, Fulmer.
The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service by Mrs. M. Bowerman (née Gutteridge), Miss. F. Gudgen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Swift. W. Welling, T. H. Winyard and W. W. Wolstencroft.

\section*{MR. HENRY WILLIAMS}

Mr. Henry Williams, of Truro, who died on March 15th, was Cornwall's oldest method ringer. He began his ringing career in the early 1890's under the late Dr. John Symons with the progressive band at St. Marys, Penzance, and was a member of that band until 1904, when the bells were condemned. The activities of this band can be recalled by the fact that during the first seven months of 1904, at the end of which ringing was stopped, an aggregate of 34,560 changes had been rung in completed touches, and including seven quarter peals.

Soon after this he went to Canada, but returned to live in retirement at Truro in 1930. He at once took up ringing enthusiastically with the keen young Cathedral band, and at the age of 66 rang his first peal, one of Bob Minor, at Kenwyn Church, in 1931. This was followed in the same year by a peal of Grandsire Caters at the Cathedral, when eight members of the band were assisted by the late Charles R. Lilley and Thomas G. Myers, from Plymouth.

Other interesting peals in which he rang were Bob Major on the back eight at Truro Cathedral, and Grandsire Triples at Lanhydrock by eight members of the Cathedral band which was the first peal by a band from one tower in Cornwall for 51 years, the previous being at his old tower of St. Mary's, Penzance, in 1883. Both these peals were in 1934.

In the five years until he was 70 he rang 13 peals as follows:-Minor 2, Triples 7, Major 2, Caters 2. All this interest, activity and help he was ready to give to younger people was backed up by regular attendance for service and practice ringing. Like many of this grand old type of ringer the war years put an end to their ringing, and Henry was too old to start again regularly when the ban was lifted. He lived to the ripe old age of 90 .

A peal attempt having been arranged at Carbis Bay for March 19th, this was rung half-muffled to his memory, and an excellent peal that would have rejoiced his heart in every way was rung.

In the 2 nd course the 2 nd bell is in 4 ths and the 3 rd bell in 5ths, whereas the next time the 2nd is in 4ths (the 9th course), the 3 rd is in 2nds place.
Checking through like this only takes a few seconds. Notice that if a Bob 'Middle ' is called in the 5 th course the 2 nd and 3 rd will also be unaffected by this one too.
The choice of the fixed bells depends upon the musical qualities required in the peal (or touch), and this latter end must also be kept in view when constructing the extension. (See peals 40 (a and b) and 41 C.C. Collection, the first 29 and the second an 11 course extension.)

\section*{EASTER, 1955}

THE severity of this winter has made Easter, 1955, even more welcome. The circle of Nature in the gloom of the grave has seemed interminable; gnarled trees lifeless amid the snow mantle have for months given no semblance of any future. But the past fortnight has seen the miracle gradually unfolding; green buds have appeared and within a week or two Spring with all its beauty will give us a new hope. The circle of God's goodness to man is starting anew with seed-time and harvest. Annually this miracle is performed, and its witness by man, particularly in a year fraught with the severity of winter, cannot pass unmoved. There is not a heart which does not respond to the freshness of Spring. But the cycle of Nature is not confined to the vegetable kingdom; it is a pointer to a far greater thing from which there is no escape for each one of us.

On Easter morning the bells of our churches will ring out the Resurrection message-the great promise to mankind that the grave is not the end of all things. How expressively St. Paul tells of this great moment: 'When this corruptible shall have put on incorruption and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, "Death is swallowed up in victory." ' The belief in this victory through Christ is the only way man can face the trials and tribulations of this earthly life. The transference from a natural body to a spiritual body is a secret that none can tell, but the confidence of its reality is in every Christian heart.

How can we as ringers tell of that confidence in the reality of the Resurrection to the thousands-' the city's crowded clangour,' as Henry Scott Holland so expressively described the scene in his well-known hymn? We are witnesses that are heard but unseen. Because of our vocation we have a responsibility, and neglect of that service on one of the great festivals, as at Easter, is a sin. The only excuse is ill-health and infirmity. By our free will we have elected to become servants of the Church in the office of bell-ringer; we have trained for this office; many of us have perfected our training by the experience of peal ringing. The whole fabric that we have built up by Guilds and Associations affiliated into a central body exists for one great purpose, that of witness by our art or craft, in town and village, to the great tenets of our faith. The sounding of our bells is not a ritualistic practice; neither is it confined to the mere summoning of the faithful to church. No, it is the proclamation to all and sundry in this pleasure-loving age that we have a message to all people. Next Sunday's bells tell the story of the Risen Christ. As we ring may our thoughts be directed:-

> Maker of all, to Thee we pray, Fulfil in us Thy joy to-day; When death assails, grant, Lord, that we May share Thy paschal victory.

Those who perform their Easter ringing with Christian conviction know that worship is empty if individually it is confined to the belfry. One of the most satisfactory features about the ringing in these post-war years is the repeated reference from different parts of the country to ringers taking Communion together. At this season in the Church's year when the Lord's Supper was instituted, 'This do in remembrance of Me ' is not merely a command; it is the union of a living Christ with His people. The vision of that great family in Christ had W. E. Gladstone, the great Liberal statesman, when he wrote the hymn, ' O lead my blindness by the hand.' The third verse runs:-

We, who with one blest Food are fed,
Into one body may we grow, And one pure life from Thee, the Head,

Informing all the members flow;
One pulse be felt in every vein,
One law of pleasure and of pain.
Perhaps we as ringers have a long way to go before we can regard ourselves as 'one family in Christ,' but we are not without hope that we are advancing in that direction and. after all, if we genuinely believe that we are doing His service Sunday by Sunday and not performing an act of self-gratification, then we have overcome the first obstacle. But it must be His and not mine.

\section*{GILLETT \\ AND \\ JOHNSTON}

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{Southern District of Irish Association}

The first time that a mecting was ever held in Cork city was held there on St. Patrick's Day (March 17 th ), when over 90 members of the Southern District of the Irish Association met to compete for the R. R. Cherry Challenge Cup and to elect its officers for the ensuing year. The towers represented were St. Finbarre's Cathedral, Cork, Ballymodan, Doneraile, St. Canice's Cathedral, Kilkenny, Mount St. Alphonsus Monastery, Limerick, and St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick. The fine eight (tenor \(27 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) of the Cathedral were put to good use during the morning.
The competition to decide the best strikers was held during the afternoon, when seven teams competed. The standard of ringing was exceptionally high. The winners were Mount St. Alphonsus' 'A' team, who recorded only 63 faults; St. Finbarre's, Cork, were a close second, with 72 faults; Ballymodan, a six-bell tower, were third, with 90 faults. The judges were Messrs. Tom Perrott (one of the original ringers at the Cathedral), Ed. Burns and Fred. E. Dukes. The Ringing Master, Mr. Roy McCormack, was in charge of the tower during the day.
After lunch in Moore's Hotel the meeting was welcomed to Cork by Canon Bouchier on behalf of the Lord Bishop, who was unavoidably absence on church business. Canon Bouchier, in his welcome, made special reference to Mr. Dukes, who had travelled through the previous night via Fishguard and Rosslare from a business trip in London in order to be present at the meeting.

Greetings were read from the president and the Northern District secretary and conveyed to the meeting on behalf of the Eastern District by Mr. Dukes. He also thanked Canon Bouchier for his kind remarks and expressed his pleasure at being 'back home' in Cork again.
The election of District officers resulted as follows:-Chairman, Mr. David Benson (Limerick); vioc-president, Mr. Fred Bogan (Cork); Ringing Master, Mr. Roy McCormack (Cork); secretary and treasurer, Mr. George Bingham, 11. Peter Street, Limerick; assistant secretary, Mr. C. W. Galbraith; representatives on' Executive Council, Messrs. G. Bingham, C. W. Galbraith and R. McCormack.

It was unanimously decided to support an invitation to be sent to the Central Council to hold its meeting in Ireland, provided the Council members will visit the towers in the District during their stay and let their members hear some good ringing!
The next meeting place was selected for Ballymodan in Co. Cork, where there are six bells.
After tea in Moore's Hotel the Dean of Cork (the Very Rev. H. R. McAdoo, D.D.) kindly presented the Cherry Cup to the winners, Mount St. Alphonsus, with the wishes of the District to go on to Dublin and bring back the Murphy Cup to the District. He also presented the Ballymodan team with the Attendance Challenge Shicld for Sunday ringingthey had 100 per cent. attendances during 1954 and now have secured the Shield for the third year in succession.

\section*{Ashford District}

The Ashford District met at Hythe on March 26th, where the local arrangements had been made by Mr. W. J. Bidnell, the tower secretary. Since the partial internal reconstruction of the tower, Hythe bells have become somewhat noisier, but fortunately the Vicar and the band of ringers are both of one mind about this and are determined to put matters right.
Ringing continued until 4.30 , when the Vicar (the Rev. E. A. Newman) conducted the service, in which he welcomed all visitors to the church. The lesson was read. by Mr. J. Willis, and Mr. W. P. Garner was at the organ. The collection was given to the Association's Belfry Repair Fulnd.
A good tea was arranged at the Paddock Tea Rooms and it was followed by a short business meeting. Nine new members were elected, seven of them being from Hythe. Mr. S. G. Waters gave a preliminary notice of a special service for ringers which will be held at Biddenden Church, combined with Evensong, on June 26th.
After the usual votes of thanks ringing was continued during the evening.
About 35 members and friends were present representing the following towers:-Ashford, Bethersden, Biddenden, Brabourne, Canterbury Cathedral, Croydon, Folkestone, High Halden, Hythe, Lydd, Maidstone, Marden, New Romney, Selleridge, Willesborough and Woodchurch.

Mr. Edwin Timbrell, the Lancashire composer, is in Sharoe Green Hospital, Preston. He had a fall at his home recently but now recovering. He was 84 last February.
Mr. W. Button, with the peal of Doubles a Northiam, Sussex, on March 21st, completed Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques.
Mr . F. R. Lowe 'completed the circle' at Measham, Leicestershire, by ringing the second to the peal of Bristol Surprise Major, reported in our peal columns.
New District 'Ringing World' representatives of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association are Miss J. Brenda Softley (Eastern) and Mr. R. W. Leighton (Western).
Handbell tune ringers will be interested to learn that the Crosthwaite (Keswick) Handbell Ringers made a B.B.C. recording on March 31 st to be broadcast on April 20th in the 'Country Dancing' programme at 6.30 p.m. in the Home Service. This is their fifth broadcast in this series.
The many friends of Mr. Peter Eves, of Chelmsford, would like to join in wishing him a speedy recovery to health and the belfry. Peter was involved in a motor-cycle accident Whilst on his way to stand in a peal at Thorpe Bay, and sustained a broken leg. His lady pillion passenger, Miss P. Lambert, of Danbury, escaped injury. Peter's present address: St. John's Hospital, Chelmsford.
Visitors to Stradbroke, Suffolk, will be glad to learn that all the bells can now be heard distinctly in the ringing chamber. This transformation is due to the work of the energetic steeplekeeper, Mr. J. Clarke, who has made and fitted a two-branch chute capable of controlling the volume. Other splendid work Mr. Clarke has done has been the fitting of a new pulley to the fourth, and certain attention to the clappers.

\section*{GOSSIP} Church, Cherito to the belfry of St. Martin's evidence in this tower, which includes the 13 -year-old Bryant twins-Maureen and ElvinaShirley Martin (13), Robert Turner (13), John Palmer (14) and Fred Price (14).

It is somewhat unique for father and daughter to ring their first peal of Stedman together. Miss M. J. Parker and her father, Mr. R. H. R. Parker, accomplished this at Portsea on March 26th.
The peal at Silk Willoughby, Lincs, on March 5th, was in the following seven methods:Cambridge Surprise, St. Clement's, Plain Bob, Single Court, Single Oxford, Kent Treble Bob and Oxford Treble Bob, and not as printed on page 180.
Of the nine active ringers at Folkestone Parish Church, two-Mr. Alfred Kedwell and Mr. F. Crooks-are over 80 years of age. An appeal for young people to come forward and learn our ar is made in the local Press by Mr. F. J. Whittaker.

Miss Mary Hobbs is leaving the Derby District to take up a new appointment at Aylesbury. Her friends of the Derby District send her their best wishes and thanks for her efficient servico as District secretary. Miss Hobbs took part in a farewell peal of Superlative Surprise Major at the Loughborough Bell Foundry Campanile. This was her first peal of Surprise.

The quarter peal at Walberton, Sussex, on March 21st, was a creditable first performance for the ringers of the treble, second and third, especially the treble ringer (Miss M. McKane), wha speaks only French and needed her sister's assistance as interpreter. She is also handicapped by having to use a deaf-aid. The Misses McKanc are from Guernsey

PEAL RINGING IN LEICESTERSHIRE

\section*{By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD}

PEAL ringing in Leicestershire is noteworthy for the number of peals rung at the Loughborough Bell Foundry. No less than 593 have been recorded here, easily the most, not only in the county but in the whole country also. Fifty-three peals were rung there in 1954, which is another record, for that is the greatest number which has ever been rung in a year in an individual tower. Once before, in 1949, the Foundry bells reached the halfcentury in a year. What makes these facts even more remarkable is that the first peal was not rung until 1901, so that the total was reached in less than 50 ringing years. These peals could form the subject of a complete article since they total more than have been rung in some of the smaller counties (e.g., Huntingdonshire), but there is not room to give more than a few details.
Surprisingly enough, only 40 of the peals had been rung by the time the first war started. Then came two in 1916. From 1920 to 1939 came the immense total of 292 peals--about 15 a year average. Even this has been dwarfed by the number rung since the last war-no less than 259 in ten years. I wonder how many sets of ropes have been worn out in this period?

The tower has seen some long lengths also (apart from the recent attempt at the 40,000 ). These include 10,400 Real Superlative Surprise Major, 10.976 Bristol Surprise Major, 10,368 London Surprise Major, and 9,600 Spliced Treble Bob Major. The first peal in six spliced Major methods was also rung here. So much for the Folndry ten.

\section*{RANG THE CLOCK ROUND}

Loughborough Parish Church (All Saints') actually comes second in order of number of peals at the moment with 187 peals. The most famous of these is the one which will ever remain a record of achievement-the 18,027 Stedman Caters rung on April 12th, 1909, with a tenor of 30 cwt . This was the first time that the clock had been rung round by one band of men. These beautifully going bells have kept up a good average of about three a year since 1884 with slightly more at the beginning of the period than the end. Thus 117 had been rung by 1913, and there have been only 18 since the last war.
This will probably mean that the third tower on the list, Leicester Cathedral (12) will shortly take second place, for its total is 185 , of which 126 have come in the last 11 years. Only six had been rumg prior to 1914. There is no need to mention who is responsible for the recent prolific effort!
There are three other towers which have passed the 100 mark, but they are a long way behind these last two. . They are Stoney StanIon (8), South Wigston (8) and Leicester, St. Margaret's (12). The first has scored 114 peals, 20 between 1891 and 1915,60 from 1918 to 1938, and 34 since 1943. The record length of Cambridge Surprise Major- 12,896 changeswas rung here in 1923. South Wigston also holds a long length record-that for Double Norwich Major, for 17,104 changes of this method were rung there just over 50 years ago, in 1904. The jubilee of this peal was recently celebrated at the tower. Actually 103 peals have been rung there in all- 29 from 1901 to 1913 (it was a 6-bell tower last century), 31 xrom 1919 to 1940 , and 43 since 1944 , so its average is better now than previously.

\section*{THE HOME OF ERNEST MORRIS}

Leicester, St. Margaret's, has 102 peals in the period, but very early peals were rung here so the actual total is greater than this. Thus a peal of 'Triples' was rung here in 1730, and a 10,000 of Grandsire Caters in 1777. In our period 13 peals were rung from 1884 to 1902, 44 from 1922 to 1939, and there have been 45 since the war, so the average here is also greater now than heretofore. This tower will also ever be famous for being the 'home' of Mr. Ernest Morris, who has done so much for the Exercise by his many excellent books. It is actually a 6 -bell tower which is nearest to the century mark-Croft, where 91 peals have been rurg. Since only one 6 -bell tower in the whole country has passed the 100 mark this means that it is amongst the leaders for numbers of peals in the land. The first peal was only rung in 1928, so it has done very well to reach this total. Thirty-four came between 1928 and 1940 and there have been 57 since the war.
We turn now to towers according to the numbers of bells. Both the 12 -bell towers have already been mentioned (Leicester Cathedral and Leicester, St. Margaret's) as have two of the four 10-bell towers (the two Loughborough rings). There are two more 10 -bell churchesLeicester, St. John's, and Melton Mowbray; 63 peals have been rung at the former- 12 from 1902 to 1913, eight from 1919 to 1925 (it was an eight-bell tower then); then came ten from 1929 to 1939 after augmentation and there have been 33 since the war, so the tower is doing well now. It is a great relief to know that the threat of its demolition scems to have receded, and one trusts that it is now safe. At Melton Mowbray, the next peal will be the 50 th since 1881. The first peal recorded in this period was in 1894, and 30 were rung before the first war put an end to activities. Only nine were rung between the wars, but the average is better again now, for ten have come since 1936.

\section*{OTHER EIGHT-BELL TOWERS}

I think there will be space to mention all the 8 -bell towers that have passed the 50 mark. After the two centenarians already discussed comes Anstey with 88 . These have come very consistently from the time of the first peal in 1906. Whitwick has 88 , nearly half (40) since 1948, so it is doing well. The first first peal here was in 1891, and we find a gap from 1933 to 1948 -presumably the bells needed attention. Then comes Measham with 86. Only two peals had been rung prior to the first war-in 1913 and 1914, but 53 came between the wars and the remaining 31 since 1946. Thurcaston has 85 . The first peal didn't come until 1920, but 50 were rung in the 1920 's. Then came a sudden drop for only one came in the 1930's (in 1937). There have been 34 since the war.

Only three of Gilmorton's total of 84 had bean rung before 1914, commencing in 1909. Then came 29 from 1921 to 1939 and no less than 52 in the last seven years. Two towers are in the \(70^{\prime}\) 's and one in the 60 's. They are Claybrooke ( \(78-19\) from 1930 to 1939 and 59 since 1946); Earl Shilton 70-54 from 1922 to 1938 and 16 from 1947); and Enderby (68one peal in 1921 whełn it was a 6 -bell tower, 17 from 1928 to 1939 after augmentation, and 50 since 1944). Leicester, All Saints', has 59 peals. Most of these were rung when it was a 6 -beli tower, principally 41 between 1946 and 1952. There have been 13 on the eight in the past three years. Quorn has 58 ; 35 of these came before 1914, commencing in 1886 (only one or two towers can boast earlier peals in the period). The tower was not very active between the wars, only nine peals being rung, but has revived recently with 14 peals since 1948. The next peal at Ashby Folville will be the 50th there.

\section*{SIX-BELL TOWERS}

The best 6 -bell tower, Croft, has already been mentioned. Its total of 91 is nearly double any of the others, for Whetstone comes next with 48,35 of which have been rung since 1944 (the first peal was in 1914). Thirty-six of Copt Oak's 41 have likewise come since the war, but there has only been one each year in 1953 and 1954. On the other hand Stoke Golding's heyday was between 1910 and 1914, for 28 of its 37 peals were rung then. Eight were rung between 1921 and 1928 and there has only been one since then-in 1949. The following four towers have reached the 25 mark-lbstock ( 29 , the majority since the war); Thurlaston (27-all since 1924 except the first, which was in 1900); Hallaton (25-22 from 1922 to 1938) ; and Peckleton (25-three in 1891 and 1892,21 from 1920 to 1939 , and one since, in 1953).

Two 5 -bell towers have reached double figures, which is a very respectable total for this class, as mentioned in a previous article. They are Dalby Magna and Kirby Muxloe, which have scored 13 each, in both cases chiefly since the last war, although the latter was amongst the first 5 -bell towers in the county to have a peal rung at it (in 1909). Kirby Bellars has seven peals and Great Bowden six.
Leicestershire was one of the first counties to have all the ringable bells rung to a peal (a personal ambition of Mr. Ernest Morris, 1 believe), so that only three towers remain to be conquered. These include an 8 -bell tower - Church Langton (which Mr. P. Amos in a letter last year showed were unringable) and two 5-bell towers, Shawell and Skeffington. I'm sure these must also be or they would have fallen' by this time.
So much for another very interesting county. Numbers are correct (by the way) up to March 18 th, 1955 (i.e., as far as 'The Ringing World ' is concerned).

\section*{LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY}

Although the result of the boat race was known before the start of the ringing at Armley on March 26th it was not until nearly tea time that a touch of 'Cambridge' could be rung; one wag suggested Oxford Treble Bob (fully muffled) but fortunately this idea did not receive support.

The bells were raised in peal at 3 p.m. and ringing progressed from Plain Bob via Grandsire. Kent, Stedman and Double Norwich to Cambridge and London, and so to tea time. A photographer from the local Press took shots' to be used with an article about the Society.

After tea there were a few touches on handbells before a return to the tower, where furher ringing took place till 7 p.m., when the business mecting was held.
The president was in the chair, and apologies were received from Mr. T. Hill and Mr. S. Barron. Mr. A. Coldrick, of Armley, was elected a member. The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company was proposed by Mr. F. Rayment and seconded by Mr. A. Johnson. Mr. H. Lofthouse suitably replied.

The following nominations were received:President. Mr. H. Lofthouse; vice-presidents, Messrs. S. Barron, W. Dixon and T. W. Strangeway; Ringing Master, Mr. L. Drake; auditors, Messrs. F. Rayment and C. Sutteliffe.

The next meeting, the annual general, will be held at Leeds Parish Church on April 30th.

The President expressed the thanks of the Council to the retiring committees.

\section*{MOTIONS}
(a) Proposed by Mr. F. E. Hawthorne, seconded by Mr. W. Ayre, and carried:-- That this Council deprecates the increasing number of installations of synthetic and recorded bells, which it considers to be unworthy of use in the house of God, and wishes to support the responsible authorities in the steps they are taking to prevent their installation.'
(b) Proposed by Mr. J. R. Worrall, seconded by Miss J. S. Evans:-
' That this Council disapproves of the ban on the publication in "the Ringing World " of letters signed with a pen-name, and instructs the Editorial Committee to rescind it forthwith; furthermore, that this Council expresses its complete confidence in the ability of the Editor of "The Ringing World to select only such letters as he considers suitable for publication.'

The following amendment, proposed by Mr. G. W. Fletcher and seconded by Mr. P. A. Corby, was carried :-
- That this Council expresses its complete confidence in the ability of "The Ringing World " Committee to select such letters as it considers suitable for publication.'

\section*{The motion, as amended, was carried.}

\section*{PLACE OF NEXT MEETING}

Invitations had been received from Bristol and Leicester. On the proposition of Mr. F. I. Hairs, seconded by Mr. W. B. Kynaston, it was decided to visit Bristol in 1955. The Council took note of an invitation from Mr. H. J. Poole to visit Leicester in 1956.

On the motion of the President, thanks were expressed to the Provost and Chapter of Newcastle Cathedral for the use of the Cathedral Library; the Provost for officiating at Holy Communion; the Lord Bishop of Newcastle and the President of the Durham and Newcastle Association (Mr. R. A. Gofton) for their welcome; Mr. D. A. Boyles (secretary of the Durham and Newcastle Association) and Mr. K. Arthur for local arrangements; and all incumbents and towerkeepers for the use of their bells.
A vote of thanks to the President was proposed by Mr. A. A. Hughes.
A civic reception was afterwards given to members and friends by the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress in the Laing Art Gallery.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

COMING INTO ROUNDS DURING A PEAL
Dear \(\mathrm{Sir},-\mathrm{Mr}\). Border is quite right. On page 187 of ' The Ringing World,' 'Conditions required for peals,' it is stated that 'any shift or error in ringing' must be 'immediately corrected.' In other words, the Central Council does not think that a trip invalidates a peal. The fact that a trip produces rounds rather than any other wrong change is entirely irrelevant. If it is proposed only to accept peals in which no trips and errors of ringing occur, The Ringing World' will have several pages of extra space at its disposal every week.Yours faithfully,

\section*{Harpenden, Herts.}

\section*{A RINGER AND HIS OBLIGATIONS}

Dear Sir,-I would like, with many others, to congratulate Mr . W. Birmingham on his contribution 'A Ringer and his Obligations,' published in ' The Ringing World,' March 18th. consider that it is one of the finest editorials ever published in 'The Ringing World.' Every ringer, young or old, novice or experienced, should read such a well thought out and well written article. Unfortunately a large number of ringers never see the ringers' 'weekly,' and so would miss reading this outstanding exposition.

It seems to me too precious a contribution to be cast aside after publication. I suggest that it could be printed in card form and included as an addition to the Central Council's Publications. Such a card would grace the walls of any ringing chamber and be an ever-present reminder of a ringer's duty 'to his church, to his belfry, to the public, to his Guild or Association and to the Exercise at large.' Perhaps it could be incorporated in a condensed form in the excellent 'Ringers' Notebook and Diary,' published by William Viggers and Maurice Hodgson.-Yours sincerely,
South Woodford, E. 18.

\section*{NORWICH RINGERS OF 100 YEARS AGO AND OTHER TOPICS}

Dear Sir,-The query on page 169 of 'The Ringing World ' of March 18th regarding the men who took part in the peal at Loddon, Norfolk, 100 years ago, interested me greatly. Six of that band had taken part in the 7,000 Stedman Cinques in 1844 at Mancroft, and I have rung with William Freeman many times. He had rung the seventh to the Cinques, and Palgrave had strapped the tenor with George Smith. Freeman severed his connection with Mancroft in 1889, and for 22 years was steeplekeeper at St. Andrew's (the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow's present charge, and which, I see, he describes as 'the most dilapidated ten in England !'). Save for an Association meeting, St. Andrew's was a 'closed shop ' for a Mancroft ringer, for Freeman would have nothing to do with 'these youngsters.' But for an annual meeting he raised the bells, and chalked in large figures on the floor below each rope the number of the bell. A very necessary precaution, for the 'circle ' runs \(1,3,2,7,10,5\), \(4,6,9,8\). and on the back eight of this lot Sam Thurston called the first peal of London ever rung!
But about 1894 he stopped some of us younger ones and asked " when we were coming to St. Andrew's for a touch.' We jumped at the chance of helping to heal old sores and we went many times. His beautiful handling of the rope and hatred of bad blows made by anyone were educational. He died on January 26th, 1897, in his 81 st year, and I am glad the company at Mancroft mustered in strength for a half-muffled touch to his memory. With the possible exception of John Burton, of Norwich, think I must be the only one to have rung with him.

Palgrave, although an invalid for many years, retained membership until his death in October, 1899, in his 82 nd year, and, of course, we honoured his memory also.
Reminiscences of Mancroft are rather fascinating, especially to those of us whose ringing days are over.
Here is an odd thing: Mancroft bells were cast and hung in 1775, and, save for short breaks, been pealable ever since. The ninth peal on the twelve was rung in 1895 and was the first single-handed peal of Cinques, although 120 years after the bells were installed, the tenth peal was Maximus in 1896, the sixth peal of Royal (Kent) on the bells in 1896 also, and Oxford Royal at the end of the same year. And the fifth peal of Caters was rung in 1895. But the startling thing is that these five bells noted, Caters (1895), Cinques (1895), Kent and Oxford Royal and Kent Maximus (1896), were all called by the same man, who is still alive at the time of writing! And 180 years after the casting and hanging of the bells.

Another curiosity worth noting: The outside title page of the 'Bell News' (No. 99, Vol. II.) bears the date 'February 32nd, 1884. .
'Bell News' again : Issue for July 26th, 1884, has no peals to record. I wonder if Phone SPR 1025 knows this?
How many present day men have heard of F. W. J. Rees' fascinating series of eleven articles on 'The Chronology of Change Ringing' which appeared in 'Bell News' from March 29th, 1884 to July 19th, 1884? For those with a liking for this sort of thing it means a great treat, for the entries cover an immense field, and the labour involved prodigious. Mr. Rees and the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead each deserves a monument! In any case, any ringer interested in our history from the earlicst times is strongly advised to try and get hold of the 1884 volume of the 'Bell News.'-Yours truly,

> CHARLES E. BORRETT.

Sheringham, Norfolk.

\section*{GRANTHAM BELLS}

Dear Sir,-1 strongly protest against the publication of your correspondent's remarks in Belfry Gossip concerning Grantham bells. It is clear that in sending you such untruthful information he wishes to damage the very good reputation of the bell founders- concerned.
In fairness to them I must say that we have found them to be very helpful and willing to try and give satisfaction to the Vicar and churchwardens. Also I know that they have spent a considerable sum of money in trying to overcome what is proving to be a very difficult scientific problem. I hope that in the near future their efforts will meet with success.

Any ringer who has the privilege of ringing on Grantham's splendid ring of bells, and who, when anything goes wrong, enjoys publicly 'blasting' them, must be a most miserable and despicable type of human being, and I am sure that the air in St. Wulfram's belfry would smell sweeter by his absence.-Yours faithfully,
S. PROCTOR.

Grantham.

\section*{SQUIRE PROCTOR'S MEN}

Dear Sir, - The interesting account of the Benington band omitted the most remarkable thing. The story as the late Canon Coleridge told me, and no doubt others have heard it, was, apart from Squire Proctor, none of the band could read or write. Each dinner time they sat in a circle and moved stones to learn London Surprise. The late Mr. W. Lawrence also told me that was true.-Yours sincerely,
A. H. PULLING

Guildford.

\section*{MR. JOHN R, WILKERSON}

Dear Sir, - Last year one of my Newcastle ringer friends brought back to me from Norwich a reminder that I should not forget where I had started to ring. Now, as I have learned of the passing of my old instructor, perhaps I may be allowed to acknowledge my debt to the Norwich Diocesan Association in general and to the late John R. Wilkerson in particular, who passed to his rest at Acle on March 6th in his 91st year.
John Wilkerson had been the village blacksmith as had his father before him. So far as I know he had never travelled very far, but his knowledge of local affairs and loca! people was truly remarkable. I can recall ringing trips to nearby towers when it seemed that John knew practically every farm and its occupants. I understand that he retained that knowledge and was often consulted whem arguments arose. He was also a keen and, I believe, a skilled bowler and I can remember how he would come from the bowling green as the bells were raised on practice night.
John had been a ringer from his boyhood days, when Acle had only five bells. For many years those bells remained silent as the tower was unsafe. After the restoration and augmentation to six in 1933, John and other old ringers resumed ringing and helped to train younger ringers. Later he became captain and during that time I learned to ring under his tuition. As captaim he set a first-class example in punctuality and regularity to the rest of \(u s\), and we had a good Sunday service band in those pre-war days. Unfortunately the war dispersed the younger members and the old ones were too old to resume. I remember ringing last with John at Easter, 1943, when he was in his 80th year.
He had never had the opportunity of peal ringing in his younger days but he was game enough to attempt his first when well over 70. In all he rang four peals in 1938-39. They were in four to eight Minor methods; all were at Acle and I had the pleasure of calling the last three.
Anyone who reaches the age of 90 is a rcmarkable man and I think that John Wilkerson would be well above average among such remarkable men. At his passing I gratefully acknowledge my debt to him who began my instruction in ringing-a process which, by the way, still continues. May he rest in peace in that village of which for so long. he formed a part.-Yours, etc.,

\section*{'A LONG-FELT NEED}

Dear Sir,-May I be amongst the first to congratulate the president and secretary of the Central Council upon the review of the Council's operative decisions which appears in "The Ringing World ' of March 25th. It was obviously a very great labour, but the authors will derive comfort from the knowledge that the publication of these decisions supplies a longfelt need for information.

There is, however, one decision which 1 looked for in vain, and which I believe to be still operative It is the decision taken about 1936, I believe, requiring all Guilds and Associations affiliated to the Central Council loyally to abide by its rules and decisions.

As this operative decision is of particular importance to all the affiliated bodies in view of the Council's action in regard to methods not having Plain Bob lead ends (or heads), may 1 ask the secretary kindly to publish the full text of that decision so that every peal ringer may be aware of the consequences should an irregular (so called) method be rung to a peal.Yours truly,

ALAN R. PINK.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR}

\section*{By H．CHANT}

Let us examine one or two possibilities of constructing 3－part peals with the aid of simple extensions and shunt－bobs．

\section*{4．5， 6 EXTENT IN 6th}

If 2－3 are selected as the fixed bells，then in order to construct a 5,040 the following points must be watched：－
（1）The fixed bells themselves must be true． （See rule above．）
（2）A 15－course extension must be constructed．
（3）The unfixed bells（I couldn＇t think of a better term－perhaps we should call them －floaters＇－or does that savour too much of＇Brag＇；or is it＇Pontoon＇？）must appear 12 times in 6ths in the 15 courses．
The chart will be found ideal for construct－ ing these 15 －course extensions；after a bit of practice it is like working a sausage－machine．
Having produced the desired extension it is only necessary to insert the shunt－bob and＇hey presto，＇there is your peal．
Many peals have been produced（composed） on this plan as can be seen from the examples siven in the C．C．Collection．Peals 87，88， 89 ， \(90,91,92,93\)（which has，in my edition，trans－ posed the M and W ，and acquired 48 changes from nowhere）， 94 and 95 are simple 15 －course extensions with one shunt－bob in each part．
The shunt－bobs are as follows：－
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline Peal & Position & Course \\
\hline 87 & M． & 9 \\
\hline 88 & W． & 12 \\
\hline 89 & H． & 2 \\
\hline 90 & M． & 6 \\
\hline 91 & H． & 3 \\
\hline 92 & H． & 10 \\
\hline 93 & M． & 1 \\

If the student places a circle round the shunt－
bob and brackets consecutive blocks of 3 to－ bob and brackets consecutive blocks of 3 to－ gether（as previously shown）he will find that all these peals will reduce to a plain course．
In all of them the shunt－bob could be moved elsewhere without affecting the truth of the composition，and in most more than one shunt－ bob could be used． e．g．Peal 87，the shunt－bob，could be a Bob
M in the 5th course or a Bob＇W＇Wrong ＇ M ＇in the 5th course or a Bob＇ W ＇Wrong in the 12 th course．In addition to the shunt－ bob already used．both the extra shunt－bobs could be used making three shunt－bobs in all， but there is little point in inserting Bobs merely for the sake of inserting Bobs，unless it be for the base design of disguising your composition so that students will not recognise it as a varia－ tion of some other peal，and composers do not do such things．

6th EXTENT EACH WAY IN 5－6
Here there appears to be more scope for the young composer as there is only one（No．80） in the C．C．Collection that is a simple extension with a shunt－bob，and I have already mentioned that．The 6th will be a fixed bell with，fre－ quently，the 5 th as a companion，in order that it（5th）may have the extent one way，or some such qualification．
In the extension the 6th，then，must appear four times in 6ths and four times in 5ths，and the 5 th as frequently in \(5-6\) as possible．Of course，the fixed bells must be true as was itated in regard to \(2-3\) in the previous peals． 6384
This is the longest length possible in 3 parts on the pure extension plan．There are one or two variations（of musical qualities）possible．
The student may first like to try his hand at producing such peals as No． 102 C．C． Collection．
This is merely a simple extension with 5－6 fixed and a shunt－bob \((\mathrm{H})\) in the 10 th course． nxed and a shunt－bob（H）in the 10 th course．
Notice that the composer claims no special musical virtue and，apart from＇knocking off＇ one or two for practice，the student had better leave this type of peal to the professors．
I hope that this criticism of the peal will in no way be distorted as a criticism of the com－ poser，who produced some of the finest peals extant and who probably had，in his day，for－ gotten more about composition than I have ever known．
I have several 6384＇s produced from the chart，but I am leaving this subject for the student to work out his own salvation．See what you can do with it．

Having dealt，somewhat desultorily，with shunt－bobs that do not affect the fixed bells，let us consider those that do．
Consider the four following groups care－ fully：－

Look at 2－3 in each pair of courses，and notice that they start and finish in the same positions．The other three bells have，however， changed their positions．I have written the figure proof in order to help the student（or the professor if he requires help－or has not gone to sleep）．

In A，the Bob \(W\) brings 2－3 back to normal； in \(\mathbf{B}\) ，the Bob＇Middle＇restores equilibrium， in C and D again it is the＂Middle＇that brings order out of chaos．

Observe that \(2-3\) are in a different position at the start（and finish）of each group，i．e．，A is different from \(B, B\) from \(C\) and \(C\) from \(D\) ． Now let us examine three simple extensions， the last two being variations of the first，which is itself no other than our old friend \(\mathbf{W} 3 \mathrm{H}\) ， W 3 H ，W 3 H ，which Reeves put to good use by means of a shunt－bob．
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|c|c|}
\hline （i） & & & \multicolumn{3}{|c|}{（2）} \\
\hline 23456 & W & H & 23456 & W & H \\
\hline 45236 & － & － & 42356 & & \\
\hline 24536 & & － & 35456 & － & \\
\hline 52436 & & 二 & 43526 & & － \\
\hline 43526 & － & 二 & 54326 & & － \\
\hline 54326 & & 二 & 32546 & － & － \\
\hline 35426 & & － & 53246 & & \\
\hline 42356 & － & － & 25346 & & \\
\hline 34256 & & 二 & 34256 & － & － \\
\hline 23456 & & 一 & 23456 & & － \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Again，at the risk of boring the professor to tears，I would remind the student that as these touches are simple extensions，no proof is needed other than seeing that the course ends （heads）are different，and that，in fact，the nine courses rung are complete courses and the course ends that occur in the touch are the course ends of these nine courses．

Notice that the three touches increase in musical value which indicates that the third one will probably prove to produce the most musical peals．This，in fact，proves to be correct．

But first of all let us examine No．（1）．
Let us assume that we intend producing a three part composition（or doubling this by singles and making this a 6 －part），and we are using 2－3 as fixed bells．We therefore compare the course－heads of our touch with our tabu－ lated groups（A，B，C，D），and see if our fixed bells are in the same position and have the same calls in the course in both cases．
There are two courses where the second part of our tabulated groups（ \(A, B, C, D\) ）can be substituted for the first．These are the 8th where B may be used，and the 9th where C may be used．

Let us take the 8th course first．
Here we will use figure proof in order to check，but there is no need to write out proof other than the substituted course．
Let us do this：－
\begin{tabular}{llllllll}
42356 & W & B & M & H \(^{\prime}\) & W & M & H \\
\hline 35264 & - & - & - & - & 54326 & & \\
42563 & 52364 & 35264
\end{tabular}

Now it can be seen from the proof that we have used part of the course 54326 （from the W to the B）．Unfortunately we have already used， in course six of our extension，the complete course，and so with a sigh of regret（coupled with an air of smug satisfaction that our know－ ledge has saved us having to write out the complete proof），we reject the substitution．
（To be continued）

\section*{SOME THOUGHTS ON RULES}

CHANGE ringing, as we are all proud to affirm, is both a Science and an Art. This statement, of course, cannot be literally true, and the purist will claim that it is either a Science or an Art, but that it cannot be both. The purist, however, would be wrong, for the statement is a paradox, and implies that there are scientific or mathematical principles to be followed in the theory of change ringing, and artistic creation and satisfaction in the practice of change ringing.
A Science, by its very nature, demands rules and laws. An Art, by its very nature, cannot be confined or limited by rules and laws. This, to me, is the crux of the problem. Whenever the Scientists have attempted to formulate 'limiting' or 'confining ' rules they have been hotly contested by the Artists.
That is not to say, of course, that all argument in change ringing is due to the conflict of Science with Art. Indeed there is probably more internal argument amongst the Scientists themselves than there is between the Scientists and Artists. But the fact of conflict remains, and whenever the Scientists come to general agreement amongst themselves as to a particular rule to be brought before the Central Council, it will always be opposed by the Artists if it attempts to 'limit' or 'confine' the Art.

Let us examine this in relation to the problems of method construction. The Scientist looks on this as a means of producing true changes; and studies the figures representing a lead - being concerned with the regularsuccession of the nature of the rows, seeing that no bell strikes more than two consecutive blows in one place, that the lead is symmetrical, and that it produces a Plain Bob lead end.

The Artist, on the other hand, prefers to study the ' blue line --concerning himself with its interest or monotony, its movement or stagnation, and its inherent musical qualities. It is not surprising, therefore, to find a conflict of opinion on method construction.

How does this concern the current conflict on Bob Triples? In Annable's time, when ringing was first and foremost an Art, several excellent seven-bell methods were rung with a treble and six working bells. These methods have qualities which are not to be had in the so-called ' pure ' Triples methods, and provide work similar to that found in the more difficult Surprise methods of to-day. Then along came the Scientists who held that every sevenbell method should consist of an unbroken succession of triple changes, and that every eight-bell method should consist of an unbroken succession of alternate quadruple and triple changes. Imagine the storm that this caused! It has never really settled!

There appears to be a widely held opinion that this ' law' is fundamental, and must be scrupulously observed in the case of odd bell methods, but need not be in the case of even bell methods. Why? Your guess is as good as mine!

The case of seven-bell methods was further complicated by the problem of producing an extent entirely of triple changes. This was very laudable as a problem of composition, but unfortunately it grew into a prejudice which condemned Plain Bob on seven bells, not because the four blows behind were 'stagnation,' but because it did not consist of an unbroken succession of triple changes. The result of this has been that instead of having a variety of interesting seven-bell methods to ring, we are now virtually 'limited ' or 'confined ' to Grandsire Triples. This, to quote one of the finest writers and thinkers that the Exercise has produced, 'is entirely due to the mistaken idea of insisting on a rule which is a good one in its proper and limited sphere, but a bad one when it is made universal.'
When considering Rules, therefore, let us not forget that change ringing started as an Art, and the development of the Science was secondary and subsidiary. Rules which both satisfy the Science and benefit the Art should be accepted gladly; but rules which, in satisfying the Science, injure the Art should be discarded.

In conclusion, may I point out that the Scientists and Artists mentioned previously are not necessarily separate individuals? A complete change ringer is himself both a Scientist and an Artist - in which case the conflict is internal. Central Council representatives, look into your own hearts before you cast your vote!

\title{
EXPLORING THE UNKNOWN

By P. AMOS
Although a town of only around 14,000 population it has as many churches and pubs as some towns three to four times its size. It once had 59 pubs, I'm told. There are St. Mary's, All Saints', St. Michael's, St. John's, St. George's, St. Helen's, and St. Martin's Churches. Out of this lot only All Saints' and St. Martin's have ringable bells-six in each.
St. Mary's is the only one with eight bells, but its oak frame and headstocks are so affected with worm and dry-rot as to make them totally unringable. It is not so much a question of the strength of the steeple and of the church being near the road. I can think of plenty of towers similarly placed-one at Thetford for instance. Neither is its tens 27 cwt., as I have heard stated! It is a 48 -inch bell and therefore only in the region of 18-19 cwt. Peals have been rung at St. Mary's in bygone days.

St. Michael's shares a unique distinction with Braunston, near Daventry-of its bells being older than the church. The present St. Michael's Church dates from 1836. Its six bells were saved when the church was destroyed by fire. They were cast in 1762.

St. John's and All Saints' are so near to each other that you can almost throw a stone from one to the other. A good ring of six is in All Saints' steeple and four in the old tower of St. John's.

St. Martin's, with a handy six all cast by \(C\). and G. Mears in 1850 , is the only tower of Stamford within the Peterborough Diocese. the only tower south of the river Welland, and the parish is generally known as Stamford Baron, being the Church of Lord Exeter, the patron of the living, who is also patron of a number of others in the district. St. George's Church, like St. John's, has four bells. It is here a plaque commemorates the first Toby Norris, who died in 1626.

\section*{THE NORRIS FAMILY}

It would be difficult to think of Stamford without thinking of the Norris family of bellfounders. A number of ringers do not realise that there were two Toby Norris's-Toby I, Thomas his son, and Toby II, grandson of the first Toby.

Toby II would sometimes inscribe his name on his bells-Tobie, on others Toby, and others Tobias.

Toby I commenced business in 1603, when most bellfounders did not inscribe their names, but used trade stamps to identify their bells. The earliest bells of Toby I were the 1603 treble of three at Wadenhoe, Northants (augmented to six in 1937), and the 1604 treble to four (now unringable) at Baintin, near Stamford.

When he died in 1626 his son, Thomas, carried on the business, taking in turn his son, Toby II, in 1664. Thomas died in 1674. The business continued in the hands of Toby II with the help of Thomas Hanes and Alexander Rigby (the latter leaving him to start on his own in 1684) until 1699 when Toby II died. Thus, after 96 years, came to an end the Norris family of bellfounders.

Alexandre Rigby continued casting and recasting bells until 1708 when he, too, died, being buried on October 29th, in St. Martin's Church, where a stone commemorates his memory.

Although Toby II and Alexandre Rigby cast many bells neither were considered the best of bellfounders. A recently restored five by Toby II of 1696, upon which I rang a peal, are typical of most of his bells-being dull in tone. It would be difficult to effect a good splice with a new treble which would almost be bound to sound louder than the rest. A Gloucestershire legend about Rigby reads: 'Badgeworth ringers, they were mad, because Rigby made me bad.' However, a good bell of his which must have been one of his first, dated 1684, is the treble of three at Great Billing, near Northampton, where there is also a genuine 14 th century bell, the 14 cwt , tenor, by Johannes-deYorke, a bellfounder who became Mayor of Leicester in 1370 ; together with an early Newcombe bell of about 1534 .

Of Thomas Hanes we know very little. But the second of three light bells-tenor \(4 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{Cwt}\).at Wittering, Northants, reads: T. Hanes and Tobie Norris cast mee 1681. 1681 is also the date on the treble, but with only the name of Tobie Norris. The tenor of these three is about a century older, being a product of one of third generation of Newcombes, with the latin inscription: Laus Tibi Domine, meaning, ' Praise to thee, O Lord.'

Thomas Norris comes into the picture as well as Toby I at Bainton. The third bell there reads: 'Thomas Norris 1652.' Also, Alexandre Rigby has his name and 1702 inscribed upon the second. The tenor of these four is a bell of Henry Jordon, the London bellfounder of 1442-1470.

\section*{THORNHAUGH-OFF THE BEATEN TRACK}

All three Norris's come into the history of the middle three of the five bells at Thornhaugh, Northants, a tower little heard of until 1950 when the first peal (which I arranged and took the fourth in) was rung. Only one Guild meeting is known to have been held here apart from the 1954 summer festival. The tower is a little off the beaten track.
On the second bell is Mviti Vocati Pavci Electi 1619, with a cross stamp as used by Toby Norris 1. This Latin inscription means: 'Many called, few chosen.' On the third is: Thomas Norris made me 1634. The fourth, up till 1860 , bore the inscription: Tobias Norris 1684. There was, in addition to these three Norris bells, a sanctus bell which in 1860 was broken up and recast in with the old fourth by Warner and Sons, of London, whose names are inscribed together with the churchwardens, J. Wilson and H. Fuller, the then Rector. Was this Rector a descendant of the famous Baptist missionary, Andrew Fuller, of Kettering? The bi-centenary of Andrew Fuller was in 1954.

Messrs. Warner and Sons rehung all three bells in a new metal frame for five in 1889, adding a new tenor and a new treble in 1909, but putting them on wood headstocks. The tenor of 32 ins. diameter weighs 6 cwt .6 lb ., but sounds heavier.

\section*{AN AWKWARD BELFRY}

Not far from Thornhaugh is Yarwell where, in 1926, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston rehung three bells in a new metal frame, adding a tenor of \(5 \frac{1}{t} \mathrm{cwt}\). to make four, with space for another treble.

I do not advise anyone suffering in the least degree with arthritis to ascend this belfry which is by way of an awkward ladder and through a trap door. The bells are hung high up in the tower which strikes one as having, at some time, had a spire surmounting it.

The ancient treble at Yarwell may be a bell by John-de-Colsale, a Nottingham founder of circa 1410. Cvm Voco Venite, meaning, "when I call, come to church, will be found on the second with a cross used by the Newcombes, and on the third is Mvlti Vocati Pavci Electi, with the names of Thomas Tilton and Edward Peak, churchwardens, and Thomas Eayre, bellfounder, 1754. This incumbency now goes with Nassington where there is a minor five (first five of six), and a licensed house 'The Queen's Head,' underneath which it is said the head of Mary Queen of Scots was buried after exccution at nearby Fotheringhay in 1589, a story which should not be taken too seriously! The beautiful lantern tower has just been re-stored-the restoration of the bells is foreseen. Entry to the belfry is through a staircase in the porch and over the church roof. There are four bells, tenor about 11 cwt. ( 39 inches), by Thomas Norris 1634 . The third is a recast by G. Mears in 1860 from a Tobie Norris bell of 1609. The second is 1614, and the treble 1595. Tansor, with three bells, has a tenor of 7 cwt ., by Robert Crouch, of London, who was a competitor to Henry Jordon, circa 1450. In this tower one is greeted (or was) with old moth eaten ropes, dust and cob-webs galore. From Cotterstock, where there are five bells (tenor 8 cwt .), comes the proverb: "The weakest go to the wall.' Stone benches can still be seen from when the church had no seats. A tuneful and complete ring of five (tenor 9 cwt .), by Thomas Eayre, 1727, can be found in the Georgian church at Stoke Doyle. A not so tuneful four is at Pilton, where there is a bell of Henry Jordon's, circa 1450, and one by Robert Newcombe, circa 1550. Pilton has a very beautiful church!

Mr. Stanley A. Hazelden, captain at East Farleigh. Kent, obligingly stood in for a peal of Minor when Mr. A. Patrick Cannon's band arrived for a peal attempt one short. His action was much appreciated by the band.

Dorchester Branch Spring Meeting
The rain, persistent though it was, could not dim the beauty of that splendid old Church of St. Mary, Puddletown, where the Dorchester Branch held their spring quarterly meeting on April 2nd.

Inside this fine building with the tombs and effigies of the Martyn family, knights and their ladies on marble canopied tombs, the minstrels' gallery and the ancient high oak pews, complete with doors, the Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon A. L. Helps, assisted by the Branch chairman, Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, Rector of St. Peter's, Dorchester, who read the lesson and also gave the address. Mr. Ken Townsend was at the organ and the choir was in attendance.

Tea was served in the Village Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Robins, and the ringers were the guests of Canon Helps, who was thanked by the chairman for his generous hospitality.

The business meeting was conducted by Canon Markby, and apologies for absence were received from Mr. F. Precey (Ringing Master), Mr. R. H. Duke (assistant hon. secretary), the Rev. A. F. Godley, Mr. G. W. Abbott and Mr. E. T. P. Field. It was agreed that the date of the June meeting at Abbotsbury be left to the Vicar and the hon. secretary.

Regarding the Guild annual festival to be held at Marlborough on May 21st, it was suggested that tower correspondents should send names to Mr. Duke by about May 1st, and a coach would be obtained if sufficient support was forthcoming.

Branch practices were provisionally arranged as follows:-April 16th, Martinstown; April 23rd, Buckland Newton; May 7th, Litton Cheney; May 14th, Preston; June 4th, Wool; and June 18th, Milton Abbey.

A vote of thanks to Canon Helps for his hospitality and welcome, to the organist and choir and the caterers was voiced by the chairman, and Canon Helps, in reply, said he was most pleased to welcome the ringers on every possible occasion.

\section*{YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{First Visit to St. Peter's, Leeds}

Over 50 members were present at the quarterly meeting of the Western District held on March 19th at St. Peter's Church, Leeds. \(1 t\) is over 40 years since the Yorkshire Association was sub-divided into four Districts, and the kind invitation of the local company to hold its first meeting at Leeds Parish Church was much appreciated.

Ringing commenced at 2.30 p.m. and continued in a variety of methods from Triples to Cinques until 5 p.m., when tea was served in the nearby Church Hall.

At the business meeting which followed the chair was taken by the vice-president, Mr. P. J. J. Johnson, and various speakers expressed pleasure at being given this opportunity of ringing at Leeds, and hoped that this would be the forerunner of many more successful meetings at Leeds.

An announcement was made concerning this year's Snowdon Dinner to be held at the Guildford Hotel, Leeds on October 15th, and it was hoped that this important social function would receive the full support of all members.
Further ringing was enjoyed during the evening until 9 p.m., when a well-struck course of Cambridge Surprise Major on the back eight (tenor 42 cwt .) brought the meeting to a close.

\section*{DIOCESAN GUILD}

Following the meeting, ringing was resumed on the six fine bells and was carried on until 9 p.m. under the direction of Messrs. F. Stedman (Wyke Regis) and H. Ford (Abbotsbury), Deputy Branch Ringing Masters.

Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

Towers represented were Abbotsbury, Buckland Newton, Bere Regis, Charminster, Dorchester (St. Peter's), East Lulworth, Frampton, Preston, Puddletown, Upwey, Wool, Wyke Regis and Yetminster, with visitors from Beaconsfield, Birmingham and Bournemouth.

\section*{PRESENTATION TO MR. E. MARLOW}

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Warminster on April 2nd, about 40 ringers and friends attending, including visitors from Frome, Salisbury and Chippenham. Apologies were received from the Ringing Master (Mr. P. Harding) and secretary (Mr. F. Slatford), who were unable to attend the service and tea, Mr. Harding arriving later in the evening.
The business meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mr. A. Week, with Mr. L. Hitchins acting as secretary. The next three meetings were arranged for Bromham, West Laverton and Urchfont. Thanks were accorded the Vicar for taking the service and for the use of the bells, and to Mr. F. Mallard for making the arrangements.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Vicar presented Mr. E. Marlow with a watch from the Warminster ringers and friends as a token of appreciation for 50 years of service to ringing, 30 years having been spent at the Minster Church.
This concluded the business, all returning to the belfry, where the bells were kept going till later in the evening, methods rung ranging from rounds to Cambridge.

\section*{OWSTON, LINCS, BELLS ARE A PEAL-RINGER'S DREAM}

Owston, on the west bank of the Trent, in the Isle of Axholme, Lincs, is a large village in rich agricultural country. Many Roman remains have been discovered in the parish, and only recently one of the richest finds of Roman coins was unearthed there. Parts of St. Martin's Church are 12 th century.

For many years the six bells have been in poor shape, but soon after Canon D. L. Ravins was inducted to the living last year he started a very comprehensive restoration of the church with the bells top priority. By Saturday, February 26th, this part was complete. Messrs. Taylor have tuned and quarter-turned the bells and rehung them in a frame for eight and are to be congratulated on a perfect job. The tower has been thoroughly overhauled and new floors fitted. The bells are now rung from the ground floor and are excellent to handle and hear. With the church at least 100 yards from the nearest house they are the peal-ringer's dream.

By special request of the Vicar and churchwardens, Saturday, February 26th, was the occasion for almost continuous ringing. The local band rang them in rounds during Mass at 8 a.m., when the Vicar blessed them and all those who might ring them.

Later a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung by the following members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild: A. Waite (first quarter) 1, Mrs. A. Grey 2, George L. G. Lunn (conductor) 3, G. Harrison 4, A. Gilbert 5, D. Cole 6 . This is believed to be the first quarter rung on the bells.

After lunch, which was very kindly provided free by the parishioners, more ringers arrived, despite arctic weather. Many methods were rung, most of which would undoubtedly be the first on the bells, which have hung in the tower for 100 years. One visitor, aged 87 , had come 40 miles by bus and taxi to ring at Owston, where he learned to handle a bell 60 years ago 1

\section*{GRANDFATHER'S FIRST GRANDSIRE}

There was a Confirmation service at Eye. Suffolk, on March 15 th, and as it was a Tuesday at 3 o'clock, it was a certainty that eight of the tower's ringers could not be got logether. so George Symonds, of Ipswich, who had been associated with Eye and district for so many years, was asked well in advance if he could get a band together. This resulted in a band of eight as follows: Michael Mills (aged 13). of Thorpe-le-Soken ; Urban Wildney, of Kirby-le-Soken; George Moss (Manningtree): George Waterman (Harwicb); James Bennett (Grundisburgh); William Tillett and Charies Scdgley (Ipswich); and Geo. Symonds himself.

The day arrived and seven turned up at Eye. That morning Geo. Symonds had potification from Charles Sedgley that he could not come because of an attack of lumbago.

The aim had been a quarter peal but nowWhat was to be done? The seven climbed the 52 stairs and began to ring Grandsire on 1.3. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 with no tenor behind while Claude Rush biked round the town searching for the eighth man.

Tower captain Fred Brunning was working away, Horace Bailey could not leave his job, then who next? Tom Turner. He was at home, 'Can you blow behind for Grandsire, please? 'What's on?' 'They're ringing for the Confirmation service.' 'Who's there?' 'Do you know Geo. Symonds?' "Yes-that I do.' 'Well, he's there with six others.' "What are they ringing?' 'That's Grandsire without the second, and the big drum is mixed up with the futes-well, what d'yer say?' 'I haven't got a collar on-and I haven't washed.' 'That doesn't matter. Can you do it?' 'All right. I'll go.

He was soon up the tower-the seven going quite well. 'Here's your eighth man,' said Claude. George Symonds called 'Rounds and 'Stand.' Tom went on the tenor and right away. Right from the start all went well. The Vicar had said that ringing ought to stop at ten to three, so at that time Claude went back to the ringing chamber and winked at George, who apparently thought all was well and at the appropriate times called two more "Boooaarbs.' So Claude whispered in his ear: 'It's six minutes to three.' 'Better call 'em round?' he asked. 'Yes!' So, 'Rounds 'and 'Stand ' again. A great pity! Another eight minutes or so and there would have been the quarterit would have been a good one.

Well done, Tom! How long since you rang Grandsire?' 'Never rung it before!' And he's over 70!

We hope that a certain Cumberland Youth has seen the results of his challenge to the Aldrington band to ring an 'all-ladies' quarter peal ' and and "all-gentlemen's quarter peal." There are still six more ringers, extra to these twelve, in the local band, three of them having rung quarter peals. The average age of the ladies was \(17 \frac{1}{2}\) years, but the gentlemen havn't mentioned theirs.

\section*{GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Cheltenham Branch}

Despite incessant rain and lack of public transport, a successful quarterly meeting, at which most towers in the Branch were represented, was held at Stanton on March 26th. Visitors from Staffordshire, Somerset and Worcestershire joined in ringing on the S18 bells.
Tho service, conducted by the Rev. H. Hodson, was delayed a little owing to the fact that the organ keyboard was found to be locked. The arrival of the churchwarden, complete with numerous keys, did not solve the problem, and eventually the hymns were sung with pedal accompaniment only.
Empty seats in available transport werc eagerly scized upon when a move was made to Buckland, where ringing continued until 8.30 p.m.

\section*{DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION}

An enjoyable meeting was held on March 26th, when the North District visited Morpeth Watch Tower. It is interesting to note that in Morpeth the church and steeple are one mile apart, and the tower was originally built as a jail.

At the business meeting Mr. Kenneth Arthur emphasised the obligations of a ringer, and the Rector of Morpeth suggested that each belfry should have a representative on the Church Council.
Ringing ceased at eight o'clock, when the traditional curfew was rung.

\section*{A BRISTOL UNIVERSITY RINGING ROMANCE}

The wedding took place on April 2nd, 1955, at the Church of All Saints, Hampreston, Dorset, of two well-known and popular ringers, Ivor H. Trueman and Heather J. Tesson. Ivor learned his ringing under the very capable tuition of his father, for many years chairman of the Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association. Heather learned to ring at the church where she was married.

Both bride and bridegroom are active members of the University of Bristol Society and it was ringing which brought them together. They are past officers of the Society, Ivor having been Master in the academic year 1950-51. They now ring regularly in Bristol, where they are both employed, and are held in great esteem by City and University ringers alike.
It was a ringers' wedding in many ways. The groom's father, Mr. W. H. Trueman, conducted a touch on the six bells of All Saints' Church before the service and Mr. W. B. Kynaston, Past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association. called one afterwards. The best man, Mr. J. R. Worrall, and several other guests took part in both touches.
The ceremony was conducted most beautifully by the Vicar, Rev. E. H. Monds, who, himself, has been taught to handile a bell, while at the organ was yet another ringer.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white gown of flowered net over taffeta with a shoulder-length veil and a headdress of white heather and hyacinth bells. She carried a bouquet of tulips, daffodils and heather. The bride was attended by a small bridesnaid and a page.

At the reception, which was held at the Innisfail Hotel, the health of the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Mr. Cull. The bridegroom responded and in turn proposed the health of the parents of the bride and himself, to which Mr. Tesson, who had, personally, made the wonderful cake, replied. Telegrams bearing best wishes and congratulations from absent friends were then read.
Later, the couple, showered in confetti and the best wishes of all the guests, left for a honeymoon in the Scilly Isles. The bride wore a green suit with red accessories.

\section*{Newark District}

The March meeting was held at Bingham, when there was an attendance of over 50 , including visitors from Bottesford, Branston, Bulwell, Colston Bassett, Daybrook, Duffield, Grantham and Sheffield.
Tea was taken in a nearby cafe and was followed by the business meeting. Two new members were elected, namely, Mrs. Clarke, of Whatton-in-the-Vale, and Mr. L. Coldbeck, of Newark. The next meeting was colnfirmed as Ossington and Sutton-on-Trent. Staunton-in-the-Vale was chosen for the July meeting.

The ringers then returncd to the tower, where ringing in various methods ranging from rounds to Cambridge continued until 8.30 p.m.

The 200th peal on the bells of St. Matthew's, Walsall, was rung on April 2nd. The ear-

\section*{BELFRY} liest peal recorded in this tower was 6,000 Bob Major in 4 hours and 1 minute on June 30th, 1788. The peal on April 2nd was the 100th Mr. Howard Howard had rung on the bells, and his 50th of Stedman Cinques as conductor.

Local ringers at Halifax have made a start as handbell ringers. We hope to receive a peal from them shortly.

Mr. J. Bennett, of Grundisburgh, who was knocked off his bicycle recently and had his right femur fractured, expects to be in hospital for at least three months. His address is Vista Bonney Ward, Borough General Hospital, lpswich. A speedy recovery is the wish of all ringing friends.

A meeting is being held at All Hallows', Twickenham, on May 7th with the purpose of forming a Medical Change Ringing Society. Dr. D. J. Neal Smith, of 93, Cole Park Road, Twickenham, is acting as local representative and will send details to doctors interested. An informal dinner will follow the ringing.

In connection with the Oddfellows' A.M.C. at Hastings, Mr. W. Frank Stenson has received sufficient invitations to sustain a week's ringing tour. Unfortunately at St. Mary-in-theCastle Church, where the special service will be held on the Sunday afternoon of June 4th, there are no bells. Invitations to ring at Christ Church, Blacklands (the recast ring in Hastings for morning and evening service on the Sunday and for the Tuesday practice have been received. A coach trip has been arranged for the Thursday evening to Battle Abbey and possible ringing in four towers. Ringers attending the Conference are asked to communicate with Mr. Stenson, North Col, 142, Munshull New Road, Crewe, Cheshire.

\section*{GOSSIP}

Next week the Guild of Clerical Ringers are making their headquarters at Lynton, North Devon, for their ringing week. The party will consist of the Revs. J. H. B. Andrews, Canon C. Carew Cox, Preb. E. V. Cox, K. C. Davis, K. W. H. Felstead, F. S. Marle, M. C. C. Melville, I. J. Richards, D. P. Roberts, R. D. St. J. Smith, W. H. R. Trewhella, H. F. Warren, C. E. Wigg, Canon R. F. Wilkinson and E. B. Wood. The party will also be joined for part of the time by the Rev, and Mis. J. G. M. Scott, Mrs. E. S. Powell and the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge.

The Kent County Association is probably the first Association to have a Royal Prince as a practising member. He is Prince Disnadda Diskul, of Siam, who is a member of the Ton. bridge District.
A Yorkshireman writes with reference to the article of the Rev. K. W. H Felstead on 'Peal Ringing in Lancashire' that Lancashire is not alone in having five rings of 12 . Yorkshire also has five 12 's-York, Sheffield, Leeds, Wakefield and Halifax.

Congratulations to the Rye Grammar School Society of Change Ringers on ringing their first peal. This Society, which was formed in Autumn, 1950, consists of past and present members of the school, many of whom rung at Rye Parish Church. The Society has rung several quarters but never before a complete peal..

Cromhall, Glos, ringers played a prominent part in the Pilgrims' Conference held at the Parish Church on Palm Sunday. They rang for each of the three services and our quarter peal column records one of their performances. The conductor extends congratulations to Miss Elizabeth Eamer on the way she rang her first quarter.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN LINCOLNSHIRE}

\author{
By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

INCOLNSHIRE is amongst - the counties with the greatest numbers of rings of bells In her case, most of them are of the six-bell mriety-just about 60 per cent. Quite a good proportion of the towers still remain to be conquered - 32 out of the 183. These include two 8 's -Stamford, St. Mary's, and Barton-on-Humber, St. Mary's (unless I have got mixed up between the two towers at the latter place); 136 'sAddlethorpe, Caistor, Coningsby, Croft, Frisk ney, Halton Holgate, Higsthorpe, East Keal, Lsington, Owston, Redbourne, Stamford (St Michael's), Theddlethorpe; and 17 5's, the list of which I shall be very pleased to send to anyone interested.
On the whole, there have not been as many peals rung at the towers of this county as in most of those with a comparable number of mings. Thus only two have passed the 100 mark-Surfleet (12) and Spalding (8). The former has scored 131 and was a six-bell tower 50 years ago. Twenty peals were rung from its first in 1901 to 1912. In 1913 and 1914 me two more after the bells had been augmented to 10 . After the war, 49 were rung up to 1932 and then came the adding of two more urebles and 32 peals were rung in the next six years. Since the war 30 more have been rung, io this tower is still going strong. It will always be connected with the names of the Rev. H. Law James and Mr. Rupert Richardson and also the fact that it is the lightest 12 -bell tower in the country (tenor only 12 cwt .).
At Spalding, 118 peals have been rung and these have been spread pretty consistently over the last 70 years with perhaps a slightly better average recently. Thus 36 peals came before 1914, 49 between the wars and 33 since 1944 (bat it is a year since the last of these).

\section*{IN LINCOLN CITY}

Unless we combine the totals of peals rung at lincoln, St. Giles' (8), with those when the bells were at St. Peter-at-Arches, no tower is anywhere near the 100 mark. At the latter place, 46 peals were rung from 1891 to 1914 which made it the most popular tower in the county at that time. Seven more were rung from 1922 to 1924 , making a total of 53 . At St. Giles', s bells have been rung to 40 peals, one in 940 and the remainder since. So the grand tal is 93 .
Apart from this, the two towers nearest the entury are in the 70's. They are Lincoln Cathedral (12) and Barton-on-Humber, St. reter's (8). AL the former 72 peals have been ng-only nine between 1886 and 1923 when it sas an eight-bell tower, and the remainder rince 1929 ( 43 since 1946, which makes it the most popular tower at the moment). St. Peter's nas 77 peals-six as a 6-bell tower from 1911 10 1920, no less than 60 from 1921 to 1939 and 11 in the past 10 years. And now to mention the towers according to the numbers of bells.
The two 12 -bell towers have already been tentioned. There are three 10 's, all of which are enjoying their greatest popularity at the toment. Ewerby has the most peals-40 (18 fom 1896 to 1914, 13 from 1921 to 1937 and tine since 1947); Grantham has 29 ( 16 from 1399 to 1914, only three between the wars and la since 1949) and Boston 28 (three from 1903 lo 1913, 14 from 1933 to 1939 after augmentalion and 11 since 1946). Thus there has never ken a great deal of 10 -bell ringing in the county.
I think there will be the space to mention oll the 8 -bell towers which have passed the 40 peal mark. There are nine of these (apart from the ones above). Burton-on-Stather leads the way with 66 . Twenty-nine of these were rung between 1921 and 1937 when it was a 6 -bell tower. Six were rung in 1938 and nine after the trebles had been added and there have been 29 since 1945. Pinchbeck comes next with 65. Like Edenham, which has 64 peals, it recorded its first peal at the curn of the century, and both had six bells then. Both were augmented at the beginning of the 1930's but whereas Pinchbeck had only 14 peals on the original six, Edenham had 28. They produced 19 and 20 peals on the 8 's, respectively, before the last war, but since it ended, Pinchbeck has had twice the number of peals that Edenham has had- 32 compared with 16. But their history is very similar.

Caythorpe also has 64, spread evenly over the period since 1890 but with a better average of late ( 27 since 1946). Scunthorpe has 61 -only nine prior to 1914 and 17 since 1945 (none in 1954). Harmston's 57 means an average of about two a year from the first peal in 1920 , but Gainsborough (54) has taken 67 years to reach that total. Heckington (48) started a few years after Gainsborough, so it has seen a similar pattern of about a peal a year. Grimsby, St. Andrew's (44), has not been heard since 1939 and previous to that there was a seven year gap. The first peal was in 1888 and it was consistent with its one a vear until 1932 (except for the war years). Perhaps the bells go badly now.

\section*{MULTI-METHOD PEALS}

One of the more outstanding achievements of the county has been scveral multi-method peals on six bells. Before the last war there was a friendly rivalry between Lincolnshire and Cheshire in this and 1 believe the final word went to Lincolnshrire with a peal in 104 Spliced methods (and a 6,480 containing 125 methods). The 104 methods are, I believe, the greatest number of methods which have been spliced in a peal of ordinary length. These peals with ever increasing numbers of methods are echoed in the peal totals of some of the 6 -bell towers, although the one with the highest number of peals has only had two peals in more than seven methods ( 16 methods, both of them). This is Silk Willoughby and all its 61 peals have come since the last war!. Thus it is easily the most popular peal ringing tower in the county at the moment.

Deeping St. Nicholas, which comes next, has several peals in up to 14 methods in its total of 57. The first peal on the bells was in 1909 and it has been pretty consistent since with most in recent years ( 29 since 1945). The two next towers, Bigby and Frampton, both have 44 and here these multi-method peals are especially prominent-at the former before the last war, at the latter since. It was at Bigby that the peals in 104 and 125 methods were rung. Thirty-five of the peals came from 1923 to 1939. At Frampton, a peal in 38 Surprise methods was accomplished early this year. The first peal here was in 1913 and there have been 20 since 1945. Deeping St. James has 43-34 from 1923 to 1940 (up to 28 methods) and nine since 1946. Market Deeping has 39, the first quite early on in 1894 and the bulk from 1920 to 1939 (33) and only three since 1944. A false peal in 32 methids was rung here in 1932. West Deeping has 38 peals (how close together the Deepings are!), the first in 1905 and the bulk ( 30 ) between the wars again. Eighteen methods was the most accomplished here.

\section*{AFFILIATION FEES}

The affiliation fees of 13 Societies are still outstanding and should be forwarded without delay.
E. A. BARNETT, Hon. Secretary.

Others in the 30 's are Blankney ( \(34-33\) since the war) ; Bourne ( 33 -spread out since 1907); Folkingham (33-27 between 1924 and 1938 in up to 32 methods) ; Branston (31-first in 1895 and the rest evenly from 1923). Forty-eight towers have reached double figures, but there is no space to mention more except that in Algarkirk's 17 are peals in \(48,57,70\) and 80 methods-another of the practice places for the 104 method peal!
Finally, a brief mention of 5 -bell towers. Six is the greatest number of peals rung at any of these-at Dunston and Thurlby. All, except the first at Thurlby which was in 1939, have come since the war. Actually, half the towers where peals have been rung have been conquered since the war ( 11 out of 22). As far as silences go, Belton shares with an 8 -bell tower (Hagworthingham) a silence of 44 years, for in both the only peal recorded was in 1911. Even this is beaten by a 6 -bell tower-Ufington, which has not had a peal since 1903.
So now we turn to the Home Counties again and have a look at Middlesex. Figures in the above article include peals published up to April 1st.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S 75th BIRTHDAY}

\section*{Paid Membership Again Exceeds 1,000}

HAPPIEST man at the Kent County Association's 75th anniversary meeting, held at Maidstone, on Easter Monday, was Mr. E. S. Ruck, a vice-president of the Association. He is the only surviving founder member of the Association and he remembers coming to the first meeting, which was also held at Maidstone. He was then a boy of 12 .
There were many references during the day to this milestone in the history of the K.C.A. The service at the Parish Church, conducted by Canon F. L. M. Bennett, was essentially one of thanksgiving. Later in the year it is hoped to hold a 75 th commemoration dinner. The meeting was largely attended; there were ample opportunities for ringing with 13 towers available.

\section*{THE LUNCHEON}

Following the toast of 'the Queen,' Mr. John Willis, who presided, welcomed' 'the guests.' These included the Mayor and Mayoress of Maidstone (Ald. and Mrs. Arthur H. Clark), Canon F. L. M. Bennett (Vicar of Maidstone), Mr. R. W. Percy (secretary of the Sussex County Association) and Mrs. Percy, and the editor of 'The Ringing World.
The Mayor gave the Kent County Association a cordial welcome to Maidstone for its 75th annual meeting. By a curious coincidence it was that day, he said, exactly the same programme as 75 years ago. They had then their service in the Parish Church and their luncheon in the hotel. He believed that there was one of the original founder members with them in Mr. Buck (applause).
During the 75 years their bells had tolled out for the deaths of monarchs and pealed joyously for coronations. They were rung to celebrate the victory of the First World War and for the Second World War. There were years when the bells were silent, and how thankful they were that they were silent as if they rang out it would mean that Mr. Hitler was 'knocking at the door.' They all owed a lot to bell-ringers-they were typically English-almost as typical as a pint of beer.
Canon Bennett on behalf of the diocese of Canterbury said he would like to welcome them. They were particularly pleased to have with them friends from the Diocese of Rochester.
Mr. R. W. Percy congratulated the K.C.A. on behalf of all the Guilds and Associations on its 75 th birthday. There were two Guilds from whom he would especially like to bring their good wishes-the Hawkhurst & District and the East Grinstead. These two Guilds welded the two counties of Sussex and Kent.
Mr. T. W. White reported on 'The Ringing World ' and said that thanks to the donations of those who rang peals and quarter peals and many kind friends a satisfactory balance in hand was being carried forward. The effect of the increase in price meant a loss of circulation of 3 per cent. but they were now selling more 'Ringing Worlds' than 12 months ago.

\section*{ANNUAL MEETING}

Mr. John Willis presided at the annual meeting supported by Dr. Hatcher (hon. secretary), Mr. F. M. Mitchell (hon. treasurer) and Mr. G. H. Spice and Mr. F. S. Macey (trustees).

A telegram was received from Mr. E.E. H; Lowis expressing best wishes for meeting, Other apsell, B. Jil Luck and S. G. Walters.
aps.
The annual report presented by Dr. Hatcher, after a tribute to Mr. G. H. Spice expressing sincere thanks for all he did 'so unobtrusively yet so well' as General Secretary, stated : 'We are a county association with territory extending over most of three dioceses. It is really fitting, therefore, that in the 75 th birthday year our General Meeting should be in the County Town, the more so that history is repeating itself. The Foundation Meeting of the K.C.A. took place on May 18th, 1880 , in the Chapter House of Canterbury Cathedral, but October 12 th of the same year the first general meeting was held in Maidstone, with a service at All Saints' Church and a repast at the Star Hotel just as in 1955 .

\section*{MEMBERSHIP}

An increase in the numbers of practising members from 897 to 1,043 was a great recovery and reflected efficiency and keenness in all districts. This total included 146 junior members, clear evidence of a healthy supply of young recruits. New practising members numbered 203 compared with only 125 in 1953; Ashford district 12 adults 3 juniors; Canterbury 35 and 18 ; Lewisham 22 and 12 ; Maidstone 22 and 18; Rochester 25 and 6; Tonbridge 10 and 17.
Offsetting this great improvement was a further drop in the number of honorary members, only 60 subscriptions having been so far received

\section*{DEATHS}

With regret the following deaths were recorded: Mr. Frederick White, a vicc-president and trustee; Mr. F. A. Slingsby, Cheriton; Sydney Finn, Brabourne; F. Hilton, St. Laurence, Ramsgate; W. Daynes, Eltham; A. Millard, Newington; F. J. Ring, Swanscombe; W. Collison, Tunbridge Wells; William Lilliard, Bromley Common; hon. members: Rev. H. G. Houseman, Selling; \({ }^{\text {F }}\). Huggett, Tunbridge Wells; life member: Rev. C. E. W. BestDalison, Boxley; non-resident life members: G. M., Kilby, Willesden; W. J. G. Brown, Ipswich ; C. P. Chalk, formerly of Prittlewell; Daniel Cooper, Croydon, R. Philpott, Farnham ; V. F. J. Bennett, Oxford ; Eric Dench, Edmonton; D. Wright, Southgaté.
Dealing with the work of the committee the report stated that the printing of the report was nearly the equivalent to 450 members' subscriptions. What was needed was for many more members to buy a copy and be prepared to give more for it. A sub-committec had been set up to revise the rules.
On the subject of bells in new churches, the Archdeacon of Tonbridge wrote: 'I believe if people got keen enough about bells they will want to have them when opportunity offers in the new churches, just as they will want to have good organs, otherwise.' 'Yes, all is not plain sailing and there is much that we as ringers shall have to do,' commented Dr. Hatcher.

\section*{ROUND THE DISTRICTS}

An innovation in the Ashford District has been a series of fortnightly combined practices organised and run by Mr. S. G. Waters.
A new church is to be built at Little Chart and the bells from the old bombed church are to be installed, a new bell replacing the one stolen. A grant of \(£ 20\) towards the cost of nearly \(£ 600\) has been made from the Belfry Repair Fund. Merstham tower is to be ' braced ' and it may be possible to use the bells before 1955 is out.
Major restoration of the bells of St. Alphege, Greenwich, has provided a superb example of how the Association can help. Mr. J. Dafters, one of the Lewisham District representatives, had been in the closest touch throughout, giving technical advice and training a band of ringers to man the bells. A grant of \(£ 20\) had been made for the Belfry Repair Funds.

Five members of the Tonbridge District had been in the Association for over 50 yearsMr. G. Edwards, Penshurst; Mr. H. Goodwin, Shinbourne; Mr. H. Markwell, Tunbridge Wells; Mr. T. Saunders, East Peckham and Mr. W. Leigh, Senior, of Edenbridge. The bells of St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, have been put into good order and a grant of \(£ 20\) made for the Belfry Fund towards the cost.
- The happenings of 1954 have left a stamp of optimism and enterprise on our affairs and there could be no better atmosphere in which to mark this 75th anniversary year.'
The chairman congratulated Dr. Hatcher on an excellent report. Mr. Knight moved the adoption and Mr. G. H. Spice seconded.
The accounts of the Association showed the following balances: General Account, £118 10s. 1d.; Benevolent Fund, \(£ 149\) 16s. 4d.; Belfry Repair Fund, \(£ 194\) 8s. 4d. Assets of the Association amounted to \(£ 1,142\) 18s. 1d. at value at December 31st.
Mr. Mitchell in presenting then said the Benevolent Committec made seven grants to old and aged members to the extent of \(£ 55\),
Mr. E. Barnett proposed and Mr. F. S. Macey seconded the adoption of the accounts.

\section*{PEAL SECRETARY'S REPORT}

Mr. M. S. Lancefield, peal secretary, reported that 146 peals had been rung during 1954, an increase of 16 on last year. The increase may be attributed to the very successful peal tour in the County and to the increased activity in the Ashford and Lewisham districis, where a goodly proportion of the peals in the more advanced methods were rung.
There were only 22 members who rang their first peal, viz: - Reginald \(\mathbf{F}\). Adams, Nicholas Butcher (13), G. John Cavill, Alec F. Chandler, Pamela Cooling, Vesey A. Davoren. J. W. Dixon. Janet French, Eunice E. Grenham, B. P. Hargrove, Margaret Harris, C. T. Hillis, G. J. Hurrell, H. Jarvis, J. M. A. Kennett (15), A. Pluck, D. M. Randali, A. Sayer, W. Smith, D. Staples, Beverly A. Thompson, D. Mary Ward. To the 'first pealers' and the instructors the Association extended congratulations.
There were 48 conductors, six more than in the previous year. Leading conductors were: M. S. Lancefield 25 , F. J. Cullum 13, G. J. Butcher 9, G. A. Naylor 7.
The peals rung included the first for the Association of Ashbourne College Bob Major. Southwell and Whitwick Surprise Major and Minor in 12 methods.
Mr. Tom Collingworth moved and Mr. E. S. Ruck seconded the adoption of the report. The meeting thanked Mr. Mark Lancefield for his work as peal secretary.
The officers of the Association were reelected, but Mr. F. M. Mitchell said this would be his last year in office as hon. treasurer after 27 or 28 years. The chairman: ' We will cross that bridge when we come to it.

\section*{A PRINCE AS A MEMBER}

A new member, Prince Disnadda Diskul, of Bangkok, Siam, was elected. 'He handles his bell very well and he will be a credit to his country,' said his proposer, Mr. P. Carter.
The bon. secretary stated that the annual report had been produced for the annual meeting. It was on sale at 2 s . a copy. Mr. F. S. Macey said he hoped that the next report would contain a list of those who had completed 50 years' service in the Association.
Certain members expressed their wish that a full list of members should appear in the next annual report.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING}

The item Central Council meeting appeared on the agenda. Mr. E. A. Barnett, secretary of the Council, was invited for his observations and he said the Central Council did not claim to be a superior organisation but to assist ringers and ringing. Any proposals, with that object in view, would receive the consideration of the Council. The Council was indebted to a valuable suggestion from Mr. Garner, of Folkestone, in regards to reduced prices for 'The Ringing World' when sent to one address and this had been adopted.
The chairman said he had in mind the moving of a notice of motion in regard to the upkeep of "The Ringing World.' He raised the matter with Mr. Joe Dyke and Mr. Smallwood at the College Youths' Dinner, but Mr. Dyke said it would mean an alteration of the Council's rules. He proposed to wait for another 12 months to see what the effect of raising the price would be. If the raising of price covered the cost there would be no need for him to come back to the Association, if not he was prepared to move that a contribution be made from each Association or Guild at so much per member.

Mr. Mitchell suggested that a 75th anniversary dinner be held and that the Archbishop of Canterbury be invited to give an address. It was decided to hold a commemoration dinner.

A welcome was given to the formation of a branch of the Ladies' Guild for Kent.

An omnibus vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. G. H. Spice to all who had helped towards the success of the meeting. He said in these days of wireless and television when people were apt to sit back it was important that they should be ever watchful to keep alive the Englisn art of bell-ringing.
Mr. B. Collinson proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman.

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

In spite of the strong wind over a score of ringers came to Great Wymondley on March 26th. Ringing started at 3.15 and continued until 4.45 , when an excellent tea was ready at the Green Man.

At the business meeting Mr. B. Lake, of Pirton, was elected a member. The next meeting will be at Barley, and the special method will be Rossendale Surprise. The Ringing Festival at Benington may have to be cancelled as the bells may be away at the foundry. collection was taken for the Benevolent Fund.
Ringers came from as far away as Sutton and St. Albans, and rang methods ranging from rounds to Norwich Surprise.

\section*{THE AILMENT OF A BELLRINGER}

\section*{(With apologies to Robert Burns)}

By Jill and Rosemary, of Walsall
My heart's in the belfry, my heart is not here, My heart's in the belfry, ringing Stedman I fear, Doing the quick work, doing the slow,
My heart's in the belfry wherever I go.
Farewell to the belfry, farewell to the bells,
The birthplace of ringers where music excels. Wherever I wander, wherever I rove,
The bells of Saint Matthew's for ever I love.
Farewell to Howard and Jimmy and all,
Farewell to the peal boards that cover the wall,
Farewell to the sallies, red, white and blue,
Farewell to the clock chimes and farewell to you.
My heart's in the belfry, my heart is not here, My heart's in the belfry, ringing Cambridge \(i\) fear,
Making the places, perfecting each blow,
My heart's in the belfry wherever I go.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

PEAL RINGING IN LANCASHIRE
Dear Sir,-Correcting Mr. Felstead's interesting article, I would point out that at least three of the 'virgin towers' the bells are unringable. They are Hurst (steel bells), Rochdale (St. Alban's) and Thurnham R.C. Church.

The ring of six at Kearsley does not existthis was an unfortunate mistake in 'Dove,' and it is a pity that due to printing difficulties the new book is not yet ready, as this would have prevented mistakes in previous articles and those which Mr. Felstead will no doubt make in later ones.

Accrington bells were increased to eight in 1953, while as regards Eccles the old eight were scrapped in 1929, when they were replaced by the tenor from St. John's, Deansgate, Manchester, with seven recast bells. Whether the present bells are held to be Deansgate bells recast except for the tenor, or seven Eccles bells recast with the addition of the Deansgate tenor, is immaterial-the nett result is the same. Lancashire lost a ring of eight over the trans-action.-Yours, etc.,
R. H. DOVE.

\section*{ST. NICHOLAS', LIVERPOOL}

Dear Sir,-With reference to the statement in the article 'Peal Ringing in Lancashire' (page 202), 'At. St. Nicholas' the 100 th (peal) has just been reached,' I must point out that the 100 was reached in 1935. The list is given below.

With regard to Newchurch at Warrington, the eight are still there and a very good eight they are. The interesting point about this church is that it has no dedication. Although I believe one was invented many years for the purpose of a peal record but in fact the church is simply Newchurch (or Culcheth) Church.Yours faithfully,

\section*{\({ }^{6}\) P., P.O. AND P.'}

Dear \(\operatorname{Sir}\)-We can all appreciate a joke, but, I hope, deplore insidious perversion of the truth And no self-respecting observer would talk with his tonguc in his cheek "just to create a rumpus.' If 'Mister Bob' of the 'Extra Ordinary Meeting, recently noted on the front page, had looked with intelligence at only the title, even, of the article he lampoons, he would have realised that "Public Opinion' is the operative phrase.

With the clamping-down and controlling that is spreading in this enlightened (?) day and age, \({ }^{\text {' Mister Bob' would look, and no doubt feel, a }}\) bit silly, if ultimate introduction of national legislation prohibited the continuance, in residential areas, of artificially-created open-space sounds intended for public hearing, for periods in excess of a brief maximum of, perhaps, half an hour. And especially if his bread and butter depended on his connection with the supply and reconditioning of rings of bells.

As the article pleaded not for "easier peals but for the increase of opportunities for longperiod ringing, so we need to "condition' public opinion, not to alienate it. This, at all events, is the view of many, including the one he calls YORKSHIRE BLACKBERRY.

SYNTHETIC BELLS AND THE RECORDS
Dear Sir,-It would appear that despite the deliberations of Convocation and Central Council, deprecating the installation of synthetic and recorded bells, these things still go on. In a recent issue of the "Church Times" the gift of an 'Electric Carillon' was reported -surely another use could have been found for the moncy thus used.

Also in the same paper of a previous week an advertisement appeared for gramophone records for churches possessing "Bell-chiming installations,' and inviting applications for their price list. I sent for it and found that they offer a wide selection of 78 r.p.m. discs and some \(33 \frac{1}{3}\) r.p.m. long-playing dises, including one of Cambridge Surprise Major, which has a playing time of \(17 \frac{1}{2}\) minutes. The others included some of Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major, St. Simon's Doubles, etc., etc., and the Angelus. One wonders how such recordings were obtained. The ringers must have been aware of it and co-operated with the engineers very closely. Why should they do that? Was it for some financial gain?-Yours sincerely,

PATRICK. I. CHAPMAN.

\section*{'A CACOPHONOUS HOWL"}

Dear Sir,-In a letter published in "The Ringing World' a few weeks ago, I referred to 'men who can produce a cacophonous howl from twelve bells!?

In order to remove a misunderstanding that has arisen I would like to make the following points quite clear:-
(1). This is not a criticism of 12 -bell ringers, as such, but is intended to include many ringers who through inadequate experience or lack of preparation 'take hold" for Cinques or Maximus when they are incapable of giving a suitable performance on lower numbers.
(2). Neither had I in mind, nor is the expression intended to be a criticism of any specific peal, performance or ringer. Yours sincerely,
H. CHANT.

\section*{RECEPTION OF NATIONAL SERVICE MEN}

Dear Sir,-From letters which appear in 'The Ringing World' men on National Service have been accorded a rather poor reception. I should like to quote my own experience whilst recently attached to R.A.F., Cosford. On my second evening I visited the Vicar of Albrighton who very kindly gave me the address of the captain of his tower. The very same evening I found myself ringing at Worfield, and subsequently thanks to his efforts during my eight free evenings at Claverly, West Bromwich, Wrockwardine, Wolverhampton, Albrighton, Coalbrookdale and Madeley. My thanks are also due to Mr. George Drewer, Mr. and Mrs. Bennet, Mr. Hewitt, Mr. F. Brotherton and all others whose names are unknown to me who turned an otherwise unbearable forced migration into a rather pleasant overture.
To those who may find themselves at R.A.F., Cosford, I suggest that they contact Mr. E. Binnersley, Mayfield Road, Albrighton, who not only gave me the opportunity of some good ringing but made me exceptionally welcome at his home. I can only hope that I was of some assistance to him and his band to whom any assistance would be very welcome in the field of change ringing to which they have recently turned.-Yours sincerely,

\section*{STANDARD PROCEDURE}

Dear Sir,-A modern teaching technique is needed, one few words for preference. Systems which work where a good band is in regular practice are just not good enough for standard procedure.

Stage 1.-Counting 'blue line' from a blackboard prevents development of that bad fault of looking for the tuft every handstroke. Handbells to teach rhythm is almost a "must."
Stage 2.-Call changes? No, never. Run into queens and back to rounds in half-pull changes, then plain hunting on six or eight. Learning the bells to follow just doesn't matter as long as the pupil counts the place he is in; in fact it helps him to know which bells follow on.
Stage 3.- On to Plain Bob now, and here it would be a tragedy if the Central Council proceed beyond the forbearing measure of their predecessors.

Stage 4.-Grandsire, before Plain Bob, is a dreadful mistake-a heartbreak for the poor learner every time. Much too much of a jump from treble to 'inside.' Thinking of Grandsire and the tower I was brought up in-my first meeting, November, 1921 -the Ringing Master calling out Touch of Grandsire for the learners,' and in stand our band of regular ringers. We boys are speechless. At our next annual meeting there were no regulars to face the shame of it. Since that day I have made it a practice to stand in whenever the Ringing Master calls out 'Touch of Grandsire for the learners,' and when invited to 'call a touch, have called the simplest possible touch. I've still no answer for the 'looks as though the band wants strengthening.'
Stage 5.-What of the people the learner meets? Are we to be ever ready to provoke a bit of unpleasantness, over perhaps a slight slip or error? Should we not make use of peals to encourage and improve our Sunday service work? Is the peal really an end in itself, even to the extent of calling a tower 'silent' because no peal has been rung there-an unnecessary strain on the Queen's English? Would it not be possible, incidentally, to publish a list of towers with their peal totals as a matter of wider interest perhaps without comment, and in addition to the present excellent series of praise to the peal ringer, good man though he be. I do feel that perhaps a ' 20 th or 25 th peal in this tower' would be a not too lowly objective.
This, Sir, is not a 'topic for the month,' rather, the opening pair have made way for the tope of the side. Yours very faithfully,

ERNEST L. HUMPHRISS.
Woolton, Liverpool.

\section*{SQUIRE LEONARD PROCTOR}

Dear Sir,-It may be of interest to note that 1 have a book entitled 'Curious Ringing Scraps,' which belonged to the late Sir A. P. Heywood, Bart., and was sent to me for preservation by his son, Sir Percival Heywood. On the first page is pasted a letter from Squire Proctor, and on the next is a photograph taken at Ashby-de-la-Zouch west door which shows: J. Howe, Leonard Proctor, G. Dawson, G. Hingley, A. P. Heywood, B. Sugden, W. Hickling and S . Johnson.

The letter reads:-

\section*{- Benington, Stevenage,} June 24th, 1890.
Dear Mr. Heywood,-I have not had the great pleasure of hearing from you since we met at that grand gathering of ringers in London. I think you will be amused with a little gossip as to our ringing doings in this, our little village. I am very pleased to say that we have some very pretty ringing here, on our village peal. On Saturday last, our County Ringing Association held its district meeting at Baldock where, upon its finc peal of eight, we had some very grand ringing indeed. I never in my humble experience heard any better ringing anywhere like it, and it really seemed to electrify the ears of many of the inhabitants as they came into the street to listen to the fine music of their grand peal of bells. Eight of our company came with myself, not a single breakdown all day. We were met by many friends from St. Albans, and others. We rang 2,128 changes, our own Company, Stedman, Grandsire, Double Norwich, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Superlative and Cambridge.
- Samuel Page, our conductor, really excelled his usual ability; having read in 'Bell News ' your most interesting article on 'Multi Bob,' Sam Page was most pleased, and with myself and our Village Band, called a most musical touch of Stedman Triples containing 45 Bobs. We rang this touch in a most remarkable way, simply splendid striking. I should like to hear this ringing on your fine bells. What a treat it would be to again visit Youlgreave, where is the best peal of eight that I have ever heard: Of course I do not know whether this wish of mine could be realised, but, if it could, a very great treat would it be. I hope you and all with you are well, with kind regards, Yours very truly,

\section*{(Signed) LEONARD PROCTOR.}

Our good friend Canon Wigram came over here lately, he rang with us 1,260 changes of Superlative very well, their company at Hertford is completey broken up Baker has given up ringing, and when we were at Hertford on Easter Monday, he cut all of us and never spoke a single word to any one meeting him in the street.'
On the next page, opposite the photograph, is a printed 'broadsheet' giving details of the peal of Superlative Surprise Royal rung at Wakefield on March 27th, 1826, with the figures of method and names of ringers. At the head of this is written in ink 'Mr. Proctor-Did you ever see this?-J. R. Haworth. '-Yours sincerely,

\section*{ERNEST MORRIS.}

St. Margaret's, Leicester.

\section*{INSTRUCTION-BY MANUAL OR COURSE}

Dear Sir,-Every ringer with the future of the Exercise at heart will heartily endorse Mr. York-Bramble's plea for some practical step to ensure a regular supply of first-class instructors who will turn out first-class ringers unlikely to abandon their ringing colleagues and their church, either when ringing in their tower is at a low ebb and their presence would be an invaluable asset, or when some new and ephemeral interest steals their affections.
There are extant several excellent text books for the young ringer or would-be instructor, and I doubt whether yet another ringing manual (as A Y.-B. suggests) would contribute much to a solution of this ever-present problem. Bellringing, like so many other hobbies, could never be narrowed down to one stereotyped system. The methods controversy which recently raged in this journal is indicative of the unwillingness of ringers generally to be bound by any set of rules, and I am certain they could never be persuaded to recruit and teach beginners according to some Central Council official formula or system-nor would it be desirable in a voluntary society.

The author's concluding sentence is, to my mind, the only useful suggestion, viz., 'What about refresher courses for instructors?

Whether one's hobby be art, sport, natural bistory, bee-keeping, archæology, the youth services, needlework, music or one of numerous

Other activities, there are opportunities every year for one-day conferences, week-ends, holiday courses, etc., when the enthusiasts can meet to study further their leisure pastimes, and pool their ideas and experiences for the cammon good.

Now this is where the Central Council could do something really practical and worthwhile. Instead of only meeting at great expense once every year to waste a whole day in talk, would it not be more fruitful to hold a series of oneday or week-end courses in various centres throughout the country for keen ringers, with special priority to tower captains?

No doubt the pessimists will raise their usual objections, these negative contributions can be ignored. Qualified lecturers are not lacking. Travelling to-day is no obstacle, nor is the provision, of suitable centres, provided early enough application is made; and if Guilds and Associations really are interested in their own future and genuinely intend to implement their rule to support the Central Council, they would assist financially those of their members whom they recommend as suitable candidates and who are prepared to attend such a course.
I have long advocated the holding of ringing courses and believe in their practicability and desirability. It will not be easy to get a formal motion on these lines tabled for this year's Central Council meeting, but I should like to see this idea (perhaps in 'Other Business') given consideration. I am sure local education authorities (under their Further Education schemes) would lend their support to the encouragement of this truly British art, and perhaps the Church would, too, being the chief beneficiary.-Yours faithfully,
W. BIRMINGHAM.

Slough, Bucks.

\section*{A RINGER AND HIS OBLIGATIONS'}

Dear Sir,-May I join Mr. Long in his appreciation of Mr. Birmingham's article on A Ringer and his Obligations.' I would like to see this article framed and hung in every tower throughout the country.
In passing, I note that a composition rung at Burwash on March 12th, and at Hailsham on March 19th, was described as 'Lambert's Variation of Pritchard's.' Is not the person who sent in the details of these peals being a little presumptuous in supposing that this description of the composition will convey anything to the ringing fraternity at large. I, for one, would like to see the figures. - Yours sincerely,
R. O. FRY.

Bath.

\section*{A LEARNER'S LAMENT}

Dear Sir,-Your leading article of March 18th prompts me to make a suggestion. I have not been ringing for long, but have moved round the country and had to do my practising in a variety of towers. While a few experienced ringers are good tutors and spend much of their ringing time helping others, the many show a reluctance to stand beside and help another. They seem to prefer to ring or to sit out.
The confidence instilled by someone standing beside another must be known to all. Why is there a reluctance to do so? If only more of it were done, learners would get much more practice, achieve more quicker, and the older hands would subsequently benefit, too, not to mention the Exercise at large. Most people thoroughly familiar with a method could stand by others rather than always be ringing that method themselves. What better satisfaction than seeing another succeed? And anyway there's nothing like teaching someone else for making one learn oneself!--Yours truly,

SEMI-ABLE.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR}

\author{
By H. CHANT
Rather dubiously we turn to our second substitution, which is \(\mathbf{C}\) in the 9 th course. (The fact that the 2 nd and 3 rd are transposed in the tabulation obviously makes no difference.)
\begin{array}{ccccccc}
34256 & \text { B } & \text { M } & \text { H } & \text { W } & \text { M } & \text { H } \\
\hline 23564 & & - & - & 34256 & & \\
\hline
\end{array}

2-3 here are displaced from 'Before' to ' Middle,' but on looking through the courses used in our extension we find that none have the 3rd in 4ths place and the 2nd in 6ths. Our substitution has therefore achieved the purpose of displacing the 4 th- 5 th and 6 th while the \(2 n d\) and 3rd were temporarily displaced. (Great stuff this!)

Here, then, is the 'composition' in full :-

5 times repeated, S.S. half-way and end.
Extension (ii.) and (iii.) prove to be far more adaptable to this kind of treatment than extension (i.), so let us have them written out in full with their full complement of calls placed in brackets. Extension (iii.) can be seen to have the same callings as extension (ii.) starting at the 6th course, although it manages to keep the 2 nd out of 5 ths.

Owing to the introduction of Bob 'Before,' which (the student may remember, and the professor certainly does) lengthens the course by one lead, the composition will now run over 5.000 with the bracketed 'Homes" omitted. Choosing (iii.) as the more musical, and judiciously introducing singles to keep the 2nd out of 5ths, this has already been done and appears as peal 21 in the C.C. Collection.
If the extra insertions are omitted from courses 5 or 4 the peal is further reduced \((5,088)\), and these appear as peals 19 and 20 in the 'Collection.' Omissions of extras from courses other than 4 or 5 causes the bells to run round at the 7 th course end.
Peals No. 36,37 and 38 show the result of altering a single course. As there are 5 possible substitutions in our simple extension it should be clear that two are not published in the Collection: but there are many subsidiary variations depending whether you choose (ii.) or (iii.) above and which course you decide to alter.

All this sounds rather technical, dear student, and I have no doubt that if you started from scratch you will now be 'wallowing' somewhat. If it so happens that you have not got a copy of the 'Central Council Collection' you will now be hopelessly at sea. (Write for one to-morrow.)
If he cares to, the student may take other extensions as shown below, and try altering them by substitution. He will find that it is only necessary to place the fixed bells by the side of the appropriate course, showing the displacement caused by the substitution. (Compare tables A, B, C and D.)

In this case it is possible to see at a glance that the substitution in the 7ths course is false with the 4 th , but that either of the other three could be used.
It would also be possible to use more than one substitution in many cases, but if these merely extend the peal without increasing its value they are better left alone.
(Well spoken, sir!)
At this point I was going to insert a peal of my own with a more modern application and which has, literally, scores of variations, but being a modest sort of chap who disdains blowing his own trumpet, beyond saying that it is unsurpassed in neatness and elegance I have refrained from doing so.

Now let us turn to another useful device. Compare the two following touches:-

If we examine \(A(2)\) we shall see that every second course is the same as that in our block of \(3^{\text {'Homes }}\)-A (1)-and that there has been inserted between each H the following wellknown round block. (Given here with figure proof.)
\begin{array}{ccccccc}
23456 & \text { W } & \text { B } & \text { M } & \text { W } & \text { M } & \text { H } \\
\hline 35264 & & - & & 23456 & 35264 & 35264 \\
23456 & - & & - & 35364 & & \\
\hline
\end{array}

Notice that the Bob \(M\) in the second course returns us to our original course ( 23456 ) and that the only course not shown on our course ends (part of which-from W to M-has been used) is 63254 with the 6th in 2nds.
Now look at the following:-

In B the same round block B W and \(M\) is sandwiched between \(W\) and \(H\), and in \(C\) between two Wrongs. A moment's thought will show us that this device could be used on any W and \(H\) extension (i.e., with 6th in 6ths), and thereby give us in an 11 -course extension the 6th alternately each way in \(5-6,22\) courses in all. If this is doubled by a single we shall have a peal of 5,280 changes.
Here is an example:-
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|}
\hline 23456 & W & B & M \\
\hline \[
23564
\] & - & - & - \\
\hline 5346 ? & & - & \\
\hline 24536 & 二 & - & \\
\hline 53246 & - & & - \\
\hline \[
34562
\] & - & - & \\
\hline 54263 & & - & \\
\hline 32546 & - & - & - \\
\hline 32465 & & - & - \\
\hline 43265 & - & - & \\
\hline 52436 & - & &  \\
\hline \[
\begin{aligned}
& 52364 \\
& 35426
\end{aligned}
\] & - & & - \\
\hline 35264 & - & - & \\
\hline 43256 & & & - \\
\hline 34256 & & - & \\
\hline 45362 & & - & \\
\hline & & eate & \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

5,280 changes with the 6th alternately each way throughout. Omit bracketed Bobs in 2nd half reduces to 5,024 .
There are many variations depending on the original extension chosen, but as the peal is now long enough to withstand the omission of one insertion we can omit one accordingly.
Peals No. 140 and 141 show us two of the many variations with one insertion omitted. Notice that in both cases it is the first one. This is, of course, to ensure that the peal lives up to the requirements stated in the footnote, i.e., the 6th alternately each way in 5-6 throughout.

Perhaps the student would like to try his hand at a few variations.

\section*{OBITUARY}

MR. W. J. MEERS
Mr. William J. Meers, the Ringing Master at Erdington Parish Church, Birmingham, died on March 20th at the age of 79 years.

He had been a member of the local band since 1890 and Ringing Master for many years. Although he rang in a great number of peals his main interest was in scrvice ringing. He was, in fact, ringing for evening service on the Sunday before his death, such was his loyalty to his church.

The funeral took place on Thursday, March 24th. During the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung half-muffled by the following band: Sonia Llewellyn 1, Wendy Foulger 2, Joan Bradley 3, William J. V. Conduct (conductor) 4, Leonard W. Conduct 5, Alec Braggington 6, Harold Jenkins 7, William T. Shelton 8 (7, 6, 8 covering).

The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

\section*{OLD TOM}

0LD Tom rang the 'ting-tang' bell at his village church for years and was also organ blower. His career and the incidents connected with his 'blowing' is too long a story to be related here, but, in any case, Tom ' did not hold ' with any 'new-fangled' ideas, and when the new electric blower was installed Tom lost his job.

Another climax came one day when Tom found eight new bells in the churchyard ready for hoisting into a tower which never even boasted a ting-tang, and we wondered what Tom would say about a nice new octave when they were installed. How would Tom approach his new duties as steeplekeeper and bell-ringer in the light of changed circumstances? He could manage the 'ting-tang' very well, but how about eight bells hung in a frame? Tom kept his thoughts to himself, saw us ring the bells on dedication day and watched them being chimed on Sunday afternoons, but when the first practice night came he unlocked the door and said he would be back for locking up.

Time went on and it reached the Vicar's ears that Tom was not taking lessons with the result that he was told in no uncertain words that duty must be done. He came to practice and duly ignored one or two quiet ' digs' about starting, but would not take part. After locking up he asked the instructor to give him some lessons 'on his own' with a 'slashed ' bell, so it was arranged for a bell to be lashed on a given evening. The instructor pulled the bell up and took Tom above to show him the various points that should be borne in mind, but Tom, after seeing a bell mouth upward for the first time, announced that he was 'flabbergasted' and would have nothing to do with it. The instructor returned to the ringing chamber rather sadly, for he clearly saw that Tom would not become a ringer in the English style, but he still had hopes that he might become a good chimer, yet here again his pupil failed and did not like the 'new-fangled thing ' at all. The only course left was to make Tom a 'toller' and let him do his bit five minutes before service, a task which he managed fairly well providing the swing of the bell was not too high.

One evening the instructor heard a bell sounding forth from the tower prior to a special evening service and he concluded it was Tom managing by himself, so he hastened to see how he was progressing. Mounting the steps to the ringing chamber, he was surprised to find that Tom was missing yet the bell was sounding. Somewhat mystified, he ascended to the intermediate chamber, but Tom was not there, and after a further ascent to the top of the bellframe he perceived Tom in the pit of one of the bells operating his own idea of bell-ringing. In his hand was a hammer and he counted from one to four, then brought the hammer smartly down on the sound-bow instead of calling five. Needless to say, Tom was immediately stopped and told quite candidly that ringing by rope is by far the best method, that the ringing chamber is the right place for ringing and his idea a dangerous undertaking.

So Tom went back to the rope and, much to his delight, became quite confident, even though his performance was always short. He was not the type that could be expected to learn ringing with a young band, but though he did not become a ringer he had good qualities such as thoroughness and punctuality, together with a sense of pride in all he did, so that ringers could enjoy ringing under clean conditions in the ringing chamber. He never touched a rope in any tower except his own, for he was thoroughly local, but he was proud of the ringers who rang at his tower and delighted in welcoming visitors. Many would smile at such a character and often 'pull his leg,' but Tom never became ruffled, for he could 'take it' all in good part, and before knowing him very long many ringers found him a loyal, lovable personality.

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett & Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett & Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{SOMERSET CAPTAIN'S WEDDING}

The captain of Wellington (Somerset) Parish Church ringers, Mr. D. T. North, was married at Ashbrittle Church on Easter Monday to Miss E. A. Garde, of Ashbrittle, a member of the local band of ringers.

The Vicar (Preb. J. H. D. Grinter) officiated, assisted by the Rector of Ashbrittle (the Rev. M. P. Ralph Bowman).

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. R. Garde, was attended by five bridesmaids. The brother of the bridegroom, Mr. A. North, was best man.

After the service the following band rang a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles in honour of the event: Miss M. Alderman 1, S. N. Bristow 2, H. Bristow 3, Miss P. Norman 4, Miss F. Norman 5, J. Smith 6.

Later in the evening the ringers of Wellington Parish Church added their compliment by ringing a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples, the band being: G. Salter 1, W. Slocombe 2, Mrs. P. Moore 3, G. Walford (conductor) 4, N. Alderman 5, S. N. Bristow 6, D. Lentall 7, P. Rowland 8.

Another local Parish Church ringer, Mr. J. Hughes, was married to Miss V. Kerslake at All Saints', Rockwell Green, the same day, and the Parish Church ringers also associated this quarter as a compliment to them.

\section*{SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY}

The monthly meeting of the Society was held at Conisbrough on April 2nd. About 30 ringers representing ten towers and including the local company attended. A variety of methods including Double Norwich, Plain Bob, Cambridge and Stedman were rung, with rounds for the less advanced.
Tea was provided in the Church Hall, at very moderate cost, by the local company. The Association fixture cards, for the next two years, were distributed, and it was announced that the next meeting will be held at Bolsover on May 7th.

\section*{MORE BELERY GOSSIP}
E. G. C. writes questioning a paragraph that appeared in the 'Church of England Newspaper' that the ten bells hanging in the belfry of the disused Christ Church, Weymouth, have been removed and are to be placed in the tower of St. Andrew's, Lincoln. He asks has there ever been a ring of bells at Weymouth.
In conjunction with the quarterly meeting of the Surrey Association (Southern District) at Redhill to-morrow, a short talk, followed by questions, is to be given by the Ringing Master (Mr. A. Pat Cannon) on 'How to learn methods. This is to help those who can already handle a bell and ring rounds but are finding difficulty in tackling change ringing. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.
A good example of Easter Day ringing comes from Branston, Lincs. A 720 Cambridge Surprise was rung for early Communion, 720 Norwich Surprise for Matins and 720 Single Oxford for Evensong. The band afterwards rounded oft the day by ringing a quarter peal in the following methods:-London Scholar's Pleasure, College Exercise, Cambridge and Bourne Surprise.
The time taken in the peal of Doubles at Renhold, Beds (see page 213) should read 2 hrs. 39 mins. 40 secs. and not 2 hrs. 45 mins. Despite the fact that the bells have not been 'pealed' for 35 years they are fairly ringable, but very 'lumpy.' The tuning and scale of the notes of the bells has to be heard to be believed, writes our correspondent. They are the original bells, being hung in a frame with a carved-in date of 1657 . The peal was rung by present members of the Bedford and Bedford Modern Schools (average age \(16 \frac{1}{2}\) years).

Local ringers think there was a jinx on the bells of St. John-the-Baptist's, Cardiff, as far as peals of Major are concerned. It is 1912 since the last peal of Major was rung despite numerous attempts. In the successful performance on Easter Monday all the ringers had their hearts in their mouths as the tenor rope began to unstrand just below the sally. Tersely they rang on with strands of hemp floating in the air until finally the rope snapped -one complete whole pull just after 'That is all." The jinx was beaten, tut only just.

Representatives of five five-bell towers took part in a peal of Plain Bob Major at Hazelbech, Northants, on Easter Monday.

Congratulations to Mr. Peter Crook, the wellknown Bolton ringer, on completing 50 years as a ringer. He took part in the congratulatory peal on Easter Monday at Holy Trinity, Bolton.
The peal at Hemingbrough, Yorks, on Good Friday was rung at the express wish of the Vicar (the Rev. A. M. Amcotts). The bells were rung half-muffled.
Who is the oldest tower-keeper in the country? Bathford, Somerset, have Mr. F. W. Cannings, who has just celebrated his 90 th birthday. A congratulatory quarter was rung on March 27th.

Alderman Paddon Smith had a special interest in the dedication of the recast eight at Handsworth on April 2nd, as it was on February 6th, 1897, that he rang his first peal on the treble at this church-Grandsire Triples. It was Holt's Original, called by Samuel Reeves. The band consisted of A. Paddon Smith 1, Thomas Verry 2, Samucl Reeves 3, Thomas Horton 4, William H. Godden 5, Reuben Hall 6, William Verry 7, Sidney P. Smith tenor. The new bell is the alderman's gift.

The peal at North Stoneham, recorded this week, is believed to be the first by well over 25 years, and cer-

\section*{GOSSTP} a local band for well over 25 years, and certainly since the death of Mr. George have been trained by Mr. Reginald Reed, who has worked hard to re-form the band since the last war. It was the 249th peal on the bells, the conductor's 150 th and his 49th in the tower.

Mr. J. Nelhams who has been captain of SS, Peter and Paul's, Harlington, for 12 years has resigned on account of leaving the village. His successor is Mr. L. Grice. These bells were rung for four services on Easter Day.

An amazing coincidence has occurred to two members of the Wiversfield, Sussex, band. \(\mathrm{O}_{n}\) March 20th a quarter peal was rung for the birth of a son to Mrs. Hancock, and on March 27th a quarter to the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Freda Hammond. Both mothers are members of the local band.

Some very valuable work was done at St. Peter's Church, Ash, on April 3rd, when the Farnham District held a combined practice for Surprise methods. All who attended enjoyed themselves and hopes were expressed tbat another practice of a similar character will be held in the near future.

In reply to Mr. George Gilbert's note re Miss Valerie Crouch's handbell peal, Mr. D. T. Matkin writes: 'My apologies to George Gilbert about the footnote to handbell peal in which Valerie Crouch rang 5-6. I was, however, informed by the lady concerned that it was her first attempt and even now she says she cannot remember ringing the peal at Hitcham; She does, however, not doubt she did ring one.;

MEARS & STAINBANK,
BISHOPSGATE 2599.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN MIDDLESEX}

MIDDLESEX suffered more than any other county in the destruction of bells during the last war. Twelve rings were lost-nearly onethird of the total over the whole country. These included three 12's (St. Bride's, Fleet Street, St. Giles', Cripplegate, and Bow); one 10 (St. Clement Danes'); seven 8 's and one 6. Of course, this is largely explained by the fact that the City of London is in this county and actually 10 of the above 12 towers are in the City. Thus ringing in Middlesex will mean talking about some of the towers in London whose names are household words from the old nursery rhyme, apart from many of them being the places where so many of the earliest peals ever rung were recorded. In several, we shall find that peals have not been rung for a long time, although they were popular in the past and, of course, with the movement of population away from the centre of the City, it means that fewer peals are rung these days in its many towers than 50 years ago, although there are one or two exceptions. Another point to remember here (and more so than in any other county, I expect) is that peal totals do not nearly represent all the peals rung at a particular tower since nearly all have been heard of for more than 200 years now. But now for tome facts. -
Willesden (8) is easily the tower with the most peals in the county- 312 is its total. This would appear to be its real total, too, for it was a 6-bell tower at the beginning of the period under review, and the first peal recorded on August 1st, 1892, is claimed as the first on the bells. Only 12 had been rung by 1914, but after the war (the bells had then been augmented) no less than 172 came before 1940, and the rate has been even higher since the second war ended, for there have been 128 in the last ten years. Actually, only ten other towers in the country have passed the 300 mark in the past 75 years, so it can be seen how high in the list is Willesden.

\section*{ST. BOTOLPH'S}

The second tower is far behind this total. It is St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate (8) with 202. The heyday here was between the wars when 178 peals were rung, including 40 in 1934 (after which there was a rather sudden drop to four or five a year). Peals were rung here before 1881, but 21 came from then to 1914 . Only nine were rung from 1918 to 1925, but then came the sudden onslaught which produced 149 in the next ten years! Since the war there have only been three peals.
The third tower on the list has been one of the 'steadiest' in the county. It is Edmonton 18)- 99 peals came in the 30 -odd years from 1882 to 1914 ; there were 43 between the wars and there have been 51 since, making a total of 193. On the other hand, the next tower, Southgate (10), has only been heard twice in the last 25 years. Before the 1914 war it was one of the most popular 8 -bell towers in the county and 169 peals were rung out of its total of 189 from 1881 to 1913. Two more were rung just after the war before augmentation, but there have only been 18 since then- 16 from 1920 to 1930 and odd ones in 1939 and 1950. Isleworth ( \(10-175\) peals) was also an 8 -bell tower at the beginning of the period and the first peal recorded there was in 1889 (but there first peal recorded there was in 1889 (but there We re previous ones to this) consistent since then, for 65 peals came from 1889 to 1914, and 28 from 1917 to 1928 . When the bells were augmented, 36 peals were rung from 1931 to 1939 , and there have been 46 since 1945. Fulham (10-171 peals) had its best time early on, for no less than 145 of its total were rung between 1882 and 1913; 18 more came from 1919 to 1933, after which there was silence until 1945 with eight peals since then.

Another of the many 10 -bell towers, now unhappily destroyed, comes next-St. Clement Danes' Its 162 peals were rung consistently from 1881 to 1939 with the usual gap for the war at an average of about three a year. Only in 1891, 1933 and 1938 did it fail to register a peal, and not many towers can say that with a total as small as this (compared with some, that is). Three other towers have passed the 100 mark - Westminster, St. Margaret's (10), Stepncy (10) and St. Giles-in-the-Fields (8). One hundred and thirty-seven peals have come from the first, mostly in the early part of the period (113 to 1913-nine since 1945); 125 from the second ( 74 before 1914 and seven since 1944), and 114 from St. Giles' (a similar history again-64 pre-1914 and 12 post second war).

\section*{ONE OFF THE CENTURY}

Hillingdon, St. Andrew's (8) will also reach the century with its next peal. Fifty-seven were tung from 1885 to 1914, 35 between the wars ( 31 from 1929 to 1939) and seven from 1945 to 1950. There are three others in the 90 's. They are St. Magnus Martyr ( 10 ) - 43 from 1895 to 1906 and 54 from 1921 to 1940 ; none since the war, total 97 ; Acton (8)-total' 96 ( 45 pre-1914 war, 24 since 1944, but none last year); and Bethnal Green (8)-total 94 ( 58 from 1881 to 1898, 26 from 1903 to 1914 and ten from 1920 to 1939, with again none since the last war).

\section*{THE TWELVE-BELL TOWERS}

None of the seven 12 -bell towers has yet been mentioned for their totals are not very high. All the remaining ones have been heard since the war especially St. Martin's-in-theFields, where 14 of its total of 44 have come since 1945 -the average is less than one a year over the remainder of the period. Shoreditch has the most with 68 peals, 50 of them between the wars and two (in 1953) since. Cornhill's 63 is spread fairly evenly over the years, but there have been only three since the war. in the years 1950 to 1954. Bow had just reached the 50 mark in the time when it was destroyed - 39 of these came betwcen 1919 and 1939.

St. Giles', Cripplegate, had 30 peals from 1886 to 1913, and the remaining six of its total of 36 between 1922 and 1939 before its destruction. Peals have been few at St. Paul's Cathedral, as most people know. Only 16 have heen rung in the 75 years concerned-seven from 1881 to 1909. seven from 1918 to 1938 , and two in 1948 and 1953. Even this beats the last of the 12 -bell towers--St. Bride's, Fleet Street, where the bells had been silent for nearly 40 years when it was blitzed. The 13 peals there came between 1882 and 1903.
Although seven 10 -bell towers have already been mentioned, there are still nine more in the county, for Middlesex has more of these towers than any other county. Six of the nine have not had peals rung on them for many years. St. Barnabas', Pimlico, holds the record-the last of its six peals was rung in 1902, while Hampstead isn't much better, for all its 20 peals came from 1882 to 1905 . Chelsea has a 30 years' silence. Thirty-two of the 37 peass were rung hefore 1914 and there were five in 1920 to 1922. St. Sepulchre's, Holborn, has the most peals of the nine, but has not been heard for more than 20 years. Forty-eight of the 57 peals are pre-1914, and there were nine after the war up to 1933. Kensington, St. Mary Abbot's, has 35 peals- -26 from 1882 to 1914, and nine from 1922 to 1937.

The Imperial Institute, Kensington, has fewest peals of all-four. Three were rung soon after the bells were installed betweer 1902 and 1904 and the only other one was rung in 1924. Of the three rings which have been heard since 1945, Hillingdon has the most-38. These are spread evenly over the years- 17 from 1892 to 1916, 14 from 1918 to 1934, and seven from 1949 to 1955. Poplar has 34 , mostly before 1914 (24), but there have been three from 1946 to 1951. The final 10 is now at All Hallows', Twickenham. These bells have had an interesting history for they have been moved twice. Seventy-five years ago they were at the Church of St. Dionis, Fenchurch Street (no peals in the period there), then they were moved to All Hallows', Lombard Street, where four peals were rung in 1897 (two), 1928 and 1930. Since being placed at Twickenham, five years ago, four more peals have been rung.

\section*{LONG SILENCES}

The most prominent 8 -bcll towers have already been mentioned. St. Stephen's, Westminster, has the most peals of the remaining towers, but is not heard of much these days.
Eighty-four of its 89 peals were rung from 1881 Eighty-four of its 89 peals were rung from 1881 but two since. Christ Church. Poplar, has 77 half came from 1907 to 1914, and 26 from 1919 to 1925 , but there was a 20 -year silence then until 16 peals were rung from 1945 to 1949 (none since). Fifty-three of Tottenham's 69 were rung before 1906 and the tower has only been heard occasionally since, but there have been three since the war, Several towers have long silences. St. Botolph's, Aldgate, and St. Dunstan's-in-the-West have not been heard at all in the period, although there were early peals at both. St. Lawrence Jewry's only peal was in 1887, and a similar lone peal at St. Gabriel's, Pimlico, was in 1902. Shadwell had 31 from 1892 to 1900 and none since. Paddington's three were in 1903, 1905 and 1913. The peal at Harrow last year was the first since 1899. Others have silences of more than 25 years.

As for 6-bell towers, there are not a large number of them, and 6-bell ringing has never been very popular in the county. Cranford has the most- 30 , and all since the last war. Stanwell has 22 , all but the first since the war, and including peals in record numbers of Doubles methods recently. Stoke Newington's only peal was in 1891. South Mymms has not been heard this century either. No peals have been recorded at West Drayton: Hayes; St. Andrew's Undershaft: St. Catherine's Cree; St. Luke's, Nutford Place; and St. Vedast's, Foster Lane (now destroyed). Two of the three 5-bell towers in the county have had a single peal-St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield, in 1923, and Shepperton in 1947. The remaining one is at Bethnal Green (St. Thomas'), which still has to be conquered.
Peal totals include all published to April 8th, 1955.

\section*{ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS}

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office. Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street. Strand, W.C. 2. Particuuars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church Insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance.

Seventh. - In thankfulness to Almighty God this bell was recast through the generosity of Alderman Percy W. Cox, J.P. In loving memory of his parents, Harry Cox and Fanny Elizabeth Cox.
Tenor.- 'In thankfulness to Almighty God this tenor bell was recast by means of a gift from Sir Ernest R. Canning, D.L., J.P., Lord Mayor of Birmingham, 1937-38. In memory of his mother.'

\section*{ESSEX ASSOCIATION}

Visit to North Ockendon After 27 Years
On Saturday, April 2nd, the South Western District held a quarterly mecting at St. Mary Magdalene's. North Ockendon, for the first time since 1928. About 40 ringers were present, and for many this was their first pull on this rather tricky, anti-clockwise six.

After service, conducted by the new Rector (the Rev. Mr. Hall), the company adjourned for tea followed by a business mceting in the School Roon. Mr. Heazell. Master of the Essex Association, and Mrs. Heazell and 'Rook' were welcome visitors. Silent tribute was paid to the memory of Mr. H. H. Warne, a non-ringing member from Dagenham, and Mr. Scase. senior, ringing member from Loughton.

After the election of six new ringing memrers, the mecting went on to discuss the possible revision of the boundaries of the SouthWestern District, which many agreed was of an unwieldy size. Mr. Wilmington drew attention to the fact that the date of the May meeting at Chigwell was now May 14th and not May 7th, as printed on the 'fixture' cards, and appealed for all present to make an effort to get to Chigwell, as a mecting had not been held there for many years.
Mr. Heazell called attention to the special ringing in connection with the Cathedral Festival at Chclmsford. This is taking place from Junc 4th to 11 th, and the tower will be open for ringing from 6.15 p.m. until 7.15 p.m. on every night during that week except Tuesday and Thursday. On Tuesday there is a peal attempt scheduled, and good wishes for success were extended to the band, as peals at Chelmsford Cathedra! (especially Maximus) are something of a rarity.
The Master also reminded the meeting of a ringing week-end to be held at Clarence House, Thaxted (under the auspices of the Essex Education Committee) on June 10th-12th. The first venture of this kind, last year, had been well attended and proved very popular, and Mr. Heazell asked for early bookings as the capacity of Clarence House was limited.
The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Rector and organist, and also to Mrs. Woodgate and her helpers for an enjoyable tea. Ringing was continucd until eight o'clock, and ranged from London Surprise to rounds and call changes.

\section*{THE LADIES' GUILD Midland District}

Despite the downpour of rain and the floods, a successful meeting of the Midland District was held at Burton-on-Trent on March 26th, when ringing on the ten bells of St. Paul's was enjoyed during the afternoon and evening.
A short service was conducted by the Vicar, who said that as it was Passiontide, he would not speak about bells but that he would speak on the Passion of our Lord, taking as his text, 'Behold the Man.' The service concluded with the hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross.'

An excellent tea was served to approximately 35 ringers and friends by the local ladies. The vice-president. Miss Thompson, expressed thanks to all concerned, especially to Mr. B. G. Key, for making the local arrangements.

At the business meeting four new members were elected. The vice-president asked the secretary to write to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, now living in the Norwich area, sending the members' best wishes and congratulations to them on the birth of their son, Stephen Thomas.
It is hoped to hold the next meeting jointly with the West Midland District at Tamworth on June 4th.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD
A quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at Aston Parish Church on March 26th. The Master (Mr. Albert Walker) referred to the passing of William J. Mcers, of Erdington Parish Church, and the members stood in silence in respect to his memory.

The following were made full ringing mem-bers:-Miss Shirley B. Jones, Mr. Terry Hayward and Mr. Richard Cann, all of Solihull. The tower elections of the following life mcm bers were duly ratified:-Mr. David A. Carpenter, of Coventry, Miss Gwen 1. Rusby, of Grimsby, and Mr. Howard Scott, of Doncaster.

Notice of motion having been given at the previous meeting of a proposed redrafting of the rules, Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd formally proposed that the new rules be adopted. After discussion it was decided by a majority that any alteration of the rules should be made at the annual meeting, and the matter was therefore postponed until January.
For the place of the next meeting it was unanimously decided to accept an invitation kindly extended by the Tanworth-in-Arden ringers to visit their village on July 2nd.
The chairman referred to the very fine oil painting of the late Joshua Short which has been presented to the Guild by Mr. Butcher, of Bromsgrove, who is a great-great-greatgrandson of Joshua Short. Joshua Short was an Aston ringer who helped to make ringing history by taking part in several long lengths on Aston bells, and it is very appropriate that his portrait hangs side by side with that of Henry Johnson in Ashton Parish Church belfry.
Mr. Walker informed the meeting that the \(£ 100,000\) appeal for the restoration of St. Martin's Church was within \(£ 500\) of its completion. When this object is achicved the members will have the use of the new flat sixth bell, which will be found very useful for the Tuesday practices.

\section*{BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

The Bedford District met at the Abbey Church of SS. Mary and Helena, Elstow, on April 2nd. Ringing before tea was mainly for beginners, who received plenty of help and advice, and many achieved great things. The proceedings before tea were rounded off with an excellent course of Woodbine. Tea, served by the local band, was taken in the Church Hall.
At the business meeting the Vicar (the Rev. Mr . Hartley) was elected an honorary member, with Mr. L. A. Clare, of Pavenham, as a performing member. The usual round of thanks for the bells and tea, etc., were voiced by Mr. J. B. Long.

After lea many members had the interesting and unique experience of ringing the historic fifth bell-the same one that John Bunyan rang before his conversion. It has not been recast. Ringing was of a good quality, including touches of Cambridge and London.

One touch of Cambridge was dogged by two ropes breaking successively! The bells were well lowered in Queens-for a change- at 8.30.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL'S RULES}

Dear Sir,-On behalf of Mr. C. K. Lewis and myself, may I thank Mr. Alan Pink for his kind remarks about our efforts. (He may have noticed the slight error of identity in his letter.)

The decision to which he refers was incorporated in the Council's Rules when these were revised in 1950, and now forms part of Rule 3 (i), which reads as follows: -

Any Society, Association or Guild of Church Bell Ringers . . . . numbering not fewer than seventy-five members, shall upon application and subject to election by a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting be affiliated to the Council and shall subscribe to an undertaking loyally to abide by the Rules and Decisions of the Council.'
The original resolution was passed in 1930, and asked affliated Societies to incorporate in their rules:-
' That this Society be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, and loyally abide by the Rules and Decisions thereof.'
Wa could, perhaps, have republished the Rules in our review, but they will of course be included in the Handbook, and they may be found in 'The Ringing World' of June 9th, 1950.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{E. A. BARNETT, \\ Hon. Secretary,}

Central Council of Church Bell Ringers.

\section*{HOLT'S ORIGINAL}

Dear Sir,-It is terrible to note that very few ringers call this peal at present. Are budding conductors unable to memorise it or is it because there are other simple peals of Grandsire Triples?

I remember, 60 years ago, the funny remarks being made of Taylor's Bob and 'Swindle, ipeal. Holt's Original was the first peal I called at St. Margaret's, Barking, on February 5th, 1898, with Faulkner, Ferris, etc. I have rung it 26 times on tower bells and five on handbells, conducting 23 and one 'silent ' at St. John's, Waterloo Road, London, on June 4th, 1898.-Yours truly,
G. E. SYMONDS.

\section*{MANUAL}

Dear Sir ,-The need is urgent and the best ideas should be published in "The Ringing World ' as they are received. The Manual would obviously take some time to produce.
Musical appreciation classes are common to-day, and very successful. I would suggest that our first and most important chapter should be on the musical appreciation of church bells. Give details of how to listen, what to listen for, and what to look for in selecting touches or new methods to ring. Try to shift the emphasis from intricate methods and endurance tests on to producing good, well-struck music. Continually refer to this chapter throughout the book, linking it with every aspect of ringing.

Classes for instructors would be very helpful and welcome.-Yours, etc.,

\section*{E. FOSBERRY.}

\section*{Horsham.}

Dear Sir,-Authoritative advice and instruction in printed form is a much-needed want. A standard text book of this description would make for uniformity throughout the ringing world. Many would-be ringers who are now lost would stay the course with more comprehensive instruction. We are all in favour and await the Manual with impatience.
St. Mary Cray.

\section*{MR. BLAGROVE ANSWERS CRITICS}

Dear Sir,-Regarding Mr. Martin's letter, I did not say that double changes in Major are bad. I said' IF double changes .. . .' I do not agree that they are bad in Triples or Major. To ban a thing because it is unnecessary is just silly. Four-blow singles in Grandsire, four-blow bobs in Kent, non-c.p.s. Treble Bob and many other things are unnecessary, but perhaps he would also ban these. I challenge his remark, 'We tolerate Cambridge.' One person condemns Cambridge in his book on Surprise. So what? Cambridge Major is a method enjoyed by learner and expert alike.

With reference to M. R. P., Plain Bob on odd numbers is a most excelient method for teaching beginners, far better than Grandsire or Stedman, and if a method is useful for teaching beginners, then that is a necessary and sufficient reason for retaining it. Grandsire Triples is not the extension of Plain Bob Minor, Plain Bob Triples and Grandsire Triples are both extensions, but whereas Plain Bob Triples leads on to Plain Bob Major, Grandsire Triples leads on to a triple-hunt Major method, Grandsire Major (No. 2 version), which is, incidentally, regular.

He also says that you stagnate if you don't progress. Perhaps he could tell us how those who have rung 105 Minor methods con progress (in the field of Minor)? As Mr. H. Chant has so excellently pointed out, the only way in which they can progress is to release the Plain Bob lead-end rule. It is not illogical to say that if Plain Bob is the foundation of all our methods, we should keep its lead heads. You might just as well say "Plain Bob is a plain method with only right places, therefore we will onlyr ing plain methods with right places.'

As Mr. Bond says, the whole thing is a matter of principle. Whereas the Central Council will accept a rough peal rung at a secular tower than for no other purpose than to enable someone to ring more than 40 peals in a year, it would reject a peal of Plain Bob Triples rung by a Sunday service band to the glory of God and to commemorate, say, the Coronation of H.M. the Queen. Have we got a Central Council of Church Bell Ringers or a Central Council for the Amassment of Peals.

Finally, with regard to Mr. Frith connecting the banning of Doubles variations with the silencing of cats, I must point out that the bestloved cats are those of uncertain parentage. Yours sincerely,
F. T. BLAGROVE.

\section*{A MERCHANT NAVY RINGER GETS PRACTICE AT CAPE TOWN}

Dear Sir,-My occupation in the Merchant Navy brings me to Cape Town, South Africa, regularly every two months. My ringing activities are somewhat limited owing to the profession, but due to the kindness and hospitality of the band at St. Mary's, Woodstock, I am able to take part in the ringing on their practice evening whilst the ship is in port.
My thanks go especially to Mr. Woods, the captain, also to Mr. A. V. Sheppard, who always ensures that I enjoy the greatest of pleasure and amusement during my stay in Cape Town.
I feel sure that any wandering Merchant Navy ringer will receive a great welcome by the band and be assured of some very happy ringing on a good ring of eight. Any such person should apply to Mr. A. V. Sheppard, Box 1703, Cape Town, South Africa.-Yours sincerely, Southampton.
A. L. SPENCER.

\section*{OUR 'RINGING WOKLD'}

Dear Sir,-'F. S.'s' defence of a sixpenny 'Ringing World' is impressive were it a true picture. I have taken the 'Bell News' and later 'The Ringing World, without a break since 1907. I could hazard a guess that there is today a hard core of similar old subscribers without whom 'Our Paper' would have long ago been insolvent. Few if any of these older men partake of the increased wealth of the country enumerated by ' F. S.' although they are compelled to subscribe heavily to the wellbeing of their younger brethren.
My income to-day is but two-thirds of my 1937 retiring salary and as that two-thirds has since depreciated in value by 13 s . 4 d . in the \(£ 1\), each \(£ 1\) is now only worth 4 s . \(5 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}\). The price of three cigarettes is the outworn theme of parsons and politicians when cadging or cajoling, but when \(£ 1\) will only buy 4s. 51d worth of cigarettes one has to look carefully at each three cigarettes before giving them away! Besides one cannot cat cigarettes, neither will they keep out the rain and snow. (I am not pleading poverty, merely trying to create a true perspective.)
In my experience the not so young are the ones most regular and punctual for service ringing! They, not peal ringers, are the backbone of the Exercise. They do not ring many peals-often because the cost of travel is for them prohibitive. A sixpenny 'Ringing World' is to them a real sacrifice. To me, and no doubt to many similar, "Our Paper" is not really worth 6 d , although we continue to take it simply as a link with old friends. Our names seldom now appear in print; we are largely forgotten or have been thrown overboard; youth, even Christian youth, is so intolerant.

In this issue, April 1st, 291 names appear, occupying three and a half pages, as having rung peals. At 3d. each name, a voluntary contribution would produce \(£ 312 \mathrm{~s}\). 9 d.. The total received this week is 8 s . 6d. A further 315 names appear as having rung quarter peals, occupying one page. At 3d. each, this would produce \(£ 318 \mathrm{~s}\). 9 d . The total received is \(£ 29 \mathrm{~s}\).

It is quite obvious that our most prolific peal ringers for whom 'Our Paper' caters first and foremost and who are largely the younger folk who benefit most from the wealth of the country and can afford it, do not contribute their fair share. It is to them 'F.S.' should direct the moral, 'Pay for your sport-or pleasure, or leave it alone.' Can they not be made to pay?
W. BOTTRILL.
P.S.-Why hide behind initials -W. B.

\section*{THE REV. F. E. ROBINSON}

Dear Sir,-Glancing through my old records for a friend, I found that the late Rev. F. E. Robinson rang his peal at Cranleigh on January 8 th, 1910, just one week previous to his last at Hillingdon on the 15th. It brought back to memory our great surprise at his sudden death, as it was said at Cranleigh that the reverend gentleman looked good for years. He was buried on February 19th, 1910, not 1911 as stated in your April 1st issue.-Yours, etc.,
A. H. PULLING.

\section*{SEEN BEFORE}

Dear Sir,-The 1,280 of Plain Bob Major under the name of Raymond Overy (page 224) is one that was composed many years ago. do not know when it was first rung but i called it during the year 1909.-Yours sincerely,
W. SHEPHERD.

\section*{THE AMBLING RINGER}

Ye Attleborough ringers, come listen to me, Hear what I say now and I think you will agree About your new tenor I don't say a word,
But to make them complete you must have a new third

For she is short-winded, which is oft-times the case ;
I think a new one would be best in her place; She is near the half-tone, and tell the right tale, But she always will be a disgrace to your peal.

Then I went to Harling, where the bells hang across,
They said, 'Sir, you are a stranger, so mind you're not lost:
But I, on the second, thought there was no need
When they called for Plain Bob, I knew I must lead.
Then I went to Northwold, when the tenor was ' \(G\) ';
They all took their place and left her to me;
She weighed thirteen hundred by what I could feel,
And two or three times the rope missed the wheel.
Then I went to Mcthwold on the very same day,
The rain fast descending all the whole way;
When I got there I was wet to my skin,
And who should I meet with but great Harry King.

Then I went to Garboldisham-the weather being hot
Not a company of ringers was there to be got; They were all very busy being Saturday EveAll cobblers and tailors 1 firmly believe.
Then I went to Hopton-I will tell you no lies-
And there rang the treble to 'Cambridge Surprise,'
There was Joc Booty as plain as could be,
Besides other ringers that I never did sec.
Then I went to Blo Norton, and there rang on five
With some as good old ringers as any alive;
They were lovers of ringing as well as strong beer,
And to practise their science they went far and near.
Then I went to Lopham and happened of Tom In a cobbler's shop, close by his own home;
His eyes were covered all with his long hair, And his beard on his face made him look like a bear.
Then I went to Burgate and happened of BeanAll he knew about ringing he soon did explain ;
I ask'd him one question-his mouth for to stop;
How the cight bells should lay when the tittums come up?
Then I went to Tibenham, all on the road straight;
There's a grand peal of six, which ought to be eight:
And what an addition these two bells would be, For according to my car, the tenor is 'E.'
Then 1 went to Diss in the morning betimes, Saluted I was with the beautiful chimes;
At the sign of the Cherry Tree, there I did
And I sent for Old Harry to his blacksmith's shop.

Then I set off again that very same day.
Round by Brome Swan and so down to Eye; There's a grand peal of eight as I understand, But not ringers enow" to lend me a hand.

Then I went to Redenhall, they were all strangers to me,
But some very good ringers I judged them to be;
Therc's a length of cight thousand nailed up on a board
Of that intricate peal, called 'Oxford Treble Bob.'
Then I went to Bungay to hear the new peal, I always will say they do not tell the right tale, For when I heard them I said very soon, There is a deficiency in the half-tone.
Then I went to Norwich where the dons do dwell,
Some of the ringers I knew very well;
There was Harry, he railed against Thurston and Payne,
And swore he never would ring with them again.
Then I went to Forncett, being late in the night, When I got there, I found all was not right;
There's a good peal of five as I have heard tell, They were made into six by an old stolen bell.
Then I went to Buckenham, where they were all know,
So that I was not able to put in a blow;
There was young crafty Aldis, he was full of his lies,
For he talked of ringing 'London Surprise.'
Then I went to Harwich, one fine summer's day, Went ringing of handtells all the whole way; I never did meet with my master before,
Till I met with John Ringer on the sea shore.
Now to conclude and finish my song,
I have rambled about till it's time to go home;
I never went to Gislingham, where I ought to have gone,
To see the grand company fed with a tea-spoon. * Enough.

\section*{OUTINGS}

\section*{ST. MARY'S, TWYFORD, BERKS}

Twyford ringers, together with friends from several adjacent towers held their first annual outing on Easter Monday visiting Central and West Wilts.
After a delightful ride through Wcst Berkshire, Pewsey was reached ahead of schedule. The church was beautifully decorated and the Easter Garden was especially admired. The six bells were soon set going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor and rounds.
Devizes was the next objective. Unfortunately ringing at St. John's was interrupted for 20 minutes by a baptism, but this time was used to ring handbells on the flat roof of the Lady Chapel. St. James', Southbroom, bells were sampled before leaving Devizes.
The Vicar of Rowde, who is a ringer, welcomed the company to his tower. A pleasant half-hour was spent here, and then on to Seend, where the delightful situation of the church and the wonderful Easter decorations were admired by all. The ropes were in poor condition but the "go' was quite good.
The party arrived at Christ Church, Bradford-on-Avon, at the appointed hour, but one or two difficulties, mainly a loose clock hammer and a very 'temporary' stay delayed proceedings slightly. Tea was served in Holy Trinity Church House and was much appreciated.
The last tower of the day was Melksham, where, in spite of the long draught, some reasonably good ringing was enjoyed. Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major.

EASTER MONDAY IN SOLTH DEVON
A number of Devon Guild ringers, mainly drawn from Teignmouth, spent a very enjoyable day in the South Hams area on Easter Monday in perfect weather conditions.

The good-going six at East Allington was first visited, followed by a pleasant hour at Dodbrook. A picnic lunch followed, a spot by the roadside on a hill being chosen for this. where the party were able to get a good view of the scenery.
The six bells at South Pool were in good going order and the company marvelled at the very large number of primroses which had been gathered to decorate the church. From here the party moved on to East Portlemouth on one side of the Salcombe estuary, where the ringing was thoroughly enjoyed on what proved to be the best six for the day.
Tea, with real Devonshire cream, was served at a farmhouse at the charming village of East Prawle on the extreme south coast of Devon. From here a move was made for Chivelstone. another good six, this being the last tower for the day. All were new towers for most of the party, who expressed their thanks to the organiser for the excellent programme. Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles.

\section*{NORTHAMPTON DISTRICT}

On Easter Monday, in beautiful spring weather, some 28 ringers and friends from Bozeat, Roade and St. Sepulchre's, Northampton, much enjoyed an outing organised by Mr. G. F. Roome.

Ringing during the day took place at Whilton (6), Daventry (8), Staverton (6). Southam (8), Bishop's Itchington (5), Dunchurch (6), Rugby (5), Willoughby (6) and Braunston (6).
Methods rung included Plain Bob Major. Grandsire Triples, Cambridge, Kent, Oxford and Plain Bob Minor and a variety of Doubles methods.
Thanks are due to the incumbents for the use of their bells, and to tower captains and others who met the party.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR}

By H. CHANT

Finally, let us have a look at ano wangle, that comes in useful sometimes.
Examine the following extension:-
\begin{tabular}{llll}
23456 & \(W\) & \(H\) \\
\hline 42356 & & - \\
54326 & - & \\
32546 & - & - \\
43526 & - & \\
52436 & & - \\
45236 & & - \\
24536 & & - \\
53246 & - & - \\
25346 & & - \\
34256 & & - \\
23456 & & -
\end{tabular}

Now the only course-end missing in order to have the 6th the extent in 6 is 35426 .
If we examine the following touch of three courses we shall find that it contains this desirable course-end, and moreover, returns us into the plain course.
\begin{tabular}{cccccccc}
23456 & \(\mathbf{W}\) & \(\mathbf{B}\) & \(\mathbf{M}\) & \(\mathbf{H}\) & \(\mathbf{W}\) & \(\mathbf{M}\) & \(\mathbf{H}\) \\
52364 & - & - & & - & 52436 & & \\
35426 & - & & & & 23564 & 23564 & 52364 \\
23456 & - & & & & & 65324 & 35456 \\
2356 & 23456 & 354456
\end{tabular}

If we started our extension with this round block, falseness would occur as the Bob W brings us into the course 52436 , which occurs as the 6 th course of our original extension.
But we are undaunted. In the 3 course round block just given, the course 52436 is used from the \(W\) to the \(B\) positions, i.e., the 2nd, 3 rd and 4 th leads. There still remains the 1 st, 5th. 6th and 7th leads.
Is it possible to utilise these in order to avoid falseness. Puzzle no longer, dear student, it is ! Here is a round block which. for want of a better term, I call the 'reciprocal' of the above, becausc it removes the falseness created by it.
\begin{tabular}{lllll}
23456 & W & B & M & H \\
\hline 52364 & - & - & & - \\
35264 & & & & - \\
23456 & - & & - &
\end{tabular}

By inserting these into our original extension we get the following:-

24536
53246
25346
25346
32256
23456
If the reader (I'm fed up, like you, with the mord student), cares to write out the complete proof he will find it correct, but the professor and I can tell by comparing the written proofs above with each other and the course-ends of the extension.
By combining our "reciprocals " and the insertion \(\mathrm{B}, \mathrm{W}\) and M and then further exteading the 6th in Sth it is possible to get some inleresting peals.

Here is one:-
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|c|c|}
\hline 23456 & W & 124
\(B\) & M & H \\
\hline 52364 & - & - & & - \\
\hline 35426 & - & & - & \\
\hline 42356 & - & & & - \\
\hline 54326 & - & & & \\
\hline 32546 & - & & & - \\
\hline 43526 & - & & & \\
\hline 24365 & - & - & & - \\
\hline 34562 & & & - & \\
\hline 25463 & & & & - \\
\hline 42563
54263 & & & & - \\
\hline 32465 & & & - & - \\
\hline 43265 & & & & - \\
\hline 52436 & - & & - & - \\
\hline 35264 & - & - & & - \\
\hline 23564 & & & & - \\
\hline 45236 & - & & - & - \\
\hline 24536 & & & & - \\
\hline 53246 & \(=\) & & & = \\
\hline 25346 & & & & - \\
\hline 34256 & - & & & \\
\hline 32456 & & & & 5 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

6th extent right and always in 5-6. By adding 3 H at the 8th course we have the extent each way.
This peal, then, is built up from our previous touch. If the 3 bracketted extensions are removed it will be seen that the insertion is (as I have said) \(B, W\) and \(M\) with which we are already familiar. There appears to be little resemblance between this peal and our simple extension but scores of such peals may be built up in a similar manner.
Although I have given only one pair of "reciprocals there are others which the student may like to discover for himself.
As I finally 'wrap up ' I am aware that these random thoughts of mine are full of shortcomings. Certain things could have been said better-other, perhaps, better left unsaid. I am cognisant that I have done those things that I ought not to have done and left undone those things that I ought to have done. (The latter always makes me feel more uneasy than the former.)
But perhaps someone, somewhere, has learnt a little knack or trick, or perhaps some trifle is slightly less obscure : meanwhile the professor has been kept amused.

I know but little. but that little I know is always at anyone's disposal - so don't be afraid to ask-my Bach is worse than my Beethoven.

IN SOUTH NORFOLK
That the best way to reach almost inaccessible towers is to travel by car was proved on April 2nd, when some young Norfolk ringers visited South Norfolk. We called first at Banham, a six-bell tower. The second is by Newman, of Norwich, in 1741, and is inscribed:We trebles came by small consent,
Our birth I hope will give content;
Twins from old tenor, our lost old dad,
Some we make merry and some are sad.
Our duty was to make merry, for a wedding had been arranged at short notice; we were astonished when John Barnes said the bridegroom was his cousin! So much for the planned quiet ceremony.
Next to Garboldisham, where Mr. Garnham helped us make good use of the six. We were shown the crown of a bell in the porch, and a note described it as the only remaining pieoc of work of William Schep, who is believed to have been a 13 th century founder. We called at Dickleburgh (5) bcfore rushing to Attleborough to pick up the undertaker of the band, who had been delayed. Thus a planned quiet hour for lunch became 15 minutes of fish and chips.
Minor repairs to the slider of the second had to be carried out at Shelfanger (5), where the tenor was cast by Thomas Draper in 1582, and the remaining four by Pack and Chapman in 1772. We felt the music here would have pleased Arnold Schonberg. The six at Winfarthing were then rung, and we hope Mr. Walter Elsey will soon be well again.
At Tharston and Tasburgh (both five-bell towers) we were joined by Mr. Harry Duffield, of the well-known Norfolk ringing family, the Rector (of both parishes) and his dog, Bobby. Amusement was caused at Tasburgh, for when first the conductor called 'bob,' the dog bounded in. Bridget Mutimer's mother did very well to give a good tea to six hungry ringers, after which we called finally at Shotesham (5), where promising young members of the local band met us. The bells and the appearance of the ringing room leave nothing to be desired-a most encouraging end to the day.
Methods rung ranged from rounds on five to Spliced Little and Plain Bob Minor and Cambridge Surprise Minor.
Thanks are expressed to David Heighton for driving, Mrs. Mutimer for the wonderful tea, and John Barnes for making arrangementscmb and John Barnes for arrangements. J. S. B.

\section*{OBITUARY}

MR. J. W. L. SLACK
We regret to record the death on March 6th, 1955, of Mr. John William Longdon Slack, a ringer at St. James', Sutton, in the Macclesfield Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild for 57 years. Mr. Slack was a founder member of this Branch to which Sunday by Sunday in his own church and quarter by quarter in the wider sphere he gave most faithful service.
In 1944 he became tower leader and worked with such diligence and skill that the bells were always fully manned throughout this most difficult period for the Exercise in general.

A competent ringer of many Plain and Treble Bob methods his peals ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Minor, and numbered 40. Those he taught to ring will, however, remember him better for his insistence upon good striking, punctuality and faithful service.
He was laid to rest in the Churchyard at St. James', Sutton, on March 12 th in the presence of a very large number of representatives of the Chester Guild and other local bodies in the life of which Mr. Slack had taken such an active part. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the handbells at the graveside by Mrs. C. W. Lawton, Messrs, J Worth, C. W. Lawton and J. W. Whittaker
There were wreaths from the Chester Diocesan Guild (Macclesfield Branch), the ringers of St. Peter's. Macclesfield, and from the ringers of St. James', Sutton, the last of which bore the following words:-

At rest you lie
Beneath the bells
You rang so long and truc;
Your course is done,
Your bell is 'Home,
And honour is your due.
The bells each week
As they ring out
Their message ever new,
Will also keep alive and warm
Our memories, Jack, of you.
After the funeral a peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung fully muffled.

\section*{MR. JAMES AMORY SMITH}

With regret we record the death of Mr. J. A. Smith. known to a wide circle of ringers as 'Pop.' He was the popular captain of the Talgarth, Breconshire, ringers for many years and was also District Master of the Swansea and Brecon Guild.

Mr. Smith started his ringing at Congresbury, Somerset, at the time when the late Major J. H. Hesse was living at Wrington. His two hotbies were ringing and fishing. He w.as brought up opposite Congresbury Church, his father then being the village schoolmaster.

Mr. Smith only rang two peals, he was at home on the tenor and was always keen on good striking. He came to Talgarth from Aberdare some years before the war to follow his profession as a dentist.

At the funeral, which took place at Talgarth on April 1st, the following members of the local band acted as bearers: Messrs. W. Chick, D. Griffith, J. Parry, M. James, R. Rees, D. Bennett. One of Mr. Smith's sons is a member of the local band.

It was his wish that the ringers should act as bearers and should ring after the funeral.
D. H. B.

MR. FRANK WARRINGTON
It is reported with deep regret that the death of Mr. Frank Warrington look place at his home at St. Ives on Sunday, April 17th, after a long illness. A full repori will appear next week.

\section*{MR. A. E. BAVERSTOCK}

One of the oldest members of the Bath Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, Mr. A. E. Baverstock, passed away on March 15th in his 83rd year. He started to take an interest in ringing at the age of eleven years, and continued as an active ringer until twelve months ago, when failing health prevented him from further participation. In recent years, since the war, he arranged an annual outing, usually in September, outings which will long be remembercd by those who took part.

The interment took place at Locksbrook Cemetery, Bath, on March 21st, and a coursc of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the grave by W. J. Prescott (Bath Abbey), G. J. Hawkins (St. Michael with St. Paul's), R. O. Fry (St. Michael's. Twerton), W. Cope (St. Mary's, Bathwick). The Abbey bells were rung half-muffled in the evening of the funeral, and a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Michael's, Twerton.

\section*{MR. WILLIAM APPLEBY}

Many ringers in the Oxford Guild, and ring. ing bands who visited Henley over many years, will be sorry to hear that Mr. William Appleby has passed over, aged 76. He had to give up ringing about six years ago owing to ill-health.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL AGENDA}

The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

\section*{EYE, SUFFOLK}

MANY towers have their historians or those with sufficient archæological interest to delve into past ringing records. The Central Council has in being a Peal Boards Committee that hopes at an early date to complete its records of all old peal boards in the country. Supt. Claude Rush has just completed a record of what he describes as 'all the information there is to be found about ringers and ringing on the walls of the ringing chamber at the Parish Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Eye, Suffolk.' This, the home tower of George Day and Sons, is particularly rich in peal boards and ringing records.

The earliest record is a tablet of 1773 recording a complete peal of 5,040 changes of Bob Major rung in 3 hours 7 minutes on April 14th, 1773 , by members of the Debenham and Stonham Societies. The band was Richard Moyse treble, John Jessup 2, William Wright 3, Jonathan Pettett 4, John Wade 5, John Pettett 6, Edward Wythe 7, Daniel Wade tenor and called the peal.

These ringers of past generations, like those of to-day, loved their footnotes. Beneath one of Bob Major of 1865 is a note: 'The above peal (composed by Mr.(?) Anable of London) was rung in a masterly style throughout, very ably conducted by Mr. F. Whaite.' Then below in faint lettering: 'and is worthy of the remark there being no record of the same having been done on these bells.'

In connection with a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major rung in 1878 by six members of the Diss and Eye Society of Change Ringers with Mr. S. Slater, of Glemsford, and Mr. H. Thompson, of Cavendish, there is a pamphlet posted on the wood channel of the chimes weigh recording in verse the great event. The opening runs:-

These lines on ringing though simple, are true, Of which I will now relate to you, Concerning a peal that was rung off straight; In the year Eighteen hundred and seventy eight.

The night was dark, the weather was dreary, It being the fifth of January;
In three hours and 38 minutes to complete,
This peal was rung-true, and the music was sweet.

Five thousand two hundred and eighty was done;
Being the number of changes complete that was rung;
Of Kent Treble Bob, that method so gay,
By these ringers was rung at St. Peter's at Eye.
Each ringer is given a verse in laudatory terms, the tenor going:-

The tenor was rung Ah! just the way, By our Faithful Friend, young Mr. Day, Who said my friends it is my aim
This peal to help you all to gain.
Of this composition, I'll speak the truth,
It was one of Hubbard's, the Norwich Youth.
So now we have put up a board
This peal for ever to record.
Among the boards mentioned in recent correspondence in 'The Ringing World' is: 'On Friday, October 10th, 1890, in 3 hours 12 minutes, Washbrook's Peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 5,024 changes: Charles Hounslow treble, Ernest A. Pitstow 2nd, Nathan J. Pitstow 3rd, John W. Taylor, jun. 4th, Frederick Pitstow 5th, Rev. F. E. Robinson. M.A. 6th, Rev. G. F. Coleridge, M.A. 7th, J. W. Washbrook, conductor, 8th.'

It was not until 1904 that the first peal of Surprise is recorded in the tower-one of Superlative. The band was Frederick Day treble, Frederick R. Borrett 2nd, James Whiting 3rd, James Tann 4th, Egbert Borrett 5th, Ernest F. Poppy 6th, Charles T. P. Bruce (conductor) 7th, John Souter 8th. Another interesting board is the funeral peal for the Rev. J. J. Raven, D.D., who wrote 'Church Bells of Suffolk,' 1890, and was for some time Vicar of Fressingfield. Frederick Brunning, who rang the treble to this peal of Plain Bob Major on September 24th, 1906, is still the captain of Eye tower.

We regret that space precludes us from giving details of other peals. Eye was certainly a much favoured tower by East Anglian ringers and other visitors, and the records in tablet, board and card bring back memories of many personalities. We hope that other towers will see that their records are copied in the same way as Supt. Claude Rush has recorded those of Eye.

\section*{RECORD PEAL OF DOUBLE NORWICH}

On December 27th, 1904, William Willson, of Leicester, conducted' a record peal of 17,104 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at St. Thomas \({ }^{\prime}\) Church, South Wigston.
A peal was arranged by the present local band to commemorate the 50th anniversary of this record. This was to have been rung on December 28th, 1954. Unfortunately on the day before, whilst another peal was in progress, the gudgeon of the 2nd broke, causing the bell to fall from the frame.

Fortunately no serious damage was done and repairs have now been carried out. On Easter Tuesday the local band successfully rang a peal of Double Norwich, conducted by William Thornley, as a belated commemoration of the record peal. It was with regret that Mr. Arthur Bodycote, the steeplekeeper, was not able to ring. About an hour or so before the peal was due to commence he felt ill, and many thanks are due to Mr. Samuel J. Haines, of All Saints', Wigston Magna, who rang in his place at such short notice.

\section*{GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD}

What has happened to the Farnham District? It was a great pity that on the beautiful afternoon of April 16th only about six towers were represented at the District meeting held at Yorktown. Those absent missed an excellent tea, which had been arranged and part provided by Mr. F. J. Farr.
The ringers' service was conducted by the Rev. H. E. Paterson assisted by the Rev T. Leech. Mr. Steward was at the organ.

The Vicar also took the chair at the short business meeting. Hawley tower was also open for ringing in the evening.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

A fine spring afternoon attracted a good company to the quarterly meeting of the Northern District at Banstead on April 16th. Ringing under the guidance of the District Master (Mr. F. E. Collins), included a variety of methods. After the service an ample tea was provided by local ladies in the cricket pavilion, by permission of the Banstead Cricket Club. The short business meeting included an acknowledgment to Mr. A. C. Winn of his gift to the Association library of a copy of 'Oranges and Lemons,' by Gladys Taylor. The Master reminded the company of the 75th anniversary dinner to be held at the Greyhound, Croydon, on May 21 st, and that there were still tickets left, price 15 s .
Ringing continued till 8 p.m. in methods up to Bristol.

\section*{MANCHESTER YOUNG RINGERS}

The bright sun and clear blue skies which greeted the 17 young ringers at Manchester on Easter Monday morning made a good start to their outing to Loughborough.

The ringing programme commenced at All Saints' Church, where they were met by Mr. Paul Taylor, Mr. J. P. Fidler and Mr. John Hough, from Barwell. Ringing was delayed due to a wedding but the delightful tone of these bells was soon heard to rounds, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Little Bob and Double Norwich Court Bob Major, and the highlight of the morning's ringing was a touch of Stedman Caters.

After lunch a tour was made of the Loughborough Foundry and a great time was had by all the turning shop when they struck with mallets the inside of the sound bows of 12 bells standing on their crowns. Further fun and games were to be had in the Campanile and the party had a tricky time trying to handle the very light ten. A bob course of Stedman Triples was eventually achieved, and other methods successfully attempted were Cambridge Minor, Grandsire Triples, Oxford Treble Bob Major and a bob course of Grandsire Caters.

Due to the generosity of Mr . Taylor and Mr. Fidler the party were able to 'snatch' another tower at very short notice-St. Andrew's, Kegworth, where a good half-hour's ringing on the rather slow-going eight was enjoyed.
A visit was made to the carillon tower, but unfortunately the recital was not due to start until 6.30 and the train left at 6.40 .
Thanks are extended to Mr. Taylor and Mr. Fidler for their hospitality.

Seldom, if ever, can three born and bred Devonians have taken part in a peal of Stedman Cinques in their native county. Such, however, was the case on April 16th at Buckfast Abbey, the ringers in question being Messrs. T. G. Myers, J. Phillips and E. J. Taylor. This was the first occasion that the two latter had ever rung together, although they learned to handle a rope within a mile of each other. Mr. Phillips comes from a famous West Down ringing family at Tawstock, and Mr. Taylor from Bishop's Tawton, on the opposite bank of the River Taw. Needless to say, both towers were, and still are, call-change strongholds.

Mr. H. D. Lister, of Stowmarket, who has recently been very ill, is now, we are happy to announce, making a good recovery.

The peal at Bakewell on April 16 th was Mr. Arthur Knights' last composition of Treble Bob composed on November 28th, 1938. He composed one more peal (No. 435) but this is only true to Bristol.

Mr. R. W. Rolfe, of Bury St. Edmunds, has at Chevington a band of six young ladies, who started about two years ago and are now ringing Stedman Doubles and other Doubles methods.

A pleasing ceremony took place in St. John's Church belfry, Scunthorpe, on Easter Sunday, when Mr. F. Lord, captain, presented Mr. M. J. Kinnard, who has now left the district for East Hendred, Berkshire, with a pair of cuft links from members of St. John's band.
When Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Trueman next come to Tiverton tower they will find a small memento of their first visit on April 3rd pasted in the visitors' book below Mrs. Trueman's signature-a small piece of confetti, one of several found on the ringing mat below the treble rope after they had left.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP} son and dauchter rang their first peal together. Mr. P. Mills would like to thank all those who made this achievement possible, particularly Mr. W. Downs, who taught them to handle a bell, Mr. E. E. Davey, who has been instructor since the band was formed in May, 1953, and all those from the surrounding villages who have given up their time to help them on practice nights. Congratulations to the Mills family !

As Princess Margaret arrived in Guildford to attend the Pilgrimage to the new Cathedral on Low Sunday the bells of Stoke Parish Church were being rung. It was the last 15 minutes of a peal of Doubles in four methods.

The Editor acknowlcdges the novel greeting to all beer ringers from ' 5,039 ,' posted at Utrecht Station, Holland, on April 16th. The sender is assured that it was safely received and is now on the editorial desk. Alas, its present use is for cups of tea.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards has got through his second operation safely at 14, Fitzroy Square, W.1. He has been greatly heartened by a number of ringing visitors, including Mr . Alex Young. During his illness he heard a big explosion on Easter Eve about 11 p.m. Could any London ringer enlighten him?
The Exercise will congratulate Mr. Edwin Barnett on completing 60 years as a ringer at St. Paulinus', Crayford. He had been leader of the ringers there since 1932, succeeding his father, who rang at St. Paulinus' for 43 years. His 70th birthday was celebrated on April 14th, but unfortunately a peal in honour of the event on April 16 th was lost 11 leads from home.

\section*{MOTIONS.}
10. (a) That in view of the strong predilection manifested throughout the Exercise for Bob Triples and Caters and the enjoyment and practical advantage derived therefrom, this Council, while reasserting the obvious defects inherent in the Plain Bob Method for permutations on uneven numbers of bells, agrees to withdraw all official objection to such performances, and to accord full and unqualified recognition to any peals in the Plain Bob Method irrespective of the number of bells; and that this decision be regarded as having complete and unequivocal retrospective effect.

Proposed by the Rev. F. L1. Edwards, seconded by Mr. W. C. West.
(b) That the Council accepts the method Plain Bob on odd numbers as a regular method and that peals of Plain Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques be included in the Peals Analysis.
Proposed by Mr. J. R. Worrall, seconded by Mr. W. F. Moreton.
(c) That the Council withdraw the decision of 1905 regarding peals of Plain Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques, and that if and when such peals are rung. they be recognised by the Council. Proposed on behalf of the Bedfordshire Association by Mr. S. Foskett, seconded by Mr. B. F. Sims.
(d) That this Council resolves that all true peals of Bob Triples be included in the Council's Analysis.
Proposed by Mr. P. A. Corby, seconded by Mr. H. J. Poole.
(e) That this Council takes note of the strong expressions of feeling in the columns of 'The Ringing World' and elsewhere against the growing tendency of the Council through the Committce technicians to decide and dictate the choice of methods to be rung bv ringers generally, and that this Council resolves to give advice to the Ringing Exercise as to the varying qualities of methods but to include in its analysis all true peals rung in conformity 'with the 'Conditions Required for Peals ' as published in 'The Ringing World.' page 187, in the issue of March 25th. 1955.

Proposed by Mr. P. A. Corby, seconded by Mr. H. J. Poole.
(f) That this Council while deprecating the ringing of peals which are not in, accordance with its decisions, resolves to include in its Analysis all true peals rung in conformity with the 'Conditions Required for Peals' laid down in 1951. as subsequently amended; except that the Council is not prepared to recognise any peal rung to surpass a previous peal in length, number of methods. or in any other way, which does not comply with its Rules and Decisions.
Proposed by Mr. C. K. Lewis, seconded by Mr. E. A. Barnett.
(g) That in the definition of Regular Methods, Section C sub-section (2)(b). after 'No bell shall strike more than two consccutive hlows in any one place ' the words 'in the same lead' be added.
Proposed by Mr. E. C. S. Turner, seconded by Mr. C. W. Woolley.
(h) That such decisions made by the Council since its inception as have not previously been rescinded or superseded be now rescinded, and that the decisions as presented to the Council at this meeting, or as may have been amended thereat, be substituted and incorporated in the Council's Handbook.
Proposed by Mr. E. A. Barnett. seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.
11. To fix the place of the next meeting.
12. Any other business.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

\section*{First Meeting at Llandaff Cathedral Since 1937}

\(I^{N}\)N glorious weather well over 100 members and visitors spent a very enjoyable afternoon at Llandaff Cathedral, where the Association's annual meeting was held on Easter Monday. This is the first time since 1937 that a meeting has been held here. The Cathedral was destroyed by enemy action in 1941, so it has not been possible to ring here for many years. . The Cathedral is now being restored and the bells have been rehung.
Promptly at 2.30 early visitors were able to start ringing, special care being given to the learners to see that they all had an opportunity for ringing, and considering the long draught of rope, their handling was surprisingly good. At 4 o'clock the service was held in the Lady Chapel. This was conducted by the Dean (the Very Rev. Eryl Thomas), who gave an inspiring address on the uses of bells and the responsibilities of the ringers.
The visitors were then invited to the Prebendal House, where a bountiful tea, provided by the Dean and Chapter and ladies of the parish, was awaiting them. Although the number present exceeded the names sent in, there was plenty for all. The Rev. Ivor Richards moved a hearty vote of thanks for their kindness and generosity.

At the business meeting the Dean took the chair. At the outset he extended a hearty welcome to the Association to Llandaff. Tha secretary read the minutes, which were accepted as correct. The treasurer presented the balance sheet, which showed the Association to be financially sound, with a balance on the year's working of \(£ 13 \mathrm{~s}\). 9 d . The balance sheet was accepted.
The secretary gave his report, which showed the usual fluctuating fortunes at the various towers, progress at some and not so bright at others, Bridgend and district being one of the bright spots, and the young band at Llandaft doing very well and ringing twice on Sundays. Revivals were recorded at St. Woolos', Bonvilston, Penhow, Caldicot and Pontypridd. Twenty-nine peals were rung during the year, which was a little above the average.
Mr. Fred Bailey was unanimously elected Master for the ensuing year. The secretary (Mr. F. J. Hannington) and the auditors were re-elected. The secretary mentioned that the forms of service were now in short supply-a reprint would soon be necessary. It was decided that the three secretaries together with the Rev. Ivor Richards be appointed to consider certain minor alterations to the service, and to report to the next annual meeting.

It was decided to have the Association's handbells repaired-the cost to be taken from the Bell Restoration Fund. On the question of members voting at Branch meetings other than their own Branch, it was agreed that they could vote on any matter except election of Branch officers.

Four resident and two life members were elected. Mr. David King moved a bearty vote of thanks to the Dean for his kindness and all that he had donc to make the meeting an outstanding success.

The Rev. F. R. K. Hare, the mew Rector of St. Denys', Rotherfield, who was taught to handle a bell by Mr. H. Goodenough, of St. Albans, arranged a ringers' service on April 17th, at which two ringers read the lessons, and two courses of Grandsire Caters were rung on handbells by W. Rogers 1-2, T. E. Sone 3-4, W. H. Dobbie \(5-6\), F. H. Hicks 7-8, R. Overy 9-10.

\section*{GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION}

Mr. C. R. Harding the New Master
IR. C. R. HARDING, of Bristol Rural, was elected Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association at the annual general meeting held at Tewkesbury on April 16th. He succeeds Mr. A. L. Barry, of Gloucester, who has held the office for two years and did not seek re-election. There was an attendance of 129, the retiring Master presiding. The Rev. W. F. Burlton, Cromhall, opened the mieting with prayer.
Apologies for absence were received from the L.erd Bishop of Gloucester, Mr. W. Dyer, Mr. F. Ponting (vice-presidents), Miss D. Shepherd (Stroud) and Group Captain T. V. Lister.

The Master's report stated that there had been a sharp decline in peals rung during the past year- 43 on tower bells as against 58 in 1953. A few more young conductors were necded. The B.B.C. had made a recording of Gloucester Cathedral bells, to be used on their European service, and a well-struck touch of Grandsire Triples was rung.
The hon. secretary's report stated that membership was slightly increased and was now bordering on 1,100 members. The balance sheet, reported the treasurer, showed that the funds of the Association had increased from £ 318 to \(£ 375\).
These reports had already been published and they were accepted on the proposition of Mr. E. F. Hancock. seconded by Mr. T. Borcham. A report on the Central Council meeting at Newcastle was presented by Mr. W. B. Kynaston.

\section*{LOSSES BY DEATH}

The members stood while the following ten members. who had dicd in 1954, were remembcred: J. C. Acock, Northleach; R. Sharp, Avening; W. Banyard, Bisley; G. E. Risbcy, Woodchester: F. Curtis, Winterbourne; Mrs. C. V. Roberts, Wickwar; J. W. Davies, Lydney; A. Hale, Tirlcy; G. Pcarce, Bristol.
Officers elected for 1955 were:-Vice-prestdents: Mr. H. V. Robinson (Wickwar) and Mr. A. L. Barry were added to the present list. The members then learned of the death that day of the Rev. M. Paterson (Bristol); the meeting stood in silence and the secretary was asked to convey the Association's condolences to the relatives. Two of the absent vicepresidents, Mr. Sidncy Romans and the Rev. A. D. H. Allan (Weston-super-Mare), who were in ill-health, were sent the good wishes of the meeting.
In accordance with rules, two nominations were received for the post of Master. They were Mr. F. G. Leaker (Bristol City) and Mr. C R. Harding (Bristol Rural). A ballot resulted in Mr. Harding's election by 62 to 56 votes.

Other elections were:-Hon. secretary. Mr. F. Skidmore ; hon. treasurer. Mr. S. G. Riches : hon. peal secretary, Mr. A. E. Reeves; hon. auditors, Mr. E. F. Hancock and Mr. J. M. Stallard. To the Management Committee were elected:-Mr. J. M. Stallard. Mrs. D. M. Bennett. Mr. R. G. Hooper (all Bristol), Mr. W. H. Truman (Swindon), Mr. P. E. Baker (Cheltenham). Mr. G. Kilminster (Cheltenham), Mr. W. A. Lewis (Berkeley) and Mr. A. Burcombe (Stinchcombe) were elected hon. life members.

\section*{NEW MASTER INVESTED}

Amid applause. the new Master was invested with his chain of office by Mr. F. Oakhill and Mr. F. G. Leaker was the first to congratulate him.

Thanking the members for his election, Mr. Harding promised to do all in his power to uphold the prestige of the Association. He considered a great honour had been conferred on the Bristol Rural Branch, of which he was chairman, and backed by the loyalty of both officers and members he had no fears for the future.

The secretary outlined the arrangements made for the forthcoming meeting of the Central Council at Bristol, and the Master said that no stone had been left unturned to see that matters run smoothly, and that the Council would be able to look back for years to come on their visit to Bristol.
The next annual meeting will be held at Cirencester on April 7th. 1956.
Under any other business, Mr. A. L. Barry congratulated the Master on his election and hoped he would have a successful term of office. He said that he had received a casket to carry the Chain of Office. but as that was somewhat cumbersome, he had made a leather case which he would present to the Association if they cared to accept. The offer was received with many thanks. Mr. Barry also referred to the College Youths' visit to Bristol this year, and said the Bristol ringers were arranging a dinner, and that anyone who would like to attend should contact Mr. A. Tyler, Bristol. who was at present in the room.
Mr. W. B. Kynaston congratulated Mr. Charlie Gardiner, who was 83 and still able to attend these meetings, and he hoped he would be able to do so for some years to come.

\section*{A NEW 1000-PEAL RINGER}

Mr. Herbert E. Audslcy, of Erith, Kent, rang his 1000 th peal at Dartford, Kent, on April 18th. The Exercise will extend to him its warmest congratulations. His first peal was rung on January 10th, 1920.

Mr. Kynaston also asked if anyonc could enlighten him on who were the Gloucuster Guild of United Church Bell Ringers, as performances had appeared in 'The Ringing World , under this heading. Mr. Barry sald that some of these ringers were members of the Gloucester and Bristol Association and some were not.

\section*{ASSOCIATION'S HANDBELLS}

Mr. E. F. Hancock (Bristol) asked if the handbells which belonged to the Association could be placed under proper supervision, as no one at present seemed to know where they were.

The secretary explained that steps had been made to get them together, but if they wanted such a thing done they would have to appoint a curator, who would be responsible for their care. Some were at Bristol partly in the care of Mr. E. J. Brown, of St. Philip's, and the remainder and the stand for same were in the ringing chamber of St. Thomas' Church, the ring consisting of 21 bells and stand. which was presented to the Bristol United Ringiag Guilds by Mr. Cockey in memory of his father, the late Mr. A. Cockey, and became the property of the Gloucester and Bristol Association when the United Guilds were wound up.

Mr. C. Rouse proposed that the bells should be placed in the hands of trustees, who should be the Master, hon. secretary and Mr. F. G. Leaker. This was seconded by Mr. C. Rawlings and carried.

Mr . Truman said the bells should be shown in the Association's records and this was agreed to.

\section*{RELATION WITH BRANCHES}

Mr. Skidmore appealed for more co-operation from both Branch officials and members alike, as only with the fullest support from all concerned could the branches work properly and become an asset to the Association. He asked people to bury their personal differences for the good of the cause to which they had set their hand.
The Master referred to the report and what had happened in the Chippenham Branch, and asked for the fullest support at a meeting which had been arranged for Saturday, April 23 rd , to see if the Branch could be placed on a sound footing again.
Mr. Chew (North Forest Branch) tendered the thanks of Redmarley Church Council to the Association for its grant of \(£ 10\) towards their bell restoration.
Mr. J. G. Jefferies proposed a vote of thanks to the officers for the way the affairs of the Association had been managed during the past year.

\section*{MAYOR AT TEA}

The Rev. W. F. Burlton closed the mecting with prayer, when a move was made for tea, which had been kindly prepared by the local ringers undet the auspices of Mr. J. Beech, Tewkesbury Branch secretary.

The gucst of honour at the tea was the Mayor of Tewkesbury, supported by the Association's new Master, Mr. C. R. Harding, and other officers. The Mayor gave the Association a hearty welcome to the ancient borough of Tewkesbury.
Mr. W. B. Kynaston proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Mayor of Tewkesbury, to the Vicar (the Rev. B. Purfoy) for the use of the Abbey bells and for conducting the service which was to come at \(6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\)., also to Group Captain T. V. Lister for having everything ready in the belfry, and last, but not least, to Mr. J. Beech and his committce, who had worked very hard for a long time past to ensure that this mecting should be one to be long remembered by those who were present.
The service in the Abbey was a grand finale and most inspiring, the Vicar commented on the wonderful singing by the congregation and said he had not heard so good from the nave since he had been at the Abbey.

Ringing was enjoyed by most during the evening, when the visitors left for their homes after a very happy and pleasant day. F. S.

\section*{FARNINGHAM RINGERS' SUPPER}

A souvenir copy of the New York 'HeraldTribune ' carrying the full' news of Sir Winston Churchill's retirement, one of a number which American airlines few over to London in view of the newspaper strike in Fleet Strcet, was produced at Farningham (Kent) bellringers' annual steak-and-mushroom-pie supper at the Bull. Farningham, recently.

After quoting extracts of some of Sir Winston's famous wartime speeches. Mr. Bernard Drew, who brought the paper along, suggested that the company should draw lots for it. This was done, and the paper was won by Mr. W. Wingate, a ringer at Farningham for nearly 50 years.
Another interesting item was the presentation of a wedding present to Mrs. Betty Scott, daughter of Mr. Bert Bates, the tower captain. The Vicar of Farningham (the Rev. G. M . Young), who presided, spoke of Mrs. Scott's varied interests in the village, and on behalf of the company wished her and her husband a long and happy life.
Mr. Young referred to the death of Sir Waldron Smithers, M.P., who had been the guest of honour at last year's supper, and spoke of the interest in ringing of several young men and women in the village.
The meat pies, excellently cooked by Mrs. Gwen Chitham. were followed by sweets and coffee. Then the company, which included, as well as ringers, members of the choir, Mr. Lace (a churchwarden) and the verger, fell to yarning.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{BOB TRIPLES}

Dear Sir,-I would like to thank 'C. C.' for the able explanation of the points at issue which fills the leader of your paper of April 15th.

If the councillors think as I do (and, knowing some of them, that's too much to hope), there is no doubt that the Art will not suffer through the application of too much mathematical science.
However, the fate Bob Triples suffers at the hands of the Council at Whitsun does not worry me unduly. Whatever they do will not affect my principal interest in ringing at the moment, namely, the maintenance, in face of many difficulties, of a Sunday service band at a small parish church.
My immediate concern is as to why some influence should now seek to enforce the dogmatised burblings of a 1903 committee which in practice have been ignored ever since.
It is well that members of the Council should ask themselves 'Why is the matter raised now?' and for enlightenment turn their minds to the following facts:-
George \(\mathbf{R}\). Newton, a very respected member of the Council. dicd in 1953, and a peal of Bob Triples, half-muffled, was rung to nis memory by members of the Chester Guild.
Before the issue of the 1953 Peals Analysis somebody persuaded the committee that Bob Triples should not be included in the published tables, in consequence of which the convener of the committee thought it necessary to ask for a special ruling at the Newcastle meeting.
In the Chester Guild's 1953 report (which must have been drafted before and probably was in the hands of the printers at the time of the Newcastle meeting) some influence persuaded the compilers to relegate the Newton 'In Memoriam ' peal to a secondary place in the Honours List and further, to its eternal shame, subsequently persuaded the Chester Guild at its annual meeting to accept the report with a note that that particular peal did not conform, etc.
In view of the fact that no decision was arrived at at Newicastle, surely it was not necessary for the Chester Guild to choose the year 1953 as the time for an attack on Bob Triples. Why was it done? Well, perbaps someone with a better knowledge of the internal affairs of the Chester Guild than I will tell you.Yours, etc.,
G. L. GROVER.

East Clandon, Surrey.
MACCLESFIELD SURPRISE MAJOR
Dear Sir,-I should like to point out that the method recently rung as Macclesfield Surprise Major and published in 'The Ringing World, of March 4th, appears in Corrigan's Collection as Hornchurch (No. 165). As far as I can tell, no peal of Hornchurch has ever been rung, so that, effectively. the method has been renamed Macclesfield. Perhaps someone will be able to confirm this.-Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. MAYNE.
Harrow, Middx.

\section*{CHESHIRE BELLS}

Dear Sir,-In 'A Book About Bells' by the Rev. George S. Tyock, B.A., I came across the following old jingle :-

Northern sweet music
And Didsbury pans,
Cheadle old kettles
And Stockport old cans.
Perhaps our Cheshire friends can enlighten us about Northern bells, maybe Northender was meant.-Yours sincerely, Sherwood.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN COUNTLES}

Dear Sir,-I am grateful to Mr. Dove for the information he gives about towers in Lancashire. I regret that I, inadvertently, bring to light some of the very few errors in his book, but I am certain that no one would wish him to feel worried about that. As I write my articles, I am more and more grateful for his book and also more and more amazed at the essential accuracy of it. Ringers owe him a great debt of gratitude for the compilation.

As for Mr. Cave's remarks, I had hoped that, by now, it would be generally realised that my figures apply only to 1881 onwards (when 'Bell News, was first published). Thus peals older than that are not included. I am collecting now the earlier peals and hope, one day, to have as complete a record as possible of all peals rung since the first in 1715 . I am, therefore, very grateful to Mr. Cave for his list, several of which I have not got. On the other hand, I appear to have six which do not appear in his list-1831, 1850 (2), 1854, 1882 and 1884). I have also marked one of the three peals in 1936 as false. I should be very pleased if we could compare notes.

Re the footnote to the peal at Walsall (200th peal) I find I have 180 since 1881, but I also have located 30 before that date, making a total of 210 . Again I should be very pleased to compare notes with Mr. Howell or whoever is interested in the records.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{PEALS AT SUUTH WIGSTON}

Dear Sir,-The account by Mr. Felstead of 'Peal Ringing in Leicestershire' makes very interesting reading. There is one very small point I should like to correct.

Mr. Felstead states that South Wigston was a six-bell tower last century, whereas the eight bells were installed as a complete ring in 1901. The 50th anniversary of the 17,104 Double Norwich was not rung until April 12 th, 1955.

Incidentally, Mr. Felstead mentions that 29 peals were rung from 1901 to 1913, 31 from 1919 to 1940 and 43 since 1944. Of these 43 no less than 20 were rung during 1953 and 1954 ( 10 each year) so the average certainly is better 1 -Yours faithfully,

BRIAN G. WARWICK.
South Wigston.

\section*{RINGING IN DERBYSHIRE}

Dear Sir,-With reference to 'Ringing in Derbyshire.' I should be very pleased if the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead would go through the list of peals rung at Ilkeston again, as our peal book gives the number as 89, and not one more peal for the 100th. Our tower secretary passed away some time ago and I have been hunting the peals up and find 96 peals in allthe first five peals being rung on the bells in the old tower, which was taken down and removed in 1909 and 1910.

The 89 th peal (Superlative) was rung in November, 1948, and from reports I find that seven more peals have been rung.
The ring of eight bells was installed in 1902 and the Rev. F. E. Robinson called the first peal of Stedman in 1905 , the other peals being two of Grandsire, one of Bristol and one of Plain Bob. There were only five bells in the tower up to 1902, when two trebles and a tenor ( \(16 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) were added. All the bells were recast at Loughborough in 1910. Just fancy wearing a ring. of bells out in seven years! Not many bands have done that!!Yours truly,
E. C. GOBEY.

\section*{METHODS OF TEACHING}

Dear Sir,-I have read with care and interest the letter by Mr. E. L. Humphriss in a recent issue and perhaps I might be allowed modestly to comment on the points raised. Much of my time has been occupied in giving instruction. At the moment, with generous help from good ringers, I am trying to raise an eight-bell band from scratch. I will take the matters raised in order.
(i.) Rounds should not be attempted until the pupil can not only handle his bell but refrain from looking for the sally. Whether the blackboard blue line is an asset or not, I can't say, as I haven't tricd it. In my opinion change ringing on handbells should follow tower bell efficiency. A different technique is required, and many of us know men whose handbell ringing is as near perfection as may be, yet whose tower bell ringing falls short of the ideal standard.
(ii.) I believe in rounds and call changes. They do help on eight bells to gct thoroughly grounded the idea of sixteen blows and a spacc.'
(iii.) There are two kinds of dodging - evenbell and odd-bell. In my opinion it is wholly wrong to introduce even-bell dodging into odd-bell methods. The protagonists of Bob Triples should consider whether in taking this step from Minor to Major it will not suffer the fate of many short cuts. One can accept even-bell dodging on five bells, for if a band has only five bells, there is nothing else to do in order to vary the monotony.
(iv.) I have always taught Grandsire first. It is musical, and if the learner goes to another tower as a visitor, he is always sure that the band, if it rings changes at all, can oblige him with Grandsire. My pupils never have to jump from the treble to inside, because they start inside. In my opinion again, it is essential to have a treblc rung accurately among learners, There is not, I have found, any particular difficulty in approaching the job in this way, particularly if only one learner is involved. May I, at this juncture, say plainly that I do not like 'standing behind.' A learner, properly prepared, should be able to stand on his own feet. The people who stand behind are probably presumptuous if they assume that they can synchronise their instructions with the working of the learner's mind. Of course, extraordinary situations must be met in extraordinary ways.
(v.) Nearly all good ringers are willing, nay anxious, to help. I must admit, however, here and now, that there is one type of learner, fortunately rare, which I actively try to restrain. It is the kind which always wants to ring something beyond its capabilities of the moment. One of this type is always a passenger in the band, a nuisance to his fellow ringers, and is frequently a cause of dissension. The majority of learners is very diffident, and needs much encouragement to attempt anything new, though it may well be within its powers.Yours, etc.,
J. T. DYKE

\section*{PEALS THE BACKBONE OF • THE RINGING WORLD}

Dear Sir,-In 'The Ringing World ' of week ending April 15th, there were only 11 peals to report, which occupied one page. It was, however, very noticeable that more compositions than usual were published, and that space for quarter peals far exceeded normal.
This makes it quite clear, I think, that publication of peals is the backbone of 'The Ringing World.' Therefore 1 think that it is ridiculous to expect peal ringers to pay for the publication of their efforts, a thing which would simply discourage people to ring peals and, judging by this copy, would probably cause the size of our paper to decrease.-Yours sincerely. Dudley, Worcs.

DAVID M. LEES.

\section*{LAMBERT'S VARIATION}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. R. O. Fry, on page 236 of 'The Ringing World,' J. A. Lambert's Variation is as follows:23456 W B H
\begin{tabular}{l}
\hline \(23564-\quad-\quad 3\) \\
\(23645-\quad 3\) \\
\(26435-\quad 2\) \\
\(32465-\quad 3\)
\end{tabular}

Three times repeated. Single halfway and end. The singles can be called at the first wrong in the first and third parts
Many years ago when J. A. Lambert was living in Surrey and ringing with Dr. A. B. Carpenter he gave him his composition, who at once proved it, and told him it was a variation of J. R. Pritchard's This was between 1887 and 1904. I do not know when it was first rung to a peal but on November 2nd, 1921, I stood in a peal at Mitcham when it was called by another of my uncles.-Yours truly, ROBERT T. LAMBERT.
Horsmonden.

\section*{HALF-MUFFLEL RINGING}

Dear Sir,-Could we, through your paper, ask for suidance on the practice of ringing halfmuffled for Sunday services when a Sunday comes between a death and a funeral?
I should emphasise that being a village (pop. 700) with no other religious denomination most people claim some connection with the church, and consequently feel that they ought to be considered.
There is a local custom (not unique to this village) adhered to by some of us that the bells should not be rung 'open' when an unburied body lies in the parish. On the other hand, the Vicar and the remainder of us maintain that service ringing is 'pro Deus' and consequently should be open.
We always cancel practices and special ringing should they occur between the death and the funeral.
If, however, the deceased was in any sense of the word a church person, we try \(t 0\), and usually do, ring a half-muffled touch in the evening after the funeral.
Now, sir, are these two marks of observance sufficient or should Sunday service ringing be affected as well?-Yours faithfully,

PETER J. LAWTON.
Silsoe, Beds.

\section*{A LEARNER'S LAMENT}

Dear Sir,-May I congratulate 'Semi-Able on his letter appearing in the issue of April 15th? The subject of his letter is one which must be given serious consideration by us all if the Exercise is to survive and flourish, which indeed should be the foremost objective of all active ringers.
How often do we attend a practice or a ringing meeting and find the usual reluctance amongst many of the 'older hands' (some of them well-known ringers) to stand in when rounds, Plain Bob or Grandsire are called for, yet upon the announcement of that magic word 'Surprise' they appear as if from nowhere, together with the local expert who inwariably makes a beeline for the tenor rope!
Whatever our capabilities as ringers (and, surely, are we not all learners in one degree or another?), let us not lose sight of the fact that the future of our art depends entirely upon the newcomers of to-day. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that they be given every encouragement at all the practices and meetings they attend. After all, the beginner has gone to just as much trouble to 'look up' a plain course of Bob Minor as the more experienced ringer has gone to in order to 'look up' London.-Yours faithfully,
Slough.

\section*{SCIENCE AND ART}

Dear Sir,-I take up my infrequent pen because I was so struck with the 'leader initialled 'C. C.' It gave me great pleasure. I think that of late they have shown us good writing, thought and given us 'furiously to think \({ }^{\text {f }}\) for ourselves.
Yes, 'Science and Art.' I have been a certified lecturer in both viz., building construction and architecture (history and design). My national bronze medal, 1886, reads 'for proficiency in science.' In the Arts I got 'Excellent with mention in report.'
I love architecture, music and archæology. I look upon the first two as governed by zesthetic consideration, and the last ruled by the scientist's knowledge. I think our Exercise to be a beautiful blend of both.
Take a bellfounder. At the beginning of the 17th century (a critical point of change in Europe) he changed the shape and tone of his bell i.e., by giving it a 'minor seventh' hum note, which is just within the octave previously aimed at. It was difficult because he had to rely upon his ear (and ears vary). He was evidently a musical artist, practising his art !
But 300 years later a scientist comes along with all his instruments and exact knowledge and says ' No, what you are aiming at is the ratio with the tonic of 24 to 25 -the minor seventh, which has the peculiar harmonic character which you have been trying to get by ear.' It seems that, after all, the bell-founder-like the architect-was both scientist and artist combined.
Unfortunately I know nothing about composition, but I do like to hear seven bells, well struck, with intervals of the blow after the hand-change, and two blows for the lead after the other. It has a peculiar rhythm which it imposes upon the ear. Of course, the bell left out is the 3rd.
I think, too, that a method might be composed with the tenor at 5th place with the three small bells mostly lying behind it in 6, 7, 8. This would remind us of some of Bach's music. -Yours very truly,
E. ALEX YOUNG,

Bromley

\section*{SPLICED CAMBRIDGE AND YORKSHIRE SURPRISE ROYAL}

Dear Sir,-1 have expected an answer to Mr. Rogers' letter ('Ringing World,' page 139) by Mr. C. K. Lewis.
With reference to the composition, it was first rung in connection with my name at Beddington, Surrey, to London Surprise Royal (No. 3 Version) on Saturday, April 4th, 1936, conducted by Charles H. Kippin.
Though it is well known as being connected with me. I must point out that it has a parallel in the Central Council collection of peals of Plain Bob Royal (page 237, No. 9). I did not know of this until a couple of years ago, when the fact was mentioned to me by Mr. John Worth about the Edward Francis 1894 peal. I append both peals so that they can be com-pared-it will be noticed that the calls are exactly the same though the course-ends differ -and to enable Mr. Rogers and anyone else interested to make their own choice. I hope Mr. Rogers is successful with his peal.

\section*{WEDDINGS}

\section*{At Aldrington, Sussex}

Easter Monday, with beautiful sunshine, provided an ideal day for the wedding of Miss Mary Wyatt Brown to Mr. Bryan Kenneth Turnbull at St. Leonard's Church, Aldrington, Hove. These two young people first met while learning to ring at this church, both being members of the local band.
The bride wore a full-length dress of white lace, and was given away by her father, Mr. W. H. V. Brown, who has been churchwarden for the past seven years.
Bridesmaids were Wendy Turnbull (sister of the bridegroom), Penclope A. Cornish (the bride's godchild) and Lesley E. Cornish, who all wore dresses of blue, made by the bride. The duties of best man were carried out by Harry W. Brown (the bride's brother). Canon H. J. Mogridge (also a rigger) officiated.

The church porch was decorated with bell rope sallies, and as the happy couple left the church the local ringers rang the tower bells, and more ringers formed a guard of honour holding handbells.
The reception was held in the Church Hall, and entertainment provided by Diana Gough and Roy Brown ringing tunes on handbells, four in hand. The honeymoon was spent touring the West Country by car.
A quarter peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor was attempted the evening before the wedding by the bride, bridegroom, bridesmaid, best man, usher and chief of the wedding ringers, but apparently their minds were not on ringing for it came to grief before the end I

The local band presented Mary and Bryan with a present and expressed their good wishes for future happiness.

\section*{At Barking, Suffolk}

On April 2nd the wedding took place at St. Mary's, Barking, Suffolk, between Mr. Walter J. Fayers and Miss Evelyn Winter. Both bride and bridegroom are Sunday service ringers at this church, and the bells were rung by the local company before and after the ceremony, which was performed by the Rector (Canon S. H. De le Bere) with Mrs. De la Bere at the organ.
Following a reception at The Limes, Needham Market, the couple left for a honeymoon in Jersey. Among the many presents was one from the local company.

\section*{VISITING AMERICA}

From America we learn that Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes hope to visit the handbell ringing festival at Ipswich, near Boston, U.S.A., on August 26th, 27th and 28th. Mr. E Weatherby is making the long journey from Los Angeles to meet them

\section*{ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS}

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C.2. Particulars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church Insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance.

\section*{OBITUARY}

MR. FRANK WARRINGTON
The passing of Mr. F. Warrington at his home at St. Ives on Sunday, April 17th, at the early age of 61, robs the Ely Association of one of its most enthusiastic and well respected members.

Deceased had not enjoyed good health during the last five years through cardiac trouble, which needed frequent hospital treatment. Seen four days before, Sunday, at Addenbrooke's Hospital, by two members of the Association, he was most cheerful, and it was indeed a shock to learn of his demise so quickly.

The funeral service, which was held at the Parish Church, was fully choral, and well attended by upwards of 60 members, officers of the Association and friends. The hymns ' The King of Love, and 'Abide With Mc ' were impressively sung by both choir and congregation. The bells were half-muffled, and many of his old associates joined in ringing before and after the scrvice. As the cortege left for Cambridge, where cremation took place, a course of Cambridge Surprise Major (deceased's favourite method) was rung.

Ringing his first peal at Over, 1923, conducted by the late Wilfrid Hooton, he quickly grasped the principles of ringing and before the year had ended succeeded in calling his first peal of Doubles at Fenstanton. From then on he was in the forefront helping beginners. With the bells at Over augmented to eight in 1931, he soon got busy and scored the first peal of Major with an entirely local band, which rapidly progressed under his tutclage to ring their first Surprise pcal in January, 1933.

On his removal to St. Ives during World War II. he soon interested himself in the bells and choir of the Parish Church, and few Sundays passed without a quarter peal for services. Altogether he rang 470 peals, 399 of which are recorded in the Association's reports. Besides ringing, he held office as District secretary 1927-34, Central Council representative 193647, and Hunts District Ringing Master to the time of his death. His last peals at Holywell and St. Ives last December included three "firsts in the method.'
He leaves a widow and three children to mourn his loss, and of his work for the Ely Association it can be truly said he gave of his best unselfishly and in the interest of others. He will be gratcfully remembered by all. R.I.P.
T. R. D.
the rev. J. CRICHTON MELVILLE
The unexpected passing of the Rev. J. Crichton Melville, Vicar of Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, is deeply regretted by local ringers.

When he came to Walton in 1944 he found that the bells had been silent for years and needed rehanging. The great improvement in Walton belfry is largely due to his keen desire that ringers should have a good-going set of bells to ring in a decent ringing chamber.
There was a crowded church for the funeral service on April 21st, a tribute to a fine outstanding character.
His ringers sent a wreath and rang halfmuffied before the funeral service. In the evening a quarter peal was attempted with halfmuffled clappers, but owing to the 3rd slipping wheel, it was not successful and a 504 of Grandsire Triples was substituted. The following ringers were in attendance: Mrs. Lathbury, Mrs. Price, Miss N. E, Shorter. Messrs. hury, Mrs. Price, Miss N. E, Curter M. Jssis. son, R. Lathbury, S. Price and W. Shepherd.
aROWN EDGE. STAFFS.-On Antil \(10 \mathrm{th}, 1.260\) Kent and Oxford Treble Bob: A. Pointon 1. A. Cotserel 2, F. Holderoft 3. R. Turner (cond.) 4. W. Bourne \(5, \mathrm{R}\). Cumberlidge 6 . Rung half-mumed in memoriam Mrs. E M. Halt, wife of the tower captain.

MR. EDGAR MITCHELL
With the passing of Mr. Edgar Mitchell at his home, The Manor House, on April 11th, aged 73, Silk Willoughby, and especially the church, has lost a kind and most generous friend. No matter what activities or rejoicings took place in the village, local or national, Mr. Mitchell always took a prominent lead.
In October, 1945, he presented to the church, in memory of his beloved parents and sister, three new bells to make a lovely ring of six, thus adding the crowning glory to an already beautiful church. So passes from our midst to his eternal rest a loved personality, one who will be greatly missed and difficult to replace.
May his soul rest in peace.

\section*{JAMES H. MUSSON.}

\section*{MRS. REEVES}

Mrs. Reeves, a member of the first band of women ringers in the country, died at Bradfield, Berkshire, on April 12 th. She had rung at Bradficld for over 50 years. In her last peal, at Goring-on-Thames, in 1935, all those taking part were members of the Ancient Society of College Youths. At her marriage to Captain Reeves, then secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, in 1916, she conducted her own touch of 720 Plain Bob.

The funeral took place on April 18th. A short touch was rung after the funeral by the following: Miss Stella Davis (Bucklebury, representing the Guild) 1, F. Brooks (Bradfield) 2, J. Butler (Bradfield, conductor) 3, A. Arlott (Bcenham) 4. G. Keal (Bradfield) 5, W. Holloway (Bradfield) 6.

\section*{THE REV. MARWOUD PATERSON}

We regret to record the passing of the Rev. Marwood Paterson, late Vicar of St. Thomas-the-Martyr's. Bristol, who died on April 16th at the age of 83 . A past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, Mr. Paterson was a very likeable personality and a great friend to all ringers, especially in the Bristol area. The funcral was on April 19th at St. Thomas' Church, followed by cremation at Bristol Crematorium. The Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was represented by the Master (Mr. C. R. Harding), Mr. Fred G. Leaker, Mr. A. V. Bennett (Bristol City Branch secretary) and several others. The bells were rung half-muffled as the cortege was leaving the church. Bristol ringers have lost a very good friend.

\section*{MR ERNEST NIDD}

A lifelong member of the St. Wulfram's Band of Change Ringers, Grantham, Lincs, Ernest Nidd died on April 7th, aged 76. He was a regular and punctual member and gave good service in a very quiet and unobtrusive manner for over 50 years.

The funeral took place on April 13th, conducted by the Vicar (Canon C. H. Leeke) and in the evening the bells were rung half-muffled by his fellow ringers. He leaves a widow, a daughter and a son, who is the present verger of St. Wulfram's.

\section*{Kent County Association}

A very successful by-meeting of the Rochester District was held at Ash-by-Wrotham on April 16 th, when some 30 members enjoyed this handy ring of six (tenor 9 cwt .).

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. D. Vigo, Vicar of Ash and Ridley, and the excellent tea was kindly given. Mr. S. Rayfield, Ringing Master of Queensborough. thanked the Vicar for his welcome, and the local ringers and helpers who had made the meeting a success.

\section*{Topic for the Month - IV. \\ 'RINGERS' PARLIAMENT'}

0NCE again the annual conference of the Central Council is upon us, and although the opportunity has passed for submitting the many possible motions for reform and advancement of the activities of the Exercise, yet from the Council's Agenda published in the previous issue it is seen that a little more interest is being shown this year in this vital connection.

I am one of those who behieve that slender support is to be found among common-sensed ringers for the idea that the Council is autocratic; still less that its committees dominate its decisions. But I believe that cautious observers may be right in thinking that some recommendations get through Council 'by default.' The plain fact is that every representative is expected to be sufficiently well informed to reach his own decision after debate; or to vote as his constituency would require. Nevertheless, certain aspects of ringing debate, technical for example, call for considerable reflection before their implications can be fully grasped for a balanced judgment. A case in point was the "Report on Extension,' the technology of which was apparently admitted by some councillors to be 'beyond' them; which is not surprising-all things considered!

Unfortunately, inconsistencies and anomalies may be found in branches of ringing literature other than technological, and examples may be found in the extracts from Council Decisions, published recently in these pages. We must, however, pay tribute to the Council's Honorary Secretary in thus 'letting the dog see the rabbit' well before the chase and ultimate dispatch. Of what was shown there can now be no sort of rabbit-ex-hat excuse of being in ignorance. either of what Decisions exist or of how they are set down. But as to proposed amendments, intended for the Handbook, that is another matter.

Indeed, there is much that needs attention to put the house fully in good order, and our main objective is to focus attention on the need for careful framing and drafting of regulations, and to emphasise that no 'Decision' that is not unequivocally expressed and not generally acceptable to the Exercise as a whole need ever get into, or remain upon, the 'statute book,' if C.C. representatives fully exercise their prerogatives.

The importance of this is paramount. Some years ago an invitation was given by a senior member of one of our older universities to submit, for a 'Proceedings' reading, a thesis on Method Structure. The invitation was declined, largely because one's researches and conclusions were still unresolved; but another, and in the present connection more cogent, consideration is that it would have been impracticable to quote directly (i.e., without considerable editing) from the 'Decisions' as an authority. In a 'free lance' work on Method Structure it has been found necessary to amend and supplement the substance of the 'Decisions'; in fact, when the appropriate sub-committee was about to begin its task of revising and incorporating them in the Handbook, advice to this effect was submitted, with a copy of the "Decisions duly annotated accordingly.

But these remarks only emphasise the wisdom of the recent publication of the extracts; and although it is now too late for the submission of further motions, yet comments on some of those extracts, considered jointly with some items of the published Agenda, may serve as talking points, leading to the 'Decisions' being less at variance with some viewpoints, and to a Handbook comprehensively and technically exact.

Items originally selected for comment (mainly from those extracts) included:- Use of the term 'Division,' Lead-end coursing order (C. D. P. Davies' pamphlet, 'Lead Ends,' C.C.); Definition of Double Methods; Ambiguity in ringing terminology; Treble-bob reclassification (simplifying) ; M.C. "Report on Extension' (critical review, similarity with original Grid Analysis, etc.); Effects of calls, rule and non-conformity in Stedman; Methods 'Blue Book'; etc. Space now precludes discussion on these, but in the following comments reference may be made to the Extracts in the issue No. 2,295 of "The Ringing World,' dated March 25th, pages 185, 186 and 187 , also to the Agenda on page 265 of the previous issue.
C.C. MOTIONS. Of these, (a) to (f) inclusive will be seen all to relate directly or indirectly to the method of Plain Bob as on oddbell stages. Motion (a) seems to cover also (b), (c) and (d); while (b) is more comprehensive than (c), and (c) more than (d). Those who feel strongly about Bob Triples, etc., may note that on page 185 , under ' 1905.' Plain Bob on odd-bell stages and Grandsire on even-bell stages are not (as therein quoted) declared illegitimate, except in ONLY the Triples and Major stages, respectively.

The sponsors of motion (e) will no doubt agree that 'Conditions required for Peals' (page 187, 'Ringing World' No. 2,295) must now logically include specific reference to the 'Report on Extension' which, having been adopted by the Council, now governs peals on all stages above the basic form, in any method.

Relative to motion (f) it is interesting to note that in the extracts, on page 185 of 'The Ringing World,' there is given, under ' 1954 ,' a decision which excludes the method up to then known as "London Royal (No. 3) Version,' and particularly by rule \(10(2)\) in the 'Report on Extension.' Incidentally this, the issue of the pivot place, is the very one that gave rise to the whole investigation, and it therefore seems queer to see a peal still reported without even the "No. 3 Version" in the title. But there is nothing to prevent this method being pealed (yes, I've been in one!), and included in the Analysis, if called by some other name, such as 'Bow Surprise Royal.' This is legitimate, because the method, first published before the war, does not come under the '1926' ruling (see page 185) of 'old and historical.' The apparent difficulty over name-change of some of these methods is imaginary rather than real, since all that is needed is the appropriate official declaration, an example of which is given under ' 1897 ' on page 185.

Motion (g), to be comprehensively effective in methods also that are not hunt-controlled, seems to require the addition of the words, 'or division' after 'in the same lead '; but even then it would not cover cases of "internal' 4-blow singles, for example, as in 'Real Double Grandsire.

Space precludes further exemplification. But, in general, it is essential to realise that decisions made in the "Ringers' Parliament" need not differ substantially from those made in majority "territorially." If local district meetings have first discussed matters and primed their district representatives to meet their Association officials in general committee, then their C.C. representatives can be finally primed there. The ultimate outcome is, of course, the majority vote in the Council. Careful preliminary study, however, of any C.C. Committee's detailed recommendations is essential for an informed vote. From this angle it is difficult to see how (in referring to motion (h)), without a preview of its draft, the new Handbook can be wholly digested and satisfactorily approved in the brief time that may be allotted to this one matter. Sympathetic consideration, however, will lighten the burden of its sponsors. Happy Conference!

\section*{Northern District at Londonderry}

Over 100 ringers travelled to Londonderry on April 11th for the Northern District annual meeting and the Cunningham and Adamson Cup Competitions. Seven teams took part in the Cunningham Cup Competition, and the results were: 1 St. Malachi's, Hillsborough, 80 per cent.; 2 St. Comgall's, Bangor, 78; 3 St. Bronach's, Rostrevor, 74; 4 St. Macartan's, Enniskillen, 66; 5 St. Donard's, Belfast, 60: 6 Christ Church, Lurgan, 58; 7 SS. Philip and James', Holywood, 30. Teams 5 and 7 rang Grandsire Triples and Stedman Triples respectively, and the others call changes. The Adamson Cup for change ringing was won by Holywood ( 35 faults) to St. Donard's ( 60 faults)

The Dean (the Very Rev. L. R. Lawrenson) presided at the lunchicon and afterwards conducted a short service in the Cathedral.

At the annual meeting silent tribute waspaid to the following members who had died during the year: Miss E. McAuliffe (Carrickfergus), E. W. Evans (Rostrevor), Archdeacon Manning (Holywood), T. Nelson, M.P. (Enniskillen) and R. Burns (Ludgan).
The District Secretary Teported that membership was now approaching 200. Thirty new members were elected at the meeting.

District officers elected were: Chairman, the Rev. C. H. B. Craig (Ballymena); District secretary, Mr. J. T. Dunwoody; assistant secretary, Miss Jean Stewart (St. Donard's); hon. treasurer, the Rev. John J. Fielding (Belfast). Mrs. R. W. Adamson was nominated a life member of the Association.

\section*{EVENING CLASS IN BELL-RINGING}

Evening classes in bellringing, sponsored by N.W. Derbyshire Education Authority at Eckington Evening Institute, ended on March 30th, and although more advantage could have been taken of this opportunity whereby the Education Authority provided a tutor, those attending were most enthusiastic and made good progress during the course.
Some learned to handle a bell and ring rounds during the session, others progressed from rounds to Bob Singles and Bob Doubles on tower and handbells. Tower-bell ringing also included raising and falling in peal, call changes on eight bells and plain hunting on six bells. Handbells were used a good deal, and besides courses of Bob Minor, quite a little time was spent tune ringing on 12 bells.
On the night of Eckington Evening Institute Exhibition the bellringing class provided items of tunes on handbells, which were appreciated.
On Wednesday. March 30th, the last gathering of the session, the tutor (Mr. Norman Chaddock) was presented with a set of glasses. In making the presentation on behalf of members of the class, Mr. Morris, of Killamarsh, said how much he and his colleagues had enjoyed the class, and expressed their appreciation of the help which their tutor had given them.

\section*{Melksham Ringer's Wedding}

The wedding took place on April 23rd at the Church of St. Michacl and All Angels, Melksham, Wilts, of Miss Jean Abbott, of Melksham, and Mr. David Carey, of Chatham, Kent. Jean is a member of the St. Michael's band, and the happy couple left the church to the pealing of the bells. The bride is also a Sunday School teacher and a youth leader.

\section*{TWENTY TOWERS ON EASTER MONDAY}

Following last year's successful Easter Monday 'tower grab' organised by Mr. Pat Chapman, in which 18 towers were visited quite comfortably, a very good programme covering 20 towers was equally well arranged this year. The area chosen was Cambridgeshire and Essex and a wide variety of belfries was visited.
The towers visited were Croxton (no stay on No. 5, a nearly unringable treble and a tenor with a clapper hung at an angle of 45 degrees), Gamlingay, Great Gransden, Caxton, Bourne, Orwell, Barrington, Meldreth, Melbourne, Foxton. Harston, Staplesford, Whittlesford, Duxford, Ickleton, Littlebury, Saffron Walden, Wendons Ambo, Elmdon and Chrishall.
At the time it was thought this might be record number of towers for one day, but the writer heard of another party of friends who managed 25 on Easter Monday.

Bells will be heard on Supday, May 15th, prior to the morning service broadcast fom the Church of St. Mich gels, Kingsland, Herefordshire in the Midland Home Service, and from Tickhill Parish Church, near Doncaster, before the morning and evening services to be broadcast from there in the North Home Service. The latter will also be heard in the basic (London) Home Service in the evening only.
The peal of Evenlode Surprise Major at Kingham, Oxfordshire, on April 23rd, proved an acceptable 21st birthday compliment to Mr. John N. Diserens. The method is the seconds place version of Brereton (No. 44 in Corrigan's Collection).
In connection with the South of England ringers' rally at Bournemouth on May \(\mathbf{t 7 h}\), St. Peter's and St. John's, Surrey Road, will be open for ringing from \(2.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). onwards. Visitors are asked to apply for their tickets as soon as possible.
In a Minor peal attempt at St. Mary's Church, Peterborough, on April 23rd, the con-ductor-a well-known Lincolnshire conductorthinking a reasonably good peal had been accomplished, brought the bells home and called 'Stand,' only to discover that six 720's had been rung instead of seven.

Aldington, in Kent, had in the 1930's a wellknown band of stalwarts. It is encouraging to find that one of these-Mr. D. Hooker-has the foresight and enterprise to undertake the training of a band of youngsters, and so ensure that this fine tower will not become silent. The new Rector-the Rev. P. F. Goldsmid-is young, and very much a live wire, so we may feel confident that the tower will not lapse for want of enthusiasm

News is to hand from Australia this week from Mr. P.
M. J. Gray. He has just conducted a peal of Plain Bob Major on the bells of St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne. This is the first peal of Bob Major to be rung on tower bells in Australia.

Progress at Benhilton is denoted by the first quarter rung for morning service by the local band.
The ringer of the fourth in the peal at Hawkshead (page 244) should be J. Bagnall and not as printed.
The London County Association hope for a big gathering at St. Stephen's, Ealing, on May 14th to meet the new Vicar, the Rev. A. S. Matthews.

May I, if not the first, suggest that readers' thanks be passed to H . Chant for his very fresh, lively and interesting articles on Bob Major. We can very well do with more from his pen.C. G.

In connection with the peal of Double Norwich rung at Nantwich on April 23rd, the band would like to offer their gratitude and congratulations to Mr. Stephen Layland, who stood in at literally one minute's notice. He was persuaded to ring just as the others were preparing to go home after meeting one short.

The peal at Stradbroke was specially arranged for David Vincent, who was on a short visit to his native place and was thus enabled to fulfil a wish to ring a peal there on the bells which were augmented to ten in 1952 by his and his sister's generosity. The ringers were hastily got together at short notice by Cecil W. Pipe, and were entertained to tea by Mr. Vincent, after which a pleasant couple of hours were spent in reminiscence and with handbells.

\section*{MR. HERBERT AUDSLEY RINGS HIS 1,000 th PEAL}

THE latest ringer to join the slowly growing list of those who have rung 1,000 peals is Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, of Erith, Kent, who reached this total on April 18 th by calling a peal of his favourite method, Stedman Triples.

A native of Crayford, where he was born on January 31st, 1900 , Mr. Audsley first learned to ring under the late Mr. Edwin Barnett, sen., just before the \(1914-18\) war. Returning from Germany in 1919, he accomplished his first peal on January 10th, 1920, and made rapid progress. In 1925 he was the youngest member of the band who rang the famous 7,392 of Cambridge Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow, and another noteworthy peal in which he took part was the first peal of Cinques by the Devon Guild, at Exeter in 1927.

Though his peals have been rung in many parts of the country, perhaps the most remarkable feature is that no fewer than 562 of them have been at four towers in three adjoining towns- 222 at Crayford ( 118 on the 5 th bell !), 184 at St. John's and 44 at Christ Church, Erith, and 112 at Dartford. Mr. Audsley is, so far, the only ringer to have scored over 100 peals at three different towers.

Though the number of peals he has called is less than 100 , it is certainly not through lack of ability in this direction, particularly in Stedman Triples; the writer can recall many occasions when his timely intervention has made all the difference between success and failure. Perhaps the reason is that two men with whom he was closely associated in his younger days -John H. Chcesman and Edwin Barnett, sen. -called some 500 of his peals.

The band for the 1,000 th pcal would but for his unfortunate accident, have included an old friend in Mr. James Bennett, and the ringers would like to associate him with the peal and wish him a speedy recovery. Two other people, one felt, should also have taken part had it been possible, Mr. John Wheadon, for many. years a ringer at Dartford now residing in Cheshire, and Mr. Harry Hoverd, who took part in some 400 of Mr. Audsley's peals, and whose continucd enforced absence from pealringing is so much regretted.
The list of Mr. Audsley's peals is as follows :

\section*{MORE BELFRY GOSSIP}

The best wishes of the Canterbury District are extended to Mr. Frank Pack, of Faversham, who has entered Canterbury Hospital for an eye operation.
Mr. W. A. Yates, of Boycott, informs us that the peal of Grandsire Caters at Northampton (page 258) was not his first of Caters, but his third.

The golden jubilee festival of Southwark Cathedral is from May 8th to May 15 th, and there is to be a commemorative peal attempt on May 9th.

\section*{CENTRAL COUNCIL CIVIC RECEPTION, BRISTOL}

Members are asked to note that Saturday, May 7th, is the latest date for applications to be made for tickets. Please write to F. Skidmore, 80, Carlyle Road, Greenbank, Bristol 5.

A local band from Harrow Weald ringing at Warfield, Berkshire, failed to get a peal of Watford Surprise due to the clapper of the seventh falling off three courses from the end.
A ringer who unwittingly left his subscription reminder card on his office desk received the somewhat terse comment from his chief that as the second reading of the Ban on Horror Comics had been passed in Parliament he should discontinue the journal !

As eight members of the Norwich Association left the tower of St Mary's, Saxlingham Nethergate, on April 13th, they were feeling particularly virtuous. They had rung a peal of Kent Treble Bob without any bell striking four blows in any one place.
The young band at St. Margaret's, Lowestolt, average age \(13 \frac{1}{4}\) years, were recently televised with a view to appearing in Television Children's News Reel. The band will start change ringing shortly. Visiting ringers will be welcome on Sundays \(10.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). and \(6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and Mondays 7.30 p.m.
Golden wedding congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Breckon, of Whitby, Yorks. In honour of the event a peal was rung-but anfortunately Mr. Breckon's health would not permit him to stand in. After the peal Mr. Breckon entertained the ringers, and among the reminiscences after the meal was the peal he conducted for his silver wedding. In the recent peal Mr. Harry Short and Mr. Hubert Waters rang their first peal.

\section*{THE SUFFOLK GUILD \\ Support for Bob Triples}

ESTER Monday, ringers and Ipswich (but many years ago) were closely connected, for it was the occasion of the annual general meeting of the old Norwich and Ipswich As-sociation-Norwich one year and Ipswich the next.

Ringers would turn up in their hordes and the writer well remembers seeing such distinguished personalities as the Borretts, Burtons, Duffields, Souters, Durrants, Motts, Tilletts, clergy and a host of well-known names all plying their art in the belfries.

There would probably be 200 at the service and well over 100 at the luncheon, where, seated at the top table in gleaming dog collars, were the reverend gentlemen and business men correct in dress for the occasion, and looking all the more dignified with their whiskers, beards and huge gold watch chains.

But those days are almost gone and it is doubtful whether the best of general secretarics could revive such occasions, for we, like many other Associations, have now neither the talent nor the type to grace our belfries and luncheon tables. The passing years have brought us flannels, jeans and fish and chips.
So it was again this year on Easter Monday the Suffolk Guild met at Ipswich for the annual general meeting, when the bells, such as they are, were available all day.

At the business mecting Mr. Charles E. Fisher, a viec-president of the Guild, took the chair supported by Mr. Charles J. Sedgley and Mrs. C. W. Pipe (minutes secretary), who deputised for the general secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Fisher gave a warm welcome to all present, numbering 36, including the visitors (Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers and Mr. David Heighton) and asked the company to stand in silence as a tribute of respect to Mrs. Margaret Groom, Messrs. W. J. G. Brown, I. Chapell, L. J. Last. W. R. J. Poulson and any others who had died during 1954.

Treasurer's Report.-This was read by the chairman, which showed, after the payment of grants of \(£ 35\) to Stonham Aspal and Tannington Bell Funds, an increase of \(£ 158 \mathrm{~s} .10 \mathrm{~d}\).
Peal Secretary's Report.-Mr. John W. Blythe said 1954 had been a record year for peals, the number being 127, which exceeded the Guild's previous record by 11. This was extremely encouraging in view of the newlyimposed peal levy.
Flection of Officers. - The new Bishop of the Diocese, Dr. A. H. Morris, had signified his willingness to be president. Other officers elected: Ringing Master, Mr. C. J. Sedgley; general secretary and treasurer, Mr. C. W. Pipe: hon. auditor, Mr. J. W. H. Preastner: committee. re-elected en bloc with Mr. J. W Blythe and Mr. R. W. Clouston co-opted members.

A lengthy discussion took place on the date of future annual gencral meetings and it was finally and unanimously agreed that these be held at Bury St. Edmunds and Ipswich alternately on either the first or second Saturday after Easter.

Mr. Ronald Clouston reminded the meeting of a resolution passed at a gencral meeting held at Newmarket, which read: "This meeting requests our Central Council representatives to support proposals that Bob Triples be recognised as a standard method.' This was discussed and carried.

The chairman paid a tributc of thanks to incumbents for the use of the bells, to Mrs. Pipe for deputising as general secretary, and to Mr. C. J. Sedgley for his work as Ringing Master during the year.

Mr. George E. Symonds proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. C. E. Fisher for ably conducting the meeting.

\section*{THE GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD}

Warning as to Standard of Peals

TTHE report of the Executive Committee presented at the annual meeting of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held at Guildford on April 23 rd contained a warning as to the standard of certain peals. The paragraph read:-

Adverse comments by members of the committee on the ringing in some Guild peais led your committee to issue a reminder in our last report as to the necessity of maintaining a high standard and in view of this reminder, the committee has received with scrious concern complaints as to the quality of peal ringing in 1954. Although the committee appreciates that performances must be judged on and due allowance made according to the experience and ability of the ringers concerned, it will not feel able in future to refrain from drastic action if, in any particular instance, complaints are substantiated.'

\section*{GREAT ACTIVITY}

The report stated that there was great activity in peal ringing. Fifty peals were rung for the Guild and there were, 17 ' first pealers ' and two "first as conductor.' The conducting was shared by 13 members, of whom Mr. E. J. Wells again headed the list with 17 conducted peals. One hundred members took part in peals and lady members were prominent in these performances. Miss Eileen Turner, of Worplesdon. made history by being the first lady to conduct a peal for the Guild.

Among the peals rung were the first of St. Simon's Doubles for the Guild, the first in 14 Donbles methods, and the first in six and 13 methods of Minor, and the first in seven Plain Minor methods respectively. Little Bob Major, Doutle Oxford Major and Southwel! Surprise Major were also rung for the Guild for the first time.

The report gave the membership of the Guild as 495 ringing and 123 honorary members. Members stood while the following deaths were reported:-David Sleet (Oittershaw). Stephen Sleet (Oitershaw), P. A. Macdonald and J. Ranger, honorary members (Cobham), Samuel Marshall (Puttenham), Frederick Bennett (West Clandon), Raymond Philpot (Seale) and Michael Whelan (Ash).
The balance sheet showed a balance of \(£ 52\) 4 s .10 d . compared with \(£ 4818 \mathrm{~s}\). 9 d . There was a balance of \(£ 10213 \mathrm{~s}\). 6 d . on the Benevolent Fund from which grants amounting to \(£ 25\) had been made during the year. The New Cathedral Bell Fund had a balance of \(£ 811 \mathrm{~s}\). 5 d.

\section*{THE NEW CATHEDRAL}

The front of the report contained a ' thought for the year, which read: 'The New Cathedral is not an ecclesiastical luxury; it is a diocesan necessity.' In this connection the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. G. L. Grover) brought before the meeting a recommendation of the Executive that the Guild subscribe £5 to the Cathedral Fund. This was carried unanimously. Another recommendation that the Districts, from their balances, should subscribe another \(£ 5\) in proportion to their funds was also accepted by the meeting.

Mr. A. Harman, who presided, was reelected Master. Other officers re-elected were: Mr. G. L. Grover (hon. secretary and treasurer). Miss W. Oliver (assistant hon. secretary), Mr. L. C. W. Hunter (hon auditor), Major E. J. Bragg (peal recorder), Mr. A. C. Hazelden (librarian). Mr. G. S. Joyce (badge secretary).
Reporting on the Guild library, Mr. Hazelden said the library required volumes ' 1887,1890 and 1891 of the "Bell News." and 'The Ringing 1891 of the 'Bell News.' and 'The Ringing World ' from 1914 to 1927. The committee decided to advertise for these volumes, either bound or loose copies. They had duplicates which could be offered in exchange. 'The library. The meeting decided to purchase Mr . Ernest Morris' latest book, 'Towers and Bells of Britain.'

Mr. G. S. Joyce reported that 48 badges or brooches had been sold during the year.

ELECTION OF NEW MEMBERS
The mecting ratified the following as compounding members: Miss N. Leahy, Miss M. Buter, Miss Jean Powell, Miss Margaret Lewis, Messrs. G. K. Dodd, J. M. Lakin and P. Nash Elected as new members were Miss D. Taylor and Mr. F. Wilson (Shalford) and Mr. Gcorge Egerton (Shere).
A recommendation of the Executive, that Mr . W. J. Robinson, formerly of Holy Trinity, Guildford, and now living in Bedfordshire, be elected a life member of the Guild, was carried unanimously.
Reporting on the annual dinner, Mr. W. Viggers said it was very popular, between 30 and 40 people having to be refused tickets. It was decided to hold the dinner at Guildford on October 15th. The Dinner Committee agreed to carry on, and Mr. Jack Worrall was added to their number.
The hon. secretary drew attention to the annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild to be held at Guildford on July 2nd. The secretary and the assistant secretary were authorised to make arrangements for the visitung Guild being entertained to tea.
Mr. C. Denyer proposed a vote of thanks to the officers of the Guild, which was heartily endorsed.
The service was held in the afternoon at Holy Trinity Cathedral Church and was conducted by the Rev S. G. Cheetham. Ringing took place during the afternoon at Holy Trinity and S. Nicolas' Churches and also at those churches and Stoke in the evening.

\section*{HALIFAX AND DISTRICT}

The quarterly meeting and six-bell contest was held at Marsden on April 23rd. Five teams entered to ring a six-score practice and 600 changes, any method, test piece.
The results were:-Friezland 19 faults, Shelley 25, Meltham 34, Silkstone 66, Longwood

Mr. H. Roberts (Kirkburton) remarked that he had never judged before a contest where there had been so few faults. The winning team had that extra steadiness throughout.

At the business meeting Mr. J. Burgess gave notice of the motion for the annual meeting that each individual in a team that wins the competition be penalised as a handicap as an incentive to encourage more teams to enter.

Sincere thanks were accorded the iVicar, churchwardens and local company for the excellent arrangements and splendid tea provided.

\section*{BARNSLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY}

A very happy meeting was held at Royston on April 9 h, when about 25 ringers joined in a good variety of Minor methods.
The Vicar (the Rev. P. Leavey) acted as chairman at the business meeting at which 13 towers were represented. The Vicar was thanked for his hearty welcome, the ladies for providing teas and the local company. The next meeting will be held at Sandal un May 14th and the annual Shield Contest at Ossett on June 11th. Further ringing followed until 8.30 p.m.

\section*{CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD}

At the annual meeting of the Cambridge University Guild held on April 27th, the folllowing new officers were elected:-Master, W, T. Cook (Jesus); Secretary, J. D. Painter (Caius) ; auditor, J. H. Ficlden (St. Catherine's). The other officers were re-elected.

\section*{ANNUAL MEETING OF BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\(\mathbf{A}^{s}\)customary, the annual meeting of the Bedfordshire Association was held at Bedford on Easter Monday. Ringing at St. Paul's Church during the morning was well attended by members from most parts of the county and visitors were most welcome from Leicestershire, Hertfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Northamptonshire.

After an excellent lunch members and friends attended the business meeting which followed. The president. Miss E. Stcel, opened the meeting by welcoming members and friends. Apologies for absence were received from Canon A. Rust and Mr. A. C. Sharman.

The committee's report stated that membership had shown a slight increase, the 1954 figures being 23 honorary, 248 performing and two probationary. The financial position again improved, the balance showing \(£ 8017 \mathrm{~s}\). \(10 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}\)., an increase of \(£ 101 \mathrm{~s}\). \(8 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}\). over the year.

Peal ringers again showed an increase, the total for the year being 39 . No less than 14 members rang their first peal, and no doubt the experience gained will be put to good use on Sundays.
The officers of the Association were re-elected as follows: President, Miss E. Steel; vicepresidents, Messrs. A. King, A. E. Sharman, H. D. Harris, W. Stapleton, C. J. Ball, L. H. Bywaters, \(P\). lnskip; secretary and treasurer, Bywaters, P inskip; secretary and creasurer, peal secretary, Mr. D. Knox: librarian, Mr. S. Foskett ; assistant librarian, Mr. D. Thompson.
Bedford was proposed for the place of the 1956 annual meeting. Luton was once again put forward as an alternative, but as there was no seconder the original proposition was carried. It was also agreed to hold the summer festival at Leighton Buzzard on Saturday, June 25 th.

Previous notice had been given by Mr. S. Fosketi of a proposed notice of motion to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers to withdraw the decision of the Council of 1904 regarding peals of Plain Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques. From the discussion and voting that followed it was apparent that the proposition had the overwhelming support of the Association members present.
Following a notice by Miss Joan Ashton of an addition to Rule 6, it was agreed that: - Members elected for the first time after June 30th should pay a half-year subscription.' Miss Daphne Hare scconded the proposition, and this was carricd.
The mecting was of the opinion that another Association dinner should be held on the nearest Saturday 10 March 13 th, and the general secretary and District secretaries were asked to explore the possibilities.
A vote of thanks to Miss E. Steel for presiding was proposed by Mr. H. D. Harris. Members then returned to the Bedford towers and Clapham for further ringing. J. W. V. S.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

The Mayor and Mayoress of Deal (Ald. and Mrs. A. E. M. Cavell) attended the annual meeting of the Canterbury District at Deal on April 23 rd. They were present at the service conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R.O. Clark) conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. O. Clark) and also at the tea prepared by members of the Social Guild of the church and at the the Social

Forty.nine members representing 18 towers attended. The next meeting will be held at St. John's, Margate, and the by-meeting at St. Peter's-in-Thanet, The collection taken at the meeting was given to the Deal Bell Rope

\section*{LETTERS TO}

POSTCARD GALLUP POLL WANTED
Dear \(\mathrm{Sir},-\) We append below copies of two notices of motion for the Central Council meeting at Bristol on Whit Tuesday, and we are taking the unusual course of soliciting through the medium of 'The Ringing World' the opinion of those ringers sufficiently interested. It is hoped that this may save time at the Council meeting and give non-members of the Council an opportunity of considering the motions and, if they so desire, of expressing their opinions thereupon.

\section*{Motion No. 1:-}

That this Council takes note of the strong expressions of feeling in the columns of "The Ringing World" and elsewhere against the growing tendency of the Council through the committee technicians to decide and dictate the choice of methods to be rung by ringers generally, and that this Council resolves to give advice to the Ringing Exercise as to the varying qualitics of methods, but to include in its analysis all true peals rung in conformity with the "Conditions Required for Peals" as published in "The Ringing World," page 187, in the issue of March 25th, 1955.'

\section*{Motion No. 2 :-}

That this Council resolves that all true peals of Bob Triples be included in the Council's Analysis
Possibly readers may like the opportunity to express an opinion on this matter and accordingly we should be glad to receive from anyone interested a postcard giving answers to the following:-
(a) Are you in favour of Motion No. 1?Yes or No.
(b) Are you in favour of Motion No. 2?Yes or No.

Yours faithfully,

\section*{REMEDY IN MEMBERS' HANDS}

Dear Sir,-Re Mr. Blagrove's letter on page 251. He is fully entitled to his opinions and so are other people if they differ from him. What I said was that the four blows behind coupled with a double change every treble lead is a blot on Bob Triples. The four blows in Grandsire Singles and Kent Treble Bob are interior places and do not come every treble lead.
I always thought that most ringers respected the opinions of the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies. However. Mr. Davies condemns Cambridge very much for its double changes, which make Middleton's unmusical peal the only possible composition.
I will make no attempt to follow the reply to M. R. P. but I notice his dig at the Central Council. The answer is that we have the Central Council which we have put there. If they do not come up to expectations then the remedy is in the hands of Association members. This is my final letter on this subject.Yours faithfully,
E. R. MARTIN

\section*{SQUIRE PROCTOR}

Dear Sir,-I was most interested in the article about Squire Proctor and his band and wonder what living person could ever have known so much about them. The D'Arth family, bis relatives, used to live at the next Rectory to mine and gave me in 1893, my first lesson in method ringing. We used to hear a lot about Squire Proctor and his men learning methods by moving stones-with different coloured ones for different bells.-Yours, etc.,

RANDOM THOUGHTS ON BOB MAJOR
Dear Sir,-I beg to point out the following slips that have occurred in 'Random Thoughts recently concluded:-

\section*{BELLS AT WEYMUUTH}

Dear Sir,-There are three good rings of bells within the borough of Weymouth-an eight at Wyke Regis, and two sixes, one each at Upwey and Preston. The two former towers appear in Mr. Dove's 'Church Bells of Britain' (first edition), but unfortunately there is no indication that they are at Weymouth. The ring at Preston was augmented from four nearly three years ago, after the Guide was first published.

The ten bells at Christ Church, Weymouth, were hemispherical bells. The tower actually stands in the part of Weymouth called Melcombe Regis, and it appears in Mr. Dove's Guide under that name. There are no ringable bells in the churches standing in the immediate vicinity of the sea shore and shopping centre at Weymouth.-Yours faithfully,
A. J. SLADE.

Preston, Weymouth.

Dear Sir,-In reply to E. G. C.'s inquiry re the 10 bells removed from the belfry of the disused Christ Church, Weymouth, I can advise him that the report was correct. The bells, however, were 'hemispherical dish bells with chiming apparatus,' the tenor weighing 3 cwt . and, according to Canon Raven's 'Church Bells of Dorset,' they were Imhof's patent, each inscribed J. Taylor, 1874, and the diameter of largest \(29 \frac{3}{3}\) in. They are in 'Dove' on page 79 under Meicombe Regis.- Yours sincerely,

\section*{E. T. P. FIELD.}

Long Sutton, Somerset.

Dear \(\operatorname{Sir}\),-I have been rather surprised that no one has raised a question before about those mysterious ten Weymouth bells to be given away. I wonder whether any of your readers besides me, except perhaps bellhangers, have ever seen them. If so, it may have been Canon C. C. Cox. The fact is that they are not bells, but hemispherical gongs. It was over 50 years ago that I explored them. In those days they used to chime the ten about half an hour before service, and then three for the last few minutes.-Yours sincerely,

St. Luke's Hostel,

HEMISPHERICAL BELLS FOR LINCOLN
Dear Sir,-I see on page 247 of 'The Ringing World' that E. G. C. wants information about the ring of ten bells lately transferred from Christ Church, Weymouth, to this parish.

If E. G. C. had consulted a copy of Dove's Guide he would have discovered that these bells are noted as hemispherical. They were cast by Taylors, at Loughborough, in 1874. The tenor weighs \(4 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cw}\).

When I came to this parish in 1950 I left a church with a fine ring of eight, and found here only one discordant bell of about \(2 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\). Because of the smallness of our steeple the alternatives before us were either a chime of very small bells or a set of hemispheres. The advantages of the latter over a light-weight chime are (a) that they take up little space, as they can fit partly into each other, and (b) that for the weight of metal they have surprisingly deep toncs.

There was a chance that among the bombed churches which will not be rebuilt there might be one with hemispherical bells. So with Dove's Guide in hand, I searched-but in vain.

However, my summer holiday in 1953 took me to Weymouth and I went to hear the ten bells at Christ Church (Melcombe Regis) only to find the church closed and derelict.

After negotiations with the Rector, the Church Council and the Commissioners, the Order in Council signed by the Queen authorised the demolition of that church with the condition that the bells be given to St. Andrew's, Lincoln. We are very grateful for them.

At Weymouth the church clock used to sound the quarters on these bells, and each day a different tune at certain hours. We have had to refuse the gift of the clock with the bells because the cost of transferring and reerecting it would be beyond us. We regret that very much.
The Lincoln Diocesan Guild of Ringers have been very generous in giving us a contribution towards the cost of restoring these bells. That is truly generous, because they will never be able to ring a touch on them, let alone a peal ! They said they thought we deserved encouragement in our determination not to stoop to using gramophone records of bells. - Yours faithfully,

\section*{St. Andrew's Vicarage, Lincoln.}

\section*{KENNETH RICHARDSON (Rev.)}
P.S.-In the course of my search I discovered that the hemispherical bells listed by Dove at St. Luke's, Prestonville, Brighton, do not exist. There is only one small beli of about 4 cwt . and no trace of any other installation.

On the other hand the six bells listed at Ollerton Parish Church (Notts) are hemispherical and sounded by a chime-barrel handturned. The clock strikes the hour on a proper bell of about 10 cwt .

There used to be eight hemispherical bells (Mears and Stainbank's) at Lillington, near Warwick-but not now.

It was also be interesting to know what has happened to the set of hemispherical bells which Tyack said were installed at St. James', Bermondsey, for Queen Victoria's Jubilee. ('A Book About Bells,' page 274.)

Other hemispheres not listed by Dove were to be heard at Bayon's Manor. Lincs, five, tenor 5 cwt . (I have seen and heard these): Brancepeth Castle, five, tenor 10 cwt .; Fordingbridge Town Hall, five, tenor 3 cwt ; Keble College, Oxford, has a clock chiming on three hemispheres; Ryde Town Hall, five, tenor 6 cwt .; Westwood Hall, Leek, three, tenor 4 cwt .

I believe that Mauresa House, Roehampton, has a clock which does ting-tang quarters on hemispheres. Also in Norwich Cathedral are two jacks with hemispherical bells (no longer in use). These are described in 'Church Bells and Ringers of Norwich --Thurlow.-K. R.

\section*{RINGING IN MWULESEX}

Dear Sir,-Further to Mr. Felstead's article, St. Barnabas', Pimlico, bells are unringable, also Holborn. Hampstead is finished as regards peal ringing due to the proximity of a hospital. This may also be true of Chelsea.

Other long silences mentioned are as fol-lows:- St. Stephen's, Westminster (complaints), Tottenham (rough), Aldgate (rough), St. Dun-stan's-in-the-West (completely unringable), St.
Gabriel's, Pimlico (complaints), Shadwell' (unGabriel's, Pimlico (complaints), Shadwell (un-ringable). Harrow is now O.K. but was for years a 'stoney ' tower.

Of the sixes, Stoke Newington (hardly any wheels left), South Mymms (reputed unringable: however, the parson doesn't like ringing or ringers), West Drayton (bells on floor), Hayes (one cracked, bells reputed unringablethis is dubious).
St. Andrew's, Undershaft (hung dead), St. Catherine Cree (unringable), St. Luke's, Nut-ford Place (hung dead). There is also Homerford Place (hung de ton (Parson's Gag).
Of the fives, Smithfield is close to the Hospital. There is no five at Bethnal Green; at least. I have been unable to find it.
The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead's article does not really go far enough, as I feel three or four pages would not do justice to a county such as Middlesex. Dalston, for instance, has had only four peals, these bells are now unpealable. Wood Green figures, 22 peals to date. figures, 22 peals to date.
Stamford Hill (ten peals) did not have its first peal for 37 years.-Sincerely yours,

Tottenham, N. 15.

\section*{TWINEHAM, SUSSEX}

Dear Sir,-There may be many of your readirs who have at some time or other rung on our merry little ring of five at St. Peter's, Twineham, Sussex.
Our church, like many others, is almost falling down and we are faced with the task of finding several hundred pounds for repairs at once. Twineham is a small agricultural parish with a population of 202, and this is a big task. If anyone would care to send a sixpence or a shilling towards the fund we should be very thankful and I would acknowledge it personally.

We are hoping to add a treble some day to make six, and there is about \(£ 20\) in a fund opened some years ago for the same object, but at present we must do something for the church or it will be a heap of rubble.-Yours sincerely.

\section*{CHARGE FOR PEALS AND QUARTERS}

Dear Sir,-l was interested to read Mr. Bottrill's letter about our 'Ringing World.' I think it would be a good idea to introduce a peal and quarter peal publication fee of \(6 d\). and 3d. per rope respectively for ringers between the ages of 16 and 65 . This would then do away with the 'Gratefully Acknowledged, column, and leave space for more intercsting matter.

If the income from this source proved sufficient (as I am sure it would). could not there be a reduction in the scale of charges for 'Meeting, notices? Surely these should have more claim to 'free' space than, say, the illustrious doings of the St. Martin's Guild, or the latest peal at the Foundry Campanile.-Yours faithfully,

Bath.

\section*{THE SOUTHWELL \\ Doubles Methods Debated at Annual Meeting}

HAR off most beaten tracks, dominating a tiny country town, and with its roots lost in the history of a thousand years, stands Southwell Minster, since 1198 the mother church of Nottinghamshire and since 1884 the Cathedral Church of the Diocese of Southwell.

No one who visits Southwell Minster forgets it. Many would hold it to be one of England's most beautiful buildings. The Chapter House is justly famed for the exquisite stone carving fashioned by master craftsmen long ago. It was to this noble setting that ringers gathered on April 16 th for the ninth annual meeting of the Southwell Diocesan Guild.
In addition to the Minster bells, St. Michael's, Averham, was open for the use of visitors, and approximately 60 ringers availed themselves of the opportunity of trying this finc-toned six by Mears. The 'go' of these bells is bad. They need rehanging and, as the Guild chairman remarked, it is not often that ringers can ring on the two most awkward rings of bells in the Diocese in one afternoon.

Be that as it may, there was a very pleasant atmosphere at the meeting, and upwards of 100 ringers assembled for the best attended annual meeting since the formation of the Guild.
Evensong in the Minster at 3.15 was conducted by the Very Rev. H. C. L. Heywood, who warmly welcomed the Guild.
Tea at the Admiral Rodney was followed by the business meeting. presided over by the chairman, Canon R. F. Wilkinson.
A minute's silence was observed for four deceased members, namely, the Rev. Canon F. D'Arblay Burncy and Messrs. Arthur Crawford, Harry Hall and George Nowell, who had passed away since the last meeting.
The reports of the hon. general secretary and the hon. District secretaries showed a satisfactory state of affairs without, however, giving grounds for complacency. Mention was made of well-altended meetings, increases in membership as well as lapses, and a splendid win by Warsop of the Sheffield and District Cup. It was reported that Ordsall had won the Crawford Cup Competition.

\section*{ADVANCE IN PEALS}

The Peal Committec's report revealed that 61 peals were rung in 1954, which was an appreciable advance on the two previous years, and amongst new methods rung for the Guild was Southwell Surprise Major, the first peal in the method. Conductors numbered 16 and - first-pealers, 14. A gap of 38 years was closed by a peal at West Retford.
The Peal Committee stressed the new Rule 13. which has come into operation and provides that before a peal can be acknowledged and recorded by the Guild the subscriptions of the ringers shall be paid by the end of the ycar in which the peal is rung; the conductor shall forward the figures to the peal secretary and remit the booking fee of sixpence per bell to his District secretary within one month of the peal being rung. The Peal Committee orally stated that they intend to enforce this Rule strictly.
The hon. treasurer's statement of account showed a very satisfactory. financial position. Surplus income for the ycar amounted to \(£ 16\) 12 s . 3 d ., badges sold to \(£ 42 \mathrm{~s}\)., the balance of the Belỉ Repair Fund stood at \(£ 7413 \mathrm{~s}\). 10 d ., while cash capital on general account amounted to \(£ 1176 \mathrm{ss} .3 \mathrm{~d}\).

Arising from the financial statement it was reported that the committee had recommended that \(£ 10\) of the surplus income be used to augment the reserve for expenses of the Guild's delegates to the Central Council, and it was resolved to leave this matter in the hands of the committee.

\section*{DIOCESAN GUILD}

Another point arising on the financial statement was the question of reducing the subscription from 3 s . to 2 s . 6d. This step had been authorised at the last annual general meeting if it were found that the surplus income for 1954 exceeded \(£ 10\), but after estimating likely increases in expenditure in the ensuing year, the committee were of the opinion that this step would be unwise and recommended that the previous Minute be rescinded. The meeting fully endorscd the committee's recommendation with the result that the subscription remains at 3s. per annum.

\section*{DISCUSSION ON DOUBLES}

The most controversial item on the agenda was a resolution which briefly had the object of getting the meeting to instruct their Central Council delegates to take a firm stand against the banning of certain methods, especially Doubles, and went on to add that if 120 different changes could be produced they should be recognised as a true extent, even though the extent might include the plain course of one method and a bob or single lead of another method.
Mr. Glenn, on behalf of himself and the other two Central Council delegates, was invited by the chairman to comment on the resolution and stated by way of introduction that the resolution was loosely worded and inquired what methods were to be banned and what were to be included. The Methods Committee were engaged in revising Doubles, Minor and Triples in that order. He understood there were no less than 97 Doubles methods each with an individual plain course and its own bob and single.
April Day was Plain Bob pure and simple with a Grandsire single. A bob was no part of the method. The Central Council's decision that calls were not part of any method, but were only means of passing from one course to another. was still in operation, and the Guild on affiliation had agreed to abide by the rules and decisions of the Central Council. He urged the proposer to be patient.
The proposer of the resolution, in reply. stated that the motion arose as a result of a peal of mixed Doubles. He was warned that certain methods were not likely to be accepted in the future whereupon he wrote to the peal secretary, who repeated his warning. He (the proposer) felt that if 120 changes could be produced, then though they included a bob of one and a single lead of another. they should be accepted. The Council should not be dictatorial and the methods in the new book should be a guide to ringers. Nevertheless, he agreed to defer further discussion on the subject until the book of Doubles Methods was published, and he accordingly withdrew his resolution.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Provost, the Vcry Rev. H. C. L. Heywood, Canon D. N. Allenby, the local ringers and in parcicular to Mr. Fred Picard for his indefatigable help in making the local arrangements, concluded the meeting.
Ringing continued at the Minster until 8.30 p.m. So ended a perfect ringers' day.

\section*{YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

The spring meeting of the Eastern District was held at Kirk Ella on April 23rd and was attended by 30 members from 14 towers. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. Ford), during which a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells.
